Big 4 Ministers Seen Meeting at U.N. Birthday

Molotov, Dulles, Pinay Already Set to Attend; MacMillan Trip Likely

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (INS)—Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov's decision to attend the United Nation's tenth anniversary celebration in San Francisco increased the chances today for a concurrent Big Four foreign ministers' meeting.

Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold ordered all preparations made for the possible ministerial meeting at which the four top diplomats would discuss the agenda for summer talks among their chiefs of state.

Hammarskjold, who flies to Paris this evening to make arrangements for the August conference of atomic scientists in Geneva, received a cable from Molotov yesterday advising that the Russian minister will participate in the anniversary week, June 20-26.

The event in the Golden Gate City, expected to draw at least 40 foreign ministers and hundreds of lesser ranking diplomats from 60 nations, will commemorate the 1945 signing of the U.N. charter in San Francisco's Opera House.

U.S. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles and French Foreign Minister Antoine Pinay already have signified their intention to be present. British Foreign Secretary Harold MacMillan has remained noncommittal but it is assumed generally he will announce his intention to participate after the May 26 elections in Britain.

There is still an open question as to whether President Eisenhower and possibly Prime Minister Sir Anthony Eden of Britain will journey to San Francisco for a brief appearance. Another prominent visitor likely to attend the celebration is former President Harry S. Truman.

Final plans for the session call for an opening speech by San Francisco Mayor Elmer E. Robinson followed by statements by California Gov. Goodwin J. Knight Jr., U.N. Assembly President E. N. Van Kleffens, Secretary General Dag Hammerskjold and Dulles.

Ready for 'Fun-in-the-Sun'

EARLY PRACTICE — Marcella Russell, 91 Fairgrove Ave., gets into the swing of the Retail Merchants Assn. "Fun-in-the-Sun Festival" next week as she prepares a practice whack with a golf club. Mrs. Carol Leonard, (right) 338 S. East Blvd., joins in the vacation-like mood as she grips a fishing pole.

Merchants Will Observe Fun-in-Sun Festival Here

Mr. and Mrs. Pontiac won't have to put on their spiffiest outfits when they go shopping in town next week.

Because when they get to the stores they'll find salespeople togged out in jaunty summer sports wear.

Reason for all the informality will be the "Fun-in-the-Sun Festival" sponsored by the Pontiac Retail Merchants Assn.

Clerks will be casually dressed in easy-going summer duds ranging from Bermuda shorts on some daring salesmen to toreador pants on comfort-minded salesgirls.

Along with easing the dress situation for shoppers next week, merchants cooperating in the festival have promised many outstanding values on a complete line of goods.

"From clothing to lawn furniture to cameras to recreation equipment, Pontiac stores are prepared to kick-off summer saving in a big way," said Richard L. McPartlin, association president.

Stores will be decked out with pennants and colorful displays for the event and clerks will be easily recognized by large "Fun-in-the-Sun" lapel badges.

Sen. Gore Sees Victory for Dem Road Proposal

Little Hope Is Held for Compromise With Ike's Highway Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Gore (D-Tenn) said today he was more confident than ever of victory for the Democratic road construction bill he is sponsoring after a full day of Senate debate on the issue.

Sen. Martin (R-Pa), who has offered President Eisenhower's highway plan as a substitute, conceded in a separate interview he believed there was small chance of a compromise to save part of the administration program.

Democratic leaders expect to have a sizable margin of votes when the showdown test comes on the Martin substitute, probably next Wednesday.

They are not conceding the loss of a single Democratic senator on this vote, although they say some may be against the Gore bill on final passage. But by that time, many Republicans will support it since 'the alternative will be no increased road program, they say.

The Gore bill calls for a five-year program of $17,941,000,000 in federal-state spending on federal aid highways, including about 12¾ billions of federal funds. This would be double the present program in the first year, triple by the fourth and fifth.

WOULD UP OUTLAY

It would increase federal outlays for all four federal aid systems, and finance this out of direct appropriations.

The President's plan calls for a 38 billion dollar program over 10 years, with all of the increased spending—about 25 billions—devoted to the 40,000-mile interstate system.

The bulk of this interstate money would come from a 30-year bond issue, which would be outside the federal debt limit. The bonds would be repaid from federal gasoline and other motor vehicle taxes.

The floor debate, which opened yesterday, is to continue Monday. No votes are likely before midweek.

Color Guard Marches

LEADS PARADE HERE — A color guard, comprised of Army Sgt. Thomas Murphy, Marine T.Sgt. Leroy Meisner, Navy R. M. 1 L. A. Diaz and Air Force S.Sgt. Pearle Anthony, led the mile-long parade through downtown Pontiac today, commemorating the 6th annual "Armed Forces Day" observances. Some 20,000 persons turned out to witness the event. Also scheduled on the day's program were open houses at all military installations in the city.

20,000 Line City's Streets to See Parade

Use 'Power for Peace' Theme in 6th Annual Event Here

Some 20,000 persons lined Pontiac streets today to see a parade—and pay homage to the men and women in the armed forces.

Keyed to the theme "peace through power," the parade was held in conjunction with the sixth Armed Forces Day celebration held in the United States.

The theme was set last week by President Dwight D. Eisenhower when he invited Americans to take advantage of the day "to become better acquainted with the armed components of our national power for peace."

Saginaw street, decorated with flags and lined by onlookers bathed in warm spring sun, made an impressive setting for the marching columns.

A representation of armed might was shown by the 703rd Reserve Tank Battalion's gun-bristling tanks. Pontiac's National Guard unit, Company M, 125th Infantry, displayed their heavy machine-guns, mortars and recoilless 75 millimeter cannon.

SCHOOL BANDS MARCH

Adding to the military air were bands from Pontiac High School, Waterford and Ortonville, whose martial music stirred the onlookers.

Periodically, Air Force Jet fighters swooshed over the downtown area to demonstrate America's readiness for whatever present day international power politics may bring.

Other units taking part were: Spanish American War veterans, representatives of the women in service, Army, Marine, Navy and Air Force recruiting service representatives, Marine Corps League, area veterans' organizations, Gold Star Mothers, Navy Mothers, American Red Cross, Civil Defense, and Boy Scouts.

Riding in a place of honor was Miss Beverly Jean Doud, 18-year-old Drayton Plains secretary, who was named Miss Pontiac Naval Reserve by local reservists this week.

Area Children Given Vaccine

Health Officials Use Left-Over Serum Today for 12,000 Shots

Using pooled serum left over from the first round of polio inoculations, health officials today administered Salk vaccine to some 12,000 first and second graders in five south Oakland County cities.

Meanwhile, county health spokesmen announced word has been received from the State Heath Dept. that no distribution of new supplies of vaccine are scheduled for next week.

Rural clinics scheduled for next Tuesday and Wednesday had depended on the arrival of more serum, and will now have to be postponed again.

Today's shots were given to school children in Royal Oak, Hazel Park, Oak Park, Berkley and Clawson.

FURTHER SLOWDOWN SEEN

They were the first in a second-round of inoculations.

In Washington, a possible further slowdown of the mass anti-polio inoculation of school children loomed as the government reportedly contemplated further tightening of safety standards for the Salk vaccine.

The government — on advice of a panel of scientists — has decided to continue the dosage and vaccination procedure worked out in last year's field trials of the polio preventive.

Because of the vaccine scarcity, there had been discussion of possibly reducing the dosage, now 1 cc per shot, and changing the method of injection to spread supplies.

The government also decided against curtailing inoculations during the summer height of the polio season.

Record Entry Listed for Press Tourney

With a record entry of 15 schools ready to compete, this year's renewal of the Pontiac Press Invitational High School golf tournament promises to be one of the most interesting in the 4-year history of the event.

The 18-hole medal play tourney starts at 10 a.m. Monday at Pontiac's Municipal Golf Course. Birmingham High School will defend the title and trophy it won both in 1953 and last year.

Joining Birmingham for the five-man team competition are Avondale, Livonia, Bentley, Bloomfield Hills, Brighton, Fitzgerald, Northville, Pontiac, Rochester, Royal Oak, St. Frederick, Shrine, Southfield, Troy and Waterford.

PHS Team Off to Fast Start in State Meet

EAST LANSING (AP) — Pontiac High, the odds-on Class A favorite, got off to a fast start in the morning session of the Class A-C state high school track meet today at Michigan State College.

Pontiac won the broad jump, one of the two Class A morning finals, and was only cheated by the wind from typing a long-time record in the preliminaries of the 120-yard high hurdles.

Hayes Jones won the broad jump for the Chiefs with a leap of 22 feet 5 inches.

See Break Near in Fight Over State Tax Program

LANSING (AP)—A break appeared today in the threatened House-Senate deadlock over new taxes.

Sen. Carlton H. Morris (R-Kalamazoo), chairman of the Senate Taxation Committee, told the Senate that his committee would report out the House-approved business receipts tax amendments.

The Senate has passed a different bill sponsored by Morris, but Rep. Rollo G. Conlin (R-Tipton) said it could not pass the House.

Morris removed threats of a deadlock by declaring "I anticipate the Senate committee will report out the House bill next week. I also anticipate the Senate will maintain its position."

This was taken to mean that Morris will attempt to revise the House bill to meet the original Senate specifications.

The House bill would raise about 31 million dollars more by boosting the tax rate from 4 to 7 mills and changing the sales factor to sales destination in computing the levy on multistate business.

The Senate bill would raise about 23 million dollars more by increasing the rate from 4 to 5 mills and making no change in the formula.

Morris said he made his statement "to stop rumors that we are in jeopardy as far as a tax program is concerned. I believe we will come out of this session with a good tax program."

Dearborn Youth Drowning Victim

'Skip Day' Outing Ends in Tragedy at Camp Dearborn Lake

Seventeen-year-old Eugene Kaselka, of Dearborn, drowned yesterday afternoon in a Camp Dearborn lake near Milford where he and two other youths were swimming.

Michael Garms, 18, and Douglas Laurence, 19, both of Dearborn, said the victim was attempting to swim 150 yards across Lake No. 2. Laurence said he failed in an attempt to aid Kaleska when he faltered about half way across.

Oakland County Sheriff's deputies Donald Youles and William Smith recovered the body at about 2:20 p.m. in 12 feet of water, after nearly three hours of dragging.

Sheriff Frank Irons, who supervised the dragging operations, said swimming in the lake is forbidden. The camp is a private park owned and operated by residents of the city of Dearborn.

The victim's companions said they came to the camp on a "skip day" outing from Sacred Heart High School. Kaleska was to have graduated in June.

Kaleska's body was taken to the Richardson-Bird Funeral Home, Milford, where funeral arrangements are pending.

Driver of 'Death Car' Sentenced

Mrs. Wagenshultz Gets Two-Year Probation, Loses License

A 19-year-old Metamora woman yesterday afternoon was placed on two-year probation following her conviction four hours earlier of negligent homicide in a headon collision which claimed five lives last Dec. 5.

Visiting Circuit Judge Archie D. McDonald, of Hastings, assessed Mrs. Erlene Wagenshutz, of 75 W. High, $200 court costs and revoked her drivers' license for the next year.

She was charged with manslaughter after a smashup on M24's "Slaughter Hill" a mile north of Oxford. After a two-day trial, the jury convicted her on the lesser negligent homicide count.

Three men and one woman, all of Oxford, were killed in the Wagenshutz auto. An Oxford man driving the other car was also killed.

A "letter to the editor" reached Mark Twain during his editing days, asking if the spider which the reader had found in his newspaper was a sign of good luck or bad.

Twain replied in print: "Finding a spider in your paper was neither good or bad luck for you. The spider was merely looking over our paper to see which merchant is not advertising, so that he can go to that store, spir his web across the door and live a life of undisturbed peace ever afterward."

U.S. Golfers Sweep Walker Cup Trophy

ST. ANDREWS (AP) — Billy Joe Patton of Morganton, N. C., defeated Phil Scrutton, 2 and 1, today to give the U.S. amateur golfers their decisive seventh victory in the Walker Cup matches and assure the trophy's return to America.

The Americans swept the four foursome matches yesterday and before Patton triumphed today Harvie Ward of San Francisco had trounced Ronnie White, 6 and 5, and Don Cherry of Wichita Falls, Tex., crushed Joe Carr, 5 and 4.

The defeat was the first for White in Walker Cup singles play while Carr's setback was one of the worst he ever had suffered. He generally is recognized as the top amateur golfer in Europe.

Part of New MSU Name to Appear in Fine Print

EAST LANSING (AP)—When the university title becomes official July 1, Michigan State College will be known as Michigan State University—in large letters.

The rest of the title—Of Agriculture and Applied Science—will be in very fine print.

That was the decision yesterday of the state Board of Agriculture, governing body of the college as it approved official stationary.

And it was hinted that maybe after a few years, when the furore over the change from a college to a university has died down, that the small print part of the title will be left out entirely.

Medina Victim in '49

Tells of Brain Washing

HUTCHINSON, Kan. (AP)—Judge Harold R. Medina of the U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals, New York, says he has all the sympathy in the world for those who have gone through Communist brain washing.

He said he underwent the process with protection from all the authorities in this country for nine bitter months in 1949 while presiding at a Communist trial.

At one time, he said, he recessed the 1949 trial and ran for his chambers. As he did so the Communist attorneys exchanged knowing looks, he added.

Medina admitted he lay down in his chambers and prayed.

Inspect Record Number of Cars

Chamber of Commerce's Safety Group Reports 17,000 Autos Checked

The Safety Committee of the Chamber of Commerce today reported a record of some 17,000 cars inspected here by Friday in the current city-wide vehicle maintenance program.

The inspections are being conducted by filling stations and garages of the Pontiac Auto Dealers' Assn.

Clyle R. Haskill, committee chairman, said the annual event was extended after a record number of motorists underwent the auto checks in the city's five reserved lanes during the program's first week.

"We knew that many more wanted and needed the inspections after 15,850 cars were checked the first week," said Haskill.

PROGRAM PUBLIC SERVICE

With cooperation from the police department, the dealers' association and various civic groups, the Safety Committee here sponsors the annual program in conjunction with the National Safety Council as a public service.

Motorists passing the safety check are given an "OK" sticker to be pasted on the windshield, indicating the auto's safety features have passed the inspection.

The inspections so far indicate the greatest number of defects have been with brakes, rear and front lights.

One Man Wounded After Quarrel Here

A quarrel this morning resulted in the wounding of one man and the arrest of another for investigation of attempted murder, according to Pontiac Police.

James Beane, 26, of 485 Colorado St., was reported in good condition in Pontiac General Hospital after suffering a bullet wound in the left shoulder.

John L. Cowart, 25, of 69 Clovese St., was arrested by police about 2 a.m. today at Bagley St. and Hibard Ct. The shooting which followed the quarrel between Beane and Cowart, said police, occured in a restaurant at 334 Diston St.

Detetive Sgt. Allan D. Noble said police are holding as evidence a .32 caliber automatic pistol surrendered by Cowart. Police said they were going to question other witnesses today before charges are made.

State's Children Jump 114,930 During Past Year

LANSING (UP) — Michigan's juvenile population increased 114,930 last year, the State Department of Public Instruction reported today.

The school census showed there are 2,565,270 persons in the state under 19 years of age.

The census showed there were 818,481 children under five years of age, 32,867 more than the year before.

It listed 1,746,789 persons between five and 19 years of age, an increase of 82,063.

Dr. Clair L. Taylor, state superintendent, said "this is the reason school men are concerned about the future of education in Michigan. The big birth rates of five and six years ago are now hitting our schools."

LEARNING AT 80 — French pilot Marie Marvingt, 80, stands before jet helicopter she is learning to fly, with Capt. Valerie Andre, "helicopter angel" of Indochina War.

Pilot Flying Across U. S. 2 Times During Daylight

LOS ANGELES (UP)—A former combat pilot took off at dawn today in an attempt to make the first roundtrip plane flight coast-to-coast between sunrise and sunset.

Lt. John M. Conroy, 34, got into the air at 6 a.m., 10 minutes after he had planned, to start on the flight of some 5,080 miles. He must fly 465 miles per hour to meet his schedule of breakfast in Los Angeles, luncheon in New York City, and dinner in Los Angeles again with his family.

* * *

He took off from San Fernando Valley Airport.

"I think I've given myself plenty of leeway," he said confidently on the eve of the Armed Forces Day flight.

Conroy, who flies for the National Guard, took off in a combat-equipped F86A Sabre Jet. He planned a 20-to 30-minute luncheon stop at Mitchel Field in New York. Otherwise he planned to land only for refueling.

Conroy says he is making the flight because he thought it up. He has been flying the jet fighters since joining the National Guard two years ago. During World War II he piloted bombers and won the Distinguished Flying Cross and Air Medal and two clusters before being shot down and imprisoned on his 19th mission over Germany.

Parade Here Marks Armed Forces Day

Riding in a convertible car with her near the center of the column were her two attendants, Frankie Russell, 17, of Waterford and Marcie Hill, 18, of Pontiac.

WILL CROWN QUEEN

Miss Doud will be officially crowned during a dance at the Naval Training Center here tonight. The dance is open to the public.

The gates of all local Military installations will be open to allow residents a first-hand look at weapons and fighting men.

The National Guard Armory on Water street will be open until 4 p.m. as will the Army Reserve unit's training center on Pike street and the Naval Training Center on south East Boulevard.

Thus Pontiac joined the rest of the nation as parades moved down thousands of main streets, bands struck up stirring marching music and veterans, old and new, recalled their parts in this nation's wars.

H.M.C.S.S. Stone of the Naval Reserve Training Center this morning received a telegram from Gov. G. Mennen Williams, stating "Best wishes for a most successful Armed Forces celebration. Sincerely regret unable to be with you."

Einstein Program Put Off Until June

NEW YORK, (UP)—Withdrawals by listed speakers and participants has caused postponement of a memorial to the late Albert Einstein scheduled for tomorrow at Carnegie Hall.

Following newspaper reports of a postponement, Dr. Harry Cohen, chairman of the American Jewish Literary Foundation, sponsor of the affair, said last night the memorial meeting has been rescheduled for June 26.

Cohen blamed the postponement on "last minute attacks of certain groups who, by their violation of Dr. Einstein's way of life, have made it unwise for this tribute to be held on the date originally scheduled."

There were published reports that objections have been raised to the "high-powered" campaign for the memorial, to admissions being charged ($2.50 and $4.60) and to "vague" responses to queries on disposition of funds.

Oakdale Man Charged With Selling Marijuana

Jayward Walker, 22, of Oakdale Gardens, charged with illegal sale of marijuana, demanded examination yesterday when he appeared before Royal Oak Township Justice Maurice E. Tripp.

Held in the Oakland County jail under $10,000 bond, Walker is scheduled to appear for the hearing Thursday. According to police, undercover men had made four "buys" from Walker previously. The exchange involved $10, said police.

Dixie Telephone Truce Signed

Economic Life in South Brighter as Big Strikes Draw to Close

ATLANTA (UP) — Economic life in the South took a long step forward today with the signing of an agreement in the 68-day telephone strike and a complete settlement of the costly railroad walkout.

The strikes against the Southern Bell Telephone & Telegraph Co. and the Louisville & Nashville Railroad and its subsidiaries affected more than 75,000 workers in many parts of the South.

Millions of dollars were lost in wages alone. Spreading violence caused damage estimated in the hundreds of thousands of dollars.

Both strikes began the same day March 14, but the L&N walkout hit harder at Southern economy, slowing freight shipments to a crawl in some sections. Passenger service also was curtailed and some industries had to use trucks to reach markets.

BROADER ARBITRATION

Southern Bell service was nearly normal most of the time.

The company statement said the agreement provided for "broader arbitration of disputes arising under the contract, including disputes involving suspensions of employes and disciplinary action taken under the no-strike clause."

The contract also included, the company said, wage increases of from $1 to $4 weekly for the 50,000 nonsupervisory employes, increasing company costs more than 7 million dollars annually.

Area Man Faces Larceny Charges

Gerald W. Holst, 22, of 1125 E. Avon Rd., Rochester, yesterday was charged with larceny by conversion in an order for a warrant issued by Assistant Oakland County Prosecutor Homer G. Gerue.

The complaining witness is Tom Tracy, former Birmingham High School and Tennessee University football star, now employed at the Community Motor Sales in Rochester.

The warrant claims Holst was allowed to take a used auto from the firm's lot by Tracy, for a trial run, and failed to bring it back. He was arrested in Berkley yesterday by Rochester police.

Movie Executive Admits Violence in Recent Films

HOLLYWOOD (UP)—The president of the Motion Picture Assn. of America says there has been excessive violence in some recent motion pictures but steps are being taken to avoid such scenes in future films.

Eric Johnston's annoucement yesterday a few hours after James Francis Cardinal McIntyre issued a statement warning against low moral standards in some films.

* * *

The Roman Catholic leader urged parish priests to caution young people regarding what he termed a trend toward "moral laxity." The cardinal said Catholics should not patronize films that have been condemned by the church's reviewing arm, the Legion of Decency.

Commenting on the cardinal's remarks Johnston said:

"We are giving wholesome entertainment to the public and we will continue to do so. There are always complaints regarding advertising, but we've had less trouble lately than ever before."

Sees No Action on Reserve Bill

Johnson Says Senate Will Await Compromise in House

WASHINGTON, (UP)—Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex.), said today that unless the House works out some compromise, the Senate probably will take no action this year on the administration's military reserve plan.

Johnson, the Democratic leader, told newsmen:

"The Senate is not going to march up the hill and down again. Unless the House can agree on a reserve bill, we will bring out a measure extending the military draft and let the reserve plan go over."

* * *

In a dispute over racial segregation, the House shelved Thursday a measure aimed at adding two million men to the organized reserves. It was designed, in part, to offset the administration's proposed 102,000-man cutback in military forces by mid-1956.

The House kept the bill on its calendar and could call it up at any time, but there was no indication when this would be done. The shelving action was taken to prevent outright defeat of the measure. Adoption of a ban on racial segregation in reserve and National Guard units had threatened loss of Southern support for the measure.

Johnson said his decision to await some House agreement was in line with his policy of trying to bring before the Senate only bills he believes both Houses will be able to accept.

"The Senate has passed 137 bills in this session," he said. "It isn't spending its time in idle talk."

Schoolboy Says Bully Demands Dime Every Day

NEW YORK (UP)—Fourteen-year-old Joseph Thompson claims he has been playing hooky from school because he was forced to choose almost daily between paying a dime to an older classmate or taking a beating.

The situation was disclosed yesterday after young Thompson's mother was called to the Haaren High School to explain why her son had been absent for three weeks.

* * *

Mrs. Joseph Thompson said she couldn't understand the boy's truancy.

William Deerson, dean of the school, then conferred privately with the boy, who accused John Burgos, 16, of terrorizing him for a year.

Thompson said Burgos would demand 10 cents or offer to beat him up. If he had no money, Thompson said, Burgos would take his fountain pen and hold it until he produced the dime.

* * *

Burgos was seized and charged with petty larceny and third degree assault. He was held in $500 bail for a hearing next Thursday.

The high school is the same one attended by Frank Santana, 17, now under indictment for the wanton slaying last month of 15-year-old William Blakenship Jr., a model student.

Blankenship was killed on a Bronx street by a bullet allegedly fired by Santana during a feud between two rival gangs.

Blankenship, believed to have been mistaken for another boy, was not a member of any gang.

Sen. McNamara Hits Lobbying Maneuver

WASHINGTON (UP) — Sen. McNamara (D-Mich) says oil and gas interests have made "a scurrilous and slanderous" attempt to influence senators considering a bill to exempt natural gas producers from federal regulation.

He lashed out from the Senate floor yesterday at the Mid-Continent Oil and Gas Assn. for circulating at a Senate hearing a press release critical of a Detroit official who testified against the legislation.

Quoting R. F. Windfohr, a Fort Worth, Tex., oil man who heads Mid-Continent, the release called James H. Lee, assistant corporation counsel of Detroit, "unwittingly a victim of Fabian Socialist tactics."

A public relations man distributed the statement to newsmen as Lee was beginning his testimony before the Senate Commerce Committee on Wednesday.

Legislature Okays Airport Funds Bill

LANSING (UP) — The House passed and sent to the governor yesterday a Senate-approved bill appropriating $212,500 for airport improvements.

Brig. Gen. Lester J. Maitland, state aeronautics director, said $200,000 probably would be spent on airports at Manistee, Willow Run, Wayne Major and Muskegon.

The remaining $12,500 will be spent on preliminary plans for a new administration building at Lansing's Capital City Airport.

The bill does not stipulate where the $200,000 should be spent, leaving the decision up to the Aeranautics Department.

Maitland said he hoped to get matching funds from federal and local governments, boosting the total amount available for improvements to $800,000.

4 Bandits Rob Alabama Bank

Hold Cashier's Family Hostage While Taking $86,727 in Loot

JACKSONVILLE, Ala., (UP) — A Southwide alert for four armed bandits was issued after they robbed a Jacksonville bank yesterday and fled with $86,727.12.

Jesse N. Wood, 30-year-old cashier at the First National Bank here, told how he was forced to help the bandits stage Alabama's biggest bank robbery to protect his wife and two young daughters, held as hostages.

"I knew they meant business. They had silencers on their pistols." Wood said several hours after the robbery.

* * *

The four men forced themselves into Wood's small frame cottage about 7:30 a.m. yesterday. Two wore work clothes and had masks over their faces.

They told Wood at first they were reporters from the Anniston Star. While two remained with Mrs. Wood and the two children, the other two escorted Wood to the bank, and tied up six women tellers as they reported for work.

The bank vault was opened by a time clock at 8:30 a.m. and the robbers took the money, which was covered by insurance.

The leader was quite talking, but blunt.

* * *

"One outcry, one alarm, and your wife and children die," he snapped at Wood.

Before leaving for the bank, he instructed the two confederates:

"We'll be back at 9 o'clock. If there is any alarm of any kind, any siren or anything, shoot that woman and those two children and get out."

Sheriff Roy Snad of Calhoun County said the robbers were believed to have escaped in two automobiles — 1955 Oldsmobile and a 1955 gray Buick, which bore either a South Carolina or a Virginia license.

Diem Orders Arrest of Bao Dai Aides

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (UP) — The government today ordered the arrest and trial on treason charges of two top aides of absentee Chief of State Bao Dai and several leaders of the outlawed Binh Xuyen Society. The accused men face the death penalty if caught and convicted.

The orders, aimed at opponents who attempted to unseat Nationalist Premier Ngo Dinh Diem by civil war or coup, were announced by Deputy Defense Minister Tran Trung Dung. They were issued as a series of political developments apparently to strengthen the premier's hand.

* * *

The two accused Bao Dai aides are ex-army Inspector Gen. Nguyen Van Vy and Col. Nguyen Tu Yen, commander of the former ruler's old imperial guard. Vy, who was named last month by Bao Dai to replace Diem, staged an abortive coup against the government with Yen's aid May 1 after the premier refused to accept the dismissal. The coup failed when the national army backed Diem.

Vy and Yen were last reported to be somewhere in the vicinity of Dalat, a hill resort where the former guard has been stationed. This force voted May 13 to abandon its old designation and become regular units of the national army.

Cusick's initial decision will become final if no objection is filed within 10 days.

The burly credit company clerk had been released on a writ of habeas corpus yesterday afternoon after being arrested in a motel near Monroe with June Dallen, 21. She told police he had abducted her at gunpoint to get married.

Southwest Mops Up After Floods Ebb

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The job of mopping up from the damaging flood waters and torrential rains in Southwest States continued today under clear skies. The rain area moved eastward and centered over the interior sections of the Gulf States.

Thousands of persons forced from their homes by floods prepared to return as streams and rivers receded in the storm swept areas of Colorado, Texas, Oklahoma and northern New Mexico. In southeast Colorado more than 1,000 persons forced from their homes by the Arkansas River at La Junta were able to return to their homes.

East, West Plan Further Talks at U.N. Birthday

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (UP)—New high level East-West talks will take place at the U. N.'s 10th birthday meeting in San Francisco next month, Russia's Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov made that certain last night when he announced he would be there.

Secretary of State Dulles and France's Antoine Pinay already have said they would be at the meeting June 20-26. British Foreign Secretary Harold Macmilan can't promise yet. It all depends on the outcome of next week's parliamentary elections.

* * *

If all four go to the meeting, they have agreed that they will make further plans for a conference of big four government leaders tentatively set for July in some still undecided neutral country. They agreed on this in Vienna last week when Molotov gave Russia's acceptance of the West's proposal for such a conference.

The U. N., announcing the message from Molotov, said 26 foreign ministers had accepted Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold's invitation to the anniversary celebration and "perhaps more than 40" would be present.

It listed Dulles as a speaker at the opening session.

Police Captain Discovers Fire in City Station

Capt. Clark M. Wheaton, chief of Pontiac detectives, today said he is convinced that where there is smoke — "it always means a fire."

The veteran policeman walked into police headquarters today, reporting for work as usual at 8 a.m.

"I smelled smoke which seemed to be concentrated in one of the front offices," he said.

His detective's sixth sense led him to search the waste-paper baskets for a lighted cigarette butt, but then he recalled that neither of the office's workers smoke.

Then I decided to scout the walls and windows for the source of the smoke. Suddenly, a flame burst right in front of me, so I called the fire department next door. Two firemen arrived quickly and put out the fire with an extinguisher.

They said "The lumber in the window sills are rotten and you need new window sills anyhow."

Wheaton, who thinks that someone flung the lighted butt from the outside of the station, said, "That's the understatement of the year. We need a whole new building and I understand that it's in the offing."

TODAY'S ASSIGNMENT FOR:

A CRUISE TO HAWAII

The Hula

The hula, danced by grass-skirted girls, is a dance that tells a story. This costume is worn mainly at feasts and celebrations and to entertain visitors. For business and work, many of the people wear clothes similar to ours, but at home they wear the muumuu, a loose, informal outfit. For very formal occasions, Hawaiians wear a holoku, a gown with a long train.

The graceful positions of the hands and arms in the hula dance show the flight of birds, the fluttering of the palm trees in the breeze, the smooth flow of the Pacific waves. The Hawaiians love music and they are sometimes called "a race of sweet singers."

Flowers are tied around the dancer's ankles and placed in her hair. Around the neck is the lovely wreath of blossoms called a lei. When visitors first come to the island, and when they leave, they are met by groups of dancers and musicians who present each person a lei.

Here is a little hula dancer for you to color and cut out. Cut out the three parts of the drawing. With a small fastener through the two dots, attach the top of the girl behind the skirt. So that the figure will stand up, fold the bottom of the base forward along the dotted line. Cut along the short dark vertical line as far up as the dotted line. Then fold back the part with the flowers on it. Place the basket on the girl's wrist. If you move the tab below her waist, her body can sway from side to side as if she were doing the hula.

Dispute Over Census May Hamper Troy Incorporation

Partial Survey Being Checked

First Report Indicates Area Is Too Sparsely Populated for City

TROY TOWNSHIP—A disputed census may disrupt the proposed incorporation of a portion of Troy Township.

In preparation for the June 7 election on incorporating the area, a census has been taken to see if the area meets the state requirement of at least 500 residents per square mile.

A partially completed census was turned into the secretary of state's office, and is now being checked. As presented, it showed the area below the required population figure.

Whether the area can proceed to vote on the incorporation without the census complete, or with the census completed by showing a lack of residents, is a question the state attorney general may be asked to rule on.

200 MORE COUNTED

Examining the census at the Troy Township offices yesterday, James Chapman of the secretary of state's office said he had found "approximately 200" residents of the area who were not listed on the census.

* * *

The census was reportedly 529 names short, according to officials of the Troy Township Incorporation Committee.

Even the number of residents required is clouded.

Township officials say the land to be incorporated is 27.5 square miles, and would require 13,750 residents. A study by a local manufacturing firm says the area is larger, and 14,250 residents must be listed to meet the requirement.

Chapman said today that investigations had shown that "some houses had been inadvertently missed, along with families living in houses behind other homes, and in basements."

$2 MILLION FACTORY

The idea of incorporating the township first arose when the Vickers Corporation of Detroit announced plans for a $2,000,000 plant on a 76 acre site at the southwest corner of Crooks and Maple roads.

* * *

Vickers and Royal Oak officials favored the annexation of the Troy Township site to Royal Oak but Troy officials balked at the idea of losing the valuable tax base.

Residents of Troy Township formed a committee to have a large portion of the township incorporated, hoping this would prevent the annexation.

However it may be possible that Royal Oak could annex the land even after Troy became a city.

Thirty-eight residents of Troy have filed nominating petitions to be placed on the June 7 ballot for charter commissioners.

* * *

If the residents approve the general incorporation question nine charter commissioners will be elected to create the city charter for the new city.

This would be submitted at a later date to township voters.

King Farm Rezoning Approved by Board

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP — At the recent meeting of the township board, the board approved the rezoning of the King farm at the southeast quarter of section five, south of the Grand Trunk and Western Railroad. A 500-foot strip along the right of way will be zoned for manufacturing.

The request of Vernon Price for a change from residential to commercial zoning for Lot 2, Block 1, of Crescent Lake Country Club subdivision was denied.

The board granted the Kiwanis Club a carnival license for a show May 21-20 at Menominee and Telegraph roads.

A soft drink license was approved for Michael Iliades, 2446 Williams Lake Road.

Township Clerk Louis Barry and one other board member will attend the Water Works Conference June 12-16 in Chicago.

PREPARE FOR MUSIC FESTIVAL — Looking over the music for the big Spring Concert, scheduled for 8 p. m. Tuesday in Waterford High School, are (seated) teacher Helen Davis and Jack Peter of Drayton Plains, student director and soloist in the school's vocal department. Standing are (l-r) James Vandersall, school orchestra director; Richard Dexter, instrumental department student director; and Bruce Orr, school band director. Three music departments of the school — vocal, band and orchestra — will have a part in what is expected to be one of the biggest musical programs in the history of Waterford High.

Plan City Vote in Southfield

Township to Decide on Incorporation in June 7 Election

SOUTHFIELD TOWNSHIP—The Southfield Urban Assn. has voiced a hope of a brand new city in Oakland County — one with nearly 30,000 people.

Residents of the township will vote June 7 on incorporating as a home rule city.

Association President John S. Holmes said today that the citizens have already seen a big bite taken out of the township with the incorporation of Lathrup Village.

In addition, another section of the township, known as Bingham Farms, will also vote June 7 on incorporating as a village.

"There is the general feeling," said Holmes "that one of two things must happen: Either the township must organize a government of, by, and for all the people of the township, or it will very soon be cut up into small villages and cities.

Present Altar in Memory of Mrs. Doremus

DRAYTON PLAINS — A children's altar, presented in memory of the late Ann Jossman Doremus, will be dedicated Sunday at the 10:30 a.m. service of St. Andrew's Episcopal Church. Fashioned of blond birch and complete with inscribed brass cross, vases and candlesticks, and a white silk dossal hanging, it will be presented as a church school altar.

Mrs. Doremus was president of St. Catherines Guild of the church when she suffered a fatal attack of bulbar polio in September, 1954. This guild has as its objective the furtherance of work among children especially through the church school.

The altar was built by John N. Thompson, manual arts instructor of Waterford Township High School. The special service will feature the combined choirs.

Seeking Volunteers for Brandon GOC

ORTONVILLE—A meeting to recruit volunteers for the Brandon Township Ground Observer Corps has been scheduled for 8 p.m. Monday at the Ortonville Fire Hall.

Men, women and teenagers are needed, according to chief supervisor Wilmer Kilbourn.

Staff Sgt. N. A. Chizewsky of the Observer Corps from Grand Rapids will outline work necessary here and show pictures of work being done in other areas.

Expect 1,500 at Waterford High School Music Festival

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP — Some 1,500 people are expected to turn out for the music festival to be presented at 8 p.m. Tuesday at Waterford Township High School.

For the first time in the school's history, the band, orchestra, and vocal music departments have combined forces to present a springtime concert.

The orchestra, under the direction of James Vandersall, will open the program with Bizet's "Pearl Fisher's Overture" and 'Intermezzo." The "Double Concerto for Two Violins," by J. S. Bach, will be played by Edward Jones and Stanley Vandersall.

Two numbers from Rogers-Hammerstein's Carousel and "Promenade," by Anderson, will conclude the orchestra's part of the program.

The Boys Glee Club singing three spirituals will begin the vocal department's presentation, directed by Helen Davis. The Boys Ensemble presentations will be "Mansion Over the Hilltop" and "Sophomore Philosophy."

GIRLS GLEE CLUB

The selections of the Girls Glee Club will be "In These Delightful, Pleasant Groves," "When Day is Done," and "All the Things You Are." The finale for the vocal department will feature the a cappella choir with "Madame Janete," "From Lyons As I Journeyed," "Alleluia," and "Yonder," with tenor solist Jack Peter.

Only two of the nine numbers to be played by the band will be marches. Band director Bruce Orr has concentrated on the more serious, classical music for this concert.

Their numbers will include "Prelude and Fugue in G Minor," "Symphony in E Minor," "Richard III Overture," "Blue Tango," "A Walking Tune," and "Stars and Stripes Forever."

Pair to Drive 'Buick' in Lapeer Parade

Men Build Car for 2 Crippled Children

FLINT (AP) — Beauford Miller has never seen Kay and Jim Brown, of Lapeer. But he has spent 2,000 hours of his spare time preparing for an introduction.

Miller will meet the Lapeer youngsters Sunday—and he can hardly wait.

The 39-year-old Flint Buick plant worker heard that the 3-year-old boy and his 7-year-old sister have spent their lives in a wheelchair while others played because both have Oppenheim's disease.

Miller led several of his machine-repair workers at Buick in building a miniature self-powered Buick "Roadmaster Convertible." The car, built for two and powered with a one horsepower engine, will be presented to the youngsters Sunday.

"I'll sure be glad when those youngsters get the car," said Miller, who admits, "I haven't even had time to get my storm windows down yet."

MAKES PARTS BY HAND

Miller and his fellow workers began work on the car about a year ago. They made most of the engine parts by hand and used Buick ornaments and pattern designs for the rest of the car.

* * *

The car has forward and reverse gears—and even a complete lighting system that works. The motor, governed to go only three miles an hour, is in the trunk.

"I hear the kids in Lapeer have a parade every year when the playground opens for the summer vacations," said Miller. Jim and Kay always had to sit on the sidelines. They'll be in it this year."

Miller got his idea for the car when Claude Brown, the childrens' father, showed him a model of a car advertised in a magazine. "I can build you a car better than that," said Miller jokingly.

Miller's car is no joke—it's a real one.

BUY A BUDDY POPPY

De observe Memorial Day, take off our hats to men who fought our battles; Buddy Poppies were made by men who fought our battles, came home, to be confined in hospitals. They're men with hope eternal in their hearts. They're not depressed but happy as they fashion these cute paper remembrances of a time and place made sacred by sacrifice of their Buddies.

The coin we drop into the canister is a tribute to valor. It is our way of saying, "Well done, boys." Groucho Usually Has Breakfast by 9—P. M.

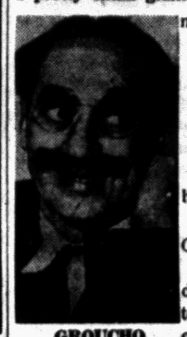
By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—"My son wants to know whether you're a Giant fan," I said to Groucho Marx.

★ ★ ★ ★

"A Giant fan!" echoed Groucho. "I'm only about 5-feet-8. That's a pretty small giant. Some of the Giants are pretty small, too . . . not personally . . . just their averages.



GROUCHO

Groucho, his bride and I were breakfasting at Lindy's. His spring visit to N. Y. from Hollywood is always crowded with ball games, B'way shows and conferences. I had proposed, one day, that we have dinner at 9 p. m.

"By 9 p. m., I've usually had my breakfast!" he snorted.

We spoke of the guessing game about whether George Gobel and other new comedians will last.

"I wish somebody'd worry about us old comedians," said Groucho. "I guess they're resigned to me doing my show some day from my wheel chair. George Bursn and Jack Benny and I will be like Civil War veterans. Every year there'll be one less of us as we totter down Fifth Av.

"So-and-so's practically an old comedian now, too," I said.

"Just his jokes are old," flipped Groucho.

Groucho's going to be busier this summer than a cheesecake photographer at a nudist convention.

"I'm going to the 100th anniversary of the Swift Packing Co. in Chicago," he mentioned. "I don't have to tell you why they picked me."

★ ★ ★ ★

On June 21, he narrates an NBC spectacular titled "Remember???" for Herbert Bayard Swope Jr. Then he goes to Central City, Col., where he'll appear briefly in a D'Oyly Carte Company Gilbert & Sullivan performance.

Steeped in Gilbert & Sullivan lore, Groucho remembers reading that Gilbert once said to an associate, "Have you seen my wife?"

"I think she's around behind," the associate answered.

"I'm aware of that!" snapped Gilbert. "Have you seen her?"

★ ★ ★ ★

Groucho's "You Bet Your Life" show on NBC stays close to the top.

"I have to laugh at how easy it is," he confessed, "Compared to what other fellows go through. As Goodman Ace says, a show must open with 38 dancers—even though you can only see three on your screen.

Just then a girl from DuMont, N. J., wanted an autograph.

"I didn't know that was a town, I thought it was a television set," said Groucho.

"That's right," replied the girl. "I live in a television set."

★ ★ ★ ★

It appears that people everywhere are trying to do Grouchoisms, which is all right with me because I love them.

Coffee Prices to Drop Again

Major Brands Slash Wholesale Quotation 4 Cents Per Pound

NEW YORK (AP)—Coffee prices are coming down again.

The two biggest independent distributors of coffee, General Foods Corp. and Standard Brands, reduced wholesale prices today and some chain stores said they will pass on the reductions at retail right away.

General Foods trimmed the price of Maxwell House regular coffee by four cents a pound at wholesale, dropping it to 88 cents. It cut Kaffee Hag and Sanka by five cents a pound and knocked two cents off the price of the two-ounce jar of instant coffee and proportionately more off larger sizes.

* * *

Standard Brands' Chase & Sanborn also was reduced four cents and the company's instant coffee was cut by two cents on the two-ounce size and four cents on the four-ounce jar.

The Grand Union Co., operating a supermarket chain, said it was lowering retail prices of Maxwell House and Sanka today. A & P food stores said it was passing along the reductions in its stores in the New York metropolitan area.

The reductions follow a further decline in quotations of green coffee. Latin American producers have been trying to agree on a way to stabilize green coffee prices, but have not yet been successful.

When you take clothes to your Dry Cleaner, don't expect him to work miracles! He is only human, and may occasionally make a mistake, which he will be glad to rectify.

But many cases of unsatisfactory dry cleaning are not his fault. Before you expect too much, be sure that—

★ The garments are of sufficiently good quality that they can be dry cleaned without shrinking and without colors fading or running.

★ That cloth-covered buttons and stiffening materials do not contain substances that will stain.

★ That you have not attempted to remove stains with fluids that will injure the fabric, set the stain or cause fading.

★ That your Dry Cleaner is a well-established dependable local businessman.

Your Dry Cleaner will tell you, when he accepts your clothing, just what to expect—but he cannot promise to work miracles.

Staley a Fine Choice

"We will hold up our heads proudly before the whole world and say, 'I am a teacher.'"

The man who made that statement believes completely in his own profession. He was recently selected to take over the principalship of the Pontiac Senior High School next September after JOHN THORS Jr. retires.

★ ★ ★

STALEY

He is FRANCIS STALEY, principal at Eastern Junior High School for the past thirteen years.

This newspaper has been cognizant of the leadership qualities of this man, as have all who have come in contact with him during his service at Eastern. He is the type of man who speaks a boy's language on the gridiron, demonstrates a fine pitching arm in baseball or who is very much the educator when spurring his pupils on to greater academic achievements in scholastic areas. He is noted for genteel firmness with his pupils and for his love and understanding of young people.

★ ★ ★

FRANCIS STALEY is respected by his colleagues. They refer to him as a "sound and fundamental thinker on educational theory and practice."

Years of being exposed to the many facets of education—from a 56 pupil, eight-grade rural school as teacher to principalship of a city junior high school—have given him a fine background for his new post.

★ ★ ★

Pontiac parents may rest assured that he will maintain the high quality of accomplishment that has been set by his predecessor, and that the direction of our Senior High School will rest in capable hands.

"THE Atomic Energy Commission has sharply cut the price on isotopes."—Press report. Now many people will probably try to buy a few isotopes, under the impression that a bargain is being offered.

Ike and Dulles See Hope and Peril in Big 4 Meet

The EISENHOWER-DULLES report on the international situation is the kind one would expect from a responsible Administration.

Secretary DULLES, just home from an historic visit abroad, voiced cautious hope that the projected top level Big Four conference might bring a lessening of international tensions. At the same time he warned of the dangers in such a conference.

The President, who acted as master of ceremonies for this unprecedented simulcast, endorsed the Secretary's views. Then he went further by voicing the opinion that the American people possess such maturity that they would not expect miracles from the conference.

In reporting that recent events in Europe may have turned the tide of history, Secretary DULLES was referring to the seating of West Germany in NATO. He also was thinking of the signing of Austrian treaty which he views as most important. Mr. DULLES attributed the Russians' changed attitude to persistent pressure from the ever stronger West.

The joy with which the 7,000,000 Austrians greeted signing of the treaty restoring their independence is understandable. That treaty ends 17 years of occupation, first by the Nazis and then by the Allies.

Outstanding among Russian concessions in it is abondonment of demands for deportation teams to return Russian refugees to the USSR. Another is agreement to restore to Austria the Zisterdorf oil fields and the Danube Shipping Co. The price Austrians have to pay for these and other properties may prove burdensome but it hasn't dampened their joy over regained freedom.

★ ★ ★

As events already have shown, things look brighter because the West is stronger. The President was right when he said America must stay strong and vigilant while hoping for but not counting on a peaceful new dawn.

THE first thing many a newspaper man will do on resurrection morning will be to check his tombstone for typographical errors.

OVERHEARD: "That joke is so old I wouldn't laugh at it even if my boss told it."

The People's Business

Dems Watch Adlai

Many in Michigan Think Williams Has Chance

By JACK I. GREEN

LANSING—High Democratic sources in Michigan consider the 1956 presidential nomination a wide-open affair, despite their lip service to the renomination of Adlai Stevenson.

These sources hint that neither Gov. Williams nor Gov. Harriman of New York quite mean what they say when they declare in public that Stevenson is the favorite candidate and can have the nomination if he wants it.

In fact, some of them suggest that very few grass root Democratic politicians believe that, no matter what they say for publication.

Michigan Democrats expect that Stevenson will—and must—declare his intentions by July 1 of this year—or else be left behind in the delegate-gathering parade.

They expect that if Stevenson declares himself in the other hopefuls in the national Democratic Party then will begin to coldly assess his chances.

NOT ALL AGREED

Underneath all the bland assurances that Stevenson is the unquestioned nominee and winner, there are suggestions—in Michigan at least—that everyone does not think so.

• • •

There was evidence in 1952 that many rank and file Democrats, especially among the working people, did not regard Stevenson with the enthusiasm noticeable in the upper echelons.

Hence, it is being suggested now that another face is needed whether Stevenson enters the contest or not. If that is so, what of the chances for Michigan's "Soapy" Williams?

Democratic leaders of this state seem to feel that Harriman is the man they must beat—and they do not blanch at the prospect.

They point to Williams' four consecutive elections in a normally Republican state and compare it with Harriman's first successful election last year.

LABOR LIKES SOAPY

They feel that organized labor and the many minority groups which play such an important part in the Democratic Party like Williams better than they do Harriman.

• • •

They insistently deny a popular conception that Williams is cordially disliked by Southern Democrats because of the leading part he played in the 1952 convention "loyalty" fight.

They believe, or say they believe, that Williams is well regarded below the Mason-Dixon Line, that the practical Democrats of the South have forgiven the loyalty mess.

To the charge that Williams is too deeply marked with the labor brand, they say that this is not true nationally even if it be so in Michigan.

• • •

So they wind up with the belief Williams is in a stronger position for the national race than he has been accorded in Michigan gossip. Sort of a prophet without honor, you know.

PROBABLY UNDECIDED

Probably Williams himself has not decided which way he intends to go—and many of his followers expect to see him a candidate for governor again.

• • •

But if Stevenson throws in his hat and isn't met with a frantic rush of delegates, or if Adlai plays coy, some Michigan Democrats expect Williams to start down the national trail next fall, gathering delegates where he may.

Independent observers, even if they accept all these Democratic theories, wonder who is going to play Pied Piper for Williams. Stevenson still has, presumably, his Jake Avery, Harriman his Carmen Di Sapio.

Conceding a successful presidential candidate needs a manipulator, a delegate catcher, Michigan Democrats also concede that Williams has failed to develop one of his own.

But they hint that there are plenty of skillful convention managers in other states willing to carry the Williams-for-President banner.

TALK OF SOUTHERNER

Williams' agents are starting to talk of a ticket embracing him and Sen. Russell of Georgia or Sen. Long of Louisiana.

They note with interest, amusement and hope an obviously planted story in a Texas newspaper suggesting Gov. Shivers would make a good running mate for Williams. And they recall Shivers' statement that he was off the Democratic reservation only if Stevenson is the nominee.

• • •

Thus it can be seen that, no matter what Williams has decided, his loyal men are seriously figuring and watching—and hoping.

The Undergirding of Our Nation

Days of All Faiths

St. Augustine Was Honored More for Work Than Piety

By DR. HOWARD V. HARPER

St. Augustine was the first Archbishop of Canterbury. It is the position now occupied by the man who is official head of the Church of England and unofficial head of the 30 million Anglican Christians throughout the world.

History does not show that Augustine had the usual qualifications of a saint. He left no record of great piety and he was not really a humble man. There is only one story of a miracle performed by him: he healed a blind man to show he had more power than some other bishops.

His place of honor in the Church calendar comes mainly from the great importance of the work he did.

In 596, Pope Gregory the Great, having seen some of the handsome blond Angles in Rome felt that the Gospel must be carried to their land. He selected Augustine, a local priest, and sent him off on the mission. A small group of monks accompanied him.

Halfway along the journey the little band began to hear such hair-raising tales of the ferocious barbarians they were going to visit that they sent a messenger back to the Pope with a request that the whole thing be called off. The request was not granted.

• • •

When they arrived, however, it was not nearly so bad as they had expected. It turned out that the queen (Bertha, daughter of the King of Paris) was a Christian, and that the king, Ethelbert, was completely friendly.

MANY FOLLOWED EXAMPLE

Ethelbert gave them as headquarters an old church, which the British Christians had abandoned in their flight, and was himself soon baptized. Many of the people followed the King's example and Augustine's mission flourished.

Besides bringing Christianity to England, and organizing the English Church into much the same structure it still has after 13 centuries, Augustine made other vital contributions to the life of England. He brought the remote little island into contact with the cultural influences of the civilized world, and into communication with other Christian nations.

The Feast of Weeks, celebrated by all Jews today, is a festival that started small and came into prominence centuries later.

Originally it was only an agricultural celebration, a harvest festival, which means that it could not have started until the Jews settled down to be farmers in Palestine, and that it would not have had much significance after they were forced out of their own land and became a people of many occupations other than farming.

FEAST OF HARVEST

The original name, "feast of harvest," describes exactly what this observance started out to be. In Palestine the season of the grain harvest began with the cutting of the barley crop, sometime around Passover time in the spring, and ended seven weeks later, with the gathering of the wheat.

• • •

Without any fixed dates such as were prescribed in the Bible for the other Jewish holidays, the harvest weeks began with the sacrifice of the "Omer," the first sheaf of new barley, and ended 50 days later with the offering of two loaves of bread baked from the new wheat. After a time of discussion and argument between the Sadducees and Pharisees, they settled on the 6th day of the Month of Sivan, which is always 50 days after Passover.

The Feat of Weeks went along for centuries as a harvest festival until popular tradition, based on Exodus chapter 19, verse 1, began to hold that this was the day on which Moses received the Torah (first five books of the Old Testament) from God on Mt. Sinai. Thus the day became the anniversary of God's first revelation of Himself to the Jews, and this far overshadowed the original meaning of the festival.

IDEAL FOR CONFIRMATION

Jewish boys and girls who have reached the age of 13 appear before the congregation and confirm their faith, accepting adult responsibilities. This feast was a "natural" for the new ceremony, for it is the time when all the Israelites were confirmed in the faith by Moses.

There is an old custom, still widely observed, of staying awake all night on the Feast of Weeks. The explanation is that when Moses returned after God's revelation he found all the people asleep. Now they remain awake all night to show that it would not be necessary to waken them on this great occasion.

Norah's case should be a timely warning to every woman who passes the age of 40. Her complexes are due to false notions about female anatomy. The upsets of the menopause are chiefly in a woman's imagination and based on the devious thinking outlined below. A woman's physical charm does not end at 45 or 55 or even 65!

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case O-336: Norah B., aged 43, is an attractive woman but a pain in the neck right now to her husband.

"Dr. Crane, Norah refuses to go anywhere alone," he informed me moodily.

"Why, she will not go down the block to the drug store unless I am with her.

"She has a great dread of being alone and clutches my arm so tightly her fingernails cut into the skin.

"She cries a lot, too, and says I don't love her. In fact, the past few months she has been making up all sorts of wild accusations about my having affairs with young women at my office, though she knows there is no truth whatever in her charges.

"Is she losing her mind? Does she need to go to a sanitarium for shock treatment? What can I do to snap her out of this mood?"

Norah shows some of the classical symptoms of the menopause. But this stage in a woman's life would cause little upset if she knew the true facts.

Most women since Eve, however, have jumped to the wrong conclusions and have thus felt that the interruption in their uterine function meant they were old and on the shelf.

That is actually not true! A woman can be thrilling and thrillable in marital relations as long as she lives. Her womb is not primarily a sex organ, anyway, so its presence or surgical removal (hysterectomy) should have no significant bearing on her love life.

But if a woman doesn't know these medical facts and if she firmly believes the age-old fallacy that the uterus is a barometer of woman's sexual attractiveness, then she can go into a neurotic state after the age of 40 and resemble Norah.

Norah thinks to herself: "Now I no longer as attractive to my husband so he will stop being interested in me. I'm all alone in life. Nobody loves me."

With that constant fear hovering in her subconscious mind, she thus has a complex about being left "alone." She refuses to go to the grocery unless she has her fingers locked around her husband's arm.

That desolate feeling of being emotionally "alone" or deserted, also makes her cry chronically and even indulge in self-pity.

Because she is so obsessed with the erroneous notion that she can no longer be physically appealing to her mate, she then imagines that he must be looking elsewhere for feminine affection.

• • •

That's why she launches her chronic attacks about his affairs with young women at the office.

When he protests, albeit irritably, "Honey, you know you are the only woman I ever loved," that is the sweetest music in the world to the ears of a menopausal wife, even if she must club it out of her mate by false accusations.

Cows don't develop menopausal complexes because they don't know they have a womb. Human females do, because they have just enough knowledge of anatomy to cause trouble but not a sufficient amount to realize the real truth.

"A little knowledge is a dangerous thing," runs an adage that is quite appropriate regarding menopausal women.

• • •

Most of the upsets in women past 40 are thus due to false notions, and not the cessation in their menses. They could cure themselves in 60 seconds by taking the right attitude and thinking positively.

Send for my booklet "Menopausal Complexes," enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus a dime.

Always write to Dr George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and a dime to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his psychological charts.

THOUGHTS FOR TODAY

Clapp Suggests Naming City Hall Square After Stephen and Temperance Mack

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature

Why not call the City Hall square the Stephen and Temperance Mack Square?

We know there was such a lady. The act turning over the lots at the southwest corner of the public square to the village for a court house and jail said, in part:

"And Temperance Mack, wife of said Stephen Mack, in consideration of the sum of one dollar in hand paid . . ."

Also, "In testimony whereof the said Stephen Mack and Temperance, my wife, have hereunto set our hands and seals this thirtieth day of June, one thousand eight hundred and twenty three." It was signed by Stephen Mack and Temperance Mack.

A little more about Oakland County, and Novi particulary. Will those who claim the name was taken from the number of a toll gate there, "No. VI", please remember that while the township was named in 1803, the road was not surveyed through from Detroit to Howell until 1832. The road was laid through Redford Township in 1833 and the route was "grubbed" through to a short distance beyond Howell. Planks and toll gates came around 1850.

'Modern Religion Deviates From Prophets' Meaning'

A strange period has befallen humanity, wherein more modern methods have been devised to cleanse the body and beautify the face while on the other hand less literature is being used in the homes to cleanse the mind, less spiritual guidance from parents while objective education tends to dehydrate compassion in youth.

Parents in their pursuit of pleasure and materialism are setting an example detrimental to right living and nullifying the attempts of conscientious religious leaders to bring about harmony.

The word "religion," as used by the prophets in the past, referred to knowledge of fundamental truths, the reading and study of why we are here, whither we depart, and how to serve mankind. A pattern for life and an attainment of wisdom.

Later religion was interpreted to mean the study of the law, concentration, meditation and illumi become a cult likened unto a bright light obscured by darkened windows.

The meaning of religion on the Western hemisphere is rapidly limiting its path to creeds and sectarian doctrines, dogma, ritual, display and showmanship. On the brighter side of the picture one observes group meetings in homes and small halls where the path to truth and right living is being sought and companionship among men of various creeds is pursued as brotherhood.

These are seeking progress to accuracy without blind dogma; for only in the midst of truth is found the imperishable being.

Optimism of Leaders Good News for Week

By CHARLES M. MCCANN
United Press Staff Correspondent

The week's good and bad news on the international balance sheet:

THE GOOD

1. President Eisenhower expressed hope that "a new dawn" of peace may be coming. The President spoke during a dramatic television-radio appearance with Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, who was reporting to the nation on his visit to Europe.

Reviewing the entrance of newly sovereign West Germany to the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, the signing of the Austrian independence treaty and the tentative arrangements made for a Big Four conference of heads of state, Dulles said that what happened may really mark a turning point in the tide of history."

Eisenhower, summing up after Dulles' speech, said: "We will stay strong and we'll stay vigilant, but we're not going to extinguish the hope that a new dawn may be coming, even if the sun rises very slowly."

2. West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer won a significant victory in legislative elections in the state of Rhineland-Palatinate. The vote carried with it approval of Adenauer's policy of rearmament and alliance with the free world, as opposed to a policy of neutrality.

The state legislature elects members to the West German senate, and the victory assured Adenauer of the continued firm control he needs there to get approval of his rearmament legislation.

3. A Peiping radio broadcast disclosed that Chinese Communist Premier Chou En-lai, in a report to a congressional committee, had repeated his offer to "sit down and enter into negotiations" with the United States.

THE BAD

1. Despite assurances from Belgrade, the State Department and Western foreign offices in general expressed anxiety over the impending visit of Soviet Premier Nikolai A. Bulganin and Communist Party Secretary Nikita S. Khrushchev to President Tito of Yugoslavia.

Fear was expressed that the Russians might induce Tito to become a "neutralist" or even to join the new East European military alliance. Belgrade dispatches quoted Yugoslav sources as saying the fears were groundless.

2. French attempts to pacify North African nationalists by granting home rule failed to stop terrorism.

3. Communist-instigated Chinese students, rioting in Singapore, attacked Gene Symonds, United Press manager for Southeast Asia, and beat him to death.

Many Teenagers Prefer Fatless Milk to Grade A

By DR. WILLIAM BRADY, M.D.

Teen-age daughter always drank milk until recently, when she learned that powdered milk is fatless. Now she refuses the best Grade A milk and drinks only powdered milk. What do you advise? (Mrs. K.E.)

Answer—Half a loaf is better than none. Powdered "fatless" milk is equivalent to skim milk. Skim milk is preferred to whole fresh milk by a good many teenage boys and girls. Skim milk, of course, is "fatless," too. Either skim milk or "fatless" powdered milk taken in the proper amount of water, is just half as nourishing as fresh Grade A.

When I chew, particularly early in the morning, my jaw pops—feels as though it jumps out of joint and back in again. . . . (E.B.)

Answer — Often the consequence of neglect of the teeth—that is, failure to have at least 28 teeth or dentures functioning well. Better consult your dentist. And to straighten your thinking about how to keep well, send 25c and stamped self-addressed envelope for Little Lesson No. 1—and I mean No. 1—Save Your Teeth.

Have read your column for years. We grind our own wheat, make our own bread and love it. Wouldn't be without it. (G.W.W.)

Answer—If any other courageous characters are curious about good nutrition, they may learn something from the pamphlet Wheat To Eat, available on written request (not a clipping) properly signed and accompanied with a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

I'm 75 and have had terrible pains in my feet almost since girlhood. At times the soles turn almost into each other while the pain lasts. Between attacks there's no trouble for a period of one or two weeks . . . (Mrs. M.B.K.)

Answer—Send stamped, self-addressed envelope for pamphlet on Adult Tetany.

Read your column regularly, especially enjoy your articles on natural childbirth. I came here only recently and have just learned that the doctors here request the husband to remain in the delivery room at the time of birth, at least for the first child . . . (Mrs. M.L.)

Answer—The small town doctors are usually the best. The knowledge that an anesthetic will be used if or when you want it is further assurance. Send 25c and stamped, self-addressed envelope for booklet Preparing for Maternity.

We used your "fool proof cough medicine" years ago for our children and found it so wonderful. Could you please send a prescription for the sodium citrate, which the druggists now refuse to sell without prescription. We'd like to "whip up a batch" of the cough medicine for our grandchildren. . . . (Mrs. E.C.P.)

Answer—Sorry, I can't. Full instructions in booklet Call It CRI for which send 25c and stamped, self-addressed envelope. Sodium citrate was formerly used in preparing of the baby's bottle—it prevents formation of large curds. But when the druggists found so many customers buying it to make their own cough medicine they did something about it. Now they can show you printed on the can the words "Not To Be Dispensed Without Prescription. That'll teach you! There's no profit in selling little dabs of sodium citrate. There's a nice profit in selling a bottle of ready-made cough medicine.

What is best to wash a three-year-old child's hair . . .? (Mrs. N.W.)

Answer — Plain toilet soap. Send 25c and stamped, self-addressed envelope for booklet The Hair and Scalp.

Son going to take entrance examination for——, which is extremely competitive. Son-in-law the State Bar exam. We have great faith in your advice . . . (L.M.B.)

Answer—Tell 'em to keep their fingers crossed and take the tablets as directed in the pamphlet Stage Fright and Examination Jitters, for which send stamped, self-addressed envelope. When the ordeal is over, remind 'em that I'd like to know whether my medicine helped.

I'm 37, 61½ inches tall, weigh 160 lbs. Have habit of drinking tap water about every fifteen or twenty minutes, especially when I'm upset. Would drinking lemon juice help? (Mrs. S.M.)

Answer—Well, lemon juice is more nourishing. But makes no difference how much water you drink. Send stamped, self-addressed envelope for pamphlet How To Lose Weight.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long, pertaining to personal health and hygiene, re to disease, diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady if a stamped, self-addressed envelope is sent to the Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Mich.

Says Loophole Costly to U.S.

Democrat Charges Tax Revision Has Feature Benefiting Firms

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Mills (D-Ark) said yesterday he has found a new and "highly dangerous loophole" in last year's tax revision act.

Mills said it would cost the government more than a billion dollars a year in revenue in the future and would give corporations many billions of dollars of tax-free profits from speculating in their own stocks.

Mills said Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey only recently reviewed and approved this revision, and he added in an interview:

"The only conclusion I can reach is that this section was deliberately proposed to provide a windfall for corporations. In all probability, the bigger the corporations are, the more they will make."

There was no immediate comment from the Treasury.

Mills was a leading foe of the 950-page 1954 act rewriting almost all tax laws, proposed by the Eisenhower administration and backed by most Republicans in Congress. He is a veteran member of the tax-writing House Ways and Means Committee.

The section to which he referred provides that for income tax purposes "no gain or loss shall be recognized to a corporation on the receipt of money or other property in exchange for stock (including treasury stock) of such corporation."

The term "treasury stock" means the corporation's own stock, held in its treasury.

New York Clears Way for Burlesque Shows

NEW YORK (AP) — The 18-year-old ban on "burlesque" in New York City has been lifted by court order, but the shows apparently won't be what they used to be.

State Supreme Court Justice Aron Steuer has cleared the way for a producer to display the burlesque signs that were ruled out in 1937 when the shows got too raw.

Steuer directed City License Commissioner Edward T. McCaffrey yesterday to grant a license to Thomas J. Phillips for presentation of vaudeville and burlesque.

No One Is Hurt in Bullfighting Hoosier Style

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Promoter William H. Lipkey, of Kokomo, Ind., asked Gov. George Craig yesterday for permission to stage what he called bullfighting.

As he describes the show, nobody gets hurt—especially the bull.

"Instead of using barbed instruments we will substitute suction cup devices and picador's lance will be padded rather than sharpened," Lipkey explained.

The matador gets a sword, but it's only for protection. He won't kill the bull.

Lipkey operates auto race tracks at Kokomo and Lafayette, Ind.

Sunday Sermonette

Life Plus

By DON D. TULLIS

Frank M. Arnold Jr., tells of a little lad who entered a cathedral with his father. As they walked toward the altar the boy exclaimed, "What's that plus sign up there for, Dad?" The cross is indeed a plus sign, adding light and immortality to life.

It has much to do with the arithmetic of human existence. In fact, the cross recalls Pascal's "arithmetical triangle," having three signs instead of one. The horizontal bar, standing alone, is a MINUS sign, signifying the things that sacrificial love subtracts from life—the fears that weaken every endeavor, hate that curdles the milk of human kindness, and all the other sins that destroy the highest handiwork of God.

The cross is the earnest of a divine dynamic that is able to take from man his meanness, pride and greed. It is God's sworn affidavit that He cares, and caring takes the boredom out of life and relieves the otherwise constant ache of human existence.

Sean O'Casey, who renounced his faith, seems to be writing his autobiography in his lines, "Ache of the birth, ache of the helpless days, ache of hot youth and ache of manhood's prime, ache of the chill, grey years, and choking death—these fill your piteous time." There is no "piteous time" to those who live the abundant life.

Now, if the horizontal bar is a minus sign, the upright beam of the cross is a sign of division. Not division between man and man, nation and nation, race and race, black and white, red and yellow—but division between right and wrong, the true and the false, good and evil, the temporal and the eternal.

Now the "arithmetical triangle" when complete, forms the plus sign for all who have eyes to see and hearts to understand. The cross adds forgiveness, direction, fellowship and peace to life.

The Bible sounds this call to positive living in these words—"add to your faith virtue, to virtue knowledge, to knowledge temperance, to temperance patience, to patience godliness and to godliness brotherly love and charity."

These added together provide a panacea for this ailing age. When they are practiced there will be no use for United Nations organization, for each man, in keeping with the prophets vision, will invite his brother man to "sit with him under his own vine and fig tree."

LIFE PLUS! THIS IS THE MEANING OF THE CROSS.

English Bishop Launches Idea

Catholic Prelate Urges All Christians to Wear Small Golden Cross

By Religious News Service

LEEDS, England — A campaign to encourage Christians of all denominations to "profess their faith openly by wearing a small golden cross" was launched here by Roman Catholic Bishop John Carmel Heenan.

Referring to the campaign during the annual dinner here of the Civil Service Catholic Guild, the bishop said he had gotten the idea a year ago while sitting at a civic function next to a clerk wearing such an emblem.

"I asked him why he was wearing it," Bishop Heenan said, "and he answered, 'To show that I am a Christian.'"

The prelate said he liked the idea so much he has had a quantity of crosses about three-eighths of an inch long made up and plans to "put them on the market at sixpence each."

"I hope Christians of all kinds will wear them," he said.

Quakers Appeal to All People

Better to Suffer Than to Cause Suffering Says Society of Friends

By Religious News Service

LONDON—Use of nuclear weapons in war is a sin, the executive committee of the Religious Society of Friends (Quakers) in Great Britain said in "An Appeal to All Men and Women" issued here.

Noting Great Britain's recent decision to manufacture H-bombs, the Quaker leaders warned that, if war breaks out, the temptation to use these weapons will be "very great." They added that scientists have said their use will involve "not only the most terrible sufferings now but unknown consequences for succeeding generations."

"We believe that no one has the right to use these weapons in his defense or to ask another person to use them on his behalf" the statement said. "To rely on the possession of nuclear weapons as a deterrent is faithless, to use them is a sin.

"Only a vision of God's purpose for mankind will give us the courage to risk much we hold precious for what is more precious still. Let us unite with all who seek to turn men's minds away from mistrust and fear.

"Our hope for a new world will be fulfilled when men are willing to suffer rather than to cause suffering, to overcome evil with faith and love, and in all things to act with that overwhelming generosity which is the spirit of Christ."

Confident Living

Follow Six Suggestions for Better Understanding

By NORMAN VINCENT PEALE

I have a friend who is a very busy businessman. He manages to read the newspapers and a few magazines, but just doesn't find time for books during the year. Yet, each summer, he makes a point of reading from beginning to end a great and important book.

He takes this book with him on his vacation and on all his weekend trips. He reads on trains, ships and planes; he has it beside him whether he is lying on the beach in the sun, fishing on some shady bank or relaxing in a chair at home.

DR. PEALE

• • •

One year, he read Tolstoy's "War and Peace"; another time, he got through the condensed version of Arnold Toynbee's "A Study of History"; last year it was Edward Gibbon's "The Decline and Fall of the Roman Empire."

And this summer, he tells me, he is going to read a book he has known all his life, but never really read from beginning to end. He is going to read the Bible.

• • •

The best suggestion I can make as to how you can have a memorable summer is that you follow his example. All of us think we know the Bible, but few have ever really read it from cover to cover.

Yet it is the greatest and most valuable book mankind has ever known. It has everything: History, biography, several love stories, poetry, adventure, even a spy story.

Dr. Francis Carr Stifler of the American Bible Society has prepared a fascinating pamphlet on how to read the Bible, which is currently being distributed by many companies to their employes. This is the way he tells you how you can get more out of your Bible reading:

BIBLE-READING ADVICE

"1. Read expectantly and thoughtfully, asking, "What is God's message for me today? What does this passage teach me to believe? —to become?—to do?' The more you are willing to listen, the more He will say.

• • •

"2. Read with imagination, unhurriedly. Try to picture the scene, and to think of the characters as living people.

"3. Use standard helps, such as a reference Bible, commentaries, Bible dictionary and concordance.

"4. Do not be disturbed if there are some passenges you don't understand. Dig for hidden treasure by repeated readings.

• • •

"5. Conserve the results of your reading by keeping a record of what you have read and the impressions you received. Memorize helpful passages or copy key verses to carry with you for reference through the day.

"6. Turn to the Bible each day, no matter how you feel. It is not primarily a shelf of medicines for emergencies; it is a daily food for daily needs."

CARRY BIBLE WITH YOU

Get yourself a Bible you can carry with you. Protestants will want the King James Version, with its great prose, familiar to most of us all our lives, or the new Revised Standard Version.

Catholics have their own translations, such as the standard Douay version or the new Ronald Knox translation. And Jews can obtain a translation of the Old Testament prepared by the Jewish Publication Society.

Especially useful for this purpose is "The Compact Bible," an edition of the King James Version of the Old and New Testaments condensed for faster reading, yet including all the books of the Bible and small enough to be easily carried around.

Make reading the Bible your project for this summer and it will be a memorable experience.

Panel to Discuss Area Problems

Presbyterians to Hold Last Family Night Dinner of Season

"The Spiritual Challenge of the Pontiac Area" will be the theme of the last Family Night of the season at the First Presbyterian Church on Tuesday evening.

A panel composed of Dr. Otto Hufziger of the Board of Education, John Fitzgerald of the Pontiac Press, Theodore Slosson of the YMCA, Harcourt S. Patterson, city commissioner, Sheriff Frank Irons, and the Rev. Edward D. Auchard, associate pastor of the church, will discuss the topic.

Emphasis will be given to the growth of the area in both population and wealth, in the basic human problems of the community, to what is being done to meet these problems, and to the primary responsibility and opportunity of the church in the Pontiac area.

A special program for children will be directed by Mrs. Jack Chetister.

The panel will follow a dinner at 6:30 p.m. Hosts and hostesses for the evening are Mr. and Mrs. William Herrmann, Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Mulkey, Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Doerr, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Salow, Mr. and Mrs William De Roo, and Mr. and Mrs. L. P. Ellis.

Recognition to Be Given Counselors, Troop Members for Special Service

Avocation Led to New Occupation

By ANNE HEYWOOD

Before Marjorie K. was married, she was a hairdresser, and a good one too.

But then she got so busy with her two daughters that she gave it all up. Not for long, however.

"It's funny," Marjorie told me, "but when the girls started going to school, everyone commented on their lovely hair.

Neither one has remarkable hair, by any means, but I always took very good care of it, and cut it to fit their individual features.

A BECOMING HAIRSTYLE

"Even as a toddler, a little girl's hair can add a lot to her attractiveness, if it's right for her.

Too many mothers, it seemed to me, took great pains to make corkscrew curls, which did nothing at all for the little girl's features.

I specialized in good healthy care, cutting that did something for the face and a style that was easy to keep."

Before long, of course, the mothers on the block were enlisting Marjorie's help in cutting their own children's hair.

UP-TO-DATE METHODS

"I did it for free at first," Marjorie said, "because it was awkward not to.

Besides, I did need the practice to bring myself up to date. But after a while, I got tired of it.

So, I went to our nearest beauty parlor and asked if I could set up a special corner for children.

* * *

The owner was glad to oblige because it seems I had been eating into his business, doing all those kids for free!

"Well," Marjorie concluded, "it's more fun, and it's going like a house afire. I have a special children's booth, and my hours are just after school—three hours a day.

I have some toys for the really young ones, but mostly, it's my special interest in children's looks that keeps my customers coming. And I give the mothers advice on how to help the child care for their hair, too!"

Many times, the woman who left her job to raise a family, will find that previous skills, combined with the knowledge she gained while caring for her children, will help her to create a new and profitable career for herself.

Full Skirts Are Typical of Fogarty

Career Gal Dress Swings and Sways Through Seasons

If Anne Fogarty were to run for a political office, she would undoubtedly get in on the strength of her devoted fashion following alone.

A designer who knows what her public wants, she makes it a point never to disappoint them, always delivering lines that do terrific things for waistlines, skirts with plenty of swing and sway.

This dress, ideal for career girls who stay in the city in the summer, has a long bodice cleverly darted for that hand span waist look, and a full four gored skirt.

The narrow band on the collar should be in the same color as the buttons on the neckline placket. The pattern also includes instructions for the lower neckline and achieving a flattering scoop. Make it now in cotton broadcloth, chambrays, gingham, linen or shantung.

For the fall, when it will still be newsy, faille, surah, taffeta and light weight wools are suggested.

This pattern is cut to designer measurements, not Standard Pattern measurements.

The naked look is out. Sentimentally pretty fichus, little clusters of flowers, shining moire ribbon, innocent organdy is new trend.

Miss A. D. — Coordinated separates are the fashion trend. They begin with play clothes and continue through evening dresses. Border-type Swiss embroidery, or frills or insertions of white val lace, often trim the tops of these separates.

Proper Use of 1st Name Is Discussed

By EMILY POST

A reader asks: "When I ask someone to call me by my first name and she does, does this give me the right to call her by her first name even though she says nothing to suggest that I do?"

Answer: If she follows your suggestion, then you would naturally call her by her first name too—unless she is much older than you are.

If she never calls you by your first name, I should say your suggestion ended there.

QUESTIONS

Dear Mrs. Post: Will you please answer the following two questions for me:

(1) When several women drive to town together to go to the theater or shopping and it is necessary to put the car in a garage, is it the responsibility of the car owner to pay the parking fee, or should the women "chip in together" to pay for it?

(2) Is it imporper to bring along sewing when visiting a friend?

Answer: (1) It is the responsibility of the car owner—unless the others choose to offer. If they fail to do so, the car owner certainly couldn't ask them to pay for parking the car.

(2) When going to sit with an intimate friend, it would not be imporper to keep your hands occupied if you do not make a mess and do not have to concentrate your attention on what you are doing.

Marguerite A. Levengood Weds John M. Novess

A gown of Chantilly lace and tulle over satin was worn by Marquerite Alice Levengood when she approached the altar of St. Michael Church this morning to become the bride of John McInally Novess.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Charles J. Levengood of Norton avenue, and the late Mr. Levengood. The bridegroom's parents are Mrs. Clarence M. Novess of Drayton Plains and the late Mr. Novess.

The bride's gown was fashioned with lace bodice featuring scalloped neckline and long pointed sleeves.

The lace skirt formed points over tulle which ended in a chapel length train. A crown of iridescent sequins secured her finger tip veil.

MRS. JOHN M. NOVESS

The bridal bouquet was composed of white roses, feathered carnations and ivy.

* * *

Vases of white gladioli, snapdragons and pompons decorated the altar for the 10 o'clock ceremony performed by the Rev. Michael J. O'Reilly.

Mrs. Henry Felice, sister of the bride, wore a ballerina length gown of pink tulle over taffeta for her duties as matron of honor. The princess styled dress was topped by a matching jacket and she wore a headpiece of net and flowers matching her gown.

She carried a shalimar arrangement of roses and pink feathered carnations.

Other attendants were Mrs. Arthur D. Morin, sister of the bride, Ann Marie St. Charles and Judy A. Novess, sister of the bridegroom, from Drayton Plains. They carried arrangements of roses and pink feathered carnations and wore aqua gowns identical to the matron of honor's.

NIECE IS FLOWER GIRL

Elsie Ann Felice, niece of the bride, wore a pink net dress over taffeta for her duties as flower girl. Her dress was trimmed with ribbons and rose buds and she carried roses and pink feathered carnations.

Clarence M. Novess Jr., brother of the bridegroom, of Drayton Plains was best man. Seating the guests were Arthur D. Morin, John D. McGaffey of Birmingham and George Atchison of Auburn Heights. Larry Novess, nephew of the bridegroom, was ring bearer.

A breakfast at Rotunda Inn followed the ceremony and an afternoon reception was held at the home of the bride's mother. Mrs. Levengood greeted her guests wearing an aqua silk print dress with black and white accessories. Her flowers were white pompons and carnations.

A slate blue lace dress with white accessories and a corsage of white pompons were worn by Mrs. Novess.

When the couple left for a honeymoon in Pennsylvania and Washington, D. C., the new Mrs. Novess was wearing a rose linen suit with navy and white accessories and a corsage from her bridal bouquet. They will reside in Drayton Plains.

2 Showers Given for Mrs. Reamer

Mrs. Glenn Reamer Jr. of Florawood drive was honored recently at two stork showers.

Bleach Away Stain

If your glass coffee maker accumulates stain at the bottom or a ring around the top, remove it this way:

Pour into the coffee maker the new chlorine dry bleach and add hot water. Let stand over night.

Keep Screens Clean

If screens are cleaned frequently with the dusting brush of the vacuum cleaner, rain spatterings will not soil windows nearly as much as when the screens are full of dust and dirt.

2 Represent Guild

Pontiac Music Guild was represented by Mrs. William Heitsch and Mrs. Carl Clifford at the coordinating council meeting of the Michigan Music Teachers' Association held in East Lansing.

Germans Have Way to Control Objectionable Books

ANN ARBOR (AP) — A German legislator outlined this week a method his government uses to keep objectionable literature out of the hands of youth.

* * *

Emil Kemmer, a member of the German Bundestag and the Christian Social Union Party, is chairman of the committee on youth affairs in the German Legislature.

The whole problem of questionable literature, he said, is in the hands of a federal board, made up of about 20 persons. Some, he said, are from the ranks of the publishers and authors. Others are from groups which would like to restrict books and magazines.

Kemmer pointed out that the "comic book" is on the German market, an import from America.

But his government's plan for restricting literature does not necessarily include the comic book variety.

USED INDEX

The federal board, Kemmer said, places publications on an index that it votes as objectionable for children. A two-thirds vote of the board is necessary to take the action.

The board, he said, is split just about 50-50 between publishers and critics, so that some of each group must vote to lift any publication from the general market.

* * *

He said that this was not censorship, which is banned by the German constitution. But he said it was restriction of distribution.

Newsstands may not sell indexed publications. The only groups that can sell these printed materials are booksellers, and Kemmer said they are more easily controlled since there are fewer of them.

The booksellers, Kemmer said, are prohibited from selling indexed items to youths.

Kemmer said too that the judgments were made on the basis of whether publications contained material that might be injurious to youths in the field of morality.

GRANTS INTERVIEW

In the United States as part of the State Department's foreign leader program, Kemmer granted reporters an interview. He said he was visiting various American institutions for youth.

* * *

German and American youth problems were very similar, he said, though they arose from different causes. In Germany, he said, the primary cause was the war.

He said some elements in America appeared similar to problems in his country: Gang warfare, unreached youth and neglected children in homes.

His government, he said, has done much to remedy this. The federal youth plan, he said, spends some 30 million marks a year to organize youths and establish homes and camps for the homeless.

The expenditure, he said would approximate about 15 million U.S. dollars in buying power.

* * *

Speaking through his interpreter, Kemmer added: "Youth problems exist in every age, but I don't think German rearmament will affect it."

He added that some youth groups had passed resolutions against rearmament, "but we hope they will be democratic enough to go along with it."

Hollywood Headlines

Rudy Won't Play Himself for Good Reason — Money

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Rudy Vallee may be the next show biz great to be immortalized in celluloid.

But the long-time Vagabond Lover won't be playing himself, and for a very good reason — money.

* * *

Vallee is back in his Hollywood haunts briefly and he was greeting old pals at the Brown Derby. Between bites of a healthful salad, he told about his film biography.

"Yes, we have been having discussions about it," he said. "MGM and 20th Century-Fox are interested and that pleases me, because both would go all-out for it.

"Of course, my wife wants me to play the role. That isn't as ridiculous as it seems. I recently made 'Gentlemen Marry Brunettes' in Europe and I played myself as I am now and also at 28 years of age. Quite convincing too.

"But I would prefer an actor who was a big name at the box office, say a Tony Curtis. Since I would be sharing in the profits, I would rather have a star who would bring more millions in."

Vallee is here for his Sunday night CBS radio show, but he's soon hustling back to New York. He explained that the advertising agency prefers to have it originate from there.

"And we find that there are so many more celebrities to interview back there," he added. "When they go to New York, they expect to be available for such things; here they're hard to get.

"It's a shame to leave my fabulous house, but I can't find enough to keep me busy here. In the East, I do radio, some night clubs, a and an occasional TV spot."

U. of M. Asks House to Increase Budget

LANSING (AP)—The University of Michigan has asked the House to restore one million dollars which the Senate chopped from its budget request.

President Harlan Hatcher, Vice President Marvin Niehuss and other university officials appeared before the House Ways and Means Committee to explain their requests.

Rep. Arnell Engstrom (R-Traverse City), committee member, said the officials asked for an additional $475,000 for university constributions to federal Social Security for its employes.

The employes are expected to vote to combine their own pension systems with federal Social Security under a plan approved by Congress.

Engstrom said the university said it also needs an additional half million dollars to cover operating expenses on a predicted enrollment of 19,750.

Police Blockade U.S. Army Post

Local Authorities Halt Traffic From Ft. Banks to Get Suspect

WINTHROP, Mass. (AP)—The Ft. Banks soldier the Army refused —for 10 hours—to turn over to local police will appear today in East Boston District Court.

Police Chief William F. Pumphret ordered a blockade of the fort yesterday after Army officials refused to hand over 20-year-old Pvt. Charles Schmidt of Brooklyn, N.Y. He is accused of indecent assault on a 16-year-old Winthrop girl.

* * *

Col. Philip B. Stiness, commanding officer of the suburban Boston fort originally refused to release the soldier until a request was made through the proper channels — from the district attorney's office to the commanding general at Ft. Devens. Banks is a "satellite post" of Devens, which is a Class I installation.

* * *

Chief Pumphret, however, read a copy of the original deed which ceded the post to the government. It says:

After a conference with the police, the Army agreed last night to turn Schmidt over to civilian authorities. Col. Stiness said the decision was made "on the advice of higher headquarters."

English Woman Amazed at Soft Life of U.S. Wife

GRAND RAPIDS (UP) — An English woman who heads three war brides' associations said today she is "amazed" at the position women have attained in America.

"America is a woman's country," Mrs. Rose Buckner, here to address a group of war brides, said. "I'm amazed at the partnership of husband and wife in America.

"Why, American husbands even help their wives do dishes and there's not a thing wrong with it. England is a man's country, you know. We suit the husband first."

Mrs. Buckner said she thinks English women may some day enjoy the same relationship with their husbands that American women do "but it'll take time."

Apple Barrel Match Lasts for 50 Years

SOUTH HAVEN (INS) — Mr. and Mrs. William W. Richards of South Haven Friday celebrated their golden wedding anniversary and looked back on a note in an apple barrel which led to their marriage.

Fifty years ago, Richards, an apple packer, was in a marrying mood but none of the local girls captured his eye.

"One day before putting the top layer of apples in a barrel, I stuck in a note," he said.

The note read: "If this barrel of apples should reach a nice girl between the ages of 18 and 25, please write W. W. Richards."

The young man signed it "A Gentleman."

GETS REPLY

The barrel of apples then went to Chicago where it was sold to a baker, Charlotte Meuman, the baker's stepdaughter, unpacked it and replied.

They were wed 50 years ago and now have 10 children and 18 grandchildren.

Today Richards declared:

"You can say we're the happiest couple in South Haven—thanks to a barrel of apples."

Jobless Claims Drop

Santee Short of Goal, 880 Jumbled Affair

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Wes Santee is still looking for that 4-minute mile and the national half-mile rating chart is a jumbled mess today after the 15th annual Los Angeles Coliseum Relays.

* * *

Santee, given only fair pacing and competition, ran the featured mile in 4:05.5. But the race that captured the fancy of 56,173 — largest track crowd of the season —was the free-wheeling 880 that saw Ron Delaney, Villanova freshman, winning on a disqualification in 1:50.5.

* * *

The half-mile was a heartbreaker for Pittsburgh's Arnie Sowell, who was in command until the final turn when he was headed by Tom Courtney of Fordham. Courtney went on to cross the finish line first, but the judges ruled he cut in too closely and gave the victory to Delaney, who was about two yards back.

Sowell, forced to run on the infield grass, broke stride and wound up last in the crack field.

Mal Whitfield, co-world record holder at 1:48.6, had to be content with fourth place, Lon Spurrier, former California star who was clocked in 1:47.5 earlier this year, was placed second with Lang Stanley third.

* * *

Another favorite and world record holder who fell was javelin thrower Bud Held. Held wound up fifth after his 261-foot toss, within three feet of his world mark, failed to stick in the turf and was disallowed. His Olympic Club teammate, Cy Young, won with a 257-foot fling.

* * *

Santee finished nearly 20 yards ahead of Billy Tidwell of Emporia State Teachers. Phil Coleman of the Chicago Track Club and Sid Wing of Southern California were third and fourth. The first four runners were timed in 4:08 or less, as Finland's Denis Johansson's old Coliseum Relays mark of 4:08.6 went into the discard.

Young's javelin toss was another relays record. A third was chalked up by another 1952 Olympic champion, Adhemar da Silva of Brazil, who got out to 50 feet 9½ inches in the hop, step and jump.

The form chart took a beating, too, in the quarter mile, won by Australia's Kevan Gosper, running for Michigan State. While Lou Jones of Fort Knox and Jim Lea of the Los Angeles AC were repeating their Pan-American Games duel on the inside lanes, Gosper came down the middle of the stretch to win by two yards in 46.7, Jones was second, Lea third.

In the collegiate relays, the University of Houston's crack foursome of Doyle Jones, Jerry Beck, Danny Boone and Larry McBride reeled off sparkling wins in the 440-yard and 880-yard events. The times were 40.8 and 1:25. McBride, Houston's anchor man, laid out of the 100-yard dash to assure victory over the University of Texas' team, which has a 40.4 mark pending approval.

The century, as expected, was won by Northwestern's Jim Golliday, in 9.6. Seven false starts slowed the race and resulted in gun-jumping disqualification of Andy Stanfield, New York Pioneer Club veteran, and John Haines of Pennsylvania. Dean Smith of Texas and Art Pollard, Penn State, were second and third.

Stanfield repeated as 220-yard low hurdles winner. He won by inches from Illinois' Willard Thomson in 23.3. Thomson took the 120-yard highs handily in 14 flat.

Oklahoma A&M, sparked by J. W. Mashburn's 45.8 anchor lap, reeled off a 3:10.9 victory in the mile relay. UCLA edged Michigan in the two-mile relay in 7:30.5.

Winners in their specialties were Ernie Shelton, Southern California, 6 feet 10 inches in the high jump; the Rev. Bob Richards and ex-Illini Don Laz, 14 feet, 10 inches, tying in the pole vault; Parry O'Brien, Travis Air Force Base, 58 feet 2¾ inches in the shot put; Roy Range, Fort Ord, 24 feet 7¾ inches in the broad jump; and Des Koch, Southern California, 170 feet 4½ inches in the discus.

BEATS AMERICANS STARS — Kevan Gosper, Australian quarter-miler from Michigan State College, beats the favored Lou Jones (left), former Manhattan runner and Jim Lea (right) of USC in the Los Angeles Relays 440-yard run last night. The time was 46.9 seconds. Jones and Lea both bettered the world record for 400 meters in the Pan-American games a few weeks ago, but Gosper left them behind last night. Jones was 2nd and Lea 3rd.

Hatfield, Wilson Join Kaline in Pacing Tigers to 11-4 Victory Over Cleveland

DETROIT (AP) — Fred Hatfield and Red Wilson today found themselves cast in unfamiliar roles as power hitters for the Detroit Tigers.

* * *

Hatfield, veteran Tiger infielder, kept pace with the sizzling Al Kaline, driving in three runs as Detroit routed the league-leading Indians 11-4, last night. Wilson led Tiger batting with three hits.

One of Hatfield's runs was a homer in the 6th.

* * *

A cheering crowd of 50,004 saw the Tigers break up the game by driving in five runs in the 7th.

Bob Lemon, striving for his 26th lifetime victory over Detroit, failed to last the 3rd inning. He was charged with his 3rd loss against six triumphs. Al Aber, last of three Detroit pitchers, picked up his 2nd victory.

Victory gave Detroit an even split with Cleveland in six games this season. Two more remain to be played in the current series at Briggs Stadium today and tomorrow.

* * *

Lemon gave up the 1st four Detroit runs, two in the 2nd on singles by Ferris Fain and Wilson, a double by Jim Delsing and a sacrifice fly by Hatfield. Tigers collected two more in the 3rd on a walk, a double by Bill Tuttle and a single by Kaline.

* * *

Hatfield's three RBI's came on a sacrifice fly in the 2nd, a homer in the 6th and a single in the 7th. Kaline drove in the last of his three runs on a single in the 8th.

Indians jumped off to a demoralizing lead when Al Smith slammed Billy Hoeft's 1st pitch into the left field seats for his 7th home run.

Leo Cristante took over from Hoeft in the 4th. Aber replaced Cristante in the 5th.

Tigers scored their five runs in the 7th when Ray Narleski, 3rd of four Cleveland hurlers, opened the inning by throwing wild on a sacrifice bunt by Tuttle with one out. A walk, a sacrifice fly and a single by Hatfield, a double by Wilson and a single by Harry Malmberg accounted for the total.

'Washed-Up' Hurler Wins 5th

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

It's been more than a decade since a manager of the Chicago Cubs could put in a call to the bullpen with confidence. But Hal Jeffcoat, headed for the minors as a washed up outfielder a year ago, almost has skipper Stan Hack relaxing in a rocking chair these days.

Not since Charley Root was handy have the Cubs had themselves a fireman who plays the part as well as Jeffcoat. And Root left in 1941.

It's barely a year now since Jeffcoat won his first major league decision, but Hack has waved him in 11 times so far this season. In 23 1-3 innings Hal has hung up a 5-0 record.

He claimed No. 5 last night at Milwaukee as the surprising Cubs beat the Braves 4-2 on Bob Speake's 10th inning home run. That kept the Bruins in the National League pennant battle, just four percentage points behind the second place New York Giants. Both clubs are 6½ games behind Brooklyn.

In the American, Detroit peppered Cleveland 11-4 as the New York Yankees cut the Indians' lead to a half game by beating Baltimore 7-5. Kansas City's Art Ditmar stymied the White Sox 1-0 with a two-hitter. And Washington defeated Boston 3-1.

At Milwaukee, Jeffcoat relieved Bob Rush in the seventh and collared the Braves with one hit through the last 3 1-3 innings. It was Jeffcoat's second relief success in three days.

Speake's homer, the rookie's fifth, belted Warren Spahn for his fifth defeat. Rookie Ted Tappe

Brooklyn outhit the Phillies, who had lost 15 of their previous 16 starts, but couldn't do much else against Roberts, who owns five of Philadelphia's 10 victories. Roy

The Yanks beat the Orioles despite Bob Turley's wildness. The strikeout swifty fanned only three of his ex-mates while walking nine in five innings. Jim Konstanty and Tom Morgan protected the lead the rest of the way as Turley became the first to win seven this season. A three-run sixth, featuring Yogi Berra's two-run homer, provided the edge.

Ditmar, only 1-4 in his first major league try last season, ad the White Sox in check all the way at Chicago. A first inning run on singles by Enos Slaughter and Vic Power and a sacrifice fly that let Kansas City tag Sandy Consuegra with his first defeat.

Bob Porterfield and Johnny Schmitz held Boston to six hits for Porterfield's fifth victory. The Washingto nrighthander, always a hard luck guy, left with a stiff arm after five innings after being struck by a line drive in the second.

U.S. Team Shoots Today for Sweep in Walker Matches

ST. ANDREWS, Scotland (AP) — The United States went into the singles competition of the Walker Cup today holding an unprecedented 4-0 lead over Britain while the American captain acknowledged it would be good for the game if the English won.

* * *

"I know it would be good for golf and the Walker Cup if Britain came up with a win," said Yank Captain Bill Campbell. "But our mission over here is to win and we mean to try and do it by as big a margin as possible."

* * *

This American team has been called the weakest ever by some British sportswriters. Yet no team ever has piled up a 4-0 margin in the foursomes.

"We mean to go all out for a 12-0 sweep," said Campbell.

Actually, the Yanks needed to win only three of the eight matches on today's program to wrap up their 14th decision in the 15-year series.

* * *

Billy Joe Patton of Morgantown, N. C., said the "weakest" label helped, rather than hindered the Americans.

"It fires a team's enthusiasm," he said.

Harvie Ward of San Francisco faced the toughest job in the singles. He was matched against Ronnie White, a tough customer, who has won all four of his singles matches since 1947.

"That's the one I wanted," said Ward. "I'm going to try my hardest to break White's run."

Ohio Girl Ousts County Player

All eight seeded netters in the Michigan State Girls' Open tennis championships, for 18-year-olds, advanced in Friday's matches at the Kingswood School, Cranbrook, in Bloomfield Hills.

Top-seeded Carolyn Wikoff, of Middletown, Ohio, made her tourney debut by eliminating Oakland's County's last contestant, Sharon Gray, from Birmingham. Miss Wikoff then went on to defeat Redford's Mary Foree.

Another seeded star, Judy Hagan, also from Middletown, advanced through two rounds without swinging a racquet. She won over both Barbara Brownell and Sharon Smith by default.

Friday's results:

Carolyn Wikoff defented Sharon Gray, 6-0, 6-0; Rosemary Luther def. Marilyn Malone, 6-0, 6-0; Claire Crowley def. Margaret Oberstag, 6-1, 6-1; June Martin def. Lions Take to Links in PCC Sunday Match

Several members of the Detroit Lions professional football team will play golf at Pontiac Country Club Sunday, May 22, according to Frank Syron, pro-owner of the club.

Although the number of Detroit gridders is uncertain, it is anticipated that nearly 20 will tour the 18-hole layout in a "winner take all" round.

Among the Lions will be Lou Creekmur, Sherwin (Sonny) Gandee, Dorne Dibble, Charlie Ane, Bob (Hunchy) Hoernschmeyer, and big Leon Hart. Also expected to attend are John Panelli and Bob Dove, former Lions, and giant middle guard, Les Bingaman, now retired.

Detroiters will play in foursomes with every man for himself. Competition will be on a medal play basis. Starting time is 8:30 a.m.

In Regional Semis

Pontiac High School's Bob Erb advanced to this morning's semi-finals in the regional tennis tournament at Cranbrook. Erb played 71 games Friday to down three foes. He defeated Port Huron's Dick Gerkowski, 6-3, 5-7, 6-0; Richard Hammer, of Berkley, 6-3, 6-3; and Greg Rebant, also from Berkley, 4-6, 6-0, 6-4. All other PHS netters bowed out in 1st-round matches.

Mikes Retain Title Hopes; Rams Lose Out

St. Michael kept alive its fading hopes in the Suburban Catholic League baseball race with a victory in Ferndale Friday, but St. Frederick was handed its 7th straight defeat on Columia-Joslyn's south field.

Shamrocks scored all their runs in the 1st inning, then staved off late rallies to edge St. James, 5-4, at Wilson Field.

St. Mike's big opening inning was enough. Ten men batted and five scored on four hits and a walk.

St. Clement of Center Line jumped off to a big lead and was never headed in its 8-4 conquest of St. Fred.

Winners scored three times in the 1st inning, twice in the 2nd, once in the 4th, and two more times in the 5th. The Rams were down, 6-0, before they ever crossed the dish.

Lady Pros Head for Forest Lake

The men will be on the sidelines watching the ladies take over next week at Forest Lake Country Club. Twenty of the nation's top women professional golfers and as many amateurs will begin arriving for the four day Wolverine Ladies Open May 26-29.

Bill Newbery, tournament chairman, said some of proettes will start feeling out the 35-37-72 par hole course on Monday with the majority of the gals arriving on Tuesday.

Wednesday they will have a gallery for their 1st official practice round. They will put on a golf clinic at 5 p.m. and a driving contest at 5:30.

Broken Wrist Mars Pitching, Jumping

Mike Benedict's outstanding athletic career at Oxford High came to an inglorious windup Friday in unfortunate circumstances. Quarterback of Oxford's unbeaten football team last fall and a regular member of the basketball team, Benedict also performed in both baseball and track for the Wildcats.

After pitching 4 hitless innings in Oxford's 8-2 win over Rochester Friday, Benedict was hit on the wrist with a pitched ball. He returned for the 5th inning and struck out the side. Though the injury was not on his pitching hand, the pain forced him to retire.

Subsequent examination showed the wrist to be broken. A qualifier in the high jump for today's Class B track meet at Ann Arbor, Benedict now will be unable to compete.

Forty Drivers Bid for Places in '500' Field

Claim Qualifying More Dangerous Than Actual Memorial Day Race

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—Forty veteran drivers faced a semifinal session of time trials at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway today, a preliminary to the 500-mile Memorial Day race more dangerous than the race itself.

Four of the six deaths at the Speedway since World War II have resulted from accidents before the race.

The weather forecast hung a threat of possible showers or thunderstorms over the day's plans.

Only 33 cars can start. Owners of 20 others will have paid $500 entry fees for experience. Eight cars qualified at speeds over 139 miles an hour last weekend.

Four drivers have lost control this week trying to go 139 or faster—all at the south end of the track. Manuel Ayulo of Burbank, Calif., was injured fatally Monday —45th death since the Speedway opened in 1909.

Paul Russo of Fort Worth, Tex., wrecked his car Wednesday but escaped injury. Danny Kladis of Chicago and Keith Andrews of Colorado Springs, Colo., also were unhurt in spectacular skids and spins yesterday and their cars were's damaged.

Speedway officials expect the starting field to be filled today.

FRIDAY'S HOME RUNS

Seminick, Phillies; Campanella, Dodgers; Thompson, Taylor, Giants; Berra, Yankees; Burgess 2, Thurman, Bell, Redlegs; Repulski, Cardinals; Smith, Indians; Hatfield, Tigers; Speake, Tappe, Cubs; Tanner, Braves.

PHS Trackmen Primed for Win in State Meet

Unbeaten Squad Seeks 1st MHSAA Title; Rated as Favorite

For the 1st time in many a long year, a Pontiac High School track squad is in the favorite's role for a Michigan schoolboy team title.

With an outstanding crew of 19 qualifiers, Chief thinclads this morning began the arduous task of trying to stave off the efforts of a strong field of Class A athletes.

Chiefs' top rating is based on the overwhelming success Coach Wally Schloerke's team has had all season long. Unbeaten in 8 starts, piling up record totals in almost every dual, Saginaw Valley Conference, Ypsi regional, and the two Central Michigan College meets, the squad's great balance has been its big victory factor.

PHS is expected to score in all 11 events in which it has entries.

Preliminaries are set for this morning, with finals during the afternoon.

Conely Defends Perfect Mark at Speedway Track

Jack Conely of Brighton, currently the hottest hardtop driver on the state circuit, will seek another victory Sunday in the 25-lap feature at the Pontiac Speedway.

Conely is undefeated in 6 feature starts at 4 tracks thus far this season. He won the season's openers at both Flat Rock and Motor City Speedways and made his 1st start at Jackson a winning one.

Last Sunday he won the feature at Pontiac Speedway in record time and added victories Thursday and Friday at Motor City and Flat Rock. Challenging him at Pontiac Sunday will be Joy Fair of Pontiac, Mickey Katlin, Bill Kourt, Gene Lock and Felix Brooks, among others.

Katlin won the season's opener at the M59 oval 2 weeks ago when Conely wasn't running. Fair, who won last Sunday's "race of champions" in a borrowed car, is expected to run this week in his own new car.

The Pontiac track will hold a "children's day" Sunday, with all youngsters 12 years and under admitted without charge when accompanied by an adult. Time trials for the 9-race show start at 1 p.m. with the 1st race at 2:30 p.m.

Italian in Semi-Final

WIESBADEN, Germany (AP) —Orlando Sirola, the lightly regarded Italian who snapped Tony Traberts 10 - tournament winning streak, takes on Herbie Flam of Beverly Hills, Calif., in the semi-final round of the Wiesbaden international tennis tournament today.

Cards Vary, Judges Call TV Bout Draw

NEW YORK (AP) — If your private score card of the Ramon Fuentes-Gil Turner bout at Madison Square Garden didn't agree with the official draw decision, you have plenty of company.

An analysis of the three official cards at last night's nationally televised fight shows referee Al Berl and judges Joe Agnello and Frank Forbes agreed on only three of the 10 rounds. All gave the 2nd, 5th and 8th to Fuentes, the 8 to 5 underdog from Los Angeles. Turner had been an 11 to 5 favorite in mid-afternoon.

Pontiac Press Prep Tourney Listed Monday

A field of 75 young golfers, whose scores range from the near-par low 70s to the novice low 100s, will tee off Monday in the 4th annual Pontiac Press Invitational Prep Golf tourney at Municipal course.

Five-man teams from 15 schools will compete for both team and individual awards in the 18-hole, medal play event.

The meet gets underway at 10 a.m. with half the field playing the north nine and the remainder starting on the south side. The players then loop over and play the opposite nine holes and the tourney's outcome is likely to be in doubt until the last foursome is in.

Birmingham High is defending champion for the 2nd time.

Berkley Wins I-L Title, Skippers Tie for Second

The Inter-Lakes Conference baseball race was all over following Friday's action as Berkley's Bears retained their loop championship.

Berkley whipped Southfield, 5-1, behind the 5-hit hurling of Herb Duncan to assume a 2-game lead with only 1 game to play. Waterford tied Southfield for 2nd place with an 8-inning, 3-2 victory over Van Dyke.

Walled Lake slipped Farmington its 9th straight loss, 1-0, on a double one-hitter.

Berkley scored in every inning but the 4th in beating Southfield, with Bob Berg collecting 3 hits. Duncan struck out 15 batters running his season total to 68 in 36 2/3 innings. He has a 4-1 record.

Berkley hurlers Duncan and Larry (No-Hit) Parker, both juniors, along with senior Bob Blackwell have set down 122 men on strikes in 11 games this spring.

Van Dyke scored a run in the top of the 8th to break a 1-1 tie at Waterford, but Skippers came back in the home half. Dave Larkin and Jerry Kruskie singled and an error tied it at 2-2. Ron Kind followed with his 3rd hit that would have been a home run except that only a single was required to score the winning run.

John Walker hurled Walled Lake to its 1-0 shutout win on a 1-hitter that was matched by Farmington's freshman Roy Temple. The Vikings' run came in the 2nd on an error, stolen base, sacrifice, base on balls and an error on the cutoff play.

West Bloomfield Links Champion

West Bloomfield High School captured the golf championship of the Wayne-Oakland Conference Friday with a 6-stroke edge over runnerup Clarkston on the Burroughs Farms course at Brighton.

Dale Nelson's Keego links squad of four players scored 356 for the 18 holes to Clarkston's 362. Milford, Northville and Brighton all came in with 369 to tie for 3rd, with Milford winning a playoff on the 2nd hole. Holly followed with 425 and Clarenceville picked up.

Individual honors went to Larry Pearsall of Brighton who posted 38-45-83. Tom McLennan of West Bloomfield matched the 83 on 40-43, but lost a playoff with a bogie to Pearsall's par.

Joining McLennan and Ken Davis (86) for the victories West Bloomfielders were Tom Kelly (93) and Dick Murphy (94).

Fires Tuneup Ace

Mrs. Robert Erdelon of Indianwood Country Club fired a hole-in-one Thursday during a practice round at the Forest Lake Country Club in preparation for the forthcoming Wolverine Ladies Open Golf Tournament May 26-29.

Mrs. Erdelon aced the 145-yard 4th hole with a four iron. She shot 90 for the round. Accompanying her were Mrs. Don Weiss, Mrs. I. G. Israel and Mrs. C. E. Stricker. Mrs. Weiss was medalist with 82. All are entered in the 72-hole Wolverine Tourney.

Maxwell Leads Kaycee Tourney

KANSAS CITY (AP) — The field at the halfway mark in the $20,000 Kansas City Open golf tournament today was chasing a pro of only a year — young Billy Maxwell, Odessa, Tex.

Maxwell, 25-year-old former national amateur champion who is the sixth-leading money winner on the pro circuit this year, fired his second straight 5-under-par 67 yesterday for a 36-hole total of 134.

One stroke off the pace at 135 were veteran Henry Ransom, St. Andrews, Ill., who added a 70 to his first day's leading total of 65, and Gene Webb, St. Louis, who carded a 68 yesterday.

Dr. Cary Middlecoff, recent winner of the Masters and two-time Kansas City Open champion, fired his second consecutive 68 for 136 over the rugged 6,665 yard par 72 Hillcrest Country Club layout.

Sharing the fourth spot with Middlecoff was Dick Mayer, St. Petersburg, Fla., with 69, 67.

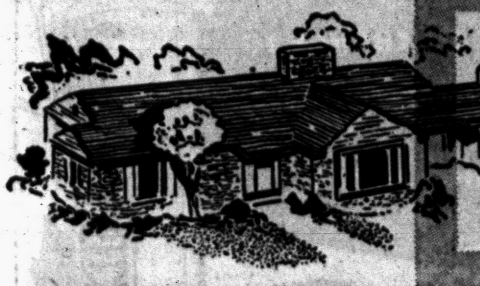
THE PONTIAC PRESS

SATURDAY, MAY 21, 1955 PONTIAC, MICHIGAN

background for LIVING



BRENDEL LAKE — The Lake Shore Development Company took one look at the start Mother Nature had in the beautiful Brendel Lake area (out M-59 toward Highland) and decided that with a great deal of planning and a maximum of excavation, there were acres of new lakeside homesites possible. In the above aerial view, the lake at the right was there when the development was planned; the many peninsulas were designed to save the full-grown trees and the slightly sloped contour of the land. About one thousand acres are now being developed. One hundred and seventy six lots have been platted already with builders moving in to construct new houses. Schuett Realty, Inc., is handling the land sales.

Oakland County Builds

County Topography Changes Day by Day

By HAZEL A. TRUMBLE

The topography of Oakland County is being altered day by day.

A man-made change is taking place with dozens of land moving crews razing hills, carving out valleys, recoursing streams and excavating artificial lakes for desirable home sites.

Hundreds of construction companies have teamed up with real estate developers and the home architect to dot the landscape with both big homes and little houses for the surging suburban movement which is taking place in Oakland County.

Today's Background for Living page shows a group of aerial views of this county's changing scene. The pictures were taken by Homer Tinney, Pontiac's aerial photographer.

A growth prognosis published on January 15 of this year by the Pontiac Press stated (following a spot survey of major building plans for the year) that 7,056 new homes would be built in this area in 1955 at a valuation of $107,000,000.

Figures for county building available for the first quarter of 1955 show that 1935 homes were started in three months. During the month of April and so far in May the permit requests are showing that these are going to be good building months.

It is predicted that 1955 will fall a little short of 1954 in home building with last year's figures topping the 12,709 home mark.

WATERFORD LEADS

Waterford Township has led all units of government in the county with the first quarter hitting 240 new homes; Bloomfield Township with 190; Southfield Township with 189 and Troy Township with 90.

The City of Pontiac has issued 222 home permits for the first quarter; Royal Oak city, 188. These two cities led the county in multiple structure with Pontiac City issuing 88 permits and Royal Oak 305 homes.

The past five years have chalked up an impressive record in building with Oakland County getting 46,403 new dwelling units since 1950. The entire 1950 population of the City of Flint could be housed in these homes.

With a total of 109,239 occupied dwelling units in 1950, the county has increased its homes 42.5 per cent.

15 COMMUNITIES GROW

The following 15 communities adding the greatest number of new homes in this period were as follows:

Oak Park	6,356
Royal Oak City	6,263
Southfield Twp.	4,331
Royal Oak Twp.	2,917
Waterford Twp.	2,776
Pontiac City	2,545
Birmingham	2,407
Bloomfield Twp.	2,049
Hazel Park	1,872
Clawson	1,657
Troy Twp.	1,309
Berkley	1,268
W. Bloomfield Twp.	1,249
Farmington Twp.	1,215
Ferndale	1,015

County Continues Housing Demands

From whence cometh the demand for the new houses springing up on Oakland County's landscape?

1 — From families who want suburban living and the advantages that this mode of life offers.

2 — From the family whose size is increasing.

3—From the family who wants better housing.

The building industry is confronted with the twin problem of replacing the obsolete in existing housing as rapidly as circumstances will permit.

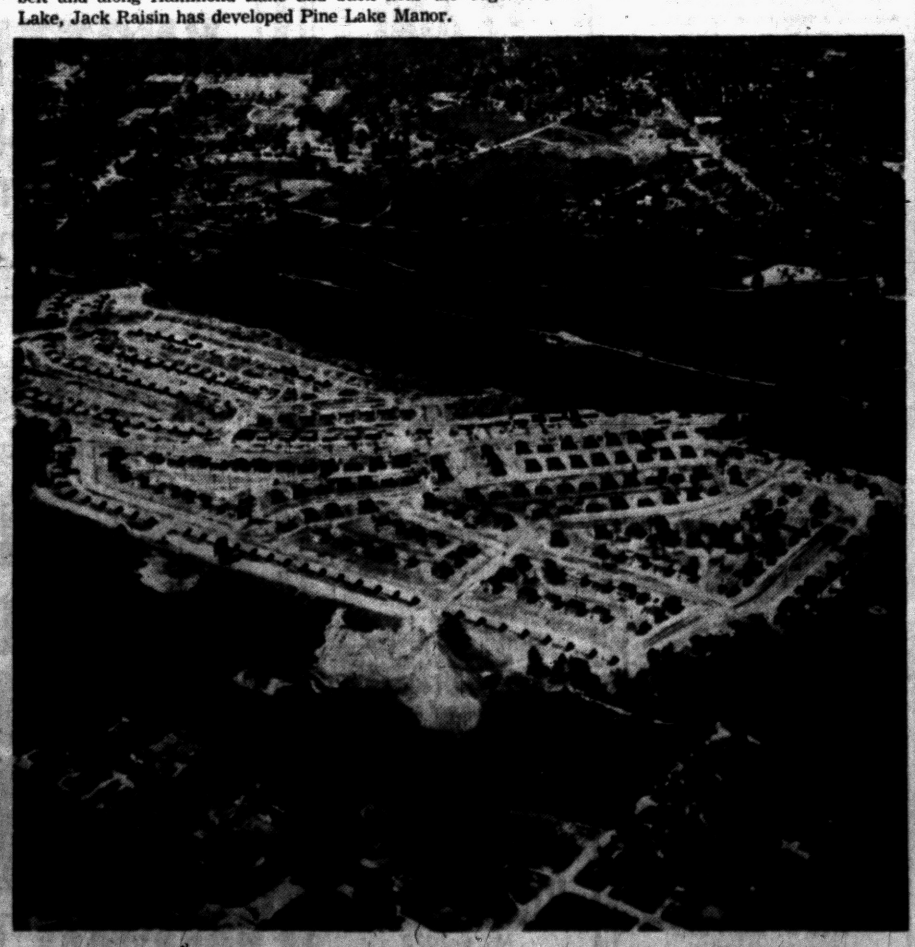
It is also confronted with the task of keeping pace with the progressively larger population which this country now enjoys.

This country's population now in excess of 164 million is expected to hit 190 million by 1965 220 million by 1975.

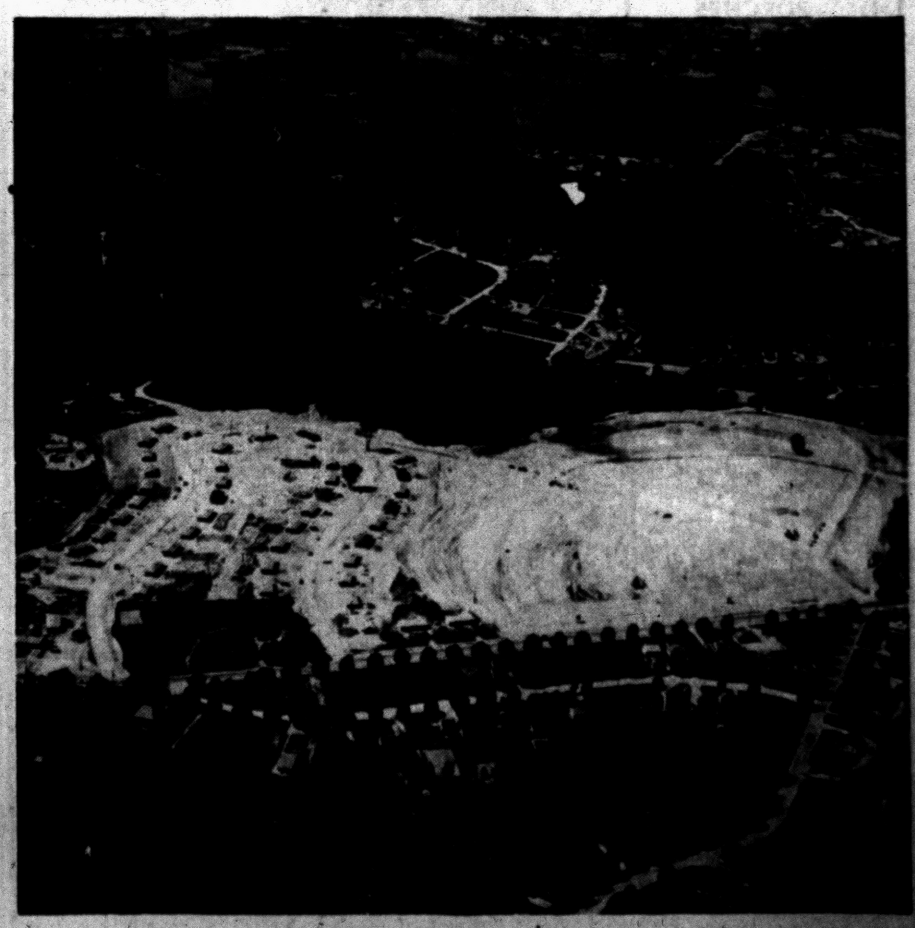
MIDDLEBELT, ORCHARD LAKE RDS.—A few years ago there were only a few houses in this area and today there are several hundred completed homes with many more under construction. The new Sylvan Center shopping facility which faces Orchard Lake Rd. is in the foreground. Middlebelt runs to the back of the shopping center and in the distance Pine Lake is visible. The first housing development in this area was the Northwood 42 project. Houseman-Spitzley developed the area to the left of Middlebelt and along Hammond Lake and back near the edge of Pine Lake, Jack Raisin has developed Pine Lake Manor.

M-59 AND ELIZABETH LAKE RD. — The White Brothers of Waterford Township have recently developed Lorraine Manor, a single residence project, on Elizabeth Lake near M-59. Running at an angle to the left of the aerial photo is M-59.

HOLIDAY HOMES OFF CRESCENT LAKE RD. — Located on Crescent Lake near the Waterford Township high school is the new Holiday Home development, planned and built by Carey Homes.



PONTIAC'S MULTIPLE HOUSING — At the left is Mt. Clemens St., Pontiac, and bisecting this large multiple-housing development is East Blvd. Over 300 brick duplexes outlined in rows of single residences are being sold by Rose Hill Realty, Inc.



NEAR MACEDAY LAKE—Another new housing development is taking shape in the Maceday Lake area. The lake is visible in the background of the photo. The highway edged with trees is Williams Lake Rd., in Waterford Township. One-story ranch styled homes, the sale of these houses is being handled by the White Brothers, Inc.

Spoon Rack Easy, Cheap to Make With Patterns

By STEVE ELLINGSON

The daughter of a famous army general dropped in at our pattern ranch yesterday. She was a very pretty girl and had made up her mind to do a little building. I couldn't help but wonder what it was that had gotten her so enthused about carpentry.

Since the girl had traveled all over the world with her father, I asked her what, more than anything else, she had learned from her travels.

She said she thought a great many troubles came to American people from worshipping the god—Success! The driving ambition to "secure a place in the sun" leaves in its wake many miserable and unhappy people. "Ambition is a fine thing," she said, "but when people wreck themselves or make themselves thoroughly miserable trying to get to the top of the ladder, what good is it?"

She went on to say, "I'd much rather have my life be of a lower strain so it will be genuine and solid and happy, than to have it be glittering and unsteady without peace of mind. When you come right down to it," she said, "real happiness doesn't have any glamour and is usually found in doing the very ordinary things in life. That's why I'm going to start building things and a spoon rack is going to be my very first project."

Well, here was a girl that was talking right down our alley. We had a cup of coffee and then got down to the business of the spoon rack you see pictured here with NBC's television actress pretty Jan Kelly.

Anybody can be a "success" when they build this spoon rack from the full size pattern. And that isn't all, you will be happy while you're building it and happy when it's finished. It makes a quaint and decorative wall ornament.

The pattern is laid out in such a way that the rack can be made to hold as many spoons as you require. There is a shelf on the bottom to hold knick-knacks, or if you prefer, a little planter of ivy. The shelf pictured was made with redwood. We like that because it's soft and easy to work with. It also has a maple effect when given a satin coat of varnish. This saves staining, which is somewhat of a problem for many people.

To make the shelf you merely trace the full size pattern on wood, then saw it out and finally put it together. The pattern lists the required materials along with easy to read step-by-step directions. Simple hand tools are all you will need.

To obtain the full size spoon rack, pattern No. 112, send 50 cents in coin to Steve Ellingson, The Pontiac Press, Van Nuys, Calif. (For prompt service write to California address).

In application of a strip oak floor over a concrete slab by the new screeds-in-mastic method, it is especially important that recommended nailing procedures be observed. Where a strip passes over lapped screeds, for example, it should be nailed securely to both.

'Shocking' Results From Bare Wire

The ignition system in your automobile is aided in its performance by a product of the paint industry.

The wires which conduct the current from the distributor to the spark plugs are covered with a woven fabric insulation which, in turn, is coated or impregnated with a lacquer that insures against electrical leakage and short circuits.

In other instances, synthetic resins are extruded directly on the wire to achieve the necessary protection. To touch an ignition cable without the protection of these organic coatings would be a "shocking" experience.

THOMAS-ECONOMY TO REBUILD FRONT — One of Pontiac's oldest and largest furniture companies this week released plans for the expansion of its store. The above drawing shows the Thomas-Economy Furniture Co. as it will look when completed. Located at 361 S. Saginaw St., the new building will be about 200 feet long with a modern porcelain front and an eight-foot overhanging marque running the full length. A new entrance designed along the lines of the contemporary front will center the store. When completed Thomas Economy will become one of Michigan's largest furniture stores and will have about an acre of floor space on Saginaw St. available for new salesrooms. The expansion will provide additional window and display area for this store which was founded in 1914 at the present location by the late William S. Thomas, Sr. It is still locally owned by the Thomas family and requires a staff of 25 people to operate. In 1922 the original structure was destroyed by fire and was replaced by the present building. In 1927 the building was moved back during the widening of Saginaw St. and a rear three-story building was added. Again in 1933 additional frontage was acquired and in 1937 three buildings were purchased on Osmun St. for warehouse facilities. William D. Thomas Jr., announced today that the Bundy Construction Co. will do the construction work on the store and W. B. Edwards is the designer.

South Michigan Exceeds Record

Month of April Finds State Surpassing Past Figures

DETROIT — Southern Michigan surpassed no less than five construction records in April in Dodge Reports totals of contracts awarded for future construction. April awards were the highest on record, capped by the highest residential figure of any month; the first four months total was the highest on record, and in addition, nonresidential and residential awards were the highest for any first four months in history, reported Marvin J. Brokaw, district manager of F. W. Dodge Corporation.

April awards were 35 per cent over April 1954, and 47 per cent over March 1955, at $135,980,000. The first four months record-breaker was 21 per cent over the like period of last year, at $393,040,000.

Individual April comparisons show nonresidential awards up 40 per cent over April 1954, and up 55 per cent over March 1955 at $52,888,000; residential, up 35 per cent over April 1954, and up 67 per cent over March 1955 at $74,558,000; heavy engineering, up 13 per cent over April 1954, but down 38 per cent from March 1955, at $8,534,000.

Economy in Building Requires Stock Sizes

Economy minded home builders make certain, in planning a new home or making alterations on an old one, that window dimensions permit the use of stock-sized window units.

According to H. Creston Doner, design director for Libbey-Owens-Ford Glass Company, custom-built units can be obtained made with either single-thickness plate glass or double-glazed insulating glass, but necessarily they are more expensive. In contrast, stock sizes in each type are immediately available and are less costly because they are produced in quantity.

Inexpensive Cooling

A survey of 35 air conditioned homes in Dallas, Texas, shows monthly cooling bills averaging less than $13 per house during the five hottest months, says H. Creston Doner, design director for Libbey-Owens-Ford Glass Company, who points out that double-pane insulating glass windows are a major contributor to air conditioning economy.

A charming multi-purpose room was created from garage storage space by the noted designers, Kim Hoffman and Stephen Heidrich. The finished room, above, is easily maintained because the owner installed walls, built-in furniture, spacious storage closets and fold-away work surfaces of Georgia-Pacific Ripplewood, a textured plywood. Acoustical tiles were used for the ceiling and brown-and-beige linoleum covered the plank flooring. The storage wall closets were planned to provide ample space for card tables, movie projector, screen, tape recorder, television set, sewing machine, painter's supplies, and cleaning tools. The color scheme of the room, which also will care for an extra guest, is beige and brown with coral-rust and turquoise accents.

Brakes Going on Building

Production Cut - Back Gradual, Says FHA and Veterans

WASHINGTON (INS)—The housing boom which swept the country last fall and winter is slowing down.

The production cutback is gradual—not drastic, and neither government nor industry officials are worried in the slightest.

They've been hoping builders themselves would apply the production brakes to avoid the possibility of sweeping government action to curb the spree and hold zooming output in check.

The leveling off in home building showed up last month and officials believe it will continue through the summer although new housing construction is expected to continue at very high rates.

These were the developments:

1. The federal housing administration and the veterans administration reported a drop-off in new loan business. The decline was slight but indicated the boom is softening.

2. The bureau of labor statistics estimated home building increased nine per cent in April but it was the second straight month the rise was smaller than usual.

NORMAL SELF-ADJUSTMENT

Housing administrator Albert M. Cole said the April situation "suggests that a normal self-adjustment is taking place" in the market.

Cole says this "should relieve some of the nervousness expressed in some quarters by the higher figures of recent months." He adds: "I feel it also further supports our judgment that the market should be left to self-adjustment rather than the government controls so popular with previous administrations."

In its report, the BLS said builders started work on 127,000 new homes in April. This was 10,000 more dwelling than were started in March and about 18 per cent more than April a year ago.

Greater home building was reported in all sections of the country with the northern and eastern states experiencing the greatest production increases.

MARCH BELOW

But the nine per cent rise in output from March was sharply below the 17 per cent jump normally occurring as the spring building season gets under way.

Moreover, the annual rate of home building dropped to 1,309,000 dwellings, the lowest since last October. Last December annual production rose to a phenomenal 1,478,000 units.

On the basis of the BLS report, officials predicted a further rise in housing starts this month possibly to level somewhere above 130,000 units.

But the feeling generally is that May will turn out as this year's peak production month for the industry although output for the rest of the summer will run above 100,000 units monthly.

The Small Home

Older families and families without children prefer the small house. But the small home should be "big" on quality. Key to quality is the use of durable materials in bathrooms and kitchens. A small home may be inexpensive if inferior materials are used, but the house quickly deteriorates. Remodeling costs can wipe out any savings made in the beginning.

7,000,000 Markers Used on U.S. Land

NEW YORK (AP)—About seven million 30-inch wrought iron markers with lettered brass caps have been used by government surveyors to mark U.S. land corners, says Steelways magazine.

The government, which once owned about two-thirds of all U.S. land, has transferred a billion acres to private interests. But there are still 100 million acres which have not been surveyed.

Serious-Minded Group

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Members of a group which gathers in a lounge here tell you with a straight face they're members of the "Blonde Watcher's Society."

Elevators in Rockefeller Center, New York City, have carried more than a billion passengers since they were installed in 1932.

Many people, especially those over 45 years old, have 20/20 vision but need glasses for close work.

BEFORE JUNIOR CHAMBER — On a recent Saturday morning, volunteer painters from the AFL Local No. 430 went to work on this house at 733 Cortright St. This was done in celebration of Clean-Up Week (May 14-21).

AFTER JUNIOR CHAMBER — Several gallons of paint and a few hours later, the home of Mrs. Elberta Briggs looked like this. Even the mail box got a new post and a coat of paint.

Junior Chamber Paints Cortright Street House

Junior Chamber of Commerce Clean-up Week (May 14-21) meant a brand new coat of paint for the home of Mrs. Elberta Briggs of 733 Cortright St. It also meant a new porch, a pair of bright green flower boxes and the front lawn being put into shape again.

Annual project of the Junior Chamber during this special home improvement week, this year's committee was composed of Russell Fahr and Bruce Richards.

A brigade of volunteer painters from the AFL Local No. 430 swung into action one bright morning recently and within a few hours the Mrs. Briggs' home looked like new.

The paint was furnished by the Townsend DeVoe Paint Co., which is owned by Miles Townsend. Painters were from the A. P. Phillips and the John Morey Paint Companies.

Painters were Al Phillips, Sven Olsen, Peter Behrendsen, Everett Harding, Lon Griffin, William Wiggins, John Morey, Wilbur Morey, Earl L. McDonald and Stanley Adams.

Splashbacks

Requirements for kitchen splashbacks are these: 1. They should be installed behind the range, the sink and all work areas. 2. They should be at least 18 inches high and of an easy to clean, stainproof material like clay tile. 3. They should complement the rest of the kitchen design.

Process to Help Reduce Moisture

In older houses, where the basement is not floored, a great deal of "home-wrecking" moisture may come from the ground.

Clay types of soil—even though they do not appear overly damp on the surface — often contribute large amounts of moisture to the air of a basement by evaporation. Under these conditions, where the floor is damp or of dirt construction, cementing the floors will help materially in reducing moisture from this source.

As concrete itself is not necessarily a good moisture barrier, it is advisable to cover the ground with a coated roofing felt before the concrete is applied.

Use Leftover Paints for Brightening Rooms

By KAY SHERWOD
NEA Staff Writer

What to do with the leftovers is a problem that challenges the springtime decorator as well as the cook. Dabs of paint left over from coloring a wall or touching up woodwork can be turned into decorative assets to build your reputation for home-making cleverness.

All it takes, as the saying goes, is a little imagination and some peace and quiet while the children nap or attend school.

* * *

Helpful suggestions to spark the project come from Margaret Hutchison, noted color stylist, who calls Chicago her home in between lecture trips around the country.

"Keep the color scheme simple," she says, "when you plan to paint walls and to use leftovers to brighten small accessories. One or two colors are enough if you want to avoid a spotty effect."

Where to use the leftover paint? "Apply it to wall sconces, brackets, lamp shades, waste baskets, book ends, serving trays and even picture frames, to list a few," says Miss Hutchison.

"If you are in doubt about wall color, look to your curtains for cues," advises the stylist. For example in her home Miss Hutchison matched exactly, a muted pink in her sheer printed curtains to paint for two walls.

* * *

A pale cocoa shade picking up another color in the curtains lines a corner alcove. Paint that can be custom mixed at your own store, in hundreds of gradations to basic colors, makes it a cinch to get a perfect match.

After any large-scale painting, the leftovers should be poured into a smaller container and tightly sealed. We use mayonnaise jars with screw-on lids. The less air in the container, the less chance for "skin" to form on the surface of paint.

"A black undercoat will make paper lamp shades opaque so that brush strokes won't show through when the lamp is lighted," says Miss Hutchison. If paint is light-colored, it will probably take two coats to cover the black undercoat completely.

Metal or wicker waste baskets also take to the paint treatment. "But," advises the stylist, "you'll be smart to finish with a protective coat of clear shellac or plastic spray."

* * *

If you've used a lot of one color in a room, you may want to carry accents of it into other rooms. Good little color carriers are the inexpensive plaster or pressed-wood wall brackets which display figurines or plants. After brackets or sconces are painted with the leftover dabs, you can add an elegant and expensive-looking gleam by picking out parts of the design with gilt.

* * *

"Even though you've calculated your paint requirements so that there is only a thimbleful left over, don't waste it," says Miss Hutchison. It takes less than a thimbleful to stroke a thin line around the inside edge of a picture frame, the handles of a serving tray, or a narrow border on a wood lamp base. But this small touch adds a subtle emphasis to your decor.

Paint left over after walls in this room were painted is put to decorative use on small accessories. Model is painting a plaster wall bracket with the pale cocoa shade used on background wall. The bracket was first given a sealer undercoat. After paint is dry, design will be picked out with gilt. Muted pink, left over from painting another wall, was used to paint the wastebasket and put a narrow border on the serving tray on the table and lamp shade in background.

Home Improvement a Growing Trend

Two out of three families a year undertake an important home modernization project.

Naturally, they can not always tackle all those jobs that deserve attention. They must do the most important improvement first, and then next year go on to the next, and so on.

If you're wondering where to start in your home, a good idea is to look over the kitchen and bathrooms first. They're the most used rooms in the house. Is the plumbing slowing down?

Are these rooms surfaced with a handsome and practical material such as clay tile which is waterproof and fireproof? How about the lighting? It should be indirect and concentrated around work areas such as the bathroom mirror and the kitchen countertops.

Good Color Scheme

Repeat the color of your shutters in the paint used for your garden chairs and you will find that the result is very pleasing.

New Materials Feature Tile as Favorite

The nation's current building boom has seen a tremendous upswing in the use of quality materials such as tile, high grade lumber and glass.

* * *

Tile, though, is one of the leaders among materials being used in new creative ways. The reason for this is simple: Its great variety and adaptability for any number of uses. Real tile clay baked or fired at high temperatures.

Broadly speaking, it is divided into three categories: Glazed tile, ceramic mosaics, and quarry. The first is used on walls; the second on floors; and quarry is used where an especially rugged, weather proof surface is required.

Tile comes in many different colors and a huge range of patterns, designs and textures, making it suitable for virtually any use in the home. It is waterproof, fireproof and lasts practically forever. Food stains nor the heaviest household wear cannot mar its surface; cleaning is hardly a chore.

* * *

Its widespread use in new housing attests to the real quality of America's current building boom.

Bank Building Ranks in Construction Top

This year, nearly half a billion dollars will be spent by nearly 4,000 U. S. banks for new building and remodeling.

* * *

According to H. Creston Doner, design director for Libbey-Owens-Ford Glass Company, plans call for more than 1,500 completely changed exteriors and roughly the same number of large window display areas, assuring a yearly consumption of twin-ground plate glass unprecedented in the banking industry.

The Beach House

With incomes going up, more and more people can now afford a private summer home by the sea. A bit of advice, though: don't rush ahead with hastily drawn up plans or flimsy materials. Plan it as carefully as you did your full-time home. And use quality materials like durable ceramic tile on floors, because you'll want permanent value in your beach house.

Hours at the kitchen sink can be made less tedious with a picture window opening on a view of the back lawn, says June Cabot, home arts consultant for Libbey-Owens-Ford. If such a window is impossible, however, an alternative is a plate glass mirror reflecting the room and eliminating the "blank look" of the wall.

Agriculture, Acrobatics Are Called Inseparable

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — Agriculture and acrobatics are inseparable, says George A. Hamid, a stocky Syrian ex-tumbler who came to this country with Buffalo Bill and learned to read from Annie Oakley. Hamid runs a successful business providing grandstand entertainment at fairs.

"When a farmer goes to the fair he doesn't want to spend all of his time looking at cows and hogs," he says.

Europe's Cities in Urban Areas

Professor Studies 28 War-Torn Communities on Scholarship Tour

Europe's rebuilt cities are massive testimonials to the persistent vitality of the urban center, according to a study just completed by Leo Grebler, associate director of Columbia University's Institute for Urban Land Use and Housing Studies.

The shadows of doubt cast over the future of our own central areas are non-existent or invisible in Europe. Not only are the vast majority of these war-torn European centers being rebuilt on the old sites, but they are larger in physical area, provide more facilities, and are less congested.

REPORTS ON TOUR

Writing in the current issue of Urban Land, official publication of the Urban Land Institute of Washington, D. C. Professor Grebler reports on a six-months' Guggenheim Fellow tour of city rebuilding in England, Holland, France, Germany and Italy. He writes that his study of the rebuilding of 28 war shattered cities in Europe showed the "dynamic quality of the central business district." The Urban Land Institute is an independent research organization in urban planning and development.

The two most common changes in the new city centers noted were "the removal of factories and the thinning out of residential land use." This removal of industry from the central business areas has accelerated the creation of industrial districts on the periphery.

The persistent concentration of retail business in the new centers appears to have struck the Columbia professor forcefully. "There is no evidence that the vast dislocations of war and destruction and the opportunities for selecting new sites have produced or accelerated what is commonly called decentralization. The retail firms," he writes, "which were in the center before the war have returned to it, though not necessarily to the same site within the center. Even in the larger rebuilt cities, such as Rotterdam and Frankfurt, one looks in vain for branch department stores and large shopping centers in peripheral areas."

NOTES UNIVERSAL TREND

Mr. Grebler noted as a universal trend that the rebuilt cities had a neater segregation of land than could be found in the cores of undamaged cities. Zoning, too, appeared to have received a great impetus noticeable in general city development plans as well as in reconstruction areas.

In almost all of the 28 cities, the American observed that larger units of land and better improvements had replaced the small and crooked real estate parcels of yesteryear which were so often inherited from medieval times.

More land is given over to streets, plazas, green areas, interior courts of buildings, and other spaces. One result of less land available for small office space is that lawyers, accountants, sales agents and wholesale firms no longer crowd into the central business district. They find the rents high and no longer consider the heart of the business district an essential location.

Workshops Help Happy Home

Housewives Credit Tools With Keeping Men in Nights

Housewives are finding it easier to keep their husbands around the house these nights — thanks to home workshops.

Why? A recent national survey of home workshop owners uncovered several reasons.

First, the wife finds that a home workshop has prompted her man-of-the-house to express greater interest in household appearance and value.

Second, she notes that hubby has more reasons for staying home than he had formerly when trying to get out nights to bowl or play poker with the boys—particularly if she's the type who brags about his ability with power tools for fixing and building projects for the home.

While the women interviewed readily admit that home workshops are not "cure-alls" for marital tiffs, they do argue that a shop affords a husband many joyful and relaxing hours in the evening after a hard day's work. This results in a more pleasant person around the house, the ladies say.

The home workshop has also brought families closer together. Wives and children often become intrigued with projects started by husbands and frequently help complete them. During the last few years, more and more wives have turned to woodworking projects with their husbands.

Researchers estimate that there are approximately 6,000,000 women throughout the country who use hand or power tools of one kind or another for simple money saving projects such as cutting and assembling sets of shelves, bookcases and other articles of furniture.

Women appreciate the home workshop, and they never seem to object when a man wants to follow it. Always aware of the special deftness in a woman's hands, the average husband is coming more and more to realize that this is coupled with a fine sense of proportion in the designing and finishing of furniture projects.

Although the Indians used corn in most forms before the coming of the white men, they did not produce cornflakes, says the National Geographic Society.

Housing Tells Economy Story

Housing is a good index to the economic health of the nation. Its vigorous activity has meant jobs and high incomes for millions of people. Most experts foresee a continued increase in the number of new homes built and a steady increase in quality, too.

The demand is tremendous, spurred by: a rapidly expanding population, couples marrying at an early age, the trend to larger families. The typical new home desired by the new generations includes three instead of two bedrooms, one and one-half to two bathrooms, and space-saving built-in features.

CHECK POINTS — Numbers on the house diagram above indicate points where attention is needed to insure a dry house. Compare numbers with numbered paragraphs in accompanying story.

Careful Attention to Many Details Will Reward Owner With Dry House

Moisture is one of the worst enemies of a house. Often invisible in the form of vapor, it can permeate from all directions and destroy silently and unnoticed. It can cause the best of paints to blister and peel. It can feed the fungus spores of mildew and cause lumber to rot. It can eat away expensive metal work through rust and corrosion.

And because moisture can cancel the value of insulation, the National Mineral Wool Assn. has compiled this outline of a survey you can make—23 ways to keep your house dry.

1. Check shingles for broken, loose, or missing units.

2. Look for rust, corrosion, or displacement of flashing around chimney, vent pipes, in roof valleys and at junctions of roofs and walls.

3. Keep gutters clean of debris and leaves. See that they are properly connected to downspouts with a strainer over connection. Cover gutters with ¼-inch hardware cloth if near trees.

4. Have downspouts drain into sewers, dry wells or on splash blocks to direct water away from the foundation. Are they of adequate size?

5. Examine eaves for signs of leaks, blistered paint, need for flashing under shingles to guard against ice dams.

6. Examine chimney cap, flue lining and brickwork for any cracks. Watch soot deposit.

7. See that skylights and other roof openings are tight. Check for leaks, loose putty, cracked or broken glass, flashing, or paint failures.

8. Check walls of brick for flashing and calking around openings. Check stucco for cracks, discoloration, or wet streaks after rain. Watch wood for paint blistering, moisture content of bottom sidings, need for calking and paint around openings, exposed nailheads.

9. Check windows on putty, paint, flashing, calking and weather-stripping, storm sash, excessive sweating. Also for drip grooves under window sills.

10. Check under house crawl spaces for ventilation and vapor barrier over soil.

11. Is floor isolated from foundation by a bituminous joint? Place a rubber mat on floor to see if moisture collects under it. A dehumidifier may be needed in summer.

12. Basement floor—check with rubber mat, look for signs of flooded basement, eliminate moisture sources.

13. Foundations and basement walls—in most soils, walls below grade should be waterproofed. Check for and repair any leaks or cracks.

14. Window wells — areaway walls should be of watertight materials. Bottoms of areaways should drain quickly. Ground should slope away from windows.

15. Capping over foundation walls—rustproof termite shields are most effective. Sill and outside sheathing and siding should be isolated from masonry.

16. Grading — Ground should slope away from house in all directions. Trees and shrubs too near the house add to moisture hazards.

17. Inside house—Check bathrooms for efficient ventilation. See that tile around tub or shower is water tight and properly calked.

18. In kitchen, is there a ventilating fan? Cooking an average dinner adds 2.7 pounds of water to the air.

19. Does laundry have a ventilating fan? Are appliances, such as dryers, vented to outdoors?

20. Windows indoors—check for stained wall paper below. Check for signs of sweating, loose putty, worn paint.

21. Humidifiers on heating plants or portable space heaters should be discontinued if indoor humidity is above 40 per cent when outdoor temperature is above 10F.

22. Attic must be ventilated. Check size and location of louvers. Every 300 square feet of attic floor under a gable roof calls for 1 square foot of free inlet and 1 square foot of free oulet of air.

23. Double check basement and other areas beneath living quarters for leaks, humidity level, ventilation, summer condensation, mildew and unvented appliances.

For Flower Lovers

There's hardly a home today without flowers or potted plants to brighten its interior. An excellent way to protect various surfaces from water marks and scratches is to place a decorative square of clay tile under flower vases and pots. Tile is waterproof and scratchproof and comes in a wide variety of colors and designs to match any room decoration. Many homemakers line an entire radiator top with clay tile so a whole row of prized plants can be placed there. The same goes for shelves and table tops.

Don't Overlook Tile When You Decorate

Everyone recognizes the practical value of recessed storage space in the family bathroom.

But what is sometimes overlooked is the fact that recessed storage is more than just a utilitarian feature of the modern bath; it's also a matter of beauty. The look of luxury, for instance, distinguishes the bathroom where color-fast clay tile is used to surface recessed shelves.

It's the only material that can carry out the decorative scheme set by clay tile wainscoting and floor.

There are about 117,000 units of government in the United States.

Willow Run Airport Caught in Hassle That Involves Four Interested Parties

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Angry words flash across the busy cement runways of Willow Run Airport, confused and almost lost in the bustle of the nation's sixth largest commercial station.

But the arguments are making themselves heard a bit in Lansing and Washington, despite the roar of 360 flights a day. The arguments concern air travel — its future as well as the present.

They are based on problems of modern cities and states, growing up with the air age and filling crowded airlanes.

There are four major parties to the arguments: The University of Michigan which bought the airport from the government for $1 in 1946; the Airlines National Terminal Service Co., Inc., which leases the airport from the university; Detroit-Wayne-Major Airport which is trying to lure the commercial airlines away from Willow Run, and the Air Force which is looking for a home for reserve jet squadrons.

Their motives are as different as their arguments.

PAYS FOR RESEARCH

The university uses airport revenues to support a mammoth research project which works on top-secret guided missiles, battlefield detection, and road construction. In something of an experiment, the university bought the airport not for profit, but for research.

* * *

Floyd G. Wakefield, university supervisor for the airport, says the original purpose in buying the airport from the government was to "expand our research plant with no capital cost to the state government or anyone else."

It is estimated that it would cost eight million dollars to house the university research at Willow Run on the university campus.

Most of the research is sponsored by the Defense Department, on contract to the university's Engineering Research Institute. Few details are available on the work that is carried out on the east end of the Willow Run field.

* * *

The university would have to turn the airport back to the government in the event of a national emergency, but the government through condemnation or negotiation could legally take over any airport.

GOVERNMENT RIGHT

Even now, Wakefield says, the government can legally use the airport up to 25 per cent of its capacity without rent. A number of military aircraft land at Willow Run every day.

* * *

This would appear to be a logical and well-founded agreement. But the university is fighting a two-sided battle that, it feels, may turn Willow Run from a "going proposition" into an "enormous white elephant." The university is obligated to maintain the airport, used or not.

The Air Force is involved in a large and far-reaching training program to improve its readiness for a national emergency. It wants to move one reserve jet squadron from Selfridge Field to another airport, probably Willow Run.

Its object is clear. By relocating the reserve squadron at Willow Run, reserve pilots in the area would better be able to train in their jets on weekend duty.

The Air Force still owns 23 acres at the far end of Willow Run field. On this land is located the only permanent building, called Packard Hangar, on the research end of the field.

The university has just been denied a request for the use of the hangar for a top-secret research project into battlefield detection. The 10th Air Force wants to locate its reserve squadron there.

"Just peanut butter . . . why?"

Of all the accidental deaths in the U.S., almost 70 per cent occur during the victim's non-working hours.

Weekly Auto Output Totals 176,489 Units

DETROIT (UP) — Passenger car production in the United States this week will total 176,489 units, Ward's Automotive Reports said today. Also projected are 30,963 truck assemblies.

Last week 177,287 cars and 30,981 trucks were built. In the comparable 1954 week 126,504 cars and 22,171 trucks were completed.

Ward's said increased output by General Motors and Ford plants was offset this week by losses by American Motors and Chrysler due to labor disturbances.

The agency put this week's Canadian output at 10,265 cars and 2,680 trucks, against 10,669 cars and 2,809 trucks last week. In the comparable 1954 week dominion plants built 7,859 cars and 1,489 trucks.

How 'Many Others' to Get Minimum Wage Increase?

WASHINGTON (UP) —Millions of workers are involved in the wrestling match between the Eisenhower administration and some Senate Democrats over the meaning of words.

The words involve a boost in the minimum wage and its extension to workers not now covered. In spite of the talk and the words, there's a good chance there will be no increase.

* * *

About 24 million workers in businesses which deal across state lines—such as factories producing goods shipped in interstate commerce—are covered by the federal minimum wage law. It requires that they be paid at least 75 cents an hour.

Another 20 million people working for wages and salaries are not covered. This group includes farm workers, such people as small grocery store clerks, employes of banks, and people employed by theater, grocery, hotel and movie theater chains, and employed in 5 - and - 10 - cent store chains.

* * *

In his Jan. 6 State of the Union message President Eisenhower said of the minimum wage: "I recommend its increase to 90 cents an hour. I also recommend that many others, at present excluded, be given protection of the minimum wage."

Congress set the present minimum of 75 cents an hour in 1950. Since then living costs have gone up about 15 per cent.

The big labor organizations want the minimum set at $1.25. The administration sticks to 90 cents. A boost from 75 to 90 cents would mean an automatic raise for about one million manufacturing employes in the South, and 300,000 others.

Just how many of those 20 million uncovered workers did Eisenhower want brought under the protection of the law with a 90-cent minimum wage?

* * *

He had left it "many others" in his message. But on April 14 Secretary of Labor Mitchell went before the Senate Labor Committee to explain the administration's views. The committee is considering a bill to boost the minimum.

Mitchell said he knew of no "sound reason" why the minimum wage should not be extended to employes of interstate chain stores, interstate hotels and motion picture chains, and some other workers. They'd total about two million.

* * *

Sen. Douglas (D-Ill) a committee member, said he took this to mean the administration was recommending those two million employes be brought under the law. Then the wrestling began.

Douglas says the administration is "weaseling." Mitchell says now the administration wants minimum wage coverage "extended to millions more Americans."

How many millions exactly? That's up to Congress to decide, Mitchell says. He says he hopes the issue of expended coverage will not be "obcured by quibbling about words."

* * *

Before it quits in midsummer, the Senate may pass some kind of minimum wage bill.

But it can't become law unless the House also approves. Yet, with summer drawing close, the House hasn't started committee hearings.

Church Asking Relief Step-Up

Presbyterian Assembly Seeks Speed-Up in DP Admissions

LOS ANGELES, (UP)—A speedup in operation of the Refugee Relief Act and a world ban on atomic and hydrogen bombs are asked by the nation's largest Presbyterian body.

The 167th General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States of America yesterday authorized its clerk to ask that the refugee-admission program be stepped up. The written request will go to President Eisenhower, Secretary of State Dulles and Scott McLeod, refugee relief administrator.

* * *

The Presbyterians were told they have 470 assurances of jobs for refugees, as required for persons admitted under the act.

Fifty-six Presbyterian-sponsored refugees have arrived, said the Rev. Glenn Ogden, and "the government assures us that the speed of arrivals is to greatly increase."

"Our great, warm-hearted church is asked to care for only 3,000 cases," added the Rev. Mr. Ogden of San Francisco, Western area representative of the church's refugee resettlement services.

* * *

"This is a pitifully small number when compared to the thousands who suffer and wait."

He said 99 presbyteries have set up resettlement committees. Thirty other denominations are cooperating in the work through Church World Service, a Protestant agency in New York for resettlement work.

New Car Sales Boom Is Still Growing; Price Slashing, Industry Bonuses Cited

By DAVID J. WILKIE
AP Automotive Editor

DETROIT (UP)—The new car sales boom still is expanding.

Unofficial surveys indicate that, fed by dealer price slashing and manufacturers bonuses to retailers, April deliveries were at the rate of more than 28,000 daily. The surveys indicate May sales will top this record figure.

Industry forecasters now are putting the January-June sales total at more than 3¼ million units. The highest previous January-June sales volume was achieved in 1953 with 2,880,025 retail deliveries.

The only other year when sales for the first six months came anywhere near that figure was 1950 with 2,829,937 deliveries. That was a year in which the industry sold more cars in the second half than it did in the first half.

'55 TO TOP '50

Most industry authorities agree 1955 will top the 1950 record of 6,326,438 sales. Some even are optimistic enough to say this year's July-December sales will come close to the January-June figure. They base this view on the fact many 1956 model cars will be out several weeks earlier than were current models.

* * *

This means 1956 versions of most of the industry's heaviest selling makes will be on the highway during October and November.

New model presentations always stimulate sales. But announcement of new model introduction dates also influences would-be buyers to wait for the newer cars. That present sales problems for dealers with substantial inventories of current models. So new model presentation dates usually are withheld until production halts for the changeover.

Chrysler, which has been holding a series of meetings with dealer groups throughout the country, has told them they will preview the 1956 models at about the same date they saw this year's model. That would be some time in October.

RETAILERS BUSY

Chrysler retailers, meanwhile, have been selling considerably more cars than they did last year. Current deliveries are reported at around 19 per cent of the industry total. Last year's Chrysler portion was about 13 per cent.

The figures, of course, are unofficial and which of the Chrysler competititors yield the six per cent continues a matter of dispute.

Many industry experts say styling and eye-appeal generally are major factors in the record-breaking sales volume of the year to date. They say most new car buyers are more interested in appearance than they are in many of the recent engineering advances.

Color and color combinations, along with price discounting, also have figured in the tremendous demand for new cars this year. Certainly the industry never before presented so wide a variety of colors, both interior and exterior, as has been shown in this year's cars.

COLOR A PROBLEM

But the colors and the almost limitless variety of combinations offered have presented increasing headaches to both dealer and producer. Many dealers with large inventories also have lengthy unfilled order lists on their books.

* * *

This has led to the suggestion in some quarters that there may be a cutback in color options in next year's models. But this may be wishful thinking. One industry authority remarked this week "if the public wants color we'll have to supply it. If we don't our competitors will."

Ford and Union Extend Talks

To Continue Bargaining Into Weekend; Blackout Cloaks Progress

DETROIT (UP)—New contract talks between Ford Motor Co. and the CIO United Auto Workers were extended into weekend sessions today for the first time since bargaining sessions began in early April.

Neither side, however, would comment on the significance of the move or on the progress of the contract talks.

A similar news blackout covered the UAW contract negotiations with General Motors. The GM meetings were recessed over the weekend.

Walter P. Reuther, president of both the UAW and the CIO, told delegates to the union's Chrysler council yesterday that he was unable to give a progress report on negotiations with the two automotive firms because of "agreements" with the companies.

Asked how long the agreement would last, he replied:

"We have a continuing agreement. It will last until we change it."

* * *

Of particular interest is the progress of the union's demand for a guaranteed annual wage. The UAW has proposed a plan to finance the year-around pay. But so far there has been no company comment.

The Ford contract, covering 140,000, expires June 1. The GM pact, covering 325,000, ends June 7.

CHRYSLER TALKS

Talks are to open July 1 with Chrysler—60 days before the current five-year contract expires. The Chrysler contract covers 115,000.

Despite the union and company silence on the progress of the guaranteed annual wage, the proposal itself was to get another public airing June 12.

The National Assn. of Manufacturers (NAM) yesterday accepted a CIO challenge to debate the issue before an audience of Michigan high school social science teachers.

* * *

Leonard Woodcock, a UAW vice president, was named to present the union's viewpoint.

The NAM was expected to pick either Charles R. Sligh Jr., chairman of its executive committee, or William Grede, chairman of the NAM taxation committee, to defend management's side.

Expand School of Journalism

MSC Offers Courses in Radio, TV as Well as Writing Now

EAST LANSING (UP) — Michigan State College has expanded its school of journalism to a school of communication arts and has announced the appointment of a new dean to head the department.

Dr. Gordon A. Sabine, now dean of the school of journalism at the University of Oregon, was appointed as the new dean yesterday by the State Board of Agriculture, college governing body.

He will succeed Prof. A. A. Applegate, who has continued as the head of the school of journalism on sabbatical leave after retirement.

MSC President Dr. John A. Hannah said the change to take in the entire field of communications skills had been recommended by the Michigan Press Association, policy body for the state's newspapers.

The new school will take in the entire field of mass communications, including journalism, radio, television and audio-visual aids, Dr. Hannah said.

Woman First on Ex-Hubby's Vendetta List

LOS ANGELES (UP) — Mrs. Lois E. Jackson, 45, has been granted a restraining order to keep her estranged husband, Robert, 42, from annoying or molesting her. She testified in Superior Court yesterday that he had:

Threatened to kill her with a push button knife.

Thurst a lighted cigarette at her eyes.

Broken her nose three times.

Blacked both her eyes.

Forced her to sign her paycheck over to him.

* * *

Telephoned her on the eve of her court appearance and told her she was No. 1 on his list of persons who would soon be dead, her son by a former marriage was No. 2 and her lawyer No. 3.

Judge Elmer D. Doyle asked, "did he say anything about the judge?"

"He probably will," Mrs. Jackson replied, "when he finds out I've been talking to you. You'll probably be No. 4."

The Jacksons were wed in 1946 and separated last March 27.

She is seeking a divorce.

Anti-PAC Bill Now Law in Wisconsin

MADISON, Wis. (UP)—A bill prohibiting labor unions from contributing to political campaigns has become law in Wisconsin.

The state's Republican Gov. Kohler reported through his office yesterday that he had signed the measure. It was fought bitterly in both the Assembly and Senate of the Legislature.

* * *

In a message accompanying the bill Kohler said it "actually restores rights to individual union members, rather than depriving them of political rights."

Opponents said the bill was an attempt to deprive the state Democratic party of an important source of its campaign funds.

Republicans said it merely applied to labor unions the restrictions which already regulated corporations and cooperatives.

See Ike Winning OK on $12 Million for CD

WASHINGTON (INS) — A new drive is developing to get Congress to grant President Eisenhower's request for 12 million dollars for civilian defense.

The money would be used to develop plans for handling a hydrogen bomb attack. Sen. Warren Magnuson, Democrat of Washington, said he would write the amount into an appropriations bill which the subcommittee he heads is now considering.

CD Head Addresses Meeting of Mayors

NEW YORK (UP)—Civil Defense Administrator Val Peterson told the nation's mayors today they should work defense planning into all phases of their city governments.

"If you build defense right into every element. . ." he said in an address for the U. S. Conference of Mayors, "you then have millions of trained people in your organization immediately."

* * *

"Civil defense cannot be left stranded in a separate and inadequate office," he said.

The fact that civil defense responsibilities are divided among the federal, state and local governments "sets up an ideal buck - passing situation," Peterson said.

"But passing the buck is of no consequence except maybe during campaign time. It doesn't solve anything as far as the security of the United States or your city is concerned."

Troy Mothers Plan Memorial Services

TROY TOWNSHIP — The Troy Blue Star Mothers will hold their annual memorial service at 3 p.m. Sunday at the memorial stone at the Troy Township Hall.

Second Nike Station Ready at Baltimore

BALTIMORE, Md. (UP) — The second of nine Nike guided missile batteries which will eventually ring Baltimore has been placed in operation at Granite, 10 miles west of the city.

The first unit opened April 30 at the Army Chemical Center, Edgewood. The Army has said the Nike guided missile can track and destroy enemy planes despite evasive action.

Sites cost half a million dollars each. They are manned 24 hours a day and have a complement of 100 officers and enlisted men.

Quell Student Riot

HAVANA, Cuba (UP)—Police fired into the air last night to break up an antigovernment demonstration by university students. No one was reported injured.

Ex-Suitor Slays Matron beautiful young housewife, expecting a second child in a week, entered a store at dinnertime yesterday to buy fish for supper.

Outside walked a man who had been refused when he asked her to marry him in 1950. Unknown to her he had lived nearby more than four months.

Minutes later, Mrs. Joan Empson, 26, was lying dead on the floor from four bullets and Alfred T. Carpenter, 35, of Hollis, N.Y., had ended his life nearby with the same pistol, police said.

* * *

An emergency caesarean operation by a doctor with a butcher knife failed to safe the baby, who died 15 minutes later.

Carpenter's body was found in his rented furnished room around the corner from the store.

Near his body were a diary, recording in detail the activities of Mrs. Empson and her husband, William, 29, an insurance underwriter; and a pair of field glasses which police believe were used to watch her movements.

* * *

Although the room which Carpenter rented last January was within sight of the Empson home, relatives said she was not aware he was in the neighborhood. She had not seen him since 1950 when she married her husband.

Police said Carpenter, a salesman, met the victim in 1948 when all three were empoyed by the St. Paul's Fire and Marine Insurance Co. in Manhattan.

He wanted to marry her, authorities said, and when she spurned his love, annoyed her and on several occasions followed her home. He was dismissed from the company about the time of the marriage.

* * *

Police gave this account of the shooting:

Mrs. Empson was bending over a frozen food locker when Carpenter entered the store, his hand in a pocket. He pulled out a .38 caliber police pistol and fired two shots at her head. She spun around and dropped to the floor.

Proprietor Joseph Szwarc ducked behind a counter and reached for a meat cleaver as Carpenter turned the gun toward him.

* * *

Carpenter then fired two more shots into Mrs. Empson's dead body, ran across the street to his rented room, and killed himself with a single bullet through the head.

Police said Carpenter had apparently lived in New York City most of the time since 1950 but they theorized took the furnished room with the sole object of being able to keep Mrs. Empson under constant scrutiny.

WALT DISNEY'S True Life Adventures

Bob Considine Says:

Lucky First Grader Hasn't Learned About Sin

NEW YORK (INS) — A dear little first-grader we know, name of Deborah, is in the process of learning "The Apostles' Creed," but has found one portion of it difficult to put to memory.

The other night she plunged into the monumental prayer as far as ". . . communion of saints, forgiveness of . . . forgiveness of . . . forgivness of . . ." Her vioce trailed off. She was stumped for the next word.

"Sins, dear," her mother prompted. "Forgiveness of sins."

The little girl tried again but failed at the same place.

"Don't you know what a sin is?" I asked her.

She shook her head and earnestly explained:

"We haven't gotten that far yet, Dad."

Radio Free Europe, which does a fine job of telling the free world's story to the people behind the Iron Curtain, recently received a letter from a Czechoslovakian magician. The man's lament was that he had worn out all of his tricks, couldn't replace them in the Communist countries, and was faced with loss of his means of livelihood unless Radio Free Europe could get him some new stuff from the U. S.

He attached a list of 98 magical novelties he needed to stay in his profession. Libby Ogren, of Radio Free Europe, writes:

"High on the list was the 'Beat-all rabbit vanish' and speculation is that his next date will be for a disappearing act on the borderline."

Gen Nathan Farragut Twining, who should be the next chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff (otherwise the nation will lose his incomparable services via forced retirement), spoke the language of the airman when he said:

"As our technology improves, our strength tends to become more dependent on quality. A thousand interceptors that could not fly as high as an enemy bomber would not be as good as one that could fly higher.

"Our most important job is to keep our Air Force planes and equipment superior to the Soviets . . . on the other side of the sound barrier we have found the so-called thermal barrier.

It is not really a barrier, but it is like a swamp which gets deeper and thicker the farther we travel into it. There is no speed at which we can leave this problem behind, for as we go faster we cause higher temperatures from the friction of the air over the aircraft surfaces.

"We will lick this problem by developing new materials or new ways of using what we have."

Quality costs money, which is the reason why the Air Force is asking $14,530,000 of Congress as opposed to the Navy's $8,918,000 and the Army's $7,289,000. Some modern jet engines alone cost $250,000 each.

The production model of our top fighter costs just under $800,000 (as opposed to about $50,000 for our best World War II fighters).

The 8-jet B52, which one day will replace the slower 10-engined B-36, costs $7,500,000 per copy—as much as we paid for Alaska, and half as much as Jefferson shelled out for "Louisiana," out of which was carved all or most of Louisiana, Missouri, Arkansas, Colorado, North and South Dakota, Montana, Wyoming, Iowa, Minnesota, Kansas and Nebraska!

There's a good new book out on booze and how to handle it. It's called "Man Takes a Drink," by John C. Ford, S.J., published by P. J. Kennedy and Sons, New York. The cover features an old adage from the Orient.

At the punch-bowl's brink
Let the thirsty think
What they say in Japan:
"First the man takes a drink,
Then the drink takes a drink,
Then the drink takes the man."

Russians Will Study U.S. Corn and Pigs

MOSCOW (AP)—Russia has formally accepted a U. S. invitation to send over a group of farm experts to study American corn and hog raising methods.

The Soviet government said it would send 10 or 12 experts to tour the U. S. farm belt and added that it was ready to issue visas to a group of American agriculturalists to pay a return visit.

The idea of receiving a Soviet farm delegation to see how Iowa and other U. S. farming states produce crops and livestock was broached by the Des Moines Register after Communist party Secretary Nikita S. Khrushchev demanded that Soviet farmers grow more corn and hogs.

Sea of Paint Used

MUSKEGON (AP)—Approximately 1,200 gallons of paint—green, white, black and red—are eing used in conversion work on the former S.S. Marine Star, now known as the pleasure ship Aquarama. Work on the former ocean-going vessel is scheduled for completion early in June. The ship, designed to accommodate 2,400 passengers and 200 autos will operate out of Chicago this year.

Red-Hot Pellets Shower on Town Near Test Lab

FREEPORT, N. Y. (AP)—A rain of red-hot aluminum pellets from the nearby Brooklyn Polytechnic Aeronautical Laboratory fell on this quiet Long Island community yesterday.

All police and fire apparatus went into action as terrified residents rushed to their telephones. Three cars and four boats were set afire. There were no injuries.

* * *

Authorities said that ordinarily the pellets are supposed to melt under extreme heat in a wind tunnel at the laboratory. Yesterday, however, they flew out solid through an exhaust pipe. The pipe normally is not opened until the missiles have dissolved.

"It was like they were shot out of a cannon," said Deputy Fire Chief Donald Mittauer. "It seemed they came out all at once and then it was over."

* * *

Dr. Nathan Ness of Brooklyn Polytechnic said there was no explosion at the laboratory. He declined to discuss the nature of the experimental work performed there, describing it as "top secret."

The marble-sized missiles pelted an area several blocks wide and about a half mile long, authorities said. Damage to property appeared small.

U.S. Wise Enough for Big 4: Barkley

COLUMBIA, Mo. (AP)—Sen. Alben Barkley (D-Ky) thinks the U. S. government is "wise enough not to be caught napping" at a Big Four conference.

"And I believe that such conference offers some hope at long last that the dawn of peace and human kindness may be approaching," he said. "Surely no harm can come from such a conference if we keep up our guard."

The former vice president spoke at the University of Missouri last night.

He praised the United Nations and said that "if the U. N. fails we shall not, in our time, have another opportunity to organize for world peace.

Round Up Rioters

SINGAPORE (AP) — Singapore police announced today 42 persons have been arrested in connection with the May 12 bus strike riot. They said some are believed involved in the fatal attack on American newsman Gene Symonds United Press Southeast Asia manager. Police also are trying to track down those responsible for the death of two detectives the same night.

Almost 6 Million Live in Metropolitan Chicago

CHICAGO (AP)—Chicago's metropolitan population is estimated at 5,988,000 by the University of Chicago Community Inventory and the Cripps Foundation of Miami University. Chicago itself has 3,789,000, an increase of 4.6 per cent since the 1950 census. The surrounding suburbs have increased 17.3 per cent in population.

By April 1965, the metropolitan population will reach 6,762,000, with an increase of 179,000 in Chicago and 595,000 in the suburbs, the study estimates.

Loco weeds which poison livestock on some American pastures are members of the pea family.

Top Ike Supporters Say He'll Run Again

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Two of President Eisenhower's most ardent supporters in the Senate said today they are convinced he will be a candidate for a second term but will delay any announcement until next year.

Sen. Duff (R-Pa), one of the first Eisenhower-for-President boosters in 1952, said in an interview:

"The President is held in such extraordinary public esteem that it will be almost impossible for him to refuse the nomination, as I see it"

Sen. Aiken (R-Vt.), agreeing with Duff in a separate interview, said "apparently some top Democratic party officials also are convinced that Ike will run again.

"That is why they have some of their hatchet men busy sniping at the President," Aiken said. "These snipers are the ones that the Democrats would miss the least if they are defeated."

Contentment in Job Costs Policeman $300

DETROIT (AP) — David Harris has been busted from a desk sergeant to a detective at his own request. It will cost him $300 a year.

"That's cheap for a job I like," Harris said.

He's taken a cut before to keep happy. He gave up a $100 a week job 13 years ago to join the force as a $38 a week rookie.

Will There Be Wedding? Eddie Doesn't Know!

By JACK O'BRIAN

NEW YORK (INS)—Eddie Fisher just won't be pinned down, something Debbie now must know. We asked him yesterday point blank whether there will be a wedding or not. "That's something I have to talk to Debbie about," said Master Fisher.

What, then, was happening? "I don't know myself what's happening." (Why, sure) . . .

Godfrey's original sponsor bought a new Thursday half-hour "Julius LaRosa Show" starting July 9 on CBS-TV . . . which will be in addition to LaRosa's three-a-week summer replacement(June 27) for the Perry Como show which also will be sponsored . . . Julius thus will earn $8,000 a week even without further sponsors. . . .

Wally Cox is losing to time switching to other shows; he'll star of the July 6 premiere of CBS-TV's new U. S. Steel Hour. . . . Josephine Hull will provide the elder comic genius to the debut opus. . . CBS replaces its Ray Milland good-but-going series July 7 with one to please the modernists in the jazz field: The Stan Kenton show, to be produced by Dick Lewine, written by jazz oracle Leonard Feather . . . CBS may try a Tues.-Thurs. "Record Shop" to please the teen set.

CBS-TV's hooting of one year ago of NBC "spectaculars" echoes hollowly with CBS now imitating them flatly, calling them "specials." NBC still calls them imitations, has 43 definitely skedded for next season with 75 the probable total for 90-minute diversions. . . . Jerome Thor plays his first role since "Foreign Intrigue" on Sunday night's "Appointment With Adventure."

Two items made us look in the mirror to see if the years are showing: "Buster" Crabbe plays the father of a baseball star May 25 on Kraft Theater; and last night's Paul Henreid acted for several minutes before we discovered he wasn't Paul Lukas.

Jack Carson will switch to serious roles next fall; his comedy this year was serious enough . . . British commercial TV signed Johnnie Ray to appear on its Oct. 2 "Sunday Night at the Palladium" premiere.
