Mountains of Learning Ahead

Pontiac Press Photo

"BROTHER, PREPARE" — Josiah Spires, 5, of 47 E. Blvd. S., who will attend his very first day of school Monday at the Longfellow Elementary School kindergarten, looks a little concerned and somewhat serious. He is standing between two stacks of books totalling more than 70 which he will be required to read in the next 13 years of public school. His oldest brother, Jason, 17, who began his last year at Pontiac Central High School today, shows Josiah some of the lessons which are in store for him. They are sons of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Spires.

School Doors Yawn— and So Do Students

By SYLVIA de STEIGER

This morning was one of polishing shoes, combing hair especially neat, and sharpening pencils for the 16,250 public school children in Pontiac, who began their first day of the 1958-59 school year today.

St. Frederick's, St. Michael's and Emmanuel Christian schools, which enroll 1,760 students, also opened this morning.

Another 2,200 public school kindergartners will attend their first day of formal education Monday.

By Tuesday, the day that approximately 1,050 teenagers begin sessions at the new $3,500,000 Pontiac Northern High School, all of the Pontiac schools will be in full swing with a total anticipated enrollment of 19,500.

The opening of Northern has been postponed until Tuesday because of a delay in receiving electrical fixtures and in completion of work by the electrical contractor, according to Dr. Dana P. Whitmer.

Besides the increased student enrollment of 400 over last year, 40 more teachers have been hired to staff the new high school, and a new grade school.

This brings the total teaching staff to 780 of whom 130 are new teachers.

The new $450,000 elementary school on Franklin road and Fern street will provide educational facilities for 360 students.

Five classrooms and one kindergarten, a $160,000 project, have been added to the Owen Elementary School on East Columbia and Baldwin avenues which allows an increase from 450 to 660 students this fall.

Beginning this fall, high school students will be enrolled in six regular class periods of work for

Detroit Newspaper Strike Halts Presses

DETROIT (UPI)—A labor dispute involving the firing of a union official at the morning Detroit Free Press halted publication of Thursday editions of that paper and also kept the afternoon Detroit News and Detroit Times off the streets this morning.

All three Detroit daily newspapers are represented by the Detroit Newspaper Publishers Assn. in bargaining with the various craft unions.

Pressmen at the Free Press refused to begin work last night in protest over the firing of a union steward.

Robert Butz, executive secretary of the Detroit Newspaper Publishers Assn., said the steward was fired following Wednesday's early press run, for countermanding a foreman's order. Butz said the steward had been warned previously.

For Incomes Up to $10,000 Per

New Tax Form Out

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The government had good news today for 31 million taxpayers who make up to $10,000 a year.

They can pay their federal income taxes simply by filling out a small card instead of laboring through a long four-page form.

This new labor-saving system of filing federal tax returns was not without certain disadvantages for some taxpayers, however.

The Internal Revenue Service (IRS) said that if taxpayers wanted to take deductions for business expenses, dividend credits, sick pay and credit on estimated tax payments, that the long form would be required.

Until today's ruling, applicable to 1958 incomes, only taxpayers with incomes under $5,000 could use the simple card form, a punch card about the size of a bank check with 15 questions to be answered by the individual.

★ ★ ★

The new card form, according to revenue commissioner Russell C. Harrington, may be used by any individual who has:

—A total income of less than $10,000 consisting of wages as reported on form W-2 from the person's employer.

—Received no more than $200 in dividends, interest and wages not subject to withholding during the year.

Husband and wife also can make joint returns in this simple manner, provided their joint income is under the limit.

The new form is called 1040A. By using it, the taxpayer claims an automatic 10 per cent deduction allowed by law for personal expenses such as contributions, medical expenses and interest payments.

If allowable deductions over 10 per cent are claimed, the individual must use the regular long form.

The government apparently figures that a man who earns up to $10,000 has a better talent for mathematics than the taxpayer in the under $5,000 class.

★ ★ ★

The new regulations provide that taxpayers under $5,000 can figure their own tax or have Internal Revenue do it for them. Taxpayers with incomes above $5,000 must figure their own tax.

Reds Warn U.S. to Keep Out of Formosa Area

Peiping Sets 12-Mile Offshore Limits, Beams Danger Alert

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP) — Communist China posted a new keepout warning today to any American ships and planes that might be sent to help Nationalist Chinese in Formosa and garrisons on Quemoy and other offshore islands.

The Peiping regime extended its territorial waters to 12 miles offshore, taking in Quemoy and Matsu which nestle against the Chinese mainland.

The official New China News Agency said in a broadcast that all foreign ships and aircraft must have permission to travel in the new zone.

The new area also included Formosa, about 100 miles from the mainland; and the Nationalists' Pescadores Islands, supply point about 30 miles from Formosa. Both have always been claimed by the Reds as part of China.

The news agency defined the starting-point of the new 12-mile line as the line connecting the mainland coast with its offshore islands. That would take in Quemoy.

Matsu, which is about 18 miles from the nearest point on the coast, was within what the Peiping announcement called the Chinese inland sea.

The new sea limits give Peiping the pretext to regard any blockade-busting mission to relieve Quemoy as an act of invasion.

The Red Chinese move likely will be called illegal by most of the Western allies. But the allies lodged similar protests recently when the Soviet Union extended sea limits, and got nowhere.

The United States continued to beef up its forces on Formosa. U.S. authorities announced the arrival of more American Sabre Jets but did not say how many.

The new jet force is commanded by Maj. M. H. Erisbie of Powell, Wyo. His rank suggested that the force is of wing size, which usually numbers about 75 planes.

Gen. Curtis LeMay, U.S. Air Force deputy chief of staff and the top American exponent of long-range bombing, is due in Formosa Sunday for a look at the situation.

City Man Dies in Home Fight

Shoots Wife and Self After Argument Over Boy's Haircut

An argument over a haircut led to a double shooting this morning in which a woman was seriously injured and her husband killed.

Dead is Samuel Koonce, 33, of 23 Warner St., while his wife Wilma, 35, is in fair condition at Pontiac General Hospital with bullet wounds of the upper arms and chest.

According to Det. Sgts. Allen Noble and John Williams, Koonce shot his wife and himself after a family argument at 7:15 a.m.

Koonce's stepsons, Curtis Lee, 15 and Wayne Lee, 13, told officers the fight started over a haircut which Curtis was giving Wayne.

When Koonce objected to the way the haircut was done, Mrs. Koonce interceded for Curtis, the boys told police, and after a heated argument her husband knocked her down.

The argument resumed outdoors a few minutes later and Koonce opened fire on his wife with a .380 automatic pistol.

Wayne said he ran from the house in time to see his stepfather fire a last shot at his mother and then shoot himself in the chest twice, police said.

Candid Hoffa Study

FOUR FACES OF JIMMY — Teamster president James R. Hoffa presented these candid studies yesterday as he sat in the hearing room during the Senate Rackets Committee's investigation of affairs of his union.

Hoffa, Aides Plan New Convention

WASHINGTON (AP)—Teamster President James R. Hoffa huddles today with his executive board on his proposal to hold a new convention soon to elect officials of the giant transportation union.

The convention move, announced by Hoffa last night, was viewed as an attempt to end the court-ordered monitorship of the 1,400,000-member union.

The three-member "watchdog" committee was set up last February by Federal Judge F. Dickinson Letts to make recommendations for safeguarding union funds and restoring self-government to Teamster locals.

The union's executive board held its opening session last night. Hoffa emerged to announce he would propose to the board this week that the convention be held soon.

Also due to meet today was the Hoffa-appointed three-man anti-racketeering commission headed by former Sen. George Bender (R-Ohio). Bender was formally introduced to the executive board last night.

Hoffa said he would follow up any recommendations of the commission with "quick action." The union president said he would do this "regardless of whom it affects—Hoffa or anybody else."

Meanwhile, the monitors headed

Testifies Union Lawyer Got $35,000 to Arrange Shady $1 Million Loan

WASHINGTON (AP)—A witness testified today that Teamsters Union lawyer George S. Fitzgerald received $35,000 from Detroit land speculators who got a million-dollar loan from Teamsters welfare funds.

Walter H. Henson, a certified public accountant, told the Senate Rackets Investigating Committee the borrowers haven't paid back a penny since they got the loan in 1955 and 1956. But, he said, they have paid $104,000 interest on it.

Fitzgerald, Detroit lawyer for Teamsters President James R. Hoffa, was in the hearing room, waiting to give his version. Hoffa, who allegedly approved the loan to the Winchester Village Land Co. of Michigan, was absent.

Henson said Fitzgerald, a former Democratic national committeeman from Michigan, received a $35,000 finder's fee from the borrowers in a roundabout fashion. He said he had never before heard of the payment of such a fee for steering a borrower to a lender.

Henson said Abe Green, Detroit

State Traffic Over Holiday Sets Record

LANSING (AP) — Traffic volume on Michigan highways during the four-day Labor Day weekend set a record, the State Highway Department reports.

★ ★ ★

Traffic recorders set up at key points showed vehicles traveled an estimated 658 million miles from Friday through Monday, the department said. That topped the previous record set on the Fourth of July weekend by 21 million miles.

★ ★ ★

Throughout the state, traffic volume showed an 8.2 per cent increase over the four-day Labor Day weekend last year. Biggest increase was recorded on U.S. 2 west of St. Ignace, where tourists heading to and from the Mackinac Bridge largely accounted for a 27 per cent increase over last Labor Day.

Chrysler Banks on Car Rebound

Colbert Estimates Gain of 30 Per Cent on Full Automotive Market

By ROBERT B. TARR
Managing Editor, Pontiac Press

MIAMI BEACH—Chrysler Corp. is banking on a five and a half to six million passenger car market in its bid for a substantial recovery in 1959, L. L. Colbert, Chrysler president said this morning.

He addressed an audience of some 400 newsmen and trade paper writers here for a press showing of '59 models of the Chrysler Corp. line.

His estimate is a gain of about 30 per cent over 1958 retail sales. Of this 1959 passenger-car market, Chrysler's president estimated that about 400,000 will be sales of imported cars.

Colbert said Chrysler has spent about $150 million in bringing out its 1959 lines, which will be shown to newsmen this afternoon.

The Chrysler president revealed that considerable work has been done by the corporation in designing a small car which would meet needs and desires of the American motorists, but added:

"It is by no means clear as yet that the American demand for small cars is going to be big enough to justify one or all of the major automobile companies in moving into this market with American-built small cars."

★ ★ ★

Chrysler will display the French-built Simca here along with its domestic cars. Colbert told newsmen that "Chrysler's decision to invest in Simca could turn out to

Will Act Fast If Necessary to Protect Isles

Won't Hesitate to Send Armed Forces to Aid Formosa Security

NEWPORT, R.I. (AP) — President Eisenhower today solemnly warned Red China he will not hesitate to commit American armed forces to defense of the Nationalist offshore islands if he finds that necessary to the security of Formosa.

The President's position was set forth by Secretary of State Dulles in a statement authorized by Eisenhower after they had conferred at the summer White House for an hour and 45 minutes.

Dulles said Eisenhower will not hesitate to conclude that Formosa, the main Chinese Nationalist bastion, is threatened under an attack on Quemoy, Matsu and other offshore islands.

Dulles stressed that Eisenhower has not yet made any such finding under authority conferred on him by Congress.

"Presidential determination, if made, would be followed by action both timely and effective," Dulles said.

★ ★ ★

Despite the persistent bombardment of the Nationalist islands by the Reds, and Communist China's announced intention to invade, Dulles said the United States has not abandoned hope that the Communist government "will stop short of defying the will of mankind for peace."

Dulles said any United States acquiescence would threaten peace everywhere.

This country is bound by treaty to help defend Formosa and the nearby Pescadores. Congress left it to Eisenhower to decide whether successful defense of the main island requires fighting, too, for the offshore territories.

★ ★ ★

The statement today went much further than ever before in making it clear to the Reds that the Nationalists can count on American armed forces if Eisenhower concludes they need such help.

Lansing Meeting Drafts Plans for New Terminal and Tower on M59

Aeronautics officials met in Lansing today to speed plans for the new terminal at Pontiac Municipal Airport.

★ ★ ★

At the conclave were Homer Hoskins, airport manager; Lindell D. Hale, district airport engineer for the Civil Aeronautics Administration; William Hamlin, aeronautics department planning engineer, and Robert Peckham, consulting engineer for the state on the project.

City Manager Walter K. Willman said the group was trying to iron out problems in the final layout for a two-story terminal building and tower.

He hoped the plans would be ready for approval by the City Commission in time to be placed on the 1959 building program.

No final price tag has been placed on the building as yet, although the federal government has allocated $110,000 for the tower and $140,000 for the building. The state and city are to match the latter figure with approximately $70,000 each.

★ ★ ★

Because the bulk of the money is coming from state and federal governments, the Civil Aeronautics Administration and the Michigan Aeronautics Commission have the largest voice in drawing up the plans, Willman said.

"The city commission will pass on the final plans, however," Willman added.

The new terminal is to be erected on a 20-acre site on M59 west of the present administration building.

City officials expect that the CAA will approve commercial airlines service for Pontiac once the terminal is completed.

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The nation's two largest railroads, the Pennsylvania and the New York Central, said today they will seek passenger fare increases of up to 15 per cent.

Ella Creeps Up Toward Florida, Texas Coasts

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP)—Tropical storm Ella, likely to regain hurricane force today, moved slowly across the Gulf of Mexico.

The center was a little more than 500 miles south southeast of New Orleans.

Scattered squalls with rough seas and tides of about two feet are expected between Port O'Connor, Tex., and Pensacola, Fla. Small craft were warned to remain in port.

Seas and tides are expected to increase along the lower Texas coast tonight and tomorrow.

Heavy rains drenched sections of the Midwest and showers fell in a few other areas but generally dry weather prevailed in most other parts of the country today. Skies were cloudy in many regions.

★ ★ ★

It was warm and humid across wide areas east of the Rockies to New England, excluding the Dakotas, Nebraska and Minnesota, which were cooled by Canadian air.

★ ★ ★

Thunderstorms, with locally heavy rains, hit areas from the central plains northeastward to the Great Lakes region. Heaviest rainfall was in southeastern Nebraska and northeastern Kansas, with nearly 6 inches at Pawnee, Neb. The Weather Bureau issued warnings of flash floods in parts of southwest Nebraska.

Nance Resigns Ford Position

No Reason Announced for Move of Former Head of Packard

Ford Motor Co.'s vice president and general manager of Mercury-Edsel-Lincoln Division James J. Nance resigned today.

No reason was announced for the resignation.

He is succeeded by Ben D. Mills, his assistant who is a company vice president. Mills was named general manager of the Lincoln Division in April, 1955. He became Nance's assistant when the M-E-L Division was formed last January.

★ ★ ★

Mills' post as assistant general manager for M-E-L will be filled by Walker A. Williams who was also named a company vice president.

Nance, a native of Ironton, Ohio, was an electrical appliance executive before entering the auto field in 1952.

He joined the Frigidaire division of General Motors Corp. in 1927 and subsequently became president of Hot Point, Inc.

Nance was president and general manager of Packard from 1952 to 1954 when that company merged with Studebaker. He was named president of the merged company.

He joined Ford as vice president in charge of marketing in November, 1956, and was named general manager of the Lincoln and Mercury division in August, 1957.

Aircraft Sales Climb Two Billion in a Year

WASHINGTON—The nation's aircraft manufacturing industry reports sales of 11½ billion dollars during 1957 compared with 9½ billion the year before. Desipte the record sales, production of military aircraft declined from 6,800 units in 1956 to slightly more than 5,000 units in 1957. For the first time, commercial sales exceeded two billion dollars, an increase of more than $500,000,000 over 1956.

Wayward Money Sack Eventually Returns

CLINTON, Okla. (AP)—W. B. Burks lost a money sack containing $21.90 but he got it back after it was passed around for a while.

Mrs. A. D. Barton found the sack on the street and turned it over to Harry Sullivan, parking meter attendant. He gave it to Police Chief Garland Hanks, who took it to the newspaper office to ask that a story be printed about the money.

Before the story could get into print, Burks reported the loss to the police and he got his money back.

all three years. Last year, due to crowded conditions at the one high school, students attended in three shifts, and had four class periods plus a study period.

The new high school will include three music classrooms, a dining room with a seating capacity for 300, seven vocational shop classrooms including arts, driver training, wood and plastics, general metal, metal processing, drafting and homemaking.

The single story building also contains 23 classrooms in the central academic section, a library seating 180 students, a reading improvement center consisting of 15 private sections, a journalism classroom and administrative offices: general, principal, two assistant principal, eight counselor a clinic, bookstore, vault and storage room.

A paved driver education area 250 by 260 feet is another feature of the new school.

The 110 acre site development of Northern High and Madison Junior High School, said to be the largest site in Michigan for secondary schools, includes a football field with an encircling track, a baseball diamond, a softball diamond, three tennis courts and several levels of grass areas for physical education classes.

Parking facilities adjacent to the gymnasium will accommodate 250 cars.

The double gymnasium, lockers and swimming pools of the new school are expected to be ready four to six weeks after the opening of school.

Supt. of Schools Dana Whitmer pointed out that many cost saving features are located in the new high school. These include nine foot ceilings compared to the 11 and 12 foot ones built 30 years ago; cinder block walls instead of plaster; plywood corridor walls behind the lockers and the same boiler room for the Madison and Northern schools.

The additions and new buildings are "a part of the long term effort on the part of the board of education to honor the request of the citizens to provide adequate school facilities when they voted in 1954 to provide a long term millage," Whitmer added.

★ ★ ★

Some remodeling has been done this summer at Central. A new homemaking multi-purpose educational unit on the first floor has been built to accommodate cooking, sewing, child care, child growth and development, home planning and budgeting classes.

Remodeling has also been done at Eastern, Jefferson and Lincoln Junior High schools this summer.

Three counseling offices have been constructed in a former classroom at Eastern; three counseling offices have been made from two at Lincoln and at Jefferson, the library has been enlarged to accommodate 75 per cent more books and double the student capacity, he added.

Iceland Leaders to Hold Meeting

Hope to Plan Peaceful Protest to Britain Over Fishing Trouble

REYKJAVIK, Iceland (AP) — The government began a quiet campaign today to take some of the heat out of Iceland's fishing war with Britain. "We have had enough violence," said one official.

He disclosed that speakers from the four major political parties are being urged to use moderation tonight at a mass meeting.

★ ★ ★

The demonstration is aimed at protesting against British gunboats and trawlers defying Iceland's new 12-mile fishing ban. Iceland extended its territorial waters to 12 miles Monday, claiming the extension was needed to protect the area from overfishing. The Icelanders show no signs of backing down.

★ ★ ★

The trawlermen, escorted by British frigates, challenged the extension from four miles which kept them out of their traditional fishing grounds. Britain also sent a note to Iceland warning that it reserves the right to claim compensation for harm to British fishing interests as a result of the ban. The note insisted the prohibited area was part of the high seas and open to all.

★ ★ ★

So far no shots have been exchanged but several fistfights have been reported by Icelandic coastguardmen who attempted to board the trawlers and bring them to shore for prosecution. Mobs also have stoned the British ambassador's residence.

No new clashes at sea were reported. Yesterday the Icelandic coast guard gunboat Albert and the trawler Burfell collided at sea, but only harsh words were exchanged.

Probing Teamster Land-Loan Deal

real estate man and one of the backers of the development company, gave Fitzgerald a $35,000 cashier's check, but that the payment never was recorded in any books or records, and never was mentioned in the official records of the welfare fund.

He said Fitzgerald received $15,750 from the $35,000; Max Klayman $9,625, and George Stone $9,625. Klayman and Stone were not immediately identified.

"A fine way to borrow a million dollars," the committee's chairman, Sen. John L. McClellan (D-Ark), exclaimed after hearing Henson's testimony. The hearing had got off to a late start, for unexplained reasons.

Henson, a committee staff member, said the loan came from welfare fund of the Michigan Conference of Teamsters. The committee previously had called it a loan by the Central Conference of Teamsters. The money was to finance a land development plan of the Winchester Village Land Co., on a tract near Flint, Mich.

Henson testified that minutes of an Oct. 11, 1955, meeting of the welfare fund trustees showed that John B. Backcock, another of the company's backers, said the company already had spent $1,200,000 to improve the land for the project, and that engineering work was well under way.

Actually, Henson said, the group had spent something less than $60,000, mostly on planning and engineering.

The group, Henson testified, had liabilities that exceeded their assets by some $10,000 at the time, but the trustees did not demand a financial statement that would have shown this.

Under questioning by Robert F. Kennedy, committee counsel, Henson said Fitzgerald was drawing a fee and expense payments running between $2,700 and $2,800 a month from the Detroit Council of Teamsters at the time the loan was arranged.

The council and the welfare fund are separate entities.

The committee is conducting hearings on charges that Teamster President James R. Hoffa has misused union funds and connived with gangsters in labor rackets. The AFL-CIO has expelled the Teamsters as a corruptly led union.

Removing Red Tape From Motor Bureau

LANSING (AP)—Six forms heretofore used for various transactions involving motor vehicles have been telescoped into one simplified new form, Secy. of State James M. Hare states.

The new system will be placed in operation Sept. 13 at Lansing and in more than 220 Department of State branch offices throughout the state.

Hare said the move will save the state thousands of dollars in material and personnel costs.

The new form supercedes one previously used for application for certificates of titles, duplicate titles, title transfers, lien placements and discharges, trailer titles and trailer transfers and duplicate applications.

Noted Woman Art Critic to Open 'Friends' Series

BIRMINGHAM — A Bloomfield Hills woman, who is a noted art critic for the New York Times, will open the 1958-59 series of programs sponsored by the Friends of the Baldwin Library Oct. 20.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Eero Saarinen, wife of the Bloomfield Hills architect, will speak on her experiences and the part libraries have played in gathering material for her book, "The Proud Possessors," which will be published in November.

Working on a Guggenheim Fellowship, Mrs. Saarinen traveled in Europe and the United States while compiling the biographical material on art collectors.

She has been with the Times as associate art editor and critic, and currently is ending a year's leave of absence.

★ ★ ★

Friends of the Library, formed in 1950, have brought many outstanding speakers to the Birmingham area, and according to Mrs. George W. Davis, publicity chairman, an exceptionally good program is lined up for this year.

James Taylor, 21, of 371 E. Wilson St., Pontiac, pleaded not guilty yesterday in Bloomfield Hills justice court to charges of assault and robbery of a Kingsley Inn waitress Aug. 26.

He is accused of hitting Miss June Smith, 37, of 708 Webster St., Royal Oak, over the head with a bottle and driving off with her purse and car.

Taylor was arrested in Pontiac last week on the description given by the woman.

She told Bloomfield Hills Police she was assaulted and robbed when she returned to her car about 2:30 a.m. in the parking lot behind the Inn. Her assailant had been hiding in the back seat of her auto, she said.

Municipal Judge Alva J. Richardson set the hearing for Tuesday. Taylor has been released on $500 bond.

Fire losses in Birmingham during August were $150, according to the monthly report of Fire Chief Park H. Smith. The department answered 30 alarms in August, including three first aid calls.

Registration for the fall session of Saturday swimming at the school pools has been set for Sept. 15-19, Robert Girardin, Birmingham recreation director announced today.

Registration may be made at the Municipal Building or by mail.

The program is limited to children in the Birmingham School District. A fee of $2.50 for 10 lessons will be charged, Girardin said.

Richard T. Chissus

Service for Richard T. Chissus, 73, a former Birmingham resident who died yesterday in Bloomingdale, Ill., where he had been visiting, will be held at 11 a.m. Saturday at Manley Bailey Funeral Home. Burial will be in the Southfield Cemetery under auspices of Birmingham Lodge 44, F&AM.

Mr. Chissus, a retired building contractor, had made his home in St. Petersburg, Fla., for the past seven years. He had been a partner in the Chissus Brothers Construction Co. of Birmingham.

Mr. Chissus had been a member of the Birmingham First Presbyterian Church and a life member of the Birmingham Masonic lodge.

Surviving are his wife, Mary; three daughters, Mrs. Verna La Barre of Royal Oak, Mrs. J. Clifford Bingham and Mrs. Michael Doback, both of Birmingham; a son, Russell L. of Sylvan Lake; a sister, Mrs. John E. Ferguson of Southfield; a brother, Robert W. of Bloomfield Hills; and five grandchildren.

Hoffa, Aides Plan New Strategy

into federal court today to protest the plan by Hoffa which would wipe out their existence as a Teamsters corruption cleanup squad.

It was learned that Monitor Chairman Martin F. O'Donoghue advised Hoffa not to issue any convention call.

O'Donoghue was reported intent on finding out from U. S. Dist. Judge F. Dickinson Letts whether the monitors can forbid such a convention and get court backing for cleanup directives to Hoffa which the Teamsters boss has ignored in some cases.

Chrysler Corp. Sees Bigger Car Market

be one of the most important moves by this company since the Dodge purchase in 1928."

The investment, he said, gives the corporation a strong position in the expanding world automotive market, which may reach six to seven million small cars, sold mostly in countries other than the United States and Canada by 1965.

Touching briefly on the labor situation, Colbert warned that "all bets on the year ahead are off if the UAW decides to act in such a way as to neutralize the stimulus of the industry's new models."

Kids Sure Not Fussy About What They Eat

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Records of the Milwaukee poison control program show that in 1957 children in this city swallowed, among other things:

Aspirin, liniment, soldering flux, reducing pills, furniture polish, battery acid, lighter fluid, airplane glue, fertilizer, gun bore cleaner, barbiturates, narcotics, tranquilizers, antihistamines, hormones, rubbing alcohol, camphorated oil, after shave lotion, iodine, toilet cleaners, laundry bleach, detergents, chromium polish, gasoline, kerosene, motor oil, benzine, wood alcohol, paint, linseed oil, varnish, paint thinner, pesticides, cologne and toilet water.

No Words for Rock

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—Prof. V. E. Thiessen of the Oklahoma City University English staff, says a package sent to the OCU "Essay Department" and channelled to him carried a stone and a note: "We've had a rock in our family for years and we'd like to have you essay it." Thiessen called for help from the geology department.

Oregon, Tennessee and Utah have become steel making states since the beginning of World War II.

Nothing to Do but Wait

GARY, Ind. (UPI) — Gary police hung a parking ticket on a car sitting in the middle of the street and discovered it had cardboard license plates, a dead battery, no brakes and no gearshift. The owner, Guy Thomas of East Chicago, said he was "just waiting for a push."

SUNWARD BOUND—Jack and his beanstalk had nothing on five-year-old Dale Merkel, standing on the upper porch of his Cleveland, Ohio, home. As a tike in kindergarten, he planted this sunflower. It is already 14 feet high and still growing. With Dale is his mother, Mrs. Carl Merkel.

Steel Production Rising

DETROIT (AP)—Detroit area steel mills are scheduled to operate at 72.5 per cent of capacity this week, says the magazine Iron Age. At that rate production would total 103,300 tons, compared with last week's 101,150 tons at 71 per cent of capacity operation.

A year ago Detroit area mills were operating at 91 per cent.

Moving to Ohio State

ANN ARBOR (AP)—Dr. H. Richard Blackwell, associate professor and head of the University of Michigan's Vision Research Laboratories, has been appointed director of the Institute for Research in Vision at Ohio State University. He joined Michigan in 1945.

Agree to Shun Dirty Politics

GOP, Dem Chiefs Sign Pledges for Avoiding Smear Tactics

WASHINGTON (AP) — The heads of both major political parties have promised to avoid smear tactics in the congressional campaign.

But in signing clean campaign pledges yesterday, the chairmen of the Democratic and Republican national committees made it abundantly clear they are not barring their candidates from discussing such topics as racial integration and the way President Eisenhower does his job.

Meade Alcorn, Republican chairman, and Paul M. Butler, Democratic chieftain, reached one of their rare agreements at a news conference after formally endorsing a code of fair campaign practices worked out by a national committee headed by Charles P. Taft.

They agreed they don't like the statements and the attitude of Democratic Gov. Orval E. Faubus of Arkansas on school integration. Faubus has threatened to close any Arkansas schools that federal courts order integrated.

Alcorn was asked if he would classify as dirty politics the Democrats' charges that Eisenhower is a part-time President. The GOP chairman replied he felt this transgressed the pledge's ban against the "use of campaign material of any sort which misrepresents, distorts or otherwise falsifies the facts. . . ."

But Butler said he doesn't interpret the code as restricting the Democrats from making the part-time President charge "with some degree of public acceptance of it as a fact."

In signing the pledge, the two chairmen went on record as condemning "any appeal to prejudice based on race, creed, or national origin."

Elderly Man Bakes Bread for His Family

DENVER (AP) — Tom Sekulich in his time has been a coal miner, a grain farmer and a cement maker. Now he's the bread baker for the family.

Every Saturday Sekulich, who is 82, rolls enough dough in his kitchen for bread for himself, his wife, his daughter and son-in-law and two granddaughters.

"He's never used a recipe," Mrs. Sekulich said. "He just remembers how his mother used to bake it."

Abundant Light on Patch of Green Has Hattie Blue

NEWARK, N.J. (AP) — Hattie Levin has a lot of light on her "little patch of green" today.

But she's blue, for the streetlight shining on her lawn is a symbol of defeat.

The spunky housewife fought with all her might to keep the front of her home dark and homey.

She even chased away a group of workmen when they started digging a hole for the lightpole.

Officials explained the light was needed as part of a citywide program to cut down on night crime and traffic accidents.

But Mrs. Levin told the officials she had owned the one-family home for 23 years, that there never had been a light there in all that time and that she wanted things to stay that way.

"Why do you have to break up my little patch of green?" she asked. "I don't mind the light itself, but why can't you put it someplace else, maybe across the street?"

★ ★ ★

Officials, unable to convince Mrs. Levin, finally pulled authority on her. Yesterday a crew arrived and dug a 5½-foot hole in front of the home. An hour later, the pole was in place.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Levin made no further attempt to interfere.

"You can't fight city hall," she said.

May Get Wish for Jail

DETROIT (AP)—Gasper Viviano, 51, who said he was disgusted because he couldn't find a job, smashed a display window in a downtown department store. He said he wanted to go to jail and police said he may get his wish. It cost $650 to replace the window. Viviano was held on $1,000 bond after pleading guilty to malicious destruction.

Says Education Act Still Not Sufficient

LANSING (AP) — The National Defense Education Act, recently signed into law by President Eisenhower, still does not do enough for education, the state's school chief said today.

The act authorizes 900 million dollars over a period of four years for various aspects of education. Congress so far has appropriated 40 million dollars and Michigan, theoretically, could get up to one million dollars of the money.

"But in Michigan alone," said Lynn M. Bartlett, state superintendent of public instruction, "we still are in need of some 10,000 classrooms. And we still have close to 11,000 teachers who do not meet standards."

Diamonds, aside from being a decorative jewel, also cut steel, shape bowling balls and polish dental fillings.

Iceland's Sea Claims Stir Fishing Troubles

The argument between Iceland and Great Britain over fishing rights has been going on for years but it has now reached the gunboat-protected-trawler stage.

Fishing is Iceland's main industry accounting for 97 per cent of its exports. On the other hand Britain depends for much of its food on the catch of trawlers sailing out of the North Sea ports of Hull and Grimsby.

In 1952 Iceland extended its claim from three to four miles. Britain, in retaliation, denied Icelandic trawlers landing facilities at British ports and boycotted their fish. Icelanders then turned to markets in the Soviet Union and Eastern Europe.

By 1955 Iceland had a thriving trade with the Soviet bloc. Under trade agreements the Soviets stepped up purchases of Icelandic fish and Iceland is buying ever increasing amounts of gasoline, oil and grain from Russia.

Fishing interests in both Iceland and Britain, under the auspices of the Organization for European Economic Co-operation, agreed in 1956 to resume British ports landings of fish caught by Iceland's trawlers. The question of fishing limits was to await consideration of the U.N. General Assembly.

★ ★ ★

A U.N. conference last Spring at Geneva on costal limits reached no agreement and on June 1 Iceland announced that it would extend its territorial waters to 12 miles. Britain replied on June 3 that it would not recognize the new limit; that it has no standing in international law but would be willing to negotiate. NATO discussions are going on in Paris but Iceland is holding firm.

★ ★ ★

Although a charter member of NATO, Iceland has a large and active Communist minority. Its minister of commerce and fisheries, who is a Communist, has just returned from Moscow with a $3 million Soviet credit for the purchase of fishing vessels in East Germany.

This dispute affects every nation's fishing rights. It is of particular concern to us because it endangers our strategic defense bases in Iceland and plays into the hands of Russia.

Railroads Vital for Country's Subsistence

President DONALD GORDON of the Canadian National Railways told the Senate Railway Committee that the days of the trans-continental train may be numbered.

★ ★ ★

President Gordon went on to state that the future of the passenger business for the railways may lie in the shorter hauls where air travel is impractical. Air passengers are already discovering that on some trips, the elapsed time from the moment they leave their own home until they actually arrive at their ultimate destination frequently points to the trains as the faster means of travel.

★ ★ ★

Many airports are an hour or more from home and the voyager may face this same time lapse when he reaches the airport at his destination.

★ ★ ★

The aircraft business is steadily claiming an increasing percentage of the long distance traffic.

We need railroads to exist.

The railroads do not dodge that fact. They face reality.

★ ★ ★

The ultimate solution of today's impasse may lie in drastically curtailing the number of trans-continental trains and concentrating on the short hauls. A large number of the railroads on this continent are facing sharp curtailments in revenue with no corresponding reduction in costs. This has placed several of them in financial jeopardy, with others rapidly approaching that point.

★ ★ ★

Some solution must be forthcoming.

It's a great pity that the early bird doesn't eat the worm that gets up early to breakfast in the garden.

Character: A victory earned—not a gift.

Word comes to me from its president,

There's a Pontiac angle to the celebration today of the 141st birthday of Monroe. The proclamation giving it that name was issued on Sept. 4, 1817, by

The Final Nails

David Lawrence Says:

Reds Behind British Race Rioting

WASHINGTON — Just as the Communists have had a hand in fomenting riots and bombings in the southern states of this country, they now have managed to accentuate racial friction in Great Britain.

LAWRENCE

Occasional clashes between Negroes and whites have occurred before in England, but the events of the last fortnight show a pattern of stimulated conflict that fits in with the Communist tactics in other parts of the world.

The usual technique is to seize upon any antagonisms and bring in agitators to aggravate the tensions. What has before been a dormant issue suddenly becomes explosive.

The Communist apparatus doesn't work directly in such situations. It operates through intermediaries. Thus, the persons who are involved firsthand in the riots are, as a rule, unaware of the methods by which they have been inflamed.

★ ★ ★

This is not a new mode of warfare. It was practiced with telling effect in foreign countries by the Nazis prior to World War II. It is not easily detected.

One reason is that the infiltrators work through "right wing" as well as "left wing" organizations. Their principal aim is to intensify already troublesome situations, and it doesn't require an army of agents to kindle a fire where the sparks are smouldering.

The history of the British riots fits in with the happenings elsewhere. At first there are public speakers who agitate under the protection of freedom-of-speech doctrines. Few people are aware of what's going on. The newspapers don't notice it in the early stages.

★ ★ ★

Then, when the issue is fully expounded, persons who display a fanaticism on the subject appear on the scene. It doesn't take long to develop a mob spirit.

In this country, the House Committee on Un-American Activities has uncovered instances of Communist instigation of riots and bombings in the South in connection with the "segregation" controversy.

Organizations concerned with the defense of Negro rights find themselves indignantly denying that any of their members are Communists and openly repudiating such influences.

★ ★ ★

So do the Ku Klux Klan leaders deny any Communist connection. But such organizations themselves are unable always to detect the means by which outside influences work their way into their ranks.

If the Communist apparatus wants, for instance, to plant an idea in the mind of "left wing" spokesmen—a senator or a representative or a newspaper editor—the last person ever selected for such a mission would be a known or suspected Communist.

The procedure usually is to stir up the "left wing" organizations and encourage them to send emissaries to carry on the battle. The same issues might have been espoused anyway, but normally it would take a much longer time—sometimes years—to bring them to a climax.

One of the biggest aids given to the Communists comes from those who can be counted on to poohpooh it all. A significant illustration of this appeared in connection with the recent demonstrations against Vice President Nixon in Latin America.

There was a tendency in some quarters in this country to belittle the Communist part in the whole affair or to pass it off as having no Communist connection.

Actually there has always been anti-American feeling of some kind in Latin America, but the people there are by nature much too polite to demonstrate in the manner reported during the Nixon trip.

The Communists, however, knew long in advance that the vice president was coming. They prepared to arouse the students in the universities — a favorite point of contact — and the plot worked.

There's scarcely a country in the world in which the Communist apparatus isn't secretly at work stirring up trouble. Thus the fomenting of race riots in Britain was a "natural" for the Communists.

Dr. William Brady Says:

If You Need Tranquilizer, Eat High Calcium Foods

How about tranquilizers?

Boy, hand me my Old Sourpuss mask — the one with the snarl.

There. Now I'll tell you what I think of tranquilizers. I consider them an easy step towards barbiturate addiction, and anywhere between tranquilizer and barbiturate indulgence the victim is likely to become a confirmed user of narcotics.

DR BRADY

Morphine, heroine, opium, marihuana and cocaine are not the only narcotics that lure namby-pambies to ruin. Alcohol, too is a narcotic.

There is one tranquilizer which I recommend for everyone, especially for young persons who have not yet cultivated a craving for alcohol or other narcotic. It is milk, skim milk or buttermilk, not less than 1½ pints (three glasses) a day for mature adults, not less than a quart (four glasses) a day for young persons.

The tranquilizing effect of milk is mainly due to its high calcium content. Calcium deficiency, widespread in America today, accounts for the wide prevalence of mollycoddlism or namby-pambyism of the youth of the country—for instance failure of most draftees to qualify for real military service.

In the booklet "The Calcium Shortage," I say on page 9: "Calcium increases the force of the heart-beat and tends to dilate (open) the coronary arteries or oppose spasm or contraction (constriction) of these arteries." This is physiology. "Calcium regulates excitability of nerve fibres and centers, diminishes irritability" etc., etc.

IN MILK, VEGETABLES

Milk, skim milk and buttermilk, as well as cottage cheese and whatever other kinds of cheese you prefer, plus green leafy (salad) vegetables, peas, beans, nuts and peanuts are the richest sources of calcium in food.

Besides an adequate or optimal daily intake of calcium to maintain vigorous health and functional efficiency, an adequate or optimal daily supply of vitamin D is essential to insure normal assimilation and retention of calcium.

Here we are again teaching a little lesson in nutrition instead of trying to rationalize the use of medicine. No apology. After all, if nutrition is at fault you're crazy if you squander your money on nostrums and continue to drag along on an inadequate daily allowance of milk, chesse, greens and nuts.

The Country Parson

"Men's lives, like eggs, may have fine things developing in them which won't show till they've grown strong enough to break through."

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Middle Age Divorce Most Tragic

Hugh's wife consulted her doctor about a divorce. He knew she was neurotic in the sexual realm, and didn't want to take the time to tutor her at length, so he urged her to follow this column faithfully. Many modern doctors also use their prescription blanks as indicated below.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case Z-310: Hugh B., aged 49, is a successful business executive in Pittsburgh.

"Dr. Crane," he began, "I confess I didn't read your column regularly till three months ago.

DR. CRANE

"Then my wife consulted a gynecologist because we weren't getting along happily in our marriage.

"And this famous Pittsburgh doctor told her she should read Dr. Crane's column every day.

"Well, that started me scrapbooking your cases. But my wife soon quit and now refuses to read anything you write.

★ ★ ★

"I've decided the shoe fit her too tightly, so she tries to deny the truth of your remarks in order to avoid admitting she is at least 50 per cent responsible for our marital problems.

"What can a man do when he has grown children and really loves his wife, but she tries to act like a prima donna?"

ADVICE TO MEN OVER 40

It's obviously rather late to try to adopt the proper marital technique, if you are already in the divorce court and your partner refuses to live with you.

But it is never too late to try, especially if the decree of divorce hasn't actually been issued.

Divorce is a public symbol of marital bankruptcy. And it is nothing to be proud of, even though Hollywood stars flaunt theirs before our youth until some of the odium has worn off.

★ ★ ★

In fact, one of my psychology critics lists in Who's Who the fact that he was divorced from his first wife! Can you imagine anybody being so stupid as to flaunt his marital failures when he wasn't forced to do so?

Is it any wonder such braintruster profs dislike my emphasis on practical psychology of the "horse sense" variety?

Men over 40 should order the medico-psychological booklet offered below, and do so fast.

For the most tragic place for divorce to occur is after you have been married for 20 or 25 years, and have grown children, plus many social and religious ties in your community.

Middle-aged divorces are doubly pathetic. And most divorces can easily be stopped, as the astute gynecologist at Pittsburgh realized when he urged this neurotic wife to read this column faithfully.

MEDICAL EXPERTS

Hundreds of medical experts use their prescription pads and write thereon the names of these non-profit booklets which they urge their patients to order via this column.

★ ★ ★

For such doctors can't afford to take their costly time to privately tutor each menopausal wife for 30 to 60 minutes.

And if they charged such a patient $25 or $50 for that office call, she would often be incensed.

So the modern medical expert just tears off a prescription slip and writes "Sex Problems in Marriage" or "Menopuasal Problems," etc.

"Send this to Dr. Crane, via his newspaper column," they tell the patient. "Study it carefully with your husband (or wife) and then if you are still disturbed, come back for a later appointment with me."

Busy modern medics haven't time to be individual teachers so they welcome a solution to this dilemma that has troubled medical offices for a generation.

So send for the booklet, "Sex Problems in Marriage," enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus 20 cents (non-profit), and learn why a wife grows neurotic or becomes a sexual prima donna after 40.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 4c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Voice of the People

Topic of Speed, Accidents Spurs Readers to Write

After inspecting the wrecked cars of the off-duty Orchard Lake police officers, who wrecked their cars last Sunday, one can't help but reflect on the letters and editorials in The Pontiac Press regarding a speed trap in Orchard Lake.

★ ★ ★

I'll agree with one point in the Village commissioner's letter that "the curse of this nation is sob sister approach to the poor mixed-up violators." The only trouble is that speed trap operators consider the tourist who passes a slow moving car or balks at the unreasonably slow speed zones in some areas as the most dangerous violators.

★ ★ ★

The most dangerous drivers are those who leave one of many taverns to climb into a car and try to get home without incident. Some of the drinkers have accidents and most of these are charged off to speeding. Here is where "continued winking at chronic violators" occurs. Untold thousands of accidents yearly are caused by drinking but will never be catalogued that way due to the "winking." The mockery that surrounds the whole highway safety program is disgusting due to this one situation.

★ ★ ★

The article about the police officers' accident doesn't state the men were charged with any violation in spite of the fact the new car must have been traveling at a high rate of speed to so completely tear it apart. I wonder what the thousands of people would think if they found out the same officers who so smugly issued them tickets in Orchard Lake were the ones that had the "mysterious" accident last Sunday.

Bob Clift

279 Scott Lake Rd.

The constant stream of complaints about Sylvan and Orchard Lake police amuses me. I suppose Keego will be next. We've lived in Keego Harbor for nearly 30 years and have made as many as four round trips a day (never less than two) through Sylvan and never experienced the slightest difficulty.

★ ★ ★

If they didn't make some attempt to check speed, Orchard Lake road would be just a race track. Anyone who can drive should be able to read speed signs and if they don't obey them, they should take their medicine like a man. We haven't driven through Orchard Lake as frequently, but we've never been stopped there either.

★ ★ ★

If people don't like it, let them go where they can drive like maniacs, which is the only way some people seem to want to drive.

'Would-Be Traitors Should Stand Trial'

Whatever became of those traitors that were studying "how to surrender"? The newspapers said the President was the angriest he has ever been. I hope he took it out on the right parties. I've seen nothing more in the papers. Is the matter settled or is it forgotten or just plain skipped as this nation does too often? I think these men's names should be printed and they should stand trial.

'Let's Boost City to Offset Publicity'

I saw the 1959 Pontiac last week and you can be sure everyone who sees it will burst with pride. After all the bad publicity the city of Pontiac has received this year, maybe with the introduction of the new car we should begin again to build some pride in the name of Pontiac.

★ ★ ★

Why not present the 1959 model in Wisner Stadium, have the sales force sell 100 cars in advance and deliver them in the stadium on the day they are shown to the public.

★ ★ ★

Along with that, perhaps we could have a reminder of the wonderful accomplishments in Pontiac, such as parking improvement, Boys' Club and other service agencies, United Fund, MSU-Oakland, school improvements and the new Municipal buildings. We could have a contest, "What Is Good About Pontiac."

★ ★ ★

We need a new pride in our city and we must begin soon. Why not get started with the promotion of this wonderful 1959 car?

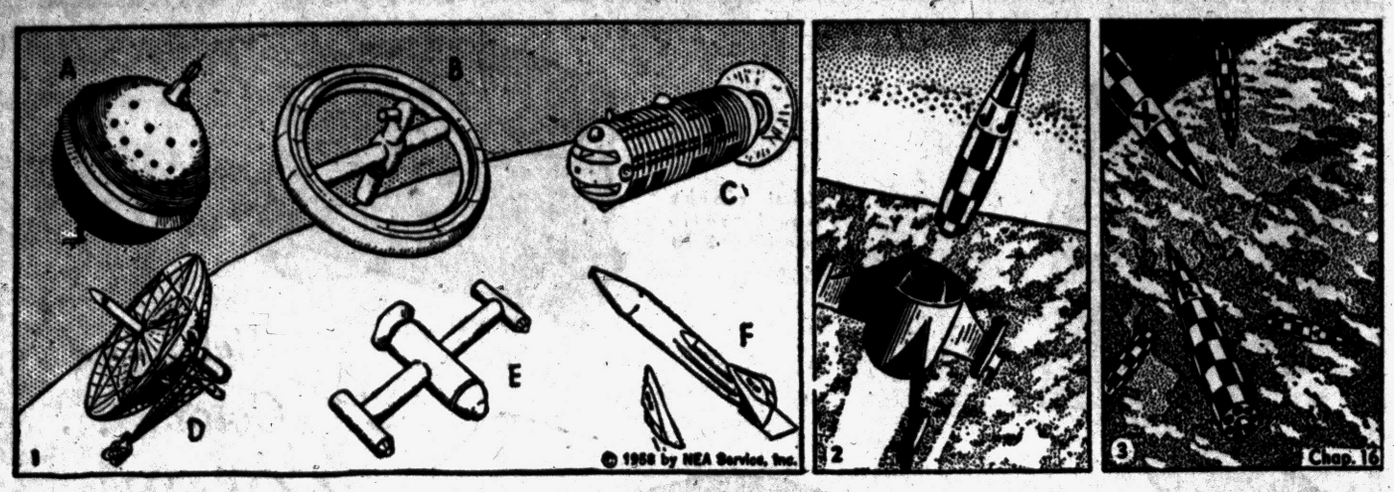
OUTWARD TO THE STARS

(16)—Permanent Orbiters

By Don Oakley and Ralph Lane



(1) Designs for permanent manned satellites, or space stations, have been proposed for years. Panel above shows several of these ideas (not drawn to scale).

Sphere (a) is the shape that gives the most usable space for its size.

At (b) is the well-known doughnut design of Wernher von Braun, favored by many experts. Rotation around its hub provides artificial gravity at the rim. In the original design, a concave ring was planned to catch sunlight for power. Advances in atomic energy now indicate that a small reactor, located on a mast, could be used.

Huge station at (c) is design of American rocket engineer G. Harry Stine. Rotating wheel at end houses living quarters.

Strange shape at (d) was proposed by the Britons H. E. Ross and R. A. Smith. It is essentially a giant mirror which focuses the sun's energy on boilers to power the living quarters in the mast.

The German, Kraft Ehricke, has offered numerous designs. Two are sketched at (e) and (f). Four-man station at left revolves about storage and instrument center in hub. Working and living quarters are in two outriggers. At right is a station that could be constructed from bodies of Atlas ICBM missiles — a form of "hardware" now available.

(2) But before construction of a space station can begin, materials must be placed in orbit. One suggestion is to use economical remote-controlled jet carriers to lift cargo rockets part of the way — actually, vertical-takeoff-and-landing launching platforms. These could give a rocket an initial boost of hundreds of miles an hour and save it from having to use its fuel going through the densest part of the atmoshere. As a result, payload could be increased.

(3) Firing of the cargo rockets would be timed so that they were placed in close orbits. Identified with markings and broadcasting their positions with solar-powered transmitters, there they would wait until men were sent up to "corral" them.

Next: Building the Space Station.

Negro Student Willing to Face Mobs Again at Little Rock School

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — "I'd go back."

Those are the words of one of the nine Negro students who attended Little Rock's embattled Central High School last year.

Terrance Roberts, a tall, rangy youth of 16, said last night he would return even in the face of mobs such as those which confronted him and eight other Negro pupils last fall. He added that as far as he knew six other Negroes also plan to go back to Central, if integration is resumed this year.

If it is resumed, does he think the situation will be any different this time?

Shrugging, Roberts said, "That's hard to say. I think the situation has changed some for the better."

★ ★ ★

Of the original nine Negroes enrolled at Central last year, one graduated in May and one was expelled last winter.

Roberts will be a senior this year. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. William L. Roberts, said previously they would leave the matter of his returning up to Terrance, "and we'll go along with him."

The youth returned last Monday from New York City, where he worked during the summer in the garment industry. The other Negro students spent the summer at a camp near New York, and all have returned to their homes here.

★ ★ ★

A Negro Elks organization gave the students scholarships of $1,000 each.

Roberts said he intends to use his in studying medicine.

Mary Martin Ready for Her Grand Tour

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK—And all because of chemistry, Miss Mary Martin is starting off on a six months tour of one-night stands that would scare the huskiest ham in the vaudeville circuit.

"There is, literally, a chemical reaction between a live audience and someone like me," she says, relaxing momentarily in her new pent house that juts, like a glassed-in cliff, over the East River. "The chemistry of an audience is almost—is almost—solid. You can hold it in your hand. You can taste it.

★ ★ ★

"I need an audience. I have wanted to do this for 10 years."

"It's an instinct Mary has," says her husband and manager, Dick Halliday. "She could stay here in New York and do two major television spectaculars and make more money—and we could have what you'd call a gay, good time."

"But I want to get out to people," Mary says. "Television is not the same, though it's better than movies. At least with a television show you know the audience is out there somewhere, watching at the moment you're singing. I just don't like movies; never did, do not, never could. The audience is the thing."

She will give 83 concerts. Starting in Alaska for servicemen, and traveling on by bus to major and minor cities around America. She will give matinees for children and evening concerts for adults. There will be 14 changes of clothes and about four hours of solid singing or talking on two-performance days.

"I don't dare think yet how taxing it's going to be on my sound tract, all that talking and singing. I'm making like Scarlett O'Hara—I'll think about that tomorrow."

She says she has had laryngitis many times, "Oh many, many times.

"But I will go to the last gasp. My theory is that I never get tired. Just my body does."

And Mary Martin, as everyone in show business knows, leads what she calls "the most disciplined of lives."

For instance: "I have been rehearsing for the tour since last March. All I do is practice, eat and go to bed. We went out to dinner last week, and it was the first social thing we've done in six months. I am in bed every night at 8:30."

★ ★ ★

Her tremendous energy is partly from Texas, and partly from her husband. "I had a fantastically constituted mother, who had gall bladder attacks one day and was on the go the next. When I came to New York, I thought I could do the same thing. The first year I nearly killed myself. Then I married Mr. Richard Halliday, and he put me in line.

"At first, I resented it. I said, 'Well at least we can go out on Saturday night; everybody goes out on Saturday night in Texas.' But he said no."

As a result, Mary looks at least a decade younger than nature decreed she should, and is the most effervescent and beloved woman in Broadway circles.

Next autumn, she goes into a new Rodgers & Hammerstein musical, tentatively titled "The Singing Heart," the love story of the Trapp family. The thought of this relatively easy life of a Broadway run will help see her through the upcoming tour, planned by Columbia Artists and the State Department at Mary's request.

"Nothing is easy that you want very much," she says. "It took me 13 years to do 'Peter Pan' after I dreamed up the idea. It took three years to get 'Annie Get Your Gun' on television. And now this—this tour which I've wanted to do for 10 years.

"But our motto is, 'Once you have dreamed it, never let it go.'"

3 More Polio Cases Reported in County

Three more cases of polio were reported in the county last week, according to Dr. John D. Monroe, health director.

The county health department reports one new case each in Rochester, Royal Oak and Hazel Park. The total number of cases reported to date this year is now nine, compared to 12 for the same period in 1957.

Twenty persons were stricken with polio last year throughout the county.

During International Geophysical Year

Advance Knowledge of Weather, Oceans

(The intensive, cooperative efforts of the International Geophysical Year have brought notable advances in weather and ocean science. From Moscow, where he attended IGY sessions recently, Dr. Dale F. Leipper reports on developments in these fields. He is director of the Department of Oceanography and Meteorology at Texas A & M College.)

By DR. DALE F. LEIPPER
Written for The Associated Press
(Third in Series)

Thirteen months of systematic observation of the earth's fluid envelope—the atmosphere and the ocean — were summarized during a recent gathering of world scientists in Moscow.

★ ★ ★

Some 50 research vessels are involved in the marine research program and expeditions have been conducted in all the world's oceans. Surveys lasted as long as nine months. Since time is required after an expedition to prepare the data for distribution, it's still too early in the 18-month International Geophysical Year period which began July 1, 1957, for comprehensive results to become available. The same is true for meteorology with its far-flung network of regular and special observation stations.

★ ★ ★

But it is obvious from the discussions at Moscow, at the meeting of the Special Committee for the International Geophysical Year, that the IGY period has begun a new era of international cooperation in oceanography and meteorology.

And many new tools have been perfected. One of these is the swallow float developed in Great Britain. This is a device which will float and may be tracked at a fixed ocean depth giving direct current measurements. With it has been detected a reverse flow under the Gulf Stream of comparable speed.

Another most important device is an accurate indicator of ocean salt content, using the electrical conductivity of sea water as a basis. In meteorology, instruments carried by rockets and satellites open up great new possibilities.

One of the main efforts of IGY has been to obtain weather and ocean data over the whole earth on a simultaneous time basis. In working toward this objective, meteorologists have for the first time produced daily weather maps of the antarctic and prepared weather forecasts from them. There are some 54 observing stations in this area for IGY—an unprecedented event in polar research.

The difficulties of describing the oceans on a simultaneous time basis seem almost insurmountable. In the past, data from many decades often were combined to give a picture of conditions in a given area. The systematic work of the IGY provides one fairly comprehensive picture in a single year.

Good indications have thus been obtained that the significant features of the ocean temperature, its circulation and other characteristics do vary from year to year. Such changes have effects upon world climate, food supply and navigation.

In some specific areas, notably the north and northeast Atlantic, more intensive investigations were carried on. In this case many countries, working through the International Council for exploration of the sea, were able to define much more closely the general position and variability of the Polar Front—the southern boundary of a cold water mass which greatly influences the entire ocean circulation.

Another group of IGY studies in oceanography and meteorology is related to the heat budget of the earth. This is the mechanism by which solar radiation is received, absorbed, stored and emitted from the oceans and the atmosphere. It is the basis of the world's weather and climate.

Meteorologists have been making special efforts to attain greater and greater altitudes with their sounding balloons, and have added to the normal 60,000 to 80,000 feet heights, some 20,000 feet of altitude with temperature information. They have used rockets and satellites for occasional readings from even greater heights. They have added new observation stations.

A final grouping of IGY results in oceanography and meteorology may be made under the heading of chemical and radioactivity studies. Here, for example, measurements of the amount of carbon dioxide in the air and surface water layers indicate the influence of large industrial areas — which produce carbon dioxide by burning petroleum products—upon the natural environment.

The amount of carbon dioxide in the atmosphere modifies climate by affecting the transfer of heat. In the ocean it is a major factor in plant growth. To date, analyses do not show unusually large concentrations in the atmosphere. Apparently the ocean acts to keep the system in balance, in spite of man's efforts to change concentrations.

Radioactive elements such as tritium and deuterium have been used to trace air and water masses, determining the general flow and the rate of overturn. The general level of radioactivity in the air and in the sea has been monitored with the object of predicting areas and times when concentrations may become dangerous.

Army Awards Contracts for Air Base Dormitories

DETROIT (AP) — The Army Corps of Engineers today announced awards of more than $4,400,000 in contracts for construction of dormitories at three Michigan Air Force bases.

Each of the dormitories, to be built at the K. I. Sawyer, Kinross and Wurtsmith bases, will house 200 airmen. They are to be completed by September of next year. Construction starts this month.

Asks for Arrest to Make Test Case

SEDALIA, Mo. (AP)—The city fathers finally lost their patience with Stanton Hudson.

Hudson, publisher of the weekly Sedalia Times, has been trying for months to get arrested.

The 62-year-old newspaperman wants to make a test case of his arrest to protest closing of the municipal reservoir to public fishing.

★ ★ ★

He claims the city does not have the right to restrict fishing. The city maintains it must do so to prevent contamination of drinking water.

Hudson has been fishing all summer in the lake in open defiance of the ban. Yesterday he was arrested for trespassing.

He spent 45 minutes in jail then was released on $200 bond. Hearing has been set in Magistrate Court Sept. 22. Three other fishermen friends are charged with him.

Disneyland for Kids?

ANAHEIM, Calif. (AP) — The 2,232,650 visitors to Disneyland during the summer season—a new attendance record — ran true to form: The adults outnumbered the kids, 3½ to 1. This ratio has remained constant since the big amusement park opened in 1955, spokesmen said.

Air Force Cadet Caught Between 2 Pretty Dates

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)—Ed Hopkins is a lucky fellow.

Or maybe he isn't.

Hopkins, an Air Force cadet stationed at Colorado Springs, Colo., has been dating th daughters of two officers.

Both of the girls are pretty. So pretty, in fact, that both have been chosen to compete in the Miss America contest here.

One, Joanne Lucille MacDonald, 20, Ames, Iowa, the daughter of one of Hopkins' colonels, is Miss Iowa.

Representing the state of California is Sandra Lee Jennings, 18, Riverside, whose father is a major at Colorado Springs.

The girls got together over the weekend and started talking about, what else, boys.

Turned out they're both dating a nice fellow.

Turned out it was the same fellow.

Turned out it was Ed Hopkins.

Hopkins later got a call from both girls—together.

They said they teased him about the matter.

He Gets His Warning Just One Day Late

COLUMBIA, S.C. (AP) — In a program to discourage reckless driving, South Carolina suspends the licenses of frequent traffic violators.

The State Highway Department dispatched a patrolman to the home of a truck driver to notify him of suspension. The patrolman found a funeral wreath tacked to the door. The driver had been killed the day before in a traffic accident.

Hal Boyle Says:

Robot Wife Offers Fascinating Possibilities

NEW YORK (AP) — If science can build a perfect dummy mother, why can't it build a perfect dummy wife?

That logically is the next step—and, some feel, a step already long overdue.

The dummy mother — a cloth-covered wood and sponge figure heated by a light bulb—was made by Harry Harlow, a University of Wisconsin psychologist.

He found that bottle-fed monkeys were completely content with this laboratory mother. In fact, there was some evidence she was more satisfying than a real mother. For, in addition to being warm and soft, she never left her babies—and she never scolded them.

What works with monkeys, however, may not work with children. One can hardly foresee much of a future for artificial human mothers — at least in this country. Americans have a firm faith that a good mother can't be bought, built or borrowed—she's usually inherited, just as are the color of one's eyes.

★ ★ ★

But this isn't true at all of wives. Wives are almost never inherited. They are acquired—just like a broken arm, a job, or false teeth.

The possibilities of creating dummy wives—perhaps artificial is a better word—are positively breath-taking. They offer a real challenge to any scientist worth his test tubes.

★ ★ ★

A substitute human wife would have to be more than warm, soft and silent.

She'd be kind of a combination of an electronic brain and a department store dummy — full of all kinds of wonderful machinery unknown to ordinary wives.

Instead of talking, she'd merely hum recorded Strauss waltzes while you read your morning paper. If you got lonesome for conversation, you could put two broken records in her in English, French, German, Spanish or Italian. This is one more broken record than the normal wife today can play in any langugage.

★ ★ ★

If anything went wrong with her, you'd save doctor bills. You could fix her with a wrench—or by kicking her in the control panel.

On a vacation trip you could ship her ahead by express, and join her yourself later by air, first class.

★ ★ ★

She'd never complain about not having anything to wear. All a mechanical wife could wear is out—in which case you'd just trade her in for a newer model, or sell her to the junkman and become a bachelor again.

If she ever talked back to you, you wouldn't just suspect she had a screw loose somewhere. You'd know it.

Her food bill would come from the power and light company. And everybody knows electricity is cheaper than groceries.

If she ever seemed cold or distant to you, you could always make her more warm and affectionate by installing another 200-watt light bulb in her. You could even change the color of her eyes by switching the color of her light bulbs.

She could be much more entertaining than the usual flesh-and-blood and yakkety-yak wife. You could put a steel handle on her side, a glass panel in her bosom, equip her with slot machine innards—and do all your gambling at home.

★ ★ ★

All in all, it's a wonder science hasn't come up with the mechanical dummy wife already.

What would be her disadvantages? None.

How could there be? She is perfect from the standpoints of sociability, durability and low cost of upkeep.

But already I can hear some long-time old married codger protesting: "Why bother to build new artificial wives? Aren't the ones we got artificial enough already?"

To Serve at Little Rock

Hiring Civilian Deputies

By The Associated Press

The federal government has enlisted civilians to serve as deputy marshals if needed at Little Rock.

Several Southern schools integrated peacefully. Trouble, however, was reported at two points.

At Greensboro, N.C., a small group displaying a Ku Klux Klan banner and a Confederate flag met at a school. Even so, five Negro children, three of whom entered the school last year, attended the opening session without trouble.

Application blanks for deputy U.S. marshal did not mention the racial situation at Little Rock's Central High School, but one applicant said there was no doubt he was signing for duty at Central if it reopens as an integrated school.

The U.S. Supreme Court meets Sept. 11, four days before the school opens, to hear the Little Rock school board's plea for a 30-month breathing spell. The NAACP will ask that integration be resumed at once.

At Fort Smith, just across the Arkansas River from Van Buren, two elementary schools admitted Negros. One of the youngsters attended school with white children last semester in Fort Smith, where integration is voluntary. The Arkansas cities of Hoxie, Fayetteville and Charleston also went ahead peaceably with integration.

Four Kentucky high schools desegregated for the first time. There were no incidents as two Negroes attended white schools in Charlotte, one of the cities in which North Carolina's first school integration took place last year.

Four Negroes plan to enter white schools opening today at Winston-Salem, N.C.

Vote to Petition Straley Ouster

Police Officers Assn. Scores Chief on Basis of Parole Intercession

The Pontiac Police Officers Assn. last night voted to circulate a petition among police officers calling for the resignation or suspension of Police Chief Herbert W. Straley.

The association, which long has been at odds with the chief, said in the petition that Straley's 1952 intercession with the State Parole Board on behalf of convicted gambler Basil Burke was cause for suspension.

Burke was arrested last Friday in the raid by state and local police on an alleged bookie ring.

The petition, addressed to City Manager Walter K. Willman, urges him to 'seek Straley's resignation and to suspend him if he refuses to resign.

It says that the association will file charges against the chief before the Civil Service Commission if the city manager fails to act.

Bar Owner's Shots Miss Fleeing Burglar

A Pontiac bar owner surprised a burglar at work and fired two shots at him but missed.

Marshall Moore, owner of Ducky's Bar, 800 Woodward Ave., told police that while driving home from an errand this morning, at 3:30, he decided to drive by his place of business.

Moore said he saw a car parked in front of the building and pulled into the parking lot. He heard glass breaking inside the bar and went to the rear where he saw a man run out, scale a fence, and continue running.

Moore fired twice at the man but he escaped. The car in front proved to be stolen from Wayne County. Nothing was reported missing inside the bar.

Making a Fortune in Greeting Cards

CHICAGO (UPI) — When Bill Harris couldn't find any greeting cards to suit his taste 16 years ago, he began making them himself.

★ ★ ★

This year, his greeting card firm anticipates a profit of $150,000 on sales of one million dollars.

Harris, 41, said his ideas come from everywhere—and everyone.

Arriving home one night, he was greeted by his son with, "I love you, Daddy."

"How much?" Harris asked.

"So much, Daddy," the boy answered, spreading his arms wide as they would go.

Harris made a card of it.

Then there was the time Harris cut his finger and became angry when he couldn't find a bandage right away.

He made a card of it. The card comes complete with a small bandage.

Receives Costly Advice on How to Snare Coed

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Traffic Judge James Demopolos offered advice to a young college student who was charged with making a U-turn on a bridge so he could pick up a pretty girl.

"The trick is not to make a U-turn on the bridge," Demopolos said. "Just drive to the end of the bridge and wait for her. There are only two ways a pretty girl can get off the bridge."

The lesson cost the student $7.

Classroom on Wheels

MOUNT STERLING, Ky. (AP)—One seventh grade class at Camargo High School held classes in the school bus, officials explained, because the school was so overcrowded. An annex is being readied to take care of the extra students.

Bagwell Loses Craft, UP Gains Nominee

Plane Crackup Leads to GOP Choice

By ROGER LANE

LANSING (AP) — A minor airplane crackup at Blaney Park a week ago Saturday started a chain of events that helped shape the Michigan Republican state ticket.

At the end of the chain was the nomination last weekend of John V. Clements 45-year-old L'Anse insurance man, for state auditor general.

★ ★ ★

He was the first Upper Peninsula man to win nomination for statewide office in a fall election since former auditor general John Morrison of Marquette in 1944.

Clements was one of two GOP state convention choices to come out of nowhere. The other was Raymond A. Plank, 42, Ludington radio station owner, picked for secretary of state.

Jason L. Honigman, 54, Detroit lawyer, was favored from the start for the attorney general nomination and Allan G. Weatherwax, 51, Jackson druggist, for state treasurer.

★ ★ ★

Here is the story of Clements' nomination as related by Dennis McGinn, Escanaba attorney:

When the accident cost Paul D. Bagwell, Republican gubernatorial nominee further services of his chartered plane, the ensuing change in plans put him on a commercial flight out of Escanaba with McGinn.

Flying together to Green Bay, Wis., they talked GOP politics.

McGinn became convinced that Bagwell would string along with an Upper Peninsula man for attorney general provided UP delegates could unite on a choice.

Returning from the American Bar Assn. convention in San Francisco, McGinn sat down in a Grand Rapids hotel with four other UP delegates to the GOP state convention.

They were Olive St. Peter and Mrs. E. Weide, both of Menominee, and Harold Christensen and Paul Schneider, both of Marquette. Bagwell's attitude was recalled, and they vowed to come up with the right candidate.

★ ★ ★

Jointly, they canvassed all possibilities that came to mind from among UP accountants and auditors and similar professional ranks. No luck. Then somebody suggested an insurance man. Clements' name immediately popped up.

T. P. Dooley of Grand Rapids, a former UP man, was dispatched to find Clements, who was attending his first convention and encountered him in the hotel lobby.

"Do you want to be auditor general?" asked Dooley, an old friend.

"I'm your man," Clements jauntily replied.

His little knot of backers hurriedly introduced Clements around to top party leaders. He made a hit. Next, he was sold to a combined 11th-12th District caucus about midnight on Friday, providing 123 of the 775 votes required.

Then Ken Kent of L'Anse, a taxicab operator, and Rudy Seppala of Covington stepped prominently into a drive to gather more delegate strength.

★ ★ ★

Former UP residents who migrated to Detroit helped swing the bulk of Wayne County's crucial bloc of 404 votes away from two Clements' rivals from that area and behind Clements.

Clements wound up topping Vincent J. Murray, Detroit unionist, 831 to 657.

★ ★ ★

"It never would have happened but for that plane crackup," McGinn observed afterward. "But after talking with Bagwell, I knew we could do it."

Thirsty Canadians Storm Detroit Bars

TORONTO (AP)—Thousands of Ontario beer drinkers, their throats dry and their spirits sagging because of a month-old beer strike, are crossing the border and going as far as Detroit to slake their thirst.

★ ★ ★

More than 15,000 parched Canadians joined in a Labor Day weekend search for suds that took them under and over the Detroit River, and into the well-stocked bars of Michigan.

The weaker U. S. brew seemed for once to appeal to the thirsty hordes, who have been awaiting the outcome of union-management negotiations under auspices of Labor Minister Baley of Ontario.

★ ★ ★

While Canadians drink U. S. beer, Americans continued to enjoy the prime Canadian brews, still being produced for export during the strike.

Since the drought showed no signs of letting up, police were on the look-out for beer-runners crossing the border into Canada by boat or car, while bridge authorities at Windsor were steeled for the exodus of Canadians toward happier shores.

Asian Evolution Clues Dug Up

New Findings Indicate Man 50,000 Years Ago Varied Over World

GLASGOW, Scotland (AP)—Anthropologists may be on the brink of discovering a new line of human evolution in Asia, a British scientist said today.

Tom Harrisson, curator of the Sarawak Museum in Borneo, recently told the British Assn. for the Advancement of Science that a unique labyrinth of limestone caves had been excavated at Niah on the China Sea.

★ ★ ★

Elaborating on his announcement, Harrisson said today in an interview that the work is still going on and may help throw new light on Asian evolution.

Human bones and tools at least 50,000 years old have already been unearthed, he said.

Harrisson said a human skull had been found of almost the same age as Neanderthal man, yet showing very little connection with this early forerunner of modern man. To Harrisson, this indicated that the prehistoric population of Southeast Asia may have evolved along different lines from the peoples of Europe.

★ ★ ★

"After all, people in Asia are Asians—with physical characteristics different from Europeans," he said. "The question is, how did they get that way?"

"We've not yet gone very deep in the diggings," Harrisson said. "At the bottom we're expecting to find remains 100,000 years old, and maybe much older."

He said that Bronze Age men, who lived 10,000 to 20,000 years ago, left ritual death ships and wall paintings in the caverns which show they were used as a burial ground.

An average truck in the U. S. pays more than four times as much to the states as passenger cars for licenses and in addition, at least twice as much for fuel taxes.

Bank Merger Expands Ortonville Loan Service

ORTONVILLE (AP)—The consolidation of the State Bank of Ortonville with the Genesee Merchants Bank and Trust Company of Flint has been effected by the approval of the directors of both financial institutions.

The consolidation will make little difference locally, except to enlarge the service scope here, and with the larger loaning facilities make it possible to better provide financial needs in further development of the area.

According to Miss Edna Profrock, executive vice president of the Ortonville bank, no personnel changes will be made. All records and accounts will be carried as usual, and the present directors will serve on the advisory board of the Community Bank, under which name the consolidation will be known.

The Bank of Ortonville was established 57 years ago, and has grown with the community. It became a state bank in 1922. Five years ago the present spacious building on the village's main corner was erected.

★ ★ ★

Duane E. Schulz, vice president and chairman of the local board of directors, says the consolidation was made after a long study of ways and means to give the Ortonville area a better banking service.

Frank Brigham is president of the Ortonville bank. Other directory include Miss Profrock, Schulz, B. L. Hamilton, Linford Owen, David C. Pence and John Waltz. All will continue in their present local capacities.

When the bank was organized in 1900 Clyde Hagerman of Oxford was cashier, with the directors being Albert Wilders, Clarence Stanton, Charles Randall, William Tunstead and Lewis Sweers. All of these men, including William Narrin, Hugh Taylor and H. A. Profrock, who were prominent in its operation, are deceased.

MARY GAIL GALLIVAN

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph V. Gallivan of 2460 Union Lake Rd., Union Lake, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Mary Gail, to Donald W. Myers Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald W. Myers of Jackson. The wedding date has been set for Nov. 22.

Walled Lake PTAs Sell Savings Stamps

WALLED LAKE — Saving stamp programs will be started at all elementary schools in the Walled Lake Consolidated School District this fall.

★ ★ ★

Sponsored by the Parent-Teachers association, each program will be set up on the same basis.

A PTA member will visit school rooms each week to sell savings stamps which go toward the purchase of a $25 U.S. savings bond.

The opportunity to buy stamps at school will be offered for the third straight school year at Glengary Elementary School where Mrs. George A. Phillips will act as savings stamp chairman for the PTA.

Chairmen at other schools in the district are:

Mrs. Del Burgois, Wixom Elementary School; Mrs. Clifford Newman, Walled Lake Elementary School; Mrs. John Gordon, Union Lake Elementary School; Mrs. Kenneth Lehman, Twin Beach Elementary School; Mrs. Keith Agy, Decker Elementary School, and Mrs. Otto Lind, Commerce Elementary School.

Old-Timers Day at State Fair

Gov. Williams Presides at Crowning of Queen in Wednesday Doings

DETROIT (AP) — The 1958 Michigan State Fair, heading toward a possible attendance record, moved into old timers day today.

Gov. Williams made his annual tour of the fairgrounds yesterday.

★ ★ ★

Williams presided at the crowning of 19-year-old Lila Verslype of Harper Woods as the 1958 State Fair queen. Miss Verslype, a blue-eyed, blonde stenographer at Parke, Davis & Co., won out over 49 other contestants for the queen title.

The grand champion steer owned by Duane Kaatz, 13, of Mount Clemens, was sold to Food Fair Markets of Detroit at $1.75 a pound. The steer was an 894 pound Aberdeen Angus.

Food Fair buyers also bought the grand champion lamb of the junior show, a 9-pound Southdown owned by Darrel Gochanour of Litchfield on a bid of 70 cents a pound.

★ ★ ★

The grand champion lamb, a 100-pound Hampshire from Michigan State University went for $4.10 a pound, and the grand champion barrow, a Poland China owned by Norman Allen of Coral sold for 45 cents a pound.

Attendance yesterday was 49,090, bringing the total so far this year to 537,582. Attendance through the sixth day of the fair last year totaled 525,296.

Small Machines Aiding Japan's Rice Farmers

TOKYO—Most of Japan's 6,000,000 rice farmers now have access to small machines for threshing, hulling and polishing their grain.

The machines are powered by gasoline or electric motors and are manufactured in nearly 300 Japanese factories. One of these plants, which makes power cultivators and other machines, employs 2,000 workers and turns out $5,500,000 worth of goods a year.

U. S. Visitors Expected

SYDNEY — More than 10,000 Americans are expected to visit Australia this year.

SHOWS CHAMPION STEER — Proud owner of this reserve champion Aberdeen Angus steer, selected at the Junior Show at the Michigan State Fair in Detroit this week, is Daniel Williams, 15. The son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Williams of 1106 Pontiac Rd., Rochester, Daniel is a member of the East Orion 4-H Club.

16 From County Win State Fair Awards

Oakland County residents entered in the competition at the Michigan State Fair are certainly winning their share of prizes this week.

The fair, being held at the Detroit fairgrounds through Sunday, has produced at least 16 county winners.

Daniel Williams, 15, member of East Orion 4-H Club, has received the coveted ribbon for his reserve champion Aberdeen Angus steer in the Junior Show judging. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Williams of Rochester.

Donald Boyd, 11, of Milford 4-H Club won top awards for his champion Cheviot ram and ewe. John Rose, 13, of 670 N. Adams had the champion Hampshire ram in the junior competition.

★ ★ ★

County winners in the baked goods, candy, needlework, canning and preserving classes of the food contests also have been announced.

WINS 13 AWARDS

Mrs. Stacy Klingersmith of Lake Orion received 13 top awards, including first place prizes for canned apples, apple and rose geranium jelly, canned mixed vegetables and canned snap beans.

The other awards she received were for cherry juice, cherry preserves, tomato preserves, peach preserves, peach marmalade and canned apricots, second; apple and mint jellies and canned beets, fourth.

Mrs. Ludwig Kitter of South Lyon took first prize for black raspberry jam and strawberry preserves; a third prize in canned stawberries and fourth in raised doughnuts.

★ ★ ★

Pontiac winners included Gertrude B. Karkau of 230 Oneida Rd., hand woven lunch cloths, first; Martha A Guff, 380 Ditmar St., raised doughnuts, second; Mrs. Rose Morris, 128 Illinois Rd., infant's snowsuit, second, and Albert Ross, 380 Ditmar St., red raspberry jelly, fourth.

Awards also went to Mrs. James J. Coyle of Rochester, rolled cookies, fourth; Mrs. Howard Sanders of Rochester, canned peppers—first, dill pickles—third, and spinach and chow chow—fourth.

The list continues with Bertha Hines of Ortonville, applique quilts; first, and mustard pickles, fourth; Martha Kitter of South Lyon, canned succotash, second, and canned blackberries, third; Cecilia Read of Davisburg, crocheted bedspread, third; and Mrs. John Fowler of Lake Orion, canned spinach, jam and relish, first; strawberry jam, second, and black raspberry jam, fourth.

Rain in London Slows Up Riots

But Police Still Patrol to Prevent More Racial Disturbances

LONDON (AP)—Racial disturbances tapered off last night as heavy rain helped reinforced police patrols keep the situation quiet in London's Notting Hill area.

The first night since last Friday without fighting between white youths and nonwhites followed a warning from Prime Minister Macmillan's Cabinet that "utmost strictness" will be used by officials to end racial trouble.

★ ★ ★

The government also hinted it might curb the presently unrestricted immigration from Commonwealth and colonial countries, saying the policy was under study. Most of the colored residents attacked by white teenagers came to Britain from the West Indies, Nigeria and other Commonwealth countries to seek better jobs.

★ ★ ★

The courts around Notting Hill dealt with 55 riot cases yesterday —43 white men, 10 colored men and 2 white women. This brought the week's total to more than 100 arrests. Such confiscated weapons as knives, iron bars, bottles and bicycle chains were presented as evidence.

About 200 extra police with Alsatian dogs were on hand when the rain cooled off the trouble area. Police broke up a group of six youths who jeered at a colored couple in one of the few minor incidents.

Earlier in the day youths hurled stones and milk bottles through windows of some nonwhite residences in suburbs about five miles from Notting Hill.

Despite the trouble, a shipload of 362 Jamaicans set out from Kingston yesterday for London to seek jobs. Their ship Irpinia had just brought home 254 Jamaicans, most of whom said they returned because of bad conditions in Britain.

The attorney general became a member of the cabinet in about 1814.

Jummy's Still Clipping Hair in Goodrich After 50 Years

By MARTHA LEWIS
Press Correspondent

GOODRICH — There have been a lot of changes in Goodrich — and the world — during the past 50 years.

But one thing has remained virtually the same. L. D. Frick, or Jummy as he is known by all, is still cutting hair and giving shaves at his Main Street barber shop.

Fifty years ago when he opened his shop, haircuts were 15 cents and shaves 10, Jummy said. Today a haircut costs $1.25, still far below city prices.

To show its appreciation to Jummy, who is practically a tradition to Goodrich residents, the Goodrich Community Club recently honored him at a 50th anniversary dinner at the Wheelock auditorium. Emery Bennett presented him with a gold watch.

When he first opened this shop it was with the feeling that it was only for a short time, Frick said. He had just returned from Monroe where he had been employed for two years after completing his three years of apprenticeship in Ortonville with the late Dick Porter.

BEGAN AT 13

He was 13 when he began his apprenticeship and it was necessary for him to stand on a box to work at the chair, Jummy said. "And I didn't get as many complaints as I do now."

Jummy's has been a barbering family. His father was a barber. His only son Donald is the owner of a two-chair shop in Ortonville. There are two grandsons, but no definite plans have been made as to whether they will follow the work of their father, grandfather and great-grandfather.

Jummy said he was always interested in hunting, fishing and was a "very good first baseman" when the gang got together. . .until a boyhood injury to his right leg made several operations necessary and left him with a stiff leg.

His main hobby is his pistol and gun collection which is displayed in his shop. It varies from relics of the Civil War to guns used in World War II.

Counting both pistols and guns he has at least 140, but there is a great collection of artifacts in display cases that brings his whole collection up to at least 800, reported to be the largest private display in this region.

He is a member of the Saginaw Valley Gun club and is licensed to trade, buy or sell.

FLINTLOCK HIS FAVORITE

One of Jummy's older guns, and his favorite, is a flintlock that was given to him by a man 92 years of age 42 years ago. The gun had belonged to the donor's father.

Goodrich school children are sometimes relieved from the every-day routine of studying from their history books by their teachers who often allow them to come to the Frick barbershop to browse. Here history really comes to life.

Frick, 70, and his wife, Flossie, reside in their comfortable home on Clarence street, where he says, "If I should retire I would find enough to do to keep busy with the yard and the flowers."

STILL ON THE JOB — L. D. (Jummy) Frick is much more than a barber to residents of the Goodrich area — he's a tradition. He has been cutting hair and giving shaves in his Main street shop for 50 years. Getting a "golden anniversary" haircut is William Brosius of Goodrich.

MR. AND MRS. LARRY L. RUSSELL

Betty Jane Wilton Wed

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP — Marriage vows were exchanged Saturday afternoon at Sunny Vale Chapel by Betty Jane Wilton and Larry L. Russell. Officiating at the ceremony was the Rev. James Parker.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Earl Wilton of Shoman drive, Waterford Township. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Russell of Columbus, Ohio.

The bride wore a gown of Chantilly lace over satin, trimmed with iridescent sequins and pearls. The skirt featured front and back panels of lace with side panels of accordion pleated tiers of tulle, forming a chapel train.

Her veil fell from a crown of iridescent sequins and pearls, and she carried a bouquet of carnations and roses.

Serving her sister as matron of honor was Mrs. Franklin Wynn. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Martin Wilton, Mrs. Claire Wilton, Martha Fulgham and Helen Wesch.

The bride's nieces, Pamela and Vickie Wilton, were flower girls.

Franklin Wynn was best man, and ushers were Robert Russell of Columbus, the bridegroom's brother, Claire and Martin Wilton, the bride's brothers; and Jerry Ramney.

A reception was held in the church parlors.

The newlyweds are honeymooning in West Virginia.

Speaker at the Saturday night banquet will be William J. DeGrace of Pontiac, who will talk on "Leadership," the theme of the conclave. DeGrace is lodge adviser, chairman of the council's public relations committee and a 21-year veteran in Boy Scout activities.

He has been skipper of Sea Scout Ship Captain Kidd and adviser for an Explorer post, both of which earned national awards. He has been vice chairman and assistant district commissioner of the Pontiac District and held many posts in district and council operations.

J. Edward Stoughton of Milford, program chairman, said conclave events include ceremonies for the second or Brotherhood degree, a report from members who attended the order's national conference last week at the University of Kansas, and recognition of members who recently received the high national or third degree, the Vigil honor.

Candidates for membership will sleep in the open Friday night and work on camp service projects without speaking during Saturday. Members of the lodge will complete interior construction of the quonset building at the camp.

All phases of the conclave and all lodge operations are conducted by the scouts themselves. Adult members act only in an advisory capacity.

Carolyn Allen Weds at Ortonville

ORTONVILLE — The Ortonville Baptist Church was the setting Saturday evening for the marriage of Carolyn S. Allen and Gerald Martin. The Rev. Perry Deyarmaond of the Edmore Baptist Church, a former pastor here, performed the double-ring service, assisted by the Rev. Roy Botruff.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norman D. Allen, formerly of Ortonville, but now of Otisville. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Martin of Metamora.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor-length gown of imported rose pointe lace and nylon tulle. It featured a fitted bodice and Sabrina neckline, embroidered with sequins.

Her fingertip veil was held by a lace cap trimmed with pearls, and she carried a cascade bouquet of red roses with white streamers.

Maid of honor was the bride's sister, Beverly. Sheila Durkee of Ortonville was bridesmaid, while the bride's youngest sister, Rosemary, served as junior bridesmaid. Sherry Lou Allen of Otisville, cousin of the bride, was flower girl, and the bridegroom's niece, Janice Drake, was ring bearer.

Allen Dickason of Ortonville was the best man. Seating the guests were Linford Allen, the bride's brother, and Allen Martin, brother of the bridegroom.

★ ★ ★

The reception was held in the church parlors following the ceremony.

Upon return from their honeymoon in northern Michigan the couple will make their home in Davison.

New Jersey was the only northern state not to abolish slavery before 1850. It had 236 Negroes in bondage that year.

Mr. Muntean's body is at the Pursley Funeral Home.

GULF SINCLAIR

Service for Gulf Sinclair, 57, of 477 Arthur St., will be held at 2 p.m. Saturday from the Church of God in Christ with burial following in Oak Hill Cemetery. His body will be at the Frank Carruthers Funeral Home at 7 p.m. Friday.

Surviving besides his wife Maud, are a daughter, Mrs. Ruby Howard of Pontiac; a stepson, Thomas Bogan of Pontiac; and three brothers, Alfred of Pontiac, James of Chicago and Arthur of Clinton, Tenn.

Mr. Sinclair, an employe of Dostal Foundry, died of a heart attack Tuesday afternoon.

MRS. BERNARD J. WILLIAMS

WALLED LAKE — Service for Mrs. Bernard J. (Iva L.) Williams, 73, of Long Beach, Calif., formerly of Walled Lake, will be held at 2 p.m. Saturday at the Walled Lake Methodist Church. Burial will be in the Walled Lake Cemetery.

The body is at the Donelson-Johns Funeral Home.

Mrs. Williams died Wednesday at the home of her sister, Mrs. Bertha Williams of 309 W. Walled Lake Dr., following a six-month illness.

Surviving are another sister, Mrs. Frances Hoyt, also of Walled Lake, and a brother, Harold Parmalee of Detroit.

Deaths Elsewhere

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

WARSAW, Ind. (AP) — B. B. Ackley, 85, pianist and gospel song writer, died yesterday. He had traveled all over the world as pianist for noted evangelists, including the late Billy Sunday. He composed more than 3,500 gospel songs.

NEW YORK (AP)—Walter Beinecke, 70, a business executive and once rated one of the world's top bridge players, died yesterday. He was board chairman and chief executive officer of John C. Paige and Co., an insurance firm, and finance chairman of the Sperry and Hutchinson Co., oldest and largest of the trading stamp companies.

★ ★ ★

BOLTON, Mass. (AP) — Reginald Coggeshall, 64, retired journalism professor and former newspaperman, died yesterday. He was a newsman with New York and Boston papers and with the Associated Press. He later taught journalism at several universities and retired from the faculty at Boston University last June.

Chiang Eyes Military Help

Report on Aid to Formosa

WASHINGTON (AP) — The General Accounting Office said today the Chinese Nationalists are more interested in a military buildup than in a self-sustaining economy for Formosa.

In a report to Congress, GAO listed this and other problems which it said have influenced the U.S. economic aid program totaling 880 million dollars to the Chiang Kai-shek government from 1948 through 1957.

★ ★ ★

But the agency said U.S. officials feel the large scale assistance has so far accomplished the main aim of bolstering Formosa's defenses and economy in the face of a growing population.

★ ★ ★

The GAO report did not deal with U.S. arms help to the Nationalist Chinese, totaling many hundreds of millions of dollars.

The spending watchdog agency called for prompt settlement of 247 million dollars worth of Chinese dollars it said were in arrears on amounts the Chinese were supposed to put up to match U.S. grants.

It also suggested that the U.S. aid program would be more effective if the Chinese government raised its exchange rate to a more realistic value, or at least put into the aid program as much local currency as it receives from sale of U.S. aid goods.

★ ★ ★

The report said U.S. aid officials favor a shift from state to private ownership because they believe it would improve efficiency, speed economic development and reduce the Chinese government's financial load. Some progress has been made in this direction, GAO said.

Use Convicts to Test Pills for Sunburn

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (UPI) — Convicts at the Florida State Prison were used recently as guinea pigs in an experiment to determine if a new pill will prevent sunburn.

All the convicts got out of it was a partial tan and a few dollars from Bristol-Myers, which conducted the research with approval of the State Cabinet.

Dr. Gunther H. Frey, assistant medical director for Bristol-Myers, said 12 inmate volunteers, admitted to the prison hospital for other diseases, were used in the tests.

Before giving its approval for the project, the cabinet was assured there was nothing in the drug that might be harmful in any way.

Harrelson Set to Appear Later

Top Local Teamster Was Scheduled by Rackets Committee

The Senate Rackets Committee has postponed tomorrow's scheduled appearance of Leaun Harrelson, president of Pontiac Teamsters Local 614, before the committee.

Paul J. Tierney, assistant counsel for the committee, said subpoenas were still in effect for Harrelson and three other key figures in the Frank Kierdorf human torch death.

Subpoenaed along with Harrelson were Herman Kierdorf, Frank's uncle, Myron D. Weiss, reportedly the last known person to see Herman before he disappeared for 13 days, and Jack Thompson, described as Frank's "closest friend."

Tierney said a "matter of scheduling" has forced postponing appearances of the four indefinitely.

★ ★ ★

Harrelson was the last to be served with a subpoena. This was Aug. 28 when he was released from jail on a habeas corpus writ after his ex-wife linked him with Herman Kierdorf a half hour before Frank staggered into St. Joseph Mercy Hospital Aug. 4 with burns over 85 per cent of his body.

Tierney could give no estimate of when the four men might appear before the McClellan committee in Washington.

Stumped by Stumps

LONDON, Ont. (AP)—Stumped by the problem of stump removal, London Public Utilities Commission is trying a new approach. It is studying use of a vertical saw which cuts a stump into kindling without any need of digging into the earth.

Two Southfields Sued by County

Asks City, Township to Repay Loans of Past Incorporation Elections

A suit asking $26,681 from the city and township of Southfield, as repayments of loans for past incorporation elections, was filed yesterday by Oakland County.

The county, acting on instructions of its Board of Supervisors of June 13, filed the suit after the two municipalities did not reimburse the county for the loans dating back to 1954.

★ ★ ★

The suit asks the Circuit Court to order a judgment of $19,810.78 from the city of Southfield and $6,870.85 from the old township. Five per cent interest on the loans dating back to July 3 was asked also.

The county acted under a law saying the county should be reimbursed for election loans made to areas seeking to incorporate.

County Corporation Counsel Harry J. Merritt named both the city and township as defendants in the suit "because they constituted the locality where the elections were held."

Southfield became a city last April after several unsuccessful attempts at incorporation.

12-Year-Old Murderer May Go Into Hospital

WOODWARD, Okla. (AP) — Commitment to a mental hospital has been recommended for a 12-year-old Woodward, Okla., boy who with his younger brother shot and killed two men last March.

★ ★ ★

The recommendation was made yesterday by a sanity commission that studied psychiatric reports on Robert Arthur Smith Jr. The boy and his brother, David, 10, are accused of fatally shooting grocer Floyd Blair, 49, and a clerk in Blair's store, Adrian Wilson.

★ ★ ★

The younger brother was sent to a boy's ranch, while officials considered prosecuting Robert for murder. County Judge James Young said it still may be several days before he reaches a decision on the murder charge.

Radium Poison Sign Scares Boys' Parents

NEWARK, N.J. (AP)—The inscription on the sealed lead and plastic container read:

"Radium—poison. To be disposed of only by burial in ground."

Russell Trunzo Jr., 10, and Willie Thoman, 6, found the green glowing container on a private road here yesterday and played with it for a while.

Russell later returned home and announced proudly to his father: "Guess What? I was playing with radium. But don't worry. I washed my hands good."

★ ★ ★

That's fine, his father said. "Now your hands are clean for a change."

Then he did a double take.

At about the same time, Willie arrived home with the container in his hand. He showed it to his brother, Emil Jr., 22, a laboratory worker, who was eating supper.

Emil dropped his supper.

Within moments, police cars rushed to the boys' homes. Officers blocked off the area where the vial was found.

★ ★ ★

They isolated Russell, Willie and Willie's sister Marion, 10, who had come in contact with the container.

News of the boys' find spread quickly throughout the neighborhood, and frantic parents hauled their youngsters in off the streets.

Dr. C. Richard Weinberg, Martland Medical Center radiologist, who was called into conduct Geiger counter tests on the container, finally cooled off the police and the frightened parents.

He told the Trunzo and Thoman families to bring their offspring in to the hospital today for a checkup but said "I'm sure there was no harm."

Weinberg said the source of radiation appeared to be from phosphor rather than radium, and the device, container and all, might be an oscilliscope, used in testing radios.

He added: "The thing gives off less radiation than the dial of my watch."

W. C. Handy, composer of "The St. Louis Blues" and other musical classics, was a very religious man. He was a member of the Methodist Episcopal Church and wrote many spirituals.

Wants Life Savers at All Farm Ponds

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (UPI) — A New York state conservationist says every farm pond in the country should be equipped with at least one life preserver.

Irving B. Stafford, of the Soil Conservation Service, said it would be one way to cut down on the number of drownings in isolated areas.

Stafford said such drownings have increased in recent years.

"A ring-type life preserver fastened to a stake at the edge of a farm pond could mean the difference between life and death," he said. "With a long rope attached it could be thrown from the shore to a person in distress."

Tires Big Rayon User

AKRON, Ohio — About 99 per cent of the cord used in original-equipment tires on new automobiles is made of rayon. In 1957 these cords used 300,000,000 pounds of rayon, or 36 per cent of all rayon sold during the year.

See October Census of 175 Million in U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Looking for a sure bet? Then wager that the population of the United States will pass the 175 million mark next month.

★ ★ ★

According to Census Bureau estimates you're certain to win. Despite a slight dip in the birth rate and a slight increase in the death rate, the bureau voiced confidence yesterday that October will bring a population of 175 million.

★ ★ ★

It doesn't have far to go. As of shortly after midnight today the population stood at an estimated 174,638,324. In the past year, the nation has been growing at an estimated rate of 239,000 a month.

Chile Candidates Vie in Close Race Today

SANTIAGO, Chile (AP) — Chile elects a new president today after a race in which four of the five candidates appeared heading for a photo finish.

Congress was expected to decide the winner. If no candidate gets a clear majority, the legislature must choose between the top two.

The four major candidates are:

Sen. Jorge Alesandri Rodriguez, engineer and economist backed by two conservative parties.

Salvador Allende Gossen, Socialist party candidate also supported by the Communists and other left-wing groups.

★ ★ ★

Sen. Eduardo Frei Montalva, a lawyer who leads the Christian Democrat party and has the support of several minor parties.

Sen. Luis Bossay, a businessman, candidate for the left-of-center Radical party, Chile's biggest which governed the country from 1938 to 1952.

★ ★ ★

The fifth candidate, Antonio Zamorano Herrera, is a former priest unfrocked for his political activities. He has a following among the poor, but is expected to trail far behind the leading four.

Traffic Engineer to Make Recommendation Here:

Need Gates at City RR Crossings

Bells and flashing signals are not as good a safeguard for motorists at railroad crossing as commonly supposed. They should be replaced by automatic gates.

This will be the recommendation of Theodore M. Vanderstempel, city traffic engineer, when he meets today with Public Service Commission representatives during an inspection of Pontiac grade crossings.

Statistics back up the theory that motorists tend to ignore the bells and flashers," Vanderstempel said.

"The mojority of Pontiac accidents at grade-crossings occur where bells and flashers are in effect but apparently are ignored by motorists."

Vanderstempel believes that motorists are inclined to disregard bells and flashers. Too many times, he points out, the devices are touched off by switch-engines or other railroad equipment that approach the intersection but never cross it.

"Because of this common experience," Vanderstempel said, "drivers apparently get to thinking that there probably isn't a train approaching and they can cross the tracks despite the signals."

Vanderstempel said that from March, 1954, through mid-July of this year there were 28 railroad crossing accidents in Pontiac, all occurring at 11 of the city's 38 grade crossings.

The accidents occurred in spite of the fact that 10 of the 11 crossings are equipped with bells and flashers, he pointed out.

Eleven of the accidents took place at the W. Huron street crossing of the Grand Trunk Railroad, which is the place the inspection will begin at 10:30 tomorrow.

The inspection team will also visit Grand Trunk crossings on Oakland avenue, Saginaw street and S. Paddock street.

In discussing automatic gates, which lower across the street approach to the tracks when a train is approaching, Vanderstempel conceded that they cost more.

"But the extra cost, I'm sure, is worth the savings in life and property," he said.

He estimated that gates cost about $16,000 apiece to install, while the bell-flasher installation costs about $9,000.

The inspection comes about as a result of Vanderstemple's protests to the commission that the Pontiac railroad crossing warning system is inadequate.

Children in Home to Enjoy Outing at Roller Rink

A group of children from the Oakland County Children's Home will enjoy several fun-packed hours tonight, made possible by the continued cooperation of an area roller rink.

For two years now, the management of the Doris Roller Rink, located at 861 Doris Rd., Pontiac Township, has offered its facilities free of charge to county children's organizations.

According to William O. Moulton, superintendent of the childrens home, "The rink's owners and managers have been very cooperative and are helping our child activities program immensely."

"Roller skating is a safe and healthy means of fun and exercise," Moulton said. "For a long while we were up against the problem of most roller rinks either being filled up or afraid to have a group from the home for a night."

The children are given the outings as a reward for good behavior and progress at the home. They go in age groups.

Tonight a group of teenagers from 12 to 16 years old will reach the rink at about 7 p.m. They will be given shoe skates, the music will begin and the youths will roll along to their hearts delight until 9.

★ ★ ★

During the summer months the rink plays host to the children every other Thursday. In the winter months, according to Moulton, groups go each week.

"We first began our policy of cooperation with county organizations about two years ago by having groups over from the Pontiac State Hospital," said Mrs. Estella Lewis, owner of the rink.

He's 98, Wants Action

DETROIT (AP)—The family of 98-year-old Moses Cohen noticed a newspaper story about a 90-year-old photo-engraver from New Jersey and wanted to claim a longevity record for Cohen. Known by his friends as Grandpa Moses because he has taken up oil painting, Cohen recently moved to Detroit from Philadelphia but wants to go back East. "Too dead and slow here," he says.

Outer Space to Be Neutral?

U.S. to Ask U.N. to OK Plan Assuring Heavens for Peaceful Uses

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —The United States said today it will ask the U.N. Assembly to adopt a four-point plan to assure that outer space will be used solely for the peace and benefit of mankind.

U.S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge announced that the United States has asked that the proposal be put before the 81-nation Assembly scheduled to open at U.N. headquarters Sept. 16.

★ ★ ★

The four main points are:

1. Creation of a special U.N. committee to make detailed studies and recommendations of specific steps for furthering progress in outer space work and to assure that outer space will be used solely for man's benefit.

2. A declaration by the Assembly separating the subject of peaceful uses of outer space from the long fruitless disarmament negotiations.

3. A formal declaration giving Assembly support "the principle of the peaceful utilization of outer space."

4. An Assembly declaration endorsing in principle the establishment of appropriate international machinery to accomplish these aims.

Hodge announced to the American Legion convention in Chicago yesterday that the United States would seek Assembly approval of an international space program.

The Soviet Union already has asked the Assembly to set up an agency for cooperation in the field of outer space. But it wants the Assembly to take up at the same time the elimination of foreign bases on territories of other countries—a subject the United States says should not be linked with outer space.

★ ★ ★

In a memorandum to U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold, Lodge described as enormous the potentialities for good and evil that will arise from exploration of outer space, and said urgent steps are needed to lay a solid basis for international cooperation in development of peaceful uses of outer space.

He added that such steps can be taken "while parallel efforts are being made to conclude meaningful agreements on the disarmament aspects of outer space."

Will Honor Governor

DETROIT (AP) — Young Democratic Clubs of Michigan will sponson their 6th annual Williams Day dinner in Highland Park Saturday. Gov. G. Mennen Williams will be guest of honor.

Here's List of SS Hikes

By RAY HENRY

(This is the second of nine columns explaining the changes just voted by Congress in the Social Security program.)

Your Social Security payments go up next February if you're one of the 12 million now collecting them.

How much they go up depends on how much you're getting now. Most increases will be about 7 per cent. But, there are exceptions.

It'll not be necessary for you to ask for the increases. You'll get them automatically with your February check.

Below are charts from which you can get a good idea of what your higher payments will be:

RETIRED & DISABLED WORKER (A)

Present Checks	Feb. 1 Check
$30	$33
40	43
50	53
55	59
60	64
65	70
70	75
75	80
80	86
85	91
95	102
105	112

127.50	136.50
142.50	153.00
157.50	168.00
162.80	174.00

(A) Only applies to workers who retired after 65, not women workers who retired between 62 and 65. It's impossible to give here examples of payments to women workers who retired before 65 because of the wide variation in their possible payments. Their increases will be about 7 per cent.

(B) Only applies to wives who started collecting payments after reaching 65, not those who went on rolls between 62 and 65. Not included for same reason as mentioned above.

14 Held in Inkster Numbers Ring Raid

DETROIT (AP)—Fourteen persons were held on gambling conspiracy charges today following a raid which police say broke up a $1,500,000 numbers ring in suburban Inkster.

Wayne County Prosecutor Samuel H. Olsen said the raid was carried out yesterday by sheriff's deputies and State Police.

Paul Slack, chief of the prosecutor's office rackets squad, identified four men as ringleaders of the operation. They were Claude Perry, 36, and Santo Graziano, 25, of Detroit, and Tilman Faust, 33, and Robert Patton, 43, of Inkster.

Police said 3,000 mutuel bet tickets and $200 in cash were confiscated in the raid on homes and business establishments in the suburb.

Rio de Janeiro is growing at a rate of 70,000 per year.

Tip Falls Off Propeller but Plane Lands Safely

DALLAS (AP) — A Braniff Airways DC7 with 30 passengers aboard landed safely last night after the tip apparently broke off of a propellor.

The plane, flight 6 headed for New York, was 15 minutes out of Dallas when the tip apparently broke. Capt. Melvin Sellmeyer turned back to Dallas and all but one of the 30 passengers climbed aboard another four-engined DC7 and left for New York — 2½ hours later.

1957 Miss U.S. to Wed

SALT LAKE CITY (AP)—Miss United States of 1957 will be a December bride. Charlotte Sheffield, 22, of Salt Lake City, will marry M. Richard Maxfield, also of Salt Lake City. They met while students at the University of Utah. Miss Sheffield is teaching high school dramatics and speech this year.

Help Child Develop Study Habits

What can Mom and Dad do to help Johnny and Susie get better grades? Well, they might start by turning off the television set, and seeing that it stays off while the kids are studying.

They also can give Johnny and Susie a suitable place to study, a place where they can concentrate. And perhaps most important of all, they can show interest, give encouragement, and be patient.

Educators don't feel there is anything basically wrong with television in itself, if not overdone. In fact, they suggest that parents try to encourage their children's interest in the best radio and TV programs.

But they know that television and homework don't mix. That was pointed up almost accidentally in a study made of the way double sessions were working out in Great Neck, N. Y., junior high school.

The afternoon students there were doing far better school work than those who attended in the morning.

"The apparent reason," said a report in the magazine School Management, "is that the morning students don't study in the afternoons, but 'study' and watch television simultaneously in the evening. The afternoon students watch television in the evening, but study in the morning before coming to class."

STUDY HABITS IMPORTANT

The National Education Assn. points out that with ever-growing enrollments expected to swell the college population to twice its present size by 1970, it's more than ever important that Johnny and Susie learn how to study.

By the time they're ready for college, their high school grades and their study habits may well be the difference between admission and disappointment.

Here are some of the ways NEA says parents can be helpful, by providing a proper home setting for homework:

Provide a suitable place for work or study. This means a place where the children can concentrate, with no family hubbub or other distractions. It calls for proper lighting and easy-to-work-at desks or tables.

PROVIDE 'TOOLS'

Provide an encyclopedia and dictionary, as well as suitable newspapers and magazines.

This, of course, is an 'ideal' set-up, which may be out of the reach of many families. For instance, there may not be enough space in the home to provide a room where the children can be alone with their work. And many families can't afford an encyclopedia.

Where the ideal arrangement can't be made, other ideas can be tried. If space is limited, the children can use the dining room, kitchen, or living room; and the family can make every effort to see that they are bothered as little as possible.

If an encyclopedia is out of reach financially, the children should be encouraged to use public library facilities, whenever and wherever available.

REGULARITY HELPS

Supervise the student's rest, eating and play habits. If a regular schedule is established, the student will find it much easier to settle down to his homework at the same time every day or early evening (if homework is left until late evening, the student is likely to be tired, and unable to concentrate).

Help other members of the family adjust their activities so that one will not interfere with the others.

Help adjust times for dates, dental appointments and other outside activities.

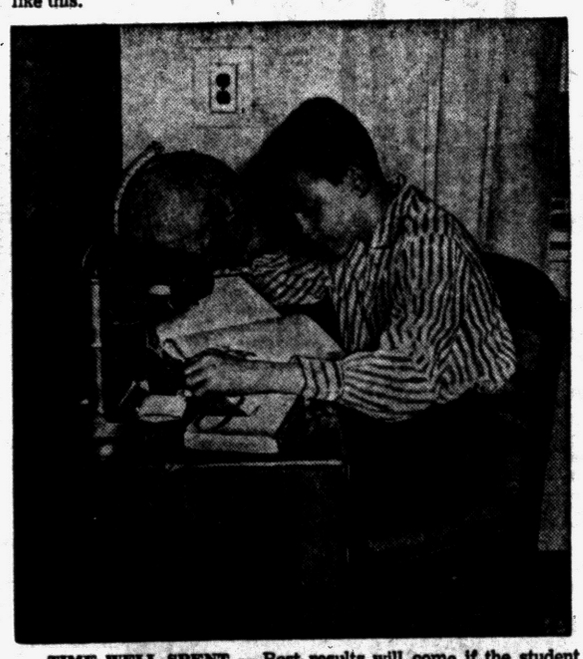
Finally, feel free to consult with the teacher on any homework problem.

Some school systems spell out for parents just how much homework their child is expected to do each night. It may be an hour and a half for seventh graders, an hour and 45 minutes for eighth graders, and possibly two hours for ninth graders.

"If your child reports consistently that he has no homework—investigate," says the principal of a Brooklyn high school that follows this plan.

According to NEA, "the best kind of homework, of course, is the voluntary kind in which a youngster, on his own hook, continues at home what he has learned in school. Sometimes it is finishing a story in a reader, or it might be nothing more than counting aloud the number of crayons in a box."

ROUGH SLEDDING — Attention is certain to languish, along with grades, if homework is attempted in a distraction-filled setting like this.



TIME WELL SPENT — Best results will come if the student has a desk to work on, enough privacy and quiet to permit necessary concentration.

Sets New Records in August

'Mighty Mac' Paying Off

ST. IGNACE (UPI) — Mackinac Bridge traffic and revenue during August established new records for the straits span, Prentiss M. Brown states.

Brown, chairman of the Mackinac Bridge Authority, said enough money was earned during the first 10 months the bridge was in operation to cover the annual interest of $4,242,000 on the $99,800,000 bond which financed construction of "Mighty Mac."

He said the bridge carried a record 368,696 vehicles in August and produced record revenue of $1,285,842. In the same month of 1957, ferries transported 212,912 vehicles between Mackinaw City and St. Ignace and revenue was $808,108.

"The millionth vehicle to pay a toll across the bridge was registered on Aug. 17," Brown said. "Less than two weeks later, on Aug. 30, the Authority's revenue reached $4,242,000 which covers the annual interest on our $99,800,000 bond."

Brown also pointed out that the bridge had its largest single traffic day on Aug. 16 when 15,519 vehicles paid tolls in a 24-hour period.

He said total traffic over the bridge from the Nov. 1, 1957, opening through Aug. 31 this year was 1,172,497 and revenue was $4,299,066.

"The financial condition of the bridge is good," Brown said.

He noted that commercial traffic has not increased in proportion with passenger car traffic because of depressed economic conditions.

Cites President for Aid to Vets

VA Administrator Tells American Legion About Hospital Plans

CHICAGO (UPI) — Sumner G. Whittier, administrator of veterans' affairs, said President Eisenhower has signed more than 50 measures benefiting veterans and their dependents since he took office.

Whittier, in a speech yesterday before the American Legion's 40th national convention, said the laws have broadened direct benefits to veterans, increased compensation and pension rates and removed some of the inequities of treatment.

The administrator also reported that the Veterans Administration system of 172 hospitals now has a record number of veteran patients, 111,000, and a record number of doctors and medical staff members, 147,000.

For the current fiscal year, he said, a record of more than 717 million dollars has been appropriated for in-patient care in hospitals.

Whittier said a new 800-bed VA hospital will be built at Coral Gables, Fla., at a cost of 20 million dollars and present hospitals will be expanded at Bay Pines, Fla., and Coral Gables by 350 beds each.

★ ★ ★

In addition, he said, a 1,000-bed hospital is being built at Palo Alto, Calif.; the design for a new 1,000-bed mental hospital at Brecksville, Ohio, is nearing completion, the site has been acquired for a new hospital at Jackson, Miss., and another site is being purchased for a hospital at Nashville, Tenn.; and other hospitals are planned for Cleveland, Ohio; Oakland, Calif; Wood, Wis., and Washington.

Groceries Too Heavy?

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP)—Her husband spent three nights a week lifting weights in a gym—"but he wouldn't even help me carry the groceries upstairs," a pretty redhead testified in divorce court. Mrs. Shirley Mae Brumfield, 23, a secretary, won the divorce from her husband, Paul, 25.

Glad News for Con Men: Rugged Foe Is Retiring

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Heard any good schemes lately for getting rich quick?

Before investing any money, better check with a lanky attorney from Kentucky named Herman L. Arterberry. He's spent a lifetime matching wits with bunco promoters.

Arterberry has shaken the confidence of countless confidence men during his prosecutor's career that dates back to 1921.

A lot of them—in jail and out—will be happy with this news:

Arterberry, 70, retires officially Monday.

Nothing is truer, he says, than the con man's adage: "You can't cheat an honest man."

"Usually it's a person's greed that puts him in the clutches of a 'bunk,'" says Arterberry, using the jailhouse slang term for a fraud promoter.

An exception was the case of a charming old fraud who operated a lonely hearts club in Los Angeles during the 1930s.

His advertisements promising companionship and perhaps marriage brought replies from scores of widows and spinsters. The ladies with the most promising bank accounts were romanced personally by the suave con man, who cheated them out of more than $150,000.

★ ★ ★

"Hardest part of the trial was getting some of those gals to testify," Arterberry recalled. "Some were so infatuated they actually tried to shield him."

But Arterberry got the conviction, which established a California law precedent: Anyone getting money by a false promise could be convicted of grand theft.

Arterberry hounded oil swindlers in Texas and Arkansas as a federal prosecutor before joining the Los Angeles County district attorney's office in 1932.

★ ★ ★

He and his wife Imogene plan a trip to his home town—Tompkinsville, Ky., after he retires. Then he'll return to California and a limited private law practice.

Bob Considine Quotes:

Dear Student: Why Are You in School?

NEW YORK — For countless thousands of Americans the time again is approaching when they must sit down and compose letters to children at school, urging them on to greater deeds in the classroom.

How trite the pleadings often are! How inadequate are the words spoken to the lagging student who lives at home!

"To Rise Above the Average" is the title of 40 letters he has written, suitable to be sent (or handed) to students everywhere, at the rate of one a week during the school year. They are homely little sermons, by and large, but the kindliness of their admonitions is compelling. Sample:

My Dear Student: You are now in high school. Why? Possibly, with my background, I can aid you to realize why. You see, my parents were farm laborers in Germany over 100 years ago. The only schooling provided for their children was to learn to read and write, which usually resulted in fixing the station in life for the children the same as for the parents.

"Corresponding with friends in America, my parents were informed that in the United States every child was given the same opportunity to study and learn as every other child, regardless of how rich or how poor were their parents; that in the U.S.A. each child could prepare himself or herself for whatever occupation or profession desired.

"Learning such, my parents made a decision. To give their children the benefits of the schools in the United States, my parents braved the seven weeks' voyage across the Atlantic on a sailing vessel to this land unknown to them.

"Can you now begin to realize what an emancipation that decision of my parents meant to me? In appreciation of my parents' providing me with that opportunity to grow in knowledge in our schools, it occurred to me that probably I, their last living child (born in the U.S.A., 1874), with my long, lifetime experience as farmhand, salesman, teacher, principal of schools and lawyer, could be of help to you who are now in high school."

The letters extol the joys of reading, the need of decision, alertness, the curse of doubt, the joys of this land, discipline, better relations with the family, communism, the Constitution, the press, college, prayer.

Canned, but thought-provoking.

Jules Verne has a hard time keeping out of the papers these days, what with the success of "Around the World in 80 Days," and the fact that we located our largest rocket-launching site within a few miles of the mythical place in Florida where the man launched his own fanciful moon-voyage in the last century.

Now the Atomic Industrial Forum, Inc., recalls a startling paragraph from "Twenty Thousand Leagues Under the Sea," first published in 1869, as Verne's fictional submarine Nautilus (natch) lay off the edge of the Antarctic icecap:

"That which is impossible for an ordinary vessel, is easy to the Nautilus. If a continent lies before the pole, it must stop before the continent, but, if on the contrary, the pole is washed by open sea, it will go even to the pole."

The fellow should have been a horseplayer.

★ ★ ★

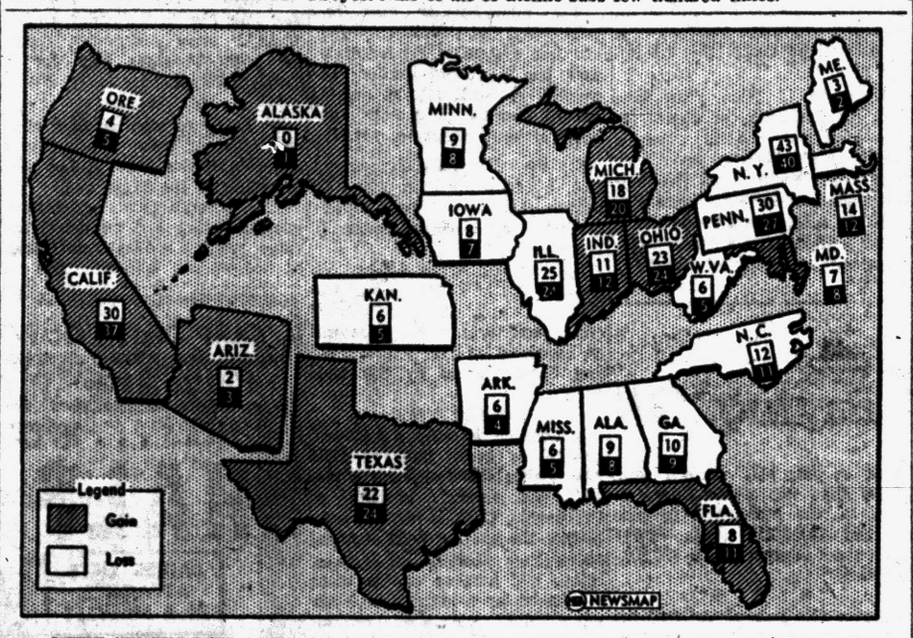
As for atomic powered vessels, they are being built at a breath-taking clip. Launched, building or authorized are 33 submarines, a new 8-reactor carrier, Enterprise, the guided missile cruiser Long Beach and a guided missile destroyer. Nine of the 33 atomic subs are being built to fire the still-not-fully-tested Polaris solid-fuel IRBM.

The Reds have special secret police working in Brussels to keep the hundreds of employes of the Iron Curtain country pavilions and exhibits in line.

The workers live in special quarantined quarters, are transported to and from the fair grounds in guarded buses. When off work, the employes are not permitted to go out alone. If caught alone in the city, they are shipped home. They must not speak to strangers.

For them, the Iron Curtain has simply been moved westward a few hundred miles.

A fellow who did a lot of driving this summer said the trouble with those people who put up road signs is they know the way to the place they're giving directions to . . . Taffy Tuttle is perfectly willing to live on her fiance's income, providing he gets another one for himself.—Earl Wilson



NEXT CENSUS WILL SHIFT HOUSE SEATS —California is expected to pick up an additional seven seats in the U.S. House of Representatives after the 1960 census but New York will hold its position as the largest state delegation. Fourteen states will lose seats and nine will gain (see Newsmap) as the nation's burgeoning population, especially in the Far West and Southwest causes a reapportionment of the House's 435 members, a number which must remain constant under the Constitution. Pennsylvania and New York will drop three seats each and Florida will pick up the same number. Alaska will have one representative. Current figures are on light background, future figures on dark. Data from the U.S. Census Bureau.

New Troubles Stir Arkansas

13 Negroes Entering Integrated School Meet White Resistance

By The Associated Press

White resistance flared at an already integrated school in Van Buren, Ark., yesterday as Little Rock's racial troubles simmered in a legal lull.

Thirteen Negroes made their way into Van Buren High School past a score of jeering white boys and signs saying, "Nigger, Go Home."

★ ★ ★

Van Buren, a west Arkansas city of 6,000, integrated about 24 Negroes under federal court order last September. There were no reports of violence during the 1957-58 school year.

But when Negro boys and girls reported for the first day of the fall term, they were met by shouted insults and obscene gestures.

A Negro girl said she had to push her way through a knot of white youths at the high school entrance.

Police cars patrolled the area during the school day but no violence was reported.

Elsewhere on Arkansas' integration scene:

1. Gov. Orval E. Faubus said he would close Little Rock Central High School if either federal marshals or federal troops tried to make the embattled school integrate this fall. Central is scheduled to open Sept. 15, four days after the U.S. Supreme Court takes up the question of whether Negroes attend again this year.

★ ★ ★

2. Two more Negroes applied for admission to Central High but were turned down by Supt. Virgil Blossom. He told them the school board is still operating under a U.S. District Court decision which delayed integration for 2½ years.

3. It was reported at Little Rock that a chapter of the Ku Klux Klan, symbol of white supremacy in the South, would be chartered this week.

Integration was scheduled to start at Fort Smith, Arkansas' second largest city, today. About 10 Negro children were eligible to enroll in the first grade with white pupils.

★ ★ ★

Last year, under Fort Smith's voluntary integration plan which started integration at the first-grade level, one Negro boy was entered in an all-white school. He is eligible to attend classes with second-grade white students this year.

Two Negroes began fall classes at grade schools in Bentonville. They have been attending with whites for several terms without incident.

Pretty Marguerite New Secretary for Townsend

PARIS (UPI) — A pretty 22-year-old French girl named Marguerite has taken a three-month leave of absence from her Paris job to act as secretary to Group Capt. Peter Townsend on his current world tour.

Officials at the Organization for European Economic Cooperation (OEEC) confirmed that Marguerite Girard has been granted a leave from her post with the Portuguese OEEC delegation.

Townsend left Paris yesterday for Zagreb, Yugoslavia, to resume the journey he is making with a film crew headed by American producer Victor Stoloff.

They are shooting a movie of the high spots of the 18-month world tour the handsome former fighter pilot made after Britain's Princess Margaret rejected his love in Autumn of 1955.

Friends said that Marguerite's resemblance to the princess goes beyond her name.

She is small, dark, with a ready smile and likes dancing and night-clubbing, they said.

But officials at the OEEC denied that Marguerite had been picked by Townsend for sentimental reasons. They said she obtained the job through officials of the French Pathe Cinema Co.

Record-Seeking Flier Lands Unexpectedly

ROME (AP)—An American airplane salesman trying to fly around the world solo in eight days broke a scheduled nonstop flight from New York to Rome by landing in Newfoundland last night.

★ ★ ★

Trans World Airlines said today it had received a message that George Preston Williams landed at Torbay, Nfld. He had expected to complete the 4,312-mile flight to Rome this afternoon.

TWA said the message gave no reason for the unplanned landing. The airline did not know whether Williams planned to continue.

★ ★ ★

Williams, 34, had set out alone in a four-passenger plane with only two hours sleep after being kept up by last-minute details.

Actress Set for Divorce

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Actress Mamie van Doren is home from Italy, with divorce on her mind. She and bandleader Ray Anthony announced they were separating before she left for Europe on a 10-week movie-making assignment. "I've had a lot of time to think about it," she said on arrival here. "I've decided on divorce." The couple blamed a conflict of careers.

Plants Capable of Much Motion

Mimosa, Venus Flytrap Move Quickly; Tendrils Spiral Around Twig

WASHINGTON — Although plants have no muscles, they are capable of a great many movements.

An outstanding example of a sensitive plant is the mimosa tree, the National Geographic Society says. If a branch is struck, or touched by flame, it collapses. The stem droops from the trunk, individual twigs flop, and the leaves fold. After the agitation ceases, the tree resumes its normal posture.

★ ★ ★

Other plant reactions disprove the adage that the tree grows as the twig is bent. Many lean toward light. A grower of house plants learns to keep them upright by regular turning of the pots.

This effect, called phototropism, occurs through the action of a hormone. It forms most abundantly on the shaded side of the stem, causing cells to grow longer than those on the lighted side. The cells bend the stem toward the light.

Vines accustomed to growing up cliffs bend away from the light — a useful adaptation, since they would lose their support if they grew towards it.

Quick movement is found in some carnivorous plants. Venus's flytrap of the Carolinas spreads special leaves that fold down the middle. When an insect touches a bristle, it triggers a mechanism that snaps the leaf shut and traps the prey.

Tendrils of some climbing plants wave in the air, searching for support. If they touch a twig, they loop around it in a matter of minutes. Then the straight tendril may transform itself into a spiral, shortening its length and lifting the vine.

Certain microscopic water plants put all these accomplishments in the shade. They swim about by waving tiny "hairs" and can move from a harmful environment to a favorable one.

Ex-Postman Takes Stroll of 600 Miles

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (UPI) — John Stahl, a retired postal worker who used to take an occasional walk around the block, now thinks nothing at the age of 76 of a 600-mile stroll around the state.

White-bearded and wiry, Stahl is now striding south from the Oregon border along the northern California coast, averaging a brisk 20 miles a day. He expects to be back this way "sometime in October."

★ ★ ★

As a young man of 56, Stahl took his first distance hike along the Pan-American Highway when it was "only a path in the jungle" of Central America.

"I figured if I could survive that, I could survive anything, he said.

Later, he tracked across the Yucatan peninsula and Honduras, and then walked 1,560 miles from Fatima, Portugal, to Rome.

Stahl, who calls himself "Old Iron Legs," insists that he has no special diet. "I don't go much for that stuff," he said. "I'll drink several cups of coffee during the day and may occasionally have a couple of bottles of beer or a highball, but not to excess."

He also downs a glass of milk before he starts off each morning. As Stahl puts it, "That's all you need to walk 20 miles, isn't it?"

Negro Minister King Arrested for Loitering

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (UPI) — The Rev. Martin Luther King Jr., youthful Negro minister who shattered Alabama's segregated bus seating tradition, faces court action today on a loitering charge.

King, 29, said he was choked and kicked into an unlighted detention cell by Montgomery police yesterday after he was arrested for obstructing passage into a courtroom.

Police Chief J. G. Ruppenthal officially denied the accusations as did the two arresting policemen, O. M. Strickland and J. V. Johnson, who said they had to carry King part of the way because he refused to walk.

King, who said the police insulted his wife, posted $100 bond and was released.

BIRDIE (CAGE) A lofty horsehair hat topping his traditional Korean costume, 60-year-old Kim Uikyung is still learning tricks of the camera trade at the South Korean capital of Seoul, where he's attending a photographers' workshop. From the city of Taejon, he's been a professional cameraman for more more than 20 years.

YMCA to Offer Lifesaving for Boys and Girls

Two classes in lifesaving will be offered by the Pontiac YMCA for both boys and girls ages 12 and over.

The first class, which is coeducational, will meet from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. for 14 weeks beginning Sept. 17.

The second class, for girls only, will meet Wednesday evening from 7:30 to 8:15, and on Thursday evenings, from 6:15 to 7.

Both classes are open to nonmembers of the YMCA upon payment of a fee.

To be eligible for either class, it will be necessary to pass a preliminary swimming test which will be given Sept. 3 and 10, from 8:30 to 9:30 p.m. Registration for the courses can be made at the lobby desk in the YMCA building.

With Classes in Logic, Philosophy

These Kids Out to Blitz Ivan

WINTER PARK, Fla. (AP)—What's better than comic books, movies and sleeping late on Saturday mornings?

Studying logic and philosophy, that's what, say the ninth grade students of Glenridge Junior High School.

The youngsters got worried when they heard about Russian children going to school six days a week, observing strict classroom discipline and generally taking their studies seriously.

If "they can do it, we can," became the Glenridge watchword.

To the astonishment of their teachers, a number of the ninth graders demanded Saturday classes and drew up a strict code of classroom conduct which includes rising when a teacher enters, banning slang and forbidding slouching at desks.

Offenders are punished through a demerit system.

NONE GET CREDIT

Only students with C averages or better are allowed to attend the Saturday classes—three hours of philosophy in the morning, three hours of logic in the afternoon. The courses are taken for their own sake. No credit is given. Each course costs a student $15 for a series of 15 lectures.

Hugh Ansley, who teaches the classes on his own time, said the Russian Sputniks "threw quite a bit of fear into these young people who are used to thinking Americans are always best in everything.

"But instead of just being afraid, they wanted to do something about it. Enthusiasm spread and the students have found out for themselves that learning is fun, stimulating and enriching."

That isn't all they've found out. Some of the youngsters point out the Saturday classes — besides keeping them abreast of the Russians—get them out of work around the house.

Nurses to Graduate in Rites on Saturday

Thirty-five graduating nurses will participate in commencement exercises at 2 p.m. Saturday at McAuley School of Practical Nursing. Diplomas will be presented by Sister Mary William, administrator of St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, with which the school is affiliated.

Rev. Edwin Schroeder, hospital chaplain, will celebrate Mass with the participation of the graduating class, the faculty and the Sister of Mercy at 8 p.m.

The graduating class will be feted at a luncheon at Devon Gables Inn.

Elect Muskegon Judge Association President

DEARBORN (AP) — Circuit Judge Noel P. Fox of Muskegon was elected president of the Michigan Judges Assn. at the group's annual meeting here yesterday.

Other officers elected were:

Circuit Judge Donald E. Holbrook, Clare, first vice president; Recorder's Judge W. McKay Skillman, Detroit, second vice president, and Circuit Judge Michael Carland, Owosso, secretary.

Be Grateful, Mom, if Child Gets Mumps

CHICAGO—There is much less likelihood of infection after exposure to mumps than to measles or chickenpox, a San Francisco physician said today.

This "low order of communicability" probably accounts for the fact that so many adults escape the disease during childhood only to develop it in later years, Dr. Edward B. Shaw said in a recent issue of the Journal of the American Medical Association.

★ ★ ★

The best time for a person to have mumps is during childhood, when the possible complications are not very severe. In adulthood, mumps can be followed by serious—and sometimes lasting—complications.

In order to prevent the possibility of severe adult infections, it might be desirable to deliberately expose a child to the disease, thus insuring lifelong immunity, Dr. Shaw said.

However, this introduces the potential risk of secondarily exposing adults who may then have the illness with greater severity and sometimes permanent damage.

★ ★ ★

There is no really reliable and predictable means of artificially inducing immunity. The best means of acquiring lifelong immunity is to have mumps before puberty, Dr. Shaw said.

★ ★ ★

He is clinical professor of pediatrics at the University of California Medical Center and chief of the communicable disease department at Children's Hospital, San Francisco.

An ABC on Formosa Crisis

U.S. Deserted Chiang Until Korean War

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP)—This is an ABC on the background leading up to the present Formosan crisis, latest in a series, which might explode into war or melt away by letting the Reds grab a little real estate without a fight.

After World War II the United States pumped money into China to help its wartime ally, President Chiang Kai-shek, establish a stable government, make needed reforms and win the people's allegiance.

★ ★ ★

The reforms didn't come. The money was squandered. American attempts to get Chiang and the Chinese Communists to work together failed. The Reds grew stronger, smashed Chiang's armies. His troops deserted to the Reds in bunches.

The United States washed its hands of both sides. In the fall of 1949 the Reds drove Chiang and his remaining troops off the mainland and to Formosa, 100 miles across the Formosa Strait.

★ ★ ★

But Chiang's forces grabbed and held a number of islands off the mainland. They included Quemoy, the Matsus, the Tachens and a number of tiny islets. The Reds lacked the planes and ships to pursue Chiang and finish him off.

President Truman was so disgusted with the whole situation that early in 1950 he said this country would not get mixed up in the Chinese civil war. This meant Chiang was on his own. Still, the Reds lacked the means to reach and crush him.

He remained on his own the first six months of 1950. Then the Korean War began in June. Truman sent the 7th Fleet into the Formosa Strait to "neutralize" the Red-Nationalist conflict.

★ ★ ★

The picture changed abruptly in the fall of 1950 when the Red Chinese got into the Korean War. From then till now American policy has been to defend Chiang from Red attack.

Growing stronger, the Reds began a steady peppering of the Chiang-held offshore islands. This kept up. Early in 1955 President Eisenhower decided to take a more positive position than the stated American policy up to that time.

He asked and got from Congress:

★ ★ ★

1. Approval of a resolution authorizing him to throw American forces into a fight against the Reds, if necessary, to defend Formosa, the nearby Pescadores Islands, and "related areas."

2. Approval of a mutual defense treaty with Chiang. This pledged the United States to help Chiang defend Formosa.

But Eisenhower under the resolution was free to decide what, if any, of those "related areas" he would defend or think worth defending. So what was left unanswered then, and is still unanswered, is this question:

Would Eisenhower, in case of Red attack on the offshore islands held by Chiang, use American forces to defend them and thus get the United States into a possible war with Red China? In short: Would he consider any or all of those islands necessary for the defense of Formosa?

Very quickly, early in 1955, he had to make up his mind. The Reds were banging away at the Tachen Islands, 200 miles northwest of Formosa. He decided to let the Reds have them without a fight and persuaded Chiang to agree.

★ ★ ★

Things quieted down until a few weeks ago. Again the Reds bombarded the offshore islands, particularly Quemoy, near the China mainland and directly across the strait from Formosa. The Matsus are 75 miles northwest of Formosa. But there are a number of Chiang-held islets near the mainland too.

There's only guessing now as to whether the Reds will try to take Quemoy, the Matsus or, just to win a little prestige, the tiny islets. Equally mysterious is what the Eisenhower administration will do if the Reds move at all.

★ ★ ★

So far the administration has issued what sounded like stern warnings to the Reds but in language so vague that Eisenhower is free to make up his mind at the last minute on whether he wants to get into a fight over the islands.

He'd have to fight, because of the treaty, to defend Formosa itself.

MAKING IMPORTANT CHOICE — As soon as they agree, Winfield and Marjorie Sluyter, of 5884 Livernois Ave., Troy, will be all ready for the Eighth Annual Old Car Festival on Sunday, at Greenfield Village, in Dearborn. "Windy" favors a 1917 Ford Model T roadster as the Sluyter entry, while his wife likes a 1924 Ford Model T coupe. The latter car brought the Sluyters one of the few blue ribbons handed out to cars in the 1917 to 1925 division at last year's festival. A 1910 Ford touring car at the left completes the trio of eligible autos.

Scientists Must Find Out

Cocktails, Females Good for Man in Space Ship?

WASHINGTON (AP)—Would an occasional cocktail or feminine companionship help a man endure the rigors of space flight?

★ ★ ★

A psychologist said Tuesday that is a question that it might be advisable for space scientists to study in finding out what would help or hinder a man in meeting the isolation of space.

★ ★ ★

Dr. Wilse B. Webb, head of the psychology department at the University of Florida, said psychologists are going to have to make more rigorous tests to select men mentally suited for flying into space.

On the question of cocktails and feminine companionship, Webb had this to say in remarks prepared for the American Psychological Assn., meeting: "A man in space will be radically isolated from his current normal environment. And what will be the nature of that environment?

★ ★ ★

"We're going to have to find, for example, whether an occasional cocktail or feminine companionship—should be permitted in such an environment as a thoeretical means of alleviating tension and making a man more efficient in his isolated environment. On the other hand, we would have to test whether such things would have an adverse affect on efficiency under the conditions of space flights."

For space men, he said psychologists will have "to extend the limits of such tests beyond our current dealings with men in the normal world.

"For example, most of our present experiments deal with a man working for hours. As regards spaceflight, we're going to have to be concerned with a man working for days.

"We've tended to deal with man under normal conditions, and are only able to guess about man under extreme conditions. Thus, we will have to approach extreme conditions in our pretesting."

★ ★ ★

He said for example that whereas up to now, psychologists have made tests of men under conditions of isolation and of acceleration individually there will have to be tests of men under combined conditions.

Webb said that the environment of a spaceman would be controllable by those in charge of sending a spaceman up.

★ ★ ★

This fact, he said, might have important implications — for example, it might be found that man, in an isolated environment, would be much more docile to various influences than he is in his normal social world.

Tube Feeding Days Over for Little Girl

PANA, Ill. (UPI) — Karen Lee Gordon is eating her mother's home cooking these days — potatoes, meat, eggs and fruit.

Not much of an accomplishment for most five-year-olds. But Karen was born without an esophagus and had to be fed through a tube in her stomach since she was three days old.

★ ★ ★

An operation two years ago permitted Karen to start eating semi-liquid baby foods. But she still took most of her nourishment through the hated tube.

★ ★ ★

Then came more operations. And finally at her fifth birthday party recently, Karen was able to eat cake and ice cream in her hospital room. She is home now, the operations have been a success, and Karen is enjoying the taste of real food.

Burglar Likes Snakes

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Police know this much about whoever smashed a plate glass window and burglarized the Griffith Park Zoo: He likes snakes. Taken were a six-foot python and three small boa constrictors.

Threats Force Negroes to Quit

8 Pupils Won't Return to Once-Peaceful School in Van Buren, Ark.

VAN BUREN, Ark. (AP) — A Negro youth said last night that he and seven others of his race couldn't take any more threats and insults from white classmates at integrated Van Buren High School.

"I don't plan to return Thursday," declared Freddy Bell, a 16-year-old junior, "and neither do seven others."

Thirteen Negro boys and girls are enrolled at the high school, which has about 650 white pupils.

Bell said he and two other Negro youths walked out of classes yesterday after white boys threatened to get them after school.

Van Buren's integration program started last September under a federal court order. It was considered successful since there were no reports of disturbances during the 1957-58 school year.

★ ★ ★

But when the fall term began Tuesday, the Negroes were greeted by a score of jeering white youths in front of the school. Signs painted on the building said "Nigger, Go Home."

Bell said someone hit him in the leg with a rock as he entered school yesterday. He also said several white youths exhibited switchblade knives.

Efforts to obtain statements from school officials have been unsuccessful.

Bell seemed worried about his decision not to return to the integrated school because Van Buren —a west Arkansas town of 6,000 —has no Negro high school.

He said he hoped officials could "work something out."

In several other Arkansas cities which have integrated, fall terms proceeded with no reported difficulties. At Fort Smith, two Negroes are enrolled in grade school; 12 Negroes are attending public schools at Fayetteville; Charleston has about the same number; and nine are integrated at Hoxie.

At Little Rock, focal point of the state's integration crisis, elementary and junior high schools opened for the fall term today. All high school openings have been postponed until Sept. 15, pending a Supreme Court ruling on the Central High School integration case.

It was revealed that the federal government is enlisting Arkansas civilians to serve as deputy U.S. marshals if needed at Central High.

Starlight Vision Aid Being Used by Army

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Light from the stars is being put to work by the Army to help soldiers see at night.

★ ★ ★

A new device will enable troops to see military objectives after dark by gathering reflected starlight or diffused light from skyglow and intensifying the image electronically.

Called the "Cascaded Photosensitive Image Intensifier," the device was developed by the Army Engineer Research and Development Laboratories, Fort Belvoir, Va., and the Radio Corporation of America.

Pearl Bailey Throwing Dialect Out of 'Porgy'

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Actress-singer Pearl Bailey claims she has won her battle to eliminate "undignified and unnatural" Negro dialect from the all-Negro movie "Porgy and Bess."

Miss Bailey flared up at a minor actor during rehearsals when he repeatedly used the line, "Ain't I done told you?"

"It's been cleared up now," she said. "I said I'd ask for changes in the cast if that sort of stuff continued. But it stopped which is the way it should have been in the first place.

"Neither Sam Goldwyn, the producer, nor Otto Preminger, the director, said there should be any dialect. Mr. Preminger said right at the beginning that if there was something we didn't like — just leave it out.

"But some of the kids who appeared in the show in New York and got used to the dialect continued to use it. Nobody told them to."

The George Gershwin folk opera has been in a constant state of turmoil since production started. First the sound stage burned down and had to be rebuilt.

Then Goldwin fired Rouben Mamoulian as director and replaced him with Preminger. Then a member of the original Broadway cast quit with the charge that the movie would show Negroes in a bad light.

Some of the characters in the cast are prostitutes, narcotics addicts and criminals.

"I was plenty serious about that dialect business," said Miss Bailey.. "We're still rehearsing and I wanted it stopped before we started shooting.

"I told this kid and some of the others that it's insane to use it if it's not insisted on. It's losing your dignity. It's undignified and unnatural. I don't care if it's Negro or Italian or Greek or French, it's in bad taste.

"I know there's a lot of people out there waiting for a dialect; so let's talk the way we really talk—without the 'dems, doses and deses.' We don't talk like that. Maybe we did 50 years ago, but not now."

★ ★ ★

The actress added:

"I know each race has its flavor, but it's a heritage, not an accent. You can't put flavor down on paper. I told the rest of the cast that, and I didn't mince words."

Car Ends Long Trip —in Hudson River

NEW YORK (AP) — Clemens Uhlhorn, a Cincinnati real estate man, and his family were happy to be home yesterday after a motor tour of Europe, and they waited patiently for their 1958 car to be unloaded from their ship.

After four hours, a crane swung out a hoisting platform from the liner New York with the Uhlhorn car aboard. Suddenly the platform tilted, and the car slid into the Hudson River.

Uhlhorn said he's going to stay around until they raise his vehicle from 40 feet of water..

Hospital Social Service Staff Aids Patients in Difficult Adjustments

St. Joseph Mercy Hospital is the only general hospital in Oakland County with a medical social service department.

Now entering its second year, the department was instituted in June, 1957 to meet the personal and environmental problems which prevent some patients from receiving maximum benefits from medical care.

★ ★ ★

Medical social service is interested in the total needs of the patient, helps him participate in a plan consistent with the medical recommendations, and provides a team approach, staff members point out.

Among the cases handled daily by the department include those of patients who reject hospitalization; refuse recommended surgery, and those who do not respond adequately to medical treatment.

Patients unable to adjust to the hospital routine and amputees who require vocational planning also are helped by the department.

A recent case illustrates the type of patient requiring medical social service. An 11-year-old girl was examined by a pediatrician and admitted with a possible rheumatic heart condition. Medical "work-up" verified the pediatrician's diagnosis.

The girl was referred to the department by the pediatric resident physician for a social history to aid in her hospital stay and speed her discharge.

After a series of interviews with the patient's parents and a visit to the home, a history was prepared. Eldest of five children, she is the daughter of an unemployed laborer who had never received any type of public assistance.

★ ★ ★

The social service department helped the family plan the patient's convalescence upon eventual release from the hospital, and the mother was well prepared for the possibility of additional bed rest for her daughter. The family diet was studied and found to be adequate.

★ ★ ★

With the full cooperation of the patient's parents, and the hospital's working program her convalescent period was well planned, and she has reached the point in her recovery where the family is now making plans for her return to school this fall.

Our Best Defense Missile

Another Bomarc in Air

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — A button pushed 1,500 miles away has launched another Bomarc, the nation's most highly developed air defense missile.

The Bomarc, the closest weapon this country has to a so-called antimissile missile, roared aloft yesterday on another test within the SAGE air defense system.

Once the missile was poised for launching at the Cape, it was fired from Kingston, N.Y., by a technician manning one of the largest and most complex digital computers in the world.

The computer is part of the Semi-Automatic Ground Environment (SAGE) system — an intricate network of radar stations and computer centers that guards the nation against enemy air raids.

The Bomarc, designed to carry a nuclear warhead from 250 to 300 miles, was aimed at a World War II pilotless B17 drone bomber target somewhere along the south Atlantic missile range. For test purposes the Bomarc is set to miss the drone rather than destroy it.

Typhoon Roaring Toward Shanghai

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP) — Typhoon Grace roared across the China Sea today toward Red China's largest city, Shanghai, after battering northern Formosa.

Nationalist Chinese authorities had no reports of casualties from the 115-mile-an-hour winds and torrential rains that lashed Formosa in the early morning hours.

The worst Pacific typhoon of the year, Grace missed Okinawa and Japan as it headed north-northwest.

Raging River in India Threatens Two Million

MADRAS, India (AP)—Raging floodwaters of the Godavari River today were reported threatening at least two million people in Andhra state.

The usually desert-dry town of Rajahmut and the twin of Bhadrachalam were reported under water. The flood followed a 17-inch rain which breached a dam in Adilabad.

Want to Listen to Stempel's Voice

Tapes Asked For in TV Quiz Probe

NEW YORK (AP)—The district attorney's office has asked for tape recordings and financial records of the television quiz show Twenty-one as a result of a charge by former contestant Herbert Stempel that the program was rigged.

★ ★ ★

The recordings apparently will be used to match Stempel's own voice with a voice on tape concerning a purported conversation between Stempel and Dan Enright, a coproducer of Twenty-one.

Enright said the 31-year-old Stempel was given $18,500 of his winnings in advance when the latter threatened to quit the program.

Stempel eventually left the show in 1956 with $49,500 after losing to Charles Van Doren. Stempel has charged he was told to lose, an allegation denied by Enright and Jack Barry, producers for the NBC show.

★ ★ ★

Enright said of the advance payment: "He (Stempel) told me if he didn't get the money he would have to quit the show immediately. I gave it to him without questioning him because at that point the show needed him.

"He was the first contestant who had remained on for a number of weeks in a row. He was establishing an identity for the show and we couldn't afford to lose him."

At the time, Stempel was ahead $50,000 on the show, but on Twenty-one a contestant's winnings are always at stake and—over a period of time—his winnings could have been wiped out. On the other hand, a contestant is free to quit with his winnings at any time.

Barry and Enright have said that Stempel, long after he was off the program, tried to blackmail them by announcing he would make public charges that the show was rigged.

★ ★ ★

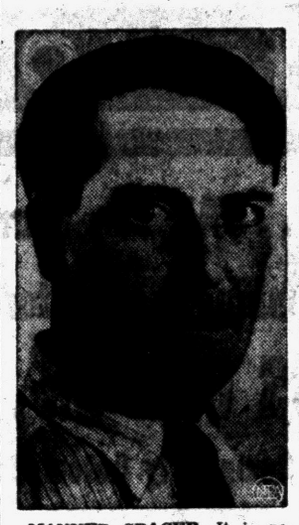
Barry and Enright earlier this week produced a tape recording in which a voice, presumably Enright's, was heard to say "a blackmail scheme" was afoot and asked, "Do you agree?"

A voice purported to be that of Stempel replied, "Uh, yes."

Stempel charged yesterday that the tape recordings "have been doctored."

★ ★ ★

Stempel also absolved Barry of the rigging charges in talking to newsmen. Barry, he said, "had absolutely nothing to do with giving me the answers."



MANNED SPACER—It is reported that Russia's brilliant scientist Peter Kapitza has been given the task of launching a Russian into space, bringing him back alive—and doing it first. A pre-war nuclear researcher at Cambridge, England, he defected to the Russians. He rose steadily in U.S.S.R. scientific circles and was active in perfecting the first Sputnik.

AF Hunting Plane Down Near Russia

ADANA, Turkey (AP)—The U.S. Air Force carried on an intensive search today for an American transport plane with 17 persons aboard that disappeared two days ago near the southern Soviet Union.

The C130 Hercules turboprop plane was last heard from on a routine radio report over Van, Turkey, 110 miles southwest of Soviet Armenia. An unarmed U.S. cargo plane got lost in bad weather in that area last June and strayed into Armenia, where two Soviet jet fighters shot it down. The nine crewmen were released 10 days later.

Air Force officials did not suggest the Hercules might have wandered over the Soviet Union. Nor had the Soviet government said anything about the plane.

The plane of the 7406th Support Squadron, based at Frankfurt, Germany, took off Tuesday from Incirlik air base at Adana as part of a worldwide Air Force project to study radio wave propagation, the Air Force said.

Bloomfield Girl, 15, Dies of Gun Wound

The body of Barbara Lynn McMullen, 15, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Barclay J. McMullen, of 3988 Lakeland Ln., Bloomfield Township, was discovered yesterday afternoon in the McMullen home with a .22 caliber rifle alongside the body.

George F. Taylor, chief assistant Oakland County prosecutor, said an autopsy report showed death resulted from a shot from the rifle to the girl's head.

About 150 different species of trees grow in the Great Smoky mountains national park as contrasted with 85 varieties in all Europe.

The active Navy fleet of Turkey today consists of 8 destroyers, 8 escort vessels, 7 submarines, 7 minelayers, 2 minesweepers, 4 tankers, 2 tender ships and many auxiliary craft. U.S. military aid has improved their armament.

Breakfast Gives Day Good Start

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

"GUILTY!"

Thousands and thousands—maybe even millions of Americans are guilty of eating an inadequate breakfast. Or even worse, of eating no breakfast at all.

★ ★ ★

Ever since we have had our job as Food Editor we have plugged breakfasts. Our poor colleagues in the office hardly dare mention that they skipped their early morning meal, or they get a lecture on good food habits. We don't apologize; we intend to go right on "preaching" the same theme. Everyone needs breakfast every day.

★ ★ ★

Most of all, children need breakfast. They are not mature enough or educated enough to know what they should eat. We fail miserably as parents if we don't see that they start the day with a good meal in their tummies.

But make no mistake. Teenagers need breakfast; perhaps they need even more food at that hour, especially if they are husky athletes. If your football-playing son rebels, have him check on the training habits of his favorite gridiron star. A good breakfast is always part of the training program.

Teenage girls who are dieting to achieve that slim look definitely need breakfast. They need it for all the reasons other people need breakfast, but they also need it so that they do not overeat later in the day and substitute soft drinks and sugary foods for the required proteins and cereals. They need it because they are still growing and will lay up troubles for themselves in later years if they cheat now.

Parents need breakfast in order to cope with the problems of the day. Father will not need to let out his belt if he eats a good breakfast and doesn't fill up on sweet rolls with his coffee break.

And Mothers far too often are guilty of feeding everyone else, then neglecting to eat their own breakfast. Wait, if you must until the youngsters go off to school. But eat an adequate breakfast sometime in the early morning.

What is an adequate breakfast? Most nutritionists agree that fruit, milk, bread and/or cereal will do as a minimum meal. But there is no law that says you can't eat anything you want for breakfast. After all, our New England ancestors went in for fried potatoes, codfish and apple pie!

EGGS ARE CHEAP

Eggs are a wonderful breakfast food. Per pound, they are about as cheap a food as you can buy. The protein content, of course, is high.

As we have said before in these columns, it doesn't matter in what form the family eats eggs. If one member will have them no other way but sunny side up, fine. Junior may go for a daily eggnog. Don't forget French toast as a means of getting eggs into the diet.

★ ★ ★

Here is a different way of serving poached eggs. It is good for Sundays or other mornings when you might have a little more time to prepare breakfast.

Sunburst Eggs

4 slices enriched bread
1 (No.1) can condensed cream of tomato soup
1⅓ cups milk
6 eggs

Cut bread in half, crosswise, and then cut each half into six strips. Combine tomato soup and milk. Place 1/3 cup tomato soup mixture into each of 8 custard cups. Place 6 bread strips in a swirled pattern inside edge of custard cup.

Place an unbeaten egg into each custard cup. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) for 25 to 30 minutes, depending on doneness of egg desired. Yield: 8 servings.

Note: Less servings may be made by using only part of the soup-milk mixture. Remainder of it may be used as soup instead.

★ ★ ★

We have yet to see a family who does not like muffins. Serve a breakfast of fruit, bacon and hot muffins, plus your regular beverage and everyone will become a breakfast devotee. For a start this fall try these spiced muffins.

Spice Muffins

2 cups whole wheat flakes
1 cup sifted flour
2½ teaspoons baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
⅓ cup sugar
¼ teaspoon ginger
1 teaspoon cinnamon
½ teaspoon nutmeg
1 egg, well beaten
½ cup milk
2 tablespoons molasses
¼ cup shortening, melted

Crush whole wheat flakes slightly. Sift together flour, baking powder, salt, sugar and spices; mix with cereal. Combine egg, milk, molasses and slightly cooled shortening. Add to dry ingredients, stirring only until combined. Fill greased muffin pans 2/3 full. Bake in moderately hot oven (400 degrees F.) about 15 minutes. Yield: 10 muffins.

A GOOD START — Mrs. Fred Feekart of Lapeer road knows that an adequate breakfast is the best way to start the day for her family. School children should be well fortified before leaving home in the morning. Five-year-old Michael will start kindergarten this year while Terry Ann is already an experienced scholar. There is no substitute for the meal that breaks your fast early in the day.

Add Fresh Fruit to Pie Filling

Here's a wonderful new and easy way to make fresh peach pie. Vanilla pudding mix is the base of it, and the natural fruit flavor and beautiful color is preserved by preparing the fruit mixture on top of the stove, and cooling it before spooning into a baked pie shell. The fruit filling is thickened to perfection and each piece is juicy and firm in every bite of this heavenly fresh peach pie.

Fresh Peach Miracle Pie

2 cups diced fresh fully ripe peaches (5 to 6 peaches)
¼ cup sugar
1¼ cups water
1 package vanilla pudding and pie filling mix
¼ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon nutmeg
2 teaspoons lemon juice
1 tablespoon butter
¼ teaspoon almond extract
1 baked 8-inch pie shell, cooled

Combine peaches, sugar, and 1 cup of the water in a saucepan. Bring to a boil. Meanwhile, combine pudding mix, salt, nutmeg, lemon juice, and remaining ¼ cup water. Stir to form a smooth paste. Add to boiling fruit, stirring to blend. Then cook and stir until mixture comes to a full boil.

Remove from heat and add butter and almond extract. Cool 5 minutes. Pour into pie shell. Let stand about 4 hours, or until firm. Serve with sweetened whipped cream and additional sweetened sliced peaches, if desired.

Try Melon Balls and Pears . . . as many melon types and colors as you can find. Use your melon cutter on the fresh Bartletts, too. Marinate in equal parts of tokay wine and honey with a good squeeze of lemon juice.

Speedy Method Given for Maple Loaf Cake

Here's a cake of family proportions, Maple Loaf Cake. It's a speedy one to make, too. Use the quick-mix method whereby liquids and eggs are blended with all the remaining ingredients in just two whirls by an electric mixer. Then top the cake with creamy Browned Butter Frosting.

MAPLE LOAF CAKE
(Quick-Mix Method)

2½ cups sifted enriched flour
1 tablespoon baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
1 cup brown sugar
½ cup granulated sugar
½ cup hydrogenated shortening
1¼ cups milk
1½ teaspoons maple extract
3 eggs
Browned Butter Frosting

Sift together flour, baking powder and salt into large mixing bowl. Add sugars and shortening. Mix milk and maple extract. Add about ¾ cup liquid to flour mixture and mix to blend. Beat 2 minutes at medium speed of electric mixer or 300 strokes by hand.

★ ★ ★

Add remaining liquid and eggs. Mix to blend. Then beat 2 minutes longer or 300 strokes by hand.

Turn batter into greased 9 x 13-inch loaf pan. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees) about 35 minutes. When cool, frost with Browned Butter Frosting.

Browned Butter Frosting

¼ cup butter or margarine
3 cups sifted confectioners' sugar
1 egg
1 tablespoon cream
Dash salt

Brown butter or margarine in heavy saucepan. Stir in 2 cups confectioners' sugar, ½ cup at a time. Add egg, cream and salt and mix thoroughly. Add enough more sugar to make a spreading consistency. Beat until light.

Spread over top of cooled cake. Makes one 9 x 13-inch loaf cake.

If self-rising flour is used, omit baking powder and salt.

Evaporated Milk 'Crust'

There's always the urge for lots of that old favorite, fried chicken. Make sure your fried chicken has a crisp even crust by dipping it first in evaporated milk, then in seasoned flour. The evaporated milk helps the flour cling to the chicken in an even coating which permits the best browning all over, too. Save the evaporated milk used for dipping for use in a cream gravy, if you like.

Green Peppers Take Variety of Fillings

With a glance over their shoulders to Mexico, many southwestern American housewives give their stuffed green peppers a welcome touch of excitement. Corn and chili powder are part of the appetizing secret.

Southwestern Stuffed Peppers

Slice tops from 6 medium green peppers. Carefully remove seeds and membranes. Parboil in boiling water to cover and ½ teaspoon salt in a covered saucepan for 3 minutes. Drain.

Combine 3 cups fresh corn, cut off the cob, with 1 cup diced fresh tomato, 1 tablespoon chopped onion, 1¼ teaspoons salt, ¼ teaspoon ground black pepper, 1 teaspoon chili powder, 3 tablespoons flour and 2 tablespoons butter or margarine.

Cook until slightly thickened, about 2 minutes. Spoon into drained green peppers. Place in a baking pan. Bake in a preheated moderate oven (375 degrees F.) 35 minutes or until done. Serves 6.

★ ★ ★

Green Peppers With Cottage Cheese

Slice tops from 4 medium green peppers. Carefully remove seeds and membranes. Parboil in boiling water to cover and ½ teaspoon salt in a covered saucepan for 3 minutes. Drain.

Combine 2 beaten eggs with 1½ cups cottage cheese, 1-3 cup crushed cornflakes, 1 tablespoon chopped onion, 1 teaspoon paprika, ¾ teaspoon salt, ¼ teaspoon ground black pepper and 1-16 teaspoon garlic powder.

Spoon into parboiled peppers. Place in a baking pan. Bake in a preheated moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 40 minutes or until filling is set. Serves 4.

Must Decide for Self If Freezing Pays

Peaches a-plenty for good eating, but what should I do about freezing peaches for use later this year or next? Should I buy peaches to freeze? Do I have freezer space? What will they cost? And do I have the time to prepare peaches for freezing?

★ ★ ★

These are some of the questions you need to answer for yourself as you shop for peaches, reminds the Marketing Information Agent.

A bushel of peaches will give from 32 to 48 pints of peaches for freezing. When peaches cost $3.00 to $4.00 a bushel, this means a cost of 15 to 17 cents per pint including sugar, containers and ascorbic acid needed when freezing peaches.

Nuts, Raisins Unusual in Rice Recipe

Interesting and delicious way to serve rice.

Rice Jamboree

1 cup converted-type rice
2 drained canned pimentos (diced)
½ cup currants (rinsed in hot water and drained)
⅓ cup pine nuts (pignolias)
2 tablespoons butter

Cook rice according to package directions using amount of water and salt called for. Drain.

Gently stir pimentos, currants, pine nuts and butter, with long-handled fork, into hot drained rice until currants and pine nuts are evenly distributed and butter is melted. Makes 6 servings.

Note: ½ cup seedless raisins (rinsed in hot water and drained) may be chopped fine with a knife and added instead of the currants called for.

HONEY COCONUT COOKIES — The luscious filling is baked right into these cookies. This gives you a Cookie-wich when you are through. Children will love them and you will know they are getting some quick energy from the simple sugar in the honey.

Honey Coconut Filling Peeks Out of Cookies

Cookie making seems to go endlessly from one batch to another when there are children in the family who call for more. Often it is fun to break away from the routine of the old favorites and try out a new recipe.

This is a cookie recipe that was invented just for the mother who is surrounded constantly by a group of hungry children. It's a Honey cookie that is appetizing and satisfying.

The fun in these cookies comes with the filling that is baked right into the cookie. Between the two layers of cookie dough you spread this Honey Coconut Filling so when you have finished baking your cookies, you have a Honey cookie-wich!

Honey cookies are always wise to serve your children, for they are rich in the quick energy of Honey's simple sugars. Try these Honey cookies next time you get out your flour sifter.

Starry-Eyed Honey Coconut Cookies

2 cups sifted flour
1 teaspoon baking powder (double-acting)
½ teaspoon salt
½ cup shortening
⅔ cup firmly packed brown sugar or granulated sugar
1 egg, unbeaten
2 tablespoons light cream
1 teaspoon vanilla
Honey Coconut Filling

Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder and salt, and sift again. Cream shortening, add sugar gradually, and cream together until light and fluffy. Add egg and beat well. Add cream and vanilla and mix thoroughly. Add flour, a small amount at a time, mixing well after each addition. Divide dough in two or three parts and chill.

★ ★ ★

Then roll out each part between waxed paper to about ⅛ inch thickness and chill again. Cut with floured 2½-inch round cooky cutter. Place half the circles on an ungreased baking sheet. Place a heaping teaspoon of the Honey Coconut Filling on each.

From the remaining circles cut openings with a floured 1½ inch star-shaped cooky cutter. Place these circles on top of those on baking sheet, so that filling sticks out through star openings.

Press outer edges together with a fork. Bake in moderate oven (375 degrees) about 10 minutes, or until edges are lightly browned. Makes 2½ dozen.

Honey Coconut Filling

Combine ½ cup sugar, 1/3 cup honey, ½ cup water, ¼ teaspoon salt, and 3 cups tender-thin flaked coconut, in saucepan. Stir until well blended. Place over medium heat and cook until coconut absorbs all the syrup (about 10 minutes), stirring constantly. Remove from heat. Add ½ teaspoon vanilla and 2 teaspoons butter. Blend well. Cool.

Watermelon to Be Quick Frozen

Watermelon in December? That's an idea that comes from home economists of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, and they're not day dreaming, either. They're talking about frozen watermelon.

What could be more dramatic than to surprise Dad and the kids with chilled sweet watermelon at Christmas dinner? Under ordinary circumstances, it may be a bit early to think about Christmas, but if watermelon is one of the special reasons your family likes summer, now is the time to act.

This is an especially good season for melon. The U. S. Department of Agriculture reports there are 30 per cent more watermelons than usual this year, with many of our home grown melons starting to arrive at the markets right now.

It's simple and easy to freeze watermelon. Just remove all the seed from a chilled melon. Then cut it into slices, balls or cubes. Pack the pieces tightly, while they are still cold, into a container. (Cold pieces freeze quickly and retain their natural color, flavor and texture.)

Cover each pint of fruit with a half to ⅔ of a cup of cold sirup, made by dissolving 2 cups of sugar in 4 cups of water. (Sirup should completely cover the fruit or there will be color and flavor changes in the top pieces.)

Leave a half to ¾ of an inch at the top of the container for the fruit to expand as it freezes. Then seal carefully, keeping the edges of the container free from moisture or food.

Come next December when you're ready to serve watermelon to the family, don't let it thaw out completely. If there are still some ice crystals in it, it will keep its firm texture.

Add Cheese to Meat Balls

Pamper spaghetti in rich tomato sauce with these meat balls: Combine 1 pound ground lean beef with 1 cup soft bread crumbs, 1 tablespoon parsley flakes, 1 tablespoon grated Parmesan cheese, 1 teaspoon salt, ¼ teaspoon ground black pepper, ⅛ teaspoon garlic powder and 1 beaten egg. Shape into 1-inch balls. Cook on all sides in 2 tablespoons hot olive oil. Yield: 12 one-inch balls.

Try Zippy Butter Sauce

Add zip and zest to fish—broiled, baked or fried. To one-half cup of melted butter add one tablespoon Worcestershire sauce and one tablespoon prepared mustard, or one-half cup of slivered almonds and one tablespoon lemon juice or two tablespoons prepared horseradish, serve hot and savory.

Protect the flavor of butter by keeping it cold, clean and covered.

Ever braise veal chops in tomato barbecue sauce? Brown the chops first.

Like peppermint flavor on ice cream? Add a little peppermint extract to a fudge sauce.

ICEBERG PUNCH — Wedding, graduations and other parties all crowd the calendar at this time of year. Punch is an important part of the food served. The one above calls for frozen lemonade, pineapple juice and ginger ale. Freeze maraschino cherries in the ice cubes for a gay note.

Fruit Juice Duo Flavors Punch

Punch for a bridal shower deserves to be a bit frivolous . . . and this party punch is as fancy as you please. Plump, red cherries are frozen in the ice cubes; fancy garnishes are made of fresh orange slices; and for a tasty touch little sprigs of mint are floated on the top.

The punch itself is as easy as 1, 2, 3. All you need is frozen concentrate for lemonade, unsweetened pineapple juice and ginger ale.

If you have the time and the space in your freezer, a good trick for your punch is a Lemonade Ice Ring. It chills the punch and adds flavor instead of diluting it. To make: use equal proportions of frozen concentrate for lemonade and water. Mix them, and pour into a ring mold. Freeze solid. Just before serving, unmold the ring and float it in the punch bowl.

★ ★ ★

Iceberg Punch

3 6-ounce cans quick-frozen concentrate for lemonade
3 1-pint 2-ounce cans unsweetened pineapple juice
6 cups ginger ale

Combine lemonade concentrate, pineapple juice and ginger ale. Stir until concentrate for lemonade is dissolved. Pour into punch bowl. Garnish as desired.

Stewers, Broilers Cost Less as Supply Rises

The return of school may mean that you need to do more thorough planning of the family's food, states the Marketing Information Agent. Food eaten at school plus that eaten at home should add up to meals which meet health requirements. Knowing the current market situation can help you do a better job of planning and selecting food for meals at home.

MEATS

Large supplies of poultry will come to market during the first two weeks of September. Watch for good values on stewing chickens for this is the season when older hens are moved out of the laying houses to make way for the young pullets. A meaty stewer goes far. Each pound of ready-to-cook meat will serve two people.

Rice, potatoes or noodles are favorite combinations with stewed chicken. Simmer the chicken. Never boil. This is the cooking secret that gives the largest amount and the most tender meat.

Broiler prices in September are likely to drop 2 to 3 cents from the August level. There are more broilers ready for market than there were last year at this time. When days are too chilly to barbecue outside, use the oven. Lay the pieces on a rack and baste with barbecue sauce. Again low temperature (325 degrees F.) is the cooking rule.

Fish may be the answer if you need a quick meal. Perch fillets are expected to break in price this week as supplies get larger. Ample supplies of whitefish, trout and eastern fillets are available.

The shorter work week, due to the holiday, may influence some meat prices this week and next.

Most pork cuts will show gradual price changes as supplies increase from now until the last of November. Center cut chops, bacon, frankfurters and loin cuts are getting special emphasis in some stores this week.

If you buy a whole loin, choose the 12 to 14 pound size for the most lean meat. It can be cut into a rib-end roast, center cut pork chops and a loin-end roast as it usually is in most stores. Or you may have the entire loin cut into chops.

You might have the rib-end cut into country-style spareribs (which have more lean than real spareribs), the center made into chops and the loin end saved for a meaty roast.

Better beef buys may be found in chuck, round, sirloin and cube steaks. Cooler days will bring a greater demand for pot roast from the chuck and Swiss steak from the round. Cube steaks are quick to prepare, may fit your plans this busy week of "back to school" adjustments.

Lamb and veal prices show no change.

VEGETABLES

Seasonal abundance sums the vegetable situation.

Lettuce supplies are very liberal and cost is low. Pascal celery, eggplant, cucumbers, radishes, cabbage and peppers fit the same heavy supply, low-cost list.

Cauliflower is improving in both supply and quality. Creamy white flowerets and fresh green leaves are clues to freshness and flavor.

Brussels sprouts and parsnips make their first appearance of the season this week.

Take your pick of squash. All varieties of summer and fall squash are in the market. Summer squash has passed its quality peak.

Rutabagas and potatoes are increasing in quantity.

FRUITS

September will close the Michigan fruit season.

The first two weeks of the month will bring peak supplies of prune plums.

Michigan Bartlett pears are available now. Michigan has a bumper crop of pears this year which should result in good buys for you. Production is up 50 per cent over the '52-'56 average.

There are a number of peach varieties in the market. You may pick Halehaven, Golden Jubilee, Redhaven or Elberta peaches now. Harvest of the Elberta variety is just getting started. Halehavens are in heaviest supply.

Wealthy apples are increasing in supply. These apples are good for sauce and pies, but do not rate high as an eating or baking apple. The McIntosh variety, which is just starting to market is excellent for use in raw form.

Honeyrock cantaloupe are increasing. Don't let the rugged outside appearance stop you from selecting them. This variety is outstanding for its sweetness and flavor.

EGGS

A rise in price for the large size egg makes the small and medium sizes a still more attractive selection, for the market basket. Small sizes at 33 to 41 cents a dozen are 29 to 36 cents a pound this week; medium sizes range from 37 to 39 cents a pound; larger sizes 39 to 41 cents a pound.

Don't Gamble With Food Poisoning

Pontiac Press Home Editor

We should like to call your attention to a letter and an article we received the other day from Mrs. Josephine Lawyer, the County Consumer Marketing Information Agent. We think that all homemakers who do canning should read and heed.

"A telephone call jolted me into action today.

"A homemaker called and asked about canning sweet corn. She had heated it three minutes in a kettle, was packing it into quart jars, and wanted to know how long she should process it in the hot water bath.

"If you are not a home economist, perhaps this would not have frightened you as it did me. I had visions of this family eating the corn later and becoming deathly ill. It could happen. They could even die.

"Cream style corn which she was canning should never be packed in quart jars and cannot be processed safely in a water bath."

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Lawyer went on to ask for our help in telling homemakers about safe ways of canning. She reminds us that only fruit, tomatoes and pickled vegetables are safe to can in boiling water.

USE PRESSURE COOKER

Everything else must be done in a pressure cooker. NOTHING is safe to process in the oven.

Yes, we know, Grandma did it the other way and look how long she lived. But Grandma also cooked her food half to pieces after she took it out of the cans. She killed all the vitamins and minerals by this method, but she also destroyed the botulism organisms that might have been present.

Make no mistake about it. Botulism poisoning can kill you. The death rate is about 65 per cent. And there is no way of your determining whether these organisms are present or not. You can't see, smell or taste them.

If you are doing extensive canning this year—and signs point to a record amount of food being preserved—do it right.

Contact the Oakland County Extension Department, 1260 West Boulevard (phone FE 4-2564) for free copies of booklets printed by the U. S. Department of Agriculture on proper methods of canning.

Preserve your food, but save your life.

Wheat Germ for Flavor

If your reducing diet calls for servings of cottage cheese, sprinkle a teaspoonful or two of wheat germ over the cheese. It will add a pleasing nutty flavor and bolster the diet with protein, iron, phosphorus and the B vitamins.

Pineapple Sherbet Ready in an Hour

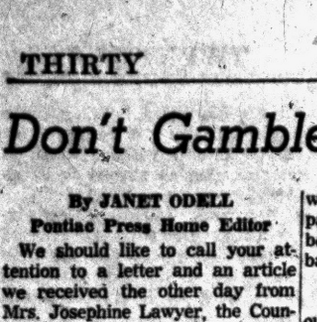
Any time you're looking for an impressive dessert that is not too rich and heavy, your best bet is Pineapple Sherbet. Here's an easy-do recipe:

Stir together ½ cup of sugar, 1 cup syrup drained from pineapple, 1 teaspoon grated lemon peel, 2 tablespoons lemon juice and dash of salt. Mix until sugar is completely dissolved. Combine gradually with 2 cups of cold milk.

★ ★ ★

Freeze in refrigerator tray at coldest temperature until firm, then turn out into a chilled bowl. Break up with fork and beat with rotary beater or electric mixer at low speed until fluffy.

Fold in 1½ cups (No. 2 can) of drained crushed pineapple. Return to tray and freeze until serving time. Makes on quart. (With a fast freezing refrigerator, you can have this sherbet ready in less than an hour.)



that's why we say . . .

500 at Central Methodist Fete Pastor Bank, Wife

Dr. and Mrs. Milton H. Bank of the Central Methodist Church were honored at an open house celebrating their 25th wedding anniversary and Dr. Bank's 25th year in the ministry Wednesday evening. Members of the congregation sponsored the affair. Here, Dr. and Mrs. Bank take time out from the evening's activities to pose with their 4-year-old daughter Susanne Elaine.

Mrs. John H. Hall (right) presided at the refreshment table for Wednesday's open house at Central Methodist Church. Waiting to be served are (left to right) Mrs. Gelston V. Poole and Mrs. William H. Taylor.

Mark Silver Wedding, 25 Years in Ministry

More than 500 friends greeted Dr. and Mrs. Milton H. Bank Wednesday evening when members of the Central Methodist Church honored them with an open house in the church parlors.

The occasion marked the 25th year of Dr. Bank in the ministry and the 25th wedding anniversary of the Banks.

★ ★ ★

WED IN GRAYLING

Dr. and Mrs. Bank were married in the Methodist Church of Grayling on Sept. 3, 1933.

★ ★ ★

Dr. Bank was granted an A.B. degree from Baldwin-Wallace College, Berea, Ohio in 1932. He received his D.D. degree there in 1951.

In 1934 the pastor received an M.A. degree from Boston University's School of Theology at Boston, Mass., and in 1935 he received a bachelor of sacred theology degree from the university.

He has served churches in Holbrook, Mass., Onaway, Millersburg, Hancock, Trenton and Detroit. He was appointed pastor of Central Methodist Church in Pontiac in June of 1949.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Bank attended Western Reserve College in Cleveland, Ohio, in 1928 and in 1932 earned an A.B. degree from Baldwin-Wallace College. She served as director of Christian Education in Cleveland and New York.

HAVE FIVE CHILDREN

The Banks have five children. Ens. Milton H. Bank II, U.S.N., a graduate of the United States Naval Academy, is now stationed at Kingsville, Tex. Thomas R. Bank is a junior at Baldwin-Wallace College, Berea, Ohio. William O. Bank and James M. Bank are students at Pontiac Central High School. The youngest of the Bank children is Susanne Elaine, who is 4 years old.

★ ★ ★

During the evening, Mr. and Mrs. George H. Putnam sang "I Love You Truly" and "O Perfect Love."

★ ★ ★

Mr. and Mrs. Dietrich Kohlsaat are among hosts at parties preceding the dinner dance Saturday at Bloomfield Hills Country Club.

Mr. and Mrs. James P. Baldwin and daughter Babs, of Orchard Lake, are motoring through Canada this week. Babs will visit Nancy Crawford in Sturbridge, Mass., and the girls will go down to Cape Cod for a week before returning home. Miss Crawford is a former Detroiter.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Merritt Hill, Mrs. James F. Bedder and Mrs. Ferd J. Prucher will give a luncheon next Wednesday at Bloomfield Hills Country Club for bride-elect Denise Robins. Denise will be married Sept. 27 to Roland R. Seiber of Kansas City.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Beverly R. Boyd, Mrs. Gordon H. Robertson and Mrs. James R. Wernig will give a similar affair the following Wednesday (Sept. 17) also at Bloomfield Hills Country Club.

★ ★ ★

Mr. and Mrs. William C. Newberg and their daughter Judy left Thursday to drive to Holyoke College where Judy will enroll for her freshman year.

Dear Abby ....

If Mate Steps Out, Step on It!

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

"DEAR ABBY: I am a married woman but my husband is still the bachelor who stood alongside of me when I got married. He goes out whenever he feels like it and comes back when he's ready.

ABBY

If I ask him where he's been he tells me it's none of my business. We have three children who are starting to ask questions. What should I tell them? I have covered up for him long enough."

HAD IT

DEAR HAD: If there is a marriage counselor in your community, find him and listen carefully to what he tells you. You've allowed yourself to be stepped on too much . . . it's your move. Now step on it!

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: I don't want my daughter to make the same mistake I did so I am going to tell her to give three questions plenty of thought before letting a man put a wedding ring on her finger. First, how much is his take-home pay? Next, how does he intend to handle the money? Third, is he going to hold all the money and ask his wife to be a servant? If girls were smart today they would settle these three questions BEFORE. Am I right, Abby, when I say that money is the chief cause in wrecking marriages?"

EXPERIENCED

DEAR EXPERIENCED: You are right! Couples who intend to marry would be wise to shake the stardust out of their eyes long enough to discuss finances and set up a budget! A little simple addition would help a lot—before they start to multiply.

★ ★ ★

"DEAR ABBY: I hate my mother and she hates me. I did poor work at school and the principal and the school nurse suggested I see a psychiatrist. He talked to my mother twice and to me three times and he told me that my mother never forgave me for weighing 11 pounds, 4 ounces when I was born. That is the nuttiest thing I ever heard of. Should I go back to this psychiatrist and listen to any more of that stuff?"

A GIRL OF 14

DEAR GIRL: Perhaps this doesn't make sense to you now . . . but be patient, and pretty soon the pieces will all fit together. Good luck.

★ ★ ★

"DEAR ABBY: I can't pass up this opportunity to answer the XYL who is causing all the QRM around the ham shack waiting for her O.M. to outgrow his hobby. We are a 100 per cent Ham Radio family and do we ever have fun! We've QSO'ed all over the world.

"Ham radio is not only good clean fun. It can be helpful during disasters such as floods, hurricanes or any other emergencies. It can also play a big part in Civil Defense. Tell the Ham Radio Widow to get on the beam and join her hubby. She'll love it!"

"DEAR ABBY: My problem is my boy friend. He wants to eat at drive-ins and go to dark theaters all the time. He never introduces me to any of his friends and I am beginning to think he is ashamed of me. I am nine years younger than he is and a whole lot better looking so I should be ashamed of him instead of him being ashamed of me. How can I get him to take me out to mix with people and why do you think he is keeping me in the dark?"

HID

DEAR HID: He may be keeping you in the dark to see how things develop. Let him know you are interested in "mixing" and introduce him to a few of your friends so he'll get the idea.

Sit Pretty in Short Hems

The Far Eastern influence is seen in this black pure silk dress and jacket ensemble from the B. H. Wragge Fall collection. The loosely shaped dress is paired with a mandarin jacket cut high in the center with a button down back. The jacket is lined with bright red silk.

An important part of wearing the new hemlines, says a Hollywood beauty expert, is the role which "sitting pretty" plays.

A high-hemline girl must never, never sit "big," warns the beauty mentor, or a tight skirt plus a high-riding hem will unite to betray you. The tighter and shorter the skirt, the "smaller" you'll need to sit.

★ ★ ★

Sit at a slight angle, he says, explaining that the "S" design of the body—from head to hip, from hip to bended knee and from bended knee to toe—has been the favored position of grace and beauty in Hollywood ever since there have been stars in its firmament.

DON'T CROSS LEGS

Keep knees together and bent at a right angle. One foot placed slightly back of the other will help you to keep short skirts under control. Any hemline higher than 18 inches will not permit you to cross your legs. If you can—and must—cross legs, let the swinging leg idle close to the leg with the foot on the floor.

When lowering your body to a low sofa, tuck your skirts under before you sit.

Never sit on the edge of a chair in short skirts. If you do, your skirt will fall away from your legs in the back, and slither up over your knees in front. What happens is usually an embarrassment, of which you needn't ever be guilty. Simply sit back so the edge of the chair is at the back bend of your knee.

Married Saturday in Kansas City, Kan., were Rae Jean Kenney and Robert D. Dancey. Parents of the couple are Mrs. Gladys E. Kenney and Mr. and Mrs. Roy H. Dancey.

MRS. ROBERT D. DANCEY

Robert D. Dancey Claims Rae J. Kenney as Bride

Rae Jean Kenney and Robert D. Dancey were married Saturday afternoon at Chelsea Baptist Church, Kansas City, Kan. Dr. William Martin and the Rev. Richard L. Johnson of Ft. Worth, Texas, the bride's uncle, officiated at the ceremony.

Parents of the couple are Mrs. Gladys E. Kenney of Kansas City and Mr. and Mrs. Roy H. Dancey of Sanderson street.

★ ★ ★

The bride wore a floor-length gown featuring a Sabrina neckline, lace bodice and long sleeves. Her fingertip veil was held by a pearl crown, and on a white Testament she carried a bouquet of pink sweetheart roses centered by a white orchid.

ATTEND BRIDE

Mrs. Jerri Strode of Kansas City, Mo., was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Janet Kenney of Kansas City, the bride's sister, Catherine Learned of Zenith, Kan., and Anita Mary Dancey. They wore pink cotton gowns with scoop necklines and carried cascade bouquets of pink asters.

★ ★ ★

James Tilton of Sterling, Kan., was best man. Ushers were James Blasdel of Pleuna, Kan., and Harold Davidson, also of Pleuna.

To receive guests at a reception held in the church parlors, Mrs. Kenney wore a Kelly green dress with white accessories and a pink carnation corsage. Mrs. Dancey wore a dusty rose lace dress with white accessories and a white carnation corsage.

HONEYMOON IN MICHIGAN

When the couple left for a honeymoon to Michigan, the new Mrs. Dancey was wearing a light blue sheath with matching jacket and white accessories and the orchid from her bridal bouquet. They will live in Lawrence, Kan.

★ ★ ★

The bride is attending Sterling College. The bridegroom graduated from Sterling and is now attending Kansas University graduate school.

Final arrangements for a money-making project to be held this month were made.

Sorority Meeting Held

Mrs. Douglas Hallett was hostess Tuesday evening at her Cooley street home for the first fall business meeting of Phi Alpha Iota Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi. Nine members were present.

★ ★ ★

The following committee heads were appointed: Joan Wilson and Lora Lynn Sparks, service; Kay Rouse, Mrs. Gerald Moore and Carol Kinchla, social; Mrs. Robert Cervenka and Audrey Tinkis, program; Mrs. Richard Rosner, membership; Marilyn Carlson, publicity; Wanda Smith and Mrs. Ronald McNeal, ways and means.

★ ★ ★

The group has planned a social event for Sept. 16.

The October meeting will be held at the Edison street home of Miss Rouse.

Reducing Club Names Officers

New officers of the Fashion Your Figure Club of Pontiac have been elected for the coming year. They are Mrs. Gene Ellis, president; Mrs. Charles Ruggles, vice president; Mrs. Harry Wallace, secretary; Mrs. Clarence Edwards, treasurer, Mrs. Thomas Bartle, weight recorder and Mrs. Richard Wallace, scales manager.

New members of the club are Mrs. Thomas F. Jones, and Mrs. Charles W. Gillis.

Alaska Beauty in Rented Finery

Real Cinderella Vying for Miss America Title

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (UPI) —A real-life Cinderella turned up today in the Miss America pageant.

Stuart Fraser Johnson, 19, of Douglas City, Alaska, was disclosed to be the only girl among the 52 contestants who is competing in rented finery.

Most of the others came here with trunks, suitcases, boxes and bags crammed with ball gowns, furs, dresses, suits, shoes, hats and everything else a girl needs to compete for the 1959 Miss America crown.

But not Stuart. After Miss America is selected at midnight Saturday, she must return her three beautiful gowns and other things. None of them will be hers, not even if she becomes Miss America.

"The par for the course has always been for the girls to be given all the clothes they wear here," a pageant spokesman said. "I never heard of clothes being rented for a girl, except in cases where they have lost their baggage or something like that."

CHOSEN IN HURRY

One of the reasons for Stuart's modern-day Cinderella situation is that she was chosen to represent the nation's newest state at the last moment. She was named Miss Alaska Aug. 21, and the next day she went into training, under the supervision of Mrs. Beatrice Albertson, a fellow Alaskan. The contest began Sept. 2.

Stuart dieted and exercised away five pounds, trimming an inch from her hips and two inches from her waist, making her measurements a trim 36-26-36. She is just under 5 feet 7 inches tall and weighs 135 pounds.

Then she and Mrs. Albertson left Alaska and flew to New York. Stuart took with her only what she would need for the trip, because she had been told she would receive a wardrobe in New York.

But shortly after she arrived there Aug. 26 there was a sudden change of plans and the clothes were not made available.

There was only one thing she could do — rent a wardrobe.

★ ★ ★

Theodore Zappa, president of the Alaska Oil and Mineral Co., is Stuart's sponsor in the Miss America contest. That means he pays the expenses for her trip. He hastened to her aid and paid for the rental of her ball gowns and bought her a few other things she needed in a hurry.

But ball gowns are not made in a day. The one rented for Stuart turned out to be in the latest draped-back fashion, but it was the only one that did not have a full, bouffant skirt.

None of this bothered Stuart, a brown-eyed blonde, who bears an old Scottish family name. As the daughter of a widowed, working mother she was not nearly so upset as Mrs. Albertson and Zappa.

Stuart wore the same few dresses over and over with the air of a fashion model and made it clear she was having a wonderful time as the first full-fledged Miss Alaska to enter the beauty contest.

Better to Keep Peace

By EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post: My sister's husband passed away last week and after the funeral some fifteen relatives came back to the house instead of going home. My sister was very tired from the long strain and I felt she was in need of rest and quiet which was impossible with a house full of people. After a half hour had passed and they made no attempt to leave, I took it upon myself to ask them to please go as Mary was very tired.

"I understand that one of the relatives present was very much put out over this and said she was never so insulted in her life. Will you please tell me if she has grounds to feel hurt and if an apology is in order?"

Answer: Although it is my definite opinion that an apology is not "in order," family peace is always important and to say that you did not intend to hurt anyone's feelings (and very certainly not hers) is merely telling the truth. Remember, however, that what you did was exactly what you (as her nearest relative) should have done and therefore do not agree that you were in the wrong.

"Dear Mrs. Post: I dine out quite a lot and I have noticed more and more women, even in the best restaurants, take out lipsticks and compacts and proceed to make up their faces at table. Is this good taste? To me it is revolting and in my opinion any repairing of make-up should be done in the powder room. I would like to know what you think about this?"

Answer: A well-bred woman always avoids making up in public; cosmetics and food do not go together. At the end of a meal, a woman may quickly powder her nose and put on a little lipstick if necessary. But to sit and daub at her face in a little mirror for any length of time is very bad taste.

"Dear Mrs. Post: Will you please tell me how to prevent the guests from leaving the church immediately after the ceremony, before the families do? I've seen this happen so often at weddings and it has always annoyed me, and now that I am going to be married myself I would like to know what to do to prevent this."

Answer: This can be prevented by running ribbons in front of the pews. As soon as the processional is ready to start, have two ushers run ribbons up the length of the pews and fasten them securely to keep people from going out into the aisle as you describe and do not remove them until after the recessional. "Ribbons can be white tape.

Try Temperature When Bleaching

When using a sodium perborate bleach for stubborn stains, make the solution hot or cool depending on the fabric.

A solution of one tablespoon per pint of water should cover the garment and be cool for wool, silk and dynel. Use a hot solution with other washables, and let the garment soak several hours or overnight.

Sobered by Sputniks, Job Shortage

Teens Gird for Tougher School Competition

By EUGENE GILBERT
Gilbert Youth Research Co.

The attitudes of the average teenage American seem to be changing. Sobered somewhat by turbulent world conditions, disturbed by sputniks, pinched by the business recession or maybe just matured a bit by vacation-time work, he will troop back to high school this fall interested in studying harder and making better grades.

Most important reason for the older high school pupil's new concern with high marks is the crowded condition of the nation's colleges.

Today the ivied halls are filled by students who make the best grades — and 63 per cent of the high school students we questioned on their autumn plans say they intend to bear down on the books with college entrance in mind.

This sobering-up process has been going on for months. When the adult public was getting steamed up about Russia's sputnik and the success of Russia's scientists, young Americans were asked what they thought about current high school courses.

★ ★ ★

At that time they came out overwhelmingly in favor of more emphasis on such subjects as mathematics, English and spelling — and less on the usually popular snap courses.

SAW THE NEED

A vast majority said that "something should be done" to encourage the study of math and science — at a time when it was revealed that Russian high school students graduate with 10 years of mathematics, 5 years each of biology and physics, 4 of chemistry and 1 of astronomy.

School was scarcely out this spring when four out of five high school boys and girls told us they thought they should be made to study harder. And a sizable percentage of them favored more homework.

Evident in this most recent sampling of high school students all over the country is a sharp realization of the material advantages of making a good school record.

★ ★ ★

A smashing 74 per cent of the boys and girls who said they wanted to make better grades gave reasons ranging all the way from meeting a personal challenge, through making parents proud and getting a better job, to getting over the difficult college-entrance hurdle.

SEE COLLEGE FADING

The college-bound group, however, were concerned about a variety of problems: 59 per cent felt their chances for college had changed for the worse in the past 12 months. Reasons for the change, in many cases, were financial.

★ ★ ★

One Dorchester, Mass., boy reported his family was having a "bad financial streak" and could not help him as planned. Several, who had not planned on seeking scholarships, are now concerned that their grades aren't good enough to qualify them for such help.

By and large, students are not too impressed by their teachers (who in turn aren't too impressed with their students). One recent survey turned up the majority teenage opinion that many teachers were dull, lacked enthusiasm and were generally behind the times.

★ ★ ★

(A survey of teachers, however, informs us that they think today's pupils have less parental control, training and love and respect for elders — although socially they are more mature in that they drive, date and use makeup.)

WEAK IN HONESTY

Perhaps most disturbing finding of recent months is that teenagers cheat sometimes — 42 per cent of the boys and 31 per cent of the girls confessed — and, more shocking, just about the same number of them said they thought cheating was justified. This may be a little hard to square up with their interest in better grades.

★ ★ ★

And finally, youthful ambition is soaring: towards the professions. While only a handful of kids want to be president, the majority want science, engineering, law, medicine. They voted the physician the most respected professional man. They voted the teacher the least.

It will be interesting to see what changes another school year will bring.

Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Lacy of Carter street will be honored at a reception celebrating their golden wedding anniversary, from 2 to 6 p.m. Sunday at the home of their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. William Jerrold Lacy of Menominee road. Mr. and Mrs. Lacy have two other sons, Lawrence E. Lacy of Ardmore street and Dean Lacy of Perry street. There are six grandchildren. Prior to his retirement Mr. Lacy was an employe of the General Motors Corp. The couple has lived in Pontiac for the past 30 years.

Ruth Graff Weds Glenn Bradford

Ruth L. Graff and Glenn R. Bradford were married Aug. 27 at the home of Rev. Galen E. Hershey, associate pastor of First Presbyterian Church. Attendants were Mr. and Mrs. Guy Nelson.

Mothers of the couple are Mrs. Otto Graff of Mohawk road and Mrs. John Bradford of South Tasmania avenue.

The couple will reside on Starr Avenue.

Nightly Creaming Prevents Aging

A summer's exposure often leaves skin with a dried-out, crinkly look.

A nightly rubdown with a lubricating cream helps ward off this aging dryness and give a dewy, soft appearance.

Phi Epsilon Nu Card Party Planned

Phi Epsilon Nu Sorority met Tuesday at the Upland street home of Mrs. Wallace Knowles.

Final plans were made for the card party and flower demonstration to be held Sept. 15 at Pontiac Federal Savings and Loan Building. The October meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Gerald L. Rood.

Too Oily Scalp Causes Dandruff

Contrary to belief, dandruff actually results from a too oily scalp rather than a dry one. The oil builds up in layers.

When bacteria take residence in this oily home, inflammation may result. Thorough brushing and frequent shampoos discourage such a scalp condition.

Boys Club Mothers Gather

The Mothers Club of the Pontiac Boys Club met Tuesday evening at the club building.

★ ★ ★

New officers for the coming year are Mrs. Arthur Longbrake, president; Mrs. Walter Peters, vice president; Mrs. Ralph Weir, treasurer, and Mrs. Henry Warren, secretary.

Board members are Mrs. Thomas Dodson, Mrs. John Jones, Mrs. Lester Christensen, Mrs. Elwin Sutherland, Mrs. Roseline Hickman, Mrs. Herman Dennis and Mrs. Earl Luchenbach.

New committee heads are Mrs. Delbert Hammett, hostess, Mrs. Lester Christensen, membership; Mrs. Charles Lucas, program; Mrs. Charles Eaglen, historian; Mrs. Herman Dennis, telephone; Mrs. Leonard Noren, flowers; Mrs. Jack Nelson, dishcloth salesman, and Mrs. Walter Peters, publicity.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. John Dushane and Mrs. Dick Kirley are new members.

★ ★ ★

Hostesses for the evening were Mrs. Hammett, Mrs. Lillian Fink, Mrs. Kenneth Nichols and Mrs. Ford Snyder.

MOMS Install Officers

MOMS Unit Two met Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Edgar Thomas of Center street for a co-operative luncheon. Nineteen members and guests attended.

★ ★ ★

Officers for the coming year were installed by Mrs. Leona Anderson, MOMS National president, of Royal Oak, Mrs. Alta Scantland of Auburn Heights and Mrs. George Penny of Royal Oak.

★ ★ ★

The new officers are Mrs. John Brewer, president; Mrs. E. K. Vanderlind, first vice president; Mrs. Duncan McVean, second vice president; Mrs. Carl Cox, secretary; Mrs. Harry Sibley, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Thomas, treasurer; and Mrs. D. W. Edwards, chaplain.

Directors are Mrs. Harry Luxon, Mrs. Clarence Hickmott and Mrs. Frank Van Horn.

The state convention will be held Sept 23-25 in Saginaw. Mrs. Brewer will be delegate.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Myron Copley of Royal Oak was a guest at the meeting.

Gold Star Moms Plan All-Day Sewing Session

American Gold Star Mothers Chapter Nine met Tuesday evening at the DAV Home.

Mrs. Edna Olmsted appointed the following as nominating committee: Mrs. Edward Ellifson, Mrs. Henry Hights and Mrs. Edna Mathney.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Lola Erb reported on a recent board meeting held in Lansing.

Mrs. Louise Gulson will be hostess at her Proud Lake home Sept. 11 for an all-day sewing session.

★ ★ ★

Members will make cancer dressings for the American Cancer Society.

Get While Fresh

Remember this: Fresh paint can usually be washed off hands and clothing with warm soap or detergent suds if you tackle it promptly.

Tipacon Unit Fetes Mothers

Members of Tipacon Chapter of American Business Women's Association paid tribute to their mothers at their meeting Wednesday evening held at Hotel Waldron.

Mothers present were Mrs. Peter Peterson, Mrs. Raymond Boatright, Mrs. H. M. Learned, Mrs. Charles Dorst, Mrs. Anna Brandrup, Mrs. John Wardell, Mrs. Willo Gotcher, Mrs. Ila Gates, Mrs. Eva Vogel, Mrs. Grace Whitehead, Mrs. Celia Wynn and Mrs. Mary Plouffe.

★ ★ ★

Janice Antona, speaker for the evening, was assisted by three pupils from her citizenship class, now all U.S. citizens.

They were Mrs. Flora Grimaldi, formerly of Italy, Inga Gutkewitsch, formerly of Latvia, and Mrs. Kay Holloway formerly of Japan.

They spoke about customs in their former homelands.

★ ★ ★

Plans are being completed for attendance of members at the national convention to be held in Louisville, Ky. in October.

Exercise to Firm Face and Chin

An aid to facial and chin muscles doesn't take much time. About 10 or 20 times, open your mouth wide, drop your jaw.

Then close your mouth. Repeat this several times during the week. You'll appreciate results of this exercise and others as you get older.

Seed Packets Good

Garden enthusiasts can use their seed packets for decorating. Merely cut out colorful illustrations and paste them on waste-paper baskets, workshop cabinets or kitchen cabinets. Then cover them with shellac.

Wear Good Shoes

Walking Is Cheap and Beneficial

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Hang onto that vacation feeling! You've probably come back from your vacation feeling, as they say in New England, "as fit as a filly on a frosty morning." It may be a long time before you have any more time off with pay. Why not take measures to keep that buoyant feeling all year long?

★ ★ ★

The habit of a daily walk is one way to do it. Beauty experts say that a brisk daily walk in the fresh air is one of the very best treatments you can give your complexion. And what better time than in the fall when the air is crisp and spiced with falling leaves, and you have a complimentary ticket to the greatest show on earth — fall foliage?

Some people find walking alone very dull. If you feel this way about it, perhaps you can snag a member of your family or a figure and beauty conscious friend to join you regularly, or there may be a hiking club in your vicinity. The State Guide to your state probably will describe trails and places of interest which will be fun to explore. You will find this in your public library.

One nice thing about walking is that all you need for equipment is a pair of good walking shoes. These should have a broad based heel no higher than two inches and should be of leather throughout. Leather soles especially are important for serious walking because they allow the fresh air to reach the feet. Also they give fine support and are not heavy.

★ ★ ★

If you can do so, a few minutes walk on your way to work will act as an eye opener and on the way home will clear your mind of office problems. But if you confine your walking to weekends, the following are some exercises you should take to keep your feet in condition.

TOE EXERCISE

Stand on a thick book (telephone book is good) and see how many pages you can pull up toward your toes. Relax and continue.

Another — stand on one foot with one hand on a table for balance. Hold the other foot straight out in front of you. Bend the toes under as far as you can. Do the same with the other foot. Continue. You can take this exercise sitting down if you wish.

Another — stand tall. Roll outward onto the outsides of the feet. Roll in. Continue.

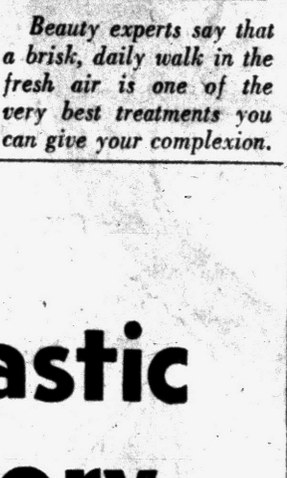
★ ★ ★

Remember that the beach is fun in the fall, too. There is no better exercise than walking in the sand and gripping the sand with the toes with each step.

★ ★ ★

If you would like to have my exercises for the feet, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 14. Address Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

Tomorrow: "How Do you Arrange Hair when the Face is Square?"



Beauty experts say that a brisk, daily walk in the fresh air is one of the very best treatments you can give your complexion.

Men Often Baffled by Women's 'Logic'

By RUTH MILLETT

Men are funny. It's almost impossible to make a man understand things most any woman accepts as a matter of fact. Such things as:

A mink wrap is really economical because it goes with everything and you can wear it for simply ages.

After you have bought a new sofa the rest of the furniture in the living room looks so shabby it simply has to be done over.

A certain woman bores you but you've known each other for so long you wouldn't think of having a party and not inviting her.

You're having your club at your house for a meeting, which means you have to do a complete housecleaning job, from washing windows to waxing floors.

You don't like so-and-so but you are burned up because you have heard she doesn't think very highly of you, either.

You go to a party all dressed up in a new dress and the evening is ruined for you because there's another guest wearing a dress like yours.

You have a closet full of clothes but simply haven't a thing to wear.

You positively hate the new styles and know they aren't going to be becoming to you, but still you won't feel well-dressed until you are wearing the unbecoming new look.

You feel you are being economical because you spent the money you saved by not buying something you feel you couldn't have afforded without that self-denial.

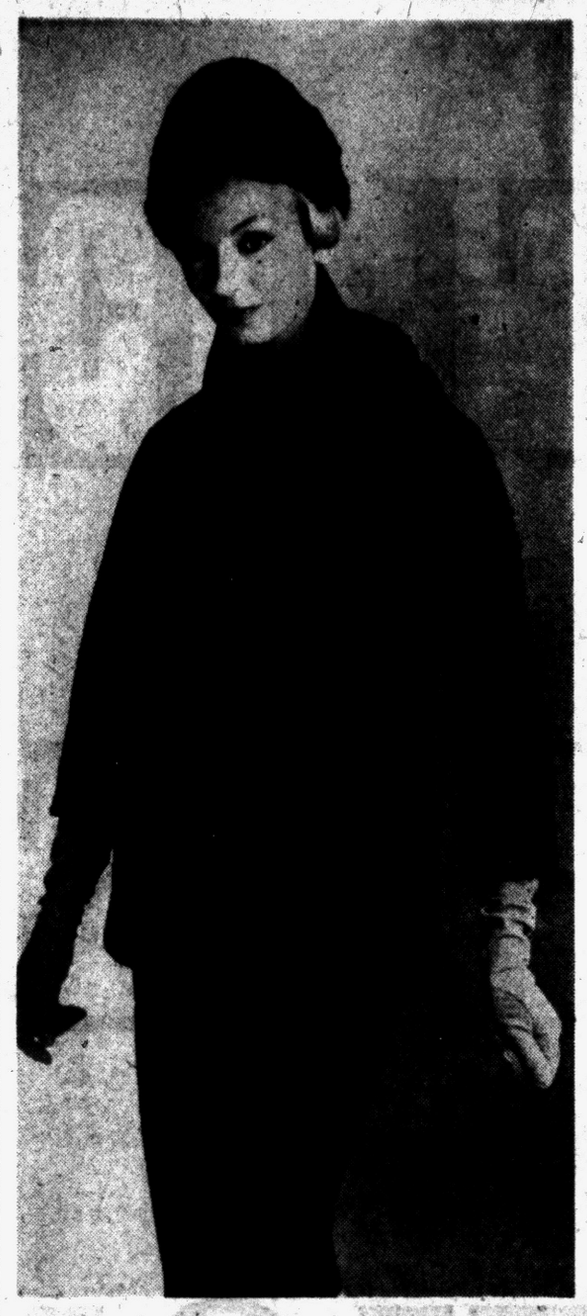
★ ★ ★

There are so many things men don't understand that are so simple and logical to any woman.

Protect Hands Before Gardening

Gardening and other outdoor tasks are just as hard on hands as indoor scrubbing.

Smoothing on hand cream before beginning a project helps keep dirt from working into the skin. The best way, though, to protect hands from stains and grime is to wear suitable gloves.



Long-length jacket lines are emphasized in this bottle green basket-weave wool suit tailored by Montesano and Pruzan. Directoire-detailing is featured in the pocket tabs and long matching scarf that forms its detachable collar.

Vaccination Still Best Anti-Polio Measure

NEW YORK (UPI) — Don't count out paralytic polio — especially if you are under 40 and have not yet had your three vaccine shots.

Surgeon General Leroy Burney, head of the U. S. Public Health Service, and Dr. Thomas M. Rivers, director of medical affairs for the National Foundation, have hoisted storm warnings for those who still may be victims.

The experts know that the polio epidemic of old can flare anew among the unvaccinated.

And forty million persons under 40 have not had even one shot of polio vaccine, said the two.

★ ★ ★

If you are one of these, says Rivers, you should know that the best insurance against paralytic polio still is a vaccination.

"And it is shocking that at this late date, with another polio season upon us, so many people still have not had their full series of inoculations," he said. "In some areas of the country there have been more paralytic polio cases this year than there was last year. There are enough people unvaccinated to make me feel concerned — especially those of pre-school age and adults from 20 to 40.

"The next four weeks will see polio rise to its peak for 1958. Those who have not yet been vaccinated should be, and those who have begun their series of three injections should make sure to continue them."

If you think polio is "kid stuff," take a look at the latest report from the Public Health Service. During 1957, 691 persons over age 20 were paralyzed.

★ ★ ★

Most cases are preventable tragedies. One case was that of the young Army officer who wouldn't rest until his wife and three children had three polio shots. But he forgot about himself, only to be struck by total paralysis. Age: 34.

Last year, in 5,894 homes, the word polio left tragedy in its wake.

In most of these homes, the vaccine is a miracle discovered too late.

Don't let it happen this year to you.

Cologne Has a Variety of Beauty Uses

Do you know that deodorant cologne has several important functions other than providing under-arm protection, asks a world-famed Hollywood beauty authority? Learn all of its uses and be completely well-groomed at all times.

When you dress for special occasions, splash the palms of your hands with the magic liquid and they will be relieved of that damp, clammy feeling and smell which is so unfeminine.

After a shower, pat it on your feet and between your toes so your shoes will remain fresh and hold their shape longer.

Apply it to any skin surface which becomes overly damp, and you will not only protect your wardrobe, but you will maintain your daintiness every hour of the day.

Orlon Easy to Wash

How easy and quick it is to suds and dry sweaters and dresses knitted of Orlon. Women have gone overboard about easy washability and quick drying. That's what saves money and promotes fashion reputations.

To Be Well-Dressed; Plan

Teenagers who are shopping now for fall clothes should plan their wardrobes in advance.

★ ★ ★

First, check the fashions in this newspaper so that you know what the line is for fall. Next, jot down what you already own that's wearable.

★ ★ ★

Be fair, now. A closetful of limp clothes from last year doesn't necessarily mean that you have a lot of things to wear.

So weed out the limp ones and list only those that still look well.

Now, are there skirts that need new blouses or sweaters? Dresses that need new pumps or handbags?

What about your winter coat? Will it serve another year or should you have a new one? If so, what color will blend best with the balance of your wardrobe?

The reason that some teenagers always look well-dressed while others are thoughtlessly put together is always a matter of planning.

Crooked Teeth Need Attention

Are crowded, crooked teeth inherited? Yes and no. If you inherit large teeth from one parent, a narrow dental arch from the other, the crowded condition can be called hereditary.

★ ★ ★

However, poor dental care can often be the culprit. Neglecting the loss of a permanent tooth may cause surrounding teeth to "drift" out of position, resulting in an abnormal bite.

When the man handles the money, his wife usually handles the charge accounts.

THE ONE TRUE NATIONAL ADVERTISING MEDIUM

IS

THE DAILY NEWSPAPER... because 88% of America's families get a newspaper every day. That's national coverage!

Over 100 million people read a newspaper on an average day. Every one of these readers has the opportunity to see every advertisement in the newspaper. Only a few of these people can be reached by any radio, television or magazine message.

Unlike television and radio, newspaper advertising is always ready and waiting to suit the time, place and convenience of the consumer. The newspaper is always selling—and always selling to more people than any other medium.

THE PONTIAC PRESS

From the Press Box

BY BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

The crystal-ball gazers on college football have begun foretelling the future.

Only trouble is each of prophecizing sports writers must have obtained his crystal-ball from a different manufacturer because in 11 different publications there are six different teams being tagged for the national championship.

Ohio State, with powerful fullback Bob White, in our estimation the toughest back we saw last year, gets the big vote for being the nation's top team of 1958.

The Buckeyes got the support of four pre-season grid gazers and naturally the top vote for repeating as Big Ten champion.

★ ★ ★

Oklahoma was named by two publications, as was Michigan State, while Notre Dame, Auburn and Miami of Florida each received single billing for the mythical U.S. collegiate championship.

The Spartans from East Lansing are favored to make the trip to California for New Year's Day 1959 and the Rose Bowl, in as much as Ohio State is ineligible because of the 1958 appearance.

Watch out for Wisconsin this year. The Badgers had a flock of sophomores who tied Purdue for 4th place in the Big Ten last year. This could mean the battle of the Big Ten and the Rose Bowl trip will take place November 1st at Spartan Stadium when MSU hosts the Badgers.

★ ★ ★

Purdue and Iowa, or vice-versa, are the choices to complete to the first division of the Big Ten, with Michigan, Illinois, Minnesota, Indiana and Northwestern picked to follow in that order.

★ ★ ★

Among the Midwest independents, U. of D. gets attention behind Notre Dame, while Texas Christian in the Southwest, Pittsburgh in the East, UCLA and Oregon State in the Far West, North Carolina on the Atlantic, Georgia in the Southeast and Mississippi State in the South are the big names hailed as college football's big guns of 1958.

DITTOS FROM THE PRESS BOX

Mike Noone, veteran greenskeeper who served at Bloomfield Hills Country Club from 1919 to 1939 as well as Tam O'Shanter, Orchard Lake, Pontiac Country Club and Indianwood until 1955, is a visitor in the area. He retired and went to California three years ago and is now 76 years old.

★ ★ ★

Watch for these teams to be on the U. of D. football schedule between 1959 and 1963 — Kentucky, Holy Cross, Iowa State, Michigan State, Tulane, Navy, Miami (Fla.) and Pitt.

★ ★ ★

Local golfer Tom Thum says, "I've been golfing with Glenn Harding for 20 years and had never known him to keep the scorecard." Just to change the routine, Harding was handed the card and pencil the other day. After six holes, Harding finally took out the pencil and jotted down the scores of his foursome.

★ ★ ★

Fred Huber, deposed publicist of the Detroit Red Wings, will handle the press, radio and TV promotion of the Motor City basketball tournament next December which includes Army, Princeton, Michigan and U. of D.

To Clinch Another AL Flag

Yanks Need 10 Wins

By The Associated Press

The magic number for the New York Yankees is now 10. This number of wins for the Yanks or losses for the White Sox will clinch the pennant for the Bombers.

★ ★ ★

Yogi Berra's three-run homer in the 9th produced an 8-5 come-from-behind triumph for the New Yorkers yesterday against Boston while Kansas City was downing Cleveland 6-2 and the Orioles were slipping by Washington, 4-3.

Yank relief ace Ryne Duren got the victory that kept the defending champs ahead by 12 games. Mickey Mantle belted his 39th roundtripper in the 8th.

Bob Cerv and Hal Smith hit successive fifth-inning homers to snap a 2-2 tie for the Athletics. Ray Herbert scattered five hits to best Hal Woodeschick in a battle of former Tigers.

★ ★ ★

Cleveland had a four-game win string broken and also lost the services of infielder Bob Avila, who suffered a fractured facial bone when he was struck by a grounder in practice. Larry Doby homered in defeat.

Run-scoring singles in the 9th by pinch-hitter Bob Hale and Bob Boyd broke up a pitching duel between Arnold Portocarrero and Vito Valentinetti giving Oriole Portocarrero his 11th triumph.

Washington fought back to score one in its half of the frame before reliefer Jack Harshman put out the fire.

Bob Nieman and Norm Zauchin had matched two-run homers for the only scoring prior to the ninth.

Bengals Drop 1-0 Decision to White Sox

Tigers Blow Scoring Chances as Donovan Hurls 5-Hitter

DETROIT (AP) — At best, things aren't good with the Detroit Tigers.

But what happened to them last night at Briggs Stadium shouldn't happen to anyone — least of all a nice fellow like Frank Lary. The Tiger righthander, an oft-shaky but sometimes brilliant pitcher, allowed the Chicago White Sox only two hits.

Yet he was beaten 1-0. His mates squandered five scoring chances against ex-Tiger Dick Donovan, who pitched a five-hitter for his 12th triumph.

Lary had a no-hitter going for 6 1/3 innings — and lost the game in a matter of seconds on two wrong-field base hits. With one out in the seventh, Billy Goodman, a left-handed hitter, blooped a single to left field. The next batter, Sherman Lollar, sliced a double to right field and brought in the only run of the contest.

★ ★ ★

Manager Bill Norman took this defeat harder than any of the many others his players have absorbed since he took over the club on June 10.

Norman was glum, almost sullen, as he sat staring into the clubhouse spaces.

On the other side sat Lary, a fellow who never bellows in victory and seldom complains in defeat. He has lost tough ones before. He could not remember a tougher loss. But he accepted this one calmly and said "someone has to lose the tough ones. Donovan pitched a good game."

"Sure, I knew I had a no-hitter," he said. "No, I wasn't talking about it — but I would have if I had taken a notion. I don't believe in superstitions of any kind."

Lary could remember another time in the International League when he pitched no-hit, no-run ball for 8 2/3 innings before Archie Wilson, in a pinch-hitting role, dribbled a single through the box. Lary recalled that he struck out the last batter that time.

★ ★ ★

After Lollar's double last night, Lary retired the next eight batters.

Maxwell singled leading off the ninth but tried to stretch the hit into a double and was out at second. Donovan then fanned Bolling and pinch-hitter Gus Zernial to preserve his 12th triumph — and his ninth in 11 decisions since the All-Star game break.

Hawks' Mortson Comes to Wings

Adams Says New Man Will Bolster Weakened Detroit Defense

CHICAGO (AP) — The Chicago Black Hawks traded veteran defenseman Gus Mortson to the Detroit Red Wings last night for two or three players to be named later.

Mortson, 33, has been in the National Hockey League 12 seasons, 6 with the Hawks and 6 with the Toronto Maple Leafs.

"We're getting rid of some of the veterans to make room for several promising young defensemen who will be guarding goalie Glenn Hall this season," said general manager Tommy Ivan.

Red Wing general manager Jack Adams said Mortson will serve to bolster the Detroit clubs defense weakened by the loss of Al Arbour in the NHL draft.

The Wings also acquired Julian Klymkiw, second string goaltender from Winnipeg of the Western Hockey League as their assistant trainer and spare goalie. Klymkiw was with Winnipeg for the past two seasons.

Call Issued for Pontiac Northern Grid Candidates

All Pontiac Northern High School boys interested in football should obtain their cards for physicals and their equipment at Wisner Stadium today and tomorrow at 3:00 p.m.

Upper classmen from Northern will participate with the Pontiac Central varsity. Northern sophomores will be under the direction of Ed Heikkinen.

Olympic Decision Due

4 U.S. Cities Have Bids for Games in 1964

It Will Be Decided Which American City Is Qualified

CHICAGO (AP) — U.S. Olympic officials will decide this weekend which of four American cities—Detroit, Los Angeles, Minneapolis or Chicago—will be certified to try landing the 1964 Olympic Games.

The 1960 Games will be held in Rome, Italy, and the U.S. Olympic Executive Committee—at its meeting here Saturday and Sunday—will work out details for this country's participation.

The Olympic group's site selection committee will meet Friday night to consider bids of the four American cities for the 1964 Games. A decision on a prospective host city may be made Saturday or Sunday.

However, no matter whether Los Angeles, site of the last U.S.-held Olympics in 1932, Detroit, Minneapolis or Chicago, gets the call, it is far from certain this country will land the 1964 Games.

★ ★ ★

Next spring, at Munich, the International Olympic Committee of which Chicago's Avery Brundage is president, will select the site. Besides an American city, at least four foreign cities will make a pitch for the 1964 event—Tokyo, Moscow, Buenos Aires and Mexico City.

Tokyo made a favorable impression on some IOC officials with its efficient handling of the recent Asian Games. However, transportation costs for most major entries would be a problem, as they were for the 1956 Olympics in Melbourne, Australia.

U.S. Olympic Committee President K. L. "Tug" Wilson thinks "it's about time the pendulum swung in favor of America."

Wilson said civic leaders of the four American cities bidding for the 1964 Games will be given upwards of an hour each to elaborate on their bids.

★ ★ ★

Chicago's bid is based upon its preparations for the 1959 Pan-American Games, facilities of which would be expanded for the 1964 Olympics.

If the selection committee finds it difficult to make a decision this weekend, it may personally inspect facilities of the competing cities. This, of course, would prolong the selection date.

Rally Gives Spahn 18th Victory

Braves Extend Lead to 9

By The Associated Press

Warren Spahn seemed to have hit a snag in pursuit of his ninth season of 20 or more victories. He had won only one of his last three decisions, and there he was, trailing 1-0 after seven innings.

★ ★ ★

So the Milwaukee Braves came up with 11 runs in the last two frames at Philadelphia last night, beating the Phillies 11-5 for Spahnie's 18th victory.

It also hoisted the Braves into a nine game lead in the National League race—their largest since moving to Miwaukee in 1953—and reduced their magic number for the pennant clinching to 13.

Any combination of 13 Milwaukee victories or defeats by either Pittsburgh or San Francisco gives the Braves their second straight flag.

Cincinnati knocked off the Pirates 7-4 and Los Angeles kept San Francisco in a second place tie with the Bucs by trimming the Giants 5-3. St. Louis defeated the Chicago Cubs 9-7 in 12 innings.

★ ★ ★

The Braves came from behind on Joe Adcock's three-run homer, his 17th, in the eighth, chasing loser Seth Morehead (1-4). The champs made it a six-run inning against reliever Jim Hearn with the help of errors by the Phils, who counted five boots for the game, then put across five more in the ninth.

Spahn (18-10) gave up 10 hits and six walks. Two walks and Chico Fernandez' single broke a shutout duel in the sixth. After the Braves finished their splurge, Rip Repulski unloaded a grand-slam homer in the ninth, when two singles and a walk loaded the bases.

★ ★ ★

Three runs in the seventh won it for the Redlegs. George Crowe's single scored the run that broke a 4-4 tie, and Don Newcombe's two-run pinch single put it away. Don Gross (5-6) was the loser, with Willard Schmidt (3-6) the winner, both in relief. Frank Robinson's two-run single had given the Reds a 3-2 lead in the fifth, and after the Bucs scored two in the sixth, the Reds tied it in their sixth on Frank Thomas' second error.

★ ★ ★

The Dodgers made it two in a row over the Giants for the first time this season on Duke Snider's two-run homer in the ninth off losing reliever Red Worthington (11-7). It was No. 13 for Snider, who made two tries at a bunt before slicing his shot over the left field screen at the Coliseum.

★ ★ ★

Joe Cunningham's fourth hit, a two-run triple with two out in the 12th, got the job done for the Cardinals and reliever Jim Brosnan (10-8). Cunningham drove in four runs for the Cards, who scored four unearned runs in the third, then blew a 7-2 lead as Ernie Banks hit his 43rd home run, Bobby Thomson his 18th and Tony Taylor his sixth for the Cubs. Bill Henry (4-4), sixth of seven Cub hurlers, lost it.

State PGA Golf Tourney Sunday

Barnum Defending Title at Midland; Indianwood Qualifiers Under Way

It will be John Barnum against the field this Sunday in the annual Michigan PGA golf tournament at Midland Country Club.

Barnum, the long-driving pro from Blythefield in Grand Rapids, won the State PGA championship last year at Birmingham CC with a sudden-death playoff victory over host pro Ray Maguire.

Leading the challenge against Barnum will be Wally Burkemo of Franklin Hills and Meadowbrook's Chick Harbert, both former state and national PGA champions. The distance is 36 holes of medal play.

Eighteen-hole qualifying rounds for the annual Indianwood Invitational Best-Ball tourney were under way today over the par 35-37—72 Indianwood layout.

After today's qualifiers, the field will be divided into four flights of 16 two-man teams each for match play beginning Friday. Single matches are slated tomorrow and Saturday, followed by the semis and finals on Sunday. All matches are 18 holes.

Anthony's Left Hand Earns Split Decision

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP)—Ernest "Tony" Anthony has stuck a rather timid toe in the heavyweight division's door with a two-point, split decision over unranked heavy Archie McBride.

★ ★ ★

Anthony weighed 177¼, McBride, 184.

The classy stylist showed a left hand that McBride long will remember, but his debut in the unlimited division last night was anything but impressive.

Anthony won the 10-round, nationally televised bout on Referee Joe Palmer's point allotment. The referee gave Anthony seven points and McBride five, after scoring five rounds for each.

★ ★ ★

Judge Dick Albino was overwhelmingly in favor of Anthony 8-2, Harold McGrath saw it 6-4 in favor of McBride. The AP scored five rounds for Anthony, three for McBride and two even.

Three Detroit Boats in Buffalo Regatta

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — Seven unlimited class racing hydro-planes will compete Sunday for the Buffalo Launch Club's international powerboat regatta on the upper Niagara River.

★ ★ ★

Entry of Gale V and Gale VI, the world-famous Gold Cup class hydroplanes from Detroit, was announced yesterday. These are owned by Lee Schoenith, who said he would drive Gale VI. Bill Cantrell is scheduled to drive Gale V.

Already on hand and making test runs are:

★ ★ ★

Maverick, a Lake Mead, Nev., entry piloted by Bill Stead, Reno cattle rancher; Miss Bardahl of Seattle, driven by Miro Slovak; Miss Detroit, driven by Chuck Thompson; Miss Supertest II of London, Ont., driven by Bob Hyswood; and Wildroot Charlie, the local entry, driven by Bob Schroeder.

Tiger Farm Clubs Enjoy Best Year

DETROIT (UPI) — Three outright titles, and the possibility of three more give promise of the best season for Detroit Tiger minor league clubs since the late Judge Landis freed 93 fledgling Bengals 18 years ago.

Charleston (Class AAA, American Association), Birmingham (Class AA, Southern Association), and Valdosta, Ga. (Class D, Georgia-Florida League) all came through with pennant-winning efforts and Augusta (Class A, South Atlantic League), Lancaster, Pa. (Class A, Eastern League) and Idaho Falls (Class D, Pioneer League) all are shooting for flags with Augusta and Lancaster in first.

Augusta needs a victory tonight over Jacksonville to win.

The Tigers have had almost nothing but lean years since the late czar of baseball cut up their minor league system. They had won pennants in 1934, 1935 and 1940. Since then Detroit has won only one flag — 13 years ago.

Among the players Landis released were many that reached the major leagues. Johnny Sain was a standout for the Boston Braves. George Metkovich played with the Yankees and Red Sox. Bennie McCoy signed for a reported $40,000 with the Philadelphia Athletics.

Pitching was the strong factor in Charleston's pennant. Bill Adair, most successful manager in the Tiger system, took over when Bill Norman moved up to Detroit and was aided by the sharp hurling of Jerry Davie (17-5), Don Lee (13-8) and reliefer George Spencer (9-4).

Birmingham won its first title in 27 years sparked by its young staff of Bill Harrington (19-7), Joe Grzenda (15-6), Phil Regan of Wayland, Mich. (13-8) and Dave Reed (11-5).

Third baseman Steve Demeter (.306) a power hitter, is given the best chance of the Barons, other than pitchers, to move up to the Tigers.

George Alusik, Augusta outfielder, was named the Sally League's most valuable player. Alusik carried a .323 average into action this week.

Al Pehanick (11-2) and Bill Graham (12-4) were Augusta's top moundsmen. Bonus boys Steve Boros of Flint was hitting .253 and George Thomas of Minneapolis .271.

Ron Nischwitz, bonus pitcher from Ohio State, paced Lancaster to its flag, posting a 10-5 record, along with Bob Paffel at 14-8 and Gordon Seyfried at 16-7.

Idaho Falls, which finished seventh in the first half of its split season, was just two games out of first this week while Steve Gromek's Erie, Pa., club in the Class D, New York-Pennsylvania League finished seventh. Gromek had to go into the final game in relief in order to escape eighth place.

Bad Night for Tigers on Field and at Gate

DETROIT (UPI) — The Tigers couldn't win anywhere last night, on the field or at the gate.

Only 13,303 turned out leaving the Bengals 7,339 short of the million mark in home attendance.

"Where is everyone," Frank Lary asked in the dugout before the game. Lary could just as well have asked where his support was after the contest.

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Pistons-Syracuse Nationals deal has been completed with the signing of Earl Lloyd by the Pistons. Lloyd and Dick Farley came to Detroit in a straight cash deal last spring. Farley signed several weeks ago.

Seixas in Quarter-Finals of U.S. Tennis Tourney

FOREST HILLS, N. Y. (UPI)—What's holding the old boy up?

Thirty five-year-old Vic Seixas of Philadelphia, hanging on the ropes like a tired old fighter, is as amazed as the experts at his restless progress in the U.S. Tennis Championship. Today he will be bidding for a berth in the semi-finals against Australia's Wimbledon champion, Ashley Cooper, as one of America's last three hopes for the title.

The young blood is gone and only the "tired blood" remains—Seixas, 31-year-old Dick Savitt of South Orange, N. J., and 30-year-old Herb Flam of Beverly Hills, Calif. Not one is a Davis Cup prospect.

"I didn't expect to get this far," admitted Seixas, America's No. 1 ranking player but now strictly a "weekender" since he became serious about his job as a securities salesman. "Now that I'm here, we'll see."

Up to here he has disposed of Denmark's Kurt Nielsen, Straight Clark of Radnor, Pa., Jackie Douglas of Santa Monica, Calif., and yesterday ousted Mike Green of Miami, 6-2, 7-5, 8-6, in a struggle all the way.

★ ★ ★

After Seixas made his quarter-final berth, Flam soft-balled his way in by trimming 19-year-old Chris Crawford of Piedmont, Calif., the wonder boy who had eliminated Barry MacKay of Dayton, O. Herbie took a losing set to get going but then won with ease simply by knocking everything back.

In today's other quarter-final, Neale Fraser of Australia, a dangerous lefty, was matched against Alex Olmedo of Peru and if he wins, he'll tackle the Cooper-Seixas winner.

Savitt and Flam are idle until Friday. Savitt then meets defending champion Mal Anderson of Australia, who had a bitter fight yesterday before downing southpaw Billy Knight of Great Britain, 4-6, 6-3, 6-4, 8-6. Flam plays Sweden's Ulf Schmidt, 24-year-old U.S. indoor champion of 1956, who knocked over third-seeded Ham Richardson of Arlington, Va., in a straight set upset yesterday.

★ ★ ★

In the women's division, second-seeded Dorothy Head Knode of Forest Hills plays Jeanne Arth of St. Paul in one quarter-final and sixth-seeded Sally Ann Moore of Bakersfield, Calif., meets Darlene Hard of Montebello, Calif., in the other.

LSU Gridder May Be Fastest and Strongest

BATON ROUGE (AP) — "The strongest football player in America," and maybe the fastest too.

★ ★ ★

That's Billy Cannon, Louisiana State University's 200 pound junior halfback. In addition to his football talent, he is Southeast Conference 100-yard dash champ and placed second in the shotput.

Alvon Roy, trainer for the 1952 U.S. Olympic weightlifting squad, says Cannon has lifted 260 pounds in the Olympic press, only 20 pounds less than the winner in his weight class in the 1956 Olympics.

★ ★ ★

"He has more natural strength than any man I've ever coached or trained," Roy says.

TO SHARE PROCEEDS — Rev. Michael J. O'Reilly, pastor of St. Michael's Church has a word of thanks for Pontiac promoter Tony Bellesairo who said that the St. Mike building fund would get a share of the proceeds of the Wisner Stadium fights next Monday night.

Top 8-Round Feature in Wisner Fight Card

The card for next Monday night's fight program at Wisner Stadium is near completion with three eight-round feature attractions on tap.

Matchmaker Johnny Ferro announced that Fritz Zivic's protege Ronnie Washensky was hurt in a sparring session and would not appear against Mike O'Hara of Milwaukee as scheduled.

However, Wilf Greaves, the middleweight champion of Canada will be pitted against O'Hara in the feature eight rounder.

Greaves is one of Canada's outstanding young newcomers and is seen by boxing men to have a bright future.

"O'Hara is after a fight with Detroit's Chuck Spieser," said his manager Pinky Mitchell "and we can't let Greaves detour our plans."

Zivic will still be at Wisner Stadium for the fights as a guest referee even though his young ace, Washenky, will be unable to appear.

The other 8-round attraction will match Gene Gresham, National AAU lightweight champion against Duke Harris of Pontiac.

★ ★ ★

Gresham has won 13 straight fights since joining the pro ranks.

Other bouts on the program feature Henry Hank of Detroit against middleweight Leffie Walker of Saginaw in 8 rounds with Hank shooting for a crack at Spider Webb with a victory.

In a six-rounder Leroy Jeffrie, Detroit AAU featherweight champ, winner of eight pro fights, meets Mexican Cleco Hidalgo of Mexico City.

Irish Billy Collin will meet Oscar Murray in a four rounder. Only bout yet to be matched is heavyweight Floyd Harris' opponent. Harris of Detroit will make his first pro start.

The Fraternal Order of Police is the sponsoring agent for the program with the St. Michael's Church building fund getting a part of the proceeds and the children's program of Pontiac State Hospital sharing in the concession profits.

Tickets can be obtained at Weldon's Sporting Goods, Hub Clothes and Perry Drugs or from most any police officer in the city. Some 3,500 seats will be sold at 99 cents, with others seats at $1.50 and $2.50.

These will be the first professional fights held in Pontiac since the program a year ago which featured Mickey Crawford of Saginaw.

The program will start at 8:30 p.m. next Monday night.

Big Yellow Perch Puts Up Hot Fight

Duane Sprague, 2400 Oakwood road, Oxford, got the surprise of his angling experience, Tuesday night, while fishing with his friend, Herb McCullum, 3090 Baldwin, Ortonville, on Perry Lake. The men were after pike. Their lures were small minnows, and they had taken several fish when Sprague tossed his bait into a water-lily bed.

"I thought I had a big bass on," Duane reported. But after a real battle he brought in a 13½-inch yellow perch that weighed 1¼-pounds.

The pair also lost a big pike that sawed their line off in a run under the bow of their boat.

Hunters bagged 105,599 deer in Utah during 1957, says the State Dept. of Fish and Game.

WEDNESDAY'S FIGHTS

SYRACUSE, N. Y.—Tony Anthony, 177½, New York, outpointed Archie McBride, 184, Trenton, N. J., 10.

Basilio Next for 'Golden Boy'

Aragon Faces Tough Foe

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The amazing career of Art Aragon, the golden boy of California boxing whom fans love to hate, reaches another climax at Wrigley Field tomorrow night.

★ ★ ★

Aragon goes against perhaps the toughest opponent in his long and checkered career, Carmen Basilio of Chittenango, N.Y., once welterweight champion of the world, later the middleweight king until Sugar Ray Robinson regained the title from him last March.

The scheduled 12-round match will be televised by the National Broadcasting Co., with Los Angeles and a 300-mile radius screened out.

★ ★ ★

Promoter Cal Eaton and matchmaker George Parnassus expect 20,000 or more people will pay upward of $200,000 to see the affair, and chances are it will be a brawl.

Both fighters are strictly punchers and have proved they can take it, Basilio in 55 fights dating back to 1948 and Aragon in 102 stretching back to 1944.

Basilio, 31-year-old ex-onion farmer from upper New York state, furnishes the proven class of the match.

Ready to Rejoin Bosox

BOSTON (AP)—Boston slugger Ted Williams is scheduled for a workout today and then will rejoin his teammates in Baltimore following a 10-day virus infection.

Williams, who celebrated his 40th birthday confined to his hotel room with a heavy cold, fever and sore throat, worked out briefly yesterday and announced he had lost six pounds.

Diamond Dust

By CHUCK ABAIR

Baseball and softball followers around Pontiac had plenty to cheer about after two incidents which occurred over the Labor Day weekend.

Baseballer Chuck Oertel's rise from the minors to Baltimore Sunday and the clinching of the state women's softball championship by the Pontiac All Stars Monday caused the jubilation.

Oertel got right into action on the holiday playing two different positions in the 2nd game of a doubleheader and going one-for-two against the Senators. He flied out as a pinch-hitter Tuesday night.

Chuck called his parents from Washington Sunday to tell them he was in the Majors. The Orioles purchased the former St. Frederick star from Louisville where he had been 2nd in hitting in the American Association.

The All Stars had dominated the local league all summer and kept right on going against the best in Michigan.

★ ★ ★

The Pontiac Jets also turned in an impressive job in state Class A baseball action before finally bowing out while the city "B" champion Boys' Club nine fell by the wayside early bringing to a close area softball and baseball for another year.

SKIPPING AROUND

It would seem state baseball and softball officials would save a lot of problems and hard feelings by coming up with a rule that would force every tournament entry to enter any and all playoff games with the same player roster it had at the close of regular league play.

★ ★ ★

Southfield High grad Dick Covrea made All-Post team at Ft. Benning, Ga. . . . Contractor Carl Barton helped sponsor Birmingham Jr. Legion nine without fanfare or publicity . . . One of the top junior city hitters was Dean Callison of Lake Orion with .383 in "D."

Massachusetts Little Leaguer drove in 14 runs in a game with four homers and a single . . . Royal Oak's Mike Dennis, a 15-year-old southpaw, rated a future star. Hurled double no-hitter and total of three this summer . . . Farmington officials helped Clarenceville get started in kids' baseball this summer.

★ ★ ★

Murlin Welch paced the two Waterford men's softball leagues in hitting at .454 while Dick Shell topped the pitchers winning 12 and losing one.

'Eyes of Texas' Upon Lions

5 Native Sons of Lone Star State on Team

Detroit to Face Bears in Cotton Bowl Friday Night

DALLAS (UPI) — The "eyes of Texas" will be upon five native sons tomorrow night in the Cotton Bowl when the Detroit Lions face the Chicago Bears.

It's doubtful though that even the quintet of quarterbacks Bobby Layne (Texas) and Tobin Rote (Rice), guard Harley Sewell (Texas), halfback Yale Lary (Texas A & M) and Bill Glass (Baylor) can stir the crowd as Doak Walker did in 1953.

★ ★ ★

Walker, a native son of Dallas who gained all-American fame at Southern Methodist and played his college ball in the Cotton Bowl on the Texas state fairgrounds, headed the then world champions into Dallas for a game with the New York Giants.

The Doaker had helped the Lions to their first National Football League title since the 1930s the season before and he, along with Layne, Lary, end Cloyce Box, coach Buddy Parker and several other Texans, were making their triumphant return to the Lone Star State.

★ ★ ★

As each member of the Lions was introduced, a resounding cheer went up. It raised several pitches when the player was from Texas. Finally, Walker was announced and the jammed bowl went wild, waving lone star flags, cheering and singing "The Eyes of Texas Are Upon You."

There won't be any Doak Walker in Lion uniform tomorrow night. And the Lions don't expect to mop up the field with the Bears—the only team undefeated after three weeks of exhibition play.

George Halas, the "papa Bear," has taken over the reins of his club again after the Bears skidded last season. Lion assistant coach Bob Dove, who scouted the Bears last week, came away impressed by the improved line play of the monsters of the midway.

★ ★ ★

The Bears rambled across their Windy City rivals, the Cardinals, by a 24-7 count and then eked out a 3-0 victory over the Philadelphia Eagles before sinking Parker's Pittsburgh Steelers 17-10.

Detroit, after losing 35-19 to the College All-Stars, has chalked up successive victories over Cleveland, 17-7, and New York, 26-7.

★ ★ ★

It will be Lion coach George Wilson's first "official" meeting with his former boss, Halas. Wilson was a standout end for the Bears.

Trautman Hails Ticket Tax Cut

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — President Eisenhower's signing of a bill reducing the federal admissions tax was hailed Wednesday by George M. Trautman, czar of the minor leagues, as "a victory for every team in organized baseball at many places," Trautman declared.

★ ★ ★

The bill signed by the President eliminates the 10 per cent excise tax on admissions up to and including $1.

ANN ARBOR (UPI)—Stan Noskin, expected to be the No. 1 quarterback this season, was due back from summer school in Chicago today after missing the first three days of fall football practice at the University of Michigan.

Coach Bennie Oosterbaan, after putting the Wolverines through a 90-minute scrimmage session yesterday, called for a full-scale scrimmage Saturday in the 101,001 seat stadium.

Three men—burly John Herrnstein, halfback Brad Myers and tackle Don Deskins—continued to be impressive in yesterday's workout as the Wolverines drilled almost solely on the single wing.

With Herrnstein and Myers in the backfield were Bob Ptacek, senior quarterback, and left half Darrel Harper.

EAST LANSING (UPI)—Michigan State's 77-man squad went through light drills again yesterday—the third straight without scrimmage.

Coach Duffy Daugherty, commenting that the team "still looks pretty green," stepped up conditioning exercises.

"We have a lot of work to do but we have a lot of time in which to do it," said Daugherty who has predicted the 1958 club could be the best of any Spartan club. A little over three weeks remain before the opener against California.

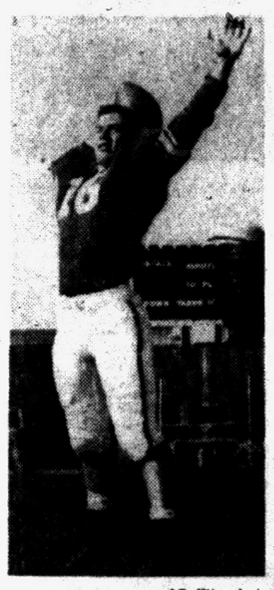
BRIGHTON (UPI) — Detroit was the first major Michigan college team to go all out in a full scrimmage and coach Wally Fromhart saw his "White" team wallop the "Reds" 42-0 in a two-and-a-half hour scrimmage yesterday.



AP Wirephoto

BIG, LITTLE MAN—The big man in Michigan State's multiple offense this year is little Mike Panitch, 5-7 quarterback, who will be shooting for the two points of the new extra point rule with his passing this year.

The Whites, made up mostly of first stringers, scored on a pair of touchdowns each by veterans Bill Dando and Dan Collins and single TD's by sophomores Bob Lusky and Bill Listman.

"The ball-handling was pretty good but the blocking was ragged," Fromhart said after the Titans' first big head-knocking session of the season.

Only three minor injuries came out of the long drill—Grady Alderman, junior tackle, had a sprained ankle; sophomore end Tom Moulton a knee injury and sophomore center Leonard Thomas a back injury.

Dando, senior right half, chalked up 70 yards in seven attempts, scoring on a run of 50 yards and grabbing a 25-yard pass from quarterback Lou Faoro. Collins scored on runs of five and six yards.

Bout Delayed 2nd Time

DETROIT (AP)—Promoter Larry Smith has announced a second postponement in the Mickey Crawford-Duke Harris welterweight fight.

The bout originally was set back to allow Crawford, a Saginaw boy, to meet Casper Ortega in a rematch. It was rescheduled for Smith said the bout now probably will be held late this month. Sept. 9.

Sets Sights on 1,000 Meter Mark

Elliott Runs 3:55.4 Mile

LONDON (AP) — How fast is Herb Elliott and how much is he worth at the gate?

The thin Australian, whose training methods defy all track rules, ran a mile in 3:55.4 last night and said afterwards he could better 3:50. It was the second fastest mile ever run. The only faster one was Elliott's 3:54.5 in Dublin Aug. 6.

Competing in the rain and fog and with television detracting from the gate, promoter Terry O'Connor said Elliott contributed at least 15,000 to the crowd of 45,000.

The 20-year old Aussie has been under four minutes 10 times since last January and ran the 1500 meters in a world record smashing 3:36 at Goteborg, Sweden, last week.

★ ★ ★

Now his sights are set on the 1,000-meter mark. He takes aim on that mark of 2:19 in Oslo Friday. The record is held jointly by Norway's Audun Boysen and Hungary's Istvan Rozsavolgyi.

"I used to think I could do 3:50 in the mile," Elliott said after last night's race. "Now maybe a bit faster. I feel I'm nowhere near my limit. Some race when I have the courage to run the first half in 1:55, then maybe I'll finish fast and come in under 3:50."

That'll probably not come for another six months. After running in Oslo, Elliott plans to visit Rome and return to his home in Perth around the middle of September.

"Then I shall not race again for six months," he said.

Elliott ran a typical Elliott race enroute to his 3:55.4 performance. He started fairly slow, stepped up the pace in the middle and finished with a terrific kick. He was timed in 2:00.4 for the last half and 55.6 seconds for the final quarter.

★ ★ ★

Second place finisher was England's Brian Hewson in 3:58.9. Zbigniew Orywal of Poland was third in 3:59.7. Derek Ibbotson of England, whose listed world record of 3:57.2 twice has been bettered by the Australian, finished fourth in four minutes flat.

The race was part of a London-Warsaw meet. Since Elliott is from neither city he fitted in as kind of a guest.

"When we got Elliott to agree to run," O'Connor said, "our telephones really got busy. From then on most of the calls were about Elliott and the mile."

One member of the promotional staff estimated Elliott added $22,400 to the gate receipts.

Injured Lineman Files $9,500 Suit

CHICAGO (AP)—Ed Stuart, lineman for the Chicago Cardinals pro football team, Wednesday filed a $9,500 breach of contract suit against the club.

The former University of Denver gridder seeks to have the Cards pay him his $6,000 salary and medical expenses for treatment of a knee injury, which, he says, he suffered during practice July 28 at the team's Lake Forest College training camp.

He joined the Cards last December. Stuart's suit contends he is unable to play this season because of the injury.

Army Rifle Team Wins Nevada Crown

CAMP PERRY, Ohio (AP) — A U. S. Army rifle team won the Nevada Trophy title Wednesday with a score of 782 of a possible 800.

A Marine Corps team finished in second place, one point behind at 781. A second Army team tied the score of the Marines, but could not match their V-ring count. Marines were put in second because of 53 hits in the inner circle to the Army's 40.

Faith Holds Up for Miss America Beauty Entrant

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)—"If ye have faith such as a mustard seed, nothing shall be impossible."

Mary Ann Mobley, entered as Miss Mississippi in the Miss America Pageant here, wore a bracelet with this inscription last night. Inside the bracelet was a mustard seed. Both had been given to her by her Sunday school teacher in Brandon, Miss.

★ ★ ★

Mary Ann's faith didn't let her down. The 21-year-old senior at the University of Mississippi sang and danced her way to the talent championship in the first round of the pageant's preliminary competition.

Miss California, Sandra Lee Jennings of Riverside, won the preliminary swim suit event.

★ ★ ★

The pretty 18-year-old California freshman is 5 feet 5, weighs 121 pounds and has brown hair and green eyes. She is to compete in the evening gown competition tonight.

Miss Mississippi ranged from an operatic solo through torch singing to jazz dancing in pleasing a crowd of 6,642.

★ ★ ★

Mary Ann wants to continue training in voice, theater and speech and hopes for a television and theater career.

Last night's was the first of three preliminary rounds of competition in the pageant. The new Miss America will be crowned Saturday night.

Gamblers Don't Favor Nude Vegas Showgirls

By JAMES BACON
AP Motion Picture Writer

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — The forces of decency, helped by the hard economics of the gambling fraternity, could eventually cover up Las Vegas' controversial nude showgirls.

As one big gambling operator put it tersely: "Gambling and undressed broads just don't mix. We've got a good thing here in legal gambling and we don't want to see it taken away."

Veteran Las Vegas hotel men, such as Ben Goffstein of the Riviera and Jack Entratter of the Sands, fought the bare-breasted invasion from its inception more than a year ago. Both reasoned that nudity could well turn the plush oasis into a honky tonk town.

And more important, that it could drive away the lucrative family vacation trade.

"We spent millions of dollars publicizing Las Vegas as a place where the whole family can have a happy vacation, see the finest entertainers in the world and gamble legally, only if they want to," said Goffstein.

★ ★ ★

Entratter says the married businessman who brings his family with him is still Las Vegas' best customer.

During the Labor Day weekend the Sands had 96 of its 300 rooms allotted to children.

"If the town goes for the striptease boom," says Entratter, "the wives will keep the kids home and their husbands too."

Las Vegas is a unique night club city, especially during summer. Children often make up as much as a fourth of the dinner show audiences.

★ ★ ★

They are barred, however, from the nude girlie shows.

The major hotels have good economic reason to believe that family-type entertainment pays off better than strip-teasers.

Red Skelton, a great favorite with kids, just broke the all-time house record at the Riviera. Then Goffstein shelled out $250,000 to bring the Broadway hit musical, "Li'l Abner," direct from New York for an eight-week stay. It's a clean show, so reflected in advance family reservations for the hotel.

Italy's Welcome for Sophia Loren Just a Bawl

VENICE, Italy (AP) — Shapely Sophia Loren came back to Italy to a roaring welcome last night that left her weeping in a borrowed handkerchief.

Her appearance at the Venice Film Festival was the star's first visit to Italy since her Mexican marriage a year ago to a divorced man was condemned by Roman Catholic Church leaders.

★ ★ ★

The sultry brunette showed up 20 minutes late and held up the showing of her American-made picture "Black Orchid." Many members of the audience remained outside the theater until she arrived, joining the crowd of almost 5,000 which shouted, "Welcome back, Sophia."

She reached her seat sniffling and asked a friend, "Please let me have your handkerchief. I am so happy I'm crying."

It was one of the biggest personal triumphs scored at the festival this year. But her new movie came off with less applause.

★ ★ ★

Critics have panned most of the pictures shown at this year's festival as mediocre to poor. Most critics said "Black Orchid" was not even the best of this lot.

Miss Loren was married by proxy in Juarez last Sept. 17 to Italian director Carlo Ponti, who had been divorced by proxy in Juarez just six weeks earlier. A Vatican attorney warned they were liable to excommunication.

Pop Fills In at Shower as Stork Arrives Early

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Mrs. Glen Curry decided to go ahead with the baby shower for Mrs. Charles Heinen even though the stork arrived a day before the time set for the party.

Standing in for the guest of honor was the father, who kept the women amused trying on the presents. "I had already ordered my cakes and ice cream and my friends told me I was silly not to go ahead with the shower," Mrs. Curry explained. The party was a complete success.

Named to State Post

LANSING (UPI) — J. O. Veatch, a former member of the soils science department at Michigan State University, has been named as a consultant for the State Highway Department. Veatch, with MSU for 30 years, will consult on preparation of a soils manual aimed at improving basic structure of new roads.

Shippers Fight Proposed Tolls

U.S. Agencies Unlikely to Resist Welland Canal Levies by Canada

WASHINGTON (AP) — Lake shippers fighting proposed tolls on the Welland Canal appeared unlikely to get much help from either the State Department or the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

Pleas by Michigan senators for help in a fight over Canadian proposals to establish tolls on the 25-year-old canal have thus far gone unheeded. Little change in that situation is expected.

Tolls for the canal, connecting link between Lakes Erie and Ontario, are part of the proposed toll schedules for the St. Lawrence Seaway.

★ ★ ★

Those schedules are now under study by the U.S. Seaway Corp. and the Canadian Seaway Authority following public hearings here and in Ottawa.

Sens. Charles E. Potter (R-Mich) and Pat McNamara (D-Mich) bitterly protested the proposal last month. Potter asked Secretary of State Dulles to object to Canada, and McNamara urged a study by the Foreign Relations Committee.

It was disclosed the State Department has told Potter it has no interest in the matter while the toll schedules are still being considered. It gave no indication what it will do after the tolls are made permanent, but intervention was considered unlikely.

The Foreign Relations Committee has not considered the McNamara request and has no plans to do so, a committee aide said.

★ ★ ★

This means the seaway agencies of the two nations will decide the Welland Canal question without pressure from either the State Department or the Senate. There have been indications tolls probably will be approved.

Lake shippers have contended that inter-lake traffic passing through the canal should not now have to pay tolls merely because through traffic is using the canal as part of the long seaway voyage.

Tolls have been proposed as a means of compensating Canada for expenses in deepening the canal to accommodate deep-draft seaway traffic. The Welland Canal is located wholly in Canada, and all tolls for its use would go to Canada.

★ ★ ★

Potter has called this plan a violation of international law and threatened the imposition of tolls on the U.S. Great Lakes connecting channels in retaliation. The connecting channels are being deepened for seaway use entirely at U.S. expense but will be toll free.

Congressional action probably would be required to impose tolls on the connecting channels and is considered highly unlikely.

Bottle Picking in Bad Slump, Notes Expert

MT. PLEASANT (AP) — In this day of plastic and cardboard packaging, the bottle-picking trade isn't what it used to be.

That's the opinion of Archie A. Ring, who ought to know.

Ring, 65, trudges at least six miles daily along Isabella County roads looking for discarded bottles. He picks up an average 100 a day, brings them back to town in a baby buggy-type contraption and sells them for two cents apiece.

★ ★ ★

Ring says he's made as much as $9 a day, but increasing competition and fewer bottles have cut into his income.

Monday's his best day.

"Some of the lover's lanes produce five to six cases of empty bottles on Monday mornings, but you have to get up early to beat the other pickers," he said.

The bottle-picking market won't concern Ring much longer. He'll be eligible for a pension soon and plans to retire.

American Motors to Build 2-Door Station Wagon

DETROIT (AP) — American Motors Corp. announced today it is going to make a two-door Rambler station wagon as a 1959 model.

Roy D. Chapin Jr., AMC automotive executive vice president, said the decision to make the station wagon is a result of the success of the Rambler sedan.

The station wagon, built on a 100-inch wheelbase, is to be brought out in October.

According to New Concept:

Adjustment Foremost in Education

(This is the second of three dispatches on problems facing U.S. schools as they reopen for the fall term. Yesterday's dispatch dealt with classroom and teacher shortages. Today's reports on the "snap course" controversy.)

By LOUIS CASSELS

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Thirty years ago, the number of American youths attending high school was only one-third of the total population in the 14-through-17 age group.

This fall, more than 85 per cent of the 14-17 age group will be enrolled in high school.

These figures tell the story of one of the greatest achievements of America's schools — their steady progress toward the goal of universal education. They also provide a clue to one of their biggest problems—the bitter controversy over the kind and quality of academic work that should be demanded of high school students.

A generation ago, high school curriculums and academic standards were tailored to the assumption that all students were preparing for college or for a skilled vocation.

★ ★ ★

Schools washed their hands of young people who were unable or unwilling to make a real intellectual effort, or who became serious disciplinary problems.

Today, high schools are required by compulsory education laws to keep, and to do their best to educate, the slow-learners, the unambitious and the delinquent.

★ ★ ★

In groping for a solution, professional educators have come up with an entirely new concept of the purpose of a high school education.

The new concept is called "life adjustment education." It stems from the teachings of the late John Dewey, the Columbia University professor who pioneered progressive education.

★ ★ ★

During the past decade, it has received the official blessing of the U.S. Office of Education and the support of the National Education Assn. It is now the controlling philosophy in a substantial majority of U.S. public high schools.

★ ★ ★

"Life adjustment education" repudiates the traditional view that education is primarily a process of imparting an organized body of knowledge and "training minds." It holds that the main function of schools is to help students "adjust" to the requirements of group living in a democratic society, and to equip them with "skills, knowledge and attitudes" which will be "useful" in everyday life.

The theory has led to radical changes. Thousands of high schools now grant credits toward graduation for courses on how to drive a car, bake a cake, hit a golf ball or behave on a date.

★ ★ ★

At the same time, many states have sharply reduced the number of specified academic courses students must pass to get a high school diploma. Under the prevailing "elective" system, a youth is free to decide for himself.

Industry Divided on NLRB Plan

Labor Unions Solidly Favoring Expansion of Jurisdiction Standards

WASHINGTON (AP) — Industry is divided and labor unions are solidly in favor of the National Labor Relations Board's plan to expand its jurisdictional standards to cover more labor dispute cases.

This is the result shown in industry-labor comments on proposed new NLRB jurisdictional standards. These are expected to increase the board's present caseload, already at record proportions, by about 20 per cent.

The board has authority to decide all cases affecting interstate commerce, but has voluntarily curbed cases it will consider by establishing standards of business volume.

Under a Supreme Court interpretation of the law, states are barred from taking over jurisdiction of cases the NLRB won't consider. This has created a no man's land for certain labor cases. In face of this, Congress recently provided the NLRB with an extra 1½-million-dollar appropriation to expand its facilities.

The board then announced broader jurisdictional standards and invited industry-labor comment before a Sept. 1 deadline.

By far the most comment came from franchised automobile dealers. Individually and by state groups, they generally opposed one of the NLRB's new standards that would reduce from a million dollars to $250,000 the amount of annual business such a firm must have to come under NLRB scope.

But there were exceptions. Some auto dealers, including the Washington and Utah state associations, said they favored this proposed rule change.

A large group of farm implement dealers solidly opposed coming under this broader rule. Some asked that rural business enterprises be exempted.

Construction industry comments were all in favor of the broader jurisdictional standards.

★ ★ ★

Being under NLRB jurisdiction cuts two ways: it enables unions to compel employer bargaining and enforce bargaining rights, but also permits employers as well as unions to bring unfair labor charges.

The AFL-CIO wrote the NLRB saying it preferred eliminating all jurisdictional limits so the NLRB would exercise fullest jurisdiction possible. Individual unions generally supported this stand.

There was no comment presented one way or the other about the NLRB's proposed reduction of the present $500,000 minimum for newspapers to $250,000.

POLE CAT — "Sammy," the firemen's pet, slides down the brass pole at the first "Bong" of the alarm bell at Fire Station 6, Long Beach, Calif. A homeless stray, the cat was adopted by the station crew a year ago and has developed into a top-notch "fire cat."

Legion Electing U.S. Chief Today

Chicago Parley Hears Mme. Chiang Kai-shek on Quemoy Defense

CHICAGO (AP)—The American Legion national convention moves into its concluding session today with another full round of speeches and resolutions. But the high-point of the day will be election of a national commander.

★ ★ ★

While the votes are yet to be cast, Preston Grover, 38, Stillwater, Okla., was considered a shoo-in for the post.

Speakers today include Mme. Chiang Kai-shek, wife of the Chinese Nationalist president, and Luis Munoz Marin, governor of Puerto Rico.

★ ★ ★

Mme. Chiang, in a news conference shortly after her arrival, here, said her country does not need at this time American fighting men or money to defend the island fortress of Quemoy.

"The Chinese Reds want to see how far they can go in regard to Quemoy. They will go as far as the free world will let them," she said:

"We can defend Quemoy by ourselves for the time being. . . . When the Reds see they can't go any further, they'll stop."

★ ★ ★

The Legion's 3,000 delegates polished off one of the thornier issues of their 40th annual convention when they rejected by a 6-1 majority a proposal that the Legion back a $100 monthly pension for all World War I veterans at the age of 60 regardless of health or need.

After long debate, the Legion approved its traditional stand for pensions based on need.

However, the successful resolution added these liberalizing amendments to the present pension stand: an increase in monthly disability pension rates, a provision veterans receive permanent and totally disabled pension payments at 65 regardless of health, and lifting of restrictive outside income limitations.

Private Report Weakens Grains

CHICAGO (AP) — Sellers took charge in early dealings today on the board of trade and prices of several grain futures slipped well below their previous closes.

★ ★ ★

The weakness generally was attributed to a private crop report by C. M. Galvin, statistician for Francis I. Du Pont & Co., in which he boosts substantially his estimates of major crop yields over a month ago. The Galvin estimates also are substantially higher than the August figures by the Department of Agriculture.

The biggest boost was in soybeans which Galvin now estimates will be more than 554 million bushels, compared with his August estimate of 527 million and the government estimate of about 536 million.

★ ★ ★

Near the end of the first hour, wheat was ¼ cent a bushel lower to ⅛ higher, September $1.86½; corn ⅜ to ¾ lower, September $1.25¾; oats ⅛ to ⅜ lower, September 61¼; rye unchanged to ⅜ lower, September $1.25; soybeans ⅞ to 1¼ lower, September $2.23⅞; lard 2 to 16 cents a hundred lbs lower, September $12.52.

Settle Chrysler Forge Strike

End Wildcat Walkout Which Idled 4,600 Production Workers

DETROIT (AP) — A nine-day strike by 600 United Auto Workers members at Chrysler Corp. Forge Plant here which had idled 4,600 workers was settled last night.

The strike was one of a series of wildcat walkouts which have continued to plague the auto makers at the start of the 1959 model run.

★ ★ ★

Chrysler said the 600 forge plant employes will return to work today and 4,000 workers at its four other affected plants here will be recalled as soon as materials from the forge plant become available.

The forge plant workers, members of UAW Local 47, walked off the job Aug. 27 in protest over washing time allotted two employes.

Strikes at other Chrysler plants in the Detroit area continue to idle about 2,700 workers.

At Kansas City, a strike affecting some 2,350 hourly rated workers halted production at General Motors Buick-Oldsmobile-Pontiac assembly plant. A union spokesman said the walkout stemmed from "unresolved and meritorious issues."

★ ★ ★

Meanwhile UAW President Walter Reuther says he intends to take his case in the deadlocked auto industry contract talks to special meetings of civic leaders next Tuesday.

Reuther said yesterday invitations have been sent mayors and community leaders in areas most sharply affected by the fortunes of the auto industry.

Vote 40 Cent Dividend

DETROIT (AP) — Directors of American Metal Products Co. yesterday voted a quarterly dividend of 40 cents per share on common stock. It is payable Sept. 30 to stockholders of record Sept. 19.

Two-Car Collision Downs Hot Wires

A Port Huron man was injured yesterday in a two-car collision in Avon Township which caused high voltage wires to fall to the ground.

Anton Dinger, 73, of Port Huron, passed a car driven by Rudolph W Dohrman, 54, of Detroit, on Auburn road, at York, at 2:40 p.m.

As he was passing, he crossed the center line, then saw another car coming towards him and pulled back in sharply, striking Dohrman's car.

Dinger's vehicle went out of control, hitting a utility pole and causing 40,000 volt lines to drop. They missed his car.

Dinger was taken to Pontiac General Hospital where he was admitted with fractured ribs. He is in satisfactory condition today.

An estimated 85 per cent of all the cattlemen in the U. S. are small operators, owning and grazing 200 or less head of cattle.

Market Crests, Turns Mixed

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market turned mixed early today after a brief spurt to the upside.

Key stocks showed gains or losses of fractions to about a point. The ticker tape was late for a period of four minutes; then trading quieted.

A few specialties made wider moves. Artloom, which had a big rise this week as short sellers were squeezed, backed away about 3 points in the wake of certain trading restrictions imposed by the Stock Exchange.

Korger, in an unusual spurt of activity for this stock, rose about 2 points.

Commonwealth Edison, a 3⅝ gainer yesterday on news of a new dividend policy, dropped 1 to 51½ on an opener of 2,500 shares, later halving this loss.

Small gains were made by Babbitt, American Telephone, Liggett & Myers, American Tobacco, Texas Co. and Air Reduction. Among losers were Chrysler, American Smelting and Philco.

Ghana to Get U.S. Aid

WASHINGTON — Agreement has been reached with the year-old African nation, Ghana, for the establishment of a United States technical co-operation mission there. The first projects will help expand the country's cattle industry, establish a veterinarians' school and farmers' training institutes, and develop an agricultural extension service.

NOTICE OF BOND ORDINANCE TO provide for $3,300,000 Bonds for the City's Sewage Disposal System.

An Ordinance to provide for the borrowing by the City of Pontiac, Michigan, of the sum of $3,300,000 and for the issuance of the full faith and credit bonds of said City therefor, to defray the cost of improving, enlarging and extending the City's Sewage Disposal System.

The City of Pontiac Ordains:

Section 1. The City Commission of the City of Pontiac, Michigan is hereby authorized to borrow the sum of Three Million Three Hundred Thousand Dollars ($3,300,000) for the purpose of defraying the cost of improving, enlarging and extending the city's sewage disposal system, and to issue therefor the full faith and credit bonds of the city in the aggregate principal sum of Three Million Three Hundred Thousand Dollars ($3,300,000), said bonds to be in the denomination of $1,000 each, to mature in the principal amount of $110,000 on the first day of April in each of the years 1960 thru 1989, to bear interest at a rate to be determined after competitive bidding for the purchase of said bonds but not to exceed 6% per annum, payable semi-annually, except that the first installment of interest may be for a period of less than six (6) months. The said bonds shall be paid from taxes to be levied therefor in each year beginning with the year 1959.

Section 2. The City Commission shall have power to adopt such resolutions and ordinances as may be necessary to carry out the purposes of this ordinance. The bonds herein authorized may be issued in one or more series at the same or at different times.

Section 3. This ordinance shall be submitted to the electors of the city qualified to vote thereon at a special municipal election to be held on the 4th day of November, 1958, and if three-fifths of the votes cast at said election upon the question of the adoption of this ordinance and the issuance of said bonds shall be in favor thereof, then this ordinance shall be considered as adopted and shall take effect immediately upon its publication subsequent thereto.

By order of the Pontiac City Commission, under date of September 2, 1958.

Dated this 3rd day of September 1958.

ADA R. EVANS,
City Clerk
Sept. 4, '58.

BUSY BUILDING — The new Kroger food distribution center at Schoolcraft and Middlebelt roads in Livonia contains 15 acres of automated and electronically-controlled food handling devices under one roof — largest facility of its kind in the world. Kroger expects by 1963 to have added 200,000 families to the 750,000 the company's 100 Detroit division supermarkets now supply. More than 13 million tons of grocery store products will flow through the structure each week.

Favors Tenure to Tenor Spot

Starring Role as Actor Led to Singer Gaining Slot on 'Hit Parade'

By DICK KLEINER

NEW YORK (NEA) — Johnny Desmond thinks he's blazing a trail which others will follow.

"Becoming an actor," he says, "was a matter of survival for me. Four years ago, I realized that just depending on hit records for a living is no good. The public is too fickle.

DESMOND

"Besides, that work kept me away from home too much. Even last year, I was away for nine months out of the year. That's too much.

"I think you'll see other singers — guys like Tony Bennett and Frankie Laine — following me into acting. Once you get over the hump, it's much more secure."

And Johnny is over the hump. His starring role in "Say, Darling" was what made the producers of the new "Your Hit Parade" sign him to costar with Dorothy Collins in the coming TV show.

It wasn't his fame as a recording star, but the fact that they saw him on the stage that did it.

Johnny never had an acting lesson in his life, but he isn't a Johnny-Desmond-come-lately on the stage. As a kid in Detroit, he was a boy soprano and part of a group that did a minstrel show on radio every week. Then his voice changed, and it was two years before it settled down into its current rich baritone niche.

"I'd always wanted to be a tenor," says Johnny. "I'd wanted to sing like James Melton. When I became a baritone, I thought the world had come to an end."

During those two nonsinging years, he stayed with the minstrel group, saying funny lines and generally doing chores which wouldn't tax his jumpy vocal chords. It was during this period he got the acting bug.

Today, Johnny admits to being completely happy — "living a dream come true." He loves acting on Broadway, makes enough records to keep himself happy, has the TV show coming up. And, as for not being a tenor, that doesn't bother him any more. "Tenors," he says, "don't work steady."

Ike Finally Gets His Fish —a 20-Inch Bluefish

NEWPORT, R.I. (AP) — Vacationing President Eisenhower finally has caught a fish — after hours of trying.

He hauled in a bluefish measuring about 20 inches as he was close to the end of a full day of deep sea trolling yesterday.

It helped to make up for luckless four hours of fishing in Narragansett Bay Monday, plus a lot of frustrated effort on this latest trip into Block Island Sound, about 25 miles south of the Newport summer White House.

Eisenhower traveled to and from the Block Island area by helicopter. He fished aboard a 62-foot Navy boat specially rigged for deep sea trolling. He was away 10 hours.

Eddie Fisher Becomes Liz's 'Official' Escort

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — Elizabeth Taylor and Eddie Fisher were dancing it up the other morning, Eddie having been Mike Todd's close friend and now sort of an escort service for Liz. They saw "Two for the Seesaw" the night before. Liz and her ex-husband Nicky Hilton had been on the same floor at the Plaza, but don't be drawing any confusions from that, because Nicky's around with socialite Cary Latimer. When Liz flies to Europe, she'll not be with a guy—but with a gal, Medora Tsuji, treasurer of the Todd Corp., and inspiration for the song, "If You Knew Tsuji Like I Know Tsuji."

Thirty-year-old Alan Gershwin, who is convinced he is the son of the late George Gershwin, lives across the street from me on West End Av. Sitting in my living room, he said he is determined to explode a bombshell or two "to establish my rightful identification." He contemplates writing a book and also appearing on the Jack Paar TV show. (Jack has already interviewed him privately.) Young Gershwin, who was born near Los Angeles, is now in sales promotion. He has written many songs and says he recalls George Gershwin helping him — when he was about 7 — write one titled "Something That I Can't Explain."

LIZ TAYLOR

The Liberace, Judy Garland and Eddie Fisher fans are pelting me with votes for their pets in "The All-America Entertainment Team"—but Jack Pearlman, writing from Miami, says:

★ ★ ★

"No one ever mentions the best girl singer in the country—Connie Boswell. They roll her out in a chair—she doesn't sell sex — she's a cripple—she sells talent. Every dame singer around tries to do her stuff. She kills 'em in Miami, Chicago and New Orleans. Give this great performer a listing!"

★ ★ ★

Max Asnas, who didn't enjoy Europe, says, "Next time I want to see foreigners, I'll go to the Catskills" . . . Vivian Blaine's about to get into a big legal battle with her ex-husband and mgr., Manny Frank, who claims she owes him $82,500 . . . One quirk of socialite Horace Dodge is that after a big dinner at a costly restaurant, he leaves a 25c tip, or, if he got real good service 50c . . . Fernando Lamas is entering the Sebring, Fla., auto races. Arlene Dahl isn't too worried; a friend explains, "After Fernando's feud with Ethel Merman, she probably figures nothing can hurt him."

EARL'S PEARLS: People will buy anything that's one to a customer.—Sinclair Lewis.

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: Apparently, the ideal quiz contestant is someone who'll speak right up during the show — and keep his mouth shut afterward. That's earl, brother.
