2nd Bulganin Note Fails to Melt U.S. Opposition

Motorists in Southwest Stalled by Heavy Snow

SOMETHING NEW IN ALBUQUERQUE—Hundreds of New Mexico motorists, accustomed to high, dry weather, got an unexpected workout Thursday when the worst storm of the winter hit the state. Reuben Buss digs his car out of drift in northeast Albuquerque, where 34 persons were marooned in a school overnight by the drifts. About 100 cars were temporarily abandoned in Albuquerque streets during the storm.

Century's Worst Cold Hits Europe

LONDON (AP)—Western Europe's worst cold wave of the 20th Century pushed its toll to nearly 100 lives today and property damage ran into the millions of dollars. Government forecasters said little relief could be expected for the next few days.

Sub-zero gales blasted the coasts and endangered at least two ships.

South Greece, just out of the cold belt, was staggered by a disastrous rainstorm. Floods swept away roads and bridges. Hundreds of families spent the night on rooftops or clinging to trees.

France was worst hit with 30 known dead. Britain had 17, Turkey 10, West and East Germany 9, Italy 9, the Netherlands 4, and Switzerland 1.

Four more, including a woman and a 2-year-old child, were believed dead aboard a tiny fishing boat trapped by ice off the Dutch coast.

ICY RIVIERA

Even the French Riviera, normally a balmy winter spot, reported sub-freezing temperatures. The frost killed an estimated million and a half dollars worth of spring flowers.

The frigid blasts from Siberia had sheeted most rivers of the Continent with ice, halting boats carrying badly needed fuel and food. The cold ruptured water and gas mains, and electric power stations broke down under abnormal demands for heat in homes and factories.

The crew of the Swedish ship Roasling took to boats in the stormswept Mediterranean near Crete after radioing the ship was going down.

Helicopters, braving fierce gales which kept rescue ships away, plucked 41 men from the 9,862-ton Norwegian tanker Doverfjell, aground on a reef off the Scottish coast.

Across the Mediterranean, Bone, Algeria, reported its first snowfall in 10 years.

Wind gusts of more than 95 miles per hour added to the misery of the shivering population in Trieste.

The Budapest radio reported the Danube River frozen over its entire reaches and said all rail traffic in Hungary was halted by deep snow.

Torrential rains and heavy snow hit Turkey. Near Izmir an irrigation dam collapsed on a crew of construction workers, leaving three known dead and several missing. A coastal vessel with a crew of seven was presumed lost in the stormy Marmara Sea off Turkey.

The temperature in Britan sank to 5 degrees above zero yesterday, the coldest day of the century. Storms kept fishing vessels in their ports.

Frigid Weather Clutches Most of U. S. and Kills 12

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Wintry weather held a tight grip on most of the country today from the Midwest and plains states westward to the Pacific Coast.

The blast of icy air dipped southward across Texas into western Mexico. It was below freezing this morning in most of Texas, with the cold weather areas in the Rio Grande Valley.

More snow fell in western Texas and freezing rain pelted central sections. Many schools were closed.

Six deaths were attributed to the stormy weather in Texas. At least six other persons died in causes attributed to the weather, two each in New Mexico, New York and Michigan.

New Mexico, hit by the season's heaviest snowstorm, got more snow during the night and morning, with an additional inch in the southern section. The white blanket measured 11 inches at Carlsbad and 14 inches at Zuni.

Arkansas also was hit hard by snow, sleet, rain and cold. Many rivers were near flood stage.

As the cold air moved southward into the lower Mississippi Valley it brought rain and thunderstorms in many places. More than 1½ inches fell in parts of Louisiana while Tennessee reported locally heavy downpours. The rain belt extended northeastward into Virginia, but falls were generally light.

New York state also got more snow but not as heavy as yesterday's 4-inch fall at Syracuse, which reported 12 inches on the ground.

3 Billion Asked for Post Office

House Group Favoring New Funds; Demands Action on Deficit

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House Appropriations Committee today recommended $2,973,900,000 in new funds for the Post Office Department. At the same time, it demanded that something be done to curb the growing postal deficit.

The new money allotted subject to approval by the House next week and later by the Senate is for use during the fiscal year starting July 1. It is $26,100,000 less than President Eisenhower requested.

It was included in a $3,618,699,000 appropriation bill to finance also the Treasury Department and the Tax Court. The over-all total was $31,173,000 below presidential requests but $252,179,500 more than the three agencies were given for the present year.

Most of the increase over current-year allotments was for higher salaries voted for federal employes last year by Congress.

The bill was the first of the big annual money measures to emerge from the committee this year.

Keating Stands Mute Before Federal Judge

Former local Teamsters Union official Daniel J. Keating stood mute upon his arraignment in Detroit Federal Court yesterday on charges of income tax evasion.

Keating, 53, was released under $10,000 personal bond by U.S. District Judge Frank A. Picard. No trial date was set.

Former business agent and president of Pontiac Local 614, AFL Teamsters, Keating is accused of concealing approximately $29,000 in income received as payoffs from local contractors for favorable union contracts.

Where Was Grandpa?

UPTON, England (AP)—Alan Cann, 16, went up to the attic last night to thaw out some frozen water pipes and found the body of his grandfather, 75-year-old William Cann, missing since last September.

Pledge to Back Park Lot Drive

Chamber of Commerce, Jaycees, Lend Support to Municipal Effort

The Chamber of Commerce and the Junior Chamber of Commerce today gave notice of their support of a campaign to provide increased municipal parking within the city.

Dr. George N. Petroff, president of the Chamber, and James R. Wilkinson, secretary of the Junior Chamber, signed resolutions circulated by a "Committee For 5 Cent Parking" made up of interested citizens seeking additional municipal lots.

The resolution reads: "Whereas, there is a serious shortage of space for short-time parking in downtown Pontiac, thus increasing traffic congestion and otherwise inconveniencing the public, the City Commission unanimously passed an ordinance to create 624 new 5-cent parking spaces to be paid for entirely out of meter revenue."

"Therefore, we the undersigned, hereby officially support the action of the City Commission and urge all Pontiac citizens to vote for this much-needed parking Monday, March 5."

The Chamber of Commerce is an organization established to promote the civic progress of Pontiac. Among its many civic projects are a traffic safety committee, supporting Fire Prevention Week and sponsoring a Business, Industry and Education Day in Pontiac.

The Junior Chamber, another civic-minded organization, annually sponsors a strong get-out-and-vote campaign, an April builders show and a paint-up and clean-up crusade.

Eden Tells U.S. Not to Be Afraid of Reds in Talks

British Chief Stresses Unity; Encouraged by Conference With Ike

WASHINGTON (AP)—British Prime Minister Eden winds up his five-day Washington visit today with this advice to the American people: Never be afraid to meet and argue with the Russians.

Eden made this suggestion in a 15-minute radio-television report to the nation last night on his three day conference with President Eisenhower.

He emphasized Anglo-American unity, just as he had in his midday talks to the Senate and House.

Calling his conversations with Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles "the most encouraging conference I have ever attended," he said the real accomplishment was hard to describe. He termed it "a spirit of unity" and said holding to it "can mean peace for the world forever."

"I know of nothing like it in the world today," he said. Then he said he wanted to talk to those Americans who might object to any more talks with the Russians:

MUST HAVE CONFIDENCE

"If you have confidence in yourself, if you believe in your own convictions, if you trust to your own faith, you needn't be afraid, you shouldn't be afraid, to meet and to argue with others."

He said the United States and Britain should continue their no-strings-attached program of economic aid to less developed nations.

"Self-government and economic stability are the strongest antidotes to communism," he declared.

In referring to his talks with Eisenhower, Eden made no specific mention of differences which developed over such Far East questions as the West's trade embargo on Red China. Britain sought a relaxation but won only a U. S. agreement to review the situation.

But Eden did acknowledge that some differences exist. He pleaded that these should not be ballooned out of proportion into big headlines because, he said, essential Anglo-American unity is genuine and "so much more important."

He flies to Ottawa, Canada, this afternoon.

Bandits Hold Up Township Store

Armed Pair, Companion Get $1,000 in Cash in Night Raid

Two armed men and a companion forced Cranbrook Drug Store manager James Sheridan to hand over $1,000 to them last night, as two clerks and two customers in the Bloomfield Township store looked on.

A ruse of asking help for "something wrong with my face" was used by one man, holding a handkerchief over his face, Sheridan said. He suddenly kicked open the swing door through the counter and drew his gun, announcing the holdup.

Sheridan surrendered rolled change and bills to the armed pair, as the third man watched the door.

Bloomfield Township police are investigating today, with descriptions of the three men, whom witnesses said were all about 30 years old, being distributed to adjacent law enforcement agencies.

No Early Arrests in Pontiac

Police Tighten Vigilance, 55-65 Limits Become Law

Michigan's new spee dlimit law, which went into effect at midnight, has yet to produce an arrest in the Pontiac area.

Local police and sheriff's deputies have issued no tickets for violations of the 55-mile-an-hour nighttime limit and the 65-mile-an-hour daylight maximum.

But Oakland County Sheriff Frank Irons today repeated that his deputies have been instructed to watch for violators of the new law.

Sheriff Irons also emphasized the new limits do not replace posted limits before the law went into effect.

"The new law is effective only where there were no posted limits before," Sheriff Irons said. "It is not an excuse to drive at 55 where the speed signs say 45."

One of the first tickets to be issued under the new law went to Russell B. Fulks Jr., 25, of Redford Township, stopped by State Police at 2 a.m. for traveling 75 miles per hour on Grand River near Farmington.

SAILING TO TRIPLE VICTORY — Austria's Toni Sailer displays his ski wizardry as he takes to the air during his winning of the men's Olympic downhill ski race at Cortina d'Ampezzo, Italy, today. The handsome 21-year-old plumber became the "miracle man of the skis" as he rang up an unprecedented Alpine grand slam in the Winter Olympics having previously won the giant and special slalom races. Boy's Deception About Age Nearly Brings Conviction

A Pontiac youth, whose insistence that he was 17 years old nearly caused his sentencing as an adult criminal, was turned over to Juvenile Court yesterday after his mother proved his age to be 15.

The teenager pleaded guilty to car theft Monday in Oakland County Circuit Court. The boy produced a birth certificate showing him to be 17.

Yesterday his mother brought another birth certificate to Prosecutor Frederick C. Ziem indicating his age as 15. He had been using his older brother's name and birth certificate, she explained. The brother died in 1938.

Investigation proved her correct, said Ziem. He had been impersonating his brother, the youth said, so he could get a job or possibly join the Army.

Austrian Pair Figure Titlists

European Champs Get Edge Over Canadians; Americans Third

CORTINA D'AMPEZZO, Italy (AP)—Elizabeth (Sissy) Schwartz, 19, and Kurt Oppelt—on the basis of unofficial scoring—appeared today to have won the Olympic pairs figure skating title for Austria.

The Austrian pair seemed to have edged out the Canadian team of Frances Dafoe, 26, and Norris Bowden, 29. The Canadians had been world champions for the last two years, the Schwarz-Oppelt team was in second place at the last world competition.

The Austrians recently won the European championships.

Six of the nine judges favored the Austrian pair, while three put the Canadian team in first place—again, according to unofficial scoring.

Carole Ann Ormaca, 19, and Robin Greiner, 23, of Fresno, Calif., rated the best among United States figure skaters, was awarded an excellent score from the judges, despite a fall by Carole on an axel maneuver.

Soviet Premier Renews Appeal for Peace Pact

New Message Termed Rehash of One Already Rejected by Ike

From Our Wire Services

WASHINGTON — A new appeal from Premier Bulganin failed today to melt U. S. opposition to a Soviet-American "friendship treaty" which this government holds to be needless and perhaps risky.

In a 2,800-word message made public by the State Department late last night, Bulganin urged President Eisenhower to reconsider the 20-year pact proposed by the Russian Premier last week and promptly turned down by Eisenhower.

U. S. officials said Bulganin's new message was mainly a rehash of previous arguments for the treaty and that he had not advanced persuasive new ideas.

Eisenhower, in a letter Saturday, had told Bulganin a treaty between Russia and the United States, merely reiterating peaceful behavior pledges already in the United Nations Charter, "might indeed work against the cause of peace."

The Bulganin statement was assured of careful and detailed study.

Authorities said there always is a chance that Soviet moves of this kind may be truly aimed at bringing about better relations.

No such design was detected, however, in initial studies of the message.

AT GETTYSBURG

President Eisenhower is studying this newest note at his Gettysburg, Pa., farm home over the weekend.

The Kremlin leader, answering Eisenhower's earlier criticism of the proposed bilateral treaty, said the Soviet Union is also willing to sign similar pacts with Britain, France and other nations.

In London, Britain was expected today to reject an offer from Bulganin to conclude a friendship treaty.

Here are the highlights of Bulganin's latest letter to President Eisenhower:

"We may hold different positions, we may defend different views, but if we also have goodwill and a desire to understand each other, then such discussions contribute to the strengthening of trust and the promotion of friendly relations."

"As far as I am able to judge, certain doubts arise in your mind because of the fact that we propose to your excellency the conclusion

Airport Site OK Goes to Detroit

Macomb Jurors Defeat Warren Move to Block Acquisition of Land

MOUNT CLEMENS (AP) — The city of Detroit had won what a spokesman called "a great victory" today in its battle to acquire an airport site in Warren Township.

A Macomb Circuit Court jury of eight men and four women returned a verdict yesterday against the township's first move to block the airport.

The township had sought to condemn for a public park 74 acres acquired by Detroit at Dequindre and Fourteen Mile Road. This admittedly was a township move to thwart the proposed airport.

Bert R. Sogge, assistant Detroit corporation counsel, described the verdict as "a great victory," although he conceded others might be necessary before a northeast airport is started.

Edward J. Gallagher, representing Warren Township, said an appeal to the State Supreme Court would depend on action of the Township Board.

To build the airport, Mayor Albert E. Cobo has envisioned will cost more than 20 million dollars and two square miles of land yet are to be acquired.

The city currently has a $3,000,000 fund to start land acquisition.

Equipment, Workers, Public All Jammed In

Postmaster Says Office 'Almost Bursting at Seams'

(Editor's Note: This is the third in a Press series pointing up the need for a larger post office in Pontiac to handle the constantly increasing volume of mail.)

Pontiac's main post office "is so crowded it's almost bursting its seams," says Acting Postmaster Leslie H. Dean.

Vehicles and mailing-handling equipment, not to mention employes and the public, are forced to operate and carry on business in extremely cramped quarters, he explained.

"The main floor, where first-class mail is processed, is completely inadequate. We have no place to set cases except on top of each other. And the one you want is always on the bottom."

Emergency measures must be taken this year to provide at least 4,000 square feet of extra space "or we won't be able to get through the 1956 Christmas rush. But even if this is done, it won't solve the long-range problem."

24-HOUR BASIS

The building, in the block bounded by Mt. Clemens, Mill, Huron and Perry, contains 40,000 square feet. It is run by 220 employes on a 24-hour-per-day basis.

Until recently, nine windows were open for public business on the main floor.

But, in order to make room for equipment to handle increasing mail volume, Dean was forced to close three windows, leaving six.

CITES INCONVENIENCE

The new equipment had to be installed where the stamp windows had been next to the letter-drop boxes. "Now people have to buy stamps on one side of the building then walk around to the other corner to mail letters," said Dean.

"We are forced to get by with fewer windows despite the fact more and more people are using them. Lines are longer and more of the public's time is consumed.

"We keep taking emergency steps, which allow us to carry the load although creating more inconvenience, but there's a limit to how far things can go."

SERVICES EVICTED

Army and Navy recruiting stations, which had quarters on the building's second floor, have been required to move out.

Only three small rooms are available for office space. One contains two staff members and another, three. "If a citizen comes in for a private talk, other workers in an office must temporarily suspend operations," said Dean.

The building has no public lounge. The accounting department is located in the work room. "It should be located in separate offices," Dean stated, "where work could be done in a quiet atmosphere without dust or dirt."

Reach Accord on Water Plan

Solon Reports 'Meeting of Minds' on Proposed State Aid Bill

Agreement was apparently reached yesterday in Lansing between the Republican sponsor of legislation to help solve local water problems and Democratic leaders who had advanced a proposal which threatened the bill's passage.

State Sen. William S. Broomfield (R-Royal Oak) said he reached "a meeting of minds" with Democratic Atty. Gen. Thomas M. Kavanagh.

Broomfield's bill would set up a $200,000,000 revolving fund from which local units could borrow water-financing money.

The Oakland lawmaker would have the Water Resources Commission expanded to administer the program. A committee, headed by Kavanagh, advocated setting up a separate commission.

Many legislators are against forming new commissions at extra expense, Broomfield explained, "and such a proposal could have placed the entire measure in jeopardy."

Kavanagh agreed, Broomfield said, to go along with expanding the Water Resources Commission. The bill is seen by local officials as helping Pontiac get a long-range water program under way much sooner than otherwise possible.

Impersonation Brings Arrest

Arraign Drayton Man Charged With Posing as Police Officer

A 30-year-old Drayton Plains man, who was arrested yesterday on charges of impersonating a police officer, today waived examination before Waterford Township Justice Willis D. LeFurgy.

Orville R. Berg, of 2420 Georgeland, was told to appear for circuit court arraignment Feb. 13. Bond was set at $500.

Berg was arrested by State Police Det. Charles M. Leaf and Trooper Henry Delooff.

In a statement to Ziem, the accused admitted stopping four cars last Sunday and Monday nights in an attempt to "make dates" with their women drivers.

He stopped the cars by flashing his spotlight, Berg told Ziem, and then asked the women if they knew they were speeding.

Berg is specifically charged with an alleged offense Monday night. A 20-year-old Pontiac woman claims he stopped her car on Sashabaw Road near Walton Boulevard.

He got into the car, she alleges, put his arm around her waist and hand over her mouth. She bit him and he jumped out, she said.

The accused told Ziem he had been drinking in each instance, and can't remember exactly what happened. He denied putting his hands on the woman. He was traced through descriptions of his auto.

Berg will be arraigned today in Waterford Justice Court. Conviction could bring a year in jail or a $500 fine.

of a (friendship) treaty 'on a bilateral basis,' whereas the U. N. Charter is a 'treaty between many states.'

"But you will agree that the conclusion of a treaty of friendship and cooperation between the two strongest powers in the world would contribute enormously to a healthier international situation.

"On the other hand, we are willing to conclude similar treaties with other states as well, including the United Kingdom and France.

"Lastly, the proposal to conclude a treaty between the two groups of states—those parties to NATO and those parties to the Warsaw treaty—is still open."

"For its part, the Soviet government has already taken a series of steps designed to relax international tension and strengthen confidence among states.

". . . To be frank . . . it must be said that not only have certain great powers failed to take similar action, but on the contrary much is being done to increase international tension."

"It seems to us that in the present international situation and, moreover, under conditions of a completely unrestricted armaments race, the carrying out of such flights (Eisenhower's aerial inspection plan) would not only fail to free the peoples from the fear of a new war, but on the contrary would intensify that fear and mutual suspicion."

". . . I am convinced that the normalization of Soviet-American relations and, in particular, such a step as the conclusion of a treaty of friendship and cooperation between the U. S. S. R. and the U.S.A. would be of great positive significance also in establishing the necessary prerequisites for the solution of the German problem."

"With regard to your remark concerning the right of the nations to choose the form of government under which they wish to live, it is necessary to say that the Soviet Union has always maintained, and maintains at the present time, the principle that the internal system in any state is the domestic concern of its own people. We expect that other powers will also be guided by it . . ."

"I believe that by joint effort we shall succeed in liquidating the so-called Iron Curtain and in creating conditions for a wide development of personal contacts between the citizens of our countries."

Pontiac, Fisher Plan Slight Work Cutback

Pontiac Motor Division will lay off about 600 employes over the coming weekend, a division spokesman told The Pontiac Press.

The reduction in working force is less than 4 per cent of the current employment and is the result of adjustment in schedules in line with current requirements of dealers, the spokesman said.

No further reduction in the working force is contemplated in the foreseeable future, it was added.

The current employment of the division has been between 12,500 and 13,000.

Similar layoffs, affecting approximately 400 employes, have been announced by the Fisher Body Division. Firm officials report that the layoffs, to be effective Monday, will be "fairly well distributed" throughout the plant's departments.

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Truck driver Clarence Payne paid a $5 traffic fine and then told municipal Judge Charles Peery he was going to Australia and become a farmer. Sighed the judge: "There are certain times, particularly during the 5 o'clock rush hour, when I wish I was in Australia too."

Planning Group Gives 6 Road Proposals

Would Help End Highway Mess

Push Widening Jobs, Prepare Detailed Plans Are Suggestions

Editor's Note: This is the last in a series on the highway situation condensed from the booklet, "Wagon Roads to Expressways," to be published by the Oakland County Plan Commission.

Six proposals are advanced by the planning commission which it feels would help solve the highway muddle, if followed.

They include:

1. Continuation of present highway-agency programs of widening, resurfacing, reconstruction and maintaining the present highway system. This would save valuable existing road mileage.

(The Oakland County Road Commission has partially completed a long-range plan to resurface and widen 110 miles of country roads. The program reduces annual maintenance costs.)

2. Preparation of detailed plans for the Pontiac-Detroit area must continue. This could be done through a regional highway-planning agency.

3. A regional group is being formed. Active cooperation of present agencies is needed to make this "Inter-County Highway Commission" function properly.

4. A $25,000,000 fund to purchase right-of-way in advance of need is proposed.

(Right-of-way costs have been about 20 per cent of total road-building costs. The Legislature, by setting up a revolving fund, would allow land needed in the future to be bought now at lower costs.)

5. In many cities and villages study should be given to providing off-street parking facilities and greater effort in the traffic engineering field.

(More space for traffic flow is automatically provided by banning on-street parking. Good traffic engineering can plan traffic patterns which allow the least possible congestion.)

6. A study of federal-aid distribution is urged. The state now is returned only 11 per cent of federal highway-user taxes paid in Michigan. The study would outline an increased and revised distribution to states.

MEETING THE DEADLINE — Answering City Clerk Ada R. Evans' (right) plea to get out and register for the March 5 primary and the April 2 general election, are Percy G. Monday Deadline Nearing for Registration of Voters

Pontiac voters have been urged to get out and register today and Monday for the coming March 5 primary and April 2 general city election.

For those who have not voted during the past four years, Monday is the deadline for residents who want to cast ballots in the two elections.

City Clerk Ada R. Evans yesterday made a strong plea to voters to get out and register. "I cannot stress enough how very, very slow registrations have been going," she said.

"I urge people to register now before it is too late, and also for those who have moved since the last election, to come in and change their voting residence."

To aid day workers in registering, the city clerk's office in the City Hall will be open tonight until 8 and Monday until the same time. The office opens at 8 a.m.

Other places to register within the city are: General Motors Truck and Coach Division Local 594; Pontiac Motor Division Local 653; Fisher Body Division Local 596, and at the Oakland County CIO Council at 21½ E. Lawrence St.

For those registering at the City Hall, free parking is available behind the hall.

Police Quiz Two About Robberies

Suspect Pair of Being 'Mutt and Jeff' Bandits Sought in Detroit

Detroit's "Mutt and Jeff" armed robbery team may have been picked up here yesterday.

The two men, who answer descriptions of the stick-up artists, were in a car stopped by a Pontiac traffic officer for speeding.

Both Detroiters, they were turned over to Detroit Police, who will question them today. Det. Robert Marlow of the hold-up squad said they may be identified in a police line-up this afternoon.

If the pair is arrested, it will clear up a series of robberies which has haunted Detroit police several weeks, he said.

Pontiac Policeman Jerry Smith said he became suspicious when the driver was found to have three operator's licenses and a beginner's permit.

He was charged and held for showing a wrong license.

His passenger was held after a query to Detroit established he is wanted there on warrants for traffic violations.

Wild Golf Cart

REDWOOD CITY, Calif. (INS)—Talk about bucking broncos—William Urbanski has filed suit against the Green Hills Golf and Country Club because he was thrown and run over by an electric golf cart. Urbanski, a police officer at Millbrae where the club is located, asked $10,000 for personal damage.

The Day in Birmingham

Ceremony to Open Rink at Eton Park Saturday

BIRMINGHAM — Though snow and slush have certainly not helped workmen toward completion of the Eton Park Ice Skating Rink, and though the manager of the park is leaving just before it opens Saturday, officials expect the opening ceremony to proceed as planned.

In charge of the rink will be Dale Rolph, taking the place of Robert Fauteck, who resigned this week to take another job. Rolph, 22, worked with Fauteck at Springdale Park, and now with this job has a year around job in city recreation spots.

Rolph and one other worker coaxed the ice along last night, with the result that though they lost a night's sleep over the project, literally, the flooding and scraping finally are coming close to a clean sweep of ice for skaters tomorrow.

The program is set for 2 p.m. with the mayor and several other city officials speaking, according to plans of William Spence, a member of both recreation and education boards.

A tribute to Rollie Reese, postmaster and rec board member who instigated the Eton Park idea a year ago, will probably be given, Spence says. Listed on his agenda are brief talks by Mayor Charles Renfrew, Mrs. William Jackson, recreation board chairman, and Ernest Seaholm, chairman of the board of education.

Sally Wells, a proficient figure skater who belongs to the Detroit Skating Club and is a junior at Birmingham High School, will skate to records on the public address system. There might be a clown-on-skates act from the Detroit Skating Club, according to Spence.

City Engineer Richard Gare was dismayed as he looked at Monday morning's snow. It all had to be shoveled carefully from the yet-unflooded rink, where intricate webs of black plastic hose had been laid for the refrigeration system.

After flooding was done on Tuesday, another snow hit before the freeze-up. Such problems will not occur in an ordinary year, for the ice will be created artificially long before snow comes.

Staff problems are nothing to the problem of getting ice ready for the kids, according to William Spence, who brushed aside worries about the recreation director and the rink manager both quitting during the past two weeks.

The program tomorrow afternoon at the park will be bringing many youngsters, and adult skaters as well, to the corner of Eton and Lincoln, and activities will continue there with strong ice even through the spring thaw season.

* * *

The Rev. Tage Adolfsson of Portuguese East Africa is guest this weekend of the First Methodist Church, sent here by the Swedish Methodist Church to tell of the hospital-school center at Gikuki to which the Birmingham church sent a medical missionary.

* * *

Supper and square dancing are set for 6:45 p.m. tonight at the Congregational Church, with the Robert Gerity's in charge.

Sidney Harris will talk next Wednesday to the American Association of University Women, rather than this week as this column stated earlier. Luncheon will be at 12:45 at the Community House.

Seeks OK to Build A-Plant in Michigan

BIG RAPIDS (AP) — The Wolverine Electric Cooperative said it has asked the Atomic Energy Commission in Washington for permission to build a small atomic reactor electric generating plant at nearby Hersey. Hersey is 15 miles northeast of Big Rapids in Osceola County.

John Keen, Wolverine manager, said the proposed reactor is of the type the Atomic Energy Commission and the government is interested in as a demonstrator to further progress in atomic electrical energy.

However, Keen declined to give further information, saying there had been some speculation of the proposal that was inaccurate. He said a full statement would be released giving accurate details in Washington next Tuesday.

NO STRAIN, NO PAIN — William C. Jacquin, of 2149 Old Lane, avoids the annual rush for license plates by buying his early at the Pontiac branch of the Secretary of State's Office, 53 N. Parke St. According to Willis Brewer of the office, more than 32,000 car-owners in the area still have not purchased their 1956 tags — but another 18,000 have, and thus will not have to stand in line in order to beat the February 29 deadline. The clerk behind the window is Mrs. Arthur Kirken, of 142 S. Avery St.

Adlai, Kefauver Meet Headon Tomorrow

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Adlai Stevenson took a breather from California campaigning today to prepare for an important speaking test with Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee.

The two candidates for the Democratic presidential nomination collide verbally before the California Democratic Council in Fresno tomorrow. The program calls it their first major addresses of the 1956 race.

Stevenson, in an eight-day statewide tour, and Kefauver, flying out from Washington, will address an expected 2,000 delegates three hours apart. Kefauver goes on first around noon.

Stevenson headquarters arranged for a delayed nationwide NBC radio broadcast of his speech at 9 p.m., EST. There has been no word of any network relay of Kefauver's speech.

A street in Ciudad Trujillo, Dominican Republic, has been named after England's Lord Palmerston, who aided the Dominican struggle for independence a century ago.

Child Will Do Honors at Candy Shop Opening

CINCINNATI, Ohio (INS) — A child will officiate Monday at the opening of a new candy shop in a Cincinnati department store.

But instead of using the conventional pair of shears, the distingguished guest will use his teeth and nibble his way through the ribbon—which will be made of candy.

Russians Hear Radio Say Ike Refused Pact

MOSCOW (AP)—Moscow radio told the Russian people for the first time today that President Eisenhower had rejected Soviet Premier Bulganin's proposal for a 20-year Soviet-U. S. friendship treaty.

The Soviet government radio followed its first broadcast of the U. S. President's week-old letter immediately with the text of Bulganin's new letter asking the President to reconsider the proposal.

Eisenhower's rejection was made public in Washington last Saturday. But Moscow radio ignored it and concentrated on pushing out favorable reactions to Bulganin's proposal.

This delay seemingly gave Bulganin time to frame his second message—and so make sure the U. S. President's rejection would not monopolize attention when the Russians at last were told of it.

JUST DUNK IT—Meet the little "dunk light," which lights up when dipped in water. The do-it-yourself electric bulb, shown above by Sharon Brumley of Cleveland, Ohio, was developed by General Electric. It has its own generator, resembling a small strip of adhesive tape, wrapped around its tiny base. Dunking the base in water causes the generaltor to light the bulb for an hour or more. The "dunk light" is rated at 1.3 volts and .06 amperes. Engineers say it might some day become a practical lifesaving aid for persons trapped at sea

Box Board Firm to Begin Expansion

MANISTEE (AP) — American Box Board Co. today said it will begin construction within two weeks on an 11 million dollar expansion program which includes a new bleached kraft mill.

Gorden Bonfield, vice president and general manager of the firm's Filer City division, said the project is the largest industrial expansion in the history of this Manistee County community.

Bonfield said some 125 employes will be added when the new mill is completed late in 1957.

He said the firm will enter into the bleached food board field, making paperboard from pine pulpwood. It is used in the food industry to package dairy products and frozen foods. Production of 525 tons of paperboard is planned in the new mill.

American's present mill employs 475 persons.

Directors Are Named

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—The Michigan Retail Lumber Dealers Assn., meeting in Grand Rapids, Wednesday elected three new directors and re-elected three others. New directors are John Spencer, Hart; Lawrence Hoffneister, Unionville; and William Bobier, Coldwater. Re-elected were Robert A. Dean, Traverse City; T. P. Peterson, Grayling, and W. F. Bulger, Flint.

Official Blaming Public for Failure to Abolish Tips

WASHINGTON (INS)—A spokesman for the American Hotel Assn. blames the customer for the fact that tipping of waiters and others has not been abolished.

Vernon Herndon, manager of Chicago's Palmer House, told the Senate Finance Committee that he realizes "this whole problem of tips is one which proves irksome to the public."

But he said that in hotels, restaurants, and dining cars where tips have been abolished, the public has compelled management to rescind the action.

He said persons seeking speedier service or special attention insist upon tipping the employes even though the house asks them not to.

He added: "So it appears that until a better device is discovered, the industry will have to continue to live with this practice."

Herndon testified in opposition to a proposal which he said was made by a labor organization that a social security tax be imposed on the tips income of service employes.

The American Bar Assn., in a letter from its secretary, Joseph D. Stecher, said its official position still favors voluntary social security coverage for lawyers.

But the letter conceded that 22 out of 28 state bar associations replying to a poll favored compulsory coverage.

City in Desperate Need of Larger Post Office

Pontiac is in dire need of greater postal facilities.

The Post Office at Huron and Perry Streets today is handling three times as much business as originally intended. Built in 1912, it was enlarged in 1929 to serve a community of 43,000 people.

★ ★ ★

These facilities augmented by the already outgrown four year old branch office at 1077 West Huron Street, now are serving more than 80,000 people. Besides all this, Acting Postmaster Leslie H. Dean says these facilities have to serve 60,000 persons outside Pontiac in six surrounding townships. So rapid has been the growth of the area that some 5,000 new stops had to be added to carrier routes this year.

The crying need is for more space, says Mr. Dean. So desperate is the situation that he doesn't see how the staff can get through the next Christmas rush without a minimum of 4,000 additional square feet of floor space.

Fortunately the Postmaster isn't alone in his fight for more space and greater postal efficiency. He not only has the wholehearted support of the Chamber of Commerce, but Representative George A. Dondero has promised to help out in Washington.

It is in the personal interest of every resident of the Pontiac area to lend these efforts the strongest possible support.

Harriman Seeks Fund to Protect Motorists

Having abandoned the idea of compulsory auto insurance, New York's Governor Harriman has proposed a State fund to protect car owners against uninsured motorists.

This fund would be created from fees paid by uninsured motorists at the time they buy their license plates. When this idea first was advanced the sum of $30 a year was suggested for each motorist lacking liability coverage.

Consideration of some such protective fund for Michigan has been proposed tentatively by Secretary of State Hare. Like New York State, about 14 per cent of our motorists are uninsured. For that reason this newspaper feels that some form of compulsory insurance should be the next step for Michigan.

That would be no more than fair to insured motorists.

Hammarskjold in Egypt

New evidence that U.N.'s Secretary General Hammarskjold's world trip is paying dividends of peace has come from Egypt.

Back in November Mr. Hammarskjold suggested a plan to discourage any more skirmishes in the El Auja region south of the Gaza strip. His plan was for U.N. to mark the border clearly and that both sides withdraw leaving a demilitarized belt.

On January 4 Israel accepted this proposal. But it was not until the Secretary General reached Cairo and conferred with Premier Nasser that Egypt agreed.

Another example of Mr. Hammarskjold's keen appreciation of the role he must play is in the record. Though he was invited by Israel to be the honor guest at a reception in Jerusalem, he declined lest it impair his usefulness in negotiations with the Arabs.

★ ★ ★

Cairo is only one of many stops on the Secretary General's world tour which will take him to such places as India, Burma, Indonesia and Australia. As he did on his mission to Peiping last year, he is exhibiting his good sense and diplomatic tact.

Farmers' Week at MSU

The 41st annual Farmers' Week program is drawing thousands from all parts of the State to Michigan State University's campus.

At least 30,000 persons, many of them coming in family groups, are expected to attend or participate in the week's discussions, whose general theme is Science Serves Agriculture. Not only are experts discussing practical farm problems, but there are large displays of farm equipment, farm products and livestock.

The event is of general interest because it is reminder of the great and continuing service rendered Michigan agriculture by the school which began as the Nation's first land grant college.

He says an ordinary helicopter can land, take off or be parked in a space now occupied by two automobiles. Hence, hundreds of them could be accommodated within walking distance of downtown Pontiac, in the space now occupied by the automobiles they would replace or on roof tops now unoccupied.

'Concerned Mother' Offers Ideas to Help Teenagers

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.

The other day my son was caught stealing a sweater. I thank God for a kind and understanding store manager, who phoned me instead of the police.

We are considered a nice family, and my son knows better than to do such a thing. Then why did he do it? He wants to dress well, but that takes money. His father refuses to buy any more than the barest essentials, because he feels that he cannot afford otherwise.

When asked for an allowance for the boy, he says he had to earn his money as a boy. However, my son is only 14, and there is a law forbidding employment at that age.

So a boy gets little or no money at home, a law forbids him employment: what is there left to do? Who is to blame for this dilemma? Instead of finding fault with the teenager, it is high time we do something.

Since the sweat shops are a thing of the past, a law forbidding teenagers employment should be repealed. Instead, I sincerely believe we should have a law forbidding employment to married women with children under 16. This would give many more jobs to men and older teenagers, but more important, younger teenagers could be given part time employment.

I have worked, so I know it is impossible for a mother to give her children and home the proper care if she is away from home.

In the long run, the family rarely ends up financially ahead, as a home is not run as economically without mother there full time. There are cases in which a mother must work, but every good law provides for the exception to the rule. If mother stayed home and the teenager were given a chance to add to the family income, as well as earn money for himself, the results would be highly advantageous to everyone.

Let's help the teenager to help himself (and us) to a better way of life, instead of indirectly helping him to help himself to what he desires but cannot afford, through no fault of his own.

Tax Cuts Will Be Likely if Income Beats Forecast

By MERRYLE S. RUKEYSER
INS Economic Commentator

If federal tax revenues greatly exceed the Treasury estimates, the prospects for a near-term tax cut in a presidential year will be enhanced.

Both parties, vying for voter favor, would like to get credit for cutting a melon in the form of a reduction of rates for the taxpayer.

Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey made the outstanding common sense comment when he remarked that federal taxes have been so abnormally high that reductions should be made as soon as the budgetary position warrants such action.

(He, of course, agrees with President Eisenhower's position that, in addition to balancing the budget, at least a token payment should be made to reduce the national debt.)

★ ★ ★

If there is any discernible difference between the two major parties on the tax issue, it consists of a disparity in views as to how the benefits of tax reduction should be divided. The New Deal wing of the Democratic Party leans to cuts for the low-income individuals.

★ ★ ★

On the other hand, Republican convictions call for reductions in ways that will be most helpful to the national economy. This could include either an across-the-board cut to individual taxpayers and-or a change in the corporate rate.

LESS PERSUASIVE

The Keynesian argument against tax cutting during a boom will grow less persuasive when, as and if business statistics momentarily stop breaking records.

★ ★ ★

It seems to me that tax revision, including the correction of injustices, inequities and maladjustments—the replacement of harsh taxes with better ones—should not wait on short-term business fluctuations.

The time to improve the fiscal system is always here and now—not at some theoretical more favorable point in the business cycle.

In a free economic society, based on individual decision-making, it is essential to keep incentives and rewards intact. It doesn't make sense to encourage outstanding personalities with huge salaries, which are deflated by progressive income tax rates running up to 91 per cent.

★ ★ ★

The constructive remedy is to put lower ceilings on income taxes, and to review the excess of a punitive system.

CONSTITUTION ALTERATION called danger to liberty.

David Lawrence Says:

No One, Not Even the President Himself, Is Certain Whether He Will Run Again

WASHINGTON — Nobody — not even President Eisenhower—knows positively as yet whether he will be a candidate for a second term. Eisenhower wants more time in which to appraise the whole situation, and his doctors feel he should have that opportunity.

This, in a nutshell, is the authoritative news of the moment about the plans of the President.

None of the callers or advisers inside the government has any clue to the future, because the President himself hasn't any.

The reason that Eisenhower isn't closing the door to a second term is that he honestly doesn't know whether he will be physically able to serve, and he wants to take all the time needed to make that decision.

The first inkling of this came at the January 25 press conference, when Eisenhower said:

"We are not talking now about a man who has been ill and who has had, let's say, a full year to decide what he can do in the next four years. I have been—I think yesterday it was four months since I had this illness that started all this type of questioning."

Now comes Maj. Gen. Howard McC. Snyder, the President's own physician, to say that the President should have "all the time" he needs to decide about a second term and adds:

"No man who is just four and one-half months past a heart attack is in a position yet to determine his own physical fitness."

WILL NOT DILLYDALLY

In the January 25 press conference, Eisenhower said he hopes he "will not dillydally too long about it"—that is, in making a decision. But, if his doctors tell him to take longer, he will find it necessary to comply. Meanwhile, the President isn't interfering with the candidacy of anybody else who wants to go into the primaries to seek the nomination or to carry on a campaign otherwise.

So there's no logical reason why Eisenhower shouldn't take a look at his physical condition as late as April or May and then make up his mind whether he thinks he could go through with a second term if elected. Harold Stassen, one of the President's advisers, was quoted recently as saying that the President could wait almost till convention time and that the Republican party would wait till then if there was a chance of the President saying "yes."

It might also be asked whether the President's health will be a factor in the campaign if he accepts renomination. Looking ahead to election day in November next, more than a year will have elapsed since the heart attack in September, 1955, and the American people will have had ample opportunity to decide whether in the interval Eisenhower has performed the full duties of his office in a satisfactory manner.

Sniping of a personal nature is resented by the American voter. Already the Democratic senator who charged a few days ago that the Republicans would try to keep Eisenhower alive by the use of "drugs" wishes he hadn't said it. For that kind of thing can boomerang.

CONSIDERATE WITH FDR

The Republicans were more considerate in the case of the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt who, due to an attack of infantile paralysis, couldn't walk without being supported. All through his career in public office, both as governor of New York and as President, he didn't have the use of his legs. No issue was made of it by the Republicans, for they knew the people were interested only in what President Roosevelt did or said, and not in how much he rested each day or in how many visits he had to make to the Warm Springs, Georgia, baths. The newspapers—even his bitterest opponents—never printed any pictures portraying his physical handicap to the people.

As for lightening the burdens of the Presidency, this has been exaggerated. Executive power is already delegated by Congress to cabinet officers. Another cabinet post or two can be created to co-ordinate the so-called independent agencies and to do other routine tasks that need to be done. No constitutional amendment is necessary.

But it will be said that maybe Eisenhower might have a second attack which could be fatal. That's why the founding fathers in their wisdom provided a constitutional system whereby two men—a president and a vice president — are elected. This hazard is one that faces any president, irrespective of his age or health at the time of his election.

Somersaults in Morning May Help Cut Bad Cough

By WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.

In my files are reports from men and women aged 74, 82, 75, 81, 75, 70, 72, 71 who roll somersaults every day.

I have taken rolls before breakfast every morning for years. Don't think I do this just for the heck of it.

In the somersault pamphlet, (for which send a stamped, self-addressed envelope) you will find several "indications," as doctors say, for somersaults.

The fundamental one, is to counteract the effect of sedentary life and insufficient daily general exercise.

Even in a normal individual who keeps physically fit, nearly a quarter of the entire volume of blood in the body may "idle," in the great splanchnic pool, the vast network of vessels in the abdomen.

In one who is flabby a considerably greater stagnation occurs. Somersaulting first thing every morning puts some of this slacker blood back into circulation.

Caution: If by chance a Wiseacre or a Ninnyhammer should decide to try somersaulting, let him understand clearly that:

1) I do not advise anybody to roll somersaults. I merely tell you I believe somersaulting is good for everybody who is still capable of somersaulting, and I take my own medicine.

2) In turning my kind of somersault one never for an instant loses contact with ground or floor.

The momentary inversion obtained by somersaulting seems to benefit a good many persons subject to chronic bronchitis (recurring winter cough) and/or bronchiectasis (recurring winter cough with excessive expectation—ballooning or cavity formation in one or more bronchial tubes).

Such patients who are unable to roll somersaults should practice semi-inversion first thing every morning, before getting out of bed.

Lie prone (on belly) crosswise and slide upper part of body out so elbows and forearms rest on the floor. Remain in this position for five minutes if you can.

The semi-inversion improves circulation and aids drainage of fluids which has collected in bronchi overnight and is ordinarily expelled by a prolonged hard coughing fit in the morning.

It is a great mistake to use medicine containing any narcotic for chronic cough.

The cough reflex in these cases is a natural means of combating the disease. It should be aided and encouraged, not supressed.

Signed letters, not more than one page of 100 words long, pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to the Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Be Careful of Overexposing Children to Things Which Can Be Misconstrued

Sue's problem shows the difference between a child's ability to react visually to situations, versus her logical understanding thereof. Be careful about over-exposing toddlers to things that can be misconstrued. Much needless cruelty to animals can follow such experiences as Sue has had.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case O-365: Sue, aged 3, is the daughter of a genial farmer.

"Dr. Crane, my husband takes Sue along with him wherever he goes," his wife informed me.

"Normally, I think that is fine, for she loves her Daddy and enjoys hiking over the farm with him.

"But I think he makes one serious mistake. He not only lets her see him do the milking and other chores, but he lets her stand and watch him butcher hogs or kill poultry.

"Don't you think it would be better to leave her in the house on such occasions?"

BLOODY IMPRESSIONS

Yes, parents must realize that children can react to the visual and emotional effects of a scene, yet not be fully able to understand its logical necessity.

Thus, a little girl or boy may see a farmer slug a steer in the head with a sledge hammer or stick a pig or chop off the head of a rooster or turkey gobbler.

★ ★ ★

We adults realize that such deeds are necessary in order to maintain our meat supply. And the farmer is not wantonly cruel or hard hearted in his behavior.

But a child of toddler age or even older, witnesses the striking of the animal but lacks enough mental age to comprehend its logical purpose.

So such a youngster may later strike dogs or cats or be cruel to chickens and, if reprimanded, may reply:

"Well, Daddy does it."

I. Q. TESTS

When Dr. Alfred Binet developed his famous tests for the intelligence of school children, he found that a normal four-year-old could copy a square but couldn't copy a diamond.

Even at the age of five and six, the normal child still couldn't copy the diamond, for it requires seven-year mental age before the average youngster can draw a diamond, though he can reproduce a square at the age of four years.

★ ★ ★

"That's odd," you may exlaim "There isn't much difference between a square and a diamond. Both have four sides. The diamond is just skewed or twisted a little off center."

But this ability to discern the difference between the diamond's acute versus its obtuse angles, is great enough to require three full years of extra mental growth before it can be appreciated by a child.

SEX QUERIES

"Mommie, where did I come from?" asks the normal toddler at about the age of three, for that's when children grow interested in the origin of things.

"Out of Mother's tummy," the intelligent modern mother replies.

"But isn't it dangerous to be so frank with children?" some older folks ask me. "Suppose he then inquires how he got inside his mother and also how he got out?"

But he doesn't: Apparently, the situation is analogous to that of copying the square and the diamond.

It requires more mental age to evolve the curiosity about how a child gets inside his mother's body. And still more to wonder about the process of birth.

For that reason, a child may wait an extra year or two before he asks, "How did I get in?" and additional years before he queries "How did I get out."

It is proper to answer these questions whenever the child asks, for they should not be evaded.

Even if you give him too much scientific sex information, we psychologists haven't any evidence that it hurts him, for it does not produce the emotional shock that witnessing farm butchering may create.

Send for my booklet "Sex Education from 2 to 20 Years," enclosing a stamped, return envelope, plus 20 cents.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Colorado's Fraser Colder Than Any Town in State

FRASER, Colo. (AP)—Winter after winter, Fraser is colder on more days than any other Colorado community where official readings are kept.

It was 43 below zero here yesterday, the nation's lowest mark. The mercury climbed to 15 above during the day, then dropped back to 29 below early this morning.

Fraser is a little timber and cattle town about 70 miles northwest of Denver. President Eisenhower loves to fish in nearby St. Louis Creek in the summer.

Adlai 20 Minutes Late

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Adlai Stevenson was late for a political speech last night. His auto caravan took a wrong turn and spent about 20 minutes hunting for Bay Meadows race track at San Mateo. Some 2,500 people were waiting.

About 90 per cent of all American babies now use at least some canned baby food compared with less than 50 per cent before 1940.

What Next?

BLUFFTON, Ohio (AP)—A Bluffton doctor has invented an alarm clock for chickens. It's a thermostat that warns the farmer when the temperature in his brooder house drops too low or rises too high. Dr. B. W. Travis takes part of the gadget in his home work shop, farms out the rest to shops.

A 50 per cent rise in the nation's broomcorn crop has resulted in a cut in broommaking costs. Broomcorn prices have fallen to $300 a ton, $75 below 1954.

McCann to Quit at End of Term

Speech Writer for Ike Returning to College Post Regardless of '56

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower's speech writer, Kevin McCann, said today he has decided against a "second term" for himself—regardless of what his boss chooses to do.

• • •

"I've got to get back to Defiance, Ohio, to resume my job as president of Defiance College," McCann told a reporter. "If I don't, they're liable to be looking for a new president. They won't be needing me here next year."

• • •

For about 11 years now, off and on, McCann has worked for Eisenhower.

And after that long association, McCann says, it is a fairly easy task to write Eisenhower's speeches.

Their formula is this: Eisenhower tells McCann generally what he wants to say. McCann returns to his office and writes a first draft. This goes back to Eisenhower for review and revision. But a goodly portion of McCann's version is left intact, he says.

• • •

"I know what he wants to say and how he'll say it," McCann continued. "It's not much of a creative job. I'm certainly not a ghost writer."

• • •

McCann maintains Eisenhower will announce his second - term decision quickly "once all the facts are in."

"That's the way the man operates," he said. "He waits until he has enough facts. When he finally gets enough facts, out comes the decision."

End of Segregation in All but 5 States by September Seen by NAACP Official

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP)—Thorgood Marshal, special counsel for the National Assn. for Advancement of Colored People, predicts segregation in the South will be virtually ended in all but five states by September.

• • •

The fight against segregation likely will last longer in Mississippi, Alabama, Georgia, Virginia and South Carolina, the Negro attorney told a news conference last night.

• • •

Marshall came here to address the Memphis NAACP chapter tonight.

There is no "Solid South" now in the matter of retaining segregation, Marshall said, adding:

STATE BY STATE

"It is now a state by state proposition, as we see it, and in some cases a county by county proposition."

The movement toward school integration, he said, is "moving along in Tennessee — not as rapidly as I'd like to see it, but the important thing is that it is moving."

• • •

Tennessee so far is committed to a gradual desegregation program at the state college level.

Discussing the attitude of church authorities on desegregation, Marshall said:

"The churches are passing lovely resolutions and doing nothing about it. They could clean this whole thing up in five minutes."

He did not elaborate.

Widow Proves $44,525 Found in Box Is Hers

WAUKEGAN, Ill. (AP)—A 67-year-old widow has been declared the rightful owner of $44,525 found in a metal box by an iron worker at a building project last May.

• • •

Circuit Judge Bernard M. Decker ruled Mrs. June Siskind, a bookstore operator, proved to his satisfaction that she owned the money. She testified her sister Mary Funk hid the money when they formerly lived on the property. She said she could not find the money box after her sister's death in 1949.

• • •

Albert Sorenson, 34, who found the money, said he was satisfied Mrs. Siskind proved it was her property. He said he was glad he had done the "honest thing," and had no regrets he had turned the money over to authorities.

Decker praised Sorenson and urged Mrs. Siskind to reward him liberally. She said Sorenson would be "treated fairly" in the matter of a reward.

Atoms for Peace Take Big Stride

AEC Sets Regulations for Civilian Industry's Use of A-Materials

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Atomic Energy Commission took another step today clearing the way for a civilian atomic energy industry. It issued regulations on possession and use of atomic materials, effective March 4.

Key regulations are:

1. Applicants to the AEC for atomic materials must be qualified through training and experience to use them safely.

2. The applicant's equipment and facilities must be adequate to protect health and minimize danger to life and property.

3. The use to which the material is put must be authorized by the Atomic Energy Act.

4. Licensees must keep records of special materials received, on hand, and transferred.

Fracas Baffles Police in Daniels' Case

NEW YORK (AP)—Some two dozen policemen have been questioned about the Harlem shooting case involving singer Billy Daniels. Officials want to know why it was five hours before headquarters was informed.

• • •

For several hours Tuesday, the day of the shooting, the West 135th Street station in Harlem denied to newsmen that Daniels was involved in the "bottle club" shooting of James Jackson, 33. Both men are Negroes.

At the same time the incident reportedly was common knowledge in Harlem.

Jackson, a prize fight trainer, was shot in the shoulder. His condition is not considered serious. The wounded man purportedly had refused to tell police who shot him.

• • •

Daniels, 40, has denied carrying a gun or doing any shooting. He said he was a bit "woozy" from drink and couldn't remember what happened at the drinking club.

Daniels, accused of assault and illegal possession of a gun, was freed in $2,500 bail and a hearing was set for Feb. 29. The singer took off by plane yesterday to fulfill singing engagements in Palm Springs and Los Angeles, Calif.

Pilot Dies, 4 Injured as Jet Rams Houses

TOKYO (AP)—A U. S. Marine FJ2 Fury jet smashed into a string of houses in a teeming east Tokyo suburb today, killing the pilot and injuring four civilians, one seriously.

Two houses were destroyed and three others damaged.

The Marines said the plane, based at nearby Atsugi Naval Air Station, was on a routine training flight. It was at 30,000 feet in a formation with three other Furies when it stalled and went into a spin.

The pilot's name was withheld.

Throughout the world more than 100 different breeds of dogs are used for herding or driving cattle, sheep, poultry, reindeer, and dromedaries.

The South Pacific Commission's Literature Bureau of Sydney, Australia, is cooperating with publishers in the production of a series of four books on that region.

Hal Boyle Says:

This Girl Wields Razor --- It's Her Career

NEW YORK (AP)—If there is one time the average fellow feels least in need of a woman's advice, it's probably while he's shaving.

* * *

"But he's wrong," insisted pretty Rem Schoen, who believes she is the world's only lady career pogonotomist. "Most men don't really know how to shave properly — even though they do it about 16,000 times in their lifetime."

BY ACCIDENT

Miss Schoen, a former Paterson, N.J., grade school teacher, got into the field of pogonotomy, the art of shaving, by accident.

* * *

While working temporarily as a model, she learned that executives of the Gem Safety Razor Co. were depressed over the fact so few men knew how to get a really good shave. She sold them on the idea of letting her tour the nation and give demonstrations of proper shaving techniques in high schools, colleges, offices and factories.

To prepare for her career Miss Schoen tutored for several months under Elbridge J. Casselman, a Staunton, Va., scientist. She feels Casselman is to pogonotomy as Shakespeare is to literature. He's the titan of the beard world.

* * *

"He has been studying shaving scientifically for more than 25 years," she said. "A remarkable man—always clean-shaven. I don't think I ever saw him with stubble on his face."

RELUCTANT MEN

During her demonstrations Miss Schoen admits she sometimes finds it difficult to get a man to act as guinea pig while she shows off her shaving grace.

* * *

"Men seem instinctively distrustful of a woman with a razor in her hand," she said, smiling. "But so far I've been lucky. I haven't lopped off a nose or ear yet."

What mistake do most men make while shaving?

* * *

"They are too slap-dash," she said. "The hairs in their beard contain a chemical known as keratin which makes them as tough as copper wires. This must be dissolved before you can get a good close shave."

HER FORMULA

Here is her recipe for a good shave:

"First, wash the face thoroughly in soap and hot water to get rid of the grit and start dissolving the keratin. This should take at least a minute and a half.

* * *

"The lather should be brushed on vigorously for three minutes, to soak the beard thoroughly and dissolve the rest of the keratin.

"Keep the razor wet while shaving. Hold the razor at a 20-to-30-degree angle. A flat-topped razor is best; it is set at a 25-degree angle. And shave with short firm strokes.

* * *

"If you have a tender skin, use cool water in applying the lather.

TOWARD THE CHIN

"Always shave toward the chin, where the beard is thickest. Shave against the grain only when clearing up the rough spots.

* * *

"After shaving, apply an antiseptic talcum powder. Clean the razor but don't dry the blade. Let it dry itself. It will stay sharp longer."

Miss Schoen is full of beard lore. Here are a few items:

* * *

"The average beard has 25,000 hairs and the average man spends two months of his life shaving.

FASTER IN SUMER

"His beard grows from a 50th to three-64ths of an inch a day. It grows faster in summer than in the winter.

* * *

"Beard hairs range from .005 to .008 of an inch in thickness. Shaving doesn't make the beard thicker. Age does it.

"A shave will last longer if you whack your whiskers off after breakfast. Before breakfast your face is still puffy from sleep.

"Blue collar workers today shave just as often as white collar workers, but they often shave at night rather than in the morning.

* * *

"The thickness of a man's beard is no index of his virility."

Miss Schoen says that Alexander the Great was probably the first military leader to order his troops to shave as a military measure. "He did it so the enemy couldn't grab his men by their beards in close combat," she explained.

Turkey is now self-sufficient in sugar.

Diseases Cured by A-Radiation

No Ill Effects Show in Transplanting Human Bones, Says UM Group

CHICAGO (AP) — A University of Michigan group reports that bones sterilized by atomic radiation have been transplanted to human patients without harmful effects.

In a prepared early clinical report on results, Drs. Paul Devries, Carl E. Badgley and J. Ted Hartman said the technique obviates the necessity for elaborate preparations in obtaining uncontaminated bone at autopsy.

They told the American Academy of Orthopedic Surgeons they used such bone in 67 patients. Sixty-six healed with no evidence of wound infection and no unusual bodily reaction.

They said the high intensity gamma radiation from radioactive cobalt will destroy bacterial and viral contamination without further changing the character of the bone, or decreasing the bone's capacity to stimulate new growth. The bones so treated do not become radioactive.

Under present methods of obtaining bone for bone banks, sterile operating room conditions are required. The bone then is placed in a freeze compartment or in a solution of plasma and chemicals.

Many small hospitals are without facilities for these required steps.

Under the radiation process, the bone to be transplanted is freeze-dried and sealed in glass tubes under vacuum.

The bone is sterilized by placing the sealed tubes in a radiation chamber containing radioactive cobalt rods.

One doctor commenting on the paper, said the technique would permit a large hospital to obtain a large supply of such bone, to carry out sterilization procedures and then to supply it as needed by smaller institutions.

U.N. Is Setting Up 16 New Flagpoles

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (INS)—The United Nations has broken ground for 16 new flagpoles from which the banners of the newly admitted member countries will fly.

The U.N. at the same time began work on a $380,000 project to expand public facilities at the world organization site, mecca of tourists in New York.

The new flagpoles will carry the flags of the 12 free world and four Communist states admitted to membership under a "package" recommendation last December.

Power blackouts have ended for Port Moresby, New Guinea.

Midland Rejects Official's Ruling

School Board Assures Parents That Children Can Attend Classes

MIDLAND (AP) — The Midland County Board of Education has challenged an opinion of Michigan Attorney General Thomas M. Kavanagh in a controversy over non-resident high school pupils.

In a statement, the county board assured parents of pupils in rural areas that the board will go to court if necessary to upset Kavanagh's ruling that school boards are not required to accept non-resident tuition pupils to their high schools.

The controversy goes back to October of 1954 when the Midland City Board of Education voted to limit enrollment of non-resident pupils beginning with the 1955-56 school year. The city board later agreed to take non-resident pupils on a part time basis for the current school year only.

The Midland High School now has about 400 tuition pupils from county areas outside the city.

In its statement to parents, the county board said, "do not be disturbed by the recent opinion of the state attorney general that receiving school districts can exclude non-residential students. Should the Midland board attempt to exclude your children we would promptly enjoin its exclusion order in the courts. Your children, therefore, are in no immediate danger. If we have to go to court, your interests will be represented by one of the leading law firms of the state. Our legal counsel is confident the courts will uphold your traditional right to send your children to Midland High School."

Coleman, 20 miles northwest of Midland in Midland County has a high school but it has served notice that no more non-resident pupils will be accepted.

Formosa 'Not Bound' by Ike, Eden Plans

TAIPEI (AP)—Nationalist Chinese Premier O. K. Yui said today the Chinese Reds are capable of attacking Formosa and the offshore islands at any moment, but whenever they attack "they will find us prepared."

• • •

The Premier at a news conference also declared:

1. Nationalist China will not be bound by any decision at the Eisenhower-Eden talks that affects her rights and interests.

2. Whatever the outcome of the British-U. S. talks, "our national policy of recovering the mainland through counterattack will remain unchanged, come what may."

3. Nothing will affect Nationalist determination to defend the offshore islands.

• • •

4. Review of the embargo against strategic materials to Red China should be conducted only with a view to intensifying—not relaxing—controls, "otherwise the crisis now existing in the Far East can only be aggravated."

Mexico has completed the Matamoros-Reynosa highway.

Hint Future H-Bomb Equal to 50 Million Tons of TNT

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congress has received a hint that a hydrogen bomb with 2,500 times the power of the atomic weapon that blasted Hiroshima may be at least in the planning stage.

• • •

Confirmation that something is going on in that field came yesterday from Dr. A. G. Hill, professor at Massachusetts Institute of Technology, and scientific director of the weapons evaluation group of the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

The scientist was a witness before a House Government Operations subcommittee in a hearing aimed at strengthening civil defense.

Chairman Holifield (D-Calif) commented that he believed a study in which Hill participated had mentioned a hydrogen bomb that would "go up as high as 50 megaton."

Hill nodded agreement.

The matter was dropped without any elaboration.

The atom bomb which flattened Hiroshima was estimated to have the energy equivalent of 20,000 tons of TNT, and American A-bombs are understood to have gone far above that level in tests. A megaton is a million tons of TNT, so a 50-megaton weapon would have 2,500 times the power of the Hiroshima bomb.

• • •

Speculation set the power of the enormous American blast at Bikini March 1, 1954, as high as 15 to 17 megatons. That explosion caused a small island to disappear.

Funds have been provided to train Gold Coast trade union leaders in England, Ako Adjei, Minister of Trade and Labor, reported in a speech at Tarkwa.

Car No. 1 Killer as 38,300 Die in '55 Traffic Accidents

CHICAGO (AP)—Traffic accidents killed 38,300 Americans in 1955—one of the heaviest tolls in history.

* * *

The motor vehicle held its perilous place as the No. 1 killer in accidents.

* * *

The National Safety Council today reported that last year:

Accidents of all types brought death to 92,000 persons, injured 9,200,000 and resulted in $10,300,000,000 in financial setbacks—such as equipment and property damage, lost wages and medical expenses.

* * *

Traffic accidents alone cost 38,300 lives, approximately 1,350,000 nonfatal injuries and $4,700,000,000 in terms of cash.

* * *

Last year's motor vehicle death total tied with the 1953 toll for the third highest on record. It was 1,669 under the all-time high of 39,969 reached in 1941 and approached closer to the 39,643 registered in 1937, the runner-up year.

8 PER CENT GAIN

The 1955 traffic toll showed an 8 per cent gain over the 35,586 total of 1954.

* * *

Traffic deaths rode a steady upward trend last year, and zoomed to record holiday heights during the Christmas period. The December toll of 3,960 was the largest for any month since December 1941.

The growth of population and the increase in travel also figure in comparisons. The 1955 death rate per 100 million vehicle miles was estimated at 6.4. That was 2 per cent higher than in 1954—which had the lowest rate on record.

The number of deaths from all kinds of accidents—92,000—showed an increase of 3 per cent over the 89,432 recorded in 1954.

Motor vehicle fatalities were responsible for the increase. Home accident deaths numbered 27,000, a slight decrease. Accidental deaths at work added up to 14,200, a slight increase. Deaths in public but not involving motor vehicles made a small gain.

* * *

The all-accident death toll was substantially under the levels attained in some earlier years. It has topped 100,000 four times since 1934.

And the 1955 all-accident death rate of 56 per 100,000 population was the lowest on record except for the 55.5 mark attained in 1954.

1 OF 18 DISABLED

But 1 of each 18 persons in the United States suffered a disabling injury in 1955.

Falls last year cost 19,800 lives, burns 6,100, drownings 6,400, firearms 2,300 — each total showing little change from the previous year.

* * *

States showing reductions in traffic death tolls were listed as Idaho, 23 per cent; Arizona, 11; Minnesota, 10; North Dakota, 4; Kansas, Oregon; Nebraska; New Mexico, Utah and Wyoming 3 per cent each; New Jersey 2 per cent, and Iowa and Maryland 1 per cent each.

At least 207 cities reported reductions. The largest decreases were credited to Syracuse, N.Y., with 37 per cent, Tampa, Fla., with 34 and Seattle and Dallas with 28 per cent each.

'Senior Citizens Day' Proposed in Congress

WASHINGTON (INS) — Sen. Norris Cotton (R-NH), has introduced a bill to authorize the President to proclaim the fourth Sunday in September as Senior Citizens Day.

Cotton said he sponsored the legislation to focus national attention on the problem of older persons and recognize their contribution "to the growth and development of our nation."

High Time Frequencies

NEW YORK—Columbia University researchers have developed an atomic clock that accurately measures time at frequencies of 24 billion cycles a second.

The device utilizes the energy of ammonia molecules to generate high-frequency radio waves without vacuum tubes.

British Prelate Chides Graham

Evangelist Accused of Distarting the Gospel by Archbishop of York

DURHAM, England (AP) — The Archbishop of York accused American evangelist Billy Graham today of giving "a very distorted view of the apostolic Gospel."

Describing Graham as "a man of utter humility and simplicity," the Church of England's new No. 2 prelate, Dr. A. M. Ramsey, wrote in the Durham Diocesan Quarterly magazine:

* * *

"There is evidence he has genuinely claimed to preach only the first steps of Christianity and directed his hearers to churches for the rest.

* * *

"There is also evidence (notably from his recent mission in Cambridge) he has taught the grossest doctrines and flung his formula 'The Bible says' over teaching which is emphatically not that of the Bible."

ATTACKS MOVEMENT

Dr. Ramsey's article was titled "The Menace of Fundamentalism." It attacked the Protestant movement which insists on the infallibility of the Scriptures and such Biblical miracles as the virgin birth and the physical resurrection of Christ.

He quoted Graham as saying the Bible "is a book written by God through 30 secretaries" and commented that this "is an error analogous to the error of the doctrine of transubstantiation where the supernatural part supplants the natural part thereby overthrowing the notion of sacrament."

"The theology of 'Christ bore your punishment; believe and be saved,' when accompanied by the fundamentalist's pulpit cliche 'The Bible says,' is a very distorted view of the apostolic Gospel," the archbishop concluded.

Graham at present is conducting a revival tour through India. Attendance at his meetings there has been reported as the largest he has ever had.

Three Prowlers Startled, Wild Auto Chase Ensues

MESICK (AP)—A 55-year-old janitor at the Mesick Consolidated School gave chase to three would-be burglars yesterday but failed to catch them following a wild chase into the country.

* * *

Police said Merle Beidler told them this story:

He surprised the trio trying to open the vault in the school superintendent's office with crowbars. The three fled with Beidler giving chase in his car. After a wild three-mile chase on slippery country roads, the trio's car went into a ditch and Beidler's followed.

The men then jumped Beidler, threatening him with crowbars, and told him if he tried anything they would "bash" his head in. They dug their car out of the snow and left.

Beidler trudged back to Mesick and reported the incident to police.

Police said the three, described as in their early 20s, entered the school through an unlocked window. Officers said they were within one layer of brick from reaching the vault through a wall. The vault contained between $200 and $300.

Two other school robberies within a 20-mile radius of this Wexford County town also were reported.

* * *

Police said burglars robbed the Norman Dickson rural school at Brethren Tuesday night, taking $200 from a 1,000-pound safe after prying it open with a chisel.

* * *

The Copemish School in Manistee County also was robbed of $3 last night when burglars tore open a safe with crowbars.

* * *

Officers said they did not know whether the burglaries were related.

Bob Considine Says:

Veteran Reporter Scoops the Young Ones

NEW YORK (INS) — You've got to get up pretty early to beat Jim Kilgallen on a news story. In fact it's best to get up pretty early two or three days before this pride of our business shows up at the scene of the news.

* * *

Jim covered the recent release from a federal pen at Alderson, W. Va., of Mrs. Kkuko Togiuri D'Aquino, better known to millions of her admirers among GIs, Marines and Sailors in the Pacific during World War II as Tokyo Rose.

Rose, who tried to subvert lonesome American fighting men by playing Bing Crosby and Dinah Shore records — which made them pine for home even more — was being sprung after serving 10 years (minus good behavior time) for treason.

Seems Rose was born in L.A. on, of all dates, the Fourth of July (1916). She was subject to our treason laws, but deporting her will be difficult.

* * *

Kilgallen has outlived and outworked a couple of generations of "the opposition" as he will always call it. Lord knows how many reporters this fellow has driven into public relations or foundation work! Maybe another, less than half Jims age, is headed that way right now. I wouldn't blame him.

COULDN'T SEE ROSE

Here's the story:

Jim arrived in Alderson about 6 o'clock the night before Rose's release. He went to the prison to case the joint, naturally, and although he showed all his John Montague dimples he couldn't talk the lady warden into letting him see Rose.

* * *

All he got was the assurance that he could stand in line with the rest of the reporters when Rose was sprung shortly after 6 a.m. the next day.

With some misgiving (Al Capone once double-crossed Jim and left by a federal pen's backdoor) the great INS reporter prospected for the nearest telephone. He knew from immense experience that there would be a mad scramble for the nearest phone as soon as Rose went her way.

Many schemes must have crossed his mind. Should he canvas the neighborhood and stick straight pins or hairpins into all coin phone slots except one — as Walter Howey once did to insure a beat?

* * *

Should he print up signs reading "out of order" and stick them on all nearby phones? He wondered. The movies and TV had ruined such old rackets. The journalism school kids were wise.

LODGING FOR NIGHT

Now he was at the site of the nearest phone to the prison gate, the phone in the tourist home of Mrs. Essie Russell. He'd take a room there for the night, Jim decided, let down by the banal simplicity of it all.

* * *

But, hold! Madame Russell was sorry. Her place was filled. This was cruel news, but the news got crueller. Madame Russell being one to amplify fact.

The place was filled, she said, by relatives of Tokyo Rose and by three newspapermen.

She proudly named them. One was "the opposition." (Ed. note: When old fighters are nailed with a solid punch to the jaw they tend to roll up their eyeballs much in the matter of a man seeking divine aid. A careful questioning of witnesses of this meeting between Madame R. and Kilgallen indicates that his restraint was such that the only change in his handsome face was that he added several dimples, including one, charmingly cyclopic, in the middle of his forehead.)

* * *

"What a fine-looking home you run," he said to the suddenly blushing owner. "May I see more of it?" All a'twitter, madame showed the scroundrel through the place.

He soon detected that the only phone was in the breakfast nook. Could he please rent that poor little alcove? Madame was reduced virtually to tears. Certainly, he could!

BEATS OPPOSITION

Well, the end of the story is that when the young man from "the opposition" rushed home the morning of Rose's release he found Kil in the alcove dictating to the office over the only phone in the joint.

Kil was sorry. He said to the young man that it would take him at least 45 minutes to finish his story. Oddly enough, he had that much of a scoop.

The only thing Jim had to do the rest of the day — except figure out a seven-horse parlay at Santa Anita (everything went well until his seventh horse bowed a tendon, costing him a possible $14.84) — was to pay his bills.

One bill was at the tourist home where he finally found a room. The other was at a gas station. By an odd coincidence he had hired the phones at both.

Ground Stations to Have A-Arms

General States Future Storage of Weapons for Air Defenses Nears

WASHINGTON (AP) — The commander of the nation's air defenses said today atomic weapons soon will be stored at Air Force ground stations and carried on defense aircraft.

"The day is not far off when we shall have atomic weapons at the various stations in storage and on the planes in flight," Gen. Earle E. Partridge said in an address prepared for a jet age conference of the Air Force Assn.

* * *

"This contributes to our determination to remove military flying from municipal or civil airports as soon as possible," he said, but added that will come only "over a period of years" and at a cost of more than three billion dollars.

Partridge, commander in chief of the Continental Air Defense Command, said that while defense aircraft are always loaded when on missions, the Air Force has installed "all manner of control sequences" as guards against accidents.

* * *

"We are putting more safety features into the controls for the future," he said. "The reason is that the present weapons are only midgets in comparison to what we are going to have."

He said 18 of his command's bases—about a third of its total—are on civil airports, many of them with runways too short for good jet operations.

"We are paying in manpower and busted airplanes because of the short fields from which we operate," he said.

Best Doctor Is Victim Himself, Says Dr. White

Heart Specialist Describes Attack . . . Aftermath

By PAUL D. WHITE, M.D.
(Distributed by NEA Service)

(Editor's Note: The article below is the first of a series in which specialist Paul D. White, M. D., describes the effects and care of heart disease in connection with National Heart Month. Dr. White is familiar to readers as the chief consultant in President Eisenhower's case.

Mr. Brown, a business executive in his early 50s, had eaten an unusually hearty dinner after a long hard day at his store and had retired early, feeling tired but otherwise well.

Shortly after midnight he was awakened by a sensation of heavy pressure under the breastbone—the center of the chest on a line with the arm pits or a few inches below. It grew more and more severe, although Mr. Brown took baking soda and drank hot water.

Unable to endure the pain, he agreed to have his wife call the doctor, who arrived at 1 a.m. The doctor gave him two hypodermic injections of morphine about 20 minutes apart before he felt any relief at all.

He was given oxygen to try to reduce the size of the ultimate scar in the heart and to avoid possible complications in the lungs. He dozed fitfully and the pain gradually lessened until about noon the next day.

After that he was exhausted and a little feverish in the evening (100 degrees). The day after that he felt much better despite a higher (101) temperature.

The fever lasted four days, but he had no more pain. Within a week he felt perfectly well. But the doctor wisely insisted that for another two or three weeks he remain, with head somewhat elevated, at complete rest either in bed or part of the time in a comfortable big chair to which he had to be carefully carried. This additional rest was necessary to ensure an adequate healing of the injury in his heart.

REBELS

Not having been bed-ridden for many years, Mr. Brown rebelled at first. But when the doctor explained what was going on in his heart he agreed to follow instructions.

For the first two weeks he stayed very still except for gentle foot exercises to stimulate good circulation. The rest of the time he was allowed more activity.

He fed himself and had visitors and even two or three brief business conferences, since no complications had arisen.

WOULD GET DRUGS

If Mr. Brown had a fairly large area of heart muscle damaged and was in a hospital with an adequate laboratory, he would ordinarily be given one of the anti-coagulant drugs to help prevent the formation of thrombi (blood clots) in heart or blood vessels which can result sometimes in serious complications.

He also may have received quinidine sulphate several times a day for a week or two in case of any troublesome variation from normal heart rhythm.

After three or four weeks, Mr. Brown no longer had to be helped into a chair. For a week he gradually increased the time he spent sitting up.

The next week he walked about a little more each day. The third week out of bed (some six weeks after the onset of his illness) he began going up and down stairs once a day, and the fourth week he went out for a short daily walk or drive.

After those two months of convalescence, it was not too difficult to advise Mr. Brown to take one more month to complete his rehabilitation, getting mild exercise and restoring his morale, which had at first been badly shattered by this unexpected disaster.

Mr. Brown resumed work slowly but within a month was back in the swing again, although avoiding long hours and severe mental and physical strains. He ate lightly, lost some excess weight, and wisely did not resume the tobacco he had omitted the first day of his illness.

A year later he was in excellent health, free of all symptoms.

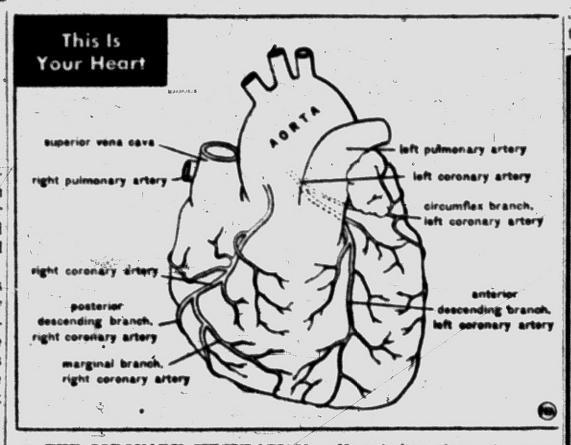
Mr. Brown is one of the thousands of persons who have made a good recovery from a heart attack, described medically as a coronary thrombosis with myocardial infarction (damage).

When a blood clot (thrombus) suddenly closes off a coronary artery that supplies the heart muscle (myocardium) with blood, the central part of the area of heart muscle affected often but not always dies. The extent of damage depends on the absence or presence of some collateral circulation supplied by other nearby blood vessels which have not been blocked.

The fact that only a relatively small amount of heart muscle was damaged was in Mr. Brown's favor. And of course the medical knowledge and techniques now available to physicians who treat patients with coronary thrombosis was another important factor.

But Mr. Brown's physician, Dr. Jones, would be the first to admit that Mr. Brown's co-operation was one of the most vial of all factors in his recovery.

NEXT: What Dr. Jones told his patient.



THE CORONARY CIRCULATION — Here is how the main coronary arteries with their many branches come down over the top of the heart like a crown (corona) and send tiner branches or twigs down into all parts of the heart to supply it with oxygen-carrying blood.

Artist's 'Money' Talent Too Good for the Movie

TOKYO (AP)—A commercial artist, arrested today on charges of counterfeiting more than 2,000 thousand-yen notes, gave this excuse:

"I designed them and had them printed for a motion picture studio for use in a scene where a crazy man was to throw money out the window.

"They were so good, it seemed a shame to waste them on a movie."

A thousand-yen note is worth $2.78.

"Fostering True Patriotism", the DAR theme for the year, was the subject of the program. Mrs. Ralph Forman was introduced by Mrs. Lloyd Porter and spoke on the subject.

The speaker quoted Woodrow Wilson's definition of patriotism, "The way to be patriotic in America is not only to love America but to love the duty that lies nearest to your hand and to know that in performing it you are serving your country."

USED QUOTATIONS

Mrs. Forman illustrated this concept with quotations from five American women authors who exemplify work well done.

She spoke at length about Dr. Bertha Van Hoosen, a native of Rochester, a pioneer woman surgeon and a member of General Richardson Chapter, who encountered prejudice and extreme difficulties in pioneering the way for women doctors.

Mrs. Porter reported that Junior American Citizens Clubs have been organized in nine Pontiac schools, reaching 750 children. These clubs include children of any race or creed and have for their motto, "Justice, Americanism and Character."

Mrs. William F. Todd, Americanism chairman, said 200 DAR manuals for citizenship had been distributed for use in Janice Antona's citizenship classes.

Fashions by Dior Shove Waistline Up Under Bust

PARIS (AP)—The waistline lands right under the bust in Dior's latest style revolution. But that is about the only radical note he strikes.

* * *

This was the main point in Dior's "F-Line" or "Arrow" collection shown Thursday and it was expected to be the climax of the 1956 spring Paris fashion season.

Hemlines hardly waver by a hair's breadth, and the bust is permitted to exist again. In fact, it is mildly emphasized by a horizontal pleat or belt that breaks the silhouette just at the bottom of the bustline, with a stem-slim silhouette beneath.

But for formal wear both short and long skirts are as puffy as clouds. Big puffs or bows of drapery falling from the shoulder blades trail behind.

* *

The new bolero-jacket seen everywhere this season comes just to or almost to the waist, and may close up the back, under one arm, or in front. It serves as a suit jacket or dress blouse.

HARD TO COPY

A new version of Dior's last-season caftans, or slit oversheaths, makes a full-length appearance over tight sheaths. Tricky cuts and drapes at the sleeve and shoulder will make the new Dior creations hard for anyone but an expert to copy.

* * *

Off-whites are definitely the leading color of the season. Other popular tints are pink, coral, lilac, blues and greens. Smooth woolens have beaten out the tweeds for daytime, while airy chiffons are tops for evening.

There are bushels of buttons and pecks of pleats in all the houses. Corselet belts have appeared to bring back the small, fitted waist.

The classic suit, belted and usually in navy jersey or crepe, with notched collar and cuffs of white, is still Chanel's old faithful, her collection indicated.

* * *

But when she attempts the latest loose bolero jacket (called "Canezou" or "Caraco" in other houses this spring) the result looks a bit like a Picasso painted by Whistler.

The last major showing of new spring fashions will be the presentation of the Jacques Fath collection today.

Newcomer's Sweater Upsets Other Girls

By ELIZABETH WOODWARD

"Dear Miss Woodward: Recently I moved here from another state, and last week I wore a sweater to school which was quite loose, had three-quarter sleeves and showed very little of my figure.

"However, the girls were very upset over my sweater. They disapproved strongly and said that if I continued to wear sweaters I would have no girl friends.

"Of course, the boys had the opposite reaction. My boy friend says I should ignore it all. I'd like to, but I'd also like to keep the girls as friends. What should I do?"

Answer: Ever social group, every neighborhood, every school has its own little quirks and foibles. The overall pattern of all of them may be quite similar. But they vary in details. And in most cases the rules and regulations on details are pretty strict.

* * *

It behooves a newcomer to case the situation before strutting around as a flamboyant individualist. It's smart to try to live as the Romans do while you're in Rome, before playing any variations on the main issue.

The experience you've had in your new school is a case in point. Obviously, the wearing of sweaters has a deeper meaning than you suspect. Equally obviously, the girls who disapproved so vocally didn't let you in on the whole story—a story that concerns only the school you're now attending.

Something must have happened once to turn you're particular group of girls against what is high fashion in other schools. And made them adopt a different costume as standard routine. But what? And why?

* * *

Why not gracefully follow their lead while you try to find out? Why not conform to the pattern the old-timers have set while you get on your feet and become thoroughly conversant with all their other rules and regulations?

Such conformity won't hurt while you're getting adjusted to a new town, a new school, a new group of friends. It won't hurt you while this new group is getting acqquainted with you.

But once you've taken your place among them, it's rather silly to let them make all the rules for you. Being no different from all the others is so dull.

* * *

Hide your impatience and bide your time. The boys seem to be all set to undermine the self-assumed authority of the girls who turn thumbs up or down. You won't have long to wait before you subtly and quietly begin to show your own individuality and personality.

By that time the girls will trust you not to upset the old order. They'll like you for being not too different from the rest of them.

And likely as not they'll be ready for any little bit of variety you can offer them. Try it, and see.

Mrs. Wiznerowicz Shares Her Ways of Making Frosting

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

There are a number of frosting mixes on the market now, and many people will be thankful for them. But there are always cooks and there are always times that demand a good home made frosting. Mrs. Richard Wiznerowicz gives us two receipes, one for white and one for chocolate frosting.

Mrs. Wiznerowicz is first and foremost a homemaker. She has four children, ranging in age from a first-grader to a senior in high school.

The New Sylvanites include her in their membership. She enjoys painting both the number kind and the kind you do when the walls look shabby.

CHOCOLATE FROSTING
By Mrs. Richard Wiznerowicz

Place a bowl in hot water and add:

2 squares unsweetened chocolate
¼ stick butter or margarine

When melted, put bowl in a pan of cold water and add:

1 egg
⅛ teaspoon cream of tartar
2 tablespoons cream
1 teaspoon vanilla

Let stand until bowl is cool. Beat until creamy. Frosts one cake.

WHITE FROSTING

1 cup sugar
2 egg whites
⅛ teaspoon cream of tartar
3 tablespoons cold water
1 teaspoon vanilla
6 or 8 marshmallows

Mix all ingredients except marshmallows in pan and place over boiling water. Beat until frosting stands in peaks. Add marshmallows and stir in. Frosts one cake.

Before putting cold glasses into hot suds, run cool water over them first. This tempers the glass and prevents cracking due to a sudden change in temperature.

Now Every Man Can Dress in Height of Fashion

Look what's happened to men's clothing. These illustrations show the contrast between men's fashions of 25 years ago and today. On the left is a golfer attired in the style of 1931—a Norfolk jacket with full belt and large flap pockets, plaid knickers and high hose. Next is the Glen Urquhart plaid suit that gained popularity during the late '30s. A sporty model, even the vest had lapels. After the fashion blackout of World War II, the man (second from right) was seen wearing big, bright prints in sportswear that contrasted sharply with the uniforms and dullness of the war years. Today's well-dressed man is seen on the right wearing a trim suit in one of the charcoal colors that started in Europe and won quick acceptance in this country.

Fashions Boast Assets for Travel

Do you remember 1931?

Herbert Hoover still had a year left to serve as President. Clark Gable had become the idol of Hollywood. Dirigibles and the demand for prohibition's repeal were in the headlines.

* * *

Less than 5 per cent of the population owned automobiles. And men's clothing was pretty formal.

The outstanding men's fashions of the year were the white mess jacket, brown suede shoes, and the guard's coat. These were the fashions of a relatively few men who could afford imported clothing or custom tailoring.

Going into 1956, the outstanding developments in the men's fashion scene include the charcoal colors, trim belted-back slacks and sport shirts inspired by the continental influence. Today these fashions are accepted and worn by millions of men all over the country.

* * *

What happened to men's fashions in the intervening years.

What caused the spread of fashion for the few to fashions for everyone?

GOLFING FASHION

In the early '30s the Norfolk jacket was featured for sportswear. It had a full belt and large flap pockets. It was worn with plaid knickers and high hose. This was the fashionable outfit for golfing—a far cry from what is seen on the links today.

* * *

For in town wear, double-breasted striped suits with broad shoulders in two-button styles were being shown. At this time, form-fitting double-breasted topcoats and single-breasted flyfront models were in fashion.

Topping off these ensembles was either a bowler or the same homburg that was again to come into prominence when featured at the 1953 presidential inauguration.

The years progressed and so did men's styles.

Throughout the early '30s, the Norfolk jacket, knickers and the derby hat were still prominent on the fashion scene, but on the horizon the chalk stripe suit, covert cloth topcoat and plaid balmacaan coats were appearing. They became fashionable in the mid-'30s.

* * *

As America was recovering from the depression, greater emphasis was being placed on dressing up. Plaids and checks were introduced in the English blade model suits.

A NEW LOOK

The spread collar and the Windsor knot appeared on the well-dressed American male. During this time the drape suit took hold in America. Dark blue chalk stripe suits were the rage in business circles.

For evening wear the man about town was dressing in a midnight blue double-breasted dinner jacket that featured satin-faced peaked lapels.

* * *

For leisure wear, the country gentleman was seen in narrow corduroy slacks known as breeks, a British influenced garment that was worn with a patterned tweed jacket and a cap.

In sporty suits, a racy note was struck with bright, big Glen Urquhart plaids. Even the vests had lapels.

Then came Pearl Harbor and the war years. Men's apparel went into a fashion blackout. Goods were hard to get—remember? No cuffs on trousers, narrow cuts in jackets and trousers, no chest pockets on topcoats.

* * *

Men's clothing was pretty colorless, as could be expected when almost 12,000,000 American men were wearing olive drab and navy blue.

GAY SPORTSWEAR

Immediately after the war, robust sportswear burst upon the scene. In an attempt to get as far as possible from the sameness of the military uniform, men appeared in sportswear that featured big bold prints and bright plaids.

* * *

The bold look made men fashion conscious and set the scene for the arrival of the continental influence. This consisted of the charcoal colors that were popular in Europe. With these dark tones, men found it advantageous to wear bright furnishings that contrasted with the darker suits.

At the same time leisure wear took a new turn with the introduction of the international air in sportswear. Bermuda shorts became popular. Europe contributed new ideas with sport collars and horizontal stripes in contrasting dark and light colors.

What will tomorrow's fashion for men look like?

* * *

Some fashion authorities say they will continue to change as men constantly seek new ways to improve their appearance.

STYLES OF FUTURE

They predict the return of a modified double-breasted suit without the bulky fronts previously seen. Lighter tones, with medium gray predominating, and lighter accessories will be seen.

* * *

They further predict that men's clothing in 1956 will reflect the international air, with inspiration coming from all corners of the globe to enliven every man's wardrobe—a far cry from 25 years ago when male fashions were for the few.

To Mark 125th Church Anniversary

Rites Scheduled for Wednesday

Congregationalists Plan Ceremonies in Evening Beginning at 6:30

Monday marks the 125th anniversary of the founding of First Congregational Church of Pontiac. An anniversary banquet and program is planned for Wednesday, at 6:30 p.m.

The early history of the Congregational Church is closely related to that of the First Presbyterian Church, which was organized seven years earlier. A "Plan of Union" between Connecticut Congregationalists and the Presbyterian denomination had been entered into in 1801.

Although the church was organized by a Presbyterian, the first pastor of the Presbyterian Church was a missionary from the American Home Missionary Society, which was then a joint Presbyterian and Congregational venture. This missionary, the Rev. Isaac W. Ruggles, served the Presbyterian Church during its first four years.

He then organized the Congregational Churches in Rochester in 1827 and Romeo in 1828. These are the two oldest Congregational Churches in the state.

On Feb. 6, 1831, he organized a Congregational Church in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Bent. Five persons were present, besides Mr. Ruggles. Eleven more were added during the year.

Ruggles, himself a Congregationalist, was one of the original members of the Detroit Presbytery when it was organized in 1827. He remained a member of it until 1839, at which time he transferred to the first Congregational Conference to be formed in the state. Likewise the Congregational Church of Pontiac was "under the watch and care" of the Detroit Presbytery from 1834 until 1857.

Behind the formation of the Congregational Church lay a desire of the people of Pontiac for a church of their own. The First Presbyterian Church was then serving three townships, and its meetings were held in widely scattered places. Its pastor was really a circuit rider covering most of the county.

In 1828 a Presbyterian "Society" was formed in Pontiac and soon claimed 42 members. By formal vote they asked the American Home Missionary Society to return Mr. Ruggles another year.

This Society, however, was not the official body of the Presbyterian Church, and within two weeks the session of the church asked that Mr. Ruggles be replaced by a younger and "more talented" man. Mr. Ruggles was officially asked to find another field for labor.

It was at this time that he turned his energies to the formation of the Congregational Churches of Rochester and Romeo in 1827.

The formation of the First Congregational Church of Pontiac in 1831 may have been an outgrowth of the Presbyterian "Society" of Pontiac which had asked for Mr. Ruggles' return in 1828. The desire for a village church and a local minister had not been satisfied through the official actions of the Presbyterian Church, which was still a county-wide organization.

Most of the early members of the Congregational Church were dismissed by letter from the Presbyterian body, and Mr. Ruggles became their first pastor.

For two years worshippers met in the old Courthouse building. In 1833, a piece of land at the northeast corner of Huron and Saginaw streets was granted to the church. The other corners were given to the Presbyterian and Baptist churches and the Courthouse.

The plan was to make this area the cultural center of Pontiac. The building, constructed of wood, was the first church in Pontiac and built when Michigan was still a territory.

An altercation within the Congregational Church seems to have brought the Presbyterian Church back to Pontiac. Rev. L. P. Bates, who had served the Congregational Church for two years, was asked to resign. The matter was taken before the Detroit Presbytery and the Presbytery dismissed him from the pastorate of the Congregational Church.

Some of his friends, however, asked for their letters, intending to go to the Presbyterian church which was then inactive and located at Auburn. At first this request for dismissal was refused. The Presbyterian Church had voted on May 19, 1837 to ask the Presbytery for a dissolution of the church at Auburn. It had been inactive since then.

On Sept. 7, 1841 a meeting of the Presbyterian Church was held in the vestry of the Congregational Church and received nine members from the Congregational Church into its membership.

The division between "New School" and "Old School" Presbyterians was a result, at least in part, of the ill-fated "Plan of Union" under which the local churches had been formed. The attempt to work closely with Congregationalists had brought about a split in the larger fellowship of the Presbyterian Church.

Thus we see the Pontiac Congregational Church a member of the Detroit Presbytery at a time when the local Presbyterian Church had withdrawn from it. Eventually, however, the "Plan of Union" was repudiated by both denominations.

In 1857, the First Congregational Church of Pontiac withdrew from the Detroit Presbytery and joined the Eastern Conference of Congregational Churches.

In 1865, it was voted to tear down the original frame building and erect a brick church on the same site (where Waites now stands).

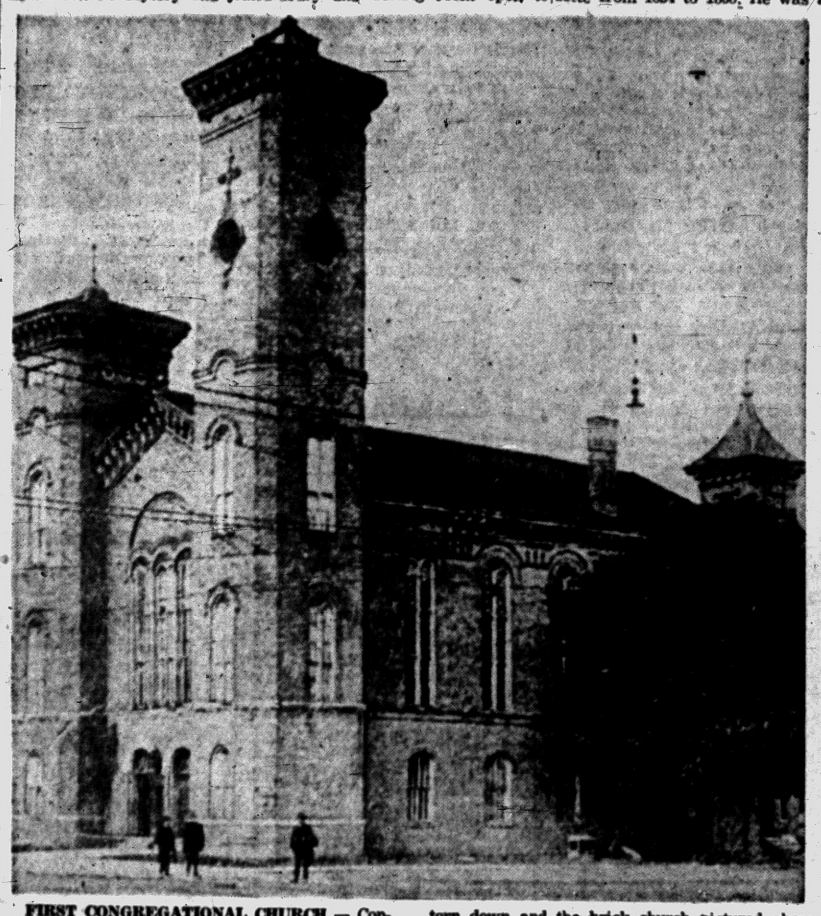
One of the outstanding features of the church was the public library and writing room open to the public. The first YMCA was organized in the basement and the first lecture course, bringing outside speakers to Pontiac, met in the auditorium.

A former member of the First Congregational Church and its clerk for some time was E. B. Knight, editor of the Pontiac Gazette from 1854 to 1858. He was a judge of probate, member of the common council, and secretary of the Lapeer and Pontiac roads. Mr. Knight was credited with having named the Republican party at the convention under the great oaks in Jackson.

In 1911 a new church was built on the corner of Huron and Mill Streets. By 1924 this structure was crowded. The city was then talking of cutting through East Huron street and making it a main thoroughfare. The church purchased additional lots on Mill street and began in 1926 the large Gothic church structure which is still in the process of completion.

Serving as general chairman for the anniversary observance is Mrs. C. Wales Goodwin. For the program, Mrs. Howard McIntyre is preparing five brief dramatic sketches (in costume) to portray some of the early events in the life of the church. Charles A. Wilson will be in charge of the music.

The Rev. Malcolm A. Burton, pastor, will give a summary of the early church history. Dr. William H. Marbach of the First Presbyterian Church has assisted with historical data with the files of his church.



FIRST CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH — Constructed of wood, the first Congregational Church in Pontiac was built in 1834 when Michigan was still a territory. It was also the first church in Pontiac and located where Waite's Department Store now stands. In 1865, the frame building was torn down and the brick church pictured above was erected and dedicated in 1868 on the same site. It served the community until the property was sold. A new church was then built on the corner of Mill and E. Huron streets in 1911.

WHAT'S THAT NEXT LINE? — In this scene from "Cradle Troubadour," three-act comedy to be staged at St. Michael High School Sunday and Monday nights, Fred West as a baby psychiatrist-to-be clutches his head in despair as he tries to remember the lines of a jingle that will win him $15,000. At his right, Gerald Kucera, the "Wandering Voice" who controls the award, counts off the fateful minutes. Joanne Allen (left) and Mary Singles urge Fred on in his effort to claim the prize. With the added attraction of a six-month-old baby and a live, bloodthirsty hound, the comedy-mystery promises a suspense-packed evening for both students and adults.

'Cradle Troubadour' to Be Staged

By JANET ENGLISH

Something new and different is in store for audiences of "Cradle Troubadour," St. Michael High School's senior play to be shown at 8 p.m. Sunday and Monday.

As part of the cast, six-month-old Peggy Sears will play the role of a kidnapped baby, and a live, ferocious bloodhound will aid in the ensuing search.

In the complicated plot, Bill Markeley (Gerald Steinhelper) and his wife (Pat Hayden) leave their baby with Touchy Williams (Fred West), who sems to be the best possible "sitter" since he is aspiring to be a baby psychiatrist. But in spite of foresight and care, events occur which upset his carefully laid plans and the baby completely disappears.

Police Sergeant McClosky (Janice Sears) ably handles the situation with her husband, Joe McClosky, played by James Daugherty.

CAST LISTED

Others in the cast are Judy Marantette, Larry Maison, Jack Erb, Frances Hayes, Ronald Mead, Margaret Bateman, James Ebert, Mary Singles and Joanne Allen.

Alternate parts will be played by John Adams and John Keller, Colleen McEnery and Pat Sears, Elizabeth Taylor and Rebecca Vitasinsky, Daniel Stark and Scott Schneider, Shirley Fox and Mary Heitjan.

The Senior Chorus will complete the evening's entertainment with two vocal numbers, a service medley and "On Moonlight Bay."

The behind-the-stage angle will be handled by Elaine Neussendorfer as stage manager. She will be assisted by Kerry Croteau, Hugh Walker, Janet English, Maryann Lane, Richard Soucy, Pat Lane, Roberta Wright and Mary Hubarth. Jean Shaw, Joan Wiegandt, Mary Lee Tunny, Rose Weishaar are in charge of make-up.

TICKETS AT DOOR

Miss Natalie Sayers of Detroit is directing the production. Tickets will be available at the door at 75 cents each.

"An American Road" was viewed by the American history classes Monday. The advances of industry since the Model T Ford made up the historical background of this film.

WINS SCHOLARSHIP

Jim Barnowsky, a junior, has been named as one of the winners of the Dale Carnegie Scholarships offered by Junior Achievement. He attended the first session in Highland Park last Friday.

Along with report cards on Monday came the announcement that 6 seniors, 4 juniors, 18 sophomores and 8 freshmen had earned a place on the roll of honor for their efforts last quarter.

Emmanuel Christian Working on Yearbook

The Emmanuel Christian School yearbook staff has been busy this week preparing copy for the 1956 Conqueror. Working on the yearbook are Sharon Rollison, Mrs. Marie Stallcup, Connie Barron, Ronnie Thomas, Phil Wood, Fred Groves, Floyd Osburn, Pat Black, Robert Ferguson, Fred Kinzer, Jack Clarno, Barbara Vaughn and Anita Simoneau.

WINS EDISON AWARD — Jane Hoffman of 2760 Sylvan Shores, a graduate of St. Frederick High School, is one of 35 Michigan winners of one-year college grants given by the Detroit Edison Co. Now in her first year at Aquinas College, Jane is shown here with Hugh Watson of Edison's Pontiac branch at a recent Scholarship Day program in Detroit. She was picked from among January and June 1955 high school graduates to receive the award on the basis of scholarship, character, citizenship and extracurricular activities.

With 245 fledglings from the city's five junior high school attending first classes at Pontiac High School this week, the spring semester opened with over 2,400 students enrolled.

Besides new students, a number of new teachers have come to Pontiac High School. Two new driver training instructors, Elmer E. Lee and George H. Stewart, have been added to the drivers training staff, bringing the number to four.

Herbert Stewart is a new history teacher, and beginning next week instructor Prueter will be with the art department. Mike Adonian will instruct in the science and math department.

New students are being offered a special student union activity plan costing $4 in return for the yearbook, the Quiver; a number of basketball games, four assemblies, and the school paper, the Tomahawk for the remainder of the school semester. The cost of these benefits, is only a dollar more than the cost of the yearbook itself.

GET ACQUAINTED

Most of the week students spent becoming acquainted with classes and teachers and obtaining minor adjustments in schedules.

There are some classes this semester which are firsts. Prominent are the reading improvement classes. Journalism classes are being held and French (which began in the fall) is in its second semester. Also new is the forensics class.

Club elections and activities have also started off with the new semester. The PHS biology club, the Linnear Society, chose Emanuel Williams as president. Other officers are Bill Hanson, vice president; Patricia McAllister, secretary; James Livingston, treasurer, and Bob Tenny, historian.

The Future Nurses Club installed its officers after school Wednesday. The glee clubs also are electing officers. Sharon Holland was chosen president of the Selective Girls' Glee Club, Julie Blank assists her as vice president; Barbara Berg is secretary and librarians are Maria Cosmos and Mary Alice Williams.

Both the PHS basketball team and the swimming team will travel to meet Saginaw Valley competition.

The basketball team will meet Arthur Hill at Saginaw tonight, while the Nators take on Flint Central.

Varsity cheerleaders are proud of their new black skirts with the vivid orange lining, widely flared so that the contrasting shades make a colorful spectacle when the girls step or turn. Junior cheerleaders have orange skirts with black lining. The new costumes were a Christmas gift of the student body.

Focus on Future at Waterford

Students Plan New Play, Talent Show Entries, Senior Prom

By JEAN LIMATTA

After the pressure of mid-term exams and report card markings, Waterford Township High School students swung into the new semester with plans for future plays, talent show entries and parties.

Eighty dollars was contributed to the March of Dimes as a result of the Student Council's charity dance held last week. Nearly 300 students attended.

The Skippers chalked up a Waterford victory Friday when they defeated Van Dyke. Tonight Walled Lake will visit Waterford. Student Council is planning an after-game dance in the gym.

Tomorrow at 8 p.m. seniors will attend their second class party at the home of Barrett Harrison on Scott Lake. Skating, tobogganing, and dancing are the activities planned.

Don Barry's popular Detroit dance band has been tentatively contracted for the senior prom. Five seniors and their sponsor, Donald Arsen, visited a Detroit ballroom last Friday to hear Barry's band.

Waterford's honorary journalism society, Quill and Scroll, will initiate new members Feb. 22 at 7 p.m. Fifteen students who have done outstanding journalistic work and are in the upper third of their class are being considered for entrance.

With the help of Pontiac High's Society, the WTHS Ripley-Day Chapter was formed last year. Officers of the 10-member club are Karl Liewert, president; Barbara Graham, secretary; and Eleanor Passage, treasurer.

Dramatics club members will begin trying out for roles in the new play, "Harvey," next week. Mary Chase's story of an imaginary rabbit is sure to be a hilarious comedy.

Student Council is holding auditions for the Inter-Lakes talent assembly. Waterford will see the performers from the various Inter-Lakes schools Feb. 22.

Madison Looks Forward to Big Move

Schedules Keep Junior Highs Busy

With the semester's new crop of pupils enrolled, both students and teachers were busy with schedules and general organization in the city's junior high schools this week.

The introduction of new teachers, selection of clubs, choosing of hall guards and patrols and distribution of report cards were only a few of the matters that drew their quota of attention.

AT MADISON

Madison Junior High School's semester has been extended temporarily. Students and teachers, still in their old building at Wever school, are eagerly waiting the transfer to the new building.

Clubs have adjourned until after moving day, and activities are generally at a standstill. However, some homerooms are making preparations for homeroom parties.

One change has been made in the teaching staff. Rhea Jagoe, a former Lincoln Junior High School faculty member, has been assigned to replace Jan Heyse, English instructor. Mrs. Heyse is moving to Lansing to be with her husband who has been transferred there.

AT EASTERN

Eastern Junior High reports a busy week.

Cafeteria, noon and hall guards are newly organized. It is the job of these guards to keep order and prevent unnecessary disturbances in the hall between classes and in the cafeteria during lunch.

The outside patrol soon will have its boys stationed on corners near the school, to give needed traffic-type help.

There was much pondering and deciding Tuesday after school and Wednesday morning, when students joined clubs.

AT WASHINGTON

Washington Junior High started the week with another big boost to the school's spirits — Tuesday's basketball victory over Isaac Crary Junior High. In their 15th consecutive win (the second over Crary), Washington's Braves chalked up a score of 57-28.

Wednesday, Washington's seventh and eighth grade teams kept up the good work when they won both their matches against Crary, by big margins.

Students got report cards Monday, the first day of the semester, and also program cards listing classes and teachers.

The school has two new faculty members. Mrs. Eunice Thompson is the new physical education instructor and Ernie Watson has returnd to Washington to teach math and geography.

AT LINCOLN

Lincoln Junior High's eighth and ninth grade vocal classes lost no time this week getting back to work on music for the first all-city junior high vocal festival. The festival is scheduled for Feb. 28, and a mass rehearsal will be held before the program date.

Lincoln's vocalists have been practicing such numbers as "God of Our Fathers," "Fairest Lord Jesus" and "American the Beautiful."

Homemaking classes are putting the finishing touches on spring outfits. Jumpers seem to be the most popular this year, with swing skirts a close second.

* * *

The "Baby Sitting Club reports calls are beginning to come through the school with offers of baby sitting jobs. The club finished a profitable semester with the study of babies, their needs and care.

LINCOLN OFFICERS—Tom O'Brien, president, and Judy Phipps, vice president, new school officers of Lincoln Junior High, planned out their work ahead of time, so they would have a headful of good ideas to start the new semester Monday.

Sports, Style Show, J-Hop Spark Area School Interest

Sports, a style show, preparations for a J-hop and a banquet sparked student interest in Pontiac area schools this week.

With the new semester almost a week old, students were well in the groove when it came to planning new activities.

STYLE SHOW HELD

Rochester High School Home Economics Classes launched off the school's new semester with a style show last night in the school gymnasium.

Students modeled garments they had completed in the course of the previous semester. Emceeing the show was Geneva Murray. Instructor of the classes sponsoring the affair is Mrs. Earnestine Miles.

Rochester played Milford on the Rochester court Tuesday night. The game ended in defeat for Rochester's Falcons, however, with a score of 44-55.

RHS cagers will play Romeo on the home court tonight. An afternoon pep assembly was given today which Rochesterites hope will boost the players on to victory. Along with tonight's game will be a dance, sponsored by the sophomore class.

J-HOP AT AVONDALE

Tomorrow night's J-hop is the big event at Avondale High this week. With Pete Bentz furnishing the music, the junior class is expecting a large turnout, with many alumni included in the group.

The boys on the basketball teams have their first free Friday night since New Year's. They will be back in action at Waterford next Tuesday. Meanwhile, the girls team is playing a decisive game at Royal Oak Madison this afternoon.

Avondale's annual athletic banquet next Wednesday will feature Michigan State University's former All-American and present backfield coach Lou Zarza a smaster of ceremonies. Special football awards will be given out at the banquet, tickets for which can be purchased from any Avondale athlete.

Thursday night will find students cheering their faculty team in a basketball match with the Clawson faculty. Athletic director Frank Crowell claims to have the greatest aggregation of basketball talent in Michigan, but some of the students are skeptical.

PLAN DRIVER TRAINING

Because of a new state law, driver education program at Walled Lake High as well as other schools is undergoing a change. The new law, effective in February, 1957, will require persons under 18 to have completed a course in driver training before getting a driver's license.

Each student must have an opportunity to take driver education, and next semester the Walled Lake course will be offered to juniors and seniors who have not previously completed the training.

The course will call for six hours behind the wheel and 30 hours of classroom work, and the state will pay the school $25 for each student taking the instruction.

Under the new system, each group of drivers will receive behind the wheel training for 3½ weeks. Classroom instruction for all will commence the beginning of May. Two driver training instructors, Don Smith and Miles Freeland, will alternate giving road tests and classroom instruction.

Two types of transmissions are being used in the driver training cars this year, the standard shift and the automatic, to allow practice with both types of transmissions.

For the past seven years, driver training has been available to most Walled Lake sophomores.

St. Fred Teacher Qualified to Give Driver Training

Although St. Frederick High School has no organized driver training course, the school has a qualified nistructor ready in the event such a course is scheduled.

Eugene T. Wright, athletic coach and algebra and physics instructor, was graduated Friday from the 26th Driver Training Institute at the University of Michigan.

He attended the week-long Institute on an all expense scholarship from the Automobile Club of Michigan, receiving 40 hours, special training in classroom and behind-the-wheel driver education teaching methods.

V for Victory?

St. Michael High School's junior varsity cheerleaders are sporting new blue-grey V-neck sweaters, a diversion from the turtle-neck variety worn by the varsity squad.

U.S. Census Shows Oakland County Farms Worth More

Value $301 Acre; Survey Shows

Average Price $84.37 for Nation, According to Census Bureau

Special to the Pontiac Press

NEW YORK — Acre for acre, farms in Oakland County command higher prices than do those in most other parts of the nation. This is one of several encouraging aspects of the local farm problem revealed in the Census Bureau's new Census of Agriculture.

The results of the survey are being issued in preliminary form for each of the 3,067 counties in the United States. It is the first thorough study of the kind since 1950.

It shows that the average value of farms (land plus buildings only) in Oakland County is $301.49 an acre, an increase over the 1950 figure, $195.02 an acre.

This is more than farmers can get for their property in most parts of the country. The average price is $84.37 an acre. The local figure is better, also than that for the northern states as a whole, $107.49 an acre.

OVER-ALL TOTAL UP, TOO

In terms of total dollars per farm, values also rose locally since the last census. The average value in the county, excluding machinery and equipment but including land and buildings, has climbed to $30,612 per farm, according to the current census. It had been $17,267 per farm in 1950.

The downward drift of agricultural prices, which has become a matter of major concern to the entire nation, has meant an overall decline in net farm income.

Its effect, according to the Agriculture Department, has been somewhat cushioned by the fact that there has been a large drop in farm population. The farm income, therefore, on a per capita basis, has declined to a smaller degree.

Some measure of relief is expected thorugh enactment by Congress of the President's soil bank plan, which contemplates the retirement of roughly 10 per cent of farm land now planted to crops.

* * *

This would mean, according to the census data, the retirement of up to 10,588 acres in Oakland County where there were 105,876 acres normally planted to crops.

New Zealand will give $2,800 toward the cost of a headquarters for the Boys' Brigade, in Wellington.

Tragedy Rocks Chicago Family

Sobbing Mother Tells of Son's Death, Eviction and Jobless Husband

CHICAGO (AP)—It was a day of ill fortune for the Joseph Gall family yesterday. And then, sudden death, for one of the family's three children.

* * *

Sobbing hysterically in a hospital where her 4½-year-old son was pronounced dead, Mrs. Betty Gall, 35, told of the day's unhappy events.

The boy, James, was killed last night by a bus while his mother, screaming, tried to save him from falling under the wheels. She said the bus door closed on the child's hand and dragged him from her arms.

Mrs. Gall and her son were returning from Children's Memorial Hospital where they had visited another son, Robert, 14 months, who is ill of pneumonia.

EVICTION ORDER

Mrs. Gall said she and her husband earlier had been ordered to appear in court today in connection with an eviction order. Their landlord, Joseph Ciba, 69, is seeking to evict them from their four-room basement apartment. They have another child, Gloria Jean, 6. The father is unemployed.

Police seized the bus driver, George Van Loan, 55, and charged him with reckless homicide and negligent driving.

* * *

Ciba confirmed that he had started eviction proceedings. He said the Galls owed him $37.50 in rent for January and had "broken the windows."

Told of the tragedy, Ciba said he had not changed his mind.

Famous Comic Succumbs at 64

'Bazooka' Bob Burns Defeated by Cancer in California Hospital

HOLLYWOOD (INS)—Bob Burns, famed hillbilly comic of the films of the '30s, died in West Valley Community Hospital yesterday. He was 64. The comedian had been in a coma for six days.

Dr. David Hertz, Burns' family physician, said the homespun humorist died of cancer.

Hertz said Burns was stricken with cancer of the left kidney about three years ago and it was removed by surgery. However, the ailment spread and he was bedridden the past few weeks.

He was admitted to the hospital in Encino last Saturday, but treatment could not save him.

INACTIVE SINCE '45

Burns had been inactive in show business since 1945. During the past ten years he invested heavily in San Fernando Valley real estate and amassed another fortune.

Burns told hillbilly tales and tooted a weird home-made musical instrument which he dubbed a bazooka. The anti-tank weapon of World War II was named after Burns' frog-toned musical gadget.

Burns is survived by his second wife, Harriet Foster, and four children—Robert Jr., 33; Barbara, 17; Robbin, 16 and Stephen, 15.

Burns, born in Van Buren, Ark., entered the movies after a brief stint in vaudeville. His screen hits included "Singing Vagabond," "Rhythm on the Range," "Big Broadcast of 1937," "Mountain Music," "Wells Fargo," Arkansas Traveler," "I'm from Missouri," "Our Leading Citizen," "Alias the Deacon," "Coming Around the Mountain," and "Belle of the Yukon."

Benefactor 'Mr. X' Is Alfred P. Sloan

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP) — The mysterious "Mr. X" who donated to Massachusetts Institute of Technology, has been revealed as Alfred P. Sloan Jr., chairman of the board of General Motors.

As the anonymous "Mr. X," Sloan offered a year ago to match alumni contributions dollar-for-dollar.

Sloan's share to the alumni fund totaled $515,000. The entire amount of the fund will become a memorial to former M. I. T. President and Chairman Karl P. Compton and will be used toward construction of the Karl Taylor Compton Laboratories for nuclear science and engineering and electronics.

Sloan said in a statement: "It has been a privilege for me to share with the other alumni in making possible this permanent and most fitting memorial to a truly great man."

Sloan graduated from MIT in 1895.

George Jessel Says Motor City Is 'Too Clean'

DETROIT (INS) — Entertainer George Jessel said in Detroit yesterday that the Motor City is "too clean."

Jessel, in Detroit to thank Henry Ford II for a Ford Foundation gift of $200,000 to the City of Hope, a Los Angeles hospital, said:

"Why I remember when this city had five gambling spots, all wide open, three burlesque houses and a lot of legitimate theater. It was a better town in those days."

The 57-year-old showman also reminisced about the Sheraton-Cadillac Hotel. He said:

"It was in this hotel that I married my third and last wife, there were 90 wedding guests and I think all but three were newspaper reporters."

Jessel, interested in the stock market, asked for the name of a local broker. The suggestion of Merrill, Lynch, Pierce, Fenner and Beane, brought his remark:

"Look, I haven't got all day. My plane leaves in a couple hours."

Parties Keep Up Corruption Row

State Dems Deny GOP Charges and Refuse to Debate Matter Publicly

LANSING (AP) — Republicans and Democrats continued a marathon duel of words today over Republican charges of corruption in state government.

* * *

Democratic State Chairman Neil Staebler turned down a Republican challenge to debate the corruption charges with this comment in a telegram to John Feikens Republican state chairman:

"Why should we debate something that doesn't exist? You started this by making a false public charge that you had 'evidence of serious corruption' in state government.' You couldn't produce . . . now you want us to dignify your political slanders by public debates."

Feikens answered Staebler in a telegram sent only a few hours later.

Asking Staebler why he was "running away" from a debate, he reiterated his charge that Democrats were guilty of corruption of state government in five instances.

SPENDING PUBLIC'S MONEY

He said examples of corruption were the governor's refusal to extradite to Wisconsin a man wanted there on a charge of felonious assault, "spending people's money for politics without their consent," the "failure of the attorney general to require all political committees to file reports of expenditures" and others.

"You admit the truth of my charges but say they don't constitute corruption," he said. ". . . Let's quit fiddling and make definite arrangements to debate my charges, then proceed from there."

Ike Rated Tops by Head of GM

Says Business Reflects Public Confidence in His Administration

MIAMI (AP) — Harlow H. Curtice, president of General Motors, told a news conference yesterday that public confidence in the Eisenhower administration is largely responsible for the high level of 1955 business activity.

He made the remark in answer to a question as to whether it would make any difference to GM which political party wins the presidential election.

Curtice added, "we are very much interested in whether he (Eisenhower) will run again. I believe Mr. Eisenhower is one of the greatest, if not the greatest of our presidents.

The number of cars on the road is going to continue to increase as our population grows, Curtice said, and he added that "something must be done" to get highways to accommodate them.

"I think toll roads are desirable," he replied in answer to a question. "I'm not concerned about tolls. The motorists will have to pay for any new roads, anyway, through taxes."

In response to another question, he said GM has no plans to produce a lower priced car. To do so, he said, many parts that the public desires would have to be deleted and "the value comes out faster than the cost."

The public has dictated the size of GM's smallest car, the Chevrolet, Curtice said, and "the best for those looking for lower prices would be in the used car market."

Suspect Arrested in Hit-Run Fatality

Pontiac Police will return today from Gary, Ind. with a former Pontiac man suspected in a hit-and-run death here Dec. 18.

The man, 39, reportedly volunteered to take a lie detector test.

Oakland County Prosecutor Frederick C. Ziem said there is not enough evidence in the case at this time to order a warrant.

"But he looks like an awfully good prospect," Ziem said.

Police and Assistant Prosecutor Walter Denison left yesterday to obtain a statement from the man.

He is suspected of running down Wellington McDonald, 74, of 3635 Joslyn Rd., who died a few hours after the accident on E. Walton Blvd.

Re-Designing Program Set for Belle Isle Zoo

DETROIT (INS) — Frank McGinnis, Detroit zoo director, is preparing a re-design program for the Belle Isle Zoo.

The re-design, which McGinnis is preparing with John J. Considine, general superintendent of parks and recreation, will be submitted to Mayor Albert E. Cobo and common council in two weeks.

McGinnis said the out-moded bear pen, monkey display and deer yard would be given up as not worth repair. However, the elephant house would remain untouched and displays at the children's zoo would be increased.

A new modern sea lion display also is included in the plan.

Considine said the plans being prepared would provide 15 acres of additional land for public use.

Hughes Freed in Perjury Trial

Jury Locks on 4 Counts of Indictment as New Probe Is Not Foreseen

NEW YORK (AP)—A federal court jury today acquitted Paul H. Hughes on two counts of a six-count perjury indictment. The government apparently abandoned further action and he went free immediately.

* * *

The jury of 10 men and two women told Judge Archie O. Dawson it was "hopelessly deadlocked" on the remaining four counts.

The jury deliberated 11 hours. The trial started Jan. 16.

U. S. Atty. Paul W. Williams told newsmen it was "inconceivable that the government would move for a new trial."

The prosecutor said Hughes' bail of $1,000 would be discharged and the defendant was "free to go."

Hughes, 35, who had been chain-smoking and pacing a corridor outside the courtroom prior to the verdict, telephoned neighbors in Alexandria, Va., to inform his wife and two children.

* * *

He was charged with lying to a federal grand jury investigating Harvey Matusow, an ex-Communist who turned FBI informant against Red leaders and then recanted his testimony.

Hughes testified he was a tool in a political plot against Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis).

Frozen Vegetables to Be Slightly Higher

WASHINGTON (INS) — Until about July 1, consumers may expect to pay slightly more for canned, packaged and frozen vegetables than they did during the first six months of 1955.

In a summary of "the vegetable situation," including frozen vegetable stocks, the Agriculture Department said also today that supplies of canned and frozen vegetables available for distribution during the current marketing season are slightly smaller than a year ago.

It added that with the prospect of reduced stocks at the end of the marketing season, for the second straight year, vegetable processors are expected to seek a slightly larger pack this year than in 1955.

Officials say that prices received by growers for winter-season vegetables are expected to average about the same as a year earlier.

MIND YOUR MANNERS — 2
When Guests Arrive

Don has come to a party at Patty's house. He rings the bell, and he has his cap in his hand as Patty opens the door and welcomes him in.

When your guests arrive meet them at the front door, greet them warmly to show you really are glad they came. Ask them in, take care of their hats and coats, because even if they are quite apt to throw them down anywhere at home, they would never want to do that in your house.

If there are a number of people already in the house when a guest arrives, be sure that the newcomer gets a chance to greet everyone and is introduced to any who are strangers to them.

See that everyone has a chair and is part of the circle. Do not leave any visitor out of the conversation, or devote all your attention to any one person. See that each guest is drawn into the conversation and is a real part of the group. If you have something to show the visitors be sure everyone sees it in turn.

For your scrapbook you can color this picture with crayons as you wish.

Ike, Eden Produced Nothing Startling . . . . . for Public Statement

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP)—Nothing startling—and little that looks positive at this moment—came out of the three-day meeting between President Eisenhower and British Prime Minister Eden.

* * *

The two men issued a joint statement on where they had, and hadn't, agreed. Later, officials briefed newsmen on what lay behind some of the items in the statement and added some which were not included in it.

* * *

It is possible the President and Prime Minister reached understandings not made public. It is also possible their two governments may in time take action based on the discussions here.

But on the surface, taking the statement and the briefing together, the positive and immediate things done at the conference were few.

In language as strong as any used by the West since the summit conference in Geneva last summer, the two men blasted the Russians for their determination to expand and for their dictatorship over the people they control.

This made it plain they considered the cold war back in full force. Their charges against Russia will, when broadcast to Asians and Iron Curtain peoples, serve as counterpropaganda to Russian charges of Western colonialism.

Middle East: Eisenhower and Eden expressed concern about the possibility of war in the Middle East. But they produced no solution. They agreed to talk with France about possible steps to take.

* * *

This might lead to a decision to intervene if war broke out. As a means of keeping peace, the Western Allies will have future talks about such ideas as financial and economic sanctions against an aggressor in the Middle East and the possible use of the American 6th Fleet which operates in the Mediterranean.

No decisio was reached on granting Israel's request for arms.

Asia: Red China was warned not to get frisky. The two men said they are "united in our purpose . . . to deter and prevent aggressive expansion by force or subversion." But then, in their statement, they acknowledged they hadn't agreed on how to do it.

Briefing officers said Eisenhower believes he won Eden's agreement to help block United Nations membership for Red China this year.

Europe: Eisenhower and Eden agreed this country and Britain would continue what they've been doing there, such as backing the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, demanding Russia let Germany unite, and so on.

Atomic: The two men simply said they would continue working for the establishment of an international agency for the peaceful development of atomic energy. Briefing officers added the two nations agreed they would not stop testing atomic and hydrogen weapons.

State Episcopalians Send Bishop Abroad

DETROIT (AP)—A family trip to Europe will be given the Rt. Rev. Richard S. Emrich, Episcopal bishop of Michigan, in recognition of the 10th anniversary of his consecration as a bishop.

* * *

The bishop was given a new car and an oil self portrait.

Announcement of the gifts was made last night at a banquet following the close of the diocesan convention. Men and women of 157 parishes and missions are contributing to a fund for the gifts.

The bishop was told that he and his wife and their two sons will spend a month in England and a month on the continent next summer.

* * *

Consecrated a suffragan bishop on June 11, 1946, Bishop Emrich has been head of the diocese since 1948.

Plant to Be Expanded

TRAVERSE CITY (AP) — Cone-Drive Gears Co., a division of the Michigan Tool Co., says it will begin 50 per cent expansion soon of its present plant at a cost of one million dollars. The addition is expected to be completed next summer.

Hagerty Denies Claim He's Out Job Hunting

GUYS & GALS & GAGS & GOSSIP . . .

NEW YORK—Harry S. Truman told Wash'n friends, Ike misses Gen. Omar Bradley now—'cause Bradley made up his mind for him . . . Virginia Warren and Conrad Hilton deny the marriage rumors; they're just wonderful friends.

TV TATTLE: Herb Shriner's going to be next year's Perry Como—with an hour CBS variety show Friday nights. Who'll do "Two for the Money" is undecided. (Why not Fred Allen, whose illness made it possible for Herb to get it and hold it for four years?) Herb'll do a monologue, etc. Some present TV viewers don't know he did that when TV was young. "Gee whillikers," said Herb when he heard about it, "maybe I'll get discovered!"

KIM

Our favorite Hollywood gal, Kim Novak, will be 23 on Feb. 13 and anybody wishing to send her a birthday car may send her a birthday card may it to her personally, huge sacrifice though it'll be.

She'll be in Montreal and Toronto then, her first trip out of the country; so I may have to go up there to deliver it.

Kim's beau, Mack Krim, won't be with her, nor is he here with her now. "I wouldn't have time to see him," says she. But a guy bearing birthday cards, how could she refuse?

★ ★ ★ ★

Jim Hagerty, Ike's press secretary, is the loyal one. "I haven't talked to a soul about another job and wouldn't," he says. "He's my boy. I won't do a thing until he makes up his mind. But if he does get out of government, I hope to get out with him."

Ambulance Patient Dead After Crash

ANN ARBOR (AP)—An ambulance carrying a victim of a Chelsea auto accident collided with another car in downtown Ann Arbor yesterday. The victim of the Chelsea accident was taken from the ambulance dead.

Police identified him as Charles H. Rose of Detroit. Officers said they did not know whether he had died before the Ann Arbor collision or not.

Also injured in the Ann Arbor crash were Ronald Pulliam, 20, and his wife Glenna, 19, of Ann Arbor.

Brothers Get Trials Instead of Good News

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP)—Otis and Harry Grady should have told the prosecutor who they were. He had good news for them.

Instead, Otis, 54, went to jail, and Harry, 57, was ordered to leave town.

* * *

Acting City Prosecutor Milton L. Baldwin had been looking for the two brothers, reunited in jail last month after a 45-year separation, to let them know they were heirs to a small legacy left by a relative.

* * *

Baldwin admitted yesterday "they slipped right by me" when he tried Otis on new charges of begging and Harry for vagrancy. Otis got 30 days; Harry a suspended sentence provided he leave town.

The attorney said he would inform Otis of the legacy.

Man Leaves Waitress Generous Tip of $650

RAWLINS, Wyo. (AP)—A man finished eating breakfast in a Rawlins cafe, shoved a roll of bills to William Koontz and said:

"Give this to the little lady who has been waiting on us."

He walked out and Koontz discovered the wad of bills totaled $650.

The waitress, Mrs. Koontz, returned the money to other members of the party who had not finished eating. The only explanation they received from one of the party was:

"That was my brother. He's been having his troubles."

Hollywood Headlines:

Deborah Kerr Is Sought for Many Picture Roles

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD (INS)—Last year it was Grace Kelly mentioned for every picture being made. This year it's Deborah Kerr, who is about the most sought-after young lady in our town.

* * *

Bill Perlberg has interested Deborah in playing opposite Clark Gable in "Teacher's Pet." That would certainly be a combination—Gable and Kerr.

"Teacher's Pet," Bill told me, "won't be made until November. Deborah was to do 'Tea and Sympathy' for MGM first, and possibly 'Heaven Knows, Mr. Allison' for 20th Century-Fox."

I happen to know Paramount has offered Deborah everything but the kitchen stove to play Gertrude Lawrence in "Gertrude Lawrence as Mrs. A."

PRODUCER PECK

Gregory Peck and his partner in his independent company, Sy Bartlett, closed a deal to produce two films for United Artists release.

* * *

I'm not surprised that Greg wants to get in on the big money end of movie making. When he first came to Hollywood he was "cut up" between so many factions he hardly had a dollar for himself.

Greg and Sy believe that their first for UA will be "Affair of Honor" by William Hoffman, a new play which they bought from the Theater Guild the day before it went into rehearsal in New York. Peck will star and co-produce.

Meanwhile, he and his French bride Veronique are looking forward to two suntanned weeks in Palm Springs after he finishes "The Man in the Gray Flannel Suit."

If you've wondered how the film marriage in "Picnic" between Rosalind Russell and Arthur O'Connell turned out you'll get a chance to know.

Playwright Wiliam Inge, who created these amusing characters, Howard and Rosemary, has written a sequel called "The Hottest Night in Oak Malgee."

months later, peacefully settled

The happy pair is shown six down together. Now Inge is toying with the idea of developing the play into three acts as a starring vehicles for O'Connell on Broadway.

Before "Picnic," O'Connell found it difficult to get a job in the movies. Now the line forms to the right. That's what one good picture will do.

YOUNG TALENT

I believe it argues well for the future of our industry that 32-year-old Delbert Mann won the directors' award for "the best-directed film of the year" for his first film, "Marty." So often we are prone to say there is no new talent.

Another popular choice was the presentation of the coveted David Wark Griffith Award to Henry King. Only two other directors, Cecil B. DeMille and John Ford, have won the Griffith Award.

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random: You can call Mike Todd grandfather in May. His son, Mike Jr., and his wife expect a baby.

Debbie Reynolds and Eddie Fisher are pricing lots in Beverly Hills. Their honeymoon house in the Pacific Palisades hasn't been too healthy for Debbie who has had a cold for days.

Phyllis Stanley (Mrs. Steve Miller in private life) gets the femme lead in "The Black Sleep" with Basil Rathbone and Lon Chaney Jr.

Boys' Request for Plane to Play With Rejected

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — The Air Force said no, and two Dublin, Ind., farm boys won't get the airplane they requested.

Neal and Dennis Johnson had written and asked Wright-Patterson AFB for "any old plane" with which to play.

"The planes are not ours to give away," replied base commander Col. Paul Barton yesterday. "They are the property of all the people of the United States."

Barton, however, invited the Johnson boys to the base's Armed Forces Day show May 20.

Peron Requests Panama Stay

Ex-Argentine Dictator Applies for Permission to Reside One Year

PANAMA (AP)—Ex-President Juan D. Peron of Argentina has applied for permission to reside in Panama for one year.

Attorney Carlos Vaccaro of Colon City, where Peron has been living at the U.S. government-owned Hotel Washington, since November, said at the end of a year request chauffeur, Isaac Giloberte, prepare residence applications. The lawyer said at the end of ayear request would be made for indefiniet residence.

Peron, whose 10-year dictatorship was overthrown last September, first went into exile in Paraguay, then came here in November on a Paraguayan passport. His visa expires next Monday.

Panama's requirements for residence are a certificate of good conduct, a health certificate, proof of financial solvency and deposit of a certified check for $225.

Generally the application is granted once regulations have been complied with. It was not disclosed whether Peron planned to remain in Colon or move to Panama City, the capital.

Mother of 10 Supports Mate at Murder Hearing

COMPTON, Calif. (AP)—Carrying an infant grandchild and accompanied by seven of her 10 children, Mrs. Willie Moab Chevallier, 46, commented following her husband's preliminary hearing on a murder charge:

"We want Daddy to know we're all on his side, and know he did right."

Police say Chevallier, 57, shot William C. McGrady, 26, when McGrady drove Mrs. Chevallier home from a cocktail bar last Jan. 21. Mrs. Chevallier told officers McGrady attempted to molest her.

Municipal Judge Ralph Dills set Feb. 16 for Chevallier's Superior Court trial.

Actor Aumont Named as Guardian of Estate

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Jean Pierre Aumont, husband of the late screen actress Maria Montez, has been appointed guardian of their 10-year-old daughter's estate.

Miss Montez died Sept. 7, 1951, in Paris, leaving an estate after debts and expenses of $9,370. The child, Maria Christine, who is attending school in New York, will receive about $2,342, the French actor advised a Superior Court hearing.

Canadiens Rock(et) Red Wings, 2-0

Title Hopes in NHL Fade for Detroit Sextet

Richard, Beliveau Fire Goals in Final Four Minutes of Play

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Red Wings were all but out of the National Hockey League title race today—thanks to Maurice (Rocket) Richard and his teammate Jean Beliveau.

The two Montreal Canadien players fired in a pair of goals in the last four minutes of play last night to shut out the Wings, 2-0.

* * *

The win, before 14,430 fans pushed the Habitants to 14 points ahead of the third-place Wings.

Montreal Goalie Jacques Plante and Detroit net minder Glenn Hall had little work until in the late stages as each team played a tight game of defensive hockey. Plante had 19 saves while Hall was stopping 29 shots.

Dickie Moore started the Habs off when he dug the puck from behind the Detroit goal and passed to rookie Henri Richard. Henri flipped a pass to his older brother who drove a 10-footer under Hall's elbow at 16:01.

* * *

It was the 449th score of the Rocket's fabulous NHL career and his 27th for the season.

Left winger Bert Olmstead broke up a Detroit play and passed to Beliveau who scored his 30th goal of the season at 18:48. That goal made Beliveau the top goal scorer in the league and left him with 56 points, one behind leading Gordie Howe of the Wings.

Howe, silenced by the Canadiens' defensive shell was still looking for 300th career goal. He missed a pair of set-ups in the first three minutes of the game and the Frenchmen never gave him another chance.

* * *

A hot blast by Alex Delvecchio was the only other dangerous shot Jacques Plante handled all evening, in posting his seventh shutout.

There are no games posted tonight in the league but all six teams see double action during the weekend.

The Wings visit Montreal tomorrow for their third game in a week with the Canadiens. Sunday Detroit plays Boston.

Coach Tells Story

Skater's Talent, Courage Won Medal

Editor's Note—The following story on Tenley Albright's battle against pain to win the Olympic gold medal in figure skating was written for The Associated Press by her coach, Mirabel Vinson Owen, herself a former skating champion.

By MIRABEL VINSON OWEN

CORTINA D'AMPEZZO, Italy (AP) —Tenley Albright's Olympic crown that she wears today is not only a tribute to her talent but to her sheer courage as well.

To carry the full weight of a country's expectation of victory in such competition as this is difficult enough. But to triumph with a badly injured leg takes the kind of guts not many people have.

Tenley fell and spiked her right leg just below the ankle bone with her left skate two days after the American team arrived here two weeks ago. What is not known and what only her father, her mother and I could know is the close margin by which she was able to skate at all.

If Tenley had not been able to bear pain with unbelievable fortitude, she would not have had the mobility in her right foot to do the exacting school figures Sunday and Monday and the even more taxing free skating program yesterday.

By the nature and timing of the injury, Tenley's leg never really had a chance to get well.

Two days after the accident her father, Dr. Hollis Albright, a well-known Boston surgeon, arrived here and the next day with her foot heavily taped Tenley was back on the ice taking her first strokes.

So much is well known but only we knew that in her impatience to get back in full training she badly over did it several days later, practicing for five hours and wearing the heavy tape for 15 hours without relief.

* * *

Such overexertion in the middle of last week set her back in one sense but helped her in another as she needed mental reassurance she could physically make herself go through her full routine when the crucial moment arrived.

And that, in a sense, is the secret of Tenley's greatness as an athlete.

At an early age she found what she set her mind to do she could eventually do. During those two weeks preceding the competition she never let thought of defeat or inability to skate enter her head.

Past '40' Meet Has Defending Champ in Lead

HARLINGEN, Tex. (AP)—Defending champion Warren Riepen of St. Joseph, Mo., moved into fourth-round matches in the Life Begins at 40 Tournament here today after advancing with another favorite, David (Spec) Goldman of Dallas, in action yesterday.

* * *

Today's pairings match Riepen vs. Phil Powell of Wichita Falls and Goldman vs. Lonnie Wendland of McAllen in the championship flight. Wendland lost out to Riepen in the final match in last year's tourney.

Chaplain 'Adopted'

Hope for Win With 'Skate and Prayer'

CORTINA D'AMPEZZO, Italy (AP) —The U.S. Olympic ice hockey team may take more than determination into their crucial game against Russia tonight.

* * *

A Catholic priest "adopted" by the Americans silently will be praying for their success.

The priest—Father Schwab of Chicago, Ill. — was spotted by a group of curious Russians outside the Americans' dressing room last night following the Yanks' 6-1 victory over Sweden.

One of the Russians asked Father Schwab whether he were an official member of the team.

* * *

"Some of the hockey players asked me to be their chaplain during the Olympics," he said. "I guess I've been adopted for the rest of the tournament."

"Do you think it helps them," the Russian retorted.

The priest grinned and replied, "Well, they've defeated Canada and Sweden since I came here—but I don't claim I'm the reason."

Ball Game May Shift Date for Title Bout

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Proposed world middleweight championship bout between Bobo Olson and Sugar Ray Robinson, slated for April 27 in Los Angeles, can't be held that night because Wrigley Field in LA will be in use for baseball.

Promoter Jackie Leonard indicated he would request a date change from the International Boxing Club in New York.

Paddy Driscoll New Bear Coach

Appointment by Halas Comes on Pro Owner's 61st Birthday

CHICAGO (INS) — Sixty-year-old Paddy Driscoll, limping from an old football hip injury, took over as head coach today of the rejuvenated Chicago Bears.

Appointment of Driscoll was announced by owner George Halas on the occasion of his own 61st birth anniversary yesterday, thus bring Halas' own 35-year coaching career to at least a tentative close.

Driscoll, an outstanding drop kicker during his college days at Northwestern University, has been connected with the Bears—off and on — since 1926.

During the past 15 years he has won wide repute as a general all-around professional coach, specializing in ironing out intricacies of the split-T offensive as developed under Halas, one of the great masters of the formation.

Driscoll has been with the Bears on a year-to-year basis — and his present arrangement with Halas calls for the same deal.

Halas made it clear at a news luncheon that he himself will continue to select player personnel and dictate general policy.

Air Force Team in AAU Relays

'Hot' Lockbourne Base Squad Headed by Fine Vaulter, Jumper

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Michigan AAU Relays open the Midwest indoor track season tonight with a field of 450 competitors including a hot team from the Lockbourne Air Force Base at Columbus, Ohio.

Topping the air force contingent are Chuck Holding, former East Texas State high jumper who has cleared 6-10 and George Mattos, a 14-8 pole vaulter from the 1952 Olympic team.

Mattos will battle with Eeles Landstrom of Finland, who has a 14-9 vault to his record. Landstrom attends the University of Michigan.

Deacon Jones, NCAA cross country champion, heads a strong team from the University of Iowa and entries will also be on hand from Ohio State, Purdue, Notre Dame, Loyola of Chicago, Wheaton, Central Michigan, Michigan Normal, Michigan and Michigan State.

Preliminaries will be run in the afternoon. Finals start at 7:30 p.m. (EST).

Sun Life, Trojans Win in City Loops

Sun Life and the Trojans scored easy victories Thursday night at the Pontiac High School gym in adult city league basketball games.

The Trojans evened their National League record at 4-4 by trouncing last place Loule's Tavern in the opening game, 67-52. Bob Williams sparked the winner attack with 30 points while Ron Sandage topped Loule's with 15.

Runner-up Sun Life whipped Stadium Inn, 75-50, in an American loop contest. Bob Hamilton and Hal Trott tallied 20 and 18 points respectively for Sun Life which notched its 7th win in nine starts. Homer Harrison led Stadium Inn with 14 points.

Badgers Grappled by Michigan State, 20-5

EAST LANSING (AP) — Michigan State wrestlers won six of eight matches last night, defeating Wisconsin, 20-5, in a Big Ten dual meet.

Wisconsin's Bo Konovksy, defending Big Ten heavyweight title holder, took the Badger's only win with a 4-0 decision over State's Pete Voss.

School for Officials

NEW YORK (INS) — The New York State Harness Racing Commission has announced establishment of three schools for the training of race officials.

Commission chairman George Monaghan said the training sites will be located at Roosevelt Raceway, Batavia Raceway and Vernon Downs. The 1st school will be held at Roosevelt from March 19 to 30.

Gulfstream Park used more than 3,000 gallons of paint in preparation for its March 3 opening.

Sheldon Inks Contract

Bengals Sign Ex-Maple to Minor League Pact

DETROIT (AP) — Infielder Harry Malmberg and outfielder Chick King have signed their 1956 contracts with the Detroit Tigers.

The Tigers now have 19 of their 42 players under contract.

Malmberg divided second base with Fred Hatfield last season. He hit .216 in 67 games.

King batted .295 for Detroit's Buffalo farm club.

* * *

Also coming to terms was Duke Maas, a 25-year-old righthander from Utica, Mich. After a huddle with general manager Harold (Muddy) Ruel, Maas said:

"I am over the arm trouble that bothered me last summer. I'm anxious to get going this spring."

Maas pitched with both Detroit and Buffalo in 1955. He had a 5-6 record with the Tigers and a 4-7 mark with Buffalo.

At the same time, the Tigers announced the signing of two players to minor league contracts.

* * *

They are Dick Anderson, an outfielder from the University of Minnesota, and Dick Sheldon, a pitcher from Birmingham, Mich.

Anderson signed a contract with Augusta in the South Atlantic League and Sheldon one with Charleston of the American Assn.

Sheldon, a righthander, was the pitching ace of the Maples' 1954 and 1955 teams which won the Eastern Michigan League titles in consecutive years.

Now a student at Western Michigan College, Sheldon posted an overall record of 14-3 at Birmingham, including several brilliant one-hit performances.

EX-MAPLE SIGNS —Former Birmingham high school pitching ace Dick Sheldon today signed a minor league contract with the Tigers to play for Charleston in the American Association. Sheldon led the Maples to two straight Eastern Michigan League titles.

Irish Beat Clements, 49-44, in SCL Game

Royal Oak St. Mary, held to a surprising 34-34 deadlock after three quarters of play, rallied to defeat stubborn St. Clement, 49-44, in a Suburban Catholic League basketball game Thursday night at Center Line High School.

The victory moved the Irish into 2nd place in the league with a 7-2 mark. It was the 9th straight loss for the cellar-dwelling Clements.

Phil Brzezinski paced the Irish with 15 points and teammates Phil Novell and Jerry Hall scored 10 and 11 respectively. Jack O'Mara tallied 15 points and Ed Ignash made 14 for the winless Clements.

Race Over

Detroit Yacht Still Out

NASSAU, Bahamas (AP)—The 184-mile to Nassau yacht race is over but four craft still have not checked in at the finish line.

The Coast Guard spotted three of the laggards late yesterday and planned a further check today if they did not show up in port.

Still somewhere on the final leg of the journey were the Noruna II, 58-foot schooner owned by Erik Walter of New Bedford Yacht Club; Water Witch, 50-foot schooner owned by John Rodstrom, City Island Yacht Club; Rambler, 48-foot schooner owned by J. Spencer McCourt and Kandu, 40-foot sloop owned by—Wilfred McGuire, Bayview view Yacht Club, Detroit.

The 67-foot yawl, Criollo, owned by Dr. Luis H. Vidana, was first across the finish line Wedneesday night and was declared winner on elapsed time, corrected time and in class A.

Baker, Jackson Battle in N.Y.

Sensational Win for Bulky Bob Needed to Keep Top Status

NEW YORK (AP) — If Tommy (Hurricane) Jackson can't arouse Bob Baker to a "shoot the works" effort at Madison Square Garden tonight, the cause is hopeless.

* * *

Bulky Bob, the No. 2 heavyweight contender in the latest Ring magazine list of boxing ratings, (No. 1 in NBA), admits he looked bad while beating Nino Valdes Dec. 7 at Cleveland for his 13th straight. "I was winning and didn't extend myself," he explained.

* * *

Baker's victory string started after he was stopped by Archie Moore in Miami March 9, 1954. He beat Rex Layne three times last year but flunked the big test when he and Valdes were matched with the understanding that the winner, if impressive, might get the title shot at champion Rocky Marciano in the summer. Baker won in a dreary match that practically eliminated both men.

If he should knock out the Hurricane in sensational fashion, he could move close to a Marciano match again.

A decisive victory by the Hurricane, a 2-1 underdog, would send him to the top of the heap. He's now ranked third.

NBC will broadcast and telecast the 10-rounder.

Withholding Tax Suggested for Boxers' Purses

Joe Louis' Troubles With U. S. Prompted Rep. Gary's Idea

WASHINGTON (AP)—Joe Louis' income tax troubles have prompted a Virginia congressman to suggest it might be a good idea if a boxer's purse was made subject to withholding deductions.

A discussion of the situation came up last week during closed door testimony by internal revenue service officials before a house appropriations subcommittee. The testimony was made public last night.

Rep. Gary (D-Va), the subcommittee chairman and other members of the group wanted to know how come the former heavyweight champion of the world had fallen so deeply in arrears to Uncle Sam.

Total income tax liens against Louis now total $1,210,789. They cover the years 1946 through 1951.

ROCKY — Life was rose-strewn for Dave Kaiser after his field goal beat UCLA at Pasadena, but it's a rocky one back in Michigan State classes. Dave, a geology major, hopes for a career in the oil business.

Matson Leader in Punt Returns for '55 Season

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Ollie Matson, the fleet halfback of the Chicago Cardinals, topped all punt returners in the National Football League last season. Matson, former U. S. Olympic sprinter, averaged 18.8 yards per return on 13 carries.

* * *

Washington's Joe Scudero was second to Matson with an average of 9.6 on 25 returns, official league statistics disclosed today. Frank Bernardi, a first-year man with the Cardinals took third with an 8.6 yard average on 19 returns.

Two Cleveland players, Ken Konz and Don Paul, finished fourth and fifth respectively, Konz averaging 8.1, and Paul 7.8 yards. Al Rechichar of Baltimore made the most returns, 30, for a 4-yard average.

Indiana, Ohio Cage Tilt on TV

National Telecast of Big Ten Feature Top Fare for Fans

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Indiana's nationally televised game at Ohio State Saturday (CBS, 3 p.m., EST) heads a program of three Big Ten basketball engagements involving for the most part the conference's also-rans.

League-leading Illinois (5-0) is idle and 2nd-place Iowa (4-1) entertains Wichita in outside competition. A 3rd Non-league game sends Washington University to Michigan.

In other Big Ten action, Minnesota (5-4) is at Purdue (5-3) and Wisconsin (1-4) at Northwestern (0-6).

Indiana will be operating without its top scorer, Charlie Brown, who was ruled scholastically ineligible soon after another Hoosier sophomore, Paxton Lumpkin, was floored the same way. Both were stars on Chicago's durable prep team that went to the finals of the Illinois state tourney.

From The PRESS BOX

Dr. Luis H. Vidana, a Cuban senator, was declared a "grand slam" winner Thursday of the 18th annual Miami-Nassau yacht race. Vidana and his youthful crew sailed across the finish line Wednesday at 6:59 p.m. in Crillo, a 67-foot yawl. Fred Guggenheimer from St. Petersburg Yacht Club came in 2nd, almost an hour behind Vidana.

When the Lakers defeated the Wolverines in overtime Wednesday night, 61-57, for their 1st victory of the season in Class D city basketball, the unerring eye of Norm Dierkes was largely responsible. Dierkes, who stands only 5-6, dropped in 17 free throws out of 18 attempts, including four in the extra period, and ended the game with 21 points.

A crowd of 6,000 hockey fans at Charlotte, N. C., now the home of the Baltimore Clippers voted loudly to wait for the Johnstown Jets to arrive rather than postpone the game. The Jets were delayed by travel difficulties, Baltimore won the Eastern Hockey league game 5-4, in overtime.

Pontiac High School's state championship track team last year thrived on competition. In tonight's Michigan AAU Relays at Ann Arbor, Coach Wally Schloerke's two relay teams will have plenty of that commodity.

Schloerke learned last night that one of the top prep squads in the state had been made favorite for the half-mile and mile tests, only prep competition on the program. "That's all right with us," Wally said this morning. "We'll have to really bear down if we get in the winner's spot, with Lansing Sexton given top billing.

* * *

Enar (Spike) West, PHS instructor, is an enthusiastic backer of the current Chief basketball squad. "It's a fine thing to have such a good team up here, and a lot of us hope Art Van Ryzin's club can go 'all the way' this year."

The deciding game in the championship finals of Pontiac's Junior Hockey Tournament between Union Lake and Nestor's Al-Stars will be played Saturday morning at the North Side Ice Rink. Starting time is 9 a.m.

Nestor's shut out Union Lake in their 1st meeting, 4-0, but the Lakers bounced back to whip the All-Stars last Saturday, 6-2, to extend their series to the limit. The double-elimination tourney is sponsored by the Parks and Recreation Department.

Chiefs, Jacks 2nd Round May Be Hot Scoring Battle

One of the season's hottest scoring battles was in sight tonight for Pontiac High School's basketball Chiefs. Art Van Ryzin's club tangles with the Saginaw Valley's "giant killers" on the big Arthur Hill floor at Saginaw in what could be the night's spotlighted SVC feature.

Both clubs have been high-scoring outfits during the 1st half of the season. They are knotted together at the 3rd post in Valley standings, with 3-2 records. Lumberjacks rate the distinction of being the only SVC club to hang a defeat on Flint Central, to knock the Indians out of sole possession of the league lead. And Indians handed Northern, other half of the two leaders, its only loss.

Both Chiefs and the Jacks have two of the top 10 Valley scoring leaders. Pontiac's Willie Dewalt is the No. 1 point-maker with 94. Rod Treais is 4th with 73. Guard Jim Kanary of Arthur Hill is 6th with 64 and Jerry Rifenburg 8th with 58. Kanary hit 32 points against Midland in the Hills' last win, 90-69. Kanary and Rifenburg each got 21 against Central.

"This is really a crucial ball game," Van Ryzin said this morning. "But we're well-prepared and the team is confident and in fine physical shape. It's just like starting the season all over again. We beat Arthur Hill here, and we think we can do it up there as well."

Central's Joe Dowdy was prepared for a rough time at Bay City Central tonight in the Indians' 2nd-round opener. Said the Indians' coach, "We can't afford to slip now. If we stub our toe there's three other clubs just waiting to jump on us. Arthur Hill, Pontiac and Northern are still in the race. I think this year's league is the best-balanced circuit in many years."

Tie Looms in SCL

SUBURBAN CATHOLIC LEAGUE

	W	L		W	L
OL St. Mary	6	1	St. Frederick	4	4
RO St. Mary	7	2	St. James	2	5
St. Michael	6	2	St. Rita	1	7
St. Benedict	6	2	St. Clement	0	9

By BILL CORNWELL

The dramatic Suburban Catholic League basketball race is now heading into its final stages with every game involving a contending school of prime importance.

A possible three-way tie for the championship or at least a two-team deadlock seems imminent unless the "cards" fall in an unpredictable manner from here on out.

* * *

Two of the four contending clubs, St. Michael and St. Benedict, have two games remaining on their 10-game schedule while Orchard Lake St. Mary has three. Royal Oak St. Mary, which gained temporary possession of 2nd place by beating St. Clement last night, has only one to go.

Three contests are slated around the circuit tonight with the Orchard Lake-St. Benedict clash at Highland Park providing the heaviest fireworks.

Orchard Lake's cagers can accomplish one of two things in their return duel with the Ravens. They can virtually assure themselves of a tie for the title by winning or they can drop into a knot with the other contenders by losing.

* * *

Victory is a "must" for the Ravens since a setback will eliminate them from the race. They defeated Father John Rakoczy's Eaglets in their 1st meeting, 36-25. Both of the Bens' losses were suffered at the hands of St. Michael.

The Mikes invade Ferndale tonight for a 2nd match with St. James, a team they whipped here by a 66-41 margin. Bob Mineweaser's Shamrocks cannot afford to relax while looking forward to their showdown with the Eaglets a week hence.

Gene Wright's St. Frederick quintet furnishes the only action on the home front tonight. The Rams tackle invading Hazel Park St. Rita in a return SCL engagement.

St. Fred turned back the lowly Vikings in their earlier encounter, 45-33, and should beat them again. The Rams' league record now reads 4-4.

Jefferson's Warriors fought off a late Eastern rally to upset the Redskins, 37-36, in a Pontiac Junior High League basketball game Thursday afternoon on the Jefferson court.

Sammy Cole scored 13 points and Bob Finley added 12 to spark the Warriors to their surprise triumph. Fred Brooks and Gene Gidcumb led the Indians with 12 and 11 points respectively.

The Jefferson reserves also downed Eastern, 35-28.

Lincoln used 17 players and 12 of them scored as the Railsplitters swamped winless Madison, 44-14 on the Lincoln floor.

John Bandy, John Carter, and Bill Davis each made eight points to head the winners' attack. Madison's Agar took scoring honors with nine points.

Lincoln's Junior Varsity trimmed Madison, 34-14.

Hockey Champion - - - - U.S. or USSR

CORTINA D'AMPEZZO, Italy (AP)—The United States' surprisingly strong hockey team and Russia, the only two unbeaten teams in the Olympic round-robin tournament, clash tonight (2:30 p. m. EST) in a game that could decide the championship. Each has a 3-0 record.

* * *

Canada, the pre-tournament favorite, found itself in the peculiar position of rooting for the Soviet against the U. S., its friendly southern neighbor.

Once-beaten Canada's only hope is that the Russians knock over Uncle Sam's sextet and that it can whip the Soviets on Saturday while Czechoslovakia downs the U. S.

Upset conquerors of Canada 4-1, the U. S. team showed no signs of letting up Thursday when they walloped Sweden 6-1 while Russia beat Czechoslovakia 7-4, and Canada overwhelmed Germany 10-0.

* * *

In the victory over Sweden, the big gun in the U. S. attack was Johnny Matchefts of Eveleth Minn., just as his fellow townsman, Johnny Mayasich, was the star of Tuesday's ambush of Canada.

Matchefts rapped in a goal in each of the first two periods and earned an assist on the final Yank tally in the third period during which the U. S. scored three times.

Goals could be all-important in in this tournament. If there is a tie for first, the championship will be decided on the difference in goals made and goals against. On the basis of the first three games, Russia leads the U. S. with a 14 point difference on 19 goals scored and five against. The U. S. has a 13 goal difference on 17-4.

In today's activity Toni Sailer, the dashing skiing plumber from Austria, completed an unprecedented Alpine "triple slam" and America's veteran Art Tyler drove his four-man bobsled into championship contention.

The 21-year-old Sailer, already winner of the giant and special slalom events, tore down Mt. Tofana's perilous, ice-crusted course in two minutes, 52.2 seconds to beat 85 rivals in the men's downhill race.

Americans made a poor showing. Ralph Miller of Hanover, N. H., tumbled on a sharp swerve and Marvin Melville of Salt Lake City, Utah, also fell during his descent. Wallace (Bud) Werner of Steamboat Springs, Colo., was far back in three minutes, 5.8 seconds.

* * *

Tyler, a 40-year-old Rochester, N. Y., physicist who has been risking his neck for years on the death-inviting bobsled runs of the world, shot his oak and steel machine down Tofana's lightning-fast chute in record-breaking time to finish third behind two Swiss sleds at the half-way point on the four-man competition.

The first two of four runs were staged today with the final two runs tomorrow.

Jaw Reported Broken

DeMarco TKO'd in 5th

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Don Jordan caught Brooklyn's Paddy DeMarco with a clean one-two last night to scroe a surprise 5th round technical knockout over the former world lightweight champion in a scheduled 10-rounder at the Olympic Auditorium. A State Athletic Commission doctor said DeMarco's jaw was broken.

* * *

In the 5th the Brooklyn boxer went down for a one-count from a stiff left-right and immediately went down again from a similar combination. Gasping, DeMarco crawled to his corner where trainer Joe Buonocore took out his mouthpiece.

DeMarco stood up and raised his arms, apparently in a signal of defeat. But Jordan swarmed over him and referee Tommy Hart called a halt at 1:45. DeMarco had turned his back on Jordan and plainly was not in shape for further mixing.

* * *

It was a big win for Jordan, who entered the ring a 1-2 underdog. A crowd of 6,322 paid $15,250 to see him stop the former champ. 140½.

Michigan State's Julius McCoy now stands 4th in the race for the major college basketball scoring title, with an average of 27.5 points per game.

University of Detroit's Bill Ebben is in a three-way tie for 7th with a 24.9 average.

Darrell Floyd of Furman still leas the pack with 476 points in 14 games on 176 field goals and 124 free throws for an average of 34.0. Robin Freeman of Ohio State, who got 46 against Michigan State last Saturday, is second with a 33.4 average.

Western Michigan's Roger Newman continues to lead in free throw accuracy with 56 of 63 for .899 but is not among the top 10 in total scoring.

Marquette Expects New Grid Mentor

MILWAUKEE (AP) — It appeared today that Marquette University will announce, before the week is out, selection of a new football coach to succeed F. L. "Frosty" Ferzacca.

Marquette's newly appointed athletic director, Laurence "Moon" Mullins, said late yesterday he had made a decision on a replacement and sent his recommendation to the university's athletic board. He said at Manhattan, Kansas, "Ferzacca was not the man I recommended."

Cincinnati, St. Louis Out of Reach for NIT Spot

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A classy Cincinnati club, with a powerhouse guy named Phil Wheeler, left the selection committee of the National Invitation Tournament crying in its beer today over what might have been.

* * *

The Bearcats looked great in beating St. John's of Brooklyn 93-78 at Madison Square Garden last night. Wheeler scored 37 points. But for all the raves, Cincy (14-3) is beyond reach of the NIT because of NCAA probation.

The NIT has decided to skip any teams not acceptable for the NCAA championship tourney.

* * *

St. Louis also left the NIT a bit gloomy last night, coming from 11 points back to edge Wichita 90-88 on two free throws in the last 5 seconds by Jim McLaughlin, who scored 36. That gave the Billikens a 5-0 record in the Missouri Valley Conference and a trump card in the title chase that leads to the NCAA Tournament.

* * *

The NIT would much rather have the Bills wind up second in the Missouri Valley—and pay a return visit to its shindig.

St. Louis, which also defeated Cincy, along with Indiana, is rated No. 11 in the nation and was one of three ranked teams in action last night. Louisville (No. 5) hit 47 per cent from the field and 23 of 24 foul tosses to wallop Toledo 93-64. Morehead (Ky.), however, upset 18th-ranked Marshall 108-103 in overtime. Morehead is No. 1, Marshall No. 2 in national offense rankings.

Hebert Leads First Round at Phoenix

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—The golfing Hebert brothers, Lionel and Jay, have long been regarded as something of a mystery by their professional brethern.

Both are exceptionally fine players, with picture form and competitive instincts. The mystery is why neither has ever won a major tournament.

* * *

Well, today one of the brothers from Lafayette, La., Lionel, stood atop the heap as the field of 150 or so players went into the second round of the $15,000 Phoenix Open.

He put together a 35-33—68 round yesterday, the best of only nine scores under par. Jay was 1 over par at 72.

Such professionals as Cary Middlecoff (72), two-time winners Jimmy Demaret (73) and Lloyd Mangrum (74), 1955 winner Gene Littler (74), and U. S. Open champ Jack Fleck (79) were taking a backseat to the lesser renowned Lionel Herbert. But the tournament picture was still uncertain.

* * *

Ten players were within three strokes of the leader. Most of them were dark horses, while a scattering, such as Bo Wininger, at 69, Jack Burke and the nonrelated Palmers, Johnny and Arnold, at 70, could be regarded as definite threats.

* * *

So it was up to brother Lionel, who plays out of Erie, Pa., to produce another good round. Or for brother Jay to come through with one of his own. Oddly enough, the two generally wind up within a stroke of each other after 72 holes.

Veeck Says Doby Will Fret Over Chisox Field

MIAMI (AP)—The one and only Bill Veeck was ensconsced, naturally, in the Presidential Suite, whence could be seen all this city's offshore islands and an important segment of the Atlantic Ocean. The man who introduced dwarfs and Satchel Paige to the American League was chuckling over something he had just read.

* * *

"This is wonderful," he said. "Ted Williams says he feels very sorry for Larry Doby because Larry has been traded from Cleveland to the Chicago White Sox and from now on will have to play half his games in Comiskey Park. The centerfield background is so bad at Comiskey Park, Ted says, that Doby probably won't hit worth a cent unless they close the whole section off, which you and I know they're not going to do."

Wasn't it possible, we suggested mildly, that the pride of the Boston Red Sox was leveling, that he really did feel sorry that one of his chief slugging rivals would be handicapped?

* * *

"Look," Veeck said, carefully, "did you ever before hear anything about the Comiskey Park background being bad for hitters? Neither did I, and I think I had more than a casual interest in such things while I was running the Cleveland Indians and the St. Louis Browns. I never heard one of our players complain about it.

* * *

"But you know what'll happen now, don't you? I know Doby, because I brought him into the big leagues — the first Negro in the American League, by the way. He's an intelligent, sensitive fellow. Somebody will see to it that he hears what Williams said. He'll spend from now until the season starts worrying about that Comiskey Park background, and it won't do him a bit of good."

Monte Irvin Is Top Addition

Cubs to Rely on 'New Faces' With 'Familiar Look'

(This is the 15th of a series of articles dealing with Major League rookie prospects, written by Associated Press baseball expert Joe Reichler. Today he scans the Chicago Cubs).

NEW YORK (AP) — The Chicago Cubs' spring roster is dotted with newcomers but some of these "new faces" have a familiar look. It is on this group that the Cubs pin their hope for improvement.

The most interesting addition is 37-year-old Monte Irvin, the former slugging outfielder of the New York Giants who was drafted from Minneapolis last November for $10,000.

Another "newcomer" is Omar (Turk) Lown who, at 32, has blossomed into an effective relief pitcher. The Cubs let him go several years ago only to rehire him after he had posted an impressive 12-5 record at Low Angeles, all in relief.

* * *

Then there is outfielder Walt Moryn, who will be 30 before the regular season gets under way in April. Moryn was obtained from Brooklyn in the Randy Jackon deal last December. The big fellow had an unimpressive .248 batting mark with St. Paul last season but he slugged 25 homers and drove in 88 runs.

Personnel Director Wid Matthews will be disappointed if both Irvin and Moryn fail to break into the regular lineup. He believes all Moryn needs is a chance to play regularly, a chance he thinks the 6-2 flychaser never received with the Dodgers. Matthews is not concerned with Irvin's advanced age, either. He's encouraged by the recommendation of Blondy Ryan who, as general manager of Minneapolis, had an opportunity to observe Monte carefully last summer. At Minneapolis, Irvin batted .352 and rapped 14 home runs in 75 games.

Manager Stan Hack, naturally, also will devote a great deal of attention to younger newcomers, including pitchers John Briggs, Gene Fodge and Jim Brosnan, shortstop Richie Myers and outfielder Gale Wade, all of whom had outstanding seasons in the minors.

Briggs, a 22-year-old righthander from Natoma, Calif., was purchased from Sacramento where he impressed Cub scouts with his 15-15 record for the last-place club. He pitched 251 innings and completed 14 games.

Other new pitchers include John Andre, 4-4 at Shreveport; John Pyecha, 9-4 at Macon; Bob Thorpe, 10-10 at Des Moines and Vito Valentinetti, 9-15 at Charleston. All are righthanders.

Colorado Pucksters Aim for Top Place

EAST LANSING (AP) — University of Colorado will try to vault into 1st place in the Western Collegiate Hockey League standings over Michigan State this weekend.

Colorado is 3rd right now but wins Friday and Saturday night at the expense of the last place Spartans would mean a 1st place position.

League leading Michigan and 2nd place Michigan Tech both are idle this weekend.

Michigan has an 8-1 record, Michigan Tech, 8-2 and Colorado 7-3. MSU trails the pack with a 1-11 mark.

Birmingham Angler Spears Husky Pike

The biggest pike William Muirhead, 29150 14-Mile road, Birmingham, ever caught was the one he speared Thursday on Upper Straits Lake. The husky battler was 36 inches long and tipped the scales at 13¼ pounds, Muirhead reports.

Muirhead was fishing from a shanty.

Out of the Darkness —

By GRANTLAND RICE

There must be courage when you seek the light
Through the deep darkness that may wait ahead;
There must be faith in finishing a fight
That no defeat can ever leave for dead;
There must be in your argosy one dream
That you can follow, though the road is long,
By storm and shadow through the dawn's first gleam—
And there must be a song.

There must be courage, or the road is lost
Through the gray fogs that hold our march at bay;
There must be courage, as we pay the cost
That Fate collects along the right of way;
Battered and broken as we slog on by,
Seeking the light beyond the mists that throng,
There still must be one dream that will not die—
And there must be a song.

Santee Quits Three Meets at Request of AAU Group

NEW YORK (AP)—Wes Santee, America's controversial and fastest miler, has withdrawn, apparently by request, from three of the top indoor track and field meets of the season, including the Millrose Games at Madison Square Garden in which he was scheduled to meet unbeaten Ron Delany in the Wanamaker Mile tomorrow night.

In almost identical telegrams to promoters of the Millrose meet, the New York A.C. Games on Feb. 18 and the National AAU championships Feb. 25, Lt. Tom Rosandich, coach of the Quantico Marines, cancelled Santee's entry because of "personal business." Santee, a lieutenant in the Marines, is stationed at Quantico.

Santee, reached at Quantico, said the "personal business" had nothing to do with a leg injury, which sidelined him until last Saturday when he ran fourth behind Delany at Boston. Delany was timed in 4:06.3 and Santee in 4:08.

While declining to comment further, the former Kansas ace did indicate his withdrawal was the result of a request by a seven-man AAU investigating committee.

The charges against Santee allege he received exorbitant exorbitant expenses for competing in four California meets last spring. He was absolved of wrongdoing by a split vote of his local Missouri Valley AAU executive committee last fall. But the case was re-

NAMED AT DAYTON—William (Bud) Kerr, University of Washington end coach and former Notre Dame star, has been named head football coach at the University of Dayton. He succeeds Hugh Devore, who resigned to join the professional Philadelphia Eagles.

Kerr Selected Dayton's Coach

Ex-Irish All-America Fills Vacancy Left by Hugh Devore

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—William H. (Buddy) Kerr of the University of Washington's coaching staff expects to arrive here in about 10 days to take over as head football coach at the University of Dayton.

The 40-year-old former All-America end at Notre Dame was selected by Dayton last night from among some dozen candidates. Kerr will fill the vacancy created when Hugh Devore resigned last month to become head coach of the Philadelphia Eagles of the National Football League.

Kerr, married and the father of three, has been end coach at Washington the last two years.

City Ice Carnival Ends Delayed Program Sunday

The 1956 Pontiac Ice Carnival, sponsored by the North Side Community Club and the Parks and Recreation Department, will wind up its festivities Sunday at the North Side Ice Rink, Montcalm and Edison streets.

The two-day carniva was scheduled to be completed last weekend, but poor skating conditions forced the postponement of Sunday's program after Saturday's preliminary events had been run off as planned.

Weather permitting, Sunday's program will include racing and figure skating finals for boys and girls of all ages, an ice show presented by the Pontiac Ice Skating Club, and the highlight of the carnival—the coronation of the queen.

This year's queen will be selected by a panel of five judges on the basis of personality, beauty, intelligence and skating ability. She will reign over the proceedings from a throne of ice erected on the rink.

The North Side Community Club will present awards for all skating events.

Bowling Clinic

HOW TO HOLD GROOVE — Bowling and golf have one control factor: The swing must be straight back—the right arm "buried" against the body. Let the arm slip away from the body in golf and your swing goes "outside the arc." Result: You cut across the ball and slice. In bowling you'll pull the ball high on the head pin.

That's why in bowling the push-away to put the ball into swing is so important. You've got to get it out in front of you far enough, to a point where the arms are fully extended, in order to swing it back close to the body.

Now comes the key point: Let the ball drop into its downward-forward swing of its own weight. Never force it down. Only with swing will you keep the arm in the groove, hugging your side, so that, as the ball passes your body, the arm actually feels as if it were swinging to the right, as sketch shows.

Hug the side of the body and you'll finish the swing in line with the No. 3 pin, so that with an easy arm-lift you'll avoid hitting the head pin high. A hook has to have "room" on the right, and keeping the swing "in tight" is the only way to provide that room.

Heavy Card for Prepsters

Another top-heavy schedule of basketball action is on tap tonight with pacesetters ready to tighten their grips on the leadership in all leagues.

Leaders in the Inter-lakes, Eastern Michigan, Oakland B, Bi-County, Southern Thumb and South Central leagues should all take the favorites role against foes in their respective loops.

Biggest threat to a league leader is in the Oakland B where unbeaten Fitzgerald meets Madison on the Eagle court.

Madison, which suffered a stunning loss to Avondale Tuesday, could get back into the race by avenging a 58-57 defeat on the Fitzgerald court earlier this season.

* * *

Surprising Clawson visits Lake Orion and Troy hosts Roseville in other Oakland B contests.

In the Inter-Lakes conference, Southfield has plenty of breathing room with Van Dyke, but Walled Lake, fighting to get back in the race, faces difficulty at Waterford.

The Vikings were knocked out of a 1st place tie last week by Berkley, which travels to Farmington tonight. A win for the Bears and a Walled Lake loss would change the complexion of the league.

* * *

EML leader Port Huron may have some trouble at East Detroit, at least Birmingham hopes so. The Maples host Ferndale in their second meeting of the year, and with a possibility that the Hurons may tumble, a win would put Birmingham back into a league deadlock.

Milford expects little trouble from Brighton in the Wayne-Oakland circuit, with an interesting clash taking place at Northville where Clarenceville makes a last ditch effort for runnerup claims.

At West Bloomfield the lakers host Clarkston trying to avenge a 73-53 loss earlier.

* * *

The scrambled Southern Thumb may bet another reshuffling with Memphis, last week's conquerer of Armada, taking on Almont in the highlight game.

Almont and Armada are currently tied, with Capac a half game behind and Memphis closing in on the top three.

Highpowered North Branch, unbeaten in 10 games, should have little trouble with Ortonville in a South Central game.

Bi-County leader Utica takes to the road for the 6th straight time in league play, traveling to Lake Shore in an important game.

* * *

In leading non-league contests, Romeo visits Oxford and Lapeer, beaten by Flint Mandeville for the first time in 10 games Tuesday, will tangle with Rochester on the Falcon court in a rematch game.

The Falcons could turn the tables on Lapeer for the 2nd time in a week.

Aussies Study Retirement Idea for Amateurs

MELBOURNE (INS)— Australian tennis officials have under consideration a retirement plan for amateur tennis players which is designed to keep Aussie Davis cuppers away from the pro ranks.

A spokesman for the Australian Lawn Tennis Association said yesterday the group had approved a study of such a fund and the possibility that it might be financed by holding benefit matches for players on retirement and setting up a provident fund for them.

South Sea Islanders Attend Fishing School

NOUMEA—To make better fishermen of South Sea Islanders whose traditional food for centuries has been fish, a school recently was opened here in New Caledonia. Sponsored by the South Pacific Commission and the U. N. Food and Agriculture Organization, it was headed by Dr. Ralph C. Bedell.

The 25 islanders in the original class study the use of mechanized small boats, improved gear and fishing methods, the processing, storing and marketing of fish and control of such harmful practices as dynamiting and poisoning.

An importnat feature was fish-farming—transferring fish from fresh and brackish water into ponds and rivers—and cultivating pearl oysters and other molluscs.

During 5,000 miles of driving, an oil filter will remove a pound or more of dirt and sludge from an automobile's oil system.

GM Earnings Surpass $1 Billion Mark

'55 Achievement All-Time Record

First Industrial Firm in History to Hit, Go Over Figure

MIAMI (AP)—General Motors last year became the first industrial corporation in history to reach a billion dollars in net earnings for any one year.

On record-smashing dollar sales of $12,443,000,000 the corporation had net income of $1,189,000,000

The net income compared with $806,000,000 in 1954, and with the 1953 record high of $834,044,039.

The dollar sales volume compared with $9,824,000,000 in 1954, and the 1953 record high of $10,028,000,000.

The figures, along with new records in employment and payrolls, were announced by Harlow H. Curtice, GM president, at a news conference preceding the opening here tomorrow of the Miami phase of the GM Motorama of 1956.

Curtice said the average number of salaried and hourly-rate employes on GM payrolls throughout the world numbered 624,000 last year, compared with a 1954 average of 576,667 and a 1953 previous record total of 585,602.

These workers, the GM president said, received $3,127,000,000 in salaries and wages, compared with $2,610,000,000 in 1954, and a previous 1953 record of $2,676,044,049.

In the United States alone, Curtice said, 410,000 hourly rate employes received more than $2,180,000,000 in wages. In 1954 hourly employes numbered 367,000 who received $1,747,000,000 in wages.

Curtice also told newsmen GM's 1955 tax bill, including provisions for state and local taxes, will be "in the area of $1,600,000,000." The comparable 1954 figure was $1,035,000,000.

Curtice previously has said approximately 85 per cent of GM's dollar volume comes from its automotive operations. In last year's record-smashing operations for the auto industry the corporation's various divisions built 3,989,987 passenger cars and 500,972 trucks and coaches in the United States.

In the previous record year of 1950 vehicle output by GM divisions included 3,048,357 cars and 609,512 trucks and coaches.

Today's announcement of the newest series of records came as GM was preparing for the second presentation of its elaborate showing of corporation products, including a series of new "dream" cars, a motion picture showing the engineers' concept of electronically-controlled motoring 20 years from now and numerous non-automotive products. Among the latter are a variety of home appliances and a greatly improved "kitchen of tomorrow."

The kitchen includes such things as a stove that cooks without getting hot and a device that washes dishes with sound waves.

The "dream" cars include experimental models by each of the five GM car divisions and the Firebird II, the corporation's newest gas turbine model.

First showing of the glittering multi-million dollar presentation was given last month in New York. From Miami the motorama moves to Los Angeles for a March 3-11 showing. Thence it goes to San Francisco and later to Boston.

Detroit Man Injured by Hit and Run Driver

DETROIT (INS) — A hit-run driver early today struck and seriously injured an elderly man who was crawling across a Detroit street on his hands and knees.

The victim, Adam Belko, 68, of Detroit, was taken to Mt. Carmel Mercy Hospital with head injuries.

Police said Belko had been drinking when he was hit on W. Warren near Artesian.

Police said two other cars narrowly missed hitting the elderly man before the third auto did strike him.

Officers said the man who hit Belko got out of his car and was told by other witnesses to call police. Instead, he got back into his auto and drove away.

Witnesses said the man was driving a two-tone brown 1955 Chevrolet with Alabama number 28 902.

Hughes Introduces House Speaker Bill

LANSING (AP) — A Republican legislator proposed a constitutional amendment today empowering the voters to nominate a full-time speaker of the State House of Representatives.

The proposal was seen as a Republican bid to create a position of strength in the House, where they have a slim majority of only nine.

The full-time speaker would be elected by the representatives themselves, although each party would choose nominees during the primary election for governor.

At present, the speaker is elected by members of the House without the help of the voters.

The proposal was introduced in the form of a joint resolution by Rep. Theodore F. Hughes (R-Berkley), a member of the House "Young Turk" element which frequently sides with Democrats.

Before the proposal takes effect, it would have to be approved by two thirds of both Houses and a majority of the voters.

Radioactive isotopes and some chemo-therapeutic agents are being used in cancer research at Chittaranjan Cancer Hospital in Calcutta, India.

Market Makes Bare Progress

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market made bare progress today although oil shares were active and strong.

The oils had gains running to around 2 points while elsewhere both gains and losses were usually small in the early afternoon.

* * *

Trading was quiet, as it has been in recent days, and attained a pace right around yesterday's 1,900,000 shares.

Demand was focused on oils because of high earnings of leading companies, plus plans for expansion and mounting sales prospects throughout the industry.

* * *

Aircrafts were higher without much activity. Railroads were up a little as a group but most individual rails were unchanged. Steels were steady. Motors were mixed.

Chrysler was down between 1 and 2 points as the company announced it would work a four-day week next week.

Ford Motor over the counter closed yesterday at 63⅞ bid and 64⅛ offered. Today it started with a bid of 63½ and then improved a shade.

Superior Oil of California, the big board's top-priced stock, hit a new high of 1,220 up 40 points.

Health Official Warns of Toothpaste Claims

LANSING (AP) — The Michigan Department of Health warned today against accepting "at face value claims for any toothpaste with fluoride added."

"There is as yet no accepted proof of the value of fluoride in toothpaste for preventing tooth decay," said Dr. Fred Wertheimer, head of the department's public health dentistry section.

He said effectiveness of fluoridation of water has been proven, but "It's when and how you brush your teeth that counts, not the brand of toothpaste you use."

To Hold Examinations for State Commissions

LANSING (AP)—The State Civil Service Commission said today it will hold examinations for vacancies in the State Tax Commission, the Liquor Control Commission and the Civil Service Commission itself.

Applicants must possess bachelor's degrees by June 1956.

The commission seeks applicants for property appraiser trainees, liquor enforcement trainees and personnel technicians.

Car Industry Layoffs Above 35,000 Mark

DETROIT (AP) — Announced layoffs in the auto industry since Jan. 1 had mounted to 35,170 today, and Chrysler Corp. plans to shut down all assembly lines next Monday.

The one-day shutdown and layoffs are attributed to industry cutbacks "to adjust inventories to the rate of retail demand."

Besides the Monday shutdown, Chrysler also announced yesterday that it was laying off indefinitely 1,500 by abolishing second-shift operations at its Dodge main plant in suburban Hamtramck.

Studebaker-Packard Corp. said it was halting assembly of Clippers and laying off 5,500 workers until about Feb. 15.

To Teach Evils of Drink

Soybeans Gain in Firm Market

CHICAGO (AP)—Soybeans moved up for gains of about a cent while the rest of the grain market showed a firm tone on the Board of Trade today.

Buying in soybeans again was associated with strength in soybean oil, stimulated by prospective export business. Soybean meal again lagged although some traders claimed there was an improved tone in the cash bean meal market.

Wheat near the end of the first hour was unchanged to ½ higher, March $2.14⅜; corn unchanged to ¼ higher, March $1.30⅝; oats unchanged to ⅛ lower, March 65⅜; rye ½ to ¾ higher, March $1.24⅝; soybeans 1 to 1½ higher, March $2.49¾, and lard 5 to 8 cents a hundred pounds higher, March $11.70.

March wheat sold off in early dealings after having gone to new seasonal highs for three straight days. It quickly recovered, however, aided in part by some activity in export circles.

American Motors Reports Big Profit

DETROIT (AP)—American Motors Corp. reports today a net profit of $2,512,568 for the quarter ended Dec. 31 after realizing a special non-recurring profit of $7,141,920.

Ordinary business operation in the period resulted in a loss of $4,629,352 with no tax recovery, George Romney, president, said.

In the same period last year, the company reported a net loss of $5,460,088 after a tax recovery of $5,410,000.

Romney attributed the December quarter operating loss to heavy expenses in preparation for the 1956 models. He said December operations were at a profit.

He said the company's car production was running about 800 cars a day. January output was 100.8 per cent ahead of a year ago and the total for the four months ended Jan. 31 was 46,773 compared with 28,095 for a year earlier.

Half of City's Accidents Happen on Weekends

SUNDAE PUNCH — Dale Reynolds, 13, of Independence, Mo., looks as if he's afraid this super-duper, king-size sundae will score a knockout over him. Concocted by a local dairy firm, the big confection is aptly called "The Most." Weighing more than three pounds, it consists of 24 scoops of variously flavored ice cream, five different syrups, bits of candy.

Road Mishap Causes Shown

What causes traffic accidents?

A summary from Pontiac Police Traffic and Safety Bureau reveals these facts about 1,270 accidents which happened here in 1955:

Drunk driving figured 137 times. Drivers did not yield right of way 271 times, or followed too closely 183 times. Speeding helped cause seventy-seven accidents.

Roads were wet or muddy in 239 accidents, icy in 171 accidents. Bad weather—rain, snow, fog—clouded vision in 338 cases.

Danger of corners remained high, with 750 accidents occurring at intersections, where cars collided at right angles 183 times. Cars stopped for traffic lights were rammed in the rear 141 times.

Figures show 509 accidents occurred in shopping or business districts; 549 in residential districts; and 123 in manufacturing districts.

Any hour is a good hour for accidents. The lowest number, 24, occurred between 7 and 8 a.m. The worst hour is 3 to 4 p.m., when 133 accidents took place.

Well over half the accidents, 723, occurred on Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

Of 16 traffic fatalities, four deaths were attributed to speeding, and one each to drinking, improper passing, and driving on the wrong side of the road.

Four of eight pedestrians killed were struck at intersections. Out of a total 640 persons injured, 109 were pedestrians.

Most injured persons, 130 of them, were age 25 to 34. Most fatal injuries, 6, occurred to persons age 45 to 64.

Of 2,263 drivers involved in accidents, 200 were age 19 or less; 424 were age 20 to 24; 661 were were age 25 to 34; 418 were age 35 to 44; and 419 were over 44. Ages were not stated in 131 cases.

Reports New Operations

Official Questions Ethics of Coupon Book Plans

A fresh outbreak of activity by promoters of "coupon books" in the Walled Lake area prompted words of caution to potential subscribers and buyers from the Pontiac Business Ethics Board yesterday.

Secretary John Hirlinger reports that a number of Walled Lake residents have telephoned the Chamber of Commerce here concerning the activities of a group which calls its enterprise the "Band of Gold."

The promotion is similar to other coupon book ventures, according to Hirlinger, in that the operators offer a small booklet containing certificates which entitle the purchaser to services and merchandise when presented to designated business establishments.

Offered at $3.95 each, the books are said by their sellers to entitle the buyer to $55 worth of services such as lubrication jobs, etc., and items of merchandise.

Potential purchasers are contacted by telephone and, if apparently interested, are visited later by the caller at their homes.

Such a venture was operated in Pontiac three years ago, Hirlinger said, and assumed such proportions that at least two businesses came close to having to close their doors.

"The demand by book-holders for goods and services became so great that many merchants were faced with two choices: Either refuse to honor the certificates or go out of business. Some chose the former."

The principle behind the plan, Hirlinger explained, is that subscribers supposedly can win steady customers through contact and goodwill.

Basically, this premise is sound, he said, but the merchant often finds himself having to honor certificates numbering in the thousands instead of the hundreds which the promoter assured him would come in.

Later, the business-owner may discover that he does not have the facilities or finances to handle the flood of book-purchasers, Hirlinger said.

Chiang Police Grab Photos of M. Monroe

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—More than 100 reproductions of Marilyn Monroe's celebrated nude calendar picture are awaiting the pleasure of Taipei's chief of police.

Police seized the nudes from Ping Kao-hong's photo supply shop, terming them lewd. Ping insisted they were works of art and demanded them back.

It's up to the police chief to rule.

County Board Alters 2 School Districts

At its regular meeting yesterday afternoon, the Oakland County Board of Education took action on transfers of property in two separate school districts.

Petitions of property owners in Charnwood Subdivision No. 2, Troy Township, to have a 20-acre parcel placed within the Bloomfield Hills School District was approved by the board. The lots were located partly in Bloomfield Hills and partly in Avondale school districts.

Also, a public hearing was set for 4 p.m. Feb. 16 in the board's meeting room, 1025 N. Telegraph Rd., on a new petition to transfer a section of property north of Waterford Hill from the Waterford Township School to the Clarkston School District.

A previous petition from property owners in this area and another section extending into the village of Waterford had been denied, with the recommendation that a new petition by residents in the northern section be presented to the board.

Enters Plea of Guilty in Fire Hindrance

Donald Bivens, arrested Wednesday for interfering with Waterford Township firemen battling a $3,500 blaze in his house at 661 S. Winding Dr., decided to plead guilty to the disorderly charge yesterday.

Bivens, 30, also changed his plea to guilty in an earlier charge of assault and battery.

For each charge, Waterford Township Justice Willis D. LeFurgy fined Bivens $35 with $15 costs and 30 days in jail.

Waterford Township Police Chief Frank VanAtta said today:

"Many people don't realize they must pay attention to firemen's orders. Their job is hard enough without hindrance from spectators.

"We intend to follow through in the same manner if other instances occur."

IN SELLING USED CARS—
This is the question we hear:

WHY Is There a Variation in Price Between Identical Cars That Are Offered by Different Dealers?

Some dealers are "Large Volume Dealers," more so than others. They run their businesses on a large volume and their markup on each Used Car can be much lower than the "Low Volume Dealer" because of the small turnover in his Used Car Stock.

We feel we run our business on a Large Volume.

We feel we price our cars fairly. We invite you to see our cars and talk to us. We feel that you will agree with these statements.

Don't Pressure Ike, GOP Told

Republican Solons Ask Party Members Not to Urge Quick Decision

WASHINGTON (AP)—Several Republican senators advised members of their party today against urging a quick announcement from President Eisenhower on whether to seek a second term.

* * *

"There's no rush," Sen. Payne (R-Maine) said. And Sen. Dirksen (R-Ill) said, "It's a personal decision which only one man in the world can make. . . . He should not be hurried or harassed into making any premature announcement in the matter."

* * *

Sen. Carlson (R-Kan), a close friend of Eisenhower, said he is "sure the nation wants the President to take all the time he wants before deciding." He added: "I think he's going to run."

"I see no reason why he should be rushed," Sen. Bush (R-Conn) commented. "He should have all the time he thinks necessary regarding 1956."

The senators spoke in separate interviews after Maj. Gen. Howard M. Snyder, Eisenhower's personal physician, said that "no man who is just 4½ months past a heart attack is in a position yet" to decide whether to seek re-election.

* * *

Sen. Mundt (R-SD), who saw Eisenhower yesterday, said he thinks the President "will give his decision sometime in the general area between the 1st and 15th of March."

"I'm more inclined to believe that he will be a candidate for re-election than I was three weeks ago," Mundt said. "I was tremendously impressed by his buoyancy and bounce."

14-Year-Old Boy Nears $100,000

Lad Objects to Being ~~Lionized~~ by His Video Followers

By JOAN HANAUER

NEW YORK (INS)—Fame and fortune have their drawbacks, according to George Wright, a 14-year-old who might be $100,000 richer Saturday night.

* * *

George is the freckle-faced lad with the turned-up nose who stands to make $100,000 if he can answer one question on NBC-TV's The Big Surprise."

"Boy, there'll be bedlam if I win," George said enthusiastically. "From the beginning I didn't think I'd win anything much. And aside from the money itself, I'll kind of feel I'm letting everybody down if I don't.

"But it'll be good to get away from it all. People keep coming up to me and saying 'Gee, are you the little boy . . . ?' I was trying to get off the subway the other day when a lady grabbed me—I missed my stop.

* * *

"It's awful—people don't mean to be that way, they just get an urge, I guess. I have a ski jacket with a hood, and lately I've been wearing the hood down over my eyes so people won't recognize me."

* * *

On "The Big Surprise," questions start at $100, and double each time. After a contestant reaches the $5,000 level, he can have a "rescuer" if he misses—a home listener who is asked a current events question. If the "rescuer" answers correctly, he gets $1,000 and the studio contestant can keep going.

RESCUED AGAIN

The first time George missed the $100,000 question his rescuer came through—the second time he answered five out of the six questions. The one he missed was on "Songs of the 1920s." But when composer Paul Fogarty called to tell NBC "Betty Coed" was a song of the '30s, George was given another chance.

* * *

George is the son of George Wright Jr., a manufacturer's agent. He lives in New York City with his parents, younger sister and brother.

His father helps him study for his TV stint—and George has been asked questions ranging from Bach to "Songs of the '20s," from science to baseball.

The young genius whose boyish ways and quick answers have won him a lot of fans from coast to coast is a freshman at St. Agnes High School where he won a scholarship.

* * *

According to the school's principal, Brother Peter Hillary, young George won the scholarship by dint of a 98.2 average for his first three months of high school.

'GUESS I'M LAZY'

These days George studies about three hours a day—but he refused to say in front of his principal how much he used to study for school before he became a celebrity.

"I guess I'm lazy," he finally said, grinning sheepishly.

* * *

Aside from the money involved in the quiz show—and even if he misses the lad gets $25,000—George has received gifts, religious medals, fan letters and telegrams from all over the country.

As far as disposition of the money is concerned, George plans to buy some gifts but the remainder will be put in a trust fund for his education.

He wants to go into show business—now—but admits he's likely to change his mind at any minute.

* * *
