Pontiac Motor, UAW Agree on Contract

Three-Year Pact Expected to End 19-Day Strike

Ratification by Workers Probably Will Come at Meeting Tomorrow

With breaks coming in General Motors Corp. strikes across the nation, an end to the 19-day deadlock at Pontiac Motor Division was in sight today after negotiators reported tentative agreement on new, three-year pacts.

Officials of UAW Local 653 were scheduling mass meetings for Wisner Stadium tomorrow at which union members would be asked to ratify the new agreements, ending a walkout that began at all three General Motors Corp. plants in Pontiac Oct. 2.

Skilled workers were to gather at 5 p.m. tomorrow for a vote on the new contract, production workers at 8 p.m.

The new pact covered both local wage and seniority agreements. Local 653 already has overwhelmingly approved ratification of the national GM agreement.

The Pontiac Motor settlement meant that agreements have been completed or are within reach at 81 GM plants employing 189,000 workers. Still idled are about 86,000 workers at 45 other plants.

The latest settlement was at Cadillac Motor Division in Detroit, where a marathon bargaining session came to a successful climax at 3 a.m. today, affecting 8,400 workers.

Of the plants where there are now settlements, however, a GM spokesman said, "We don't know if they have enough material to operate more than a couple of days" because of continuing strikes at supplier plants.

Still clouding the production picture here was the strike at Fisher Body Division, on which the Pontiac Motor plant depends for auto bodies. No progress in negotiations was reported at Fisher Body.

Gerald W. Kehoe, president of UAW local 596 said negotiations were stalled on the question of the local seniority agreement.

Torch to Be Lit Tonight

Tonight marks the official send-off for this year's tenth anniversary Pontiac Area United Fund appeal.

At 8 p. m. Philip J. Monaghan, campaign chairman, will push the button to ignite the flame that will burn throughout the 21-day campaign.

The traditional torch lighting ceremony will be held at the junction of N. Saginaw St. and Oakland Ave. on land owned by Cook-Nelson Post 20, American Legion.

A special kickoff show featuring vocalist Fred Kendall and Miss Paddy Beach, magician and comedienne, will begin at 8:30 p. m. following the torch lighting.

Close to 1,000 top UF volunteer workers will see the show at Pontiac Central High auditorium, sponsored by Community National Bank as a public service to the UF and its workers.

★ ★ ★

Tomorrow these men and women and 3,500 more volunteers will begin calling on the residents and workers in the Pontiac-Waterford Township area for their fair-share pledges to the fund.

The volunteers will be seeking $501,000 for 55 community service agencies.

United Fund solicitors are organized into three general divisions: the Industrial Division, headed by Semon E. Knudsen; the Commercial Division, headed by Judge Clark J. Adams and Berkley Voss; and the reorganized Women's Division under the chairmanship of Mrs. Donald E. White.

A "Yardstick Giving" form of solicitation is being used again this year as a suggested form of giving which will insure a fair distribution of the financial responsibility among many, rather than unreasonable contributions by a few.

Those who pledge in accordance with the suggested scale have the satisfaction of doing their share in helping to make this year's drive a success.

Early Derby Entry

Pontiac Press Photo

SUCCESSFUL OPENING — That's what Gene Coe, 15, of 2360 Joy road enjoyed this morning when Michigan's pheasant season, and The Pontiac Press annual "pheasant derby" got off to a good start. The Pontiac hunter bagged his 3-pound, 12-ounce ringneck rooster on Pontiac road with one shot. His bird was the first contest entry and the first reported from this area. Gene is a sophomore at Pontiac Northern High and this is his first pheasant season. Size of the rooster is contrasted with 5-year-old Rickie Barnes (right), son of Howard Barnes, 1845 Opdyke.

Dr. Crane to Air Problems of Teenagers in Talk Here

Everywhere you go nowadays the topic of conversation eventually swings to that of the problems of teenagers.

Is our juvenile delinquency situation getting worse or is it just going with the times.

One of the most qualified to express his answer on this perplexing situation is Dr. George W. Crane. He's a psychologist who has delved into the practical problems of youth many times.

Tomorrow at a 2 p.m. school assembly, Pontiac Central High seniors and representatives of other invited area schools will have the rare opportunity to hear Dr. Crane speak.

His talk, "Be a Good Ape," will be presented in the school auditorium.

The Pontiac Press will sponsor this afternoon appearance and a second one at 8 in the evening at the same school auditorium.

Dr. Crane has indicated that the evening lecture is designed for adults.

The psychologist, lecturer, author and columnist will talk on "Sex Problems in Marriage" at the evening lecture. The doctor will answer questions following his lecture, as time permits. This will be done through cards distributed to those who wish to ask questions.

Introducing Dr. Crane at the 2 and 8 p.m. talks will be John A. Riley, assistant advertising manager for The Press.

Riley said the play field at Crofoot School, immediately to the west of Central High School, will be opened in the evening to facilitate the many cars expected.

There will be no admission charge for either the afternoon or evening talk.

Dr. Crane's column, "Case Records of a Psychologist," appears daily on the editorial page of The Press.

Officer Slays Four in Cafe

Violent Attack Poses Riddle in New York's Police Department

NEW YORK (AP)—What deadly impulse drove policeman James McDermott to the cold-blooded slaughter of four men in a Broadway restaurant?

Did injuries he suffered last year in a car accident twist his mind with destructive urges?

Did he bear a grudge against the victims? One was a convicted loan shark and two of the others also had police records.

Had he been drinking?

★ ★ ★

Police investigated these angles today to try to uncover some explanation for the 34-year-old patrolman's violent outburst in the Pic-a-Rib Restaurant.

McDermott himself could not supply the answers immediately.

He lay speechless in critical condition on a hospital bed. His body was riddled with five bullet wounds inflicted by other policemen, who waged a spectacular gun duel with him on midtown streets as he fled.

Two of the capturing policemen were from McDermott's home precinct.

McDermott, married and the father of four, was off duty when he entered the restaurant on Broadway near 53rd Street about

Bagwell Jalopy Driver Appears in Court for 'Smoke'

Donald E. Barber, White Lake Township, Michigan State University student who drives Paul D. Bagwell around in a 1908 jalopy, was scheduled to appear in Detroit Traffic Court today on a charge that the car gives off too much smoke.

★ ★ ★

Barber, of 8675 Highland Rd., was ticketed driving the ancient Oldsmobile in Detroit in August.

He and his attorney, Jason L. Honigman, Republican nominee for attorney general from Detroit, contend that the car was giving off campaign steam and not smoke.

Bagwell has been chauffered around the state in the old buggy as part of his campaign for governor.

★ ★ ★

Barber said he planned to appear before Traffic Judge John D. Watts in the white cap, long white duster coat, goggles and long gloves of a 1908 motorist.

Window Ledge Falls

DETROIT (UPI) — A chunk of concrete fell from another building in Detroit yesterday but no one was injured. Police said a six by four foot piece of window ledge fell from the second floor of an east side building just before noon.

Has His Feet on Ground

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Washington Post and Times Herald said today the government's small business administration had received a letter which read, in part: "I'm just five feet tall in my stocking feet, and I'd like to know if that qualified me to be a small businessman?"

Ike Off to California to Battle for GOP

DENVER (AP)—President Eisenhower flies to Los Angeles today for a campaign speech billed by aides as a hard-hitting effort to bolster Republican candidates plagued by party split.

Resuming a 5,300-mile cross-country tour after a quiet weekend, the President was pictured as ready to shift gears and do some plugging during a two-day visit in California. The state is one of the nation's major political battlegrounds this year.

Eisenhower's half-hour speech tonight at the Shrine Auditorium in Los Angeles will be carried on television and radio over an 11-state Western network.

Tuesday morning he will make two speeches in San Francisco before traveling on to Chicago.

If he does go to a scrapping role in California, it will be the first time since he left Washington last Friday on a six-day vote-hunting tour. In Iowa his speech was only indirectly political, and in Kansas and Colorado he made no talks whatever.

The GOP candidates in those two states had to be satisfied with not much more than photographs with the President. In Colorado, there was even a hassle over those, that left the state Republican organization miffed.

★ ★ ★

On Eisenhower's arrival in Denver Saturday for a visit with his ailing mother-in-law, Mrs. John S. Doud, the first to greet him at the airport was Colorado's Democratic Gov. Stephen McNichols, his wife and their five photogenic children. The GOP candidate for governor, Palmer Burch, was almost lost in the shuffle some distance back of the receiving line.

Then the Republican state chairman, Richard H. Shaw, got into an argument with White

Governor Lends Ear to Call of Pheasants

LANSING (UPI) — The call of the pheasants was louder than the call of politics today as opening of the bird season swayed candidates and press agents from the campaign trail.

Gov. G. Mennen Williams was scheduled to spend most of the day hunting with State Treasurer Sanford A. Brown on the Walter Lange farm near Sebewaing.

Press Agent Paul Weber, who usually keeps news flowing from the governor's office when he's away, also went hunting in the Thumb area.

Call Off Truce as Dulles Heads for Formosa

Commies Say Shelling 'Punishment' for U.S. Aid to Nationalists

From Our News Wires

TAIPEI, Formosa — The Chinese Communists broke the cease fire in the Quemoy Islands today with a three-hour bombardment while Secretary of State John Foster Dulles flew here for talks aimed at a short-of-war solution to the Formosa Strait crisis.

Dulles conferred by telephone with President Eisenhower in Denver during a stopover at Fairbanks, Alaska.

He announced afterwards that he was continuing his trip to Formosa, although the new Red shelling had reduced some of the hopes for success of the talks.

The Nationalist defense ministry said three LSTs (landing ships, tank) which were unloading supplies on the beach at Quemoy and a Nationalist commercial cargo ship just offshore were able to pull out in time and were not sunk by the bombardment.

A fifth ship operated by the Nationalists, an unarmed navy cargo vessel, also escaped. The spokesman did not specify whether any of the craft was hit.

The Nationalists announced that the Reds' shelling of Quemoy was followed by a bombardment of Tiny Tatan Island, perched in the mouth of Red-held Amoy Harbor on the mainland.

RETURN FIRE

A U.S. Taiwan defense command spokesman said "the Communist shelling was not very heavy and was returned by light Nationalist counterfire." He was not able to give any more specific information.

In Washington, the State Department said the United States has not resumed convoying Chinese Nationalist supply ships to Quemoy and will not revive the escort system unless compelled to do so by military necessity.

This assertion by Press Officer Lincoln White was in line with a statement by Secretary of State Dulles in Alaska.

In his statement at Fairbanks, Dulles said he had "embarked upon what I believed and hoped was a mission of peace." He added that "I shall persist in that purpose."

Dulles said he began his trip to Formosa as a result of the previously announced Communist cease fire extension for another two weeks.

"It seemed to President Chiang Kai-shek and President Eisenhower that under these circumstances it

Begin Final Preparations Before Election of Pope

VATICAN CITY (AP) — The cardinals of the Roman Catholic Church today began the final week of preparations for election of a new pope.

The nine days of funeral service for Pope Pius XII ended Sunday in St. Peter's Basilica with a two-hour solemn Requiem Mass attended by U. S. Secretary of State Dulles and other diplomats and representatives of 50 non-Communist nations.

The arrival Sunday night of Stefan Cardinal Wyszynski from Poland brought to 47 the number of princes of the church assembled in Rome for the secret conclave which will convene next Saturday to elect a new ruler of the church.

By the weekend all but two of the 54 living cardinals are expected to be at the Vatican.

The absentees will be Josef Mindszenty, a fugitive from Hungary's Communist government who has taken asylum in the U.S. legation in Budapest, and Alojzije Stepinac, confined to his native Yugoslav village by President Tito's government.

★ ★ ★

A thousand cheering people massed at the Rome railway station to greet 60-year-old Cardinal Wyszynski, who was kept under house arrest by the Communists for three years. The crowd included both exiles from Poland's Communist regime and representatives in Italy of that regime.

The welcome amazed the prelate, who exclaimed, "My God, I did not know I was so popular. Why? Why?" It took almost 10 minutes for police to clear a path for him to a waiting Vatican automobile.

Robed in purple, the cardinals sat in two long rows on each side of the apse area of St. Peter's for the final funeral Mass for the late Pope. Behind them were Roman and foreign nobility and rep-

Red Jet Liner Crashes With No Survivors

LONDON (AP) — The crash of a TU104 jet airliner, showpiece of Soviet aviation, took the lives of the 65 passengers and all crew members, Red China announced Sunday night.

Peiping radio said there were no survivors of the crash Friday night at Kanash, 400 miles east of Moscow, and that among the dead were 16 Chinese government officials.

It was the first crash to be announced for the jet airliner, the pride of the Soviet commercial air fleet.

The other 49 passengers were described as "foreign friends" and experts on their way home from Red China. They included one Briton, four West Germans and the son of the Cambodian ambassador to Peiping.

The number of crew members was not given, but the TU104 usually carries up to 10.

The Peiping broadcast gave the first details of the disaster. Moscow radio, in one of its rare announcements of air mishaps, said Saturday night that the plane went down on a regular Peiping-to-Moscow flight but did not disclose how many had been killed.

★ ★ ★

Aeroflot, the Soviet state airline, said in Moscow no further details would be disclosed until an investigation has cleared up the case.

★ ★ ★

An indication of the importance attached by the Soviet government to the crash was the fact that Aviation Minister M. V. Khrunichev is heading an investigation by six experts.

JETS STILL FLYING

The Soviet Union made a point of reporting the jet liner is still flying the world's air routes and carrying important passengers. The crash evidently has not resulted in the planes being grounded.

Russia itself still maintained silence on the identity of the victims. But the Soviet cabinet in an unprecedented move, decreed that a top-level panel investigate the accident.

Peiping Radio said that the Chinese communist officials killed included Cheng Chen-tuo, vice-chief of the Cultural Bureau, and Tfai Chu-fung, a member of the Communist Chinese Sports Federation.

Others included officials of the Chinese communist trade and foreign affairs ministries, the Peiping broadcast said.

Pan-Am Jet Back Home

NEW YORK (UPI)—A Pan American World Airways Boeing 707 jet clipper landed at Idlewild Airport at 6:13 p.m. EST yesterday after a pre-inaugural flight from Baltimore to Brussels and back.

The plane made the westbound trip in flying time of 9 hours and 18 minutes, making a 1-hour 10-minute stop at Keflavik, Iceland.

The jet plane, soon to be in regular trans-Atlantic service, made the flight from Baltimore to Brussels late Friday in 7 hours and 19 minutes.

Northwest U.S., Florida Feel Storms' Fury

By The Associated Press

Strong northerly winds fanned cold Pacific air across Northwest sections of the country today, breaking a spell of mild weather.

Violent storms which struck Southeastern areas appeared ended. Fairly normal weather prevailed in most other parts of the country, with a warming trend in the central section.

Severe windstorms hit Northwest areas Sunday. Four persons were killed by falling trees in Oregon. In Idaho, the gale-like winds whipped up clouds of dust and contributed to several traffic accidents, with one person killed and at least 27 others injured. Twenty-five persons were injured in the pileup of eight cars in a dust storm near Malta.

In the Southeast, a tornado struck the farming community of Pahokee in southern Florida Sunday morning. Heavy rains hit other Florida areas and severe southern Alabama and western Florida.

Quadruplets Born to Virginia Mom —2 Boys, 2 Girls

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — Quadruplets were born early today to the wife of a Richmond city employe. The hospital reported the children—two boys and two girls—are all alive and apparently well.

They were born to Mrs. Edward G. Englehart of nearby Sandston, in Johnston-Willis Hospital. The Engleharts have six other children, all girls.

The hospital said the first child, a girl, was born at 5:05 a.m. A boy was born at 5:15 a.m., the other girl at 5:25, and the other boy at 5:30 a.m.

Englehart works for the Richmond Department of Public Works.

The last quads born in Richmond were those of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Shaia, born in March 1956. All are living.

Ike in California on Campaign Tour

In California, the President's work is cut out for him in the face of a party split over U. S. Sen. William F. Knowland, who is running a steep uphill race for the governorship against Democrat Edmund G. (Pat) Brown, the state's attorney general.

★ ★ ★

The split developed when Knowland announced his candidacy after Gov. Goodwin S. Knight already had said he would bid for re-election. Knight wound up a reluctant candidate for Knowland's Senate seat, and he said recently he may not vote for Knowland.

Red Chinese Open Fire on Quemoys; Truce Off

'IT'S A TRAGEDY'

"It is a tragedy that the Chinese communists have displayed their warlike dispositions. All who love peace must hope that the present resumption of fighting will be of short duration and that the world may be spared the grave consequences of communist persistence in aggression."

★ ★ ★

Dulles is due in Formosa at 8 a.m. Tuesday (6 p.m. EST tonight)

The communist action appeared to be a direct slap at Dulles. The order of the day by communist Defense Minister Peng Tehhuai ending 15 days of quiet in the Formosa Strait noted Dulles' impending arrival and accused him of interfering in internal Chinese affairs.

Peng's announcement over Peiping Radio was monitored here an hour before the heavy Red shellin resumed. But there apparently was not time to warn the Quemoy garrison and the intense shelling came as a deadly surprise, catching a number of landing ships on the yellow sand beaches.

★ ★ ★

The U.S. Taiwan (Formosa) defense command flatly denied communist charges the Navy was still convoying Nationalist ships. It pointed out the 7th Fleet had been trimming out the vessels rushed here during the emergency and that U.S. vessels were under orders to remain 20 miles offshore.

★ ★ ★

High officials on Formosa expected the secretary of state's talks with the Nationalist Chinese leader, beginning Tuesday, would disillusion the Chinese Reds of any idea of a split between Taipei and Washington.

★ ★ ★

In his talks with Chiang, the American secretary is expected to search for a formula to bring about what he calls a dependable ceasefire. One of his problems is to get Chiang to reduce his forces on Quemoy in the hope Red China will no longer consider them an offensive threat.

★ ★ ★

Dulles was prepared to argue that increased firepower could compensate for the reduced manpower, and that there is no change in the American policy of supporting the defense of Nationalist China.

Red Chinese Defense Minister Peng Teh-huai gave as his reason for resuming the bombardment a charge that U. S. warships had encroached on Chinese territorial waters Sunday night in escorting Nationalist ships to Quemoy.

"Shelling must therefore be resulted as a measure of punishment," the Communist order said.

The Nationalists viewed the on-again artillery war as a fulfillment of their predictions that the Reds would renew action when it suited them.

They have claimed the Communists were only following accepted Red tactics of "fight and talk, talk and fight."

Red China's order ending the two-week-old Quemoy ceasefire took official Washington by complete surprise.

Officer Goes Berserk, Slays Four in Restaurant

1:45 a.m. A few minutes later, without warning, he drew two guns and blazed away at helpless patrons. Four men fell mortally wounded.

McDermott crashed through the glass paneling of a door and fled.

Pursuing policemen opened fire, hitting him five times. He returned the fire, wounding one of the pursuers, before he collapsed, unconscious, about three blocks from the restaurant.

★ ★ ★

McDermott had a clean record, including one commendation, during his 10 years on the force. Neighbors described him as a conscientious father and churchgoer. Fellow policemen recalled he was a "nice, pleasant guy."

★ ★ ★

Officials said McDermott had been under medical treatment since December 1957, when he was injured in the collision of a radio car with a truck. Two weeks ago, he underwent X-ray examinations after complaining of persistent headaches.

His four victims all died in hospitals. They were:

Edmund Leahy, 53, of Manhattan, a stevedore who recently served a prison sentence for loan sharking. His record also shows fines for gambling and bookmaking convictions.

Thomas Joseph O'Hare, 55, of Manhattan, an usher at Madison Square Garden, once arrested for alleged burglary but released with the charge dismissed.

Lawrence Davion, Mount Vernon, N. Y., known as "Larry the Barber," who carried papers listing two other names—Larry Jenkins and Frank Anderson. Davion's police record, dating from 1933, includes a jail term for altering identification marks on an automobile, a bookmaking fine and two other arrests.

Eugene Cronin, 60, Jersey City, N. J.

Deputy Police Commissioner Walter Arm was asked if there was evidence that McDermott had been involved with a loan shark, and he replied: "We have nothing to go on, but we are investigating that angle as well as all other angles."

Neighbors said McDermott had given up drinking about five years ago. But police checked bars near the Pic-a-Rib as they sought to determine where McDermott had spent the 12 hours between the time he left his home in the Flushing section of Queens and the time of the shootings.

Patrolman Larry Roden, wounded while chasing McDermott, was listed in not serious condition in Roosevelt hospital.

McDermott was charged with homicide and suspended from the force.

Continuing strikes at other strategic plants in Michigan and the nation also played a part in the local strike picture. Unless these other strikes are settled, there will be no delivery here of essential parts on which production depends.

Altogether, approximately 9,100 UAW workers have been idled at Pontiac Motor and Fisher Body since the strikes were continued here, over local issues, after the national GM contract was approved Oct. 2.

Another 5,000 were idled at GMC Truck & Coach Division, but this strike was settled a week ago.

HIGHEST IN RANK

President Sean O'Kelly of Ireland was the highest ranking mourner, the only chief of state present. Foreign Ministers Heinrich von Brentano of West Germany, Maurice de Murville of France and Pierre Wigny of Belgium attended for their governments. The Earl of Perth represented Queen Elizabeth II of Britain.

Dulles was accompanied by his wife and President Eisenhower's other two representatives, Mrs. Clare Boothe Luce, former U.S. ambassador to Italy, and chairman John A. McCone of the U.S. Atomic Energy Commission.

Francis Cardinal Spellman of New York was one of the four cardinals assisting Eugene Cardinal Tisserant, the French-born dean of the College of Cardinals, in celebration of the Mass.

Wives Take It on the Chin— and Elsewhere

The so-called weaker sex took it on the chin (and elsewhere) this weekend as two area husbands ran out of patience, according to State Police reports.

What began as a friendly card game Saturday night ended quite differently for a young Waterford Township couple.

The 18-year-old wife told troopers that her husband had hit her in the face and chased her out the front door shortly after they had been playing cards with another couple. She suffered a bloody nose.

The reason? Police said the women had won five or six games. The dismayed wife said her husband was a "poor loser."

Saturday night also proved a rough one for a Pontiac woman who had consented to go fishing with her spouse at the Hatchery road Pond.

A bit bedraggled, she told officers she had objected to fishing for catfish, which she didn't consider suitable for the dinner table.

Her hubby, tiring of her objections, hit her several times with his fists, paddled her with a stick, and tossed her into the pond, she told troopers.

Boy Drowns in Swim Pool

Farmington Township Tot Perishes as Mother Hunts Him in Woods

A freak drowning took the life of a 19-month-old Farmington Township boy Saturday afternoon in a swimming pool near his home at 33901 Braebury Ridge Rd., according to township police.

★ ★ ★

It was the second swimming pool tragedy for the township in five days.

Sebastian Mancuso, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sebastian Mancuso, was dead on arrival at William Beaumont Hospital.

His mother Mary, 20, told police she was raking leaves when the tot wandered away. Several moments later she heard him shouting for help and rushed into a woods at the rear of their home thinking he was there.

She eventually spotted him at the bottom of a neighbor's swimming pool.

★ ★ ★

Last Tuesday a 4-year-old boy drowned in a swimming pool at his grandparents home at 28825 Millbrook St., in the Village of Wood Creek.

★ ★ ★

The boy, Gene Luicier, was believed to have been attempting to retrieve a toy sail boat floating on the water.

Nixon Stays Behind an Extra 12 Hours

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP)—Vice President Nixon, who has spent the weekend here recovering from a mild cold and sore throat, will board a plane at Denver for Washington today at 12:30 p.m.

★ ★ ★

Originally, Nixon planned to leave Denver at 12:30 a. m. No reason was given for the change in plans.

Secret Service Agent Jack Sherwood said the vice president's cold has "dissipated considerably, and his throat irritation has cleared up almost completely."

Nixon is in the midst of a barnstorming tour on behalf of Republican candidates.

The Day in Birmingham

Asks Commission to Ban Special Christmas Shops

BIRMINGHAM — Charles Mortensen, manager of the Birmingham Chamber of Commerce, is asking the city commissioners tonight to consider adoption of an ordinance to prevent transient merchants from opening temporary stores in the city for the Christmas season.

In some communities, Mortensen said, this is a common practice and can do considerable harm to stores which operate throughout the year.

He offered to work with the city attorney in drawing up such an ordinance.

The Oakland County Road Commission has alerted the city of Birmingham to enforce the law which prohibits the burning of leaves and other rubbish on surfaced streets.

The commission pointed out that this practice does considerable damage by destroying the top coating, permitting water to seep through.

The Birmingham Democratic Club will sponsor a public meeting at 8 p.m. tomorrow at the Birmingham Community House. Several county-level Democratic candidates will be introduced.

Among those who will speak are Leslie Hudson, 18th Congressional District candidate for the U.S. House of Representatives; James Lawson, candidate for prosecuting attorney; John Kronenberg, candidate for the office of county clerk and register of deeds, and Floyd L. Cobb Jr., candidate for state representative from the 3rd district.

Continuing its series of "What High School Education Means Today," the Birmingham PTA Council has invited junior high school parents to meet in the high school Little Theater at 8 p.m. tomorrow.

They will hear discussions on evaluation of the requirement by colleges and vocational schools.

Merit scholarships and general junior high school activities also will be discussed.

Detroit Newspaper Supports Bagwell

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Free Press came out editorially today in support of Republican Paul Bagwell for governor. It was the first local metropolitan daily newspaper to express a recommendation in the campaign.

The Free Press said the issue has come down "almost solely to whether the political climate created by 10 years of (Democratic) Gov. Williams is hurting the prosperity of Michigan's people."

It added:

"We strongly believe that it is time for a change before further harm is inflicted."

The Free Press also has supported previous Republican candidates for governor against Williams.

Playing With Matches Sets House Afire Here

Children playing with matches set fire to window screens and storm windows in a vacant two-story frame house at 125 E. Pike St. Saturday afternoon.

Firemen extinguished the blaze which caused an estimated $300 damage to the building and contents.

The Salvation Army has 50 camps for children.

Set Pontiac Area Meeting on Industrial Development

The first Pontiac area industrial development conference will be staged Oct. 28 by the Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce, with emphasis on meeting the challenges of the future.

Planned by the Chamber's industrial affairs committee, the day-long session at Pontiac Elks Temple has been described as an attempt to build a "foundation for prosperity" here.

A long list of speakers and other features has been scheduled, said L. Clare Utley, committee chairman.

Community planning will be emphasized. "The economic future of the greater Pontiac area and of every person who lives or works in it is tightly bound to our planning — or lack of it," the chairman declared in announcing the event.

The Chamber listed four aims for the meeting:

To create the most favorable industrial atmosphere; to encourage city, township and county planning; to promote the most ideal conditions for present and future industry; and to provide security for existing jobs and help create new ones.

Among the speakers will be:

Delos Hamlin, chairman of the Oakland County Board of Supervisors and of the Supervisors Inter-County Committee; V. S. Madison, director of the Detroit Edison Co.'s Area Development Division; George Vilican, a city planning consultant; H. Fred Campbell, president of the H. F. Campbell Construction Co.; and Harold K. Schone, director of the Oakland County Department of Public Works.

Also scheduled is the Michigan premiere of a new Edison Electric Institute motion picture on community planning.

Registration fee is $3 per person, including morning refreshments and lunch. Reservations are being accepted at the Chamber office, 34 E. Pike St.

Couple Paired by Univac on TV Show Wed

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Shirley Saunders and Bob Kardell are honeymooning today — thanks to an electronic brain and television.

Their marriage last Saturday at the First Presbyterian Church was the result of a Cupid-playing Univac. The best man was Art Linkletter, whose TV show People Are Funny brought them together.

Twenty other couples also were paired by the machine as ideal mates, but no marriages resulted. Bob and Shirley, both 26, were chosen for their similarity in religion, politics, education and personality.

They won $20,000 on the show.

Canada has contributed nearly $200,000,000 to the Colombo Plan for economic development in South and Southeast Asia.

Kuwait Richest in Near East Oil

Ruler Invests Royalties for Schools, Hospitals, Social Services

WASHINGTON—In the midst of the troubled Near East, the tiny sheikdom of Kuwait is gripped by a peaceful revolution. Based on an ever-rising tide of oil and money, it is changing the face and life of the nation.

★ ★ ★

Kuwait is the richest of the new oil-rich, says the National Geographic Society. Wedged between giant Saudi Arabia and Iraq at the head of the Persian Gulf, it is smaller than New Jersey. Yet below its desert sand and camel grass lies the world's largest known oil pool.

★ ★ ★

Skyrocketing output has shot Kuwait to first place among Near East oil producers. In global lineup, it ranks after the United States, Venezuela and Russia. It provides half of Britain's crude oil imports.

RULER INVESTS ROYALTIES

Croesus of Kuwait's sticky treasure is His Highness Abdullah as Salim as Subah. His state is British protected, but his rule over his people is absolute, and the oil royalties go to him by dynastic law.

Had he so wished, His Highness could doubtless have become the world's most lavish spender — or its most affluent miser. Instead, he chose to invest the oil revenues in developing his country.

In the port city of Kuwait, the sheikdom's capital, old mud-walled houses have given way to concrete homes, public buildings, hospitals and schools. Broad, paved avenues, along which white-robed Arabs drive gleaming American cars, replace narrow, winding alleys. Radio towers share the skyline with mosques and minarets adorned with flashing electric lights.

★ ★ ★

Under a long-term program of social services and public works, Kuwaitis receive free medical care and free education. Half a dozen well-staffed and spectacularly equipped hospitals, including tuberculosis and mental institutions, have been established. The scores of new schools offer not only state transportation and lunches, but—even more remarkable in a Moslem land—training for girls as well as boys.

★ ★ ★

Perhaps most welcome to a desert-harried people is the capital's huge distilling plant that turns sea water into fresh in a modern version of Aladdin and the lamp magic. Eventually, a piped-in stream from the Shatt al 'Arab in southern Iraq may create farmland in the arid interior.

Pontiac Hospital Group Arranges TV for Patients

Patients at Pontiac General Hospital can now enjoy television, thanks to the women's hospital auxiliary.

The auxiliary announced that it has completed arrangements with a Detroit firm for special hospital sets that are available to patients on a rental basis.

The sets have such features as under-the-pillow speakers and highly mobile stands.

Proceeds from the rental service will go towards purchase of hospital equipment, said Mrs. Raymond Rapaport, auxiliary president.

Pius XII's Physician to Be Investigated

ROME (UPI) — Premier Amintore Fanfani has ordered an investigation to determine whether Prof. Riccardo Galeazzi-Lisi could be punished under Italian law for his widely-condemned articles on the last hours of Pope Pius XII.

★ ★ ★

Fanfani acted amid a growing storm over the publication yesterday of Galeazzi-Lisi's diary describing intimate and detailed accounts of the Pontiff's fatal illness.

Newspapers of every political leaning criticized Galleazzi-Lisi, who was physician to the late Pope for almost a quarter of a century. All the newspapers lauded the Rome Medical Assn. for its decision to take disciplinary action against him.

★ ★ ★

Galeazzi-Lisi insisted he had received no payment for his published diary. He said he released the account because he felt there would be "perhaps some professional advantages in its publication."

Taking Over Booth to Inform Voters

The Pontiac League of Women Voters has taken over Friday and Saturday operation of the downtown Pontiac voter information booth.

★ ★ ★

The Pontiac Area Junior Chamber of Commerce is looking for more volunteers to help man the booth through Nov. 4, the date of the county and state election, said Dr. Donald McCandless, Jaycee member in charge.

★ ★ ★

Jaycees hope to keep the booth open from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. Monday through Saturday until election, providing non-partisan information concerning the mechanics of voting machines, precincts, voter eligibility and registration.

The first known white man to visit South Bend, Ind., (where the University of Notre Dame is located) was Father James Marquette in 1675.

For Teenage Safety Work

Fete High School Pupils

High school students on the steering committee of the proposed Oakland County Teenage Safety Conference were the guests of the Safety Committee of the Pontiac Chamber of Commerce at its luncheon meeting yesterday in the Roosevelt Hotel.

★ ★ ★

The teenagers, representing their high schools, drew praise from the safety committee and Gerald Shipman of the Michigan Safety Commission, who called the conference "one of the finest projects that could be undertaken."

★ ★ ★

Among the subjects proposed for discussion at the conference are school traffic hazard surveys, year-round traffic safety programs, auto safety checks, essay and speech contests on the importance of safety, school assemblies on safety, and columns in school papers on the importance of safety.

★ ★ ★

Sherwin Birnkrant, chairman of the committee's Fire Prevention Week program, reported that many congragulatory letters have been received on the '58 program, and that entries already are being received from area fire departments for next year's program.

★ ★ ★

The safety committee also received notice that Nov. 16 will be observed as "Michigan Traffic Safety Sunday." Area clergymen will be asked to stress safety to their congregations.

Losers in Beauty Contest Fare Better Than Winner

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — You know the story about the beauty contest winner who came to Hollywood intending to become a star. And the line by the gruff but kindly cameraman or prop man or somebody or other who says, "Look, kid—why don't you go home—back to your family?"

It's supposed to happen every day. Maybe it does. But there have also been times when it worked out in reverse. Consider Colleen Miller, the girl who lost a beauty contest and became a movie star.

Miss Miller, who stars in "Step Down to Terror" for Universal-International, doesn't think her case is particularly unusual.

"I was 'Miss Portland' in a beauty contest, and nothing happened," she said. "When I entered the Miss America contest and lost, U-I signed me to a long term movie contract. Since losing that contest, I've had nine major film assignments. If that's what happens to losers, make me a loser every time, please."

The pretty actress said that any look at the case histories of beauty contest contestants—and what happened to them—would show that the lowers, whether runner-ups or lower, seem to fare better in movies than the winners.

★ ★ ★

"I know about the winners, too," she said. "They're secretaries, schoolteachers or mothers with large batches of kids. And everytime they read, they seem to pick up a magazine with an article about them—how they won the ig contests and so forth.

"The also-rans may not have pleased enough judges, but they've been pleasing a lot of audiences. Rhonda Fleming is an also-ran. Linda Darnell was a loser in the same contest. Susan Hayward lost the let's-find-a-Scarlett-O'Hara-contest, but she later won an Oscar.

"There are lots of such names—Yvonne DeCarlo, Myrna Loy, Dorothy Lamour and Joan Blondell. They all lost in beauty contests."

Plan Pontiac Meeting on State Constitution

Why Pontiac voters should approve a state constitutional convention Nov. 4 will be outlined at a public meeting Thursday night at Lincoln Junior High School.

★ ★ ★

Citizens were urged to attend the session by its three sponsors, the Pontiac Area Advisory Council, Pontiac League of Women Voters and Pontiac Education Assn.

Main speaker will be Dr. William R. Gable, a University of Michigan research specialist attached to the Institute of Public Administration.

The Birmingham League of Women Voters also plans a skit emphasizing the need for constitutional revision.

Circuit Judge Clark J. Adams, chairman of the advisory committee, will head the meeting, scheduled to begin at 7:30 p. m. in the school auditorium.

Work to Boost Asia Standards

Colombo Plan Confab Seeks Speedier Rise in Lagging Nations

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP)—Attention was focused on the United States today as delegates of the 18-nation Colombo Plan opened an intensive drive to quicken the rise of living standards in underdeveloped South and Southeast Asia.

Delegates to the conference, scheduled to last almost a month, expected the United States will unveil a new plan for financial and economic assistance to meet the Soviet and Chinese economic offensive in free Asia.

★ ★ ★

The main question was whether such aid will be placed through a regional development institution such as President Eisenhower has endorsed for Latin America and the Arab states.

Indian economists voiced opposition to any change in the present country-to-country assistance now given by the United States and other developed industrial nations.

★ ★ ★

Britain, Japan, Canada, Australia and New Zealand are also helping the nations of South and Southeast Asia to raise living standards through long-range development plans.

Besides these five nations represented at the conference, the Asian nations receiving assistance include Burma, Cambodia, Ceylon, India, Indonesia, Laos, Malaya, Nepal, Pakistan, the Philippines, Thailand and South Vietnam.

Three British colonies attending without member status are Singapore, British Borneo and Sarawak.

Needy nations of Southern Asia have a total population of about 650 million persons or about a fourth of the world's total.

The population of this area is increasing at the rate of about 10 million a year. Many economists have warned that population growth has offset all of the efforts by these nations to increase their living standards.

★ ★ ★

Other experts fear that if this area lags too far behind Communist China in economic development there will be powerful forces created to adopt Chinese Communist methods.

Now Directing GOP Campaign

Stakes Big for Nixon in This Election

By WARREN ROGERS JR.
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Nixon has taken over direction of the Republican party's campaign and, one way or another, it should have a profound effect on his personal political future.

Nixon could have held aloof and quietly husbanded his strength for the presidential race in 1960. Instead, he chose to pitch in with exertions matching in frequency and vehemence his campaign efforts in 1954 when, as now, he was not a candidate.

★ ★ ★

The tide seems to be running against the Republicans. Democrats confidently predict big gains in both House and Senate and even control of California, second only to New York in political importance.

A Democratic landslide despite Nixon's efforts might tarnish his prospects in 1960. By closely identifying himself with the 1958 campaign, he has taken the risk of being so deeply snowed under that he might not be able to dig himself out in time for the Republican presidential nomination two years hence.

★ ★ ★

On the other hand, he might be better off if he can demonstrate enough political dynamism to narrow the margin of defeat if not stave it off entirely. In that case he might emerge as the rallying point for a revitalized GOP drive in 1960.

Nixon's determination to make a fight of it got him involved last week in a curious kind of public debate with the titular head of the party, President Eisenhower. In the upshot both Eisenhower and his chief Cabinet officer, Secretary of State Dulles, backtracked, and Nixon had his way.

Nixon's campaign oratory was stingingly sharp. He accused the Truman administration of being spendthrift and yet miserly with defense funds. He said it "spent more on peanuts than on missiles."

When the Democrats published a manifesto critical of Eisenhower foreign policy, Nixon fired back that "the Acheson foreign policy resulted in war and the Eisenhower-Dulles policy resulted in peace."

In the wake of this, Eisenhower and Dulles told their news conferences they hoped foreign policy would be kept out of the campaign. They appeared to frown on Nixon's slashing statements. But, after the vice president had a number of telephone conversations with Washington, they announced full support for him.

★ ★ ★

Eisenhower sent Nixon a telegram saying no one could outdo Nixon when it came to defending the administration against Democratic attacks on its foreign policy. Eisenhower generally has let Nixon do the campaign talking about domestic affairs, and the telegram seemed to give him a go-ahead in full.

Happiness of Many Up to You

Kick-off day is here. Tomorrow the Pontiac Area United Foundation drive will get under way in earnest. The 4,500 volunteers will start soliciting to provide funds to care for the underprivileged and the afflicted.

★ ★ ★

The total quota this year is $501,000, a reduction from a year ago.

The 55 agencies depending on funds from the Foundation have scaled down their requirements recognizing that poor economic conditions have existed this past year. However, they are dependent on the success of the drive to meet their needs.

★ ★ ★

The workers in this "Give-Once-for-All" campaign face the toughest challenge since this united system of giving was adopted. They are mindful of this condition but not disheartened. They know that the willingness to give in our community exists.

Helping the less fortunate may mean giving up some normal luxury, but the result of your contribution will be knowing that it is going to a worthy cause.

Making life a little easier, or contributing to help restore a crippled child is the type of reward that cannot be measured. Your donation will continue this work.

Economic conditions have caused a strain beyond normal on many of the agencies. They need your assistance more than ever before. When the solicitors call, remember they are volunteers working to alleviate loneliness or want in some Pontiac Area home.

★ ★ ★

With fewer people employed, the task will be that much greater for the rest of us. It may mean digging a little deeper to pick up the slack for someone unemployed, so think twice, and try and give a little more, remembering that the needs have not lessened.

★ ★ ★

The people of the Pontiac Area United Fund should be proud of their past records and the current campaign should again demonstrate our willingness to contribute to the needs of the unfortunate.

"IT ISN'T so much that a man is afraid of a woman," said Old Sorehead, "as it is that he hates to get cussed out by somebody he can't sock in the jaw."

IT WOULD seem that the only time a large percentage of people love money is when they're kissing it goodbye.

We Have Voters; Will They Vote?

Suggestion by former Pontiac mayor, ARTHUR J. LAW, that compulsory voting in general elections be used to combat apathy among citizens points up the need for some method of awakening citizens to their duty at the polls.

★ ★ ★

Mr. LAW suggested in an interview for The PRESS that we might profitably adopt Australia's practice, requiring every citizen to vote on election day, with a fine assessed on those who fail to cast a ballot.

★ ★ ★

While we heartily agree that more citizens should go to the polls, we don't think compulsory voting would work in this country.

Americans have an ornery kind of pride in their freedoms. Take something away from them which they hold in high regard and they will move mountains to get it back;

Tell them they MUST do something or else . . . and all the mules in Missouri won't make them do it.

★ ★ ★

The use of the ballot must be a voluntary action to hold its proper place in a free democracy.

Yet it is highly encouraging that men of Mr. LAW's background in public life are pondering on the paradox of widespread criticism of government and almost empty polling places.

★ ★ ★

If his suggestion will cause others to study the problem, and perhaps come up with a solution to voter apathy, he will have performed a good service to our community.

We have the ballot.
We have qualified voters.

Now if we only can get more of them together on election day!

Only 4 of the 4,032 Survive

In the two contest games over the weekend, all of the surviving entries in our football contest were eliminated, except four. They are all who now remain of the 4,032 good sports who entered it.

When California won, 14-12, over Southern Calif., Saturday, 13 of the previous 22 survivors were dropped, being the 11 who had picked Southern Calif. to win, and the two who had predicted a tie game.

The nine survivors divided on Sunday's professional game; Detroit, 5, and Baltimore, 4. Baltimore won, 40-14, eliminating 5 more.

On the next contest game on Saturday three of the survivors picked Detroit to win, and the other favors Arizona State.

"Aw C'mon, Fellows"

David Lawrence Says:

GOP Is Facing Emotional Issue

WASHINGTON — The oldest rule in the campaign textbook of American politics is that the party in power must be blamed for every adverse happening including the bad weather that ruins a farm crop. This autumn, in accordance with a precedent rarely broken, the incumbent administration, through no fault of its own, is expected to lose seats in both House of Congress.

LAWRENCE

The main reason, of course, is the business recession. So deeply rooted is the illusion that the party in power can perform miracles in maintaining uninterrupted prosperity that both parties have for generations used it as a means of appealing to the unemployed or of claiming credit when employment is high.

★ ★ ★

The present recession really began in the spring of 1957 and, politically speaking, there has been lots of time for political prejudices to be cultivated against the Republican Party.

Even though the nation now is slowly coming out of the recession, it may be too late to change the votes of many who have been adversely affected.

Does this mean that with every recession the party in power must go down to defeat in the next election and that prosperity is a sure winner for the party that has that issue on its side? Not at all. Actually, an emotional issue can sway votes far more than economic questions.

★ ★ ★

There is an "emotional" issue emerging in the present campaign, but neither side is as yet getting much benefit from it. This is the effort to pin the getting-us-into-war label on the Republicans in connection with Far Eastern developments and the counter-effort of the Republicans to point with pride at the President's firmness against the Communist enemy as well as to claim credit for the administration's success in keeping us out of a world war.

★ ★ ★

Basically, as it looks now, the campaign for Congress this year will be decided on the local appeal of the candidates and on economic issues—responsibility for the recession.

The Republicans have a good argument in their charge that the recession was "union-made" because of the exercise of monopoly power by nationwide unions in forcing wages up faster than productivity of labor—the cause of the present inflation.

But the unions are spending many millions of dollars to help the Democratic candidates, while the Republicans are finding it hard to collect the normal amount of campaign contributions. Senator Knowland's campaign manager, for instance, was reported recently to be without money to pay for a single statewide television appeal in the California gubernatorial race.

The Republicans are handicapped by the fact that their own party strength is not being fully mobilized. The middle and upper classes throughout the country, most of whom have not been really hurt by the recession, just don't bother to vote in the same proportions as do the people in the lower-income groups who are dragged to the polls through union-organized battalions of precinct workers.

The Republican Party could win the election if all who voted Republican only two years ago voted that way again and particularly if those Republicans who are resentful over various issues that are really less important than the economic future of the country were to lay aside their grievances.

THOUGHTS FOR TODAY

And I will put my spirit within you and cause you to walk in my statutes, and ye shall keep my judgments, and do them.—Ezekiel 36:27.

★ ★ ★

We need only obey. There is guidance for each of us, and by lowly listening we shall hear the right word.—Ralph Waldo Emerson.

Dr. William Brady Says:

Nitroglycerin Advisable to Ward Off Heart Attacks

Today I heard from a reader who says he was converted from a gloomy character into a cheerful one by reading my booklet CVD—about heart and artery troubles. What particularly caught his interest, he says, was the explanation I give in the booklet why coffee is good for the heart. He had given up coffee because he thought it was "dangerous" or in some vague way harmful for one with heart trouble.

DR. BRADY

Then, too, it does my heart good to hear from a reader that he or she is enjoying life now that he no longer "walks on eggs."

In the C V D booklet, I recommend the free use of nitroglycerin tablets by persons subject to anginal distress and to persons who are kept awake at night by restless legs.

Now there is in effect a legal prohibition against the sale of nitroglycerin tablets without a prescription.

A reasonable degree of legal restriction upon the sale of drugs to the public is necessary, but when any one can buy a headache, neuralgia, rheumatism, neuritis, sinusitis, upset stomach, nervous fatigue remedy containing acetanilide — which has killed a good many credulous customers — it seems contrived, don't you think?

An authoritative work on therapeutics (the part of medical science that treats of the application of remedies for diseases) says:

"There are on record a large number of fatalities from acetanilide in proprietary headache or antineuralgic remedies."

The same authority says:

"It is a common thing for therapeutic doses of nitroglycerin" (that is, 1/100th grain in tablet) "to be followed immediately" (a minute or two after the tablet is dissolved in the mouth) "by pounding of the heart, flushing of the face and neck, throbbing and fullness in the head, and a feeling 'as if the top of the head were coming off'.

"In addition, there may be confusion of ideas, blurring of the sight, dizziness and a feeling of faintness. Such effects are distressing to the patient but quickly recovered from. Except for flushing of the face they are not nearly so striking if the patient is lying down. Very large doses have been given without causing death. There are one or two reported cases of death in man."

We must take the author's unsupported word for this — indeed, I suspect he was dealing in unverified rumors. Anyway I have never encountered fatal nitroglycerin poisoning in practice or in classical or current medical literature.

'Even Churches Relegate Bible to Background Use'

According to present day treatment of it and attitude toward it, the Bible is an old worn-out fossil. Many times it's but an heirloom, handed down by past generations.

★ ★ ★

We use it in some circles to play games with, to swear on, to register vital statistics such as births, deaths, marriages, and to promote quizzes and reading contests. Quarterlies with disconnected Scripture excerpts have been substituted for it in Sunday school. Music and singing have well nigh smothered its reading in our public religious services. The minister uses it in the pulpit for texts to preach from.

★ ★ ★

We do urge people to read the Bible, but the church sets such a lamentable example in the proper and emphatic use of it that few people read it regularly and systematically. And so much Bible reading by individuals is done hastily, sketchily and superficially.

★ ★ ★

Our morals are lax, our spirituality shallow, our personal and social relationships strained. The church conforms to the world and the world flatters the church. Fundamental doctrines are ignored, religious principles and convictions have become flabby. Prophetic teaching is practically silenced and human philosophies and traditions have displaced Divine Revelation in many instances. This is because the Bible with its message has been relegated to the background.

In order to have a spiritual revival, the imperative need is a re-Bible. I'm glad there are some shining exceptions to the above general state of things regarding use of the Bible.

Experts See Inflation as Form of Hysteria

WASHINGTON (AP) — Some of President Eisenhower's most influential economic advisors regard current inflation fears as a form of mass hysteria. They contend the fears will vanish for lack of actual support.

One top policymaker said today the weight of economic evidence indicates there simply will be no significant inflation through much, if not all, of 1959. He said this gives the government time to mount an attack on longer-range inflationary pressures.

Top treasury officials generally share this view. The fact is worth noting because Secretary Anderson and his aides boosted their standing as economic oracles by insisting the recession could be cured without the tax cuts many persons urged last spring.

The no-inflation-now camp also is convinced there is a good chance of success in the long term battle against erosion of the dollar. They base this on a belief that the federal budget will be brought into balance and that industry wage boosts can be kept in line with gains in worker output.

Inflation fears have been reflected most sharply in the stock market. Investors and speculators have bid up stock prices to record levels, while shunning bonds which would lose value in an inflation spiral.

Officials who subscribe to the no-inflation view believe inflation worries have been blown up beyond reason, particularly on Wall Street.

"The American people are extremely volatile and quick to go to extremes," one of them commented. "This inflation scare is a sort of mass hysteria—a national psychosis."

He said such talk inevitably will subside if—as he believes—no inflation develops. He likened the situation to sharp swings of public opinion on such topics as the Russian Sputniks and the recession.

Here are the reasons given by those who see no prospect of major inflation in the near future:

Recovery from the recession has been solid and, with the exception of the auto industry, broadly based. There's no sign of a runaway boom in which too much money chases too few goods—the classic cause of inflation.

★ ★ ★

Industry can expand production considerably without taxing plant capacity and putting pressure on prices from that direction. Also, there still is a sizable national labor surplus which will tend to lessen pressure on wages.

Output per man, or productivity, is increasing dramatically. This means industry can afford to grant wage boosts without hiking prices to pay for them.

Productivity is up because businesses learned how to operate more efficiently during the recession. Also, with some plants idle, businessmen are concentrating production in their most modern and efficient plants.

It's still a buyer's market. Companies will be reluctant to scare away customers by increasing prices.

The no-inflation group looks for an over-all stability in consumer prices for at least six months to a year. They say food prices will decline and tags on manufactured goods will hold fairly steady.

The only significant increase they foresee is in the cost of services—charges by barbers, repair men, doctors and the like. They say incomes in this sector are still catching up with wage boosts won earlier by industrial workers.

If time proves this to be a realistic appraisal, what of the longer range future? How about the national debt of 280 billion dollars—a near record—and the prospective record peacetime budget deficit of 12 billions?

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Teens, Take Test Before Griping

Norman feels abused and criticizes his dad. Actually, the shoe is on the other foot. And if you teenagers wish to rate yourselves on the test for maturity, just send for the Rating Scale below. It will be fun for your parents, who have been criticized unduly in America. It's time you kids realized that parent-child relations are a two-way street!

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE Z-349: Norman Q., aged 16, is grumbling against his dad.

★ ★ ★

DR. CRANE

"He doesn't let me use the car enough," Norman griped.

"Dr. Crane, don't you think I am old enough to have a car of my own? All the kids drive to school in cars nowadays.

"Dad only lets me have our car for special occasions, like a date or the Prom."

KIDS, GET HEP

It costs about $100 just for insurance nowadays for a car, not to mention license plates, gas, oil and depreciation.

★ ★ ★

If you kids want to get a job carrying a newspaper and thus earn enough to have a car, maybe your dad will O.K. the deal.

But don't try to sponge on your relatives unduly! And if your dad lets you have the car for dates and other special events, be grateful.

What are you doing to offer equal favors for your dad? This matter of parent-child relations is a two-way street!

★ ★ ★

In the old days fathers apprenticed their sons by the age of 12 to 14 and even sold their daughters into bondage, as is still true in China.

So you kids in America whose parents give you a warm home and clothes, plus free food and a chance to sit before TV every night, are lucky.

If you want the freedom of an adult, then earn your right to adult privileges.

TEST FOR TEENAGERS

Do you let your dad do part of your courting for you by using not only his car, but his gasoline?

★ ★ ★

If he generously furnishes the car, you should certainly buy the gas or wash the car and polish it to give him an equivalent pay-off.

Do you girls wash the dishes for Mother? And make your own beds?

When you brush your teeth, do you leave flecks all over the mirror? And do you clean the wash basin after using it?

On Pullman trains everybody is supposed to clean the wash basin. That's a mark of adulthood. Do you teenagers do so at home?

★ ★ ★

How do you leave the tub? After a bath, you should at least use your foot to help rinse the ring off the tub, even though you don't scrub it with cleansing powder.

And where do you leave your towels? Slopped over the side of the wash basin or tub?

If you fellows are old enough to shave, do you leave used razor blades lying on the wash basin to endanger younger children?

★ ★ ★

Do you clean your razor and put it away?

And how many of you are guilty of the childish habit of forgetting to flush the toilet?

Parents, urge your kids to order the tests below so they can rate themselves and see how mature they really are. It will be fun for you dads and mothers.

Do you kids neatly hang up your clothes at night? Or toss them on the floor or over a chair?

Do you depend on Mamma to waken you in the morning, though you have an alarm clock of your own?

★ ★ ★

Do you put off studying till the last night before exams or do you distribute it evenly as you are supposed to do?

How often do you kids compliment your parents and your brothers or sisters?

Are you a buck-passer who tries to blame everybody else for your own faults?

★ ★ ★

For further test items, send for my "Behavior Test for Teenagers" enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus 20 cents (non-profit).

Use it for Hi-Y, Scout and High School discussions, too, if you have the nerve!

★ ★ ★

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 4c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Floods in Texas Claim 1st Life

12,000 Homeless on Both Sides of Slowly Falling Rio Grande

BROWNSVILLE, Tex. (AP) — The lower Rio Grande flood, falling at the upper end and rising at the lower, claimed its first victim Sunday.

Rene Ramirez, 35, drowned beside a flooded highway between Panitas and Lajoya, Tex., while trying to tie down butane gas tanks.

★ ★ ★

Estimates put the homeless on both sides of the river at about 12,000. Agriculture officials said the loss to crops and property would run into the millions.

The Weather Bureau said the river would continue a very slow fall in the upper reaches but slow rises were expected on the lower end. The flood extends from this area, almost on the Gulf, upstream about 150 miles to Falcon Dam.

★ ★ ★

An estimated 8,000 persons have been evacuated from Camargo, Mexico. The Rio San Juan, which flows into the Rio Grande, backed up into the town. Another estimated 1,000 were left homeless in Reynosa, Mexico, and the Reynosa Chamber of Commerce said about 2,000 more persons from small Mexican villages along the river are being housed and fed in Reynosa.

★ ★ ★

An undetermined number of families was evacuated to higher ground in parts of Matamoros, Mexico.

About 400 persons left their homes in small Texas towns along the river. Many were housed in a Red Cross center set up at Lajoya.

Pinch Hitting for Boyle Is Agonizing Task

(Note — Pinch hitters for Hal Boyle during his vacation in the past weeks included AP Newsfeatures Writer Hugh Mulligan, who found the experience both bracing and disconcerting. Following is his report on his sojourn in Boyle country.)

By HUGH MULLIGAN

Things a substitute columnist might never know if he didn't have to open Hal Boyle's mail and turn out his column once a day:

★ ★ ★

That on an average day Hal Boyle receives 327 letters, 48 postcards, three telegrams commending the beauty of unknown movie stars, no proposals of marriage and a deluge of hints on how to grow hair, lose weight, save the California redwoods and cook chicken tetrazzini over an open fire.

★ ★ ★

That on an average day, Hal Boyle gets 72 phone calls, all put through by some modern miracle of electronics right on column deadline.

That the average day has 24 hours, except on Boyle's desk when the 9 a.m. starting time is immediately followed by the 5 p.m. deadline.

★ ★ ★

That airlines, stripteasers and night-club comedians send out more publicity handouts than monasteries, brain surgeons and official state executioners.

That a certain Sixth Ave. salvage mission named Moriarty's sends out its bills once a month.

★ ★ ★

That for a typewriter tyro, accustomed to turning out 1,500-word features (edited to 850 by a heartless desk), the 500-word Boyle length seems an impossible squeeze, like trying to fit into your old Army uniform after 15 years of epicurean, exercise-free living.

That even-tempered reporters, admired by one and all for their sunny dispositions, turn morose, vicious, and sadistic when called on to write a humor piece.

That AP fringe benefits do not include psychiatric care for reporters who nurse a death wish while trying to push the chuckle button.

★ ★ ★

That New York City has a population of 8 million people, of which more than 6 million are press agents. Of these, nearly 5½ million regard Hal Boyle as the most elusive man since Judge Crater; the rest deem him a myth. One press agent lists his hobbies in "Who's Who in Public Relations" as "trying to get Hal Boyle on the phone."

★ ★ ★

That Hal Boyle manages to remain youthful, cheerful, cherubic, friendly, clean shaven, well rested, ulcer-free and kind to copy boys while turning out 245 columns a year.

★ ★ ★

That the average Boyle substitute, called on for a week of columns, becomes snarling, antagonistic, dyspeptic, insomnious, old before his time, dangerous in the presence of copy boys and devoid of family, friends, ideas and the will to live by the end of the second day.

★ ★ ★

That a Boyle pinch hitter can always tell his close friends by the alacrity with which they head for the wash room when he lifts his head out of the valley of despair and begs for ideas. That their desire not to see him suffer is tremendously touching.

★ ★ ★

That Saul Pett can turn out his first Boyle substitution in 20 minutes, his second in nine hours, his third in two days, his fourth while locked overnight in the AP conference room, his fifth from the oxygen tent at St. Clare's Hospital.

That Boyle's vacation, like the income tax deadline, comes once a year and some kind of a law ought to be passed against both of them.

If He Were to Vote Republican, of Course

Reuther Favors Warren for President

CHICAGO (AP) — Chief Justice Earl Warren would receive serious consideration from American labor if he became a candidate for president, says Walter Reuther.

Reuther, head of the United Auto Workers, said in a television interview Sunday the Democrats have a dozen excellent potential candidates for president.

★ ★ ★

Among them, he said, are Gov. G. Mennen Williams of Michigan, Sen. Stuart Symington of Missouri, Sen. John Kennedy of Massachusetts, Gov. Robert Meyner of New Jersey and Gov. Averell Harriman of New York.

Reuther termed Vice President Nixon an extremely competent technician and politician but said he has "a streak of opportunism that bothers me as an individual.

The UAW president said there are several Republicans on whom labor might look kindly. When presesd to name them, he kindly. When pressed to name them, he serious consideratoin by the American labor movement and would get it."

★ ★ ★

Labor does not favor either political party, Reuther said, but considers each individual candidate on his record.

But, he said, "it gets more difficult to find a Republican candidate worthy of our support."

Top Candidates Head Outstate

Michigan Campaign Hot as Windup Draws Near

By ROGER LANE

DETROIT (AP) — Michigan's political campaign headed into the semiwindup week today with rising temperature and the outcome Nov. 4 hinged to the Williams-Bagwell duel for governor.

The top four candidates fanned into outstate for the last time before the traditional plunge into vote-rich Detroit and Wayne County for hectic 11th hour efforts to stir an outpouring of ballot strength.

★ ★ ★

In their bid to re-elect Gov. Williams for an unprecedented sixth term, Democrats had three U.S. senators from other states booked in for four engagements.

Republicans plotting his defeat by Paul D. Bagwell were holding off their heavy artillery until the final week. Vice President Nixon was due in Flint Oct. 27 for a $100-a-plate dinner designed to raise $300,000.

Re-election of U.S. Sen. Charles E. Potter, Cheboygan Republican, was believed to pivot on the result of the Williams-Bagwell race. Potter is being challenged by Democratic Lt. Gov. Philip A. Hart.

★ ★ ★

To this point, it is widely acknowledged Bagwell has given the Republican Party its most vigorous campaign for the No. 1 state office in a decade.

"But the "old prof" has been handicapped severely by lack of funds, particularly for extensive television, radio and newspaper advertising appeals, and a GOP organization weakened by successive defeats.

Bagwell was stumping in Grand Rapids and Kent County.

★ ★ ★

Williams, as in previous elections, pointed for a heavy turnout in the Wayne County Democratic stronghold. He, too, increasingly has pulled out all the vote-getting stops that in prior years made him Michigan's all-time champ.

With his eye on the White House in 1960, Williams' goal is not only to win but to win big—by upwards of 250,000 or 300,000 votes.

Both camps are concerned about relative indifference of voters in the off-year election.

Camp Oakland Facilities Used by Many During '58

As Camp Oakland opens its winter season, records show an increase of nearly 3,000 in persons using camp facilities in 1958.

With expanded facilities, the camp area was used by several more groups this year. In past years the main activities were centered around summer camp and the swimming program.

Among additional organizations using the camp in 1958 were the Boy Scouts Clinton Valley Council and the Lapeer State Home and Training School.

The camping area was made available to local scouts for a week in June, before summer camp opened, and for the Council-wide Round-Up Camp-O-Ree Sept. 26-28.

The scouts set up their camp and provided their own facilities and food while using the camp area as a site.

More than 1,100 scouts camped there over the weekend.

★ ★ ★

The outing of the Lapeer State Home and Training School group of disabled and mentally retarded patients was co-sponsored by the Lapeer Parents Assn., Inc.

Three groups, one in June and two in September, spent a week each at the camp. Complete facilities were provided by the camp, with the school providing food and staff supervision.

Camp Oakland handled an estimated 6,000 persons this year through the admittance of groups in the spring and early fall.

During the same length of time in 1957 an estimated 3,000 to 4,000 persons used the camping area.

Angry Residents Peril Convicts

Invade Prison Camp With Shotguns After Knifing of Woman

McALESTER, Okla. (AP)—The weekend knifing of a 22-year-old woman has stirred strong feelings in the Weathers community south of here against prison work gangs.

A detachment of prison workers was returned to the state penitentiary here early Sunday after the convict camp at Boling Hollow was invaded by almost a score of area residents armed with shotguns.

★ ★ ★

The irate residents demanded that the camp be evacuated, and Asst. Warden Clint Gladden ordered the move.

Touching off the incident was an attack on Mrs. Artiss Clunn, mother of three children.

Mrs. Clunn was struck over the head, knifed and robbed at a store in the Weathers community Saturday afternoon.

Two prison trusties working on the Boling Hollow project were jailed at McAlester in connection with the attack.

★ ★ ★

They were identified as Sammy Crawford, 38, and Illendus Parks, 28, both of Oklahoma City. Crawford is serving a life sentence for burglary, second offense, while Parks is serving a four-year term for grand larceny. Both are Negroes.

Idle Hotel Workers Near Contract Vote

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Some 2,300 striking employes of five Pittsburgh hotels will vote soon on whether to accept a new contract proposal.

A 35-member negotiating committee of Local 237, Hotel and Restaurant Workers, agreed Sunday to place the new proposal before the membership but did not immediately announce when the vote will be taken.

★ ★ ★

Attending the Local 237 meeting were officers of striking Local 188 of the Bartenders Union.

The 20-day strike affects the Penn-Sheraton, Pittsburgh, Roosevelt, Sherwyn and Webster Hall hotels.

★ ★ ★

The offer reportedly gives non-tip employes wage hikes of 5 cents an hour this year, 4½ cents next year and 4 cents more in 1960. Tip employes, now working 48 to 44 hours a week, would work only 40 hours a week without loss in pay. The proposed pact also reportedly includes a pension offer.

Convict 2 Americans of Tokyo Smuggling

TOKYO (AP) — The Tokyo District Court today convicted two Americans of violating Japanese customs laws. They drew a suspended three-month jail sentence and fines of 50,000 yen ($138.89).

★ ★ ★

The defendants were Donald Green, 23, Baltimore, Md., and Stanley F. Hanlon, 21, Middle Island, N.Y.

They were charged with illegally shipping $6,460 worth of Japanese textiles to Korea through the tax-free U.S. Army post office last April and May.

★ ★ ★

The prosecution demanded six-month imprisonment and a 50,000-yen fine for Green and four-month imprisonment and 30,000 yen ($83.33) for Hanlon. Their Japanese lawyer said the pair had not yet decided whether to appeal. They have two weeks to decide.

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

New York, N. Y. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain — without surgery.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by doctors' observations.

Pain was relieved promptly. And, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.

And most amazing of all — this improvement was maintained in cases where doctors' observations were continued over a period of many months!

In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' standing.

All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne*) — the discovery of a world-famous research institution. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.

This new healing substance is offered in suppository or ointment form called *Preparation H. Ask for individually sealed convenient Preparation H suppositories or Preparation H ointment with special applicator. Preparation H is sold at all drug counters. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded.

Stops Constipation Due to "Aging Colon"

New laxative discovery re-creates 3 essentials for normal regularity.

As you grow older, the internal muscles of your colon wall also age, lose the strength that propels waste from the body. Stagnant bowel contents become so dry and shrunken that they fail to stimulate the urge to purge.

Relief, doctors say, lies in a new laxative principle. Old-style bulks and moisteners may create gas, take 3 or 4 days for relief. Old-style salts and drugs cramp and gripe the entire system. Of all laxatives, only new COLONAID gives you its special 3-way relief that works only on the lower colon (area of constipation).

(1) COLONAID moisturizes dry, hardened waste for easy passage without pain or strain. (2) COLONAID'S unequalled rebulking action helps retone flabby colon muscles. (3) And COLONAID acts gently, on the nerve reflexes that stimulate the vital "mass movement" of your lower colon.

COLONAID relieves even chronic constipation overnight; is so gentle it was hospital proved safe even for expectant mothers. And COLONAID won't interfere with absorption of vitamins or other food nutrients. Get COLONAID today! Introductory size 43¢.

Should We Rewrite Michigan Constitution?

Vote Nov. 4 Will Influence State's Future

(First of a series of 10 articles on constitutional conventions.)
By ARTHUR W. BROMAGE
Professor of Political Science, University of Michigan

Michigan's future will be influenced by the voters' decision in November on whether to call a convention to revise the state's constitution. This question is so vital that the voters are assured in the present constitution of an opportunity to pass on it every 16 years.

★ ★ ★

The last time the question came up under the mandatory rule was in 1942 when the country was at war. Constitutional alterations did not seem urgent and the decision was no. Although the legislators put the question on the ballot voluntarily in 1948, the outcome was the same. What will happen this year?

A convention, once the voters summon it, reports to them—not to the governor, not to the legislature. It has to be responsible to the people, as the people have to be responsible for calling it.

The present Michigan constitution requires that, to summon the convention, there must be a majority of all votes cast in the election.

More people are apt to vote for governor, for instance, than on the convention question. This means that to be called the convention must receive a majority of the votes cast for governor, rather than a mere majority of those who check the specific proposition.

★ ★ ★

The fact that it is the people themselves and not the delegates who have the final say on the proposed revisions is not the only check on a convention. Another is the Constitution of the United States, which sets limits upon what the states may do. Such limits are binding upon the delegates.

Not all of a constitutional convention's work centers around changes. A convention has to decide what provisions need bringing up to date and what provisions need to be kept unchanged.

Forecasting the changes means finding the most pressing constitutional problems.

★ ★ ★

The process of revision is sure to take into consideration: Strengthening the office of governor; reapportioning the legislature; revising the article on the state courts; adjusting the system regarding local government; coping with taxation and finance difficulties.

Calls Bagwell 'Liar' at Union Appearance

By The Associated Press

A charge of "liar," hurled by a Detroit unionist at Republican Paul D. Bagwell, helped spice an active weekend in the Michigan political campaign.

Paul Silver, veteran United Auto Workers leader and treasurer of the Wayne County Democratic Committee, threw the "liar" charge at Bagwell at a Sunday union meeting at which both Bagwell and Potter appeared.

A discussion of the $11,000 campaign fund contribution of the Teamsters Union to Democratic Prosecutor Samuel H. Olsen set off the fireworks.

Bagwell said Silver knew of the contribution prior to the August primary election.

★ ★ ★

Shouting his words, Silver interrupted to say "He is a despicable liar when he makes that statement. He knows it's a lie."

Bagwell insisted he spoke correctly from information given him. Silver threatened to bring suit.

The earth, which is part of the Milky Way and is located near its outer edge, is about 50,000 light years away from the center of the galaxy.

Atlanta Police Push Probe on Bombing

ATLANTA (AP)—Increased police activity was expected today in the continuing probe into the week-old bombing of the Jewish temple in Atlanta.

Police checked on several threatening telephone calls, including one to the Atlanta bureau of The Associated Press and another to a north Atlanta film company that processed television films showing blast damage.

The call to The AP warned that future attacks would be made on Jewish homes and clubs and on those Jew-loving newspapers too."

Hollywood Headlines

Red Nichols Lives Story of Life Many Times

By BOB THOMAS
AP Motion Picture Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Most people live their lives only once. With Red Nichols it's different.

First, he lived it. Then he retold it to Paramount Studios, which bought the film rights to his biography. Then he watched his story reviewed on Ralph Edward's "This Is Your Life." And now he's on the set while Danny Kaye plays Red Nichols in the new film, "The Five Pennies."

But then, a story like Red's is worth re-telling. One of the truly great horn players, his career has led him to the top and also to the bottom of the music world.

★ ★ ★

He first found fame with his Five Pennies, one of the great Dixieland combos. Then he moved into New York with a bigger band that became a legend. Among his sidemen: Benny Goodman, Glenn Miller, Gene Krupa, Jack and Charlie Teagarden, Jimmy Dorsey.

The band was playing in the pit for the Broadway smash, "Girl Crazy," when Red was stricken with appendicitis. When he got out of the hospital, he discovered that his ace players had been pirated away from him.

"That was the start of my problems," he reflected. "I was disillusioned and discouraged. I tried to make a go of it with the big band, but I went on tour and I got clobbered."

He admitted that his ill luck prompted him to hit the bottle, "though I was never an alcoholic." After his daughter was stricken with polio, his despair was so great that he decided to give up the music business. For five years he didn't touch his horn.

He lived in San Leandro, Calif., and worked in a war plant. Then, largely at the urging of his daughter, he returned to the jazz he knew so well.

★ ★ ★

He is now in his mid-50s, and the red in his hair has long since turned to silver. But he still plays a great horn, as listeners to his film recordings can attest.

Suspect Reds of Kidnaping

British Report Soldier Who Fled Soviet Army Missing From London

LONDON (AP) — A young Red army tank driver who fled to the West is believed to have been secretly flown back to the Soviet Union from Britain.

The Soviet Embassy here assured the Foreign Office 22-year-old Sgt. Anatoli Ponomarenko went back voluntarily.

But Russian emigre sources are convinced he was kidnaped by Red agents under the noses of Scotland Yard men detailed to guard him. They believe he now has been executed.

Ponomarenko had 70 days of freedom in Britain after quitting his unit in East Germany and escaping to West Berlin last Dec. 31. After his escape, his commanding officer accused him of murdering a comrade and demanded his return.

British authorities replied that the soldier's pistol had not been fired since it was made. He was granted political asylum.

★ ★ ★

Shortly after coming to London, he helped write a pamphlet calling on other Soviet soldiers to desert. He spoke out on television and addressed an anti-Communist meeting in London.

Early in March he disappeared from his hideout in northwest London, leaving behind all his personal belongings, books, papers and spare clothes.

★ ★ ★

Officials of the National Alliance of Russian Solidarists, an emigre movement dedicated to overthrowing Russia's Communist regime, told Scotland Yard that just before Ponomarenko vanished, he became friendly with a middle-aged Russian woman.

He put through frantic telephone calls to two emigre friends March 12. But both men had gone away and he refused to speak to their wives.

The sergeant never was seen again. The Soviet Embassy told the British Foreign Office he visited the embassy and asked to return to the Soviet Union. Friends in the emigre organization said the idea is preposterous, that he "was clearly dedicated to our mission."

Doctor, 5 Nurses Injured in Mishap Near Flint

FLINT (AP) — A doctor and five nurses from two foreign countries were injured yesterday when their car went out of control, rolled over and tumbled across the center ditch of an expressway a mile south of here.

State Police said the accelerator of the car stuck and when the driver, Dr. Raymundo R. Corpuz, 33, tried to stop it by pulling the emergency brake, the vehicle jerked sideways and rolled over.

Corpuz was reported in critical condition at McLaren Hospital here with head injuries. Angela Zarazoza, 35, a nurse, was hospitalized with spinal injuries.

Maria Sandobal, 24; Lillia Orlina, 25; Orfelina Aquina, 25, and Esther Servidad, 26, suffered minor injuries.

★ ★ ★

Misses Zarazoza and Sandobal are from Chile. The others are from the Philippine Islands. The group is studying at Detroit area hospitals.

Bride-to-Be Only Eleven

Law Prevents Marriage

ATLANTA (AP) — Happy Hollow will never seem the same to the 11-year-old Tennessee mountain girl and the 33-year-old man she fell in love with there.

Authorities in two states broke up their plans to get married Sunday.

★ ★ ★

The girl, still wearing the blue satin gown and the high-heeled shoes she bought for the wedding, was placed in a juvenile detention home in Atlanta pending arrival of her father from Happy Hollow, Tenn.

Police at Seiverville, Tenn., said they were holding the Rev. G. W. Rollins on a kidnap charge. Officers identified him as a Baptist.

★ ★ ★

Detective W. K. Perry said the pastor and his intended bride arrived in Atlanta Friday and planned to get married right away. When they found there was a three-day waiting period the girl stayed in Atlanta and the pastor went back to Tennessee to pack the rest of his clothing.

Rollins was arrested early Sunday and the girl was picked up after a phone call from Sheriff O. C. Drinnen at Maryville, Tenn. The girl's name was withheld under Georgia juvenile law.

★ ★ ★

Officers said the girl told them she first met the pastor while he was preaching in Happy Hollow.

"We'd been planning this a long time," she said. "I love him and I intend to marry him."

'Phony People' Await Girls in New York

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK—The latest, admittedly unofficial, figures show that this year there were more naive, restless and unarmored young girls drifting wide-eyed into New York than ever before.

They left the white organdie curtains and the protesting parents and the big-eared boyfriend who wasn't quite good enough.

★ ★ ★

And for what?

"For a lot of sort of aimless living—aimless living that's mistaken for glamor," said Rona Jaffe, an expert on such matters.

"They left home for a loneliness. For a place in which people are in too much of a hurry to live. For a rat race. For . . ." and Miss Jaffe leered prettily — "the opportunity to know a lot of phony people and think it's a big deal."

'SHOULDN'T COME'

Miss Jaffe, having just purged herself of a few Puritanical words of advice, settled back to a sigh.

"The little girls, the unsophisticated ones, shouldn't come to New York. They will go through horrors. They will learn that life is not simple, and that it is not the good girls who necessarily get the rewards. . .

"But, oh, they'll have such a lovely time suffering!"

★ ★ ★

Rona, a native New Yorker, is considered an authority on the FATE OF SMALL TOWN GIRLS IN GOTHAM by virtue of the fact that, at the age of 26, she has written a best-seller about same.

It is called "The Best of Everything," and besides royalties of 67½ cents per book ($1,000) is the current printing), she gets $100,000 for movie rights.

The book is making her wealthy for two simple reasons. Puritan people outside New York consider it sexy and shocking; and experienced people inside New York consider it honest and true.

MAY SAVE HEARTACHES

"I hope it doesn't discourage the genuinely smart and talented girls from coming here," says Rona. "But it may save heartaches for the angels who shouldn't dare to tread."

In her novel, "which actually is almost fact," there are five young women who cope with the problems of life in the big-time. The chief stumbling block, for the naive ones, is overcoming—with a clear conscience—the advances of older men endowed with a yen for fresh young faces.

"Her boss isn't really the problem for the new girl in New York," says Rona. "A boss looks upon his own employe—a secretary, anyway—as part of the office furniture.

★ ★ ★

"It's somebody else's boss a girl has to look out for; somebody else's boss in the same company or office. She is young and eligible and he, of course, is entranced with her youth and eligibility. So they start meeting for drinks after work.

"They have something in common. She thinks it's their work. He thinks what they have in common is the fact that he's a man and she's a woman. Then there's trouble."

If small-town girls were only smart enough to realize that this sort of "glamor trap" has snared the Mary Lou's of the land since the Great White Way was a dull spark, they would skim through life hereabouts and realize that New York's a wonderful place to live, if confusing to visit.

THEY'LL COME BACK

But, even if they read the intimate disillusionments of Miss Jaffe's "The Best of Everything," they will say to themselves:

"Isn't that awful? But of course it couldn't happen to me."

And the big-eared boyfriends will continue to get them back—wiser, but cynical.

A Friend Can Ask for You

By EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post: A friend of mine is to be married in three weeks and I understand the invitations have been sent out, but I did not receive one. I can't understand it as she has spoken to me often of her forthcoming marriage and from what she said, I took it for granted that I was to be among the invited guests.

"Will you please tell me if there is anything I can do about this? I would not dream of going to the wedding without an invitation, and yet, on the other hand, if an invitation was sent, and lost, she might think it strange that I did not go to her wedding, or acknowledge the invitation."

Answer: The best thing for you to do is to have some mutual friend ask if an invitation was sent to you.

"Dear Mrs. Post: My doctor's daughter is going to be married soon. Not knowing the family socially, I will not be invited to the wedding. However, he has been so kind to me on so many occasions, that I would like reciprocate by sending his daughter a wedding present. Would it be proper to send her a gift under these circumstances, and if so would a check be proper as I have no way of knowing what she has or what her tastes are?"

Answer: It will be quite proper to send her anything you think is attractive and that she may be able to use in her house such as a tray, a cigarette box or a clock. A check, however, would be improper.

"Dear Mrs. Post: Will you please tell me if it would be correct for a man guest to wear a sport jacket and slacks to a morning wedding? Also, would this type of dress be permissible for a dinner in a hotel to mark a class reunion?"

Answer: At a wedding and also for a reunion dinner in the real country, a sport jacket and slacks would be permissible, but not if either the wedding or the dinner is in town.

In New York for the opening were Mr. and Mrs. Robert M. Critchfield of North Lake Angelus road. Mr. Critchfield is a vice president in charge of Process Development Staff at the GM Technical Center.

Stoles Are Influenced by French

Stoles speak with a French accent this season. Heavily fringed in the newest Paris manner are bubbly mohair stoles to wrap high for today's important top bulk.

Almost as voluminous as a mantle, these richly colored "extras" can turn any simple dress or suit into an elegant theatre costume.

Lace stoles, delicate as a wisp of veiling, achieve the latest look of Paris when draped over the head and topped by a full-blown rose.

Lustrous satin stoles, deeply bordered in silken fringe, bring jewel-toned drama to the "little black dress" that is making its fashion comeback.

And With Good Reason — Abby

Teenager Meets Friends Outside

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

ABBY

"DEAR ABBY: You are always telling teenagers to bring their friends home. Well, that might be okay for some kids, but not me. I don't care to bring my friends home because my mother is so fat and sloppy I am ashamed of her. When I come home from school she still has her nightgown on or else she's wearing a dirty wrinkled dress.

"Ask other teenagers to write in, Abby, and tell you why they don't bring their friends home. You might get some real good answers and maybe some parents would get some good hints."

A TEENAGER

DEAR TEENAGER: Your reason for not bringing your friends home is legitimate and I don't blame you. Most adults are quick to blame teenagers for situations that have resulted from their OWN delinquency. If other teenagers feel they have good reasons for not bringing their friends home, I'd like to hear from them. No names or initials will be used.

"DEAR ABBY: While on vacation, I met a local game warden quite by accident. He gave me a citation for fishing without a license when I really wasn't fishing. A few days later he came into my place of business and asked me for a date. I refused at first, but he kept after me until I accepted.

"He told me he was getting a divorce, and not living with his wife. Others have told me he is living with his wife, but steps out on her. Should I investigate these stories, or take him at his word? After all, he IS working for the government." PUZZLED

DEAR PUZZLED: It doesn't matter for whom a man is working . . . investigate him thoroughly if there is any question about his character. This game warden is playing games for which he has no license.

"DEAR ABBY: What do you think of three children who ran up a dentist bill of $210 for fillings and they are all under 12 years of age? They had their teeth fixed for school and the dentist told them not to chew tough bubble gum but they went ahead and chewed it anyway and pulled their fillings out. Their mother didn't say one word to them. She sent them back to the dentist and told him his work was no good. Don't you think their mother should give them a good lecture?" LIVE-IN GRANDMA

DEAR GRANDMA: I think the children are like any other normal children. They will do as they please as long as they can get away with it. It's their MOTHER who needs the lecture.

My mother says he would probably sign his letters 'With love' but there may be something in the rules at West Point that doesn't allow it. Can you tell me if this is true."

n Methodist 'Harvest Banquet'

Gold Rush Days Return

With the theme "Pioneers of 849," more than 500 members nd friends gathered in Fellowship Hall of First Methodist Church, Friday night, for the 68th annual Harvest Home Banquet.

"One of the most important hings to the early settlers as they rossed plains in covered wagons n the California goldrush was the hurch," said the Rev. Ellis A. Hart of Romeo, toastmaster of he evening.

Introduced by Mrs. Earby Austin, general chairman, the Rev. Mr. Hart, dressed as a pioneer, presided from the porch of "The General Store" with its cracker barrel and hitching rail.

Maize and red Indian corn hung on the walls and circuit rider saddles straddling the rail added to the atmosphere.

One highlight of the affair which brought a storm of applause was the appearance of Al Jackson, Lester Mehlberg and Merton Brummitt as "The McGraw Sisters."

Dr. Frederick C. Vosburg, minister of Court Street Methodist Church, Flint, addressed the group in "Forward From Here."

FRONTIER OF HEART

"Going forward is a problem of the heart," stated the Flint pastor. "It is not important to be in an important place. What we need is a purpose for what we are doing." The frontier is always available. We need the spirit of the pioneer."

Dr. Vosburg went on to say "Don't look back. The past is past. Go forward. Hope is greater than history."

Group singing was led by Merlin Asplin, with LaVerne Cox as piano accompanist.

For more than 30 years, proceeds of this annual banquet (first known as College Day Banquet) were given to Albion College. As the college became self-supporting, the name was changed to Harvest Home Banquet, with profits used for improvements on the local church.

Throughout the year, Sunday School classes, youth groups and church organizations work to present an offering to this annual affair.

Assisting Mrs. Austin as committee chairmen were Howard Crawford, tickets; Mrs. Lewis Butler, publicity; Mrs. Chester Caughell, programs; and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Stewart, gifts.

Other chairmen include Mrs. Norman Legge and Merton Brummitt, musical selections; Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Dunstan, program setting; Clarence Hamel, table arrangements; and Wesleyan Class, decorations.

The Rev. Harry Lord, associate pastor, gave the benediction.

Mrs. George Hamilton of Judson street arrived at the Harvest Home Banquet wearing her mother's black bonnet, a creation of 1875, and a paisley shawl. The lace on her white apron was made by her great-grandmother in the early 1800s. Mrs. Hamilton, 86, said she "rigged up" the outfit just for fun.

Marilyn Davidson Weds Roger Lee Frentheway

Vases of fall flowers banked the altar of Marimont Baptist Church for the Saturday evening wedding of Marilyn Mae Davidson and Roger Lee Frentheway. The Rev. Philip Samers officiated at the candlelight ceremony before 200 guests.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Douglas H. Davidson of West Beverly street and Mr. and Mrs. Abe Frentheway of Oxford.

The bride wore a white floor-length gown with a fitted bodice, Queene Anne collar and long tapered sleeves. Her veil of silk illusion, fell from a crown of pearls and rhinestones, and she carried a bouquet of stephanotis centered by a white orchid.

Barbara Ann Davidson was her sister's maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Janice Gain, the bridegroom's sister-in-law, Mrs. Ardith Frentheway of Kalamazoo; Phyllis Davidson, another of the bride's sisters; and Charlotte Zubal of Rochester, the bride's cousin.

All wore ballerina-length dresses of toast chiffon over taffeta. The maid of honor carried bronze chrysanthemums, and the bridesmaids' bouquets were of yellow chrysanthemums.

Judith Ann Frentheway of Kalamazoo was flower girl.

The bridegroom's brother, Robert Maxwell Frentheway of Kalamazoo, was best man. Seating the guests were ushers Arthur Crawford, Raymond Blankenburg and Harry E. Hil Jr., all of Lake Orion, and Eugene McVay.

When the couple left for a honeymoon to Canada following a reception held in the church parlors, the new Mrs. Frentheway was wearing a beige suite with brown accessories and the orchid from her bridal bouquet.

Mirror on The Wall, Am I a Bore to All?

By RUTH MILLETT

How NOT to be a bore:

Never—unless you are trying to put a painfully shy person at ease—do more than your share of the talking. The biggest bores are almost always the biggest talkers.

If you want to discuss your aches and pains and illness, visit your doctor, not your friends. No matter how sorry your friends are that you have those aches and pains, they don't want to hear a blow-by-blow account of your suffering.

Don't have one pet topic that you always manage to steer the conversation toward. Don't you, yourself, dread being caught in a corner by a person who always talks about the same thing?

Don't expect your children to be as fascinating a topic of conversation to someone else as they are to you. And that goes for your dog, too.

Listen to your own voice, not just to your words. If your voice tends to grate, or whine or has a discouraged ring—do something about it.

Don't overwork a few platitudes or meaningless comments to sum up any statement anybody else makes. For instance, "You don't say!" is not exactly a scintillating response to the person who did say exactly what you understood him to say.

When you tell a story, don't ruin it before you start with some such comment as, "You would have had to be there to really appreciate this," or, "You'd have to know so-and-so to really get a kick out of this." If the story won't stand up just by your telling it, why bother to tell it? If you can make it interesting or entertaining, you needn't begin with an apology.

When it's your turn to listen, really listen. Don't interrupt or let your mind wander while you fix a smile on your face and nod vaguely to everything being said. To be an apreciative listener, you have to be alert.

Inch marks made on your garden trowel will help you to judge the proper planting depth for flower bulbs.

Personal Identity Is All Important

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

While visiting in Vienna, Austria, I attended the eleventh annual meeting of the World Federation for Mental Health. In listening to speakers and talking with leaders in this field I was impressed with the necessity of taking time for happiness and with the danger of losing a sense of personal identity.

In columns to come you will hear more of this theme of personal identity. It was discussed over and over again and is an important adjunct to mental and emotional well-being.

How can a person keep a sense of personal identity when he or she is harried and hurried day after day, when no time is allowed for the varying parts of life to fall into place, when we let worries cloud our lives because we never get far enough away from them to achieve an objective viewpoint or set the stage for a happier mood?

This brings to my thoughts the happy temperament of the folks who live in Vienna, to the way they love music and burst into song at the slightest opportunity. Therefore I want to tell you about a Viennese institution, The Heurige.

These happy times first started when wine growers drew off new wine and hung an evergreen branch over their door as an invitation for their friends and neighbors to come in and help them celebrate. Today they are open all year long but the informal, convivial atmosphere still remains.

The most typical ones do not serve food. You bring your own cold cuts — cheese, bread, sausage and luscious pastry. Often the whole family comes, from grandparents to grandchildren. There are no floor shows and the music is intimate and spontaneous.

How can a person keep a sense of personal identity when he or she is harried and hurried day after day.

This usually consists of four musicians — a violinist, and a flute, accordion, and zither player. They play nostalgic and familiar tunes, separately and together and often wander from table to table. It does not take long for practically all of the customers to burst into song. All Austrians know the words and sing them with great gusto and poignancy. If you are a foreigner you find yourself humming without the words.

I have heard some of the most appealing zither and violin music I have ever heard any place and I am sure that many a person has forgotten his troubles for a while and again been drawn toward happiness by the contagious friendliness of these places.

In Vienna you feel the pulse beat of life and you would have to be absolutely dead not to respond. Everyone sings together and everyone is everyone's friend. The feeling is somewhat like New Years Eve in America, except that the emphasis is more on song and less on drink, but it is the same sort of "good-will-toward-everyone" feeling.

These experiences made me think how important it is for mental health that everyone get away from problems and troubles periodically.

Tomorrow: "Viennese are Huge Eaters but Perhaps Walk It Off."

Barbara Kindy Borglin, Thomas Lee Stinson Wed

First Presbyterian Church, Birmingham, was the scene of the Saturday afternoon wedding of Barbara Kindy Borglin and Thomas Lee Stinson. Dr. W. Glen Harris officiated at the 4 o'clock ceremony.

★ ★ ★

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Borglin of Detroit and Mr. and Mrs. Lester Stinson of Birmingham.

MRS. THOMAS L. STINSON

The bride wore a waltz-length gown of white silk marquisette over taffeta, with long sleeves. Appliqued Alencon lace accented the bodice, forming a portrait neckline, and the hem of the gown. Her fingertip veil of illusion fell from a crown of seed pearls and iridescent sequins. She carried a bouquet of white camellias, stephanotis and ivy.

Mrs. Hugh Barber was her sister's matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Robert Briggs, Mrs. Charles Park III, Donna MacKenzie, Mrs. Donald Burris, and Mrs. Daniel Cornila Jr., the bridegroom's sister.

★ ★ ★

The bridesmaids were dressed in peacock blue chiffon over taffeta with matching crushed taffeta Empire waists, and were flat crowns of matching flowers. They carried nosegays of peacock and white baby chrysanthemums. The matron of honor was dressed in white.

Best man was Michael Plumstead. Ushers were the bride's brother, William Borglin; Donald DuPuis, Alan Davis, William Leckie, Bud Cummings and Daniel Cornila Jr. Thomas Howting was junior usher.

Following a reception held in the church social hall, the couple left for a northern Michigan honeymoon.

★ ★ ★

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Borglin wore a peacock peau de soie dress with matching corsage. Mrs. Stinson was dressed in a melon peau de soie gown with matching accessories. Both had white camelia corsages pinned to their purses.

Fashion Hint

Paris fashions are buttoned up with great big buttons this fall. Some are nearly two inches wide, in jet or marble or onyx.

Ferrante and Teicher Win High Praise at Waterford

By MARY LOUISE LINDQUIST

Ferrante and Teicher, duo-pianists, opened the season brilliantly for the Waterford Township Civic Music Association when they played a concert Sunday afternoon at Isaac E. Crary Junior High School. The audience was privileged to hear one of the finest two-piano teams in the country.

The two men have played together since they were six years old, and their flawless ensemble was evident in everything they played. The concert was well diversified, ranging from Bach to Broadway show tunes. The artists played with extraordinary sensitivity and technical perfection.

The concert was opened with Bach's "Sheep May Safely Graze." The soprano aria was arranged for two pianos by Mary Howe, a distinguished American composer. The men played with the simplicity that this music demands, yet the warmth of the melody was never lost.

They played Chopin's only composition for two pianos, "Rondo," with the cleanness and delicacy that Chopin demands. So perfect was their precision that the sound was that of one instrument with the tonal capabilities of two. Their shadings and dynamics were in complete agreement.

★ ★ ★

The men changed pianos each time they entered for a different group. "The Mother Goose Suite," by the French composer, Maurice Ravel, constituted the second group.

This is a series of "Five Children's Pieces" written as a piano duet for two small friends of Ravel's in Paris. Most of the movements were subdued, gentle, and all were rich with the beautiful harmonies typical of Ravel. The third movement was very fast and of oriental character.

The third group was made up of Brahms' "Variations on a Theme of Hayden," in which Brahms took Haydn's tune "Half Hymn and Half Folksong" and used it to display his technical skill and ability to improvise.

The men showed their great ability to play jazz by playing "Slaughter on Tenth Avenue" from the Broadway show, "On Your Toes."

The final section of the concert was fun for both the artists and the audience. The program stated, "A group of 'Prepared Piano' Arrangements." It was announced from the stage that another name could be "Well-Tampered Clavichord." They actually did tamper with the strings by placing different articles on and between them to give most interesting and humorous effects.

★ ★ ★

In order to show the audience that they hadn't "ruined the piano," all the strings were cleared and they played another of their own arrangements, called "American Fantasy," which was made up of variations on the theme of "When Johnny Comes Marching Home."

Own Way May Teach Valuable Lesson

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

Kate's new "best" shoes were black patent leather. What endeared them to her were their one-inch French heels and toes pointed like those of fashionable footwear in her mother's magazines.

The third Monday after getting them she wore them down to breakfast. Her mother said, "What have you got your new shoes on for? You know you can't wear them to school."

"I have to," Kate said, pouring cream on her cereal.

"No you don't," her mother countered. "When you finish breakfast, go back upstairs and put on your loafers."

Kate looked up from her cereal. "I won't. I'm going to wear them to school no matter what you say."

Her father glanced inquiringly at his wife. After a pause, she shook her head to his offer of help and said amiably, "All right, wear the shoes, Kate. But if they get scuffed, I don't want to hear about it."

At school during the noon stampede from her home room, someone stepped on Kate's left shoe. When she got home she locked herself in the bathroom where she anxiously applied Vaseline to the scratches. It didn't do much good. With a new, sad sense of responsibility toward patent leather shoes, she rewrapped them in tissue paper and put them back on her shelf next to her Sunday School hat.

There are times when it's wise to accept defiance.

When we're defied, the question to ask ourselves always is, "Will getting his own way really imperil this child — or will it teach him to make better decisions?"

There was a time, of course, when parents didn't have to bother asking themselves this question. Defied, they just thundered, "What's that you said? You do as you're told!"

In their world this kind of authority got by. But in ours it doesn't. Today's society expects the young to make the decisions that used to be made for them. We expect them to choose their own careers, pick their own marital partners, decide when and when not to become parents themselves. In today's world, it's even considered proper to allow them to choose their own religion.

★ ★ ★

So unless they are taught to exercise responsibility early in life, this Land of Liberty can become a Land of Chaos to them. All Freedom rings in for them is a lot of confusion.

Vanilla Wafer Dessert Stands Overnight

BY JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

Today's recipe, says Mrs. Tennes Windingland of Rochester, has been in her files for over 25 years; she still thinks it's a good one and uses it frequently.

Membership in the Brooklands Garden Club and an Extension group fill Mrs. Windingland's leisure hours. She does a lot of gardening, both indoors and out.

Daily contact with two beloved grandsons highlights her life. She does fancy sewing, collects pitchers and cut glass and loves cats. Sounds as if our cook of the day is an interesting person.

TWENTY-FOUR HOUR DESSERT

By. Mrs. Tennes Windingland

1 pound vanilla wafers
½ cup butter
1½ cups sifted confectioners sugar
3 unbeaten eggs
½ cup crushed pineapple, drained

Cover with mixture of pineapple folded into whipped cream. Top with rest of crumbs. Chill for 24 hours. Cut in squares to serve and garnish with whipped cream and a cherry. Serves 12-16.

VATICAN CITY — SEAT OF THE CATHOLIC CHURCH — This complex block is the focal point of world interest now. Pope Pius XII was laid to rest in the grottoes beneath St. Peter's Basilica and the Sacred College of Cardinals meets in the Sistine Chapel to elect a new leader. Newsmap, above, shows the points of interest on the Vatican grounds.

Teeming Vatican City Is Beehive of Culture, Industry, Religion

WASHINGTON — The death of a Pope draws the regard of people everywhere to a tiny sovereign state that is hardly bigger than a large city park.

Even to Romans, Vatican City's 108.7 acres are foreign soil. They are situated on a sun-swept rise west of the Tiber and are sacred to half a billion Roman Catholics throughout the world.

Inside the Vatican walls are St. Peter's Basilica, the largest church on earth, and a cluster of palaces, chapels, museums, galleries, apartments, courtyards, barracks, passageways, neat lawns and secluded gardens, the National Geographic Society says.

WHERE POPE IS CHOSEN

The Vatican's Sistine Chapel is one of the wonders of all time and may well be man's greatest single-handed work of art. The high ceiling and altar wall swirl with Michelangelo frescoes showing the world's creation, man's fall, man's hope, and the Last Judgment.

It is in that Chapel that the College of Cardinals meets when a new Pope must be elected. Throngs wait for the sign of agreement—thin white smoke eddying skyward as the ballots are burned.

About 1,000 men and women live inside the Vatican. They have their own flag, currency and postage stamps, their own shops, small industries, a daily newspaper that is carefully read by newsmen of many nationalities, a powerful radio station, and a railroad.

They are exempt from Italian laws. There is no income tax.

Most Vatican citizens are not of the cloth. They are Swiss guardsmen, papal gendarmerie, firemen, gardeners and caretakers. The famed Sampietrini — "little men of St. Peter's" — scramble about the dome and swing in bosun's chairs about the Basilica to keep it in repair.

★ ★ ★

Many Romans enter the Vatican through the Gate of Santa Anna each day, punch a timeclock, and report to their jobs as bank clerks, engineers and so on. The bank, incidentally, is ultramodern.

Outwardly placid, the Vatican is a busy world. Laymen in a dozen shops restore crumbling documents, books and statuary. Nuns repair priceless old tapestries.

In mosaic studios artisans painstakingly work on masterpieces of religious works. The printing shop produces books in Coptic, Syriac, and any number of other uncommon languages.

CENTER OF CULTURE

The Vatican is a magnet for scholars, regardless of creed, as it seeks to perpetuate things scholarly, scientific and artistic, as well as spiritual. The Papal Palace contains a treasury of man's great works of art.

The library has the world's greatest collection of manuscripts and incunabula. It has been said that if an unimaginable catastrophe should destroy all other museums in the world, the Vatican's five museums could perpetuate esthetic culture, pagan and Christian.

The Basilica is the second church erected in Peter's name on Vatican Hill—a place of soothsaying (vaticinatio) in pagan days. The present structure rose bit by bit, 1506-1626.

★ ★ ★

The resources of the Vatican and the genius of such masters as Michelangelo and Raphael went into its creation. The nave, flanked by soaring columns, monuments, altars and chapels, stretches for an eighth of a mile.

★ ★ ★

St. Peter's dominates Rome as well as Vatican City. The sun's first rays gild the cross about the 435-foot dome, steal across the colossal maroque facade, and spread over the great stone prairie of the Piazza San Pietro. Bernini's colonnades extend like welcoming arms about the oval square, which can accommodate 100,000 persons.

Aga Khan Visits Three Days With Mexican Beauty

LONDON (AP) — The young Aga Khan was scheduled to fly back to the United States today after hopping over three days ago to spend the weekend with beautiful 17-year-old Sylvia Casablancas.

★ ★ ★

The 21-year-old leader of the Ismaili Moslem sect flew in from his studies at Harvard University early Saturday and collected the Mexican beauty from the exclusive London finishing school she attends. They drove to historic Woburn Abbey, home of the Duke of Bedford and the Aga Khan's aunt, the duchess.

The couple spent a quiet weekend with the duchess and her daughter. Only a few close friends knew where the young couple were.

★ ★ ★

The Aga's transatlantic jaunt heightened speculation that he has chosen Sylvia, daughter of Mexico City businessman Fernando Casablancas, to be his begum. Rumors of romance linked the young couple last year but both she and her father denied them.

Ask Public Support on Ending Auto Tax

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's automobile dealers asked today for public support of a drive to end the 10 per cent federal excise tax on new cars.

The National Automobile Dealers Assn. said elimination of the tax would be the quickest and most direct method of reducing the cost of a new car.

NADA President Dean Chaffin estimated the tax adds an average of $200 to car prices. He said manufacturers and dealers have pledged to pass on any tax saving to buyers.

Chaffin assailed the tax as a "tribute for the privilege of owning transportation." He said car owners are forced to pay what amounts to a 10 per cent federal luxury tax "for a human necessity preceded only by food, clothing and shelter."

The Eisenhower administration opposed attempts in the last Congress to cut the tax, contending the government needed the revenue.

Alma College Movie Scheduled for Tonight

Dr. Robert Swanson, college president, and the Alma College Singers will present a program entitled "A Glimpse of Campus Life at Alma College" at the 6:30 dinner meeting of the Men's Club of Kirk in the Hills tonight.

The evening affiar will be held in the Kirk's Social Hall on West Long Lake road, Bloomfield Hills.

A paper structure has been designed that can serve as a duck blind, camping shelter or play house.

'Granny' Richardson, 103, Casts Her Ballot at Novi

By REBA HEINTZELMAN

Although Mrs. Adell Richardson of Novi will be 103 years old Saturday, she is much more interested in casting her vote in the general election Nov. 4, than she is in her forthcoming birthday party.

"Granny" Richardson hasn't missed voting in an election since Woman's Suffrage made it possible in 1920. She claims "life began at 65," her age when she cast her first ballot.

Until last year, she was an avid Democrat. Then the Republicans threw a party for her and invited more than 200 guests to honor Michigan's oldest voter.

Now she thinks the Republicans are a "bunch of fine people, too." Just how Granny voted this year is her secret, as she already has sent in her absentee ballot, all marked and ready for tabulation.

Granny Richardson's appearance belies her more than a century of existance, but more important, her unpredictable sense of humor keeps her cronies at the Novi Convalescent home in a gay mood from morning until night.

As to being bored during her declining years, she said, "I never had it so good."

★ ★ ★

Each morning someone helps Granny dress, pins up her snowy white hair, and breakfast is served on a tray in the living room. Each meal is considered a real banquet and she sets the pace for "older" folks of the home to enjoy their food and "count your blessings."

Born and raised in Oakland County, Mrs. Richardson has one daughter, Mrs. Helen Harnden of Novi. She also had a son who was killed in an automobile accident. She added that she has "Richardson cousins by the dozens all over Oakland County."

Granny has never lost her enthusiasm for a good party. As a girl, she danced until the wee hours of the morning, and claims that square-dance music on the radio hasn't changed in "over a hundred years."

The 20 house guests at the rambling home in Novi planning Granny's birthday party don't talk about the day when she will be gone. They just continue to enjoy her humerous quips and take courage in Granny's theory that "the first hundred years are the hardest."

MICHIGAN'S OLDEST VOTER — "Granny" Richardson of Novi, who will be 103 years old Saturday, hasn't missed casting her vote in some 40 years — since women's suffrage. Her quick wit and spritely appearance belie her more-than-a-century of living, and she has definite ideas about capable candidates. Her absentee ballot has been sent in for township tabulation.

Ortonville Bank Merger OK'd

Stockholders Vote 'Yes' on Consolidation With Genesee Firm

ORTONVILLE — The merger of the State Bank of Ortonville with the Genesee Merchants Bank and Trust Company of Flint, voted by the directors a few weeks ago, now has been approved by the stockholders.

It was announced today that Frank D. Brigham, president of the Ortonville bank, becomes a vice president under the consolidation.

Miss Edna Profrock, cashier and executive vice president of the local bank, was named assistant vice president, and Duane E. Schulz, former assistant cashier here, becomes a vice president.

The merger makes no changes in local personnel in the operation of the bank here, but will provide additional capital to furnish the finances for the further development of this community. The Ortonville bank is 58 years old.

Wounds Wife, Gives Self Up

Estranged Mate Held in North Dakota After Shotgun Attack

GRAND FORKS, N.D. (AP) — An estranged husband who followed his wife here from California wounded her with a shotgun blast Sunday, then fired into an occupied car in which she sought safety.

The assailant later walked into the police station and surrendered, asking officers how his wife and the children in the automobile were.

Leo Boese, 30, Ontario, Calif., was held here without charge.

His wife Bernice, 31, a former Grand Forks resident, was reported in critical condition with lower back and arm wounds. She also had been living in Ontario.

Mrs. Boese, who returned for the funeral of her father, told police she had agreed to a rendezvous at a drive-in restaurant with her husband.

She said he grabbed a shotgun in the car and fired at her when she refused to go back to him. The couple has five children.

Mrs. Boese was picked up by Allan Mitchell of Fargo, N.D., who had just driven into the restaurant yard with his family to buy some pop.

"Get me away from here before he kills me," she screamed.

Boese fired another shot as the car pulled away. It tore out the rear window, scattering glass over Mrs. Boese, the Mitchells and their three young children. None of them were hurt by it.

Mitchell stopped at a gasoline station and called for an ambulance and the police.

Irate Mothers Blockading School Bus Route in Troy

TROY — A group of angry mothers of children attending the Poppleton Elementary School in Troy this morning protested their children having to walk to school by blockading intersections on 16-Mile at Crooks and Livernois roads.

School bus transportation for children living within a mile and a half radius of the Troy schools was discontinued, effective today, following rejection of an operating tax increase proposal in an election last Tuesday.

Action was taken to trim about $20,000 from the district's deficit budget.

From about 8 to 9 this morning 15 to 20 mothers milled about the intersections, stepping into the paths of cars, causing motorists to take other routes, according to Police Chief David Grattup.

He said the demonstration broke up after school was in session. He expected the blockade to be resumed at noon and when school closes for the day.

A recount of the election results in which the tax hike was defeated by 21 votes will take place at a public meeting at 8 tonight at the Troy High School gymnasium.

The two-mile trip took two hours. Designed and constructed by parishioners Gino Testaguzza, his brother, Cesare and their brother-in-law, Carlo Massacesi, the statue will be dedicated Sunday. It stands on a pedestal in front of the church.

Farm Sales Decrease During the Past Decade

CHICAGO (UPI) — A recent study by the U.S. Department of Agriculture indicates that good farm land is becoming increasingly harder to buy.

During a one-year period covered by the survey only 31 out of every 1,000 farms were voluntarily put up for sale. Ten years ago the figure was 57 out of every 1,000.

The survey showed that 40 per cent of all farm land purchased during the year went to farmers who were adding to their holdings.

His Plane Forced Down, Candidate Keeps Going

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — Arizona Gov. Ernest McFarland, Democratic candidate for the U.S. Senate, believes in keeping his appointments if at all possible.

★ ★ ★

Sunday night, en route from Phoenix to Tucson, a light plane in which the governor was a passenger ran out of gasoline and made an emergency landing on a bumpy central Arizona cow pasture, some 80 miles southeast of Phoenix.

The governor, Mrs. McFarland and the pilot, Rusty Gibbons, were not injured. The plane was not damaged.

★ ★ ★

Arrangements were made for more fuel, Gibbons made a take-off across the pasture and the governor arrived in time to preside at dedication ceremonies for a new National Guard building.

Cottage Near Rochester Suffers Fire Damage

CRANBERRY LAKE — Fire, apparently caused by an overheated chimney, Saturday night damaged a wall in a summer cottage at 235 Beach Rd., north of Rochester.

★ ★ ★

The Romeo Fire Dept. extinguished the blaze. No estimate of the damage was available immediately.

★ ★ ★

The cottage is owned by Harvey Monks, of 1010 Wyandotte St., Royal Oak.

The horn of the white rhinoceros was believed to be a defense against poison in Roman times so it was often carved into the shape of a cup and used for drinking.

$20,000 Loss Near Romeo

Blaming Vandals for Blaze

ROMEO — State Police of the Romeo Post today are seeking youthful vandals suspected of setting fire and sinking a barge dredge and ransacking a toolshed at the Huron Gravel Co. pit, 2900 Inwood Rd., four miles southwest of Romeo.

Damage was estimated at $20,000.

★ ★ ★

The vandals ransacked the toolshed and smeared oil over the entire building after gaining entry by using a heavy object to break a latch on the door, police said.

Then they took a boat out onto the small lake in the pit and set fire to the barge-dredge.

A 40-gallon drum of fuel oil and oil in the tank of the engine both exploded, completely destroying the equipment.

The Washington Fire Dept. extinguished the blaze.

★ ★ ★

The boat was found across the pond from where it was anchored, according to Frank Emery of Mount Clemens, a company official.

Applied to Pontiac General Rooms

Memorial Plan Set Up

A memorial room plan has been developed at Pontiac General Hospital.

It is designed for persons who wish to commemorate the names of loved ones or organizations, Harold B. Euler, hospital administrator, said.

★ ★ ★

Commemorations may be made through $500 or $1,000 donations, covering either half or all the cost of equipping a two-bed semi-private, hospital room.

Rooms furnished in this way will be adorned with a plaque bearing the name of the person or organization in whose name the donation was made, Euler said.

"We believe this plan will be attractive to many persons who would like to have permanent memorials for their loved ones and at the same time have the memorial contribute a service to the community," Euler explained.

Memorial rooms have been instituted successfully at many other hospitals, he said.

"Naturally, donations are particularly welcome here at this time because of the financial strain of completing the building program."

Euler said it costs about $880 for furniture and equipment for a semi-private room; $150 for linen and about $40 for utensils.

★ ★ ★

Hospital officials are prepared to discuss memorial plans in detail with potential donors, he added.

Lurking Bandit Robs Pontiac Grocer of $150

A 65-year-old Pontiac grocer was held up and robbed of $150 after he closed his store Saturday night.

★ ★ ★

John Phillips, of 411 Lorberta Lane, Waterford Township, told police that the gunman was hiding in his truck when he closed his grocery, Phillips Super Market, 360 Franklin Rd.

★ ★ ★

The bandit ordered him to drive to an isolated area near the intersection of Rapid and Motor streets where he took the money and fled.

Area School Enrollment Up 406; Increase Is Less Than Predicted

Enrollment in Pontiac and Waterford Township public schools is up from last year, according to recently-released statistics.

The increase of students in the Pontiac school system was not as large as had been forecast. Pontiac Board of Education figures show 19,415 are attending school this year as against 19,009 in 1957-58 — an increase of 406 students.

It had been expected that 19,731 would enroll this year.

The enrollment report used for determining the number of children in schools is based on figures available on the fourth Friday in September.

School officials had expected 12,967 pupils in elementary schools (kindergarten through sixth grade), but only 12,549 enrolled — 418 pupils less than anticipated. In 1957-58, elementary schools held 12,475 pupils.

Their prediction on junior high school enrollment was seven over the actual number. Administrators had expected 3,468 pupils, and the official count is 3,461. Last year 3,643 pupils attended the city's junior highs.

Although an increase in high school enrollment had been expected, its size surprised school officials. They had expected 3,111 students, but 3,226 enrolled at Pontiac Central and Pontiac Northern.

In 1957-58, 2,885 were enrolled at Pontiac Central.

★ ★ ★

There are 179 special students in the school system this year. It was expected there would be 185.

★ ★ ★

Dr. Dana P. Whitmer, superintendent of schools, noted that the high school increase is primarily in the 10th and 11th grades. He said fewer students are dropping out of high school, and declared that the new facilities at Pontiac Northern are influencing many students to remain in classes.

★ ★ ★

Others felt that poor business conditions might also be a factor in less students dropping out.

The Board of Education is studying the possibility of delaying an addition to Bagley Elementary School since the expected increase in elementary enrollment failed to materialize.

Waterford Township schools show an increase of 407 students over the 1957-58 school year.

There are 10,767 in Waterford schools this year, compared to 10,360 last year — an increase of 407 students.

In the township's 17 elementary schools, 7,071 pupils are attending classes as against 6,988 in 1957-58 — an increase of 83.

The new John D. Pierce Junior High is attended by 1,224, and Crary Junior High has 816 pupils. Last year 1,962 attended Crary Junior High, but because of the new school, enrollment at Crary is down 1,046. There are 2,040 junior high students in the township as against 1,962 last year — an increase of 78.

★ ★ ★

Enrollment at Waterford High School leaped this year with 1,657 in class as compared to 1,410 last year. This is an increase of 246 students.

The Waterford Board of Education plans to open the Cooley Elementary School sometime next year. Future building plans call for another elementary school and a second senior high school.

'Pappy' Boyington Outspoken Both in Print and in Person

BY WARD CANNEL

NEW YORK (NEA) — It was downright uncomfortable. Here was Pappy Boyington sitting across the table with a record of heroism as long as your arm and you kept looking around with mid-20th Century qualms, hoping nobody in the restaurant would recognize you.

Boyington, if it has escaped your memory, was one of Gen. Chennault's original Flying Tigers, a Marine Corps pilot during World War II, Medal of Honor winner, Japanese prisoner of war.

He also cannot tick to fashionable topics of conversation.

"Heroes?" he thundrede across the table. "You mean some of those big names I served with? Why& for Pete's sake, I was one of the idiots that built their reputations."

While he went on naming names that one usually sees on bronze plaques, you reminded him that it was not nice to speak ill of the dead or the senile, or the fashionable.

★ ★ ★

"Listen," he snapped, "I never minded risking my neck if I thought it could do some good. But when it dawns on me that some brass is using me for their own personal ends . . ."

★ ★ ★

He's got it all in his book, which is a sleeper called "Baa Baa Black Sheep," and which begins with a heart-felt and completely misleading chapter that explains how he's put writing about the adventures of his life and doesn't really mean to criticize any heroes.

"But," he said in self-amazement, "it kept turning out that you couldn't tell the truth if you painted yourself as a hero. And if you told the truth about China and Burma and those people we all know, you couldn't keep painting them as heroes all the time."

★ ★ ★

For example?

"Well now, take our pilots. Most of the enemy planes were shot down by the same few pilots. I'm not saying it was right or wrong. That's just the statistics.

★ ★ ★

"Or take some of those heroes again. And how they learned you could make a lot of money flying missions and swapping currency. And, of course, there are those phony battles that get reported so our allies can account for our supplies they sell to the enemy."

"Baa Baa Black Sheep," like its author, had a fight to get into print. The first publisher who read it suggested several changes —like taking names out and soft-pedaling the rough parts.

Boyington saw the rewritten text as somebody else's idea of what Boyington would have said if he were not so naive about what people want to read.

So Boyington took it to a second publisher on the condition that it run untouched. "Just point out the misspelling and grammatical errors," he told them, "and I'll fix them."

Today, with several movie offers before him, Boyington will have to see his book changed around, soft-pedaled and fictionalized for the script.

★ ★ ★

"I don't care," he said. "It's a good adventure story anyway. And even if they don't tell the whole story, I don't care. I've got it all in the book. And 29,000 sales in the first two months."

★ ★ ★

Was he worried about reaction from high places?

"Don't make me laugh," he said. "The boys I talk about know I'm telling the truth. I'm not running for office, so I don't need their votes. But if they want to answer me, I'll produce documented evidence in 20 minutes. Maybe this book will encourage some more unfashionable truth-telling."

The old Flying Tigers? "No. They know it's the truth."

The Marine Corps? "They know, too."

The Medal of Honor winners?

"Listen," he rasped, "they only gave me the Medal of Honor when they thought I was dead. That Medal is a whole story all by itself. I keep it out in the garage along with the other stuff we don't want in the house."

MAJ. GREGORY BOYINGTON, in the cockpit of his fighter plane "somewhere in the South Pacific," just before he was downed and captured by the Japanese. He spent the rest of the war in a prison camp.

BOYINGTON TODAY: "They only gave me the Medal of Honor when they thought I was dead."

Barbizon was the French school of middle 19th Century artists who took their subjects straight from nature.

Frustration Ends -- St. Fred 34, St. Michael 13

Rams Win 1st Time in 9 Years to Lead SCL

6,000 Watch Passing Duel; Derocher Tallies 2 TDs

By CHUCK ABAIR

A painful frustration which had lasted eight long years came to a sudden halt at Wisner Stadium yesterday afternoon as St. Frederick scored a resounding 34-13 triumph over St. Michael in the 24th meeting between the city rivals.

The Ram players and the school's entire student body had a day off from classes today to celebrate the big victory.

By winning, St. Fred remained the only unbeaten team left in the Suburban Catholic League with four straight successes. The Rams have three games to play including a Nov. 2 contest against defending champion St. Benedict.

"It was a long time coming," was a fitting comment by happy coach Gene Wright following the free-scoring affair. The Rams had bowed by such scores as 34-0 and 25-0 and had been outscored 195-87 in losing eight in a row.

★ ★ ★

The 34 points rolled up by his high-powered backfield of Jim Kennedy, Tom Nesbitt, Tom Derocher and Jack Lyon was the highest total ever scored by St. Fred in the series. The Red and Black teams of 1942 and '43 won by larger margins, however.

Passers Jim Kennedy of the victors and St. Mike's Mike Flynn and some of the other backs made it a pro-style contest filling the air with 42 passes.

Losing coach Jim Niebauer had predicted a win because of his big line. The Shamrock forwards held St. Fred to 89 rushing yards but Kennedy, operating the roll-out well, hit 14 of 20 passes and caught another from Derocher for a total of 281 yards gained via the air route. That was the difference.

★ ★ ★

Niebauer called the lack of blocking by his offensive line as a big reason for the setback. The much smaller Ram linemen flattened his ballcarriers for a minus 57 yards rushing.

After a wild start in which the ball changed hands five times in nine minutes on fumbles, the Rams suddenly struck for their first of five touchdowns.

Kennedy hit end Steve Pocs on a 37-yard pass play and Derocher scooted around end from the six the next play to give the winners a lead they never relinquished. St. Fred had fumbled away an earlier chance at the two.

★ ★ ★

St. Michael came up with its 2nd fine defensive stand of the game early in the second period to stop another threat at the two but still had to give up two points when Bill Flanigan was tackled in the end zone by Kennedy for a safety.

The Rams upped it to 14-0 a few minutes later driving 37 yards on Kennedy passes to Nesbitt and Guibord. Kennedy went over from the 2.

Down but not out, St. Mike fought back to go 68 yards on two passes by the gritty Flynn for a touchdown. The 2nd flip covered 55 of the total as Tom Dabbs neatly got away from his defenders and scored without being touched. It was 14-6 at halftime.

★ ★ ★

Nesbitt turned in the play of the day for the 3rd St. Fred tally midway in the 3rd period to put the game on ice. He took a short Kennedy toss on his own 47 after doing some juggling, tight-roped down the sidelines and then cut across the field beautifully faking and sidestepping would-be tacklers while key blocks cut others out of the way.

The swivel-hipped halfback came up with another sparkling dash on a pass from Kennedy to set up a 6-pointer two minutes later. Jack Lyon bulled his way over from the eight and Dick Deschaine kicked his 1st of two placements to make it 27-6.

St. Frederick had another scoring thrust halted at the 7 as Shamrock defenders came through again so Kennedy went to the air for the final touchdown. He hit Derocher on a 24-yard play.

AFTER 8 YEARS — There was plenty of cause for cheering in the St. Fred dressing room at Wisner Stadium yesterday following the Rams' walloping of St. Michael. The victory not only snapped an eight-game losing streak against the Shamrocks but also placed the St. Fred eleven in the driver's seat for Suburban Catholic League honors.

No 'Ifs' or 'Buts' in Lions Loss

Baltimore Rolls to 40-14 Romp in 4th Victory

Unitas Powers Colts to 535 Total Yards by Air and Land

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

DETROIT—There were no "ifs" or "buts" at Briggs Stadium yesterday where the high flying Baltimore Colts battered the Detroit Lions 40-14 before 55,190 fans.

The facts were put on the line for the once proud Lions. It became quite obvious that the Lions are a team of ex-champions and the Colts are almost sure to be strong successors to the crown.

★ ★ ★

Baltimore rolled by land and air for a total of 535 yards behind the quarterbacking of Johnny Unitas and the running of a fast and powerful backfield made up of Lenny Moore, Alan Ameche, L. G. Dupre plus rookie Len Lyles.

When things got tough, the Colts hit and hit hard and the Lions gave way. What was once pro football's greatest defensive backfield again showed signs of slow footedness on pass defense and in pursuit of speedsters like Moore, Dupre and Lyles.

Baltimore scored midway in the first period with Ameche going one yard after a short 44 yard drive in seven plays. Steve Myhra's attempt hit the goal post and it was 6-0.

★ ★ ★

An 80 yard drive in 12 plays early in the second quarter was capped with Ameche again plowing over from the one. It was 13-0 with Myhra's boot.

With only 26 seconds in the half, Jim Doran made a great catch of Earl Morrall's pass for a 19-yard touchdown. Martin converted and the half ended 13-7 a moment later.

Baltimore took the second half kickoff and marched 80 yards in seven plays with Dupre going the last three yards and Myhra converting.

Detroit made two bids in the 3rd quarter by moving from their own 26 to the Colt one yard line the first time. It ended when Hopalong Cassady fumbled on the goal line.

★ ★ ★

After a Baltimore punt, the Lions marched again with Doran making fine catches of Rote's passes, but on the four yard line, Cassady fumbled again and the third period ended 20-7.

Detroit got back into the game for a few minutes when Yale Larry took a punt and raced 71 yards down the sidelines for a touchdown. Then the roof caved in.

In four plays after the kickoff Moore raced wide around end 11 yards for the touchdown after a 73 yard march. Before Detroit could get a drive started, Morrall's pass was intercepted and in three plays covering 48 yards Unitas passed to Jim Mutscheller who skirted away from Christiansen for a 37 yard TD.

The last Colt touchdown was a blur to the Lions. Lyles, who is called the fastest man in football, carried the ball for the first time in the game. He took a handoff from second string quarterback George Shaw and went 27 yards around right end over the goal line standing up. Shaw tried to run the conversion and failed.

Christiansen, playing his first game after being out with an injured ankle, was slow and ineffective. During Baltimore's 4th TD march, Unitas flipped a short pass to Berry who sidestepped Christiansen with ease as he gained 54 yards before Terry Barr caught him from behind on the 11.

Mutscheller, who could hardly be termed fast, was eight yards past Christiansen when he caught his TD pass.

For the next three weeks, the Lions are on the road at Los Angeles, San Francisco and Cleveland with little hope of hitting a winning stride.

Royal Oak Shrine's string of football victories came to an end last night at Berkley's Community Field. After winning three in a row, Shrine was beaten by Redford St. Mary, 27-13 before some 5,000 fans.

Shrine trailed 21-0 in the third period, but scored two quick TDs on long passes by Ron Bishop to McLaughlin and Dick Whitney, the first going for 50 yards and the second for 75. Mike Glynn of Pontiac ran the PAT.

Los Angeles Rams Rap Officials in Chicago

CHICAGO (AP) — Sid Gillman of the Los Angeles Rams became the second coach in two weeks to complain about officiating in Wrigley Field after his team took a 31-10 beating at the hands of the Chicago Bears yesterday.

The Rams were penalized 145 yards, 100 in the first half.

Making a determined effort not to discuss the penalties, Gillman finally blurted out in the Ram dressing room:

"Your fare is in the hands of the striped shirt boys when you play in this park."

In another reference to penalties, Gillman said "it happens more frequently here than anyplace else."

★ ★ ★

Asked to clarify his statements, Gillman said "no comment. I don't want to discuss penalties anymore."

The previous week, Frankie Albert, coach of San Francisco, not only complained about officiating in Wrigley Field but grumbled about Bear owner and coach George Halas' antics on the sidelines.

Albert was quoted as saying end Billy Wilson caught a sideline pass in bounds and the officials at first called it an inbounds play but changed after an argument by Halas.

★ ★ ★

Halas laughed when informed Gillman, like Albert, complained about the officiating.

"They were both loosers," said Halas. "When infractions are committed, the officials have to call penalties."

Halas also brought out that while the Rams were penalized 100 yards to 5 for the Bears in the first half, the Bears were penalized 90 yards to 45 for Los Angeles in the second half.

★ ★ ★

Back in Los Angeles, television viewers protested the officiating.

Don Paul, former captain of the Rams, interviewed Elroy Hirsch, also a former Ram, on a television program following the game. Paul said:

"We always figured when we went into Wrigley Field in Chicago that we had to play against eleven Bears, five officials and at least two coaches of the Bears." Hirsch nodded in agreement.

When notified of the Paul-Hirsch exchange, Halas, simply said "that's very interesting."

Ironically, it was only two years ago that Halas complained about officiating on the West Coast. At that time he said all the officials at games in Los Angeles and San Francisco were "homers."

Detroit Sextet Takes 2 Games Over Weekend

Olmstead Spoils Bid for Sawchuk's Shutout With Late Goal

By BILL CORNWELL

DETROIT — An old nemesis of the Detroit Red Wings spoiled goalie Terry Sawchuk's bid for his 2nd shutout of the season Sunday night.

Bert Olmstead, who used to do his skating for the Montreal Canadiens but now wears the uniform of the Toronto Maple Leafs, was the culprit in front of 9,306 spectators at Olympia Stadium.

His hard 30-foot shot at 1:35 of the final period was Toronto's only counter as the Red Wings conquered the Maple Leafs, 3-1, for their 3rd National Hockey League win in five games.

Sawchuk also missed a shutout Saturday afternoon at Chicago when the Redshirts dumped the Black Hawks by the same 3-1 score in their nationally televised game. Ed Litzenberger's 1st period goal ruined that chance.

★ ★ ★

The Detroit netminder now has yielded 11 goals. He gave up two in the 1958-59 season opener at Montreal, shut out the New York Rangers in the Wings' debut at home, then saw seven Chicago shots zip past him last Thursday on Olympia ice.

Center Norm Ullman, left winger Claude Laforge and defenseman Red Kelly were the scoring heroes for Detroit yesterday.

Ullman connected at short range in the 2nd minute of the 1st period while Toronto's Tim Horton was serving a hooking penalty. Then Ullman got an assist on Laforge's tally and Gordie Howe received credit for helping Kelly click while the Wings were shorthanded.

Horton had been in the penalty box only 39 seconds when Ullman tallied the 1st goal of the evening.

Gerry Ehman took Pete Goegan's pass and fired at Toronto goalie Johnny Bower from 25 feet. Ullman, standing at the goalmouth, deflected the puck into the cage to climax the power play. Ehman and Goegan were given assists.

Laforge and Kelly hit the jackpot in a two-minute span late in the 2nd stanga, Laforge at 14:21 and Kelly at 16:20.

Bower had no chance as Laforge, standing near the crease, flicked home Ullman's rebound.

Colts' Greeters See More Police Than Players

BALTIMORE (AP) — More than 4,000 football fans greeted the undefeated Baltimore Colts at Friendship International Airport last night a few hours after the team's 40-14 victory over the Detroit Lions.

★ ★ ★

But the fans saw more of the 50 policemen on hand for the welcoming celebration than they did of the players.

The officers kept the crowd in check until most of the Colts had disappeared into waiting cars. Among those allowed up the ramp to greet the players was Mayor Thomas D'Alesandro.

★ ★ ★

Last week some of the estimated 8,000 who greeted the Colts got out of hand, tossing fireworks and assaulting policemen. Last night one man was arrested and charged with disorderly conduct.

Detroit's Late Rally Runs Out of Steam in NBA Start

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP) — The Detroit Pistons, taking after the football Lions and hockey Red Wings, have been losers in their professional basketball opener.

Despite a powerful rally, the Pistons dropped their National Basketball Assn. opener to the Syracuse Nationals 103-94 in a nationally televised game yesterday that opened the NBA season.

★ ★ ★

The Pistons, off to a slow start, trailed by 25 points at one time and then staged a hot third and fourth period rally only to run out of wind.

Coach Red Rocha's team lagged at the half 54-32 and was 68-53 when Gene Shue and Earl Lloyd began hitting the hoop to cut the Nats' lead to five points early in the fourth period 73-68.

★ ★ ★

Syracuse's Togo Palazzi and John Kerr pulled the Nats well out in front again and three fast-break baskets by Larry Costello in the last two minutes cinched it for the home team.

The Pistons' George Yardley, last year's record-breaking scoring champion, was held to 11 points. In the first half, when Detroit was badly off in its shooting, Yardley got only two points.

★ ★ ★

Shue and Dolph Schayes of the Nats tied for scoring honors with 18 points each. Walter Dukes of Detroit had 16. Shue shot seven field goals and four of five free throws. Dukes had four field goals and eight of 12 free throws.

The Nats outshot Detroit from the field 39-31 and sank 25 of 35 free throws. Detroit shot 32 of 48 free throws.

Browns, Cardinals, 49ers Win NFL Tilts

Chicago Bears Get Fighting Mad

By The Associated Press

The Chicago Bears are fightin' mad.

And beginning to act big and bad!

Favored to win the Western Conference title in the National Football League, the Chicagoans today are in sole possession of second place, only a game behind first-place Baltimore.

The Bears advanced by defeating Los Angeles 31-10 yesterday, but it was owner-coach George Halas, involved in one of the brawls that periodically broke out, who probably instilled the "get tough" attitude in his charges.

With the Rams leading 7-0 in the first quarter, Chicago's Ed Brown hit Harlon Hill with a sideline pass and the Ram defenders likewise hit Hill, shoving him out of bounds with authority.

Halas charged down the sidelines, protesting Hill's roughing up. The Rams' Don Burroughs shoved Halas nearly off his pins. Bear guard Abe Gibron pushed Burroughs.

The entire Bear squad rose ready for any eventuality. A few words from Halas, however, quieted the situation. But apparently the incident incited the Bears to retaliate with the football.

Cleveland defeated Pittsburgh 27-10 to remain at the head of the Eastern Conference.

In other games, Chicago's Cardinals downed New York 23-6, San Francisco edged Philadelphia 30-24, and Washington beat Green Bay 37-21.

Los Angeles (2-2) took its 7-0 lead on a 92-yard Billy Wade to Del Shofner pass, longest scoring aerial of the season. Rookie Erich Barnes tied it, blocking a field goal try and running 41 yards with the loose ball to score. Two TDs by Willie Galimore iced it for Chicago (3-1).

Halas said after the game he was also burned by a Ram observer who kept shouting "Get Galimore." Halas fumed: "It's the most scurrilous thing I've ever heard."

Cleveland (4-0) moved two games in front in the East on the running of Jimmy Brown and rookie Bob Mitchell. Brown boosted his rushing yardage for four games to 635 yards and scored two touchdowns. One came on a 52-yard run, the other on a 27-yard pass from Milt Plum. Mitchell scored once and picked up 108 yards in 13 carries. The Steelers (1-3-0) were unable to mount an offensive even with Bobby Layne tossing 26 passes.

The Cards (2-2) pulled the injured LaMar McHan off the bench for their victory over New York (2-2). His right elbow wrapped in bandages, McHan fired two scoring passes to Gern Nagler. An eight-yarder from McHan to Nagler was the tie-breaker in the fourth quarter.

Steeler Tackle, 'Put to Sleep,' Misses Contest

CLEVELAND (AP) — Ernie Stautner, the Pittsburgh Steelers' big defensive tackle, came here to play football against the Cleveland Browns. Instead, he went to "sleep."

★ ★ ★

Stautner missed the entire game won by the Cleveland Browns 27-10 yesterday, but it wasn't his fault. The 6-foot-2, 235-pounder was given an injection to ease pain in a bruised shoulder. The team doctor put demerol in the hypodermic instead of novacaine.

★ ★ ★

Stautner went into a deep coma and a police ambulance rushed him to a hospital. He was revived and was listed in fair condition at Cleveland Clinic Hospital last night.

About 27 other horses were injured.

Wind-whipped flames destroyed two barns and damaged two others at the half-mile track southeast of Washington.

★ ★ ★

Damage was estimated at more than $100,000.

Edward Farrell, track president, said there were about 350 horses on the grounds, most of them at the other end of the track from the fire.

CONFUSION — There was confusion at this stage of the game at Evanston where Northwestern trampled Michigan, 55-24. A loose ball bounces around as players sprawl out all over the ground. Fred Julian, Michigan back (16), is blocked out of the play by Northwestern's center Jim Andreotti (56) and end Irv Cross (32).

U of M Has Gloomiest Hour in History

Saturday's Rout at Northwestern Futile Display

Despondent 'M' Coach Following Wolverines' Worst Defeat

ANN ARBOR (AP) — This is Michigan's gloomiest hour since its college boys started kicking a football around in 1879.

Not even in the dark days of the mid-1930s have the Wolverines been so futile. Nor was their outlook so grim.

The erstwhile champions of the West have no course but to improve. They reached the bottom when Northwestern toyed with them 55-24 Saturday.

A despondent coach Bennie Oosterbaan sat in a corner of the locker room of Dyche Stadium after the game. Words were hard for him. He looked like a man who had taken a fearful beating and he had. Only two weeks before he was on top of the world. His team had tied Michigan State and the thoughts of retiring with a winning season perhaps were beginning to take shape.

"That's the way it goes sometimes," Oosterbaan said. "But I've never seen so much."

★ ★ ★

The Wolverines were in the ballgame only for the first 3½ minutes. When quarterback Bob Ptacek was hurt after the Wildcats scored their first touchdown, the Wolverines seemed like a dishevelled bunch of lost children.

The loss of Ptacek and the leadership he affords handicapped us," Oosterbaan said. "But it was mostly Northwestern. We just couldn't block against their nine-man line."

Oosterbaan wasn't able to use Stan Noskin, Ptacek's alternate, because of a hip injury. Noskin warmed up before the game and then watched from the bench.

Ptacek was X-rayed Saturday night and the results showed his ankle wasn't broken.

"It's not as bad as we thought at first," Oosterbaan said yesterday. "But we've got to figure he'll miss this week's game with Minnesota."

The Wildcats' accumulation of points was a 20th century high against the once-mighty Wolverines. Not since Cornell scored 58 points in 1891 has Michigan's goal line been so damaged.

★ ★ ★

The carnage reached its peak in a 10-minute span of the second quarter. The Wildcats scored five times. The flurry was aided by three Michigan fumbles and an intercepted pass. It was 43-0 at halftime.

By the time Michigan was able to muster some scoring power, coach Ara Parseghian was clearing the Northwestern bench.

Spartan Offense Listless at Purdue

MSU to Get Lineup Shakeup

EAST LANSING (AP) — There are sure to be a lot of shake ups in the Michigan State lineup this week.

When a football team loses and looks bad losing as the Spartans did in the 14-6 beating by Purdue, that's the only remedy — try to shake them out of it by shaking up the lineup.

Coach Duffy Daugherty expressed his unhappiness at the almost total lack of offense after the game.

"We just didn't have any offense," he said on examining the statistics sheet that showed a total of only 103 yards made rushing and passing.

"But we're not going to forget that game," he added. "We're going to try to profit from it."

The most Michigan State can hope to salvage from the 1958 season is the role of spoiler. But the only team MSU can hurt is Wisconsin.

Last season the Spartans complained of fumbles that cost them a victory over Purdue. The boilermakers gave State five fumbles Saturday and they couldn't do anything with them.

MSU's stable of fleet backs were turned into plow horses by a brilliant Boilermaker line that allowed them just 38 yards. And Duffy Daugherty, using every quarterback available, saw the Spartans gain only 65 yards in the air.

It was a case of Purdue giving State every break possible — in addition to the five lost fumbles. State intercepted one pass, blocked an extra point attempt and had the benefit of two bad Boilermaker snap-backs on attempted punts with the kickers smothered.

★ ★ ★

In the second half, with the score tied at 6-6, the Spartans twice jumped on fumbles only to lose the ball on interceptions on the very next play.

It took a bad snap-back to punter Clyde Washington for State to score at all. Big Sammy Williams raced in and grabbed Washington on the 12 and Larry Bielat passed 11 yards to Dick Barker for the touchdown.

Purdue then did what MSU couldn't do all day—put on a sustained drive. The Boilermakers marched 59 yards with Leonard Wilson twisting in from the four. A 15-yard personal foul against MSU aided the Purdue cause.

★ ★ ★

State helped Purdue out of its victory drive in the third period when Jim Wulff was called for interference as Ross Fichtner rifled a pass to Richie Brooks at the MSU 27 and then hit Tom Barnett with a six-yarder after carrying to the 15 himself. Bob Jarus did the rest in three carries.

Michigan State went into the game with an awesome ground gaining average and an even better defensive mark. Both were shattered by the Boilermakers. State averaged 192 yards on the ground in three previous games while holding the opposition to an average of 81 yards a game.

Michigan College Roundup:

Chippewas' Season Record Still Clean

By The Associated Press

Hope and Central Michigan, the state's only unbeaten college football teams, kept their records clean over the weekend.

Hope smothered Adrian 41-7 for its fifth straight of the season and its third in a row in the Michigan Intercollegiate Athletic Assn. fullback Ron Bekius scored four touchdowns for the winners.

Central Michigan walloped Northern Illinois 33-23 for its sixth triumph and its third in a row in the Interstate Intercollegiate Athletic Conference. Walt Beach scored two touchdowns in leading the Chippewas from behind twice.

In other MIAA games, Albion blanked hapless Olivet 46-0 and Hillsdale beat Alma 21-13.

Albion, unscored-on in four of its five games, divided its scoring among seven players. The loss was Olivet's 27th straight over a three-year span.

Hillsdale went to 3-0 in the conference (4-1 overall) with touchdowns by Walt Poe on a Larry Rutledge pass, Howard Rogers and center Ed Tallman on a 65-yard pass interception return. Alma's touchdowns were scored by Jim Northrup on a 55-yard pass from Bill Klenk and Len Face on a 92-yard kickoff return.

Eastern Michigan shut out Eastern Illinois 31-0 with John Malone and John Kubiak each scoring two touchdowns. The victory lifted Eastern Michigan's IIAC record to 2-1. Eastern Illinois is winless in conference play.

★ ★ ★

Wayne State defeated Case Tech of Cleveland 21-6 with a second-half outburst in a presidents' athletic conference game. It was the second meeting of the season for the two teams. They battled to a 7-7 tie in their last outing. Wayne Muller, Jim Ross and Jim MacMillan scored for Wayne.

In a pair of intersectional games, Western Michigan rolled over Washington of St. Louis 34-2 and Kalamazoo dropped a 25-0 decision to Beloit of Wisconsin.

Lovell Coleman, the nation's leading scorer among small colleges, got three touchdowns in the Broncos' easy triumph over Washington.

Kalamazoo's only threat against Beloit came in the closing minutes when quarterback Jim Fletcher and halfback Bob Begley combined on a 41-yard pass to the Beloit 21. Then, at the final buzzer, Fletcher completed a pass just over the end zone.

Northern Michigan rambled to a 34-0 victory over Michigan Tech. Mike Streble led scorers with two touchdowns.

Ferris Institute turned back Illinois College 26-7.

Iceberg's 'Cool' 69 Tops MPGA's Event

Pontiac's Roy Iceberg matched the weather, Sunday, with his 69 actual over the Glenhurst CC layout, to set the pace for the last handicap tourney of the season under Michigan Public Links Golf Assn. auspices. There were 86 players in the field.

Handicap winners were Sal Pomante of Center Line and Jim Bacon of Detroit who tied at 66 (net). Bill Woods of Detroit and Jack Aldred of Ferndale had 67's.

Iceberg fired 34-35—69, including six birdies, four on the front nine.

Joe Spehar of Detroit led the 2nd flight with a net 63 (72 actual).

The Beniteau invitational, next Sunday, at Gowanie, marks the end of the season's tourney trail in the area. It is a 27-hole medal test.

Big 3rd Period Turns Trick

Eaglets Trip St. James

While Pontiac St. Frederick was rolling to its 4th straight Suburban Catholic League win, Over St. Michael, Sunday, Orchard Lake St. Mary's club annexed its 2nd loop victory at Ferndale St. James. Eaglets wiped out a one point half-time deficit to down the 'Dales 24-7.

Sunday's win squared Eaglets' SCL season's mark at 2-2.

St. Benedict, upset a week ago by St. Michael, took revenge, yesterday, with a season's SCL high scoring win over RO St. Mary, 61-0. St. Rita's edged St. Clement, 20-14 in the other league contest over the weekend.

Eaglets' Milton Wojtowicz took a pass from Frank Bartos for a 46-yard TD, midway in the 2nd period, but Dales came back quickly. Larry Yezak grabbed a Danny Stockel pass on the 14 went in for the tally after St. James had driven more than 50 yards on the kickoff. Yezak ran the PAT, leaving Ravens with a 7-6 lead at the half.

St. Mary's broke the game wide open in the 3rd, with three counters. In 9 plays after getting the ball on the James' 27 after a punt, Tony Kosetcki went over from the one. A few minutes later Bill Krull added the 3rd tally with a 14-yard run, and the final TD wasn't long in coming. Wojtowicz took another aerial on the same play that started Eaglets' scoring, ran 23 yards for the score.

Ed Eberhardt with three, Dan Donar two, and one each by Art Storen, Ed Malkowyck and Art Massucci scored Raven TDs. Storen kicked six PTAs and Donar ran for one. Halftime count was 34-0 for Ravens, over ROSM.

NHL Is Back to Normal

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Things returned to normal in the National Hockey League today. Montreal is back in first place, Detroit has become a contender and Chicago is up to its losing habits.

Montreal defeated the New York Rangers 5-3 Sunday night after playing a 2-2 with the winless New Yorkers the previous evening.

The Boston Bruins split their weekend games, whipping the Black Hawks 4-1 Sunday night and bowing to the Maple Leafs 3-2 the night before.

The Canadiens took over undisputed possession of first place Sunday night with a third-period rally against the Rangers. Rocket Richard's second goal broke a 3-3 tie after brother Henri's tally got the game even. Then Boom Boom Geoffrion caged the crusher by scoring on an open net in the last minute.

New York had built up a 3-1 lead before the Rocket went into orbit. The Rangers are the only team without a victory, having tied four times and lost twice.

Vic Stasiuk's three-goal performance carried Boston to its victory over Chicago Sunday. The Black Hawks, who finished last a year ago, started the weekend in first place with three straight victories.

Toronto chalked up its first victory Saturday as Ron Stewart scored twice against Boston.

U.S. Jet Travel Starts Bit Late

(America's 50 million air travelers, poised for takeoff into the jet age, are asking many questions about the new 600-m.p.h. planes. Are they safe? What about jet noise? And what lies ahead—travel by missile? Here are some authoritative answers.)

By ROGER GREENE
AP Writer

The Jet Age is here for Americans.

Next Sunday, a gleaming silver jetliner, half as long as a football field, will zip from New York to Paris in the first U. S. pay-to-ride jet flight.

HISTORICALLY IMPORTANT

In a way, the event is as historically important as the driving of the golden spike. That was on May 10, 1869, at Promontory, Utah, when white-bearded Gov. Leland Stanford of California raised a silver maul high overhead and drove home a gold spike completing the final link in the nation's first transcontinental rail system.

Next Sunday's flight by Pan American World Airways ushers in another new era.

But on the score of international rivalry, it is a tardy start. The British—who pioneered commercial jet flying in 1952 only to be hatted by disaster—beat Pan American to the punch two weeks ago in the race to be the first across the Atlantic with a jet payload.

On Oct. 5, two British Overseas Airways Corp. (BOAC) Comet IVs crossed the Atlantic in both directions, cutting conventional air travel time in half.

★ ★ ★

Nevertheless, enthusiasm is high over the coming American effort.

More than 1,978 would-be passengers have applied for seats on the inaugural flight in Pan American's six-million-dollar Boeing 707, which has a cruising speed of 575 m.p.h. and a range of 4,400 miles.

The plane will carry only 111 passengers and nine crew members, including four stewardesses, but later thrift flights will carry as many as 179 passengers.

On Jan. 11, American Airlines will inaugurate domestic service with daily jet flights between New York and the West Coast. Other major airlines will switch to jets as soon as the planes become available.

10-MINUTE FLIGHT?

It will soon be commonplace in the new Jet Age for an American businessman in Paris to consult an airlines time table and cable his wife in New York:

"Leaving Paris 6 p.m. Meet me at Idlewild Airport at 6:10 p.m."

Fantastic? Yes, but true—by the clock. Actual flying time would be six hours and 10 minutes, but Paris time runs six hours later than New York time. When it's 6 p.m. in Paris, it is only noon in New York.

With the advent of jet travel, it will be possible to leave New York at 9 a.m. and arrive in Honolulu at 5 p.m.

And where it was 80 days around the world in Jules Verne's day, jet passengers will fly around the globe in 40 hours.

Even as the airlines prepare to shift from 350-m.p.h. propellor planes to 600-m.p.h. jets, engineers are quietly charting a supersonic jet age in which big skyliners will rocket from coast-to-coast at 2,000 miles an hour.

Airplane manufacturers, understandably, aren't saying much about it. Right now they are working on a huge backlog of orders for the first commercial jets. They don't want to encourage the idea that costly new equipment may become obsolete within a few years.

Boeing, for example, has orders for 187 commercial jets, including three for the White House. Douglas has orders for 138 at a cost of 700 million dollars.

According to aviation circles, Douglas Aircraft is well along on designs for a Mach 2 passenger transport and may have such a plane in the air within two years. Mach is the speed of sound; at 30,000 feet it is 680 m.p.h.

And in Burbank, Calif., Vice President Hall Hibbard of Lockheed Aircraft is talking about 1965 as the target date for a Mach 3 passenger plane to cruise at 2,000 m.p.h. At such a clip, it would zoom across the Atlantic from New York in two hours.

Far East Tension Elevates Grains

CHICAGO (AP) — Resumption of hostilities in the Formosa Strait resulted in increased demand for grain futures on the board of trade today.

Prices moved higher for nearly all grains in a fairly active early trade. Demand for soybeans pushed the March and May contracts up more than a cent a bushel at the opening, with other deliveries not far behind.

★ ★ ★

The rush of buying was attributed to nervousness over the Far East situation, with the Reds making new charges against this country.

Corn advanced at the outset on the first good demand in more than a week. Both local traders and cash houses were the best buyers and a large export house was the biggest seller.

Activity in wheat was limited. There was not much selling and this tended to move the bread grain higher.

Near the end of the first hour, wheat was unchanged to ⅛ higher, Dec. $1.95⅞; corn ⅛ higher to ⅛ lower, old style Dec. $1.10⅝; oats unchanged to ⅛ lower, Dec. 64½; rye ⅝ to ⅝ higher, Dec. $1.30; and soybeans ¼ to ½ higher, Nov. $2.13⅞.

13-State Alarm Out for Lad Pedaling West to See Grandma

POMPTON LAKES, N.J. (UPI)—A 13-state alarm was out today for a seven-year-old boy who ran away from home Oct. 16 on a girl's bicycle.

He said he was going to his grandmother's house — in Tacoma, Wash.

★ ★ ★

State Troopers from New Jersey and Pennsylvania were urged to keep a special alert for Paul Grochowicz who was last seen Friday at a service station about 15 miles from home.

Local police said the search thus far had concentrated along Rte. 46 leading to Pennsylvania.

A Civil Air Patrol plane is also searching the heavily-traveled highway, which leads to Pennsylvania and the West.

Police Chief William F. Charles discounted the possibility of foul play and believes the boy is heading towards Easton, Pa.

"He told children in his neighborhood that he was going to his grandmother's in Washington," Charles said.

A small boy answering Paul's description was seen Friday afternoon at a service station on Rte. 46 near Caldwell.

The station owner said the boy, who was wearing a white T-shirt and black trousers, headed west on the highway on a bike.

★ ★ ★

The boy's father, Peter, moved his family to Pompton Lakes from Tacoma a few weeks ago when he was transferred to this area by the Boeing Airplane Co.

The father said his son had been "very depressed" lately.

The Grochowicz's have two other children.

Paul is described as 4 feet, 1 inch tall, with blue eyes and brown hair.

Stewart-Glenn Store Readied for January

Construction is under way at a S. Telegraph road site on which Stewart-Glenn Co. will open its new furniture store sometime in January.

Addison K. Oakley, secretary-manager of the old store at 86-96 S. Saginaw St. and manager for the new store, announced a clearance sale is now going on at the old building. Stewart-Glenn Co. has been located there for the past 41 years, he noted.

★ ★ ★

The new store, near Molls Interior Furnishings store at 1666 S. Telegraph Rd., will be 100 by 125 feet and will feature mostly Early American and contemporary furniture.

Oakley said the company expects to close out business at the present site, opposite Auburn avenue, sometime in December.

Gains by Stocks Run Over Point

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market was mostly higher in early trading today.

Gains in key issues ran from fractions to a little more than a point. There was a good sprinkling of losses in the same range. Motors were the strongest group.

★ ★ ★

Turnover was heavy, but not quite as hectic as the past few sessions. The ticker tape was late for about six minutes shortly after the opening.

American Motors rose around a point and Chrysler almost two in a heavily traded motors division. General Motors was ahead a fraction and unusually active.

Business news was generally favorable. There were signs that auto industry operations, harassed by labor troubles the past several weeks, may be back to normal shortly.

★ ★ ★

Aircrafts and tobaccos were up fractions. Otherwise demand centered in individual issues.

Pfizer, Du Pont, Jones & Laughlin and U.S. Rubber rose about a point.

Boeing, General Dynamics, Westinghouse, Lorillard, American Smelting and International Telephone & Telegraph advanced ½ point or more.

Act on Fire Truck at Waterford

Will Set Date to Open New Bids, Consider Subdivision Issues

Revised specifications for a new Waterford Township fire truck will be presented to the township board at tonight's regular meeting, according to Clerk James Seeterlin.

A date also will be set for opening of new bids for the fire truck. Bids had been asked and opened last month, but board members were not satisfied with the specifications and all bids were discarded for further study.

★ ★ ★

In other business, a date will be set for opening bids for the sale of $35,000 in bonds for extension of a water line on Cass Lake road from Lincolnshire avenue to Venice-of-the-Lakes Subdivision.

The Furler-Cresthaven Subdivision plat, located on Cooley near Elizabeth Lake road, will be presented for discussion. The plat was tabled last week due to inadequate lot sizes.

A proposal to revise the township heating code, to meet requirements of the National Heating Council, will be discussed.

The board has received a check for $78 covering the cost of 22 "no parking" signs from the Merriwaters Subdivision Assn. The signs will be erected in the Cass-Dodge Park area, with the township paying the cost of installation.

★ ★ ★

Another request from the Ideal Country Club Subdivision for a large street sign to be installed at its beach park, has been received and board members will take action on this project, Seeterlin said.

Following the regular township board meeting, the same group will have a special Board of Health meeting.

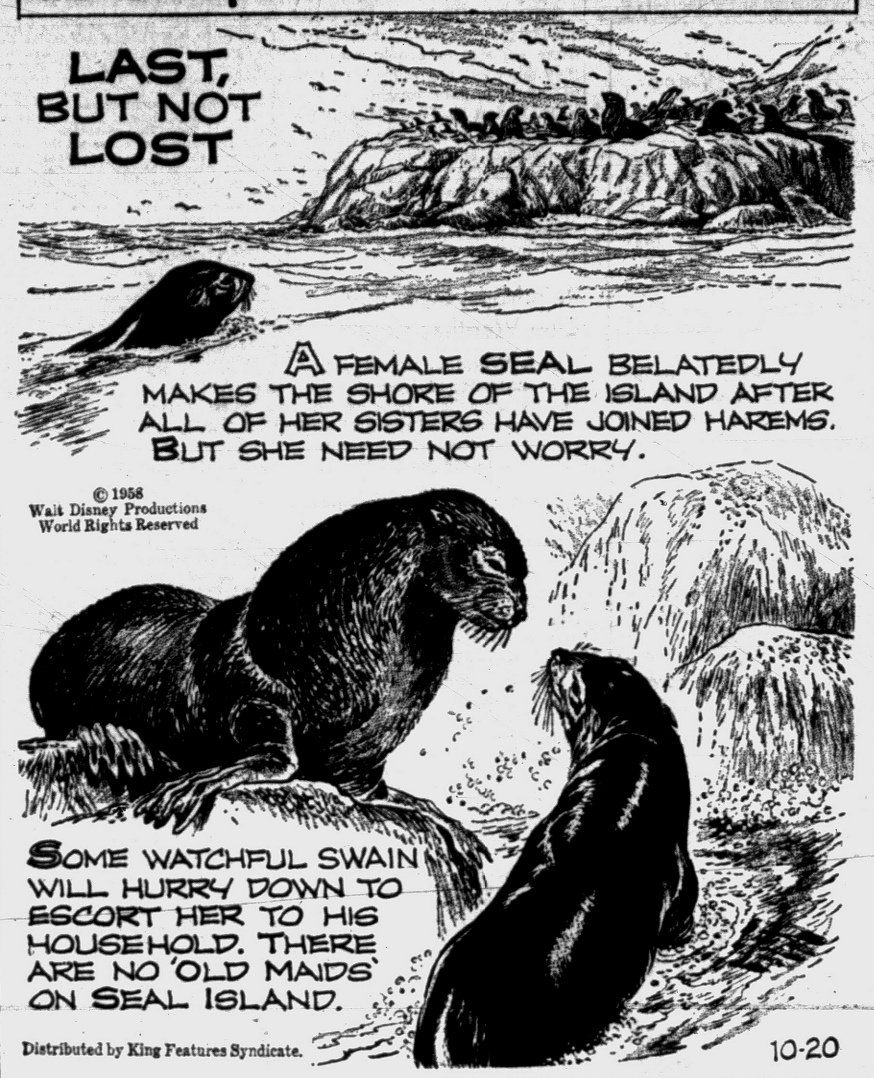
WALT DISNEY'S True Life Adventures



Competition Growing

Business Machines Take Fore

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Paper work mounts in recession or recovery. And machines and methods for handling or thwarting it fascinate businessmen almost as much as coming jaunts into outer space.

As the making of business gadgets prospers, foreign makers of equipment are invading this market, and more American companies are branching out into dictating machines or computers.

★ ★ ★

The competition has grown markedly for orders from businessmen bowed under the weight of paper work and the growing cost of clerical staffs, and seeking more efficient machines, and if possible cheaper ones.

Of the 370 exhibits at the National Business Show opening here Monday, 10 per cent are by foreign manufacturers, and their exhibits cover 14 per cent of the five acres of display space, or just about double the foreign sector of last year's show.

Foreign equipment runs from inks, dictating machines, adders and calculators, to duplicating and copying machines, typewriters, telephones and telephonic equipment.

American competitors note that their foreign rivals have learned three sales gimmicks. This year the foreign products look more like American ones in style and color. Their promotion through booklets and catalogs is very much along American lines. And they have taken a leaf from the foreign car makers and are now stressing service to overcome the former doubts of customers as to problems of getting parts and repairs.

★ ★ ★

Into the field are coming more American competitors, too. A company long known for radio and TV sets is using the show to introduce its new computer. Another company best known for its musical and dental equipment is introducing a magazine-loaded dictating machine.

Other manufacturers exhibiting in the show are more widely known as makers of paper products, photographic equipment, or adhesive tape.

★ ★ ★

The chief style revolution this year among basic office machines —the typewriters, adders, dictation gadgets—is to make them as small as efficiency permits, as easy to operate as can be, and as portable as possible.

Becomes Airman's Bride in Presbyterian Ceremony

MILFORD — Loleta Mae Warner became the bride of Airman Third Class Fredrick N. Robinson in a double-ring ceremony at Milford Presbyterian Church.

★ ★ ★

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl J. Warner of 4591 Kensington Rd., Milford. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Glen Robinson of 9100 Davisburg Rd., Clarkston.

Given in marriage by her father, the new Mrs. Robinson wore a waltz-length gown of Chantilly lace over satin, featuring a back panel of ruffles.

Her fingertip veil fell from a cap of iridescent sequins and pearls and she carried a bouquet of white roses and carnations.

★ ★ ★

Maid of honor was the bride's cousin, Ann Benjamin of Bay City. Another cousin, Lynn Tottingham of Drayton Plains, was junior bridesmaid.

★ ★ ★

Best man was the bridegroom's brother-in-law, Norman Roberts of Southfield Township. Ushers were Buddy Furman of Clarkston and Kendall and Roger Warner, the bride's brothers.

The reception was held in the White Lake Town Hall following the ceremony.

Dems Less Certain of Landslide Victory

WASHINGTON (AP)—With two weeks of campaigning left, some Democrats are beginning to revise downward their earlier estimates of a landslide victory in the congressional election.

Former President Harry S. Truman preached caution to the Democrats in public and private appearances here during the weekend.

Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas is satisfied the Democrats are going to strengthen their hold on the Senate, where they now outnumber the Republicans 49-47 excluding a gain in Maine. But he apparently is taking with a grain of salt reports to the Democratic Senatorial Campaign Committee indicating a Democratic landslide.

Looking back at 1954, some Democrats concede that President Eisenhower was able to cut Republican losses by last-minute campaigning. These strategists credit Vice President Nixon with giving the Republicans new hope with his campaigning.

Airlift From Lebanon

BEIRUT, Lebanon (UPI) — Huge transport planes airlifted American paratroopers back to Germany today in the final phase of the U.S. troop withdrawal from Lebanon. Informed sources said the evacuation should end this week.

Doesn't Approve of Piano's Tone, Artist Walks Out

LIVERPOOL, England (UPI) — It was to have been a rare treat for music lovers in this northern city yesterday — American concert pianist Julius Katchen drove 250 miles from London to give a Beethoven recital.

★ ★ ★

An audience of nearly 200 settled back as the maestro strode onto the stage and sat down at the big concert grand in the new Shakespeare Theater.

★ ★ ★

Katchen flicked his hands up and down the scales, frowned, and played some more scales.

Still frowning he said "I don't like the sound of it. I don't think I had better play it."

And he marched off, climbed into his car, and drove back to London.

Romeo Man Nabbed in Break-In Attempt

Two alert Oakland County Sheriff's Deputies spotted a burglary suspect early Sunday morning and then flushed him from bushes near an Orion Township store.

Deputies Donald J. Johnston and James W. Stites were on patrol when they noticed a man in front of Walters Hardware Store, at the Judah Lake Shopping Center, 3898 Joslyn.

★ ★ ★

The deputies watched as the suspect raised a hammer over his head and smashed a front door window, they said.

Charles Alverson Jr., of 3370 28 Mile Rd., Romeo, fled when he saw the deputies approaching, but they fired several shots over his head and he surrendered, they reported.

Ford Loses Claim to $8 Million Refund

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ford Motor Co. lost in the Supreme Court today a multimillion-dollar claim to refund of excise taxes because of cash credits allowed dealers for correcting defects in vehicles.

★ ★ ★

The high court refused to consider the case. It thereby let stand a decision by the U.S. Court of Claims which rejected Ford's contentions.

Ford asked a refund of $8,899,547 for a period from Aug. 1, 1949, to Dec. 31, 1954. But millions of dollars additional were involved.

Had Ford's contentions as to proper interpretation of the tax laws been upheld, other manufactures of various articles subject to excise taxes could also have sought refunds.

★ ★ ★

The Court of Claims ruled that the cash payments and credit allowed dealers were not a readjustment of sales prices or rebates or allowances within the meaning of the tax laws.

Truman Plugs for Harriman

Tells New York Press 'Rockefeller Was Only PR Man for Dems'

NEW YORK (AP)—Harry S. Truman jumped into New York State's election campaign today by terming Republican Nelson A. Rockefeller's work for two Democratic Presidents as that of "just a public relations man."

Rockefeller is running for the governorship against Averell Harriman, Democratic incumbent.

★ ★ ★

"You people ought not to turn down a man like the governor, who is a good administrator," the ex-President told reporters during a morning stroll.

"If Harriman does not win, then you ought to get what's coming to you, and no doubt will."

Rockefeller, Truman declared, "was just a public relations man for President Roosevelt and myself. He had no administrative duties and thus he's had no experience."

★ ★ ★

Last month, in a campaign trip through the Hudson Valley with Harriman, Truman said of Rockefeller: "He did a good job wherever he went, just like President Hoover."

"The only thing wrong with Rockefeller is he's a Republican," Truman said at that time.

★ ★ ★

Under President Roosevelt, Rockefeller served as coordinator for the Office of Inter-American Affairs 1940-44, then for a year was an assistant secretary of state. In 1950-51 he served Truman as a member of the International Development Advisory Board. He has also held several administrative posts under President Eisenhower.

Truman, as is his wont during strolls with the press, touched on a number of other affairs, domestic and foreign.

★ ★ ★

Asked to comment on the report Red China had abrogated the Quemoy cease-fire, he replied: "Was not that what you had expected? Did you ever know a Communist to tell the truth and stick to it?"

Truman will be in the New York area until next Sunday, making several personal appearances and speeches. Tuesday he goes to Newcastle, Pa., then proceeds to Wilmington, Del., and Boston.

Gathering Data in Bomb Probe

Officers Not Sure Yet Air Traveler - Victim Killed Himself

WICHITA, Kan. (UPI)—Officers trying to determine definitely whether Forrest McCuiston traveled the nation's airlines carrying the bomb that blew him apart in the Wichita Airport last Friday centered their attention today on Las Vegas, Nev.

★ ★ ★

A 15-hour stop at Las Vegas was the last opportunity McCuiston had, prior to his arrival here, to assemble the bomb, Chief of Police Eugene Pond said. Later stops were too brief, or were not planned by the 36-year-old Tulsa, Okla., aircraft design engineer, he said.

★ ★ ★

Pond predicted completion of the investigation before the end of the week when a coroner's jury, which viewed the body Saturday night and then recessed, was to reassemble for a "full report."

Police released the body to McCuiston's father, F. D. McCuiston, and early yesterday it was taken by ambulance to Jenks, Okla., near Tulsa, for burial.

★ ★ ★

Pond said evidence that McCuiston deliberately blew himself up continued to mount.

"But there's always a possibility," he said, "that somebody gave him the bomb."

Another police source, who declined to be identified by name, said officers held a growing belief that McCuiston made the bomb before he left his home at Tulsa and carried it with him while he traveled thousands of miles on five major airlines.

Ford Plants Plan to Work Overtime

NEW YORK (AP) — Ford Motor Co.'s Mercury-Edsel-Lincoln assembly plants are going on overtime schedules, Ben D. Mills, Ford vice president and division general manager, said today.

★ ★ ★

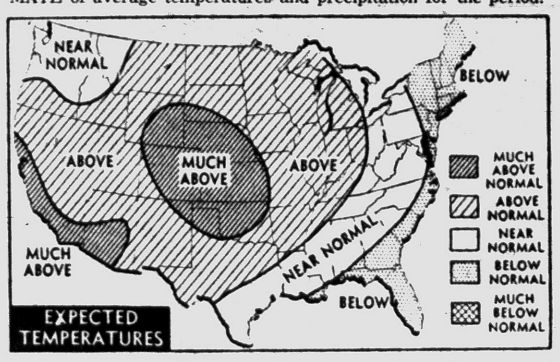
Overtime is made necessary by dealer orders for 1959 cars, he said, and the exact amount required in each plant will be determined by the ability of suppliers to furnish parts.

★ ★ ★

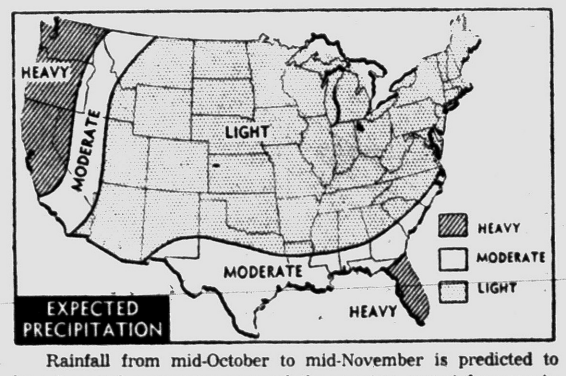
The M-E-L division is still feeling the effects of parts shortages resulting from work stoppages during the recent labor negotiations, Mills added.

Mills was here for one of a series of meetings with dealers. He forecast a "much better year" in 1959 for the autombile business.

WARMING NEWS — Weather maps below show the U. S. Weather Bureau's 30-day forecast for mid-October to mid-November. It is not a specific forecast in the usual sense, but an ESTIMATE of average temperatures and precipitation for the period.



Temperatures will average above seasonal normals over most of the nation during the period from mid-October to mid-November, except for near to below normal east of the Appalachians, along the Gulf Coast and in the Pacific Northwest.



Rainfall from mid-October to mid-November is predicted to be subnormal over most areas of the country, except for near to above normal in the western quarter and also along the Gulf Coast.

Little Rock Private School Begins Operation Today

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — Little Rock today lays the cornerstone of a bold program to evade school integration with registration of students in a private, segregated school for white seniors.

Volunteer workers labored almost around the clock for the past three days, readying a 32-classroom building in which an estimated 500 students will realize their first opportunity to attend school this year. They will not have to pay tuition at this time.

★ ★ ★

Actual classroom work will begin Tuesday, just 39 days after Gov. Orval E. Faubus invoked a new state law to shut down public high schools in the face of an immediate integration order from the U.S. Supreme Court.

The Little Rock Private School Corp. will finance the new school with funds from public subscription.

The building, formerly occupied by a University of Arkansas graduate facility, was leased only Thursday. Desks, blackboards and other furniture were moved in over the weekend.

★ ★ ★

W. C. Brashears, school superintendent for the corporation, said classes will open for 12th graders.

"We felt we ought to take care of the seniors first because they've got to be ready for classes next fall," Brashears said. "But we haven't forgot the underclassmen. We're working toward a lease on a building for them, but I can't say now when we can take them."

Availability of qualified teachers continued as the main stumbling block. By scraping the barrel for retired educators and those who had voluntarily left the profession, Brashears found enough teachers to staff a faculty for seniors.

★ ★ ★

The entire faculties and administrative staffs of the closed high schools are prohibited from working for the private corporation by a federal court restraining order, the same order which forced the private school corporation to abandon its original plan of using the closed public school buildings for its classes.

Only basic courses for college entrance will be taught initially at the new school, which lacks the modern facilities and extensive equipment of the closed schools.

An estimated 3,600 high school students, white and Negro, were left without schools after the Faubus closing order. An estimated 900 pupils, including 200 Negroes, since have transferred to schools outside the Little Rock district.

No provision has been made for private schools for Negroes, but the Board of Trustees of Arkansas Baptist College for Negroes meets this afternoon to consider the possibility of operating a high school branch.

Two white Baptist colleges are registering students for high school academies.

Hidden Voice Cautions Cleveland Pedestrians

CLEVELAND (UPI) — A voice, seemingly out of nowhere, warns pedestrians in Cleveland to be careful crossing the street.

The voice is a tape recording mounted on a post near a busy intersection. It cautions pedestrians "to stay on the curb, cross only with the 'walk' signals, and beware of turning cars."

The tape can be moved from one intersection to another in 15 minutes. The device cost about $200.

Lame Veteran Dashes to Catch Falling Child

NEW YORK (UPI) — Benjamin Kroczak, a 54-year-old Brooklyn grocer, was standing across the street from his store, looked up and saw two-year-old Stephen May tottering on a third-floor window sill.

Kroczak, who limps from a wound suffered during World War II, dashed across the street, braced himself and caught Stephen as he fell. Neither was injured.

3 Tickets in 10 Minutes Exceeds Speed Limit

WILDWOOD, N. J. (UPI)—Albert Mabray Jr., 22, received one ticket for careless driving and another for not having his registration with him after his auto was involved in a collision.

Five minutes after police sent Mabray on his way, they ticketed him again—this time for driving 75 miles an hour in a 50-mile-an-hour zone.

Will Reopen When Pope Is Selected

Shut Sistine Chapel Doors

VATICAN CITY (AP) — The young American naval officer took a long look at the walnut door bearing the arms of the Medici popes.

"The Sistine Chapel is closed," said a sign in four languages.

Ens. Martin Mand of Norfolk, Va., looked disappointed. He had come to Rome on a weekend pass from Port Lyautey, Morocco, hitching a ride to Naples on a cargo plane.

★ ★ ★

"The walnut doors will not open again to the public before the world knows the name of the new Pope, the spiritual leader of 500 million Catholics," explained the Italian woman guide in heavily accented English.

The Sistine Chapel, the guide explained, will serve as the election booth when the princes of the church begin electing a successor to Pope Pius XII next weekend.

★ ★ ★

"And the door over here"—all turned their heads—"leads to the Hall of the Popes where the cardinals will have their meals during the conclave.

"You are fortunate," the guide continued, "because tomorrow you won't even be able to enter the rooms you are now in."

Almost a fifth of Vatican City will be barred to outsiders during the conclave beginning Saturday.

About 500 persons have been put to work.

★ ★ ★

Curtains now cover the windows of the Loggia of Raphael, decorated by the famous Italian painter a few years before he died at 37.

A bulky member of the American tourist group lifted up a corner of the curtain to peep down on the square below.

"Please," said a green-uniformed official, "please stay away from the curtain. There is nothing to be seen."

This was true. But sometimes the cardinals in charge of preparations for the conclave cross the square, and they like privacy.

★ ★ ★

"The Loggia and all the adjoining rooms, up to the Hall of the Geographical Maps, will all be barred to the public from tomorrow," the guide said.

The flock of tourists turned for the long walk back to the exit.

Saving Steps at Work Brings Gain in Weight

CHICAGO (UPI) — A University of Pittsburgh doctor has given some support to people who say they don't eat any more than usual but still gain weight.

Dr. Robert E. Olson blames the weight gain on a subtle slowdown in physical activity.

He said the middle-aged male and female unconsciously figure out ways to save steps and avoid physical exertion and that's what adds to their weight.

Raindrops' Size May Clue Weather Control

NEW YORK — Scientists have little knowledge of raindrops' sizes. Determining their sizes is being regarded as one of the first steps toward possible weather control, according to the publication, Electronics.

One professor of meteorology believes the knowledge will be useful for a variety of things, such as helping reduce erosion of newly planted land and improving radar detection of storms so as to determine the amount and type of rain in them.

Four new insecticides are made from synthetic copies of substances which are found in chrysanthemums.

Section 4. There are hereby authorized to be issued and sold pursuant to the provisions of Act No. 94, Michigan Public Acts of 1933, as amended, revenue bonds in the aggregate principal sum of One Hundred Seventy-Five Thousand Dollars ($175,000), for the purpose of defraying a part of the cost of the said project, the balance to be paid from other funds available therefor. Said bonds shall be known as "Automobile Parking System No. 2 Revenue Bonds", shall be dated as of December 1, 1958 shall be numbered consecutively in the direct order of their maturities from 1 to 175, both inclusive; shall be coupon bonds in the denomination of $1,000 each; shall be registerable as to principal only, in the manner hereinafter set forth in the bond form; shall bear interest at a rate or rates to be hereafter determined not exceeding 5% per annum, payable on July 1, 1959, and thereafter semi-annually on the first days of January and July in each year; and shall mature on January first in each year as follows: $5,000 in each of the years 1961 and 1962, $10,000 in each of the years 1963 thru 1968, and $15,000 in each of the years 1969 thru 1975. Each bond called for redemption shall be redeemed at the par value thereof and accrued interest, plus a premium in accordance with the following schedule, to-wit:

$50 if called to be redeemed on or after January 1, 1964, but prior to January 1, 1967.

$40 if called to be redeemed on or after January 1, 1967, but prior to January 1, 1970.

$10 if called to be redeemed on or after January 1, 1972.

Notice of redemption shall be given to the holders of the bonds to be redeemed by publication of such notice not less than thirty (30) days prior to the date fixed for redemption at least once in a newspaper or publication circulated in the City of Detroit, Michigan, which carries as a part of its regular service, notices of the sale of municipal bonds; provided, that where any bond shall be registered, then notice of the redemption thereof shall be given by registered United States mail addressed to the registered holder thereof at the address shown on the bond registration books of the Director of Finance of the City, which notice shall be mailed not less than thirty (30) days prior to the date fixed for redemption. Bonds so called for redemption shall not bear interest after the date fixed for redemption, provided funds are on hand with the paying agent to redeem the same.

The principal of said bonds and the interest thereon shall be payable in lawful money of the United States of America at such bank or trust company as shall be designated by the original purchaser of the bonds upon presentation and surrender of said bonds and attached coupons as they severally mature.

Section 5. The Mayor and City Clerk of the City shall execute said bonds for and on behalf of the City by respectively signing and attesting the same and by affixing the seal of the City thereto, and shall execute the interest coupons to be attached to said bonds by causing to be affixed thereto their facsimile signatures. Upon the execution of said bonds and attached coupons, the same shall be delivered to the Treasurer of the City who is hereby authorized and directed to deliver said bonds and attached coupons to the purchaser thereof as hereafter determined by the Commission, upon receipt of the purchase price therefor.

Section 6. The bonds herein authorized shall be sold in the manner provided in Section 12 of Act No. 94, Michigan Public Acts of 1933, as amended.

Section 7. Said bonds and attached coupons shall not be a general obligation of the City and shall not be an indebtedness of the City within any state constitutional provision or satutory limitation or charter limitation. The principal of and interest on said bonds shall be payable solely from the net revenues derived from the operation of the system, including future improvements, enlargements and extensions thereof. To secure the payment of the principal of and interest on the bonds issued hereunder and on any additional bonds of equal standing issued as hereinafter provided, there is hereby created in favor of the holders of said bonds and the interest coupons pertaining thereto, and each of such holders, a first lien (by said Act No. 94, Michigan Public Acts of 1933, as amended, made a statutory lien) upon the net revenues from the said system, including future improvements, enlargements and extensions thereof. The net revenues so pledged shall be and remain subject to said lien until the payment in full of the principal of and interest on said bonds.

Section 8. The holder or holders of any of the bonds or interest coupons herein authorized to be issued, shall have all the rights and remedies given by law and particularly by said Act No. 94, Michigan Public Acts of 1933 as amended, for the collection and enforcement of said bonds and coupons and the security therefor, including the right to have a receiver appointed for the system in event of default on the part of the City in the performance of the terms of the bond contract.

Section 9. The system shall be operated upon the basis of a fiscal year beginning on January 1st of each year and ending on December 31st of the same year.

Section 10. The operation, maintenance and management of the system shall be under the control of the Commission and administered by the City Manager or such other person or body as shall be designated or created by the Commission. Parking regulations shall be enforced by the Police Department in accordance with enforcement ordinances from time to time in effect.

Section 11. Parking fees for each vehicle in all metered spaces in said District No. 2 shall be five (5) cents for each sixty minutes or fraction thereof. These fees shall be effective between the hours of 8:00 a.m. and 9:00 p.m. in each day, provided that said effective hours may be extended by the Commission. The above fees shall be deemed to be minimum fees and may be increased by the Commission. Each parking meter in said District No. 2 shall provide such time limit as shall be fixed by the Commission.

If any other off-street automobile parking facilities for public use are operated by the City, then the fees for parking therein shall be comparable with those charged for parking in said District No. 2, after giving due consideration to the accommodations.

While any of the bonds herein authorized are outstanding, the City shall have in effect an ordinance providing for the enforcement of the parking fees, which ordinance shall provide penalties for parking in any metered space, without the payment of the fees therefor. Said ordinance shall not be less efficacious therefor than the City's Ordinance No. 1364.

Section 12. The rates hereinbefore established are estimated to be sufficient to provide for the payment of the expenses of administration and operation of the system and such expenses for the maintenance thereof as may be necessary to preserve the same in good repair and working order; to provide for the payment of the interest upon and the principal of all bonds payable therefrom, as and when the same shall become due and payable, and for the creation of a reserve for the payment of principal and interest as required in this ordinance; and to provide for such other expenditures and funds for the system as are required by this ordinance. Rates shall be fixed and revised from time to time by the Commission so as to produce the foregoing amounts, and the City covenants and agrees to maintain at all times such rates for services furnished by the system as shall be sufficient to provide for the foregoing.

Section 13. The revenues of the system are hereby pledged for the purpose of the following funds and as collected shall be set aside into a fund to be known as the "Receiving Fund" of the system, and shall be transferred therefrom periodically into separate and special funds, as follows:

1. Operation and Maintenance Fund. Out of the revenues in the Receiving Fund there shall be first set aside in each month into a fund to be designated "Operation and Maintenance Fund," a sum sufficient to provide for the payment for the next month of all current expenses of administration and operation of the system and such current expenses for the maintenance thereof as may be necessary to preserve the system in good repair and working order. The Commission at the beginning of each fiscal year, shall adopt a budget covering the foregoing expenses for such year, and such expenses shall not exceed the amount specified in said budget except by a vote of two-thirds of the members of the Commission declaring the absolute necessity of such additional expenditures. In adopting said budget and in setting aside moneys from time to time in said Operation and Maintenance Fund, the amount included for the payment of the cost of enforcement of parking regulations shall not exceed 15 per cent of the gross revenues.

2. Bond and Interest Redemption Fund. Out of the remaining revenues in the Receiving Fund, there shall be next set aside each month into a fund to be designated "Bond and Interest Redemption Fund," a sum, proportionately sufficient to provide for the payment, as the same become due and payable, of the next maturing principal and interest on each issue of bonds then payable from the revenues of the system; provided, that the amount so set aside for each of the bonds herein authorized, in each month during the first six (6) months of each fiscal year, shall not be less than one-sixth (1-6th) of the total amount of interest (not capitalized) maturing on the following July first, and during the last six (6) months of each fiscal year shall not be less than one-sixth (1-6th) of the total amount of interest (not capitalized) maturing on the following January first, and the amount so set aside for principal on the bonds herein authorized, in each month during each fiscal year shall not be less than one-twelfth (1-12th) of the amount of principal maturing on the January first immediately following such fiscal year, and if there shall be any deficiency in the amount previously set aside, then the amount of such deficiency shall be added to the current requirement. In addition thereto, there shall also be set aside in monthly installments for the purpose of creating a reserve in said Bond and Interest Redemption Fund, for the bonds herein authorized, a sum not less than $3,000 per year during each fiscal year commencing with the fiscal year beginning, January 1, 1960 until said reserve shall equal at least $18,000, and if at any time thereafter said reserve shall be less than $18,000 then there shall be set aside in said reserve monthly a sum sufficient to restore said reserve to $18,000 at the earliest possible time. If any additional bonds of equal standing shall be issued, the authorizing ordinance shall provide for a comparable reserve therefor. Moneys in said Bond and Interest Redemption Fund may be used for the redemption of bonds, provided, that except in case of refunding, no bonds of any issue less than all the outstanding bonds of said issue, shall be called for redemption unless the City shall have on hand in said fund sufficient moneys therefor not otherwise appropriated or pledged, in excess of the amount of interest and principal maturing on bonds of issues then payable from the revenues of the system within the next eighteen (18) months from the redemption date, and for the purpose of determining the amount on hand, moneys in the reserve shall not be considered as appropriated or pledged. In any case where moneys are available for redemption of bonds, such moneys may be used instead to purchase bonds on the open market at the best price or prices obtainable but not in excess of the then redemption price. When the principal amount owing upon any bonds shall be reduced to the amount of the reserve therefor, then the principal of such bonds shall be paid from such reserve. In respect to the allocation and use of moneys in said Bond and Interest Redemption Fund, due recognition shall be given as to priority rights, if any, between different issues or series of outstanding bonds.

3. Replacement Fund. Out of the remaining revenues in the Receiving Fund, there shall be next set aside in equal quarterly installments in a fund to be designated "Replacement Fund," a sum not less than $1,000 per year commencing with the fiscal year beginning January 1, 1961, until such fund shall reach at least $5,000 to build up a reserve for any replacements to the system which may become necessary from time to time. Whenever moneys shall be used from said fund to make such replacements, said fund shall be restored to the sum of $5,000 as soon as possible thereafter.

4. Improvement Fund. Out of the remaining revenues in the Receiving Fund, there may be set aside in any quarter (3 months), after meeting the requirements for the foregoing funds for such quarter, in a fund to be designated "Improvement Fund," such sum as the Commission may deem advisable, to be used for improvements, enlargements, extensions and repairs to the automobile parking system.

5. Surplus Fund. Revenues remaining in said Receiving Fund at the end of any fiscal year after all periodical transfers have been made therefrom as above required, shall be deemed to be surplus and may be left in the Receiving Fund or may be transferred to a fund to be designated "Surplus Fund." Moneys in said Surplus Fund from time to time may be transferred to one or more of the foregoing funds or may be used to repay to the City the moneys advanced towards the cost of acquiring the project hereinbefore described, or to acquire, establish, operate and maintain additional automobile parking facilities in said City, or may be transferred to the general fund of the City to be used for the regulation and control of traffic within the City; provided, however, that if at any time there shall exist any default in making any periodical transfer to any of the above mentioned funds, then such default shall be rectified so far as possible by the transfer of moneys from said Surplus Fund. If any such default shall exist as to more than one fund at any one time, then such transfers shall be made in the order in which such funds are listed above.

No disbursements shall be made from said Receiving Fund except to the special funds as above provided.

Section 14. In the event that moneys in the Receiving Fund are insufficient to provide for the current requirements of the Operation and Maintenance Fund or the Bond and Interest Redemption Fund, any moneys and-or securities in other funds of the system shall be transferred, first, to the Operation and Maintenance Fund, and, second, to the Bond and Interest Redemption Fund, to the extent of any deficits therein. Any amount so transferred from the Replacement Fund shall be replaced as soon as possible.

Section 15. All moneys in the several funds of the system except those in the Bond and Interest Redemption Fund, shall be deposited with the Community National Bank or Pontiac State Bank in the City of Pontiac, Michigan. All moneys from time to time in the Bond and Interest Redemption Fund (including reserve moneys) shall be kept on hand with the bank or trust company at which the principal and interest on the herein authorized bonds are currently payable. The moneys in the Receiving Fund, in the Operation and Maintenance Fund and in the Bond and Interest Redemption Fund, shall each be kept in a separate depository account. Moneys in the Bond and Interest Redemption Fund over and above those being accumulated for the payment of the next maturing principal and interest, and moneys in any other fund except the Receiving Fund and the Operation and Maintenance Fund, may be invested in United States Government obligations. In the event of any such investment, the securities representing the same shall be kept on deposit with the bank or trust company having the deposit of the fund from which such purchase was made and the income therefrom shall become a part of such fund.

Section 16. The City hereby covenants and agrees with the holder or holders, from time to time, of the bonds herein proposed to be issued, that it will punctually perform all duties with reference to the system and said bonds required by the constitution and laws of the State of Michigan and the charter of the City and by this ordinance; that it will construct the project herein provided for in substantial accordance with the maps, plans and specifications hereinbefore referred to, and will have the same in operation on or before the 1st day of July, 1959; that it will not, sell, lease, mortgage or in any manner dispose of the system or any substantial part thereof, until all bonds payable from the revenues thereof shall have been paid in full. Said City further covenants and agrees with the holders of said bonds that it will maintain said system in good condition and operate the same in an efficient manner and at a reasonable cost, so long as any of said bonds are outstanding; that during such time, it will not reduce the number of parking meters in said system below the number to be installed under this ordinance or change the location thereof, if the same would reduce the net revenues of the system below a sum equal to 150 per cent of the largest amount of principal and interest thereafter maturing in any fiscal year on all bonds then outstanding or authorized, which are payable from the net revenues of the system; that it will maintain insurance on the system for the benefit of the holders of said bonds in an amount which usually would be carried by private companies engaged in a similar type of business to protect the revenues of the system against any claim in connection with the operation of the system; that it will prepare, keep and file such records, statements and accounts as may be required by Act No. 94, Michigan Public Acts of 1933, as now or hereafter amended; that it will promptly file with the original purchasers of said bonds a copy of each annual statement which it is required to file with the Municipal Finance Commission and will also file with such purchasers a copy of the Annual Audit of the system certified to by a Certified Public Accountant, within ninety (90) days after the close of each fiscal year; and that it will furnish a copy of the foregoing statement and audit to any bondholder upon payment of the actual cost of such copy. Any such audit shall be in such reasonable detail as will present the full financial condition of the system to the holders of bonds and shall include auditor's comments on the manner in which the system's management has complied with the provisions of this ordinance in respect to the several funds of the system.

Section 17. While any of the bonds herein authorized to be issued shall be outstanding, no additional bonds payable from the revenues of the system shall be issued which shall have a prior or equal standing therewith, except as hereinafter provided. The City shall have the right to issue additional bonds of equal standing in a sum not to exceed Twenty Five Thousand Dollars ($25,000) for the completion of the project herein described in event the bonds herein authorized shall prove to be insufficient therefor. The City shall also have the right to issue additional bonds payable from the net revenues of the system for the purpose of improving, enlarging and-or extending the system, which bonds when issued shall have an equal standing with the bonds herein authorized; provided that no such additional bonds of equal standing shall be issued unless the average net revenues for the then last two preceding fiscal years or the net revenues for the then last preceding fiscal year, whichever shall be lower, plus 50 per cent of the lowest estimated additional net revenues to be derived from the improvements, enlargements and extensions to be financed by such additional bonds, in any fiscal year after the first full fiscal year following the completion thereof, shall be equal to at least 150 per cent of the largest amount of principal and interest thereafter maturing in any fiscal year on any bonds then outstanding payable from the revenues of the system and on such additional bonds then being issued. Such additional net revenues shall be estimated by a Registered Professional Engineer experienced in such matters and not a regular officer or employe of the City. The selection of such engineer shall be subject to disapproval by the Municipal Finance Commission. No such additional bonds shall be issued if the City shall then be in default in making any payments to the Operation and Maintenance Fund or the Bond and Interest Redemption Fund. Permission by the Municipal Finance Commission of the State of Michigan (or such other state commission or agency as shall have jurisdiction over the issuance of municipal bonds) to issue such additional bonds shall constitute a conclusive presumption of the existence of conditions permitting the issuance thereof.

Section 18. The bonds and attached coupons herein authorized to be issued, shall be substantially in the following form, to-wit:

UNITED STATES OF AMERICA

AUTOMOBILE PARKING SYSTEM NO. 2 REVENUE BOND

Know All Men by These Presents, that the City of Pontiac, Oakland County, Michigan, hereby acknowledges that it is indebted and for value received, promises to pay to the bearer hereof (or if this bond be registered, to the registered holder hereof) the sum of

on the first day of January, A.D. 19—— and to pay interest thereon at the rate of ——— (———) per centum per annum, from the date hereof until paid, said interest being payable on July 1, 1959 and thereafter semi-annually on the 1st days of January and July in each year, which principal and interest are to be paid solely out of the revenues hereinafter specified. Both principal and interest are payable in lawful money of the United States of America at ———, in the City of ———, upon presentation and surrender of this bond and the coupons hereto attached as they severally mature.

This bond is one of a series of bonds of like date and tenor except as to maturity numbered consecutively in the direct order of their maturities from 1 to 175, both inclusive, aggregating the principal sum of One Hundred Seventy-Five Thousand Dollars ($175,000) issued by said City of Pontiac under and pursuant to and in full conformity with the constitution and statutes of the State of Michigan (especially Act No. 94 of the Michigan Public Acts of 1933, as amended), the charter of said City and Ordinance No. ——— duly adopted by the Commission of said City on the ——— day of ———, 1958, for the purpose of acquiring Automobile Parking System No. 2 in Automobile Parking District No. 2 in said city.

This bond is a self-liquidating revenue bond, is not a general obligation of said City, and does not constitute an indebtedness of the said City within any constitutional, statutory or charter limitation. The principal of and interest on the bonds of this series are payable solely from the revenues of said Automobile Parking System No. 2 (including future improvements, enlargements and extensions thereof) remaining after deducting the reasonable expenses of the administration, operation and maintenance of said system, and the payment of both the principal of and interest on said bonds, and on any additional bonds of equal standing which may be issued pursuant to the terms of said ordinance, is secured by a statutory first lien on such net revenues.

The bonds of this series maturing on and after January 1, 1965, are subject to redemption prior to maturity at the option of the City, in inverse numerical order, on any one or more interest payment dates on and after January 1, 1964, at the par value thereof and accrued interest plus a premium on each bond in accordance with the following schedule, to-wit:

$50 if called to be redeemed on or after January 1, 1964, but prior to January 1, 1967.

$40 if called to be redeemed on or after January 1, 1967, but prior to January 1, 1970.

$20 if called to be redeemed on or after January 1, 1970, but prior to January 1, 1972.

$10 if called to be redeemed on or after January 1, 1972.

provided, that no bonds less than the entire issue then outstanding shall be called for redemption at any time prior to January 1, 1969. Notice of redemption shall be given to the holders of bonds called to be redeemed, by publication of such notice not less than thirty (30) days prior to the date fixed for redemption, at least once in a newspaper or publication circulated in the City of Detroit, Michigan, which carries as a part of its regular service, notices of the sale of municipal bonds; provided, that where any bond shall be registered, then notice of the redemption thereof shall be given by registered mail addressed to the registered holder thereof at the address shown on the bond registration books of the Director of Finance of said City, which notice shall be mailed within the State of Michigan, not less than thirty (30) days prior to the date fixed for redemption. Bonds so called for redemption shall not bear interest after the date fixed for redemption, provided funds are on hand with the paying agent to redeem the same.

The City of Pontiac hereby covenants and agrees that at all times while any of the bonds of this issue shall be outstanding, it will maintain such rates for services furnished by said Automobile Parking System No. 2 as shall be sufficient to provide for the payment of the expenses of administration and operation of said system and such expenses for the maintenance thereof as may be necessary to preserve the same in good repair and working order; to provide for the payment of the interest upon and the principal of all bonds payable therefrom, as and when the same become due and payable, and for the creation and progress in the bond and interest redemption fund as required in said ordinance; and to provide for such other expenditures and funds for the system as are required by said ordinance. Rates shall be fixed and revised from time to time by the Commission of said City so as to produce the foregoing amounts.

This bond may be registered as to principal only in the name of the holder on the books of the Director of Finance of said City, and such registration noted on the back hereof by said Director of Finance, and thereafter no transfer shall be valid unless made upon the said books and likewise noted on the back hereof. Transferability by delivery may be restored by registration to the bearer. Negotiability of the interest coupons shall not be affected by registration.

It is hereby certified, recited and declared that all acts, conditions and things required to exist, happen and be performed, precedent to and in the issuance of the bonds of this series, existed, have happened and have been performed in due time, form and manner as required by law.

She Is Starring in 'Peter Gunn'

Beautiful Blonde Seen in TV Mystery Series on Monday Nights

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP — No matter what the critical view of "Peter Gunn," the new television shoot-'em-up series, the masculine view of its heroine, Lola Albright, is altogether approving.

Miss Albright is a lithe, beautiful, blue-eyed blonde who plays the role of a nightclub singer named Edie Hart. And Edie is the beloved of Peter Gunn, played by Craig Stevens in the new NBC-TV "mystery-adventure" series.

As Edie, Miss Albright makes it as difficult as possible for our hero to concentrate on his vocation of adventurer and amateur sleuth.

Edie loves Peter. And Peter loves Edie. They demonstrate their affection for each other in some pretty torrid love scenes.

★ ★ ★

When Miss Albright visited New York a while ago, we asked her point-blank why Peter is so taken with Edie.

"Let's avoid the obvious that Edie is a beautiful woman," we said.

And that was very obvious as Miss Albright, wearing yellow toreador pants and a leopard skin robe, curled herself in a chair and fixed her very blue eyes on us.

★ ★ ★

"Let us," we said uncertainly, "try to fathom why Peter keeps hanging out in that night club quaintly called Mother's and talking it up with Edie."

"He enjoys her singing," said Miss Albright.

That's a good reason, because Miss Albright — pardon, Edie — is a good singer. But what other things about Edie, besides her beauty and singing, make Peter pursue her?

Miss Albright smiled thoughtfully and said, "For one thing, she never ties Peter down. She's not at all possessive.

"He can come and go as he likes, as far as she seems to care, and as a result of her attitude he never wanders far from her."

★ ★ ★

"Another thing about Edie is that she's never catty. You'll never hear her make nasty remarks about anybody. She accepts people and life for what they are.

"If you watch her closely, you'll also see that she's not terribly vain, nor is she greatly preoccupied with things like mink coats and expensive cars.

"She'd never think of urging Peter to make a lot of money or of trying to get anything out of him."

Closing our sagging jaw, we muttered that Edie certainly is a woman in a million.

"Now look here," we said, "considering all those qualities of Edie's, why doesn't Peter ask her to marry him?"

★ ★ ★

Miss Albright shook her head sadly. "If she married him there wouldn't be a series."

TOAST OF THE MALES — Lovely Lola Albright plays the role of Edie Hart, night club singer, in "Peter Gunn," new adult mystery series appearing on television Monday nights. She's not the possessive type.

At Last They've Found a Pleasant Way to Diet

By EARL WILSON

The TV fatman, Buddy Hackett, proudly exhibited his shrunken waistline at "The World of Suzie Wong" opening and announced he's down to 208. "What did your diet allow you today?" I asked him. "First, two vitamin pills," he said. "Breakfast: coffee. Lunch, coffee and a head of Romaine lettuce. Dinner: a pint of champagne." (And he meant it.)

Oakland GOP to Salute Potter

New Jersey Senator to Attend Rally Friday in Royal Oak

Oakland County Republicans will take their hats off to Senator Charles E. Potter Friday night at a rally in Royal Oak.

Helping the local Republicans top off their salute to Potter will be New Jersey Senator Clifford Case.

Both senators will have the spotlight when the Republican Committee of Oakland County unveils its all-county rally for Potter at the Royal Oak Kimball High School at 8 p.m. The meeting will be in the school cafeteria. The school is located on Crooks road just north of 13-Mile road.

"We are going to make this session a genuine rouser," promises Arthur G. Elliott Jr., GOP county chairman.

★ ★ ★

Sen. Case will come to Oakland County for his only Michigan appearance to help push his fellow senator's bid for another six years in the United States Senate. Both served together in the U.S. House of Representatives before their elevations to the Senate.

The title of the visiting Senator's speech will be "The Case for Potter."

Sen. Case, elected to the Senate in 1954 after nine years in the House, was named by a national magazine in 1951 as one of the 10 outstanding members of the 82nd Congress. Another magazine in 1956 named Sen. Case as one of 10 congressmen who had done the most for young people.

Boys, Tahiti-Bound in Small Boat, Back

OJAI, Calif. (AP) — Two boys who set sail for Tahiti in a home-made boat are back home today. A Navy PT boat intercepted them 17 miles at sea.

Herbert G. Dorsey and Dominick Suniga, both 16, built the 15-footer, stocked it with provisions and left on the cruise Saturday with their parents' blessings.

Then Mrs. Suniga changed her mind. She telephoned police, who put the Coast Guard on the trail. The boys turned around voluntarily when they learned Mrs. Suniga was worried.

Young Dorsey was returned home from Hawaii three months ago after stowing away on a liner.

Marilyn Back at Work, Baby Rumors Continue

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Actress Marilyn Monroe was expected back on the set of her latest movie today following a two-day absence that gave rise anew to rumors she was expecting a baby.

The blonde actress-wife of playwright Arthur Miller lost a baby in August last year and has refused to comment on the latest pregnancy rumors which sprang up Thursday and Friday when she didn't report to work in her new movie "Some Like It Hot."

However, earlier in the week she said that there was no truth to the rumors.

The first child labor laws in the United States took effect in 1911 at Hartford, Conn.

DETROIT (AP) — Three new polio cases were reported in Detroit over the weekend, boosting the city's total this year to 595, with 19 deaths.

Boat 'Too Close' to Dam Tips, Three Drown

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—A young schoolteacher and two male companions were swept to their death in the churning waters of the Mississippi when their light boat capsized beneath a power dam Sunday.

Another woman, also a teacher, struggled to shore.

"We must have got too close," said Claudia Peterson, 23, the lone survivor.

Drowned were Marlene Voronyak, 23, a teacher in suburban Roseville; Vaughan Uhr, 23, Swea City, Iowa, a student at Bethel College in St. Paul; and Keith Kelsey, 23, St. Paul.

Uhr and Kelsey were unable to keep the boat afloat with paddles after the motor apparently failed and the 17-foot craft began spinning in the eddy under the dam. The boat overturned and the four occupants were pitched into the water.

★ ★ ★

"I kept going down and down," Miss Peterson said. "I got to the surface a couple of times but the current kept sucking me to the bottom.

"After that I can't remember much. I must have been carried along by the current after I lost my breath. I came to in the middle of the river and was able to swim to shore."

Unitarians Ask Rabbi to Speak

Bomb Threat Cancels Sermon in Arlington Church on Sunday

ARLINGTON, Va. (AP) — Arlington's Unitarian church is inviting a Jewish rabbi to return next Sunday to deliver a sermon that was canceled by a bomb threat.

"We will not be intimidated by such business," said the Rev. Ross Allen Weston, the church pastor, in announcing that Rabbi Emmet A. Frank "is coming back next Sunday."

Approximately 570 worshipers, including 220 Sunday school children, were evacuated from the church Sunday when an anonymous telephone caller threatened to bomb the building.

"You better get the kids out of there. We're going to bomb the place," a deep-voiced man told Mrs. Joseph Bowen, secretary-director of the religious school office about 15 minutes before Rabbi Frank was due to speak.

★ ★ ★

Police, after advising the service be canceled, searched the church but found no bomb.

Rabbi Frank, of the Beth-el Temple in neighboring Alexandria, recently touched off a local controversy when he criticized Virginia's massive resistance program to school integration. At the time of the bomb scare he had delivered a sermon at the church on the topic of Judaism and was waiting to repeat it.

★ ★ ★

Mr. Weston called the bomb threat the work of a small hate group. Later in the day, four Unitarian ministers of the Washington area joined in a statement deploring the threat as part of a national pattern of lawlessness and violence. They voiced fear it "will grow to dangerous proportions . . . unless it is checked by the protests of our citizens and the work of law enforcement agencies."

Says State Dems Reuther's Captives

By The Associated Press

Michigan's Republican U. S. Sen. Charles E. Potter, in a formal statement released from Washington, said Walter Reuther, president of the UAW, "already has succeeded in capturing the Michigan Democratic party."

★ ★ ★

"As far as capture of the national Democratic Party is concerned," Potter added, "Reuther is well on his way—if he has not already succeeded."

Potter said Reuther maneuvered a three-year contract in the recent auto industry negotiations in order to be free for political campaigning in 1960. He said Reuther "ran roughshod" over union member preferences for a two-year contract.

★ ★ ★

He charged that a committee of 23 "union bosses" including Reuther has been running the Democratic National Committee since last May 5 through "millions" in campaign contributions. He said the "entire resources of a great union are being used to foster the ruthless ambition of one man."

Alibi Shot by Wounds From Cleaning Pistol

ERIE, Pa. (UPI) — Accused of the armed robbery of a loan company office here, Ronald Noyer, 25, insisted he didn't even own a gun. Freed on bail, Noyer aroused further police suspicion when he turned up at the hospital with a gunshot wound he said he suffered while cleaning a pistol.

Hal Boyle Says:

Tensions and Worries Disappear on Cruise

ABOARD THE S.S. BRASIL AT SEA (AP)—You don't have to ride a rocket into outer space today to "get away from it all."

You can do it more comfortably and successfully by taking a cruise.

The tensions of ordinary life ashore begin to disappear as soon as the ship pulls away from the pier. You fret briefly over whether you brought the right kind of clothes. You are a bit uneasy over whether you'll get a good seat in the dining room, or a deck chair in the right location.

★ ★ ★

But in another day all these minor doubts disappear. You find out that as long as you dress sensibly and don't try to storm the dining room in a Bikini, it makes little real difference what you wear or where you sit.

The sea breeze is like a benediction, cleansing your mind and soul of its accumulated landgrime and pettiness of thought and action.

The modern oceangoing liner is like a floating city deliberately designed to make everyone happy.

This new 25 million dollar Moore and McCormack vessel, the largest ever built for the South American trade, is a good example of why hundreds of thousands of travelers still prefer to sail the ocean rather than skip over it by plane. They cling to the theory that the real enjoyment of a journey lies in the going—not just the getting there.

So this two-block-long vessel was designed to wall out worries and wall in as many comforts as possible. The Brasil is a miniature metropolis, air-conditioned throughout—so you can pick your own climate.

It has all-outside cabins with piped in music. It has a library, a movie with the latest Hollywood films, a gymnasium, a card room, a night club, a beauty parlor, a barber shop, a hospital and rooms in which you can learn the cha-cha or study a foreign language. It carries two ministers.

★ ★ ★

There is something to appeal to all members of the family. There are two swimming pools, one for adults, one for children. The kids have a special playroom and a wired in play space on deck with a slide and sand box. The teenagers also have their own entertainment room, equipped with a juke box and a soda fountain.

★ ★ ★

Southward we plough under serene skies by day, through tropical waters phosphorescent by night. Nobody troubles about the hydrogen bomb, there are no political speeches to listen to, and who misses television when he can look up at the stars?

★ ★ ★

There is a phone in the room, but it doesn't ring. There are no traffic jams, no parking problems, no trains to catch, and to the best of my knowledge no one aboard ship has been hit by a taxicab.

Peace in a wide, wide sea—it's wonderful. Sometimes I wonder how life is going with all the poor folks tied to the land.

Educational Film Set for Showing Thursday

An educational film in color, "The Happiness of the New World Society," will be shown by the Pontiac North Congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses at Kingdom Hall, 4400 W. Walton Blvd. at 8 p.m. Thursday.

Produced by the Watchtower Bible and Tract Society, the film portrays scenes of the organization in assemblies at Yankee Stadium, London, Paris, Rome, in Germany and Africa.
