Flies Crippled Jet 300 Miles to Save Comrade

OMAHA, Neb. (INS) — A young air force pilot who flew a crippled B47 jet bomber 300 miles with a freezing 450 mile-an-hour wind ripping his face and then blind-landed the plane to save the life of a helpless comrade was hailed today for his "impossible" feat.

First Lt. James E. Obenauf, 24, of Grayslake, Ill., flying blind from his co-pilot's seat behind the pilot's control position, brought the explosion and fire damaged medium bomber down on instruments to a perfect landing at Dyess Air Force Base near Abilene, Tex., yesterday.

Tortured by a swiftly-moving subzero air stream that hammered through the open cockpit from which the canopy has been jettisoned, Obenauf had flown the aircraft 50 minutes after an explosion in an engine set a wing afire 30,000 feet over Dalhart, Tex.

He had refused to bail out of the stricken plane and leave Maj. Joseph B. Maxwell, 33, of Portsmouth, Va., an instructor-navigator who had been knocked unconscious when the wildly - pitching bomber hurled him against a bulkhead.

Two other crew members, Maj. James M. Graves, 34, aircraft commander, of Fort Worth, Tex., and First Lt. John P. Cobb Jr., 25, navigator, of Elko, Nev., earlier parachuted from the flaming bomber thinking Obenauf and Maxwell would follow. They landed safely.

CONSIDERED IMPOSSIBLE

The Strategic Air Command in Omaha said a landing such as Obenauf made had been considered impossible.

SAC explained that planes have been landed by a pilot from the pilot's seat with the canopy off because the pilot remains shielded by a cowling and can see the ground.

But, SAC said, it had been considered impossible for a co-pilot to do it because he is behind a solid bulkhead and cannot see forward unless he leans sidewise from the seat, in which case the wind would blind him.

Obenauf's grim ordeal began when one engine of the six-jet $2,500,000 plane exploded into flames and Graves ordered his crew to bail out.

Cobb successfully ejected himself downward from his position in the nose compartment.

At the same time, Graves pulled the handle which blew the canopy free from over himself and Obenauf, to open the path for their escape.

EJECTION SEATS FAIL

But neither Graves nor Obenauf's ejection seats worked and they decided to go forward and leap through the hatch used by Cobb.

Graves, in the forward position, dived out of the aircraft.

As Obenauf moved toward the nose, however, he stumbled over the unconscious body of Maxwell, whose parachute had been sucked through the nose hatch.

Obenauf immediately returned to his seat, brought the bomber under control and headed toward Dyess Air Base.

Obenauf, his head and face protected against the biting wind only by a helmet and a microphone, quickly took the plane down to 13,000 feet where the oxygen was sufficient to revive Maxwell and keep his own senses alert.

He was forced to duck his head behind a cockpit bulkhead and fly the aircraft on instruments.

As he neared Dyess AFB, Obenauf was given a ground-controlled approach by radar and was "talked down" by Col. Anthony J. Perna, commander of the 341st bomb wing.

Obenauf and Maxwell were reported in "good" condition after treatment for shock, frostbite, wind and dust-burned eyes.

The young pilot is married and has a 10-month-old son.

He has been in the Air Force six years and wants to make the service his career.

OPEN SKIES — Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge displays map which he showed to the United Nations Security Council in presenting President Eisenhower's plan for an international inspection zone in the Arctic. Keyhole-shaped area which could be included in the inspection zone includes parts of Russia, Norway, Greenland, Canada and Alaska within the Arctic circle and, in the extra wedge, most of Alaska, the Kuriles and part of the Kamchatka peninsula.

Dag Appeals to Russia: 'Reconsider Open Skies'

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. — Dag Hammarskjold's dramatic appeal to the Kremlin stirred new hope today that Soviet leaders may reconsider their rejection of the Eisenhower Arctic "open skies" plan.

The U. N. secretary general placed his worldwide prestige at stake last night by publicly urging Nikita S. Khrushchev and other Russian leaders to break the disarmament stalemate by accepting the U. S. proposal.

His "most unusual" intervention came in the waning moments of a long Security Council meeting yesterday that was plunged into gloom after Soviet Ambassador Arkady A. Sobolev flatly turned down the north polar inspection scheme.

Stressing that it was his "duty" to attempt to conclude an agreement, the Swedish U.N. chief declared:

". . . I wish today to welcome the initiative taken by the United States in presenting a proposal which might break up the stale-

Military Power Switch Urgent, President Tells News Conference

WASHINGTON (INS)—President Eisenhower said today that Congressional acceptance of the essentials of his defense reorganization program is necessary if the U.S. is to be properly defended.

The Chief Executive vigorously told his news conference that the core of the plan is to give the defense secretary enough authority to carry out unified strategy.

He said he would not quibble over words but insisted that any retreat from this fundamental in his mind would be a retreat to a degree of defenselessness that would be inexcusable.

In a generally jovial mood with the 241 reporters at his sixth news conference in as many weeks, the President also made these points:

ECONOMY — He does not feel that yesterday's report of a slight decline in unemployment is evidence yet that the nation is back on the road to prosperity but he sees continued and emphatic evidence that the business decline is flattening out.

TAXES — Replying to Democratic prodding for a decision on a tax cut, he again declared that a tax cut in itself cannot revitalize the economy and that there must

Witness States He Spotted Van Horn Because of Hair

By GEORGE T. TRUMBULL JR.

Kennedy, one of Prosecutor Frederick C. Ziem's prime witnesses, testified in Van Horn's first-degree murder trial yesterday that he spotted Van Horn walking up the driveway of the Murdock home at 127 N. Josephine St. around 2 p.m.

Billy Ray Van Horn probably would have gone unnoticed past the Murdock home in Waterford Township Jan. 24 had it not been for his long, wavy blond hair that "seemed to glisten in the sunshine."

The only witness who apparently saw the 24-year-old unemployed welder that afternoon near the home, a Detroit Edison tree trimmer, said Van Horn's hair caught his attention.

KIND OF PRETTY

"I noticed his hair," said Ambrose P. Kennedy of 1212 Cass Lake Rd., Waterford Township. "I thought it looked kind of pretty. It seemed to glisten in the sunshine."

Shortly thereafter Mrs. Hazel Murdock, 39, was slugged, stabbed five times in the abdomen, strangled by a wire coat hanger and sexually attacked.

Ziem asked that the jury of six women and six men return a verdict of guilty of first degree murder against Van Horn.

Van Horn, who police said came to the Pontiac area from Chicago, eyed 11 witnesses as they took the stand Tuesday to piece together the crime.

One witness, 26-year-old Condy Elliott of State Ave., described how he and Van Horn went from

Safety Check of Vehicles Starts in City Monday

Next Monday, starts a four-day safety Check Program in Pontiac for motor vehicles.

Under the slogan "Join the Circle of Safety," five check lanes will be established in public streets where cars and trucks can be inspected quickly for the condition of lights, brakes, tires, steering, exhaust systems, windshield wipers and horns.

Sponsoring the safety campaign is a committee headed by Harold Marshall, city personnel director, and including representatives of the Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce, local auto dealers and the police department.

They will work with the Inter-Industry Highway Safety Committee, a group which sponsors the program nationally.

Safety check lanes will be established on Huron, at Saginaw; Auburn at East boulevard; Montcalm at Lincoln Junior High; Johnson, between State and the Grand Trunk Railroad; and Orchard Lake, at Berwick boulevard.

Hours will be 9 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. and 6 to 8:30 p.m. Manning the stations during the day will be students from the Pontiac Central High driver training course and mechanics loaned by the dealers.

During evening hours personnel will be supplied by the service clubs — Rotary, Optimists, Exchange, Lions, Kiwanis and Civitan.

This year new safety emblems in circular form have been adopted and will be given each car that passes the check.

Those that do not pass will be given a warning notice to repair the defect in 72 hours or face the possibility of receiving a violation ticket.

Ford Official Commends GM Contract Stand

Asserts Move Is Sound Approach to Reaching Labor Settlement

WASHINGTON (AP)— Walter P. Reuther, United Auto Workers president, said today there would be no strike against General Motors as a result of the company's notice that its labor contract with the UAW will end May 29.

Speaking to reporters before testifying at a House Banking Committee hearing, Reuther said that ultimately a contract would be signed satisfactory to all parties.

From Our News Wires

DETROIT — Ford and Chrysler are holding new contract sessions with the United Auto Workers Union today while talks between the UAW and General Motors are in recess until tomorrow.

GM yesterday served a 30-day contract termination notice on the Union and Chrysler joined Ford and GM in turning down the Union's proposal for a three-month contract extension.

Ford Motor Co. Vice President John S. Bugas said today he considered General Motors Corp.'s contract cancellation notice to the United Auto Workers Union a very sound approach toward reaching a prompt settlement of labor contracts in the auto industry.

Bugas, Ford's top negotiator, made the comment to newsmen before resuming negotiations with the UAW today.

GM First Quarter Sales 11.6 Pct. Below '57 Period

NEW YORK (INS)—General Motors' first quarter sales dropped 11.6 per cent and earnings fell $76,000,000 below those of the corresponding period last year.

A report to shareholders showed net sales of $2,721,000,000, compared with $3,077,000,000 a year ago.

Net income of $185,000,000, or 65 cents per share, compared with $261,000,000, or 93 cents, in the first quarter of 1957. Unit sales of GM cars and trucks around the world totaled 981,963, or 90 per cent of volume last year.

A statement by President Harlow Curtice and Chairman Albert Bradley noted General Motors experienced a "substantial improvement in competitive position" despite its reduced activity.

Commenting on the recession, they said:

"While the severity of the decline . . . should not be minimized, there is no question about the fundamental strength of the American economy. It is but a matter of time before the upward climb will be resumed."

The average number of wage earners employed by GM in the United States in the first 1958 quarter was 333,649 compared with 387,208 a year ago. Their weekly earnings averaged $97.17 compared to $96.69 a year earlier.

The two GM officials said the auto industry was affected to a greater degree than many other segments of the economy by the recession that began late last year.

Spring Jobs Nip Recession Trend

But Unemployment Dip Is Far Short of Normal for March-April

WASHINGTON (AP) — A spring increase in outdoor work has brought a surge in employment and a slight drop in joblessness — but no letup in demands for government anti-recession action.

Releasing its figures 10 days earlier than usual, the Commerce Department said unemployment dropped 78,000 during April — the first decline since last October but far short of the normal 300,000 to 350,000 decline from March to April.

The report was issued as the House prepared to debate a bill for extension of jobless benefits. Along with the April jobless total of 5,120,000, the department reported an increase of 596,000 in employment to a new total of 62,907,000 persons working.

Secretary of Commerce Weeks said nearly all the gain in employment resulted from the usual spring pickup in agriculture and other outdoor activities.

Paradoxically, although unemployment declined, the report said the percentage of jobless persons increased from 7 per cent in March to 7½ per cent in April on a seasonally adjusted basis, which takes into account a number of statistical factors.

House to Debate Jobless Relief

Leaders Admit Fierce Battle Will Be Waged Before Final Vote

One of the hottest legislative battles of the present Congress was in prospect before the final vote is cast sometime late this week.

"We have a real fight on our hands," conceded Rep. Forand (D-RI), a leader of the Democratic forces backing a measure to pay federal jobless grants to the vast majority of the nation's five million unemployed.

Ranged against it were most House Republicans and a substantial number of Democrats who think either that the bill does not go far enough, or that it goes too far.

The issue, however, was expected to narrow down to the program of temporary unemployment relief loans to the states as proposed by President Eisenhower, and the sweeping program of federal grants proposed by the Democrats. Both proposals would be temporary, expiring next year.

The House Rules Committee, in clearing the measure for floor debate, gave the House an opportunity to start voting tomorrow on a variety of alternatives including the administration plan.

Under present law, jobless benefits are financed out of employer payroll taxes which go into a trust fund until needed. Terms and conditions governing payments vary from state to state, as do amounts and the period of coverage.

The Democratic bill covers both presently insured and uninsured workers, providing 16 weeks of jobless pay to be financed entirely out of the U.S. Treasury.

The administration program would limit additional jobless pay to those injured workers who have exhausted their benefits. The added coverage would be 50 per cent of the state compensation period —a maximum of 13 weeks additional in most states.

be a very close and studious analysis of the situation before making any real move in that direction.

"DIRTY" BOMBS — He denied a charge by Sen. Clinton P. Anderson (D-NM) that the military had replaced so-called "clean" nuclear bombs with "dirty" radioactive ones. The President said that no military officer had ever uggested stockpiling dirtier bombs. On the contrary, he said, they prefer cleaner ones which are better tactically.

NIXON — He said it is not his place to groom a successor. He said he has kept Vice President Richard M. Nixon fully informed of administration decisions so that he would be able to fill in if Mr. Eisenhower should be incapacitated. But the President said the GOP candidate for his job in 1960 will be named by the Republican Party and it has a lot of darned good men to choose from.

Eisenhower also called on Russia today to reconsider its rejection of the U.S. proposal for an Arctic inspection zone to prevent surprise nuclear attacks.

The Chief Executive said that Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko's charge that the American proposal was a "publicity stunt" saddened him rather than roused his resentment.

The President said Gromyko's charge was silly, and he hopes the Soviet government will reconsider.

At the same time, Mr. Eisenhower said unequivocally that there has been no change in U.S. disarmament policies.

The President broke into a big laugh when a reporter asked whether his anger at last week's news conference was any indication that the strain of office was catching up with him. He said he would be less than human if he were always a Pollyanna and he does not attempt to be a poker player before this crowd.

Through most of the 30-minute session, the President was in good humor. His tone was serious when he replied to a reporter who asked how long he thought a President should stay in Washington and how long he could remain out of town if he is to do his job well.

Mr. Eisenhower replied that he did not think a person did his job best by sitting at his desk. He said that when he is in some other part of the U.S., it does not make a very great difference in the way he conducts the presidency.

Sullenberger Suit Order Completed

Attorneys in the suit by Dr. Neil H. Sullenberger against Pontiac General Hospital have agreed upon the form of an order dismissing the case and have sent it to Circuit Judge Timothy C. Quinn, of Caro.

Attorney Glenn C. Gillespie, who represents the hospital, said the order was mailed to Judge Quinn yesterday and may be signed and filed in Oakland County Circuit Court by Monday. Dr. Sullenberger, who has said he would seek a Michigan Supreme Court appeal of the dismissal, has 20 days after the order is filed in which to do so.

Judge Quinn dismissed the suit April 11. In it, Dr. Sullenberger had sought reinstatement from his Nov. 13 suspension from the hospital's medical staff and $250,000 damages. Judge Quinn ruled the surgeon had filed the suit "prematurely," without first exhausting grievance procedure at the hospital.

Pontiac Police Officers Raymond Dickinson and William Moore arrested Richard P. Denihan, 21, of 36 Parkhurst St., when they found him in the Faith Sunoco Service Station, 1405 Opdyke Rd., Pontiac Township, shortly before 4 a.m.

Denihan, they said, had forcibly entered the station by breaking a window on the north side of the building.

He was questioned and turned over to Oakland County Sheriff's officials since the incident occurred just outside the Pontiac city limits.

Despondent Mother, 28, Opens Fire at Home in Massachusetts

LONGMEADOW, Mass. (INS)— A despondent 28-year-old mother today shot and wounded her seven-year-old daughter, fired twice at her husband and then took her own life with a bullet from a .32 caliber revolver.

Mrs. Irving Richman died instantly. Her daughter, Laurie, shot once in the chest, was taken to Wesson Memorial Hospital, Springfield, where doctors described her condition as fair. Surgeons operated immediately to remove the bullet which lodged near the youngster's heart.

Following the operation, Laurie's pulse returned to normal and doctors said she probably would recover.

Richman, 30, employed by a chain grocery company, said he had gone to the cellar to investigate a strange noise, leaving his wife and Laurie in a bedroom.

Richman told police his wife had been depressed since the death of her father and had been under the care of a physician.

UAW-Ford, Chrysler Talks Continue Today

it saw signs of collaboration between the Big Three in dealing with the union.

Chrysler President L. L. Colbert told the union that a three-month delay "would prolong the present economic uncertainties all along the line and hinder recovery." He also said it would "secure time for the union to build up its bargaining strength."

Replying for the union, Art Hughes, administrative assistant who heads the bargaining team in talks at Chrysler, declared there was an "obvious similarity" in Chrysler's announcement and statements made by GM and Ford in rejecting the union's proposal.

Hughes asserted it "indicates a further tightening of the auto industry's economic alliance."

The auto companies have never been able to get together on industrywide bargaining. The auto executives say there is no collaboration in dealing with the union.

GM took the initiative in giving the union 30-day notice that the current three-year contract will end at midnight May 29.

GM virtually invited the union to make the world's biggest manufacturing firm its target rather than Ford or Chrysler, whose contracts expire three days later.

GM took an unprecedented step. In previous negotiations it has waited for the union to serve termination notice.

WON'T SPECULATE

UAW Vice President Leonard Woodcock, in charge of the union's GM Department, told newsmen the union "will not be maneuvered into a strike, particularly at a time hand-picked by the company."

Neither the company nor the union would speculate on what happens at midnight May 29.

In the absence of a contract, the union could call a strike or the company could close its plants in a legal lockout. Neither is likely to happen. Operations could continue by mutual agreement on a day-to-day basis.

Milford Resident Pleads Innocent to Mail Charge

GARLING

Garling, 61, of 2167 Dean Dr., was released on personal bond of $5,000. No trial date for the retired Detroit municipal employe has been set.

Milford letter carrier Peter J. Pelliccia charged that Garling accused him of delivering his mail to other persons and blocked his mail truck by standing in front of it. Pelliccia said Garling used "loud and abusive" language.

Garling said "all I did was ask the man (Pelliccia) about a letter I asked him to mail for me, and boom, he hit the ceiling."

According to Milford Postmaster Vincent Boyle, Garling has accused postal workers for the last year of destroying his mail.

'Unique' Figure Rocks London Stock Market

The blonde with the rolling figure arrived at the exchange as guest of Maj. Max Karo, an 82-year-old broker. The biggest crowds since the days of the market crash jammed Throgmorton St., as Wall St. is known in London.

Brokers, who usually mill frantically around the exchange floor in rapid bidding, froze in their positions and stared up at the public gallery while the actress looked them over and cooed:

"I must think of investing."

The market fluctuated uncertainly following Sabrina's visit, although this was officially attributed to fear of a London bus strike.

Hammarskjold pointed out he also had welcomed Russia's announced suspension of nuclear tests.

IMPACT GREAT

He declared the plan to establish a seven-or-nine-nation technical study of methods to control bombers and missiles over the Arctic "might have a major impact if treated in good faith."

Hammarskjold, noting that the U.N. Charter places an obligation upon the secretary general to express the aspirations of man, said it was his opinion the plan "could make a dent in the disarmament problem."

Hammarskjold dropped his usual role of the "quiet diplomat" to make his bombshell intervention because, he said, "The stalemate in the field of disarmament has been permitted to last for far too long." Diplomatic efforts to break the deadlock, he said, "have so far proved of no avail."

The 11-nation Security Council heard favorable reaction from all members except the Soviet Union to the Arctic plan outlined by U. S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge. The session was adjourned until Friday after Hammarskjold spoke.

Lodge described the majority response as "gratifying" but agreed with other free world delegates that Sobolev's attacks on the U. S. plan were "discouraging and depressing."

He said the Russian reaction, which included charges that the U. S. was really plotting to spy on the northern U.S.S.R., would amount to a "heartbreaking response" if it continued unchanged.

Soviet Delegate Arkady Sobolev listened tight-lipped. The U.S.S.R. was expected to give some indication of her reaction when the Council resumes debate Friday.

Plant to Open After 5 Years

Idle Paper Products Facilities to Be Used in Cheboygan Again

CHEBOYGAN (AP) — The Charmin Paper Products Co. plant, dormant for five years will open May 5 with 55 employes, a company official said.

H. G. Wintgens, executive vice president of the Charmin firm at Green Bay, Wis., announced the plans before Cheboygan civic leaders at a luncheon sponsored by the company.

The plant was established in 1908 and last operated by Paper Products Corp. of America, which went into bankruptcy. One of Cheboygan's major industries, it employed about 200 workers in peak production.

Wintgens said about $1,000,000 has been spent on modernization of the plant which Charmin acquired in 1956.

A continued expansion program is scheduled to include a second machine within a year with employment expected to total about 100 persons. Expanded operations will allow the plant to make its own pulp when the present supply is depleted, the announcement said.

Pockets Reflect Money Bracket —Psychologist

CHICAGO (INS) — You can tell what a man is worth by watching where he keeps his money.

Not banks or savings institutions, but breast pocket, hip pocket and front trouser pocket is the key to what economic bracket you belong.

So says psychologist Peter E. Siegle who made a study of the situation.

He maintains that the man who carries a few bills in his front pants pocket along with his loose change is "low man" on the ladder.

This type of fellow usually works hard, gets paid by the hour and doesn't carry a wallet because he has no use for one. Furthermore, Siegle reasons, his money matters are not complicated by credit cards and charge accounts.

Then comes the hip pocket type. He uses a billfold, gets a salary rather than an hourly wage and carries a few credit cards and passes along with money. This man, Siegle finds, usually is a white collar job holder and often works in relative informality, without a suit coat.

Now we arrive at the breast pocket man. In this group, Siegle says, you can find executives, high ranking employes and professional men.

Such a gentleman employs a pocket secretary in the inner jacket pocket which he uses as a portable desk ledger, filing cabinet, knick-knack shelf and bulletin board.

But Siegle figures the man on the top rung of the money ladder carries very little actual cash. Instead, he displays credit cards that proclaim his financial soundness.

Business Club at School Told of Retailing Future

BIRMINGHAM — Speaking last night at the "Bosses Dinner," Benjamin Goldstein, president of the Ernst Kern Co., told members of the Birmingham High School Business Club of the many opportunities in the field of retailing.

"This field offers one of the greatest chances for women to advance to the executive level," he said.

He said retail businesses are constantly searching for young people with ideas and enthusiasm. While industry may be localized, retailing in all its many phases is found everywhere, Goldstein pointed out.

Mayor Carl F. Ingraham congratulated the group on its progress.

Mrs. Luciele Anderson, 41, of Newaygo, is being held in the Oakland County Jail on a charge of larceny by conversion.

Birmingham Police said the woman rented a car in Birmingham and failed to return it.

Brought back from White Cloud Monday, she waived examination in justice court and was bound over to Circuit Court. Mrs. Anderson was unable to furnish $500 bond.

An illustrated talk on modern trend in architecture will be given at the Friday meeting of Birmingham Senior Men's Club at the Community House by Mark T. Jaroszewicz. The discussion topic will be "Are We Pricing Ourselves Out of the Market."

Members of the Birmingham MOMS have withdrawn their request for a May 16 tag day.

Mrs. Howard Estes, president, said the club had no idea of the great number of such requests and felt residents were justified in their complaints that too many of these drives are being conducted.

Mrs. James W. Thompson of Birmingham has been elected president of the North Suburban Alumnae Association of Chi Omega for the 1958-59 year.

Mrs. Donald R. Dewenter, Huntington Woods, and Mrs. John R. Lindstrom, Royal Oak, are first and second vice presidents, respectively.

HEARS OF MURDER

"I had already spent seven dollars on beer when this guy pulled up as we walked out on Oakland avenue and tells Van Horn he was wanted for murder.

"Billy said he didn't have anything to hide so this guy (Leslie W. Lampi of 394 Whittemore St.) takes him to the Pontiac police where they booked him.

"This guy was pretty insistent that they arrest him," declared Elliott.

Ziem told jurors yesterday that Van Horn "brutally" attacked Mrs. Murdock after she reluctantly let him into the Murdock home to make a phone call.

"She apparently warned him never to come to the house when he had been drinking," Ziem related.

Mrs. Murdock and her husband, Drulard, 55, a self-employed carpenter, had been attempting to curb Van Horn's excessive drinking, police said.

The prosecution was expected to return Dr. Richard E. Olsen to the stand today to fix the time of Mrs. Murdock's death. Yesterday Dr. Olsen, pathologist at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, said the woman died from strangulation and loss of blood from the stab wounds.

On the morning of Mrs. Murdock's death, Van Horn talked about his wife and children, according to Ted Henning of 8180 Allen Rd., Clarkston. Van Horn accompanied Henning to South Lyon that day for a short business trip.

Bill Submitted by Broomfield

Offers Stripped-Down Version of Measure to Improve Waterways

Broomfield said the measure for river and harbor improvements had been stripped of more than $300 million in objectionable, "pork-barrel" projects.

He said his bill was "clean of Democratic giveaways" and contained $75 million in "useful" Michigan projects, which have gained approval of both the Army Engineers and the Budget Bureau.

"It is only fair that these needed projects be authorized without a lot of useless, purely political projects added on," said Broomfield, who is House Public Works Committee member.

President Eisenhower last week vetoed an earlier rivers and harbors bill on grounds it contained objectionable projects. He asked Congress to prepare a "clean" bill.

Broomfield said his bill meets the President's requirements. It includes authorization for funds for work on the River Rouge.

"Funds should be authorized now so that appropriations for construction can be made," said Broomfield.

Outboard Motor Stolen From Commerce Store

A thief broke into McKibbons and Childs Hardware Store, 1576 Union Lake Rd., Commerce Township, last night and escaped with an outboard motor according to Oakland County Sheriff's Deputies.

The motor was valued at about $200. The store was entered by prying open a rear door.

Curtailment Threatens Tourist Industry

State Maps Nearing Extinction

LANSING (AP) — Robert J. Furlong, executive secretary of the State Tourist Council, contended today that refusal of the legislature to vote funds for printing state highway maps threatens damage to Michigan's third largest industry — tourists.

The council, along with four area tourist associations, has banked heavily for years on the maps as a tourist lure. Printing costs run about $35,000 a year, and were expected to again in 1958-59.

Combined, the agencies distributed 86,000 maps last year, many thousands in response to individual requests from prospective vacationers stimulated through nationwide promotion efforts.

"The map is more than a diagram of the road network — it is a perfect companion piece to literature that we produce and distribute describing Michigan's vacation attractions," Furlong said.

That there will be damage to the 600 million dollar a year tourist industry is "unquestionable," he said, if prospective vacationers stimulated value. In any event, it will not be felt until next year.

Before the boom is lowered by language of the 1958-59 Highway Department Appropriation Bill, a last distribution will be made of 600,000 maps due from the printer in June.

As with previous annual map issues since 1931, the new printing will find its way to the four corners of the globe.

Waiting to be filled are requests from homesick servicemen in Korea, a public library in Kiel, Germany and from a third grade lad in Williston, N. Dak., who also asked for "an apple and some rocks."

If the pattern of past years holds, 30,000 maps will go to the public through newspaper outlets, 18,000 through hotels and motels, 50,000 through tourist information stations near New Buffalo, Menominee and across the Ohio line from Toledo.

Perhaps 15,000 will be handed out by legislators.

Ironically, 41,000 maps went to lawmakers last year, including 25,000 to Sen. John P. Smeekens (R-Coldwater) whose amendment to the highway spending bill — as changed from the floor in seeming jest — carried the language fatal to future map issues.

More maps by the thousands will go to chambers of commerce, schools, libraries, tourist agencies, auto clubs, insurance companies, Canadian travel agencies, travel shows and assorted city, county, state and federal offices.

They will go to students, teachers and prospective tourists who write in from the countries in Asia, South America, Europe and Africa.

The Highway Department reported the printing now on order will cost $34,500, or about 5¾ cents a map. The maps are being prepared by Rand McNally Co. in Chicago.

Sidney H. Woolner, deputy highway commissioner, said that while the appropriation bill "would seem" to impose a flat prohibition against production of maps after July 1 an opinion has been asked of Atty. Gen. Paul L. Adams.

Furlong said the maps are especially valuable to tourists because of a "world of information" on location and characteristics of state parks and recreation areas, camp grounds, historical points of interest, roadside parks, state and national forests and back roads.

In addition, he said, the state is much better able than commercial map producers to keep up with vast changes being made from year to year in the state's road net.

Experts View Dog Commodes in New York

NEW YORK (AP)—Officials and sanitation experts were called into session today to discuss plans for dog comfort stations in city streets.

The canine commodes are planned for residential neighborhoods where people keep substantial numbers of the city's 272,000 dogs and where curbing of dogs is difficult because of parked cars.

GI Pay Raise Gets Senate OK

Early Passage Seen; Bill Could Up Military Wages by June

The Senate, with little debate, passed a broad military pay incentive bill 87-0 yesterday and returned it to the House for probable compromise talks.

Rep. Kilday (D-Tex) generally credited with drafting the bill previously passed by the House, indicated the Senate measure was not acceptable. He said he probably would seek a Senate - House conference committee to work out a compromise.

All indications, however, pointed to an early agreement. At the rate the bill is now moving, this could mean pay increases becoming effective possibly in June.

Both House and Senate versions carry out President Eisenhower's key recommendations for making military careers more attractive financially to skilled officers and enlisted personnel.

The House bill, because of generally higher proposed increases, would cost an estimated 683 millions the first year. The Pentagon had suggested increases of only 512 millions.

Almost every person in a military uniform with two years or more service would get a base pay increase of at least 6 per cent.

Ex-GI Credits Army for His 'Gold Mine'

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK (INS) — "Looking back," says Cy Leslie, glancing over his shoulder in an automatic check for listening lieutenants, "I guess you could say the Army did me a favor."

Leslie was a sergeant. Philippines. Lonely type.

"Hated the Army. Too organized. I come from Brooklyn, where things aren't. Every time I get a letter from Brooklyn, I think, boy, if this thing could only talk. You grow up in Brooklyn, you expect everything to yak.

"So finally one day, I get the big idea. I was in New Guinea by that time and I always say if you don't have an idea in New Guinea, what else have you got?"

His idea was to manufacture greeting cards that did talk.

He salvaged $1,100 from poker games and sank every cent of it into the business — using his own "special material," which was recorded on small vinyl discs applied to cardboard cards.

"I'll never forget that first message. Tender." Leslie breaks softly into song. "My heart will whistle so — when I meet you under the mistletoe.'"

Leslie, in 18 months, through such sweet sentiments, converted $1,100 into $325,000. And then he couldn't give his product away. America had got sentimental during World War II, but she quickly returned to normalcy.

"When a beautiful thought like 'To mother on Mother's Day I send along this love bouquet' stopped selling," recalls Leslie philosophically, "I realized life was returning to normal. Families had got used to one another again. The only novelty in life once more was kids . . ."

Which led to a new business, of course. Cy began putting out children's records, at 25 cents apiece, as his greeting cards had been. For this success too, he "could thank the Army."

"In the Army you get to thinking that there is a bit too much fear and unpleasantness in the world, and maybe you should drop dead before you spread the feeling any further," he explains.

"As a consequence, I changed the children's stories around a little. Like the three little pigs —instead of boiling the wolf at the end, I have him tied up and sent to jail.

"And in 'Hansel and Gretel,' my version, nobody gets eaten."

Leslie pauses to grimace effectively. "That was the bit that got me as a kid. It wasn't the principle of the thing, it was the bad taste it left in my mouth."

Today the lonely ex-sergeant has a multi-million dollar business to keep him company. He has just pressed his 100-millionth record and is known elegantly as "King of the Kiddie Discs."

There seems to be a moral to this story: Do unto little children as you would have their parents do unto you.

Seeking Relief Funds

DETROIT (AP) — Mayor Louis Miriani says he plans to appeal rejection of Detroit's demand that the state pay 70 per cent of supplemental relief costs of caring for 5,500 aged, blind or disabled persons in the city. The request was turned down by the State Social Welfare Commission. Detroit has been paying 70 per cent of the cost and the state 30 per cent.

Ike Calls Law Necessary for Man's Survival

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower, commemorating the nation's first Law Day observance, said today the world must choose law over force if civilization is to survive.

Eisenhower said the rule of law is moving in the direction of displacing force in relations among sovereign countries, but he added: "What we need now is universal will to accept peaceful settlements of disputes in a framework of law . . .

"In a very real sense, the world no longer has a choice between force and law. If civilization is to survive, it must choose the rule of law."

Tomorrow, May 1, was designated Law Day by the President "to remind us all that we as Americans live, every day of our lives, under a rule of law." In contrast, the Soviet Union celebrates May Day with a muscle-flexing parade in tribute to communism.

Charles S. Rhyne, Washington lawyer who is president of the American Bar Assn., said some 20,000 special programs in schools, colleges, courthouses and by various groups will mark Law Day observances.

Former Texas Governor Says He'll Run Again

DALLAS (AP) — W. Lee (Pappy) O'Daniel, colorful campaigner who stages rallies with fire trucks and hillbilly bands, said last night he wants to try for the governorship again.

O'Daniel was elected to the governorship in the late '30s and later served as a U.S. senator.

He said he would campaign on three issues, government financing, unemployment and segregation.

Michigan Senators Split on Labor Law Issues

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. McNamara (D-Mich) voted with the majority and Sen. Potter (R-Mich) with the minority in two Senate roll call votes yesterday.

The congressional body rejected 50-33 repeal of a section of the Taft-Hartley Law prohibiting striking employes whose jobs have been filled from voting in union representation elections.

In the other roll call, the Senate rejected by a 52-34 vote an administration amendment to waive bargaining election requirements in the building trades field in certain cases.

The Negro population of the United States is estimated at 14 million.

King Idriss of Libya Divorcing His Wife

CAIRO (AP) — Another Moslem king is reported divorcing a wife who failed to bear him a son and heir.

King Idriss of Libya and his second wife Alia have agreed to the severance, according to sources close to her family of wealthy Egyptian landowners. The 68-year-old monarch married her in June 1955, when she was 38, after years of childless marriage to his cousin Fatima.

The 38-year-old Shah of Iran recently divorced 26-year-old Queen Soraya, now a princess touring the United States because she had not given him an heir in seven years of marriage. In 1948 the Shah divorced Princess Fawzia of Egypt and Fawzia's brother King Farouk divorced his first wife for the same reason.

Drivers See the Light, Stop Picking on Poles

"Last year at this time our light poles had about $27,000 in damage from autos," says City Light Bureau Manager B. A. Devine.

A utility company spokesman jested:

What's Behind Reuther Move?

Actually, it looks as though WALTER REUTHER has pulled a "boo-boo" of sorts. His current proposals sound sort of silly.

Many times union negotiators ask for things far beyond their own expectations. They do this for window dressing, to impress the membership and for bargaining purposes later on when something can be "conceded."

This is perfectly understandable. There's no particular harm in asking for the moon, especially when you don't expect to get it.

Usually, all of WALTER REUTHER'S terms are dressed up with artful bows and ribbons that serve some useful purpose. But this time, it looks as though the master CIO planner stubbed his toe on a fairly large boulder that everyone could see.

Reuther asked the current contract be extended for three months. On the face of it, this sounds a little ridiculous. All companies have large stocks of manufactured cars today. A strike right now would do about as little damage as at any time within the past decade. Three months later, the companies will all be concentrating on new cars; and a strike would be ten times as devastating.

But everyone knows that.

It's no secret at all.

What was behind his move?

Then, he requested a "significant and meaningful" reduction in the prices of cars, without even a token reduction in wages. Wages and prices are certainly tied together.

Everyone knows this, too.

Especially, Walter Reuther knows it. The CIO leader is a veteran at the bargaining table. He isn't an apprentice. Perhaps he has a hidden motive in these pointless gestures. At the psychological moment he may tie this in with something else that results in a block buster.

Mr. REUTHER, what's really on your mind?

Let us all know.

In the meantime, General Motors has further complicated Mr. REUTHER'S path by announcing a contract deadline. After May 29th, there will be no contract at all unless there is a definite agreement or a renewal. In the past, Mr. REUTHER has always taken the fullest advantage of every natural resource at his command and now it appears as though the corporation will exercise the same privilege.

By and large, the union membership looks with no favor upon a strike at this time. Too many men are out of work already. It makes an unhappy background for the men, their families and the entire automotive communities.

Reason must prevail.

Under Channel Tunnel Planned for Continent

With British, French and American backing, engineers are making geological anl engineering surveys for construction of a $700 million tunnel under the English Channel linking Britain with the European mainland.

This long talked of project would include space for a double track railroad, two one-way roads, oil pipelines, electric power cables and telecommunications. Eventually it could be a link in a rail and highway trunk route connecting Europe with Asia by way of two other tunnels, one under Mont Blanc in the Alps, due to start this year, and the other under the Bosporus between Europe and Asia.

The present program has been encouraged by defense planners for the North Atlantic Treaty Organization and those interested in the European free trade area. Last year due to progress in the development of modern weapons, the British House of Commons and the military withdraw objections to the tunnel.

It is to be hoped that this vital project can be completed in a few years.

David Lawrence Asks:

Reds Backing Southern Agitation?

WASHINGTON — Is Communist money back of the bombing of a Negro school and a Jewish church building in Jacksonville, Fla.?

LAWRENCE

Have the same tactics—but with a different group of persons—been employed to intensify interracial feeling there as a grand jury charged were used when in 1954 a Negro moved into a house in a white neighborhood in Louisville, Ky., that was damaged a month later by a bomb?

The Communist issue was raised in the Louisville case because of suspicious circumstances. The warnings given at Jacksonville sound like Communist-inspired utterances. They came over the telephone from persons who made reference to a "confederate underground."

This is the language of the dedicated Communist, who is familiar with "undergrounds." In the South, moreover, there is less anti-Semitism than anywhere else in the United States.

Prominent Jewish lawyers are active in the crusade of southerners to retain "separate but equal" school facilities for whites and Negroes as sustained for 58 years by the Supreme Court of the United States.

The effort to provoke anti-Semitism is a Communist tactic that has emerged in other countries recently, especially in West Germany where interracial feeling had been dying down since Hitler's day.

The incidents at Jacksonville are to some extent reminiscent of an episode four years ago in Louisville, Ky. A Negro had been trying unsuccessfully to buy a house in a white neighborhood. In May 1954, a white man alleged to have Communist affiliations bought it — not for himself — and transferred it immediately to the Negro.

Trouble began at once. Shots were fired. A rally, supposedly of the Ku Klux Klan, burned a fiery cross. Feeling began to run high.

Then, on June 27, came the bombing. No one was injured. Though it occurred at 12:30 a.m., the residents of the house were outside on the porch or away from the rooms bombed.

"It is very significant to this grand jury," said the formal report of the Jefferson County grand jury which investigated the bombing, "that this case seems to follow the pattern used by the Communist Party in this country to create trouble between the respective races in this country, and that one of the specific methods of doing this is by the purchase of property for Negroes in areas which normally are occupied by white persons, and then causing incidents such as this. . . .

"It is the opinion of this grand jury that it would have been impossible for the explosive to have been placed under the house as it was by anyone from the outside. . . . In other words, it is our opinion that the charge was placed and was discharged by someone having ready access to the home.

"It is significant to this grand jury that a portable, battery-type radio, identified as having belonged to a white man who took up actual full-time residence at the home shortly before the explosion, was found underneath the house in damaged condition . . . this person refuses to state, on the grounds that it would incriminate him, whether or not he was the owner of the radio involved, and whether or not he ever had been under the house.

"He thereafter . . . refused to state whether or not he is a member of the Communist Party for the reason that the answer to that question would incriminate him."

The grand jury indicted five persons on charges of banding together to "commit, aid or counsel" the bombing.

The first person tried, though not accused of the actual bombing, was charged with stirring up racial friction in violation of a state sedition law.

But the high court in Kentucky felt bound by a new decision of the Supreme Court of the United States that states couldn't enforce anti-sedition laws and that this was a Federal matter. Hence the accused was released. Further trials were abandoned as useless.

Dr. William Brady Says:

Get Facts on Childbirth From Reliable Sources

A girl who expects to graduate from high school in June says she doesn't know whether she will get married or go to college or maybe both. She does know she fears childbirth — oh, she couldn't be happy unless she has children, but she has heard some women tell about the ordeal and she is frightened.

DR. BRADY

She wonders whether most doctors women by hypnosis or under anesthesia. She believes the average girl of her age fears the pains of childbirth. . . .

No, most doctors do not employ hypnosis or deep anesthesia for childbirth. Occasionally hypnosis may be successful, but in routine practice the happy medium is anesthesia. Anesthesia to the obstetric stage, that is.

The primipara (woman who has borne her first child) gets a bad break at the very start unless she is fortunate enough to (1) have her baby at home or (2) have her baby in an institution where rooming-in is practiced. More about this in the booklet Preparing for Maternity, available to anyone who sends 35c and stamped, self-addressed envelope for it.

The nullipara (woman who has never borne a child) generally fares no better than the high school girl who has evidently eavesdropped on a backfence symposium.

Besides the booklet just mentioned, I recommend to all nulliparas or primiparas or multiparas (women who have borne two or more children) the following books:

Childbirth—Your Questions Answered, by Carl H. Davis, M.D., and Donita Ferguson, (Harper & Brothers).

To Prospective Mothers, by Wm. Hunter, M.D., and Bernard Smith, M.D., (Bruce Humphries, Inc.).

Childbirth Without Fear, by Grantly Dick Read, M.D., (Harper & Brothers).

Natural Childbirth, by Helen Heardman, (Williams and Wilkins Company).

The obstetric stage of anesthesia — and, by the way, in natural childbirth an anesthetic is always ready for administration the moment the patient wants it — means just enough to take the edge off labor pains and so reassure the patient and enable her to work or labor with the contractions and relax or rest between them, without ever losing consciousness.

Anesthesia to the obstetric stage almost magically changes what may well be called throes, travail, ordeal or the like into a routine, physiological performance which gives the patient almost as much satisfaction and joy as she would get from natural childbirth.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Voice of the People

Editor Describes Purpose and Nature of This Column

The Press strives to keep the Voice of the People interesting, instructive and provocative. If you disagree with opinions expressed here, write and say so.

On the other hand, we do not maintain this department for bitter and sweeping condemnations of everything in sight. We get these letters occasionally and they will be promptly discarded. They call citizens and public officials criminals, burglars, et cetera.

Some of them are openly libelous and the writers would find themselves talking earnestly to a judge in a remarkable short space of time if they were printed.

Furthermore, the Voice of the People isn't just a "complaint department." Readers don't want to listen to all the personal gripes of a community. Comments can sound deserving praise or they can raise open questions of better methods and procedures and they can be critical, but merely jumping on something — or someone — isn't very difficult or very enlightening.

These letters are widely read. Surveys show that and The Press is going to edit the columns accordingly. You don't have to agree with our own editorial opinions. We prove that almost every day. Truly, we want the department representative of all sides.

'Of Course They Aren't Good at It'

A General Motors engineer says current students "are not well grounded in math and basic sciences." Of course they aren't. These courses are "too hard."

The modern student would rather learn to "make apple sauce" or even "go watch the boilers," as someone said earlier. Don't blame the school for all the deficiences of the day. A lot of it is in the attitude of the students. They want a long, slow, free ride.

'Ex-Jail Bird' Praises Sheriff

Isn't it about time we give credit where credit is due?

I'm referring to the County Sheriff. It's not a picnic in his jail, but he's running a very fine correction center.

I was in his jail for quite some time. Food conditions are not what some people want you to think. We also had a clean shower room, and Mr. Irons goes through the jail every day speaking to prisoners, asking if they need anything or if they have any complaints. People of Oakland County are sure lucky to have such a man in public office.

Reader Disagrees With Faultfinder

I think that music column in The Press which someone didn't like is real good. That faultfinder's wonderful musical education which he viewed with such pride wasn't enough. The complainer hadn't gotten far enough into music to appreciate and understand.

Pop-O

'Planes Equipped With Parachutes?'

I'd like to know if modern airlines are equipped with parachutes. I wouldn't have nerve enough to make a jump unless the plane caught fire, and I haven't had a ride in one for about 28 years, but I still have an umbrella or two in case I do take a ride. I'll include them with my luggage.

All letters for Voice of the People must contain the name and address of the writer. This information will be withheld upon request if the letter is not of a critical nature. Letters must be under 200 words and The Pontiac Press reserves the right to edit all letters.

When others aggravate you, as . . . They pour a bitter cup . . . The best and only thing to do . . . Is simply to shut up . . . Do not defy their meanness with . . . Invectives of your own . . . But by your silence demonstrate . . . That you are really grown . . . Ignore them for the cruel and . . . The senseless ones they are . . . And maybe they will realize that . . . They are not on a par . . . They may pretend a little while . . . They are not on a par . . . They they go on abusing you . . . At work or anywhere . . . But if you do not let their jibes . . . Get hold beneath your skin . . . Frustration soon will shut them up . . . And you will really win.

THOUGHTS FOR TODAY

Terrors shall make him afraid on every side, and shall drive him to his feet.—Job 18:11.

Of some calamity we can have no relief but from God alone; and what would men do, in such a case, if it were not for God?—Archbishop John Tillotson.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Admires Michelangelo Psychology

Michelangelo is my favorite artist of the past but not because of the fat women and rich pigments he used. No, I admire him for the clever psychology he employed. The art critics of his day, like many here in America, were phonies. They had a silly artificial yardstick for measuring art.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case X-393: Michelangelo is my favorite artist, not because of his genius with painting and sculpture.

DR. CRANE

No, I admire him because he was a great applied psychologist. He was the forerunner of modern advertisers.

Despite his greatness in the fields of art and sculpture, no art critics would pay attention to his paintings.

For in his day the art critics, like many English professors nowadays, wouldn't admit that any contemporary art was worth while.

Unless a painting was several centuries old, it was dubbed amateurish. Art critics were a snobbish lot who placed a "halo" on antiquity.

What would you have done in that dilemma? Well, Michelangelo wanted some fame (and fortune) while he was still alive and not just 300 years after his death.

In due time, his diggers unearthed the very piece of art which Michelangelo had previously hidden. It created a sensation.

Then Michelangelo modestly let the cat out of the bag. He showed the art critics his identification.

They were then so far out on a limb, since they had unanimously rated it as one of the "Old Masters," that they couldn't back down. So they admitted that Michelangelo should be classed with the famous artists of antiquity.

CARTOON ARTISTS

Many people visit the art galleries of New York, Chicago and Washington, D. C., to look at some of the so-called "Old Masters."

And I do not wish to pour ice water on their artistic appreciation. But if those same paintings were pronounced forgeries, how many people would go to see them.

Remember, the very same painting which now attracts crowds would be deserted, showing that it isn't intrinsic artistic genius but "keeping up with the Joneses" that accounts for most of our art patronage.

And don't think I am exaggerating, for this very situation has often occurred right here in America.

A few years ago an old painting that had hung in one of our Chicago club rooms was taken down. It sold, as I recall, for $50.

Then a visiting critic scrutinized it and said it was the product of a famous European painter, long since dead.

The painting now zoomed to $100,000 in value. Yet it was the very same picture that had sold for $50. So it wasn't the painting itself but ballyhoo that spelled the difference between $50 and $100,000.

Modern newspaper cartoonists are far greater artists than most of those whose works hang in our art galleries.

Take a genius like Chic Young who draws the "Dagwood & Blondie" strip, or Hank Ketcham with his "Dennis the Menace."

Their ability to select human interest episodes from the field of child psychology and give them a humorous twist, beats the modern tripe hanging in art galleries under the headings of "Realism" or "Surrealism."

Like Michelangelo, our cartoonists mix psychology with their art, and often do a better job of teaching child psychology than do our college textbooks on the subject.

So train yourself to recognize merit wherever it appears and don't be deluded by the so-called critics, who often just try to keep up with the Joneses!

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Hal Boyle Asks:

Head May Be OK, but What About Feet?

NEW YORK (AP)—You may think there's something wrong with your neighbor's head but the chances are much greater there's something wrong with his feet.

"Nine out of 10 American adults have foot trouble, but most don't do anything about it," said Dr. Joseph Lelyveld of Rockland, Mass.

"And American children have more foot defects now than a generation ago. Their feet aren't in as good condition as the feet of European children.

"Today 85 per cent of our girls and 65 per cent of our boys have foot defects by the time they leave high school."

To Lelyveld, a podiatrist renowned as the founder of the National Foot Health Council and inventor of the phrase athlete's foot, this is eminently disturbing.

"All but about 15 per cent of adult foot defects are unnecessary," he observed. "They could have been prevented in childhood."

Contrary to popular opinion, policemen and postmen don't suffer most from foot troubles.

"They know how important their feet are to them, so they take better care of them," said Lelyveld. "Occupationally speaking, barbers and housewives have the worst feet.

"Housewives have a bad habit of running about the house barefoot, or doing their chores in run-over old dress shoes. It isn't wearing party shoes to a party that ruins a wife's feet; it's wearing discarded or out of style party shoes while doing her housework They don't give her feet proper support.

"For housework she should wear a stout laced oxford with a heel not above 1½ inches high. School children should wear fewer sneaker or moccasin type footwear. The Indians did wear moccasins—but they didn't walk on concrete."

Reward for Rustlers

PRINCE RUPERT, B.C. (AP) — A $500 reward has been posted for information leading to arrest and conviction of cattle rustlers in the Bald Hill Range, 175 miles east of here.

State to Lay Off Prison Guards

IONIA (AP) — Gus Harrison, director of corrections, said Monday the department will have to lay off 60 employes, some of them prison guards, because of the department's reduced budget.

Harrison made his statement after a meeting with Richard Hanlon, superintendent of the Ionia medium security prison. Hanlon said a shortage of guards was a factor in the escape of four inmates Sunday.

Harrison said that the payroll cuts would not be applied strictly on a seniority basis, but would protect some of those recently hired who are key or specially-trained personnel.

He said that in addition to the 60 layoffs, some vacancies caused by resignations and retirement will remain unfilled.

Bob Considine Says:

De Valera Now Favors British-Irish Union

DUBLIN (INS) — "No, I was not born in Brooklyn as so many have written," Prime Minister Eamon de Valera said firmly as he loomed over the old fashioned desk in his office.

"I was born in Manhattan on Lexington avenue near 42nd street, about where the Chrysler Building now stands, and I was baptized in St. Agnes Church on 43rd street. My parents brought me back to Ireland when I was two-and-a-half, but of course I've been back a number of times to your land and once was made an honorary Indian chief in Oklahoma, though I got no share of the oil profits."

The years have dimmed the old revolutionary's eyes, but at 75 and firmly back in the political saddle he stands a good straight six feet, four inches, and in his figure and speech resembles an Irish Barney Baruch.

The man who fought so hard for the independence of Ireland from Britain would now lead his country back into what he calls an "association" with the British Commonwealth of Nations.

But this historic event will come only after the partition of Ireland is ended and the six counties of the north are one with the rest of Eire, De Valera told American newsmen here for the first westward trans-atlantic flight of Irish Airlines.

De Valera could not guess when the partition might end. He will not direct his delegation in the United Nations to bring up the matter, and under no circumstances, will he give aid and comfort to the IRA, which would take northern Ireland by force if possible.

"I am not a pacifist," the old patriot said with a faint smile, "but I am against violence of all types. I am against violence in respect to the IRA too. It is true that there once was a day when I felt differently. But then we were fighting the British. If we fought the IRA we would be fighting our own people—and that's no good."

De Valera has become a great admirere of Mahatma Gandhi through the years. "I consider Gandhi one of the greatest men of our times," he said with warm sincerity. "He was so full of wisdom to adopt the method by which he gained his ends. It was a perfect method for those times. Time changes all methods."

The Irish premier added that if a united Ireland ever becomes associated with the Commonwealth states, he would like to see it have the status of India or, as he put it, "association without allegiance to the crown."

He had no advice to give to President Eisenhower or Premier Khrushchev as they move toward a summit meeting, "because I just don't know enough about their problems." It was plain he had problems of his own. Among these he listed the need for finding 20,000 new jobs for the Irish people each year.

De Valera said one of the regrets of his life was that the transatlantic service of Irish Airlines had not started 10 years ago when he first urged it. "It would be very important by now," he sighed, "but better late than never."

We asked him when he planned to fly the new airline to New York.

"When we own planes, not charter them," the old man said firmly.

Nehru Asking to Quit in India

Leaders in Government Call Emergency Meet to Discuss Request

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — The governing Congress party's leaders called an emergency meeting today to consider Prime Minister Nehru's request to retire from office at least temporarily.

Party sources said the Congress would ask Nehru not to resign or retire from office even temporarily, but to take as long a rest as he wants. Newspapers also expressed hope he would continue to be prime minister.

Nehru, 68, has led India continuously in its first 10 years of independence. After keeping personal control of many affairs normally delegated to the others in democratic governments, he has no apparent successor either as prime minister or leader of the party.

In a prepared statement he read to party legislators last night, Nehru did not spell out clearly just what he had in mind. He said the final decision on his future must rest with the party.

"I feel now that I must have a period when I can free myself from the daily burden and can think of myself as a citizen of India and not as prime minister," he said.

Home Ministry officials said Monday the Prime Minister was planning a two-month vacation in the Himalayan foothills, but Nehru did not specify whether this was what he meant by a period of freedom.

"I am anxious to fit myself for great tasks ahead," Nehru said, "and I feel it might help me to do so if I am away from the center of activity and responsibility."

He said he remained fit for more years of work. "I can assure you wherever I might be I shall be ready to answer your call," Nehru told the party.

TALE OF WOE — An Atlanta, Ga., mother of five children wrings her hands as she tells of her family's eviction because of being seven days late with the rent. The mother, Mrs. E. L. Carter, was surprised to come home and find the family's possessions being carried to the street. She explained that her husband was out of work because of poor eyesight. The children's ages range from 5 to 14.

Gets Mad at His Wife, Vents Anger on Car

KALAMAZOO (AP) — A Kalamazoo man who assaulted his car instead of his wife has been placed on probation for a year. He pleaded guilty in Municipal Court to a charge of reckless driving.

Sidney J. Perkins, 29, told Judge Clark M. Olmsted yesterday he got mad at his wife, broke the windshield, and then drove the family car into a telephone pole. His wife called police to stop the destruction.

Judge Olmsted sentenced him to pay a fine of $25, a probationary fine of $25, and to surrender his driver's license for a year.

Arrest Electrician in Auto Ambush

AMBRIDGE, Pa. (AP) — Authorities report that state police ballistics tests show the bullets that killed two men in an auto ambush were fired from a rifle found in the home of Arthur G. Schuck, 41, a Baden electrician.

Schuck was taken into custody shortly after the shooting early Sunday at nearby Economy. A woman in the auto with the two victims was wounded.

Dist Atty. Richard Steward said a decision will be made soon on the possibility of filing charges against Schuck.

Schuck told police he has no knowledge of being near the scene of the shooting. Police quoted hi mas saying he was too drunk to remember.

Killed in the ambush were William E. Engel, 41, owner of the Ambridge Tool and Machine Co., and Vincent Quigley, 34, a bartender. Angelina Pugliano, 33, of Fair Oaks, was wounded.

The shooting occurred as Engel backed his auto into a driveway a few doors from Quigley's home. Steward said he believes the shootings were a case of mistaken identity.

Lana Will Fight 'to Last Degree' for Her Daughter

Lana will fight for her child, her attorney Jerry Giesler said after Crane said he would appeal a ruling which made Cheryl Crane, 14, a ward of the Juvenile Court.

"It will be resisted to the last degree—to our last breath," said Giesler.

Cheryl fatally stabbed Lana's lover, John Stompanato, April 4. She said she did it to protect her mother from harm. Last Thursday Juvenile Court placed her temporarily in custody of Lana's mother.

"We are satisfied with the court's decision," said Giesler. "And we hope eventually Miss Turner will have her daughter back."

Crane, 43, owner of a Beverly Hills restaurant, said that his attorney would file the appeal this week. His lawyer Arthur J. Crowley said it was the first step in a campaign by Crane to win Cheryl's custody.

Although at odds legally, Crane and the actress appeared on good terms when both visited probation and juvenile authorities at Santa Monica to discuss their daughter's case.

Like Home, by Gully

CONCORD, N.C. (AP) — Great weather for seagulls around here. About 100 soared in 130 miles from the Atlantic Ocean with a morning thundershower and slopped happily in the mud of a drive-in theater parking lot most of the day. After more than an inch of rain in 24 hours, it was just like home.

Young General Determined to Keep Paratroops Ready to Fight

FT CAMPBELL, Ky. (AP) — The Army's youngest two-star general is a man with a singleminded determination—to have his paratroopers ready to fight anywhere at any time.

"Our middle name is readiness," Maj. Gen. W. C. Westmoreland says, and his quiet voice gives no hint of boasting. At 44, he commands the nation's first division specially organized for atomic war, the 101st Airborne Pentomic Division.

He took over the famed "Screaming Eagles" just two weeks before Wednesday's tragedy when five paratroopers were killed and 155 were injured in a mass jump here. The victims were whipped off the drop zone by sudden wind gusts.

The accident occurred during a two-week operation designed to test the ability of an airborne division to disengage from battle, repair its equipment, redeploy and attack at a distant point within a week.

Westmoreland is a handsome, muscular West Pointer, with a receding hairline and a touch of gray about the temples. Standing just over six feet, he talks with a soft-spoken drawl. He likes skeet shooting and shoots golf in the 80s and 90s.

He appears quiet and relaxed, even after a test jump to determine if conditions are too dangerous for his men to follow. He took such a jump yesterday when a larger mass drop was scheduled.

"I jumped just to assure myself that conditions were safe," he said. "They were marginal and the drop was canceled."

Westmoreland speaks with conviction when he discusses the mission of airborne troops. He didn't make the first of his 71 jumps until 1946, although he became interested in paratroopers when the first unit was formed in 1941.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Westmoreland of Columbia, S.C., he attended The Citadel for a year before being appointed to the U.S. Military Academy in 1932.

He was born in Faxon, S.C., March 26, 1914.

He received his commission in the field artillery in 1936. He was promoted to major and handed a battalion in the 9th Division at Ft.Bragg, N.C., in 1942.

After serving with the 9th from North Africa to the Elbe, he entered jump school at Ft.Benning, Ga., in 1946.

While he was chief of staff of the 82nd Airborne Division at Bragg in 1947, he married the former Katherine Van Deusen, an attractive daughter of a fellow officer. They have two daughters, 9 and 2, and a future paratrooper, 4-year-old Ripley Westmoreland II.

Westmoreland has never jumped in combat, but he commanded an airborne regiment in ground action in Korea, where he was handed his first star at the age of 38.

In 1955 he was named secretary of the Army general staff and a year later got his second star. Early this month, he left that assignment to command the 101st.

As to the role of paratroopers in the dawning rocket age, he is most optimistic. Future wars, he believes, will be national disaster which would be national disaster — or nibbling aggression.

That's the age for his five-unit Pentomic division. He says, "We are light, mobile and have fire power from pistol to Honest John rocket with atomic warhead."

Towers Among World Diplomats

They Trust Ambassador Lodge

By International News

If no man is a hero to his valet, Henry Cabot Lodge is an exception to this rule.

The handsome U. S. ambassador to the United Nations commands the respect and admiration of his aides and staff. Most appreciated is his knack of delegating duty and authority and offering criticism or praise as warranted.

Lodge, a towering figure both in stature and among able world diplomats, is seemingly indefatigable. For example, on the day of an important Security Council he may arise at dawn for early conferences with his staff, last-minute checks with Washington and envoys of Allied powers and an exchange of "quiet diplomacy" with Dag Hammarskjold before the morning session.

Even if the afternoon meeting runs into the night, Lodge makes every effort to fulfill night appointments, such as speaking engagements, after the council has adjourned. Following that he may return to the U. S. delegation offices for more staff work in preparation for the next meeting.

The 55 - year - old Bostonian (born July 5, 1902) is quick on the trigger in replying to Russian propaganda, but even more ready and willing to hear any good faith proposals from Arkady A. Sobolev, his Soviet counterpart.

An indication of the admiration and trust felt for Lodge, and the prestige he commands, is the fact that India's V. K. Krishna Menon, who appears to suspect everyone, seeks out the U. S. envoy for advice and consultation.

Lodge insists he is happy in his present job, but many observers predict the ex-Massachusetts senator will be a leading figure in the 1960 Republican race for the presidential or vice presidential nomination.

Lodge, now in his sixth year at the U. N., called the signals at the 1952 Republican Convention that nominated Gen. Dwight Eisenhower.

A bit of historical irony is the fact that Lodge, a firm believer in the world organization as the best instrument for bringing world peace, is the grandson of the man who kept the U. S. from joining the League of Nations.

The ambassador equally abhors excessive optimism and unworthy criticism of the U. N. As he puts it:

"The primary, the fundamental, the essential purpose of the United Nations is to keep the peace. Everything it does which helps prevent World War III is good. Everything which does not further that goal, either directly or indirectly, is at best superfluous."

Lodge and his wife live at the Waldorf Towers. They have two married sons and five grandchildren.

Suits Settled in Air Tragedy

Defunct Plane Service in Waterford Agrees to Pay $21,500

A settlement for $21,500 was reached in Oakland County Circuit Court yesterday against a former Waterford Township air service whose twin-engine plane carried a township resident and five others to their death in 1954.

Three separate suits filed in behalf of three of the deceased had sought damages totaling $550,000 against the now defunct Gordon Air Service, Inc., and the estate of the owner of the service, Gordon F. Wyrick.

Wyrick, 43, formerly of 2310 Silver Lake Rd., was killed instantly on July 23, 1954 along with Howard Anthony, Lawrence Durham, Gordon E. Paxson, all of Benton Harbor, and Mr. and Mrs. Laurel F. Brown, of Lawrence, Mich.

Mrs. Paxson was seeking $350,000 damages as the result of her husband's death. The administrator for the Browns asked $100,000 for each.

Howard I. Bond, Pontiac attorney for the air service, which had been based at Pontiac Municipal Airport, and for the estate of Wyrick, said a "collective" settlement of $21,500 was agreed to out of court for the three death claims.

He said the bulk would go to Mrs. Paxson and her three children, as the Browns left no dependents.

The crash of the plane occurred in a violent thunderstorm not too far from Chattanooga, Tenn. The plane was carrying the party to Tampa, Fla. in a demonstration flight in an attempt to sell the aircraft to Anthony, one of the suits said.

Bond contended that the air service was not liable in that Anthony had purchased the plane two days before the crash, and that Durham, his personal pilot, was at the controls when it hit a mountain ridge.

The Paxson suit charged the service and Wyrick, who was supposed to have been flying the plane, were negligent in not taking heed of storm warnings and conforming to flight rules.

Bulletproof Suit Undergoes Test at Police Range

The suit, basically made of an alloy of plastics and fiberglass, was put through its paces at the police pistol range yesterday.

Freeman wore the suit, which is equipped with headlights on the helmet for night work, while inspector Beryl Pace fired directly at him with a .45 caliber automatic, a .38 caliber revolver and a shotgun.

Police Commissioner Edward S. Piggins called the test "very satisfactory" and ordered three more suits.

Honoring Publisher of Midland News

MIDLAND (AP) — Philip T. Rich, editor and publisher of the Midland Daily News, will be honored tonight at a testimonial dinner in recognition of his 40 years of community service.

The Philip T. Rich recognition committee, headed by Howard H. Arbury, says between 400 and 500 Midland residents are expected at the observance.

The 61-year-old publisher became a newspaperman after World War I when he went to work at the Midland Republican, a weekly. He became sole owner in 1933. The newspaper later became the Midland Daily News.

A noted outdoorsman, he has produced several movies on his hunting and fishing travels for showing in the Midland area under the sponsorship of the newspaper.

State CD Exercise Plans Announced

LANSING (AP) — Preliminary plans for a statewide civil defense exercise May 21 were announced today.

Ralph M. Sheehan, state civil defense director, said the test will be held as part of a nationwide "operation alert."

Purpose of the exercise, Sheehan said "is to test the readiness of the nation to meet a direct nuclear attack."

Civil Defense air raid warnings will be tested and communications networks will be given a similar workout.

Sheehan said plans for the exercise will be kept secret until the day of the test. He said it can be presumed, however, that one or more cities will be under hypothetical nuclear attack and that others will be presumed to be radioactive from nuclear attack or hit by biological or chemical warfare.

GOP Labor Group Raps UAW Actions

LANSING (AP) — The Michigan Republican Labor Federation, through resolution, has taken a series of digs at the CIO United Auto Workers.

The Republican laborists declared they "strenuously object" to the use of labor dues by the UAW-CIO for political purposes.

"We believe labor leaders should devote themselves to their jobs and stop trying to dictate the politics of Michigan and the nation," the resolution said.

The GOP unionists also went on record as apologizing to Republican Sen. Potter for what they termed "ungentlemanly and unfair treatment accorded him" at a UAW-CIO meeting April 13.

It was charged that after Potter met with union members for more than an hour and answered all questions he was "mimicked and derided by Gus Scholle, president of the AFL-CIO council" after he left to attend another meeting.

Art Institute Director in Chicago Resigns

CHICAGO (AP) — Daniel Catton Rich, director of the Art Institute of Chicago since 1945, has resigned to become director of the Worcester, Mass., art museum.

Rich, associated with the institute for 30 years, said his resignation in no way related to the recent controversy over showing Sir Winston Churchill's paintings at the institute. Rich and the institute's trustees rejected Churchill's exhibition, saying his work did not rate as professional.

Rich, 54, said he had accepted the post at Worcester March 31, long before the decision was made on the Churchill paintings. He said the Worcester post would give him increased opportunities for research, writing and travel.

Reorganization Critics Downgrade New Legislation

Renewing Fight for Pentagon Efficiency

WASHINGTON (AP) — Critics of President Eisenhower's defense reorganization plan renewed contentions today that the Pentagon needs efficient operation more than new legislation.

Their criticism grew from testimony by Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, Army chief of staff, that he still has not received orders changing the chain of command over unified multiservice forces. Eisenhower announced the change April 3.

Taylor told the House Armed Services Committee the Army still is acting as "executive agent" for several of these commands. Eisenhower wants the command structure to bypass the individual service in such cases, so that authority would be exerted direct from the secretary of defense and Joint Chiefs of Staff to the troops in the field.

Eisenhower told Congress in a message April 3. "I have directed the secretary of defense to discontinue the use of military departments as executive agents for unified commands."

Taylor offered no explanation why he had not received the orders, but said they would make little difference in day-to-day operations by the Joint Staff. He said it was quite possible the change had been made without the orders having reached him.

Rep. Price (D-Ill) commented that the episode shows "this legislation is just an alibi for poor leadership."

Administration spokesmen told the committee Eisenhower had authority to make the command change under present law, but wanted legislative adjustments to make administration of the new system easier. Among these would be a staff increase.

But Price told newsmen, "What is needed isn't legislation, it's action by the people who have the responsibility to run that department."

Rep. Hebert (D-La) agreed that "we need leadership and direction" rather than statutory changes increasing the authority of the secretary of defense.

Rep. Kilday (D-Tex) said, "I never thought we would be told by the President of the United States in a formal message that something had been done, and then find out it had not been done."

Kilday said Secretary of Defense McElroy and Gen. Nathan F. Twining, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, had indicated in their testimony that the command change was an accomplished fact.

'Hot' White Mice Melt Into Just Another Hoax

PARIS (AP)—A police search for 30 hot mice was called off today. Public health authorities sheepishly announced it was a student hoax.

The police were alerted when word was received that 30 white mice, injected with radioactive gold in a cancer experiment, had escaped. No danger to humans, said the caller, but any cat eating one might get quite a jolt.

Authorities checked with the laboratory and found all the white mice accounted for, radiating from the cages where they belonged.

'My Fair Lady' Keeping 'Rude' Word for Queen

LONDON (AP)—American producers of the musical "My Fair Lady" have decided to run the risk that a short Anglo-Saxon word will shock the Queen of England.

The queen is going to a gala performance on Monday. There was no question of deleting the rude word for ordinary audiences but there was some talk of cleaning the script for Monday night only.

The word in question—arse—is uttered in the musical by the heroine Eliza Doolittle, played by Julie Andrews, when she lapses into Cockney.

Eliza's exclamation in the musical is a substitute for another line in the non-musical original—George Bernard Shaw's "Pygmalion"—which pleasantly scandalized British audiences for years after it opened in 1914.

In the original, Eliza capped a drawing room exchange with "not bloody likely," a British expression still not used in the politest parlors. The American adapters figured too much of their public wouldn't get it.

Boy, 16, to Lose Legs After Taking a Dare

TAUNTON, Mass. (AP) — A 16-year-old boy who climbed a high tension tower on a dare is in critical condition today in a Boston hospital with severe leg burns and shock.

Edward Masterson contacted a 13,000 volt wire as he clambered up the 40-feet steel structure near his home. Doctors said it will be necessary to amputate his legs.

As he was brought down still conscious, the boy moaned "Why did I do it?"

Wage Cuts Announced

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Central Railroad expects to save $200,000 a year by cutting the salaries of its 137 executives earning more than $15,000 annually. The trimming will equal 10 per cent of the amount above $15,000.

Bride Showered With Red Tape

Proxy Rites Delayed Five Hours for Filing Heap of Documents

KANSAS CITY (AP) — The bride typed for three hours, then said: "I do."

The proxy wedding of Virginia Ann Miller, 22, Topeka, to Hector Correa Polit of Quito, Ecuador, ran five hours behind schedule through a bridal shower of red tape.

Legal amenities were so staggering that Ecuadorian Consul George A. Arcentales called in five of his countrymen to help.

(1) A power of attorney by which the bridegroom gave the proxy; (2) a certificate from the Supreme Court of Ecuador, certifying that the power of attorney is legal; (3) an initial inscription of marriage which amounts to the minutes of the ceremony; (4) a later and more detailed version of the inscription of marriage; (5) a document that in this country would simply be referred to as a marriage certificate.

The Ecuadorians first wrote out these documents in longhand (even these copies are kept) and Virginia typed them. Virginia learned Spanish in high school and the papers were in Spanish so the going was tough. Corrections had to be made.

Three of the copies will go to the Ecuadorian government. One goes to the bride, the other is retained by Mr. Arcentales. The bridegroom doesn't get any.

Virginia and Hector, 28, met while both were students at Kansas University. He is a statistician for the government of Ecuador.

Said Virginia in explaining the proxy ceremony: "I've been told it would have been just awfully complicated if I'd attempted to enter Ecuador without first being married."

U.S. Traffic Toll Down 6 Per Cent From 1957

CHICAGO (AP) — The nation's traffic death toll for the first quarter of this year was 7,730, a decrease of 6 per cent compared to 8,250 in the first three months in 1957.

The National Safety Council said the 2,630 traffic deaths in March was nine per cent lower than in March last year and the lowest for March since 1955.

Twenty-nine states reported a decrease in deaths in the first three months this year compared to the first quarter of 1957, 17 had increases and one reported no change.

Freight Cars Derailed, No Injuries Reported

LONDON, Ont. (AP) — Eighteen cars of an eastbound Canadian National Railways freight train jack-knifed into a pile of torn and twisted metal last night at Komaka 10 miles west of here.

Traffic on the twin lines connecting London and Sarnia was halted for at least 24 hours.

First reports said a burned out journal box was the most likely reason for the derailment.

D. W. Emms, London division assistant superintendent, said it would be 24 hours at least before traffic would be moving again.

Derailed cars, most laden with grain and many of them snapped open along their seams, were strewn along a 200 yard section of the line. Telegraph lines were snapped when a box car flipped upside down and landed between two poles.

No one was injured.

PCHS Students Tune Up for May Concert

There's Music in the Air

"Say It With Music," and that's just what these four members of the Pontiac Central High School vocal music department will be doing for their annual spring concert May 6, 8 and 9. From left to right, back row, are Duke Relyea of Washington street and Don Lucas of Marshall street. In front are Mary Chasteen, left, of Pingree avenue and Sue Looney of South Johnson avenue.

Breaks Unwritten Rule With Enthusiastic Applause

Audience Lauds Symphony Finale

By MAX E. SIMON

Concert hall tradition took a healthy beating at the Pontiac Symphony Orchestra's final concert of the season last night, as a large and approving audience acclaimed Mrs. Celia Merrill Turner's conducting of the Beethoven Symphony No. 2 in D Major.

It is an unwritten rule of symphonic audiences never to applaud between movements of compositions. Why this is so, no one really knows. Some claim that such demonstrations destroy the "continuity" of the music, although such explanations are far from convincing.

CUSTOM OUT WINDOW

At any rate, the custom went out the window for one evening, at least, for the enthusiastic concert-goers at the Lincoln Junior High School auditorium applauded at the conclusion of each of the Beethoven Symphony's four movements.

Musically, it would not be difficult to criticize the performance of this great musical masterpiece. First, the Beethoven symphony is in the standard repertoire of all the major orchestras in the land, and can be heard with ease on many excellent records.

Secondly, the Beethoven symphony, technically, is perhaps too demanding for a community orchestra such as the Pontiac Symphony.

It would be far better for the orchestra to shy away from such virtuoso symphonies, and to concentrate on simpler and less-performed compositions which it could perform more adequately.

Be that as it may, the audience obviously took the music, the orchestra and Mrs. Turner's conducting to heart, for both the musicians and she took several bows.

Mrs. Turner, the associate conductor of the orchestra, also led a performance of Mozart's Overture to The Marriage of Figaro. Despite the fine performance by the orchestra, the sprightly overture lost some of its brilliance because of the small auditorium's poor acoustics.

FLUTIST SOLOIST

The soloist for the evening was flutist, A. Roger Welton, who was heard in a performance of the Poem for Flute and Orchestra by the American composer, Charles T. Griffes.

Welton, who has played with the Lansing, Flint and Pontiac symphonies, gave a truly virtuoso display of technical skill in the melodic, but difficult tone poem.

He received fine backing from the orchestra under the direction of its musical director and conductor, Francesco Di Blasi.

The symphony season in Pontiac closed on a spirited note as the orchestra, under Di Blasi, whipped through the Irish Suite by Leroy Anderson with great relish.

The suite is based on six old Irish folk songs, including such well-known tunes as "The Irish Washerwoman," "The Wearing of the Green," "The Last Rose of Summer" and "The Girl I Left Behind Me."

At intermission, it was announced that prospective soloists for the 1958-59 season include violinist, Mischa Mischakoff, concertmaster of the Detroit Symphony; pianist Ruth Meckler; soprano Maria Roumell; and cellist Thaddeus Markiewicz.

HOLD RECEPTION

A reception was held in the school cafeteria following the program. Social chairman was Mrs. J. C. Walker assisted by Mrs. J. L. Bennett, Mrs. Curtis E. Patton, Mrs. Robert B. Tarr, Mrs. H. B. Euler, Mrs. Frank Bonner, Mrs. William Donaldson, Mrs. Iva Baker, Mrs. Horace C. Hall and Mrs. W. K. Willman.

Hospital Benefit Slated

A room in Pontiac General Hospital will be endowed as a result of a benefit bridge and fashion show being given May 7 by City Federation of Women's Clubs.

For the annual event, which is to begin in Elks Temple at 8 p.m., Mrs. William R. McClure is general chairman assisted by Mrs. James Youngblood and Mrs. Russell French.

COMMITTEES LISTED

Tickets are in charge of Mrs. John Napley who will be aided by Mrs. L. Raymond Sampson and Mrs. Alex Capsalis.

Other committees include Mrs. Robert Anderson, Mrs. John Blamy and Mrs. I. L. Baker, publicity; Mrs. Paul Gorman, Mrs. L. Milton Hathaway and Mrs. John Niggeman, cards and Mrs. Nat Morrison, Mrs. Irving Gordon, Mrs. Louis Traschen, Mrs. Fritzi Stoddard and Mrs. Charles Barrett, program.

Also on the list are Mrs. Frank Anderson, Mrs. Russell French, and Mrs. Ossie Gates, door prizes; Mrs. Youngblood, Mrs. Charles Uligian, Mrs. Neil Gray and Patty Morris, hall decoration; Mrs. Barrett, Mrs. Raymond Cole and Mrs. Royal Pazik reception; Mrs. Howard Powers, Mrs. Edward Vieriech and Mrs. Elsie Vieriech, table prizes and Mrs. Robert Morris, housing.

Concluding the list are Mrs. Socrates Sekles, Mrs. George Pratt and Mrs. Leonard Buzz, tables, and Vera Bassett, representative to the hospital.

Arranging for French girls will be Mrs. Philip Rowston and Mrs. Raymond Rapaport.

Acting as French mesdemoiselles will be Sue Ann Hathaway, Nancy Donaldson, Gail Blamy, Elizabeth Rowston, LaNetta Rowston, Carol Rapaport, Marjorie Rapaport, Rada Youngblood, Judy Baker, Sally Huntoon, Lynn Vieriech, Debby Gordon, Judy Gordon, Kiki Sekles, Karen Bronoel and Lynn Anderson.

Trinidad Lays Its Heart at Feet of Princess Meg

PORT-OF-SPAIN, Trinidad (INS) — If Princess Margaret is eating her heart out for ill-fated suitor Peter Townsend, she is without doubt the best actress in the United Kingdom.

In Trinidad for the inauguration of the first parliament of the new Federation of the West Indies, merry Meg, 27-year-old sister of serious Queen Elizabeth, has captivated the populace of this flowery island.

LAUGHS OFTEN

The princess is an elfin girl. She smiles almost constantly, laughs in public as royalty seldom laughs, and twinkles when she talks.

The other day she smilingly reviewed a 100-man guard of honor of serious, stiff-necked Jamaicans. Some of them were portly and looked a bit comical in their little-boy shorts, and the Princess dimpled as she watched them.

On her right sat Lady Hailes, wife of the governor general; at her feet, the Hon. Iris Peake, one of her ladies-in-waiting. In back of the Princess sat Lady Elizabeth Cavendish, the other lady-in-waiting. The three were deadly serious, stiff in majestic dignity.

Most of the time, Margaret wears pink. She has also worn flowered prints whose blossoms shade from pink to crimson. Her skirts are fashionably short and often show glimpses of lacy petticoats.

DRESSES SIMPLY

Her dresses are disarmingly simple, and one day she wore the same outfit on two different occasions—a pink dress of fluttering chiffon with a narrow crimson belt and an accordion pleated skirt.

Margaret's legs are slim and a tiny bit bowed at the knees. Her accessories for hot weather are uncluttered—a plain white leather bag, spanking-clean white gloves and high-heeled, open-toed white shoes. With most of her daytime dresses she wears a girlish string of small pearls.

Get Sleep or Forfeit Beauty

A sound basis for beauty at any age is one that's both free and indispensable: Regular sleep. To achieve this is not easy in our speeded-up age.

Whether she's homemaker or career woman or both, a woman frequently finds herself short on sleep.

This is a condition that's physically uncomfortable and tearing to the nerves. There's just one cure for it: Rest. Vitamins and beauty aids, however helpful, will not make up for the damage caused by a lack of sleep.

And, of course, the amount of sleep needed varies from person to person. The person who gets along nicely on six hours' sleep cannot understand why anyone should need eight or even ten hours. But many people do, if they are to function efficiently and enjoy life.

Four Minute Beating Will Mix Up Cake

Mrs. Saum's Loaf Flavored With Nuts and Bananas

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

Mrs. Lyle Saum shares this recipe with us. She heads the sewing group at her church and is president of the Jeannette Geiger circle. Needlepoint is her hobby; she is proud of the cover she made for her great-grandmother's rocking chair.

BANANA NUT CAKE
By Mrs. Lyle Saum

2½ cups sifted cake flour
1½ cups sugar
1¼ teaspoons baking powder
1¼ teaspoons soda
1 teaspoon salt
⅔ cup soft shortening
⅔ cup sour milk or buttermilk
1¼ cups mashed bananas (about 3)
2 large eggs
⅔ cup chopped nuts

Sift first 5 ingredients. Add shortening, the bananas and half the milk. Beat for 2 minutes. Add remaining milk and eggs. Beat 2 more minutes. Add nuts.

Modern Ruffs Never Go Limp

Shades of Good Queen Bess—frosty ruffs are back in the fashion picture. But unlike the well-starched neckpieces of Elizabethan days, modern ruffs won't go limp or unpleat even after numerous washings.

Made of nylon organdy, these crisp tiers of pleats form a portrait neckline for a flattering dress-up blouse or cocktail dress.

To wash, just swish through warm soap or detergent suds, rinse, and hang to drip-dry.

Clean hands are as essential in home kitchens as in public eating places.

PROM TIME

Even the shortest hair can go glamorous for festive occasions. With a good hair set, hairbrush and a bit of spray net (it's fun to have a scented spray at a time like this) you can achieve wonders. It is surprising the illusion that you can create. Have your short locks swirled back and upward. The appearance is long, thick tresses, easy to keep in place and flattering to most face shapes.

Dear Abby....

He Cracks a Mean Whip

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

"DEAR ABBY: My husband and I get along fine but I don't like the way he treats our children. He acts like he is the captain of a Chain Gang. When he says something, if they don't jump he gets mad.

"He used to train dogs and ponies and has a small whip. He says he is only cracking it at the legs, but he must be whipping them because I see marks on their legs. They are good kids (two boys) and never sass him but they are growing up in fear and hate for their own father. Please help me."

MAMMA

DEAR MAMMA: "Whips" went out with the horse and buggy. Your husband should have a long talk with your clergyman or family doctor or a psychologist.

"DEAR ABBY: I called off my daughter's big church wedding because I just found out she would be over three months pregnant at her wedding. I couldn't let her walk down the aisle in white knowing that she was in that condition. Nor could I stand in the receiving line knowing everyone there would also know it in six months.

"The boy's mother (she had to get married herself) says I am prudish, old-fashioned and that plenty of brides in white are pregnant. I canceled the hall, the invitations and told my daughter she could have the money it would have cost and she should have a quiet wedding at the minister's home at once. Was I wrong?"

MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: Not in my book you weren't.

"DEAR ABBY: I liked a girl very much. She broke up with me because of what I said when she shut the car door on my fingers. I think this is a very poor excuse. How can I get her back?"

CLYDE

DEAR CLYDE: If the girl wants to break up with you—one excuse is as good as another. Let her go, Lover.

"DEAR ABBY: I read somewhere that there is somebody for everybody and I believe it. Last Monday a beautiful silver-haired lady walked into this place where I work. She looked at me and I looked at her and we both took a second look.

"My heart stood still. It seemed that she wanted to get acquainted with me but I could not leave the dishwasher at the time. I would give anything to see her again because I never had that feeling about anybody before. Please tell me how I can find her?"

STAN

DEAR STAN: If she felt the same way about you, she knows where she saw you, and she'll be back.

Twins Are Different Despite Looks

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

Some years ago I was in a millinery shop selecting a new spring hat when two other customers entered.

They were twins — elderly women. Though one was thinner than the other, their resemblance was striking. Their clothes were alike, too, even to the carved face in the cameo pins at the throat of the blouses under their well-cut navy suits.

They sat down on the same bench before a mirror and the stouter one said, "We'd like to see the brown milan sailor in the window."

As she was trying it on, the thinner twin suddenly noticed the gaily flowered tricorne on my table. I nodded to the question in her eyes. She reached for it and hastily removing her own hat, placed it on her graying hair.

I thought, "How much prettier she looks in flowers than in that old blue beret thing she came in with!"

And I was smiling at her reflection in the mirror when her sister said, "Take that silly thing off your head this minute, Eylla! Do you want everyone to think you're a fool?"

The flowered hat was removed. The stout twin said, "We'll take two of the brown milan sailors, please."

I confess that this experience influences my response to a letter which says, "We have twin boys of four. Up to now we've dressed them alike. Now their nursery school teacher says it's time to start dressing them differently. I suppose you'd agree. Anyway, we'd like your opinion."

My opinion is that playing a lifetime role of double to another person could be a terrible strain.

Nobody exactly duplicates another person. Even identical twins, scientific studies tell us, show distinct differences in personality from birth.

While before they were born, these two little boys may have existed as halves of the same egg, birth made them into separate people. No twin can chew food for the other one. No twin can digest the food for the other one.

Since their bodies refuse total identification, it seems wise to me to accept the individuality established by this basic physical independence and encourage its development in as many other areas as we can.

Twins' outward resemblance constantly dramatizes their similarity. So perhaps their parents' obligation is to support their difference.

Dorothy Sebastian Weds Glen Clayton

Dorothy Ruth Sebastian, daughter of the Rudolph A. Sebastians, and Glen Arthur Clayton, son of Ray J. Clayton, were married Saturday in St. Trinity Lutheran Church.

MR. and MRS. GLEN A. CLAYTON

St. Trinity Lutheran Church was the setting for the Saturday evening wedding of Dorothy Ruth Sebastian and Glen Arthur Clayton. The Rev. Ralph C. Claus performed the ceremony in the presence of 100 guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph A. Sebastian of South Edith street are parents of the bride and the bridegroom is the son of Roy J. Clayton of Going street.

The bride chose a ballerina-length gown of Chantilly lace and tulle over satin featuring short sleeves and a portrait neckline outlined with scalloped lace. The fitted bodice was of lace and the full skirt was finished with panels of lace.

A headpiece of sequins and pearls held her imported tulle veil in place. The bridal bouquet was an arrangement of white shattered carnations and lilies of the valley surrounding a white orchid on a Bible.

Sister of the bride Carolyn Sebastian was the only attendant. She wore an aqua and white dress with aqua cummerbund and carried an arrangement of pink carnations.

For traveling to Niagara Falls, the new Mrs. Clayton wore a navy dress with white collar and navy accessories. The couple will live on South Shirley street.

Clubs Should Start on Sloppy Wives

By RUTH MILLETT

Now, if they would just start a spruce-up campaign to beautify the American housewife.

Oh, she's a living doll when she gets dressed up for a party. But she's often a living scarecrow when you encounter her at the supermarket or errand-running for the family.

The get-ups she wears then are vigorously defended by her on the gorunds of comfort and lack of time. But the real reason she hits the neighborhood shopping center in tight jeans or too short shorts, hair in pin curls and her feet in floppy flats is lack of pride in her appearance.

In 15 minutes she could brush her hair, slip into a clean dress and put a neat pair of shoes on her feet.

She could—if she thought it mattered how she looks when she is being family chauffeur, errand boy, and shopper.

So why don't the women's clubs get started on the project of beautifying the American housewife at work?

It's a project that is long overdue. For the amount of money that American women spend on clothes, cosmetics, in beauty salons and on reducing centers they ought to look presentable all of the time.

But all too often last night's glamor girl or well-dressed woman is this morning's pin-curled scarecrow.

What's the use of making ours a nation of tidy homes and neat lawns if we women are going to spoil the pretty picture by neglecting to make ourselves neat and tidy and pretty, too?

Maybe the fashion industry could help out by creating a "new look" for housewives-on-the-job.

Working Wife Can't Afford Worry

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

The married woman who works must have fine health, a strong back and a sense of humor, if she is to be successful in both categories. She must also be an expert juggler.

By this I mean that by the time she has caught up with her special housework, such as cleaning out closets, putting away winter clothes, and any number of other things, she will find that she is behind on her social obligations. By the time she is somewhat even with these she will find herself unforgiveably late with personal mail. On and on it goes.

No woman should attempt both a career and a family unless she is capable of cutoffs. She, of all women, cannot afford the worry habit. She must immediately solve any problem which can be solved or adapt to it when it is unsolvable.

She must be able to slough off annoying non-essential details. She simply does not have enough energy for two jobs, and fretting, too. This is why her sense of humor is a lifesaver.

The married woman who works must also choose those outside activities and interests which have real meaning for her. She cannot do everything and her leisure time is very limited. For this reason her life should be vital and intriguing.

Naturally she will not have time for many things she would enjoy. But the precious few hours she has without obligations and duties should be carefully and rewardingly spent.

It is a hectic life but it should be a selective and discriminating one. It is a much happier state than too much leisure and its accompanying boredom. It also is better than the cluttered life which so many women lead because they allow themselves to become trapped in myriad activities in which they have no real interest and for which they have no zest.

The career woman should spend as much time outdoors as possible during the weekends. She should indulge in sunbaths when the weather permits. These two habits will relax her and build energy for the five day battle each week. The sedentary life saps vitality and bloom.

NEED EXERCISE

Most women who work get little exercise. It is most advantageous if they will make a short exercise period a part of every day.

The working woman cannot long survive with efficiency and pleasure if she short changes herself on sleep. She cannot afford the energy outlay late hours require.

She should try to plan her life so that she can take a long relaxing bath between her return home and the dinner hour. She should at least lie down and relax for 20 or 30 minutes. This makes all of the difference imaginable in her family relationships.

I hand it to the modern career woman! Those who are successful in work and marriage have learned to discipline their emotions, to cut out non-essentials and to look at the funny side of hectic circumstance. Usually they are youthful looking and vibrant because they have had to guard their health.

Not Rude to Refuse Visitor

By EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post: We have just moved into a new parish and a woman who represented the welcoming committee of one of the church societies called on me one morning last week. She came on a particularly bad morning. The children had their toys all strewn over the house, I was ironing in the utility room and the house in general was in a complete state of disorder.

"When the doorbell rang, my 11-year-old daughter answered the door and came back to tell me that Mrs. So-and-So was here to see me. As neither the house nor I was fit to receive visitors, I told my daughter to tell her that I could not see her. Whereupon she left.

"It has bothered me ever since and I wonder whether it was rude on my part not to see her, and if so, what can I do to make amends as I certainly don't want to start out in a new neighborhood on the wrong foot."

Answer: If your daughter, by what she said, and even more by the manner in which she said it, made Mrs. So-and-So feel that you really were sorry not to be able to see her at that time, I am sure no harm was done.

"Dear Mrs. Post: In this morning's mail I received an invitation to the wedding of a business acquaintance. The invitation included both the bride's and the bridegroom's parents names. I have to send a reply and would like to know to whom it should be sent.

"Also, should both names be included in my acceptance? Will you please tell me just how this invitation should be acknowledged.

Answer: A wedding invitation with both the bride's and the bridegroom's parents' names is unusual in this country. However, since the invitation you received did have both names, your reply would be worded as follows:

Mr. and Mrs. John Smith
Mr. and Mrs. Brown's and
Mr. and Mrs. Green's kind invitation for

Forecasts the Demise of Chemise

"There's no reason as I see it," she said, "to hide the female form, let alone distort it."

TO PLEASE MEN

Miss Rose, an Academy Award - winning designer, said most women dress to please men.

"But," she said wonderingly, "what man is intrigued at seeing his lady love waltzing around like a badly filled sack of potatoes? The only thing missing is the large 'Idaho' sign across the back."

The fashion creator believes the waistline was given to the female of the species for a purpose.

"But through the years," she pointed out, "the waist has moved up and down like a barometric indicator of world conditions.

BALLOONING BAG

"Now," she went on, "it has completely disappeared, enveloped in a ballooning bag that is neither complimentary to the wearer nor exciting to the viewer.

Married Saturday morning in St. Vincent De Paul Catholic Church were Yvonne Jennings and Donald Dusten. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Jennings, and the Cecil Dustens are parents of the bridegroom.

MR. and MRS. DONALD DUSTEN

Yvonne Jennings Marries

St. Vincent de Paul Catholic Church was the setting for the Saturday morning wedding of Yvonne Jennings, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Jennings of East Longfellow avenue, and Donald Dusten, son of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Dusten of East Pike street.

The bride chose a gown fashioned of Chantilly-type lace and tulle in floor length, featuring a Sabrina neckline outlined with sequins. The long hand-tapered sleeves and double panels in the skirt inserts were of lace and the tulle skirt had medallions of lace and sequins.

Holding a fingertip veil of silk illusion was a pearl and sequin tiara. The bride carried a cascade arrangement of white carnations encircling a sweetheart corsage of red roses.

For traveling to Maruette the new Mrs. Dusten changed to a salmon ensemble with black accessories and the detachable corsage from her bridal bouquet. The couple will live on East Pike street.

Lightly indented or belted under the bust, lightly shaped at the waistline and flared hemline are a boon to short figures.

All fashion authorities believe the chemise influence is here for seasons to come and it can be quite charming in its variations adapted to different figures. No one should wear exaggerated fashions just because they are new but only because they flatter.

Brush Lather on Wired Bras

Scrub seams and weltings with soap or detergent suds after each wearing. You can't just squeeze a wired bra in the suds and get it as clean as it should be.

Even though you may wear a bra only a few flours at a time, it still absorbs a certain film of body oils or bath powder. Prompt washing is essential to keep it fresh as new.

Pot-Washing Days Won't Last Forever

The day may come when dish-washing and pot-cleaning will have disappeared — because dishes and pots will be outmoded.

Food packaging officials claim if microwave cooking catches on, one container will serve as a combination package, cooking utensil, serving dish and leftover storer.

According to Smith L. Raird-don, vice president of a glass company all this is "inevitable." He added:

"When a housewife can flip the lid off a jar of food and have its contents ready to eat in a matter of seconds, it's only logical she'll want to do on and serve it in the same container."

Use Light Shade

Lips that seem "set back" in the face mus be made inconspicuous. Do this with lipstick that is light, such as a light true red, or one with a slight orange shade.

127 Pupils at PCH Take Merit Exam

Yesterday, 127 Pontiac Central High School students took a three-hour National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test, according to Francis W. Staley, principal.

Test results will be available in the fall and 10,000 students, the highest scorers in each state, will then advance to the semi-finals exams. An estimate of $5 million in scholarships will be awarded next spring.

The tests measure educational growth and aptitude with emphasis on broad intellectual skills and understanding and ability to use what has been learned rather than sheer knowledge of facts.

Merit Scholarships, now being offered for the fourth year, are provided by some 80 corporations, foundations, professional societies and individuals plus the National Merit Scholarship Corporation itself.

So Far Only $84,819 Toward $300,000

Community Hospital Depends on Drive

ROMEO — The opening of the new Community Hospital, now 92 per cent completed, depends entirely on the success of the current $300,000 fund drive, hospital officials said today.

Thus far only $84,819 has been raised in cash and pledges, chief auditor James C. Wade of Almont reported. This figure falls far short of the goal set by the hospital foundation to finish the building and provide necessary equipment, he said.

While canvassers in all areas to be served by the new medical facility continue to contact prospective contributors, work on the building progresses rapidly.

Building Committee Chairman James H. Hough said the primary structure, located on Van Dyke between Romeo and Almont, is just 30 days away from completion.

Patients' rooms have been painted, the acoustical tile ceilings installed and nurses' stations completed. The huge hospital kitchen is finished except for installation of portable units.

Plumbing fixtures and flooring are being put in this week and already some of the major pieces of equipment, such as the large X-ray machine, have been delivered.

Fund drive officials currently are putting on a concerted effort to interest churches and civic organizations in sponsoring money-raising projects for the hospital. A number of them have responded, pledging their support over a three-year-period.

Pontiac City Affairs

Final Action Taken on Road Betterment

City Commissioners last night took the final step necessary for State Highway Department improvements on Opdyke road (M24) and Perry street (M24-business).

They approved advancing out of city street funds $20,000 for widening and repaving Opdyke from Square Lake road to Walton boulevard and $105,000 for the same kind of work on Perry from Huron street to the northeast city limits.

Much of this advance money will be re-collected by the city through special assessments levied after construction is done this year. The special assessment roll for the Opdyke project is scheduled for a public hearing May 6. The Perry roll already has been approved.

To be tied in with the Perry improvement is a city project to take the jog out of the intersection of Glenwood avenue and Paddock street at Perry. The state has agreed to include this work for the city in its Perry street contract.

Commissioners last night advanced another $41,000 to the highway department for the Glenwood avenue project.

Three other street projects were advanced last night. Assessment rolls for curbs and gutters on S. Jessie street, Raeburn to E. Wilson, and on Adelaide street, from Oakland to near Baldwin, were approved at public hearings. Another roll, for paving Taylor street from Oak Hill to Ellwood, was scheduled for hearing May 6.

Also scheduled for a May 6 hearing were assessment rolls for five sidewalks—on the west side of Seminole avenue, Menominee to Algonquin; east side of Blaine Street, from High street about 500 feet south; east side of Joslyn avenue extension, Perry to Linda Vista; and in front of three lots on the east side of N. Jessie street.

The assessment rolls for a sanitary sewer on the southeast side of Montcalm avenue from Corwin northwest 740 feet toward Summit were approved at a public hearing.

A hearing on intention to rezone two lots on the north side of Huron street between Thorpe street and Lincoln avenue was scheduled for May 20.

The property is owned by Dr. Neil H. Sullenberger, who wants it rezoned from residential to limited commercial to make way for a clinic. The city agreed to do this after the doctor had deeded over right-of-way for an alley at the rear of his lots.

Truck Sought as Key in Death

All-Day Search Fails to Turn Up Vehicle of Metamora Victim

METAMORA — Lapeer County Sheriff William J. Porter said today that an all-day search of the countryside has turned up no trace of the missing pickup truck which belonged to Pearl H. Snover, 71-year-old retired Metamora farmer who was found shot to death in his home Monday afternoon.

The 1954 red Ford truck is believed by Porter to be the key to the mystery of Snover's death. "I intend to find it," he said.

Snover, a moderately wealthy bachelor, was found dead with a bullet wound in the chest by Porter, Deputy Kenneth Parks and Snover's cousin, William Hayden of Elba. They forced open the door of the victim's house after neighbors reported they hadn't seen him since Friday.

"I'm convinced Snover was murdered and robbed," Porter said. However, he didn't rule out the possibility of suicide.

Snover's body lay on the floor, completely covered with a blanket when they found him. His empty wallet and a .22 calibre rifle, which had been fired, were beside him.

Porter is awaiting a report from the State Police Laboratory in Lansing on whether there were powder burns on Snover's clothes. County Coroner Dr. Lyle Riddell said he cound find none.

Mr. Snover was born in Metamora where he spent his entire life. He inherited the farm from his parents, and at the time of his death was living in just one room of his 10-room house.

Service will be held at 10 a.m. tomorrow at thee Church of Immaculate Conception in Lapeer. Burial will be in the Mt. Loretto Cemetery.

Mr. Snover is survived by several cousins.

Chemical Companies Spend for Research

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) — New products are the life blood of the chemical industry, and so it is maintraining its spending on research at around 500 million dollars this year.

The 23 billion dollar a year industry has been taking its lumps from the recession along with the rest. Of 30 companies (excluding drugs) reporting so far, all but two show declines in first-quarter profits from the early 1957 figures. The combined statements are off 30 per cent.

But the industry boasts there have been no layoffs so far in research and fewer in production than the average for all industry.

The drug makers have been able to show gains in sales and profits this year over last.

Confidence in finding new wonders and exploiting present ones is a reason that the chemical industry will spend about 2½ billion dollars on new production facilities in 1958 and 1959.

A joint Commerce Department and Securities and Exchange Commission survey foreshadows a 13 per cent drop this year in plant and equipment outlays in all industries. But in contrast to nonferrous metals expansion plans, last year, chemical industry projects are down only 6 per cent.

A number of individual chemical firms plan no reduction at all. Chemical expansion spending last year was 18 per cent higher than in 1956.

Chemical construction will be heaviest in the south central and south Atlantic states, but is well spread across the nation.

The trade publication Chemical Week says 84 per cent of the firms it polled plan to increase research spending this year and next and 72 per cent will increase the size of their research staff.

Among projects in which they expect new strides are semiconductor metals including silicon; special metals such as niobium and tantulum; high energy fuels; new synthetic fibers and films; petro-chemicals and synthetic rubber, including the synthetic natural rubber.

Much of the chemical industry's confidence is based on its growth record in the last 20 years. Since 1938 production of chemicals has increased 400 per cent and dollar output 600 per cent. New products have climbed into the thousands.

Plastic production is up 3,000 per cent in 20 years. Ethical drug sales, now at 1¾ billion dollars a year, are up 1,000 per cent.

The more than 1,000 companies in the fiercely competitive pharmaceutical field expect to spend about 125 million dollars this years on research — almost as much as their total sales 20 years ago. Last year they introduced 400 new products. The 1957 increase in drug production was 15 per cent over 1956, and profits were up 18 per cent.

There has been some slowing down in the first months of this year. All but three of the first 18 to report show gains in profits over the first quarter of 1957, but the combined increase is only 1 per cent.

Sonja Buechler Marries in Oxford

OXFORD — The marriage of Sonja Noel Buechler to Charles N. Ewald was solemnized Saturday evening at the Holy Cross Lutheran Church. The rite was performed by the Rev. G. E. Behnke, pastor, in the sanctuary decorated with vases of white snapdragons, carnations and palms.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Buechler, 86 Pontiac St., Oxford. Her husband's parents are Mr. and Mrs. John Smith of Indian Side drive, Lake Orion.

The bride wore an embroidered tulle gown with a fitted basque and V neckline. Her long fitted sleeves ended in points over her hands. The chapel train was the extension of an embroidered peplum over tulle ruffles.

Her fingertip French illusion veil was held in place by a crown of seed pearls. She carried a crescent bouquet of white carnations, stephanotis and ivy.

Salk was named for his role in the development of successful vaccines against poliomyelitis and influenza. Von Braun was honored for missile research and enabling this country to launch its first earth satellite. Hoover, veteran director of the FBI, was selected for achievement in detection and prevention of crime and guidance of young persons toward wholesome thinking and patriotism.

More Fortunate Than Humans

Dogs Aid in Struggle With Cancer

(If men were mice, many of them would be cured of cancer, live with it, or helped to resist it. Here's a story detailing scientific progress — via mice — in the fight against cancer.)

NEW YORK (NEA) — What would it be like to live with cancer?

A diabetic will tell you life can be good even with a disease that needs daily vigilance. And the drugs that may one day help us to live with cancer will probably be less exigent than the insulin that controls diabetes.

All of which is still in the realm of the big IF—with an important difference. Let's say, "If men were dogs. . ." and pay a visit to the dog cancer clinic and Bureau of Biological Research at Rutgers University, New Brunswick, N.J.

But first a note to dog lovers: dog cancers, under treatment and study at the clinic, are not transplanted like those of laboratory animals. The dogs arrive with spontaneous tumors and are only accepted as patients when referred by other veterinarians who have been unable to cure them by operation or radiation.

In clinics and hospitals throughout the country human terminal cancer patients are volunteering for chemotherapy because they have nothing whatever to lose and possibly a lot to gain. Chemotherapy—treatment with drugs—can offer release from pain and some prolongation of human life, as much as a year or two, usually less.

The dog patient is more fortunate. Dr. John R. McCoy, veterinarian in charge of the dog cancer clinic, often sends his patients home for two and three years.

Five dog years: equivalent they say to 35 man years. What a gift of human life—when it becomes possible. The gift of 250,000 lives every year, just here in America, for that is our current death rate from cancer.

The dogs in Dr. McCoy's care are helping to make cancer control possible, even as their lives are being saved from the compassionate alternative of putting them to sleep.

These dogs are the vital link with man. With the incidence of dog cancer about one-half that of human beings, enough patients are available for drug treatment and quantitative study. Spontaneous dog tumors do not all have their counterparts in man, but there is enough similarity for reactions to be significant. Especially since the body chemistry of the dog is closest to man's, with the exception of the monkey, a rare alien in our animal population.

Heated Race Develops in Battle to Run for Seat in Congress

JUNEAU, Alaska (AP)—A hotter-than-expected race developed early today in the battle for the Republican nomination as Alaska's territorial delegate to Congress.

While other races went much as predicted in the early ballot count, Walter H. Peirce, a political newcomer who advocates commonwealth status for the territory, led his opponent for the GOP delegate bid.

Peirce had 245 votes to Paul Robison's 225 as 28 of the territory's 285 precincts were counted. Peirce is a College of Alaska, engineer, Robison is an Anchorage attorney who favors statehood for Alaska.

E. L. Bartlett, for 14 years Alaska's nonvoting delegate, was receiving a heavy vote as the unopposed candidate for the Democratic nomination for another term.

There was a lack of interest in a lackadaisical campaign in which only the Peirce-Robison contest drew attention.

Sen. Flanders Says He Won't Run Again

WASHINGTON (AP)— Sen. Flanders (R-Vt) has decided to retire from the Senate after this year—the fifth GOP incumbent to quit voluntarily.

Flanders, 77, announced yesterday he is leaving the Senate after two terms so he and his wife can do the "many things which are left for us to do and see." He added "There is . . . no reason of health or strength" involved.

Others leaving after this year are Sen. Knowland, the GOP Senate leader who is quitting to run for governor of California; Sen. Jenner of Indiana; Sen. Edward Martin of Pennsylvania; and Sen. H. Alexander Smith of New Jersey. Knowland and Jenner are 49 years old, Martin and Smith 78.

Their retirement leaves 16 GOP incumbents to seek re-election this year. In all, 21 Republican and 13 Democratic senate seats are at stake in the fall campaigning.

Trike Riding Tougher

EUREKA, Calif. (AP) — Michael Davis, 5, was riding with his father when their truck overturned. Michael wasn't even scratched. Two days later, Michael was taken to a Eureka hospital where abrasions on his nose were fixed up and a few stitches taken in his split lip. He had fallen off his tricycle.

BUDGET BOSS — Maurice H. Stans, 50, is the new Director of the Federal Budget. Stans, whose hobby is big game hunting, succeeds Percival F. Brundage.

Sheik Again Held for Demanding Free Kashmir

SRINAGAR, Kashmir (AP)—Sheik Mohammed Abdullah was rearrested today after four months of freedom spent demanding that India grant independence to Kashmir.

The former Prime Minister of the disputed Himalayan state was seized after midnight because the pro-Indian Kashmir government considered his activities and speeches "dangerous to security." He was jailed at Kud, 130 miles south of Srinagar.

Abdullah became prime minister of Kashmir in 1948 while India and Pakistan were fighting for control of the state. Hindu India won most of the predominantly Moslem state. Abdullah, 6-foot-6 Moslem leader, then began talking as if he wanted independence for Kashmir.

In August 1953 he was deposed by Bakshi Ghulah Mohammed, who placed him under house arrest at his home in Kud. However, his arrest was a source of embarrassment to Indian Prime Minister Nehru, long a close personal associate, and he was released Jan. 8. No reason for the release was given.

Since then Abdullah has been demanding independence without being specific about his plans for Kashmir's future.

Ex-Prisoner of Reds to Speak in Pontiac

In 1945, while a war correspondent of the German Army, he was taken prisoner by the Soviet Army. He escaped to East Germany in 1950 and enrolled at the Goethe University in Frankfort.

He will cover various aspects of Soviet life in his speech. The meeting is scheduled to get under way at 8:15 p.m., at the Squadron's headquarters, 67 Oakland Ave.

Singer Receives Million Dollars From Estate

STAMFORD, Conn. (AP) — A professional singer will receive more than a million dollars under the terms of the will of a wealthy Stamford widow who adopted him two years ago when he was 54 and she 78.

Andrei Kristopher, 56, is principal beneficiary of Mrs. Bertha Louise Draper, who died here last April 5. Her will was admitted to probate yesterday.

Kristopher and his wife, who died in 1955, were long-time friends of Mrs. Draper, widow of Charles Draper, a retired New Haven railroad executive. Kristopher had assisted her in handling her business affairs.

Mrs. Draper adopted Kristopher in 1956, it was stated, for the specific purpose of giving him the inheritance rights of a natural son. At the time it was testified in court that her only living relatives were unnamed cousins.

He'll Have to Shop West for Rare Bison or Elk

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP)—The McDowell County man spoke right up in his letter to the State Conservation Department:

"Please send me an elk. If you don't have any more elks to give away, send me a bison. I will stand the crating and shipping cost."

The bison is extinct in West Virginia and the department said it had no elk to sell or give away. A spokesman theorized the man must have read about some Western state, where the animals are sold or given away to reduce their numbers on grazing land.

'Americans Fly Rebel Bombers'

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP)—Prime Minister Djuanda today charged that American and Chinese Nationalist "adventurers" are flying rebel planes bombing points in east Indonesia.

Directly implicating American nationals in Indonesia's civil war for the first time, Djuanda called on the United States for a "clear effort" to prevent its citizens from aiding the rebellion.

The Premier warned that, if indignation over the alleged foreign involvement is permitted to grow, "it will have a disastrous effect" on relations between the United States and Indonesia.

When the rebels launched their revolt in February, they had no war planes. They now are believed in Jakarta to possess four B26 bombers and two Mustang fighters. Rebel planes based in the North Celebes capital of Menado have in the past two weeks ranged 800 miles from base, hitting targets in Makassar, Balikpapan, Morotai, Ambon and Halmahera.

On Monday the 12,278-ton British tanker San Flaviano was set afire and badly damaged in Balikpapan Harbor. The rebels also claimed the capture of the World War II airfield on Morotai after an aircraft-supported amphibious invasion.

About two-thirds of all the coffee exported by the world's coffee producing nations is imported by the U.S.

Noted Chemist Shoots Wife, Himself to Death

DOYLESTOWN, Pa. (AP)—A research chemist killed his wife with a shotgun and then turned the weapon on himself last night, Bucks County state police reported.

Police said Dr. Earl W. Flosdorf, 54, inventor of a method for freeze-drying human blood for plasma, killed his wife Esther, 49, and then took his own life.

The slaying was witnessed by the couple's 10-year-old son William. He ran to the home of neighbors and they notified police.

A number of liquor bottles were found strewn about the kitchen of the Flosdorfs' luxurious home.

Mrs. Carey

Mrs. Lucille Carey, 215 Lathers St., Garden City, says: "I suffered 12 long years with arthritis and rheumatism so bad I couldn't close my hands, raise my arms, turn my head or even walk. Why my ankles were swollen to about three times their normal size. I even spent 11 weeks in Hot Springs, Arkansas without much help. I finally learned about O-JIB-WA BITTERS and after taking several bottles, the terrible pains are gone and I feel like a new person. I strongly urge all who suffer to try all-herb O-JIB-WA BITTERS."

Junior Editors Quiz on MONEY

QUESTION: Why are there grooves around a coin?

ANSWER: The value of coins depends upon a uniformity of weight and fineness. In other words, all dimes must weigh the same and contain the same amount of silver. Long ago, dishonest persons reduced the silver of gold and silver coins by cutting small slices of the precious metal from the edges. To prevent this, slightly raised rims were placed around coins and they were milled, or grooved, on the edges. This made it easy to detect even the slightest scraping.

Nearly all coins are grooved today, except those of small value such as the penny and nickel, which are not worth enought to justify the expense.

FOR YOU TO DO: A collection of coins is a fascinating hobby. Ask your parents or teacher how you can start one. You may turn up some unusual coins like those the boy in the picture has in his collection.

West Didn't Invite Him

Nasser Visiting Moscow

By JOHN H. MARTIN
(INS Foreign Director)

President Gamal Abdel Nasser, proclaimed advocate of "positive neutrality," is on a visit to Moscow, the shrine of Soviet Communist Premier Nikita Khrushchev.

It would be more neutral for him to stay home. But this is a long-postponed acceptance of a Soviet invitation. Besides, the U. S., Britain and France have not issued any invitations to him.

WARMTH SHOWN

As if sensitive to western reaction to Nasser's journey to Russia for the May Day parade and other festivities, the Cairo newspapers suddenly have shown more warmth toward the West than at any time in almost two years.

They have predicted the U.S. will unfreeze $30 million in blocked Egyptian funds shortly, possible re-establishment of diplomatic relations with Britain and France, and an agreement on compensating shareholders in the old Universal Suez Canal Company.

This is Nasser's first journey outside the Arab world since he nationalized the Suez Canal in July, 1956. At that time he had just returned from talks in Brioni with Yugoslav President Marshal Tito and Indian Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru. Those talks were described as a kind of neutralist summit conference. Since then Nasser's approach to the world stage has not varied substantially.

As with every other leader whose country is in economic difficulty, Nasser would like to be in the happy position of playing the affections of rich suitors in the West against the Reds in the East.

So far as his relations with Moscow are concerned, Nasser has continued to take all the aid that the Soviet government was prepared to offer him while suppressing communism inside Egypt and lately inside Syria as well.

Nasser has won his Suez gamble—thus far without compensating shareholders — and has added Syria to his dominions since he was supposed to visit Moscow back in 1956. In that sense he is in a stronger position than before. But in the economic sense he is heavily dependent on Soviet aid.

TIED TO RUSSIA

The Egyptian main crop, cotton, is tied to Russia. Few Egyptians are happy about this state of affairs. It has raised insoluble problems of convertibility at a time when Egypt cannot do without imports from the West to maintain heavy industry.

This bartering of Egyptian cotton for Soviet arms and other aid has put Khrushchev in an advantageous position. He already has reportedly sold a token quantity of cotton to Egypt's former customers at cut-rate prices —thus pocketing the trade and foreign currency that rightfully belongs to Egypt.

Nasser also is dependent on Khrushchev for the flow of spare parts, ammunition and Soviet instructors.

This Soviet hold on Egypt also forces the western allies to reappraise their policy. They must decide whether to continue the risk of non-cooperation with Egypt, or begin to relax the economic squeeze to prevent Russia from obtaining a stranglehold over the United Arab Republic.

Code Violations May Mean TV Needs Own Czar

LOS ANGELES (UP)— Increased violations of television's good conduct code could indicate that an industry czar is needed, says a New York advertising executive.

But Marion Harper Jr., president of McCann-Erickson, Inc., said yesterday he believed strict enforcement of TV's self-discipline procedures will be adequate.

"The code's provision for self-discipline is certainly to be preferred to outside censorship," he told the National Assn. of Broadcasters in convention here.

If the violations were more common, or if the recession — apparently through lower advertising standards — forces more abuses "an industry czar might be indicated," he said.

Code abuses, however, are concentrated, he said. Last year 75 per cent of all violations were found on 15 per cent of monitored stations. "A 100 per cent compliance is needed," Harper said.

More than 300 TV stations and all three TV networks subscribe to the code, which sets standards of programing and advertising.

Fess Parker Remains 'Davy Crockett' to Many

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — Every time I hear Fess Parker's name, I still tie him up with Davy Crockett because that coonskin cap became such a trademark with him he's had difficulty living it down.

There's no reason Fess shouldn't come into his own as a talented male star. He was just great in "Old Yeller," a honey of a film, and he's made "The Great Locomotive Chase" and "Westward Ho, the Wagons!" since he checked his Davy Crockett attire.

Walt Disney has always had faith in Fess and he's now bought "Tonka," a story of Custer's last stand for his ex-coons in hero.

The chief character of this little epic is Captain Myles Keogh, one of General Custer's aides in the battle of the Little Big Horn. It starts in May with Producer Jim Pratt in charge of production for Disney.

What a very nice break for Dana Andrews. He makes his Broadway debut in "Two for the Seesaw" replacing Henry Fonda, who has a motion picture commitment in Italy.

"I have a six months contract," Dana told me, "and Arthur Penn will rehearse me the whole month of June. We open in July and I am bringing my wife and three children.

"We have taken a house outside of Westchester where many actors live and commute each day. David Wayne, Arthur Kennedy and Eileen Heckert all live there."

The only stage experience Dana has had was in summer stock, so this is really a challenge.

Looks as if the reunion Christine Carere planned with her husband, Philippe Nicaud, will have to wait. Christine's been working on added scenes for "A Certain Smile" and she's now been told that she'll play the lead opposite Pat Boone in "Mardi Gras" for Jerry Wald.

The young ladies who play opposite Pat's cadet brothers, Tommy Sands and Gary Crosby, have not been chosen yet.

They tell me everyone in the 20th Century-Fox lot is talking about Gary's resemblance to Bing on the screen. His scenes in "Mardi Gras" and even his singing resemble the old man's and believe me, for my money, that ain't bad.

I talked with Jack L. Warner several times since his return here from New York over the weekend. He said he was amazed to read in my column that Jerry Wald told me he hoped to get Paul Newman to star in "Story on Page One."

Said Jack, "Paul is under contract to me and I should think Mr. Wald would come to me if he wanted Paul for one of his pictures. I loaned him Paul for 'Long Hot Summer' but this is now season I will loan him again. I have plans for him myself."

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random:

In August you may call Peggy Connolly mama and comedian Dick Martin papa—yep, the Martins have a date with the stork.

Anna Maria Alberghetti moves into the Las Vegas Desert Inn July 29. Her mother and sister Carla will not be with her. Before that Carla opens with Joe E. Lewis at El Rancho Vegas.

Marie Sullivan, soon to be ex of Barry Sullivan, is taking a course in TV writing conducted by MGM writer Welles Root.

Sunday Helen Grayco's parents celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary with Spike Jones and Helen and the grandchildren at the celebration.

The romance between Roberta Linn and attorney Arthur Stolnitz is as hot as the summer weather.

Maureen O'Hara's appearance on Perry Como's show is responsible for a three-year contract with RCA-Victor. She'll make an album to be released in six months.

She gets home tomorrow from New Orleans where she went for the "South Pacific" benefit for Boys Town of Italy.

Ingrid Sought for TV Drama Next Spring

NEW YORK (INS) — the possibility that Ingrid Bergman will make her live dramatic debut next spring in a movie role she created 16 years ago is hinted at by CBS which has just bought rights to Ernest Hemingway's best-seller "For Whom the Bell Tolls."

The love story, set against the background of the Spanish Civil War, is to be presented as a two hour live program next March or April.

Spokesmen for the network told the Journal-American that the heavy schedule of producer Fred Coe makes it necessary to postpone the drama until that date, "but suitable actors must be signed, and Miss Bergman, is of course, highly suitable."

Previously, Miss Bergman's movie commitments and turbulent private life have left her with little time or inclination to act on television. But she has said that she "is not afraid" of the medium.

The 1943 production won an Oscar for the picture which co-starred Gary Cooper (one of the last Hollywood holdouts against TV) and also gave women a fashion fad that swept the country.

The plot called for Ingrid's hair to be shaved off completely and grow back gradually through the action. The result: the first of many subsequent variations on the "poodle cut."

CBS plans to "sound out" Miss Bergman who was last reported in Hong Kong where she was starting work on a new movie.

Pupils Respond to Treatment

133 College Students' Homosexual Tendencies Held in Check

LOS ANGELES (UP) — a psychiatrist who has treated 133 university students for homosexuality said today he had helped many of them and had disproved a long-standing theory that they are beyond aid.

None of these were cured, he added, but there has been no record of a treated student carrying on any activities which have brought him or her to the attention of the police.

All were students at the University of California at Los Angeles, where the total registration has ranged from 15,000 to 18,000 yearly. The 133 cases were accumulated over an 11-year period.

Dr. Mathew Ross, student health service psychiatrist, treated the students. He reported the results in a paper before the California Medical Assn.

All except 19 of the students sought treatment voluntarily, Dr. Ross said, and many of them had little homosexual experience. But 101 of the 133 made no attempt to conceal their abnormal inclinations.

One phase of the treatment, Dr. Ross said, was to convince them they should explore the possibilities of normal sexuality, although this did not include any recommendation that they indulge actively. Another was to give them some understanding of the things in their lives which had turned them away from the usual direction of sex development.

The treatments were as effective as any psychiatric treatment for other conditions, Dr. Ross reported.

Ceylon Halts Trains as Bombings Continue

COLOMBO, Ceylon (AP) — All early morning suburban trains in Colombo were canceled today as railway bombings continued in the 6-day-old strike of some 37,000 Ceylonese civil servants.

Locomotive men and guards said they could not operate the trains without armed protection. A bomb explosion in a suburban train last night badly injured two 4-year-old children and six adults.

The Communist-dominated workers federation called the strike last Wednesday in an effort to win political rights now denied civil servants, and lower costs of living.

Tigers Take Another Crack at Yankees

AP Facsimile

UNAUTHORIZED — An overzealous San Francisco Giant fan rushes out of the stands to congratulate Hank Sauer, Giant outfielder, for hitting a 370-foot homer into left field to score Willie Mays ahead of him. It was Hank's 7th of the season, but the Phillies still won the game behind Robin Roberts, 7-4.

Lary Nominated to Oppose Ford in Second Game

Shantz Masters Bengals Again as Bombers Post 5-1 Triumph

NEW YORK (AP) — The Detroit Tigers were in need of a psychological lift today as they faced the mighty New York Yankees. A victory would supply the spark but manager Jack Tighe might settle for just one home run.

The Bengals, now 7-7 in the American League, also could use a triumph to keep their won-lost mark in the right proportion. The Yanks, 9-3 after topping the Tigers 5-1 yesterday, would still lead the league if they lost.

Tighe admits, too, that a home run or two in today's contest would look mighty sweet. One hasn't come off a Tiger bat for six games.

Despite Bobby Shantz' six-hit triumph here yesterday, the Tigers were far from an awed bunch of ball players as they trotted out to do battle today. Manager Tighe still thinks the Yankees will be also-rans this year.

The Tigers were the only team in the circuit to beat New York as many as 10 games last season when the Yankees romped off with the pennant.

Tighe was expected to use all the tricks in his collection today as he pitted righthander Frank Lary against the Yankee's Whitey Ford.

The Detroit manager loaded his lineup with right-handed hitters yesterday in a futile effort to stop Shantz, long the club's nemesis. The stubby southpaw now has a string of 11 consecutive victories over the Tigers who haven't beaten him since 1950.

In posting his second triumph without a defeat yesterday, he struck out seven and permitted no hit longer than a double. A potential shutout was ruined in the ninth when Frank Bolling singled, his brother Milt doubled, and Harvey Kuenn scored Frank with a sacrifice fly.

The Yanks assaulted three Detroit pitchers for 13 hits. Paul Foytack opened for Detroit but gave way to rookie Bob Shaw in the fourth when Shantz, Hank Bauer and Norm Siebern hit safely, increasing New York's lead to 4-0. Hank Aguirre took over in the eighth.

Until the ninth, the only Tiger able to hit Shantz with any consistency was outfielder Gus Zernial who walked, doubled and singled his first three times at bat.

Bill Skowron wielded the big bat in the Yankee attack, poling out two homers, one in the second and the other in the third.

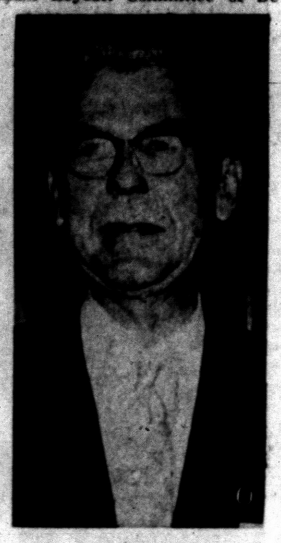
No Commitment on Negroes

Tigers to Wait Until Good Player Develops

DETROIT (AP)—The Detroit Tigers have refused to make a definite commitment to sign a Negro baseball player despite the threat of boycott action against Briggs Stadium.

Harvey Hansen, Tiger president, said yesterday a Negro group which calls itself the Briggs Stadium Boycott Committee of Detroit demanded to know when the club planned to sign a Negro to a major league contract.



DEFENDS TIGERS — President Harvey Hansen defended the Detroit Tigers against the boycott of Negroes at Briggs Stadium. Hansen told a committee yesterday that the Tigers are "making every effort to develop qualified big league players regardless of color."

"They insisted that we make such a commitment whether we had a qualified major league Negro ballplayer or not," Hansen said, "we refused, however, to make a definite commitment, in spite of the threat of boycott.

Hansen said he told the group the Tigers were making every effort to develop qualified big league players, regardless of color and that Detroit would have a Negro player on its roster "at the earliest date that such a qualified player was ready."

"Their desire was more to have a Negro player than to have a good Negro player," the club president said.

Hansen said Detroit has 17 Negroes in its 180-player farm system.

The committee is headed by the Rev. George Hill Jr., dean of the United Theological Seminary in Detroit, and claims a membership of about 40.

Prior to yesterday's meeting, the Rev. Hill said "we feel that the club has had ample opportunity and time to hire colored ballplayers."

3 Tiger Greats Placed in State Hall of Fame

DETROIT (AP) —Three of the Detroit Tigers' all - time greats — Hank Greenberg, Sam Crawford and Hughie Jennings — today were named to the Michigan Sports Hall of Fame.

The committee on sports for Michigan Week, which will be celebrated the week of May 4-10, unanimously placed the three baseball greats in the Hall of Fame.

Three more persons, one deceased and two living, will be officially inducted into the Michigan Hall of fame on Wednesday, May 7 at a luncheon in Detroit.

Nineteen persons have been nominated for the honor and ballots went out today. Members of the sports committee, headed by Detroit Lions' general manager W. N. Kerbawy, plus all the state's sports writers and broadcasters, have an opportunity to take part in the voting.

The placing of Greenberg, Jennings and Crawford in the sports Hall of Fame brings to 15 the number of sports greats who have received the honor. Last year voters put in Gordon S. (Mickey) Cochrane, Gordie Howe and George Gipp.

This year the nominations are: (deceased, one to be elected) Gus Dorais, Bill Hewitt, Frank Navin, Ad Wolgast, Kid Lavigne, King Lear and Dr. Allen B. Stowe.

The sports committee also agreed to name a special committee to automatically place a number of outstanding persons in the Hall of Fame by next year. The feeling is that there are many persons whose great contributions to sports might be overlooked in present - day voting because their accomplishments were recorded some years back.

The number to be placed in the Sports Hall of Fame in this manner has not been decided but it might be as many as 20.

Lau Summoned, Thompson Sold

DETROIT (AP) — Charley Lau, Charleston catcher, has been recalled by the Detroit Tigers, parent club of the American Assn. team. The Tigers at the same time announced sale of catcher Charlie (Tim) Thompson to the Toronto Maple Leafs of the International League.

Lau, a southpaw hitter, is batting .306 for the Charleston club which leads the American Assn. Lau had been up for brief periods with the Tigers previously.

Thompson was at bat only six times with the Tigers, making one hit for a .167 average. He was acquired in November's 13-player deal with the Kansas City Athletics.

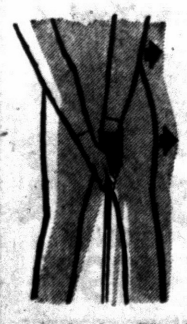
Doctoring Your Golf

By DR. CARY MIDDLECOFF

PATIENT'S COMPLAINT: "The Start of My Backswing Is Stiff and Jerky!"

DIAGNOSIS: Not Using the Forward Press.

TREATMENT: We all know or should know that the start of the backswing (the takeaway) must be a smooth action. The best way to achieve this initial smoothness is to use a little gimmick called the forward press.



The forward press is a slight forward movement that just precedes that large rearward movement, the backswing. What it does is set the body in motion so that you won't have to start the backswing from a stationary position.

It's a very small and simple thing. Merely move the body, arms and hands an inch or so forward, at just the instant before you go into your backswing. The clubhead, of course, remains in place behind the ball when you make this little movement.

I-59

Ever push a stalled car out of a mudhole? And didn't it help to rock the car backward just a bit before giving it the push forward? That's the basic idea of the forward press.

Marbles Tourney Now in Progress

Local eliminations for the city's 11th annual marbles tournament are now being conducted for 5th and 6th grade boys and girls at 23 Pontiac elementary schools.

Championship finals will be held Saturday morning at 9 o'clock at Oakland Park. The tournament is sponsored by The Pontiac Press in conjunction with the Pontiac Parks and Recreation Department.

The champion or alternate from each school must file entry for Saturday's finals with the Parks and Recreation Department by Friday. Competition will be held in one division only and The Press will award trophies to the winner and runner-up.

As an added attraction this year, a hopscotch tournament for girls is being held for the first time. The recreation department will award the trophies in the hopscotch division.

Purkey Wins 3rd on Bell's Homer

Bucs Take Fourth Straight

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Cincinnati hoped to perk up its pitching when it got Bob Purkey from Pittsburgh last winter, but at the moment Purkey's the only one perkin' on the Redleg staff.

The Redleg corps has accomplished only two complete games and one shutout in 10 decisions so far and Purkey has authored them al, while gaining three of Cincinnati's five victories.

The 28-year-old right - hander, who won more than three in one major league season for the first time last year when he was 11-14 for the last place Pirates, stayed unbeaten last night as Gus Bell's three-run eighth - inning homer beat St. Louis 5-2.

Purkey gave up 10 hits, but walked none and struck out three while reducing his earned run average to 1.04 for 26 innings.

Pittsburgh's Bob Friend also gained a 3-0 record last night, throwing a four-hitter that beat Los Angeles 7-1 as the Pirates won their fourth in a row.

The champion Milwaukee Braves took a full share of the National League lead for the first time this season as Warren Spahn, also 3-0, rode a nine-hitter for an 8-4 victory over the Chicago Cubs. San Francisco slipped to second, a half-game behind, with a 7-4 defeat by Philadelphia.

Bell's first 1958 home run broke up a tie game against winless Wilmer "Vinegar Bend" Mizell. The big southpaw lost his second while giving the Card staff its first complete game.

Johnny Temple swapped solo homers with Cardinal rookie Gene Green. It was Green's second, Temple's first of the season—his fifth in the majors and his first in a 342-game career at Cincinnati's Crosley Field.

Stan Musial was 3-for-4 for the Cards and now leads the league at .553.

Gino Cimoli's third homer was the only Dodger run off Friend, who holds both Pirate complete games this season. Cimoli and Duke Snider split the Dodger hits. Friend fanned five and walked but two. Carl Erskine lost his first (1-1), giving up 10 of the Bucs' 11 hits. Frank Thomas, who hit his second homer, and Hank Foiles each had three hits and drove in two runs for the Pirates.

Spahn helped himself with three hits, two of 'em doubles, and drove in three runs for the Braves while Ed Mathews made his No. 6 homer good for two runs. Milwaukee had 11 hits in all—seven of them two-baggers. Lee Walls banged a pair of solo homers for the Cubs and now has seven—one more than he hit all last year. Ed Mayer was the loser in relief.

Southpaw Curt Simmons won his first, but needed relief help, after the Phillies had cracked a 1-1 tie with four runs in the fifth. Dave Philley's first homer set off the spurt, which chased Ray Monzant to his second defeat and first in four lifetime decisions against the Phils. Hank Sauer cracked his seventh home run, with a man on, for the Giants.

New Speedway Will Make Debut in '59

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Bill France, president of the prospective $1,000,000 Daytona Beach International Motor Speedway, said Tuesday that first races will be staged on the 2½-mile track in 1959.

"Financing has been worked out and construction is going full speed ahead," France said.

Starting Tuesday around the clock work crews are on the job at the 448-acre site of the course, which is designed to handle speeds up to 200 miles per hour. Two of the three turns will be banked 25 feet high. Longest straightaway will be 4,000 feet on the backstretch.

France announced he will stage Nascar (National Assn. of Stock Car Auto Racers) sanctioned races in February. He has scheduled a modified stock car race, a new model convertible race and a grand national circuit race for new model sedans. The 40 fastest cars in the convertible class and the 40 fastest in the sedan class will qualify for the first 500 mile national stock car championship on Feb. 22, 1959.

France, president of Nascar, also announced work has started on construction of a two-mile flat road course inside the Speedway. It will be linked to the regular track, making a 4½-mile course for sports cars.

He announced plans for a 1,000-mile international sports car race here in April 1959, and for a 250-mile Indianapolis-type race car event here on July 4, 1959.

The grandstand at the new speedway will seat 17,000 next year, with infield room for over 50,000 spectators. Tunnel underpasses will offer access to the infield.

Automobile racing has been staged on the beach here since 1903 but France announced after last February's races there that real estate development in the area has doomed the famous beach-road course.

"Straightaway time trials on the famed beach will continue next February but all races in the future will be held in the speedway," said France.

Had Benefit of Warm Sun

'Waiters' Enjoyed Trout 'Opener' Most

By JACK PATTERSON

Stay-at-homes who might have trouble figuring, on the basis of more or less conflicting reports, whether last weekend's trout season opening was a good one or a bad one, should bear in mind that the word "opening" is subject to a variety of interpretations. Those fishermen who chose to be on hand at the minute the clock struck 12 Friday night would doubtless agree that below -20 temperatures made for a chilly, below-par opening situation.

Older, wiser fishermen, who were of the opinion that all 24 hours of Saturday constituted the opening, took a brighter view of the situation.

Being in the older classification, anyway, we dwadled around with an eye on the rising thermometer until about 10 o'clock Saturday.

Beneath the sun's warmth fishing was comfortable, and armed with "Queen of the Earth" streamers, we would have had no great difficulty in filling a limit of legal wild fish in the next few hours had we so wished. As it was we wound up with a few more than we really needed.

Sunday was more of the same with fish feeding avidly for awhile, then, unaccountably, quitting for an hour. Several below freezing nights prior to the season opening undid much of the water-warming effects of a generally warm April. Fish weren't too interested in food much of the time and had to be "fished to."

After several bright hours on Sunday, some insect hatching began to evidence itself. During the late afternoon there was a substantial hatch of the gray mayfly that most everyone in Michigan calls "stonefly," but isn't. Off and on there were immense hatches of midges.

As usual, we got carried away with problems of technique and this time we were chiefly concerned with a practical way to reach the tangled stretches of a typical Michigan brook trout stream.

We found what seems to be at least a partial answer. Latched onto a spinning reel handle with an adjustable chock and discovered that with just the tip of a spinning rod inserted into it, and a light spinning reel, it became a very useful tool.

A simple, underhand cast made it possible to reach into, and around tangles (where fish are) that we have found impossible to get at with conventional spinning gear.

There is further experimenting to be done in this connection, but the rig had so many outstanding virtues that we can rate it the best we've tried yet for the purpose.

Conferences on Water Safety Are Postponed

First Scheduled Meet Moved Back to Middle of May

Scheduled meetings of the newly organized Water Safety Study Commission have been postponed until the middle of May, according to Marshall Johnson, heading the Pontiac area committee.

Johnson and Waterford Township justice of the peace Donald E. Adams have been appointed members of the commission to examine methods of promoting safety and preventing accidents in boating activities on Michigan's inland lakes.

George Clay of Grand Rapids, and E. E. Tucker of the State Conservation department also serve on the commission.

Johnson said that the group will gather data and get viewpoints of residents living in the lake area regarding safety for swimmers as well as fishermen, then return to Lansing and make recommendations to the legislature for strict enforcement of rules governing water activity.

The future meetings will be open to the public, Johnson said.

DU Will Spend Half-Million on 1958 Projects

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Ducks Unlimited will spend $525,000 on 1958 projects to continue its 20-year program of restoring and expanding wild duck breeding grounds in Canada.

Canadian directors of the sportsmen's group will select the sites in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta where the appropriation will be spent. They have 120 projects ready for development as funds become available. Thirty-five projects were completed last year.

H. Bliss Rucker of San Francisco, re-elected D. U. president, said the $525,000 allocation would bring to nearly 6 million dollars the total of Ducks Unlimited contributions on Canadian nesting grounds since 1938.

Ancient Breed in Modern Setting

Salukis Now 'Pointers'

By H. GUY MOATS

Come fall and the start of bird hunting season (and small game) this area will probably be treated to the unusual sight of a pair of ancient breed dogs doing the pointing and retrieving for a Clarkston huntress and hunter.

Just now the John Bodes, 6321 Ascension, Clarkston, are working with their fine Saluki hounds, the same breed of dogs used by ancient Egyptians and the present day Arabians for game work. And the owners say they are certain the smart hounds will do all right in their new roles.

There's another angle, too. The Clarkston couple is interested in trying hawking (falconry) now legalized in Michigan, and hope to make use of the Salukis, Hamid (Hambone) and Kashan Farouk, in this connection.

The Salukis have been used before on game and have proved very good, says Mrs. Bode. Both she and her husband are artists, Mr. Bode being employed in the Chrysler Missile art department as an art analyist.

The Saluki was known as the royal dog of Egypt. Its counterpart, in sculpture, appears on many old Egyptian structures and writings. It has tufted ears, tail and legs, is built like a greyhound, and has the same speed, great stamina.

The Bodes are now seeking to find a hawk to train for their falconry. They cannot be procured in Michigan.

THERE THEY GO! — A pair of unusual hunting dogs (for this country at least) are being prepped for one of the most unusual sports in Michigan. They are of the ancient Egyptian breed known as Salukis. Their owner, Mrs. John Bode, of Clarkston, hopes to use Hamid (Hambone) the black one and Kaskan, as "pointers" on legal game and birds in Michigan. She points to some flying birds, and the hounds watch intently. She also hopes to use them as falconry hounds.

RECORD SAW-BILL? — Albert Coat, Miami insurance man, stands beside the saw-fish he caught first of the week while fishing at Everglades, Fla. The 14-foot 2-inch "saw-bill" is believed to be a record, taken by hook and line. Its weight is estimated at 1,000 pounds. It fought for two hours, damaged the boat's stern.

4-Day All-Sports Show Under Way on Thursday

Arrangements have been completed for the start of the 4-day Oakland County All-Sports show, opening Thursday and running through Sunday. Event, expected to be one of the most colorful of its kind in the section, will take place on the John F. Ivory Polo Club grounds, 9990 Cooley Lake road. It will be a free exhibition offering many features each day.

Show will be in action each day from 10 a.m. to 7 p.m. with extensive exhibits of boats, boating equipment, all kinds of sports materiel, free pony rides for youngsters, outboard races by Detroit Outboard club, and good music in the evening. Sheriff's Posse riders will lend color to the event.

Pistol and archery demonstrations have been set up, and expert fly and bait casters will do their stuff. Skeet shooting and displays of horsemanship by the Ivory riders are other features, along with the polo games set for Sunday afternoon. Radio and TV will bring the Kentucky Derby to the show on Saturday.

Family Outings Top Pastime

Will Be Even Bigger Than Baseball, Due to Lure of Outdoors

ALL OUTDOORS, USA (INS)— The national pastime this summer will not be baseball, but outdoor family vacations, fishing, hunting and camping.

State and federal officials are predicting that 1958 will be a record year for outdoor vacations, namely camping, because of the recession. They point to simple economics of middle-income families, expanded public works programs that have made the nation's parks and forests more attractive and "an ever growing army of outdoor enthusiasts."

The boating industry, for example, reported that in 1957 a record $1,912,000,000 was spent for all phases of boating and that more boats than ever were used by family groups on vacations. They expect 1958 to be even a "bigger year" for boat owners.

OCSC Seeking 200 New Memberships

A three-months campaign for 200 new memberships will get under way immediately at Oakland County Sportsmen's Club. The club hopes to interest sportsmen of the area in the facilities the club offers.

Past president Dr. P. B. Jones is general chairman for the campaign. Interested persons may secure information from any OCSC member, or by calling ORlando 3-7441.

Hunter Bill Guse Shows Africa Film

Following tonight's general membership meeting at OCSC, in Waterford, noted African and world hunter, Bill Guse, will show his unusual African hunting films.

Spectacular closeups of bullets striking big game are among the featured portions of the motion picture. Guse will narrate the film, also discuss other hunting experiences. Membership meeting is set for 8 p.m.

Shoot 300 Bison a Year

Hunters Busy in Dakota

But there are two hunters — Boyd Perrigo and Fred Matthews — of the South Dakota Conservation department who kill 300 to 400 bison every year.

Their hunting is highly specialized, supervised by the S. D. conservation people to maintain a healthy herd of about 1,000 at Custer State Park, the country's largest buffalo herd.

Those animals selected for the thinning are usually "dry" cows and immature bulls. The hunters use .30-06 rifles and try to shoot from about 100 yards, rarely missing.

Nothing is wasted. These "thinned" animals range in weight from 1,100 to 1,400 pounds. The meat is sold to numerous buyers including restaurants, church groups and even supermarkets. The largest single order of 32,016 pounds recently went to a California restaurant.

Hides, which go to the highest bidder, are made into hand bags, rugs, belts and robes. Green hides are sold for about $7.50 each at the Custer State Park.

Buffalo meat — never enough to meet the demand — netted South Dakota about $60,000 to $118,000 in recent years.

DOESN'T GO FORMAL — Carl Eklund doesn't go for the storied and formally featured penguin. Here he holds his choice as the glamor bird of the Polar continent of Antarctica — the south polar skua. Eklund, of the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service station at Atlanta, Ga., has just finished a term as leader of the International Geophysical Year's Wilkes station in the south polar region. The skua is a gull-like creature that lives on the ice, preys on young penguins and is related to the jaeger, an eagle-like fighting bird.

Teeing Off

By BILL CORNWELL

Oakland County will be well represented Saturday when Michigan State, Notre Dame and the University of Detroit match strokes in a triangular golf meet at MSU's new 18-hole course.

Four collegians from this area—Pontiac's Lloyd Syron, Joe Grace Jr. of Lathrup Village, Jack Reynolds of Waterford and Birmingham's Tim Baldwin — will make it seem like "old home week" when they gather around the first tee to begin the 36-hole match.

Syron and Grace, both seniors, are winding up their college careers as king-pins of a strong Notre Dame team. Reynolds and Baldwin, on the other hand, are both sophomores trying to make their collegiate marks with the MSU varsity.

The golfing exploits of Syron, common knowledge in local circles, were brought into state-wide focus last summer when he won the Michigan Amateur championship at Charlevoix's Belvedere Country Club.

SYRON

Two years ago he bowed to Ron Rothbarth at Pontiac Municipal course in a sudden - death playoff for the city title.

Syron, as if you didn't know, is the son of Frank Syron, pro-owner of Pontiac Country Club.

Reynolds was a high school star for three seasons with the Waterford Skippers and in 1956 he paced his squad to the annual Pontiac Press Prep Invitational crown.

He gave Paul Bada and Mike Andonian a stiff battle for the city title last year in a three-way extra-hole playoff at Municipal. Bada finally won.

Baldwin, another prep ace, earned four letters at Birmingham High and sparked the Maples to Press championships in 1954 and 1955. He and Reynolds each competed in state and national junior tournaments.

As you can see, the Irish and Spartan teams have a distinct Oakland flavor. What about the U. of D.? Well, believe it or not, there isn't a single county golfer on the Titan squad.

SHORT PUTTS

The membership committee of the Michigan PGA has admitted three professionals to Class A rank. Included are Wayne Hendrickson, Atlas Valley; Earl Roy, Gaylord's Hidden Valley layout, and Robert McWebb at the Meceola links in Big Rapids.

Three other pros gained Class H membership. They include David Gibson, John Dalrymple's assistant at Lakepointe; Kenneth Judd Jr., aide to Joe Devany at Grosse Ile, and Raymond Highsmith, Bill Markham's assistant at Saginaw CC.

Red Run Golf Club, site of the Western Open tourney May 29-June 1, will hold a luncheon meeting Thursday noon for press, radio and TV.

Tim Tam and Silky Co-Favored in Derby

Second Richest Run in History Slated Saturday

Largest Field Since '51 Is Anticipated for 84th Kentucky Classic

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — The steadily improving Tim Tam and the sensational stretch running Silky Sullivan were quoted as co-favorites at 5-2 today as the second richest Kentucky Derby in history loomed with 19 finely tuned 3-year-olds listed as probable starters.

Some of the owners and trainers may have a change of mind before the entry box closes tomorrow morning, but as of now the largest field since Count Turf turned back 19 rivals in 1951 is in prospect.

The track condition will have a large say on how many parade to the post for the 4:30 p.m. EST start at Churchill Downs.

After days of rain, the weatherman today forecast somewhat cooler temperatures and a drying wind. With no more rain the track for the 1 mile race could be fast by Saturday.

Although track officials are prepared for an unwieldy field, only three horses commanded major attention today as the vanguard of the festive-minded crowd moved into this Ohio River city.

They are, Tim Tam, a royally bred son of Tom Fool from the fabulous Calumet Farm of Mrs. Gene Markey; Silky Sullivan, the flaming California chestnut who has caught the fancy of the public as few horses have since Man O' War; and Jewel's Reward, champion money winning 2-year old of 1957 who heads the three-horse entry from Mrs. Elizabeth N. Graham's Maine Chance Farm.

Tim Tam, winner of only $275 last year but victorious in the $100,000 Flamingo and Florida Derby this year, removed any doubt that a shift in jockeys would make any difference when he won the Trial Stakes yesterday under 23-year old Ismale Valenzuela.

The Texas-born Mexican was called on to ride the Calumet ace after Bill Hartack broke a leg last Saturday.

Player Draft Rule Put Into Writing

CHICAGO (AP) — Baseball's new four-year player draft was put into formal language yesterday by a committee of six men including Commissioner Ford Frick.

The new rule, originally adopted at Colorado Springs last December, permits a major league team to draft any number of players with four years experience from minor league clubs at $25,000 per man.

Manning, Cole Shine in Dual Test

PCH Trips Skippers 73-36

By H. GUY MOATS

Pontiac's high school thinclads, bucking a cold wind and a tough opponent in the Waterford Skippers, nevertheless came through with a 73-36 dual victory yesterday afternoon on Wisner Field.

Weather reduced performances to comparatively low status, but the Chiefs top athletes did all right in their specialties, including Bobby Manning's 10 flat in the century and 22.8 in the furlong. Bill Cole, Skipper ace hurdler, was also a two-time winner, taking the high and low sticks in good times of 15.3 and 20.7 Cole will probably run in the CMC relays Saturday, in which Chiefs are not entered.

PCH athletic officials today clarified the Chiefs' reasons for not entering the Mt. Pleasant meet. Athletic director Tom Dodson said today, "we sat down last year and reviewed plans for this year. We prepare a budget and each coach sets up his schedule in line with the requirements. The CMC outdoor relays were left out then, because of the coach's judgment that he would get two meets (U of D Relays, and Monroe Relays) instead of the one (CMC). I back his judgment all the way. There was no financial difficulty involved, as we spend as much as any other state school on track—and I can prove it."

Chiefs captured 10 firsts, and seven seconds, also ran 1-2 in the 100, 440, the pole vault and high jump.

Other good performances, outside that of Manning, were co-captain Rog Coats' 2:14.7 half mile, Jim Keller's 21 feet half inch broad jump, co-captain Larry Beamer took the mile, Bill Pritchett the 440, Bob Finley the vault, Fred Brooks, Alex Barge, Robinson and Arzo Carson, and Lee and Kimbryll of Waterford in a close high jump test. Wright in the shot was the only other Skipper first placer.

Maples Thump RO Thinclads

First meet on the new Birmingham High track and field, yesterday afternoon was a proper inauguration, with a 78½-30½ win over EML opponent Royal Oak Kimball.

Among the better performances were Chuck Gibson's 51 feet 8 inches shot toss; Bob Kulow's firsts in the 100 and broad jump; Bill Alcorn's 11-6 vault and Dick Boyd's 2:07.2 half mile. Maples will send 17 to Saturday's CMC meet at Mt. Pleasant.

Other area prep meet results yesterday included the 18th straight dual victory for Cranbrook, 63⅔ — 45⅓ over Catholic Central, at Cranbrook. Cranes took nine firsts, led by Larry DeWitt's 100, 220 and broad jump. It was the season's 4th win, Cranes will have a 15-man squad at the Class "B" CMC meet Friday.

OLSM defeated Notre Dame and Mt. Clemens St. Mary in a 3-way meet at Orchard Lake, with all events slowed by winds. Scores were OLSM 63 and 1-6; Notre Dame 54½ and MCSM 19 and 1-3.

Several records fell during the Farmington, Southfield and Redford triangular at Redford Union, won by the host team 67 and 5-6. Farmington had 59 and 5-6 and the Bluejays 9 and 1-3. Warren Cawley won three events, hurdles and high jump, for Farmington, with Mike Agee taking two. Davis of RU won two, tied another. Cawley and a relay team will go to CMC, Saturday.

East Pros Topple West

DENVER (AP) — The East All-Stars stormed from 23 points behind Tuesday night and turned back the West All-Stars 127-120 in a National Basketball Assn. exhibition game.

The victory gave the East a 9-7 edge in the current cross-country tour. A crowd of 3,500 watched the fancy exhibition of floor play and sharpshooting.

Waterford 9 Scores Win; Avon, Birmingham Losers

If Chuck Kirken doesn't start a baseball game at Waterford he most likely will be around at the finish.

Kirken came into the contest in the second inning yesterday and pitched the Skippers to a 13-7 win over Walled Lake. Peyton went all the way and lost for the Vikings.

Five Skippers had two hits led by 5-foot-6 sophomore Jim Paschke with a single and a homer and Wendy Meyer's two doubles and five runs batted in.

Five errors by Avondale helped Troy take a 3-2 decision with Wayne Figley taking the win. Loser was Rich Roy and Avondale now stands 1-1 in league play.

Cranbrook lost its second game 3-2 to Flint Central on an unearned run in the second inning. John Kirk the winner pitched a two hitter for Flint while Andy Billesdon took the loss.

Birmingham was beaten in an EML game, 11-3 by East Detroit with Carl Olson giving up five hits. Dick Cloonan lost for the Maples.

Jukebox Plant Roof Bombed in Detroit

DETROIT (AP) — The explosion of a dynamite bomb on the roof of a jukebox sales and repair plant was under investigation by police today.

It was the fourth such bombing in the city this year. The others occurred in dry cleaning shops.

Slight Success in Gain Attempt

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market tried to muster an advance in early trading today, but met with only partial success.

Numerous leading stocks were up fractions to about a point in fairly active dealings. There were scattered small losers.

Royal Dutch and Gulf Oil rose about a point in the wake of an easing of the U.S. policy toward Egypt.

The news background was a little better than in recent sessions. Brokers singled out a turn for the better in employment figures and the fact that both General Motors and U.S. Steel managed to earn their dividends in the first quarter.

Small gainers included U.S. Steel, Bethlehem, General Motors, Kennecott and Anaconda.

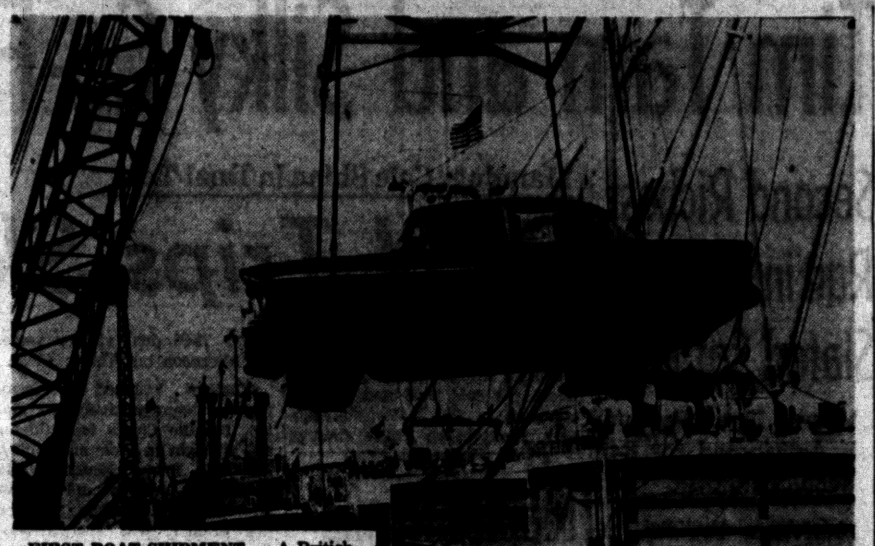
Develops Missile Tool

DETROIT (AP) — The AA Gage Co. has announced development of a fast measuring device called the dividing head which the firm says may speed up some missile and rocket fabricating operations by as much as 50 per cent. The head will be used in precision jig boring and grinding operations.



FIRST BOAT SHIPMENT — A British General Motors-built Vauxhall is swung ashore in Detroit yesterday as the first boat load of Vauxhalls arrived for Pontiac dealers in the Middle West. Ten cars arrived aboard the Danish ship Christel Heering. They are being imported at the rate of 1,500 a month, and have been sold in the United States since September.

To Compete With Small Imports?

Studebaker-Packard Plans New Car

By DAVID J. WILKIE
AP Automotive Editor

DETROIT (AP) — Studebaker-Packard Corp. will bid for deeper penetration of the new car market next year with what it calls a new and different type of car.

The corporation has not described the car nor its probable price. It can be said, however, that the new vehicle, to be built in South Bend, will be in the smaller wheelbase class — smaller than the present Scotsman economy model. It can be said, too, that its price tag will put it into competition with many of the smaller foreign-built cars and with American Motors' Rambler models.

Harold E. Churchill, Studebaker-Packard president, announced plans for the new car at a stockholders' meeting last week. He did not disclose styling details or possible price tags.

Sources familiar with Studebaker-Packard planning have said the car will be of smaller overall length. These sources said its design would be such that yearly major changes would be unnecessary.

Foreign-built cars have taken more than six per cent of the U.S. market this year. Some of these cars, of course, are not in the low-price class.

Excepting for American Motors cars, all American-made vehicles have been losing volume this year. And American Motors' success with its Ramblers emphasizes the mounting demand for smaller wheelbase models.

American Motors calls its Rambler American, a 100-inch wheelbase model, "the only U.S. built small car." Its other volume Rambler model is built on a 108-inch wheelbase. It is considerably smaller than the conventional size sedans and hardtops. It carried American Motors into the profits column after a long period of losses.

Studebaker-Packard reports increasing demand for the Scotsman model. Industry observers are speculating over what a model to compete with the small imported cars and American Motors Rambler units may do for Studebaker-Packard.

Commissioners also appointed Commissioner Philip E. Rowston of 532 W. Iroquois Rd. to a two-year term as Commission representative on the planning board. Former Commissioner John E. Carry held this post the past two years.

Mogul Pays Dividend

DETROIT — Federal-Mogul Bower Bearings Inc. declared a dividend of 60 cents a share payable June 10, 1958 to stockholders of record May 23, 1958. The dividend is the same as that paid for each quarter last year. Nine directors were re-elected at the annual meeting.

Music Union Silences Maddy at Bridge Rites

LANSING (AP) — A threat to send up 3,000 pickets has soured musical plans for the Mackinac Bridge dedication ceremonies, Dr. Joseph E. Maddy, president of the National Music Camp at Interlochen, claimed today.

Maddy said a 200-piece high school band from the camp had been asked to serve as the official band for dedication ceremonies on June 27. The band was scheduled for two concerts, one on each side of the bridge, he said.

Maddy said he was later informed by William Smith of Detroit, representing Walker J. Cisler, chairman of the dedication ceremony, that the entire project had been cancelled.

"He told us the musician's union threatened to send 3,000 pickets to the straits if our people were allowed to play," Maddy said.

Maddy blamed James C. Petrillo, head of the musician's union, for cancellation of the plans. Maddy and Petrillo have long been feuding.

Petrillo has effectively kept all school bands and orchestras from network broadcasts for the past 16 years despite specific congressional action designed to restrict his dictatorship," Maddy said.

"This surrender to one of America's most unscrupulous labor dictators brings shameful dishonor to the entire state of Michigan."

Maddy said he was informed by Smith that there would be no opposition to any other bands, union or non-union, and that the ban applied only to the Interlochen group.

GM Pays $44,696 in Employe Awards

The outstanding figure, released in GM's quarterly suggestion report, represents the highest awards total achieved by any GM car group plants located in one city.

The report also revealed that award-winning Pontiac employes took home an average of $111.18, as compared with the all-GM average of $50.88. In addition, the Company posted a 26.8 percentage of suggestions adopted to those reviewed, which also eclipsed the GM-wide success average of 25.5.

Earnings Up Over '56

DETROIT (AP) — C. M. Hall Lamp Co. has announced earnings of $589,931 or $1.86 a share for 1957, three times that of 1956 when they totaled $197,138 or 62½ cents a share. Sales, highest in the auto parts firm's history, were nine million dollars in 1957 compared to $5,400,000 in 1956.

City Commission Eyes Sink Holes

Dugan Urges Steps Be Taken to Force Fill-Ins on Vacant Lots

Commissioner John A. Dugan urged — but did not demand — that the City Health Officer and attorney take legal steps to force fill-ins.

"These holes and low spots become filled with water and are a nuisance and a danger, especially to little children who play around them and are liable to fall in," said Dugan.

City Attorney William A. Ewart said he is prepared to seek Circuit Court injunctions to force fill-ins if the City Health Officer agrees it is a necessary step.

Dugan said that some swampy areas he had complained about a year ago are still in existence. "As near as I can figure out, the health officer wrote the property owners letters and that's all that was ever done abut them."

City Manager Walter K. Willman recommended the city take an attitude of cooperation. "Several property owners have agreed to fill in their swamps if the city helps provide the dirt. We're going to have a lot of dirt this summer from the Perry street widening project. We could use it if we have property-owners cooperation."

Commissioner Milton R. Henry suggested that microphones be installed in the Commission chambers and that a law library and workroom be set up for use by Commissioners.

Bagwell Tells Automotive Group

'Bright Future for State if All Work Together'

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—Counting blessings in land, resources and labor market, Prof. Paul D. Bagwell yesterday said Michigan has a bright future if its leaders disregard politics and combine efforts to acquire more industry for the state.

On leave from the Department of Communications Skills at Michigan State University to seek Republican nomination for governor, he addressed the fifth annual convention of the Michigan Automotive Wholesalers Assn., winding up affairs in Grand Rapids.

"Michigan has everything to offer the industrialist," Bagwell said. "Land . . . mineral resources . . . labor market, too. All we must do is develop this potential."

Prior to his address he said he believed an improved and realistic tax pattern was necessary for Michigan.

"Politics must be put aside so both political parties can put their heads together and come up with a fair and equitable tax structure that will still supply enough money to meet all demands for service," he said.

About 300 convention delegates completed sessions yesterday with officer elections. Vincent Fochtman of Traverse City was re-elected president. Also re-elected were Maury Mayer of Lansing, executive secretary; William E. Hamlin of Jackson, vice president, and Robert McNally of Battle Creek, treasurer.

Police Arrest Janitor in Death of Man Whose Beaten Body Found in Field

DETROIT (AP) — A janitor who police said borrowed a truck to haul away his victim's body as "rubbish" was held today in the slaying of real estate man Walter Curlik.

Held for investigation of murder was 39-year-old John H. Curtis. Asst. Prosecutor Raymond J. Deryck said he admitted the slaying in a formal statement.

Curlik's bludgeoned body, stuffed into an old kitchen cupboard discarded in a field near New Baltimore, was found Saturday. He had been killed Thursday.

Curtis told police the slaying climaxed four months of arguments over his wages. He was caretaker of an apartment building owned by Curlik.

Police said Luther C. Tooles, 36, of Detroit, also was held for investigation. Curtis described Tolles as his unwitting accomplice in the disposal of Curlik's body.

Curlik was white. Both Curtis and Tooles are eNgroes. Using various names as Czurlik, Ciurlik and Caurlik, the victim had been arrested eight times and police said he once served a one-year term in Ohio for grand larceny. He was acquitted here in 1941 of swindling a woman out of $7,000.

In his statement, Curtis said he was hired as caretaker last December and was assigned extra duties but was not regularly paid. He said he had difficulty in getting money from Curlik.

He said Curlik came to the apartment Thursday to collect rent money and refused his repeated requests for pay.

"I got mad and grabbed him," Curtis said. "He told me, 'I haven't got any money.'"

Curtis said he then picked up a section of iron pipe and hit Curlik. He said he left Curlik's body in the basement all Thursday night.

He said he met Tooles Friday and asked his help in disposing of some rubbish he had cleaned out of the apartment basement. He then wrapped Curlik's body in a painter's drop cloth and put it into the cabinet which he nailed shut.

Curtis said he and Tooles then hailed a third man who was passing and hired him to help with the cabinet. They loaded it onto Tooles' truck, drove to New Baltimore and dumped the cabinet in the field where it was found.

Curtis was arrested last night after an acquaintance identified him to police as the caretaker of Curlik's apartment building.

Union and Shipping Officials Called by Chicago's Mayor

CHICAGO (AP) — Mayor Richard Daley planned to meet today with union and shipping officials in an effort to end a strike which has tied up overseas shipping in Chicago and several other Great Lakes ports.

Representatives of the International Organization of Masters, Mates and Pilots of America and the Great Lakes Overseas Shipping Assn. were summoned by Daley yesterday to attend the meeting.

Others invited included representatives of the Chicago Port District and the International Brotherhood of Longshoreman.

The Pilots union called the strike April 21 to try to force the overseas ship owners to employ its pilots through the entire Great Lakes trip instead of only through narrow river channels. Picket lines first appeared at Chicago piers Friday.

Owners of foreign vessels say they agree a pilot should be aboard in the confined waters from the east end of the Welland Canal to Sarnia, Ont. — which includes all of Lake Erie — as well as in the Detroit River, Lake St. Clair and St. Clair River.

The overseas owners also agree a pilot should be used for navigation in the St. Mary's River for shipping entering Lake Superior.

Chicago longshoremen have refused to cross picket lines and load or unload 11 foreign vessels docked here. About 8 million dollars worth of cargo is involved either in warehouses awaiting overseas shipment or aboard inbound vessels.

Fred Turner, attorney for North Pier Terminal Co. and the Chicago Calumet Stevedoring Co., said he would ask for an order in U.S. District Court directing the longshoremen to return to work.

In Cleveland yesterday, Judge Charles F. Carr ordered the longshoremen there to return to work to observe a no-strike clause in their contract.

North Pier and Chicago Calumet are the two terminal companies affected by the Chicago strike. Turner said their contract with the International Brotherhood of Longshoremen carries a no-strike clause.

Capt. John Manley, Chicago port director, said about 40 ships were either en route here or are in European ports waiting to take on cargo for shipment to Chicago.

He forecast that if the strike is prolonged, those vessels will be ordered to coastal cities.

The shipping association said the union is demanding that two pilots be aboard vessels throughout the lake trip at a pay of $75 a day each.

Misc. 3337

Recommended by the Board of Public Works

IN RE: 12 TOWN DRAIN SYSTEM

Submitted by Mr. Thatcher

Mr. Chairman, Ladies and Gentlemen, I offer the following resolution:

WHEREAS there is a great deal of concern, particularly in the municipalities included in the so-called 12 Town Drain District, regarding the construction of this project which directly and indirectly affects the health, welfare and economy of the entire county, and

WHEREAS the Oakland County Board of Supervisors has expressed its concern and interest in this vital project by past official actions, and

WHEREAS in spite of all the efforts of the Drain Commissioner, the Drainage Board and other concerned agencies, this project has as yet not been resolved to a point where actual construction is assured, and

WHEREAS the project now hinges on favorable decisions of the Circuit Court and Michigan State Supreme Court, and

WHEREAS it is deemed inadvisable to make any alterations in the present proceedings for this project, if the same can be constructed under such procedures, since any change would result in further delay of the project, and

WHEREAS the municipalities in the area to be served by said project are desirous of having an alternate solution which will result in early construction if it is legally impossible to proceed with the project under the existing drain laws and

WHEREAS all of these matters have been considered by the Board of Public Works of Oakland County and said Board recommends that some assurance be given the concerned municipalities that the Board of Supervisors will continue to lend their support to the project;

NOW THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that this Board of Supervisors will continue its support of the 12 Town Drain Project under Act 40 of the Michigan Public Acts of 1956;

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that if the decision of the Supreme Court is adverse to the project and it appears impossible to proceed with the project under existing drain laws that this Board of Supervisors will establish the project as a County System under the Board of Public Works pursuant to the provisions of Act No. 185 of the Public Acts of 1957.

1. The County shall proceed to obtain plans and specifications for, and an estimate of the cost of, a sewage disposal system which will be adequate to transport and treat sewage originating from the area to be served thereby, which area is shown on the map hereto attached, marked "Exhibit A" and made a part hereof. The said sewage disposal system shall consist of intercepting sewers located as shown on said Exhibit A and in addition thereto either a sewage treatment plant to be operated by the County or flowage rights in the Detroit sewer system for a period of not less than 50 years, with a contract for sewage disposal by the City of Detroit for a period of not less than 40 years from the date hereof but with the option on the part of the County to extend the same for a further period of 10 years. After the receipt of said plans and specifications and estimate of cost, the Board shall submit the same to the County Board of Supervisors, together with an ordinance or resolution approved by said Board, providing for the issuance of bonds by the County in the principal sum, or in an aggregate principal sum not exceeding the amount of the estimated cost. If the establishment of said County system shall be approved by the said Board of Supervisors, and if such bond ordinance or resolution shall be adopted by said Board of Supervisors, then the Board of Public Works shall proceed to secure bids for the construction of the project and to secure bids for the purchase of the bonds. If the construction bids are within the authorized amount of bonds, then the Board of Public Works shall proceed to award the construction contracts and to issue the bonds and shall cause the project to be constructed within a reasonable time thereafter.

2. It is understood that the County system is to serve the municipalities and not the individual property owners, unless by special agreement between the Board and the municipality in which the property is located. The responsibility of collecting sewage and delivering the same to the County interceptor is that of the several municipalities which shall cause to be constructed and maintained adequate facilities for such collection and delivery. The County shall not be obligated by this agreement to serve any area outside that shown on Exhibit A or to construct any sewers other than the intercepting sewers designated thereon. The maximum population which the County shall be required to serve within each municipality shall be limited to the following:

Township of Southfield, 3,738 persons.

City of Keego Harbor, 4,385 persons.

3. The Board of Public Works shall establish general regulations controlling the discharge of storm water into the County system. Each of the municipalities expressly agrees that except as permitted by such regulations, no storm water will be permitted to flow into the County system and that it will take all necessary action to prevent the same.

4. Each of said municipalities shall pay to the County, to cover the capital cost of the County system, a sum equal to that produced by applying the following percentages to such capital cost, to-wit:

Farmington Township	65.3238%
West Bloomfield Township	29.4563%
Southfield Township	2.4021%
City of Keego Harbor	2.8178%
TOTAL	100.0000%

The term "capital cost" as above used shall include:

(a) The cost of any lands or rights therein, which are necessary for the system.

(b) The cost of physical structures and equipment.

(c) Architectural, engineering, financial and legal fees.

(d) Capitalized interest on bonds for a period not exceeding one and one-half (1½) years.

(e) Any discount at which bonds are to be offered.

(f) Administrative costs in connection with the project and with the sale of bonds therefor.

(g) The cost of any flowage rights thru the Detroit sewer system or thru any other sewer or drainage system.

(h) Any other necessary costs directly connected with the said project and the financing thereof.

5. The amount to be paid by each municipality shall be divided into 20 annual installments, numbered in direct order of their maturities. The aggregate amount of each installment for all municipalities shall be determined by the Board prior to the time it shall submit to the Board of Supervisors a bond resolution or ordinance, which aggregate amount shall be divided between the municipalities on the basis of the percentages specified in the foregoing paragraph. Said installments shall be due in consecutive numerical order on the first day of April in each year, beginning with the year 1960, and all amounts thereof from time to time unpaid shall bear interest from the date of the issuance of the bonds by the County, at the rate of 6% per annum until paid, payable on April 1, 1960 and on the first day of April in each year thereafter, provided that if the bond issue shall include any amount for capitalized interest, then the unpaid installments shall not bear interest during the period in which the capitalized interest will be paid. The interest on the bonds in the amount of interest collected by the County in any year shall exceed the amount of interest which the County is required to pay upon its said bonds prior to the next installment due date, then any excess in the amount so paid shall be credited pro rata to the municipalities in accordance with the several amounts of interest paid by them in such year, which credit shall be applied on the next interest becoming due. If any municipality shall fail to pay any installment or interest when the same becomes due than the amount thereof shall be subject to a penalty, in addition to interest, of 6% for each month or fraction thereof that the same remains unpaid after the due date. Any municipality shall have the right to prepay any one or more of its annual installments in inverse numerical order, in advance of the due date thereof: Provided, that there is paid in addition thereto interest on the prepaid installments to the first subsequent date upon which the County may redeem an equal amount of bonds and also any premium required to be paid by the County upon such redemption.

6. The percentages mentioned in paragraph 4 above shall be computed upon the estimated cost until the actual cost has been determined. If the actual cost shall be less than the estimated cost, then any surplus from the sale of bonds therefor shall be used to purchase such bonds on the open market or to redeem such bonds as provided therein, and in such event the contract obligation of each municipality shall be reduced by its percentage of the amount of bonds so purchased or redeemed. Any bonds so purchased or redeemed shall be cancelled. The estimated cost above referred to shall be that adopted by the Board of Public Works. If the actual cost shall be greater than the estimated cost, then the additional amount shall be allocated among the municipalities in accordance with the percentages set forth in paragraph 4 hereof, and the several then remaining installments for each municipality shall be increased proportionately according to the original amounts of such installments.

7. Each municipality does hereby pledge its full faith and credit for the prompt payment of the aforesaid obligations and shall each year levy a tax in an amount which taking into consideration estimated delinquencies in tax coll

IN RE: EMERGENCY HOUSING FOR MENTALLY ILL

To the Oakland County Board of Supervisors

Mr. Chairman, Ladies and Gentlemen:

At the December 23, 1957 meeting of the Board, your Health Committee was authorized to locate facilities for temporary security confinement of a limited number of mentally ill persons.

Your Committee met on January 7, 1958 with Mrs. Hope F. Lewis, Chairman of the Welfare Committee, with Dr. John D. Monroe, Director of the County Health Department, and with representatives of the Michigan Society for Mental Health, to outline a plan of procedure to locate such temporary facilities. It was agreed that several hospitals in the area would be contacted by the Committee.

The Health Committee met again on January 21, 1958 at which time reports made by the several members of the Committee revealed that favorable responses to the appeal for bed space for such patients have been received from Hurley General Hospital of Flint, Mercywood Hospital of Ann Arbor and Glen Eden in Warren. All of these hospitals are equipped and have indicated a willingness to care for mental patients from Oakland County on an emergency basis.

A screening of such patients by a local doctor prior to their admission to such hospitals would be required to make certain that each is afflicted with a mental illness such as would require temporary compulsory confinement.

Your Committee adopted a resolution recommending that the County use, specifically but not exclusively these three institutions to meet the needs of those who require such temporary confinement.

NOW THEREFORE, Mr. Chairman, on behalf of the Health Committee, I move that the matter of financing to provide for such County person who may require temporary emergency confinement, be referred to the Ways and Means Committee with power to act.

IN RE: MICROFILMING COUNTY RECORDS

To the Oakland County Board of Supervisors

Mr. Chairman, Ladies and Gentlemen:

The Board of Auditors, with the cooperation and assistance of the Ways and Means Committee, has just completed an extensive study of a proposal that the probate Court and County Clerk's records be microfilmed. Consideration has been given to all the various phases of this program including the legal basis for destruction of Probate and other County records. Your Committee has found that it will be necessary to have a test case in Court to interpret certain sections of the law.

Your Committee finds that it will serve the best interests of the County if such a program is started as soon as possible.

It is estimated that the sum of $15,000 will be needed to obtain equipment and supplies and that the services of a Clerk I will be required.

NOW THEREFORE, Mr. Chairman, I move that the sum of $15,000 be transferred from the 1958 Contingent Fund and credited to the "Microfilm Fund" which is hereby set up to be established under the direction and control of the Board of Auditors, providing the Court approves the procedure;

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that, if this program is put into effect after Court approval, the cost of a Clerk I employe whose services will be required, be paid from the unexpended balance in the 1957 Salaries Reserve Fund.

Mr. Chairman, on behalf of the Ways and Means Committee, I move the adoption of the foregoing resolution.

Mr. Chairman, Ladies and Gentlemen:

WHEREAS Miscellaneous Resolution No. 3323, adopted by the Board on December 23, 1957, authorizes the advance of $20,000 to the Department of Public Works on a loan basis to be used to study and plan the development of a master sewage system for the Clinton River Basin, and

WHEREAS your committee has considered this matter and finds that it would be in the best interests of the County that each of the local units of government included in the Clinton River Basin first indicate, by resolutions adopted by their respective governing bodies, that they will advance funds for such planning;

NOW THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that the Ways and Means Committee be authorized to withhold its approval of the advancement of such funds until the required resolutions from the local units of government have been filed with the County.

IN RE: APPROPRIATION FOR COUNTY LOCAL ROADS

To the Honorable Board of Supervisors

Mr. Chairman, Ladies and Gentlemen:

When the 1958 budget was adopted on September 24, 1957, the sum of $50,000 designated for county roads was deleted and placed in the Contingent Fund. This action was taken by the Board on the advice of the Corporation Counsel who ruled that the County Road Commission must itemize the road upon which money from the General Fund are to be expended, and such funds must come from non-tax sources.

Since that time, the Board of County Road Commissioners have submitted to your Ways and Means Committee a schedule of proposed projects for 1958 on local roads. A copy of such schedule is attached and marked "Exhibit A." The total estimate of cost on the various projects exceeds $50,000.

WHEREFORE, Mr. Chairman, on behalf of the Ways and Means Committee, I move that the sum of $50,000 be appropriated from the non-tax 1957 surplus to pay for the County local road projects as set forth in the schedule as submitted by the Board of County Road Commissioners and/or such other emergency road repairs and maintenance on local roads which may arise and become in the opinion of the Board of County Road Commissioners, more pressing than those listed on the attached schedule.

Mr. Chairman, on behalf of the Ways and Means Committee, I move the adoption of the foregoing resolution.

IN RE: LEGISLATION FOR COUNTY CLERK'S FEES

To the Oakland County Board of Supervisors

Mr. Chairman, Ladies and Gentlemen:

Your Ways and Means Committee has been studying the need to increase fees now charged for services rendered by the County Clerk's Office. There has been an increase in cost of operation of this office in the last ten years without corresponding increases in income. Your Committee therefore recommends that in addition to the fees already recommended by the Legislative Committee and approved by this Board on December 23, 1957, that the following be recommended to members of the Oakland County delegation in the State Legislature:

Type of License	1948 Compiled Laws	Present Fee	Proposed Fee
Marriage License	Sec. 551.103	$2.00	$5.00
Concealed Weapons Permit	Sec. 28.426	2.00	3.00

Decree Fee	Sec. 646.6	3.00	6.00
Jury Fee	Sec. 618.22	3.00	6.00

NOW THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that this Board go on record as approving the increase in the fees as above set forth and that certified copies of this resolution be forwarded to each of the members of the Oakland County delegation in the Senate and House of Representatives at Lansing.

IN RE: NATIONAL SANITATION FOUNDATION WATER, SEWERAGE AND DRAINAGE STUDY

To the Oakland County Board of Supervisors

Mr. Chairman, Ladies and Gentlemen:

For the purpose of endorsing the action of the Supervisors Inter-County Committee I hereby propose the following resolution:

WHEREAS the National Sanitation Foundation at the request of the Supervisors Inter-County Committee, has undertaken to conduct a most comprehensive water, sewerage and drainage study of our metropolitan region and has done much work on both phases of the project, and

WHEREAS the National Sanitation Foundation has heretofore presented to the Supervisors Inter-County Committee a most scholarly and expert report and analysis of the water supply portion of the project which, through adoption, reference and use has become the "Bible" to officials throughout the area and a reference work throughout the country, and

WHEREAS although, like the Bible that report has been interpreted by some in the light of conflicting viewpoints, the report stands as the only basic source of information and trustworthy opinion for the guidance of the officials of the six-county area, and

WHEREAS the National Sanitation Foundation has questioned the advisability and practicability of continuing with the sewerage and drainage portion of the survey without unequivocal assurances from officials representing the area that completion of the survey is considered by them to be of the utmost importance to the present and future welfare of the area and that they pledge the utmost in cooperation and assistance in the completion of the work to be done, and

WHEREAS the Supervisors Inter-County Committee wishes to express to the National Sanitation Foundation its appreciation of and for the report of the water portion of the survey, its dismay at the suggestion that the sewerage and drainage portion of the survey remain uncompleted, and its assurances that the Supervisors Inter-County Committee pledges the utmost in cooperation and assistance in completion of the work to be done.

NOW THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that the Supervisors Inter-County Committee hereby acknowledges the tremendous value to the entire area of the water supply report submitted by the National Sanitation Foundation on March 28, 1957, recognizing the thoroughness of its preparation and the eminence of the qualifications of the authorities whose opinions it contains, and noting its widespread use by the officials of the six-county area as the only available comprehensive guide in decision making, and be it further

RESOLVED that the Supervisors Inter-County Committee is aware of the vital need for a similar work in the field of sewerage and drainage without which the six-county area will flounder in a patchwork of uncoordinated and inefficient plans and purposes, and be it further

RESOLVED that the Supervisors Inter-County Committee earnestly importunes the National Sanitation Foundation to continue its work on the sewerage and drainage portion of the survey and pledges its wholehearted support toward that end with assurances of every measure of cooperation and assistance, and be it further

RESOLVED that the Executive Committee or a Committee of the Executive Committee should meet with the Board of Trustees of the National Sanitation Foundation to see a better understanding and agreement upon the urgent need for completion of the survey, and further

THAT this Resolution be submitted to the six member county Board of Supervisors with a recommendation that it be adopted by each and a record thereof be conveyed to the members of the Board of Trustees of the National Sanitation Foundation;"

NOW THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that the Oakland County Board of Supervisors endorse the foregoing resolution of the Supervisors Inter-County Committee and pledge the fullest cooperation of Oakland County in this endeavor.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that certified copies of this resolution be forwarded to the Supervisors Inter-County Committee and the National Sanitation Foundation.

IN RE: ROYAL OAK REQUEST FOR SPECIAL ELECTION — COUNTY BUILDING — COUNTY SEAT

To the Oakland County Board of Supervisors

Mr. Chairman, Ladies and Gentlemen:

At the last meeting of the Board, a resolution of the Commission of the City of Royal Oak, adopted on November 4, 1957, requesting the Board of Supervisors to call a Special Election to submit to the electorate of the County, two propositions, was referred to your Special County Building Committee.

The two propositions are as follows:

PROPOSITION I

Shall the seat of County government in and for Oakland County, Michigan, be relocated in the City of Royal Oak, Oakland County, Michigan?

PROPOSITION II

Shall all of the funds of Oakland County that the said County has been enjoined from using for the construction of a county building, and which funds are presently deposited in a "Building Fund," be used for the construction of a county building and the acquisition of a site therefor at the County seat?

Your Committee has carefully considered the request of the City of Royal Oak and recommends that the request should be held in abeyance until the appeal now pending in the State Supreme Court from Judge Dehnke's ruling against the County in the Taxpayers suit is decided.

THEREFORE, Mr. Chairman, on behalf of the Special County Building Committee, I move the resolution of the City of Royal Oak be laid on the table until the appeal to the Supreme Court is decided.

'Big Record' Permits Singer to Display Her Versatility

By DICK KLEINER

NEW YORK (NEA) — Wednesday nights used to belong to Arthur Godfrey. But he gave up that time and the choice spot now belongs to a little girl from Claremore, Okla.

For Patti Page, taking over Arthur Godfrey's time (CBS-TV, Wednesday, 8 p. m.) marks the end of a long road. And it was a road that began with parental opposition — or, at least, a parental cold shoulder.

You get the feeling, talking to Patti, that she's hoping that now, finally, perhaps her mother will be proud of her.

Her father came around some years ago, when a picture of Patti appeared in the Katy Railroad newspaper. He was a long-time railroader with the Katy, so the picture pleased him — especially the caption, which read: "Miss Patti Page, daughter of B. A. Fowler of the Midland Railroad."

But so far Mrs. Fowler, while not antagonistic, has not been overly effusive with her praise.

SON COMES FIRST

A few years ago, Morton Downey had a program called "Star of the Family." The idea was that relatives of stars would get on and be introduced and then, in turn, introduce "the star of their family."

Mrs. Fowler was one of these guests. Downey introduced her and then asked the stock question.

"And now, Mrs. Fowler, tell me who is the star of your family?"

"My son. He's with our forces in Korea."

So Mrs. Fowler then mentioned the secondary fact that her daughter was Patti Page, the singer.

ONE OF THE BUNCH

It's been that way since she started evincing an interest in singing and show business as a way of life. Before that, of course, pretty little Clara Ann Fowler was just one of the bunch — she has seven sisters and three brothers.

She got another name when she began singing over a Tulsa radio station. She stepped into a program, sponsored by a local dairy, which always used the same name for its pretty girl star.

They called the show "Meet Patti Page," and they ran through several Patti Pages before they hired Clara Ann Fowler.

They haven't had a Patti Page since. She became so popular that they were forced to retire the name — like the New York Yankees retired Babe Ruth's number — after she left.

Wilson Is Lambasted From All Directions

BY EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—Boo-hoo! We columnists have our bad days, too, and mine began with this memo: "Tallulah Bankhead demands you call her right away. She is VERY, VERY ANGRY!"

"It's because you wrote that she stripteases to give her guests a hint to go home," said my glamorous assistants, Renee and Rona.

WILSON

So I phoned Tallu. "This is Harold Minsky," I said.

"Earl, darling, what do you mean?" she blared out. "If I want to clear people out, I read them your column. Baby, the trouble with columnists is, you believe what you write!" She was laughing. " 'Bye, darling. Say hello to the B. W."

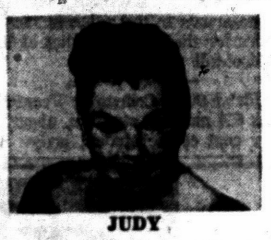
"Why are you scaring people about my health? I've had calls even from Hollywood." I wrote that you had round-the-clock nurses and a lung specialist," I said. "Wasn't it true?"



JUDY

"Yes, but ——." Suddenly we both exploded. I got rude. Judy hung up. I felt real bad. You can't stay mad at Judy. I phoned an apology.

"Oh, I'm sorry, too," Judy said. We fell on each other's necks on the phone. "I had night nurses because I hate being alone," she said.

The lung doctor was her husband Sid Luft's uncle. Feeling rested, she and Sid were leaving for Hollywood. They return soon to live here. Sid's doing a B'day show. "He doesn't want me in it," she laughed.

teen-age ACNE
(VULGARIS)

Acne can ruin life for the teen-ager. Young people with acne often develop an inferiority complex. And sympathetic parents become emotionally involved. Teen-age acne usually ends with maturity, but ugly pockmarks can be an embarrassment through life.

Now, doctors report "excellent results"—"dramatic improvement"—in as high as 88% of acne cases with a combination of large amounts of vitamin A, vitamin C, and citrus bioflavonoids from oranges.

CLYR Tablets, a dietary food supplement, contain vitamins A and C—with citrus bioflavonoids—the same nutrients recommended by those doctors who have used them so successfully in correcting juvenile acne. Teen-agers (and their parents) can be thankful for this new discovery.

Start working on that unattractive complexion today. Ask for CLYR Tablets. One month's supply—$7.50.

Egypt Agrees on Suez Pact

Will Pay Shareholders of Old Canal Company $82 Million

CAIRO (AP) — Removal of a major barrier to good Western relations with Egyp t — the Suez Canal compensation issue — while President Nasser is visiting the Soviet Union was viewed by diplomatic observers today as highly significant.

signed an agreement yesterday to pay shareholders of the old Suez Canal Co. 82 million dollars compensation for Nasser's nationalization of the waterway in 1956.

The shareholders also will keep 167 million dollars in company assets outside Egypt, for a total of 249 million. The value of all company shares on the Paris exchange just before nationalization was about 200 million.

The 49 million extra compensates the company for the revenue it would have gotten in the 12 years its concessions had to run.

The Cairo press predicted that economic talks with Britain and France will be resumed soon to clear up compensation for property Egypt seized when the two countries invaded Suez in 1956. That would lead to resumption of diplomatic relations with Britain and France broken at the time of the Suez invasion.

The United States is reported planning to release 30 million dollars worth of Egyptian assets frozen since the invasion in a cautious campaign for friendlier U.S. relations with Egypt.

The Suez agreement provided that the company could keep, as the first installment on the 82 million dollars, about 15 million in canal transit fees held in Europe. Beginning Jan. 1 Egypt will pay five annual installments of about 11½ million and the balance in 1964.

No Beaches in Church, Pastor Informs Women

YONKERS, N.Y. (AP) — Women have been admonished not to wear beach clothes to the Roman Catholic monastery Church of the Sacred Heart.

The parish bulletin said in part: "Some women and girls last summer were coming to church in slacks, jeans and even shorts.

"Remember, the church is God's house. There is no beach up front, so do not enter church in beach clothes."

Checks Still Rare Among Mexican Middle Class

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Checking accounts are on the increase in Mexico, but they're still comparatively rare among the middle class.

Stores still handle checks with caution. In major stores, when you buy something and want to pay by check, you have to go to the main office, get cash for it, return and hand the hard money to the clerk.

And you just don't go to your bank teller and cash a check either. You have to go to two windows. The first gives you a receipt telling you where to go next. You stand in line at the next window, and when your check shows up, you hand in your receipt and get the cash.

Furthermore, the bank holds on to those cashed checks. You don't get them back at the end of the month. You get instead a statement listing them by number and amount. If you get into an argument with a store over a payment and need the check for proof, you have to go to the bank, sign forms, wait, and they'll dig into their vaults and produce it—for a quick look.

Bronx Student Beats Woman on Traffic Duty

NEW YORK (AP)—A 16-year-old girl, admonished for starting across a street against a traffic light, beat a woman school crossing guard yesterday in the Bronx, police said.

Arrested on a charge of assault was Carmen Toledo, of the Bronx, a ninth-grade junior high school student. After a mental examination at Bellevue Hospital, a city magistrate paroled her in the custody of her father, pending a hearing.

Magistrate Richard Daly scolded the girl. She said the crossing guard, Mrs. Frances Nemetz, 35, had been rude to her.

Mrs. Nemetz, who suffered cuts and bruises, flagged a police squad car and the girl was taken to a station house, where she became hysterical.

Titan ICBMs Built, Set Up Near Denver

DENVER (AP) — Several Titan ICBMs — their exact number a closely guarded military secret—already have been built and set up in a new vertical test facility near here.

Largest and most promising of the Air Force ballistic missiles, the two-stage, 6,300-mile-range Titan is to have its first test flight at Cape Canaveral, Fla., later this year. The missile also has been proposed, with added stages, for flights to and around the moon.

A close-up exterior view of the 13-story test building was permitted yesterday. The 400 military and civilia n scientists, who concluded a three-day space symposium in Denver, visited the Martin Co. Titan plant at nearby Littleton.

The Air Force had the first Titan standing erect in the building six weeks ago, ready for a public showing. The Defense Department, deciding on strict secrecy, canceled the show.

The visitors also inspected four huge stands in the adjacent mountains for the ground testing of the 90-foot-tall missiles.

Idaho State College in Pocatello has 654 married students, about 32 per cent of the student body.

Violence Dogs Trail of Rescue Party

NAMED — John S. Cross, 53, a Democrat, was nominated by President Eisenhower to succeed Richard A. Mack as a member of the Federal Communications Commission.

When the child's body at last was being hoisted from the 94-foot well into which she had fallen, rescue worker Bill Yancey spoke the final words of the grueling, 49-hour underground fight: "Easy, men; keep it coming up gently."

Yancey died yesterday, much in the same manner — underground, and barely a mile from the Fiscus tragedy. Three others associated with Kathy's accident have died violently.

Yancey, 47-year-old contractor, went into an eight-foot sewer ditch with the same disregard for danger that he displayed when he toiled two days below ground trying to save Kathy. A man had been sent for timbers to shore the ditch, but Yancey didn't wait.

"He said he'd be all right and jumped down," related coworker Ted Slade. "I started to move some equipment . . . and when I looked around the earth had caved in and Bill was buried."

When the shaft was completed Yancey was the first man down. He dug by hand in the tunnel across to the old well pipe. He and a doctor found Kathy dead. And Yancey was the last man out. He got a hero's medal.

Tragedy has followed other Fiscus rescue workers. One was hurt in an auto explosion the same year. Another died in a 1949 construction accident. The wife of a third was murdered, in 1953.

And, in 1952, the wife of the rescue's director, Mrs. Raymond Hill, was killed in a traffic accident — just one block from the spot where Yancey died.

Explains Church's Poverty in Asia and Africa

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The Rev. Dr. Alford Carleton told the Congregational Christian Conference of Missouri last night that the Christian church in Asia and Africa has "been operatingat a level of poverty not worthy of us."

Dr. Carleton recently returned from a tour of Asia and Africa.

The Congregational Christian churches plan to raise 7½ million dollars in the next two years for higher education overseas and in this country.
