Sales Tax Hike Plan Advances in Legislature

May Hear Charges on Straley in 1 Week

The Herbert W. Straley hearing may begin in one week.

Promising speedy action, Civil Service commissioners indicated that at their next regular meeting on police affairs, they may begin airing of charges under which the Pontiac police chief was suspended yesterday.

Straley has until Sunday to answer the charges in writing and to demand a hearing, or else his suspension becomes permanent.

"Under one interpretation of the law, we could put off the hearing until 10 days after the chief has answered, but it's better to hold it as soon as possible," said Gerald Guinan, a member of the three-man board.

Stuart Austin, chairman of the Commission, agreed. "It is also our intention to hold the hearing on consecutive nights, not adjourn it from week to week," he said.

Commissioner Theodore Carlson has indicated he, too, favors quick action.

Commissioners decided to hold a hearing within 10 days of the date the charges were filed, which was Monday. This decision put the deadline at Feb. 19, but the Board was going to meet Feb. 18 anyway.

"Although the hearing promises to be lengthy, I'm sure we will be through by the April 6 election," said Austin. That's when voters will decide whether to repeal Civil Service for police and replace it with the old trial board.

Straley appeared confident but kept close-mouthed yesterday as he left City Hall after turning his badge and police pistol over to City Manager Walter K. Willman.

"If I want to make any statement, I'll let you know," he told newsmen before driving off with City Commissioner Robert A. Landry, a supporter of his.

There were no indications that Straley has changed his mind about fighting the charges.

"I have every confidence that Straley will return to office," Landry told fellow commissioners last night.

Landry fired another round at Public Safety Director George D. Eastman, who made the charges against Straley.

He called for abolishment of the safety director post as "un-

Report 21 Dead in Twister Wake

7 Missing, 70 Others Hospitalized and 1,400 Homeless in St. Louis

ST. LOUIS (UP)—The number of dead caused by the tornado which gouged across St. Louis Tuesday has reached 21. Another seven persons are missing, and at least 70 more are in hospitals.

Only one of those hospitalized was on the critical list.

Relief workers still are measuring dimensions of the misery inflicted by the twister. The Red Cross estimated 1,400 homeless in St. Louis and the county.

The Insurance Board of St. Louis said 4,000 buildings were damaged at a loss of 12 million dollars.

President Eisenhower declared the stricken city a disaster area, making it eligible for federal relief funds.

The Weather Bureau failed to forecast this tornado. And a controversy arose over a delay in notifying Civil Defense officials after it hit.

The death-dealing twister struck at 2:12 a.m. (CST).

Brig. Gen. Francis P. Hardaway, (ret.) director of Civil Defense here, said he was not notified until about 5 a.m. Hardaway, whose job is to co-ordinate work of researchers and other in a disaster, blamed the Weather Bureau.

The Weather Bureau denied it had such a responsibility.

"It actually developed in the St. Louis metropolitan area and was here and gone before anybody knew about it — except where the people were hurt," said George Brancato, in charge of the Weather Bureau.

Brancato noted the bureau did issue a severe weather warning at 8:40 p.m. But it never was able to forecast a possible tornado.

Hardaway maintained it was the duty of the Weather Bureau to notify the St. Louis fire alarm office in the event of a tornado actually striking. The fire alarm office is supposed to notify him in turn, Hardaway said.

Brancato said he knew of no such arrangement. "I think our job is warning, not reporting," the weatherman said.

Weather Bureau records show, Brancato said, that a notice was carried at 3:30 a.m. over its teletype circuit which goes to the fire alarm office and elsewhere that there was no further threat of tornadoes in the area.

The weatherman conceded no mention of the actual tornado was carried on the teletype circuit.

Wow! Good Weather for at Least One Day

No snow, rain, hail or storms are in sight for a day or so, at least, the U. S. Weather Bureau reports.

Pontiac area residents are promised good weather for tonight. The forecast calls for fair and cold with a low of 10 degrees. Tomorrow's prediction is increasing cloudiness and warmer with a high of 32.

The Friday outlook is cloudy with light snow.

According to the five-day forecast, temperatures will average about two degrees below the normal high of 33 and normal low of 19.

Thursday and Friday will be warmer, but it will be colder over the weekend. Precipitation will total about one-fourth of an inch of snow Friday, Saturday and Monday.

The lowest recorded temperature in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. was 10. At 1 p.m. the reading was 18.

1,000 Flee Homes at Fremont

New Floods Sweep Ohio

FREMONT, Ohio (UP)—The ice-choked Sandusky River threatened this city and its 16,000 citizens to the north and south today.

It was the hardest hit of Ohio's northern cities in new floods that struck for the second time in less than a month.

Racing through the Fremont business section and a part of the residential area, the water reached a depth of a little more than 18 feet early today, then remained fairly steady.

That was a foot deeper than the crest of the flood which coursed through the city three weeks ago.

Fremont still is in a state of emergency from that disaster. There are business places advertising "flood sales" from the January destruction.

An estimated 1,000 Fremont residents were forced to evacuate their homes yesterday and early today. Another 200 to 500 evacuees still are homeless from the first flood. The river was out of its banks for three miles through the city.

A huge ice jam, piled up for weeks, clogs the Sandusky River to the north, where the water normally runs through marshy areas into Sandusky Bay on Lake Erie.

Upstream, to the south, there is another mass of ice, five feet thick in some places, behind the Ballville Dam.

An Ohio National Guard team made an unsuccessful effort last night to crack the ice to the north of Fremont. Their job is to cut a path to release the mounting waters, if possible.

But everyone in Fremont hoped the Ballville Dam would hold back the ice upstream.

If it should cut loose suddenly, it would sweep down on the Fremont business district and wreak havoc in an area already under nearly two feet of water.

CRESTS AT TIFFIN

The Sandusky River crested last night at Tiffin, upstream more than 20 miles. Then it rose again this morning. Usually the river reacts in the same fashion at Fremont, about 10 hours later.

Statewide, the situation seemed less critical than in the earlier flood.

At least three deaths—directly and indirectly—have resulted from the second disaster, but there were 15 deaths last month.

At Findlay, with a population of 24,000, the Blanchard River crested late Tuesday night at more than nine feet above flood stage, about a foot higher than the January mark.

Approximately one-fourth of the city was covered with water. Civil Defense officials said about 200

City's Hospitals Kept Busy Due to Ice-Covered Walks

Pontiac hospitals had a busy time yesterday, treating at least 28 persons who suffered broken limbs or serious bruises in falls on the ice-slick sidewalks and streets.

Thirteen of the victims showed up at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, mostly in the morning during the early hours of the freeze.

Twelve others sought splints and bandages at Pontiac General Hospital emergency ward.

One of the these was City Attorney William A. Ewart, who took a topple in front of his home. Ewart was patched up with a splint protecting a simple fracture in his left arm in time for last night's meeting of the Pontiac City Commission.

Another four victims were treated at Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital.

The number of persons treated was about one-third that of New Year's day, which was the worst in recent years.

In the past two weeks, six mailmen have received disabling injuries in falls on slippery sidewalks.

"We wish all Pontiac householders would clean their sidewalks with salt or sand, if only for the sake of their mailmen," said Robert Featherstone, superintendent of mail delivery and collections.

News Flash

MIAMI (UPI) — An Eastern Airlines Electra turbo-prop airliner arrived here today after making an unscheduled landing in Atlanta on its flight from Chicago. An oil leak was soon repaired and the flight was continued.

A spokesman said the flight could have continued to Miami, and that the landing for repairs was purely precautionary. Oil leaks of this kind are "nothing unusual and not dangerous," he added.

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (UP)—Marshall Teague, 37, former national stock car racing champion crashed and was killed while making a speed run at the new Daytona Beach speedway today.

Group Probes Jukebox Fixes

Rackets Committee to Check Charges Singers Forced on Public

WASHINGTON (UP)—The Senate Labor-Management Committee, continuing its probe of the jukebox industry today, is looking into evidence that gangsters sometimes try to force certain singers on the public.

Committee counsel Robert F. Kennedy said he expects, before he is through, to produce evidence hoodlums have moved in on jukebox record distributing firms with the idea of pushing these singers.

Chairman John L. McClellan (D-Ark) has predicted the inquiry will show a sinister combine of top underworld figures and corrupt labor union officials has tried to put the jukebox, pinball, and vending machine business in cities from New York to Denver under its iron rule.

Kennedy named among today's witnesses John Vitale of St. Louis; Raymond Patriarca of Providence, R. I.; Frank Zito of Springfield, Ill.; Mike Genovese of Gibsonia and Pittsburgh, Pa.; and Joe Salardino of Denver.

The hearing got under way Tuesday with a former official of the Wurlitzer Corp., big jukebox manufacturing firm, testifying that as its general sales manager in the 1940s, he had to make deals with gangsters in order to make sales.

County Dems to Meet Tomorrow in Pontiac

Oakland County Democrats will meet in Pontiac tomorrow night at the County Offices Building to hear Billie S. Farnum, deputy secretary of state, as keynote speaker for their pre-biennial spring election convention.

Carlos G. Richardson, county chairman, said the State Central Committee had picked Lincoln's 150th anniversary for county delegations throughout the state to pick a record 1,605 delegates to attend the party's state convention in Grand Rapids, Feb. 20-21.

Democrats here Thursday night will choose 125 delegates, making the Oakland delegation second only to that of Wayne County in voting strength at the state convention.

Statewide delegates in Grand Rapids will select party nominees for 14 state positions to be voted on April 6.

Richardson said he would oppose any move to show support for so-called Democratic candidates for the Oakland Circuit Court bench. Some criticism had been leveled at Republicans for having eight GOP-favored judicial candidates speak at their county convention Jan. 21.

Committee Puts Bill to Debate on House Floor

Amendment to Give Right to Use Graduated Levy Goes Along, Too

From Our News Wires

LANSING—Proposal for a four cent sales tax took another forward step in the Legislature today.

By a 5-3 vote, the bare minimum needed, the House Committee on Revision and Amendment of the Constitution shifted the bill to the House floor for debate.

With it went another constitutional amendment which would remove all doubt as to the Legislature's right to levy a graduated income tax. It cleared the committee 6-3.

House Speaker Don R. Pears (R-Buchanan) said the resolutions probably will be debated tomorrow and pushed to a vote early next week. The Legislature plans to adjourn for the week after Thursday's meeting.

The House committee, headed by Rep. Louis C. Cramton (R-Lapeer), also reported out a proposition which would require legislative approval for any pay increase ordered by the State Civil Service Commission for State employes.

All three proposals need a two-thirds favorable vote in both the House and Senate to go on the April 6 ballot.

Gov. Williams' plan to mortgage the 50-million-dollar veterans trust fund lay snarled today in a web of political maneuvering.

The four-bill package escaped from the Ways and Means Committee yesterday. But it will take a coalition of Republican and Democratic votes to keep it alive and bring it to a passage roll call on the House floor.

Williams also said today he will seek an industrial FHA program to insure loans for construction of manufacturing plants and industrial research projects in Michigan.

He said he would ask the Legislature to approve a resolution to put such a suggestion on the April 6 ballot to amend the constitution.

He said the program would cost the state little or no money. The state would guarantee repayment of the loan to the lender.

Williams said his tax program and the FHA program would give industrial development a boost.

The plan would permit the state to guarantee loans up to a total of 100 million dollars.

Williams said, "Loans would be made by lending institutions. If

First of Lenten Guideposts in Pre-Easter Series

Standards Weren't Enough for Robert Youngs—They Needed a Church!

By ROBERT YOUNG
Screen and TV Star

When our first daughter was born, 22 years ago, my wife, Betty, and I prided ourselves on being enlightened parents. We hoped for a large family, and had decided to be very modern, very intellectual with our children.

They were to have something we called "Christian Standards," by which I suppose we meant ethics. And to project the children in the right direction, we decided each would be christened in a non-sectarian church. But no church ties would be forced upon them. They were to be allowed to choose for themselves.

YOUNG

As a young married couple Betty and I attended church only at the fashionable times of the year, Christmas and Easter. When I thought about it at all, I felt no need for constant church affiliation.

But we did want our children to have those Christian Standards!

Thus, each of our four daughters in order of their appearance—Carol Ann, Barbara, Betty Lou, Kathy—was christened in a lovely ceremony right in our living room by the minister of the Beverly Hills Community Church.

IGNORANCE SHOWED

And right there my ignorance was showing. Had I entered the church proper, as I have since done, I would have observed on the bulletin board that the denomination was Presbyterian. But I didn't. Betty and I simply assumed that a Community Church was non-sectarian.

Once the girls were christened, we followed point two of our plan. Their mother and I tried to surround them with a closely knit, loving family atmosphere. We heard their prayers regularly, for we were praying people ourselves.

"You are," I told my daughters proudly, "free to choose your own religion." But I was as foolish as I was wrong. No real choice was being offered them, no habit of church going was being developed.

Fourteen years—14 long years—elapsed before any one of the children decided upon anything or even mentioned a specific church.

WANTED TO JOIN CHURCH

Then from boarding school, Carol Ann wrote us a letter. Would we mind, she inquired, if she joined the Episcopal Church?

"It isn't sudden," wrote Carol Ann. "I've always had a tremendous respect for our chaplain, and I must admit it was his faith that made him what he is. So I began studying the service, trying to understand the words and the symbolism, and now they have great meaning for me. I truly love the service, and it gives me something I need."

A few weeks later we attended her confirmation.

During that summer vacation, each Sunday while mother and father and all her younger sisters slept, our 15-year-old daughter rose quietly and went to All Saints Church in Beverly Hills.

Then, out of deference to Carol Ann, Betty and I began attending with her. The younger girls, still free to make their choice, now chose to get up and go to church school.

In one short summer we became a churchgoing family!

SEEMED IMPORTANT

At first I, personally, felt strange; I had not been to church in a long time. Carol Ann's return to school left us on our own, yet still we went. Why? Because it began to seem important, that's why.

Then one Sunday morning an adult confirmation class was announced.

As Betty and I attended the class we began to learn things, to feel a part of the group, and when the instruction period ended, we went right on into full church membership.

We had made our decision.

Our three remaining daughters were still offered their freedom of choice, but with this difference—our own choice had given them a real choice. Churchgoing had become a reality. It was a thing you did, not something you just talked or wondered about.

NOT FORCING SOMETHING

How can you teach a child the necessity to make a choice if you haven't found it necessary to make one yourself? Talk does not place values anywhere. If we wanted our children to place God in the center of their lives, to have lasting Christian standards, then worship was not a question of forcing something on them but of offering them an opportunity, and of availing ourselves of the same privilege.

Has being a churchgoing family made a difference in our lives?

We feel it has.

There has been no dramatic sinner-to-saint conversion. Fortunately we did not insist on miracles. But we have grown into a greater unity with one another and our fellow man, and there is a new steadiness and stability in our family life. It has been easier to discuss our problems in terms of our relationship to God.

BLESSINGS

It taking stock Betty and I have become more fully aware that our lives have been full of blessings and answered prayer. I think my reaction has been much like that of our youngest daughter, Kathy, who knelt to say her evening prayers with us shortly after her ninth birthday.

She asked blessings for everyone—her mother, myself, her sisters, the neighbors, her school teacher, the dogs.

Then she started on her request list. That was pretty long, too. It sounded like an enthusiastic letter to Santa Claus.

Suddenly there was a pause and then I heard Kathy say, in a small, meek voice: "And now, dear God, is there anything I can do for you?"

Potbellied Stove Poses Problem in Old Schools

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP) — Pennsylvania's campaign to eliminate fire hazards in public schools ran up against a problem today — the old potbellied stove in the one-room school.

The State Labor and Industry Department recently ordered school officials to be sure to comply with fire safety regulations by enclosing heating plants with fire resistant material.

Tuesday, the supervising principal of seven one-room schools in Lancaster County, each with a potbellied stove in the middle of the room, asked a question.

"How can you surround a potbellied stove with heat resistant material and still get the room heated?" C. H. Hartzeler wrote the department.

"I don't have the answer," replied William L. Batt Jr., secretary of the department.

9 Seek to Halt Dr. Street Ouster

Taxpayers Group Asks Injunction Against Dismissal Charges

A group of nine taxpayers yesterday filed a lawsuit seeking a permanent injunction against the Ferndale Board of Education's dismissal of Dr. Scott W. Street as principal of the Paul L. Best School.

Oakland County Circuit Judge H. Russel Holland granted a temporary injunction until representatives of the Board appear before him next Monday to show cause why a permanent restraining order should not be granted.

"Dr. Street has committed no act or failed to perform any duties which would justify termination of his contract," which, the suit says, doesn't expire until June 30.

Filing the suit in Circuit Court were eight couples and a tool company, who claim they are property owners in the Ferndale School district.

They contend they will "be aggrieved and damaged" if Street's Feb. 2 demotion to teacher is carried out.

The plaintiffs claim they will be burdened with more taxes should the Board hire a new principal and reduce the salary of Street in his new capacity, thus making the Board liable for court action at the taxpayers expense by Street.

Further, they argue "whatever salary is paid Street in his new capacity will be a burden by reason of the fact that his services in another capacity are not needed nor required.

Another burden on them, the couples and company claim, would result if the Board did not reduce Street's salary and hired a successor, whereby the taxpayers would be paying for two principals.

Filing of the suit followed refusal last night of the board to reinstate Street.

A crowd of 900 persons attended a public meeting in which they cheered and jeered as they gave Street loud support.

He'll Try Again for 'Shangri-La'

Legislator Roberts Is Seeking Home for Tiny Land Parcel in County

Rep. Farrell E. Roberts is making another try at giving Oakland County's "little Shangri-la on earth" a home.

Roberts said he was introducing a bill which would give the owner of an unattached, uninhabited 9.60-acre tract of land near Troy the right to petition for annexation.

Ever since Troy was incorporated in 1955 this parcel has been a part of any governmental area, thus making it free of local taxes and municipal services.

However, the owner of this left out property, Rodney M. Lockwood, of Detroit, has volunteered to pay Oakland County $3,093 in back taxes for 1957-58-59.

Robert's bill, which he said might be debated on the House floor either today or tomorrow, would allow Lockwood to petition either Troy, Birmingham or Royal Oak for annexation. All three areas surround the Lockwood property.

A majority vote of the commissioners or councilmen of the area chosen would approve the annexation, under provisions of Roberts' bill.

The West Bloomfield state representative said only one other such instance of a parcel being overlooked exists in the state. He said this is near Saginaw.

A similar bill, also sponsored by Roberts, passed the House last year but was killed in the Senate.

He said he expects his 1959 version to once again get by the House, and "I think the Senate will report it out of committee favorably and pass it."

Purpose of the bill is to make sure every piece of property in the state is under some form of government, Roberts explained.

Sets Precedent in Declaring Divorce Void

A Detroit businessman living in Bloomfield Hills heard his Nevada divorce declared null and void in a precedent-setting ruling in Wayne County Circuit Court yesterday.

Judge Horace W. Gilmore handed down the ruling on a decree obtained March 22, 1955, by Thomas P. Henry of 6545 Red Maple Rd. on grounds that the wealthy business executive had no intention of making Nevada his permanent home.

The ruling in a suit filed by Henry's first wife, Mrs. Serana A. Henry, is believed to be the first of its kind in Michigan.

The divorce was granted in Las Vegas, Nev., on grounds of mental cruelty. The U.S. Supreme Court has ruled in the past that one state may deny jurisdiction to another as was done in the present case.

In filing the suit, Mrs. Henry indicated no dissatisfaction with the $500-a-month settlement decreed by the Nevada court. But she charged that Henry had sought to oust her from the plush Grosse Pointe Country Club, where she enjoys privileges as a member's wife. She and Henry were living in Grosse Pointe Farms before their divorce was granted.

Henry has remarried since and moved to Bloomfield Hills. Henry's attorney, James Hagerty, said Judge Gilmore's declaratory judgment would be appealed.

Judges Accept Trombly Appeal

Retirement Board Has Comment on Way to Force Action

LANSING (UPI) — The state Judges Retirement Board today formally accepted the request of Macomb Probate Judge Joseph V. Trombly that his bid for retirement be withdrawn.

Auditor General Frank S. Szymanski, board member, said after the board had reviewed Trombly's case:

"There is a way of forced retirement, but it is not by making application to us. It is by going to the governor and the Probate Judges Assn."

Trombly, faced with demands for investigations of his court, asked last week for retirement and then yesterday withdrew the request.

"I will not embarrass the retirement commission to make my decisions for me," Trombly said in a telegram to Gov. G. Mennen Williams. "I am a judge, and I will make my own decisions."

Trombly, in his telegram to Williams, said everyone in Macomb County and the state knows his case "forward and backward."

"I have done nothing wrong," he said. "I am perfectly well in every way, but for my hearing.

"In my memory, I have never seen a worse thing done to an innocent man in the State of Michigan . . ."

Large Crowd Attends Realtors Banquet Here

The Pontiac Board of Realtors 43rd annual banquet was attended by a large crowd at the Elks Temple last night, despite the snow and ice which made driving extremely difficult.

Attended by some 350 realtors and guests from throughout the Pontiac area and other points in Michigan, the event was highlighted by an address by Dr. Charles E. Irvin, a sales expert associated with General Motors Corporation.

Dr. Irvin, who has taught at several midwestern colleges including Michigan State University, spoke to the assembled businessmen on what he termed "Hi-Fi Sellity."

"Two out of three salesmen across the country do not know how to meet and cope with difficult sales situations," he told his audience. His speech centered around the major points which he said a successful salesman must have — the ability to learn and practice.

Irvin emphasized the concept of selling by asserting, "A salesman is the final step in production; a new Pontiac automobile at the factory is potential but the salesman makes it a product."

Toastmaster for the evening was Joseph Brady, vice president of Citizens Mutual Insurance Co. in Howell.

Alcuin G. Kampsen, 1958 president of the Board, officially turned over his office to newly elected president Cramer Partridge, and presented him with the key to the Board, symbolic of leadership.

Member of the Board of Directors, James Clarkson, executive vice president of the Pontiac Federal Savings and Loan Company, in turn presented Kampsen with a plaque commemorating his successful term as president, plus a gift from the organization.

Invocation was offered by Rev. C. Warren Wilson, pastor of the Baldwin Avenue Methodist Church. Dinner music was provided by Jean Boroska at the organ.

necessary," but won support only from Commissioner Milton R. Henry in a 5 to 2 vote.

Last week, Landry called for Eastman's ouster, but won only Henry's vote then, too.

Another of Landry's moves against Eastman received a setback.

City Attorney William A. Ewart announced that in his opinion the public safety director was acting within the law when he stripped Straley of powers last Nov. 12, leaving him only his rank and pay.

Landry had implied he would seek charges against Eastman if there were a violation of the Civil Service Act in his handling of Straley.

Civil Service commissioners said they may ask the city to provide them with special legal counsel.

It appeared that Ewart, their regular legal advisor, would have the job of prosecuting charges against Straley.

"It's hard to see how Ewart could act in two conflicting capacities at the hearing," said Austin.

Woman Posing as Williams' Wife Caught

CHICAGO (AP) — The Federal Bureau of Investigation said a Chicago woman posing as the wife of Gov. G. Mennen Williams of Michigan here yesterday got away with it temporarily.

The FBI said Elizabeth Nancy Stevens, 31, telephoned the Michigan National Bank at Lansing — identifying herself as Williams' wife, Nancy — and asked that $400 be wired to her in Chicago.

The bank complied, but sent the order in the governor's name.

Elizabeth picked it up and went to a department store to cash it, the FBI said. A cashier asked for identification, which she could not produce. The FBI was called.

They said the woman was charged with fraud by wire and would face a hearing today before a U.S. Commissioner here.

A number of Michigan banks have fallen for the woman's fraud by wire scheme, the FBI said. Many banks complied with her request without checking to determine if her story was true. She was arrested Jan. 30 on an identical charge and was out on bond, the government agency said.

On His 150th Birth Date

America Lauds Lincoln

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Observances honoring Abraham Lincoln today were the order of the day on virtually every level of American civic life.

President Eisenhower planned to attend a memorial banquet tonight in Washington. The President has proclaimed this year as Lincoln Sesqui-centennial Year.

Other celebrations marking the 150th anniversary Thursday of the birth of the Civil War President were planned throughout the week from coast to coast.

The sesquicentennial events began early this year and are scheduled to continue into the summer.

The Day in Birmingham

Teen Club at Standstill in Its Search for 'Home'

BIRMINGHAM — With several possible "homes" rejected, the Birmingham Teen Club apparently has come to a standstill for lack of a meeting place.

This morning Robert Girardin, senior board chairman for the club, said he felt confident that the meeting scheduled for tomorrow night would see the problem solved.

Declining to reveal the identity of the newest offer until after the meeting, Girardin said he believes it will meet all requirements and the club will be able to get under way in the near future.

The Teen Club student panel has agreed that while a building of their own is most desirable it is best to accept suitable facilities and get the club activated.

The Rev. Thomas Phillips of St. James Episcopal Church says his public relations committee has invited every organization in the community to take part in furthering the club, which came into existence at the end of the year.

Michael Hogan, 18, of 1538 Pierce St., was sentenced yesterday to 10 days in Oakland County Jail by West Bloomfield Township Justice Elmer Dieterle.

The youth, arrested Jan. 21 in Bloomfield Township, was charged with being drunk and disorderly. Sentence was withheld at the Jan. 27 hearing when Hogan said he wanted to join the Navy.

Township police this morning said Hogan told the justice his enlistment failed because he was on probation.

January fire reports issued by Fire Chief Clark H. Smith showed a loss of $22,715 on buildings and furnishings during the month.

The department answered 33 alarms, including three to administer first aid.

Pride of Oakland Rebecca Lodge 445 will see its newly elected officers conduct their first meeting at 8 p.m. today in the Community House.

The elected staff includes Edith Hart, noble grand; Opal Shira, vice grand; Ina Nixon, secretary; Pearl DeVaney, financial secretary; and Mildred Smith, treasurer.

Mrs. M. Seth Metzger

Service for Mrs. M. Seth (Jane) Metzger, 65, of 7015 Wing Lake Rd., Bloomfield Township, will be held at 1 p.m. tomorrow in the Bell Chapel of William R. Hamilton Co. Burial will follow in Evergreen Cemetery, Detroit.

The wife of a Chrysler executive, Mrs. Metzger died Monday at her home of a heart condition.

She was a member of First Church of Christ Scientist, Franklin Village, Principia Mothers Club and Pine Lake Country Club.

Mrs. Metzger is survived by her husband and two nieces.

David F. Robertson

Service was held at 1:30 p.m. today for David F. Robertson at Kirk-in-the-Hills, Bloomfield Township. Burial was in White Chapel Memorial Cemetery.

An engineer with Detroit Edison Co., Mr. Robertson, 39, of 4725 Cimarron Rd., Bloomfield Hills, died Monday in Henry Ford Hospital, Detroit.

Surviving besides his wife are two daughters, Dennis-Ann and Marjory Dee; three sons, David, Donald and Douglas, all at home; one sister and his mother.

Flood Waters Pour Over Northern Ohio

EMERGENCY AREAS

Findlay, Van Wert and the village of Ottawa, and Putnam County, in which Ottawa is situated, have been declared emergency areas.

In Van Wert, flood waters from Town Creek covered an estimated one-fourth of the city of 12,000. Up to 500 residents were homeless.

In Ottawa, an estimated 5 per cent of that village of 2,500 was under water. Some 25 to 30 families had been evacuated by Tuesday night. The Blanchard River was expected to crest there this morning.

At Warren, in northeast Ohio, some 200 persons were evacuated from the same area hit by the January flood of the Mahoning River.

A drowning was reported near Tiffin. Kenneth Wolcott, 21, a Heidelberg College senior, was missing and presumed drowned after his canoe capsized in the Sandusky River.

2nd Car Crash Victim Is Buried in Detroit

A second victim of a head-on crash that killed a Waterford Township woman Jan. 29, was buried yesterday in Grandlawn Cemetery, Detroit.

He was Detroiter Peter J. Smith, 36, father of four children, who died Saturday in University Hospital, Ann Arbor.

Smith was the son of Mrs. Irene Smith, 3418 Warringham St., Drayton Plains. He also is survived by three sisters in Waterford Township, Mrs. Dolores Cole, 6193 Lindsay St.; Mrs. Marjorie Gulewich, 6535 Manson St., and Mrs. Madelaine Bellows, 6515 Manson.

Sales Tax Hike Plan Advances in Lansing

Loans guaranteed by the program could not exceed one million dollars on any single project and could not represent more than 90 per cent of the project's cost.

The governor noted that the tax program he presented last week provides a 30-million-dollar tax saving for industry starting in 1960. He said this plus the loan program "should encourage present industry to expand within the state and should attract outside industry to locate here."

Under the program, the state would make good any loans in case of default and then could foreclose. The property would then be operated under a receiver or could be sold to someone else.

Williams stated his proposed tax program would "show a very small decline in the tax load on the under-$3,000 income groups, and modest increases for those with income above that level."

Williams said a table furnished by Dr. Harvey Brazer, executive secretary of the Citizens' Tax Advisory Committee, showed the changes.

"Statistics like these should be helpful in evaluating criticism that adoption of my program would result in discrimination against upper income taxpayers," Williams said.

The table:

Income	Tax (pct. of income) Existing	Proposed
0-1,999	19.37	19.09
2,000-2,999	12.05	11.93
3,000-3,999	9.63	9.71
4,000-4,999	7.95	8.17
5,000-6,999	7.22	7.63
7,000-9,999	6.00	6.62

Five Break-Ins Reported Here

Rash of Burglaries Investigated by Police and Deputies

Most area residents stayed indoors last night, but the ice and snow didn't bother burglars in the waterford Township area.

For the second straight night a string of burglaries were reported to sheriff's deputies and state police.

Oakland County sheriff's deputies and Pontiac state police handled five breaking and entering complaints early this morning. They believed the same men were responsible for all the burglaries.

Deputies discovered three breakins of gas stations within a span of 11 minutes.

A service station at 6695 Dixie Highway, Independence Township, was entered and $5 taken from vending machines and the cash register, deputies said.

Shortly after that, the Ross Service Station, 5647 Dixie Highway, and Mobilgas Station, 5999 Andersonville Rd., both in Waterford Township, were reported entered. An undetermined amount of money was missing from vending machines.

State troopers said Linabury's & Lawson's Service Station, 2925 Dixie Highway, was also broken into. Another burglary was reported at Mohrburger's Restaurant, 5896 Dixie Highway.

In both cases an undetermined amount of change was missing from vendirig macines which had been forced open.

Reports Damage to Car Bodies

50 Cadillacs Scratched After Labor Meeting; GM Doubts Sabotage

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Times said today that 50 Cadillac car bodies were damaged last night on the assembly line of General Motors' Fleetwood Body Plant here.

The Times said the plant's night shift went to work an hour late last night after a meeting at which the discharge of two plant workers was discussed.

GM officials said that some of the 360 car bodies processed at the Cadillac plant last night were scratched, but said no evidence of sabotage was found. A GM spokesman said it is not unusual for car bodies to be scratched during production. He said that standard procedure calls for the cars to be checked and retouched.

GM said it had no figures on how many bodies were damaged last night.

Officials at headquarters of the United Auto Workers said they had no knowledge of the incident and referred queries to officers of Local 15 which represents workers at the Fleetwood Plant.

Long-Distance Call Tells of Short-Distance Storm

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Mrs. Henry F. Chadeayne groped for the ringing telephone early Tuesday.

It was a long distance call from her nephew, David Volk of Indianapolis.

"Are you all right?" Volk asked.

"Of course," replied Mrs. Chadeayne. "Why do you call at this hour?"

Then she and her husband learned of the tornado which had ripped through St. Louis, passing a half a block from their apartment.

Chilled Woman Dies After 4-Day Ordeal

NEWPORT, R.I. (AP) — Mrs. Rose Blondell, 63, whose body temperature dropped so low a hospital thermometer could not record it, died last night in a Newport hospital.

Mrs. Blondell was found Monday in a semi-conscious condition in her unheated apartment. She had lain helpless without food or water for four or five days.

Efforts to take her temperature failed because the hospital thermometer did not go below 94 degrees Fahrenheit—4.6 degrees below normal body temperature.

Others Don't Agree on Value of 2 Bills

SANTA FE, N.M. (AP) — The New Mexico Senate killed two bills Tuesday which Sen. William Osborn (D-Roswell) said were "good and necessary."

One bill would have lowered the age for marriage with parental consent from 16 to 14 for women and 18 to 16 for men. The other was a bill lowering the age on statutory rape from 16 to 14.

"Now, the only way a girl of 14 can get married is to have a doctor's certificate that she is pregnant," Osborn said. "A lot of kids are finding out about this and using this means to force the marriage."

Today Marks Beginning of Lenten Observance

Lent means different things to different people. The word itself seems to come from the Anglo-Saxon "lencten" for springtime. Lent begins today, when the devout Catholics and Anglicans have the sign of the cross marked on their foreheads with consecrated ashes.

To most people the Lenten season is a time of some sacrifice. It has become a time when self-denial is practiced. Traditionally it is the time of year we give up certain indulgences.

One story has it that the nondevout think of Tuesday before Lent as Mardi Gras. Literally, this is translated as Fat Tuesday, really a more meaningful rendition would be "Tuesday for Fats." During Lent its observers deny themselves fats, along with other indulgences of the flesh, so they go on a fat spree just before Lent begins.

Germans traditionally use up all fats in the house for pancakes, pastries and "kuchen" on the day before Lent which they call "Fastnacht." Over in England the housewives hold pancake races. In parts of Spain and other Latin lands a strip of bacon shaped into a sardine is elaborately buried.

In the United States the great Mardi Gras celebration is held in New Orleans as a culmination of the whole carnival season. This was first introduced in 1827 by students bringing back from Paris the custom of parading in masks and costumes on Mardi Gras.

Christians the world over are today starting their 40-day Lenten observance.

For many of us this special reminder of Divine guidance may be a means of reckoning with these troubled times.

Ben Gurion Undaunted by Influx of Refugees

With the lifting of its ban forbidding Jewish emigration, the Rumanian government has opened the way for 250,000 Jews, all that remain of a prewar population of one million, to leave the country.

Under Israel's Constitution, any Jew who desires a home will find one there and Rumania's action will result in a large influx of skilled and educated people. The new arrivals will put a heavy burden on the Israeli economy, which since 1948 has absorbed a million Jews, an almost incredible number.

Premier BEN-GURION hopefully predicts that the Soviet Union soon will allow emigration of Russian Jews. If this actually happens, Israel would be confronted with a sudden doubling of its two million population.

This would be a desperate crisis, but BEN-GURION is undaunted. He hopes to develop the Negev Desert area, which is three-fifths of Israel's territory and with less than one per cent of its population. Economic aid from the United States in the form of loans and sale of surplus foods for Israeli currency, is enabling the country to expand its industrial and agricultural economy and resettle growing populations.

Although staggering under the load, Israel courageously continues to keep the door open to its scattered co-religionists. It is supported by the United Jewish Appeal which contributes an average of $65 million a year, and by sale of Israeli bonds at the rate of $50 million annually. This year the Jewish agency which arranges and finances immigration is asking for a special fund of $100 million from the United Appeal.

The Arabs claim to be worried that Israel will find territorial expansion necessary to accommodate its population needs. But Israel leaders have faith that with a little help and a lot of hard work the still undeveloped Negev region will provide homes and employment for those who have lost all their possessions and have come to begin a new life in Israel.

"FIVE Hundred Excuses for Husbands" has become a best-selling book among men in England.—Press report. Sales of this book in the U. S. would be small, as most American husbands have built up a repertoire of far more than 500 excuses.

The Man About Town

Tooter-Creeper

Both Are Menaces on Our Roads; Cause Accidents

Wedded bliss: What too often results in wedded blitz.

This column is in full agreement with the sentiments expressed in a letter from

"Safe and Sane Motorist," who claims that one of our greatest highway menaces is the driver who

Leans on horn more than brakes, usually doing this as a means to scare other drivers into giving him room to break the speed regulations.

Right here on our Pontiac streets have been instances where excessive horn blowing frightened drivers into losing control of their cars and bringing about wrecks.

Near the Waterford Hill the other night on the Dixie Highway a woman who has been driving for 30 years without a ticket was so badly scared by a loud blast from a speeder as he passed her that she ran off the pavement and into a utility pole.

The slow driver also becomes a menace when he exercises his "carefulness" so that he blocks traffic. Accident figures prove that do almost as much damage as the speeder. Bad manners often are as rampant on the highways as in the home or other places where bigoted nuts assert themselves.

Florida continues to be the favorite winter vacation spot for people in Pontiac and vicinity. Arizona and California get a few, but a talk with

A. J. Bogue,

Manager of the Pontiac AAA office, shows that Florida routings are the most in demand. This also is the case as reported by local Greyhound Lines Manager, and

William B. Gracey,

Pontiac ticket agent for the Grand Trunk. Some of them report that the ski craze has created a demand for northbound routings.

A long list of pioneer material is reported by of 12 Gingell Court, which he is anxious to turn over to the Wisner Home as soon as it is opened to the public.

The friendly and progressive rivalry between our two beautiful suburbs to the north increases as the result of next year's census is anticipated. In the 1950 count of noses, Lake Orion had a slight edge, with 2,385, and Village President says it expects to hold that lead. However, President of Oxford asserts that it should overcome that slight handicap, and boost its 1950 count of 2,305 above that shown by its good neighbor, only two miles to the south.

Waldo C. Leipprandt

Tough Mount . . . but if He Can Ride It—

David Lawrence Says:

We Have Limit on Price of Peace

WASHINGTON — It seems easy sometimes to personalize big issues and doubtless Moscow is reading with exultation today the news that maybe Secretary of State Dulles will not be as active as before.

LAWRENCE

For there are in the Soviet Union as well as in the United States and Britain many who think that the policy of this country is "inflexible" or "rigid" or fixed at "dead center" because Dulles presumably wants it that way—and that, once he has left office, all will be changed.

Actually, there is only one simple barrier between Moscow and Washington today. The Soviets want unconditional surrender, which means no concessions of substance on their part.

Anybody who stands in their way is promptly labeled as unrealistic and inflexible, and as desiring to continue "tensions" in preference to acceptance of a supposedly attractive alternative — "peaceful coexistence."

Dulles is an international lawyer and an experienced negotiator. He is handicapped by the fact that there are newspapers in America which continually tell the Russians, in effect, not to worry about what he says, and that American public opinion is virtually ready for peace at any price.

When Deputy Premier Mikoyan returned to Moscow after his visit to this country, he told the 21st Communist Party Congress that the American people are really in favor of peace but their government isn't.

The attempt to drive a wedge between the people of the United States and their government was transparent.

Oddly enough, the angry reaction which followed the Mikoyan visit showed that American public opinion hasn't changed a bit—it is basically distrustful of the Communist regime and isn't ready to surrender, either.

This correspondent received a bigger mail about it from all parts of the country than on any other subject in recent years.

The people from coast to coast insisted in their letters they were not taken in by the Mikoyan trip. It is interesting to note also that many citizens are beginning to say about war that there comes a time "when you can take just so much and no more."

Phrases like this have not appeared in letters to this writer since the days before the last two world wars.

It is a strange phenomenon, but there are many observers who wishfully think that, because war is almost too horrible to contemplate, this means the people are willing to swallow their pride and their patriotism and surrender to a foreign foe. No greater mistake could be made in evaluating public opinion in America.

Perhaps the most realistic appraisal of the opinion of the American people today would be to say that they want peace, but not at any price.

They are willing to see peace negotiated but this does not mean that our side must make all the concessions. Nor does it mean that the supposed "settlement" can be of such a nature that it obviously will breed war as a consequence.

What makes international diplomacy hard to conduct these days is the fact that some of the influential newspapers in all the free countries are so eager for peace that they give the impression to Moscow that almost anything will be accepted. This is called "flexibility."

A press that can express itself freely is important to maintain, but there is an obligation also to make sure that the opinion of the silent citizen is taken into account.

For today there is really a greater support by world opinion than ever before behind the policies of the United States and her Allies in the face of Communist trickery.

THOUGHTS FOR TODAY

I said, I will take heed to my ways, that I sin not with my tongue; I will keep my mouth with a bridle, while the wicked is before me.—Psalms 39:1.

When we advance a little into life, we find that the tongue of man creates nearly all the mischief of the world.—Paxton Hood.

Dr. William Brady Says:

'Sterilize' Is First Rule for Treatment of Wounds

Back in my early-practice days, a doctor in Dresden had a young patient with appendicitis. He called a Watkins Glen doctor to operate, and a Penn Yan doctor (me) to give the anesthetic. When we arrived at the patient's home one good look at the patient told us the boy was dying of general peritonitis — the inflammation (infection) had spread from the appendix through the entire abdominal cavity.

When we arrived at the patient's home and laid back the bed cover to examine him, we were astonished to find, on the tremendously swollen abdomen, a rooster! The fowl had been split in two and applied still warm.

Had a similar experience when a Branchport doctor called me in consultation in the case of a child in the country. When we examined the child, we found that her father had just split a lamb in two and applied the carcass immediately to the child's abdominal wall.

The child lingered on for months and finally succumbed to tuberculous peritonitis. The parents would not consent to operation.

From many years' correspondence with readers through the country I gather that people nowadays don't go for weird or fantastic remedies or treatment. But it is abundantly evident that improper first aid and home treatment of minor wounds still causes a lot of trouble.

Chief fault with first aid and home treatment of minor wounds is that it is not aseptic, that is, not surgically clean.

INFECTION STARTS

The wound comes in contact with ground, floor, instrument, finger, clothing, dressing, ointment, water or other matter or surface that is not sterilized, germ free. Thus the fresh wound becomes infected, and an infected wound can't possibly heal as fast or as well as it would if kept sterile (free from germs).

A sterile wound (such as an operation wound) heals promptly, by "first intention," that is, the edges, carefully held together like china fragments, become cemented immediately and healing proceeds without formation of scar.

An infected wound must heal by "second intention," it must be left open for drainage and healing occurs slowly, after granulation tissue ("proud flesh") has filled the would up to skin level. Formation of granulation tissue inevitably leaves more scar.

(In the next piece about wound healing we'll talk about the use of soap and water.)

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

The Country Parson

"One good determined player can win the game—it's when he sees no hope that he joins his team in defeat."

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Train Your Mind to Work as Tonic

Notice my student at Northwestern University who learned to control his goose pimples by conscious effort. Then follow the true case of Joe and scrapbook these columns for they are perfect examples of modern psychosomatic medicine. Be sure you read tomorrow's follow-up about Joe's dramatic case.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE A - 451: Howard L., aged 30, is the chemist mentioned yesterday who wondered just how the mind can influence the body.

CRANE

"Dr. Crane, you say there are two nervous systems in the human body," he mused. "And fears, like stage fright, can cause the brain to break through into the autonomic system and upset appetite, produce abnormal sweating, etc.

"Couldn't we train ourselves to let wholesome emotions break through and maybe serve as a desirable tonic to the glands?"

PSYCHOSOMATIC MIRACLES

Yes, that is possible. For example, I once had a psychology student in my classes at Northwestern University who had served in the war.

He had been terrified when ordered to make a bayonet charge and had noted that goose pimples stood up on his arms as he started the attack.

Later, he found that he could make the hairs on his arms stand up and goose pimples appear, just by consciously trying to do so.

I had him demonstrate this unique ability before several of my large sections in Introductory Psychology.

Very few people can do this, though medical literature reports an occasional rare case.

This young man, when I gave the signal "Go," would look at his bared forearm and right before the eyes of all spectators, we'd see the hairs stand up and goose pimples develop.

When I'd say "Stop," the hairs would quickly lie down and the goose pimples would melt away.

"How do you produce this effect?" I asked him.

"Well, Dr. Crane, I just imagine I am back at the Battle of the Bulge. I somehow resurrect the fear I had then and it doesn't take me more than 30 seconds to start the hairs standing up and the goose pimples forming."

I mention this unusual case to show you that it is entirely possible for the brain to learn how to control actions that normally are not subject to conscious direction.

JOE'S NIGHT SWEATS

On Pages 619-622 of my college textbook "Psychology Applied," you can read a full account of a talented Illinois newspaper executive who had been troubled by a cough for a few days.

He had been orphaned in grammar school, for tuberculosis had taken his parents and I imagine he had a lurking fear of TB thereafter.

Anyway, he consulted a practitioner who was a quack. The latter asked:

sweats?" and Joe shook his head.

"Well, you should for one of your lungs is entirely eaten up by TB," said this doctor, "And I'm making a reservation for you at my sanitarium for 9:30 tomorrow morning. You'll be there a year and maybe two or three."

Joe was devastated. Married and with two youngsters, he didn't know how he could finance his family.

But his wife met him at the door and demanded to know why he seemed so dejected. Joe told her he was dying of tuberculosis.

"I don't believe it," said this cheery, positive-thinking wife. "And I'll never believe it till you consult a reputable M.D. and have a chest X-ray."

She tried to be a "cheer leader" wife instead of the negative or "wet blanket" sort, and gave him a good dinner.

They retired about 11 p.m. See tomorrow's follow-up for the dramatic results.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 4c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Voice of the People

Jeer From TV Audience Height of Un-Americanism

A Sunday evening TV show featured a group of Ukrainian dancers. At the end of the program the head of the group thanked the master of ceremonies for his kindness to them. As his interpreter repeated what he said, there was a loud hoot from the audience.

This was the poorest example of Americanism I've ever witnessed. To most Americans anyone from the Soviet Union must be plotting to overthrow the U. S. Government. This isn't true. For all we know these people may have been wishing to be free of Soviet rule and become an American citizen.

We may not like Russia or her theory of communism, but we don't have to condemn every Russian citizen. I hope I never see anything like that again.

Disgusted

(Editors Note: Because of the similarity of names, there has been some confusion concerning a recent letter. The Mr. Clarkson referred to in Voice of the People was S. James Clarkson, State Representative from Southfield, and not James Clarkson of Pontiac.)

'Lottery Will Solve State's Problems'

At last someone in Lansing comes with a real smart idea that will make from 5 to 50 million a year for the state and it's a lottery.

The good thing about a lottery is that if you don't believe in it, you don't have to take a chance. Everyone has to pay an income tax or a sales tax or a gas tax, but no one has to buy lottery tickets unless he wants to.

Make the first prize $100,000 tax free and the people buying tickets would swamp every office in the state. Those that didn't like it could stay home and have their taxes helped just as much as those who paid.

'Discard Junk Mail to Save Time'

Some time back I read an editorial in The Press that said you could save time by throwing all the mail in the basket unopened if it didn't have first class postage and I tried it and it works perfect and I suggest that other people try it.

Minutes Saved

'It Isn't Surprising People Lose Faith'

One day about a year or so ago my wife and I happened to be at the corner of Huron and Pike street when we noticed a car with four men stop their car in a no-parking strip on Pike, the northeast corner. The driver got out and entered a store, walked behind the counter and on behind a partition. He came out in a few minutes with some slips of paper in his pocket, walked back and entered his car.

At that time on the opposite side of the street a police officer leisurely walked away, taking no notice of the illegally parked car. At that time police headquarters were about a block away. Is it any wonder there are corruption charges and lost faith in Pontiac's police department?

Weather Inspires Several Letters

I didn't send my children to school either, those two bad days. It's enough they walk all that way, but are sent out to play regardless of the weather during school. Then they have to walk all the way home again.

A school bus with seven children goes right to Herrington School but can't stop at these corners, so we are told by the Board of Education. Why? We don't even ask for a new bus. Just let our our children use the one that's already going there.

Mrs. Jack Parker

518 Emerson

Let's not lose sight of the fact that the largest percentage of children riding school buses don't live within one mile or even two of the schools. It wouldn't be possible in any kind of weather to set my six-year-old out on a five mile hike or my teenager on a 12-mile hike to school.

The school buses and drivers deserve all parents' heartfelt thanks for the huge responsibilities they assume driving on snow and ice on back country roads to pick up school children.

Maybe you walked and I walked to school, but let's not become too smug about our own particular situations.

D. H.

Vive la 84. You must be a city softee and your M. D. probably told you not to overexert yourself in cold weather. You must be retired and probably took a peek at your ice-covered Pontiac, which, you forgot to park in the garage, so you said to yourself, "It's a good day to write letters. Guess I'll go back to bed and get up later when the sleet lets up and then I can write to VOP and blame someone other than the weatherman for my predicament.

Madame T.

Three cheers for the Pontiac schools that didn't close when winter set in.

'How Does He Know So Much?'

Murrow spoke with such inside knowledge and information on the "sex in big business" that it made me wonder where he got such good information. TV and broadcasting come under the head of big business. I'm in "little business" and I don't think the sex angle in big business is any different than it is in little business or in baseball or teaching or farming or greenhouses, etc., etc.

Hal Boyle Says:

The Old Sunday Nap Was Our Safety Valve

NEW YORK (AP)—Curbstone comments of a pavement Plato:

America seems to have lost one of its safety valves—the old-fashioned Sunday afternoon nap.

It is hard to say just when civilization went astray in our country. Some say it happened right after the first world war when the Russians embraced communism and the Americans adopted prohibition.

Some date it from the time when U. S. women were given the ballot and started smoking cigarettes in public. Still others claim civilization died with the five-cent glass of beer.

But a good case could be made for the contention that civilized living began to decline when the average man gave up his Sunday afternoon nap and took up Sunday driving.

Life has been one mad whirl ever since. Father has never been the same—and neither has the rest of the family.

The old-fashioned Sunday afternoon nap in most homes was a ceremony as full of ritual as a lodge meeting.

It started with a massive Sunday dinner, a loving work of art that took mother all morning to prepare. This was served promptly at two o'clock.

After a meal that would fell three of today's modest trenchmen, the head of the house would push back his chair, yawn and say, "Well, guess it's time for the nap."

He would go into his bedroom, and when he took off his shoes you could hear his sigh of relief all through the house. In taking off his shoes father symbolically also shed the shoes, griefs and annoyances of his whole work week.

And in those days anyone who didn't work at least 60 hours a week was (1) under 18 or over 70, (2) wealthy, or (3) worthless.

He'd then stretch out on the bed, cover his face with the Sunday newspaper—and in five seconds be sound asleep.

Mother would retire to a comfortable chair in the living room, and doze herself over the pile of undarned socks in her lap.

Three hours after he hit the pillow, father let out a series of cacophonous grunts, wheezes and groans, like an old steam engine on a hard uphill grade. Then he woke up.

The cares of the week were magically washed away. Father was rested, mother was rested, the children were rested.

They all went out on the front porch in the summer dusk and spent a quiet evening listening to father explain life and why the world was better than when he was young.

Where is the family peace of those vanished Sundays? Today people work so hard on Sunday trying to find joy somewhere outside the home they are still worn out on Monday morning. They get more ulcers on Sunday than they do during the week.

A recent market survey of paint dealers and consumers found that three out of every four homes in the south are painted white.

Bedbugs to Leave Humans

By RENNIE TAYLOR
Associated Press Science Writer

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP) — A University of California scientist is weaning bedbugs away from human beings.

He has trained some of the insects to choose rabbits as hosts even when they have the alternative of feeding on the scientist's own blood.

The unusual research project was undertaken in the hope that it would answer a question important in genetics—can an insect parasite's taste be so changed that its descendants will inherit this new preference?

It will take several generations of these college-educated bedbugs to give the answer. If the final result is affirmative, it may mean science may be able to control some insect pests by altering their tastes.

The research is being done by Prof. Robert L. Usinger, an entomologist in the college of agriculture.

Usinger divided his subjects into two groups. One group was allowed to feed only on rabbits or some other nonhuman organism. The other group was treated to a diet of the professor's blood.

Next he let both groups get good and hungry. Then he rigged up a gadget which allows a bug to choose between man and rabbit.

This contrivance was a T-shaped tube, open at all ends. A bug turned loose at the bottom of the T would crawl up the inside of the tube until it came to the crossing. At one end of the cross tube was Prof. Usinger's bare arm. At the other end was a rabbit.

When the bug reached the cross he picked up the scent of both rabbit and professor. He could then follow his choice.

In test after test, Usinger says, the rabbit-conditioned bugs turn to their newly adopted host. But the choice isn't always unanimous. What the future descendants of these bugs will do in such a test is yet to be determined.

Usinger says the bedbug started thousands of years ago as a parasite of bats, and some of them graduated to man when humans lived in bat-infested caves. Later, some of the man-biting bedbugs developed a taste for pigeons, which also shared human dwellings.

Their Faces Get Red From Fire—Year Later

LEXINGTON, N.C. (AP)—John B. Leonard figured he had seen the limit of ingratitude when his 1958 city tax notice listed a $4.30 billing for an ancient four-room house.

Red-faced city officials hurriedly sent a letter advising Leonard the tax had been dropped.

They suddenly remembered that last year Leonard had let city and county firemen burn the house in a training exercise.

The air-conditioning industry has enjoyed a growth of 6,000 per cent in the past 20 years.

1918 Sweater Helps Fulfill Dreams

By JOHN WALLACE

NEW YORK (AP) — Ibrahim Badra, lately of Amman in troubled Jordan, strode confidently down the gangplank of the liner Giulio Cesare Tuesday night with his wife and their three young children.

They brought with them bright hopes for a future of happiness in America — and they also brought a strange but heart-warming tale of an old, tattered sweater that made their dreams come true.

The sweater, knit 41 years ago by a 16-year-old American girl, was intended for an American doughboy in the World War I trenches of France.

It may have kept a doughboy warm. No one knows because there are missing chapters in the history of the sweater.

But it is known that the sweater was responsible for bringing Ibrahim Badra and his family to America.

And, said Mrs. Rose Badra, speaking in her native tongue:

"It is known all over the world that America is best for people and children."

The Badra family sponsors are Mrs. Marguerite Todd Beveridge, and her husband, the Rev. James Beveridge, pastor of the First Baptist church of Belmont, Mass.

It was Mrs. Beveridge, then a schoolgirl, who knitted the sweater in 1918.

Before giving it to the Red Cross for shipment, Mrs. Beveridge had sewn a tag to the sweater with her name and address in New Rochelle, N.Y.

During the war she waited hopefully, but in vain, to hear from an American soldier that the sweater had arrived.

Finally in 1954, Mrs. Beveridge received a letter which had been forwarded to her Belmont home from New Rochelle.

The letter, from an Arabian family, thanked her for the sweater. They had received it from an unnamed Protestant missionary. How the sweater came into the possession of the missionary and where it had been for so many years remains a mystery.

But in 1954 it was being worn by Tanas Badra, an Amman tailor. He, too, had dreams of coming to the United States with his wife and six children.

Mrs. Beveridge and her husband tried to help, but there were complications. And, finally, Tanas Badra was too old to make the voyage to America.

Tanas Badra, however, had a son and the son—who is Ibrahim Badra—also wrote to Mrs. Beveridge about his dream of coming to the United States.

This time, with the help of the World Council of Churches and the Church World Service, the Rev. Mr. Beveridge and his wife obtained permission for the family of Ibrahim.

Ibrahim and his family will go to Belmont with the Rev. and Mrs. Beveridge.

The sweater?

It finally became too tattered and torn to wear, Ibrahim said, and his father discarded it.

2 Women Guilty on Vice Charges

Former Teacher and Friend Await Feb. 25 Sentencing

NEW YORK (AP) — Former schoolteacher Virginia McManus and a madam friend have been convicted on vice charges after a trial in Women's Court.

Miss McManus, 25 and blonde, and Mrs. Beatrice Garfield, 29, are being held in the Women's House of Detention pending sentencing Feb. 25.

The two women were found guilty by Magistrate Hyman Bushel on charges stemming from their arrest in a police raid early last Friday on Mrs. Garfield's $350-a-month apartment. Police said the apartment was the center of operation of 15 to 20 call girls who grossed about $400 each a night.

Miss McManus and Mrs. Garfield were found guilty of loitering for the purposes of prostitution. Mrs. Garfield also was convicted of permitting her apartment to be used for prostitution. The maximum sentence on either conviction is three years.

Miss McManus was acquitted on prostitution charges last October, but Mrs. Garfield went to jail for 60 days as a madam. Bushel sat as magistrate in that case also.

Attorneys for the women said the new convictions would be appealed.

Charges against two other women arrested in the raid, Gayle Siney, 23, and Barbara Jackson, 26, were dismissed.

Miss McManus represented herself as an accredited schoolteacher and a graduate literature student after she came here from Chicago. She got a part-time teaching job at a Brooklyn high school at $4,400 a year. She lost the job after her first arrest last Oct. 2.

Urges Census Jobs Go to Those Over 40

WASHINGTON (AP) — About 160,000 workers will take the census for 1960. Rep. John J. McFall (D-Calif) thinks that's a good opportunity for people over 40 years of age. He has urged the Census Bureau to give special priority to them when hiring census takers.

Raul Castro Blasts at Foreign Investors

HAVANA (AP) — Foreign investors in Cuba got another going-over Tuesday night from leaders of Fidel Castro's revolutionary forces.

Fidel Castro's brother Raul told a labor mass meeting in Havana's Central Park that Cuba has come of age and is capable of solving her own problems.

"We must get rid of guardianship by foreign countries," he declared.

Castro told the crowd Cuban industry "has become exhausted due to foreign competition" for the "incredible concessions" he said had been given foreign interests by ex-President Fulgencio Batista.

The meeting drew an estimated 10,000 persons.

Had Operational Record

BOSTON (UPI) — Miss M. Blanche Wallace, who retired recently after 32 years as a nurse, assisted the late Dr. Frank H. Lahey, famed Boston surgeon, at 17,000 operations.

Tornado Just Misses in 3rd Brush With Death

(Vernon S. Beck, 72, big-game hunter in Africa and the far north, has had many close shaves in an adventurous life but the tornado which ripped off a wall of his apartment early today was the most harrowing of all. Beck owns an engineering firm and manages three apartment buildings, including the one in which he lives. The apartments were in the path of the tornado. The apartments are in fashionable West St. Louis near Forest Park.

By VERNON S. BECK

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP)—I guess I live under a lucky star. This was my third close shave with death.

The last time was on a swimming party in Lake Superior.

Nobody who lives in our three apartment houses was hurt this morning but its a miracle some weren't killed.

I was asleep in my bedroom and didn't wake up until two bricks hit me on the head. But they just grazed me and that's why I'm still here.

My wife, Lola, sleeping in another room, came to the door and said 'Are you all right Vernon?'

I answered that I thought I was and muttered something about 'only a couple of bricks hit me.'

As soon as I got up, I saw that the wall was gone. My bed was just a couple of inches away from sitting outside.

Then we found the windows were out every place and everything was strewn around the apartment.

The tenants upstairs came down and told us their walls were gone too. Their furniture was all sucked out. We checked to see if anyone was hurt. And we all thank God that no one was.

I guess we'll never know how we were spared.

One girl Vivian Krespi, a graduate student from Turkey, lost her money. It was in a dresser that was blown away. Only a few days ago she had moved her bed from the outside wall to the inside. Otherwise she would have been blown into the street.

My wife said that Nancy Wehner, a medical student from Detroit, was sleeping in a second-floor bedroom and the wall was gone there too.

I told my wife that I must live right.

In Africa, I was in a car which went off a mountain road. The guide, who was driving, was killed. Three natives riding with us were hospitalized for weeks.

I went all the way down the mountainside and got only a split lip and a skinned knee.

I went down three times while swimming in Lake Superior and the third time I hit bottom. But the wind or the current carried me to a sand bar where it was shallow.

Four years ago I was with a party hunting polar bears near the North Pole. We killed four but that was tame compared to this thing today.

Ike's New Aide Pleases GOP

Persons Prefers Party Men for Political Job Appointments

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republicans are crediting presidential assistant Wilton B. Persons with bringing about a new White House awareness of political matters in appointments.

Persons, who succeeded Sherman Adams as President Eisenhower's right hand man, apparently is pleasing congressional Republicans with his cooperativeness.

Unlike Adams, who sometimes preferred a Democrat to a Republican, Persons is reported to feel that the road to harmony within the party is through paying attention to the recommendations of party senators and House members when there is a job to fill.

Congressional Republicans have pressed this same view upon GOP National Chairman Meade Alcorn, with reports of varying success. There have been some complaints, but most of them think Alcorn's record of consulting with them is improving.

For his own part, Alcorn apparently is finding it a great deal easier under the Persons regime than under Adams to convey his appointment recommendations to Eisenhower.

This Cinderella Meets No Prince Charming

WICHITA, Kan. (AP)—Cinderella-like, the loss of a shoe led to the arrest of Robert Hernandez, 26, Tuesday.

Police Sgt. Frank Robertson found a shoe at the scene of an attempted burglary. On return to Hernandez had been picked up for questioning. He was wearing only one shoe.

The shoe Robertson found fit Hernandez. He was booked for investigation.

The Life of Lincoln

In one case he represented a man who had sold a team of oxen to two young brothers. They later refused to pay, claiming immunity as minors. "Legally," their case was solid. Lincoln admitted this and, surprisingly, did not criticize the boys. Instead, he attacked the jury.

A verdict freeing the boys from their promise would be harmful to them, Lincoln argued. The jury had no right to allow them to begin life with this stain on their characters. When he was finished, everyone, including the boys, was in favor of their paying the debt.

Father Stays in Jail as His Son Is Buried

BRIDGEPORT, Conn. (AP) — Four-year-old Albert Rotzal will be buried today while his father remains in jail, charged with murder.

The boy's foster parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Rotzal, will attend the Lutheran funeral services. His father, Louis Kish, 41, meantime faces arraignment on the murder charge.

The body of the child was found Saturday in a crude grave of dirt, brush and leaves. His face was bruised.

He had disappeared Friday from a department store, where he had gone with his foster mother.

Police picked up Kish and charged him with breach of peace, a common holding charge in Connecticut. He was re-arrested the following day on a coroner's warrant. Today he was charged with murder and ordered held without bond.

Kish consistently has denied any connection with the death.

State Snowfall Record Threatened at Houghton

HOUGHTON, Mich. (AP)—The state snowfall record of 282.2 inches set here in the winter of 1949-50 is being threatened.

Through Tuesday, Houghton reported a total of 209 inches — a mark not reached in the record year until Feb. 19.

Joins Air Force to Find Time to Play Horn

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Harry James Jr., 17, who toots a trumpet, like his dad, joined the Air Force Tuesday so he can find more time for music.

James is the son of the trumpet-playing bandleader, Harry James.

The young was a freshman music major at North Texas State College, Denton, Tex.

"There wasn't enough time for my playing at Denton," he said. "I'm hoping the Air Force will let me keep at it all the time," James said.

The Air Force said he probably will be assigned to a band as a trumpeter as soon as he finishes basic at Lackland Air Force Base, San Antonio, Tex.

James, who lives in California, is a native of Beaumont, Tex.

Hungarian High Schools Require Factory Work

BUDAPEST (AP) — Hungarian high school students are to be required to work in factories one day a week.

The new study-work program, going into effect this month, will take in students 14 to 18 years old.

Hungarian university students for some time have been required to spend six months in a factory or on a farm before being eligible for a degree.

Gal Disc Jockey Seeks Nonstop Broadcast Mark

POCATELLO, Idaho (AP)—Disc jockey Jo Warner started today by spinning a long-play record. She hopes to end it with a new record for non-stop broadcasting.

The 22-year-old announcer for radio station KYTE began her ninth day of broadcasting in a downtown music store. "I'm a little tired," she said.

She admitted her voice was growing weak after 180 hours—a mark she passed at midnight Tuesday. She hopes to keep up the wakeathon for 240 hours for the benefit of the March of Dimes.

Teaching Mode Change Asked

Study of Languages Should Start at Very Young Age

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The traditional methods of teaching foreign languages must be junked and an entirely new approach adopted.

That is the gist of a set of recommendations being made to more than 5,000 junior and senior high school principals. They are expected to have far reaching effects in the public schools.

The recommendations came from the Committee on Curriculum Planning and Development of the National Assn. of Secondary School Principals. The association is in convention here.

"What we need," the committee said, "is a complete change of emphasis from learning about the language to learning the language itself."

To bring this about, it urged that foreign language programs be made available to all capable and interested students, starting in the seventh grade if possible. The study of one language would continue for a minimum of four years; six if possible. The courses would be elective, not required.

Emphasis at the start would be on learning to converse in the language. Grammar, direct translation and reading and writing the language would follow later. Grammar and the ability to read will come easily and naturally if adequate time has first been spent in learning how to hear and speak the language, the committee said.

Tape recordings, films, slides, records, and foreign language newspapers and magazines should be used to the fullest extent, the committee said. The foreign language should be the language of the classroom at least 90 per cent of the time and "above all, the foreign language must not be mixed with English."

Principals who heard the plan outlined Monday were generally enthusiastic, but they had two bothersome questions: "Where are we going to get the teachers? And how are we going to fit this into an already crowded schedule —what goes out if this comes in?"

The teacher supply is likely to be the single biggest obstacle. To make the program effective nationwide, many more teachers must be trained and many of those not teaching will have to be re-trained.

The committee said it makes no great difference what foreign language is taught, just so it's taught long enough and effectively enough to give the student a real working knowledge of it.

Leaves Son $10, Family Friend Gets $25,000

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Atty. Hiram W. Johnson Jr. cut off son Hiram W. Johnson III with $10, but bequeathed $25,000 to Marie Schow, a family friend of 40 years.

The will, filed for probate Tuesday, noted: "I do not consider it fitting to excoriate him (Hiram III) nor do I wish to detail my reasons. They are explicit and plentiful."

The balance of the estate—value not estimated — goes to another son, Philip Bowles Johnson.

Johnson Jr. was a son of the late Hiram W. Johnson, who was a California governor and U.S. senator.

Engineering School Enrollments Drop

URBANA, Ill. (AP) — Enrollment in American engineering schools is on the decline for the first time in seven years, despite still-critical demands for engineering talent, the American Society for Engineering Education reports.

The society said a survey conducted in cooperation with the U.S. Office of Education showed the nation's 153 accredited engineering colleges had 2.9 per cent less students in the fall of 1958 than a year earlier. The freshman class of 59,164 was 11.6 per cent smaller than the previous year.

The number of graduates increased in 1957-58 and should show another gain in 1959, the society said, with the prospect of fewer graduates in the years thereafter. The number of 1957-58 graduates totaled 31,216 compared with 27,748 the previous year.

Robinson's Son Gets 6 Months Probation

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP) —Edward G. Robinson Jr., 26-year-old son of the actor, will have to serve a jail sentence if he violates six months probation.

He was placed on probation Tuesday after Judge Adolph Alexander fined him $100 and suspended a 30-day jail sentence on his plea of guilty of disorderly conduct.

He was arrested Nov. 21, 1958, in the lobby of the Beverly Hills Hotel on a drunk charge. The complaint was changed to disorderly conduct.

For Want of a Shoe

HILTON, N. Y. (UPI)—A $20,000 fire that destroyed Robert Strussenberg's farm here was touched off by two seven-year-old boys who were searching for a lost shoe in the hay, using matches to light their way.

Washington AP Unit Gets a New Home

By ARTHUR EDSON
(A Newsfeatures Writer

WASHINGTON—After 58 eventful years, the Washington bureau of The Associated Press has a new home.

It has left, reluctantly, a sturdy but old and tired building.

For years we have complained bitterly because it wasn't air conditioned, because of the service on the weary elevators, because in many ways a building is like a woman: no matter how hard she tries, she will show her age, and another coat of paint won't conceal it.

Now we're in a snappy new building, on the first floor so elevators are no problem. It's air conditioned, the lighting is just about perfect, the walls are a restful light green.

And yet many of us are unhappy.

Why is it that a man becomes not only a victim, but an eager accomplice of habit?

For what we're chiefly muttering about today is that our habits have been shattered.

We have to discover new paths to the water fountain, new ways to sneak out for coffee. It even was a chore to find the copy paper on which this deathless prose is being written.

Well, it will take time to simmer down.

And gradually, like any family, we'll again start collecting those curious barnacles that will astound our successors on the next move a half century from now.

The incredible things that people save!

From deep in the storeroom, for example, came an ancient iron press operated by a wheel. No one knows what it was used for. Could it be that early day reporters who were tardy with their copy were taken to this thumbscrew?

Back in wirephoto, that haven and wonder of modern communications, someone found hidden behind an old crock what must have been the first crystal radio set in the nation's capital.

Each reporter uncovered items that should have been discarded years ago.

Anyone interested in a social list of Washington? It's undated, but there's a phone number listed for Sen. Theodore G. Bilbo of Mississippi, dead these many years.

All in all, it's staggering to look back on these years with the Washington Evening Star. (The Star, too, will soon leave its historic old spot on Pennsylvania avenue for a new building of its own.) its oats as a world power.

For these 58 years span an epic. They go back to the time when this country was just beginning to feel its oats as a world power.

President Teddy Roosevelt in the White House . . . Woodrow Wilson . . . the war to end all wars . . . Coolidge, Harding, FDR . . . depression, World War II, and atom bomb drops, Korea, Eisenhower . . . this country, and its capital, right smack in everything.

How many bulletins shot out of the old place? How many millions, probably billions, of words? How many ulcers were nurtured there as editors struggled manfully to make news on the fly make sense?

It has been an eventful era, but the new place probably will be just as lively.

In the meantime, the word has gone around, we can get coffee by slipping out that rear door.

Big Universities Get Some Cash

Payless Payday Threat Eases as State Sends November Allotments

LANSING (AP) — The immediate threat of payless paydays at the three major state universities has been wiped out by a $6,600,000 disbursement from the state treasury.

State Treasurer Sanford A. Brown yesterday sent $2,700,000 to the University of Michigan, $2,100,000 to Michigan State University and $800,000 to Wayne State University.

The money represents deferred November installments of state aid appropriations. Regular monthly allotments to the universities were suspended in December when the state's dollar drought became acute.

Yesterday's disbursement also included one million dollars for construction and special service projects at the schools.

Brown said the $6,600,000 remittance was made possible by a quick response to Gov. Williams' plea that corporations and businesses get their tax money in early this year.

Hunters bag more than one million deer in the U.S. every year.

Another Hearing on Lansdowne

Waterford Board Sets March 16 for Airing of Blacktopping Issue

A new hearing date has been set for the blacktopping of Landsdowne street, a plat of land rezoned from residential to commercial and a real estate plat approved by the Waterford Township Board.

After new bids from the blacktopping project on Lansdowne street have been received by the Board, township engineers will analyze and prepare recommendations for a hearing March 16.

Sixteen lots on Dixie highway at Scott Lake road were rezoned from residential to commercial.

Preliminary plans for 89 lots in the Holiday Farms No. 4 were approved by the board. The subdivision is located on Highland road near Crescent Lake road.

The board postponed approval of the Lotus Lake Subdivision Plat No. 2 until Feb. 18 due to the township's request that developers guarantee a preferred bond for a storm water outlet.

A delegation of residents from the Lotus Lake Civic Association were present to request the outlet. However, the board assured them that every precaution would be taken to protect their water supply from excess storm water.

The board has requested that a 30-inch storm water outlet be installed from a swampy area in the subdivision to Lotus Lake.

Strange Statistics!

COLLEGE PARK, Md. (UPI)—Dr. Frank F. J. Figge of the University of Maryland is studying a colony of mice he claims get all the diseases humans do. Ten per cent of the male mice get lung cancer, Dr. Figge said, adding: "This is strange because none of these mice has ever smoked."

Oak Park Mom Saves Children

Rescues Her 3 Small Boys as Spilled Gas Sets Home Ablaze

OAK PARK — A mother here saved her three small children when fire broke out in their home at 23211 Rensselaer Rd. yesterday.

Mrs. Burt J. Hunt and her two-year-old son Gary were in the basement when the boy knocked over a motor scooter spilling gasoline which burst into flames.

She scooped up Gary and ran upstairs to rescue her seven-month-old baby Steven and his brother Mark, 7.

She got them out of the burning house and phoned the fire department from a neighbor's home.

According to Fire Marshal Edmund Nowak, the gas fumes were ignited either by the oil furnace or by a water heater pilot light nearby in the basement. He estimated damage to the house at $6,000.

Mrs. Hunt's husband was at work when the fire occurred and her other three children were attending school.

The flames swept through the basement and up a clothes chute to the attic where they burned through the roof before firemen extinguished the blaze.

Hold Two Local Men for Trial on Bad Checks

ROCHESTER — Two local men have been bound over to Oakland County Circuit Court, charged with passing 20 worthless $30 checks in this area, Rochester Police reported today.

They are Ellsworth Phillips, 23, of 6480 John R Rd. and Wesley W. Dexter, 29, of 2568 Emmons St.

Both are being held in Oakland County Jail today after waiving examination before Justice Luther C. Green. Neither of the pair could post $2,000 bond.

Baker to Get Reasons for Dismissal

Couple Resides in Pontiac After Recent Marriage

DRAYTON PLAINS—Area newlyweds, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Lee Schram are now residing at 645 Auburn Ave., Pontiac, following their recent marriage.

The Rev. Kenneth Hutchinson of the Pontiac First Church of the Nazarene performed the double-ring ceremony at the Michailuck residence before one hundred guests, with a reception afterward.

For her wedding the bride choose a gown with fitted bodice, round neckline and a long-sleeved jacket of white lace. A band of white flowers secured her shoulder-length veil of silk illusion. She carried a colonial bouquet of pink and white roses.

Carol Hanson of Pontiac assisted the bride as maid of honor.

Jesse Kellogg of Clarkston, the bride's grandfather, gave her in marriage. Dick Broom of Pontiac served as best man.

Area Executive Gets Fruehauf Board Post

ROYAL OAK — Manufacturing executive James N. Robbins of 1051 Vinsetta Rd. has been named to the board of directors of the Fruehauf Trailer Co., Detroit.

He is president and owner of the Jim Robbins Co., plastic and chemical manufacturers with offices at Stephenson highway and 14-Mile road and 14 plants throughout the United States and abroad.

Robbins also is president of the Sylvan Glenn Golf Club near Rochester and president of the Robbins Aviation Corp., Pontiac.

Elected by Photographers

ROYAL OAK — Chief photographer of the Royal Oak Tribune, Bayard Lawes, has been named regional vice president of the National Press Photographers Assn. He was notified yesterday of his election to the post.

Avondale School Board Explains Ouster by Mail

AVON TOWNSHIP — The Avondale School Board will meet at 8 p.m. today, and by that time former Superintendent of Schools Raymond N. Baker should have the reasons why his contract was not renewed for the coming year.

"A letter containing those reasons was mailed yesterday and should be received by Baker before tonight's meeting," Board President Gordon S. Hamilton said today.

"In the letter the board gives a resume of the discussion which took place at the time we made the decision not to renew Baker's contract," Hamilton said. This action was taken by the board Dec. 15.

The board president added that "If Baker wants those reasons made public, I'd be only too happy to give them."

Baker said today that his attorney, Roscoe Bonisteel Jr. of Ann Arbor, had asked for a hearing before the board. The board set the hearing for last Friday night, but it was called off when a bill of particulars on why he was dismissed was not presented by the board, the ex-superintendent said.

Baker charges that the board did not follow North Central Assn. procedure when it failed to give him the reasons for not renewing his contract. He added that he also should have been given an opportunity to correct the situation as stated by the board before he was removed from office.

A citizens' committee formed after Baker's ouster asked for answers to questions regarding the board's action, which were given at the board's Feb. 2 meeting. At that time the board gave Baker a letter in which reasons for his dismissal were explained, Hamilton said.

"They gave reasons then which were not definite reasons at all," Baker said, adding "They were not documented and did not satisfy my attorney."

The ousted superintendent has maintained all along that he would consult his attorney before making the reasons for his dismissal public when he received them.

Baker, who is 56, has been an administrater for 32 years and superintendent of the Avondale Schools for the past 14 years. He was three years from retirement at the time of his dismissal.

Clubs to Support Planning Group

Oxford Rotary, C. of C. Back Proposed Village Commission

OXFORD—Two local clubs have announced that they will support a planning commission to be set up in the near future by the Oxford Village Council.

At last night's council meeting letters were read from the Rotary Club and Chamber of Commerce endorsing plans for the proposed commission. Both clubs offered to furnish lists of members interested in serving on the new board.

The council will go ahead now and draft an ordinance setting up the commission under the Michigan Enabling Act.

One of the functions of the new commission will be to formulate a master plan for the Oxford area which will cover zoning, recreation, and water and sewer supply.

Council members hope that the commission will work with the Oxford Township Board too in order to make the plan uniform and acceptable to both governing bodies, the village clerk said today.

Boyne City Building Collapsed by Snow

BOYNE CITY (UP)—A 27-year-old Boyne City building occupied until last fall by a grocery firm, collapsed yesterday due to the weight of the snow on its roof.

Glass from display windows of the single story S. B. Neymark building flew up to 60 feet across the street in the main business district. No one was injured and a bakery and restaurant flanking the structure escaped harm. Contractors estimate damage might run up to $20,000.

Boyne City has recorded 132 inches of snow since last Nov. 25, 27 inches more than in any winter of the past 30 years.

Arrives Aboard New Luxury Airplane

German Industry Expert Visits U.S.

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Editor

From a luxury airliner which had flown nonstop from Frankfurt, Germany, to New York, stepped a youngish-appearing man with a mission last week.

Both the airliner and the man were significant.

The airplane belonged to Lufthansa-German Airlines, headquartering in Cologne. It was a real luxury job. The airline called this particular flight "The Senator." It was designed with special appeal to successful businessmen and for every three of its 32 passengers it carried one crewman. It had its own special chef.

Lufthansa began flying the international airlines at almost exactly the same day West Germany became a sovereign state, May 5, 1955.

The man was Berthold Beitz, managing director of the vast Krupp combine of steel mills, coal mines and factories in West Germany. While here he would confer in New York and Washington.

The man he answers to is Alfried Krupp, by right of succession sole owner of the Krupp interests, a man reported able to write a check for one billion dollars, and also reputed the richest man in Europe.

Together, the airline, with a passenger service through Europe, the Middle East and North and South America, and the man, representing interests with a business turnover of nearly one billion dollars a year, were representative of the Germany that has arisen since the end of World War II.

They also are representative of the present-day thinking of the Western Allies who once went so far as to propose that Germany should be reduced to a purely agricultural nation and that its war-making potential be erased forever.

The U. S. visit of Berthold Beitz has not been particularly publicized. One phase of it may be assumed to have to do with announcement on Monday from Bonn that the West German government formally had asked an extension of the time by which Krupp and the Thyssen family must sell their coal and steel holdings.

These orders to sell were part of the Potsdam agreement and were pursued with vigor against German industry from the years 1947-53.

In the years since World War II, Krupp has disposed of properties worth in the neighborhood of 34 million dollars. He still holds properties whose value runs into the hundreds of millions.

It now generally is expected that the Western Allies will agree to the extension asked by both Krupp and Thyssen, although both had been among those held responsible for bringing Adolf Hitler to power and in preparing for and maintaining Hitler's aggressive war.

Why the allied switch?

An obvious answer is that West German troops and war potential now are being developed on the side of the West as a barrier against Communism.

Another is Krupp's own answer that it is not easy to find a buyer with 500 million dollars in his pocket, and that, even if he could, it would be economic suicide to break up into small bits an industrial complex in an age of automation and steadily increasing production.

Meanwhile, there has grown up the European coal and steel community under which, in Western Europe, materials flow freely across boundaries to benefit industries of all member nations. Included in the community are those two ancient enemies, France and West Germany. The Allies believe the coal and steel community may offer guarantees effective enough to prevent Krupp or other great industrial concerns from becoming a political danger again.

Hollywood Headlines

Sandra Dee at Warner Lot to Do 'Summer Place'

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD—Sandra Dee, considered just about the most popular of the young teenage actresses, today made her first appearance on the Warner Bros. lot. Sandra has been borrowed by Jack Warner from Universal-International for the top ingenue lead in "Summer Place."

Frank Sinatra has a new title, vice president of the Sands Hotel in Las Vegas (in which he holds a 5 per cent interest).

Got a chuckle out of the added detail that Frankie boy's new duties, along with President-Producer Jack Entratter, will include "public relations!" If this means with the press, Jack's going to have to give Frankie some lessons.

Anyway, Sinatra is an assert to any organization — he's hot these days. Dean Martin, who has brought some crowds into the Sands, will also be made a partner.

Frank is starting "Never So Few" with his pal Sammy Davis Jr., shortly and immediately after he'll make "Oceans 11," also with Sammy. And they are both booked into Miami nightclubs, not at the same spot, however.

Not in a long time has a young actor had as much praise heaped on his shoulders as Bobby Crawford who starred in "Child of Our Time" on Playhouse 90. The New York Times gave him a special article.

"Little Tyrone is so like the big Tyrone," Annabella told me. I had a tear as I thought if only Tyrone who wanted a boy so much had lived to see his son—th image of him—how happy he would have been.

The news that Foxey Leshin's son Steve Sondheim's lyrics for "Gypsy" are great, has given her a lot of comfort since the loss of her husband. Cole Porter, Anita Loos told me, has said that Steve's lyrics are as beautiful as anything he'd ever heard.

They are for the Ethel Merman Broadway show and when I tell you that Ethel is simply delighted, you know they must be good, because my friend Ethel is a real critic.

Small wonder Piper Laurie is walking on clouds! The little gal who got her first movie publicity "eating flowers" in salads, will co-star with the great Maurice Evans in "Caesar and Cleopatra," George Bernard Shaw's classic, for GE Theater on April 12. Filming starts in Hollywood on Feb. 23.

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random:

Talked to Debbie Reynolds and Carrie Francis got on the telephone and said, "Hi, Louella" as plain as a grownup. She has discarded the "lollipop." Debbie danced in "Say One For Me" today for the first time, wearing a rubber knee guard.

Rumors are that Kim Novak and Richard Quine are not as cozy as they were a few months ago. Quine has rented a house at Malibu—that's where his ex-wife lives.

The reports that Leo Durocher suffered a mild heart attack have been denied although he is sick in bed.

Bing Crosby and Bob Hope won't be wrangling over their golf games for a little while. Robin's M.D. has taken him off golf for a month or so.

Some Electras Not Restricted

Planes With Old-Type Altimeters Can Land in Bad Weather

NEW YORK (UP) — Federal restrictions which all but grounded the Lockheed Electra airplane following last Tuesday's fatal crash have been lifted for planes re-equipped with different altimeters, Eastern Air Lines says.

An official of the Federal Aviation Agency confirmed that Electras equipped with standard type altimeters can make bad-weather landings under the usual flying conditions.

Electras were restricted after federal inspectors had worked over the instrument panel of an American Airlines Electra raised from the mud of the East River.

The plane's midnight crash, which killed 65 persons, led to speculation that a new type altimeter with a single needle may have been misread by the pilot.

Only two airlines, Eastern and American now are flying the brand-new turboprop Electras.

The FAA announced in Washington Sunday night that it was temporarily restricting Electras from landing with less than 1,000 foot ceiling or visibility less than one mile in daylight and two miles at night.

All parts of the wrecked airplane are under close study. Experts hope the position of the propellers will point to the cause of the disaster.

Mystery Blast Hits Panhandle

Tremor Reported Over Wide Area; Cause of Shock Unknown

AMARILLO, Tex. (AP)—Something shook up this area Tuesday but nobody seems to know what it was.

The tremor, accompanied by two distinct blasts, shook a large section of the Texas Panhandle and southeastern New Mexico.

The shock was felt in an area from 100 miles northeast of Amarillo to Roswell, N.M., 200 miles to the southwest.

Witnesses said houses swayed and they reported hearing unpleasant noises like trucks hitting buildings, horses galloping, and gas explosions.

The seismograph at Texas Tech College in Lubbock registered a slight motion. One at Southern Methodist University in Dallas didn't.

Dr. Eugene Herrin, observatory director at SMU, suggested the tremor was the result of an atmospheric disturbance.

Randolph Air Force Base at San Antonio said a supersonic aircraft could have caused the shaking-up. Cannon Air Force Base, Clovis, N.M., said it had no planes that could do it flying over the area at the time. The possibility of a meteor also was raised.

Smashup Near Petoskey Kills Onaway Woman

PETOSKEY (AP)—A three-car crash on a county road east of here yesterday killed Mrs. Elizabeth Vermilya, 80, of Onaway.

The Kent County sheriff's office said she was a passenger in a car driven by her son-in-law. The vehicle collided with another car and officers said it then was struck by a third vehicle.

Mardi Gras Ends, Lent Begins

New Orleans Quiet Again

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—With another Mardi Gras part of history, New Orleans put away its carnival atmosphere until next year. Today was one of solemnity as many in the city began observing the 40-day Lenten season.

The Mardi Gras season, which began officially 12 nights after Christmas and reached its climax Tuesday with an all-day celebration, ended officially at midnight.

Rex, King of Carnival, set off the festivities when he boarded his mobile throne and led his parade through the heart of the city.

From then on, anything went. the main business section, roaming up and down streets cleared of traffic for the occasion.

Comus, the oldest of the Krewes, Costumed participants jammed Tuesday night put on the final procession of the parade season, which began Feb. 1.

Many of the parade floats and onlookers were caught in intermittent showers. But even occasional heavy rains failed to drive many home.

The maskers ranged in age from a few months on. Almost every type costume imaginable could be seen and some were little more than imagination.

When the day parades were over, the crowds moved from Canal Street to the French Quarter and continued their celebrating.

Police, who had been troubled by ruffians during the night parades, described the day as an average Mardi Gras.

Otto John Barred From English Shores

LONDON (AP)—Dr. Otto John, ex-chief of West German security who went to jail for treason with the Communists, has been barred from Britain as an undesirable alien.

John was detained at Dover Tuesday when he arrived from Belgium aboard a channel ferry. He was to be sent back today on the ferry's return trip.

Friends in Bonn said John wanted to begin a new life as a lawyer in England.

John slipped into East Germany in 1954 and worked for the Communists. He returned to the West the following year claiming he had been kidnaped, but in 1956 the West German Supreme Court sentenced him to four years imprisonment. He was pardoned last July.

Detroit Cab Driver Gets 10-25 for Slaying Wife

DETROIT (AP) — William Lancaster, 45, a Detroit cab driver, has been sentenced to 10-25 years in Southern Michigan Prison in the claw hammer slaying of his wife.

Recorder's Court Judge Joseph A. Gillis sentenced Lancaster yesterday after he pleaded guilty to second degree murder.

Lancaster is the father of two children. He turned himself in to Detroit police, saying he had beaten his wife, Laodice, 44, to death last November in the dining room of their home.

Tells Pipe Line Firm to Refund Revenue

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Power Commission examiner ruled yesterday that Panhandle Eastern Pipe Line Co., should refund excess revenue collected from Jan. 1, 1955 to Sept. 1, 1958.

The Kansas City company serves about 60 wholesale customers in Michigan, Indiana, Ohio, Illinois, Missouri and Kansas.

Examiner Richard N. Ivins did not estimate the amount of money involved.

His decision will become a final commission order if no review is initiated within 30 days.

In ruling against a gas rate increase being collected by the company, subject to a refund, he estimated the increases would result in $11,488,897 annually in revenue in excess of the cost of service.

Musicale Has Men's Night

By CHRIS GAENSBAUER

It was a dark and stormy night, but members of Pontiac Tuesday Musicale and their husbands and guests didn't seem to care. They filled all the available space in the Congregational Church dining room for their annual Men's night program last evening. A roast beef dinner and some fine entertainment made it well worth the effort.

The two young musicians who provided the program gave a memorable performance, particularly since they had spent a harrowing three hours transporting themselves and harp from East Lansing to Pontiac and arrived just in time to appear.

Harvi Griffin, harpist, and William Beidler, tenor, were soloists for the evening. Both are students at Michigan State University but each has a professional background which was apparent in their music artistry and personable stage presence.

SHOWED SKILL

The first group of harp solos opened with the second and third movements of the Handel concerts for harp. In this classical composition, Mr. Griffin quickly demonstrated his superior technical skills with his clean scales, difficult running passages and variety of tonal shadings.

Having proved himself adept at serious music, he switched to a delightful medley of popular songs of his own arrangement. This included "I'm in the Mood for Love," "The Way You Look Tonight," "You Go to My Head" and "Lover, Come Back to Me." The familiar "Autumn Leaves" closed this group, and its expressively played melody, accompanied by rippling arpeggios, produced much audience pleasure.

William Beidler presented a variety of folk songs in his two groups, accompanying himself on the autoharp. Folk songs can be dull unless done with the proper dramatic sense, humor and pathos, and wide vocal range in both pitch and dynamics. Mr. Beidler fulfilled all the qualifications and in addition proved the versatility and effectiveness of the autoharp.

In the opening Jamaican folk song he used the instrument as a percussive as well as chordal instrument and achieved the plaintive, wailing singing quality necessary for authentic West Indies folk singing. The South Carolina "Riddle Song" revealed a lovely floating voice quality and haunting pianissimo passages.

A MELLOW VOICE

In his final two numbers Mr. Griffin revealed a pleasingly mellow voice while accompanying himself on the harp. In a style similar to that of Harry Belafonte, he sang "Jamaica Farewell" and "Island in the Sun." The latter number had an introduction of brilliant glissandos and he used the wooden frame like a drum while playing with one hand. For an encore Mr. Griffin played and sang "Anywhere I Wander."

Mr. Beidler demonstrated his fine interpretative sense in his singing of the spiritual, "Take My Mother Home," to open his second group. "Ol' Son Took the Measles" and "Good Old Man," both Appalachian tunes derived from English, had humor and drama which brought chuckles from the audience. The spiritual "Soon I Will Be Done" closed this group.

Mr. Beidler's ability to change quickly from full-voiced exaltation to whispering mezzo-voice or falsetto made his interpretations deeply moving. "Summertime" was his choice for an encore.

In spite of Tuesday's unobliging weather, this foursome arrived for the annual musical program. Left are Mr. and Mrs. William Shunck, who were accompanied by their son, Peter Shunck, and Janet Grimes.

A Valentine theme was carried out at the Musicale's dinner party, held before the guest artists were presented. Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Esler seem to agree that the colorful lace hearts added a festive touch to the affair.

Mrs. Harry Henderson, president of the Republican Women's Federation of Oakland County, chats with special guests John Martin, left, Republican National committeeman of Grand Rapids and Lawrence Lindemer, Republican State chairman of Stockbridge, at the tea.

Tea Is Held by GOP Women

The annual Lincoln Day Tea was held by the Republican Women's Federation of Oakland County Monday afternoon at Hotel Waldron.

Broomfield.

Sculptress Favors Female Faces

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

I recently had the exhilarating experience of meeting the youthful but famous sculptress, Fiore de Henriquez. I never have known anybody who is so COMPLETELY alive. Her warmth and enthusiasm are flamboyant and her deep contagious laughter practically shakes the walls. Her features are classically beautiful but one does not notice this for a long time because of the impact of her personality.

Fiore says, "Early in life I fell in love with clay." It also is apparent that she is desperately in love with life and with people. She had her first exhibition at the Galleria Rizzi in Florence, Italy. There were 70 pieces and she sold them all. Since then exhibitions of her work have been held in many places, among them, Rome, Milan, Venice, Naples and London. Recently she had a showing in New York City at Rockefeller Plaza.

It seems amazing that this young woman has modeled some 3,000 people in the past eight years. Many famous people have sat for Fiore de Henriquez, a few of them being Noel Coward, Igor Stravinsky, Peter Ustinov, Vivien Leigh, Sir Laurence Olivier, and Princess Marie Louise.

She recently has returned from her first lecture trip and now is greatly in demand. She talks informally but entertainingly while she works on stage. She does a head in 20 minutes and has rare talent in catching the personality of the model.

Many artists dislike women as subjects because they are apt to want to look much younger and prettier than they are. However, Fiore said, "I would much rather do women than men because a woman has creation in her. She has the heart of creation in her. A man just has a face — unless he is a great man." Sheal so said that every face has good points and that she sees no reason to emphasize the bad ones.

LIKES IRREGULAR FACE

Fiore finds a face which has some irregularity most interesting and likes best to work with children or mature women because the faces of children are pure and unwritten on, while the mature woman has something in her face worth reproducing.

Fiore told me of an experience she had when on a lecture trip. She did a head of one of the local women. The woman did not want to be the subject because she had a receding chin. She always had hated this and was self-conscious about it. Fiore said to me, "This woman had a lot of beautiful things in her face. For instance, she had a lovely expression and eyes full of soul."

After the woman saw her completed portrait in clay she thanked Miss Henriquez from the bottom of her heart. Before that she only had seen her receding chin. Now she no longer feels homely because she sees herself more objectively through the artist's eyes.

We might all remember this. It is a shame to allow some physical defect to make us self-conscious! Anyway we exaggerate our defects and are much more conscious of them than others are. Perhaps your little turned up nose or your crooked smile are charming to others!

Also, changes which come with the years can add to fascination and charm if we live with warmth and perception.

Chopped Vegetables Delicious in Lemon Jelly

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

Salads are apt to get rather monotonous at this time of year. We have a suggestion for one that will perk up any meal. Mrs. C. E. Haynes shares her recipe for Jellied Coleslaw with us.

Mrs. Haynes works in her church and in the PTA. She spends a great deal of time sewing, both for herself and for her children.

JELLIED COLESLAW
By Mrs. C. E. Haynes

1 package lemon gelatin
1 cup hot water
½ cup cold water
2 tablespoons vinegar
½ cup mayonnaise
¼ teaspoon salt
Dash of pepper
¼ teaspoon celery seed
2 cups chopped cabbage
2 tablespoons chopped green pepper
1 tablespoon chopped onion
Dash of seasoning, salt

Dissolve gelatin in hot water. Add vinegar, mayonnaise, salt, pepper and celery seed to cold water, mix well and add to gelatin. Let cool to syrupy stage.

Beat until thick and fluffy. Fold in rest of ingredients. Mix well. Pour into greased mold (ever use mayonnaise for greasing salad molds?) Chill until set. Serves 8.

Officers Elected by OES Group

Mrs. John Burnia has been elected president of Griffin Proficiency Club, OES.

Others named to office include Mrs. Davy Gilpin, vice president and Mrs. Melva Allen, secretary-treasurer.

Mrs. Meta McIlroy, outgoing president, has appointed Mrs. Grace Snover, Mrs. Mary Erickson and Mrs. Edna Warden chairmen of installation ceremonies. The officers will be installed at the March meeting, to be held in the North Roselawn drive home of Mrs. Mabel Reynolds.

More than 51,500 persons have obtained international driving permits this year.

Max Richardson Benefit Dance Slated for Feb. 27

Silver Lake neighbors of Max Richardson are sponsoring a benefit dance for him Feb. 27 at Elks Temple. A local orchestra will provide music.

Mr. Richardson received burns over 50 per cent of his body Jan. 5 in an explosion and fire in his garage where he was working on his car. He has been a patient at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital since that time.

Manager of Hillcrest Golf and Country Club near Mt. Clemens, he is a well known golfer with many trophies to his credit.

He lives at Walton boulevard with his wife and two children.

Mr. Richardson will receive all proceeds from the dance.

Tickets may be obtained from local merchants. For further information contact Burnell McAllister, member of the steering committee. Mrs. Ralph Bump is chairman.

Couldn't Be Blamed for Dreaming!

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

"DEAR ABBY: First let me say that I am a very happily married woman so I can't understand why I should dream about all my old boy friends.

ABBY

For the past few months I have been having the most fantastic dreams about a different one almost every night.

"When I wake up in the morning I feel so embarrassed I can't look at my husband. I would like to know how I can put a stop to these dreams. Is dreaming bad for you? Am I normal?" DREAMER

DEAR DREAMER: You can't stop dreaming, so don't waste your energy worrying about it. Dreaming isn't bad for you, but the feeling of guilt combined with fretting and stewing about things over which you have no control can make you pretty miserable, and even ill. You're normal. Forget it!

"DEAR ABBY: What if a man does break dishes, smash mirrors and destroy chairs? They are his dishes, his mirrors and his chairs, just as it is his privilege to kick his own automobile (or his own wife) in a fit of emotional rage. Any psychiatrist will tell you that it is healthy for a man to release his pent-up emotions.

SAM

DEAR SAM: When a psychiatrist advises a man to release his pent-up emotions he does not recommend that he kick his wife. He can go out in the garage and take his hostility out on a punching bag. It's a man's privilege to swing his arms, but that privilege ends where the next fellow's nose begins.

"DEAR ABBY: My husband and I do not take alcoholic beverages as our religion does not permit it. As a result of this we have had many embarrassing moments. How do we handle the situation gracefully when a hostess tries to force a drink on us? Should we announce that we are forbidden to drink because of religious principles? Or should we simply say, 'No, thank you—not right now?'"

NON-DRINKERS

DEAR NON: If you offer a weak excuse like "Not right now, thank you," you will be pestered every few minutes by a well-meaning hostess. No one need be ashamed to frankly state that his religion doesn't permit drinking.

"DEAR ABBY: My husband is a truck driver. He drives all over the U. S., Canada and Alaska. He makes good money and sends it home regularly, but the responsibility of raising our children (3, 5 and 7) is left entirely to me.

"We have a nice home, a car and all the extras, but he comes home on the average of once every two months for four or five days. He can get a job where he'll be home every night but the pay isn't so good. Should he take a job with less pay and stay home or not?" LONESOME

DEAR LONESOME: Time is more precious than money. You can't replace the years you've spent apart with things money can buy. Children need both parents. Talk it over when he comes home and see how he feels about it.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "STILL WAITING": If his heart is good enough for the bowling team, it's good enough for marriage. Tell him you are going on a strike and have no more time to spare.

Lisbet, Meg Out Late; No One Home to Scold

LONDON (AP)—With her husband and mother away on royal junkets, Queen Elizabeth stayed at a party until the early hours Tuesday with her fun-loving bachelor-girl sister, Princess Margaret.

The two made their way home through the early morning fog, as fruit and vegetable porters and fishmongers boxed up the wares for the day's sales.

The party the Queen and Princess Margaret attended was small, British-American and very high society.

U. S. Ambassador John Hay Whitney and his wife were two of the guests invited by the host and hostess, the Earl and Countess of Euston.

Lord Plunket, a longstanding standby escort for Margaret, rounded out the party for seven.

SAW BALLET

The group went to the Royal Opera House in Covent Garden for a performance of the ballet "Ondine."

The Queen wore scarlet underneath a short fur jacket. Princess Margaret wore a bright yellow gown and her hair was in the bouffant style.

The Queen often turned to the Whitneys with approval for the dancing. She and Whitney also, it was understood, discussed horses and racing—two common interests.

After the performance the party took dinner in the anteroom behind the royal box.

A huge crowd gathered outside the opera house after the ballet.

The people waited in the cold for a look at the Queen whose husband is in Pakistan on a commonwealth tour and whose mother is in Africa on a tour.

But the Queen disappointed the crowd. By the time she came out it was the wee hours, and all but a few people had long since gone home.

Most of the cheers she got came from the fruit porters.

Discussing the program for the World Day of Prayer Friday are Mrs. Frank Gray, Mrs. Edward D. Auchard and Mrs. Stanley Kipp. They are among the many women all over the world who are observing a day of special prayers and offerings.

To Mark 'World Day of Prayer' Friday

Church Council Sets Program

The World Day of Prayer, Friday, will be observed in Pontiac at a service sponsored by the Pontiac Council of United Church Women. The program, which is being held at the Baldwin Avenue Evangelical United Brethren Church, begins at 9:45 a.m. with registration and music, and closes at 2:30 p.m.

Taking part in the special service, the theme of which is "Lord, I Believe," are Mrs. H. R. Fraser, Mrs. George Killen, Mrs. S. E. Kipp, Mrs. M. R. Everett and Mrs. Edward D. Auchard.

Others assisting are Mrs. Brady Adams, Mrs. J. H. Baker, Miss Vera Devor and the Rev. M. R. Everett.

The World Day of Prayer is being observed by Christian women in 144 countries around the world. The purpose of the day is not only to unite all Christians in a bond of prayer, but to make offerings for missions at home and abroad.

The offerings are divided between the home missions and foreign missions of the National Council of Churches. In the United States funds help agricultural migrants and their children and low-income farm families, as well as Indian-Americans.

A chaplain is also maintained at the government hospital in Anchorage, Alaska. Abroad, educational projects are carried on, including aid for four colleges in India, one in Korea and two in Japan.

WINTER DRY SKIN
Steam heat, raw winds and frequent temperature changes all take their toll on our skin in winter. Constant care is a must. Use cold cream for removing make-up more frequently than soap and water. Head-to-toe protection is essential, with extra attention to hands and face.

YOUR CHILD MAY HAVE PIN-WORMS
1 OUT OF 3 ODDS!

Fidgeting, nose-picking and a fast-moving rectal itch are often telltale signs of Pin-Worms . . . only parasites that medical experts say infest one out of every three persons examined. Entire families may be victims and not know it.

To get rid of Pin-Worms, these pests must not only be killed, but killed in the large intestine where they live and multiply. That's exactly what Jayne's P-W tablets do . . . and here's how they do it:

First—a scientific coating carries the tablets into the bowels before they dissolve. Then—Jayne's modern, medically-approved ingredient goes right to work—kills Pin-Worms quickly and easily.

Don't take chances with this dangerous, highly contagious condition. Get genuine Jayne's P-W Vermifuge . . . small, easy-to-take tablets . . . special sizes for children and adults. Perfected by Dr. D. Jayne & Son, specialists in worm remedies for 100 years.

Competitive Nuclear Power Is on Horizon

NEW YORK (UPI) — The next decade will witness the advent of competitive nuclear power in the United States, spokesmen for the electric utility industry predicted today.

Development of private nuclear power has made great strides in recent years and should pick up speed when plants now under construction and planned go into operation, they said.

Francis K. McCune, vice president of General Electric Co. and general manager of its Atomic Products Division, said nuclear electric power will be economically competitive with conventionally produced power in higher fuel cost areas by 1965.

"By 1970," he added, "we will have plants producing power for 6½ mills of kilowatt hour, which will be competitive with 25 per cent of the fossil fuel power being installed at that time."

He predicted that as widespread competitive nuclear power becomes available, electric utilities in most areas of the country will be generating power at costs well below those of fossil-fueled plants —those burning coal, oil and gas.

At the present time, industry sources noted, 131 electric power companies are participating in 27 nuclear projects. These projects include three plants in operation, nine under construction or contract, three in various stages of planning and 13 research, development and study groups.

Of the three already in operation, only one— the Vallecitos Plant operated by Pacific Gas & Electric Co. at Pleasanton, Calif. —was financed entirely by private industry.

Spokesmen for the industry also noted that of the nine projects under construction or contract, only three are being built entirely with private funds.

Those three are Commonwealth Edison's 180,000 kilowatt Dresden station near Chicago; Consolidated Edison's 275,000 kilowatt Indian Point station near New York City; and Pacific Gas' 60,000 kilowatt Homboldt Bay station near Eureka, Calif.

The first two projects are slated to go into operation next year, while the Humboldt Bay plant is scheduled for completion in 1962.

In the remaining six projects under construction or contract, the electric utilities are receiving assistance from the Atomic Energy Commission under the power demonstration reactor program.

The 60,000 kilowatt Shippingport nuclear power plant now being operated near Pittsburgh by Duquesne Light Co. was financed in part by the AEC.

It was the world's first full-scale atomic power plant devoted exclusively to peacetime uses.

James F. Fairman, chairman of the Edison Electric Institute's technical appraisal task force on nuclear power, predicted that nuclear fuel costs for initial operation of the large-scale plants to be completed in the early 1960's will be less than half the first core fuel costs at Shippingport.

Fairman, who also is senior vice president of Consolidated Edison, said initial fuel costs will range from 3½ to 7 mills per kilowatt-hour of electricity.

Cold Weather Delays Village's Death Blow

HERBRIGGEN, Switzerland (AP)—Freezing weather today halted for the time being the movement of a massive mountain slide poised over this picturesque Swiss Alpine village.

Pilot Hermann Geiger, after a flight over Nadelhorn Mountain, reported no further movement during the night of the million tons of rocks, earth and ice which had been creeping toward the edge of a cliff overlooking Herbriggen.

"As long as it stays cold the slide will remain solidified," he said. "Trouble will come as soon as it warms up a little."

Geologists have written off the village of 250 people. They are convinced that sometime between now and next spring the slide will plunge over and bury the hamlet.

All but a dozen of the inhabitants evacuated the village Tuesday night. Today many came back to rescue sledloads of household goods.

Tin was first discovered in the U.S. at Jackson, N.H., during the 18th century.

Bob Considine Says:

West Berliners Don't Want a Dictatorship

WASHINGTON — Willy Brandt, mayor of West Berlin, said as he faced the Washington reporters, "The weaponless Berliners are interested only in peaceful reconstruction of the city. Their terrible experience with Hitlerism makes them certain of only one thing; We don't want another dictatorship. That's all the Communists can offer us."

Brandt spoke before a reportorial group here en route to New York, where he was hailed. (Less than two decades ago he would have been stoned there and here, not as Willy Brandt, thoughtful human being, but as Willy Brandt, mayor of Berlin.)

He said that the people of Berlin, though living 110 miles inside Communist Germany, have no fear of Russia. The whole manner of the good-looking mayor and the vehemence of his speech indicated complete contempt for his Communist adversaries on the other side of the Brandenburg Gate.

Brandt is a rugged soul who underwent many hardships before gaining his present role. He speaks American English and is one helluva diplomat: "While here in Washington I will see two of your famous Americans, Vice President Nixon and Dean Acheson."

Which, you must admit, is quite a parlay. After his press conference Brandt told us, "I agree with your John Foster Dulles that there may be some way of settling the German problem without first having a general election, provided that whatever we agree to will lead to that election."

How meagerly George Washington, Abe Lincoln, Woodrow Wilson and F. D. Roosevelt—just to name four of our bygone leaders—would have understood the American problems of today!

General Washington, who spoke of nonentanglement with foreign countries in his farewell address, could never have comprehended aid to Britain and finally $11,000,000,000 of such aid and comfort to a nation named Russia.

Matter of fact, Washington never heard the word "billion," except perhaps in crazy talk about light years to the stars.

Lincoln and Wilson would have had similar troubles. FDR was considered one of the great spenders of history yet there were checks and balances even on him.

He was told after okaying a program that led to the development of the atomic bomb at a cost of $2,000,000,000. "If it works, there will be no congressional investigation. If it doesn't, there won't be any either."

We will spend $40 billion in this next year of peace on our armed services. We have machines in being and machines in the making today that completely eclipse the cost of entire wars in the past.

The missile program on which we are embarked—and which many congressmen feel is dangerously inadequate—comes to more than $2 billion. And that's for just this impending fiscal year.

Thomas Jefferson would have been alarmed to learn that one test of an Atlas or Titan costs dozens of times the amount in money that he risked in buying that area called Louisiana, out of which we carved 13 of the richest states in the world.

John Foster Dulles is ailing here and the wonder of it all is that he has been as robust as he is. There's no doubt about it, our secretary of state has absorbed more punishment in the traveling line than almost any man of his age in the history of the world.

He has long since lost track of the number of miles he has flown in his relentless search for peace. Suffice it to say that he has combed the friendly and alien corn as no proconsul of his time or any time before.

As he lies ill here in Washington it seems appropriate to say that whether you agree with the way he has conducted the foreign policy of the U. S. or sharply disagree, all of us can get together on the understanding that here is one of the most dedicated public servants in the history of the country.

Foster Dulles has been accused of being brusque and abrupt with peoples everywhere, and yet once when I marveled over the fact that he does not take along such rudimentary precautions as bottled water when he goes to such places as Laos or Cambodia, he exclaimed: "I drink the water they set before me wherever I am. Why would I take a chance on hurting their feelings by not drinking?"

Greece Plans Boom in Hotel Facilities

ATHENS (AP)—Greece plans to expand its hotel facilities by 10,000 tourists a year as the goal.

A five-year development program is being drawn up by the government, which says it will spend more than 35 million dollars to improve facilities for foreign

Projects include development of the coast around Athens as a Greek Riviera; motels, holiday camps and filling stations to get the countryside; secondary roads giving access to remote places of interest and training of an army of guides.

The government hopes the income from tourists—now 40 million dollars a year—will at least double.

PCH Conquers Stubborn Parkers, 53-46

Defense Shines as Chiefs Gain Victory No. 10

Munson, Bailey Spark Hard-Earned Triumph Over Highland Park

By BILL CORNWELL

Highland Park High School officials wanted to postpone Tuesday night's basketball game with Pontiac Central because of the slippery driving conditions.

Art Van Ryzin, Pontiac's veteran coach, couldn't go along with the request so the contest took place as scheduled. Today Jim Wink, Highland Park's very able coach, probably wishes that Van Ryzin had been more agreeable.

Wink himself didn't ask for the postponement, but he had to share the pains of defeat with his Parker cagers as the Chiefs plugged their way to a 53-46 victory last night at PCH.

With Amos Bailey and Harrison Munson setting the pace offensively, the Chiefs rebounded impressively from last Friday's 53-52 overtime loss at Flint Central to conquer the stubborn Parkers in a tough war of defense.

"Highland Park is the best defensive team we've met thus far," said Van Ryzin. "It's a hard defense to crack."

The PCH mentor modestly neglected to mention that his players threw up a rough defensive blockade of their own and it was better than the enemy's in the long run.

It was the 10th win of the season for the Chiefs, who were rated Michigan's No. 1 Class A quintet until they suffered their 1st setback at Flint. They were ranked 3rd entering yesterday's battle while Highland Park was voted 9th best.

This was a solid team performance. Although their play was spotty, the Chiefs presented their most united front of the campaign to gain a hard-earned and highly-prized triumph over the strong Parkers.

Bailey, turning out to be a whiz-bang replacement for the graduated Charlie Barge, swished 17 points for the 2nd straight game and Munson also bagged 17 while starring on the backboards. John Bandy added 11.

Highland Park held a 5-2 lead early in the 1st quarter, but PCH grabbed a 7-6 edge on Bill Hayward's set shot and the Chiefs were ahead the rest of the way, although never far enough to relax their guard.

The Parkers trailed by 11 points going into the 4th period, Pontiac's biggest advantage, and their final rally came no closer than five.

Trade Winds at Briggs Stadium

Tigers Aim for Roger Maris

DETROIT (AP) — Trade winds are getting blustery around Briggs Stadium, and the Detroit Tigers are seeking the long-ball hitter manager Bill Norman wants so badly.

No. 1 on the Tigers' hit parade would be Roger Maris, the belting outfielder of the Kansas City Athletics. Maris would be a natural in Briggs Stadium, site of his best hitting the past two seasons.

The slugging left-handed Maris has wrecked the Tigers often with his shots into the right field stands.

Acting general manager Rick Ferrell, striving to complete his first deal since taking over last month, has been burning up the telephone lines. Ferrell's conversations have been with Frank Lane, Cleveland general manager, and Parke Carroll, his Kansas City counterpart.

There's been considerable talk of a triangular trade involving the three clubs.

Lane is known to covet Hector Lopez of the Athletics to play third base for the Indians.

"Naturally, Kansas City is asking a pretty good price for Maris," said Ferrell. "It will take something to get him."

Pitcher Billy Hoeft has been Detroit's chief trade bait since the end of last season. The left-hander won only 10 games and lost nine. He was in disfavor with Norman at the end of the campaign.

"We've thrown a lot of names into the hopper," Ferrell said. "The thing still is in a formative stage. It isn't likely that we'll be able to do anything about completing a trade until after spring training is under way."

Lane said yesterday in Cleveland he had offered catcher Dick Brown and infielder-outfielder Woody Held for Hoeft and catcher Red Wilson.

"I like Brown," Ferrell responded. "But I don't anticipate trading Wilson or either of our team catchers. I like the staff as it stands now.

"I feel it compares favorably with any in the league although we don't have the one big guy to rank with Yogi Berra (New York), Gus Triandos (Baltimore) or Sherm Lollar (Chicago).

The Tigers' other receivers are Lou Berberet, acquired recently from Boston, and Charlie Lau. Neither is in the good-hitter category. Catching has been a trouble spot for some time at Briggs Stadium.

Ferrell said he would prefer to keep his pitching staff intact.

"However," he said, "we admittedly need more punch and possibly the only way to get it will be by giving up one of our experienced pitchers."

But Ferrell said he wants to take a look at rookie hurlers Jerry Davie, Don Lee, Bob Bruce and Pete Burnside before dealing off one of his regulars.

Lightweight Crown at Stake Tonight

Brown to Face Younger Busso in 15-Rounder

Champion Makes 6th Defense in Houston Match

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Explosive Joe Brown dares young Johnny Busso of New York to knock off his world's lightweight crown tonight. Johnny says he's just the guy to do it, too.

That sums up Houston's third title fight in nine months. There may be 10,000 out to see if aging Joe still has the durability to ward off youth's charge.

The 33-year-old Brown, a campaigner for 13 years, meets a fellow who's been in the game less than half that long.

The slim little guy from Baton Rouge, La., battles Busso over the 15-round route starting at 10 p.m. EST with all the country except Houston able to see it on television over ABC.

There was $40,000 in the till at the close of business last night and Texas Boxing Enterprises, promoters of the bout, think at least $20,000 should come in today. If so total receipts will be about $100,000 since television is paying $40,000. That means Brown will take $40,000 and Busso $20,000.

Busso is confident he can wreck the Brown dynasty because he beat the champion in an overweight fight in Miami in November. That one was only 10 rounds and Brown says if it had gone 15 he would have won. Busso counters that the longer it went the more decisively he would have won since he is stronger and younger. Johnny is only 24.

Brown's manager, Lou Viscusi, observes that Brown was thinking about making a top showing as a welterweight so he might get a shot at the champion of that class. But he didn't realize how much stronger Busso was with five or six more pounds on him.

Viscusi isn't sure Busso won't be weakened by having to take off weight for this fight since he thinks Busso is a "large lightweight" anyway. "The guy's dimensions look like a welter," said Viscusi.

Only in reach will Brown have an advantage. That could be vital, however.

Brown will be making his sixth title defense since beating Wallace (Bud) Smith for the bauble in 1956. He has won four of those by knockouts. But the last one — against Kenny Lane in Houston last July — found the champ pressed to take the decision on points. In May he had knocked out Ralph Dupas here.

Mantle, Ford, Duren May Sign This Week

Yanks Soften Policy on Contracts

By United Press International

A gradual softening of policy by the Yankees' front office made it a good bet today that Mickey Mantel, Whitey Ford and Ryne Duren all will be signed within a week.

The front office fired its biggest broadside when it sent out the contracts, most of which originally called for a cut.

Then Casey Stengel got into the act and added some fuel to the flames with his scorching comment on some of the players, but there are definite signs of an ease-up in Yankee policy.

Ford, for example, originally was offered an $8,000 cut. However, subsequent talks with assistant general manager Roy Hamey have been such that almost the entire slash has been restored.

"If we each give in a little," Ford said, "I'll probably sign the next time I see Hamey."

The "next time" probably will be tomorrow, Ford said.

Mantle's case is far from a crisis, either, despite the periodic communiques from Mickey's home in Dallas and from the Yankee front office.

Mantle's salary last year was $77,000. That figure is to the penny for those who are fussy. Anyway, the Yanks' first offer to him this year was a cut, but you have to bear in mind that ease-up policy. So the club will send him another one, and before long the switch-hitting center fielding and bowling entrepeneur will scratch his signature on a contract calling for about $80,000.

At any rate, little Bobby Shantz accepted a cut yesterday and thereby became the 16th member of the Yankees to agree to terms. Shantz had a 7-6 record last season and his signing still left 25 players for Hamey to satisfy.

The Pittsburgh Pirates, who were looking high and low for left-handed pitchers until they acquired Harvey Haddix from Cincinnati recently, signed three southpaws.

The three lefties to sign were Don Gross and rookies Alvin Jackson and Don Rowe. That makes a total of 23 the Pirates now have wrapped up for the coming campaign.

Gross appeared in 40 games for Pittsburgh last season and wound up with a 5-7 record. Jackson had a record of 18-9 with Lincoln of the Western League and Rowe, out most of the season because of an appendectomy, was 1-5 with Columbus of the International League.

General manager Bucky Harris of the Red Sox announced the signing of pitcher Herb Moford, acquired in a deal with Detroit last December. Moford compiled a 4-9 record with the Tigers, who brought him up from Charleston of the American Association in June.

Looked Like a Teenager

His Aspiration to Play Prep Football Scuttled

WILLARD, Ohio (AP) — Norm (June Bug) Taylor's aspirations as a high school football player were nipped in the bud yesterday.

The 27-year-old Taylor, who registered a few weeks ago as Ronnie Watkins at the high school here, is being held by village police on a warrant issued by Saginaw, Mich., authorities charging him with forgery and petty larceny.

Taylor had been preceded here by letters supposedly written by a coach at the Saginaw High School proclaiming him a good student and a top football player.

Willard Supt. of Schools Ralph McCrambridge described Taylor as athletic and with the appearance of a teenager. Taylor was considered a good prospect for the Willard football team next fall.

Police said the warrants had been sent here apparently because Saginaw authorities knew Taylor had relatives here and thought he might be visiting them.

Taylor waived extradition and is to be returned to Michigan tomorrow.

NBA Takes New Look at West

Lakers, Royals Display Wares Tonight Before San Francisco Fans

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The National Basketball Assn. takes another look at West Coast interest tonight when the Minneapolis Lakers play the Cincinnati Royals at the Cow Palace.

The NBA is mulling proposals to move a couple of teams to the west, or to expand and place teams in the west and southwest.

In the first Western NBA game last month, 13,652 fans saw the Boston Celtics whip the Lakers 109-106 in overtime. The lure for that one, however, was not only the great Bob Cousy, but ex-San Francisco stars Bill Russell and K.C. Jones. All are with Boston.

Vern Mikkelsen led the Lakers to a 118-100 victory in Houston, Tex. last night with a career high of 43 points. It was the only NBA game.

St. Louis was scheduled to meet Detroit at Detroit but bad weather forced down its plane at Harrisburg, Pa., and the Hawks could not proceed further. The game will be rescheduled at a later date.

Hagen Rubbed Elbows With Golfing Royalty

(This is another of a series of articles about Walter Hagen, retired great name in golf, whose records on the links around the world will live forever. Hagen is now retired and lives near Traverse City.)

By CLANK STOPPELS
Grand Rapids Press Sports Writer

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Walter Hagen not only rubbed elbows with high society and royalty for close to 30 years, but his frantic competitors were certain he had a working agreement with the Gods as well.

Everything always seemed to break right for the Haig. Putts that shouldn't have dropped did. When he was a bit wobbly from night club caravans that lasted until the wee hours, he often shot his most phenomenal golf.

Once when Hagen was playing in the British Open, he needed an eagle 2 on the final hole for a win. More than 150 yards out from the green, with nearly 8,000 persons looking on, Hagen called to a marshal to march up to the green and hold the pin.

The official was so astonished that Hagen had to repeat the request, almost demand it. No one ever had the audacity to make such a bold and seemingless foolish gesture. And yet, Hagen's shot landed on the green, took a long skip, started to bite—and hit the cup. The ball didn't go in, but the surprise would have been no less if it had.

That he almost carried off the shot is typically Hagen. Once he made a $10 bet, even, that he would make a hole-in-one as he approached a tee in a foursome. A beauty to behold, the lofted iron shot landed short and to the left of the hole, then took an impish bounce to the right from the spin—into the cup.

"The odds on this are 10,000 to 1," Hagen began to his astonished watchers, "the only trick in betting even on such a shot is knowing precisely when you're going to make it."

Hagen played golf with nobility of all ranks, from kings down through the gamut of princes, dukes and counts, and running over into all other fields of officialdom. Once Hagen was nearly two hours late for an exhibition in Tokyo for Prince Konoye of the ruling house of Japan.

"The prince has been waiting for nearly two hours," they told Walter.

"Well, he wasn't going anywhere special anyway, was he?" was the Hagen reply. Laughing loudest was the prince.

One of Hagen's favorite playgrounds was Hollywood, where the bright lights and flood of easy money became a special lure. He made several films, most of them of the golf instructional nature, but all inner circles to the film colony were thrown open for this celebrated guest.

It is not difficult today to realize why Hagen made such an impression—on men and women alike, through his many years of adventure in living. Now on the portly side, Hagen is both suave and debonaire, meticulously dressed, thick dark hair combed straight back. He loathes the man who violates or ignores the social amenities.

(Tomorrow: Hagen Changes Golf).

Poodle Wins Show, Quits

NEW YORK (AP)—The queen gave up her throne today.

Ch. Fontclair Festoon, a shiny black miniature poodle called Tina who went best in show in the Westminster Kennel Club dog show last night, quit almost as soon as the big red, white and blue rosette was presented to her handler, Anne Rogers.

"She is finished," said Miss Rogers. "We had decided yesterday that win, lose or draw, she would be retired. We're sticking to our decision."

The other finalists included Ch. Kalibanks Water Gate Wanderer, an Irish spaniel entered by the Water Gate Kennels of Hale, Mich. Tina is four years old and was imported from England when she was six months old. Since she was a foreign-bred, Carruthers selected Ch. Vardona Frosty Snowman, a bulldog owned by the Vardona Kennels of Detroit as the best American bred.

Here's how some other Michigan entries made out yesterday.

Ch. Bouquet Nouvelle Ami, a French bulldog owned by Mr. and Mrs. Ralph M. West of Livonia, Mich., fourth in the non-sporting group. This is the dog that set a record Monday by winning his eighth straight breed competition.

Ch. Siefen Jagenheim Lazy Bones, a basset hound owned by Chris G. Teeter of Birmingham, Mich., fourth in the hound group.

Towne & Country stayed at the head of the pack in the Class C City League basketball race with a 45-31 victory over the Pontiac Police last night on the Madison Junior High court. The Vikings defeated Oliver Buick, 45-42, in the other "C" game.

Earl Mudge meshed 16 points to spark T & C to its 6th win in nine starts. John Bridgewater netted a dozen for the Police.

Bert Elzy's 13 points were high for the Vikings while Oliver's Paul Emerson came through with 10. The Policemen, Vikings and Oliver now are tied for 2nd place with 5-5 records.

Flint Northern in Valley Lead

Vikings Eye Showdown With PCH After 69-65 Conquest of Central

FLINT—Flint Northern's basketball team eyed a Saginaw Valley Conference title showdown with Pontiac Central today after last night's 69-65 victory over city rival Central before 3,521 spectators in the IMA auditorium.

Northern's triumph enabled the Vikings to take a half-game lead in the Saginaw Valley race with a 7-1 record. Runnerup Pontiac has a 6-1 mark. Northern plays host to the Chiefs on Feb. 20 in a game that could decide the Valley champion.

The Vikings disposed of cross-town foe Central for the 2nd time this season yesterday and in so doing eliminated the Indians from the SVC title race. Central, last year's champ, is in 3rd place at 5-3.

The score was tied nine times and the lead changed hands on a dozen occasions before Northern took the lead for keeps with a five-point spurt near the end of the 3rd quarter.

Northern's five starters went all the way and John Gillian captured individual game scoring honors with 20 points. Duane Bates was tops for the Indians with 18.

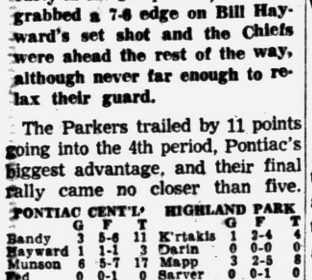
IF YOU WERE THE UMPIRE



By BEN OLAN

One of the hardest decisions for baseball managers to make is one involving a change of pitcher. Pennants have been won and lost with the correct strategy in these situations.

Here's a theoretical case in which a starting pitcher was relieved. You know your baseball rules if you produce the right answer.

Pedro Ramos of Washington is pitching to Charley Maxwell of Detroit. The bases are filled with two out in the last of the seventh inning. The Senators are leading 5-3. The count on Maxwell goes to two balls and one strike. At this point, Washington manager Cookie Lavagetto decides to bring in relief ace Dick Hyde. Hyde comes in and walks Maxwell, forcing in the tying run.

Do you think that:

a. Ramos should be charged with the base on balls?

b. Hyde should be charged with the base on balls?

Answer: A — Ramos should be charged with the base on balls. A counterable if he walks a batter after two ball-one strike count is considered an advantage for the batter. So, a relief pitcher is not held accountable over with that count.

Clarkston Wins, Maples Bow; Berkley Now 12-0

Huskies Edge Orion, 48-44

By CHUCK ABAIR

Pontiac Northern played only three minutes of good basketball but that was all the Huskies needed to pull out a much-needed 48-44 victory over visiting Lake Orion last night.

Clarkston pulled away in the last quarter to repeat an earlier triumph over Ortonville 56-44, Birmingham dropped a 71-63 verdict to East Detroit and Berkley just barely continued as Oakland County's only unbeaten team nipping Royal Oak Dondero 47-43 in overtime in other featured contests.

Ferndale dropped a 72-64 decision to Port Huron and Mt. Clemens downed Hazel Park 54-48 sending the Eastern Michigan League into a three-way tie for 1st, Class C state leader Imlay City added Marlette to its victims, slipping Cranbrook fell before Grosse Pointe University School and Royal Oak St. Mary whipped St. James 51-45 in some of the others.

Clutch points by scoring leaders Mike Fedynik and Jim Dempsey and some all-out hustle and rebound work by Dick Eley enabled Northern to break up what had been a tight but ragged affair in the final minutes.

"We need a win badly," PNH boss Dick Hall had said before the game looking on four straight severe beatings and a 2-7 record. He got it after seeing the lead change hands 18 times and score tied on four occasions. Losing coach Hal Carlin called his team's hapless showing its worst of the season.

The frigid local fives wound up with almost identical shooting percentages with Orion having the slim edge of 25.9 to 25.4. Both started out even worse as it took 12 shots before the 1st field goal was made.

Pontiac led 9-7 at the 1st quarter but the Dragons held one-point advantages at halftime and starting the final eight minutes. The biggest difference was two until midway in the 3rd canto and never more than three until the PNH clinching rally.

Orion was in the van in the last quarter until Bruce Norton's two free throws put the Huskies in front to stay with Fedynik and Dempsey applying the crushing digits. The pair totaled 18 and 11 in that order—21 of the 29 in the last half. Jim Recknagel hit 15 to head the Dragons.

Ortonville pulled within four of Clarkston late in the 3rd period before bowing out. Blackhawk, Jim Hutchings took point honors with 14. Birmingham blew a 1st half lead despite a 24-point night for Merv Gallup.

A three-point play by Berkley ace Dave Burris enabled Berkley to overcome a deficit of five with only 45 seconds in regulation time. The Bears, now 12-0, dominated t overtime. Burris hooped 18 and grabbed 16 rebounds. John Meadows of the losers tallied 20 and took 21 rebounds.

Some great foul shooting (30-for-41) sparked Port Huron as Ron Vernocke garnered 26 and Bill Barr 22 offsetting Toy Palmer's 32. Hazel Park blew a lead in the final quarter. mlay romped in the closing session besting Marlette 62-46 featuring 18 for Terry Wills and Pete Brabb's 16.

Cranbrook was in command for three periods before losing 50-45. St. Mary came from behind in the last period. Lapeer made 24 of 30 fouls in whipping Owosso 60-53. John McKillen swished eight charity tosses while totaling 24.

Almost squeaked by Brown City 64-62 to hold the lead, New Haven blasted Dryden 63-39 and Memphis blew a lead with five seconds remaining at a 35-34 setback at Anchor Bay in the Southern Thumb. Utica slammed Warren 55-46, Lamphere tripped Clintondale 41-33, Royal Oak Shrine belted River Rouge Lourdes 63-32, Fitzgerald won over Oak Park 55-47 and Yale blasted North Branch 78-57.

Simmons Named Titan Assistant

DETROIT (UPI) — Jack Simmons, whose Detroit Holy Redeemer High School basketball team is enjoying one of its finest seasons in history, will move up to offensive line coach at the University of Detroit as soon as the prep cage season ends.

Simmons, 33, was named to the post yesterday by Jim Miller, new Titan head coach. He is the second aide hired by Miller. John Idzik was appointed backfield coach last week.

Simmons brings a wealth of professional knowledge to the Titan staff. The native Detroiter entered U. of D. in 1942 and then went into the Navy. He played at Maryland in 1944 because Detroit had dropped football during the war and then returned to finish out at U. of D., playing center in 1945, guard in 1946 and fullback in 1947.

He played for the Baltimore Colts of the old All-America conference in 1948 and then with the Lions in 1949-50 and with the Chicago Cardinals from 1951-56 and played in the 1956 Pro Bowl game. His record of playing in 164 consecutive games was broken by Detroit's Lou Creekmur.

Little Stories About Outdoors

Soft weather, and rain, Monday night and Tuesday, while creating hazards for motorists, pedestrians and making it difficult for wildlife to find food, may also be a blessing in disguise.

This winter's early freezeup, with heavy snow covering some 12-18 inches of ice on area lakes, now poses the threat of a serious winterkill of fish. However, should the soft weather and rain melt off the snow, this danger could largely be averted.

Fisheries biologists have tested a number of lakes, found oxygen contents very low in some — one lake showed none present, a complete winterkill.

A really good thaw would counteract present conditions on almost every Oakland County lake.

The quick-draw craze is sweeping America, says the American Rifleman, which comments that with it goes a mounting number of foolish and needless gun accidents. The publication is rightly concerned over the situation.

"This state of affairs is bad for America," editorializes the Rifleman. "It will increase the prejudice against firearms and strengthen the hand of those who oppose the fundamental right of reputable American citizens to own, possess and use firearms for lawful purposes."

There is no question that immediate action is urgent, to ban live ammunition from the "draw" before it takes guns away from all.

Just a reminder — How many wildlife species which men today accept as living fact, will be surviving when their sons come to maturity? The answer, it is pointed out, is for you, and only you to decide.

A Kansas City duck hunter came up with a good one, recently. The hunter shot a low-flying duck. Going out to retrieve the bird, he saw a fish thrashing around among the decoys. Retrieving the fish the hunter found it was hit by some of the shot that downed the duck.

One of the oddest of wildlife creatures this columnist has observed over the years is the spritely little western bird, the water ousel. It has been observed, and photographed running into a fast moving mountain creek, swimming swiftly under water, and even walking along the bottom.

Everything the Same

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (AP) —Monday John Van Dyne of Sedalia, Mo., shot a hole-in-one on the 16th hole at the American Golfers Club. Tuesday he did it again.

He was in the same foursome and used the same nine iron and same ball each time on the 103-yard shot.

60 Top Jumpers Expected From Midwest Clubs

Field Will Include Briar Hill Champion Dave Freeman

With the weather man cooperating a fast field of ski jumpers will engage in the Kandahar Ski club's annual tourney, starting at noon on Sunday, Feb. 15.

The jumping contingent, headed by the recently crowned Briar Hill champion, Waterford High's own Dave Freeman, will include leading exponents of the soaring sport from Michigan, Wisconsin and Illinois.

Kandahar's Bill Koch, himself an entry, says there will be about 60 jumpers in the several divisions of competition. Among them, it is expected, will be the brothers Hyry, Alden and Wally, and Ralph Guthrie, all Kendaharans. Other club members also will swell the list, Koch says.

Norge Ski club of Chicago, the Ishpeming Ski club, Iron Mt. Kiwanis Ski club, Briar Hill at Mesick, Milwaukee's Wood Ski club and Blackhawk club of Madison, Wis, will send jumpers, meet officials say.

The Hyrys, Koch and Guthrie all did well in the recent International championships at Fox River Grove, Wis. and in the Central U.S. meet at Madison.

William Hyvonen of Royal Oak is meet director. Judges are Gene Blanchard, Livonia, Ed Newman of Detroit and Hyvonen.

Competition begins at 1:30 p.m. There is room for up to 10,000 spectators, say club officials and tickets may be obtained at the gate. Club is in the Pontiac Lake Recreation area, off Orr Rd. Direction signs on Telegraph Rd. M59 and other highways leading to the site will be set up.

The Kandahar club is the only ski area in southeastern Michigan where jumping events can be held. It has a 55-foot tower, which has been improved during the past year.

Jensen Says No for Second Time

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP)—Jackie Jensen, slugging rightfielder of the Boston Red Sox, yesterday returned unsigned the second contract offered him for the 1959 season.

Jensen was voted the Most Valuable Player in the American League last year and is seeking $40,000.

Of the latest contract, Jensen said:

"It wasn't what I asked for and mean to get."

Sports Cars Run Trials on Lake

During a recent weekend, sports car enthusiasts convened for a series of speed runs over the ice of Cass Lake. Then, others discovered that some thrilling sport could be had driving the long, looping course off Dodge State Park beach, and a steady procession was observed last Sunday.

There were also many ice fishermen out on a bay in the northern arm of the lake. The high bluff at the park's boat launching site also provided an excellent run for sledders, pan-sliders and toboggans.

An ice-skating rink at the beachhouse also was well patronized.

An ancient Colombian sword is the trophy that goes to the winner of the Michigan State-Detroit fencing match each year. It was donated by two U. of D. alumni from the Republic of Colombia.

Hungry 'Possum Likes Cat Food

With its normal sources of food iced-up, a hungry 'possum in White Lake Township has turned —with full success—to the Walter Wood family, 2441 Orchard Lane, at Pontiac Lake.

Maybe the Woods' cat, Boots, doesn't like the deal, but it has drawn Mr. (maybe Mrs.) Possum back several times for a handout. Each visit of the gray animal "with eyes that shine like red marbles," resulted in cleaning up food left out for the family feline. It also gulped down half a tasty smoked chub, put out by William, the Woods' son.

Aid Sought for Starving Birds

Ice, Snow Peril Pheasants

"There's a definite peril to survival of hungry pheasants in the Thumb area where so many Oakland County hunters find thrilling sport each fall" is the ominous word that comes to this page from Jack Greathouse, OCSC member from Drayton Plains.

Greathouse says recent heavy snow, crusted with ice and followed by additional snow and ice has created a serious condition, where feeding of the starving ringnecks is an immediate necessity.

"Hundreds of the birds have been seen along the roads, in emaciated condition. Many dead birds have been found also. The toll will mount speedily if help is not forthcoming quickly.

"Bob Smith of Bay Port has been feeding a lot, but can't get enough food to meet the needs. I believe there are many Oakland County hunters who would be glad to help buy feed, to save a fine hunting crop."

Greathouse and Art Perry of Pontiac, who hunts regularly in the Thumb area, will accept assistance from all interested. They may be reached at FE 2-1616 (Perry), or OR 3-2680 (Greathouse).

Indicative of the conditions, Perry reported finding an adult bird, victim of starvation, that weighed only 6 ounces. Normal birds weigh from one to 2½ pounds.

State Boosts Deer Browse Operations

Conservation Department district game supervisors and foresters are planning a stepped-up timber cutting program this week for immediate execution in Upper Peninsula deer yards.

The concerted program—regarded by the department as a high priority measure—was ordered by regional game supervisor William E. Laycock and approved by regional forester Donald G. Zettle in an attempt to relieve serious food shortages and ward off heavy deer losses.

Water Table Down Year Ago

Snow Ups Lake Levels

By JACK PATTERSON

Climate's changing, is it? We're in a long term warm cycle, eh? Well, we happened across some pictures taken here at this time of year in 1922. Could have been taken today, except the cars were somewhat different. Same ice on all the trees, though, and the same snow. That's a change?

PATTERSON

So far nobody has come up with any practical suggestion on how to turn an ice storm into a useful tool for outdoor fun. Except maybe for cartoonists. There's a welcome for any suggestions along this line since ice seems to be a permanent part of the new, warm climate.

Snow is something else again. In addition to making it possible to enjoy the hair-raising thrill of shoveling sidewalks, heavy snow seems to be the critical factor in maintaining satisfactory levels in lakes both Great and small.

Michigan has been likened to a sponge which soaks up and stores great quantities of water after winters of heavy snows, and conversely, after winters of light snow the state is like a sponge squeezed dry.

Anyway, after this winter's snow turns to water there should be a significant change in Great Lake levels, which were lower last summer than long time observers could remember. The same causes should bring a similar effect to local lakes, although the effect will be temporary.

Present water use exceeds anything natural replenishment is capable of providing. The situation will get worse until a pipeline is run from Lake Huron.

Incidentally, pipeline advocates had better get their advocating done before the first warm spell. When this stuff runs off it will be hard to convince anyone there's a water shortage.

A thought to ponder of an icebound evening: How come Press delivery boys always get the paper delivered on time, without a gripe, regardless of weather, and mailmen need a heated sidewalk and engraved invitation to maintain their hit-or-miss schedule?

Issue Troubles Both East and West

No One Can Retreat Far on Berlin

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Editor

The tough thing about the Berlin situation is that neither Soviet Russia nor the Western powers can afford to retreat very far.

As of now, the Russians say they will turn over to their East German satellite controls for all means in and out of Berlin, including West Berlin, on May 27.

Along with this, they demand that the 10,000 Western troops in Berlin be removed before that date and West Berlin made a "free" city within the Communist zone.

There has been no sign up to now that the Soviets have retreated from that position, first announced more than two months ago.

Secretary of State John Foster Dulles returned from his West European conferences this week and announced that the Western powers also were determined there would be no retreat.

It is only necessary to visit the two sectors of Berlin to understand the opposing positions.

Prosperous West Berlin, free in every respect, including freedom of speech, presents the toughest problem Communist propaganda has had to face.

Last winter this correspondent visited the two Berlins, witnessing the prosperity of the West and the poverty of the East, seeing on the one side the smart restaurants, the smartly dressed people, the luxurious shops, and on the other, the rubble, the thinly disguised emptiness of the Communist-controlled shops and the vast silence along what was once one of the busiest streets in Berlin.

This comparison is what the Communists now want to eliminate.

But there is more than that.

To those who live behind the iron curtain but who still oppose the things for which communism stands, West Berlin remains a hope.

It is one of the few escape routes left for those hoping to make their way from East to West. More than 20,000 East Berliners earn their daily bread in West Berlin, crossing and recrossing the line each day by elevated train and on each pay day trading in their solid West German marks for inflated East German marks.

Of those who cross the line daily, many elect to remain in the West. Last week more than 2,600 abandoned their homes and other possessions for a future, which however uncertain, still would be better than what they left.

For the West, its position in Berlin also has advantages. The Western message to the imprisoned people in the East can be directed from Berlin better than any other place.

And for the West, Berlin is a peephole to the East. These are other reasons why the Communists want the U. S., France and Britain to get out.

For the West, Berlin never will represent a military advantage. Instead, it can only be a liability. The Western garrison there represents only a token force against the great military might around it.

Conceivably in this dangerous international gambling game, a war could start over Berlin.

To fail to do so would mean to abandon to Communist revenge the 2,000,000 West Berliners who took the West at its word. And to do do so would mean to rewrite every U. S. treaty which promised protection to those who oppose communism.

Piccolo, Whip, Salted Routes in Juke Jargon

WASHINGTON (AP)—Go ahead, wise guy, and jump that piccolo.

But you may be asking for trouble if you do, in the language set out in a glossary published by the Senate Labor-Management Committee.

The committee compiled the three-page glossary in an effort to make more understandable some of the expressions it expects to creep into its hearings starting today on alleged racketeering in the juke box-coin machine industry.

In the jargon of the hep, according to the committee, a piccolo is a juke box. And when you jump, bump or breach, that means to induce a business place to switch from some other type of machine to the one you are handling.

The penalty, according to the glossary, can be a fight with a whip company a firm set up to raid the business of operators in trouble with the whip firm's backers.

An outlaw is a fellow who does not belong to a business association.

Route salting is the term for loading extra money into coin operated machines to fool prospective buyers of the route or string of machines.

Ice formed on the lakes and ponds of New England every month of 1816, known as the year without a summer.

Retired Workers Get Big Payoff

Profit Fund at Sears Giving Investors Huge Returns

CHICAGO (AP)—A profit-sharing fund started by the nation's biggest merchandizing firm 43 years ago is paying big dividends to retiring workers.

The firm is Sears, Roebuck and Co.

James M. Barker, chairman of the board of trustees of Sears profit sharing fund, said today a study of the fund's operations showed these returns to workers who participated in the program and retired during 1958:

Employes who retired after more than 40 years' service who had contributed $6,321 to the fund, withdrew an average of $154,767.

The average withdrawal of workers with 35 to 40 years of service was $123,054 for a $6,092 investment; $93,019 for 30-35 year workers who invested $5,791; $67,089 for 25-30 year workers with a total investment of $4,899; $36,695 for workers who contributed $3,593 during 20 to 25 years employment.

Employe members of the fund contribute a straight five per cent of their wages and salaries up to a maximum of $500 a year. The company contributes up to 10 per cent of its net income before taxes

Damages to the building and contents were estimated at $1,200 while firemen listed damage to the car at $2,500. The fire was reported at about 5 p.m.

Business and Finance

Soybeans Firm, Grains Mixed

CHICAGO (AP)—There was a hint of firmness in soybean futures but grains were narrowly mixed in slow early dealings today on the board of trade.

Export business, the main strengthening influence in wheat recently, was lacking today and some brokers noted that Japan had gone to Canadian markets for 1¼ million bushels of winter varieties but had bought about 375,000 bushels of U.S. Pacific Coast white.

Cash grain arrivals of corn were small and there were no wheat receipts.

Near the end of the first hour wheat was ⅛ cent a bushel higher to ⅛ lower, March $1.99¾; corn ⅛ to ⅜ lower, March old type contract $1.14⅝; oats ⅛ to ½ lower, March 66¼; rye ⅝ to ¾ lower, March $1.36⅛; soybeans ¼ lower to ½ higher, March $2.20½.

U.S. Widens Lead in World Bridge Play

NEW YORK (AP)—Two impressive victories in fourth-day matches gave the United States commanding leads over Italy and Argentina for the 1959 world contract bridge championship.

The American team gained 21 international match points on the Italians last night in a 33-12 win and then crushed Argentina's South American champions, 50-19.

The Americans now lead Italy, defending world titleholder, 103-81, and Argentina, 125-70.

Italy stretched its runner-up margin over Argentina to 112-74 with a 29-26 victory.

The United States is represented by Sam Fry Jr., Harry Fishbein, LeonardHarmon and Lee Hazen, of New York; Sidney Lazard of New Orleans and Ivar Stakgold of Washington. Charles Solomon of Philadelphia is the nonplaying captain.

Add Nonstop Flights

DETROIT (AP)—Non-stop flights between Detroit and two East Coast cities, Boston and Newark, have been announced by American Airlines. The flights are in addition to non-stop jet-powered Electra flights which will go into effect between Detroit and New York later this month.

Trenton, New Jersey was first named The Falls. In 1719 it was renamed Trenton in honor of William Trent, speaker of the House of Assembly.

Turnover Active in Early Trading

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market pushed ahead vigorously then lost some of its steam in early trading today. Turnover was active.

Gains of fractions to a point prevailed among most key stocks. An increasing number of losers appeared following the initial advance.

Some blue chips made substantial gains. Eastman Kodak added about 3 and American Telephone around 2.

Two active gainers at the opening, Lukens Steel and General Tire, softened and showed losses. Lukens was off about 2 and General Tire around a point.

Northrop was up about a point on published news of a $22,000,000 contract for the Hawk missile. A rocket contract found North American Aviation fractionally higher. Panhandle Eastern Pipe Line was off about 2 on an unfavorable Federal Power Commission ruling on natural gas refunds.

Motors were fractionally higher except for General Motors which was easy. Rails were irregularly on the upside. Chemicals were mostly ahead of the game.

Gains of about a point were posted for Allied Chemical, Republic Steel, Raytheon, DuPont and Haveg.

Royal Oak Man Cited in Murder

2nd Degree Warrant Is Issued in Slaying of His Best Friend

DETROIT (UPI) — A second degree murder warrant was issued today against Woodrow Besonen, 46, Royal Oak, in the slaying of his best friend.

Wayne County Prosecutor Samuel Olsen signed the warrant this morning about an hour before the deadline set by Recorder's Judge Gerald W. Groat to charge Besonen or release him.

Besonen had been held since last Saturday for questioning in the hammer slaying of George Sweigert, 60.

He was scheduled to appear before Recorder's Judge Joseph A. Gillis later today for arraignment on the second degree murder charge.

Besonen allegedly admitted under influence of a truth serum that he struck Sweigert.

At the time of his arrest, Besonen denied any knowledge of Sweigert's slaying. He later admitted, however, that he had visited the victim's home after the slaying and saw Sweigert on the basement floor.

Attorney A. Allen Chalfin had gone to Groat's courtroom for a writ of habeas corpus after Besonen was held for three days without a charge placed against him.

Groat told police to charge Besonen by 11 a.m. today or release him.

Flood Threats Due to Snow Seen in State

By The Associated Press

Although fed up with it, Michiganders had reason to be thankful today for cold weather.

At the East Lansing Weather Bureau, Meteorologist E. H. Eichmeyer said snow density measurements in the Grand River and Saginaw River basins indicate the worst flood threat in 10 years.

Possible flood hazards in the Bay City area were being surveyed by state Civil Defense and U.S. Army officers, Gov. Williams reported.

He said he was advised by Ralph M. Sheehan, Civil Defense director, that other areas of the state will be similarly surveyed to plan in advance for possible flood hazards.

Detroiter Murdered as Wife, Son Sleep

DETROIT (UPI)—A 33-year-old father was beaten to death in his living room early today while his wife and son were asleep.

The body of Charles Whitman was found in a pool of blood on his living room floor shortly before 8 a.m. by his 12-year-old son, Daniel. Whitman's wife Hazel told police he came home from work late last night and decided to stay up and watch television. She said she went to bed.

The medical examiner's office said Whitman was slain about 4 to 4:30 a.m. A tire iron found wrapped in a blood-stained rag in his station wagon was believed to be the murder weapon.

Homicide officers said robbery was not the motive of the slaying since there was no evidence that any money or possessions were taken from Whitman's house.

Plead Guilty to Manslaughter

2 Policemen Sentenced in Fatal Shooting of Girl

HARRISBURG, Ill. (AP)—Two former Harrisburg policemen pleaded guilty to manslaughter and were sentenced to 1-14 years in prison today for the fatal shooting of a Michigan girl during a police chase.

Winston Gidcumb, 34, and Glen Schwartz, 27, entered the plea in a surprise appearance before Judge C. Ross Reynolds in Saline County Circuit Court.

The two men had been charged with murdering Margo Hallwood, 14, of Millington, Mich., July 21. Reynolds allowed the men to enter guilty pleas to the reduced charge.

Miss Hallwood and a male companion were motoring through Harrisburg when the two policemen allegedly pulled up in an unmarked car and motioned them to stop. The shots followed when they refused.

A jury trial on the murder charge had been scheduled for Monday.

The girl was a passenger in a car driven by Del Whitaker, 17, also of Millington, when she was wounded. The couple was eloping to Arkansas and had passed through Harrisburg on the trip.

A coroner's jury ruled the girl was killed by a fragment of a police bullet. Schwartz testified at the inquest that the officers, riding in Schwartz' personal car, fired warning shots at Whitaker's fleeing car in an effort to make Whitaker stop.

Schwartz said Whitaker failed to stop on orders from the policemen after missing a stop sign in Harrisburg. Both police were in uniforms.

In his testimony, Schwartz said one police warning shot must have ricocheted off the highway southwest of Harrisburg, striking the girl.

Whitaker, who filed murder charges against the men, said he believed the pursuing car contained robbers or "some teenagers looking for trouble."

The officers were using Schwartz' car because the regular police car, containing official markings, was in a repair shop.

The city since has purchased a new police car.

DETROIT (AP)—The auto industry's largest volume producers are staging an interesting competitive battle in an expanding car market.

Chevrolet and Ford division, sometimes called the bread and butter units of their respective parent companies, normally account for about 30 per cent of all cars made and sold in the United States. Their fight for industry leadership has been a traditional affair with Chevrolet having much the better of it during the last quarter century.

Last week both claimed leadership in the sales battle. Ford said that so far in the 1959 model year it led the industry in new car sales. Chevrolet said it had a substantial lead over all its opposition at the end of January.

Ford said its dealers had sold 400,000 new cars since the 1959 models were introduced last October. Chevrolet reported January retail deliveries of more than 117,000 cars.

Generally companies with the hottest competitive battles under way are reluctant to disclose actual retail deliveries. Usually they limit their sales reports to percentage of increase over the comparable period a year earlier.

Each car maker, of course, knows exactly how many new cars his company delivered at retail last year. But few have announced these figures. New car registrations throughout the country for 1958 still lack reports from about half the states for December.

The most recent tabulation, with only partial figures for December, credited Chevrolet with 1,145,000 retail deliveries and Ford division 947,900.

Ford has been reporting increasing demand for its vehicles. Unlike Chevrolet it got off to an uninterrupted start on 1959 model production on Oct. 17. Chevrolet was in the midst of a three-week strike shutdown when it introduced its new models on Oct. 16.

It apparently has regained much of the volume it lost in the strike. Certainly its output is running ahead of its nearest competitor.

The strike last October closed all General Motors assembly plants for approximately three weeks. It cost Chevrolet something more than 100,000 units in assembly volume.

Figures supplied by the Automobile Manufacturers Assn. show Chevrolet built 1,255,943 cars last year and Ford division 1,038,560. So far this year Chevrolet has made approximately 200,000 and Ford division 170,000.

Between the two giants of the industry that difference is relatively small—about a week's output for either company. Exactly what the difference is in total retail deliveries for the calendar year to date has not been disclosed by Chevrolet or Ford.

Even the registration figures do not exactly reflect retail deliveries. But they are the most authoritative figures available. While some of a current month's sales are not registered until early the following month, the carryover from the preceding month often balances out the total.

New Parole Bill in Hopper Today

LANSING (AP) — A bill to clear the way for parole of convicted first degree murderers who were not actual killers lay before the Legislature today.

The measure, sponsored by Rep. Willard I. Bowerman Jr. (R-Lansing) for the second straight year, would authorize parole of such persons after 15 years in prison. Currently, they may be released from life term sentences only by executive clemency.

Bowerman said 79 of 529 persons serving life sentences for first degree murder were companions of others who did the actual killing.

SAC Telephone Quite Famous

Gadget for Alert Signal Now Improved With Special Pushbuttons

OFFUTT AIR FORCE BASE, Neb. (UPI)—The Strategic Air Command's famous red telephone now has a cousin and a baby brother.

And that red telephone, which would be used to alert the Free World's bomber-missile retaliatory forces in case of enemy attack, has matured some itself.

Until recently, the senior controller in SAC's underground war room here, had to dial 10 digits to flash the coded words that would trigger a nuclear counter-attack. Now he just pushes two buttons.

The cousin of the original telephone is even more advanced. The controller only pushes one button—a red one the size of a quarter—and he is immediately in contact with the more than 40 SAC bases in the U. S.

According to Maj. Wesley Kille of Salem, Ohio, a command post controller, this secondary system uses alternate routes to the bases and is an insurance policy in case the lines used by the original, or primary, system are damaged.

The baby brother will soon inherit the whole shok. It is a "hot line" using direct wires to continental bases. Soon, it will also be wired directly to SAC's overseas bases.

$3.5 Million Building Planned for Lansing

LANSING (UPI) — Lansing officials have cleared the way for construction of a $3,500,000 office building on the site of the old city hall.

The 10-story structure will contain 150,000 square feet of floor space to house four circuit courts, the county clerk and the water and light departments.

Leonard H. Braun, chairman of the Water and Light Board, said the board has agreed to finance 80 per cent of the cost of the building with the rest paid by the city council.

Military Training Helps Clay as Business Head

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN

NEW YORK (UPI) — One of the most successful former military leaders who moved into industry is 61-year-old Gen. Lucius D. Clay, U.S.A. retired.

Clay is now in his eighth year as the $150,000-a-year Chairman of the Board and chief executive officer of the Continental Can Company. He took over management of the company in April 1950, when its sales totalled $397,864,000. In 1957 they had risen to $1,046,267,000.

It was no surprise that Clay proved to be a "natural" in the business world. He already had demonstrated his administrative ability in the Army. He was Gen. Eisenhower's deputy in the spring of 1946 and soon became military governor of occupied Germany. It was Clay who ordered the "Berlin airlift" which broke Soviet Russia's blockade of Berlin at the beginning of the cold war.

I asked Gen. Clay in aninterview in his New York office why he thought military men make good in business. He replied:

"First, a trained service man who has achieved success in the military has proved to be a good administrator.

"Secondly, and more important, the defense establishment has become the largest business organization in the world. It buys and sells and meets payrolls. The result is military leaders get experience they did not get prior to World War II. The tremendous expansion of the military establishment has given them a training that makes them in demand for peacetime jobs.

"Thirdly, and perhaps still more important, is the fact that because of the growth of defense, its military leaders are always coming in close contact with business leaders. They get to know each other."

Gen. Clay is a well-built, pleasant man whose hair is beginning to be touched with gray. He gets to work at 8 a.m. in his 24th-floor office in the company's skyscraper across from the Grand Central Terminal.

"I find the hour from 8 a.m. to 9 a.m. the best of the day," he smiled. "No visitors, no phone calls. It gives me a chance to do some constructive thinking and answer important mail."

He does a lot of traveling. He visits every one of the company's 145 plants throughout the United States and Canada at least once a year. The company, which maintains a fleet of executive aircraft, places a plane and a car with chauffeur at his disposal.

Gen. Clay said he believes in compulsory retirement. He explained that it is important for young men coming along in business to know when the big jobs are to open up.

"Whether the retirement age be 65 or 67, I think it should be compulsory, as it is in the Army," he said. "The age for retirement is not as important as it is that retirement should be compulsory."

When he retires, he said, he hopes to catch up on the reading he missed the past 18 years. He also likes to fish, golf and shoot.

Marseille-Algiers Telephone Cable Largest of Kind

PARIS — Now in service is a 565-mile telephone cable linking Marseille with Algiers. It is the world's longest undersea cable of its kind. It permits 60 simultaneous conversations.

The cable, laid by a special ship of the French Post, Telephone, and Telegraph service, has 28 booster stages, capable of resisting deep-sea pressure, for parts of the cable are well over 3,000 yards under the surface of the Mediterranean.

Long cables laid in recent years in the Atlantic and the Pacific were two-cable linkages capable of carrying only 36 simultaneous communications. The French have developed a new technique in which submarine repeaters amplify the current in both directions; thus only one cable is required.

WALT DISNEY'S True Life Adventures

Oklahoma Governor Size 38½, Not 44

OKLAHOMA CITY (UPI) — A Texas pants manufacturing firm which is opening a new plant in Oklahoma wanted to present a free pair of trousers to Oklahoma's Gov. Raymond Gary.

The company had the governor down on its books as a size "44." A letter was sent to him to make sure. The governor applied the tape to himself and wrote back, "38½."

"I guess they were just checking to make sure they didn't waste any material," Gary commented.

Today's "City" of London — the business and financial section of the British capital — still lies largely between boundaries set by an old Roman wall.

Press Comes to Life

AMHERST, Mass. (UPI)—A century-old printing press which has been standing idle for many years will be pressed into service again at Amherst College. It has been turned over to the College's Fine Arts Department by the owner, the Amherst Journal Record Company, for instruction in graphic arts.

The first newspaper in Vermont was established at Westminster in 1781 and was called the Green Mountain Post Boy.

The Duke and Duchess Cheer French Singer

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — I'm always glad to knife "raw-alty" but the Duchess of Windsor's lusty rooting for French singer Vicky Autier cheers me about womankind. The Duchess discovered Vicky when she was a Paris pianist, insisted she sing, too—helped her get gowns for her chic opening . . . then brought a small party of 12.

WILSON

Happy about Vicky's success, she danced wildly with the Duke, later explaining to the B.W. and me, "He thinks I can't follow him." Quoth the Duke: "Every step I was trying to trick her." (They skip the cha-cha-cha, too "double-timey".) They're passing up Palm Beach this winter for Arizona. Western fans, don'cha know?

Saluting Gwen Verdon after her triumph in "Redhead" were redbeads Lucille Ball, Tina Louise and Cara Williams — also Joe Cotten, who announced, "The longest consecutive line of hideous architecture in the world is in Miami Beach, but Park avenue, in creating Monotony Row, is running a close second." He said he used to be a Florida ad salesman (for the Miami Herald) and that they love him in Miami.

GWEN

Zsa Zsa Gabor will break her engagement with Hal Hayes—she's just waiting till she can get the most publicity. "I'm definitely not marrying him, dolling," she's telling friends at Lake Tahoe, where she's appearing. She'll return the football stadium-shaped diamond ring which not only covers her knuckle but part of her hand.

However, she wore it on skis at Squaw Valley and also for walking her dog, a poodle which she calls "Harvey Hilton." Zsa Zsa's two reasons for breaking up with Hayes are: He's too busy and she's still in love with George Sanders, dolling!

Hagerty Denies Dulles Through

Scoffs at Reports Ike Giving Serious Thought to Cabinet Successor

WASHINGTON (AP) — "That's cockeyed."

White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty gave that reply Tuesday night when asked about reports President Eisenhower is concerned over the possibility that Secretary of State John Foster Dulles may not be able to resume his duties.

The reports came from Republican congressional sources after Dulles entered Walter Reed Hospital for a hernia operation and treatment of a recurring intestinal inflammation.

Hagerty also scoffed at other reports that Eisenhower is giving serious consideration to a possible successor to Dulles.

Along the same line, an influential GOP official came away from the White House with a report he was convinced that every member of the President's official family expects Dulles to recover rather swiftly.

At Walter Reed, Maj. Gen. Leonard D. Heaton, the surgeon who will operate on Dulles, said the hernia operation will be a simple one. He predicted the 70-year-old Cabinet member will be on his feet a short time later.

Despite official denials, however, speculation was reported running through administration circles as to a possible successor if Dulles is unable to return.

The most frequently mentioned name was said to be that of John J. McCloy, New York banker and former U.S. high commissioner to Germany.

Also among those being considered are Under Secretary of State Christian Herter, who will fill in for Dulles, and Under Secretary C. Douglas Dillion.

State to Hold Hearing on U.S. 23 Relocation

LANSING (AP)—The State Highway Department has announced it will hold a public hearing at Milan Feb. 17 (American Legion Hall, 1:30 p.m.) on the proposed relocation of U.S. 23 from Dundee to Milan in Muskegon County.

The 8.7 mile stretch of highway, of controlled access design, will cost $4,200,000. It will be a link in the 330-mile expressway from the Ohio border north to Mackinaw City and Sault Ste. Marie.

Aim $8 Million at State Bases

It's Part of $1.3 Billion Asked in Congress for Military Construction

WASHINGTON (AP)—Military bases in Michigan would get more than $8,000,000 of the $1,356,290,000 which the Defense Department yesterday asked Congress to authorize for military construction.

Rep. Thomas J. Lane (D-Mass) said the department proposal also asks authorization for construction of 21,701 units of family housing for military personnel and dependents at bases in the United States and overseas. The proposal was sent to Lane and other members of Congress.

The new construction projects which would be authorized include 328 installations in 49 states and the District of Columbia. The proposal also includes projects in several foreign countries.

K. I. Sawyer Municipal Airport at Marquette—$2,814,000 for training, maintenance, supply, administration and community facilities, and troop housing and utilities.

Wurtsmith Air Force Base at Oscoda—$2,800,000 for operational, maintenance and supply facilities, and utilities.

Kinross Air Force Base at Sault Ste. Marie—$1,755,000 for training, maintenance and supply facilities, and troop housing.

Selfridge Air Force Base at Mount Clemens—$925,000 for maintenance facilities and utilities.

Debbie's Divorce Suit Postponed 2 Days

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Trial of actress Debbie Reynolds' divorce suit against singer Eddie Fisher has been postponed two days to Feb. 19.

Attorney Frank B. Belcher, representing Miss Reynolds, asked the delay because of a conflict in his work schedule.

Miss Reynolds charges Fisher with cruelty. In interviews she has blamed actress Elizabeth Taylor for the breakup of her marriage.

A financial settlement agreed on two weeks ago has not been signed. Belcher said further postponement of the case may become necessary if the pact is not executed soon.

Harvard defeated Dartmouth, 38 to 0, in a baseball game in 1869. The Boston Advertiser said the Dartmouth team suffered "an unprecedented run of ill-luck."

Miss Alberghetti to Wed Musician Buddy Bregman

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Singer Anna Maria Alberghetti and composer-conductor Louis (Buddy) Bregman will be married April 5 in St. Ambrose Catholic church.

It will be the first marriage for the Rome-born Miss Alberghetti, the second for Bregman. He is divorced from Gloria Haley, daughter of comedian Jack Haley.

Miss Alberghetti said she received permission to wed Bregman because the Catholic church does not recognize his civil marriage.

Bregman, who is Jewish, said he does not intend to embrace Catholicism, but that any children of their marriage will be reared as Catholics.

Bregman is 28, Miss Alberghetti 22.

George Sanders, Benita Colman Wed

MADRID (AP) — Movie Actor George Sanders and Benita Hume Colman, widow of actor Ronald Colman, were married at the British consulate yesterday.

Colman died last May. Sanders announced his engagement to the widow last September. Sanders is playing a supporting role in the movie Solomon and Sheba being made here.

Miss Hume, a former actress, has a daughter, Juliet, from her previous marriage. The girl is in school in Switzerland.

Sanders had become a naturalized citizen a number of years ago but gave up his U.S. citizenship in December in order to have the same nationality as Miss Hume, a Briton.

The couple kept their wedding plans a tight secret and showed up at the consulate suddenly at 3 p.m. for the short civil ceremony. Only witnesses from the embassy staff were present.

GOP Theme: Like Lincoln—Victory in '60

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Republicans, hoping to borrow a page from their party's first president, announced this theme today for this year's Abraham Lincoln anniversary dinners:

"Emulate Lincoln's example of turning a '58 defeat into a '60 victory."

Republican National Chairman Meade Alcorn announced the theme in reporting that GOP speakers have been booked for more than 150 Lincoln sesquicentennial dinners this month in 29 states.

Gives Reason Missile Absent

Defense Budget Skips Nike-Zeus Because of Its Early Status

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Department of Defense spokesman says the budget asks no money for production of the Nike-Zeus missile because it is not far enough advanced.

The Nike-Zeus has been designed as a major defense against enemy intercontinental ballistic missiles.

W. J. McNeil, assistant secretary of defense, estimated the status of the Nike-Zeus Tuesday while replying to criticism by two Army generals.

Maj. Gen. William W. Dick Jr., special weapons chief, and Maj. Gen. Dwight E. Beach, air defense director, had told the House Space Committee Monday that the missile was far enough advanced to permit a start on production of some of its parts.

They said their recommendations included 30 million dollars for production this fiscal year and 700 million dollars next fiscal year. The budget does not include any money for production.

McNeil, however, told the Senate-House Economic Committee that the budget does contain money to develop the missile.

"Every possible cent is being spent to perfect it," said McNeil, considered the Pentagon's top financial expert.

"But we have not put in money for bases or production lines because the missile is not ready."

Telephone Hour Shoots Sparks During 2nd Half

By WILLIAM EWALD

NEW YORK (UPI) — NBC-TV's Bell Telephone Hour offered a half-hour special over a full hour last night.

There was nothing very special about the first half of the show at all.

But magically, at the half-way mark the show began to flick off sparks. Ella Fitzgerald, working in tandem with Duke Ellington, appeared and after a slightly sputterish start really began gunning on "Do Nothing Till You Hear From Me."

It was a stunner—packed with feeling and flow—and when Miss Fitz counterpunched with a luminous "I'm Beginning to See the Light," the Bell hour had a small, compact spectacular on its hands right there.

One further note about the show's production: It was clean and stylish and happily unencumbered with narration. John Hoppe's fanciful mobiles tied the segments together—as they did in the first Bell show—and tasty additions they were.

SHORT SHOTS: Bob Hope's NBC-TV special last night was not a very robust entry, but his spoof of beatniks—now, incidentally, referred to contemptuously by the hip set as "Diddly Boppers"—did contain several squirts of fun. The skit benefited considerably by the presence of Carol Haney, a comic swiveler of much luxe.

The new Florence Henderson-Bill Hayes series coming to NBC-TV on March 19 will feature weekly musicals built around standard tunes.

Sid Caesar will start filming late in March a new half hour situation comedy series, It's a Living, which will be produced in association with the independent outfit, Screen Gems.

Lansing Centennial Set

LANSING (AP) — Lansing gets its centennial celebration under way officially next Sunday.

During the first week of the celebration special programs will be held featuring the official dedication of the city's new city hall and police buildings.

Some 900 Michigan municipal officials have been invited to a centennial luncheon Feb. 19.

Turkey, Greece Agree

OK Cyprus Constitution

ZURICH, Switzerland (AP) — Turkey today announced agreement with Greece on a proposed constitution for an independent Cyprus.

A Turkish spokesman said Prime Ministers Constantine Karamanlis of Greece and Adnan Menderes of Turkey speedily reached final agreement this morning on the draft prepared by their foreign ministers during five days of hard bargaining here in Zurich.

An end at last appeared in sight to the long and bitter dispute over the British island colony in the east Mediterranean off the south coast of Turkey.

The draft constitution will go now to London. There a Foreign Office spokesman said the British government wholeheartedly welcomed the news of the agreement.

British officials would not comment further until they had studied the constitution in detail. But London's approval was considered certain since the Greeks and the Turks had agreed, and since the constitution guarantees Britain a base on the island.

News of the agreement also heartened all other members of the North Atlantic Alliance. Greece and Turkey form NATO's eastern anchor, and the Cyprus fight had halted cooperation between them for several years.

Britain has ruled Cyprus since 1879, and the island now is the major British base in the east Mediterranean. Of its 500,000 people, 400,000 are of Greek descent and 100,000 of Turkish origin.

For four years British troops have been fighting a guerrilla rebellion by EOKA, the Greek Cypriot underground which originally demanded that Cyprus unite with Greece. The Turkish minority demanded continuance of British rule or partition of the island between its two communities. Independence guaranteed by the troops of all three nations, with special rights for the Turkish minority, is the solution that has been worked out.

The leader of the Greek Cypriots, Orthodox Archbishop Makarios, also expressed satisfaction in Athens over the reported agreement. But he said he would make no specific comment on the settlement until he had further information on the provisions for the stationing of Turkish troops on Cyprus.

To Fight Absorption of Alcoholism Board

LANSING (AP) — A fight against what he termed "reorganization without investigation" has been promised by Harlan J. Helland, chairman of the State Board of Alcoholism.

The board would be consolidated with the State Health Department under a reorganization proposal to be submitted to the Legislature by Gov. Williams.

"The governor's advisors have decided it is better to have top decisions on alcoholism made by one man who has many responsibilities, instead of having top decisions made by five people who have made it their business to become informed and whose total interest is alcoholism," Helland said.

He added that the board had stimulated statewide interest in the problem and that the "Michigan plan" has been nationally recognized.

Want to Complete Your Confusion? Well, Just Take a Look at This

By JAMES MARLOW
AP News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — You think you're confused? Wait till you read this.

President Eisenhower has protested repeatedly against what he calls the spenders and demands that Congress stay within the 77-billion-dollar budget he sent up in January.

Just as a starter on how things can get mixed up: Congress can ignore his requests for economy and vote far more money than he asked. On the other hand, in some cases he doesn't have to spend it even if Congress votes it.

And some of what's voted this year may be meant for spending a couple of years from now. There's a big difference between appropriations and expenditures.

The Eisenhower barbs about spenders apparently nettled Sen. Lyndon Johnson of Texas, leader of the Senate Democrats. This week he said that over the past six years Congress appropriated 22 billion dollars less than Eisenhower's budgets asked.

Whereupon Sen. Everett Dirksen of Illinois, leader of the Senate Republicans, announced the Eisenhower administration was getting together the full story, including "everything relating to the budget," and that he'd produce it.

It's a good guess that when the two leaders and all the other Democrats and Republicans get through arguing about the figures, not only the general public but perhaps most members of Congress will be more bemused than before.

One expert on government finances told this writer: "When it comes to voting on money problems, Congress is a place where the left hand knoweth not what the right is doing."

He didn't mean anyone was slipping a fast one over on anyone. He just meant things get mixed up.

The House and Senate Appropriations committees were created to examine money requests from the executive branch of the government and decide what's needed. But those committees are not the only ones passing on money problems.

Eisenhower's budget, for instance, contains all kinds of requests for money in one form or another. The whole budget is not solely the Appropriati ons Committee's baby. Some parts of it go to other committees.

Who gets what depends on the nature of what is asked.

Say the Senate Banking Committee comes up with a housing program that requires government backing. There are various kinds of housing in the program: one may deal with college housing, another with slum clearance.

Because one program requires a certain kind of action and money, the Senate Banking Committee handles it. But another, requiring different handling and financing, will go from the Banking Committee to the Appropriations Committee.

Then there's this case: the Appropriations Committee will approve a certain budget expenditure which is really an authorization to the Eisenhower Administration to draw a check on the Treasury and spend the money this year.

Then the same committee may approve authorization for the government to obligate itself to spend money in a future year, but not this one or the next. For example: authority to make a contract to build a missile which won't be ready till 1962.

And the money Eisenhower requested in the budget he sent Congress in January is not the only money Congress will vote this year. Last June, for instance, Congress may have voted money to carry a government agency through till next June.

But now the same agency comes back, saying what it got was not enough, and it needs more to pay its expenses till June.

This is called a request for a supplemental appropriation. That means supplemental to what Congress voted last year for this year and not supplemental to what Congress votes this year for next. See?

Slate Meeting on Hospital Financing

City and Pontiac General Hospital officials will meet Feb. 19 on the subject of financing completion of the hospital expansion program.

Major item up for discussion is a proposal that the hospital reimburse the city for the cost of extra repairs in the hospital's east wing, estimated at $300,000 to $350,000.

City commissioners, who scheduled the joint meeting last night, want the hospital to pay the costs as depreciation on the original hospital building.

The hospital Board of Trustees has not discussed the proposal yet, but in the past has shied away from contributing to construction funds.

Harold B. Euler has said that a long-term agreement "is worthy of consideration." But he has stipulated the hospital should build up cash reserves to cover operating costs before attempting to fund depreciation.

Still a question mark is whether the Detroit Area Hospital Council will approve a $350,000 grant for hospital construction.

City Manager Walter K. Willman said that agreements, under which local contractors will undertake the repairs and remaining construction, are still in the preparatory stage.

The Commission last night accepted high bids for two homes and a garage it purchased south of the hospital on land designated for a parking lot.

A one-story frame home at 39 Seminole Ave., was sold for $1,505 to Mrs. Mildred Eggert of 2521 Premont St., Waterford Township, and a two-story frame home at 67 Seminole was sold for $1,562 to James D. Dodd, 115 Seminole.

The garage at 52 S. Johnson Ave. was sold for $76 to James Chaffee, 4133 Somset Rd.

The buildings will be moved away from the area in order to clear the land for the parking lot, scheduled for completion July 1.

The city has still to purchase one remaining home and sell one other which was advertised for bids Feb. 23.

Commissioners officially placed on the April 6 ballot a proposition to repeal the 1934 beer and wine ordinance, which sets 2 p.m. as the Sunday opening time for Pontiac taverns. The Oakland County Table Toppers Assn. had petitioned for the vote.
