Pump $16 Million Into State Coffers

Illinois Solon Mapping New Moves Despite Senate's Strong 'No!'

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Douglas (D-Ill) battled today for an excise tax cut despite overwhelming Senate rejection of his proposal for a slash in both personal income and excise levies.

By a 71-14 vote, the Senate last night defeated Douglas' proposal for tax cuts totaling about $5,200,000,000. He contended the cuts were needed to fight the recession and provide more spending money.

Several opponents attacked the Douglas proposal as inflationary. They also objected to the short-cut method he was using in seeking the reduction.

Douglas offered his plan as an amendment to a House-passed bill dealing with taxes on certain income of insurance companies.

PLANS AMENDMENT

The Constitution requires that tax legislation originate in the House, where it normally is processed in committee before reaching the floor.

However, in advance of today's session, Douglas said he planned to offer an amendment to cut excise taxes alone. He told newsmen he felt there was "still a chance" the Senate would accept such an amendment.

Under the proposal turned down a variety of excise, or sales, taxes would be reduced about $2,200,000,000 This would include cutting in half both the 10 per cent excise on autos and the 3 per cent tax on freight transportation.

Douglas, who contends a tax cut is the quickest way to pump consumer dollars into the sagging economy, said his new amendment would call for the same excise reductions contained in the rejected proposal, except that he might revise it to eliminate the freight transportation tax entirely.

There were indications that other senators might make another try at getting a cut in personal income taxes, prehaps

ONE CREWMAN KILLED — Twin engines of a B47 which exploded in air over Tulsa, Okla., and killed one crewman smoulders a few feet in front of a residence. Wreckage of the craft fell over an estimated 2-mile square area. Two other crewmen parachuted and were hospitalized with burns. The plane was on a training mission from McConnell Air Force Base, Wichita, Kan., when it blew up over the city's outskirts. No one was hurt by falling debris but some houses received minor damage.

Liquor Inventory to Be Converted Into Hard Cash

Governor's Legal Aide, LCC Meeting to Study Procedural Problems

LANSING (AP)—The stage was finally set today for putting into effect the long-delayed Conlin Plan for pumping 16 to 18 million dollars into the ailing state treasury.

After the enabling bill cleared the Legislature yesterday, Gov. Williams promptly sent his legal adviser into a huddle with members of the State Liquor Control Commission on procedural questions.

The proposal, advanced in January by Rep. Rollo G. Conlin (R-Tipton), calls for the state to switch over from a 30-day to a 90-day basis of payment for state liquor purchases.

Barring legal complications, this would have the effect of converting a large portion of the state's whisky and wine inventory into cash, he said.

The bill, unanimously voted by the Senate yesterday, and previously approved by the House, would authorize transfer of monies thus accumulated so they can be used to pay current state obligations.

After Conlin put forth his idea and Williams agreed a week later to try to carry it through, an impasse developed, with each asserting it was the other's first move.

"This will help get money into the state treasury so we can pay the schools," the Senate was told by Sen. Clyde H. Geerlings (R-Holland) in urging quick action.

Only Wednesday, State Treasurer Sanford A. Brown announced that a $28,500,000 state school aid payment due Saturday will have to be put off until early May because of depleted balances.

Conlin brought forward his proposal after the governor said the state was skidding toward bankruptcy, and predicted that by mid-May the state would be 30 million dollars in the hole.

It was advanced as a substitute for an immediate 20 million dollar boost in the state intangibles tax urged by Williams.

Some steps already have been taken to meet the emergency, including transfer of about 10 million dollars from special funds into the treasury's general kitty.

Scour Okinawa for Stolen Baby

No Trace of AF Man's 6-Week Infant Taken From Cot Wednesday

NAHA, Okinawa (AP) — U. S. military and Ryukyuan police are intensifying an island-wide search for a 6-week-old boy who disappeared mysteriously from his home Wednesday night.

Terrence Hitt, 28, Plymouth, Mich., father of the missing child, raised from $500 to $1,000 the reward for information leading to return of his son, Brady D. Hitt. Police say they have no clues.

(Editor's Note: News of the search for missing Brady Hitt on Okinawa is eagerly awaited by Dinzil D. Himes of Commerce, a brother of the child's mother.)

Hitt believes his son was kidnaped. His wife, Madely, 26, had nothing to say. She stayed with friends while her husband made a personal appeal over the U.S. operated television network on this island, for return of the baby.

Roadblocks have been set up. Military police searched the area surrounding the family's home on Kadena Air Base for a trace of the infant.

The baby was discovered missing from his crib between 7:45 and 8 p.m. Wednesday. Police said the screen on a bedroom window was torn loose.

Hitt is a civilian technical representative for the U. S. Air Force in Okinawa. They have another child, a 3½ - year - old daughter named Terrilyn.

Son Born to Grace at Monaco

MONTE CARLO (AP)—Princess Grace of Monaco today gave birth to her first son, the new heir to the throne of Monaco.

The boy was named Albert.

The royal palace said the baby weighed 8½ pounds.

The palace said he would be christened Albert Alexandre Louis Pierre.

GUNS SALUTE

The boom of the 101-gun salute —it would have been only 21 for a girl—set off wild rejoicing in the 367-acre principality on the French Riviera.

The little prince was born at 10:50 a.m. in the royal apartments where Caroline had arrived Jan. 23, 1957. The Parisian baby specialist here for the birth, Dr. Emile Hervet, had been called to the bedside of the former movie queen at 8.

Prince Rainier and Grace's mother, Mrs. John B. Kelly of Philadelphia also were on hand.

The new baby had light brown hair and was reported in bouncing health. He measured 20 inches long as he lay on the baby scales.

NEWS SPREADS

The news spread through the postage-stamp principality in seconds and wild cheers went up. Yachts and boats in Monte Carlo's harbor let loose with sirens and whistles.

Rainier's family had gathered at the palace soon after the word went out that the baby was on the way. Flowers began to stream to the royal apartment.

Asked why he was not in Monaco, Kelly replied "I didn't think a grandfather should be hanging around the delivery room."

Cold and Cloudy Weekend Ahead for Pontiac Area

Cold and cloudy days are due to continue in the Pontiac area over the weekend.

For tonight the U. S. Weather Bureau predicts mostly cloudy and continued rather cold with a few snow flurries. The low will be near 28 degrees.

Tomorrow will be mostly cloudy and continued cold with a high near 38. Sunday's outlook is partly cloudy and with little change in temperature

The Weather Bureau's five-day forecast predicts temperatures will average about two degrees below the normal low of 27 and normal high of 44.

Cold will continue through Wednesday. Snow flurries are expected Saturday and again Monday.

The lowest recorded temperature in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. was 28. At 2 p.m. the reading was 37.

Port Huron Reports Business Upturn

PORT HURON (AP)— Things are looking up in Port Huron. The Port Huron Times Herald reported a spot survey among merchants indicated an upturn in business activity. The newspaper said in many instances businessmen called trade so far this year better than that of 1957, with especially good volume since the first of March. Others said things remained about the same, and some reported business was slightly under last year.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Hoffman (R-Mich) says Walter Reuther, president of the United Auto Workers, should suspend collection of union dues as an anti - recession move. "It would be a way for him to show his sincerity," Hoffman said in the House yesterday.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The federal manufacturers excise taxes on refrigeration equipment, self-contained air-conditioning equipment, and electric, gas and oil appliances would be repealed under legislation offered today by Rep. Bentley (R-Mich).

Hush Economy Talk Between Ike, Cabinet

WASHINGTON (INS) — President Eisenhower today discussed various aspects of the economic situation with his cabinet but the White House kept confidential details of the lengthy session.

The Chief Executive and Cabinet met for two and a half hours after which White House News Secretary James C. Hagerty told reporters:

"There was a discussion of various aspects of the economic situation at the cabinet meeting. It was not entirely on this — there were other matters on the agenda."

Asked whether the question of a tax cut had come up, he said that "other than to say there was a general discussion" he could not comment.

Hagerty said that Treasury Secretary Robert B. Anderson reported on the statement he had issued two days ago declaring that there had been "no decision" on a tax cut and would be none until there is a clearer picture of how effective other anti-recession steps will be.

Hagerty said he had "no knowledge" of any understanding between Anderson and House Speaker Sam Rayburn for no tax reduction proposal to be made by the administration or Democratic leaders until they consult each other.

The White House spokesman said that President Eisenhower had referred to Dr. Gabriel Hauge, his economics assistant, a memorandum from AFL-CIO President George Meany which maintains that the recession is "growing worse" instead of better.

The memorandum was sent to the president by Meany as a followup to Mr. Eisenhower's meeting with him and the other seven members of the AFL-CIO executive board.

Hagerty said Meany's memo "is being studied."

He said the President "has referred it to Hauge and he in turn will refer it to other interested and appropriate agencies."

Frank S. Lyndall Named GM Tribute Toastmaster

Frank S. Lyndall, manager of Sears Roebuck & Co. will act as toastmaster at the tribute to General Motors Corp.'s 50th anniversary for the Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce annual banquet March 26.

Other banquet plans announced by John Hirlinger, the chamber's manager, include the selection of Dr. Dana P. Whitmer as general chairman; Harry J. Woodman, reception chairman, and Howard O. Powers, chairman of banquet arrangements.

Dr. Whitmer is superintendent of Pontiac schools; Woodman, treasurer of the GMTC Employes Federal Credit Union; and Powers, a distributor, is past president of the Chamber of Commerce.

Whitmer is one of four local leaders invited to address the meeting briefly, Hirlinger said.

The main speaker will be Louis C. Goad, GM executive vice president. About 15 other GM executives have been invited to attend as honored guests.

Retail Sales Climb

NEW YORK (INS)—The Federal Reserve Bank reported today that U. S. Department store sales last week were seven per cent higher than in the corresponding week of 1957. Philadelphia had the largest gain, 22 per cent. The Dallas Reserve District reported sales two per cent higher.

Teacher Metes Penalty; Errant Father Pays

WHITSTABLE, England (AP) — Tardy Tony Braithwaite, 7, was ordered by his teacher to write "I must not be late for school" 50 times.

Tony showed up with the lines neatly done in his father's handwriting and an explanatory note.

"It was my fault that Tony was late, so it is only fair that I should write the lines," it said.

Crowds Drawn by Auto Sale Ad in Pontiac Press

That a bargain-conscious public is eager and willing to buy was proved to Ford dealer Cy Owens yesterday.

Owens ran a classified advertisement in yesterday's Pontiac Press offering 14 used cars for prices as low as $24.

Although the ad clearly stated that the sale began at 8:30 a.m. today, the crowds gathered at his lot, 147 S. Saginaw St., within minutes after the newspaper hit the streets.

Three men spent the night to get a 1951 Studebaker for $43 this morning, while another showed up at 1 a.m. and waited all night for a 1950 Buick at $63.

Still another arrived at 11 p.m. for the long vigil and drove home in a Henry J for $87.

New Hall at Mount Union College Named in His Honor

Wilson Calls Education, Hard Work Vital

ALLIANCE, Ohio — Declaring education, hard work and the ability to get along with people are primary requisites, C. E. Wilson spoke at the dedication of a new hall at Mount Union college which has been named in his honor.

"I am pleased to speak at Mount Union College where my father graduated 70 years ago," he said.

"My father and mother taught me three important things: (1) That a good education is highly to be desired and worth striving for. (2) That work is a normal part of living, a means of self expression, and not something to be avoided to the degree possible. (3) That it is worthwhile to make an extra effort to understand and get along with people.

"There has been a great deal of discussion in regards to the necessity of training more engineers and scientists. This has been pointed up by the technological race with the Russians. Important as this may be from a purely military point of view, it is probably of even greater importance as a fundamental requirement if we are to continue the great progress we have made in our country in raising the standard of living and well-being of all our people.

"There is considerable difference of opinion in regard to how to make the greatest progress, especially when progress seems to have been temporarily halted by a business recession, but I believe the proper education of the young people of our country, in both liberal arts and technical and scientific courses, is a fundamental of our free society on which we can all agree.

"The smaller colleges and universities like Mount Union are an essential part of our advanced educational system and the great number promotes independent thinking which is very vital to our free society and to our type of government. While a good education is a tremendous help, it alone will not assure success.

"The productivity made possible by our machines and scientific knowledge offers a clear promise of further progress for us and for the peoples of other nations, especially for those who have not yet benefited to any great degree from modern industry.

"More people in many nations must be properly educated in these technical matters so that they can play a proper part in the scheme of things, and make a contribution to society roughly in proportion to the rewards they expect to get in return. At the same time, they cannot depend on machines alone for a happy and prosperous society or nation, but must clearly under-

Civic Leader in Detroit Dies

Mrs. Henry B. Joy, 88, Was Member of 83 Motor City Groups

DETROIT (AP) — Mrs. Henry B. Joy, a prominent figure in Detroit civic organizations and the last half a century, died last night of a heart attack in her Grosse Pointe Farms home. She was 88.

Mrs. Joy, the daughter of the former Helen Handy and John S. Newberry, was the widow of Henry Bourne Joy, a founder of Packard Motor Car Co.

Mrs. Joy was a member of 83 civic organizations and the east surviving founder of the Detroit chapter of the American Red Cross.

She longed to be a nurse. The yearning for a career of mercy was strong through her years at Miss Annie Brown's School, and at other private schools in Detroit and Washington, D. C.

Though Mrs. Joy's ambition never was realized, she later donated the Helen Newberry Joy nursing scholarship at Wayne State University.

In World War I, she worked tirelessly for the comfort and well-being of the Army.

She always claimed her interest in civic service was merely an inheritance.

Her mother was a founder of Grace Hospital. Mrs. Joy was a founder of both Cottage and Women's Hospitals. She was a vice president of Woman's Hospital and gave the Helen Newberry Joy Nurses Home to that institution.

The charming, witty lady was interested in the arts.

Among her treasured membership cards were those of symphony, theater and music groups.

"I sailed out on the platform and waltzed the Blue Danube," she said happily.

It brought down the house.

Mrs. Joy, in whom culture, gentility and graciousness found a paragon, belonged to several eras and adapted to all with timeless dexterity.

Even in her advanced age she exuded enormous vitality and pursued the activities dear to her heart.

Mrs. Joy is survived by a son, Henry B. Joy Jr., and a daughter, Mrs. Helen Lee of Stonington, Conn. Funeral arrangements were not complete.

Nicky, destined for a Memphis zoo, escaped from his cage aboard the supply ship Antares yesterday and climbed to the top of a mast. And there he remained all night.

This morning the crew contrived a trap and baited it with bananas, carrots, lettuce and water. The trap, a cage with one side tilted by a timber, was placed on a hatch at the foot of the mast.

The crew stood back and waited. Shortly before 10 a.m. Nicky descended the mast and ambled under the tilted cage. A sailor snatched out the supporting timber.

Down came the cage. Nicky was once more in captivity. Later today he will be transferred to another cage in which he will be sent to Memphis.

The 5-year-old ape spent the night under the watchful eye of a one-man "monkey watch," whose duty it was to make sure Nicky didn't jump overboard or leap to the pier at which the Antares is moored at the Norfolk Naval Base.

To Equip Pontiac Northern High School

$222,050 Budget Approved

A budget of $222,050 was approved last night by the Pontiac Board of Education to equip and furnish the new Pontiac Northern High School now under construction.

The budget will provide for a variety of furniture, files, band, auditorium, kitchen and shop and homemaking items.

Added to other costs for new buildings and equipment during the past year, the equipment budget will place the building program $296,432 in the red, Assistant Superintendent Otto Hufziger told the board.

This money will be raised by bonds to be issued for next year's building program in accordance with the board's regular procedure for financing capital improvements.

The board already has the millage to pay for the anticipated bond issue.

Hufziger said the outlook for next year's building program income is $3,238,359 from all sources.

The board also received the terms of an agreement between its two maintenance and custodial workers unions, Local 719, AFL-CIO and the Independent United Skilled Maintenance Trades Employes.

The two groups have agreed on a list of items on which they will negotiate in common with the board and on another list on which they will talk seperately.

They also agreed on jurisdiction with all employes being represented by Local 719 except head mechanics and mechanics.

The groups pressed for adoption of an apprentice training program for helpers who seek journeyman status.

Superintendent Dana P. Whitmer reported on state aid to school districts. He said that Senate Bill 1054 had cleared the Legislature and awaited the governor's signature.

This bill would pay Pontiac $2,708,000, compared with the $2,570,000 paid under the current law. However, he noted, the bill does not guarantee payment.

The board also received a delegation from the Wisner School PTA, requesting a new kitchen.

They were told that the board would add this project to its supplemental budget list which contains items left out of the budget but which the board would like to include if its income next year is higher than now anticipated.

Dr. Whitmer reported on a bill now in the Senate which would boost driver's license fees in Michigan and earmark the increase for driver training instruction in the schools.

If passed, this bill would pay the schools about twice as much per pupil as the $13-$16 currently being paid.

The superintendent also reported privately to the board concerning the striking of a pupil at Whittier Elementary School by a teacher.

He said that he was presently negotiating with the boy's family for an amicable settlement of the matter.

The board also accepted an offer from the Nazarene Church to allow teachers at Pontiac Central to park their cars in the church lot without charge.

Storm Whirls Into New England

Maryland Snowed Under

NEW YORK (AP)—Snow and rain, accompanied by stiff winds, swept northward from the Maryland coast today, after dropping more than nine inches of snow on western Maryland before whirling its way into New England.

A special New York weather advisory said snow had spread over the southern two-thirds of the state, with a 5- to 10-inch accumulation predicted in central and southern sections before tapering off early tonight.

Snow up to seven inches was reported in eastern West Virginia.

New England had light snow and drizzle early today and expected no major effects from the storm, spawned by a low pressure area.

Claims Sheriff Inactive in Riot

Sheboygan Police Chief Says No Attempt Made to Halt Kohler Violence

WASHINGTON (AP)—Police Chief Steen W. Heimke of Sheboygan, Wis., said today the sheriff of his county in 1955 did nothing to control a riotous demonstration which broke out during the Kohler strike.

Heimke told the Senate Rackets Committee that Rudolph J. Ploetz, who was mayor at the time, was not much help either. He said he heard Ploetz ask the then sheriff, Theodore J. Mosch: "How much are you obligated to the union for?"

Heimke acknowledged under questioning that he himself made no arrests as a result of the disorders which marked the arrival in Sheboygan on July 5, 1955, of a boat carrying ceramic clay consigned to the struck Kohler Co. plant.

The committee is investigating violence which flared repeatedly during the United Auto Workers Union's long strike against the Kohler firm, maker of bathroom fixtures. The strike has been going since April 5, 1954, but the plant is operating.

The committee counsel, Robert F. Kennedy, told Heimke "it makes no sense" for him to blame the sheriff or others when Heimke himself made no arrests.

Heimke said this was because he had insufficient manpower and because of "diversionary incidents" staged by members of an unruly crowd who blocked unloading of the cargo of clay. Officials of the UAW have insisted they were not responsible for the violence.

Heimke said the city police normally are responsible for maintaining law and order in the city, but that in such emergencies as the clay boat incident main responsibility lay with the sheriff.

He said the situation was "what I considered to be a mob out of control." Heimke said the sheriff did not deputize extra officers to help restore order. The mayor, he said, vetoed Heimke's proposal to use fire hoses to drive the crowd away.

Douglas Continues Battle for Tax Cut

by raising the present $600 individual exemption.

The fate of Douglas' new proposal on excise taxes may have been foreshadowed when the Senate last night rejected by voice vote an amendment by Sen. Anderson (D-NM) to halve the 10 per cent manufacturer's tax on autos and trucks.

POTTER A SUPPORTER

Sen. Byrd (D-Va), a foe of any tax cuts at this time, estimated the Anderson proposal would cost the Treasury 850 million dollars in revenue. But Anderson said the revenue loss would total between 400 and 500 millions.

On the vote rejecting the Douglas amendment, Douglas was supported by only 11 Democrats and two Republicans, Senators Potter of Michigan and Langer of North Dakota.

In the House, meanwhile, Rep. Simpson (R-Pa), a member of the taxwriting Ways and Means Committee, introduced a bill to cut taxes on personal and corporation income and to trim sharply excise levies on such items as new cars, TV sets and personal transportation. The Simpson bill would bring tax reductions totaling about $6,400,000,000.

Wilson Declares Hard Work Vital

"To repeat an old saying: 'The sun shines and the rain falls equally on the just and the unjust.' It is well to remember also that machines have no party line, and with equal care operate for their masters independently of the purpose or intent of their owners.

"Our civilization has advanced to a point where none of us can be self-sufficient. We are so dependent on one another for our very means of existence that we must have stable societies, communities and nations so that we can live peacefully and happily together. While I do not want to de-emphasize the importance of science, I do have the feeling that we are not placing enough value and importance on ethics, philosophy, religion and the humanities.

"Our nation and the free world must maintain great military strength as compared with Russia, to avoid a disastrous and suicidal war, we must not forget that the Communist challenge is economic and political or social as well as military. We cannot depend on arms, and arms alone, as the basis of peace abroad and freedom at home.

Largely due to our national policies and our strong defense, there is reason to believe that the rise of communism may have reached and passed its peak. Millions and millions of people throughout the world realize that international communism is not the path to security, social justice, or happiness for individuals, nor the road to independence, prosperity and peace for any nation. Communism may be an improvement over serfdom, but it does not fulfill the age old desire of men to be free.

"I am not one that looks wistfully to the past. I would not recommend that we turn the clock back even if we could. I would like to make sound progress from where we are. Never have so few promised so MUCH to so many leaving it up to future generations to make good. And if we adhere to the principles that made our country great a surprising number of these promises will be fulfilled. But, if we try to place ignorance and intelligence on the same basis and try to reward laziness and industry equally, we will not make good on any of our plans to improve the welfare of all."

Ike and Macmillan Will Meet in June

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower and Prime Minister Macmillan will meet here in June to coordinate U.S.-British planning for a summit conference with the Soviet Union.

The White House announced the meeting will be held June 9-10. By that time the issue of whether to hold a summit conference will very likely be settled, officials believe, and most of them say privately they are sure there will be a conference.

Consumers Co. Strike Settled

Utility Workers Win 11- to 12-Cent Pay Hike —Return to Jobs

Consumers Power Co. officials in Pontiac reported business back to normal today following settlement last night of the eight-day strike of 5,400 company maintenance, construction workers and linemen in 64 Michigan counties.

An agreement was reached between company officials and leaders of the Utility Workers of America union in Jackson.

Close to 200 workers in Pontiac and Oakland County walked out March 6 when negotiations broke down.

The men here and throughout the state returned to work at 8 a.m. today. The new agreement will cover a two-year period.

Spokesmen for the state and federal mediation services said provision is made in the agreement for a five per cent wage increase the first year, an average of 12 cents an hour, and an increase of 11 cents the second year.

The union had asked a 25-cent-an-hour hike. The company had offered seven cents.

Sewer Line Trouble Closes City School

Students at the new Louisa May Alcott Elementary School, 460 W. Kennett Rd., were dismissed this morning before classes started, due to sewer line trouble.

According to Dr. Otto Hufziger, assistant superintendent, the school's sewer line was crushed by a tractor which was doing some filling and grading work for the city.

Repair work on the line is under way and school will resume Monday, he said.

Seeks to Lease Pontiac General

Financing Critic Wants Hospital Run Profitably as Public Service

A critic of Pontiac General Hospital finances, Paul A. Kern Jr., has offered to lease the institution for the next 49 years and run it profitably as a public service.

Kern made the offer in a letter to the City Commission in behalf of the Pontiac real estate firm of which he is manager.

He asked commissioners for immediate action on his proposal. Otherwise, he said, "we would like to see this matter discussed and debated during the coming elections."

Kern, who opposed two unsuccessful bond issues proposed last year to complete the $4,500,000 hospital addition, claimed his group could run the hospital as a private institution and keep it out of the red, even though paying out of its profits the following:

The principal and interest on the 30-year $3 million 1952 bond issue for the addition. This has 28 more years to run;

The $950,000 which the city has promised to give the hospital to equip the addition. The first $317,000 has already been delivered; and

At present, the city pays the principal on the hospital bonds and the hospital the interest.

Despite these additional financial burdens, Kern claimed with an average 75 per cent occupancy of the hospital beds his group could keep hospital rates comparable to those in effect at present, while at the same time "improving services and eliminating political controversy" over the hospital's management.

Commissioners received the proposal skeptically. City Attorney William Ewart said if the proposal were to be considered "seriously," it would present "numerous legal problems," including a public vote of approval.

Last year's hospital deficit was $71,000.

Prosecutor to Seek Re-Election in Fall

Frederick C. Ziem, Oakland County prosecutor since 1952, today became the first county official to announce he would seek re-election this fall.

Ziem, 41, of 74 Mohawk Rd., will be seeking his fourth term as prosecutor on the Republican ticket.

He joined the prosecutor's office in 1947 as an assistant prosecutor. He was made chief assistant in 1950.

WIDOWS

Are you a widow or widower? Did your husband or wife die during 1954 or 1955? If so—and certain conditions are met—the tax may be computed as if a joint return had been filed.

The conditions to be met are: (1) You must not have remarried. (2) You must maintain your home as the principal place of abode for a child or stepchild for whom you are entitled to an exemption. (3) You must have been entitled to file a joint return with th the deceased spouse in the year of death.

If the foregoing conditions are met, compute the income, exemptions, and deductions in the regular manner and take advantage of the tax rates for married people.

Lenten Meditations

By ROBERT L. DIEFFENBACKER, D.D.

Much of the recent advertising which is displayed on television, on billboards, and elsewhere has been displayed with a bright smile.

Many of the scripts are read with a lilt of happiness and uplift.

This smile on the face, in the voice, and in the heart of the actor sells products or it would not be used so widely.

If this is true in selling soap, food and automobiles, perhaps it could be used to promote our interest in religion.

After all, God is more satisfying to men than the products of industry.

Those of us who are happy in our fellowship with God ought to wear smiles of satisfaction as real as God.

Our lives ought to glow with God's shining presence. Our eyes should encourage others to seek the inner love and power which have found their way into our existence.

The Day in Birmingham

Parks Work Crews Busy Preparing for Springtime

BIRMINGHAM — Parks maintenance crews this week shifted from winter to spring and summer duties.

The artificial rink at Eton Park has been closed after what Parks Superintendent Charles Gale described as a successful season. He pointed out that more effort was made last winter to maintain natural ice rinks, including Quarton Lake, and that in spite of this Eton's attendance was higher than in the previous year.

Crews are at work at Springdale Park getting the city-owned golf course ready for an expected April 15 opening, Gale said. The overall park plan for the summer includes improvement of facilities, particularly those used for scouting activities.

The cabin at Springdale will get a complete overhauling and again will be available for overnight trips.

Other park areas will be provided for scout cookouts, including the section near the high school. Gale said permission for the use of the parks for these activities should be obtained from his office.

The theft of two boats from Forest Lake last summer was solved yesterday, according to Bloomfield Hills police.

Two teenagers admitted taking the boats, Capt. Walter Sluiter said. Myron J. Molotky, 18, of 885 Bloomcrest Dr., Birmingham, and William H. Laughlin, 17, of 1393 Club Dr., Pontiac, said they had returned one of the boats and sold the other to a Hamtramck man who took it to Canada.

Sluiter said the man was contacted and that he said he would return the boat to its owner.

The youths admitted the theft after they had been picked up for routine questioning. They were turned over to Bloomfield Township Police in whose jurisdiction the theft occurred.

Birmingham High School Civics class students will take over the reins of city government when the annual Civic Control Day is observed April 28.

Members of the class will be elected and appointed to fill the various city offices as part of their training in municipal government.

Parent-Teachers' organizations of Bloomfield Hills schools will hold a combined meeting in the Bloomfield High School auditorium at 8 p.m. Wednesday.

Mrs. William McGaughey will give a report on the activities of the recently formed Citizen's School Advisory Committee.

Another feature of the program will be a panel discussion by members of the Board of Education on their duties in the school system.

Lee O. Moses

Masonic service for Lee O. Moses, 55, of 1336 Ruffner St., Birmingham, will be held at the First Presbyterian Church at 1 p.m. Monday. Officiating will be Dr. W. Glen Harris with burial in White Chapel Cemetery.

Mr. Moses died yesterday at William Beaumont Hospital, Royal Oak, after a short illness.

The body will be at the Manley Bailey Funeral Home until time of service.

A native of Alabama and a graduate of the Kansas City Business College, Mr. Moses had lived in Birmingham since 1936. He retired in 1952 after being employed for several years with General Motors Truck and Coach Division, Pontiac.

Mr. Moses was a member of Birmingham Masonic Lodge 44; Birmingham Chapter 220, Order of the Eastern Star; Birmingham Chapter 93, Royal Arch Masons; and was a 32nd degree Mason of Scottish Rite Bodies of Detroit.

Surviving are his wife, Gladys; three daughters, Mrs. Beth Edwards of Birmingham; Mrs. Lee Masters of Flint; and Mrs. Raymond Hoenicke of Royal Oak; a son, C. J. Moses of Elida, Ohio; a sister, Mrs. J. C. Lindsey and a brother, B. J. Moses, both of Ada, Okla.

Dulles Confers With Chiang

Secretary in Formosa Opens Parley of Envoys to Far Eastern Nations

Dulles flew to Formosa for a 12-hour stay on the way back to Washington from the Manila SEATO meeting. He is scheduled to take off for home just after midnight.

Before the first of two meetings with Chiang, Dulles issued a statement saying Nationalist China "is a major and indispensible part of the free world defense partnership against Communist expansion.

The four - day ambassador's meeting is planned as the first of annual conferences by top American diplomats in the area. It is being held in private under the direction of Walter S. Robertson, assistant secretary of state for Far Eastern affairs.

The Indonesian civil war and Communist economic and subversive drives against Southeast Asian nations, major topics at Manila, were expected to be the prime subjects at the ambasador's meeting also.

Driver's Licenses of 21 Suspended or Revoked

The Michigan secretary of state's office reports 21 Oakland County residents have had their driver's licenses suspended or revoked recently.

Dorothy M. Askews, Birmingham
Roger C. Carlson, Farmington
Kenneth F. Evans, Walled Lake
Joe Gallardo, 26 W. Kennett
Richard L. Gibson, 244 W. Longfellow
John B. Fesler Jr., Walled Lake
Earl R. Johnson, Milford
James E. McGaughey, Waterford
Nishon Mooradian, Birmingham
Kathleen M. Lane, 1475 Collier
Perry E. Myers, 103 E. Huron
Charles F. Patten, Walled Lake
John Robinson, 397 South Blvd.
Willie N. Robinson, 380 Howland

Ordered to furnish financial responsibility for unsatisfied judgments were Bernard B. Donnell, 2819 Leach, and Clinton Ferguson, Wixom.

Returned Pilot Credits Faith in God, Country

BUCHANAN, Mich. (AP)—Lt. Col. Howard McClellan, at home in this southwest Michigan town with his wife and six children, says "faith in my government and in my God" pulled him through an 18-day imprisonment in North Korea.

"Without that faith," he said, "I'd really have been lost."

McClellan, a career Air Force officer with 17 years service behind him, arrived home Wednesday night. He was copilot of an airliner that was hijacked by North Korean agents last month.

The 39-year-old colonel said he would leave for Washington Sunday with his wife to "probably make a report on the Korean incident and be reassigned."

They're Dying for Alma Mater

Flaming Tresses Cheer Victories

HARBOR SPRINGS (AP) — Eight new blondes showed up today among junior girls at Harbor Springs High School and the seniors were looking forward hopefully for five seniors to show up with orange and black tresses Monday.

Principal William Walker, who underwent a brush haircut to celebrate a district championship, was greeted today by the blondes—who dyed for their basketball team's regional tournament victory over Gaylord last night. The score was 61-48.

Besides Walker, five men teachers sported brush cuts to celebrate tournament victories. And mingled among the brush were four flaming redheads—of women teachers who dyed in celebration after Harbor Springs won its district crown.

If Harbor Springs whips Traverse City St. Francis and wins the regional championship at Petoskey tomorrow night, five senior girls have vowed to dye their hair orange and black—the school's colors—and wear the beauy jobs to the state finals at East Lansing.

Things, however, weren't nearly as exciting last night after the triumph over Gaylord as they were Saturday night after Harbor Springs whipped Boyne City, 56-41, for the district championship.

Then there was dancing in the streets of this resort city of 1,625 on the shore of Little Traverse Bay. Someone recalled the man teachers had promised to get brush hair-dos if the team won. Four got 'em early Sunday. Principal Walker got his, willingly, at school assembly Monday.

Four women teachers got into the celebration madness by spraying their hair red and vowed to keep it that way "until the team wins the state championship." But they added in a low voice, "or until it is knocked out."

Things were pretty much normal last night. Walker said he'd heard some reports, though, "of some folks saving up for Saturday night."

Happy horn tooting echoed across the bay as the Harbor Springs motor caravan wound its way 12 miles home. The caravan disbanded upon arrival, and a policeman told newsmen today: "We were able to roll in the sidewalks by 11 o'clock."

Typhoons sometimes extend for up to 500 miles in width.

Burglars Take $873 From Waterford Bar

A total of $873.54 was taken in a burglary of the Dixie Bar, 2592 Dixie Highway, Waterford Township, yesterday, State Police at the Pontiac Post reported this morning.

Detectives investigating the breakin are probing the failure of a burglar alarm system to work. The thief entered by breaking a window on the front door, they said.

Taken from a large metal cash box in a cooler was $565, while $308.54 was taken from a smaller box.

State to Take Bids on Widening M15

Bids will be taken in Lansing April 2 on a widening and resurfacing project of a small portion of M15 just past the M15 and U.S.10 intersection near Clarkston.

State Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie said the project, three-tenths of a mile in length, will widen this intersection from anywhere from three to 12 feet. Curb and gutters will be included in the job, expected to be completed Sept. 30.

Switch Paid Holiday for City Employes

This will be the last year Pontiac city employes get Veterans Day (Nov. 11) off as a paid holiday.

Granting a request from the Pontiac Municipal Employes Assn., city commissioners voted last night to give them Washington's Birthday (Feb. 22) off instead, beginning next year.

The employes had complained too many of their seven paid holidays a year came in the second half of the calendar year, and not enough in the first half.

Saves Bill to Check Fraudulent Petitions

A House-approved bill to provide a check for fraudulent petitions submitted by candidates for public office was saved from immediate defeat yesterday by State Sen. L. Harvey Lodge (R-Drayton Plains).

Authorization would be given to city, county or township clerks to examine petition signatures for their validity under the bill.

Sen. Donald E. Smith (R-Owosso), who was joined by other critics of the bill, contended the bill was "useless" in that last analysis of these signatures would have to be in circuit courts.

But the Senate agreed to hold the bill on the calendar after Lodge said "cheating" candidates, who know their petitions are padded with fraudulent names, often can be chased off the ballot by a diligent county clerk merely through threat of exposure.

Labor Secretary Says Depression Can't Happen

NEW YORK (AP)—The government is so geared that a depression such as we had in the 1930s can never happen again, says Secretary of Labor Mitchell.

Though we have more current unemployment "than we like to see," Mitchell said, "the nation is still enjoying a high level of prosperity."

More Economic Aid Requested by Asians

At the opening session of the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization (SEATO) in Manila, Secretary DULLES warned that in view of intensified propaganda charges the Communists may be plotting new aggression in Asia.

SEATO, set up in September, 1954, is composed of the original members —the Western democracies of United States, Great Britain and France; the British Commonwealth of Australia and New Zealand and the Asiatic Republics of the Philippines, Thailand and Pakistan. Members are committed to regard armed aggression against one as dangerous to all. Each agrees to act to meet this common danger in accord with its own constitutional procedures.

The United States, however, has restricted its commitment to apply to Communist aggression. SEATO has no unified military command, only a joint military consultative council.

While Secretary DULLES was addressing the conference, the Peiping radio loosed a blast against SEATO accusing it of being an "aggressive bloc" and the United States of interfering in the Indonesian civil war. "Communism would prefer to take us over without a fight," said the Secretary, "and if we are prepared to resist, that, according to Communism, makes us a warmonger."

Mr. DULLES' warning touched off by President GARCIA of the Philippines requests for more economic aid to Asia. Thailand and Pakistan delegates joined in the appeal. Opposition is expected from Western members, particularly the U.S. and Britain, which would have to furnish most of the money. No doubt compromises will be reached.

SEATO, with the small forces at its command, couldn't be considered militarily aggressive except for Red propaganda purposes. What Asia needs is more economic aid for better medical care, food, education and agricultural improvements—all good defenses against Communism.

Michigan's Future in Minerals

This newspaper has always been especially interested in the problems of the Upper Peninsula. We are, therefore impressed by the following which comes from the Escanaba Press.

Michigan College of Mining and Technology at Houghton is the State's official mineral research facility. The State spent $750,000 there on a minerals laboratory, brought it to point of near-completion and then denied it necessary equipment last year.

The annual value of mineral products in Michigan is $435 millions. The state in the fiscal year 1957-58 appropriated for mineral research at Michigan Tech only $89,000.

It is spending millions on research and related aid to the agricultural industry, which has products valued at $1,200 millions yearly.

Minnesota, which in 1957 celebrated its 50th year of iron ore refinement is far ahead of Michigan in its program of state ores research. This advance has resulted in the investment of more than $600 millions of private capital in Minnesota plants to process low grade iron ore called taconite.

Although Michigan has huge deposits of a low grade iron ore called jasper, only a relative start has been made in commercial beneficiation of these deposits.

Some of the big mining companies which own mineral lands in Michigan are not mining them today, although they're active in Minnesota's taconite boom.

Michigan's jasper ores are easier to grind, are somewhat higher in iron content and are closer to the steel mills than Minnesota's magnetic taconites.

Research to develop commercial processes for refining jasper has lagged. Michigan Tech asked the State Legislature for $267,000 for mineral research for the coming year. The Governor's office recommended only $139,000.

Unless the Legislature restores the larger amount, Michigan will lose one more year in the race to keep its iron markets and to generally bolster its mineral industries.

The Man About Town

Original Source of Revenue Now in Line for a Renewal

Irritating: Anybody with less intelligence or more sense than us.

The first product of the Pontiac area was timber. Our primeval forests were our greatest known resource. They were lumbered off or burned away on their site to make room for agriculture.

While timber is a slow growing crop, in the 140 years since the white man came, two or three crops of trees have been harvested from the same lands, largely being the slow growing oaks.

Now a new situation arises. Our so called "rough land" has been planted to trees, and in many cases is yielding a better crop than the first one.

After watching this development and tree cutting for over a half century, and being mixed up with it here and elsewhere most of that time, tells me that, with proper planting, we can harvest a new cutting about every 25 years. And the financial return is often greater than the total net results would be from the cultivation of the same land over the same period.

In 25 years even an oak will grow large enough to make railroad ties. Other varieties of trees grow much faster. Some of the fir trees reach Christmas tree size in half that time.

Over parking is not a product of the automobile age. From The Pontiac Press of Jan. 31, 1902, I learn that a Waterford man paid a $5 fine in a Pontiac court for leaving his horse tied to a post on Saginaw St. for ten hours on a near zero day.

When I'm somewhat mixed by the contradictory statements from others about what was happening in Pontiac around the turn of the century, I'm always put at ease by talking to

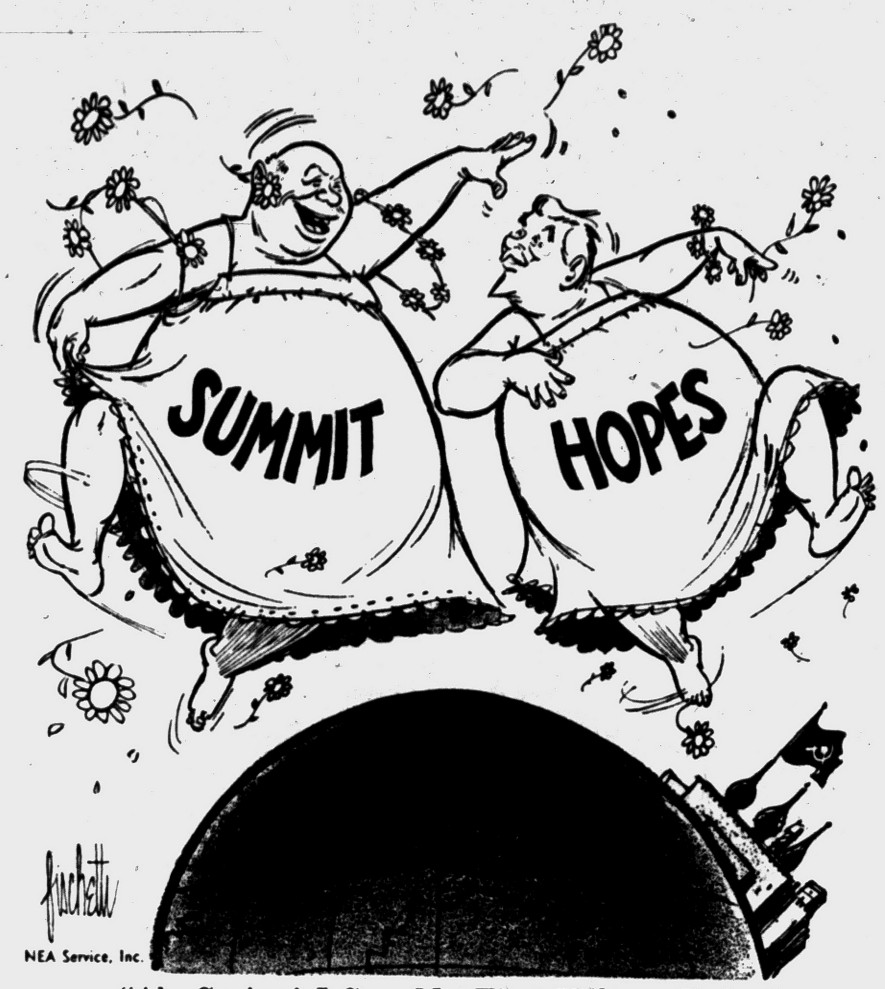
MEMBER OF AUDIT BUREAU OF CIRCULATIONS



"Ah, Spring! I Saw My First Vulture Today"

'Remedies' Worse Than Recession?

WASHINGTON — There's an old saying that "the remedy could be worse than the disease," and that's what might happen if all or even some of the various anti-recession measures being proposed in Congress were put into effect.

LAWRENCE

Senator Harry Byrd, Democrat, of Virginia, chairman of the Senate finance Committee, gives an inkling of what might occur when he says that if two pending bills, each providing $5 billion or more in tax reduction, are adopted, this might throw the Federal treasury $10 to $15 billion into the red.

There are about 5,200,000 persons now out of work but, if America embarks on what could result in a runaway inflation, the eventual "bust" could bring about an unemployment many times that figure.

The Eisenhower administration is not allowing itself to be stampeded by pressure for tax reduction and, when it comes up with a plan, it will be one that takes into account the long-range as well as the short-range aspects.

The government would surely face a serious situation from a fiscal point of view if, without waiting to get a clear picture of just what has been happening in the national economy, it interjected an unbalancing factor in the way of a sharp reduction in tax receipts.

The psychological effect, in other words, of a deficit of $10 to $15 billion migh tend to bring such a pessimistic outlook for the long-range future as to discourage the very sentiment needed now for business recovery. The stock market would be one of the first institutions to reflect the coming of an inflationary spiral.

For if the 50-cent dollar of today were to be headed down toward a 25-cent value in the next few years, obviously prices of stocks would tend to rise commensurately. This would be an artificial upsurge that could in the end bring on a smash.

It is no surprise, therefore, that words of caution came from Secretary of the Treasury Anderson Wednesday after his conference with President Eisenhower and his economic advisers.

There is need, of course, for tax revision, but it should be undertaken on a gradually changing rate basis and not just as a means of distributing purchasing power to individuals. It should include a method of stimulating the heavy-goods industries so that manufacturing corporations can begin to plan for new equipment and plants.

If it were merely a case of giving cash to the public generally, it would cost far less to aid certain distressed areas on a local basis. For most of the tax proposals would give a tax reduction to those who already have jobs and savings enough to continue a high velocity of purchasing.

The unemployed, on the other hand, would not benefit by a tax reduction to individuals. Business itself would have to be encouraged somehow by corporate-tax reductions to create more employment. This would have an impact on industrial conditions generally.

There are signs that retail lales have held fairly well throughout the country. The Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago, in its latest report, says the decline in employment is basically due to inventory reductions and decreases in durable goods as well as defense hardware.

These factors can be helped by the unspectacular steps already taken in the Defense Department and in purchases which were authorized for the government to make, but were delayed during the "economy" wave of last year.

The present recession wasn't "planned," as some Democratic senators are saying, but it is in part the direct result of the drive made early last year by some of the same Democrats to curtail defense appropriations. A change came when the first soviet "Sputnik" was launched late in 1957.

The biggest economizers of last year in Congress are among those who would spend extravagantly this year and also would deprive the treasury of billions of tax revenue. If politicians instead of economists are heeded, the "remedy" indeed may prove worse than the disease.

(Copyright, 1958)

Dr. William Brady Says:

Smokers' Ailments Due to Asphyxia, Not Nicotine

Asphyxia means literally absence of throb or pulse. The usual significance of the word is unconsciousness due to suffocation or to anything that interferes with the constant supply of oxygen to cells, tissues and organs.

DR. BRADY

When the supply of oxygen is interrupted or reduced in quantity, we call the condition anoxia, deficiency or lack of oxygen in the tissue cells.

Deficiency or lack of oxygen in the fluid tissue, the blood, is anoxemia.

Carbon monoxide, C-O, colorless, odorless, tasteless, non-irritant gas, kills not by poisoning but attaching itself to the hemoglobin in the red corpuscles and so preventing the hemoglobin from carrying oxygen to the cells and tissues.

Heart cells and brain cells die if their oxygen supply is interrupted even briefly. The functional efficiency of other cells may be impaired for quite a while or permanently by a brief interruption of their constant supply of oxygen.

For many years I have surmised that the pathological effects of intemperate smoking are due to slow asphyxia, chronic C-O anoxia, and that nicotine has nothing to do with it.

If nicotine were anywhere near as poisonous as the old timers imagined, a person should drop dead shortly after taking a chew of tobacco. The old timers solemnly tell us that a man-sized chew of tobacco contains from a dangerous to a lethal quantity of nicotine.

Now there are some highly questionable statements in medical literature about the poisonous character of tobacco and nicotine. I'll comment on these bald assertions in a later column.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

"Many times in the past year I have had an irritating little vesicle on the side of the throat in front of tonsil, or sometimes on the edge of tongue. (Mrs. E. M.)"

Answer — Sounds like canker sores (apthous stomatitis). Good daily ration of nicotinic acid to supplement diet, preferably taken in the natural vitamin B complex has corrected the trouble in some cases. As treatment for the sores apply equal parts tincture iodine and glycerin on bit of cotton wrapped on toothpick, once daily, and use boric acid solution (teaspoonful in pint of boiled water) as mouthwash, agreeably warm, many times daily.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Suggests Tax Deduction That Would Provide Jobs

If we must have a tax cut, let's have one that will put people to work. Instead of increasing the personal deduction, why not give a tax deduction to anyone who pays wages or salaries?

The self-employed individual may already deduct labor before he enters his net income on page one. The rest of us must muddle along do-it-ourselves whether we can drive a nail straight or not.

'We Should Worry About Our Own'

Why should we be so concerned with Nathan Leopold's parole, when some murderers in Michigan aren't even in prison? There seem to be more parolees in Michigan than any other state, not only for murder but everything else, and I read every day that people here have as many as 20 violations against them. What kind of business is this, anyway? I'm still for capital punishment, at least it would save the taxpayer some money. Or would it?

Asks School Buses to Return Courtesy

About three weeks ago I read about a law for traffic to stop both ways for school buses. We should have such a law.

I'm very much in favor of safety for our children, but when school buses stop to unload children or pick them up, the driver of that bus should stay on the shoulder and let all traffic behind him go by. Buses stop every two or three blocks. They will pull off the highway and as soon as children are on or off, the bus immediately pulls back on the highway, showing no courtesy whatsoever.

I know of this situation because I drive from Rochester to White Lake six days a week. I show a lot of courtesy for our children. Why not have the school bus return such a favor to the public?

Gives Information to Help Doctor

An added bit of information could prove interesting regarding the recent story covering the suit being instigated by Dr. Brown of this village. After he was taken to the Sheriff's office, he immediately asked for a blood test for alcohol, and this test proved conclusively that there was no alcohol present in his system. This should prove that his "snooze" was not from "booze," but from overwork, which I know was the case.

Minister Answers Press Editorial

Few of us like to think we're vindictive, but in fact most of us are. Your March 8 editorial concerning the Leopold parole was the most vindictive set of statements I've seen in print so far this year.

The spirit of "get even," of "make an example of him" seemed to drip from the usually excellent editorial page and called to mind the blood dripping from One who was crucified by the same spirit.

For 1900 years men of good will have sought to bring about rehabilitation as the goal of criminal justice, rather than the vindictive and futile "life for a life." I thank God that there are a number of Americans and American parole boards who are no longer guided by pagan vengeance.

"Maybe my friends don't realize that, for I try to cover up the fact and they have told me they think I am dictatorial and opinionated.

"But eligible young women scare me, although I'd like to be popular and ultimately fall in love and marry.

"What can I do to get over my self-consciousness and feel at ease around the opposite sex?"

"YOU" vs. "ME"

Many "only" children, as Harry has been, lack a lifelong contact with girls, so they don't understand the female sex.

And the same thing is often true of an only girl, who has no brothers and who has spent her time at a girls' boarding school and a women's college.

So such men and women, even after they have won college diplomas and may have graduated "summa cum laude," still feel socially nervous and uncertain when in company of a member of the opposite sex.

One of the quickest ways to get on a casual, friendly plane, is to analyze your companion quickly for a virtue or merit and then phrase a compliment thereon.

Meanwhile, Harry should try to keep the emphasis on "her" instead of "me."

This is peacock stuff, but it is so commonplace that it constitutes one of the greatest causes for failure to win friends and sweethearts.

PEACOCK BEHAVIOR

"When I get a date with Tom," said one of my Northwestern coeds at Evanston, "he spends the whole evening telling about his exploits on the football field.

"Why, nobody else ever gets a chance to say a word! He is the most conceited boy I have ever met!"

Actually, Tom was fond of this coed, but he didn't know how to carry on a conversation or place the stress on "her" instead of himself.

"I can't stand that girl," said one of my men students at Northwestern, "for she talks about nothing else than herself and her trips to Europe and her father's high salary and ritzy cars, etc."

Well, this girl talked about such things, vaguely hoping they would impress her escort with her importance.

And the reason she wanted to appear more important was the fact she hoped he would ask her for a second date.

Subconsciously, young people absorb the old adage that we like to number distinguished people among our friends.

"If I can appear important," this coed thus subconsciously reasoned,

"then he will want me for his friend."

Alas, this adage backfires because there is another and stronger axiom of psychology which says:

"I'm far more interested in ME than in YOU, so please talk about ME and in complimentary terms!"

You can win friends galore by that strategy, but college people muff it every day. Maybe it is too simple for them to comprehend!

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Seymour Topping Writing for Hal Boyle:

Army to Bid Farewell to Last Cavalry Unit

BERLIN (AP)—The U. S. Army is bidding farewell to horses—and saying it 110 miles behind the Iron Curtain.

The bugle call of "Boots and Saddles" probably will sound for the last time on active service at a farewell parade March 28 for the Berlin command's military police horse platoon.

Four days later the horse platoon, 287th Military Police Co.—the last mounted unit in the U. S. Army—will be deactivated.

The platoon was supposed to patrol the Grunewald Forest border along the Soviet zone. It was also trained to break up Communist-organized mobs, but it never saw any more violent action than the annual horse shows.

The platoon commander, Lt. Jeff G. Roberts, 23, of Reidsville, N. C., sighed: "No, we never caught any Russians on our border patrols. About the only thing we ever caught were two Boy Scouts, stopped from climbing the fence into the Russian zone."

The platoon has 31 horses, most coming from a Hungarian cavalry group captured in World War II by an American airborne unit. Although the horses bear names like "Texas," there is only one real American mount. He is Reno Rake, a veteran of the 1950 Olympics.

Most of the animals will be transferred to the Army's recreational program, for the off-duty enjoyment of equestrian-minded GIs. The Army hasn't decided what to do with the rest.

Army officers said young Jeff Roberts, perhaps remembering his distinguished Southern predecessor, Confederate Gen. J. E. B. Stuart, never gave up hope his platoon would prove its mettle in action. His troopers learned how to sharpshoot with their carbines and pistols and to swing hard with three-foot weighted clubs.

Roberts kept in his office a sign which said: "Jump fearlessly, throw your heart over the fence and your horse will follow."

Charge Youths Stole Live Jaguar on Dare

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Misdemeanor charges were lodged yesterday against two youths who allegedly stole a live jaguar on a dare.

They were identified as Gene Cannington and Edward Short, both 18. John Ruff, their lawyer, gave this account of the escapade:

While visiting a wildlife farm a few days ago the boys dared each other to reach into the tropical wild cat's cage. The dare fell flat then, but after dark the two returned to the cage. Cannington reached in and grabbed the jaguar then found it was inadvisable to let go. So he held on.

The boys put the jungle cat in a cage near their homes. Sheriff's deputies returned the animal to the wildlife farm.

Perfect Record Upset by Occasional Storm

ST. LOUIS (AP)— Weatherman George Brancato told the Optimist Club he made almost perfect forecasts and yet failed to predict the two biggest snowstorms of the winter in St. Louis.

He had forecast rain in both cases but the temperature turned two or three degrees colder than he had figured, he said. The result was 11 inches of snow one time and 9 inches the other.

Brancato made his talk only a few hours after predicting 3 to 6 inches of snow. It never arrived.

Trying to Determine Why Jet Exploded

TULSA, Okla. (AP)—An Air Force investigation team today was to try to determine the cause of a B47 jet in-flight explosion that killed the pilot and injured two other officers.

The wreckage of the bomber fell over an eight-square-mile area in a residential section, narrowly missing occupied homes.

None of the residents were injured and property damage was slight.

The Air Force identified the dead pilot as Lt. William T. Booy, 27, Kansas City, Mo. He apparently was trapped in the nose section of the craft.

Injured were Capt. Albert J. Soen, 35, Wichita, Kan., an instructor-pilot, and Capt. John H. Gillick, 32, student pilot on temporary duty at McConnell Air Force Base, Wichita. Both men ejected before the craft disintegrated in flight.

Marrieds Shun Cells

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—More bachelors and spinsters spent time in the Albany County jail last year than did married folk. The 1957 report of the sheriff showed 1,970 men had been received either to await disposition of charges or to serve a term, and 1,286 of them were single. Of the 206 women taken in, 131 were single.

Scrub Brooklyn Bridge

NEW YORK (AP)—The towers on the Brooklyn Bridge have a "new" look—the same one they had when completed in 1875. Over the past 83 years the towers acquired a thick coat of black grime. A complete cleaning job has just been done and the towers are back in their original color, a pinkish tan.

Twelve cities built of stone and mortar were erected by Indians in the Chaco Canyon of New Mexico between 800 and 1200 A.D.

Bob Considine Says:

General Wants Posts Opened to U.S. Youths

PALM BEACH (INS) — Gen. Mark Clark, World War II military leader and now president of The Citadel, has presented a plan to President Eisenhower which would have far-reaching effect on American youth for generations to come.

Briefly, Clark has urged that the military installations of the U.S. be opened to groups of boys for two-week periods during the summer months. The towering, wafer-thin combat veteran, on a brief visit to his friend Nate Cummings at the Palm Beach Towers, outlined the plan in detail.

"This would be no attempt to form a Hitler Youth movement, or anything like it," he told us. "I wouldn't suggest that there be any drilling at all, though I'd like to see the boys rise and shine for reveille and be present when the flag comes down in the evening.

"The permanent military bases — Army camps, naval stations, Air Force bases — have facilities to house, feed and entertain tens of thousands of boys who would profit by such association. They all have swimming pools, baseball fields, gyms, libraries, theaters. The forces have a huge film library; films on the meaning of the Constitution, the Bill of Rights and scores of other subjects.

WITHOUT COST

"This can be done without any cost to the government. We've figured out that we can feed a boy for $1.61 a day. The only charges — sheets for his bunk, for instance—are incidental. It would be easy to raise the money through such agencies as the American Legion, the Veterans of Foreign Wars, the churches, Rotary and so forth.

"Selection of the boys wouldn't be difficult, either. The important thing, it seems to me, would be to see to it that the poor kids had the same opportunities as the well-to-do."

Clark has given the plan a dry run at the venerated military college he runs at Charleston, S.C. It worked beautifully.

Not all of this pleasant guy's friends share his infatuation with such art. Nate was explaining his latest acquisition to a puzzled pal the other night and when he finished the pal said:

"I beat my kid for doing something like that the other day."

It seats 707 playgoers on a single gracefully rising floor, and all the trickery of a thousand years of make-believe have been built into its wings.

The dressing rooms are equipped with closed-circuit TV which tells the star, for example, just what is happening on stage and how close her cue-time is. It's the first theater built in this country from the ground up in a generation.

Plans Missile Base at Duluth Airport

OMAHA (INS) — The Air Force revealed it will spend $5 million this summer on a missile launching base at the Duluth, Miss., Municipal Airport.

Col. James S. Caples, Air Force installations representative for the Missouri River region, declined to reveal the type of missile involved.

He did admit that the launching site would be equipped to handle "surface-to-surface" missiles, leading to speculation the Duluth facility may be used to launch the Air Force's sub-sonic air breather, "Snark."

Radar stations in England and Antarctica have revealed that auroras, a luminous phenomenon of various colors in the sky, occur simultaneously in the Northern and Southern hemispheres.

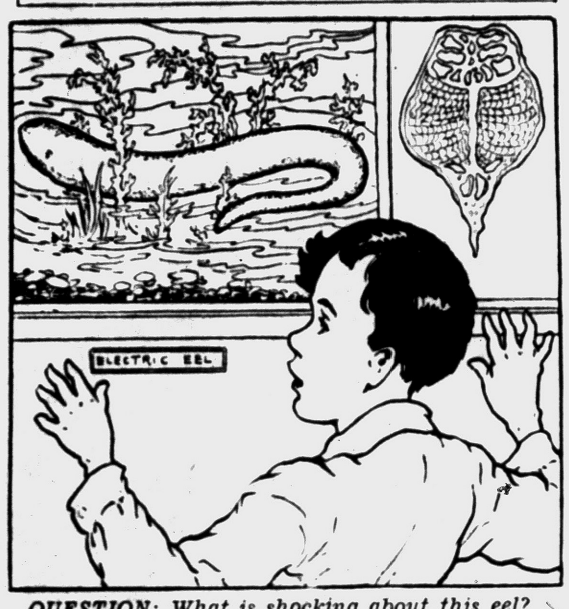
Junior Editors Quiz on NATURE



QUESTION: What is shocking about this eel?

ANSWER: This boy is watching an electric eel in an aquarium. If he put his hand into the water, he might be stunned by the powerful electric shock given off by the eel. Found in the shallow, muddy waters of the Amazon and Orinoco Rivers in South America, it produces electric shocks whenever it feels in danger. The shocks usually are about 200 or 300 volts, enough to stun a man or horse or light a neon lamp. Some electric eels have been known to discharge up to 800 volts.

Most of the electric eel's sense and locomotion organs are in the front of the body. The other four fifths consists of the organs which produce the electric current. The tissues of these organs are built in layers, like the plates in a battery. The drawing at the upper right is a cross section of this part of the electric eel's body. Scientists believe that certain swimming muscles in the electric eels' ancestors probably changed into the electric organs.

FOR YOU TO DO: You won't have a chance to own an electric eel, but did you ever keep goldfish? They make fine pets.

Area Girl Scouts in Foreign Show

Each of the thirteen area neighborhood groups, representing 87 troops in the district, will display costumes, present skits, demonstrations and exotic foods of foreign countries.

Arts and crafts have been made and collected from various homes in the township for the exhibit and songs and dances will be presented in the original language of the different countries, according to chairman Mrs. Richard Simpson.

Beginning at 1:30 p.m. there will be a flag ceremony when the girls will present a foreign flag, made by them, of the country that they have selected to represent.

OPEN HOUSE

All afternoon the CAI will have Open House to visitors, and girls dressed in the Scout costume of their foreign country will escort parents and friends through the building.

This project concludes a week of celebration honoring the Girl Scouts and all residents have been urged to attend the affair which will conclude at 4 p.m.

Foreign Students to Meet

ANN ARBOR (UP) — University of Michigan foreign students from 57 countries will meet Saturday at a "Campus United Nations Meeting" to discuss the Cyprus dispute. The program will be sponsored by the Michigan Union in cooperation with the International Students Assn.

As Best Chief Executives

He Boosts 'Non-Worriers'

LOS ANGELES (INS)—Dr. Ross T. McIntire, personal White House physician to the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt, said today that "non-worriers" make the best chief executives.

Still loyal to his former boss, he rated FDR highest in this category among the six presidents he has known "because he had a great power of decision—right or wrong."

He ranked President Eisenhower fourth.

McIntire defended President Eisenhower against critics of his golf playing. He said:

"A man must have a hobby to clear his mind for and from work. The relaxation Mr. Eisenhower gets makes him a better president."

McIntire, executive secretary of the International College of Surgeons, which is holding its 11th biennial convention in Los Angeles, said in an interview that the President who is likely to remain healthiest is the one who says:

"I've done my best—delegated my authority. Now it's out of my hands."

McIntire, a retired vice admiral, said that being a master politician saves a president a lot of ulcers. He said:

"A crack politician just throws off a lot of irritating things and doesn't go to bed with his worries because he knows he can handle any man."

He rated the presidents he has known as following:

—FDR: "A non-worrier who was a master politician."

—Harry Truman: "He didn't burn the candle at both ends, but he could make decisions."

Herbert Hoover: "He inherited a bad situation from Coolidge, knew it, and never stopped worrying about it. He took things too seriously but is a great statesman today."

—President Eisenhower: "He started off well, but his illness has thrown him off. I think he worries too much when things don't go well."

—Calvin Coolidge: "He didn't worry, but he didn't do anything."

—Warren Harding: "He delegated too much responsibility."

McIntire said that along non-worrying lines, an all-around lawyer probably has the best background for the chief executive's job because "he could take the bangs of criticism a little easier—that's his job every day."

He turned thumbs down on the executive type "because they tend to be worriers."

McIntire cited Sen. William F. Knowland, (R-Calif(as the type of man who could take the President's job in stride, saying:

"Knowland probably carries his work load as easily as any man I know. I'd be surprised to see him crack in any crisis."

Among world political leaders, McIntire said:

"Khrushchev impresses me as having tremendous reserve, but I don't know how long he can keep up that pace of moving around. Adenauer is amazing. But Churchill is still the greatest at assuming responsibility."

Policeman Kills 16-Year-Old Girl

He Stops Runaways; One Pulls Gun, Forcing Him to Shoot

TOPPENISH, Wash. (UP) — A rookie patrolman shot a 16-year-girl to death at a crowded bus station yesterday as she aimed a pistol at him.

She had ignored three demands to throw down her gun.

The girl and a companion, Janice Teel, also 16, of Pasco, Wash., had been stopped as runaways as they alighted from a bus.

Patrolman Richard Stevens, 33, told Police Chief Earl Phillips he had no recourse but to shoot the girl, whose gun posed a threat to the some 50 persons crowded into the small bus depot in this south central Washington city.

Phillips, Deputy Sheriff Harold Guthrie and Mr. and Mrs. Francis Callahan, operators of the bus depot, all commended Stevens, who joined the police force only 10 months ago.

Phillips said Stevens was "carrying out my orders and acting in defense of his own life."

Stevens said he had tried to get close to the girl, but failing that had "acted as any police officer would."

Stevens had been sent to the bus depot to intercept Sandra and Janice at the request of Franklin County officials.

He said he accosted them shortly after they got off the bus to stretch their legs. Suddenly, Stevens said, the Lingscheit girl turned her back.

When she turned around, he said, she was gripping a .22-caliber automatic pistol in one hand and fumbling with the safety catch with her other hand.

Three times Stevens ordered her to drop the weapon. When his last order went unheeded he drew his own gun and shot her.

Janice, untouched, told Prosecutor Ray Munson she and Sandra, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. M. Lingscheit, were on their way to Portland. Janice, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Teel of Reno, Nev., has been living with an aunt, Mrs. Ruth Sanduski, at Pasco, Wash.

The Teel girl said that many times she and Sandra had practiced with the gun, which she said had belonged to an uncle of Sandra's who was now dead.

They took the gun with them, she said, "to protect us."

Munson said an inquest would be held in the near future. Phillips ordered a complete investigation

Waterford Democrats Plan Social Evening

Failed to Give Him Heir to Throne

Shah of Iran Divorces Childless Wife

TEHRAN, Iran (AP)—The Shah of Iran today announced his divorce from beautiful young Queen Soraya because she failed to give him a son and heir to his throne.

The divorce followed weeks of negotiations with the childless, 26-year-old queen, deliberations within the Royal Council and long hours of soul-searching by Shah Mohammed Reza Pahlevi.

The 38-year-old monarch and his green-eyed wife had been a devoted, almost inseparable couple, but the Shah, as a court communique put it, "ignored his personal feelings for the sake of the nation's high-level interests."

The communique said the royal advisers had urged that the heir to the Iranian throne be a son of the Shah, rather than a brother as had been suggested, because of the country's great interest and to "avoid possible future unrest."

Court sources said there was no official hint of the ruler's next bride or whether the Shah would marry before making a trip to Japan, Formosa and the United States in May. Officials said he was downcast over the divorce and probably will not marry in the near future.

Soraya reportedly had refused to remain the Shah's wife if he took another spouse in an effort to get an heir. Moslem men are permitted four wives at one time, but Soraya is the daughter of a German woman, was educated in Europe and has many Western ideas.

The Shah has one daughter by his first wife, Princess Fawzia of Egypt, but women cannot succeed to Moslem thrones. The monarch divorced Fawzia in 1948 because she, too, apparently could not give him a son.

The communique put Soraya's divorce settlement at $134,000. She reportedly also will keep several million dollars worth of jewels the Shah bought for her during their seven years of marriage and will get a court pension to pay her living expenses.

The handsome shah married Soraya, whose name means "Star," Feb. 12, 1951. Since 1953 she has traveled to Switzerland several times, and the couple consulted New York doctors on a 1955 visit to the United States in hopes of ending their childlessness.

Early this year the Queen left for West Germany. A court envoy visited her, reportedly with the proposal for the Shah to take an additional wife. The communique made no mention of this, saying that Soraya had expressed herself ready "for any sacrifice in securing the future of the monarchy of Iran."

Another suggestion was for the Shah to name his brother Abdul Reza or his 9-year-old nephew Ali Patrik as crown prince. But the court advisers felt the throne, which the Shah's semiliterate, ex-Cossack father gained by force, would be safer if passed from father to son.

The divorce ended what had appeared to be one of the world's happier royal marriages. The queen had been widely credited with helping the Shah develop from a rather ineffectual young man with a fondness for sports cars and flying into a strong ruler who steered his country down a pro-Western path.

Group Endorses Knight, Mayor Blows His Top

SAN JOSE, Calif. (AP)—A subcommitte of the California Republican Assembly endorsed Gov. Goodwin Knight for the U. S. Senate, and Mayor George Christopher of San Francisco threatened to explode.

"If opponents persist in questioning my background and national ancestry, I assure you I'll have every good reason to explode," he said.

Knight and Christopher are running for the Republican nomination to succeed Sen. William F. Knowland, who is retiring from the Washington scene to run for governor.

The CRA is the campaigning unit of the party in California and its meeting is a sort of unofficial state convention. Candidates it endorses usually win the Republican nominations.

The mayor wasn't as irked by the Knight endorsement as he was by a pamphlet being circulated among delegates.

It carries the title "The Oddyssey of George Christopher." It calls him "Old Weathervane George" and says he registered as a Republican in 1930, as a Progressive in 1932, as a Democrat in 1936, and as a Republican again in 1948.

"I don't apologize for my politics or my religion," said Christopher, an Orthodox Greek.

He said the pamphlet is a slur on his Greek origin.

Newton Stearns, Knight's executive secretary on leave to manage his campaign in Southern California, said the pamphlet was put out by "a friend of the governor who thought it was funny."

"There's no racial discrimination against the mayor," he said. "He's an American citizen."

GM Plans Furloughs for 750 in Baltimore

BALTIMORE (AP) — The General Motors Corp. plans to furlough 750 workers at two plants here because of an excess of motor vehicles in the hands of dealers.

The layoffs will be effective March 31.

They would leave about 4,000 still on the job at the Fisher Body and Chevrolet plants.

M. J. Olsen, general manager of the Fisher Body plant, said yesterday 500 of the plant's 2,060 workers would be furloughed. He said these are mainly semi-skilled assembly line workers.

L. C. Fitzgerald, manager of the Chevrolet plant, said about 260 would be laid off there. Layoff plans have not been completed and he "hopes that the furlough will not be as drastic" as the number estimated today.

Both plants have been on full schedule since last October. Those with least seniority are to be laid off first. The remaining 4,000 will remain on a 40-hour week, GM said.

Says He Flung Son, Daughter Into River

'Threw Children In!'

WHEELING, W. Va. (AP) — A 33-year-old steelworker told authorities at nearby Wellsburg last night that he had thrown his two young children into the frigid Ohio River from a bridge in Wheeling.

After several hours questioning, the Brooke County Sheriff's office said it was convinced that the man, John Turner, 33, of Beech Bottom, near Wellsburg, was telling the truth.

A search of the river was begun immediately.

Wheeling police said they found foot and hand prints in fresh snow on the sidewalk and rail of the Fort Henry Bridge. They said some of the prints appeared to be those of children.

Deputy Sheriff Evan Rees said Turner was incoherent at first and sobbed deeply at times. He said Turner could give no reason for his action.

Rees quoted Turner as saying he and the children, Betty Marie, 7, and John Jr., 4, left their house about 10:30 last night to go to a store.

Instead, Turner said, he drove to Wheeling, about 20 miles north of Beech Bottom.

Turner said he threw the children into the river, then drove back to Wellsburg, walked into the Sheriff's office and told his story.

Gets Record Amount in Car Smashup Suit

DETROIT (AP) — A record $249,000 in damages has been awarded a Detroit man who was maimed in an accident that killed his wife and daughter and seriously injured his two sons.

The settlement, highest in Wayne County Circuit Court history, was reached between Edward Lootens, 43, and Consolidated Paper Co. of Monroe.

Lootens yesterday settled for $115,000 for injuries sustained by his son, Richard, 4, in the accident Aug. 12, 1954 near Detroit.

He previously had received $134,000 in the death of his wife Evelyn, his daughter Sandra, 5, and for injuries to himself and his other son Donald, 12.

Lootens lost his right leg in the accident.

To Honor NAACP Head

DETROIT (AP) — More than 300 city and state civic leaders will honor Edward M. Turner, president of the Detroit branch and Michigan conference of the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People, March 29 at a testimonial dinner.

Agree on Xway Plan

DETROIT (AP) — City councilmen agreed Thursday on a plan to join federal and state governments in financing 300 million dollars in new expressways. Detroit's share would be $6,300,000.

Troops Plan Scoutarama

WALLED LAKE—More than 200 Girl Scouts and Brownies in the Walled Lake area will participate in a Scoutarama Saturday.

Held in celebration of the 46th anniversary of the Girl Scouts, the event will take place from 2:30 to 9 p.m. at the Walled Lake Junior High School. The public is invited, free of charge.

Twenty-two troops, sponsored by the Glengary, Decker, Twin Beach, Walled Lake Elementary and Junior High Schools, and St. Matthew Lutheran, St. William and the Walled Lake Methodist Churches, will display their activities in booths and projects.

Talent shows will be presented by Scouts beginning at 4 p.m. and 8:30 p.m. The afternoon show will include dances, musical solos, tumbling acts, acrobats and a country song and dance group.

The evening show will feature a puppet show, "Beauty and the Beast," presented by Senior Troop 288 under the direction of Mrs. Harold Millspaugh.

Mrs. Aldred Watkins is general chairman of the Scoutarama. Assisting her are Mrs. Warren Goodrich, Mrs. Arnold Wilcox, Mrs. Frederick Yates and Mrs. John Cheyne.

Asks Decision on Annexation

City Forcing Showdown on Supermarket Land in Waterford

After 18 months delay, Pontiac will force a showdown on annexation of supermarket property at the northwest corner of Telegraph and Elizabeth Lake roads in Waterford Township.

This was indicated last night as City Commissioners informally agreed to a new policy of extending city sewage disposal service to outlying areas.

The new policy would not go into effect until a new sewage treatment plant is built in Pontiac to supplement the existing one, which is operating at capacity.

City Manager Walter K. Willman was authorized to negotiate with Waterford and Sylvan Lake on extending sewage service on the basis of metered rates to the two communities instead of to individual users.

Included in the package to be presented to Waterford, however, is the demand that the eight-acre shopping center site on which the supermarket lies be annexed to Pontiac.

The store is served by a Pontiac sewer line, but this service has been called illegal by the State Supreme Court on grounds that it violates a city - township agreement by overloading sewer lines.

Since September, 1956, the city has been asking the township to allow the parcel to be annexed or disconnect the sewer hookup. The township unwilling to allow annexation and lose valuable commercial taxes, has gained postponements while trying to figure out how to give the property sewage service itself.

It has yet to come up with an answer. The present deadline is May 1.

Commissioners did not get around to the question of what the new metered rates would be. Willman, however, has indicated the city could find itself making a profit by handling sewage for areas that do not have their own disposal facilities.

The city's past policy has been to provide municipal services only to those areas willing to be annexed.

Possible $25 Million More for State Roads

LANSING (AP) — Another 25 million dollars will be available to Michigan for highway construction this summer if Congress passes the Gore Bill, Gov. Williams said today.

The measure, sought by Sen. Gore (D-Tenn) would make some 900 million dollars available nationally for secondary road construction and repairs.

Williams said half of the money earmarked for Michigan would be an outright federal grant and the remainder would be charged against future sums allocated to the state.

This money would be in addition to some 11 million dollars in highway work moved up to this spring by the highway department to help relieve unemployment, Williams said.

Suffers Head Injuries in Downtown Collision

Mrs. Lucie Sorsky, 57, was treated at Pontiac General Hospital.

Your PTA Is Planning

Election Coming at Orion

ORION TOWNSHIP — The Lake Orion Community High School Parent-Teacher-Student Assn. will elect officers at its meeting March 24, at 8 p.m. Candidates were announced in advance because there hasn't been a regular PTSA meeting since the bylaws were approved in February.

The slate includes Morris Cucksey, president; Mrs. Harold Van Camp, parent vice president; Thomas Dodds, teacher vice president; Mary Jo Parker, student vice president; Mrs. I. J. Gouin, recording secretary; Geraldine Case, treasurer; Frances Borst, corresponding secretary; Ernest May, council delegate, and Barbara Collingsworth, historian.

Problem parents and problem teachers will be discussed in the open forum meeting following the election. High school students will select the topics this week.

The open discussion of controversial issues will not involve individuals, but will not dodge issues, the association said.

Avon Township

Mrs. Frank Gronski has been elected president of Stiles School PTA. Other officers named were Tom Galloway, father vice president; Mrs. Ann Rouguex, teacher vice president; Barnard Tompkins, secretary; Mrs. James Guy, treasurer; Mrs. Jack Goodchild, county delegate and Mrs. Paul Kivari, historian.

Oak Park Woman Wins Drama Award

OAK PARK—Mrs. Nance Bellefleur, a member of the Royal Oak Women's Club, was named winner of the Jean McIntyre Bruce Award for Drama at yesterday's Michigan State Federation of Women's Clubs awards luncheon in East Lansing.

Mrs. Bellefeur, of 24100 Sherman, a Pontiac Press correspondent in South Oakland County, took first place for her play, "International Flavor," which she wrote and produced at the Royal Oak Women's Club.

Dies as Car Hits Tree

ALBION (AP) — Wilbur B. Bates, 48, of Hillsdale, was killed Thursday night when his car was struck in the rear by another auto, ran out of control and struck a tree three miles south of Albion. The driver of the other car, Anthony Solis, 44, of Albion, was held for questioning. Neither Solis nor the two passengers in his car were injured. Bates was riding alone.

Two County School Publications Honored

Two Oakland County school publications were among the 20 Michigan school newspapers and magazines honored by the Columbia Scholastic Press Assn. for outstanding writing, make-up and all-round publication.

In the printed newspapers senior high school category, the Farmington High School Blue and White was awarded third place.

The Crane, published by Cranbrook School in Bloomfield Hills, won first place in competition with printed newspapers in the boys private secondary schools class.

Awards were made yesterday from more than 1,400 entries throughout the United States in the 34th annual contest.

Lantern Explosion Sets Waterford House Afire

A gasoline lantern exploded in the living room of a small Waterford Township home last night, causing an hour-long fire and an estimated $1,300 damage, firemen said.

Donald Ashby, who rents the cinder block dwelling at 5161 Oak Cliff Rd., said the explosion occurred as he was filling the lantern. Ashby was not injured.

MR. AND MRS. FOYD FALLS

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Fauss of 3491 N. Joslyn Ave. The bridegroom, of Rochester, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Roseo Falls of Brownville, Ala.

A gown of Chantilly lace and tulle, fashioned on princess lines, was the bride's choice for her wedding. The lace, re-embroidered with seed pearls and sequins, accented the Sabrina neckline and the skirt of the gown, which swept into a chapel train.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Mark Summers of Pontiac. Sharron Fauss, the bride's sister, was bridesmaid, and a cousin, Joan Lee Schaeffer, was the flower girl.

Following a honeymoon in Alabama and other southern states, the two will make their home at 2401 Opdyke Rd.

Seeking to Overhaul Forest Reserve Act

LANSING (AP)—The first overhaul of the Commercial Forest Reserve Act in 33 years headed today for the desk of Gov. Williams after getting final legislative approval.

The bill, calling generally for payment of higher specific tax and stumpage rates by timbermen, cleared the Senate yesterday on a vote of 27 to 1. Only Sen. Perry W. Greene (R-Grand Rapids) dissented.

Local governments in the state's forested areas, including school districts, will benefit from higher tax yields.

The bill was the product of an interim legislative study and agreement between state and local government officials and timbermen on adjusting rates upward.

Besides raising revenue yields, the bill would provide a new basis for distribution of them among townships, counties and school districts.

To Protect, Inform Township Taxpayers

Bloomfield Plans United Civic Group

This decision was one of several made at a meeting held Wednesday evening in the home of Arthur J. Picotte, 4019 Quarton Rd.

Plans were made to have each civic association in Bloomfield Township elect or appoint three members to a united association, according to Mrs. John Begovich, committee publicity chairman.

The united association's only interest would be to protect and inform taxpayers, Mrs. Begovich said.

Township taxpayers not represented by a civic association may contact Picotte at MI 6-8044 or Dorman B. Dickerson Jr. at MA 6-1339 if they wish to register with the united association.

Picotte and Dickerson were selected by the committee to investigate the township tax picture and to compare Bloomfield Township with other townships in terms of services received from property taxes.

The committee is circulating petitions to obtain names of taxpayers who want tax relief. Mrs. Begovich said that the petitions will be taken to state officials in Lansing.

Committee members will meet for a second time at 8 p.m. April 1 at the Picotte residence.

George Petzer, permanent chairman of the taxpayers committee, said today that Bloomfield Township taxpayers still have an opportunity to meet with the township Board of Review.

He said the board told him appointments may be made for Saturday, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday by contacting township officials at the Township Hall.

County Program Fights TB

Offers Free Chest X Ray

Mobile units will be located in five areas in Oakland County next week to give residents the opportunity to get their free chest X rays.

A yearly chest X ray to check for tuberculosis is recommended for adults over 18 years old, according to A. R. Musson, executive secretary of the Oakland County Tuberculosis Assn.

X-ray units will be located at Embree & Gregg Real Estate, Wednesday; Keego Hardware in Auburn Heights Thursday and Friday; National Food Store, Elizabeth Lake near Cass Lake roads, Waterford Township, Monday through Friday; the Avon Township Community Center, Brooklands, Monday through Wednesday; and the New Hudson School, New Hudson, Thursday and Friday.

The units will be open Monday and Thursday from 2 to 8 p.m.; Tuesday noon to 8 p.m.; and Wednesday and Friday, 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Wall Falls on Her Car

LOS ANGELES (UP)— Genevieve Stanhope found a buyer for her car and drove to a neighborhood bank for the ownership certificate. She parked in front of a building being demolished. While she was in the bank, a gust of wind blew a wall of the building onto her car. Miss Stanhope emerged to find it no longer salable.

Chinese New Year was on Feb. 18 this year. The Chinese calendar is based on the new moon, so the Chinese New Year is on a different date each year.

Season Opens 10 Days Ahead of Schedule

First Ship to Ply Great Lakes Tomorrow

WINDSOR, Ont. (UP) — The Great Lakes' navigation season is to open tomorrow — 10 days ahead of schedule.

Imperial Oil Company's newest tanker, the Imperial Quebec, is to leave its winter dock at Sarnia for Cleveland to start the season. First ship to sail the Lake St. Clair - Detroit River course last year left dock March 17.

Shipping authorities in Windsor, Sarnia and Detroit say other vessels will follow within a day or two. Full - scale shipping is expected to be under way by March 28.

Despite a heavy mid-February freeze on Lake St. Clair and parts of the Detroit river, floes made an early appearance because of recent mild temperatures.

C. I. Carpenter, chief warrant office of the U.S. Coast Guard at Belle Isle, said recent river surveys indicate the Imperial Quebec probably will be surrounded by foot-thick ice chunks while passing through Lake St. Clair. But the rest of the boyage should be comparatively ice-free.

"The heavy ice started to move through the Detroit River from the lakes about two weeks ago. By the middle of next week, only the straggly chunks which break away from shoreline inlets will be seen on the river. And that isn't enough to stop a tanker or freighter."

The Coast Guard cutter Acacia had no difficulty with ice from the Detroit River on a practice run last week from Detroit. But since then the heaviest of the ice jams have plugged the Detroit River across from Windsor, piling up to six feet high.

Crews started work on the Imperial Quebec early last week, preparing the ship for its maiden spring voyage. Other ships docked at Windsor will be staffed with skeleton crews by the end of this week.

Canada Steamship Lines here said the major floes are expected by foot-thick ice chunks while However, commercial fishermen in this area and on Lake Erie will continue to be battered in their small boats for another two weeks by small ice chunks.

Sons Will Wed on 4 Saturdays in Succession

CHRISTCHURCH, England (UP) — The four Vigor brothers, all sailing on different ships, reached home on leave yesterday and found they have arranged by chance to be married on four consecutive Saturdays.

Next Saturday—Edwin Vigor, 25, and Hazel Dance, 19.

March 29 — Raymond Vigor, 23, and Patricia Fear, 18.

April 5 — Aubrey Vigor, 21, and Pauline Collins, 19.

Said father William Vigor, "Four weddings in four weeks—its a real shaker." Said the boys' mother: "I think it's thrilling."

Three scientists — Drs. Irving Langmuir, Vincent J. Schaefer and Bernard Vonnegut—are credited with having started the first artificial snowstorm in the United States in 1946. They air-dropped dry ice on clouds over Mount Greylock, Mass.

New York Not for Children? Wrong Again

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK (INS) — They say that New York City is no place for the children. But "they"—as is often the case with them — are wong.

Maybe it would be wise to bring along a leash, to keep the kiddies from floating off on a cloud of ecstasy, but by all means do not leave the young ones at home when New York calls.

And these wonders—the curious museums, the historic landmarks, the beauteous parks, the eerie houses, the educational exhibits—rarely are crowded. New York children, having been brought up by engrossed New York parents, usually are as confined to their own little neighborhoods as Emily is to her backyard in Coshocton.

A "see it yourself" guide lists more than 100 admission-less attractions, which will probably come as something of a shock to New York visitors whose "beat" is Times Square, the Empire State and the Latin Quarter.

Included among unusual sights: a Brooklyn "children's museum," where exhibits are arranged at stunted eye-levels and electric trains controlled by push buttons can be operated by visitors; Capt. William Kidd House, overlooking East River, where the pirate was a prominent resident from 1690; the talking mail box, where one can hash over philatelic ideas with a postal drop; the New York Stock Exchange, where the youngsters can be shown first-hand why daddy is not always pleasant at dinner.

In the unlikely event that the visiting children run afoul of Washington Arch, or bump into the woodwork of 75½ Bedford street (the narrowest house in New York, formerly occupied by Edna St. Vincent Millay and Lionel Barrymore —at different times, of course), there is always the Oliffe drug store to visit.

This is the oldest pharmacy in continuous operation in America, and people with black eyes still may buy leeches there.

The man who offers this booklet on free-see in New York to his friends is Julius Manger Jr., a hotel man with a chain of numerous hostelries and numerous children. Manger (pronounced like "anger") is currently annoyed.

"New York is not only the most exciting and educational spot to bring children—it could be the least expensive," Manger says. "But it is the only sizable city in the U. S. that so far has refused to okay a 'family rate plan' in its hotels. That discourages a lot of families from coming."

The plan, which enables children under 14 to stay without charge in the same room with parents, is consistently turned down by a few hotel owners in New York. The result is that none of the hotels can cut their rates, and the price of a family bunking in Manhattan is enormous.

"My father came from a family of 10, my mother from a family of six — and I have seven kids of my own," says Manger, "So I feel for the problem."

LANSING (AP) — Vehicle license sales in Michigan totaled $62,875,755 during 1957, five per cent above the previous year, the secretary of state's office reported today.

The 1957 increase was $3,134,503 more than 1956 collections, which totaled $59,741,251. The total included collections from passenger cars, trucks, motorcycles, farm vehicles, tractors, trailers, trailer coaches and all other vehicles.

Liechtenstein, a tiny kingdom of 65 square miles, was once a dependency of Austria. In 1918 it declared its independence.

Filmland Watches Judy

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — The private life of Judy Garland reads like a king-sized issue of a sob-story magazine—love, sweat and tears, fame, fortune and tragedy in a never-ending trail.

Today, all Hollywood is wondering how her latest heartbreak, the divorce suit against Sid Luft, will affect her life and career.

NO SURPRISE

To most of their movietown pals the Lufts' recent marital crackup was no surprise. As one friend put it:

"It's happened before. There was no reason to suppose it wouldn't happen again!"

Judy, the hard luck kid of the movies, has been married three times: to composer David Rose, to director Vincente Minnelli and finally to Luft, whom she wed on June 8, 1952.

Their life together has been a series of break-ups and make-ups. The most recent rift, according to Judy, concerned a little matter of attempted strangulation.

In a divorce action on file in Santa Monica Superior Court, the singer charged that her husband beat her and tried to choke her to death. Luft reportedly denied the charges.

Oscar Levant, a close friend of the couple, said most of the Lufts' ailments were "financial" and added that Judy is being "very dramatic about the whole thing."

Another pal, Lauren Bacall, said she has not seen either of them for "ages."

"They've had their share of difficulties," she said, "but Judy always said that no matter how many problems they had, Sid is the one person who really understands her."

During a former divorce suit against Luft filed in 1956, the plump singer said she was "thorougly fed up" with her husband's operation—at a loss—of a stable of race horses. And a friend commented recently:

It is a well-known fact, however, that Luft was the guy who inspired Judy to make a stirring comeback after her tragic downfall at MGM studios, where a series of temperamental clashes spurred her to a suicide attempt.

Shortly after this episode, Judy became associated with Luft and it was he who spearheaded and masterminded her invasion of the London Palladium and New York's Palace theater, where she scored smashing successes.

Dear Abby . . . .

Show This 'Widower' You Have Lots of Life

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I found a phone number written on my husband's shirttail with a ballpoint pen so I called it up. The girl who answered the phone said she had met a fellow called Emil (my husband) and when I told her he was my husband she refused to believe me.

ABBY

She said Emil showed her a card that had his name printed on it as the president of the Weeping Widowers Club. (A club for widowers). I am very much alive and we have three kids. How would you handle this?

NOT DEAD YET

DEAR NOT DEAD: Tell Emil to turn in his card—and show him there's plenty of life left in you.

DEAR ABBY: I have read in your column many times where decent men are looking for a nice girl. I have a suggestion. Why not go to any one of our thousands of public schools?

They are filled with intelligent, wholesome refined women who would make wonderful wives and mothers. School teachers are generally a pretty lonely lot and they are only human.

ONLY HUMAN

DEAR ONLY: Your suggestion is a good one, but how does a gentleman get next to a school teacher? He can't go to school, knock on the door and say, "Pardon me, but I just passed up the principal—how about a little interest?"

DEAR ABBY: Regarding that letter written by "Dishwater Blonde" who says her gentleman friend prefers golden blonde hair and has offered to pay for the upkeep. Unless there are two men in the world who have made this offer, I think this girl and I are keeping company with one and the same guy. Are his initials A.H.L.?

DISHWATER BLONDE

DEAR DISHWATER: Not even close!

DEAR ABBY: I came to your wonderful country as a refugee some years ago. I am an American citizen but naturally I speak with an accent. Whenever I have a misunderstanding with a "real" American, they always say, "Why don't you go back to where you came from?"

I could tell them but it would take much too long. Could you give me a good quick and intelligent answer for them in one sentence, please? Yours truly. C.T.

DEAR C. T. Why bother? Anyone who would make a remark like that is too ignorant to understand an intelligent answer.

CONFIDENTIAL TO CORPORAL DAVE: There may be "nuthin' like a dame"—but be sure she's yours.

All Women Should Know When to Display Temper

Otherwise, Men Will Take Advantage of Feminine Agreeability

By RUTH MILLETT

"A woman who wants to get things done should know when to lose her temper," says one of the country's well-known career women.

There probably isn't a woman worth her salt who hasn't, at one time or another, had to lose her temper in order to convince somebody—usually a man—that she has set a point beyond which she will not be pushed and that she has a few principles she will stand up and fight for.

A truly feminine woman likes peace. She also likes to please. And she is perfectly willing to let unimportant matters slide rather than create any kind of disturbance.

Because that's her nature, both in the business world and at home, it is sometimes easy for people to begin to think that her rights and her performances and her opinions don't have to be considered.

It is even easy for some people to think they can indefinitely take advantage of a woman who is always agreeable, easy to please and willing to go more than half way in keeping things pleasant.

That is why a truly feminine woman has to know when to lose her temper, when to let others know she has had enough, that she has been pushed too far or overworked as long as she intends to be.

The sight of a usually easy-going, soft-voiced woman suddenly rising up and saying, "I've had enough. Now you listen to me," is enough to make strong men shake in their boots.

The fact that she knows when to get angry and that she never wastes her anger on anything unimportant or petty is the very thing that makes it effective when she does use it.

Certainly, every woman needs to know when to lose her temper. Just as she needs to know when to keep it under control—which, of course, is most of the time.

Not all suit jackets for spring are loose, brief and pared. Beautifully shaped, longer suit jackets will appeal to the well-dressed or sophisticated woman and there will undoubtedly be a modification in the length of her skirt too.

No Charge for Giving Legal Help

By EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post: I found it necessary lately to consult a lawyer about a legal matter. This lawyer happens to be an old family friend. He spent a good dea lof time on this matter and when I asked him what his fee was, he said there was none.

"I feel terrible about this and would like to know if it would be proper for me to send a check anyway for what I think would be his fee. If this is not proper, will you please tell me what I can do to repay his kindness?"

Answer: Don't send a check. You can, however, go to him personally and offer him the check saying, "I am deeply grateful for what you did for me. Won't you please let me give you what I can in compensation?" If he refuses, there is nothing to do but to thank him for his kindness to you. In short, don't make a scene of it.

"Dear Mrs. Post: I have an aunt who is only five years my senior. We are both married and travel in the same circle. When we are with others I feel rather foolish calling her 'Aunt Jane.' Would it be proper under these circumstances to leave off the 'aunt' and just call her Jane?"

Answer: It seems to me that in view of the small difference in your ages, your aunt would be glad to tell you to call her "Jane" if you ask her whether or not she has any objection.

"Dear Mrs. Post: We are in doubt as to how to address an envelope to a husband and wife in the unusual situation of the wife instead of the husband holding a high political office; namely, member of Congress. Please tell us what is correct."

Answer: Official invitations read "The Honorable Mary Doe and Mr. Doe," but all personal mail sent to their house is written to Mr. and Mrs. John Doe.

Try This Ear-Touching Routine

Exercise Combats Underarm Fat

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN
(The Friday Question Box)

Q. "I am fat under my arms. My bra leaves a roll under the arm. This isn't a lump, it is just plain fat. I am overweight but this is the spot which bothers me most."

A. A general loss of weight will, of course, help. Also do this exercise:

Q. "I am 5 feet 6 inches tall and weigh 108 pounds. Am I overweight or underweight? My friends disagree about this."

A. You are very much underweight and should gain.

Q. "I would like to know if this stuff you hear and read about how to turn gray hair back to its normal color is harmful in any way, and would you advise people to use it?"

A. So far as I know there is no product which will turn gray hair back to its normal color. There has been some evidence that vitamin B complex may have some influence but this is inconclusive.

Q. "I am 44 years old and have been married for 20 years. I have five children and nursed all of them. My bust is so flat. In fact I practically have no bust. Is there anything I can do? Can a doctor do something?"

A. You can build up the chest muscles with exercise and therefore increase the bust measurement. Plastic surgery also can remedy this situation.

Q. "I am not allowed to shave my legs and have dark hair which embarrasses me very much. My mother says if I shave my hair it will grow out thicker."

A. This is not true. The hair will not grow out any thicker but the ends will be stubby when the hair grows out because of the cutting. However, it is too bad to be embarrassed about this since you can remove the hairs by shaving or with a depilatory. The only permanent method of removal is electrolysis.

Q. "I have very small spider-like veins on my upper legs. What causes these and is there any makeup to cover them?"

A. Most women have some of these. Overweight and tight garments and long hours on the feet seem to make one more susceptible. There is a product which will cover them.

Sour Cream Takes Place of Shortening

Mrs. Martin's Cake Rich and Moist, Has Nutty Frosting

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

At present we seem to have an abundance of cake recipes. Today's cook, Mrs. Hadley F. Martin of Walled Lake, gives us her recipe for sour cream cake. No shortening is needed with this recipe.

Mrs. Martin, a homemaker with an outside job, is secretary of the Walled Lake Business and Professional Woman's club. Golf is her hobby.

SOUR CREAM CAKE
By Mrs. Hadley F. Martin

1 egg
⅞ cup sour cream (about)
1 cup sugar
1½ cups sifted flour
1 teaspoon soda
1 teaspoon cream of tartar
1 teaspoon vanilla

Break egg into measuring cup, then fill cup with sour cream. Stir together in mixing bowl, add sugar and beat. Sift and add dry ingredients, then flavoring. Bake in greased 8x8 pan on lower shelf of oven. Bake 25 minutes at 350 degrees.

Sour Cream Frosting

1 cup sour cream
1½ tablespoons flour
1 cup chopped nuts
1 teaspoon vanilla

Speakers' Club Hears Program

"What to Talk About" was the subject of the program presented by the Pontiac Toastmistress Club when members met in the YMCA. The demonstration program was for the benefit of the speechcraft class now being conducted for those interested in personal improvement in meeting people.

Mrs. Robert Sutton introduced Mrs. Clayton Rule, who talked on "Gathering Speech Material," and Mrs. Howard Wheatley who spoke on "How to Make a Craft Talk."

The topics, "Talk About What You Know" and "Speech Subjects in Current Events," were discussed by the toastmasters.

Mrs. Sidney Olson's speech was titled "Be Prepared," and Mrs. Louis Davidson spoke on the subject, "Business is Good."

Also participating in the program were Mrs. George Stafford and Mrs. Clayton Tibbals, critics; Gertrude Foley, chief evaluator; Mrs. George Gaches, table topic event; Mrs. Wayne Reaves, grammarian; Gwen Polk, timekeeper, and Evelyn Cole, tailtwister. Lauretta Paul closed the Tuesday meeting with a reading.

Boss Often Considers Your Life His Business

NEW YORK (INS) — You may think your private life is your own concern, but a good many prospective employers disagree with you.

An insurance firm (New York Life Insurance Company) recently studied the problem of what will weigh against a job applicant, and among the negative factors were the following:

"Failure to participate in activities . . . lack of social understanding . . . loafs during vacations—lakeside . . . unhappy married life . . . friction with parents . . . cynical . . . low moral standards . . . spends much time in movies . . . poor handling of personal finances . . . no interest in community activities."

The theory behind this interest in a future job-holder's personal activities is simple—the same traits that show up in private life will be evidenced during office hours.

While it is poor policy to tell a prospective employer that money burns a hole in your pocket, or that your father thinks you're a bum, don't paint an absolutely ideal picture, either.

No one is going to believe that you like everybody, have never had a financial problem and don't have an enemy in the world.

Schedule Event March 28-29

Carol Fitch Appointed Chairman; 100 Pupils to Display Talent

More than 100 scientific exhibits will be displayed and judged at the second annual Clarkston Schools Science Fair, held at the high school March 28-29.

Sponsor of the fair is the Sigma Omecron Sigma Society, the high school's science club.

Elementary, junior and senior high school students will participate in the fair and a trophy will be given to the owner of the most outstanding project. Nine medals of achievement will also be awarded and Dr. L. F. Greene, superintendent, will present the awards Saturday at 3:30 p. m.

7 JUDGES PARTICIPATE

Seven judges will view the exhibits Friday and select the winners on the basis of the construction of the exhibit, and the speech given by the exhibitor to determine his knowledge and understanding of the project.

The judges are: Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Maas, (Maas is a Pontiac Central High School science teacher); Dr. Carrick E. Wildon, professor of horticulture at Michigan State University; Michael Hart, Commerce High School science teacher; John Youngpeter, PCH biology teacher, Edward Buck, Madison Junior High School science teacher and Muriel Strebe, Will Rogers Elementary School teacher.

The purpose of the fair is to encourage science and mathematics in students in the school system.

The fair will be open to the public from 9 a. m. to 4 p. m. Saturday at the Clarkston High School gymnasium.

The Future teachers will conduct a candy sale today at the school. Candy for this project will be donated by members of the club.

The club's plans for Easter are not definite as yet, but the subject of Easter baskets for the Children's Home is being considered.

MAKE HALLOWEEN COSTUMES

At present, the club is busy working on another project for the state children's home. They are sewing Halloween costumes for the children. The costumes are cut out by the people at the home and sent to the club to finish.

Clarkston High School's 1957-58 Hilltopper, the yearbook, has been completed and is ready to be printed.

The printed copies of the yearbook are expected to be back in approximately 10 weeks.

PREPARE SCIENCE EXHIBITS — Checking over last minute preparations for the fourth annual Science Fair which opens today at Pontiac Central High School are: Ronald Hoekman, 1740 Hamilton Dr., assistant chairman; Bill Heider, 73 Chippewa Rd., and his skeleton friend and Martha Hodge, 650 Lake Angelus Shores, general chairman. The monkey, a Cebus capucinus called Linneaus (in Ronald's arm) was purchased by the Linneian Society, sponsors of the fair, several weeks ago to exhibit.

City Exhibition Opens Today

By WILLIAM BANK

The two-day fourth annual science fair opens today at Pontiac Central High, sponsored by the Linnean Society, a biology club.

More than 100 projects entered by students in grades one through twelve throughout Oakland County are expected to be exhibited.

Some of the projects include: "Straightening of Teeth", "Chemical Properties of Chlorine", "Classification of Animals", and "Are You A Monkey's Uncle?" (a project on evolution).

The club's monkey, Linneaus, will also be on display. He is from Central America, and his species is believed to be the smartest of the New World monkeys. The club members have taught him tricks.

The fair begins at 5 p.m. today in the cafeteria. Five special movies will be shown at the fair tonight, according to John M. Youngpeter, fair advisor. They are: "From One Cell," 6:10 p.m.; "Body Fights Bacteria", 6:45 p.m.; "Petrified River," 7:05 p.m.; "Meaning of Conservation," 8:45 p. m. and "Wonders of Plant Growth", 9 p.m.

Tomorrow, two films will be shown. They are: "The Human Machine", 10:30 a.m. and "A is for Atom", at 1 p.m.

BEAMER RE-ELECTED

Larry Beamer was re-elected this week to serve as president of the PCH Student Council.

The other officers elected who are all newcomers to an office include: Richard Eley, vice president; Pat Brown, secretary; Donna Gravely, treasurer and Carl Code, sergeant-at-arms.

Senior Edwin Lynn Carson, 17, of 109 Henderson St., has been commended by the National Merit Scholarship Corporation for his outstanding performance on a nationwide college aptitude test.

Carson was among 7,500 of the 260,000 students who took the test who will receive a letter of recomfor use in applying to colleges.

Tuesday the Future Teachers visited the Jack and Jill room at Emerson Elementary School. This room is sponsored by the Association for Handicapped Children. The mothers teach these children by themselves without a paid teacher to help.

The Future Teachers who went on this trip are Jeanne Andrews, Sylvia Redmond, Beverly Gracy, Richard Bailey and Carolyn Gornes. Their advisor is Mrs. Ann Morrow. The group hopes they will be able to assist in the training of these students as a project.

Several members of the Future Nurses Club have volunteered to serve as assistants in the Mobile Chest X-Ray Unit at the Tel-Huron Shopping Center and at Huron and Saginaw Streets until April.

The girls who will serve are Karen Gorkie, Mary Kuhn, Jovita Benavides, Myrla Henry, Sharon Struckman, and Valerie Armstrong. Members have also volunteered to serve at the blood bank.

Tuesday the Future Homemakers initated 12 new members. They were Karen Gorkie, Janice VanHorn, Vickie Annas, Connie Spencer, Merna Light, Jackie Johnson, Christie Forslund, Linda Wilson, Carolyn Mitchell, Judy Ross, Sandra Threet and Sharon Boone.

Lake Orion Conducts Placement Testing

This week, the placement testing program is being conducted in the tenth and eleventh grades by Roy Venette, boys' counselor, at Lake Orion Community High School.

A curriculum booklet has been prepared by Jean Wertenberger, registrar, as a guide for students and parents in choosing proper subjects for next year's classes.

The students take the handbook home for a three day period to discuss the available courses with their parents.

SINGERS ARE TOPS

The A cappella choir, girls' glee club and boys' chorus each received superior ratings this week at the district vocal festival held at Royal Oak.

"How did we get the door closed," was said by many a Lake Orion student following the first locker clean up this week.

So much satisfaction was expressed by students and faculty following the surprise clean up order that the project may become a regular affair.

The junior class play, "The Curious Savage," a comedy, will be presented under the direction of John Bixby, March 27 and 28 at 8 p.m. in the junior high auditorium.

Sleeping Beauty Fairytale Next on Waterford Stage

By SANDY CLEMENCE

The Speech II class production of the fairy tale, "Sleeping Beauty", will be presented Thursday and next Saturday at Waterford Township High School.

The Children's Theater play will be given for all elementary school children in the township at 4:30 and 1:30 p.m. respectively.

The Dramatics Club play, "Shall We Join the Ladies?" by John M. Barrie, will be presented tomorrow at Central Michigan College, Mt. Pleasant, to be judged by dramatic professors there.

Today marks the final week of the fourth marking period. Report cards will be given out Wednesday.

CHOIRS GO TO ROYAL OAK

Members of the A cappella choir and the boys' and girls' glee clubs represented Waterford in a concert held at Royal Oak High School this week.

Working on the new Bible Club constitution were Hazel Morris, Darlene Grant, Alice Harreld, Diane Hewitt, and Carol Meiz, Ron Somerville, Edward Bohlman, April Warthem, Fred Ebey, Sharon Underwood, and Karen Dickman. The faculty sponsor is Bruce L. Chamberlin.

Peter Murray, 956 Myrtle Ave., has been awarded a certificate of merit by the National Merit Scholarship Service. He won this as a result of his scores on two college aptitude tests. He is one of 7,300 finalists in the current Merit Scholarship competition. Final winners will be announced May 1.

Plan White Elephant Sale at St. Mike's

By MICHAEL BUCHANAN

Tuesday at St. Michael High School, the C.S.M.C. (Catholic Students Mission Crusade) will hold a white elephant sale. All of the high school students are expected to bring an item that they do not need but may be of use to another.

Some more of the seniors attended the recent session of the Pontiac Teen-Age Traffic Court. They were: Frances Goulet, Kathleen Heitjan, Helen Franzel, Lawrence DeMilner, Robert Mineweaser, and Thomas Chapdelaine.

The juniors who want to take a scholarship qualifying test as a preparation next year, signed up this week. They also took the Kuder Preference test recently.

The seniors are getting a taste of what it is like to be an actor as they attend the frequent practices for the coming senior play "Murder Takes the Veil."

Starring in the role of Selma was Mary MacDermaid, with Ken Hall and Hans Ackerle in supporting roles. Others in the cast included Pat Stoglin, Gary Holtz, and Barbara Berryman.

Proceeds from the play will be used to buy stage make-up for the dramatics department.

Sixteen ninth grader students who are interested in a future in art or industrial design, visited Michigan State University this week.

The group, which was accompanied by art teacher Pauline Woodin and James Blackburn, who is a student teacher at Madison from MSU in the field of industrial arts, and parent, Mienhard Lorenzen.

AT WASHINGTON

Among other activities the girls are doing volunteer Red Cross work and selling candy at home basketball games. Officers of the group are Marlene Beale, president; Mary Agree, vice president; Donna Helmkamp, secretary; Sherry Drinkwater, treasurer.

AT EASTERN

The council voted this week to launch the drive soon.

Sixth grade teachers and principals from Wilson, McConnell, Longfellow, Mark Twain, Central, and Herrington elementary schools were guests of Eastern's Guidance Department Tuesday.

The purpose of the meeting was to discuss mental maturity and reading tests which will soon be given to sixth graders.

Charles Beyette, guidance counselor, explained the method of administering the tests and interpretation of results. Information resulting from test scores will be used by junior high school teachers when the present sixth graders enter junior high.

Advanced versions of these tests will be given to the ninth graders at Eastern later this month. The results of these will be used by high school personnel when the students enter high school.

Boys who have recently received instruction in wrestling in their physical education classes may obtain additional professional coaching after class hours on a voluntary basis by contacting Don Devoe, social studies teacher and assistant coach.

St. Fred Classes Compete in Ad Selling Contest

By PAT FOSTER

The patron drive at St. Frederick High School got under way this week. The drive is sponsored by the seniors and is held for the purpose of securing patrons and advertisements for the coming senior play.

Competition is being held throughout all classes and the winning class is to be treated to a party on school time. Also as an added incentive, those obtaining ads are allowed to keep 10 percent of the ad cost. The drive will be held two weeks.

The program is sponsored by the Pontiac Exchange Club and gives teenage traffic offenders an opportunity to be judged and penalized by fellow teens. The court also gives teenagers a chance to better understand traffic laws and the dangers involved in reckless driving.

TEEN JURORS

Thursday the Future Teachers Club observed a reading class composed of second graders. The girls watched techniques employed by Sister Marie Mark to stimulate the interest of the children.

Following this, they were given an explanatory talk by Sister Grace Ellen who told of the necessary qualifications of future teachers and what is expected of them. The club also took a field trip to Gesu grade school in Detroit to observe primary grades in their classes.

Avondale-Utica Battle on TV Quiz Tomorrow

Wednesday a talent assembly will be held at the school as a dress rehearsal for an exchange assembly with Clawson High School March 25.

TALENT CONTESTANTS

Frank Harris, senior class president, will be master of ceremonies. The contestants include: Glynn Archer, guitarist; Richard Smigh, mirimbast; Dorothy Knechtges and Mary Kovin, pantomimists; Shelby Lockamy, singer and Michael Carey, pianist.

After today, the Yellow Jacket staff will be able to relax following the last deadline. A supplement to the year book covering spring activities will be sent to students at the close of the year.

The yearbook and supplement will be distributed the later part of May and August, respectively.

Junior Play Dates Set at Bloomfield Hills

"Night of January Sixteenth" is the name of the play the junior class of Bloomfield Hills High School will present March 20-21 at 8:30 p.m.

Two Dems May Write Tax Cut Legislation

By INTERNATIONAL NEWS SERVICE

Rep. Wilbur Mills (D Ark) and Sen. Harry F. Byrd (D Va.) will be asked shortly to write legislation to cut taxes several billion dollars — a task most lawmakers would jump at with great political pleasure but one which these two men will take up with great reluctance.

Mills is chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee, where all tax laws must start, and Byrd is head of the Senate Finance Committee, which handles revenue legislation in that body.

Not that Mills or Byrd favor high taxes. They don't. But both, for somewhat different reasons, are against cutting them at this particular time.

Mills has made it clear that he would prefer to wait until later in the spring before taking such a drastic step — as he believes a tax cut to be — in bringing an end to the recesion.

By that time, other steps will have had a chance to work, and a better picture will be available of what federal income and spending will be.

The 70-year-old Byrd, who has fought for balanced budgets throughout his 45 years of public service, will find nothing more distasteful than having a part in a tax cut that would add several billion dollars to the deficit already facing Uncle Sam.

Byrd, born in Martinsburg, W. Va., on June 10, 1887, and a millionaire apple grower and Newspaper publisher, has led every economy drive conducted in the Senate in the past decade or so. Some were successful, but more often, they were not.

VOICE RAISED

His soft, high-pitched voice has been raised time and time again in the interests of economy during his 24 years in the Senate. But, while always listened to with great respect, his counsel has not been followed.

His independence of northern Democratic party influences once prompted former President Harry S. Truman to crack that there were "too many Byrds" in the Senate for him.

Mills, a 20-year veteran in the house although only 48 (he was born at Kensett, Ark., May 24, 1909), is a Harvard-educated student of tax law and theory.

His conservatism, not as deep-rooted as Byrd's, stems more from his study of tax law than anything else. And it is tempered politically with relatively close ties with organized labor for a southern Democrat.

His post as head of the Ways and Means Committee and his moderate position politically in the Democratic Party has made him a top candidate for speaker of the house when Speaker Sam Rayburn decides to end his service.

Ten Boat Captains Fined for Shrimping

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP) — Ten boat captains each were fined $300 yesterday for shrimping in a restricted area of the Dry Tortugas.

It was the first large-scale crackdown on shrimpers since the area was officially marked off by buoys Feb. 2 for conservation purposes.

"The penalties may be a bit drastic," said Criminal Judge Thomas S. Caro, "but we must do everything possible to save the 10 million dollar a year industry."

Four of the captains were on boats from Florida points.

Burglar Leaves Card, Police Call on Him

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — A burglar ransacked a suburban St. Louis Park home stealing $31,444, most of it in government bonds.

Police had little trouble identifying the culprit. He dropped a slip of paper bearing his name. The man was picked up in a bar and the loot was recovered.

But Mr. Hsu Had Better Come Back

'You Just Said Not Guilty, Judge --- I'm Through'

"I come myself to state the nature of the matter," he told Municipal Judge Harold Haley yesterday. "It is a small matter and I ask the judge to pronounce me not guilty."

"Mr. Hsu," said Judge Haley, "you will have to follow the directions of the court. Now, how do you plead, guilty or not guilty?"

"I don't have to," said Hsu. "You," he suggested, "pronounce me not guilty."

Judge Haley demurred; Hsu insisted.

Finally the judge told him: "I am directing the clerk to enter a plea of not guilty. You will be here one week from today and we will set the time for your trial."

"I don't come back here," Hsu informed him. "You just said I'm not guilty. I'm all through."

"And a bench warrant will be waiting if you fail to appear," said the judge.

"The judge said I'm not guilty," he said. "Anyway, it was just a small matter."

Yankees Pouring Into Florida

By JOE HAAS

MIAMI, Fla. — Having climbed over both Jacksonville and Tampa as Florida's largest city, Miami now wonders if it will be able to hold that position.

JOE

The big freeze blasted the argument that brought that growth about. With around 275,000 permanent residents, it has been passing the half million mark in the winter.

As most of those 275,000 make their living off the visitors, they're now wondering what will happen if their principal source of income is greatly curtailed. Miami could go back to third place in population, as neither of its rivals is so largely dependent on the tourists.

But since the mercury climbed to normal here there has been an influx of northerners that breaks all records. They seem to have been waiting until this southern winter had its fling.

On a recent single day more people arrived by air than were handled by all three New York City airports on that day. The Miami papers put it at 21,000, and caim this is the largest number of arrivals at any airport in the world in one day in all aviation history.

Many of these of course went to Miami Beach, that city across Biscayne Bay, which was hit vastly harder than Miami by the cold. Its frostbitten season borders on the pitiful.

Miamians find that the damage to surrounding garden crops was quite small. They supply 75 per cent of the tomatoes and other vegetables consumed in winter in northern markets, including Pontiac's.

The tomato crop is now bound northward at the rate of 75 carloads per day, only about ten per cent less than last year. Other garden crops show about the same percentage.

These crops were saved in a quite unique manner. During every night that frost threatened, airplanes were kept flying over the fields at a very low altitude. This agitation of the air kept the frost away.

The cold weather damage to the orange and other fruit crops is not felt to any extent in Miami. Very little citrus fruit is raised in this area. That belt crosses the state much further north.

Teacher Strikes Back

Tennessee Welfare Feeds 600 Families

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP) — Surplus foods were on hand for distribution today to about 250 Hamilton County families certified by the County Welfare Department.

About 350 families in the city were issued a month's supply of foods yesterday in the second distribution of surplus commodities this winter by the City Relief Bureau.

Mrs. Sue Lee, bureau director, said the food came from the Tennessee Department of Agriculture and included meal, flour, cheese, rice and powdered milk.

A month ago, 176 families received surplus food.

Ashby Black Jr., district manager of the Tennessee Department of Employment Security, said 10,400 persons, or 8.8 per cent of the total labor force, were unemployed in the Greater Chattanooga area as of Feb. 15. The district includes Hamilton County, Tenn., and Walker County, Ga.

Crowd Reaction Cheers His Handlers

Pearson Coming Off Ropes in Canadian Campaign

By HAROLD MORRISON
Canadian Press Staff Writer
Second in 2-Part Series

OTTAWA (AP)—Lester B. (Mike) Pearson appears to be coming off the ropes in his struggle for Canada's political championship.

Less apologetic and more forthright in his speeches than at the start, he appears now to be winning better crowd reaction as he carries his peace-and-prosperity message across the country.

His audiences have become larger and more attentive. Among his handlers, the spirit has definitely brightened.

"Well, what would you expect?" he replied when asked to comment on indications that he appeared a bit groggy and slow in the campaign opening. "It was like putting a man into a championship fight with only two weeks training. That's all the time I had between the time I became Liberal leader and the date the election was called.

"And you couldn't even call it training. I had to spend that time in the House of Commons. I had no time to reorganize the party. I had to go in almost raw. It's getting easier for me now. I feel a lot more confident of the future than when I started."

With half the campaign over, the shy, rather quiet-spoken former diplomat—given more to reflective conversation than dazzling oratory—now talks less of the mistakes of the Liberal party's past and more of the bright new future he sees ahead. He has given his team a clearer shape and personality—"the new party, the party of reform, the party of the left."

Though he drives himself hard, Pearson, 60, appears in good physical shape. At the end of the first three weeks of campaigning, after he had covered parts of Ontario and toured the four Western provinces, Pearson told Liberal supporters in Quebec to take heart. He said he had found a "great spirit of life, hope, energy, enthusiasm and optimism in our party." But the party needs more than spirit to win an election, he added; it needs to work.

He carried the same message to every province: return the Liberals to power to restore prosperity. Everywhere he argued the advantages of his proposed 400 million dollars in tax cuts over Prime Minister Diefenbaker's billion-dollar works program as an answer to Canada's economic doldrums.

He hammered at Diefenbaker's proposed 15 per cent switch in Canada's imports from the United States to Britain, arguing this kind of proposal makes food for tariff protectionists at Washington.

He emphasized the need for peace and asked voters to compare his own qualifications to find peace with those of the Conservatives.

Edison to Keep Expanding in '58

President Cisler Says Outlook for This Year Reasonably Satisfactory

DETROIT (AP)—Detroit Edison Co. says the outlook for the big electric utility this year is reasonably satisfactory, "all things considered," in spite of a general business slump.

In a report to stockholders, Walker L. Cisler, Detroit Edison president, said yesterday the company is going ahead with a 75 million dollar construction program in 1958. It spent $81,727,000 on expansion last year.

Voicing optimism for the future, Cisler said, "we find encouragement from the past in that during the business downturns of 1948-49 and 1953-54 our energy sales were well maintained."

Detroit Edison provides electric power for Detroit and 401 other communities in southeastern Michigan.

"The main source of our strength is in people," Cisler said. "We have a relatively high percentage of residential revenue for a metropolitan company.

"The company serves an area specializing in metal fabrication replete with a skilled home-owning labor force that can with equal adeptness turn out an automobile, satellite, tank, missile, airplane part, space ship, refrigerator and so on, according to the demands of the time."

Wants Pupils to Visit Jail as Warning

UTICA, N. Y. (AP)—An Oneida County grand jury suggests a novel way to curtail juvenile delinquency; visits to the county jail by high school pupils.

In a report handed up in Supreme Court, the jurors said that, "due to the number of youthful offenders involved in cases brought before this grand jury, we respectfully recommend that arrangements be made for high school juniors and seniors to visit the Oneida County Jail as a possible deterrent to juvenile delinquency."

Loretta Young's Husband Irked

TV Actress and Business Partner Called Unfair, Dishonest in Suit

Advertising executive Tom Lewis, whose 17½-year marriage to the actress has been considered one of Hollywood's happiest, filed a civil suit yesterday to dissolve their company, Lewislor Films, Inc. The company has had a part in producing her filmed show seen Sunday nights on NBC-TV.

He alleged that Miss Young and their partner Robert F. Shewalter "in combination as directors and stockholders and president and secretary-treasurer" have "exercised complete control over the corporation to the complete exclusion" of Lewis.

Unless the corporation is dissolved promptly, Lewis contended in the complaint, he will be deprived of his rights as a shareholder "due to the continued and additional dishonesty, mismanagement and unfairness" of Miss Young and Shewalter.

In New York City, where he is vice president in charge of television for the C. J. LaRoche Advertising Co., Lewis said the suit is "a corporate matter" and has "no personal implication."

In Hollywood, Miss Young was not available for comment. Her press agent said she knew of no trouble in the marriage.

Shewalter said there is no personal friction between Miss Young and Lewis "as far as I know. Atty. Nathan J. Neilson, who filed the Superior Court action for Lewis, said it is, so far as he knows, "purely a matter of the dissolution of a business."

Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower liberated more territory in World War II than Caesar conquered.

Dody Goodman Hits Big Money This Year

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — Our Buckeye friend, Comedienne Dody Goodman, of the Jack Paar TV show, expects to earn $100,000 this year with guest shots, Las Vegas, summer theaters, etc.

WILSON

Dody can't understand why anybody hates her — "I read the Bible every morning," she says. She's going back to God's country (Ohio) for a two-week vacation shortly. She got $5,000 for doing the Eddie Fisher show . . . Columnist Radie Harris broke her leg stumbling over a cord, and is in Mt. Sinai. (Richard Burton lugged her to an elevator.) She'll sue the hotel.

Everybody's entitled to an opinion— so Rita Hayworth and Jim Hill walked out on "Dark at the Top of the Stairs" . . . John Ringling North told Mrs. Laddie Sanford he couldn't attend her Palm Beach charity ball "because if I step foot in Florida, my darling relatives will have me arrested."

Today's Wilson Girl Nominee is Gail Fenton, 17, of San Francisco, sensational model nominated by our old friend Dorothy Friend . . . Heard of a fellow who gets good theater tickets by writing to the box office — and always enclosing a $1 bill extra. "Nobody ever returned my 'bonus' yet," he says.

No woman star — except maybe Rita Hayworth — can carry a picture alone nowadays. It's a man's world! . . . 20th Century-Fox has "at least six new gals" to choose from for "Blue Angel" if Marilyn Monroe declines.

AF Chief of Research Retires; Not Like Gavin

WASHINGTON (AP) — Lt. Gen. Donald L. Putt, who has indicated diaapproval of some Defense Department policies on missiles, is retiring as Air Force chief of research.

But he's stepping out without the public controversy that marked the decision of Lt. Gen. James Gavin to retire as the Army's research chief. Gavin, who will leave the Army on March 31, openly criticized certain pentagon policies.

Putt's departure was disclosed yesterday in a White House announcement naming Maj. Gen. Roscoe C. Wilson to succeed Putt. President Eisenhower recommended Wilson for promotion to three-star rank.

Putt will be 53 on May 14 and could have looked forward to at least seven more years of active duty.

The Air Force said that Putt, although recently involved in what appeared to be a controversy with Secretary of Defense McElroy, was not leaving under any pressure from the Defense Department or the Air Force.

Friends said Putt will take a position in industry and that he told the Air Force as early as last fall that he would retire in May, when he completes 30 years of active service.

Putt last month told a congressional committee that McElroy's decision was premature in selecting the Army Zeus over the Air Force Wizard as the nation's first antimissile missile.

McElroy was said to have agreed that the general's attitude was not nearly what it appeared to be in print.

Putt had a big hand in development of the B24 and B29 bombers of World War II and the huge B36 bomber which came into operation shortly after the war.

He has served in almost every top technical position in the air force.

Urges Refinancing OK

DETROIT (AP) — Detroit will have to fire 475 policemen and eliminate fire department rescue squads or raise taxes if the city council and the legislature refuse to cooperate, Mayor Louis Miriani said Thursday. He said the problem could be solved by the council and state approving refinancing of six million dollars in city bonds.

Plans East-West Hop Over Atlantic Alone

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Peter Gluckman, 32, who twice has crossed the Atlantic alone in a light plane from west to east, now hopes to do it from England to New York.

The Flying Watchmaker said he would leave San Francisco April 26 to fly to South America and Africa, then north to London. He said the east-west Atlantic crossing in a light plane by a lone flier never has been accomplished.

With food prices being what they are, you can't blame a housewife for being shelf-conscious . . . Nowadays, says Harold Coffin in Quote, when a motorist gets a puncture, he changes cars instead of tires. —Earl Wilson.

Declines to Bet Money Given by Co-worker

BENTON HARBOR (AP) — Mrs. Gertie Hingst couldn't bring herself to bet the $10 her fellow workers gave her for a flier in Reno, Nev.

"I didn't think anybody would believe me if I lost it all," said Mrs. Hingst, who dropped $25 of her own money in an hour on slot machines and card games.

One coworker declined to take back her investment. "If you've kept it this long," she told Mrs. Hingst, "you deserve to keep it for good."

Hollywood Headlines:

Susan Hayward to Play Role of Barbara Graham

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — Susan Hayward, in town for Walter Wanger's picture "The Barbara Graham Story," told me that she brought with her a very bad cold. She said she leaves Thursday for Corona to make a tour of the women's prison where Barbara Graham spent her last days before her execution.

Susan said she read the script of the Barbara Graham story and feels that it will do much to combat juvenile delinquency. "It shows what can happen to a girl who gets in the wrong company," she said.

Wanger offered Susan's husband, Eaton Chalkey, who was formerly with the FBI and a student of criminology, a job as technical director. Eaton can't possibly accept, however, because he has too much to do in Georgia.

As soon as Carroll Baker feels well enough to return to Hollywood she'll discuss another picture for Warner Bros. Her baby son is now only a month old.

So far no story has been found for Carroll. I hope when one is found it won't be another "Baby Doll" which I thoroughly disliked and felt was an embarrassingly smutty movie.

Despite what was printed elsewhere, Lee Remick, the girl who is so good in "Long Hot Summer," will not be in Pat Boone's new picture, "Mardi Gras."

Jerry Wald has decided that Lee will be more valuable traveling through Europe with "Long Hot Summer" and making personal appearances with her hit. And he has someone else in mind for Pat's picture.

Immediately after the "Present Laughter" performance on Saturday night, Eva Gabor tells me she'll fly to New York to do a one-minute commercial for a cosmetic company.

"I was offered so much money I couldn't turn it down," she said. "Some things we do because we like them, other things we do for money."

Playing in Noel Coward's play "Present Laughter" is one thing Eva does because she thoroughly enjoys it. She gets back here Tuesday in time for the play, and later in the week she will do "The Vagabond" on Matinee Theater.

I asked Eva if she is going to marry John Mills of the Les Ambassadeurs in London. Said Eva, "Absolutely not. I have made many mistakes in my life, but this won't be one of them."

NORFOLK, Va. (AP) — C. L. Taylor, assistant superintendent of a prison camp at Ahoskie, N. C., came here on vacation to get away from routine duties. At Ocean View beach he saw a familiar face — a man who had escaped from the camp just before Taylor's vacation started. Taylor interrupted his vacation to attend to duty.

Bette Davis Asks $85,000 in Damages

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Actress Bette Davis asks $85,000 damages for a tumble she took into a basement.

Her suit says that when she was shown a house she rented last June, a door leading to the basement was described to her as opening on a closet.

So she was not expecting a "precipitous, ladder-type" stairway when she opened the door six days ago and fell, the complaint adds. It says she suffered spinal and other injuries.

The suit was brought against Ronald L. Buck and Mrs. Ann M. Buck, identified as owners of the house, and Mrs. Lelah T. Pierson and Mrs. Jeanette M. Clark, real estate agents.

LAKELAND, Fla.—Earl Torgeson, the oft-traveled first baseman of the Chicago White Sox, let it be known how he feels about the Tigers.

When the Sox arrived in Lakeland this week to play the Tigers, Torgy stopped at the batting cage while Catcher Charley Lau was hitting and cracked, "Don't look too good, Charley, or they will send you down."

These words had a tone of bitterness. Last season in training camp when Ray Boone was being groomed for first base, Torgy laughed at the experiment. He let it be known that putting Jim Finigan on third base and relieving him at first base was implying that Finigan was a bigger asset to the club.

"If I can't help this club more than Finigan can, then I shouldn't be here," Torgeson was quoted as saying. He thought Boone should have stayed at third and he should have been given the opportunity to play first.

It didn't work out, as he and Finigan both were traded. "That was our best move last year when we gave the Tigers Dave Philley for Torgeson," remarked a member of the Sox organization, "he helped us tremendously, in the late stretch."

"We sure pulled one over on the Tigers," the speaker added. "It was as good as the Billy Pierce swap for Aaron Robinson," he continued.

The Tigers, however, now figure it is their turn to pull the wool over "trader" Frank Lane. This is in reference to the trade which brought Jim Hegan and Hank Aguirre to Detroit for J. W. Porter and Hal Woodeshick.

The White Sox are counting heavily on Kalamazoo's Ron Jackson, and if the 6-foot-7 first baseman makes the grade like Al Lopez feels he will, then Torgeson and Walt Dropo won't both be needed.

And Lane still figures Vic Wertz is in need of help at the initial sack, so what is wrong with the possibility that Lane may again go after Torgeson?

DITTOS FROM THE PRESS BOX

The 19-page "thesis" printed by White Sox vice-president Chuck Comiskey detailing the simplified pennant road for the Chicagoans this year was passed out to all the writers covering the Tiger training camp.

The essence of all 8,000 words in Comiskey's Credo is "We've got the pitching, we'll murder them all." How about the hitting, Chuck?

The Tigers are playing the Red Sox at Sarasota today and one bit of humor which came off the diamond was: "Gee, I hope Jimmy Piersall doesn't get on base because if Lou Skizas is playing third and Piersall gets over there, we may have to call time out while they have a conversation." Both are noted for saying a few words at every sack on the base paths.

Tigers Slam Six Homers in 8-6 Victory

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

LAKELAND, Fla.—A guy on a new relaxed spring training program and another just up out of a flu bed flexed their muscles for two homers each here Thursday as the Detroit Tigers tucked away their second Grapefruit League victory over tthe Kansas City Athletics, 8 to 6.

Homer heroes for the Bengals were Al Kaline, the brilliant outfielder who's been ordered to take it easy this spring, and second baseman Frank Bolling, ailing through most of the exhibition season with a bad case of infectious flu.

In fact, the Tigers really had on their home run clothes. Others were clouted by third baseman Lou Skizas and catcher Jim Hegan, who caught his first innings for the Bengals since being obtained in a winter trade with the Cleveland Indians.

Hegan and Kaline each blasted liners into the bleachers in straightaway center at the 380-foot mark and they likely would have been triples under normal season conditions.

Bolling, Kaline, Skizas and Hegan each homered in a six-run, six-hit explosion in the third.

Kansas City roared back with four in the top of the eighth off Hank Aguirre, Tiger lefthander who worked the final three innings after Bob Shaw had gone through the sixth.

Shaw, the Cuban League hotshot, strengthened his bid to stick with the varsity by allowing the A's only two runs and three hits in the time he worked.

Ralph Terry, Howard Reed and Tom Gorman worked for the A's. Reed, a 22-year-old from Dallas without pro experience, was highly impressive. He worked four innings, allowing only two hits, and was constantly ahead of the Tiger hitters, much to the pleasure of manager Harry Craft.

Two ex-Tigers swapped to KC in the big winter trade saw service.

Frank House caught six innings, going hitless in two trips, and Bill Tuttle played right field. He popped to the catcher, went out twice on infield bounces and flied to center. His play, as it had been rough most of last season with the Tigers, appeared to lack fire or enthusiasm.

Red Sox Apply Latest Whitewash, 1-0

Yankees Absorb 3rd Shutout

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

It made Ol' Casey mad. But that's not the only reason Stengel is angry. His Yankees need some willows with base hits in them.

The American League champs took another one on the chin yesterday, dropping a 1-0 verdict to the Boston Red Sox for their fifth loss and third whitewashing in six exhibition starts.

Immediately after the game, Stengel alerted regulars Hank Bauer, Bill Skowron and Gil McDougald. "Be ready to work by the week-end," he told the tender-armed trio. "We gotta win a ball game pretty soon."

And in commenting on the $45 bill he received from a tree nursery in Wisconsin for "one weeping willow delivered at Glendale, Calif.," Casey said, "The guy who pulled the joke is going to find it expensive, because the willow goes right back unless the New York club wants to pay for it."

The Milwaukee "willows" raked Johnny Podres for six runs in the first two innings as the Braves defeated the Los Angeles Dodgers 8-2. Doubles by Andy Pafko, Johnny Logan and Felix Mantilla featured a four-run outburst by the Braves in the second inning. Filipe Montemayor homered for Los Angeles.

The San Francisco Giants had better luck. They clobbered the Chicago Cubs 13-2 behind the slugging of Daryl Spencer, who had two home runs and a pair of singles. Jim Davenport, rookie third baseman, also homered for the Giants.

In other games, Roy McMillan hit a three-run homer and led Cincinnati to a 7-3 triumph over Pittsburgh; Minnie Minoso's third-inning double drove in the only runs as Cleveland blanked Baltimore 2-0; Washington clubbed Jack Sanford for eight runs in whipping Philadelphia 9-1 and Gene Green's single in the 14th enabled St. Louis to nip the Chicago White Sox 3-2.

In other news, World Series star Lew Burdette ended his 12-day holdout and signed with the Milwaukee Braves for a reported $35,000 . . . shortstop Don Buddin of the Boston Red Sox was given a hardship discharge from the Army and will report to the team this weekend . . . and Jim Gallagher, former general manager of the Cubs joined the Phillies' farm system. He will help farm director Eugene Margin.

TRIPLE BECOMES DAMAGING BLOW—Detroit Tiger centerfielder Harvey Kuenn is about to be hit on the elbow with ball thrown from the outfield as he slides into third on a third-inning triple yesterday at Lakeland, Fla. Kansas City third baseman Hector Lopez was awaiting relay of centerfielder Woody Held's throw from shortstop Billy Hunter. Kuenn was removed from the game, which the Tigers won by an 8-6 score.

Managers Delay Drive for Title

Kearns, Petroskey at Odds Over Plans for Kenny Lane's Future

Lane, a Muskegon boy who turned professional in 1953, has been the No. 1 National Boxing Assn. lightweight contender more than a year but still is waiting for a title bout with champion Joe Brown.

The NBA has ordered Brown to fight Lane by April 15 or vacate his title, but co-manager Jack Kearns has reversed the situation by saying Lane will fight the winner of a proposed match between Brown and Ralph Dupas.

Lane's other co-manager Pete Petroskey, expressed "utter disgust" at Kearns' plan and added:

"I was not consulted. I didn't authorize Kearns to make the statement. I am not going to go along with it. I am going to hold to the NBA order."

Big Home 'Gate' Seen for Giants

Stoneham Says Club Will Eventually Top LA Dodgers

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — President Horace Stoneham of the Giants predicts that over the years his club will draw more fans in San Francisco than the Dodgers in Los Angeles.

This despite the fact Los Angeles County with four million people is about twice as large as the northern California bay area.

"San Francisco is a better sports town all around than Los Angeles," Stoneham said. "The next couple of years those big opening crowds in the Los Angeles Coliseum (102,000 capacity) will give the Dodgers a big edge in home attendance.

"But when we get in our park, I'm sure over the years we'll outdraw them."

San Francisco will have its new stadium with 455,000 capacity in 1959.

Control of Boards Wins for Flint 'Y'

Superior height that permitted control of the rebounds, last night gave Flint YMCA cagers an advantage over the Pontiac "Y" club for a 76-63 victory. Win sends Flint against Owosso YMCA for the Northeastern District YMCA championship, the winner to represent the district in the state title tourney.

Player Delegates to Discuss Bill

May Oppose Change

CLEARWATER, Fla. (AP) — Player delegates of the 16 major league baseball clubs planned to meet in Florida next week to reconsider whether or not proposed Congressional legislation might be detrimental to the game.

The players voted unanimously at Key West, Fla., Feb. 8 to endorse the professional sports bill drafted by Rep. Celler (D-NY). However, several players are wondering now whether they might not have acted too hastily after learning that the club owners are opposed to the bill.

A decision was made to reconvene the 16 representatives, and Roberts called J. Norman Lewis, their attorney, in New York. Lewis said he would call a meeting for next week after talking with Roberts and Yost.

The proposed bill, which would put certain business aspects of all professional team sports under federal control, is sponsored by Celler, Chairman of the House anti-trust Subcommittee.

It would exempt from federal control such practices as the contract reserve clause when they are "reasonably necessary" to continue the sport on its present footing.

Celler claims the "reasonably necessary" clause would protect any player against arbitrary action by club owners, but Keating charged it would result in a great many lawsuits.

BEARS WATCHING — Eyes focused sharply on target, Detroit Tiger rookie righthander Bob (Buck) Shaw is about to deliver curve ball pitch against Kansas City Athletic batter in Thursday's exhibition game at Lakeland, Fla. Shaw, Cuban winter league sensation as a 16-game winner, is trying to win a regular job with the Tigers. He yielded only three hits and two runs against the A's. The Tigers won the game, 8-6.

Bruins Trim Montreal, 7-3

Toppazzini, Plante Injured

BOSTON (AP) — Boston's playoff stock has tumbled a little with the loss of Jerry Toppazzini while Montreal has retained the services of goalie Jacques Plante by the narrowest of margins.

Both players were injured last night as the Bruins defeated the Canadiens 7-3 in the only National Hockey League action and edged ahead of Detroit into third place.

The Bruins are a cinch to make the Stanley Cup Playoffs but their chances once they reach the post-season competition have fallen off.

Winger Toppazzini, hustling penalty killer and 24-goal scorer for the team, will not play again this year because of an injury to his right eye in the first period.

Toppazzini ran into a stick behind the Montreal goal and fell to the ice in pain, clutching his bleeding right eye. Later it was reported that the hemorrhaging was within the eye itself, that there was no danger of losing the eye and that Toppazzini should be all right to play next season.

Plante was injured in the middle period when teammate Doug Harvey hurled Boston's Vic Stasiuk into the goal which in turn knocked Plante back where his head hit the crossbar.

Jacques, leading candidate for the Vezina Trophy with a 2.09 goal per game average going into the contest, was helped off the ice and rushed to a hospital where it was learned he had a concussion.

Plante is expected to be ready for action this weekend.

Delany Takes Another Crack at Record

A capacity 10,000 in the International Amphitheater will watch the Irish Olympic champion scurry after the world mark of 4:03.6 which he missed by only a tenth of a second last month.

Four other Olympic gold medal winners will perform in the meet. Delany has won the Olympic 1,500-meter event.

Delany, seeking his 23rd consecutive indoor victory at the distance, defends the Banker's Mile title he won last year in 4:03.8.

The world record of 4:03.6 was set by Denmark's Gunnar Nielsen in New York in 1955. Delany was clocked in 4:03.7 in the National AAU Championships in New York last month.

It probably is tonight or never this year for Delany. He makes his final indoor appearance in Cleveland next week and there he must travel 12 laps to the mile. Tonight, he needs to circle the spruce boards only 11 times the same number he did in his near record-matching effort last month.

He has three rivals, including Burr Grim of the University of Maryland; Jim Beatty, formerly of North Carolina, and Phil Coleman of Chicago. Delany and Grim had a little body-checking episode last week as the Irishman triumphed in the mile feature of the K. of C. Meet in New York.

Burkemo 4 Strokes Back

Hawkins Leads With 66

PENSACOLA, Fla. (AP) — Fred Hawkins, playing the best golf of his 10-year pro career, was the pace-setter in today's second round of the $15,000 Pensacola Open tournament.

Hawkins had collected seven birdies on the first 13 holes.

PGA officials said the nine birdies Hawkins had for the round were the most scored on a single round since the start of the winter tournaments.

Another stroke back were Bo Wininger of Odessa, Tex., Frank Stranahan of Toledo, Ohio, and Don Whitt of Alameda, Calif.

Missed Free Throws Spoil Chance at Tie

Three straight misses from the foul line, in the final minute of last night's Waterford Recreation Basketball league game, cost M59 Sunoco Club a tie with Ryeson Market. Ryeson led 51-49 at the time, would up winning by that count. Game, at Crary Junior High gymnasium, was the only league action, Thursday.

Ryeson led all the way except for a 1st period Sunoco edge. Halftime count was 30-24. Sunoco outscored Ryeson in the finale, 15-10. Win leaves Ryeson in 3rd place (7-4), Sunoco 5th (4-6).

34th Consecutive Win

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP) — Drury Gallagher of Fordham last night captured his 34th straight race of the season in the 1500 meter free style event of the Eastern Intercollegiate Swimming League.

Steering Committee Named for 'Y' Meet

A four-member "steering" committee has been announced by chairman of the Michigan YMCA weight-lifting championships here on Saturday, April 12.

T. J. Martinez, better known as "Marty," last night was selected as chairman for the event. Marty immediately made known his committee aides.

They are Gary O'Neil, Gary Eley, Pete Bisbikis and Larry Blain. The group will be responsible for publicizing the meet, ticket sales, procurement of trophies and actual conduct of the event.

Selection of the committee was made at a YMCA weightlifting club session at the Pontiac 'Y' last night.

Title meet takes place in the Pontiac 'Y' gymnasium, and entries were expected from Grand Rapids, Lansing, and Bay City as well as from many other state communities.

YOU'RE THE MANAGER

(Fifth of a series)

By BEN OLAN

Fred Haney led the Milwaukee Braves to their first National League pennant and World Championship in 1957. In contrast to the previous season when his strategy was generally criticized, Haney was voted the National League Manager of the Year last October.

Here's a chance to match wits with the manager of the World Champions. In the following instance, Haney's decision turned out to be correct. If you were the Braves' skipper what would you have done?

Would you:

a. Let Pafko swing away?

b. Order Pafko to sacrifice?

c. Try a hit-and-run (hitting behind runner)?

FRED HANEY

d. Have Mathews try to steal second?

Other data: Pafko has one hit in three tries — a homer — in this game. Crandall has two for three and Torre is zero for two. Mathews has two stolen bases in 85 games for the year.)

PCH Eyes Quarter-Final Spot in Showdown Tilt at Livonia

By BILL CORNWELL

With their knees still a little shaky after Wednesday's narrow escape, the Pontiac Central Chiefs return to the Livonia Bentley gymnasium tonight in quest of a Class A regional basketball title.

Host Bentley will be their opponent as the two schools struggle for a berth in next week's state quarter-finals. Game time is 8:30 p.m.

Top-heavy favorites in view of their lopsided 71-41 victory over Waterford during the regular season, the Chiefs were forced to go all out for a 48-42 triumph.

It was a rude awakening for the Chiefs, who hadn't even perspired heavily while mopping up Southfield and Farmington in last week's district play.

Pontiac eventually defeated the Skippers because of greater reserve strength and better scoring balance. PCH will not be able to dispose of Bentley on those qualities.

There is every indication that Bentley can match the Chiefs in firepower and the Bulldogs also boast skilled replacements on the bench. In addition, they have the height to give Pontiac rough competition under the backboards.

Scoring stars Ron Gable and George King, along with Jim Carmichael, stand 6-foot-2 or higher. All three are tough around the boards as Catholic Central will testify after being eliminated by Bentley in Tuesday's regional opener.

Bentley's strength does not stop there, however. Guards Tom Eveland and Don Phillipi are standout backcourt performers, Eveland furnishing the scoring punch and Phillipi excelling as a playmaker.

Another big problem confronting the Chiefs this evening is the home floor advantage. PCH has to argue with the Bulldogs in their own backyard.

Pontiac will have to call upon all the depths of its talent if a spot in the quarter-finals is to be realized. From the quarter-final lies three giant steps to the state Class A championship.

Troy, Keego Favored

By CHUCK ABAIR

Its post-time for the remaining entries in the local Class B regional basketball tournament at the Pontiac Central gym tonight as a big doubleheader determines Saturday's finalists.

The opener of the program would likely draw an overflow crowd alone with highly-ranked Troy taking on a strong Rochester five at 7 but an all-Wayne-Oakland 2nd game matching West Bloomfield and Brighton is almost certain to force tourney officials to put up the SRO sign early.

Survivors of the rugged twin-bill will return to PCH tomorrow for an 8 p.m. clash and a berth in the state quarter-finals next week.

Going on past records, unbeaten Troy (18-0) and West Bloomfield (10-8) have to be rated the favorites to keep rolling.

Troy, with one the best balanced teams in the area, dominated the Oakland B loop and knocked over teams from other leagues along the way as well as some independents. One of those independents was Rochester by an impressive 47-32 score.

West Bloomfield not only has a better record than Brighton's 8-9 but more important whipped the Bulldogs twice during the regular season. The Keego gang romped 63-43 early and added a 63-58 verdict last month.

But past records are of little importance at tournament time.

Rochester has been going strong all year despite five losses and hit peak form in the district here last week. So a Falcon victory would be no great surprise.

Brighton's record is deceiving since the Bulldogs lost several close ones. Coach Harry Fosdick has proven he can get his boys "way up" on occasion looking back at those upsets of Clarkston and Northville and tourney triumphs over Milford, Howell and Marysville.

It should be mighty interesting regardless of how things work out. Outstanding individuals Dick Booth and Wayne Figley (Troy), John Lucadam and Jim Hollister (Keego), Carl Montross and Gene Lothery (Rochester) and big Brian Watson of Brighton are expected to keep the scorekeepers busy throughout the evening.

The tourney champion will be the only area "B" team remaining in the race for state honors. Warren was eliminated last night by 1957 runnerup Harper Woods, 64-57.

Ferndale, Parkers Collide

Ferndale and Highland Park, season-long basketball powers in Class A ranks, collide in the Birmingham High School gym tonight for a regional crown and a trip to next week's state quarter-finals.

The two teams will tip off at 8 o'clock in a game which matches a couple of Michigan's brightest prep stars—"Jumping" Gene Lawson of Highland Park and Ferndale's Earl McNeal.

Ferndale reached the regional final with an easy conquest of outclassed Royal Oak Dondero. The Parkers found the road to the title round a little more rugged as they eked out a four-point victory over strong Berkley.

Another Class A regional championship will be decided tonight at East Detroit where another pair of state powerhouses — Detroit Austin Catholic and Grosse Pointe —play for keeps in an 8 o'clock duel. Austin is Michigan's only unbeaten Class A team.

The anticipated all-city regional final between Flint Northern and Flint Central failed to materialize after Saginaw Arthur Hill pulled an astounding upset Thursday night at the Flint IMA.

Arthur Hill, which finished next to the cellar in the Saginaw Valley this year, stunned runner-up Northern yesterday, 48-37. Flint Central, the Valley champ, scored a 60-53 victory over Alpena and will meet Arthur Hill Saturday night at 9:30 for the Class A regional title.

Women's Tourney Resumes

Pin Champs Begin Defense

Defending champions in all divisions will be in action Saturday and Sunday at Huron Bowl highlighting the middle weekend of the three - week city bowling tournament for women.

Featuring the Saturday night program will be the appearance of the Ward's Furniture team on the 9 p.m. squad. Gerry Hintz and Shirley Pointer, doubles winners last year, and singles king Eleanor Baxter will compete Sunday afternoon at 4.

Both Saturday squads will be at night for teams. Sunday action begins at 10 p.m. and continues through 6:30 p.m. for singles, doubles and team play.

Huron Bowl No. 3 took the team lead last weekend with 3048. A Pontiac duo of Gerry Weber - Phyllis Shaul paced doubles entries with 1286 and Mary Steward of Rochester topped the board in singles with 685.

College Quintets Go Title-Hunting

Leading Powers See Action

The Associated Press

The NCAA has the big-school field all to itself today in four regional tournaments. The NIT in New York takes a day off after opening round victories by St. John's of New York and St. Joseph's of Philadelphia.

Among the small colleges, two upstarts, South Dakota and St. Michaels of Vermont, meet in Evansville, Ind., for the NCAA small college crown after upset victories in the semifinals.

In Kansas City, the semifinals of the NAIA match defending champion Tennessee State and Texas Southern in one game and unbeaten Western Illinois and Georgetown of Kentucky in the other. The winners meet Saturday night for the championship.

Tonight's NCAA double-headers at Charlotte, N.C., Lexington, Ky., Lawrence, Kan., and San Francisco will reduce that field to eight. After the regional finals Saturday, only four will remain to battle it out at Louisville March 21-22.

Lawrence — Cincinnati, No. 2 (24-2), vs. Kansas State, No. 3 (20-3); Oklahoma State, No. 19 (20-7), vs. Arkansas (15-8).

Charlotte — Maryland, No. 6 (21-6), vs. Temple, No. 5 (24-2); Manhattan 16-8) vs. Dartmouth 21-4).

Lexington — Kentucky, No. 9 (19-6), vs. Miami (Ohio) (18-7); Notre Dame, No. 8 (23-4), vs. Indiana, No. 12 (12-10).

San Francisco — San Francisco, No. 4 (25-1), vs. Seattle, No. 18 (20-5); Idaho State (22-4) vs. California (18-8).

St. John's got off on the right foot in the NIT after a slow start by downing Butler 83-72. St. Joseph's moved up with an 83-72 conquest of St. Peter's of Jersey City.

The semifinals of the NCAA small college tourney produced the big surprises. South Dakota tripped defending champion Wheaton, winner of 27 of its previous 28 games, 66-40. St. Michael's turned back highly regarded Evansville 78-70.

The NAIA ran mostly true to form as Western Illinois chalked up its 26th successive victory with a 70-67 decision over Youngstown and Tennessee State whipped East Texas 81-62. Texas Southern gained the round of four by turning back Coe 98-78 and Georgetown upset West Virginia Wesleyan 83-74.

Maples Send 13 to State Event

One of the strongest teams in years to represent Birmingham High in the MHSAA swimming championships, will seek to improve on its 1957 position, in tonight's and Saturday's current Class A title meet in the U. of M. pool at Ann Arbor. Maples were 5th a year ago.

Jay Myers' team numbers 13, led by defending state titlist Tom Bechtel in the 400-yard and 200-yard freestyle events. Tom is unbeaten in his specialties this year, or last. He has bettered the state mark of 4:26.6 several times, with his best time 4:19.5. Tom, and diver Fred Wickham are in action tonight, in the 400 and diving, only events listed today. Other preliminaries and finals are set for Saturday.

Pontiac will have two swimmers in the meet, Gideon Robarge in the 100-yard orthodox breaststroke and Duke Cummins in the 50-yard freestyle. Both qualified at the recent SC title meet.

Royal Oak Kimball's Barry Johnson also qualified in the butterfly, along with the Kimball freestyle relay team. Maples have two relay teams among their entries. Birmingham's qualifiers are, besides Bechtel and Wickham: Pete Sintz (unbeaten this year in 50-100-yard freestyle), Pete Palmer, Dave Smith, Bill Buick, Dave Rider, Jim Peters, Bob Sintz, Dennis Collins, Jim Walls, Les Harber and Bill Driver.

THURSDAY'S FIGHTS

Pontiac Entries in Briar Hill Ski Meet

MESICK (AP)—Some 40 ski Michigan ski jumpers are expected at this north central Michigan town this weekend for the annual Briar Hill ski club championships Sunday.

Jumpers are expected from Ishpeming, Iron Mountain, Pontiac and Detroit.

Club officials said the meet is not sanctioned and anyone can compete. Competition will be in the junior and senior class.

Afternoon TV Game Begins Playoff Grind

Best-of-Three Lidlifter at University of Detroit Fieldhouse

DETROIT (AP)—Red Rocha, coach of the Detroit Pistons, would be well advised to hang on to that lucky coin that gave him the home floor advantage in his National Basketball Assn. playoff series with the Cincinnati Royals.

The way these two teams have fared against each other this season he's apt to need a coin toss before the series is over.

Cincinnati closed fast and gained a second place Western Division tie with the Pistons. They meet here Saturday afternoon (2 p.m.) in a nationally televised game (NBC) to open the best-of-three series. The second game will be Sunday afternoon in Cincinnati and the third, if needed, back here Tuesday night.

During the regular 71-game season Detroit and Cincinnati met 12 times and split even. In the dozen contests the Royals outscored the Pistons 1,242 to 1,207—the slight 35-point margin representing only about 10 minutes of scoring in the fast professional game.

At no stage of the season did either of the teams win two games in a row from the other one.

Detroit won the home floor advantage when Rocha outguessed coach Bobby Wanzer of Cincinnati on the coin flip after the regular season ended Wednesday night.

Although the game will be on Detroit's "home court," the actual playing site will be the University of Detroit Fieldhouse, where the Pistons have practiced regularly, instead of Olympia Stadium, home of all NBA games in Detroit this season.

An ice show forced basketball out of Olympia tomorrow. A hockey game has the stadium tied up Tuesday night.

"We know it better than we do the Olympia floor," said Phil Jordan of the Pistons, referring to the University site. "We've practiced there all year."

Only Base Snow in Most Areas

Skiing Condition Spotty

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Only base snow was reported in most areas and that was melting. However, open areas reported good corn snow skiing.

The Michigan Tourist Assn. reported these conditions:

MIO MT.: 3 base. Good.

SKYLINE: 4-6 base. Corn skiing good.

WATERS SKI VILLAGE, Snow Valley, Sylvan Knob, Au Sable Ranch & Ski Club and Otsego Ski Club, near Gaylord: 4-8 base. Good.

BRIAR HILL at Mesick: 6-10 base. Good. Limited basis. Spring jump meet, 2 p.m., Sunday.

CABERFAE near Caddillac: 2-4 base. 8 inches artificial on two runs. Good.

MANISTEE SKI AREA: 4-12 granular base. Excellent.

Six Experts to Discuss Lawn, Tree and Shrub Care

Schedule Two Public Meetings

Local Groups Sponsor First Citywide Garden Clinic Next Week

By SYLVIA de STEIGER
Garden Editor

The basic ingredients for a beautiful outdoor living room are lawns, trees and shrubs and these are the first items which should be on an early spring agenda.

Next week Pontiac residents will have the opportunity for the first time to learn all about these three topics during two information meetings.

Six city, county and state experts will be on hand to outline the steps which should be taken to start as well as maintain home grounds.

Pontiac Central High School auditorium will be the site of both meetings which begin at 7:30 p.m. and are open to the public without charge.

Sponsors of the program, "Building Your Outdoor Living Area," are the Pontiac Press, the Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce, the Pontiac Parks and Recreation Department and the Michigan State University Oakland County Extension Service.

Tuesday night, the 1½ hour meeting will be concerned with lawns.

DISCUSS SEED VARIETIES

Assistant county agricultural agent Jay Poffenberger will present the facts concerning soils needed for lawns including top soils, subsoils, mucks, soil testing and liming.

Proper lawn maintenance such as fertilizing, mowing and watering will be the topic of William Aho, city park supervisor.

Some solutions and tips on renovating old lawns and weed control plus the problems of renewing old, neglected lawns will be explained by Wayne Siefert, county assistant agricultural agent.

Thursday evening, the clinic will be devoted to shade and ornamental trees and shrubs.

Former city forester Harold Schick will speak and show slides on how to select a good tree or shrub. Schick is now an extension specialist in park management at Michigan State University.

TO TELL ABOUT DISEASES

Nagel will discuss the transplanting and care of young trees. Siefert will stress the diseases and insects of local trees and Aho will speak on pruning and fertilizing trees.

Following each of the two meetings a discussion and question and answer period will be held.

The speakers will also have demonstrations and examples of the processes they recommend and explain.

LEARN HOW TO HAVE A LAWN LIKE THIS TUESDAY

Garden, Gardener Benefit From Exercise With Spade

To one unfamiliar with it, spading might well appear to be an onerus chore, to be delayed or avoided whenever possible. Actually, eight hours work, spread over as many days, will give the gardener 1,500 square feet of spaded soil — and, no sore muscles.

Gardening experts agree that there is no substitute for spading or plowing. In a small garden, of course, plowing is impractical, so the home gardener usually must rely on his spade.

Faced with a spading job, the novice gardener would be only human if he asked himself, "Why do it, anyway?"

Roots must have air and water, and unless these essential elements can penetrate the soil, the plants are starved.

TAKE IT EASY

Like any job, spading is easier when it is done systematically. To begin, don't try to turn over your whole garden in one day.

It is important that you don't skimp on the depth of your spading. Limit the area that you spade each day, rather than the depth to which the soil is turned.

Drive the spade straight down, not at an angle, so that you get the full benefit of its 12-inch blade.

The first day, spade as much as you can without tiring. Let that be your guide for succeeding days' work. When you know about how much one hour's work is, translated into the amount of soil spaded, you can mark off each day's stint in advance.

At one end of the area to be spaded, open a trench, piling the soil removed to one side. Then, dig an adjoining trench, with the spade at right angles to the first trench. Continue digging these trenches until you reach the end of the day's allotted work, filling each preceding trench with soil from the trench you are digging. The last trench is filled with the soil taken from the first.

There are divided schools of thought on the depth of spading necessary. For centuries, English gardeners have used the "trenching' method, which requires the soil to be turned over to the depth of two spades, or two feet. While not an essential rule of thumb — or spade — "trenching" might be a helpful guide for the beginner.

It is most often used by American gardeners when they are working with roses, perennials and some annual crops. It is largely regarded as unnecessary in this country for vegetables and annual flowers, but it is a recommended method for preparing a perennial bed, where the plants are to grow for several years without disturbance.

IT'S ABOUT THAT TIME

Something New

Beginning next Friday, something new will be added to each of the farm and garden pages this year.

Since there are 27 branches of the Woman's National Farm and Garden Association, Inc. throughout the area, one member from each club will be invited to write an article on some gardening hobby.

Their advice and/or experiences concerning a specific topic should aid our readers in planning and maintaining their gardens through the spring, summer and fall.

Although they will probably not be experts in the field by profession, their interest in nature and devotedness to their hobby will bring out many interesting and worthwhile tips for gardeners to try.

The first article, written by Mrs. James C. Clarke, a member of the Pontiac branch of the Woman's National Farm and Garden Association, Inc., will discuss Begonias.

Spray to Halt Tree Growth—No Cutting

NEW YORK (AP) — Electric power and telephone workers may be able to spare your tree when they come to clear the utility lines in the backyard.

That's the word from the chemical industry, which says it has a product capable of slowing the growth of trees without injuring them.

If successful, the product may reduce sharply the estimated 135 million dollars spent yearly to keep trees from growing across utility wires.

In field tests, the sprayed limbs stopped growing—in some cases for a full season—while the trees grew normally. Tests are continuing.

Give Tools a Soaping

Roof Gardeners Battle Soot, Win

Manhattan Skyscraper Inhabitants Organize; Have Usual Problems

NEW YORK (INS) — Some of the best amateur "green thumbs" in America are conquering soot and lack of soil to raise gardens high on Manhattan skyscrapers.

They are a new breed of gardeners, recently organized as "The Rooftop Gardeners," and now showing their first exhibit at the International Flower Show in New York City.

"There's nothing we can do about the soot," said Club Chairman Mrs. Harry Schwartz to visitors to the exhibit. "We endure it. I've endured it for 34 years, and you water. You have to water every day."

Mrs. Schwartz' garden is high on a rooftop on Fifth Avenue. She started it in the mid 1920's, and now her tallest tree, a lovely Honey Locust, is more than 30 feet high.

USES FEATHER DUSTER

Mrs. Edmund P. Lord, secretary of the club, said she had found one fairly successful way to deal with soot. She uses a feather duster.

The 39-odd members of the Rooftop Gardeners have all the problems of normal gardeners out in the country.

"We have every kind of bug," Mrs. Schwartz said, Japanese beetles, mosquitos and other invaders. I even had a bat."

"We believe in organic gardening," Mrs. Lord said. "I've grown tomatoes, squash, carrots, onions, beets. Only my corn wasn't successful. It turned out very small.

Homesite Trees Play Vital Role in Building

The giant trees on th wooded home site may have overwhelming sales appeal but they are not always a priceless aset. If you're planning to keep only big tres and remove smaller kinds when you build, chances are this won't be considered the best practice by the professional tree mn.

Size i a subordinate factor in retaining as much of the natural landscaping as is advisable. Much more important is the horticultural decor provided. This includes a variety of trees to bring piasing effects of color, texture, habit and form, as well as shade.

A fully wooded site might call for as much as 60 to 70 per cent removal of existing trees during the process of development. This is to accommodate streets, housing, utilities, driveways, walkways, grade changes, lawns and the like. As a result, expert tree selection is a "must" in selecting the best from what is left.

The professional tree man or landscape architect should be invited to look over your property and consult with your architect in determining the proper placement of the home, roadways and utilities.

Time to Trim, Fertilize

Hedges Are Purposeful, Attractive Around Home

By WAYNE B. SIEFERT
County Horticultural Agent

Trimmed hedges are certainly useful plants for the home property.

Some people value them most as a screen. Others feel they are most valuble as a barrier to children and pets or an attractive border planting near the sidewalk, drive or property line.

No matter what is the primary purpose, there is still the desire to keep up shape and appearance. Propably the toughest job is to get growth near the ground. To avoid an exposed bare area beneath the hedge, trimming should produce a hedge that is wider at the bottom. The hedge cross section should be "A" shaped, not "V" shaped.

When new plantings first begin to grow, the many branches near the base of the plant as a foundation for a beautiful planting is of concern. Whether evergreen or or non-evergreen plants are used, it is necessary to prune them down to six to nine inches immediately following planting. This starts an abundance of new branches very low and rather bushy.

CULTIVATE HEDGE ROW

For the remainder of this first year no further trimming should be done. Cultivating in the hedge row and using a tablespoon of fertilizer per plant will also be beneficial.

In the second spring, the plants should be rather heavily pruned to remove one half on the previous summer's growth. Double the fertilizer application of the previous year. When a uniform growth of 12 inches is present, (during the summer) make a second trimming, removing six inches of this new top growth.

In the third spring, again remove about one-half of the previous summer's growth and increase the fertilizer application to three full tablespoons. By the third year, the hedge should begin to take on a little size and the basic shape should be come

A hedge wide at the bottom and narrow at the top is far better than the reverse. This is important to allow the lower branches plenty of sunlight so they will continue to bear profuse foliage to the ground.

Plants such as privet may require several trimmings during a season, while plants like English Holly or Hemlock might rarely need pruning once the basic shape and size is achieved.

RENOVATE OVERGROWN

Often hedges are so overgrown they require severe cutting back. In shady locations, such as under large trees or near buildings, the cutting back should be less severe than if the hedge is in full sunlight.

If the non-evergreens are in full sunlight and the soil is reasonably well drained, they will tolerate really rough treatment. Unless they are extremely large, they can be cut back to 8 to 12 inches off the ground. This should be done during March and April.

During the first year following severe pruning, good spreading growth near the ground is most important. When 18 inches of new growth appears, prune back one-half.

Early spring pruning is the best. In any event, do not prune severely after July 15. Fertilize each plant at the rate of one tablespoon of 10-10-10 or 12-12-12 or any suitable lawn fertilizer.

During the spring of the second year, again prune one-half of the previous summer's new growth and apply two tablespoons of fertilizer per plant.

Beginning with the third year the fertilizer rate should be three tablespoons per plant. Continue at this rate each succeeding year. Early spring is the best season for fertilizer application.

Evergreens such as hemlock, cedar, holly and boxwood cannot stand severe (off at the ground) trimming. When many of the lower limbs are broken or missing or it has reached too great a size, pruning back to three or four year wood is considered very severe pruning.

Usually they will survive this very well, but for each situation a short portion of the hedge should be used as a test area. Again fertilizing at the rate of three tablespoons per plant will greatly assist this plant in recovery.

Time to Prepare Tree Planting Activities

Make plans for spring tree planting activities now says Jay Poffenberger, assistant county agricultural agent.

One of the best uses of land is tree farming because the trees protect and improve the land as well as increase its value.

An acre of Christmas trees, if properly managed, will be worth several hundred dollars when they are 10 years old, he added. If the trees are left for reforestation they will greatly increase the land value.

It takes about 1,200 trees to plant one acre of land for Christmas trees. Windbreaks should be planted at least three rows wide, with trees 8 to 10 feet apart.

Michigan Flower Show Slated for March 22-30

The 1958 Michigan Flower and Home Show held at the Michigan State Fair Grounds, is scheduled for March 22-30, according to Werner M. Hoy, of Davisburg, general manager of the show.

The show is sponsored by the Michigan Horticultural Society. This year the group will present the flower arrangements section and "The Bailey Legacy", based on the life of Liberty Hyde Bailey, horticulturist.

ADDITIONAL FEATURES

Proper use of building materials as a garden element, a rose garden with 75 bushes and 25 tree roses, a woodland trail and view of wild flowers; a 500 square foot cacti garden with a Mexican motif and a garden with trees and shrubs which provide food and nesting materials for birds will be included in the many exhibits.

The doors will be open from noon to 11 p.m. weekdays and 10 a.m. to 11 p.m. Saturday and Sunday, Hoy added.

Plant Shade Trees First, Arborists Say

In landscaping a new property, shade trees should be planted first, advises the National Arborist Association.

The reason is a simple one. Shade trees tak longer to mature and a few years headstart in planting shade trees may make the difference between a fairly large tree which will give some shade at least, and a small tree which gives little usable shade.

Most shade trees will grow a foot or more a year. On the other hand, plots seedd with grass in the fall wil make a lawn the following sparing. By planting the slower growing trees first a better overall landscaping effect in framing the house is obtained faster than by reversing the order.

Wise Gardeners Shape Up Tools Now

By MR. FIX
Distributed by NEA Service

The big job every handy man-gardener faces right now — if he can tear himself away from seed catalogs — is the task of getting yard equipment in order.

Begin your chore by cleaning the tools. A wire brush will take off the biggest part of both rust and dirt, a little steel wool and oil will finish the job nicely. Once you've removed the rust, go over all metal parts with an oil-soaked rag. Even though you'll be using the implements soon, rust can develop in a hurry.

Check metal edges of tool for sharpness. This applies to hoes and spades as well as pruning shears. Moisture and rust dulls the edges of all tools.

FILE NICKS, BENT CORNERS

Check spades and hoes for nicks or bent corners. File down, and edge on a short, rather than long, bevel to help prevent further nicks. Additional slight, frequent sharpening during the gardening season will keep tools in condition and give insurance against an all-out sharpening session next season.

Examine wooden tool handles carefully for splinters. Sand lightly to remove splinters or any roughness that might make handling uncomfortable. A couple of coats of linseed oil will complete that job.

Some gardeners prefer to paint tool handles with a bright color. This is partly a safety precaution — you're not likely to step on a tool easily seen — and partly a matter of making it easy to find a tool if you've misplaced it in the garden.

Don't throw away a tool because of a broken or split handle. Your dealer stocks a replacement handle that will fit the tool. A hammer and vise are all the tools you'll need to perform a salvaging job.

First, remove any pin or nail holding tool and handle together. Then mount work in vise. Drive tool shank out of handle if it's of the shank type. If a socket-type tool is involved, drive remnant of handle out of socket. After new handle is set in place, fasten with long nail or pin.

Tools with moving parts should be lubricated. Nuts and bolts on shears and clippers should be oiled and tightened.

CHECK HOSE BREAKS

Replace washers in hose couplings. Check for breaks and splits in the hose. Cut out bad sections of hose and mend with special mender or splicer made for that purpose. Replace couplings if threads are stripped or if couplings leak.

Once your tools are in good gardening condition, store them properly. Hang tools, working edges up, whenever possible. Have a place for everything.

After you've done all those things, you can go back and enjoy your seed catalogs.

New Belgian Motel to Be Well-Equipped

ANTWERP — A bus company that is building the first motel in that part of Belgium in a suburb of Antwerp is going first class. The Lutchbal, as the establishment will be called, will have 72 rooms, a garage for 200 tourist cars, a service station and a big parking lot for heavy trucks which now are parked on the streets.

The motel will have four floors containing 72 rooms with baths. Each room will have two beds and a transformable couch. A large tavern and a restaurant with accommodations for 80 persons will be installed on the ground foor and room service will be available.

The truck parking lot will be enclosed and guarded, so the drivers can sleep in the motel.

Futures Turn Decidedly Weak

Even the old crop wheat contracts, which have been consistntly strong during the past several days of reports of a rapidly diminishing cash supply, came under fairly liberal offerings and those prices sagged along with nearly all the others.

Traders said commission houses were among the sellers and that the liquidation in wheat was primarily the result of the Senate action yesterday on the bills to extend all 1956 government farm price supports to the 1958 cropps.

Near the end of the first hour, wheat was ¼ to ⅞ cent a bushel lower, March $2.22⅝; corn ⅜ to ½ lower, March $1.15⅝; oats ⅛ lower, March 66⅞; rye ¼ to 1⅛ lower, March $1.35¼; soybeans ⅛ to ⅜ lower, March $2.22½; and lard 5 to 10 cents a hundred pounds higher, March $12.57.

Week-End Ease Trims Prices

Turnover slackened after some vigorous sessions and sizable gains earlier this week. Pre-weekend caution was in evidence along with mild profit taking.

The main economic indicators were still pointing downward and Wall Street seemed to have gotten over its exuberance about prospects of a tax cut.

An outside loser for the general price action was Youngstown Sheet which dropped about 2 points. The firm announced it took two open hearth furnaces out of production. U. S. Steel, Jones & Laughlin and Lukens dropped fractions.

Claims Rebels Get U.S. Arms

Premier in Indonesia Says Sumatra Forces Dropped Ammunition

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP)—Premier Djuanda claimed today that American-made arms and ammunition were dropped to the Central Sumatran rebels a few hours before Central Government troops captured the oil center of Pakanbaru.

"The arms could have been purchased from the United States by private persons who have become stooges of the rebels," he told newsmen.

A. H. Arnold, attorney for the American-owned Caltex Oil Co., said he hopes the Central Government will allow his company to resume operations in the Pakanbaru area. Arnold said Caltex employes in Pakanbaru reported all Americans safe and the oil installations undamaged.

Caltex has 125 million dollars worth of installations in the fields near Pakanbar and at Sumatra east coast ports captured by the Jakarta forces. Ships with food and supplies now are en route from Singapore to Caltex workers.

A correspondent of the government's Antara News Agency reported from Pakanbaru that large numbers of rebel troops fled after throwing away their arms, or surrendered.

Three hours after the government paratroop landing, life was back to normal in Pakanbaru, Antara said.

Chrysler Will Lay Off 1,000 in Indianapolis

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Chrysler Corp. will lay off 1,000 to 1,300 employes for one week in a temporary shutdown here "to permit balancing of inventories of production parts."

The layoff will start Monday. A Chrysler spokesman said yesterday that production will be resumed March 24 on an "adjusted schedule," with about 200 persons

Huron Street Crash Injures Two Persons

Two persons were injured yesterday in a two-car accident on W. Huron street, between Franklin boulevard and Prall.

A car driven by Ronald A. Barks, 17, of 53 James St., struck the rear of a car driven by Judson S. Sibley, 68, of 41 Oriole Rd., police said.

Plan $15 Million in Improvements

Libbey-Owens-Ford to Double Technical Center Under Capital Program

TOLEDO (AP) — Libbey-Owens-Ford Glass Co. has announced a 15 million dollar capital improvements program for 1958, with most of the outlay to go into doubling its technical center in Toledo.

The technical center project will include construction of two new buildings and a rotunda, all to be connected to the existing center by a concourse. Glass will be used extensively in the construction.

One of the buildings will be a 142 by 82 foot, two-floor and basement structure to serve as an engineering wing.

The other will be a 142 by 55 foot one-story administration wing, housing offices, cafeteria and conference rooms.

The rotunda will be 50 feet in diameter.

For the existing one-story building, plans call for enlargement of the research and development section.

The firm said its 1958 capital expenditures will be 50 per cent larger than in 1957 when they totaled $10,899,524. The 1957 program devoted special attention to expansion of window glass plants in Charleston, W. Va., and Shreveport, La.

Other plants are in Ottawa, Ill., Toledo and Brackenridge, Pa. Last year the firm had an average employment of 12,594 persons with salaries, wages and benefits totaling $91,367,644.

State '57 Traffic Toll Lowest in 8 Years

EAST LANSING (AP)—Final and complete figures show Michigan's highway death toll for 1957 was 1,537, the lowest since 1949 when 1,441 deaths were recorded, State Police reported today.

The death rate of 5.3 killed per 100 million miles of travel also was the lowest on record in the state and well below the national average of 5.9, police said.

Ford to Cut Assembly for Week in New Jersey

MAHWAH, N. J. (AP) — Passenger car assembly operations at Ford Motor Co.'s Mahwah plant will be suspended for five working days beginning Monday.

The suspension will effect about 3,000 employes on both the morning and afternoon shifts.

Truck production, said the spokesman, will not be curtailed.

20th YEAR OF SALES

We have been commissioned by a large storage company to liquidate a large quantity of household goods—It is estimated it will take 20 weeks to accomplish this. These sales are interesting because you never know what you will find. There is always something for everyone. Due to increased facilities we will still be able to handle all other consignments whether one piece of a household. We also act as professional appraisers in connection with liquidation of estates. Lunch room will again be operated under capable management of Millie Muckenhirn. Come to where the big crowds are. We get top prices for usable merchandise. Sale starts 7 p.m. All storage items on display every Tuesday. Paul Hillman, Auctioneer.

'M Squad' Gets Cold Shoulder

Windy City Refuses to Open Its Case Files for Television Series

By ERSKINE JOHNSON

Let New York, New Orleans, San Diego, and all those cities standing in line, dig into their files to officially document case histories of lawmen vs. criminals.

Chicago had its chance in the TV law-and-order sweepstakes with "M Squad," NBC-TV's Friday night cops-and-robbers thriller starring rugged, ex-Marine Lee Marvin.

PREFERS ANONYMITY

But do you know what Chicago said? It said, "No thanks" and put it on the blotter that it believes there are too many crime shows already and that Chicago, as a matter of fact, prefers "crime-free" anonymity.

Marvin has been playing Lt. Frank Balinger, a Chicago police detective of the city's blue-ribbon M Squad, every week since September, with stock shots of Chicago for backgrounds. Chicago police officials may not like it but the public does, as ratings prove.

NO CREDIT GIVEN

There is no "From the files of . . ." credit to the Chicago Police Department. And no names are changed to protect the innocent because the stories in M Squad are from the heads of Hollywood telefilm writers.

Chicago can't complain, though, because it doesn't have an M Squad. And even the producers don't know what the M stands for. It just sounds official and hush-hush and rather intriguing, they say.

Lee, married and the papa of three, is big, rugged and tough — a movie director's idea of a Marine raider slitting throats in the dark before the arrival of assault troops. And that's just what he did in 21 landings in the Pacific from 1942 to 1954.

HURT IN AMBUSH

One night he was ambushed and was wounded by a bullet which missed his spine by the width of a postage stamp. That ended the war for him, after 13 months in a hospital.

After the war he was working as a plumber's assistant. He had pals acting in a summer stock playhouse.

One night in 1947, as a gag, he did a walkon, delivered one line and immediately decided greasepaint smelled better to him than plumber's grease.

He's been acting ever since, from small to big rolls on New York TV and since 1950 in 40 movies, including the current "Raintree County."

School Bus Plunges Over High Bank

REEDSPORT, Ore. (AP)—A school bus, which only a short time before had been loaded with some 50 grade school pupils, plunged over a high bank into a field near here yesterday.

First reports, relayed here by radio, that the bus had plunged into nearby Smith River sent a wave of panic through this southern Oregon coastal town. It was thought that the children might still have been aboard.

The children had been let off earlier, however, and Andrews was en route to pick up another load when he was stricken.

Disc Data and Chatter

Music in the Round

by Dick Saunders

As we said last week, "Lollipop" — an overnight sensation by the Chordettes, was the fourth best seller locally and coming on like a mad bull. It has arrived. Pontiac area record shops vote it No. 1 this week.

In second is our noisy friend, Chuck Berry, with "Sweet Little Sixteen", while "Twenty - Six Miles" by the Four Preps remains in third.

"Breathless," by Jerry Lee Lewis makes its appearance in fourth spot. We must give Pat Boone's disc of "Too Soon To Know — A Wonderful Time Up There" the fifth slot.

The two sides combined received enough votes to make the record a solid member of the select few.

POP ALBUMS: Our pick for the week is a welcome addition to any record shelf: "Eydie Gorme Vamps the Roaring 20's" (ABC Paramount — 218). This is a gem. Eydie never seems to get into the top five in sales of single discs, but she is definitely among the top five female warblers in the nation.

This LP swings as most of her's do. It also features some cute ideas and recording tricks.

THE JAZZ NEST: If you are so-called hi-fi addict and a traditional jazz fan — hold on to your turntables. For those who don't already know, there is a humble little company whose shingle reads — Audiophile Records, Inc. — in Saukville, Wisconsin.

Any good sound engineer who knows his business will tell you of the label's high quality. As far as I'm concerned, the Audiophile label has no peer in the recording field. Their records must be heard to be fully appreciated.

The company doesn't work for quantity. Their catalog is relatively small, but of the finest material available and displaying fantastically wide range and minimum distortion.

In future weeks I will occasionally review some of these LP's. For now, I will recommend "Traditional Jazz (Dixie, Of Course)" by Doc Evans with Knocky Parker & Band (AP-34). This is one of several in a series of "Traditional Jazz" LP's. No Dixie fan or collector of quality recordings should be without this.

Court Lets Girl Stay in Convent

Turns Down Father's Plea That Daughter Be Under His Control

HILLSBORO, Ore. (AP) — Alice Miller, 19, yesterday was given permission by a court to continue her life in a Roman Catholic convent where she intends to become a nun.

State Circuit Court Judge Glen Heiber turned down a plea from her father that she be returned to his home and control.

The father, Ivan R. Miller of Milwaukie, Ore., and his wife "live by the golden rule but have no religion," they said.

At a recent hearing on the case, the Millers testified they had enrolled their daughter for 10 years in Catholic schools.

Judge Heiber said in his ruling that testimony disclosed Miller had ordered the girl to choose between her religion and her home. This ultimatum, the judge said, emancipated Miss Miller from parental control.

The judge said the girl had entered the convent of the Sisters of St. Mary of Oregon at nearby Beaverton of her own free will.

"The court," he said, "knows of no law under the circumstances of this case, and the inconsistency practiced by these parents, which permits parents to require a child growing into mature years to give up its faith as a prerequisite to remaining in the household and as a result causing the child to leave and forage for itself."

Miss Miller became a member of the Catholic Church last year while attending Holy Name College at Spokane, Wash. She became a candidate for the Catholic order here last January. She also is attending classes at Marylhurst College, a Catholic institution at Oregon City, and intends to become a teacher in a Catholic school.

Miss Miller said she feels no bitterness toward her father. "He's really very dear, not mean—he just can't understand the Catholic Church . . . I do hope that as the years go on, he will come around," she said in an interview at the convent.

Corpse Floating in Bay Identified as U. S. Sergeant

TOKYO (AP)—A body found floating in Tokyo Bay has been tentatively identified as that of a U.S. master sergeant assigned to an Army intelligence unit.

Japanese newspapers said today the dead man was involved in some sort of secret undercover work before he disappeared Feb. 4. But an Army spokesman said it was not known "if he was engaged in any investigative activities."

The man could have been robbed, the spokesman added, explaining his wallet was missing.

"The preliminary autopsy indicates he was dead before he hit the water," he added. "There were bruises about the body and on his head."

Shoots Down Cable

Scene of 1924 Slaying

CHICAGO (AP) — Still shaky after a fast automobile ride from Stateville Prison, ex-convict Nathan Leopold today spent his second day of freedom in Chicago, scene of the crime for which he served 33½ years.

Leopold, probably the world's most publicized convict, remained in the Gold Coast apartment of Abel M. Brown, real estate man and his onetime classmate at the University of Chicago.

Leopold, a diabetic, became sick at least six times during a fast 40-mile ride to Chicago after his release from Stateville Prison near Joliet. The automobile halted frequently and the 53-year-old Leopold staggered to the roadside, ashen and nauseated.

Unless his condition improves, Leopold is expected to remain in the Brown apartment until arrangements are completed for his departure for Puerto Rico, where he is to serve his parole working as a $10-a-month lab technician in a small mission Hospital in the mountains near the town of Adjuntas.

The ride was the fastest Leopold had ever taken. A friend who picked him up at the prison gates drove the car at speeds reportedly up to 80 miles an hour in an effort to shake off pursuing newsmen.

Leopold, who was met by a group of newsmen, photographers, and radio and television personnel when he walked out of the prison, read a prepared statement in which he pleaded for privacy. He appealed for newsmen and "society at large" to "agree that the only piece of news about me is that I have ceased to be news." Under conditions of his parole, he said, he was to grant no interviews.

Stanley Hill, a parole officer who is handling Leopold's case, went to the Brown apartment after Leopold's arrival to make what he termed "a routine check."

"If he plans to spend any time in Chicago, we want to know how he plans to spend that time," Hill said.

It was not known definitely when Leopold would leave Chicago but Hill indicated plans were being made to arrange a direct flight to Puerto Rico.

Leopold and his companion Richard Loeb were sentenced to life and 99 years for the 1924 thrill slaying of 14-year-old Bobby Franks. Loeb was slain in 1936 during a prison fight.

Expecting Quadruplets 'Intriguing,' Says Father

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) — Dr. H. Dean Hoskins said today news his wife is expecting quadruplets is "the most challenging and intriguing event in our lives."

"We were both delighted and surprised. Our three daughtrs, 6, 12 and 14, are pretty excited too.

Mrs Dorothy Hoskins, 36, was told that medical tests and X-rays showed quadruplets. They are due in May.

Plane With Sick Boy Missing in Storm

Sheriff Seth Wright said three persons were aboard the plane. It took off for Monticello about 6 p.m. from Fry Canyon, an isolated uranium mining area in rugged southeast Utah about 45 air miles southwest of Monticello.

Wright said those on the plane were Robert Warren Barris, 35, Grand Junction, Colo., the pilot; Val D. Adams, 10, Fry Canyon; and Johnny Guthridge, 26, also of Fry Canyon.
