First Anti-Recession Measure Passes Senate

Winter in Southland; Spring Here (Well, Almost)

SNOW 'WAY DOWN SOUTH — Doing things up big in true Texas fashion, the weatherman spread a record 7½ inches of snow over the western part of the Lone Star state yesterday, plastering it thickly everywhere — even on the tree and the roadsign above, in El Paso. But if you think that was a sign it was wintry elsewhere, you're wrong. Take a look below —

SPRING IN PONTIAC — Yes, while the Southwest froze, it was Spring here. Well, at least it was spring-like, with sunshine and mid-40 temperatures. And here's a couple kite-flyers to prove it: Robert Dudley, of 99 Gladstone Place on the left and Michael Marion, 28 Cooper St. on the right. Warm it was, but not so warm perhaps but that Mike's mother would have objected to his running around without a jacket.

Special Insurance Dividend

$32 Million More for Veterans

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Veterans Administration will pay a special dividend of 32 million dollars in April and May to about 325,000 holders of World War I government insurance. That averages nearly $100 per policyholder.

Administrator Sumner G. Whittier, announcing the payment today, said the special dividend is in addition to the regular annual dividend for 5,300,000 World War I and World War II holders of GI insurance.

The regular dividend of 262 million dollars is being paid out at the rate of 22 million dollars a month.

Without referring to it as an anti-recession measure, Whittier noted that addition of the special dividend between mid-April and mid-May means all dividends for the period would total 54 million dollars.

A spokesman said the special dividend actually was approved some time ago by the former administrator, Harvey V. Higley, but it took time to set up machinery for the payments.

Whittier said the special dividend will go to holders of permanent-plan U. S. Government Life Insurance. He said about 44,000 USGLI policies will be excluded. Those omitted include 19,000 five-year term policies, 8,000 extended-term policies and 17,000 other policies for which permanent and total disability payments are being deducted from the face value.

Whittier said policies on which veterans are drawing disability benefits under a rider for which they made extra payments are not excluded.

He asked veterans not to write to the Veterans Administration about the dividend, saying the handling of such requests might delay the payments.

$1.8 Billion Bill Would Release Housing Funds

Dem Sponsors Hope to Give Jobs to Over 500,000 Workers

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate has passed its first major antirecession measure of the 1958 session—an emergency housing bill its Democratic sponsors hope would give jobs to more than half a million workers.

The $1,850,000,000 bill now goes to the House. Speaker Rayburn (D-Tex) has said he will give housing legislation priority.

Many Democratic senators expressed the hope that the House would knock out of the bill its most disputed feature — authority for President Eisenhower to raise the interest rate on GI home mortgages from the present 4½ to 4¾ per cent.

The House last year refused to go along with the President's recommendation that this rate be boosted to 5 per cent to attract more private funds into the veterans housing market.

On the only controversial issue —higher interest rates—the Senate divided evenly in two dramatic tie votes.

WOULD FREE NEW FUNDS

In addition to permitting the interest boost on GI loans, the bill would make large amounts of new government funds available to buy mortgages for which no private lenders can be found.

It would extend the VA guarantee and direct home loan programs for two years for World War II veterans and lower the down payment on FHA mortgages.

Sen. Sparkman (D-Ala), chief sponsor of the bill, said it could make possible 200,000 additional homes in 1958.

Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex) said such a step up in construction "could put more

Boost Buying by $5 Billion

Tax Cut Would Add $2-$3 to Pay Checks

WASHINGTON (AP)—An income tax cut of the sort now under consideration in Congress would add an extra $2 to $3 to the weekly pay check of the average American breadwinner.

In the aggregate, it would mean the quick addition of an estimated five billion dollars of new consumer buying power.

This immediate release of new buying power is the primary goal of tax planners seeking a quick anti-recession stimulant.

Whether a tax cut actually will be attempted, and when, have not yet been decided. It is one of several things under study.

Congressional tax experts say that any tax cut would be reflected immediately in the form of fatter employe paychecks because of lower tax withholdings.

Self-employed individuals, who pay their taxes quarterly, would be able to give themselves a tax credit equal to the percentage cut when mailing their next quarterly tax installment.

The greatest impact of an overall individual income tax cut would be on low and middle income taxpayers, who make up the majority of the nation's 48 million individual taxpayers.

The plan under serious consideration by House leaders would cut from 20 per cent to 15 per cent the tax on the first $1,000 of taxable income — in effect a 25 per cent cut there.

A 5 per cent cut would be provided in all other personal income tax rates.

If enacted, this cut would mean another $2 of weekly spendable income for the average married taxpayer with two dependents who earns $5,000 a year.

For the taxpayer in the $10,000 income bracket, the tax saving is estimated in the neighborhood of $3 a week.

Chest Re-Elects Slate of Officers

Glenn Griffin Continues Serving as President of Community Agency

Named to another term were Glenn H. Griffin, president; Mrs. Gelston V. Poole, vice president, and Robert M. Glenn, secretary-treasurer.

Stephen J. Cloonan Jr. was elected to the board of directors to fill the seat of Harold J. Muldowney who retired after more than five years on the board.

Cloonan was nominated by the Catholic Social Services of Oakland County, a Community Chest agency.

He is a member of the agency's board and a past president. He is also active as a Salvation Army board member and has served on the boards of the YMCA and the Michigan Children's Aid Society.

The members also re-elected Robert S. Nelson to another board term. He and Cloonan will serve until March 1961.

Bill Would Ease Bus Line Crisis

House OKs Measure to Exempt Some Firms From Gas, Weight Tax

A finacial measure to help bus lines operating under city lease agreements was passed by the House in Lansing yesterday.

The bill, exempting such bus lines from paying state gas and weight taxes, was sent to the Senate for consideration.

Cities that would be immediately affected if the measure becomes law are Jackson, Ann Arbor and Kalamazoo, where local buses operate under city leases.

But it might affect Pontiac, too, where it has been suggested the city lease the Pontiac City Lines, as well as Saginaw, Muskegon, Lansing, Grand Rapids and Flint which are more seriously considering similar moves.

Local bus companies, faced with sagging revenues, must have tax relief "or be forced out of business," said Rep. Bassett (R-Jackson) in support of the legislation yesterday.

The gloomy picture he painted for public transportation all over the state reflected the situation in Pontiac, where the number of bus riders has dropped 20 per cent since last July and about 65 per cent since 1950.

Repeat Financing Method of United Fund Building

Some public misunderstanding of financing of the new Community Service Building led Pontiac Area United Fund officials today to repeat the method of financing.

William B. Hartman, PAUF president, said the down-payment on the building is being made from a building fund accumulated by the Pontiac Community Chest before it went out of the fund raising business in 1949.

This money, $57,500, the Community Chest originally earmarked for a new building before the end of World War II.

The United Fund therefore will not expend any accumulated money on the building, Hartman said.

What the United Fund will do, is budget money to pay off the building in 12 years time.

This will be approximately the same money it would have been budgeting each year for rent for its own and Community Chest offices plus 10 local agencies that it supports. These 10 agencies will share the new structure with the PAUF and the Community Chest.

"The result will be, we believe, that no more public money will be spent on the building than would be spent anyway in rent. In fact, since rents are rising yearly, there may be some savings," Hartman said.

TV Shows Hubby Snoozing in Senate

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Mrs. C. W. A. McCann, wife of a state senator, turned on her television set and saw on a newsreel her husband, snoozing gently during a Senate session just after lunch.

McCann's telephone rang shortly thereafter and his wife said: "If you can't do any better than that, I'm going to come up there and replace you."

Explained the Louisville Democrat: "I wasn't really sleeping. I was sitting there with my eyes closed thinking about the next bill."

Deadlocked on Disability

WASHINGTON (INS) — The House Judiciary Committee deadlocked today over the issue of Presidential disability and its chairman said there probably will be no legislation on the subject at this session of Congress.

El Paso Digs Out of 7½-Inch Fall

Snow Unleashed on U. S. Continues to Pile High

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Rain, wind and snowstorms lashed wide areas of the country today, with Southern and Western sections hit hardest by the late winter storms.

Heavy snow fell from northern Arkansas and southwestern Missouri westward to the Continental Divide.

Falls in some parts of Missouri measured 6 inches, with 4 to 5 inches general in Kansas and Oklahoma. Snow on the ground at Russell, Kan., was more than a foot deep.

A belt of snow unrolled eastward in the Ohio Valley, depositing three inches on Louisville, Ky. in an hour this morning, with a total of seven inches expected before the storm tapers off.

St. Louis and Paducah, Ky., accumulated two inches of snow overnight.

The Weather Bureau predicted accumulations of one to four inches would be general from Missouri to Ohio along the Ohio River.

The heavy, wet snow, with fog in some areas, cut visibiity to less than half a mile. The snow was expected to spread into western and central Nebraska and western South Dakota.

Backs Foreign Aid

WASHINGTON (INS) — The U.S. Chamber of Commerce urged Congress today to continue foreign aid as a national security measure, but to strive for a more effective program.

County Residents Expect Lunar Travel Within Lifetime

How High the Moon? 'We Can Reach It'

By DICK SAUNDERS

Now that man has taken his first feeble steps outside the earth's atmosphere, who knows how long it will be before he will establish a firm footing in his newly-found playground?

Do you anticipate, in your lifetime, that humans will travel from the earth to other planets, or the moon?

This question was fired at several Oakland County residents, and it got a variety of interesting answers.

James A. Fowler, 42, curator of education at the Cranbrook Institute of Science, had this to say: "At the current rate that we are making progress in that direction, it certainly seems possible.

"Assuming the Russians were successful in launching a satellite carrying a dog, which survived the launching, it is feasible that before too long man could survive in a trip to outer space."

OFFERS 'YES' AND 'NO'

Edward H. Perkins Jr., 30, of Birmingham, vice president of Brooks & Perkins Inc., the firm which fabricated the magnesium structure of satellites being used in the Vanguard project, gave us a yes and no.

"Yes, I would say that travel to the moon will occur within my lifetime, but not travel between the earth and other planets," he asserted.

"The big problem is in successfully returning to the earth. I believe this obstacle will be overcome with respect to the moon. I am skeptical of inter-planetary travel, on the basis that no one will want to go to a planet unless they can get back."

Our next expert on space travel was Mike Garrels, 10, of 7648 Sweetbriar Rd., West Bloomfield Township. A fifth grader at Union Lake Elementary school, Mike gave the query serious thought and replied, "I think people will be going to the moon in about four years—and coming back too."

"But," he added as an afterthought, "I can't see how they'll ever go to the planets because they're having so much trouble just getting to the moon!"

Not everyone was as certain that space travel would come into being as soon—or that man actually had any right to invade outer space.

Mrs. Gerald Squires, 24, of 1702 Pedersen Rd., Commerce Township, gave us a resounding, "No. I don't think it will happen in my lifetime. In fact, I don't think people were meant to inhabit outer space."

"If God had meant us to be up there, he would have put us there in the first place. We have enough to do just taking care of our own planet."

"On the decidedly optimistic side was Chief Engineman Lloyd Harris, 38, recruiter in charge of

FLORENCE, S.C. (AP)—The Air Force has apologized to this tobaccoland community of 30,000 for the accidental dropping of an unarmed atomic bomb.

The atomic portion of the bomb did not go off, but its TNT trigger exploded, blowing up a house and digging a crater 40 feet wide.

In Washington, Secretary of Defense McElroy confirmed that the area was uncontaminated by radioactivity.

High-ranking officers and claims personnel toured the two-mile-square area surrounding the impact point near the shattered Walter Gregg house five miles east of here. Gregg, his wife, their three children and a niece were injured, none seriously.

Kidnap Tiny Baby on Okinawa Base

OKINAWA (INS) — Military authorities on the island of Okinawa reported today the disappearance of the six-week-old son of a Livonia, Mich., couple from their home on the island.

Mr. and Mrs. Terrence D. Hitt said their son, Brady Dean, disappeared from his crib last night. Hitt, a civilian employe at the Air Force's Kadeno Base, said he found the boy's room "torn apart."

He said he had not received a ransom demand, but offered $500 for information leading to the return of their son.

Hitt said: "The baby is definitely kidnaped."

Military Police set up road blocks over the island and searched for traces of the child. The entire island is being searched today.

Mr. and Mrs. Hitt have been living on Okinawa since last August.

They own their own home in a housing project near the air base. The couple had lived in Livonia until last year. They are natives of Plymouth.

Know the Weather

By E. H. SIMS

Is the hurricane season approaching? Does it coincide with the tornado season?

No, the season for hurricanes is still many months away. They come after the summer months, as a usual thing, in the fall, beginning possibly in September or late August but more often in October or late September.

The tornado season, on the other hand, is upon us. Tornadoes begin in the spring in most parts of the country. Already they have taken lives even though winter is not yet officially (or unofficially) over. By the time the hurricanes begin to brew, far out in the Caribbean or Gulf, the tornado season has passed.

The calmer, steadier, drier late summer and fall weather is the hurricane season. Tornadoes come in the spring months, when monthly precipitation is increasing in most parts of the country, as the thunderstorm period is ushered in with warmer weather.

Cant Spel fer Nuthin

The hilarious—but somewhat dismaying—spelling foibles of today's college students have came to light in the latest issue of the Ohio State University Monthly.

Sadly enuf (pardon, enough), spelling purists should know that many of the odd-ball spellings in the first paragraph were lifted from documents that the students themselves filled out.

The report on atrocious spelling was made by Dr. William T. Palchanis and Dr. William C. Stahl of the university medical staff. They went to the trouble of putting quotation marks around the misspelled words, but here are some excerpts from their report, minus the identifying marks just for fun:

"Students have reported on their medical histories such childhood illnesses as measels, bronicle nomonia, a hooping cough, rumatic feavor and diptherie.

During their adolescence many are afflicted with asma, accute apendisidus (usually followed by an appendictmy), heart mummers due to rhuematic fever, stummach truble and toncilitas.

"Many students in describing their present health will indicate it is excellent, some described it as vary good and others simply state that they are in good phiscul and mentle condition."

Dems Prod Administration

Ask Decision on Tax Cuts

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congressional Democrats prodded the Eisenhower administration today for an early decision on possible antirecession tax cuts.

The administration, meanwhile, waited to assess the results of stepped-up spending programs it has ordered and recommended before deciding whether a tax cut is needed to spur production and create jobs.

Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas and his assistant Sen. Mansfield of Montana urged action to make it clear whether there are going to be tax reductions and what kind.

Johnson told the Senate that "we will face up — I hope very quickly—to the question of tax cuts." Saying that he hasn't reached any firm conclusion himself, he added: "But I believe we owe it to our fellow Americans to end the suspense at the earliest possible moment."

Mansfield said in an interview he is glad Secretary of the Treasury Anderson has announced he will confer with leaders of both parties on the tax question.

Chairman Byrd (D-Va) of the Senate Finance Committee, who opposes reductions now, said any tax cut is likely to cost the Treasury up to seven billion dollars in revenue and bring on a 15-billion-dollar deficit.

House Speaker Sam Rayburn (D-Tex) was reported to feel that Congress ought to make its objective clear in the tax field before an anticipated Easter recess April 3.

BEAVER, Pa. (AP) — Rosalie Leis, 21-year-old blonde beauty, once a runner-up in the western Pennsylvania preliminaries of the Miss Universe contest, was shot to death early today in wooded area near this western Pennsylvania town.

She was found dead shortly after 2 a.m. by police who had been told of the shooting. Six bullets had been pumped into her body from a .22 caliber pistol. Theodore (Ted) Pallow, 25, of Midland, who reported the shooting, told police he had fired the fatal shots, police reported.

No charges have been filed as yet, police said.

Rebels Deny Pakanbaru Capture

Sukarno Troops Claim Town

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — The Sumatran rebels today disputed the Jakarta government's claim that President Sukarno's forces have captured Pakanbaru, gateway to the American-operated oil fields of Central Sumatra.

The Jakarta regime announced some 300 paratropers who dropped on the Pakanbaru airport and a combat regiment that followed them in had taken over the town of 50,000. The big Minas oil field is about 20 miles upriver from the town.

However, a broadcast from the rebel center of Padang, on Sumatra's west coast 125 miles southwest of Pakanbaru, claimed rebel troops has surrounded the invaders and fighting continued. The rebel radio said the casualties on both sides were heavy.

The rebels, meanwhile, awaited naval attack on Padang. Two small warships of Jakarta's navy warned two freighters in Padang Harbor to leave or face destruction, indicating an assault was imminent.

The Pakanbaru landing was the largest military action so far in the civil war that has been developing since a revolutionary government for Indonesia was proclaimed Feb. 15 in Central Sumatra.

In their drive to deny the rebels the oil the U.S.-owned Caltex Co. produces in Central Sumatra, Jakarta troops also landed at the east coast oil port of Dumai, 80 miles north of Pakanbaru.

The other exit point for Central Sumatran oil, the port of Paknning, was captured by Jakarta troops over the weekend in their first landing on Sumatra.

Caltex suspended operations just before the invasion began and moved some American women and children to Singapore. U. S. Ambassador Howard P. Jones said he had no reason to fear for the safety of Americans remaining in the area. Both sides have pledged to protect foreign workers and not to damage the 125-million-dollar oil installations.

Lenten Meditations

By ROBERT L. DIEFFENBACHER, D.D.

Tithing was taught in the early days of a number of religious groups. Churches cannot be expected to exist on the mere crumbs and leftovers of our regular normal living.

Spiritual endeavor is of little value if it is entirely free of effort and cost.

Many have dedicated their tithes or a tenth of their earnings to spread the Word of God.

The strange result is that those who give until their giving deprives them of benefits which they felt were essential are finding new rewards.

Their lives are fuller and their satisfactions in life are creating joy and peace which they had never before known. Even their material possessions have seemed to grow.

Labor Leaders Meet With Ike

Ask President to Cut Taxes, Start Public Works Programs

WASHINGTON (AP) — Leaders of organized labor told President Eisenhower today the recession is growing worse and requires immediate tax cutting and public works remedies.

George Meany, AFL-CIO president, and other members of the eight - man AFL - CIO committee said they told Eisenhower economic data already at hand shows there is no hope for economic improvement this month.

"The discussion was mainly on the question of getting at this thing right now with speed," Meany told newsmen after the half - hour White House talk.

Meany said the AFL-CIO would prepare a memorandum and send it to Eisenhower to show that economic indictators demonstrate the economy is still declining.

"We are halfway through March and the statistics show things are still going down," Meany said. "We told the President the administration should not be waiting for any improvement."

Meany and Walter Reuther, auto union chief and AFL-CIO economic chairman, have been urging a variety of government actions to combat the recession.

Milton R. Henry in Court Tussle

Pontiac attorney Milton R. Henry said today he "might have" swung at a fellow attorney last week, but did so because he had been called "objectionable names" and pushed by him in Circuit Judge George B. Hartrick's courtroom.

But Henry, 38, of 192 Bassett Ave., said no blows were exchanged either by him or his opponent in a civil suit, Marshall E. Smith, of 3100 Elizabeth Lake Rd.

"I might have swung at him but I wanted to chastise him for calling me very objectionable names and pushing me in the courtroom," Henry said.

He said several other attorneys, a spectator, and a Bloomfield Township patrolman, Newton Tubbs, stepped between him and Smith before any blows were struck.

"Things were said in the courtroom which were neither complimentary to me or Henry," said Smith. "I don't believe he hit me nor do I recall striking him."

Batista Ready to Smash Foes

Cuban President Bans Liberties as Students Threaten Protest

HAVANA (AP)— Armed with a new decree suspending civil liberties, President Fulgencio Batista's police and army stood ready to smash antigovernment demonstrations if thousands of Havana university students go through with plans to hold a mass meeting today.

The students planned to assemble on the first anniversary of a rebel invasion of Batista's palace. About 20 persons were killed at the palace and 20 more elsewhere in Havana during a daring but poorly organized plot to kill or kidnap the Cuban President.

The suspension of civil liberties was rammed through Batista's new "peace cabinet" in an emergency session, forcing the resignation of Premier Emilio Nunez Portuondo.

The fiery little diplomat's walkout was a face-saving gesture. Only the night before he had promised constitutional guarantees would not be suspended for the eighth time in 15 months. His cabinet resigned with him, then most of the ministers took their jobs back, and Nunez Portuondo prepared to return to his previous post as Batista's ambassador to the United Nations.

Shortage of Old Folks' Homes Hits Nation

NURSING HOME IDEAL — This home for the aged in Vermillion, S. D., where guests enjoy a walk on a pleasant winter afternoon is considered perfectly adequate. It was the first to be built with Hill-Burton Act assistance.

By JERRY BENNETT

WASHINGTON (NEA) — The drastic lack of adequate medical care in many old folks' nursing homes has mushroomed into a nationwide health problem affecting the pocketbooks of the country's adult population.

That's the general opinion of government and local health officials who are desperately seeking ways to provide more and better health facilities for the aged.

They explain that the shortage requires regular hospitals to give prolonged care to sick or handicapped elderly people when they could receive equally beneficial treatment at less expense in a special nursing home.

This is forcing hospitals to buy more beds and expensive medical equipment to meet th needs of th aged plus those of a multitude of younger patients.

In many cases communities must help finance these projects. And patients eventually find the rising operating costs reflected in their medical bills which are usually beyond the reach of most families without hospital insurance.

The shortage is also causing employed members of many hard pressed families to give up their jobs to care for a sick, elderly relative at home. Often this sacrifice leads to financial disaster.

But the big financial bite on public and private funds is dwarfed by the human unhappiness and sometimes suffering which has resulted from the alarming nursing home situation.

Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare Marion B. Folsom declares: "With the recent advances in physical medicine, much can be done for the severely handicapped. Yet, thousands are deprived of the full benefits of this new knowledge, and many are not even receiving routine medical supervision.

Folsom refers to the elderly people who are living in nursing homes or homes for the aged without adequate medical supplies or trained personnel. Some of these homes are dingy, run down buildings with little or no resemblance to a hospital.

First of all the number of old people has boomed in recent years due to the many life saving advances of medical science. The cost of building and operating nursing homes also has been on the increase. But at the same time the shortage of doctors and nurses has made it harder to hire the needed, trained personnel.

Surgeon General Leroy Burney cites a startling psychological reason for the problem. "Deeply rooted in the community consciousness is the age-old dread of institutions," he says.

He explains that up until the end of the 19th Century the general hospital was regarded along with the old folks home, county farm and nursing home as a place where the sick and poor went to die.

That's one reason why health officials emphasize the necessity for a nationwide education program to acquaint the public with the need for more and improved nursing homes.

They also want communities to develop more public health programs to prevent development and spreading of chronic diseases common to old people.

Other experts believe nursing home patients should be more thoroughly screened to prevent those who are not actually sick from taking up needed space. These people would be placed in special housing developments and cared for under a foster home program like that used for orphans.

The federal government is providing financial aid through programs like the Hill-Burton Act. Since 1955 this program has provided $21 million in matching funds to states for construction of facilities to serve patients with long term illnesses. Government funds are also being used to help finance the training of nurses and public health personnel.

One in Three Russians Reaches Top Grades

BOSTON—According to Alexander G. Korol of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology's Center for International Studies, only about 33 per cent of the students in Russia reach the three top high-school grades compared with 75 per cent in the United States.

He estimates that fewer than 200,000 of the 1,200,000 secondary-school students who graduated last spring were permitted to take university training.

Cohen's Literary Efforts Hindered

Mickey Leaves LA; Says Police Disturb Work on Life Story

LOS ANGELES (INS) — Mickey Cohen, who has forsaken the cruder things of life for literature, left Los Angeles by air for Mexico last night.

Mickey said he is going to stay in La Paz for 10 days so he can finish the story of his life in collaboration with author Ben Hecht.

Mickey took seven persons along with him, but Hecht, he said, had been delayed by some last-minute TV writing commitments and probably would join him later.

Mickey said he was going to Mexico to finish the final chapters of his book because Los Angeles police officers have been hindering his literary efforts.

School Board to Hear Reports

Results of Negotiations With Two Unions Due for Airing

The Pontiac Board of Education tonight will hear a report on negotiations between two maintenance and custodial unions representing school employes.

The unions have been meeting to try to arrive at common pay and work schedules acceptable to both groups.

The board also will hear a private report by Supt. Dr. Dana P. Whitmer on a recent incident at Whittier School in which a teacher struck a child.

Other items before the board will be a request from the Wisner School PTA for a new kitchen, and a report by Asst. Supt. Otto Hufziger on teacher parking near Pontiac Central High School.

House Group Approves AF Base Housing Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — Construction of 235 housing units at the K. I. Sawyer Air Force Base in Michigan at a cost of $3,877,500 has been approved by the House Armed Services Committee.

Army Lieutenant Busy Little Man

He is also custodian of classified documents, battery fire marshal, unit fund recorder and, in addition—

Executive, security, personal affairs, safety, mess, engineer equipment, postal, communications, plans and training, conservation, cost consciousness, funds, alternate re-enlistment, troop information, public information, area beautification, chemical biological - radiological warfare, crafts, theater, and repair and utility services officer.

An antiaircraft brigade officer at Ft. MacArthur, which has jurisdiction over the Nike site, said the reason Vaille has so many assignments may be that the battery is short of lieutenants. Most of the jobs are intermittent and minor, he said.

Reach Accord on Soo Bridge

Early Start Likely on International Span at Sault Ste. Marie

LANSING (AP)—Agreements promising an early start on construction of an international bridge between the Michigan and Canadian cities of Sault Ste. Marie were reached at a conference here yesterday.

John C. Mackie, Michigan highway commissioner, met with representatives of the International Bridge Authority, headed by Paul P. Hoholick, chairman; of the St. Mary's River Bridge Co., headed by James N. Foulds, president; and of the Mackinac Bridge Authority, represented by Lawrence A. Rubin, executive secretary.

Rubin said agreements were reached in two major fields to forward plans for the 15 million dollar bridge.

A preliminary engineering report will be obtained for pressentation to help gain financing and a general report will be drawn up outlining ways and means of carrying out the project, he said.

Rubin said Mackie plans to write James N. Allen, minister of highways for Ontario, reporting on the conference and asking for a meeting to iron out any further details that need agreement.

Proposed Post Rates Won't Erase Deficit

It looks as though Congress this year will pass bills to increase postal rates and raise the pay of some 500,000 postal workers.

The Senate has approved a measure to produce $700 million annually in additional revenue. At the same time it voted $320 million for higher postal wages and salaries, about twice as much as President EISENHOWER recommended a year ago.

Under the Senate plan, first class local mail would be four cents and out of town letters, five cents. Air mail would go from six to eight cents and postcards from two to three cents. Second class mail, including newspapers and magazines, would be increased by 60 per cent in three annual steps and third class mail, mostly advertising circulars, would rise from one and a half to two and a half cents.

The House version would raise first class mail to four cents, air mail to seven and increase postage on books by 25 per cent. The differences will have to be ironed out in joint conferences before any legislative action.

With a pay raise to be added to the present $675 million a year deficit, the extra revenue from the proposed higher rates will only reduce the deficit. Congress seems unwilling to go all the way to wipe it out.

The argument that increases fall on the "little man" is simply not true. Actually 75 per cent of first class mail is business mail and most of the increase would fall on commercial users.

Budget Reform Bill Passes Both Houses

A much needed Federal budget reform bill recommended by the Hoover report finally has passed both Houses of Congress and is now in conference committee.

The measure, annual accrued expenditure budgeting, has been approved by President EISENHOWER, the Treasury Department, Director of the Budget and by leading accountant and budgeting experts. Congress votes billions each year in appropriations that won't draw money from the Treasury until later years. Billions of such unused spending powers are carried over each year without justifying their continuing need.

Under the Hoover plan spending power would be voted only for what the Government expects to incur during the budget year. For long term programs, such as defense, authority would be granted to contract beyond the budget year. However, such projects would be reviewed annually and the agency would have to come each year for the next year's money.

Congress then would have control over appropriations for long range programs. As it is funds are appropriated for these programs and Congress has little to say thereafter. At present about $70 billion is out of control of Congress or the President. It is likely that some of this money could be reassigned to purposes other than those for which it was appropriated.

Passage of the bill will end the practice of appropriating billions of dollars of future spending power with no recheck in succeeding years on its necessity.

Our Liberty Protected by High Court Ruling

The Supreme Court's recent decision on less-than-honorable discharges given by the armed services has cleared the air.

About two years ago the Army began to review such cases and the Court simply has spelled out for future guidance the course to be taken in defense of civil liberties.

Discharges, says the Supreme Court, in overruling both the Army and lower courts, must reflect the conduct of the person being discharged only during his service period. It held that less-than-honorable discharges when challenged can be reviewed by Federal courts, contrary to what the Army and those courts had maintained.

Under prodding from Sen. HENNING'S subcommittee on Constitutional Rights, the Army began to liberalize its induction policy in 1955. It decided to exclude alleged former security risks thereby forestalling any trouble from discharges for that reason. The Army also adopted a more common-sense approach to security questions and has upgraded many previous discharges.

Thus the Supreme Court again has upheld the rights of the citizen under our Constitution against the power of the state.

writes me; "I know that my old county of Oakland is the second largest in the Southern Peninusla, and that it has over 400 lakes, more than any other county south of the Straits.

"But I want you to know that Marquette County is the largest county in the entire state, and that it has 835 lakes, 1,875 miles of trout streams and 70 miles of Lake Superior shoreline."

OK, Harrison, Marquette County also has only 60,000 population. Oakland County has over ten times that many, with two millions more trying to move across our southern border and live with us. And where's Marquette County, anyway?

In Florida they speak of California as

"Beware: Speed Trap Ahead."

In a letter over the signature of it is pointed out that when Michigan was organized as a territory in 1805 it had a white population less than that now within the limits of an Oakland County village, Rochester. It was under 5,000.

In a communication over the signature,

"Have I Stumped You?,"

the definition of the word "Pyroceram" is asked. It is not in my dictionary, but the office word expert says it is a new metal claimed to be stronger than steel, yet lighter than aluminum.

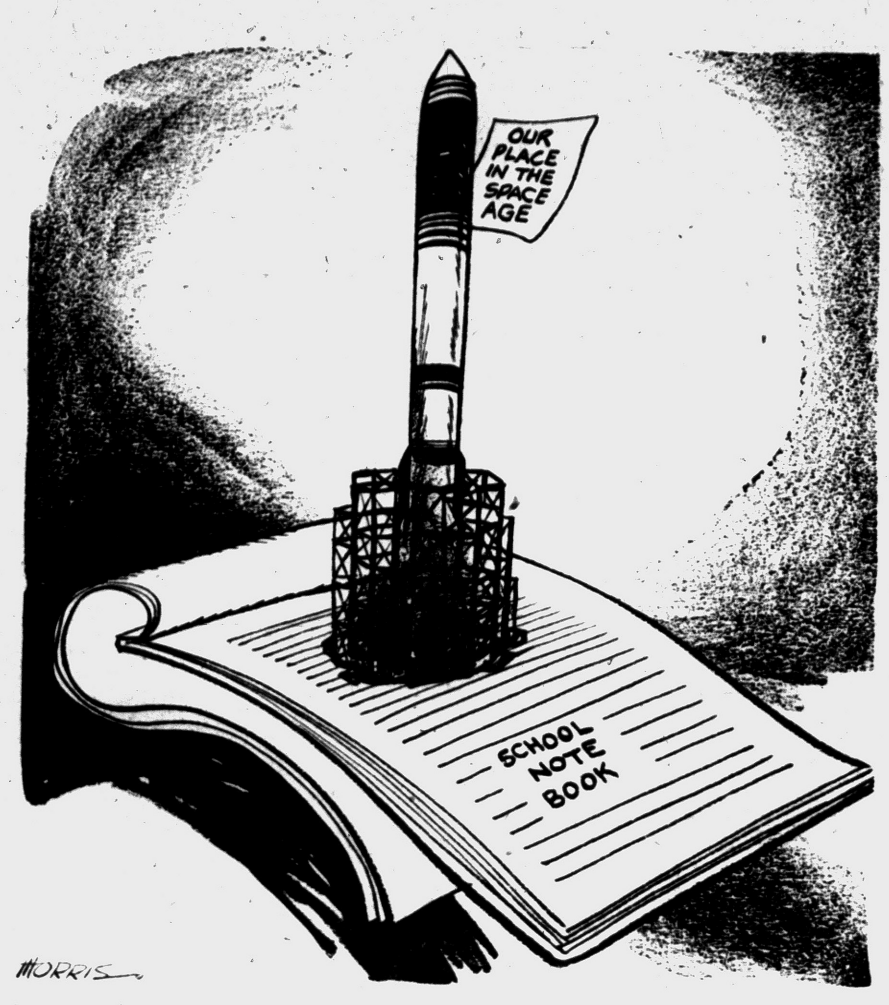
MEMBER OF AUDIT BUREAU OF CIRCULATIONS



The Launching Pad

David Lawrence Says:

Attitude on Unions May Oust Dems

WASHINGTON — Up to now most political observers have felt that the economic situation would be the principal issue in the coming congressional campaign and that, unless conditions improve substantially, the Republican Party would lose heavily.

LAWRENCE

But this may prove wrong. There is a different issue which could conceivably become paramount and drive the Democrats from control of both houses.

It is an issue involving the integrity of labor unions, and it is related to the refusal of the Democratic Party in Congress to permit legislation to be enacted which will safeguard the dues paid by the workers of America into the treasuries of the unions.

Financial integrity or corruption has often transcended other issues in politics. It could do so again. For there are at least $620,000,000 paid into unions as income every year, and there are about 19,000,000 workers who contribute that big sum annually out of their pay envelopes.

For several weeks now the Senate committee investigating rackets has been exposing the misuse of union dues by various union officers. Many union leaders, themselves honest, have deplored such misuse.

But nevertheless the objections to legislative action have not been removed, and it is doubtful whether a single corrective measure will be passed by the present Congress, despite the pleas of Representative Joseph W. Martin, Republican leader, and several of his colleagues demanding such action.

The cry has been raised that only a small number of union officials have been found to be implicated in wrongdoing. But it is also true that only a small number of citizens each year is engaged in fraudulent transactions of any kind. The purpose of the enactment of criminal laws is to prevent misconduct by the few.

Millions of housewives who vote have been reading about the misuse of union dues. They are deeply concerned that these funds be utilized for legitimate purposes. The recent hearings by the Senate committee show how loose in many instances is the present handling of union funds by the unions.

More votes throughout the country may be cast against these improper practices next fall by union members and their wives than by non-union people who are not affected. For it is the money of the union man which is not being given the protection that President Eisenhower and his aides have recommended shall be given to union funds, especially those contributed for pensions and retirement benefits.

Where integrity is concerned, there isn't much said aloud in election campaigns, but, thanks to the secret ballot, union members express themselves quietly at the polls against corrupt practices.

Most of the unionized employes work and live in urban centers, which usually send Democrats to Congress. In 1946, when the Democrats lost control of both houses of Congress in the middle of the Truman administration, it was the city vote which caused the defeat of a number of Democratic members of the House.

The normally Democratic strongholds revealed a resentment vote at that time because of the administration's failume promptly to lift controls on meat after World War II had ended. So an issue which affects the big-city vote can be adverse to the Democrats and cause them to lose their majority in Congress.

The total number of persons unemployed in America today is not enough by itself to swing a national congressional election. But fear that labor-union dues may be in part going down the drain through misuse by union bosses could do so. For it is the many millions of employed workers who will be primarily concerned about this issue in the next campaign.

Unless there is legislation to protect the integrity of union dues, the Democrats in many northern districts will have to face criticism in the coming campaign. They will have to meet the charges that many members of Congress may themselves have become so beholden to union bosses through campaign contributions that they decline to press for action on remedial laws.

Smiles

Dr. William Brady Says:

Claims Witch Hazel Fine to Relieve Varicose Veins

"A doctor prescribed for mother a teaspoonful of fluid extract of witch hazel internally, night and morning, for varicose veins. The legs had been very painful, but under this treatment the pain disappeared and she has never had a recurrence. Would like your opinion of this. (Mrs. DR. BRADY L.F.)"

Answer—It can do no harm but I can't see how it can do any good. However, I find in my notebook, the recommendation made by one of my medical school professors of witch hazel (hamamelis) internally for varicose veins. The professor solemnly averred that prolonged use of the medicine would cure varicose veins. I never heard of any such cure. I never had enough faith in it to recommend it to a patient.

In Shoemaker's "Materia Medica and Therapeutics," a standard textbook, I find this statement:

"Varicose veins, varicocele and internal hemorrhoids" (all being fundamentally dilated, overfilled, congested veins) "may not infrequently be entirely cured by the persistent administration of hamamelis."

This is all I know about. I'm skeptical. The chamomile tea treatment of varicose ulcer seems more impressive to me. Send stamped, self-addressed envelope for pamphlet "Varicose Veins and Varicose Ulcer."

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Please tell me what "subarachnoid hemmorrhage" means. It it usually preceded by any warning symptoms? Does it always prove fatal?" (M.L.M.)

Answer—Arachnoid is the middle of the three membranes covering brain and medulla. Hemorrhage under this membrane occurs from fractured skull or from rupture of aneurism. No special warning symptoms occur. It is usually fatal.

"I find your dandruff treatment excellent, but I understand one should apply the pomade to scalp for four successive nights and then shampoo. I am not in a position..." (W.O.F.)

Answer—No, the instructions are to apply the pomade to about one-fourth of scalp each evening in the week, except one, and once a week shampoo. The pomade is one dram of precipitated sulfur 20 grains of salicylic acid, one ounce cold cream. Send 35 cents and stamped, self-addressed envelope for booklet The Hair and Scalp.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Questions County's Set-Up for Dog Law Enforcement

The law requires any dog, confined or at large, in city or rural area, to be licensed. To get a license a dog must be vaccinated. Many counties make house to house checks. You must show the license or the dog is taken away or you pay a fine.

Oakland County pays a dog warden $4,600 a year. When you ask help from county officials, they refer you to the dog warden. He tells you, a citizen and taxpayer, to swear out a warrant for the owner of the annoying dog and appear against him. Isn't that dandy?

I quote from The Pontiac Press the Michigan law: "Michigan's dog law now permits any land owner or his agent outside of a city or village limits to shoot a trespassing dog on sight." I intend to find who will enforce the law. I'm writing Lansing and Washington.

'Some Socialism Would Be O.K.'

I would not like to see socialism, but some socialism is o.k. so long as it doesn't go too far. The person who wrote about Curtice owning GM is wrong. He works for stock owners and if anyone is going to close the doors, it will be 600,000 to 700,000 stockholders. Now that Ford Foundation sold 49 per cent of the stock two years ago, even Ford has to answer to stockholders.

As for union leaders, why shouldn't they collect their pay? During the 1945-46 strike, all salaried people at GM drew pay for the duration of the strike.

Union leaders have just as much responsibility to union members and the American people as management has to stockholders, but they get far less pay.

Prefers Donkey Over Elephant

Mr. Truman has a right to say what he thinks. It had its effects all the way from the gentleman in the White House to Mr. Potter. Yet why blame the President when Congress passes the laws? The President can't appoint anyone without consent of Congress.

A donkey will outrank the elephant in brain but not brawn. But if size counted, an elephant would not be afraid of a mouse. I must say unequivocally that the bray of a full grown jackass outside of one's bedroom window is a sound that ranks high.

I've often wondered if the GOP adopted the elephant because he looks like he has a tail on each end and one can't tell which way he's going. For the past five years have we been going ahead or backing up?

Theater Manager Answers Charge

A recent letter regarding the advance in admission price for children to see Walt Disney's "Old Yeller" quoted the management as follows: "Management says it's a kid's picture and they take up too many seats they'd rather have empty."

This ridiculous statement was not made by management of the Oakland Theater or any staff member. Our ultimate goal is of course to fill as many seats as possible with either children or adults.

The price of any commodity including entertainment is based on value. Walt Disney's "Old Yeller" r presents the highest in entertainment particularly for children. The public has acknowledged this fact by record-breaking attendance to see Walt Disney's latest and greatest achievement.

'Why Should They Have Immunity?'

With all the brick bats flying by Reuther and Goldwater, which is long overdue, why are Beck and Hoffa still out of jail after all the evidence against them?

Is it possible they are immune from the law, from breaking the Constitution, making men pay to work, telling them when they can't work? An employer should be the one to decide what an individual is worth to him and if undesirable, the right to discharge him.

Industry shouldn't have to pay extra for three strikes. Food goes up, no one else gets help. Unions are the cause of it.

One Who Doesn't Know

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Employ 'Audience Participation'

Judy received that name because I asked the aid of 250 of my psychology students at Northwestern University. Those students still ask about her for when people invest any of their advice or money, they always retain a proprietary interest. Clergymen, take note, for a topnotch speaker employs a lot of such "audience participation."

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

She was born while I was attending Medical School all day at Northwestern University and teaching psychology during the evenings on our Chicago Campus. She arrived on Sunday.

CRANE

The next night I was scheduled for four hours of lecturing before my classes on "Psychology of Advertising" and a large section in "Introductory Psychology."

Knowing that audience participation is a deft method for a teacher or speaker to employ, I made the announcement to my 250 students about our new daughter.

"I'll let you help Mrs. Crane and me pick her name," I began. "We don't want her to blame us 20 years from now because she may lack a popular name.

"I'll keep your choices on record. Then if our new daughter ever protests in later life about her name, I can tell her that you college men and women helped us select it, so it was the most popular name we could find."

Then I wrote a dozen names on the blackboard, including Rachel, Susan, Nancy, Phyllis, Cora, Judith, Elizabeth, etc.

About half of my 250 psychology students that night were men and half were coeds.

Oddly enough, the men and women both agreed on their first choice. Both groups picked Judith.

Mrs. Crane and I had previously been somewhat partial to that same name, though I did not indicate that fact in any way to my classes.

Mrs. Crane and I had never known a girl named Judigh among our personal friends or former classmates.

And of my 5,000 former college students in various classes, I had never had a pupil named Judith, except for one girl who was enrolled that very semester.

Later I decided that maybe my fondness for Judith, as a name, might have come from a childhood experience.

For I had always been fond of James Fenimore Cooper's writings, and some of you may recall that Judith and Cora were the heroines of one of his books.

Reinforced, therefore, by the votes of 250 college men and women, and by our own fondness for the name, we thus selected Judith and then added Anne to it, calling our daughter Judith Anne.

WORDS STEER ATTENTION

The next day I was talking to Emily B. Watkins, then the secretary of the Northwestern University Press, and told her about my new daughter.

"What did you name her?" asked Mrs. Watkins, and I said "Judith Anne."

"Did you spell the Anne with an 'e'?" Mrs. Watkins added, and I said "Yes."

"Why I have a new baby niece and that's what they called her, too," she said.

Since then, Mrs. Crane and I have encountered hundreds, possibly thousands, of girls named Judith Anne.

Maybe we just became conscious of that name after using it for our daughter since there is a tendency for us to see in life that for which we have a word or name.

Some of my former students still write to me via this newspaper column and often ask about Judith, which is further evidence of the value of letting your audience help you.

Clergymen, nota bene! Too many sermons ignore the use of audience participation!

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Security for You

Must Be Able to Prove Disability Rules

By RAY HENRY

It was 15 degrees below zero outside when the man walked into the Taunton, Mass., Social Security office one day last winter.

He passed the usual pleasantries about the weather with the Social Security representative. Then, he was asked the reason for his visit. He quickly explained he'd just walked five miles from his home to apply for disability payments.

Whether he got them isn't known. But, with the Social Security's tight eligibility requirements for disability payments, it's doubtful. A man who could walk five miles through 15 below weather probably isn't disabled enough to meet the requirements.

But, as he had wisely done, about the only way to find out is to apply for the payments. There are four requirements which must be met. You must:

1. Have a permanent mental or physical disability which is so severe that you can't do any substantial work, and

2. Have had the disability for at least six months, and

3. Have worked under Social Security for five of the 10 years before you were disabled and for 18 of the last 36 months before you were disabled, and

4. Be at least 50 years of age.

Whether you meet the last three requirements is a simple matter of checking the facts of your case. Trying to decide whether you meet the first requirement takes time and can be tricky. In any case, the decision on whether you satisfy the disability requirement is based on this wording of the Social Security law:

"The term 'disability' means inability to engage in any substantial gainful activity by reason of any medically determinable physical or mental impairment that can be expected to result in death or to be of long-continued or indefinite duration."

After you apply for payments, it'll be up to you to get the evidence to back up your claim by having your doctor fill out a special medical report form. This form will be supplied to you by your Social Security office.

On the form, your doctor merely reports the facts in your case. He doesn't make the decision as to whether you meet the disability requirement.

In this agency a group of trained medical examiners —including a physician — study your file and decide whether you meet the disability requirements of the Social Security Law.

All decisions made by this agency are reviewed at Social Security headquarters. A finding that you meet the disability requirements can be reversed by this headquarters. But, it can't change a decision which says you don't meet the requirements.

Usually the time between your filing your application for disability payments and when a final decision is made is about two months. It can take longer, depending on how soon you get your doctor to fill out your medical report form, etc.

(Questions on Social Security problems may be addressed to "Social Security," care of The Pontiac Press. Questions will be answered by mail from the Pontiac office of the Social Security Administration. There is no charge for this service. You may obtain Ray Henry's new social security handbook by sending 35 cents in coin to this newspaper and requesting "Security for You" booklet.)

1,200 Pillars Mark India, Pakistan Border

NEW DELHI — Some 1,200 pillars now mark 120 miles of the western border between India and Pakistan. The marking of the sometimes disputed frontier by survey parties of both countries went on simultaneously with the making of maps by parties, who met occasionally to settle differences of opinion on the interpretation of the Radcliffe Award, which originally fixed the boundaries.

Agreement on details of the demarcation have helped put an end to disputes over ownership of portions of land along the border. Trouble over these plots had led to battles.

Westerns Lead Pack

TV Emmy Nominations Triumph for Hollywood

Hollywood, seeking to replace New York as the TV capital, snagged 71 nominations to Gotham's 54.

The winners will be announced April 15 after a vote by members of the Academy of Television Arts and Sciences — TV's equivalent of the movies' academy.

There were few surprises on this year's list. Competing for the best female and male personalities were old favorites Dinah Shore, Gracie Allen, Lucille Ball, Loretta Young, Sid Caesar, Steve Allen, Jack Benny and Perry Como. They had competition, however, from the star of the Tonight show, Jack Paar, and his gal Friday, Dody Goodman, newcomers to the list.

Playhouse 90 led the field for the most nominations — 12 — including one for the best TV series of the year. Two of its productions, "The Comedian" and "The Helen Morgan Storv," were among the nominees for the best individual show of the year. Others: the Edsel Show, the General Motors Anniversary Show and Hall of Fame's "Green Pastures."

Mickey Rooney, who starred in the best individual acting award with Peter Ustinov, David Wayne, Lee J. Cobb and Ed Wwynn.

Top actress nominees were Polly Bergen: Helen Hayes, who won in 1952; Piper Laurie; Julie Andrews; and Teresa Wright.

Three Westerns — Gunsmoke, Maverick and Wagon Train — were among nominees for the best dramatic series. The others: Lassie and Perry Mason.

James Arness, who plays Marshal Dillon on Gunsmoke, and his sidekick Dennis Weaver, who portrays his crippled deputy Chester, were among those nominated for best leading and supporting actor in a series. Arness' competition: Bob Cummings, Phil Silvers, Danny Thomas and Robert Young.

Best comedy series contestants are the Bob Cummings Show; Caesar's Hour — which went off the air last June and returned as Caesar Presents this January over another network; the Jack Benny Show; Father Knows Best; and the Phil Silvers Show.

Competing for the best dramatic anthology series — a new category — were Alfred Hitchcock Presents, Climax, Hallmark Hall of Fame, Playhouse 90 and Studio One.

The best musical, variety or audience participation show nominees are Dinah Shore, Ed Sullivan, Perry Como, Steve Allen and the Jack Paar Tonight show.

Contestants for the best actress in a series award are Eve Arden, Spring Byington, Jan Clayton, Ida Lupino and Jane Wyatt.

County Residents Expect Moon Trip

the Pontiac Navy Recruiting Station.

"I definitely expect to see space travel to the moon, and very possibly to other planets, for two reasons. First, and most important where the time element is concerned, is competition.

"Mankind has always made his most abundant gains when hard pressed. Competition with Russia, being what it is, will compel us to constantly accelerate our present outer space program.

"Secondly, from my years of experience in the service, I know that when the stakes are high, there will always be more than enough volunteers ready to risk their lives for the future security and progress of their fellow men."

'HIGHLY POSSIBLE'

The last note of optimism was offered by Sophia Skinner, 17, of 204 S. Edith St., who is a senior at Pontiac Central High School.

"Space travel is highly possible in my lifetime," she stated. "I can remember when people didn't think we'd have missiles and rockets in outer space.

"We not only have them now, but have proof that man can exist for at least a week under conditions like those on the moon."

"We may not reach other planets in my lifetime. This depends on how soon we can travel to the moon and set up refueling stations or space platforms.

"The moon would be a much more ideal launching site for inter - planetary ships than the earth."

So goes the different viewpoints on this fascinating subject. From most of them, the moon seems closer than you might think.

Emergency Housing Bill OK'd by Senate

than 10 per cent of our unemployed back on the job."

The additional money authorized by the bill woud permit the Federal National Mortgage Assn. to buy a billion dollars worth of FHA and VA mortgages for which private funds are not available and give Eisenhower a 500-million-dollar fund he could direct FNMA to use to buy other mortgages if the recession worsened.

Also included are an extra 300 million dollars for direct loans to veterans and 50 million for military housing mortgages.

FHA down payments would be lowered so that 3 per cent of the first $13,500 of the mortgage would be the minimum requirement. Now it is 3 per cent on the first $10,000, with higher charges above $10,000. The top rate on military housing mortgages would be increased from 4 to 4½ per cent as the administration asked.

Push Highway Work Ahead to Aid Jobs

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Eleven million dollars of state highway work has been moved ahead into spring construction as a public works measure, Gov. Williams told the Michigan Highway Conference here last night.

The governor said he had asked John C. Mackie, state highway commissioner, to advance all the work possible to provide additional jobs and aid purchasing power.

Mackie has reported he can immediately undertake seven million dollars in resurfacing and widening projects, two million dollars in maintenance projects and purchase two million dollars worth of steel, mostly from Michigan sources, ahead of schedule.

SEATO Ends Talks, Slaps at Neutralists

MANILA (AP) — The SEATO Council ended its fourth annual conference today with a swipe at neutralist nations which won't recognize the dangers of communism and a promise of only slightly more economic aid to help the Asian pact members develop their resources.

The foreign ministers of the eight nations outlined the results of their meeting in a 1,200-word communique which pinpointed "the insidious character" of Communist subversion as Southeast Asia's "most substantial current menace."

The eight governments are hoping that neither side crushes the other in the Indonesian civil war but that the rebels gain enough to put anti-Communist Mohammed Hatta back into the country's top councils.

The nations that ended a SEATO conference here have adopted an official policy of nonintervention in the island republic's internal troubles. The conference's closing communique carefully avoided comment.

Deadline Nears as Susan Stays 'About the Same'

CLEVELAND (AP)—The condition of 11-year-old Susan Kurtz of Onsted, Mich., was reported as "about the same" today as the critical 48-hour postoperation period neared an end.

A six-hour operation at St. Luke's Hospital to repair the girl's defective heart ended Tuesday afternon. A hospital spokesman reported her condition as satisfactory after the surgery, but explained that it would be 48 hours before the ultimate success of the operation could be determined.

A physician told her father Lloyd Kurtz prior to the operation that surgery had but one chance in five of correcting her condition, but without it she could live no more than six months.

Miriani Views Proposal for World Trade Fair

DETROIT (AP)—Mayor Louis Miriani has looked over tentative plans for a 10½-million-dollar world trade fair for Detroit in 1962.

Submitted by an 18-member citizens committee, the plans call for the event to last from June through September. Private sponsors propose to finance the fair, but they would require city-owned facilities for exhibits and entertainment.

Jury Frees Herdegen of Murder Charge

MOUNT CLEMENS (AP) — John Herdegen, 30, has been cleared by a Macomb County Circuit Court jury of second-degree murder charges in the June 1, 1957, drowning of Robert J. Hyde, 32.

The jury deliberated five hours before returning a verdict last night.

The former Grosse Pointe Woods police officer's body was found in Lake St. Clair the day after he and Herdegen went riding in a borrowed cabin cruiser.

Herdegen pleaded self-defense, saying he and Hyde scuffled after Herdegen's refusal to submit to what he thought to be an immoral act.

The University of Michigan was the first state university to admit female students.

Goldwater Blames Violence on UAW

WASHINGTON (INS) — Sen. Barry Goldwater (R-Ariz.) threatened today to "drag every man in Wisconsin" to Washington if necessary to prove the United Automobile Workers Union responsible for violence in the four-year Kohler strike.

The Arizona Republican sounded his warning after a UAW official, Donald Rand, of Detroit, said he did not believe the union "had anything to do" with a 1955 strike incident involving an imported shipment of clay for the Kohler Co.

Goldwater told the committee it may be necessary to call Wisconsin's CIO President Charles Shultz, of Milwaukee, to testify on his alleged threat to call a statewide strike if the clay was unloaded from a Norwegian freighter.

Job Seekers Miss Good Bet

United Nations Slots Ofter Come Available, With Few Takers

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (INS) — Job seekers are generally overlooking a fertile field at the United Nations, especially if they happen to be internationally-minded.

The world organization currently employs about 4,250 persons, ranging from messengers through secretarial and maintenance staff of professional people, directors, under-secretaries general and finally Dag Hammarskjold himself.

There are no current openings in the lucative top posts, but other jobs become available all the time and there are plenty of inducements for prospective applicants.

While some 330 Americans now ply their trades at U. N. headquarters, there's still leeway before reaching the unofficial maximum "quota" of 432 U. S. jobholders suggested by the General Assembly.

"Quotas" generally are based on contributions from governments toward meeting U. N. expenses. However, many countries are way over their "quotas" while others lag behind.

For example, while Italy theoretically is entitled to 34 jobs, only ten Italian nationals are staff members. Japan, with a maximum "quota" of 31, has placed only 13 employes at the U. N.

Women hold about one-fifth of all professional posts in the U. N. Secretariat, but most of the specialized agencies, such as the Food and Agriculture Organization (FAO) and the International Labor Office (ILO), seem to make it tougher for the ladies. Ratios dip down to 10-15 per cent in the agencies.

All applications for U. N. jobs forwarded by government sources, placed in the same hopper for scrutiny by personnel people. Thus, prospective applicants would do just as well as anybody else by sending a brief resume direct to the personnel department, United Nations Headquarters, New York.

Wasn't It a Fair Trade?

TROY, N.Y. (AP) — On a special sale day this week, one woman rushed into a shoe shop, took off her shoes, kicked them under a counter, tried on a pair of bargain shoes and walked out with them on. No, she didn't pay.

Windsor's Own Medical Plan Proves Outstanding Success

WINDSOR, Ont. (AP) — Residents of this area do not show much interest in national health insurance plans, because they've had their own plan for 20 years.

More than 200,000 persons in the district have no worries over doctors' bills, and 80 per cent of them none about hospital bills. Under a new addition to the plan, their medicine will be paid for, too.

Recent United States' studies of the plan hailed it as an "outstanding success." After their publication, more than 40 cities in the U.S. and Canada asked for details of the plan, which already had been a model for some other Canadian plans.

Windsor Medical Services provides all medical and surgical service, X-ray, consultation, anaesthetists, annual physical examinations, confinements, radio and deep X-ray therapy and preventative inoculations.

Most subscribers have Blue Cross hospital coverage, which takes care of their hospital bills and medication while in the hospital. This leaves only the cost of prescriptions out and a new organization called Prescription Services, Inc. hopes to have these prepaid at a low cost.

The group-rate cost of WMS is $2.30 monthly for a single person, $4.90 for the subscriber and one dependent, $6.50 for the subscriber and two dependents and $7.90 for the subscribers and three or more dependents. Thus, WMS officials say the average received by them per person is about $2 monthly.

The Blue Cross rates run $1.70 for one subscriber and $5.30 per family.

The U.S. studies ended a number of fears some doctors held about such plans:

Subscribers did not use any excuse to visit the doctor but did see him in time to prevent complications to diseases; doctors' salaries did not drop but equalled the national average; patients didn't flit from doctor to doctor; both doctors and patients liked the plan.

Surprising to some outside doctors was that doctors themselves started the Windsor plan. Dr. F. A. Brockenshire, one of the founders, said "need" was the spark when WMS had its start in the back room of a downtown drug store in 1937.

First subscribers were signed in 1939. By 1945 there were still fewer than 8,000, but the plan suddenly caught on. The number of subscribers grew rapidly to today's 200,000. The staff, starting with a manager and an assistant, grew to a total of 80 under manager John A. Boyle.

The growth resulted in a number of improvements. Despite increases in costs, premiums were kept low and restrictions that at first required a group of at least 10 to join at one time were changed to admit groups of five.

This year the health service will move into its own building and Boyle says "We hope to expand the service to allow individuals to join."

Ultimate aims could include provision for dental and psychiatric treatment.

Two cases cited by the WMS to show the value of the service are those of a family of seven, which in the last two years has paid $378 and received services worth $1,867, and a family of four which in the same period paid in $226 while the service paid out $1,000 for them.

Some employers report cases where men have refused out-of-town job offers because they didn't have a medical plan like the WMS. In Windsor, Ford, Chrysler and other large firms pay all costs for both the WMS and the Blue Cross.

Prescription Services Inc. will supplement the WMS. It will provide insurance against the high cost of prescriptions.

Like the WMS it is a non-profit agency. It was formed by five druggists.

At present a test group of 1,000 persons is being enrolled and tentative rates are being tried out.

These are 95 cents a month, plus 95 cents for a man's wife, 65 cents for their first child, 55 for the second and 45 for the third. There would be no additional charge for other children.

There would be a 35-cent "deductible portion" to dissuade subscribers from running to the druggist for unnecessary prescriptions.

AT&SF Railway Cuts Line Service

TOPEKA, Kan. (AP)—The Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe Railway will discontinue passenger service on its pioneer line between Atchison and Topeka, Kan., next Saturday.

The Kansas Supreme Court ruled the railroad need not continue the service at a loss and overturned a previous State Corporation Commission ruling denying permision to take off the passenger trains that have covered the 50-mile run daily for 86 years.

The AT&SF name is testimonial to one of the railroads which outgrew its builders' dreams. Its present main line does not touch Atchison, Topeka or Santa Fe, and only Topeka of those three cities will have passenger service after next Saturday.

Its terminals now are at Chicago, 500 miles east of Atchison, and on the Pacific Coast, 1,000 miles west of Santa Fe.

ANN ARBOR (AP) — James H. Zumberge, a University of Michigan geologist, reports that American and Soviet scientists "hit it off fine" in his four-month stay in Antarctica this winter where they took part in International Geophysical Year research. Zumberge also was impressed by the Russians' knowledge, saying: "There were no second raters."

Reds Denounce the 'Putzfrauen' in Germany

BERLIN (INS) — Communist party activists in the Berlin area have been given a new task—go out and denounce the "putzfrauen."

These are the ladies, generally elderly and impoverished, who commute from Communist territory into West Berlin to work as charwomen. The journey is usually long and tedious, but in West Berlin the woman can earn 25 cents an hour. That's big money compared to what they can earn at home.

At a public meeting in Potsdam, Communist party members were urged to combat the "dishonorable . . . mop-squadrons . . . of money-haulers" so as to put an end to buying in the west.

Seek Site to Construct Huge Detroit Building

DETROIT (AP)—City officials are studying a request from Michigan Consolidated Gas Co. for aid in acquiring a site for a new 20 million dollar office building.

Mayor Louis Miriani yesterday ordered a study to determine if the city can acquire the land and turn it over to a private firm.

Police Agencies Mapping County Roadblock Plan

A county-wide roadblock plan that would enable law enforcement agencies to completely seal the county seconds after a major crime is being worked out by the Oakland County Law Enforcement Assn.

Major snare in the plan, however, according to Walled Lake Police Chief James A. Decker, association president, is disinterest on the part of departments in the southern half of the county.

At the group's monthly meeting yesterday, it went on record in urging full participation by all county police departments.

Decker and Sheriff Frank W. Irons were authorized to personally visit non-member departments in an attempt to spur interest in the association.

Founded last spring, the group has met each month at the County Jail. However, to increase participation, members have agreed to move the meetings to a different place each month.

Lansing GM Plants Closed for Weekend

LANSING (AP)—Workmen at the Lansing Oldsmobile and Fisher Body plants started a long weekend today as both General Motors units shut down operations until Monday following last production shifts yesterday.

Both reported recent layoffs, amounting to nearly 10 per cent of the work force in the case of Oldsmobile.

Spokesmen for the two plants said the long weekend shutdown was to help adjust growing dealer inventories.

J. F. Wolfram, general manager of the Oldsmobile Division, said 50 workers will be "placed on furlough" and that production schedules will be adjusted in line with current sales starting Monday.

"Although Oldsmobile continues to lead the medium price field, the sales rate for the entire industry has been falling off," he said.

Oldsmobile spokesmen said with the new layoffs the Lansing plant will employ around 10,750 workers, about 1,000 less than a year ago at this time.

Fisher Body, which also recently laid off 250 workers, said work at the plant is necessarily geared to Oldsmobile production. Present employment at Fisher is 4,259, down from 4,572 a year ago, a spokesman said.

Hal Boyle Says:

All Office Workers Collar Pals for Loans

It is obvious from this line that Shakespeare never worked in a modern business office.

If he had, he probably would have reworded his advice to read: "Never lend more than you can borrow yourself."

It is almost impossible to work in the average office now without being both a borrower and a lender.

A man who won't now and then help tide a fellow worker over a rough spot is regarded as a sanctimonious churl. He couldn't be more unpopular if he were in the pay of a foreign power. He is known as "the grouch" and everyone hopes Santa Claus will give him an uncler for Christmas.

Borrowing is not only a recurrent necessity among the indoor desk-bound peasantry, it is a way of life. It is an art form. It provides that little human touch that makes the whole office kin.

It takes all kinds of borrowers to make a world, and perhaps you recognize a few of the following types in the world where you work:

1. The big operator—He has just got a hot inside tip on the market, and if you lend him $500 now you will be doing yourself a favor as he will be in a position to pay you back double — maybe even triple—within a month when the stock blows its top. Actually, however, any company would be smart to pay this guy not to buy its stock, because as sure as he does, it will go down.

2. The bird dog—This gentle soul never borrows for himself. He just likes to go around and borrow for those too proud to borrow for themselves.

3. The cold calculator — He figures that if he borrows $10 from everyone in the office he will have enough to make a down payment on his house and won't have to pay interest to a loan company.

4. The Tragedian—wet-eyed, he reaches for your pocketbook as he unfolds a tale of woe that would melt a stone. His life is one disaster after another. He counts that day lost on which no catastrophe befalls him that will give him an excuse for borrowing.

5. The straitened Romeo — He has just met the most wonderful doll in the world, and with a little financial help from you he is going to take her out tonight—and, in return, tomorrow he will tell you what happened. If you like listening to other people's love struggles, this guy's not a bad investment.

6. The wife fighter—"I had another fuss with the old lady this morning, and she wouldn't give me any lunch money. Will you?"

7. The addict—He is a compulsive borrower — just can't help himself. But you don't have to lend him money. Anything will do —a cigarette, a pencil, a used paper clip. He will go away happy.

Well, there they are—a gallery of the more common office borrowers.

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (INS) — The 3rd Medium Tank Battalion, 68th Armor, at Ft. Carson, Colo., is looking for a surplus lion.

The 68th's crest has a lion "En Passant" and so the soldiers want a lion for a mascot but lack the funds to buy a big animal. They hope a generous zoo keeper might help them out, but are willing to settle for a mountain lion, if somebody will loan them experienced dogs to track down the cat.

Colorado Ski Boom Keeps on Booming

DENVER (INS) — The biggest ski-lift building program in the history of Colorado's four major ski areas was under way this winter as the incredible ski boom continues in the centennial state.

The history of skiing in Colorado began only in recent years, but already more than 30 acres are in operation, some rivaling the best in the world. Another dozen new ski areas are being planned and expansion on present sites continues at a fabulous rate.

Four new lifts at Winter Park, Berthoud, Loveland and Arapahoe will carry a total of more than 2,500 skiers in an hour up Colorado slopes.

New Germicidal Paint Said to Do Wonders

MOUNT KISCO, N. Y.—A new paint, said to be germproof, has been introduced by a Mount Kisco concern, which says its product contains a self-sanitizing, self-disinfecting germicide.

The company claims that one coat of its paint will keep walls, ceilings, furniture and floors free from germs for a long time if properly used.

Milford Cowboy Raises Wildest of Brahma Bulls

By REBA HEINTZELMAN

MILFORD—Taking care of a herd of wild Brahma bulls doesn't seem to bother former midwestern champion cowboy Marlin Morgan of Milford. In fact—keeping them wild is his business because he owns a rodeo.

Each spring the 35 head of purebred Brahmas are loaded on big semi-trailers, along with 50 wild bucking horses, and transported to various towns to be used for riding contests in the rodeo.

Recognized by dairymen as strictly a warm weather breed, Morgan's herd of Brahma bulls is the only known one of its kind in Michigan. For the last five winters they have been "farmed" on a ranch on the Wixom Road.

Weighing more than a ton, these 6-foot-high bulls have one and sometimes two large humps on their backs. "They are absolutely wild, and not even halter-broken," Morgan said.

The bulls are either a light tan or bluish gray, and their 14-inch droop-down ears gives them an appealing look that belies their extremely vicious nature.

ENIGMA FOR TOURISTS

Tourists, driving by the farm often stop to inquire about the massive animals, and many ask "are they Elk or Moose."

Morgan explained that only male Brahmas are retained during the winter season, as the female cannot survive the cold. Each spring he goes to Florida for more calves to replenish his herd. These are used for "bulldogging" contests.

Although some of the heaviest bulls in the Morgan herd are almost 2,000 pounds, they can jump over a fence like a deer, Morgan said. Keeping them fenced in has been one of the biggest problems for the cowboy.

Rarely do the animals escape—but in the event this happens, Morgan has enough cowboy friends in the neighborhood to corral the animals. This is always done on horseback.

Morgan feeds the herd hay, corn, grain, salt and when possible, citrus rind. He explained that in Florida, where a great number of Brahmas are raised, herdsmen contract citrus companies for the peelings of fruit for cattle fodder.

Loading the Brahmas for rodeo circuits is a sight to behold, and all farmwork in the area stops when word gets around that "the Morgan show is getting set to go."

Open-slat boxcar type trailers are backed into the corral and an especially constructed side-enclosed ramp is attached to the back of the trailer.

REALLY BULL-HEADED

Trained cowhands herd one bull at a time towards the ramp. "This surely must be where the term 'bull-headed' originated," Morgan said.

They fight all the way, sometimes getting caught over the sides of the ramp. When this happens, it takes a hydraulic lift to get the animal back on its feet — to start fighting the loading operation all over again, he said.

Although southern farmers always have used the Brahmas for beef cattle, northern dairymen now are beginning to be interested in the breed as potential beef supply for the first time, according to Morgan.

Two of the biggest animals in the herd, "Andy" and "Old Blue," are Morgan's favorite lead bulls, but neither can be trusted "as far as you could throw them by the tail," he said.

Boone Joins Fans in Aiding Leader Dogs

ROCHESTER — The Pat Boone Fan Club of Rochester today has more admiration than ever for its idol, the popular singing star.

Under the leadership of Patti Johnson, the club raised $75 last month by sponsoring a dance, and presented it to Leader Dogs for the Blind, Inc., here. Touched by the thoughtful gift, Harold L. Pocklington, executive director of the Leader Dogs school, wrote the radio-TV and recording star at New York telling him of the work of his Rochester fans.

Singer Pat answered with more than a perfunctory acknowledgement. Enclosed with his letter was a check for $75 to match that of the fan club.

"I feel the least I can do is to match the club gift with a check of my own . . . that if might help in a way to furnish a bit of happiness for the blind who deserve so much. My warmest wishes for you and your noble work."

Said Miss Johnson: "Pat's letter and check has all of us singing!"

Three Marooned on Island as Ice Melts Each Spring

By LAOMA SANFORD
Lake Orion Correspondent

LAKE ORION — Ever wonder what it would be like to be marooned on an island?

It's fun. Ask Penny and Kerry Roop, ages 6 and 7. They live in "The Castle" on Lake Orion's Romance Island with their grandmother, Mrs. Nada Wardrop.

CUT OFF

The only year-around residents on any of the lake's 21 islands, they are cut off from the mainland for about six weeks each spring when the ice gets soft and begins to break up.

This means that the two youngsters, who are pupils at the Blanch Sims Elementary School, get a spring vacation, much to the envy of their fellow schoolmates.

Mrs. Wardrop is now busy stocking up on food supplies, and she says she hasn't run short in the 18 years she has lived on the island. The only problem is the children's dislike for powdered and canned milk.

To insure them of all the necessary proteins and vitamins, she has to plan her meals carefully and well in advance. Housewives may think this quite a chore, but island life has many advantages to offset its hardships, says Mrs. Wardrop.

There are no door-to-door salesmen—not even a bill collector—knocking at her door.

Once, her daughter, Mrs. Bonnie Roop, misjudged the freeze. Her visit lasted six weeks and she ran out of cigarettes. After several days, Mrs. Wardrop said, they called to a friend on shore about 400 feet away.

Pontiac Press Photo

ANTICIPATE VACATION — Kerry and Penny Roop start across ice to catch bus to Blanche Sims Elementary School while their grandmother, Mrs. Nada Wardrop, watches from shore. Soon the children will get about a six week vacation — when the ice is too soft to cross. In background is "The Castle," the year-around home of the three.

Mrs. Roop, Kerry and Penny's mother, lives in Detroit where she is employed. Her husband, John, died several years ago in an auto accident.

Nada, 44, a former actress who went by the name of Ann Mercer, came to the island 18 years ago with her husband, Lare Wardrop, then a musician with the Fred Waring Orchestra.

They felt the island would be an escape from whirl of entertaining at home in the city after performances, Mrs. Wadrop says. It would give them a chance to spend more time with their two children, Bonnie and Larry, now a Dixieland bandleader in Rapid City, S.D.

The children were about the ages of her two grandchildren when they moved to the island, Nada reminisces.

Romance Island, however, didn't live up to its name; the marriage ended in divorce in 1950.

There is also the legend that the original occupant and builder of the house lost his wife through drowning, according to Mrs. Wardrop.

Despite the irony, Mrs. Wardrop finds Romance Island a beautiful place on which to live. The 1½-acre island with its many oak trees offers peace and solitude from the hectic pace of modern life, she says.

Take Bus Bids at Walled Lake

To Purchase 4 Chassis From Taylor and Sons for Net of $11,848

WALLED LAKE — Bids for the purchase of bodies for four school buses will be awarded at a special meeting of the Walled Lake School Board Monday night.

J. L. Taylor and Sons of Walled Lake won the bid for the sale of four Chevrolet chassis to the school district. They will be purchased for a net price of $11,848, the board announced at its meeting Monday.

Bids were divided because of the large number received, board members said.

In other business this week, 1958-59 school year teacher's contracts for Mrs. Edith Sargent, Mrs. Claudine Whitney and Mrs. Leitha York were signed. Each will teach elementary grades.

The board also approved payment on May 1 of principal interest and fees on bond issues. On the 1951 bond issue, this amounts to $41,200; on the 1953 issue, $89,435; and on the 1954 issue, $56,312.

Seeks Rezoning of Corner Plot

Waterford Body to Ask for Commercial Area at Hatchery, Pauline

The Waterford Township Zoning Board last night decided to recommend rezoning of the corner of Hatchery road and Pauline street from residential to commercial for future business use.

The recommendation will be referred to the Township Board and the Oakland County Planning Commission for approval.

Board members decided to visit a four-lot site in the Maceday Gardens Subdivision before acting on a proposal that it be rezoned from residential to commercial.

Because of a technical error in the description of a residential area on Walton boulevard proposed for rezoning to commercial, board members tabled the matter.

An application from a township attorney, William Jackson, for rezoning of four lots he owns on Walton at Frankman street from residential to commercial was accepted for consideration.

County Departments Under Microscope

County department heads must put themselves and their department operations under a microscope to see if they can't come up with more efficient operations.

This self-evaluation has been asked this week of 38 departments, boards and commissions in Oakland County by the Special County Government Study Committee.

Committee members want to know if county officials have any proposed changes to promote a more streamlined government.

Chairman John L. Carey, supervisor from Springfield Township, wants any recommendations submitted by April 4.

The committee of the Board of Supervisors, with several citizens-at-large on it, was created last fall. Its goal was to see if county government might become more efficient as the result of statutory or constitutional proposals.

One such proposal might be establishment of home-rule for the county, similar to government of a city. Carey said at a meeting Wednesday this should be done before any re-organization.

He received some support from Robert L. Queller, administrative assistant of the Citizens Research Council.

"You would not only be doing yourself a favor by pushing for home-rule," he said, "but you would be aiding other counties and the state."

The council, a non-profit organization supported by private contributions, will aid the committee in its studies.

Third-Dimension Concert Slated at Royal Oak

ROYAL OAK — A hi-fi stereophonic concert and demonstration, free to all residents of the Royal Oak area, will be offered at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday at Royal Oak Dondero High School.

A dramatic presentation of the "History of Recorded Music and Sound' will trace the progress of recorded sound, starting with an old wax cylinder and reaching a climax with a demonstration of sound in the third dimension.

The program, sponsored by the Royal Oak Adult Education Department will include a brief analysis of hi-fi and a question-and-answer period.

An hour-long stereophonic concert featuring popular, light classic and symphonic music, will comprise the last half of the program. As a special attraction, the new stereophonic record will be used in part of the concert.

DELORIS ANN BRANTLEY

Announcement has been made of the engagement of Deloris Ann Brantley to Robert Bordner. The bride-elect is the daughter of Riley Brantley of 3095 Hazelmary, Pontiac Township, and Mrs. Lois Peck of 230 Harpham, Commerce Township. Her fiance is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bordner of 9030 Funston Blvd., Milford Route 5. The wedding date has been set for April 27.

Catch Man, Juvenile in Supply Firm Office

Two persons were apprehended by Pontiac police last night at the Montcalm Builders Supply Co., 156 W. Montcalm St.

In response to a call from the owner, Officers Lonny Peters and Robert Davidson searched the building and found Andrew A. Horbatiuk, 30, of 80 N. Merrimac St. and a 15-year-old boy hiding behind a counter near a cash register.

A rear door had been pried open.

Marlette Man Elected Mobile Homes President

Swett was associated with Paul Riedel until a couple of weeks ago when Riedel sold his interest in the Mobile coach firm to Swett and Charles Ballard. The latter became vice president and secretary-treasurer.

Public Works Eyed in Governor's Study

LANSING (AP) — Gov. Williams says an incomplete survey shows at least 130 million dollars in public works projects promptly can be undertaken in Michigan if Congress provides more money for such work.

Of the total, 30 million dollars worth can be committed to construction under present appropriations.

The governor said yesterday he was trying to assemble a statewide picture on potentialities so the state can take maximum advantage of any federal public works program that may be voted by Congress.

Anne Marie Sharpe Marries

WHITE LAKE TOWNSHIP — Palms with white chrysanthemums and gladioli banked the altar of the Lakeland United Presbyterian Church Saturday for the wedding of Anne Marie Sharpe and Airman Third Class Ervin J. Thorp Jr. The Rev. Roy F. Lambert officiated at the evening service.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Charles Sharpe of 2049 Kingston St. and the late Mr. Sharpe. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Thorp of 9552 Bonnie Briar Rd.

For her wedding, the bride wore a princess style gown fashioned in white lace over satin. The billowing skirt featured lace inserts and a lace apron over nylon ruffles. She carried a bouquet of white roses, carnations and hyacinths.

Maid of honor was Sharon Richardson of Pontiac. Carol Wade, Dianne Salzburn and Christina Thorpe, all of Pontiac, were bridesmaids.

MRS. ERVIN J. THORP

Richard Yonvich of Pontiac served as best man. Seating the guests were ushers, Chares Baldeen and James Hatfield, both of Pontiac. Robert Thorp was ringbearer.

The couple will live in California where the bridegroom is stationed with the Air Force.

Donkey Game Slated

AUBURN HEIGHTS — The Avondale Junior High School will hold a Donkey Basketball Game at 7:30 tomorrow night at the school gymnasium. Participating will be parents, school faculty and students.

Consumers Borrowing to Buy to Be Effected Soon

Easy Money Has Meant Little Change

By SAM DAWSON
Last in Series

NEW YORK (AP)—The consumer who borrows to buy—either on the installment plan or in a lump sum from the bank—may see little change so far under the new easier money policy.

But as those who finance his purchases find a larger supply of credit to tap at lower rates, the benefits are beginning to trickle down to the on-the-cuff man.

Consumer loans will be watched closely in the next two months by those charting the business cycle.

Tight money for months appeared to have little effect on the steady upward climb of total consumer debt. Only contraction of the repayment period did much to brake it.

"The average purchaser pays little attention to the amount of the interest charge involved in his installment loan," says the head of one of the largest finance companies. "What he looks at is the size of the monthly payment in relation to his paycheck."

But tight money caught up with the finance companies. They have to borrow funds needed to carry your time purchases. As the supply of these available funds shrank and the interest costs climbed steadily, finance companies raised the charges for the funds they in effect lend to the car dealer or the appliance retailer to pay the manufacturer while carrying on-the-cuff customers.

About this time, competition got so tough between dealers and retailers that they absorbed some of this rise and for awhile let it squeeze profits. Last fall they began to pass on new costs along with higher prices on their goods.

In January, consumers cut their outstanding installment debt by 368 million dollars. Part of this was seasonal, part the shrinking of many incomes, but part could have been reaction to the higher costs they had to take on during the final days of tight money.

Finance companies are borrowing money much more cheaply these days. They have little trouble finding all they need.

The supply is rising from a number of sources: (1) the negative one that business is borrowing less and thus leaving more for others; (2) the added funds the Federal Reserve Board is letting the banks have to lend (3) the rise in savings totals.

The National Assn. of Mutual Savings Banks say deposits in the 520 banks increased 233 million dollars during January to reach a record 32 billion. The U.S. Treasury adds that in February sales of U.S. Savings Bonds topped cash-ins for the first time in 19 months. Life insurance totals are rising. All spell more savings—all but the savings bonds spell more funds for private investment.

But getting an installment loan is more than a matter of money supply and interest charges, as many have found out.

During the tight money era banks and finance companies sought to take only the better risks on what money they had to lend.

Now the accent is different. Banks and finance companies are looking harder these days at the income prospects of applicants. There's more money to lend and interest is past its peak—but there may be fewer good risks.

Based on 2½ Per Cent Productivity Rise

GM Repeats Wage Offer

DETROIT (AP) — General Motors Corp. says it can give the United Auto Workers a wage increase based on a 2½ per cent yearly productivity increase without inflating the nation's economy.

GM's Vice President in Charge of Personnel, Louis G. Seaton, told newsmen yesterday, "What is important is that there should be no fillip to inflation from this year's negotiations."

"We can handle a figure for the economy as a whole without an inflationary fillip," he said.

Seaton said he was not discussing bargaining in advance of the start of neogitiations March 25 on a new contract with the UAW. GM, he said, previously offered to renew its present contract gearing wages to the cost of living and providing an annual productivity increase of 2½ per cent or 6 cents an hour, whichever is greater. The GM-UAW contract runs out May 29.

Seaton made his remarks at a news conference outlining the company's views on productivity and wage increases.

Attending the conference were Seaton and Earl Bramblett, director of labor relations, who will head the GM bargaining team, and members of the company's business research staff.

The UAW has announced that profit sharing will be its top goal in GM contract negotiations in addition to a basic wage increase based on increased productivity. The UAW figures the nation's productivity increases at the rate of 3.9 per cent each year.

The UAW's 3.9 per cent figure was described as "erratic and unreliable" by Brent T. Upson of GM's business research staff. He said the union took the highest figures based on Bureau of Labor Statistics reports. The BLS figures, he said, started with the economic rebound of 1957-48.

Upson said GM studies, based on reports of the government's joint economic committee as well as the BLS, showed an annual productivity increase of slightly more than 2 per cent since 1909.

"Over a long pull," he said, "a rate of about 2 per cent seems to be characteristic of our economy.

"Two per cent," he said, "sounds small, but it is really a pretty big thing."

He quoted an estimate that a yearly productivity increase of 2 per cent would give the average family a disposable income of $7,100 by the year 1957. He said this would compare with a present family disposable income of $5,300.

Bay City Editor Heads Water Resources Group

LANSING (AP)—Glenn MacDonald, editor of the Bay City Times, has been named chairman of the Water Resources Committee of the May 4 - 10 Michigan Week observance, Edward J. Hekman of Grand Rapids, general chairman, announced today.

The 560,000 beds now available for tourists in German hostelries exceed the peak pre-war accommodations by 100,000.

Mrs. Porter to Head Area PTA Council

Other officers elected at group's meeting at the Lake Orion Community High School Tuesday evening were:

Mrs. Martin Parker of Lake Orion, vice president; Mrs. J. Leslie Walters of Birmingham, secretary; Mrs. Andrew Hotton of Troy, treasurer; Mrs. Odes Case of Orion Township, corresponding secretary; and Mrs. Elmer Thorpe of Rochester, historian.

About a hundred PTA members from 34 local units attended the meeting.

A program, "Building the Child" was presented by Arnold Ojala, representing the home; the Rev. Walter Radcliff, church; John Diffenbaker schools and John Lessiter, community.

The panelists agreed the home was the most responsible for building the child. Parents have the formative years, and more hours to instill security, confidence, a way of life, and common sense than any other influence, it was pointed out.

The school tries to mold an intelligent, happy, well adjusted personality who is ready to take his place in the world.

Bob Considine Says:

Legion Head Gleason Tells Stand on Issues

NEW YORK (INS) — The American Legion will be 39 years old this weekend, which is surely reason enough to interview its good-looking national commander, Jack Gleason.

"One of the things I'd like to get across to the American people while I'm in office is that we're not a treasury-robbing organization," the Chicago banker told us. "We favor pensions only for the needy veteran, the man who can't make more than $1,150 a year. He's eligible for a $955 pension each year.

Of course, there are a few chiselers in every outfit. We had a recent case of a veteran with a $10,000-a-year income putting everything in his wife's name and then taking the $955. We'll get rid of that kind by changing the law to make a married veteran list his wife's income, like the tax people do.

"We're doing something about lapsed insurance, too. Of the 22,000,000 service people who took out GI insurance in World War II and the Korean War, 17,000,000 let it drop — though it was the cheapest insurance in the world.

Now we've got a Pacific Coast company to agree to reinsure those people for $12 a year, straight life, which will give them up to $4,000, depending on age. The average World War II veteran is now 37.5 years old; the Korean veteran 30.4.

LAUDS CORDINER PLAN

The Legion is all for the Cordiner plan, the professional armed force. It would cost the country a lot of money for a few years but save billions thereafter. It would provide better living conditions all along the line and replace the old seniority system with the merit plan.

"The country spends as much as $40,000 training a man to operate, let's say, a radar in a B52; then he quits when his time is up and takes a job in industry that offers him more money.

Under the Cordiner setup we could save that fellow by giving him $2,500 or $3,000 more a year, and not have to go to the trouble and cost of schooling a replacement. Morale would jump. The draft could be cut in half."

World War II field-artilleryman Gleason has a new slant on World War II, if any.

"I've got a feeling that nobody will use the pushbuttons," he said. "Both sides had great amounts of poison gas during the last big one, but neither side dared use it. The same thing could happen with nuclear weapons and the rockets. They've got them. We've got them. It could come down once again to the fellow with the gun on his shoulder. Millions and millions of them."

"I don't believe that Russia and the United States will ever openly fight unless the United States starts it. I think we could start it in Germany or Turkey by stepping on Russian toes. I believe Russia has built its great military power only for defense and political purposes to back up its land grabs.

Russia has no need to aggress with military might when she is so successful through other means. Russia has been very successful in driving the Western allies crazy in the Near East and Far East, and while we're kept busy cleaning up these messes with manpower and dollars, the Reds are busy preparing a new mess in another part of the world.

Congress handles current problems on a panic basis and spends most of its time and dollars investigating past actions. Our foreign policy should take the offensive and let Russia cover up for awhile.

One way would be to recognize Red China, build up China's ego, even with our support, and drive a barbed wedge between China and Russia.

"I stand for preventive war, but only as a last resort. I do not believe that we should now attack our potential enemy just because we feel sure we could knock her out. I feel our one and only defense is our intelligence system inside Russia.

We should attack Russia only when our intelligence informs us that Russia is preparing to attack us. In the meantime, neither Russia nor the United States has a monopoly on brains — we can both continue our war of words."

Plan Newspaper Clinic

BIG RAPIDS (UP) — Ferris Institute, cooperating with the Michigan Press Assn., will sponsor a so-called "shirt-sleeve session" on newspaper design here Saturday. Edward C. Arnold, editor of Linotype News, will conduct a design clinic. Dean Jon P. Adams of Ferris' Trade and Industrial Division, will address a luncheon session.

Utah Assessor Counting Sheep in Triplets, Quads

GRANTSVILLE, Utah (UP) — Tooele County Assessor William R. Judd is a pretty good man with figures, but this time of year he could use an adding machine at home. He raises a few sheep as a hobby.

On a morning check at the corral, he found one ewe with a newborn lamb. A couple of hours later, another ewe produced twins, and a few minutes later a third came forth with triplets.

Judd dutifully made his evening check and found a fourth ewe had given birth to quadruplets.

Aids Gifted Children

DETROIT (UP) — Detroit has expanded its program for some 2,000 gifted children in 50 public schools by adding classes in the Russian language and nuclear science. Classes are limited to 20 students each.

Belying its name, the tree kangaroo spends much time on the ground.

Says U.S. Will Have 25 Satellites Soon

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — The United States soon will have 25 satellites whirling around in outer space, says Dr. T. J. Killian, deputy director and chief scientist of the Office of Naval Research.

While satellites have no value as launching platforms, Killian said, he thinks they are of military value for surveillance and communications.

"They can serve as relay points for communications," he said in an interview. "And when we have 25 satellites in the air, as we soon will, they could even serve as double relay points."

Rap Petty, but Name . . .

LANCASTER, Calif. (AP) — The booking was suspicion of petty theft, but there was nothing petty about the suspect's name: Joshua Heitize Baussloipezkuffbergarime. He was released on $250 bail.

Some 300 Danes left recently to make their homes in Australia, and 7,000 more who wish to migrate there have their names on a waiting list.

Won't Send His Son to School, Fined $2

READING, Pa. (AP) — A Quaker father is appealing a $2 fine for not sending his 11-year-old son to public school. He says public schools lack religious instruction.

John H. McCandless of nearby Alburtis presented that argument yesterday in Berks County Court. The court had imposed the fine ruling that young Christopher is not getting enough instruction to meet the compulsory school attendance law.

McCandless and his wife, both members of the Religious Society of Friends and both college graduates, had sent Christopher to public school through the fourth grade, tutoring him themselves on the side.

Now they send him to a fifth-grade class at a Friends school. But the boy goes only one day a week because the school is 47 miles away. On the other days his parents tutor him.

The licorice plant — "lickrish" to small fry — is 50 times as sweet as cane sugar, says Dr. P. A. Houseman of the British Royal Institute of Chemistry.

They Take House Apart but Can't Find Skunk

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Somewhere in the house shared by Miss Amanda Glick and Miss Clara Sclabach there is a skunk. Of that they are certain. But where is the skunk?

With the help of Sheriff's Sgt. Leonard Logan the two elementary school teachers took the house apart—literally, when it came to the front porch steps—but found no skunk.

They slept last night with windows open and incense burning.

"But what do we do next?" asked Miss Click.

Wins Letter of Apology From Bath Attendants

IPSWICH, England (AP)—A man who was told he was too dirty to have a shower at the municipal bath house won a letter of apology from the town clerk yesterday.

Brian Jennings, 22-year-old mate on a coastal barge, said the attendants turned him away when he sought to wash off the grime of a voyage from London.

Town Clerk J. C. Nelson wrote the attendants had been reprimanded and that Ipswich "earnestly hopes to receive your patronage" the next time Jennings arrives in town dirty.

Flips House Trailers Near Pompano Beach; None Seriously Hurt

POMPANO BEACH, Fla. (INS)—What weathermen described as a "thundersquall" with winds which may have reached 80 m.p.h. struck a trailer park near Pompano Beach last night and police reported at least four persons were injured.

Sheriff's deputies said four trailers were overturned in the brief storm and the injured were taken to Holy Cross Hospital at nearby Fort Lauderdale. Hospital personnel said they did not believe any of the victims sustained serious injuries.

Forecaster Leonard Pardue of the Miami Weather Bureau said indications are a "thundersquall" hit the area in Broward County.

The weather bureau had initially rsported the disturbance was a tornado, but Pardue said: "We have no evidence that it was."

Bad News for Republicans? But Experts Can Be Wrong

WASHINGTON (AP) — This is an election year and the experts are saying that, as far as Congress is concerned, it's going to be bad news for Republicans.

The reasoning goes like this:

1. Even with President Dwight D. Eisenhower on the ticket, the Republicans were unable to win Congress in 1956. If they couldn't win with a superior vote-getter like Eisenhower, what can they do without him?

2. Generally speaking, the party in power loses ground in mid-term elections. It's true the power is divided now, with the Democrats controlling Congress and the Republicans manning the White House.

But the tendency is to blame the President and the party he heads for all the ailments a nation may fall heir to: Unemployment, the farm situation, an unencouraging economic picture.

3. The Senate offers a particularly rough challenge to the GOP. On the surface, it looks tempting: 49 Democrats, 47 Republicans.

But 21 Republicans are up for re-election as compared with only 12 Democrats. And the Republicans are likely to be in the deepest trouble.

Here's the breakdown:

Democrats—Have a big advantage because they can count on what, in spite of everything, is still a fairly solid South. Should win Texas, Virginia, Tennessee, Mississippi, Florida without any difficulty. May have some problems in Massachusetts, Missouri, Montana, Rhode Island and Washington. Could be in real trouble in New Mexico and, especially, Wisconsin.

Republicans—Should have no problems in Nebraska, North Dakota and Vermont, and shouldn't have too much trouble in Delaware, Maryland, Minnesota, Ohio and Utah. But in these 12 states they could face a real horse race: Arizona, California, Connecticut, Indiana, Maine, Michigan, Nevada, New Jersey, New York, Pennsylvania, Wyoming and the two Senate openings in West Virginia.

Four Republican senators—H. Alexander Smith (N.J.), William Knowland (Calif.), William Jenner (Ind.) and Edward Martin (Pa.)—aren't running for re-election. This adds to the Republican burden since an incumbent usually is given an edge.

4. The House has all of its 435 seats at stake. The Democrats have around a 30-seat margin here, so 17 or 18 Republican victories in the right places would put the GOP back in the saddle.

But here again the South gives the Democrats an advantage. They can count on 150 sure seats, the Republicans on 100. But the Republicans have their eyes on 51 Democratic seats where two years ago GOP candidates polled 45 per cent or more of the votes.

So the odds, while favoring the Democrats to increase their margins, are far from being prohibitive. A switch of relatively few votes could make a difference.

And above all, there's this to remember:

Iowa University Students Living in Real Log Cabin

FAYETTE, Iowa (AP) — A log cabin, its exact age lost with the passing years, is serving as a dormitory for three Upper Iowa Univversity students.

Thompsen of Belmond and Tom Swale of Clear Lake — Iowans all — rented the cabin from Miss Stella Latimer, on whose property it stands.

"It was pretty mkuch of a mess when we first looked it over," said Gutz. "we understand that no one had lived in it for some time, and we had a big cleanup job on our hands."

Some paint and liberal use of "elbow grease" and cleaning powder rectified that. Then the three students bought a few pieces of furniture spending $10 for a rug, $11 for a refrigerator and $5 for a studio couch that makes up into a bed.

The telephone, hifi record player and radio in the single 14 by 16 foot downstairs room are in decid contrast to the rough-hewn log walls. A similar size upstairs room is used for sleeping.

Thompsen is the cook, hastening to explain that he has no truck with dishwashing. Gutz and Swale take care of that chore along with the housework.

To help out with the food bill, a add variety to their diet, all three go hunting and fishing.

The cabin has an oil heater, but the students keep it in reserve for the most severe winter weather. They say the large fireplace across one end of the cabin does a good job of heating.

Khrushchev Willing to Travel to Washington for Summit Conference

By SERGE FLIEGERS

MOSCOW (INS)—Nikita Khrushchev said yesterday he would be willing to go to Washington for a summit conference "if it is necessary."

This correspondent on three separate occasions earlier had tried to pin down the Communist Party chief on summit talks. But he declined to discuss the subject, except to say:

"If you are an American correspondent you should know better than I whether such a conference will take place or not."

DEPENDS ON YOU

This reporter replied: "Much depends on you."

Khrushchev did not answer that one.

Khrushchev's reluctance to discuss a top-level parley, contrary to his previous attitude, was interpreted by diplomats as a sign that the subject had entered the "secret diplomacy stage."

(Last week in Washington President Eisenhower said that the Soviet leaders had offered to go to Washington for a summit conference if it were inconvenient for the President to leave the country for a long conference.)

CHATS AT RECEPTION

Khrushchev chatted with newsmen and ambassadors at a Danish Embassy reception. Most of the time the talk revolved nostalgically around his soccer playing days as a youth in the Don River Basin region, where he worked in the mines and foreign chemical factories.

"In my youth I used to like playing soccer."

Asked whether previously published reports about his traveling to England, with the Russian team to play there, were true, Khrushchev replied:

"That is incorrect."

He explained:

"I played in the Donbas region. There were British people there playing soccer and we also began playing the game."

Asked whether he had played with the British teams in the Donbas, he chuckled:

"What do you think I am, a lord? Of course, I didn't play with British teams. I played with my comrades, Soviet workers!"

Khrushchev then was asked what position he had played on his team. "Did you play fullback?"

Khrushchev shook his head. "No," he said, "I played—how do you say it in English — 'halifbak.'"

"Oh, you mean halfback?"

"Yes," said Khrushchev. "You know, players who part of the time are defense and part of the time offense."

Khrushchev also ribbed this correspondent for repeatedly coming back to the subject of a summit conference.

Pointing to this correspondent he indicated with gestures how a needle is put into someone and then turned and turned. And continuing with his pantomime, imitating this reporter, he showed with his finger how a correspondent scratched and scratched on the same spot.

This correspondent explained: "We are only doing our job."

Khrushchev then said: "I know, and I don't mind it."

Returning to the attack, this correspondent said:

"Anyway I notice you are able to withstand reporters' assaults with much diplomacy — which you will probably also be using at the summit conference."

Khrushchev replied:

"I inherited my diplomacy from my parents. As you know my father was a coal miner and my mother was a worker."

"I gained my experience in international affairs early, when as a young man I worked for chemical factories in the Don Basin, owned by foreigners, American, British and Belgian factories."

This produced another laugh. On previous occasions Khrushchev has liked to refer to his humble beginnings.

Khrushchev also talked about science and alcohol.

Asked by this correspondent what new sensations the Soviet Union expected to produce, Khrushchev said:

"We will soon have more achievements in the field of science — and not only one."

He said this "absolutely" included more Sputnik launchings.

Somehow the talk turned to drink. Khrushchev, who recently has been conducting a campaign against alcoholism, had only one goblet of champagne and politely refused another offered him by the blonde wife of the Danish ambassador.

Khrushchev reminisced about the Americans who came to Russia in the early twenties "to help us." He said:

"They came with their tools and their products and even their food and drink supplies . . .

"They brought us food and also American vodka, which they called whisky."

Junior Editors Quiz on THE OCEAN

Question: What causes the Gulf Stream?

ANSWER: "There is a river in the ocean." These striking words were used by Lt. Maury of the early American Navy to sum up his studies of the Gulf Stream, and they still tell the story.

The Gulf Stream is a warm current which flows like a river through the rest of the Atlantic Ocean, circulating in a clockwise direction, as our map shows, and bringing a mild climate to the coasts it approaches, even as far as Norway. It was once thought that water contained in the Gulf of Mexico and heated by the tropical sun as in a great teakettle started the Gulf Stream on its way.

It is now recognized that the great ocean currents, of which the Gulf Stream is only one, are caused by the trade winds. Blowing in from the east, these winds shove water along the coast of Central America, into the Gulf of Mexico and out between Florida and Cuba, whence it streams northwards. Off Maine it is deflected out to sea as it meets the colder current coming down from Labrador, Greenland and the far north.

FOR YOU TO DO: The Gulf Stream is one of the wonders of the world, so find out more about it. What kinds of fish swim in it, how warm is the water? Two features of the Gulf Stream are shown in our picture, the very dark water, and the puffy fair weather clouds—these making what is often called a "Gulf Stream sky."

To Study What Happens When Man Knocked Out

EAST LANSING (AP) — Two Michigan State University professors are trying to find out exactly what happens when a man is knocked out.

Drs. F. Hermann Rudenberg and Thomas W. Jenkins hope to learn how a blow can cause unconsciousness when there is no apparent damage to the nervous system. They said the armed forces, athletic groups and many private research organizations are concerned with the problem.

Dr. Rudenberg, instructor in physiology and pharmacology, is experimenting with rats to find what biochemical changes, if any, are caused by concussion.

Dr. Jenkins, assistant professor of anatomy, is studying rats for traces of damage to their nervous systems and for effects of concussion on the balance system of the inner ear.

Cow's Yield Greater

NARVIK, Norway — Although Norway's stock of milking cows has been reduced by 26 per cent since 1939, the 1956 dairy-product output was slightly larger than in that prewar year.

Egyptians in U.S. Learn Students Not Carefree

MADISON, Wis., (INS) — Five Egyptian educators studying at the University of Wisconsin have discovered that American students are not the frivolous, carefree lot they appear and that trust is a trademark of our economic system.

They also agreed that Americans work harder, hurry more and associate more with members of the opposite sex than do most Egyptians.

STUDY HARD

Zackaria Zehi Ethnathios, a mathematics teacher in Cairo, said when he first came to the U.S.A he thought, as many foreigners do, that Mr. Joe College is a carefree party-goer. He added:

"I saw crowds of students doing nothing but talking for hours over coffee and attending dances or parties, and I thought that is all they came to college for. But now I see they not only play hard, they study hard, with a great sense of responsibility."

Shokay Dimitry Sawiris, secondary school principal in Port Said, expressed surprise that American professors give so much time to informal discussions and questions by the students. He said Egyptian students are required to do much more outside reading and research than Americans.

Mohamed Abel El Aziz Dessuky, a former inspector of anti-literacy education, is currently writing articles for Egyptian newspapers of his experiences in the U.S. He said he believed much of the economic success in the U.S. may be attributed to peoples' trust in one another. Dessuky added:

"You believe I am honest until you find otherwise. Once a drugstore cashier was called away while I was waiting to pay my check, and several persons with the right change simply laid their money on the counter and left. When the clerk returned, he even asked me if it was my change before he took it."

Miss Leila Sadek, mathematics teacher and supervisor of teacher training in Cairo, said more and more Egyptian women are attending universities. She added that high schools there are not co-educational.

Miss Sadek said the Egyptian teenager does not normally go out on dates, adding that the only socially acceptable way to have boy meet girl is through the two families.

Abdel Halim Maksoud, who was a senior instructor of English at a teachers institute near Cairo, expressed pride in the religious freedom of his homeland, saying:

"Every citizen is considered first an Egyptian, with the same rights and duties."

From Breast Cancer Next Year

Expects 17,000 Deaths

LOS ANGELES (AP)—There will be 50,000 cases of breast cancer in American women next year and 17,000 of the victims will die, says Dr. Ralph R. Coffey, director of surgery at the Kansas City General Hospital.

"It would be difficult to say what the ratio of malignancy to nonmalignancy is in breast tumors," Dr. Coffey said, "but in my own practice the biopsies run 10 nonmalignant to one malignant."

He said many women, discovering a lump in the breast, nevertheless are afraid to consult a physician, partly because they fear cancer, partly because they fear breast disfigurement.

Dr. Coffey explained that it is possible to make a submammary crease incision that is not visible after the operation, regardless of where the lump in the breast has appeared. He has pioneered a radical incision method that leaves no disfigurement, bypasses the blood supply that courses through the domed wall of muscles, and yet his patients have full use of their arms within two days of the operation.

Dr. Coffey stressed the need for women to make monthly self-examinations and report promptly the existence of breast lumps. He spoke at the annual Congress of the International College of Surgeons.

A Japanese surgeon, Dr. Selichi Makuuchi of Tokyo, described his technique for replacing a cancerous bladder with a segment of the lower intestine, an operation he first performed in 1953.

Diefenbaker Steps Up His Campaign as Canadian Election Draws Nearer

By ALAN DONNELLY
Canadian Press Staff Writer

(first of 2 articles)

The 62-year-old Progressive Conservative leader, who kept up a whirlwind tempo throughout his campaign last year, set an easier pace during the first three weeks of this one.

In travels that took him from Manitoba to Newfoundland and back, he repeatedly set forth his stand on unemployment, trade, national development, agriculture and social security. He defended the government's record since it took office last June 21.

But in his attacks on the Liberals — the other parties have been pretty well ignored so far — Diefenbaker has shown flashes of last year's fighting form with which he led Conservatives back to power after 22 years, with a minority 113 of the 265 seats in the House of Commons.

Those close to the Prime Minister say he deliberately kept his early electioneering under wraps. Midway through last week, however, he seemed to drop these tactics during a three-day swing through southern Ontario.

So far his audiences have been generally larger, under comparable circumstances, than those of last year's campaign. Party officials claimed the turnout of nearly 5,000 for his Winnipeg opening speech Feb. 12 was the largest political meeting ever held on the Prairies.

His biggest audience reaction comes when he deals with the Liberal pledge of 400 million dollars in tax cuts, and with the motion presented in Parliament Jan. 20 by Liberal Leader Lester B. Pearson proposing a turnover of government without an election.

On tax cuts he reiterates that the former Liberal government, in which Pearson was foreign secretary, rejected Conservative demands a year ago for reduced taxation.

He mocks Pearson's motion, depicting it as a plea to "give us back our jobs but please let's not have an election."

He accepts unemployment as a major election issue but says Canadians won't swallow attempts to pin blame on the government.

The main promise of his campaign is to undertake a major national development program, with roads and railways to open Northern resources, federal aid to self-liquidating provincial projects, and encouragement to greater processing in Canada of raw materials.

Tomorrow: The Liberal campaign, led by Lester B. Pearson.

Tiny Nation Has Neutral Theme

San Marino, Now Split by Politics, Relies on Its History

WASHINGTON — San Marino, whose government is currently split into pro- and anti-Communist factions, is a miniature land where modern problems wear medieval trappings.

Climbing the craggy slopes of Mt. Titano in Italy's northeast Apennines, San Marino is a country-within-a-country and the world's smallest republic, says the National Geographic Society.

Its 23.5 square miles of picture-postcard scenery include turreted castles, crumbling fortresses, and balconied houses overlooking narrow, crooked streets. State and church functions are pageants of ancient ritual, complete with plumed helmets, swords and doublets.

San Marino's population of some 14,000 is less than that of Keokuk, Iowa. But what it lacks in numbers is more than made up in a local color, independence and an eventful history.

Tradition says the state was founded in the fourth century by a Christian stonecutter named Marinus. Fleeing persecution in his Dalmation homeland, he found refuge on the rocky flanks of Mt. Titano, and with fellow craftsmen established a Christian colony.

Later, the wealthy owner of the property presented it to Marinus in recognition of his piety and good works. He passed it on to the community as a possession to be forever "free from every other man."

According to legend, Marinus warned his people never to add to their territory by force. Thus San Marino has consistently followed policies of neutrality and protective alliances wherever possible.

From their mountain ramparts, the Sammarinesi fought bravely when necessary. Though powerful enemies occasionally overcame them, such conquest was short lived. Even Napoleon respected their independence. His offer to expand the state, however, was politely but firmly declined.

Surrounded by Italy, the Lilliputian republic has naturally close ethnic, cultural and economic ties with its big neighbor. The relationship has long been formalized by a treaty of friendship, last renewed in 1953.

Developing Rocket Sled to Outspeed Rifle Bullet

CANOGA PARK, Calif. (AP) —A seven-ton rocket sled that will outspeed a low-power rifle bullet is under development, its builders report.

Liquid oxygen and alcohol fuel will drive the aluminum vehicle 1,700 m.p.h., nearly 2½ times the speed of sound, the Rocketdyne Division of North American Aviation, Inc., said.

The pencil-shaped, 43-foot sled will be delivered this fall to the Air Force for high-speed tests on a seven-mile track at Holloman Air Development Center in New Mexico.

Argentina Government Orders Bank Holiday

BUENOS AIRES (AP) — The government declared a bank holiday today, saying bank clerks had to catch up with their bookkeeping after a seven-week strike that has crippled Argentina's economy.

The clerks returned to work under a government mobilization decree issued Sunday but their union leaders ordered them to engage in slowdown tactics. The bank holiday apparently was forced by the slowdown.

Strike leaders said almost 3,000 clerks were arrested because of the slowdown.

More than one-third of the tea produced in the Free Republic of China goes to the United Kingdom.

Department Abolished

DETROIT (AP) — Wayne State University will abolish its department of aeronautical engineering next July. The department has had an average of only six students the last five years.

Thrill Killer in Prison for 33 Years

Leopold Returning Today Into World of Free Men

JOLIET, Ill. (AP) — Nathan Leopold was ready to step into the world of free men today, 33½ years after he entered prison for one of the nation's most publicized crimes.

After a secret meeting with relatives in Chicago, he plans to fly to Puerto Rico for a $10-a-month job as a laboratory worker in a mission hospital.

The Illinois Parole and Pardon Board approved his request to take the job, thus authorizing his release on parole for five years. He was officially granted the parole last month but his release was delayed pending investigation of job offers.

In 1924, Leopold, son of a wealthy Chicago family, and Richard Loeb, his fellow University of Chicago student, committed what they thought was the "perfect crime" — the murder of a neighbor boy, 14-year-old Bobby Franks.

With terrifying coldness they worked out the details of their crime. They abducted Bobby near a playground, beat him to death with a heavy chisel and stuffed his body in a culvert.

On Sept. 11, 1924, they went to prison for life on the charge of murder and 99 years for kidnaping. Loeb died in 1936 in a fight with another inmate.

Leopold, now 53, was what prison officials termed a "model prisoner." He served as a guinea pig in wartime malaria experiments, established a correspondence school for convicts, reorganized the prison library and worked in the prison hospital.

Aided by an intellectual level far above that of a genius, he mastered more than a score of languages. He corresponded with many of the world's leading intellectuals.

On Feb. 20, the parole board in a split vote gave Leopold the freedom for which he unsuccessfully petitioned four times previously.

He had job offers from Florida, Honolulu, Chicago, New York, California and Puerto Rico. Each had to be investigated by parole authorities, thus delaying his release.

Leopold from the first favored an offer from the Church of the Brethren's mission hospital in Castaner, P.R. He was offered room and board and $10 a month to work as a hospital technician. It was this job the board finally approved.

Despite the small salary, it is unlikely Leopold will suffer financial hardship. He will have a $2,000 yearly income from a $50,000 trust fund and a legacy from an aunt totaling between $10,000 and $11,000.

In addition, it is expected he will receive royalties from a book he wrote about his prison life.

"I am deeply conscious that more than my own future hangs in the balance," he said when he learned he was to be released.

"Thousands of prisoners, especially long-term prisoners, look to me to vindicate the rehabilitation theory of imprisonment. I will do my best not to fail in that trust."

Insurance firms tell us that more and more peope these days are getting rich by accident . . . Our intercontinental ballistic missile is now ready to go. Fired from Florida, it can hit South America.—Earl Wilson.

Chubby Woman Foils 2 Robbers in Chicago

CHICAGO (AP)—A chubby woman currency exchange cashier foiled a robbery.

Mrs. Gladys Burton, 48, was met by two men, one carrying a gun, when she opened the exchange. They odered her to open the double doors to the back of the cages.

Mrs. Burton, 5 feet 3 inches tall and weighing 160 pounds, viewed the narrow opening and told the robbers: "I'm too chubby for two of us to go through at one time. I'll go first."

She entered, locked the doors and rang the burglar alarm. The robbers fled.

Ike's Problems Different From Hoover's

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower, in fighting the recession, has one problem President Hoover shared in the early 1930 depression days, and other problems which either didn't exist for Hoover or were secondary.

Both men's primary task was getting the American economy back on its feet. Hoover failed badly. But Eisenhower also has to worry about the effect of an American economic tailspin would have in other countries. That was truly a secondary concern for Hoover.

The early 1930s were a time of American isolation, mental and financial. This country, following its historic tradition of avoiding foreign entanglements, had no military alliances.

So Hoover didn't have to worry about maintaining or supporting anything like that while this country was concentrating on bailing itself out at home.

The attitude of this country in the early 1930s was pretty much that of letting the rest of the world worry about itself.

In the early 1930s, under Hoover, Congress passed the Smoot-Hawley Tariff Act, highest in history, to keep out the competition of foreign goods. In turn, it helped close foreign markets to us.

The United States wasn't too concerned about the spread of communism overseas. The men in the Kremlin, still struggling to make communism work in Russia, were years away from their later successes and their present aggressive expansionism.

It's all changed for Eisenhower. Since the war this country has pumped about 60 billion dollars into foreign aid of various kinds. American policy—in the foreseeable future—is to continue pumping it.

Part of this foreign aid money goes into helping American allies maintain their own armed forces as a defense against the Soviets and Red Chinese.

But now, increasingly successful at home, the Russians are beginning to try to offset American foreign aid by foreign aid of their own.

If the present recession slides into depression, with antirecession government spending far exceeding the revenue from taxes, there will no doubt be severe pressure at home to cut down on foreign aid, or cut it out.

But a guiding principle behind foreign aid is to help keep the non-Communist world out of the Communist grip.

The psychological effect of an American depression might well be worse abroad than any reduction of American foreign aid or even a weakening of this country's alliances.

Meaning: the Russians have been preaching the superiority of their system and the ultimate collapse of capitalism. This country has preached just the opposite, holding up the American standard of living, highest anywhere, as the prime proof and example.

A full-scale depression—besides weakening non-Communist countries financially too—would go a long way toward making Communist arguments against capitalism sound more plausible overseas.

DUCKY SPORT — Feeding time is fun time for these fortunate ducklings at the "Food for Life" exhibit in Chicago's Museum of Science and Industry. The baby ducks give spectators a treat by combining eating and bathing at dinner time. The ducklings climb up the slide to get their feed (seen in container at top of device) and then slide down into the water. Ducks lingering too long at the food tray go down the slide or are pushed over the side.

Utility Charities Bill OK'd in Vote Switch

LANSING (AP) — A flip flop by four Democratic senators gave a new lease on life to a bill to authorize public utilities to charge off charity donations as an operating expense for rate making purposes.

The bill failed to pass yesterday on a 14 to 18 roll call, with the affirmative vote falling four short of the passage requirement.

On reconsideration later in the day, the Democratic switch gave the measure exactly the 18 favorable votes needed. Nine senators opposed it on the second roll call.

At first, Sen. John B. Swainson (D-Plymouth), one of the switchers, argued that the bill would allow a utility to tax rate payers and then in its own name give the money to support a religious project in conflict with the persuasion of some rate payers.

Later, he said an amendment that was adopted taking religious contributions out of the bill and providing for deduction of federal income tax credits made the measure acceptable.

Speed Record Set by Transport Jet

BURBANK, Calif. (AP) — A jet transport plane swept across the country in 3 hours and 29 minutes yesterday, setting an unofficial speed record for passenger-type craft, Lockheed Aircraft says.

The company said its new JetStar averaged 557 m.p.h. in flying from Edwards Air Force Base on the southern California desert to Dobbins AFB in Georgia. It reached a top speed of 572 m.p.h. and an altitude of 46,000 feet on the nonstop, 1,926-mile trip, Lockheed said.

The company said the previous record for transport-type planes was 5 hours, 15 minutes, set in 1954.

She's at Her Best in Tender Roles

By W. G. ROGERS

NEW YORK (UP) — It was by chance that I heard today's most spectacular operatic voice seven years ago, when its possessor was practically unknown.

It was the 1951 May Music Festival in Florence, but the actual time was June, for that poopular event spills over generously beyond the name month.

★ ★ ★ ★

Though it was June, it was cold. But it was cosy and snug in the elegant, jewel-like Teatro della Pergola in downtown Florence, where for the first time ever, before the dressiest crowd this opera-goer ever saw, there was being presented Haydn's "Orpheus and Eurydice."

The opera, 150 years old, a paste-up job from bits left by Haydn, was staged superbly. For this gala performance Kleiber conducted and Boris Christoff sang Creon, father of Eurydice.

About that time the metropolitan Opera's general manager, Rudolf Bing, had engaged Christoff to sing in this country, but our government would not admit him. So I took a few days off from a stay in Paris just to listen to him. He was magnificent.

UNCOMMON SPIRIT

As I was starting for the theater, someone said:

"You interested in the American singer in the cast?"

I didn't know there was one.

"Sure," I was told. "Maria Meneghini Callas."

She was Eurydice. She had not sung in the United States and I did not remember a recording. So I knew the name, but little else.

She was not worth a special story, I decided. Although stout, with arms washwoman size, or twice what they are today, she was good looking. Her voice, of substantial quality, and used with uncommon spirit, tended a bit toward the shrill and edgy, which may be the way Italians like it. She acted well.

HOUSEHOLD WORD

Now she is a household word. She has acquired her fantastic reputation in spite of two drawbacks. In the first place, she has temperament, no doubt controllable if she pleases but she seldom pleases. Secondly, her voice, many critics claim, is not great.

I have heard it called ugly. If in a voice, you expect that warm-blooded, sensuous, shivery - making thing that drives straight to the heart of your emotions, she has possessed it only rarely when I've heard her.

CURIOUS PARADOX

By a curious paradox she does badly on stage the very thing she does all too handsomely off. That is, she becomes a page - one headliner when her temper explodes, but makes music - page news only when it does not.

If a role requires an excess of rage, hate or anger — as when in a real - life scene in Chicago she fought off a process server with a stupendous outbreak of temper — her voice fails.

Pushed to the extreme, or to the upper register, or too loud, it can sound like a shriek. But playing the good little girl on stage, in a part demanding tender, sweet and touching sounds, her half - voice sometimes manages them. Somewhere under all this is the suggestion of a singer worth going mad for.

The singer for whom audiences do go mad is the personality Callas. In truth, Callas doesn't sing in opera, she is opera, she is the Callas opera.

In one svelt, shapely package, you get all the elements of suspense needed for an evening's entertainment. She has you on the edge of your seat, she works on your nerves.

Her acting deserves a lot of credit for this. You are held by her posturing, the fingers squeezed together, the way she makes passes around her face as though wiping away cobwebs, her natural manner of fixing her hair, her readiness to try not to look pretty when prettiness would belie her role, as when she goes mad in "Lucia" or dies in "Traviata."

But then you balk at allowing her this credit when she puts on another naive little-girl act for curtain calls, kneeling, going through a silly pantomime, behaving as if she just can't believe "you-all love me so"; worst of all, she unhesitatingly risks spoiling the total effect of a work by stepping out of her part to accept the applause.

For instance, she laughs with delight before the curtain though, just a minute before on the other side of it, she had staged the mad scene in "Lucia" and though, just a minute after, Edgardo must attempt to make his tragedy and suicide believable to the same audience.

TEMPER NOTHING NEW

She has repeatedly proved she can be hard to get along with. She walked out of the Edinburgh festival and the Rome opera opener, quarreled withh San Francisco and got something like a rebuke for it from the American Guild of Musical Artists, and had a baritone fired from the Met, or so he said.

Hers is not the first temperament in opera, of course.

But Callas' troubles are her own speciality. And despite them, in the course of her second season here she has made more headway than before with the press she says she despises. One reviewer here praised her extravagantly.

Bing, who kissed her hand when she signed the contract for last season, now kisses her check for ravishing the paying customers as Lucia, Tosca, Violetta and Norma — the selfsame Bing, to be sure, of whom her husband, Giovanni Battista Meneghini, once allegedly declared: "My wife will not sing at the Met as long as Bing runs the Met."

LOVES TO SING

She sings well, and obviously she loves to sing, as long as the audience likes her, or so it seems to this observer. In her language, if people don't like her, she doesn't like them.

Since what matters to us all is not the headline personality but the great singer, it could be very bad if any indifference developed toward her.

It will be better to keep on picking flaws than to remain insultingly silent. At her last "Traviata" here, a woman sitting behind me asked her husband:

"What's her name?"

"Callas."

"Spell it," she ordered.

Many people like that could mean the end of Callas. But I wouldn't know offhand where to find another single one right now.

OFF-STAGE — In a celebrated Chicago incident, opera singer Maria Callas vents her wrath at a process server with a passion some critics say she fails to attain before the footlights.

Stevenson Supports Pre-Summit Confab

NEW YORK (UP)—Adlai Stevenson voiced support last night for an East-West summit conference on world armament control, but agreed with the Eisenhower administration that the conference should be preceded by lower-level talks.

Stevenson, former Democratic presidential candidate, took part in a transatlantic radio discussion with Hugh Gaitskell, British Labor party leader, and Pierre Mendes-France, former French premier. The transcribed program was aired via CBS' Radio Beat network show.

Stevenson said an East-West agreement on one point alone—discontinuing hydrogen weapons test with suitable inspection provisions—would relieve "the most terrifying aspect of our contemporary scene."

While he favors a summit meeting, he said, the Western nations should get together beforehand and decide on their joint position in order to present a solid front against the Soviet Union at such a meeting.

Both Mndes-France and Gaitskell agreed that a summit conference is advisable.

Rhee Government Sets House Election May 3

SEOUL, Korea (UP) — The government today tentatively set a general election for the House of Representatives May 3.

The present house has 203 seats, with President Syngman Rhee's Liberal party holding 131 of them. Because of the population increase since the last election in May 1954, the next House will have 233 members.

3 Hecklers Halt Macmillan's Talk, Call Him Traitor

LONDON (UP) — Three hecklers burst from under the platform and interrupted Pime Minister Harold Macmillan last night as he spoke to a conservative party meeting.

The hecklers, a girl and two young men, poked through the boards and began shouting such slogans as "NATO makes Britain a satellite of the Yankees" and "Keep Britain free."

One told the Prime Minister that "you are a lot of traitors." Macmillan stood silently until ushers ejected the trio.

The hecklers said they were members of the League of Empire Loyalists, a right-wing group which contends that Britain's ties with the North Atlantic Treaty alliance are an unwarranted surrender of sovereignty. They said they hid under the platform for three hours before the meeting began.

Mother, 10, Son Placed in Separate Homes

SAN JOSE, Calif. (UP) — Santa Clara County juvenile authorities said today a 10½-year-old child mother and her son have been placed in separate foster homes.

The baby was born Jan. 28 by Caesarian section. The girl's name has not been reported.

"She was quite childlike in her relation with the baby," said Sister Ann, a Roman Catholic nun at the hospital where the baby was born. "She thought the baby was funny and just grinned at it.

"About all she said was that it didn't look like her."

The father has not been identified.

Makes Fortune as Hollywood Nose-Bobber

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK (INS) — Some women are born beautiful. Some women are made beautiful. Some women live laughingly with what nature refused to give them. Might say, they just don't give a sham.

"They're the ones I wouldn't touch — the ones who were born ugly, but who don't care," said Dr. Robert A. Franklyn of Hollywood.

"If they're ugly, and they don't mind being ugly, they're the best adjusted of us all."

CHANGE SHAPE

But there aren't many girls with such equable natures, and that is why Dr. Franklyn is a nose-bobber, face - lifter, chest surgeon and apprentice millionaire.

"Women are coming around more every year to the realization that it is no more dangerous or deceitful to change the shape of your nose than it is to get your teeth capped.

"Of course, operating in Hollywood is even bigger business than anywhere else. Hollywood is the place where beauty is so important that a plastic surgeon can even do a big business in taking the bags from under the eyes."

PROCEDURE SIMPLE

The circle - removing process is a "simple procedure," as Dr. Franklyn described it, requiring only a few minutes. Movie starlets begin undergoing it about the age of 25.

"Nose bobbing used to be something women whispered about — large operation, big deal, don't tell mother. Well, now it's the commonest operation in beauty surgery. It's shorter than a trip to the dentist. Fifteen minutes and you've got a new nose."

The doctor, ex-husband of Vanessa Brown, added that Hollywood movie people who come to him for plastic transformations "cut him dead" in public . . . figuring that association with him is an admission of homeliness - made - good.

"You can estimate the number of big names who have bobbed noses and lifted faces by watching me at a party." He shrugged. "I can hardly find anyone to talk to.

Face - lifting is the second commonest beauty operation, and in movie city, where great - grandmothers dread to grow old, some film stars get their "tightening up" about age 30-ish. The average number of face - lifts to a career, he estimates, is about two to a customer.

However, some famous grandmas like the lifts so much that they return to his Sunset Boulevard clinic for fifth and sixth operations.

Although women are Dr. Franklyn's forte, by virtue of long association with their Hollywoodian problems, about one-third of his patients now are men. Usually, men want either "to get their floppy ears pinned back, or to build out receding chins which make them look weak."

And now that television is so successful as a medium for politicians, claims Dr. Franklyn, many of the most distinguished chins you see being led with are his.

Trolley Tracks Laid Near Maine Highway

Workmen are spiking down a half mile of rails beside U.S. Route 1 in Kennebunkport. The rails will give trolley enthusiasts a chance to ride old-fashioned open cars at the Seashore Electric Railway Museum.

The two cars to be used came from Connecticut. On exhibition at the museum are 60 cars of various types—from the United States, Canada and Great Britain. A New Zealand cable car may soon be added.

Eye Obstacles Along Seaway

Experts in Agriculture See Need to Improve Route for Full Benefits

WASHINGTON (INS) — Opening of the St. Lawrence Seaway next spring will tap a vast new market for midwestern farmers but agriculture department experts expect the route will need more improvement before its full benefits are realized.

The waterway will connect the half the nation's farm products—American midwest — source of with every major port in the world. But the commodities stand to meet several bottlenecks en route to foreign markets.

A statement in the department's official publication, "Agricultural Marketing" says the most important obstacle will be ice.

The Seaway will be clogged with ice four months of every year, forcing midwestern producers to rely during the winter on rail and truck transportation.

Another bottleneck is the Welland Canal between Lake Erie and Lake Ontario. Its complicated system of locks will permit only 28 ships a day to pass—14 in each direction.

After midwest grain passes through the canal, it may have to be transferred to an ocean-going ship for transport overseas. Many of the ocean vessels now in operation are too big to pass through the Seaway channels.

Aircraft Firm Demonstrates Automatic Plant

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The automatic factory has arrived, and the things it makes may include headaches for both labor and management.

Push-button production on a small scale was demonstrated here Tuesday by an aircraft company. Perforated tapes and electronics replace the human element in this system, designed to save labor.

How much labor saving the nation's economy can withstand is a question on which both company and union officials are understandibly cagey. But both concede that automation is developing far more rapidly than most people realize.

Three machine tools — for milling, drilling and boring — operate simultaneously and automatically through an electric control panel.

One man, without previous machinist's training, can controll the machines.

Manpower figures were conspicuously lacking, but a company spokesman said this system will save three to five times the labor and time heretofore required to produce a part or component for an aircraft or a missile.

William Brainard, chief engineer for Kearney & Trecker, said five machines in a production line could save from $150,000 to $600,000 a year, depending on the number of parts produced.

The Canary Islands were named for their many large dogs from the Latin "canis" for "dog."

Scotland Yard's Top Sleuth Will Lecture at MSU

LONDON (AP) — To Scotland Yard's top detective, murder is a simple affair. Cases almost always run strictly to form.

"The finger nearly always points to some obvious suspect — a jealous husband, deserted lover or angry rival. After that it's simply a job of collecting evidence."

Of the 50 to 60 murders in London each year only about three or four remain unsolved.

Hatherill grinned:

"That Sherlock Holmes stuff is child's play compared with the way we operate nowadays," he said in a rare interview.

The 60-year-old, affable mannered veteran is boss of the 1,200 detectives who make up London's Criminal Investigation Department (CID).

TO VISIT U.S.

Soon he is going to the United States to lecture American lawmen on how Britain's unarmed police wage their battle against crime — and usually win it.

One stop will be at East Lansing, where he'll lecture at Michigan State University.

"We can handle things without that," he declared firmly. "A gunman only has a limited amount of ammunition. When it runs out we get him."

But in his 38 years as a cop he has pounded a beat. His job has taken him all over Europe on the track of international criminals from Spain to the Russian frontier.

For five years he was head of the murder squad and personally investigated about 60 killings. He figures he solved them all.

Two years ago he delivered a lecture series at Western Reserve University in Cleveland. It was so popular he was invited back.

On this trip, which he starts March 25, Hatherill will also lecture at Toledo, as well as at Michigan State University.

SCARED OF GUNS

Once he went out unarmed to face a gunman wanted for shooting a policeman. As he faced the trapped man along came a posse of police who had been specially issued with firearms.

"I think I was more scared at the sight of policemen blazing away than I was by the criminal."

The stern British penalties against carrying firearms are usually enough to scare crooks away from guns. "They know if we catch them armed they'll go to jail for a very long time."

Under a law passed since World War II a man can be arrested for possession of even such weapons as a blackjack or a razor.

JUVENILE PROBLEM

Biggest problem now for police in London — as in so many other cities — is the alarming upsurge in juvenile crime. The "Teddy Boy" gangs that rove the city wreaking destruction and violence are Hatherill's number one headache.

"But we're keeping on top of it," he said. "We find that although crime may increase detection methods improve to cope with it."

West Is Corny, Too

PALISADE, Colo. (AP) — Palisade in western Colorado is a long way from the Midwest corn belt, but farmer Fred Maurer grew cornstalks 15 feet tall. He calls it tamale corn because the husks are used to wrap tamales, a Mexican delicacy made of crushed corn and minced meat.

Digging Reveals Size of Church in Salzburg

SALZBURG — Excavations now under way have supplied evidence that the Salzburg Cathedral in Austria was the largest built in that style north of the Alps. Digging started this year under the cathedral—the five—nave Romanesque structure in Salzburg, erected by St. Virgil in 767-774. Only a few Italian or French cathedrals of the period equalled the size of the ancient Salzburg church which, after several conflagrations, was razed to the ground in 1498. Excavation of parts of the foundation and the discovery of valuable items have cast new light on its historical importance.

Guatemala's main industry is farming, corn the main crop.

Girl Scouts Try Hand at Pie

Brownie Troop Sure of Cooking Skill Uses Hardest Recipe

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

Homemaking has been an important part of the Girl Scout program ever since it started in March 1912. Three generations later — in 1958 — Girl Scouts of all ages are still learning to cook and bake and loving it.

In the Juliette Low house in Savannah, Georgia, where Mrs. Low started scouting 46 years ago, the kitchen is a huge room in the basement. Here the food was prepared and sent upstairs to the formal dining room on a dumb waiter. Cooking and serving food was a time-consuming job.

Today that same basement kitchen has been modernized and fitted with every convenience for troops of Girl Scouts to prepare and serve meals for their meetings. And their knowledge of cooking grows with every experience.

The theme for Girl Scout Week this year is "You Can Count on Her." You can count on the Girl Scout in your family to want to show off her cooking skill. The national office has put out three lemon pie fillings to be used by girls of varying ages.

The Brownies in the picture with this article thought they were good enough cooks to use the most advanced recipe. Their leaders, Mrs. Vern McCracken and Mrs. Paul Maddox, thought so too. They met last week at Mrs. McCracken's home and turned out a lemon pie that would be a credit to any cook, young or old.

Crumb Pie Shell

1½ cups of graham cracker crumbs (16 crackers, or from package of crumbs)
⅓ cup softened butter or margarine
¼ cup sugar

Crush crackers between sheets of wax paper, or in a plastic or paper bag. Measure, in an 8 inch pie plate, thoroughly mix crumbs, butter and sugar. Reserve ¼ cup crumb mixture. Press remainder in an even layer on sides and bottom of pie plate. Chill well, about 1 hour, before filling.

For youngsters, aged about seven to nine years, the Brownie Scout lemon filling is suggested.

Take 1 package of instant lemon-pudding mix and 2 cups cold milk. Combine pudding and milk in bowl. Beat until smooth, following directions on pudding package. Pour into pie shell. Decorate top with reserved crumb mixture. Chill until serving time. Serves 6.

Sub-teen girls from about 10 to 14 years old may enjoy trying a more difficult lemon pie filling:

1 egg
1 (14 ounce) can sweetened condensed milk
½ cup lemon juice
1 teaspoon grated lemon rind or ¼ teaspoon lemon extract

Beat egg until frothy. Add remaining ingredients and stir until mixture thickens. Pour into crumb shell. Decorate top with reserved crumb mixture. Chill one hour. The pie will serve 6 people.

¾ cup sugar
4 tablespoons lemon juice
2 egg yolks
4½ tablespoons flour
1 cup water
1 tablespoon butter
½ teaspoon salt

Meringue:

3 whites (from eggs in filling)
3 tablespoons sugar

Mix sugar and flour. Add hot water, cook until thick. Beat yolks of eggs and stir into mixture. Add lemon juice, butter and salt. Fill shell. Beat egg whites until foamy—add sugar. Beat until whites hold shape. Spread on pie filling so meringue touches crust all around. Brown in oven at 300 degrees F. (about 15 minutes) until meringue is brown.

Pickled eggs are good to include in an evening snack when there are men present!

Slivered Almonds Lend Elegance to Fish Dish

It's a meatless Wednesday and what to serve that's different and tasty? A colorful ring of Salmon Amandine will do the trick, we're sure. Here's how it's made:

Combine 1 can (10½ ounces) condensed cream of celery soup, 1-3 cup milk, one 8-ounce can flaked salmon, drained, and ¼ cup slivered toasted almonds. Heat thoroughly. Blend 3 cups hot cooked rice with 2 tablespoons butter or margarine and 2 tablespoons minced parsley. Arrange in a ring on a warm platter. Pour salmon-celery mixture in center. Top with a sprinkling of paprika or additional minced parsley if desired. Serve to four people.

Try chopped celery and cucumber in egg-salad mixtures.

Wine Glamorizes Ice Cream Sauce

To transform the commonplace into a delicacy, as if by a magic wand, try this sauce the next time you serve ice cream. Like crowning Gina Lolobrigida with a diamond tiara, this easy-to-make delight tops that always-popular-dessert ice cream with sparkle and zest.

¾ cup dark corn syrup
¾ cup (firmly packed) brown sugar
1-3 cup sherry wine
2 tablespoons cream
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
Dash of salt
½ cup finely chopped salted peanuts

Combine all ingredients except nuts in a saucepan; bring to a boil, then simmer, uncovered, for 10 minutes, stirring frequently. Remove from heat. Cool to room temperature (1 hour or longer) before seving. Spoon sauce over ice cream and sprinkle chopped nuts over all.

Leftover sauce may be stored in the refrigerator; set container in a pan of warm water to bring to proper consistency before serving. Makes about one and two-thirds cups. Delicious over vanilla, toasted almond, maple nut or coffee ice cream.

For Fresh Broccoli

Saute a minced clove of garlic in 2 tablespoons olive oil. Blend in rolled anchovies from a 2-ounce can and a few drops fresh lemon juice. Simply delicious over cooked fresh broccoli (4 to 5 servings).

WHEAT GERM BROWNIES — These Wheat Germ Brownies are all things a good brownie should be — moist, fudgey, somewhat chewy, delicious! In addition, wheat germ makes them rich in protein, B vitamins, iron and other essential nutrients.

Wheat Germ Surprise Taste

These brownies are the best possible for more reasons than their moist almost chewy texture and generous amount of crunchy walnuts. They contain a built-in surprise—a bonus of protein, B vitamins, iron and other essential nutrients.

The ingredient that's responsible for providing this extra amount of good nutrition is wheat germ, a cereal made from the part of the wheat kernel where most of the food value is concentrated.

It's so easy to increase the food value of favorite cooky recipes by substituting wheat germ for a quarter, a half or sometimes even all of the flour as indicated in this special brownie recipe:

Wheat Germ Brownies

3 1-ounce squares unsweetened chocolate
4 tablespoons (½ stick) butter
2 large eggs
1 cup granulated sugar
1 cup wheat germ
1 cup chopped walnuts
1 teaspoon vanilla

Start heating oven to 350 degrees. Grease an 8-inch square pan. Melt chocolate and butter over low heat or hot water. Cool. Beat eggs until light, adding sugar gradually. Add chocolate mixture and stir until blended. Add wheat germ and walnuts. Mix well. Stir in vanilla.

Pour batter into prepared pan and spread evenly. Bake 30 to 35 minutes. Cool. Cut into squares. Frost with Chocolate Icing, if desired. Makes 16 brownies.

Chocolate Icing

Melt 1 1-ounce square unsweetened chocolate and 1 tablespoon butter over low heat or hot water. Blend in about 1 tablespoon warm water. Beat in 1 cup sifted confectioners' sugar or enough to make the consistency desired.

Use sirloin, club or porterhouse steak for broiling, allowing ½ to ½ pound of meat for each serving.

Daisy Salad Formed From Deviled Eggs

Eggs are considerably lower in price than they were a few months ago, the Department of Agriculture reports, because it's natural for hens to pick up egg-laying enthusiasm with the approach of spring.

For eye-appeal as well as taste, try using eggs to make a Daisy Salad. Hard boil eggs and cut each egg crosswise about a quarter inch thick. Remove the yolks and mix with mayonnaise, mustard, salt and peper. Stretch out each egg white to resemble the petal of a daisy and make a mound of the yolk to represent the center of the "daisy." Strips of green pepper make stems and leaves.

Sherry Wine Puts Zing Into Broiled Grapefruit

To broil grapefruit halves for first course or dessert; Sprinkle each half with Sherry. (For the sweet tooth, stir 1 teaspoon sugar into sherry). Dot each half with 1 teaspoon butter.

Place grapemruit on broiler rack, broil 15 to 20 minutes or until fruit browns delicately and is heated through. Or, if preferred, heat grapefruit in a moderately hot oven the same lenght of time. Serve hot.

Pretzels Add Crunch to Mushroom Meatloaf

Once in a new or blue moon comes an exciting variation of that good old family standby, the filling and nourishing meat loaf.

Here it is, the meat loaf stretched to appetizing goodness with crisp and crunchy pretzel crumbs, and guaranteed to provide a hearty main dish for a big-eating family of 6 or for company fare. The pretzel crumbs are the new but not secret ingredient and the mushrooms add a flavor and elegance all their own.

It's easy to put together and can be cooked ahead of time and kept warm while you quickly prepare a frozen or canned vegetable, fix a salad, and heat brown 'n' serve rolls or bake refrigerated biscuits. If the herbs are not handy, use a half-teaspoon of poultry seasoning. The monosodium glutamate makes the flavor difference.

If your family are barbecue fans — and who isn't? — pour an 8-oz. can of tomato sauce spiked with a half teaspoon of Tabasco over the loaf when about half done and baste it occasionally. Add a little water if the sauce becomes too thick.

Pretzel-Mushroom Meat Loaf

1 egg
1 cup evaporated milk
1½ pounds ground beef
1 cup pretzel crumbs (17 thin twisted 3-inch pretzels)
1 medium onion, 1 4-oz. can of mushroom slices, finely chopped
¾ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon Accent (monosodium glutamate)
⅛ teaspoon each thyme, savory marjoram (optional)

Heat evaporated milk and egg in mixing bowl; add ground beef and mix well. Add pretzel crumbs and remaining ingredients; mix with fork until blended. Form into a loaf in greased shallow baking pan. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees) 1 hour. Serve hot. 6 servings. (Note: pretzel crumbs should be coarsely ground in a vegetable shredder or crushed coarsely by a rolling pin or large tumbler with the pretzels between sheets of foil or waxed paper.)

Souffle Type Dish Uses Bread, Cheese, Eggs

Preheat your oven to 350 degrees. Then grate a cup of sharp cheddar or Swiss cheese. Butter 8 slices of day old bread and cut the slices in diagonals. Butter an oblong casserole and cover the bottom with some of the bread slices, then sprinkle with ⅓ cup of the grated cheese. Place triangles of the buttered bread around the dish to form a crown and arrange the remaining pieces on top of the cheese. Sprinkle the rest of the cheese over the second layer of bread.

In a bowl, combine 2 eggs, 1½ cups milk, ¼ teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon paprika and beat until well mixed. Pour over the bread and cheese and bake about 25 minutes, or until the egg is set. Serves 4-6.

Gourmets Like This One

Whether you use frozen or fresh fish fillets, this recipe will be a standard in your recipe collection. The secret is sherried soup sauce! Arrange 1 pound fish fillets in a single layer in shallow baking dish. Season with black pepper. Blend 1 can (10½ ounces) canned condensed mushroom soup with 2 tablespoons sherry; pour over fillets. Sprinkle ½ cup shredded cheese over top. Bake in a moderate oven (375 degrees) for 45 minutes before serving to 4.

Mystery Mounds Tempt

When all is said and done, the mark of the clever cook is to serve something unexpected — a complete surprise among the genuinely good and expected things that constitute her cooking.

Familiar enough, and certainly well-liked, are bananas, sweet potatoes and gingersnaps. Nothing unexpected there. But put the three together in a completely new dish, and surprise is already on its way. Mashed sweet potatoes lightly flavored with orange rind come to table crisply coated with crushed gingersnaps — and in the center is the surprise. It's a sturdy-sized piece of ripe banana, completely concealed by its sweet potato nest.

The pleasure of this surprise flavor in the center of the sweet potato is considerable. Altogether, this is a fine vegetable dish for any time, but for right now, when things need brightening at table, it's particularly pertinent.

Banana Mystery Mounds

2 pounds sweet potatoes
1 tablespoon butter or margarine
1 teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon black pepper
¼ teaspoon orange rind
¼ cup sugar
1 egg beaten
3 medium bananas
2 cups crushed gingersnap cookies

Cook sweet potatoes; peel; mash; and add the next 6 ingredients and mix well. Divide mixture into 8 portions. Cut bananas crosswise into pieces 2 inches in length and place in center of each portion of sweet potato mixture.

Roll sweet potato - banana mounds in crushed gingersnap crumbs and cover completely with crushed mixture. Place on baking sheet and bake in 375 degree F. oven 12 to 15 minutes. Makes 8 servings.

Cottage Cheese New in Deep Sea Dish

Start by sauteing 3 tablespoons each of chopped onion and chopped celery, and 2 tablespoons of chopped green pepper. Make a cream sauce by adding 1½ tablespoons of flour, ½ cup milk and ½ can of cream of mushroom soup, with salt and pepper to taste. When this is smooth and thick, remove from heat and fold in ½ cup of cottage cheese.

Have 1 cup of canned peas and ½ cup canned tuna and 1 cup crushed potato chips. In a buttered casserole arrange layers of cream sauce, peas, tuna and potato chips. Bake at 350 degrees for 30-35 minutes.

Use English Muffin Base

Dress up a ham and egg breakfast by serving a gourmet favorite, eggs benedict. To prepare, place a broiled slice of ham on half a toasted English muffin, top with a poached egg, then cover with a creamy hollandaise sauce.

Don't Just Cook 'em Dress Them Up!

1 can (6 ounces) broiled sliced mushrooms
Water
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 package (10 ounces) frozen mixed vegetables

Drain mushrooms over a measure; add enough water to make 1 cup. Melt butter in an 8-inch skillet over low heat; add onion and cook until yellowed, stirring often. Meanwhile cook frozen mixed vegetables according to package directions using mushroom liquid and water mixture, but adding no salt.

Drain vegetables. Add drained mushrooms to onion and heat. Mix vegetables with onions and mushrooms and reheat if necessary. Makes 5 to 6 servings.

Roller Skating Party Means Thrills, Spills for Young Set

Roller skating parties are always a No. 1 favorite among young people. Here, a group from Presbyterian churches in this area seems eager to get those skates laced up for an evening of wholesome recreation at the annual skate sponsored by Pontiac's First Presbyterian Church. From left to right are Paul Tremper, Mary Wood, Ronald Newman and Ponny Morris.

Happens to the best of us at one time or another, doesn't it? But Mariann Boyt can still smile as three companions (left to right) Douglas Barber, Ruth Jackson and Richard Daugherty come to her rescue. These occasional tumbles always manage to upset our dignity as well as our equilibrium.

Soap Helps Out in the Workshop

Every man should keep soap handy in his workshop. It seems that a grinding wheel, for instance, needs an occasional diet of soap to keep it working smoothly.

When a wheel becomes clogged with particles of aluminum, bronze, or whatever is being ground, it can cause damage.

To prevent this, first grind a bar of soap into the spinning wheel. The soap fills the abrasive's pores, yet doesn't affect the wheel's cutting action.

Presley Stands as Symbol of Destruction

Elvis Cult Attracts Unadjusted Teenagers

By EUGENE GILBERT
President of the Gilbert Youth Research Co.

Is he (or she) a good student? A joiner? A church goer? A hero worshipper? Does he differ in any way from the average Perry Como or Frank Sinatra fan?

In short, is the rabid Elvis fan all shook up emotionally, mentally, socially and academically?

To get the answers to these questions we had to depart somewhat from our usual approach of public opinion research and delve into a scientific area known as motivational research.

Usually, our surveys try to determine how many think what about whom or about what.

A STEP FURTHER

This time we went a step further and wanted to know why.

Why do some teenagers worship Elvis and others lean toward the conventional type singer?

Our motivational research department, using the survey technique, sought the whys and the wherefores of Elvis worship.

This is how we went about it. We selected about 100 teenagrs at random and questioned them extensively on three areas of their daily lives.

First, we wanted to know about their extra-curricular activities, their hobbies, their interests.

THEIR SCHOLARSHIP

Next, we asked them about their scholastic achievements. Do they rank in the upper, middle or lower third of their class?

Third, we asked them about the future. To what do they aspire after high school.

Presley fans, to begin with, are not joiners. Only 33 per cent of his most enthusiastic admirers professed membership in a club, society or other group operated by their school, church or community.

Fans of Frank Sinatra, Perry Como and Pat Boone scored higher—about 50 per cent—when it came to joining.

They also seemed to do better in school, receiving grades at least 1½ times higher than the Presley followers. The average school grade for an Elvis man (or woman) was C, compared with B or better for the Sinatra-Como-Boone faction.

Presley fans were shockingly unconcerned about the future. A large number had no answer when asked what he or she aspired to become in life.

At least 30 per cent had never given it a thought and didn't want to be reminded of it.

Sinatra, Como and Boone addicts had a somewhat better score, but not much.

In the nether world between childhood and manhood, Elvis Presley emerges as a symbol of destruction. Presley is unacceptable to the adult world, and to the unadjusted teenager, he seems to mock its cultural taboos.

Through an alliance of the spirit with Presley, the teenager is able to act out his infantile desires of striving for power through the destruction of adult standards and symbols. He can satisfy his need to belong by uniting with other youngsters of similar aim.

This, then, is the picture that has emerged of the rabid Elvis Presley fan from our motivational research department.

Marilyn Louise Glennie and Leslie David Lee exchanged wedding vows Sunday in Seventh Day Adventist Church. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James F. Glennie, and the bridegroom's parents are the Leslie G. Lees.

MR. and MRS. LESLIE D. LEE

Marilyn Louise Glennie Speaks Marriage Vows

Baskets of white chrysanthemums and gladioli banked the altar of Seventh-Day Adventist Church Sunday evening when Marilyn Louise Glennie and Leslie David Lee of Salisbury, Md., were united in marriage. Elder James O. Cunnington performed the ceremony before 250 guests.

Parents of the bride are the James Forrest Glennies of Montroyal avenue. Mr. and Mrs. Leslie G. Lee of Northville are the bridegroom's parents.

The bride chose a floor-length gown of Dupioni silk featuring a full, gathered skirt which ended in a chapel train, long sleeves and a rounded neckline outlined in Alencon lace and iridescent sequin trim.

She wore a lace bonnet headpiece which held a silk fingertip veil. The bridal bouquet was composed of lilies, stephanotis and ivy.

Sharon Glennie of Clarkston acted as her cousin's maid of honor. Nancy Litchfield, a cousin of the bride from Washington, D. C., Mary Louise Lee, sister of the bridegroom from Flint, Sharon Savedge and Barbara Schwalm were bridesmaids.

All were gowned in sky blue silk shantung sheath dresses with full nylon tulle overskirts. The honor attendant carried a nosegay bouquet of white carnations with yellow daisies and the bridesmaids carried nosegays of yellow carnations.

ASSIST BRIDEGROOM

To receive guests at a reception in the church parlor Mrs. Glennie chose a turquoise silk sheath dress with white accessories and a pink rose corsage. Mrs. Lee's choice was a cocoa brown silk sheath dress with pink accessories and a corsage of pink roses.

Before leaving on a trip through the Southern states the new Mrs. Lee changed to a navy two-piece dress with navy and white accessories, an orange sailor-type hat and lilies from her bridal bouquet. The couple will live in Salisbury, Md.

Mrs. Lee attended Washington Missionary College in Washington, D. C., and Michigan State University. The bridegroom was graduated from Michigan State University.

Teen Girls Acceptable Chaperons

Fiancee May Visit Widower if They Are Present

By EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post: I am engaged to a widower who has two teenaged daughters. I am 35 and have never been married. My fiance and I do not agree on a matter of propriety and would like you to settle the problem.

"He feels that it would be perfectly acceptable for me to remain overnight or spend a weekend at his house in the country, with his daughters acting as chaperons. I do not feel this would be right. May I please have your opinion on this matter?"

Answer: I do not think that anyone will criticize you for spending a weekend chaperoned by your fiance's daughters.

"Dear Mrs. Post: My sister will be married soon. The reception is to be held at our house. Mother would like to know if it would be proper to state the length of time guests are expected to stay at the wedding reception. For example: 2 to 5.

"She thinks if nothing is said, guests will stay on and on. I have been told that this is incorrect on wedding invitations. Your opinion on this matter will be appreciated."

Answer: When your sister changes into her going-away clothes and leaves the house with her husband this is the signal that the reception is over and the guests will all leave.

"Dear Mrs. Post: While shopping downtown the other day my husband and I encountered a neighbor, and, as she did not have her car, we offered to drive her home. Upon reaching the car my husband opened the door and I got in, taking the middle seat.

"Mrs. X got in next and sat near the door. After we let Mrs. X off, my husband told me that I was very discourteous and that I should have let her get in first. Will you please give your opinion?"

Answer: Your husband was right. I can't imagine why you got in before Mrs. X., even if by doing so you took the uncomfortable middle seat.

Fight Teen on Moral, Not Physical Basis

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

One Friday Mr. W. left on a business trip. His 15-year-old son chose the following morning to flatly reject his mother's authority.

She had reminded him that as his grandparents were coming to dinner, he should be home in time to share it with them. Nick said he couldn't because his date wanted to sit through two showings of the Elvis Presley movie they were going to.

An argument developed. It ended with Nick's shouting, "What can you do if I don't show for dinner? Come down to the theater and yank me out of my seat?"

After a long moment, his mother said, "No, that would embarrass us both. But I'll tell you what I can do. I can set your plate at the table. I can put your meat and vegetables on it. That will be taking care of my responsibility to you. Whether you decide to take care of yours to me is your problem."

Nick got home for dinner.

One day our adolescent child may challenge you to control him by physical force. He will invite you to this competition in muscular power because he knows his muscular power may be equal to yours.

What he must learn is that his moral power is still unequal to yours.

So if he invites you to the muscle contest, you'll be foolish to enter it. Indeed, by engaging in the wrestling match with the child who's just yelled, "Try and stop me!" you may forfeit future influence over him.

For you are permitting him to make your superior muscular strength the justification of your parental authority, and as his muscles grow stronger and stronger, he will see your authority as correspondingly weaker and weaker.

We all know this is true. And that is why we feel so helpless and driven when we let the older child trick us into physical contest with him. We foresee the day when his body's strength will be greater than ours and all his respect for our physically based authority is over.

So our answer is always changing a contest with the adolescent child from a physical one to a moral one. We reject all invitations to match our physical strength against his.

Instead of accepting Nick's demand that we prove our muscles are better than his, we invite the child to match our sense of responsibility.

'Like Father, Like Son' Can Bring Bad Results

Boy Often Copies His Dad's Failings as Well as Good Qualities

By RUTH MILLETT

Memo to fathers of sons: Here's a letter from a mother that might possibly remind you that a son is more likely to do as his father does than as his father or mother says he should do.

The letter is a comment on a recent column in which I listed a few things mothers could do to help their sons grow into men who would make good husbands and fathers.

This mother writes: "It is all very well for you to remind mothers of their responsibility for rearing sons who will some day be good husbands, but you should have added a P.S. for fathers. I'm sure many fathers would have benefitted since my own husband reads your column even more faithfully than I do.

"I have tried for years to instill in my son the very qualities you mention in your article—but do you know what his answer usually is? 'Why should I do it? Dad doesn't.'

"How do you get around that answer when it happens to be the truth?"

Well, you can hope your husband doesn't miss this column, for there's a chance he may realize this letter could have been written by his wife.

But whether he does or not you can say to your son:

"Your father has so many good qualities I don't have to pretend to you that he is perfect. So the fact that he neglects to do a thing doesn't mean it isn't important for you to learn to do it. Nor does the fact that he may do something without thinking make it the thing for you to do."

There's nothing disloyal in that kind of statement. And it might help your son to see that "like father, like son" is a good thing only when the son chooses to copy his father's good qualities instead of his faults.

But Marketing Requires Some Knowhow

Hobby Can Blossom Into Business

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

High prices and high taxes have made it necessary or helpful for many women to add to the family income. A few years ago I talked with the Women's Division of the Department of Commerce of the state of New York concerning their work in advising women as to how to best market products such as food, handcrafts, sewing and so forth, which they themselves had created. I was amazed to learn how many hobbies had turned into part-time or full-time businesses.

The women who were successful in turning a talent into a business at home either had an article which was superior to others in its category, or one which filled a special need. Usually these women had gotten their start by word of mouth advertising.

They had become mildly famous among their friends for a certain dish or sauce or salad dressing. Their friends probably asked if the hostess would make some and sell it to them or the hostess offered to give them some.

Perhaps a woman made some special article which was useful and yet especially attractive. Before she knows it she was making this for others. The process of advertising and marketing even a most lovely or unique product takes some knowhow.

In some instances you must be certain that there is a market for your product in the neighborhood in which you live. For instance, it would be foolish to plan to have a lunchroom in your home unless there are business firms nearby which would supply you with customers.

I am interested in helping women who wish to begin a business at home because I know that many women need this income and cannot go out into the business world because of small children. Also it is very satisfying to have tangible proof of the value of a creative urge.

If you would like to have my leaflet which gives you suggestions from the Women's Division of the Department of Commerce of the state of New York, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for the leaflet No. 73 "Want a Business of Your Own?" Address Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

Dear Abby....

You're Right, It's Wrong

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am a girl of 15 and was raised strict and decent. My parents always told me to come to them with my questions about sex and life. I always have, but they don't tell me everything I want to know.

ABBY

I go with a boy my age who is very nice. He knows everything and when I ask him certain questions about sex and life he explains it much better than my parents.

My parents say there is nothing "dirty" about sex, yet when I talk to my boy friend about it something tells me I shouldn't. Do you think it's wrong to discuss these things with my boy freind?

CONFUSED

DEAR CONFUSED: That "something" that tells you not to discuss "sex and life" with your boy friend is plain common sense. The facts concerning sex and life should come from your parents, a doctor or a mature and experienced friend.

DEAR ABBY: I don't agree with the answer you gave about "tipping." When eating out, your food is all you should have to pay for. The management pays the waitress.

Chances are the waitress makes more money than the people who eat there. I'm a nurse, and I don't expect a tip for pills, shots, a glass of water or a bath I give. That is my job and waiting on table is hers.

NON-TIPPER

DEAR NON-TIPPER: Most waitresses (and waiters) depend on the tips because their basic wages are amazingly small.

DEAR ABBY: My husband is a very handsome CPA but experience has taught me that he can resist anything but temptation. He has a habit of getting involved with his secretaries, and I have forgiven him more times than most wives would have.

He is about ready to get rid of another secretary (same reason) and I now think I should do the interviewing for the next one. He says No. What do you say?

HAD IT

DEAR HAD IT: You wouldn't gain much. It's hard to tell a book by its cover.

DEAR ABBY: I read in your column quite often where wives have a terrible time keeping their husbands home. I have been married for 12 years and my problem is just the opposite. I have a terrible time getting my husband out of the house

I try to get him to go out with some of his friends, bowling or something just once a week, but he won't go anywhere without me. He says when two people are married one should never go any place without the other. Do you agree with him?

MRS. FLYNN

DEAR MRS. FLYNN: In every healthy marriage, the wife should have an outside interest and the husband should have his.

It wouldn't hurt for married couples to part for an evening occasionally for club, lodge, bridge, bowling or what have you. (P. S. But be careful about the "what-have-yous.")

CONFIDENTIAL TO "HARD WORKER": There is no limit to the good a man can do if he doesn't care who gets the credit.

If you have a problem, write to Abigail Van Buren in care of The Pontiac Press. She will be glad to answer your letter. For a personal reply, please enclose a stamped self-addressed envelope.

Do Not Wring Wash 'n' Wear

Here's a good rule of thumb to follow on washday: Never twist or wring wash-and-wear fabrics because such action sets wrinkles.

Instead, hang them dripping wet so that the weight of the water will help to pull the fabric straight. Fingerpress seams, collars, and trimming while still damp.

It's a bit ridiculous to see the kneecap showing below women's dresses or the sack on anything less than slim, narrow hips. Fortunately excellent versions of the sheath for women's figures are offered by the designers for spring.

LAKELAND, Fla.—The sentence which "judge" George Weiss passed down on defendant Billy Martin last June after the Copa party in New York was a $1,000 fine and exile to Kansas City at the bottom of the American League baseball world.

When Martin left the "big town" he said goodbye to his long time guardian Casey Stengel but he wanted the Yankee tribunal to know he would be back. "See you again," Martin told Weiss and the Yankee court.

After five months in Kansas City he was put on parole in custody of the Detroit Tigers and now the 29-year-old scrapper is anxious to start life anew.

Martin has changed jobs from second base to shortstop and his new employers think he is doing right well.

MARTIN SURE OF SELF

Of course Martin himself believes he is going to show his Yankee judges and his critics he can play short with no thanks to them.

Martin goes back to 1955 to point out why everyone thinks he won't be able to play short.

"I came out of the service in 1955 and Casey said he would use me at short for the rest of the season. After just getting out of an Army camp I wasn't exactly in condition to play any position too well. I had a couple of errors at short the first day and my career as a shortstop was over as far as Casey was concerned."

"Funny thing, I wanted to play short very much, but so did McDougald. Gil learned to do the job well and I'm going to do the same thing for the Tigers," he added.

"I think I'll be happier at short because I'm going to prove to myself and to a lot of people that I can do it, and Jack Tighe says he'll stand by me at shortstop."

Ever since he arrived in training camp two weeks before the regular training season, Martin hasn't stopped talking about the World Series which he says will be played in Detroit and Milwaukee.

Familiar Faces, New Uniforms

It's Like Old Homeweek Today for Bengals, A's

LAKELAND, Fla. — It was just like old homeweek in Lakeland today as the Tigers and Kansas City Athletics got together for their first meeting in the Grapefruit circuit.

There were a lot of familiar faces but the uniforms and numbers were different.

Anyone of four former Tiger pitchers, Ned Garver, Duke Maas, Virgil Trucks or rookie John Tsitouris, got their first opportunity to throw against their former teammates in the 1958 exhibition season.

Young Jimmie Small, who celebrated his 21st birthday just last week, and Bill Tuttle, one of the best defensive flychasers in the league, were back in the pastures of Henley Field where a year ago they were the popular names in Tiger trade talks.

The Athletics are convinced that the trade with the Tigers has given them first-division potential.

Kent Hadley, once considered one of the Tigers' brightest first base prospects, has been getting a lot of attention behind Vic Power. The A's also feel that Frank House is going to be a tremendous asset to the team.

House, who was one of the biggest investments ever made by the Tigers when they gave him a bonus of $75,000 in 1949, batted .259 in two different seasons for his highest Major League average.

Maas, the pride of Utica, is slated to take his turn in rotation as one of the Kansas City starters, while Tsitouris from the Tiger farm at Charleston is given a chance to stick as a relief hurler.

President Arnold Johnson doesn't think there will be any trade talks with the Tigers, although he did indicate the hope of picking up a power hitter. The A's gave their best power away when they sent Gus Zernial to Detroit, but Johnson feels that Tuttle's defensive work and Maas as a starter were worth it.

The A's are figuring on the first division, thanks to the Tigers and Yankees, and the Tigers are hoping they do it, of course, at the expense of the Yankees and White Sox.

Tiger Mound Staff Fails Again

SPORTS

White Sox Win, Yanks Held to 1 Hit

NL Trade Brewing

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A pair of home runs hit by a rookie Cincinnati catcher and a statement by San Francisco Manager Bill Rigney gave impetus today to rumors that a trade was in the making between the Redlegs and Giants.

Rigney, at Phoenix, Ariz., said he was sending scout Tom Sheehan to Florida to look into some deals which simmered several weeks ago. Sheehan will be based at Tampa. "Cincinnati's training camp.

The guy who may help swing the deal is Dutch Dotterer, a hard-hitting backstop up from Nashville of the Southern Assn. Dotterer slammed two home runs yesterday as the Redlegs downed the Detroit Tigers 9-7.

The Giants, admittedly weak behind the plate, have made offers for Ed Bailey, the Redlegs' No. 1 receiver. They may be glad No. 2 man who would be the first to settle for Smoky Burgess, the stringer for several other big league clubs.

Burgess probably will be made available if Dotterer continues his robust batting which highlighted yesterday's exhibition schedule, curtailed to four games by rain. In other action, the St. Louis Cards blanked the New York Yankees 6-0, the Chicago White Sox whipped the Pittsburgh Pirates 5-2 and the Los Angeles Dodgers nipped the Milwaukee Braves 4-3. The Cards-Yankees and White Sox-Pirates games were cut short by rain.

Vinegar Bend Mizell and Bob Miller limited the Yanks to one hit—a single by rookie shortstop Fritz Brickell. Bob Turley was battered in a three-inning sting, Bobby Shantz was touched for two runs in two frames while Ryne Duren held St. Louis in the sixth when the rains came.

The White Sox batted around in the seventh and last inning against the Pirates, scoring all their runs. Pinch-hitter Nelson Fox drove in two tallies and Tito Francona, Sherman Lollar and Don Prohovich had one RIB each.

Norm Larker's single scored Bob Lillis with two out in the ninth as the Dodgers picked up their second straight victory. Los Angeles hammered Joe Jay, the Braves' starter, for four hits, including doubles by Lillis and Carl Furillo, in the first two innings. Hank Aaron and Ed Mathews homered for Milwaukee.

Win Titles in Classes C and D to Round Out List of Winners

City League basketball championships for 1958 were all decided today with the Pontiac Police and Auburn 5 & 10 the latest teams to join the elite circle.

The Policemen won the city C[illegible] crown for the 2nd straight year last night with a 63-46 triumph over Bud & Lou's Bar in the best three final at Lincoln [illegible].

Leon Weeks poured 31 points through the hoop to spark the Police quintet to its decisive win. Erinee Deunam starred in defeat with 19 points.

Auburn annexed the city Class D title with a 45-40 victory over the Pontiac Boys Club. Ken McClintock paced Auburn with 16 points while Glenn Ray matched that number for [illegible]sers.

Ted May Wear Special Liner to Avoid Helmet

SARASOTA, Fla. (AP)—Ted Williams may not be planning a fight against an American League ruling that all batters wear protective headgear at the plate.

Although prevented from batting practice because of a slight muscle pull, Ted reportedly has been experimenting with a fibre liner which fits inside the sweat band of the regular cap.

New York Gains Ground on Creighton's Hat Trick

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Dave Creighton has rarely been mentioned in the same breath with Andy Bathgate, Camille Henry and Andy Hebenton, the leading goal scorers for the National Hockey League's New York Rangers.

But the veteran center has been doing a quietly efficient job nevertheless.

Last night, Creighton turned in a resoundingly effective job. He scored all three goals as the Rangers strengthened their hold on second place in the NHL by defeating the Chicago Black Hawks, 3-2.

Creighton's game-winner came at 6:51 of the third period on a rebound of Harry Howell's shot. It was Dave's 14th goal of the year. He has 34 assists. Bobby Hull got both of Chicago's markers.

The triumph enabled the Blueshirts to increase their second place margin to eight points over Detroit and Boston. The Rangers need to pick up five of a possible 10 points in their five remaining games to clinch the runnerup position.

In the only other game, Maurice "The Rocket" Richard scored twice as the Montreal Canadiens whipped the Toronto Maple Leafs 5-3. Henri Richard, Andre Pronovost and Jean Beliveau got the other goals for the Canucks, who have clinched the regular season title. Toronto, in fifth place, remained nine points behind the Bruins and Red Wings.

Redlegs Score 5 Times in 9th to Get 9-7 Verdict

Kuenn, Kaline Waste Homers as Bengals Drop 4th Straight Game

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

LAKELAND, Fla. — Tiger bats have made enough noise during the five exhibition games to date, but there have been very few moments of encouragement from the rookie pitching ranks.

In these five games, the Tigers have pounded out 66 hits but rookie names like Chuck Daniel, Joe Presko, and Bob Bruce, along with reliefers Mickey McDermott and Lou Sleater, have not been able to contain opposing hitters.

After the Tigers took a 6-4 lead going into the 9th inning yesterday, the Cincinnati Redlegs jumped on rookie Chuck Daniel for a walk, two singles and a 2-run homer by catcher Dutch Dotterer to win a 9-7 decision.

It was Dotterer's second homer of the game and it moved Cincinati to a 3-2 mark in the Grapefruit League. The Tigers are now pushing the basement with a 1-4 exhibition record.

Left hander Billy Hoeft started on the mound for the Tigers and after a wild first inning in which the Redlegs scored three runs on four hits and a walk, he settled down and gave up a single in the next two innings.

The big hit for Cincinnati in the opening frame was Roy McMillan's single with the bases loaded.

In the bottom half of the frame, the Tigers came back to tie the score on back-to-back homers by Harvey Kuenn and Al Kaline. Kuenn's blast, which went over the 375 foot mark in deep center field, scored Fran': Bolling ahead of him after Bolling had walked.

There were three men on the base paths but Red Wilson grounded out and Hoeft struck out to end the inning.

Dotterer's first homer in the 4th inning came off rookie Ron Rozman and it gave the Redlegs the lead at 4-3.

Harry Byrd was on the mound when the Ohioans made it 5-3 after Gus Bell's double to score Don Hoak in the 7th, but a pair of doubles by Inman Veal and Kaline brought the count to 5-4.

In the 8th Lou Skizas batted for Veal and drove out a two base hit to score Gail Harris and Tim Thompson and Detroit went into the 9th holding a 6-4 lead with Daniel taking the mound.

Dayton Favored: Seattle, Idaho State Make NCAA

NIT Joins Tourney Scramble

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Basketball's March Madness reaches its whackiest peak tonight with the NIT busting in on the NCAA big college, NCAA small college, and the NAIA in the alphabetical as well as athletic battle for national tournament honors.

The National Invitation Tournament, a 12-team affair that runs in skips and hops at New York's Madison Square Garden until March 22, opens with two of four first round games. St. John's of New York (16-6) faces Butler (16-9) in the opener followed by St. Joseph's of Philadelphia (17-8) against St. Peter's of New Jersey (20-3).

The National Collegiate tournament for small colleges reaches the semifinal stage at Evansville, Ind., with defending champion Wheaton of Illinois playing South Dakota, the same club it bounced in the semis a year ago, and host Evansville meeting St. Michaels of Vermont.

The National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics' tournament at Kansas City heads into the quarter-finals with these pairings: Tennessee State vs. East Texas, Western Illinois vs. Youngstown, Ohio, Coe, Iowa vs. Texas Southern, and West Virginia Wesleyan vs. Georgetown, Ky.

And the National Collegiate tournament for the big schools, underway since Monday, regroups for regionals at Charlotte, N.C., Lexington, Ky., Lawrence, Kan., and San Francisco starting tomorrow after adding Idaho State and Seattle to its 16-team lineup.

Seattle, with All-America Elgin Baylor scoring 26 points and dabbling in playmaking too, crushed Wyoming's Skyline Conference champions 88-51 in the second game of a doubleheader at Berkeley, Calif. Idaho State's Rocky Mountain champions downed the Border champs, Arizona State of Tempe, 72-68 in the first game with the winners advancing to the Far West NCAA regional at San Francisco Friday night.

Pistons Tied; Playoffs Start Saturday

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

These were the last-minute developments as the five-month regular NBA season came to a close last night.

The Royals defeated the Minneapolis Lakers 96-89 enabling them to finish with the same record as Detroit, 33-39. Maurice Stokes, who had 24 points and Jack Twyman, each teamed for three-point plays to lead Cincinnati's late rally.

In a flip of a coin after the game, Rocha won the toss. Rocha's call gave the first game of the best-of-three playoff series to Detroit. It will be played Saturday afternon. The second game will be played at Cincinnati Sunday afternon and the third, if necessary, in Detroit Tuesday night.

Cousy had 13 assists for Boston as the Celtics dropped a 127-125 verdict to the New York Knickerbockers. Cousy's output gave him 463 assists, nine more than Detroit's Dick McGuire. Two free throws by Kenny Sears in the waning seconds won the game for the Knicks.

In the only other game, the Syracuse Nationals took the measure of the Philadelphia Warriors 110-99 in a warmup for their Eastern Division playoff series. The Nationals finished four games ahead of the Warriors, so the first game will be played in Syracuse Saturday night and the second in Philadelphia Sunday night. A deciding game, if necessary, will take place in Syracuse Tuesday night.

No dates have been set for the semifinals which will involve the divisional champions, the Celtics and St. Louis Hawks, against survivors of the initial playoff series.

YOU'RE THE MANAGER

(Fourth of a series)

By BEN OLAN

HARRY CRAFT

Harry Craft, who replaced Lou Boudreau as Kansas City manager last Aug. 7, brought his team home in seventh place. This was one notch higher than when he took over. Craft was rewarded with a one-year contract shortly after the close of the campaign.

Several of the A's triumphs can be attributed to Craft's maneuvers. In the following situation, his strategy helped win the ball game. Would you have done the same thing?

It's the last of the ninth at Kansas City and the A's and Cleveland are deadlocked 3-3. Early Wynn (R) is the Indians' pitcher. Hal Smith opens with a single and is forced at second on Hector Lopez' grounder. Pinch-hitter Irv Noren follows with a double, sending Lopez to thrd. Vic Power is walked intentionally filling the bases. Billy Hunter (R) is the next batter with Gus Zernial (R) on deck.

Would you:

a. Put in a lefthanded pinch-hitter for Hunter?

b. Have Hunter try a squeeze bunt?

c. Let Hunter swing away?

(Other data: Hunter is batting only .195 for the season. But he has hit two homers off Wynn in this game; Tim Thompson and Bob Martyn are the available lefty pinch-hitters.)

NOTES ON THE CAMPS

The Tigers pared their roster of four more players yesterday by sending Tom Yewcic to Ocala, Fla. with the Birmingham team of the Southern Association, and outfielder Ken Walters and first baseman Larry Osborne to Charleston. Bonus rookie infielder George Thomas was sent to the rookie camp at Tigertown.

There were three jerseys with number 25 on the back when the Redlegs arrived in Lakeland yesteday. Gus Bell, Cincinnati slugger, wears 25 and he had identical uniforms made for his twin sons, each with a 25 on the back.

The rookie pitcher who started on the mound for Cincinnati yesterday has a father who is impartial in politics. The elder Wieand named his son Franklin Ted Roosevelt after the two presidents of the same name.

Anti-Trust Clause Is Refuted

WASHINGTON (INS) — Four baseball player representatives today challenged their own attorney and lined up behind legislation which would give professional team sports a flat exemption from anti trust laws.

They disputed the views of attorney J. Norman Lewis who told Rep. Emanuel Celler (D-NY) last week that he supports his bill to to place the business aspects of professional team sports under anti-trust laws.

The measure would also free such phases as the player reserve clause and agreements on territories from anti-trust action so long as they were "reasonably necessary."

The player representatives said in messages to Rep. Kenneth Keating (R-NY) that Lewis did not accurately reflect the views of delegates at a meeting Feb. 8 in Florida.

The four signers were John Antonelli, San Francisco Giants; Harvey Kuenn, Detroit Tigers; James Hegan, then of the Cleveland Indians and since traded to Detroit, and Joseph Demaestri, Kansas City Athletics.

The House Judiciary Committee, of which Celler is chairman and Keating is ranking GOP member, is expected to open hearings on the bill in a few weeks.

Like the four representatives, Keating said he is opposed to the "reasonably necessary" test and added that he will offer an amendment to remove the two words.

Antonelli said "no discussion" was held on inclusion of the phrase. Kuenn and Hegan said "no definite" conclusion was reached. Demaestri explained that he was unable to attend the meetings, but he opposes the clause.

AWWW, COME ON DOWN — This unusual development happened early in the 4th quarter of last night's Pontiac Central-Waterford regional tourney basketball game at Livonia Bentley. Waterford's John Herrington tried a jump shot and the ball bounced high off the rim, oozed over the top of the glass backboard and rolled along the edge where it finally came to rest against the metal rigging. Play was halted for nearly two minutes while officials retrieved the delinquent ball by throwing up another one and knocking it from its perch. Pontiac won the game, 48-42.

Venturi Tops Money List

PENSACOLA, Fla. (AP)—A fledging golf pro who never before had seen the course was the favorite as play started in the $15,000 Pensacola Open tournament today.

He is Ken Venturi, the hottest player on the winter tournament circuit with three victories and top 1958 earnings. The young San Francisco star has won five titles and about $40,000 since he became a professional 15 months ago.

The 26-year-old pro lost a sudden-death playoff yesterday to Bill Casper of Apple Valley, Calif., for the New Orleans Open championship. But the $1,900 runnerup money moved him from second to first place in the PGA money list with a total of $10,262 since the start of the year.

DETERMINATION — Jim Devine of Waterford (27) seems determined to dribble the ball toward the basket for a score and Pontiac's Harrison Munson (50) looks equally determined to stop him. Pontiac scored seven straight points at the start of the 4th quarter to break a 32-32 tie and went on to gain a 48-42 win to eliminate the Skippers from the Class A regional tournament at Livonia Bentley.

State Mat Meet Tomorrow

Pontiac Central will be among eight Oakland County schools represented in the state wrestling tournament starting tomorrow afternoon at the University of Michigan Intramural Sports Building at Ann Arbor.

Hazel Park, Farmington, Southfield, Kimball and Dondero of Royal Oak, Berkley and Oak Park are other schools with contestants in the two-day session.

Preliminaries will be held Friday afternoon and evening in order to cut down the list of 144 individuals. More eliminations are set for Saturday afternoon and the finals in all classes will be Saturday night.

Team trophies will be awarded the champions and runnerups. Medals will be given the 1st four individual finishers in each weight class.

Capt. Jim Marsh and 95-pounder Don Margherini will be carrying the Farmington colors. Dave Butler, 95, Larry Selinsky, 154 and heavyweight Dave Marsh will form the Southfield contingent.

Pontiac Pressed to Win, 48-42

By BILL CORNWELL

Pontiac Central High School received the scare of its life Wednesday night before escaping to the finals of the Class A regional basketball tournament at Livonia Bentley.

Waterford's underdog Skippers, fighting valiantly every second of the way, forced Pontiac to pull out all the stops for a shaky 48-42 triumph in their semifinal showdown on the Bentley High court.

An overflow crowd rocked the rafters with noise during the swift-moving, action-packed struggle as Waterford fought the Chiefs on even terms until the early moments of the 4th quarter and actually held the upper hand much of the time.

It was John Bandy, Pontiac's spindle-legged guard, who provided the spark which ignited the Chiefs' winning surge.

Bandy's field goal touched off a seven-point flurry in the first three minutes of the closing session to hand the Chiefs a 39-32 lead. It was the widest margin ever enjoyed by either team and proved too much for the Skippers to overcome.

Waterford's John Herrington, the outstanding individual performer of the game, starred both offensively and defensively and was the ringleader in the Skippers' heroic efforts to stage an astounding upset.

The Chiefs held a 13-12 edge at the end of the see-saw 1st quarter, then trailed throughout the 2nd heat, although never by more than three points, and left the floor at intermission in a 24-22 rut.

Pontiac's quick rush in the 4th stanza iced the decision. Big Jim Skinner bagged a fielder and two foul shots and Jerry Williams followed up with a free toss and a two-pointer to make it 39-32 and the Chiefs were ahead to stay.

The Skippers bounced back gallantly and twice came within two points, 42-40 and 44-42, on baskets by Chuck Kirken. Then Bandy returned for more heroics, potting two gift tosses and a bucket to sew it up.

If it's any consolation to the Skippers, this was a moral victory for them. In the long run, they were conquered by Pontiac's bench strength and scoring balance. They were outgunned but not outclassed.

Herrington's 20 points topped both sides, but only three other Skippers could break into the scoring column. Three Pontiac players hit double figures. Bandy collecting 13 points and Williams and Charley Barge 12 apiece.

Brighton Triumphant

By CHUCK ABAIR

A battle of Oakland County powers and the third meeting of the season between Wayne-Oakland rivals West Bloomfield and Brighton will make up an interesting doubleheader at the busy Pontiac Central gymnasium tomorrow night as the local regional tournament swings into the 2nd round.

So the regular season foes will tangle in the 2nd game Friday following a big clash between unbeaten Troy and strong Rochester. Victors in the twin-bill will meet Saturday night for the title and a berth in the quarter-finals.

It's the consensus of opinion among tourney followers that the Troy-Rochester contest will actually be the "championship" tilt of the event on the basis of past records of the four remaining teams.

Troy, the Oakland B champ, has won 18 straight outings and holds an earlier 15-point verdict over Rochester at home.

But the Falcons have improved considerably since that contest and are anxious for revenge. Rochester has won 14 and lost five and showed topnotch form in whipping Lake Orion for the district crown on the PCH court last week.

West Bloomfield must be rated the favorite in the W-O tussle because of two season triumphs over the Bulldogs but an upset could be in the making if Brian Watson & company keep hitting the hoop like they did last night.

The Brighton cagers could do no wrong for three quarters hitting an amazing 46.3 per cent of their shots. The victors then held off a Marysville threat in the last period to clinch the verdict.

Entering the game the underdog with a 7-9 record against 15-4 for the Port Huron area school, Brighton took command right at the start with a 17-10 1st period edge and led by as much as 19 before the losers made their late bid.

Watson tallied 17 in the 1st half and a total of 21 but lanky Don Appleton with 10 of his 17 in the 3rd period and Russ Hudson also had a big hand in pacing the win. Hudson made five of six shots in the last half including three in the last period when Marysville rallied to total 14.

Veteran scoring ace Bruce Thomas of Marysville had trouble finding the range all the way but still topped both teams with 22. Frank Anderson, an all-state footballer, added 13.

Heights in Regional Debut; Dales Win

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

HE CAME CLOSE — Lou Koprince had plenty to smile about even though he just missed a 300 game recently bowling in the West Side Classic. He is shown holding the sheet with his recorded 299 circled. It was Lou's best effort in 25 years of continuous keg action.

Detroit Austin (19-0), Highland Park (15-1), Ferndale (16-1) and Grosse Pointe (16-2) all advanced to their region's finals last night while the Heights was idle.

Austin, which dropped the final to Muskegon Heights last year and hasn't tasted defeat since, defeated Harper Woods Notre Dame 57-41. Dave Debusschere paced Austin, the only unbeaten team in Class A ranks, with 23 points, a bit below his average.

Highland Park won a slow paced game over Berkley 33-29. Zone defenses cut each team's attack to a standstill. Highland Park led 12-11 at halftime but started connecting in the third quarter and opened up a gap.

Ferndale had little trouble with Royal Oak Dondero. It led by 20 points at halftime and coasted home 57-39. Earl McNeal tallied 19 points for the Dales.

Inkster (13-6) beat Belleville (13-5), 64-50, and Adrian (12-6) came from behind and downed Romulus (3-15), 62-51, in last nibht's only other Class A competition.

Tonight's Class A schedule finds Flint Central (15-1) meeting Alpena and Flint Northern (12-5) facing Saginaw Arthur Hill (6-10) in a doubleheader at Flint and Muskegon Catholic (6-10) pitted against Muskegon (10-6) in addition to the Muskegon Heights-Grand Haven game at Grand Rapids.

Unbeaten East Lansing continued its drive to the Class B throne by whipping Grand Ledge (7-13), 56-43. Carvell Tefft was East Lansing's top scorer with 16 points, all in the first half. He didn't play afterwards as East Lansing had a 41-24 lead at intermission while rolling to its 19th consecutive victory.

River Rouge (16-3), led by Elton Fowler's 25 points, trounced Willow Run (6-13), 77-53, in Class B. Powerful Flint Technical (20-1) whipped Chesaning (10-9), 59-46, on Jerry Beebe's 22 markers.

Pontiac Press Photo

SKIPPER GOING SOMEWHERE — Waterford's Chuck Kirken (21), bouncing the ball, attempts to sneak around Harrison Munson, Pontiac's 6-foot-2 center, in the 3rd quarter of their Class A regional basketball game last night at Livonia Bentley High School. Pontiac had a bad scare, but finally came through with a 48-42 win to qualify for Friday night's championship battle against host Bentley.

Patty Berg Top Augusta Choice

Wiffi Smith Among Titleholders' Tourney Entries

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — A record field of 56 women golfers with the veteran Patty Berg at the helm started today in quest of the 72-hole Titleholders championship.

The field of 23 professionals and 33 amateurs also includes Louise Suggs of Sea Island, Ga., a titleholders champion three times.

Betsy Rawls of Spartanburg, S.C., leading money winner of the current Ladies Professional Golfers Assn. tour, also was given a good chance of grabbing the $1,000 slice of the $5,000 purse.

Then there are such stars as Mickey Wright, tall power-hitter from San Diego, Calif.; Marlene Hagge of Delray Beach, Fla.; Wiffi Smith, sophomore professional from St. Clair, Mich.; and Fay Crocker of Montevideo, Uruguay.

Browns Sign Draft Pick

CLEVELAND (AP) — The Cleveland Browns' third - round draft choice, tackle Mel (Buzz) Guy of Duke University, has been signed for the 1958 season, it was announced today.

Guy has another year of college eligibility left. Married and a senior, Guy said he will complete his college work this summer and pass up his remaining eligibility.

Green Selected 'Most Valuable' Player at MSU

EAST LANSING (AP) — John Green, leading scorer and rebounder for the Michigan State basketball team, has been named "most valuable player" by his teammates.

Green topped his team in scoring with 397 points and was leading rebounder with 392 recoveries. He also set a new Big Ten shooting mark with a .537 success in his tries from the floor.

In the showdown game with Indiana, the jumping-jack junior outstarred Indiana's Archie Dees, although the Hoosiers won the Big Ten title with a 75-72 victory.

Green, giving away three inches to Dees at 6-5, outscored the leading Big Ten scorer, 23-14, and beat him on rebounds, 24-13.

Yale Places 2 Men on All-Ivy Quintet

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Yale placed two men, including third timer John Lee, on the All-Ivy League basketball team picked by the coaches today.

The five man team also includes Larry Downs, of Yale and White Plains, N.Y.; Dick Csencsitz, of Penns and Northampton, Pa., the only unanimous choice; Rudy LaRusso of Dartmouth and Brooklyn, and Lou Jordan of Cornell and Schenectady, N.Y.

Northern Resort Town Daffy Over Basketball

It's all because of Harbor Springs high school's sudden cage prowess. And it's having a strange effect on the hairdos of students and teachers alike.

The daffiness began with a series of vows among the teachers. Five of the men swore they'd submit to crewcuts and four of the women said they'd dye their locks bright red if Harbor Springs won its district championship last week. It did for the first time in 16 years by beating arch rival Boyne Falls.

Afterwards there was dancing on Main Street until 2 a.m. Sunday in the tiny community of 1,412 on Little Traverse Bay. A jukebox blared as revelers paid no heed to the 15-degree temperature.

And town barber EKARL Hemmer opened his shop for some midnight shearing on the school's teachers. The women broke out the fiery dye and came out redheads.

"We'll stay redheads until the boys win the state title in Lansing," promised teacher Elaine Andrews.

Now as Harbor Springs readied itself for tonight's regional clash with Gaylord at Petoskey, the students are promising to change their hair style too. Victory tonight will find every girl in the junior class a blonde by morning.

And a regional championship will turn every senior girl into a two-tone fashion plate. They've promised to dye their locks half orange and half black. Those, of course, are Harbor Springs' school colors.

Quiz Winner Won't Make It Her Life Work

BELFAST, Ireland — Although Miss Rosemary Watson, Belfast school teacher, won the title of "Brain of Britain" on a B.B.C. quiz show, she is not going to make a career of such competitions.

Miss Watson, who teaches French at Northern Ireland's Methodist College, says people are continually asking her "what next?" and suggesting she should go to America "where the big money is" and try her luck on quiz programs there.

"It is not a worthwhile thing to do for a profession," she said. "It is all right as a sideline but not more than that." She received 120 letters from complete strangers after winning the competition. It was "shattering," she said, to discover how many people live for the friends they make on the radio.

Discover Sagebrush Health-Giving Weed

DENVER (INS) — The lowly sagebrush — once considered the scourge of western rangeland — is now being eyed as potential valuable feed for game animals.

The change is due, in part to the discovery of a Colorado game and fish biologist that the sagebrush contains more nutrients than other plants growing wild in the semi-arid western land.

Hard Mondays Eased by Thoughtful Boss

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Bothered by Monday blues?

He says he hates to go to work on Mondays himself so he tries "to take the curse off for the people who work with me." For two years now he's been giving his employes what he calls the "Monday surprise" — a little gift for each worker.

Sometimes the presents are outright foolishness — like used window shades, frayed rope and so on. At other times, they consist of home-made fudge.

The U.S. Army has about 3,400 pieces of floating equipment, such as tugs, barges and cranes.

Soviet Sputnik Losing Altitude

Report 'Moon' Bearing Laika to Plunge to Fiery End Around April 14

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP)—American scientists say the Soviet Union's dog-carrying Sputnik II satellite is losing altitude at the rate of five miles a day and is expected to plunge to a fiery end about April 14.

Scientists at the Smithsonian Astrophysical Observatory said last night the satellite and its now-dead dog is swoping at present to within 120 miles of the earth with its high point at 550 miles. That's about half the altitude it achieved when it was launched Nov. 3.

They estimated from previous experience that when the period drops to 88 minutes per trip, it will start to heat up in the atmosphere.

Scientists estimate the size of Sputnik II as possibly 35 feet long and 5 feet in diameter—about the size of German V2 rockets which hit England during World War II.

Computors said Sputnik II will make four passages that might be visible to most of the United States tomorrow.

The first passage over eastern Canada starting at 3:50 a. m. should be visible to most of New England. The second sweep will be at 5:30 a. m. across northern New York state and southern Connecticut. The third passage will sweep the corner of Montana about 7:04 a. m. The fourth passage will be at 8:43 a. m. over east central California.

All times are Eastern Standard.

Florida Seeks Tourists

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP)—Plans are being formulated for a huge letter-wriring campaign to invite Northern tourists to Florida—now that the weather is sunny and warm again. Thomas Ennis, a Venice businessman, is spearheading a campaign to get a million Florida residents to write friends in the North.

ELIZABETH, N.J. (AP) — Mozart, a 2-year-old black and tan dachshund, has been left the residuary estate of Harold K. Beach, who died last Feb. 28 at the age of 74. An attorney said the sum was "considerable." Beach was a retired chief engineer at the Phelps-Dodge Copper Products Corp. of Elizabeth.

Hollywood Headlines

Groucho Marx Analyzes Psychiatrists – Not Humor

By BOB THOMAS

A University of Southern California psychiatrist recently declared: "A wit is an angry man in search of a victim. A witticism is his way of releasing suppressed hostility."

Since Groucho Marx is perhaps Hollywood's best-known wit, I asked him for comment. Here is his reply: "I don't know who the hell this doctor is, but I do know that one of the best ways to save time is to read no one's explanation of humor. This is a deadly subject when taken seriously, and has thrown many good men. I remain

"Morosely yours, Groucho". . . .

Shirley Temple turned down an offer to costar with Pat Boone in "Mardi Gras" for her old alma mater, 20th Century-Fox. It would have meant being absent from her family on a New Orleans location, and Shirley doesn't want that.

"Now if they want to make a picture about the San Francisco Chinatown New Year's, that would be different," she said, because then she could be near her Bay area home. . . .

Wonder if MGM is unhappy with Jerry Wald's "The Long Hot Summer." It covers some of the same ground as "Cat on a Hot Tin roof," which Metro is filming. Even to Orson Welles playing a Big Daddy.

"Summer" offers some strong dramatics, especially by Paul Newman. Now that Wald has touched on the raw life in a West Coast suburb ("No Down Payment), New England ("Peyton Place") and Deep South ("Long, Hot") small towns, where does he go next? . . .

How's this for a hot combo: Frank Sinatra and Brigitte Bardot? The crooner says he's set to make a movie with the French sizzler. It ought to be a killer.

Grace Kelly's Friends Predict More Movies

MONTE CARLO, Monaco (AP) — Princess Grace's friends here are convinced that the ex-film queen has not given up the idea of returning to the screen someday.

Now awaiting the birth of her second child, the former Grace Kelly receives almost as much fan mail as ever. The palace says she usually gets about 100 letters a day, but with the publicity about 400 now pour in daily.

A top box office draw before her marriage to Prince Rainier, the princess had disclaimed any intention of returning to the movies, and that's the way her husband wants it.

But the Philadelphia-born princess has told many visitors she dislikes the words "forever" and "never" and won't positively rule out anything in her future.

She also keeps up contacts with her Hollywood friends and is as style-conscious as ever. And she sees two or more movies a week in the palace projection room.

Noting this continuing interest, friends feel that someday Grace again will succumb to the fascination of the screen.

Hope to Invade Soviet Capital

Flies From New York Today for First Trip Behind Iron Curtain

NEW YORK (INS) — Comedien Bob Hope leaves New York today on "The Road to Moscow."

The entertainer, flying to Copenhagen for his first trip behind the iron curtain, was optimistic about the reception he'll get in the Soviet capital.

"I'm sure," he commented, "the Russians will dig my kind of humor."

Hope, who's entertained troops and civilians almost all over the world in the past two decades, will film some of Russia's top entertainers for his April 5 NBC-TV show during his six-day visit to Moscow.

And he also plans to make a personal appearance before a Russian audience, working through an interpreter.

Hope said he plans to show his most recent movie, "Paris Holiday," to a Russian audience and then hold a question - and - answer session, which he hopes to film.

Chief targets of his iron curtain talent search, Hope said, are the Soviet clown, Popov, whom he described as "the most versatile performer I've ever seen in my life," a ballet troupe, the Red army chorus and a Ukrainian dance group.

Farming Not Permitted

MILWAUKEE — The first rural zoning ordinance in the United States restricting land use to forestry and recreation was enacted in Oneida County, Wisconsin, in 1933. Since then 25 counties have closed 5,000,000 acres, much of it submarginal, to agricultural use.

Baby Hardshell Clams Put in Gulf of Mexico

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP)—More than a quarter of a million baby hardshell clams from Connecticut began life afresh today in the warm waters of the Gulf of Mexico.

The clams, smaller than a grain of rice, are being planted along the northwest Florida Gulf Coast in an attempt to revive a once-profitable clam industry. The project is being carried out by the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service and Florida State University.

Navy Seeking Civilian Stenographers

Brother Fails, Woman Doesn't

Never underestimate the power of a woman. It took another woman to get Sandra Black, of 1169 23 Mile Rd., Utica, into the Navy Department — a job even her Navy recruiting brother couldn't do.

Sandra's brother, Gunner's Mate 1.C. Thomas R. Black, WAVE recruiter for the Pontiac area, tried to sign her up with the Navy — but with no success.

It took Miss Dorothy Jemison, Navy representative to do the job. Miss Jemison is currently at the Navy Recruiting station in Pontiac recruiting civilian stenographers for the Navy Department in Washington, D. C. Sandra signed up and was officially accepted.

As a federal service civilian employe, Sandra and Betty Decoteau, of Orchard Lake, who is currently being considered for the job, will join the Navy Department in Washington as stenographers next week.

Beginning salary will be $285 a month with yearly increases. Benefits include a five-day work week, interesting assignments, over two and a half weeks paid vacation each year, government life insurance and educational and recreational facilities. The Navy Department also guarantees housing upon arrival in Washington.

Dorothy I. Armstrong, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack J. Armstrong, of 423 North Shore Dr., Lake Orion, joined the Navy Department in September, 1957. She works as a stenographer in various Navy medical departments.

Concerning her life in Washington, Miss Armstrong says, "The biggest advantage to me has been learning to manage my own affairs and to live with other people.

"I have found the people connected with the Navy to be the most friendly group I have ever met." She plans to marry a Washington boy this summer.

Miss Jemison will be at the Navy Recruiting Station, Room 206 Riker Building, 35 W. Huron St. through Saturday to accept applications from persons in this area. Office hours are from 9 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. weekdays and until noon on Saturdays.

Trading Slow, Prices Weaker

CHICAGO (AP) — Early dealings on the board of trade today were slow with prices steady to weak.

Dealers said the trade was mixed with commission houses and local traders on both sides, but with no particular influence either way. They said attention appeared to be focused primarily on action in Washington on measures to extend the 1957 price supports to 1958 crops.

Wheat showed one fairly strong rallying power near the end of the first hour when it had gains up to 1 cent a bushel. Some other grains also firmed up.

At that time wheat was ⅜ to 1 cent a bushel higher, March $2.25¾; corn ⅛ to ½ lower, March $1.16; oats ¼ lower to ⅜ higher, March 66¾; rye unchanged to ½ lower, March $1.36¾; soybeans ⅛ lower to ¼ higher, March $2.24⅛; lard 5 cents a hundred pounds higher to 3 cents lower, March $12.55.

GM, Chrysler Promise to Pass on Tax Relief

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate was told today that two more automobile companies have agreed to pass on any savings from reduction or repeal of the manufacturer's excise tax on cars.

Sen. Douglas (D-Ill) said he had received a telegraph from L. L. Colbert, president of Chrysler, saying the company would make a corresponding reduction in prices to its dealers and would "suggest" they pass on the savings to car buyers.

Selected Issues Avoid Sliding

NEW YORK (AP) — The Stock Market was generally lower in quiet trading early today.

Key issues declined fractions to about a point. Selected issues bucked the trend.

The opening was mixed and activity was moderate following yesterday's interruption of more than a week's rise. The gradual improvement that marked yesterday's session failed to follow through, however, and the list settled back mildly.

A number of food and tobacco shares were among small gainers. Oils, motors and nonferrous metals were mostly off. Steels showed scant change.

Smaller losses were posted for Ford, International Harvester, Boeing, Radio Corp., American Telephone, Union Carbide and International Paper.

Also lower were Schenley, Standard Oil (New Jersey), Baltimore & Ohio, American Can and International Nickel.

Opening blocks included: Philip Morris up ¾ at 53¼ on 7,000 shares: Wilson & Co. up ¼ at 20⅛ on 6,000; and Armour up ⅜ at 14½ on 3,300.

Russians Really Are First This Time

Red Invention Aids Firm

WASHINGTON (AP)—A case where the Soviets actually did invent something first turned up today. The result: An American company saved about a million dollars.

The story was given to a House Appropriations subcommittee by the National Science Foundation in asking for more money to spread information on scientific advances. The testimony was made public today.

The foundation said it happened this way.

But a U.S. chemist, in a chance conversation with a Soivet chemist at an international meeting, learned that the Soviets had already published a description of the dye in a chemical journal in 1949.

Award Banquet Has Everything but Honor Guest

DETROIT (AP) — Michigan's 17-year-old "Voice of Democracy" will have to wait until June to receive her award for winning first prize in an essay contest.

Ann Hodges of Dearborn was to have been honored by the Dearborn Junior Chamber of Commerce Tuesday night for winning the service club's national "I Speak for Democracy" contest.

Forty guests showed up at the banquet. The speaker's table held a plaque and radio, both for Miss Hodges.

She never showed up. The banquet committee had forgotten to invite her.

The organization squared itself with Ann yesterday. She agreed to be guest of honor at another dinner in June.

State House OKs Jobless Pay Hike

LANSING (AP)— Over loud Democratic protests, legislation to raise unemployment compensation benefits $1 a week cleared the House last night and headed for the Senate.

The bill would boost maximum jobless paychecks from $55 to $56 a week, but only workers making more than $76 and having at least three dependents would qualify for the increase.

Rep. Joseph J. Kowalski (D-Detroit) branded the Republican-backed proposal as a "phony."

Democrats tried unsuccessfully to junk the measure and replace it with one backed by Gov. Williams which would allow unemployed workers to collect up to two-thirds of the state's average wage.

The Williams plan also would cut unemployment contributions by small, regular employers and allow all workers qualifying for any benefits to collect for the full 26-week maximum.

Serious Trouble Postpones Firing of Navy 'Moon'

None of the officials in charge would comment. The Navy has lowered a strict curtain of secrecy over its space research program, dogged by misfortune.

There were definite indications a Vanguard satellite launching might be days or even weeks away.

In Memoriam 2

IN MEMORY OF OUR LITTLE angel, Darlene Marie Curn, who passed away March 13, 1957.
Sweet little flower of heavenly birth.
She was too fair
to bloom on earth.
Sadly missed by mommie, daddy, Cheryl & Ricky.

IN LOVING MEMORY OF August Vangeloff who passed away March 13th, 1956.
More and more each day we miss him,
Friends may think the wound is healed;
But they little know the sorrow
Lies within our hearts concealed.
Sadly missed by Mrs. Michael Kerensky & Family.

Answer to Previous Puggle

Science Wants to Know What Is Correct Time

BOULDER, Colo. (INS)—What time is it? The experts don't really know precisely, but they're working on the problem.

The modern scientific equivalent of the hour glass is a crystal oscillator which produces a frequency—a radio method of measuring time—accurate to one part in a hundred-million.

This isn't close enough for scientists at the National Bureau of Standards at Boulder, Colo. Faced with the exacting time calculations necessary for space travel, rockets to the moon and such universe-size mathematical headaches, the NBS laboratories are looking for more precise time standards.

To do this they are constructing a $50,000 atomic oscillator to measure the frequency output of cesium atoms. Atoms, it seems, vibrate at an amazingly stable rate.

Cesium atoms, so delicate they melt about 86 degrees F. and must be packed in dry ice, are accurate to around one part in a million-million. That is, 10,000 times more dependable than the crystal standard now used.

The oscillator is a seven-foot-high panel of electronic equipment with the $5,000 cesium-beam tube in its heart. The tube lasts only six months.

Time has a lot of uses, and more accurate measurement of the fleeting moments will accomplish an amazing list of scientific advances, for example:

—Aid in more accurate timing of the passage of earth satellites, such as Sputnik I and II.

—Aid in measuring gravity, the velocity of light, atomic weights, and other measurement problems of the physicist.

Live China Dolls Still in Demand

Bangkok Night Clubs Collect Beauties, but Not for Westerners

BANGKOK (INS)—Night clubs in Bangkok are collecting Red China dolls—live ones.

They are not for Westerners, however. Only special Thai or rich Chinese customers can get one to come over to their table.

Capitalizing on the legendary beauty of Chinese women—and a parallel demand—night club owners have been shopping around Hong Kong for contacts for the dancing girls from the mainland.

And, from the numbers in evidence, they have had no trouble.

Thailand has a strict trade embargo against goods from Red China, but in the past two years have easied it a bit to permit the inflow of certain non-strategic goods.

Night club owners are reluctant to talk about their imports. But Thai girls, in competition and perhaps not too happy about the arrangement, freely point out the Chinese girls and state where they are from.

The custom for male customers is to ask a waiter to invite a particular dancing girl over to the table.

This goes on until the customer denotes another miss he would like to dance with.

Pretty Chinese girls have traditionally been in the strongest demand throughout Asia for assignments as dancing girls or prostitutes.

The Bamboo Curtain doesn't see to have altered either the tastes of Asian men, or the availability of real China dolls.

To Execute Mother for Slaying Girl, 5

RIVERSIDE, Calif. (AP)—A jury has decreed death in the San Quentin Prison gas chamber for a former German war bride.

Mrs. Felicitas Nicholson, 32, convicted of beating her 5-year-old daughter to death last July, took the verdict calmly yesterday. The same jury that convicted her last Friday of first-degree murder met again, under a new California law, to fix the punishment.

The body of the child, Heidi, was found stuffed in a closet of a Riverside motel where the mother had been staying. Mrs. Nicholson denied the murder, saying she found her daughter dead.

A prosecutor described her as a "callous, cold-hearted woman who had brutally beaten her child to death because the child got in the way of her good times."

Mrs. Nicholson came to this country after marrying an Air Force sergeant. They have since separated.

Elvis En Route Home Following Studio Party

The rock 'n' roll singer's co-star, Dolores Hart, Director Michael Curtiz and the rest of the cast of "King Creole" attended the party in the Paramount studio commissary.

Girl on Tricycle Stops Carrier Making Rounds

BROCKTON, Mass. (AP) — Letter carriers defy rain, snow, dark of night and even dogs . . . but a 4-year-old girl on a tricycle stopped a carrier.

Actress 'Doing Fine'

Head Stand by Elsa Awaits Doctor's O. K.

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—What do you mean—there's nothing cultural on TV: Jack Paar and I have hereby solemnly offered Elsa Maxwell $5,000 to stand on her head on Jack's show . . . and she can wear bloomers.

WILSON

Elsa recently said she'd do it—for charity—and I've guaranteed to raise that sum for the City of Hope's Emanuel T. Sacks Leukemia Foundation, via mailed donations from readers and viewers.

"I'll give $1,000 myself and I can get four other guys who'll give $1,000 each," Jack Paar told me.

"Since I've had pneumonia, I'll have to ask my doctor," Elsa tittered. "It'd be very easy for me . . . particularly with bloomers."

"Even if she just tries and falls over on her nevermind, I'll give $1,000," Jack said. (So we await the doctor's answer.)

Marlon Brando was almost as entertaining as Sir Laurence Olivier the other night, after sneaking in to town, sans wife, from Hollywood. Had on a pinkish low-cut T-shirt and scarf (no tie) and looked half-naked . . . The 41½-inch Sabrina, who came here from England for the Steve Allen show, visited Jane Morgan and Jane asked her the size of her tiny waist. "Eighteen," said Sabrina. "Seventeen if I breathe."

JANE

Hey, John Wingate! Randolph Churchill's father allowed him to attend a dinner of World War II staff chiefs on his promise he'd "keep still." But during a lull, he was heard saying, "You understand, Marshal Montgomery, it's not that I accuse you of personal cowardice."

Errol Flynn and Huntington Hartford's beautiful palship will be climaxed by lawsuits resulting from Flynn's walk-out on the Hartford show. Just before Flynn took off for Africa, a young girl he was walking with stepped into a cab—and fell on her you'll make up later"—but the girl huffily said, "He's no boy face. Flynn roared, the girl yelled insults, the cabbie said, "Oh, friend of mine. He used to go with MOTHER!"

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

Martha Ray's beau, ex-cop Bob O'Shea, is now chief agent for a private eye outfit . . . Singer Jill Corey's fuming at a fan mag story that she prefers dating older men . . . A $35,000 Renoir painting was snatched from a 57th St. gallery . . . Wynne Miller, niece of the late Glenn Miller, has taken over the female lead in "L'l Abner." Jean Pierre Aumont and his wife (Marisa Pavan) will do "Lucy Crown" in Paris, then bring it to B'way . . .

EARL'S PEARLS: It's strange how quickly a wedding certificate turns into a driver's license.—Anna Herbert. That's earl, brother.

Comedian Likes Go-Go-Go Life

By ERSKINE JOHNSON

HOLLYWOOD (NEA) — Jerry Lewis, the man in a rush in all directions, sprinted to his portable dressing room in one corner of the big Paramount sound stage.

The mirror of his makeup table was decorated around the edges with photos of his children and his wife and on the wall behind him was a big framed collection of family photographs.

His eyes gulped them in and he said, "They're my bank account."

A studio accountant walked in and the telephone rang.

Jerry told the caller to get "Tucker's telephone number" while he looked at two sheets of paper the accountant handed him. He hung up the phone and said: "Two hundred and twelve against 118. I don't get it."

BACK TO CAMERAS

Today he's busier than ever. He's producing his own movies, writing TV routines, clowning on TV and in nightclubs, plus planning to produce and direct a TV series titled "Permanent Waves."

"I've never worked so hard. But I like it, I like it. I'm up at 5:30 and get home from the studio about 7:30. Then I sit at the typewriter until 11.

"I've never been stronger. It's a happy strength. So I can't take a vacation until January of 1960. So I like it. Last weekend I went home . . ."

ATTORNEY APPEARS

A Mr. Somebody came in. Jerry introduced him as his attorney. Two legal documents with just four typewritten lines on each emerged from the attorney's brief case. "Sign both of them," the attorney said.

"Last weekend I went home," Jerry started again, "and told myself I'd sleep for two days. So Saturday I decided to go to Las Vegas and look at an act for this picture.

"So I'd sleep all day Sunday. So Sunday I tried to sleep and what happens—I spend the day shooting 1,700 feet of movies of my kids."

A man came in with the latest box office figures on Jerry's movie, "Sad Sack." Jerry said, "Sensational. People want to laugh. Hollywood should stop making controversial movies. Who wants to make controversial movies for 74 people!"

HOLLYWOOD'S GO MAN — After 10 go-go-go years in Hollywood, work-happy Jerry Lewis is still one of the busiest guys in town. He's producing his own movies, writing television routines, clowning on TV and in nightclubs. Here, he takes a brief moment out to pose with three 2-month-old babies who are with him in the movie "Rock-a-Bye Baby."
