Saud Leaves, Praises Agreement

Ike and King Reach Accord on Airbase, Aid

Ruler Flies to Azores as Nixon Says Goodby at Capital Airport

WASHINGTON (AP)—King Saud of Saudia Arabia left Washington today with words of praise for the air-base-for-aid agreement he reached with President Eisenhower during a state visit here.

Vice President Nixon was on hand to say goodby at departure ceremonies held in a steady rain at Washington National Airport.

Nixon apologized for the rainy weather and voiced a hope that it "doesn't leave a bad impression on your majesty."

Saud, smiling broadly, said through an interpreter that it was of no consequence, that the thing he remembers is "the warmth of the heart."

An Army honor guard stood at attention as a 21-gun farewell salute boomed out. The Army band struck up Saudi Arabia's national anthem and, as Nixon and the King inspected the guard, the band played the English air "Green Sleeves."

FLY TO AZORES

Saud and his party took off at 8:20 a.m. in Eisenhower's plane for a flight to the Azores. There a Spanish plane will pick up the royal party and take them to Spain for a four-day visit.

With Saud went Victor R. Purse, 38-year-old deputy chief of protocol for the State Department.

Purse, who has been guiding the King on his American visit, is going back as Saud's personal guest for a visit of several days in Saudi Arabia.

Late yesterday the President and Saud announced agreement on continuing United States use of the Dhahran Air Field for five more years, and U. S. military and economic aid in exchange.

A 600-word communique said the two heads of state fully agreed on:

1. Saudi Arabia's "vital importance in the Middle East" and the necessity for strengthening it for world peace.

2. A pledge of efforts to settle Middle East problems within the United Nations charter and with "firm opposition to the use of force from any source."

3. Any aggression against the political independence or territory of the Middle East nations "should be opposed in accordance with the purposes and principles of the United Nations."

CLOSE COOPERATION

4. A promise "to continue close co-operation."

Saud "received with satisfaction" Eisenhower's explanation of his Middle East proposal and assured Eisenhower "he welcomed every step that promotes' independence.

5. Saud was assured the United States wants to strengthen Saudi Arabia's armed forces, and plans are being made to provide military equipment, services and training.

Saud assured Eisenhower he intends that the United States continue using the Dhahran airfield, within 1,000 miles of Russia, for another five years.

6. Eisenhower will consider providing "economic facilities that would serve to augment the combined aims and interests of the two countries."

Duke's Trip Planned in 1955

Sources Deny Royal Rift

LONDON (INS) — There was basis for speculation today that the Duke of Edinburgh's extended absence from London—if there was any design to it—was arranged under the old English proverb that "absence makes the heart grow fonder."

Sources close to Queen Elizabeth insisted that it was "very far-fetched" to say the Duke had been kept away for four months because of any break between the royal couple.

As recently as last September, one of the Queen's close companions told a newsman that Elizabeth and Philip remained "very much in love."

One thing for certain: The Duke's trip as originally planned had no bearing on the current crop of rumors.

His trip to Australia to open the Olympic games was arranged two years ago, and palace sources said the plan that he take this opportunity for an extended tour grew from this.

Certain knowledgeable sources, without shedding any new light on reliable reports that the Queen was "furious" about purported "goings on" around Buckingham Palace, threw down the idea that there was a "rift" between the young Queen and her dashing husband.

The official Buckingham Palace spokesman, commander Richard Colville, on Friday branded this report "quite untrue."

The Queen showed no evidence that she was aware of the rumors when she attended the races Friday afternoon, smiling and ostensibly happy. She was accompanied to Hurst Park track by Queen Mother Elizabeth and Princess Margaret. The royal visit in threatening weather surprised the crowd, especially since two horses entered by the queen mother had been scratched.

RUMOR SPREAD

The reports of the Queen's anger and hints of strained relations between her and Philip, who is currently in Gibraltar, spread after the resignation of one of the duke's companions-in-relaxation, his private secretary and wartime destroyer shipmate Lt. Cmdr. Michael Parker. Parker gave up his palace job when his wife announced last week that she had left him.

Play It Safe: Give Up

Fog, Rain, Drizzle Again

The weather man has thrown another damper on the weather subject, predicting fog with rain changing to drizzle tonight, low 35 to 37 degrees.

In Detroit this morning reports were issued of heavy fog halting airline operations and Greyhound bus service. Several minor traffic accidents were caused by the fog, and Willow Run Airport shut down operations shortly before midnight. Ceiling and visibility at the airport were reported at zero.

Occasional rain or drizzle is forecast for tomorrow, high near 45.

Downtown Pontiac's lowest temperature preceding 8 a.m. this morning was 34. At 2 p.m. the mercury read 41.

Study $60,000 Relief Plan

Drain Problems Argued at East Walton Heights

Questions were hurled at the developer of the East Walton Heights Subdivision in Pontiac Township Friday night, as homeowners argued out a proposed $60,000 drain project.

A number of persons lashed out against L. A. Wagner, the developer, and against the Oakland County Health Dept., in reciting troubles they were having with their septic tanks. Several residents told graphic stories of their sanitary problems:

One said his toilet had not worked for a three-month period.

Women got up to say they were limited to one washing a week because the tanks would not empty any faster.

A man said that sewage from his neighbor's tank was surfacing and flowing down into his backyard.

The unhappy residents also cited flood conditions during last spring and after every rainfall. The Rev. Gordon Lindsay, president of the East Walton Heights Improvement Assn. today told the Press that the development's streets are all under water from last night's rain.

The septic tank trouble, in most cases, stems from the swampy condition of the soil under and around the subdivision. The saturated soil will not absorb effluent from the tanks, according to residents.

SAYS TEAMSTERS' HEAD — In London, Teamsters Union President Dave Beck, denying he is in Europe to avoid a Senate probe of union racketeering, said: "I have nothing to hide. I shall return to the U. Staff at the West End Hotel where Beck was booked to stay said today he wasn't accepting telephone calls, and later insisted he wasn't registered there.

Area Delegates Split on Choice for GOP Head

Lindemer and Reynolds Loom as Contenders for Feikens Post

By PETE LOCHBILER
Pontiac Press Staff Writer

J. Addington Wagner, one of the chief contenders for chairman of the Republican State Central Committee, today announced his withdrawal as a candidate for the post.

DETROIT — Oakland County's delegation to the Republican State Convention is expected to split on the two top candidates for party chairman who emerged as top contenders in the corridors and caucus rooms of Detroit's Hotel Statler last night.

Lawrence B. Lindemer, 34-year-old Lansing attorney, who impressed the delegation at its county convention two weeks ago, took a slight lead in today's pre-selection maneuvering.

Support appeared to be increasing in other delegations this morning for Verny Reynolds of Allegan, a retired auto dealer.

Reynolds' cause might be aided by the possible withdrawal in his favor by J. Addington Wagner of Battle Creek, a strong contender, and A. Matt Buider, Genesee County chairman.

Support of either Lindemer or Reynolds by the Oakland County delegation—whose 141 members make it the largest at the convention—could swing the election either way, observers believe.

The local delegation was split over a choice between Lindemer and Wagner this morning. Wagner is immediate past national commander of the American Legion.

Chad M. Ritchie, Oakland County chairman, told the delegates "The field is wide open and vote as you please."

Creation of a legislative liaison committee to work with the Republican Legislative Policy Committee was announcd today by John Feikens, state chairman.

Richard C. Van Dusen of Birmingham, former state representative and Republican nominee for attorney general last fall, was named to head the committee.

Last night, in the hotel ballroom, Ritchie led young Oakland County Republicans to a surprise victory

She Knows Her Words

JUDY KNUDSEN

Try 'em Yourself

14 'Little Foolers'

On the ancient and tenable theory that all work and no play make Jill a dull girl, Miss Elizabeth Bennett of Kingswood School Cranbrook just gave her seniors a tricky list of 14 words in an impromptu and wholly unrehearsed spelling test.

The words are in every day use but they weren't designed for every day spellers. Naturally, they had to be "little foolers"—and they are. The list will be appended for your own mystification and consternation.

The winner and champion was Miss Judy Knudsen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Knudsen. Judy's pappy is the General Manager of Pontiac Motor Division and he's entitled to burst a couple of buttons right off the top of his vest today. Judy spelled nine correctly. Several girls tied for the runner-up spot with eight.

Miss Judy is a grand, all around young lady who is on the Merit Role and who serves as editor of the Kingswood annual, The Woodwinds. (She spells better than most editors we know.)

Assemble the members of your own family and spring this list without warning. You'll be surprised at the results. But don't let it get you down. These words were selected by someone with a mean streak who gloried in group deflation.

Here are the words: inoculate, desiccate, embarrass, picnicking, harass, supersede, separate, vilify, rarefy, stupefy, innuendo, ecstasy, tonsillitis and peddler.

U. S. Reds Facing Split at New York Convention

NEW YORK (AP)—American Communists, split on future policy, gathered here today for their first national convention in seven years.

The fight is between old line Reds, who would hold fast to the Moscow doctrine, and revisionists favoring a more independent course they call "an American road to socialism."

The four-day session was to open with a keynote speech by Eugene Dennis, the party's general secretary, and an address by William Z. Foster, 76-year-old national chairman of the party.

Three hundred delegates chosen on a regional basis are representing a party membership estimated by the Communists at 25,000.

The convention, 16th in the party's history, is being held in a lower east side hall.

It was rented only after more than 60 other halls and hotels had refused to house the convention.

LEADERS JAILED

One reason the party has held no convention since 1950 is that may of its leaders were in prison during the interim on charges of teaching and advocating forcible overthrow of the United States Government.

The party is described now by its national committee as having arrived "at its most critical juncture of its history"—the question of whether to continue its old course or to veer away from the Kremlin line.

Foster leads the faction that would stand fast.

Conclusion Vital in Court Action Against Taylor

Ballistics Examination to Figure Prominently in Gun-Wielder's Case

A .22 rifle and slug were sent to State Police scientific laboratories in East Lansing today for ballistic tests in the pre-trial investigation of Oakland County's confessed phantom sniper, 20-year-old Gary A. Taylor of Southfield Township.

Oakland County Prosecutor Frederick C. Ziem said the outcome of the tests would be "extremely valuable" in determining whether Taylor would be charged with assault with intent to commit murder.

Ziem said the slug, 22-100ths of an inch wide and weighing 29 grains, was in excellent condition for ballistics tests which could prove it was fired by Taylor's .22 caliber rifle found in his car Thursday night when he was arrested.

The prosecutor said it was doubtful that any of Taylor's victims could identify him as their assailant, and his confession could be repudiated.

Taylor, who lived with his parents at 16192 Marguerite, Royal Oak, surrendered to Royal Oak police Thursday night after an alleged three-hour rampage through Bloomfield Hills, Birmingham and Southfield Township. Taylor later admitted 10 snipings which wounded two persons.

One was Shirley Eland, of 200 Hickory Grove Rd., Bloomfield Hills. The slug, which narrowly missed Miss Eland's spine, was recovered and turned over to police.

"In all probability," Ziem said, "that is the case we will go on."

CALLED 'MAD SNIPER'

Taylor was tagged "The Mad Sniper" after he reportedly terrorized the Royal Oak community in a pre-Christmas spree which resulted in the wounding of his first victim, 14-year-old Cindy Estes of Royal Oak.

Police have disclosed that Taylor was tried in St. Petersburg, Fla., in 1955 as the "phantom bus stop marauder" who allegedly attacked 17 women. He was acquitted, however, despite the testimony of six women who identified him as their assailant.

Ziem said the youth remained in the custody of the Royal Oak police. He added he didn't expect formal charges to be sought before Monday.

In a three-hour session in Assistant Prosecuting Attorney William E. Lang's office yesterday, Ziem met with Royal Oak, Birmingham, Bloomfield Hills, and State Police officers to map preliminary investigation.

Preceding the meeting, an afternoon search in the vicinity of 16 Mile road between Woodward and Ryan, failed to turn up another .22 rifle which Taylor admitted using then dismantling, and dumping it after the December attacks.

GET SECOND RIFLE

Police confiscated a second rifle Thursday night which Taylor purchased Wednesday in Pontiac.

Taylor told Lang he once had a dream of shooting a woman skier, so he purchased a high-powered rifle and headed into northern Oakland County.

"When I got the deer rifle I planned to shoot the women and girls down from a distant hill. I bought a telescope for the gun and had the sights zeroed in. Lots of times I went out and practiced shooting at trees."

Ziem said Taylor's attorney, Gilbert H. Davis, had indicated he would seek a psychiatric examination.

The prosecutor stated that Taylor denied attacking a teenage girl in December after locking her companion in the trunk of his car.

What's Top Food in Frigid Antarctica? -- Ice Cream!

LITTLE AMERICA V, Antarctica (AP) — The meals are hearty in this village dug out of snow and ice. And no matter how cold the weather the favorite dish is ice cream.

That's the experience of the men who run the "Little America restaurant and coffee shoppe," a boxlike aluminum building that serves as the mess hall for the scientists and sailors readying this U. S. base for the International Geophysical Year (IGY).

Second to ice cream in popularity is canned chocolate milk — served ice cold.

Then come pastries, says Commissaryman 1.C. Richard Banasiak of Ballston, N. Y., the chief cook. Right now Banasiak and his two helpers serve four meals a day to more than 100 men.

The number will drop to about 50 soon, when what Banasiak calls the "summer tourists" leave.

Those staying behind will man the base to make scientific observations during the sunless Antarctic winter.

Mechanic 1.C. Henry Deeks of Islington, Mass., who is in charge of the mess hall, says the men can have almost anything they want to eat that can be preserved by cold storage.

Steak is on the menu three times a week and even "gets monotonous," Deek says.

What the men miss most are fresh vegetables, fresh milk and fresh eggs.

The food supply is stacked in the snow behind the kitchen. It takes the cooks two days to thaw out an item for cooking.

Waterford OKs School Bond Bid

Board Approval to Detroit Firm

Takes $2½ Million Issue at 3.8 Per Cent Rate to Run From '59 to '82

The Waterford Township Board of Education has accepted a rate of interest bid of 3.8 from the Braun, Bosworth Co. of Detroit on a $2½-million school bond issue.

The bid was part of a $3½-million bond issue, approved by voters at last February's election, for the building of schools and additions in the township.

The issue will run from 1959 to 1982. The interest rate compares with 3.97 on a $1 million school bond issue obtained last year.

The board also received bids on two new elementary school buildings, which have been referred to an architect for recommendations to be presented at a special meeting, Feb. 14.

Two separate bids were submitted by contractors for the school buildings. One bid referred to each building individually, and the other bid included construction of both schools.

According to William Schunck, Waterford Township superintendent, the bids were within the Board of Education's budgetary estimate of $627,500 for two buildings plus the equipment for the two 14-room units.

CHOOSE SCHOOL NAMES

The school board also selected names for the four proposed elementary schools.

The schools soon to be under construction will be named, as follows: one on Maceday drive, will be known as the "Henry R. Schoolcraft School," and the Elizabeth Lake school will be the "William Beaumont Elementary School."

The new Thomas S. Cooley School will be located in an area north of Watkins Lake, and the other building will be the Laura Smith Haviland School, to be constructed near the west end of Elizabeth Lake.

The names selected by board members follows the policy set by the Board of Education to name school buildings after prominent people in early Michigan history, Schunck said.

The next regular board meeting has been changed from February 21st to February 28.

PLANNED FOR BLOOMFIELD HILLS — A group of Detroit area businessmen are opening a campaign to raise $2,500,000 for building this proposed new convent near Charing Way and Squirrel road in Bloomfield Hills. Artist's conception of the new school for the Society of the Sacred Heart is pictured.

Slate '58 Date for New School

$2½ Million Sacred Heart Convent to Go Up in Bloomfield

BLOOMFIELD HILLS — The new $2,500,000 convent for the Society of the Sacred Heart should be open to students from Detroit and suburban areas in September, 1958, according to Don E. Ahrens, general chairman of the committee in charge of raising funds for the new school.

The new convent will be located near Charing Way and Squirrel road in Bloomfield Hills.

Ahrens pointed out that the fund-raising campaign now underway will be given further emphasis next Sunday afternoon (Feb. 17) when parents of Sacred Heart Convent students and members of the convent Alumnae Assn. meet at 2:30 p.m. in the society's present school at 11515 Woodrow Wilson.

"The opening date for the new convent depend upon how the fund-raising campaign progresses," Ahrens said. "We are confident, however, that the need for new educational facilities in our community will be recognized by those persons solicited in the present drive and that our goal of a September, 1958, opening will be realized."

Cochairman with Ahrens on the committee is Atty. Peter J. Monaghan. Other cochairmen include Mrs. Gerard Slattery and William J. Ulrich of the Evaluation and Assessment committee, Mrs. Harrey E. Seitz of the Parents' Solicitations committee and Miss Dorothy Loveley of the Alumnae Assn. solicitation committee.

Grosse Pointe Rector, Worship Hour Speaker

Dr. Sidney E. Sweet of Christ Episcopal Church, Grosse Pointe will speak at the 7:30 worship hour for Inter-Church Fellowship Sunday evening.

A graduate of Yale in 1905 and the Episcopal Theological School, Cambridge, Mass. in 1908, he was ordained deacon of the Protestant Episcopal Church in 1908 and became a priest in 1909. He is also a graduate of Illinois College.

Dr. Sweet came to Grosse Pointe from St. Louis, Mo. where he had been dean of Christ Church Cathedral for 25 years. In January 1956, he was awarded the citation by the Metropolitan Church Foundation of St. Louis as "Ecumenical Man of the Year."

He has served as chairman of the Disputes Division of the National War Labor Board Region 7 and as arbitrator in labor disputes in St. Louis and other cities.

Inter-Church Fellowship will begin as usual at 5:45 p.m. with an old fashion Hymn Sing led by George Putnam.

At 6 p.m., Dr. John L. Cheek of Albion College will give the Bible Exposition, speaking on "The Church With the Living Christ."

A fellowship hour will follow at 6:45 with the women of Central Methodist furnishing refreshments. Dr. Sweet will preach in the sanctuary promptly at 7:45.

This will be the last of the series of inter-Church Fellowship meetings sponsored by the following downtown churches, All Saints Episcopal, First Congregational, Lutheran Church of the Ascension, First Methodist, First Presbyterian and Central Methodist. The meetings have been held annually for 10 consecutive years.

Flint Woman Held in Shooting

Arrested in Killing of Married Man in Cabin at Sanford Lake

MIDLAND (AP) — A 32-year-old Flint woman was held for investigation of murder today in the fatal shooting of Elmer Korth, 35, of Otter Lake, last night at a resort cabin on nearby Sanford Lake.

Midland County Prosecutor James Rood said Mrs. Virginia Reagan (divorced) was held in the Bay County jail at Bay City. He said he would seek a first degree murder warrant against the woman today. He said Mrs. Reagan "didn't deny or admit" shooting Korth.

Sheriff Ira M. Smith said Mrs. Treva Jean Pearce, 24, of Ionia, gave this description of the shooting:

Korth and Erwin McArthur, both employes of the Midland branch plant of the Holland Furnace Co., had invited Mrs. Reagan and herself to the Sanford Lake cottage for a "weekend."

ARRIVED FRIDAY

The four arrived at the cottage early Friday night.

Around 10:30 p.m., another car appeared at the cottage.

A short time afterward, the wives of the two men and three children —Roderick McArthur, 11, and Allen McArthur, 15, and Charles Korth, 8—burst into the cottage, apparently planning to spend the weekend there themselves.

Mrs. Korth kicked out a window of the cabin, made threats and shouted, Mrs. Pearce said.

As Korth prepared to leave, Mrs. Pearce said, Mrs. Reagan pulled out a .25 caliber pistol from her purse and shot at Korth three times. One of the bullets hit him and he fell dead.

Mrs. Pearce said she and Mrs. Reagan then fled from the cottage and drove to nearby Sanford in a car.

She said they stopped at a tavern and called police. Then the two women waited until police arrived.

East Walton Heights Drain Problem Aired

Assn. to hear Gordon McDougall, who designed the drain for the Oakland County Drain Commission explain its details.

The Rev. Mr. Lindsay acted as chairman.

McDougall said the project would consist of a large open ditch running along the north line of the subdivision from Phillips road east past Squirrel road into a creek on the Wilson Estate recently given to Michigan State University.

Into this ditch would empty two French drains designed to pick up ground water in the East Walton Heights development. A French drain consists of galvanized or vitreous pipe filled with holes which is buried in a bed of gravel and porous sand so that ground water can enter it at any point).

COMMISSION 'NEUTRAL'

McDougall stressed that the Drain Commission was a "neutral" party.

The commission designed the drain because it had been petitioned to do so by some of the residents, he said.

He estimated the cost of the drain at $60,000 and said the cost to property owners would be about $257 for homeowners in the East Walton Heights Subdivision and about $208 per acre for others in the drainage district, including those in the Walton Heights Manor Subdivision. Assessments would be payable over five years.

The purpose of the drain, he said, was to carry off enough ground water to give septic tanks a chance to work and to prevent surface floods in the area.

100 JAM HALL

The crowd of more than 100 who packed the township hall appeared divided over the project.

Opponents raised three questions:

1. Would the drain cure all the septic tank troubles?

2. Wouldn't the open ditch create a health and safety problem?

3. Was it fair for adjacent acreage owners to pay assessments for a drain they neither wanted nor from which they would benefit?

McDougall replied that he could not guarantee that the drain would end septic tank troubles, as these might be caused by clay soil, broken tiles or undersized tanks.

To the second question he said he agreed the ditch could be a safety hazard to children and that the Drain Commission would be happy to substitute a closed pipe if the people wanted to pay a higher cost.

The Day in Birmingham

City Lawmakers, Troy Mull Mutual Problems

BIRMINGHAM — City commissioners from Birmingham and Troy held an informal session here Thursday evening to discuss mutual problems and their solutions.

Birmingham agreed with Troy plans for water and sewage services for the Meyrick properties on North Adams road, and with the contract between the two cities for water rights from the Walker well on East Maple road.

Troy's request for a water supply for the Kuhlman Electric Co. was approved by Birmingham, contingent with the signing of the city water agreement.

Troy officials said they would hasten the paving of Derby road from Adams road west to the railroad as much as possible. This heavily-traveled area is adjacent to Derby Junior High School.

Troy asked time for further consideration on the proposed widening of Adams road from Buckingham road north to the Grand Trunk viaduct.

The proposed zoning of the triangle bounded by Buckingham, Derby and the railroad, in the new Troy plan is for multiple use.

Multiple dwellings also are slated for the area immediately north of Maple and east of Coolidge. Birmingham indicated that their preference would be for single residences, and offered to try to work out a plan, including the Walker gravel pit area, which would make the latter possible.

Troy, on the last item of the informal agenda, was definitely cool to the proposed annexation of the B & W Controller property at 2200 E. Maple.

"There were differences, of course," Robert Kenning, assistant city manager said Friday, "but I feel we have a much better understanding of each other than we had before. The meeting was very informal, just an opportunity for a group of men to get together and, without outside pressure, talk about the things that concern both municipalities. We know, and Troy knows, that it is to our mutual advantage in many things, to work together as closely as possible."

Birmingham's Junior Chamber of Commerce members are on the prowl, looking for their "Man of the Year," who will be honored at the annual dinner meeting Feb. 27.

The candidates must be under 36 years of age and have an outstanding record of community service, according to Ted McGee of 1989 Villa. McGee has applications to be distributed to potential title seekers.

Bosses of these active young businessmen will be guests at the dinner.

2 Fall Into Shaft on 21st Floor, Escape Injury

NEW YORK (AP) — Two elevator installers fell from the 21st floor of an unfinished apartment building and both lived to tell about it.

Donald McKeon, 23, and William Vessialiades, 35, were working on an elevator cable at the nearly completed apartments in Harlem when the cable suddenly whiplashed out of control.

Vessialiades was knocked into McKeon, who plunged into the shaft. An instant later Vessialiades toppled in, too.

McKeon managed to grab one of the fixed cables and swung himself to safety on the 17th floor. Vassialiades, frantically groping for cables already in place, wrapped his legs around one steel rope about midway and, just before hitting bottom, got his hands on a second cable. He then eased himself the rest of the way down.

GOP Delegation Split Over Party Post

REPLACE LEADER

Combining with Detroit's 14th District and Genesee County Oakland replaced the president of the past seven years, Herman F. Luhrs of Lathrup.

Rockwell T. Gust Jr., 32, of Grosse Pointe was elected overwhelmingly as president.

Oakland County Clerk Lynn D. Allen in turn was elected vice president. Luhrs surveying the meeting, packed by more than 50 newcomers, announced he would not ask reelection.

Members of the Oakland delegation named to the State Central Committee this morning include: Arthur G. Elliott of Pleasant Ridge; Harry W. Horton of Royal Oak; Elizabeth Finnegan of Birmingham; and Delphine I. Lamb of Oak Park.

The Oakland County delegation was predicting success for two area candidates, frequently mentioned last night. They are Louis H. Schimmel, of Pontiac, candidate for State Board of Agriculture; and Mrs. Ethel Watt, of Birmingham, for University of Michigan regent.

Mrs. Watt still was unapposed for one of two seats on the regents board. Schimmel's candidacy, announced Monday, gained momentum over three other prospects running for two seats on the agriculture board governing body of Michigan State University.

VanDusen last night said Schimmel was far and away in the best position.

London Denies Rift Between Queen Duke

Edinburgh are quite untrue and you can quote me on that."

The palace meanwhile announced the temporary appointment of RAF Squadron Leader Henry Moresby Chinnery as the duke's private secretary to replace Parker. Chinnery, 33, a jet pilot, is married and the father of two young daughters.

(Mrs. Eileen Parker, wife of the ex-secretary, proferred some advice to Mrs. Chinnery: "My advice to her is it would be better if she lived in London rather than in Buckinghamshire. Then she would be sure of seeing her husband fairly often.")

Persons close to Parker maintained stoutly that while he resigned last week after his wife announced they had separated, the Duke "will never let him down."

These friends pointed out that the rigid "palace code" enforced by Elizabeth required a break in the "official" relationship of Philip and Parker.

The sources who reported that Elizabeth was "furious" said they were not sure how much of the rumored palace "goings on" she was aware of, or believed.

These "goings on" it was said, involved an attractive London "party girl" who performed various unpaid, voluntary chores around staid old Buckingham Palace. There were also reports of private parties attended by Edinburgh in the nearby royal borough of Kensington.

POPULAR AS BACHELOR

The handsome Edinburgh, 35 and fun-loving, was one of London's most sought after men-about-town until his marriage to Elizabeth in 1947. He and Parker have been fast friends since their World War II days.

Parker, who was born in Australia, was appointed an equerry to the then Princess Elizabeth and Philip in 1949. He became the Duke's Private secretary in 1952.

Elizabeth is scheduled to join her husband on a state visit to Portugal on Feb. 18.

Oil Price Probe Gains Impetus

Grand Jury Launches Investigation of Possible Anti-Trust Violations

WASHINGTON (INS)—The Justice Department joined Congress today in a broad investigation to determine whether the oil industry took illegal advantage of the Middle East crisis to raise prices.

In Alexandria, Va., Federal Judge Albert V. Bryan late yesterday called a special grand jury into session March 4 for a full-scale inquiry into the industry's price-setting and distribution methods.

Officials said the grand jury will investigate possible violations of the Sherman and Clayton anti-trust acts.

Assistant U. S. Attorney Andrew Gingreco said the inquiry will also deal with possible price-fixing at the wholesale level. Seven attorneys will be assigned to assist the department's anti-trust division in handling the case before the grand jury.

COURT ACTION

The court action was the latest development in a series of moves designed to determine whether recent price increases were unwarranted.

Sens. O'Mahoney (D-Wyo) and Magnuson (D-Wash) said today they welcome the forthcoming federal grand jury investigation of recent increases in oil and gasoline prices.

"I am very glad the Justice Department is taking up the story," said O'Mahoney. "The increase in prices has not been satisfactorily explained."

Magnuson said in a separate interview the grand jury investigation would be "very helpful."

$1 Million for 'Red' Coal

Car Finish Dries Fast

CHICAGO — A newly developed paint is said to dry so quickly that an automobile-refinishing shop is able to apply two coats in immediate succession.

Police Charge Drunkeness

Dick Haymes Arrested

NORTH MIAMI (INS)—Crooner Dick Haymes denied charges he and a female companion gave out with an impromptu dance early yesterday for the benefit of North Miami police who arrested the pair on a drunk charge.

The couple was released on $25 bond by North Miami police and ordered to appear in court next Friday.

Haymes said he and a companion, Dorothy Tannenbaum, were returning to the home of a friend after dining at a restaurant in Hallandale, just north of Miami.

"I'm unfamiliar with the causeway, the bridges crossing Biscayne Bay to Miami Beach," Haymes said, "and I missed the one I wanted."

Haymes said he made a "U" turn in the borrowed Thunderbird and got stuck in some sewer pipes along the side of the road. "The road was unlighted," he added, and "I didn't see the pipes until the car became stuck."

He said he was hauled in after telling cops he did have several drinks of wine.

The singer, ex-husband of actress Rita Hayworth, said he was standing next to the road "trying to figure out what to do when the police arrived."

He said the car radio was playing but declared when asked if he was dancing with Miss Tannenbaum, "that nonsense."

Israel Adamant; Wants Pledge

UNITED NATIONS (AP) — The United States is reported putting out quiet feelers to learn whether President Nasser of Egypt would agree to make a conciliatory policy statement which might help in the effort to get Israeli troops out of Egypt.

Informed sources said Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. and other members of the U. S. delegation have been sounding out Egyptian diplomats on this possibility. A U.S. delegation source acknowledged Lodge had been in contact with the Egyptians over the past few days, but declined to disclose any details.

Those moves were reported as Arab delegates urged punitive measures against Israel because of her refusal to get out of the Sharm el Sheikh area of Egypt and the Gaza Strip.

Many western delegates believe a mild-toned, solution - seeking statement by Nasser at this crucial stage might persuade Israel to ease her adamant stand against withdrawal. The Americans reportedly have suggested to Egypt's delegation that such a move by Nasser would increase his stature and enhance Egypt's prestige in the west.

The informants said there has been no formal move to put this delicate proposition to Nasser, but that it was being touched on in the course of private talks with Egyptian representatives here. The Americans also are said to have been sounding out other Asian-African delegates on the feasibility of such a step.

Egypt's refusal to make any commitment or even suggest her future intentions regarding the Israelis, has been one of Israel's main arguing points. In refusing to withdraw their troops from Egypt or the Gaza Strip the Israelis have stood firm on one demand — assurance of nonbelligerence from Egypt.

Your Income Tax

This is one of a series of articles prepared by the U. S. Internal Revenue Service to help you prepare your Income Tax Return.

WIDOWS

Are you a widow or widower? Did your husband or wife die during 1954 or 1955? If so — and certain conditions are met — the tax may be computed as if a joint return had been filed. The conditions to be met are: (1) You must not have remarried.

(2) You must maintain your home as the principal place of abode for a child or stepchild for whom you are entitled to an exemption.

(3) You must have been entitled to file a joint return with the deceased spouse in the year of death. If the foregoing conditions are met, compute the income, exemptions, and deductions in the regular manner and take advantage of the tax rates for married people.

Pontiac Deaths

George A. Buchmann

George A. Buchmann, 70, of 1263 Dorchester Rd., died yesterday in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital. He was ill several years.

Born in Germany on March 29, 1886, he came to Pontiac seven years ago, and became a member of Grace Lutheran Church. He was employed as a tool and die maker in Detroit.

Surviving are his wife, Martha; a son, Rudolph of Pontiac; four grandchildren; a sister, Miss Erna Buchmann and a brother, Erwin, both of Germany.

Service will be at 1:30 p.m. Monday from the Sparks-Griffin Chapel with his pastor, the Rev. Richard C. Stuckmeyer, officiating. Burial will follow in Glen Eden Cemetery.

Clara Sophia Enlund

Clara Sophia Enlund, 59, 80 Home St. died early this morning in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital.

She was born in Little Falls, Minn., on Feb. 2, 1898, coming here in 1934. She had served the community as a practical nurse.

Two sisters and two brothers survive: Mrs. Ruth Olson of Pontiac, Mrs. Annie Nelson of Salem, Ore., Arthur Enlund of Brainerd, Minn. and Victor Enlund of Gervais, Ore.

Service will be at 3:30 p.m. Monday from the Sparks-Griffin Chapel with the Rev. Carl W. Nelson and the Rev. Fred Clark officiating. Miss Enlund's body will be taken to Little Falls for burial.

Leon Frederick Owen

Leon Frederick Owen of Holly, a former resident of Pontiac, died yesterday in University of Michigan Hospital, Ann Arbor.

Besides his wife, Gladys, he leaves a daughter, Mrs. Marian Smith of Irvington, Calif., and a grandson, David.

Service will be at 2:30 p.m. Wednesday from the Dryer Funeral Home, Holly. Dr. Warner R. Cole of the Covenant Baptist Church, Detroit, will officiate with burial in the Holly Cemetery.

Ghana to Have Adult Suffrage

New All-Negro Nation on African Gold Coast Starts on March 6

LONDON (AP)— Ghana, the new all-Negro West African nation—formerly the Gold Coast—will have a cabinet and parliamentary system of goernment under a constitution announced today.

Ghana's independence was proclaimed by Britain last Sept. 18. The date the new nation—within the commonwealth—comes into being has been set for March 6.

Under the constitution announced as a white paper by the British government Queen Elizabeth will be sovereign of Ghana with executive power through a governor general she will appoint. The new legislature will consist of a national assembly with a speaker and 104 members. There also will be regional assemblies in each of Ghana's five regions, with a large measure of local autonomy. Maximum life of the national assemblies will be five years. That of the regional ones will be three.

Universal adult suffrage and the secret ballot are called for under the constitution for the former British colony. Dr. Kwame Nkrumah, educated at America's Lincoln University, is present prime minister of the land of 4½ million.

Had to Take Blast to Get Repaint Job?

RENO (AP) — While downtown Reno's evacuated section was under tightest restrictions yesterday a crew of workers calmly began repainting the white traffic lines on Virginia Street.

Glenn Smoot, city traffic engineer, said, "It's a wonderful opportunity. Without any automobiles on the street we can even give it a second coat."

The area was evacuated while crews tested for possible propane-air gas leaks, such as caused Tuesday's explosions and fire that killed 2, injured 40 and destroyed a business block.

19-Year-Old Girl, Wed Five Years, Gives Out Advice

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Jacqueline Feist, now 19, says she wishes she had told her father, producer-director Felix Feist, that she was going to get married.

"This ought to be a lesson to young girls," said Jacqueline after her Mexican marriage to Asa Wylie Duff Jr., 24, was ruled illegal because the Mexican proxies were not properly notorized. "Girls should talk it over with their parents before doing anything as important as getting married.

"My faher would not have allowed me to marry that young—because he knows best. I wish he'd known. He might have stopped us."

Tonsil Tantrum—Why? —They Wouldn't Operate

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Temple University Hospital has a preoperative tonsil section where it's normal to hear kids wailing from sedation shots before the tonsils come out.

But nurses had to get help to quiet 4-year-old Kathi Worman, who outwailed them all.

Because of the shots? No, because Dr. Samuel Ringold told her she had a fresh cold and couldn't be operated on that day.

Is FBI a Potential Secret Gestapo? Not in a Democracy, Says Whitehead

(Editor's Note: The following article is the 30th and last in a series of highlights from "The FBI Story," a book about the Federal Bureau of Investigation by Don Whitehead, Pulitzer Prizewinner.)

By DON WHITEHEAD

When President Theodore Roosevelt ordered an investigative force organized in the Department of Justice in 1908 to combat the land thieves, the "trusts" and other federal law violators, there were dark warnings that the move was leading to political espionage and the suppression of civil liberties.

And almost half a century later the question was being heard at times: "Is it true there is danger the FBI will become a Gestapo?"

Sometimes this question was asked for political purposes. Often it was asked by Communists and their sympathizers with the deliberate intent to create suspicion and fear and to undermine the FBI's position.

But there can be no doubt that the question was asked in some instances because the American people knew little about the "mystery" organization called the FBI.

The Gestapo was Hitler's secret police system which had the power to make arrests, hold prisoner incommunicado, make searches without warrants, execute without trial and persecute anyone whose political thinking and racial background didn't conform to the Nazi ideology.

LIKE SECRET POLICE

It was the twin of the secret police system of Soviet Russia and her satellites.

To compare the FBI with these foreign police systems is as absurd as to compare the independent judiciary of the United States to the courts of the Soviet Union.

No one who studies the FBI operation from the inside—reading the orders from J. Edgar Hoover to his agents, leafing through the policy directives, and watching the transformation of a politically corrupt agency into a force struggling to achieve an ideal—can come to any other conclusion but this:

The FBI cannot become a repressive arm of government or of a clique as long as——the President of the United States is a man who rejects the idea of a secret political espionage system.

——the FBI is manned and directed by men of integrity who respect the spirit of the law as well as the words.

—establishing innocence is as important as establishing guilt in agents' investigations.

—Congress watches the FBI's spending and operating policies with a critical eye and the Budget Bureau continues to keep a close check on how and why the FBI spends its money.

—the judicial branch of the government remains free to question investigative procedures in all criminal proceedings, to review the evidence gathered by agents, and to protect the rights of the accused by due process of law.

—the nation's press has the freedom and courage to expose wrong-doing.

—the Bureau is kept free of politics.

But there is one condition under which the FBI could become a "Gestapo."

This could happen if the traditional checks and restraints were corrupted or eliminated by a dictatorial government, and the FBI were then used as a political tool.

IDEALS IMPORTANT

The history of the FBI, in reality, is the story of America itself and the struggle for an ideal. It isn't perfect, but it has made progress in giant strides, and it's incomparably better than it was 30 years ago.

One of the strengths of the FBI has been in the continuity of its leadership, which has meant a continuity of policy. The basic policies established by Hoover under the direction of Harlan Fiske Stone in 1924 have remained unchanged.

Hoover has remained at the helm of the FBI through and into the administrations of five Presidents and eleven attorneys general.

Since 1924, when Hoover was appointed Director, the cost of operating the FBI has totaled $983,179,844 while fines, savings and recoveries have totaled $1,390,093,183. In other words, the FBI balance sheet shows a net profit of $406,913,294.

In addition, a total of 147,110 fugitives have been arrested and 226,087 convictions have been recorded in cases investigated by the FBI.

In looking over the years, one interesting strand of the story has been the FBI's relationship with some of the liberals and the intellectuals during the Bureau's fight against communism.

INTELLECTUAL ANTAGONISM

By all logic, the liberal intellectual should have stood shoulder to shoulder with the FBI in its fight to expose communism as the most reactionary and imperialistic movement the world has ever known.

Many liberal intellectuals did stand by the FBI. But among others there was antagonism. The myth was born that an attack on Communism was an attack on freedom of thought.

The record suggests that many intellectuals have not been willing to face up to the cold truth, which is this: Communism is the brain child of the intellectuals—Marx, Engels and Lenin — and not of the toiling masses.

Communism didn't spring from the workers as a liberal movement for personal and intellectual freedom.

Communism is a brilliantly thought out plan to destroy the old world and build a new one in which "The Party" will be the central, all-powerful brain ruling the world's millions.

It is a dictatorship by the "scientific" mind, which uses the workers as a means to an end. Marx and Lenin and those who followed them understood this well.

NO ILLUSIONS

The top command of the FBI has no illusions that communism can be destroyed in the United States by the investigation, prosecution and conviction of Communist Party leaders who conspire to overthrow the government by force and violence. That is merely one phase of the job.

The FBI knows that the bigger job lies with the free world's intellectuals—the philosophers, the thinkers wherever they may be, the professors and scientists and scholars and students.

America's top labor leaders have never had any illusions about communism. They have fought the Communists in their ranks for years.

These leaders know that wherever communism has taken over a country, the "toiling masses" have lost their rights and whatever chance they had for personal dignity.

The record seems crystal clear. Communism was conceived by reactionary intellectuals and communism must be destroyed by liberal intellectuals.

The liberal intellectual can and must reach the mind of men with a counter-logic to communism, with a logic which restores man's faith in himself, his free institutions and the ideal that personal freedom and government by law shall not perish from this earth.

In the whole struggle, the FBI represents the people's effort to achieve government by law. It is an agency of Justice. And the FBI in the future will be as strong or as weak as the people demand it to be. No more. No less.

All co-eds answering the question must also give their names for purposes of checking pictures in the yearbook.

The boys say they are averaging about 10 calls an hour.

Chicago's Trolley Clang Diminishes This Month

CHICAGO (AP) — The familiar clang, clang, clang of the trolleys on State Street will be silenced soon as streetcars come to the end of the line on Chicago's main shopping artery.

The Chicago Transit Authority says the 45 trolleys in use on State Street will be replaced Feb. 18 by 54 of its newest 51-passenger propane buses. That will leave only one streetcar line — the Clark-Wentworth—in the city.

Splint It or Split It Up?

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Citified police didn't kno wwhat to do with a ring-necked pheasant with a broken leg they found in the middle of the town. A patrolman raised on a farm came to the rescue. He plans to take the pheasant home and mend the broken leg with splints.

Who Are the Real Traffic Violators?

To a person who has been driving the Dixie Highway through most of its length in Oakland County at least twice a day for the past 17 years, all this talk about the "Waterford speed trap" is the pure bunk.

The only adverse criticism we have in regard to the traffic officers is that they have been too lenient. This had led to a flagrant abuse of the privileges by a few drivers.

The principal agitation about their being too officious originates with a few Genesee County drivers, who themselves are found to be chronic violators in their home county. Such are the wise guys who always holler "speed trap."

Day after day observance shows that the drivers who do not observe the speed limit in the restricted zones almost invariably come from one of four sources. They're giving the whole driving fraternity a bad reputation.

In first place in that category are the cars carrying Genesee, Wayne or other state licenses outside of Oakland County. They seem to think they can get away with what they dare not do at home.

Also, the Greyhound buses sometimes bulge the speed limit, even where the state's 65 is allowed. Next are the haulaway trucks, especially when running light. Too often some of them are using cutting-in tactics that never would be tolerated from the driver of a car one-third their length.

For fourth "honors" the gravel trucks are repeated violators. They are a further menace in that they scatter stones on cars which they pass, and many of their drivers have little regard for the damage they cause.

On the whole, the drivers on Oakland County's main street are law abiding citizens who observe all regulations, traffic or otherwise.

Perhaps they may occasionally need to be reminded of their responsibility to themselves and others in enjoying the privilege of driving a car, which they'll take in the proper thankful spirit.

Congratulations to our traffic officers. They're doing a fine job under very difficult cimcumstances.

Get a little more viligant and watchful over the guys who can't read figures, and save them — and the rest of us.

Reds Release Figures on '56 Auto Production

Well, well, well.

Do tell.

Russia's automobile production figures for 1956 have been announced.

Production fell off nine per cent, so the total number of automobiles built in 1956 dropped UNDER A HUNDRED THOUSAND.

Think of that.

The figure ran 98,000.

Here is a nation that seeks to conquer all mankind and institute its own system of existence everywhere and it can't make and sell a hundred thousand automobiles in an entire year for nearly 200,000,000 people.

The reasons are simple.

The people can't buy them.

THEY LACK THE MONEY.

With a slightly smaller population, we built around six million cars last year and sold ever last one. Facts like these make it difficult to see how the Communists can get ANYONE in America to tout their cause and struggle behind barns and down in cellars to "plot our ruin."

If you based a novel or a play on an idea as bizarre as this, it would never see the light of day. And yet a certain number of deluded nincompoops "go" for the Russia baloney.

There must be more unhinged mentalities at large than we suspected.

The People's Business:

Stamp Controls

Jersey Case May Affect Legislation in Michigan

By ROGER LANE

LANSING—Litigation in New Jersey involving a trading stamp company supplies an interesting sidelight to agitation in Michigan for some sort of curbs on the operations of such firms.

While the New Jersey situation still remains unclear, it suggests — for the time being, anyway—that a recommendation here that the state escheat unredeemed stamps may have a sound legal basis.

Escheating was urged by the governor's commission on small business.

This means a kind of taking of title in trust, as for example in the case of a utility obliged by law or administrative order to make a refund to a customer who has moved away and cannot be found.

When the state accepts responsibility for the refund, it is said to have escheated the money. The customer, if he should turn up, could then assert a valid claim to it. Otherwise, the state retains possession.

Escheating is not the only device suggested by those opposed to activities of trading stamp companies as they are now carried on. Some would like to see them outlawed.

BILL FOR LICENSING

And this week the Legislature received a bill for licensing of trading stamp companies, with the requirement that each post $10,000 bond as a guarantee that stamp savers could cash in on promised merchandise premiums.

What happened in New Jersey was this:

The state sued Sperry & Hutchinson Co., the biggest and one of the oldest of the trading stamp firms, under its escheat laws.

The state contended that stamps unredeemed after five years should go into the state treasury. S & H said that the law did not apply.

S & H argued, and the trial court agreed, that the effect of the law was limited to "money payable as dividends upon its formal instruments evidencing indebtedness and money payable as wages."

The judge said the law was not a penalty statute, should be construed narrowly and did not apply to trading stamps.

But the State Supreme Court, by a four to one vote, upset the trial court decision. It held that the law was not a penalty statute, but that it should be construed liberally and applied to "cash obligations generally."

CASE SENT BACK

The effect of the Supreme Court's ruling was to send the case back to the lower court for a new trial.

After the high court spoke, S & H officials expressed confidence that they would win out in the end.

In court arguments, company lawyers contended that proceeds from unredeemed stamps go to increase the value of the premiums issued, and that actually the state has no money coming.

This contention answers one of the most frequently voiced arguments of opponents of trading stamps—that a large percentage, as high as 40 per cent, go unredeemed, and constitute an unfair enrichment of the stamp company at the expense of the local merchant and his customers.

Thus far in the New Jersey proceeding, the amount of money involved has not come out—but is expected to later on.

While the case hangs in the balance, it seems likely that the New Jersey experience will figure in the controversies certain to boil up in Michigan legislative halls—probably with both sides citing it in support.

LETTER MARKED 'PERSONAL'

Days of All Faiths

Observe 'Race Relations Sunday'

By DR. HOWARD V. HARPER

Each year on the Sunday before Lincoln's Birthday the National Council of Churches sponsors Race Relations Sunday. Theoretically, the day has to do with the oneness of the whole human family, and emphasizes the need of all races in America to live together in peace and charity.

Naturally, however, the biggest racial problem has found its way to the top, and Race Relations Sunday now quite frankly focuses on the question of the desegregation of Negroes. A few years ago there was nothing particularly controversial about this annual observance. It would come and go with a few gestures of good will between the races, such as joint services or an exchange of pulpits.

But today this is an explosive subject in some parts of the United States, and Race Relations Sunday is potentially laden with dynamite. One cannot predict where the day will be observed, where it will be ignored, and where it may result in "incidents."

This year's official message from the National Council was written by the Rev. Martin Luther King, Montgomery, Ala., Baptist minister who has been in the national news as a leader of the boycott which has apparently desegregated Montgomery's city buses.

The message contains nothing that has not been said before. All men are the image of God, therefore they are inseparably bound together. All are one in Christ Jesus. Racial segregation is a denial of this unity and is therefore un-Christian. But this statement, though not new, has never before been projected into quite so tense an atmosphere, and the National Council has never before used so controversial a figure as its spokesman.

ACTIONS RECOMMENDED

Along with the message, the National Council makes recommendations for action that can be taken by local congregations. They are called upon to work for the desegregation of schools and transportation facilities in their communities, and to support legislation which will guarantee full opportunities to Negroes. And they are asked to examine, in the light of their Christian profession, their own attitudes on racial relations.

ST. VALENTINE'S DAY

There is no controversy about Thursday. Everyone is in favor of romance. St. Valentine's Day will be observed by devout Christians, by atheists, and by all degrees in between. And although it is a day set aside in the Christian calendar in memory of a martyred saint, the observance will have little to do with religion. Valentine has been moved over into another area.

Romantic exchanges at the middle of February go back to a time long before the young Roman priest named Valentine was beheaded for refusing to renounce Christianity. This was on Feb. 14, in or about the year 270. But for centuries young folks of Rome had had a happy custom of "love lotteries," in which bachelors and unmarried girls left their names in urns in public places, to be drawn out and matched on the Ides (15th) of February.

Valentine got into this annual pleasantry mainly because he was martyred right at this time and the day of his commemoration always fell while the festival was going on. Legend says he made an unintended contribution by leaving a note signed "from your Valentine" to the Christian daughter of his jailer, who had befriended him while he was awaiting his death.

The chance pairing of sweethearts was at one time carried on in England in another form. They did not use the lottery, but custom decreed that the first person of the opposite sex you met on Feb. 14 was your "valentine" for a year. This seems a little less risky than just pulling the names out of an urn. An alert fellow could have some control over his first meeting.

Dr. William Brady's Mailbag:

Wrench Causing Wrench-Trouble?

"Plumber, 55, taboo pain-killers, but of late considerable trouble in right shoulder. Have not lost any time on the job but find it pretty difficult to pull my wrenches . . . wishing you continued enjoyment of life on the bowling green and your favorite blend in your pipe for many years . . . (C. E. G."

Answer—Thank you, sir. Something missing from your scenerio—besides the bowling green and the right fuel, there's another pastime I wouldn't give up for either or both of them. It is pounding away day by day on one of these contrivances the manufacturers call "quiet."

BRADY

Send 35 cents and stamped, self-addressed envelope for booklet Chronic Joint Disability. If your difficulty is limited to your shoulder, perhaps it is the consequence of strain or injury. If so, perhaps surgery would be the best treatment. See a competent physician or surgeon.

"I am one of the frozen people—age 46, chestnut hair gray on temples, aways cold if the household temperature is below 80 . . . (Mrs. W. H.)"

Answer — Send stamped, self-addressed envelope for pamphlet Young Folks and Old Folks.

"My husband used to complain of aching legs every day. Often he had to take aspirin or other painkiller to get relief. From reading your column he began taking a daily ration of calcium and D. Now he seldom complains of aching legs . . . (Mrs. S. P. F.)

Answer—A lot of poor geeks report to dangerous pain-killers for temporary relief of ache or pain due to the calcium deficiency. Send 35 cents and stamped, self-addressed envelope for Little Lesson, 26, The Calcium Shortage.

"Years ago our granddaughter would bang her head against the crib, apparently having trouble getting to sleep. Finally we were told it was probably from worms. . . . (A. B.)"

Answer—Even if the child had worms, as many healthy young children do, and banged her head alarmingly as a kind of pasttime, as many healthy babies do, and quit banging her head after medicine or treatment for worms, it is not significant. Babies who bang their heads or roll them or otherwise amuse themselves with such stunts get over the habit when they begin running about. Sometimes a little more cuddling and loving and lullaby will prove the best medicine.

"Are the benefits from vitamin D in D tablets the same as the benefits from vitamin D in cod liver oil? (P. N. V.)"

Answer—Yes. Unit for unit vitamin D. is the same whatever its origin.

Kindly give the address of firms that sell wheat mills for the home. We tried to grind wheat in an old coffee mill, but the mill gave out . . . (Mrs. C. R.)

Answer — Send stamped, self-addressed envelope for pamphlet Wheat to Eat. It gives addresses of such firms, besides recipes for the use of wheat in the everyday diet, as recommended by readers.

As there are two diabetics in the family connection I'd like to know whether in your opinion butter is better than margarine in the regular diet? (P. H. C.)

Answer—No. It might be worthwhile to read Training for Diabetes—for which send 35 cents and stamped, self-addressed envelope. Incidentally, I regret to say that the fine guide book I recommend therein (A Book for Us Diabetics, by Dr. Don H. Duffie) having gone through many editions, is no longer available.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Voice of the People

Requests Blood Donations for Area Drive Monday

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.

We all need one another. Sometimes we forget this and think we are self sufficient. Then something happens and we realize how much we need each other. Your blood program works this way also. In times of need, perhaps an accident, birth or life itself will depend on blood.

The Red Cross stands ready to help you in these emergencies, but we need your help, too. Whenever you can give blood or need blood or have any questions to ask about the blood program, I, as chairman of the Whitfield district, will be glad to help in any way.

Blood is needed now. You can go to the Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital Monday from 2 to 8:30 p.m. Go, if you can, and be sure to donate your blood to your own district.

Come on, let's all help each other.

'Morse Is Help to Aspirin Sales'

Referring to your editorial in which Senator Wayne Morse of Oregon was called a turncoat, Senator Morse could not stomach the leadership of the Republican party.

Senator Morse contended the national administration was dominated by "big business" and even questioned its integrity.

Senator Morse denounced Mr. McKay as the personification of the "give-away" policies the Senator attributed to the Interior Department.

Mr. McKay, former Secretary of Interior, was sent to Oregon to take on Senator Morse. President Eisenhower went to Portland to speak on Mr. McKay's behalf.

Senator Morse won by 60,555 votes.

Sensator Morse is a man of principle, who has followed his conscience with great personal bravery, ignoring grave threats to his future career.

'Constant Rider' Dislikes Service

I would like to voice my opinion in regard to changes in schedule of Pontiac buses. First of all, I love Pontiac. It is a wonderful city, with vast resources and opportunity. Our city has been good to me, and I hope it will be good for my children and grandchildren.

I have been a constant rider of our buses for more than 10 years, but never have I had to put up with such services as we've been getting since this change. Twice in a week I have been taken a block farther down the line because the buzzer was disconnected. Twice I have been late for work because the bus took a shortcut. I haven't had a seat on the bus since the change. When I read one of those signs that reads "Ease the squeeze, ride a bus," I get a lump in my stomach.

The question is, hasn't the city bus more to offer?

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Explains 'Ponce de Leon Complex'

Almost every wife will confront Alma's problem in some form, so women should be forewarned by this case today and try to insure their marital happiness against this menopausal "Ponce de Leon Complex" of men. Paste this case in your scrapbook.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case T-396: Alma R., aged 40, is a jolly housewife who now has a serious worry.

"Dr. Crane, my husband and I have been happily married for 22 years," she announced.

"We have been pals and almost constant companions in work as well as in play. But during the last year or two he has been gradually becoming more secretive.

"He would occasionally stay late at the office to work. And I noticed he didn't seem so interested in kissing me. Oh, he tried to appear the same as usual, but I could detect a subtle change coming over him.

"Finally, I learned that he has developed an infatuation for a girl in the next office. She is a slender, pretty thing just a little over 22.

"Dr. Crane, I don't know what to do. I am so upset and unhappy, my entire world seems topsy turvy."

SECRET TERROR

Alma has the advantage over such a temporary paramour, for she shares the civic prestige and social connections with her husband.

Besides she also knows all his relatives and is the mother of his three children, too. But she must fight fire with fire in banishing his secret terror.

For most men enter a menopausal state anywhere from 40 to 60 years of age, in which they grow panicky at the thought of impotence.

Since their hair is growing gray or thinning out on top, and they don't have quite the amative ardor as at the age of 21, they become frightened.

Then they may flirt with the idea of an affair with another woman. For the very strangeness of the paramour is a tonic to their sexual vigor.

But they are not particulary in love with their temporary paramour. They could drop her and pick up another without much heartache.

No, they really employ the younger and strange woman for an emotional tonic, using her to reinflate their sex vanity and restore their feeling of youth.

WIVES VS. SWEETHEARTS

Husbands and wives ultimately grow to be much like brothers and sisters. They know each other's habits. They share mutual experiences. But they no longer get palpitation of the heart, high blood pressure and a pounding pulse at the sound of each other over the telephone.

They may also kiss rather perfunctorily. A sweetheart kiss, however, is not perfunctory! It rearouses almost forgotten memories of youth and courtship.

So a staid business man, baldheaded and chubby, may feel like a youth of 21 when he kisses the Follies beauty.

Because he now feels his heart pounding, and gets that youthful, giddy sensation, he imagines he actually is young again! Naturally, he is delightfully intoxicated with this new emotion which has been in cold storage maybe 10 or 20 years.

So he says he loves his paramour, and starts dusting off his old "line." Even that process is stimulating and exhilarating. For he's a real "gosh darnit" again!

Where a short time ago he was almost convinced he had one foot in the grave, he now finds that he is a young romeo. And this tonic deludes even the best of men.

So their wives must remember that these men are simply frightened. They are frantically searching for the fountain of youth to banish their erotic sluggishness.

PONCE DE LEON COMPLEX

This reaction is what I term the "Ponce De Leon Complex," or quest of youth.

While he is a victim of this panic, a husband who is a staid pillar of society may act emotionally deranged. Because he wants to be young so intensely, he may suddenly go haywire, and act so much at variance with his previous personality that people may even doubt his sanity.

Send for my bulletin "How to Prevent Impotence in Men" enclosing a 3 cent stamped envelope, plus 20 cents.

With the technique described therein, you wives past 40 need not fear younger women. For you can beat them at their own game.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Atomic Power Takes Stride

First Nuclear System to Produce Electricity Begins Operation

CHICAGO (AP) — A big stride will be taken today into the era of atomic generated electric power.

The nation's first nuclear power system designed solely for experiments in producing such power will go into continuous operation. The schedule calls for a year-long trial run with refueling.

The nuclear station is the first Experimental Boiling Water Reactor (EBWR) at the Argonne national laboratory of the Atomic Energy Commission. It will supply 5,000 kilowatts of continuous power, meeting the bulk of the laboratory's needs for electricity.

The heat reactor was built to demonstrate the feasibility and safety of large scale power plants using uranium fuel of the lowest possible enrichment in uranium 235—the fissionable substance in uranium atomic bombs.

Scientists on the project describe it as a "promising new system" for generating usable power from nuclear fuels. They say its big points are that its operation is relatively simple, it is self-regulating and "inherently safe."

Members of the AEC and scientists at the laboratory are to take part in the ceremonies at the huge atomic research facility, which is located inside a closely guarded 3,700 acre reservation in suburban Lemont.

French Fisher Nets Navy Man's Wallet

QUONSET POINT, R. I. (AP) — Electricians Mate 3.C. Gossett Haymon Jr. of Akron, Ohio, was on a Navy good will cruise in France last October when his wallet disappeared. He thinks he lost it while on a liberty boat at Brest.

Today, some four months later, he has the wallet back again — complete even to the $3 in American money it contained when he lost it.

It seems a Brittany fisherman hauled it up in his nets and turned it over to a sentry at Brest. Then began a long series of exchanges from naval and embassy officials to the seaman's commanding officer and finally back to Haymon.

The Boxer

The last in our dog series this week is the boxer. Although he is fierce looking, the boxer often is one of the friendliest of animals.

The boxer received its name from the playful habit of putting up its front paws in a fight just as a man does when boxing.

The reason for its ugly bulldog look is simple. The boxer originally was developed from many breeds and crossed with the bulldog by the Germans in 1880. Standing 21 to 24 inches high, it weighs about 60 to 70 pounds. Its chest is deep and strong, its skull wide, its eyes large and expressive.

Cut out along the outside lines. Fold the bottom panel forward along the dotted line. Cut out the dish of food along the upper edge and fold forward on the bottom dotted line. Fold the right panel back and the picture will stand.

Do you have your six dogs ready for a dog show now?

Pilots Play Touch-and-Go in Tricky Waters of Suez

WASHINGTON—Passage through the almost straight, 100-mile-long Suez Canal looks easy to landlubbers.

Actually, moving traffic along this strategic waterway between the Mediterranean and Red Seas is a difficult job. How difficult it can be was hinted by the delicate maneuvers used recently to free ships marooned between Port Said and the blocked southern entrance.

Originally southbound, the trapped vessels faced unusual problems in turning around and avoiding obstructions caused by the late hostilities. But even in normal times, skippers turn gray.

"Suez waters play tricks all their own," writes Maj. Gen. Glen E. Edgerton in "An Engineer's View of the Suez Canal," published in a late copy of the National Geographic Magazine.

The retired army officer is the only American on the Suez Canal Company's international board of engineering advisers.

"From the standpoint of the master accustomed to straight steaming in deep water, the most unnerving thing about a Suez transit is the sudden seeming insanity of his ship," observes the author.

"The reason is the peculiar action of the water confined between narrow banks . . . There are not only the ordinary currents to be reckoned with, but also the vagrant pressures built up by the ship herself.

"To explain: As she moves, she pushes water away . . . This creates a depression . . . and the ship 'squats' while the waves of the displaced water hit the banks and bounce back . . . The effects are often surprising."

An unchecked swerve from the current may mean trouble. If the ship is lucky, she will only "smell the bottom," barely touch where the channel begins to slope upward to the bank, but she may hit the bank and stick.

Sometimes traffic stoppage in the narrow channel is complete. In December, 1954, when the tanker World Peace struck the arm of a railway bridge, 150 vessels stood idle, some for 3½ days.

An open Suez Canal is essential to world shipping. President Eisenhower has called the desert waterway vital to United States economy —"indeed, to the economies of almost all of the countries of the world."

Europe counts on Suez for oil supply. And American imports via the canal—less than a million metric tons in 1938—were more than 11 million in 1955.

Security For You

Disability Won't Change Payment Rate

From F. S. of Cherry Valley, N. Y.: "I would like to know if there is any provision in the Social Security law that would entitle me to any more money now that I'm crippled with arthritis and can't work? I'm 61 and have been drawing $64.90 a month in Social Security since April 1, 1955.'

Once a person starts drawing Social Security payments, there is no additional amount paid if he should become disabled.

From Mrs. E. M. of Irvington, N. J.; "My husband was receiving $62 a month in Social Security when he died in December and I was receiving $71. Now that my husband has died will my payments be increased?"

Yes. Monthly payments to widows are three-fourths of what their deceased husbands were receiving. In your case, the payment will increase to $46.50. If you haven't already done so, you should notify the nearest Social Security office of your husband's death and file an application for your widow's payment's. Be sure to take a certificate of your husband's death with you. You should apply at the same time for the lump sum payment.

From Mrs. D. D. of Clinton, Iowa: "During World War II, I worked about 18 months under Social Security and earned about $30 per week. I'm now 54. Will I be eligible for Social Security payments when I reach 62? I have had no other work under Social Security."

You'll not be eligible for Social Security payments unless you work in a job covered by the system for another 5½ or 5¾ years.

From Miss I. D. of Monrovia, Calif.: "I will be 62 on May 30. I've been working pretty steady for the past 34 years. What will be the difference in my Social Security payments if I should retire at 62 rather than wait until I reach 65? If I retire at 62, will my payments increase when I reach 65?"

Your payments at 62 will be 80 per cent of what you would receive if you waited until you reached 65. Your payments will always stay at the reduced level, unless you go back to work and earn enough to give you Social Security credits.

From V. G. B. of Emporia, Kans.: "I understand that I'm eligible to draw a pension from the Veterans Administration as a World War I veteran if my yearly income is less than $2,700. I'm married. In applying that limit to my income, does the income of my wife count?"

No, your wife's income has no bearing on your eligibility to a veteran's pension.

From Mrs. K. L. of Pontiac, Mich.: "My husband who is 57 has been told by the Social Security office that he'll be eligible to draw disability payments as of July 1. I'm 61. Will I be eligible to receive Social Security payments when he starts getting his? I've never worked in a job covered by Social Security."

You'll not be eligible for Social Security payments based on your husband's work record until he reaches 65.

(You may write to Ray Henry in care of this newspaper about your own Social Security or retirement problem. Please enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope and 25 cents in coin.)

Embankment Brings No Injuries to Two Riders

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Two San Francisco women were at home today without a scratch to show for a spectacular automobile accident — a plunge down a 650-foot embankment off Skyline Blvd.

Mrs. Bessie Whyland, 50, and Mrs. Foy M. Antonsen, 61, were trapped more than 12 hours in the battered sedan after it came to a shuddering halt against a tree Thursday evening.

The car had been forced off the road, out of control, by another speeding around a curve.

Doors and windows of the sedan were jammed. It wasn't until after daybreak yesterday that Mrs. Whyland managed to force open a window and squeeze through. She helped Mrs. Antonsen escape. Then they crawled back up the steep, brush-covered slope — a climb which took them two hours.

Said Mrs. Whyland wryly "it was quite an experience."

FEDERAL DEPT. STORES

SAGINAW AT WARREN, PONTIAC

Men's Night Selections Announced by Musicale

Pontiac Tuesday Musicale annual Men's Night program will be held at Washington Junior High School Tuesday beginning at 8 o'clock.

Following a welcome by Mrs. Gordon Woolcock, president, the program will open with the Doctors' Band. Originating about five years ago, it fulfills dreams of several men who wanted to play musical instruments.

The organizers were Dr. Norman Gehringer, Dr. Robert Bannow, Dr. Ferdinand Gaensbauer and Dr. Felix Kemp.

They asked George Boyd to act as director and instructor, and as the group developed, they enlisted the aid of Will Hess, now living in Detroit. Dr. John Markley joined the roster and became a regular member.

For special public appearances, the band recruited Dr. Robert Dustin of Birmingham and Anton Patti of Romeo. For the special occasion Tuesday, the group has added Kenneth Mitchell and Robert Riley to its list.

The band will begin the program with the following selections:

Men of Ohio, march ..... Fillmore
Washington and Lee Swing— Arr. by Warrington
Charley My Boy—Arr. by Schoenfeld
Beer Barrel Polka ...Arr. by Briegel
National Emblem, march ....Bagley

Playing the clarinet will be Dr. Dustin, Dr. Kemp, and Mr. Riley. Dr. Bannow and Dr. Markley will play cornet, and Dr. Gaensbauer will play alto horn.

Drums will be played by Mr. Mitchell and Mr. Patti, tuba by Dr. Gehringer, and baritone by Mr. Boyd.

Mrs. Jack W. Wignall, soprano, will fill the second part of the evening's program. She received her training from Olive Dobson Henkel and Fred Patton, both teachers at Michigan State University.

She appeared as guest soloist in many oratorio works in Lansing churches, has studied with Avery Crew of Detroit, and was soloist for Central Methodist Church. At present she is coaching with Mrs. Rebecca Gould.

Accompanying her will be Mrs. Donald Hogue. The following is Mrs. Wignall's program:

Du puis le jour—from opera "Louise" by Charpentier
You Are Free—From operatta "Apple Blossom".....by Victor Jacobi
Comin' Thro' the Rye
Hungarian Dance No. 5 .... Brahms
Scottish folk song arr. by Charles Kingsford

MRS. FRANK WIGNALL

MRS. JEAN SCHAEFFER

Anton Patti, violinist (bass drummer in the Doctors' Band), studied violin with August Bast of Detroit and Henri Casadesus in Paris.

He played with the Detroit Symphony Orchestra for five years and now is concert master of the Mount Clemens Symphony Orchestra.

Mr. Patti has played for engagements in several Detroit hotels. He will play the following selections accompanied by Mrs. Ferdinand Gaensbauer:

Liebesllied ..... Fritz Kreisler
Meditation from Thais .... Massenet

Mrs. Jean Stewart Schaeffer, formerly of Pontiac, now of Lorain, Ohio, will interpret the four characters of Sir James M. Barrie's, "The Twelve-Pound Look," which is considered one of the most nearly perfect one-act plays of contemporary drama, and was made famous in this country by Ethel Barrymore.

A dramatic student of the late W. N. Viola, and Madame Reborah of Detroit, Mrs. Schaeffer has played several leads in dramas produced by The Players' group of Lorain, Ohio.

Directing in another of her talents, and for the County Workshop Players (Ohio) she directed "The Importance of Being Ernest," "The Man Who Came to Dinner" and "The Curious Savage."

Church Groups Convene

Groups of the Oakland Avenue United Presbyterian Church Women's Association met in the church parlors and in members' homes during the week.

Eleanor Creswell

Mrs. Mary Sears of Euclid avenue was hostess to members of the Eleanor Creswell Group. Mrs. LeRoy Koch assisted the hostess.

Mrs. John Swanson led the worship service, using the story of "The Philippian Jailer" as her topic.

During the program portion of the meeting Mrs. Howard Webb reviewed the book, "The Little Professor of Piney Woods" by Beth Day, and Mrs. John Martin reviewed Mary T. Martin Sloop's book, "Miracle in the Hills."

Members packed a box to be sent to one of the missions and also worked on favors for a coming banquet.

Ann McGeoch

Members of Ann McGeoch Group met at the home of Mrs. Herman Reeder on Corwin Court. Mrs. Carl Buckner assisted the hostess.

"The Truth Brings Freedom" was the devotional topic presented by Mrs. Clare Hubbell. Mrs. Clyde Clark led the home mission study course. Members voted to make hospital coats as their project for the coming six months.

Zonta Club Hears Talk on Lincoln

Zonta Club of Pontiac heard Ernest Huthwaite speak on "Lincoln" at the Thursday meeting held at Hotel Waldron.

The speaker told of the comparison made at the time of the Cooper Union speech between Lincoln and the Apostle Paul.

He discussed whether or not Abraham Lincoln ever visited in Pontiac, saying that it is difficult to trace, as many days in his life are not fully documented.

Historians, he said, are working at this. Hotel registrations from the Hodges House, a Pontiac landmark, are being checked, and it is hoped that these will confirm or deny the story.

There is some reason to believe that Lincoln spent a night as a guest in the Moses Wisner home, but there is no historical confirmation of this, the speaker said.

Mrs. Robert Knight Entertains Sorority

Mrs. Robert Knight of Bloomfield Hills entertained members of Zeta Lambda Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi. A monimating committee was selected at the recent meeting.

Beautiful Blonde Braves Icy Depths of the Pacific

By LEE BELSER

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — Take a beautiful blonde, and an aqualung, 100 grains of courage and two boa constrictors — and there's Zale Parry, champion skin diver.

Zale, who performs miracles and movies underseas, recently broke the women's diving record of 185 feet when she dived to a depth of 209 feet in the open sea near Catalina.

"It only took me seven minutes to descend, but it took 15 the danger of getting the 'bends.' minutes to surface because of

"It was so cold," she added with a shiver, "That I wore three sweaters, a pair of woolen undies and a rubber diving suit. The temperature was around 56 degrees."

The 109-pound swimmer, who occasionally doubles for non-swimming movie stars like Sophia Loren, has been ogling the underside of little fishies for the past five years, but she's been a water champ since she was in the ninth grade.

TRIES THE SEA

Following her marriage to Parry Bivens, head of a scientific underwater research enterprise, Zale decided to become a deep-sea diver too.

"I got tired of setting on the beach waiting for Parry, so I trained in a pool for three months learning to use a scuba (underwater breathing apparatus), studied a lot of underwater lingo and then dived in feet first!"

In her spare time, Zale plays with two boa constrictors, "Mr. MacGregor" and "Mrs. MacGregor," dodges man-eating sharks, and makes short ocean crossings in an open cockpit submarine!

"But I'm scared to death to ride in an automobile without seat belts," she confessed, "and I always sleep under an electric blanket to make up for all that cold underseas water!"

The shapely blue-eyed mermaid thinks more women ought to get hep and get wet.

"But they should be checked over by a doctor first," she warned. "You can't be a diver if you have heart, sinus or ear trouble. And you should have good eyesight and be an excellent swimmer."

Bridge anyone?

Girls, Join Reserves, Keep Eye on the Boys

By RUTH MONTGOMERY

WASHINGTON (INS)—Girls, If you'd like to have a night out each week with the boys, join the WAC, WAVE or WAF reserves—but to heck with the lady Marines.

The three services are wistfully eager to pay you to attend weekly meetings, and to give you a two - week "vacation" with pay every summer at the same training centers with the lads in khaki or blues.

War was never like this! Snug in your own gaily bedecked barracks at summer camp, you can wear your frilliest nightie under your laciest negligee.

You can keep in shape by bringing your own girdles and bras. Gone are the horrendous khaki unmentionables which once enshrouded the wartime WACs.

You don't have to enlist for active duty to wear a uniform and drill. Along with your brothers and beaux, you can sign on directly for the reserves and accompany them one night a week to training sessions.

RESCUE DUTY

If floods or other civic disasters strike at your community, you'll be in the first contingent called for rescue duty and first aid. If war comes—but you can always pray for peace.

Only the time-hallowed Marine Corps still practices sex discrimination. Should you enlist with the lady Marine reserve, don't expect a glamorous male to set foot in your weekly unit meetings. The membership is as gosh-darned feminine as your grandmother's sewing bees.

Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson, whose low opinion of the all - male National Guard is now well known, will love you dearly in the feminine reserves. All of the military services which he commands are stepping up their recruiting drive for femmes in uniform.

In fact, they'll even let you join up with your husband, if no kiddies clamor for attention at home.

The military service is not exactly the place to get rich quick, but if you have a civilian job, Uncle Sam will further enrich you with "a full day's pay" to attend a two - hour meeting each week. Enlisted pay ranges from $2.86 for the newest- recruit to $9.10 for a master sergeant.

OTHER BENEFITS

Daily pay for officers range from $7.41 for a second lieutenant to $17.68 for a lieutenant colonel.

The same wage scale holds true for the two-week training period each summer. Free transportation, food and lodging are tossed into the bargain.

The WAC reserve presently boasts 523 officers, 37 warrant officers and 1,326 enlisted women. The active WAVE reserve has 900 officers and 1,500 enlisted women. Perhaps because of the sex segregation, proud lady Marines have only 34 officers and 609 enlistees in their reserves.

Unlike the Army and Navy, which hold weekly meetings, WAFs devote one weekend a month to active duty at a naval air station.

Enlisted women of all services are provided with a free wardrobe consisting of wool uniform, cap and three blouses, four cotton summer dresses with matching cap, shoes, a purse, overcoat, raincoat and insignia.

Reserve officers are handed a flat uniform allowance of $200. Every four years, Uncle Sam kicks in an additional $50 maintenance allowance, which should take care of some fancy patching when the seams begin to bulge from too much nibbling and too little drilling.

AGE STANDARDS

Age limitations differ among the services, but gals under 21 need their parents' consent to enlist. The Army will accept volunteers up to the age of 34, the Marines draw the line at 31, and the Navy at 26.

College graduates who pass the requirements can step into immediate commissions by volunteering for active duty for six months. Any other questions will be eagerly answered at local enlistment centers.

Program Scheduled by Teachers' Club

Teachers' Exchange Club will hold a program on "Panel of Americans" presented by Wayne State University students Thursday at Bethany Baptist Church.

Gifts Belong to Both Girl and Fiance

Couple Should Put Money in Special Bank Account

By EMILY POST

A bride-to-be tells me: "I have recently become engaged and received many presents—quite a few of them were money gifts. I would like to know just who keeps this money? Is it intended for my own personal use or does my fiance share in it, or what?"

Answer: The money you received is really intended to buy furnishings for your future house and it is generally put into a special account in both your names.

"Dear Mrs. Post: I have two children—a girl 5 years of age and a boy 9 years of age. I recently had very lovely oil photographs taken of each child. I would like to know if it would be correct to hang these pictures on the wall in my living room on either side of a sofa?.

"When I mentioned hanging them there I was told that that was not the proper place to hang pictures of this type. Will you please tell me what you think about this?"

Answer: The living room wall would be a perfect place to hang the children's pictures.

"Dear Mrs. Post: One of the men with whom my husband works stopped at our house the other evening to see my husband about a business matter.

"His wife had come with him but she waited outside in the car. I did not ask her to come in. Do you think I was rude not to have gone out and asked her to come in the house?"

Answer: I am sorry but I cannot say that you were either hospitable or courteous—especially if he was in your house for some time. If he only stopped in for a few minutes it was not necessary to ask her to come in.

Chapter Plans Dance in April

Wipe Plastics Clean

Not even the luxurious glint of gold interferes with the ready washability of plastic materials used for tablecloths, draperies, and upholstery. Wether the surfaces are plain, pebbled, or embossed, dirt can be wiped off with a cloth wrung out of thick soap or detergent suds.

Avoid Laziness, Boredom and Fat

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Many of the best rewards in life, maybe most of them, are the result of the ability to invest wholeheartedly in seemingly unimportant daily routine.

The job you have may not seem very exciting and the little things you do for a daily beauty routine may not seem so either. However, and it is a big however, we cannot even calculate the dividends of enthusiastic self-investment in any category!

I would like to bat this idea about further and will do so in some future column, but today I want to remind you of some of the simple health (and therefore beauty routines which the medical profession has known about for years but which we, in our wish for something dramatic to cure our physical ills and our heartaches, have not taken seriously.

Here, then, are some simple health routines which are being highlighted by more and more medical research:

1. Take advantage of all that is known now about nutrition. This is at least one of the most important steps on the ladder to happiness and success and a vibrant long life.

2. Exercise unless there is some reason for not doing so. Ask your doctor about this. There is great and exciting and accumulative data which seems to indicate that we are dying of poor nutrition, lack of physical exercise and boredom.

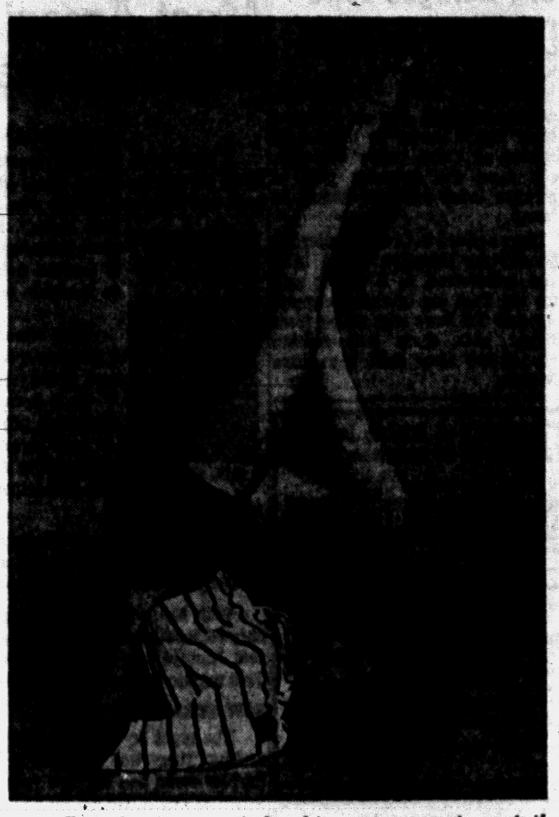
These are the three big culprits! Avoid them as you would a plague!

It seems that we are dying of "rocking chairitis," overweight from the fat of the land, and boredom—in an era which provides the most information about the most in adult education, and is probably the most challenging and exciting era anyone ever lived in.

Of course you need an adequate amount of sleep, but if you eat correctly and exercise and are on fire with interests, I think you will sleep very well.



Exercise is one of the things we sometimes fail to take seriously. Exercise like this, done regularly, may make your life more vibrant.

Cure Your Spring Fever With Dress-Jacket Outfit

Harvey Berin thinks the way to cure spring fever is to get into a dress with a jacket, and this ensemble of his certainly looks like a sure remedy.

The sheath dress has a square neckline sharpened with a dart on either side and a band of pique or linen that extends down into the tiny buttoned placket. The same trim is used on the cuffs and under the collar of the abbreviated jacket that is shaped into the rib cage and snugly fitted.

The tailoring involved will be simple to achieve since the custom-made pattern is precisely perforated for prefect matching and includes an instruction sheet so explicit that even beginners can sew like professionals.

The exclusive retail - sizing means better fit, less alterations. Choose wool with pique or linen, novelty cottons, stiff silks. From this chart select the one size best for you.

Sizes	Bust	Waist	Hips Inches	Length From Nape of Neck to Waist
10	34	24	35	16½
12	35	25	36	16¾
14	36½	26½	37½	17
16	38	28	39	17¼
18	40	30	41	17½

Size 12 requires 3¼ yards of 54-inch material for dress and bolero and five-eighths yard of 36-inch material for contrast. To order Pattern 1299, state size, enclose $1, Address American Designer Patterns, Box 535, G.P.O. Dept. D-6, New York 1, N.Y.

Classic Pattern Booklet 12 and all-new Pattern Booklet 13-X are available for 50 cents each. Harvey Berin label available for 25 cents extra with pattern order. If paid by check, add 4 cents.

But Sailing Days Are Over

Woman Sea Captain, 84, Still Teaches Navigation

DENVER (INS) — Capt. Mary Converse, the only woman in the U.S. licensed to pilot a merchant ship of any size on the high seas, is now 84 years old and fairly certain she won't be sailing again —professionally, that is.

But Mrs. Converse is not through with the arts of seamanship. She still teaches navigation and keeps up with advances in the field by attending just about every convention on navigation held.

She is also a navigation consultant, has published many books on the subject and is still writing about it.

Capt. Converse logged much of her nearly 80,000 sea miles aboard an ocean-going yacht that she and her husband piloted out of Boston around the turn of the century. Mrs. Converse was born in Walden, Mass., grew up in Boston, and married wealthy shoe manufacturer Harry E. Converse.

Shortly after her husband died in 1921, Mrs. Converse moved to Denver, but even in this landlacked city she never forgot her love of the sea. She returned to the study of navigation and decided to go to sea "for the experience."

MERCHANT SHIP

In 1938, Junior Officer Mary Converse signed on her first Merchant Marine Ship. She was 66.

The vessel was the Henry S. Grove, an 11,000-ton freighter, and Mrs. Converse sailed on her for 20,000 miles of " experience." In all, she logged nearly 33,800 miles as a junior officer.

In 1940 Mrs. Converse passed the tests for a master's certificate which entitled her to pilot any ship of any tonnage anywhere in the world. But she related:

"That was just about at the start of the war, you know, and there was no place for a woman aboard a ship in wartime." She spent the war years teaching navigation to servicemen.

So "Capt." Converse never took command of a ship. But she is still licensed to do so.

DOWN TO THE SEA

Mrs. Converse has "gone down to the sea again," however. She left Denver this week for a new home in Carmarillo, Calif., near one of her five children and some of her 18 grandchildren and 44 great-grandchildren.

The "captain" is one seagoer equally at home on land and in the air. She received her first driver's license in 1903 and since has motored all over the country.

She said this week that she still liked "to do a little driving every day." Last year Mrs. Converse became the first person to win two Denver Post-U.S. National Bank "safe driving" awards.

She has also flown "about 75,000" miles, whenever she wanted "to get someplace in a hurry."

Lucie Barnes and Thomas Seymour Exchange Vows

The Rev. Harold E. Towne of St. James Episcopal Church, Birmingham, officiated at the wedding today of Lucie Jeannot Barnes and Thomas Todd Seymour.

The bride wore a gown of Italian silk for the 2:30 service. It was styled with a princess bodice, portrait neckline and short sleeves.

Her veil of silk illusion fell from a cap of Rose Pointe lace, from her great-grandmother's wedding veil. She carried a nosegay of white geraniums and ivy.

Lucie is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Russell C. Barnes of Birmingham, and Thomas' parents are Mr. and Mrs. Paul A. Seymour of Leavenworth, Kansas.

Mrs. Paul A. Seymour Jr. of Wichita, Kan., was her only attendant. She was gowned in Wedgewood blue with darker blue accents. Her flowers were blue iris and batchelor buttons in a nosegay arrangement.

ASSIST BRIDEGROOM

Paul A. Seymour Jr. of Wichita, Kan., was best man. Ushers were Donnell Carlson of Kansas City, Mo., Robert Prugh of Dayton, Ohio, and Jamie Barnes of Birmingham, brother of the bride.

The reception was held at Birmingham Country Club, with Mrs. Barnes greeting her guests wearing a navy silk faille dress with matching accessories.

Mrs. Seymour chose a dark blue suit of sheer wool for her son's wedding. Her accessories were of the same shade. Both mothers wore red rose corsages.

For traveling to Kansas City where the newlweds will reside, the new Mrs. Seymour wore a navy blue jersey suit with a tweed coat.

Beauty Hint

For a simple emergency shower cap, try making one out of heavy duty foil, like the new quilted type.

674 Refugee Jews Left Egypt for Israel

ATHENS (INS) — Six-hundred-and-seventy-four Jewish refugees from Egypt, many of them with stories of Cairo police brutality, sail from the Athenian port of Piraeus today for new homes in Israel.

They arrived in Greece yesterday aboard the Egyptian vessel Misr and transferred to a Greek ship for the final leg of their journey. Another 182 Jews who sailed from Egypt with them will remain aboard the Misr until it reaches Naples.

Confident Living

Most Amazing Personality Still Fascinates All People

By NORMAN VINCENT PEALE

I have been reading recently about Abraham Lincoln. It is hard to do all the reading I would like to do about him because more has been written about his life than about any other single figure in American history. He was, without question, one of the most amazing personalities who ever lived. Why is it that all these years after his death he continues to fascinate people of all kinds all over the world?

DR. PEALE

Is it because, although ungainly in form, born in a poverty-stricken log cabin, and self-educated, he rose to the top in our country?

Is it because he had a great heart filled with sympathy, pity and love?

Is it because he left behind him, in the words of his speeches and public papers, thoughts that are as true and important today as they were one hundred years ago?

Yes, it is all these things. But it is also something more.

Here was a man who had a hard job to do, and who did it superlatively well. How did he do it?

With his own wisdom? To be sure, he had a great deal of native, shrewd intelligence. But it was said by one who knew him intimately that Lincoln was great because he was always open to the Infinite. This mystic and spiritual quality manifested itself in various ways.

SAW STRANGE OMENS

The night he was first elected President, he was lying on a couch, resting. There was a mirror in front of him and, suddenly, he noticed that he could see his face twice: one colorful and healthy; the other ashen as death. He got up and examined the mirror and found no distortion in it; he lay down again and continued to see his face twice. The incident troubled him and he sensed a profound meaning in it. He said to himself, "Perhaps I shall live through my first administration and die in the second."

He saw other strange portents all through his life. Three days before he died, he dreamed there was a funeral at the White House. In his dream he went to the casket and saw his own face. On the afternoon of the day he was shot, he came back from a late afternoon walk with his guard, Crook. He would always dismiss Crook with, "Goodnight, Crook." This time he said, "Goodbye, Crook."

During the days of the Civil War we are told that Lincoln, night after night, would lie prone on the floor on his face, a Bible before him, telling the Lord that he did not have the wisdom to handle the great responsibilities and asking the Lord to help him. We know now that the Lord granted him the insight he needed through those tumultuous and critical days.

Lincoln was a man saturated in the Infinite; open to it in every pore of his mind. His life is the best example of how to do a hard and difficult and even unpleasant job effectively.

DON'T GO IT ALONE

Don't try to do it all by yourself. Saturate your mind with God, open it to the Infinite, let the great forces of the universe guide you, as the Bible says, in "rightly dividing the word of truth."

* * *

As Lincoln did, put into your mind that infiniteness, that quietness, that confidence which takes the strain from you and gives you an optimistic and positive picture of the result to be obtained. There is a deep and profound subtlety in human experience. If you get into the spiritual flow of the universe with God, that which is hard becomes, if not easy, at least possible.

Sermons Said 'Out of Balance'

Many Ministers Teach Own Version of Gospel, Professor Contends

ANN ARBOR (INS)—James W. Clarke, professor of homelitics at Princeton Theological Seminary, has declared that the content of many Sunday sermons may be "gravely out of balance" because of the personal likes and dislikes of individual ministers.

Addressing the 18th annual Michigan Pastors Conference at the University of Michigan, Professor Clarke explained:

"In a sense, this imbalance is inevitable for, as no two men are alike, preachers likewise differ. We are distinctive individuals with distinctive backgrounds, culture, approach, bent and expression. We have a dominant mood which comes oftener than any other and so is our ruling mood. This we inevitably share with our people and it inevitably colors and proportions our message."

He continued:

"In a deep and true sense, each Christian preacher has his own gospel. Paul speaks about 'my gospel.' All of us have 'my gospel,' otherwise we would speak only with 'authorities' and not with the authority which comes out of our own mind and soul.

"What we forget is 'my gospel' must conform to, be obedient to, be disciplined and checked by Christ's Gospel. No mental or spiritual exercise will be more productive than the constant comparison of 'my gospel' with 'Christ's Gospel.'

"Some of us pride ourselves that we are preachers of a 'social gospel.' Others of us pride ourselves that we are preachers of a 'personal gospel.' The Gospel of Christ is neither, because it is a synthesis. It is both, because it includes the other. If we omit either, then our preaching is unbalanced."

The conference, sponsored by the U. of M. extension service and the Michigan Council of Churches ended today.

Young People Attend Retreat at East Tawas

Fifteen members of the Luther League of St. John's Lutheran Church, 87 Hill St. at Cherry Court are attending the Winter Retreat of the Eastern Michigan District of the Augustana Lutheran Church which is being held at Silver Valley Recreation area near East Tawas, this weekend. The Leaguers will be guests of the Grace Lutheran Church at East Tawas.

The theme of the retreat will be the Power of Paul. Those attending from St. John's will be the following: Joan Isaacs, Carol Ann Westness, Edwina Palmer, JoAnn Folsom, Nicki Folsom, Edward Santala, David Odden, Bruce Quayle, Ralph Clauson, Paul Wendland, Arthur Larson, Gerald Larson, Tom Hollis, Charles LeTourneau and Richard Lundgren.

The Leaguers from the Detroit-Pontiac area will travel via chartered bus. The Retreat began Friday evening and will continue through Saturday and Sunday afternoon.

The Luther League of St. John's Lutheran Church is also making plans to conduct the service on Sunday morning, March 3rd, as a part of the church's observance of Youth Sunday of the Augustana Lutheran Church.

Revival Meetings Slated for 1st Social Brethren

First Social Brethren Chnurch, 316 Baldwin Ave. has scheduled revival meetings to start at 7:30 p.m. Sunday.

The Rev. Earnest Tison of Harrisburg, Ill. who served as a missionary for the Social Brethren Association last year, will be the evangelist.

A special quartet and the choir will provide musical selections each evening. The Rev. Thomas Guest, pastor, extends a welcome to the community.

Christian Youth Director to Assist Young People

MRS. GLORA LUCK

Mrs. Glora Luck, who was for five years Director of Christian Education at the Oakland Ave. United Presbyterian Church, has joined the staff of Christian Literature Sales.

She will act as a Christian Education consultant and head a new customer service department.

Mrs. Luck is a graduate of the Moody Bible Institute and also has taken work at the San Francisco Baptist College and the San Francisco State College. Before coming to Pontiac, she did Christian Education work in Chicago, Buffalo and San Francisco.

TO BE SPEAKER

She will be available as a speaker for Sunday School council meetings, rallies, etc. in churches in the Pontiac area.

Her purpose will be to promote Sunday School and Young Peoples work and assist pastors and Sunday School superintendents especially in smaller churches.

"We feel that Mrs. Luck can be a real help to the churches in Pontiac and consider ourselves fortunate to be able to make her services available," was the comment of Floyd P. Miles, president and manager of Christian Literature Sales.

SPEAKER FROM BRZIL

The Rev. Norman M. Dunsmore of Lappa Bahia, Brazil will be guest speaker at 5:30 p.m. Sunday at the combined meeting of the Junior High and Senior High groups.

A graduate of Rutgers University and Princeton Theological Seminary, Mr. Dunsmore is in charge of Presbyterian work in the San Francisco River Valley in Brazil.

The Board of Deacons will meet Tuesday evening to sort and pack clothing for Hungary and Korea. Paul D. Blystone will be in charge.

The Tuxis Society leaders, Karen Beam, Richard Mann, Melvin White and Besty Bradley will meet at the home of the Rev. and Mrs. Galen E. Hershey on Feb. 16 to plan the program for the year.

Church Asks Revision of Immigration Laws

The Board of Missions of the Methodist Church has called for a revision of the McCarran-Walter Act to provide for admission of at least 300,000 immigrants a year without discrimination based on race, sex or national orgin.

In a resolution on McCarran-Walter revision, the Board said: "References at this meeting to the tragic plight of Hungarian refugees have reminded us of the urgent need for thorough revision of the McCarran-Walter Act so that it will not be necessary for groups of refugees, which we must expect in a world in revolution, to be dependent on emergency legislation.

We have also been reminded of the millions of refugees who have waited for resettlement for as long as 10 years.

National Group Calls for Action

Persons of All Faiths, Races, Invited to Affair at YWCA Tuesday

Mrs. Lois Nochman of Inkster will speak on "Race Unity" at the YWCA on Franklin Boulevard at 8 p.m. Tuesday. Persons of all faiths and races are invited.

Joseph Zabelski of the Bah'ai Faith, Everett Spurlock, director of the Urban League and Maurice Thome, D.S.C. of Pontiac Lodge No. 850 B'nai Brith will be in charge of forming a "Brotherhood Group" or reestablishing the "Roundtable of Christians and Jews."

A call for action to "banish segregation from every area of American life" has been sounded by the National Council of Churches in its message prepared for Race Relations Sunday (tomorrow).

The National Council calls on all local congregations to take a forthright stand in the "crucial" issue of segregation with "wise restraint and calm reasonableness."

While noting that some progress toward integration is being made in schools and public transportation, the message points to segregated housing as a "critical problem remaining in every section of the nation."

By building up public opinion in favor of integration, by cooperating with employers' and other groups to secure equal work opportunities for all and by working for "open occupancy" housing, the message declares, the churches can face the challenge of "fashioning a truly Christian nation."

Fairbanks Methodists Plan New Church Unit

The "farthest north Methodist church in America"—which began its organized life worshippings in a rented hall from which empty whiskey bottles had to be removed on Sunday mornings, and whose congregation thinks nothing of going to church in weather 41 degrees below zero—is preparing to expand its facilities.

With a goal of 43,000 for a new educational unit, the First Methodist Church of Fairbanks, Alaska, set to work and in nine days raised $50,015 in cash and pledges for the building.

Dr. Harper Leaves Today for Africa and England

Dr. Howard V. Harper, who writes the Pontiac Press weekly column on "Days and Customs Of All Faiths," leaves today for a two weeks' trip to Liberia, Africa, where he will conduct meetings on behalf of the laymen of the Episcopal Church there.

On his return trip from Africa he will spend several days in England at the request of the Bishop of Stepney to consult with the Church of England leaders in laymen's activity.

It seems this aspect of church life has been more extensively developed here in the United States than in England and the Bishop of Stepney is very anxious for Dr. Harper to attend some important meetings in the British Isles to explain the work which he has pioneered so successfully in this country.

He will accordingly explain the purposes and methods followed in his work here.

Dr. Harper is recognized as one of the best-qualified authorities in the world on the various religions as covered in his column, "DAYS AND CUSTOMS OF ALL FAITHS," which the Pontiac Press publishes each week.

CHARLES GRAY

Evangelist to Hold Meetings 2 Weeks

Charles Gray, an Arkansas evangelist, is conducting revival meetings this week at the First United Pentecostal Church, 178 Green Sa. Services will continue another two weeks at 7:30 each evening.

The congregation just recently purchased the Green St. building from the Christian and Missionary Alliance Church.

The latter congregation is worshiping in the Isaac Crary School until their church is completed at Cass Lake road and M59.

Besides his preaching, the Rev. Mr. Gray will sing, accompanying himself on the mandolin.

First Christian Holding Mission

Dr. James T. Scheng to Speak to Woman's Fellowship

Mrs. Millicent Schaeffer, executive secretary of the Michigan Christian Women's Fellowship, will be the speaker tomorrow evening at the annual School of Missions in the First Christian Church.

Her topic will be "From the Christian Women's Board of Missions to the Christian Women's Fellowship."

Classes are being held for all ages from 6:30 to 9 p.m. each Sunday evening through February. At the close of the sessions, coffee and refreshments will be served.

Dr. James T. Scheng, medical superintendent of the Tuberculosis Sanatarium, will speak on "Native Land of China" at the Women's Fellowship meeting at 8 p.m. Tuesday. The group will meet in the church.

New Bethel Baptists Hosts to Choir Union

The City-Wide Choir Union will present a song festival at 3 p.m. Sunday in the New Bethel Baptist Church.

The Choir Union, composed of many choirs of the Negro churches meet for song and fellowship the first Sunday afternoon of each month.

REV. H. A. HICKEY

'What Lack We Yet' Topic of Talk Sunday

New Bethel Baptist Church will give recognition to Negro History Week at the 4 p.m. service Sunday for the 13th consecutive year. The Rev. Handley A. Hickey, of Saunders Memorial A.M.E. Church, Detroit will be the speaker. His subject will be "What Lack We Yet."

The Rev. Mr. Hickey was born in Galveston, Tex. and received his high school education there. He was graduated from Wilberforce University with a B.A. degree. He studied at Payne Theological Seminary and was granted his Masters degree at the University of Pittsburgh.

ety, and the Alpha Kappa MU Fraternity, he also belongs to the Beta Kappa Chi Scientific Society, and the Alpha appa MU Honor Society. For several years, Mr. Hickey taught at Wilberforce University in the department of philosophy and psychology.

The occasion is sponsored by the Ladies' Auxiliary under the leadership of the president, Mrs. Lee A. Stewart. The Rev. William H. Bell is the pastor.

Christian Men to Meet

"Of Books and the Sloth," a science film prepared by the Moody Bible Institute, will be shown at noon Monday to the Christian Men's Club when the group meets for lunch at Clark's Drive In, 735 Baldwin Ave.

Episcopalians Amend Laws

Gerald Guinan Elected Delegate to National General Convention

The Episcopal Diocese of Michigan has amended its constitution to allow women delegates at Diocesan Conventions.

The action was taken this week at the 124th annual Diocesan Convention in Detroit.

The convention also raised salaries of missionary priests to $3,800. The Rt. Rev. Richard S. M. Emrich, bishop of the diocese, reported an increase of 16 clergymen in the past year.

Gerald Guinan of All Saints Episcopal Church was elected a delegate to the General Convention to be held in Florida in 1958.

Attending from All Saints were the Rev. and Mrs. C. George Widdifield, the Rev. and Mrs. Lewis W. Towler, Mrs. James Hampton, Mrs. Bert F. A. Ede, and Mr. and Mrs. Standish Sibley.

Others were Mr. and Mrs. Marshall E. Smith, Mrs. Homer Harbage, Mrs. Robert Nienstedt, Mr. and Mrs. James Briney, Mrs. Robert Tricker and Dr. and Mrs. Aaron Riker.

Also included in the group to Detroit were Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Guinan, Mrs. Elizabeth Coval, Mrs. John Blamy, Victor Schramm, Dr. and Mrs. Bruce F. Hubbard and Mr. and Mrs. John Davies.

Rev. E. A. Auchard to Conduct Service

The elders and deacons recently elected by the Orchard Lake Community Church will be ordained and installed at the 11 o'clock worship hour tomorrow morning. The Rev. Edward D. Auchard, pastor, will preach on "You Are Christ's" at both the 9 and 11 a.m. services.

At the ordination and installation, Ivan Hulliberger will become an elder in the class of 1958; elders for the 1959 class will be William Duckwitz, Lowell Gall, Gordon Lyon, John Ashby, Charles Wright and Eric Westerberg.

In the class of 1959, the following will become deacons, Mrs. William Irons, Mrs. Roswell Reeves, Mrs. Jorma Sarto and Mrs Harriet Woodbridge.

The Rev. and Mrs. Auchard will be guests of the church school staff at the dinner Wednesday.

Church Auxiliary Meets

Women's Auxiliary of the Episcopal Church of the Advent met Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. Jack Couzens on Orchard Lake road. Mrs. John Black and Mrs. Richard Haughton assisted the hostess.

Committee chairmen appointed by Mrs. John Black, president, include Mrs. Clement White, worship and United Thank Offering; Mrs. William Alfs, Christian social relations; Mrs. Russell Myer, program, and Mrs. Franklin Read, publicity.

Special committee chairmen appointed were Mrs. Stanley Warne, money-making; Mrs. Frank Arnoldi and Mrs. Roger Marquis, Fall Fair.

Mrs. William Moore, United Thank Offering chairman of Christ Church Cranbrook, spoke of her experiences during the three years she and members of her family lived in Rio de Janeiro and Sao Paulo, Brazil.

Mrs. Moore told how funds of the United Thank Offering built two Episcopal churches in the area.

The important thing about a flag is the "Way of life" it represents. The American flag is not just the trademark of an economic system that produces more cars, cans and deep freezes than any other. We rightfully associate with our flag all the privileges and obligations found only in a society based on the freedom of the individual. It was not intended to represent great machines but great ideals, not bigger and better gadgets but bigger and better human beings. It symbolizes the secret ballot, trial by jury, a free press, decision by discussion, right of private property and an unlocked door on every synagogue, cathedral and church in the nation.
Religious liberty is an important part of the foundation of our nation. Have you and your family found a place of spiritual guidance and fellowship in this community? An easy way to get started is by taking your children to Sunday School and then staying with them. You will all enjoy it.

Rose to Head of Civil Militia

Hershey Began Career With National Guard for Its Social Life!

By International News Service

Selective Service Director Lewis B. Hershey is prehaps the only man in history who rose from the rank of major to three-star general while heading a civilian organization.

Hershey, who made news yesterday when he urged Congress to authorize drafting fathers and 4-Fs for military training, got his first taste of army life on the Mexican border in 1916. He was a major when he came to Washington in 1937 to be "executive officer of the joint Army and Navy Selective Service Committee."

Because of the advance preparation, more than 16 million men were registered within a month after the Selective Service law took effect Sept. 16, 1940. Within two months, draftees were reporting to training camps throughout the U. S.

Hershey was appointed to head Selective Service in July, 1941, and has held the post with scarcely a murmur of criticism ever since.

MENNONITE FAMILY

Paradoxically, the man who has supervised the military induction of millions is a descendant of Mennonites who were deeply opposed to war.

He was born Sept. 12, 1893, on a farm near Angola, Ind., and attended a one-room school known as "Hell's Point." After a three-month course at Tri-State College in Angola, he became a teacher at the age of 17.

The National Guard, now under fire, gave him a start in a military career. Many youths, including Hershey, were interested in the "social life" the guard provided, but soon after he joined in 1916, his unit was fighting on the Mexican border.

On his return he began studies at Indiana Uninversity for a Doctor of Philosophy degree, but when World War I took him to France, he permanently siwtched to a military life.

Marine Training 'Much Tougher'

Rigors of Recruit Drill Will Not Be Diminished Regardless of Charges

WASHINGTON (INS) — The Marines' inspector general contends that Leatherneck training now is "much tougher" than a year ago.

He said the suspensions of four instructors at Parris Island, S. C., does not indicate a let-up in the rigors of drill.

Maj. Gen David Shoup also disclosed that punishment has been meted out to a number of recruits at Parris Island in recent months for bringing what proved to unjustified charges against their drill instructors.

Shoup, a veteran of 30 years' Marine service, assumed command of training after the tragic drownings of six recruits caused the arrest of Sgt. Matthew McKeon at Parris Island last April.

The general said in an interview that the Marine camps have been completely successful in accomplishing the twin objectives he set at that time:

1. To provide greater supervision of training, and 2. to assure that the training is "tough, rigorous and under the control of enlisted instructors."

"We have definite evidence," Shoup said, "that the training today is much tougher, I mean physically tougher, than it was before the McKeon incident. We also have evidence that is the way most recruits want it."

Shoup was asked if the suspensions might indicate the recruits had gotten the upper hand, and could get their drill instructors removed merely by bringing charges.

He said: "I can assure you that the drill sergeants are considered innocent until proven guilty, and that the suspensions were ordered only after careful consideration of the evidence.

They heard university specialists discuss organizational operations, communications treatment and other topics.

She's Short and Plain, but She's in Demand

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—Eva Marie Saint was in the ladies' room recently when she overheard a couple of other women there talking about her.

"Oh, my Gawd, she's PLAIN!" one woman said.

"And she's SHORT!" said the other.

"That's right—she's just a short, plain girl," declared the first.

At that moment Miss Saint swept into their presence and stood alongside her two detractors at the mirror. "You see, we movie stars are just ordinary people," she smiled at them.

"Oh, my Gawd," gasped one woman to the other, "she heard everything!"

"That's right—EVERYTHING!" replied Miss Saint, and swept out.

Miss Saint knew long before they told her that she was short and plain—but she can have almost any acting job she wants in either TV or pictures. She's now playing the wife of a narcotic addict in "A Hatful of Rain" for Hollywood and meanwhile considering certain TV spectaculars.

EVA MARIE

Miss Saint, who's 32, and the mother of 22-months-old Darrell Hayden, born two days after she won an Oscar, was drinking a brandy flip and wearing a red and white jumper-and-skirt outfit bought at an expensive Hollywood shop.

I've been having so much fun here calling all my friends in the Village where we used to live that if it weren't for my husband (director Jeff Hayden) and baby, I'd like to stay longer."

Often called the first great actress developed entirely by TV, Miss Saint almost became a schoolteacher.

She left Newark and the family home at Delmar, N. Y., to take up teaching at Bowling Green State Normal College, in Ohio . . . but got interested in college dramatics and abandoned teaching after graduating in 1946.

"Campus Hoopla," produced by the late Owen Davis Jr., was her first TV acting opportunity, then came the Emmy and after that "On the Waterfront" and the Oscar.

Miss Saint plays an expectant mother in "Hatful of Rain" and, while shooting a few scenes here, she was in a convincing maternity gown. In fact, she attempted to buy a raincoat on lower 5th avenue and when she said, "This is big enough," the salesmans said, "But it won't be."

"Oh, yes, it will; I'm only acting," she told him.

THE WEEK-END WINDU P . . .

"Joe Louis' publicity company landed a big beer account . . . Ex-boxer Lou Nova, now acting in "Happiest Millionaire," asked for a raise: "Because I'm a draw—in 1941 I drew the biggest gate they ever had in Madison Sq. Garden!" . . . Ann Miller and Joan Collins will attend the Heart Fund Ball in Palm Beach on Feb. 14 . . . Director Frank Capra's first film in five years will be "The Lady."

First Degree Murder —but Didn't Do Killing

READING, Pa. (AP)—James W. Redline, convicted of first-degree murder because his partner in a holdup here was shot to death by police, has been denied a new trial.

Judge Warren K. Hess of Berks County Court ruled yesterday that the 31-year-old Allentown man was responsible for the death of Erbor J. Worseck, also 31 and from Allentown. Judge Hess cited the law which states that a person engaged in a felony is responsible for any death resulting whether or not he did the actual killing.

Weighty Problem Might Be Solved Wednesday Night

Twenty - two members of the Fashion Your Figure club lost 56¼ pounds altogether last week. There was only a gain of 6 pounds as members were striving to shed excess weight.

On Wednesday at 7 p.m. the club will have their annual Valentine's party at the Waterford Township high school. The refreshments will be light, according to Gladys DeMasellis, chairman.

Mrs. Jay Montgomery of Detroit will demonstrate an excercise machine to club members.

Josephine Grace was awarded the top trophy for losing ten pounds in one week, and the "little pig" trophy was given to Janet Leinger for her weight gain.

Utilities Expand in West

NEW YORK — With less than 14 per cent of the total population of the country, the 11 Western states represent 20 to 25 per cent of the country's markets. In 1956 Western utilities accounted for 21.2 per cent of the national expenditures for utility expansion.

Hollywood Headlines

Stars Hold Varied Views on Filmland Divorce Rate

By BOB THOMAS

(Last of three articles on divorce in Hollywood?)

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—What do the stars say about divorce in Hollywood?

I put the question to several of them and got varying reactions. Some would not admit that there was any more divorce here than there is in Seattle or Saranac. Jane Russell was one of these.

"There's just as much divorce in any other town," she claimed. "The only difference is that more attention is attracted when actors break up their marriages. And it's the same ones who get married again and again. You forget the number of stars who marry only once."

She admitted there are some special stresses in actors' lives—"You're dealing in emotions all day and you're bound to have some strain when you go home." Her reply to the suggestion that average folk have less opportunity for extra-marital romance than stars:

"Are you kidding? Just walk in any cocktail bar. You'll see lots of it going on.'

James Cagney was also unconvinced about the greater volume of divorce among actors. "But if there is," he said, "perhaps the answer is an economic one.

"When you've got a lot of money, it's no problem to get a divorce. But for people who aren't rich, it's uneconomical."

Mitzi Gaynor said flatly she doesn't believe there is more divorce among actors. "It's true that acting is emotional work," she said, "but if you are mature, you can overcome that."

But are actors mature?

"Actors are not sound people for marriage," Burt Lancaster admitted bluntly. "No artist is. By their nature, they must be selfish. It is hard for them to be able to stop the creative fount when they come home and devote themselves to their wives and children."

Lancaster said it takes a well-adjusted woman to accustom herself to being the wife of a star. But it is even more difficult for a man who is married to a star, he said, and the divorce ratio bears him out.

Jack Palance was one of the few who expressed belief the divorce rate is higher here. Said he: "Acting is a lot tougher job than most people think. A role can drain everything out of you. You come home beat, then you have to stay up until 11 to prepare for the next day's work. Where does that leave your family?

"Naturally, you have to make some compromises to devote time to them. Then your work suffers. It's a tough situation."

Ike in Georgia for Lazy Days of Golf, Hunting

THOMASVILLE, Ga. (AP)—For vacationing President Eisenhower it's quail hunting or golf today—or maybe both.

The President flew in from Washington late yesterday for his fourth February stay in a row at the big planattion estate of Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey, his host. He may about 10 days.

The smiling Chief Executive, accompanied by Mrs. Eisenhower, got a warm welcome as he motored through the crowds at nearby Moultrie, Ga., where his plane landed, and here at Thomasville.

At one point along the highway in this traditionally Democratic state he quite likely got a sign which said:

"Even the Democrats and the quail welcome you, Ike."

As just about everyone knows, the President loves to golf and to hunt quail, and he can do both here.

The Glen Arven Golf Course is in fine shape, but conditions for quail hunting are not so good.

The high in Thomasville yesterday was an unseasonable 85 degrees and days of warm sun have left the fields dry and the trails dusty.

Mrs. Eisenhower remarked that "this sun certainly feels good," It felt good to the men, too, after Washington's murky weather.

Set Hearing for Pair in Grand Rapids Holdup

CHICAGO (AP)—A U. S. commissioner yesterday ordered a 25-year-old Chicago divorcee and her 20-year-old Michigan boy friend held in $25,000 bond each on federal charges of robbing a Grand Rapids, Mich., bank of $8,500.

Appearing for arraignment befor Commissioner C. S. Bentley Pike were Mrs. Minerva Goodman and Joseph Postelwaite of Kalamazoo.

They were charged with robbing the Grand Rapids Citizens Industrial Bank Monday. A hearing was continued to Feb. 13.

Police seized the couple in a hotel Wednesday night and recovered $7,262. The rest of the loot was recovered from a railroad station locker.

By BILL CORNWELL

A scrappy St. Michael basketball team dominated every phase of play last night to wallop St. Frederick, 56-33, in the renewal of their crosstown rivalry at the Pontiac High School gymnasium.

St. Mike took charge right from the start and the outcome was never in doubt. The Shamrocks outscored St. Fred in each quarter and they walked off the floor at halftime with a commanding 25-9 advantage.

St. Fred, obviously missing the services of big Bill Mountain, often became disorganized by St. Mike's alert, aggressive defense and the shorter Shamrocks even controlled the backboards.

The Mikes' Big Three — Chuck Brown, Ken Halpin and Dan Dropps—spreaheaded the attack.

Brown netted 23 points, including 11 foul shots in 13 attempts. Halpin contributed 13 points and Dropps, who excelled at rebounding, added a dozen.

Tom Derocher led St. Fred's sputtering offense with 11 points.

Victory accomplished two things for the Shamrocks. It gained a full measure of revenge for their earlier loss to the Rams and gave them 3rd place in the final Suburban Catholic League standings with a 7-3 record. The Rams occupy 4th spot on a 6-4 mark.

Orchard Lake St. Mary handed Royal Oak St. Mary a 50-44 setback Friday night, but the Eaglets will have to be content with 2nd position. Undefeated St. Benedict crushed St. Clement, 64-18, to win its 2nd straight SCL title.

Balanced scoring featured Orchard Lake's 9th league win in 10 games. Four Eaglet players broke into double figures, headed by Paul Franckowiak with 14 points. Bob Costello meshed 13 in a losing cause.

In yesterday's other SCL game, Ray Rieti fired 23 points to lead St. James to a 49-20 triumph over St. Rita.

Pontiac Moves Closer to SVC Title With Win

Diehm Scores 19, Ray Buckets 16 to Pace 10th Straight

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

FLINT—Just like old man river Pontiac's basketball team keeps rolling along, but things continue to get tougher every week.

The Chiefs battled their way back from a 22-9 deficit in the 2nd quarter to whip fired up Flint Central, 51-48 at Ballanger field house last night.

It was Pontiac's 10th straight victory and it set the stage for the Class A battle of the season next Tuesday when unbeaten Highland Park also 10-0 visits the Chief tepee.

Flint Central jumped to a 14-4 lead in the first six minutes and led 14-9 at the quarter. The Indians looked like they were really on a warpath as they continued their pace in the first four minutes of the second stanza.

Dave Diehm, the night's top scorer with 19 points, finally hit to make it 22-11 and the Chiefs then rolled up 11 straight points to cut the margin to 24-22 in favor of Central at the half.

With Diehm hitting for 11 and Hudson Ray for seven in the third period, Pontiac moved into the final quarter with a 42-34 lead.

The Chiefs elected to control the ball in the last period but Central pecked away. With 45 seconds to play the Indians pulled within one point, 49-48.

Diehm however calmly dropped through two free throws with 28 seconds remaining to clinch the victory.

Ray added 16 and Dick Whitmer 9 for Pontiac. Harrison Munson who played only the 1st quarter had four points.

"I was satisfied with our playing, "said coach Art Van Rysin "and I know everyone from here on in will be trying to knock us off."

Pontiac attempted 60 floor shots and made 19 for 31 per cent, while Central was hitting on 17 of 67 for 25 per cent.

Meanwhile at Bay City, Saginaw kept its title hopes alive by trimming Bay City Central 85-67 in a wild game which saw two Central players suffering injuries.

Deb Blondin, the league's top scorer poured in 37 points to break open a second half surge after Saginaw held a slim 31-30 halftime margin.

Center Bruce Lodewyk suffered a knee injury and was taken to the hospital, and reserve center Bob Bishop had two teeth knocked out in the hard played game.

Arthur Hill dumped Flint Northern, 46-36 in the other game.

Berkley Upsets Vikings to Tie for Loop Lead

10-Game Streak Ends; Waterford Wins 70-58; as Southfield Bows

By CHUCK ABAIR

A determined Berkley hoop team brought a sudden halt to Walled Lake's ambitions for an unbeaten season last night with a 62-52 home win in the "game of the year" in the Inter-Lakes League.

The visitors took a 10-game win streak into the contest with a good chance to all but clinch the loop crown against their only threat. But the Bears had their minds set on revenge.

Waterford bounced back to show some of its earlier power in walloping Van Dyke, 70-58, and Farmington nipped Southfield, 44-41 in other IL contests.

A total of 42 personal fouls marred the Walled Lake-Berkley contest with Vikings scoring star Larry Hughes fouling out in the 3rd canto after garnering 24 points to pace all the point-getters.

Walled Lake opened with an 11-9 first quarter lead but Berkley's well balanced offensive took command the rest of the way. The host Bears went ahead by two at halftime and increased it to 44-41 after three quarters. They pulled away the final eight minutes.

Berkley big boys Dave Neiger and Jim Zalenski sparked the BHS five into a deadlock for 1st place with 17 and 15 points respectively. John Walker hit 12 for the losers before leaving on fouls.

Chuck Gillis' return to early season form and some continued fine work by Ron Seets enabled Waterford to overpower Van Dyke. Seets tallied 21 and Gillis 20 as the Skippers advanced to 2-5 in loop games.

Tom Thorpe rung up 30 points, including 14 straight foul conversions, to lead the vanquished and take scoring honors. The Abes connected on 22 of 25 fouls but could not hit consistently from the floor.

Farmington pulled out its hard-earned triumph over the Blue Jays in the final minutes when a field goal and foul by Dave Warriner clinched the decision.

Maples Crush Hazel Parkers

E. Detroit, Port Huron Also Victors in EML Action Friday

Birmingham's high school cagers last night compiled their 3rd Eastern Michigan League victory, 61-31 over a badly overpowered Hazel Park five on the Maples' floor.

In other EML encounters East Detroit continued its unbeaten path to the league title with its 7th straight victory, 57-50 over Port Huron, and Ferndale bolstered its 2nd spot with a 67-47 win over Mt. Clemens (5th). Hazel Park occupies the basement.

Eleven players figured in the Maples' total, led by Marsh Roe with 16. Bob Isbell, with 11, was the only other Birmingham player in double figures. Larry Clyma had 10 for the Parkers.

Dales' Gordy Rodwan paced his team with 29 points. Bathers never threatened.

Really a 'Cold' Night

DETROIT (AP) — The All Saints High School reserve basketball team defeated the St. Casimir reserve team last night, 62-0.

Orion in 3rd, Falcons Whip Avon

Another outstanding individual scoring performance by pivot man Jim Drake was the spark that Lake Orion needed to decision Clawson by a 66-59 score in the Oakland B loop last night.

Rochester walloped Avondale's 2nd place team in a non-league tussle to the tune of 70-56 to snap the Jackets' seven - game win string.

In other Oakland B play, Troy took a closer step towards wrapping up the crown by downing Roseville, 45-38, while Fitzgerald had no trouble taking Madison, 52-42.

Drake, who set two records with 40 digits the last time out, came back with 32 at Clawson to give him 72 in two games, both away from home.

The scoring ace connected for half of his total in a 23-point 2nd period uprising which sent the Dragons ahead to stay. Ralph MacLean added 13 to the win cause as Orion took over 3rd place with a 5-5 slate. Tom Trexler meshed 16 for Clawson.

Rochester's big early lead and a balanced attack was too much for the speedy Avondale lads as Dave Peters topped four men in double figures with 30. The Yellow Jackets had three of their own with 10 or more sparked by Tim Mulholland with 17.

Rochester opened strong with a 17-8 advantage and increased it to 35-17 at halftime. Coach Dick Bye's "cold" AHS gang held a slight edge over the last two quarters but never made a serious threat to recover from the slow start.

It was the Falcons' 11th successful outing in 13 tries. Avondale is now 8-4 overall after losing three of four opening games.

Mike Varajon was the big gun in the Troy win with 16 points. The Colts are now 8-1 in the Oakland B. Joe Bolognino tallied 20 to lead the way for Fitzgerald.

Royal Oak Defeated

Monroe led all the way to defeat Royal Oak, 62-54, in a Border Cities League basketball game Friday night at Monroe. Claude Beauregard paced Monroe with 18 points, but Royal Oak's Fred Wasen took scoring honors by collecting 23. It was the 8th loss in 11 starts for the Acorns.

Ortonville Wins Upset

Imlay Trims Oxford, 83-46

Undefeated Imlay City breezed past Oxford as expected, but Ortonville upset the form chart by surprising North Branch in South Central Conference basketball action Friday night.

Eleven Imlay City players broke into the scoring column as the Spartans trampled Oxford, 83-46, at Imlay. The winners enjoyed an overwhelming 42-19 halftime lead.

Larry Dorow meshed 22 points to pace Imlay City to its 6th conference win and 13th overall. Carl Roland and Jeff Brady tallied 12 apiece for Oxford.

Ortonville, winless in four previous league starts, upended 2nd place North Branch, 66-52, on the Ortonville court. The Blackhawks forged into a 32-20 edge at halftime and never relinquished their advantage.

Chuck Graves scored 26 points and teammate Bob Hutchings added 19 for Ortonville. John Ribner made 22 points in defeat.

A 20-point effort by Millington's George Kish went for nought as the Cardinals bowed to Maple Grove, 60-57.

Almont Wins 9th Straight

A 44-point 1st half paced Almont to its 9th straight Southern Thumb triumph as the Raiders handed Dryden a 72-43 thumping last night.

The victors coasted to the win in the final half as Larry Kersten hooped 24 points and Lee Hough tallied 21 for the game.

Herb Sawgle paced the losing cause with 14 and Curt Flater added 11 as Dryden's record slipped to 3-5.

Armada won its 4th victory in nine starts by downing Memphis, 63-54 in another Thumb tilt. Jerry Willis tallied 23 and Benny Burns hit 19 to top the scoring.

Clarkston and Northville Roll On in W-O League

By H. GUY MOATS

Clarkston's high-point victory over Brighton, Northville's hot, winning battle with Milford, and Clarenceville's win against West Bloomfield, all failed to effect any shifts in the Wayne-Oakland basketball league, last night.

With four marksmen in double figures, Northville rolled to its 9th straight victory, 65-56 over Milford. Milford put up a good scrap for half the game, getting a tie at 29-29. But after Mac Burns hit for four straight outside buckets, the loop leaders went ahead to stay. Joe Goodright set the pace with 19 points. Northville tops the loop, Milford shares bottom rung with West Bloomfield.

Wolves and Bulldogs fought tooth and nail most of the way until the final two minutes when Clarkston got a one-point edge, held the ball and won on free throws, 82-76. Brighton led at half time 39-36, but Wolves came back with 28 and 18 points in the second half. Brian Watson of Brighton topped scorers with 26. Clarkston's George Lang had 25, Bill Noles 21, to help the club's 7th win to stay in 2nd place.

West Bloomfield made a fight of it most of the way against Clarenceville but couldn't get going and bowed to 5th place Clarenceville, 52-43. A "cold" hit the Keego club in the 2nd period when only two baskets were made in 17 shots. John Lucadam sparked a 3rd period rally that came within three points. Lucadam had 19 for game honors. Loss was Keego's 7th.

Utica Defeated by Mt. Clemens Five

The basketball fortunes of previously unbeaten Utica were jolted for the 2nd sucessive week as the Chieftains dropped a 55-50 decision to Mt. Clemens St. Mary last night.

Utica, which won its 1st seven outings, hit four more field goals than the home club but a fine 25-for-37 foul shooting record turned the tide for St. Mary.

The Chieftains trailed most of the way after leading in the opening period. Dubay paced St. Mary with 16 points. Lou Haase started in the Utica offensive with 20.

Woman in 601 Series

A 600 series was rolled for the 1st time in the 10-year history of the Drayton Ladies League recently when Mary Kay Muha compiled scores of 244-176-190 for a 610 total at the Dixie Recreation alleys. She is a member of the Woody's Boat Livery team.

Bloomfield Hills Trounced, 53-27

Bloomfield Hills ran into some stiff opposition Friday night and dropped a 53-27 decision to Riverview in a Southeast Suburban Conference basketball tilt at Wyandotte.

Riverview (formerly A. E. Smith) rolled up a commanding 25-12 halftime advantage and was never headed.

Jim Daly led Riverview with 12 points. A nine-point effort by Chuck Mezey was the best the Barons had to offer. It was their 6th conference setback in eight tries and gave them an overall mark of 3-8.

South Lyon Triumphs

A 19-point scoring spree by Dave Wren paced South Lyon to a 47-39 triumph over Pinckney last night in a League of the Lakes basketball game at Pinckney.

Parker Wrestlers Bow

Ruford Black and Ron Pierce copped early decisions but Hazel Park could not match the overall strength of defending champion Ypsilanti in dropping a 35-10 wrestling verdict yesterday. The Parkers are now 5-3 for the season.

Wilson Sparks Lapeer

Magnificent Tom Wilson scored 26 points to spark Lapeer's basketball team to an easy 68-53 victory over Mt. Morris last night at Lapeer. The win was the 7th in a row for the Panthers and gave them an overall sason record of 10-3.

Turkey Shoot Sunday

An all-day "turkey shoot" has been arranged for Sunday at the outdoor range at Newman and Stanley roads. Both shotguns and rifles may be used. Many prizes have been provided for winners. Shooting begins at 11 a.m., continues until lat afternoon.

Pair of Shutouts Marks PTTA Action

Two shutouts and a tie marked this week's action in the Pontiac Table Tennis Association, with the singles victory by Wes Jennings over Jim Beals the feature (17-21, 21-18, 21-16).

Results:

Newberry, L. H. Cole, tie, 3-3; Gen. Conveyor 6, Bethany 0; Pontiac Varnish 5, Fleet Carrier 1; Moote Electric 5, Prayer's 1; Capitol 6, Jankeys 0.

Loss of Relays Defeats Chiefs

It took victories in the two final events of yesterday afternoon's SVC swimming meet at PHS pool to stop Bob Boyce's hard-working tankers. Flint Central emerged victor 54-40, but only after winning the 160-yard medley relay and the 160-yard freestyle relay. Both finishes were close.

Another pool record was set by PHS captain Dennis Simonson with his 1:16.3 for the 120-yard individual medley. Dennis also won the 100-yard breaststroke. Other good performances were the win in the 40-yard freestyle by John Doerr, and Jim Gibbs in the 100-yard backstroke.

Loss was Chiefs' 6th in SVC, 8th overall, against one win in the Valley, one outside.

The results:

40-yard freestyle—Won by Doerr (P); 2nd, Elmer (C); 3rd, Cummins (P); 4th, Shantz (C). Time 20.9

100-yard breaststroke—Won by Simonson (P); 2nd, Alquire (C); 3rd, Powers (P); 4th, Welch (C). Time 1:26.8

200-yard freestyle—Won by Hosner (C); 2nd, Holloway (C); 3rd, LaMotte (P). Time 2:12.8

100-yard backstroke — Won by Gibbs (P); 2nd, Martin (C); 3rd, Sames (C). Times 1:09.1

100-yard freestyle — Won by Darnton (C); 2nd, Tollefson (P); 3rd, Heinrich (C); 4th, Colsch (P). Time 57.4

Diving — Won by Berryman (C); 2nd, LaMotte (P)

100-yard orthodox breaststroke — Won by Lau (C); 2nd, Stinson (P); tie for 3rd, Robarge (P), Bolton (C). Time 1:12.2

160-yard medley relay—Won by Central (Martin, Lau, Alquire, Berryman). Time 1:21.8

160-yard free style relay—Won by Central. Time 1:22.6.

Shrine Wins, 56-46

High-scoring Tom Ropers was limited to 10 points but Pat Flanagan came through with 16 to lead Shrine's basketball team to a 56-46 triumph over St. Patrick last night at Wyandotte. It was the 6th win for Shrine against seven losses.

STILL WINNING — Hayes Jones, who for two years led Pontiac High School to successive class A state track championships, is still winning, this time at Eastern Michigan College. He won three firsts, the only triple winner, in the Michigan AAU relays at Ann Arbor yesterday.

Ex-Chief Stars in Michigan AAU Relays

Hayes Jones Is Triple Winner in Indoor Meet

Eastern Michigan Frosh Wins Broad Jump Plus Two Hurdles Events

ANN ARBOR (AP)—Michigan's mighty shot putter, Dave Owen, Western Michigan's swift Ira Murchison and Eastern Michigan's versatile Hayes Jones dominated an international field of 300 here last night in the Michigan AAU relays.

Owen, the Michigan muscle man, pushed the 16-pound cannon ball 59 feet to become the fifth athlete in history to achieve that milestone his toss, a foot shy of the magic 60 mark, smashed meet and Yost Field House records.

Wolverine Charley Fonnville set both previous standards in 1948 with tosses of 56½ feet in the AAU and 56 feet 10 inches in the Michigan arena.

Jones, a high school track star last year at Pontiac, Mich., took three first places. He won the broad jump with a leap of 23 feet 11½ inches.

And then breezed home ahead in both the 65-yard high and low hurdles. His high hurdle time was 8.1 seconds and he crossed the low barriers in 7.5 seconds.

While at Pontiac High, Jones set a state high school meet record in the broad jump at 23-feet 8⅜ inches.

In his first indoor meet as a college freshman last week, Jones won three firsts as the Ypsi crew lost to Marquette.

Murchison, gold medal winner for the United States in the Olympics, won the 60-yard dash in the world record equalling time of 6.1 seconds, a mark held by a host of sprinters. His time won't be submitted for recognition because dashes on indoor dirt tracks cannot qualify.

Carelessness Costs Bettors Million a Year

Ten States Enriched by Failure to Collect on Winning Ducats

BALTIMORE (AP)—Careless horse players who fail to collect on winning tickets are tossing away more than a million dollars a year.

Figures compiled by the National Assn. of State Racing Commissioners show this carelessness enriched treasuries by $1,231,952 in the country's 10 leading racing states.

If you have some old tickets around the house, don't throw them out. There still may be time to collect.

In Maryland tickets are good for three years. You have a year to collect in California and in New York tickets from one season are good until the following March 31.

Last year $80,453 was turned over to the Maryland treasury representing the amount of uncashed tickets from 1953. In New York the take from careless bettors totaled $546,231 in 1956. In California it was $256,569.

Romack, Dye Collide in Palm Beach Final

PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Barbara Romack of Sacramento, Calif., playing in her first tournament of the winter, faces Mrs. Alice Dye of Indianapolis today in 18-hole finals of the women's golf championship of Palm Beach.

Miss Romack led 4-up after the first 10 holes but lost her touch and had to go 19 holes to oust Polly Riley, veteran from Fort Worth, Tex., yesterday and gain the finals.

Mrs. Dye, five times champion of Indiana, had to come from behind to win over Mary Ann Downey of Baltimore, 2-up.

Detroit Meets Chicago on Olympia Ice Tonight

DETROIT (INS) — The Detroit Red Wings make their final Saturday night home ice appearance of the regular season when they play the Chicago Black Hawks tonight at Olympia Stadium.

Tonight's contest is the start of a week-end home and home doubleheader.

Despite their lowly position in the standings, the Hawks have developed into one of the most formidable clubs in the league.

In their last five starts, the Black Hawks have won two games and tied twice.

With their offense rolling in high gear, the Hawks scored 20 goals in four of the five games and were shut out in the other.

Although the Wings have won seven games and tied one in nine meetings with the Hawks this season, the Detroiters realize Chicago has become a formidable opponent.

The Red Wings have captured all five games played on Olympia ice and the Hawks are the only team that has not won or tied on local ice this season.

Two exhibition games have been added to the Red Wing schedule, the games falling on successive Tuesdays. They will travel to Ann Arbor next Tuesday to meet the University of Michigan in their annual clash. One week later they play an International League All Star team at Fort Wayne, Ind.

Detroit is still in first place with 65 points, two more than the challenging Montreal Canadiens. The Boston Bruins are in hot pursuit of both the Red Wings and the Habitants with 60 points. The New York Rangers and the Toronto Maple Leafs are tied with 44 points apiece for the final Stanley Cup play-off spot.

Poor Weather Hinders Skiers

Snow Prevents Chance for Jumping Records in Colorado Meet

STEAMBOAT SPRINGS, Colo. (AP)—The 1956 Olympic Ski Jumping Champion, Antti Hyvaerian, 24, of Finland tested Howelsen Hill yesterday under unfavorable conditions and fell way short of the American record established there in 1951.

Hyvaerian jumped 220 feet compared with the 316-foot record leap by Ansten Samuelsteun, a Norwegian now living in Boulder, Colo.

However, Hyvaerian was handicapped by poor visibility and a sticky surface caused by a light snow falling at the time.

Samuelsteun leaped 260 on his practice jump today. The National Junior Champion, Willie Erickson, 18, of Iron Mountain, Mich., jumped 235 feet.

Hyvaerian's fellow Finn, Juhani Kaerkinen, 21, did not test the jump today.

The Finns came here to compete for the southern Rocky Mountain Ski Assn. Championship Sunday.

Howelsen Hill is 1,200 feet long with a 10x14 feet takeoff.

Luck Helps Casper's Lead at Tucson

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — Youngsters lead a closely packed field into the third round of the $15,000 Tucson Open today, but some of golf's brightest names are close behind.

Luck rode the broad shoulders of Billy Casper Jr., 25, of Bonita, Calif., as he chipped in twice from 36 holes with a nine-under par 131.

Bob Harris of Winnetka, Ill., put together the best 36 holes of his eight years as a pro for 132 and sole possession of second place.

Julius Bores of Mid Pines, N.C., ex-U.S. Open champ, and John Cleary, a rookie from Hartford, Conn., are tied at 133.

Two drives that snuggled against tree trunks cost Doug Ford of Mahopac, N.Y., the big money winner of the winter circuit, a place with the leaders. Both slams sent him over par, leaving him tied with Howie Johnson of Houston, Tex., the first round leader, and Frank Stranahan, Toledo, Ohio. They had 134s.

Mike Souchak of Grossinger, N.Y., and Dow Finsterwald of Tequesta, Fla., considered among the most dangerous men in the field, are grouped with six others four strokes back of the leader at 135.

Casper won his first major tournament in three years as a pro by taking top money in the Phoenix Open last Sunday. "I'll have to play better the next two days if I'm going to win this one," he said.

"Anytime you hole out from traps so far from the pin as I did yesterday, you're very lucky."

He threatened the record book when he took a birdie on the one, chipped in from a trap for another on three, birdied eight and eagled nine for a five-under-par 30. A bogey on the 12th hole and a string of pars sent him off the 18th tee needing a birdie on the par five hole to edge ahead of Harris.

His second shot was in the sand. The third went sideways into a grass trap just as deep, 45 feet from the pin. When Casper chipped in he dropped his club and threw his arms in the air.

Harris also used a lucky 20-foot chip from a sand trap on the fifth hole for a birdie.

Harris wasn't sure whether the bright pink nail polish his wife applied to his putter brought him luck or not. "I was within easy putting distance for birdies on 16 of 18 holes," he said. "I made six of them. The others were in position to be made."

Courtney Hopes to End Jinx by Beating Sowell

NEW YORK (AP) — Olympic 800-meter champion Tom Courtney will try to do the "impossible" and beat Arnie Sowell to the tape in the half-mile—the most interesting of a fistful of top events—tonight in the 50th anniversary of the Millrose Games in Madison Square Garden.

If Courtney or Sowell really turn on the heat, this race could overshadow two other features, the mile pitting Ron Delany, Ireland's Olympic 1,500 - meter winner, against Hungary's Lazslo Tabori and the two-mile in which pint-sized Fred Dwyer will try to lower Horace Ashenfelter's 8:50.5 world indoor record.

All the years Courtney has been racing Sowell, he has beaten the skinny Pitt runner indoors just once. That was in a 1,000-yard race in Washington two years ago. And Sowell tripped on one of the turns.

"I still think I can beat Sowell on a banked track," said Courtney, a Fordham alumnus who is serving in the Army. "I've been working hard at my training and I'm ready for my best.

"A bad cold handicapped me in January, but that's all gone. I just have to beat him one of these weeks. In fact, I'm planning a 1:49 race."

That, of course, would lower the world record of 1:50.5 set 15 years ago by John Borican. That won't worry Sowell, though, because he was clocked in 1:48.6 running an anchor leg on a relay team last winter. Relay legs are not recognized as records.

Bruins Shuffled for TV Battle

Call 2 From Minors to Fill in for Sidelined Stars

BOSTON (AP) — How far can a championship contender go minus its leading scorer and its No. 1 offensive unit?

The battered Boston Bruins attempted to make a favorable reply to the question in today's crucial televised National Hockey League game with powerful Montreal after doing some fast shuffling.

The loss of Jerry Toppanzini who was sidelined with facial injuries at Detroit Thursday caused the Bruins to call up forwards Bob Beckett and George Ranieri from the minor leagues.

With Toppazzini setting the pace on 38 points—15 goals, 23 assists—the Bruins were in third place in the NFL, three points back of Les Canadiens and five behind Detroit, prior to today's test on CBS-TV, at 2 p.m., EST.

Doherty Holds Arizona Hopes for Grid Future

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—The sagging football fortunes of the University of Arizona got a lift today from the appointment of Ed Doherty as the Wildcats' new head coach.

The Wildcats haven't won a Border Conference championship outright in 20 years, and this football-crazy town hopes he can lift the team from the doldrums just as he helped its arch rival, Arizona State College at Tempe, several years ago.

Hired yesterday at a reported salary of $10,000 a year, Doherty, 38, comes to Arizona facing last year's record of four victories and six losses, the worst in several years.

Chief Runners 4th, 6th in AAU Relays

Competing in their 1st 1957 meet and the first time under new head track coach Dean Wilson, PHS runners last night finished 4th and 6th in the AAU 880 and mile relays at Yost Field House, University of Michigan.

"Competition was very hot in these prep events" Wilson reported today. Chief runners Larry Beagler, Rog Coates, Joe Hill and Archie Brooks hit 1:37.7, but were 4th back of the 880-yard winner, Cleveland East High, which set a record for the meet at 1:33.3. PHS won both events last year (1:35.7 and 3:37.0). Conley replaced Hill in the mile relays.

Alex Barge, in the high jump just for experience, was 4th at 6 feet, against the collegians.

First full-scale meet for the Chiefs will be the March 30 event at Eastern Michigan College.

GG Semi-Finals on TV Monday

DETROIT (INS)—Eighteen open division fighters will meet in semi-final battles on the Sports Guild's televised Golden Gloves show on CKLW-TV Monday night at 10 p.m. to decide who will battle for the championships at the State Fair Coliseum on Feb. 20.

Pairings in three of the championship bouts have already been decided. Osee Groom, unattached defending champion, will meet Casper Baas of Windsor's East End A. C.; Ben Stewart and Willie Hunt, both of Brewster Recreation, will meet for the welterweight crown, and Bob Cornwell, defending 118-pound champion from the CYO center, will meet Gabriel Demattee of Dearborn Boys Club.

Other semi-final bouts Monday will be in the 112-pound, 135-pound, 160 and 175-pound open divisions.

Jim Brideweser Sold by Tigers

DETROIT (AP)—The Detroit Tigers announced today the sale of utility infielder Jim Brideweser to the Baltimore Orioles.

Detroit said Brideweser was sold in "an over-the-waiver price" deal.

The right handed infielder batted .216 for the Tigers last year. The sale of Brideweser reduced the Tiger roster to 41 players.

'Bum' Epithet Stirs Uproar

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Boxer Dick Goldstein threw welterweight Art Aragon's fight-fixing trial into an uproar yesterday by calling him "a bum."

Superior Court Judge Hebert V. Walker twice threatened to clear the courtroom of spectators, saying it was "not a place of amusement."

Goldstein charges Aragon offered him $500 to "take a dive" in their scheduled bout at San Antonio, Tex., last Dec. 18. The fight was cancelled when Aragon said he was ill.

Yesterday's furore began when Aragon's attorney, Paul Caruso, asked Goldstein if he had said, "Aragon is a bum. Before I'm through with him he'll be off the sports pages."

Goldstein said:

"I called him a bum many times."

"You feel he is a bum today?" asked Caruso.

"Yes," Goldstein replied.

AEC Top Official Dies From Cancer

WASHINGTON (AP)— Dr. John von Neumann, Hungarian-born mathematician and member of the Atomic Energy Commission, died here yesterday of cancer. He was 53.

He had been ill at intervals since the summer of 1955, and since then had been in and out of Walter Reed Army Hospital where he died.

President Eisenhower, expressing sorrow, said the scientist served the nation "brilliantly." Eisenhower issued the statement in Thomasville, Ga., where he is vacationing.

Von Neumann, appointed to the AEC in the fall of 1954, received numerous citations for scientific accomplishments.

The AEC said in response to an inquiry that von Neumann had never been exposed to radiation, and that his illness was in no way connected with radiation.

Briton Saves Children as Auto Rolls Into Sea

BOURNEMOUTH, England (AP)— Edward Hague gave the stalled engine in his car a fast turn with the crank yesterday.

Then he watched in horror as the car shot down an incline, sped over the beach and into the sea with Hague's two young children inside.

Nine-year-old Paul Hague opened the door just as the frantic father splashed into the sea and pulled out the screaming boy and his three-month-old sister, Myrtle.

The children were unharmed. The father, suffering shock, was sent to a hospital.

First ship built in America to cross the Atlantic was a light sailing vessel made by the Huguenots at Port Royal, S.C., and used by them to return to France in the winter of 1562-1563.

Trumans Ride Train to Florida Vacation

INDEPENDENCE, Mo. (AP) — Former President and Mrs. Harry S. Truman left by train last night for a two-week vacation in Florida.

While he's in Florida Truman will make two speches in behalf of a drive to raise funds for the Truman memorial library nearing completion here.

The Trumans will drive from Miami to Islamorada, near Key West, where they will spend most of the vacation.

British to Receive Home Shunned by Hungarians

WHALEY BRIDGE, England (AP) —Municipal authorities, who had prepared a new house for a family of Hungarian refugees, decided to give it instead to some British evacuees from Egypt. The Hungarian family said the house wasn't good enough, the local council explained.

A council official said the house had been furnished free down to the last carpet, cup and curtain. The Hungarians complained it was "in a primitive area and on a steep hill."

Hayward Weds Again

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Movie actress Susan Hayward, whose last marriage with actor Jess Barker ended in a bitter court fight, has tried matrimony again —this time with a husky former FBI agent. Now she is married to Floyd Eaton Chalkley, 47, who owns an automobile agency in Carrollton, Ga., but spends much of his time traveling around the country. They plan a New Orleans honeymoon. She listed her age as 37.

Cut Rate—Still Plenty

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — A 19-year-old youth got a special bargain in Traffic Court — but not much of one. When Alton Cunningham pleaded guilty to a reckless driving charge, Judge M. D. Elston fined him $75. "I haven't got but $74, your honor," Cunningham said, and the judge shaved a dollar from the fine.

ABRAHAM LINCOLN

J. L. VOORHEES

A neighbor said, "Poor Abe, what chance has he got? No ma, no pa, no nothing." And yet that boy with "no nothing" became one of the most revered men of all time. In the little store, sitting with neighbors around the hot stove, listening, absorbing, filling, separating angry chaf from facts, he made this remark: "I am not bound to win, but I am bound to be true. I am not bound to succeed, but I am bound to live up to what light I have. I must stand with anybody that stands right, with him while he is right, and part with him when he goes wrong."

M. E. SIPLE

Lincoln would speak of Springfield as if it were the cultural and financial center of the world. his floorless cabin was a palace and his neighbors were the most friendly and dependable men and women on earth. Speaking of them he often said: I like to see a man proud of the place in which he lives; and so live that the place will be proud of him."

To honor this great man is to honor nobility, in thought, action and deed.

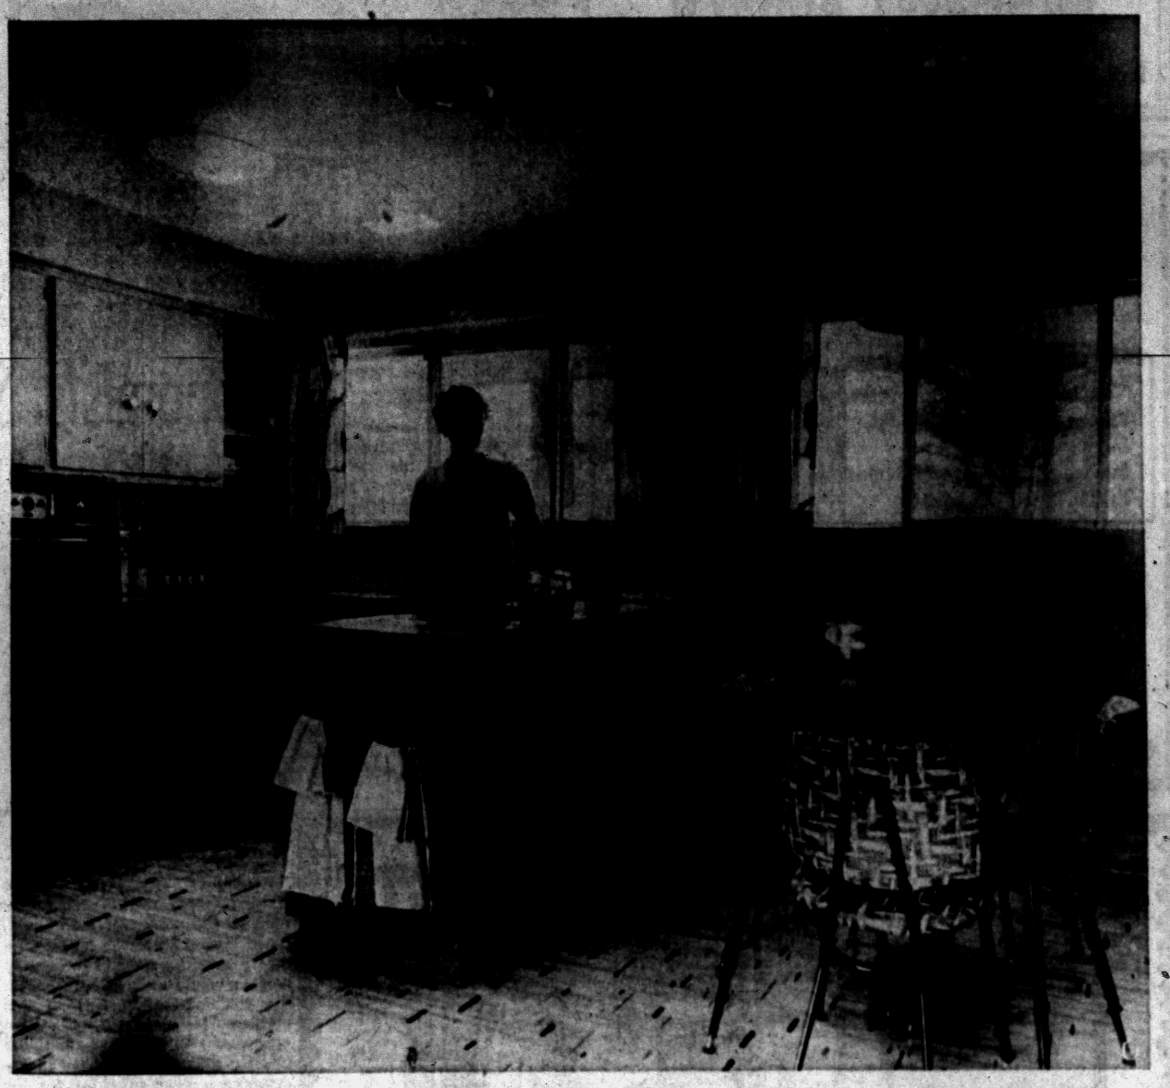
SECOND FIREPLACE — There are two fireplaces in the Freundt home, this one in the dining room. Furniture is eighteenth century mahogany with a grill front buffet. The light over the table can travel to the center of the room where it serves the enlarged table. The door beside the fireplace opens into the porch. Outside the big window is a patio where summer barbecues are held.



HER PERFECT KITCHEN — It's nice to find someone so satisfied with a kitchen she helped design. Mrs. Freundt is shown at her stove which is set in a counter that divides the room. All cabinets are birch. The stove and oven are woodtone brown. In the dining area a brown plastic table and brown and white chairs repeat the color scheme. Above the table is a pull-down brass and white lamp.

Your Neighbor's House

H. C. Freundts Build Brick Home on 2½ Acre Plot

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

We got lost twice, trying to find the Harold Freundt house. When we finally got there, the way seemed simple enough. Located on West Shore drive, on the western side of Orchard Lake, the Freundts drive in through Orchard Lake Country Club to get home.

In addition to finding an interesting house we were delighted to find a fellow Milwaukeean, one who knew many people we did. In fact, Mrs. Freundt and we probably talked as much about our native city as we did about her new house.

About twelve or thirteen years ago business brought Mr. Freundt to Detroit. Before building this new house the couple had lived in Lathrop Village. Being outdoor enthusiasts and lovers of all water sports, they searched for just the right spot away from the city where they could build their dream house.

Now they own two and a half acres of wooded land on two sides of their road. Their yellow Roman brick house curves a bit on the hill overlooking the lake. The land down towards the water is terraced with railroad ties as steps. There are two retaining walls, one of Bedford Blue stone, the other of Tennessee ledgerock.

Enthusiastic gardeners, the Freundts planted or had planted hundreds of spring flowering bulbs, numerous shrubs and eighty-five white pine trees. In building the house they had to sacrifice a few full-grown trees; this hurt.

Mrs. Feundt's mother, Mrs. Letitia Cobb, lives with them. She and her daughter make it a daily chore to see that the bird feeding stations are kept filled. Scores of feathered creatures come all winter. Rabbits make snowshoe tracks across the snow and last year even a red fox showed up.

The front door faces southwest. In the afternoon golden sunlight streams into the vestibule through three panes of ribbed glass beside the door. The door itself is a double one, birch with brass knobs. The vestibule is slate floored.

The living room is down two steps from the vestibule. On either side of these steps there are planter boxes with convenient storage cupboards below. The planter nearest the dining room has four slim columns of lucite extending to the ceiling. Spotlights above in the ceiling focus extra light at this point.

The champagne carpeting is wall-to-wall type and is used in the dining room as well. Walls are aqua green and draperies semisheer rose beige. Actually, they match the carpet, but look more rosy in certain lights. All ceilings are white.

Four windows on the lake front side, one around the corner, and sliding glass doors to a porch provide a maximum amount of light in this room. In addition, the open vestibule contributes more window area.

The room is furnished in a rather formal manner with twin Empire sofas flanking the fireplace. These are covered with tapestry. Mahogany tables hold lamps, knicknacks and reading material. Opposite the fireplace is an aqua Lawson sofa. Down at the end are two upholstered chairs.

The ledgerock fireplace is enclosed in a frame of birch that extends outward to form the mantel. The brass fireplace screen is scalloped.

In the dining room there is a second fireplace, made of the same yellow brick as the exterior of the house. It has a raised stone hearth. From this room a door opens onto the porch. Three large windows provide a view of the terrace, the garden and the lake.

Above the mahogany drop leaf table is a traveling light. It can be pulled down close to the table at the window or go across to the center of the room on its trolley. There it provides light for dinner parties when the table is opened and moved.

This room contains the TV set and a wall full of bookshelves. The gay jackets of the many books add an interesting note of color at one end. Next to these shelves is a cedar lined closet for out-of-season clothing.

Hinged below the pass-through to the kitchen is a shelf that can be put up for serving. The opening can be closed with a miniature bamboo shutter.

Mrs. Freundt loves her kitchen. It was planned just the way she wanted everything, including a wall oven that is not recessed into the wall. Her stove unit in a counter divides the room into working and eating areas.

Counter tops are covered with Formica in a wheat tone. The oven is a woodtone brown and eventually there will be a refrigerator to match (one that has a door opening in the right direction too.)

A tall woman, Mrs. Freundt can easily look out of the high windows on the west as she works at the sink or the stove. She's very pleased with the curtains at these windows, calls them her Congo drapes. They do have native African figures on them in gold and brown with just a touch of coral and a gold line. The background is cream.

On the eating side there's a brown plastic dinette set with metal chairs. These have plastic seats and backs in brown figured pattern. A small built-in buffet occupies one corner. Jackstraw linoleum covers the floor.

Not far from the kitchen there's a small blue and white lavatory. The white chintz curtains have rows of blue and gray fringe on them.

The bathroom shared by Mrs. Freundt and her mother is a feminine one, done all in pink and gray. There's a long vanity with a mirror above it. Mrs. Freundt who loves and collects perfumes has a tiny shallow cupboard in this room just for her scent bottles. The linen closet has a sorting shelf and a flour-bin type clothes hamper below it.

Mr. Freundt's bath off the master bedroom is done in gold and sand tones. No sissy pink for him.

All the bedrooms have bare oak floors with scatter rugs. The master bedroom faces the lake. It is a serene room, all white, from the ceiling and walls to the shag rugs. The hobnail spreads are white; the sheer draperies are white. There is a touch of color in the Dresden dresser lamps which are white with roses twining around their base.

Furniture is mahogany. The twin beds are four poster ones. All the woodwork is birch, finished in a driftwood tone. Mrs. Freundt thinks that when she finds just the right paper she'll do the room in gold and white; but that can wait.

Mrs. Cobb's room is on the opposite side of the house. Its long windows look into the pines where Mrs. Cobb can watch her beloved birds. Her furniture is Heywood Wakefield maple. In front of the window she has a comfortable rocker, upholstered in a charming daisy print fabric. Her spreads are pale green. The walls are pale yellow.

In the den which could be a third bedroom there is beige carpeting and sheer green celadon nina draperies. A studio couch provides that extra bed. This room also has a woodsy outlook.

The porch is strictly a warm weather room. It has bamboo furniture with bright upholstery and a fiber rug. Outside is the patio where a portable barbecue is used.

Country living is all the Freundts hoped it would be. Their house is complete, but they have plans for years ahead in the developing of their grounds.

Clifford Wright A.I.A. was the architect. Ed Johns of Detroit built the house, a job that took about six months. The Freundts have been Oakland Coubty residents for some thirteen months now.

ON ORCHARD LAKE — The Harold C. Freundts have built a gently curving house of yellow Roman brick on the west shore of Orchard Lake. Taken from the road below the house, this picture shows the dining room and porch. There is another entrance through the double garage and one in front. In the spring and summer this hill is alive with color from the hundreds of bulbs and flowering plants. The Freundts have two and a half acres with 120 feet on the lake.

'Latex' Botanical Term

The word "latex," now so well known in connection with the popular rubber-base paints, came from the botany world. Latex is a word applied to a milk-like juice from plants, such as the juice of a rubber tree. When chemists made synthetic rubber in emulsion form, it had the same appearance as natural latex.

More Rats Than People

There are more rats than people in the United States. Costing the nation close to a billion dollars a year in lost food, materials and property damage, these rodents are definitely destructive. An effective way to ratproof buildings is with metal lath and plaster. Rats cannot gnaw their way through metal lath.

Lightens Mother's Task

Mothers no longer must kneel to bathe their children, announced the Plumbing Fixture Manufacturers Association. Many new bathtubs have wide, flat rims where mothers can sit while washing junior.

Economists See 1 Million New Homes Started in '57

WASHINGTON, D. C. — Several prominent bankers and economists, peering ahead into 1957, are cautiously optimistic about the home-building industry in this new year.

They are agreed that the tight money situation will remain tight.

George W. Greenwood, president of the National Savings and Loan League, wrote that one million new homes should be started in 1957 and another two million older homes would change hands.

"That's a good amount of business," he commented.

However, Greenwood also warned that the nation "has reached the point where the combined resources of the housing industry must be brought to bear to stop the slide in housing. That is the challenge of 1957. How this problem is met will, in large measure, determine whether the housing industry will share in the prosperous year in store for the rest of the economy."

Roy M. Marr, president of the United States Savings and Loan League, said that all signs point to a sufficient supply of mortgage money to finance another 1.1 million new homes, roughly the number turned out in 1956.

"If, during 1957," he added, "there appears any chance that the number of housing starts will drop below the 1 million mark, we are confident that the administration and Congress will take positive action to prevent any such decline."

Nat Rogg, director of the NAHB economics department, said he thought "many builders are going to have a fairly good business year — maybe not as good as they would like — but good, nevertheless, and in many respects better than 1956."

GIVES SOBER ADVICE

However, Rogg had some sobering words on the overall economy. He said "we have been going too far, too fast for comfort. The overall economy, despite its strength, is nevertheless at a dangerous point, straining at too many places — credit, prices, wages. Something must give. Either we have a less frantic rate of expansion, or else real trouble lies ahead—a reaction to inevitably higher prices for labor, materials, and money."

John F. Austin Jr., president of the Mortgage Bankers Association of America, agrees with Marr.

"Except in isolated instances scattered over the country," he said, "we have not overbuilt. There is no serious overhang clouding the market, and we have not begun to reach a saturation point . . . there is every reason to believe that 1957 will be a satisfactory building year."

Clarence M. Turley, president of the National Association of Real Estate Boards, said the chief problem is in assisting the public to obtain financing at reasonable terms.

"If — as I am sure it will — the industry moves forward from its basic position of strength with vigor and imagination, the problem will be overcome and 1957 will go down as another year of prosperity and progress," Turley said.

Ponderosa Pine Ideal Material for Window Sash

One of the most important roles of science in making todays homes better is the constant testing of construction materials to make sure they'll do the job they're designed to do.

One such testing device is a "cold box" in which temperatures can be brought down as low as 32 degrees below zero.

This device is used to determine the insulating value of window sash and frames.

The window is fitted into one wall of the "box" and as the cold inside increases, technicians outside measure the temperature of the sash and frame.

Window sash and frames of ponderosa pine remain moisture-free and comfortable to the touch even at extreme low temperatures, while other materials used for windows take on the temperature inside the "cold box" almost immediately.

The natural insulating ability of wood is one reason for the value of ponderosa pine as a window material. The wood won't sweat and cause moisture to damage curtains and draperies or run down painted walls or wallpaper.

An open letter to home owners:

American families bought more electric home appliances in 1956 than they did in 1955. And '55 was a banner sales year. Take almost any two successive years since the end of World War II and the same statement would apply.

In increasing amounts we use electricity to do the monotonous, the tiresome, the time-consuming household tasks. But boasting about the nation's high standard of living is not my purpose here. Instead, there is a growing problem -- related to our use of electricity -- which needs pointing out. This is the situation.

4 out of 5 homes, and that includes the newest ones, have electrical systems incapable of supplying all the electricity needed for daily living.

The answer is wiring modernization. Fortunately, this is neither a costly nor an involved project. Benefits: a home that operates smoothly and effortlessly because electricity is available in abundance at every point where needed. And -- a home that has greater re-sale value too.

Where does one start in correcting the situation? I can make this suggestion.. Throughout Southeastern Michigan there are electrical contractors especially well qualified to help you. They are the HOUSEPOWER Services contractors. Skilled craftsmen, they go one step further. They relate the mechanics of electrical distribution to individual family living -- your family's desires and living habits, now and in the future.

For comfort, convenience and safety, you want plenty of horsepower in your car. For the same reasons you need HOUSEPOWER* in your home.

McCanfield
Manager,
Oakland Sales

*HOUSEPOWER is a coined word. It means plenty of electricity in the home . . . wherever and whenever needed . . . now and in the future.

A MESSAGE OF SPECIAL INTEREST DURING

NATIONAL ELECTRICAL WEEK
FEB 10 16 1957

Many patient and persevering men dedicated themselves to making our lives more abundant; less laborious through electricity. Thomas A. Edison, born February 11, 1847, was foremost among these pioneers. It is largely to his memory that National Electrical Week is dedicated.

WANT to	Then you NEED
enjoy the cooling comfort of a room air conditioner next summer?	That way blown fuses are reduced to a minimum—especially important for freezer operation and kitchen counter cooking.
take advantage of the convenience and economies that reward a freezer owner?
install a dining room outlet that will make table-top cooking or warming possible?
be able to shift furniture at will?	more convenience outlets located so new furniture groupings will not hide them.
install an attic fan?	a circuit in the attic. Think twice before using an existing circuit. Starting load on a large fan can cause faulty operation elsewhere along the circuit, or a blown fuse.
lighten household tasks with: an electric range? dishwasher? sink disposer? electric clothes dryer?	a 220-volt circuit for the range and another for the dryer. Special-purpose circuits will best serve the other, listed major appliances.
make it easier to use power tools . . . make them GO without stalling?	a separate circuit that has nothing else working from it, is best.

WANT to	Then you NEED
light the hobby center so you can see, not spoil, the work you're doing?	more circuits, perhaps, though not necessarily. Better switching and better fixtures, certainly.
improve basement lighting; make it more than one or two bare, glaring bulbs?	The quality of lighting in a home is the first and most obvious reflection of its modernity.
turn the recreation room into the gracious, cheerful room it can be?	And remember, light saves precious eyesight!
re-light the laundry center to cheer along a job that's dull at best?
have clothes closets lighted so you can quickly find the dress or suit you're looking for?
be able to turn room, hall or stairway lights on or off regardless of where you enter or leave?
be an outdoor chef, complete with rotisserie?	wisely located, outdoor, weatherproof receptacles; weatherproof extension cords and fixtures; weatherproof lamp bulbs.
light up the flower garden so you can enjoy it after sundown?
use the family shuffleboard or badminton court after dark?
promote the Christmas spirit more this year with an outdoor tree?
have underwater lighting in the lily pool?

Any HOUSEPOWER Services Contractor will be glad to survey your home's electrical needs. He will determine with you what should be done to bring it up to par. For this service you will incur no cost or obligation.

If you do not know a HOUSEPOWER Services Contractor, phone your Edison office.

Aluminum Windows Protected by Lacquer

Most aluminum window frames are given a protective coating which is resistant to alkaline mortar and plaster. Frequently used for this purpose is a clear, water-white methacrylate type of lacquer.

When the frames are installed, this clear lacquer coat allows the adjoining mortar and plaster to dry without any chemical effect on the aluminum, and permits the easy removal of any overruns or splashes. The protective lacquer coat is applied in the plant where the aluminum sash and frames are made.

A scratchproof ceramic tile windowsill is useful as a shelf for flower arrangements ripening vegetables, clock, thermometer.

Important to Read Label on Paint Can

Like everybody else, once you've decided to do a paint job you'll be so eager to get started that you might overlook the first important step — reading the label on the paint can! The wide variety of paint materials on the market today makes it more important than ever to do this.

Study directions carefully before opening the can. The manufacturer knows his product better than anyone else, so it's wise to follow his suggestions exactly.

Plans in February Saves Homes Cost

Probably more money is saved in February on home building and remodeling than during any other month of the year.

That is the word from the West Coast Lumbermen's Association, which points out that February is home planning month if you are figuring on building in the spring or summer.

With carpenters, brick masons and other skilled craftsmen earning the highest wages in history and building materials worth important money, advance planning can really save money, the lumbermen advise.

It is best to get rough plans down on paper, they point out, before even the first visit to the architect. Take along all the interesting house plans, special rooms, interesting storage ideas and floor arrangements you have accumulated for that first trip. Then, he will know something of what you want. It will save his time and your money.

Nothing is more costly, the lumbermen point out, than having to tear out walls, rooms, windows or doors after they have been put in place, just because the housewife has suddenly decided she doesn't like them where they are.

The time to change your mind is before it costs you money. After the home has actually been started and material is on the ground, any changes cost many times what they would in the blueprint stage.

Equally as important as the saving in money, the lumbermen suggest, is the many extras you can get in your home with no more cost, simply by having your planning done early.

Many husbands and wives have found out to their delight that they can even gain an extra living room with little extra cost by advance planning. Of course, the extra living room is outdoors, but valuable in this day and age when families practically move outside for the better part of the year until really hard weather drives them inside.

U AND L-SHAPES

A floor plan built on a U-shape or an L-shape can give you a good start on an extra outdoor living room, with a U-shape you will discover that you have three walls of an outdoor living room already in place. If you have been wise enough to select a siding for your home that blends in with the natural outdoor surroundings, then you have little else to do but plan on the type of floor you want for this outdoor heaven.

Most architects like softwood sidings like western red cedar or Douglas fir because these well-grained and well-textured woods easily become a part of shrubbery, greenery and natural surroundings.

Little things to watch for in planning your outdoor family headquarters: Have electric outlets for barbecues and lights, have entrances accessible both to kitchen and living room or to a hall common to both rooms, have shelter from passers-by and from the wind and weather.

If your home is L-shaped, you will probably need extra screening protection on one more side. You can build a fancy, low-cost screening fence in fir or cedar, or you can plant your favorite shrubs to make a hedge.

The big thing, the friendly lumbermen warn, is to plan early, plan now during February, when there are few outside distractions. The savings will be substantial, the housewife will be much happier, and friend husband will have lower blood pressure.

Foil Forms Paint Can

Those little aluminum foil containers used for storing and cooking foods come in handy in the home workshop. When you have a small painting job to be done, pour a small amount of the paint into the container and work from that instead of from a large can. The container can be rinsed with turpentine and used again and again.

Need Storage Units? Use Flexible Plywood

With the flexibility of hardwood plywood being used to the utmost in making the modern kitchen a marvel of compactness and efficiency, many homeowners are training their sights on the bedroom as the next eligible candidate for storage streamlining with wood.

This is the import of recent "do-it-yourself" projects outlined in several major magazines which feature the custom-building of hardwood plywood storage units suited to the family's particular requirements. For example, the man of the house will have drawers designed to hold the number of shirts, socks and other items of apparel he customarily has in stock, as well as shelves designed especially for his hats and shoes.

A favorite technique in planning compact bedroom storage is to conceal the built-ins behind a wall of sliding flush doors of hardwood plywood. The space-saving doors then give the effect of an "accent wall" paneled in genuine hardwood.

Spot-Shellac Floors If Unevenly Worn

When a shellacked floor shows wear and tear in spots, it is possible to patch it without redoing the entire area. With steel wool and a floor cleaner designed for that purpose, carefully remove all wax or oil polish from the sections that are to be repaired.

Let the surface dry thoroughly, then cover the worn areas with two coats of shellac. The second coat may be applied within four hours of the first. You'll find that the patched areas blend in with the rest of the floor.

Wood Superb as an Insulator

Siding Proves Excellent in Summer or Winter, Saves Fuel Bills

To save fuel bills in winter and heat troubles in summer, prospective home builders should be careful in selecting their home construction materials.

The ideal type of construction to insure best heat and cold regulation is a conventional wood-framed wall, with wood siding placed over wood sheathing, and using lath and plaster or wood paneled walls inside.

Such a wall will transmit less than one fourth the heat or cold of masonry type wall, the lumber authorities report. That means a warmer house in winter and a cooler house in the summer.

One inch of wood wall is equal to six inches of brick or 15 inches of concrete in insulating value, tests made by heating and ventilating engineers show.

Reason for the high insulating value and performance of wood framed homes, the lumbermen report, is that wood is itself a natural insulating material.

The two-by-four stud in a wall provides three and five-eighths inches of dead air space in the wall which is a perfect protection against summer heat transmission and heat loss in winter, plus insulating value of sheathing and siding.

Lumbermen point out one other great advantage which wood walls enjoy over masonry, and that is the saving in floor space. Wood walls take up much less of usable space inside the home than do wider walls of masonry construction.

Large Rug Makes Room Look Better

If you are buying a rug, be sure to get it large enough.

A small rug with a great expanse of floor looks inadequate and greatly lessens the good appearance of the room. It is not so easy to take care of, and when the cost around the rug is considered, it easily may be that wall-to-wall carpet will prove a better investment.

Wall-to-wall carpet is in great favor among homemakers. It makes a room look larger and it is easy to take care of. A quick pickup with the household vacuum cleaner and a thorough going-over once a week will keep the floor covering in good condition and help maintain its original color.

ADMIRING DAD'S HANDIWORK — Three year old Richard and four year old Diane sit on the marble hearth of the fireplace in their new family room. Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Rossetto of Walce street in Sylvan Manor are their parents. Incidentally, the dog's named Lassie. Mr. Rossetto has done all the work of making this 25x15 foot room livable. The walls he paneled with redwood. The ceiling he beamed. The fireplace itself is made of Tennessee ledge-rock.

Wood Can Be Nailed to Cement Foundations

Some home carpenters desiring to build a family room in the basement have become dismayed because of the prospects of nailing wall paneling onto cement foundations. Here is an easy solution.

Nail one-by-three inch furring strips onto the cement wall horizontally at about two-foot intervals, starting from the floor. Use cement nails which drive right into the concrete. This will give you a perfect nailing surface for your wood panels.

Remodeling Figures Up

America's home owners will spend an estimated $1,350,000,000 on additions and alterations to their properties in 1957, the United States Savings and Loan League predicts. The League said this figure would exceed last year's home remodeling and modernization expenditure by 3.8 per cent.

Cars Painted Faster

Automobile manufacturers realize that paint is the most important single factor in protecting the customer's investment. No effort is spared in applying a finish which will remain beautiful and protective through years of exposure to wear and changing weather conditions. Back in the 1920s it used to take almost a full month to apply the finish. Now it takes only about three hours to do the job.

Protect Window Sills With Colored Sills

Window sills become the source of added color for any room in the home and at the same time remain protected from stains and scratches if they are covered with colored glass.

Homeowners favor window sills to display their indoor growing plants, and there is always danger of leaving an unsightly mark when the flowers are watered. But covering the sills with Vitrolite colored glass, which is impervious to liquids and odors, insures lasting protection against staining.

Vitrolite is available in seven colors ranging from vivid to pastel, plus black and white, to blend with any room color scheme. Its rich color will not fade; it will not warp or rot and is easily cleaned with a swipe of a damp cloth.

EQUIPMENT

Steel scaffolding for every requirement. Rolling trestles and special scaffolding for stairways, churches, stores & bank lobbies.

Syntron electric hammers and power saws. Tools for every need.

PLAN ON A NARROW LOT — Here is how the Celeste covers a 60-foot frontage plot. Note how privacy is assured with windows on walls away from the street.

Here Is 4-Bedroom Home Spacious on 50-Foot Plot

Architect Sam Paul has done something here about the American trend to larger families.

Because of that trend, there is an increasing demand for houses with more bedrooms. Four-bedroom houses in particular are getting extra attention, a natural outgrowth of the modern tendency to permit youngsers to have rooms they can call their own and space for hobbies and pets.

Satisfying the demand for this type of house would be an easy matter if everyone had a large plot of ground, IF everyone had unlimited capital and IF the majority did not want all the rooms on a single floor.

There's a wide gap between the desire for a four-bedroom, one-story house on a small plot at a moderate cost, and the fulfillment of that wish. That this gap can be effectively closed is shown in the House of the Week, HW-38, ingeniously designed so that it will fit on a plot 60 feet wide. And that includes an attached carport or a garage, a driveway, a terrace and pathways on both sides!

Although confined to an area of only 1,420 square feet, this house has about it not even the suggestion of skimpiness. Besides the four bedrooms, it has a kitchen with dinette space which can easily seat six persons a living room 20½ feet long with a fireplace, a foyer, 2½ baths, and, for those who wish, a partial basement with a recreation room.

Architect Paul, with an eye on providing a home within the price reach of the majority of American families, has concerned himself with simplicity of construction and shape. A partition down the middle, for instance, acts as the interior supporting wall — pleasing, practical and economical. The living room, dining room and kitchen have cathedral-type ceilings. The plumbing is simplified, with one stack carrying the bathroom, kitchen and where there is a partial basement, the downstairs laundry and bath. A second stack carries the bathroom which is entered from the master bedroom.

LOTS OF CLOSETS

The four bedrooms, compactly placed at one part of the house, are blessed with what all of us never seem to have enough of—ample closet space. In that section of the house alone there are seven closets to take care of all family needs and not interfere at all with the foyer closet, which thus can be reserved exclusively for guests.

The entrance foyer is separated from the living room by a decorative panel. The living, dining and kitchen areas flow together, creating a spacious effect but maintaining privacy in each room.

Stone, siding and glass comprise the exterior materials, but these, of course, can be changed to suit individual tastes. The outside design has been cleverly and carefully worked out so that this house will fit nearly on a small plot of ground. Yet it has an undeniable charm. As you walk to the main entrance, partially covered by the roof of the carport, you note two well-placed overhead light domes.

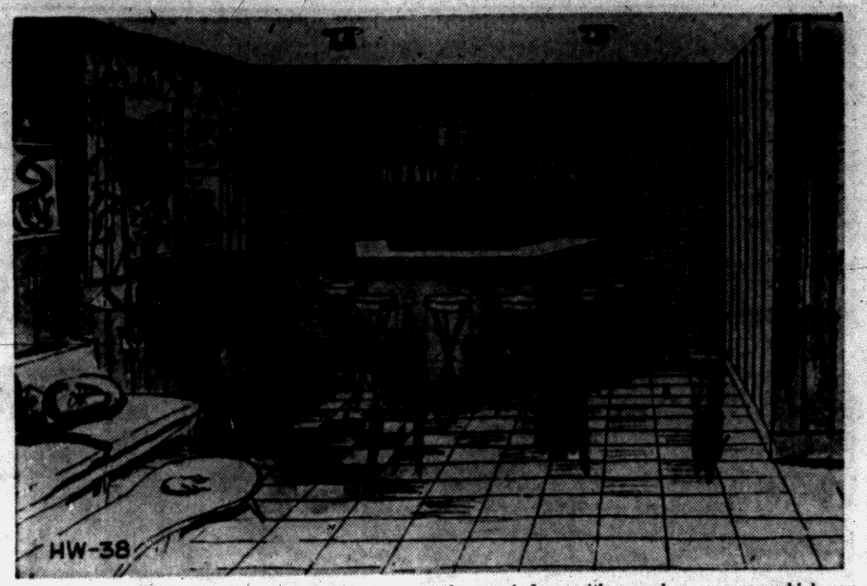
These serve the double purpose of lighting up the entrance area and lending a decorative touch to the ordinarily plain carport roof.

There is a large terrace behind the carport, giving privacy and yet not encroaching into the rear yard.

CAN CHOOSE

Now, suppose you like the design of this house, yet you have a plot of ground with a large frontage? In that event, the house is turned in so that the broadside faces the street and the carport, or garage, as the case may be, is attached to the side. Either way, the exterior is smart and distinctive . . . which means, too, that Deisgn HW-38 would lend itself well to a corner plot.

Architect Sam Paul has called this house "The Celeste." It's a pretty name, but we think the three words which best describe it are: Versatility, flexibility and economy.



RECREATION ROOM — For those who want a partial basement in this house, a recreation room is included in the plans. The room features large windows with a sunken areaway which can be treated as a rock garden.

WHEN YOUR LOT IS WIDE — On a wide plot the spacious house can be fronted this way. Note how architect solved equal window area of above version.

Lot of One-Floor House Fits on Little Ground

All the features of Design HW-38 occupy a perimeter area of only 1,420 square feet and a space volume of 22,200 cubic feet.

As presently laid out, it will fit nicely on a lot with a 60-foot frontage, including an attached carport or garage. But even a 50-foot frontage will fill the bill, merely by using a detached garage or carport in the rear of the house.

Can Choose Basement or Have None at All

With Design HW-38, you can take your pick of a partial basement or no basement at all.

For a partial basement house, there is an open stairay leading to a recreation room, which features large windows, achieved by introducing a sunken area in the form of a huge areaway. This areaway can be treated as a rock garden.

For no basement, the space occupied by the stairway will accommodate modern heating and laundry equipment.

Handyman Can Build Carport Workshop

The grass is always greener just over the hill, and the man who thought he was getting a bargain when he bought a basementless home a few years ago, now longs for a workshop.

Well, here's good news for this workshop fan without a workshop. Architects have developed a handy little workshop complete with workbench as part of the walls of the carport.

This particular design can be adopted to suit each individual carport. Basically, the workshop is built right into the storage walls of the carport.

Bench, vise, power saw and other equipment fit into a snug compartment which can be closed and locked when not in use. It should be designed and sided in fir or western red cedar to match the remainder of the home.

COMPACTNESS—Keynotes of this smart one-story house are compactness on a small plot and comfort for a large family. Stone, siding and glass comprise the exterior materials. The carport serves also as a covered entry.

Do-It-Yourself New? Not on Your Buzz Saw

The currently popular "do-it-yourself" craze isn't new, it has merely become popular. The West Coast Lumbermen's Association reminds us that, a generation or so back, every able-bodied man could handle a hammer and saw. This generation has become the age of specialization so no wonder, the lumbermen say, man is surprised when he rediscovers the use of his hands.

Lumber has always been easy to work, even by an amateur, and is probably one reason why young husbands and even brides are becoming wood-using fans.

For Smooth Paint Job:

A paint job can be only as smooth as the surface beneath it. Chipped areas should be sanded well with medium sandpaper to feather out edges of marred places. Use straight strokes. Go over the entire surface with fine sandpaper or fine steel wool. The latter is better for curved surfaces. Badly scarred areas should be stripped down to the wood with paint-and-varnish remover.

Halt Destructive Menace of Moisture With Good Ventilation Inside of Home

WASHINGTON, D. C. — You know that the exterior of your house must be kept well-painted to protect it from the driving force of rain, the heavy wetness of snow, and the penetrating dampness of the soil that's next to the foundation. But what about interior moisture?

In a way our modern building skill works against us in this regard. We build our houses snug and tight to keep heat in and cold out. But by so doing we hinder the escape of destructive moisture. Since moisture always seeks an area of lesser pressure, it will somehow find its way to the outside.

As an example, unless your bathroom is properly ventilated you will notice, after a shower, that the window and mirror are clouded with steam. Walls, ceiling and floor are probably covered with moisture. If you open the window slightly—for just a few minutes—you will see that the cloud of moisture will rapidly disappear.

If you don't open the window, the moisture will be forced to find its own way out. As it penetrates the walls it can cause damage to the materials with which the house was built and may even cause the paint outside to blister.

WHAT ABOUT STEAM

And what about the steam that rises from the water boiling on the kitchen stove? The moisture that fills the atmosphere when you wash the dishes, dry the clothes—or—even breathe? These all add to the moisture menace. Every occupant in a house contributes moisture vapor by perspiring and breathing. The amount averages about half a pound per hour for a family of four.

If the whole family is home all day, that adds up to 12 pounds—or 1½ gallons of moisture in 24 hours. Cooking, dishwashing, bathing and other such daily household activities add much more. Thus, in a single day, the moisture vapor added to the air in a household of four may total as much as 50 pounds—or six and one-quarter gallons.

You cannot, of course, keep windows open in cold weather simply because you have clothes hanging up to dry—or because you're washing dishes — or — just breathing. Therefore, other means of ventilation should be provided. Ventilating fans are easily installed within a household. Then there are louvers that are built into exterior walls of attics.

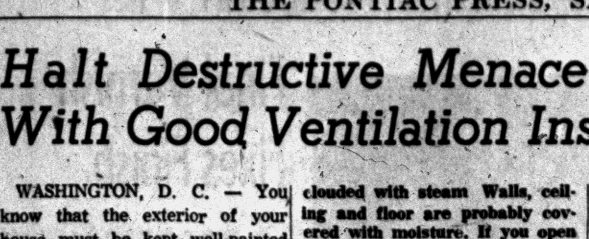
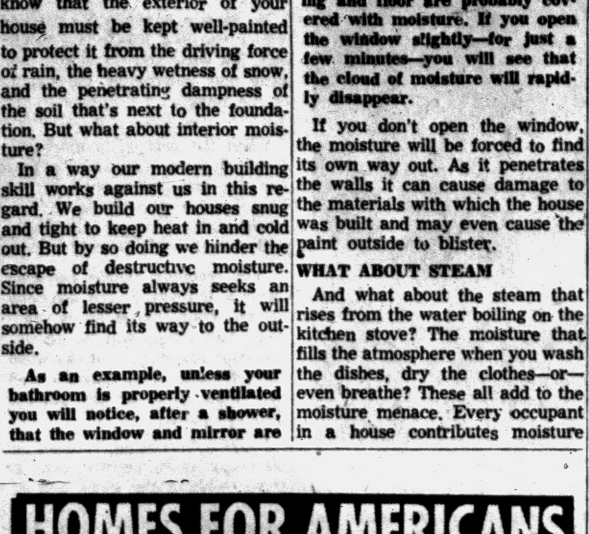
Moisture vapor barriers built right into the walls of a house are very important. When a house is under construction, such barriers are installed beneath the plaster. After the wall surface is completed, a few coats of paint will serve as an added barrier. Before the paint is applied, all cracks around windows, doors and baseboards, and electric outlets should be filled.

To help you prevent expensive moisture damage, the National Paint, Varnish and Lacquer Assn., 1500 Rhode Island Ave., N.W., Washington 5, D.C. has published a booklet on how to save your home from the menace of moisture, both inside and out. The booklet is free. Just send a post card requesting "Menace of Moisture."

HOMES FOR AMERICANS





INTERESTING EXTERIOR is presented in this three-bedroom split level, with a "cathedral ceiling" in the living room. For economy, it can be constructed without living room fireplace or lavatory off the master bedroom — or provision can be made for addition later. This is plan Y6AP-7613 by Herman H. York, 90-04 161st St., Jamaica 32, N. Y. Square footage is 1,158, not including recreation room on the lower level or garage.

Test Well Water Often for Purity

The Deeper, the Safer Usually True; Sub-soil Acts as Filter

Homeowners living in the country and getting water for household use from a well must consider purity of the source, something they never had to think about when drawing water from city mains.

The only way to make certain that a well is safe is to test it regularly, the National Water Well Association explains.

This is particularly important in rapidly growing suburban areas beyond the water mains where septic tank drainage lines sometimes cause a problem with sanitation.

If necessary, a well water supply can be chlorinated—the same chemical treatment used to make city water safe to drink. It is possible to purify 75,000 gallons of water a day with a chlorinating unit, which uses ordinary household bleach in the proportion of several parts of bleach to a million parts of water.

Proper well construction in the first place very largely determines purity of the water supply, the drilling contractors association emphasizes.

Generally speaking, the deeper the well, the safer the water. Drilled wells, because they are the deepest, are the safest. This follows, because surface pollution ordinarily is neutralized as it filters through upper areas of subsoil. Drilled wells draw water from a source far below this safety zone.

One of the best ways to keep a well clean and safe is to prevent contamination from getting in at the surface. This is accomplished with a sanitary well cap, which makes a tight seal at the surface end. In many states, capping a well is required by law. In others, authorities strongly recommend this basic well protection.

Keep Home Ventilated

Don't blame the paint when you see blisters or peeling. These conditions are usually due to moisture within or upon the surace of the material to which the paint was applied. Keeping your house properly ventilated will help to avoid such damage.

Two Furnaces Now Are Used

America's home buyers—already accustomed to two-car garages for convenience—must now think in terms of two-furnace houses for comfort, a heating industry spokesman said recently.

C. W. Nessell told the National Warm Air Heating and Air Conditioning Association that one out of every five homes built in 1957 will have design features requiring the use of two or more furnaces, air conditioning plants, or zone systems of temperature control.

Nessell, a Minneapolis-Honeywell Regulator Company heating consultant reported to the association's annual convention on surveys recently completed by his company and the association's field investigation committee, of which he is chairman.

"The high cost of land and the need for larger houses to accomodate larger families have brought about a reversal of the spread-out trend in home design," Nessell said.

"The houses today, in many cases, are going back to plans utilizing two or more levels but they are not returning to the square box styles. Instead, they are being built for basement occupancy, in split-level styles, with rooms over garages, and in some instances with rooms projecting out over a patio or carport, or unexcavated portions of the house."

These styles, he added, create new comfort problems, with the heating and cooling requirements for some rooms or areas of the house being different from those in other areas.

Design characteristics that add to the problem include greater roof, wall and floor exposure; glass exposure; open arrangements which permit easier flow of air at different temperatures between rooms; living space in basements or above unheated garages or carports, and separate area for each family activity such as sleeping, living and recreation.

"The solution to these comfort problems," Nessell said, "is to treat the house as two or more units and install two or more furnaces, air conditioning systems, or zone thermostatic controls so one comfort system can be operated as two."

Farm income in the U. S. is about 12.8 per cent of the total.

Set Hip-High Planters for Space Breakers

In open area homes, divider half walls and space breakers are becoming increasingly useful to separate kitchen, dining area and living room. One of the cleverest dividers is a planter up about hip high with compact storage space all around the planter.

You can build the storage unit out of some attractive wood like west coast hemlock and finish it so that it looks like an expensive piece of furniture. Design it so the copper or stainless steel planter will fit snugly and securely. It can be any length.

READY-SET-DRILL — For major home repairs, an indispensable aid is a ½" drill. Perfect tool for laying copper tubing or galvanized pipe, stringing electrical cable, for all deep boring in heavy timbers. Drills effortlessly in masonry, sappy wet lumber, creosote planking. The new powerhouse Cummins No. 333 drill shown here drills ½" in steel, 1" in wood. Left to right, shows how two-position removable handle adjusts for vertical or horizontal drilling. Auxiliary grip can be added for leverage and balance. Both handle and grip also can be removed entirely for getting into tight spots between joists.

Final Varnish Fixes Finish

No matter how much care and effort you put into a varnishing job, it's what you do to the final coat that determines the quality of the finish.

When the varnish is thoroughly hard, which means waiting at least one day and preferably two, rubbing with a fine grade of powdered pumice, mixed with water, will smooth out the irregularities.

This rubbing should be done with a felt pad in the direction of the grain, the same as sanding. Two things will be accomplished: the surface of the wood will become very smooth and the high gloss of the varnish will disappear.

Additional rubbing, without adding any more pumice, will restore some of the gloss and can be left that way if desired. If you'd like a higher polish, more of the satiny variety, rub still more . . . this time with rottenstone mixed with water or rubbing oil.

In recent years, several different types of rubbing compounds have appeared on the market, designed to do away with the pumice and rottenstone procedure.

However, they are not available in most regular hardware or paint stores and must be purchased from dealers who specialize in supplying craftsmen.

But whatever you use, remember that high quality varnish finishes are obtained by the professional because of what he does to the final coat.

The effect of space in your home can be created by the use of glass, mirrors, partitions and walls which aren't ceiling height and built-in furniture and appliances.

Make Bid for Roomier Kitchens

Some builders are packing so much efficiency into labor-saving, space - saving and step - saving kitchens that they're not saving enough old-fashioned room for the homemaker.

Homemakers admire permanent walls, floors and counters and many other features of today's kitchens but they deplore excessively compact kitchens.

More spacious food preparation and serving facilities is one of the haunting refrains still reverberating from the 1956 Women's Congress on Housing.

The recently published report of the Congress shows that the consensus of the 103 delegates — most of whom are full-time homemakers — favored a kitchen measuring at least 10 by 14 feet.

Don't dismiss the girls as greedy or unrealistic. The U. S. Department of Agriculture's recommended U-shape kitchen measures 11 by 16 feet. Both the Congress figures and the Agriculture Department's dimensions include dining area, which was an almost unanimous demand voiced at the congress.

MAKE CONCESSIONS

The ladies were so insistent on the question of space — usable space, properly planned and located — that they indicated willingness to make major concessions if the additional space they wanted couldn't be provided by rearranging existing facilities.

If additional space requirements forced construction of larger kitchens several groups proposed to offset the increased cost of buying kitchen appliances themselves rather than expecting the builder to furnish them.

To test this idea the Federal Housing Administration compiled cost estimates from over the country for ranges, refrigerators, clothes washers, dishwashers and garbage disposers. It was found that the cost of all five appliances averaged about $1,100.

Under the appliances-for-space exchange, the builder could spend that much more to enlarge the kitchen.

Ranch, Split Level Homes Key Design Production

Ranch style and split level designs will dominate the home building picture in 1957.

That's the consensus of builders from all parts of the country who exchanged notes at the home show of the National Association of Home Builders in Chicago.

Home buyers can look forward to no radical changes in construction, but rather to more emphasis on "quality production," the builders indicated.

As a result of the trend, many of the nation's largest suppliers of building materials revealed they would continue to key much of their output to ranch and split level homes.

Use of large picture windows and sliding glass doors, synonymous with ranch and split level design, is making many builders more conscious of solar design.

Orbeson explained that solar desing involves facing the large areas of insulated glass to the south, thus trapping the rays of the low winter sun for heat, and shading rooms from hot summer rays through the use of scientifically constructed overhang.

Some of the other apparent trends at the home show included:

1. A continued accent on home air conditioners, with accompanying development of better wall and roof insulations, including double-paned insulating glass in all windows in the home.

2. New types of roof trusses, prefabricated to cut building costs.

3. Growing popularity of compact kitchens, with built-in ranges and refrigerators which blend with the design of sink units and cabinets.

4. Several large chemical companies are actively engaged in research on the use of plastics in home construction.

5. Outdoor living is growing more popular among American home owners, with sliding doors of insulated glass coming into widespread use in all sections of the country to bring living areas closer to outdoor recreational areas.

It is predicted split level design may be the forerunner to the return to two-story structures, particularly in areas of high land cost.

To boost sales, one housing expert had this advice to low volume builders:

"Don't make your windows appear cut with a cookie cutter . . . and open the family living room onto a patio to give a feeling of spaciousness."

Extra Bathroom Handy

Many families are making the installation of an additional bathroom their No. 1 home improvement project for 1957. Romeo Turns Out to Help

2 Truckloads Clothing Aid Destitute Families

ROMEO—Parents of local school children responded generously yesterday to the needs of two families left destitute when fire destroyed their home on Predmore road Thursday.

Two truckloads of clothing for all 20 person including 16 children, were delivered to the home of Clifford Dahn, 17320 Pratt Rd. last night by Romeo firemen.

"They were so grateful," Mrs. Dahn said today, "it's wonderful the way the community stepped in to help them so quickly."

Dahn is the brother of Mrs. Leroy Houck who, with her husband and seven children occupied half of the two-family frame dwelling.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Boughner and their nine children lived in the other portion of the converted farm house.

Both the Houcks and the Boughners spent all day yesterday house hunting. Later, after their return to the Dahn home, they were literally "overcome" by the quantity of clothing they received.

Room mothers of grade school school children in the community launched a phone campaign as soon as news of the fire was reported Thursday.

They asked for clothing of all sizes, from 14 years to 13 months. Yesterday they sorted the articles and placed them in marked boxes at both local elementary schools, to be delivered later in the day by firemen.

Local police were accepting calls today from those who had furniture and bedding to contribute. Dahn had offered to store the things in his barn until they were needed.

A number of the children in both families are being cared for by area friends and relatives. Mr. and Mrs. Houck are staying with Mr. and Mrs. John Sanday, and the senior Boughners with friends near the scene of their destroyed home.

Need 72 Acres for Avon Trade

Planners of Rochester Report; Civic Center Study Presented

ROCHESTER — At the special meeting of the Avon-Rochester Planning Commission here this week, Paul Van Cleve of Geer Associates Planning Consultants presented the preliminary report on commercial land use for the downtown section of the village of Rochester in the master plan.

Van Cleve said, "It is impossible to determine the exact limits of a trade area. However, in order to gain a perspective of the space, money and people involved, it is necessary to make certain basic adjustments. The Avon-Rochester trade area is assumed to include, in addition to areas of Avon Township and the village of Rochester, approximately four-fifths of Oakland Township and one-sixth of the city of Troy."

The report also stated that the present population of the Avon-Rochester trade area is estimated at 19,844 persons, comprising 5,604 households and by 1970 the population of the trade area is expected to range between 32,480 and 47,245, which is half again as much to over 2½ times the present population. This results in a total land area need for 1970 ranging between 42 and 72 acres.

The proposed new Civic Center was presented in the study for the first time. It was discussed as to the relationship to the central business section and with the recommendation that "a green open space run through the main highways, opening up to the public view." The "opening up" involves the acquisition of and redevelopment of existing properties.

The Rochester Chamber of Commerce was represented by George Ennis, president, and Leon Robertson. The chamber has sponsored the winter ice rink on the Civic site. George M. Cram, Pontiac attorney, represented a group of home owners from West Fifth street whose properties are near the proposed park area of the Civic Center. Cram said he was interested in the adoption date of the Master Plan.

Feb. 20 is the date set for the next meeting of the Commission.

Your PTA Is Planning:

Annual Holly Carnival Scheduled for Feb. 23

HOLLY—Today announcing the annual carnival of the local PTA are Mr. and Mrs. Edward Topollinski, co-chairmen of the event, which will be held Feb. 23.

This has become one of the largest get-together occasions of the year in Holly, and elaborate plans are under way for the 1957 carnival.

Committees have been named covering every phase of the project.

Union Lake

The Union Lake School will hold its PTA meeting on Monday at 8 p.m. This meeting will be one of the most interesting ones of the year. The school will have as its guest speaker Dr. Edward Roeber, director of Counselling at the University of Michigan.

Dr. Roeber has contributed many articles on vocational and social information to many publications, also to his credit is a book entitled "Occupational Information . . ." of which he is co-author.

Prior to his occupying his present position in 1953 at University of Michigan, he was assistant professor of education at the University of Missouri.

Refreshments will be served by the third grade home room mothers, under the chairmanship of Mrs. William Beals.

Rochester

Mrs. Edward W. Williams, authority on children's books will be the guest speaker at the Monday meeting of the Woodward PTA at Woodward School at 8 p.m.

Mrs. Williams will review and evaluate, "Where Children Come First," by Harry and Bonaro Overstreet. The book is a story of the PTA idea.

The members attending will honor all of the past presidents of the PTA in observance of Founders' Night.

Set 1st Service; Scouts Worship

Guests and Evangelists, Social Events Planned in Area

LAKE ORION—On Sunday, the first morning service of a church sponsored by the Pike Street Church of God in Pontiac will be held at 11 a.m. with the Rev. Herman Smith of Ferndale officiating.

Bushman's Hall opposite the Lake Orion High School is the meeting place. A Sunday School will be held at 10 a.m. G. T. Messer of Pontiac is Sunday School superintendent.

The school has been meeting afternoons since Jan. 6 and has gained sufficient strength to warrant the organization of a church soon.

Avon Township

Rev. Robert Brandow will be guest speaker at Avondale Baptist Church at the Sunday morning service. Rev. Brandow will tell of his experiences during the years he spent in India.

He will also attend the Thursday evening service, when he will show colored slides of India.

In preparation for a week of evangelistic services at Elmwood Methodist Church, starting Feb. 24, a series of cottage prayer meetings is slated from Feb. 18 to March 1.

The meetings will be held Monday through Friday from 10 to 11 a.m. Persons wishing transportation or information may call FE 5-1873.

Ortonville

Boy Scouts of Troop No. 135 here, in observance of Boy Scout week, will attend the Methodist Church on Sunday at 11 a.m.

Special sermon by the Rev. Isaac McPhee will be "The Master and His Troop." Special music will be by MYF Choir.

Scouts of Lake Orion troops No. 37 and No. 137 and the Cubs will attend Sunday morning service of the church of their choice. An adult leader will attend each church and the Scouts will sit in a group.

There are about 175 scouts in the village.

Marlette

The Marlette Methodist Men's club will meet next Tuesday evening at 8, in the church. George McGinnis, of Clifford, will be the speaker and will describe many of his interesting collection of old and modern guns.

Leonard

The Methodist Church and Sunday School will hold its family night supper and social evening on Monday, at 6 o'clock.

The Rev. Hubert Karl of the Rural Bible Mission will be the speaker and will show several films.

MATH CLARIFIED — An expert at crystallizing mathematics, Dr. Herman von Barravalle, of Adelphi College, Garden City, N. Y., builds plexiglass models to help students visualize some of the more complex types of solids. Above, he displays a representation of the intersections of five cubes.

Organize Orion Parish

ORION TOWNSHIP — The Indian Lake General Baptist Church was organized Sunday when the church by laws, covenant, articles of faith and a budget were adopted.

Sixteen members joined the new church.

Rev. Gilbert Adams was called by them as their pastor; George Rachels, church clerk; Mrs. Renford Hallmark, treas.; Samuel Storey, Clentis J. Hazelett, and Renford Hallmark trustees.

They are renting the Townscorners School building 1445 Indian Lake Rd., in which they have been meeting.

Pontiac Lake Plans Weed Riddance

WHITE LAKE TOWNSHIP—The residents of Pontiac Lake plan to have the weeds sprayed again this year, due to the success of the venture last year.

Kids Won't Yield on Word of 'Yeild' —They Yelled!

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The moral of this story is if you misspell a word, don't misspell it on a sign in front of a school where peope learn to spell.

They learn to spell at East High School here. And they learn to spell yield "y-i-e-l-d."

So when they saw a couple of signs in front of the school which say "Y-e-i-l-d to Pedestrians" they told a teacher who told principal Austin Besancon who told police radio dispatcher Paul Grabill who told assistant traffic engineer Jack Gallagher.

The police took the signs down. Gallagher said he thought there must have been a foulup in the paint shop.

Teenager's Car Plunges Into River

McGee Hill Claims 4 More

FARMINGTON — While Earl Scherffeus, Farmington City Manager is seeking aid from the Oakland County Road Commission in improving treacherous Mcgee Hill, the "Hill" has claimed four more victims.

Last night, a car driven by Thomas L. Fredrick, 17, of Detroit, traveling north on Farmington road, failed to make the turn at the foot of the hill and plunged over the bridge into the river.

Neither Fredrick nor his three passengers, Barbara Wolfe, 16, of 22400 Lilac Dr., Farmington, John Halliwell, 18, of Redford and Betty Allen, 16, of New Hudson were seriously injured.

However, the accident serves once more to point up the hazard of the steep hill, sharp curve and narrow one-way bridge.

Chief Joseph DeVreiendt describes this hazard as "a 30 per cent grade and an 80 degree turn that funnels off to a 20 foot bridge."

Scherffeus is scheduled to meet this week with the Oakland County Road Commission on the subject.

Tugboat Strike Talks in 'Serious' Deadlock

NEW YORK (INS)—Negotiations to end the eight-day tugboat strike which has crippled fuel oil deliveries to New York City collapsed last night despite the frantic efforts of federal and city mediators.

Officials said a "very serious impasse has developed." No new talks were scheduled.

As the tug walkout appeared certain to drag on at least until next week, the possibility of a dock strike also loomed in the wake of a rejection by the International Longshoremen's Association of an employer offer to arbitrate their differences.

'High Ground' to Be Presented

Plan Mystery Drama in West Bloomfield for March 8, 9

WEST BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — "High Ground" is the title of the forthcoming production by the Township Players of West Bloomfield. The mystery drama will be presented March 8 and 9 in the West Bloomfield High School corner Commerce and Orchard Lake roads.

Tickets may be reserved by calling the ticket chairman, Mrs. Mogens Klopp at Mayfair 6-3034 or Mrs. Eardley Greene at Midwest 6-6239.

Robert Thompson, producer of the three-act drama, reports that construction of the set is well under way. Technical director, Neil McArthur and his crew of members from the stage and scenery committee are working nightly in a barn on the property of one of their Birmingham members, Gerald Cohen. The committee consists of Carl Metz, George Bender, Russell Kock, George Heck, John McConnell, Ellwood May, John Radcliffe, Kenzie Smith, Dale Olsen, Eardley Greene, Phillip DeMarco and Gerald Cohen.

The little theater group takes great pride in its selection of unusual and challenging plays. This is possible due to the fact that the group is comprised of members from every field of endeavor. Each and every member readily offers his or her talents where most needed, resulting in a most successful and closely knit organization. Although just a year old last month, their membership has steadily risen from twenty charter members to approximately one hundred.

3 Nations Dip on Cash Market

Russia, Hungary, Egypt Show Monetary Slump on Zurich Exchange

ZURICH, Switzerland (AP) — The currencies of Russia, Hungary and Egypt have slumped on the Zurich financial exchange as a result of the Hungary and Suez crises.

But the Suez invasion had little effect on the value of the French franc on the Swiss money market and the value of the British pound has increased.

The Israeli pound has dropped less than a fifth.

Switzerland has no currency restrictions, and the Zurich money market often is a barometer of the financial and political stability of other nations.

Dealings in currencies of the Communist countries are generally limited by a low demand. Few travelers go there, and the Communists impose penalties on the illegal import of banknotes. There are no money transfers between Switzerland and eastern Europe, because all trade is conducted on a bilateral clearing basis.

This makes the ruble worth about 3 U. S. cents, against the official rate of 25 cents that U.S. tourists to the Soviet Union must pay.

The free rate for 100 Hungarian forints, quoted at 13:50 francs before the uprising, dropped to 8.25 francs in November and to 4 francs this month.

The value of Egyptian pounds has dropped about 20 per cent since the beginning of the Suez crisis.

Village Smithies Change Locale to Race Tracks

ARCADIA, Calif. (AP) — Ever wonder what happened to blacksmiths?

They're still around, and doing very well, thank you.

In fact, there are 22 of them at the Santa Anita racetrack. George Ring, president of the California division of the Horsemen's Benevolent and Protective Assn., says they are earning about $1,200 a month, a sum undreamed of by the village smithy of Henry Wadsworth Longfellow's day.

Ring says the 'smiths have upped the price of putting new shoes on race horses from $13 to $17 (per horse) in the last year. He thinks $15 would be a fair price, and the HBPA has threatened to bring in outsiders to do the job.

The platers must give 15 days' notice before walking off the job at any track.

Track Man Learns About Sideburns: Not in Running

PHILADELPHIA (INS)—Journalism major Bruce Dern has been dropped from the University of Pennsylvania track team because he refuses to shave off his Elvis Presley-like sideburns.

The lanky athlete, who has acting aspirations, said he thought the fancy hairdo would help further his stage career. He also is a student at the American Foundation of Dramatic Arts in Philadelphia.

Dr. Ken Doherty, track coach refused to say that Dern has been fired from the team. "He preferred not to continue wth the team is a better way of putting it," Doherty said.

"Team members are expected to be representatives of the University of Pennsylvania," Doherty observed. "Obviously any man who feels he cannot live up to these expectations automatically puts himself off the team."

Dern, son of university trustee John Dern Sr., a Chicago lawyer and former Penn football player, is a grandson of the late George H. Dern, secretary of war, 1933-36, and governor of Utah, 1925-32.

Dern admitted in an interview that his refusal to shave the sideburns was the reason he was no longer on the team.

"I don't think the coach liked the attention I received at the (Philadelphia) Inquirer meet and at Washington," he said. "The kids merely yelled at me good naturedly. They were having fun. I couldn't see anything wrong in it.

"But Mr. Doherty is a man of principle and he probably thought it reflected on him."

Dern, a crack half-miler at New Trier High School in Winnetka, Ill., and a member of the red and blue two-mile relay team, admitted he would miss track, but pointed out, "Now I'll have more time to practice my acting."

Nab Ohio Man for Bad Checks

City Violations Clerk Recognizes Him; Sought in Four States

An Ohio man, wanted in four states on bogus check charges, was nabbed by Pontiac police Friday afternoon after a clerk of the Pontiac Police Violations Bureau, Willard J. Cogwill, recognized him from a Michigan State Police teletype description.

Clifford Wilbur Brown, 33, of Lorain, Ohio, is in the Oakland County Jail today on a warrant by Grand Rapids police charging uttering and publishing. His 29-year-old wife Lee is being held for investigation of the same charge.

Detective Thomas Mitchell, who arrested the couple, said Brown is wanted in Ohio, New Jersey, Indiana and Michigan. Eight check books from Gary and South Bend, Indiana; Camden, N. J.; Flint and Detroit were found in the luggage of the couple.

In January, 12 checks were drawn on a Flint bank and cashed there. Brown also is accused of drawing and cashing a total of 13 checks in South bend the same month.

The woman confessed late last night they had been operating since November throughout the four states. She said as high as 20 checks per day in a city were cashed, according to Mitchell.

Detective John DePauw said the couple would be held for further investigation until early next week before turning them over to flint authorities.

Total amount of the checks cashed has not been determined.

Blown Gas Main Found at Scene of Reno Blast

RENO (AP) — A shattered gas main was discovered yesterday under Sierra St. — scene of Tuesday's big blast which levelled a city block, killed two persons and injured 40.

Further investigation was planned today. It could not be determined whether the gas main was broken before the blast or by it.

Reno resumed its normally busy activity along Virginia St., which has been barricaded as a precautionary measure.

Leaking propane-air gas accumulations were blamed for the explosions.

Treat Milford Youths Alleged in Brawl

Two Milford youths were treated at Pontiac General Hospital last night for gashes they received in an alleged brawl at 2406 Williams Lake Rd. in Waterford Township.

A hospital spokesman said the wounds were inflicted by either a knife or a broken bottle.

Damage Safety Building With Stones, Bullet

Bob Hope, NBC-TV Sign for 3 Years at $10 Million

By JACK O'BRIAN

NEW YORK (INS) — Bob Hope has signed a new $10,000,000 TV contract with NBC involving three more years of TV shows, a total investment by NBC of $1,500,000 in Bop Hope Enterprises, Inc., in return for which NBC now owns 50 per cent of Hope's corporation. . .

It involves six TV shows a year at $200,000 per show. . .

They will be continued approximately as at present, mostly shown via kinescope or film (such as from military bases overseas, or from London, Paris, etc.) . . .

June Lockhart, one of the best young actresses of stage, screen or TV, signed for Monday's Montgomery Hour, opposite John Newland in "Grand Prize," a Broadway play last season about a secretary on a quiz show who wins the right to boss her own boss for a day . . . Any doubt how it comes out?

Personally, we think Charles Van Doren will go for more cash on "21" Monday.

We don't know much about the historical accuracy of Abe Lincoln's singing but Ray Middleton will play Honest Abe as a sort of modified Elvis, or Pat Boone might be better, of his day during Sunday's "Frontiers of Faith," NBC-TV. . .

STYLISH REASON

Denise Lor is off the Garry Moore Show through Friday for a stylish reason — she's starring at the Plaza's posh Persian Room.

Jackie Gleason's "Last Hurrah" hopes sank as Spencer Tracy's services were agreed upon . . . Jackie threw budget to the winds for his new "musical comedy" format last Saturday. But lost the Trendex race to Perry Como, 30.2 to 21.7. . . .

British, French May Meet Ike

Hint Separate Talks in Top-Level Meetings May Unify West

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower probably will hold separate talks soon with French Premier Guy Mollet and British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan in a move to reunify the Western Powers.

Diplomatic sources said the conferences now are being planned. They would be the first top level meetings among these Western leaders since cool relations developed last fall over the British-French invasion of Egypt.

First speculation had indicated all three men would meet together, but recent planning has been on the basis of two separate meetings, meet here first with Mollet, then fly to Bermuda for a conference with Macmillan, probably about March 21. The possibility that Mollet might go on to Bermuda was discounted here.

There was no official confirmation of the Bermuda conference either here or in London.

A White House spokesman said "until there is a complete agreement we will have nothing to say about it."

In London, both the Foreign Office and a spokesman for Macmillan declined comment.

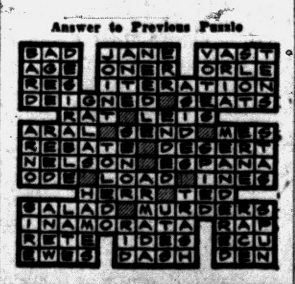
Eisenhower met in Bermuda in December 1953 with British Prime Minister Churchill and French Premier Joseph Laniel.

Nearly Million Over '56

NEW YORK (AP) — Editor and Publisher says 57 million copies of United States newspapers were sold daily in 1956—almost a million more than the previous year.

The trade magazine yesterday disclosed statistics from its international year book which will be published early next month.

Answer to Previous Puzzle



Lecturing Near End, Billy Graham Says

NEW YORK (AP) — Billy Graham says his days as a mass evangelist may be nearing an end.

Conceding that he found his work exhausting, Graham said he would continue to "evangelize, and I don't know how long, but certainly not too much longer."

The global preacher said also that he had several "attractive offers from universities to serve as a fund raiser." But, he added, he would continue evanglism as long as he had the stamina and believed he was serving as a useful instrument of "God's purpose."

Graham made his remarks during a meeting of 50 Episcopal clergymen at St. James Protestant Episcopal Church in Manhattan.

An English research station has grown a three pound tomato, searching for "perfection."

Change Your Own Small TV Tubes —85% of TV Troubles Are Caused by Wear or Worn Out Tubes.

Telefax tells you how to quickly locate defective tubes—how to change tubes safely and offers you name brand small tubes at 1/3 off retail prices. Picture tubes and inside antennas can also be purchased at big savings. Mail order—immediate delivery.

Gentlemen:

Some time ago I purchased your TV BOOK "INSIDE THE TELEVISION SET" and your CHEATER CORD. Sunday, just before the good programs started, I lost my picture and sound. I referred to your instructions about no picture, no sound, screen dark, and determined it was either a fuse or tube 5U4 causing my trouble. I had a 5U4 tube on hand which I had purchased from you at 33 1/3% discount or a net cost of $1.20, so I turned off the set, removed the plug from the wall socket, removed the back cover from my set, used my plastic handle screw driver and discharged any high voltage accumulation as your book tells how to do, referred to my tube layout diagram pasted on the back cover of my set, located tube 5U4, removed same and replaced with new tube. I then plugged my cheater cord into the set and wall socket, turned on my set, and PRESTO my picture and sound was back. I then disconnected the cheater cord, and replaced the back over of the set. How long did it take—10 minutes—What did it cost me?—$1.20 for the tube; plus the $1.00 I paid for your book and cheater cord.

REMEMBER—If you can change a light bulb you can change a small TV Tube.

SEND TODAY—$1.00 cash, check or money order for Book Inside the Television Set—Cheater Cord, and price list of TV Tubes. Money refunded 5 days if not completely satisfied.
