U.S. Heads for All-Time Holiday Death Toll

Yule Fire Aftermath

Wife Won't Let Husband Keep His Blonde Doll

RACINE, Wis. (UPI) —Warren David got just what he wanted for Christmas. But he had to take it back, anyhow.

He jokingly told his wife he wanted a blonde doll for Christmas. She obligingly placed the order in a request container at a department store.

Christmas Eve, David's package — a giant ribbon-adorned box — arrived. When he opened it, out stepped a blonde, five-feet, two inches tall, measuring 38-24-36.

Mrs. David insisted he exchange the "doll" for another item.

10 Traffic Deaths Mark Start of Holiday Span

Fires Claim 4 Lives, Bringing Michigan Toll to 14 Fatalities

From Our News Wires

Christmas day fires claimed the lives of another three persons in Michigan, and a Montrose infant was fatally burned in his crib early today.

The baby, David William Hill, died at McLaren Hospital, Flint, today shortly after he was burned over 75 per cent of his body.

A Grand Blanc woman, apparently preoccupied with thoughts of a daughter she was going to drive to a hospital for birth of a child, became Michigan's ninth traffic victim of the long Christmas weekend today when her car was hit broadside by a train.

The victim was Mrs. Philena M. O'Dell, 56. The accident happened about 3:25 a.m. at the East Maple road crossing in Flint's southeastern outskirts.

Mrs. O'Dell's daughter, expecting her first child, finally was driven to a Flint hospital from their farm home by her husband, who borrowed a neighbor's car.

One Christmas Eve fatality was not reported to State Police until today. William Oldenburg, 69, St. Clair Shores, died after he was struck by a car near his home.

Peter Lasko, 53, of Mt. Clemens died today of injuries sustained Wednesday in a two-car collision in nearby Clinton Township.

Christmas Tops for Auto Mishaps

There were more Oakland County traffic accidents reported from noon Wednesday to midnight Thursday than during either of the three-day holiday weekends last summer, which traditionally bring more cars out on highways than any other holidays.

The Sheriff's Department investigated 18 accidents from noon Wednesday to 2 p.m. Christmas afternoon.

The switchboard began lighting up at noon Wednesday and was almost constantly buzzing on Christmas eve and morning. From 4:30 p.m. Wednesday to shortly after 1 a.m. Thursday a total of 12 mishaps were reported, four of them involving injuries.

Over the holiday, Sheriff's deputies handled 12 wrecks involving property damage and six accidents in which one or more persons were injured.

Woman Suspect Arrested in City

Wanted for Questioning by Rochester Police in Robbery-Beating

A plump night club entertainer, sought by Rochester, N. Y., police in the robbery-beating of a salesman, was arrested yesterday in Pontiac.

Miss Eleanor Joann Wilson, 21, had been sought by police since early Tuesday when George Fisher, 43, of North Syracuse, N. Y., was found unconscious in a motel room in a Rochester suburb.

Miss Wilson

Fisher is in critical condition and has not regained consciousness at Strong Memorial Hospital, Rochester. Doctors there doubt he will recover.

Rochester police said he had been slugged repeatedly on the head. His gold ring and $50 were gone.

Miss Wilson, who stands five feet eight and weighs 170 pounds, was picked up at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Randall Wilson, 73 Seminole Ave.

She denied to Pontiac and Detroit police officers that she beat or robbed Fisher.

She has been the target of a search since a cab driver told police he picked her up at the motel Tuesday morning and took her to the home of Joe Sobb, 20, of Rochester.

Sobb, who is being held by Rochester police on a vagrancy charge, said Miss Wilson told him she slugged and robbed Fisher.

Miss Wilson admitted being in the motel with Fisher. She says that when she left him Tuesday morning he was sleeping and uninjured.

On Miss Wilson police found some glass case holders manufactured by the optical firm for which Fisher works.

When she heard of the robbery and beating, Miss Wilson said she panicked and boarded a train for her parents' home.

A divorcee and the mother of two children, Miss Wilson indicated she would waive extradition.

Gifts Shower Bradley Victims' Families

Bereaved Not Forgotten

ROGERS CITY (AP) — Christmas for the families of the men lost aboard the freighter Carl D. Bradley was as happy yesterday as friends could make it.

"Nothing was lacking," said Mrs. Melville Orr, one of the women widowed when the Great Lakes vessel broke apart and sank in Lake Michigan last month. "Most of the youngsters probably had a bigger Christmas than they ever had in their lives."

Mayor Kenneth Vogelheim described the day as "unbelievable."

Toni Budnick, 2, got a toy chicken . . . Gary Orr, 10, played with a machinegun . . . Michael Kowalski, 6, crawled across a carpet pushing a toy army truck . . . Kathryn Krawczakn, 4, fondled a new doll . . . there was everything in the way of toys that a child could ask.

"Christmas was wonderful under the circumstances," said John Blasky, president of the Presque Isle Bank and a member of a committee administering a disaster fund for the families.

"Gifts of toys came in by busloads and truckloads," Blasky said. "The children had two or three times as many gifts as they could carry and still some boxes had to be stored away for other parties."

244 Have Died; Count Began Christmas Eve

National Safety Council Fears Total May Top Estimate of 620

TRAFFIC	269
MISCELLANEOUS	41
TOTAL	357

From Our News Wires

Holiday traffic deaths piled up at a record rate today and a safety expert told motorists to stop thinking celebration and start getting scared.

Otherwise, he warned, the United States may be headed for an all-time holiday traffic death toll.

California led the states in highway fatalities with 31. Texas had 23, New York State 17, North Carolina 15, Ohio 14, Illinois 13, Pennsylvania 13, Massachusetts 12 and Georgia and Michigan 10 each.

The National Safety Council at Chicago said the rate, judged by figures for past holidays, "Shows no indications of not being headed for a new all-time high for any holiday in the history of the country."

"The only way to reverse the trend," said the Council, "is for drivers to get good and alarmed at what's going on, and stop this." Carelessness on the highway, he warned, was an "exceedingly poor" way to mark the holiday period.

The rate of fatalities was more than seven per hour since the count started at 6 p.m. local time Christmas Eve. It was far higher than the National Safety Council's pre-holiday estimate of 620 deaths during the 102-hour period which ends at midnight Sunday.

The count also was at a faster clip than for a comparable period during the 1956 four-day Christmas holiday period when the all-time record of 706 traffic deaths was recorded.

The council estimates 40 million cars will have been on the highways when the holiday period ends. It cautioned homeward driving conditions could be much worse than during the first part of the holiday.

Among the hundreds of accidents across the nation, three of them took the lives of 12 persons. Five were killed in a flaming two-car collision near Jackson, N. C. Four were members of a Danville, Va. family. In a second two-car collision near Coats, N. C. near Raleigh, three persons were killed.

In all, at least 47 persons died as the result of flames which swept homes and lodgings. Five of the six members of one family were wiped out. In two other cases three children were killed.

In Auburn, Wash., nine members of a family of 12 died today in a fire which destroyed a farm home near there.

Firemen said those listed as dead were Mrs. Olie Hollenbach, 38, and eight children, Gale, 18; Donald, 17; Garry, 16; Sharon, 15; Patricia, 13; Mary Ellen, 8; Carl, 6, and Penny, 4.

Three children, 7, 4 and 2 months, were killed today in Braddock, Pa., a Pittsburgh suburb, when fire of undetermined origin destroyed their home.

Three adults died in a blaze today which destroyed a lodging house in Northampton, Mass.

Among those killed in fires this holiday period were three children who perished when fire swept through their home in Wilkes-Barre, Pa., Christmas morning. The fire broke out after their parents had finished decorating the Christmas tree. Fire officials said the fire apparently started in the tree.

At Richmond, Va., Horace A. Gray Jr., a business executive, his wife, two sons and a daughter, died in a fire which destroyed their $150,000 home early today.

West Stay in Berlin Can Start War---Reds

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union Thursday warned that Western insistence on remaining in Berlin could kindle nuclear war that would reach America.

Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko, continued the Kremlin's campaign to force the Western Allies out of West Berlin by predictions of nuclear war if they stay. He boasted Russia is well armed for any trouble.

Gromyko spoke at the closing session of the winter meeting of Russia's parliament, the Supreme Soviet. He also urged a ban on nuclear weapon tests without controls which the West considers necessary.

Diplomats in Washington said they found nothing new in Gromyko's speech. There was no immediate commen. from the State Department.

Presidential Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said in Washington that "no, sir" there would be no White House comment on Gromyko's talk.

If an end is not put to the Berlin crisis, Gromyko said, "the threat will further increase of West Berlin becoming a second Sarajevo."

This was a reference to the assassination of Archduke Ferdinand of Austria-Hungary at Sarajevo in 1914. The incident touched off World War I.

Premier Khrushchev has demanded that the United States, Britain and France pull their occupation troops out of West Berlin by June 1, leaving it a demilitarized free city surrounded by Communist East Germany. Western attempts to reach Berlin without East German permission would be aggression against the Soviet bloc, Khrushchev warned.

The West has pledged to stick with the 2,200,000 West Berliners, who overwhelmingly voted anti-Communist. It contends East Ger-

Gun-Toting Dad Admits Killing Son Wyatt Earp

CHICAGO (UPI) — Police today held a cowboy-fancying laborer who they said admitted accidentally killing his infant son while practicing fast draws in the family's gaily decorated apartment.

Dead was 14-month-old Wyatt Earp Bender, named after the legendary western marshal.

Bender told Police Lt. John McInery he donned a 10-gallon hat Christmas Eve and began fast-drawing with a .22 caliber Buntline special pistol, while little Wyatt Earp played on the floor with his father's .32 caliber pistol.

Bender said he had clicked the trigger several times, thinking the gun was unloaded, when the pistol suddenly fired. Wyatt Earp, who had toddled into the line of fire, was struck in the abdomen.

Bender, a furnace installer and father of five, had a collection of 23 guns, police said. The apartment's walls were punctured with 75 bullet holes.

McInery said the sobbing father admitted drinking three or four quarts of beer before shooting Wyatt Earp.

Holiday Snow Melts as Mercury Climbs

The white of Christmas was fading fast from much of Michigan today with the warmest temperatures since the onset of a pre-winter, snow-filled cold wave that blew into the state on Thanksgiving weekend.

The U.S. Weather Bureau predicts a low of 30 tonight in the Pontiac area and a high of 38 tomorrow with a chance of rain or snow.

And, what is more, the Weather Bureau predicts that over the next five days temperatures throughout the state will average 5 to 8 degrees above normal compared to 12-15 below normal last month.

Saturday will be warm with high of 36 to 40 in the Lower Peninsula and 30 to 34 in the Upper Peninsula.

The five-day forecast is for intermittent rain or snow in the Pontiac area and snow in the north, mainly Tuesday or Wednesday.

The lowest recording in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. was 12 degrees. The reading at 2 p.m. was 33.

New Post Office Building Proves Efficient in Rush

Pontiac's new $850,000 Post Office didn't fall behind once during this year's Christmas rush, although it handled more mail, acting Postmaster Robert C. Miller said today.

The more than 100 part-time workers hired to help handle the Christmas mail were laid off Monday, the earliest ever, Miller said.

With its added work space, modern postal equipment and mechanical letter facing table, the new building on West Huron street enabled the office to process three per cent more mail in less time than during the same period last year, he said.

The Pontiac Post Office dispatched 3,856,000 pieces of mail during the two-week rush period this year, compared to the 3,728,000 items sent out in the 1957.

Miller attributed this year's smoother operation to the increased postal facilities in the new building and "the public's cooperation in mailing their cards and packages early."

He added that all of the extra mail cases used each year during the holidays had been put back into storage by the first of the week.

"All of us were amazed to find out we had handled more mail and yet were not rushed this season," he said.

Miller said employes who had worked at the office for more than 20 years could hardly believe the comparative figures.

He said they thought this year to be the most relaxing and quickest flowing mail season for all concerned in the department.

Man Now 104 Ponders Move to Aged Home

READING, Pa. (AP) — Charles Bates lives alone in a one-room house where he cooks his own meals and gets along fine.

But at Christmas dinner with his great-granddaughter, Charlie announced he might move to an old folks home. He said he would make up his mind after New Year's. There's no hurry.

Sears to Spend Millions on Ads

Announces Budget of $48,000,000 for 1959 Newspaper Space

CHICAGO — In 1959, Sears, Roebuck & Co. expects to spend $48,000,000 for newspaper advertising, amounting to 275,000,000 lines in about 1,000 newspapers.

The figures were revealed at a press conference here.

Sears will invest approximately $50 million dollars in its 1959 program of expansion and improvement.

In 1945, Sears spent $15,097,000 for retail advertising. In 1958, total retail expenditures are expected to reach $68,500,000.

Newspapers have traditionally received the major share of Sears' retail ad dollar. Newspapers received $443,258,000 from 1946 through 1958.

"Those figures are living evidence of how we value the importance of newspaper advertising," said Charles B. Kellstadt, president.

He explained that circulars are used in those cities where newspaper circulation patterns do not meet Sears' retail store marketing programs.

14 Ships Still Trapped in Montreal Harbor

MONTREAL (AP)—Ocean shipping from Montreal down the St. Lawrence River to Quebec City was immobilized over the Christmas holiday despite persistent efforts of ice-breakers to crack through ice that has trapped 14 overseas vessels in Montreal Harbor.

Comparatively mild temperatures had given hope that some of the ships might be freed by Christmas Day. Melting ice had raised the water level here to 54 feet, nine inches, close to spilling over the river's south shore banks.

Fireplace Ritual Gets Too Hot to Handle

CLIFFSIDE PARK, N.J. (AP) —Mr. and Mrs. Edward Perry thought it would be nice to spend Christmas around a roaring fireplace in the living room of their new home.

Report New Low-Cost H-Bomb

By LEWIS GULICK

WASHINGTON (AP) — Top scientists gathered today to swap ideas and report developments that could have great significance as the world races into the space age.

One advance report indicated that U. S. weaponeers may have come up with a new type of H-bomb—a lithium bomb packing a hydrogen-explosion punch at lower cost.

The report stemmed from observation of a strange air glow over the antarctic. This glow and a man-made aurora, the first ever sighted, were believed linked to U.S. atomic blasts last summer in the South Pacific.

IGY doings and other topics were among the 1,800 reports listed for presentation at the 125th meeting of the American Assn. for the Advancement of Science.

Top speakers included President Eisenhower's science adviser, Dr. James R. Killian; the association president, Dr. Wallace R. Brode; and the British biologist-writer Julian Huxley.

Hugh Odishaw, executive director of the U.S. National Committee of the IGY, told about the lithium discovery in reporting on IGY highlights in the journal "Science." The IGY is scheduled to end Dec. 31.

Odishaw said an eventide glow in the south polar skies had been spotted with sensitive instruments. The glow was attributed to lithium in the high atmosphere, not previously known to be there.

"A plain inference is that these new manifestations (the lithium glow) could be related to nuclear tests carried out during the same period as the IGY program," Odishaw said.

The United States conducted high altitude nuclear tests in the Pacific last August.

The Atomic Energy Commission declined to say whether it uses lithium, but some other scientists theorized that the antarctic glow means the AEC has found a less expensive H-bomb.

Their thinking ran thus:

Lithium, a lightweight metal could be placed in a bomb triggered by a conventional atomic bomb. Neutrons released by the A-bomb would change some of the lithium into tritium, a hydrogen explosive. Heat from the A-bomb blast would make the tritium fuse, causing the main hydrogen explosion—and all this in a fraction of a second.

The AEC has named tritum as a possible H-bomb material but has described only one process for making it. That is the more expensive, less handy method of manufacturing it beforehand through fusing atoms of deuterium, a form of heavy hydrogen.

Odishaw said the man-made aurora was seen by a New Zealand scientist over Apia, Samoa, last August. Odishaw said it evidently was related to the Pacific tests.

The more than 5,000 scientists listed to attend the scientific convention looked for a possible report by Dr. James Van Allen of Iowa University concerning the newly discovered radiation band that bears his name.

Petitions Are Filed by 13 for Circuit Judge Posts

The number of candidates for Circuit Court judge in Oakland County climbed to 13 today as the Secretary of State's Office in Lansing reported a last-minute rush to beat the Monday deadline for filing.

Filing their nominating petitions today were James C. Allen, Southfield city attorney and former mayor of Birmingham, and Wendell Brown, Farmington Township attorney and trustee.

Verne C. Hampton, Circuit Court commissioner since 1937, filed his petitions Wednesday for one of the five six-year terms on the bench beginning Jan. 1, 1960. Hampton, 55, of 3631 Brookside Dr., Bloomfield Township, was president of the Oakland County Bar Assn. in 1956.

Others who have filed petitions for the county's 6th judicial circuit are:

Incumbent Judges H. Russel Holland, Clark J. Adams, William J. Beer, Milton F. Cooney, Pontiac attorney since 1930, Frederick C. Ziem, county prosecutor Theodore F. Hughes of Berkley, former state representative, Ralph F. Finley of Berkley, justice of the peace, James Renfrew, president of the County Judicial Assn., and Stanton G. Dondero and Maurice A. Merritt, Royal Oak attorneys.

With the filing deadline three days away, the list already represents one of the largest turnouts of candidates for the Circuit Court bench.

One reason for this is that new fourth and fifth judgeships have been added since the last judicial election in 1953. The fifth was approved by the Legislature and Gov. Williams this year.

Although the large number of candidates thus far indicates that a primary election might be held Feb. 16, Mrs. Mabel Child, election clerk for the county, said such a primary won't be officially known until after the deadline has passed for any candidates that might withdraw from the race. They have three days after the Dec. 29 deadline to do this.

On the April 6 general election ballot there will be seven positions at stake, five six-year terms commencing Jan. 1, 1960 and two shorter terms.

One short term will begin July 1, 1959, for the purpose of putting the fifth judge to work six months before his full term begins in hopes of lessening the case load of the most heavily burdened circuit judges in Michigan.

The other short term is to fill the unexpired term of the late Judge George B. Hartrick, which ends Dec. 31, 1959.

Judge Beer, who presently occupies Judge Hartrick's seat after his appointment to it by the governor, is the only candidate among the 13 who has filed petitions for this short term.

Cooney and Hughes are the only candidates to file for the short term of the fifth judgeship. They also filed for full terms. All of the other candidates just filed for one of the five six-year terms.

The last judicial primary held in the county was in 1947. Prior to this one there was one back in 1935 when the balloting was on a partisan basis instead of today's non-partisan balloting.

Ike to Draft Messages at Farm

Eisenhower and Mrs. Eisenhower arranged to leave about midday on the 85-mile drive to their country home. They plan to stay through New Year's Day.

White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said last week the stay will not be a vacation. The President will use the time to work on his State of the Union message, budget message and economic report.

Hagerty said work also might be done on some special messages intended for Congress soon after it meets Jan. 7.

The Eisenhowers spent a quiet Christmas. The family dinner was attended by their son, Army Maj. John Eisenhower, their daughter-in-law and four grandchildren.

Canada to Buy U.S. Bomarcs

RCAF Also Reports First Flight of CF-105 Supersonic Plane

OTTAWA (UPI) — The Royal Canadian Air Force entered the missile age in 1958 with the government's decision to purchase the Bomarc ground-to-air guided missile from the United States.

The RCAF, in a year-end review, also noted "a milestone in the history of the Canadian aviation industry" with the first flight of the supersonic CF-105 Avro Arrow.

The statement included only 81 words of the craft urgently wanted by the RCAF, but undecided upon by the government. Prime Minister John Diefenbaker has promised a final decision on the Arrow by March 31.

Twice this year the U.S. has declined to buy any of the planes which would be ready for combat action by 1961. Without outside orders to cut production costs, the Arrow would be a terrific burden on Canada's defense budget.

Two Bomarc missile bases will be built in Canada, one in northern Ontario and the other in northern Quebec, while others may come later, the statement said.

Hunt Missouri College Head

Dr. M. E. Collins Sought After Failing to Return From Yule Service

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — The search for Dr. M. Earle Collins, president of Missouri Valley College, turned to Florida today without success.

His wife notified police at Marshall, Mo., when he did not return home from Christmas Eve church services.

A son-in-law, Jamie Hogue, said the 55-year-old college president planned to leave on Christmas Day for Orlando where the school plays East Texas State Saturday in the Tangerine Bowl football game. "We are not worried about him," he said.

A Western Union messenger and the train crew of the Atlantic Coast Line "West Coast Champion" went through the train when it stopped at Jacksonville today trying to find Collins, but he did not answer his name.

Repeated paging in the Jacksonville terminal where the train stopped failed to bring a response.

A check with airlines in Jacksonville brought no information either. He may have caught a plane somewhere in the west and made connections for Orlando. National is the only airline serving Orlando.

At Orlando, Coach Volney Ashford of the Missouri team said he assumed the president was on a train bound for Orlando.

Collins' car was found near the railroad station in Springfield, Mo., where a ticket agent identified a photograph as a man who produced a Frisco Railroad pass for travel to Birmingham. The agent said the man bought a ticket for Orlando.

A search was made of the train at Birmingham, Ala., but Dr. Collins was not found.

Julius Konye, 41, Inkster, was killed in a four-car accident on Inkster road Thursday.

Robert Nagy, 36, Erie, was killed Wednesday night when his car ran off a road and overturned near Monroe.

Albert Burakowski, 72, Grand Rapids, was killed Christmas Eve when he was struck by a car near his home.

Mrs. Clarice Andrews, 25, of Columbiaville, was killed Christmas Eve when the car in which she was riding collided with a truck about three miles west of Mount Pleasant.

Dr. P. Ralph Morehouse, 54, of Albion, was killed Wednesday night when he lost control of his car and struck a tree north of Albion.

Other fire victims were John Chilenko, 50, of Algonac, Edward Bowman, 29, of East Detroit and Mrs. Nevada Merriam, 79, of rural Mason County.

Chilenko perished when a blaze which firemen said was caused by defective wiring, swept his bungalow.

Mrs. Merriam suffocated in a fire at her home.

Bowman was killed in the explosion of a coal burning furnace at his home. Three of Bowman's six children were injured in the explosion.

A flash fire accompanied by an explosion at a Detroit apartment house chased about 100 dwellers into sub-freezing cold yesterday. None was killed. Five persons were treated for smoke inhalation, but no one was injured seriously.

Police said Kenneth Kaslander, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Kaslander, died at St. Mary's Hospital after he was thrown from his sled over the brow of the hill which drops sharply to a railroad track. The boy struck his head on the rails.

France Studies Plan to Reform Currency

PARIS (AP) — The French Cabinet meets today to consider currency reform. Speculation was that the franc would be devalued to enable French prices to compete in the European Common Market.

The Finance Ministry closed all French financial exchanges for the day "to avoid any inopportune reaction before the decisions which will be taken by the government."

3 MOVES STUDIED

Premier De Gaulle was believed to be considering three possible changes that might put continually shaky French finances on a solid basis:

1. Devaluation by 10 to 15 per cent from the present official rate of 420 francs to the dollar, a rate set in August 1957 by a 20 per cent devaluation.

2. Increasing the value of the franc 100 times by issuing 10-franc notes for present 1,000-franc notes.

3. Making the franc convertible into foreign currency within limits.

Devaluation would make the franc cheaper to buy for other members of the common market —West Germany, Italy, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg. This would lower the price of French goods, which generally are higher than those of the other five countries and therefore will be undersold in free trading within the market. The common market begins operation next Thursday.

Partially as a result of high French prices, the franc sells for less than the official rate. It has been at about 440 to a dollar but in anticipation of devaluation it dropped to 471 on Wednesday.

PSYCHOLOGICAL ASPECTS

Increasing the value of the franc 100-fold would be primarily an internal psychological move to make the franc look good by making it worth almost 20 cents, at least for the time being.

But it might also be coupled with devaluation to give France a basic unit of exchange almost equal to the sound deutschmark of West Germany, economically the strongest member of the market.

Convertibility might be ordered separately or with the other two moves. It probably would be limited to stocks and bond dealings on the Paris Stock Exchange.

Despite France's economic troubles, her top economic planner said Thursday night that "the 44 million Frenchmen of today have a standard of living one-half again higher than the 41 million of 20 years ago."

Etienne Hirsch warned, however, that partial unemployment is spreading and industrial orders are declining.

Striking Pilots Consider Truce

Third of Airlines Fleet Remains Grounded as Federal Plan Studied

By United Press International

About one-third of the nation's air carrier fleet remained grounded today while striking pilots considered a federal truce proposal to end a walkout against American Airlines.

A spokesman for the Air Line Pilots Association said only that the proposal still was being studied.

The truce plan was offered Tuesday by Leverett Edwards, chairman of the National Mediation Board and promptly accepted by the president of American Airlines.

The pilots' strike against American began last Friday, shutting down the airline in advance of the Christmas holiday travel rush. A company spokesman said if the pilots accepted the truce plan, American could not resume full operations much before Sunday, although some flights could begin immediately.

Meanwhile, twin walkouts against Eastern Airlines entered their 33rd day and appeared destined to continue through the Christmas holiday.

Striking mechanics voted to accept a new contract offered by Eastern, but negotiations with flight engineers, also on strike against the airline, remained deadlocked.

George Brown, president of the Miami, Fla., local of the International Association of Machinists, said he doubted if machinists would cross the engineers' picket lines.

Exhaust Fumes Fatal to Pontiac Trucker

If all the rural highways and roads and city streets in the U. S. were connected end to end, the total length would be sufficient to circle the globe at the equator 135 times.

Rochester Man Hurt in Crash

Ralph Craig Discovered Lying Near Wrecked Car in Avon

A Rochester man was in critical condition today at Pontiac General Hospital with severe head injuries suffered in a traffic accident early yesterday morning.

Craig has not been able to make a statement about how the mishap occurred, deputies said.

The car went off the road, striking a culvert and a large rock in front of a rest home, said deputies. Craig was thrown from the car, which was described as a total wreck.

Silent Atlas Travels Over Holy Land

WASHINGTON (UPI) — America's Atlas satellite was silent Christmas day as it soared through space on a course that took it over the Holy Land.

But the 4½ ton satellite was expected to get back in the communications business again soon.

A Defense Department spokesman said the "talking" space vehicle neither spoke nor wrote to its ground radio and teletype receivers at stations across the United States yesterday.

The Pentagon has cut communications tests with the missile to a "reduced schedule" until next Monday. It plans for a full program of voice and teletypewriter messages after then.

Minor Defects in Shell Don't Affect Egg Value

ITHACA, N. Y. (UPI)—A poultry scientist says minor defects in the appearance of eggs have been overemphasized to the public and this, according to J. C. Huttar causes producers and marketers to lose money.

Huttar, speaking at a meeting of poultry scientists at Cornell University, advised shoppers to disregard small egg-shell cracks, tiny spots of dirt, a few rough spots or a pinpoint blood spot. He called them minor defects and said eggs with such characteristics can be "perfectly palatable and nutritious."

Radar Measures Rain

ANN ARBOR (UPI) — University of Michigan scientists hope to learn a lot about the whys and wherefores of rain with the most powerful weather radar station ever put on wheels. The equipment can detect and measure rain drops 50 to 100 miles up in the sky. It is packed in a van and used in mountains and on lake shores.

The Day in Birmingham

Empty Bottles Offered in Exchange for Parcel

BIRMINGHAM — Postal employes in Birmingham feel they have earned a top rating for a comic situation. It happened during the Christmas rush.

Postmaster Roland Reese said that when a carrier was unable to make change for $1 on a 28-cent due postage parcel a housewife asked him if he would take 20 cents and three pop bottles.

On the serious side, Reese said that except for late-arriving mail, the local office is "all clear."

He said mail leaving Birmingham was heavier than last year, but there was a slight drop in incoming parcels and letters.

At Bloomfield Hills, operating its mounted routes for the first time, both incoming and outgoing mail had increased.

The five routes begun at the start of the Christmas rush smoothed out quickly, and experienced little trouble, according to Postmaster Wayne Mortimer.

Police and fire departments in the Birmingham, Bloomfield Township and Bloomfield Hills area enjoyed a quiet holiday. Only a few bump fenders were reported to break the calm, they said.

Birmingham Fire Dept. sent three trucks to Royal Oak Wednesday when a boiler exploded at the Royal Oak Wholesale Co. Fire Marshal George Scott said one truck was turned back before reaching the scene, however, since no fire developed.

The Birmingham Dept. of Public Works will start collecting Christmas trees along regular routes next Monday, it was announced by City Manager L. R. Gare. Tree pick ups will be discontinued Jan. 9, he added.

Charles Mortensen, Chamber of Commerce manager, said Jan. 3 is the final day for gift exchange in Birmingham stores.

Birmingham Junior League has named Mrs. Richard T. Denyes and Mrs. Robert T. Koch delegates to the Regional Conference of the Association of Junior Leagues of America. It will be held in Battle Creek Jan. 12-14.

John H. Hogshead, son of Mr. and Mrs. B. K. Hogshead of 1519 Henrietta St., tied for third place in the annual Lewis Prize Contest for excellence in public speaking at Denison University, Granville, Ohio, where he is a senior. Title of his speech was "Time—An Asset or Liability?" He was awarded $15.

2 Accidents Blamed on Slippery Roads

Two similar traffic accidents within 30 minutes of each other Christmas Eve and morning resulted in injury to five persons.

Two were hurt when a car driven by Arnold D. Hagadone, 25, of 2908 Harvey St., went out of control on slippery pavement on Auburn road near Leach road, Avon Township, and went into a ditch shortly before midnight Wednesday.

Hagadone was treated for minor injuries at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital. A passenger, Everett Mero, 25, of 4422 Homeside Dr., was in satisfactory condition this morning at the hospital.

Raymond C. Newton, 41, of 4418 Thornecroft St., Royal Oak, was driving south on Haggerty road near Richardson road, Commerce Township, early Thursday when his auto went out of control on the slippery road and struck a tree, deputies said.

Newton and his son Robert, 11, were treated at Pontiac General Hospital and released. His wife, Dorothy, 40, was admitted to the hospital and was reported in fair condition today.

West Stay in Berlin Can Start War: Reds

many has no authority to control Western military traffic to Berlin.

Gromyko said that "any attempt at aggression against (East Germany) may start a new big war in which millions upon millions of people would find their death."

"The flame of war would inevitably spread to the American continent, for today's military techniques have virtually eliminated the difference between distant theaters of war and those close at hand," he asserted.

The foreign minister added that Russia "has no objection to hearing proposals if the West has any —if those proposals are directed toward solving the problem and are not rejections of our solution." He again barred, however, unofficial Western suggestions that discussions of Berlin be linked with reunification of Germany.

Number of Polio Cases in County Reaches 64

Auto Output to Hit 5 Million

DETROIT (AP)—The auto industry, with thousands of its workers on overtime today and and Saturday, will turn out the five-millionth vehicle of the year sometime before Saturday night, Ward's Automotive Reports said today.

By Saturday night, Ward's said, the industry will have produced 5,036,345 cars and trucks in the U.S. compared with 7,165,415 by this time last year.

The auto industry statistical agency said that American manufacturers now are gearing production at a rate that would turn out six million passenger cars next year if the pace is continued throughout 1959.

Ward's said the demand for 1959 cars "continued to increase in the Dec. 11-20 period, brightening hopes for a 500,000-unit sales volume this month."

With the emphasis on overtime work to make up for production lost on the Christmas holiday, the industry scheduled 30.9 per cent more production this week than it had in the same week of 1957.

The holiday reduced car and truck output this week to 120,953 vehicles from the 159,369 last week but the total still was above the 92,342 in the corresponding week of 1957.

Highlighting this week's operation was the return to assembly by Chrysler Corp. following an 18-day strike at Dodge Main, which's Ward's said cost the company a 35,000-unit production loss.

Cold Weekend Ahead

Clear Skies to Continue

By United Press International

Sub-freezing temperatures over most of the north and north central United States were compensated for today by prospects of continued clear skies and little snow.

Northern New England and the eastern seaboard as far south as West Virginia and parts of Lower Michigan had sub-zero readings for the holiday weekend.

Southerly breezes, which brought Miami vacationers temperatures in the 70s, caused some rain along the Gulf coast, in southern Iowa and near the Great Lakes but most reports showed less than a tenth of an inch.

The plains states celebrated Christmas under clear to partly cloudy skies while scattered snow flurries from Colorado to Montana, all under an inch, accompanied temperatures just above freezing.

Along the Pacific coast, Washington and Oregon reported light rain and 40-degree temperatures extending as far south as upper California. A storm approaching the Pacific northwest was expected to bring more rainfall and possible snow in the high mountains.

In the southern Rockies and southern California, there was clear weather for Christmas. San Francisco reported 50-degree readings and little prospects for change.

Michigan GI's Body Found Along Tracks

ISMAY, Mont. (UPI) — The death of Pfc. Donald G. Martin, 20, Warren, Mich., was investigated today by officials of the Milwaukee Railroad and the government.

Martin's body was found Thursday along the railroad right-of-way near here. His luggage and cap were found on a Milwaukee Railroad passenger train traveling from Seattle to Detroit.

Authorities said the serviceman, en route home for the holidays, either jumped, fell or was pushed from the speeding train when it passed through Ismay last Monday.

Social Security and Retirement Plans

Railroad Workers Want 10 Pct. Raise

By RAY HENRY
Associated Press Writer

The railroad unions plan to press Congress hard for improvements in railroad retirement in 1959. And, they're optimistic about the chances of getting them.

Although the Assn. of American Railroads hasn't announced its stand on retirement improvements, it's almost a cinch to oppose them. The association has always opposed them in the past.

The main improvement the unions will ask is a 10 per cent increase in present payments to railway workers already retired. A similar increase was approved by Congress in 1956.

In 1958, the Senate passed a 10 per cent increase, but the raise failed in the House of Representatives just before Congress adjourned.

Probably the major case for the defeat in the House was a last ditch effort made by the railroad industry.

One railroad executive said the yearly tax increase necessary to make the improvements being considered would cost his company more than its net income in 1957.

Another said the higher taxes and scheduled wage boosts would be more than ten times the net income of its railroad during the first half of 1958.

Whether such pleas are likely to be effective in 1959, is strictly a guess.

Chairman Oren Harris (D-Ark.) of the House Interstate Commerce Committee has already predicted that the changes approved by the Senate in 1958 will be approved by Congress in 1959. Harris' committee usually must okay railroad retirement legislation before it goes to the House.

In addition to the increase in payments, the railroad unions plan to ask for a change in the retirement age of women workers, a raise in the amount of other income a person can receive and still collect railroad retirement and increases in the tax on both workers and the railroad companies.

Under the proposals, women railroad employes with less than 30 years of employment would be permitted to retire at 62 and collect reduced payments. This would put such employes on a basis similar to women workers covered by Social Security.

The unions also want retirees to be able to work and receive railroad retirement, with the earnings from the work not interfering with the payments until it reaches $1,200 a year. This also would be similar to present Social Security provisions.

The proposed changes would be financed by increasing the tax rates paid on a 50-50 basis by employers and employes. Exactly how the tax increases would come is not clear at the moment.

Presumably they would be similar to those approved in the bill which passed the Senate in 1958. Here's how they would have come:

On July 1, 1959, the tax rates would go up from the present 12½ per cent (6¼ per cent each for the employer and employe) to 15 per cent; in 1965 to 16 per cent; in 1970 to 17 per cent and in 1975 to 18 per cent.

The rates would be collected on all earnings up to $400 a month rather than the present basis of $350 a month.

Atlas Speaks Back to Young Engineer

First Space Voice After Eisenhower's

"This is Prado Dam United States Army Signal Research and Development Laboratory, Corona, Calif . . . . ."

Then Sam Findler read the President's now famous satellite Christmas message.

Tumbling through the dark void of space, the orbiting Atlas satellite picked up the transmission and broadcast it back to another tracking station at Ft. Sam Houston, Tex.

Thus, last Saturday, the voice of Findler, 34, became the first other than the President's to be broadcast from outer space.

The engineer from Neptune, N.J., told Thurday how it was done.

Early in November Findler headed an 11-man team that moved like a band of well equipped gypsies into the rolling foothills near Prado Dam, about 50 miles southwest of Los Angeles. Their job was secretary to set up a satellite tracking station and stand ready.

On a hillside a few hundred from a busy highway, Findler and his men set up the portable generator, radio direction finder, four large coil antenae and other material needed to track and talk to the satellite.

They managed to brush off questions by occasional passers-by. The team lived a few miles away in a Corona motel. They avoided the townspeople. There were many pinochle games in the motel room. Time dragged.

Then last week at Cape Canaveral, Fla., the Atlas blasted off with a fiery swoosh. The waiting for Findler and company had ended.

"The satellite arrived over Corona within two minutes of the predicted time and was within one half degree of predicted bearing," said Findler.

Since then Findler's team of Army and civilian engineers have kept an around the clock watch on the 4-ton satellite.

Findler read the President's Christmas message to the satellite Saturday as one of the station's communication experiments. Since then other messages by voice and teletype code have been transmittd to and re-broadcast back from the satellite.

The tracking station, one of four, will remain in operation as long as the satellite can broadcast.

Man Kills Self Proving Pistol Wasn't Loaded

Police said Michael W. Buckley, 35, was showing his .32 automatic to his mother-in-law, Mrs. Manuel Baesa, when she begged him to put it away.

"Don't worry," he said. "This isn't loaded. See . . ."

Weatherman Did His Part on Christmas Day

Christmas Day 1958 will go down in Pontiac's records as a perfect day weatherwise.

It was a white Christmas, with all that that implies. There was plenty of snow for sleds and skis and plenty of ice for skates. There was brilliant sunshine for everybody.

It was cold enough to satisfy the youngsters and to keep things from becoming sloppy, and it was mild enough to be comfortable for anyone properly dressed for a nice winter's day.

There was only a soft breeze, just enough to waft down the snow which covered the smaller branches of trees and shrubs with tufts that looked for all the world like bits of cotton. Enough new snow fell on Christmas Eve to leave everything covered with a perfect mantle of white.

Oakland County has enjoyed an unusually pleasant Autumn season. November was an almost perfect month all the way through Thanksgiving Day, with mild fall days and more than its usual share of sunshine. Then came a period of wintry weather, not too much snow but plenty of cold days and nights for so early in the season.

But, unusual for Michigan, it stayed cold quite steadily, so that everyone had a chance to become accustomed to it. Then came Christmas, a perfect day, with ample opportunity for the youngsters to use their new sleds and skates.

No one can foretell with certainty what the rest of the winter will be like, but the start has been pleasant indeed. And now, with the days beginning to grow longer, Winter holds out its assurance of happy times for all. There will be vigorous outdoor sports for the young, and the promise of Springlike days once more for those who may have lost some of their zest for throwing snowballs.

What MSUO Means to Oakland County

Few Oakland County residents are in a position to judge what a tremendous cultural impact the establishment of Michigan State University Oakland will have upon this whole area. But all are aware that big changes, wonderful opportunities, lie ahead for all who care to take advantage of them.

Many think of the new institution, now taking shape in the hills just east of Pontiac, as a place where Oakland County young people will be able to acquire a university education while residing in their own homes.

This, indeed will be one of the important opportunities which will result from the establishment of MSUO. But there will be many others.

There will be the opportunity for grownups to continue their education by studying at either the undergraduate or graduate level. In fact, those in charge of the new institution anticipate that it will prove an important factor in continuing adult education in the metropolitan area.

There are many other ways in which Oakland County residents will benefit in a cultural way. As MSUO grows, there will be increasing numbers of lectures available that will be open to the public. There will be musical events, and dramatic productions. There will be cultural exhibits to visit. There will be athletic and other events for entertainment.

All of these various fields of interest, and more, will be provided the people of Oakland County. It is a rich opportunity to contemplate.

Many of these opportunities already are available to a considerable degree through the presence of Cranbrook and its various allied institutions. Many Pontiac and Oakland County residents already are making use of these facilities. Many more should do so.

MSUO will add to these opportunities, and multiply them.

Oakland County long has been a recognized industrial center. It is growing steadily in that field. One has only to take a drive about the countryside to see the new factories which have been erected within the last half dozen years.

Now Oakland will be increasingly recognized as an educational and cultural center. Its life and the lives of its residents will become better rounded as a result.

It still will be a good place in which to work. It will also become a better place in which to live.

Echoes of the Day

After Christmas Items Are Tops in This Column Today

Dec. 26: When you wear that new necktie — but only if you think the donor will be watching.

of Auburn Heights, who wrote Santa Claus that all he wanted for Christmas was his dog who had disappeared. "Bully" came home Wednesday.

Getting an unusual Christmas present was

of Pontiac Lake, who last winter lost a big umbrella through the ice, which he had used for protection on windy days. He hooked it from the bottom Tuesday, still in good condition when dried out.

Bringing holly to Holly is

who has a four-foot specimen of the shrub that is symbolic of Christmas as a Yuletide decoration in her home in that village. It was sent to her from California.

Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Burnett

Here's congratulations and best wishes to Oakland County's

David Lawrence Says:

GOP Factions Battle Each Other

WASHINGTON — Republicans are still fighting Republicans in the Senate contest for the selection of a leader. Some of the group calling themselves "liberal" give the impression that they want to cease being an opposition party. They show an affinity for what the Democratic "liberals" advocate and perhaps belong in the Democratic Party. They seem to be intensifying a feud that could alienate conservative voters of the Republican Party throughout the country.

LAWRENCE

When Senator Bush of Connecticut says that he wants Senator Cooper of Kentucky elected leader so as to show that the party is looking to the future rather than to the past, he is by inference attacking Senator Everett Dirksen of Illinois, and the conservative group in the Senate.

The Illinois senator was a disciple of the late Senator Taft. He has supported the Eisenhower administration on every one of its vital programs, including "civil rights." The function of a Republican leader in the Senate today is not only to carry out by his own vote the wishes of the administration, but to persuade other Republicans to support the legislative program of the administration.

The "liberal" Republicans claim they are 100 per cent behind the Eisenhower administration and always have been. So the main problem is to keep the conservatives in line. Would a Republican "liberal" who condemns the conservatives be able to accomplish that feat, or would he widen the breach in the party?

To ask the question is to answer it, but the Republican "liberals" are talking as if it didn't matter whether or not they won the conservative Republicans to their side.

Both "liberals" and "conservatives" on the Republican side really went down to defeat in last month's congressional elections primarily because of the recession. The party in power always suffers when there's a recession. The voter didn't pass judgment on "liberal" or "conservative" issues. He voted his grievances, blaming the party leadership in the White House for economic ills it had not not created.

The next test will come in the approaching session of Congress when the administration announces its policies.

When the President's message is read to Congress next month it will be denounced by "liberal" Democrats because it will not recommend the spending of the billions they want to see spent. The administration will be on the defensive and it will need a veteran battler like Senator Dirksen who is experienced in political combat to inspire the Republican party generally.

President Eisenhower is the only man who can keep the "liberals" from breaking up the party and, judging by the firm way he has announced his stand on a balanced budget, the "spending" wing of the party cannot expect much encouragement from him. The issue of 1960 could well be between a depreciated dollar or a sound dollar. On that issue an overwhelming majority of the people will be found supporing a stable dollar.

The Country Parson

"How readily we get a feeling of brotherly love at church—only to lose it in the traffic on the way home."

Smiles

A compromise is when Junior is given the keys to the family car on a night when Mom and Dad intended to go out.

Dr. William Brady Says:

If You Have Weak Heart, Walk Your Way to Health

A Utah reader writes:

"Please send me your booklet CVD about heart and artery troubles. In the past three years I have had three coronary attacks. I take medicine all the time on doctor's order and I wish I could do without the quinidine, raudexin tablets and other things I have to take three times a day. Also I have to go to the doctor's office every two weeks to have blood pressure checked.

DR. BRADY

"All this is very costly for a person with no income except social security and miner's pension . . . I do hope the information in your booklet will help me some."

(Signed—)

Anyway the information in the booklet will do the Utah reader no harm. One reader told me that the CVD booklet (this stands for cardio-vascular degeneration, but don't let that worry you, for sooner or later we all degenerate) converted him from a gloomy character to a cheerful one. What particularly pleased him, he said, was the explanation of the value of good coffee for one with heart trouble.

Another reader says that for years he had "walked on eggs" because of his "weak heart" obsession, but the CVD booklet gave him the spirit to try a new remedy —graduated, (that is, gradually increasing) exercise, chiefly morning and evening walks, only a block or two at first, a block or two longer from week to week, until he found himself walking perhaps three or four miles a day, sometimes six miles a day and feeling just fine and dandy. Now, if he really had "weak heart" he wasn't letting it handicap him.

The Utah reader mentions quinidine and raudexin — I have not heard about the latter, but I assume it is a mixture of a rauwolfia derivative with dexedrine (amphetamine), though my guess may be wrong.

Quinidine, like quinine, is an alkaloid of cinchona. Some physicians believe it is preferable to quinine, to relieve such irregularities of the heart as auricular fibrillation, auricular flutter, speels of runaway heart (very rapid heart beat) and extrasystole (premature beat two or three times in the minute).

But I don't believe any of the drugs the Utah reader mentions is worth a nickel as prophylaxis or treatment, especially in the economic circumstance the reader describes. The whole business makes me sick.

And that hokum of "checking" the blood pressure every two weeks doesn't settle my stomach either. So I'm going out for a walk, to try to get this shameful picture out of my mind.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped, self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

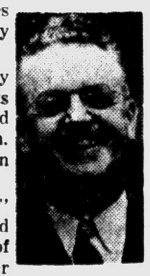
Sees Newspaper as 'University'

Mary's professor realizes the value of the daily newspaper as a teaching aid in high school. Thousands of college professors also employ the newspaper as collateral reading for various courses. Many dental and medical schools also use this clinical column to help furnish young doctors a wider perspective in Applied Psychology.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE A - 411: Mary L., aged 16, is a Kentucky high schooler.

As a rule I do not run letters from readers in this column nor do I use cases from my heavy mail.



DR. CRANE

For I employ actual patients who have talked to me in person. But Mary is an exception.

"Dr. Crane," she wrote, "I'd like a copy of your newspaper booklet on 'How to Lose 10 Pounds in 10 Days.'

"I read your column every night and enjoy it very much, for it teaches me a lot about people.

"And last term my English teacher asked us to pick out the one column in the newspaper which we liked best and then tell why we selected it as our first choice.

"Well, on that particular day, you had told about the death of your oldest son, so I picked that one.

"Next day in class my teacher had me get up in front of the room and read my essay. I also got an A, which was the highest grade in the entire class.

"Dr. Crane may God bless you and your family always."

REWARDS OF WRITING

One of the best rewards for writing an advice column is the evidence that what you say has helped somebody in a specific problem out on the firing line of real life.

Many alert teachers use the newspaper regularly as a source for classroom material, just as Mary's English teacher is doing, and that is wise.

For newspapers are written by specialists. Their foreign news comes from experts in analyzing political and economic conditions abroad.

The editorials are written by men who are similarly well versed in domestic, political and social problems.

Columns like this one, plus the medical and financial features, are also backed up by trained men, usually with doctor's degrees and much practical insight.

So don't carry onward the outmoded notion that a newspaper is just a gossip sheet or the latest scandal mongerer.

Instead, a newspaper is the most influential educational agency in our land! I'm not exaggerating.

When your local physicians engage in conversation at luncheon about politics or atom bombs, the source of their facts is usually the latest issue of this newspaper.

Lawyers and dentists and clergymen and other professional folks also rely on this newspaper for the facts and original data out of which they form their opinions or support their arguments in luncheon debates.

NEWSPAPER UNIVERSITY

In the vast majority of our cities, there is only one newspaper.

It holds a monopoly of daily printed information in its wide area so the responsibility devolving on the editor is tremendous.

A newspaper editor is really the President of the local newspaper university.

A paper with 10,000 subscribers thus has 30,000 daily readers. And newspaper readers remain "students" for their 52 adult years.

The average American is out of school forever by the age of 18, but he lives to be 70, so where does he obtain his further enlightenment and helpful advice, plus knowledge of sports and even comic entertainment?

From his newspaper university! Newspaper reporters thus should be compared to college professors and editors who wield far more influence than your state university presidents.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan enclosing a long 4c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his phychological charts and pamphlets.

Readers Discuss Accident Involving Teenage Boys

Someone has been misinformed about the accident Dec. 12 in which a boy was killed. It was a terrible thing, but it was an accident and could happen to the best of us. I heard the boys were going for a joy ride. The truth is they were taking one boy home who lives in Union Lake Village.

I know these boys and they may have been drinking but they weren't joyriding. I've talked to every one of them. I wonder if news reporters have done the same thing.

Rather Hear Truth Than Half Truth

The accident was tragic, but cars skid on ice and that might happen to anyone. It's terrible to pick up a newspaper and see the articles that are wrong. Why do real stories never get to the papers. I'm sorry to see so much about Mr. Mooney in the paper. I believe the boys went there for companionship and counseling, not for drinks or immoral acts. These boys aren't bad like the paper makes it sound. Our teenage students are fine young people. Let's hear from some of them.

'Eastman Should Check Downtown'

Mr. Eastman should concentrate on the downtown business district. We haven't surrounded all the numbers racket boys and girls. There's a pickup station for numbers in the downtown area on Saginaw street which was not raided. Neither was the north, west or east sides of town. There are players of all descriptions in these areas.

The tension still mounts because Evans says there will be more raids. Then the citizens will learn the "big" fellows are connected with the numbers racket as well as the "little" fellows that were picked up in the last raid. Being a clerk downtown, I know this racket exists in this area. Surround the big fellows and the little fellow can't operate.

People who have animals should see that the dog house is three or four inches off the ground, that the opening is covered with burlap to keep the wind out and the dog's chain should be at least eight feet long so he can get some exercise. Also see that the dog's collar isn't too tight.

Three dollars a pay (every two weeks) for those under $5,200 and 1½ per cent to those over. The three dollars will be entirely eaten up in the new insurance rates effective in January and the increase in social security and federal taxes. An employe earning more than $8,000, of which there are quite a few, will get an increase of $120 and up.

When I go to the grocer or butcher, he doesn't ask me what my wage classification is. The price is the same to me. Also the unemployment compensation clause is a joke. It's not retroactive and doesn't cover those recently laid off in the biggest layoff in a good many years. Locking the barn after the horse is stolen is the way it is now.

Army to Fly Dying Mom Back Home

ST. LOUIS (AP)—A last look at her native England has been promised to a young mother, dying of blood cancer.

Mrs. June Walter, 22, got the news from her husband, Charley, 25, on Christmas Day. The Military Air Transport Service will fly her to England to fulfill her most fervent wish—to die on her native soil.

"I knew God would answer my prayers if I wanted long enough," said Mrs. Walter from her bed in a hospital ward.

Lt. Gen. William H. Tunner, commanding officer of MATS, said, "We'll take her any time she wants to go."

Her departure hasn't been set, but doctors say it will have to be soon. Ill for four and a half months, Mrs. Walter has lost 31 pounds. She weighs only 80 pounds and is plagued with high fever and an inability to eat solid food.

$56 Million for Arms

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (UPI) — The Yugoslav National Assembly approved yesterday a 1959 federal budget calling for a $56,700,000 increase in defense spending.

Holiday in U.S. Marred by Scenes of Violence

By United Press International

Greed, drunkenness, lust and pride — together with other motives as varied as the true Christmas spirit is singular — today occupied police and families following a wave of holiday violence.

Murder and accidental death came as suddenly and tragically as at any time of year, but in some cases the fatal mechanism seemed to be tripped by seasonal anticipation and fatigue.

Most pathetic were those instances in which children were involved.

In San Francisco, five-week-old Mark William Netherby died when his father William, 22, over his wife Rita's protests, muffled the boy's sobs with a pillow, the mother told police. The infant was dead when she went to pick him up this morning.

In Mobile, Ala., expectant mother, Mrs. Troy Bolt, 34, apparently made light of a giant carton her intoxicated husband brought home on Christmas Eve, police reported. A subsequent quarrel resulted in death by gunshot wound, said authorities. They held her husband in connection with Mrs. Bolt's shooting and also the death of their three-week premature infant, delivered by caesarian section following the shooting.

Two children in Dayton, Ohio, first supported and later denied an account of their mother's suicide told by their father, Otis Fox, 39. Police continued interrogation of Fox, who denied shooting his wife Parine, 42, Christmas morning as the children watched.

In New York, a neighbor calling to wish a mother and her two small children a Merry Christmas found all three shot to death yesterday. Orlando Couret told police he found Mrs. Anna Figueroa, 22, sprawled on the floor of the one-room apartment and her children, Alfredo, 3, and Eugenia, 5, in bed. Police began a search for a former suitor of the woman who was said to have threatened her.

Kreste Glenzda, 52, was in critical condition in a Gary, Ind., hospital today, the lone survivor of a Christmas Eve triple shooting. Police said 32-year-old Metro Planovich apparently went berserk with a .32 caliber pistol, killing Milarod Tomasich, wounding Glenzda and then shooting himself.

Apparently trivial issues were at stake in two murders:

— A quarrel over Christmas dinner in Paramus, N.J., climaxed when Mrs. Therese Olinsky, 31, plunged a 10-inch blade carving knife into her husband, Edward, 32, police said. Investigators revealed the couple had been drinking before the argument began.

— A dollar debt started a Washington, Wis., fight which ended in the death of Adam Ahneman, 80, the sheriff's office said. Preliminary investigation, officers reported, showed 28-year-old Lauren Severson and a friend, Bernard Moe, 40, were visiting the elderly bachelor when Moe claimed Severson owed him a dollar.

When Ahneman tried to call police to stop the fight, said investigators, Severson struck Ahneman twice on the head, killing him.

Police at Spartanburg, S.C., reported that Jimmy Lee Jones, about 38, hacked his wife and mother-in-law to death with an axe to climax a pre-dawn argument Christmas Day. Victims were identified as Helen Jones, 35, and her mother, Mrs. Minnie Rice. All three had been drinking, authorities said.

Michigan Rated High in Road Death Drop

LANSING (AP) — Michigan was second only to Montana in per cent of reduction of highway traffic fatalities in a recent two year period, Secretary of State James M. Hare said today.

He quoted figures from a national Safety Council study comparing the first nine months of 1956 with the corresponding 1958 period.

On this basis, Michigan achieved a 26 per cent reduction. Montana's was 28. Nearly all large industrial state's normally compared with Michigan registered some improvement, but Pennsylvania's 18 per cent dip was closest to Michigan.

Rochester Man Held in Holiday Shooting Attempt

Oakland County sheriff's deputies arrested Charles Fultz, 39, of 108 South St., yesterday afternoon after he had allegedly fired a shotgun blast at a neighbor, Milford Frayley, 39.

Deputies said the two men lived in separate cabins at the same address. According to witnesses Fultz and Frayley had gotten into an argument shortly before the incident while at a friend's cabin.

Woman, 73, Hurt in Collision of 2 Cars in City

A 73-year-old woman suffered minor injuries yesterday afternoon when the car in which she was riding collided with another at the intersection of N. Cass avenue and Lafayette street.

She was a passenger in a car driven by Clifford Moody, 73, of the same address, which collided with one driven by Donna E. Coe, 17, of 392 Lowell St.

Eisenhower said he will send Mitchell's nomination to Congress soon after the lawmakers reconvene next month.

Bargainers Hunt Solution to N.Y. Newspaper Strike

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

NEW YORK (AP)—Negotiations return to the bargaining table today in an effort to restore peace in the city's newspaper industry, throttled by a 17-day-old deliverers' strike.

Presses at the city's nine major dailies remain idle as federal mediators sit down again with representatives of the striking deliverymen and publishers of the nine papers.

The talks recessed Wednesday on a faint glimmer of hope. Federal mediator Walter A. Maggiolo said he and other mediators were "quite encouraged by the continued progress being made and the atmosphere in which the parties' deliberations are being conducted."

Mediation Commissioner Bernard J. Forman aid Thursday: "We are always hopeful that any session might produce a turning point."

About 15,000 of the papers' 20,000 employes have been furloughed. Many are members of nine other newspaper unions, all AFL-CIO, which are not supporting the independent Deliverers' Union.

The papers closed down Dec. 11, two days after the deliverers' struck. Another 5,000 employes are still on the job on a standby basis.

The strike has been a mounting drain also on newspaper management. Pre-Christmas advertising and circulation revenue losses exceeded 20 million dollars.

Unless there is sudden and rapid settlement, New Yorkers are likely to pass the long holiday weekend without the 5½ million newspapers they usually consume daily and the 8½ million they buy on Sundays. This would be their third Sunday without major city newspapers.

The deliverers' membership turned down a publishers' offer of $7 a week over two years — a formula accepted by the Newspaper Guild of New York.

The deliverers have been demanding a wage raise plus a shorter work ewek, an extra holiday and an absentee replacement system.

34 Escape Death in Plane Crash

Christmas Eve 'Miracle' Happens After Airliner Explodes Near Vienna

VIENNA, Austria (AP)—Thirty-four persons, including five Americans, escaped Christmas Eve when a four-engine airliner crashed and burned near Vienna's airport. There were no deaths, and only three persons were hospitalized.

"It certainly was a miracle to escape from a burning and exploding plane without a scratch," said Miss Shirley Hindman, 34, of San Bernardino, Calif. The Viennese are calling it the Christmas Eve miracle.

The plane, an Air France Constellation, smashed into a muddy field about a mile and a half short of the airport runway and burst into flames. The 28 passengers and 6 crewmen scrambled out.

The pilot of the plane was the most seriously hurt, suffering head and hand injuries and a broken arm. The flight engineer also suffered leg and hand injuries.

Mrs. Emily Nilsen, whose husband lives in Norway, was the only American seriously injured. She was burned.

Hal Boyle Says:

Adults Too Tired to Be Anything But Good

They haven't the strength to be anything else.

Worn out with the wassail bowl the struggle to put up the Christmas tree, the annual turkey bout, they appease the aching head with aspirin and the rebellious stomach with bicarbonate of soda.

Half the children's new toys were broken the night before, and the other half — including, thank heaven, the drum—will be broken by this nightfall.

But millions of Americans, stretched out on the living room couch and half-listening to a wife humming in the kitchen as she sets about preparing turkey hash, know a strange contentment.

This is the season when man likes to review the dying year. Joe Blow, the typical American, lying there on his living room couch, might put it this way—if he talked out loud:

"When you get right down to it, 1958 has been pretty great.

"I started the year running scared, but it hasn't been half bad. Not bad at all.

"The guy down the street lost his job, but he got another one three months later, and seems to be doing all right now. Everybody else in the neighborhood is working, too—whether he wants to or not.

"The boss has been pretty good to me. I thought last July he'd skip the yearend bonus this time, but he made it again—although he did say he didn't know how much longer he could stay in business. But he's been saying that ever since I was an office boy.

"The wife says things keep getting higher and higher, and a dollar won't buy what it used to. But looking back, I guess it never did. I guess inflation is a big danger, but I don't see what a guy my size can do about it—except join everybody else in viewing the problem with alarm.

"We managed to put a few more bucks in junior's college fund. There's no point in brooding about that now though. Unless his report card starts showing some improvement he won't even be able to get admitted to a reform school.

"We been mighty lucky in one way. There hasn't been much sickness in the family. As a matter of fact, average guys like me have to stay healthy. Only rich people and poor people can afford to be sick today. It costs more to deworm a dog now than it used to cost to threat appendicitis.

"I thought sure this year one of those double-dome scientists would come up with a cure for baldness and the common cold, but no—all they think about is lobbing bigger and bigger baseballs into space.

"But, anyway, as long as they are busy doing that they don't have time to throw bombs back and forth. We still seem to have a new international crisis every day, and I guess it would be a real surprise to wake up some morning and find we only had yesterday's crisis to worry over.

"So what? We still got peace, and any year they don't blow the bugle—well, it's a good year."

"Joe, tear yourself away from that couch, and get out here and take out the garbage."

"Peace in the world, yes, but peace in this house—never!"

Bill to Protect Newsmen Due

N.Y. Legislator Seeks Law Allowing Secrecy on Information Sources

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — A state legislator plans to file a bill Monday to make newsmen immune from having to disclose their sources of information.

Assemblyman Edwyn E. Mason (R-Delaware County) said Wednesday New York was the center of the news-gathering field and needed such legislation more than any other state.

He said his bill would grant to newsgatherers in the newspaper, radio, television and magazine fields the same type of professional immunity held by doctors, lawyers and clergymen.

Members of those professional groups cannot be compelled legally to disclose confidential relationships in connection with their work.

Mason's bill will be acted upon in the legislative session that begins Jan. 7.

The announcement of his plans came against the background of a current case in which a newspaper columnist refused to divulge a source of information and was sentenced to jail.

Marie Torre, television columnist for the New York Herald Tribune, was sentenced to 10 days in jail by a federal judge for refusing to tell the source of an item about Judy Garland.

Miss Garland is suing the Columbia Broadcasting Co., and Miss Torre had been called as a witness in the suit.

The U.S. Supreme Court recently refused to review Miss Torre's case and she faces the jail sentence.

He noted that 12 states now have statutes providing immunity for newsmen. He listed them as Arizona, Alabama, Arkansas, California, Indiana, Kentucky, Maryland, New Jersey, Michigan, Montana, Ohio and ennsylvania.

'Copters Near Air Crash Site

Will Try to Approach Alaska Wreck Where 15 Presumed Dead

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (AP) — Heavy-duty Army helicopters today were scheduled to attempt a hazardous landing near the wreckage of an Air Force cargo plane that crashed high on volcanic Mt. Iliamna Monday, apparently taking 15 men to their deaths.

The wreckage was sighted on the snow-covered side of the mountain Thursday by a veteran Alaska bush pilot, Don Sheldon of Talkeetna, who reported to the Air Force that he saw no sign of life.

Sheldon piloted his small private plane very low through seething currents of air to make certain that the wreckage spotted Wednesday was positively that of the four-engined C54 that had been the object of a three-day search.

Sheldon said the demolished plane was in a box canyon at the 7,600-foot level. Sulphuric fumes from the heart of the volcanic mountain rise constantly around the wreckage, he said.

The Air Force described the crash scene as being one of the most inaccessible spots in the world. The air is in constant turbulence, making air navigation around the area extremely hazardous. The turbulence forced light Air Force helicopters which attempted a landing to turn back.

Santa's Helper Walks Away With Bicycle

Police said two women were trying to load a bike into the back of a car Thursday when the man walked up, exchanged Christmas greetings, and offered to help.

The bicycle loaded, the women walked back into the house. When they returned a moment later the bike was gone. So was the volunteer helper.

John Posch of Palmyra owns a keeshond dog that has been trained to clean his paws in a pan of water by the door before entering the house.

COUNTRY OF CAPITALISTS — Nowhere in the world is the ownership of capital as widespread as in the United States. Preliminary figures show that in 1957 some 328.4 billion dollars in income (not including Social Security and pensions) was shared by Americans. As sketches above illustrate, bulk of this money went to employes or the self-employed. Added together, this was 286.9 billion, or 87.4 per cent of the total. Payment for the use of savings (interest, dividends or rent) amounted to 41.5 billion, or 12.6 per cent. This latter group was made up, in large part, of the same people in the working category.

Five Murdered in Bush Village

1 Woman, 4 Men Shot Christmas Morning in Remote Canadian Town

EAR FALLS, Ont. (AP) — Four men and the 17-year-old wife of one were shot to death early Christmas morning in this remote Canadian bush country village. Police said the woman might have been raped.

The son of one of the dead men was to be charged with murder today, Inspector Tom Corsie of the Ontario provincial police said.

One of those killed was police constable Calvin Russell Fulford, 28, who was called away from his wife and three small children to break up a brawl in a one-room log cabin.

Corsie said police still were trying to find out what provoked the shooting. But the clothing of the dead woman, Mrs. James Gordon, had been torn and she was bruised indicating she might have been raped.

The others killed were Gordon, 26; Albert Young, 47; and George Williams, 47.

Young's son Tom, 27, was being held.

Police from nearby towns hunted today for clues and sought witnesses. A Toronto police pathologist was to perform autopsies in Kenora, 75 miles south of Ear Falls. This community of about 500 persons gathered around a hydro-electric dam is 200 miles northeast of Winnipeg.

Baby Saved by Father's Quick Run

FLINT (AP) — A Christmas tragedy was averted yesterday when quick thinking saved the life of a 14-month-old Flint girl.

Credit as lifesavers went to Roy Berry, father of tiny Mary Elizabeth Berry, and fireman Daniel Hayes.

Berry raced barefooted down a frozen street with his daughter to Feint's Northside Fire Station after she lapsed into unconsciousness. Hayes revived the infant with mouth-to-mouth respiration.

Fireman said Mary Elizabeth became unconscious when mucus formed in her throat. She was treated at a hospital and released.

Purpose: Earn enough money to repair their 40-year-old sloop so that they may continue their trip to the warm Caribbean.

If you see an ad like that in your newspaper, it'll be signed by Thor Rasmussen, 26, Monterey, Calif.; Charles Lowell, 26, and Christopher G. Williams, 25, both of Carmel, Calif., ex-servicemen and juniors at San Jose, Calif., State College.

The trio decided on a sightseeing trip a year ago. They worked during the spring and summer, pooled their resources, bought an old station wagon and left California for Maine, Aug. 19. There they purchased a 12-horsepower boat, the "Wendell," for $650 and set off for Florida and the tropics.

The sailors got their boat back Wednesday, with the aid of a marine salvage firm.

3 Die on Trestle After Ignoring Yell

ALEXANDER CITY, Ala. (AP) —"I kept yelling to them to jump. Why didn't they do what I told them? I kept yelling at them."

The plaintive words were spoken by Warner Grimsley, 19, who leaped 20 feet into the Tallapoose River to escape a train that killed three hunting companions on a railroad trestle Christmas Day.

Grimsley was treated for shock at a hospital in this central Alabama city. He said the train appeared as he was walking along the trestle with Jean Huggins and Sara Thomas, both 16, and Dwayne Hodge, 19, a college student. The victims' parents are prominent in Alexander City.

Part of Queen's Speech Drowned by Anthem

LONDON (UPI) — The British Broadcasting Corp. drowned out the first eight words of Queen Elizabeth's Christmas Day broadcast yesterday with the final bars of the national anthem.

It admitted the son, "God Save The Queen" still was being played when the queen began her speech. A spokesman called the incident "unfortunate" and said an investigation was under way.

3 Face Charges in Murder 'Plot'

Mother, 2 Men Accused in Olga Duncan Death to Be Indicted

VENTURA, Calif. (AP) — Murder indictments will be sought today against a mother and the two men she is accused of hiring to carry out a jealousy-inspired plot to kill her daughter-in-law.

More than 12 witnesses have been subpoenaed for the grand jury investigation of the slaying of Olga Duncan, 30, including her husband, Frank Duncan, a Santa Barbara lawyer.

Duncan, who disappeared Sunday, was found Thursday night in Hollywood living under an assumed name. There is no charge against the 30-year-old lawyer but he is regarded as a key witness in the case.

Four police officers, acting on a tip, found Duncan. They refused to disclose where the tip came from or where Duncan was staying.

Dist. Atty. Roy Gustafson has said he will ask the jury to return murder indictments against Dun-Duncan, 54; Augustine Baldonado, 25, and Luis Moya, 22.

All three are in custody. Baldonado is reported to have told the police Mrs. Duncan promised him and Moya $6,000 to kill her son's pregnant bride. Authorities say Baldonado admitted he and Moya lured the Canadian nurse from her apartment on the night of Nov. 17, beat and choked her to death, and buried her in a lonely area 20 miles north of this Southern California coastal town.

Both Mrs. Duncan and Moya have denied any connection with the murder.

'Blue Collar' Workers Heading for Farm

ITHACA, N. Y. (UPI)—A recent survey shows that while white collar workers are moving from the city to the suburbs, "blue collar" workers appear to be heading for the farm.

The study, made by the New York State College of Home Economics at Cornell University, shows that about half the farm houses in western New York State are occupied by craftsmen and industrial workers.

A Broadwayite with a bad cold was seen going out into the zero weather bareheaded. Chided by a friend, he said, "I want to get pneumonia; I can get cured of that!" . . . Christmas Trees Are for the Birds

So Set Yours Up to Aid Feathered Friends After Holidays

EAST LANSING (AP) — Christmas trees are for the birds, says Charles Shick of Michigan State University.

Shick really isn't a kill-joy. He's a game management specialist and he wants everyone to save their trees after the holidays.

He said they make fine bird-feeding stations when placed in an upright position in the yard.

It's nothing to crow about, but some of our feathered friends refuse to duck down South for the winter. Then there are the owls who don't give a hoot about the weather.

But, these bird-brains have to be fed and table scraps tied to an old Christmas tree will do nicely.

And it may be hard to swallow, but birds can get indigestion, too. They need some grit and a pan of fine gravel next to the tree will fix them up.

Warning: It's no lark once you start these handouts. You've got to keep them coming until spring.

It seems the birds get accustomed to being fed. If you stop, they may starve before they find another charitable people-brain.

Bob Considine Says:

Agri-Dynamics U.S. Answer to Red Threat

NEW YORK — One of the most chilling statements ever uttered by Russia's Nikita Khrushchev was made to the Hearst Task Force sometime ago in Moscow.

Swinging his arms vigorously, Mr. K. turned to Bill Hearst, Frank Conniff and this correspondent and said: "We will sink you; We will bury you. In five years, we will be producing more meat and grain than the United States."

His boasts have proved no idle threat. The Soviets have markedly upped staple food growth, and startlingly boosted meat production.

But I have news for Khrushy.

The farmers of the United States are not taking that sort of challenge sitting on their furrows. In fact, tremendous new strides are being made to keep agriculture apace the Atomic Age, the Jet Age, the Electronics Age, the Space Age.

Rocognizing that perhaps the major battle between the free and Communist idealogies could be fought in the world's breadbasket, the Nation's food growers have come up with a new term: "The Agri-Dynamics Age."

The new agricultural revolution, which pales the nation's first industrial revolution, is mirrored dramatically when one notes that despite a drop of 50 per cent in the total farm population in the last two decades, the consumption of foods of animal origin has increased more than 50 per cent.

this has resulted in giant strides in food production technology, utilizing and even vanguarding methods of the Electronics-Jet-Nuclear ages.

Agri-Dynamics encompasses such challenging strides as the use of tranquilizers, antibiotics and hormones in feeding poultry and meat animals, which sensationally aid growth, cut disease loss and diminish operational costs. Use of antibiotics in feed indicate that egg shells can be made stronger to combat any shipping breakage, or even junior's rough-house on the way home from the grocery store; and one agricultural scienist for Chas. Pfizer & Co., Inc., recently experimentally utilized Gibberellin — a spectacular plant growth stimulator—to grow cabbage plants 12 feet tall.

Preliminary tests further indicate Gibberellin makes meat animals larger and saves feeding costs for dual savings. It may well be the secret of how Jack grew his giant beanstalk and what Paul Bunyan fed his tremendous blue ox. Certainly, Gibberellins helped lend accuracy to Rodgers and Hammerstein's, "corn as high as an elephant's ear."

But the biggest problem facing the nation's agriculture industry is manpower.

To combat this shortage of manpower, agriculture leaders from throughout the nation will meet in Washington next month at the invitation of the Pfizer Company to launch a program aimed at keeping a fair share of the cream of the country's youth "down on the farm."

The program recognizes that youth is being attracted in ever growing numbers to all facets of the Space Age. The plan will stress that the new Agri-Dynamic Age umbrellas virtually all other challenging fields including electronics, automation, atomic and space; and, that regardless of the career of their choice, young men and women can find it in agriculture — engineering, law medicine, banking, journalism, advertising, marketing, selling, et al.

The farmer and rancher will be as important as the man shouldering whatever weapon the new ages decree in the fight for peace, and if the new agri-dynamics man meets any forthcoming crisis like his forbearer, Khrushy had better revamp his claims.

Agriculture is the nation's number one industry. Of 62 million employed Americans, 25 million work somewhere in agriculture — 10 million on farms, 6 million produce for and service farmers, and 9 million process and distribute farm products. In addition, a quarter-million scientists directly serve agriculture. It is 50 times bigger than the steel industry. Corn alone is America's greatest crop. It is worth more than all the petroleum drawn from our oil wells, worth more than all the coal dug from our mines. Each year the U.S. grows enough corn to fill a 15,000 mile long freight train, long enough to cross the U.S. five times — 85 million tons —worth over four billion dollars.

Our population is increasing at the rate of 2,500,000 yearly—and annually we take on more responsibilities for helping feed less fortunate nations. Yet, there are 35 per cent fewer farmers today than in 1940, even though the production of food and fiber is up 44 per cent.

The country has got to have more fellows down on the farm, and apparently they are going to do something about it starting in January from a private enterprise level, which is only proper, aligned against Mr. K's. state and collective pitch.

While the number of births in the United States still exceeds 300,000 a month, there was a drop of 7,000 births in the first three months of 1958 compared with the first quarter of 1957.

Dear Abby...

These Neighbors Live Cheap on Groceries They Borrow

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

"Dear Abby: Although I am a mother and grandmother I still can't figure out a way to solve my problem. We have a neighbor and she has three children. She works steady and so does her husband, but every day, they send one of the children over to borrow something. It's either eggs, bacon, bread, butter, sugar or flour. Even matches and cigarettes.

ABBY

"They never return a thing. Once she did return two carrots because she was ashamed to ask for a quart of milk without returning something. I have offered to make her up a grocery list when I make mine up so she won't be caught without some item, but she says, 'Don't trouble yourself.' What can I do? I haven't the nerve to tell her off."

NO NERVE.

Dear No: As long as you are short on nerve, you'll never be long on groceries. Simply tell the borrowers you are "out" and after a while they'll catch on and realize they too are "out" (of luck, that is.)

"Dear Abby: I've got my type man all picked out, but I can't find him. I want a Western type man and he has got to be slim and tall. I can't stand a man who has a big stomach and wears a tight belt. And also I wouldn't mind taking orders from a man if he had a deep voice. He can be anywhere from 40 to 55. I own a nice little cattle ranch all by myself, so I don't need no more income to mess up my taxes. Where is he?"

"BABE."

Dear Babe: He's probably looking for YOU!

"Dear Abby: I am 23 and have liked this man who is 27 for almost two years now. We work in the same place. He calls me almost every night and we talk on the phone sometimes two or three hours. He talks sweet words and love talk on the phone, but he never asks me out. He makes good money and lives at home so I know he isn't hard up. He says the sound of my voice on the phone gives him a thrill. How can I get him to ask me out?

TELEPHONE SWEETHEART

Dear Tel.: As long as he can get a "thrill" for a dime, he is not going to ask you out. Don't trip on his line—next time he calls give him the "busy" signal.

"Dear Abby: My first husband passed away and I remarried. The parents of my first husband have kept in touch with me and still treat me like a daughter. The parents of my second husband resent this. They say my deceased husband's parents belong in the past and I should forget them.

"My present in-laws do not conceal their displeasure when I have a family party and include my first in-laws. I want to stay on the right side of my present in-laws, but don't know how to handle it."

OVER IN-LAWED.

Dear Over: Your present in-laws are wrong to resent your continued friendship with your deceased husband's parents. Don't rankle them by inviting them to the same parties, but make it clear that out of respect to the memory of your first husband you will not drop them.

Married Christmas Day at a home wedding were Dorothy Jeanne Irwin and William A. Seabright. Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. John K. Irwin and Mr. and Mrs. Edward Seabright.

MRS. WILLIAM A. SEABRIGHT

Wed in Christmas Rite

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. John K. Irwin of Dellrose drive and Mr. and Mrs. Edward Seabright of Flourtown, Pa.

The bride wore a peacock-blue raw silk dress with an Empire waistline, boat neck and three-quarter-length sleeves. She carried a colonial bouquet of white camellias and holly.

Mrs. Robert Nelson of Ann Arbor was her only attendant. Best man was Gaitskill Barr of Franklin.

The newlyweds are graduates of the University of Michigan College of Architecture and Design. The bride is affiliated with Sigma Kappa Sorority.

They will live in Northville.

Present Groom in Line

By EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post: Since my fiance is from another state he does not know many of my relatives and friends, and will not have the opportunity of meeting them before the wedding. Should I introduce him to the guests while standing in the receiving line, and if so how do I go about this? Or do you think it would be better to wait until later when mingling with the guests to introduce him?"

Answer: You introduce him to the guests as they come up to you in the receiving line, saying, "John, this is Aunt Mary;" to an acquaintance, "Mrs. Jones, this is John" or very formally, "Mrs. Smith, may I present my husband?"

"Dear Mrs. Post: A group of friends were discussing the sending of birth announcements to friends who had been invited to a stork shower. Some of them said it was perfectly proper to send them, but others said it was a bid for another present and that it was not proper to send them to those who already gave presents at the shower. I would appreciate knowing what is correct in this situation."

Answer: You send birth announcements to all who you think will be interested whether or not they were at the shower. Those who have already given a present are certainly not expected to give another.

"Dear Mrs. Post: Within the next two weeks my employer's wife is going to have a baby. My problem is this—Should I, or should I not, send a baby gift? I have worked for my employer almost two years. I have talked to his wife several times on the telephone but I have never met her. I want to do what is proper. Can you help me?"

Answer: Congratulate your employer when the baby is born but do not send a gift when you do not know the mother well.

She Puts Religion Into TV

NEW YORK (UPI) — Many of us "get religion" only at Christmas and Easter, but for Miss Doris Ann, religion is a year-round thing.

As the only woman "full producer" in television, she specializes in religious programs. In addition, she produces programs about political conventions, medicine, child care and special public service shows.

"It's every producer's responsibility to bring into the American home, programs that are rewarding and stimulating to the American way of life," Miss Ann said in an interview.

A tall (5 feet, 8 inches), glamorous blonde, Miss Ann (real name, Doris Ann Scharfenberg) first worked as a personnel director in the needles trades industry. She began her network career in 1944 as a personnel interview. In 1951, she was named director of television religious programs for her NBC network.

"My first show was a mobile unit program, because I was sure people would be there," she said.

One memorable program was a film on the late Pope Pius XII. Miss Ann spent 25 minutes in private audience with the Pope, talking about the film. During his final illness, she was on call seven days a week, often working until 3 a.m.

She also films pictures in other countries and recently went to Israel.

"We spent eight weeks, but I didn't see a sight. We worked six days a week, so on my one day off, I did paper work. It cost us $3,000 a day to film, so we couldn't waste time," she said.

"On our return trip, we arrived in New York at 7 a.m. on a Sunday. By 10 a.m., I was in the editing room.

"But," she added, "working in another country is more rewarding than regular traveling. We aren't tourists. We work with foreign crews and go into their homes."

For such trips, Miss Ann must know foreign banking exchanges and a smidgin of the language.

What Young People Think

Civic-Minded Teeners Put Elders to Shame

By EUGENE GILBERT
Gilbert Youth Research Co.

Need something done in your town? Ask the teenagers! Most youngsters are doing volunteer work for their communities now and the majority want to do even more.

Replies to our questions in a nationwide poll indicate that community - conscious teeners are putting many of their elders to shame, squeezing hours from their crowded schedules to work on varied projects.

"I like to do work helping others," said 14-year-old Linda Bobbe of Chicago in a typical comment.

In fact, the answers we received indicated that the picture of teeners spending their sparetime rock'n' rolling in black leather jackets and tight sweaters is for eight to most of the country.

Eighty per cent of the young people reported they are doing some sort of volunteer community work — charity fund raising, clean-up drives, hospital aide work, election campaigns or other projects.

EAGER TO HELP

And 71 per cent said they would like to do still more. More than half felt that their friends are doing as much public service work as they should, although a third thought their buddies should pitch in a little harder.

The biggest drawbacks to community work were called lack of time and opportunity.

"I think my friends would honestly like to devote more time to this sort of thing, but there are so many homework and school activities that there isn't much time left," explained 18-year-old Merle Robin of Montgomery, Ala.

Paul Mensh, 16, of New York City, listed the other big block to teenage volunteers:

"The organizations that I know of don't have much for teen-agers to do," he said. "They want to have older people help, who have more money."

'PUSHED ASIDE'

Some of the 'teeners, like 17-year-old Lori Collins of Philadelphia, complained that adults push teenagers aside.

"Every time the teenagers start to do something for this short of an organization, the adults interrupt and take over. They interfere too much with the projects that we think up to do," she said.

Almost two-thirds of the youngsters said they belonged to an organization such as Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, YMCA, YWCA or some other recognized group.

Another 16 per cent said they would like to join such a group.

Reasons for joining were varied, but all reflected a sense of responsibility to themselves and their communities.

"I belong to the Young Democrats and I think organizations like this give teens a sense of responsibility," commented 19-year-old Louis Curtiss of Imperial Beach, Calif.

"It teaches us to work together and gives us a feeling of belonging, explained 15-year-old Carolyn Arnold of Columbus, Ga. "It helps socially more than any other way."

"You meet new friends and they keep you busy and out of trouble," added Margaret Johnson, 15, of St. Paul.

But a boy from Boise, Idaho, 18-year-old Cleve Corlett, sounded a slightly cynical note.

Such groups are good, he said, because they provide recreation, then added:

"This type of recreation never attracts those who need it."

In community activities as in other projects, the teeners love to be with the crowd. Teeners who said they did not do much volunteer work often echoed the Alabama girl who explained:

"My friends don't like to do this sort of work, so I find that it is not much fun to do it by myself."

But almost one-third of the teeners blamed lack of interest in others for preventing teenagers from doing more volunteer community work.

"Most teenagers take up too much time cruising around in their cars, drinking cokes and just being lazy," snorted a 19-year-old California boy.

But the survey indicated that these teeners are too severe critics. Judging from the number of youngsters actually doing community work, 80 per cent would agree with 15-year-old Carolyn Arnold of Columbus, Ga., who says:

"I like to work for people and be helpful."

The most popular public service work for teeners seems to be charity fund raising, with hospital work coming as a close second.

Some other community activities listed were: helping at crippled children's hospital, working in hospital canteens or stores, visiting and entertaining sick people, helping in old age homes and orphanages, community playground work, church work and day camp work.

Meddlesome In-Law Needs a Firm Hand

By RUTH MILLETT

According to a recent study, next to mothers-in-law sisters-in-law cause the biggest marital headaches.

A young wife whose bossy sister-in-law is making her life miserable writes: "My husband and I have been married a year and a half and are expecting a baby. We would be happy if the sister he lived with before we were married would leave us alone, but she won't.

"She has a say in everything we buy or do. And her word is law as far as my husband is concerned. Once she has spoken her piece I can't get through to him at all.

"We don't talk things over, they do. Or rather my sister-in-law talks and my husband agrees to whatever she says.

"I am rather quiet and don't like quarreling, but I haven't a soul to turn to for advice.

"My sister-in-law makes it quite clear that she doesn't think much of me as a wife for her brother, and I am afraid she is turning him against me.

"What shall I do, in a situation like this?"

Stand up straight and tall, look your husband in the eye, forget you are quiet and shy, and tell him flatly that you don't intend to have your marriage run by your sister-in-law.

Tell him that the two of you will either have to move far enough away so that your sister-in-law can't meddle in your affairs, or that he will have to tell her that he is no longer "little brother" but a grown man with a wife and a family on the way.

He must make it clear that he and you are perfectly capable of making your own decisions.

Since it is easier sometimes to move a husband to a distant place than to get him to grow up and act like a man, a move might be the simplest solution.

But if you can't move stand up and fight for your marriage. A happy marriage is worth fighting for.

Twisting Does It

Keep Hula Hooping to Slim Waist

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN
(The Friday Question Box)

Q. "Could you tell in the paper how the hula hoops help you lose in measurements and what measurement it would affect?"

A. The gyrations used in twirling the hula hoop about your body are waist-slimming.

Q. "Would you mention in your column sometime how a wife should dress if her husband is shorter than she?"

A. I do not think she should think of it one way or another except in the matter of heels. If your husband does not like to have you appear taller than he, or if you do not like it, then I think you would be wise to avoid high heels. There are many attractive low heels in the stores today. Men and women differ in their feeling about this. To some the height question is of no importance at all.

Q. "Could you please tell me if melon is bad for teen-age skin?"

A. I have never heard of such a thing. It and all other fresh fruit should be fine for the complexion. Perhaps you have this idea because melons are sweet. I think they will be good for you.

Q. "Am I overweight for my height and age, and what about my proportions?" I am 15 years old, 5 feet 9½ inches tall and weigh 145 pounds. My bust measures 35 inches, waist 26 and hips 39."

A. You are not very much overweight for your height. In fact if you have a large frame, you are probably not overweight at all. You might lose about five pounds. There is to much difference between your bust and hip measurements. Take hip-slimming exercises for a loss of two inches in that measurement.

Q. "Since the birth of my baby nine months ago my fingers have been swollen. I cannot wear my old gloves and my wedding ring is uncomfortable. Is this serious and what can I do for it?"

A. You should report this to your doctor. Any swelling is abnormal. Of course it may be that you have just gained weight. See your physician about it.

Q. "I have little capillaries breaking all over my legs. Is there anything I can do about the ones I have and about preventing more?"

A. Sometimes vitamin C deficiency contributes to fragility of the capillaries. Ask your physician about reinforcing your diet with vitamin C capsules. Also avoid tight garters and other tight clothing.

Child Can't Gift-Wrap Excuses Easily

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

His new secretary will offend an important client — and he has to take the responsibility for her action. At a sales conference his boss will claim credit for an idea of his — and Howard's father has to make careful balances between the advantage of blowing up and the advantage of retaining his promising job.

At 5:30 he'll discover that the boss has promised ad layouts he never scheduled — and Howard's father has to swallow his anger; and work late to produce them.

So when he gets home, he's not always in the mood for family cooperation. Asked to repair a broken light plug, he'll say, "Why don't you phone the electrician tomorrow?" For though he's not feeling cooperative, Howard's father is a grownup, and has learned how to make his rejection of family demands sound reasonable and interested.

But at 10 years of age Howard has not developed this skill.

Thus, after a frustrating day at school he says "Aw, nuts" when asked to take the garbage out to the yard incinerator.

Though he's had to swallow his anger at a teacher who appropriated his cap pistol and rebuked him for whispering done by another boy, nobody credits him with endurance of a frustrating day.

His father roars, "Do as you're told," and his mother says, "He got up on the wrong side of the bed today."

Because Howard hasn't learned the grownup art of making resistance sound reasonable and interested, he gets told off for it instead of being asked, "Wouldn't you like to see this new magazine, dear?"

KIDS ARE FRANK

We adults are so used to gift-wrapping our resistance to other people's demands in excuses that we get thrown by a child's direct, more honest "Aw nuts."

So if you think that Joan is going to the dogs when she says "Leave me alone" to your request to clear the table, you might consider how often you say it in gift-wrapped language.

How many times do you say "Later" to her request to shorten her skirt? How often do you say "Not between meals" to Billy's demand for the whereabouts of the ginger snaps? Frequently, I bet.

If you're honest, you'll start knowing that these excuses are disguises for the same resistance to family cooperation expressed by your child — and begin to figure that he may be as tired of conforming as you are.

Winter's Wool Will Be White

Look for white woolens this winter. New styling has resulted in textures that can stay in town, go to the country or resorts.

The fabrics now have contrasting weaves, or raised, lacy, mesh and knitted effects, brushed treatments, and touches of color which make the white appear smarter.

Miniatures Are Flattering New Fad in Jewelry

Tiny miniatures, such as hearts, drops, free-form designs, geometric shapes, and religious symbols are fastened to fine gold chains.

They nestle in the hollow of the throat and make the neck appear slender and delicate.

The miniatures are worn alone or with other necklaces and are made of carved amethyst, crystal, and gold.

Dieters, Plan Several Meals High in Protein

There is one way to curb the need for a drastic diet. That's by going on a high protein diet for one or two or three meals a day, wherever the chance presents itself.

You may have a big company dinner scheduled for one night. That won't prevent you from eating eight ounces of cottage cheese in the morning and again at noon.

With this easy, high protein diet, you can protect yourself against all those rich but delightful foods.

'Stop Unitas' Theme in New York Camp

Giants Stress Aerial Defense for Title Game

Howell Seeks to Build Pass Fortress Against Baltimore Colts

NEW YORK (AP)—"Stop Unitas" was the New York Giants' watchword today as they prepared for their final long workout for the National League football championship game against the Baltimore Colts Sunday.

The scrimmage, scheduled to last an hour and 20 minutes, was designed to set up what coach Jim Lee Howell hopes will be an impregnable defense against the passing of the Colts' star quarterback, Johnny Unitas.

That meant defensive coach Tom Landry's famous foursome — pass defenders Jim Patton, Cliff Livingston, Lindon Crow and Emlen Tunnell—were in for some extra heavy work trying to knock down the heaves of Chuck Conerly, Don Heinrich and Joe Kemp.

It is no secret that along with the Colts' massive forward wall, the Giants fear Unitas the most. They have not forgotten their 24-21 victory over Baltimore was achieved with Unitas on the sidelines, nursing a couple of cracked ribs. And they are fully aware that Unitas has thrown at least one touchdown pass in his last 25 games, a league record.

The Giants are rightfully proud of the fact they did not permit the Cleveland Browns to throw a single touchdown pass, either in the final game of the regular season or in the playoff contest. The Giants won both by scores of 13-10 and 10-0. In the first game Jimmy Brown scored on a 65-yard run, the only touchdown scored against the Giants in the two games.

"Preventing a touchdown pass three games in succession may be too much to ask," said coach Jim Lee Howell, "but it's not entirely impossible. After all, the fellows have been doing the impossible for the last few weeks. How many people actually expected us to beat Cleveland on two successive Sundays?"

Despite the heavy concentration on Unitas, Howell isn't underestimating Alan Ameche and Lenny Moore, whom he regards as two of the best running backs in the league.

"Ameche is no Jimmy Brown," said Howell, "but he's as tough as they come when you need a few yards for a first down. And he's a fine blocker, to boot. Moore is doubly dangerous because he is a great pass catcher in addition to being a hard, fast runner. You've got to guard him like a hawk. You never know what he's likely to do."

In the main, though, it is the Colts' "whaling wall" spearheaded by such behemoths as 288-pound Gene "Big Daddy" Lipscombe, Art Donovan (270), Jim Parker (260), Don Joyce (258) and Gino Marchetti (245), that gives Howell his greatest concern.

"Those 300-pounders are tough," he said, "much tougher than Cleveland's line. You can do certain things against the Browns' that would be suicide to try against the Colts.

"Our fellows regard the Colts as the toughest team we've had to face all year. But I'm sure if you were to ask the Colts they'd say the same thing about the Giants."

Davis Cuppers Get Warmed Up

Americans Expected to Put Up Better Fight This Year

BRISBANE, Australia (AP) — Australian tennis Capt. Harry Hopman said today he figured the American Davis Cuppers a tougher team and capable of putting up a better fight in the challenge round than a year ago.

"We are confident of winning but we are far from overconfident," the sandy-haired Melbourne court tactician said in an interview.

"Our boys are looking to every match as one which might be lost if they are not playing their best," he said.

Both the Aussies and the Americans moved into center court of the 18,500-capacity Milton Stadium today for the beginning of tune-ups for the tennis climax opening Monday.

Hopman said the Americans posed a serious threat because "we have not seen much of Ham Richardson in the last three years and we do not know what is the real potential of Alex Olmedo.

Midwest Stars on Duffy's Starting Team

West Certain to Take to Air

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Despite prospects of a wet field, look for a passing vs running battle when East meets West in the Shrine's 34th annual charity classic Saturday.

East coach Duffy Daugherty announced his lineups today, and clearly the emphasis is on an East running game.

Up front offensively, the Easterners, 6½ point favorites, will have Jerry Wilson, Auburn, and Tom Franckhauser, Purdue, ends; Fran O'Brien, Michigan State, and Bob Novogratz, Army, tackles, Dan Fronk, Ohio State, and Al Ecuyer, Notre Dame, guards, and Bernie Svendsen, Minnesota, center.

Daugherty says Carlton and Williams are excellent deep defenders and are well equipped to stop long passes by the West's Lee Grosscup of Utah and Bobby Newman of Washington State.

Viewers watching the contest at 2 p.m. PST over nationwide television (NBC) will see this starting East defensive line:

Sammy Williams, Michigan State, and Bob Pepe, North Carolina State, ends; Bronko Nagurski, Notre Dame, and Emil Karas, Dayton, tackles, John Guzik, Pittsburgh, and Ellison Kelly, Michigan State, guards and Dick Teteak, Wisconsin, center. Art Gob, Pittsburgh end, will play both offense and defense, Daugherty said.

West coach Jack Curtice was still mulling over his starting lineup, but it's a cinch Grosscup, a co-captain along with guard Charles Horton of Baylor, and Newman will do plenty of passing, rain or no rain.

The weatherman wasn't sure whether a storm due today would hang around until Saturday afternoon, but he said it was a cinch the Kezar Stadium turf would be wet.

Curtice lost one of his many good pass receivers, when All America Buddy Dial of Rice was scratched because of a sprained left ankle. He'll suit up and be introduced but he won't see action. He should be the only permanent benchwarmer. The unlimited substitution rule is used in this All Star affair.

However, there are still plenty of targets for the West quarterbacks. These include Dick Wallen of UCLA, Oregon's Ron Stover and Bill Steiger of Washington State who is at home both at end and at a halfback spot.

Running chores most likely will go to to Nub Beamer, Oregon State; Leon Burton, Arizona State speedster; Don Stone, Arkansas, and Larry Hickman, Baylor.

Huge Card Says 'Clobber Giants'

Convicts Pulling for Colts

On the first of three panels is written "1958 Western Division Champions." A cartoon shows a Colt sitting on a lion, a bear, and other Baltimore victims during the National Football League season.

The second panel reads, "Season greetings to all the Colts." Drawn here are horse shoes containing the jersey numbers of Colt players. Above a set of goal posts is a football made up of coaches and Colt officials' names.

"All the luck in the world and clobber the Giants," is emblazoned on the third panel. The Colts play the New York Giants Sunday for the NFL championship.

The card is signed by about 400 inmates of the Maryland penitentiary, where the Colts play softball games against the prisoners every summer and also attend various sport functions during the year.

Pistons Need Overtime to Shade Minneapolis

NEW YORK (AP) — The Detroit Pistons finally have caught up with the Minneapolis Lakers. But they needed a stolen pass and an overtime period to do it.

The 98-97 victory last night left the Pistons 2½ games ahead of the Lakers in the battle for second place in the National Basketball Assn. The Pistons return to Detroit Olympia tonight and face the Cincinnati Royals.

Lanky Phil Jordon tossed in two consecutive baskets in last night's extra stanza for the thrilling triumph that ended a four-game Detroit losing streak.

But it was Gene Shue's pass interception in the dying moments of regulation time that let the Pistons win after repeated losses to Minneapolis. Shue swiped the ball from Elgin Bayler and fed it to Joe Holup.

Holup passed back to Shue, who dropped in the basket that tied the score 93-93 just before the buzzer. The Pistons had been six points behind with 67 seconds left in regulation time.

In the overtime, Jordon and Shue scored all Detroit's points as the Lakers lost the range from the foul line. Shue was Detroit's top marksman with 17 points.

Madison Square Garden's largest crowd for an NBA doubleheader, 18,386, watched the Boston Celtics whip the New York Knickerbockers 129-120 in the second game.

The Pistons-Royals game will be the feature of another NBA twin bill tonight. The Celtics and Lakers play in the other game.

24 Gridders Pay 'Santa' Visit to Shrine Hospital

The husky gridders, who will be playing to benefit the hospital, visited the children Sunday. They were so moved by the young friends they made at the hospital they decided at their own Christmas party at Palo Alto yesterday to make an unprecedented return visit with a load of Christmas gifts.

The children were enthusiastic. "This means even more to us than it does to the kids," said co-captain John Guzik of Pittsburgh.

Wings Shut Out Again

Chadwick Stars in 2-0 Victory for Maple Leafs

Toronto Goalie Makes 44 Saves, Ex-Detroiter Ehman Tallies Once

DETROIT (UPI) — Eighty-two shots and not a goal is the Detroit Red Wings' record for their past two home games, both 2-0 defeats.

The Wings had the spirit of giving last night but Toronto Maple Leaf goalie Ed Chadwick refused all 44 Detroit shots.

To make the Christmas turkey even harder to swallow:

— The second Leaf goal was scored by Gerry Ehman who failed to stick with Detroit earlier in the season.

— The loss cost the Wings sole possession of second place since Boston, with a 4-2 win over Chicago, moved into a tie and Montreal by beating New York opened a six-game lead.

— It ran the Detroit losing string to four and was the first home ice defeat on Christmas in the last seven such encounters.

— Defenseman Pete Goegan was slapped with a 10-minute misconduct which calls for an automatic $25 fine.

Chadwick, rusty under fire after being shoved aside in favor of Johnny Bower for the past 5½ weeks, looked shaky at the start. He soon overcame the effects of his banishment.

Chadwick turned aside 14 shots in the opening period, 18 in the second and 12 in the last while Red Wing goalie Terry Sawchuk made only 16 in the game.

"I don't know what's the matter," said coach Sid Abel. "we spend more practice time on shooting than any other club but we can't buy a goal. We had 38 shots against New York the last game here and 44 against Chadwick. With the law of averages you'd think at least one would go in."

Dick Duff, a thorn in the Wings' side all year, finished off a backhand pass from Bert Olmstead at 11:46 of the first period and Ehman lined in a 55-footer midway in the second. It was Duff's ninth of the season, four of them against Detroit, and Ehman's first.

Goegan drew his misconduct in the third period. "Ron Stewart tripped me and I said to (referee Frank) Udvari 'how about that?'" Goegan said.

Udvari thumbed him off for complaining and later explained that the rule says only a captain or assistant captain can protest.

"We thought he might have sworn at Udvari," general manager Jack Adams said, "and we asked Udvari after the game, but he said Goegan hadn't used profanity."

Adams said he would try to have the fine lifted and also would not impose the $100 fine the Wings make when one of their players draws a misconduct. The club fine was instituted in the days of Ted Lindsay, Adams said.

HONOR FOR ALTHEA — Tennis star Althea Gibson, making her movie debut in "Horse Soldiers," is congratulated by director John Ford on her selection as "Female Athlete of the Year." It is the second straight year she has won the honor of the Associated Press.

Miss Gibson Honored 2nd Straight Year

Althea Named Top Woman Athlete

By The Associated Press

Althea Gibson, the temporarily retired queen of tennis, today had another glorious chapter added to her Cinderella story—The one-time tomboy of Harlem was chosen the outstanding female athlete of 1958 in the annual Associated Press year-end poll.

This marked the second straight year the tall, tenacious New Yorker has been awarded the honor by a nationwide panel of sportswriters and sportscasters. She won it again by a whopping margin in recognition of her second successive sweep of the U.S. and Wimbledon championships.

And it elevated the 31-year-old star among the all-time greats of sport—a position she had been aiming for ever since she broke into the major tournament set.

Althea received 133 first place votes out of a possible 202 and 456 points. Points were counted on a basis of three for first place, two for second, and one for third.

Carol Heiss, the blonde, pretty, 18-year-old world figure skating champion from New York, was a distant second with 21 first-places and 199 points.

Beverly Hanson, leading money-winning golf pro from Indio, Calif., was third with 10 first placers and 126 points. Ilse Konrads, 14-year-old Australian swim phenom, was fourth with 82 points (10 firsts) and Dawn Fraser, another Australian swimming record-holder, was fifth with 42 points (one first).

Miss Gibson became the first consecutive double winner in the AP poll since Maureen (Little Mo) Connolly, the former tennis champion, won it in 1951, 1952 and 1953.

The other only consecutive repeaters were Alice Marble, another court queen, in 1939 and 1940, and the fabulous Babe Didrikson Zaharias in 1945, 1946 and 1947 for golf.

The great Babe, who won the athlete of the year award, an unparalleled six times in all, died of cancer at the age of 42 in 1956.

In sixth place behind Australia's swimming stars, came Sylvia Ruuska, America's record swimmer and Olympic hopeful, from Berkeley, Calif., 35 points, followed by Mrs. Carola Mandel, the world's best female skeet shooter from Chicago, 34; bowling champion Merle Matthews of Long Beach, Calif., 29; veteran bowler Marion Ladewig of Grand Rapids, Mich., 16; and golfers Mickey Wright of La Jolla, Calif., 10 and Anne Quast of Marysville, Wash., 9.

Miss Gibson was the first court star to accomplish double slams of the U.S. and Wimbledon championships since Little Mo racked 'em up in 1952 and 1953. Then you have to go back to the golden twenties and Helen Wills for such a rare double slam.

North, South Slate Final Drills Today

Individual performances were expected to settle starting lineups. North Coach Ara Parseghian of Northwestern flatly announced he wanted to see the Yanks' final workout before deciding between Nick Mumley, 240, of Purdue and Bob Wetoska, 225, of Notre Dame for a hotly contested left tackle spot.

Parseghian said "I think our boys have come along real well. They have improved with each practice."

Ring Injuries Fatal to Nine in Current Year

NEW YORK (UPI) — The Ring Magazine today announced that nine deaths resulted from ring injuries among professional and amateur boxers throughout the world, despite a mild fistic boom in some areas.

Editor Nat Fleischer of The Ring said only nine fatalities in 1958 was a tribute to the safety-first measures being used worldwide in professional and amateur boxing.

It was an increase of only one over last year's eight, despite a rise in the number of active professionals from less than 9,000 in 1957 to more than 10,000 in '58 Fleischer said.

Ivan Grimm of Carlton College, Minn., has averaged 31 points for five games to continue as top small college pointgetter. Lincoln of Missouri tops the teams with a 95.3 mark.

The Orange Bowl's junior tennis meet resumes today with two Belgian stars featured. A nautical segment of the bowls opens today with flying kilometer speed trials for over 30 powerboats. A weekend regatta is set for outboards and inboards.

Forge Wins 2-1 Overtime Game

Harry Repke Gets Both Goals to Nudge Royals in City Hockey Loop

Harry Repke was the scoring hero Wednesday when Standard Forge nipped the Rochester Royals, 2-1, in Parks and Recreation Department Junior Hockey League action at North Side Community ice rink.

Repke tallied both goals for the Forge skaters, the 2nd counter providing the winning margin after 13 minutes of overtime. Rochester's only goal was scored by Gordon Muckinhirn.

In other Wednesday games, Bulman's Hardware raced to a 5-2 victory over the Fisher Hill Merchants and the Sylvan Lake Alouettes routed the Thunderbirds, 6-1.

Jon Shaw performed the three-goal hat trick and Don MacLean clicked twice to account for Bulman's easy triumph at the expense of the Merchants.

Mike McCarthy, Sylvan Lake's triple hat trick star on opening day, was held scoreless by the Thunderbirds, but his teammates took up the slack as Ben Courtney and Mike Smith each connected two times and Dick Murphy and Mark Petrie made one goal apiece. Dave Bills fired the loser's lone score.

Four Major Tourneys Start Today

Holiday Hoop Play Resumes

By The Associated Press

Kansas State, a team with a lot of making up to do on the tournament level, gets its chance tonight as college basketball resumes with a vengeance from its Christmas lull.

This is the second wave of basketball holiday hi-jinks, touching off a spree of festive competition that continues almost without interruption through the first week of January.

The Big Eight at Kansas City is an eight-team affair, as are the three others that began with afternoon and night doubleheader programs.

The Holiday Festival at New York's Madison Square Garden opened with an afternoon doubleheader matching Cornell (4-1) with Utah (4-3) and St. Joseph's of Philadelphia (6-1), the favorite, against Syracuse (3-2). Tonight, a pair of unbeatens, Dayton (6-0) and Niagara (5-1), have a showdown followed by Holy Cross (3-3-1) against St. John's of New York (5-1).

First round play in the Southwest Conference tourney had favored Texas Christian (5-1) against Baylor (4-3) and SMU (5-2) against Arkansas (2-3) in afternoon games, and a night doubleheader matching Rice (4-3) with Texas (2-4) and Texas Tech (4-2) with Texas A&M (5-1).

The oldest of all the Christmas tournaments, the All-College at Oklahoma City, had an afternoon schedule of Wichita (4-3) vs. Bowling Green (2-2) and Tulsa (4-3) vs Duquesne (2-4) and a night program of favored Xavier of Ohio (5-1) vs Oregeon (4-1) and Oklahoma City (5-1) vs San Francisco (2-5).

Just to keep everyone happy, two more major and numerous smaller tournaments begin tomorrow (while the four others continue). Oregon State is the favorite in the Far West Classic at Corvallis, Ore., which also includes Air Force, Iowa and Wyoming. Brigham Young, only team to beat Kansas State this season, is favored over Dartmouth, Seton Hall and Canisius in the Queen City tournament in Buffalo, N. Y. — also beginning Saturday.

The Big Eight spreads its first round over two days. Oklahoma meets Iowa State in the other game tonight and tomorrow, Kansas faces Colorado and Nebraska meets Oklahoma State.

In case the four big tournaments aren't enough, there's the Hoosier Classic beginning in Indianapolis with Purdue meeting Butler and Indiana facing Notre Dame tonight, and Purdue meeting Notre Dame and Indiana clashing with Butler Saturday night, and the four team Evansville (Ind) Invitational with Tennessee Tech, St. Marys (Calif), Washington (St. Louis) and Evansville entered.

Banks Official NL Power King

Banks, the circuit's most valuable player, home run and runs batted in leader, captured the slugging title with a .614 mark. The official statistics showed Banks collected 379 total bases in 617 times at bat.

Willie Mays of San Francisco, who was the runner-up to Richie Ashburn in the batting race, also finished second in slugging. Mays had 350 total bases in 600 tries for a .583 slugging percentage.

Hank Aaron of Milwaukee was third with .546, followed by Frank Thomas of Pittsburgh and Stan Musial of St. Louis with .528 each.

Ashburn, the Phillies' lead-off man, led the league in bases on balls with 97. Harry Anderson, also of the Phils, struck out the most times, 95.

Last Workout at Home

Silky Runs Saturday

ARCADIA, Calif., (AP) — A rich, 55-day meeting opens today at Santa Anita race track. But talk among the railbirds centers on tomorrow's 7-furlong sprint featuring Mr. Heart Attack, himself—Silky Sullivan.

Alabama's 1958 football team had 24 lettermen.

Watson Unhappy Over Ranger Defeat

Canadians' Edge Now 12

By The Associated Press

A few members of the New York Rangers today may be casting anxious eyes toward the Providence Reds, their American Hockey League farm team. And they are most certainly wondering if Ranger Coach Phil Watson isn't doing the same thing.

The Rangers lost to Montreal 4-1 last night, and the performance was not one to draw praise from Watson, a man who hates to lose, but who hates it doubly against Montreal. He has been known to contemplate changes after such performances.

The victory gave the Canadiens, who haven't lost a game since Nov. 26, a 12 point lead in the National Hockey League race over second place Detroit, which lost to Toronto 2-0. Boston gained a tie with Detroit with its 4-2 victory over Chicago.

The Canadiens have won 10 and lost 2 since losing to New York last month. Except for the play of goalie Gump Worsley, who had 46 saves, and Andy Bathgate, who scored the Rangers' lone goal, Watson had little to be happy about.

His team had a 1-0 lead until Ab McDonald scored at 1:07 of the second period. Marcel Provost made it 2-1 at 10:03 of the period. Tom Johnson and Provost added third period goals.

Bernie Geoffrion counted two assists to gain a four point lead, 44-40, over Bathgate in the NHL scoring race.

Bronco Horvath's goal was his first since missing 25 games after a broken jaw he received Oct. 18. He still wears a protective mask to protect the jaw.

Don McKenney, leading Bruin scorer with 28 points, scored the first goal and a few seconds later passed for the second to Leo Boivin, both coming in the first period.

Keen Sophs in Detroit Classic

Olmedo's 'Wife' Is Just a Joke

Brisbane (AP) — Alex Olmedo of the United States Davis Cup team blinked his eyes this morning when he read in a newspaper the following headline:

"Olmedo Phones Wife in Los Angeles and Says 'We're Gonna Win.'"

The Peruvian said later: "I have no wife in Los Angeles or anywhere. A photographer came over to take our picture on Christmas Day and we were just kidding about my phoning my wife. They must have taken me seriously."

Prep Tourneys Begin Tonight

Southfield Event Starts Action, Others Follow Saturday

The 1st of a trio of holiday basketball tournaments involving area high schools gets under way at Southfield tonight. The others follow tomorrow at Fenton and Caro.

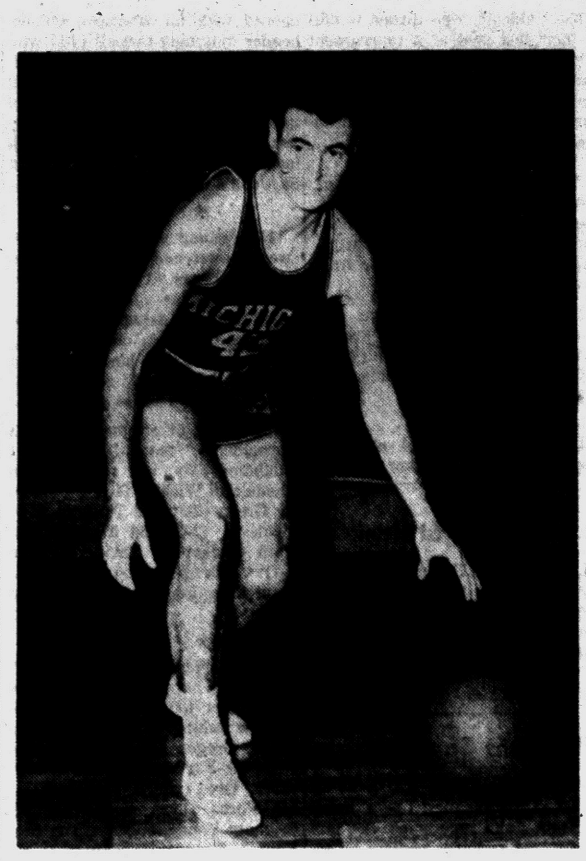
Oakland County teams Southfield and Farmington will not get into action until Saturday in the Northwest Suburban Christmas Invitational.

Farmington will play Detroit Thurston and the host Bluejays will meet Monroe tomorrow completing the opening round. Tonight's play will have Redford Union vs. Lincoln Park and Livonia Bentley vs. Roseville.

Monday afternoon the four losers will be matched with the winners dueling at night. A champion will be determined Tuesday.

Holly, Milford and Brighton will be guests of Fenton. That tournament will also continue Monday and Tuesday to decide a titlist.

North Branch will be the entry from this sector competing at Caro. Monday and Tuesday games are also slated there.



LEADS WOLVERINES — Sophomore John Tidwell, 6-foot-3 "little giant" of the Michigan basketball team leads the Wolverines in scoring and is one of the reasons why U. of M. is favored to win the Motor City basketball tournament which starts Monday at the U. of D. fieldhouse.

'M's' Tidwell Good Prospect for Top Honor

Army Has Lee Sager Who Is Rated as Best Ever for Cadets

Some keen competition is expected to develop for the outstanding player award in the Motor City basketball tournament which starts Monday, and there are several good looking sophomore prospects who could bid for the honor.

The tournament, which lists U. of D. against Army in the opener Monday night and Michigan against Princeton in the nightcap, is the 7th annual classic to be held in the Detroit fieldhouse.

Each team can boast of at least one outstanding spohomore and the young cagers are making good on their pre-season notices.

Michigan has its top scorer in sophomore John Tidwell; Army has its "most exciting prospect" in cage history in Lee Sager; U. of D. has Larry Hughes, who has been the top scorer in three games thus far, and Princeton has several top sophs to go with its veteran squad.

"He's one of the best prospects we've had here in some time, he's so smooth and steady he's hardly noticed because he's not spectacular," said U. of M. coach Bill Perigo.

As a freshman he broke most every plebe scoring record in the Cadet books averaging 27 points and 17 rebounds a game.

Army uses him with junior Darryle Kouns as a 1-2 punch. Kouns is the second highest season scorer in West Point history and he has 100 points thus far this year.

Hughes took the starting job away from regular Ralph Uchison and has 89 points in seven games. He was outstanding in the Titans' rout of Delaware last weekend.

This is considered the best field in the seven year history of the tournament with any one of the teams entered figured capable of winning the classic.

Michigan has been listed as the favorite, however, Princeton with an all-veteran team could supset the Wolverines in their first meeting.

Celtics, Hawks Beat Foes

Christmas brought woe to the opponents of the Boston Celtics and St. Louis Hawks, National Basketball Assn. divisional leaders.

The Celts, leading the Eastern division by three games over the New York Knicks, rolled to their eighth straight victory in the nightcap of a Christmas night doubleheader at New York, defeating the Knicks, 129-120.

St. Louis, six games up on second place Detroit, got plenty of help from Cincinnati Royal castoff Clyde Lovellette to beat the Royals 100-92.

Boston, playing before 18,386 at Madison Square Garden, the largest crowd ever to see an NBA doubleheader in New York, came from a six point halftime deficit to win. Frank Ramsey, Bill Russel, Sam Jones and Bob Cousy put together nine straight points to bring the Celtics from a 103-99 score to take an advantage they never relinquished.

New York's Richie Guerin led the scorers with 34 points, while Russell had 32, and 33 rebounds for the Celtics, who knocked off New York for the fourth straight time.

Lovellette scored 21 points in 29 playing minutes to give St. Louis the impetus to stay ahead of the Royals. He teamed with Hub Reed and Cliff Hagan to gain a 52-45 halftime margin and put the game out of reach in the fourth period when Wayne Embry scored nine straight points to bring Cincinnati to 80-73.

Florida 11 Awaits Gator Bowl Rival

A capacity crowd of 42,000 is expected to see the 14th annual Gator Bowl game. Bowl officials said the last tickets—150 end zone seats—went on sale this morning.

Prep Front

By BILL CORNWELL

A terrific example of a poorly planned high school sports event was the Southeastern Michigan wrestling tournament last weekend at Garden City.

There was a total of 277 wrestlers on hand from schools throughout the state of Michigan to compete in the Friday and Saturday tourney.

The large field in itself called for careful planning and foresight on the part of tournament officials. In view of the proceedings, these ingredients were notably absent.

Several Oakland County teams took part in the two-day event, among them Pontiac Central, Pontiac Northern and Walled Lake, and few if any were pleased with its method of operation.

Coaches Steve Szabo of Central, Bill Willson of Northern and Dave Smith of Walled Lake were very unhappy over the whole affair and Smith vows that his team will not return next year unless the outing is run more efficiently.

Despite the big entry field, Friday's first-round competition did not begin until 6 p.m. Because of this late start, the boys were still grappling past 12 o'clock.

The Friday session finally ended around 2 a.m. From about midnight on, meanwhile, worried parents in Pontiac and Walled Lake were making telephone calls to try and learn the whereabouts of their teen-age sons.

Everything worked out okay, of course, but the result of all this was to properly chagrin three area mat coaches who felt that the "wee hours" finish was entirely unnecessary.

Competition wound up at a much more respectable hour on Saturday, due to a field cut down by elimination, an early afternoon starting time and the fact that no classes were in progress.

Friday's 6 o'clock beginning can in all likelihood be blamed on school administrators who do not want an athletic event to interfere with class routine. This policy hardly justifies a 2 a.m. conclusion.

The rest of the blame falls on the coaches themselves for they are the ones who actually arrange and direct tournament procedure.

With an original entry list of 277 competing in 12 weight divisions, it stands to reason that a great deal of time would be required to conduct this tournament adequately.

Shortening each match from six minutes to four as suggested by Willson is one way to ease the problem. Changes will definitely have to be made next year. Tourney officials should either run it correctly or else not at all.

Ring Progress Award to Jordan

Johansson Fighter of Year

NEW YORK (AP) — Sweden's Ingemar Johansson and welterweight champion Don Jordan of Los Angeles are Ring Magazine's pin up boys for 1958.

Johansson, the undefeated European heavyweight champion, was named "fighter of the year" and Jordan was singled out for the "progress award" by the monthly boxing publication today.

This boosted Johansson's record to 21-0, including 13 knockouts, and in the process elevated him to the No. 1 challenger to world champion Floyd Patterson.

Jordan virtually came out of nowhere in less than a year. The 23-year-old Californian wasn't ranked in the first 10 and had lost 10 fights. Then he lost his second fight of the year in London to Dave Charnley, the British Empire lightweight champion. But after that disputed decision, Don went into high gear.

He won seven straight, including decisions over Cuban Isaac Logart and Mexican Gaspar Ortega, leading contenders, to earn a title shot at Virgil Akins. He drubbed Akins in 15 rounds Dec. 5 to win the title.

British heavyweight contenders Henry Cooper, and Brian London, Italian heavyweight Giacomo Bozzano, and Freddie Gilroy, Irish bantamweight, were right behind Jordan in the consideration for the progress award.

Moore's comeback knockout victory over Yvon Durelle, the Canadian and British Empire titleholder, was rated the "fight of the year." Archie, you remember, was on the floor four times before he rallied to flatten the rugged fisherman in the 11th round at Montreal, Dec. 10.

Strikes and Spares

By JOE WILMAN

Many bowlers ask about my grip. "How deep should I bury my thumb in the thumb hole?" — that's a common question at my clinics.

I believe the thumb should always feel loose and comfortable in the thumb hole. Never put it in so deep that it feels tight, cramped, or uncomfortable in any way. Also, never put it in so far you can't get it out easily. The thumb comes out first in delivering the ball, and it should come out easily.

Make sure your thumb hole is large enough. Too small a hole can also cause your thumb to stick when it should come out.

If your thumb sticks from burying it in the thumb hole, don't go down six feet. Vary the depth a bit each time and see how it affects your delivery.

Main thing is be sure the thumb doesn't stick as you release the ball. As you continue to bowl, your thumb may swell up, forcing you to keep the thumb out more to avoid sticking.

Oklahoma in Miami, Orange Due Sunday

The Sooners arrived from Norman, Okla., in two chartered planes last night, and were scheduled for two workouts today.

Coach Bud Wilkinson revealed his Oklahomans had had a week's vacation, and had only six days of practice since their last game, so he isn't planning on wasting any time.

The squad generally is in good condition, although there still is doubt of the availability of starting guard Jerry Thompson. Thompson suffered a chest injury in an accident while hunting coyotes. The truck in which he was riding hit a stump and threw the members of the party to the ground.

MSU Hasn't Been Tested, Forddy Claims

CHICAGO (UPI) — Michigan State's basketball team may be one of the nation's best, but its coach wants to wait a while and find out of it's the best in the Big Ten.

"We haven't been tested," Forddy Anderson said. "We thought we would be by now, but we haven't been. And it's not because we're playing easy games. It's because something has hurt the teams we've beaten."

Yet the Spartans are undefeated after matches with Detroit, Butler, Notre Dame and Nebraska and head into next week's Dixie Classic rated as the nation's fourth best ball club.

"That's what'll tell us," Anderson said. "If we can get by the next week, I'll know better whether we belong in the top group.

We're in the bracket to play Duke the first night and then either North Carolina or Yale. So we'll play three games in three nights. Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, then fly back and play Indiana Saturday and then fly to play Iowa on Monday.

That's five games in a week and Indiana is never a pushover and Iowa is always tough. But I'll say one thing. We'll have one of the most interesting teams that ever played Big Ten basketball, and how good we'll be I'll know in another two weeks."

Michigan State wasn't figured to be a Big Ten power this season, even though it finished tied for second in the race last year, and retained center John Green and forward Bob Anderegg. But sophomore Horace Walker has turned out to be a jumping jack rebounder and dependable scorer, and both Lance Olson and Tom Rand have developed into capable guards.

"Green can handle a tall man as good as anybody in the country, even though he's only 6-5," Anderson said, "and Walker is doing real well, even though he's only 6-3. Olson, Rand and Anderegg are good solid ball players. We've got real good balance and the thing I like most is we're active and we're mobile. And we've got some key substitutes that help us."

So far Anderegg has averaged 19 points a game, Green has pitched in 15, and Walker 15. Walker has been picking off 17 rebounds a game and Green 15.

Elliott Says Bears' 'Spare Parts' Ready

BERKLEY, Calif. (UPI) — University of California coach Pete Elliott promised today to have the "spare parts" to his Bear football machine in working order for the Rose Bowl game.

Elliott and most of his boys were to take off for Pasadena this morning to gather with some 15 Cal footballers who took advantage of a one-day Christmas break to spend the holiday at their Southern California homes.

The California coach has been giving all members of his squad plenty of hard work during the training period with the thought in mind that often recently the Pacific Coast representative in the Rose Bowl has played splendidly during the first half and then folded.

Youth Party Planned in Romeo

ROMEO — Plans are being completed for the first Youth Christmas Party to be held Saturday in the Romeo Community Youth and Civic Center which opened just one year ago this week, Royal A. Holt, center director, announced today.

The first phase of the two-part program is designed for children from the fourth through the eighth grade. It will begin at 1 p.m. and last until 3:30 p.m.

Entertainment will consist of movies and games, and refreshments will be served.

Beginning at 8 p.m. a record hop will be staged for teenagers in the ninth grade and up, Holt said.

A Mount Clemens disc jockey, Bud Parks, will act as master of ceremonies. Two Washington boys, Tom and Bob Boldt, will be featured entertainers.

The Rhythm Rascals of Romeo Community High School, led by E. C. Ojala, high school band director, will be guest artists.

The center was decorated for this party and other holiday events by Scout groups and other youngsters and teenagers in the community.

Local businessmen and civic organization donated the 12-foot tree and lights. The center itself purchased ornaments to augment those made by local Cub Scouts.

High school students decorated the tree, and Explorer Scouts of Romeo Post 87 made the giant-size wreath, measuring 10 feet in diameter which hangs on the east wall inside the building.

The Youth Center commission and Youth Advisory Board are joining forces in sponsoring the first New Year's Eve Ball to be held at the center Dec. 31. Planned primarily for high school and college students, the dance will be open to all residents of the Romeo area and their guests.

A live orchestra will be furnished, and party favors will be distributed. A buffet supper will be served at midnight.

Tickets should be purchased by next Sunday, Holt said, in order to make definite arrangements for this holiday affair.

Putting the finishing touches on the giant-size decoration are, left to right, Kate Kilner, 8, and Karen Glisch, 15. Youngsters will be entertained in two shifts Saturday when the Youth Center stages its first Christmas party in the building which opened just one year ago this week.

Romeo Goodfellows Help 43 Families

ROMEO — It was a merry Christmas yesterday for 43 needy families, including some 150 children, living in the Romeo area.

They were the families who received baskets of food, clothing and toys from the local Goodfellows, Donald B. Chubb, Goodfellow chairman, announced today.

Some $650 aws raised to support the project through the annual Goodfellow paper sale earlier this month. This figure fell short of the amount needed by almost half—the remainder of the over $1,200 spent was taken from the Goodfellow treasury, Chubb said.

He added that over 67 more children were included in Goodfellow distributions in the nearby community of Washington.

Muskegon Rallies to Aid of 2 Families

MUSKEGON (UPI) — Warmhearted residents of Western Michigan tackled a difficult job yesterday — trying to throw a little ray of Christmas light into two Muskegon families broken by tragedy.

Sixteen children were left fatherless when a gas explosion at a Muskegon scrap yard killed Woodrow Hill, 40, and Allen Hawkins, 41, Wednesday. Each man was the father of eight.

On hearing the news, different church, welfare and civic organizations in the area moved to aid the families. Police and other public agencies were flooded with offers of assistance.

The Fisher Steel and Supply Corp., where the men were employed, said all the families' needs would be provided for.

The Hill family had been struck with another disaster three weeks ago, when a fire destroyed their home and all their belongings. The family was able to move into another house only this week.

FLINT (AP) — An attempt to save a pet dog, feared trapped in a house fire, ended in burns for his young master and the boy's mother yesterday.

Donald Hoshield, 9, tore away from his parents and returned into the burning one-story frame house in Flint to search for his dog, his mother, Ardell, 40, raced after him.

17-Billion-Dollar Rise

All-Time High Expected in Consumer Spending

NEW YORK (UPI) — Consumer spending, which helped shore up the economy during the recent recession, will rise to an all-time high of about $307 billion in 1959, an increase of about $17 billion over the record 1958 figures, according to the experts.

This increase will be one of the key factors behind the anticipated rise in economic activity to new highs in 1959.

The consumer is the most important cog in the nation's complex economic machinery, accounting for two-thirds of all the goods and services bought in the country.

In 1959, according to retail economists, consumers will spend more for all types of goods and services.

The way for this increased consumer outlay will be paved by higher take-home pay, longer hours of employment and improved confidence in the economy.

The record $290,400,000,000 spent by consumers for goods and services in 1958 was chalked up despite a sharp decline in sales of durable goods, such as autos and appliances.

Spending for non-durable goods such as clothing and food increased during the year, as did outlays for services ranging from the beautician to the mortician.

But the economists caution that the consumer, though more cocky about the future than a year ago, is not bent on any wild spending spree.

Consumers this year are expected to boost their purchases of such big-ticket items as autos, major appliances and home furnishings by about 15 per cent to $42 billion. This figure still will fall short of the record sum spent for hard goods in 1955.

Last year, the consumer provided a crucial shock-absorber for the economy through his stepped-up spending for services. This year, his expenditures for such things as laundry and telephone calls will rise 4.7 per cent to a new peak of $117 billion.

On the other hand, purchases of non-durables will climb about four per cent to $148 billion.

At the same time consumer income is expected to increase by some six per cent, reflecting higher salaries, longer hours and a gradual improvement in the employment picture.

Income after taxes should hit a record $328,400,000,000, which would average out to roughly $1,800 for every man, woman and child in the nation.

Youth Firmly Believes Advertising Does Pay

He inserted this personal ad in a Casper newspaper: "Will attend Air National Guard camp, Casper, Aug. 16-31. Would like correspondence with interested female party. Am 21 and single."

He reports six replies and is looking forward to his Casper visit.

Youth Kills Child Because It Cried

CADILLAC (UP) — The Wexford County prosecutor said he would ask a manslaughter warrant today against a young construction worker in the death of a baby he was minding while the mother was Christmas shopping.

An autopsy showed the child, John Lenon, 18 months, died of a brain hemorrhage. Prosecutor James C. Harrinton said David Ronald Wilson, 20, of Cadillac, told of hitting the child because he was tired of hearing it cry.

Wilson was quoted as saying that when the baby wouldn't stop crying, he hit and shook the child violently.

When the mother, Mrs. Joan Lenon, 18, returned from shopping Christmas Eve she noticed the child breathing heavily. She and Wilson took the infant to Mercy Hospital where it died shortly after midnight.

The man who achieved the first airplane flight in Canada was John A. D. McCurdy in 1909. And he was the first to complete successfully a flight by a British subject anywhere in the British commonwealth.

Many beautiful rugs of the Near East are woven by girls from 5 to 16 years old. Laboring from dawn to dusk, they tie the tiny knots in their threads with incredible speed. The largest rugs may take nine child-years to finish.

The Green Empress

(Copyright 1958) . . . by Elizabeth Cadell

THE STORY: Angus Graham, invalided out of the Navy, is amused at being hired by Sir Claud as a "liaison officer" for the simple job of courier on a superlative luxury bus tour in Europe. He's filling in for his friend Wax Sealing. The passenger list sounds impressive—Lord Lorrimer, father of a Navy friend, with his lovely daughter, Angela Clunes, and his secretary, Lionel Yule, obviously in lovew ith Angela; Mr Zoller, philanthropist, and his wife; Admiral Peterson and his psychic sister, Mrs. Denby-Warre; the irrepressible young Sir Maurice Tarrant; Stanton Holt, an American, who asks to meet Miss Seton, with the warm, humorous, intelligent eyes. The crossing to France is uneventful. Miss Seton confides to Angus she is half-sister to Rosamund Blake who has just completed a film in Italy and is sailing to South America. She plans to surprise Rosamund by meeting her boat in Lisbon. Perdy Brewer, the driver, plans to stay close to the Green Empress during the night. In the middle of the night Miss Seton receives a mysterious phone call, with bad news. Perdy reports there were prowlers, someone had tried the garage bolts. Angela tells Angus she has adored him ever since her brother brought him home on a visit, and accuses him of carefully avoiding all naval contacts. Admitting his love for Angela, Angus feels he should have something to offer her—that he should take the job in Canada.

CHAPTER X

Angus did not know how he got back to the hotel. Angela's hand was in his. He could not remember whether they spoke or not. She left him at the entrance and he walked round the garden, and then round again, and again, without knowing where he was going.

He passed two men who looked like the Admiral and Mr. Holt. On a bench in the shade was a woman who looked like Miss . . . Miss . . . yes, Seton.

She was writing letters and he felt a stir of admiration for her courage—courage over what?

The passengers filed into their places, he could remember nothing about who they were, but there were no empty seats and so he presumed that everybody was present.

They were on their way and he did not for the moment, care where they were bound. The mists would rise, the rosy clouds would disperse and when they did, he would be walking down the aisle of the coach in person and not down the aisle of a church in dreams. Soon . . . but not yet. This morning——

This morning he had received a gift from Heaven. He would take it—and be thankful.

DRAGS SELF TO DUTY

Responsibility made itself felt as the coach journeyed southward, and Angus dragged himself reluctantly back from dreams to duty.

Descending from the clouds, he took his bearings and found that the Green Empress was midway between Alencon and Le Mans.

Going on an inspection of the passengers, he found them still without any noticeable interest in the scenery, but on good terms with themselves and with one another.

Lord Lorrimer was reading. Lionel Yule, despatch case on his knee, was studying some papers. Miss Seton's chair was still turned to face Mr. Holt's.

Angus, stopping for a word, found her showing less signs of tiredness. Mr. Zoller was asleep. Angus went on to Mrs. Zoller and found her staring intently out of the window and at intervals making notes in a little book.

"What is number seventy-eight?" she asked, as he stopped beside her.

"I think it's Seine-et-Oise, but I'll look it up for you. Are you interested in car numbers?"

"No. They are not so interesting, really" she confessed, "but it is something to do to pass away the time, don't you think so?"

He was saved from the necessity of replying by hearing Mr. Holt address him.

"Where're we lunching, Angus?"

"And after that?" inquired the Admiral.

FINE CAVALRY SCHOOL

"Saumur . . . Saumur," mused the admiral. "Heard something about Saumur."

"Why I should say so," said Mr. Holt. "It's —"

"Got it," said the admiral. "Just come back to me. Used to be a fine Cavalry School there. Still may be, for all I know."

"Well, I was going to mention the Chateau," said Mr. Holt, "but if you prefer horses, then you prefer horses."

"Why can't you be interested in the important facts about places?" Mrs. Denby-Warre asked the admiral plaintively.

"Well, such as . . . such as . . ."

Mr. Zoller opened his eyes, fixed them hopefully on Angus, and closed them again as Angus went to prepare drinks.

Lionel Yule, taking his glass of sherry, carried it into the courier's compartment and waited for Angus to join him.

"Not bad.'

"Not as a rule. There's a good map if you care to look at it."

"Thanks."

While he studied it, Angus studied him. Nothing to dislike, he reflected, but nothing much to attract anybody who didn't like conventional good looks.

Well-groomed, clean sort of look about him. Not one glimmer of humor, and a slight — very slight — air of condescension.

He looked the sort of fellow one would put down as completely reliable, solid, in fact. It was odd that Miss Seton had thought him untrustworthy.

Yule put aside the map and Angus realized that while he had appeared to be looking at it, he had been thinking of other matters.

TARRANT A NUISANCE

"I've got something on my mind; I wonder if you can do anything about it?" he asked.

"What is it?"

"This fellow Tarrant. He's a bit of a nuisance. I think he's annoying Miss Clunes."

"Has she said so?"

"Good Heavens, no! But one can see. I know her pretty well and—"

"Is he annoying her, or is he annoying you?"

"If he annoys anybody," said Lionel coldly, at last, "can't you do something about it?"

"I can only deal with the facts, not with feelings. If he does anything specific, anything one can pin him down on, I can deal with it. But if it's merely his manner that irritates you, there's not much I can do."

"There's something about him that gets under one's skin — or don't you think so?"

"He's all right. He talks a bit too much, that's all. He's irritating, but I don't think he's offensive. It's a pity he goes in for this schoolboy type of fun, but that's Tarrant and you have to take him or leave him.

"As he's paid his fare to Lisbon, I'm afraid we have to take him. Will you have another drink?"

"No, thank you."

"Then I'll go and see if the others do."

Lord Lorrimer looked up from his book as Angus paused beside him.

"I'm sorry — I hadn't realized when I first saw you that you were the Graham who was a friend of my son's. You weren't at Oliver's wedding?"

"I couldn't go, unfortunately."

"Angela tells me youre going to Canada."

"I am, sir."

INEVITABLE OBSERVATIONS

One could bet, thought Angus, on exactly what people would say when they learned that a young man was going out to Canada.

He had heard the inevitable observations made so often that he could now recite them from memory. He heard them spoken by well-wishers for the past two months, and spoken with especial heartiness by those who had been unsuccessful in finding him a job in England.

Canada was: a, a fine country, b. the land of opportunity, c. the land of the future and d, the land for every young man of ambition.

"How far to the lunch stop, Angus? I'm hungry."

"Me, also," said Mrs. Zoller.

They were relieved to learn that the lunch stop was not far away. Angus, making plans to get Angela to himself, found when the coach stopped that she had been making her own plans.

"You're lunching with my father—and with me, naturally," she told him. "Why haven't you addressed one single word to me on the coach?"

"Guess."

"Correct. Do you still love me?"

"Do I have to say so?"

Expect Record Year in Building Industry

NEW YORK (UPI) — The construction industry rode out the 1958 recession well and now is set to surpass the $50 billion mark in 1959 for the first time ever.

New construction in 1958 rose two to three per cent above the $48.5 billion of 1957 and a greater year-to-year gain is expected in 1959.

Current estimates indicate an additional $20 billion will be spent on modernizing, remodeling, maintaining and repairing existing structures, bringing the total construction outlay for 1959 to more than $70 billion.

The increase in 1959 will be part inflation and part in physical volume, with the latter exceeding the 1955 record, according to the Commerce and Labor Departments.

The optimism for the construction industry is based on a number of factors, among them the continuing improvement in general business conditions, a steady rise in recent months of construction contracts, possibility of additional home mortgage insurance authorization for the FHA and the general belief that institutional and public works building will run at a high level.

Then, there is the report from Engineering News-Record that the flow into the heavy construction backlog — work in the planning stage — picked up in the latter part of 1958 and now is more than $113 billion, as against $111,480,000,000 at the end of 1957.

Dark spots in the picture are few. There is a possibility that improved business conditions will force the government to follow more of a "go slow" policy in stimulating housing and related building.

A further tightening of money by the Federal Reserve would make it more difficult to obtain mortgage money, and rising construction costs could adversely affect some building work.

Public construction in 1959 is expected to account for $2.1 billion of the projected $3.5 billion rise in total new construction, the Commerce and Labor Departments reported.

Housing will account for most of the remainder of the gain.

The road building program and increased school construction will spark the rise in public building. Capital spending for highways is expected to reach $7.1 billion in 1959, compared withh $6.2 billion in 1958.

Housing starts are expected to hold at the 1958 level of about 1,160,000 units, with no significant upturn expected until after 1960 when the marriage and birth rates begin to rise again.

The decline in industrial construction in 1958 is expected to extend into 1959, but the recovery in general business could result in larger expenditures in this category.

Office building may be approaching a saturation point, according to the experts, but store building may recover from the moderate decline of 1958.

Burglar Suspect Hurt Leaping Out Window

DETROIT (UPI) — Richard Hughey, 20, was in serious condition today with injuries police said he suffered when he leaped from a third floor window of a home he attempted to burglarize.

Police said he jumped from the window yesterday when the home owner, John Johnson, returned. Johnson said he found the house ransacked.

Santa Claus Gets Help to Deliver Real Fire Engine

DENVER (UPI) — Santa Claus normally doesn't need much help but when the order is for a fire engine, it helps to know a fellow like Marvin K. Maus.

Maus has three grandchildren—Don, 3, Dick, 5, and Debra Maus, 6. They wanted a full-fledged fire engine for Christmas. It happens that Maus is representative of the American-LaFrance Corp., which manufactures fire equipment. He knew of an old retired engine owned by the Boulder, Colo., fire department.

Christmas morning, the grandchildren heard a fire engine wailing and ran to the window. The monstrous red vehicle parked at the curb outside was theirs.

DETROIT (UPI) — Police were still looking today for a man who shot and killed a 19-year-old youth as the boy was walking with his brother.

Police said Charles Conley and his brother, arthur, 16, were walking on an east side street when a man, apparently intoxicated, began shouting at them . Arthur said the man fired one shot and struck Charles in the head.

Arthur said he ran down an alley and the man pursued him, firing several more shots. The boy was not hurt. Charles was dead on arrival at Receiving Hospital.

THE 1959 COST OF LIVING: Economists predict food prices will be lower than 1958, apparel and appliances about the same, medical bills and rent higher.

Good News for Housewife

Food Prices to Go Down

By RAY CROMLEY

WASHINGTON (NEA) There's good news ahead for the housewife — and the man of the house, too — in 1959.

Despite signs of growing inflation, food prices will be down. Even coffee should hold around its present low figure.

There'll be a number of new easier-to-cook foods on the market. For one: potato flakes that Mrs. Consumer will just pour in a pan, stir, heat — and, presto, mashed potatoes.

The cost of suits, socks, dresses and stockings should go up only a little. So should prices of washers, dryers, vacuum cleaners and other household gadgets for the weary wife.

Only flies in the ointment: medical bills and house rents probably will continue steadily upward. Shoes will cost more in 1959.

These are the combined views of several score of economists scattered throughout the nation. They have brought or sent in reports to the Departments of Labor, Commerce and Agriculture in the past few weeks in an attempt to piece together what's in line for John Q. Consumer in 1959.

NEA Service met and talked with a dozen of these men and women in order to give housewives and husbands this rundown on what's in the price cards for next year.

The price of ham and pork is expected to drop sharply early in 1959. Poultry, fresh vegetables and eggs should be cheaper. Beef prices may be about the same as this year, but there should be a larger supply of the better grades.

Milk and other dairy products will continue plentiful; prices are likely to be about the same as in 1958.

Prices should be considerably lower than they've been since last winter's Florida cold spell cut down citrus output sharply.

Increasing costs of marketing and processing will force cereal food products a little higher next year.

Despite increased labor costs, there are no signs of appreciable 1959 increases in women's clothing prices. Experts say the increased simplicity in women's fashions makes this hold-the-price-line possible. But prices could jump if 1959 styles should turn more elaborate. And who can foretell that now?

Sweaters and knitwear will cost a little more next year. Underwear prices will remain about the same.

Men will fare as well as their wives. There's a light push toward lower prices in the offing for men's wool suits. Wholesale prices are down a little. There's no telling, of course, whether these mild savings will be passed on to the consumer.

There'll be a lot more men's, women's and children's wash and wear in the stores in 1959. It will be of better quality. It will look better after washing without ironing.

Heavy demand will tend to push these wash and wear prices up, but strong competition between manufacturrs is expected to keep these price rises small.

Rebels Claim Capture of City

Cuban Radio Reports Sancti Spiritus Seized on Christmas Eve

HAVANA (UPI)—The rebel radio claimed yesterday that Fidel Castro's forces have seized the ancient city of Sancti Spiritus in the heart of the tobacco-raising area of central Cuba.

It said the rebels entered the city Christmas Eve following a two day siege. Another rebel column entered the town of Encrucijada, also in Las Villas Province, Christmas Day, the broadcast said.

The radio report made no mention of casualties or fighting in either incident.

Sancti Spiritus (Holy Ghost) was founded in 1514 and has a population of 125,000. Its seizure saw the latest in a series of rebel claims, none of which have been confirmed by the government.

The rebels previously said they occupied half a dozen towns and villages along the main highway in central Cuba.

Merchants reported one of their busiest seasons following the granting of 45 million dollars in holiday bonuses. However, the holidays were spoiled for thousands of Cuban families by casualties during the year in Cuba's rebellion.

President and Mrs. Fulgencio Batista had 150,000 Christmas food and gift packages sent to the poor.

Youth in Reformatory Escapes During Fire

IONIA (UPI) — Authorities were looking for an inmate from the Michigan Reformatory who apparently escaped yesterday while a fire was raging in a metal storage tank.

Chester Wysocki, 19, Detroit, was working in the dairy barn when the fire started, but he was not seen afterwards. The blaze destroyed a large amount of baled straw in the storage tank.

St. Louis Murder Remains Riddle

Police Find No Clues in the Killing of Young Bridegroom-Student

ST. LOUIS (AP)—After nine days, the murder of James S. Bullock remains a riddle.

Police have checked a multitude of tips, anonymous telephone calls and unsigned notes. But apparently officers still are without a solid lead in St. Louis' most publicized mystery in recent years.

Bullock was shot to death Dec. 17, shortly after dark. His killer pumped three .22 caliber bullets into him near the city art museum in Forest Park.

Dt. Sgt. Frank O'Neill of the homicide squad has promised anonymity to anyone who offers new information.

Bullock, a bridegroom of six months, was a $400-a-month clerk at an electric company and a night student at St. Louis University. He was found dying about 30 minutes after leaving home for classes.

O'Neill said questioning of fellow workers and classmates of the 27-year-old Bullock revealed that he had no known enemies.

Quality of '58 Films Good, but Not Good Enough

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—The movie industry is ending another rocky year with its battle to win back its lost audience still unresolved.

The producers were trying harder than ever in 1958, and they had some success. The general quality of films was good, but still not good enough to assure a happy future for the movie business.

Our annual assessment of the year's product uncovers no standout film, as in the last two years with "Around the World in 80 Days" and "The Bridge on the River Kwai." Several films won hearty approval from critics and audiences, but few had that magic hats-in-the-air quality.

Music in the Round

by Dick Saunders

FIVE ACES: David Seville and friends are going out in a blaze of glory as far as 1958 is concerned. They've scored a third straight clean sweep, taking first place by storm in Pontiac area record sales.

Second spot goes to "The Little Drummer Boy" by the Harry Simeone Choral, a hot seller since it was issued early last week. In third place is "Smoke Gets in Your Eyes" by The Platters.

Fourth place is taken by "Whole Lot of Loving" by Fats Domino, just edging out "Lovers Question" by Clyde McPhatter and "I Got Stung" by Elvis, both tied for fifth spot.

THE JAZZ NEST: For the last nest of the year we have two current releases by World Pacific that make record buying such a pleasant task for jazz fans.

For those who are pure of heart, "Pretty Groovy" (WP-1249) is a fine piecing together of some tasty bits of Chet Baker from past performances.

Baker is both slow and relaxed, and hard driving in this LP. I can't say it's the best of Chet, but it does swing for all it's worth and is certainly worth the loot.

A "stringy" LP is "I'll Take Romance" (WP-1251) by Bud Shank with the Len Mercer Strings. My use of adjective naturally doesn't apply to the music quality; just the instrumentation. Shank's alto and flute work here is solid and meaty.

POP ALBUMS: Another World Pacific gem is "Let's Face the Music and Dance" (WP-1250), which brings David Allen back to the scene with more terrific vocals backed by the big Bill Holman Orchestra.

Allen is one of the year's finest male vocalists, with a swinging delivery that adapts beautifully to both jazz and pop idioms.

But West Needn't Get Hopes Up

Nasser Cracks Down on Reds

By WILTON WYNN

CAIRO (AP) — President Nasser's crackdown on the Syrian Communist does not mean that he himself has changed.

This is not a new Nasser. It is the same old would-be ruler of the Arab world handling a new problem.

Nasser savagely attacked the Communists in a speech in Port Said Tuesday, and Westerners immediately were tempted to interpret this as a shift to the West or courting Western favor.

In fact, it was just typical Nasser counter-punching. Time and again he has repeated his favorite political maxim: "We will befriend those who befriend us and attack those who attack us."

For three years, the Communists befriended Nasser. In return he was relatively gentle with them.

In the past few weeks, the Reds have turned sharply against the U.A.R. president and he is hitting back. In typical Nasser fashion, the blow he returns is apt to be more resounding than the one he receives.

If the Communists had behaved themselves and continued to support Nasser's version of Arab nationalism, he would not have attacked them in Port Said, and he would not be cracking down on them in Syria.

The decline of Western influence in the Arab world had a lot to do with it. Heavy Western defeats in Suez, Syria, and—most important of all—Iraq practically eliminated the threat of Western domination in these countries. Removal of this pressure broke up the alliance of Communists and nationalists and opened a new phase in Middle East politics.

This also presented Nasser with a new problem. The Communists oppose Arab unity under him because it means the dissolution of Communist parties and political control by Cairo instead of Moscow.

This conflict showed up most sharply in Iraq. It was loudly echoed in Nasser's own Syria, where Communist leader Khali Bakdash has called for the dissolution of the United Arab Republic. Nasser is aiming at a showdown.

One's Habitual Posture Expresses His Feeling

IOWA CITY, Ia. (UPI) — Persons with round shoulders or other such defects may have to change their personalities as well as their physical stances to develop a better posture.

According to Prof. Eleanor Metheny of the University of Southern California, you stand as you "feel."

Your habitual posture seems comfortable to you because it expresses how you feel, Dr. Metheny said. This "feeling" for posture comes from the same source that gives yo ua sensation of pleasure as you swing a golf club or take a swimming stroke, she said.

Deaf Children Get New Hope

Hidden Difficulty May Be Answer in Teaching Speech to Handicapped

WASHINGTON (AP)—New hope was offered today for some deaf children previously thought incapable of learning to talk.

They might have an undetected language disability along with their known deafness, said Edna K. Monsees, director of the hearing and speech department of Children's Hospital, Washington.

If this is discovered, the child might then be taught to talk by the application of special teaching techniques, she said in a report prepared for the 125th meeting of the American Assn. for the Advancement of Science.

"The results of recent research and invention dealing with problems of hearing and deafness are leading us to suspect that some of the old maxims about deaf children may not be true," she said.

"We are questioning the statement, for example, that some deaf children of normal intelligence cannot learn to lipread and to talk."

It now appears, she said, that such children may actually (1) have a handicap that is not deafness at all; (2) they may be doubly-handicapped children having both hearing and language disabilities called "aphasia."

Both sides agreed Wednesday to meet Sunday with Douglas D. Brown and William Murray of the Federal Mediation and Concilation Service.

Chevrolet-Ford Race Picking Up Steam

By DAVID J. WLIKIE
AP Automotve Writer

Chevrolet has the lead in production and retail deliveries clinched for 1958, but Ford is sparing no effort to narrow the margin.

The big General Motors Division, No. 1 in production and retail sales through most of the last quarter century, has been shattering output records in recent weeks.

Ford similarly has been pushing up its output with overtime and six-day schedules in most of its 13 assembly plants. Some plants have been operating on a two-shift basis.

The industry scheduled 600,000 cars for production this month. At their present rate of production Chevrolet will account for 177,000 and Ford 134,000 of that total.

So far this year Chevrolet has built approximately 1,215,000 cars, down about 250,000 from the total for the comparable 1957 period. Ford Division has made about 1,010,000 cars, down about 479,000 from the year ago period.

The two major car producers are not disclosing their up to the minute retail deliveries. But both are claiming near-record demand. The most recent tabulation of retail deliveries showed Ford topped Chevrolet in sales in October.

Labor disputes put Chevrolet out of production most of that month, just as the 1959 model year was getting started. The halted assembly lines left many Chevrolet dealers without 1959 model cars.

Sales figures for October showed Ford dealers delivered nearly 72,000 cars and Chevrolet more than 69,300. However, for the 10-month period ended October 31 Chevrolet dealers sold more than a million cars and Ford dealers about 806,000.

Published registration figures showed that Ford topped Chevrolet last year with 1,493,617 deliveries to 1,456,288.

Surveys indicate that despite the high production level of recent weeks some shortages still exist in the low price car field. But output is running ahead of indicated sales. It has been estimated production this month will exceed deliveries by about 100,000 cars. Estimates are that dealer stocks will approximate 500,000 units on Jan. 1.

On Jan. 1, 1958, retailers had 652,208 cars in stock or in warehouses.

If, as presently is indicated, General Motors and Ford Motor Co. put smaller wheelbase models into production in this country, another area of hot competition will be opened for Ford division and Chevrolet.

The job of producing th smaller cars is earmarked for the two larger divisions of the Ford Motor Co. and General Motors. Both have already built prototypes of the proposed smaller cars.

SANDUSKY, Ohio (UPI)—A Detroit man, accused of being the wrong-way driver who caused seven deaths on the Ohio turnpike, was scheduled to appear in Erie County Common Pleas Court today.

John Hines Jr., 45, was not permitted to enter a plea Wednesday because his Cleveland lawyer, Norman S. Minor, was not present.

Hines, lone survivor of a Nov. 7 head-on crash, indicated he had a letter from Minor instructing him to plead innocent.

Common Pleas Judge James L. McCrystal said Hines' attorney must be present when he enters a plea. The jurist then ordered Hines to have his attorney in court with him today.

Hines was indicted on seven counts of traffic manslaughter.

Tower of London Stubbornly Hides Buried Treasure

As they dig beneath the ancient ramparts, workmen are alert for a million dollars' worth of gold coins and precious stones, hidden in the Tower by Sir John Barkstead in the time of Oliver Cromwell.

Barkstead, Governor of the Tower in 1652, is reputed to have extorted the horde from royalist prisoners before he was caught and hanged.

Today, the search goes on, as it has, off and on, for 300 years.

Though modern treasure hunters have used electronic devices, the odds against finding anything lost in the Tower of London, are staggering. The historic battlement, sprawling over 18 acres beside the Thames, was not only a prison and palace, but a royal zoo and treasury.

There are more than a dozen towers, and countless hiding places within the massive walls date back to the Londinium of the Romans.

Lasted 20 Years as Radio Show

Era of Silly Questions, Silver Dollars Revived for New Generation

By WILLIAM EWALD

NEW YORK (UPI)—Back in the days of radio—that, children, was television with a wretched picture, but cheaper repairmen—there was a show called "Dr. I. Q."

It lasted 20 years, asked several thousand silly questions, doled out more than a million silver dollars and rescued countless ladies who had somehow become captives of announcers in the balcony.

Monday night, ABC-TV dipped into this Cro-Magnon period of entertainment, resurrected "Dr. I. Q." and I must say it all looked properly calcified.

The silver dollars were on hand and so were the silly questions. There was also an ensnared lady in a jerry-built balcony. Whether the present edition will endure for 20 years is too frightening a prospect to contemplate. However, anything is possible. Franklin Pierce, after all, made it for four.

"The genial, rapid-fire quizmaster"—I quoted from press releases—was Tom Kennedy and he genially fired rapidly such questions as "Why do camels have long eyelashes," "What was the family name of Tiny Tim" and "What is the name of the salad dressing named after the islands in the St. Lawrence River."

The questions were worth, respectively, eleven, seven and five silver dollars and it occurred to me the contestants might have spent their evening more profitably over a sidewalk grating with a piece of gummed string. I know for sure the home audience should have.

THE COMOS AT HOME — Perry Como, star of the NBC-TV 'Perry Como Show' on Saturday, relaxes with his wife Roselle and their children, Terri, 11, Ronnie, 18, and David, 12. Guests on Perry's show this Saturday night will include Art Carney, songstress Dolores Hawkins, and singer-soldier Steve Lawrence. A special feature will be Dancing Waters in which water is set to music.

In 1900 only about 18 per cent of the people of the U.S. lived outside their native states, but by 1950 about 43 per cent had chosen homes in other states of the Union.

Christmas Family Busy With Lots of Yule Calls

NE WORLEANS, La. (UPI) — It was a Merry Christmas for the Christmases — all 18 of them — in spite of all those wise-cracking telephone calls.

There were Josie, Eugene, Margaret, Lorie Rose, Sam, Earl, Louis, Winfield and Joseph. But no Merry, or even Mary.

Josie says she was the only Christmas in town, that she knew of, until about 15 years ago. Then members of the Christmas family began migrating downriver from Natchez, Miss. Now they all get together for Christmas.

As usual on Christmas Eve, the telephone at Josie's house jingled constantly while the Christmases were decorating their tree. The callers were anonymous, but the nature of the calls was familiar.

"Merry Christmas! Ho, ho, ho!" said another.

'Woodrow Wilson' on TV

NEW YORK—"Woodrow Wilson: The Fight For Peace," a unique historical portrait of the 28th President's heart-breaking struggle for the League of Nations, will be presented on the 102nd anniversary of his birth, Sunday, Dec. 28, from 6:30 to 7 p.m., on the CBS television network's "Twentieth Century" series. Walter Cronkhite narrates.

Radiation Tests Utilize Animals

Scientists Seek Effects Upon Body Functions After 'Lifetime' Dose

MEMPHIS, Tenn. — (UPI) — If all goes well with experiments on mice, dogs and monkeys, scientist Dr. Richard Overman will come up with new information on the effects of radiation.

Radiation tests will be made in an underground facility with concrete walls 20 inches thick. The radiation room will be 37 feet long and 22 feet wide.

Special safety features include a door that automatically locks when the radiation source — a thimble-size lump of Cobalt 60 — is "on."

Dr. Overman is professor of clinical physiology at the University of Tennessee Medical Units here. He is senior investigator on the project. He said his staff will study the effects of intermittent, low-level radiation on animals.

The animals will receive a "lifetime" dose of radiation in the course of a week and then be studied for possible changes in body functions and processes.

The findings will furnish information on what to expect in humans exposed to relatively low amounts of radiation for prolonged periods.

His Story of Success Has a Different Twist

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — Bobo Rockefeller bet a Hollywood friend $1,000 that Nelson Rockefeller will be next President. "It will just prove," Bobo told me at El Morocco, "that even a boy born with $1,000,000,000 can make good."

Ava Gardner was in 3rd Av. bar with Walter Chiari and saw a girl at the bar in an $80 white nylon coat she admired. Ava asked the girl over, inquired where she bought the coat, and explained she wanted to buy four for some firends. The girl—who had stopped off for a drink on her way home from work—wasn't one of N.Y.'s Best Dressed Women: she was a waitress.

Purse-Snatcher Gets $5,000 Ring

Oak Park Woman Was Stopped at Light When Man Opened Car Door

OAK PARK — It was an unhappy Christmas this year for an Oak Park family after a purse-snatcher ran off with between $400 and $500 in cash and a $5,000 diamond ring belonging to the mother.

Mrs. Celia Stocker of 21610 Gardner St. told Oak Park police the man motioned to her that he was seeking a ride when she slowed down to make a right turn at Northend and Meyers streets Wednesday.

As he walked up to the car, she shook her head refusing to give him a ride but he quickly opened the door, grabbed her purse on the seat containing the money and ring and ran off toward Oakdale Gardens.

The woman told police she was on her way to buy gifts for her husband and three sons.

Grand Rapids Papers Hold Contract Talks

GRAND RAPIDS (UP) — A weekend of contract negotiations between the city's two strike-bound newspapers and separate employe unions opens today.

The Grand Rapids Press and the Grand Rapids Herald have not published since Nov. 25 because of a strike by members of International Typographical Union Local 39.

The local is negotiating a contract apart from ITU locals at seven other Booth newspapers where similar strikes ended last week.

Union representatives and officials of both newspapers are meeting today in the presence of state and federal mediators.

Prince Akihito to Be Married Middle of April

TOKYO (UPI) — An imperial household committee has decided that Crown Prince Akihito's wedding to Michiko Shoda should be held sometime between the middle and end of April.

The committee, which is making preparation for the wedding, set the approximate date at a meeting yesterday. The imperial family and the cabinet are expected to approve.

The government has already appropriated $55,000 to pay the costs of the crown prince's wedding to the pretty commoner who became his fiancee last month.

Alaska's annual gold production is valued at over $8,000,000, more than the $7,200,000 paid to Russia for the region in 1867.

Efficiency Expert Loathes Christmas

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK—"Well, now that THAT'S over," said Scrooge, "let's get back on the ball."

Other seasons of the year he is referred to as "the old man" or worse. His family thinks of him by his initials.

He is the efficiency expert in the large office; the man who yesterday counted his calories instead of his blessings. He also counted the cost of his presents, and the number of associates who wished him merry.

Scrooge's ulcers tremble over the job of opening Christmas gifts. The ribbon is wasteful, the oil is criminal; the sentiment represents a diminishing of 100 per cent efficiency.

As for the present inside. This is the most agonizing symbol of all: A trifle at inflation prices. Shall he return it to the store for cash? This takes time. Time is money.

The Scrooge of 1958 differs sharply from the Dickens variety. He does not see ghosts, because he is too literal to be duped by fancy. He contributes to the Tiny Tims of the world, not out of fear or regeneration, but because he respects the Internal Revenue Department, which looks kindly upon a charitable man.

He has cheated no man of money. Only of pleasure, which is a small matter indeed, because he says so, and he is a smarter man than most.

Last of all, though the Scrooge of today resents Christmas as a time of smiling, gabbing inefficiency (he can quote you statistics), he is not the traditional surly, growling boss.

Christmas, however, brought out the gentleness in 99.9 per cent of the population.

That was proven yesterday—and will be proven every day through the end of January—by the USO.

To 2,600,000 U.S. servicemen scattered among 1,200 military bases around the world, was sent out the most extravagant extravaganza ever filmed. It is a 90-minute spectacular, featuring the greatest acts of 44 of the top names in show business; extra-added attraction: Dwight D. Eisenhower giving a fatherly talk.

Hundreds of thousands of artists and technicians rustled up the USO spectacular in seven months. All without pay, of course.

But the most gratifying news, in this year of endless union-management strikes and dissensions, was that all the entertainment guilds worked cooperatively with the big wheels of all the TV networks to get the job done swiftly and efficiently.

Just before Christmas, the USO gathered at the United Nations to award scrolls to union representatives for their "outstanding contribution to the morale of the armed forces."

The turn-out was small. Having done their part magnificently for Christ and the serviceman, they were back at work "in negotiations"—trying to make a better buck.

Busier Than Panama, Suez Canals

Soo Locks Top Attraction for Tourists in Michigan

ANN ARBOR (AP) — The history-rich link between Lakes Huron and Superior is traveled by more shipping tonnage annually than by the Panama and Suez canals combined.

For this reason, a poll of University of Michigan professors has resulted in the Soo Locks being declared a top tourist attraction of Michigan. The Soo Locks rank behind only the Mackinac Bridge and Detroit's auto industry as a sightseers paradise in Michigan.

Flags of four nations have fluttered in the area of the St. Mary's River and the Locks. France claimed the territory in 1671 and held it for nearly a century. The British took it over in 1762.

Today Canadian and American flags flutter at the international waterway. The American flag was hoisted in 1820 and the last British flag on U.S. soil came down.

Long before the first lock was built — a small one on the Canadian side in 1797 — Ojibway Indians roamed the Soo, said Prof. Harry Benford.

Benford is familiar with the area because of his work in navel architecture and marine engineering.

He said the Ojibway knew the Soo as "Bawating," or the rapids.

The rapids were impassable until the first lock was built by the Northwest Fur Co., Benford said. Colonial pioneers portaged their canoes around the link now provided by the locks.

The first lock was put out of commission by American troops during the War of 1812, Benford said. Again vessels were carried around the rapids.

In 1855, the Soo Locks were opened and the maiden voyage was by the brig Columbia. Its cargo was 132 tons of iron ore, the main item transported through the locks today.

Benford said about 90 ships pass through the locks daily in the average eight-month season of the 20th century.

The locks compensate, Benford said, for a drop of 21 feet in the water level between Lakes Superior and Huron. The current in the rapids often is 24 miles an hour, nearly doubling the speed of fast freighters, Benford said.

Baby Left on Doorstep Named 'Mary Christmas'

The infant was named by nurses at Roseland Comumnity Hospital where the baby was reported doing well in an incubator. When found by Mrs. Mary Martin, it was wrapped in a blanket in a cardboard box. Its temperature was too low to be recorded.
