Lyndall Asking More UF Gifts

Asserts Every Penny Is Needed to Reach Goal of $525,823

As the Pontiac Area United Fund drive entered its 11th day, with 6 to go, a strong plea for more contributions from individuals and small businesses was issued by Campaign Manager Frank S. Lyndall.

"From now on," he stated, "we will have a tough fight. Some $183,902 more must be raised to reach the goal or our community will have to cut back vital services now provided by our agencies."

By last night, 65 per cent of the $525,823 goal or $341,921 had been collected.

Money received so far represents largely the big donations from industry and contributions of plant workers, said Lyndall. Little more can be expected from them, he added.

"The thing that will put the drive over now," the campaign manager stated, "is an individual gift from every man and woman in every job in the Pontiac area.

"We need that 10, 15 or 20 cents per week which a great many average citizens give.

"If everybody backs this idea of putting all our worthwhile appeals in one campaign by making as generous a pledge as he can, I'm sure we can succeed. But every penny is needed."

Car to Be Given Away

City to Greet '55 Pontiac With Parade and Unveiling

Thousands of people are expected to come downtown Saturday morning to take part in Pontiac's official civic welcome to the new 1955 Pontiac cars.

The motorcade will form at the Elk's Temple and proceed down Orchard Lake avenue to Saginaw street, then north on Saginaw to the courthouse.

On the courthouse lawn, "Big Chief Pontiac," in full Indian regalia, will unveil the car which will be given away by local merchants.

Beginning tomorrow, which has been officially proclaimed "Pontiac Day" by action of the City Commission, the 90 merchants participating in the event will hand out tickets to all persons 18 years of age or older, whether a purchase is made or not.

The tickets will be dropped in

Girl, 6, Is Slain Begging Treats

Nude Body Found in Pennsylvania Cemetery After Halloween Visits

JOHNSTOWN, Pa. (AP)—A little girl was found dead early this morning in an eerie Halloween setting in a cemetery two miles from her home in nearby Conemaugh.

A member of a searching party, hastily organized after the girl was reported missing by her parents, stumbled across the nude body. Her tattered Halloween costume was lying near her head. Near the body was an apple and a little bag of candy which she apparently had gathered in the traditional Halloween custom of "trick or treat."

Police identified the girl as six-year-old Karen Mauk. The cause of her death was not immediately determined. Deputy Cambria County Coroner Richard P. Wilkinson ordered an autopsy, but said there were "no visible marks" on Karen's body.

Police said they were working on several leads in the girl's death.

The parents, Mr. and Mrs. William H. Mauk, said Karen left home alone about 6:30 p.m. to join a cousin, Paul Lindenberg, about 8, to make the rounds of homes begging for Halloween favors.

The cousin returned home about 7 p.m. The girl's parents reported Karen missing about 9:30 p.m. Police searched the Conemaugh area for two hours without success, then the fire siren was sounded to summon firemen and volunteers to join in the search.

The body was discovered about 12:30 a.m. by Steve Steffish and Richard Barkley. It was taken to Johnstown Memorial Hospital for the autopsy later.

Jack Rue, a photographer for the Johnstown Tribune - Democrat, reached the death scene shortly after Karen was found. He said she was lying on the ground near a road on the outskirts of a cemetery.

"She was absolutely nude," Rue said. "She was sprawled on her back and her poor little fist was clenched."

The entire community was aroused, Rue reportedd. He added: "We don't know for sure what happened, but I would hate to be any party responsible for this. These people are fighting mad."

Karen was a first grade pupil at the Conemaugh public school.

Former Broker Pleads Guilty

Parmenter Admits Theft of $50,000, Sentencing Set for Nov. 8

Eugene Parmenter, 54, pleaded guilty before Circuit Judge H. Russel Holland today to embezzling $50,000 from the now defunct W. H. Protiva Co. here. Judge Holland set the sentencing date at Nov. 8.

Eugene A. Parmenter, 54, accused of embezzling $50,000 waived examination in Pontiac Municipal Court this morning and was set for arraignment in Circuit Court later today.

He is held on $50,000 bond which was not furnished.

The embezzlement warrant was issued this morning by Oakland County Prosecutor Frederick C. Ziem. It replaced the less severe larceny by conversion count first lodged against the former office manager of the W. H. Protiva investment company here.

Embezzlement carries a ten-year maximum prison sentence plus a top fine of $5,000, compared with five years and $2,500 for larceny by conversion.

Meanwhile, Parmenter told Pontiac police he would cooperate with his former employer Clarence J. Nephler Jr. in a suit to recover damages from accountants who audited the Protiva company books. Nephler alleges they should have detected Parmenter's manipulations.

Named in the suit for damages "not to exceed $200,000" are Claud A. MacGregor of Pontiac

Wife Gets Bird at Home; Mate Unlucky Afield

DETROIT (AP)—Glen Smith, 37, traveled nearly 150 miles and toted a heavy shotgun all day hunting pheasants the other day. But he didn't get one.

His wife Anna, 32, found one in the backyard of their home here yesterday. The bird had struck a wire-mesh fence, crippling itself.

Mrs. Healy, who lives at Carr Canyon near Bisbee, shot a small mountain lion in her yard Wednesday. It brought her lifetime total to 18.

BOISE, Idaho (AP)—Someone shot and killed Mrs. C. R. Brown's cow with a shotgun Wednesday night. Pheasants and ducks are the principal game being hunted with that firearm in this area now.

"Impossible," replied a Fish and Game Department spokesman, when asked if it were possible the cow was mistaken for a pheasant. "Must have been self-defense."

Sen. Ferguson Urges Return of GOP Congress

Says Republican Party Has Brought Peace and Prosperity to U.S.

By BURDETT C. STODDARD

"Shall control be continued in the Republican Party which has brought peace and prosperity—or to the Democrats who plunged us into two wars, ruinous inflation plus allowing communism and corruption to infest the government?"

This question was asked Pontiac Rotarians yesterday by Sen. Homer Ferguson (R-Mich) in a noon address at the Hotel Waldron.

The campaigner stressed the importance of one Senate seat to both parties. "The seat I occupy could determine, and probably would, who holds a Senate majority and controls the entire 15 Senate committees."

He charged the Democrats with appealing for votes by playing on emotions instead of asking citizens to judge on the basis of facts.

The senator compared Republican and Democratic records regarding war, unemployment and taxation, communism, farm prices, civil rights and corruption in government.

"Control of the entire Congress of the 48 states for the next two years is the important stake in next Tuesday's election," Ferguson stated.

"Votes for a single opposition representative or senator can decide this important problem and give President Eisenhower an opposition Congress in control of all Senate and House committees which decide the legislative program. This could cripple the Eisenhower Administration."

He also stressed the importance to Republicans of returning U. S. Rep. George A. Dondero to the House.

Off-year elections are more important than many voters realize, said Ferguson. "They think only the President's election counts, but laws are made by the Congress."

Turning to campaign tactics, the senator said "some of the opposition apparently believe people's emotions decide their vote and conduct a campaign of distortion of facts, class warfare and unfair analysis of the record."

Ferguson said he felt it his obligation to tell people what has happened in Washington and let them vote for or against him on the basis of facts.

He praised the "loyal Republican minority" during the Democratic rule which, the senator said, prevented the New Deal from instituting many socialistic principles and others verging on communism which "would have put us in the place where Great Britain is today."

Praising the President for the 22-month record of his administration, Ferguson said, "I've never known a man more dedicated to real prosperity and peace."

The Democrats, he charged, indirectly encouraged Communist ag-

New York Holds Spotlight in Gubernatorial Contests

WASHINGTON (INS) — The unexpectedly close and violent battle for governor of New York today steals the spotlight away from even possible upsets in Republican Vermont and Democrat Arkansas among 33 gubernatorial elections next Tuesday.

The New York race between Republican Sen. Irving M. Ives and Democrat W. Averell Harriman has captured the attention of national leaders in both parties. It may not be settled until the last ballot is counted.

In Vermont, Republican Lt. Gov. Joseph B. Johnson is being given a tough race by Dem. legislator E. Frank Branon. The GOP says the race will be close.

In Arkansas, it is another story. There Democrat Orval E. Faubus should win in traditional southern fashion but Republican Mayor Pratt Remmel of Little Rock is giving him headaches. This might be the biggest upset of the year.

The Dems are also hopeful of electing State Sen. George M. Leader over GOP Lt. Gov. Lloyd H. Wood in Republican Pennsylvania.

Cuts Catalina Models With Moderate Boost in Other Styles

Pontiac Motors today announced list price reductions on two 1955 models and moderate increases on all other models of its new line of V-8 cars.

The new line for 1955 will range from $1,917.45 for the two-door Chieftain sedan to $2,462 for the convertible in the Star Chief series.

Prices on the completely redesigned station wagon were increased $24 over the 1954 straight-eight models. All other models are priced $59 higher than this year's comparable styles.

R. M. Critchfield, Pontiac general manager, said he expected the two Catalina models to represent about 40 per cent of total production.

Power steering will be $100, down $25 from the price on 1954 models.

Prices include the new General Motors freight and price adjustments. The maximum charge for freight in areas 1,200 miles or more from Pontiac will average $162.

The factory list prices do not include taxes, or the cost of optional equipment items, licensing, etc. The complete price list as announced by Pontiac:

50,000 Crowd Cadillac Square to Hear Speech

President Tells Detroit He's Striving for Jobs Without Bloodshed

DETROIT (AP)—President Eisenhower, striving to drum up votes for Republicans, told an industrial Detroit audience today his administration is solving the unemployment problem without war because "we have a government with a heart."

Police Inspector Arthur J. Heidt estimated a crowd of 50,000 persons jammed Cadillac Square in front of City Hall to hear Eisenhower declare:

"I am quite sure we do not want to pay for false prosperity in the blood of our sons on the battlefield."

In Detroit, administration critics have been pointing to joblessness in the opposition campaign to elect Democrats to Congress and state office.

"How did unemployed get jobs in 1949 or 50?" the President asked his audience.

"They either went to war or worked in a war plant. We have prosperity without that now."

Eisenhower called for reelection of Sen. Homer Ferguson of Michigan. Ferguson is being challenged hard by Democrat Patrick V. McNamara.

The President then left Detroit for Louisville.

President Eisenhower, on a last-minute airplane stumping tour in behalf of Republican nominees in Tuesday's election, landed at Detroit's Wayne Major Airport, 20 miles west of the city, at 10:53 a.m. today.

A steady rain was falling in downtown Detroit, where he was scheduled to speak within half an hour of his landing.

A motorcade, with the President in the vanguard, left almost immediately for City Hall in Cadillac Square, the heart of Detroit.

Addressing a police-estimated crowd of 2,500 persons at Cleveland Hopkins municipal airport, the President said prosperity under the Democrats was based on war.

The President flew to Cleveland from Washington on the first leg of a four-state tour to get out the vote for next Tuesday's election.

He came into Ohio to help GOP Rep. George Bender in his contest for a U. S. Senate seat against the Democratic incumbent, Sen. Thomas A. Burke, who was appointed to succeed the late Sen. Robert A. Taft, a Republican.

Also at stake in Ohio are 23 house seats.

He told his Cleveland audience that Republicans in the state have nominated "a great group" of GOP candidates.

"Your vote is important," the President declared, adding that every citizen owes it to himself to vote on Tuesday.

Plea for Safe Halloween Issued by Pontiac Police

Pontiac Police today asked motorists, parents and children to help make this Halloween as accident-free as last year's by heeding all rules of safety.

"Trick and treat can mean trouble and tragedy," warned Police Chief Herbert W. Straley.

"Last year's safety record was unmarred by one of the safest Halloweens the city has ever seen," said Straley. "Let's try to equal that record."

There is always the danger of accidents when the tots and teenagers start out. Motorists are urged to be especially careful at intersections and in mid-block where children will be crossing.

Issuing a warning to speeders, Straley said, "Anyone caught speeding during the trick and treat hours will be punished to the full extent of the law."

"It's direly important for every motorist, regardless of his speed, to be especially watchful for pedestrians this evening and during the weekend."

Parents are advised to accompany children who are too young to understand safety precautions. Children should wear light colored clothing so they are readily seen by motorists and flashlights should be carried, if possible.

Clyde R. Haskill, chairman of the Chamber of Commerce Safety Committee, said if youngsters must be transported, drive them to and from the party.

"Remember, too, the little tykes are bound to be reckless

Produces Dramatic Results

Old Indian Remedy Brings New Hope for Mentally Ill

CHICAGO (AP)—A research team today reported "dramatic" and seemingly "incredible" results in treating "hopelessly" insane patients with a new form of an old snakeroot remedy from India.

They said the drug, reserpine, brought improvement in 80 per cent of the 74 "backward" mental hospital patients they treated.

Eight have been discharged and 20 others have become so much better with continued use of the drug that they may be sent home on leaves of absence.

Reserpine also appeared to help mentally retarded patients.

The doctors said reserpine should not be regarded as a "panacea in the treatment of the mentally ill and mentally retarded." However, if further studies bear out their results, they added, "reserpine will be the most important therapeutic development in the history of psychiatry."

They said they expect it to revolutionize present psychiatric treatment.

They added they believe reserpine can be a superior substitute for the often-feared electroconvulsive shock treatments in 17 per cent of mental cases.

Reserpine is a chemically pure derivative of rauwolfia serpentina. This Indian plant has been used for centuries in the treatment of

The Day in Birmingham

Young and Old Set for Fun at All-City Party Saturday

From Our Birmingham Bureau

BIRMINGHAM—Sunday will be the quietest Halloween Birmingham has known for some years. Although it is the real Halloween, it will be crowded out by celebrations tonight and Saturday.

Tonight is "trick or treat" night, but tomorrow the big show will begin.

That's the city's annual Halloween parade and party, when some 350 adult volunteers will supervise the carryings' on of almost 9,000 costumed and hungry youngsters.

The volunteers will help judge costumes in front of Hill School from 7 to 7:30 p.m. and then herd the youngsters into line for the start of the big parade.

Then they'll try to keep order as the Birmingham High School band leads the parade up Chester to Maple, over Maple to Woodward and down Woodward to the food tables near Briggs parking lot.

Next they'll watch the heaped tables being fast depleted of hot dogs, doughnuts and cider. This is only the beginning, for there's entertainment to follow.

For the smaller moppets and their moms and dads a trampolene act calculated to draw plenty of laughs and an animal act featuring trained monkeys and dogs, will perform continuously at the parking lot. The professional acts were booked by Ronald W. Reese, general chairman of the affair.

An hour of movies will be shown at Baldwin School for fourth through sixth graders, with dancing and games until 11 p.m. at Barnum School for all junior high school ages.

A shuttle bus will deliver senior high school students to Birmingham High for dancing until midnight.

Meanwhile the volunteer clean-up squad will have cleared the parade area of debris and the 19th Recreation Board-sponsored and merchant-backed party will draw to a close.

Condemnation action will probably be filed the latter part of next week for acquisition of property needed to provide off-street parking facilities at the southeast Pierce-Merrill street corner, City Manager Donald C. Egbert said today.

This, along with further discussion on a special assessment formula to finance the proposed 250 car lot, was taken up by the city commission at a committee meeting last night.

Of the 11 pieces of property and eight property owners involved, Egbert said there had been "no flat turn-downs," to John Knecht, the realtor hired by the city to make such negotiations.

"There may be one or two that will involve condemnation," Egbert added, however. The first option will be presented formally at Monday's city commission meeting.

In presenting a modified assessment formula, City Assessor Elmer Haack's further refinements last night appeared more equitable to the lawmakers, Egbert said.

Financial participation for construction of the $250,000 lot would be on a 50-50 basis, between the city and surrounding property owners. The proposed assessment district has not been enlarged to include property north of Maple and east of Woodward.

As a service to the community, the local League of Women Voters is once again distributing its Voters Guides to the public, pamphlets containing non-partisan information on candidates and issues to be voted on at next Tuesday's election.

The league compiles the information through interviews and study and at election time members are stationed at several locations to hand out the free pamphlets.

Biographical data is supplied by each candidate. Candidates also are asked identical questions and given several days to prepare an answer. League study groups prepare information on all proposals, giving both the pros and cons.

In the case of the Conlin amendment to be voted on the league has taken a negative stand and explains its reasons for doing so.

Supt. of Schools Dwight B. Ireland yesterday commended the recent decision of Oakland County Circuit Judge N. Russel Holland in setting aside a $45,000 damage verdict which had been awarded by a jury to Dr. Maurice Richards of Royal Oak.

Holland ruled that the school district had governmental immunity from suit. The case stemmed from a bleacher collapse at Birmingham High School in 1948, in which Dr. Richards suffered leg injuries.

Commenting on Holland's "encouraging decision, Dr. Ireland stated:

"School districts are completely uninformed about the matter of liability insurance. If they do not have governmental immunity in case of suits similar to this, they should have some liability insurance."

"If they take out liability insurance they, by this very act, might waive their immunity," he continued. "And, lastly, there is no provision by law authorizing the expenditure of public monies for this purpose."

"School administrators and members of boards of education deserve to have some directive so they can act in the public interest in such matters. If they are sincere they do not want to be negligent and the proper procedure should be made clear by law," he said.

He concluded, "Judge Holland, in my opinion, exercised patience and extreme care in hearing this case. It will tend to clarify the thinking of all persons interested in public education."

The local YMCA has announced it has the opportunity to arrange for an hour's swimming from 1:30 to 2:30 p.m. each Saturday in Pontiac. For boys only, the group would be transported from the Y at 12:30 and returned at 3.

Edwin Kirbert, Y secretary, said the program would work on a staggered schedule with some swim dates being canceled because of program conflicts, but about 20 days would be involved between now and next June.

Some swimming instruction will be given, but at least 30 boys must register. The Y has complete details.

and six other certified public accountants of Detroit.

They are Alfred S. Dunnett, Deloss E. Gilbert, Charles T. Reinhardt, A. J. Grundy, Shelton W. McGraw and Arthur J. Schroder.

Oakland County Circuit Court records state the purpose of the suit is "to recover damages sustained by the plaintiff (Nephler) as the result of the negligence of the individual defendants and their breach of accounting and auditing contracts with the plaintiff as the owner of W. H. Protiva Co. . . . " causing losses of over $175,000.

The suit alleges that MacGregor and Reinhardt did most of the actual work with Nephler's firm, but that Reinhardt was associated with the other defendants during the 10 to 12 year period of Parmenter's alleged law violations.

No date has been set for further action in the suit.

Parmenter's disappearance touched off a statewide manhunt last year after a $175,000 shortage was found in his books. He was arrested Monday night in Oklahoma City.

Sen. Ferguson Urges Republican Congress

gression in Korea by statements that America was not concerned with Korea and Formosa and failure to spend money available for strengthening South Korea's defenses.

"They were even unable to supply enough ammunition to American soldiers fighting in Korea. The war was a stalemate and Eisenhower determined we would have peace. Now American boys aren't dying in Korea or Indochina where they might have been if not for the President's actions."

The Democratic claim that the GOP has thrown people out of work is untrue, said Ferguson.

"The Republican Party knows the nation can't survive without individual employment. But you can't keep making war munitions after the war is over, unless you do what Russia wants and spend yourselves into bankruptcy."

Unemployment was widespread under the Democrats in 1939, he asserted, then job opportunities increased with the defense effort.

Although there were up to 6,000,000 jobless between World War II and the Korean War, he stated, and Republicans realized steps were necessary to shift from a wartime to peacetime prosperity, they did not raise unemployment as a political issue.

War started in Korea and the problem was solved, Ferguson said. "The Democrats have never achieved a prosperous American economy with peace," he declared.

"The present administration has, and without war or inflation. We've had up to 3,000,000 unemployed, but generally the past year was the most prosperous peacetime year we've had."

The GOP does not believe in crying "depression," Ferguson said, because people become alarmed and stop buying which in turn puts others out of work.

Discussing taxation he asserted that Democrats did not reduce the individual income tax in 20 years, "while they put 30,000,000 low-income people on the tax rolls by lowering the personal tax exemption from $1,200 to $500."

The 80th Republican Congress (1946-48), he said, balanced the budget, paid some on the national debt and raised the income tax exemption to $600 over President Truman's veto.

With the aid of such men as Secretary of Defense C. E. Wilson, Ferguson declared, the present Congress has cut over 28 billion from appropriations planned by the Democrats.

"I don't believe we're going into a hot war," said Ferguson. The real threat is the penetration of communism into all parts of the free world, he stated.

He said the Democrats "are not a party of treason" but they did coddle and appease Communists." The GOP, he asserted, "cleared the Communists out of government and enacted eight new laws which we are vigorously enforcing to get them out of American life."

"Not one scandal has been found in the Eisenhower Administration. Under the Democrats both hydrogen and atomic bomb secrets got out, because they were afraid to deal with Communists with a firm hand."

The senator declared that the FBI had difficulty getting clearance to expose Communists under Democratic administrations and congressional investigations were the only recourse.

The new laws, he said, will rule out need for most such investigations, leaving congressmen more time to consider legislation.

"We've accomplished more for the civil rights of minorities in 22 months than the Democrats did in 20 years."

Farm price supports were necessary in wartime, said Ferguson, but their continuance piled up nine-billion-dollars worth of food surpluses.

"We've stopped the decline in farm prices, put surpluses into stomachs instead of warehouses and set the farmer on the good road to fair prices and independence.

"A Democratic Congress will stop this progress, turn the country back to the old mess and block the President and his prosperity program."

Pontiac Deaths

Donald Allen Bemis

Prayer service will be held for Donald Allen Bemis, son of James and Donna Nichols Bemis of 202 Lake Angelus Rd., Saturday at 10 a. m. at the Sparks-Griffin Chapel.

Donald has been ill since his birth Oct. 7, 1954. He died this morning at Pontiac General Hospital.

Besides his parents, he is survived by a sister, Dianna Lee and a brother, Larry James both at home.

Roland C. McLane

Roland C. McLane, 26, of 34 Bellevue Ave. died this morning at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, after an illness of six months.

Born here August 11, 1928, he was the son of Roland G. and Leona Malloy McLane and married Dorothy Edgly in Flint in 1949.

Before working at Simms Department Store, where he was last employed, he worked at the Railway Express in Pontiac.

Besides his widow, he is survived by his mother and a daughter, Catherine Marie. Also surviving are three sisters and two brothers, Mrs. Dorothy Wardell, Margaret, Judith, Donald and Thomas McLane, all of Pontiac.

The funeral will be held Tuesday at 10 a.m. from the St. Vincent de Paul Catholic Church of which he was a member. Burial will follow in Mount Hope Cemetery. The body is at the Huntoon Funeral Home.

Baby Girl Senevey

Graveside service will be held Saturday at Perry Mount Park Cemetery for Baby Girl Senevey, daughter of Donald J. and Gladys Crites Senevey of 2930 Chrysler Ave.

The baby was dead at birth this morning at Pontiac General Hospital. Besides her parents, two brothers survive. She is at the Sparks-Griffin Funeral Home.

Old Indian Remedy Helps Mentally Ill

mental illness, insomnia, snake bite, anxiety states and other conditions. Lately, it has been found effective in lowering blood pressure in hypertensive patients.

The team of American physicians, Drs. Robert H. Noce and David B. Williams of Modesto, Calif., and Walter Rapaport of Sacramento, investigated reserpine because of recent enthusiastic reports from India on its effectiveness in mental illness.

Writing in the journal of the American Medical Assn. on results obtained with the drug, they said:

"Patients have undergone a metamorphosis from raging, combative unsociable persons to cooperative, friendly, cheerful, sociable relatively quiet persons who are amenable to psychotherapy and rehabilitative measures. . ."

Parade to Welcome New Cars Saturday

collection boxes in each merchant's store.

The leadership celebration will continue through Nov. 13 and the winner of the car—a four-door Starchief—will be selected on Nov. 20.

Everybody in the above-18 age group living in Oakland, Lapeer, Genesee and Macomb Counties is eligible to win the car, except owners or employes of participating firms and their immediate families.

Heading the motorcade will be the 135-piece Pontiac High School band. Members of the General Motors Girls' Club of Pontiac will drive the new cars.

Participating in the unveiling ceremonies with "Big Chief Pontiac" will be Boy Scouts dressed in Indian regalia.

After the unveiling, the motorcade will continue north on Saginaw Street to Sanderson, where it will disband. John A. Riley is motorcade chairman for the Retail Merchants Assn., sponsoring group.

The Pontiac City Commission placed its official stamp of approval on Saturday's motorcade and on the new Pontiac cars in the following resolution which was adopted unanimously:

"WHEREAS, Saturday, Oct. 30, 1954, has been designated Pontiac Day as the occasion to celebrate the presentation of the new 1955 Pontiac Automobile, and

"WHEREAS, this car is the result of many years of research, is soundly engineered and is attractively designed, all of which insures an excellent future for one of the City's finest products and

"WHEREAS, this Commission appreciates the splendid service rendered this community by the men and women of the Pontiac Motor Division who have made this new car possible, and

"WHEREAS, the Pontiac automobile carries the name of the City of Pontiac throughout the world and has justly earned the praise and good will of many thousands of owners, and

"WHEREAS, this Commission desires to express the congratulations of the community to the Pontiac Motor Division and to the workmen who have built this fine product.

"Now therefore be it resolved that the City Commission of the City of Pontiac, on behalf of this community, does hereby extend congratulations to the men and women of the Pontiac Motor Division and to Mr. Robert M. Critchfield and his associates for a job well done, "the new 1955 Pontiac Automobile."

"Be it further resolved that a certified copy of this resolution be forwarded to Mr. Harlow H. Curtice, President of General Motors Corporation, Detroit, and to Mr. Robert M. Critchfield, Pontiac Motor Company, Pontiac, Michigan."

Sylvan Lake Council Endorses Courthouse

The Sylvan Lake City Council recently went on record in favor of the increased one-half mill tax on the county's valuation to finance repayment on $4,500,000 general obligation bonds for construction of a new county courthouse and county office building. The proposal was presented by Sylvan Lake Supervisor Don R. MacDonald. The endorsement was unanimous.

Kerosene Explosion Kills Redford Township Boy

DETROIT (AP) — An 8-year-old boy died today of burns suffered in an explosion at his grandfather's suburban Redford Township home last Saturday.

Jerry Schrader was burned when he poured kerosene on a smouldering stump his grandfather, Stephen Kurbel, had been burning.

Nobel Prize in Medicine

Residents of our State can be proud of the fact that a Michigan scientist shares in the $33,000 Nobel prize in physiology and medicine for 1954.

He is Dr. Thomas H. Weller of Ann Arbor. In collaboration with Dr. Frederick C. Robbins and under the leadership of Dr. John F. Enders, this trio of researchers achieved an important advance in the war on poliomyelitis.

They were awarded the prize for their discovery of a method to make polio virus grow in cultures of different tissues. Heretofore production of the virus has been possible only in the nerve cell tissues of living organisms.

At present Dr. Weller is the professor of tropical health at the Harvard School of Public Health and an associate physician at the Boston Children's Hospital. He is the son of Carl V. Weller, chairman of the pathology department of the University of Michigan Medical School.

Dr. Enders is also on the faculty at Harvard, while Dr. Robbins teaches at Western Reserve Medical School, Cleveland.

All honor to these three scientists. Their discovery gives promise of bringing nearer the final conquest of this baffling and crippling disease.

Fine Police Work

Once again alert, persistent police work has paid off for the people of Pontiac.

The result is that a fugitive hunted for 14 months on a charge of larceny by conversion of $175,000 from the W. H. Protiva Co. is behind bars here awaiting trial. Credit for that turn of events belongs to Pontiac Police Chief Herbert W. Straley and Chief of Detectives Clark M. Wheaton.

Neither of these crime fighters at any time believed that Eugene A. Parmenter had carried out his written threat to drown himself. Never at any time since the suspect fled Pontiac in August, 1953, did either of them cease work on the case.

At first results were painfully slow but Straley and Wheaton finally were able to trace the fugitive from Frankfort to Ludington, thence to New York and eventually to Oklahoma City. It was Parmenter's habit of keeping in touch at Austin, Tex., with his wife, who divorced him last Spring, that led to his undoing.

Chief Straley and Capt. Wheaton deserve commendation for the excellent work they have done on this case.

Rodgers Defends NLRB

Philip Ray Rodgers, a member of the National Labor Relations Board, has come to its defense by refuting some of the charges made against it.

Main burden of these charges is that the board, now dominated by Eisenhower appointees, is prejudiced in favor of management. Another charge is that the board is twisting the Taft-Hartley Act to the disadvantage of labor. This, critics say, has split the board along party lines.

The facts are just the opposite.

According to Mr. Rodgers, since Republicans gained control of the board it has handled 1,000 cases. Of these 900 were decided unanimously. In only 20, or two per cent of the cases, was the board split along party lines.

The public has a right to expect that the work of such a quasi-judicial board as NLRB should be kept as free of politics as humanly possible. In comparison with the Supreme Court in past years when there were dissents in about half the cases heard, NLRB's record of 90 per cent unanimity seems to us highly commendable.

CIA Gets Doolittle OK

It is important news for all Americans that the Doolittle Committee has found our Central Intelligence Agency doing a good job.

At the request of President Eisenhower this four man committee headed by Gen. James Doolittle recently carried out a searching investigation of this highly sensitive agency. The Chief Executive's request reportedly was spurred by defection to the Communists of Dr. Otto John, West German intelligence chief.

Text of the committee's report naturally is secret. From a statement by Gen. Doolittle issued through the White House, however, can be gleaned an idea of the report's tone.

Committee conclusions are said to include belief that CIA is properly placed in the Government structure, operates under adequate laws and has sufficient financial support. Another conclusion is said to be that the agency, in spite of its short history and rapid expansion, is doing a creditable job.

Most important of all, the CIA under Allan Dulles has impressed the committee as gradually improving its work and is exercising care to insure the loyalty of its personnel.

Money isn't everything, but some people will do everything they possibly can to acquire it.

The Man About Town

Paid for Suggestions From Employes at Pontiac Plant

Politics: What makes queer bedfellows; also careless handling of the truth.

Things are popping these days at

not only in bringing out the new models, but in other respects. During the past month and a half over $52,000 has been paid to employes for suggestions they have made in the line of building better cars. This is the largest sum paid out in a like period in the division's history. In the most recent distribution, two men joined in submitting the suggestion that won the top prize, and each received $625. They are

of 54 Harriet St., and

Lloyd J. Mountain

of 59 North Anderson St. Also receiving from $12 to $311 each were 112 other employes.

Changing times: It was exactly 40 years ago that a protest was filed with the Pontiac City Board of Aldermen that our street cars were not properly heated.

When hunting pheasants near Unionville, of Sylvan Lake lost his dog. But the animal was returned to him a week later by a Detroit hunter who found him and traced his identity through his tag.

Forrest Crim

Saying that he always wishes to hurl as many bouquets as brickbats is that close observer,

Richard T. Cline

of Birmingham, who phones, "That color first page picture of the 1955 Pontiac Star Chief Catalina in Wednesday's Pontiac Press was the biggest stroke of enterprise I ever witnessed in a newspaper. More power to you."

"If the political experts do no better than the football experts," writes of Lake Orion, "we'll have a lot of upsets Tuesday."

Falling leaves on a wet pavement make a traffic hazard that local officials urge be given proper attention.

In charge of the federal farm census now being taken in the Pontiac area, stresses the fact that all information sought by the enumerators is held in the strictest confidence, and is not available to the income tax officials or any other government agency.

"When I see such things as the United Fund drive handled as it is in our city," says

Manager of the Pontiac Chamber of Commerce, "it surely is a pleasure to be connected with any project here."

Voice of the People

Out-City Patients Will Pay Their Part, Says William F. Kalwitz About Hospital

sary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.)

Citizens of Pontiac who contend that the General Hospital bond issue means an extension of the hospital for benefit of people outside the city at expense of Pontiac taxpayers, will do well to look at the facts.

Certainly the sick and injured in and out of the city will benefit, but out-city patients will pay their share, which then as now is 10 per cent or more above the cost of Pontiac residents.

The extra charge to out-city patients now amounts to about $80,000 per year and will be more when the hospital is bigger, and the cost of bond issue will be $100,000 per year to Pontiac taxpayers. Since approximately 40 per cent of the hospital patients come from outside the city it is easy to see that the cost is relatively equal.

It has also been advocated that a hospital authority should be established whereby areas outside the city could be taxed for the hospital. Competent authorities agree that this would result in about $35,000 less revenue per year and loss of hospital control by the city.

The right answer is a YES vote on the hospital bond issue. It will cost the average home owner eleven and one-fourth pennies per month.

William F. Kalwitz

Surcharge Paid Hospital by Out-City Patients

One of the chief objections to enlarging our present city hospital is the belief that we are being taxed to provide a hospital for residents outside the city limits, while they pay nothing. This is not an accurate picture.

While about 40 per cent of the patients crowded into various nooks and corners of the hospital live outside the city limits they are subject to a surcharge which is equivalent to at least their share of the capital improvement program of the hospital.

Some would solve our crowded conditions by refusing entrance to outsiders. By what moral standards can civilized people refuse care to a critically ill or injured human and who would be willing to accept such a responsibility?

By the same token, we can close all our stores to outsiders and build a wall around Pontiac. Our city is growing too large for its facilities. We are in need of many civic necessities. The most critical need now is hospital space. This fall it may be "Tornado Pontiac."

County Center Is Best, Says Edw. E. DeConick

The articles appearing recently on the new courthouse location have been of particular interest to me.

The producers on the City Market on Mill Street have had all the advantages of transportation available but very little parking facilities. After moving to the Perry Street site where there was ample parking but no public transportation, our sales increased sharply.

Case Records of a Psychologist

Cinderella Lost a Slipper on Purpose to Give Prince Chance of Finding Her

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Cinderella would have been an avid reader of this column if she were alive today. For she was a great rooter for applied psychology. And never think for one minute that she lost her glass slipper by accident. That was done deliberately: It served in lieu of the modern telephone number.

Case M-352: Cinderella was a girl who used excellent psychology to get herself a sweetheart.

So I wish to present her case to you modern American women who may still lack a boy friend.

One of the first rules in sales psychology involves making your merchandise as attractive as possible.

Cinderella followed this law carefully. She bathed and dressed as becomingly as possible, and doubtless used enticing perfume, too.

I doubt if she painted her fingernails red, for men don't like red nail polish, since it connotes blood and thus is unfeminine in their eyes.

Cinderella was too smart to alienate the potential "customers" to whom she was appealing, so she dressed to please the men.

Then she followed the second law in sales psychology. She went where the prospects were to be found. She attended a fancy party where dancing was in vogue.

Cinderella must have known how to carry on an interesting conversation, too, for she soon had her gallant escort smitten with her charm.

Girls, beauty is an asset in first attracting a man's attention, but you will need more than sheer good looks to win a husband.

In fact, a girl of only average looks but with a jolly smile and gay repartee, can run circles arcund the beauty queens who lack personality.

Cinderella caught the eye of her new boy friend because she looked attractive. But she increased his interest tremendously by her gay conversation.

I'm sure she used the "Compliment Club" technique, too, for it certainly wasn't her skill ful dancing that won him, for Cinderella had never had a chance to attend parties or learn how to be a ballroom dancer.

No, it was the psychology she employed which won her boy friend.

But at the stroke of 12, Cinderella had to depart. That was when she used the third rule of good sales psychology.

Seneca, the Latin scholar, was once approached by a Roman youth who wanted advice on how to handle women.

"Go to the archer," said Seneca, "and see how he handles his bow. With one hand he pushes it away, but with the other he pulls it back again."

Cinderella employed that rule. She intrigued the interest of her escort. Then she figuratively pushed him away by ducking out while he was probably getting her a glass of punch.

But she knew it is good sales strategy to leave a telephone number where the prospect can contact the salesman.

Lacking telephones in those early days, she dropped her glass slipper. That was no "accident". Don't let the fairy tale author fool you!

Cinderella lost that slipper on purpose! For how else could her suitor find her?

Cinderella was a very smart young woman whose clever strategy and charm won her boy friend after her physical appearance had first caught his eye.

Big Stock Market Crash Occurred 25 Years Ago

By ED CREAGH

WASHINGTON (AP)—Just 25 years ago today the bottom fell out of the New York Stock Exchange. The echoes of that spectacular crash still rumble around the world.

For the market crash of Oct. 29, 1929, heralded the greatest depression this country has ever known. It engulfed the United States in a worldwide economic morass that proved a breeding place for the seeds of World War II.

Here at home, the depression swept Franklin D. Roosevelt and the New Deal into office.

Perhaps as important as any other effect, the crash and the depression did something to the American spirit.

They didn't, as they seemed for a time to threaten to do, make this a nation of pessimists. But they did, perhaps permanently, dampen a notion that Americans were destiny's tots—that this country was somehow exempt from the woes that were always besetting foreigners.

And of course that time of shaken values and bruised faith had this added lingering effect, among others: it led some Americans to a belief, rudely shattered for most in the years to come, that the Russians had come up with a system which worked better.

All told, that Oct. 29 was a memorable day. Maybe it should be observed each year. Not a day of rest, as a holiday would be, but one of deep if not prayerful meditation, which is hard work indeed.

Actually, the trouble didn't start Oct. 29. The market broke sharply as early as March of that year. It bounced back swiftly, however, and its very recovery served to discredit the few skeptics who kept asking how long this crazy spree of paper prosperity could continue.

On Sept. 3, 1929, the Associated Press average of 60 selected stocks soared to an all-time peak: $157.70 a share.

By the middle of that month the average began to drop, however. By October it was skidding several dollars each day. Oct. 24—still known as "Black Thursday"—saw the skid become a headlong tumble. A wild rush to sell wiped out five billion dollars in stock values in a single day.

The bottom finally fell out five days later—25 years ago today.

The nation was a long time recovering. The Democrats say they saved it. The Republicans say it never was really saved, except by war booms, until they got back in office. The Democrats say conditions aren't too good right now, if you want their opinion. The Republicans say things were never better in time of peace.

One thing most experts agree on—the nation isn't likely to have another major depression.

What's to stop another 1929-type boom and bust? A number of things: tighter reins on speculation. Sounder values of stocks. Above all, perhaps, a long period of sobriety on the part of the American people—a realization that another gambling - on-the-market spree might end up in the same kind of post-1929 hangover.

So most experts say. But not all. J. Kenneth Galbraith, the Harvard economist, asks himself in the current Harper's magazine if 1929 can happen again—and answers: "of course." Never underestimate, says Galbraith, the ability of people to make fools of themselves when they think they see a chance to get rich.

Baering Down

By ARTHUR "BUGS" BAER
(International News Service)

Next Tuesday will look like old home week on the ant farm.

Figuring on at least 60,000,000 votes of over-age citizens.

Both sides claim it's a softer touch than blue blankets.

By Wednesday we will know the list of cowed, wowed and powed. Democrats are making salt hay out of Chuck Wilson's bird dog speech. Any remark you make in politics can be twisted like a nervous gal's handkerchief.

The speech was as innocent as grated nutmeg on a milk shake. But it sure stirred up mud bottom.

Democrats also claim the Alaskan vote was the dotted line for the jumping cat. That's too far for a senator to frank his laundry.

The GOP made Ike get out there and scratch gravel. But he never did meet Stevenson the Fuller brush-off man.

The issues are taxes, parity, price supports, employment, foreign policies and others too numerous to avoid. But they are always canceled by the election.

We don't claim we have the perfect form of government. All we claim is it's the most fun. If the things the contestants call each other are true the boys should be running for a boat instead of office.

But we know that half the things they say about each other cannot be proved.

And in this age of investigation the winners will congratulate the losers.

Every citizen of this land should exercise his opinion on Tuesday. And may the best man wince.

Brady Says Businessmen of Medicine Depriving People of Reliable Remedies

By WILLIAM BRADY, M.D.

It was the late great Dr. Abraham Jacobi, father of pediatrics, who suggested the use of one gram of copper sulfate (commonly called blue vitroil) dissolved in a tablespoonful of water as an emetic for a child—one that induces vomiting almost instantly in an emergency where it is necessary to empty the stomach quickly.

Formerly even a doubtful looking character could sidle into a drugstore anywhere and buy a half dozen one-grain copper sulfa e tablets or, if the store didn't stock tablets, then six grains of copper sulfate dissolved in six spoonfuls of water. As described in Little Lesson No. 14, "The Medicine Cupboard," (for which send 25 cents and stamped, self-addressed envelope), the emetic dose is one grain or one spoonful of the solution, for a baby, five or six grains or five or six spoonfuls for an adult.

Far be it from me to deny that copper sulfate is poisonous if you take enough of it in one dose. Likewise aspirin, acetanilide and many other items durggists sell without raising an eyebrow and without cautioning about its dangerous character.

The standard, official, U.S.P. dose of copper sulfate as an emetic is five grains.

Probably not one doctor in a thousand has ever seen or ever will see a case of copper sulfate poisoning. But every general practitioner who is capable of recognizing the symptoms encounters cases of acetanilide poisoning. It is odd how solicitous the druggist (not pharmacist) can be about what in the name of heaven you intend to use such poison (as copper sulfate) for, yet sell you all the acetanilide you want without a qualm, even with the assurance that it is perfectly harmless.

I carp about it because in the past ten years one after another simple—I said simple—remedy I have recommended for home use has become unavailable or "poisonous" and I'm afraid the jig is up—the businessmen of medicine don't think my teachings boost business, and their outrageously expensive "wonder" drugs they prescribe don't make such fat profits on the simple medicines I recommend.

These business people wield great influence with the practical politicians, the bureaucrats etc., and so, from time to time, the federal drugs bureau adopts a new "regulation" to protect you poor souls from getting hurt by the homely remedies you or your ancestors have used long before Ol' Quack Brady began to look after your health.

One by one these remedies have become unavailable or "dangerous": (1) Iron and ammonium citrates in "thin, transparent, garnet-red scales or granules," for preparing your own hematinic or blood tonic at home; (2) Citrate of soda (the identical salt formerly used to modify milk for infant feeding), for whipping up a batch of cough medicine for grandpa or the baby, when cough is tight; (3) Salicylic acid, for dissolving (30 grains or approximately one-half teaspoonful) in flexible collodion (one - half fluidounce—approximately a tablespoon) to make the corn or callus softener which many of you have used with satisfaction ever since Tony was a pup; (4) Boric acid solution, universally employed in hospital and home, as a mild, even soothing antiseptic eyewash, mouthwash, ear drops etc., all of a sudden becomes a "dangerous" poison. Don't you poor souls realize that the businessmen of medicine and their accomplices are depriving you of these old reliable household remedies so that you will remain sweet and innocent customers for the "wonder drugs?

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long, pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. Brady if a stamped, self addressed envelope is enclosed, etc.

Blind Brothers Arrive in U.S.

Italian Pair Coming to State for Care Despite Doctor's Induction

NEW YORK (UP) — Two blind young Italian brothers arrived on the Liner Roma today en route to Detroit for medical treatment they hope will restore their eyesight.

They are Raffaele Caruzzi, 11, and his brother, Giovanni, 9, sons of Renato Caruzzi, 40, a locomotive engineer in Naples. The father accompanied his two sons.

Physicians said the boys are suffering from a progressive degeneration of the optic nerves. Raffaele became blind at the age of five years and eight months. Giovanni's eyes began to grow dim last February.

A year ago, Raffaele was sent to Sweden under the sponsorship of Italian President Luigi Einaudi for treatment by a famous Swedish specialist. The specialist said he could do nothing.

The father later read a newspaper dispatch about a new treatment for blindness being used by Dr. William Wolfson, 36, of Wayne University in Detroit.

Wolfson was indicted into the Army Oct. 16. He had sought in vain to obtain a delay until after the boys arrived, and also asserted that several of his patients "would go blind" if he were drafted. Wolfson was on the staffs of Wayne University and Receiving Hospital.

Dr. Albert Reudemann of the hospital's eye clinic said he will examine the boys when they arrive.

The Naples newspaper, Il Mattino, helped the father raise $1,000 to finance the trip, and Achille Lauro, the mayor of Naples, gave them a free trip on the Laur Lines' Roma, which he owns, plus money for the railroad fare from New York to Detroit.

Paine's Bust Still Must Gather Dust

PHILADELPHIA (UP) — Tom Paine's marble bust has been given the brushoff, but the dust is still there.

The marble likeness of the early American patriot continues to sit in the dank cellar of historic old Independence Hall.

Overruling the Philadelphia Art Commission, which voted on Sept. 22 to end a 78-year-old controversy by bringing the bust out of storage the National Park Service yesterday decided that it would be "undesirable" to put the statue on view.

The decision was made, said M. O. Anderson, superintendent of Independence National Historical Park, "after careful review of the National Park Service policy."

The bust, completed in 1876, is ineligible for Independence Hall proper because only art created in the period from 1776 to 1787 is permitted there, Anderson said.

More than 3,000 soldiers died from exposure, illness and privation during Gen. Washington's Revolutionary War encampment at Valley Forge.

Funeral Tomorrow for Passaic Editor

PASSAIC, N.J. (UP)—Dr. George Montgomery Hartt, former editor of the Passaic Herald-News, died yesterday in Passaic General Hospital. He was 76.

Hart, fourth and last editor of the Passaic Daily News from 1901 to 1932, became the first editor of the Herald-News when the two publications merged in 1932. He retired as editor in 1945 but stayed on as a director.

He was president of Passaic Board of Education at the time of his death.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Dorothy Goldsmith Hartt.

Funeral services will be held Saturday in St. John's Episcopal church.

TOKYO (UP) — Japan's pin-ball craze—it's called "pachinko" here—has hit the divorce courts.

PREVIEW OF THE '55 PONTIAC

Now From the Ground Up

Hal Boyle Says:

Military Discipline Asset, Not a Liability, for Youths

MORGANVILLE, N.J., (AP)—Parents, when a son is drafted for military service, sometimes complain:

"I wouldn't want my boy to duck his duty to the country. But it does seem such a terrible waste of time, now that we are at peace. And he's so young. He'll be surrounded by all kinds of temptations. It's so easy for a kid his age to go wrong."

Whenever I hear a father or mother carry on like this, I feel like telling them the story of Steve Lavoie. His career is an example of how military service, far from hurting a kid, can help him get his feet on the ground and find a real goal in life.

Steve, silver-haired but still tough-fisted at 53, is about as rugged an individualist as any left in the land. He likes to hunt bears in Canada, buffalo or leopards in Africa, because he cherishes the intense feeling of aliveness that comes in moments of danger. He also operates a $12,000,000-a-year electronics firm, and gets a similar thrill hunting down the solution to an intricate problem in engineering.

As a friend said of Lavoie, a Winthrop, Mass., boy who won success the hard way:

"He is a guy who's never really happy unless he's walking some kind of a tight rope."

This is Steve's saga:

"I was a problem child in high school. Never in any big trouble, but always in some kind of mischief."

A heart-to-heart talk with a sympathetic teacher convinced Steve he was wasting his time. Although he was 16, he managed to enlist in the Navy by fibbing about his age. The Navy sent him to radio school, mustered him out with disability pay after two years because of an injury.

He had no money, less than two years of high school credits. But he talked Northeastern College into admitting him as a special student by promising to catch up on his high school work in the summer months. For a time he picked up some change by fighting as a pro boxer.

"My first year I flunked five subjects," he said. "But I made them up during the summer. The next year I flunked one, and after that I didn't flunk any."

By stubborn bosing he managed both to complete his high school work and graduate from college on schedule.

"But I still didn't feel I had an education," he said. Helped by his wife, Miriam, who earned $15 to $18 a week in a hardware store, he took a graduate degree at Union College, spent two more years at Harvard.

"I never wrote my doctor's thesis. We had two kids. I felt I had the knowledge I needed, so I said to hell with the degree. I wanted to work.

"That was 1939. I was flat. No real jobs were open. I made $15 a week doing waterproofing, my wife made $18 as an accountant, so we were at least living. Then I got fired.

"I bought a $5 auto radio and swapped it for a Buick — you could make any kind of a crazy deal then — and set out to drive across the country to find any kind of a job. The car broke down in Washington, D.C., and I sold it for $7. Then I got a $42 job as a WPA electrician."

A year later he became an associated engineer at Wright Field in Dayton, Ohio, and pioneered in developing airplane instrument landing systems.

"I invented a new antenna that enabled them to save and use $1,000,000 worth of transmitters they were ready to junk," Steve said. "For this they raised my pay $100—from $3,200 to $3,300 a year."

Steve, who admits he has quite a temper, brooded about this, finally quit. He got a commercial firm to put him on its payroll while he worked out his electronics experiments in his basement laboratory.

This firm didn't see any possibilities in the gadgets Steve turned up, so they severed the contract, and Steve went into business for himself, selling a high frequency wave meter he had invented. It caught on at once.

His Lavoie laboratories, born in a basement, mushroomed during the war. Steve now has 500 employes and three plants that turn out a number of devices used in the nation's radar defense network.

"It has been a team job," said Steve. "My wife watches the office end of it. She is good at handling people. I have this temper, and sometimes I still want to go back to my fists. I love a fight, even though I know it serves no useful purpose."

The U.S. Navy, which turned Steve from a problem kid into a man with a goal, now employs his inventions on its ships and planes.

This isn't the end of Steve's saga, but it does point the moral — that the discipline a kid gets while serving Uncle Sam is an asset, not a handicap.

Queen Mother Visits Empire State Building

NEW YORK (AP)—The majestic 102-story Empire State building had a regal visitor yesterday — Queen Mother Elizabeth of England. The skyscraper's officials said she was the 1,800,001st visitor.

The visibility was fair and the Queen Mother was able to view a four-state area: New York, New Jersey, Connecticut and Pennsylvania.

"There are no adjectives with which I can express the beauty I saw from the tower," she said. "It is breathtaking, isn't it?"

More than 1,000 persons were gathered to see her enter. When she emerged more than an hour later the throng had swelled to about 5,000.

The Queen Mother wore a blue brocade dress and a gray velvet hat with a blue satin ribbon. Her jewelry included a three-strand pearl necklace and pearl and diamond earrings.

The Queen Mother visited the American Bible Society and received an inscribed copy of the King James Bible and a bouquet of American Beauty roses.

Trial Adjourned for Fourth Time

Lawyers' Battle Ensues During Hearing of Drunk and Disorderly Case

The trial of 49-year-old Oliver Tademy on a drunk and disorderly charge was adjourned for the fourth time yesterday after a lawyers' battle over methods of arrest and constitutional rights.

Tademy, of 258 W. Wilson Ave. told Municipal Judge Cecil McCallum that four Pontiac policemen attempted to force him into a home being raided Sept. 26.

(Tademy has a police trial board action pending against these same four police officers on charges of false arrest and assault and battery in connection with the same incident.)

Three of the accused officers, who are appearing as witnesses against Tademy, said they "beat" him only when he resisted arrest.

Defense attorney Milton R. Henry's statement that a man has a right to resist unlawful arrest, was termed by City Attorney William A. Ewart a "strange and weird doctrine."

Tademy steadfastly refused to change his testimony that Det. Herbert C. Cooley issued orders for the three other officers to beat him. Cooley and the other officers insist Cooley was not present when the beating took place.

The defendant testified he was passing the raided home at 310 W. Wilson Ave. when he became curious and stopped to observe the police activity. He said he was suddenly dragged toward the home, sat upon and beaten with a black jack, night stick and flashlight.

The three officers, Patrolmen Leroy Hartman, Hal B. Mercer and Det. Sgt. Donny Ashley said they were forced to overpower Tademy when he scuffled with them. Tademy was treated for a head cut, black eye and bruises at Pontiac General Hospital.

The Constitution was invoked by Henry for Mrs. Rose Nimmons, 31, of 310 W. Wilson Ave. when Ewart asked the witness her occupation.

"We don't have to be witnesses against ourselves," Henry said.

Although Judge McCallun said the question was in order, Ewart withdrew it.

Mrs. Nimmons was one of four witnesses presented by Henry.

Judge McCallum refused the defense lawyer's request that the officers and Tademy be submitted to lie detector tests, because such evidence is not admissable in court.

Ewart declared a lie test would be "an insult to our policemen."

Henry's request for a postponement until next Thursday was granted when he said he had three more witnesses to call.

Drayton Plains Motorist Jailed After Auto Crash

Horace D. Moss, 37, of 3748 Oakview, Drayton Plains, was arrested early today on a drunk and disorderly charge after being treated for injuries suffered in an auto collision near his home, Waterford Township Police reported.

Moss' car collided with an auto on Oakview road, operated by Mrs. Kathryn A. Felice, 36, of 3521 Brookdale, Waterford Township, who told police she was parked on the road's shoulder.

Moss was treated at Pontiac General Hospital for head cuts and minor arm and leg injuries and then taken to Oakland County Jail.

Tippie's Pal Faces Third Hearing for Gun Threats

By HUGH A. MULLIGAN

WEST MONROE, La. (AP) — A third hearing was scheduled today for 10-year-old Joe Cooper who leveled a loaded shotgun at the principal and truant officer of a rural school to save his dog from a gas chamber.

Judge Howell Heard, who raised nationwide protests by quickly committing the son of an impoverished widow to a reform school, said the hearing would be closed to the press and public in accordance with state law.

The judge declined to discuss reasons for the surprise hearing and did not indicate if it would mean a final disposal of the case.

But for Joe Cooper and his mongrel, Tippie, the court session meant another brief reunion after two weeks of separation. The sixth-grader was whisked off to the Louisiana Training Institute in nearby Monroe less than five hours after the incident at the Ransom School Oct. 6. Tippie has been spending his days in a pet hospital.

Joe's troubles started when the dog broke loose from the back yard and followed his master to school.

The principal, Mrs. Tina Clark, ordered the janitor to lock the unlicensed and unvaccinated dog in a closet and sent for the dog catcher. She explained that school children had been bitten in recent months by stray dogs.

Joe pleaded in vain for the freedom of his pet, then decided to do something about it. His decision gained the sympathy of dog lovers across the country and as far away as Hawaii and England.

Returning home, he took the family shotgun, and headed back toward school.

Joe held the principal and the truant officer, Maurice Griggs, at bay until police disarmed him.

"I wouldn't have shot anyone, I just wanted my dog," Joe pleaded. "He's not much but he's all I got."

The pleas set off a nationwide flurry of letterwriting that is continuing.

Joe has gained three pounds at the Institute, an unwalled reformatory. Tippie, also in modified captivity has been vaccinated, curried and combed through the generosity of West Monroe businessmen

But squirrel season is on now and both are anxious to forget their troubles and roam the woodland that borders on the Ouachita River.

Kennedy Tells of Road Deals

Ex-Official Accused in $600 Land Deal; Seeley Testifies for Defense

GRAND HAVEN (AP)—Ronald V. Kennedy testified today at his Ottawa County Circuit Court trial he had received sums of money from his former superior but was unable to recall each instance or the amount.

Kennedy, ousted highway purchasing employe, is charged with conspiracy to defraud the state of $600 in land deals.

Assistant Atty. Gen. Perry Maynard asked if Kennedy received a total of $9,273 over a period of two years from the former chief of the Grand Rapids office.

Kennedy said he recalled about $2,000 obtained in return from personal property transactions and other services. He said he had purchased several parcels in personal transactions with his former boss.

The $600 allegedly was held in the Grand Rapids office for 15 months after a pair of Hudsonville farmers, who had sold property to the state, bought back their farm homes for $300 each.

Kennedy, on the stand until the morning recess, testified he never had seen money in the office but understood it was there.

Kennedy's former superior, G. Palmer Seeley, testified yesterday the money usually was held "in escrow" for a year to 15 months until the state office had cleared right-of-way purchases.

Seeley, serving 2½ to 5 years on similar charges, said it was common practice for his office to use escrow agreements in land purchases.

Seeley appeared as a defense witness under special court order granting his temporary release from Southern Michigan Prison.

He said he had ordered Kennedy to return the Dakrakers' farmhouse purchase money in the fall of 1953.

Earlier, Henry Ferenz, acting director of the state's right-of-way division, testified that such escrow agreements were unauthorized. Seeley insisted, however, that Lansing was aware of his operating methods as head of the Grand Rapids right-of-way office.

Man Suffers Cuts in 3-Car Collision

Samuel Eustice, 63, of 827 Monticello Ave., was injured yesterday when his auto collided with two other cars on US10 at Saginaw Trail and then struck a utility pole, according to Waterford Township Police.

A witness who had stopped to turn left onto Saginaw Trail said Eustice swung his car right to avoid a collision with the halted auto and sideswiped another car whose driver did not identify himself.

Eustice's car then swerved across the road, struck an auto driven by Herbert A. Ockenseis, 43, of Dearborn, and swung back to the right and crashed into the pole. Eustice was treated at Pontiac General Hospital for head cuts and face injuries. No one else was injured.

Over 40 games will be featured in the carnival. "Son of Fury," a movie story of South Sea pirates also will be shown the youngsters.

Some 50 prizes will be given to the boys judged the "spookiest" in the Horrible Parade which will pass through the club's House of Horrors. A Room of Baffles also will be a feature.

Supervising the affair will be Terry Thomas and Wilbur Pyles, club advisors, and Michael Fiorillo, physical director.

Peace Bid Fails in Dock Strike

But British Still Hope to Resume Work Over Coming Weekend

LONDON (AP)—A last minute union maneuver which knocked out a tentative truce plan sent Britain's crippling waterfront strike into its 26th day today.

The government apparently still had hopes of a back to work movement over the weekend, however. Waterfront observers said the government could hardly delay longer the use of troops to unload vital foodstuffs and other imports. Some 43,000 workers are idle in the work stoppages at the nation's main seaports.

The end of the walkout appeared imminent last night when dock employers in London agreed to an armistice on the main issue—whether dock workers should have the right to turn down overtime work. Overtime now is compulsory. Employers maintain this is necessary because of the effect of tides on handling cargoes.

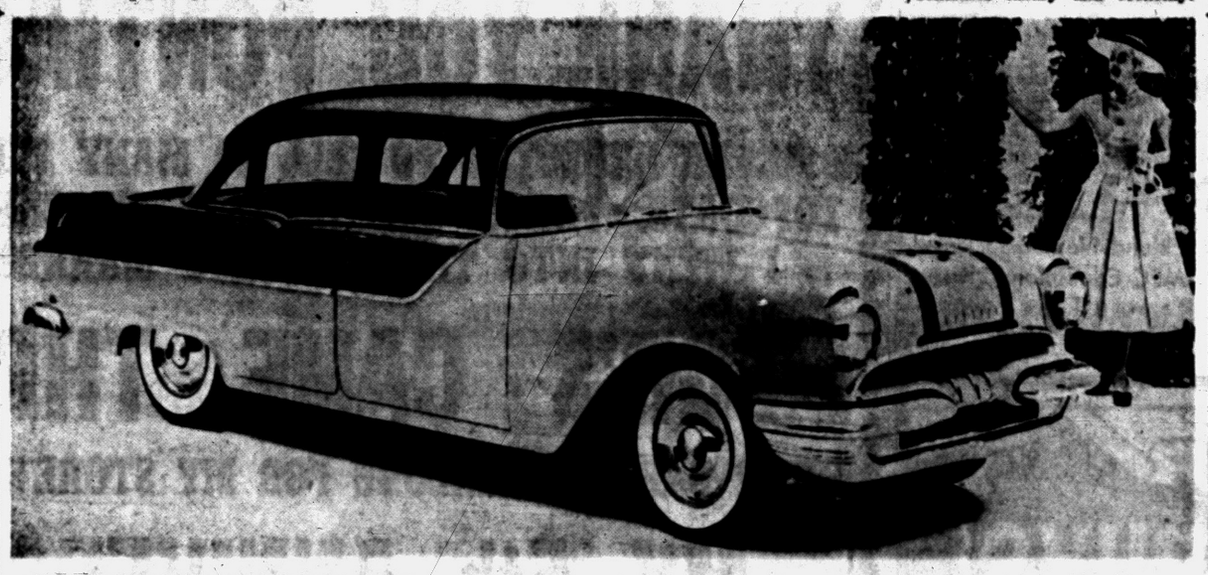
Under the truce formula the dockers would return to their jobs, pending negotiation of their grievances. While negotiations were going on, employers would refrain from disciplinary action against any workmen who refused overtime.

Leaders of the National Amalgamated Stevedores and Dockers Union at first seemed inclined to accept the armistice proposal. But after a long huddle they came up with a demand that the same formula be extended to all ports outside London.

The Ministry of Labor said this was impossible because there was "no dispute about overtime in other ports where sympathetic stoppages have occurred."

The Daily Herald, spokesman for the Trades Union Congress, said conceding to the stevedore demand for a national agreement now "would give them recognition to which they are not entitled."

A total of 346 ships are idle in London, Liverpool, Southampton, Hull, Manchester, Birkenhead and Rochester.



PONTIAC CHIEFTAIN FOUR-DOOR 870—Incorporating 109 new features, the sleek and luxurious 1955 Pontiac Chieftain Four-door has a wheelbase of 122 inches and is over 203 inches long. Featuring the new 180 h.p. Strato-Streak V-8 engine, panoramic windshield, "Vogue" two-toning and distinctive styling both inside and out, the car is completely new from the ground up.

Ike Fights for Congressional Control in 4 Key Races

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

President Eisenhower throws his prestige today on the side of Republican candidates in four closely-fought races whose outcome next Tuesday may determine whether the GOP or the Democrats will run the next Senate.

With the battle for control of Congress rushing toward its climax, the President told an enthusiastic Citizens for Eisenhower dinner rally in Washington last night that "confusion can be avoided and steady progress assured only by electing a Republican majority to the Congress."

In this, Eisenhower was disputed last night by Adlai Stevenson, the Democratic presidential candidate he defeated two years ago. Stevenson said in Trenton, N.J., "a Democratic majority in the Congress could be trusted to support the President on basic questions of security and welfare."

Eisenhower's battle cry last night was "let's roll up our sleeves and go harder to work." Today, he set the example with a planned 12 hour flying tour that was to take him from Washington to Cleveland, Detroit, Louisville, Wilmington, Del., and back again to Washington.

In Ohio, veteran Republican Rep. George H. Bender is seeking to unseat Democratic Sen. Thomas A. Burke. In Kentucky, the reverse is true — veteran Democrat Alben W. Barkley is out to defeat Republican Sen. John Sherman Cooper.

In Michigan, Republican Sen. Homer Ferguson is trying to turn back the challenge of Democrat Patrick V. McNamara. In Delaware, Republican Rep. Herbert B. Warburton hopes to oust Democratic Sen. J. Allen Frear Jr.

In addition to the four Senate seats, 50 House seats are at stake in Ohio, Michigan, Kentucky and Delaware.

Up the West Coast, Mayor Arthur Meehan of Spokane, Wash., has refused to backtrack on his proclamation designating Saturday "Nixon Day" in Spokane. The vice president is due there tomorrow and Democratic leaders, contending his visit is "purely political," had protested the setting aside of a day in his honor.

In Indiana, Democratic State Chairman Charles E. Skillen has accused Gov. George N. Craig of "using the Indiana state police as a political tool." This happened yesterday after the governor ordered state police to investigate complaints that the Communist party has been distributing material urging support for Democratic candidates. Skillen said the Democrats already had asked for a federal investigation of the alleged Communist activity.

In New York's hot gubernatorial contest yesterday Democratic candidate Averell Harriman, delivered a fulldress reply to a series of charges made against him. He accused his GOP opponents of using what he called the Nazi and Red technique of "the big lie."

Lots of Ambition and Plenty of Umph Goes Into Tooting Band's Big Tuba

By ABBIE KUCSERA

Perseverance paid off again today, as it usually does — this time for red-haired Denny Holmes, age 9.

Denny, christened Frank Dennis Holmes, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Holmes, 58 Newberry. The lad who has long wanted to play tuba in the band at Webster school where he is in fifth grade, had to be satisfied with playing the cornet last year.

This year however, he obtained the coveted position of being the biggest man in the band, or the man with the biggest horn anyway, and the tuba was his.

But the beautiful instrument had to be taken to the repair shop for much needed attention, where it has been since the first of the school year.

Denny faithfully called or visited the shop almost daily, so anxious was he to get the precious tuba. Once, he almost had it. The repairman had dismantled it and bumped out the dents. It was hanging there bright and shining, with its new coat of finish.

Then it crashed from the hook where it hung drying and the repairman had to repeat the process once more.

But the joyful hour came last night and freckle-faced Denny came home proudly bearing the glistening tuba. He sidled sidewise through the door with the horn which is almost bigger than he is.

At nightfall, he carefully laid the instrument to rest beside him on the floor (it was too big to be put on the bed beside him.)

"Just think," he told his Mom, "I can see it the last thing before I go to sleep and the first minute I wake up in the morning."

Today, the lad toted the horn off to school. Denny's a big man in the Webster band.

Willow Run Village Sold for Private Development

YPSILANTI (AP)—Willow Run Village, once known as the "Bomber City" with a population of 20,000, was sold or optioned today by the Public Housing Administration to Ypsilanti Township.

The township bought 537 acres containing 3,003 dwelling units and four vacant parcels totaling 139 acres.

It took a six-month option to buy 956 additional acres and the village's business district, which contains a 1,200-seat theater, two filling stations, a drug store, three grocery stores, a general store, and a barber and other small shops.

Willow Village, which originally contained 8,200 temporary housing units, was built to house workers employed in the Willow Run bomber plant that the Ford Motor Co. ran during World War II.

The one-time bomber factory now houses the hydramatic division of General Motors Corp.

The village's present population is estimated at 11,000.

Under the public housing law unless temporary war projects are disposed of to local governments, the federal government must demolish housing units when the need for them has ended. Willow Run Village was declared surplus by the federal government last January.

Ypsilanti Township got the 537 acres on which the dwellings are located and the four vacant parcels for approximately $325,000, which is what it cost the government.

The township was given the dwellings upon its agreement to remove them by June 30, 1958.

The long-range plan is to have the area redeveloped by private builders as fast as it can be done.

Voters Asked to Approve Broader City Pension Plan

(Editor's Note: This is the second in a series of three articles explaining the local proposals that will appear on next Tuesday's ballot. This article deals with a proposal to modernize Pontiac's Employe Retirement System.)

By ARNOLD S. HIRSCH

A charter amendment designed to modernize the City of Pontiac's Employe Retirement System and bring it into line with those of other similar-sized Michigan cites will face local voters Nov. 2.

The amendment provides for both slightly increased pensions and broadened coverage for pensioners and their survivors. If passed, it would cost the city $30,000 a year.

Money-wise, the amount paid by the city into the basic pension fund would be increased from $100 to $120 a year per employe.

In addition, the amount put into the individual employe's pension account toward his retirementt would be increased.

Instead of getting the current .74 per cent of his average pay at time of retirement multiplied by the number of years since the pension plan has been in effect, he would receive .87 per cent.

Also, the present 30-year limit for credit in the plan would be eliminated, so the employe would get credit for all his years of service to the city.

In connection with eliminating the 30-year limit, the present $1,800 maximum on pensions would be changed.

Under the proposal, the $1,800 maximum would apply only to that time worked prior to the retirement plan's inception on Jan. 1, 1946. There would be no arbitrary limit on the amount of pension paid by the city.

There is no change planned in the five per cent the employe pays annually toward the pension fund.

Under broader benefit provisions, employes with 25 years service or who have reached age 55 and have 10 or more years service could elect a plan to cover a survivor.

A second section would provide automatic coverage for a widow or disabled husband of a member meeting the above requirements.

Other proposed changes would:

1. Allow survivors to receive the difference between the balance in the contributions account at the time of retirement and the total amount or retirement allowance received by time of death, provided the regular service retirement plan had been chosen.

2. Increase maximum duty disability pension before eligible retirement age from $1,500 to one-half the maximum annual compensation of a lieutenant in either the police or fire departments, whichever would be higher at the time.

3. Generally increase the non-duty disability pension to conform with other improvements in the pension plan.

4. Broaden the death-in-line-of-duty benefit from the current $1,500 annually to 58 1-3 per cent of the maximum annual pay of a lieutenant in the police or fire departments.

Kelly Is a Lady

Rich Girl Makes Good -- She's 'Stainless Steel Inside'

BY ERSKINE JOHNSON
(First of Four Articles)

HOLLYWOOD (NEA) — Rich girl makes good!

If a writer tossed this plot idea to movie producers he'd be ushered, and not politely, out of every office in town.

Before the oak-paneled doors slammed behind him, he would hear shouts of "idiot," "lame-brain," "knuckle-head" and possibly these more lucid objections to the idea from a less demonstrative studio boss:

"Look, Mac, it won't sell. The whole idea is ridiculous. It has no heart. There would be no sympathy for a rich dame. There would be no struggle. It isn't a success story."

But Hollywood's biggest success story in years is just that:

Rich girl makes good!

It's the Grace Kelly story.

She's 24, blonde, blue-eyed, cool, composed and cultured.

And her story has all the ingredients good old success stories should have—heart, struggle, the proper amount of sympathy.

To begin with Kelly is a lady.

But a lady zooming to movie stardom in this celluloid sex-in-the-raw era of busty and leggy actresses, domestic and imported, is just part of the Kelly story.

LADY-TO-BE—Grace Kelly as baby. Papa's eye was on Peggy.

Also part of it is a warmly luscious personality as seen on the screen—and an unseen cold determination and will of iron described before by a film executive as Grace Kelly's "stainless steel inside."

To understand all of the "Rich Girl Makes Good" story you'll first have to know about all of the Kellys.

The rich Philadelphia Kellys, that is.

Just to know her father explains much about the girl who in less than two years has co-starred opposite eight of Hollywood's most famous male stars in eight of Hollywood's biggest movies.

He's handsome, vigorous 64-year-old John Brandan Kelly, one time (1935) candidate for mayor of Philadelphia who rose from bricklayer to head of an $18,000,000 east coast masonry contracting firm that helped build New York's Radio City and the U.N. building.

A famed athlete in younger days, Kelly was a contender with Gene Tunney for the World War I AEF light-heavyweight title. A broken ankle lost him a crack at the title. In 1920, he was the U.S. sculling champion but was barred from England's Diamond Sculls, rowing's prize race.

He was rejected because British aristocracy said he wasn't a gentleman—British "gentlemen" never work with their hands.

Two months later Grace's father beat the English champion and won the Olympic Games singles title at Antwerp. As the story goes, he celebrated by sending his rowing cap to the King of England "with the compliments of John Kelly, U.S.A., bricklayer."

There's Grace's mother—Margaret.

Still a beauty—a magazine cover girl in the Roaring 20s.

There's brother John Kelly Jr., 26, who followed in his father's wake as a champion sculler. Accepted as a gentleman, he won the Diamond Sculls rowing championship in 1947, again in 1949, while Grace and other members of the Kelly tribe cheered in sweet revenge over papa Kelly's humiliation of 27 years before.

There's older sister Peggy, now married and making a name for herself as an artist. And there's sister Lizanne, a University of Pennsylvania junior.

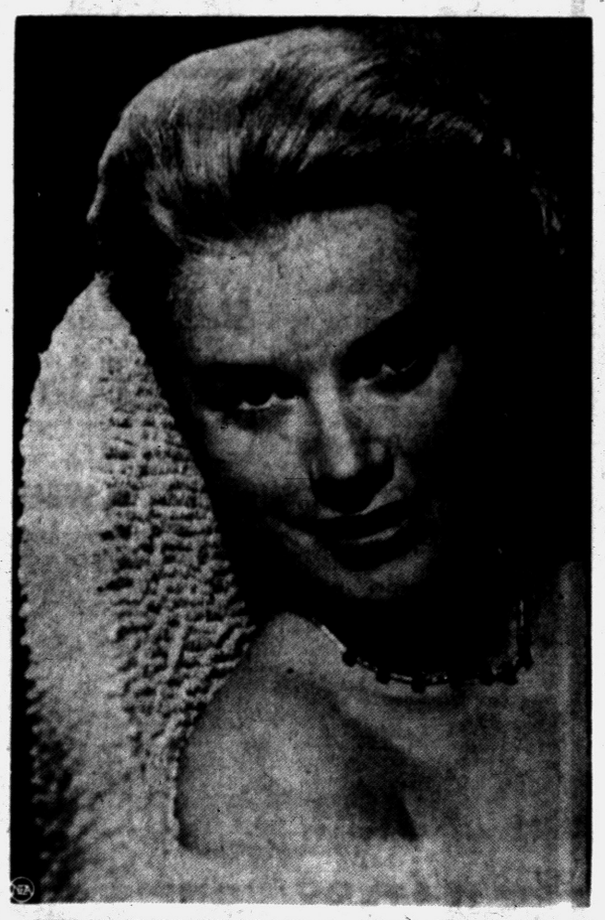
And there's Grace's Uncle George Kelly, a Pulitzer prize-winning playwright who authored "Craig's Wife," "The Showoff," "The Torchbearers" and other stage hits. Another uncle, Walter C. Kelly, who died some years ago, was famous, too—in vaudeville, in movies and on records.

Born with father Kelly's drive, her mother's beauty and the theatrical heritage of two famous uncles, Grace wasn't cradled in a big Philadelphia mansion to race around in foreign cars as a wealthy debutante, marry a Mainliner and promenade for charity.

Besides, it was older sister Peggy, and not Grace, who always has been the apple of papa's eye.

Tomorrow: "The family was ready to scalp me."

THREE KELLYS FROM PHILADELPHIA—They share limelight in England in 1947 as Grace (center) and Peggy cheer John Jr., before he rowed to victory in the Diamond Sculls championships.



THIS IS GRACE KELLY — Blonde, blue-eyed, cool, composed, cultured and 24. Hollywood says she's "stainless steel inside."

Vote for Glenn D. Harper

Oakland County Democratic Candidate for Drain Commissioner

For eight years the Oakland County Drain Commissioner's office has stalled and failed to recommend any feasible plan for the solution of Oakland County's critical drainage problems.

The present incumbent is responsible for the delays in four of these years.

As Democratic nominee for this office, I submit that the people of Oakland County are entitled to a change.

In behalf of constructive action, why not consider a Democrat for this County office.

Satchmo Never Appeared in Russia 'Cause He Can't Sing Through Nose

By EDDIE CANTOR

If Mr. Webster were writing his dictionary today, I believe when he came to the word "jazz," he would define it as something "Satchmo"—or Louis Armstrong. This son of New Orleans is unquestionably the most glorified figure in jazz.

"Satchmo" is short for "satchel mouth," a nickname given him by his first boss, Joe Oliver.

When a lady in Las Vegas asked him what is rhythm, Louis answered, "Lady, if you have to ask—you ain't got it."

A few nights ago I saw him in this city of crap tables, slot machines and roulette. Even the losers applaud his winning personality. Standing on the stage of the Sands, famous nightclub, he sang a hysterical version of "Vesti la Guibba" while Robert Merrill, star of the "Met," did "Honeysuckle Rose." A riot.

Watching him clown around, listening to his asides, is as much fun as getting a tax refund. Like at the Hollywood Bowl recently where he did a television show with Eddie Fisher. He looked down at the body of water between the stage and the audience and inquired, "Whatcha want me to do—play the trumpet or dunk my body?"

There is an Armstrong cult, not only in this country, but all through Europe—England, France, Germany, Italy. There are few homes in the northern countries—Sweden, Denmark and Norway—where you won't find his records. He's made personal appearances in these countries, too.

When I asked him if he ever played in Russia, he said, "Sorry—can't sing through my nose." Then he added, "You know, Popsy, in that place you can't open your mouth!"

U.S. Pocketing $440,000 in Norwayne Home Sale

DETROIT (AP)—Uncle Sam reports he is pocketing a profit of roughly $440,000 in winding up the sale of Norwayne, a war-borne, government-built community of 2,000 in suburban Detroit.

Deeds for the last of 1,900 homes put up for sale last March are to be delivered to buyers Monday.

A commercial district housing 10 businesses still is to be disposed of. Bids are being accepted by the public housing administration until Nov. 15.

For practical purposes the government gave up control of the community Oct. 16, when it turned over to officials of suburban Nankin Township the Administration Building, fire fighting equipment and water system.

The Public Housing Administration estimated the commmunity had cost the government $12,395,000, including the water system and sewers, when completed in 1943. Rentals topped operating expenses by $3,650,000.

Operating profit plus a total of $9,185,000 being received from home sales and expected from the commercial center sale, would make a total of $13,835,009, or a profit of $440,000.

Hugo C. Schwartz, assistant director of the PHA's Chicago office, said 65 per cent of the Norwayne dwellings were sold to people who were renting them when the sale began in March and that 80 per cent of the buyers were veterans.

Norwayne, built to house workers imported for defense industries, contains 674 single family cottages, 417 twin-unit homes and 98 four-family buildings, plus a commercial center.

Besides Norwayne tenants, purchasers included families from Romulus, Garden City, Wayne, Ypsilanti and Detroit.

Prices per unit averaged $4,834, with family type dwellings bringing an average of $5,200. Down payments averaged $500 and monthly payments range from $44 to $53 per unit, compared with a rental range of $40 to $53 under government ownership.

PHA reported that new owners of twin and four-unit buildings were charging $60 to $75 per month rent, with some furnished units bringing $100. It said a new private subdivision adjacent to the project was charging $85 for two-bedroom units.

Swift Evacuation Tactics Mulled at CD Meeting

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP)—With the moan of air raid sirens as background, 300 delegates today mulled over the immensely complex business of civil defense in an atomic age.

Emphasis at the third annual conference of the United States Civil Defense Council was on the developing art of swiftly evacuating a city threatened by atomic attack.

Systems set up to give advance warning of any approaching enemy bombers were outlined yesterday by Air Force Maj. Gen. J. V. Crabb, commander Central Air Defense, headquartered at Grandview Mo.

Gen. Crabb told the crowd that "sky watch" posts that will need at least 100,000 volunteer workers are planned for the nation's southwest underbelly.

The Gulf states, and their neighbors, lie across a potential bomber route heretofore relatively unguarded. Similar networks have long been maintained around the nation's northern perimeter—the side closest to Russia.

Simonson also announced that boot training, which recruits from Pontiac would take at Great Lakes, Ill., has been reduced from 12 to 9 weeks. There is no waiting list for enlistees, Simonson added.

CHICAGO (AP)—Traffic deaths in the United States, for the ninth straight month, showed a decrease in September, says the National Safety Council.

"Not since the early years of World War II when gasoline rationing went into effect, has there been an unbroken string of reductions for the first nine months of any year," the Council said yesterday in reporting 25,710 traffic deaths for the first nine months of 1954. This was a reduction of 6 per cent from the corresponding period of 1953.

AF May Test Missiles on 5,000-Mile Range

WASHINGTON (INS) — The Air Force was reported yesterday readying a 5,000-mile testing range extending from Florida to British-held Ascension Island in the South Atlantic to test the nation's first intercontinental guided missiles.

Observation bases reportedly are being manned in the Dominican Republic, at Mayaguez in Puerto Rico, on Santa Lucia Island beyond Puerto Rico, and on Ascension Island.

The Air Force declined to discuss the extension of the range beyond the 1,000-mile path which has been in use for years.

Clerical Error Costs Prisoner 9 Extra Years

CINCINNATI (AP)—An inmate at the Ohio Penitentiary in Columbus claimed today he's spent too much time in prison because of a clerical mistake. And prison officials think he may be right.

John D. Ingram, 55, convicted by a Hamilton County jury July 17, 1930, of a robbery which netted him 80 cents, wrote his troubles to the court clerk here.

"There appears to be some confusion and technical misunderstanding as to just what kind of sentence I got—definite or indefinite," he wrote.

As he remembers the trial, the judge sentenced him to 15 years.

"I became a victim of circumstances because the clerk at the penitentiary made an unfortunate mistake and made it 15 to 25 years."

Court officials said Ingram was right—he was sent up for a 15 year term.

They plan to look into his record today, but they wonder why it took him more than nine years to figure he had overstayed his term.

U.S. Sweet Tooth Causes Big Ache

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Americans consume 100 pounds of sugar per person a year and that giant sweet tooth "causes a sour tooth of equally gigantic proportions," a dental expert said yesterday.

"The sour acids of tooth decay affect 95 per cent of our population," said Dr. Paul E. Boyle, professor of oral histology and pathology at the University of Pennsylvania School of Dentistry.

Boyle, speaking at the 37th annual meeting of the American Dietetic Assn., said sweets cause most tooth decay.

"Studies have shown that nutritional deficiencies do not cause cavities," he said. "They affect teeth only while the teeth are still being formed."

He said experiments have shown that fluorine in tiny amounts during the period of tooth formation reduces the occurance of cavities by at least 50 per cent.

League of Women Voters Explained for Zonta Club

Elizabeth Halsey Guest at Thursday's Meeting

Elizabeth Halsey, president of the Pontiac League of Women Voters, outlined the history of this national organization for members of Pontiac Zonta club Thursday noon at Hotel Waldron.

RENEE FERGUSON

Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Ferguson of Premont street are announcing the forth-coming marriage of their daughter, Renee, to John Bates, son of the Burl Otts of Tucson, Ariz. The ceremony will take place Jan. 29 at St. Benedict Church. Renee is a graduate of Cleary College and John attended Michigan State College.

"The League never supports or opposes any political party or candidate for election, but does take a stand on issues after careful study without regard to any party," said the speaker.

The League, which has organized groups in every State in the Union, Hawaii and Alaska, was established to inform women through study groups on vital issues prior to elections and to encourage citizen participation in government.

The Michigan League also obtains data by personal interview by League members with candidates whose names will appear on ballots in all Districts of Michigan. It has authorized committees to make a study of Michigan government and proposed legislation in the field of individual liberties.

Miss Halsey explained why the League opposed certain propositions appearing on the ballots in the coming election as a guide to help the voter make up her own mind and use her hard won vote intelligently.

Mrs. A. C. Ish, extended an invitation received from the Detroit Zonta club for their annual birthday dinner November 6. The club has reserved a block of seats for the High Fever Follies sponsored by the Womens Auxiliary of General Hospital for the evening of November 11, and will attend in a body.

Hawthorne PTA Hears Nutritionist

Miss Surola Talks at Luncheon Feting Teachers, Officers

Talmee Surola, expert on health foods, told how to put nutrition into practice in our everyday life when she spoke Thursday at Hawthorne School.

Her talk was the highlight of a luncheon which honored the teaching staff and executive board members and homeroom mothers of Hawthorne School PTA.

The speaker said that in perfecting the process of preservation, many of the basic food elements are destroyed. A further reason for poor nutrition, she continued, is the lack of time for preparation.

Sugar and refined flour foods were classified by the speaker as "corruption" foods. Breakfast and lunch consists mainly of this type of food and dinner alone cannot possibly make up for all the nutritional requirements for the day.

Miss Surola is of the opinion that nutrition must start in the home. The average mother's answer to this problem lies in serving whole wheat foods, two vegetables and two fruits every day.

Further, there must be an increase in protein consumption. The speaker pointed out that soybean flour is an inexpensive way of adding protein to the diet.

Many children have developed symptoms of calcium deficiency, according to Miss Surola, because they have substituted sugar for the correct energy-building elements.

Couple Married in Detroit Rite

Roland Frank Thompson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Thompson of Fenmore avenue, claimed Beverly Ann Kenburg, daughter of Mrs. William A. Kenburg of Detroit, as his bride in a ceremony performed Saturday at St. Gerard Church of Detroit.

For Child Culture Club

Ken Sandersons Speak on Scouting

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Sanderson spoke on "Scouting strengthens the family foundation" at the Thursday evening meeting of Child Culture Club.

The Auburn Heights home of Mrs. Robert Benedict, club president, was the setting for the meeting.

Mr. Sanderson has been in Scouting for 30 years and he and his son are both Eagle Scouts. He is now Disfrict Chairman for the Ottawa Group.

Mrs. Sanderson has been a Den Mother and is now a Girl Scout Leader. Mrs. Sanderson spoke on "What Girl Scouting Is," She said that girls are guided by their Promise and Laws for fun and companionship where there is no boundary as to Race, Creed or nationality.

"The Girl Scouts and Boy Scouts are both partially supported by the United Fund. Girls find that Scouting is fun as the troops are mainly run by the girls themselves, who choose their activities — selecting outdoors crafts, home-making, etc.

"Parents can help by lending homes for meetings, providing transportation, providing craft materials, sharing hobbies," the speaker pointed out.

Mr. Sanderson said that the Boy Scouts have enlarged their scope in the last few years to include Senior and Explorer groups. Principals include the Oath and Laws and the real purpose of scouting. Teaching the boys the finer things of life—sharing, working with others by practicing in Scouting the way to become good citizens in the world of tomorrow. Leaders of course must be men of excellent character.

Cub scouts, one of the newest parts of scouting for boys 8 to 11, is centered in the home, parents approve all things cub scouts do for their advancement. By working closely with their boys, family relations are more closely cemented.

Cubs advance to Boy Scouts at 11 and the "Out of Doors" and "The Gang" are emphasized at this phase. A Scout Master is in charge at their group meetings. The Court of Honor is the highlight which rewards their activities.

Twenty one Merit Badges are awarded to boys who reach the highest rating in scouting, that of Eagle Scout. These boys who reach the peak usually do so because of the continued interest on the part of their parents.

Explorer Scouts are a new phase of scouting and are boys of 14. They learn from doing and as the name implies—Exploring chosen fields such as aircraft, woods and waters and social activities.

The Sandersons concluded with the fact that working and doing and sharing in organized activities does indeed strengthen family foundations.

A question and answer period followed the discussion.

Garlic Fans, Take Note of Spaghetti!

Mrs. McConnell Cooks Up Pungent Sauce for Pasta

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

Today it's Italian Spaghetti as made by Mrs. A. G. McConnell Jr. For garlic lovers it will be a real treat. For garlic-haters (!) you could leave out this pungent ingredient; but Mrs. McConnell says it won't be the same.

Born in Honolulu, Mrs. McConnell grew up there and came to San Diego where she became a singer and dancer. There also she met her husband. Now she has just retired from the business world, she says, to give her full attention to her two daughters and her home. She is one of the leaders of the St. Benedict's school Brownie troop.

ITALIAN SPAGHETTI SAUCE
By Mrs. A. G. McConnell Jr.

1½ pounds ground beef
2 medium green peppers
3 large onions
3 cloves garlic
2 cans tomato paste
2 cans water
¼ cup sugar
1 rounded tablespoon chili powder
4 tablespoons butter or margarine

Put ground beef into hot skillet and mash down with a potato masher into very fine pieces. Grind up the peppers, onions and garlic. Add to the meat and cook slowly until the vegetables are tender. Season to taste. Add the tomato paste and the two paste cans full of water. Add sugar and chili powder. Cook over a low fire for 3-4 hours, the longer the better. Just before serving add the butter or margarine.

This always tastes better the second day, Mrs. McConnell states. If you make it a day ahead of time, omit the butter until serving time. Makes 5-6 servings.

Everyone needs some extra large bath towels to wear when answering the phone.

The canal lock at Ymuiden, Holland, is the largest in the world, it is believed. It is 1,312 feet in length and has a width of 164 feet.

It breathes the spirit of a French city—this new shower curtain. Airy artwork captures the fragrant flower market, sidewalk cafes, bubbling fountains and many other scenes.

Old Witches Had a Real Good Time

By MARY MARGARET McBRIDE

Haloween seems as good a time as any to bring up the fact that I know a woman who has made a living out of being descended from a witch. She writes books about witches and takes a good deal of pride in her unusual ancestor. On the other hand, a man I heard about the other day, also descended from a witch, has spent years and many dollars trying to prove that she wasn't one.

It's too bad his warlock great-great grandmother didn't live in the long-ago time when were perfectly respectable and witchcraft meant "the art of the wise." She came along after Middle Ages when people had begun to league witches with the devil and endow them with malign powers.

But as late as 1910 right in this country, a woman was arrested, fined and sent to jail because she'd been caught in a neighbor's barn trying to cast an evil spell on his cows.

One of the most famous American stories concerns the Bell Witch who followed the Bell family from North Carolina to Tennessee and then to Mississippi. The Bells moved often just to get away from their invisible harasser who used to stir up arguments by speaking from the grandfather clock or the andiron in the fireplace.

Sometimes she would slip into the kitchen and drink up all the sweet milk and now and then she'd tumble the children out of bed in the middle of the night. She disappeared when Mary, one of the daughters, died. Some said they saw that day a great black bird swooping across the sky with a tolling bell around its neck.

Staten Island, New York, had an active witch that used to ride a stolen horse along the beaches on dark nights, scarlet heels flashing, a cat and goat (her familiars) following behind. This midnight gallop usually presaged a shipwreck.

The witch contingent stole so many nags on the island that farmers braided corn husks into their steeds' manes and tails. No evil-intentioned witch, the rumor ran, would ever ride a horse bedecked in this way. Though you could never be sure what they'd do.

In one Pennsylvania town, for instance, it was believed that no witch would step over a new broom, so the neighbors bought one and hid it under the doorstep of a woman they suspected of witchcraft. To their discomfiture, the old lady came gaily out of her house, found the broom and placidly swept her front porch with it.

I had a letter once from a woman in Illinois whose mother had planted a witches' garden as a hobby. The rail fence enclosing it was built like a star (important cabalistic sign in witchcraft). The flower beds were laid out in mystical triangles and circles. The stepping stones of the walk were kidney-shaped because of some tie-up with ancient medical lore.

All the magic plants were there — mandrake, andromeda. The trees growing in the strange garden were those associated with the earliest witches — knotted maple, braided ash and pear. Witches were supposed to turn ripe pears as they fell into tailless mice.

Golf Widow Wants Time to Herself

Should Go Ahead With Chores in Spite of Visitor

By EMILY POST

Dear Mrs. Post: "How can one tactfully tell an acquaintance that she is calling too frequently? My husband's hobby is golf. We have a very beautiful course near our house and my husband spends a god deal of his free time there.

It is his only means of recreation. He plays with a young man from his office who lives in a nearby city. Because of their mutual interest in golf they are very congenial and like playing together. However, every time the young man drives over for a game, his wife comes along and stays with me while they play.

This woman and I have nothing in common, and while I do like her a little of her goes a long way. Furthermore, I could use the time my husband is out to good advantage by catching up on my household chores. I do not wish to hurt her but I am bored to tears. Can you advise me?

My only advice is to continue with your household chores and say, "Excuse me I have to iron, or clean this room today," or whatever it is. If she doesn't enjoy watching you she won't come back so often; and if she doesn't mind, you'll get your work done.

Dear Mrs. Post: When I visited a relative lately I met one of her neighbors—a man. He spent an hour or so there one evening and and then left. I said good-bye, of course, not the usual "glad to have met you," etc. I thought if anyone said it, he should! In fact, I never did think about either one of us saying it until she reminded me later that I hadn't been very polite not to say something nice about his coming.

I agree with you.

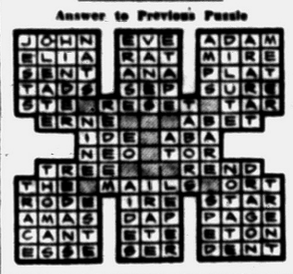
Dear Mrs. Post: What kind of hat does one wear to an 8 o'clock evening church wedding, when wearing formal evening dress? There will be a large reception at a hotel after the ceremony. Or on this occasion may one properly go into church without a hat?

Trimming of any kind which is intended as a substitute for a hat, would be all right.

Don't Conceal It

When they first begin to develop figures, many young girls are embarrassed and slouch to conceal their femininity. It's a natural habit, but should be eliminated as quickly as possible when a girl is ready to be herself, not a tomboy.

Answer to Previous Puzzle



New York Lures Young Graduates

By ANNE HEYWOOD

"Do you think girls fresh out of college should be allowed to go to New York to get a job?" a harassed mother asks.

"We live in a good-sized Midwestern city which offers plenty of job opportunties, but my Kate insists that there's nothing here in the field she wants, and she must go to New York. She graduated from college last June, and came home for the summer, while she studied shorthand and typing.

"Now she is champing at the bit, because she wants to get a job in a book publishing house I'm sure she could get a job here. But she says all the companies that interest her are in New York.

"What do you think? Isn't it a very hard life for a young girl, in a strange city so far from home and friends?"

It seems to me you'd be better off to let your daughter try it.

In the first place, if she honestly does want publishing, New York is the main headquarters of the industry. In the second place, she will never be satisified till she does try, and if you keep her from trying, she may never forgive you.

And in the third place, the chances are very good that she'll not like it nearly as much as she thinks, and may come back home before too long.

But attach certain conditions to it. Make her be prepared to live on her earnings, without help from home. If she has her secretarial skills, she can earn a living wage, but she'll live in a very simple and unglamorous way, and practice economies she probably never dreamed of.

See to it that she has some kind of guidance in New York. If you have friends or relatives, have her look them up for help in finding a decent furnished room or an apartment to share with other girls. Ask your minister to refer her to a minister in New York, so she can attend church, make new friends that are her type, and ward off loneliness and temptations in her new life.

She might also check with the New York YWCA on suitable and inexpensive rooms, and perhaps on a course at night to fill her free time.

If a girl is determined to go to a big city to seek fame and fortune, the wise parent will let her. And remember, our young people are no longer babies, and most of the time they have strengths and initiative beyond what we think.

Aging Folks Often Unveil Hunger Quelled by Life

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

Mrs. F.'s parents have been unhappily married. Her working mother has been "head of the family," her father the dependent. Now that retirement has reduced her mother's income, she has suddenly become a bitter woman.

She complains constantly about the past cruelties of her life. Often, she gets so involved in them that she insults her husband before her grandchildren.

Mrs. F. writes, "The children are beginning to dislike her. How can I stop her?"

What is her mother using these complaints to say to Mrs. F.? I think that she may be saying:

"Please admire me. Admiration is my life. Up to now I've been able to get it by supporting your father. By contrasting his weakness with my strength, I have got people to think, 'My, what a fine woman.'

"But now my reduced income has reduced my supply of admiration. I am starving for it. So I have to come to your house every day to remind you of my past strength by reminding you of the cruelties it survived. I am reduced to pleading with you for admiration by complaining."

Such a confession of dependence should move her daughter so that she is freed from resentment at its victim.

By knowing that her mother's need is admiration, Mrs. P. should be able to help her see how mistaken is her method of getting it. We are not admired for insulting other people.

Indeed, in this situation, I can well imagine a really understanding daughter saying to her mother, "Until you realize how you are hurting yourself by criticizing Father before the childrein, I can't let you come here. Until you are ready to protect yourself, I am going to protect you."

To be able to say this will require not only understanding of her mother's tragic dependence, but compassion for it, too.

As our parents age, they often expose to us needs which they have successfully disguised from us all our lives.

The mother whom we have trusted as self-reliant gradually reveals herself as more dependent than the father whom we have taken for granted.

The father whose every word has been tremblingly obeyed shows himself to us as he's always been—helpless without the support of business success and employe's flattery.

It shocks us. We feel cheated and resentful. Then as we come to understand, we put away our childish expectations of the human beings who begot us.

And we do the best we can with the undisciplined hungers of hearts that have grown too tired to pretend any more.

Unauthorized Salt Free Diet Imperils Health

Perhaps the most dangerous of the fad dieters is the woman who nonchalantly puts herself on a salt-free diet without consulting her physician.

As with all diets, a doctor should be consulted first. Unless, of course, it's simply a matter of cutting down on an extra piece of bread or skipping gooey desserts in order to keep one's weight at an even keel.

The woman who places herself on a low-salt diet has overlooked several important facts.

First, she may think that this is a quick diet. But, she soon discovers that the complete absence of sodium in her diet results in not a loss of tissue, but water.

And, of course, this water is quickly replaced because of the immediate increased thirst.

Secondly, it is important that the salt balance of the body not be disturbed.

For instance, a healthy balance among sodium, potassium and calcium is essential to normal heart action.

So, think twice before striking salt from your diet. In doing so, you are risking both your health and your looks. Especially when the salt-free diet results in little or on weight lost.

Group to Take Murder, Sex Out of Comic Books

WASHINGTON (AP)— The administrator of a new cleanup code to take horror and sex out of comic books says publishers who have signed the code "mean business."

Charles F. Murphy, for 10 years a New York City magistrate and a specialist on teenage delinquency announced the new code last night and called on the comics publishing industry to "measure up to its responsibilities."

Industry members including 29 publishers, 26 of whom have signed the code, asked Judge Murphy last month to go to work on the problem. They gave him $100,000 as a starter.

Stevenson Hits Commie Issue

Scolds Ike for GOP's Red Campaign Charges Against Dems

TRENTON, N.J. (AP)—Adlai Stevenson chided President Eisenhower last night for the use of the Communists-in-government issue by Vice President Nixon and other Republicans in the current campaign.

The 1952 Democratic presidential candidate remarked that "a singular thing happened" at Eisenhower's press conference Wednesday in Washington, when the President said he did not know about Republicans' use of the "communism" issue.

"Surely this must be the first time in history that the President, the leader of his political party, doesn't even know, let alone influence, his party's campaign," Stevenson said. "Surely this must be the first time in history that the President and the vice president of the United States aren't on speaking terms."

Speaking before a crowd at the Trenton War Memorial Building, Stevenson said Eisenhower predicted last year that the campaign issue would be the record of the administration rather than Communists in government.

"But what happened?" Stevenson asked.

"In New York, Messrs. (Thomas E.) Dewey and (Irving M.) Ives charged Averell Harriman with larceny and corruption; in Illinois the Republicans are charging a great senator, Paul Douglas, who almost died fighting for his country at Okinawa, with Communist affiliations; in Wyoming and Colorado the Republicans publish ads suggesting that the Democratic candidates are Reds and are serving foreign governments."

The Mechanical Man

Yes, it's a wonderful time to be alive. It's the machine age. But neighbors, we can carry it too far. We cannot be represented at Lansing by a Mechanical Man. We need a human being who can think and will vote and fight for the interests of all the people.

Friends of FRED ELIAS, Democratic Candidate for State Senator, Nov. 2nd, would like to have you compare him with the other candidate for this office. They are certain no clear-thinking man or woman after checking the records of these two men could vote for anyone else but Elias. The record speaks for itself.

After several years at Lansing the other man in this race seems to know less about the needs of his people than before he went down there.

Someday, check the voting record. It is a shame and a disgrace to the great State of Michigan and harmful to Oakland County.

It's time for a new broom to sweep clean.

It's Important We Vote for FRED ELIAS, Democrat, Nov. 2

Rule of Egyptian Premier to Become More Uneasy

By CHARLES M. McCANN
United Press Staff Correspondent

The rule of Premier Gamal Abdel Nasser of Egypt is likely to be increasingly uneasy from now on.

A fued between him and the Moslem brotherhood seems to have reached the stage of open warfare, and the brotherhood conducts its warfare with bullet and bomb.

An attempt by a member of the Brotherhood to assassinate Nasser failed on Tuesday. Supporters of Nasser set fire to the Cairo headquarters of the brotherhood yesterday.

A state of emergency has been proclaimed throughout Egypt and barbed wire barriers have been set up around Nasser's office.

Cairo dispatches suggest that the government may soon start a drastic purge of the brotherhood leadership.

The brotherhood has been purged and outlawed at times during the last six years, but it always has come back and it appears now to be more powerful than ever.

It was first outlawed, in 1948, by Premier Mahmoud Fahmy Nokrashy. Twenty days later the brotherhood assassinated Nokrashy.

The brotherhood is a combined religious and political organization which claims 1,000,000 members out of a total population of 19,000,000. Its chief aims are to uphold the Moslem religion and to rid the country of all foreign influence. It tends strongly to fanaticism.

It draws its strength both from students, always a turbulent element in Egypt, and from the peasantry. It is the first Egyptian political organization which has gone to the peasants, who form nine-tenths of the population, for support.

If it ever got into power, it would rule Egypt according to the strictest precepts of the Moslem religion.

Nasser outlawed the brotherhood last January, accusing it of plotting to overthrow his regime. Hassan El-Hodeiby, the brotherhood's chief, was jailed. But the outlawing did not stick, and Hodeiby was released in March.

Ever since January the brotherhood has been feuding with Nasher. It has accused him of appeasing Israel, of trying to get the Arab states to ally themselves with Western "imperialist" countries, and of selling out to Britain in the Suez Canal evacuation negotiations.

Nasser has been trying to get the more moderate brotherhood leaders to throw out Hodeiby, and there is a feud within the organization itself.

Tension between the brotherhood and the government became serious when the Suez Canal agreement was signed. Tuesday's attempt to assassinate Nasser was made at a big rally celebrating the agreement. The tension seems likely to increase now, and a tense Moslem brotherhood member is a dangerous man.

The case will be tried before Lansing Township Justice George Hutter.

Martin, in charge of the attorney general's branch office in Detroit, was arrested by State Police near East Lansing Sept. 29 and charged with drunk driving.

Volunteers Help VA Patients to Recover

WASHINGTON (UP) — Larry George of the Veterans Administration says that as of now there are three-quarters of a million volunteers working in hospitals, mental and otherwise, around the country. There are now 172 vets hospitals

Some of the volunteers run errands. Others are non-pro nurses. In the mental hospitals they help out with a lot of problems, according to Larry.

"Some of these cases are so pathetic we have to teach them how to eat," he said. "But when these volunteers come in, it does something for this kind of patient. It makes them think that somebody gives a darn whether they survive or not. And whoops up their morale.

"We encourage some of the volunteers, entertainers and the others, to return. If the patient recognizes somebody that has been nice to him — we consider that an improvement."

More than a trillion kilowatthours of electric power will be produced annually in the United States by 1964, experts predict. That's more than double estimated production for this year.

Ground Observers to See Russian Aircraft Pictures

Pictures of Russia's latest model aircraft will be among 1,000 slides shown to Pontiac Ground Observer Corps members at their next four meetings, it was announced today by Raymond E. Best, GOC supervisor.

Ground observers are urged to attend the meetings, which start Tuesday Nov. 2 in the Oakland County Office Building.

Best said the U. S. Air Force wishes to have ground observers take an extensive course in aircraft recognition to enable them to give a more comprehensive report of all aircraft spotted in the Pontiac area, to the Grand Rapids Filter Center.

Dolly Rams Lamp Post as Bubble Gum Bursts

WASHINGTON (UP) — The American Automobile Association has a good one in its latest news review. It's about a pretty young stenographer in Denver named Dolly. She was driving on the highway and suddenly banged into a lamp-post.

They arrested her, but she got off easy. The official court report read: "Driver's vision obscured by bubble gum bursting in face."

Varied YWCA Program Financed by United Fund

Young Women's Christian Association, which is on the threshold of its 100th anniversary here, gains its major financial support from the Pontiac Area United Fund.

What does the YWCA do with its share of the UF contributions? Let's take a look.

The YWCA originated in 1855 as a service to working women from the ages of 18 to 35, and its forerunner here was an interdenominational Sunday School class sponsored by Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Moore. Their legacy provided in part for the present headquarters on Franklin boulevard.

Today thet YWCA serves 1,330 women and girls ranging in age from 2½ to 90 years. Over 100 men and boys also take advantage of its services through canteen and classes.

A varied program is in operation six days a week and open to all women and girls regardless of race, creed or national origin. Emphasis is placed on Christian fellowship, development of democratic leadership and leisure time skills which will carry over into daily living.

The youngest who benefit are the tiny tots who come to Ladies Day Out and are cared for in the nursery so that young homemakers may have a day to relax. Here the mothers can work in the craft shop, learn sewing or knitting, make friends over luncheon or a bridge table or enjoy programs that vary from travel to child care.

Subteens in the 10-to-12-year-old bracket find fun and adventure in human relations during Saturday morning programs of singing, dramatics, cooking, games, trips and hobbies. Through the summer a similar Vacation Fun program keeps the youngsters busy.

Clubs for Y-Teens are active in Pontiac and Waterford senior high schools and in junior high schools. At the co-ed level there is a weekly Teen Canteen for senior high and Teen Inn for junior high boys and girls which provide informal recreation.

Employed women, homemakers, husbands and wives have available to them evening classes in which they may work at metal and painting crafts, sharpen their hands at bridge or re-style old hats.

There are trips for older folks on Saturdays or week nights to places of interest around the state, and a daytime film forum for those who prefer armchair travel.

A room registry is maintained, making rooms available in the community for girls away from home.

Each month there is a special event open to the public. Every program opens the door to participation in new experiences, for membership in the Pontiac YWCA means membership in a national organization and in the World YWCA active in 66 countries.

Few could enjoy these and other advantages provided by the United Fund if they had to be paid for on an individual basis; collectively, through the fund and its many agencies, the YWCA and many other worthwhile programs are available to all.

KALAMAZOO (AP) — Kalamazoo College has set a goal of $85,000 for a fund-raising drive this week. The goal is approximately the same as that of a drive conducted last year. The college said it needs the money to balance the school's operating budget for the current academic year.

Consumers Power Not Separating Gas, Power Divisions at Present

JACKSON (AP)—Consumers Power Co. yesterday reported that a committee appointed to study the feasibility of separaing the firm's gas and electric operations had advised against such action at this time.

The electric division is said to do an annual business of about $110,500,000 and the gas division $50,800,000.

Consumers's Power common stock spurted from a low of 38⅞ to a peak of 49½ after rumors of possible gas and electric separation began about three months ago. It closed yesterday at 46¼.

The company announced that its net profits for September were $1,576,868, up one per cent from the $1,551,570 profit of September 1953.

For the 12 months ended Sept. 30, Consumers said profits were $22,711,448, compared with $20,155,428 for the year ended Sept. 30, 1953. Gross income was $166,133,276, compared with $154,014,677.

Earnings per share on 7,437,798 shares of common stock oustanding last Sept. 30 were $3.04, compared with $2.97 on 6,794,362 shares outstanding Sept. 30, 1953.

Bob Considine Says:

Bailiff Francis Is Barker at Goriest Show of Year

CLEVELAND (INS) The ladies and gents of the Sheppard murder case jury all have taken sightseeing trips before. But they've never been on a tour anything like the one they'll take under the direction of tough, owl-shaped Ed Francis.

Bailiff Francis will cluck them into a fleet of cabs any minute now (as this is written) and take them off to view the stage on which the shocking murder-drama of last July 4 was played.

The curiously shabby home of swanky, sportscar-driving Sam Sheppard in neighboring Bay Village seems to have come right out of Cain's theatrical storehouse. It could have been the scenery before which a dozen forgotten murder plays were committed.

The $31,500 place weeps for a paint job. Its screens are ruptured. There are yellowed newspapers stuffed in gaping wounds in several windows.

The place is a striking contradiction. Dr. Sam, the man, is an impeccable fellow from the tip of his slightly crewed haircut to his shiny black loafers. His charcoal gray single-breasted suit, white button-down shirt and black knit tie would equip him to blend harmoniously into any Ivy League post-grad group.

But weeds sprout from his lawn. The 52 steps that lead down to the gritty little beach behind the house are rotten or splayed. The furniture in the house has been called by Theo Wilson "early nothing." Yet the man's cars include a Lincoln Continental and a flashing Jaguar.

Sam built himself a neat bathhouse on the pebbly little beach but the narrow little strip itself is littered with beer cans, dismembowled inner tubes, rusty chains and the seamy refuse of Lake Erie.

Down the road a bit is a cemetery which features a large tombstone with the name "Hayes" dug into it—the same name as (but no relation to) the pretty lab worker who says she played house with Sam. It is expected to be part of the state's case to suggest that Sam erased his wife with some horridly blunt object out of love of Susan Hayes.

Next door to the cemetery is the substantial home of Sam's erstwhile friend Spencer Houk, the village's mayor and butcher. There is considerable speculation over what Houk is going to say about Sheppard on the stand. They once were very close, but so were the DiMaggios.

One member of the defense staff and a man from the prosecutor's office will accompany the jury during its tour of the Sheppard place. The tour will include such macabre exhibits as the death room, on whose antique four-poster bed Marilyn Sheppard was cruelly done in. The murder knout, still unrecovered, became so saturated with blood as blow followed blow that the walls and ceiling were sprayed as if by a hose.

But no juror will be permitted to ask a question of either defense or prosecution during the tour. Everyting will be funneled through Bailiff Francis, barker on the year's goriest sightsee.

Long Time Coming

LONDON (INS)—Over 40 years ago a boy stole a bar of chocolate from a shop in Derby Street. He was caught by the shopkeeper and spanked. Now aged 56, the culprit recently walked into the shop and repaid the six-penny debt. "It has been on my conscience," he explained.

Acres of Tile Needed in New York Subways

NEW YORK (INS) — the underground arteries of New York are lined with enough clay tile to surface 77,125 average-size bathrooms. Latest addition to this glistening acreage is the 440,000 square feet of tile which will line the $100,000,000 new third tube of the Lincoln Tunnel, which is slated for completion in three years.

This new link in the city's transportation system raises the total surface of tile in New York's underground arteries to 9,240,000 square feet.

Yellowstone national park contains more geysers than all the rest of the world combined. The park was established by law in 1872.

All High Schools Anticipate Big Games; Halloween Parties for PHS, Fred's

Football, dances and assorted activities keep the high school correspondents on the jump, with more happening every week in their full social and scholastic schedules.

Pontiac High

The biggest news from Pontiac High this week is the football game tonight between PHS and Royal Oak. The band is planning a half-time program with a Latin-American theme.

The program will start with "Hernando's Hideaway," and the band will form a door with a moving peephole. Lights on the players' hats will be used as the stadium lights are turned out. A congo drum will be formed and "Beguine for Band" will be played, then eight Latin American instruments will be formed.

A big locomotive cheer for Pontiac High will be given with the lights used by the band. Royal Oak will be given a salute and Pontiac's fight song will be played.

VICKY

For the game, the Booster Club first card section will form the letter "P" with orange and black cards. A pep assembly for the game was held in the gym this afternoon. The Booster Club presented a skit.

Thursday and Friday rings and pins were ordered by upperclassmen. Seniors were busy this week ordering pictures. Students are also buying tickets for the fall vocal clinic to be held Nov. 8.

Social studies classes are preparing for the mock election the high school will hold next Tuesday. Students will vote for state and county officials, U. S. Senators and Representatives and the four proposals.

Wednesday evening PHS'ers invaded the girls gym for the first session of the fencing classes offered by the Parks and Recreation Department. Juniors are making plans for the forthcoming J-hop, while all students dug deep this week for the United Fund.

The Quill and Scroll society met recently and elected these officers: Beverly Barkely president; Mary Mapely, vice president; Sharon Hubbel, secretary, and John J. Moreau, treasurer.

Retailing Club is holding its annual Halloween party Saturday evening. A hayride followed by a scavenger hunt and refreshments at the home of the president, Don Lovett, is planned. Chairman for the affair is Eleanor Wood. Grace McLaughlin is club advisor.

St. Michael

Tension mounts on the north side this week, as Shamrocks plan to honor fathers of athletes at the Dad's Day program Sunday. Festivities will begin Saturday at Wisner Stadium with posting of the colors for the homecoming game against St. Benedict Sunday. Sunday the players and their fathers will attend the 8:30 Mass and receive Communion in a body. The game is scheduled for 3 p.m. and halftime ceremonies will honor the fathers.

Football spirit hit hard at the haven of the Shamrocks this week as the Athletic Assn. announced the contest for posters advertising the St. Mike's-St. Fred's game Nov. 5.

Special awards for first and second place winners will be presented at the pep rally next Thursday by Coach Robert Mineweaser and Marcee Hill, chairman of the event.

Michaelites have captured the coveted Steve Griffin Memorial trophy for four consecutive years and say they have no intention of losing it this year. Shamrock cheerleaders are practicing several new cheers composed for the annual event.

MARCEE

Scholastic events also were highlighted on the St. Michael calendar this week, as these officers for the CSMC were elected: Mart Keller, president; Miriam Harrington, vice president, Pat Martin, secretary, and Alex Kroeplin, treasurer. Their first meeting featured a round table discussion on last summer's Notre Dame meet and a barbershop quartet. Lauretta Lauinger was emcee.

Michaelite Student Council Officers Joan Dark, Fred West, Honor Duross and John O'Dea traveled to the University of Michigan Tuesday for the state-wide meeting of student councils.

Frances Hayes, Honor Duross, Colleen McEnery and Marcee Hill plan to attend the National Council of Teachers of English at the Hotel Tuller Nov. 26.

Sodality is sponsoring a Know Your Saints contest this week. All high school students are participating in the event.

Fads are taking hold on Michaelites this week, and a large percentage of the senior girls showed up Wednesday sporting the latest thing — knee socks in an array of colors. A senior boy was heard to comment, "Well, they're different, anyway."

Sewing class displayed newly-stitched aprons this week, and economics students were busy penciling charts and graphs for their project.

Students and faculty of St. Michael's were bereaved at the death of Alumnus Conrad Sutherland this week. He was fatally injured in a jet plane crash. Seniors and freshmen attended the funeral Tuesday at St. Michael's.

St. Frederick

Moth balls were thrown away and uniforms put out to air this week as the announcement was made that girls would begin basketball practice next week.

In religion this week the subject was marriage. During the discussion the question, "What is a bigamist?" was asked. "It is a person who makes the same mistake twice," came the answer.

Keeping in the Halloween mood, St. Fred's Teen Club will attend a mystery dance tonight. A chartered bus leaving at 7:30 will take members to a place where a dance and refreshments have been arranged.

MARLENE

Seniors were standing tall as gown measurements were taken Wednesday. Step ladders were used to measure the tall 6'1" boys, Jerry Bradley and Larry Decker, while stooping was necessary for the shorties, Nenfa Paramo and Pat Goodsell.

The talk of the school again this week was the game to be played Nov. 5 when St. Fred's meet St. Mike's. One of the girls was heard asking a senior football player, "Can't you guys work a little harder and put some color in the game?"

"What color would you suggest?" he asked.

"Oh, black and blue would do."

The big event highlighting school activities this week was the pep rally given by the cheerleaders. A court scene was the setting for the skit, which included all the cheers for Sunday's game. Marlene Green, playing the judge, heard the case of St. Mary's, represented by Mary Beirie, versus St. Fred's, portrayed by Carolyn Robichaud.

The policeman who brought the case to the attention of the court was Kathleen Kinch. On the jury were the remaining cheerleaders, Gail Dean, Kathern Smith, Jean McHugh, Betty Bader, Monica Maloney, Sharon Donley, Pat Nickelson and Nancy Campbell.

Students were holding their breath this week as green slips began to flutter through the air. These mean "F's" will appear on report cards unless back work is made up within the next two weeks before cards are issued. The green slips also warrant a meeting of parents and teachers.

Art Lover-Playwright Chides Rich Collectors

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—You may be an art-lover in Texas, or Ohio, or California, or Massachusetts, or Florida—so don't take this too seriously.

Harry Kurnitz, the Broadway playwright, is an art-lover, too. But he hates "art-lovers." The kind you put in quotes.

★ ★ ★ ★

He owns a Picasso . . . a remarkable Picasso. This Picasso has a message that even Picasso didn't get.

When timid friends ask Harry what its subject might be, Harry eruditely replies:

"I've always felt it was Picasso's dental X-rays blown up."

★ ★ ★ ★

"And about Grandma Moses!" Harry roared at me. "Does she paint those pictures or bake them in the oven? What's her par score? She must knock off about 10 a day."

★ ★ ★ ★

I've just recovered from an art-appreciation walk with Kurnitz, whose new comedy, "Reclining Figure," spoofs Texas, California and Philadelphia art collectors.

As we lolled over $7,000 worth of Utrillo in a 57th St. gallery, a striped-pantsed hombre said, "That's an EARLY Utrillo."

"Like hell," chuckled Kurnitz later. to put a date on, they say is 'early' and it costs more."

★ ★ ★ ★

Harry believes in art for Harry's sake. An ex-Philly copyreader, he bought his first picture on installments. He ridicules rich collectors who ask an art expert the price of "Oh . . . about 14 paintings."

"Ummmmm, the way things are, about two million," says the expert.

"Then the rich man goes round every day appreciating the signatures—not the paintings—just the signatures," contends Kurnitz.

Kurnitz got this way because a Philly tycoon had 200 Renoirs and 200 Cezannes—all locked up.

"James Michener got in once by posing as an illiterate Pittsburgh steel worker," he said. "Most people couldn't get a peek."

★ ★ ★ ★

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

Joe DiMaggio's being sounded out about managing the new Philadelphia A's—and hasn't said no!

★ ★ ★ ★

Rita and Dick plan to make films with Ingrid and Rossellini in Italy—and have a new scheme (via the courts) to get there.

THELMA TADLOCK

Robert Merrill performed for free when he sang for the Queen Mother at the Canadian Club at the Waldorf. And his bride was not invited. Only ladies-in-waiting. (So she waited in the car).

★ ★ ★ ★

Actress Julie Harris' new husband, Manning Gurian, won her in a secret back-stage romance. They married in London—but it started at the Empire here when he was company mgr. of her "I Am a Camera"—and blossomed when he sacrificed better jobs to manage her show on tour.

Jackie Gleason isn't worried about weight—he figures he'll melt it off doing five-a-day at the Paramount . . . Dancer Thelma Tadlock looks pretty spectacular on NBC-TV's color spectaculars.

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: Canned and frozen fruit juices may be popular, but, insists H. C. Diefenbach, men still like to squeeze their own tomatoes.

"THE DIFFERENCE BETWEEN GAL DRIVERS AND golfers," thinks Rob't Q. Lewis, "is the golfers never hit anything while the drivers hit everything." That's earl, brother.

Yul Brynner Says Women May Even Like Bald Men

HOLLYWOD (UP)—The shiny-pated gentlemen down front have found a champion in Yul Brynner, an actor who thinks that male baldness may even be attractive to women.

Brynner, whose head is as smooth as the proverbial billiard ball—although this is not entirely due to natural loss of hair—has spent the best years of his life with his head shaved because of roles he has been assigned. It's doubtful that hair will be permitted to grow on his head until the spring of 1956. Actually, he has some natural baldness anyway.

The actor undertook a bald role in 1950 when he started playing the king in "The King and I" on Broadway. He's still under contract to the touring production, but took time out this year to play Rameses II, a shorn character, in "The Ten Commandments" a movie Cecil B. DeMille is making.

Brynner said his necessary scalp condition has resulted in strange requests from women.

"They ask if they can run their hands over my head," he said. "They seem fascinated, although the strangeness of a smooth scalp makes some of them—well, jump back—in something like alarm."

The actor's success certainly should assure bald citizens that a lack of hair doesn't necessarily mean that social or professional failure is imminent.

Brynner's head is shaved in the Paramount VistaVision production because monarchs in Moses' time shaved their heads.

Brynner's father was Manchurian and his mother a Romany gypsy. He was born 38 years ago on Sakhalin, a northern Japanese island, lived in Peiping and went to school in France. He went through periods of being an acrobat and a nightclub entertainer and received a bachelor's degree from the Sorbonne after joining a Paris repertory group.

He came to the United States in 1941 to play a role in a touring company of "Twelfth Night" and spent the war years with the Office of War Information, where he could utilize the nine languages he speaks.

Chaplin Junior Says Marriage Still Possible

By DOROTHY MANNERS

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — Charles Chaplin Jr. and Susan Cook, who officially broke their engagement 10 days ago, talked on the telephone last night and things aren't as iced romantically as was first thought.

"Just say things are undecided between us," said Chaplin, "it could still go either way." There's nothing undecided about the way he still feels about her. Just crazy for the gal.

He is, however, huffing and puffing with indignation because he feels that he and his brother Sidney are being unjustly accused of having made a picture in Germany, "Columbus Discovers Krahwinkel" which is unfriendly to the U.S.A.

"Just because people do not like our father does not give them the right to smear me and my brother with untruths about our movie. If proof of my patriotism is needed I offer my record of three-and-a-half years in the Army, much of this time spent in the front lines in Europe."

Your favorite Hollywood reporter and my favorite boss, Louella Parsons, is taking a few days off (very much against her will I might add) to get rid of a bad cold in the Cedars of Lebanon Hospital.

Ty Power's property settlement on Linda Christian may run as high as $200,000 or more with alimony and child support for their two little girls tacked on.

Even so, Tyrone has instructed his lawyer to start the money huddles with Linda. And get the thing over with as soon as possible. He wants out fast even if it costs an "ouch."

Hollywood in shorts: Gordon MacRae will sing "Ava Maria" at the wedding of his pal Vic Damone and Pier Angeli on Nov. 24.

Those two nice people, Dorothy and Andy Devine celebrate their 21st happy anniversary today in Miami. The newlyweds, Guy Madison and Sheila Connolly, will help them celebrate despite the questions the Texas authorities are asking about the legality of the Madison marriage.

The few people — and I mean few, who have seen the script of George Stevens' "Giant," which he is making with Henry Ginsberg for Warners, have one word for it — sensational!

Rosalind Russell and Freddie Brisson will attend the reception for Prince Axel of Denmark and the prime ministers of Denmark, Norway and Sweden, when these dignitaries fly here on the maiden flight over the pole from Sweden. The official doings will be at the Statler Hotel the night of Nov. 17.

When carefree elephants are feeding in the forest the noise of breaking branches and trees crashing is ear-splitting. But in case of danger, the whole heard can slip quietly from the area without snapping a twig.

Next-to-final weekend of Suburban Catholic League competition finds both Pontiac parochials playing at home.

St. Frederick, still winless after six starts, plays host to Orchard Lake St. Mary Saturday night at Wisner Stadium. Game is set for 8 p.m.

St. Michael, mathematically eliminated from the championship race last week, will seek to keep alive its hopes for a 2nd-place finish against St. Benedict Sunday. Shamrocks' game is set for 2 p.m., also at Wisner Stadium.

Other league games Sunday send St. Rita to Royal Oak St. Mary and St. James to St. Clement of Center Line.

"Marked man" in Saturday's Freds-Eaglets contest will be Ram end Dick Doyon, who last Sunday took over 1st place in the SCL individual scoring chase. Doyon has scored 40 of his team's 52 points. Trailing him is Dick Daldine of St. Clement with 37.

St. Michael scored only a safety in losing 7-2 to St. Rita last week, but remained atop the circuit scoring column with an 18.2-point average. St. Clement, with 17.3, is 2nd.

Lions Seek to Regain Prestige

Rams' Towler, Quinlan Both Ready to Start in Sunday Tilt

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Place kicking and pass defense—two weaknesses—occupied the Los Angeles Rams as they wound up hard drills today for their important National League football game with the Champion Detroit Lions here Sunday.

In nearby Pasadena, coach Buddy Parker also put the finishing touches in his preparations, determined to make it two in a row this season over the Rams and regain prestige dropped in losing to the San Francisco 49ers last Sunday.

Coach Hampton Pool of the Rams said both fullback Dan Towler and halfback Skeet Quinlan will start. Towler has a trick knee that went out of kilter earlier this week and Quinlan still favors a leg injury.

Sixty-five thousand fans are expected to see the game.

MSC Gets '55 Plates Bearing School Colors

EAST LANSING (AP) — Deputy Secretary of State Ralph T. Wills yesterday presented to Michigan State College three special issues of the 1955 auto license plates which are colored green and white in commemoration of the college's 100th anniversary next year.

One plate said "MS 1855." Another read "MS 1955" and a third "MS 100th."

Wills said more than 3,500,000 autos wearing MSC's colors would be a tribute from the citizens of Michigan to that institution.

Marquette Aims for 6th in Row

But Titan Boss Hopes for Rain in Tonight's Contest at U of D

DETROIT (AP)—Marquette university will be trying for its 6th straight victory over the University of Detroit when it meets the Titans here tonight in Detroit's last home stand of the season.

Marquette and Villanova share the distinction of being the only teams to beat Detroit five straight.

Titans snapped the Villanova streak with a 20-0 shutout victory two weeks ago and then went on to humble Tulsa 28-12 last week after dropping its 1st three opening games.

Marquette has been something of a disappointment this season. They built up a 6-3-1 record last season, including a 19-0 victory over Detroit.

But with almost the same squad they've won only one of their five starts this season.

After seeing rain hamper his Titans in early games, coach Wally Fromhart is in the new position of almost wishing for rain tonight.

"It might hurt them more than us," he said.

Traditional Rivalries Spice County Prep Grid Action

For prep football teams whose chances for championship honors have fled, traditional rivalries remain to keep player and fan interest up.

Such a contest is today's meeting of Walled Lake and Farmington on the latter's field. Tom Evans' Vikings won 3 of its first 4 games, but successive losses to Berkley and Southfield have knocked them out of the Inter-Lakes title chase.

Farmington never was a title factor and is in the throes of a 13-game losing streak. Following an opening-game tie with Clarenceville in 1953, the Falcons dropped 7 games. Six more defeats have been heaped on this fall. Farmington, a long-standing foe of Walled Lake, would the losing streak at the Vikings' expense.

Evans' club is looking ahead with underclassmen filling many spots. Probably the outstanding performer is junior Dick Woodworth, a fine halfback and safety man. Regular quarterback is John Walker, 6-foot, 180 pounds and only a sophomore.

Mixed among such veterans as John Reid, Chuck Scheib, Dick Dewling and Capt. Ed Westergard, they give the Lakers a well-balanced, if not overpowering outfit.

Other long-time rivals renewing series today are Romeo and Rochester, Milford and Keego Harbor and Clarkston and Oxford. The latter game has added significance since Oxford is working on a 6-0 record.

Keego is fresh from a week's rest to defend its Wayne-Oakland lead against Milford. The Redskins have been hot and cold, but went hot in last week's 25-0 win over Brighton. Brighton 2 weeks ago held Keego to a 13-13 tie.

Rochester and Romeo, who play in Rochester, each have lost 2 games. Their only common foe is Lapeer. Romeo and Lapeer played a 0-0 tie, while Rochester whipped the Panthers, 12-0.

Five county games are this afternoon. In addition to Walled Lake at Farmington, the schedule includes Fitzgerald at Avondale, Van Dyke at Southfield, Mayville at Ortonville, and Harper-Woods at Bloomfield Hills.

Waterford is at Berkley tonight and Birmingham goes to Port Huron, besides the after-dark tilts at Oxford, Keego and Rochester.

Chief Harriers Defend Crown

PHS Cross Country Squad at Birmingham for Regional

Pontiac High's cross country team goes to Birmingham tomorrow to defend its 1953 regional title against 10 metropolitan-area Class A opponents.

Coach Wally Schloerke's Saginaw Valley Conference champions will run against Hamtramck, Hazel Park, Highland Park, Mt. Clemens, Waterford, Port Huron, Southfield, Royal Oak, Detroit Catholic Central and host team Birmingham.

Top four teams, plus any individuals among the 1st 15 finishers, will qualify for next Saturday's state meet.

A Class B run is scheduled for 11 a.m. at the 2-mile Birmingham High course, with the "A" meet following immediately. "B" field includes Avondale, Troy, Cass City, Crosswell, Farmington, Milford, St. Clair, Van Dyke, Walled Lake, Clarenceville and Redford Union.

Pontiac's team will be comprised of Bill Douglas, Perry Williams, Norris Jackson, Eugene Cretal, Rod Treais, Fred Cox and Don Evans.

Martinez and Fiore in TV Bout Tonight

NEW YORK (AP)—Vince Martinez, a glamor boy from Paterson, N. J., with box-office and bobby-sox appeal, picks up his career tonight after a four-month lapse.

The handsome young welter boxes Carmine Fiore over the 10-round route at Madison Square Garden in a rematch of their Jan. 30, 1953 bout. It will be carried on radio and TV (NBC at 10 p.m. (EST).

Aga Khan Will Sell Fabulous Racing Stable

NEW YORK (AP)—An event which is expected to profoundly affect the future of horse racing in this country is scheduled to take place Monday night at Keeneland, when 20 of the finest brood mares from the fabulous stable of the Aga Khan, all but one of them in foal, will be sold at auction to American bidders.

The 77-year-old religious leader, grown old and ailing, is making a start toward reducing his vast racing establishment, which is considered to be the world's greatest, and this is his first big shot in that direction.

Holmes Named Team

ayne's nickname "the Tartars" was selected after a campus wide election in the early twenties. The name was suggested by David I. holmes who saw a newspaper account of a Wayne cage battle in which the squad was referred to as "playing like a bunch of Tartars."

Pontiac High's football Chiefs, faced with the prospects of one of the most disastrous seasons in recent years, will try to regain their early-season form tonight against Royal Oak.

Once-beaten Acorns come here for a non-conference intra-county contest that will match two of the area's largest class A high schools.

Royal Oak brings into the game an impressive record of only two losses in its last 19 starts. Acorns' only setback this season was a 7-0 defeat by Grosse Pointe.

Only Wyandotte, beaten 27-12, has scored more than once against the stubborn Royal Oak defense.

Pontiac has yielded a total of 16 touchdowns while losing four of its six starts. Chiefs have scored 15 touchdowns themselves, with co-captain Walt Poe and sophomore Freeman Watkins leading the parade with four apiece.

Poe leads the team in total yardage. The 172-pound senior halfback has run for 302 yards in 59 tries, picked up 216 more on seven pass receptions and completed four of 12 aerials for 37 yards. He also has credit for three of Pontiac's four interceptions this season.

Top runners for the Acorns are fullback Roy Soldan, who has raced for four touchdowns, and halfback Darrell Harper, who has three TD's to his credit.

New Clubhouse at Twin Beach Now Under Way

Officials Say First Part Will Be Finished in December

Improvements that include a new clubhouse now, with planned addition of a ball room, lounge and dining area in 1955, are under way at Twin Beach Country Club, Walled Lake.

The clubhouse, of block construction, will be completed some time in December, club officials reported today.

New quarters will provide a large grill room, men and women's locker rooms, an unusually large open porch and enclosed pro shop, in all comprising 4,000 square feet of space.

The structure is completely modern. It occupies an area of 80x42 feet.

Max Richardson will continue as club manager, with C. B. (Brownie) Meyer in charge of pro shop. Ed Urfels is this year's club champion. Hazel Heincelman topped the women's division.

At a recent meeting directors named new officers for the year: president, Joseph Wolski; vice president, Dale Hughes; secretary, Alfred Franks and treasurer, Dr. Spencer Oates. New directors — Norman Nunn and Gordon Minton. Robert Shaw, Richard Vershure and Wolski were reelected.

Robbins Puts Evans Out of N-S Seniors

PINEHURST, N. C. (AP) — The medalist and last year's runnerup were still in the running here today as the North and South Seniors golf tournament entered the semi-final round.

Today's pairings sent medalist Thomas C. Robbins of Larchmont, N. Y., against Spencer Overton of Baltimore, while last year's runnerup, Douglas Hill of Cincinnati, Ohio, met J. W. Roberts of Columbus, Ohio.

In yesterday's round, Robbins turned back Chick Evans of Chicago, former U. S. Open and Amateur champion, 5 and 4, and Hill defeated Col. C. D. McAllister of Orlando, Fla., 1 up.

In other quarterfinal matches, Roberts eliminated the defending champion, O. V. Russell of Pinehurst, 4 and 3, and Overton defeated Ray Roberson of Indianapolis, 5 and 4.

Breaks Frosh Record

EAST LANSING (UP)—Henry Kennedy, who went to Toronto, Ont., a year ago from Scotland, broke a 22-year Michigan State freshman record for the two-mile run Thursday when he went the distance in 9:22.0 during an intra-squad race.

Former record of 9:26.8 was set in 1932 by Tom Ottey, who later starred in the 1932 Olympics.

'Beware of Mustangs'

Ex-SMU Star Warns Undefeated Arkansas

By BRUCE HENDERSON

DALLAS (AP) — The man who shocked Arkansas with probably the most galling defeat in Razorback football history says the Hogs better beware of Southern Methodist.

This advice comes from a Dallas service station operator named Gilbert Johnson. Fans will recall him as SMU's great passer during the Mustangs' golden era of the late 1940's.

It was Nov. 13, 1948, that Gil Johnson whipped Arkansas with a touchdown pass Razorback fans will never forget. The final gun sounded as the pass rifled through the air.

Arkansas, unbeaten this year and striving mightily for the Southwest Conference championship, has a fighting outfit, Gil concedes. "They've got great determination," he says.

But he agrees that SMU looks like the team to win the title if Arkansas doesn't. The Hogs and Mustangs clash Nov. 13 this year.

"Don't forget SMU's got a fine team this year, too, with plenty of spirit," Gil says. "A great line, good backfield. SMU's going to be hard to beat."

He says the Mustangs this year are showing the fight that won them consecutive conference championships in 1947 and 1948.

Spartans Hope for Better Luck in Minnesota

Play at Minneapolis in Gopher Homecoming; Lost in Own Affair

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP)—Michigan State plays another homecoming football game Saturday—with hopes that the outcome will be happier than the last time the Spartans performed before old grads.

Their 27-13 beating by Purdue last Saturday in the Spartans' homecoming game was the worst lacing MSC has taken this season. It was small comfort that Minnesota was being overpowered the same day 34-0 by Michigan.

This time, its the Minnesota homecoming with better than 62,000 fans expected in the big horseshoe of Memorial Stadium.

MSC has the distinction of never having been scored upon by Minnesota. The score was 27-0 two years ago and 21-0 for the Spartans last year in the only two previous meetings.

Coach Duffy Daugherty is depending mostly on the Spartan speed to penetrate a big Minnesota line that averages 220 pounds from tackle to tackle.

Leroy Bolden, who made all three touchdowns last year, may be used at fullback as well as left half. Coaches figure the way Bolden's leg holds up will have a critical bearing on the outcome.

Wolverines Not Doing Any Rose Bowl Thinking

Sophs Unpredictable, So UM Will Take Each Game at a Time

By JOHN BARBOUR

ANN ARBOR (AP)—There are two words that no one mentions around the University of Michigan football field. They are: "Rose Bowl."

Ever since Michigan's Wolverines jumped from their pre-season status of mediocre to the top of the Big Ten, there has been a premature tendency to say them.

Michigan athletic director Fritz Crisler bristles when those "unmentionable" words are mentioned. Coach Bennie Oosterbaan simply walks away.

Around the campus it is treated with the same general doubt that prevailed in 1950 when Michigan defeated Ohio State and earned a holiday in Pasadena.

The reason for this silence is based on sound thinking.

The Wolverines, upsetters of two Big Ten powers, Minnesota and Iowa, have been helped immeasurably by good performances from a crew of sophomores.

It took time to give the sophomores experience. Some believe the team, in its play against Minnesota, has jelled.

But all the coaches agree—sophomore legs are young and inexperienced legs. When you stand on them alone, you can be spilled and upset.

So the coaches also are depending on the steadiness of such regulars as senior linemen Art Walker and Ted Cachey, junior lineman John Morrow and Ed Meads, senior backs Danny Cline and Fred Baer, junior backs Tony Branoff and Lou Baldacci.

With four games ahead, two of them toughies against Michigan State and Ohio State, the coaches aren't taking anything for granted. It will be a long time before they mention the fragrant flower.

18 'Big Timers' Boast Marks of .300 or Better

NEW YORK (AP) — Eighteen major league baseball players headed by Ted Williams of the Boston Red Sox and Stan Musial of the St. Louis Cardinals finished the 1954 campaign with a lifetime batting average of .300 or better.

Williams, who completed his 13th year in the big time, hit .345 in 1954 and his lifetime average remained at .348, tops in both circuits.

Musial, a .330 batter this past season, lost a single point off his lifetime figure, but his .344 mark for 13 campaigns still is the best in the National League.

In addition to Williams, other American leaguers in the select .300 lifetime group are Dale Mitchell, Cleveland, .315; Billy Goodman, Boston, .310; George Kell, and Minnie Minoso, Chicago, .309, HARVEY KUENN, DETROIT, .308 Johnny Pesky, Washington, .307; Bobby Avila, Cleveland, .306 and Enos Slaughter, New York, .30.

Death Toll Rises

Blame in Minor's Hunting Accident Caused by Negligence Placed on Parents

LANSING (AP)—The small game season has taken a high toll of small hunters so far this year.

There were five minors killed among the first nine deaths reported. Non-fatal gun accidents wounded 49 adults and 19 minors.

State conservation officials are concerned about this trend. They think parents should be too.

State law provides that minors under 17 can obtain a small game hunting license only on the application of their parents or guardian.

It further provides that minors can hunt off their own lands only when accompanied by an adult approved by the parents or guardian.

Provisions for the deer season are similar except that minors under 14 can't go after deer except with a bow and arrow.

"This places the legality responsibility squarely on the shoulders of the parent or guardian in the event there is a hunting accident to a minor caused by negligence," said Everett E. Tucker, head of the conservation department's law enforcement division.

When negligence is charged, the parent or guardian can be arraigned in court and fined up to $100 or sentenced up to 90 days in jail or both. Sentence is at the discretion of the judge.

There generally are several such court cases each year. Usually, the judge won't impose the maximum sentence to a parent or guardian grieving over the death or wounding of a child.

Conservation department isn't as much interested in punishment as it is in prevention of hunting accidents among minors.

In many cases, the negligence of the adult companion is directly responsible for harm to a young hunter. Two of the five minors killed thus far in the small game season were shot by adults.

Tucker said parents should make sure a minor knows how to handle a gun before he is allowed out in the field. They also should see that the gun is suitable for the young hunter.

Conservation officials think the ideal situation is for a gun-wise father to accompany his son if the youngster is going to be allowed to hunt.

Fisherman Is Entered in Pimlico Special Race

BALTIMORE (AP)—C. V. Whitney agreed Friday to run Fisherman, his 3-year-old who frequently has been the horse to beat, in Pimlico's Special on Nov. 20.

Fisherman is the fourth to accept for the race which this year is being limited to invitation of 3-year-olds.

You Be the Quarterback

By Warren Gaer
Head Football Coach
Drake University

Denver trails New Mexico, 13-7, with two minutes left in the 2nd quarter. It is the Pioneers' ball, 3rd down and six on the New Mexico 11-yard line, the ball in center of the field.

Denver has been playing the "V" formation, with the fullback level with the quarterback, acting as a blocker. But the Pioneers' ace in this game has been a very rangy left end, a fine pass catcher.

As the Denver quarterback, you decide to throw to the end in this situation. Rate these passes 1, 2, 3 and 4 for this spot:

High floating pass that gives end time to get into end zone

Angle pass to right sideline thrown to end crossing

(Answers elsewhere on the sports pages).

Big Crowd Expected for Raceway Feature

JACKSON (UP)—One of the largest crowds of the season was expected at the Jackson Raceway tonight as a field of eight pacers match strides in the "Grand Rapids Pace."

Skipper G, a seven-year-old gelding, was favored to win his 2nd straight victory in the featured race.

The 33-night meeting, which ends Saturday night, will lower the curtain on racing in Michigan for the season.

Race Totals Gain

NEW YORK — Almost 50 million persons in 1953 attended horse racing events in the U.S. and 1954 may boost that figure.

Mexicans Favorites in Pennsylvania Horse Show

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP) — The team championship of the Pennsylvania National Horse show will be decided here Friday with a hard-riding group of Mexicans the favorites to succeed the United States to the title.

Led by Gen. Humberto Mariles, the Mexican officers are in second place, four faults behind the Spanish team which leads the competition with no faults.

The United States, Germany and Canada follow in that order.

The Americans have captured the low-score competition for the past four years, mainly because of superiority in pairs competition.

But this year, that phase of the three-day event has been eliminated. Mexico held the low-score title for two years before the American reign began.

Mariles, 44-year-old 1948 Olympic equestrian champion, won both of Friday's events at the State Farm Show Arena to run his nation's string of blue ribbons to six in nine events contested so far.

The night event, an open competition was won by Mariles on Chihuahua II in a jump-off with Charles Dennehy Jr., Lake Forest, Ill., on Black Watch, Colm O'Shea of Canada on Bellaire and Hans Winkler of Germany on Halla.

Big 10 Doormats, Northwestern and Indiana, Shoot for Upsets of Leaders OSU, Michigan

CHICAGO (AP)— The time is approaching in the Big Ten football season when weaker clubs usually spring upsets. Conference leaders should be especially wary tomorrow.

Undefeated Ohio State, this week's top-ranked team in the Associated Press poll, invades Northwestern and is a 14-point favorite to extend a winning streak to six for the season and five in Big Ten action.

In addition to losing four games in a row after an opening victory over Iowa State, Northwestern has failed to win a conference game since 1952 and has beaten the Buckeyes only once in the last 10 years. That was a 21-7 triumph in 1948 that helped the Wildcats along on the road to the Rose Bowl.

Saturday's game is homecoming for Northwestern and probably that is why the oddsmakers have not rated the Wildcats more of an underdog. On paper, the Buckeyes look better than a 14-point choice.

The series between the two schools has had many a heartbreak for Northwestern. In 1945, 1946, 1947, 1951 and 1952 the Wildcats blew leads in the last quarter, and even in the last seconds, to lose to Ohio State.

Michigan's Wolverines, who have three straight league victories and have lost only to Army in five starts, also may find difficulty with little-regarded Indiana. The game is at Ann Arbor and the Wolverines are favored by 13 points.

This may be the time for the Hoosiers to salvage something from what has been so far a dismal season of three Big Ten defeats and only one victory, over weak College of Pacific, in five games.

In other games, Illinois (0-2 in league play) is at Purdue (1-1), Wisconsin (2-1) at Iowa (2-2) and Michigan State (1-3) at Minnesota (2-1).

Illinois, whose only victory came last week with a 34-6 decision over Syracuse, will be facing one of the nation's greatest passers, Prudue's Len Dawson.

Notre Dame is favored by 10 over Navy at Baltimore and the Marquette game tonight at Detroit is about even.

A's May Be Headed for Kansas City Again

Miami Seeking Vengeance for Fordham Upset

Hurricanes Remember 20-0 Loss Suffered at NY Last Season

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—The University of Miami Hurricanes will be out for revenge this evening when they take the field against Fordham before an expected crowd of 40,000 football fans in the Orange Bowl.

The Hurricanes are three touchdown favorites to wipe out a 20-0 defeat they suffered at the hands of Fordham in the Polo Grounds in New York last fall.

"We've got to redeem ourselves for that disgrace," said Miami Capt. Gordon Malloy, Miami's star left halfback.

Coach Andy Gustafson said his players have no reason to be overconfident after what Fordham did to them last year.

Miami, which so far has relied on a grinding ground attack to win five straight and go unbeaten and untied this season, may unveil a passing attack against the Rams.

It features Carl Garrigus, who began and ended his 1953 season against Fordham. Garrigus was out with a shoulder injury until the Fordham game and was hurt in the first period of that contest.

So far this year Garrigus has completed 20 of 38 passes for 218 yards.

Final Races Slated Sunday at LA Track

Final races of the season will be held Sunday afternoon at the Lake Angelus Speedway. A split-card will feature both old-model stocks and hard-top racing.

Chevation Joins Battle for 3-Year-Old Honors

BOSTON (AP) — Add Foxcatcher Farm's Chevation to the list of first line 3-year-olds after the Alibhai-Fairy Chant chestnut colt's driving three-length victory in the $50,000 added Yankee Handicap at Suffolk Downs.

Chevation, a 9-1 outsider who came from dead last at the head of the backstretch Thursday to take the lead in the home stretch, may run in the $50,000 added Pimlico Special Nov. 20 if his training progresses, according to Trainer Dick Handlen.

The special is expected to be a sort of unofficial race for the 3-year-old title in this scrambled season for the sophomores.

Chevation's victory, engineered by jockey Eric Guerin who lost a nose decision on Alfred G. Vanderbilt's Find on the same track in the $50,000 added Massachusetts Handicap this spring, came at the expense of Jet Action. The Maine Chance Farm's ace with Eddie Arcaro up was followed by Morris Sim's Blessbull, another length and a half back.

The time for the mile and an eighth was 1:50 1-5 in this 19th Yankee witnessed by 23,523 fans.

But the big surprise was the dead-last finish of Hasty House Farm's Hasty Road, the 4-5 favorite, who swung wide at the final turn after staying near the pace most of the way.

He had won the Preakness and Derby Trial stakes and was second to the now-sidelined Determine in the Kentucky Derby.

Club's Biggest Crowd Enjoys Obedience Show

Dogs and their masters, from the Southern Michigan Obedience Training Club, last night drew the largest audience of all time for the Washington Junior High School Community Club.

That's the word from Howard (Hud) Powers, who arranged the program in the Washington gymnasium. "More than 400 turned out, our biggest crowd," Powers reported today. "The work of the fine dogs and their masters under direction of Rudy Buchmann, as training master, was the finest we have seen."

Frank Grant of Birmingham outlined the work of training dogs for obedience and related pertinent developments in SMOTC history.

The club voted last night to affiliate with the school Girl Scouts to help further their activities. Club holds a Halloween dance tonight in the school gymnasium.

Meeting of Waters Presents Problems

TAMPA (AP)—When fresh water meets salt water some odd results happen—especially among fish. When a fresh water river of the Everglades mingles with the salt water off the coast of Florida, then there happens some strange mingling of fish.

Fresh water gars and snakes mingle with salt-water tarpon and snook, and there the battle of species takes place.

The fish usually work out their problem in a sensible way—but this mingling is confusing to human fishermen. They don't know which bait to use, and they aren't smart enough to ask the two schools of fish for advice.

Hoad and Trabert Top Rated in Aussie Test

SYDNEY, Australia (AP) — Lewis Hoad of Australia was seeded No. 1 today in the New South Wales tennis championships with Tony Trabert of Cincinnati ranked 1st in the foreign seedings. the tournament, Australia's 1st major tennis event of the season, opens Nov. 10.

Another American, Ham Richardson of Baton Rouge, La., was rated No. 2 in the foreign listings. Vic Seixas of Philadelphia wasn't entered in the championships.

Mervyn Rose and Rex Hartwig, Australian and Wimbledon champions were top-seeded in the doubles. Trabert and Richardson headed the foreign doubles.

Carl Karilivacz's Only Interception Saved Tilt

Carl Karilivacz's only interception of the entire 1953 season preserved Detroit's 17-16 victory over Cleveland in the "Championship Game.

Karilivacz snagged an Otto Graham aerial after the Lions had gained a one point margin in the final three minutes.

Owners Reject Deal for Club to Syndicate

Sale Negotiations With Arnold Johnson May Be Started Again

By JOE REICHLER

NEW YORK (AP)—The American League apparently has forced the Philadelphia Athletics into Kansas City.

Blocked in its efforts to sell the club to a Philadelphia syndicate, the Mack family was expected today to resume negotiations for the sale of its stock to Arnold Johnson and the transfer of the Philadelphia franchise to the Missouri city.

In a special meeting yesterday, the American League voted to reject the bid by an eight-man Philadelphia group to buy the Athletics and keep the club in Philadelphia. The vote, according to an American League executive, was 4-4. Six affirmative votes are needed to approve any owner.

No reason was given for the turndown of the syndicate. However, the opposition appeared to stem from a desire to get the league out of Philadelphia.

League public relations director Earl Hilligan, who made the announcement at the conclusion of the six-hour meeting, simply said: "The transaction presented today by the Philadelphia group failed to receive a vote of approval. The meeting was adjourned to permit the Macks to return to Philadelphia to attempt to work out their problems."

Hilligan did not amplify the statement, but several club owners indicated they were not satisfied with the "divergence of opinion" in the Mack family on how, or to whom the stock should be sold.

"It seems to me," said Charles Comiskey, vice president of the Chicago White Sox, "that the Macks can't get together on what they want to do. One wants one thing and another wants something else.

"I will not come back to any more meetings until the Macks (91-year-old Connie and his two sons, Roy and Earle) have settled their own affairs among themselves. There are others who feel the same way."

Will Harridge, president of the American League, said no further meetings were planned, and it now was up to the Macks to settle their own affairs.

Baseball people, however, doubted the Macks could do that financially, and predicted they would renew negotiations with Johnson, who recently offered $3,375,000 for the entire stock plus Connie Mack Stadium. In an Oct. 12 meeting in Chicago, the American League approved the sale to him and also the transfer of the franchise to Kansas City.

It's Time Out!

"Stop grumbling about it! Think of the fine thing you did for people less fortunate than you!"

Tartars Warned About Bradley's 2-Way Attack

DETROIT (UP)—Wayne University football team was warned today that they face a double-bladed attack this week end when they meet Bradley University at Peoria, Ill.

Assistant Coach Jack Cotton, who scouted Bradley last week, said the Braves have two fine fullbacks and a talented passer.

Dodd Drops Teas From Georgia Tech Squad

By ED WILKS
The Associated Press

College football players, headline stars and scrubs, have learned the hard way this season that training rules are a lot like a woman's birthday—none of the principals look forward to them, but just try and overlook 'em once.

A total of 18 players, at four different big time football schools, have been dropped from rosters this season because of training violations.

Veteran Bobby Dodd, Georgia Tech's gentlemanly coach who usually has been lenient toward players with regard to training rules, put his foot down yesterday and suspended five,—including his ace offensive threat, Billy Teas.

Announcements of this sort always come as a surprise, but Dodd's action is a real jolt, especially to his Tech squad. Teas, needing just three yards to set a new career record at the school, was Tech's big hope against Duke Saturday.

Dropped from the squad with Teas were guard-tackle Jake Shoemaker, halfback Larry Ruffin, guard Harvey Brown and tackle John Lasch. Brown is a sophomore and Lasch a freshman. The other three are seniors.

Dodd said "These boys were guilty of breaking our (11 p.m. curfew, but were not guilty of breaking any other training regulations. I consider this offense grave enough to drop them from our team. I am very disappointed that this thing happened."

Teas, married an.. the father of a girl, said he and Ruffin had been studying and that he drove Ruffin to his dormitory after the curfew. Teas added "since I live at home, I was even later getting in."

Dodd said: "It didn't make any difference if they were 30 minutes or two hours late. They were late for curfew."

It was the first such disciplinary action by Dodd, whose team has a 4-2 record this season, since 1951 when he dismissed end John Weigle, a sensation as a sophomore, for the same reason.

Dodd, however, hasn't been the only coach to crack down this season. Ed Price of Texas and Pittsburgh's Tom Hamilton took similar action earlier this week.

Nine Texas players were disciplined for "misconduct and breaking training." None was dropped from the squad, although all nine were ejected from their athletic dormitory and two who were first string linemen were demoted.

* * *

Pitt's troubled trio missed a couple of practice sessions and were cut from the roster. All three were juniors, including a first-string lineman.

Good Hunting in Upper Part of Lower Peninsula

LANSING (UP)—Pheasant hunting is good in the upper part of the lower peninsula, the conservation department said today.

The department said hunters taking to the fields over the week-end should find upland game conditions excellent, and waterfowl conditions improved.

Grouse hunting in the northern part of the Lower Peninsula was reported much improved, with hunters seeing many more birds.

Duck hunting conditions are good, the department said, with most of the activity in Lake and Newaygo counties. Many ducks and geese were observed flying south.

High winds and rains kept the ducks inland, improving hunting on smaller lakes and marshes.

Texas a Football State

DALLAS — Texas will have 894 teams playing the 1954 season according to pre-season estimates. In addition 27 senior colleges and 16 junior colleges field teams.

Cain Hoy Has Good Entry

Summer Tan Favored 2-Year-Old Going to Post in $100,000 Garden State

CAMDEN, N. J. — Horsemen must spend money to make money, and about 12 owners are expected to plank down ⅓ of the necessary $2,000 that will give them a shot at some $155,000 in the racing world's richest gallop.

The objective is the $100,000-added Garden State Stakes over the mile and one sixteenth distance Saturday, and the total jackpot may hit around $270,000.

How many will go after the rich 2-year-old prize will be determined when the entry box closes Friday morning.

The horse liked most is Mrs. Russell A. Firestone's Summer Tan, one of the classiest juvenile colts of the season. Given the best chance of beating Summer Tan is the Cain Hoy Stable entry of Flying Fury and Racing Fool.

Other names expected to be dropped into the entry box include Woody Stephens' Brother Tex, the Pin Ouk Farm's Roman Patrol, the Rokeby Stable entry of Cup Man and Golden Land, Mrs. E. E. Pershall Belz's Simmy, C. V. Whitney's Pyrenees, the Duntreath Farm's Fleet Path, Tallman Wisner and Jack Welch's Money Leather, James Patton's Riches, the Darby Dan Farm's Windsor King and Mrs. Louise West's Bayside Joe.

Owners must hand over $1,000 to pass the entry box Friday, and another $1,000 to start Saturday in the race to be televised nationally by CBS 4-4:30 p.m., EST.

This is only the second running of the Garden State, won last year by Turn-To, from Harry F. Guggenheim's Cain Hoy Stable. Although Summer Tan is expected to be a 5-2 favorite of a crowd of around 50,000, it wouldn't surprise many if Cain Hoy did it again with Flying Fury or Racing Fool. They may go off at around 3-1—maybe less.

Press 'Blanket' for Navy, ND

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (UP) — Nearly 300 members of the press, radio and newsreels will cover the Navy-Notre Dame football game Saturday in Baltimore, a Naval Academy spokesman said Thursday.

John Cox, director of sports publicity, said: "It will be the most expansive coverage of any Navy home football game in history, including the 1944 Army-Navy game in Baltimore." A crowd of 70,000 is expected for the game.

Gil Hodges of the Dodgers has hit 30 or more home runs five straight seasons.

Narragansett Park Will Open Fall Meet Today

PAWTUCKET, R. I. (UP)—Narragansett Park opens its late-running 29-day fall meeting today with special weatherized facilities for the program extending through Dec. 1.

Highlight of the session will be the $35,000 added Narragansett Special, a mile and three sixteenths-test to which 39 3-year-olds and up have been nominated. Chief among them are the fast-improving Helioscope and Blessful, third-place finisher in the $50,000 added Yankee Handicap.

Texas Tech's Red Raiders have 22 football lettermen back this season.

TV Fans to See Eastern Tilt

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The nation's TV football fans get their first chance this season to view an Eastern college football game Saturday when Penn entertains Penn State in a traditional neighborhood scrap.

The Penn State Nittany Lions, rated as one of the East's best before losing to West Virginia and Texas Christian on the past two weekends, have revenge on their minds when they tackle the winless Quakers at Franklin Field (2 p.m.)

It was last year that the fired-up Quakers upset the Lions from upstate State College, 13-7, in a game they had promised to win for retiring Coach George Munger.

Penn, paying its first season under new Coach Steve Sebo's complicated multiple offense will be out to win their first game under the former Michigan State aide. They've lost on successive weekends to Duke, William and Mary, Princeton, George Washington and Navy.

State, led by the rabbit-like Lenny Moore, opened with impressive victories over Illinois, Syracuse and Virginia before developing fumbleitis against unbeaten West Virginia and strong TCU. Moore has gained 574 yards this year in rushing and is rated one of the top running backs in the nation.

While the records favor State, these annual battles on historic Franklin Field have always been tough fights. Only seven points separated the two teams in five of their last eight meetings.

Sebo may start former end Bob Lebengood in one halfback spot in place of Walt Hynoski, the team's offensive leader. Lebengood, incidentally, was a Reading, Pa., high school teammate of Moore. Switched from end after the first game this season, Lebengood has been used sparingly at both halfback positions.

Gary Scott, who was injured in the William and Mary game and returned to limited duty last weekend, is expected to start at the other halfback spot for the down-trodden Quakers, facing their first winless season since 1881, their fifth season of intercollegiate competition.

This will be the 43rd meeting of the two schools. Penn has won 25 and four were ties.

Shoemaker, Corporal Are Non-Winners

SAN BRUNO, Calif., (AP)—America's leading jockey and a highly touted English colt both had a bad day at Tanforan race track Thursday.

The 2-year-old Corporal, recently purchased from Queen Elizabeth by Flandco Stables, finished a poor seventh in an eight-horse field in his American debut.

Willie Shoemaker, the nation's top jockey, failed to bring home even one winner for the first time in 40 days at Tanforan. Wee Willie rode five mounts.

TAKES DERBY LEAD—New leader, as of yesterday, in the Pontiac Press "Big Pheasant Derby" is the bird downed by Leonard Skaggs, 38 N. Jessie, Pontiac. Skaggs, a perennial entrant in this long-established race, got his rooster near the north city limits, off Perry street. It weighed an even 4 pounds, displacing Harold Lumm's 3 pound, 10 ounce entry. A 12-gauge auto-loader and an English pointer helped bag the new leader. Skaggs got this bird with a new gun, after his former pumpgun blew the end off the barrel and split the breech, bruising the hunter's jaw. He believes he must have got dirt in the barrel when he slipped and fell a few minutes earlier. That was several days ago.

Golf 'War' in LA Continues

Michigan Man, Junior Chamber Battle Over Tourney Sponsorship

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Sparring continued today between rival factions in the golf war here.

Officials of the junior chamber of commerce are involved with William MacDonald, Battle Creek, Mich., trailer maker. MacDonald has a tie-up with the Professional Golfers Assn. Tournament Committee to stage a tournament at suburban Inglewood Jan. 6-9.

The junior chamber, sponsor of the Los Angeles Open for many years, had set Jan. 7-10 for its tournament in West Los Angeles.

The chamber offered to collaborate with MacDonald for a $50,000 open—$25,000 from the chamber, $25,000 from MacDonald, with $5,000 of the kitty dedicated to a women's open.

MacDonald rejected the offer and indicated he will go ahead alone with his proposed $25,000 event. MacDonald said his event will be styled the Pan American Open.

Further efforts to settle the controversy are in progress.

Delayed Flyweight Bout Re-scheduled for Nov. 25

TOKYO (AP)—The postponed world flyweight championship fight between titleholder Yoshio Shirai of Japan and Pascual Perez of Argentina today was definitely reset for Nov. 25.

Perez' eardrum injury, which forced a delay in the bout originally scheduled for last Tuesday, is improving satisfactorily, said Dr. Shinji Sakabe, Japan boxing commission doctor.

Sophomores Hold Orange Bowl Hopes for 'Muskers

KANSAS CITY (AP)—A couple of promising sophomores may hold the key to the Orange Bowl hopes of Nebraska.

The Cornhuskers emerged as a possible contender for the bowl bid last week by upsetting Colorado in a Big Seven Conference game 20-6.

Willie Greenlaw, a fleet sophomore halfback from Maine scored two of Nebraska's touchdowns. He is also a threat as a passer and receiver.

The other sophomore figuring prominently in the Nebraska attack is quarterback Don Erway who ranks second in the conference in passing.

A victory over Missouri at Lincoln this Saturday would almost assure the Cornhuskers of a tie for second place in the conference. If they finished in a tie for second with Missouri or Colorado, the bowl nod would go to the team that beat the other second place finisher.

Nebraska will be seeking its first victory over Missouri since 1950.

CASE—The Pendulum Swing

It is not unusual to see members of a beginners' class conducted by Ray (Red) Bock standing still and swinging a ball. Bock, former star bowler and now an alleyman and successful instructor, stresses the importance of feeling the weight of the ball.

He knows there are no shortcuts or tricks to control. It is attained by developing a pendulum swing and remaining completely relaxed as the ball drops into a groove close to the body from the push-away, and then swings back into a low arc on the down-swing.

There are three separate but smoothly co-ordinated steps: (1) The push-away (2) Letting the ball drop and swing of its own weight so that it takes the body into a crouch, and (3) the down-swing of the pendulum through a low arc as the ball is kept in a groove that insures control. The ball is not forced.

Once it swings easily and evenly through the all-important low arc (sketch), controlled release and follow-through are natural results. The delivery, once mastered, is accomplished without deviation and entirely without strain or tension.

You Be the Quarterback

Answer

4. Basketball pass. No! Has to be thrown when passer leaps. If end is held up, pass fails.

3. Angle pass. Fairly safe. End could be in clear and make a TD. If he is covered, you throw out-of-bounds and stop clock.

2. High floating pass. Tall man has chance. Not as safe as angle pass but a good TD possibility. I've seen it go.

1. Bullet button hook. Best call. Safe and dependable for six yards. You've still time for the touchdown.

TODAY'S ASSIGNMENT FOR:

JUNIOR EDITORS

A SHADOW WITCH

Here's a small paper witch that will cast a big shadow for your Halloween fun. It's easy to make.

1. With water colors or crayons, color the broom yellow, the handle green, the witch's shoes and hat red. Make her dress gray, her cape and stockings black.
2. Mount the square on stiff wrapping paper with white library paste. Press under books until dry.
3. Cut out the figure carefully. Cut in and around the bottom of the broom and the tassle on the hat, so the fringes wave. Paste the witch on a long stick, as shown in the small drawing.
4. Hold the witch near the light so it casts a shadow on the wall. You can make the shadow grow larger by moving the witch farther from the light. When you wave the witch about, her cape will flutter and so will the tassle and the broom.

Homemade Wine Makers Must Get Uncle Sam's OK

If you are quietly laying plans to stomp on quantities of grapes in order to extract a certain nectar, take heed.

You've go to tell Uncle Sam that you want to make some old fashioned homemade wine for the family. And you've got to do it at least five days before you plan to start stomping.

Otherwise, a Treasury Department man may one day come aknocking at your door and slap an alcoholic beverage tax bill on you. And you may face criminal prosecution.

There are a couple more catches. First, you must be the head of a household and the wine must be destined solely for your family's use.

Second, you can only make up to 200 gallons of the vino tax-free. (This should cover most shoe sizes up to 12EEE.)

Prospective wine makers can secure registration of intention forms from the Detroit office of the Internal Revenue Service, 200 Buhl Bldg., Detroit 26.

Arrest Arms Smugglers

RABAT, French Morocco, (AP) — Police said today they have arrested several members of a band of smugglers supplying arms and ammunition to Moroccan terrorists. Officers said the gang operated between Spanish and French Morocco and was responsible for at least five deaths.

City Children's Halloween Begging Slightly Different

By LAURA Z. HOBSON

NEW YORK (INS) — If any one thing can highlight the differences between growing up in a big city and growing up in a small town, that thing must be the great annual mischief called Halloween.

Town and country folk get all set for ragamuffins at their front doors, with their cry of "trick or treat," and it's not only to head off pranks and tricks with chalk or soap, that they're stocked up with apples and nuts, some candy and cake, perhaps a few odd pennies as well.

And kids in small towns and villages are wise to all that. But what about Halloween neighborliness in the great cities of the U. S. A.?

What about kids in Chicago and San Francisco, Pittsburgh and New York, where stone-faced apartment houses line the principal avenue?

Last year I watched the Halloween fun of three trick-or-treaters I know, then aged eleven, one of my own, and two of his best friends.

At dark, at the moment the night's broomsticks became airborne, all three sallied forth to test out the neighborliness of the sidewalks of New York.

All three were accoutered in various costumes and masks fit to scare the living daylights out of anybody. My own goulish young man, rigged out in an old bed sheet, was the spittin' image of any ghost that ever stalked a cemetery, except for his bright red rubbery face and fierce mustachios.

What did these three do? Ring the front doorbells of neighbors' houses? Nearly all their other best friends lived in apartments, like themselves. After a fast run-down of those close by, there was nothing left but all the strange front doors of New York.

They tried a few brownstone fronts, sure. But great stone buildings with uniformed doormen all over the place don't exactly appeal to ragamuffins, and soon they were back at other tricks.

For one thing on one night of the year, most city storekeepers are just as fast with a free apple or bunch of grapes as any storekeeper in a small and cozy town.

Thus, after an hour or so, my sheeted highwayman came rushing home displaying two oranges, one apple, fourteen raisins and 99 cents in coin of the realm. These he dumped on the table.

"We split up," he said. "People give you more dough if you're all by yourself. I'm going it alone now."

Off he went, though it was already nine and dark as pitch, I mean witch. An hour later he came roaring back, his sheet filthy around the bottom, his eyes full of stars. He had $2.54 in change to add to his 99 cents.

Once again he begged to be allowed to go out. Begged? I'm kidding myself! He announced and was gone.

When the evening ended, that boy had begged, cajoled, grinned his way into a total of $6.69 — with his pals reporting equal success in the morning!

I'm sure their parents thought as I did — "My own child a street beggar? A moocher? A Halloween panhandler?" Definitely, yes. That's part of a city child's Halloween!

And this coming Sunday once again, off my son will float, first with some pals, then by himself. And though I love cities, though by nature I'm urban and not suburban —

On this one night, I'll wish those broomsticks were magic carpets bound straight out of town.

Soy Up Slightly on Quiet Market

CHICAGO Oct. 29 (AP)—Soybeans moved up slightly on the Board of Trade again today but the rest of the market was not able to get anywhere.

Gains in soybeans ran to a couple of cents in active dealings. There also was a burst of trading activity in rye at the opening, following overnight purchases of that grain from various exporting countries by West Germany.

Corn and oats were subjected to mild hedging pressure.

Wheat near the end of the first hour was unchanged to ½ higher, December $2.22¾, corn ⅛ lower to ⅛ higher, December $1.55⅝, oats unchanged to ⅜ lower, December 82⅛, rye ¾ to 1¼ lower, December $1.35½, soybeans 2½ to 3¾ higher, November $2.92¼, and lard 2 to 17 cents a hundred pounds higher, November $15.17.

Station Owner Beaten, Robbed

3 Holdup Men Force Lyle Doty to Surrender Strongbox

Three men, one of them armed with a black automatic pistol, held up Lyle Doty, elderly gas station owner one mile east of Clyde yesterday and escaped with $540, after roughing up Doty to learn the whereabouts of his money box.

One of the three came into the combination gas station - store shortly before 1 p.m. yesterday and drank a bottle of pop. When a salesman in the store left, the other two men entered.

According to Oakland County Sheriff's Detectives David Brann and Mahlon France, the holdup men knew that Doty had a strongbox where he kept his cash. They immediately asked of its whereabouts and began to beat him when he would not tell them.

The trio then marched Doty to his home behind the station and tied and gagged up his daughter, Mrs. Edward Guild. Doty finally produced the box, a 20x10-inch, 70-pound safe, but did not have a key.

The bandits took the vault along with them when they drove away in a late model red and gray station wagon.

In the box, Doty said, were two checks valued at $82, and $430 in cash. The robbers also took $28 from the home, along with two bank savings books and one checking account book.

Attention Focuses on New York Race

Frank J. Lausche over GOP State Auditor James A. Rhodes.

There are 29 Republican and 19 Democratic governors in the nation today. Of these, six Republicans and eight Democrats are holdovers, so that there were only 34 races this year, one of which was decided in Maine, with 1 Democratic victory.

In the 33 elections Tuesday, the governors' chairs are now held by 22 Republicans and 11 Democrats.

There are seven Republicans and seven Democrats assured of victory. Again, by coincidence, there are four Republicans and four Democrats favored in other races.

Aside from New York, Vermont, Arkansas and Pennsylvania, there are seven real battlegrounds.

Here is a digest of the present situation in the seven states in which both parties have hopes of victory:

Arizona: Gov. Howard Pyle (R) given slight edge over ex-Sen. Ernest W. McFarland (D).

Connecticut: Gov. John Lodge (R) slight lead over ex-Rep. Abraham Ribicoff (D).

Idaho: Atty. Gen. Robert E. Smylie (R) ahead of State Sen. Clark Hamilton (D).

Maryland: toss-up between Gov. Theodore R. McKeldin (R) and Harry C. Bryd (D).

Michigan: Gov. G. Mennen Williams (D) favored over Donald S. Leonard (R), but no cinch.

The seven states in which Republicans appear sure of victory are Iowa, Kansas, Nebraska, New Hampshire, North Dakota, South Dakota and Wisconsin. The four states in which Republicans are favored are California, Massachusetts, Minnesota and Oregon.

The seven states in which Democrats are certain of victory are Alabama, Florida, Georgia, Ohio, South Carolina, Tennessee and Texas. The four where they are favored are Colorado, New Mexico, Oklahoma and Rhode Island.

The survey shows it would require a major upset to defeat any of these Republicans or Democrats.

Memory Fails Murder Suspect

Royal Oak Township Man Claims He Can't Remember June Killing

Theodore Edwards, 35, yesterday told in Oakland County Circuit Court jury that "everything went blank" and he could not recall the June 20 slaying of Mrs. Willie H. Spencer, 31, in her home at 20797 Woodside, Royal Oak Township.

Edwards, of 21011 Fenner Ct., Royal Oak Township, is charged with first degree murder.

Before Edwards took the stand, Donald A. Brown, assistant Oakland County prosecutor, called 13 witnesses who had been in Mrs. Spencer's home the night of the shooting.

They testified that the pair had been alone in a room arguing and one shot had been fired.

Edwards said they had wrestled over the gun and Mrs. Spencer fired the first shot. He said she then threw hot grease at him and he blanked out.

Two witnesses said they saw Edwards chase the victim from the room and fire the fatal shot.

A Detroit psychiatrist testified that an action such as the grease throwing might cause a person to lose control of his impulses. Edwards was slated to continue his testimony today.

Young Bandits Get $60 in Store Holdup

Two young gunmen wearing halloween masks held up a grocery store owner last night in Troy township and escaped with about $60 from the cash register.

The two came into the store of Stanley Syrowik at 1686 John R about 9:30 p.m. and forced Syrowik's wife, Veronica, and daughter, Joan, into a walkin refrigerator at gun point, according to Troy Township Patrolman Willard Schwandt.

The men then scooped the cash from the register, fled in a 1948 or 1949 Plymouth.

Both were described as about 20, one tall and wearing a yellow jacket, the second short, stocky and wearing grey clothes and coat, according to Schwandt.

Ordered to Take Cure

STANTON (AP) — A Portland nurse, Madge B. Dunn, 38, has been ordered to the federal hospital at Lexington, Ky., for treatment for narcotics addiction. She was ordered to take the treatment after pleading guilty before Circuit Judge Morris K. Davis to charges of obtaining narcotics by forging a prescription.

In Memoriam 2

IN LOVING MEMORY OF George Fredrick Stocker, who passed away six years ago today, Oct. 29, 1948.
Not dead to us who loved him.
Not lost, but gone before;
He lives with us in memory
And shall forever more.
Sadly missed by wife, children, and grandchildren.

IN MEMORY OF CHRIS A. Herrington, son and brother who passed away four years ago October 29.
Sad and sudden was the call of one so dearly loved by all.
A bitter grief, a shock severe,
It was to part with one so dear.
We often sit and think of you;
and speak of how you died;
To think you couldn't say good-bye
Before you closed your eyes.
For all of us you did your best;
Oh God, grant you eternal rest.
Sadly missed by mother, father and sisters.

Bob Young Proves Actors Can Be Normal

BURNS AND ALLEN—George Burns simplifies a complex situation as Gracie Allen thinks of ways to make it more complex, on the new season's series of their television show.

Plays 'Father' in New Show

Rise to Fame Included Jobs as Soda Jerk, Grease Monkey

NEW YORK—Robert Young is starring in his first television series on Father Knows Best.

He was also the star of the long-run radio version of the series. His convincing performances on the program, concerned with the amusing events of a family with three unpredictable offspring, can be attributed not only to his competence as an actor but to his practical experience as the real life father of four.

Although Bob was born in Chicago (Feb. 22, 1907) and spent a short time in Seattle, he has lived in-and-around Los Angeles since he was 10 years old. One of five children of an Irish-American building contractor and his wife, he began to accept responsibility early with a variety of jobs. At eight, he was a helper on a grocery delivery truck. Other jobs during his school years included soda jerk, a job in the press-room of the Los Angeles Times, driving a dry cleaner's truck and service station grease monkey.

After graduation from Los Angeles' Lincoln High, he worked as a collector for a building and loan company, a Lake Tahoe bowling alley, in a brokerage office, then as teller at the Farmers and Merchants Bank. One day, his former high school dramatics teacher appeared at his window and promised to give him a letter of introduction to the Pasadena Community Playhouse.

It was the end of Young's vocational search. He studied there evenings for four years, at times augmenting both his income and his experience as a movie extra. After four years and 45 parts, he won the lead in the touring production of The Ship, which led to a screen test and contract in 1931.

His first important role, for which he won critics' applause, was as the son of Helen Hayes in The Sin of Madelon Claudet. It was the beginning of a steady rise to motion picture stardom. He has since made over 100 movies.

Young made his radio debut in 1936 as a guest artist and then was master of ceremonies of Good News of 1939, a popular avriety program. He was later co-starred on radio with the late Frank Morgan, then had his own documentary series. During most of his five years in the title role of Father Knows Best, he was active in the radio portion of a national campaign to reduce highway accidents among teen-aged drivers. His duties included tours of high schools and civic groups throughout the East and conferences nationally. As a result, five million members belong to the Robert Young Good Drivers Club.

He made his television debut in a dramatic production in 1952.

Young and his family live in Beverly Hills. While a sophomore at Lincoln High, he met freshman Betty Henderson, whom he married in 1933 soon after she was graduated from the University of Southern California. They have four daughters ranging in age from 9 to 20. Pretty much a stay-at-home family except for trips to their 160-acre "B & B Ranch" in the Carmel Valley, they separated for the first time last summer when the parents took the two older girls on a European tour.

As for hobbies, Bob divides his interests between golf and flying.

The first state fair in North Carolina was held October 18-21, 1853.

PERSUADER — V. K. Krishna Menon, India's delegate to the U. N. seeks to persuade the world's major powers to a new "armament truce." His plan calls for: (1) an immediate truce in the arms race, and (2) a recall of the General Assembly at any time after its scheduled Dec. 10 meeting when disarmament developments warrant such action.

Unionist Arrested for Commie Denial

DENVER, (AP)—Maurice E. Travis secretary-treasurer and former president of the 100,000-member International Union of Mine, Mill & Smelter Workers (Ind), was arrested here yesterday on charges of lying when he said he was not a Communist party member.

Travis was free today on $10,000 bond posted immediately on being taken before U. S. Commissioner Joseph Neff late yesterday afternoon.

The arrest, announced by the Justice Department in Washington while U.S. marshals were picking up Travis at union headquarters here, stemmed from a six-count indictment handed down yesterday by a 23-member Federal Grand Jury in Denver.

Travis, who was in custody about 30 minutes, said he was leaving immediately for a union organization meeting in Salt Lake City.

Awakens Wife to Say Goodbye Before He Dies

CINCINNATI (AP)—Andrew E. Kelley, 64, ill for several years, awakened his wife, Charlotte, yesterday and told her he was going to die.

"I wanted to say goodbye to you first," he told her.

Then he clutched his rosary, murmured "God was good to me," turned his head and died, Mrs. Kelley said.

Ike, Mamie Will Watch Returns on Home TV

WASHINGTON (AP)—What will President and Mrs. Eisenhower be doing next Tuesday night while the election returns pour in?

Mrs. Eisenhower told women reporters at the White House yesterday "We'll probably stay home and watch TV."

Spanish Actress Killed by Airplane Propeller

SABADELL, Spain, (AP)—Spanish actress Mercedes Aldea was killed here today while making a movie entitled "What Never Dies."

She was struck by the propeller of a plane she was to board in acting out her role.

The increased parking facilities more than compensated for the lack of public transportation.

The new site for the County Building just off Telegraph Road where sufficient parking can be obtained is the logical solution to the problem.

It is reasonable to assume that public transportation will be readily supplied upon completion of the project.

This new location would be most convenient for the out-county population. Traffic diverted from downtown would relieve congestion in the shopping area, making more parking space available for the shoppers, thus benefiting the merchants.

My belief is that the plan for the new County Center is very sound and a step in the right direction.

Says Others Could Help With Hospital Situation

As it is nearing election time, we must seriously consider bonds for raising money for an addition to the hospital and I believe our city officials must be quick in answering questions in the minds of the taxpayers who must foot the bill.

I voted for it the last time as I partly see the immediate need but as I am an older citizen and have voted quite a number of years, I like to try to influence others if I believe it to be for the good of our city and here are some questions for discussion.

Why should taxpayers foot the bill and pay the same rates for hospital care as those who are not taxpayers? As we all know a large percentage of the people of Pontiac come from other states. They work here in high employment times, then go back home, paying no taxes for this bond issue. Why can't city managers fix some sort of paying system for these people?

Within a 20 mile radius, more or less, small communities pay taxes in their districts. Why can't a hospital be built by them to help the overload in our hospitals?

Remember there is a host of older citizens who are retired and such and taxes are a burden to them.

These are times when older citizens are not voting in haste and I for one see the immediate need in this issue.

A Taxpayer

Mrs. T. B. Smith Urges You to Vote for Hospital

Voters of Pontiac, I would like you all to vote next month for the new hospital. My husband has just been a patient at the Pontiac General Hospital for seven weeks. I visited him every afternoon and it is a marvel to me how the doctors, nurses, and nurses' aides do such a wonderful job in such congested quarters. They are pleasant and kind to everyone even though the corridors are filled with beds.

It is my opinion that the hospital should be the chief object of the voters; it is needed more than any other building in Pontiac. Please vote for the Hospital on Nov. 2.

Detroit Boy, 13, Beaten in Row; 4 Youths Held

DETROIT (AP)—Police today held four youths for investigation of felonious assault in the severe beating of another teenager following a high school football game yesterday.

Jeffrey Levy, 13, son of Dr. and Mrs. Benjamin Levy, suffered a concussion, fractured nose and head abrasions when one of the four youths attacked him after the football game between Mumford and Chadsey high schools.

Police identified the four youths as Donald Munro, 17; Ray McKamey, 18; Earl Vehill, 19, and Walter Bearden, 20.

Munro was named by the others as the assailant, police said.

Jeffrey told police he was walking a half-a-block from his home when a car containing the youths pulled along side.

"One of them asked if I was from Mumford," he said. "When I answered that I was, he jumped from the car and beat me."

A bystander gave police the license number of the car. Munro and McKamey were found with the car. They implicated the others.

An additional measure was approved, by a vote of 216 to 22, giving the Board of Education permission to increase millage up to 11.5 for the bond issue.
