Merchants Pledge Funds for Civic Planning

The Greater Downtown Pontiac Association proposes to take vigorous and constructive action to better the trading facilities in the center of the city through a three-point program which includes:

A—Pushing hard to guarantee the big, through highway west of Saginaw Street;

B—Studying the problem of rebuilding stores on the west side of Saginaw Street between Pike and Patterson;

C—Improving downtown parking.

Monroe M. Osmun, Robert R. Eldred, Milo J. Cross and John A. Riley were named a four man committee to engage an expert to survey the situation and make a full time project of bringing these three problems to a successful solution as soon as possible.

"The City of Pontiac has already made arrangements with a specialist to study this problem," said Chairman Osmun, "and it is possible that we may work out some arrangement with City Manager Willman who is thinking along the same general lines. Or, we may take on our own representative. In any event, his problem will be to study Pontiac completely and then make definite recommendations as to how we can best accomplish our three objectives economically and in the least space of time.

"The salary of this man will be underwritten by downtown merchants, business establishments, property owners, doctors, lawyers and other professional people who have offices. We have other plans for future promotions and accomplishments, when our first objectives are realized.

"The world is sweeping onward and Pontiac is either going to keep abreast in progress and advancement or lag woefully behind. We find the need of a broad program of store improvement in downtown Pontiac. This means new fronts and radically modernized interiors. We need more bright, new retail establishments to meet the competition that exists in the world today.

"Our downtown group is enthusiastic over the possibilities ahead and we propose to finance a comprehensive plan of modernization that will match up to the best you find anywhere. Eight downtown institutions have already agreed definitely to underwrite their share of the financing. We plan to visit all other stores, business and professional people, property owners and everyone who has an interest in the center of the city, and invite them to participate."

Magsaysay Post Passes to Garcia Following Crash

MANILA (AP)—Vice President Carlos P. Garcia took over the reins of government today as the Philippine nation and the free world mourned the plane-crash death of President Ramon Magsaysay.

Garcia flew in from the SEATO conference in Australia several hours after Magsaysay's charred body was found on a Cebu Island mountainside.

The 60-year-old vice president took the oath of office as fourth president of the Philippine Republic before Chief Jutsice Ricardo Paras.

He will serve until after next November's presidential elections, which now promise to be a wide-open fight.

A staunch supporter of Magsaysay's foreign policy, Garcia is expected to continue the late President's aim of strengthening American-Philippine friendship.

Magsaysay, 49-year-old champion of democracy and bitter foe of communism, perished early yesterday when his twin-engine plane crashed in dense jungle just after leaving Cebu for Manila.

Only one passenger, a Philippine newsman, survived the crash which claimed the lives of 26 persons, including several top government officials and educators, several Philippine newsmen and members of Magsaysay's staff. The President was returning from giving two commencement speeches in Cebu.

From aboard the cruiser Canberra, President Eisenhower in a statement said the people of the Philippines, the United States and "the entire free world have lost a valiant champion of freedom." Magsaysay, he added, "will be greatly missed" in the fight against communism.

Adams Enters Plea of Innocent

English Society Doctor Charged With Murder of Three Patients

LONDON (AP)—Dr. John Bodkin Adams, outwardly as calm as in the days he treated his wealthy patients at Eastbourne, went on trial in Old Bailey today on charges of murder.

Dr. Adams, accused of killing three patients out of greed, entered a plea of innocent at the outset.

The 58-year-old society doctor blinked occasionally as he heard the prosecution tell a jury of 10 men and 2 women that when he was arrested he gripped his receptionist's hand and remarked: "I will see you in heaven."

The prosecution also quoted the Bible-reading doctor as saying he did not report a material interest in the will of one of his patients because he wanted "the cremation to go off smoothly."

Atty. Gen. Manningham Buller told the jury one of the forms the doctor had to fill out for cremation of the body of one of his alleged victims, Mrs. Edith Morrell, asked him to state if he had a pecuniary interest in the death of the deceased.

The physician had answered "not as far as I am aware."

The proper answer, the prosecutor said, would have been "Yes, she told me she was going to leave me something." He said Adams had conferred with the old lady's lawyer about a Rolls-Royce automobile promised him in her will.

Medical Hypnosis

Hypnosis, as ancient as man himself, is in the medical and dental professions as new as "wonder drugs." But in the hands of skilled men of medical science, hypnosis is becoming more and more a commonplace tool in the ceaseless work of restoring man to health. Case histories discussed in a recent seminar of medical men are described in a series of six articles entitled "Medical Hypnosis — and You." The first appears today, on Page Four.

Charge Murder in Tot's Slaying

To Try Madelon Allred on First-Degree Count Unless Ruled Insane

Madelon Roberta Sue Allred, 18, of 33 Gingell Ct., today was charged with first degree murder in the death of 2½-year-old Patricia Tierman, 36 Florence Ave.

The warrant, issued by Detroit Recorder's Court Judge George Murphy charges that the 18-year-old baby sitter drowned the tot in a bathtub.

The child was found in the Detroit hotel about 10 p.m. Thursday after an all-day search by police. Miss Allred, who was apprehended in Jackson, reportedly told police she killed the child because she just "likes to kill people."

The Allred girl was released last July after three years' confinement in Pontiac State Hospital. Wayne County Prosecutor Gerald K. O'Brien said a decision on whether Miss Allred is competent to stand trial would depend upon the decision of court-appointed psychiatrists.

Funeral services for Patricia Tiernan were held at 1 p.m. today at the Brace-Smith Funeral Home, 138 W. Lawrence St. Interment was in Mt. Hope Cemetery.

Israel Minister, Dulles Confer on Egypt Curb

Golda Meir, 3 Aides in Washington to Plead U.S. Action in Crisis

WASHINGTON (AP) — Israel's Foreign Minister Golda Meir took to Secretary of State Dulles today an urgent plea for U.S. action to curb Egyptian moves before war erupts in the Middle East again.

The conference was the goal which she sought in a hurried flight from Jerusalem over the weekend.

Accompanying her were three aides, bearing big envelopes and stuffed brief cases. They included Israel's Ambassador Abba Eban; Minister Reuven Shiloah, and Gedeon Rafael, a member of Israel's United Nations delegation.

Dulles arrived back in Washington yesterday from the Far East. He held immediate consultations with top aides on the Egypt-Israel crisis and set up today's meeting with Mrs. Meir.

Mrs. Meir made her flight after Egypt's President Gamel Abdel Nasser ordered Egyptians to take back control over the Gaza Strip from United Nations forces which had replaced withdrawing Israeli troops.

This, plus Egyptian talk about re-imposing the Suez Canal and Gulf of Aqaba blockades against Israel shipping, ran counter to Israeli assumptions on which the withdrawal was based.

'BACK WHERE STARTED'

"I am quite convinced," Mrs. Meir told reporters at the airport yesterday, "that with the Egyptians in the Gaza Strip we have returned to the same situation that we had before Oct. 29."

That was the date Israel attacked Egypt last fall, reporters noted. Did that mean, she was asked, that Israel would fight again if Egypt assumed what Is-

Romney, Chrysler Deny Reports of Sale by AMC

DETROIT (INS) — A publish report that American Motors Corp. plans to sell its automotive assets to Chrysler Corp., was emphatically denied today by all parties concerned.

The report stated that the matter will be discussed between AMC President George Romney and Louis E. Wolfson, Florida financier and biggest AMC stockholder at a meeting in Miami Beach in a day or two.

Wolfson, head of a huge $235 million business and industrial empire, became a prime factor in AMC affairs when it was revealed he was the owner of 240,000 shares in the firm.

Charles Block, an associate of Wolfson, said the report was true only to the extent that Romney and Wolfson would meet in Miami Beach this week. He added:

"There is nothing to the report that a sale of the automotive assets to Chrysler will be discussed."

Romney also denied that "any consideration" had been given to a sale of the automotive operation to Chrysler. He explained:

"My purpose in going to Miami is to listen to any suggestion Mr. Wolfson may care to make. At our last meeting, he said he would like the privilege of making suggestions which were agreeable to me."

Romney said the matter of sale of the automotive assets to Chrysler would not be brought up at the Miami meeting by him.

Meantime, Chrysler Corp. President L. L. Colbert said the published report was news to him. He added:

"This is the first time I heard of it. I now recall that I heard some rumors along that line last Friday but paid no attention to them. I know nothing about it."

The report stated the sale would enable AMC to get rid of its weak automotive business and concentrate on its profitable appliance line.

In the deal, Chrysler would get the Rambler car and reach out into the small, European-type car field.

Teamsters Head Admits He Used Union's Money

Senator Urges Action to Put Tighter Control on Labor Funds

WASHINGTON (INS) — President Eisenhower authorized the Senate committee probing labor racketeering to examine federal tax returns of Teamsters President Dave Beck and others under investigation.

The White House announced that Eisenhower had signed an executive order empowering the committee to "examine income, estate, gift and certain other tax returns for the years 1945 to 1947, inclusive."

The announcement added that "any information obtained by the committee is confidential but the committee may report information pertinent to its investigation to the Senate."

Eisenhower's action, in response to a committee request, came on the heels of Beck's admission that he borrowed, without paying interest, between $300,000 and $400,000 from the Teamsters' treasury. The admission brought a congressional demand for tighter control of union funds.

Sen. Alexander Smith (R-NJ), top-ranking minority member of the Senate Labor and Public Welfare Committee, declared "we must pass legislation to control the use of unions' capital.

Smith said further: "I think if we find that union funds are used the way they seem to have

Would Combine Efforts

Ask Townships UF to Join With Pontiac

An offer to combine with the Pontiac Area United Fund has been submitted to the Oakland County Townships United Fund, it was revealed this morning.

The Townships UF organization previously had been approached by the Detroit UF with a merger proposal.

Leonard T. Lewis, chairman of a special United Fund study committee appointed in December, said the Pontiac UF Board approved the committee's recommendation to affiliate with the townships.

The proposal was sent to Vern Willard, president of the Oakland County Townships United Fund.

At present, the Pontiac Area United Fund includes Pontiac and Waterford Townships.

Included in the township drive are Groveland, Brandon, Oxford, Addison, Rose, Springfield, Independence, Highland, White Lake, Milford, Commerce, Bloomfield, Lyon, Novi and Farmington townships.

The committee's decision to try to unite the Pontiac and Oakland funds was one of three possibilities it had been asked to study. The other two alternatives were: That the townships United Fund hire a new director, or that it merge with the Detroit United Foundation.

Lewis, Glenn Griffin and Fred V. Haggard were appointed to study the situation following the resignation of Dwyer Sump, former executive of the Oakland County Township United Fund.

MEMO TO CAESAR

Claudia Tells Pilate of Some Gossip

(Eleventh in a Lenten Series)

Tiberius Caesar's letter, mocking Pilate for his concern over the influence of Jesus, reached the Judaean governor at his palace in Caesarea — the home he preferred when he could escape from duties in Jerusalem.

As he read the jibes, the color blanched from Pilate's face. He flung down the paper and seized his sword which lay beside him on a small marble table.

He crashed the blade against the stone and the steel shattered and went clattering to the parquet floor.

"The fool!" he roared. "The idiotic fool."

"And just who is a fool?" A woman's voice asked calmly. It was Claudia, Pilate's wife, who had just come in from the courtyard.

He turned on her brusquely, but as always her cool blonde beauty mollified him even before he could speak.

"Caesar," he said in evener tone. "Tiberius is a fool. He refuses to reckon with the influence of this preacher, Jesus, who is now recruiting followers."

Claudia laughed. "Have you heard the latest about this man?"

"What now?"

"All the women here and in Herod's court are talking about it. It seems that he stopped at a well near Sychar in Samaria and a woman, who came there for water, got into conversation with him. She was rather attracted to him and coyly asked him about his teachings. He told her to bring her husband and he would explain his religion.

"The woman said, 'I don't have a husband.' Whereupon this Jesus looked her in the eye and told her she was telling the truth because she had already had five husbands and her present spouse was not a real husband!

"The woman gasped. It was all perfectly true, and yet she had never seen the Nazarene before."

Claudia chuckled. "They say it made an honest woman of her, too! And when the Samaritans heard about it they came to listen to the Nazarene. Everyone was greatly impressed."

She paused: "Why don't you invite him here so we can judge the man for ourselves?"

"Never," Pilate growled.

"Just the same, I'll wager you do talk to him sometime," Claudia teased. She had yet another story to tell, but decided to bide her time.

Charges Stalling by Foster, Ziegler

Mackie Lashes at Road Delay

Charging plans for a north-south interstate highway through Oakland County are "purposely stalled," Democratic highway commissioner candidate John C. Mackie Saturday lashed out at the Republican highway administration.

Mackie criticized delays in construction of the Orchard Lake-Telegraph Road underpass and told a Democratic Women's Day audience at Northland Center:

"My opponent would rather stall the federal highway program than tell Oakland County voters where the controversial north-south expressway will be located.

"He (Chief Deputy State Highway Commissioner George M. Foster) and Commissioner Charles M. Ziegler are purposely stalling location studies until after the April 1 election.

"The states were supposed to have completed location and cost studies on their interstate routes and submit them to the U. S. Bureau of Public Roads by Jan. 1. Many have done so, but not Michigan.

Mackie also criticized plans for extension of Northwestern Highway as a limited-access expressway as "bait for Oakland County votes."

"This is not entitled to any 90/10 federal aid—as the interstate route would be—and will take $1,800,000 away from Oakland County local roads over the life of the expressway bond issue," he declared.

Mackie was referring to a proposed bond issue that would finance the county's share of the cost over a 20-year period. The state and federal governments would split the initial cost.

The interstate highway, however, would be financed by $90 federal money for every $10 in state funds, Mackie pointed out.

Mackie termed the underpass delay, "but one example of our state's 'bits and snatches' highway program.

"A lack of long range planning has the Highway Department in a jam of confusion and administrative failure," the Democratic candidate said.

The program was sponsored by the Oakland County Chapter, Michigan Federation of Democratic Women. Mrs. David Brody was general chairman.

Pure Oil Joins Gasoline Strike

Picket Detroit Terminal; Pontiac Branch Still Making Deliveries

The strike of gasoline workers spread to a third company today when pickets appeared at the Pure Oil Co.'s terminal in Detroit.

Dick Williams, manager of the Pontiac Pure Oil terminal, 2451 Orchard Lake Rd., said no pickets had appeared there and that gasoline and fuel oil deliveries would continue as usual. The local plant receives its deliveries from the struck Detroit yard.

Over the weekend, members of Central State Petroleum Workers Union Local 102 voted to accept a company wage increase offer with Standard Oil Co.

Byron L. Cole, manager of the Standard Oil Co. yard here, said 12 drivers, mechanics, clerks and maintenance personnel had returned to work today under the terms.

DELIVER FUEL OIL

He said deliveries of fuel oil were resumed today and would continue as long as supply lasted, expected to be through this week. CSPU workers walked off the job here March 7.

Negotiations weren't expected to be resumed until Wednesday between Local 11-389 of the Oil, Chemical, and Atomic Workers Union and Standard and Socony Mobil Oil Co. officials.

It is local 11-389 members, representing terminal and pipeline workers, that have left their jobs at the Pure Oil yard in Detroit.

Tip by Cabbie Leads to Arrest

Act Arouses Suspicion; 2 Men Held in Robbery of Troy Market

A cab driver's alertness has led to the arrest of two suspects in the safe robbery of Torpey's Market, 3336 Rochester Rd., Troy, in which more than $1,300 was taken.

The cab driver, whose name was not revealed, reported that he picked up the two men Friday night in Troy and took them to a Detroit hotel. He became suspicious, he said, when the two had him stop on the way so they could remove some articles from a parked car.

Troy Police alerted the Detroit officers, who apprehended the two men Saturday at a railroad terminal after tracing them from the hotel named by the cab driver.

Each of the two suspects had $543 in cash in his possession and a ticket to Buffalo, N. Y. Both men are from California. Troy police have placed a "hold" on the suspects now being questioned by Detroit police in connections with crimes committed there.

TV Emmies for Caesar Blow to Sponsors' Purses

By JAMES BACON

HOLLYWOOD (AP)— If you were one of the millions who watched the TV Emmy show Saturday night, it will surprise you to hear that you watched a revolution — of the artists against the admen.

The hard-shell boys from the ad agencies admit that Sid, the comic Caesar, is a very funny man. But his production costs come high. That, trade sources disclose, is why he has had a little sponsor trouble recently.

But the Television Academy — the one TV group where artists outnumber salesmen — awarded Sid and his show five Emmies. He was one of two sweepstakes winners. The other was Playhouse 90, another expensive exponent of high-quality TV.

Absent, even among the nominees, were the quiz shows, which cost little and are the sponsor's delight. He likes them because he can hang his billboard behind each contestant and commercials come faster than plateaus.

Ceaser won an Emmy for best comedian, his show for the best hour series, and Carl Reiner and Pat Carroll of his cast as best supporting players.

And then, as a crushing crease in the Ivy League suits, the academy voted Nanette Fabray best comedienne for her work with Caesar. She hasn't been Caesar's wife since last season.

Playhouse 90, a series that had early sponsor trouble which almost turned it into Playhouse 60, earned Jack Palance an Emmy for best single performance. He was the punchy fighter of "Requiem for a Heavyweight."

That show also won awards for best writing, best direction, best art direction and best single program.

The hour-and-a-half drama series also was voted the best new program of the year.

Tax Review Board Continues Hearings

The Pontiac Board of Tax Review today began its third week of hearings on 1957 assessments, upon which city, county, and school taxes are based.

Today, Tuesday and Wednesday hearings will be conducted in the assessor's office in the City Hall on citizens' questions on personal property assessments.

Some 450 perons have appeared before the board in its first two weeks to seek tax reductions or to question real estate assessments.

The board meets from 9 a.m. until noon and from 1 p.m. until 4.

Motorist Gets Mixed Up Over License Plates

BRISTOL, R. I. (AP) — Gene Accardi received his automobile registration plates yesterday like thousands of other Rhode Islanders.

But his were different.

One was GA 306 and the other FW 306.

He sent them back to the registry of motor vehicles and waited for the other person who got mixed plates to do the same.

Admits Borrowing From Union Funds

Beck said he repaid every cent of the money he borrowed from his union during the past 10 years.

The portly teamsters boss said in an interview telecast yesterday from Tacoma, Wash., that the loans were made to him interest free because the funds were in commercial banks and were not drawing interest. He said other Teamersters officials borrowed money under similar arrangements.

His statements came as the Senate special committee on racketeering in labor and management prepared to knucle down further in its probe of Teamsters finances.

Chairman John L. McClellan (D-Ark) has set a Wednesday afternoon deadline for Beck to turn over his personal financial records to the committee.

CONCEDES RIGHT

Beck conceded that the McClellan group has the right to issue a subpoena for his files, but said it would be up to his lawyers to decide what course should be followed if a subpoena is issued.

McClellan said yesterday that Teamsters union officials have failed to counteract evidence linking them with hoodlums in an underworld conspiracy in Portland, Ore.

The Senator said the testimony on Oregon vice and corruption for the past three weeks was "only the first phase" of the investigation and will probably end tomorrow with the second appearance of Frank W. Brewster, chairman of the Teamsters' West Coast Conference. There was no hearing scheduled today.

Robert F. Kennedy, committee counsel, says the probe of Teamsters Union funds "undoubtedly will lead to certain companies."

Pointing out that the select Senate committee was set up to study corruption in both labor and industry, Kennedy told newsmen current hearings will open the door to the first "management phase" of the investigation.

Kennedy referred to evidence that at least $20,000 from the West Coast Conference of Teamsters was paid to Nathan Shefferman, Chicago labor consultant and a friend of Beck's.

During last week's questioning of Brewster, the committee exhibited cancelled checks from Shefferman's account. Brewster said, however, he was unable to explain the expenditure.

Fire Destroys Contents of Lunsford's Market

Fire early Sunday destroyed all of the contents of Lunsford's Market, 2005 E. Walton Rd., Pontiac Township.

An unidentified passing motorist called in the alarm when he spotted the blaze at 1:15 a.m.

Flames scorching all of the interior of the market were prevented by Pontiac Township firemen from reaching an adjoining barber shop and cleaning store.

The fire department and L. Cox, proprietor of the market, have not yet determined the cause of the blaze nor estimated the loss value.

"I can't say at this time," she replied.

Dulles booked a busy day. Besides seeing Mrs. Meir and catching up on Middle East developments during his 11-day absence in the Far East, he arranged afternoon appearances before the House Foreign Affairs and Senate Foreign Relations committees.

The committees assembled for a report from Dulles on two conferences — the one he attended at Canberra, Australia, as a member of the Southeast Asia Treaty Council, and the one he leaves for Wednesday at Bermuda, where President Eisenhower will confer for four days with British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan.

Service Station Has Small Plane as Customer

The pilot, Kenneth C. Boggess, 38, decided to land when he ran low on fuel while flying in bumpy weather from San Marcos, Tex., to Houston.

"I didn't want to take any chances, especially with the boys in the plane," said Boggess, a rental property dealer in suburban Bellaire.

The passengers included a friend, Louis J. Barzilla; his son Kyle, 14, and Kyle's friend, Walter Struwe, 15. They had spent the weekend on Boggess' ranch near San Marcos.

Boggess said he checked the highway and landed when it was clear of traffic, taxied up to the service station and told Cowden to put five gallons of super premium gasoline in the wing tanks. Then he taxied off to a side road, took off and landed the plane at a private airport five miles away.

Hypnosis Becomes Tool in Daily Medical Practice

By JOSEPH R. MARSHALL
INS Staff Writer

You and I have been hypnotized a thousand times without knowing it. Do you remember:

Sitting in a theater, watching a play or motion picture, and forgetting even that you're in a theater?

Driving on a highway, concentrating on the white line, and drifting off into an inattentive reverie? Or reading a novel, and so lost in it that you don't react when someone calls your name?

Fishing on a quiet lake on a warm afternoon, listening to the ripples, and suddenly realizing it's late—and wondering where the day went?

All these and a thousand other daily experiences, according to modern medical men, are forms of hypnosis. For hypnosis is part of normal life.

As such, it has become another straightforward tool in the medical kits of more than 10,000 doctors and dentists in the U.S.

They are using it in a thousand different ways, unsensationally, as part of every day medical work along with other tools of their profession such as drugs, instruments and age-old "bedside manner."

USE IN CHILDBIRTH

One of these ways is in childbirth.

"I'd like to try it," Mrs. Jane G. told her doctor. "Some of the nurses have told me how your patients always seem so relaxed, and I want to have my baby that way."

"Basically," said the doctor, "all we do in hypnosis is teach you to relax. The more you relax the less the pain. And of course the more you relax the less the chemical anesthetic is needed. Complications are less apt to crop up. Mothers find it quite a wonderful experience. And, frankly, babies seem to be born pinker and healthier."

"Doctors use many different methods of inducing hypnosis," he said, "but I like this coin technique. I put this coin in your hand, and ask you to close your fingers gently so that when you put out your hand and turn it over, the coin doesn't fall out.

"Now I would like you to look at the thumbnail of that hand, keeping your eyes fixed on that thumbnail . . . and you should pay mental attention to how your fingers feel, how the coin feels.

"Now, Jane," he added, "as you think about your fingers and wonder about them, your fingers will soon slowly open . . . and when the coin drops it will be a signal for your arms to relax and your body to slump into a deep, deep sleep."

As he talked the fingers slowly opened. Suddenly the coin dropped. "Now," said the doctor, "now relax, breathe deep . . . relax . . . and you can go into a deep, deep state."

Jane relaxed. She was detached and yet awake, and rather surprised that this really was hypnosis. In other training sessions she learned to go easily into a deep state.

Then, in the hospital, he reminded her, "if you would like to watch any or all of the delivery you may. You will be able to remember anything that happens or nothing, just as you wish."

Jane wanted "to feel some of the pains, too, doctor."

"Well, then," the doctor said, "perhaps you would like to wake up and feel some of those pains."

Slowly her calm, relaxed face began to twist in pain. Then her back arched. She groaned. After a few seconds, the doctor helped her back once more into relaxation. She gave birth, saw her baby at once and smiled with joy.

A post hypnotic suggestion was used to insure no post-operative pain or discomfort, no insomnia or loss of appetite. Awake, she was asked how it all seemed.

"It was the most wonderful experience," she said. "Actually I remember the whole thing. There was simply no discomfort."

And now our story turns to the patient in the dental chair.

"Will I be asleep?' the middle-aged businessman asked, sitting up stiff and tense in the dental chair.

The dentist smiled quietly. He was convinced by now that every patient to visit his New England office had that misconception.

"We dentists don't usually try for deep hypnotic states. There's no need. We have prefectly good, fast-working chemicals like novocain.

HYPNOSIS PRACTICAL

"But hypnosis is more practical and more valuable in getting you to relax, sloughing off your anxiety and tension so you can enjoy dental work and we can work better and faster."

"Okay," Jim said, "If you can get me to relax when you use that drill—it will be good enough for me."

"And for us, too," the dentist said. "Since you're interested, Jim, I'm going to use a simple, direct suggestion technique.

"I would like you to sit back comfortably and begin by thinking about your legs . . . and in a moment your legs will begin to get very, very pleasantly heavy.

"Will you fix your eyes on a spot on the ceiling?" he said. "Now you can let your arms, too, become relaxed and heavy . . . and now your whole body can become drowsy, completely relaxed and very heavy . . .

Talking this way the dentist helped his patient into a relaxed state, told him the work he would do, injected novocain and drilled.

Then he said: "In a moment I'm going to ask you to rouse yourself, and when you do, it will be with a sense of having just a little more sleep than you had last night. When you awaken, you'll awaken fully alert . . . so when I count to three I am going to ask you to arouse yourself. One, you're starting to wake, two, you are almost awake, and three, completely awake."

Jim opened his eyes, blinked and swallowed.

"How'd that feel?" the dentist asked.

Jim grinned. "Well, just complete relaxation.

ANCIENT ROME
1. A Roman Soldier

The story of ancient Rome is a fascinating part of world history. So this week we're going to have a little fun by studying some of the people of that time and taking a look at a few of the games and toys that amused them.

Rome began as a small settlement, but ambitious leaders and a powerful army soon built it into a great empire that ruled the ancient world.

The Roman soldier was a key figure as the Roman army reached out and conquered one land after another. He was known for his courage and endurance and for his stern devotion to duty.

Here is a Roman legionnaire in battle dress. He wears light body armor and has a heavy girdle, a plumed metal helmet and a broad sword. A cloak completes his costume. Behind him is the battle standard of his legion.

Color this picture and paste it on cardboard. Cut out the parts carefully. Attach the sword arm behind the right shoulder with a brass fastener through the indicated holes. Fasten on the girdle by slipping the tabs through the indicated slits and folding them. Cut a slit in the helmet and hold it in place by folding back the tab. Bend the base back at the dotted line to make the soldier stand.

British Airline Hunts Reason for Crash

LONDON (AP) —British European Airways has grounded all its Model 701 Viscount turboprop planes as authorities continue to investigate last week's airliner crash that cost 22 lives.

Bea announced last night the Model 701s were being withdrawn from service as a "precautionary measure." Viscount flights from London to Manchester, Belfast, Glasgow, Edinburgh and Madrid were canceled.

Air France and Aer Lingus of Ireland said they will continue to use their Viscounts. In New York, Capital and Trans-Canada airlines said they have no plans to ground their Viscounts, which are a different model from the 701s.

Last Thursday's crash in Manchester occurred in clear weather when the plane was only 500 yards from the airport runway.

A new British radar device gives the navigator a bird's eye view of his own ship and others in the seas around it, thus reducing the human error of the operator.

Slander the Tomatoes or Flatter the Berries?

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — Assemblyman Leverett D. House distributed tomatoes to his 79 colleagues in the California Legislature to show the area produces summer crops in mid-winter.

"What are these?" one assemblyman asked.

"Imperial Valley raspberries," House replied.

Cy Coleman Awaits Revival of Good Pop Music

Jazzman Sees Rock 'n' Roll Fading

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK (INS)—For more than five years now, noise with a heavy hand has reigned over romantic melody in the field of popular American music. The question is: How long can it blast?

"I would say that the cycle should be turning back to the old folks," said Cy Coleman, who is a young folk by age but an old one by experience. "This has probably been the blankest period in pop history and it has now reached its peak.

"On last week's 10 top tunes list, there was not one song that made any sense, either melodically or lyricaly. Not one that couldn't have been composed by my nephew.

"He is 10."

Coleman, a cherub - cheeked young man in his mid-20s, started his career as a pianist at the age of 4, and debuted in Steinway Hall and Town Hall two years later as a concert prodigy.

He's now a jazz artiste with his own trio and nightclub (called "The Playroom" because of his juvenile age as jazz notables go), but the classics have left their mark on his ear.

WEARING COTTON

"Anybody who appreciates good music has been wearing cotton in the eardrums a good 80 per cent of the last half-decade," he said. "The composers of good stuff have been stifled. They've kept on writing it, but not with much enthusiasm, because who'll play it?"

"We've got experts in the record and performing business who think they have their fingers on the pulse of the public—but any doc could tell you, nobody could have a pulse that bounces like that and long endure."

Asked to explain who was wrong, when heavy-beat "new sounds"—including rock 'n' roll—took over as the solid music of the American continent, Cy sighed.

"You mean, was it kids, people or record pushers?" he said. "Well, let me put it this way. Say you've never eaten Chinese food before and suddenly someone exposes you to bad Chinese food.

"It's interesting and new, and finally you kind of get to accept and even like it. Then they give you some good Chinese food, for a change—what happens?

"You don't care for it. You've got yourself overindulging in a bad habit. It's going to take a lot of convincing and feeding before you recognize the good food is better than the bad."

PERSONALLY SAFE

Cy, who has been protected personally from rock 'n' roll by virtue of the fact that his supper club doesn't cater to the purses of teenagers, can't tell how soon "good, literate, quality standards" in music will return; possibly it will be on the day when mature disk jockeys and artists are themselves driven crazy—or possibly deaf—by senseless lyrics and thunderous noise.

"The next step of course, is calypso music, which is primitive but not as savage as rock 'n' roll. It has an exotic quality that appeals to adults and I think it can expect a long 'hot' run of popularity," he said. After that—good Chinese food?

"Maybe fine quality egg roll." To replace the rock 'n' type.

Pontiac Orator Finishes Third in State Finals

Pontiac's Calvin Mortenson placed third in the state finals of the American Legion's oratory contest held Friday night at Eastern Michigan College, Ypsilanti.

The 17-year-old Pontiac High School senior placed behind Theodore Everingham, of Jackson, and Neil H. Fink, of Mumford High, Detroit.

The son of the Rev. and Mrs. David M. Mortenson, of 69 W. Colgate Ave., was up against top competition. The five contenders were zone winners from all parts of Michigan.

The winner moves on to the Midwest Regional Tournament, with the winner there competing in the national contest.

Calvin received $100 for his third place and a $25 savings bond as zone winner.

Traffic in City to Be Studied

Public Works to Survey Main Pattern of Vehicles and Routes Used

A 12-hour traffic survey showing the principally-used entrances and exits of Pontiac, will be taken tomorrow by 54 men of the Department of Public Works under the direction of Theodore M. Vanderstempel, city traffic engineer.

The visual survey, known as a cordon-count, will be taken from 7 a.m. until 7 p.m. at 15 designated points in Pontiac.

"It will be used to check the number of vehicles entering and leaving downtown Pontiac," Vanderstempel said. "The survey results will be used to show the general allocation of traffic in and out of the city."

Counts will be made of all passenger cars, buses, and commercial vehicles.

Results of the survey are expected to be released three months after the test is completed.

Missing Boy Scouts Found on Mountain

GATLINBURG, Tenn. (AP)—Three Boy Scouts, missing overnight on a hike in the rugged Great Smoky Mountains, were found today huddling in a shack on 6,693-foot Mt. Le Conte.

The boys, members of Greeneville, Tenn., Troop 94, were found by the Morristown rescue squad in an outhouse near a lodge which stands atop the peak, one of the highest in the Smokies.

Victor Thorpe Jr., 13, and oldest of the trio, said they reached the lodge about dusk yesterday after hiking from Newfound Gap, eight miles distant.

The trio and nine other members of the troop set out yesterday to hike from Newfound Gap on U. S. Highway 441 to Mt. Le Conte and thence back to the highway via the Alum Cave trail, a total of 13 miles. The other nine made the hike safely.

Ionia Jail Jammed

IONIA (AP) — A housing shortage has hit the Ionia County Jail. The structure has room for but 12 prisoners at a time. Sunday morning the jail was bulging with 32 residents.

Lightning arresters are being installed at Australia's Upper Tumut power station.

Employers: You Have Chance to Save Money

Query to all employers: do you want to save some important money? Here's your chance.

Down in Washington, a bill has been introduced to eliminate one of the current wage reports that costs your organization important time. Your payroll department is acquainted with this monster under the innocuous heading of Form 941. Find out about it from your own setup.

Instead of filling out these endless affairs four times a year as your organization does now, Bill H. R. 239 would allow the W-2's to suffice. You file these once a year, anyway.

You can't dodge them.

But this bill proposes to lay 941 to rest forever. It stands a good chance of passing, save that too few interested parties are declaring themselves. This is the time to write or telegraph. Get in touch with your Congressman, William Broomfield, whose address is the House Office Building.

He's interested.

Are you?

Bookkeeping departments have become so huge and sprawl over so much space and territory under Governmental edict that employers don't exactly know which waste is the biggest evil.

Form 941 is one of the culprits.

Tell Congressman Broomfield or one of your Washington Senators that you favor Bill H. R. 239. Your organization has been grinding out these endless forms so long employers have gone numb under the added expenses.

Here's some relief.

Boon in Shipbuilding

For the first time since Lloyds Register of Shipping began keeping records, last year Britain was replaced as the world's leading peacetime shipbuilder.

Japan now is in the number one spot with 1.784 million gross tons of mercantile shipping launched in 1956, double its 1955 production. Britain was second with 1.383 million tons and West Germany with one million was third. The United States was in ninth place with 169,000 tons, about one-tenth that of Japan.

One explanation of Japan's climb to top place, of course, is world shortage of merchant shipping which has overtaxed the capacity of those countries which we normally associate with ship building. Shipyards all over the world are booked solid for years ahead. Another reason is costs.

In the U.S. present shipbuilding costs are about $300 a ton; in Europe, $200 but in Japan only $130.

The Suez crisis has added to the demand for more ships. Most of those on order are tankers and many are supertankers which will bypass Suez around Africa's Cape of Good Hope.

Since 1950 there's been a 60 per cent increase in seaborne freight with emphasis on bulk cargoes such as petroleum, coal, iron ore and bauxite. Opening of the St. Lawrence Seaway also should add to the demand for new ships.

Legal Services for All

In the near future hearings will be held on a bill to provide for representation of indigent defendants in criminal cases in district courts of the United States.

Attorney General Brownell is recommending new legislation to allow Federal District Courts to appoint public defenders as counsel for persons who cannot afford to hire lawyers. The activities of these defenders would supplement and not conflict with the work of public defenders in state, county and city jurisdictions.

The American Bar Association at its August, 1956, convention adopted a resolution that it would "actively undertake to encourage the establishment of legal aid services for the defense of indigent persons accused of crime in the State or Federal courts wherever such services appear to be needed."

The Association's Committee on Legal Aid Work reported last month that many more facilities must be provided if all our citizens are to have equal access to justice.

Chief Justice Warren rightly states that "the citizen who faces the power of the state on a serious criminal charge does not have the protection of the law until he is afforded the help of a lawyer."

The Man About Town

Time of Events

List of Important Dates in Our County's History

Date: A southern fruit; also the easiest thing to forget.

The dates most frequently asked in Oakland County are when the county itself, also when our township, villages and cities were organized. So, I looked up all of them, and here they are. Clip this out for future reference.

Our county was organized in 1820. Pontiac was incorporated as a village "where the Saginaw Indian Trail forded the Clinton River" in 1837, the same year that Michigan tossed off its territorial swadling clothes and became a state.

The dates of the organization of our 25 townships follow: Pontiac, 1827; Bloomfield, 1827; Troy, 1827; Oakland, 1927; Farmington, 1827; Southfield, 1830; Royal Oak, 1832; West Bloomfield, 1833; Novi, 1833; Waterford, 1834; Milford, 1834; Commerce, 1834; Lyon, 1834; Avon, 1835; Orion, 1835; Highland, 1835; Groveland, 1835; White Lake, 1836; Independence, 1836; Springfield, 1836; Oxford, 1837; Rose, 1837; Brandon, 1837; Addison, 1837; and Holly, 1838.

Oakland County's 20 cities, most of which had previously been organized as villages, were incorporated as cities as follows: Pontiac, 1861; Royal Oak, 1921; Ferndale, 1927; Farmington, 1926; Pleasant Ridge, 1928; South Lyon, 1930; Bloomfield Hills, 1932; Berkley, 1932; Birmingham, 1933; Clawson, 1940; Hazel Park, 1941; Oak Park, 1945; Sylvan Lake, 1946; Lathrup Village, 1953; Keego Harbor, 1954; Walled Lake, 1954; Madison Heights, 1955; Northville, 1955; Troy, 1955, and Southfield, 1955.

Our county's 13 villages were incorporated: Lake Orion, 1859; Holly, 1865; Rochester, 1869; Milford, 1869; Oxford, 1876; Clarkston, 1884; Leonard, 1889; Ortonville, 1902; Orchard Lake 1927; Lake Angelus, 1929; Franklin, 1953; Wolverine Lake, 1954, and Bingham Farms, 1955.

While it bears the official name of Lathrup Village, it is incorporated as a city.

"Glad to see that so much is being done to promote the Pontiac area as a winter resort," says County Treasurer who continues, "Nature gave us all of the things to do this, but we haven't seemed to appreciate it until recently."

Charles A. Sparks

A former big league player himself, sizes up the Detroit Tigers as having a chance at the flag this year.

Goodloe Rogers

Spring officially sneaks in at 4:17 on the afternoon of March 20, when the days and nights are supposed to be the same length. However they actually attain that status on March 18.

"Yes, Who Is It?"

David Lawrence Says:

Soviets Incite Hostility in Mideast

WASHINGTON — Crisis after crisis is coming in the Middle East —and the main reason is the deliberate effort of the Soviet government to use Nasser and any other rulers in the Arab world to keep aflame the fires of hostility to the West.

The U.N. Assembly may prove powerless to bring peace in the area. It may turn out that joint action by the United States and its allies will alone bring the Nasser government to terms.

LAWRENCE

For it is apparent that the Gaza Strip isn't going to be neutralized if Moscow can prevent it and if Nasser can bluff his way to a permanent occupation by his own forces.

It is suspected also that when the government of Saudi Arabia announces that Israel's ships will not be allowed to use the Gulf of Aqaba, the Communists—notwithstanding the king's friendliness to the United States—may have managed to penetrate the Saudi Arabia government itself.

In all this the Department of State is trying still to play the role of mediator but is hard pressed by the pleas of Israel that the "assumptions" upon which her withdrawal of troops were based shall not be disregarded nor Nasser again given a free hand.

ON SIDE OF ISRAEL

The sympathy of Congress as well as the executive branch of the government is on the side of Israel in the latest phase of the dispute because it is felt a "moral commitment" was made to Ben-Gurion to persuade him to withdraw his troops on the assurance there would be security for Israel against Egyptian raids.

But the big question—what action American can or might take—is still unresolved. In matters of this kind it is logical to apply diplomatic influence first and later perhaps economic pressure in order to get Nasser to change his mind.

Meanwhile, an interesting revelation has been made by Secretary of State John Foster Dulles with reference to a point that has often been discussed in press reports but never clarified, namely the relationship between the breakoff by the United States of negotiations for the financing of the Aswan dam and the subsequent seizure of the Suez Canal by Nasser.

Unfriendly critics here and abroad have charged that it was all Mr. Dulles' fault and that had he not broken off the negotiations maybe the canal would not have been seized.

In a press conference at Canberra, Australia, last Wednesday, the text of which was not generally printed in this country, the following questions and answers, recorded stenographically then, are of renewed significance now.

"Q. Has the United States of America ever regretted its decision to cancel the loan to Egypt for the Aswan Dam?

EVENTS CONFIRM

"A. (Mr. Dulles): No, I think if anything events have confirmed that fact that it would not have been a wise operation for us to have tried to conduct together. That was a gigantic proposition which involved expenditures of probably a billion and a half dollars, by far the largest operation of the kind ever known in the history of the world.

"It would have taken about 15 years of close association. It would have involved an austerity program on the part of Egypt which I think the people would have come to resent and would have blamed the foreigners who were partners to the enterprise. The more we studied it the more we came to the conclusion that it was not a suitable project for the United States and the United Kingdom—because they were in it also—to try to conduct with Egypt.

"Q. Do you think it hastened the seizure of the canal company by Egypt?

"A. Well, it is hard to say whether that hastened it or not. We know now from statements made by President Nasser and also made by President Tito that there had been plans to seize the universal canal company made approximately two years before. The plans were all ready and this may have provided the occasion, but if there had not been this occasion, I am quite sure another one would have been found."

This continues to be the objective but Nasser, stimulated by Soviet advisers, is still bluffing his way even as Hitler and Mussolini did in the 1930s. The real question is whether the free governments of the world would have learned that it doesn't pay to appease dictators.

THOUGHTS FOR TODAY

Let Israel now say, that his mercy endureth forever—Psalms 118:2.

God's mercy is a holy mercy, which knows how to pardon sin, not to protect it; it is a sanctuary for the penitent, not for the presumptuous.—Bishop Reynolds.

Dr. Brady Says:

Condition Air Naturally by Do-It-Yourself Device

The time to install "natural air-conditioning" in kitchens, bedroom, playrooms and schoolroom, and in many small shops and offices is now!

The warmed and dried atmosphere of our overheated rooms gives a sense of chilliness, owing to excessive evaporation of the natural moisture of skin and mucous membranes, and favors irritation and infection of the respiratory mucous membrane.

In the season when heating is necessary, no matter what method or means of heating we use, the higher the indoor temperature the lower the relative humidity. Thus, the air of a heated house becomes excessively dried out.

This aridity accounts for most of the troubles ascribed to cold, dampness and "exposure." Excessive dryness of the air of a heated building — not cold, wind or dampness — causes chapping and cracking of lips and skin in the winter.

Using a gadget which evaporates a quart of water in twenty-four hours is a futile gesture. One must evaporate at least a gallon of water in a room in 12 to 24 hours to keep the humidity within the comfort zone.

SIMPLE METHOD

The simplest way to keep the atmosphere of a heated room as balmy as an autumn day, is what I call "natural air-conditioning."

Install full-sash or half-sash window screens of unbleached muslin in one window of a bedroom or in several windows of a schoolroom, and keep the windows open.

This admits desirable moisture and fresh air and light, and excludes rain, snow, wind, dust or insects. It excludes drafts too, if you're afraid of fresh air that moves.

When the cloth screen becomes dirty, scrub it with soap and water or put in new muslin. Try it out in your bedroom.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

'Government Should Stay Out of Business in U.S.'

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.

The Democratic party was always trying to get the Federal Government into more and more business. That's socialism, any way you look at it, but it never bothered very many Democratic party leaders.

Of course, England is slowly going the way of socialism and therefore is going steadily downhill economically.

Take the case of the Federal Barge Lines of St. Louis. Operated by the government from 1938 to 1952, the outfit lost ten million dollars. It ran in the red 12 years out of 14. Tax payers paid the deficit.

As a private concern since 1952, the same organization has slowly become a money maker and has paid more than half a million dollars in state and local taxes. Under Federal ownership, it paid nothing. This year it will pay an income tax so money comes in to help the tax payers instead of going out.

Taking Government out of business was one of President Eisenhower's original election planks. His administration has done some of it, but not nearly enough. Undoing the Roosevelt mess is a long job.

Small Tax Payer

'Do Women Wear Fewer Clothes?'

I don't know whether the women are wearing more clothing or less than they did in the "good old days," but I never hear about a clothes line breaking any more.

Great Grandpa

Another Visitor Refuses Pigeons

Hold everything. I'm visiting my brother and I read a letter in The Press signed "Canadian" which said for Pontiac to trap those dirty pigeons and take them across Lake Michigan and free them in Wisconsin as the Canadians didn't want them in Canada. Nuts to both Pontiac and Canada. We don't want your infernal mess, either. Keep it yourself.

As a real practical solution to your problem, after those pigeons are trapped, why doesn't someone wring their silly necks and have a delicious pigeon pie? They're infinitely better than "four and twenty blackbirds."

'Very Old Timer' Answers Query

D. Colfax asks how Chief Pontiac got here. If he means alive, my guess would be that he was born in this general area. If he means how he got here for his final resting place on Apple Island in Orchard Lake, the legend says that after he was stabbed in the back and murdered outside of St. Louis, his body was borne to Chicago, thence by canoe around the Great Lakes and then across to Orchard Lake.

'Most Foolish Act—Self-Destruction'

Without a shadow of a doubt the most futile and foolish act a human being ever performed is self-destruction or suicide. People sometimes get so despondent over things that happen in their lives, they come to the opinion that anything is better than what they're going through. What a horrible awakening they have in store. Whatever is bothering them on Earth will seem like a mild autumn breeze compared to what awaits them in Hell.

'Trading Stamps Meet Opposition'

Trade stamps are running into trouble in state legislatures. Latest state to try to get rid of samps is Tennessee, where legislature passed two per cent gross receipts tax on stamp handling stores because small shopkeepers complained of competition. Anti-stamp laws are in effect in Kansas, Washington, Wisconsin and restrictive bills are pending in 21 other states.

Crane Gives Advice for Long Life

Notice Mr. Miller's excellent advice for prolonging yor life. Heart disease is by far the nation's Number One Killer, so learn how to protect your human motor. Our lifespan could easily average 100 years if we devoted as much care to our heart as to the engine in our automobile! So send for the booklet named below and add 10 to 20 years to your lifespan.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case U-331: Marvin H. Miller represents the Indiana Heart Foundation and offers some excellent advice to challenge anybody's attention.

He points out that coronary heart disease is by far the Number One cause of death in men between the ages of 40 to 60.

CRANE

Men are about two ane one half times as susceptible as women. This is also indirectly proved by the fact there are three times as many widows as widowers:

Mr. Miller adds that we now have more than 7,600,000 widows in the U. S. A.

So he urges wives of men past 40, to take unusual care of their mates.

"Give him a balanced menu," says Miller, "and see that he has regular mild exercise."

He also vetoes obesity and recommends that men be freed from the unnecessary evening recital of petty irritations that have occured during the day.

REACH 100 YEARS

In addition to those excellent suggestions, we physicians also have several other inclusions in our prescription for long life.

First avoid tobacco, for we medics have long realized not only the lung cancer hazard of cigarets, but the much greater danger to the heart and blood vessels.

"Coffin nails" was a former description of cigarets.

People laughed and thought that was an exaggerated claim of the anti-cigaret advocates. But it was so true it was tragic:

"Every day you smoke, you knock one day off your life span," is the modern slogan that parellels that old "coffin nails" adage.

Second, leave hard liquor alone. For alcohol masks the pain of an over-loaded heart.

This is the latest report from our medical laboratories and refutes an earlier view that alcohol was good for heart patients by dilating the coronary arteries.

Instead, it hides the pain, so a heart patient is inclined to run upstairs or otherwise strain his heart and thus may die suddenly, without apparent warning.

Third, try to regain the weight you enjoyed at the age of 21, if you were then in good health.

Most of us are much overweight. And for every 5 pounds of extra fat we have, our body must sprout an additional 3 miles of blood vessels.

If you are now 25 pounds heavier than at the age of 21, then your heart must force your blood through an additional 15 miles of blood vessels at every beat.

Naturally, it must raise the blood pressure and wear itself out ahead of schedule because of this unnecessary overload.

BLOOD PRESSURE

Then team up with God by becoming active in a local church. For God lowers blood pressure.

The jolly camaraderie of other friendly souls promotes peace of mind. You feel less lonely. Fears disappear. Tension tends to evaporate.

And your heart thus slows down and likewise doesn't beat against as high a pressure as formerly, for fears and emotional tensions raise blood pressure alarmingly. (See tomorrow's follow-up).

Cultivate a wider perspective, too, for this new outlook will dwarf many irritations that might otherwise assume mountainous size when they are really only emotional molehills:

To help streamline your figure, send for my booklet "How to Lose 10 lbs. in 10 Days," enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus 20 cents (non-profit).

It contains a calorie chart and many other helpful aids for slenderizing.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Blase Youngster Snubs (Yawn) TV

NEW YORK (INS) — Television has become a lot more intriguing around out hutch since a child named Debbie inherited from her jaded elders the job of program selecting. This kid bores easily when she's turning that channel-selecting dial. As a result we get something like this as she whips through the seven New York channels:

Clean cowboy to dirty cowboy —"Your rustling days are over, Sidewell, and from now on you'll . . ."

Zip!

Ingenue, in tears, facing George Brent as he nervously fingers the wheel of his Vette—"So you raised whoopie? Well, I'm going to . . ."

Zip!

Man with blueprints under arm —"No one has ever dared question my plans. Tell THIS to the president . . ."

Zip!

Old farmer — "Maw's in town playing cornet with the . . ."

Zip!

Slicker to confederate — "Her name is Julia Bentley and she's been winning entirely too consistently at bridge. What'll we do. We'll . . ."

Zip!

Unshaven man in witness chair—"Prove it! If you want to know where I . . ."

Zip!

Comedian with putty nose—". . . so she looks him over and says . . ."

Click! The TV light goes off and withers down to a bright dot in the center of the screen.

Debbie—"Nothing good on."

A last word, perhaps, on St. Patrick's (fram "A Treasury of Irish Folklore" by Padraic Colum, and published by Crown):

"There were never any snakes in Ireland, and so our saint was under no necessity to banish them. Now the Norse word for 'toad' is 'paud'; coming to Ireland they noticed there were no such creatures there. They heard of a man whose name was 'Paudrig,' and they thought that this name meant 'toad-expeller,' and out of that misunderstanding came the legend of St. Patrick's banishing not only of toads but snakes. Of course that helped to add veneration to his name, for the snake was the emblem of evil. And so the most popular of the stories about Ireland's apostle has a Norse and not an Irish origin."

Manny Ress, the big buttons and bows man—he makes buttons with slogans and sayings on them, and takes bows like the genius he is—sends me a fresh batch.

One reads, "Hall for anything," a reference to the president's general but hardly specific support of the former GOP national chairman's political aspirations. Another one reads, "I may look busy—but I'm really confused." A third suggests, "Try vodka and carrot juice. It won't keep you sober . . . But you'll see better." And then there's a discreet little one marked: C B F T S C.

We needed a little help on that one.

"Simple," Manny said. "It stands for Celebrity Barred From The Stork Club."

Hope New Vaccine Permits Change in Law

Rabies Clinics Must Continue

Rabies vaccination clinics will have to be continued until county and state laws have been changed, according to Dr. Frank R. Bates, Oakland County Animal Shelter director.

Dr. Bates hopes, with the aid of the County Veterinarian Assn., to effect changes in the laws which will streamline the dog vaccination program here.

He points out that most veterinarians today are using a new type of vaccine, which gives a dog immunity for at least three years. In fact, experimental work has shown dogs with full immunity after 39 months and longer.

Dr. Bates hopes to secure the necessary changes in the county ordinance to switch the yearly vaccination to a three year interval, if the new vaccine is used.

A change in the requirement would ease both the financial and nuisance burden on dog owners, Dr. Bates said. It would reduce also the number of public clinics needed and might lead to their abolition entirely.

A change in the state law that would be desirable, Dr. Bates said, is one to permit veterinarians to issue dog licenses. This would mean one-stop service for the dog owner, rather than going to one place for the shot and another for the license.

Rabies, once a serious problem in Oakland County, has been practically eliminated in the past three years, due to mass dog vaccination, Dr. Bates noted, but there are still many unvaccinated dogs running at large which means an educational program for dog owners is a must each year.

The number of Oakland County dogs vaccinated against rabies this year was the same percentage-wise as last year, Dr. Bates reported.

In the period Jan. 27 to Feb. 24, 14 clinics were held in outlying county areas, Dr. Bates said, and 3,087 dogs were vaccinated.

Last year, 16 clinics were held, with 3,794 dogs vaccinated, or 707 more, he added.

Bunche: Ardent Diplomat, Peacemaker, Dodger Fan

By INTERNATIONAL NEWS SERVICE

Dr. Ralph Bunche, currently the U. N.'s "middle man in the Middle East," is an ardent diplomat of ardent beliefs who usually can talk the object of his arguments into seeing things his way.

At U. N. the story is told of how he once talked then U. N. Secretary General Trygve Lie, who didn't know one end of a baseball bat from the other, into becoming a Brooklyn Dodgers fan.

Bunche, a hot Dodger rooter, had the sickest grandmother in history whenever the Dodgers were in town. One day, while off tending this fictional grandmother at the Dodger ballpark, he bumped into the Secretary General on Lie's first visit to the Brooklyn stadium.

"Well," Lie is suppose to have said to Bunche, and not entirely in jest, "how your grandmother has changed!"

"Hasn't she?" responded the Nobel prize for his role in bringing pointed to Marilyn Monroe in a nearby box!

Eventually, it is said, the famous peacemaker — who won the 1950 Nobel prize for ris role in bringing about the original Arab-Israeli armistice—won Trygve Lie over to the Dodger fan club.

A hard worker, chain smoker and eloquent exponent of racial harmony and understanding, Dr. Ralph Johnson Bunche at 54 is the highest ranking American in the U. N. secretariat, and No. 1 troubleshooter for the world organization in the Mideast.

A lifelong scholar, this grandson of a slave, who grew to manhood in Detroit, Toledo, Albuquerque and Los Angeles, has been honored with close to 50 academic degrees, but he bears his learning lightly.

During the Truman administration he was offered the post of Assistant Secretary of State but turned it down. He explained he did not wish to subject his family to color segregation in the capital city.

Of medium height, but strongly built, Bunche even under the heaviest stress radiates a calm that is one of his most effective diplomatic weapons. When trouble brews anywhere, the word is likely to go around, "send Bunche and everything will be okay."

Dr. and Mrs. Bunche, the former Ruth Ethel Harris, live in the quiet New York suburb of Kew Gardens. They have two daughters.

Hungarian Patches U.S. Marriages

NEW YORK (AP) — An Englishman will tell you what's wrong with American women.

A Frenchman will tell you what is wrong with the American male.

But only a Hungarian would feel certain he knew what was wrong with both—the American husband and his Kitchen Empress.

"There is no doubt of it," said Gyula Denes. "The trouble with the American male is that he is sex-conscious but love-shy. The trouble with the American woman is just the opposite—she is love-conscious but sex-shy.

"The trouble with both is that neither knows how to bridge this difference."

Denes, a former Budapest playwright, turned to the study of psychology after coming here in 1939. He attracted wide interest in medical and educational circles by writing and producing a series of 200 "psychodramas" in which trained actors graphically portrayed the symptoms of varying mental diseases.

Now, more interested in the emotional maladjustments of ordinary people to the problems of work and marriage, Denes still loves to employ theatrical devices at the Denes Institute of Personality which he founded.

Whatever practical psychologist for example, ever thought of relieving a wife's marital tensions by encouraging her to throw crockery at a dummy dressed to resemble her husband?

"Why not?" asked Denes, who is 57, gray-haired and has Danube-colored eyes. "A dish in the face doesn't hurt the dummy. It does make the wife feel better. And what does it cost to break a little crockery?"

Denes tries to get all his clients to talk out their troubles to the dummy, whom he calls "The Image." Although most of them murmur at first, "This is silly," soon they launch a verbal tirade at the dummy, who becomes a symbol of the one they are mad at.

"The Image" is dressed in either men's or women's clothing, depending on the client.

Here's what happens:

If the client is a man, and the dummy wears a skirt, the man she addresses it as her husband and says bitterly, "Just because you married me, do you think I have to put up with—" etc., etc., etc.

If the clientis a man, and the dummy wears askirt, the man addresses it as his wife, mother or older sister, and demands, "Why are you always trying to dominate me?"

What does Denes tell his clients?

"I explain that most men are eager for sex but afraid of love," said Denes. "As children they heard the quarrels between their parents but saw little love, so they grew up without knowing how to give love. Also they feel that after marriage they are inferior to women before the law, which makes men pay alimony or go to jail in case of divorce, and lets the wife keep the children.

"Women are idealistic about love, but shy about sex because that is how they were brought up. They want to put their husband on a pedestal, to share every part of his life. But too often they find he looks upon them only as a companion in the boudoir and a flunkey in the kitchen. He shows them little gallantry, refuses to accept them as a real partner in love.

"Europeans say that American women are cold-hearted, domineering and alcoholic. That isn't true. If an American wife becomes dominating, it is because someone in the family has to show some responsibility. Too often the husband won't."

And the solution—if any?

"Each must make an effort to live up to the other's ideals," said Denes. "Most of our problems come from our inability to communication with one another.

"Husbands and wives desperately need to talk about their troubles together. If kept bottled up, they may explode in tragedy—violent tragedy—leaving everyone wondering, 'How could such a terrible thing happen to such a nice couple?'"

Announce New Way To Shrink Painful Piles

Science Finds Healing Substance That Does Both—Relieves Pain—Shrinks Hemorrhoids

New York, N. Y. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids and to relieve pain—without surgery.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by doctors' observations.

Pain was relieved promptly. And, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.

And most amazing of all—this improvement was maintained in cases where doctors' observations were continued over a period of many months!

In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' standing.

All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®)—the discovery of a world-famous research institution. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.

This new healing substance is offered in suppository or ointment form called Preparation H.® Ask for individually sealed convenient Preparation H suppositories or Preparation H ointment with special applicator. Preparation H is sold at all drugstores. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded.

Afraid He'd Give Data Incorrectly for Income Tax

DENVER (AP)—This income tax business can get awfully confusing.

Take the fellow who showed up at the Internal Revenue Service office and asked Mrs. Juanita Hammond for help on preparing his return.

She asked his address.

Answer: "well, now . . ."

Mrs. Hammond, not sure she understood, inquired again.

Answer: "Well, now, I'll tell you. I just don't rightly know, but I could sure take you there."

She asked if his name was in the telephone book.

Answer: "No, but I'll tell you what—I'll go home and find out, and be right back."

Mrs. Hammond is still waiting for the man to reappear.

Violin-Piano Duo in Civic Concert Series

Rabinofs Win Acclaim at Waterford

By DORA DAWSON

Members of the Civic Concert Series of Waterford Township listened to a remarkable program Saturday night in Crary School auditorium, when Benno and Sylvia Rabinof, violin and piano duo, presented a recital in which the ultimate in ability and ensemble feeling was revealed.

Their program opened with a Chaconne in G. Minor by Vitali (17th century), broad and grave in utterance and of great sonority. This composition was a fitting forerunner to the Beethoven Sonata in A Major, called the Kreutzer in three movements and famous for its perfect form, which followed.

Especially lovely in its purity of melody and singing tone was the second movement, the Andante with variations. This group closed with "Tzigane" by Ravel.

Spanish in temperament and varying in its moods, it is a bridge between music of the classical period and modern trends. It began with a cadenza, for violin alone, that was a revelation of technic, and quality of music that can be drawn from an instrument.

MARY LEE TUNNY

Mr. and Mrs. Allen Tunny of Clarence street announce the engagement of their daughter Mary Lee, to John Thomas Howells. He is the son of Mrs. Albert Zumbrunnen of Drayton Plains and John Howells of Elm street. A September wedding is planned.

Mr. Rabinof was the last pupil of the great teacher, Leopold Auer, and is one of the youngest master violinists.

This husband and wife team is an absolute unit in the spirit of the compositions played, complementing each other in every tone variation and timbre, due to each one playing entirely from memory, quite an unusual feat on the part of the accompanist. Each has a technical facility that is inborn, but also the result of arduous application.

PROTEGE OF PADEREWSKI

Mrs. Rabinof, pianist, was a protege of Paderewski and Serkin, and is a soloist in her own right, also a composer of many works.

She was heard in a group of three solos: "My Beloved," by Chopin, arranged by Liszt, where she produced a warmth of melodic and artistic tone; Henselt's lyrical "Were I a Bird," which was delightful with delicate coloration, and "The Mephisto Waltz," an episode from "The Dance in the Village Inn" written by Liszt, tremendous in pianistic skill and interpretation. Altogether a group unhackneyed and most acceptable.

The last part of the program began with the duo artists playing "Hexapoda" by R. Russell Bennett, five studies in jazz idion, depicting a Saturday night party. The short pieces, strictly modern, were "Gut-Bucket Gus," — "Jane Shakes her Hair,"—"Betty and Harold Close Their Eyes,"—"Jim Jives," and "Till Dawn Sunday," all amusing and descriptive.

The well known Paganini theme in this 24th "Caprice" and variations arranged by Mr. Rabinof brought an outstanding concert to a close, including several encores.

The last concert in this series will feature the "Continental Aires" a mans' chorus, April 12.

Asks Couple to Chauffeur Baby Sitter

Wife's Request to Friends Criticized by Husband

By EMILY POST

A reader tells me: "Last Saturday night my husband and I and another couple went out for the evening. They took their car and while driving home I asked our friends if they would mind driving our babysitter home.

"She lives a short distance away from them and it was late. I thought this would save my husband's having to take her home and then come all the way back again. They said they would but when he got into the house my husband was furious with me for having asked them to do this.

"He said she was our responsibility and not theirs and that I had no right to ask them. Will you please tell me if I was wrong to ask this favor of them?"

Answer: In this exceptional case, you were not wrong to ask this favor of your friends. But in general your husband was quite right.

"Dear Mrs. Post: My wedding is to be private with only the immediate families and a few closest relatives invited. Consequently we are sending no engraved invitations but many announcements.

"Is it necessary, or even suitable, to send announcements to my friends who know of my forthcoming marriage but who cannot be invited, or are they sent only to those who do not know of my marriage?"

Answer: Even though they are sure to know about your marriage, it will be an act of good manners to send announcements to all your friends whom you are not able to invite to the wedding.

"Dear Mrs. Post: My only daughter is to be married soon. My two sons will be ushers at the wedding and the bridegroom will have his two brothers as ushers. I would like to know if it would be proper to have both my sons escort me up the aisle. I would like this very much if it would not be incorrect."

Answer: It would certainly be strange, but at the same time I don't think anybody would seriously criticize it.

Loss of Recipe Collection Is Shattering Experience

Homemaker Treasures Her Volume of Tried and True Family Favorites

By RUTH MILLETT

In their column, "Washington News Notebook," Douglas Larsen and Kenneth O. Gilmore recently told of the unhappy plight of a congressman's wife who in her move to Washington lost a loose-leaf notebook which contained all of her prize recipes.

I know how lost she feels. In a recent move my own private book of recipes was misplaced and for weeks I thought it was lost for good.

The recipes in it were my family's favorites—for I never copied a recipe in it that hadn't first brought forth pleas of "Let's have this again soon" from the whole family.

Few has come from cookbooks, magazines, or food columns. They had come to me the way of most favorite recipes—from my mother and my husband's mother, from sisters, aunts and friends.

They were favorite recipes of others before they ever became mine. Above each one I had written the name of the person who had given it to me.

Well, I finally found my dog-eared, time-thickened, much-used notebook. But until I did I felt lost. It had taken me years to collect the recipes and I felt bankrupt without them.

Besides, I'd always planned to copy them down for our daughter someday. A file of tried and true recipes is one of the few ways in which a mother can share homemaking experience with a daughter.

It adds something to the continuity of a family, too.

I'm going to copy them just as they were given to me—including my first prize recipe, sent by my mother in answer to an SOS when I was a bride.

It was her recipe for Southern fried chicken and at the end she had written, "Now pull up your chairs!" When I copy it down for my daughter—the recipe will even have that triumphant footnote.

Fatigue Often Makes Teenagers Act Lazy

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Youth is supposed to be full of vim and vigor, but the truth of the matter is that teen age often is fraught with fatigue. This is so apparent that grownups and frequently irritated by the lack of drive, the lolling and loitering about and the procrastination which the very young seem to indulge in.

When it comes to a sudden expenditure of energy which playing a game of basketball and similar sports require, youth has it all over middle age. Many a father and mother, however, can maintain performance and meet the complexities and stresses of daily life far better than the teenager.

There seems to be no doubt that much of the fatigue of the young comes from the rapid growth and development which takes place during this period of life. Within a few years time boys shoot up into men and girls into women. There is tremendous and speedy growth in the muscles and organs and bone structure. The glandular system is especially active.

Also, the teenage group is one of the poorest nourished. This is due to the irregular eating habits of most adolescents. In between meal snacks and extra foods spoil their appetites for the well-rounded menus which most homes provide at the usual times.

Young men and women in their teens should watch their posture. Rapid growth and fatigue cause them to have a tendency to slump. This in turn is tiring. Incorrect posture places a strain on the muscles and ligaments and crowds the heart and lungs. So a vicious circle occurs.

Some of the weariness of this age comes from emotional stresses. This is a bewildering stage when the young man or woman is meeting many new situations, when belonging to the crowd is so very important, when mature judgement is a thing of the future and values are not yet straightened out.

Many young folks take far too little exercise. Many of them indulge in no sports and practically no outdoor life. The following is a quotation from Dr. J. Roswell Gallagher, chief of the adolescent unit, Children's Hospital, Boston, as reported in Today's Health, which is published by the American Medical Association:

"Fatigue in adolescents frequently may be caused by lack of exercise, rather than too much activity. Unless the adolescent is suffering from some chronic disease or nutritional disorder, exercise and new activities may be most appropriate.

"Continued rest by itself doesn't increase the ability to withstand stress. It is by doing more, and still more, that the capacity to do strenuous work and quickly recover from it is increased."

More exercise, better nutrition and plenty of sleep would lift the fog of fatigue from many a young person.

MIDDLE-AGED NEED SKILL WITH MAKEUP

When a woman has the bonus of extreme youth she can get away with almost any kind of makeup, although certain colors, of course, are most flattering. It is regrettable when a very young person uses enough makeup to hide the natural beauty and freshness of young years.

The middle-aged woman needs makeup more than her daughter does, but she should be sure to select it with care and apply it skillfully. If she uses too much makeup or the wrong colors, it will emphasize every line and droop she may have. Any extreme has this effect.

In between meal snacks and extra food spoil teenagers' appetites for the well-rounded menus which most homes provide at the usual times.

Skin tones usually change some as one grows older. A woman may keep a lovely complexion all through her life but for the most part the colors are muted as the years accumulate and the hair grays. Therefore, care should be used in the choice of colors.

As a general rule these should not be too glaring. The softer shades usually are flattering, although a clear, not too bright red is often good. Dark lipsticks usually are aging although some striking types can use them. The lips may become less full in older age and for this reason it is a good idea for the older woman to extend the natural line a bit.

As a general rule you need a bit more pink in your powder than in younger years. This is especially true at night, since artificial lights drain out the pink. Many chic women use no rouge in the daytime but highlight their eyes and then use rouge at night. When you apply rouge do not put it too low on the face. This adds years to your appearance.

MORE SHADOWS

The mature woman may have more shadows and circles about her eyes than she once did. For this reason I do not think that eyeshadow is flattering to most women in this age group. If they use it at all it should be in some color other than brown or black. Some blues and greens are enhancing.

Mascara can add to the attractiveness of any woman at any age if it is used with subtlety and art.

Good news in the mail today—and Clayt Bartlett has his share of it!

Clayt Bartlett is a Detroit mailman and a Detroit Edison customer. If his sack is just a little fuller and a little heavier today, he doesn't mind one bit.

That extra load is Detroit Edison's 1956 Annual Report. And it's good news for the Edison stockholders on Clayt's route. For Clayt, too, because he has owned Edison stock since 1942.

"Just wait until the folks read what their company—Detroit Edison—did in '56," says Clayt. "I've read my copy already. I know they'll be happy.

"Last year, Edison paid $1.85 a share to its stockholders. That's 20 cents more than in '55. And Edison hasn't missed a quarterly dividend in 48 years.

"So I'm doing all right, as a stockholder. But, I'm also an Edison customer,* and Edison did all right by us on that side, too. They increased their generating capacity by 11% to help Southeastern Michigan live better electrically.

"Matter of fact, everyone benefits. For one thing, the Report tells how employe wages have gone up 4½ percent during the year.

"There's more in this report, too," says Clayt, "lots more. About industrial growth in Southeastern Michigan, and about the new Enrico Fermi project that will harness atomic energy to make electricity, for instance. We'll always have low-cost electricity in this area, too, thanks to Edison planning.

"I'm sure glad I'm a customer and a stockholder. I win both ways."!

*Incidentally, like Clayt, 60% of all Detroit Edison stockholders are customers, too.

Sick Motives Don't Apply to Polly

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

Polly sat on her front step, discouraged with life. Mostly, this was because the cold which had been keeping her home from school had melted into an unusually agressive sniffle.

Because she was 7, she endured it instead of blowing her nose. Now it was blunting the taste of the lemon lollipop she was sucking just as all day it had blunted her interest in jigsaw puzzles, The Green Fairy Book and other forms of entertainment.

But the interest revived immediately at the sight of another child coming down the block. Polly didn't know her very well, so she yelled, "Come play with me—and I'll make my mother give you one of my lollipops!"

Unfortunatley, her mother overheard. Instead of giving her a lollipop for the guest, she said, "No, we don't want to buy anyone's friendship, dear. If the little girl wants to play with you, let her do it because she likes you, not because she like candy."

Naturally, Polly thought that her mother was a little soft in the head.

HOW WE APPEAR

Soft in the head is how we inevitably appear to healthy children when we saddle them with child guidance clinics' analyses of unhealthy ones.

Of this tendency to impute the same motives to all children's actions, psychiatrist Dr. Hilde Bruch writes, "It is unrealistic to expect ironclad and foolproof rules for the solution of highly individualistic problems. Parents must learn to use methods which are appropriate for themselves, their children and their circumstances."

Seen in relation to other appeasing action, these attempts may be seen as symptoms of emotional disturbance. But this does not mean that any child who offers a stranger candy is a victim of emotional disturbance.

It may just mean that like Polly, he feels like extending himself in friendliness. Like her, children advance candy to the stranger for the same reason that explorers give beads to native chiefs and the nice man at the cocktail party brings you the tray of canapes.

It's our own problem of apprehension that reads sick motive into children's every action.

WAC Vets Suggested for CD Duty

Ex-Servicewoman Points to Value of Army Discipline

By JANE EADS

WASHINGTON — Mrs. Camilla Mays Frank, national president of the Women's Army Corps Veterans Assn., believes women's military service organizations can serve a more important function in building and maintaining national defense.

A trim, quiet-mannered widow now living in New Orleans, Mrs. Frank is supervisor of personnel for the local civil defense organization.

In Washington for the WAC-Vets annual board meeting, she observed that no group is better equipped to form the nucleus of a volunteer civil defense program than veterans of the WAC and other service branches that came into being during World War II.

"In times of emergencey," she said, "you need leaders who have had disciplinary training. In organinzing the New Orleans control center I used WAC vets for my readiness people."

Mrs. Frank says support of national security with emphasis on civil defense is a chief aim of the WAC-Vets Assn., which was organized in January 1946.

AID IN RECRUITING

There are now some 35 chapters with a membership of about 1,200. Support of the WAC recruiting program is another important activity of the organization.

Mrs. Frank believes women serving in one of the military units not only get a "keener sense of values as far as the defense of our country is concerned, but learn to speak the language of their menfolk who must sooner or later have had military service.

"If women and men share a common knowledge of military affairs in the common purpose of defense, it will build a much stronger family life and thus a much stronger nation," she says.

Standards for the WAC are much higher than they were during the war years, the leader of the women vets points out, but she believes women would be vastly more interested in joining the corps if its offiecrs were given "comparative rank for comparative jobs."

She thinks women in the armed services should have an opportunity to become full generals, or full admirals. There's only one full colonel in the Women's Army Corps and that's the head.

RETIRED AS CAPTAIN

A native of Richmond, Va., Mrs. Frank served in the WAC from September 1942 to April 1946, then in the reserves until she retired in 1954, retaining the reserve commission of WAC captain.

She was one of six WACs who received France's Croix de Guerre.

Get Out Your Icing Tips for This One

Mrs. Reed Builds Colored Figures on White Frosting

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

We've had several icing recipes lately, and here is another one. This makes a large quantity of icing that can be used with cake decorating sets. It has good consistency and builds up well on the cake.

Mrs. Harry Reed is today's cook. For a little over a year she has been a full-time homemaker with a young son. Before that, she did social work.

Reading is her favorite leisure-time activity. She dabbles a bit with painting and sketching. She is new member of AAUW.

DECORATING ICING
By Mrs. Harry Reed

1 cup butter or margarine
1 cup white vegetable shortening
2 pounds confectioners sugar, sifted
1 teaspoon flavoring
1 teaspoon salt
1 large egg white

Mix first 5 ingredients well, then add slightly beaten egg white and continue beating to spreading consistency. If the weather is hot, more sugar will be needed.

This icing can be colored. Any left over keeps well in the refrigerator. The above recipe makes plenty to ice and decorate a cake.

4,200,000 Women Receive SS Payments

By RAY HENRY
Associated Press Writer

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

From T. A. of Monrovia, Calif.: "How many women are now receiving Social Security payments?"

As of December, 4,200,000.

From J. P. R. of Fontana, Calif.: "We've had a number of arguments over this problem so we decided to let you settle it for us: If a man who is covered by Social Security dies, could his wife and two minor children draw Social Security immediately or would the wife not get anything until she reaches 62?"

The widow would be eligible to receive payments until the youngest child reached 18. Then, the payments would stop until the widow reached retirement age.

From Dr. D. U. of New York City: "Under the new provision which brings dentists into Social Security, when must the first Social Security tax payment be made? How much is the tax?"

The first payment must be made by April 15, along with your federal income tax payment. Since the tax is for 1956, the tax is 3 per cent of the first $4,200 of your net earnings from self-employment. The tax you'll have to pay for this year will be 3⅝ per cent.

From V. P. Z. of Orlando, Fla.: "I'm a World War I veteran. How long and during what period of time must I have served to be eligible for a vet's pension?"

To be eligible for a pension, you must have had at least 90 days of service some part of it during the World War I period. The World War I period was between April 5, 1917 and Nov. 12, 1918. The period is extended to April 1, 1920, if you were serving in Russia.

From M. B. of Washington, D. C.: "I'll soon be retiring from the government at 65 and will receive the regular Civil Service annuity. If I should get a part-time job, will this affect the size of my annuity payments?"

No. There are no restrictions on your employment outside the government.

From Miss O. C. F. of Minot, N. D.: "I've just taken on t he job of soliciting subscriptions for magazines on my own phone. I'm paid on a commission basis. Is this job covered by Social Security?"

Yes, you're considered self-employed. You should get in touch with the nearest Internal Revenue Service office and ask that you be mailed a booklet covering the payment of self-employment tax.

From H. K. of Manhattan, Kan.: "I work for the federal government and pay part of my salary into the Civil Service retirement fund. Is it possible for me to withdraw part of this contribution if I need the money very badly? I would pay it back."

The contribution you make to Civil Service retirement may not be withdrawn while you're still working for the government.

(Questions on Social Security problems may be addressed to "Social Security," in care of The Pontiac Press. Questions will be answered by mail from the Pontiac office of the Social Security Administration. There is no charge for this service.)

Negative Campaign for Affirmative Vote

IDAHO FALLS, Idaho (AP) — A candidate for the City Council, who says he needs the job "like I need a hole in the head," told voters: "Don't vote for me April 2."

Dr. David H. Smith, a physician, said in a statement yesterday that if citizens don't care about contaminated water, sewage dumped near city wells, too many gnats and flies going unsprayed, and unsanitary food establishments, they shouldn't mark their ballots in his behalf.

"If I am not elected, I'll go fishing," he declared.

Waterford Area Hit by 72 Grass Fires

There were 72 grass fires in Waterford Township last week, costing the taxpayers approximately $3,300, according to reports from the three township fire stations.

Although careless burning of rubbish is the cause of 95 per cent of the grass fires, other elements enter in, according to Fire Chief Edward Smith.

A small boy was seen in a field on Cass Lake Road, starting a grass fire with a cigarette lighter by Waterford Township Detective Donald Gravelin. Gravelin put out the fire and took the youngster home with a warning to his mother.

"People can't be too careful at this time of year," Chief Smith said. "Not only do high March winds hamper fire fighting, but heavy equipment gets mired down in the mud during this period."

Chief Van Atta to Speak to Burt PTA Members

Members of the William Austin Burt PTA will meet at 8 p.m. Thursday. Frank Van Atta, chief of the Waterford Township Police Dept., will speak on safety.

He will explain the possibilities of improving the walking conditions for school children, and a film, "The Closed Book," will be shown by the speaker following the talk.

READIED FOR CROSSING — The Mayflower II, a replica of the Pilgrim Fathers' ship, receives finishing touches in its drydock at Brixham, Devonshire, England. The vessel will sail to the United States next month where it will be presented to the American people as a gift from the English. Twelve miles of rope went into the ship's rigging.

Fights Return From Florida

Ellis Pair Left Work, Massachusetts Home to Keep Adopted Girl

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — A mild-mannered couple, who fled home and business to keep their adopted daughter in defiance of Massachusetts courts, open their fight in a hearing today against extradition.

Melvin B. Ellis, 45, said he and his wife Frances, 35, would "make our stand" here to prevent losing 6-year-old Hildy McCoy.

"I don't care if I go to jail," the bespectacled clothing salesman told interviewers. "The main thing is the girl's happiness.

"We're not running any more."

The hearing before Peace Justice Malvin Englander was called on fugitive charges. Massachusetts authorities hold kidnap warrants for the Ellises.

They vanished with Hildy from their Brookline, Mass., home in 1955 after the Massachusetts Supreme Court ordered them to turn the blonde, blue-eyed child over to Mrs. Marjorie McCoy Doherty, the natural mother, who allowed the child to be placed for adoption when 10 days old.

The Ellises are Jewish and Hildy's mother is Roman Catholic. Mrs. Doherty demanded return of her child under Massachusetts law that provides children "when practicable" be placed for adoption with parents of their faith.

The Ellises' lawyer, Ben Cohen of Miami Beach, said he would personally appeal to Gov. Leroy Collins not to permit extradition of his clients. Cohen said extradition "would be like making a refugee from Hungary return."

The family was discovered living in Miami Beach through a routine check of Ellis' automobile registration when he negotiated for a new car Friday.

Ellis said he gave up his dry-cleaning business and left his Brookline home after "we had tried everything" in the courts to be permitted to retain the child. He said the mother rejected their offer to rear the child in the Catholic faith.

"None of the many court decisions regarding the custody of Hildy has considered her welfare," he said. "The child has had our love and affection and she has learned to love us."

Ellis told of taking his family to Portland, Maine; Levittown, Pa.; Thompsonville, Conn.; and Tuckahoe, White Plains, Scarsdale and New York City, N.Y., in frequent moves that led to their settlement last may in Miami Beach.

"This is our home now," Ellis said. "Miami is to be our home and our child's home."

Ellis said Hildy's mother has indicated she does not want the child back but "wants Hildy turned over to a Catholic agency so she can be adopted by a Catholic family."

Mrs. Doherty, who lives at Hingham, Mass., could not be reached for comment.

You Can't Fight It Headon, So Learn to Outwit Tornado

Since Michigan has already had its first tornado warning, Oakland County residents who have the "tornado jitters" can learn a few simple rules that may spell the difference between life and death.

Tornadoes, or twisters, have proved violently in the past few years that they consider Michigan a happy hunting ground, and a number of our cities felt the impact of these spectacular storms last year.

Authorities on twisters urge everyone to know what to do if they spot the characteristic swirling black funnel approaching.

If you are in open country do this:

1. Move at right angles to the tornado's path. Twisters usually move ahead at 25 to 40 miles an hour.

2. If there is no time to escape, lie flat in a ditch or nearest depression.

WHEN IN TOWN

1. Seek shelter, preferably in a strongly reinforced building. Stay away from windows.

2. If you are at home, go to the basement and get in the corner of the house toward the direction from which the storm is coming. If you don't know the direction of the storm, go to the southwest corner.

If you have no basement or storm cellar seek shelter in a ravine or ditch.

FOR SCHOOL SAFETY

If you are in school do this:

1. In city schools, if the building is reinforced, stay near an inside wall, away from windows. Stay on the lower floor or basement. Avoid auditoriums or gyms with large poorly-supported roofs.

2. In rural schools that are not strongly reinforced, head for a ditch or ravine, if a storm shelter is not available.

In factories do this:

1. Post a lookout when the alarm is sounded. If the storm comes toward the plant, be ready to shut off electricity and fuel lines. Get employes away from indows and into the strongest buildings.

Above all, keep calm. Running around just increases your chances of being hit by the twister. And remember—the chance of your home being struck by a tornado is very slight, so don't panic.

Keep alert and listen to the radio or television for the latest information on the storm's path. Do not call the weather bureau, except to report a tornado.

But if the tornado comes your way, be sure you know what to do.

CIVIC PROJECT — Construction progresses on Flint's $6 million Municipal Center. This aerial view shows a group of five contemporary buildings clustered in a horseshoe design. Buildings included from left are Municipal Court, Police Headquarters, City Hall and the Public Health Building. The circular structure is the Health Department Auditorium. The center, when envisioned in 1948 by a special citizens' advisory committee, was made a reality through three separate bond issues, plus land condemnation totaling $1,250,000 in the heart of the city's business district. Target date for completion of the project is October.

AN INDUSTRY 'FIRST' — A standard-production GMC air suspension tractor rolls off the assembly line at the General Motors Truck & Coach Division's Pontiac manufacturing plant. With air-filled bellows instead of leaf springs, the most modern power-plants in the industry and lightweight cabs with aluminum construction features, the new models boast dozens of major product advances, according to GMC engineers.

Features Air Suspension

GMC Shows New Trucks

The nation's first standard-production air suspension trucks, featuring such advances as lightweight aluminum cabs and powerful turbo-charged diesel engines, are rolling off assembly lines at GMC Truck and Coach Division.

They head up a line of new GMC 1957 heavy-duty trucks announced today by Philip J. Monaghan, vice president of General Motors and general manager of the division.

The 10 basic air suspension models add great versatility to the heavy-duty truck line and wrap into one package the largest number of "firsts" ever offered truckers, according to GMC engineers.

Considered one of the greatest trucking advances since pneumatic tires replaced hard rubber treads, the GMC air suspension system consists of rubberized cushions of air that absorb heavy road jolts and high-frequency vibrations before they can reach the frame.

"Tests and demonstrations have already evidenced the many economic advantages of our air suspension vehicles," said Monaghan.

GREATER PAYLOAD

Besides permitting greater payload capacity, GMC air suspension also eliminates spring repair, lubrication and replacement; provides a smoother ride for the driver and cargo; maintains a constant vehicle floor height for simplified loading and unloading; absorbs road jolts and thereby reduces body maintenance costs; reduces breakage of fragile cargo and permits lighter-weight, less-expensive packaging; and permits the use of weight-saving components for overall reduction of vehicle weight."

Elaborating on the last point, Monaghan pointed out that one basic GMC air suspension model, for example, weighs as much as 600 pounds less than competitive conventional makes in the same general weight classification.

New lightweight cabs with aluminum construction features that substantially reduce over-all vehicle weight are featured on all 800 and 860 air suspension models.

The newest engines in GMC's heavy-duty line power the air suspension tractors. Four have the all-new 370 cubic-inch V-8 developing 232 horsepoer; two the 6-71 diesel achieving 220 horsepower; two the new 4-71T turbo-charged diesel engine; and two the new 6-71SE (Super-Economy) six-cylinder diesel developing 190 gross horsepower.

Heading the list are two new V-8s, the one mentioned above and another powerplant with 347 cubic-inch displacement and a 206 horsepower rating.

Two turbo-charged diesels, the four-cylinder one powering the new air suspension models and a six-cylinder engine developing 236 horsepower, are available in various heavy-duty models.

McCarthy Eyes Probe of UAW

Says He'll Ask Senate to Look for Misconduct in Reuther Union

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) said yesterday he plans to ask for a Senate investigation of the huge United Auto Workers Union; headed by Walter Reuther.

"From the information I have, what we have uncovered in our investigation of the Teamsters Union will smell like a high-grade perfume in comparison to what we will find in the Reuther union," McCarthy said.

At Detroit yesterday, a union spokesman said UAW leaders would appear voluntarily and would answer all questions if the union were the subject of a Senate committee study.

The spokesman would make no additional comment, saying, "We would not dignify further, at this time, a cheap attempt at publicity by smearing honest people, which McCarthy has tried so often."

McCarthy, here to appear on local television panel program, is one of the Republican members of the Senate committee headed by Sen. McClellan (D-Ark), which is investigating misconduct in labor and industry.

McCarthy said he didn't know when the committee would place the UAW on its investigation agenda, but he said he'd bring up the matter himself, if he has to.

The Wisconsin Republican declined to discuss the nature of his findings in regard to the 1,200,000-member UAW.

He said he would not violate the committee's "hard and fast rule not to make public information in the possession of committee members or the staff before it has been brought out in public hearings."

Festival Winner Donates Prize to Sponsors

Farmer Sells 5 Lbs. Rhubarb for $1,800

The farmer received a silver trophy cup as the grand prize winner.

The prize rhubarb was later auctioned off to produce men by Joseph Koss, auctioneer. The buyer who outbid all others was Ben Mossman of Wrigley's Stores Inc.

Martin donated his check to the Utica Rotary Club and the Wolverine State Growers Assn., who sponsored the festival to promote next year's festival and to aid in hothouse rhubarb research.

Queen JoAnn Kuchenmeister was crowned by Michigan's Supreme Court Justice Talbert Smith at 8 o'clock in the evening. She later reigned over the dance held that evening.

Chairman of the rhubarb festival committee, Donald Klaus, said the turnout for the festival was much better than last year's and the event went off "like clockwork."

Man Kills Four Then Slays Self

Shoots Mother, 3 Girls; Was to Be Married to Bookkeeper Yesterday

WEST FRANKFORT, Ill. (AP) — Wielding a claw hammer and a pistol, a 44-year-old jewelry store operator killed his three young daughters, his mother and himself yesterday — the day he was to marry his bookkeeper.

Coroner Barney Browning said Herman Behn hit his sleeping victims in the head with the hammer and shot them with a .38 pistol. Behn himself died of a bullet in the right temple.

Investigators said they could find no motive. An inquest was ordered for today.

The victims were Mrs. Minnie Behn, 70; Kay, 10; Shirley, 12; and Linda, 14.

Mrs. Maldetta Minton, a 38-year-old divorcee who was to have been Behn's bride in a ceremony at the First Christian Church, was reported in deep shock.

Coroner Browning said Behn's brother William got a call from him early yesterday morning. William quoted Herman:

"Bill, I've killed mother and the girls. I just figure they could not live without me and I could not live without them."

Browning said Mrs. Minton told him she last saw Behn at 11:30 Saturday night. She quoted him:

"I'm going home and get a good night's sleep so I'll feel good at the wedding."

Arthur Marks, assistant chief of police, said Mrs. Minton told him she and Behn planned to move into her farm home and take his mother and the children to live with them after a two-week honeymoney in Hot Springs, Ark.

Behn had been a jeweler here for 18 years and was active in civic affairs. He was divorced about four years ago and granted custody of the children. His first wife, June, is believed to be living in Chicago.

Troy Continues 12-Town Battle

Adds Query of Paying for Service to Detroit Zoo, Rackham Course

TROY — This year-old community gives every indication of continuing its battle over the 12-Town Drain.

Dissatisfied from the first, Troy finally took legal steps to delay action on the drain last fall, when officials and citizens objected to what they considered an extremely high cost with a very low relief area.

Troy's attorney, Jack Hutson, said he had twice prepared his case ready for court procedings, and each time the drain board had had the hearing postponed. The board's delaying action was said to be so an attempt could be made to work out an agreement, out of court.

"I've been through it twice," Hutson said, "now they'll have to reckon with me."

Of late Troy has added the question as to payment for service to the Detroit Zooligical Gardens and he Rackham Golf Course.

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Two violent explosions rocked the SS Perama early today but the Coast Guard reported later that all 43 men aboard were safe.

The crewmen were taken aboard the SS Clairborne and plans were made to take the Perama in tow, the Coast Guard said.

The Perama was described as listing to port and "dead in the water." Five other vessels were in the area, about 180 miles west-southwest of Egmont Key, which is at the mouth of Tampa Bay.

One lifeboat from the Perama contained 25 men and the other held 18.

Blankenship said his suspicions were aroused when the men removed a number of items from the car before being taken to Detroit. He notified Troy Police immediately after returning to his cab stand.

Replica of Mayflower Long Boat

Launch Stout Oak Shallop With Fanfare at Plymouth

PLYMOUTH, Mass. (INS) — Children studying American history certainly must have wondered how the Pilgrim fathers—and their wives and children—could step from the high-decked Mayflower onto the huge rock at Plymouth.

They didn't. They anchored the Mayflower in the harbor and rowed ashore on that break day in 1620 in a "shallop."

This sturdy oak craft was the Mayflower's long, rowing and sailing boat. She brought the passage-weary Pilgrims onto dry land, barren and desolate though it was, and in the dead of winter.

An exact replica of the historic long boat was launched with a fanfare of ceremony.

Mrs. Foster Furcolo, wife of the governor of Massachusetts, christened the craft before TV and movie cameras, a group of Mayflower descendants, state and town officials, the people of Plymouth and officers and members of Plymouth Plantation, a non-profit group.

The "shallop" has been re-created to replay its part in the Mayflower-Pilgrim story when the Mayflower II arrives from England at Plymouth late in May.

Capt. Allen Villiers, the colorful former British Navy Commander who will skipper the Mayflower II on its re-enactment of the original crossing, flew to this country to participate in today's launching.

The Plymouth Plantation group is undertaking the task of re-creating the original Pilgrim village with the Mayflower as the centerpiece on a 100-acre tract just south of the town of Plymouth.

This tract will cost upwards of a million dollars.

START IN APRIL

The voyage of Mayflower II—a replica of the staunch Pilgrim ship of "180 tons burden"—is scheduled to start late in April. It will follow the original route from Plymouth, England, to Plymouth, Mass., just 337 years after the original voyage.

The Mayflower's "shallop" was 33 feet long and nine and one-half feet wide. Her keel was 27 feet long. Her mast was 28 feet high and six inches in diameter at the butt. She was equipped with a mainsail and a jib, as well as oars, and could hold 30 or 40 passengers.

The long boat was carried on the deck of the Mayflower and first used to explore the Cape Cod shore line, while the Mayflower rode at anchor off Provincetown. She took the Pilgrims into Plymouth Bay where they found what they sought, a sheltered harbor.

The shallop was used to ferry the Mayflower passengers from the ship to the land, where history tells us they stepped ashore on Plymouth Rock. The boat also was used later to explore the coast line and for seal and fishing expeditions.

The replica of the long boat was designed by William A. Baker of Hingham, Mass., noted naval architect and marine designer who also drew the plans for Mayflower II after eight years of research.

Calhoun to Hire Help to Collect Unpaid Debts

MARSHALL (AP) — The Calhoun County board of supervisors hopes a $4,000 investment will bring in many times that amount from people who owe the county money for hospital and legal services.

The board unanimously voted $4,000 so the county prosecutor can hire legal and clerical workers to help collect the money.

Auditors estimate more than $400,000 is owed the county for free hospital and probate court services given indigent residents. Under state law, the money can be collected if the individual or his family become financially able to make payment.

The auditors estimate the county should be able to collect about 20 per cent, or $80,000, of the total owed.

Walled Lake Lone County Cage Hope

By BILL CORNWELL

The Vikings, 53-36 conquerors of Clarkston in Saturday night's Class B regional final at Pontiac High, are Oakland County's sole remaining hope in the state tournament.

Mighty Pontiac's demise at the hands of Flint Northern and Berkley's elimination by powerful East Detroit in the Birmingham regional leave the county's chances for a state title squarely up to the Vikings.

Eight schools now remain in each class and from here on the road to a state championship is harder with every step. Coach Bill Ullenbruch and his Viking cagers are fully aware of this.

Walled Lake faces a rugged assignment Wednesday night in the state quarter-finals.

The Vikings will meet a towering Flint Kearsley squad, which won the 'B' regional crown at Flint Saturday with a come-from-behind 71-65 victory over Flint Tech.

Where the Lakers and Kearsley are playing is not known at this writing. State quarter-final locations will be announced sometime today.

Exhausted after strenuous regional games with Utica and St. Clair, the Vikings stalled throughout the final two quarters as they tenaciously guarded their 34-28 halftime lead.

The "freeze" upset the Wolves, forcing them to follow Walled Lake's plan of battle. Their shooting suffered and as a result they scored only eight points. A 4th-period basket by Roger Dubats was Clarkston's lone field goal.

Clarkston and Walled Lake fought tooth-and-nail during a swift-moving 1st half. The score was 13-13 at the end of the 1st quarter and it was not until the last minute of the 2nd period that the Vikings took command.

The Wolves became visibly tired in their desperate efforts to break up the 2nd-half stall. Larry Hughes, a brilliant performer, and durable John Walker controlled the boards for Walled Lake in the last quarter.

Hughes netted 26 points, 22 in the 1st half, and Walker contributed 12, including eight foul shots in eight attempts. Clarkston's Leroy Parks and George Lang once again played starring roles with 12 and 10 points respectively.

Clever Detroit All Saints advanced to the state quarter-finals in Class C with a 64-51 triumph over Detroit St. Cecilia. Mike Butka led the Saints with 26 points while Vito Rugienius scored 18 for the losers.

Meet Brooks Again Tonight

One Blast Ruins Tigers, 3-2

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—There was too much Don Zimmer for the Detroit Tigers to handle in their exhibition game with the Brooklyn Dodgers here yesterday.

At bat and in the field he was a decisive factor in Brooklyn's 3-2 victory.

The veteran second baseman socked a home run with two mates aboard in the second inning to give the Dodgers all their runs. In the field he started three Brooklyn double plays that broke the back of Detroit bids for runs.

Zimmer's long swat ruined an otherwise respectable pitching job by Jim Bunning, who yielded the home run, and Billy Hoeft. They allowed the Dodgers only six hits.

The Tigers got their first run in the seventh inning off Don Drysdale after Carl Erskine and Don Bessent had set them down scoreless.

Jim Finigan got to first base when he was hit by a Drysdale pitch and went to second on Red Wilson's single. Harvey Kuenn forced Wilson but Frank Bolling rapped out a single to score Finigan.

In the eighth inning the Tigers got their other run and saw a wonderful opportunity vanish. J. W. Porter walked and took second on Bill Tuttle's single. Ray Boone walked, filling the bases with no outs.

Jim Small then walked, forcing Porter home and leaving the bases loaded.

But Frank House, Wilson and Charley Lau popped out to end the threat.

Erskine, who pitched the first three innings, was credited with the victory. Bunning, Detroit's starter, was the loser.

The teams are scheduled to go against each other tonight at 8:30 in the finale of a two-game set.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

In a full schedule of Grapefruit Circuit games yesterday, the Washington Senators defeated the Milwaukee Braves 5-3, the New York Yankees blanked the Cincinnati Redlegs 9-0, the Philadelphia Phillies downed the Boston Red Sox 4-1, the Pittsburgh Pirates squeezed out a 2-1 decision over the Kansas City Athletics, the Chicago White Sox walloped the St. Louis Cardinals 12-3, the Baltimore Orioles took an 11-5 verdict from the Chicago Cubs, and the New York Giants defeated the Cleveland Indians 9-6.

Pittsburgh, with a 7-2 exhibition record—best in both leagues—won in the sixth inning at Ft. Myers, Fla. Gene Freese walked, went to third on Dick Groat's double, and came home on a sacrifice fly.

Three White Sox, Larry Doby, Bubba Phillips and rookie Jim Landis got three hits apiece as Chicago mauled a trio of Cardinal pitchers for 18 hits at St. Petersburg, Fla. Wally Moon was 4-for-4 for the Cardinals, including a homer.

At Tampa, Fla., the Yankees showed their power with 15 hits, and the Redlegs pulled a triple play. Mickey Mantle hit homers from both sides of the plate, and Andy Carey had a single, double, triple and homer to bat in four runs.

Gil McDougald singled in the third, Mantle was hit by a pitched ball, but Yogi Berra lined to shortstop Alex Grammas, who touched second base and threw to first for the triple killing.

Baltimore got 15 safeties at Los Angeles off five Cub hurlers, giving the Orioles their third win in five games with Chicago.

Gail Harris, in as a pinch hitter in the eighth inning at Tucson, Ariz., hit a bases-loaded double to break a 6-6 tie with Cleveland. Washington came from behind with four big runs in the seventh inning at Bradenton, Fla. Jerry Schoonmaker belted a three-run homer as a pinch hitter, the victim being the Braves' Taylor Phillips.

The Red Sox dropped their fifth game as three Philadelphia pitchers—Jim Hearn, Jack Sanford and Gene Snyder—held them to five hits at Sarasota, Fla.

Pontiac Hurdler Beaten by Olympic Champ Milt Campbell

CHICAGO (AP) — Irish miler Ron Delany, Olympic champions and Villanova track stars swept the boards in the 21st Chicago Daily News Relays Saturday night before a crowd of 16,056.

Either an Olympian or a Villanova man won every individual event and Delany, who falls in both categories, came within two-tenths of a second of the world indoor mile record.

Delany, the 1500-meter Olympic champion, turned in a 4.03.8 in the Bankers Mile for a new meet record. It was the top indoor effort for the Villanova star, who has run the mile outdoors in 3:59.

Milt Campbell, Olympic decathlon record holder, tied the indoor mark of :07.1 in the 60-yard high hurdles and gold medal winner Ira Murchison tied the meet record of :05.2 in the 50-yard dash.

Pontiac's Hayes Jones ranked a close 2nd to Campbell in a time of 7.1, beating out North Carolina's great Lee Calhoun. "Hayes led the race until he knocked over the 3rd hurdle," said his coach, George Marshall of Eastern Michigan College today. "He finished a foot behind but I think he would have won it if he had not hit that hurdle."

Arnie Sowell, the Pittsburgh flash, set a new meet record of 2:08.9 in the 1,000-yard run, bettering the 2:09.4 by Tom Courtney last year

Berg Wins Titleholders

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — Patty Berg, 39-year-old golfer who has been a professional since 1940, packed her bags today for a trip west with hopes of passing the $100,000 mark in money winning.

The red-haired player from St. Andrews, Ill., put together 15 pars and three birdies yesterday to overtake the younger set and win her seventh Titleholders Golf championship.

Her spectacular 69 over the 6,290-yard hilly Augusta Country Club course was three under men's par and left Miss Berg with a 296 total for the 72-hole tournament.

Top money of $1,000 went to Miss Berg. It put the chunky star's earnings within a few dollars of $100,000 since the Ladies Professional Golfers Assn. was formed in 1948.

Detroit Icers Down Montreal 2-1 for Crown

Canadiens, Bruins Now Deadlocked in Battle for 2nd Place

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

It took the Detroit Red Wings just 30 seconds to prove that ex-champs, in hockey anyway, can come back.

The same team that wound up 24 points behind the Montreal Canadiens in the National Hockey League chase a year ago after seven successive championships downed the stubborn Canadiens 2-1 Sunday night to clinch the 1957 title.

The Red Wings, who have played their poorest hockey in the waning weeks of the campaign, got the manpower advantage three times in the rough-and-tumble fracas when Montreal players were serving time in the penalty box.

On two occasions, the Detroit club seized the opportunity, the first time spending only nine seconds before John (the Beast) Bucyk sped a goal past Montreal goalie Jacques Plante and the second time waiting 21 seconds before Alex Delvecchio flipped in the decisive goal.

"They said we were over the hill, didn't they? They said the Wings couldn't come back, but we showed 'em," said jubilant Jack Adams, the Wings' general manager as he made the rounds in the dressing room, individually congratulating each player.

It was a spirited contest with scattered fist-swinging, but matters never got out of hand, the Canadiens, spurting to a 1-0 lead on Phil Goyette's first period goal, were forced to play defensive hockey the rest of the night against the hard-charging Wings.

Detroit tied the game early in the second period just nine seconds after Montreal's Doug Harvey went to the penalty box for holding. The Wings kept the pressure in the Canadien zone, but had to wait until the 15.01 mark of the third period for Delvecchio's winning goal.

The Canadiens' loss, coupled with Boston's 6-2 victory over last place Chicago, leaves those two clubs in a deadlock for second place.

The fifth-place Toronto Maple Leafs scored twice in the last 63 seconds to whip the fourth-place New York Rangers 5-3, after the Rangers had overcome a two-goal deficit.

The championship game will be Saturday night, after a consolation go for Friday's losers.

The payoff games at the end of the long tournament trail are in Kansas City's Municipal Auditorium and its 10,200 seats have been sold out for weeks.

NCAA headquarters in Kansas City indicated there is a possibility both the big nights of basketball may be televised nationally. There was no elaboration.

Both North Carolina and Kansas worked their way into the finals with easy wins in regional tourpaments Saturday night.

The Tar Heels beat Syracuse 67-58. Little Tommy Kearns stole the show from Lennie Rosenbluth, North Carolina's All-America. Rosenbluth got 23 points, one more than Kearns, but his smaller teammate was sensational in engineering the Tar Heel attack.

Kansas dumped Oklahoma City 81-61 as Wilt Chamberlain, the sensational Kansas All-America sophomore, scored 30 points.

The game was enlivened by cushion throwing, catcalls and a complaint about the officiating.

Michigan State, ranked No. 11, won the trip to Kansas City with an 80-68 victory over Kentucky, ranked No. 3 and the only team ever to win the national championship three times. The Big Ten co-champions were 12 points behind at halftime.

San Francisco posted a 50-46 win over California, the Pacific Coast Conference champion. San Francisco has won the national tournament the last two years and still has a chance to become the first team ever to take three straight.

In consolation games of the regional playoffs Saturday night, Southern Methodist beat St. Louis 78-68, Canisius beat Lafayette 82-76, Notre Dame beat Pittsburgh 86-85 and Brigham Young beat Idaho State 65-54.

Detroiters Take Over 1st Place

SAGINAW (AP)—Welcome Inn of Detroit moved into first place in the doubles handicap division yesterday as the 16-week Michigan State's Men's Bowling Tournament reached the half-way point.

The Detroit team posted a 3147 total, supplanting another Motor City team, Aqua Bar, by a slim three pins.

In the only other important change, Claude Shultz and Robert Briarton of Detroit, bowled 1314 to tie Chet Jerome and Dixon McFadden, also of Detroit, for third place in the doubles actual division.

Local Skaters Win

A Pontiac duo of betty Hyslop and Mason Thompson won the final senior-senior dance contest at the Rolladium over the weekend by skating to the Monterey Tango.

Charge Movie Invades Private Life of Presley

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — Whether it's Elvis Presley or Colonel (Hadacol) Parker I wouldn't know, but the fact remains that a big beef has been registered in Elvis' behalf against 20th Century-Fox filming "The Singing Idol," the TV story which brought Tommy Sands first into prominence.

The studio has been notified that the picture will be taken as an invasion of privacy into Elvis' life, since the story so closely resembles events in the singer's rapid rise to fame.

Henry Ephron, who is slated to produce it, nevertheless is going right ahead, making some changes it's true. Tommy Sands has finally been signed for the film and for outside pictures, too.

Ray Stark is talking to Ronnie Burns, young son of Gracie Allen and George Burns about starring in "Wallflower," a musical he is remaking from a Warner Brothers picture of 13 years ago. The Burns deal looks very promising because Freddie de Cordova will be free when "Mr. Adams and Eve" and the Burns and Allen shows have their summer layoff, will direct and produce "Wallflower." He is a good friend of Ronnie's.

BOUGHT PICTURES

Mickey Rooney was sold a bill of goods by director Richard Quine and The Mick will play a character role in "The Mad Ball." It's a small part but a good one, so Mickey decided to accept it. He plays a boy named Yancee Skeebo, who recites poetry at the drop of a hat.

Richard and producer Jed Harris arrived at a solution regarding screen credit for Mickey by agreeing to say: A guest appearance by Mickey Rooney. This may do for him what "The Bold and the Brave" did — win him another Oscar nomination.

It's been a long time since I've been as enchanted with a picture as I am with "Heaven knows, Mr. Allison." Deborah Kerr, as the Irish nun, and Robert Mitchum as the hardboiled Marine cast up on a South Pacific island together during the war, are practically the only performers in the story. They are constantly on the screen, and both of them are perfect. Not once during this production, which is a credit in good taste to Buddy Adler and Eugene Frenke, is there a single scene that could possibly give offense.

Dome Work to Start on Monroe Reactor

DETROIT (AP)—Work on a 100-foot dome for an atomic reactor near Monroe will begin before the end of the month, according to Walker L. Cisler, president of the Detroit Edison Co.

Cisler made the announcement in a report to the utility's stockholders.

Detroit Edison is a member of the Atomic Power Development Associates Inc., the group building the reactor to create steam which will generate electricity for use by the power company.

The reactor north of Monroe has been under construction since last August.

The stockholders report also said Edison spent $89,000,000 for construction last year and an equal expenditure was planned for 1957.

Profits in 1956 totaled $29,376,407 compared with $26,297,189 the year before. The quarterly dividend to stockholders was hiked from 45 to 50 cents in the last quarter of 1956.

Wheat Bends to Heavy Selling

CHICAGO (AP) — Fairly heavy selling continued in wheat futures on the Board of Trade today, and prices dipped more than a cent a bushel in early dealings.

Traders said the liquidation apparently was a carry over of the selling which caused a sharp downturn last week. Some selling was caused by forecasts for moisture in the winter wheat belt. There was a little export news, and little demand.

Corn and oats also were easy. Soybeans firmed somewhat after a lower opening.

Near the end of the first hour wheat was 1 to 1⅝ lower, March $2.26⅝, corn unchanged to ⅜ lower, March $1.29⅛, oats unchanged to ⅝ lower, March 72¾, rye ¾ to 1 cent lower, March $1.32¼, soybeans ⅛ to ⅝ lower, March $2.42¼, and lard unchanged to 10 cents a hundred pounds lower, March $14.62.

Grand Rapids Sets Vote on Fund Issue

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—City Commission has voted 5-1 for a special election June 4 on a $26,240,000 municipal improvement plan recommended by the greater Grand Rapids Civic Study Committee.

Voters will be asked to authorize tax increases for 30 years to finance the program, which includes a $12,000,000 civic center.

Meanwhile, representatives of Grand Rapids and seven neighboring communities in Kent and Ottawa Counties were scheduled to meet Saturday night to set a possible June 4 vote on a proposed $23,000,000 water pipeline to Lake Michigan.

Oils and Steels Take Losses

NEW YORK (AP) — Oils and steels took losses in a generally lower stock market early this afternoon.

The decline was general but trading was quiet.

The steel and oil issues showed somewhat greater losses than other divisions but there was no particular selling pressure.

The market was resuming its series of minor movements of the past month, Wall streeters said, and the low volume continued to indicate the prevailing caution among investors.

The Middle East situation remained a question mark to cause hesitation, while the lower steel output and softening copper prices were further dampeners on enthusiasm, brokers said.

Industrials were the worst losers today. Utilities showed slight declines and rails were narrowly mixed.

Teresa's Not British; Hails From Toledo

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—ME: "A lot of people think you're British."

SHE: "Sure, but I was born in Toledo where my father was a glass inspector—and I don't mean a bartender.

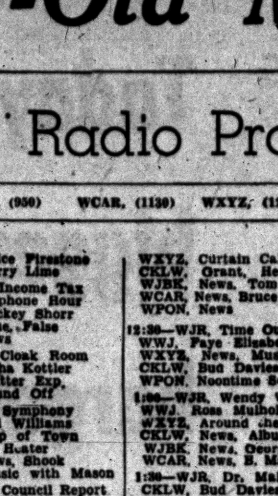
I left in 1948. I was supposed to be coming to New York to be in a movie. It turned out that I was singing in the Sawdust Trail cafe. I was living on a hot dog a day, singing seven shows a night. I got married, then I got to eating steady."



TERESA

ME: "Now you have three daughters of your own?"

SHE: "And four TV sets! We hardly ever leave New Rochelle."

Her husband spoke up: "Let's face it, we threw so much money into the house, we've got to stay there."

ME: "I knew about your big records, 'Music, Music,' 'Rocochet Romance,' and 'Til I Waltz Again With You,' but I didn't know you were a redhead."

SHE: "Neither did I till 1953."

SHE: "It was for a movie, "Three Redheads From Seattle,' and now I always have those dark roots to contend with. Once every four weeks. I like it, but when I went home to Toledo not long ago everybody said I look terrible—even for me!"

Storms Lash Coast of Texas

Driver Drowns in Auto, Tornado Damages Area Near Galveston

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Torrential rains and winds of hurricane force lashed the Texas Gulf Coast yesterday. At least one person drowned when heavy rains flooded streets and highways and a tornado injured several persons and caused scattered damage in the Galveston area.

More than 10 inches of rain fell at Texas City, where every street was flooded for a time by knee-deep water. Several families left homes in low-lying sections.

Winds up to 80 miles per hour knocked down power poles, unroofed homes and cut off telephone and electric service at several towns in Galveston County.

The rains, however, began tapering off along the coast early today.

Twisters also were reported yesterday at Houston and near San Angelo. Lighter rains fell over most of east Texas and hail fell at San Antonio and Bryan.

James J. Simpson, 45, of Texas City, drowned when his car went out of control on a rain-covered highway and careened into a culvert filled with more than five feet of water.

Mrs. Ernestine Martin was injured when the twister swooped down near Port Boliver, blowing her home off its foundation. A drive-in grocery was unroofed and at least a dozen other buildings in the area were damaged. Several other persons were hurt.

Dispatcher C. W. Whitman of the Galveston sheriff's office said the tornado struck on the C. H. Boyd ranch near Port Boliver, which lies across a ship channel from Galveston Island. He said it blew two homes 300 feet off their foundations.

Heavy hail and rain pounded San Antonio and Bryan.

Deputy Sheriff Gordon Taylor said he believed a small tornado struck a Negro section of Houston. Heavy rain flooded streets and winds tore the roof off one home.

Actor, Wife Separate to 'Think Things Over'

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — After 20 years of marriage, actor Barry Sullivan and his wife, Marie, have decided to separate on a trial basis.

In a joint statement, the couple said yesterday they hope that "by being apart and being able to think out the problems, we will come up with the solutions."

The couple have two children.

June, Dick Make Up

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — June Allyson says she and Dick Powell have "straightened out our problems" and are back together again. The actress and her actor - producer - director husband separated last Feb. 22 after more than 11 years of marriage. She said the separation ended Friday night.

$64,000 Winner Invents Formula

Rob Strom May Try for More Cash Under New Quiz Format

By JOAN HANAUER

NEW YORK (INS) — Talking to 10-year-old Robert Strom is one way to begin doubting your adult supremacy.

Subjects like Little League Baseball, English and history are safe enough, allowing you to maintain the attitude of pleasant condecension normally reserved for children.

But switch the $64,000 TV quiz show winner over to his special subjects, math and science, and you can feel the conversation slipping away from you.

"I've invented a formula," the 4-foot-3, 65-pound boy volunteered in an interview. "It will give you all prime numbers, not just an infinite number of primes."

The math-minded little boy explained — or tried to — why he speaks so disdainfully about "just an infinite number of primes."

NOT ALL OF THEM

"You could find a formula that gives every other prime, and that would still prove out to be an infinite number of primes, not all of them."

What's a prime, anyway?

"A prime is an integer that cannot be divided evenly by any other integer except itself and one. They are all positive numbers, like 11, 13, 17, 23."

Rob tried to console a reporter drowning in a sea of prime integers.

"It's very complicated," he said. "I'll have to teach it to you."

This was the time to switch the subject very speedily, back on safe ground, to his schooling and sports.

He does "okay" in non-scientific subjects like English and history, he said. His favorite sports are Little League baseball, football and "basketball, if I can persuade the instructor to let me in to face the bigger boys. I'm small, you know."

Rob, whose father is a Bronx high school teacher, became interested in things mathematical and scientific through his 14-year-old brother, Stephen.

"Stephen influenced me," he said. "I started reading books—not memorizing, but studying them. You have to study to know what you are talking about, instead of rattling off a lot of junk."

The fifth-grader hasn't yet figured out in detail how he'll spend the top prize he won on CBS-TV's "$64,000 Question." His winnings could rise to $256,000 under the new show format announced last Tuesday. He does have a few ideas of what to do with some of the money left after the federal government takes a big tax bite:

"Well, let's see . . . There's my brother to educate . . . then we have to pay debts . . . maybe I'll put aside $1,000 for something I want . . . I just don't know yet."

Rob is much more decided on his professional future—he intends to become a computer engineer, "designing computers and doing math research—a computer engineer is practically a pure mathematician."

Car Hits Pedestrian, Then He Aids Driver

ALTOONA, Pa. (AP) — Ever hear of a pedestrian being hit by an auto then getting up and taking the driver to a hospital?

Alfred Smith, 40, left his auto at a service station, walked a half block and was crossing a street at an intersection when he was hit by a car driven by Mrs. Frances Bryan, 34.

The Bryan auto then crashed into a tree. Smith walked back to the station, got his car and took Mrs. Bryan to Mercy Hospital. She was detained with cuts and bruises. Smith was treated for leg bruises then discharged.

Plan to Study Effect of Stress on People

ANN ARBOR (AP) — How Americans cope with the pressures of modern living is the topic of a study beginning in March by University of Michigan researchers.

Investigators from the University's Survey Research Center will ask questions to 2,500 adults who represent a cross-section of the American population. They will check residents in 13 metropolitan areas and more than 60 different counties in 34 states and the District of Columbia.

The researchers will attempt to learn whether the rapid pace and stress of modern day living is unhealthy, said Angus Campbell, director of the project.

"Such a matter is of vital concern in assessing the productivity and health of the American people as a nation," Campbell said.

He added that Congress and the U.S. Public Health Service has provided funds for the program.

New Hope Opens as Sherry Awaits Treatment for Scars

By PETE LOCHBILER

Doctors hope to erase the outwards signs of brutality inflicted on little Sherry Wilkinson by her mother.

What inner scars remain irradically in the child's heart, only Sherry herself knows.

As far as the eye can see, though, wounds to the heart have healed. That's why social workers sighed in relief as they watched the plucky youngster, now 8, blossoming into a new and happy life.

It is a far cry from the frightened, cowed girl who once lay dangerously ill in Pontiac General Hospital.

The story is different now as Sherry in a different hospital—that of the University of Michigan in Ann Arbor—prepares for several month's treatment involving plastic and oral surgery.

HEARING SET TUESDAY

There's been a big change since her mother, Mrs. Ada Wyatt, 33, was convicted Nov. 23 of child cruelty. A Juvenile Court hearing that comes as an aftermath Tuesday probably will seem a long way away to the bright-eyed, rosy-cheeked girl.

The hearing will determine the final custody of the six younger children of Mrs. Wyatt and Sherry's stepfather, William Wyatt, 29. The children, who range in age from one to six years, have been living temporarily in boarding homes.

Wyatt has asked for their custody.

Sherry and her five older brothers and sisters, however, are wards of the court. They have been living with their grandparents, William and Doris Ferrett, of Holly.

A Juvenile Court social worker, Mrs. Dorothy Reason, gave this description of Sherry in her new surroundings:

GOT 'B' GRADES

Although her mother once branded the little girl as "backward" and unfit for school, Sherry went to first grade in Holly and came home with B and B-plus marks on her report card.

Teachers said she fitted in immediately with her classmates no longer shy and retiring, although it was her first school exeperience.

"She's full of pep and adjusting excellently," said Mrs. Reason. "A child with less courage and stamina probably would be a pitiful behaviour problem after surviving Sherry's ordeal."

The ordeal came to light last Aug. 23 when Sherry and nine other children were discovered alone and unattended in their Keego Harbor home, 3216 Pridham St. Sherry was rushed to the hospital, suffering from a badly burned right hand, shock and malnutrition.

ALMOST TOO LATE

Doctors said if treatment had been delayed two weeks more, the little girl might not have recovered from the burn.

How the mother inflicted the injury over the kitchen gas flame as punishment was one of a series of horrifying events disclosed by the little girl during trial.

Doctors hope plastic surgery will heal the scars and allow the little girl once more to clench and unclench her crippled figgers.

They plan other surgery to heal her upper lip, which was split by a knife thrown by her mother. Oral surgery and dental work are aimed at replacing two front teeth, knocked out by the knife blow.

SCARS TO BE REPAIRED

Chin-scars will be repaired. A bad burn to the child's other hand will be covered up.

Scars on her buttocks from whippings will be remedied. Other marks where her mother thrust Sherry on a hot stove will be treated.

Sherry is taller and slimmer now, a picture of health and energy. There is a slight permanent wave in her fine, brown hair.

WON'T BE PRESENT

She and the other children will not attend the custody hearing. Wyatt, now employed as a truck driver, and Mrs. Wyatt will be asked to appear.

The mother will be brought from the Detroit House of Correction, where she is serving a 3½-4 year term for what Circuit Judge George B. Hartrick, who sentenced her, termed "the most heinous crime I have witnessed in my 20 years on the bench."

The hearing has been postponed three times pending an appeal of the conviction to the State Supreme Court. The appeal has not yet been heard.

Hoffa Portrait to Be 'Memorial to Jimmy'

ST. LOUIS (AP) — A fund drive for a life-size portrait of James R. Hoffa, Teamsters Union official arrested on charges of tampering with a Senate committee, will be continued "as a memorial to Jimmy."

That was announced last night by Nicholas M. Blassie, secretary-treasurer of the portrait committee headed by St. Louis labor leaders.

"I was taught you are innocent until proven guilty," said Blassie. He said the portrait drive was a "spontaneous thing" that followed the raising of $268,625 for construction of a "Jimmy Hoffa childrens home" in Israel.

Throws Away Worries, Takes Teaching Job

SPARKS, Nev. (AP) — Edwin Whitehead resigned yesterday as principal of Sparks High School but will remain as a history teacher.

"That job was too much to worry about," said Whitehead who will take a drop in pay from $7,600 to $6,400 a year.

Today's biggest bargain

. . . for just a nickel

Wouldn't it be a tremendous bargain if you could help stop rising prices by simply saving an extra nickel out of every dollar? Well, that bargain is ready and waiting!

If each of us saves that extra nickel, we will put a strong brake on inflation. Because one of the main causes of rising prices is overspending.

These extra nickels will produce billions of dollars in savings—money which is urgently needed to finance more factories, homes and schools.

And, of course, you get a personal bonus from your extra savings—the feeling of independence and security that a growing nest egg brings . . . the feeling that your house is in order.

As a second step to fight inflation, all of us should support every reasonable move to reduce government spending—federal, state and local.

Sure, all this means a sacrifice. But isn't it worth it, if this means continuing our prosperity—and keeping it sound?
