Ike Blasts 'Crooked Fence Politics'

Launches Drive to Tighten GOP Control in Talk

President Tells Illinois State Fair Crowd He's Sick of Doom Prophets

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP) —President Eisenhower declared today "the country is getting pretty sick and tired of crooked fence politics." He also said he personally is "sick and tired of listening to the clack-clack of the prophets of doom."

Eisenhower's remarks were in notes prepared for a speech at a Republican Day celebration at the Illinois State Fair.

The President's address in an outright political atmosphere was the opening gun in an administration drive to maintain Republican control of Congress.

With the fall congressional elections coming on, the President urged his audience to return Illinois members of the House to Congress and to increase the state's representation in the lawmaking body.

Before his address, Eisenhower had lunch at the home of Gov. William G. Stratton with Joseph T. Meek, the Republican candidate for the Senate. Meek, bidding for the seat now held by Democratic Sen. Paul Douglas, recently won Eisenhower's endorsement.

Eisenhower flew here this morning from Washington and was greeted at the airport by Stratton, other Illinois Republican leaders and Gov. George Craig of Indiana, also a Republican.

In his speech at the fair, the President declared he is "sick and tired of listening to the clack-clack of the prophets of doom."

Then, by way of explanation, as he put it, he told a story about Abraham Lincoln, the Republican party's first President.

Lincoln once related, Eisenhower said, that a man had built such a crooked fence that a hog trying to get through it became so confused that it concluded it was always coming

County Breakins Total 6 Today

Same Persons Believed Responsible for Area Rash of Crime

Six breakins in the Northeastern section of Oakland County, all believed committed by the same persons, were reported by Oakland County sheriff's deputies today.

The owner of a watch repair shop at 2516 Perry St., Pontiac Township, reported a pearl necklace, a wrist watch and $21 in change taken. Entry, the same in all the breakins, was made by breaking out a front window.

In the same building next door, a barber shop owner said about $10 in change and $3 in bills were taken.

An undetermined amount of small change was reported taken from a vending machine in a tavern at 1128 Lapeer Rd., and a filling station owner said about $15 was stolen from a vending machine at his station at the intersection of the Clarkston-Orion and Lapeer Rds., Orion Township.

Alcide de Gasperi of Italy Dies in Third Heart Attack

SELLA VAL SUGANA, Italy (AP)—Alcide de Gasperi, the lean old statesman who led Italy out of postwar chaos and onto the path of democracy, died today of a heart attack.

Death came to the former Premier as he rested here in his north Italy mountain retreat, far from Rome and the political wars in which he had battled without respite for nearly a decade.

His passing robbed the cause of European union of one of its staunchest supporters. Italy's struggles against communism lost one of its hardest fighters.

Although it was known the 73-year-old leader's health was failing, there had been no public hint he was seriously ill. Only after his death was it revealed that he had suffered a heart attack a week ago. His condition was not considered serious until Tuesday, when the heart pains became more intense.

He suffered another attack at 2 a.m. today and died an hour later after still another seizure. His family was at his bedside.

Mendes-France Cautions France Could Go Leftist

BRUSSELS, Belgium (AP) — French Premier Pierre Mendes-France said today that if his proposals for changing the European army treaty are rejected France might swing in another crisis to a Leftist government similar to the prewar "Popular Front."

The Popular Front was a coalition of Socialists and Radical Socialists headed by Leon Blum. Its policy was social reform rather than Marxism. But the period was marked by widespread strikes and other disorders.

Mendes-France made his statement to a six-nation meeting of foreign ministers convened to discuss changes in the European Defense Community pact. His remarks were relayed to newsmen by a German source. By the account of this informant:

The French Premier said the present treaty has no chance of being accepted by the French Parliament, due to start debating it Aug. 28.

He said he had drawn his proposals for revision to find some way of salvaging something from the idea.

He declared rejection of his proposals would certainly result in a negative vote in Parliament. This could be followed, he argued, by a crisis in the North Atlantic community. All this would be a victory for the Russians, he asserted—a victory "which would cost them nothing."

A French source, when told of this version, said "that sounds O.K."

Shortly after Mendes - France spoke, however, Dutch Foreign Minister J. W. Beyen bluntly said the French proposals were not acceptable to his government.

Beyen said that Mendes-France's statement this morning had made a "totally different impression" than the text of the proposed changes. The note on the changes was transmitted through diplomatic channels last Saturday.

Crash Victims All in Hospitals

M59-U. S. 23 Accident Kills 3, Injures Three; Conditions Reported

Persons injured in a two-car crash, which took the lives of three Wednesday at M 59 and U. S. 23 near Howell, are reported in from good to poor condition today by hospital authorities.

Mrs. Esther McKenzie, 57, of 339 W. Clarkston Rd., Lake Orion, is reported in good condition by authorities at the Ingham County Chest Clinic at Lansing. She was transferred there from McPherson Memorial Hospital at Howell after emergency treatment for severe chest and head injuries.

Reported in fair condition at Mellus Hospital in Brighton is Miss Minnie Kearney, 52, of Roseville. She suffered two broken legs and multiple cuts to the face and body.

Richard J. Larsen, 58, of Detroit, driver of one of the cars whose wife was killed in the crash, is listed in poor condition by authorities at Detroit Memorial Hospital. Extent of his injuries was not revealed.

State Police at the Brighton Post said a car driven by Mrs. Hazel Burman, 61, of 2536 Cole Rd., Lake Orion, one of the fatalities, failed to stop for a stop sign and warning flasher at the intersection, and crashed broadside into Larsen's car.

Riding in his car were his wife and Miss Kearney. They were on their way to visit the Larsens' son at Flint, police said.

Mrs. Emily Burdick, 51, of 2450 Marx Ave., Pontiac, the third person killed, was riding with Mrs. Burman and Mrs. McKenzie.

Legislators OK Funds for Ionia Expansion Plan

Both Houses Earmark $460,899 for Dorm, Other Prison Facilities

LANSING (AP) — In an unusually agreeable mood, the Michigan Legislature wound up an 11-hour special session last night appropriating $460,899 for the emergency expansion of the state penal system by 283 men.

Gov. Williams, who had asked for $660,000 for a 158-man expansion and $318,000 to hire additional guards and other personnel, had kind words as the two houses adjourned.

"You have done the job well in providing enough funds to meet the major problem," he told the legislators in an informal appearance.

The legislative action provides $400,000 for a new dormitory outside the walls at Ionia State Reformatory to house an additional 158 men. It provides that 78 cells be included and that the balance be built so it may be converted to cells later, if needed.

Williams had asked that cells be built for each dormitory inmate.

The Legislature appropriated $50,000 the governor had not asked for to build a 100-man dormitory with prison labor at an unused farm outside Southern Michigan Prison.

The only remnant of the governor's request for additional personnel was $10,899 appropriated to hire four additional guards at the Cassidy Lake training school. This appropriation was designed to permit a 25-man increase in the capacity of the school.

Williams said this was "only a nibble" at the personnel problem, but he added that he hoped the 1955 session of the Legislature would take the matter up in January.

The House stalled the headlong pace of the one-day session about an hour on a bill to permit the state to enter into contracts with pharmaceutical houses for the manufacture of antibiotics and the like developed by the State Health Department.

The measure eventually passed both houses without a dissenting vote. It is designed to permit commercial production of synnematin, an antibiotic developed by the Health Department to combat typhoid fever and other diseases.

Without any fuss both chambers unanimously approved a bill permitting unemployed to collect compensation for dependant husbands and wives. The measure was made retroactive to June 27, the date it would have taken effect if an error had not been made in the regular session this spring eliminating the provision.

The Senate Judiciary Committee killed a proposed constitutional amendment barring those convicted of felonies from Legislative membership.

Official Pollen Count Begins in Press Today

The service to hay-fever sufferers is offered in cooperation with the Oakland County Health Department which has installed a pollen-counting machine on top of the county office building at 1 Lafayette St.

In progress now, the hay-fever season continues until the first frost usually about mid-September. When the count reaches 100, sufferers know they will have a bothersome day.

Tries Ike's Vacation Desk

TESTING FOR COMFORT — Airman Third Class George Dohn of Union Gap, Wash. leans back to test the comfort of a chair which President Eisenhower will use to conduct business when he vacations in Denver, Colo. Dohn and other airmen at Lowry Air Force Base have been cleaning the second floor and offices to be used by Ike for his summer White House.

Congress Starts Last Lap, Might Adjourn by Tonight

WASHINGTON (AP) — The second session of the 93rd Congress reached its final stages today, with only three major matters to be disposed of before a final gavel on all legislative business.

The three are a compromise foreign aid bill providing $2,781,000,000 in new cash, a bill to ban the Communist party and a bill to broaden and liberalize the social security system.

There was a chance all of these could be passed and sent to President Eisenhower by tonight.

Some of the lawmakers thought tomorrow was more likely for the windup, and a few pessimists still expected the session run over to early next week.

The way legislation has been taking a surprise turn at the last minute, there was just no telling.

When legislative business is completed, the House will be able to quit until January. But the Senate may come back later to dispose of the recommendations of its special committee on the motion to censure Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis).

Senate-House conferees agreed on the compromise foreign aid appropriation yesterday, and it was expected to whip through both branches today in short order. This is the final money bill of the session.

However, the two other big

Lattimore Case to Be Bolstered

Government Will Seek New Perjury Indictment Against Asian Expert

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government will seek a new perjury indictment against Owen Lattimore, controversial Far Eastern specialist, U.S. Atty. Leo A. Rover announced today.

In December, 1952, a federal grand jury indicted Lattimore, one-time Far Eastern affairs adviser to the State Department, on seven counts of perjury growing out of his sworn testimony before the Senate Internal Security subcommittee.

Two of those counts, including the key one—that he lied when he said he never was a Communist sympathizer or promoter of Red interests — later were thrown out on appeal on the ground that they were too vague.

Rover said he will not appeal to the Supreme Court for reinstatement of those two counts, but instead will offer new evidence to a grand jury beginning Sept. 13.

Rover said the evidence will include "certain aspects" of Lattimore's sworn testimony before the committee in February 1952, which were not included in the original indictment.

Should the grand jury vote additional charges against Lattimore, Rover said, the procedure will be to ask that they be consolidated with the five counts remaining in the original indictment.

In any event, Rover said, the government is prepared to bring Lattimore to trial on the five remaining counts.

Herd 6 Victims Into Vault After Armed Robbery

Suspicious Car Sighted Near Owosso; Driver Eludes Police

From AP and UP Dispatches

ELSIE — Two bandits wearing baseball caps and dark glasses to hide their faces held up the Elsie State Bank today and escaped with $12,000 after herding four employes and two customers into a vault at gunpoint.

Later, State Police reported they were chasing a maroon-colored car on M-21, near Owosso, believed to be the getaway car.

A speeding convertible, that was being chased earlier on Chandler road near Ovid, was overtaken and checked out. Police said the people in the first car "were found to be OK."

The chase of the second car started when a police officer saw the car halt, turn around on M21 and head back to Owosso at what was described as "a terrific rate of speed."

Police said the car disappeared after the chase started and apparently turned off on a side road. All nearby police vehicles were converging on the area to aid in the search for the suspected car.

The bandits, one of them carrying a blue revolver, entered the bank shortly after it opened at 9 a.m. and ordered the six persons to "lie on the floor and you won't get hurt."

After scooping up coins and bills from the tellers' cages and cash drawers, they ordered the six into the vault. The six escaped possible suffocation when the bandits failed to slam the outer airtight door.

A teller, Joan Sturgis, said she called police from a telephone in the vault. Neither the employes nor the customers saw the men leave the bank, she said.

"The men entered quietly and told us to lie on the floor behind

Pontiac Aids Manhunt

Pontiac State Police Post said at 1 p.m. today that it had dispatched a scout car to the Owosso area to aid in the hunt for the bandits who held up the Elsie State Bank. Troopers at the post said the getaway car had been spotted "a couple of times" near Owosso.

the cages," Miss Sturgis said. "After they stuffed the money into sacks they told us to get into the vault and we wouldn't get hurt. One of the men was carrying a blue revolver."

Jeanette Cook, Esther Tweedie and Patricia Winann, the other bank employes, walked into the vault along with Miss Sturgis and the two customers, Ronnie Fizzell and Hazel Gieger. No one touched the telephone in the vault until they were sure the bandits had left the bank.

"It's a good thing they didn't slam the vault door," Miss Sturgis said. "We wouldn't have had any air. I guess they must have been amateurs, either that or they didn't want us to die."

The bandits were described as short and stocky with round faces. Both wearing khaki clothes.

Unusual Pregnancy

Mother Has Twins, Awaits Birth of Third Child Soon

DETROIT (AP)—Mrs. Boyd Braxton, 28, who gave birth to twin girls last July 31, expects to return to the hospital in a few days for the birth of a third child.

Doctors said Mrs. Braxton has a double uterus which they termed unusual.

They described pregnancy in both sides as "very unusual" and twins on one side as "extremely unusual."

The twins, both girls, weighed under five pounds at birth. Dr. Thomas Y. Hum, who delivered the girls, said they were "premature in weight but not in time." The girls, Barbara Joyce and Betty Jean, left the hospital Wednesday.

Dr. Hum said there was no positive indication of when the third baby will be born.

Mrs. Braxton's husband is a 29-year-old Packard Motor Co. employe. They have six other children—Boyd Jr., 6; Barry Dean, 5; Christine and Christopher, 4, also twins; Darryl, 3; and Davis, 2.

"They tell me I am making medical history," said Mrs. Braxton. "I don't care about history, I just want my babies. If the doctors want to study my case, it is all right with me."

She said the fact that another baby was expected made her husband nervous.

"It makes him kind of nervous," she said. "He went back to work three weeks ago and has been working two to four days a week—just enough to keep him from drawing (unemployment) compensation."

The Day in Birmingham

Sept. 7 Winds Up Holidays for Youngsters and Adults

From Our Birmingham Bureau

BIRMINGHAM—The day after Labor Day spells the end of summer vacation and means another term of school for Birmingham youngsters.

Over at the Community House, it means the start of school, too, for that's the date "school" begins there.

Starting Sept. 7, the House will begin taking registrations for its fall adult education classes.

Mrs. Ewald Schaffer, director of adult education, said more emphasis has been placed on the high school age group this year. Youthful students will discover a 10-weeks bridge course available to them, the first time the course has been offered.

For another first, high schoolers are being offered a class in painting and drawing. This same course is offered to first through eighth graders on other days of the week.

"Tips for Teens," a series of informal discussions, will help high school girls with fashions, hair styles, dancing and other self-improvements. Instructor Edelgard Roach, a professional model, returned from Paris this spring after modeling in Christian Dior's showing.

New classes for adults include a European traveler's course for travelers abroad or of the armchair variety. Previously combined with the silver classes, the art of enameling will this year be taught in separate classes.

Courses again being offered include bridge, creative pottery, design, free-lance writing, gardening (house plants), interior decorating workshop, millinery, painting, sculpture and sewing.

Also available are two Red Cross courses—first aid and home nursing.

City commissioners toured the sewage plant area with City Manager Donald C. Egbert last night to get a better perspective of what can be done to improve sewage treatment for Birmingham and Bloomfield Township.

Since recent meetings have shown that a proposed $2,500,000 interceptor sewer may become a reality by 1956, Egbert was authorized at this week's City Commission meeting to work out necessary arrangements for the treatment of sewage from the township, during the interim.

Seeking the least expensive but efficient method of expanding Birmingham's sewage treatment plant facilities during this period, the commission favored a plan which would create ponds at the rear of the plant, constructed with earth dikes. Costs would be equally shared.

This system, in addition to taking some of the load off the already over-burdened plant, would lessen pollution of the Rouge River.

A stop-pollution order from the State Water Resource Commission prompted Birmingham and five neighboring municipalities to underake the interceptor project as a joint responsibility.

A dance with 120 "stars" will be presented tomorrow, when 120 children attending City and Country School's summer program climax activities there.

All parents have been invited to attend a 2 p.m. performance of "The King Who Couldn't Dance," written by Mrs. Anita Gold, dramatics teacher there.

Backdrops for the play have been in the making for some time, with local artist Mrs. Charlotte Whitney directing the talents of the 6-through-9-year-olds.

Other art work, plus crafts and shop results, will be on display for parents to view.

Treats are on Kiwanians tomorrow, when they will take children from the nearby Baptist Children's Home (one of their projects) and any other children who have their parents' permission on an annual excursion to a children's amusement park on 8-mile-road.

Transportation will be provided and nurses will be in attendance while the youngsters eat sandwiches and ice cream and ride to their heart's content, from 1 to 6 p.m.

Kiwanis Clubs in Highland Park, Oak Park, Ferndale, Royal Oak and Berkley will also take part in the festivities, with over 1,000 youngsters expected.

Any child interested in joining in the fun may call Gilbert Schrock, local club treasurer, at MI 4-5364.

Berkley Man Awaiting Circuit Court in Forgery

BIRMINGHAM—Waiving examination when he appeared before Associate Justice John C. Emery Jr. yesterday on a forgery charge, Robert A. Eagles, 23, of Berkley was bound over to Oakland County Circuit Court.

Eagles was remanded to the Oakland County Jail when $2,000 bond was not furnished.

Police said Eagles forged four checks totaling $102.

Mrs. Betty Jean Brady, 1539 Humphrey, had reported the loss of seven checks, a tire and wheel, and a diamond wedding band, after Eagles roomed at her home. Police have recovered the ring.

Italy's Ex-Premier Dies at Age 73

from the titular leadership of his pro - Western, middle-of-the-road Christian Democrat party—Italy's largest—a little more than a month ago.

He ended his 7½ years as head of the Italian government a year ago, in July 1953, after losing a confidence vote in the Italian Parliament. But his party supplied succeeding cabinets and a protege of De Gasperi, former interior Minister Mario Scelba, now holds the premiership.

A messenger brought the news of the death before dawn to Scelba and the Premier hurried from his own vacation spot, Fiuggi, to the scene of the death of his old mentor.

Known in the troublesome early days of the Italian republic as the master of political compromise, De Gasperi changed later to become a two-fisted foe of the growing menace of communism.

The tall, hawk-faced leader first became premier in December 1945 because he was leader of Italy's biggst party. A noted anti-Fascist imprisoned often by Mussolini, he had served since the previous April as foreign minister.

In his first two years as premier he tried to work with his nation's Communists and fellow-traveling Socialists, but in the spring of 1947 abandoned the effort and in the 1948 elections inflicted a smashing defeat on the Reds.

For five years after that he fought the Reds at every turn, battling to keep his nation closely allied with the United States and the anti-Communist West, pushing the cause of European unity.

In 1949 he brought Italy into the North Atlantic alliance against Communist aggression as a charter member.

The Schuman coal-steel plan, the Council of Europe and the six-nation European army all received his enthusiastic support.

Honoring his pioneer work, the Coal-Steel Assembly last May elected him its president. Ironically, he died only a few hours before the foreign ministers of Italy and the five other nations of the projected European Defense Community gathered in Brussels at a meeting which may mean the death of the long-cherished international army plan.

Under De Gasperi's leadership, Italy became one of the most politically stable countries in Western Europe. In recent years, however, this stability began to crumble under the nation's chronic economic distress and deepening inroads by not only the Communists, but the Monarchists and Fascists as well.

In the 1953 parliamentary elections, De Gasperi's Christian Democrats tried to capture a majority in the Chamber of Deputies but finally were forced to rely on an uneasy center coalition to hold precarious control of the government.

On July 28, 1953, the combined opposition of Communists, Socialists, Monarchists and Fascists defeated De Gasperi by the narrow margin of 282-263 on his bid in the Chamber of Deputies for a vote of confidence. Worn by eight stormy years of continuous political battling, the old man handed in his resignation to President Luigi Einaudi.

He remained the dominant member of his party but a little more than a month ago, after a siege of declining health, he relinquished his leadership.

The ancient Greeks believed that the tongues of snakes had healing properties hence the snake in the symbol used by doctors.

Three Pontiac Explorer Scout posts will leave Friday night on a 17-day motor camping trip in the Rocky Mountains of Colorado, Wyoming and New Mexico.

Making the 4,200-mile tour of 10 states will be members of posts 4, 13 and 66.

First major stop is to be Rocky Mountain Naional Park for mountain climbing. Near Boulder, Colo., the Scouts will tour ghost mining towns and a gold mine. In Denver, they will inspect the U. S. Mint and the gold-domed state capitol building.

Those in the group who are Order of the Arrow members will attend the organization's national convention at the University of Wyoming in Laramie. The Order is a national honor society of Scout campers.

After visiting Cheyenne, the Explorers will head south again to Colroado Springs to see Pike's Peak, Royal Gorge and other natural wonders. They also are expected to call on Stuart Richter, formerly Pontiac parks and recreation director, who holds a similar post in that city.

Kit Carson's home will be visited on Philmont Ranch, national Boy Scout reservation in New Mexico. Accenting the group's interest in Indian lore, a stop will be made to study adobe dwellings in Taos and the Indian collection at the former governor's palace museum in Santa Fe.

Homeward bound, the Pontiac boys will visit Texas, St. Louis Municipal Zoo and Abraham Lincoln's home and tomb in Springfiled, Ill.

William J. DeGrace, Pontiac district vice-chairman in charge of Explorers and post 13 adviser, is tour director. He will be assisted by King Stetler, post 66 adviser, and Robert N. Webb, district camping chairman and post 4 adviser.

Explorers making the trip are: James Spring, Eddie Winchester, Don Hegeman, Bruce Gillies, David Birchmeier, Archie Haynes and Robert Franks.

This expedition is the most extensive tour ever made by a group of individual Pontiac Scout units. From time to time, the Pontiac Press will publish reports of activities during the trip.

Sues Policemen for Broken Jaw

Motorist Asks $20,475 for Damages, Naming 3 City Officers

A $20,475 damage suit is being heard today in Oakland County Circuit Court against three Pontiac Police officers who allegedly broke the jaw of a Detroit man stopped for reckless driving Aug. 16, 1952.

The suit, before Judge Frank L. Doty, was brought by Gerry Sanders, 32, who claims Officers James Bale, William Bailey and Richard Evans forced him from his car near Franklin Rd. and South Blvd. and inflicted the injury with a "metallic object."

Sanders claims he was held overnight in the Oakland County Jail without treatment for the injury. He was fined $50 the following day for reckless driving.

The officers deny they treated Sanders roughly and say if he had any known injuries he would have been treated before admittance to jail.

Attorney for Sanders is Milton R. Henry, with City Attorney William A. Ewart defending the officers.

Luncheon Honors Irons

The Republican nominee for Oakland County sheriff, Frank Irons, was honored at a luncheon at the Birmingham Comtry Club Tuesday by the club's president, Drew C. Haneline.

Motorcycle Patrolman Hurt, Driver Ticketed

A Pontiac patrolman was injured yesterday when a Milford housewife failed to yield right of way to his motorcycle and caused the officer to swerve and skid along the pavement at Auburn Avenue, and Jessie St., according to Pontiac Police.

Patrolman Howard E. Lenigan, 24, of 4 Williams St. was treated at Pontiac General Hospital for hip bruises. The motorist, Mrs. Erma R. Pachal, 39, of 254 Ruppert, was ticketed for failing to yield right of way. Officers stated that a bus obscured Mrs. Pachal's view.

Dog Aids Phone Calls

ATLANTA (AP) — Mrs. Dennis Meadows of Atlanta has a dog who answers the telephone for her—well, practically.

She leaves the pooch in the house when she's working in the yard. When it rings, the dog lifts the handset off the hook and gives Mrs. Meadows time to get inside before the caller gives up.

Industry Is Harnessing Water Power Along the Inside Passage to Alaska

By JOE HAAS
Pontiac Press Staff Writer

OCEAN FALLS, British Columbia — There's a mighty industrial race under way to harness the potential hydro-electro power going to waste in Southern Alaska and the Pacific Coast of British Columbia.

JOE HAAS

Financed largely in the United States, corporations already have tied up the franchise rights over an area of several hundred thousand square miles and some mills already are in operation.

These produce wood plup for the manufacture of paper and extend into several other older lines where cheap power is a large factor.

But the greatest development is in new lines, one of the most important of which is in the manufacture of aluminum.

Just getting under production at the new town of Kitimat, B. C., is the largest privately owned hydro-electro plant in the world. It turned out its first aluminum on Aug. 3.

This event clamaxed three years of labor for 10,000 men, and the expenditure of $300 millions, which will be extended to $500 millions within another couple of years. The water which drives its turbines has a drop of 2,600 feet.

Kitimat, which is planned to become a city of 50,000 people, is located on one of the arms of the Inside Passage, into which Alaska cruise ships take their passengers between glacier topped mountains. Within a few miles there are dozens of waterfalls, some of which exceed 2,000 feet in a sheer drop.

This new industrial center has no connection with the outside world except by water and air. A railroad and highway are now being built to it. It will produce 550,000 tons of aluminum per year.

Similar projects, but of a lesser nature, now are being worked out along the Inside Passage, both in British Columbia and Southern Alaska, where the ocean currents make year round sea navigation possible.

This area thus hopes to become world famous in an industrial as well as in a scenic way. In fact, it was passengers on some of these cruises who saw the industrial possibilities.

Few people in the United States realize the vast expanse of Alaska and the Canadian Northwest. Alaska itself is twice the size of Texas. It is one-fifth the size of the combined 48 states.

The North American continent takes such a spread to the west up this way that it is twice as far from Skagway to New York City as it it from Skagway to Tokyo. Also, it is approximately the same distance from Skagway to Sydney, Australia, as it is from Skagway to New York City.

This palatial cruise ship provides a joyous and restful 11 days in the middle of our vacation. It is like a floating big city hotel. There is never even the slightest vibration.

There is always plenty doing on the evenings and at other times when the outside scenery does not enthrall the passengers. The rooms are commodious and with all the conveniences of home.

On the closing night of the cruise, Mrs. Haas and myself were two of the four judges at the masquerade party, the third coming from Chicago and the other from New York City. There were dozens of entries from the 260 passengers, and only four prizes to award. Incidentally, there are many heretofore cordial people who are not speaking to us today.

Had refrained from any mention of the meals lest Dr. Don Smith might get worried about such temptations thrown in my way. But the uisine has been magnificent, and this is to notify Don that soon after embarking at Vancouver on Aug. 6, I threw my diet list into Puget Sound.

Firemen Battle 2 Area Blazes

Golf Range and Truck Keep Waterford Dept. Busy Today

Fire caused an estimated $2,800 dammage to the office building at Brode's Miniature Golf and Driving Range, 2045 Dixie Hwy., early today, according to Waterford Township Firemen.

When firemen arrived flames had engulfed most of the building, which was a total loss. The cause has not yet been determined, Fire Chief Rudy Boss said.

The fire was first noticed about 2 a.m. this morning, and two engines and firemen battled the flames for almost two hours.

The building, Boss said, was valed at $800, but the contents, including a jeep and golfing equipment added another $2,000 to the loss.

Firemen had just returned equipment to the station when they were summond to a second call at 485 Marian St., where a flood light truck was burning. Loss to the truck, owned by Robert Danton of 394 Ferry St., was estimated at $150. The cause was not known, Boss said. Waterford Township firemen finished a busy morning at 5:45 a.m.

Ike Opens Drive for GOP Control

out on the wrong side of the fence.

That story, the President went on, is "applicable today because certain politicians, despite the facts, seem to be coming out on the wrong side of the economic fence."

That was an obvious allusion to contentions by some Democrats that the administration was leading the nation into a depression.

Eisenhower then went on to say that it seems to him that "the country is getting pretty sick and tired of crooked fence politics."

Reviewing the record of Congress and his administration, the President declared that on the credit side, in the field of foreign affairs, the war in Korea has come to and end.

He also said that the Indochina settlement "while not necessarily to our liking," has been accomplished and that "we are moving with our Allies" toward the formation of a Southeast Asia Treaty Organization.

Eisenhower also mentioned the Suez area in Egypt, Iran and Guatemala as troubled places where the outlook is brighter today.

On the domestic front, the President pointed to congressional approval of his farm program providing for a shift from rigid price supports to flexible suports.

He spoke too of the tax revision bill he signed into law last week and mentioned the reduction it provides.

The President said the administration has cut federal spending by 10 billion dollars. He also mentioned the expanded social security program which is near enactment in Washington.

Before going to the fairgrounds, Eisenhower placed a large wreath at the tomb of Abraham Lincoln.

In his address later, the chief executive called it inspiring to visit the area where Lincoln lived, and noted that this is the centennial year of the birth of the Republican party.

Lincoln, Eisenhower added, would be proud of the Illinois delegation in Congress today. Referring to that delegation:

"They have been in the forefront of the struggle in Washington to carry out the party promises and to make good on the President's pledges to strengthen, without war, the economy and prosperity of our nation." Eisenhower said the Illinois delegation also has sought to "strengthen our security and that of our friends abroad."

Solons Cleaning Up Final Lawmaking

measures remained to be hammered out in conference.

The administration is opposed to a provision written into an anti-Communist bill by the Senate which would slap heavy penalties and fines on individual party members.

The conferees were seeking some way to meet administration objections, and still satisfy the majority in both Senate and House which have voted to ban the party through individual penalties. The Justice Department has expressed fear that making membership in the party illegal will interfere with prosecution of Red leaders under present laws.

The social security bill, a must item on the President's list and also that of nearly all of the lawmakers, is hung up over a controversy as to coverage.

The administration is seeking to extend social security coverage to 3,600,000 farm operators and 500,000 professional people but was turned down on this by the Senate.

The House accepted the President's position on coverage in large part, and its conferees are demanding that the two groups be included in the compromise bill. The Senate representatives have been just as adamant against it.

A controversy over a pay raise for 500,000 postal workers and 1½ million civil service classified workers still could delay adjournment.

But chances for the raise dimmed considerably yesterday after administration leaders again made clear that the President would not approve one without a postal rate increase.

The Senate kicked the matter around for a while yesterday, then put it back on the shelf. But the lawmakers have been under intense pressure to vote the pay hike before they leave town.

The Senate also has numerous minor bills it could act on, but most of these appeared certain to go down the drain in the rush of the weary lawmakers to quit.

Yesterday the Senate completed action on a whopping $1,659,000,000 catch-all money bill.

It also passed and sent back to the House, somewhat amended, one of the antisubversive bills asked by Eisenhower. It would strip U.S. nationality from citizens convicted of advocating the overthrow of the government by force and violence.

The House, meanwhile, sent to the President by voice vote a measure to broaden the unemployment compensation program to include another four million workers, mostly federal employes and workers in small firms now exempt. The act would take effect Dec. 31, 1955.

Savage Winds, Rain Lash Central Japan

TOKYO (AP) — Driving rain and high winds lashed the Tokyo area and all of central Japan today as a roaring Pacific typhoon began breaking up.

No additional casualties or damage were reported, but the storm still carried enough force to keep the luxury liner President Cleveland from docking at Yokohama.

Kyodo news service said typhoon casualties in southern Japan, hit by the storm yesterday, included 20 persons known dead, 35 missing and 58 injured. Property losses were in the millions of dollars.

A coiled steel spring weighing a pound can be made to lift a pound weight about 32 feet.

Marcantonio's Estate Valued Under $10,000

NEW YORK (AP) — Former Rep. Vito Marcantonio has left an estate valued at "less than $10,000."

Marcontonio, a left-wing New Yorker who represented Manhattan's East Harlem district for 14 years, died Aug. 9 while on his way to his law office.

Years ago, perfumes were blended by sending them to sea to be shaken by a ship's motion and today the same principle is used on rocking tables in perfume plants.

Land Purchaser Pays Restitution

Former Right-of-Way Chief Returns $39,000 of Fraud Money

MUSKEGON (AP) — G. Palmer Seeley, jailed former right-of-way chief for the Grand Rapids district of the State Highway Department, has made restitution of $39,000 to the state.

Seeley's attorney yesterday handed Circuit Judge Noel P. Fox a check for $35,000. It was the second payment the judge has received. And he said he would look over the records in the highway fraud case to see if Seeley has made full restitution.

Seeley and Mrs. Lois Moon Ley, Muskegon house mover, pleaded guilty recently to charges of conspiring to defraud the state of right-of-way purchase money.

Seeley is serving from 2½ to 5 years in Southern Michigan Prison while Mrs. Ley is serving 1½ to 5 years in the Detroit House of Correction for her part in the case.

Judge Fox said the total restitution due from the pair is $78,583. He indicated he doesn't intend to recommend a minimum sentence for either of them until he knows whether the entire amount will be returned to the state.

Meanwhile at Lansing, Atty. Gen. Frank G. Millard said he expects Mrs. Ley to make restitution before Sept. 9. Her payment is protected by securities in the hands of the court, he added.

Forum on Security Slated at Convention

To single persons, $25,000; couple, $22,000; couple with child, $21,000; couple with two children, $20,000; couple with "houseful of kids," $18,000; couple with houseful of kids and mother-in-law, $17,500.

49 Bottles of Beer Found in Boys' Car

DETROIT (INS) — Three boys were arrested early today when officers stopped them after a minor hit - run accident and found 49 bottles and cans of beer stowed in various parts of the car they were driving.

Jerry Curtis, 18, the driver; Eddie Milinowski, 20, and Rush Guigar, 18, all of Detroit, will be taken to court today on a charge of possessing and transporting alcoholic beverages.

Curtis also was ticketed for leaving the scene of a non-injury accident.

In another instance of alleged youthful waywardness, Thomas Angott, 21, told police he was on his way home from visiting a girl friend early today when he was yanked from his car and beaten by three boys about 19 whom he had never seen before.

Henry Kaiser May Build Auto Factory in Brazil

RIO DE JANEIRO (AP)—Henry J. Kaiser is considering establishing an auto plant in Brazil, the Brazilian government news agency announced yesterday.

Kaiser discussed the possibility with President Getulio Vargas Tuesday, the agency said. A company spokesman confirmed that such a plan is under consideration but that it is strictly in "a very preliminary stage."

Boy Plays Water Game, Drowns Staying Under

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Police pulled the body of 9-year-old Jimmy Berrian from the Cocoanut Grove Yacht Basin yesterday but efforts by a fire department respirator unit failed to revive him.

Homicide Detective W. P. McClure said witnesses told him the boy and a playmate had been trying to see who could stay under water longer.

This Bill Should Die

Few who know the facts will bemoan the probability that the Dirksen bill will die in Capitol Hill's adjournment rush.

Sponsored by the Illinois Senator, this measure would return many million dollars worth of German assets seized during the war. It is argued that return of the properties would win us friends abroad. Nonetheless, the moral and legal aspects of the seizure discount this argument.

The seizure was wholly in accordance with international law. Furthermore in 1948 Congress passed the war claims act providing that no external property seized from Germany or Japan could be returned. That law still is in effect.

In addition, we agreed with our Allies that property thus seized would be kept in lieu of reparations. The proceeds of these assets properly are being used to pay our soldiers who were war prisoners and citizens whose property was seized by the enemy.

State Department support of this bill has led to reports that it had the blessing of President EISENHOWER. Latest word, however, is that he opposes it, as does the Department of Justice.

Passage of this bill would result in pressure on our Allies to follow our example. They, no doubt, would object, naturally feeling that we should stick to our bargain.

If the unexpected should happen and this measure should reach a vote in either House, it should be rejected overwhelmingly.

Floating Radar Islands

No doubt considerable practical as well as imaginative thinking has gone into the armed forces' decision to build a string of floating radar islands off our Atlantic Coast.

Basic purpose of the islands is to serve as platforms for radar installations designed to increase the Nation's defenses against atomic attack.

Considerable protection already is afforded by radar stations operating along the East coast. But these islands will increase by at least a half hour the amount of advance warning that hostile air craft are approaching. As planned, the platforms' distance from shore will range up to 125 miles.

Usefulness of the islands isn't confined to expanding the radar screen. They will be equipped to handle helicopters, act as weather stations and perform other services at sea.

Construction details haven't been made public. Undoubtedly, however, the engineers will take advantage of existing conditions by locating many of the floating islands on off shore shoals.

Completion of the island chain should result in a greater feeling of public confidence that everything possible is being done to increase your defense against surprise attack.

Our Engineer Shortage

A growing problem furrowing the brows of industrial and Government leaders is the country's shortage of engineers, scientists and other highly trained specialists.

This shortage is especially serious because of its relationship to our national security. Not long ago Assistant Defense Secretary QUARLES warned that the Soviet Union was cutting down the lead that has been held by the United States in weapons technology.

Earlier this year a study showed that in the event of an emergency, "our resources of highly trained manpower will probably be the ultimate limiting factor in our capacity for mobilization."

Figures explain the deep concern felt by officials. This year Russia has graduated 53,000 engineers, an increase from the 40,000 total of 1953. In the same period only 17,000 engineers were graduated by American colleges and universities. Thus it is clear that the USSR with 400,000 engineers soon will surpass our estimated total of 500,000.

Various steps should be taken to help ease the shortages of the engineers and scientists who are so much needed for industrial development as well as for national defense.

The National Manpower Council has called for a co-operative effort by Government, industry and professional organizations. It urges the strengthening of institutions which train specialists and the maintenance of a large and steady flow of students through those institutions.

To do this, of course, means that the number of scholarships and fellowships, already large, should be increased. So also should the grants made to schools which train students for scientific and technical careers.

Detroit Newspaper Got Its Start on Plant From Here

Daffynition

Vacation: Two weeks off, often followed by two off weeks.

It is a historical fact that the first newspaper published in Detroit, that was to endure, was printed on a press moved there from Pontiac. On it had been printed Pontiac's first newspaper—which did not endure. The 123 year old Detroit Free Press recently called attention to this matter. Pontiac's first newspaper was the Oakland Chronicle, established in 1830. It was a weekly, of course, and succumbed after several months' effort, and the plant was hauled through the woods to Detroit for the start of the Free Press. Pontiac's first paper that did endure was the Weekly Gazette, started in 1843, and merged with the Pontiac Press soon after the latter was established as a daily in 1900.

Most of us will agree with the opinion of that here in Pontiac we have many of the things that make life more the worth living that are badly lacking in larger cities.

"We are all thankful we have common sense, and feel sorry for our friends who show they lack it when they disagree with us," says

Dr. John Brownfain,

University of Michigan psychologist.

Cecil O. Thrash

is doing a mighty good job as editor of

The Pontiac Warrior,

newsy and colorful bi-weekly publication of Pontiac Motor Division.

The several inquirers who have asked how to identify poison ivy plants are reminded of that old and infallible rule,

"Leaves three; let it be."

"It is all a matter of cooperation," says

Harold L. Pocklington,

executive secretary of

at Rochester. If the patient will take a liking for the dog, the animal almost invariably will love the patient, but if the latter will not cooperate the dog soon discovers it.

The principal peeve of the architect of this column is the manner in which Detroit papers speak of famous people in the world of golf and otherwise, who live in Oakland County, as "Detroiters."

12-Month Use of Schools Is Suggested to Aid Building and Teacher Shortages

(Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests, unless the letter is critical in its nature.)

Educators were deeply concerned when the 1947 birth rate broke all records. They looked to 1952-53 as years with unprecedented enrollments. However, when the census figures for 1952 were made known, again the birth records were broken and the problem must be met again in 1957!

The Board of Education issued the following statement recently: "We will be crowded with 17,000 students in our schools in September 1954. (In order to house 17,000 we will use 34 temporary rooms, 15 basement rooms and 8 to 10 other undesirable rooms.)"

A shortage of rooms is not the only problem. The present supply of teachers cannot possibly be stretched to cover the increased enrollment and something must be done to increase the number of college graduates going into the teaching profession.

The school year would be divided into four twelve-week terms, with three-fourths of the children in attendance at any given time. Of course, one-fourth of the children would have to take their vacations each term, summer, winter, spring or fall. It is obvious how this would relieve both the pressing need for classrooms and the teacher shortage.

Naturally, there are many problems that could not be solved without much thought and planning. However, the really acute problems, building, school finances and teacher shortage outweigh all others and surely the field of education doesn't lack for brains to solve any additional problems that may arise!

Case Records of a Psychologist

Horses Are Pretty Smart Creatures; Can Tell You Everything but 'Thanks'

Mabel is a very smart horse. She talked to Mrs. Crane in horse language, and even demonstrated her difficulty so Mrs. Crane could see the trouble. She has enough intelligence to tell "right" from "left," but she doesn't say "Thank you." But neither do a lot of human beings, either.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case L-388: Mabel, aged 14, was one of the mares which we have on our farm.

Now that tractors have largely supplanted horses, we have little practical use for ours.

But I have refused to sell them to be butchered for dog meat because I like horses, and so does Mrs. Crane. Her aged father, who is going on 92, is especially fond of them.

So I keep them chiefly for scenic purposes. Besides, when I lived on the farm, I always used horses, for tractors hadn't become popular at that time. Horses thus help carry me back to my childhood moods.

Mrs. Crane was walking down the road from our house to get breakfast for her aged father.

As she passed the apple orchard, she heard Mabel whinny. Mrs. Crane didn't notice it particularly, so Mabel whinnied a second time.

Mrs. Crane now looked across the orchard and there she saw Mabel standing beside the woven wire fence.

Mabel realized she had my wife's attention, so Mabel lifted her right front foot and started jiggling it to make a noise.

The fence began to creak where the wire was sliding back and forth under the loose staples on neighboring fence posts, so Mrs.

Crane decided Mabel must have her foot caught.

It was too far for my wife to see the wire clearly, but she called out reassuringly: "Whoa, Mabel. Whoa. Hold still and I'll help you."

Mabel immediately stood still. She quit jiggling her foot. And Mrs. Crane cut across the orchard to the spot where Mabel stood.

Mabel was a very large mare so Mrs. Crane was a little fearful lest she get her hand trampled under hoof.

"Hold still, Mabel," she said as she patted the horse's neck.

Then she bent down and managed to pry the wires apart. Mabel turned her head around to observe the proceedings.

Mrs. Crane then placed her foot on the wire fence to hold it steady, and slapped Mabel's imprisoned foot, while she said, "Up, Mabel."

And Mabel obediently lifted her foot. But she then surprised Mrs. Crane, for after her foot came free, Mabel still held her foot up in the air.

"It's all right," Mrs. Crane then added. "You can put your foot down."

Mabel did so and took a few steps. Reassured that she was now free of the fence, she contentedly began nibbling grass.

Horses are pretty smart creatures. At least, they know the difference between right versus left, for you can yell "Gee" at an experienced horse and it will turn right.

Shout "Haw" and it will go left. The average child must be 6 years old before he can tell the difference between left and right.

Some animals in the same species are also brighter than others, just as some human beings have higher I. Q.'s than the feebleminded.

Among white rats and guinea pigs, therefore, we find brilliant "Aristotles" as well as some imbeciles and idiot rats.

Some rats can thus thread a puzzling maze in quick order, while it takes the more stupid rats dozens of attempts before they learn.

Thus, Mrs. Crane taught our terrier Sandy to sit up, to stand on her hind feet, to roll over, to walk on her hind feet, to shake hands, etc. in less than an hour, but other dogs don't react nearly that fast.

Always write to Dr. Crane in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long 3c stamped envelope, and a dime to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his psychological charts.

Aunt Het

Jane never let her younguns think for themselves, and now the married ones can't powder a baby without callin' up to ask her advice.

David Lawrence Says:

Exercise-of-Office Ruling Surely Is Not 'Dishonesty'

WASHINGTON—Maybe a new word has come into the political dictionary — "Mitchellism" — and perhaps it ought to be spelled with a small "m" for, as Truman says about such words, they represent a technique rather than anything personal.

"Mitchellism" means making a speech which charges the President of the United States with dishonesty in the conduct of his office and accuses him of "guilt by association" with individuals who play golf with him—if they happen to have business affiliations.

Adlai Stevenson denies that Stephen Mitchell did "attack the honesty of the President."

Since Mitchell is chairman of the Democratic National Committee, it would appear to be up to Stevenson, as titular leader of the Democratic party, to draw up any resolution of "censure," so to speak, in order to achieve that form of party discipline which the so-called "liberals" have at times urged Eisenhower to exert upon the national chairman of his party.

Mitchell's words are to be found in a prepared speech issued in advance of delivery before the annual meeting of the American Bar Association, where the nation's best lawyers congregate. They usually understand the explicit meaning of words and innuendoes. Here is Mitchell's exact statement:

"In my view, giving away the people's property is corruption even if it's done brazenly in broad daylight. Money doesn't have to change hands in little black bags, as in Teapot Dome days.

"Let's look, for example, at the Dixon-Yates scandal. Here was a deal to grant a subsidy of $140 million to a favorable power syndicate, on the President's personal order, over the protest of the Atomic Energy Commission and the TVA, without competitive bidding.

"A director of one of the two companies in the favored syndicate is one of the President's closest friends, with a cottage next door to President Eisenhower's at the Augusta Golf Course. Maybe they never even talked about it, I don't know."

Why, it will be asked, was the personal relationship of the President and Bobby Jones, the former national golf champion, dragged into the papers in this way? For nobody can doubt what the effect of the Mitchell innuendo was, when published from coast to coast.

It was a smear upon the integrity of the President. What a "sorry reward" for a man who has served his country so well through his life that now he is to be accused of dishonesty in public office by the man who runs the Democratic party's official machinery.

Denials will be of little avail. For Chairman Mitchell has so worded his inference of guilt that the explanations "will never catch up with the accusations."

It will be interesting to see how many clergymen now will preach from pulpits about this form of character assassination and how many of the so-called liberal groups will now cry out about the wave of hate which nowadays has crept into the forums of public affairs.

As for the facts on the power contract made by the Atomic Energy Commission, there are two sides to the controversy.

Sen. Fulbright of Arkansas, Democrat, who is one of the most ardent of the followers of Stevenson, says the contract was awarded properly and not a bit of scandal was connected with it. He ought to know, as the power plant is to be built in his state and naturally he is thoroughly familiar with all its details.

As for a subsidy, the question really was whether the American people would get less out of it by allowing the TVA—a government corporation which pays no federal taxes—to build the plant or by letting it be done by a private power company which pays taxes.

In the end, more money, it is estimated, will come to the government through encouragement of private industry.

As for the Atomic Energy Commission's action, Mitchell doesn't reveal to his listeners and readers that some of the Truman appointees constituted a 3-to-2 majority and raised some doubts as to what legal steps were necessary as there were no precedents.

The matter was referred to the President, who, upon receiving legal advice, instructed the commission that it had authority to make the proposed contract.

Whether or not this was a correct action—and there is no persuasive evidence against it—the fact remains that the exercise of official judgment should not be assailed as dishonest, nor should there be accusatory inferences about "corruption in broad daylight" and "little bags of money" where the acts of Dwight Eisenhower are concerned.

This, however, is "Mitchellism," which is strangely akin to "Trumanism," for it will be recalled that in the campaign of 1948 the then President made an analogous attack on the integrity of Eisenhower.

Strange how indifferent some of the Democrats can be about character assassination when they themselves are wielding the smear brushes.

We'll buzz you a secret very few people don't know. If the Demmies trap November's Congress Ike will still renew his option. His opponent will be the everblooming Adlai Stevenson the talking man.

Nobody ever said Stevenson isn't a good man. The trouble is nobody ever said he was a bad one.

If Ike likes the aftermath of the November opinions he is in. The wind shows who's pulling the short straws.

Best Staff of Life Is Wheat or Rice, but They Must Be Eaten in Natural State

By WILLIAM BRADY, M.D.

It is high time for medical practitioners to discard the notion that our scale of living is the highest in the world and learn to recognize the symptoms and signs of beri beri.

This is fully as prevalent in America as it is in Asia, although most American victims of beri beri remain ambulatory, and indeed many of them do not seek medical advice because they think their trouble is nothing that this or that nostrum won't cure.

Beri beri in Singhalese means "I cannot," I'm too weak, too ill to do anything.

It is a nutritional deficiency disease, due to lack of sufficient vitamin B. Extreme deprivation of vitamin B, from poverty or famine accounts for the severe form of beri beri in the Orient, especially where refined white polished rice is the sole or chief item of diet.

If the people replace polished rice with natural, brown, red unmilled rice they will not develop beri beri, because unrefined rice is the best food source of vitamin B in the Orient.

If the people replace refined white flour with whole wheat flour here in the Occident they will not develop beri beri, because plain wheat (staff of life) is the best food source of vitamin B in America.

Occidental beri beri, like the severer Oriental type, does not strike victims down abruptly this afternoon or last week. It develops insidiously, a gradually increasing weakness which sneaks up on you while you doctor yourself with whatever sedatives, tonics or liver regulators casual bystanders recommend.

Since the only effective remedy for prevention or cure of American beri beri is vitamin B, and vitamin B can do no harm whether you have beri beri or not, here are some of the symptoms of beri beri:

Feeling of fatigue, heaviness and stiffness of the legs, sometimes the weakness of the legs is so pronounced that the legs collapse suddenly after a mile walk. Burning sensation around toes and numbness over top of foot.

Calf of leg is tender when grasped by the hand and squeezed. Loss of sensation over the shin bone. Burning, numbness or loss of power in hands. Shortness of breath, palpitation on exertion. Dyspepsia. "pins and needles" in hand and-or feet, fatigue, breathlessness, palpitation, puffiness of edema round the ankles.

Knee jerks not as active as they should be — no responsive kick when tendon just below knee cap is tapped. If the individual with Yankee beri beri squats on his heels the position is painful and he may be unable to rise to his feet without using his hands or being helped. Distension and prominence of veins in the neck and arms.

The best food sources of vitamin B are plain wheat, oatmeal, egg yolk, fish roe, liver, heart, kidney, lean pork, cooked smoked ham, bacon, lean beef, string beans, buckwheat, dried beans, fresh peas, dried peas, canned peas, peanuts, nuts, whole dried milk.

Send stamped, self-addressed envelope and ask for pamphlet Wheat to eat which tells how to restore the staff of life to the family dietary.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long, pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. Brady if a stamped, self addressed envelope is enclosed, etc.

Mail in the Ocean Traced to Postman

NEW YORK (AP) — A letter carrier faces charges of destroying mail — by swimming out and dumping it in the Atlantic Ocean.

Authorities said Joseph J. Michalozic, 31, admitted yesterday he put the mail in a shoebox and swam out about a mile off Gilgo Beach to dump it.

A lifeguard at Lido Beach, some miles down the Long Island shore, found the box with the letters still inside and turned it over to postal authorities.

Then postal inspectors traced a shoe company label on the box to Michalozic, through post office records showing he had received a package from the company recently. Michalozic, of Hempstead, N.Y., is a summer substitute postman.

He was quoted as saying his wife's suicide after childbirth and pain from a war injury had combined to make him too "lazy" to deliver the mail.

New Flexible Plumbing Decreases Housing Cost

CHICAGO (UP) — A new method of installing plumbing has cut the cost of two housing projects.

According to the National Association of Housing and Redevelopment Officials, the new method might be called a lead pipe cinch.

The plumbing was installed before the houses were built in projects at Nashville, Tenn., and Pueblo, Colo.

The secret is that the pipes are lead and were bent and reshaped to fit the houses that were built later.

Bobbies Using Dogs to Curb Purse-Snatching

NEW YORK (AP) — Police with purse-snatching problems might look to London's Hyde Park police for a hint, the Dog Welfare Guild says.

In 1948, the Guild says, Hyde Park officers had 214 purse snatchings to contend with. After adding dogs trained for police work to the park staff, the number of cases dropped to 18 in 1952.

Watches of Course

BASEL, Switzerland (INS)—The biggest industries fair ever held here had products displayed by some 2,500 exhibitors representing every segment of the highly-industralized Swiss economy.

Precision items, which make up the bulk of the country's exports, ranged from giant ship propulsion units to tiny women's watches the size of a match head.

One of the ten-day exhibition's main attractions was the horological section, called the Basel Watch Fair, where Switzerland's watchmakers annually unveil their latest were automatic timepieces so sensitive that they wind themselves even when worn on the lapel or as a costume jewelry piece.

This year's enlarged Swiss Industries Fair comprised 21 exhibition halls containing more than 1.3 million square feet of display space.

Teenagers Avoid Milk

LONDON (INS) — Teenagers' drinking habits are apparently changing in Britain. The National Milk Publicity Council is currently complaining that young British girls are so anxious about their figures today that they are refusing to drink milk.

Sharp-Eyed Inspector Discovers Minute Flaws

GENEVA, N. Y. (INS) — Trying to fool the fool-proof flaw catcher is a favorite sport at the Sharon Optical Company plant.

But it's virtually impossible to put one over on Julia Barrody when it comes to spotting flaws in eyewear lenses.

A lens inspector for 20 years, Julia handles an average of six lenses a minute, or more than 2,700 a day. Recently, co-workers "planted" a lens with a flaw that hadn't occurred in all her years of glass gazing. She caught and classified the trouble mark instantly.

Visitor Asks 'Hands Off'

PHILADELPHIA (INS)—Mayor Joseph S. Clark's office received a postal card that was straight to the point. The card read: "I don't want your policemen to bother me—nor make a silly false arrest as they did when I was here in 1949. Sure I'm going to drink some, but will not bother anyone."

Horseshoe crabs, found along the Atlantic seaboard, are more closely related to scorpions and spiders than to true crabs. The ancestry of these primitive creatures goes back more than 300 million years.

10 Killer Weeds Listed

PHILDELPHIA (INS)—Robert H. Beatty, president of the Association of Regional Weed Control Conferences, has cited the nation's "ten top public enemy weeds" and said they are robbing the U. S. of four billion dollars worth of food crops a year in addition to killing other plants and animals. The weeds are: Canada thistle, field bindweed, wild oats, giant foxtail, Johnson grass, nut grass, quack grass, horse nettle, mesquite and scrub oak.

AAA Says Calls Down

NEW YORK (INS)—You can take the word of the American Automobile Association for it, motorists had less trouble in 1953 than in 1952. The AAA said some 41 million calls were placed for aid by motorists during 1953, more than a million less than in 1952.

So sparsely settled are some sections of Australia that the National Geographic Society's map of this island continent shows a number of individual homesteads by name, as if they were towns or cities.

Build Floating Garage

LONDON (INS)—A unique floating garage costing $2,000,000 has been built at Dover by British railways. The garage, complete with loading berths and bridges, service station, custom house, post office, restaurant and shops, can handle 250 cars an hour.

The nation's 6,000 savings and loan associations hold an average of more than $114 of savings for every person in the United States, or a total savings capital of over $23 billion.

Pays Thru Channels

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (INS)—Irving Martin found $28 on his front lawn and returned it to Edward Bishop, a mailman who, in turn, gave it back to Martin as final payment for an automobile Bishop bought from Martin.

The smuggling methods are only known by Reverend Malof and his followers.

A-Workers OK 6-Cent Increase

Rebuffed CIO Leaders Are Still Holding Out for 15-Cent Boost

OAK RIDGE, Tenn. (AP)—By voting to accept a previously rejected 6-cent hourly wage increase, AFL atomic production workers put the squeeze on disturbed CIO union leaders who said today the AFL vote would not block their demands for a 15-cent boost.

The AFL workers put teeth into their leaders' recommendations by voting about 2-1 in secret ballot yesterday to accept the 6-cent wage hike suggestion handed down June 15 by the President's atomic energy labor relations panel.

Disappointed CIO Local President Emerson Pownall said today, "We thought that they would back us up. We wanted their support but they're not going to stop us."

And he added: "We think we'll win out in the end."

Always in the past, Carbide and Carbon Chemicals Co. has granted identical increase to the CIO and AFL at bargaining time. The company operates all four atomic plants involved here and at Paducah, Ky., for the Atomic Energy Commission. A wage increase won't cost Carbide anything for, under the cost-plus contract, the firm will pass along the increase to the government.

Leaders of the unions, which represent about 4,500 workers each, have been requesting more money to offset rent increases in government-owned housing here. Pownall said the increases ranged from "28 to 51 per cent." Both unions draw scale ranging from $1.58 to $2.40 an hour.

The next action in the four-month-old wage wrangle probably will come Aug. 23 when CIO representatives meet in Washington with AEC officials. The meeting was approved by the Labor Department when the CIO workers returned in July from a four-day strike here and at Paducah, where the country's entire supply of uranium-235 is produced.

The CIO workers — members of the Gas, Coke and Chemical Workers — sought 21 cents an hour at first, then scaled demands to 15 while the AFL — members of the Atomic Trades and Labor Council — had asked 19 cents.

Battle Creek Shows Big Traffic Progress

BATTLE CREEK, (AP) — Battle Creek has been awarded first place by the American Bar Assn. for showing the greatest improvement in traffic courts in cities of comparable size.

Last year the local municipal court was rated fifth among 196 cities by the national safety council for its method and record of handling traffic cases.

In 1952, before the municipal court was established and when the city was operating with justice courts, it was rated 92nd among 196 cities.

Five Bullets Kill Gambling Head

Capone Mob Member Found Dead in Auto on Chicago's West Side

CHICAGO (AP)—Charles (Cherry Nose) Gioe, who survived gangland shootings when he was a member of Al Capone's mob, was found shot to death in an automobile last night.

Assassins pumped five bullets into his body. Police said they could not find any witnesses. But they found several persons who had heard the shots.

Gioe's body was slumped over the front seat, his head against the right-hand door. The ignition keys of the car were clutched in his right hand.

Gioe, 52, and three other Capone gangsters were sent to prison in 1944 after their conviction of conspiracy for extorting more than one million dollars from the motion picture industry. The four won a parole in 1947 after serving one third of a 10-year sentence.

Chief of Detectives John T. O'Malley theorized Gioe was ambushed as he prepared to start his car after visiting a restaurant in which he had an interest. The restaurant is about half a block from where Gioe's car was parked in Erie Street near May Street on the city's near West Side.

Police said the slayers fired nearly a dozen shots, five striking Gioe in the head, shoulder, back, chest and hip.

Police said the car, which bore Texas license plates, had been loaned to Gioe by Jack Weingarten of Chicago.

Gioe, reportedly the manager of the big gambling operations of the Capone gang, had been questioned by police last March after the gangland killing of Paul (Needle Nose) Labriola and James Weinberg, whose bodies were found stuffed into the trunk of an automobile.

American Girl Drowns After Fall Into Stream

ATHALMER, B.C., (AP) — An American girl tourist survived a 60-foot fall into a mountain stream but drowned while trying to swim to safety, Royal Canadian Mounted Police reported yesterday.

The Mounties said Patricia Chrispensen of Dubuque, Iowa, lost her balance while posing for a photograph Tuesday at the edge of Marble Canyon in Kootenay National Park and toppled over the edge.

Pontiac National Guard Units Busy at Grayling

PASSING IN REVIEW—The men of Pontiac's 107th Ordnance Co., led by Capt. Carl G. Yarling, pass the reviewing stand during a parade at Camp Grayling. The unit is attached to the 46th Infantry "Iron Fist" National Guard Division now taking their two-week summer training.

Pontiac Press Photos by Eddie Vanderwerp

MACHINEGUN SUPPORT—Sgt. Orville McMorris Jr. of 6133 Lindsay, Drayton Plains, directs a squad of his machinegun section as they cover advancing infantrymen during a demonstration at Camp Grayling Saturday. On the gun is Spl. Thomas Hibbard of 22720 W. 13-Mile Rd., Birmingham. Cpl. William Cavalier of 309 Seward St., feeds ammunition into the weapon. All three are members of Pontiac's Co. M., 125th Infantry Regiment, a National Guard unit.

CHOW TIME—Sfc. Nicholas T. Jackson Jr. (right) of 8925 Robson, Detroit, mess sergeant for the National Guard's 107th Ordnance Co. now encamped at Camp Grayling, supervises the preparation of food for the National Guardsmen. Pvt. Ronald G. Burrill (center) of 398 First St., takes up the baked potatoes while Sgt. John Mix of 16110 Tucker Rd., Holly, gives his attention to frying fish. The ordnance company's mess hall is a modern, cool building constructed of cinder blocks—a change from the old Army frame mess halls so familiar to many.

Rubber-Makers in Prison

HONG KONG (AP)—The Chinese Communists have imposed prison sentences and fines on persons accused in Tientsin of supplying several hundred thousand rotten rubber shoes to Red soldiers in Korea.

The case, described as the "law-breaking case of 18 private rubber goods factories of Tientsin," broke into the Red press last year. Reports said the shoes came apart on the soldiers' feet in the field.

A preliminary investigation showed, said Peiping, that the rubber had been adulterated, poor chemicals used causing the soles to part from the uppers, fats were substituted for rubber, formulas were tampered with, contracts were fulfilled late or weren't fulfilled at all, and outdated materials used.

Managers and a few government officials were brought to public trial. They were also accused of robbing the state of about $100,000 through diversion of good rubber and good canvas to their own use.

The Audrey Hepburn Story

Early Life Sparked Curious Mixture --- That's Audrey

By DICK KLEINER
(Fourth of Five Articles)

NEW YORK (NEA) — Audrey Hepburn's mysterious quality of being simultaneously down-to-earth and out-of-this world may spring from her curious background. It would be difficult for anyone coming from such a background to be run of the mill.

To begin with, take her parents. Her father was a wealthy Anglo-Irish businessman, J. A. Hepburn-Ruston, with Fascistic tendencies—he was a member of the notorious British Blackshirts, led by Sir Oswald Mosley.

Her mother was the daughter of an important Dutch family—her grandfather, Baron Aernoud van Heemstra, had been governor of the Dutch colony of Surinam, and the family home had been the famous Castle of Doorn, where the German Kaiser spent his last days.

To complicate this mixture, the marriage was unhappy, and her parents were divorced when she was 10.

Even earlier, she had been leading a split life—winters at school in England, summers at her father's estate in Belgium, where she was born.

Then there was another complication, the war. It began when she was 10. She had been in England, in comparative safety, but, curiously, her mother took her to the family home in Holland. So, for six years, she lived under the Nazis, and her once-secure life tumbled and she learned the meaning of fear and hunger and other things that had been only words in books.

Out of all this came a girl who combines the old-worldliness of her mother's people with the gayety of her father's Irish forebears; a girl who knows how to portray the joys of love and the sorrows of separation; a girl whose eyes mirror both the happiness and tragedy she has lived through.

It is not surprising that such a girl would be an unpredictable medley, and that she is. She can be all things to all people—and, it must be admitted, to a few she is nothing.

The turning point in her life came one day in 1940. She was 11, living in Arnheim, Holland. The Sadler's Wells ballet trouge made one of its last appearances on the continent, and little Audrey Hepburn was in the audience.

When the performance was over, she'd made up her mind. She was going to be a ballet dancer. It was as simple as that.

And so, while the war raged around her and an uncle and a cousin were shot by the Nazis and a brother hauled off to concentration camp, once a week the big-eyed child went to ballet class.

She soon was accomplished enough to give little recitals of her dancing skill — recitals in basements and back rooms, with the pitifully small proceeds going to the Dutch underground.

There was more and more privation for the family. Food was scarce, and Audrey was thin to begin with. So it hit her hard, and she still has a weakness that doctors say began with her anemic condition and malnutrition.

Even today, she can't work too hard too long. Even today, she has a passion for chocolate that dates back to her wartime hunger.

With the end of the war, ballet became her life. She studied rigorously, and her long legs grew more and more skillful, more and more shapely. Shapely enough, in fact, to land her a chorus girl spot in a London production of High Button Shoes after she moved back to England for ballet studies.

It was the lure of more money in the chorus line than in ballet that took her to that audition.

And from the chorus it was just a hop, skip and high kick to the other jobs — nightclubs, revues, small movie parts. In one of these, she played a bit part with Alec Guinness in The Lavender Hill Mob.

In another, she was shipped to Monte Carlo for location shots. There she was spotted by the French author, Collette. Collette's novel, Gigi, had been made into a play by Anita Loos, and the fabulous Frenchwoman was looking for a girl to play the title role. One look at Audrey Hepburn and that was it.

In November, 1951, Audrey Hepburn was in New York and by December she was the coming actress of the year. Her name went up on the theater marquee. Nightly, the audience was full of talent scouts from Hollywood. Daily, the press carried her picture and stories about her. One play did it.

She doesn't know when she felt that the stage was more her metier than either the ballet or chorus line. But sometimes during her days in England the stage bug bit her, and she began studying drama.

So she was ready when Collette spotted her.

(TOMORROW: What a difference a year makes.)

AN UNPREDICTABLE MEDLEY: Audrey Hepburn turns on three of her curious repertoire of moods for camera. Occasion was a press conference last March, after she was awarded movie Oscar.

TANK REPAIR — Maintenance shop foreman M/Sgt. Charles Griggs (right) of 9661 Bonny Briar, White Lake Township, makes sure that the last bolt is tightened up on a disabled M4 tank by Pvt. James Gottschalk of 5555 Cooley Lake Rd., Waterford Township, at the 107 Ordnance Co. repair shop. Chief Warrant Officer John C. Bushart of 1875 Lafayette, Bloomfield Township looks over the maintenance work. Pontiac's 107th is to return to Pontiac Saturday.

Actress Marries Editor of Michigan Chronicle

DETROIT (AP)—William Matney, managing editor of the weekly Michigan Chronicle and secretary of the Michigan Athletic Board of Control, and Irene Williams, co-star of the "Porgy and Bess" troupe, were married at Bowling Green, Ohio, Wednesday.

It is the first marriage for the Jamaica, N.Y., actress and the second for Matney.

Korea Shuffle Bolsters Defense

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States will pull two thirds of its ground strength out of Korea in the next few months in carrying out a new military strategy to mount a flexible defense against Communist China and at the same time build up a central strategic reserve at home.

In the largest peacetime redeployment of American forces, announced yesterday, four full divisions will be withdrawn from Korea. Two divisions and smaller units will return to the United States, and Okinawa and Hawaii will be strengthened by one division each.

The new military thinking lays increased stress upon flexibility and the importance of the western Pacific defense line running from the Philippines in the south through Nationalist Formosa and Okinawa to Japan.

When the troop reshuffling has been completed, probably next year, America's military lines will shape up like this:

Two U.S. divisions will remain in Korea to support a South Korean army now made up of 20 divisions and to be strengthened by additional American assistance. The British Commonwealth Division and smaller units from other Allied nations also remain.

Okinawa, now a major air base, is garrisoned by one Army regimental combat team, about 5,000 strong. The new emphasis upon the importance of that island won from Japan in World War II will send a full division to Okinawa, probably the 1st Marine Division now in Korea. That Marine division and its supporting ground units and air wing is the most powerful single military unit now in the Far East.

Formosa, as Eisenhower noted, would be guarded by the U.S. 7th Fleet, which has been under orders to defend the island since the outbreak of the Korean War.

In Japan, where U.S. ground forces now include the Army's 1st Cavalry Division, the 3rd Marine Division and the 187th Army Regimental Combat Team, Army officials thought it likely the 1st Cavalry and the combat team would be among the units to come back to the United States.

Both Houses Rap Agriculture Dept.

LANSING (AP)—A legislative resolution today criticized the State Agriculture Department for failing to get going on permitting bulk milk dispensers as provided for by law this spring.

Gov. Williams leaped to the defense of the department. He said a public hearing on proposed regulations to put the law into effect was scheduled for Friday.

The hearing, the governor said, was scheduled "after extensive scientific research by the dairy experts" in the department.

"Apparently no one in the Legislature bothered to ask the department about the new regulation," the governor said. "If they had, they would have known their resolution wasn't in order."

Introduced by Rep. Herb Clements (R-Deckerville), the resolution suggested that the department use federal regulations until it could devise state regulations. The resolutions passed both houses unanimously by voice votes.

Traveler Takes Full Authority on Train, Truck

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—James Jenkins was in dire need of transportation to get home yesterday.

First, according to the police report, he tried to engineer an empty subway train from its overnight terminal. Then he was arrested behind the wheel of a delivery truck he had commandeered when he couldn't start the train.

When he was unable to explain his possession of the starting tools for the train and a detachable motorman's seat, arresting officers charged him with burglary and larceny.

All fleas live as parasites on mamals or birds.

China Sow Farrows 10 in All-Male Litter

HUGO, Okla. (AP)—A purebred Poland China sow owned by Mrs. T. L. Webb has farrowed "10 lovely pigs, all males," a rarity, she reports.

County Agent John D. Netherton supports Mrs. Webb'a claim. Chances of a litter being of one sex are "one in a million," he declared.

Colorado Opens Its Arms, Awaits the Eisenhowers

Memo: To President Eisenhower
Subject: Colorado Vacation
From: The Associated Press, Denver
Date: August 19, 1954

Denver and Colorado are all set for your arrival at the summer White House. Your advance staff is completing the administration arrangements at your office at Lowry Air Base, the Secret Service is setting up its elaborate guards, there's not a cigarette butt in sight on the post grounds, and the fish are jumpin'.

Aksel Nielsen, the genial host of Byers Peak Ranch at Fraser, says the trouting is good in St. Louis Creek. The water was low early in the season because Aksel had to irrigate the hay crop for his fat cattle, but the situation is ideal now.

Bal Swan reports the South Platte at his place near Buffalo Creek, where you've been fishing for 20 years, is tops now. But you'd better hurry because a newspaperman warming up the river for you pulled seven trout out of that hole under the bridge not long ago.

Both Bal and Aksel will try to be patient while you finish up official business after you get here, but they're drooling for some fish they expect you to catch and fry for them over a camp fire on the river bank.

Rip Arnold, golf pro at Cherry Hills Country Club, reports the course is in very good shape now. It was a little dry earlier in the year, but the new irrigating system has fixed it up great.

The Rev. Robert S. Lutz, minister at the Corona Presbyterian church you attend out here, apologizes for the construction that's going on. However, services are going on as usual and the congregation is looking forward to having you join them again.

Over at 750 Lafayette St., your mother-in-law Mrs. John Doud, has been scurrying around getting everything ready for your visit. The neighbors report they'll be happy to have you come home again for a vacation.

They said, by the way, they don't think the Secret Service men are a nuisance at all. Mrs. Alvin J. Schrepferman, your neighbor, said "they do their job without bothering anybody."

As another of your summer neighbors put it, they want you and Mrs. Eisenhower to feel at home.

That's about the situation, Nielsen, Gov. Dan Thornton, Mrs. Doud and the Lowry commander, Brig. Gen. John T. Sprague, will be on hand to meet you. Everybody hopes Congress gets through so you can get out here by Saturday.

And they're all prepared to let you have the kind of vacation you want — fishing, golfing or just plain relaxing.

Once a year, the earth revolves around the sun, tracing an orbit which is almost circular and about 186,000,000 miles in diameter. Thus, our position now is about that distance from where we were six months ago.

Wrong City Receives CD Leaflet Barrage

RIALT, Calif. (AP) — The ground observer corps for civil air defense went through its paces for a whole week and scheduled for the end of the week a shower of leaflets on the town from several airplanes.

Civil defense workers manned their posts throughout the city, scanned the skies and waited for the leaflet attack. No leaflets. Afte an hour of waiting and practicing the work to be done when the leaflets fell, the civil defense workers went home.

The 20,000 leaflets were dropped over nearby Fontana. The pilots got their signals crossed.

Manufacturer Lauded for Helping Employes

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — When P.H. Hammond, a manufacturer, found it necessary to lay off a few men he advertised in the local paper to get the men new jobs. Scores of persons who read the ad called Hammond to commend his action.

And 19 employers called to bid for the men's services. All but one were hired by a competitor who thanked Hammond for the experienced help and promised to hire the last man too, when he returned from sick leave.

Robbers Get Bonus

WATERBURY, Conn. (AP) — The city court found itself with a dozen unclaimed crullers used as evidence in a case. The court ordered that they be distributed among six men in the prisoner's cage. The man charged with stealing the crullers got two of them—plus 15 days in jail.

GULPS DOWN VALUABLES—Though they concern him, Larry Teters, 10 months, isn't interested in the X-rays held by his mother, Mrs. Clarence Teters of Kansas City, Kans. Larry picked up his mother's engagement and wedding rings and popped them into his mouth. They lodged in his esophagus, as the X-ray shows. The rings were removed with an esophagoscope.

Show Business

Betty Hutton Gets Fancy Letdown but She Pulls a Quick Comeback

By EDDIE CANTOR

I am ashamed of some of the things I've done in show business, but I'm much more ashamed of something I didn't do. Keep reading, I'll get to it.

Many years ago, a young girl auditioned for me. I needed a singer for my radio program.

BETTY HUTTON

After hearing her do three or four songs, prancing around all over the stage, out of the beam of the microphone, I thought I'd let her down easy. "Honey, leave your telephone number with my manager, and we'll call you."

I feel like a fool each time I meet Betty Hutton and she says: "I want to give you my new phone number, in case you're still thinking of calling."

Maybe it was the best thing that ever happened to her. Soon after that, she appeared in Panama Hattie on Broadway—then pictures—personal appearances—night clubs—and a triumphant engagement at the Palladium in London.

The staid English people went crazy about her when she swung on a trapeze out over the audience, and yelled, "I'll bet you never thought anything in my act would be over your heads!"

When MGM and Judy Garland called it quits, Betty took Judy's place in the picture, Annie Get Your Gun. She was great!

After Judy saw the picture, she came around and congratulated Betty, telling her how wonderful she was. Betty Hutton couldn't get over it and said to Judy excitedly, "You really saw me in the picture! Gee, if I knew you were watching it, I'd a been terribly nervous!"

HONESTY'S REWARD — Francisco Figueroa, Venezuelan airline mechanic helper, shows a wallet he found in a plane. It contained $11,000 and belonged to a Lebanese merchant. So excited was the owner when the money was returned that he salaamed to Allah, kissed the feet of the first child he met and rushed off. Francisco was completely forgotten.

Taft Speaks Up for U. S. System

Late Senator's Brother Talks at World Church Assembly in Evanston

EVANSTON, Ill. (AP)—Charles P. Taft spoke up today for the American social and economic system before fellow Christians from many lands.

Taft, brother of the late Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio, voiced his views while delegates to the Assembly of the World Council of Churches were engaged in a round of discussions on the broad subject of a "responsible society."

"We Americans are a responsible society," Taft told an audience of visitors to the convention—a gathering of representatives of 163 denominations from 48 nations.

He mentioned social security, workmen's compensation for injuries on the job, the minimum wage law, the 40-hour week, farm price floors and public housing, and said:

"I am not reciting these facts to boast but to show you that we are not, and probably never have been, a laissez-faire capitalism. In nearly all of this legislation and in its enforcement has been evidence of the strong reform instincts of America. It comes in large part out of our religious and missionary background."

The day's program of the assembly featured President Eisenhower.

A crowd of 15,000 was expected to hear him.

Taft, who lives in Cincinnati and is a delegate to the assembly, mentioned in a prepared address American qualities of "risk-taking, ingenuity, the urge to work."

This nation's "business culture," he said, is "the setitng for our religious life."

"We work under pressure of competition and fight the natural impulse to make things easier by dividing markets and fixing prices —that is, cartelization," he said.

Dr. C. L. Patijn, director of international organizations in the Dutch Ministry of Foreign Affairs, opened discussions about a "responsible society" last night.

He recalled that the first assembly of the council in 1948 at Amsterdam produced a report that was critical of both communism and laissez-faire (free of government interference) capitalism.

Speaking of points that have come up in consideration of a report to be made at the current gathering, he said:

"There is more interest in the problems of production and efficiency than before. At the same time it is more generally accepted that the state has an important part to play in economic life, although the extent of state intervention is still a controversial point.

"Since there is also a better understanding of the significance of private initiative and the dangers the economic system, it seems as though the old controversy between socialism and capitalism is beginning to lose its sting."

Sky Voice in South Warns Brush Burners

RALEIGH, N. C. (UP)—Anyone who decides to burn brush on his woodland in North Carolina is likely to hear a booming voice telling him to stop. Forest rangers have equipped a small spotter plane with a loudspeaker to warn the thoughtless or careless.

To emphasize their campaign against brush-burning, the rangers not only "bomb" the violators with a verbal rebuke but hurl a tiny seedling tree at him. Attached to the tree that floats to earth nearby the targeted person finds leaflets warning of fire hazards.

Boy, 8, and Dog Put Two Cities, Navy in Dither

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—If you think a small boy and a big dog can't cause a lot of commotion, just check with the San Diego police, the Coronado, Calif., police—and the U.S. Navy.

Yesterday the police received a nuber of calls that a boy and his dog were crossing and recrossing busy Harbor Drive, fouling up the traffic.

They picked up 8-year-old Steve Thompson and his dog Barney. He didn't know his home address but he did know where his father, h. e. thompson, a navy chief, was.

"Where?" said the cops. Aboard the submarine Hammerhead, said Steve.

So the San Diego police began to look for his mother, and had the nearby Coronado police help too.

Unable to locate Steve's mother, they contacted the Navy. The Navy checked its records — and found the submarine was en route to Mary Island, Calif.

The Coronado police finally got results — they located Steve's mother, Mrs. H. E. Thompson, who said she had run off with Barney that morning, apparently because he was spanked for starting the family automobile.

Wool Won't Shrink

LONDON (INS) — Australian scientists, after four years extensive research, claim to have solved the problem of producing shrink-proof woolen fabrics. The announcement, made by the Commonwealth Scientific and Industrial Research Organization, a body sponsored by the Australian Government, added that production of mens woolen shrink-proof socks is under way in a Melbourne knitting mill.

The United States had 9.7 marriages per 1,000 population in 1953.

A & P Cuts Price of Coffee 10 Cents

NEW YORK (AP)—The Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Co., operator of 4,000 A&P stores across the country, has announced a 10-cent cut in retail coffee prices, effective today.

The announcement yesterday by the country's largest food chain was the first drop in coffee prices by a big nationwide distributor. Smaller firms began announcing price cuts Monday following a weekend easing of foreign exchange regulations by Brazil.

The A&P cut applies to all its coffee brands, bringing the price of Red Circle, 8 O'Clock and Bokar labels down to $1.09. The three brands have been selling at a uniform price since June.

Yesterday, for the third day in a row, the price of coffee futures on the New York Coffee and Sugar Exchange dropped 2 cents a pound, the maximum reduction allowed in any single day's trading.

15 Drown in Sinking

SEOUL (AP) — Fifteen persons drowned off Inchon when a Korean fishing vessel sank in stormy seas, national police reported today. Only three fishermen of the 18 aboard were rescued, police said.

Print Traced to Doctor's Son

Identification of Palm Mark Weakens Case for Sheppard

CLEVELAND (AP) — A Cuyahoga County official says identification of a palm print found in the lakefront home where pretty Marilyn Sheppard was slain knocks the props from under a defense argument of her osteopath husband.

The print, which had puzzled investigators since Mrs. Sheppard's battered body was discovered July 4, belongs to her 7-year-old son Chip, Asst. County Prosecutor John J. Mahon said yesterday.

Now, Mahon said, Dr. Samuel H. Sheppard, 30, can't use the print to support his story a stranger was in the house the morning of the murder. Sheppard has been indicted on a charge of first-degree murder.

He says a prowler murdered his 31-year-old wife, an expectant mother, and then injured him when he answered her call for help.

Authorities had collected prints from dozens of persons who might have been in the house before obtaining those of the youngster, who had been at a summer camp in Pennsylvania from the morning of the killing until last week.

Police fingerprint expert Jerome C. Peolking said it was the only legible print found after the bludgeoning. It was on a desk in the study, where papers had been strewn and drawers pulled out.

Sheppard reaffirmed his innocence yesterday in a 900-word statement released by his brother, Dr. Stephen Sheppard. In it, he said:

"I am more interested in the capture of my wife's murderer than any other person in the world."

Norwegian Jailed After Producing 5 Billion Kroner

TRONDHEIM, Norway (AP)—A crackpot counterfeiter who made more than five billion kroner in fake Norwegian currency was behind bars today because he wanted to make music too.

Police refused to name him, saying he was mentally deranged and they would ask a court to commit him to a mental institution.

The money-maker was arrested yesterday in the nearby village of Selbu after he mailed an order for a harmonica to an Oslo dealer in musical instruments. He enclosed a 50-kroner note from his own press.

The sheriff at Selbu rounded up the culprit and also his printing production. When police finally finished counting last night, the total came to 5,004,074,610 kroner —$714,856,388 worth had it been real.

Experts said most of the bills were faithful replicas of genuine notes, ranging from 5 to 1,000 kroner denominations. But there were such fanciful productions as a billion-kroner bill, four million-kroner notes, and a few decorated with small poems to an unidentified girl.

Indiana May Up Fees

INDIANAPOLIS (INS) — Governor George N. Craig of Indiana has proposed a substantial hike in driver license fees to finance increasing the state police force by 200 men.

Bob Considine Says:

Mare Island Naval Base Once Hosted Soviet Ships

VALLEJO, Calif. (INS)—Rear Adm. Fredrick I. Entwistle, commander of the Mare Island Naval Base, said with a note of significance in his voice, "—and the only other submarine building shipyard on the Pacific Ocean is at Vladivostok."

His audience was impressed with this, as by everything else the visiting newsmen heard and saw during their tour of the remarkable installation that was founded by Farragut and is now about to celebrate its 100th anniversary.

The significance of the admirals words matched the work of the yard in other respects. The Navy's first guided missile submarine was produced here. Its electronics shop, about to be moved into a new $6,000,000 building, houses equipment that would bewilder the experts at Los Alamos or Oak Ridge and constantly explores new ways and means of extending naval warfare and defense beyond the scope of Russian reasoning.

One has the feeling of being present at a desperate race, with only one contestant visible. All that I heard of the other is his footsteps.

But there was another day at Mare Island when the Russians were welcomed. Indeed, the 776-grave cemetery on the busy old island includes the graves of a number of Russkies. The huge Mare Island centennial edition of the Vallejo Times Herald will contain an account of those easier times:

"Commander Farragut's log of Jan. 24, 1857, mentions the first arrival of a Russian ship, the store ship Devina. That occasion was a friendly social affair with Russian sailors ashore, and the commandants taking Capt. Butskoff of the Devina to Benicia (Calif.) to call on General Wool.

"There was a party at the Farragut home that night for the officers of the ship and the crew cheered and fired a salute of 13 guns as the Devina left two days later for Constadt.

"In 1863 a squadron of the Russian colonial fleet, the Bogatyre, Haidamac, Kelevala, Abreck and Rynda, sailed in for docking after negotiations were made by the Russian vice consul in San Francisco. (it is interesting to note that some of the most recent publicized work of the Russian vice consul in San Francisco was in connection with the theft of atomic bomb secrets, an indication that tempus is inclined to fugit.)

"While the ships were undergoing extensive overhaul, the sailors rushed ashore. An early writer mentions 'They came at a most opportune moment for the ladies of St. Vincent's parish were holding their first church fair. The gallant Russians attended enmass and generously donated silks, curios and other articles they brought from the Orient. The sum of $20,000 was realized.'

"Vallejo was the last port of call for six of the Russians, fatally burned in a raging business district fire in San Francisco. The Russian squadron had stopped there before coming to the yard and the men had volunteered to help the firefighters. The six were buried in the Mare Island cemetery, and many of their comrades, seriously burned, were treated at the Mare Island Hospital."

During the Russo-Japanese war the Russian cruiser Lena put in at Mare Island, was disarmed and the officers interned on the orders of President Theodore Roosevelt. The wives of several of the officers came over to join them, families grew and those who died were buried here.

"The last Russiah ship at Mare Island," the Vallejo Times Herald article will conclude, "was a submarine, calling in 1942 for lend lease supplies."

We came to the conclusion after a tour through the electronics shop today that modern war cannot be fought without quartz. Or without Brazil. Seems that wafers of quartz, excruciatingly tooled, honed and processed, enable myriad spooky electronics gadgets to work properly. We are helplessly dependent upon Brazil, the man said, for our quartz. One newsman, more wearied by the tour then impressed, limped away saying, "Well we know all about quartz. Leave us at this time begin the study of fifths."

Amputee's New Bed Turns Patient Over

ROCKY POINT, N. C. (INS)—A double amputee pondering the sufferings of sick people has designed a new type of hospital bed.

G. A. Quinn of Rocky Point, provided a crank on the bottom of the bed which can turn the patient over, with complete comfort, in less than a minute.

Quinn's invention has the patient strapped between two pillow-padded canvas sheets. The patient barely has to move a muscle as he is turned.

"I got the idea," Quinn said, "when I watched patients with broken bones being turned over and heard them holler in agony. I wished that I could do something about it."

Both Quinn's legs were amputated in 1950.

Did Curse of the Pharoahs Kill Children of Scientist?

By RELMAN MORIN
(For Hal Boyle)

NEW YORK (AP)—Remember the famous story of "the curse of the Pharaohs?"

It came from the dim recesses of the tomb of Tutankhamen, a king who ruled Egypt and died at an early age about 3000 years ago. The tomb was discovered and opened in 1922. There the archaeologists came upon a staggering profusion of gold and jewelry, furniture, chariots, household articles, and the mummy of the young sovereign, encased in nearly a ton of solid gold.

They also noted a warning engraved on the wall—"Cursed be he who touches me."

Such messages were not unusual in the royal tombs. They probably were put there to frighten away grave robbers. If so, they failed, for virtually every tomb—royal, noble or common—was rifled thousands of years before the modern Egyptologist ever began probing into the tombs.

However, less than a year after the opening of Tutankhamen's tomb, the man who financed the expedition, Lord Carnarvon, died suddenly. The cause of death—curious combination!—was recorded as pneumonia and the effects of a mosquito bite.

This started the story of "the curse of the Pharaohs."

It merely amuses the professional Egyptologist. He reminds you that the other members of the Carnarvon expedition lived to a ripe old age and died quietly in bed. And also, that thousands of people have been "exposed" to the dire warnings, engraved on the walls of the tombs.

Yet, a strange and tragic misfortune has overtaken one of the scientists connected with the discovery of the "solar boat," found a few months ago beside the Grand Pyramid of Cheops.

His two daughters died suddenly, within a few months of each other, while the work was in progress.

Zaky Nour is keeper of antiquities for the region where the boat has been found. He was one of the directors of the excavation of it. In Cario a few weeks ago, he told me this story:

"Leila, the oldest girl, went to school as usual that day. She was nine years old and apparently in good health. During the afternoon, she suddenly developed a nosebleed. They couldn't stop the flow. She died before sundown."

Doctors diagnosed it as a heart attack, he said.

Three months later, his younger daughter, Wafaa collapsed and fell dead at play. She was six. Zaky Nour said the cause of her death is not known.

She died the day before the opening of the chamber holding the "solar boat."

He said, "as a scientist, of course, I can't believe this is anything but a coincidence. But there are many things we don't know."

Man Won't Go to Fires Without His False Teeth

ATLANTA (UP) — When fireman Elmo Bell was called from his home at night by a general alarm he drove three blocks, returned home, and then set out again for the fire.

"It was my false teeth," he said. "I could not leave the teeth behind. I knew that I'd probably be on duty for some time — and a fellow gets hungry, you know."

Young Democrats Will Sponsor Picnic on Sunday

At Maple Grove Park

Candidates to Be Guests

A picnic sponsored by the Young Democrats of Northern Oakland County will be held Sunday from 12 to 6 p. m. at Maple Grove Park on Dequindre road.

Democratic candidates who will be special guests at the affair will be Philip A. Hart, Paul Sutton and George Hicks.

Others will be Neil R. Crowe, Donald Barrett, Hazel Kuschinsky, Glenn Harper, Robert O'Connell and Fred Elias. Representing the six legislative districts will be Donald Adams, Leslie Hudson, William Lambros, Donald Swanson, Michael Cox and Walter McMahon.

A full program of fun for the entire family is being planned. Prizes will be given for the prettiest baby, the largest family present and the couple married the longest. A "Miss Democrat of Oakland County" will be chosen.

Games will begin at 1:30 and will include an egg-throwing contest, penny scramble, three-legged race, sack race and wheelbarrow race.

Facilities will be provided for informal games throughout the afternoon. Candidates will be introduced and a highlight of the afternoon will be a baseball game between North and South Oakland County.

Friends Attend Bridal Shower for Patt Boyer

Patt Boyer was honored recently when 14 friends gathered at a bridal shower given by Mrs. Vernon Gibbons and Mrs. Lloyd Anderson in the former's East Kennett road home.

Patt, who is the daughter of the Paul Boyers of West Huron street, will become the bride of Boatswain's Mate 3rd Class Edward Konzer in a ceremony to be performed Saturday at Long Beach, Calif.

The prospective bridegroom, who is the brother of Mrs. John Keating of Motorway drive, is stationed at Long Beach with the U. S. Navy.

Mrs. Keating was hostess recently at a shower which was attended by Patt's sorority sisters and former classmates from Waterford High School.

Pontiac Delegates at Garden Party

Mary Heitsch, Mrs. Walter K. Willman and Mrs. Arthur Selden attended the midsummer garden party sponsored by the Michigan Farm and Garden Association today. The project is made possible through the extension department of Michigan State College. They are delegates of the Pontiac Branch of the Association.

The Pontiac Branch has been invited to participate in the 20th annual flower and vegetable show which is put on by the Oxford branch in their high school auditorium. Exhibits will take place from 3 until 10 p.m. on Aug. 28 and from 12 to 9 p.m. Aug. 29. Anyone may enter exhibits before 11 a.m. on Aug. 28.

WSCS Opens Autumn Season With Luncheon

Women's Society of Christian Service of Central Methodist Wednesday with a luncheon for the executive board.

Mrs. G. R. Jarvis was hostess in her home on Pontiac drive. Mrs. Lloyd Nixon opened the business meeting with a prayer for guidance.

Mrs. Jarvis presented the calendar of events as scheduled for 1954 and 1955. Plans were discussed for the entertainment of the Detroit conference which will convene here Oct. 28.

The first general meeting of the women's society will be held Sept. 2 in the church parlors. Gertrude Howe Unit will serve as hostess.

Called to Indiana

The Rev. and Mrs. Paul R. Havens of East Iroquois road have been called to Kokomo, Ind., because of the illness of the Rev. Mr. Havens' brother, Ray E. Havens.

At Golf Club Luncheon

Beryl Wilson Is Honored

Detroit Golf Club was the setting Tuesday for a luncheon honoring Beryl Wilson, bride elect of John D. Knoblock.

She is the daughter of the A. Glenn Wilsons of Alice avenue, and the F. D. Knoblocks of bloomfield Hills are his parents.

John's grandmother, Mrs. A. F. Knoblock, and his aunt, Mrs. Frank Koepel, were hostesses at the luncheon.

Guests included Mrs. Wilson, Mrs. Knoblock, Mrs. Dale Miller, Mrs. Bronson Brant, Mrs. Daniel Newey, Mrs. Paul Jensen, Mrs. Luther Plymale, Barbara Knoblock, Ethel Pickard, Pat Bunker and Carolyn Woolfenden.

Others were Carolyn Luttrell, Virginia Houle, Mrs. Kenneth Burnett, Mrs. Donald Burnett, Mrs. Arthur Hunt and Mrs. Theodore Lodigensky.

Mrs. P. G. Burnett was hostess Tuesday at a shower in her Birmingham home and Nancy Wonnberger gave a shower in Beryl's honor Friday in the Wonnbergers' Cranbrook home.

Oakland Hills Country Club was the setting for a recent luncheon given by the prospective bridegroom's sister, Barbara Knoblock.

Parties Honor Betsy Chanay

Betsy Chanay, bride-elect of Ted L. Miller, was honored at several showers and parties recently.

Betsy and Ted will speak their marriage vows Saturday in the Embury Methodist Church, Birmingham. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Channay of Birmingham and his parents are the Alvin Millers of Troy Township.

A spinster tea was given by Mrs. Alex Aitken in her Palmer street home and Mrs. Reginald Hubbard was a recent hostess for a miscellaneous shower in her Royal Oak home.

Mrs. Julien Casanovas, also of Royal Oak, was another hostess, as were Mrs. Charles Griesbach and Frances Aitken in the Griesbach's Drayton Plains home.

The Grace Wilson Circle was entertained by Mrs. Ross Woodworth of Hazel street. Mrs. Carrie Young had charge of devotions.

Soviet Women Want Charm Restored

Olga Yearns for Luxury

PARIS (INS) — A high-fashion New York furrier, just returned from Russia, said today Soviet women are "starved for a little luxury and for feminine fashion items."

Charles Aronowicz, head of the House of Aronowicz, Inc., described Russian women as ladies who have worked so hard they have "lost the charm that is normal to their sex in other countries."

"And now," he said, "they want their charm back."

Aranowicz went to Leningrad for the annual fur auction sales with permission from the U.S. State Department and a Russian visa. He said Russian styles in wearing apparel are "very clumsy. Coats come with heavy shoulder padding, too-large sleeves and no shape at all.

"Although the Russians have wonderful fur pelts," he added, "they kill them by not knowing how to work them from the technical and style point of view."

Prices are higher than American standards and "sky-high", compared to the average Russian income.

One silver fox fur pelt costs between $375 and $1,200. A Persian lamb coat, which would sell for about $400 in the U.S., is priced at $3,500 in Russia. A second-hand beaver coat, bearing the look of hard wear, costs $400 to $800.

"And since they don't have skilled technicians," Aronowicz said, "even the most beautiful sable pelts look like rabbit."

The designer said he believes the Russians would buy new clothes and luxury goods from America, and be a good field for U.S. business.

He reported that I. I. Gordeev, head of the Presidium of the U.S.S.R. Chamber of Commerce, told him to tell America that "we want to do business."

Gordeev said he would submit to the government any proposal to stage a show of American fashions and furs in Russia.

Aronowicz said he intends to apply for this permission.

"We should do everything to make the picture clear," he said. "We should try to make Russians know us. It would do a lot of good for both sides.

"They cherish and admire all the fashion coming from America," he added.

Moulds Cookies

Now everyone can make icebox cookies, delicately shaped as diamonds, scallops and hearts. Molded of polyethylene plastic the molds are approximately five inches long, and each comes equipped with a disc in the appropriate shape for pushing out the long cookie form.

To clean a paint brush full of old dried paint, soak the brush in turpentine until the paint is softened. Then, wash in lukewarm soapsuds several times and rinse.

Refresh Nylon Mesh

Your nylon mesh shoes can be refreshed by wiping them off with a cloth dampened with soap and water. By inserting shoe trees before you start, you'll find that your shoes, when dry, have retained their original shape.

Try-Glitter-Trim

If you own several summer sweaters for cover-up on cool days, try giving them glitter trim. Many stores carry assortments of rhinestones, bugle beads and "pearls" with which you can create your own designs or your monogram.

Paint splatterings on locks, hinges and other hardware are easy to remove if you coat the hardware with Vaseline before painting.

He's Saving Money for College

Girl Wants to Help Boy by Going Dutch

By EMILY POST

A girl writes: "I have been going with a young man for the past two years. He is working during the summer months but will go back to college in the fall.

"Most of the money he earns during the summer is put aside to pay for his education and this leaves him very little spending money. I work full time and earn a fairly good salary.

"We go out on an average of two or three times a month, but aside from that we see each other constantly. I would like to know if it would be proper for me to help along by going Dutch treat occasionally.

"When I suggested this to mother, she strongly objected. She said that if I started paying my way occasionally, he would soon come to depend on this and take advantage of the situation, and furthermore, he would lose repect for me.

"I would very much appreciate hearing from you on this matter."

Answer: Under ordinary circumstances I would say no. Under these curcumstances of his trying to save up in order to earn his education, you could insist on paying your share.

Dear Mrs. Post: My girl friend and I are having an argument which we would like you to settle. Recently we had a memorial assembly at our local high school.

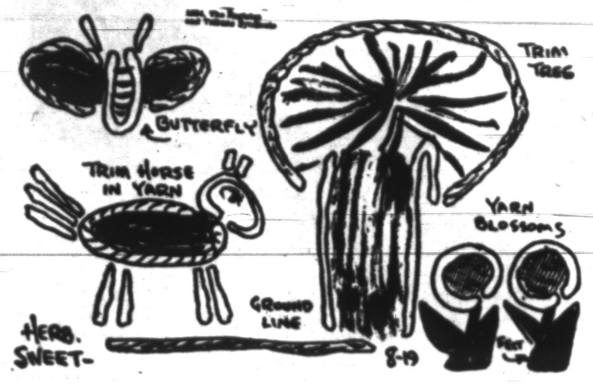
It was quite solemn and included the singing of our National Anthem by a soloist, Lord's Prayer, Taps, and an address. After it it was entirely proper to applaud — which I thought was terrible.

However, my girl friend said that it was entirely propr to applaud and not to do so would have been very unappreciative of those who took part. What is your opinion?

Answer: If the closing address was secular and in no way suggesting a sermon, it was proper to applaud, but from your description of the assembly, I am inclined to think that you are right and the applause would have been better omitted.

Dear Mrs. Post: My husband and I are going to have a party on our 25th wedding anniversary. Would it be proper for my son's fiancee to stand in the receiving line at this time?

Answer: Definitely, yes; and if the engagement hasn't been announced, this will be the time to announce it.



Try It

Trim Pictures With Yarn

Do you like to draw? I hope so, for drawing is fun, but like anything else, it takes practice. Many boys and girls don't like to try to draw pictures, for they think they do not do well enough. But try it and see how surprised you will be.

Here is a drawing trick which we have used in camp this summer, and everyone thinks it is grand. Use a plain piece of paper to make your drawing on, and make it a good-sized drawing. Color or paint it just like you would usually do.

Now, the trick or fun begins. Take scraps of yarn to outline your pictures. First put the yarn around the drawing, then paste it in place by putting paste on the bottom of the yarn.

In the picture I have shown a butterfly outlined in three colors, a horse, a tree, and two flowers. Use all different colors, and these will be nice enough to hang on your wall.

Showcard colors are nice to color your pictures with. You can first draw the outline in pencil, then paint it in and add the yarn trim. Make one ot hang in the kitchen too.

Miss S. T. — Fabrics such as satin are not for the large figure except a satin-trimmed lightweight wool. Just as important as the fabric is the new silhouette. A rather large figure looks better in fitted rather than too-full clothes.

Vacation Hints May Help Gal to Catch a Man

NEW YORK, (INS) — What not to do on a holiday weekend is more important than what to do—if you want to catch a man.

So says a veteran resort operator who thinks girls should have the "don't" well in mind before they flutter their eyelashes at a likely male in a summer resort.

Phil Schweid, owner of the Pines Hotel in South Fallsburg, N. Y., says the first "don't" is "don't overdress." Men get frightened if a girl looks too rich for their budget, he claims.

The other "don't" listed by Schweid are as follows:

Don't discuss business—yours or his.

And don't spend more than you can afford, either for the resort reservation or while there. A girl who's nervous over an excessive outlay of cash is usually too nervous to be friendly.

Model New Dress

When shopping for a dress, you should try it on and observe the fit while you're standing, walking, and sitting, and with the arms in motion as well as at the side. Use a full-length mirror when testing the fit.

Be smart! Plan now for unusual thrifty Christmas gifts. Just a stroke of your iron—berry red and holly green motifs are quickly transferred to guest towels, place mats, table cloths, handkerchiefs! No embroidering, just iron on!

Pattern 828 has 14 washable iron-on color motifs: Eight about 3¼x3¾ inches; four from 1½x1½ to 2x4¼; two 1¼x7½ inches.

Send 25 cents in coins for this pattern—add 5 cents for each pattern for first-class mailing. Send to 124 Pontiac Press Needlecraft Dept., P.O. Box 164, Old Chelsea Station, New York 11, N.Y. Print plainly pattern number, your name, address and zone.

Keeps Hat Rain-Free

Don't let a summer shower wilt the flowers on your new hat. Be prepared for a surprise downpour by carrying a plastic head cover in your purse. Some fold into a packet that's no more than three inches long and no wider than a cigaret case.

A real revolution in spraying devices is the unique new lock atomizer. It is designed with a rotating bulb attachment set firmly and permanently on top and holds a full ounce-and-a-half of toilet water. For traveling, the transparent case holds the bulb firmly in the "lock" position.

Mary Margaret McBride Says:

Life's Ironies Blend Grimness, Humor

They had been engaged 10 years but he always said he couldn't leave his mother alone, adding that his mother believed two families could not live happily together.

His mother died and everybody, including the long-term fiancee, thought that after a decent interval the two would get married at long last. But when the funeral was over and business affairs attended to, he explained that he felt he ought to have a time of freedom. So he started off around the world.

The other day the news came back: He has married a girl he met on the ship at the very moment it crossed the equator. Just one of the little ironies of real life. Sometimes they are less grim.

MISS McBRIDE

I remember smiling some time ago when I was told about a successful city man who got so panicky when he first heard about the A-bomb that he moved his wife, children and stock certificates to the safety of Nevada, only to find a few months later he had accidentally settled on the edge of the atomic bomb testing grounds.

Then there was the diamond mining engineer who intrepidly faced attacks of wild animals in far places and uprisings of workers armed with poisoned darts. Finally he came back home for a rest and crossed the street against a green light. That was the last thing he knew for four weeks but he lived to tell the tale and laugh a little sardonically at himself.

I'm sure O. Henry might have made something of the old lady Oriana Atkinson told me about who was sunning herself on a bench set down on a safety island of motor-choked Broadway in Manhattan. A riderless runaway horse galloped from Central Park over to Broadway and straight at the old woman in the safety zone, killing her instantly.

Everybody knows, I suppose, about the tightrope walker who slipped and broke his leg in his own bathtub and the returned war hero who had survived almost miraculously one perilous engagement after another only to wind up in splints when he tried to nail down a loose shingle on his suburban roof.

For that matter, Mary Roberts Rinehart, still writing best-sellers in her 70s, declared once that despite the fact that she was a war correspondent in the first World War right up in the frontlines, the most dangerous encounter she ever had was with a butler in her own home. The man went berserk and wildly flourished a gun at Mrs. Rinehart but ultimately turned it upon himself and died of his self-inflicted wounds.

My favorite Rinehart story—and one also not without irony—is about her son in that same Blackjack Pershing's staff and World War I, attached to Gen. thus located behind the frontlines. He became a front-page story when he sought a pass to visit his mother—up front.

Boys Shy Away From Questions

Don't Wait for Explanation . . . Just Forgive and Forget

By ELIZABETH WOODWARD

"Dear Miss Woodward: Up until a month ago, I'd been going steady with Barry off and on since I was a kid. When summer started, he used to come over every other day, and he called me on the days he didn't come.

"Then he cut it to two dates a week and one phone call. I didn't think much of it because he had a summer job. So I didn't say anything to him about it.

"Suddenly he stopped coming or calling, and I didn't hear a word from him for several weeks. Then he walked in one night just as though nothing had happened, and when I tried to get an explanation from him, he said, 'It was just one of those things.'

"If it had been another girl who took him away, I could have coped with the situation. But it wasn't, I feel sure. He'd have told me so according to the agreement we had made.

"Since then I've been going steady with Mark—and he knows the part Barry has played in my life. He even knows I still like him and he has promised he won't stand in my way if I ever want out.

"And that's what I'm wondering about now. Barry is back again, wanting dates, wanting me to go steady with him again, full of promises not to hurt me any more.

"Should I go back to him, Miss Woodward? I do like him so much!"

Barry's explanation that "it was just one of those things" is blurry and vague. Perhaps he deliberately made it that way. How could he have told you, for instance, that suddenly he couldn't be bothered any more? How would you have liked that?

Or how could he have explained that his boy friends had involved him with some other girls and that this was keeping him busy for a while?

Or how could he have told you that he wanted to test out a sudden interest in some one particular other girl? You wouldn't have like any of those explanations—so he made none.

Boys don't like to be quizzed, you know. They're as open with you as they want to be, and that's all. They get "tied up," they "couldn't make it," it was "just one of those things."

You're not supposed to ask questions because you won't get straight answers. Boys see no reason to tell you, that's all.

But Barry is now back with his heart in his hand. And you still like him. You don't need to know why he stayed away—now that be's back.

And you say Mark won't stand in your way. He'll consider his short romance with you just another of those things! So why shouldn't you resume going with Barry?

Proceed With Caution

Some People Not Adapted to Managing Enterprises

By ANNE HEYWOOD

Every year, it seems to me, more people consider starting a business of their own.

My mail is full of requests from men facing retirement, from married couples who want to be on their own, even from single women who are tired of working for other people and want to be their own bosses.

Sometimes the desire is a valid one, based on experience and careful thought. But sometimes it is just a dream, based on the false conviction that it's easier to work for yourself than to work for others.

If you've been considering such a move, I suggest you take a look at a very helpful book called "It's Your Business."

In addition to many concrete pointers and typical case histories, it has two sections which may help you decide the really important question of whether or not you are the type who can succeed in a project of your own.

For example, the chapter called "How to Find a Small Business Which Will Suit You" is a very helpful one.

Many times we figure taxes and capitalization, location and other practical matters, without considering the important question of whether a particular kind of business will suit our own talents and temperament. And failure is apt to be the result.

The final chapter is "Causes of Business Failure and How to Prevent Them."

In it, the author, who is a business consultant, gives his "Nine Keys to Personal Success in Business."

If you will read it carefully, you can determine whether you are honestly the type who ought to be on your own.

Most business failures, it seems, come about because the person involved has kidded himself, and doesn't really have all the personal qualifications required for success in his own project.

How much better it is to find out in advance, before you have invested your lifetime savings!

Working Girl Keep Up Looks With Long Sleep

The career girl who has intentions of preserving her good looks should make it a point to set aside one evening each week and go to bed at eight o'clock on that night. Even if she's not tired, just to rest and read in bed is beneficial to her general health.

Keeping late hours is the cause of puffiness under the eyes, sallow skin, and the biggest threat to attractiveness, nervous fatigue.

You'll find that nervous fatigue is likely to increase as the temperature soars. You're most likely to come home from the office completely exhausted from hot-weather aggravations.

The first thing you should do after finishing your dinner is to take a soothing bath. Lukewarm water is usually best for stiff, tired muscles.

Then, after you've finished drying yourself and have put on your favorite nightgown, get into bed. If you use a pillow, it should be one that will provide the utmost comfort on even the hottest nights.

A perfect pillow for the restless summer sleeper is made of soft vinyl, and according to its makers, it is completely selfcooling. Just partly fill the pillow with ordinary tap water, then adjust it to your favorite height and softness by inflating it with your breath.

And once you've filled it with water, you may use it for the rest of the summer without refilling it. The same water in the pillow will keep your head and shoulders cool and comfortable.

A woman is getting old when she is more concerned about the fit of her shoes than the fit of her sweater.

Anne Fogarty gives her full-silhouette added interest in this tailored dress with a skirt that sweeps backward and buttons from a long V'd torso to the hemline . . . of heathery, yarn-dyed flannel in plum, chestnut or charcoal.

Sculptured simplicity distinguishes Anne Fogarty's full-skirted, scoop-neck dress in a fabulous black velveteen embroidered with the romantic touch of bright vari-colored flowers.

Full Costumes Flow Fluidly, Gracefully

Fogarty's Fall Silhouettes Stress 'Winged' Look

Anne Fogarty's new clothes for fall are like moving figures silhouetted against the sky. Their sculptured simplicity is the epitome of flowing movement and line; for even more figure molding and femininity there is magnificent pared-down look mirroring the current trend for fashions that are casual and easy to wear.

The collection is predominantly full—featuring a new "Winged" silhouette with its longer torso V'd in front or marked by double seaming at the hipline, flaring into a full smooth skirt in front with extra side and back fullness achieved with fine seaming techniques and couture manipulation.

Two other silhouettes are prominently featured. The "Mobile" is a new casual style of easy fullness, clever as a modern art form. Its loose front is belted small at the waist with two narrow ties from a set-in band at back.

The "Meteor" sheath is streamlined to the narrowest of slims. All silhouettes are designed for a feeling of motion and grace and have details such as pointed wing cuffs that button to the elbow or curved "feather tip" pockets high on the bodice to carry out the "Winged" theme.

Fabrics are both imported and domestic. Tweeds are important —in lighter weights and fabulous color combinations called "flying" pastels. These are monotones spiked with brilliant deeper tones.

Lightweight textured plaids in wool and sky blond silks—dramatic new deep colors in velveteen—all add up to an exciting and definite change in the fabric and color story this fall.

Great attention is paid to the complete costume look. The group of coats is larger this season. Most are tailored with tiny notched collars and slash pockets tucked high on the chest, executed in colorful tweeds or pale camel satin velours with bright contrasting linings of orlon fleece.

There is a lovely wrap coat in sky blond—a pale beige—the fabric, vicinette, with the softness of cashmere.

Let Perfume Express Your Moods

By ANITA COLBY

"I'd like one bottle of nostalgia, one of drama, and one of coquetry. Yes, and a purse-sized flacon of bottled springtime."

That's a woman buying perfume—a smart woman buying perfume. She knows that perfume can bring back a memory or a song; can change a mood or the season; she knows it can make her seem more desirable to herself, as well as to a man. Perfume gives a woman a warm inner sense of being wanted, lovely. It lifts her morale.

So many of us have settled on one scent and stick to it regardless of season, occasion or mood. How much more joy to have a whole language of perfumes — one perfume for mystery, one of gaiety, a scent of sophistication, and a light flowery fragrance.

Every working girl, fur-bearing or not, should own a sables-and-satin perfume, and though she be country-estateless, a woods-and-tweedy one.

Every woman should be able to express the high exhilaration of first white gloves and a navy suit of springtime. Every girl should own an "organdy" perfume, and a sweater-and-skirt one.

Learn About Scents

Enlarge your vocabulary of scent—widen your perfume horizon. You can only do it by testing and trying for what you like.

Manufacturers, stores, and the return of the atomizer are making it easier for us to educate ourselves in perfume. The trial size dram makes owning several precious scents possible.

Helpful, patient salesgirls experiment and advise you how to say what you want with perfume. And the atomizer, dispensing its fine spray, shows you how to surround yourself with an aura of fragrance—on body, hair, clothes, furs.

Now when you go perfume shopping, you should know these facts:

What is perfume? It is an extract, literally, of essential oils diluted and "carried" by alcohol. Now imagine—it takes 11½ tons of violet leaves to make an ounce of natural oil. But this oil is so strong, so powerful that it would smell harsh to our noses.

So perfumers have learned to blend such costly ingredients as rare and fabulous gums and saps, musk from the male musk deer, civet from the Abyssinian civet cat, ambergris from whales to make the true balanced "bouquet."

The perfumer is an artist—his skills are developed and handed down through generations in the same family, so that today many perfume names you know are represented by a third, fourth or even a fifth generation.

And that single bottle of perfume you buy holds contributions from many countries in the world, so skillfully blended that they'll keep their fragrance true as they evaporate on your skin, won't change as they age in the bottle.

Toilet Water, Cologne

Perfume is the strongest of the fragrance triad. It is the mother scent, from which are derived the lighter, thinner toilet waters and colognes.

When a perfume house decides, "We will produce our wonderful 'Bedazzlement' in two lighter, cheaper forms," it offers toilet water as second in strength after perfume, and cologne as the lightest form.

But many a house says, "We will produce our wonderful 'Entanglement' in just one lighter form." Then House No. 2's cologne may be stronger than House No. 1's toilet water. Again, you must use your nose.

Cologne and toilet water should be used all over the body as the foundation for perfume. As an after-bath rub, or sprayed on while the body is still damp, they evaporate into the skin, belong to your body.

Spray insides of handbags, hatbands, closets and bureau drawers, hang fragrance in the air of your bedroom.

Keep a bottle of cologne in the refrigerator during the hot season, and dash its icy clean scent on wrists and forehead for refreshment. Our mothers did this when "Eau de Cologne" was literally "Water from Cologne," a light citrus-scented, infinitely ladylike scent.

Along in the 20s this form was translated over into the whole perfume vernacular, taking on flowery, tobacco and musky scents of famous perfumes. Now you can do the whole scale in one scent—perfume, toilet water, cologne, bath and body oils, powders, soaps.

Here's something the perfume-wise French women do. Use cologne as a hair-setter — fragrant and, of course, somewhat drying. Oily heads can do this between shampoos when the hair, which picks up stale odors and smoke, needs refreshing.

For dry hair there are many creamy or oil-based scented lotions. Keep your hair smelling good—men love it.

MOMS Choose Officers

Mrs. S. Edgar Thomas was elected president of MOMS of America, Inc., Unit Two when the group met Tuesday in the Thomas Center street home.

Other officers elected were Mrs. Lillie Collins, first vice president; Mrs. Harry Luxon, second vice president; Mrs. Carl Cox, recording secretary, and Mrs. Frank Van Horn, corresponding secretary.

Mrs. William Jones is treasurer, Mrs. David Edwards, chaplain, and Mrs. Clarence Hickmott, historian.

Directors are Mrs. Emery Clark, Mrs. Harry Place, Mrs. Chester Brown and Mrs. Frank Jones.

Mrs. Thomas and Mrs. Collins will be delegates to the convention to be held Oct. 7 through 9 in Detroit. Alternates are Mrs. William Morrell and Mrs. Jones.

A donation was sent to the state board and plans were made for an installation dinner to be held on Sept. 21.

Mrs. W. A. Steward will be hostess in her Ridge road home for the Sept. 7 meeting.

Gold Star Mothers Meet Wednesday

American Gold Star Mothers Chapter Nine met at the home of Mrs. Ann Minnick on Center Street Wednesday for a social meeting and cooperative luncheon.

During the afternoon the group sewed cancer pads for the American Cancer Society. Mrs. Duncan McVean, Mrs. Louise Marotz and Mrs. Maxine Young were guests of the chapter.

Suds Sparkle Case

Ever let out an exclamation of disgust when you drop your lipstick case on a dirty floor? Don't let it worry you. Just head for the nearest supply of soap and water and suds it off. The case will look even better, after a thorough washing and polishing with a clean dry cloth or tissue.

Prevents Tarnishing

Keep your costume jewelry from tarnishing by coating it with a thin coat of fresh, white shellac or colorless nail polish. A second coat of either will provide greater protection.

Keeps Pillows Fresh

Keep pillows fresh and comfortable by fluffing them daily and allowing them to air for a few hours on the day you change their covers.

Luncheon Honors Former Resident

Mrs. M. Irene Youngs, formerly of Pontiac, who resides in Tucson, Ariz., was honored Tueday at a cooperative luncheon. Mrs. Eleah Patten was hostess in her Augusta avenue home.

Guests were Mrs. Lena Miller, Mrs. Bertha Locke, Mrs. B. C. McCoy, Katherine J. Baker, Mrs. Harry Saltzer, Mrs. Minnie Clemens, Mrs. Howard Simmons, Mrs. L. B. Rubey and Mrs. Hazel Chamberlain of Detroit.

Avoid Pink Hues If Your Skin Has Yellow Cast

Many older women who readily admit that they have sallow skin wear shocking pink blouses or royal blue hats because they think wearing them will bring more color to their cheeks.

Actually, wearing bright colors close to the face tends to make a sallow complexion look more sallow by contrast.

If your complexion has a yellow hue, colors that will absorb the dullness from the skin are more flattering. Your best colors are offwhite, oyster, beige, gray and bright navy blue.

When the sallow-skinned woman goes shopping for a dress, she usually chooses black as her color. Especially if she is heavy, she feels she can "hide" in black. Charcoal or oxford gray, and navy will make a heavy woman appear slimmer and are kinder to skin tones than black.

Black is an excellent foil for the older woman with soft white hair and very light skin tones. But, unless you have natural coloring, black is not for you.

Above all, don't hamper your wise color choice in clothes by wearing the wrong make-up. Avoid yellow in make-up as you do in clothes and accessories.

Fall Styles Will Buzz With Bees

NEW YORK (INS) — Smart women always have had bees in their bonnets, but next fall they'll have bees in even less likely places.

Fashion accessories makers are really buzzing about bees, and how nifty they look as stylish decorations.

According to belt makers, many of the newest contoured leather belts for fall will be caught with colorful imitation bees.

Paris and New York scarfs and stoles are stamped with bees in every color but bumble. And the bee-shaped earring, made of semi-precious gems and artily-wired wings, is to be a hot novelty for fall.

There will also be: Bee buttons, bee cuff-links, bee scatter pins and bee berets. All in either costume or genuine jewels.

In other words:

Rich Body Lotion Helps Restore Petal-Soft Skin

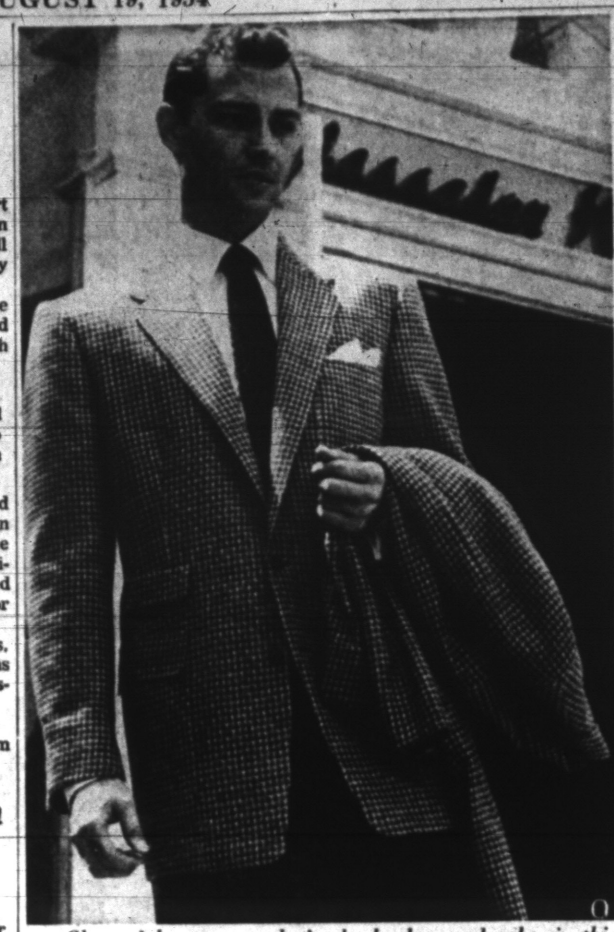
Towards the end of summer, your skin may have become somewhat leathery in texture as well as deeply tanned. A rough-looking skin is most unattractive and may even lead to permanent skin damage.

Even the best tan is insufficient reward if you must sacrifice smooth, petal-soft skin. And those extra daily baths you've been taking mean your skin has had more doses of soap than it requires during any other time.

With soap, salt water, sun and sea breezes taking its toll of your arms, legs, face, neck and shoulders, you'll need to take special care to restore your skin to its healthy, pampered condition.

One of the best ways to give your body (not just your face and hands) the special conditioning it needs is to nourish it with a lanolin-rich body lotion. To neutralize the drying effects summer weather has had on your skin, choose one that's made with a soap-free base.

Smooth the lotion on your skin just after your bath and whenever you can. This lotion is not sticky or greasy. And its makers claim it leaves no artificial film on the skin as it penetrates quickly.



Charred brown . . . that's the background color in this Berton of California sportcoat of imported cashmere and wool blend. The pattern is highlighted by an orange decoration and the coat is styled in a single-breasted, two-button tapered lounge cut. Slacks are charred brown flannel with new tongue-belt waistband.

Kukla, Fran, Ollie Take Viewers Into Wonderland

CHICAGO (INS) — Step backstage into television's "Kukla, Fran and Ollie" show and real-life gets as mixed with make-believe as in the wonderland Alice found on her innocent venture.

The celebrated puppet, Kukla, was pointing his bulb-like nose at Ollie, the puppet dragon and asking:

"What did you say?"

"I said," said Ollie with patient dignity through his one tusk-like tooth, "we're sitting on a fortune. This man, Burr Tillstrom, collects money hand over fist—just for being a puppeteer."

"A what?" asked Kukla.

"He plays with puppets," Ollie said. "And he gets paid for it. which brings me to ask: Why don't we get up a puppet show?"

This idea has teased many real-life minds. With Kukla fitted over his right hand and Ollie on his left, Tillstrom has created one of TV's hottest properties since the birth of commercial television.

Yet the real punch is gauged by those who watch for fun, some 2,249,000 in 50 cities.

An 8.9 Nielson rating indicates that nearly 9 per cent of all TV sets in the cities tune each week to the Punch'n'Judy-like world conjured up by the brains of the 37-year-old Chicagoan.

"Fantasy may be a fancy word nowadays," Tillstrom says, "but kiddies still go for it. And so do their parents. Believe it or not, our audience is about 50-50."

This is borne out by fan mail which has reached 6,000 letters a week.

Of a cast of nine, the only person other than Tillstrom who is not stuffed with cotton is Fran Allison, a merry-eyed actress-singer with a following which began in radio in the 1930s.

Her understanding and humor gain Fran middle billing between earnest little Kukla and his roguish sidekick, Ollie.

Tillstrom was about 7 years old when he first decided dolls should walk and talk—even if he had to help them along.

By the time he was in Senn High School, he figured his puppets should perform with the renowned Tony Sarg exhibit at the Chicago World's Fair of 1933.

The 15-year-old puppeteer was turned down. But a neighbor of his turned out to be Sarg's sister, Mrs. Charlotte Polak. Her home became the proving ground for Tillstrom's artistry.

He abandoned a scholarship to the University of Chicago to perform puppet shows at the WPA-Chicago Parks District Theater at $21.25 a week.

And in 1936 Tillstrom fashioned a puppet with a bulbous nose and astonished eyebrows. Ballerina Tamara Toumanova saw it and exclaimed: "Kukla!"—Russian for doll.

Kukla became Tillstrom's "right hand" and along with Oliver J. Dragon, crashed television in 1947.

Seven years haven't dulled the show and the blue-eyed Tillstrom says plot and dialogue are still truly spontaneous.

Watching the front with a monitor screen, his hands busy with Kuklapolitans, he asks: "What would I do with a script, hold it in my teeth?"

Occasionally someone decides there is an intellectual message in the skits. Tillstrom asserts: "So help me, no message is intended. Just a lot of fun."

How to Fix Structural Floor Flaws

Too Little Support May Cause Creaks and Squeaks

By HUBBARD COBB

We have written, in our day, a good many words, both choice and unchoice on ways to fix squeaky and creaky floors.

Most of these suggestions have dealt with floors that squeaked and creaked because the boards were loose due to improper nailing.

Today, for a change, we're going to talk about floors that make noises because of structural flaws or weakness in the framing.

If the framework over which a floor is laid is not solid, the floor is going to do a little groaning each time it is walked over and not all the nails, glues and screws in the world are going to do much good.

Not only that, but as fast as a nail or screw is driven into the floor boards, the movement of the boards will cause it the loosen; to add its voice to the general racket.

The thing to do with a floor in this condition is to get under it and provide the necessary amount of support to the joists so that the floor is solid. This can be done by installing a girder—4x4 or heavier—across the joints and then supporting this with posts.

Wood posts can be used for this purpose but metal adjustable ones are a good deal easier to install. You should check, before installing any supports, on the condition of the floor bridging, for this can be the source of a lot of noise if not properly nailed.

Bridging strips of wood run between the floor joists at intervals in the form of an X.

They help to stiffen the floor framework but if they are not properly nailed, they will cause a racket each time that particular area of the floor is walked on.

Brocade and Satin Featured for Fall

Can Change Color

Brush On Plastic Coating

By ELIZABETH HILLYER

A damp cloth is still the best answer to problems of the everyday care of plastic upholstery fabrics, but the fabric surface can be refinished, even in a new color.

Mrs. W. W. asks about special preparations: "I've taken good care of the plastic upholstery on two armless chairs in our living room," she writes, "but they are old now and slightly scratched and not as bright as they were. Is there a polish on the market you'd recommend to make the plastic look new?"

Stick to careful wipings with a damp cloth, Mrs. W., rather than look for a polish. Nothing can fill in scratches or brighten the fabric to original luster unless you refinish the surface entirely.

But this is easy enough to do with a flexible coating that is made for the purpose and can easily change the chairs to a new color.

A special filler can be used to smooth into the scratches and even into burn holes that don't penetrate the backing. Use this before the flexible coating, which brushes on like paint.

Mrs. R. S. D. — "Could you give me an inspiration for the color of my living room walls? A sofa and chair are covered in a medallion print in three shades of green, red, brown and white. Two chairs are dark green and one is red.

"Curtains are white percale, and there are chartreuse draperies at a French door. The floor has cocoa carpeting and the furniture is tradtional in dark finishes."

A grayed green-yellow, quite soft and dull, might look good on the walls of the room. It would echo the greens but would not make the room look too green.

A light creamy brown-beige is another suggestion because it would tie the rug and wood color into the scheme.

Mrs. J. O. — "We plan to order shutters for our living room, which has a scheme of turquoise, brown and beige. Some of the furniture is light mahogany and some is dark.

"I don't want white shutters particularly, but felt that a dark wood finish might add too much dark color to the room. Which do you think would be better?"

Ask the shutter dealer to show you his light wood finishes. One that is near the light mahogany is probably available and might look better than either the white or the dark wood stain.

Verdict Delayed on McCarthy

Public Hearings May Not Start Until After August 30

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two Senate investigations involving Sen. McCarthy were threatened with schedule-upsetting delays today, but apparently not because of disputes over the controversial Wisconsin Republican.

Leaders of both Senate groups said the stumbling block was unexpectedly difficult work.

The Senate Investigations subcommittee, which conducted the 36 days of McCarthy-Army hearings, just about gave up hope of reaching a verdict by the end of this week — the date Chairman Mundt (R-SD) had set.

And a special Senate committee headed by Sen. Watkins (R-Utah) to study a proposed resolution of censure against McCarthy indicated it may have to postpone the start of public hearings beyond the scheduled premiere Aug. 30.

McCarthy announced he would enter no protest against a deferred start.

Edward Bennett Williams, McCarthy's counsel, said, "We have no plans to ask for a continuance," but it would be "working under pressure," he said, if he had to get ready his defense by Aug. 30.

Mundt said in an interview he still sees some hope of getting out a verdict by Saturday.

But Senators Jackson (D-Wash) and Dirksen (R-Ill), assigned by the other five subcommittee members to write a tentative draft report, expressed no such confidence. Jackson told reporters he doubts the job can be finished before Tuesday.

Dirksen said one delaying factor has been that the two-million-word official record of the McCarthy-Army hearings consists of "about two thirds surplusage — testimony entirely irrelevant to the charges."

At issue were accusations by Secretary of Army Stevens and Army Counselor John G. Adams that McCarthy and Roy M. Cohn, then chief counsel to the subcommittee, had exerted improper pressures to get special favors for Pvt. G. David Schine, a former subcommittee staff aide. For their part, McCarthy and Cohn accused Stevens and Adams of using Schine as a hostage to prevent McCarthy's search for Reds in the Army.

AIR HIKERS—Five air enthusiasts hitch a ride on a Bell helicopter as it hovers over an airfield at Bern, Switzerland. Four men ride on the 'copter's skis while another sits with the pilot in the plastic bubble. The helicopter will soon be used for air-mail service between Swiss cities.

To Seek Regulation of Roadside Stands

LANSING (UP)—Sen. John Minnema (R-Traverse City) said today he is studying legislation to regulate roadside produce stands for submission to the 1955 law making assembly.

A similar House bill, supported by Minnema, failed to pass during the last regular legislative session when it became snarled in debate.

Minnema said he would favor measures to prevent non-farmers from using state highway rights-of-way to set up roadside stands, creating traffic hazards. The proposal would not prevent farm owners from setting up stands to sell produce on their own property.

Minnema said itinerant truckers who have previously used highway rights-of-way to set up produce stands escape payment of state sales taxes and near metropolitan areas add to traffic hazards by interfering with the normal flow of traffic.

Finders-Keepers Nets Theft Count for Wallet Finder

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP)—This, police say, is how Louis Cohen landed in jail:

He found a wallet on the beach, but he didn't hunt for the owner. Instead, he used it to identify himself when, later, two policemen awakened him in a park.

The wallet happened to belong to a detective, Wayne L. Higley. Cohen was booked yesterday on suspicion of vagrancy and petty theft of found property.

One Killed as Car Hits Freight Train

MOUNT PLEASANT (AP)—Jessie Dixon, 34, of Gary, Ind., was killed and three persons injured early today in a car-train collision at a crossing five miles east of Mount Pleasant.

Injured were Dixon's wife, Margaret, 28, William Jones, 34, and Rose Northern, both of Barrytown.

Police said Dixon's car struck the 13th car of a 32-car Ann Arbor Railroad freight train. The car was dragged 100 yards.

One car of the freight train was drained. Engineer Summers of Owosso said he was going 40 to 45 miles an hour at the time.

Roney of Lansing Takes 2nd in Shorthand Test

CLEVELAND (AP)—Walter R. Roney of Lansing, Mich. took second place yesterday in the annual shorthand speed contest sponsored by the National Shorthand Reporters Assn.

Roney's 99.3 per cent accuracy fell just short of the 99.83 posted by winner Arnold Cohen of New York, 3-time champion.

Schools Give In to Mass Protest

West Virginia Board Reverses Decision to Integrate Races

PHILLIPPI, W. Va. (AP)—Partially reversing its stand on integration of races in public schools, the Barbour County Board of Education last night decided not to send 12 white pupils and a white teacher to a Negro school.

Board President Burton Levicki announced the decision after a secret meeting of the board.

A mass protest to the assignment of the pupils and teacher was voiced by about 200 citizens Tuesday night.

The protest hinged on the board's assignment of Mrs. Patricia M. True, a white teacher, to serve at the Hanging Rock School. The principal of the school is a Negro, E. E. Adams Jr.

The group of protestants also included parents of the 12 children who, under the redistricting brought about by the end of segregation in the county, would be assigned to the Hanging Rock School, the enrollment of which is predominantly Negro.

Levicki said the board last night voted to reverse its step in the Hanging Rock matter, and would assign the 12 white children to nearby Silent Grove and Tacy Elementary Schools.

Mrs. True, meanwhile, would be assigned to teach at Berryburg school, a white institution, he said.

Police Chief James Paugh and a patrolman, J. O. Mackey, were called to restore order Tuesday night when the board met to effect changes growing out of the Supreme Court's decision ending segregation of the races in public schools.

A man who would weigh 190 pounds at the north pole would weigh only 189 pounds if he stood on the equator because the centrifugal force of the turning earth would counteract gravity.

GOP Financing Limits Thief's Take to $10 Bill

NEWARK, N.J. (AP) — A sneak thief, apparently unfamiliar with Grand Old Party financing, ransacked the offices of the State Republican Finance Committee yesterday.

His total loot: a $10 bill.

Welch Death Threat Suspect Being Held

WASHINGTON (INS)—A "well educated" construction engineer captured minutes after he allegedly stole a taxi at gunpoint was quickly identified as the man police sought in connection with the reported death threat against Boston attorney Joseph N. Welch.

The gunman, identified as John Lockridge, 48, of no fixed address, admitted to police that he was the man wanted for questioning about the threat against Welch, army counsel in the recent senate Army-McCarthy hearings.

However, he denied to police that he ever made the threat. He claimed that the story given police by his wife was a fiction.

Detroit Coal Man Sets Altitude Mark

DETROIT (AP)—Detroit's "Flying Coal Man" was reported yesterday to have cracked the world altitude record for light seaplanes by reaching an unofficial 20,500 feet.

Coal dealer Harold E. Mistelle took off from the Detroit Seaplane Base yesterday. Two hours later he glided back to earth at Cleveland.

Two sealed barographs in the cabin of his 4-place Cessna 180, powered by a 225 horsepower engine, will be sent to Washington for corroboration of the record flight.

Flying Truck Tire Rim Kills Lincoln Park Man

DETROIT (AP)—James M. Cox, 28-year-old father of two, died today of a skull fracture suffered yesterday when a tire rim flew off a truck trailer and hit him.

The truck was making a right turn in suburban Lincoln Park when a trailer tire blew out, loosening the rim. The rim hurtled through the air, striking Cox on the head and sailing through the window of a market Cox had just left.

Cox was a Lincoln Park electrician.

Big Tax Refund Asked for GM

Rebate of $206 Million Sought From Congress by Revenue Service

WASHINGTON (INS) — The Internal Revenue Service recommended to Congress yesterday that General Motors Corp. be allowed a 206 million dollar tax refund—the largest in U.S. history.

The recommendation submitted to the joint House-Senate Committee on Taxation must be approved by Congress within 30 days if it is to become effective.

The refund stems from tax payments made by General Motors during the war and is allowable because of quick tax write - off provisions granted firms which built defense plant facilities.

A congressional source explained that the company already has received approximately 196 million, or about 95 per cent, of the refund in advance.

All tax refunds over $200,000 dollars must be approved by the joint case of quick tax write-offs, a full investigation is made later by internal revenue agents.

The report given the committee stated that all refunds made to General Motors during the war years were proper.

The recommendation, whin approved by Congress, will leave approximately 10 million dollars to be refunded the motor firm. Of this amount, however, a substantial sum will be deducted for deficiencies which the company owes the government.

Largest previous refund in history was 69 million made several years ago to the U. S. Steel Corp.

Field Archers to Meet

LUDINGTON (AP)—The National Field Archers Assn. will hold its 1955 national tournament at Ludington State Park, Karl Palmatier, national tournament chairman, announced Wednesday. The meet will be held July 24-28 as a feature of the 1955 Mason County centennial.

Support of Ike Issue in Texas

Gov. Shivers to Battle Yarborough for Dem Nomination Aug. 28

DALLAS (AP)—Gov. Allan Shivers' support of Dwight Eisenhower in 1952 is a big issue in a bitter fight for the Texas Democratic governor nomination.

Ralph Yarborough, Austin attorney and former state district judge trying a second straight time to unseat Shivers, has called Shivers disloyal to the Democratic party for leading Texas' bolt to Republican Eisenhower in the last presidential election.

Shivers argues he backed Eisenhower in the best interests of Texas and the nation.

Voters will decide between Shivers and Yarborough in a runoff primary election Aug. 28. In normally Democratic Texas, Democratic nomination for governor has meant election.

Texas Democrats are split between conservatives and liberals. Shivers leads the conservative faction. Yarborough is considered the liberals' champion.

In September, 1952, the Texas Democratic convention—under Shivers' leadership—did something it had never done before. It put Democratic presidential nominee Adlai Stevenson's name on the Texas ballot but authorized Shivers and the party organization to work for Eisenhower.

Shivers said he supported Eisenhower because Stevenson would have vetoed a bill confirming Texas' title to its tidelands. The 1953 session of Congress passed such a bill, and Eisenhower signed it.

Shivers told a women's rally at Austin recently he is "eternally thankful" Eisenhower was elected. "I am thankful that today we hear no more about Communists in the State Deartment, no more about influence peddlers in the White House, no more about shameful waste and extravagance, no more about higher and higher taxes," he said.

Yarborough has said it was all right for private citizens who are Democrats to vote for Eisenhower. But he has charged that the governor is "the pitcher on the team" and that by supporting a Republican Shivers "let the whole team down."

Eisenhower, at a recent Washington news conference, gave Shivers a pat on the back, saying he thinks Shivers has made a good governor. Yarborough said Eisenhower was trying to tell Texas Democrats how to vote.

More than 45 per cent of U. S. deaths now occur in hospitals compared to about 33 per cent in 1936.

HOMEWARD BOUND—Brazilian beauty Martha Rocha, runnerup in the recent Miss Universe contest, tears up her movie contract and announces that she's going home. Martha says the $150-a-week offer she got from a Hollywood studio wasn't enough and besides she's homesick.

State Would Share in Water Projects

WASHINGTON (INS)—A billion dollar national water project bill was approved yesterday by the House and sent to President Eisenhower's desk.

More than $10,000,000 are authorized for Michigan to cover navigation, flood control and beach erosion projects.

Separate legislation, however, is required before actual construction funds will be provided.

Included in the navigation projects are the deepening of the Saginaw River, improvements to Holland Harbor and Indian and Crooked Rivers.

The flood control project is slated for the Kalamazoo River at Battle Creek and the beach erosion work for the shore of Lake Michigan near Illinois.

1,500-Year-Old Skull Will Have Duplicate

WASHINGTON (INS) — A prehistoric Peruvian who apparently had a fatal headache will serve as model for a new exhibit at the Smithsonian Institution.

George Griffenhagen, Associate Curator in the Division of Medicine and Public Health, was dispatched from Washington to study the 1500-year-old skull in the San Diego, Calif., Museum of Man.

His assignment is to prepare a duplicate of the bandaged head from original materials of the same period and area. To accomplish this the Curator took along a quantity of anient Peruvian mummy cordage and cotton gauze.

The skull was collected by the late Dr. Ales Hrdlicka from a prehistoric cemetery in the Nasca region of Peru. He left it in San Diego for the Panama-California Exposition of 1915.

The head still wears the original surgical dressing — a roll of finely woven white cotton gauze held in place by several strands of strong, finely twisted woolen cord. Part of the scalp and some of the hair are still remained under the bandage and cords.

The bandage is the oldest Western Hemisphere example of surgical dressing known.

Griffenhagen's duplicate skull will be used in a Smithsonian exhibit tracing the evolution of surgical dressings from prehistoric to the bandage of today.

Ambitious Woman Paves Own Street

CLEVELAND, O. (UP) — This just goes to show you if you have the determination you can do the job!

Mrs. Betty Thon became dissatisfied after living on one of suburban Parma's unpaved streets for six months.

She decided to see if something couldn't be done. The city informed her that no paving could be done, but if she wanted, the street department would be glad to furnish certain materials.

That was fine, she told them, so four truck loads of asphalt slabs, three inches thick and up to two feet long, were dumped in her front yard.

"All you need is a sledge hammer, muscle and ambition," she said and plowed into the young mountain of black asphalt.

She banged away with her hammer and finally got the big black lumps broken down and spread evenly over about 100 feet of the dirt and gravel in front of her ranch style home.

"It took five days, but I'm satisfied," she said afterward displaying her hands with 11 blisters.

The German war-bride's husband, Donald Thon, helped, but she did the bulk of the work.

California has almost 10 per cent of all motor vehicles in the United States.

Try Heavenly Lime Chiffon Pie

Refresh Family With Cool Treat

Extra-Luscious Crust Easily Made With Split Ladyfingers

There's something especially cool looking and tasting about limes. It's their color, first of all, then the tangy flavor.

Make a chiffon lime pie with a ladyfinger crust and watch the looks of appreciation on the faces of those who taste it. Use thin slivers of unpeeled lime for a spot of color in the whipped cream ring on top. Try it for cool eating.

Heavenly Lime Pie

12 ladyfingers
1 envelope unflavored gelatin
1 cup sugar, divided
3 eggs, separated
½ cup water
⅓ cup lime juice
1 teaspoon grated lime rind

For ladyfinger pie shell, split ladyfingers. Cut one-half inch off end of ladyfingers; stand, cut side down, around edge of 9-inch pie plate.

Put remaining whole ladyfingers and pieces evenly in bottom of pie plate.

Mix together gelatin and one-half cup of the sugar in top of double boiler. Beat egg yolks slightly; stir in water and lime juice. Add to gelatin mixture.

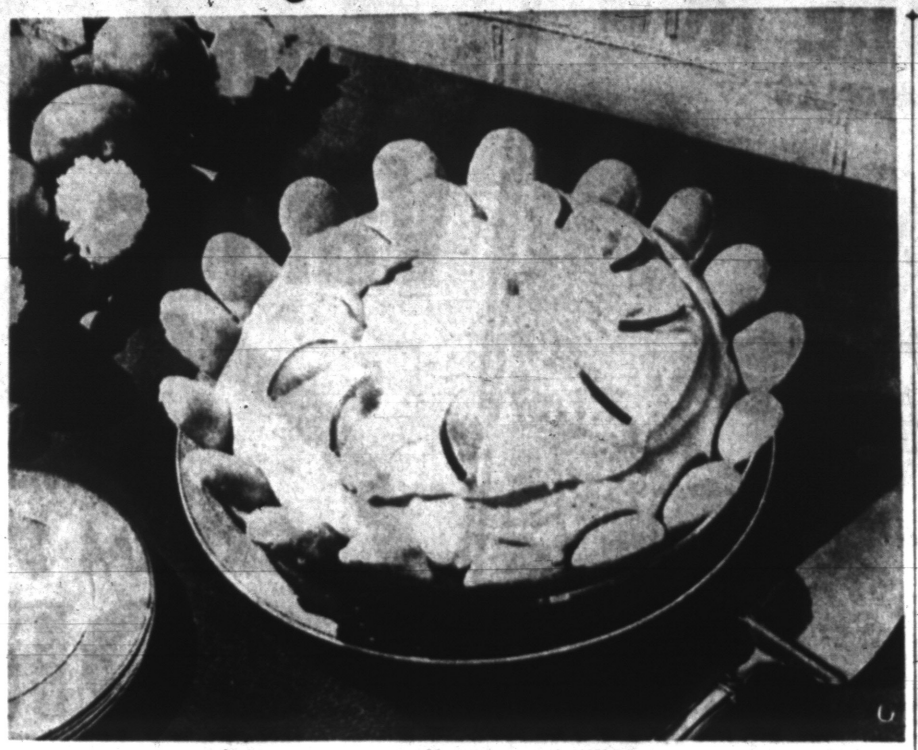
Place over boiling water and cook, stirring constantly, until gelatin is dissolved and mixture is slightly thickened. Add lime rind.

Chill until mixture is slightly thicker than the consistency of unbeaten egg white. Beat egg whites until stiff, but not dry.

Gradually add remaining one-half cup sugar and beat until very stiff. Fold egg yolk mixture into egg whites.

Carefully pile into prepared shell. (Mixture should be thick enough to hold its shape.)

Chill until firm. If desired, garnish with whipped cream.



HEAVENLY LIME PIE—Make a summer pie with tangy lime chiffon filling. You won't even have to bother with a crust. Just split ladyfingers and make a decorative shell. Garnish with a ring of whipped cream and dot with pale green slivers of lime.

Sandwich Is Tasty

For a summer lunch serve corned beef sandwiches with a salad of lettuce (or other greens) tomatoes and cucumber. To make the filling for the sandwiches, mix tiny cubes of corned beef with mayonnaise-type salad dressing and prepared horseradish.

Meat in Salad Is Good News

Refreshing meat salads make news these summer days. For this salad, cubed cooked pork and peas are marinated in French dressing, then combined with chopped celery and nut meats.

The salad is garnished with hard-cooked eggs and stuffed olive slices.

Swiss Salad

2 cups cubed cooked pork
1 cup cooked peas
½ cup French dressing
½ cup diced celery
½ cup walnut meats, broken
6 lettuce leaves
Paprika
Mayonnaise
2 hard-cooked eggs
6 stuffed olives

Marinate meat and peas in French dressing and chill. Add celery and nuts and arrange on lettuce leaves. Sprinkle with paprika and dot with mayonnaise.

Cut each egg into 6 slices. Remove egg yolk from egg slices. Arrange the white rings around the salad. Cut each olive into 4 slices. Overlap 2 olive slices inside each ring of egg white.

Press the egg yolks through a sieve and sprinkle over the salad. 4 to 6 servings.

Cold Cut Platter Tempts Warm Weather Appetites

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

Cold cuts are a wonderful help in hot weather. They are quick to buy, require no extra preparation and allow of enough variety to please even the most discriminating taste.

You can buy a number of different kinds of cold meat and arrange an attractive platter; or you can plan to have some of Sunday's roast left over to be served cold. There are people who prefer cold roast beef or roast pork to the hot variety.

When you plan a cold meat platter, just remember the three "do's." Choose meats which contrast (1) in flavor, (2) in texture, and (3) in color and shape. Slices of bologna may be rolled into cornucopia shape. Square sausage may be cut diagonally from corner to corner.

Cold meat is the foundation of a Dutch lunch platter. This is a treat greatly liked by men. Serve a meat platter, one of assorted cheeses, pickles and other relishes, several kinds of bread (be sure to include rye bread) and a beverage. This can be served for a regular meal or as a midnight snack. Everyone makes his own Dagwood sandwich.

Instead of saving this type of meal just for company, use it occasionally for the family. Treat them to a buffet supper. With the cold cuts serve potato chips, a quickly prepared hot vegetable, sliced tomatoes or a salad and fresh fruit and cookies. Easy on Mom and fun for all the family.

An especially nice accompaniment to serve with cold cuts are relish molds. These are sophisticated little jellied salads that lend color and flavor to the meat platter. If you do not have individual molds, pour the gelatin mixture into small paper cups. You can peel off the paper when you are ready to serve them.

Individual Relish Molds

2 envelopes unflavored gelatin
1 cup cold water
1 teaspoon salt
1 cup mayonnaise
1 cup sour cream
2 tablespoons prepared mustard
¼ teaspoon Tabasco sauce
1 tablespoon grated onion
1 10-ounce jar pickle relish
½ cup diced green pepper
1 cup chopped cucumber
1½ cups diced celery
¼ cup chopped stuffed olives

Sprinkle gelatin on cold water to soften. Place over boiling water and stir until gelatin is dissolved. Add salt; cool.

Combine mayonnaise, sour cream, prepared mustard and Tabasco; gradually add gelatin mixture, stirring until blended. Mix in remaining ingredients. Turn into 12 individual molds; chill until firm. Serve with assorted cold cuts. Makes 12 servings.

Topping for Vegetables

You can make a delicious topping for vegetables by beating a cup of medium white sauce into a lightly beaten egg yolk mixed with a tablespoon of lemon juice.

Garnishes Add Piquant Touch

Colorful garnishes add an enchanting personal touch to that favorite summer pickup — fresh lemonade!

A plump, juicy lemon wedge or a notched lemon slice on the rim of a tall, frosty glass is the most popular, of course.

Try an orange slice for variety —and fresh mint sprigs or green and red maraschino cherries are a colorful addition to lemonade.

A squeeze of lemon adds a tasty and vivid flavor note to any canned fruit juice—or tomato juice.

For a frosty lemonade glass, dip the rim of the glass in lemon juice; then in powdered sugar. Chill, right side up, until edges are frosted.

You can have an extra party air —just add fancy ice cubes to your lemonade. To make these special cubes fill ice tray ½ full of water, put twist of lemon peel or maraschino cherry in each section and freeze. When firm, fill the rest of tray with water and continue freezing.

There's no diluting of that satisfying lemon flavor when you use lemonade ice cubes — just pour plain lemonade into ice trays and freeze.

Peach Filling for Pie Made in New Way

Spicy Fresh Peach Pie

Pastry for 2-crust pie
8 cups sliced peaches
1 tablespoon lemon juice
¾ cup granulated sugar
¼ cup firmly-packed brown sugar
¼ cup quick-cooking rice cereal
½ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon cinnamon
¼ teaspoon nutmeg
⅛ teaspoon cloves
2 tablespoons butter or margarine

Prepare pastry for 2-crust pie. Line bottom of 9-inch pie plate with pastry. Place peaches in a large bowl; mix with lemon juice.

Stir sugars, quick-cooking rice cereal, salt, cinnamon, nutmeg and cloves together; stir gently into peaches, then fill pie shell. Dot with butter. Top with lattice crust.

Bake in 400 oven until lightly browned — about 45 minutes. Serve hot or cold.

Serving ice tea? Accompany it with attractive slices of lemon: just score the lemon and then slice very thin so you have a pretty fluted effect.

Flavor Whipped Cream With Powdered Coffee

Vary the flavor of whipped cream next time you want a topping for shortcake or custard.

Just add two teaspoons of instant coffee and two tablespoons of sugar to one cup of whipping cream before you begin to whip. It's a wonderful way to bring delicious coffee flavor to desserts.

Clam Cocktail Tops Cool Summer Meal

Here's a cool and refreshing first course.

Rosy Clam Cocktail

1 cup tomato juice,
1 8-ounce bottle clam juice
1 teaspoon lemon juice
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
Freshly ground pepper

Have tomato juice and clam juice chilled. Mix with lemon juice and Worcestershire sauce. Add pepper to taste. Makes about 3 cups — use about ½ cup for each serving in small juice glasses. Makes 4 servings.

Recipe Gives New Flavor to Potatoes

Emmie's Potatoes

2 cups freshly-prepared or leftover mashed potatoes
1 tablespoon finely grated onion (pulp and juice)
1 tablespoon minced green pepper
½ teaspoon curry powder
1 tablespoon butter or margarine
4 tablespoons fine, dry bread crumbs

Use mashed potatoes, seasoned with salt and pepper, that have had a little hot milk and butter beaten into them so they will be fluffy. Beat in onion, green pepper and curry. Spoon into 8-inch pie dish.

Melt butter and mix with bread crumbs. Sprinkle buttered bread crumbs over top of potatoes. Put under broiler or in moderate or hot oven until heated through and crumbs are lightly browned. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

Veal lacks fat, and so it may be necessary to cover it with salt pork, pieces of suet or bacon when you are roasting it.

Corn Beef Hash Stuffs Peppers

During these hot summer days the idea of a "no-cooking" dinner is particularly appealing . . . you still have to feed your family and the meat and potato dish that is all-in-one certainly appeals to housewives.

Canned corned beef hash, in the familiar 1-pound can, is a real treat for your family and an easy-to-prepare meal for you. You don't have to stand in the kitchen mixing a lot of ingredients to prepare this special treat for your family.

You'd be surprised, if you've never served canned corned beef hash, how really good it is. Of course, when the packers of these canned products make hash, they are not using leftovers as you might do when you make it at home in your own kitchen.

They use good cuts of meat and carefully selected potatoes. This is particularly true of the high-quality brands. One of the leading brands has no onion in it because, as the makers say, "it is easy to put it in, but impossible to take it out."

Of course, the easiest way to serve canned corned beef is to dump it into the skillet, break it up with a fork, heat for a few minutes and it is ready to serve.

But, if you are a housewife who likes to serve your family something especially tasty, here is an easy way to make a delicious dinner. Cut the tops off green peppers, remove the seeds and veins and drop into boiling water, letting them stand for 10 minutes.

HASH-STUFFED PEPPERS—For a quick and easy meal on a warm summer's eve try stuffed peppers. Long a favorite with cooks, these peppers are filled with canned corned beef hash and topped with grated cheese. Thirty minutes later you have a tempting main dish.

After the peppers have cooled off, stuff them with canned corned beef hash and top with grated cheese. Set them in a pan with water covering the bottom, pour tomato sauce over the top and bake 30 minutes in a 350 degree oven, basting occasionally.

The preparation of this tasty meal takes only a few minutes and your dinner will be ready in a half an hour, without any special cooking.

Salad on a Platter!

A vegetable salad platter is just the thing for luncheons or suppers. Arrange your assortment of cooked and marinated vegetables on a large platter. Center with a pretty bowl filled with this wonderfully different salad dressing—Blend together 1 cup thick sour cream, contents family size can of deviled ham and just a pinch cayenne pepper. Chill and serve with salad.

Seafood Salad Will Serve 25

Summer is the season for salads. Too, a main course salad is the answer to many a crowd-feeding problem, say at a bridal shower or wedding luncheon. For either of they don't have a chance to gett pecially appetizing because of the subtle blending of flavors.

This recipe for Seafood Medley Salad was developed for serving twenty-five. For the best blending of flavors, be careful to flake (not mash) the fish and to mince and dice the vegetables, as directed.

Seafood Medley Salad

1 quart cooked or canned shrimp
4 7-ounce cans tuna, flaked
3 cups cooked lobster or crab, flaked
1 cup French dressing
2 quarts minced celery
4 cucumbers, diced
⅓ cup minced onion
1 cup sliced stuffed olives
2 teaspoons salt
½ teaspoon pepper
2½ cups mayonnaise

If shrimp are large, cut in small pieces. Combine shrimp, tuna and lobster (or crab). Pour French dressing over this. Let stand in refrigerator 1 hour. Drain. Combine with celery, cucumbers, onion and olives.

Combine salt, pepper, and mayonnaise and fold into seafood mixture. Chill thoroughly. Serve mounded on crisp lettuce leaves. Makes 25 servings.

Waffles, Chicken Topping Fine for Lunch or Supper

Lunch is a daily event with all Americans three hundred and sixty-five days a year — with a few regional and seasonal variations. In general "lunch" means the moderately light meal served around the middle of the day.

In summer the midday meal can be a family affair oftener, thanks to vacations. But in many areas the light meal is the evening one — supper.

At whatever time of day your family "lunches" it's a fine idea to plan this light meal as an easy one.

How about the waffle iron? It keeps its heat to itself and can do its work anywhere its cord can reach an outlet — even on the porch or terrace, with the help of an extension cord.

Here's our special summer waffle suggestion: Stir up your favorite basic waffle mixture and toss into it ½ to 1 cupful of juicy blueberries, or other berry fruits as they come in season.

On these delicious Berry Waffles serve Easy Creamed Chicken, made in five minutes (for four) as follows:

Melt 2 tablespoons enriched margarine in a saucepan. Add 2 tablespoons flour and stir over low heat until mixture bubbles. Add ½ cup milk and stir smooth. Then blend ½ cup chicken stock (or milk) with 3 tablespoons real mayonnaise and stir into creamed mixture, cooking slowly until smooth and thickened.

Add 1 cup diced cooked chicken (left-over or canned) and heat but don't boil. Mmmm . . . very special!

Onion Waffles

2 medium-size onions, sliced
2 tablespoons butter
2 eggs, slightly beaten
2 cups water
½ cup nonfat dry milk powder
2½ cups sifted flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon salt

Saute onion rings in butter until lightly browned. Add beaten eggs to water. Sprinkle nonfat dry milk powder over surface of egg-water mixture; beat with rotary beater until blended.

Sift together flour, baking powder and salt. Add to nonfat dry milk mixture and stir until all dry ingredients are moistened. Stir in sauteed onions.

Bake in waffle iron according to manufacturer's directions. Makes 4 servings.

Coffee Cake Odor Helped Grandma Rouse Family

How often we who were country-raised pity the under-privileged souls who never were dynamited from lazy morning dreams by Grandma's call at the foot of the stairs: "The coffee cake's in the oven."

And moments later through the doors, the very walls, through the open windows, along with the sweetness of moist garden flowers and fresh-cut hay, came the tantalizing fragrance of cinnamon, promise of a cake satisfying yet tender-hearted.

But today, with buttons to press and switches to turn, there is no time to bake. And while what follows isn't Granny's Coffee Cake recipe — she never saw special baby cereals—you'll love this quickly-stirred cake for a leisurely brunch.

Use any one of the four precooked baby cereals; usually at least two varieties are on the shelf in the baby household. For a short-cut, have dry ingredients ready-measured and sifted in advance.

Coffee Cake

1 cup sifted flour
½ teaspoon salt
4 teaspoons baking powder
⅓ cup sugar
1 cup any baby cereal (rice, oatmeal, barley or cereal food)
¼ cup shortening
2 eggs
½ cup milk

Sift together flour, salt, baking powder and sugar. Add cereal and mix thoroughly. Work in shortening until mixture is mealy. Beat eggs. Add milk. Add liquid to dry ingredients and stir only enough to dampen flour. Do not beat. Spoon into a greased pan 8x8x2 inches or 10x6x1½ inches. Spread to rim with a spatula. Sprinkle with topping. Bake in a hot 400 oven 15 minutes or until nicely browned.

Topping

Blend together:
2 tablespoons any baby cereal
2 tablespoons brown sugar
1 tablespoon melted butter or margarine
¼ cup chopped nuts

Pink Cranberry Dessert Has Delicious Flavor

The whole family will enjoy the flavor of this pretty pink dessert.

Combine a pound can of cranberry sauce (whole or jellied) with 8 quartered marshmallows and a sliced banana. Whip a cup of heavy cream and sweeten to taste with confectioners sugar. Fold the cream into the cranberry mixture, chill, and spoon into individual sherbet or dessert dishes.

The dill used in dill pickles may be either fresh from the garden or dried.

Picnic Peelers Are Easy to Eat

Want to take it easy when you go on a picnic? Want to make the serving of the lunch as simple as eating a banana?

Then try Picnic Peelers.

A national homemaking authority suggests this unique sandwich idea for the nation's families as they head for the outdoors in July to celebrate Picnic Month.

No plates, nor forks, are needed. The sandwiches are prepared at home before the picnic starts. A tasty ground beef filling is inserted in the bun and wrapped in foil.

"You eat them in your fingers, like a banana, peeling the wrappings down," explains the inventor.

Picnic Peelers

18 wiener buns
1 cup chopped onion
¼ cup fat
1 pound ground beef
1 cup catsup
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
1 teaspoon chili powder

Brown meat and onion in fat. Add rest of ingredients. Bring to a boil. Cool. Cut lengthwise slits along one side of buns and remove some of the soft center to leave room for filling.

Spoon 2 tablespoons of filling into each bun and wrap separately in waxed paper or foil, twisting the ends slightly.

Freezer Aids Housewife in Heat of Summer

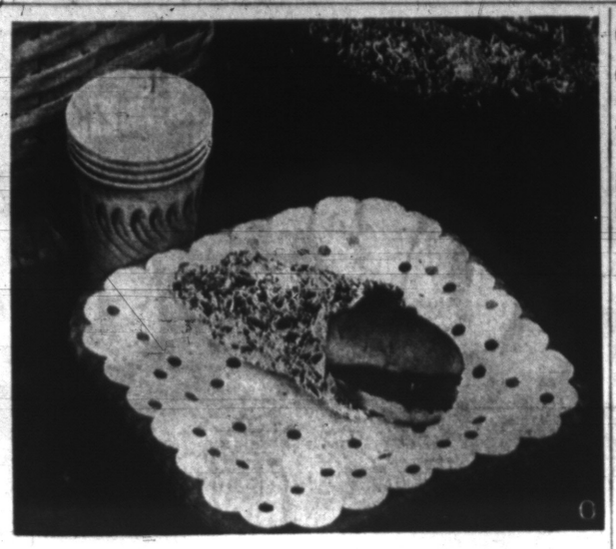
Even on hot summer days your family can have its favorite, long-cooked dishes, without the sacrifice of your "cooking" yourself in a superheated kitchen.

The way you can serve such dishes as baked beans at summer meals, doing so in comfort, is to prepare them ahead of time in cool weather and store them in the home freezer. Precooked foods need to be in or on the range only long enough to be heated for the table.

If your freezer doesn't hold a full summer's supply of foods cooked in winter and spring, you still can beat the heat. Home economists suggest that you take advantage of cool days that come as a break in hot weather and of cool morning hours to build up a cooked food balance in the freezer.

Among long-cooked foods that might be considered out of the question without a freezer are chow mein, chili, soups, stews, roasts, creamed meat, poultry or fish, and noodles, spaghetti or rice with meat or chicken.

Such dishes will add interest to meals at a time of year when appetites often must be stimulated if the ever-present need for wholesome, balanced diets is to be met.



PICNIC PEELERS—For a novel idea at your next picnic, try these buns filled with a spicy barbecue-like filling. Make them at home, stack them in a Dutch oven or heavy kettle and warm over your picnic fire. That's all there is to it.

Grocery Sales Good Indicator for Business

CHICAGO (UP) — A grocery executive says housewives seem to have a "sixth sense" about business prospects.

Judging from "women's intuition," he said, the current outlook is optimistic.

Don R. Grimes, president of the Independent Grocers' Alliance, said much can be learned about economic conditions by studying the food purchases of housewives.

Women still are buying vegetables, pre-mixed foods and quality cuts of meat in substantial quantities, he said.

When hard times are in the offing, he explained, women invariably switch to the starchy foods and less expensive cuts of meat.

"The last depression was an era of bread and potatoes," Grimes said.

"Housewives also bought fewer steaks and roasts and more hamburger."

Tuna-Egg Scramble Has Flavor of Orient

Serve Tuna Scramble for a supper with a foreign flavor. It's a new twist to familiar scrambled eggs, turning them into a hearty main-dish for Friday meals or a quick supper anytime.

Add a crisp salad, biscuits from a mix or toast and a fruit dessert for simple family fare.

Tuna Scramble, Chinese-Style

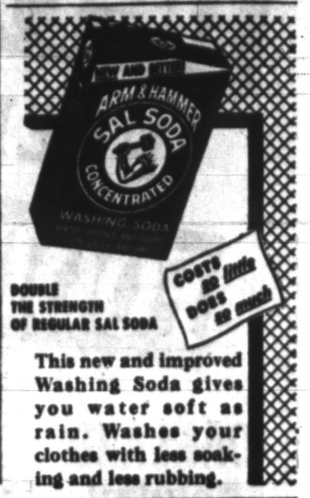
6 eggs
1 can (6½ ounces) chunk-style tuna, well drained and flaked
½ cup drained canned bean sprouts
1 tablespoon grated onion
2 teaspoons soy sauce
2 tablespoons butter or margarine

Beat eggs slightly; fold in tuna, bean sprouts, onion and soy sauce. Heat butter or margarine in medium-sized frying pan. Add egg mixture; cook over low heat until eggs are set, stirring carefully.

When you have broth left in the pan after baking meat loaf, use it in a sauce for the loaf or in a gravy for another meal.

Peps Up Bland Dishes

Add a dash of Worcestershire sauce to cream sauces and creamed dishes for extra flavor. Many sandwich fillings and salad greens take to Worcestershire sauce, too.



This new and improved Washing Soda gives you water soft as rain. Washes your clothes with less soaking and less rubbing.

WORLD-FAMOUS CANADA DRY
"The Champagne of Ginger Ales"

Veal Dish Cooked on Top of Stove

This veal dish is fine for summer because it is cooked on top of the range in no time.

Veal Scallopine with Tomato Sauce

1 pound veal cutlet
1 large egg
5 tablespoons fine dry bread crumbs
5 tablespoons grated Parmesan cheese
Dash of salt
3 tablespoons olive oil
One 8-ounce can tomato sauce
A few pinches of basil seasoning powder or crushed dried or minced fresh basil

Have butcher cut veal in 8 thin pieces, each about 4 by 3 inches; now have the veal pounded paper-thin. Beat egg just enough to combine yolk and white. Mix bread crumbs, cheese and salt thoroughly on a flat plate or waxed paper. Heat oil in large iron skillet until quite hot; dip a slice of veal in egg, then in crumbs, so both sides of meat are coated. Cook 3 or 4 slices at a time in the hot oil until well browned on both sides; this will only take a few minutes for each frying; keep first pieces warm while others are cooking.

Heat tomato sauce with basil. Serve veal with tomato sauce; there may be a little sauce left over—if so add it to a sauce or soup. Makes 4 small servings.

Sweeten blackberries and put a layer of them in sherbet glasses. Add a layer of vanilla pudding and top with more of the blackberries.

Good Eating Helps Make Family Jaunt Memorable

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

Back at my desk after nearly two weeks away, with some 1,300 miles of travel behind me and the rest of the family. It was our first jaunt "en famille" and turned out most successfully.

One morning we spent driving around Louis Bromfield's home near Mansfield, Ohio. The Better Half was interested in the Malabar method of farming (Malabar is the name of Bromfield's farm), and the rest of us were just interested. It was a perfect summer morning, exactly right for exploring side roads in that beautiful, hilly country.

Stopping at the Malabar roadside market, we bought apple butter and boysenberry jam to be eaten this winter as a reminder of our trip. All the vegetables at this stand are washed in cold, clear spring water that is piped down the hillside into a huge trough.

Across the road was the biggest bed of watercress I had ever seen—watered by this same spring. Two of the famous Malabar boxers were wandering around and allowed the children to pet them.

The night we spent in Pennsylvania we had dinner at a most interesting place. Set out in the middle of Nowhere is Linnwood Restaurant on the Pymatuning. It is near the largest natural fish hatchery in the world where "The Ducks Walk on the Fish."

While waiting for our dinner—which was delicious—I talked with the owner, Mrs. Linn. She and her husband have had this restaurant out in the country for 13 years.

"Some of our friends thought we were crazy when we built so far out," she said, "but I knew a good site when I saw one." Time has proven her right; people will go anywhere if they get good food.

All the bread and pastries served are made fresh daily. The brown bread is made from wheat grown right on their own farm and ground in a neighborhood mill.

Mrs. Linn said they used to grow most of their own produce, but they've had to turn over much of this work to the folks around-about. Their son-in-law provides all the chickens; they home-cure their own hams and bacon.

We were at Linnwood on Wednesday, so we missed their weekly Threshermans Dinner which comes every Thursday. Mrs. Linn said they put all the tables together down the room and cover them with oilcloth. The food is set out in the middle of the table, and everyone helps himself country - style. This Threshermans Dinner has become an institution in the surrounding countryside.

On the way home we went through LeRoy, N. Y., the home of the original Jello factory. It was here that Jello was first made in 1897. It is here that it is still made and also the place where the boxes for all the Jello factories in the country are made and printed.

The factory is a small red brick building on a shady street. Most of its 400 workers are women who wear attractive pink uniforms. . . But . . . men make up the big batches of Jello! Over each mixing machine hangs a recipe: 254 pounds of sugar, 32¼ pounds of gelatin, 8½ pounds of citric acid, salt and phosphate.

After being mixed, each batch is sampled in the test kitchen. The women there must taste each sample to insure the proper flavor. After a day of trying various kinds of Jello and prepared puddings, we were sure they don't eat it for dinner.

The presses making and printing the boxes are awesome. The largest one turns out 105,000 boxes an hour. Women inspect and pack them for shipping in a huge, noisy room that reeks of banana oil.

The rest of the factory was comparatively quiet. Music was coming through the speaker system. Here machines did the work of opening, filling, closing, sealing and dating the boxes.

The only place where machines did not pack the containers was in the room where restaurant-size cans were being filled. Girls filled and weighed these, then pounded the lids down with a wooden hammer.

Even the Five-Year-Old could enjoy this tour. However, I'm afraid his most vivid impression came from getting a bag of samples when it was over; one just for him like everyone else!

The night blooming cereus plant belongs to the cactus family.

Remove the center from frankfurter or hamburger rolls and stuff with a well-seasoned meat or fish salad mixture.

When hydrogen burns, water is formed.

FROZEN FRUIT DRINKS—Cooling drinks are part of summer entertaining, whether indoors or on the patio. Here we see such refreshing, eye-appealing drinks as Grape Freeze, Peach Supreme and Cherry Frappe.

Let Cool, Colorful Drink Match Table Decorations

A tall, cool drink is wonderful on a hot, summer day. Even a short one is good — especially if it's served in your very prettiest glass — a hollow-stemmed, champagne glass for instance.

From the test kitchens of a frozen juices company come three ideas for refreshing summer drinks — pretty enough for a party — cooling as a breeze right off the ocean.

Set your table to match the mood — if you decide on Peach Supreme a few rosy-tinged peaches nestling on glossy green leaves will be centerpiece enough. If Cherry Frappe is your choice, then let Cherry Ripe be your theme — with clusters of the lovely, rich-hued fruit to adorn your setting.

Or perhaps Grape Freeze is your favorite. Thread the luscious purple beauties on a glimmering, transparent straw and let the modest little, white grape be the coolest of decoration.

Peach Supreme

1 can (12 oz.) frozen orange juice
3 cans water
1 pint peach ice cream
1 cup milk
Fresh peach slices

Blend fresh-frozen orange juice with water, following label directions. Allow ice cream to soften a little, then mix with juice. Beat in milk.

Serve in tall glasses and garnish with fresh peach slices. Approximately 10 servings.

Cherry Frappe

1 can (6 oz.) frozen lemonade
Water
½ cup cherry or cranberry juice
Finely crushed ice
Fresh cherries

Blend lemonade with water, following label directions. Mix with cherry or cranberry juice. Pour over finely crushed ice and garnish with fresh cherries. Yield: 4½ cups juice.

Grape Freeze

1 can (6 oz.) frozen lemonade
1 can (6 oz.) frozen grape juice
Water
1 pint lemon sherbet
Fresh grapes

Blend fresh-frozen lemonade and fresh-frozen grape juice with water following label directions. Mix and pour over ice cubes in tall glasses and top with lemon sherbet. Thread fresh grapes on straws and serve as garnish. Serves 6-8.

Children Will Cheer Peppermint Cookies

Is the cookie jar empty? Fill it up with Pink Peppermint Cookies. The children will love these pretty cookies to eat with chocolate milk shakes. They are not only delicious, but also a rich source of protein and minerals from the nonfat dry milk that is used.

Pink Peppermint Cookies

1¼ cups sifted flour
⅓ cup nonfat dry milk
½ teaspoon baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
½ cup shortening
¾ cup sugar
1 egg
¼ teaspoon essence of peppermint
12 to 14 drops red vegetable food coloring

Sift together flour, nonfat dry milk powder, baking power and salt. Cream shortening. Gradually add sugar; continue to beat until mixture is light and fluffy.

Add egg, peppermint and food coloring and beat until well blended. Add sifted dry ingredients; beat well.

Divide cookie dough in half; wrap each portion in waxed paper; chill about ½ hour. Roll out between two sheets of waxed paper to ⅛ inch in thickness. Cut with 2-inch diameter cookie cutter.

Place on ungreased baking sheet. If desired, top with chopped nut meats or candy sprinkles. Bake in 350 oven 8 to 10 minutes or until edges are very lightly browned. Makes about 48 (2-inch) cookies.

Add Caraway Seeds

Ever try adding caraway seeds to cream-style cottage cheese to use as a spread for crackers or large potato chips? A half teaspoon of the seeds will be about right for an 8-ounce container of the cheese.

Home Canners Warned Oven Method Is Unsafe

Oven canning cannot be carried out safely. It is dangerous for two reasons. The food may not reach a sufficiently high temperature to kill bacteria, and serious accidents may occur from explosions of the jars. Though you may previously have used the oven method without accident, do not continue to do so.

Use one of the accepted methods of canning — a pressure-cooker method for all non-acid vegetables such as peas, beans, corn, etc. Or, if you prefer, a hot-water-bath method for acid foods like fruits and tomatoes.

Angel Mallows Make Excellent Picnic Fare

Picnickers who like to make their own desserts will welcome Angel Mallows, which they can make to their own specifications. The ingredients to pack for Angel Mallows are packaged cook book quality angel food cake from your grocer's ready-to-eat cake department, a jar of marshmallow cream, and a shaker of colored sugar granules.

To make Angel Mallows, spread a slice of cake with marshmallow. Shake sugar over it for color and texture, and top with a second slice. Good finger eating!

Laughter and Gaiety Gone From Streets of Peiping

(Editor's Note—The following dispatch is from the correspondent of the London Daily Herald, organ of the British labor movement, accompanying the Labor Party group on its visit to China. Efforts of the Associated Press to obtain visas for a reporter to go along with the Attlee party were not successful.)

By DERYCK WINTERTON

PEIPING (By Courier)—After three days in Peiping, I finally "entered" China officially.

My entry visa was stamped to enter from the south. It was not clear why, and the reason is unknown to me as the document I received yesterday is in Chinese. Entry from the north (the route the British party traveled) is technically a breach of the regulations, but it has been decided that I need not go out and in again.

So yesterday I traveled back to the airport with a new and correct visa to be stamped. Everybody is happy now.

This may be an instance of red tape but certainly not of lack of good will.

Yesterday afternoon there was a remarkable example of Chinese courtesy and desire to help. The health minister, Mrs. Li Teh-chuang, gave an interview lasting nearly three hours. Present with her were the vice minister, Dr. Ho Cheng, and 17 other officials.

Mrs. Li, smiling, plumpish and middle-aged, wore glasses and could have been a British school headmistress.

She made big claims of health advance since the Communists took over in 1949, but constantly emphasized that there was a long way to go before the aim of universal free health service as in Britain would be attainable because of lack of doctors and staff to train doctors.

She said big strides had been made in eliminating smallpox, plague and other diseases which have been the bane of China.

* * *

Mrs. Li said with obvious pleasure that a third to a half of the students in some medical schools are women. Some students were trained in Russia and Czechoslovakia and other Communist countries in Europe.

I asked, "Why not send some to Britain?"

Everyone laughed and Mrs. Li said, "Yes, indeed, we wish to exchange cultural information."

Last night the British delegation attended a reception given by the Indonesian ambassador to celebrate his country's independence day.

Another British correspondent with the delegation, John Ridley of the London Daily Telegraph, reported that former Prime Minister Clement Attlee, left-wing leader Aneurin Bevan, and two others of their party discussed foreign trade yesterday with the head of that ministry in the Peiping government, Yeh Chi Chung.

Ridley, who had been in China before the Communist takeover, gave this description of Peiping under the Reds:

While much of Peiping life remains much the same as it did before the Communist revolution, a great deal actually has been changed. To anyone who was in China before, it seems astonishing that waiters refuse tips rather haughtily. The laughter and gaiety of streets has for the most part gone.

From the walls of most buildings saturnine portraits of Mao Tze-tung, Stalin, Malenkov and Molotov glower down at passing multitudes.

Bookshops are crammed with Communist books and I was surprised this morning when going late to breakfast in my hotel to find almost the entire staff congregated there, having their morning instruction in Marxism from the local commissar.

Generally the city is cleaner than it was and public buildings such as the Forbiden City Temple of Heaven, the Lama Temple and various pagodas of Peiping are beautifully kept with paintwork renewed and gardens around them banked with flowers. On the whole the people are very poorly dressed but even high government officials obviously consider it the thing to appear only in depressing looking dungaree suits. There are still frightful sights of poverty but there are no beggars in the streets. Although I was earnestly and frequently informed that "New China" is doing everything for children even here in the capital of the country, there are obvious signs of starvation amongst many potbellied, naked little boys and girls sitting apathetically beside gutters.

Everywhere there are soldiers all fully armed with automatic weapons and even grenades. This, I was told, was because invasion is always feared from Formosa whose guerrillas—or bandits as it is more polite to refer to these irregulars here — have recently been increased and given more arms. Around the airfield on the edge of the city an electric fence has been put up and guarded every few yards by soldiers.

Treatments Outlined for Bomb Casualties

SAN FRANCISCO (UP) — Blood transfusions and antibiotics are the only effective means of treating H-Bomb and A-Bomb casualties, according to a University of California scientist at the university's Los Angeles Atomic Energy Project.

After a recently completed survey of treatments of radiation injuries, Dr. Thomas Haley of the university made these conclusions:

1. There is no "wonder" drug that will singlehandedly counteract radiation effects.
2. Some drugs show promise but remain either ineffective or questionable.
3. The spleen appears to be vitally concerned in the victim's survival.
4. "Plasma volume extenders" have shown promise in treating some phases of radiation injury, but their value is yet to be determined.

Walks 345 Miles for 82nd Birthday

PARIS (INS)—Photographer M. Jacques Taruffi of Lausanne, Switzerland, decided to celebrate his 82nd birthday recently by taking a "little promenande."

So he packed a shoulder bag with a few sheets of writing paper, Swiss francs, a bottle of cognac ... looped a skinny black umbrella over an arm ... and walked 345 miles from Lausanne to Paris.

It took him 10 days.

To prove his hike went along without a "hitch," the tall, balding Taruffi had the police of each locality through which he passed put their stamp in a special notebook he carried for the purpose.

When asked whether he got tired during his average 35 to 40 mile-a-day "stroll," Taruffi flicked a bit of dust from his thick, gray mustache and allowed:

"Sometimes I felt it a little in my legs, so I drank some cognac and continued without trouble."

Solons to Attend Shafer Funeral

Service for Michigan Representative Will Be Held Tomorrow

WASHINGTON (UP) — The Michigan delegation and several members of the Armed Services Committee will represent the House at the funeral of Rep. Paul W. Shafer at Battle Creek Friday.

Speaker Martin made the announcement yesterday.

Michigan's Homer Ferguson and Charles Potter will represent the Senate.

Services for the 61-year-old veteran Michigan Republican who died of a liver ailment in Washington Tuesday will be held in the First Congregational Church. Burial will follow in Memorial Park.

Among messages of condolence to relatives was a telegram from President Eisenhower to Mrs. H. Earl Kanaga of Battle Creek, Shafer's sister.

"It was with the deepest regret that I learned of the death of your brother, Congressman Shafer," the Presidents message said. "I had known him since the days of the old Military Affairs Committee. He was a diligent and effective legislator with a host of friends. He will be greatly missed.

"Please accept my sincerest sympathy."

Sagacious City Slips One Over on Legislature

SAGINAW (UP) — Local residents still chuckle over the way a group here pulled the wool over the eyes of Michigan legislators almost 100 years ago.

Surveys of possible salt formations had been made by state geologists in southeastern Michigan, but the findings were negative.

Some Saginaw citizens sent a petition to the legislature asking for a "bounty" of 10 cents per barrel on all salt produced here.

The lawmakers, assuming little or no salt would be produced, thought the offer harmless and passed a law in 1859 that went the petition one better. It set a bounty of 10 cents per bushel and 50 cents per barrel on all salt produced in the Saginaw area.

The East Saginaw Salt Manufacturing Co. was formed and started operation in 1860. Production the first year was 10,722 barrels. By 1861 it totaled 32,250 barrels.

The bounty measure was repealed.

The Saginaw Valley area of Michigan now produces salt valued in excess of $10,000,000 per year—minus the bounty.

Since the states of Kansas, Maryland, New York, Ohio, Pennsylvania and Virginia are important sources of revenue to the motion picture industry, they influence the character of the films offered in all the states.

Adults Fear Caves

STANTON, Mo. (INS) — More adults than children are afraid to enter caves. That's the opinion of Lester B. Dill, operator of Meramec Caverns. "Although we are living in a streamlined age, one of 1200 adults is afraid to enter caves. Children can't wait to enter," said Dill.

Modern Day Collateral

HOLLYWOOD (UP) —An engineering student and his girl friend had dinner at a restaurant. He discovered he was short of money to pay the bill. After he told the manager his troubles he said, "I'm awfully sorry. If you'll trust me until tomorrow I'll leave my Geiger counter as security."

Dam Proposal Set for Alabama

Coosa River Will Have 5 Hydroelectric Sites; Radical Changes Seen

WETUMPKA, Ala. (UP) — Congress is considering a proposal from the Alabama Power Co. to build five hydroelectric dams on the Coosa River, a project that promises to change radically the face and habits of one of the more important streams in the southeast.

But luckily for tourists, the new dams won't do away with the state's Dead River one of the most curious features of Alabama geography.

Dead River lies somewhat below the site of the proposed dams. It is a two-mile-long stream connecting the Coosa and the Tallapoosa Rivers that most often has no current at all, and then again, has been known to flow both north and south at different times.

The river is located near the site of historic Fort Toulouse, a few miles above the point where the Coosa and Tallapoosa merge to form the Alambama River. Fort Toulouse was the site of one of the last great Indian battles for the southeast.

Dead River was formed in the great flood of 1886 when the Coosa and Tallapoosa overflowed and joined, cutting a deep permanent channel across the narrow neck of land.

Anchorage, Alaska, is one of the fastest-growing cities under the American flag. Its metropolitan population has jumped from a scrant 4,000 in 1940 to 50,000.

Ex-President Hoover Wins Steuben Award

CHICAGO (UP)—Former President Herbert Hoover has been selected by the Steuben Society of America to receive the first Steuben Award. The society announced his selection as it opened its 16th national convention today.

The award was set up by the society for the American man or woman performing outstanding service in the welfare of the United States as a public official, educator, scientist, engineer or inventor. The Steuben Society is a national organization of American citizens of German ancestry.

Vote Against Amendment

WASHINGTON (UP) — Senators Ferguson and Potter, Michigan Republicans, Wednesday night voted for a motion by Sen. Knowland (R-Calif) to table an amendment by Sen. Johnston (D-SC) to add a pay raise for two million government workers to a flood control bill. The senate adopted the motion 47-30.

Find Indian Stone Carvings in Illinois

CARBONDALE, Ill. (UP)—A new group of Indian petroglyphs (pictures carved in stone) have been found on the side of Fountain Bluff near here by Irvin M. Peithman, a member of the Southern Illinois University Museum staff.

Many of the pictures have been worn away by weather, but a large group in a rock shelter follow the pattern of other petroglyphs found in southern Illinois. The newly discovered group includes figures of birds, animals and human beings. One of the birds appears to be an eagle in flight with outstretched talons. A well-defined deer is in the animal group.

Among the symbols of the mythology or religion of the prehistoric inhabitants of the area who drew the petroglyphs are a cross in a circle, sun symbols, thunderbirds and human hands.

Army Cotton Has Way of Sticking Around

FLINT (UP) — The local Vocational Rehabilitation Division office reported that a man stopped in and complained he couldn't find a job because he was hard of hearing.

A doctor who examined him found wads of cotton in each of his ears. The man said the cotton was put there a year earlier while he was participating in an artillery drill in the Army and he must have forgotten to take them out.

WELCOME FOR POPE—Seated in his specially built automobile, Pope Pius XII is welcomed to Castel Gondolfo by the mayor of the township, 27-year-old Marcello Costa, the youngest mayor in Italy. The Pope will rest a few months in his summer home at Castel Gondolfo before returning to his duties at the Vatican.

Professor Urges Good Discipline Plan for Children

PHILADELPHIA (UP) — Unbridled self expression is one cause of juvenile delinquency, one prominent psychiatrist says.

Dr. Winifred Stewart, professor of neurology at Woman's Medical College, said juvenile delinquency often can be traced to parents who hesitated to correct their children for fear of causing "serious inhibitions."

Many parents are confused by articles on children's self-expression, he said, and believe any type of discipline will cause inhibitions.

"The children are allowed to make their own decisions at an early age," she said, "decisions that are wrong and result in failures. The inevitable result to the children is a loss of self-confidence."

The psychiatrist warned that the lack of self-confidence might remain and later children may be "unable to make any decision of a serious nature."

Dr. Stewart recommended a policy of "good discipline."

"A child must feel wanted and important and he must be given responsibility," she said. "But the chore must be within his ability."

Use of Cotton at All-Time High

Past Year's Record Up One Million Bales, Due to Europe, Asia

WASHINGTON (INS) — The International Cotton Advisory Committee reports that free world consumpton of cotton in the 1953-54 marketing season hit an all-time record high of 27 million bales.

This marked an increase of about one million bales from the 1952-53 marketing year. The season ended Aug. 1.

The previous record high consumption figure had been 26 and one-half million bales in 1950-51, the first year of the Korean War.

According to the committee, the textile industries of Western Europe and Asia made the principal contributions to the spectacular one million bale increase this past year.

Increased consumption in Western Europe is estimated at 800 thousand bales, which is a 12 per cent rise.

In Asia, the increase totaled one million bales or 13 per cent. About half the Asian increase was registered in Japan.

While consumption spiraled abroad, however, it declined by nearly one million bales from 1952-53 levels in the U. S. and Canada.

Despite the rise in consumption, world production of cotton during the year far exceeded international requirements. More than two million bales were added to the world carry-over on Aug. 1. This made a total carryover of 17 and one-half million bales—the highest since 1946.

Stocks in the U.S. increased by about four million bales to a total of at least nine and one-half million bales. Elsewhere in the world, however, stocks were at a post-world War II minimum.

Dallas Man Builds Comfy Dog Houses

DALLAS, Tex. (INS)—A Dallas man has dedicated his life, since retiring from a railroad job 18 years ago, to building healthful doghouses.

Eighty-year-old Fred Carl Voight, has made about 3,600 dog houses —patented, chemically treated and custom-built to fit the dogs.

This is his advice for housing a dog "to make it live 25 happy years."

Be sure the house is not too big. A dog likes a place just big enough to turn around in with a few inches to spare, and i should be able to sleep with its nose about six inches inside the door.

The house should be constructed to give maximum breezes in summer and maximum warmth in winter. Turning the door to the south is the best exposure.

Greenfield Village Gains Old H. J. Heinz Home

DEARBORN (INS) — The 100-yearpold, four-room brick home where H. J. Heinz began his food processing business in 1869 has been made the first major addition to Greenfield Village in 10 years.

H. J. Heinz II, president of the food firm and grandson of the founder, presented the key to the building to William C. Ford, grandson of the auto magnate and president of the village.

Last addition to the famed collection of Americana was the farm birthplace of the late Henry Ford.

Tribe, Yanks Face Crucial Games Rest of Way

By BEN PHLEGAR
Associated Press Sportswriter

Maybe the American League should let Cleveland and New York go ahead and play the five games they have left with each other and get the pennant race over.

The way the Indians and Yankees are playing currently they might well win all of their other games anyway. And a nice quick clash between the two would then allow the American League champion to get a good rest before the World Series.

As it is now, they have to use up their strength playing "crucial" series with teams mathematically eliminated from all possible chance at the title. A slipup anywhere along the line could spell the difference.

Just consider the futility of the chase. In their last 68 games — more than half of their total played to date—the second-place Yankees have gained exactly half a length on the Indians.

Here are the figures: The Yankees have won nine in a row, 15 of their last 18; 35 of their last 43 and 52 of their last 68. But Cleveland has won eight straight, 12 out of 13; 17 out of 20 and 51 out of 68.

Everybody with pennant hopes left in either league won yesterday. Cleveland beat Detroit 4-0, New York defeated Philadelphia 6-1 and Chicago whipped Baltimore 4-1 in the American League. The New York Giants thumped Philadelphia 6-2, Brooklyn shaded Pittsburgh 3-2 and Milwaukee defeated St. Louis 3-1 in the National.

In the only action not involving a contender, Boston took Washington 9-8 in 11 innings on Karl Olson's single with two out. Ted Williams went hitless in six times at bat.

Cincinnati and the Cubs were rained out at Chicago.

The Yankees mopped up the lowly Athletics for the 13th time in 15 meetings. Whitey Ford turned in his seventh straight victory and his 13th of the season. He struck out nine and gave up six hits.

Chicago pitching continued to baffle the last-place Orioles who have scored only twice in 27 innings. Sandy Consuegra, lifted in the sixth for a pinch hitter, registered his 15th success with fine relief from Dick Strahs and Harry Dorish. Don Larsen was charged with his 16th loss, tops in both leagues.

Another hunch paid off for Manager Leo Durocher of the Giants. He replaced the slumping Monte Irvin with Dusty Rhodes and the substitute outfielder belted two home runs that accounted for five runs. The night before, Durocher inserted Rhodes' roommate, Bobby Hofman, and Hofman homered twice.

DEFENDING DOUBLES CHAMPS — Defending champions Doris Hart of Coral Gables, Fla., (background) and her partner Shirley Fry of Akron, O., are shown in action during their match with Sachiko Kamo of Japan and Mrs. Grace Raymonds Jones of New York in the quarterfinals of the National Doubles tournament at Brookline, Mass., Wednesday. The champs won easily, 6-2, 6-0.

'Not Saving Anything'
Richards Shoots Works, Even Against Orioles

By GEORGE BOWEN

BALTIMORE (AP)—Manager Paul Richards decided 26 years ago when he started playing baseball that "never is a long time" after oldtimers kept telling him to "never do this" or "never do that" and that there could be a proper time when any trick might work.

It's evident he's trying all of them now to mastermind his Chicago White Sox back into the American League pennant picture as time grows shorter.

He's playing the last-place Baltimore Orioles like it was the World Series. Unfortunately for Richards, the Cleveland Indians and New York Yankees go on winning and leave the White Sox nine games off the pace.

But the managerial skill of the Texan obviously is going to keep his rivals stepping in the 30 dates remaining for the Chicago club.

Richards served notice Tuesday night in opening a series with Baltimore he wasn't "saving anything" even against the tail-enders.

Billy Pierce had struck out eight Orioles, given only six hits and enjoyed a 2-0 lead through seven innings. But when Pierce walked two Orioles he was yanked even though there were two out.

And in came Virgil Trucks, the ace, who has won 17 games and relieved only five previous times, to finish the shutout.

Haig Putts With Pen

By LLOYD NORTHARD

TRAVERSE CITY (UP)—Walter Hagen has laid aside the clubs that earned him more than one million dollars but he still makes his living from golf

"The Haig," as he was known on the fairways throughout the world for a quarter of a century before he packed away his clubs for good a dozen years ago, collects royalties from the golfing equipment which bears his name

In addition, he's putting the finishing touches on the story of his golfing exploits and expects to pad his pocketbook when the story, "I Met A Million People Around The World," reaches the publisher next month

Hagen, now 62, can be found at most of the major golf tournaments like the PGA and the U S Open

"Business and pleasure both," he explained. "I like to watch these youngsters play. But I'm plugging Water Hagen golf equipment, too"

When he isn't attending a golf tournament, Hagen spends the summer days at his cottage on Long Lake near here. His winter residence is the Detroit Athletic Club.

Hunting and fishing are the only sports in which he takes an active part nowadays.

"I'm training two dogs right now for the partridge season," he said. "And I do a little trout fishing whenever I get a chance. None of those strenuous sports for me."

Hagen never has explained why he quit golf but some suspect that the thought of bowing to a younger generation prompted the decision. If he couldn't play championship golf he didn't want to play at all.

"I had a lot of fun and I met a lot of people, kings and queens included," Hagen recalled. "Golf was good to me as a player and it's been good to me since I quit playing. I hope I did a little to help golf."

Big PKC Show Promises Hot Contest for Press Trophy

By H. GUY MOATS

Now one of Michigan's biggest and finest AKC licensed dog shows, Pontiac Kennel Club's annual exhibition takes place Sunday at Wisner Stadium. The record size of the field, 555 dogs from many cities of Michigan and other states, promises a real contest for the Pontiac Press "best in show" award. This award has been one of the top features of these shows, and takes place as the concluding event, Sunday night at 6 o'clock.

To handle the tough task of judging the scores of breeds and the many divisions into which they are broken down, a staff of more than a dozen outstanding specialists in this field has been set up.

They include Arthur Coulier of Canal Fulton, Ohio; Ed W. Drumm, Three Rivers, Mich.; Edward B. Jenner, Libertyville, Ill.; Thomas Keator, Hamburg, N.Y.; William M. Kendrick, Devon, Pa.; W. Ray Norsworthy, Lincoln Park, Mich.; Walter Sattler, Cincinnati, Ohio; Carl D. Sine, Detroit; Fletcher Snyder, Cincinnati, Ohio; Charles G. Staiger, New York; Adam E. Strauss, Chicago; Fred Tait, Detroit, and Mrs. Harold A. Warner, New Castle, Pa.

Mrs. Warner is the only woman judge and she will handle the Afghan hounds, Collies and Shetland sheep dogs.

Kendrick will judge the best in show, owner of which will receive the big, beautiful Pontiac Press trophy.

In addition to the regular competition in the scores of classes and divisions of this unbenched show, there will be an obedience trial, with classes for novice A, novice B, open A, open B, and utility.

Junior showmanship classes have been provided for youngsters, both boys and girls; 8 to 12 and 12 to 16 years.

Lions' Rookies to See Action Against Eagles

Parker to Look Over Freshmen Candidates in Exhibition

PHILADELPHIA (UP) — Eighteen Detroit Lions rookies will be battling for five open berths on the Lions roster tonight when the Lions meet the Philadelphia Eagles in an exhibition game here.

Coach Buddy Parker said tonight's game will be the 1st chance he will have to take a look at his rookies in action. Parker said he didn't use the rookies freely in the College All-Star game at Chicago last week because he doesn't believe that was the place to test rookies.

Lions have 28 holdovers from last year's squad, all of whom are virtually certain of staying on the team this year. That leaves five openings on the squad after they are forced to cut down next month.

Top candidates among the rookies were halfback Bill Stits of UCLA and bulging fullback Bill Bowman of William and Mary. Both saw action in the all-star game.

Bowman will probably start at fullback against the Eagles. Elsewhere Parker probably will use Bobby Layne at quarterback, Jug Girard and Lew Carpenter at the halves and his regular starting line.

However, the Lions coach was expected to use his rookies freely as substitutions in the line. At tackle, rookies Gerald Perry of California and George Parozzo of William and Mary will probably see plenty of action.

Andrew Miketa of North Carolina probably will get a good chance at center. Rookie end Kirk Hinderlider of Colorado A & M also probably will get a chance at that position.

All-U. S. Finale Is Possibility in Canadian Meet

Cherry Eliminated, but Nine Americans Remain in Running

By JOE FALLS

LONDON, Ont. (AP)—What Canada feared most — an All-American final — loomed as a distinct possibility today as the Canadian Amateur golf championship swung through two more rounds of play.

Despite the loss of six key players—including defending champion Don Cherry—the United States has taken command in this historic tournament.

Nine of the surviving 16 players are Americans—and at least five are given a good chance of taking the title.

By nightfall, the field will be cut to four players and the brackets are so arranged that all four could be from the U.S.

America's delegation is headed by Harvie Ward Jr., San Francisco; Bill Campbell, Huntington, W.Va.; Billy (Dynamite) Goodloe, Valdosta, Ga., and Hobart Manley, Savannah, Ga.

Not to be overlooked is 41-year-old Chuck Kocsis, veteran Detroiter who has never lost a round of golf at the London Hunt and Country Club.

The other U.S. players are John Kraft of Denver, Jim Funston of Detroit, John Veghte of Gloversville, N.Y., and H. H. Haverstick of Lancaster, Pa.

The only direct clash in this morning's fifth round was between Goodloe and Haverstick. The United States and Canada met in all matches.

Rams in Easy Exhibition Win

Lewis' 95-Yard Kickoff Return for TD Features Victory Over 'Skins

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Woodley Lewis contributed a 95-yard kickoff return for a touchdown as the Los Angeles Rams defeated the Washington Redskins, 27-7, last night in a National Football League exhibition played before 79,813 fans.

Lewis, with the Rams holding a 20-0 lead, took the kickoff starting the second half and raced from his own five down the sidelines for the touchdown.

The Rams scored three touchdowns and their All-America lineman from California, Les Richter, kicked field goals from 22 and 34 yards out in addition to converting after all the touchdowns. Fullback Dan Towler scored twice on short plunges.

Washington scored late in the fourth quarter on a 33-yard pass from quarterback Jack Scarbath to end Hugh (Bones) Taylor.

Decision Is Due Today on Dancer in Whitney Stakes

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N.Y. (AP)—After postponing their decision for 48 hours, owner Alfred G. Vanderbilt and trainer Bill Winfrey were to decide today whether to start Native Dancer in the Whitney Stakes Saturday.

The big grey was scheduled to work out today, but neither Vanderbilt nor Winfrey would give any hint of whether he would go. It was known that they were not particularly happy at the thought of the Dancer carrying an impost of 136 pounds in the $50,000-added mile and a quarter gallop.

"We'll just have to wait for the workout," said Vanderbilt. "You must remember that we said only that we were pointing for the Saratoga Cup on the closing Friday of the meet.

"We said that any other race would be run only if we felt the condition of the horse warranted it. Just as we did last year, we are taking the races one at a time, not looking further ahead and our objective at Saratoga was the Cup.

If the Dancer doesn't go in the Whitney—and many experts were predicting he wouldn't—it will be a disappointment for C. V. Whitney, who is holding his Fisherman out of the American Derby in Chicago to race the Dancer here. He has been assigned 121 pounds.

Weyand, Zimmerman in Jaycee Tourney

Chunky blond Phil Rogers of San Diego, Calif., fired a 35-35, 2-under-par 70 Wednesday to take a clean lead over 108 teenage golfers in the Jaycee International golf tournament at Albuquerque, N. M.

Bob Zimmerman of Jackson, trailed far behind. In Wednesday's morning round, Zimmerman shot an 81. Richard Weyand of Birmingham also had an 81 yesterday.

Hugh Patterson of Toronto sat in 2nd spot as the youthful linksmen began 72 holes of medal play.

State Golfer Loses

COLUMBUS, Ohio (UP) — Adam Hardie, Jr., Dearborn, Michigan's only remaining entry in the National Caddy golf tournament here, was eliminated Wednesday. Hardie was turned back by Walter Thomas 1 up.

Bettenhausen Badly Hurt in Chicago Race

CHICAGO Aug. 19 (AP) — Tony Bettenhausen, 38, veteran auto race driver, was seriously injured tonight in a 250-lap feature race for midget autos at Soldier Field.

Bettenhausen, the American Automobile Assn.'s 1951 dirt track champion, suffered a possible fractured skull when his car collided with one driven by Jimmy Knight of Chicago and crashed into a concrete wall. He was leading in the 102nd lap of the race when the accident occurred.

Browns to Try Out New Type Face Protector

Paul Brown Hopes to Avoid Title-Killing Injury List

HIRAM, Ohio (AP)—The Cleveland Browns are testing a new piece of football equipment this year—a one-ounce, plastic bar that arcs across the player's face at about the level of his upper lip and is attached at each end to the helmet earmuffs.

The tubular bar, designed at Coach Paul Brown's request, is to offer facial protection without obscuring vision. A somewhat similar device—a wide band of transparent plastic—was used by Otto Graham, Browns' quarterback, after he was elbowed in the mouth in a game against San Francisco last season.

Brown, ordering his players to wear the new device, figures preventing injuries that bench men like Graham could make the difference between a championship season and an also-ran campaign.

The Browns have exclusive rights to the new face-guard this year, but if it proves successful it may be widely adopted in high school, college and pro football next fall.

Gidley, Drug Score Upsets

Dairy Nine Is Spilled From Playoffs, Little Loop Title Decided

Gidley Electric, which finished the regular Waterford Township Softball League season in the cellar, and Drayton Drug's Little Leaguers pulled upsets at the Drayton ball park Wednesday.

Gidley's piled up an early lead and eliminated Richardson Dairy from playoff competition, 8-2, with Dick Shafto starring both on the mound and at the plate.

In the Little League, Williams Lake had won 11 straight, but Drayton Drug beat the Lakers for the 2nd straight time Wednesday to win the championship, 6-3. Dick Shell allowed only 3 hits and fanned 8.

Shafto stopped the Dairy 9 with 5 hits, while collecting 3 singles and batting in 4 runs himself. The Gidleymen scored 3 times in the 1st inning on 3 walks, a hit batsman and a 2-run single by Shafto.

Richardson Dairy	010	100	0	—	2	5	2

Birmingham Wins Legion District Baseball Crown

American Legion junior baseball in Oakland County came to a close Wednesday as the Birmingham Reds won the 18th District championship by beating Huron Valley Boys Club, 2-0.

Clawson closed with an upset 4-3 win over Berkley, which led the District in the 1st half-season and competed in the Legion's zone tournament.

Dan Cornila out-pitched Jim Huber in the title-deciding game at Birmingham. The Reds' southpaw fanned 15 in hurling his 2-hit shutout. Huber had both the hits off Cornila.

The strong-armed Huron Valley ace also yielded only 2 hits and whiffed 10, but one of the hits was a homer in the 2nd inning by August Ricca. Reds' other run came in the 3rd on a walk and 2 errors.

Birmingham closed the 2nd half with a 7-1 record.

Fans Cheer Andrews but Turner Wins Bout

CHICAGO (INS)—Gil Turner of Philadelphia boasts a unanimous decision today over Al Andrews of Oliver, Wis., following a furious 10-rounder at the Chicago Stadium —but Andrews earned the cheers of the fans.

Turner, ranked No. 5 among the world's welterweights, was a 2 to 1 pre-bout favorite over his less experienced foe when the two men crawled into the ring last night.

Turner weighed 152 pounds and Andrews 153.

GMC Clinches Finalists Slot in Baseball Playoffs

General Motors clinched a finalists berth in the City Class A Baseball League playoffs yesterday after eliminating Oliver Buick, 11-1. The two teams had battled to a 4-4 deadlock the previous day.

GMC and regular-season Pontiac Jets will tangle for the championship Sunday at 2 p.m. at Wisner Field.

Herm Bishop limited Oliver's to one hit—a 3rd inning double by Larry Cates — while striking out seven and walking four. He also collected three hits in four trips to spark GMC's 13-hit attack.

Coachers roared to a 7-0 advantage at the end of the 1st two innings and coasted to the final count.

Cyclists Plan Picnic

Jack Ivory's 6 Goals Helps Swamp 'Berries'

Ivory Rangers polo team whipped Strawberry Hill, 12-4, at Ivory Polo Field Wednesday night, avenging the lone defeat on their season record. It was the 14th triumph for the Ivorymen.

Jack Ivory slammed in 6 goals and Jack Stefani added 5 to pace the Rangers attack. Strawberry Hill's 10-9 upset of the Rangers earlier this season is the lone blemish on their record.

Youngstown, Ohio, Polo Club won the preliminary from Franklin Hills, 9-7.

Home Course Victor
Herron Had Interesting Career in History of National Amateur Tourney

What are the chances of a golfer from the host club winning the 1954 USGA Amateur title? They're slim, according to the record book. It has been 35 years since it happened.

S. Davidson Herron of Pittsburgh, Princeton University graduate, was the last to do it. This is just one of three unusual reasons Herron occupies a special niche in U.S. Amateur championship lore.

He accomplished a rarity when he won the 1919 title over his home course, Oakmont Country Club.

Secondly, he kept Bobby Jones from being the youngest U.S. Amateur champion in history. Bobby was making his second start in the Amateur. He was only 17 years old. Herron turned him back in the 1919 final, 5-4.

Strangest of all, however, was Herron's triumph on the 39th hole in his first round match in the 1920 championship at The Engineers' Country Club. He won the match without hitting a single stroke on the last hole.

Impossible, you say? Here's what happened.

Herron's opponent in that first round match was young Peter Harmon of the Scottish-American Golf Club, Van Cortlandt Park, New York City.

Harmon had come from behind to square the match with Herron, the defending champion. The first round matches that year were all 36 holes.

So when they halved the 37th and 38th holes, it was still young Harmon's honor on the 39th, a dogleg to the left.

Harmon hit his drive deep into woods at the dogleg. Thinking the ball out of bounds, he immediately teed another, drove it into the woods again.

He teed up a third ball. Again he drove it into the woods. That was enough for Harmon. He extended his hand in congratulation to Herron and the match was over. Yet Herron had not played a stroke.

That isn't the end of the story. The strangest is yet to come.

The next morning young Harmon went looking for the three balls he had driven into the woods on the 39th hole.

He found all three. All three were in bounds!

Russian Umpires Hit for Officiating Laxity

MOSCOW (AP) — Russia's leading sports paper today complained that umpires in football games this year have failed to blow the whistle on "hooliganism." Furthermore it said, fans are complaining because the sport is so rough and dirty.

The article, in Soviet Sport, was titled, "It's Not Our Type of Game."

The paper has been campaigning for some time for improvement in the work of Russian sports officials and the entire umpiring profession currently is being investigated.

Betters Swimming Mark

OSAKA, Japan, Aug. 19 (AP) — Motoshi Kimura, 16-year-old high school swimmer, bettered the world's record in the 100-meter breast-stroke Wednesday, going the distance in 1:10.6.

The existing record of 1:11.2 was set by V. Minashkin of Russia in 1953.

Attendance Figures Up at Majority of Nation's Major Race Tracks; Wagering Shows Some Gain

By JOHN CHANDLER

NEW YORK (AP)—Attendance at the nation's major race tracks is up in a majority of cases, and may exceed the record total turnout of 1953, figures of the Thoroughbred Racing Assn. showed today.

Incomplete figures through the end of July show a slight decline in the parimutuel handle, but racing officials are highly pleased in the attendance.

There are reports from 29 of the 39 member tracks of the TRA, the parent organization which makes up all the major tracks in this country. Most of these have completed their season, or have a fall session. Some are still in operation and final figures will come later.

Twenty of the 29 reporting tracks show attendance gains, while wagering is up at 16 of them.

The 1953 season was the greatest on record as 27,969,331 fans turned out, and produced a two billion dollar parimutuel turnover for the first time. The total wagered was $2,064,572,984, with total revenue to the 25 racing states being $138,604,146.

While the betting may not approach 1953 because of various reasons, including a tighter dollar, most tracks will settle on the continued gains in the gate.

Tracks showing attendance gains include Omaha's Ak-Sar-Ben Aqueduct, Arlington Park, Denver's Centennial, Delaware, Hollywood Park, Longacres, Monmouth, Randall, Saratoga-at-Jamaica, Churchill Downs, Atlantic City, New Orleans Fair Grounds, Garden State, Hialeah, Jamaica, Keeneland, Laurel, Lincoln Downs, and Oaklawn. Jamaica was off 0.1 per cent in the mutuels, Delaware 2.1, Longacres 3.3, and Monmouth .0368 per cent.

Santa Anita was 11.7 per cent under the 1953 gate, but heavy rains fell on many days.

Ike Misses Tourney

WASHINGTON, Aug. 19 (AP) — President Eisenhower said today he wished he could be here for the National Celebrities golf tournament at the Congressional Country Club Sept. 25-26, but he's afraid he will still be on the Colorado vacation he hopes to start next Saturday.

2-Event Tennis Tournament Set for Weekend

Saturday Test Is 2nd of Season Sponsored by City Department

Pontiac Parks and Recreation Department's 2nd tennis tournament of the summer will be held Saturday at Oakland Park.

Competition will be held only in men's singles and doubles. Women's singles and doubles and mixed doubles events were canceled due to lack of entries.

SINGLES

Dale Bunce vs Conrad Proctor (9 a.m.); Jason Goode vs Stewart Nutter (9 a.m.); Walter Hodge vs Gary Wright (9 a.m.); Gary Thomas vs match No. 1 winner (10:30 a.m.); Ralph Alee vs match No. 2 winner (10:30 a.m.); Leon Hibbs vs match No. 3 winner (10:30 a.m.); Glen Farnham vs Dick Mineweaser (10:30 a.m.)

DOUBLES

Norvell Sears-Walter Hodge vs Stewart Nutter-Giles Goforth (noon); Dick Mineweaser-Chet Swistowski vs match No. 1 winner (1:30 p.m.); Dale Bunce-Gary Wright vs Leon Hibbs-Ralph Alee (1:30 p.m.)

California Lineman Double-Threat Man

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Johnny Peterson, 194 pound lineman for the University of California at Los Angeles, is now a double-threat man in the line.

He was an All-Coast defensive end in 1951 and 1952, but he was switched to center. He was handicapped in the middle spot with a hand injury in 1953. Now he has recovered enough to return to snapping the pigskin back, a potent aid to the Bruins' single wing football tactics.

23 Theaters Sign for Rocky, Ezzard TV Rights

Olson, Castellani Pilots Argue Over Weighing-In

SAN FRANCISCO (INS) — Managers of middleweight champion Carl (Bobo) Olson and Rocky Castellani square off today to settle a pre-fight dispute rivaling tomorrow night's 15-round title bout in intensity—the celebrated weighing-in ceremony.

The California State Boxing Commission will settle the time today and decided whether Olson will get the early morning weight-in his handlers seek or whether Castellani will have the event postponed until noon.

Chief disputants in today's meeting of the commission are Sid Flaherty, Olson's manager, and Jack Kearns, spokesman for the Castellani camp.

Flaherty has requested the earlier weigh-in on the grounds tomorrow's fight will start at 7 p.m. Kearns states the early time would favor Olson, who presumably will have to "dry out" to make the 160-pound limit.

Olson's weight is apparently the only doubtful point seen by oddsmakers. The champion has been installed a 3 to 1 favorite to retain his title in the nationally televised bout from San Francisco's Cow Palace.

World Casting Record

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP)—Jack Crossfield of the San Francisco Golden Gate Casting Club spun a new world record yesterday in the 46th annual National Casting tournament. He won the trout distance event in 194 feet and with an average of 186 1-3 feet for three casts.

The old record was 183 feet and the average 176 2-3 feet, set in 1938 by Dick Miller, Huntington Beach, Calif.

$150,000 Asked in Suit Against 'Keed'

NEW YORK (INS)—Veteran boxing manager George Gainford has filed a $150,000 suit against welterweight champion Kid Gavilan, contending that Gavilan did not live up to the terms of an alleged contract.

In the complaint disclosed yesterday in New York's State Supreme Court, Gainford said he was contracted in 1947 to "advise, counsel and create bookings" for Gavilan for 10 per cent of the fighter's earnings. Gavilan entered a general denial.

Coast Golfer Leads JC Test

Rodgers Credits Irons, Hot Putter, Salt Tablets With Aiding Game

ALBUQUERQUE (AP)—Hot irons, a hot putter and a pocket full of salt tablets added up to sub-par golf and a two-stroke lead for Phil Rodgers going into todays second round of the ninth annual International Jaycee Junior golf tournament.

Rodgers, 16-year-old San Diego, Calif., youth, turned in a two-under-par 70 yesterday to lead the way in the first round of the 72-hole tournament.

The tournament medalist, Rodgers carded four birdies, a dozen pars and two bogeys yesterday. He credited it all to his irons and putter.

An eagle on the par 5 seventh, first of the competition, helped Hugh Paterson of Toronto, Canada, move into second place with a 72—even par for the 7,250-yard University of New Mexico course.

Champ Claims He's Ready for 15-Round Fight

Bobo Is Established as Heavy Favorite in Friday Bout

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—This may not be "Stop the press" stuff but it is news when middleweight champion Carl (Bobo) Olson makes an outright prediction.

In a question and answer interview that was practically pried out of the 160-pound kingpin, he said he expected to beat the No. 1 challenger, Rocky Castellani, in their 15-round title fight tomorrow night. late on the outcome of any of his bouts is well known. But when he decided to loosen up he put on a neat verbal sparring session with a minimum of hedging.

"I expect to beat Castellani. I have trained hard and I have trained for a 15-round fight," Bobo said.

Asked if he expected to win by a knockout or a decision, Olson said "I'm ready to go fifteen rounds, come what may."

He has no set plan of battle.

"I'm ready for any kind of fight Castellani puts up."

Olson was asked what kind of a fight he expected the challenger to wage.

"From what I have read in the papers I expect him to try to jab and outspeed me. If that's what he does, I'll press him all the way."

Odds makers, with no takers heard from, have established Olson the 4-1 favorite, for the match. It will be nationally televised (except for a San Francisco blackout and within a 100-mile radius) from the San Francisco Cow Palace. It will be a 7 p.m. PDT starting time.

Nine Drivers Share in M59 Prize Awards

Wednesday was "share the wealth" night at the Pontiac M59 Speedway as nine different drivers won the events on the midweek hardtop racing card. Johnny Wallace of Royal Oak Township won his 1st feature in the 25-lap headliner.

Joe Doyle of Pontiac was 2nd to Wallace with Rocky Berkheimer of Hazel Park, 3rd. Chuck Partello of Rochester was the dash victor and Elmer Ferstle of Pontiac won the pursuit, while Chuck Shaugnessy of Roseville was 1st in the semifinal.

Heat winners included Ray Fraley and Gerald Lafnear of Pontiac, Bill Hasselle of Troy, George Moore of Lake Orion and Fred Sutherland of Walled Lake.

Canadian Daredevils thrill show is featured at the M59 track Saturday and Sunday. The 75-lap track hardtop championship is on tap. Saturday's show starts at 8:30, while Sunday's races begin at 7 o'clock.

Player Hunches Pay Off for Durocher's Giants

By JOE REICHLER

NEW YORK (AP)—Leo Durocher, regrouping his faltering forces for the stretch run, is up to his old tricks again. A hunch player from way back, the New York Giant manager is playing them to the hilt—and they're paying off.

Shocked by three straight losses to the Dodgers at Ebbets Field, Durocher shook up his lineup against Philadelphia Tuesday night, putting Bobby Hofman on first, Billy Gardner on third and Ray Katt behind the plate. All Hofman did was slam two home runs and drive in four runs to spark a 8-3 victory. Gardner shone defensively and Katt contributed a double and a run-scoring fly.

Yesterday, with a righthander pitching for the Phillies, Durocher sent Dusty Rhodes, the power-hitting lefty pinch hitter, to left field in place of Monte Irvin. Rhodes made Leo look good again, blasting a pair of home runs and driving in five runs as the Giants made it two straight over the Phillies 6-2.

Rhodes got the Giants off to a 3-0 lead in the first inning, hammering Herm Wehmeier for a three-run homer. His second homer, and 12th of the season, came off southpaw Ron Mronzinski in the fifth with one man aboard. Rhodes' one man batting show, which enabled the Giants to protect their two game lead over the Dodgers, had Durocher smiling again.

"Everytime we go bad," Durocher said, "I call upon Rhodes and Hofman. They're my Minutemen. I first got the idea using them as trouble-shooters last fall during our tour in Japan. They were both hitting fools on that trip. Dusty and Bobby easily were the best hitters on the club. If it weren't for them we wouldn't have won a single game in Japan."

Hofman's batting average of .238 is misleading but Rhodes is pacing the club with a .371 average. He has driven in 32 runs on 33 hits.

All-Aussie Doubles Finish Is Hope of Harry Hopman

BROOKLINE, Mass. (AP)—Captain Harry Hopman's forces, gunning for an All-Australian final, were a step nearer their goal entering this fourth day of the seven-day National Doubles tennis tournament.

The teams of Lew Hoad and Ken Rosewall, Rex Hartwig and Neale Fraser and Ashley Cooper and Roy Emerson, 1-2-3 seeded foreign entries, looked impressive yesterday in moving through the third round of the men's competition.

In today's only two matches of the men's quarter-finals, staggered over two days, Hoad and Rosewall play Gardnar Mulloy of Miami and Art Larsen of San Leandro, Calif. and the sparkling 17-year-old newcomers, Cooper and Emerson, run into Bill Talbert of New York and Ham Richardson of Baton Rouge, La.

* * *

"Hoad and Rosewall will be in the finals," says Hopman, Australia's Davis Cup captain. "As for an All-Australian final, Fraser and Hartwig could take Vic and Tony in the semifinals (Vic Seixas and Tony Trabert, America's winning Davis Cup doubles combination of '53) but they can improve on what they've been doing before then. Vic and Tony are our big worry among the Americans, of course."

Crisler Seeks 'Fifth Period' for Grid Tilts

Asks Big Ten for 20 Minute Halftime, to Present Band Show

ANN ARBOR—A "fifth quarter" of music and marching will feature the University of Michigan's home football schedule this fall which opens with the Army game, Oct. 2.

So packed with entertainment is the usual between halves show of the Wolverine marching band and visiting units that H. O. (Fritz) Crisler, Michigan athletic director, said that the Big Ten will be asked for an official 20-minute half-time period instead of the usual 15-minute rest session. This would apply to all conference institutions.

"Our half-time shows have grown to such proportions and have been so well received by fans that it seems appropriate to lengthen the half-time period rather than to cut short these colorful spectacles which are such an integral part of college football alone," Crisler said.

"We'll have the finest half-time shows anywhere in the country this fall with all of the drama and pageantry that always have been a feature of Michigan home games," he added. "We want to provide every opportunity for fans to enjoy what we might call the 'fifth quarter' of college football."

Psaltis' 85-Yard TD Marks Cards' Victory

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., Aug. 19 (AP)—A thrilling 85-yard touchdown run by halfback Jim Psaltis and a 12-yard field goal by end Lou Sawchick tonight gave the Chicago Cardinals a 10-0 exhibition football victory over their intra-city rivals, the Chicago Bears, before 10,000 fans.

Defending Champs Repeat 'Shoes Win

Skaggs and Cook defeated Floyd and Lloyd Bartley of Pontiac in a 3-game finals match, 5-25, 25-16 and 25-11. Eleven 2-man teams were entered in the event, sponsored by the Pontiac Parks & Recreation Department.

The champions defeated Howard and Nelson Fields, Mark Klocko and Robert Gallagher, and Norman and Charles Hall on their way to the finals.

Bruton Extends Streak

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Outfielder Bill Burton, a sparkplug in the current Milwaukee spurt, has hit safely in 24 of the Braves' last 26 games.

During the span, Bruton increased his average from .274 to .291. With 36 hits in 107 at bats. The safeties include eight doubles, three triples and a pair of homers.

Hasty Road, Sea O'Erin Enter American Derby

CHICAGO (AP) — Hasty House Farm's Hasty Road, the probable favorite, his stablemate, Sea O' Erin, and six other speedsters are likely starters in the $100,000 added American Derby at Washington Park Saturday.

Men's Softball Champions Enter Regional Tourney

General Motors, regular-season champion of the Pontiac Men's Softball League and winner of the recent MSA Class B District Tourney at Drayton Plains, opens regional tourney play at Owosso tonight.

GMC meets Michigan National Bank of Port Huron at 7:40 p.m. in 1st-round play. People's Furniture of Flint drew a bye and will meet tonight's winner Friday night.

Three city girls' teams go to Port Huron tomorrow night to compete in MSA regional tournaments. Giles Realty meets United Cleaners of Flint in Class A, Shaw's meets Herbolz Homes of Flint in Class B and GMC meets DeLuca's of Yale in Class C. All three teams will play doubleheaders, with the 1st games at 6 p.m.

Shaw's Jewelers, Pontiac's Class A men's softball team, goes to Flint Friday to compete in the 3rd annual Central Michigan Industrial Invitational Tournament.

Caddie Tourney in Payoff Stage

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The ninth National Caddie golf tournament hits the payoff spot today, with the eight winners of third round matches certain to share in the $5,000 scholarship fund.

Two rounds are on today's slate, with the four survivors clashing over 36 holes tomorrow for a Saturday finals berth. The ultimate victor gets a $1,500 scholarship, the runnerup $1,000, and the eighth-placer $150, with those in between capturing graduated awards.

No entrant is permitted more than a $1,500 total over his tournament career.

The red-hot favorite is still medalist Dick Hauff, the war orphan from Iran. The youth, adopted by an Arlington Heights, Ill., Army major, was even with par for Ohio State's 7,120-yard par 72 layout yesterday for the 27 holes he needed for two victories.

Cleveland Club Hands 'Spoilers' Loss Wednesday

Early Wynn Gives Up 6 Hits to Blank Bengal Crew 4-0

CLEVELAND (AP) — The Detroit Tigers, the bane recently of both the New York Yankees and Chicago White Sox, are proving a boon for the league-leading Cleveland Indians these days.

Before starting their current tour, the Bengals slammed two defeats on the New York world champions in Briggs Stadium that could well turn out vital losses to the 2nd place Yanks in the stretch drive for the pennant.

Then the Tigers took to the road. First stop was Chicago and a 4-game stand with the 3rd-place Sox.

Tigers lost the 1st two games by one run. Then came last Sunday's doubleheader and twin Detroit 1-run victories which, while Cleveland was winning two games, practically eliminated Chicago from any possibility of winning the league title.

But then the Tigers, looked on as possible spoilers of everybody's chances, invaded Cleveland and decided to roll over and play dead.

Bengals committed four errors and lost the opener of the 4-game series 4-3 in the last of the 9th.

Yesterday, Tribe hurler Early Wynn scattered six hits to post a 4-0 shutout and the Indians' 8th straight victory.

Home runs by Bobby Avila and Al Smith accounted for all the Tribe runs.

Sign-Up Dates Set for School

Principal Roy Larmee at Waterford Schedules Days and Hours

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP—Pre-school registration and enrollment dates for grades nine through 19 were announced today by Roy Larmee, Waterford Township High School principal.

Aug. 23-27 has been set aside for the 10th and 11th grades and Aug. 30 through Sept. 3 has been designated for the grades of nine and 12.

Larmee urged students to enrollment during the hours of 7:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. on Monday through Friday of the weeks assigned for their grades.

He also said that two evenings, Aug 25 and Sept. 1, had been listed for those unable to comply with the daytime enrollment schedule Or those nights, the high school office will be open from 7 p.m. to 9 p.m.

Enrollment procedure, he said, included the issuance of student schedules, receiving of textbooks and deposits for textbooks and collecting of laboratory fees.

Delay in starting school will be necessary if the student fails to take care of his pre-school enrollment, Larmee said.

He stated that if a student is unable to meet the above schedule, he should call the office and make another appointment.

Regular school sessions for nine through 12th grades begin Sept. 8.

At a later date, pre-enrollment for grades seven and eight will be announced.

Romeo Students to Go Full Days

Overcrowding Will Be Partly Eased by Using Township Halls

ROMEO—The threat of half-day sessions for seventh and eighth graders here was ended yesterday by the administration of the Romeo Community School District.

"All grades will attend school on a full-time basis, beginning Sept. 7," the four-man body said in a statement.

Supt. T. C. Flippula and the system's three principals, in issuing the statement, asked the cooperation of students and teachers in meeting the problem of overcrowding which will come with the decision.

The statement came as a result of a directive issued by the Romeo School Board last week asking that the administration reconsider the advisability of putting seventh and eighth grades on half-day sessions.

Board members were not agreed as to which grades should be effected by the half-day plan, some of them preferring that lower-level sessions be trimmed.

They referred the question back to the administration for further study, stating they hoped no "such drastic measure" would be necessary.

The decision to increase the pupil-teacher ratio instead of the half-day plan was necessitated by the delay in the current school building program.

Some easing of the problem will come with the use of the Washington Township Halls in both Romeo and Washington for classes.

Students will be moved into new classrooms in the additions to the Washington School and to the South School here as soon as they are ready for occupancy. Officials expect them to be ready before the end of the first semester.

Aiding Flippula in drafting the program for the coming year were Harold Barr, Romeo High School principal; Bruce Linsday, Romeo grade schools principal and Robert Reid, Washington School principal.

Oil Drillers Restrict Output at New Well

NORTHVILLE—A new oil strike about four miles west of here is being restricted to 600 barrels a day until its capacity is fully determined, drillers said today.

The well, the third in the area, was brought in on the farm of Charles H. Nerreter on Chubb road.

Drillers hit a rich gas pocket on the farm last month but sealed it off and continued sinking the shaft until they reached oil at 4,551 feet. The gas well is believed to be the largest in the country.

The Ajax Manufacturing Corp. of Detroit owns mineral rights to the Nerreter farm.

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Lana Turner has her own answer for Christian Dior — her curviest film wardrobe to date.

The fashion world and most American males have been in an uproar over Dior's plan to bring back the flat-chested modes of the roaring '20s. Lana, who rose to fame as Hollywood's sweater girl, predicts he'll have no success.

"If a girl has 'em, she's not going to hide 'em," she opined. "And if a girl hasn't got 'em, she'll use those rubber things."

Unlike some men, she isn't bitter about the controversy. In fact, she speaks admiringly of Dior.

"You've got to hand it to him," she said. "He knows how to get the headlines. Last time it was the short skirts. You didn't see the women rushing out to buy those styles, but it certainly created a hubub. It's the same with these new dresses. I'll bet the other designers in Paris are livid over the publicity he has gotten."

Lana is coming out with the most revealing outfits she has ever worn in films. She is playing Samarra, godess of love, in "The Prodigal," based on the parable of the Prodigal Son. I saw two of her costumes and all I can say is: Wow!

One of the outfits had some beading on the top and a couple of scarves front and back. That's all, brother. The rest is just Lana. The other was a flowing chiffon gown that flowed in the right places.

The costumes, I was assured by producer Charles Schnee, are authentic as all get-out, having been copied from recent excavations of the period (about 100 B.C.). Well, there might have been a few elaborations by designer Herschel McCoy.

"He's great," said Lana. "And he didn't object to a little editing here and there. For instance, that beaded number had thick material all over. I knew it would look big, but you couldn't tell them that until they saw it on the screen. So I waited for the tests, and I was right; I looked big as a house. All the heavy beads came off."

About half a million Americans have peptic ulcers.

Walled Lake to Feature Ernie Rudy Saturday

Ernie Rudy, known as the "Daffy Drummer," and his orchestra will be the dancing feature at Walled Lake Casino Ballroom this Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

Rudy will be surrounded by Don Rogers, Chubby Silvers, Charlie Wilson and Phil Gilbert, all stars in their own right.

20 New Plays, Musicals Set for Broadway in Fall

By MARK BARRON

NEW YORK (AP)—This is the 'hunting-for-jobs' season on Broadway, with playwrights, performers and producers back from summer siestas and—if they're lucky—putting their noses to the rehersal grindstone.

The first new show marquees will light up on Broadway in about four weeks, and 20 new dramas and musicals are scheduled to arrive between then and Christmas.

Tallulah Bankhead is arriving soon (everyone hopes) in the Richard Aldrich production of the comedy "Dear Charles." This story about a famous woman novelist who has three illegitimate children has been a success in London and Paris.

Miss Bankhead refused to bring this frothy comedy to Broadway audiences until her demand for changes in the script were met. All the revisions were thoroughly tested on hayloft stages, mostly in New England.

Another Broadway premiere still on the road with no definite Times Square opening date is "Peter Pan," with Mary Martin in the title role. It was scheduled to open at Broadway's Winter Garden Theater in October, but since the recent trial performance at the Curran Theater in San Francisco the New York arrival time has been up in the air.

The last week of October promises the infallible combination of Alfred Lunt and Lynn Fontanne in a play by Noel Coward, "Quadrille." This play was done in London in 1952 with Lunt and Miss Fontanne winning high praise from critics.

The coming season seems to be loaded with appeal for theater-going gardeners.

In the least romantic horticultural mood, there is the play called "The Vegetable," from the pen of F. Scott Fitzgerald. It will have according to present plans, a now-and-then motorcycle rider named Wally Cox in the starring role.

Then there is "The Flowering Peach," a folk play which Clifford Odets has based on the Noah's Ark story and which he will bring into the Morosco Theater in early November. Menasha Skulnick, who moved up from East Side Jewish theaters to become a Broadway star, will play the role of Noah.

This will be followed by "The House of Flowers," a musical which takes place in a brothel in the French West Indies. The book is by Truman Capote, the music by Harold Arlen. Pearl Bailey will sing the leading role.

The bill for this forthcoming Broadway season is unusually bountiful in musicals.

Mary Martin's "Peter Pan" probably will start the rush. After that will arrive a new version of the musical "On Your Toes," the Richard Rodgers, Lorenz Hart and George Abbott hit. This one will have Vera Zorina as star.

Then will come the musical "Fanny" with Ezio Pinza singing the leading role, and "The House of Flowers."

Anita Loos has a new musical coming up, "The Great Caresse," a story of two Hungarian beauties who look for love in both Budapest and New York City.

Billy Rose has a production called "Orpheus in the Underworld," a musical profile of the Jacques Offenbach operetta which Ben Hecht has etched into a new libretto.

And there will be an additional musical which sounds like a dilly with the copyright title of "Silk Stockings." The libretto is by George S. Kaufman and Leueen McGrath with Cole Porter music. The cast includes Don Ameche and Hildegarde Neff.

Rubber Asphalt for Real Bounce

Perfected Substance Will Cover Highways Throughout Nation

DENVER (INS)—Engineers are hard at work in Colorado and several other states perfecting roads with a bounce.

The rubber industry has a surplus of rubber, and one of the new uses for the product may be in road construction.

A rubber asphalt has been developed, consisting of four per cent liquid latex and two per cent powdered rubber.

The new rubber asphalt is more elastic in winter and harder in summer. Instead of getting brittle and cracking under stress during cold weather, the asphalt will become more pliable.

And in summer, instead of getting soft as present day ashalt does, the rubber asphalt would get harder.

The only hitch to wide-spread use of rubber asphalt is that it costs about 20 per cent more than regular paving. Many states, including Colorado, are attempting to determine whether the rubber roads are worth the additional costs.

In Colorado there are two test strips, each a mile long. It will be about three years before the final results of the test strips will be known, and the Colorado highway department says if the tests are satisfactory, it will not be long until all state motorists are driving on the roads with a bounce.

Taxpayers Pay Less

WASHINGTON (INS) — U. S. military forces whittled $44 million off the nation's defense tab during 1953 by using commercial air transportation for the movement of military personnel. Planes, official publication of Aircraft Industries Association, says this huge saving to the American taxpayer was made possible by a 1951 directive regulating transportation of armed forces personnel.

TV Sound Lessens When Phone Rings

FREEPORT, Ill. (INS)—An understanding husband has come up with a neat idea to save his wife a few steps—he's concocted a robot system to hush up the television set when the phone rings.

The inventor's idea, which came to light in a contest conducted by Minneapolis-Honeywell Micro Switch division, uses a small, leaf-actuated switch in a circuit between the phone receiver and the TV set's speaker. When the receiver is raised, the television volume is automatically reduced by about one half.

The idea was one of hundreds submitted in the firm's novel "idea uses for the tiny switches manufactured in 5,000 variations at the firm's plant.

Grains Lower but Snap Back

CHICAGO (AP) — Grains opened lower and then rallied on the Board of Trade today, getting back to around previous closing levels. Dealings became fairly active on the rally.

The market was aided by the action of September soybeans. This contract had plunged 10 cents yesterday, but there was no heavy carryover of selling into today's market. It started out steady and quickly moved up a couple of cents.

Wheat near the end of the first hour was 1/8 to 3/8 lower, September $2.12¾, corn unchanged to 3/8 lower, September $1.64, oats 1/8 lower to 1/8 higher, September 73, rye ¼ lower to ¼ higher, September $1.18¾, soybeans unchanged to 2⅛ higher, September $3.15 and lard unchanged to 15 cents a hundred pounds higher, September $16.45.

Senator Knowland Blocks Confirmation

WASHINGTON (AP)—Without publicly explaining why he did so, Senate Republican Leader Knowland has blocked confirmation—perhaps for this Congress—of a fellow Californian President Eisenhower had nominated to be an assistant secretary of the Air Force.

The Senate yesterday was considering five of Eisenhower's nominees to the armed services when Knowland asked that Trevor Gardner's name be passed over. The Senate complied. The other four were confirmed.

When asked by a reporter why he prevented Senate confirmation, the GOP leader would only say that "some things have come up that need to be clarified."

Should the Senate take no action on his nomination, Gardner could occupy the job under a recess appointment until the next Congress meets in January.

Seek Sterile Cows

STATE COLLEGE, Pa. (AP)—Penn State University has the wanted sign out for sterile cows. They're wanted by the College of Agriculture's Dairy Breeding Research center for experiments on several breeding projects.

Aircrafts Active, Rest Are Mixed

NEW YORK (AP)—Aircrafts advanced in an otherwise mixed stock market today.

Trading was moderately active at the start and prices generally higher. But soon the pace slowed considerably. As a more cautious tone prevailed the number of losers increased. Chances were mostly minor fractions, however, in the early afternoon.

Aircrafts developed the most investor interest. But steels, motion pictures and rubber producers were also generally higher. Oils and radio-television issues tended to ease while the rest of the market was a jumble of small gains and losses.

A few issues attracted sizable support. These included Hilton Hotels, Seaboard Air Line Railroad, Mengel, Grace Co., Douglas Aircraft and Boeing.

Others gaining ground were U. S. Steel, General Motors, Goodyear, United Aircraft, Southern California Edison, Air Reduction, DuPont, Santa Fe, United Air Lines and Paramount.

Somewhat lower were Bethlehem Steel, Chrysler, Montgomery Ward, Caterpillar, Radio Corp. Zenith, Kennecott Copper, Union Carbide, American Tobacco, Baltimore & Ohio and Johns Manville.

ON ROAD TO RECOVERY—Freeman Gosden Jr., 26-year-old son of the actor who plays "Amos" in "Amos 'n' Andy," gets treatment for polio in the same hydrotherapy tank he helped buy for the Midland (Texas) Memorial Hospital. Doctors believe young Gosden will recover completely.

Young Hoodlums Charged With Setting Man on Fire

NEW YORK (INS) — Fantastic new charges of sadism — including the setting afire of an elderly man — were levelled today against four Brooklyn teen-agers whose "kill for a thrill" rampage was compared by some authorities to the celebrated Loeb-Leopold case in Chicago.

Baffled police, sifting a growing file of new horror tales involving the boys, ranging from 15 ot 18 years of age, began a ten-day study, aided by psychiatrists, of the "habits and home life" of the youths in an effort to learn what motivated them.

Already the youthful quartet is accused of: beating a 43-year-old steeplejack to death; throwing an unidentified vagrant into the East River after torturing him with lighted cigarettes; horsewhipping two 16-year old girls; making a "human torch" of another vagrant by pouring gasoline over him and setting him afire; beating and torturing at least two other homeless men. All the attacks occurred in Brooklyn parks.

The boys, all from respectable middle-class homes, are Jack Koslow, 18, mustached, effeminate redhead and alleged leader who "hated bums;" Melvin Mittman, 17, husky "muscle man" of the group; Jerome Lieberman, 17, smallest of the four, and Robert Trachtenberg, only 15 but a 170-pound six-footer.

Mittman, Lieberman and Trachtenberg were charged with homicide, and Koslow with felonious assault pending a more serious charge, "probably murder" according to Brooklyn district attorney Edward Silver. All were held without bail.

The latest chapter in the story of terror was told by 62-year old Felix Jakubowski, who identified Koslow as one of two youths who "torched" him last July 21 after an unmerciful beating in Washington Plaza Park.

An hour before Jakubowski told of being tortured, another homeless man, Edward Walsh, 45, walked into a police station and said he had been beaten savagely by the gang.

Earlier Joseph Kostyra, 60, a Hungarian immigrant basket weaver, spoke through swollen lips of two beatings he had received at the hands of the "thrill" quartet.

Lists Low Bidders on Road Projects

Low bidders for road-repair jobs on four Oakland County highways were announced today by the State Highway Department.

The projects:

Concrete patching on M58 from U.S. 24 to U.S. 10, on U.S. 10 from M58 near the west limits of Pontiac to Drayton Plains and on M59 from the east limits of Auburn Heights to Livernois road. The work will be done by Max Frisinger of Ann Arbor for $38,840.

Some 4.9 miles of base correction and concrete on 12-Mile road from U.S. 16 to Haggerty road. To be done by the A. & A. Asphalt Paving Co. of Birmingham for $152,108.

The county work is part of a $7,400,000 road repair and building program outlined by the state.

Business Briefs

Estimated fire losses in the United States during July amounted to $69,532,000, a decrease of 7.2 per cent from $74,938,000 reported for July, 1953, and an increase of 6.1 per cent over losses of $65,533,000 for June, 1954. Losses for the first seven months of 1954 now total $525,522,000 an increase of 3.7 per cent over the first seven months of 1953, when they amounted to $507,019,000.

Some 200 retailers including some from the Pontiac area, plan to attend the fall meeting of the Michigan Retail Clothiers and Furnishers Assn. Sept. 14 at Northland Center in Southfield Township.

No More Survivors From Plane Found

HONG KONG (AP) — The Hong Kong government said today no word had been received from Peiping of any more survivors from the Cathay Pacific Skymaster shot down by Communist fighters off Hainan Island July 23.

The Chinese Nationalist Tatao News Agency in Formosa reported yesterday that a seriously injured foreigner, believed to be a survivor from the plane, arrived in Canton Aug. 7 aboard a Communist gunboat. Observers here were inclined to doubt the report.

The Hong Kong government pointed out that the Chinese Reds had told Britain's charge d'affaires in Peiping, Humphrey Trevelyan, that any information about other survivors would be passed to him as soon as it was received. Since then, the local officials said, nothing had been heard.

Berserk Tabby Wastes 9 Lives Blitzing Family

A nondescript cat used the last of his fabled nine lives last night when he attempted a lone blitz at the Everett K. Monroe home at 19 E. Hamlin Rd., Avon Township.

Mrs. Monroe said the tabby wormed his way through a hole in the screen door about 10 o'clock and ran wild through the house.

"He tore around the room, ran up the walls, attempted to run across the ceiling and invaded the inside of the TV set," she said.

Making a mad dash across the fireplace mantel, the berserk cat dashed uptairs, ran across the bed where two of Mrs. Monroe's grandchildren were lying and hurtled back to the first floor.

Oakland County Sheriff's Deputy Everett Fredericks, summoned by the distraught Mrs. Monroe, subdued the wild-eyed cat with a poker after it trapped itself behind a steam radiator. No one was scratched.

The cat, shot by Fredericks, will be examined for rabies.

2 People Slightly Hurt When Auto Turns Left

Two persons were treated at Pontiac General Hospital for minor injuries yesterday after the cars in which they were riding collided at Scott Lake and Watkins Lake Rds., according to Waterford Township Police.

James Goodwin, 62, of 1919 Grove St., Milford, who sustained knee injuries was a passenger in a northbound auto on Scott Lake road driven by George P. Lawson, 65, of 2162 Jackson Blvd., Milford.

Mrs. Daisy M. Moore, 55, of 412 S. Hospital Rd., was a passenger with her husband, John L., 58, when Lawson turned left in front of the Moore auto, according to Police.

Ohioan Jailed in Extortion Plot

Accused of Picking Up Dummy $20,000 After Threatening Heiress

CLEVELAND (AP)—A 37-year-old unemployed machinist was in jail today in connection with an extortion threat against Miss Kay M. Halle, Cleveland department store heiress.

Cleveland Heights police say they arrested the man, identified as James Howard Lett, after he picked up a dummy package supposed to contain $20,000 in cash No charges have been filed.

A department store woman detective, wearing a wig simulating Miss Halle's long blonde hair, left the package in accordance with instructions received in a phone call following a threatening letter.

Two detectives hid in the shrubbery, and they captured Lett when he stopped to pick up the package, police said.

A radio news correspondent, Miss Halle came here from Washington to attend funeral service last Friday for her father, Samuel Halle, chairman of the board of Halle Bros. Co.

Police quoted Lett as saying the plan to extort money from Miss Halle was masterminded by two strangers from Detroit whom he met in a bar. Police said Lett could not identify the men, who he said promised him $400 for helping.

The detectives waited at the home for the alleged accomplices, after Lett told of a planned meeting there, but no one showed up.

Hazel Park Child, 7, Hit by Auto in Park

HAZEL PARK—Injured when an auto drove over a log barrier on which he was sitting with four other youngsters in Scout Park yesterday was Dennis Metcalf, 7. He was reported in poor condition at Mount Carmel Mercy Hospital, Detroit, today.

The boy suffered a fractured skull when struck by a car driven by Frank Garoufalis, 16, of 1816 E. Eight-Mile Rd., Detroit, police reported.

Police said Garoufalis told them he lost control of the vehicle in loose sand as he entered the park's parking lot. The other youngsters all jumped to safety.

Garoufalis was released to his parents and was scheduled to make a statement to the Oakland County prosecutor today.

Dennis is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold O. Metcalf of 23425 Vassar.

Passenger Hurt as Car Rams Rear of 2nd Auto

Mrs. Betty Gregory, 26, of 2241 W. Ann Arbor Ave., sustained an injured foot when a car in which she was riding with her husband, Winfred, 28, struck the rear of another auto, according to Pontiac Police.

Gregory drove into a car driven by Elaine McCracken, 19, of 2888 Baldwin, Lake Orion, at Miss McCracken waited to make a left turn from Baldwin avenue onto Strathmore avenue, police said. Mrs. Gregory was treated at Pontiac General Hospital.

275 Businessmen Hold Frolic at Country Club

Some 275 businessmen gathered at Indianwood Country Club at Lake Orion yesterday for the 18th annual Chamber of Commerce-Retail Merchants Assn. frolic.

A banquet followed an afternoon golf program. Edward J. Novak, Michigan Bell Telephone Co. district manager, shot a par 72 to win top honors in the 18-hole event.

Bunche Figures in U. N. Shakeup

U. S. Diplomat, Russian Will Be Named Deputy Secretary Generals

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—U. N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold is slated to announce the appointment today of American Negro Ralph J. Bunche and a Russian as the No. 2 men in the U. N. secretariat.

U. N. informants said Hammarskjold would name Bunche and I. Tehernychev, a Soviet who has been assistant secretary general for Security Council affairs to the new rank of deputy secretary general.

The appointments are part of a sweeping reorganization of the top command of the 4,000-member secretariat. The shake up is expected to take effect Jan. 1.

Bunche, winner of the 1950 Nobel peace prize for his negotiation of the Palestine armistice, has directed the U. N. trusteeship department since 1946. His new post is the highest an American has held in the secretariat.

The U. S. and Russian delegates insisted upon having men in matching top-rank posts of the United Nation's administrative body.

The two deputies each will net $23,000 in pay and a maximum of $10,000 in entertainment allowances annually. They will handle special assignments for Hammarskjold.

The reorganization will reduce high-level U. N. posts from 19 this year to 15 next year. It will shuffle around several current office holders and bring in Ahmed Bokhari, Pakistan educator, as head of the department of public information.

Hammarskjold today announced a $46,821,300 budget to run the United Nations in 1955. The total was $1,005,810 below the 1954 budget the $2,469,252 under expenses in 1953.

Card of Thanks 1

WE WISH TO THANK PUBLICLY all our friends, neighbors, and relatives for the many acts of kindness and sympathy they extended so graciously during our recent bereavement through the death of our Albert Le Duke: We gratefully acknowledge the special services rendered by Father O'Reilly and the Voorhees Siple Funeral Home.

In Memoriam 2

IN LOVING MEMORY OF OUR mother, Mrs. Nora Lee Garrett, who departed this life 1 year ago today, Aug. 20, 1953.
Dear Mother, you still live in our hearts,
We miss you Mother, so much.
We are looking toward the day
When in the resurrection
We will be together again.
Knowing that He which raised up the Lord Jesus shall raise us up also, by Jesus and present us with you—2nd Corinthians 4-14 —
Sadly missed by her son and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Sholtz, Mr. and Mrs. Otto Jenkins and Family.

IN PRECIOUS MEMORY OF OUR dear son and brother, Duke C. Greenway, who was killed Aug. 19 1950.
That son whom God once loaned to us.
He really is not dead:
His work was done, so now you see:
He just ran on ahead.
Sadly missed by Mom, Dad and Harvey.

IN MEMORY OF OUR BELOVED granddaughter, Lynda (Susie) Wilson, who passed away August 19, 1953.
Asleep in God's beautiful garden, in the sunshine of perfect peace.

Accident, Polio Only Spur Him

Changes Jobs Often Till He Gets Into Television and Finds His Place

NEW YORK—Bill Cullen, today one of the country's top MCs and quizmasters, refused to allow either serious illness or a serious accident to check a determination to get ahead.

Early in life he was stricken with polio. Doctors said he might never walk again. But Cullen managed to overcome the disease and its after-effects.

Fate intervened again when, as a junior in South High School in his native Pittsburgh, he was hospitalized for nine months after an automobile accident.

But the only thing the accident did was to change his plans—he decided to become a doctor instead of an actor.

Cullen, who was born Feb. 18, 1920, entered the University of Pittsburgh as a pre-medical student. His funds started to give out, however, and he went to work in a garage, where, of all things, he kept other employes in stitches with imitations of radio announcers.

In 1939, he became assistant disk jockey on a small Pittsburgh station. "I thought it was easy work, the epitome of glamor and that I'd make a mad fortune," he recalls.

He then got a job as announcer on a major station and later was emcee of a variety show in the Smoky City. Meanwhile, he got a B. A. degree in fine arts (another change in plans) at the University of Pittsburgh.

Cullen then shifted to sportscasting. This led him to seek wider vistas in Manhattan. He joined a radio announcing staff in April 1943 and got his first break when the emcee of Winner Take All became ill and he was given the assignment.

In rapid succession, Cullen appeared on such programs as Skyline Roof, Sing Along, Waitin' for Clayton, Crime Photographer, Give and Take and This Is Nora Drake.

He was emcee of the television versions of Winner Take All, Give and Take and Place the Face.

During the war, Cullen learned to fly and was a member of the Civilian Air Defense, serving as a patrol pilot in Allegheny County Pa. For some time, he was president of his own private plane service. He has 4,000 flying hours to his credit.

Cullen lives in Manhattan, is married to Carol Ames, former singer. He doesn't care much about traveling unless it's by his own plane with Bill Cullen piloting. He is 5 feet 9 inches tall and has hazel-brown eyes and brown hair.

News Photos, Voice Recording Together on TV

WASHINGTON (INS) — Simultaneous transmission of news photos with actual voice recordings of the news personality photographed has been inaugurated by the International News Service facsimilie network for television stations — with Vice President Nixon participating personally as the first subject.

Marking an important milestone in the nation's electronic communications system, Vice President Nixon posed yesterday for news cameras and simultaneously made a statement on a tape recorder. His actual voice was transmitted together with the photos to some 25 TV stations through the U.S.A. that are members of the INS facsimile network.

On the same occasion, INS inaugurated the first regular direct transmission of news photos from Washington on its special TV facsimile circuit. This makes it possible to transmit both sight and sound coverage of news within minutes after it happens.

Blonde Showgirl Sues Crooner Billy Daniels

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A showgirl who, officers said, was found unconscious in the night club dressing room of Billy Daniels last Aug. 5 has sued the crooner for $75,000 damages.

Blonde Patricia Hirsch, 24, charged in her complaint yesterday that Daniels struck and kicked her, inflicting permanent back injuries. She also asked remuneration for medical expenses.

Probation Department Gets $32,887 in Fines and Costs

In 1953 Oakland County Probation department collected $32,887 in costs, fines, probation fees, restitution and non-support payments imposed by the courts.

Chief Probation officer Arthur P. McKenna said the collections average about 98 per cent, not counting a 10 per cent margin lost through the sentencing of probationers due to violation of their probation.

Collections for 1952 totaled $34,446 which approximates an average annual figure, McKenna said, though he anticipates a gradual increase in the next few years due to increased population and a subsequent increase in violations.

Fines imposed by the courts totaled $450 in 1953 and are paid immediately by defendants in lieu of a jail term.

Costs are assessed when a person is placed on probation and the money is paid by the probationer over the period of years he is subject to court supervision.

McKenna claims his office could do a much better job in supervising the activities of probationers if two field men would be added to his present staff Besides McKenna, the probation office consists of an assistant probation officer and secretary.

"In comparison to the number of staff members the department has 484 persons on probation at this time, and completes approximately 30 pre-sentence reports a month for the courts plus handling all administrative details.

"The probation office saves thousands of dollars every year for the taxpayers," according to McKenna, who backs his claim by quoting the expense of supervising a probationer as compared to the expenditure for a prisoner.

"Supervision of a probationer can be carried on for about $35 a year as compared to the $849.51 it costs to keep a man in prison.

"In addition a prisoner's wife and children are left without funds and they become wards of the state or dependant on some charitable organization.

"In contrast, probationers continue to work in the community and reports show that they earned a combined income of more than $630,000 through productive work in industry, business and professional life in Oakland County in 1953."

Under the present setup in this county McKenna has every probationer under his supervision since his assistant is working full time preparing pre-sentence reports.

"High probation authorities have recommended a case load of not more than 70 for best results, according to McKenna, so it's apparent that our office is not operating at top efficiency."

McKenna's suggestion is that two field men be added to the probation department's staff in an attempt to more successfully assist in the rehabilitation of probationers.

Escaped Ionia Trusties Captured in Stolen Car

IONIA (INS) — Two escaped trusties were on their way back to Ionia State Reformatory today after being picked up by Ohio State Police in a stolen car about 20 miles south of Toledo.

Sparling Weathers, 19, of Adrian, and Andrew Guzenich, 25, of Inskster, were both serving sentences for breaking and entering when they walked away from an Ionia prison camp.

Skelton Badly Hurt as Stunt Door Fails

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—A breakaway door that didn't break laid comedian Red Skelton low yesterday during a rehearsal for his CBS television show half an hour before the program was due to go on the air for the Eastern audience, the network reported.

Skelton suffered a brain concussion and a severe neck sprain. According to the script he was to walk through the stage prop door yesterday, carrying on his head a chunk of balsa wood painted to resemble a block of concrete.

He was replaced on the show by Johnny Carson.

U. S. milk output in June, 1954 was 12,700,000,000 pounds.

Cloud Forces Airplane Down at Race Track

INGLEWOOD, Calif. (AP)—A plane forced down by dense cloud made an emergency landing yesterday on Hollywood Park race track.

Pilot Harold Wysong, returning from Las Vegas, Nev., with three passengers, said he headed for a patch of lights after the cloud engulfed him. There was the race track. No spectators were in the stands.

He landed, waited several hours until the cloud lifted, then took off for his home field

10 Pickets Protest Presence of Czech

EVANSTON, Ill. (AP)—Ten pickets paraded outside the Assembly of the World Council of Churches last night in protest against the presence of Dr. Joseph Hromadka of the Czech Evangelical Churches.

They carried signs saying "2,000 priests in jail. Why is Hromadka here?" They identified themselves as members of the Alliance of Czechoslovaks in Exile."

Hromadka, dean of the Prague Theological Seminary, has voiced the view that churches must learn to get along under communism to survive. He has said he is not a Communist.

Bullet to Scare 'Big Dog' Kills a Mountain Lion

HUNTSVILLE, Utah (AP)—Mrs. Jack Hislop fired a single pistol shot, intending to scare away a "large dog" that was molesting some of her sheep near her bedroom window.

In the morning she said she almost fainted when she found that she had shot a nine-foot mountain lion. It had been killed with a 32-caliber bullet just under the left shoulder.

Prison Shops Showing Net Profit of $28,532

CRANSTON, R. I. (AP)—A Rhode Island industry that pays very little but knows no unemployment problem chalked up a tidy profit last year.

Soviet Children Get Red Dose

All Schools Saturated With Communist Lore in Russia

MOSCOW (INS) — Soviet school children receive a heady dose of patriotism and politics along with reading, writing and arithmetic.

Soviet youngsters who begin English-language studies in the third grade, for instance, learn "map" is a wall chart of the red-colored Soviet Union.

By the 14th session they've added "red star" to their growing list of useful words and "slogan" (illustrated with a red banner which proclaims "Long Live the Red October!")

In Lesson 31, titled "We Love Our Mother Country," the 9-year-olds (Soviet children begin the first grade at sever, finish high school 10 years later) read in large type under a head-and-shoulder shot of Generalissimo Stalin in uniform:

"We are Soviet children. We live in the Soviet Union. The Soviet Union is a great country. The Soviet Union is our Mother Country.

"We love our Great Mother Country. We love our Great Leader Comrade Stalin! Long Live the Soviet Union! Long live our Great Leader Comrade Stalin!"

Though Stalin died in March, 1953, the Malenkov administration has not altered the English language course series and the text is still being used.)

Fourth-graders meet a photograph of Stalin — still in military tunic, but without cap — in the seventh lesson, titled "Our Slogans."

They read that four boys named Nick, Bob, Pete and Alec have stayed after school to decorate banners with slogans which include: "Long Live the Great October Revolution!" and "Long Live our Soviet Army and Navy!"

As their knowledge of English expands, the lessons become more concrete. Sixth graders, for instance, read about "Two Little Patriots" who spot a stranger in the woods and call the border guards. The story ends ominously, "the man was a spy."

By the time they reach the high school senior reader, the Soviet students of English are able to master Stalin's World War II victory speech, a Stalin biographical sketch of Lenin, tales — some of them pretty grisly — of wartime valor and an article on the first postwar Five-Year Plan which includes this paragraph:

Some people think that figures are a dull matter. But the figures of the new Five-Year Plan sound like music. . .a solemn and stately marching song created by a victorious people who have returned to peaceful labor."

Hungary Probes Crime

PARIS (INS)—Hungarian refugee circles in Paris said the Ministry of Education has created a special commission in Hungary to investigate "growing crime among youth." Black-marketing and robberies top the crime list.
