Dulles Lashes Out at Communist Cold War Tactics

Says Reds' Use of Force Causes World Tension

Tells U. N. Russians Can End Unrest With Change of Methods

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Secretary of State John Foster Dulles told Russia in blunt language today that the way to end the cold war is to stop using force against other countries and to stop supporting subversion.

In a stinging attack on communism, Dulles declared:

"To bring the cold war to an end, seven points are not needed; this one is sufficient."

The secretary spoke at the U.N.'s 10th anniversary meeting, which Wednesday heard Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov propose a seven-point program to liquidate the cold war.

Dulles spoke with President Eisenhower's "full confidence and concurrence." The President himself said so on Monday when he addressed the opening session. He told the delegates the secretary would speak today "on appropriate elements in the foreign policy of this nation."

* * *

Dulles pulled no punches as he reviewed the role of communism in recent history. He agreed with Molotov that some problems had been settled recently, but he said they would have been settled years earlier except for the Communists.

"We do not forget," he said, "we dare not forget, that some of those who now hail the recent developments are precisely those who for years sought to stop them."

Dulles strongly defended the North Atlantic Treaty Organization and other regional organizations which Molotov blamed for much of the trouble today. These organizations were based on the spirit of the U.N. Charter, he said, and it was Western strength, backed by these organizations,

Molotov on Air Sunday

NEW YORK (AP)—Soviet Foreign minister V. M. Molotov's interview on the CBS television network next Sunday will be broadcast simultaneously on CBS radio, at 3:30 p.m. (Pontiac time), the network announced today.

The radio program will be repeated at 9:05 p.m. E.S.T., the same night.

Peron Forming New Cabinet

Says He Will Remain in Office Only Because 'People Need Him'

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP) —President Juan Peron worked on a new Cabinet lineup today after telling the Argentine people he is staying in office only because they need him.

"If I were not strengthened by the importance to me of the people," he said in a nationwide broadcast last night, "I would abandon the government this very day. If I have not done it, it was because I really fear the consequences my selfishness would bring down on the nation."

Peron's broadcast reviewing the bloody revolt last week came only a few hours after his 16-man cabinet resigned. The presidential press secretariat said the ministers wanted to let the President reshuffle the government as he wished.

The broadcast and the mass resignation appeared to be new evidence that Peron had retained his grip on Argentina, despite speculation and rumors that the revolt had weakened his power. The radio speech was the President's first public utterance since Saturday.

DECKS OF GROUNDED EXCURSION STEAMER SUBMERGED—John Rooney, a crewman, walks on the submerged deck of the Pilgrim Belle, where earlier 272 passengers danced and sang when the excursion steamer struck an unidentified object in a heavy fog Wednesday and was beached on Spectacle Island in the harbor in Boston. The vessel began listing rapidly after the passengers were removed. In less than two hours her lower and second decks were awash.

Hearing July 11 on State Pipeline

SEC to Study Finance Plan for Proposed Gas Link With Louisiana

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) has set July 11 for the opening of a hearing on financing plans for a proposed Louisiana-to-Michigan natural gas pipeline.

The pipeline already has been authorized by the Federal Power Commission.

* * *

The American Natural Gas Co. and its subsidiary, the American Louisiana Pipe Line Co., seek SEC approval for a 130 million dollar plan to finance the line.

American Natural wants to sell 736,856 additional shares of common stock by offering its stockholders rights to buy one share for five shares now held. American Natural would invest 20 million dollars of the proceeds in common stock of American Louisiana and the rest in other subsidiaries.

American Louisiana has proposed to sell 97½ million dollars of 4¼ per cent first mortage bonds with a maturity date of Jan. 1, 1977. The Metropolitan Life Insurance Co. would buy 87¾ million of the bonds and the other 9¾ million would be taken by the Mutual Life Insurance Co. of New York.

Haircut Prices Going Up? City Barbers Won't Say

The barbers aren't talking—for a change.

It's rumored that haircut prices are going up. Wanting to find out if the reports were true, the Pontiac Press checked several barbershops.

"I'm not authorized to say, but you won't be scooped," one barber said.

"How will we know then? Will the barbers let us know?" he was asked.

"I told you I'm not authorized to say. You'll just have to see when the new price lists go up."

You take it from there.

Hints at 2nd Term

Ike Sees Enduring Peace If America Stays Strong

WITH EISENHOWER IN NEW HAMPSHIRE (AP)—President Eisenhower said today that if America remains strong "we will be able to lead the world toward that promised goal" of lasting peace.

Speaking at Franconia Notch, at ceremonies marking the 150th anniversary of "Old Man of the Mountains"—a great stone face etched by nature—the President told an audience of about 2,500 persons:

"We would like to be at peace. We do not like to send our boys off into the armed services. We do not want to have the terrible things happen that could happen in a new war."

Then he came out with these remarks:

"People often ask me what my ideas are on how long I would like a residence in 1600 Pennsylvania Ave. (the White House).

"My own thought is: They should ask how long is it going to take Gov. Adams to finish up his series of lectures on New Hampshire, because he doesn't seem to be a third of the way through them yet."

That touched off a roar of applause and there were whoops of approval from the crowd, which actually was attending an outdoor session of the New Hampshire Legislature.

The President repeatedly has parried news conference questions about his 1956 plans with noncommital answers, and early this year he proposed a 12-month moratorium on such questions.

So it came as a major surprise when for the first time in public he brought up the second term subject himself.

Actually, it was on off-the-cuff speech—delivered without notes.

At Concord, yesterday, he caused a great stir with a "teaser" suggestion that he might run for another term.

Crash Is Fatal to Detroiter

Mrs. Wennon Ruth, 34, Dies After Two-Car Collision Here

Mrs. Wennon Ruth, 34, of Detroit was injured fatally yesterday afternoon in a 2-car crash at Telegraph and Elizabeth Lake Rds. at the west city limits.

The victim, who was dead on arrival at Pontiac General Hospital, was riding in a car driven by her husband, Noel, 57, who was treated and released from the hospital with head and face cuts. He is manager of the Detroit Grand Union Tea Co.

Robert Stewart, 21, of 915 Beachland Blvd., driver of the other car, was uninjured as were two other men in his car.

Trooper Harold Wade, of the Pontiac State Police Post, said Ruth, northbound, apparently made a left turn from Telegraph to Elizabeth Lake into the path of Stewart's southbound car.

Traffic at the busy intersection was held up for more than an hour while police and two truck drivers cleared wreckage. Both cars were damaged badly, Wade stated.

American Gives Vacation Plan

UAW, Company Reach Tentative Agreement, Recess Talks

DETROIT (AP)—American Motors Corp. and the CIO United Auto Workers have announced tentative agreement on a new vacation plan for the 22,000 AMC workers represented by the union.

The announcement was made yesterday after company and union negotiators recessed talks on a new national contract until July 12.

A company spokesman said the national negotiations were recessed to permit negotiations on the local level at company plants at Milwaukee and Kenosha, Wis.; Detroit and Grand Rapids, and El Segundo, Calif.

American Motors and the UAW opened bargaining talks on a new contract last week. The current company-union pact expires Aug. 12.

The union already has said it will press AMC for a supplementary wage plan similar to that granted earlier this month by General Motors and Ford.

The vacation plan announced yesterday would provide American Motors employes with from 40 hours of vacation pay to a maximum of 120 hours, depending on their seniority.

Meanwhile, Chrysler Corp. and the UAW announced yesterday they will open new contract talks Monday—about a week ahead of schedule. The union is expected to seek a contract settlement for 110,000 hourly rated Chrysler workers similar to that gained from Ford and GM.

Steelworkers Reject 10 Cent Hourly Raise

U.S. Steel Studies Next Move to Prevent Strike on Thursday

PITTSBURGH (AP)—U. S. Steel Corp., its offer to boost wages about 10 cents an hour flatly rejected by the CIO United Steel Workers, today studied its next move to head off a threatened strike at midnight next Thursday.

No negotiations were scheduled. But both sides indicated that behind-the-scenes talks were in the works.

David J. McDonald, president of the USW, turned down the offer last night less than an hour after it was made.

Big steel termed it "substantial" and said it "should produce a prompt settlement."

McDonald declared:

"We can see no justification whatsoever to accept a settlement this year—the most profitable in the industry's history—which is approximately one-half of the cost of the settlements already made in the automobile industry. We will not accept such discriminatory treatment."

Steel workers now average $2.33 an hour.

The USW's two-year contract, which provides for wage talks only this year, permits it to call its members out on strike at midnight June 30 unless an agreement has been reached.

* * *

McDonald summoned the union's 170-man wage policy committee to meet here Monday "in light of the critical situation."

Although U.S. Steel did not reply immediately to McDonald's invitation for round-the-clock negotiations if necessary, McDonald indicated he planned to confer during the weekend with John Stephens, chief negotiator of U.S. Steel.

Meanwhile, negotiations with other major producers continued in recess. In the past the industry has followed the contract pattern of U.S. Steel.

Steel companies have indicated that any wage boosts will result in higher steel prices.

Cool and Cloudy Weather Outlook

Weekend weather is due to be cool and somewhat cloudy, according to late forecasts of the U. S. weather bureau.

In fact, the weatherman foresees temperatures about four points below normal for the next five days, with the weather due to warm up about Wednesday.

Today's high in Pontiac is expected to be about 74 degrees. Tonight, the mercury may go as low as 52.

Downtown, today's low before 8 a.m. was 52 degrees. The thermometer registered 79 at 2 p.m.

'Fatiputts' Told They're Cutting Down Life Span

TORONTO (AP) — What did your bathroom scales tell you this morning? Are you a "fatipuff" or a "thinifer?"

* * *

If you're a "fatipuff" then do something about it, for the medical profession is building up an increasingly strong statistical indictment against flabbiness—overweight from the ages of 25 upward is a serious killer of both sexes.

Doctors attending the British and Canadian Medical Associations joint meeting here this week heard British physician Dr. E. R. Cullinan discuss the nature, effect and treatment of simple obesity, the label given to about 95 per cent of all problems of overweight.

He made a plea for kindness and sympathy toward the problem of obesity.

* * *

"If we laugh off or dismiss overweight in our patients, I think we are doing them a great disservice," he said.

Social Security Tax Hike Hinted

House Dems Reported Considering 1 Per Cent Boost for New Benefits

WASHINGTON (AP)—House Democrats were reported considering today a future 1 per cent hike in the social security tax to pay for the new benefits they want to give older women and disabled workers.

House Ways and Means committeemen were armed with this estimate of the more unpleasant, "how to pay for it" side of the Democratic-sponsored plan as they went into a fourth straight day of closed sessions.

The Democratic majority has already tentatively approved proposals to lower from 65 to 62 the age at which women can receive social security benefits and to allow payments at any age to workers under the system who become totally disabled.

Committee sources said the group has heard from government specialists that the changes would eventually cost the social security program nearly $2,200,000,000 a year and require about a 1 per cent hike—one half per cent each on the worker and employer—in the social security tax rate.

* * *

Payments into the social security fund now come mainly from a 2 per cent tax paid by the worker on his income up to $4,200 a year plus an equal amount paid by the employer. Under present law this combined 4 per cent, still to be split half and half, is due to go up to 5 per cent in 1960 and another 1 per cent more every five years thereafter until reaching 8 per cent in 1975.

Thus an added 1 per cent from the Democratic-proposed changes would boost the percentages that much all along the line until it reached 9 per cent in 1975, 4½ per cent each for worker and employer.

The committee was reportedly told that the extra 1 per cent would certainly have to go into effect by Jan. 1, 1958, and probably by Jan. 1, 1957, if the social security fund isn't to go into the red.

Much-Traveled Area Highways Are Excluded

Pontiac Press Will Aid Broomfield in Compiling Data on Local Needs

Oakland County highway officials expressed disappointment today over the apparent failure of the State Highway Commission to include heavily-traveled area trunk lines in the priority list of road improvements to stem from the recent gas-tax hike.

The only Oakland route included in Highway Commissioner Charles M. Ziegler's "priority" list is U.S. 16 from Brighton to east of Farmington. (See complete priority list on page 14.)

Oakland's State Sen. William S. Broomfield (R-Royal Oak) today said he will gather extensive data on the county's needs on roads eligible for the funds and arrange a meeting with Ziegler to discover exactly what the commissioner's plans are for this area.

The Pontiac Press will aid Broomfield in gathering a comprehensive picture immediately.

Some officials today indicated a feeling that Ziegler had "shied away" from Oakland routes because of the toll road proposed to run north through the county.

TOLL ROAD UNCERTAIN

They pointed out that construction of the pay-as-you-go highway is not a certainty and said, even if it is built, congestion will remain heavy on other local state routes.

"I wouldn't say that Ziegler listed his complete thinking," said Broomfield. "I'm still confident Oakland will receive a higher proportion of the funds than other counties, with the exception of Wayne.

"We are the second county in population and will pay the second highest amount of the new taxes. It's only just that we should receive a major amount of new construction."

The widening of U. S. 16, listed by Ziegler, already was scheduled before the new money was voted.

Work is expected to start next month on widening M24 from two to four lanes on 6.8 miles from Opdyke road to Lake Orion. This, too, was planned previous to the new tax, as was the Telegraph Rd. Orchard Lake Rd. grade separation.

Federal Pay Hike Awaits Ike Signing

WASHINGTON (AP) — A 7½ per cent pay raise for more than one million government workers needed only President Eisenhower's approval today to become effective as of last March 1.

The Senate and House both approved yesterday a compromise version of the pay bill and sent it to the White House for expected signature when the President returns from a tour of New England. The measure would cost about 328 million dollars a year.

Sights Being Raised Again on U. S. Business Boom

NEW YORK (AP) — Once more the sights are being raised on the business boom. This time business is feeding on its own growing confidence.

Consumers led the way with purchases that more than made up for the drop in government spending for defense. Now industrial leaders are aiming higher than a few months back and their spending for new plants and modernized equipment is pushing general prosperity to new peaks.

Summer with its heat and vacations may slow the economy down for a spell. But now, almost daily, come reports of new records in autos, steel, aluminum, machine tool ordering, shoe making, construction, incomes, stock prices, in industrial output in general.

Businessmen's own spending is now backing up the gains in consumer spending, the Department of Commerce reports. Fed by higher incomes, the willingness of Americans in general to spend more this year has given businessmen the confidence necessary to plan for increased capacity to produce.

General Motors, for example, has just announced a new 500 million dollar expansion program for more floor space, new machine tools and presses.

The Commerce and Labor Departments join in boosting their previous guesses on total construction expenditure this year. They now think the total will come to about 42 billion dollars, a record for any year, and at least 11 per cent above last year's mark, the previous record. About 21 per cent more will be spent for new homes this year. The departments note "a trend toward larger and more expensive homes."

Spending on new commercial buildings will be up 30 per cent, on industrial plants up 8 per cent and on private utilities up 4 per cent.

The U. S. Chamber of Commerce is even more optimistic than the two government departments. It sees the speedup in construction assuring that current good times will last well into 1956.

Some solid backing for the optimism comes from current industrial reports.

Steel masters this week are turning out the greatest tonnage of any week in history. Blast furnaces making pig iron also report a record—the steel-making ingredient poured from the furnaces in May at a record total of 6,804,935 net tons.

Aluminum is selling so well that the Office of Defense Mobilization says demand will top supply this summer, even though 200 million pounds is being diverted from shipment to the government stockpile.

Auto makers have already turned out their four millionth new car this year. In their previous record year it took them until August to reach that mark.

In the stock market new all-time highs are being set regularly of late.

How long can it last? Some caution against overconfidence. One, Henry H. Heimann, executive vice president of the National Assn. of Credit Men, warns:

"One mistake that could set us back for quite some time would be to assume that business can continue without pause at its present high speed. Or that the stock market can go in only one direction — up. Or that debt is illimitable."

Wilson Lauds U.S. Generosity

Tells Engineer Group American Aid Best Way to Promote Peace

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa. (AP)—Secretary of Defense Charles E. Wilson cites the United States' policy of "colonialism in reverse" as a basic plan on which the nation may base a hope of maintaining world peace.

"America's efforts after both world wars have been directed towards the rehabilitation of defeated nations. We use our money, time and resources to benefit other peoples," Wilson said last night.

He added the nation's long-time belief in human rights, discoveries in the field of science, and the use of mechanical horsepower and machines to improve the standards of living were other factors on which the nation could base hope for peace.

Speaking before 2,400 engineers attending the 63rd annual meeting of the American Society for Engineering Education, Wilson said colleges and universities must play an important part in helping to develop the understanding that leads to world peace.

Wilson said that George Washington's philosophy to avoid foreign turmoil no longer applied but that his belief in the importance of goodwill and virtue and integrity in all of our international affairs applies today.

The society awarded Dr. Vannevar Bush, retiring president of the Carnegie Institution of Washington, its 1955 Lamme medal for distinguished service in engineering education.

Missing Car, Safe Recovered Thursday

A new car and a 1,000-pound safe, reported stolen from a Rochester auto agency last Thursday, were recovered last night on a country road in Oxford Township.

They were found by two Detroit youths, Denver Snelson, 19, and Larry Maser, 20, who were returning from a fishing trip when they made the discovery on Oakwood road, two miles east of M24.

The safe, reportedly containing $1,000 in cash and $2,000 in checks, was blown open, Sheriff's deputies said.

The car and safe, found in bushes near the road, were taken from Houghton and Son Inc., 528 N. Main St., Rochester.

Wilson's Deputy Plans to Quit Soon

WASHINGTON (AP)—Deputy Secretary of Defense Robert B. Anderson plans to resign "in the next few months," and there were indications that the Eisenhower administration will bring in an outsider to succeed him.

A brief Pentagon announcement late yesterday said Anderson had informed Secretary of Defense Wilson of his plan to leave the government. No reason was given, and Anderson's future plans were not disclosed.

Speculation quickly centered on Reuben B. Robertson Jr., president of the Champion Paper and Fibre Co., Hamilton, Ohio. He conferred with Wilson a short time before the announcement was made. The Tulsa Tribune said it had learned reliably that Robertson probably would get the job.

Snooze in Car Proves Costly to Pontiac Man

Sleeping in his car in the middle of Telegraph road was a costly snooze for Ulysses E. Evans, 40, of 499 Colorado Ave.

Evans, arrested yesterday while he slept in his car at Square Lake and Telegraph Rds., was sentenced to 75 days in Oakland County Jail by Springfield Township Justice Emmett J. Leib today.

Leib said Evans will spend 90 days in jail if he fails to pay a $100 fine and $15 costs.

Bloomfield Township Police said Evans' car was straddling the two northbound lanes of Telegraph while heavy traffic whizzed by on both sides without disturbing the sleeper.

Leib said he gave Evans the heavy sentence for "endangering other motorists and because he was operating his car with a suspended driver's license."

Dulles Stingingly Attacks Commies

which had led to the solution of major problems.

* * *

Then, in sarcastic language, he took up the problems which Molotov had listed in his speech as having been solved. The Korean War, he said, was ended only after U.N. forces had repelled Communist aggression.

"It is indeed strange," he said, "to hear this triumph of collective security now hailed as proof of the peaceloving character of the aggressor and its supporters. If they had had their way, we would today be commemorating the fifth anniversary of the demise of the United Nations."

* * *

Dulles said further:

The Indochina fighting was ended by agreement in Geneva, but only after the United States and other nations made it clear that continued fighting might call for collective action within the framework of the U.N. charter.

The Austrian treaty should have been signed years ago, but it was delayed while one of its occupying powers exploited its economy for a decade.

* * *

Yugoslav-Soviet relations have been improved but they were bad in the first place only because Yugoslavia had broken away from "an alien yoke."

The recent Soviet overtures to West Germany and Japan came only after years of abuse and hostility from Russia.

Then Dulles listed five major problems, which he hinted he would like to see tackled by the summit meeting of the Big Four in Geneva next month. He did not list them specifically as agenda items, but he enumerated them as he led into his discussion of the Geneva talks.

* * *

They are:

1. Unification of Germany.
2. The problem of the Eastern European satellites of Russia.
3. Communist China's use of force and threats of force in Korea, Indochina and Formosa.
4. Efforts of "international communism" to overthrow governments by conspiracy.
5. Disarmament.

"These are some of the problems that confront us as we face the future," Dulles said. "They are problems which cannot be met if we shut our eyes to them, or if we are weak, confused, or divided.

* * *

"They are problems that can be met if we are faithful to the principles of our charter, if we work collectively to achieve their application, and if we are prepared to labor and sacrifice for the future as we have in the past."

It was here Dulles asserted the cold war can be ended by halting the use of force and subversion.

Early in his speech Dulles referred to "abuse" of the veto in the U.N. Security Council and said this led to the creation of regional organizations under Article 51 of the charter. This article provides that member nations can defend themselves individually or collectively against aggression.

Dulles' speech follows one of the most cordial private meetings ever held between the secretary of state and Molotov. They dined together yesterday at Molotov's suburban villa and reportedly settled the arrangements for the summit meeting of the Big Four in Geneva next month.

Orion Auto Dealer Is Freed on Bond

Former Lake Orion auto dealer David P. Dawson is free on $7,500 bond today after demanding examination on an embezzlement charge when arraigned before Orion Township Justice Helmar G. Stanaback yesterday.

Dawson, 31, who gave himself up yesterday after police sought him for 15 days, will be examined on the charge July 19.

He is accused of embezzling $28,862 from the Universal CIT Credit Corp. branch here between Oct. 27, 1954 and May 18 this year.

The credit company claims Dawson, owner of Dave Dawson Inc., a Ford dealership, sold 17 vehicles without turning any funds back to

REV. WILLIAM C. GRAFE

New Church to Open in Bloomfield Area

BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP—The Lutheran Church of Bloomfield Township will hold its opening day service at 9:30 a.m. Sunday in its new church, a reconditioned schoolhouse at Telegraph and Square Lake Rds.

One of the former classrooms has been converted into a sanctuary to accommodate 125 worshipers. A second room will serve the Sunday School department, whose class sessions will begin July 10.

The church, of grey stucco, is finished inside with light green and sandalwood. The altar and lectern were designed to conform to the building, and a new electric organ has been installed.

The Rev. William C. Grafe of Westacres will have charge of the mission church. Pastor Grafe finds himself in the unique position of establishing a church in the same school building in which he received his grade school education.

The new church is affiliated with the Missouri Synod.

Memphis Snubs Power Combine

Decides to Build Own Plant Rather Than Use Dixon-Yates Electricity

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP)—The city of Memphis has decided to build its own electric plant rather than accept power from Dixon - Yates. So what happens now?

The City Commission's move yesterday was the ace in the hole for backers of the Tennessee Valley Authority who bitterly oppose any tie up with the private power Dixon-Yates combine.

A new congressional attack on the controversial Dixon - Yates contract seems virtually assured.

President Eisenhower, who backed the Dixon - Yates contract solidly, once told a news conference he would like to see Memphis build its own plant. But there was no immediate comment on the Memphis move from high administration officials.

Fire-Fighting Gear Survey Taken Here

The Oakland Civil Defense Office has completed a survey of fire-fighting equipment available for use in the county.

Figures released by CD director Lewis C. Jarrendt show there are 61 fire stations in the county with 123 pumpers. Some 7 pumps can supply 1,000 gallons per minute, 67 are in the 500 to 750 gallon per minute class and 49 pump less than 500.

Paid firemen total 369, said Jarrendt. There are 4 ladder trucks, 4 aerial trucks and 10 inhalators available.

Health Service Backs Up Experts' OK of Vaccine

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Public Health Service, agreeing with the opinion of a panel of medical experts, says "we continue to endorse the manufacture and use" of Salk polio vaccine.

* * *

The health service statement, reaffirming its earlier stand, was issued as the House Commerce Committee completed two days of unusual hearings in which researchers expressed opinions which added up to an 8-2 vote of confidence in the vaccine.

There still was no word, however, on how soon additional supplies of the vaccine might be available. A special vaccine clearance committee which advises the health service met late yesterday, but took no action on supplies awaiting clearance.

A health service spokesman said no further meetings were scheduled this week, but that it was possible now to clear vaccine through a telephone conference.

* * *

The verdict of the panel was immediately endorsed by U.S. Surgeon General Leonard A. Scheele in a statement saying:

* * *

"The Public Health Service repeats its belief that the present Salk vaccine is effective and safe for use . . . We recognize the need for a substitute for the Mahoney virus-strain . . . We agree that research should be carried out to improve further potency measurements and safety testing procedure . . . In short, we continue to endorse the manufacture and use of this vaccine."

County Builder Given Sentence

Ex-Teacher Ben Bayer Draws Jail Terms on Larceny Charges

An Oak Park builder, who launched his business with more than $800,000 in loans from the Detroit Teachers Credit Union, was sentenced to 2 to 5 years in Jackson State Prison yesterday in Detroit Recorder's Court.

Ben Bayer, 43, also was sentenced to 1½ to 5 years in Jackson Monday in Oakland County Circuit Court on a similar larceny by conversion charge.

Bayer is attempting to perfect an appeal on both convictions.

The one-time college basketball star, and former Detroit teacher, still owes the credit union more than $180,000. The firm said its investment is protected by mortgages on 16 of the 38 homes Bayer built in Oak Park.

The company's manager said he could not explain how the loans, dating from March 6, 1948, were made, since they occurred before he began duties.

Bayer, of 16815 Linwood, said the homes cost more to build than he anticipated and he could not finish construction of several or return down payments made by customers.

The Oakland charge was brought by Nicholas Grigoras, of 13720 Courtland, Oak Park. Grigoras claimed he made a $5,000 down payment, then discovered there is $13,400 still owed to contractors who worked on the home he intended to buy. Bayer could not return the deposit, Grigoras alleged.

Bayer is free on bond pending hearings on his twin appeals.

Area Officials Hit Road 'Priority' List

of improvement or relief stemming from other construction.

These include:

M59 on the stretch running from the vicinity of Auburn Heights through Pontiac to the Pontiac Lake area.

M58 (Telegraph) bypass from Square Lake road north to U.S.10.

U. S.10 (Woodward) through the heart of Pontiac and out into Waterford Township.

U. S.10 from Eight to Twelve Mile roads through the Ferndale-Royal Oak area.

Larson listed other projects, not so pressing but still badly needed:

M150 from Eight Mile Road north to Rochester.

Realignment of M87 through Holly.

Extension of Northwestern Highway from Fourteen Mile Road northwest to Fenton.

Realignment of M218 from Pontiac to Orchard Lake.

The highway department, the engineer stated, is considering dropping M218 back to a county-road classification which would eliminate it from chances of benefiting from the new money.

Boy Faces Adult Trial in Pop Bottle Slaying

KALAMAZOO, Mich. (AP) — Juvenile Court will be asked to waive jurisdiction over Philip Coldwell, 16, so that he may be tried as an adult in the slaying of David Keckler, 71.

Police said the seventh-grade pupil admitted yesterday striking the man over the head with a pop bottle in a $3 robbery June 12. Keckler, a cripple, operated a fish bait stand.

The Day in Birmingham

Stockholders Will Receive Wabeek Merger Proposal

BIRMINGHAM — On Monday stockholders of Wabeek State Bank and the Detroit Trust Co. will receive a merger proposal, approved Wednesday by directors of both firms.

A vote is scheduled for July 26 and the proposition must also be approved by the State Banking Department.

MOVE EXPLAINED

The change affects six Wabeek branches, one in Birmingham. What the move means locally as well as in other offices, was explained by Fred C. Schlorff, Wabeek vice president:

"We will expand our customer services by adding a trust division, which we have never had before," he said. "This means that we will be handling estates, guardianships, transfers for large corporations and other things of that nature."

Officials said months of planning preceded the announcement and said consolidation will bring total resources to $170,000,000. Combined capital, surplus and undivided profits will total about $15,000,000.

Detroit Trust is the largest independent trust-management operation in the country. Wabeek ranks sixth in Detroit.

Despite two new obstacles in the path of the Evergreen interceptor sewer system, the advisory committee representing the six southeastern Oakland County communities involved met here yesterday and passed two resolutions.

One resolution recommends to the county drain commissioner that the sewer be designed to connect with the Farmington interceptor project at Evergreen and Eight Mile Rds., with Farmington sharing that portion of the costs.

The other calls for providing connections to eliminate "bootleg" sanitary flow which has been running from Southfield Township into the Detroit system. Southfield would negotiate with Detroit on storm water flow of this nature.

Snags which the $2,740,000 Evergreen projects are up against include the recent approving vote to incorporate Southfield Township, which must adopt its charter before making arrangements to pay its share for construction.

Also, bonding attorneys have turned down bonds for the project, stating that the financing proposal approved by Southfield voters in April was misworded.

Besides Southfield, which would carry the brunt of costs, Birmingham, Bloomfield Hills and Township, the City of Lathrup Village and Troy Township share in the project.

* * *

Openings remain in the third, fourth and fifth periods at the YMCA's Camp Ohiyeas, Edwin F. Kirbert, local executive secretary has announced.

The first contingent of local boys will leave from the Y on Monday. Birmingham lads who will be boating, swimming, fishing, hiking and studying nature include John Bacheler, Richard L. Beruhard Jr., Dave Hunter, William Bacheler, and David T. Stuart.

Others are Michael Riley, Bennett Rott Jr., Donald R. Schmidt, Arthur W. Stuart and Larry J. West. Further information may be secured at the Y.

* * *

A condensation of studies undertaken since 1947 to secure State Highway Department approval of extending 14 Mile road from Southfield to Cranbrook roads, will be made by planning technician Herbert Herzberg and William Brown, Planning Board vice chairman.

The two were asked at this week's board meeting to show in their report the increased traffic volume on all of Birmingham's major streets in the past six years through population growth in communities surrounding Birmingham.

Also to be highlighted is the prediction for much more expansion in outlying areas, as made by the Detroit Metropolitan Regional Planning Commission.

Mrs. Harry L. Miller

Service for Mrs. Harry L. (Jane Bell) Miller, 84, of 21380 11-Mile Rd., Southfield Township, will be held at 1 p.m. Monday at the Bell Chapel of the William R. Hamilton Co., with burial in Southfield Cemetery. She died at Beaumont Hospital, Royal Oak, last night.

Sister of Howard Bell, Birmingham florist, Mrs. Miller worked for many years in the Oakland County Register of Deeds office in Pontiac. She was born in Southfield Township, and lived there all her life.

Surviving besides her brother Howard are another brother, Norman of Oxford. She was a widow.

Gaining Importance in Italy's Current Crisis Over Cabinet

ROME (AP)—Italy's far right and left political factions stepped up their campaigns to gain a greater voice in the government today as the nation's Cabinet crisis went into its third day.

* * *

With President Giovanni Gronchi continuing his consultations seeking a successor to Premier Mario Scelba, the two top contenders appeared to be ex-Premier Giuseppe Pella and Budget Minister Ezio Vanoni.

The demands made by the Communists, the fellow-traveling leftwing Socialists and the Monarchists took on new importance since it appeared that a part of the votes needed by any new premier to command a parliamentary majority would have to come from one of the three parties.

The Christian Democrats, the largest single faction in Parliament, have only 262 of the 590 Chamber of Deputies seats—34 short of a majority. Scelba, Pella and Vanoni all belong to this party.

* * *

Pella, who leads a right-wing faction that forced Scelba's resignation Wednesday, probably would look to the Monarchist right for unofficial support. Vanoni might seek his supporting votes from the left-wing Socialists led by Pietro Nenni.

Concert Violinist Dies

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP)—Louis Siegel, concert violinst and composer, died in a hospital here last night. He was 69.

Strikers to Appear in Circuit Court

Striking members of the Retail, Wholesale and Department Store Union Local 352-4 (CIO) will appear in Oakland County Circuit Court June 29 to attempt to show why they should not be restrained from picketing the F. B. Melin Furniture Co. here.

The firm seeks an order stopping picketing and a further ruling that the strike is illegal. The company claims four employes are engaged in an unauthorized wildcat strike.

Burma's U Nu Arrives for Visit in America

NEW YORK (UP)— Burmese Prime Minister U Nu arrived today for a three - week visit to this country at government invitation.

State Department and city officials extended a formal welcome as he stepped off a plane from London at Idlewild Airport.

He will spend several days here getting a physical checkup at New York Hospital. Then he will visit Washington, Philadelphia, Detroit, Ann Arbor and Knoxville, Tenn., where he will inspect the Tennessee Valley project, then go to San Francisco to fly home July 15.

Hurrying to Get Off

ST. LOUIS (UP)—Highway Patrolman Robert Beck added a new one to his list of excuses for speeding. Beck stopped an elderly man driving an ancient auto on the highway west of here. The driver told Beck: "This highway is so darned dangerous I was hurrying to get off it."

Arabs Revile Diplomat for Mixing His Drinks

AMMAN, Jordan (UP) — Jordan's government has declared the Italian consul in Jerusalem persona non grata because he got his drinks mixed.

The unfortunate diplomat served drinks made in Israel at a cocktail party attended by Arabs in Jerusalem.

The consul, Stephano Rocchi, is accredited to both the Jordan and Israeli sections of Jerusalem.

TV Misleads Firemen

WILDER, Idaho (UP)—Members of the Wilder Fire Department were sitting around listening to a fire siren on their television set. Suddenly it struck them they heard two sirens. One was their own, and they rushed out to douse a small blaze at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Willie Patrick.

Bevan Rejoins Shadow Cabinet

Left-Winger Elected 14 Months After Leaving Old Group

LONDON (AP)—Left-wing Laborite Aneurin Bevan has been elected to the party's new shadow cabinet. His selection came 14 months after he quit the old group in protest against party chief Clement Attlee's stand on international affairs.

* * *

The fiery Welsh rebel was among 12 top Socialists elected last night to the body, which decides the party's stand on legislation before Parliament. It would take over as the regular Cabinet should the ruling Conservatives be turned out of office and the Laborites succeed in forming a government.

Along with Bevan, the party members in Parliament also named his chief lieutenant Harold Wilson. Wilson, a former trade minister, took over Bevan's seat on the old shadow cabinet when his leader walked out in April 1954.

* * *

Although the election of both men gave their left-wing faction an additional seat, Attlee's moderates claimed the voting was a triumph for their views. Seven Bevan supporters had sought election.

As party chief, Attlee automatically heads the shadow cabinet. His deputy Herbert Morrison also won a place on the group without a contest.

* * *

Bevan has long been at odds with the party's moderates. He stormed out of the old shadow cabinet in 1954 after it turned down his demand that the party end its support of what he called British appeasement of U.S. foreign policy. He insisted the Labor party should advocate an independent British path, anti-Communist but not necessarily pro-American.

Dentist Urges U.S. to Finance More Research

CHICAGO (UPI) — More dollars for research would be the most effective means of reducing the nation's enormous yearly bill for dental care, according to the president of the American Dental Association.

* * *

Dr. Daniel F. Lynch, Washington, D. C., set the bill at over $1,400,000,000, including $100,000,000 spent by the government on the teeth of veterans, members of the armed forces and others.

"The government allocates only $2,000,000 to support dental research which might prevent these dental ills," Lynch said, terming this "a hardly realistic approach" to the problem.

He indicated that the same approach prevails elsewhere and called for increased backing for dental research.

* * *

"No genuine profession could exist without a relentless search for new facts, and no genuine health profession could long manage to exist without a foundation of research, if there is to be real progress in the service rendered to the public," he concluded.

Tool Improvement Results From Bet

WAHOO, Neb. (UP)—An Army Ordanance safety official bet an employe at the Nebraska ordnance plant here that he could not produce a durable, non-sparking tool, and the employe came up with a "remarkable improvement."

Walter Meier Sr., chief draftsman for the National Gypsum Co., at the plant, won his wager with a tool that may be adopted for widespread use in the ammunition industry where non-sparking tools are a must for safety purposes.

Safety personnel at the plant here said the tool is a "remarkable improvement" over other non-sparking tools available.

They said the tool would spark second of an inch into metal, but this is considered to be an ample measure for safety purposes.

Officials also said the steel tool is expected to last much longer than other such tools, usually made of soft metal. Cost of Meier's tool would be the same as others.

Art Expert Marks 90th Birthday

FLORENCE, Italy (AP)—A fabulous American named Bernard Berenson celebrates his 90th birthday Sunday.

Tiny and fragile, white-bearded and elegant, Berenson is an intimate of kings, a living legend and the world's greatest authority on painting of the Italian Renaissance.

* * *

On his advice were built some of America's greatest collections. Hundreds of Americans visit his villa I Tatti just outside Florence to savor his wit and wisdom—and to see how steadfastly American he has remained after 65 years in Italy.

His conversation is peppered with references to "the way we do things in America." He talks of his youth in Boston and the Harvard class of 1887.

"Because I am an American," he says, "I am a European."

A paradox? No, replies "B.B." Only an American can see Europe as a whole and not as single, nationalistic states.

* * *

"I am not like some Americans who become patridiotic—that word I coined—about some little part of Europe. They develop an extreme passion for some little spot and can see no other. Of course, I love Italy, but I love it as a European and as an American. Because I am both, I love all of Europe."

* * *

What of postwar writers and painters?

"Inspiration through dissipation seems to be the modern motto. I don't like it."

Berenson himself is a devotee of moderation. Ticking off writers, artists and actors he has met in recent years, he went on:

"They all seem to think that they must find their inspiration through lechery. I see no need for it and certainly their work shows it. It's not for the best."

* * *

For present-day artists he has even less use:

"A doctor studies for nine years, a lawyer for five, all professions—and some we never even considered as professions—require time spent in learning—except artists. Men now seem to think that all they need to do is slap a brushful of paint across a canvas, give it a fanciful title, and run to a dealer to sell it. That is not art. Where is the technique?"

Here in his beautiful 40-room house, surrounded by devoted friends and servants and a collection of art treasures, Berenson lives like a 19th century gentleman with a 20th century outlook.

* * *

He works daily on a new edition of his "Italian Painters of the Renaissance" and maintains a lively interest in world events. He corresponds with friends all over the world. His visitors range from young students to the less accessible of the world's great.

* * *

Born in Lithuania, Berenson went to the United States as a boy. A group of Bostonians contributed $750 to send him to Europe for a year after graduation from college. He has been in this art-loving land ever since, in the process amassing a comfortable fortune first as an art buyer and for years after as chief adviser to the late Lord Duveen, the dealer who assembled most big private American collections before World War II.

* * *

Italian friends hid him from the Nazis throughout the war.

He plans to leave his estate and library to Harvard University, to be used for the study of Mediterranean art.

* * *

"I should like to think," he says, "that after I am gone, students can come to I Tatti as they did to the Medieval cloisters, to study to escape for a while from the cares and clatter of the world, to learn of the past and to contemplate beauty."

Gang Takes U.N. Tag

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—Three juvenile gangs used to call themselves the "Royal Dragons," "Mighty Dragons" and "Young Dragons." Recently, however, the clubs took on an international outlook, merged and named themselves "The United Nations," Patrolman Benjamin Monroe of the Police Juvenile Bureau says.

Reds' Peace Terms Harsh

Anyone inclined to believe that Soviet policy is softening should consider Russian peace overtures to Japan.

Basically the terms offered by Moscow are the same as those rejected by Japan in San Francisco in 1951. It was this rejection that prompted the Russians' refusal to sign the Japanese peace treaty.

★ ★ ★

According to Japan's Foreign Minister Shigemitsu, these terms call for abrogation of the U. S.-Japanese defense pact, withdrawall of our forces from Japan and the neutralization of that country.

Also demanded by the Russians is a Japanese-Red Chinese peace treaty and recognition of Communist Chinese sovereignty over Formosa. A further demand is for a Japanese declaration of sovereignty over the Ryukyu and Bonin islands now under American trusteeship and on which we have military bases.

★ ★ ★

Evidence that Russia is in no way inclined to grant concessions in its refusal to consider return of southern Sakhalin and the Kuriles to Japan. This attitude is reinforced by refusal even to discuss return of Japanese war prisoners. On top of all this the Russians are demanding navigation rights in Japanese waters.

In other words "the bear that walks like a man" still acts like a bear. It may be, however, as many Japanese hope, that these terms are for bargaining purposes only and will be modified later.

Farm Land Values Up

One of the paradoxes of American agriculture is that while prices the farmer gets for the things he grows are declining, the value of his farm land is increasing.

With the period 1947-1949 taken as 100, farm land values were 128 in 1952. They dropped to 122 by the Spring of 1954 and rose to 125 this Spring.

At present levels, says U. S. News & World Report, farm land is worth two and a half times what it brought before World War II. Department of Agriculture employes discussing the situation, emphasize that the current trend is toward larger and more efficient farms.

Successful farmers are reaching out for more acreage to permit greater efficiency in the use of farm machinery. The official survey shows that in the wheat areas 40 to 50 per cent of all land purchases have been made to enlarge existing holdings.

The effect of this is to increase the average size of American farms. In 1940 it was 174 acres and by 1950 it had reached 215 acres. A survey now in progress is expected to show a further increase.

These developments are reassuring in the face of the fact that since 1950 our farm population has shrunk from 25,100,000 to 21,200,000. Although we have 200,000 fewer farms than five years ago, they are larger, more efficiently operated and hence more productive.

College Families Larger

Take it from the Population Reference Bureau, things are looking up censuswise among American parents with college degrees.

These people are having larger families and that's both good and important news. This vital fact was gleaned from a study of the class of 1945. The bureau now believes there is hope that this class can reproduce itself in the 15 years of family building left to it.

Men of this class now average 1.73 children and women, 1.43. It is estimated that 2.15 children are needed for a class to replace itself in the next generation.

This replacement is especially important to a country like the United States which has to depend for development and defense on trained citizens rather than on mass manpower.

Many children of college graduates themselves go on to college. They thereby help to create the new group on which the country will have to depend for its scientists, engineers, technicians, industrial and political leaders.

The fact that this group is smaller than the country needs explains industry's increasing effort to bring higher education within the reach of deserving youths.

Latest example of this is the recent award by General Motors of college scholarships to 100 of the Nation's high school students. The winners were chosen by a group of 16 outstanding educators from among 14,000 applicants.

Best of the Year

Drive in the Country This Weekend Will Be Enjoyable

Summer: When the children slam the doors they've left open the rest of the year.

This weekend will be one of the best of the year for that drive into the country. Everything now is in full foliage, and luxuriant and dust washed from the recent rains. The scent of wild flowers and aroma of new mown hay permeates the air. The fields of waving grain are mindful of ocean billows. Some of the wheat is changing from green to gold. Fields of oats are in their usual greenish gray. The corn is striving to reach that "knee high by the Fourth of July," and the birds never sang more melodically. By all means take the back roads. There's where you'll always find Mother Nature at her best—and they're safer.

The Squeeze

David Lawrence Says:

U. S. Should Ask Russia for TV and Radio Time

SAN FRANCISCO—Did Molotov torpedo the conference "at the summit"? Is there any real possibility of agreement now? For the Soviet foreign minister has announced an unalterable, rigid line of policy which offers no concession—in fact, admits no wrong in the Communist imperialism and aggression of the last ten years.

* * *

There are still among the delegates some who refuse to have their ardor dampened and who profess to see in the Molotov review of world affairs a confession of weakness and vindication of the policy of military strength as a deterrent.

But many others are whistling to keep up their optimism. For the plain meaning of the Molotov address is that he wants peace—but without any price at all to the Communists.

The Molotov address was a bombshell. It aroused adverse comments in rebuttal from the Cuban, Philippine and French spokesmen. But everybody realized that, with the speech scheduled for Friday by U.S. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles there could be only an implicit rather than an explicit reply because the rules of this U.N. session do not permit direct attacks by one country on another.

OFFERS SUGGESTION

What the American delegation might have done was to schedule a speech at the Commonwealth Club here—outside the U.N. meeting—challeging the Soviet government to let some American spokesman have time on the television and radio networks throughout Soviet Russia, so that the people there could get the other side of the story of what has been happening in the last ten years. According to Molotov, only the Western countries have been committing aggression and threatening attack.

* * *

British Foreign Secretary Harold Macmillan used the device of a speech at the Commonwealth Club to get off his chest a lot of things he wanted to say about what is going on in the world. For one thing, he wished to pay his respects to those in both America and Britain who talk loosely about "nationalism" and "colonialism." He said:

"Nationalism, like alcohol should be taken in moderation—as a stimulant, not as a drug. Anyway, nationalism in Asia has often been the stooge and stalking horse of communism. These young countries need patriotism—but they also need to be protected from the blandishments of communism masquerading as idealism."

Macmillan talked of the elections held in Singapore recently and the elections soon to be held in the Federation of Malaya, and then remarked:

* * *

"I've not heard of any elections in Comniunist-controlled territories—except the ones when 99.7 per cent of the people vote obediently for one party—the party of their masters. Dr. Gallup hasn't much of a look-in under communism."

Unfortunately the British foreign secretary marred his speech by an oblique defense of the British policy in recognizing the Red Chinese government. He said that "the only test was that the government should really be in actual control of the territory concerned—that's why we recognize the government in Communist China and sent a mission there."

* * *

But, while arguing that this doesn't mean approval of the government's being recognized, he forgot that his own government today refuses to agree to the admission of Spain into the United Nations because it dislikes Franco's government—which, of course, is in complete control of Spanish territory. Nor is the issue what Macmillan presented.

Nobody quarrels with what Britain did in recognizing Red China prior to the Korean War, but the critics rightly point to Britain's expressed willingness to admit Red China into the United Nations after the Peiping government intervened in the Korean War of aggression and caused hundreds of thousands of casualties.

BRITAIN BENEFITS

Perhaps the frankest and most candid expression that has come on the subject was in Macmillan's comment about the original reason for British recognition of Red China and other governments: "We do it, to be frank, to benefit ourselves—not to please them. . . . This may be the right or wrong view of what is expedient. But it's certainly nothing to quarrel about."

* * *

But that's the crux of the whole problem of international relations today. The British cry out when their interests are damaged in Malaya,' but they are evidently willing to play the game of expediency in other parts of the world. America alone carries the torch of idealism and morality.

It is too bad British materialism and its concern for trade through Hong Kong, another British colony, has caused the British of both major parties in Parliament to fail to see that a shortsighted course which makes compromises with evil only compounds the felonies of international crime.

Commend Pontiac Police Department for Quick, Alert, Courteous Service

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature

Hats off to the finest Police Department anywhere. On two occasions in the last week we have had cases of thievery. One involved a set of chrome wheel covers, the other, a new Buick convertible. The convertible was recovered 25 minutes after it was stolen, the wheel covers were returned the following morning.

I not only find our police officers very courteous, but also very alert.

Be Ready for Propaganda at Big Four Conference

BY MERRYLE RUKEYSER
INS Economic Commentator

In connection with the forthcoming Big Four meeting at the summit beginning July 18, it is well to keep in mind that this is one more area in which there will be competition for men's minds and men's hearts.

* * *

On numerous occasions, this column has suggested that in the competitive coexistence with militant communism, this country might benefit by relying more on creative advertising writers and less on conventional silk hat diplomats.

On the staff of conference advisers should be included some Yankee traders, and perhaps a smattering of stock brokers and security analysts. The analysts and stock traders have a sixth sense for looking beyond appearances to the realities.

It's the special role of the analyst to make an objective appraisal of men and corporate assets, and not be guided unduly by the self-serving remarks of principals and their press agents.

* * *

In Wall street, survival depends on not being taken in by propaganda and special pleading.

DITTY RECALLED

The conditions imposed by the Soviet spokesmen on the agenda for the forthcoming meeting would be recognized in hardboiled Wall street as in the spirit of the ditty about the lass who asks: "Mother, may I go in to swim?" The mater replies: "Yes, my darling daughter, but don't go near the water."

* * *

The avowed purpose of the conference at the summit is to "lessen international tensions." So be it. But the Russians have stipulated that neither the status of East European Communist nations nor the role of international Communism are proper matters for discussion at the summit.

Let's analyze these stipulations as objectively as we do when digging into the investment merits of a so-called growth company.

How can one make a scientific diagnosis of "tensions" if certain relevant factors are excluded as "out of bounds?"

* * *

In view of the stipulations, a booby trap has been set. The "tensions," according to Soviet thinking, grow out of the plans of the United States and the free world to take a posture of defense against Communist aggressions. The fact that our position is a mere reaction to the Soviet aggressiveness is ruled out in advance.

NATIONAL DILEMMA

The dilemma is inherent in the basic differences between free choice societies such as ours, on the one hand, and slave state dictatorships, such as the Soviet Union, on the other.

The Soviet commissars live and breathe in the atmosphere of controlled press, restricted freedom of speech and assembly, and regimentation.

* * *

Accordingly, it may seem natural under the Soviet ideology to hamstring and hogtie the statesmen in advance, and make a mockery out of a forthcoming conference to establish a meeting of the minds and to "lessen tension."

Maybe we bourgeois are hopelessly "reactionary" in our naive clinging to the view that before you can relieve "tensions" you must explore the causes with an open mind and deal constructively with them.

In my own distorted capitalist opinion, the "tensions" would disappear overnight if the Russian rulers would implement the original promise of the Bolsheviki to the effect that the dictatorship was merely a temporary "trusteeship" until the Russian people were prepared for political self-government. It's almost 38 years — more than a generation — since the promise was made.

* * *

It is to be hoped that no posing for photographs and fraternizing over vodka will conceal from friendly allies on both sides of the Iron Curtain our inherent belief that "tensions" will end when Eastern Europe establishes democratic self-government.

Case Records of a Psychologist

Encourage Children to Look Forward With Enthusiasm to Space Pioneering

American Indians lacked a "wheel" so their civilization was possibly 25,000 years behind that of Columbus. Yet they responed to love and kindness. In fact, the Quakers lived beside them in harmony without the firing of a shot. That will probably be our experiences when we pioneer with space ships.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case O-365: Dr. Harold J., aged 34, is the dentist who asked me to explain why we shouldn't fear invasion via space ships from distant planets by horrendous figures such as are depicted in comic books nowadays.

* * *

Since our earth has reached the acme of ethical evolution, and since such high ethics has stimulated colleges and research as would not be true under a non-ethical society, then we must be in the van as regards discovery.

Rockets to the moon are no longer a wild stretch of the imagination. Inter-planetary communication, if not transportation, is within the possibilities of our grandchildren.

"What will we find on those other inhabited planets," many people have asked me.

"Will the inhabitants have our human form? And will they be hostile?"

COLUMBUS CITED

Well, we have a good case in point as regards the voyage of Columbus. He left a civilization that was possibly 25,000 years ahead of the one he encountered here in the Western Hemisphere.

* * *

For the American Indians had not yet discovered a wheel, even in the late year of 1492. So of course they could build no wagons, machinery or even clocks, all of which depend upon a wheel.

The Indians used primitive pointed sticks for farming tools, while Columbus came with the products of 25,000 years of greater scientific discovery.

But the Indians accepted Columbus as a god. And the Indians would have remained friendly, if they had been treated with the kindness which William Penn and the Quakers demonstrated.

NOT A SHOT FIRED

Historians tell us that the Quakers lived side by side with these supposed cruel "Injuns" in harmony and brotherhood. Their colonization of Pennsylvania occurred "without the firing of a shot."

* * *

A person can have as high an IQ as any American scientist and still be surrounded with primitive culture that is 50,000 or 100,000 years behind that of industrial modern America.

So we shall probably encounter awe and reverence from the natives on the distant planets when our own pioneer space ships enable us to travel afar.

Please remember, too, that dogs and other animals, though 1,000,000 years behind human beings in development, still will respond with love and affection.

ATTACK OWN KIND

Indeed, a dog will attack his own canine species to defend his adopted master!

* * *

So love and friendship can develop despite wide differences in scientific advancement or even in IQ.

Visiting a distant inhabited planet will probably be but slightly different from visiting a distant continent here on our Earth.

We may encounter natives who are at the stone age period of our earth's civilization, but they will readily adapt to kind treatment according them by our explorers.

ETERNAL TRUTHS

And eternal truth will be just as evident there as here. Thus, five plus five will still make 10, and the mathematical discoveries of Pythagoras and Euclid will be just as true.

* * *

They'll soon enjoy American baseball or football, too, and will be eager converts for the lofty ethical story of Christ's mission here on this earth.

So banish fear from the minds of your children regarding space ships.

Instead, let them eagerly look forward to our space pioneering. Encourage them to plan for such future exploration, for they may be doing foreign missionary work for us in that manner before the next century rolls around.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and a dime to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his psychological charts.

Woman Claims Vitamin A Cured Chronic Headache

By DR. WILLIAM BRADY, M.D.

A lady aged 55 (she says) writes:

"Thank you, Dr. Brady! I have suffered with headaches for twenty-five years."

* * *

"No doctor has been able to help me. Empirin" (mixture of phenacetin, aspirin and caffeine) "with codein" (alkaloid of opium, the methyl ester of morphine) "would take the edge off the headache temporarily, but the pain often pervaded in between times I would have evn in between times I would have a slight headache which would respond to milder pain relievers.

"Here are some of the treatments that failed: Estrogen shots; home administered traction, that is, neck stretching; osteopathic treatments; allergy tests and $260 worth of antigen injections; antihistamines.

"Finally I tried your suggestion of vitamin A" (for details, send stamped, self-addressed envelope and ask for pamphlet Why Have Headache?).

"I haven't taken codein since January, when I started the vitamin A treatment, nor have I had a bad headache since then.

HUSBAND DELIGHTED

"My husband is so delighted with my improvement that he has been urging me to write to you. Again—I thank you!"

* * *

The vitamin A (natural vitamin A, not pro-vitamin or just carotene treatment was the suggestion of Edward Mellanby, F. R., C. P., F. R. S., M. D., the British nutrition authority.

Who called vitamin A a remedy? Certainly not I. Nor did Mellanby. Aykroyd did, to be sure, when he described the effect of the vitamin on night blindness:

"The writer" (Aykroyd, Vitamins and Other Dietary Essentials) "has sometimes given Newfoundland fishermen, victims of "night-blindness," a single tablespoonful of cod liver oil, with the gratifying result that they were able to see on the subsequent night. There are, one fears, few other remedies in medicine so rapid and reliable."

Rember, then, you can't "try" the vitamin A treatment in less than three months; if the treatment does no good, at any rate it can do no harm.

A hundred thousand units of vitamin A a day isn't an enormous amount if you compare it with the three hundred million red corpuscles in a single drop of blood; only part of the carotene (pro-vitamin) one gets from green leaves, red and yellow fruits and vegetables, can be converted into real vitamin A in the healthy body.

The easiest pure vitamin A to take is crystalline vitamin A acetate in tasteless tablets called Nio-A-Lets; and the richest food sources of vitamin A are milk (fat, cream, butter), egg (yolk), liver, kidney, halibut, herring, sardines and fish-liver oil.

Mellanby recommended, for multiple sclerosis, this high vitamin A diet:

1 to 2 pints of milk daily
2 eggs daily

Liver, green vegetables and carrots, plus two drams of codliver oil (half a tablespoonful twice daily.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long, pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady if a stamped, self-addressed envelope is sent to the Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Mich.

Pretzel Fees High

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (UP) — L. K. Taylor left by air for Pakistan but he forgot the pretzels he usually takes on air trips. Banker Millard Smith thought it would be sporting to ship a two-bit bag of pretzels to Taylor in that pretzelless place. It took three custom declarations and $4.50 postage.

Current population of Tokyo is estimated as 7,825,810.

Inquisitive Boxer Explores Inside of Heating Plant

MILWAUKEE (UP) — A $200 boxer puppy toured his Milwaukee home recently via hot and cold furnace pipes.

Champ, owned by Mrs. Hazel Poquette, emerged unscathed from his perilous trip.

* * *

William Reimer, a roomer at Mrs. Poquette's home, said the dog pulled off the guard of the hot air register, and disappeared.

Nearly a half hour passed. Then Reimer heard a scratching noise at the cold air return in the basement recreation room.

Reimer removed the return's guard and out popped a dirty but unhurt boxer.

Reconstruction of the tour indicated that the dog must have landed inside the bonnet of the old-fashioned furnace, stumbled around it, fallen into the cold air return and crowled along it.

Fortunately the gas burner, with its thermostat set at 65 degrees, didn't cut in while the dog was making his tour.

Kite-Flying Dangers Outlined by Expert

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (UP) — A University of Illinois extension safety specialist calls the flying of kites a dangerous business.

O. L. Hogsett said electrocution and injuries from falls are among the hazards of the sport. Hogsett advised parents to make sure their children fly kites in safe areas and with proper string.

Hogsett said a safe area was one away from power lines and one without obstructions, ditches and othter conditions to trip and injure a running child. The right kind of string in non-metallic, dry string.

Health Formula: 40 Cups of Coffee

MILWAUKEE (UP) — Chief Ben American Horse, 81-year-old leader of 12,000 Dakota Sioux Indians, had this advice for the white man when he visited Milwaukee recently:

* * *

Move easy, stay loose.

Avoid whiskey, thins out the juice.

Confine your drinking to beer and ale.

Smoke without fear, but don't inhale.

Stay away from vitamin pills.

Move to South Dakota's hills.

Forty cups of coffee daily.

Keep the muscles feeling gaily.

Counterfeit Tokens

ST. PAUL, Minn. (UP) — Sales on tokens from a defunct out-of-town bus line zoomed when "collectors" found they resembled the ones used in St. Paul buses. The twin Cities Transit Co. said $150 worth of the spurious tokens showed up in its coin boxes one month.

Alfalfa, like most other legumes, grows best in a neutral to slightly alkaline soil.

Or Dog Biscuits . . .

INDIANAPOLIS (UP)—When 10-year-old Thomas Mack's pet collie had a litter of pups, he passed out "cigars," the bubblegum variety, to his school chums.

Educator Describes Ideal Civil Servant

GLENWOOD SPRINGS, Colo. (AP) —A University of Michigan political scientist and former Ann Arbor alderman has described what the ideal civil servant must be like.

Addressing the 33rd annual conference of the Colorado Municipal League, Prof. Arthur W. Bromage said:

"Councilmen and administrators need to observe good techniques if they are to serve the people as a winning team."

The techniques a civil servant must excel in, Bromage said, are: giving the best in service; allowing all citizens and administrators to study major decisions; keeping a tolerant attitude and sense of humor; being wise in press, radio and television relations; handling voter contacts with assurance and constantly working for good government.

Some elements, Prof. Bromage said, are essential for local democracy. They are home rule and optional charters; clear organizational structure allocating responpowers; citizen action groups and state municipal leagues.

Ike Cancels Nomination of Michigan Postmaster

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower has withdrawn his nomination of Leslie F. Augsbach to be postmaster at Spring Lake, Mich.

The White House said Augsbach has decided he doesn't want the job.

Intrepid Navigators Sail 800 Miles to Convention

ALLEGAN (AP) — Elton Hiscock and Wilson Hitchcock bypassed highway traffic by traveling to the recent Michigan Elks Convention at Sault Ste. Marie in a 12-foot outboard motor boat.

* * *

Hiscock, a radio technician, and Hitchcock, a machinist, spent eight days on the 800-mile trip and two days at the convention.

They agreed, however, it was a "wonderful trip."

"It sure beats battling traffic," was their joint opinion—after sleeping the clock around for one day following their return to Allegan.

They reported their 25-horsepower motor used 140 gallons of gasoline on the voyage along the eastern Lake Michigan shore from Saugatuck to Sault Ste. Marie.

* * *

The pair left Saugatuck June 6, arrived June 10 at the Soo, spent two days at the Elks convention and returned to Allegan four days later.

They said they camped on the beach every night of the eight-day round trip. Reveille was about 5 a.m. daily and the voyagers were under way by 7 a.m.

FOLLOWED SHORELINE

Their course followed the lake shoreline, from a distance of a half mile—when it was foggy—to 15 miles out in the lake. The boat was equipped with an auto compass.

"The bouncing kept it whirling most of the time," Hitchcock said.

He said they relied on a hunting compass twice when they were out of sight of the shore. They crossed both Traverse Bay and the Straits of Mackinac in heavy fogs.

The first two days of their return trip were the roughest of their tour, the pair—World War II army veterans — reported. They battled five-foot waves midway across the Straits on the homeward journey and heavy surf twice forced their return to Mackinaw City before they were able to reach calmer outer water.

* * *

They reported the Soo locks were operated for their small craft —without charge and brought home a season permit to use the locks. They doubt, however, whether they'll have further need for it.

Rites Today for Official of Holley Carburetor Co.

DETROIT (AP) — Services are scheduled today for Manson C. Carpenter, vice president of the Holley Carburetor Co., who died Tuesday. He was widely known in the automobile industry.

* * *

Carpenter was born in Adrian 62 years ago. He graduated from Hillsdale College and was a law student at University of Michigan.

And Just Don't Forget to Turn Off the Gas

BY PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK (INS) — There's an old gag which goes: If you want to have fun on the beach, look a carefree housewife in the eye and remark, "What makes you so sure you turned off the gas before you left home?"

* * *

Well, the first medical symposium on "Health and Travel" has a less humorous and more solid twist to throw at the prospective vacationer:

Are you sure your family is physically prepared for a trip?

This may cause the proud owners of bouncing, sun-baked hellions to roll in the aisles and exclaim "They're prepared, all right — but is Lake Cococomoco prepared for them?"

The doctors and specialists, gathered in New York for a first annual discussion of medical problems arising in this increasingly well-traveled world, however, say the problem should not be dismissed lightly.

Travel involves emotional and physical stresses that can be more upsetting to any person, old or young or just- right, than may show up on the surface. It is important that a person be prepared for it, by proper diet beforehand, and plenty of rest and available medication during the trip.

The dozen internationally known doctors who are here for the conference point out that the old "remedies" for travel comfort insurance included: Cuffs around the neck to control blood flow, abdominal corsets "to prevent visceral displacement," fasting, eating heartily, sucking lemons and gobbling herbs.

Now, however, there are clinical tests to show the proper way to prevent undue strain on the individual, weather traveling by car, rail, air or sea.

Some hints: People with crotchety stomachs should eat extremely simple foods, delicately seasoned, for days before — and always throughout — a vacation trip.

Col. Miriam Perry of the Air Force reports that on pre-flight meals, pilots are never given fried or fatty foods, strong seasonings, foods high in roughage, alchol or carbonated beverages.

Dr. I Newton Kugelmass, chief pediatrician of New York Children's Hospital, adds that infants' diets for a few days before travel should consist of evaporated or dried milk formula and precooked or canned cereal, fruits, vegetables and fruit juices.

HIDDEN TROUBLES

Many "hidden weaknesses" may show up when a person is traveling . . . for example, air travel is a painful way to discover a cavity in a tooth . . . and to guard against such disaster, the doctor recommend two procedures:

First, make as certain as possible that all members of the family are sound of wind, limb and tooth before starting out. Second take along a kit of medications for crises.

Dr. E. H. Loughin of the New York College of Medicine recommends that the kit contain such items as aspirin, an antacid, paregoric, a motion-sickness preventive, an anti- infective agent and, of course, the "suitable aids for the locale of the vacation." Such as suntan lotion for Atlantic City, poison ivy cream for the north woods, splinter and bandages for Sun Valley, etc. (Do not overlook an extra book of precautionary checks for Las Vegas or New York City.)

If persons who incline toward sickness are in the party, the recommended procedure is to travel armed with the names of recommended physicians along the route.

With all these preparations taken care of, the doctors say, you should have a light-hearted, trouble-free vacation no matter where, or by what means of transportation, you go. So happy vacationing . . .

And don't forget to turn off the gas!

Priest Claims Peron Married to 19-Year-Old

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil (AP)—The newspaper O Globo quotes a refugee Roman Catholic priest as saying that Argentine President Juan D. Peron is secretly married to a 19-year-old girl named Laura del Solar.

The newspaper attributed the report last night to the Rev. Jose Fernandez, who told newsmen he escaped from Buenos Aires to Asuncion, Paraguay, after the unsuccessful June 16 revolt in Argentina. He arrived here Wednesday.

* * *

Efforts to check the report in Buenos Aires brought the reply that no information was available there on the subject. News dispatches from Argentina have been censored since the uprising.

Peron's late wife Eva was a major force in Argentine politics. She died of cancer July 26, 1952.

Another Rio newspaper, O Journal, quoted Father Fernandez as saying that the archbishop's palace in Buenos Aires was set afire after the revolt "with a number of the clergy inside. . . . Several persons were thrown into the flames and some of them met a horrible death."

Hiroshima Survivor Listed as Critical

NISHINOMIYA, Japan (AP)—The Japan News said today Father Wilhelm Kleinsorge, whose atom bomb experience was featured in John Hershey's book "Hiroshima," is in critical condition at a hospital here.

The newspaper said the 48-year-old German priest's white cell count is down to half of normal. Reduced white cell count may be a symptom of radiation disease.

Kleinsorge, a naturalized Japanese, was on the third floor of a Hiroshima church when the bomb exploded nearly 10 years ago. His immediate physical injuries were minor.

Boy Steals Steak, Is Stabbed to Death

PASO ROBLES, Calif. (AP)—A 19-year-old boy grabbed a steak off a barbecue grate last night and was stabbed to death accidentally in an ensuing chase.

Dist. Atty. Herbert Grundell said no charges are being filed. He gave this account:

The county park superintendent, Leroy Sherwin, accidentally stabbed Walter George Tiessen. Chasing the boy, Sherwin forgot he was carrying a butcher knife and barbecue fork.

As Sherwin lunged for the boy, the knife passed into Tiessen's chest.

The boy's father—Business Agent Nick Tiessen of the AFL Laborers Union—is on vacation and was last reported in Wenatchee, Wash.

The sheriff said Sherwin and a large family group were picnicking at Atascadero Lake when young Tiessen and another 19-year-old boy darted past and Walter grabbed one of two huge steaks Sherwin was barbecuing.

It Was Her Idea

MONROE, Mich. (AP)—Mrs. Marie Raschke proposed a primary election to eliminate one of seven candidates for the three vacancies on the Estral Beach Village Commission. The primary was held and she was the one eliminated.

Nab Aquatic Thieves

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Police have arrested two bathing-suited burglars. They said the men gained entry to the best hotels in the resort city of Acapulco by appearing in bathing trunks and carrying towels. They would enter rooms by using master keys, pick up loot, wrap it in the towels and depart. They were accused of taking $16,000 worth of jewels.

Winter Sports Under Study

East Michigan Tourist Association Seeks Way to Boost Trade

HOUGHTON LAKE (AP)—Ways to boost winter tourist trade are under study by the Eastern Michigan Tourist Assn.

The group's executive committee met yesterday — opening of the summer vacation season — and named a special group to review activities of the association's Winter Sports Council.

* * *

Arthur L. Michelin of Cheboygan, committee head, suggested that the EMTA combine with three other Michigan Tourist Associations to advertise winter sports attractions as a whole, rather than in individual areas.

He said the EMTA is preparing promotional literature for this winter along that line.

Frank Davis, executive secretary, said the tourist industry will bring an estimated $6,000,000 this year but only 10 per cent of that amount is expected to come from winter sports.

* * *

A subcommittee was assigned to look into ways of inducing small conventions to come to resort areas during spring and fall to increase off-season tourist revenue.

Boy, 8, Carries Baby Brother Through Fire

MT. CLEMENS (AP) — Eight-year-old Michael Lorenz ran back into smoke and flame to carry his baby brother to safety from their burning home Wednesday.

Praised for his courage, Michael said, "I just knew I better get Johnny out."

* * *

The boy had been playing outside with his sisters, Gloria, 11, and Mary, 7, while their parents were at work. Their brothers, George, 3, and John, 22 months, were inside the house.

Michael went in to get a sandwich and found the kitchen filled with smoke and an adjoining bedroom in flames.

He ran out and told Gloria to call firemen as George hurried from the house. Then Michael went back looking for John. He found him asleep in the flaming bedroom and carried him outside.

Their mother, Mrs. Loria Lorenz, said George had started the fire by playing with matches. The interior of two bedrooms in the two-family home was destroyed.

Senate Probing 2nd Capmaker

Charge Hat Contractor Hiding Documents With Proof of Bribes

By G. MILTON KELLY

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Investigations subcommittee today sent staff sleuths on a hunt for documents wealthy capmaker Sol Schlesinger refused to surrender.

It "might tend to incriminage" him, Schlesinger testified yesterday during the subcommittee's hearings on alleged graft in the procurement of armed forces uniforms.

Chairman McClellan (D-Ark) promptly wrote to the Pentagon that Schlesinger should be denied any more government contracts and be deprived of one he now holds to produce 50,000 blue sailor caps, for having invoked the Fifth Amendment.

• • •

The subcommittee yesterday explored an unexplained rumor that Schlesinger paid a $100,000 bribe to an Army colonel and two civilian aides in 1950 to swing to his Ideal Uniform Cap Co., of Freeport, N.Y., a contract for a half million Air Force caps.

This line of questioning drew a barrage of indignant denials.

"Preposterous!" snapped Schlesinger when Robert F. Kennedy, the subcommittee counsel, asked him about it. Schlesinger swore he "absolutely" never has bribed any government servant for any purpose.

• • •

Col. Louis H. Shirley, the purchasing agent who approved the 1950 contract and whose name Kennedy had linked to the alleged bribe, fired an angry reply that the story was "all based on myth."

Shirley demanded repeatedly that somebody tell him the source of the story. Kennedy never did say where the bribe story originated.

A third witness, 69-year-old David Spatt, whom Kennedy also had named, boomed a vigorous denial.

"I never took a dime off nobody!" said Spatt, a little man who said he had an unusual ailment: "I was born with an upside down stomach." Spatt was a civilian aide to Shirley in the contract negotiations.

Japs Detain U.S. Crew, Charge Rules Violation

YOKOHAMA, Japan (AP) — Japanese port authorities here barred the entire crew of the American freighter Indian Mail for a time yesterday from coming ashore for "deliberate disregard of regulations."

They said the crewmen had to return landing passes issued last January, April and May, when the vessel visited Yokohama.

All but six were finally allowed ashore after the American consul interceded.

Pontiac Citizens Tour Nike Base

By ARNOLD S. HIRSCH

A herd of black and white Holsteins, nestled comfortably in the rolling hills of Avon Township, gazed up momentarily as an Army bus kicked up dust along Featherstone road yesterday afternoon.

On the bus were 30 civilians, Pontiac residents about to get a close-up look at the business end of a guided missile base.

The base, less than a quarter-mile from where the cows lolled, will provide excellent protection from bombs for the bovines, whether they know it or not.

The nearly completed site, when linked with others which are completed and being constructed, will provide this area with what the Army firmly believes is an excellent defense against the swiftest, highest-flying bombers made.

To carry that belief to the people and to acquaint them with the operation of this necessary base of destruction amidst a pastoral setting, the Army Thursday hosted representatives of city government, civic clubs and other interested organizations.

They were first shown the control area, at the Squirrel Road end of the 35 acre-plus installation.

PLAYS DEFENSE ROLE

In the mess hall, officers described to them the role the "Nike" guided missile plays in defense, how it teams with Air Force interceptors to prevent bombs from being dropped on this and other important industrial areas.

Then the visitors boarded the bus and were transported down dusty Featherstone road a half-mile west to the launching area. There they toured the missile-testing building, the fuel loading station and one of the three launching sites.

On an elevator, which will soon be equipped to send a missile soaring into the sky in seconds, they rode to the bottom of one of the launchers.

Beneath the ground, they inspected the control room and the storage vault where missiles will be kept in readiness.

The visitors were the first and will be the last under current Army restrictions. Next week, the Nike missiles and secret launching and radar equipment will begin arriving. Then only Army personnel will be permitted on the base.

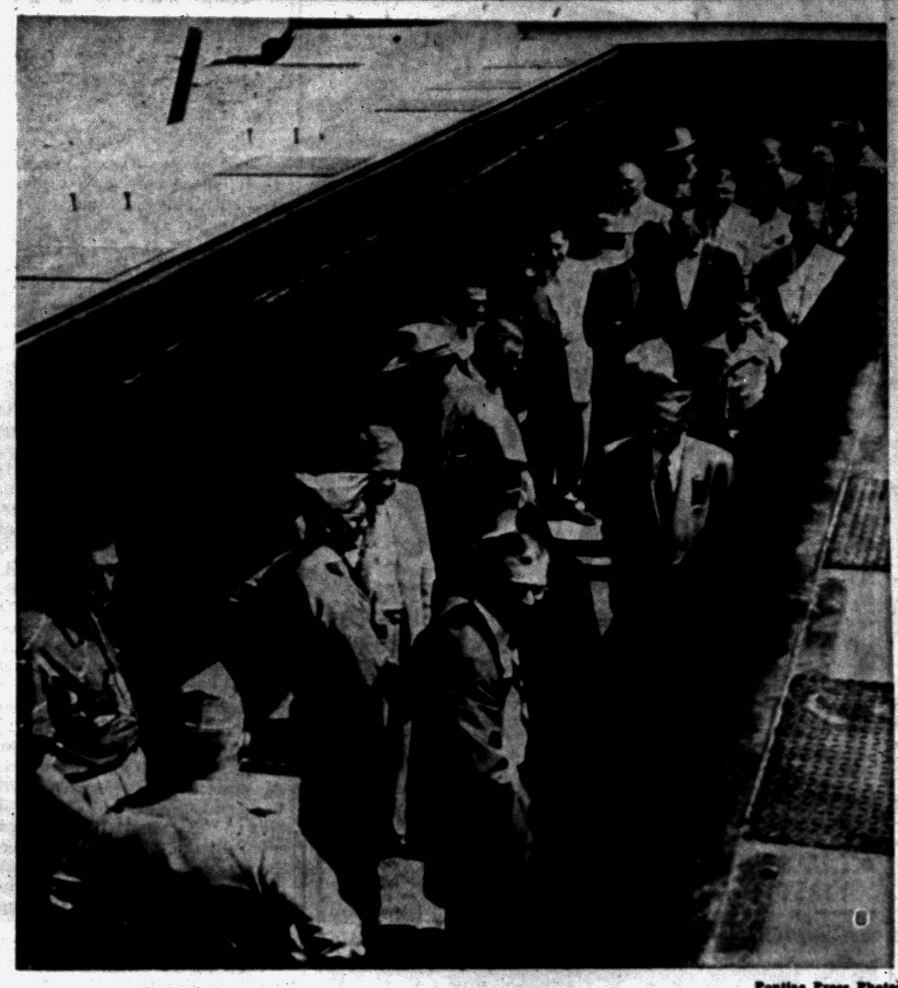
Within a month, it is expected, the 100 officers and men who will operate the base on a 24-hour basis will have the unit in operational readiness.

The site, the visitors were told, is the first in operation in Oakland County. A second, in Farmington Township, is slated for early completion. And a third is to be built in the Proud Lake Recreation Area in Commerce Township.

By 1956, 14 such bases will ring the Detroit metropolitan area, providing a tough curtain for enemy bombers to crack.

Pontiac Press Photo

MISSILE BRIEFING — Before beginning their tour of the new "Nike" guided missile base at Featherstone and Squirrel Rds. in Avon Township, visitors Thursday are briefed on the missile and the base's part in defense by Lt. Col. William S. Wanner, commanding officer of the 516th AAA Missile Battalion. Capt. Harold Strong, who will command the battery, gave the main briefing talk. Soon after, the visitors inspected the installation at close hand.



Pontiac Press Photos

DOWN THEY GO — Visitors to the Army's guided missile base nearing completion in Avon Township, north of Auburn Heights, ride an elevator down to the underground section of one of the three missile launchers. Some 30 Pontiac representatives, including city officials, civic club officers and the press, Thursday toured the installation, slated to go into operation in a month. The elevator will soon be equipped to carry a "Nike" missile to the surface from the underground storage vault.

SPENDING SUMMER HERE — Concert pianist Severin Turel is shown in his studio at St. Mary's College of Orchard Lake. Well known in Poland before World War II, the artist returned to the stage after five years in a German prison camp. He is spending the summer here preparing for a long concert tour next winter.

Polish Pianist - Composer, Once Prisoner of War, Visiting Orchard Lake Seminary

By BURDETT C. STODDARD

A Polish pianist-composer who made a successful return to the concert stage despite a 5-year ordeal in a German prison camp during World War II is spending the summer at St. Mary's College of Orchard Lake.

Severin Turel, 48, will play a special recital tonight at 8:30 p.m. in the lecture hall of the Detroit Art Institute at 5200 Woodward Ave.

Born in Poland in 1907, Turel has dedicated his life to music since the age of eight. At 10, he made his debut, presenting a Beethoven concert.

In 1936, the artist began teaching as a professor of music in Warsaw in addition to his concert performances.

PLAYED AT EXPOSITION

He was selected as one of a group of Polish artists who appeared at the New York World Exposition in 1939.

Before he could return to Poland, the war broke out and his native country was first to feel the full force of the Nazi blitzkrieg.

When Poland surrendered, Turel was in Rumania. He hastened to join remnants of the Polish Army fighting in France. The pianist's capture followed during the fall of France in 1940.

Turel was imprisoned in Stalag 13 in Bavaria and put to work at back-breaking outdoor labor.

The danger of frost bite or other injury to his hands, malnutrition and constant fatigue failed to kill his burning desire to become a great musician.

"I became acquainted with a carpenter and he managed to build me a silent keyboard from a piece of wood."

With this he managed to exercise his fingers, imagining the famous melodies he once played on the finest of pianos were pouring forth.

MIRACLE HAPPENS

Turel's fingers flew over the voiceless board for two years—then a seeming miracle happened.

A neutral commission from Sweden and Switzerland visited the camp and prevailed on the commandant to hear Turel play.

"I had not touched a real piano for two years, but I knew if I didn't play well my musical career might be ended. This inspired me, I think, to play better than ever before."

After hearing the prisoner play, the commandant authorized a transfer to another part of the camp where some instruments, including a piano, had been sent by the French Red Cross.

Turel and several other camp inmates organized an orchestra to play for the prisoners. With the piano available to him after the long working day, the artist composed the "Polish Rhapsody" representing Polish history and folklore through combining several old melodies and themes.

On April 30, 1945 the camp was liberated by American troops. Turel's native city had been occupied by Russian soldiers. "My father had died before the war and my mother during the occupation," he said.

He continued his career in France, then came to this country in November, 1953. After his initial recital here, the artist was asked to play in Carnegie Hall. Last winter he made a concert tour of 50 cities and plans a similar trip during the coming season.

Acquaintances have noted that the pianist's technique has taken on a deeper feeling since his wartime suffering.

Turel's program tonight will include the Polish Rhapsody plus two other of his compositions. The balance of the program will include Bach, Beethoven, Chopin and arrangements by Turel of two Liszt pieces.

Texas Publisher Amon Carter Dies at 75

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP)—Amon G. Carter, who rose from poverty to become the colorful multimillionaire publisher of the Fort Worth Star-Telegram, one of the major newspapers of the United States, died last night at 75.

He started as a dishwasher and waiter in a Bowie, Tex., boarding house—and was always proud of it.

* * *

From there he traveled to the Indian territory of Oklahoma to sell gilt-framed pictures, then to San Francisco as an advertising man, later to Fort Worth as head of his own advertising company. Then he joined in organization of the newspaper.

In the 1930s, he became a very wealthy oil man and turned his great fortune into philanthropy.

He suffered three heart attacks in 1953, but gained strength, took two cruises and conducted some business, but this year decreased his activities to conserve his strength.

* * *

In 1952, he relinquished the presidency to his son Amon Jr., but continued as chairman of the board and publisher of Carter publications.

He was a booster of Texas, particularly Fort Worth and west Texas. He was a leader in bringing airplane, motors and other plants to the Fort Worth area. His efforts led to the building of the large new international airport here and grateful citizens named the field and administration buildings for him.

* * *

He was noted for his lavish entertaining, particularly at his Shady Oak farm on the outskirts of Fort Worth. He was the friend of presidents, royalty, industrial executives, railroad leaders, bankers, cowhands and many others. Many national figures wore the 10-gallon hats he gave away profusely.

Courage in the oil business brought him great wealth. He drilled or had a substantial interest in 99 dry holes before his first strike—in the Mattix Pool, Lea County, N.M., July 19, 1935. He drilled the discovery well in the Wasson Pool, which extended over two west Texas counties. To his credit also was the keystone Ellenburger Pool in Winkler County.

* * *

On Sept. 1, 1947, his Wasson Pool holdings in one county were sold to Shell Oil for 16½ million dollars, the largest oil deal in Texas up to that time. This money became the nucleus of the Amon G. Carter Foundation, which has poured millions into charitable and educational channels.

In politics, he was an independent Democrat but supported Eisenhower for president.

He was a close friend of Franklin D. Roosevelt and once, when the late President passed through Bowie, Carter sold him a chicken sandwich for a dime—just as he had done for travelers when he was a youth.

Probably his best-known friendship was for Will Rogers, the humorist who was killed in a plane crash in Alaska in August 1935. He kept a light burning day and night over Rogers' photo on his desk.

Carter, then owner of an advertising firm, formed the Fort Worth Star Feb. 1, 1906, with D. C. McCaleb and A. G. Dawson. Thirty-five months later, with the aid of Col. Paul Waples, he negotiated the purchase of the opposition Telegram.

India 'Solving' Property Puzzle Caused by Shift

NEW DELHI (AP)—Almost eight years ago millions of Hindus left Pakistan to move to India. Other millions, mostly Moslems, moved from India to Islamic Pakistan.

This came about when free India and Pakistan were carved out of British India. More than a billion dollars worth of property was left behind in the two emigrations. What to do about that property and how to compensate the migrants has troubled both India and Pakistan.

* * *

Now India has an answer for Hindus who moved in from West Pakistan. It has set up a compensation pool. It is not big enough to pay full value on properties, but the Indian government is aiming at a socialistic society and says full compensation is not necessary, especially to wealthy refugees.

Moslems left property estimated at one billion rupees. This sum and 850 million rupees from the Indian government go into the pool. (One rupee equals 21 cents.)

* * *

With 390,000 claimants, the 250,000 having small claims get priority. Those claiming less than 2,000 rupees will get 66 per cent. A 10,000-rupee claim nets 41 per cent. The percentage falls to 11 for claims of 1,800,000 rupees.

In justification for taking over the deserted Moslem property, India says Hindus left property worth five billion rupees in West Pakistan. Pakistan says much of this was destroyed in riots.

Still unresolved is the question of compensation refugees from East Pakistan.

Cranbrook Honors Sculptor

The 80th birthday of Carl Milles, famed Swedish-American sculptor, was marked Thursday at Cranbrook by the opening of an exhibition of his sculpture in the Cranbrook Academy of Art Galleries.

Since the sculptor could not be present, ceremonies were brief, with friends who had known him in the 20 years at the art academy in attendance.

Henry Booth, chairman of the board of trustees of the Cranbrook Foundation, gave a short talk and placed a floral wreath on the Milles sculpture called "Europa and the Bull."

Works by the artist have been labeled with special identification labels which will remain for several days in honor of the birthday.

WILL BE NOTIFIED

Notification of the award of the founders medal will also reach him at his summer home in Lidingo, Sweden, accompanied by a resolution of the Cranbrook Foundation Trustees which stipulates, in part, that "he be honored for his long and helpful participation in the development of Cranbrook Academy of Art and his many creative contributions to art throughout the Western World."

Milles was for 21 years resident sculptor and head of the sculptor department of Cranbrook Academy of Art, where he created many of the large fountain groups now standing in major cities of Europe and the United States.

Still an active artist with a studio in Rome, Milles recently completed figure groups for the Metropolitan Museum of New York and a park in Kansas City, and is working on "The Spirit of Transportation," a memorial to Alvan Macauley which will be erected in the new civic center on the Detroit riverfront.

Cranbrook has more than 70 Milles works on its grounds or in buildings of the six institutions, the largest such collection except that at his home, now a national park in Sweden. A special exhibit of small objects and studies are now on view in the Art Galleries.

CRANBROOK CAPER — Henry S. Booth, self-described as "the staid old chairman of the Cranbrook Foundation Board of Trustees," had a bit of fun yesterday when Cranbrook celebrated the 80th birthday of Swedish sculptor Carl Milles. "Milles always complains that they never have enough water for his statues," Booth said as he placed a wreath on the "Europa and the Bull" piece. Suddenly a shower of water from a well-aimed fire hose came pouring down on "Europa" and "the staid old chairman." Booth later admitted the spectacular shower was planned as another kind of tribute to Milles, who, he said, "always got a kick out of a lot of tomfoolery." Milles was resident sculptor at Cranbrook for 20 years.

11th Story Jumper Still Unidentified

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The body of a man who somersaulted from the 11th floor of a downtown office building last night was still unidentified today.

Grey-haired, about 55, the man had no identification in his clothing.

Hundreds of persons were on the street as the body plummeted into a parking lot.

The man had hesitated on a ledge for 20 minutes. Six women in a 10th floor beauty shop saw him. A man in a nearby building called police. Officers were on the way up in an elevator when the man jumped.

Duke Tries for Hair

LONDON (AP)—The Duke of Edinburgh, thinning on top at 34, is trying out a new hair grower. Barber Charles Topper, who has clipped royal locks at Buckingham Palace most of this century, said the lotion is "light and non-greasy, specially blended with a little oil."

Kaiser Gypsum Blaze Damage $2.5 Million

REDWOOD CITY, Calif. (AP)—The Kaiser Gypsum Co. says the fire that swept through its huge plant late yesterday was so intense it did 2½ million dollars damage in 45 minutes.

Propane tanks blew up, adding to the spectacle.

No personnel in the big wallboard factory on San Francisco Bay were injured. Fire apparatus from eight communities brought the blaze under control.

Woman Named Diplomat at 53

Swedish Sociologist to Undertake New Career as Minister to India

PARIS (AP)—At 53, Mrs. Gunnar Myrdal is about to take up a new career—in diplomacy. She will be the first woman to head a Swedish diplomatic mission.

A grandmother, she has behind her wide experience in social science. This fall she is to become Swedish minister to India.

* * *

"We social scientists learn impartiality and patience," she says. "I understand they are important in diplomacy."

She is now director of the Department of Social Sciences of UNESCO (the United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization.) She is one of the highest ranking women in organizations affiliated with the United Nations.

* * *

Her department has dealt with such fields as the social effects of industrialization and racial problems. In the nearly five years she has served, the department has distributed millions of pamphlets and started publication of the International Social Science Bulletin.

"We are beginning to see the results of our pioneer work in international social science," she says.

* * *

Earlier she was president of the University of Social Pedagogics in Stockholm. She has a doctorate of laws from Mount Holyoke College, South Hadley, Mass.

Her husband is executive secretary of the U.N. Economic Commission for Europe.

Solons Find Time to Joke Despite Hectic Schedules

CHICAGO (UP) — Political life is conducive of a sense of humor, apparently.

The American Peoples Encyclopedia includes the following in its selection of the "most piquant and quotable quotes" of recent times:

Vincent Auriol, former president of France: "The work was killing me; they called me out of bed at all hours of the night to receive the resignations of prime ministers."

Vice-President Richard Nixon: "A Republican shouldn't say this, but when I was a boy I played the piano."

Vyacheslav M. Molotov, to Mrs. John Foster Dulles: "This, Madam, is the conference room where your husband gives me so much trouble."

President Anastasio Somoza of Nicaragua: "The United States treated us like an old wife. We would rather be treated like a young mistress."

He's Been Needled

HARTFORD, S. D. (UP) — Twenty-six-year-old Frank Manges pulled a needle out of his leg while working for a box company here. The needle had been there 22 years since a childhood accident.

An acre of sugar beets produces 1,700,000 calories, almost four times more energy than produced by an acre of any other food.

Detailed Soil Surveys Made in New York

ITHACA, N. Y. (UP) — An official of the U.S. Soil Conservation Service reports that approximately 500,000 acres of land in New York state's soil Conservation districts were covered by detailed soil surveys during 1954.

"The soil maps prepared as a result of these surveys were used as the basis for economically sound water management and control plans started by most of the more than 5,000 farmers and other landowners last year," Irving B. Stafford, state conservationist for the Soil Conservation service said.

Silicone Treatment Keeps Suede Coat Dry

NEW YORK (UP) — The General Electric Co. has announced the production of a new silicone that will keep a suede jacket water-repellant in snow or rain while retaining its natural hang or drape.

G-E said leather treated with the silicone in capable of resisting abrasion, wrinkles, shrinkage and ments treated with the new product are being sold in New England and national distribution is expected to be completed soon.

TELLING TIME—2
The Hour Glass

The hour glass is a very old means of telling time.

Maybe you have a small version of this device in your kitchen. It probably is a three-minute glass with which to time the boiling of an egg. It consists of two cones of glass joined together.

In one cone is a certain amount of sand. If you turn the glass upside down, the sand runs slowly into the bottom cone. When all the sand has run into the bottom part, the three minutes are up.

The hour glass works the same way — only it takes an hour instead of three minutes for its sand to run out.

In this picture a maiden in a medieval castle has been told to waken her lady from a nap in an hour. She is ready to set the glass in motion.

If you are coloring these pictures you can make the maiden's dress a bright red or orange, or even a combination of colors.

West Bloomfield, Walled Lake Dances to Aid Frey Family

Benefit Victims of Fatal Crash

Saturday, July 1 Events to Help Father, Six Injured Children

By TOM BUCHANAN

With donations going to aid members of the Richard Frey family, who were hospitalized June 3 after a car-truck crash in Shingleton, citizens in the Walled Lake area are planning two benefit dances Saturday night.

The dance funds will reduce some of the hospital expenses for Frey and six children, three girls and three boys, injured in the collision. The Freys live at 6504 Farmington Rd., Walled Lake.

Jerry Frey, 3, and Francis Teifer, Frey's brother-in-law, were killed when the car collided headon with a semi-truck, near Munising on highway M28.

Darlene, 6 months, had been left with Mrs. Frey's aunt before Frey started north.

DANCE SLATED SATURDAY

Three West Bloomfield residents are making preparations for the first benefit dance to be held Saturday from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. at the West Bloomfield Township Hall, 4460 Orchard Lake Rd.

Music will be provided by B. L. French and his orchestra, and Jack Whitehead will serve as square dance caller. Tickets are $1.50 per person, with the night's receipts going to the Freys.

The affair is being arranged by Mrs. H. Bretzlaff, Mrs. Karl Weber and Mrs. Robert French, who also organized a neighborhood fund which totals $100 to date.

Any donations for the Frey family may be sent to the Robert French home, 4570 Orhcard Lake Rd.

PLANNED AT WALLED LAKE

A second dance wil be at the Walled Lake Casino July 1 where owners Albert and Elmer Tolettene are lending the use of the casino and are defraying part of the cost of Pee Wee Hunt's orchestra.

Tickets are $1.00 per person and may be purchased from Mrs. Stanley Dennis, 404 Pontiac Trail, or Mrs. F. A. Murray, 531 Pontiac Trail, Walled Lake.

When the accident occurred, Frey was going north to bring back a relative to care for his eight children, as his wife, Grace, was in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Pontiac, undergoing treatment.

Frey and his daughter, Alice, were hospitalized in Munising. Three other children were taken to St. Luke's Hospital in Marquette, and two were treated and released.

Alice and her father have since been transferred to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital here and are reported to be in fair condition.

* * *

Medical bills have mounted steadily, and the funds from the benefit dances will help alleviate the financial situation.

Frey is a carpenter and a member of Local 92, AFL.

The steamship Savannah, which left Savannah, Ga., on May 22, 1819, and arrived in Liverpool, England, on June 20, was the first steamship to cross the Atlantic.

Gifts Answer Boy's Plea; He Offers Most to Poor

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (AP)—When 10-year-old Kevin Walsh wrote a letter to the editor two weeks ago, his hope was that "some kind person" would return his stolen clothes.

Those clothes which he bought with money he earned himself, have not come back. But from kind persons in many places have come new clothes and cash totaling $100.

What will Kevin do with the money?

* * *

"I'm going to give it to the poor," says the pink-cheeked, brown-haired boy. "I've gotten $18 worth of shirts and three pair of pants, and I only lost two."

* * *

The contributions, ranging from 10 cents to $20, were among 68 letters from 20 states and Canada received by Alexander F. Casey Jones, executive editor of the Syracuse Herald-Journal, after publication of Kevin's letter and a reply by Jones.

Kevin wrote: "I am hoping that between you and St. Anthony, some kind person will be moved to send back to me my two pairs of suntan pants and two sports shirts."

* * *

Jones replied in an editorial:

"There is something magic about buying things with your own money, isn't there, Kevin? . . . The boys who do what you are doing are the fellows who become real citizens when they grow up."

Jones predicted that St. Anthony would be on Kevin's side.

Many of the resulting letters were signed simply, "St. Anthony."

Two Brothers Have 2 Wives: Apiece, That Is

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Two brothers were in jail today because a justice of the peace ruled that four brides for two brothers is illegal.

But Edward Roberts, 31, and Lyle, 21, said they didn't intend to break the law.

Yesterday Mrs. Louise Roberts, 17, told Justice Dave Thompson she had learned her husband Edward had married her without getting a divorce from another woman, Russella, 21. Thompson charged Edward with bigamy and set an examining trial.

Brother Lyle was called as a witness.

Two 17-year-old women—Doris and Joan—also appeared, both claiming to have married Lyle.

Edward said:

"I married Russella in Mexico. A lawyer told me the marriage wasn't legal. So I married Louise."

Lyle said:

"I married Doris in San Angelo. We separated and I came to Houston that she divorced me. So, I married Joan."

Mountain Lions Edge Closer to Houses

MONTROSE, Calif. (AP)—Probably because of lack of water and food, mountain lions are roaming very close to homes in the Montrose area.

Russell Lloyd told sheriff's officers he heard lions "roaring and screaming" near his residence yesterday. And recently he found the tracks of three lions in the Indian Springs picnic area in upper Montrose.

Sheriff's deputies said they have had other complaints that lions were roaring at night in the foothills. They said they believe the lions have gone to the picnic grounds in quest of food scraps.

Urges Defeat of Sen. Butler

Dem Chairman Lashes Solon From Maryland at Baltimore Rally

BALTIMORE (AP) — Democratic National Chairman Paul M. Butler last night urged Maryland Democrats to work for the defeat of Sen. John Marshall Butler, whom he termed "one of the worst of the Old Guard Republicans."

The Democratic leader told a meeting of about 250 top Maryland Democratic officeholders and committee members that a bitter Senate primary race must be avoided next year if the Democrats hope to win.

Among the potential candidates for the Senate attending the rally were George P. Mahoney, Clarence W. Miles and Philip B. Perlman.

* * *

Former Sen. Millard E. Tydings, who lost to Sen. Butler in 1950, had been invited but sent word he and Mrs. Tydings had a "previous appointment."

Butler said the Maryland senator with the same name "consistently favored big business" in his Senate votes. On international matters, he added, the senator "is voting the isolationist line of the 1930s."

He also noted Sen. Butler had "voted for Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) and against the censure move," adding:

"This is not surprising, when you recall that it was Sen. McCarthy's support and the McCarthy technique that helped Sen. Butler get elected in 1950."

Comment from Sen. Butler was not immediately available.

Bride's Tresses Shaved in Ritual

Orthodox Hebrew Rites Unite Young Couple in Detroit Temple

DETROIT (AP)—The centuries-old ritual of the Chasidim orthodox sect that calls for the bride's head to be shaved was followed in the marriage of Rabbi Yeshi Zav Meisels, 19, and Miss Chaye Mindel Levin, 18, last night.

The marriage at Detroit's Congregational Beth Shmuel united two prominent Jewish families. Five hundred guests attended.

The bride, trained to be a kindergarten teacher in London, wore no makeup and had her head shaved following the ceremony in the strictest orthodox tradition.

Guests also followed tradition in presenting hundreds of cheeks to the bridegroom to help support the young couple. A rabbi of this sect of Judaism is forbidden to accept a salary from his congregation.

The young rabbi is the son of Rabbi and Mrs. Chiam Meisels of Detroit. The family came here four years ago from France where the elder Meisels had founded and headed a Talmudic institution.

The bride is the daughter of Rabbi and Mrs. C. J. Weingarten of London, England, and comes from a long line of Polish and Hungarian rabbis.

The couple received congratulatory telegrams from orthodox Jews in Rome, Paris, Israel, London and other parts of the world.

The young rabbi, who will continue his studies in New York, will enter the jewelry business to support his bride.

Area Man Survives Navy Bomber Crash

CLAWSON — A Clawson man was among 11 airmen who survived the crash of a U.S. Navy patrol bomber on St. Lawrence Island, only 4 miles east of Soviet Siberia.

He was Airman Charles W. Shields, 21, of 414 Roth St., son of Charles and Melissa Shields.

The crash happened Wednesday and was announced last night by Elmendorf Air Force Base. The report said seven crewmen were injured, but did not name them. The plane crashed while attempting to land after an engine caught fire.

There are about 7,000 hospitals in the United States.

Police Hold Youth in Plane Theft Try

LANSING (AP)—Richard Hyde, 19, was held by State Police today for investigation of the attempted theft of a private airplane at Capital City Airport last night.

Another youth who was not identified was being sought for questioning.

* * *

State Police gave this account of the incident:

Neal Mc Diarmid of St. Johns, owner of the plane, happened to be at the airport.

* * *

Much to his surprise he saw his plane on the runway ready for a takeoff.

* * *

He ran towards the plane and flagged it down.

Two youths were in the plane. Hyde, who was attempting to pilot it, said he had taken the plane just to show his friend that he could fly one.

2ND YOUTH FLEES

Hyde was seized and turned over to State Police. The other youth fled.

* * *

Hyde, whose home is in Lansing, said he was home on leave from Travis Air Force Base in California and was due to report back July 3. He said he had a student pilot's license.

Lace, Satin Gown Choice of Bride Patricia Watson

MRS. N. B. WILLIAMS JR.

DRAYTON PLAINS — A full-length gown of Chantilly lace and tulle over bridal satin was Patricia Ann Watson's choice for her marriage to Nathan Bangs Williams Jr. Saturday.

The ceremony was performed in St. Andrew Church, Ann Arbor, at 2:30 p.m., with 80 guests in attendance.

The bodice of the gown was also of lace, with a strand collar accented with seed pearls. Her fingertip veil fell from a crown decorated with seed pearls.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth C. Watson are the parents of the bride, and Dr. and Mrs. Nathan B. Williams are the bridegroom's parents.

Marion T. Bergen was the maid of honor, and Rita M. Beaudoin and Mrs. Paul V. Gadola Jr. were the bridesmaids.

Robert J. Norton and Wallace B. Eberhard seated the guests. David J. Williams, brother of the bridegroom, was the best man.

A reception followed immediately after the ceremony, in the church parish house.

The couple will return to live in Ypsilanti after a trip to the Smoky Mountains.

Plates Will Be Lifted

ST. PAUL (UP)—Gov. Orville L. Freeman has signed into law a bill making Minnesota the first state in the union to allow its courts to impound license plates of motorists who drive after revocation or suspension of their driving licenses.

ATTENDING CONVENTION — Pausing on the Oakland County Courthouse steps before leaving to attend the state convention of the Justices of the Peace association in Petoskey are (l-r) Homer G. Gerue, assistant Oakland County prosecutor, Willis D. Lefurgy, Waterford Township Justice, and Gerald Terrien, justice court accountant for the Oakland County Board of Auditors. The convention yesterday and today saw the trio attending discussions led by chairman Don Adams, Waterford Justice, and Allen C. Ingle, Farmington Justice.

Hal Boyle Says:

Man's Daydreams Shrivel as Years Go By

NEW YORK (AP)—Curbstone reflections of a Pavement Plato:

One trouble with life is a fellow gets too old to feel at ease while wearing a Davy Crockett hat in public. He no longer can openly act out his daydreams.

So his fantasies go underground in his mind. And they stay there, itching him mentally, for years and years.

* * *

In time they gradually grow smaller and smaller in scale. Haven't yours? Can't you remember when maybe you dreamed of running into a burning building and rescuing a beautiful lady? Or of robbing a great liner in mid-ocean and escaping by motor boat. Or of finding $100,000 in the street?

Today none of those daydreams flicker through your head. They don't even make sense as daydreams after 40.

* * *

If the loviest woman in the world leaned her head out the window of a flaming dwelling, I'd merely stand there on the pavement and help her yell "Help!" I know my limitations. I wouldn't run up a flight of steps now to rescue anything except my social security card—and it would have to be in terrible peril at that.

In middle age a man no longer pictures himself in his daydreams as a great hero or a great rascal. He realizes he no longer has the desire—or energy—to be either.

His dreams of glory come down to small daily dramas in which he sees himself mastering some ordinary social situation that has always frustrated him before.

For example, he has just got a haircut. The barber holds up a perfunctory mirror and says, "Okay?"

* * *

For 500 times in a row in the last 20 years the victim has meekly murmured, "Uh - huh," and paid. But in his daydream he suddenly rebels and says:

"No, it certainly isn't okay, Tony. You got it parted wrong. There are at least 8 hairs too long on the right side. And I told you to clip the sideburns, and you didn't. Want me to look like a sheepdog? Now get out your scissors and do the job right—for once!"

The abashed barber bends anew to his task. When he is finished, our little hero steps from his chair with a crisp, "That's better!" As he swaggers from the shop the other customers break into admiring applause.

Or suppose you are on a bus making the long voyage home and the driver says, "Pleezmoovebackinnabus, move backinnabus," and you try to. And a fat lady says, "Who you shovin', Gargantua?" Instead of subsiding in mumbling apoplectic apology, you sing out loud and clear:

"Out of my way, fat lady. I'm going to get to the back of the bus if I have to carve my way through a wall of living flesh—and I do mean your flesh!"

* * *

Well, the driver stops the bus. Tears streaming down his cheeks he comes back, shakes your hand, and mutters, "Pal, pal—after all these years, somebody done it at least. Somebody moved upinnabackuhduhbuss."

I have two simple daydreams myself. In one I am cashing my paycheck and the bank teller asks, "Do you have any identification with you?" Instead of fumbling through my pockets, I merely fix him with a pair of steel blue eyes and tell him coldly, "my face is my identification in this man's town, sonny." He takes one hurried look — and cashes the check pronto.

In the other I go with a guest into one of the velvet rope restaurants, and when the headwaiter snootily asks if I have a reservation, I tell him:

"Me have a reservation? Look, mister, I don't even own an Indian. Now quit stalling, and show us a table."

* * *

Overcome by this bit of swift repartee, the humbled headwaiter drops his velvet rope and steers us to the best seats in the place.

In another variation of this daydream I merely take out a Boy Scout knife, hack the rope in two, and stalk right by the headwaiter as nearby guests look up and ask, "Who is he? Who is he?"

* * *

But, of course, this is probably the average man's most common daydream: He wakes up to find his house is finally paid for and doesn't need any repairs, his car is paid for and there isn't even a knock in the motor. He sits down to breakfast and neither his wife nor the kids hit him for money. He reaches in his pocket and is pleasantly dazed to find he still has $10 left—and it's only two days till payday.

Man, that's real dreaming! Who'd rather be Davy Crockett?

Molotov Bows to Truman Talk Before Dinner

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—V. M. Molotov passed out word today that he has changed the time of a diplomatic dinner tonight so his guests can hear former President Harry S. Truman before they dine.

A diplomatic tempest raged yesterday at the 10th anniversary celebration of the U.N. over reports that Molotov deliberately arranged the dinner at the Russians' leased mansion to boycott Truman's speech.

The Russians opposed the invitation to Truman when it was first mentioned several weeks ago but Truman was invited by Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold regardless.

The Russians said Truman is a private citizen and not an official.

Bottle Chokes Tot in Car as Parents Pick Berries

BENTON HARBOR (AP)—A coroner's report today said a 10-months-old boy, son of a migrant couple, died of suffocation in the back seat of his parents' car.

The infant, Andrew Fitch, had been left while his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Fitch, picked strawberries nearby. The father, checking on the child, found him choking on milk from his baby bottle, given to him 10 minutes earlier. The baby was dead on arrival at a hospital.

Car Blows Own Horn, Moves Before Burning

SCHUYLKILL HAVEN, Pa., (AP)—An auto on a used car lot burst into flames yesterday, sounded its horn, then slipped into gear and obligingly moved under its own power away from other cars.

Firemen put out the blaze after being summoned by F. H. Costenbader, who heard the horn blowing.

Fire Chief Claude Sausser said the blaze apparently caused a short circuit, which not only caused the horn to blow, but somehow started he engine and pu the car in gear. It moved 25 feet before stopping.

The car was destroyed.

Questions a Woman's Prerogative

She's Hot-Headed Over Keeping Hat One-of-Its Kind

By EMILY POST

The following letter presents a very difficult situation: "What can one say when asked point blank by someone, 'Where did you get your hat?' and then proceeds to ask, 'Do you mind if I get one like it. It's just the type I've been looking for.'

"I ran into this situation the other afternoon and, not knowing what to say without being rude, I said of course I did not mind and then told her where I bought it.

"But I did mind—very much. No woman likes to see her hat on somebody else. But what does one do?"

Answer: This is a very unfair question for anyone to ask because as you yourself say it is very hard to refuse—in fact almost impossible, unless the hat was especially designed for you.

In which case you could say that it was especially made for you and frankly you don't want to have it duplicated. If it is a stock model you really have no excuse.

"Dear Mrs. Post: I have a problem which I hope you will be able to solve for me.

"Very soon I will have to introduce a young married couple to several friends of mine and I am not sure how it should be done.

"You see, the wife is a doctor and her husband is not."

Answer: If you wish to introduce them both at the same time you can say, "Mr. John and Dr. Mary Brown," or more probably you will introduce one first, and then the other—"Dr. Brown" and then "Her husband, Mr. Brown," or "Mr. Brown" followed by "His wife, Dr. Brown."

"Dear Mrs. Post: Recently I wrote a personal letter to a friend who lost her mother and I did not receive a reply.

"Am I right in feeling that this letter should have been acknowledged?"

Answer: Your letter should have been acknowledged but surely you realize the state of mind your friend must be in and if I were you I would forgive rather than criticize her for not answering your letter.

Drop Cookie Packed Full of Nutrition

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

Here's a recipe that will please both children and their mothers. These Oatmeal Raisin cookies taste so good that the small fry won't realize how much food value is packed in them.

Mrs. David DuVall of the State Hospital grounds is today's cook. These cookies are a favorite with her family.

Membership in the Webster PTA and in the Westside Extension group constitute Mrs. DuVall's club activities. She is secretary of the Christian Women's Fellowship of her church.

OATMEAL RAISIN COOKIES
By Mrs. David DuVall

¾ cup brown sugar
¼ cup white sugar
½ cup shortening
2 eggs
½ cup buttermilk
1½ cups sifted flour
1 teaspoon baking soda
¼ teaspoon cream of tartar
1 teaspoon cinnamon
½ cup nutmeats chopped
½ teaspoon salt
1 cup raisins

Cream sugars and shortening. Add eggs and buttermilk. Sift flour, measure and sift again with soda, cream of tartar, cinnamon and salt. Add nutmeats. Scald raisins in hot water and drain. Add to cookie mixture.

Drop by teaspoonfuls on a greased cookie sheet. Bake at 375 degrees for 10-12 minutes.

Margaret Rathburn Wed in Rochester

Touring the Western states for three weeks are Mr. and Mrs. Louis Robert Wolf.

* * *

She is the former Margaret Maxine Rathburn, who was married Saturday morning in St. Andrew Church, Rochester, to Louis Robert Wolf. The Rev. Harry Paul performed the ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Rathburn of Asheville, N. C., are the parents of the bride who resides on Virginia avenue. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Wolf of Mt. Clemens.

The bride's gown of Rose Pointe lace over nylon tulle and slipper satin was fashioned with a sweetheart neckline and long pointed sleeves. A Juliet cap of lace and seed pearls held her fingertip veil of illusion. She was carrying a cascade bouquet of white stephanotis centered with a white orchid corsage.

Geraldine Lubanski, attending the bride as maid of honor, was dressed in floor-length blue nylon tulle, designed with a strapless bodice over which she wore a bolero jacket. Her flowers were a cascade arrangement of yellow feathered carnations.

MRS. LOUIS ROBERT WOLF

Mrs. June Waldrup, sister of the bride; Mrs. Barbara Burmann and Cecilia Wolf, sister of the bridegroom served as bridesmaids, wearing pastel pink floor-length gowns of imported hand-embroidered organdy. They carried blue feathered carnations.

Diane Wolf, flower girl and neice of the bridegroom, wore a floor-length dress of white organdy.

Serving his brother as best man was Clifford Wolf and seating the guests were Burl Rathburn, brother of the bride, Steve Oleksyn and Leo Schaffer.

The ringbearer was Ronnie Waldrup, nephew of the bride.

* * *

The bride's mother chose for her daughter's wedding an orchid lace gown with which she wore white and black accessories. An aqua linen dress with black accessories was worn by the bridegroom's mother. Both mothers wore purple orchid corsages.

Bride-Elect Announces Attendants

Jean Guenther, bride-elect of Richard C. Fitzpatrick, announced attendants for her Sept. 3 wedding at a miscellaneous bridal shower held Tuesday evening. Mrs. Frank L. Scully was hostess for the affair at her Alfred court home.

* * *

The ceremony will take place at St. Vincent de Paul Church with Mrs. Larry Kelly attending the bride as matron of honor. Bridesmaids will be Anita Guenther of Sault Ste. Marie, sister of the bride-elect, and Margaret Schmidt.

Jean is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roland Guenther of Sault Ste. Marie and the prospective bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Fitzpatrick of Mary Day avenue.

Nancy Pennell, Harry Buffmyer Wed in Wixom

WIXOM — Marriage vows spoken Saturday joined Nancy Barbara Pennell and Harry Buffmyer in an 8 p.m. double-ring ceremony in the Wixom Baptist Church.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank L. Pennell of Wixom. Mr. and Mrs. Clem Buffmyer of Walled Lake are the parents of the bridegroom.

A floor-length gown of white embroidered nylon net over satin was the bride's choice for the ceremony. A headpiece of white lace trimmed with pearls held her fingertip veil, and she carried a cascade arrangement of white carnations.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Ronald Dicks, and Betty Gaedt, Joan Nissen and Linda Lou Whitmore were attendants.

Serving his brother as best man was Donald Buffmyer, while Sherll Pennell, brother of the bride, William Zackary and Richard McCabe seated the guests.

A reception was held in the VFW hall. The couple will live in Walled Lake.

Paulsen Circle Sews for Missionaries

The Paulsen Circle of Emmanuel Baptist Church met Tuesday night at the home of Mrs. Roy Church on East Madison street. Mrs. Vance Wright gave a short talk on "Key to Prayer for Missions."

The 25 members and 2 guests present spent the evening sewing for the Paulsen family who will be leaving this fall to be in charge of a mission in South America.

Scorn Rumors, Let Lad Speak for Himself

By ELIZABETH WOODWARD

"Dear Miss Woodward: I met him at a church dance and with me it was love at first sight.

"He's quite good-looking, and though most of the girls call him 'fickle,' my first impression was that he was a swell guy. He danced with me quite a lot and seemed to be enjoying himself.

"I saw him once more after that and he danced with me a few times. Now I'd like to ask him to a party a friend of mine is having.

"I was all set to do so when my girl friend said she had seen him and he told her he was going steady with some girl and asking her to his prom. I certainly do not want to interfere if he is going steady.

"But I have never seen him with this girl, nor did he mention her to me. Under the circumstances would you consider it forward of me to ask him?"

Answer: Under the circumstances I think you should take a chance and ask him to go to the party with you.

But, of course, my circumstances may differ from yours. Like this:

The girls call this attractive lad "fickle." That means he bounces around rapidly from one girl to another. His past performance has been anything but steady. Almost as though his disposition is opposed to settling down.

His record would make me hesitate to believe that he'd made himself a deal. Despite what he is supposed to have told your girl friend.

IN SELF DEFENSE

If she asked nosy questions in your behalf, he might have been led to reply as he did in self-defense, you know.

Some boys don't like to get the third degree by any third party. And they snap back with some very misleading statements. Statements that are meant to confuse the issue and puzzle everybody concerned.

And maybe he was slightly confused himself. He'd made up his mind to ask this special girl to his prom. Most of the boys were asking the girls they go steady with.

So, the girl he was asking might think she was his steady, or would be his steady after the prom was over. The association of ideas may have had him puzzled and mixed up.

But on the strength of the fact that he seemed to enjoy himself with you, liked to dance with you, and never mentioned any steady girl in his background, go ahead and call him up.

Act as though you'd never heard any rumors of any kind. Just plunge into your invitation with enthusiasm.

Should he be free, he'll probably accept your bid. If he's going steady, he'll tell you so. But until you hear it in his own voice, you're not interfering with an invitation.

New Service Would Aid Families

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

(Last of three columns on a unique and dramatic approach to juvenile delinquency.)

The telephone number would be REconciliation 1-1000.

To get it, in any city in America, you'd dial RE 1-1000. It would be the number of your local Health Department's Family Emergency Service.

A child could dial it without fear. A parent could dial it without fear. Both, if the other called it, would know he was saying, "Bring us together again, please."

We'd all know the number because posters in schools, subways and buses would make us familiar with it. Though you might never dial it, knowing that you could would be security.

Because the number existed, you'd talk less excitedly to Bill about his new habit of saying "Out!" when you ask where he's going.

For in crisis, you'd know the rest of us would be behind you. New rock would rise under your feet, just knowing that the quiet steady person from RE 1-1000 would be there, if need arose.

WHAT IT WOULD BE

If it would be this to you who don't need him, what would it be to the people who do?—the parents whose words are nothing because they're spoken in broken English; the working parents without time for PTA; the night-shift parents struggling for quiet from yelling children; the women without men to say:

"Don't talk like that to your mother;"—all of us who are here by invitation from the lady in New York harbor who stretched out her arms to the world and said, "Give me your tired, your poor. Send these, the homeless, the tempest-tossed to me."

Just for a minute, think what it would mean to these among us to know that the steady, quiet stranger would come, walk in, sit down and say to us and our fresh kid: "Tell me about it."

Before the cities, there were places for children to run to when they wanted to cry. There were the tranquilizing fields and earth. Now, there are the stone streets and the city's clangor. Now when they want to cry, there are only the tenement stairs—or other kids wandering the stone streets, looking for places to cry.

• • •

I understand that there's a law of physics that says the tighter you compress material, the greater its explosive potential.

We built these cities. We packed the human material into them, tight. We undertook to cook this Melting Pot. All right, let's provide the valve for its steaming. Let's arrange for release of the explosive we're generating—and stop kidding around with baseball and playgrounds.

Emotions, not muscles are what are bursting with explosive energy. What's needed are people talking about them together. In our cities of stone, we demand a new public resource for inteligent friendliness.

Before a child can obey his father, he must experience tenderness from his mother.

Before the adult children who produce delinquency can trust our laws, they must receive compassion from you and me.

The test of a good actor is being able to keep the audience from coughing.

Wear Face Cream When Out in Sun

Too much sun, sea and air may be the bugaboos that dry out the natural moisture from your complexion leaving it parched and coarse. Wearing cream or lotion under your make-up during the day replenishes that moisture to your skin and gives it a dewy, fresh look.

Newlyweds Travel North After Rite in Port Huron

MRS. JERRY DUANE ROSE

Jerry Duane Rose claimed his bride, Gracia Dawn Black, in a candlelight service at the Reorganized Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints in Port Huron Saturday evening at 7 o'clock.

Preceding the ceremony, Richard Lalonde sang "The Lord's Prayer" and "Because."

* * *

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Percy Rose of Lakeside drive and the bride's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Dorwin Black of Port Huron.

An imported Chantilly lace flounce formed the neckline and peplum of the bride's gown. The sunburst pleated tulle skirt was fashioned with a chapel train over lustrous satin. Her fingertip veil was held in place by a crown adorned with seed pearls. She carried a colonial bouquet of carnations centered with an orchid and wore a necklace of pearls, the gift of the bridegroom.

Mrs. Charles Hoffman of Pontiac attended the bride as matron of honor wearing a tulip pink full-skirted ballerina-length dress of crystallette. The bodice was fashioned of petals over which a bolero jacket was worn.

Marilyn Richert of Port Huron and Nancy Rose of Pontiac were bridesmaids and the junior bridesmaid was Gail Black of Port Huron. They wore light blue gowns fashioned like that of the matron of honor. Small hats of crystallette with seed pearl trim matched the gowns of the attendants.

WEARS TULIP PINK

Jane Russell, the flower girl, wore a floor-length tulip pink crystallette dress and headpiece like that of the matron of honor.

* * *

Serving the bridegroom as best man was Charles Hoffman of Pontiac. Ushers were Billy Black of Marlette, George Scott, Bob Riggins and James Rose, all of Pontiac.

The ringbearer was David Black of Port Huron.

A reception followed in UAW-CIO Hall in Port Huron. The bride's mother wore a two-piece ballerina-length dress of Bermuda blue, patterned with silver white flowers.

The dress was full gored with princess lines and a sleeveless bodice. She wore a matching jacket and hat, and her accessories were white. A corsage of pink roses completed the outfit.

* * *

A rose crepe dress with rhinestone trim at the neckline and a full skirt fashioned with small gores was chosen by the mother of the bridegroom. Her accessories were navy and she wore a rose corsage.

When the couple left on a wedding trip to northern Michigan, the bride was wearing a gray corded princess-style dress with jacket, with pink accessories. She also wore the orchid from her bridal bouquet.

Upon their return, the newlyweds will live on Hillcliff drive.

Club Arranges for Benefit Show

Members of the Countryside Club are planning a benefit show, "Oh Men, Oh Women," to be held July 26 at Will-O-Way Playhouse on West Long Lake road. Proceeds from the show will benefit Camp Oakland.

A picnic luncheon was enjoyed recently by 30 members of the club who gathered at Camp Oakland. They enjoyed a tour of the camp under the direction of their host, Bill Matus.

Mrs. W. A. Alss of West Long Lake road opened her home Wednesday evening to members of the club. Cohostesses were Mrs. Don S. Connor, Mrs. W. H. Jones, Mrs. Emmett Dohany and Eveline Dohany.

Mrs. Fred Tiffany gave a book review.

State Fish Catch Tops Average in '54

LANSING (UP)—The Michigan Department of Conservation reveals that commercial fishermen took 27,000,000 pounds of fish from Michigan's Great Lakes waters during 1954.

Officials said that figure was 1,000,000 pounds above the average annual catch. Herring provided 8,500,000 pounds, and smelt ran second with an all-time record 4,900,000 pounds.

Only 85 pounds of lake trout were taken in Lake Michigan and none was caught in either Lake Huron or Lake Erie during the 1954 fishing season. Trout from these lakes sustained a $2,000,000 industry until the sea lamprey depredations of recent years.

Lake Michigan produced 14,200,000 pounds of the total 1954 catch, Lake Superior 5,800,000 pounds, Lake Huron 5,400,000 pounds and Lake Erie about 1,800,000 pounds.

Bob Considine Says:

New York Girls' Figures Face Acid Test

NEW YORK (INS) — A public-spirited matron named Mrs. Laura A. Cauble rapped for the floor at a meeting of the city's Department of Air Pollution Control and told them sharply that sulphuric acid fumes must go—or New York's women will look like a perpetual convention of Lady Godivas.

* * *

The cunning fumes knocked her nylons apart, Madame Cauble protested to the sober-sided committee. It's just a short destructive hop to the rest of a modern lady's wearing apparel, she pointed out.

Everything's nylon nowadays, she carried on, and therefore it won't be long before the city's fumes produce mass nudity beyond the gaudiest dreams of a Medieval pasha.

The Visitors' Bureau and Chamber of Commerce may find it difficult to back Mrs. Cauble's proposed legislation. Her chief support for fume-free air might very well come from the brothers Minsky and the operators of those 52nd street moll-and-gin mills.

They couldn't stand the competition offered—however reluctantly—by the girls of New York City, the most beautiful in the world.

LILO SAILS HOME

Lilo, the delightful French singer who was seen by millions in Cole Porter's "Can Can" and on Ed Sullivan's television show, sailed for home the other day talking a blue streak—in English.

When she got the role in Porter's Broadway show she did not know word one of the Queen's tongue. She memorized her long part and all those lyrics as might a parrot, including the proper English sound on which to smile, sob, leer, frown, flirt. Fabulous feat.

Once she got the hang of the language she was inclined to grow restless with the prim traditions of Broadway. On her native stage she had become accustomed to ad libbing with fellow players on stage, to keep a long-run show more topical and lively.

One night in "Can Can," after an extended and exoitable line in her native tongue, she turned to the audience and dead-panned: "That's French." Broke up everybody except the producers who cautioned her not to do it again.

* * *

Lilo will return to the U. S. in the fall to play on TV and in nightclubs, including Las Vegas, and is earmarked for a future Irving Berlin musical.

She has recently been going through the depressing (for a thrifty French housewife) experience of buying some special material. And she has a complaint:

"Zose songwriters on Broadway! They take no chances. You must buy in advance, so much for zis, so much for zat. So you buy and when you seeng eet maybe eet is nozzings.

"So you say, 'I'm sorry; eet steenks' but nobody says 'Hokay, here ees your mawney back.' But I love thees countree. . ."

And vice versa, ma'am.

NOTRE DAME ANGEL

Meet Joe Kotcka. Never heard tell of Joe Kotcha? Lot of Notre Dame men as of now and maybe tens of thousands of them in the future will be grateful to Joe.

Joe's a steel mill inspector in Clairton, Pa. His great ambition was to attend the university but his father was killed in a mill and Joe had to go to work as a boy. He decided to read himself into an education equivalent to that of a Notre Dame man.

Sacrifice piled on sacrifice enabled Joe to put together the basic books of college learning. What he read only sharpened his thirst for knowledge. In time he had hundreds of books, then thousands.

Soon they filled his house as completely as his heart was filled with love for a school he could never attend. So out of gratitude he presented his library to Notre Dame. He started with a 2,000-book gift and over 20 years more has added 9,000 more.

Each contains a book plate with these words, "Contributed by Joseph Kotcka, Clairton, Pennsylvania." He is the largest individual contributor to the extensive Notre Dame library, this resolutely grateful steelworker.

British Columbia Lobsters Have Tough Sledding

OTTAWA (AP)—Canadian Fisheries Minister James Sinclair swallowed his home town pride last night and conceded to the House of Commons that British Columbia's waters aren't destined to have a thriving lobster industry.

Himself a product of the Western province, Sinclair said attempts had been made to transplant Atlantic lobsters to the Pacific Coast. Crabs ate many of them at the time the lobsters shed their protecive shell. The young rose to the surface after birth and, by the time they reached maturity, were spread over wide areas.

"It's very difficult for a male lobster to meet a female lobster in British Columbia," the minister concluded.

Measurer of Leather Just What It Sounds

BROCKTON, Mass (UP) — A lot of Brockton residents were surprised when the mayor announced the appointment of a "measurer of leather."

The mayor explained that he was acting under chapter 95 of the Massachusetts laws, providing that the mayor, on request, "shall annually appoint one or more measurers of leather who have been certified by the director of standards. . . ."

The duty of the leather measurer, it seems, is to measure leather purchased by local shoe factories.

Uncle Johnny Brings Out Sense of Humor in Children

CHICAGO (INS) — Several million children have found a "Dutch uncle" in Uncle Johnny Coons, a merry little man with glasses, a derby hat and a knack for staying young.

No matter how much he preaches to kiddies to eat their spinach, brush their teeth and take lots of baths—they love it.

The 38-year-old Coons is a former child actor with a magic touch for bringing out the grown-up in kids and the kid in grown-ups. He has four sons of his own.

A veteran magician and puppeteer, he is a man with a dozen voices and just as many getups. His derby is styled after those sported by Buster Keaton and other oldtime clowns of the films he shows on his TV program.

LOT OF FUN

With a Hoosier twang as native as Hoagy Carmichael's, Johnny said today:

"We try to have a lot of fun. Entertainment. I feel that bringing out a sense of humor in kids is as important as learning the ABC's."

Yet, he does stress good living. The National Safety Council recently honored him with a special public interest award. He had conducted a contest in which youngsters won prizes for the best 10 safety rules they could submit.

Coons says his show is keyed to children from 3 to 12 years old. Yet he gets the feeling lots of elders are peering over the kiddies' shoulders. The American Research Bureau, he says, estimates that his antics, moralizing and oldtime movie clips draw 4 to 6 million persons from New York to Omaha.

WEIGHT PROBLEM

Lunch time show scheduling he blames for what could be a weight problem to those who regard weight as a problem. Each Saturday noon he steps before WBBM-TV cameras in Chicago and is carried to 44 cities of the CBS network.

And at five other noons over NBC's WNBQ covering the Chicago area, Uncle Johnny Coons eats a hearty lunch with all his kiddie audience.

In telling about it, Coons chortles: "Boy, are we healthy! I've put on 20 pounds, myself."

His shows, netting him $75,000 a year, are simple and, with his deft touch, appealing because of it. He chats with his audience about topics that interest them. He shows Keystone cop and cartoon films, and supplies the funny voices and "ka-booms" when the characters go sprawling.

Coons does sleight-of-hand tricks—but lets the strings show. Youngsters get even a bigger howl out of them. Such showmanship has been nurtured through stock companies, Broadway, Hollywood and radio.

KID MAGICIAN

He was turning a pretty penny as a kid magician in Lebanon, Ind., high school when he told his father, Dr. John D. Coons Sr., that show business, not medicine, was his dream. Two years later, the 19-year-old Johnny was earning equity rates in New York.

• • •

Coons' folksy Hoosier voice opened new worlds for him in radio. In 1941, he was playing as many as 35 roles a week on Chicago radio skits such as Ma Perkins, Sky King, Captain Midnight, Jack Armstrong and Vic and Sade.

With television, Coons says he "really was in the kid business." At one time he was competing with himself with two children's shows rating neck and neck in Chicago: King Calico and Pan-handle Pete.

"If anyone can put his finger on what appeals to children," Coons says, "it's being genuinely interested in them and in what you are saying to them. Genuinely interested.

"Kids can spot a phony quicker than most adults."

Adenauer Readying Answer to Moscow

BONN, Germany (AP)—Chancellor Konrad Adenauer says he is readying his answer to Moscow's invitation for diplomatic and trade talks. He'd like to make the trip early in September.

He told visiting British newsmen last night he hoped to sandwich his visit in between the Big Four summit meeting in Geneva and the ensuing foreign ministers' conference, which is expected to iron out details of any decisions by the four government heads.

Diplomatic circles in Moscow said they foresaw no Soviet objections to a September date.

The Chancellor said he hoped to get West Germany a bid to the foreign ministers' meeting—provided this did not mean admitting representatives of the Communist East zone as well.

Welder Running Home Awaiting 15th Offspring

NEW YORK (AP)—That old quip "May all your troubles be little ones" isn't a bit funny to 46-year-old Thomas Walsh.

Walsh, a Brooklyn ship welder, and his wife Mildred already have 14 children—ranging in age from 3 to 21.

And Mrs. Walsh, 41, has been in Long Island College Hospital since last Monday awaiting a new addition.

Walsh is taking most household chores in stride. One daughter graduates from high school next week and he helped her pick out her graduation dress. The youngsters of school age are taking their final exams and he is helping them to hone up.

What bothered him most, he said last night, was a false report that his 15th child had arrived.

"Everywhere I went people congratulated me and I had to stop them and tell them that I was just still waiting.

"They thought the baby would arrive right away when my wife went to the hospital Monday. Now, they just don't know."

The word from the hospital today "Nothing yet."

Crescent Lake Beach, Park Being Built

To Meet Sunday for Discussion

Association Frontage Completion Hoped for by Early July

CRESCENT LAKE—A new beach and park is in the making at Crescent Lake, and residents in the Crescent Lake Country Club Subdivision have been urged to turn out at 2 p.m. Sunday at the beach site.

Plans for the beach will be outlined, and discussion held on best method of having it ready by the early party of July.

The Crescent Lake Country Club Park Assn., whose membership is comprised of residents in the subdivision, currently owns 450 feet of lake frontage. Dredging has been going on at the beach for the past 10 days.

Playground equipment, purchased during the sale of a government housing project, will be erected in the park area upon completion of the beach, according to Thomas Salisbury of 400 Pinegrove St., president of the association.

When completed, the private recreation site will include a boatwell for members' boats, swimming beach, playground and picnic area.

Membership in the association is open to residents, with dues set at $5 per year per property owner. A nominal initiation fee is charged to new members.

The association, which had been dormant, was first formed in 1937 and reorganized last year. Current officers, in addition to Salisbury, include Sanford Stearns, vice president, Sally Nelson, secretary, Robert Ollila, treasurer; and Walter Nelson, Lewis Long and Forrest Thompson, trustees.

State's Glories Cited in Talk by Williams

ANN ARBOR (UP)—First in boat building, breakfast food, baby food and automobiles.

These, among others, are products which Michigan produces in greater quantity than any other state, Gov. G. Mennen Williams declared this week when he addressed a group attending the opening of a University of Michigan summer program featuring the history and culture of the state.

Williams used the occasion to extol on the "glories of Michigan."

Detroit, he pointed out, is not only the auto capital of the world, but is first in pharmaceutical products, adding machines, paint and heavy chemicals. More than that, he said, it is "the healthiest and most prosperous big city."

Albert Einstein, who died in April of 1955, has been called the "Copernicus of the 20th century."

Tax Ruling Hits Detroit, Wayne

Court Exempts Defense Contractor From Local Property Levies

DETROIT (UP) — A decision exempting a defense contractor from personal property taxes on materials, machinery and partly finished military items was handed down by U. S. District Judge Thomas P. Thornton yesterday.

* * *

The ruling, if left unappealed, could cost Detroit and Wayne County more than $2,350,000 in tax money and could cost other local governments millions of more dollars.

Judge Thornton's decision came in a suit filed two years ago by the Murry Corp. of America. Murray sought to recover $80,286 in taxes paid in 1952 and 1953 to the city of Detroit, its school board and to Wayne County.

The judge held that under defense contracts of the type held by Murray, the government acquires title to all machinery and inventories involved as soon as it makes any payment on the work, however small. Local taxes cannot be collected on federal property.

* * *

Local tax authorities argued that property involved in defense work belongs to the manufacturing firm until the contract is completed.

JUDGE DECLARES

In making the decision, Judge Thornton said:

"The court is not unmindful of the effects of its decision in this case. The court has been advised that there are many actions in this area involving the issue we are here called upon to resolve. The aggregate taxes involved may be in the neighborhood of 2 million dollars."

Detroit City Assessor Homer R. Marson said actually $2,357,000 in city and county taxes were involved.

Court officials said much more than that could be involved here and elsewhere if the decision remains unchanged.

City officials said no decision has been made whether to appeal.

Girl Run Over by Car Receives Only Bruises

OMAHA, Neb. (UP) — Doctors said it was hard to believe, but an eight-year-old girl suffered no serious injury when run over by the front wheel of an automobile.

The girl, Connie Coogle, fell from the car as her mother backed slowly out of a driveway. The wheel passed over her stomach, and she was rushed to a hospital.

Amazed doctors conducted a thorough examination and released her after treatment for bruises.

County Represented at Red Cross Parley

Three Oakland County people represented the Oakland County Chapter of the American Red Cross last week as the annual national convention of the organization in Atlantic City.

Attending were the Rev. William C. Hamm, Red Cross chairman, Mrs. Mildred Bennett, chapter director, and Mrs. Robert F. Kohr, chairman of the Junior Red Cross.

Keynote of the convention was "Red Cross in the community." Talks emphasized the importance of cooperation and partnership of career staff members and volunteers.

The 4800 persons attending the convention were told that next year's meeting will be held in St. Louis, Mo.

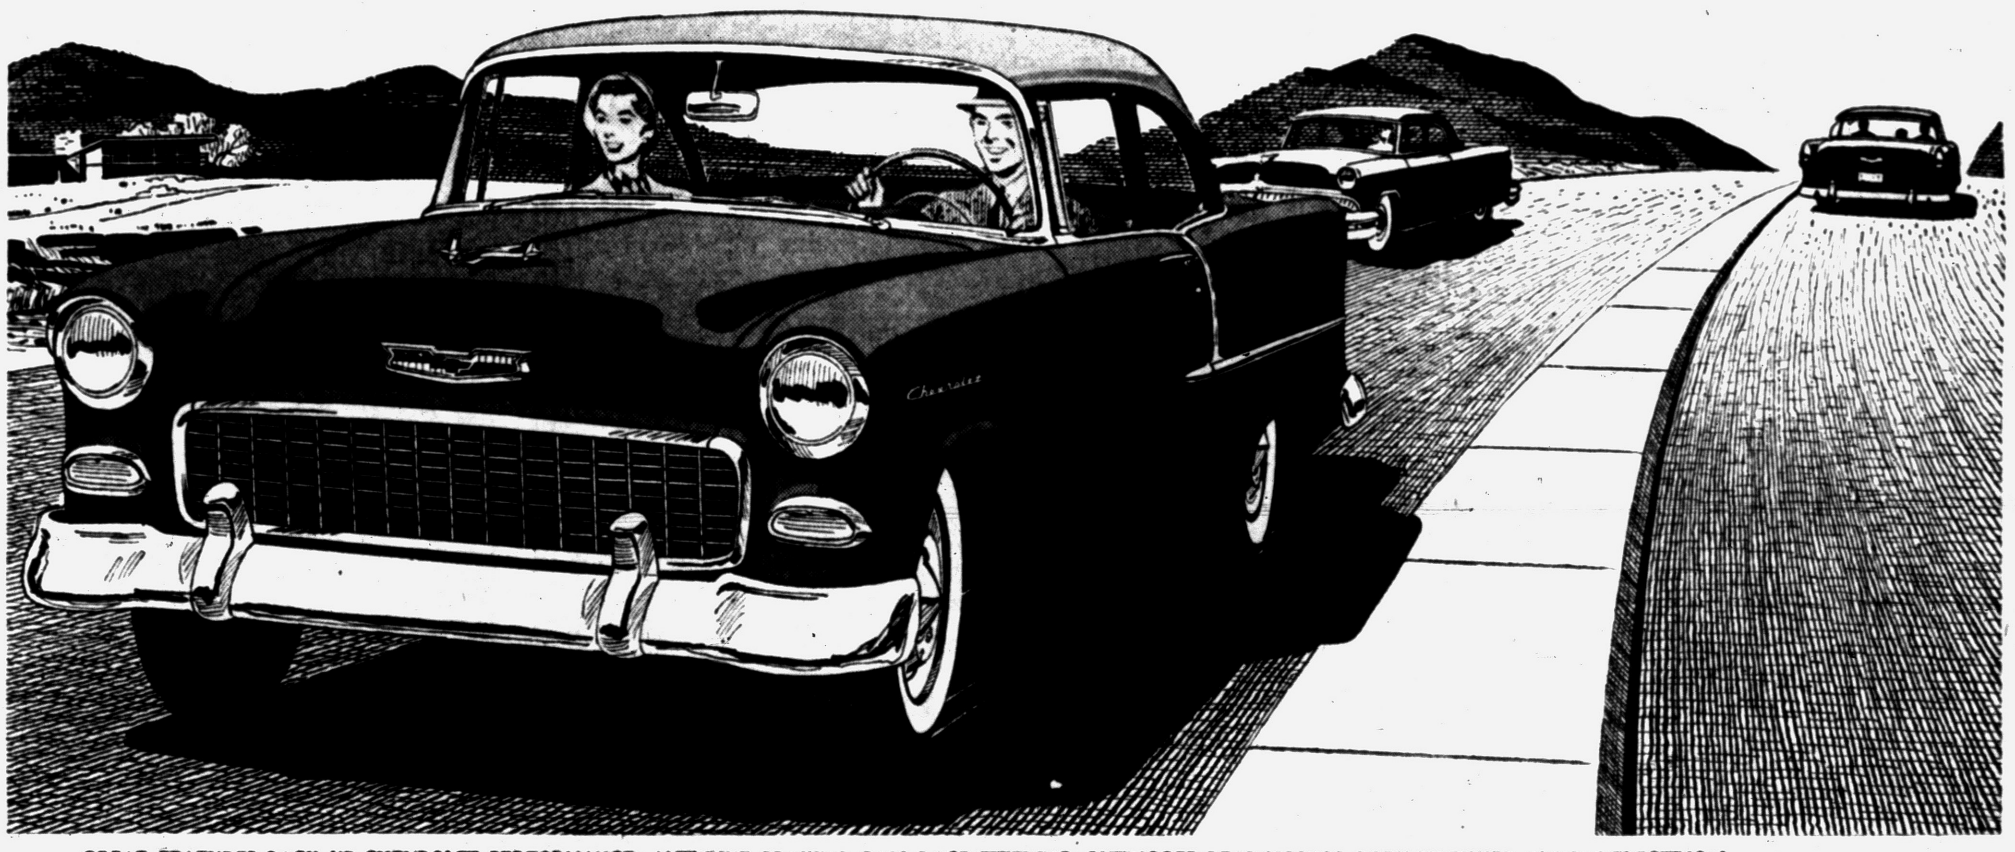
That's what we said! That's what we've got to say again as proof mounts that Chevrolet beats the tar out of all comers! Here's the latest news from the hottest tracks, about America's newest GO-car!

"Don't argue with this baby!"



GREAT FEATURES BACK UP CHEVROLET PERFORMANCE: ANTI-DIVE BRAKING—BALL-RACE STEERING—OUTRIGGER REAR SPRINGS—BODY BY FISHER—12-VOLT ELECTRICAL SYSTEM—NINE ENGINE-DRIVE CHOICES IN ALL MODELS—AND FINALLY THE GREAT SCIENTIFIC, TECHNICAL AND ENGINEERING RESOURCES OF GENERAL MOTORS.

Out in the rough, tough, rugged acceleration and racing trials where what you write about power either does, or doesn't:

Chevrolet sure does!

—beats the tar out of every car in its field—most cars in the high-price field—and recently added one of Europe's best-loved importations.

Here are some actual scores—

Youngstown, Ohio. MARC.* In special Trophy Race Chevrolet was pitted against its fastest competitors (you know who) in a short, snappy three-lap race. Chevrolet finished first, of course. That's acceleration that stays accelerated!

Chicago, Ill. CAR.* Soldiers Field ¼ mi. paved asphalt. No bank. 34 cars to beat. Chevrolet did!

Chicago, Ill. CAR. 87th Street Speedway track. ¼ mi. paved asphalt. 30 laps. Chevrolet ran fastest qualifying time, started last, worked through field to finish first!

Atlanta, Ga. NASCAR.* ¼ mile paved asphalt. The winning Chevrolet started in 3rd position, worked to second, took over first in the 174th lap and stayed there!

Jersey City, N. J. NASCAR. ¼ mile paved asphalt. No bank. 150 lap race. Best qualifying time, started first, finished first, beating well-known foreign sports car as well as all domestic competitors.

If you want to move when the light turns green—or if you like a nice, fat reserve of pure power under that hood for passing, for traffic, or for ironing out hills, let us put you in charge of the throttle of the world's most modern V8—Chevrolet's "Turbo-Fire" V8.

We've got other features, too — features that make the 1955 Chevrolet America's best-driving car.

Bonanzagram No. 16

The letter on the government agent's blotter looked innocent enough—a cordial, handwritten invitation to a friend to join Mr. X for dinner and the theater ten days hence. Mr. X was a respected citizen with newspaper connections, active and well known in Capital circles, but his name was on the list for investigation so that all his mail was being discreetly screened. The agent decided to send the letter along to the laboratory — a lucky decision, for treatment disclosed, between the lines, some fine writing in a new kind of invisible ink. Some of the letters were obliterated in bringing out this secret writing, but the agent, trained in such matters, managed to fill in the missing parts, revealing a message that showed Mr. X had a good reason to resort to invisible ink. Can you, too, decipher the cleverly concealed message?

How To Play 'Bonanzagram'

Solve the "Bonanzagram" by filling in all the missing letters, as indicated by the underscores, in the message. Insert only one letter above each underscore. Many clues to the missing letters are hidden in the story, or anecdote, accompanying the message itself, and, in a few cases, the contestant's general knowledge should provide the correct letter. The contestant will note that the message is unpunctuated. Punctuation will help solve the message but is not necessary to win.

All missing letters must be correctly inserted to win a Bonanzagram prize. Punctuation will not be considered in judging a correct answer.

When properly filled in, the "Bonanzagram" will spell out a clear message that will conform in every way with the clues. In many cases it will seem that more than one word would be the correct one. That's part of the fun! You should weigh the clues and select the BEST possible word in each case.

How to Submit Entries

1. After solution is completed, "Bonanzagram" should be clipped and pasted to a two-cent postcard with your name and address.

2. Entries will be received at the Pontiac Press office, 48 W. Huron St., until 5 p. m. Tuesday, June 28. Mail entries must be postmarked before midnight Tuesday, June 28 for Bonanzagram No. 16. Address "Bonanzagram, %, Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Mich.

3. Entries may be mailed in envelope but contestant's full name and number of puzzle must be printed in upper left corner of address side of envelope.

4. Copies of the Press need not be purchased to enter. Facsimiles made by hand and corresponding as closely as possible to the original "Bonanzagram" printed in the Press will be accepted but are limited one to a family. Mimeograph, duplicator or other unofficial mechanical reproduction is forbidden.

How to Collect the Prize

The entrant must work out and keep duplicate solution as a claim check. When the solution is published in the Press, he should compare his "claim check" with the published solution, and, if his claim check is identical, he should call in person with his claim check at the Press office, 48 W. Huron St., before 5 p. m. on the Monday following publication of the solution.

If a winner cannot call at the Press office in person, he should mail his solution to "Bonanzagram Editor." Postmark on this letter must be not later than 5 p. m. the Monday after publication of the answer. Correct answers are void unless the contestant reports his claim by the deadlines listed here.

About Eligibility, Information, Etc.

1. Anyone is eligible for the "Bonanzagram" contest except employes of the Press and members of their immediate families. (Immediate family means all those living in an employe's household.)

2. No question as to winners will be answered by phone.

3. The Press will award a prize of $100 to the winner of each weekly Bonanzagram. If more than one winning answer is received, the prize will be divided equally among the winners. If no correct solution is received, the $100 will be added to the next week's prize. If the winner is a subscriber of record to the Press a $20 bonus will be added to the $100.

4. Only one winning entry from a family will be eligible for the prize, but there is no limit on number of entries.

5. The Press retains the right to correct typographical errors.

6. Judges' decision will be final and contestant's submission of entries indicates acceptance of these rules.

7. No liability is accepted for entries that fail to reach us.

8. The Press reserves the right to alter rules and/or discontinue the contest at its discretion.

DRAMA AT CRANBROOK — T. S. Eliot's classic "Murder in the Cathedral," presented by the Community Players of Windsor, Ont., opens tonight for a two-night stand in Cranbrook's outdoor Greek Theater. Performances will begin at 8:30 p. m. and play proceeds will be donated to charity. The players are being brought to Cranbrook under the auspices of Carl G. Wonnberger's Summer Theater School. Pictured above are (left to right): James Francon, Mary Stephens, James Cornett, K. D. Bolton, Chester Reid and Mildred Cory.

Anna Massey Skyrockets to Stardom at Seventeen

LONDON (AP)—Anna Massey is a star at 17. She looks at the 180 telegrams pinned on her dressing room walls, and observes:

"Oh, it's the most gay, exciting and wonderful life."

And it must be, for the pert daughter of actor Raymond Massey.

* * *

She has a lead role in "The Reluctant Debutante" and won rave reviews when the comedy opened here. She had not played before ven in amatur stage productions.

"I want to do everything—musicals, television, Shakespeare," she said.

Just now she's busy with eight performances a week along with about eight hours' lessons in acting singing and dancing, plus one or two parties or balls.

* * *

"I've always wanted to go on the stage," she recalled. "I can remember acting to my dolls when I was about three or four and we've always had little family plays at Christmas."

Director of these homegrown dramas was her mother, the British actress Adrienne Allen, now married to international lawyer William Dwight Whitney.

* * *

Miss Massey's chance for stardom came unexpectedly. She was attending a students' performance at the Royal Academy of Dramatic Art. Playwright William Douglas Home asked her to audition for "The Reluctant Debutante." A month's rehearsals and a tryout week in Brighton followed and then opening night in the West End.

* * *

Telegrams arrived from Sir Laurance Olivier and John Gielgud. Her father flew from the United States for the occasion.

London critics warmly received the play—now slated for a long and profitable run—and particularly praised her performance.

Coffee Prices Rise

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (UP) — Taxi driver Herman Einhorn paid for his free cup of coffee. He drove a fare from New Haven to Westport. En route, the passenger treated him to a cup of coffee. Upon arriving at a Westport house, the passenger said, "Wait a minute, I'll go in and get the money." That was the last Einhorn saw of him.

Ideal Faculty Picked by School Film Fans

MUSKEGON (UP) — North Muskegon High School boys would prefer Marilyn Monroe as their gym teacher, according to a survey to pick the "ideal faculty." The girls said they'd like to have Tony Curtis as their gym instructor.

Other members of the "ideal faculty" included Humphrey Bogart, principal; Jane Russell, shop instructor; Lana Turner, English teacher; Jimmy Durante, janitor; Ester Williams, health; Boris Karloff, history, and Bob Hope, algebra.

Iron is said to comprise about four per cent of the earth's crust.

Hollywood Headlines

U.S. Invites Keel to Play 'Oklahoma!' Role in Japan

By DOROTHY MANNERS

(While Louella Parsons is on vacation her column will be written by Dorothy Manners).

HOLLYWOOD (INS)—Our State Department in Washington has invited Howard Keel to star in "Oklahoma" on the stage in Japan late this summer, of course by permission of Rodgers and Hammerstein.

Staging the great American musical in various parts of the world is part of a goodwill program, sponsored by the State Department, to show grass-roots Americana at its best. At present, another "Oklahoma!" company is playing in Paris—and there will be others.

Keel should feel at home in the part. He played in the London company for almost two years.

BUSY, BUSY JEFF

If Jeff Chandler isn't the hardest working actor of the year he'll do 'til a busier one comes along. Before 1955 is out, Jeff will start his fifth picture, "Pillars of the Sky," at U-I.

The story deals with a West Point graduate who deserts and then re-enlists to help fight the Indian wars of 1858.

The other four films Chandler has made this year are "Foxfire" followed by "Female on the Beach," "The Spoilers" and "Away All Boats."

BIG OPENING NIGHT

You couldn't have slipped a sardine into the jam-packed Mocambo for the opening of Joe E. Lewis, who kept them begging for more songs and jokes for over an hour. It was a hot night—but this prize pet of show business was even hotter with brand new material.

The girls looked lovely in their summer dresses—among them, Dolores Gray, with her mother, Barbara; Dinah Shore, in billowing pink, with wilting George Montgomery; Johnny Meyer was in character picking up the check for a big party; Evie (Mrs. Dan) Johnson was escorted by Pep Delucia; it wouldn't have been a cafe opening without Dorothy and Harry Jameson who were with Marilyn Maxwell and Jerry Davis.

HUDDLE OVER BOOK

Richard Widmark and Peter Viertel have their heads together about co-producing Viertel's book, "White Hunter, Black Heart" for Widmark's independent company.

The novel attracted a lot of attention last year because it is so blatantly based on the career and personality of director John Huston that even Huston admits it.

When someone asked tall, lanky and fascinating Huston if this unflattering portrait would break up his friendship with Viertel, he drawled, "Why? It's interesting, isn't it?"

Widmark wouldn't be the star. Doesn't feel he's the type.

Maureen, Ex-Hubby Tangle Over Child

LOS ANGELES, Calif. (AP) — Maureen O'Hara wants Superior Court to limit her ex-husband's visits with their daughter.

William H. Price, New York TV producer, asked Monday for full custody of their daughter Bronwyn Bridget, 11, charging that the red-haired actress had consorted openly with Enrico Parra, Mexico City businessman. She denied it.

Yesterday Miss O'Hara petitioned the court to limit Price's visits with Bronwyn to occasions where a court-appointed supervisor could be present. She said that his drinking habits endanger the child's safety. She also asked that he be held in contempt of court for falling $1,700 in arrears in child support payments.

Cop Makes Mistake Chewing Out Driver

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Traffic patrolman Maurice Quinlan ordered a motorist to get moving yesterday because he was tying up traffic.

The motorist, who said Quinlan used cuss words, replied:

"Take a good look."

Quinlan did. The motorist was Police Supt. James Slusser, driving his private auto.

Quinlan drew a three-day suspension. And when he reports back, he'll be walking a beat, Slusser declared. The superintendent said he wasn't violating any law anyway—just like any motorist he got caught in a jam.

Missouri Grandmother Selected for DAR Post

CINCINNATI (AP) — Mrs. Frederic A. Groves, a grandmother from Cape Girardeau, Mo., has been nominated for the office of president-general of the National Society of the Daughters of the American Revolution.

Mrs. Groves was named Wednesday by a group of associated candidates to fill the vacancy in the ticket caused by the death June 8 of Mrs. J. Deforest Richards of Chicago.

Associated candidates of Mrs. Groves include Mrs. Ralph Williams Newland of St. Joseph, Mich., for curator general.

Loretta Getting Knife When She's Heavier

OXNARD, Calif. (AP)—Doctors say that Loretta Young will undergo abdominal surgery as soon as she gains five more pounds.

They said the 41-year-old actress has lost much weight since she was taken to St. John's Hospital here April 10 suffering from peritonitis, an inflammation of an abdominal membrance.

Miss Young hopes to be out of the hospital late in July to begin filming a new series for her television show.

Really Knows Her Dad

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Dist. Judge Ewing Boyd, a friendly conversationalist, tells this one on himself: He was late for dinner one night and his wife wanted to know why. Before he could answer, his daughter spoke up, "I can tell you. He met a man who said, 'How are you?' and Daddy told him!"

INDIAN LEGEND...

IN 1750 the Ottawa Indian Chief, Pontiac selected Apple Island in Orchard Lake as the site for the capital of his vast empire which extended from the Appalachian Mountains to the Mississippi and from Lake Superior to the Gulf of Mexico. It was from this site in 1763 that Pontiac planned his conspiracy against the British.

Lamoreaux Roses Source of Many Gardens

Rub a little paste wax on the edge of desk or dresser drawers to keep them from sticking.

Mrs. Maude Lamoreaux believes she probably has started more gardens in Pontiac with cuttings from her rose bushes than any other area gardner.

Her hobby is not only growing beautiful roses, but sharing them with neighbors, sick people, and other gardeners.

"That's the joy of growing flowers," she says. "Sharing."

In a back yard plot, 10x50 feet, Mrs. Lamoreaux grows over 40 varieties of roses. In addition she has a host of other flowers—"pretty nearly every plant there is," she says.

* * *

The roses are her favorites. She makes her own compost, keeps the plants fertilized with bone meal and other rose fertilizer, and sprays religiously.

EIGHT-INCH BLOOMS

Large, well-shaped blossoms are the reward for her care—some of her roses have measured up to eight inches across.

Best all-around rose, this gardener believes, is the Crimson Glory. She has four bushes of this variety, and says she likes the deep, velvet-red petals and the fact that blossoms are continuous. The Peace rose she considers exceptionally beautiful, though blossoming time is shorter.

Mrs. Lamoreaux, a widow, was an art supervisor in Indiana and Iowa schools before her marriage.

HOME BUILT BY SEELEY

Her home, which she has occupied for the past 30 years, is one of Pontiac's old houses—a grey frame built originally by former Pontiac mayor Thad Seeley. Her son, Rex, an art student at Wayne University, and her 88-year-old mother, Mrs. Jesse Lee, live there with her.

The house has a personality quite its own. It stands on a 40x150 foot lot, not far from the downtown section.

Mrs. Lamoreaux modestly refers to her garden as a "horrid lot," and refuses to have it photographed. But many a gardener in the Pontiac vicinity carries a special feeling of warmth for the fertile spot that has been the source of so many lovely rose gardens.

PROUD OF PEACE ROSES — Mrs. Maude Lamoreaux of 190 N. Perry St. arranges five perfectly-shaped yellow Peace roses as a centerpiece for her table. She admits she is "just a little proud" of the pink-edged blooms which measured over five inches in diameter. Part of the arrangement is from a hybrid tea bush Mrs. Lamoreaux started 15 years ago. Other roses in the picture were taken from a climber that in two years has grown to a height of 10 feet.

Watering Trees Calls for Care

Too Much Moisture Can Drown Saplings and Young Transplants

Water is good for your trees, but if you give small trees too much you can drown them.

Danger of overwatering is most frequent in poorly drained soil, according to H. L. Jacobs, research director of the Davey Tree Expert Co. Too much water forces air out of the soil, and as a result the roots actually suffocate.

People are most apt to give small trees too much water. It is difficult to overwater large established trees, however, because of their huge requirements and this is especially true during hot dry weather.

Amount and frequency of water to be given newly-planted trees depend on soil, grade and kind of tree. To determine whether the balled area is receiving sufficient moisture, dig down 8 or 10 inches and check the soil for moisture. Or, if you are the scientific type, use a soil moisture meter.

Newly transplanted trees must get their water requirements from a relatively small amount of soil. And it must serve as their water lifeline for at least a month after leafing, depending on the species of tree.

Warm temperatures also help root growth. If a newly planted spring tree still has its mulch covering, the covering should be pulled back to let the soil warm up until mid-summer. Then replace the covering to conserve moisture.

Narcissus Stronger if Stems Are Uncut

Narcissus will retain bulb strength year after year if the flower stems are left uncut. Cutting the stem lowers production and quality and may kill the bulbs completely over a period of time.

Clipping off spent blooms saves bulb vigor, too, by avoiding useless seed production.

Make Plant Mulch From Newspapers

A good plant mulch can be made from shredded newspapers. Mixed with water in a washing machine, they form a pulp that's an excellent soil covering.

A 1-inch layer will keep weeds out, moisture in.

Water Lawns Heavily During Dry Weather

A daily light sprinkling is required to supply newly seeded lawns with the constant moisture needed to insure proper germination and to help the resulting seedlings root themselves in the soil.

However, once the seedlings have developed sufficient root growth to reach moisture available below the surface, a light sprinkling has little value.

Then an inch or more of water must be applied at a time.

In general, lawns on sandy soil need to receive an inch of water every four days, a loamy soil needs it once a week and clay should get it every two weeks.

When rainfall is scarce, then the gardener must get busy and make up the deficit.

Shifts in Population Affect Churches Little

ST. PAUL (UP) — The shifting population from metropolitan centers to suburban areas has little affect on church participation of those who move, a University of Minnesota study reported.

A survey of 200 who recently became suburbanites showed only 15 per cent participated less in church affairs after moving than before, said Roy G. Francis, assistant professor of sociology. Most of those probably will increase their participation in community religious life soon, he said.

Many families use the church to establish themselves in new communities, Francis found.

Quizzing the Gardener

Q—Help wanted on how to grow Honey Rock melons. Each year they bloom and set fruit, but none ripen, as the frost gets them first. Would reducing the number of blossoms, allowing but a half dozen or so to mature, be of any help?

A—Thinning of blossoms would not hasten maturing of the melons. Honey Rocks are a high temperature melon, requiring 85 to 90 days of real warm growing weather.

They must be grown in full sunlight in a sandy loam soil, properly drained, with sufficient lime and organic matter to give good root growth. They want a steady supply of moisture. Old manure plus a fertilizer weak in nitrogen should be thoroughly mixed with the soil before setting plants or sowing seeds.

You might try a shorter season variety like Harvest Queen or, Honey Rock plants started under glass.

Q—The foliage on three of our peonies has wilted and died after the appearance of a gray mold. What is the solution to this problem?

A—Your peonies are infested with Botrytis blight. Carefully remove all diseased leaves and stems, place immediately in a paper bag and burn, and wash your hands before touching other plants. Spray nearby plants and soil with fermate or bordeaux mixture now, and again next spring as the shoots start to come through the soil. Repeat in a week or 10 days.

Tigers Meet Nats With 2nd Division Close

WASHINGTON (AP) — Their once sizable 9½ game lead over the Boston Red Sox shattered, the Detroit Tigers moved into Washington today holding 4th place in the American League by a slim one percentage point.

Two home runs in "friendly" Fenway Park — homerun haven of the Red Sox — behind the two-hit pitching of Frank Sullivan, cut the Tigers' full game margin yesterday as the Sox swept the 3-game series with a 7-0 shutout.

It was Boston's 14th victory in 16 games. It was Sullivan's 9th win against 6 defeats.

Both Boston homers—by Jackie Jensen and Norm Zauchin — and all the Sox's runs came on 6 hits off Duke Maas who suffered his 4th defeat in 9 starts.

Babe Birrer took over for Maas in the 5tth. He gave up one hit before he was replaced by Paul Foytack in the 8th. Foytack gave up another hit.

Detroit nicked Sullivan for only a pair of doubles. Bill Tuttle collected one in the 4th and pinch hitter Ferris Fain got another in the 8th.

* * *

Jensen capped a 5-run 4th inning with a grand slam homer into the left field screen. Zauchin drove home Ted Williams in the 3rd with a 4-bagger tthat tipped the top of the net in left. It was Jensen's 14th home run of the season and Zauchin's 13th.

Boston, with 46 home runs in their first 56 games, now have hit 21 homers in the 10 games they've played since returning to the home precinct.

Boston's other run came in the 4th on a walk and two singles.

Williams staved off an incipient Tiger threat in the 4th when he raced to the scoreboard, reached high and backhanded Earl Torgeson's drive with Tuttle waiting on second.

It was the Tigers' first 3-game losing streak since May 28-30 and their 6th loss against two victories on the present road game.

* * *

Right now, Detroit with a 32-30 season record has a .516 reading. Boston with 34 wins against 32 losses has .515 mark.

* * *

Billy Hoeft with a 6-3 record is scheduled to meet Bob Porterfield in tonight's game with Washington. Porterfield has won seven games in 16 starts.

Vic Gets Day's Rest

Seixas' Shoulder, Decaying of Center Court Worry Wimbledon Tennis Heads

WIMBLEDON, England (AP)—Vic Seixas' ailing shoulder and the decaying center court cast shadows today over the Wimbledon Lawn Tennis championship.

Seixas hoped overnight treatment would take the pain out of his powerful serving arm. The Philadelphian planned a morning workout on a back court to see if he can again make overhead shots.

If so, he and his Davis Cup doubles partner, Cincinnati's Toy Trabert, will take the court against a young British pair—Bobby Wilson and Tony Pickard.

The match was postponed a day to give Seixas additional rest for his shoulder. He injured the muscle two weeks ago, playing in the French championships.

* * *

If Seixas and Trabert, top-seeded doubles pair in the tournament, are forced to scratch, much of the glamour will be gone from the Wimbledon competition.

And if Seixas injury proved serious, it would be a tremendous loss to United States' chances of retaining the Davis Cup this fall.

Seixas already has been eliminated from the Wimbledon singles, losing to Gil Shea of Los Angeles two days ago.

As for Wimbledon's fabled center court, the question is whether the ground keepers can patch it up to last through the tournament which still has a week to run.

The ground around both base lines is breaking up. And there are bare patches in the grass at the base lines and around the net.

* * *

One match on the center court was called off yesterday. Officials announced "failing light" as the reason, but actually, it was postponed to give the groundkeepers more time to work on the grass.

Some observers believe the present foot fault rule—allowing players to strike their service while poised on one foot—is responsible for the condition of the center court. Players now have a tendency to dig in as they serve.

Braves' Fans Showing No Signs of Losing Interest

MILWAUKEE (AP) — It was 373 games ago that the Braves transferred out of Boston and their grass still grows green at Milwaukee County Stadium.

Green, you say? What about Milwaukee fans booing Braves' Manager Charlie Grimm during a losing spell. And weren't there rumors that Grimm would be replaced. And how about the strong criticism of the team for lack of hustle as it dipped into the second division a few weeks back?

Isn't that like some of the baseball men said?—Give the Braves a bad season and pop will go the bubble in Milwaukee.

* * *

There's no bubble shrinkage here.

For one thing, the Braves have regained their health with a six-game winning streak that's carried them to second place, one point ahead of the Chicago Cubs.

But go back a couple of weeks when the Braves couldn't even beat the Pittsburgh Pirates and it looked like they might be headed for a losing season. Some of the fans booed Grimm but they came to the stadium to do it and attendance remained above Milwaukee's 1954 National League record rate.

* * *

In 28 home games this year the Braves have drawn 741,895 customers, giving them a 5,071 lead on a third straight National League attendance record. Last year at this time, when a 2,131,388 circuit record was building, the turnstiles had clicked 736,824 times

The Braves' front office says the current attendance would be more than 100,000 over 1954 had it not been for miserable early season weather and two postponements.

Woodhull's Hit Wins for CIO in Last Inning

Elks Are Edged Out, 5-4, in Class A Tilt at Wisner Field

A single hit by Ron Woodhull with 2 out in the last inning brought CIO 394 a 5-4 victory over Elks 723 in Class A City League baseball play Thursday at Wisner Field.

The rally spoiled a comeback by the Elks club which trailed 4-0 after 5 innings. The Union nine had put together doubles by Tom Studt and Jim Brown for a run in the 2nd, a single by Jim Long and Jerry Hesse's triple for another marker in the 3rd.

Hesse clubbed an inside the park homer with a mate aboard in the 5th inning, but the Elks began to fight back in the 6th. A 3-run rally cut the deficit to a single run, and the score was tied in the top of the 7th on Johnny Smith's pinch double.

Then in the CIO half of the 7th with one out, Hesse's 3rd hit started the rally. He then stole 2nd and rode in with the winning run on Woodhull's safety.

Steve Kebler went the route for CIO and was the winner on a 7-hitter. Bill Maguire twirled for the Elks and recorded 13 strikeouts, but was touched for 9 hits, with Hesse's 3 leading the way.

Old Models Run at M59 Track

50-Lapper Tops Card at Pontiac Speedway Sunday

A 50-lap old model stock car championship race tops the auto racing program Sunday at the Pontiac Speedway, 3 miles west of the Pontiac Airport on M59.

Time trials for the "upside down" boys are at 5:30 p.m. with the 1st race scheduled at 7 o'clock.

A 25-lap semi-final also is carded along with a pursuit and the usual heat races to complete a 9-race schedule.

Thirty cars, lined up in 3 abreast for 10 rows, will start the race. This is the most cars ever to start one race at the Pontiac track. These are the same drivers who are seen in the weekly televised old model races from Detroit.

They are used to the asphalt surface and banked turns of the Motor City Speedway, but Sunday will be confronted with a dirt track and flat turns. While many "green" drivers will see action, a pair of veterans, Felix Brooks and Jack Goodwin, also are on the expected list.

Lion 9 Spoils 1st Place Bid

Drayton Drug was in sole possession of 1st place in the Waterford Softball League today without playing a game. Second-place Dick & Wes missed a chance to pull into a tie when the Waterford Lions handed the Sports nine a 4-1 loss at Drayton last night.

In the other game on the regular Thursday twin bill, Day's Sanitary Service downed Sylvan Center, 8-6, although getting only 7 hits. Eight Sylvan errors and numerous bases on balls turned the trick.

"Fat" Keith pitched 3-hit ball and struck out 10 in the Lions' win, while Jim Long wielded the potent bat. In the 3rd inning, Al Dowd doubled and was singled home by Long, who scored on Marshall Rose's double.

Long doubled in another run in the 5th and scored on a throwing error.

Campy Regains Lead in All-Star Poll

CHICAGO (AP) — Brooklyn's Roy Campanella, who seems to be headed for his 7th All Star baseball catching assignment in Milwaukee County Stadium July 12, took the individual lead again today in the national baseball poll.

Campanella moved to the front with a deluge of 319,179 votes in the latest tabulation. Larry (Yogi) Berra of the New York Yankees, took second place with 317,024 ballots to trail Campanella by 2,15.

Miss Bugas, Dennehy Win Feature Events

By BILL CORNWELL

Two outstanding riders, Jani Bugas of Bloomfield Hills and Charles Dennehy of Lake Forest, Illinois, won the feature events in Thursday's opening competition at the 38th annual Detroit Horse Show at the Bloomfield Open Hunt Club in Bloomfield Hills.

Miss Bugas, 13-year-old daughter of the Ford Motor Co's. John Bugas, captured the gruelling Junior F.E.I. "Big Jumping" event, a top competition for young riders.

Miss Bugas, riding Supreme Lady, covered a modified Olympic course twice without a fault. All together, 19 managed to clear the 3 foot 9 jumps without a fault, calling for a jump-off.

With the jumps raised to 4 feet 3, Miss Bugas again cleared all obstacles flawlessly to eliminate the field. It was one of the few times in horse show competition that judges discarded "junior" rules for a major event and used regulation senior competitive standards for the jump-off.

Dennehy, 24-year-old Equestrian team member, was victorious in the Midwest United States Equestrian Team Challenge Trophy class.

Dennehy also was forced into a jump-off to win. Black Watch, Dennehy's mount, was tied with Reno Kirk, ridden by Warren Wofford of Milford, Kan., after the pair had completed one faultless trip over the rugged course, studded with 5-foot jumps. Dennehy won by running the route without error a 2nd time as Reno Kirk stumbled.

Plenty, the defending champion, failed in a bid for 2 in succession. Miss Budweiser, champion Olympic horse, surprised the multitude by refusing a spread jump 3 times to be automatically eliminated.

Dennehy also took 1st place in 2 other classes. He won the Junior Handy Hunters event on Potato Chips and the Spread class on Alt Meister.

Oakland County area riders gave a good account of themselves. Besides Jani Bugas, other winners were Skip Dowd and Paul Garlick of Bloomfield Hills. Kitten James, also of Bloomfield Hills, was a runnerup.

The show continues today through Sunday. Feature events scheduled today are the U.S.E.T Equitation Medal, the Michigan Hunts Perpetual Junior Challenge Trophy, the Knock-Down-and-Out Sweepstakes, the Junior Equestrian team jumping event, and the F.E.I. "Big Jumping" competition.

Tonight's program starts at 7:30. Saturday shows are scheduled at 9 a.m., 12:30 p.m., and 6 p.m.

Jones, Larson and Hayward Play Key Roles for Griffs

CLASS F
Boys Club 14, Don Nicholle 1.
KNOTHOLES
Senators 24, Wing Lake 5.
Boys Club 20, Indians 0
Orioles 19, Earle's Market 1

Fielding is often shoddy among junior league sandlotters, but it was a spectacular play afield that highlighted Thursday's play in Pontiac's Class D City League.

As the week of practice games concluded, Griffs Grill nosed out Mets, 5-4, behind the 3-hit pitching of Jim Jones, plus a final inning clutch play by Arnold Larson.

With the score tied at 4-4, the Mets' leadoff batter in the 7th walked. After one out, Bill Davis hit to right center. Larson made a great over the head catch, then threw to 1st base doubling the runner and killing the rally.

In the Griffs' half of the 7th, a walk, sacrifice and Al Hayward's single made a winner of Jones, who fanned 14.

Two no-hitters were pitched in the Knothole League. Bob Newman worked 5 innings of hitless ball as the Orioles drubbed Earle's Market, 19-1, and Boys Club walked over the Indians, 20-0, with Bob Singleton pitching hitless ball for 3 innings.

In other junior games, City Janitor Service laced West Side Kiwanis, 18-9; Boys Club walloped Don Nicholie, 14-1; and the Senators routed Wing Lake, 24-5.

State Champ Wins

SPRING LAKE (UP)—Mrs. Edgar Reynolds of Lansing, 1954 Michigan State women's champion, held the Spring Lake Women's Open golf title today following a victory over a 21-year-old Kalamazoo girl who has the same name.

Mrs. Reynolds defeated pretty Judy Reynolds, 4 and 3, in the final 18 hole match yesterday to clinch the crown.

Elite of Track, Field Tangle in AAU Meeting

Bragg - Golliday and Santee-Dwyer Matches Today's Features

BOULDER, Colo. (AP)—Five world record holders, eight Olympic champions and other stars begin competition today in the National AAU track and field championships—an event rated as the "semifinals" for selection of the 1956 U.S. Olympic team.

* * *

Collegiate aces and even high school sensations will challenge veteran AAU'ers for titles that will virtually assure the winner a trip to the Olympics in Australia next year.

There are 321 athletes competing in the two-day event with 9 finals today and 12 tomorrow.

* * *

Featuring today's program beginning at 3:30 p.m. (EST) will be finals in the 100 yard dash, mile run, high jump and shot put.

Former Morgan State star Art Bragg will defend his century crown against a classy field of sprinters including Jim Golliday of Northwestern, the NCAA champion, Rod Richard, the Pan American Games winner, and Bobby Morrow, the Abilene (Tex.) Christian College freshman who's unbeaten in 37 starts.

The mile run matches Wes Santee, the Kansas cowboy now in the Marines, against his long-time rival and defending AAU champion, Fred Dwyer. Also in the field is Bobby Seaman of UCLA who was timed at 4:01.4 this spring at the Compton, Calif., Invitational where Santee won in 4:00.5.

Martinez and Varona on TV

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (AP) — Third-ranked welterweight Vince Martinez of Paterson, N. J., is an 8-5 favorite for his 10-round scrap tonight with the tough-punching Cuban, Chico Varona.

Both are itching to meet the new welter king, Carmen Basilio. It will be Martinez' first 1955 start.

He has contended that a dispute with the Boxing Managers' Guild prevented him from getting fights.

The bout will be televised nationally (NBC) from the War Memorial Auditorium.

Bass, Bluegill Entries Liven Press' 'Derby'

A new leader in the bass division and the initial entry in the bluegill class were the latest developments Thursday in the annual Pontiac Press "Big Fish Derby."

Charles Knechtel, 9960 Cooley Lake Road, took over 1st place in bass competition when he reported at the Press sports department yesterday with a 5 pound 9 ounce largemouth.

The 15-year-old Knechtel, once a Press newsboy, landed the big catch in aprivate 20-acre lake near his home Wednesday afternoon.

Knechtel used a spinning rod and night crawler harness to capture the fish, which put up a stiff fight before surrendering. The fish was 22 inches long and 15½ inches in girth.

Keith Parker of Royal Oak was the previous leader with a 5 pound 4 ounce bass caught last Saturday.

Ray Reed, 21, of 3064 Joslyn Road, recorded the 1st entry in the bluegill group. He caught two of them early Thursday morning in Little Silver Lake while fishing for bass.

Both were large specimens, the contest entrant weighing 1 pound and 1 ounce and measuring 11 inches in length and 10½ inches around. The other bluegill weighed 14 ounces.

There have been no entries as yet in the pike division. The derby continues until Labor Day and awards $50 U.S. Savings Bonds to anglers catching the heaviest bass, bluegill, and pike.

NEW LEADERS—A new leader in the bass division and the 1st bluegill entry were recorded in the Pontiac Press Big Fish Derby Thursday. Above, Ray Reed, 3064 Joslyn, holds up the 2 fine bluegils he caught. The one on the right (1 pound, 1 ounce) is the contest entry. Charles Knechtel immediately above), 9960 Cooley Lake Road, shows the 5-pound, 9-ounce largemouth bass that became the new leader in that division.

Squaw Valley Promoter Is Likened to 'David' in Landing 1960 Winter Olympics for California

LOS ANGELES (AP)—There is a tremendous amount of work ahead but the 1960 Olympic winter games at Squaw Valley in Northern California can be made into a highly successful venture.

This is the opinion expressed by John Jewett Garland of Los Angeles, a member of the International Olympic Committee.

Just returned from the IOC meeting in Paris, where Squaw Valley won the winter games and Rome the summer carnival, Garland related some of the interesting behind-the-scenes activities.

* * *

None of the IOC delegates except himself had ever heard of Squaw Valley. And having visited the place but once, in the off-season in the summer of 1949, Garland wasn't too familiar with Squaw Valley either.

But the man who sold the site to the IOC was Alexander Cushing of New York, president of the company that controls Squaw Valley.

* * *

Garland described young Cushing as a "David who slew three Goliaths"—the backers of three famed winter sports resorts in Europe, Innsbruck, St. Moritz and Garmisch-Partenkirchen.

The European people had expensive brochures prepared. Innsbruck had wined and dined the IOC members in 1951, taking them by special train to inspect the place.

* * *

Squaw Valley and Cushing were rank outsiders. Cushing had a replica of Squaw Valley made in plaster, eight by six feet in size.

"It cost $1,000 to airmail to Paris," Garland recounted. "And then he found it was too big to get into the building where the IOC met."

It was finally spotted down the street in a U.S. Embassy building and the delegates were buttonholed by Cushing to drop by and see it.

* * *

His brocure was a hastily prepared mimeograph, with a French translation.

Hugh Weir, Australia's IOC member, visiting here briefly with Garland, en route to his home in Sydney, corroborated Garland's account, and added:

* * *

"I would say that young Cushing alone was respinsible for getting the games for Squaw Valley, and I would say that he accomplished it by one thing—complete sincerity."

4 Cities Bid for Fall Marciano-Moore Bout

NEW YORK (AP)—Fight fans still buzzed today over the outcome of a September Rocky Marciano-Archie Moore heavyweight title fight and the "happy talk" was expected to speed up the negotiations for the eagerly awaited match.

"Rocky'll murder the old man" . . . "Archie is too smart for the Rock and he can hit just as good."

That's the way it's been going ever since 38-year-old Archie pulverized middleweight champion Bobo Olson in the third round at the Polo Grounds Wednesday night.

"Happy talk, that's what it is," said Charley Johnston, manager of Moore. "That's music to my ears. We'll do a million easy."

A Broadway bookie, taking note of the intense interest, set up a starting "line" of 2-12 Marciano, which means undefeated Rocky is an 11-5 favorite in man-to-man odds.

New York, Chicago, Los Angeles and New Orleans were the contending cities although New York appears to have the rail position for the plum, a big boost to hotel, entertainment and department store interests.

Al Weill, manager of Marciano, apparently favors New York so he can draw heavily from Rocky's New England fans. The rotund manager also doesn't look with favor on television. If he has his way it will be another theatre-television show for Rocky.

* * *

"I ain't saying where we're gonna go," said Weill after talking with promoter Jim Norris Thursday. "I ain't heard from those guys in New Orleans or Los Angeles yet. But I like to listen to propositions.

* * *

"This is a hot fight and I gotta get what we can. Rocky's the champ, ain't he?"

Weill and Norris will get together again on June 30, giving the manager time to discuss the deal with Rocky.

* * *

Blaise D'Antoni, New Orleans' millionaire promoter, waved guarantees of $300,000 for Marciano and $150,000 for Moore to battle in the Mardi Gras city. Babe McCoy of Los Angeles offered a pot of $400,000 with the two fighters figuring out the shares.

Pitches for New York and Chicago have been made by Julius Helfand, chairman of the New York Athletic Commission, and Livingston Osborne, chairman of the Illinois Athletic Commission.

* * *

Meanwhile, Moore, as calm as ever, prepared to visit a couple of his "hometowns," Toledo and San Diego. Then the 38-year-old gypsy of the ring will open a tour early in July with Lucky Thompson's jazz band.

Olson 'Honors' Moore's Punch

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — "This guy Moore really punches hard," middleweight champion Carl (Bobo) Olson commented here today when he returned from his 3rd round knockout Wednesday night by light heaveyweight champion Archie Moore.

"He hit me on the nose with a left hook," Olson said, "and I remember hitting him back. And then I don't remember anything."

The blockbuster that exploded in Olson's face at the New York Polo Grounds last night knocked out the middleweight champion's dreams of going to England to fight Don Cockell.

Instead, manager Sid Flaherty said he would line up a fight in the United States for Olson, probably in August — with another middleweight.

"He's got to defend his middleweight title," Flaherty said. "I'd like to wait a little while and see how he feels."

Flaherty said Olson's next match probably will be with the winner of the Sugar Ray Robinson-Rocky Castellani fight.

Olson ducked the press in New York after the fight on the advice of Dr. Sam Sherman who was looking after him, Flaherty said.

"Bobo didn't know what had happened for three or four minutes after he was hit," Flaherty said. "Dr. Sherman said he was in a state off shock and should be protected from the public."

Reporters asked if Moore was moving in low gear through the first two rounds.

"Yes," Bobo agreed. "He was taking his time. He was sizing me up."

Asked how Moore compares with Joey Maxim, Olson said, "this guy is different from Maxim. He really punches."

Michigan Open Is Under Way

'Unknown' Is Leader

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—More than a score of pros and amateurs were in hot pursuit today of Mike Fetchick, the comparative unknown who sneaked in yesterday evening with a 68 to take the first round lead in the Western Open golf championship here.

* * *

Fetchick, an obscure pro from Mahopac, N. Y., was only one stroke ahead of six others as the field of some 170 teed off at 7 a.m. in the second round of the four-day, 72-hole event.

* * *

Seven more players were tied at 70, one stroke behind. A total of 29 entrants bettered or equalled the course's par 35-37—72 par despite three-hour showers that slowed fairways.

Several others gained contending positions. They included Sam Snead, the West Virginia favorite, despite his disappointment with his opening 73.

* * *

Fetchick filed his card almost unnoticed as most of the galleries, which numbered an estimated 3,000 were concentrating on Snead and such other favorites as Dr. Cary Middlecoff, Gene Littler, Mike Souchak and Julius Boros.

* * *

He achieved the leadership on the strength of a spectacular six-birdie 31 in the first round and a two-stroke penalty against Smiley Quick, who also carded a 68.

The Open's rules committee changed Quick's score to a 70 after discovering that he carried 15 clubs, one over the limit.

The committee decided not to disqualify Quick when the Los Angeles pro, a former National Public Links champion, admitted possession of the extra club. He said he was puzzled about how it got in his bag.

* * *

It was the second two-stroke penalty of the day. The other was against Julius Boros, the 1953 U.S. Open titlist.

Boros' caddy touched his ball on the sixth hole after he had birdied two of the first five holes and appeared on the way to a great round. The penalty was automatic. He finished with a 71.

* * *

Middlecoff, the 1955 Masters champion, seemed to have a 66 or a 67 in the bag after playing sensationally through the 17th. Then he blew up to a disastrous 7 on the par-5 final hole.

Middlecoff had to settle for 69 and the scoring company of Littler, Grove, Ore.; Paul O'Leary, Bis Souchak; Bob McKendrick, Lakemarck, N.D., and Ralph Blom.

Briggs Beats Watrous, Now Meets 1953 NCAA Champ

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—Seattle's Chuck Briggs, who eliminated last year's titlist Wednesday, met another former champion today as two more rounds were scheduled in the National Collegiate golf tournament.

Briggs and Earl Moeller, 1953 champion, were paired in the third round, postponed from yesterday by a rainstorm which closed the Holston Hills Country Club course. The quarter-finals were slated for this afternoon.

Briggs eliminated defending champion Hillman Robbins of Memphis State in the first round, then disposed of Detroit's Tom Watrous, 1-up. Moeller advanced by defeating John Gerring of Wake Forest, 1-up.

Moeller was one of three Oklahoma A&M golfers who survived yesterday's second round. The others were Bobby Goetz, who beat another Wake Forest player, Joe Turner, 1-up, and Don Sechrest, who eliminated Purdue's Wayne Etherton, also 1-up.

Goetz was matched today against John Garrett of Rice, who beat Joe Correll of North Carolina, 1-up. Sechrest plays Rex Baxter of Houston, an Amarillo, Tex., boy who was a pre-tourney favorite.

Baxter won an easy 4 and 3 victory yesterday over Tom Reed of North Texas State.

Semifinals are scheduled Saturday morning, and the first 18 holes of the final round in the afternoon. The 36-hole finals are to be completed Sunday.

Reynolds Top Entry in 18-Hole Medal Event at Pontiac CC

Five more Pontiac-area boys will qualify to compete in next month's state Junior Chamber of Commerce golf tournament after Monday's 18-hole medal play test at Pontiac Country Club sponsored by the Waterford Township Jaycee chapter.

Last year was the 1st that the Waterford organization held a tournament, but one of its qualifiers, Jack Reynolds, finished among the 1st 4 in the state meet and gained a berth in the national tourney at Albuquerque, N. M.

Reynolds, caddy golf champ at Orchard Lake Country Club and the ace of Waterford High School's golf team, is again in the field Monday. Co-chairmen for the event are Frank Richardson and Don Arsen.

Anyone who has already played in a Jaycee-sponsored tourney (The Pontiac JC event was held last Monday) is ineligible. Post entries will be accepted. Players who will not have reached their 18th birthday by Aug. 15 are eligible.

Sports Briefs

Detroit Lions were the highest scoring team in the Naitonal Football League in 1954. They scored 337 points for an average of 28.1 per game.

* * *

Al Kaline, star outfielder for the Detroit Tigers, never has played in the minor leagues. He was signed for a bonus right out of high school.

* * *

White Sox outfielder Jim Rivera was credited with three assists in one game against the Kansas City Athletics. The major league record is four.

Defending King Smith, Harbert Are Favorites

Cooper, Burkemo Rated Top Threats; Many Area Golfers Entered

The Michigan Open golf championship is underway today over the Washtenaw County Club course at Ypsilanti.

Heading the entry list of 178 players, which includes 87 amateurs, is defending champion Horton Smith of Detroit Golf Club. The most serious threats to Smith's title are expected to come from national PGA champion Chick Harbert, Pete Cooper and former PGA titlist Walter Burkemo.

Harbert was nosed out by a single stroke last year at Lakepointe. The long-hitting Meadowbrook pro always is the pre-tourney choice from his record of 4 wins in his last 6 tries.

The entire field plays 18 holes today and Saturday, but will be cut to the low 60 and ties for Sunday's 36-hole windup.

Harbert, Cooper of Knollwood and Burkemo of Franklin Hills top the Oakland County-area entry list, which numbers about 2 dozen. Other area pros in the field are veteran Al Watrous of Oakland Hills, who has won this event 6 times; Bill Graham and Earl Roy of Bloomfield Hills; Leo Conroy of North Hills; Ray Maguire of Birmingham; Elmer Prieskorn of Pine Lake, Mike Dietz of Indianwood, Midge Cova of Bob O'Link, Joe Watrous and Al, Jr., and Tommy Shannon of Orchard Lake.

Other professionals are former Indianwood pro Bob Waara, Warren Orlick of Tam O'Shanter and his assistant from Pontiac, Gene Bone, Emerick Kocsis, Bill Markham of Red Run, and Larry Pentuk.

Among the Pontiac-area amateur standouts playing in the event are 7-time state king Chuck Kocsis of Royal Oak; Tom Draper of Red Run, another former state titlist; Lloyn Syron, Mike Andonian and Butler Cooper of Pontiac and Tommy Watrous of Royal Oak.

Young Watrous, a high school golf teammate of Syron at Shrine in Royal Oak, was eliminated Thursday from the NCAA tournament at Knoxville, Tenn.

While Smith and Harbert rate as co-favorites with Burkemo a big threat, many point to Knollwood's Cooper as the man-to-beat. New to the state this season, the Floridian is scoring well in district events and he led the state's qualifiers for the U.S. Open.

Chuck Kocsis is the perennial amateur hope, but there is a fine field of "simon pures", including current state champ Glenn Johnson of Grosse Ile.

Richards' Castoffs Help 3 AL Teams Win

By The Associated Press

If Baltimore Manager Paul Richards is keeping a record of the players he has traded away, he can call it "Poor Richards' Diary."

Give a look, Richards, who doubles as general manager for the last place Orioles after leaving the pennant contending Chicago White Sox, has palmed off, among others pitchers Bob Turley and Harry Byrd and outfielder Gene Woodling.

Woodling, traded to Cleveland last week, really boomeranged. He got 4-for-4 and batted in four runs as the Indians' trounced the Orioles 9-2 yesterday.

Byrd, a 30-year-old righthander bundled off to the White Sox nine days ago, gave four hits and blanked Washington 7-0. It was his second victory in two starts since leaving the Orioles.

* * *

And Turley, the young fire-baller who went to New York's Yankees in an 18-player deal that shipped Woodling and Byrd to Baltimore last winter, fanned six, walked one and shut out Kansas City on three singles 4-0.

The other American League game was won by the Boston Red Hots without any help from Richards. The Bostons whipped Detroit 7-0 behind Frank Sullivan's two-hitter.

Those results—with each winner sweeping a three-game series — left the Yanks out front by two games over the White Sox, who in turn were two ahead of Cleveland. Boston and Detroit are both 10 games behind New York.

Just how far the Red Sox can go may be determined this weekend. The second place White Sox open at Boston tonight. Cleveland is at New York.

* * *

In the National, first place Brooklyn swept three from Chicago by winning 7-4. The Cubs in second place since May 25, slipped one percentage point behind idle Milwaukee. The Braves who greet Brooklyn in a weekend series, trail the Dodgers by 14 games.

St. Louis beat Philadelphia 7-1 in the only other game scheduled, dropping the Phils into sixth place behind idle Cincinnati.

Woodling, whi Richards had hoped would give the Orioles a big bat but hit only .221 in 47 games, now is batting .444 for Cleveland in six games. The Indians had 15 hits for the second straight day off Baltimore pitching while Bob Feller tossed a four-hitter for his second victory of the year.

* * *

Only one Washington runner reached secind against Byrd.

* * *

Turley, as wild as he is fast on most occasions, held off until the eighth inning before giving his lone walk. He retired the first 15 men he faced, fanning the first four, while upping his strikeouts to 106. Only Cleveland's Herb Score has more with 111.

Brooklyn kept winning as bases-loaded singles by Pee Wee Reese and Gil Hodges scored four runs in the seventh to overhaul the Cubs and loser Sam Jones.

* * *

The Cards had 12 hits off loser Herm Wehmeier and two relievers, including homers by Wally Moon and Bill Virdon. Rookie Floyd Wooldridge scattered seven hits, giving the Phils just one after the fifth.

Stoneham, Leo Both Scoff at Moving Reports

Durocher Refuses to Confirm or Deny Story He'll Leave Giants

MINNEAPOLIS (INS)—President Horace Stoneham said it wasn't so and Leo Durocher labeled as "silly" today reports that the manager of the floundering New York Giants was headed for the St. Louis Cardinals at the end of the season.

"There is absolutely nothing to the story," Stoneham insisted.

Durocher issued one of his lengthy "no comments," explaining:

"I am not going to confirm or deny that one. It's too silly. I can't be bothered commenting on every story that pops up in the papers.

"Where do the fellows dream them up? If I were to answer, my words would be distorted. So I'm going to say nothing."

The report was that the Giant Skipper would go to work for his old friend, Gussie Busch next season and that Bill Rigney, currently managing the Minneapolis Millers, would take over the Giats.

THURSDAY'S STARS

PITCHING—Frank Sullivan, Red Sox, blanked Tigers with a two-hitter 7-0 for his ninth victory.

HITTING—Gene Woodling, Indians, had a perfect 4-for-4 and drove in four runs in 9-2 victory over Orioles.

Bulldogs in 1st Place

Bulldogs took over 1st place in the Free Methodist Church Softball League Thursday night with a 16-8 victory over the Crusaders. Sluggers lived up to their name by crusing the Fightin' Farmers, 27-11.

Williams Hits, Hustles

Higgins Says Red Sox Just 'Having Little Fun'; Ted Key Factor in Surge

BOSTON (AP)—Boston's torrid Red Sox, on the threshhold of the American League's first division with 14 wins in their last 16 games, are "having a little fun" the way Manager Mike Higgins tells it.

But the Sox' opponents aren't enjoying themselves at all.

Take Detroit, which arrived Tuesday three games ahead of Boston in fourth place. After a three game Red Sox sweep, the Tigers hold a .001 percentage edge.

No single factor brought about the sudden success of the Red Sox but Ted Williams deserves much of the credit. Since returning to the lineup May 28 he's hit .387 with 9 home runs, 2 triples, 8 doubles, 24 runs batted in, scored 20 runs and drawn 20 walks.

* * *

In addition, he's given valuable batting tips to the younger members of the club which have paid off.

In the Detroit series he:

1. Hit a three-run homer that beat the Tigers 5-4 in the first game.

2. Clubbed three doubles in the second game for two RBI's and scored twice in a 12-7 win.

3. Got a single and three important walks before retiring for a pinch runner in sixth as Sox blanked Tigers 7-0 on tall Frank Sullivan's two-hitter.

Though pained recently with a sore back, Williams is hustling like never before. He's making fine catches in left field and has even stolen a base.

His enthusiasm is catching. The Sox have been getting solid pitching all year. Suddenly, shortstop Billy Klaus, hitting .299, flowered batting ahead of Ted while right-handers Jackie Jensen and rookie Norb Zauchin cut loose behind him.

"We're having a little fun," Higgins grins. "Let the other guys worry for a change—that's the way we like it."

The Sox came from nowhere to a virtual tie for fourth place as they enter a four-game series with second-place Chicago beginning tonight.

Central States Cars to Run at Owosso

Time trials start at 1:30 p.m. with the 1st race getting under way at 2:30 p.m.

Taylor Benefit Race Is Sunday

Injured Starter Will Be 'Winner' of Card at Gay-Day

A benefit show for Tom Taylor, who was injured while starting a race on May 29, will be held Sunday at the Gay-Day Speedway on Lake Angelus Road.

The ex-Gay-Day starter still is in General Hospital as a result of his injuries. He will be the recipient of 1st place money from every race on Sunday's card which is headlined by a 50-lapper.

Among the drivers competing in the Land O'Lakes Racing Association-sponsored event are Rusty Kelly, who won Wednesday night's feature at the track; Ken Schon, George Rhyndress, Benny Howell, Cliff McKinney, Len Mac Abee, Carm Ragatz, Dorris Sanders and Chuck Partello.

Taylor's wife will drive the pace car for the feature race. The semi-final will be a 25-lapper. Time trials are at 5:30 p.m. with the 1st race at 7 o'clock.

Johnson Hurls 4-Hit Shutout

Jewelers Win in Romp; Stadium 9 Edges GMC in Extra Inning

It was a good night for the pitchers in City League softball play last night. The top performance was turned in by Shaw's Wimpy Johnson as he 4-hit the Knights of Columbus for a 12-0 shutout.

Johnson belted a 3-run homer in the 6th inning to add unnecessary runs to a 7-0 lead. The Jewelers picked up enough to win in the 1st inning on singles by Vern Keebaugh and Bill Mason and Johnson's triple.

Drive-In Cleaners got 4-hit twirling from Bill Ryan, who fanned 14, as Mike's Used Cars nine was beaten, 15-1. Nine batters shared in the Cleaners 12 hit attack, which featured a 5-run 1st inning and an 8-run 3rd stanza.

Stadium Inn broke a 2-2 deadlock with 3 runs in the 8th inning, then held a General Motors rally in its half to 2 runs in nosing out the Coachers, 5-4. Ray White's homer after an error and a single was the winning blast.

In the night's other game, Chuck Louie's downed Pontiac & Opdyke, 9-3, with Burnett hurling 6-hit ball.

NCAA Net Test in Semi-Final Action Today

CHAPEL HILL, N.C. (AP) — The National Collegiate tennis tournament moved into its semifinal rounds here today with the top seeded players in the doubles and singles eliminated.

The big match set today was the singles where fifth seeded Bill Quillian of the University of Washington was to meet Pancho Contrerars of Southern Caifornis, eighth seeded. The other match pitted Jose Aguero of Tulane against Jacque Grigry of Southern California.

The doubles pairings sent Mark Jaffe and Barry Mackay of Michigan against Contreras and Joaquin Reyes of Southern Cal., and James Read and Craig Garman of UCLA against Sammy Giammalva and Johnny Herandez of Texas.

Sidewheelers Warm Up for $25,000 Derby

WESTBURY, N.Y. (AP) — Adios Harry and Adios Boy plus five other speedy sidewheelers will meet tomorrow night in the Orient Purse, final test before the $25,000 National Pacing Derby at Roosevelt Raceway next Thursday night.

Adios Harry defeated Adios Boy in a mile match race here last Saturday and the time of 1:59 2-5 was the second fastest in history on a half mile track.

Russians May Send Weightlifters to U.S.

CAIRO (AP) — Clarence Johnson, president of the American Weightlifting Federation, said today Russia had agreed to send a team to compete in the United States next March.

Johnson is accompanying the U. S. team which recently competed against the Soviets in Moscow and Leningrad. He said his team received "a cordial and courteous reception" while touring Russia, and praised Soviet sport fans.

Cotton Bowl All-Star team, selected by sports writers, includes Sammy Baugh and Ki Aldrich who played in the first game 19 years ago.

Death Has 3 Lives

by Brett Halliday

Distributed by NEA Service, Inc.

THE STORY: Unwittingly Private Detective Michael Shayne helped a fugitive, Jack Bristow, escape arrest when the murder suspect hid in Lucy Hamilton's apartment. Shayne kept his part and Lucy's part a secret when Police Chief Will Gentry questions him, but Reporter Tom Rourke later finds a body under Lucy's bed.

Rourke was sitting erect, looking from one to the other with intense interest when Shayne whirled and went back into the bedroom on hard heels. Lucy was on her feet at once, her face chalk-white.

She was trembling violently, and Rourke supported her toward the open door through which they could see Shayne kneeling beside her bed with the blood-smeared towel still protecting the spread.

The redhead rocked back on his heels and looked up at them grimly. "How'd you come to notice him lying there, Tim, when I didn't?"

"That's one of the things," said Rourke, "that I wondered about. But when I see the sole of a man's shoe sticking out from under a lady's bed, I get curious and investigate."

Shayne shook his head disgustedly and leaned down to peer under the bed again. He muttered, "I was in a hurry, and when I saw the wire screen onto the fire escape ripped open and heard someone running away, I swallowed Lucy's story whole and figured he'd beat it that way." He lifted himself to his feet slowly and advised Lucy, "You'd better tell us about it this time, Angel. If you killed him in self-defense, it'll be okay."

"But I didn't," she cried frantically. She gestured toward the towel on the bed. "See where he lay down. I told you I didn't know how badly he was wounded. He must have crawled under the bed to hide . . . and . . ."

SHOVED THERE

"This guy," said Shayne grimly, "didn't crawl under the bad. He was shoved there, Lucy. And he didn't die of a bullet wound. His throat is slit."

Lucy's eyes dilated and her knees buckled under her. Rourke held her tightly.

"Quit trying to scare Lucy to death and start your mind working. You say the door was bolted on the inside when you broke it down. How could Lucy have done that if she cut his throat?"

Rourke's words brought Shayne to himself abruptly. The look of blank grimness on his face cleared and he strode forward muttering. "Sure. That torn screen. Instead of him going out, someone else came in from the fire escape while the door was locked. I must have scared him off when I broke the door, and it was Bristow's killer I heard running in the alley."

Rourke was easing Lucy down onto the divan. Color was coming back into her cheeks and her eyelids fluttered faintly. Rourke stood back from her and told Shayne flatly, "Get down on your knees to her, you ox, and get her in shape to identify the corpse."

The lanky reported turned his back and hurried into the kitchen where he poured out a slug of cognac, and carried it back.

Shayne released her and stood up as Rourke handed her the cognac. He went back into the bedroom while Lucy sipped at the cognac, and reappeared in a moment nodding his red head grimly. "He's got a hole in his side just like you said, Lucy. It's pretty clear what happened. Someone knew he was headed here to hide out, and got in through the window from the fire escape to finish him off. Want to take a quick look, Lucy?"

Shee nodded and got to her feet.

"What's another corpse in your bedroom when you work for Mike Shayne?" She went to him and took his arm tightly, whispered too low for Rourke to hear, "If I am still working for you, Mike."

LUCY LOOKS

He patted her hand and turned her toward the bedroom. "I said and did a lot of crazy things, Angel. Forget them all while we get to work on this." He stood aside to let Lucy look down at the body of Jack Bristow which he had dragged from its temporary hiding place onto the rug beside her bed.

Lucy drew in her breath sharply and said, "Yes. It's Jack. Why didn't he cry out, Michael, if someone came through the window and attacked him?"

Shayne shrugged. "He may have passed out and been unconscious on the bed and never knew it happened."

He knelt beside the body and began turning out the pockets of the dead man's slacks. The side pockets yielded a couple of dollars in silver, but there was nothing else at all.

He shook his head angrily "We've got to get him out, Tim. Not a cop in the world would believe us now if we told the exact truth. Not even Will Gentry."

Timothy Rourke grinned and read about there being some law about not moving a dead body."

"I think maybe there is," agreed Shayne mockingly. "And you and I are going to break that law into little pieces right now." He went to the window with the ripped screen, leaned out to look down. He withdrew his head and nodded. "Nothing to it. The alley is quite dark. You go down the front way," he told Rourke matter-of-factly, handing the reporter his car keys.

"Drive my car through the alley once with the headlighs on. If everything looks okay, come back with your lights turned out, and park below. I'll bring him down."

Japs Prepare for Emigration

120 Attending School to Learn Other Nations' Languages, Customs

TOKYO (UP)—Japan's first emigration school now has 120 student learning tropical hygiene and Portuguese, Spanish and Indonesian languages, customs, geography and history.

* * *

Most of the students are university graduates and agricultural experts, but there are several teenagers fresh from high school. The emigration academy will help them go to the countries they choose to settle in.

Head of the new school is Chikara Kuwashima, former Japanese ambassador to Brazil. Ten months of training are given in three departments — Argentina, Brazil and Southeast Asia.

The staff includes 10 authorities on overseas affairs, including Professor Masao Oka of Metropolitan University and Tokyo University's Professor Tatsuo Yamamoto.

* * *

The curriculum covers the history of Japanese emigration, geography and history of countries concerned, tropical hygiene and other courses essential to emigrants.

Special emphasis is placed on Catholic education since most of the Japanese emigrants are being sent to Latin American countries.

Kuwashima said his school aims to turn out well-qualified prospective emigrants who would not create unnecessary misunderstanding in their future homes.

Grains Turn Fairly Active

CHICAGO (UP) — Wheat, oats and rye turned fairly active and gained a little pricewise on the Board of Trade today.

Trading ranks were rather depopulated, however, with commission houses still sidelined, and the action took place on a thin market.

Corn was a little easy while soybeans and lard firmed.

Wheat during the first hour was ¼ to ¾ cent higher, July $1.98 ⅝; corn ⅛ to ½ lower, July $1.43; oats were ⅛ to ⅜ higher, July 66, and rye was ¼ to 1 cent higher, July $1.04. Soybeans were unchanged to ¼ higher, July $2.44 ¼ and lard was 8 to 10 cents a hundred higher, July $12.02.

There was very little floor conversation outside and one big topic — tomorrow's wheat farmer referendum on 1956 quotas. Which way would the farmer vote? That was the one subject at issue.

* * *

Would the farmers approve a parity figure of 76 per cent, calculated at $1.81 a bushel, national average, on their 1956 wheat, along with tight acreage restrictions? Or would they vote No in that proposal, essentially choosing a parity of only 50 per cent or $1.19 a bushel without quotas?

Take-Home Pay Reaches Peak

Average Salary Rises to $70.12 While Living Costs Are Unchanged

WASHINGTON (UP)—Living costs remained unchanged in May while worker take - home pay rose sharply to a record high.

Secretary of Labor Mitchell in announcing the new figures today said it continues the pattern of over - all national stability in retail prices which has "stopped paycheck - robbing inflation."

"Actually," he said, "The index of retail prices has changed very little since mid - 1953 and its steadiness in the past six months has rarely been equalled before.

"These two factors, record high take - home pay for factory workers and stable prices for the goods and services the worker and his family buy, along with increasing job opportunities and declining unemployment, are concrete evidence of the strength of our economy and mean continued prosperity for workers and their families."

Mitchell said net spendable earnings were up in May by more than a dollar a week over the April level.

The take - home pay of the average family worker rose to $70.12 in May and a single worker's to $62.83. This is about 80 cents a week more than they earned in March of this year, when the previous peak was reached.

Earnings

WASHINGTON (INS)—The Federal Reserve Board reported today that nationwide department store sales in the week ended June 18 same week last year. In the prwere two per cent higher than the same week last year. In the preceding week, sales were three per cent above the 1954 level. The San Francisco district made the best showing last week with a gain of nine per cent over a year ago. At the other extreme, the St. Louis and Minnapolis districts each recorded declines of seven per cent. Dallas district sales were up one per cent.

St. Louis (INS) — International Shoe Co. in a preliminary report for the six months ended May 31 announced net income equal to $1.51 a common share. This compared with $1.49 a common share in the same period last year. Net sales for the half year set a new record at $128,384,531, a gain of seven per cent over the same period of 1954.

CHICAGO (INS) — Great Northern Railway reported net income for the five months ended May 31 of $8,017,166, equal to $1.32 a common share. This was more than double the $3,850,808, or 63 cents a common share, earned in the same period last year. Gross rev- $88,817,785 in the comparable period $88,817,785 in the comprable period of 1954. May net income amounted to $3,731,007 as against $3,205,203 a year ago.

2 Men Held in Macomb for Crimes Investigation

MOUNT CLEMENS (UP) — Police today held two men sought by police in four states for questioning in a series of crimes.

Robert Hamilton, 23, of Van Dyke and Verlin A. Carson, 25, who police said refused to give an address, were captured yesterday near a Macomb County gravl pit.

Straits Bridge Work Ahead of Schedule

CADILLAC (UP) — Construction of the Mackinac Straits Bridge is running ahead of schedule, Prentiss M. Brown told business and industrial leaders from 28 northern Michigan counties today.

Brow, chairman of the Mackinac Bridge Authority, said the bridge may be opened ahead of the Nov. 1, 1957, deadline.

Brown said all the foundations except four have been completed or started.

He said the bridge should bring new economic life to northern Michigan.

More than a thousand persons were invited to the meeting by the State Economic Development Commission to discuss the area's economic progress and outlook.

They're Friends Now

MINNEAPOLIS (UP) — Ten years after World War II, a poll shows 41 per cent of all Minnesotans consider former-enemy Japan friendly to the United States. The Minneapolis Tribune poll also revealed that 69 per cent of Minnesotans consider West Germany a friendly nation.

Rails, Steels Lead Decline

NEW YORK (UP) — The stock market was narrowly lower today in early dealings.

* * *

Railroads and steel were definitely lower while coppers, airlines, and radio-televisions headed in that direction. The chemicals, best acting group in yesterday's market, were mixed today.

The market opened fast and mixed and then worked lower within a few minutes.

Yesterday it made limited progress pricewise, but there were more losers than gainers in the list.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was up 30 cents at $172.-80, a new record high. Strength was concentrated in the industrial component of the average.

* * *

Prices today were down within a 1-point range. There were only a few gainers.

Baldwin-Lima-Hamilton, yesterday's most active issue off 2¾ after directors cut the dividend in half, opened today on a block of 10,000 shares unchanged as 14⅛.

DuPont, up 8¾ at 217 yesterday, started today at 215 off 2 points.

Oldsmobile Gets Capacity Hike

Division's Part of GM Expansion Program to Boost Output

LANSING (UP) — Oldsmobile's share in the new half-billion dollar General Motors expansion program will include the biggest increase in production capacity in the company's 58-year history.

Involved will be the purchase of 375 new machines, furnaces and presses and extensive rearrangement and relocation of present facilities. The new machines will range from large presses and lengthy transfer machines to equipment for fabricating small parts.

There will be a 50 per cent increase in the capacity of Oldsmobile's engine plant. The engine plant gets the largest share of the new machines, some 185 of which will be installed in the engine buildings. The engine line also will be extended to increase productive capacity.

Also contemplated are increases in the capacity of the axle and forge plants. J. F. Wolfram, Oldsmobile general manager, said the increased manufacturing capacity will be used to supply engines, axles, sheet metal and other parts to the Lansing assembly plant and to seven Buick-Oldsmobile-Pontiac assembly plants throughout the United States.

Wolfram said that so far in 1955 Oldsmobile dealers have delivered more than 278,000 automobiles. This compares with 174,517 cars sold in the comparable 1954 period.

CIO Locals Ratify Union-GM Accord

DETROIT — General Motors today received notification from the International Union of Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers (CIO) that the agreement reached Sunday, June 12 between that union and General Motors has been ratified by the International Union and the six unions involved.

The Agreement, which runs until May 29, 1958, covers some 35,000 General Motors hourly rate workers in six plants. They are: Frigidaire and Delco Products, Dayton; Packard Electric, Warren, O.; Delco Appliance, Rochester; Battery Plant of the Delco-Remy Division, New Brunswick, N. J.; and Delco Radio Division, Chicago.

Willow Run Struck

DETROIT (UP) — An unauthorized work stoppage idling 8,500 continued today at the General Motors transmission plant at Willow Run.

Thailand has about four-fifths the land area of Texas.

F. W. Gaukler Succumbs at 65

Former Real Estate Dealer Dies Following Five-Year Illness

Frederick W. Gaukler, 65, former real estate dealer in Pontiac, died at 4:55 a.m. today in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital. He had been ill five years.

Born in Pontiac July 19, 1889, he was the son of Phillip and Ellen Chapaton Gaukler. He attended parochial schools here and Assumption College at Sandwich, Ont.

Mr. Gaukler married Mary C. Hensel here April 24, 1907 and had lived his entire life time in Pontiac.

Friends remark that his pleasing personality won many friends both within and outside of his church.

Besides his widow he is survived by a daughter and two sons, Mrs. William A. Ewart of Pontiac, Earl and Frederick W. Jr. both of Birmingham. Also surviving are two grandchildren.

Rosary service will be at 8 p.m. Sunday in the Farmer-Snover Funeral Home. The funeral will be at 10 a.m. Monday in St. Vincent de Paul Catholic Church. The Rev. Maurice Veryser will officiate and burial will be in Mt. Hope Cemetery.

Firm in Oxford Will Produce Battery Cars

A battery-powered fiber-glass body car produced by firms in Oxford and Salt Lake City is slated to be put on the market this year.

According to Gino Testaguzza, of Oxford's Testaguzza Corp., the cars will be produced at facilities in this area.

The electric motors which will power the vehicles will be produced by the Electronic Motor Car Corp., of Salt Lake City, which also will handle sales.

Newsmen in the Utah capital yesterday were shown a full-scale prototype of the car—without motor. It is 18-feet long on a 110-inch wheelbase and has a fiberglass body mounted on a conventional frame and suspension system.

Testaguzza, 40, who operates the Oxford designing company with his brother, Caeser, 44, said the company can reach 200-car-a-day production within 90 days. Tentative price is $2,995.

Buick to Up Output by Full 33 Per Cent

DETROIT (INS)—Buick Division of General Motors has announced that it will increase its annual productive capacity 33 per cent to one million cars as part of the over-all GM expansion program announced earlier this week.

At Buick the program will involve little new construction. Most of the money will be used to purchase new machines and tools for the division's manufacturing plants.

There will be an enlargement of the V-8 engine plant at Flint and an addition to the main office building.

Since the end of World War II, Buick has been in an almost continuous state of expansion.

The manufacturing area has almost doubled, increasing from 5,400,000 to 9,000,000 square feet. Employment has doubled from 15,000 to 30,000 in the Flint area in 10 years.

Boy Injured in Fall Beneath Farm Truck

Twelve-year-old David Cox, who suffered a broken pelvis yesterday when he fell under the wheels of a farm truck, was reported in good condition today by Pontiac General Hospital authorities.

His uncle, John Burket, 30, of 1909 W. Drahner Rd., Oxford, the driver, said the boy fell from the running board as they crossed a field. State Police of the Pontiac Post said the truck's rear wheel apparently ran over David. Burket said the boy is visiting here from Portage, Pa.

Here Is How Baseball Scouts Worked Message Concerning Rookie Player

THIS ROOKIE IS HOT. HAD ARM TROUBLE. NOW CLEARED UP. HITS WALL REGULARLY, AND HARD TO FOOL. PLAYED FIRST IN COLLEGE. ALL-STAR COACH RATED HIM REAL SLUGGER. STARS AT HOME AND DOES WELL ON ROAD. AVOIDS GALS. FAULTS MINOR. LEAGUE FIGURES ACE-HIGH. HEEDS COACHING. PITCHING STYLE RIGHT. NOW SELDOM BALKS. ANYONE CAN MAKE TRADE. BETTER NOT BID LOW. POSSIBILITY OF HIS SHOPPING FOR BETTER TERMS. AVAILABLE NEXT MONTH. IF YOU DON'T BELIEVE ME, LET CHIEF CHECK. RARE CHANCE TO ADD SPARK TO PITCHING STAFF. STAR

This is how they filled in the missing letters:

The very length of the message provided a clue that the scout's decision was probably favorable. Therefore, THIS ROOKIE IS HOT. HAD ARM TROUBLE. NOW CLEARED UP is the way the message begins. Since Mr. Bright is a Harvard man, he would not be apt to use the slang word COOKIE. And the phrasing NOT BAD. ARM TROUBLE NOT CLEARED UP would belie later information. BAD ARM TROUBLE, even if NOW CLEARED UP, would represent too much of a liability.

HITS WALL REGULARLY for it specifies that the ROOKIE is, in addition to being a pitching find, a heavy hitter.

If the phrasing HITS BALL REGULARLY AND HARD had been meant the word BALL would have been extraneious, for HITS REGULARLY AND HARD would have told the story. The message goes, on AND HARD TO FOOL, adding the information that this batter doesn't swing at everything. Hence this is better than NO FOOL.

PLAYED FIRST IN COLLEGE.

This is more to the point than PLACED FIRST ON COLLEGE ALL-STAR, for the story clues mentioned a "young converted infielder." The scout informs his office that this man PLAYED FIRST (base, of course) IN COLLEGE. ALL-STAR COACH RATED HIM REAL SLUGGER. RATED, in the past tense, is right because his college days are over.

SLUGGER, giving more evidence that he is a heavy hitter, is better than PLUGGER, a word usually applied to a student who works steadily and doggedly.

STARS AT HOME AND DOES WELL ON ROAD. This gives more information than any other combination here. AVOIDS GALS gives assurance that the pitcher's mind is on his work and not on gadding around, and fits in with story clue mentioning that the scout had "observed the boy carefully both on the field and off." It has more meaning than AVOIDS GAGS.

FAULTS MINOR, LEAGUE FIGURES ACE-HIGH. Again, the favorable opinion makes this better than FAULTY MINOR LEAGUE FIGURES ARE HIGH. By the same reasoning, HEEDS COACHING is better than NEEDS COACHING. Also, PITCHING STYLE RIGHT fits the evidence more adequately than PITCHING STALE RIGHT NOW.

The NOW goes with SELDOM BALKS (that is, makes an illegal motion with the ball in an attempt to deceive a base runner). This could be one of the minor FAULTS noticed by the scout. SELDOM BALKS is better than SELDOM WALKS ANYONE; a scout would not be apt to speak of a pitcher's control, or lack of it, in those terms. TALKS would not have much meaning here.

ANYONE CAN MAKE TRADE ties in with the story clue about the competition for this player, and has more meaning than MAKE GRADE. By this reasoning, BETTER NOT BID LOW is more accurate than BETTER NOT BID NOW.

The scout is informing that a LOW bid will be of no use, because of POSSIBILITY OF HIS SHOPPING FOR BETTER TERMS. The attention of enemy scouts was mentioned in the story clues and obviously the youngster might be SHOPPING FOR the highest bid. This meets the evidence better than STOPPING—FAR BETTER TERMS AVAILABLE NEXT MONTH. The player himself is AVAILABLE NEXT MONTH.

IF YOU DON'T BELIEVE ME (a better fit than RELIEVE ME), LET CHIEF CHECK. And the message ends RARE CHANCE TO ADD SPARK TO PITCHING STAFF. RARE, that is, unusual or excellent, confirms the favorable opinion and is better phrasing than BARE CHANCE. SPARK, indicating brilliancy or vitality, tops off the scout's recommendation, for this man will be much more than a SPARE on the pitching staff.

The signature is not STAN, although S. J. Bright's first name may well be Stanley. He was an "old Harvard and Boston Blue Sox pitching great," and therefore was a STAR. Moreover, the old wishing rhyme beginning "Starlight, starbright, first star I see tonight" has something to do with the case. Mr. Bright's nickmane is STAR.

Flaming Crash Ends Six Lives

Four Adults, 2 Children Killed in Car - Truck Smash in Indiana

ROCKVILLE, Ind. (UP) — Six burned and mangled bodies, one of them still unidentified, lay in a Rockville mortuary today after Indiana's worst highway accident this year—the tragic climax last night to a day in which 12 persons died of traffic accident injuries over the state.

The six bodies, four adults and two children, were found in the smoking wreckage after an auto and a semi - trailer truck collided and burned on a curve on U. S. 41, 3½ miles north of Rockville.

Deputy Coroner Omer M. Smith of Parke County identified the auto driver as Carl E. Barnett, 34, Hammond, Ind., and the truck driver as Wayne Cain, about 27, Crawfordsville, Ind.

State police said the two children were identified as Darlene Kay Barnett, 6, and Larry Edward Barnett, 5, children of Barnett and his wife, Betty.

One of the other adult victims was identified as a brother, Ira Barnett, 62, Fordsville, Ky.

The other remained unidentified. Mrs. Betty Barnett and another brother were trying to establish identity. They were not in the accident.

State troopers said Barnett apparently lost control of his car and veered into the path of Cain's truck.

Area Kiwanians, Wives to Attend Convention

Four area men and their wives will attend the international Kiwanis convention in Cleveland, Sunday through Thursday.

Representing the Pontiac Kiwanis Club are Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Compton, 150 Chippewa, and Mr. and Mrs. George Stout, 4437 Forest Ave.

Attending from the North Kiwanis will be Mr. and Mrs. Horace Hatfield, 6479 Alden, Commerce Township. Mr. and Mrs. John F. Gibson, 137 Osceola Dr., will represent the West Kiwanis Club.

Convention business meetings will be held in the Cleveland Auditorium. About 8,000 Kiwanis Clubs throughout the free world will send delegates.

SWP HOUSE PAINT

lasts longer...saves money

• It pays to be "choosy" when you select the brand of house paint to be used on your home. Whether you employ a painting contractor or not, the price difference between world-famous SWP® House Paint and house paint of ordinary quality will mean less than $5.00 for the average-size, complete house job. This slight difference in cost pays for years of extra wear and is one of the wisest economies you can make.

ATHENS—I ate octopi, showed off my Davy Crockett cap to the Palace Guards and wore a hairnet while getting barbered in this wonderful city where every sign reminds you of college fraternities and sororities.

★ ★ ★ ★

But mostly I met your American friends.

Marilyn Monroe's boss, Spyros Skouras, the ex-St. Louis bartender, has a nephew here with an interesting name—Spyros Skouras.

SERVES EIGHT

Going to his barber, Tony, for a haircut, I was asked if I wished a manicure.

"Neh, neh," I replied, giving it the Hollywood-Broadway pronunciation.

So I got one —"Neh, neh" meaning "Yes,' yes" in Greek.

Greek gentlemen take great pride in their looks. One was getting black hair dye swabbed on his hair with a toothbrush. I recoiled when Tony put a hairnet on me—but it was to help my hair look curly.

I tried the octopi—served cold, vinegary and rubbery—with Socrates Chakales of the Associated Press.

"Soc"—born in Pittsburgh, reared in Charlotte and Ashville, N. C., and once of Rollins College, Fla. —forked some octopus into his kisser and said, "Tasty, isn't it?"

I didn't answer.

★ ★ ★ ★

"Save those fish heads for me," spoke up his nice bride. "That's the part of the fish I like—the head."

My climb up the Acropolis to the Parthenon was typical. My wife quit half-way up.

Roaming around with Orchestra Leader Ted Straeter, Earl Blackwell of Celebrity Service, Society Photog Jerome Zerbe, Millie Considine and Hedda Hopper, we bumped into lovely "Miss Greece."

★ ★ ★ ★

The pretty Rita Dialanya, who married a Greek boy in New York after the Miss Universe contest in Long Beach, is honeymooning here.

King Paul's Palace Guards were nice about my Davy Crockett cap—but they should be. They wear skirts and fur-tufted slippers.

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

250 Concerts at Music Camp

Season at Interlochen Will Have Operettas, Ballets on Schedule

INTERLOCHEN (AP) — The first contingent of more than 1,600 music students reported yesterday for the 28th season's opening of the national music camp.

Dr. Joseph E. Maddy, founder and director of the camp said:

"As we have always tried to do in the past, we again want to provide an opportunity for gifted young people to strive for self-improvement in artistic expression."

The University of Michigan music professor founded the camp in 1928. It is a non-profit organization devoted to development of the nation's talented youth from children through university age.

The camp has scheduled 250 concerts, choral and operetta productions, ballets and other presentations for its eight-weeks season ending Aug. 22.

Dr. Maddy said two new lodges are being built this summer. Funds were donated by the Texas federation of music clubs and the Dallas, Tex., junior chamber of commerce.

The lodges will be rented to ourists with proceeds marked for a scholarship fund for Texas students.

The campers this year include two international scholarship students from Germany and one each from Austria and Japan. Several Canadian students, one from the Canal Zone, and representatives of 41 states round out the enrollment.

Chicagoan Waives Exam on Charge of Breakin

Charged with breaking and entering, John Muscia, 24, of Chicago, waived examination when he was arraigned yesterday before Municipal Judge Maurice E. Finnegan.

Muscia, arrested Monday night by Pontiac Police in an Auburn avenue used car lot office here, was returned to Oakland County Jail on $2,000 bond pending arraignment in Circuit Court Monday.

Ike May Speak Before NATO on July 16 or 17

PARIS (INS) — Paris informants said today that President Eisenhower might address a North Atlantic Treaty Organization ministerial council July 16 or July 17.

It depends on whether he agrees finally to visit Paris' enroute to Geneva for the Big Four chiefs of state meeting July 18. Such a stop-over however is not certain.

Assembly parliamentarians of the NATO nations are scheduled to meet from July 17 through 22 or July 23 on invitation of Canada and Norway.

There will be speeches by Lord Ismay, NATO secretary-general, suprme commander in Europe, and debates mainly centered on a Norwegian proposal for a permanent NATO parliamentary assembly. Britain adamantly opposes the latter.

'Abandoned' Baby Back With Parents

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Little Larry Cull is back with his parents again, none the worse for a "misunderstanding" that kept him from them for an extra six days.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Douglas Cull, who left the year-old tot at a boarding house "for five days" and hadn't called for him 11 days later claimed the boy yesterday at Juvenile Court.

* * *

Cull, a hardware salesman, said they had no intention of forgetting Larry, who was placed in the boarding house of Mrs. Ellen Faford because Cull's mother was ill.

On June 12, Cull paid for five days' care for Larry at the boarding house and at the end of that time, he said, he sent Mrs. Faford money for another week's board and tried to call her, but couldn't find her number.

Judge Louis Jull called it a misunderstanding. No charges were filed against the parents.

MID-SUMMER NIGHTMARE

Next to plowing through snow like the lower Slobbovians, we hate the midsummer lull that comes in July. The only way we know to stimulate sales is to actually reduce prices and give you a better buy. So cast your eyes at these prices and hurry down.

To Launch Monroe Musical Show July 19

Maestro Plans Informal Hour

Twice Weekly Program to Have Ad Lib Quality Promises Vaughn

By WAYNE OLIVER

NEW YORK (AP)—Vaughn Monroe, who returns to the air as a singer in a few weeks, has just completed his first season as a commercial announcer and likes the role.

He takes the view that commercials can be entertaining, sometimes as much so as the show they accompany.

* * *

His sales pitches for his sponsor on the NBC color spectaculars and the Sid Caesar Show have been offbeat and whimsical, in contrast to what the trade calls the hard sell.

"To me they are the kind that are effective," he says. "My feeling is that viewers resent the high-pressure commercial."

Some of the commercials by Vaughn's sponsor were miniature musicals and cost as much as many entire half-hour shows.

* * *

His new musical show, starting July 19, will be a twice-weekly program that will be Dinah Shore's summer substitute.

"We're going to have an informal show with an ad lib quality, rather than a precisely planned, carefully rehearsed production," he says. "We're not going to have a format show.

"And we're going to take our numbers from the great standard tunes, with maybe one current pops number. We're going to do the things that are tried and proved."

New Pentagon Shakeup Hinted in Resignation

WASHINGTON (INS) — A further shakeup in the Pentagon top command was predicted following the nomination of Wilbur M. Brucker to replace Robert T. Stevens as Army secretary.

Deputy Defense Secrtary Robert B. Anderson, of Vernon, Tex., banker-publisher who formerly was secretary of the Navy, is reported planning to return to private life.

Meanwhile, Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, will take over fro mGen. Matthew B. Ridgway as Army chief of staff on June 30.

Brucker, 61-year-old former governor who now is general counsel of the Defense Department, will become secrtary of th Army a month later on July 31. Stevens resigned Wednesday for "compelling personal reasons."

Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson, during a flurry of questioning by reporters in the wake of the Stevens' announcement, refused to confirm or deny that Anderson is also planning to resign.

Michigan Wins Award for Traffic Enginering

LANSING (AP)—Michigan has tied for top honors in traffic engineering among six of the larger states, the Highway Department said today.

Highway departments of Michigan and California will receive plaques for placing first among a group of states including Texas, Ohio, Pennsylvania and New York.

Detroit tied for second place in the group of cities with more than one million population, the department said.

The selections were made at the convention of the National Institute of Traffic Engineering in Atlanta, Ga.

Veterinary, Health Awards to Be Given

EAST LANSING (AP) — Michigan State College will give special centennial awards to 12 nationally known leaders in the fields of veterinary medicine and public health.

The awards will be presented Monday, the first day of a week-long veterinary science symposium.

Awards will go to: Dr. J. H. Steele, U.S. Public Health Service, Atlanta, Ga.; Dr. L. M. Hutchings and Dr. L. P. Doyle, Purdue University; Dr. W. R. Hinshaw, Camp Detrick, Md.; Dr. Wayne Riser, Skokie, Ill.; Dr. H. H. Dukes, Cornell University; Dr. J. A. Reyniers, University of Notre Dame; Dr. Gail Dack, University of Chicago; Dr. Lee Rocerick, Kansas State College; Dr. L. C. Ferguson, Ohio State University; Dr. Hadley Marsh, Montana State College, and Dr. F. R. Beaudette, Rutgers University.

Governor Will Escort Writers to Isle Royale

LANSING (AP) — Gov. Williams will take several dozen newspaper and magazine writers to Isle Royal next month to emphasize "first hand this rugged and beautiful island wilderness."

The National Park Service is aiding in the plans and will provide its boat, the Ranger I, for the trip from Houghton.

The tour will leave Houghton July 25 and return the 28th.

The island in Lake Superior has been a national park since August of 1946.

5 Airmen Perish in Bomber Crashes

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)—Five men were killed in two bomber crashes near here yesterday. Both aircraft were based at Randolph Air Force Base.

Four airmen were killed last night when their B29 crashed a mile south of the base shortly after what Air Force spokesman described as "a touch-and-go take-off on a student transition mission."

Two crewmen survived. Both were hospitalized with burns and shock.

A B57 twin-jet bomber crashed about 16 miles north of here earlier in the day, killing Capt. William P. Brown, 32.

Names of the B29 crew were withheld.

Nab Ex-Wife of Prince on Dope Selling Charge

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The former wife of a Polish nobleman must appear for preliminary hearing July 13 on a charge of possession of narcotics.

Lois Evans, 25, was released on $2,500 bail yesterday after her arraignment.

Detectives said that she offered to sell them a heroin-type narcotic and that they found a quantity of it in her apartment early Saturday. She denied the charge.

Miss Evans says she received $500 monthly alimony from Prince Wladyslaw Jerzy Boguslav Radziwill, 73, a Polish nobleman whom she divorced in 1951.

Movies Get Into Act Over Smog Problems

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The movies are now getting into the smog act.

The air pollution foundation announced yesterday that a motion picture executive has been appointed to the foundation's board of trustees. He is Y. Frank Freeman, production head at Paramount Studios.

The foundation's announcement explained:

"Smog frequently has hampered outdoor shooting on location, and at times has even interfered with shooting of movies on enclosed sets, where atmospheric pollution has been unavoidably drawn in through air intakes."

One-fifth the area of the earth is believed permanently frozen.

Minister Has Varied Career

Teaching and Preaching, Banking and Farming All Part of His Living

DECATUR (AP)—Doctor, lawyer, merchant, chief . . . go down the old rhyme with Henry Houseman and he'll pick out three occupations for himself—teacher, preacher and farmer.

* * *

To give him one of his titles, the Rev. Mr. Houseman is supply minister of the Methodist Harmony Chapel at nearby Edwards Corners.

Farmer Houseman raises truck crops as a part-time occupation on his plot of land in Decatur.

And teacher Houseman goes over readin', writin', and 'rithmetic as principal of Decatur High School—a post he's held for 28 years.

STARTED AS BANKER

The Rev. Mr. Houseman started his working career at only one job—in the Citizens State Bank at Decatur. But he soon took up studies to become a teacher at Western Michigan College in Kalamazoo.

Before he got his degree he started teaching in Augusta High School. He returned to Decatur High, from which he had graduated, and has been there for 30 years—28 of them as principal.

Houseman's interest in the ministry began with part time preaching appearances at churches in the area. He won a full-time appointment in the late 1930s as pastor of the Volinia Baptist Church.

He helped reorganize the church, which had been about to close, and then was given a post at the Plainwell Presbyterian Church. In 1941 he was invited to preach as a guest minister at the Morris Methodist chapel in Niles—and stayed eight and a half years.

* * *

He has held the pulpit at Harmony Chapel for nearly five years. He is taking graduate work at Winona Lake, Ind., school of technology.

A fourth job might be added to the Rev. Mr. Houseman's list—he's also the father of four children. His wife is also a teacher and is employed in the Lawton Elementary Schools.

RAF Makes Norway-Alaska Polar Journey

FAIRBANKS, Alaska (AP)—Three British Royal Air Force officers flew across the North Pole in a jet bomber from Norway to Alaska yesterday, landing 4½ hours by the clock before they left Europe.

* * *

The twin-engine Canberra, first of its kind to fly across the pole, roared onto Ladd Air Force Base at 4:27 p.m., Alaska time, 6 hours and 23 minutes after leaving Bardufoss, Norway. They had left the European airport at 9:04 p.m., Norway time.

The 3,200-mile jaunt was completed at an average speed of 500 m.p.h., gaining all the way on the sun, which had been setting when they left Bardufoss.

* * *

(At this latitude, the relative speed of the sun across the sky is much slower than at the Equator, where it approximates 1,000 miles an hour).

Pilot of the plane was Wing Cmdr. M. D. Lyne. He reported a "fine flight" and a good view of the polar ice even though the long, slim, gray plane was flying at 50,000 feet when it crossed the pole.

* * *

With him were Squadron Leaders D. Bower and R. A. Seymour both navigators.

Port Huron, Ypsi Near End of Contest

NEW YORK (AP) — Port Huron and Ypsilanti are among 22 U. S. cities reaching the final round of judging in the all-America cities award competition.

Awards will go to the 11 cities judged to have done outstanding jobs of solving local civic or governmental problems through "intelligent, concerted citizen action."

The awards are given by the National Municipal League and Look Magazine. Winners will be announced at the national conference on government at Seattle July 25-26.

Pastor Notified Ike Will Visit Colorado Again

DENVER (INS) — The pastor who presides over the church where President Eisenhower worships during his summer vacations in Colorado says he has received notification Mr. and Mrs. Eisenhower will again visit Colorado this summer.

The Rev. Robert S. Lutz, pastor of the Corona Presbyterian Church in Denver, said he received word from the nation's chief executive that Ike and Mamie would be on hand Sept. 12 for dedication of a new pulpit donated by the Eisenhowers.

Rev. Lutz said there was no hint when the presidential party would definitely arrive in Colorado. However, Lowry Air Force Base officials reportedly are expecting to once again set up a summer White House at the base east of Denver.

The Eisenhowers have spent several weeks vacationing in Colorado the last two summers. Both times they made their home with Mrs. John Doud, the President's mother-in-law, in Denver. Mrs. Eisenhower was born in Denver.

Racer's Smashup Is Double Trouble

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—Herschel L. Dunn, Indianapolis stock car race driver, was unluckier than he knew when he cracked up at the 16th Street Speedway last week.

He was charged with bigamy today as an indirect result of the wreck.

The county prosecutor's office reported two wives showed up to console Dunn in Methodist Hospital. Mrs. Betty Dunn said she married the racer here in 1945. Mrs. Phyllis Belcher Dunn said she married him in Mooresville, Ind., last March.
