Israel Musters Army; U. S. Evacuates Mideast

Rebels Win Out as Hungarian Reds Capitulate

Commies Admit Crimes, Agree to Withdraw If Nationals Turn in Arms

BUDAPEST, Hungary (AP)—The Hungarian Communist government has virtually capitulated to a six-day national revolution led by a few thousand daring young men.

The most important concession in principle is that the regime acknowledged this revolution as a great national uprising "caused by the grave crimes of the past decade."

All other concessions derive from this one.

The regime threw in the sponge. It was defeated by a whole nation, represented by those few thousand young men.

Radio Budapest announced late today an agreement has been reached for rebels to turn in their arms and for Russian troops to quit Budapest.

At the same time, the government-controlled radio announced Interior Minister Ferenc Muennich had dissolved the dread Communist secret police.

Muennich announced that Secret police guilty of torture and oppression would be punished.

The agreement concerning the surrender of rebel arms was concluded by Defense Minister Karoly Janza. It was not announced who negotiated for the forces of the rebellion.

The broadcast said the agreement provided that Russian army forces will leave Budapest 24 hours after rebel weapons have been delivered.

Only a short time before this broadcast, British Foreign Secretary Lloyd told the House of Commons in London the Soviet Union is pouring more troops into Hungary.

Dedicate Strip at City Airport

New 4,000-Ft. Runway Officially Opened in Sunday Ceremony

The day was as bright as the future painted for Pontiac Municipal Airport as some 125 persons turned out yesterday to watch the dedication of the new 4,000-foot runway at the field.

As 15 planes—from the larger General Motors Corp. DC-3 to smaller single-engine craft—waited to use the airstrip, Chamber of Commerce Manager John W. Hirlinger spoke of the public support needed to get airline service into Pontiac.

He said the Chamber would soon send out more than 1,000 letters to persons asking them to voice "how strongly they feel on getting commercial airline service at Pontiac."

Homer C. Hoskins, airport manager, said an application had been filed with the CAA for airline service.

After the brief ceremonies, members of the City Commission, their families, city officials and businessmen boarded the planes to take off from the east-west airstrip and fly over the Pontiac area.

Hungarian Legation in London Loses Flag

LONDON (INS) — There was no flag flying from the Hungarian Legation in London today as the revolution in the Hungarian capital of Budapest reportedly was drawing to a close.

An official explained the absence by saying: "We are getting a new one."

United Nations Backs Western Hungary Stand

Democracies Hit Armed Interference by the Soviets

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) — Western U. N. delegates expressed satisfaction today over the solid support they received both inside and outside the Security Council for their effort to end the bloodshed in Hungary.

Messages poured in from governments all over the world backing up the West's demands that Russia halt her military intervention.

Some Western diplomats felt that this public pressure, plus the reported demands of the Hungarian government, might produce results.

The council recessed its discussions temporarily after 5½ hours of debate in an extraordinary Sunday session.

In the council debate the Soviet Union failed to rally a single country to support her claim that the United States had started all the trouble in Hungary and that Soviet troops were only helping the Hungarian government restore order.

Hungarian Delegate Peter Kos in a letter to U. N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold had contended the events in Hungary "and the measures taken in the course of these events" were a domestic matter outside the jurisdiction of the U. N.

Western delegates considered this especially significant since news dispatches were quoted in the meeting indicating that Premier Imre Nagy's version of the rebellion did not jibe with that of Soviet Delegate Arkady A. Sobolev.

The council met at the request of the United States, Britain and France to consider "the situation created by the action of foreign military forces in Hungary in violently repressing the rights of the Hungarian people."

Moore Sentencing Delayed by Funeral

Sentencing of Howard Wayne Moore, convicted last week of first-degree murder in the sex-killing July 27 of three-year-old Martha Little, was postponed indefinitely today because of death of Paul Hartrick, son of Circuit Judge George B. Hartrick.

Conviction on the charge carries a mandatory life sentence for Moore, 24, former furnace repairman.

He will be sentenced when Hartrick returns from Pennsylvania, Frederick C. Ziem said today.

UF Drive Spurts Forward With $85,655 in Pledges

As the Pontiac Area United Fund drive approaches its second week, $85,655, or 13.9 per cent of its goal, has been pledged, campaign chairman Walter K. Willman announced today.

Women door-to-door solicitors of the Geographic Division have accomplished 32 per cent of their $19,057 quota, he said, while the Commercial Division has raised 40 per cent of the $158,147 it seeks this year.

First reports are expected Willman said, from the large Industrial Division, which is responsible for $414,000 of the total $612,202 goal.

The division, headed by Earl Maxwell, handles on-the-job solicitation at the General Motors plants and at other member plants of the Pontiac Manufacturers Assn. plus light industry.

First week figures will be announced at a report luncheon Wednesday at the Elks Temple.

The three-week drive will collect funds for the support next year of 54 community service agencies.

Over two-thirds of the money will stay in the Pontiac area, supporting Community Chest organizations and other publicly sponsored agencies.

All but eight per cent of the remaining money will go to state and nationally operated programs. Eight per cent of the funds is used by the UF for campaign and year-long administrative expenses.

The Commercial Division, headed by James F. Nye, includes Special Gifts solicitors who had reached 85 per cent of their $68,-

Ford Official Crusoe Beating Heart Attack

DETROIT (INS) — Executive Vice President of Ford Motor Co. Lewis D. Crusoe, 61, was reported in "fair" condition today in Henry Ford Hospital where he was taken after suffering a heart attack.

Canopy From Jet Hits Farmington, Smashes Car

"One piece falling from that jet was going so fast when it hit that it knocked shingles off the side of a house," a Farmington Police sergeant said today. He was talking about the rain of plastic and metal from a passing jet plane Saturday afternoon.

Selfridge Air Force Base authorities are investigating the unprecedented accident in which the 250-pound canopy flew off the F89 twin-jet fighter.

A car, hit by half the canopy and its metal frame, is a wreck, according to Police Sgt. Jay Harrison. The car owner had parked it back of Farmington Market while he worked in a nearby jewelry store. The other half of the canopy reportedly fell near Romeo with no damage.

The pilot, Lt. A. Keith Bordine, 27, of Dearborn and Michigan State University student on weekend flying training over Lake Huron, said the cold hit him like a blast when the canopy blew off.

He suffered temporary blindness and deafness, but was guided safely in to Wayne Major Airport by radio.

His plane had been going 500 m.p.h. at 30,000 feet.

Chances Look Good

Duane W. Shaw, representative of North Central Airlines, told The Press yesterday Pontiac Municipal Airport "had an excellent chance to get airline service with the completion of the new runway." He added it would be two years before the city would get an answer "one way or the other."

6 Egyptian Warships Speed Toward Area

200,000 Troops Called to Man Israeli Frontiers; 7,000 Americans Flee

JERUSALEM (AP)—Israel mobilized its reserves and the Untied States began evacuating some of its citizens from four Middle East states today in the biggest Arab-Israeli war scare since 1948.

Israel, announcing the callup of reserve battalions in what it termed a "partial mobilization," denied it has any aggressive intent.

Tension in Israel has mounted since Jordan, which has the longest frontier with Israel of any Arab state, formed a joint military command with Syria and Egypt last week. A pro-Egyptian Parliament was elected in Jordan a week ago.

Israeli security authorities said today two Egyptian destroyers and other warships apparently are headed toward Israel.

The informants said the vessels, five or six in all, left their base at Alexandria this morning and, so far as it is possible to determine, are moving toward rapidly mobilizing Israel.

President Eisenhower, taking a grave view of the mobilization, sent two messages to Israeli Premier David Ben-Gurion. Washington reports said Israel mobilized from 150,000 to 200,000 men along her frontiers.

In Washington, Secretary Dulles called three senators to the State Department for a talk on the Middle East. The administration was reported gravely alarmed at the possibility of war there in 24 to 48 hours.

The senators were George (D-Ga), Fulbright (D-Ark) and Langer (R-ND).

Department officials said Dulles, in keeping with his policy during any international crisis, arranged the meeting to brief the lawmakers on what the United States is doing.

In the Israeli side of Jerusalem regular traffic and business were slowed by a heavy movement of troops, guns, tanks and reservists.

From 7,000 to 8,000 Americans in Egypt, Israel, Jordan and Syria were affected by State Department warnings and orders to leave for points of safety. Tourists, business people and others in the four countries not performing "essential functions" were urged to leave. Dependents of U. S. government officials will be evacuat-

Healthy Ike Bids for Florida Vote

Calls for Carrying Out Civil Rights by States and Cities

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—President Eisenhower opened a vote-seeking expedition into the deep South today with a call for handling the explosive civil rights problem "to the greatest possible extent on a local and state basis."

The President, feeling good about a favorable medical report from his doctors, flew here from Washington for the start of a one-day campaign foray in Florida and Virginia — two of the four Dixie states he carried in 1952.

Along the way, he was keeping in close touch with a tense situation in the Middle East after appealing to Israeli Prime Minister Ben-Gurion to avoid any action which might "endanger the peace" in that area.

Speaking at a campaign rally at Miami's International Airport, the President in his prepared text made no specific mention of a Supreme Court ruling against racial segregation in the nation's public schools—a ruling still being resisted by Florida and other deep South states. For that matter, Eisenhower did not even use the term "civil rights."

But there was no mistaking he had both the court ruling and the civil rights problems generally in mind when he told his audience:

"Four years ago I pledged that as President of all the people I would use every proper influence of my office to promote for all citizens that equality before the law and of opportunity visualized by our founding fathers.

Reds Release Catholic Prelate

Cardinal Wyszynski Is Allowed to Resume Church Functions

By COLIN FROST

WARSAW (AP)— Stefan Cardinal Wyszynski made his first public appearance today since his release from house arrest. A crowd of cheering, singing Polish Catholics greeted him at his place.

The cardinal, Roman Catholic primate of Poland, walked out on the balcony above the main entrance to the palace, spread his arms and said:

"Peace be with you."

The crowd responded: "And with thy spirit."

Then the cardinal, clad in black robes and red hat, spoke to them briefly.

He called for a mature approach to Poland's problems. He asked that there should be no demonstrations and no disorders.

A government communique said last night the 55-year-old church leader had returned to Warsaw and resumed his church functions.

The cardinal had been confined to a country monastery in September, 1953, after a vigorous campaign against the Red regime.

The freeing of Cardinal Wyszynski is certain to arouse the fervent enthusiasm of a wide section of the Polish population, about 90 per cent of which is Roman Catholic.

Today, the picnic was postponed. It's raining.

New York's Crescent Dancing Academy is the picture of respectability, but the murder of instructress Anita Farrell (1) rips the lid off an extensive black-mailing operation (2) spotlights the amorous wanderings of the school's cool, efficient receptionist, and (3) launches a city-wide search for Anita's last pupil "The Waltzer."

Walled Lake---the Story of Growth

One of Oakland County's fastest growing communities is the City of Walled Lake and the area immediately around it.

The city is only a year and a half old. A special census taken when the first attempt at incorporation was made in 1952 showed a population of about 1,600. Two years later when the successful second attempt was made, a census showed 2,600. Today city officials estimate population at 3,500, and new houses are going up every day.

There was a time when Walled Lake was only a summer resort. Cottagers each fall closed up their places and moved back to the city.

But today the vast majority of lake cottages are permanent houses and Walled Lake has become a community of year-round residents.

SUBDIVISIONS GROW

Seven major roads lead from Walled Lake to Pontiac, Detroit, Novi, Birmingham, Royal Oak, New Hudson and Brighton. Along all of these roads new houses are being built at a startling rate. More recently, big subdivisions have begun to spring up, particularly on the north and east sides of the city.

Land prices have skyrocketed. Industries have moved in to add further impetus to the community's growth. Also significant, the Ford Motor Co. is building its huge Lincoln plant only four miles to the southwest. The plant, to open next year, will employ 5,000.

City and school officials are pondering effects of the growth, and probably effects of the Lincoln plant.

Meanwhile commercial enterprises spring up overnight along the main business streets.

The city boasts three well-defined shopping areas. With the steady addition of new houses there soon will be several more shops.

Walled Lake was incorporated as a city in 1954. It contains about four square miles. Previously it was part of Commerce Township.

An attempt was made two years earlier to incorporate a larger area, including part of Novi Township. But after litigation the court ruled this attempt was void. Today the Fourteen Mile road boundary between the two townships is the southern city limits.

RIFFENBURG FROM START

Charles Riffenburg is Walled Lake's mayor. Formerly mayor pro tem, he has been a member of the City Council since incorporation. He was elected mayor to fill the vacancy left when Mayor Harry Thomas moved away.

Riffenburg says he is optimistic about the city's future. He says:

"Walled Lake unquestionably faces a bright future. Rapid growth brings its problems, but they are not insurmountable.

"We can establish our own water supply in the future by drilling a few more wells and providing an elevated storage tank.

"Sewage disposal is our biggest

Says Vote Early to Beat Rush

County Clerk Predicts Terrific Pileup at Polls If Voters Wait

With Oakland County registration at a record of 268,000 voters, County Clerk Lynn D. Allen yesterday urged voters to go to the polls early election day, Nov. 6.

"Many voters are unable to vote early because of their jobs," Allen pointed out, "If everybody waits until evening to vote, the lines will be terrific and we'll never get the ballots counted."

Polls open at 7 a.m., he said, and close at 8 p.m.

"I urge everybody who possibly can to vote in the morning, early," Allen said. "Don't make it tough for the people who must vote in the evenings."

This year's registration figure, he pointed out, is more than 40,000 voters higher than the 1952 record of 227,000.

Of the 268,000 registered, Allen said he expects about 190,000 to go to the polls.

He explained that at closing of the polls at 8 p.m., voters already standing in line will be allowed to cast ballots.

"But at 8 p.m., an official will stay at the end of the line and turn away any late arrivals," he added.

Press Errs in Differences on Pontiac Price Boosts

Because of an error in a wire service report, a Press account Last Saturday incorrectly stated that price increases on 1957 Pontiac models will range between $132 and $324. The account should have stated that the boosts will range between $100 and $280.

Walled Lake Story One of Fast Growth

problem, and we are seeking to find the best course of procedure.

"We are already providing garbage and rubbish collection on a contract basis, and we have the start on a public works department with one employe and a city-owned truck.

"One of our really fine institutions is our new O. R. MacKenzie Memorial Clinic which was built recently through community contributions. This clinic, in memory of the late Dr. MacKenzie and standing near the western limits of the city, houses offices for two doctors and a dentist. The building is operated on a nonprofit basis and some day it could provide the nucleus for a community hospital."

BUILDING RECORDS

Harold Ackley, city building inspector, sheds some accurate light on the community's growth. He reports building permits within the city limits alone during the fiscal year ending June 30, totaled $1,782,000. Recent monthly totals indicate a still higher figure for this year.

A survey conducted by the Detroit Metropolitan Regional Planning Commission shows that, as of July 1, there were 460 occupied dwellings in Walled Lake. April 1, 1950, the census showed 390 occupied units. This is an increase of 17.9 per cent.

LANCASTER, Pa. (AP)—Here is an item about the high price of time: A 175-year-old grandfather clock was sold at auction for $1,320. Auctioneer Stanley H. EYED AT OPEN HOUSE — The new north-south straightaway extension was viewed by some 10,000 persons attending an open house at the General Motors Proving Grounds near Milford Saturday and Sunday. This straightaway provides nearly three miles of level roadway to evaluate the performance of new autos.

10,000 People at Milford View GM Test Facilities

Approximately 10,000 people attended an open house at the General Motors proving grounds yesterday and Saturday at Milford in the first view since 1949 for area residents of the 3800 acre testing ground.

Recently the proving grounds had added 2600 acres, enveloping many large farms in the area. Several new buildings have been added in the expansion, to accommodate the 1,000 employes.

Brighton, Howell and Milford were the only towns included in the invitation, and tickets were distributed to employes, families and friends.

Over 170,000,000 test miles have been driven since the proving ground opened, and 40,000 test miles are logged each day during the peak of the season, Jim Adams, personnel manager, told visitors.

Bus loads of visitors saw a new-ly-constructed, three-mile straight way, which permits testing cars at speeds up to 100-miles an hour, with banked turnarounds at each end.

Educator Slated to Be Speaker at Area Rally

The Administrators and Supervisors Assn. of the Pontiac Public Schools will hear a national education authority during its Wednesday morning meeting at Webster School.

Dr. Alice V. Keliher, professor in the advanced division of the School of Education at New York University, will speak to the local educators on childhood education.

Dr. Keliher has participated in activities stressing problems of children from nursery to high school. In recent years she participated in a series of conferences organized by the Department of Justice as a result of a study of juvenile delinquency.

Dr. Keliher helped organize the Citizen's Committee on Children in New York City. In 1946 she was honored by the Women's City Club of New York City as one of 30 women making outstanding contributions to the welfare of New York's people.

ed "as soon as possible" by commercial planes, they were told.

Dependents in Jordan were told the first flight to take them to Beirut, Lebanon, was leaving at 2 p.m. today.

There are about 320 Americans in Jordan, 60 of them in Arab Palestine. About 100 of them are there in official capacities. There are 1,893 Americans in Egypt. Many are missionaries, teachers, newsmen and businessmen.

Because nonessential British personnel was largely withdrawn during the heights of the Suez crisis, similar warnings to Britons in the Middle East were not issued by the London government.

The air of crisis was heightened by the announcement of Israeli military authorities today that three suicide bands of Arab commandos had crossed into Israel from the Egyptian-held Gaza Strip last night and two of the groups were captured. Increased activity of these bands was one reason given for the Israeli mobilization.

The Israeli cabinet met in an emergency session for 2½ hours today. British and American ambassadors had separate meetings with Premier Ben-Gurion and Foreign Minister Golda Meir.

At Amman, U. S. Ambassador Lester Mallory called on Thsan Hashem, Jordan's Foreign Office undersecretary. In Cairo, U. S. Ambassador Raymond Hare arranged meetings with Egyptian President Nasser and Foreign Minister Mahmoud Fawzi.

The division this year has more volunteers than during any of the UF's seven previous annual drives.

Campaign collections are expected to swell as Industrial Division reports come in. At General Motors plants, for example, thousands of workers are asked to make individual pledges of $10.42 each to help meet the nine per cent goal increase sought this year.

All campaign workers are invited to attend the Wednesday luncheon. The Community National Bank will sponsor the event.

The luncheon, as well as last week's kickoff breakfast and the victory luncheon Nov. 16, will be arranged by David Ewalt of the UF's Arrangements Committee.

Hitchhiker Slays Indiana Motorist

HAMMOND, Ind. (INS)—A Hammond man was murdered early today by a hitchhiker while his wife and two children looked on, helpless and horrified.

The victim was Robert Martin, 32, who lived in a trailer camp at Hammond.

The slayer forced Martin's wife, Gladys, 36, to drive to a lonely spot where he pumped five more bullets into the lifeless body of the man and took his wallet.

The Martins' two children, Anthony, 16, and Maryanne, 12, were in the rear seat of the car. The family was returning from a visit in Gary.

Stevenson Rips Ike's Arguments

And he said, in a bristling reply to Eisenhower's H-bomb "white paper" of last week, the President "seems insensitive to the danger of radioactive fall-out from H-bomb explosions."

The Democratic standard bearer's statement and his own accompanying 3,000-word "H-bomb memorandum" constituted another round in the campaign controversy precipitated by his proposal for a ban on tests of superbombs.

The memorandum said Eisenhower's assertion that a simple voluntary agreement with the Russians would allow "no safeguards, no control, no inspection" to insure stoppage of H-bomb tests "disregards the key pact violations of such an agreement can be no more hidden than an earthquake."

The Eisenhower "white paper" maintained it is impossible "in view of the vast Soviet land mass that can screen possible future tests—to have positive assurance of such detection, except in the case of the largest weapons. Nor is it possible to state, immediately following the long-range detection of a test, its size and character."

The Stevenson statement calling the President's "white paper" remarkable for "misstatements and distortions" came a few hours after his arrival in Boston with the claim that the Democrats are gaining and "nothing can stop us" in the election a week from tomorrow.

His speech to a rally in Mechanics Hall tonight will climax his campaigning for Massachusetts' 16 electoral votes.

It will be telecast nationally by ABC at 8:30 p.m. EST.

Vandals Hit 2 Houses, Smash Panes, Lights

Two reports of malicious destruction were being investigated today by sheriff's deputies.

Fifteen windows and casings were reported destroyed by bricks at a house in Avon Township sometime last night.

Several outside lights were broken and a hole shot through the living room of a house in West Bloomfield Township.

Brooklyn-Born Diva to Open Met's 72nd Year

NEW YORK (AP)—A glittering crowd will pack the Metropolitan Opera tonight for the opening performance of the 72nd season.

Bellini's "Norma" will be sung with Brooklyn-born prima donna Maria Meneghini Callas in the title role, making her local debut.

All 3,612 seats have been sold.

WILLIAM S. BROOMFIELD

PAUL SUTTON

SPEAK AT RALLY — Highlighting a League of Women Voters rally tonight at 7:30 in Lincoln Junior High School will be statements from William S. Broomfield (left), Republican, and Paul Sutton, Democrat, candidates for Congress in the general election next Tuesday. The rally, to be attended by 21 national, state and local candidates, is intended to acquaint voters with the views of the candidates. It's open to the public.

State Weekend Death Toll 16

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Twelve persons met death on Michigan highways over the weekend, two hunters were killed by shotgun blasts, a child burned to death in a barn fire and a man suffocated in a burning house.

The hunter, Joseph Smith, 48, of Detroit, was killed by a shotgun blast Saturday when his son, James, 12, stumbled while they were duck hunting near Rockwood.

A hunting accident Sunday felled a 16-year-old Clinton County youth. Sheriff's deputies said Daniel Theien was fatally injured when his loaded gun apparently fell from the seat of his car and fired. He was alone, 3½ miles northeast of his Fowler home.

Elmer Lackie, 6, who State Police Det. Hersel Barton said was probably playing with matches, burned to death Saturday outside Kent City in a barn fire on his foster parents' farm. He was a ward of the state, placed with the Antone Holbens family by the Michigan Children's Institute.

John Johnson, 75, of Roseville, suffocated Saturday night when fire swept through the rear of his son's house. The son, Fred, escaped.

Judith Ann Adye, 18, of Lansing.
Robert Donaldson, 28, of Port Huron.
Raymond Prieur, 17, of Flushing.
Leonard J. Maddaugh, 28, of Onaway.
Irving Shepard, 59, and daughters, Joyce, 16 and Ida, 14, of Grand Ledge.
Robert F. Perry, 38, of Livonia.
Tom Brisboe, 22, of Jackson
George Harbordt, 22, of Greenville.
Pearl Hatley, 37, and Eva Gordon, of Benton Harbor.

DAV Honors Post, Auxiliary Ex-Commanders

Twelve former post and auxiliary commanders of the Disabled American Veterans Chapter 101 of Pontiac were honored at a banquet last night at the Bemis-Olsen Amvets Post hall on Oakland Avenue.

William Stormer and Mrs. Ralph Ellsworth were presented past commander pins. The others honored were Floyd Cremer, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Frey, Gerald Filhart, Anthony Renne, Burt McKinney, Mrs. Tracy Doolin, Mrs. Michael McAleer, Mrs. Paul Louchuk, and Mrs. John Martin.

Guest speaker Major Emil M. Ulanowicz, commander of the 516th Antiaircraft Missile Battalion at Auburn Heights, told of his World War II experiences as a prisoner of the Japanese.

Jokers Block Off Road, Deputies Clear Debris

Sheriff's deputies last night were called out to clear a blockaded road.

Investigators found Pittsfield street off Fox boulevard in Commerce Township completely blocked by part of an old wooden dock, boards and pieces of concrete.

The blockade was believed the work of pranksters.

Recharged Hand Grenade Injures Area Hunter, 20

A Royal Oak youth, 20, lost his right hand when a World War II souvenir hand grenade he had recharged exploded while hunting Saturday.

The victim, James O'Brien, of 1610 Crooks Rd. was about to throw the grenade "to see it go off" when it exploded in his hand, according to a hunting companion.

The accident occurred shortly before noon on John R. road a half-mile south of Bloomer State Park near Rochester, according to Trooper Joseph Sorelle of the Romeo State Police Post.

Efforts to rush O'Brien to Pontiac General Hospital were hampered, Sorelle said, when some unidentified hunter moved the ambulance which the driver had left to give O'Brien emergency treatment.

O'Brien was listed in good condition by hospital authorities today. He also suffered compound fractures of his left leg, which was struck by bits of the exploding grenade.

The companion, William Dwyer, 19, said he and O'Brien were walking to the park with their rifles when the grenade out of his pocket, telling Dwyer to "duck behind a tree."

Dwyer is on leave from Foster Air Force Base in Texas and staying with friends at 10004 Kingston Ave., Huntington Woods.

He said he persuaded O'Brien to put the grenade away, Sorelle said, but a few minutes later, Dwyer pulled it out again.

O'Brien pulled out the pin and had his arm poised to throw when the grenade exploded, Dwyer said.

Sorelle said a relative had given O'Brien the Army-type grenade about 11 years ago. The grenade was disarmed at that time, he said, but O'Brien reportedly had filled it recently with half a charge of shotgun powder.

Quick action by Dwyer and the ambulance attendants saved O'Brien from bleeding to death, Sorelle said. The Air Force enlisted man tore his shirt to apply a tourniquet to the victim's right arm.

The Day in Birmingham

Accept Jury Award Here of $36,000 at Ferndale

BIRMINGHAM—Acceptance of a jury award of $36,000 for a lot involved in the opening of Ferndale through to Hamilton for access to Parking Lot 3-A was to be done by the city attorney this afternoon unless commissioners objected.

Official action at tonight's city commission meeting probably will take the form of approving the decision of the attorney, Dean Beier and the city manager.

The property will cost the city in all $50,000, according to City Manager Harold K. Schone, when fees, court costs and attorneys fees are added to the award, plus $12,902 for an adjacent lot.

Hearing tonight on the Kassabian Frankel requests for rezoning at Redding and Woodward will see petitions objecting, as well as residents appearing in person.

The city planner indicates that A. L. Kassabian has said he would submit a letter to the commission withdrawing his petition for Business C and parking zones, while Samuel Frankel has previously indicated he would explore multiple family or terrace classification instead of Business C.

Opening of the meeting will be recognition of Willard M. Brown for employe service.

Other hearings and discussions are on rezoning lots 201 to 210 in Birmingham Estates Subdivision, a triangle at Eton and the railroad, from single family to Business A; issuance of a pamphlet on balloting on sewage treatment plant sale; and purchase of an air raid warning siren.

An increase in use of the library has brought about a request for increase in budget, and city officials and the library officials recently discussed a $5,000 addition to funds.

A new class is starting this week at the Community House and will bring enrollment there to about 600. Class sizes range from 12 for crafts such as silversmithing to 90 in ballroom dancing.

Teacher of the new class, in flower arrangement, will be Mrs. Seth B. Slawson. The five-week series starts Thursday, with hours from 9:30 to 11:30 a.m.

"A concentrated effort has been made by the board of education to carry out the recommendations," says Dr. Dwight B. Ireland, superintendent of schools reporting on the five and one half million dollar building program suggested by the Citizens Committee.

Four elementary schools and five additions are either complete or are under construction, he pointed out to the Citizens committee.

"When one deducts the time required for selling the bonds, it leaves less than one year during which time all of the work has been done," Dr. Ireland states. "This has overtaxed the administrative staff and reflects a sincere effort on everyone's part."

The committee asking the expansion and the rehabilitation, which also is in progress, estimated a September 1956 enrollment of 9,899. It was 10,068, Dr. Ireland says, complimenting the committee on "conservatism and excellent judgment."

Auto Crash Kills Birmingham Man

A Birmingham man was killed early this morning when his car went off the road and struck a street sign and utility pole in front of 8705 S. Telegraph Rd., Taylor Township.

Obie Wilson, 32, of 572 Linden St., died shortly after the crash at the Wayne County General Hospital. He never regained consciousness, according to Wayne County deputies.

Wilson was reportedly traveling alone on Telegraph when his car went out of control and off the left side of the highway.

Kuwait Will Double Sea Drinking Water

KUWAIT—Two new flash-type water evaporators, each capable of producing 1,260,000 gallons of fresh water daily, will be installed at Shuwaikh, a suburb of Kuwait.

The Sheikdom of Kuwait, which now operates the world's largest sea water evaporator plant will double the production of drinking water for its capital city with construction of the plant.

The new units will convert the waters of the Persian Gulf, considered the world's saltiest body of sea water, into potable water containing fewer than 100 parts of dissolved solids per million.

Big Blast Douses Fire

MIDDLESBORO, Ky. (AP) — A fire was reported in the carburetor of an automobile. The fire truck sped across town with its siren blasting. Pulling to a stop near the automobile. Pulling to a stop near the automobile firefighters jumped off the truck ready for action.

Then Fireman Pete Marsee went into action. He ran to the blaze, huffed, puffed and blew the fire out.

Easy Come, Easy Go

CAIRO, Ill. (AP) — Patrolman James Diggs brought his squad car to a stop when he spotted bills on the pavement of U. S. Route 51 south of Cairo. With the help of several passing motorists, he gathered $2,790 in fives, tens and twenties. The money later was claimed by E. P. Fletcher, a Cairo lumberman.

Students Haunt Teacher's Lawn With 'Cemetary'

DEARBORN (INS) — The senior class at Edsel Ford High School in Dearborn was on its toes this morning, careful not to "finger" pranksters who turned a teacher's front lawn into a "cemetary."

Teacher Wally Smith was bewildered yesterday morning when small white crosses dotted his Dearborn lawn. A sign read: "Smith's Memorial Cemetary."

Each cross was inscribed with the nickname of an Edsel Ford teacher.

Light-sleeping neighbors told of seeing several carloads of teenagers busily working on the Smith lawn around 1 a.m. Sunday.

Smith said, as he scratched his crew-cut, the pranksters were probably from one of the school's "political" factions, engaged in a white hot campaign for senior class president. One of the teenaged groups held a barbecue Saturday night and there obviously was an overflow of spirit.

HIGH DINNY! — Little Lorrie Knudson, of Calgary, Alberta, Canada, is going to have a crick in her neck if she looks up at "Dinny," the dinosaur, for very long. His head towers 60 feet above hers. Named after the pal of Alley Oop, the famous comic-strip cave man, Dinny, a 120-ton cement model, is a denizen of the Calgary Zoo, largest in Canada.

History Is Fun at Ike Museum

Children Learn While Viewing Many Displays at Abilene, Kans.

ABILENE, Kans. (NEA) — To the kiddies the Eisenhower museum here is an enchanting classroom where "you get the nicest kind of history lesson."

While grownups move with a studious air past the 2,646 items on display, the small fry follow their own brand of touring. They bounce from one group of exhibits to another like samplers in a toy workshop.

Boosting this wide-eyed interest is a former history teacher with a talented knack for making education entertaining.

He is J. Earl Endacott, the museum's executive director, who thinks history and geography are fun and likes youngsters to share that opinion.

Endacott often leaves his desk to conduct children singly or in groups through the museum's east "Presidential" wing and the west wing which contains President Eisenhower's family and military mementos and souvenirs before he became chief executive.

With Endacott supervising, the children are permitted to ring a large Bell of Sarna, which was made and decorated in India especialy for Ike's inauguration, and even try on a $1,000 gold-encrusted ceremonial robe from a collection presented the Eisenhowers by the late King of Saudi Arabia.

As proof to classmates back home, the young model is given a signed card certifying that the bearer wore the robe.

"Know where Saudi Arabia is?" Endacott asked Mary, who was hardly recognizable under the Arabian headpiece.

When she answered negatively, Endacott pointed out the Arabian kingdom on the huge globe which Ike used as Chief of Staff and at Columbia University.

An electrical and radio hobbyist, Endacott has planned and rigged many of the exhibits including the huge, automatic, electrically-lighted map which shows in 60 seconds by proportionate time lapses the progression of battles during the Crusade in Europe.

It has 293 lights, 75 separate circuits, 8,000 feet of wire and took 1,000 hours to build.

The children can take pictures with their own cameras, listen to excerpts of Ike's speeches over telephones and sometimes get a peek into the storage room where nearly 2,000 catalogued surplus or rotating items are stored. These range from an autographed golf ball to a buffalo head.

Boys show special interest in ancient armor, autographed baseballs, historic documents, firearms, Ike's military uniforms and the battery-powered 1914 model electric car used by Ike and Mamie about the time of their marriage.

Favorite exhibits of the girls aren't always those which include dolls, such as the colorfully costumed Korean dolls presented by President Syngman Rhee. One little lass said she preferred seeing the swords.

Campaign Planes, Trains Are a Study in Contrasts

By RUTH MONTGOMERY
INS Correspondent

WITH KEFAUVER ON TOUR — "We've got the ticket upside down."

This refrain, repeated over and over, is greeting second-place contender Estes Kefauver with increasing frequency as he tours the farming communities and industrial areas of the Midwest in this crucial final stretch of the campaign.

Not only in the small towns of Nebraska and Ohio, but in the union halls of Flint and Detroit, reporters repeatedly are told: "That's my man there, but I guess we'll have to vote for Stevenson to get Estes."

This phenomenon of a vice presidential candidate running ahead of his party standard bearer in broad sections of the country provides striking contrast to the Republican campaign tours where onlookers frequently complain: "I don't like Nixon, but I'm going to vote for Ike anyway."

PLENTY OF DIFFERENCE

There are severe contrasts in their techniques, and in the atmosphere aboard their trains and planes.

Neither President Eisenhower nor Adlai Stevenson—unless he wins now—will ever again campaign for the presidency. Because each knows it, he is risking his political all in the battle of wits and issues.

Vice President Richard Nixon and Kefauver, however, are comparatively young men in a hurry to reach the pinnacle. As a consequence, neither hard-running candidate can resist the temptation—at the sight of a bunch of waving high school students—to halt the siren-shrieking motorcades long enough to pump a few hundred eager hands.

These are the voters of 1960 and 1964, and both Dick and Estes are youthful enough to bide their time until—at least in their dreams—their own names can head the two tickets.

The esprit de corps aboard the Nixon and Kefauver whistlestoppers is more ebullient than that of the two front-runners.

The air on board an Eisenhower campaign trip is one of calm confidence but slight haste, as if to say: "Let's get this business over with and go back to running the White House."

GLOOM IN THE ROOM

Gloom pervades the Stevenson entourage. Stevenson runs behind schedule, his speeches are seldom ready in time for the right newspaper edition, and he frequently wears the slightly bemused look of a man murmuring to himself: "What am I doing here?"

Kefauver, on the other hand, warms to his roadshow like a star to applause. On motorcades, he charges in and out of pink, red or what-have-you convertibles at the outskirts of each hamlet, and if he can't find a crowd, he turns on the sirens to draw one.

Nixon's aides are bright, young and ambitious. They also are so admirably efficient newsmen who grumble at joining the pace-killing caravan rapidy transform themselves into jovial, well-fed, well-coddled-if-weary champions of campaign progress, Nixon style.

Kefauver, weary feet relaxing in slippers, rides in the front seat of his plane with reporters, and will hold a news conference anywhere, anytime at the mere suggestion someone is willing to listen.

Ike rides a separate plane—his Columbine III—and tries to squeeze the regular weekly news session into his stepped-up campaign schedule.

ADLAI ISOLATED

Adlai isolates himself from all except chosen members of his staff, and has yet to hold a news conference since his campaign began in earnest in mid-September.

It would be difficult in any other country of the world to find four such different men busily campaigning for the two highest offices in the land.

But that's America in this election year of 1956.

To Aid McKay in Oregon

Charge GOP Faked Photo to Help Beat Sen. Morse

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—The Oregon Democratic party chairman today accused Republicans of "using a doctored photograph" to try to make Democratic Sen. Wayne Morse appear an unpopular man, shunned by fellow senators.

Republicans denied the charge.

Democratic Chairman Robert Boyer said the Republicans had distributed to every home in Oregon a pamphlet using a cropped photograph showing Morse speaking in an empty Senate chamber.

"Wayne Morse empties the Senate with his longwinded spechse. The Senate refuses to listen to him," was the picture caption, Boyer said, adding that in the cropping the Republicans had concealed the fact the photo was taken in the early morning hours of a Senate session.

"The truth is that the picture was taken at 3 in the morning when Sen. Morse was leading a band of determined liberals in a 13-day fight that prevented a complete giveaway to private monopoly of our atomic energy program," Boyer said.

Wendell Wyatt, Republican state chairman, said, "The frantic claim that the picture of Wayne Morse speaking alone in the Senate has been doctored is false. The full picture shows Morse talking only to Sen. Knowland (R-Calif)."

Wyatt said the picture had been borrowed from Life magazine, where it ran several months ago.

The Republican pamphlet was distributed in behalf of Douglas McKay, the former secretary of interior trying to unseat Morse, who was a Republican until he bolted the party four years ago.

In Sacramento, Knowland declined comment.

Sen. Morse, who was unavailable, had issued this statement a week ago:

"This shows the extent of panic in the Douglas McKay camp. Several senators were cropped from the original Life magazine picture, including Sen. William Knowland, who was debating with me. But the interesting fact is that I was holding down the graveyard shift in the historic fight to amend the atomic energy bill and the picture was taken at 3 o'clock in the morning."

"Lack of financing made it impossible to reproduce the entire picture. The intent of the picture was to typify the many occasions when Sen. Morse has spoken to an empty or nearly empty Senate chamber," said Wyatt.

"Wyatt and his professional photo fakers first cut out of the picture what they didn't want Oregonians to see and then enlarged what was left to fit their page. It's as simple as that," Boyer said.

Among things cut out were "lights along the top of the picture," Boyer said. "He had those lights cut off and he also had the picture skillfully lightened so that no one would guess the truth. . ."

Forced Hospitalization of TB Patients Sought

Among the problems with which the 1957 Michigan Legislature will have to deal is the law to provide for forced hospitalization of tuberculosis patients.

Agreement to seek such a statute affecting those patients who endanger public health by evading isolation was reached at conference in Lansing. In attendance were spokesmen for State health officials, County sanatorium superintendents, probate judges, Michigan Tuberculosis Association and the Wayne County Tuberculosis and Health Society.

The proposed law would clarify the definition of communicable tuberculosis. It also would order hospitalization of persons having the disease in that form and provide for commitment and detention of necessary.

Under State law, Atty. Gen. Thomas M. Kavanagh ruled last April that a patient can't be restrained in a sanatorium. Probate Judge Joseph A. Murphy of Wayne County, chairman of the joint committee seeking the new law, has this to say:

"A majority of the states have laws to protect the public against recalcitrant patients. Tuberculosis, since 1927, has been declared a communicable disease dangerous to the public health. We have a great chance to rewrite the law to fit modern needs."

Dr. John A. Cowan of the State Health Department, told the committee that many persons who are "actual or potential sources of infection" never have been hospitalized. He added that of 4,488 discharges from Michigan tuberculosis hospitals last year, 2,334 were without medical consent.

Here, surely are many strong reasons why the Legislature should give sympathetic consideration to the proposals of the special committee. Obviously, without such a law the TB rate, which has been shrinking slowly for decades, would rise again and we'd be right back where we started.

Highway Death Rate Lowest in New Zealand

A report on New Zealand's success in reducing its traffic death toll is worth careful consideration by traffic authorities of this country as well as every motorist.

According to the St. Louis Post-Dispatch, these South Pacific Islands now can boast the lowest traffic death rate of any motorized country in the world. There seems to be no secret in this highly commendable achievement. Rather, it appears to be the result of several safety measures strictly enforced.

How sharp is the contrast between the situation in New Zealand and in this country. Only the other day Ned Dearborn, president of the National Safety Council, warned that U. S. traffic deaths already have increased eight per cent over last year. This means that unless the upward trend is reversed, the death toll for this year will reach the appalling total of 42,000.

Mr. Dearborn's statement properly emphasizes that this frightful toll is "a national emergency that calls for action by every one." Certainly highway safety depends on the individual driver.

With the ice and snow of Winter approaching, the year's most dangerous highway conditions soon will be upon us. For the next two months the most careful and responsible driving will be necessary if the Nation is to escape the worst highway traffic toll in its history.

Petty Nuisance Ended

With Christmas gift mailing season close at hand, a welcome new regulation has been put into force by the Post Office Department.

For 35 years the department has required that all sealed packages bear a printed label saying—"May be opened for postal inspection if necessary." This permission could not be written on the parcel, it had to be on a special gummed label.

As Postmaster General Summerfield said, the regulation is so well known that when a sender seals a package he automatically gives authorization for its inspection.

The discarded regulation never made sense. To the public it seemed merely a petty annoyance. Thanks are due Mr. Summerfield for this obvious improvement in our postal service.

A loyal citizen may criticize the way our Ship of State is being run, but he doesn't rock the boat.

The Man About Town

The Scotts Do It

They Have Final Say on Our Presidential Vote

Halloween: When not so many outhouses are tipped over—because of the shortage of.

It makes no difference whether Oakland County's quarter million voters who should go to the polls on Nov. 6 show a preference for the Republican or Democrat nominee for president. The last word is up to the Scotts.

Our county comprises the eighteenth Michigan congressional district, and it surely is quite a coincidence that the presidential elector for both parties in this district happens to be a Scott.

Representing the political party that carries the county, Mr. Scott then becomes a member of the electoral college when Michigan's delegation meets at Lansing and casts the final vote.

If Eisenhower is Michigan's choice, of Royal Oak will cast the ballot for the eighteenth district. He has been the Republican elector for the district comprising Oakland County through several presidential elections.

George Scott

If Stevenson carries Michigan, of 31 Bloomfield Terrace, Pontiac, will represent us. This is the first time he has been a Democrat elector from the same district.

Robert T. Scott

George and Robert are no relatives of each other, but both are good Scouts, in addition to being good Scotts, and can be depended upon to go through the proper motions as dictated by our people one week from tomorrow.

Of the 3,678 entries in our football contest, 173 are still in the running for the $300 prize. They are the ones who predicted Stanford would win Saturday's game with Southern California. Stanford took it by a 27-19 score. The 89 who picked Southern California to win are eliminated.

The 173 survivors divide their predictions on the next contest game, which is on Friday night, as follows: Pontiac, 105; Saginaw, 68; tie game, none.

Rush Week on the Campus

David Lawrence Says:

Presidents Need Congress Help

WASHINGTON—Do voters want a united or a divided government? Do they want a responsible government by party or an irresponsible government?

Judging by the advice of a big newspaper in the East, which came out editorially the other day supporting President Eisenhower and yet advocating defeat of certain Republican candidates for Congress, it doesn't seem to matter much whether Eisenhower's leadership is permitted to function through a Congress organized by his own party. And if a big newspaper tells the people they need not be concerned with party when they vote for members of Congress, how is the average voter to learn the dangers of divided government?

When Congress is in the hands of one party and the presidency in the other, there is constant friction, and the public interest suffers. There is a chance then for the passage only of legislation which can command a compromise—and usually even such bills are weakened and diluted just to get votes from both parties.

ROOM TO COMPLAIN

The handling of congressional investigations is sometimes cited as a reason for voting for one or the other of the parties in order to get rid of or to elect certain individuals as chairmen. But minority members of committees can always raise cain if there is any skullduggery or cover-up.

It is a big mystery how the newspaper that calls for defeat of three Republican senators can reconcile that advice with its own persistent cry for civil rights legislation when it is known that, if the Democrats organize the Senate, the civil rights bills pending in committee will be kept as long as possible from seeing the light of day if any Southern Democrat is chairman of such a committee.

It is an open secret, for example, that most Democratic nominees for Congress in the South have no use for Adlai Stevenson and are supporting the Democratic national ticket only because this is the way locally to insure their own continuance in the chairmanships—obviously to retain power to block civil rights legislation.

But what is the average voter to do? He looks at the candidates of both parties and likes or dislikes a particular nominee.

The argument is often made that Eisenhower can count on more help from Democrats than from Republicans. It just isn't true. The President himself denies it. The last two years of political fighting by the two parties in Congress has done more harm than good to the public interest. Acts of sabotage of foreign policy programs and prevention of the passage of proposals for progressive legislation have come far more from the Democratic leadership than from the small group of dissidents in the Republican party.

The Democratic leaders have had the actual power to keep important bills from being acted on at all. The Republican irregulars, on the other hand, have had only a handful of votes, and these have not proved a decisive factor on any really important piece of legislation the past three years.

VOTE FOR RAYBURN

A vote, moreover, for a Democratic-controlled House of Representatives is a vote to give the speakership again to Rep. Sam Rayburn of Texas. He has announced he believes as Adlai Stevenson does about giving up H-bomb tests and taking the military risks involved in abandoning such tests merely on the paper pledge of the Soviets. Under a law passed in 1947, the speaker of the House becomes President if the President and vice president should die or be disabled.

A divided government is risky and dangerous. A government by the majority party in both executive and legislative branches is a responsible government. The people can then hold the party in power to accountability at the polls in the next election.

LI'L ONES

"Gosh—I forgot to close the bathroom door when I started to fill the tub . . ."

Dr. William Brady Says:

Most Joint Aches Caused by Nutritional Deficiency

What Dr. Osler called chronic rheumatism "comes on insidiously in persons who have passed the middle period of life."

In most cases of joint disability the trouble still comes on insidiously, and the victim is past fifty; but if you call it plebeian chronic rheumatism today, the patient will probably have no further truck with you. What? And all his friends getting "shots" of the very latest miracle medicine for their arthritis?

In order to understand clearly what we are talking about, or rather to prevent misunderstanding, it may be well to define these terms as accurately as we can:

Arthritis means joint inflamation—arthr-itis.

Rheumatism doesn't mean anything. That is to say, there is no disease or condition a physician can identify by the name. Rheum formerly meant "a watery discharge from mucous membranes, especially from eyes and nose, catarrh, cold."

TYPICAL SIGNS

The classical signs of inflamation are heat, pain, redness, and swelling (calor, dolor, rubor, et tumor).

In most cases of joint disability developing insidiously, there is no calor, no rubor, generally no tumor, but just pain and stiffness.

If there are no signs of inflamation, it is senseless to call the joint disability "arthritis." And to call it rheumatism is to admit you don't know or don't give a hoot what ails you.

Mind, now, I'm not indulging in theoretical or academic distinctions. I'm just trying to teach people with joint disability what ails them and what to do about it.

You may well ask at this point what I would call your joint disability if it isn't arthritis or rheumatism. You may if you don't get peevish about it. And I'll tell you I don't know—not until I have taken your history and examined your affected joint or joints, probably including X-ray films.

OTHER CAUSES

You see, even after we have eliminated arthritis and rheumatism, we must still consider damages of the joint resulting from old injuries, strains or sprains. This is a fairly common cause of alleged rheumatism or arthritis.

If my examination warranted exclusion of trauma (injury), then I'd come right out with my diagnosis; and if you had the intelligence the average layman has about health matters, you'd probably get out of my office as fast as possible and never return, for I'd say something like this:

"If you really want to know what ails you, or what I think ails you, here it is, you poor geek. You've got the rheumatiz."

I have no patent or copyright on the word rheumatiz, but I claim priority in the use of the word to denote physical degeneration of joint tissues. This, I believe, is the usual cause of joint disability in persons past middle age, and it seems to be frequent in persons who have hardly attained maturity (age 35).

The cause of the rheumatiz is nutritional deficiency through the years from childhood up to breakfast today.

And tell me, did you have an adequate breakfast today?

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Voice of the People

Urges Citizens to Support John Martin November 6

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.

Citizens of Michigan will safeguard their own interests by electing John B. Martin of Grand Rapids, Republican candidate for Secretary of State, I have watched John Martin's work as Auditor General and before that in the state senate. His sane approach to government and his devotion and hard work on the job are sorely needed in carrying on the responsibilities of the Secretary of State's office.

Letters have recently been received by many school people begging for personal campaign funds for the incumbent Democrat in the office of Secretary of State. People concerned with Michigan's schools would be better advised to support John Martin. He thoroughly understands the state's financial responsibility to the schools, has an outstanding educational background and has shown continuing concern as a holder of public office for the problems of education.

Voters can assure themselves of a Secretary of State who knows state government and has an unexcelled record as a clean and efficient administrator. They can vote for John B. Martin on November 6.

Steve Nisbet, Member State Board of Education

'Low Prices Due to Big Business'

Why do Democrats keep attacking a business that is big? They bring the low prices. What would a Pontiac car sell for if they only built 10,000? What would groceries sell for if there weren't these huge super markets to keep prices down? What would soap cost if each company was limited by law to selling a million dollars a year?

I'm not "mad" at "big businesses." They're what keep the prices down for the little guy like me.

Little Guy

Asks Retirement for Eisenhower

If President Dwight D. Eisenhower were still in the army, he would be retired by law. Since that can't happen, the job remains for the Democrats to do. Vote for Stevenson and that will mean Eisenhoer's permanent retirement. That's where he belongs.

One Who Will

East Europe's Rebellions Open Red Pandora's Box

By JOSEPH L. PEARLMAN
INS Staff Writer

The lid is off the Red Pandora's box in Eastern Europe, and Soviet leaders are in real trouble once again.

Worried Kremlin chiefs have relied on jet planes, tanks and guns to crush the rebellion in Hungary, but this may prove to be only a temporary solution.

Paradoxically, they also will have to rely on the new satellite chiefs, once denounced and imprisoned on Moscow's orders and now restored to power on the wave of anti-Soviet rebellion.

The Hungarian and Polish leaders apparently have decided to give reluctant assistance to the Russians in the continuing struggle for Communist survival behind the bullet-riddled Iron Curtain.

Their motto is still "Communism First," even though they do not believe in traveling the same road as Russia to attain their ends.

REACTION OF LEADERS

One of the striking features of the outbreak in Poland and Hungary has been the reaction of the new Red leaders, once the Kremlin and its current occupants became the targets.

Workers' demonstrations were accepted and even condoned, until pent-up hatreds led to demands for clean breaks with Moscow.

Wladyslaw Gomulka, Poland's "Tito" and Communist boss, who is leading the battle in Warsaw for more freedom from Moscow, told a huge crowd of demonstrators that the links with Moscow must not be broken or weakened.

He also demanded that Poles reject anti-Soviet propaganda. But he had to step gingerly when he announced that the presence of Soviet troops in Poland was in the interest of the Polish people.

They were needed there, he explained, not because of the dangers of a Polish upheaval against the Kremlin, but because West Germany is building a new army.

In embattled Hungary, Imre Nagy, the new Premier, and his ruling colleagues called in Soviet troops to put down the anti-Soviet, anti-Communist revolt in the capital.

The Nagy government blamed the trouble on "Fascist counter-revolutionaries" who, he said, managed to mislead the Hungarian workers.

Don't Strip Funerals of Flowers

One of the signs of advancing civilization is the reverential way in which people treat their dead. So read Carolyn's interesting remarks. Then see if you wish idealism stripped from the final graduation ceremony of your loved ones when they depart from this classroom called Earth. Don't be penny wise but pound foolish about flowers at funerals.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

"Dr. Crane, one of my best students was killed in an auto wreck last week," she began.

"Several of us teachers attended the funeral, for we felt very keenly the loss of this boy. He was such a promising student that we were very proud of him.

"But his father had insisted that nobody send flowers. And I never was so shocked in my life at the drabness of death without flowers.

"Up till then, I had thought flowers were an unecessary expense for funerals. But something was lacking.

"The whole funeral service was rather flat and despondent. And it wasn't because the clergyman didn't give a fitting talk. The lack of flowers let the audience down."

FLOWERS AT FUNERALS

Many people in modern America have urged the omission of flowers from funerals, thinking to salvage such money for charity.

But it is possible to destroy the idealism of a beautiful graduation ceremony by stripping it of the flowers that surround our final farewell.

Jesus recognized this same fact when he reproved his Apostles for scolding the woman who poured the costly ointment upon Christ.

They argued that it was wasteful, saying the ointment could have been turned into cash and then given to the poor.

"The poor ye have with you always," Jesus remonstrated, as he approved the woman's farewell gesture before Christ was crucified.

If flowers are not sent to the funeral, the sender seldom contributes any extra money to the poor, anyway.

GRADUATION CEREMONY

Death is a graduation ceremony as we leave this classroom called Earth and go onward to a higher classroom in God's Cosmic School System.

And graduations are supposed to be colorful affairs. When your daughter graduates from high school, you generally outfit her beautifully and see that she has a corsage.

Maybe you parents shed a few tears as you realize she is moving onward to a distant college campus and thus will be leaving you more or less permanently.

So you try to make her graduation as beautiful and happy an event as possible. Well, why not do the same when she leaves this earthly classroom?

The flowers are intended primarily for the living relatives, anyway. They indicate the love and affection of friends and neighbors. So they exert a positive psychological influence in buoying up the spirits of those who are in grief.

For there is a great loneliness of spirit at the time of death. Even Jesus showed that fact when he took his three most intimate Apostles with him at the Garden of Gethsemane as he wrestled with his destiny.

And Christ seemed disheartened because they couldn't stay awake with him at that crucial hour in his life here on earth, for Jesus knew it was his farewell to his closest earthly friends.

So don't strip flowers from funerals. If you wish to carry this "economy" argument to its coarse conclusion, then why not imitate Hitler and just bulldoze a trench and dump the dead carcasses therein?

Why have beautiful half caskets, flowers, subdued lights, music and an inspirational address at all?

It is false economy to destroy idealism to salvage the price of a few quarts of milk for tenement youngsters.

"Man does not live by bread alone," said Jesus.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Amendment May Relieve Headaches in Legislature

LANSING (AP) — Michigan voters will find only one constitutional amendment on the ballot Nov. 6.

This is a change from recent years when from three to six constitutional amendments generally were listed.

The amendment this year deals with qualifications of state senators and representatives.

One section of the amendment would require a senator or representative to be at least 21 years old.

The other section would bar from the Legislature any person "convicted or subversion or of a felony involving a breach of public trust."

The amendment was put on the ballot by the Legislature.

The first section was proposed because of talk of eventually lowering the voting age to 18. The Constitution provides that a senator or representative only must be a qualified elector and a United States citizen.

If the voting age were lowered to 18, that would mean an 18-year-old could be elected a senator or representative.

Members of the two houses apparently feel that although an 18-year-old might be able to vote, he would be too young to sit in on their deliberations.

The other section, barring persons convicted of subversion or of a felony involving a breach of public trust, would in some cases save legislators the embarrassment of having to pass judgment on their own members.

NOW JUDGES ITSELF

The Constitution now allows the Legislature to be the sole judge of qualifications of its members.

This will still hold even if the second part of the amendment is adopted.

However, persons convicted of subversion — attempting to overthrow the government — or of a felony involving a breach of public trust automatically will be barred.

There have been cases in the past where the Legislature became bitterly embroiled over the business of judging the fitness of its members.

The most recent was the Senate refusal in 1955 to seat Anthony J. Wilkowski, Hamtramck Democrat.

He was convicted more than 20 years before on a vote fraud charge.

REFUSED A SEAT

The Republican majority in the Senate refused to seat him and the matter became a bitter partisan issue.

If the proposed amendment had been law, the issue never would have arisen. Wilkowski would have been disqualified automatically.

When someone's counting on you...
you can count on life insurance

American families are now receiving an average of about $10,000 every minute of every day in benefits from their life insurance policies.

It's money they can count on . . . for family security, for children's education, to pay off the mortgage, for their own retirement, to meet emergencies.

Of course, no two families have exactly the same needs for life insurance. That is why it's so important to plan your family's program carefully. The best person to help you do this is your own life insurance agent.

You will also find helpful suggestions in the new booklet, Your Life Insurance—and How to Use It, which we have prepared as a service for America's policyholders. Your free copy will be mailed promptly; simply send your name and address on a postcard to Dept. B.

Adlai, Estes, Nixon to Hit State in 11th-Hour Visits

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Appearances by three top national candidates climax the Michigan Political Campaign this week.

Both Vice President Nixon, Republican candidate for re-election, and his Democratic opponent, Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee, will be in Michigan Wednesday. Adlai Stevenson, Democratic presidential candidate, will be in Detroit Friday.

Republican State Chairman John Feikens continued to press for a Detroit visit by President Eisenhower. Feikens said Michigan's 20 electoral votes already are in the Eisenhower column but a visit by the President would go far to fire up precinct workers.

Kefauver will campaign in Battle Creek, Flint and Bay City. Nixon will speak in Detroit at noon.

Stevenson will arrive at Wayne County Airport at 5 p.m. for an 8 p.m. speech from the Fox Theater in Detroit. He leaves immediately after.

Party leaders on both sides, lined up precinct workers for election day. Neil Staebler, Democratic state chairman, called county chairman meetings over the weekend in Lansing, Kalamazoo and Muskegon. He said he is seeking 20,000 precinct workers on election day for the Democratic cause.

At a Lansing strategy meeting, Feikens said he is seeking 15,000 rank-and-file workers.

In Grand Rapids, Gov. G. Mennen Williams seeking an unprecedented fifth straight term, answered questions asked by a panel on a television show Sunday night.

Referring to Democrats who have endorsed Eisenhower, Williams said:

"Even Proctor & Gamble after making soap for years, never got it more than 99 and 44 one-hundredths per cent pure."

Asked about Teamsters Union Boss Jimmie Hoffa who has endorsed Republican candidates, Williams replied: "You haven't named any of my past friends yet." He said, "If you took a poll of them (the Teamsters) they would support me by 95 per cent."

Williams said the civil rights plank in the Democratic platform is stronger than its Republican counterpart, although, "some of us feel it could be a little bit stronger."

Western States Need Teachers

Shortage at College Level Is Forecast in Few Years

SANTA FA, N. M., (INS) —The demand for higher education in the west is growing faster than the growth of the region itself, and may result in a very acute shortage of college instructors within the next few years.

That's the opinion of Richard Axt, assistant director of the Western Interstate Commission for Higher Education, expressed before a meeting of the Council of State Governments in Santa Fe.

Axt pointed out that 24 million people in the West make up only 14.4 per cent of the nation's population, yet the West has 18.6 of the country's college students.

He predicted the college enrollment will continue to skyrocket in the West, and that by 1970 there will be a need for twice as many people as are now in high school teaching, college teaching and engineering.

Unless the graduate schools begin to teach more college teachers. Axt warned, the quality of drastically during the next 10 or 15 years.

He pointed out that a "real shortage" of qualified college teachers already exists.

At present, he said, about 60 per cent of those earning Ph.D. degrees go into teaching in colleges, and at present about 40 per cent of the college teachers hold Ph. D.'s.

But in the future, even if all those earning Ph.D. degrees go into college teaching, the number of college teachers with doctorates would slip to about 30 per cent.

Axt said the western states are partly meeting the growing financial need, since expenditures for western public colleges and universities are increasing more rapidly than the overall national average.

"But unless the universities and colleges recruit and train and keep more qualified faculty members, and raise faculty salaries, the quality of college training is bound to suffer," Axt added.

Two states adopted the Constitution by only two vote margins. New York's vote was 30 to 28 and in Rhode Island it was 34 to 32.

THE BERRYS By Carl Grubert

Nov. 6 Votes Won't Go to Ike, Adlai, but to Presidential Electors of States

LANSING (AP) — On election day when you mark the ballot for Dwithgt D. Eisenhower or Adlai E. Stevenson, your vote will not be counted for either one—technically speaking.

The ballot will be cast for the 20 presidential electors of their party in Michigan.

The system is a throwback to a provision written into the federal Constitution back in 1787 when the Founding Fathers chose to provide for selection of a president and vice president by an electoral college, a special unit with no other function.

In practice, it's just a rigamarole now, and in late years there has been increasing talk in Congress of changing it.

Of course, the fact remains that the result is to throw the entire support of a state to the candidate receiving a plurality of the vote in that state, rather than to divide support in proportion to the popular vote.

Michigan has statutory provisions implementing the federal constitutional language.

It sets forth how nominees for the positions of electors shall be chosen, and details the way in which electors go through the formality of meeting, casting their vote for president and transmitting the result to the nation's capitol.

ALREADY CHOSEN

"Although it received scant attention at the time, Republicans, Democrats and the Prohibition party chose their presidential elector nominees at their fall conventions last August and September.

State law provides that after the popular vote cast on Nov. 6 is compiled and winners certified by the state board of canvassers, the governor shall certify the names of the presidential electors of the winning party to the secretary of state in Washington.

To each elector on the successful slate, the governor in addition must transmit in triplicate a certificate, bearing the great seal, to notify him of his election as an elector.

The law provides that the electors shall assemble in the State Senate Chamber in Lansing at 2 p.m. Eastern Standard Time on the first Monday after the second Wednesday in December—Dec. 17 this year.

If there is any vacancy because of refusal to act, death or neglect to attend at 2 p.m. on the appointed day, the qualified electors present must fill the vacancy by ballot, with a plurality sufficient.

The electors then must ballot, sign and certify the results and transmit them sealed to the president of the United States Senate.

They are bound by tradition to vote for the candidate of their party.

Under the federal Constitution, the certificates have to be opened, and the votes of the electors of all 48 states counted, in the presence of national Senate and House members.

At that point, technically, the new president is elected.

Who are the presidential electors chose in Michigan?

Mostly, they are minor party figures who just get a kick out of serving in that capacity and ask to be slated at the state convention. Seldom is there much argument about the selections.

The 1956 Democratic slate of nominees for presidential elector: Nick Green, Charles C. Diggs Jr., Anna Winkler, Dora Camden, Paul Silver and Mrs. Leola Lange, all of Detroit; Harley H. Gillette, Michigan Center; Angus H. McLeod, Charlotte; Donald Hughes, Hopkins; B. J. Windburn, Grand Rapids; John McGarry, Mount Morris; Thomas Raye, Roseville; Mark Walsh, St. Charles; Walter Nill, Muskegon Heights; Tony Bielawski, Bay City; John Spoelman, Central Lake; John D. Voelker, Ishpeming; Wilfred Burke, River Rouge; Robert Scott, Pontiac, and Mrs. Valerie Peters, Rockland.

Republican nominees for elector: Walter Jones, Edward N. Barnard, Samuel J. Throop, Edward Grebs and Arthur F. Drompp, all of Detroit; Charles R. Bedwell, Harper Woods; Joyce Britton, Battle Creek; Mrs. Walter Zimmerman, Jackson; Ronald M. Ryan, Battle Creek; Louis Louetz, Sturgis; Mrs. Jane Lilley, Spring Lake; Chester R. Schwesinger, Flint; Kenneth Sanborn, Mount Clemens; Mrs. Louise Seibold, Owosso; David Wright, Muskegon; J. Russell Hughes, Harrisville; Robert G. Gille, Moran; Mrs. Margorie Messinger, Houghton; George Scott, Royal Oak, and George S. Mason, Wyandotte.

Prohibitionary party nominees for elector:

Strikers Shut Down GM Plant in Georgia

ATLANTA (AP)—Members of the United Automobile Workers Union went on strike at the General Motors assembly plant here early today after contract negotiators failed to reach agreement by the midnight deadline.

Pickets patrolled the plant at suburban Doraville.

The union, representing some 2,900 plant employes, sought a contract change giving workers a choice of work shift according to seniority and a revision of layoff and rehiring procedure.

Talks between the union and company continued all Sunday and were broken off shortly before midnight. Spokesmen said the talks would be resumed at 2 p.m. today.

Only the Buick-Oldsmobile-Pontiac assembly plant at Doraville is involved. GM plants in other cities will not be affected.

Hatoyama in Honolulu

HONOLULU (AP) —Japanese Prime Minister Ichiro Hatoyama arrived last night en route home from Moscow, where he negotiated a Japanese-Russian peace treaty.

New York's harbor covers 1,500 square miles in two states.

Party Too Economical With Valid Signatures

PROVIDENCE, R.I. (AP) — The "Economy Party" won't have a candidate in this city's election this year after all.

The State Board of elections turned down Joseph Starneno's plea to be qualified to run as mayor on the "Economy Party" ticket.

The reason: Starneno could produce only 83 valid signatures—seven short of the needed number.

Constantine Katsikakis, 70, arrested as a beggar in Volos, Central Greece, admitted that he had a hoard of $2,800.

Rain Eases Drought Around San Diego

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — The first rain in months fell last night as a network television program retold the story of the deluge which hit San Diego in 1916.

Gutters ran full again, but this time the rain measured only .42 of an inch. That brought the total rainfall since July 1 to .48 of an inch.

The CBS television show was about Hatfield the Rainmaker, who tried to collect $10,000 on a rain-making contract with the city after San Diego had a 21-day storm in January of 1916. Damage ran into the millions.

Hatfield lost his case. A court ruled the rain was an act of God and was not caused by Hatfield's secret method.

Confused About the Dangers of Fallout? Don't Feel Bad! So Are the Scientists

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE
AP Science Reporter

NEW YORK (AP)—Like a splitting atom, the nation's scientists are divided over the issues of dangers from fall-out and bans on H-bomb tests.

Many are speaking out publicly, expressing opposing views. This may be puzzling to readers who wonder why they disagree, and who is right.

Here are some highlights of the scientific disagreements:

Q. What are the conflicting views?

A. One from prominent scientists is that the degree of fallout so far has not reached danger levels, and won't even if tests were continued at the same rate for 30 years.

Another, held by equally prominent men, is that some of the fallout might be unsafe already, or will become so with continued tests. Some fear the levels of fallout radiation considered safe for humans have been set too low. Others hold these limits were set ultra-conservatively.

They differ as to whether the risk to genes and human heredity is large or small. Whether, even if the risk actually is tiny, that this justifies our exposing any future children to harm, or whether this risk is justified to help prevent atomic attack that could wipe out the nation.

Q. How can there be differences of opinion on what the safe limits of fall-out exposure actually are?

A. For the simple reason that no one has an absolute answer to this question. Not enough is known, for example, about the actual effects of tiny doses of radiation on human genes.

Q. Could two scientists draw different conclusions or opinions from the same set of information.

A. Yes. The biologist, from his training and point of view, could see a different significance than a chemist.

Q. How can you tell when a scientist is right, or who is right about the hazards of fall-out?

A. He's right when he can prove his case to the satisfaction of all or most all fellow scientists. Sometimes he stands alone for years until he finds such support, or his theory or findings are confirmed by others.

Q. Are scientists expressing views about fall-out all speaking from the exact information and knowledge?

A. No. Some may have critical information not available to others, or attach different weight to some of the factors.

Q. Do scienists think fall-out and the H-bomb ban are proper issues for election year discussion?

A. One group said "we regret the injection into a political campaign of statements and conclusions which extend beyond the limits of existing scientific evidence. Such scientific matters can only be evaluated by calm deliberations."

But other well-known scientists say the H-bomb problem "is one that demands the widest public attention and informed discussion."

Guidance Clinic Assists Troubled Youths

The biggest break for 8-year-old Richard S. came when his parents admitted they couldn't give him everything.

An only child, Richard had everything—toys, clothes, bicycle. He was an only grandchild, too, and received presents and adoration because of it. But he had no friends and he wasn't happy.

The trouble was, Richard was in the spotlight too much of the time. He wore himself out trying to please everybody.

He was confused because Daddy wanted him to be "a little man," but Mom wanted him as her "little baby."

Richard just had too many roles adults wanted him to fill. As a result, he plain gave up trying to please anyone.

His elementary homeroom teacher found Richard's studies slipping sadly. He was unfriendly with his playmates, she told the worried parents at a conference.

Richard's parents confessed they, too, had lost control over the boy. He was moody, unfriendly, prone to sudden crying fits.

The teacher suggested the Oakland Child Guidance Clinic, a United Fund agency, 113 Franklin Blvd., where nearly 350 children distrubed as Richard were treated last year.

Social workers discovered the source of Richard's problem watching him play. There followed conferences with the parents and a period of treatment for the boy.

Now home life is happy again and Richard is doing better than average in school. His story is typical.

The treatment cost the parents nothing. It was provided by state and county funds and support by the Pontiac Area United Fund.

Next year, the UF will provide $5,500 out of the clinic's $66,000 budget.

The clinic is supervised by the State Department of Mental Health, but is organized locally under a board of directors headed by Dr. Robert J. Mason, of Birmingham.

Director and Chief Psychiatric Social worker is Mrs. Madeleine Half, who has a staff of two clinical psychologists, and three full-time and one part-time psychiatric social workers.

A Birmingham branch is directed by Mrs. Oliva Thomas and supported by the Birmingham Junior League.

A PICTURE OF THE PROBLEM — A young patient of the Oakland Child Guidance Clinic draws a picture while psychiatric social worker Mrs. Philip Lifton observes. The girl's drawing and her explanation of it may provide some clue to the cause of her emotional problems. With children who have not yet developed enough language skills to explain their troubles clinic workers try to communicate through various play activities. The Clinic is one of 54 community service agencies which draws support from the Pontiac Area United Fund drive now under way.

Bell, Union OK New Contract

$2.50 to $5 Increase, Holiday on Good Friday Part of Terms

DETROIT (AP) — Michigan Bell Telephone Co. and the Communications Workers of America announced today a new contract.

The settlement provides a general weekly wage increase of from $2.50 to $5; Good Friday as an added holiday, and the reclassification upward of 23 communities to provide higher base wage rates.

Negotiators had been in almost continuous session since the expiration of the old pact at midnight last Monday.

The CWA represents 19,650 telephone operators, plant employes and accounting department workers in Bell installations across Michigan.

$7 MILLION JUMP

Thomas S. Nurnberger, assistant vice president of Michigan Bell, said as a result of the recent round of wage agreements, including the CWA, "our cost of doing business increased $7,240,000 a year."

Nurnberger did not estimate the worth of the CWA package alone. Neither did the union.

A company spokesman said weekly average pay rates for CWA workers range from $55.50 to $108.50.

Nurnberger said he does not know if the company will seek a rate increase as a result of the wage settlement. He added:

"In the long run, rates have to cover all the costs of providing service."

Woman Bar Owner Killed, Man Jailed

CHICAGO (INS) — Chicago Police scheduled an inquest today into the bludgeon death of the ex-wife of a wealthy Detroit gambler.

A 35-year-old truck driver, Clyde Castle, was charged with first-degree murder after admitting he beat and robbed Mrs. Mary Abess, 40, when she "wouldn't lend me some money." He was arrested last night.

Mrs. Abess' body was found Thursday in her station wagon. She operated a tavern since her divorce from Ahmed "Bill" Abess, 55, of Dearborn, last year.

Castle was scratched and had a black eye when picked up. Police said bloody clothing and the dead woman's suitcase were found in Castle's car.

Estranged Husband Kills 1, Wounds 4

CHICAGO (AP)—One woman was killed and four other persons were wounded early today when police said — a 40-year-old man invaded a suburban Tinley Park home and shot his estranged wife, her daughter and her parents and a male roomer.

Police held Woodrow Blaylock, a steel mill oiler in connection with the shootings, which they said, apparently resulted from a family dispute. He was not immediately charged.

Mrs. Florence Anderson, 60, Blaylock's mother-in-law, was killed. Seriously wounded was Blaylock's estranged wife Shirley, 36, and her father Hilding Anderson, 64.

Shirley's daughter by a previous marriage, Judy Roe, 16, and Fred Erickson, 64, a roomer at the Anderson's home, suffered minor wounds but were not hospitalized. Blaylock's 2-year old son Robert was not injured in the gunplay.

Staid England's Sex Revelations Quite Amazing

LONDON (AP)—A British "Kinsey Report" today estimated that 25 per cent of the unmarried women in the United Kingdom have had sexual relations.

Among married women contacted in the survey, 40 per cent admitted they had premarital sexual intercourse.

Dr. Eustace Chesser and a team of assistants compiled the report from questionnaires answered by 6,251 British women.

Chesser reported:

Most girls in this country have their first sexual experience between the ages of 18 and 20.

Woman Shot by Mate Leaves 5 Orphans

DETROIT (INS)—Detroit Police today listed the deaths of a man and wife as "murder-suicide," leaving five orphans, ranging in age from 5 to 20.

Mrs. Ruth Walker, 44, of Detroit, died in Receiving Hospital yesterday from wounds inflicted by her husband, 58-year-old Arthur, Oct. 21.

Gold Coast Key to Rags or Riches for Ike in Florida

MIAMI (INS) — A 60-mile strip of land, dubbed the "Gold Coast" because of its rich tourist trade, very likely holds the key to the political fortunes of Adlai Stevenson and President Eisenhower in Florida.

The strip, from the Palm Beaches south to Miami is the home of about one-third of Florida's voters. It is this area that is expected to decide whether Eisenhower or Stevenson gets Florida's 10 electoral votes.

The Gold Coast is made up of three counties—Dade, Broward and Palm Beach, running south to north. Of the three, Dade (Miami), with 328,027 voters, is the largest and most unpredictable.

Eisenhower is given a definite edge in Palm Beach and Broward, but this could be more than offset in populous Dade. Vest-pocket polls conducted in Dade, however, indicate the President has a large following in Miami, which is bulging with transplanted Yankees.

DADE OR DIE

Political pundits contend if Eisenhower can build up a reasonable lead in fast-reporting Dade, he can rest easily election night while the balance of the state is counted. If Stevenson scores heavily enough in Dade to offset Broward and Palm Beach, his followers can strike up the band.

The area is crucial because the two parties have fought to a standoff in dividing the rest of the state.

Eisenhower is expected to run strong in the west coast region of Sarasota, Tampa and St. Petersburg and in Central Florida around Orlando.

Stevenson forces are counting on hardy support from the populous Jacksonville region and the so-called "Cracker Belt" in the northwest section of the state bordering the Georgia line.

There can be no question Stevenson and Kefauver are better known personally to Florida voters. Between them they shook thousands of outstretched hands during their blistering primary battle and in post-convention campaigning.

Eisenhower will be in Florida today for two brief appearances, one at Miami and the other at Jacksonville.

COLLINS SHY

Florida Gov. Leroy Collins, who is supporting Stevenson but doing virtually no active campaigning, said in advance of Eisenhower's visit he did not think the "propeller stops" the President is making "will change the political situation here."

Collins has predicted a "close" victory for Stevenson in Florida. He has made it clear he fully supports Stevenson but says he will not "coerce" or tell anyone how to vote.

Political dopesters agree with Collins the race will be nip and tuck, but few will go out on a limb in either direction. Florida thus is earning for itself the label of the most doubtful state in the South.

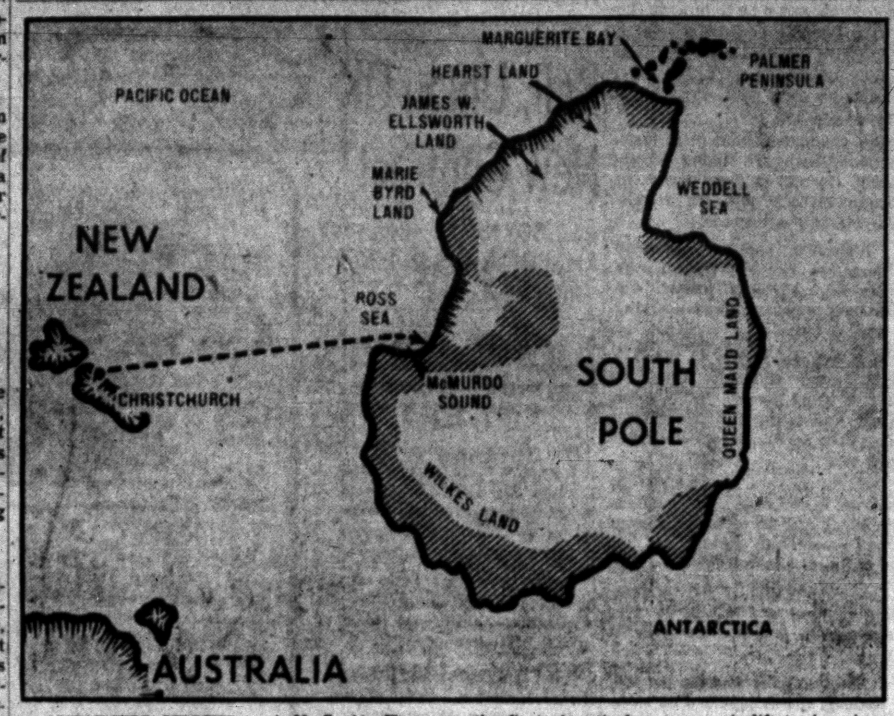
The Republicans have chalked up a 94,000-vote gain this year according to complete but unofficial registration figures. This sets the totals at 1,384,448 Democrats and 238,797 Republicans. However, many Republicans register as Democrats in order to have a voice in local and state governments which are controlled by Democrats.

In 1952 Eisenhower carried the state by a 99,086-vote margin over Stevenson. The final count was Eisenhower 544,036; Stevenson 444,950.



ANTARCTIC AIRLIFT — A U. S. Air Force C-124 Globemaster transport plane, carrying almost 14 tons of cargo, arrived safely after a flight (see Newsmap) from Christchurch, New Zealand, to McMurdo sound, Antarctica, thereby initiating the first gigantic long-range air lift to American bases on the Antarctic continent. The capability of the large transports to fly men and supplies to Antarctica, long before ships can get through, doubles the season of full activity there.

Patron Gets Peeved, Plugs Pinball Machine

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Carl Morris, 30, was arrested because he put lead "slugs" into a pinball machine. He said he pumped eight bullets from a .22 caliber target pistol into the machine because "it just won't pay off."

Morris said he "just got mad" after losing about $100 in four weeks to the machine. "I couldn't win on it. It just won't pay off," Morris charged. Said the wife of the cafe operator: "It's not supposed to pay off. It's for amusement only."

Diamond Head Open to Hawaiian Visitors

HONOLULU—Tourists to Honolulu may now get permission to enter Diamond Head, its world-famed landmark. The entrance is through a tunnel, and there are good roads inside. The inactive crater is used as a firing range. The Hawaii National Guard has jurisdiction over it.

Legend has it that Diamond Head was the home of Pele, the Hawaiian fire goddess. The natives called it Leahi, which means "Place of Fire."

It was christened Diamond Head early in the 19th Century when British sailors picked up there what they thought were diamonds; actually they were crystals, which the Hawaiians called "Pele's tears."

Bugs in the Cooler

MEMPHIS (AP) — When C. B. Thrasher's air conditioner went on the blink he called a repairman to "come get the bugs" out of it. The "bug" was a half-grown opossum which had built a cozy nest in the window-type cooler.

Used Jungle Tactics

OMAHA (AP) — A jeep-load of police crashed through a Missouri River willow jungle into a clearing where an alleged dice game was in progress. What happened next, said morals squad Sgt. Walter Wilson, "was better than a Hollywood comedy." "Everybody was runing and so were we," he related. "We would grab a couple, handcuff them to a big willow and start running again. When I stopped for breath and looked back, there were guys on trees all over the place. When the paddy wagon came we had a heck of a time finding the right keys to get them unhooked.

A WITCH ACROSS THE MOON

Summer has gone and fall is here. Legends show that most people in olden days believed that this was the time of year when witches flew about on their broomsticks.

The evening skies are often dark and stormy, and it is not difficult to imagine that a dark cloud scudding across the moon is a witch in her pointed hat and flowing cape.

For our Halloween season, here is a witch to fly over the rising moon. Use your crayons to make the witch a solid black, so her silhouette will show up against the bright yellow moon and the blue-gray sky. Fill in the moon's features with a dark orange color. Then paste the picture down on cardboard and cut out the two parts carefully around the heavy outline.

Youth Program to Get Out Vote

Campaign Geared to Make People 'Register, Inform Selves, Vote'

NEW YORK (INS)—Millions of teen-agers throughout the nation have been mobilized to help in the effort to get out a record vote on election day, Nov. 6.

The American Heritage Foundation, sponsors of the program, said today that the teen-agers will distribute literature on voting in their communities. The youngsters will travel by foot and bicycle.

They will also do baby-sitting chores so their neighbors can go to the polls.

John C. Cornelius, President of the Foundation, said that among organizations taking part in the program are the Girl Scouts of the U.S.A., Camp Fire Girls of the U.S.A., Boys' Clubs of America, Future Homemakers of America and Future Farmers of America.

The program in which the teenagers are participating is the national, non-partisan, "Register, Inform Yourself and Vote" campaign.

The youths and girls are being given careful instruction, Cornelius said, in baby sitting techniques.

The Girl Scouts are planning pet centers, where the family dog or cat can stay while the owner is casting a ballot.

The Future Homemakers will serve coffee and doughnuts near polling places and the Future Farmers will help local grange organizations operate voting car pools.

Hal Boyle Says:

White Collar Working Group Expanding

NEW YORK (AP)—Some things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail — or listen to election speeches:

That America's white collar class is getting bigger. Despite the spread of automation in business, the number of office workers has risen from 1,700,000 in 1910 to about 9 million in 1956.

That the country's parakeet population has increased even faster. These feathered pets have multiplied from a mere 1,300,000 five years ago to more than 14 million.

That U.S. business and government officials, who seem to have a passion for marking everybody in on their correspondence, use 2½ million pounds of carbon paper a month.

That the average paper clip, when opened, is about 4½ inches long. Don't just take my word for this. Unwind a paper clip yourself and measure it. But do it on company time.

That probably a million Americans have diabetes but don't yet know it.

That Dr. Clyde Crobaugh, University of Tennessee business professor, has compiled a book listing 1,156 "dirty name-calling words for nice people who want to cuss in a hurry." Might make a wonderful Christmas present for your boss!

That some doctors — and probably all ranchers — believe you'd get fewer colds if you ate beef three times a day. . . by golly, come to think of it, you don't hear a cow sneeze every day, do you?

That Paul McCobb, noted interior designer, says living rooms cluttered with too much furniture often lead to marital claustrophobia. To keep your husband, lady, throw away that end table he's always tripping over.

That we clean-minded Americans use an average of 24½ pounds of soap a person each year.

That songbird Gogi Grant who made a hit recording of "The Wayward Wind" doesn't read music, never sang in a choir, didn't want to get into show business—and her name isn't really Gogi. It's Audrey.

That if you can't locate your ice bag in an emergency you can improvise one by filling a toy balloon with cracked ice.

That only 70 years ago the public was awed when a lady horse named Miss Woodford became the first American thoroughbred to rack up lifetime earnings of $100,000. Now there are more than 25 races a year in which a horse can win that much in a single afternoon.

That Gen. Douglas MacArthur once said he enjoyed doing crossword puzzles because they "take my mind off politics, the Far East, and sex."

That Michael Vapsaz of Worcester, Mass., who is only 2½, can tell any modern make of automobile on sight. He also speaks German.

That a $100 gold and diamond ball point pen is now on the market, . . and its fully guaranteed to write as well as the $1.95 model.

That animals, as well as people, suffer from gout. But no scientist yet has proved that flat feet are an occupational disease with police dogs.

That France, in a new drive for U.S. tourist trade, is now building roadside motels—with restaurants that stock catsup as well as cognac.

That it was actor Paul Coats who observed, "The human race has been able to improve everything but people."

Estes Depicts Ike as Failure

Kefauver Claims That President Fronts for Richard Nixon

FINDLAY, Ohio (AP) — Sen. Estes Kefauver today described President Eisenhower as a failure, a "willing captive" lacking in moral courage, and a "front man for Richard Nixon."

The Democratic vice-presidential nominee, swinging into his final drive for the crucial electoral votes of a bloc of populous Midwestern and Northeastern states, threw some of the harshest language of his campaign at Eisenhower and Vice President Nixon.

Kefauver's speech was prepared for a rally here. He said Eisenhower "has failed utterly, abjectly, miserably, to do what he professed to set out to do."

After promising to advance the cause of good government, Kefauver said, Eisenhower "gave us an administration blotched and smeared with corruption among high government officials . . . dominated by big business and the narrowest of special interests."

He said that Eisenhower became "an easy and willing captive" of those whom the Democratic candidate described as the reactionaries in the Republican party.

"He has exchanged a place of honor in history for a secondary role in politics," Kefauver said, "the role of a front man for Richard Nixon."

Referring to a statement in Robert Donovan's book on the Eisenhower administration that the President at one time considered the possibility of setting up a third party, Kefauver said:

"It is . . . sad that he has lacked the moral courage to follow what he has said are the dictates of his heart and his conscience. He should have denounced the Old Guard and the reactionaries in his own party publicly, as he has done privately. He should have renounced a party which accepts him as a candidate but not as a leader."

What Do We Want From Schools?

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

Once in my presence a noted professor of psychiatry made this meaty observation: "The reason we so seldom get what we want is that we so seldom know we want it."

What do we parents want from our children's schools?

I think we don't know—or we'd have it.

The Great Books Foundation has set out to help us know. It has launched a new discussion program for parents called Great Issues in Education.

Suggesting that our conflicts over teaching methods, federal aid and other problems are really differences of fundamental views on the purpose of education, the program uses key question:

"What do you send your child to school to get?"—and offers us a variety of answers from which we can pick the one that reflects our own thinking.

For example, Aristotle and Dr. Wilbur A. Yauch of Northern Illinois State Teachers College think citizenship is the aim of schooling. They think that education's purpose is molding a child to suit the government he lives under.

But as a parent who recalls what governments have done to Jesus, Joan of Arc and the pilgrim fathers, I agree with Bertrand Russell who thinks that the political control of education is denial of our right to think individually.

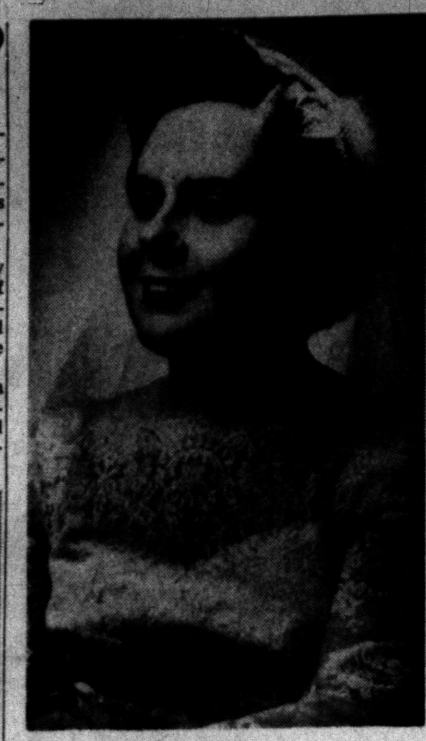
Should education's aim be the child's vocational training—the development of marketable skills he can be sure of selling at a profit?

Lots of people think so. Others agree with Bernard Iddings Bell who defines education as the development of ethical discrimination.

How do you feel about John Dewey's "progressive" idea that children learn something only by directly experiencing it? Does this idea make for standardzed education as its critics say?

Are those little visits to dairy farms so dear to the hearts of "progressive" teachers just mass-produced "experience" as artificial and sterile as a pink sugar rose on a baker's cake?

The Great Issues in Education program is a great chance for parents who want to burst out of old thinking on this all-important matter.



MRS. WILLARD COWGILL

Harriet A. Henderson and Willard Cowgill were married Saturday. She is the daughter of James O. Henderson of Drayton Plains. Willard, of Seward street, is the son of Mrs. Jenny Cowgill of Lookout drive and Jess Cowgill of Detroit.

200 Guests at Wedding of Harriet A. Henderson

Two hundred guests attended the Saturday evening wedding of Harriet A. Henderson and Willard Cowgill. Dr. H. H. Savage of First Baptist Church performed the 6 o'clock service.

Harriet, the daughter of James O. Henderson of Drayton Plains, chose a gown of Chantilly lace with a Sabrina neckline and long tapered sleeves. The front of the floor-length skirt was fashioned with rows of lace and pleated tulle.

A headpiece of pearls and lace secured her fingertip veil of silk illusion. The bridal bouquet was composed of white baby chrysanthemums and white roses in a cascade arrangement.

TWO FLOWER GIRLS

Linda Susan Henderson of Louisville, Ky., niece of the bride, and Sally Anne Craig were flower girls. They wore white dresses and carried baskets of yellow roses and yellow baby chrysanthemums.

Willard, the son of Mrs. Jenny Cowgill of Lookout drive and Jess Cowgill of Detroit had his brother-in-law, Ernest Craig, as best man, Richard A. Henderson of Louisville, Ky., served as an attendant, and ushers were Robert DeBarr, brother-in-law of the bride; Jack Kudray, Robert Grant and Carroll Kenny.

Following the reception, held in the CAI building in Waterford, the bride changed to a light brown jersey knit dress with black accessories and the white rose corsage from her bridal bouquet.

The poised, smartly-dressed man at the left of course. You can tell at a glance . . . and that's why the Ninety-Percent Test is so important. Bride Wants to Withdraw Some Bids

Hopes to Cut Down the Guest List for Delayed Wedding

By EMILY POST

"My wedding was postponed on account of illness. The engraved invitations had already been mailed but we had cards printed announcing the postponement. It is almost six months since then and I am planning to be married in six weeks.

"Are we obliged to ask everyone who was on the first list? Because my illness has caused considerable expense to my family, I would like to cut the wedding list in half as I won't want to put them through any unnecessary expense.

"My mother thinks we will have to go through with the original plans in order to avoid hurt feelings. Will you please advise me on this matter."

Answer: I agree with your mother. You can cut your expenses without cutting the list of guests. Everyone will understand a simple wedding after the expense of such an illness.

"Dear Mrs. Post: The other evening my wife and I and another couple were dining in a restaurant. As we got up to leave, a young woman who was dining alone at the next table also got up to leave.

"She was struggling to get into her coat and so the other man with us stepped forward to help her. Later on my wife mentioned this to me and said that she thought he was wrong to do this. I said I thought it was a perfectly proper thing for him to do. Will you please give us your decision?"

Answer: The fact that you say she was "struggling" excuses his action and I see nothing wrong with it.

"Dear Mrs. Post: When two women and a man are seated together on the back seat of a taxi, do the women sit on either end and the man between them, or do the women sit together and the man on the other end?"

Answer: The women should sit together and the man on the end, so that he doesn't have to climb over one.

Filling Made With Fruit Pudding

Mrs. Skarritt Uses Meringue Frosting, Browns Quickly

By JANET ODELL

Today we have one of the most luscious-sounding desserts we've ever received. And it's so easy to make. Mrs. Forest Skaritt of Bogie Lake is today's cook.

Living on a farm keeps Mrs. Skarritt busy. She does find time for the Teeple Lake Extension group and for the Elizabeth Asbury group of her church. For favorite leisure time activities she lists reading and gardening.

FRUIT FILLED CAKE
By Mrs. Forest Skarritt

1 recipe yellow cake
1 package lemon pudding
1 can (No. 2) fruit cocktail
1 cup shredded coconut
4 eggs, separated
2 tablespoons lemon juice

Make the cake in two nine-inch layers. Remove from pans and let cool. Make the lemon pudding according to package directions, using only 1½ cups liquid. Add 2-4 egg yolks and the lemon juice before cooking.

When pudding is cool, fold in fruit cocktail which has been thoroughly drained. Spread between the two layers of cake.

Add ½ cup sugar to egg white. Beat until stiff. Spread on cake, covering it completely. Press coconut into the meringue. Bake 3-4 minutes in a 400-degree oven. Serves 8-10.

Hubby's Excuse Inspires Business

By ANNE HEYWOOD

The gag about the husband who forgets to bring his wife a present on their wedding anniversary is tired and worn-out, but a smart gal named Mary made really productive use of it.

In fact, she has a flourishing home business today as a result of it!

Mary was an energetic and successful career girl in New York. When she married Ed and settled in a small Missouri town, plenty of people thought the marriage would never last.

"There won't be any outlet for her energies," they said. "She'll hate being so far from the city and any real activity."

But they were wrong. Mary created her own activity.

GOOD HOMEMAKER

She was an energetic housekeeper, with great skill at decorating and making slipcovers and doing all kinds of things.

When the children started going to school, she began to find time on her hands.

She looked around for some kind of job, but her town was 25 miles away from the city—too far to commute for a part-time job.

"Then," Mary told me, "came our wedding anniversary and Ed forgot it, I felt bad, but we talked it over.

"Among other things, he had a sort of excuse because there isn't a single florist nearby. Our town had always been considered too small for a flower shop.

KEPT THINKING

"Well, we made up and went out to a dinner party, but I kept thinking about the flower shop business.

"I realized that there were lots of men in town who would like a standing order for flowers, not just for anniversaries but for many occasions.

"I realized there were women, too, who would like to be able to buy flowers.

"I went to the city and established contacts in the flower markets, and then I went into business, just from our own home.

"I sent little cards, announcing that I would order flowers at reasonable rates to be delivered for special occasions.

"By now," she concluded, "our town is really flower-conscious. I'm about to open a small shop, stocking flowers here instead of being a middleman for the city markets. It'll be a small shop, but I'm sure it will succeed."

Teenage Girl Speaks Up on Subject of Strictness

She Thinks Parents Should Exercise More Control Over Youngsters

By RUTH MILLETT

"If I were the mother of a teenage girl I'd make her be home at a certain hour. I'd insist that she bring her friends over to the house and I'd try to know them as well as I could. I'd make sure there were chaperons at all of the parties she went to."

* * *

Who's talking? A high school teacher who doesn't have any children of her own? Grandma — who reared her children in an easier time? A childless wife who thinks she could do a better job of child rearing than most parents seem able to do?

Nope. It is none of those. It is a 16-year-old girl, interviewed for the Ladies Home Journal.

Those are the words of a teenager who is being given more freedom by her parents than she thinks is safe, even more freedom than she would give her own daughter.

The article, "I Wish My Parents Would Be More Strict," which is in the October issue of the Journal, should be an eye-opener for parents who belong to the "you have to let them do what everyone else is doing" school of thought.

STILL ASK QUESTIONS

It should also give comfort to so-called "old-fashioned" parents. They're the ones who still ask questions and insist on knowing their children's friends.

They refuse to be wheedled into saying "Yes" when they know they shouldn't, who set definite hours when a teenager is to be home and instruct him to telephone if he changes his plans.

It may be possible that in trying to be understanding, reasonable and cooperative, we parents have become so wishy-washy, the kids, themselves, are beginning to feel a need for more adult guidance and supervision. This article indicates it.

Extension Group Meets at Home of Mrs. Miller

Mrs. William Miller of Elizabeth Lake road was hostess to Inter-Lakes Extension Group for the October meeting Friday.

A Christmas work shop lesson was given by the leaders Mrs. Robert Scharf and Mrs. Joe Trietsch. Many new ideas and patterns for unusual gifts were featured. An interesting display table showed articles completed by the leaders.

Mrs Donald Johns, Mrs. Mason Rich and Mrs. John McConnel were welcomed as new members by Mrs. William Hurlburt, chairman. Mrs. Charles Hoffman was a guest at the meeting.

Mrs. Carl Weber will entertain the group in November at her home on Dover road. "Favorite Christmas Centerpieces" will be the roll call theme for the meeting.

Banish Small Fears That Cloud Your Life

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

It is important to clear our spiritual atmosphere of the mists of negative emotions. One way to do this is to conquer the small fears which haunt all humans. We read a great deal today about the effect of fear and other destructive emotions on health.

Of course intelligent fear has its value. This brand of being afraid causes people to save for the future, sends thousands of young folks to college in order to be prepared, forces people to stick to their health routines, makes them drive more carefully, causes them to be more considerate in their human relationships and makes women take their figure molding exercises seriously.

But, we are apt to be victimized by dozens of small, petty fears which run through our daily lives like a dull streak in an otherwise brilliant design. Perhaps you worry about all kinds of things which will never happen.

Maybe you are afraid to meet the new in-laws, afraid that people will not like you, or do not have the courage to try new activities and develop new interests. You may be afraid to fly, to try a new recipe, to learn to swim or play the piano, to make your first speech at a club meeting, to try a new hairdo, etc.

Maybe you are timid, sensitive and self-conscious. You may worry about business in a useless and destructive way, worry constantly about your children's safety or dread old age.

BRAKES ON LIVING

Even small demonstrations of daily fear add up to a big total and put the brakes on living. They dim the personality and rob life of its adventure. They put lines on your face and damage your health.

We cannot hope to change the picture overnight. We will have to be content with little triumphs at first. Every time we forget, even for a short time, some nagging fear about which we can do nothing we have won a small battle.

Every time we meet and conquer some situation which has caused us to be afraid we have progressed on the road to emotional and mental health.

Sometimes even such a seemingly trivial victory as learning to swim, of winning over fear of water, will boost self-confidence tremendously. I often have seen this happen in swimming classes.

It would add so much happiness and improve health so magically if we would begin today the habit of positive and courageous thinking in regard to the little, as well as the large, problems of our daily lives.

If you would like my free leaflet No. 59, "How to Overcome Loneliness and Self - Consciousness," send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for it to Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

LOOK TO YOUR LEGS, LADY—YOU CAN IMPROVE THEM

Today our underpinnings are an important part of our figure ensemble, whether fashion decrees that skirt lengths be long or short. This is true because of swimsuits and play clothes which seem to become more and more revealing regardless of other trends in style.

Actually the percentage of truly beautiful legs is small, but most legs can be improved. The contour of the leg is dictated by its muscles and fatty deposits. We cannot change bone structure. Legs which are too large or too thin can be greatly improved by special exercises designed to correct these defects.

No specific measurements can be given concerning the leg because your general build enters into the picture. However, as a guide to help judge yourself, the lovely leg measures about five inches less at the ankle than it does at the calf.

If your legs are too thin you should take exercises to build up the calf muscles. You also should gain weight if you are underweight.

If the muscles are too large do not take exercises which contract them, only those which stretch. Of course you should lose weight if you are overweight. today I would like to give you a few exercises for the legs.

It's unfortunate if fear prevents you from trying new activities such as making that first speech at a club meeting.

FOR LARGER CALVES

Lower left heel to the floor and continue. After a while turn the other side toward the wall and rise on the right toe. This exercise should be done from 50 to 100 times a day. You do not have to do the exercise this many times at one session.

1. Sit on the floor with your legs stretched out on the floor in front of you, knees straight. Reach forward and grasp your toes with each hand. Pull your toes back toward your body. Hold for a few moments. Relax and continue.

2. Stand in a doorway with one hand on each side of the door frame. Raise your toes upward as high as you can, feeling the pull on your back leg muscles. Hold for a few moments. Lower toes and continue.

If you would like to have my leaflet which gives you exercises for the most usual leg defects send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 13 to Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

Sororities Hold Initiation, Halloween Party

An informal initiation and Halloween party was held at Westacres clubhouse by members of Alpha Alpha and Beta Mu Chapters of Epsilon Sigma Alpha sorority.

Awarded prizes for unusual costumes at the recent meeting were Mrs. Frank Oosterhop, Stephanie Linabury and Mrs. Fred Mueller. Karen Newton and Virginia Fiath redeived honorable mention.

Mrs. Don Murphy was chairman of the social hour assisted by Mrs. Edgar Plympton, Mrs. Oosterhof and Mrs. Ben Sweeney.

Gloves Wear Better if Dipped in Starch

To keep fabric gloves fresh and new looking, a starch institute recommends dipping gloves in a mild soultion of starch.

This will not only give them a "fabric finish," but they will also wear much better because the plastic starch coats the fibers of the thread protecting it. Use one part of starch to six parts of water, unless more stiffness is desired.

Pot-O-Gold Fun May Bring You Check for $400

If you consider $400 satisfactory compensation for a few minutes spent having a good time, you have now found a suitable pastime. The Pot-O-Gold contestant who submits the correct entry will receive that amount, and more if he's a subscriber. (It's worth at least $100, even if a winner is found for last week's puzzle.) Rules and clues listed below should help you in finding the right answers and assuring a qualified entry. Your time is wasted if a breach of rules disqualifies you.

The puzzle consists of (1) a number of circles which contain a few scrambled letters, and (2) a corresponding list of clues to these words printed below. The object is to arrange each group of circled letters into a word that best fits its clue. The word which you select for Circle No. 1, then would be the one which you would print in the space to the right of (1) below.

You'll notice that some circles contain $ signs in pots of gold. You may use such a symbol as any letter you wish. However, it and all letters in that circle must be used. The $ sign, of course, can represent ANY letter in the word.

Do the same in all the other circles. Study the clues carefully and arrange all the letters into words that you believe best conforms to these clues. Use your $ signs to help you spell out the right words.

H-Bomb Replacing Buffer States?

WASHINGTON (INS) — A high Western diplomat said today Moscow might risk letting Hungary become independent or even neutral on a gamble that buffer states are unimportant in a nuclear age.

He said it is quite possible that the Kremlin has downgraded the importance of the satellites as cushions between the U.S.S.R. and Western Europe.

This, he believes, is the principal motive behind the Kremlin's campaign to grant the puppet states more freedom of action.

He said, however, that the real test will come when the revolt in Hungary is ended and the situation is stabilized.

If Moscow accepts a strongly-independent Hungarian regime, he said, it would mean that Russia would rely on the deterrent power of its hydrogen bombs to replace the zone of buffer states.

The satellites in Eastern Europe were originally set up to protect Russia from any Western offensive. Only after control was established over them, did Stalin begin consolidating his empire in Eastern Europe.

Knowing that the Stalin-type measues had angered the satellite peoples, the new leaders in the Kremlin decided to win popular support for the Communist regimes by loosening their grip on the puppet states.

MOSCOW MAY GAMBLE

Although the Poles and Hungarians seized the reins and are striving for more freedom than the Kremlin had planned to grant, there still remains a possibility that Moscow will continue its gamble, the diplomat remarked.

American officals are watching for evidence to support this theory. In the meantime, they continued today to draft, with the aid of Britain and France, an appeal to the United Nations to censure the use of Soviet force in the Hungarian rebellion.

But the Western Big Three want to win the support of as many other nations as possible, including some of the Asian neutrals.

The main idea is to bring the weight of world public opinion to bear on Russia and to smash the image of the Soviets as the major "peace lovers" of the world.

Diplomatic reports said the use of Soviet tanks and guns against unarmed Hungarians has already caused some Asian neutrals to doubt Soviet slogans about "peaceful co-existence."

Meanwhile, Rep. James T. Patterson (R) Conn., proposed that U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold go to Hungary immediately "to act as mediator in the great controversy there."

He said Hammarskjold's mission should be "quite similar" to the one he undertook in the Middle East recently when he sought to achieve peace between Israel and the Arabs.

In another comment on iron curtain developments, Senate Foreign Relations Chairman Walter F. George (D) Ga., said it is too early to determine the real significance of events in Hungary and Poland.

George, who gave up his Senate seat to become President Eisenhower's Ambassador to the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, reported to the chief executive yesterday on his survey mission.

George said the satellite revolts were discussed "incidentally." He added that "We must put the pieces together first" before the U. S. can chart its course in Eastern European affairs.

THE BLONDE DIED DANCING

by KELLEY ROOS

CHAPTER 1

I was in a hurry. There are things worse than death. This was one of those things, and it wasn't going to happen to me. Gently, but firmly, I nudged a lovely old lady out of my way and walked faster.

When Paul's line had been busy, I hadn't waited to call again. I had wrapped my inefficient jet black hair up in a scarf, I had hustled into some lipstick, tightened my nylons, slipped into my coat and set out for Paul's. At the moment Paul was the most important man in my life.

The newsdealer at the corner of Lexington and Sixtieth said, "Hello, Mrs. Barton. How is Mr. Barton?"

"Mr. Barton!" I snorted. "In France you can shoot your husband for less and get national sympathy. But here in America?" I shook my head.

I crossed Fifty-ninth, turned west on Fifty-eighth, and I was at Paul's. A new girl sat at the reception desk.

"Where's Paul?" I said.

"Busy. Your name, please?"

"Connie Barton. Where's Paul?" Paul?"

"Do you have an appointment, Miss Barton?"

"Mrs. Barton.". To be completely frank about it, Mrs. Steve Barton. Like an utter innocent, I had married the man. "Where's Paul?"

Paul came mincing out of the booth section of the shop. He looked elegant and efficient in his white, high-collared frock. He had a wife and four children, but for professional reasons he played it chic, wan and very aesthetic during business hours. This beauty parlor supported the wife and four children.

"Mrs. Barton!" He was glad to see me. He was always glad to see me. I was a constant challenge to the artist in him. "Mrs. Barton, what can . . ."

"Have you an empty booth?"

"Yes . . . number five."

"Follow me," I said.

I sat down in front of the mirror. Paul stood behind me, looking at me in the mirror as I yanked the scarf off my head. He put his hands in my hair.

"Magnificent," he said. "Coal mist, ebony flame."

I said, "I want to be blonde Paul didn't speak.

"A blond, very blonde, as blonde as you can get," I said. "Make me a blonde."

"No." His lips were tight. "That, I cannot do to you."

"You have no choice. Do as I tell you or all New York will hear the truth about you. About your wife and four children . . ."

"Five now."

"I'll even tell about your playing football in high school, how you got an offer from Tulane . . . you'll be de-frocked, kicked out of your union, run out of town . . . you impostor, you!"

"Mrs. Barton . . ."

"Break out the platinum!"

"But tell me why! You of all people . . . a Darien debutante, a Connecticut College for Women woman . . ."

"Now don't you try to blackmail me!"

"But why? Why do you want to be a blonde?"

"It's a matter of strategy. I'm counter-attacking."

"Smile when you call him that."

Paul smiled and said, "Your husband is off the reservation?"

I nodded and said, "My husband is over the hill."

"And she . . . she is a blonde?"

"I've never seen her. But Steve is a loyal citizen. He wouldn't be so un-American as to spurn his wife for anything but a blonde."

"You might be wrong, Mrs. Barton, completely wrong about your husband."

I proved to Paul how right I was. For weeks now, since early in October, it had been happening. Every Wednesday Steve had dreamed up a reason to be away for the evening. He would come home humming tunes, looking horribly contented, as pleased with himself as all get out. It was ghastly. It was all I could do to pretend I was asleep. When he slid into bed beside me, it was only fear of the gallows that kept my hands from his throat.

The first Wednesday he said that his editor had asked him to take over for Jim Hall and cover some fights at the Garden. In the first edition at noon the next day I just happened to notice that Jim Hill had the boxing story byline after all. Steve mumbled something at me about a typographical error, but he never used the "must work" dodge again.

The next Wednesday he blithely informed me after dinner that he was going to see a scalp specialist about his loose dandruff and falling hair. When Steve's hair fell, he would fall with it, and his dandruff, if any was tight as a drum.

The excuses got lamer and lamer. He had a friend who wasn't feeling well enough to sit up with a sick friend, so Steve had to fill the breach. When he came home he wasn't smelling of rubbing alcohol. It was a scent I coudn't place, but you didn't buy it by the quart. That was the way it went. Each Wednesday there would be another, a more incredible excuse.

"Wednesday," Paul said. "I wonder why always Wednesday."

"It's her night off," I said. "That's obvious."

"Yes . . . and that's encouraging. He hasn't asked her to quit her job yet."

"Don't try to cheer me up."

"Sorry. On the other hand maybe she's married and her husband . . . well, for instance, maybe he swims at the Y.M.C.A. Wednesday nights. I do."

"You keep out of this."

It was probably my fault. I had let myself get dowdy on Wednesdays, dull and unprovocative. He had found someone younger and gayer, someone beautiful and glamorous with a more up-to-date bag of feminine tricks. He was bored with me. Five years, less just three days, was a long time to be married.

"I want to be as blonde as you can get," I told Paul.

But there were still moments when I thought I might be wrong, when I had reason to believe that I was still the girl for him. There was our anniversary party next Saturday, for instance. He was knocking himself out to make it a real celebration . . . dinner at Karl's, the theater, the Rosewood Room for supper, champagne and good music.

But he was probably doing that just to build character with me, to keep me happy as I moiled and toiled as his housekeeper. Finally, today, I had faced it. There was another woman. I would have to take steps.

"Mrs. Barton . . ."

"Listen, you . . . today's Wednesday. Time is short."

"All right, Mrs. Barton, all right."

One hour and twenty minutes later, my old set at the Wee Tokeneke Country club would have deplored me. My dear aunt and uncle who had raised me, not for this, would have disowned me. I wouldn't have been allowed near the Connecticut College for Wommen. I would have been run off the University of Bridgeport campus, too . . . by the nearest undergraduate into the nearest dormitory. I was that blonde.

"Well?" Paul asked tremulously, the plaintive, eager artist.

I inspected myself a little more in the mirror?. "Do me a new make-up, Paul. The eyebrows . . . a new mouth . . ."

He went to work.

"Well?" he asked.

"The mouth . . . make it more generous."

"It was already generous, Mrs. Barton."

"Make it more inviting then. A big hello. Give me more lower lip."

This time it was I who asked, "Well?"

"Mrs. Barton, coloring the hair, a new make-up does not make a blonde. There are other things."

I stood up, took a deep breath and walked a small circle around Paul.

He said, in a small voice, "Mrs. Barton, look . . ."

"Yes?" I murmured.

"Look, perhaps a bit to eat, then . . . well, I could give up swimming at the 'Y' tonight."

I thanked Paul from the bottom of my heart, but declined his kind offer. It was quite dark when I went back out into the world, a new woman, a blonde.

CHAPTER 2

I would have to hurry. Steve would already be home, wanting his dinner, impatient to get all dolled up and be on his Wednesday night way. But I took time to stop at the corner of Lexington and Fifty-ninth and do a little testing. Perhaps I had been deceiving myself. Maybe Paul hadn't been so overcome by me; maybe it was just pride in his own work.

* * *

I leaned one shoulder up against the fruit juice stand window and loitered. Two young intellectuals, male, approached. They were arguing violently. They saw me. They stopped solving the world's problems, they slowed down. After they passed me and got faced front again I heard one of them ask, "What were we saying?" I was gratified. An elderly delivery boy came along on a bicycle-cart. He was nearly maimed by a taxi. I was further gratified, but not yet satisfied. A little man, carrying his big wife's bundles, turned the corner. He almost stopped. She grasped his arm, marched him off. I heard what she said. She called me a hussy.

I was deeply gratified, completely satisfied. I went home.

It was only two rooms, bath and kitchenette over a Lexington avenue delicatessen, but to me it was the home I was trying to save, and I went there as fast as I could.

I went into the kitchen. Steve had already got himself something to eat. I went into the bedroom. His clothes were all laid out, including the tie I had given him last Christmas. Steve was in the shower.

I got out the negligee he had given me last Christmas. I put it on, spent a few minutes at my dressing table. I draped myself on the chaise longue, practicing slow smiles and eyelid lowering in a hand mirror. I tried a throaty laugh or two.

Then the bathroom door opened and Steve was standing there, almost naked. He saw me. He jumped back into the bathroom and slammed the door. He did a double-take with the door. It opened slightly once, slammed shut again. He was looking at me.

He ventured a step toward me. "Connie . . ."

"Darling . . ."

"Connie, what in God's name happened to you?"

"I've been to the beauty parlor."

"Did it explode with you in it?"

"Darling . . ."

"Connie, no! Oh, no!"

He came closer and peered into my face. I slow smiled him. I slipped him the lowered lid business. I put a cigarette between my half-parted lips. It fell out.

"Connie, why?" His voice rose. "Why in hell did you do this to yourself?"

I opened my mouth to speak, but I was trying for something too throaty, too husky. Nothing came out.

"No!" Steve shouted. "We won't discuss it now. I'm late for my appointment."

I got up and went into the living room. I heard him scrambling into his clothes. I fixed the lights, low but not too low. When he came in, I was leaning provocatively against the fireplace, one foot extended a little, my knee bent in the Dietrich manner. He stopped and stared at me.

I said, "Must you go out . . . must you really?"

He wavered. I was making time. I threw back my shoulders, lazily though, and tilted back my head. I lowered my lids another notch. I could hardly see him.

He said, "Yes, I really do have to go. I . . . I promised Al Finch."

"Promised him what?"

"His aunt's coming to town, his only aunt, and he's tied up. I have to meet her at Pennsylvania Station . . ."

"Darling." I swayed toward him. "Darling . . ."

"Connie, for God's sake . . ."

Then he was laughing so hard he couldn't speak. He choked, he doubled up. Then he staggered to the door and was gone.

I sat down . . . another Wednesday night and I was alone. I started for the phone to call Paul, demand my money back. But I by-passed the phone. There was still something I could do. I could follow Steve and learn the truth. I could find out what gorgeous, fascinating creature's eyes needed scratching out.

I gambled on the direction Steve might have taken, and I won. He was crossing Lexington at Bloomingdale's, headed for the downtown station of the IRT subway, when I caught sight of him. There were enough people on the platform to screen me from him until a train came in. I got in the car just behind his. watched him sit down. He was smiling; occasionally his lips would quiver in a chuckle.

At Fifty-first street an overdone, outlandish blonde of an uncertain age boarded the train and sat opposite Steve. He started laughing out loud, uncontrollably. Everybody in the car looked at him, then looked around to find the joke. Thwarted, they shook their heads and shrugged at one another. One man drew circles on his temple and pointed to Steve. His diagnosis received considerable approval.

Steve got off the train at Grand Central. I followed him up through the teeming depot, across Vanderbilt avenue, west along Forty-fourth street. It was quite a chore.. Steve was in a hurry, anxious to get where he was going. Bitterly I thought of the times when he came hurrying home to me, even on Wednesday nights.

He turned north on Madison and he was practically galloping. I was about ready to cave in when he ducked into a large office building on a corner. I reached the lobby just in time to see him board an elevator. He was its only passenger. Its doors closed; it started up. I watched the indicator; it was at the fourteenth floor that Steve got out.

I took a step toward another elevator, then hesitated. I had a moment of shattering misgivings. Why was I here? Just what did I intend to do? Confront the homewrecker, plead with her to return what was lawfully mine? No, I could never bring myself to do that. Then I remembered a thing or two . . . like the first time I met Steve Barton.

After college there was enough of Uncle Willie's money left for me to study journalism for a year at Columbia. That spring, growing a little worried about my finances, I started looking for a job. I ventured down to one of New York's largest if not most literate newspapers. But I never did get to see anyone important there. Because this fellow named Steve Barton was trying to make some time with the switchboard girl when I got there. He thought I should let him tell me about this newspaper dodge over a drink, maybe two.

Two weeks later he was still telling me, nightly.. He said it would take years for me to forget my education and become a passable reporter.. It was different with him.. He was only a high school man and the New York City High School had been so overcrowded that he hadn't learned anything really. He had a chance in this newspaper dodge.. He was unsullied by any high ideals of journalism . . . I didn't really listen to him much. I sat there nightly in that smoky bar and looked at him. I found myself enjoying that.

In June I was graduated with honors from my school of journalism. Steve got a raise and a promotion from police reporting to the sports department. We got married.

The elevator operator was asking me impatiently, "Going up or not?"

I stepped into the car. I had something to fight for.

"Fourteenth," I said emphatically.

"Boy, you really mean it, don't you, lady!"

Connie comes face to face with death tomorrow in Chapter 3 of "The Blonde Died Dancing."

HOW PLANE MET MISSILE — The Navy describes this action as a "million-to-one" shot. But it's what happened Thursday when test pilot Tom Attridge fired a burst from an F-11F supersonic jet's four 20 millimeter cannons while in a dive at 880 miles an hour over the Atlantic Ocean. The speeding plane caught up with its own bullets which crashed into its nose, forcing it to crash-land. Attridge suffered a broken leg and three fractured vertebrae in the freak accident.

The convention, which ends Wednesday, re-elected all incumbent officers Friday by acclamation, including President James Cross, Secretary-Treasurer Curtis Sims and 16 vice president.

The convention had a stormy beginning after three New York unionists and one of their wives charged Cross and three other officials invaded their hotel rooms and roughed them up in order to squelch opposition of Cross' continuing as president.

License Re-Examination Suggested

Crackdown on Careless Drivers Due

Continuing their investigation of driver license suspensions and revocations, members of the Chamber of Commerce Safety Committee yesterday heard Norman Van Riper, head of field license re-examination in Oakland, Wayne and Macomb Counties for the Secretary of State's Office.

Van Riper praised the Pontiac Police Department and Municipal Court for "high cooperation." He said both offices cooperated in suggesting names of undesirable drivers for license re-examination.

All courts throughout the state, he explained, are required by law to forward records of moving violation convictions to central files in Lansing.

Police agencies and even private citizens can inform the Secretary of State, he said, of drivers believed undesirable because of physical reasons or habitual carelessness.

He said the state's program of revoking or suspending licenses after conviction of two or more moving violations not only is aimed at removing careless drivers from the highways but also generally to improve driving conditions.

"Many drivers with revoked licenses are still operating automobiles, we know," he admitted, "but generally they drive very carefully to avoid being stopped by police."

Van Riper agreed that the committee's special interest in handicapped drivers was a problem being seriously considered by the state.

The committee has investigated recently the possibility of recommending stricter license examining for such drivers. The recommendation, if agreed on, would be made to the legislature.

Reporters Sigh Wistfully for the Glittering Past

Opera Openings Lose Glamorous Capers

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK (INS) — Tonight, when the New Yorker's minute-hand strikes the witching hour of 7:30 p. m., the annual gaudy and glittering transformation takes place on the corner of dark, narrow 39th street and wide, garish Broadway.

The Metropolitan Opera House, 73 years old and still perking, will once again come back to life after a spring and summer of behaving like a mausoleum.

The lights will go up, the glittering people will file through the glass doors in the red-plush rooms called "Sherry's" and music will swell magnificently, past the Diamond Horseshoe, through the dress circle, into the breathless depths of the peanut gallery.

One hundred reporters or more will turn out, looking conspicuous in their tired clothes. (Most female reporters have a "Met opening" dress, from which much of the sheen and trimming has been forcibly removed in past crushes).

They will be seeking frantically a glimmer of news — a spicy remark from a famous mouth, a glass of champagne spilled on a white mink wrap, a temperamental flare-up between a pair of socialites — something like that.

OLD TRADITIONS

This is not a sadistic streak in the press. It is, rather, a desire to uphold old and stirring traditions. For dozens of years, the opera opening was celebrated as a show-off affair, with the city's socialites posing in their best high hats and high jinks.

Only in the last few years has this traditional tone of pomp and silly circumstance been altered. With the entrance of one tall, thin, professorial personage named Rudolf Bing as manager in 1950, the Metropolitan openings have gradually become more and more refined.

Bing needed only to look down his straight and longish nose at the shenanigans of these cultural hams, and everybody began to blush and feel a little silly.

Sometime shortly thereafter, a large segment of the first night audience began listening to the opera.

Having covered opera openings in the cheery old days when a red-haired matron named Betty Henderson literally kicked her heels and put her nearly octogenarian leg on a bar table . . . when bon vivant bachelors lapped up champagne from their dates' opera pumps . . . when few people had ever heard of Mr. Bing or of the idea of actually listening to the opera on opening night . . . we can visualize what will happen.

MINKS, DIAMONDS

The "celebrities" still will show up in a steady stream of millions of dollars worth of minks and diamonds.

They will, of course, pose for as many pictures as the photographers want; and if the photographers don't want any, they will walk dazed and temporarily hurt to their boxes. (No number of hot words from the Met management can bake out the ham in first-nighters.)

Driver, at 96, Never Has Received Ticket

HACKETTSTOWN, N. J. (INS) —Clark John Staples, who at 96 is Warren County's oldest licensed driver, has never had an accident or received a ticket.

Staples, who started driving when he was 60, credits just plain common sense for his success in tafffic with the 1929 pickup truck he uses in his feed business.

"Accidents happen," he said, "because there's too much speed and not enough common sense."

The spry merchant, who can still toss a 100-pound feed bag on his shoulder, takes care of himself to stay in shape. Once in a while he'll take a glass of beer or a chew of tobacco. "But I know when to quit," he said.

Motorists Help Write Car Insurance Rates

Every Michigan motorist helps write his own auto insurance rate by his actions on the highway and his attitude toward insurance losses, J. W. Grant Jr. told the Pontiac Exchange Club yesterday at their noon luncheon.

Grant, speaking for the Michigan Insurance Information Service, said traffic accidents, accident severity and the cost of accidents all are increasing steadily in Michigan.

Break-in Nets $175

Merchandise worth about $175 was looted from a variety store at 161 Wessen St. Thursday night, Pontiac police said.

A rear window was broken to gain entry, they added.

A few rising theatrical ladies will wear hats bearing diamond television antennae, or slacks made of leopard skin. And a few young playboys will wear gold dinner jackets with matching shoes, no doubt.

Hope Hampton, the indefatigable infant of three generations, will wear a sinister frock of sequins called "The Black Cobra."

But no one will show off ad ridiculum. Everything will be close to decorous. The opera, "Norma," will be finely performed and the reporters covering the story will be either desperate, if they are eager young things in search of a front-page byline; or bored, if they are old at this business and quickly borable.

Don't mistake us. We are glad the Met is more refined and that there is now more culture than nonsense within those aged portals. It's just that, professionally, we get nostalgic for the days when a reporter assigned to an opening could say to his editor:

"Well, I'm off to the rat-race again."

And the editor, gleefully expectant, could reply:

"Well, all we can do is hope for the worst."

Bob Considine Says:

Heart Lab May Help Detect Danger Signals

NEW YORK (INS)—Two seemingly healthy friends of ours, Mrs. Frank Folsom and Mrs. John Reed Kilpatrick, died suddenly of heart attacks recently. Each had just prior to death undergone physical checkups which found them sound. So had President Eisenhower only a few days before his heart attack of September, 1955.

Medical science has been looking ceaselessly for a better method of diagnosing heart trouble than the observation of physical symptoms, the electrocardiograph, X-ray, stethoscope and fluoroscope. An answer may be the type of cardio-pulmonary laboratory to be dedicated tomorrow at Lebanon Hospital in the Bronx, in memory of John Carl Kriendler.

Kriendler, co-founder of New York's "21" Club, was a heart victim as a comparatively young man. His devoted family and friends formed the Jack Kriendler Memorial Fund. Some $30,000 from that fund set up the laboratory at Lebanon which Kriendler's lifelong friend and associate Charles A. Berns, will present. It is one of the first of its kind in this nation of 6,000 and more hospitals.

The Kriendler lab consists of three basic units: A 500-milliamp X-ray machine, a revolutionary X-ray camera which produces a movie-like effect of the movement of injected fluid through the heart, and a recording device to indicate pressures in the different chambers of the heart.

IODINE IN BLOOD

An opaque and slightly radioactive Iodine substance is introduced into the heart and makes the 22-second passage through the organ with the accompanying blood stream. During that passage the X-ray camera films many dozens of pictures which indicate to the trained technician just where, if any place within the heart, danger brews.

The Kriendler Lab and the few others like it are the fruit of the work of Dr. Werner Forssmann, who once was called a crackpot by fellow doctors for insisting he could push a tube through a patient's arm and into the heart and through it inject fluids which would show up in contrast to the remainder of the heart on X-ray films. Instead of becoming discouraged, Forssmann went on to become chief surgeon at the Dresden-Friedrichstadt Hospital.

Forssmann won the Nobel Prize for medicine Oct. 18, for this work. It was shared by two Columbia University men, Dr. Andre F. Cournand and Dr. Dickinson W. Richards who perfected means of recording pressures involved.

Forssmann was jubilant when informed in his little German city that the Nobel Prize had come to him. He said, "No one in West Germany has paid any attention to me. The Americans were the ones who recognized my work." He recalled that his confidence he could explore the labyrinth of the heart's passages was such that he made the first nine experiments on his own heart. That was in 1929. The wheels of medical progress turn slowly, but certainly. The Kriendler Lab is a sure milestone in its rotation.

My friend "Cappy" Wells, who did as much to put West Point football on the big league sports map as almost anyone else, treasures a slightly faded one-sheet "general orders" issued by 42nd Infantry Headquarters at Camp Gaillard, Canal Zone, Aug. 23, 1923. It had to do with certain young officers who had qualified as rifle marksmen that day and the day before. The 29 men had fired over ranges from 200 yards standing to 600 yards prone.

Capt. Walter H. Wells, I note, scored a 317. A fellow captain, friend of Wells' from the 20th infantry brigade, had a 302. Fellow named D. D. Eisenhower.

Refugee Tells Why Poles Turned Backs on Russians, Overthrew Kremlin's Rule

By PROF. MAREK STANISLAW KOROWICZ
Former Polish United Nations Delegate

(Mark Stanislaw Korowicz was a professor of international law in Poland and one of that country's top academic figures until he took asylum in the United States in 1953 two days after arriving in New York as a U.N. delegate. Now a research professor at the Fletcher School of Law and Diplomacy, he explains the background of unrest in Poland.)

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (INS) — From the time the Russians took over in 1944-45 and imposed upon Poland a government led by its agents, the Polish feeling of enslavement grew stronger year by year.

National freedoms and human freedoms and rights were systematically more and more restrained. Hatred against the government of the Soviet-imposed stooges and against everything which was connected with the Russian rule increased.

Poland is in a much worse and more difficult geographical situation than such Communist-ruled countries as Yugoslavia, Czechoslovakia, Hungary or Albania. All these states have common frontiers with countries of the free world. Poland, situated between the U.S.S.R. in the east, Soviet-dominated East Germany and Czechoslovakia in the south and west, and the Soviet-controlled Baltic Sea in the north, finds itself totally in the grasp of Soviet military power.

Under such circumstances, not being able to count on any effective military support from the West, Polish antisoviet sentiments had to be concealed.

PRIVILEGED FEW

Although, only some 2 or 3 per cent of the population lives comfortably — the dignitaries of the Communist party and of the government, some artists, intellectuals and "shockworkers"—the rest live under permanent restrictions. The most unhappy and oppressed part of the population is the workers.

Only about 5 per cent of the workers belongs to the party. Thus the party was completely isolated from the broad masses of the people, by the latter's distrust, misgivings and hatred.

Before I left Poland in 1953, I often heard Poles say: "It's true that a war or an uprising without any external help could destroy us, but if the situation of today lasts, it will be better to die than to live such a life."

The desperate workers in Poznan (scene of June riots) felt and thought this way, and they paid tragically for the outburst.

The slogans they shouted and carried during their desperate demonstrations tell concisely the whole tragedy of Poland: "We want a free Poland, we want bread."

This is the full program of the Poles for the time being.

The pressure of the workers' masses on their Communist companions, was so strong the Central Committee had to yield, to accept the main demands of the people if it was willing to avoid a desperate bloody revolution.

REDS DEFECT

The situation was all the more serious for the Communist party, when it considered that an important number of Communists in the country declared themselves solidly with the people.

By accepting the people's demands and declaring these demands to be its own, by restoring Wladyslaw Gomulka to the leading position in the party and in the country, the central Committee not only preserved its existence, but strengthened it, because now the broad masses of the population are with it and back of it.

However, it is almost impossible to believe Gomulka would permit free elections which would wipe out all Communist domination and influences.

The point is that the U.S.S.R. does not seem to be willing to prove what it asserts all over the world, that the "satellite countries" are fully sovereign and independent from Moscow in the internal and the external field as well.

Layne Paces Lions to 16-7 Victory

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The Detroit Lions are the only unbeaten team in the National Football League today because Bobby Layne's precision passing and kicking, Yale Lary's three pass interceptions and a strangling goal-line defense brought them a 16-7 victory over the Los Angeles Rams yesterday.

The Chicago Cardinals, only other undefeated NFL team theretofore, lost a 17-14 decision to the Washington Redskins. The Lions are 5-0.

Layne kicked two field goals and scored a touchdown as the Lions handed the Rams their 4th defeat, against a single victory. The Detroiter also hit on 11 of 16 pass attempts, and added the extra point behind his touchdown.

It was Lary, however, who chilled the hopes of 76,758 fans screaming for last-minute magic to save the Rams.

The score was 13-7. Detroit was in midfield with a 4th down coming up and two minutes to play. Lary lined up as if to punt and give Los Angeles the ball. But instead of kicking, the fleet halfback only faked one and ran 10 yards through the startled Rams for 10 yards and a 1st down.

Thus Detroit kept the ball, and a few plays later Jim Martin kicked a 43-yard field goal that put the game beyond hope of the Rams or their fans.

Layne's 1st field goal was booted from the 11, following a 38-yard punt return by Lary. His 2nd, from the 15, climaxed a 57-yard Detroit march. Both came in the 2nd period.

It was the veteran quarterback's passing—25 yards to Dorne Dibble, 18 to Leon Hart and 13 to Dave Middleton—that covered most of the 76 yards he ended with a two-yard plunge into the end zone in the 3rd period.

Lary, who hadn't intercepted a pass all season, caught one of the three Ram passes he pulled on the three-yard line to stop a threatening drive.

Twice Detroit's big defensive platoon, a standout unit all year, stopped Ram drives at the five-yard line. While it gave up 159 rushing yards and permitted 225 passing yards, the defense was real tough whenever the goal line was threatened.

The Lions had a shutout going until the final five minutes, when quarterback Norm Van Brocklin and end Elroy (Crazy Legs) Hirsch combined on a 37-yard pass-run play that brought a Ram touchdown. Les Richter converted.

Detroit now moves on to San Francisco for a game with the 49ers (1-4), who were beaten by the Lions' closest Western Division rivals, the Chicago Bears (4-1), by a 38-21 margin.

CASSADY GAINS SIX — Detroit Lions' back Howard Cassady gains six yards and a first down on run around left end in first quarter of Lions-Rams games yesterday. Making close quarters for unidentified Lion blocker are Rams Hugh Pitts (56) and Les Richter (48). A crowd of 76,758 saw Detroit defeat the Rams 16-7 to remain the only unbeaten team in the National Football League.

Revolution Causes Uncertainty

Hungary's Status in Olympics Clouded

LONDON (AP) — The Olympic status of Hungary, which has produced some of the greatest distance runners the world has known, was still clouded—officially—today.

Although Radio Budapest announced the team was being withdrawn, Hungarians at the Olympic Village in Melbourne said they had received word that the athletes would compete but would get to Australia a week later than scheduled, arriving about Nov. 10. That would give the Hungarians less than two weeks to acclimate themselves for the games, beginning Nov. 22.

Officials at the village said the word had come via cable from the Hungarian Olympic Committee in Budapest. Efforts to reach officials in revolution-torn Budapest have been unavailing.

The Budapest broadcast, monitored here, said the entire team had been withdrawn because "their training had been interrupted" by the revolution.

Other reports—these from a reliable informant—told of two star Hungarian athletes losing their lives fighting as rebels against Russian troops.

The reports named Ferenc Puskas, one of the country's greatest soccer players, and Jozsef Czermak, the defending Olympic champion in the hammer throw. Czermak had been in intensive training recently and at one time this year got off a heave of 205-4¼.

Hungary's distance runners — Sandor Iharos, Laazlo Tabiri, and Istvan Roszavoelgyi — all were rated high in the 1,500-meters, 5,000-meters, 10,000-meters and 3,000-meter steeplechase.

Earlier, the chief of the Hungarian team, B. Fehervari, told The Associated Press in Melbourne he had not given up hope of the athletes making the trip.

"It is all so terrible," he said. "We all have relatives in the troubles areas."

U.S. 'Lifters' Confident

SAN JOSE, Calif. (AP) — Uncle Sam's weight-lifting team, called by its coach "the strongest we've ever had," is confident of defeating Russia in the Olympic Games at Melbourne next month.

"Nobody beats the Russians or the Americans in lifting," said Coach Bob Hoffman, "but we're going to beat the Russians."

Members of the seven-man squad backed him up: "The Russians are tough but I think we can do it," said heavyweight Paul Anderson. "We've got the best rounded team in history; no one is going to stop us," declared light-heavyweight Tommy Kono.

Wings Blast Canadiens 4-1

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Detroit Red Wings, who lost their seven-year grip on the National Hockey League pennant to Montreal last season, are back with a vengeance . . . and the Canadiens have it on first-hand authority today.

The first meeting of the season between the two big league powers was all Detroit's as the Red Wings shrugged off a quick Montreal goal to win 4-1 last night before a sellout crowd of 14,389 at the Detroit Olympia.

It stretched the Wings' unbeaten streak to seven — five victories and two ties — and boosted their first-place margin to two points over the surprising Toronto Maple Leafs, who played a 1-1 tie with the Rangers at New York in the league's only other game.

For the Canadiens, runaway champs of last season, it's another story. They've only two victories and a tie to show for eight games so far and have dropped their last four in succession.

Montreal appeared ready to crack out of its slump when Claude Provost took a pass from Jean Beliveau and beat Detroit goalie Glen Hall after 12 seconds of the first period. But Gordie Howe scored the equalizer for Detroit before the period ended and Ted Lindsay scored on a breakaway to put the Wings ahead to stay in the second period. Last period goals by Red Kelly and Lorne Ferguson wrapped it up.

* * *

Toronto, now unbeaten in its last six games, achieved its tie with New York on Gary Aldcorn's goal with about five and a half minutes remaining. Dean Prentice scored for the Rangers, who remain in third place, one point behind Toronto and three back of Detroit.

Irish Coach Promises His Team Will Be Good Again

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP)—Notre Dame Coach Terry Brennan, fall guy to the race for national honors between Oklahoma and Michigan State until the Spartans were upset by Illinois, promises his Irish will be great one of these days.

"One of these days," said Brennan, "these kids are going to be real good. It doesn't happen when you play two great teams like Michigan State and Oklahoma in succession but just wait."

Brennan wouldn't indicate if his Irish would reach his projected peak this season or the next but he had all the confidence of a winning coach despite the fact Notre Dame is heading towards the worst season in its history.

The Irish have lost four of five games this season. The worst a Notre Dame team has ever had before is five losses.

Shut Out By Sooners

Notre Dame was shut out by Oklahoma, 40-0, and lost to Michigan State the previous week, 47-14. It was the first shutout for the Irish since 1951 when Michigan State administered a 35-0 whipping.

Despite the fact that Michigan State was upset by Illinois, 20-13, talk throughout the Notre Dame locker room concerned the respective powers of Oklahoma and Michigan State.

Notre Dame's senior quarterback Paul Hornung said Oklahoma is "the greatest football team I have ever played against."

Other members of the Irish felt Notre Dame played itself out against Michigan State which made Oklahoma's task easier.

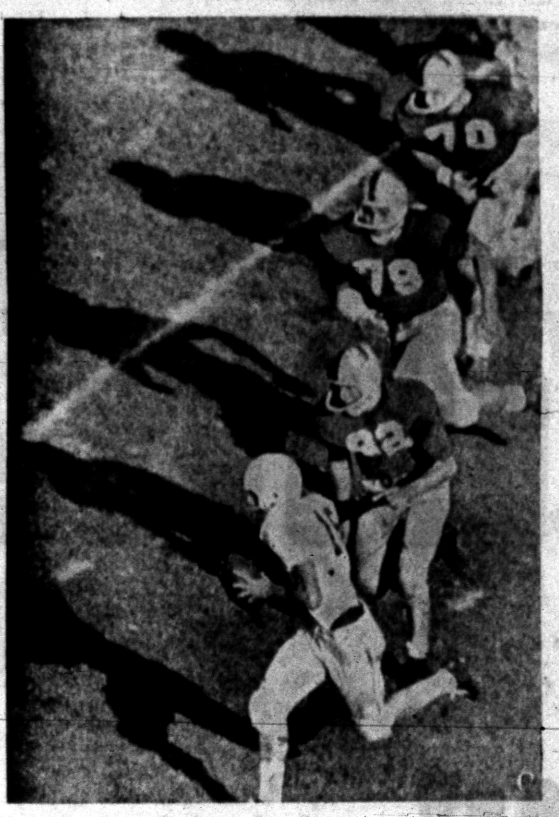
Brennan conceded Oklahoma is "a good, sound football team. I don't want to rate the two. They both have great speed and fine backs although Michigan State is deeper in the backfield."



AP Wirephoto

MAN WITH THREE SHADOWS — Oklahoma ball carrier Jim Harris is trailed by three Notre Dame players as he skirts left end for 17 yards and first down on Irish 5 in third quarter. Trailing, end Gary Myers (82), tackle Angelo Mosca (79), and tackle Bronke Nagurski (70). Oklahoma won, 40-0.

THE POWERHOUSE

By JIMMY POWERS

The last we saw of Don Newcombe he was aboard a plane bound for Japan, looking a bit self-conscious as a hostess steered him into a gaudy kimono called a "happi" coat. He was very likely wearing tabis, too, those soft slippers with compartments for the big toe.

Don is still going to supply a great deal of fuel for the Hot Stove League, here and in the Far East, the Caribbean or wherever baseball is played and discussed.

I hope he doesn't think we are grimly pursuing him on his junket, and belaboring the point that he chokes up under pressure. I thought Walt Alston neatly disposed of that when he said "Every manager in the majors should have a 27-game winner who chokes up like Newk!"

My simple theory on Don is one that every freshman taking psychology will accept. It goes all the way back to Plato, who noted that we associate by contiguity.

The sight of a candelabra and the sound of a piano will call to mind you-know-who. Don's earliest association with a ball club that wears flannels with thin blue stripes — is murder!

Tom Henrich beat him with a home run in his first Series encounter. From that point on, Newk's association and memory are forged. Scientific methods and devices are used in studying memory.

We know how memory is affected by emotion, by motivation and by sleep. Does anyone recall the rather pathetic report of Mrs. Newcombe?

She said her husband brought home sleeping pills the night before the fateful seventh game and announced rather desperately he was going to take them. She said he still was unable to rest his tortured brain.

REMEMBERING . . . AND FORGETTING

Just as remembering is an art, so is forgetting. We are developing effective methods for retaining what we have learned. But the phenomena of the human mind is something strange indeed.

Newcombe can beat hitters, good hitters in his own league, and become one of the winningest pitchers of all time. But when he faces a particular set of hitters wearing the letters "Yankees" across their chests he becomes a different snarl of emotions.

As one sun-scorched wattle-necked old pro said in the pressroom, as he stabbed a scarred and warped forefinger into his temple, "It's all up here."

Wilson Rams Take Pee-Wee Grid Crown

The Wilson School Rams wrapped up the Pee-Wee League football title with a 26-6 victory over the Emmanuel-Crusaders Saturday afternoon at Beaudette Park as the newly-organized circuit completed its 1956 season.

Jesse Hodge scored all four touchdowns for the Rams as they gained their 5th decision in six starts. Their other game ended in a tie.

In other Pee-Wee games Saturday, Bagley defeated Webster, 14-8 and the Whitfield Lions outscored Scotch School, 22-16. Eugene Luppino scored twice for the Lions.

Nation's Track and Field Team in Superb Condition

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Head Coach Jim Kelly of the American Olympic track and field team reiterated today that the off-season games in Australia will not handicap this nation's title hopes.

The white-haired pilot from the University of Minnesota was even more pleased after another trial by the U.S. team two days ago in nearby Santa Ana.

In this tuneup meet the team merrily broke three world records, and while two of them probably will not stand up for recognition, due to technicalities, the fact remains that the U.S. team is in top condition.

Coach Kelly said there will be no official decisions until the final trials here Thursday in the event of any revision of the personnel.

While Kelly would not comment, there still is an open question in two events. One involves world record-holder Bud Held, San Diego, in the javelin throw, and a possible opening in the pole vault.

In the javelin, Held, an alternate who failed to make the team in the Olympic final tryouts in June, might get in. In the pole vault, Bob Gutowski, Occidental College star, could possibly take the place of Bill Mattos, who has been hampered by injuries since the tryouts.

Gutowski two days ago tied Bob Richards at 15 feet 5 inches, which is far better than Mattos has ever done.

Bryant Has Eager Team

Texas Aggies Like to Play

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (AP)—Paul (Bear) Bryant, who was given six years to rebuild Texas A&M's football fortunes but is doing it in three, said today his team would "have to play 110 per cent to win."

And the man who came here from Kentucky in 1954, charged with the responsibility of making A&M a gridiron power once more, indicated he thought his players might do just that.

They like to play. They are so eager he runs into situations like Saturday night when his Aggies were playing Baylor in the Southwest Conference's big game. Jack Pardee, the mighty Aggie fullback, was being held out because of a badly bruised shoulder. But Pardee kept pestering Bryant to get into the game.

"I had to let him go in so I could see the game," Bryant explained.

Pardee immediately led a drive that wound up with a touchdown, scored by Pardee. A&M won the game 19-13 and became a heavy favorite to sweep on to the conference championship with an unbeaten record.

Ortiz' Win Streak Now at 17 in Row

HOLLYWOOD, Calif. (AP) — New York's Carlos Ortiz has stretched his boxing victory streak to 17 at the expense of lightwight Mickey Northrup.

Ortiz had it all his own way in punching out a unanimous 10-round decision over the Los Angeles fighter Saturday at the Legion Stadium. Northrup was down for a two count in the 10th and barely finished under Ortiz' savage head attack.

Alert Titans Grab Win Over Boston Team, 12-7

DETROIT (AP)—Alert ballhawking and the passing of a reserve quarterback got the University of Detroit back on the football winning track Sunday as the Titans recovered eight enemy fumbles and intercepted four passes in upsetting favored Boston College 12-7.

It was Detroit's 1st triumph over Boston in five meetings and gave the Titans, who had lost their last three, a 2-3 record for the season.

Bob Giardina, stepping in behind two injured quarterbacks, passed for both Detroit touchdowns. He hit halfback Bill Dando on a 48-yard pass-run play for one and Bill Hunter on an 18-yarder for the other. Both came in the 2nd period.

Boston, which lost five 1st-half fumbles, got its lone touchdown in the 3rd period. It came on a 23-yard pass from quarterback Bill Donlan to halfback T. J. Sullivan.

The Boston Eagles fumbled once on the Titans' two-yard line and a few plays later on the Detroit 14. Another Eagle drive was stopped by a Detroit pass interception on the Titan four.

Coach Wally Fromhart fielded a starting team made up entirely of sophomores and juniors.

Fromhart, who had complained earlier that his club "wasn't putting out," said, "we might as well play some of the boys who are going to be back next year and give them some experience."

Peaks Lost to MSU; 'M's Barr Hurt

Gophers Outplay Michigan

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Rebuilding Michigan back into a formidable power is the knotty problem confronting coach Bennie Oosterbaan and his staff this week.

The Wolverines suffered physically last Saturday as well as losing the ball game, 20-7, to Minnesota along with the Little brown jug and most of their Rose Bowl aspirations.

Most grave was the injury to right halfback Terry Barr's left ankle. The Grand Rapids senior hurt it as he crossed into the Minnesota end zone to score Michigan's lone touchdown on the first play of the 2nd period. He never re-entered the fray and his inspirational play was sorely missed.

Barr went to University Hospital Saturday night for an X-ray and it showed that his ankle was only sprained.

"Fortunately, it's not a fracture Oosterbaan said, "but it's too early to know if Terry will be ready for Iowa on Saturday."

The Wolverine coach blamed the Golden Gophers' 3rd period gimmick of speeding up their huddles and following them with a short signal count as the turning point of a close game.

Minnesota came out after intermission full of vigor and pierced and ripped the Wolverine line to shreds as they advanced the ball at six or seven yards a clip and marched 92 yards in 15 plays. Thereafter, it was all Minnesota and the confused Wolverines were held at bay.

As for the Rose Bowl hopes, they belong to the Gophers from the North now. No one at Michigan ever would mention the Pasadena junket before Saturday's upset, but it was evident in the locker room after the game what every Wolverine was thinking.

Veterans, Top Rookies Make Nationals Real NBA Threat

Take the right amount of veteran basketball players, sprinkle generously with some top-flight rookies and the product—a championship threat in the National Basketball Assn. with the Syracuse brand name.

The Nationals, who forged into third place in the Eastern Division last year only by virtue of a playoff, have applied this potent formula in two games this season, winning both. Last night they overwhelmed the Rochester Royals 91-75 with a brilliant second-half foray to leap to the top of the league with a 2-0 record.

While the Nats were parading their new found prowess the strong Fort Wayne Pistons secured a 94-88 victory over the Minneapolis Lakers.

Illini Upset Spartans

EAST LANSING (AP)—Clarence Peaks, Michigan State's great senior left halfback from Flint, has played his last game of collegiate football.

X-rays showed today that Peaks tore a cartilage in his left knee in a defensive play during the 2nd half of the 20-13 MSU upset by Illinois Saturday.

Dr. James S. Feurig, team physician, said Peaks probably will be operated on Tuesday or Wednesday after the swelling in his knee goes down.

Dr. Feurig said that although Peaks is through as a college player, there is a good chance he will be able to play pro football.

"A lot of players recover from that type of injury and go back into football again," he said.

"We feel worse about losing Peaks than we do about losing the ball game," commented spartan coach Duffy Daugherty.

Otherwise Daugherty was philosophical about the surprise upset.

"It proves you can never relax in the big Ten, or you'll get your ears knocked off," he said. "But I think we'll bounce back. We'll be trying to get another win streak going this week against Wisconsin."

Michigan State has long made good football mileage out of its speedy Negro track stars and Daugherty saw the irony of his spartans being beaten by one of the prize runners of that type—Big Ten hurdles champ Abe Woodson.

"Woodson made our boys look slow," Daugherty said of the star Illini back who broke State's back with his three 2nd half touchdowns—two of them on spectacular 70 and 82-yard runs.

Illinois had to overcome a 13-0 half-time deficit to stage the comeback so enjoyed by the crowd of 71,119 at the champaign homecoming.

Both MSU touchdowns were set up by fumbles, one recovered on the Illinois 20 and the other on the 34. Jim Wulff went in from the four-yard line for the 1st spartan score.

Peaks, who made a 25-yard carry during the 2nd drive, dove in from the two for the last MSU score.

With an assist from Highland Park St. Benedict, the Eaglets of Orchard Lake St. Mary won their 2nd consecutive Suburban Catholic League football championship Sunday afternoon.

Father John Rakoczy's powerhouse was picked to annex the title again. But St. Benedict's 18-12 upset of Hazel Park St. Rita yesterday at Highland Park coupled with the Eaglets' 27-0 victory over Royal Oak St. Mary enabled them to do it a week earlier than expected.

St. Michael's shuffled lineup proved beneficial as the Shamrocks defeated Ferndale St. James, 20-12, and St. Frederick bowed to St. Clement of Center Line, 44-13, in a free-scoring affair at Wisner Stadium to complete Sunday's SCL program.

While the Ravens were eliminating Orchard Lake's only contender for the crown, the Eaglets were disposing of the Irish with ease at Royal Oak.

End Pete Madelans and fullback Terry Raymond each scored twice for the St. Mary aggregation, which chalked up its 19th straight triumph and 6th this season. The Irish were the 5th shutout victims.

Madelans scored on passes of 15 and 50 yards from halfback Paul Franckowiak, both in the 1st quarter. Raymond scampered nine yards in the 3rd period and two yards in the 4th for his touchdowns. Franckowiak kicked three extra points.

Halfback Dan Dropps tallied two touchdowns and passed for another as the Mikes downed St. James at Ferndale.

The Dales hit pay-dirt 1st on a 45-yard jaunt by Ed Tunnicliff, but Dropps' pass to Chuck Brown for a 40-yard touchdown and Dan's conversion from placement gave St. Mike a 7-6 halftime lead.

Dropps took charge in the 2nd half. He sprinted five yards around end for his 1st touchdown, then ripped through tackle and dashed 40 yards for another, both in the 3rd period. The Dales posted their last TD with five minutes of game time remaining.

After being shut out twice in a row, the St. Fred Rams finally broke into the scoring column, but they couldn't contain St. Clement's offense on the Wisner Stadium turf.

The Crusaders barged across the Ram goal seven times. Sid Houghton scored three touchdowns and Tom Daldine hung up two while Steve Rosina and Dick Oberlissen accounted for the others. Schindler dropkicked two conversions.

St. Fred's 1st touchdown came in the 2nd quarter on an aerial from Tom Derocher to Wally Quarles, which covered 22 yards. Derocher completed the Rams' scoring with a 7-yard slant off tackle in the 3rd period.

NCAA Approves 10 Bowl Games

KANSAS CITY (AP)—The National Collegiate Athletic Assn. announced today its approval of 10 post-season football games.

The extra events committee of NCAA said the following have met its regulations for bowl contests late this year or on Jan. 1:

Corn, Bloomington, Ill., Nov. 22; Cotton, Dallas, Jan. 1; Gator, Jacksonville, Fla., Dec. 29; Orange, Miami, Fla., Jan. 1; Prairie View, Prairie View, Tex., Jan. 1; Refrigerator, Evansville, Ind., Dec. 2; Rose, Pasadena, Calif., Jan. 1; Sugar, New Orleans, Jan. 1; Sun, El Paso, Tex., Dec. 31 or Jan. 1; Tangerine, Orlando, Fla., Jan. 1.

Walter Byers, NCAA executive director, said requests from four other games have been filed for action at the 51st annual NCAA convention in St. Louis, Jan. 9-11. These games, which were not disclosed by name, will not be in operation until after the 1957 football season, if they are approved, Byers said.

Dawson Takes 'SW' Title

Grant birdied four straight holes in the final round, but lost to Dawson on the 17th in yesterday's final match at Thunderbird Country Club.

Duke has won 10 Southern conference football titles.

Injury Delays 'Heavy' Battle

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Plans for a light-heavyweight elimination tournament to provide a successor for Archie Moore—if and when—have been set back by an injury to Willie Hoepner, German import. Hoepner was to have fought Chuck Spieser of Detroit Wednesday in a 12-round bout at Chicago.

The International Boxing Club had to scramble its schedule to fill the date, moving up the Joe Miceli-Carlo Sarlo match from Nov. 7. Hoepner's U.S. debut will be rescheduled when his injury has mended.

As a result of this change of schedule, the first light-heavy elimination scrap now will be Tony Anthony-Gordon Wallace at Madison Square Garden, Dec. 7.

The Miceli-Sarlo fight will be beamed on network TV (ABC).

Brooklyn Runs Into Surprises on Nippon Tour

For one they've surprised themselves with their lack of hitting against Japanese talent. In eight games played through Sunday, of which the Dodgers won five, lost two and tied one, they have come up with 42 runs on 79 hits, including 12 homers. The supposedly weak Japanese batters have scored 29 runs on 44 hits, including 7 four-baggers.

Although the Brooklyn totals seem adequate, much of the scoring and slugging has come in two or three of the games, one of them a 6-1, 15-hit victory over the Japan All-Stars Sunday. Observers feel the Brooks are still showing signs of strain and fatigue from their grueling pennant race, World Series and long plane ride.

Cardinals Mad Over Loss to Washington

CHICAGO (AP)—The Chicago Cardinals never expected to go through the Eastern Division of the National Football League undefeated but they were fighting mad that they suffered their first loss to Washington.

Not that the Redskins aren't a formidable foe, but the Cardinals couldn't see dropping a 17-14 decision after having taken a 14-0 first-quarter lead.

"We shouldn't have lost to this club after taking that lead," said Ray Richards, Cardinal coach. "After all, they didn't score a touchdown against us when we beat them 31-3 at Washington."

Colts Trip Packers to Share Third Spot

BALTIMORE (AP) — Tobin Rote's passing wasn't a match for rookie Lenny Moore's running and substitute John Unitas' quarterbacking, so Green Bay lost a 38-21 National Football League decision to Baltimore yesterday.

The loss dropped the Wisconsin Packers into a tie with the Maryland Colts for 3rd place in the NFL's Western Division. Both now are 2-3.

By LOAMA SANFORD
Lake Orion Correspondent

LAKE ORION — Halloween is a big day in this community. About 1:30 in the afternoon, faculty and student body numbering over a thousand, will march from the Blanche Sims School through the business section and back, about 10 blocks. The senior band annually leads this costume parade which many residents turn out to watch.

Students return to the school for room parties and refreshments planned by homeroom mothers of the PTA.

The Village Council has decreed that trick or treat hours will be from 6-8 p.m.

The Rotary Club is planning the village party beginning at 7:30 at the high school athletic field. Participants will march uptown and back to the beat of the Orion band; then compete for 40 silver dollars offered for costume prizes. Cider and doughnuts complete the picture.

Outside the village, Carpenter School PTA is providing a party following the 6-7 trick or treat time in that area. The party is for all students and preschoolers in the district.

Proper School parties will be in the afternoon on a room-by-room basis. Costumes are to be worn and prizes and refreshments offered.

The party will be held at the parking lot of the Community National Bank, instead of the intersection of Cass Lake Rd. and Summers St., as in the former years.

The fire siren will blow at 6:30 as a signal for the "small fry" to start out for tricks or treats, and at 7:30 the siren will blow again when their hour for begging is up, and the festivities begin at the parking lot.

Prizes will be awarded for costumes. Music will be furnished for dancing and cider and donuts will be served by the Women's Auxiliary.

Mayor Calhoun's administration came under fire by Gordon. Gordon charged "lack of leadership and lack of judgment in keeping Probate Judge Arthur Moore as city attorney." 'Trick or Treat' Hour 6 to 7

Waterford Halloween

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP — A cooperative plan by service clubs and the recreation department is being announced for Halloween celebrations Wednesday in this township.

Included in these plans is a recommended time for trick or treating and elementary and high school parties immediately following trick or treat festivities.

Recommended time for trick or treating for all families in Waterford Township is from 6 to 7 p.m. Wednesday. "By setting this time for the youngster's adventure, neighborhood homes can prepare for visitors by turning their porch lights on," states recreation director, Tom Belton, "this plan seemed to work very well with many parents expressing appreciation for the announcement of a coordinated time."

Parties will be conducted in various areas in the township from 7 to 8:30 p.m. Elementary age children's parties will be held at Drayton Plains, sponsored by the Waterford-Drayton Rotary Club; at Hudson Covert, sponsored by the Township Business Men's Assn.; at Donelson, sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce; at Monteith, sponsored by the Fire Department; at Stringham, sponsored by the Lions Club.

Flare Sale Aids at Rochester

Sell Tonight; Parties Wednesday to Keep 2,500 Children Busy

ROCHESTER — The Annual Flare sale here has been set for tonight.

Money derived from the flares will help to provide the annual Halloween parties for between 1,300 and 1,500 children in the village on Wednesday and also provide parties for 1,000 school children at their respective outlying schools.

The Kiwanis Club has been divided into 6 teams, to make the house to house sale. Flares will be lighted at the sound of the fire siren at 7 p. m. Halloween night. In past years, the village has been lighted with the red flares in nearly all sections.

Kiwanian Jack Newell is chairman of the flare sale. Assisting him are Emil Sell, Jack Mitzelfeld, Roscoe Martin, Ed. Dahlman and Earl Seed.

The Village of Rochester and Avon Township each contributed $150 to go towards expenses of providing the Halloween festivities.

Parties scheduled Wednesday are, second, third, fourth grades at junior high school; kindergarten and first grade party, North Hill Elementary School, 4:30 to 6 p. m.; fourth, fifth, sixth grades at junior high school, 6-7:30 p. m.; seventh, eighth, Avon Park Pavilion, 7:15 to 9:15 p. m.; ninth, tenth, eleventh, twelfth grade party which includes dancing in the high school gym, from 9 to 11:30 p. m.

Youth Fun and Fund Drive Planned

BRANDON TOWNSHIP — With Halloween nearing, the business men of Bald Eagle Lake and Ortonville are planning a "bigger and better party" and the women of the Ortonville Woman's Club for a larger purse for UNICEF.

In the first UNICEF drive here last year, the "ghosts and goblins" going from door to door collected $66 for underprivileged. Gwen Hamilton and Joe Spress are anxious this year to beat their own record collections.

Rallying for the drive, Ortonville youngsters will go at 6 p.m. to Brandon Town Hall, and Bald Eagle youth will go to the Pangus Realty Office.

To get ready for the parade, youngsters will return to their starting point. The march will start at 7 p.m. at Brandon Town Hall and follow up town.

For best costumes, 16 prizes will be awarded.

Parties planned include one for the pre-schoolers, kindergartners, first and second graders at the Brandon Grange Hall, where games will be led by PTA members, and refreshments served by Grange members.

Rotarians will supervise games for third through sixth graders in the street, with volunteer firemen serving doughnuts and cider at the Fire Hall.

Chairman LaVern Borst says that weather permitting, there'll be street dancing for older boys and girls, or, with rain, a dance in the town hall.

Clarkston Football Field

Completed by Joint Effort

CLARKSTON—When fans of the Clarkston Wolves see their team in action Nov. 2, they are invited by school officials to note what united efforts of clubs, councils, and individuals have done for their football field.

Terming it one of the most complete fields in Oakland County, the school board and superintendent point out the developments since the property was purchased as part of a 70-acre site for future building.

Lights were obtained with aid of the student council, Booster, dance and Rotary Clubs, and other groups and individuals; salesmen sold season tickets, and the concession stand and ticket booth were built with donated funds from businessmen.

Labor for the latter and electrical panels was by local men, and the stand is operated by the cafeteria supervision, with profits going back to the field fund.

The scoreboard, that gives complete information, was donated by classes of 1955 and '56 and the student council, and the public address system by the 1954 class.

Donations and gate receipts paid for the bleachers and press box, they point out. The stands, which hold 1,200 people, provide good visibility, safety, comfort.

With cars parking and leaving the game, the fire and police departments have given aid. Firemen have also watered the roadway to kill dust blowing onto spectators.

The field and its drainage was laid out by the local engineering firm, and gym and study hall students spent hours raking it and picking up stones. Men aided in pre-seeding operations.

Future planning will provide a level cinder track for running events to finish by the bleachers. There is room for a gymnasium with locker rooms on the site.

Take Time to Clean in Radiator Crevices

Before the heat is on for the winter, see that your radiators are thoroughly clean. A radiator is a great dust catcher, and when the hot air currents begin the dust can be carried just about everywhere.

Use the crevice tool of the vacuum cleaner to draw out the dust, or spread damp newspapers underneath and behond the radiators and put the blower tool into action.

Boom Develops in Boomerang

Ancient Gadget Holds New Fascination for Air-Minded Age

WASHINGTON — American boys and physics professors are having a fling with the centuries-old boomerang.

An increasingly popular object of sport, the boomerang is also being used by teachers to demonstrate principles of aerodynamics. One physicist describes it as a "combination of helicopter, discus, gyroscope, and inclined plane." He has as much fun hurling one as any youngster.

So also, apparently, do the aborigines of Australia, some of whom still use the sickle-shaped stick for recreation as well as hunting. Expert "abos" have been known to throw the "kiley," as they call it, 150 feet into the air, make it circle five times—and even bounce on the ground — before finally coming back.

Although the Australians generally are credited with having been the first to build the homing instinct into the boomerang, they are not the only people who have used this throwing stick, says the National Geographic Society.

Ancient Egyptians favored a nonreturning stick for hunting birds. Hunters were so expert they could knock down a bird as it was rising in flight. Thus stunned, it could be retrieved by a trained cat.

Until the 20th century, Egyptians equipped some of their army divisions with war boomerangs. In the American southwest, the Hopi Indians still hunt with an S-shaped throwing stick. Other boomerang-like weapons have been found in India, Celebes, Borneo, and Ethiopia.

Some from India are made of steel. Others are carved from ivory. In the United States, a few manufacturers make them out of plastic. But the commonest material is wood: naturally bent hardwood.

A one-way boomerang is usually larger and less angled than the "comeback" type. The surfaces of its arms, moreover, are equally curved so that little lift is generated and it flies almost straight.

The round-trip type is nearly flat on one surface and rounded on the other. It has been likened to a pair of airplane wings, joined at an angle of from 70 to 120 degrees, with the thick edge of one wing meeting the thin edge of the other.

The play of air over these unevenly curved surfaces, plus the over-all circling motion, makes the boomerang return.

To be sure a boomerang will fly right, a manufacturer usually tests his product before releasing it. One visitor to an Australian factory was nearly hit in the head before he realized he was on the factory's test range.

Hollywood Headlines

Cagney Trying Directing, Kim Polishing New Role

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — James Cagney is turning director. He will direct "Short Cut to Hell," a Graham Greene story, for Paramount—but I do hope he doesn't get so fascinated directing that he'll stop acting. We need him on the screen.

The Greene story is right down Jimmy's alley. It's about a lad who gets mixed up and becomes a killer. For the lead he has chosen Robert Ivers, a young player from the Tucson Playhouse.

Another interesting angle to this story is that A. C. Lyles, who started 18 years ago as a messenger at Paramount, gets his first producing job. A. C. says I was responsible for his getting on the Paramount payroll when I permitted him to use my name when he applied for work. This I had forgotten.

Kim Novak starts "Jeanne Eagles" Dec. 2, and that's the date Count Mario Bandini told her he'd be in Hollywood to spend Christmas with her.

"I am going to ask him to come a little sooner because I want to show him California," Kim said.

"What are you going to do with Mac Krim?" she was asked.

"Oh, I'm sure Mario and Mac will be very good friends," she replied.

Kim says she doesn't intend to marry either one of them, that she's in love with her career—although she admits Mac has been more important to her life than any other man. He was in Detroit and telephoned her just five minuates after Bandini called from Rome.

You may like or dislike Sam Goldwyn, but you can't deny he is one of the best press agents in the world.

Frances and Sam are just back from Europe and the Orient where they set up the openings of "Guys and Dolls." In Japan it was the biggest musical grosser of all time; in Brussels it broke house records; in Hamburg, Germany, hundreds were turned away, the house being sold out in advance.

Of course, everybody can't go abroad to sell a picture, but then I don't know many producers who'd take the time and trouble. Maybe that's why Sam is a success.

Right now, Elizabeth Taylor is so in love with Mike Todd she wants to give up her career. But how long will this impulse last?

Only a few actresses who retired for marriage stayed retired. Jane Bryant married Justin Dart and gave up a promising career; Peggy Dow married Walter Helmrich and Shirley Temple left her successful career to marry Charles Black, and never regretted it.

But most actresses find it hard to forget the glamor of success. Yet, Liz told MGM her last picture is "Raintree County," and she'll marry Todd as soon as possible.

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at Random: Wedding bells Saturday for William Door, manager of the Garden of Allah and Crescendo.

Andy McLaglen, who was in Diana Lynn's life before she became serious about Mortimer Hall, is in love again. Andy's dandy is TV actress Constance Ford.

Mrs. Jerry Colonna said at the Catholic Press Council dinner Jerry has been invited to give a command performance for Queen Elizabeth Nov. 5.

Bob Hope left all his notes home—but if he can be so witty without them he should always leave them home. Mike Connolly, who rounded up the talent, had top entertainment in George Gobel, Ann Blyth, Phil Regan and Ray Noval and his orchestra.

The guest of honor, Francis Cardinal McIntyre, chaplain of the press council, brought two distinguished guests, Bishop O'Gara, who was imprisoned in China for two years by the Reds, and Msgr. Paganni from the Vatican.

Negro Vanishes From Jail; Accused of Insult to White Woman

WILDWOOD, Fla. (AP) — A Negro farm laborer, placed in jail for protective custody at his own request after he was accused of insulting a white woman, disappeared under strange circumstances early yesterday.

Jesse Woods, 39, was missing from his jail cell when Police Chief Ed Mullis returned from chasing two speeding cars. There were blood spots on the floor and a bunk was overturned. A day-long search failed to turn up any clues on the disappearance.

Gov. LeRoy Collins asked the Florida Sheriff's Bureau and Sheriff M. H. Bowman of Sumter County for a full report and the FBI said it is looking into the case to determine if it has jurisdiction.

Since daylight yesterday all has been quiet in this little central Florida town, 75 miles north of Tampa.

William A. Fordham, president of the Florida conference of the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People, said at Tampa, "From what I've heard it looks like a lynching. If it was, we definitely will make an investigation."

Woods was arrested Saturday afternoon at a grocery store, charged with disorderly conduct and drunkeness. Police Chief Mullis said he "insulted a white woman."

David Hutto, a clerk at the store, quoted Woods as saying "Hello there, baby" to Miss Mary Evelyn Hill, schoolteacher. She was not available for comment.

Woods was released on bond about midnight and left with his father MacArthur Woods and a brother. Soon they returned and Jesse Woods asked to be allowed to stay in the jail, saying some white men in cars had followed them and he was afraid.

About an hour later Patrolman E. H. Barry found the lock on the little jail door had been knocked off and Woods was gone.

About 150 officers, including state highway patrolmen and deputies from neighboring counties, supported by two airplanes, searched all yesterday without result.

Nixon Attacks 'Diversion' Plot

Vice President Says Candidate Stevenson Hurts Own Chances

LOS ANGELES (INS) — Vice President Richard Nixon accused Adlai E. Stevenson today of employing "violent and intemperate" attacks on president Eisenhower to divert attention from the politically-explosive H-Bomb issue.

Nixon said also that Stevenson has jeopardized his own chances and those of Democratic House and Senate candidates in the Nov. 6 election with his proposed ban on H-Bomb tests.

In a speech prpared for delivery in Los Angeles, Nixon branded Stevenson's h-bomb plan "an ill-advised and terribly dangerous scheme which would play so disastrously into the Communists' hands."

Stevenson, the vice president sai has "destroyed" any chances he might have had to become president because of the H-Bomb issue.

Nixon leveled his blast at Stevenson as he began an intensive two-day drive to pick up support for the GOP ticket in his home territory of Southern California.

He planned to make a series of shopping center speeches in the Los Angeles area today and Tuesday, ending up with a rally in San Diego Tuesday night.

Nixon will fly east after the San Diego rally for meetings in Detroit and New York city on Wednesday.

The Dodge increases range from $64 to $175; the Plymouth advances range from $66 to $160. Dodge prices range from $2,124 for the Coronet club sedan to $2,832 for the Custom Royal convertible. Plymouth's range is from $1,704 for the Plaza business coupe to $2,187 for the Belvedere four-door hardtop.

The prices do not include federal excise, state and local taxes and handling and delivery charges. In the case of the Plymouth line they are for six-cylinder models. For eight-cylinder units prices are $93 higher.

Both Dodge and Plymouth announced reductions on numerous optional extra-cost equipment items.

Standard Cuts Price to Dealers of Area

Standard Oil Co. today reduced its gasoline prices to Pontiac dealers by one cent a gallon, according to Byron L. Cole, local manager.

The new prices to dealers for regular gasoline will be 16.3 cents per gallon, and 18.8 for premium. Retail prices are determined by individual dealers, Cole pointed out.

Cole said the reduction is in line with Standard's policy that prices are established on the basis of local economic and competitive conditions.

Steels, Coppers Pace Upswing

NEW YORK (AP)—Steels and coppers paced a general stock market rally today in the liveliest trading in weeks.

Leading issues went ahead fractions to around 2 points or more.

Brokers said the favorable medical report on President Eisenhower was regarded in Wall street as adding to his election prospects and was a strong factor in the rise.

Reports of higher steel demand and a move for price increases aided shares of this industry.

Kennecott's Copper's high earnings spurred this division. Advances in the rails, however, were more narrow than in more favored divisions.

U.S. Steel was up around a point on the eve of its quarterly directors meeting. Bethlehem and Jones & Laughlin were other 1-point gainers. Lukens and Youngstown added more than 2 apiece.

Kennecott scampered ahead more than 2. International Nickel was up well beyond a point and Anaconda rose a major fraction. Kaiser Aluminum rode up around 2 and Alcoa more than a point.

Chrysler was up about a point and General Motors a fraction. Ford and Studebaker-Packard were fairly steady.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up $1.20 to $180.40 with the industrials up $2.40, the rails up 50 cents and the utilities up 20 cents.

RESTYLED FOR '57 — Increased passing power with an improved 259-cubic inch V8 engine are among the features of the 1957 Studebaker Commander, scheduled to be displayed publicly for the first time Nov. 8. Studebaker's new "Luxury-Level Ride" is standard on the Commanders. The cars will make their debut locally at Masters Motor Sales, 7675 Highland Rd.; P. C. McKibben, 990 W. Maple Rd., Walled Lake; and Davis Motors, 606 N. Main St., Rochester.

Appoint New GM Director

Lundstrom Takes Post as General Motors Proving Grounds Head

Appointment of Louis C. Lundstrom as director of General Motors Proving Grounds was announced today by Charles A. Chayne, GM vice president in charge of Engineering Staff.

The appointment will be effective Nov. 1.

Lundstrom succeeds Harold H. (Bill) Barnes, who is retiring after 37 years with General Motors. For the last 12 years Barnes has been director of GM Proving Grounds, which include facilities at Milford, Mesa, Ariz., and Manitou Springs, Colo.

Born June 7, 1915, at Tekamah, Neb., Lundstrom joined the Proving Ground Staff at Milford as a test engineer in 1939 shortly after graduating from the University of Nebraska.

He was promoted to project engineer in 1942, mechanical department head in 1947 and on March 1, 1953, was named assistant to Barnes.

Barnes directed the Proving Grounds' facilities during the war when all of GM's testing and engineering programs were devoted to military defense products. Under his leadership a separate military proving ground at Milford and the facilities at Mesa and Manitou Springs were established.

New Soft-Level Ride

More Powerful Studebaker to Make Debut Next Week

A new soft, level ride on rough roads, new driving control on slippery roads, and increased performance with the most powerful engines in Studebaker's history are top features of the Studebaker sedans for 1957.

The sharply restyled line of 15 sedans and station wagons in three series covering the low-price field will be introduced and demonstrated by dealers across the country beginning Thursday, Nov. 8, Harold E. Churchill, president of Studebaker-Packard corporation, announced today.

With the 1957 models, Studebaker introduces two major automotive advances—the new Luxury-Level ride with variable rate coil springing and the Twin-Traction axle with the non-slip power dividing differential.

Three power plants will be used—the 210-horsepower Sweepstakes 289-cubic inch V-8 for the President series and Broadmoor station wagon; 180-horsepower, 259-cubic inch V-8 for the Commander series and the Provincial and Parkview station wagons; and the 101-horsepower, 185.6-cubic inch six-cylinder economy engine for the Champion series and Pelham station wagon.

A complete range of power equipment is available, including power steering, power brakes, power window lifts and power seats. Studebaker power steering, although eliminating 80 per cent of the steering effort, retains road feel for safe operation.

The power steering system is also engineered so that if at any time it might become inoperative, mechanical steering will take over immediately.

A special safety device, developed by Studebaker, is continued in 1957 models. It is the "hill holder" which prevents any rollback of the vehicle when it is stopped on an incline. The hill holder is available for all models with standard or overdrive transmission.

Among other safety features are padded sun visors, safety belts, engineered low center of gravity, box girder construction, padded dashboards, and interlocking safety door latches.

Small Business Wooed by Tax Relief Promises

WASHINGTON (AP) — To judge by the campaign pledges, small business stands a good chance of getting special tax relief next year whichever party wins control of congress.

Democrats wrote such a plank into their platform in July. The Republican National Convention did not follow suit, but President Eisenhower has promised to give "prompt and favorable consideration" to four small business tax concessions in drafting his legislative program.

The administration added a clincher this month when presidential assistant Sherman Adams said in a speech that "we shall definitely ask congress to consider relief," if the budget permits. This, of course, assumes Eisenhower's re-election.

The Adams "if" was significant. Budget considerations will be crucial in any tax-cutting deliberations, officials concede, and the proposals now before Eisenhower would cost the treasury about 600 million dollars a year in revenue.

The proposals are part of a 14-point program drafted in August by the Cabinet Committee On Small Business, headed by Dr. Arthur F. Burns, chairman of the president's council of economic advisers.

Burns is known to regard tax reduction as the most important quick-acting remedy for the complaints of small firms. Others of the 14 points call for tighter anti-monopoly rules, more government contracts for small firms, and some further financing and technical aids.

Eisenhower reported last week that he has "already put into operation those recommendations which do not require action by Congress."

But administration aides said privately today that three considerations probably will influence decisions by both Congress and the administration on small business tax relief. These were listed as:

1. The outcome of the fiscal 1958 budget studies, now in progress. The anticipated surplus for this (1957) fiscal year, ending next June 30, is only 700 million dollars. This would not permit tax reduction if the administration insists—as it has so far—that public debt reduction comes first. The 1958 budget probably will show higher revenues but also will show higher Federal costs.

2. Whether small business deserves preference over other taxpayers.

Some officials doubt that small companies will be voted tax relief unless there also is help for individual income taxpayers. That would require a substantial budget surplus.

3. The form of the proposed legislation.

Some of the several proposals introduced by Democrats in Congress last spring—all of which were opposed by the treasury—would have had the effect of "graduating" the tax on corporate profits, like the tax on individual earnings. The democratic platform endorsed this plan.

Pulls Wife, 2 Tots From Blazing Plane

MIDLAND (INS)—A 38-year-old Detroit pilot, whose Piper tri-pacer airplane caught fire yesterday and forced him to make an emergency landing, pulled his wife and two small children from the craft minutes before it exploded.

Walter Kay said he was returning from a trip to Cheboygan and flying at 3,000 feet when his engine exploded and caught fire. Kay dropped the craft dow and landed safely in a field a mile short of the Tri-City Airport near Midland.

He helped his wife, Patricia, 30, and children, John ,3, and Kathy, 6, from the burning plane just before another explosion demolished it.

Report
By Mrs. Roberts
In re: Crowded conditions at Children's Home — Temporary Program

Mr. Chairman, Ladies and Gentlemen:

At the April 17, 1956 meeting, Miscellaneous Resolution #3100, regarding crowded conditions at the Children's Home, referred the matter to the Board of Auditors for making a study of facilities which might be available to relieve the congestion. It was noted in this resolution that emphasis had been place upon use of the Contagious Hospital for this purpose. A further report was to be made by the Board upon completion of the investigation by the Board of Auditors.

The space problem became much more acute so the foregoing letter of April 17, 1956 by Judge Moore was asked to permit of this Board's two-fold program, covering both emergency relief needs and long range planning.

Emergency needs continued to increase and on June 4, 1956, there were 191 children in the main building and two cottages on the premises. In an effort to expedite relief, the Juvenile Affairs Committee met with Judge Moore and Mr. James Hunt on June 13, 1956 and discussed both temporary and long range programs. The committee also met with the Buildings and Grounds Committee on June 22, 1956 at the Children's Home.

Temporary Program: It was decided that the emergency should be relieved during the summer but imperative that relief be provided by early fall. It was considered advisable to try to secure sufficient space near the Children's Home to be used until the long range or permanent program can be put into effect, perhaps three or four years. The Juvenile Committee feels that the Contagious Hospital offers possibilities for the temporary part of the program due to its location. Also, its use might make possible the separation of incorrigibles from neglected and dependent children.

However, since there have been other requests and other space studies are being made and since Miscellaneous Resolution #3100 referred our space study to the Board of Auditors, Mr. Chairman, I move that the temporary part of our program be referred to the Board of Auditors to be added to their study of these studies and ask that a report be made at the next meeting of this Board.

JUVENILE COMMITTEE

Chairman
H. LLOYD CLAWSON
MARGARET E. HILL
LYLE J. WALKER
FOREST I. BRENDEL

Moved by Roberts supported by Clawson the report be referred to the Board of Auditors.

A sufficient majority having voted therefor, the motion carried.

Moved by Roberts supported by Clawson the permanent program for long range planning to provide additional space for children be referred to the Special County Building Committee.

Discussion followed.

Moved by Cyril Miller supported by L. Anderson the motion be amended that this matter be referred to the Buildings and Grounds and Ways and Means Committees for study.

A sufficient majority having voted therefor, the motion carried.

Vote on original motion, as amended:

A sufficient majority having voted therefor by motion carried.

The Chairman announced that a public hearing would now be held on the petition of Joseph Gerrard, as President, and Florence Harland, as Secretary, of the Trustees of the Village of Milford to annex certain territory to the Village of Milford from the Township of Milford.

Clerk read the following:

Resolution

On motion duly made by Councilman Nealer and supported by Councilman Wood it was resolved and unanimously supported by a full quorum of the Council, that the resolution pertaining to annexation of certain property to the Village as more fully set forth hereinbelow, be adopted.

Whereas the eastern portion of the Village of Milford has recently undergone considerable development involving the erection and planning of one-family residences in subdivisions, and

Whereas the large assemblages of land adapted to subdivision development in that portion of the village which have been made available for that purpose, are already in the process of planning and actual development, and

Whereas the western portion of the village has not so developed, since such development has been impeded by the lack of sanitary sewer and water trunk lines; moreover, a large portion of the land in the western portion of the village, which is adapted for subdivision development is owned by the Huron Clinton Metropolitan Authority or the C. & O. Railroad, and

Whereas it appears that the need exists, and it is in the public interest to make possible the further growth and development of the western portion of the Village, and

Whereas the fifty-one and one-half acres of land in the northwest corner of the village on the west side of North Highland Road, formerly owned by John W. Daniels and his wife, Ann E. Daniels, has been purchased by Apex Land Co., Inc. for the purpose of improving the same as a subdivision of 175 single family homes, and its plat for such development has been submitted to, and approved by this Council, subject to certain conditions, by its resolution adopted on March 12, 1956 and as amended on April 9, 1956 requiring minimum lot frontage of 66 feet, and

Whereas the development of such subdivision and the western portion of the village generally, is dependent upon the availability of sanitary sewer and water trunk lines for that area but no such trunk lines are presently available and the Village is without funds to install them, and

Whereas Hubbell Roth and Clark, Inc., the consulting engineers for the village, have estimated the cost of installing such trunk lines to the aforementioned subdivision of Apex Land Co., Inc., known as Milford Hills Subdivision, at an amount which said land company has stated is economically prohibitive but that if such cost could be distributed over a larger acreage, such cost would be economically feasible, and

Whereas the said Apex Land Co. Inc. has under option the fifty-eight acres of land owned by the said John W. Daniels and his wife, Ann E. Daniels, lying immediately to the north of said fifty-one and one-half acre parcel of the said Apex Land Co., Inc., the said property being known and described as follows:

All the N. E. ¼ of the S. W. ¼ of Section 3, Town 3 North, Range 7 East, Milford Township, and part of the N. W. ¼ of the S. E. ¼ of Section 3, T 3 N, R 7 E, Milford Township, described as beginning at the center of Section 3, thence E. along the E. and W. ¼ Section line to the westerly line of Milford Road, thence Southerly along the westerly line of Milford Road to the South ¼ line, thence West along the South ¼ line to the North and South quarter section line, thence North along the North and South quarter section line to point of beginning; and

Whereas the said consulting engineers for the Village have stated that "the proposed ten inch sanitary sewer and eight inch water main" proposed to be installed by said Apex Land Co., Inc. "will adequately serve both parcels"; and that "the sewer will serve six hundred and eighty homes", and

Whereas there are only 179 building sites contained in the fifty-one and one-half acre plat of said Apex Land Co., Inc., heretofore approved by the Village Council, and

Whereas there is being erected a large high school north of the present northern boundry of the village on North Highland Road, and it seems desirable that the village should expand in the direction in which the above described fifty-eight acre parcel lies from the Village, and

Whereas said John W. Daniels and his wife, Ann E. Daniels, as title holders of and the only electors residing in said fifty-eight acre parcel, have joined said Apex Land Co., Inc. in petitioning this Council to initiate such annexation.

Now therefore be it resolved, in view of all of the foregoing circumstances, that the Village, acting pursuant to Section 3.1470 of the Michigan Statutes annotated, petition the Oakland County Board of Supervisors, by the petition annexed to this resolution, to permit the annexation of the fifty-eight acre parcel of land hereinabove referred to, and

It is further resolved that this petition shall be presented to the Board of Supervisors, notice shall be given by the Clerk of the time and place when same shall be presented for consideration by publishing same in the Milford Times for at least three weeks immediately preceding the presentation of the petition, such notice shall contain a description of the fifty-eight acre parcel of land proposed to be annexed and shall advise all parties interested that they may appear before the Oakland County Board of Supervisors and be heard on the petition at the hour mentioned therein, regarding the proposed annexation of said premises to the territory of the Village of Milford, and

It is further resolved that a copy of this resolution be forwarded with the petition presented by the Supervisor of the Township of Milford and to the Oakland County Board of Supervisors, and

It is further resolved that the President and Clerk of the Village be and they hereby are authorized to execute the attached petition for annexation on behalf of the Council of the Village.

JOSEPH GERRARD,
President

ARVALE TIPPER,
Acting Village Clerk

I hereby certify that the above resolution was adopted by the Village Council of the Village of Milford at a regular meeting held in the Council Chambers of the Municipal Building on April 9, 1956.

ARVALE TIPPER,
Acting Village Clerk

Petition for Annexation of Described Land to the Village of Milford
To the Oakland County Board of Supervisors

The undersigned, Joseph Gerrard, as President of the Village of Milford, and Florence Harland, as Secretary of the Village of Milford, acting on behalf of the Trustees of said Village, pursuant to the terms of a certain resolution adopted by the Trustees on the 9th day of April, 1956, of which a copy is attached hereto and hereby respectfully petition your Board for the annexation to the territory of the Village of Milford, the land immediately adjoining the Village of Milford on the northern boundary thereof, and on the west side of Milford Road, said land being situated in the Township of Milford, Oakland County, Michigan described as follows:

All the Northeast quarter of the Southwest quarter of Section 3, Town 3 North, Range 7 East, Milford Township, and part of the Northwest quarter of the Southeast quarter of Section 3, Town 3 North, Range 7 East, Milford Township, described as beginning at the center of Section 3; thence East along the East and West quarter section line to the center line of Milford Road; thence southerly along the center line of Milford Road to the South ¼ line; thence West along the South ¼ line to the North and South Quarter Section line; thence North along the North and South quarter Section line to point of beginning, which said above described property is unplatted

Your petitioners represent that the above described parcel of land consists of fifty-eight (58) acres, exclusive of streets.

That petitioners are informed and verily believe, that with the exception of John W. Daniels and Ann E. Daniels, his wife, who are the title owners of said land, and who have requested the annexation, there are no residents other than the children of said John W. Daniels and Ann E. Daniels, his wife, not of voting age, residing on said property.

Your petitioners request your Honorable Body to fix a hearing at which this petition may be presented and at which all parties interested may appear before your Board and be heard concerning the proposed annexation of the above land, and that your Honorable Body take such action as is necessary, or appropriate, effecting the annexation of the land hereinabove described to the territory of the Village of Milford, Oakland County, Michigan in conformity with the applicable statutes of the State of Michigan.

Respectfully submitted,

In Re: Lease for Michigan State Police To The Honorable Board of Supervisors:

Mr. Chairman, Ladies and Gentlemen:

Whereas the State of Michigan, by the Department of Administration, has requested permission to construct, operate and maintain a facility for the Michigan State Police on land owned by the County of Oakland on a site commonly called the Service Center, and

Whereas your Buildings and Grounds Committee believes it is to the best interests of the County to have the Michigan State Police located on the Service Center property of the County, and

Whereas the previous lease with the Commissioner of State Police on a parcel of land owned by the County was cancelled by this Board on April 12, 1955, by Miscellaneous Resolution #3088 to provide a site for this facility to be constructed by the Michigan Crippled Children's Society and

Whereas a site has been selected by your Committee at the Service Center with a frontage of three hundred feet on Telegraph Road, and

Whereas representatives of the Michigan State Police met with your Committee on June 13, 1956 at the site and have indicated that such site will be adequate for their needs,

Now therefore let it be resolved that the Chairman and Clerk of this Board be authorized to execute a lease and agreement with the State of Michigan after a final survey has been made of the property, such lease to be subject to the following terms and conditions:

1. Said premises shall be used by the Michigan State Police for the purpose of the erection and maintenance of a radio antenna and tower, buildings, and barracks, signs or other structures or for any other purpose deemed necessary or useful by the State in carrying on the activity of the Michigan State Police;

2. Said lease shall contain provisions that the State will keep the radio antenna and tower and all buildings, barracks, structures and signs placed upon such premises in good condition and to maintain the grounds surrounding in a presentable manner, subject to the approval of the Board of Auditors.

3. Said lease shall run for a term not longer than 99 years and shall be executed in consideration of the payment of $1.00 and the promise of the State to cancel a previous lease with the County dated March 22, 1922;

4. Said lease to be subject to cancellation by the State upon giving the county at least 30 days notice in writing in accordance with the rule governing the service of papers as then contained in Michigan Court Rules. Said lease to contain a provision that the State shall not assign the lease in any event nor sublet the premises and the County agrees that it will retain full title to the premises, making no conveyances of title or rights in the property to any other party excepting that a conveyance may be made to the State.

Be it further resolved that, upon signing of said lease, an agreement between the State and the County shall also be executed to permit the State to remove, at its own expense, the radio antenna and tower building now located on the Service Center property within a period of three years from the date of the new lease;

Be it further resolved that the Corporation Counsel be authorized to prepare the form of the lease to be executed in accordance with the terms and conditions as herein set forth.

In Re: Easement to State for Widening M-24

Mr. Chairman, Ladies and Gentlemen:

Whereas the Michigan State Highway Department has requested a grant of an easement for highway purposes to the State of Michigan in, over, and upon the parcel land owned by the County described as:

All that part of the East ¼ of the Northeast ¼ of Section 15, Town 3 North, Range 10 East lying East of Lapeer Road (M-24) Township of Pontiac, Oakland County, Michigan which lies Westerly of (measured at right angles) and parallel to a line which lies 50 feet Easterly of the construction centerline of the North bound lane of M-24 as shown on plans No. 19 A-A-1 State Project 63-23, Sheet 19 with final right-of-way check by L. K. dated 1-17-56 and on file in the offices of the State Highway Commissioner, Lansing, Michigan.

Whereas said parcel of land is a triangular parcel seventeen feet at the base and extending along M-24 in front of the 4-H Club site approximately a distance of five hundred feet and is needed by the State for the widening of M-24, and

Whereas the Michigan State Highway Department has offered the sum of $270.00 for said parcel plus the cost of relocating the present fence which amount has been determined by the Board of Auditors to be the sum of $150.00, which amount is adequate compensation for the parcel.

Now therefore be it resolved that the Board of Auditors be authorized to execute an option to the State Highway Department for the sale of said land upon the terms and conditions as above set forth;

Be it further resolved that the Chairman and the Clerk of this Board be authorized to execute the deed upon payment to the County of the sums as above set forth.

Mr. Chairman, Ladies and Gentlemen:

Whereas this Board has heretofore approved the location and plans for the proposed Animal Welfare Shelter and authorized bids to be taken by the Board of Auditors together with the Ways and Means and Buildings and Grounds Committees, and

Whereas bids were taken which exceeded the amount appropriated from the Building Fund to cover the cost thereof, and

Whereas all of the previous bids taken have been rejected by the Committees pursuant to Miscellaneous Resolution #3098, and

Whereas your Buildings and Grounds Committee has made careful study of the facilities as planned by Clare Ditchey, architect, and is of the opinion that the plan is feasible, and

Whereas your Committee further is of the opinion that a careful study of the fees being collected by the County at the Animal Welfare Shelter, as well as the license fees collected by the County for the sale of dog licenses should be made with a view to increasing the amounts thereof to meet the increasing costs of construction and operation of the Animal Welfare Shelter,

Now therefore be it resolved as follows:

In Re: Central Garage Building Bids

Mr. Chairman, Ladies and Gentlemen:

Whereas your Buildings and Grounds Committee, following a report to your Honorable Body on April 17, 1956, has made careful review of the preliminary plans and estimates for the Central Garage Building at the Service Center, as prepared by Bery-Kiel & Associates, architects, and

Whereas there is an urgent need for the Service Garage at the County Service Center, and

Whereas the Board of Auditors, along with the architects, have suggested and your Committee has approved and now recommends to the Board the deletion of certain facilities from the building to reduce the costs at this time and to submit certain other facilities as alternates on the bid to be advertised, all of which are shown on the plans of the Central Garage Building reviewed and modified by the Buildings and Grounds Committee on June 22, 1956, and

Whereas your Committee did, on June 22, 1956, vote to recommend to this Board that bids should be taken for phase I of the Central Garage Building Service Area plus one-half of the enclosed parking area, with certain alternate items, and

Whereas your Committee has further voted to recommend that an alternate bid be taken on the Service Area only with certain alternate items.

Now therefore be it resolved

1. That Bery-Kiel & Associates, architects, be instructed to develop construction drawings and specifications for Stage I of Central Garage Building Service Area plus one-half of the enclosed parking area as presented in the architect's preliminary drawings and report dated April 2, 1956 and reviewed and modified by the Buildings and Grounds Committee on June 22, 1956;

Base Proposal — Stage I Complete, Service Area, plus one-half of enclosed parking area, with certain alternate items as approved by the Buildings and Grounds Committee

Alternate Proposal — Service Area only with certain alternate items as approved by the Buildings and Grounds Committee

Mr. Chairman, Ladies and Gentlemen:

Whereas the County Board of Education, in order to operate efficiently, requires that additional office space be added to the office facility assigned to it, viz: the County Building formerly used as the Nurses Home, now known as the Education Building, and

Whereas the Buildings and Grounds Committee, at its meeting on June 1, 1956, approved the plans and specifications for the addition to the Education Building as prepared by Wm. C. Zimmerman Associates, Architects, and

Whereas the County Board of Education has agreed to finance the total cost of the addition at the same approximate cost as that constructed on the south end of the building last year, plus additional financial arrangements to include certain other needed improvements to said building as shown on plans and specifications,

Now therefore be it resolved that the Ways and Means Committee, with the concurrence of the Buildings and Grounds Committee, recommends to the Board of Supervisors that said Board authorize the County Board of Education to add the additional office space and make other necessary improvements to the Education Building at its own expense, and that such addition be constructed under the supervision of the Buildings and Grounds Committee and, in order to facilitate early completion of the project, the Ways and Means and Buildings and Grounds Committees be authorized to approve, from the bids submitted, a general contractor and that the Committees be empowered to authorize the Board of Auditors, subject to approval of the Corporation Counsel, to contract for the work.

Be it further resolved that the effectiveness of this resolution is contingent upon the transfer by the Board of Education of the amount of the contract when ascertained by the Ways and Means and Buildings and Grounds Committees to a Special Building Fund to be set up by the Board of Auditors for the project.

In Re: Combining T.B. Sanatorium and Contagious Hospital

Mr. Chairman, Ladies and Gentlemen:

In accordance with authority and instructions given by your Honorable Body to the Special T.B. Sanatorium Study Committee on January 30, 1956, your Committee has made a careful survey of the present facilities and the present use at the Oakland County T.B. Sanatorium and a study of the possible other uses which may be made of the Sanatorium buildings.

In the course of the study, your Committee consulted with and reviewed the findings of the Oakland County Health Department as a result of the special Mobile X-Ray program being conducted and has also examined and studied the facilities and the present use of the Oakland County Contagious Hospital at the Service Center.

It is the unanimous opinion of your Committee that the facilities of the T.B. Sanatorium should be continued to be used for T.B. patients to the extent needed, and that facilities not needed at the Sanatorium should be used for patients which are now being cared for at the Contagious Hospital so as to release those facilities for other needed uses of the County.

At present, the Contagious Hospital has a very limited number of patients and your Committee has been advised by competent medical authorities that it will be entirely feasible and possible to accommodate these patients at the T.B. Sanatorium in separate facilities which are available, without interfering with the present operations there, which will result in a substantial savings to the County.

Your Committee held a joint meeting at the Sanatorium on June 18, 1956 with the Trustees, Medical Director and Business Administrator of the T.B. Sanatorium and the Board of Auditors, at such meeting your Committee unanimously agreed to recommend to the Board of Supervisors that steps be taken to consolidate the operations of the T.B. Sanatorium and the Contagious Hospital in Oakland County, which the Corporation Counsel has advised would be possible under existing statutes.

The Committee has therefore requested Dr. John D. Monroe, Director of the Oakland County Health Department, Dr. James T. Cheng, Medical Superintendent of the T.B. Sanatorium, James O'Connor, Superintendent of the Contagious Hospital, the Corporation Counsel of the County and the Board of Auditors, to make further study as to how the T.B. and Contagious units can be consolidated, both from a medical and legal standpoint and report to your Special Committee so that your Committee may bring back a further report with definite recommendations to the Board at the next regular meeting.

In Re: Registration of Voters

Mr. Chairman, Ladies and Gentlemen:

Whereas the post-war trend towards suburban living has resulted in a tremendous increase in the population of Oakland County, and

Whereas at last count, an estimated 140,000 new residents of the County are not registered to vote, and

Whereas both the Republican and Democratic State Chairmen have issued statements calling for intensive drives to make sure that all eligible citizens in the State are registered, and

Whereas no central authority exists in this County which could effectively carry out an intensive "register-and-vote" drive,

Now therefore be it resolved that the Chairman of the Board of Supervisors of Oakland County appoint a voluntary, bi-partisan committee composed of an equal number of representatives of the Republican and Democratic parties to carry out a registration drive during Citizenship Week beginning September 17th, and

Be it further resolved that this Committee work with village, township and city governments and interested civic groups in the County to evolve a feasible plan under which such a drive be conducted, and

Be it finally resolved that the said Committee consider the use of schools and other public buildings, shopping centers, department stores, labor halls etc. as special registration places and the use of newspaper advertisements sponsored by civic minded business establishments, and radio and television "spot announcements" to call attention to a Citizenship Week registration drive

In Re: Administrative Code

Mr. Chairman, Ladies and Gentlemen:

Your By-Laws Committee respectfully reports as follows:

Pursuant to reference from this Board, of the inquiry from the League of Women Voters relative to an Administrative Code for Oakland County, your Committee met on August 16, 1956 and a discussion was had relative to the proposed Administrative Code.

Mr. Merritt informed us that he had spent considerable time in preparation of a proposed code, that the only County that he could learn of in the United States which had such a code was Los Angeles County, California and that a study of that code did not seem to be of much assistance in preparing a code for Oakland County. He further advised us he had made inquiry at the University of Michigan and they had no material whatsoever that would be helpful. It was suggested that by way of the Public Administration Service Survey recommendation of a code that inquiry be made as to what they thought a code would accomplish by way of improving county government; and it was further suggested that inquiry be made from the League of Women Voters as to what, specifically, they had in mind that might be accomplished by the Code.

I wish to report to this Board that Mr. Merritt was delegated to make inquiry from the Public Administration Service and in response to his inquiry, he received a code which had been prepared by the Public Administration Service for Ottumwa, Iowa, and also a code for the City of Grand Rapids, Michigan. These proposed codes are now under study by your Committee to determine whether or not they may be readily adapted to county government and your Committee will need time for studying the material and will report at a later meeting if it meets with this Board's approval.

Mr. Chairman, I move the adoption of the foregoing as a temporary report on this matter.

In Re: Justice Court Probation Officer
To the Honorable Board of Supervisors
Mr. Chairman, Ladies and Gentlemen:

Whereas at a meeting of your Honorable Body held on June 25, 1956, the request of the Oakland County Judicial Association to appoint a probation officer for the Justice and Municipal Courts of Oakland County was referred to your Miscellaneous Committee, and

Whereas your Committee met with representatives of the Judicial Association on July 25, 1956 to consider and study this request and has also studied the opinion of the Honorable Clark J. Adams, Circuit Judge, in the case of Billy Lewis Hamilton, Petitioner vs. Emmett J. Leib, as Justice of the Peace of the Township of Springfield, Oakland County, Michigan, being Oakland County Circuit case No. L-29838, and

Whereas your Committee has been advised that while the Statute (M.S.A. 27.3181) of the State of Michigan gives the Justice Courts the right to place individuals on probation, there is no probation officer provided in the County at the present time for this purpose, and

Whereas the use of probation plays a very important function in solving family problems, such as non-support, drinking, assault and battery and neglect of children, and

Whereas it is felt that a good probation system for Justice Courts which can be enforced will decrease the welfare load, since individuals will know that they have to support their family or go to jail, and

Whereas your Committee has been further advised that the number of jail sentences now given would be decreased, because the Courts would know that their conditions of probation could be enforced, and

Whereas our study of this matter reveals the dire need of extending probation functions, similar in scope to those presently rendered to Circuit Court cases, to all Justice and Municipal Courts within the County,

Now therefore be it resolved that the present staff of the County Probation Department be augmented by one additional Probation Officer to be appoined by the State Department of Corrections upon the recommendation of the Circuit Judges, such officer to work under the direction of the Chief Probation Officer and have for his chief assignment the handling of all cases originating from the Justice and Municipal Courts:

Be it further resolved that the matter of the employment of an additional Probation Officer be referred to both the Salaries and Ways and Means Committees for further study and recommendations to this Board.

In Re: Salaries Report
To the Honorable Board of Supervisors
Ladies and Gentlemen:

Your Salaries Committee in conjunction with the Board of Auditors, herewith submits for the consideration of your Honorable Body, their recommended salary budget for the year 1957 and following a procedure established in 1951, this report should be construed as a joint report of bton the Salaries Committee and the Board of Auditors except as follows:

The proposed salaries for the following named group are solely the recommendations of your Salaries Committee and in no way should such recommendations be construed as a part of the joint report of both the Salaries Committee and the Board of Auditors.

1. Recommended Salaries for officials to be elected or appointed to constitutional and statutory offices for definite terms commencing January 1, 1957.

2. Recommended salary adjustments for officials, when such adjustments are permitted by law,

3. Recommended salary adjustments for chief deputies of the various offices.

An abstract of positions and recommended salaries has been prepared and copies distributed to members of the Board. A copy has also been filed in the office of the County Clerk for information of the general public.

In reviewing your copy of the "Abstract of Positions," you will find abstracts covering the salaries of employes of both the County Board of Education and the Tuberculosis Sanatorium. State Statutes provide that the governing bodies of these departments are empowered to establish the salaries of their employes. However, since the creation of the Board of Auditors Personnel Division in the year 1943, both departments have voluntarily subscribed to the salary rate sand personnel practices established for employes of all other county departments.

Following an established precedent, we have omitted from the official resolution, all individual salaries except the salaries for officers, Constitutional and Statutory, where new terms of office will commence January 1, 1957.

We recommend to your Honorable Body that the elective and appointive officials who will fill offices for which an annual salary is established as listed below, be fully informed that our recommended annual salary rates for such offices where predicated on the assumption that such officials shall devote their entire time to county affairs during the work week and hours previously established by the adoption of Miscellaneous Resolution No. 2971 by this Board on January 21, 1953 as the official work week and office hours for all county offices and departments.

Probate Judge: Four year term—January 1, 1957 to December 31, 1960. Recommended annual salary $22,500 (full time basis per letter to Salaries Committee and filed with County Clerk that Probate Judge will do no legal work during Probate Court office hours which we construe to be regular office hours as set forth herein)

County Treasurer: Two year term—January 1, 1957 to December 31, 1958—Recommended anual salary $10,250.00

Sheriff: Two year term—January 1, 1957 to December 31, 1958—Recommended annual salary $8,000.00. In addition to the annual salary the Sheriff and his family shall be entitled to receive maintenance which shall consist of quarters in the Oakland County Jail Building, meals, laundry and incidental household expense supplies in connection therewith to the Sheriff and his family. Such maintenance was previously approved by the adoption of Supervisors Miscellaneous Resolution No. 2948 on October 26, 1954.

Dog Warden: One year term—January 1, 1957 to December 31, 1957—Recommended annual salary $6,750.00 provided the appointee is a registered Veterinarian. If the appointee does not possess such qualifications, we recommend the salary be adjusted accordingly.

3 Members of Canvassing Board: Two year term—January 1, 1957 to December 31, 1958. Presently receive $10 per day for actual days worked plus eight cents per mile of travel. Michigan Statutes Annotated (Sec. 6.1630) provides that the Board of Supervisors or Board of Auditors may establish such compensation for the members of the Canvassing Board as is reasonable. Your Salaries Committee recommends that the per diem rate be increased from $10.00 to $14.00 effective January 1, 1957 and recommends that no change be made for mileage allowance.

For your information only, we are submitting the following list of offices to be filled by appointment at the October Session of this Board, the salaries for which, if any, are set by State Statute and therefore not subject to adjustment by this Board.

APPOINTIVE OFFICES
COMPENSATION, IF ANY, SET BY STATUTE

1 Member of Board of Trustees, T.B. Sanatorium: Three year term—January 1, 1957 to December 31, 1959. No compensation allowable by statute. Actual, reasonable and necessary expenses allowable. (M.S.A. 14.1100)

4 Members of County Planning Commission: Three year term—January 1, 1957 to December 31, 1959. No compensation allowable by statute. Actual, reasonable and necessary expenses allowable. (M.S.A. 5.1192 (3)).

EMPLOYEES' SALARIES

The Board of Auditors, through its Personnel Division, has reviewed and compared the salaries paid by the various public agencies and private business concerns in this locality for the current year and the study reveals that many of our positions are underpaid, especially in the professional, semi-professional and skilled classifications. This situation is also reflected in the great turnover of employes in these positions and the difficulty in securing qualified personnel to fill such vacancies.

The study also reveals that the rates presently paid other employes, while close to going rates, is slightly under the present market.

To correct this situation, we recommend that the revised rates shown in your copy of the abstract be approved as the official rates for the various classifications, effective as of January 1, 1957.

In computing the revised schedule of rates for the year 1957 (see abstract), we found it necessary, in many instances, to make flat amount adjustments for numerous classifications which would increase the salaries of such classifications to figure sufficient to meet competition and assist in the recruitment of qualified personnel. However, the great majority of rate adjustments were computed on a percentage basis which would increase the present 1956 rates ranging from 3 per cent or $104 per annum, whichever is the greatest, to 10 per cent for other classifications, such percentages having been computed against the maximum or top bracket of the present rates. The aggregate of such computations were then added to every salary step within the classification, that is, the employe in the starting salary step of a classification would receive the same number of dollars of increase as the employe in the maximum salary bracket. The only employes who would not receive a salary adjustment are those whose salaries are set by State Statute and in the judgment of the Salaries Committee, are presently receiving salaries which equal or surpass rates paid to other county employes doing like work.

Such adjustments, in our opinion, will bring the county's 1957 pay scale in line with wages paid by other public agencies and private business concerns located in this area.

In establishing the recommended salary rates for employes for the year 1957, we based such rates on the assumption that all county employes shall devote their entire time to county affairs during the work week and hours previously established by the adoption of Miscellaneous Resolution No. 2971 on January 21, 1953. Further that each department head be held responsible for reporting all violations of this recommended regulation if approved by your Honorable Body.

Largely due to the rapid growth of the county's population which naturally increases the volume of business handled by the various departments and calls for the development of new services, we recommend that the "New Positions" listed in the abstract be approved by your Honorable Body.

To provide better salary budgetary control, which has proven successful during the current year, we wish to again recommend that monies required to finance the salaries of the "New Positions" be placed in the special fund known as the "Salary Reserve Fund." As a new position is actually filled, an amount of money necessary to cover the salary for the balance of the fiscal year will be transferred from said fund and placed to the credit of the salary allotment of the affected department.

We also wish to recommend that amounts appearing in the abstract under the title of "Emergency Salaries" be placed in the "Salary Reserve Fund" and transferred to the affected department's salary allotment when, in the judgment of the Salaries Committee and the Board of Auditors, the employment of additional personnel is justified to meet unforeseen circumstances or conditions.

The Salaries Committee and the Board of Auditors also recommend that they be permitted to make salary adjustments which may become necessary due to changes in classifications which may result because of changes in departmental operations, provided the cost of such adjustments does not disturb the overall salary allotment of the affected department.

OFFICE HOURS

The Salaries Committee recommends that the Board of Auditors be authorized and instructed to contact all department heads and request that they remind their employes of the office hours established by the adoption of Miscellaneous Resolution No. 2971 on January 21, 1953, which provides that the official office hours are from 8:30 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. Monday through Friday. Lunch hour period to be 45 minutes.

CONCLUSION

In order to comply with the schedule of dates for tax procedures, we have, previous to this date, furnished the Ways and Means Committee with the amounts as shown below, in order that the same could be considered in the preparation of the budget to be submitted by that committee.

Whereas on behalf of the Salaries Committee and the Board of Auditors, I offer the following resolution:

Be it resolved the amount of $4,328,068.06 which is the total sum of both the "1957 Salary Appropriation" and the "Salary Reserve Fund," as itemized below, be placed in the budget for the year 1957 to cover the salaries of officials and employes of the following named departments:

Hall was asked during a filmed television interview yesterday about the award of a contract for a 43-million-dollar expansion of the government's nickel plant at Nicaro, Cuba. Half of that contract went to the Snare Corp.

A former official of that firm has testified he talked with Hall about the award, and that he and other company officials later increased their Republican campaign contributions, though he did not consider that a "condition" of the award.

Hall said that no government contract "has ever been controlled by any action on my part or anyone in the national committee." He said also he never asked for any donation "large or small," and knew nothing about the Snare Corp. contributions "until I read it in the paper."

Hall declined to testify earlier this month at a House Government Operations Subcommittee hearing on the contract award, saying he was too busy to appear before the election.

But he said that "when the election is over I will be there because there's nothing to it at all."

Hall predicted "a tremendous victory" for President Eisenhower in next month's election. Although the contest for control of the Senate and House is "much tighter," he said, "I think we're going to carry both houses."

He declined to forecast who might get the GOP presidential nomination in 1960 but commented, when asked about Vice President Nixon's chances, that "very few vice presidents have been nominated for president."

Invading Man's World

UNION CITY, N.J. (AP)— Mary Ann Bonalski, 17, has gotten her foot in the door of the all-male Naval Academy at Annapolis, according to Rep. T. James Tumulty. Tumulty said Mary Ann, who wants to become the first of her sex at the academy, will be allowed to take a preliminary entrance examination Nov. 21. Whether she will be allowed to enter the academy if she qualifies is another matter. Navy Secretary Thomas would then make a decision on the matter.

GOMULKA DRAWS HUGE AUDIENCE — Wladyslaw Gomulka, right, Polish Communist party chief, addresses what is believed to be the largest street gathering in the history of Warsaw, Poland. Shortly after Gomulka addressed the huge crowd, estimated at 500,000, street fighting broke out when thousands of the Poles gathered outside the Hungarian Embassy to shout their support for the rioters battling Soviet and Hungarian troops in Budapest. The inflamed crowd was turned back by security forces as they started to march on the Soviet Embassy.

League to Demonstrate Use of Voting Machine

Representatives of the League of Women Voters this week will demonstrate the operation of voting machines in Pontiac's City Hall and Community National Bank, Mrs. William Wright, president of the League, said today.

Demonstrations will be conducted during business hours at both stations, Mrs. Wright said, as a public service to voters unfamiliar with use of the machines.

HOPEFUL—Ready to leave for London with high hopes of regaining custody of her daughter, Tanya, Mrs. Helena Dieczok, 24, adopts a hopeful attitude during a press conference at the Church World Service headquarters in New York City. The woman's husband, Alex Chwastov, sailed for Russia with their 2½-year-old daughter, but he is currently being detained in London on a court order while authorities continue to probe the case.

Fall Institute for Teachers Now in Session

Gov. G. Mennen Williams and Carl J. Megel of Chicago, president of the AFL-CIO American Federation of Teachers are among the principal speakers at the annual fall teacher's institute of regions six and seven of the Michigan Federation of Teachers in Detroit today and tomorrow.

Both Williams and Megal addressed the morning session today of the group which includes Oakland, Macomb and parts of Wayne County.

Tomorrow's speakers at the institute include Dr. Gerald W. Boicourt of Wayne University on "Our Problems of Overcrowded Classes and Teacher Shortage;" Ralph Smith of Ypsilanti on "Changes in the D Certification Code," and Clinton D. Fair, the Michigan Federation's legal representative on "Legislation Education."

More Bedrooms

CHICAGO — The United States Savings and Loan League estimates that 75 per cent of all the new houses built in the United States will contain three bedrooms. In 1954 only 58 per cent of the new homes built had three bedrooms; in 1955 this rose to 68 per cent.

Rigid Divorce Law

NEW YORK — Adultery is the sole ground for divorce in New York. The defendant may not remarry during the lifetime of the plaintiff unless modification of the divorce decree is obtained, and this modification cannot be applied for until three years after the divorce.

Wilson Denies C-Bomb Plans

Calls Adlai's Mention of Cobalt Weapon Just 'Loose Talk'

What scares the people of the world, he said during a CBS-TV interview, is not so much the testing of the bombs as the possibility they may be used in war.

He was asked about the proposal of Adlai E. Stevenson, Democratic presidential nominee, that the United States take the lead in seeking agreement to halt testing the bombs. Wilson said there's "nothing new" about that and added:

* * *

"The Russians have been doing it right along. They've brought it up from time to time."

Wilson said also that "there's no such thing" as a cobalt bomb either in existence or on the drawing boards, and that mention of such a bomb is just "loose talk."

Stevenson, in a campaign address in Rockford, Ill., Friday, asked whether if Russia catches up with the United States on H-bombs, this country's next step might be to build a "cobalt bomb or something even worse."

Wilson said that so far as he knows, this country had nothing directly to do with recent revolts in Hungary and Poland. He said, however, that the decision to continue foreign aid to Yugoslavia may have given people of both countries "a clear example of another people that had asserted their independence from Moscow."

Aussies Can Enjoy Oysters Year Around

CANBERRA—Australians don't have to stop eating oysters when there is no "R" in the month.

May, June, July, and August are the European and American breeding months, but in Australia "farm-grown" oysters are edible the year around.

The European and American oyster retains its eggs inside the shell during breeding and when the eggs, in turn, develop shells, the oyster becomes gritty and unpleasant to the palate. The Sydney rock oyster, grown in Australia, releases its eggs into the open water and remains edible all year around.

JEAN'S NEW JOAN — Producer-director Otto Preminger plants a kiss on the cheek of 17-year-old Jean Seberg, of Marshalltown, Iowa. The young actress has been chosen for the title role in Preminger's film version of Bernard Shaw's "Saint Joan." Jean was chosen from 18,000 applicants in a "new face" search.

Arabs on Strike to Defy France

Protest Wave Spreads in Africa as Violence Kills 1, Hurts 60

PARIS (AP) — Anti-French demonstrations have spread across the Arab world in sympathy with Algerian rebels trying to wrest independence from French rule.

One man was killed and more than 60 injured yesterday in riots and other violence against the French outside Algeria. A general strike to protest recent French actions in Algeria halted work in much of the Arab world.

At the same time the war persisted within Algeria. Weekend deaths totaled some 95, including 23 French soldiers and 8 civilians caught in a carefully laid rebel ambush south of Algiers.

The anti-French violence elsewhere apparently was the result of a call by the nine-nation Arab League for a 24-hour general strike on behalf of five Algerian nationalist leaders captured by a French ruse a week ago.

Arab mobs burned the French consulate in the Old City of Jerusalem, smashed windows of the French-owned buildings in the Syrian city of Aleppo.

Sixteen Arab civilians, two consulate clerks and several policemen were reported wounded in the attack on the Jerusalem consulate. The consular staff took refuge on the roof and was rescued by Jordanian troops.

In Aleppo, a town of 350,000 in Syria, a mob ran wild for three hours, setting fire to four French mission schools and the French information center. Police shot into the crowd, killing one rioter and wounding 29.

The strike disrupted business in Tripoli, Aden, Baghdad, Beirut, and Cairo.

Scientists Now Use Sun-Ray Furnaces

DENVER (INS) — Furnaces heated by sun rays are serving as valuable tools for scientists and engineers.

The solar furnaces generate temperatures of more than 6,000 degrees Fahrenheit in an atmosphere free of burning gases, electrode fragments or other impurities, enabling researchers to heat samples without exposing them to unwanted contamination.

Guy Beneviste and Nevin K. Hiester of Stanford Research Institute at Menlo Park, Calif., made an analysis of the value of solar furnaces recently in a paper presented in Denver before the American Society of Mechanical Engineers.

The most note-worthy development in the use of solar furnaces mentioned by the two men was in the testing of high-temperature materials for use in jet and rocket engines.

Solar installations also have been used to conduct high-temperature research programs in oxidizing atmospheres, in air, and in controlled atmospheres with special quartz containers.

Feather Cloak Took 100 Years to Make

HONOLULU — More than 160 feather cloaks and capes that were the state robes and battle dress of old Hawaii's highest chiefs still exist. They were made by craftsmen who plucked fine feathers from certain birds—some of them now extinct. The birds were snared at molting time, partially plucked, and released to grow more feathers.

An average cloak required the feathers of 10,000 birds. Bishop Museum in Honolulu has the world's largest collection of these rarities—10 cloaks and 17 capes. The most prized is a cloak owned by Kamekameha I numbering nearly a half-million feathers—from 80,000 to 90,000 yellow mamo birds. The cloak is said to have taken 100 years to make; its value at 1,000,000.

Board of Supervisors

ly 40 cases, and (2) that the facilities at the T. B. Sanatorium were not adaptable for this purpose without extensive and costly alterations.

Inasmuch as this report leaves the Contagious program still at the Contagious Hospital, the use of this facility for juvenile purposes would appear to be eliminated for the present.

A survey of other possible county owned housing for juvenile relief has revealed no other possible solution for the expected juvenile crowding this fall other than perhaps some limited use of Camp Oakland.

The Board has likewise investigated the use of temporary buildings to carry on the Juvenile School Program but it is the opinion of both Mr. Hunt and ourselves that the cost of such a program would be extremely excessive in view of the space which would be released, and in addition would not afford relief in time for the expected fall load.

In the light of the above, it is recommended that the study for a permanent housing program for juveniles be expedited; that monies be appropriated for this study and that a timetable be established with the view of offering a special bond proposal to finance the project in the early spring of 1957.

Diphtheria Hits West Detroit

Inoculation Records to Be Examined to Help Check Spread

DETROIT (AP) — A 26-year-old housewife, admitted to the hospital last night, is the 17th possible diphtheria case discovered since last Wednesday in a lower west side neighborhood.

Dr. Paul T. Salchow, Herman Kiefer hospital superintendent, said Mrs. Reba Keel walked into the hospital last night with symptoms of the disease and will undergo examination.

Carol Pangracz, 7-year-old member of a family of 10 who all are hospitalized with diphtheria symptoms, is the only person on the critical list, Salchow said.

"The others are in good condition and it is possible that at least two of them do not have the disease," Dr. Salchow said.

The patients all are children with the exception of Carol's mother and Mrs. Keel. All live in the area of the Amos Elementary School where Dr. Salchow said health officials will examine records today to determine how many children have been inoculated against diphtheria.

Dr. Joseph Molner, city health commissioner, said "our records show that 85 per cent of the children were protected a year ago, but we want to make sure they all are protected."

Bruno Walter to End Symphony Conducting

NEW YORK (AP)—Bruno Walter, 80, has announced that after this season he will discontinue his regular appearances with the New York Philharmonic-Symphony as guest conductor.

Walter, who has been associated with the Philharmonic off and on for 34 years, wrote in part:

"I feel that the hour has struck for me to discontinue an activity which has meant so much to me. It seems to me to be in the interest of the New York Philharmonic as well as in my own to leave before age compels me to do so."

Presley Scorns Money—He Just Loves Show Biz

NEW YORK (AP)—Rock 'n' roller Elvis Presley says he'd go back to driving a truck if he thought his type of entertainment contributed to juvenile delinquency.

"Money doesn't mean anything to me. It's this business I love," he said.

The 21-year-old singer said he had grossed more than one million dollars this year.

Earlier, about 1,000 squealing teen-agers were disappointed when Presley failed to appear at the unveiling of a 40-foot likeness of himself over the marquee of a Times Square theater.

* * *

Before a TV appearance, Presley received a Salk antipolio shot. City Health Commissioner Leona Baumgartner said he set a "fine example" for teen-agers who have not yet taken the Salk shots.

Robinson, Price Divide $64,000 in TV Art Quiz

NEW YORK (INS) — Actors Vincent Price and Edward G. Robinson split $64,000 last night when each failed to answer the tie-breaking question on the "$64,000 Challenge" quiz show.

ABC to Tackle Variety Show

Bert Lahr Is Starred in 'School for Brides' on November 11

By JACK O'BRIAN

NEW YORK (INS)—Hal March gets the male star role Nov. 24 opposite Nanette Fabray in "High Button Shoes." NBC will pay Hal a five-figure take-home . . .

Hal (this guy's everywhere) will be the only male in Dinah Shore's Chevy Show Friday—Dinah, Hildegarde and Betty Grable are the gals.

ABC, which hasn't gone in much for variety shows, will try one Nov. 8—"The 1957 Rocket Revue" — with John Daly as emcee, singer Bill Hayes, the Chordettes, comic Leo de Lyon and Archie Bleyer's orchestra.

Bert Lahr, finest clown there is, stars in Moliere's "School for Brides" on "Omnibus" Nov. 11. . . He has 103 pages to learn. . .

Lee Phillips of Broadway's "Middle of the Night" is up to his wallet in TV, too: "On Trial," Friday; Hitchcock Presents, Nov. 11. . .

The postponement until Nov. 19 or 26 of the "The Most Beautiful Girl in the World" because of the elections also caused a production shakeup. Paul Feigay (formerly of "Omnibus") now will produce, not Lyn Duddy and Jerry Bresler, the Godfrey "firemen." . . .

Edward Small will produce 39 brand new "Charlie Chan" episodes with New York born Irishman J. Carrol Naish (erstwhile "Luigi") as Charlie. . .

Naish gets around in his roles; he's been an Italian in "Luigi," a Japanese prince in "Shanghai Gesture," Chinese in Loretta Young's "The Hatchet Man," Hindu in "Lives of a Bengal Lancer," Arab in "The Crusaders," etc.

One "Meet the Press" sponsor is flying away.

31ST ANNIVERSARY

"Grand Ole Opry" notes its 31st anniversary in Nashville Nov. 9. It's older than most of its grads, certainly than its truant Elvis Presley. . .

Cantinflas is too rich to bother with NBC's $35,000 one-shot offer.

Bob Hope and NBC are juggling a new five-year pact. . .

Youth Hurt as Car Leaves Road in Fog

A Pontiac youth suffered a broken leg and face cuts and his companion received minor injuries when their car went off the road and struck a tree on Gunn road near Rochester today.

Roland McAnelley, 16, of 801 N. Perry St., a passenger, is in fair condition at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital. The driver, Joseph Nicholson, 30, of 83 Axford St., Lake Orion, was treated and released at the hospital.

Nicholson told investigating Oakland County deputies his car went out of control when he failed to see a curve in the early morning fog.

POLISH ARMY BOSS — Gen. Waclaw Komar, commander of the Polish Army's Internal Security Forces, is shown as he delivered an address in Warsaw, Poland, on Oct. 21, commemorating the 20th anniversary of the Polish brigade's participation in the Spanish war. General Komar, a rehabilitated "Titoist," is reported to be loyal to Wladyslaw Gomulka, who was formally installed as first secretary of the Polish Communist party, despite Moscow's expressed objections to him.

President Asks Veterans' Day Be Observed Nov. 11

WASHINGTON (INS)—President Eisenhower has proclaimed Sunday, Nov. 11, as Veterans' Day.

The President called upon all citizens to observe the day with appropriate ceremonies. It will be the 38th anniversary of the original Armistice Day ending World War I.

The President said: "On Veterans' Day let us recall with solemn gratitude the courage and the sacrifices of our veterans and let us reconsecrate ourselves to the preservation of our cherished freedom."

He declared that "It is appropriate that we should set aside one day each year to express our gratitude and indebtedness to those who have sacrificed so much, and to rededicate ourselves not only to the preservation of our heritage of freedom but also to the task of achieving tn enduring peace with honor among all nations of the world."

The President recalled that Congress by an act passed in 1954 provided that the old Armistice Day should be designated as Veterans' Day.

Diggs Attacks Ike's Program

Also Hits Fellow Dem Powell for Supporting Eisenhower

Speaking at a rally here last night, Diggs also took a slap at Rep. Adam Clayton Powell (D-NY), who last week announced his support of President Eisenhower.

While not mentioning Powell by name, Diggs said:

Last week one of my two Negro colleagues in the House announced his support of Eisenhower. He said he was doing so because he admired Eisenhower's civil rights program. Any man that would say a thing like that is either misguided, misinformed or motivated by personal considerations."

4 Japanese Soldiers Learn War Is Over

MANILA (INS)—Four Japanese Army stragglers, who didn't know World War II was over, were due to arrive in Manila today for return to their homeland.

The four holdouts were officially informed yesterday of the end of hostilities by Toyokichi Nakagawa, first secretary of the Japanese Embassy in the Philippines.

He and Philippine officials used a helicopter to journey to the remote plateau in Central Mindoro where the Japanese have hidden the past 11 years.

Philippine officials expressed belief there are still about six Japanese soldiers hiding in the rugged jungle country. Early reports which placed the number of holdouts at 50 were discounted.

Farmers Approving Lean Meat Trend

AMES, Iowa — Livestock specialists at Iowa State College have found that it takes 1,000 pounds of corn or feed equivalent to boost a calf's weight from 400 to 600 pounds. But for the growth from 900 to 1,000 pounds it takes the equivalent of 2,150 pounds of feed.

A 75-pound pig can reach 150 pounds on 365 pounds of feed, they found, but the next 75 pounds of gain requires 435 pounds of feed.

The larger or fatter the animal, the fewer the rate of gain. Therefore the current demand for lean meat is all right from a feed economy standpoint with the farmer who supplies the hogs and cattle.

Woman Balloonist Recalls Her Flights

PARIS (INS) — Fifty years ago or so, Mme. Mathilde Airault thought nothing of packing a bottle of French champagne and a basket of tea sandwiches, jumping into her hoopskirt and then piloting her balloon over the French countryside.

She liked it so much that in 1908 she got her balloon piloting license.

Interviewed in Paris recently on her 84th birthday, she recalled that the aerial costume consisted of a long skirted muslin dress and a leghorn hat with a long veil that tied under her chin.

Her ascents were publicized and she became a national character. Her Sunday afternoon flights from Paris parks and gardens were of concern to large numbers of her countrymen. "Once," she said, "I managed to land barely on the edge of the ocean shore, when the crowd thought I had already dropped into the sea. When they saw me coming toward them safe and alone, they couldn't believe it."

Madame Airault still has a glass of champagne, still indulges in tea sandwiches, but no longer makes ascensions. She does look back wistfully on her high flying days.

"The modern plane," she said, "demands constant alertness, a technical education, and complicated calculations. In a balloon we just went up, sweetly and slowly. For hours, pushed by the wind, we had nothing to do but look at the mosaic of the earth and dream. The balloon—that was escape."

Tourists bring in about $412 million a year in Texas which is more income than any other industry except cotton.

Norway Extending Health Insurance

OSLO — Norway's obligatory health-insurance program has been extended to cover the last 10 per cent of the population of 3,400,000, and benefits have been increased. It offers free choice of physician, medical care, hospitalization, surgery, maternity benefits, remedial therapy, as well as cash payments during illness.

Under the amended law there is no time limit on hospitalization, and in the case of cancer, polio, tuberculosis, and arthritis, cash benefits will be paid beyond the 104-week limit for major diseases; ordinarily the insured is entitled to cash payments for 52 weeks.

Employers pay 60 per cent of the premiums; the State and the insured pay 20 per cent each.

TUCSON, Ariz. (INS) — A braille switchboard, he believes to be the largest in the world, is being operated at an aircraft plant here by Joseph L. Abel, who is president of the Arizona State Assn. for the Blind. "I hope it will encourage other companies to do the same and make jobs for blind persons," Abel said.

Jokers Set Big Ship Adrift

Trick Treats Sailors to Hectic Hour on River

WINDSOR, Ont. (INS) — Halloweeners pulled off a "king-sized" prank on the Detroit River in Windsor which could have resulted in death and $100,000 damage.

Coast Guard authorities said "someone" untied eight lines of the H.M.C.S. Wolf, a Canadian patrol craft, sending the 110-foot ship drifting down the river Saturday night. It silently glided along for an hour, narrowly missing other river craft and the abutments of the huge Ambassador Bridge spanning the river from Detroit to Windsor.

Lt. Cmdr. J. Keith of Windsor, who commands the Hunter Naval Base in Windsor, said a sleeping Reservist aboard the ship could have been killed if the craft wrecked. Keith said the Wolf would have sunk if it had hit an abutment or any other ships on the river.

Someone spotted the ship and notified Keith by telephone. He set out in an outboard motorboat to overtake the Wolf.

NO LIGHTS

Meanwhile, police and fireboats joined the chase. The drifting Wolf was without lights.

Just south of the bridge, the J. W. Westcott, another river boat, succeeded in getting a line aboard the Wolf and kept her in tow until Keith and others got aboard and awakened the sleeping seaman.

He said the seaman, who he refused to name, had permission to sleep and was guilty of no violation.

The commander said he was sure Halloweeners set the ship adrift. He commented, "All eight lines would not have come loose accidentally."

Junior Executives Have Frustrations

NEW YORK (INS)—A New York psychiatrist has warned that the harrassed junior and above-junior executive in the 25 to 45-age bracket is more to be pitied than scorned.

Dr. Leonard Cammer explained that these young executives "constantly show frustration, tension and anxiety." He added:

"This fellow in the middle is usually one who is given responsibility for the job, but is rarely given the authority to carry it out . . . his power is curbed, his control is restricted, (and) his right to make decisions is denied."

As a result, the psychiatrist told the business and industrial medical conference in New York, the danger zone for potential mental breakdown among executives exists in this age bracket.

He Can Sell It

HAMILTON, Bermuda—Warwick Academy in Bermuda is believed to be the Western Hemisphere's oldest secondary school. It was founded in 1626. The first regularly appointed schoolmaster recieved 265 pounds of tobacco as his annual salary.

Free Well Water

ILLIFF, Colo. (INS) — Illiff is the only town in northeastern Colorado which offers cool well water from a town pump. O. O. Hillman, 73, said the pump was operating when he arrived in 1905. Other old-timers can't recall when the pump was first used.

Says Colleges Need 'Scholarship' Help

AKRON, O. (INS) — A noted industrialist believes that colleges and universities need more financial aid from American industry.

Economic pressure on higher education has increased in recent years to the point where funds normally received by colleges and universities are no longer sufficient to cover their costs of providing education for their students."

Thus, he said, the institutions of learning need some "Scholarship" help themselves.

He said American industry is recognizing its interest in and its obligation to higher education and working to help alleviate this problem.

Collyer announced his own firm has just embarked on a comprehensive program that not only grants student and employe scholarships but includes several methods for providing aid directly to colleges and universities.

The company will match dollar-for-dollar the gifts given to schools by its employes, provide funds for research and consultants, and make additional grants to schools attended by winners of the company's scholarships.

Embedded With Whiskey

NORFOLK, Va. (INS) — The truck was empty but the thickness of the bed interested R. A. Hart, specia investigator for the Alcohol Tax Division. Investigation showed a hatch which lifted out. Inside were 240 gallons of moonshine whisky in fruit jars.
