Dark Clouds Attract Spectators

BILLOWING SMOKE — This view of the spectacular fire that swept through the Stainless Ware Co., in West Bloomfield Township, Sunday shows the black smoke that hampered firemen. It created a screen which was hard to fight through, and the black cloud attracted hundreds of persons in the area who clogged roads leading to the blazing structure, making it difficult to move equipment close to the scene rapidly. State troopers from Pontiac and Redford battled road congestion caused by sightseers while firemen fought the flames.

Expect Record Vote in Statewide Election

Loss Put at 1½ Million

Blaze Guts West Bloomfield Plant

Damage estimates rose to "well over $1½ million" in the blaze which destroyed the Stainless Ware Co. of America in West Bloomfield Township Sunday afternoon.

West Bloomfield Township Fire Chief Ben Moshier estimated the damages at $1,000,000 late yesterday after flames had completely gutted the plant at 6011 Walnut Lake Rd.

After talking to Richard W. Lewis, owner and president of the company, this morning, State Police Fire Inspector Sgt. Oramel O'Farrell said that "new discoveries will increase the toll considerably."

"There were stamping dyes leased to the company and valued at from $600,000 to $700,000 also destroyed in the fire. They weren't insured, according to Mr. Lewis," O'Farrell said.

For a few moments just after the fire was discovered at about 4 p.m., eight employes fought vainly to subdue the flames and then barely escaped as the blaze spread rapidly.

An estimated 45 men from the townships three fire stations fought the spectacular fire four hours before subduing the flames fed by oil and chemicals and fanned by a 30 to 40 mile an hour wind.

The entire structure was gutted. No one was injured.

Stephen R. Mitich, of 2253 Robell Dr., Walled Lake, assistant tool room foreman, said the fire swept through the plant within five minutes after it was discovered in a second floor storage room for corrugated cardboard.

"It was so fast that it would amaze you," he said. "I turned in an alarm just after someone yelled the roof was on fire. Then I ran back to the rear and the roof was a canopy of flames."

Fire Chief Ben Moshier and State Police Sgt. Oramel O'Farrel, of the Redford Post, are among investigators searching the rubble today to find what caused the blaze.

Moshier set the damage estimate tentatively at the $1,000,000 figure. Firemen were hindered by wind which blew flames and the thick black smoke horizontally, endangering a nearby wood frame house.

At first they concentrated on the house with hoses and succeeded in saving it from harm by the sparks and leaping flames.

The department's five trucks were pressed into duty for over five hours. Water was pumped from a well nearby and a pond across the street from the plant, said firemen.

Employes in the plant when the fire broke out were William McAllister, John Franklin, and Joseph Wolf, all of Walled Lake; Gerard Potvin, of Highland Township; James Bronson, of Union Lake; Richard Welby, of Rochester; Kenneth Spoor, of Milford; and Mitich.

The men tried to extinguish flames but found the blaze had too good a start. McAllister was trapped for a few short moments

ROARING INFERNO — The intense fury of roaring flames is outlined by an end wall and windows of the Stainless Ware Co. of America, at 6011 Walnut Lake Rd., West Bloomfield Township. Workers who escaped the flames said the fire swept rapidly through the cement structure, consuming the interior in about five minutes after being discovered in the west end of the plant. It took Township firemen four hours to bring the blaze to a halt. Damage estimates may run as high as $1-million.

Employe Tells Story of Bloomfield Blaze

"We were working in the tool room when someone yelled 'Hey, there's a fire on the storage platform'," Steve Mitich said this morning.

Mitich was one of eight men in the Stainless Ware Co. plant, 6011 Walnut Lake Rd., West Bloomfield Township, when the destructive fire was first discovered.

"I ran to the front of the building and called the fire department. I got back and the roof was a canopy of flames. It went so fast," Mitich said.

Bill McAllister, cookware line forman, and Gerard Potvin, chief toolmaker, who had been working on the number one stamping press line directly below the platform. They scrambled up to the storage balcony to fight the blaze.

Along with John Franklin, maintenance man, and James Bronson, tool and dye maker, they were "stamping, beating and trying everything possible to smother the flames," Mitich related.

"Then Bill and Gerry got a fire extinguisher and tried that. It didn't do much good. The flames were spreading across the roof."

Suddenly Joe Wolf, chief engineer, shouted "get out quick, she's going up."

"We scrambled to a safe distance. All except Bill. He was cut off on the balcony by flames. Cardboard packing boxes started falling on him and he was trapped," Mitich said.

LEAPS TO FLOOR

"Finally, he leaped from the balcony to the floor. He's a big man, over six feet tall. He's lucky he wasn't hurt. He must have jumped 10 or 12 feet.

"John Franklin ran to the board and threw all the switches, cutting off all electricity in the plant. Then we all ran for our lives," Mitich said.

State Highway Plans Face Cuts

5 Year, $1½ Billion Program Periled by Congressional Stall

From Our News Wires

LANSING—Michigan's five-year, 1½-billion-dollar highway construction program faces possible drastic cuts because of congressional failure to appropriate promised federal highway matching funds for the new fiscal year, an official of the Michigan Good Roads Federation said today.

Gerald W. Graves, federation executive director, said the threat to the program comes because there is a shortage of money in the Federal Highway Trust Fund.

Michigan expected to receive an appropriation of 96 million dollars for the national system of interstate highways and an additional 30 million dollars for urban, secondary and primary routes, Graves said.

The money has been authorized but not appropriated and there is no measure before Congress to make it available, he said.

Howard E. Hill, managing director of the Highway Department, said "we can't sit and wait" and must make construction plans "on the basis of the funds coming."

He said President Eisenhower recently suggested 1½ cents in additional gas tax money to go to the trust fund and that the big problem was finding another means for putting money into the fund.

Allen Park Shopper Hits the Jackpot

ALLEN PARK, Mich. (AP) — Irene Manke, an Allen Park housewife, struck it rich at the supermarket Sunday.

When she got home and began putting her groceries away she found a paper bag containing hundreds of dollars in cash, plus a lot of checks. She said she didn't count it but called the store manager, who rushed over to retrieve the day's receipts.

"He didn't even thank me," she said.

Pontiac, GM Truck Sales Soar to Highest in Years

Sales of new Pontiacs and GM trucks soared to the highest in years during March, officials of both divisions revealed today.

Pontiac deliveries reached 36,641 last month or 82.9 per cent above March of last year, and representing a daily sales rate highest since the banner year of 1955, according to S. E. Knudsen, division general manager and vice president of General Motors Corp.

Philip J. Monaghan, corporation vice president and general manager of the truck division, said last month's sales of 6,264 units "constituted the best sales month for GMC trucks since August 1956."

Monaghan said domestic retail deliveries for the first three months of this year showed a 42.2 per cent increase over the first three months of 1958. For the first quarter of this year there were 18,093 deliveries as compared to 12,726 a year ago.

TOPS MEDIUM FIELD

"Pontiac's continuous rise in sales since the introduction of its revolutionary wide-track car last fall has pushed Pontiac to the top sales position in the medium-priced field for the first quarter of this year," Knudsen said.

"Deliveries were 52.49 per cent above the same period in 1958. With the spring selling season under way, Pontiac sales are expected to continue upward," he concluded.

Monaghan, just back from a tour of 22 cities in which a light-weight GMC Diesel highway tractor was demonstrated to 1,500 fleet operators, said he noted a high degree of business optimism, indicating a strong truck sales market for the remainder of the year.

Kidnap-Slayer of Boy Hunted

Wisconsin Child's Body Bearing 5 Stab Wounds Found in Ditch

GRAFTON, Wis. (AP) — Authorities pushed an intensive manhunt today for the slayer of a 6-year-old boy kidnapped while on the way to a store and found dead of stab wounds in a roadside ditch.

The body of Ben Wagner of Milwaukee, was found by a newspaper delivery man making his morning rounds yesterday. Grafton is 15 miles north of Milwaukee.

Ben still had seven cents in ice cream money clenched in his fist. He had been stabbed five times.

An autopsy performed by Dr. L. J. Van Hecke, Milwaukee County medical examiner, showed the boy had not been sexually molested.

The boy's father, Louis Wagner, 38, wept as he identified the body of his only son. Wagner works in a Milwaukee auto frame factory.

Christ Wilhelm, 6, a playmate of young Ben, told police they met in an alley near their home and that he saw a stranger lure Ben into a car and drive off. The Wilhelm boy said that the man asked them if they wanted a ride and he said no.

Ben's mother, Shirley, reported him missing about 8 o'clock Saturday night.

Expect Mercury Will Reach 65 Here Tomorrow

The weather outlook for Pontiac and vicinity tonight is fair and a little warmer. The low will be a mild 42 degrees.

Partly cloudy and warmer with showers by afternoon or evening and a high of 65 is the forecast for Tuesday.

A report from the U. S. Weather Bureau predicts that temperatures will average near the normal 53 high and normal 35 low for the next five days.

Tuesday night and Wednesday will be cooler with a slow warming trend expected Friday and Saturday.

In downtown Pontiac the lowest temperature recorded preceding 8 a.m. was 35. At 2 p.m. the thermometer registered 50.

Union Starts Probe on Milk Price War

DETROIT (UPI) — United Dairy Workers Local 83 has launched an investigation into the milk price war in the Detroit area.

Jack O'Keefe, local president, charged that several large chain stores have dropped prices for a half gallon of milk to 35 cents and may be selling at a loss to drive home delivery milkmen out of business.

He said the chain stores dropped milk prices about the time 600 routemen for National Dairy and Borden were forced to purchase their routes.

Sunny Skies Spur Turnout at City Polls

Many Local Issues Will Be Settled by 8 This Evening

Clear skies greeted a strong turnout of Pontiac voters this morning in a statewide biennial spring election expected to draw a record throng.

Balloting was heavier than in the primary two months ago, and there were indications that 8,000 or more votes would be cast within the city.

Local issues here, as throughout the state, were lending interest to a relatively drab state contest over 12 educational posts and two eight-year terms on the State Supreme Court.

In addition, Oakland County voters were to settle hot contests in the first county judicial election in six years.

Polls will remain open until 8 p.m., and all who are standing in line then will be allowed to vote.

To Offer Results

The Pontiac Press will offer election results beginning at 10 tonight, for area residents who call FEderal 2-8181.

It was optimistically estimated that 1,250,000 would vote in the state, or 125,000 more than balloted in the 1957 spring election.

The Oakland County turnout is predicted at 85,000, or about 10,000 more than two years ago. Pontiac's turnout is expected to exceed 1957's by at least 500 votes.

Spirited campaigning over local issues should offset the general apathy in the statewide races, said Robert M. Montgomery, state elections director.

Pontiac voters had before them propositions that would repeal Civil Service for police (No.1); let taverns open at noon on Sundays instead of 2 p.m. (No. 2); and authorize a $3.3 million bond issue for more sewage treatment facilities (No. 3).

With the Herbert W. Straley hearing out of the way, the Civil Service question was not clouded by any side issue.

Whether Civil Service is repealed or not, the vote won't affect the Civil Service Commission's firing of Straley as Pontiac Police Chief Saturday.

If Civil Service is repealed, it will turn out that Straley's ouster was the last official act by the Civil Service Commission.

On the Oakland County non-partisan ballot, there were 10 candidates contending for five, six-year terms on the Oakland County circuit bench; two candidates for one short, six-months term; and one candidate unopposed to fill a vacancy until the end of the year.

Partisan elections for local offices were scheduled in 21 Oakland County townships and several villages and cities. Local interest was stirred by revenue issues in many communities.

Incumbent Democrats were faced by Republican challengers in Waterford Township, with both sides asking voters to approve

Debbie Won't Appear in Oscar Show Tonight

By JAMES BACON
AP Motion Picture Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Debbie Reynolds won't be there to face Eddie Fisher and Elizabeth, but Hollywood may still have to find a better adjective than colossal to properly describe tonight's big Academy Awards show.

A two-hour telecast, without commercials, will begin at 10:30 than 100 of the biggest names in moviedom will be seen.

INGRID ON HAND

They range all the way from Millie Perkins, Hollywood's newest star, to Ingrid Bergman, making a sentimental return to Hollywood, — her first in 10 years.

For a while it looked as if Hollywood's most famous triangle might give the show a backstage suspense no script could hope to match.

But Miss Reynolds removed herself from the show Saturday. She said she will watch it at home on TV.

Debbie insisted Liz had nothing to do with her pulling out of the show.

She was to have presented an Oscar to one of the winners, the same chore Miss Taylor will perform.

Fisher, taking a night off from a hotel engagement in Las Vegas, will sing one of the nominated songs—"To Love and Be Loved."

Composer Sammy Cahn said he personally picked Fisher because "There is no other singer who better fits that title."

With the triangle only two-thirds present, it looks as if the Oscar winners themselves will star in the big show. Hollywoodites can't remember a closer race for the prize Oscars than this year's.

BEST ACTRESS CLOSE

It is especially close among the five nominated for best actress. Rosalind Russell, Shirley MacLaine, Susan Hayward, Deborah Kerr and Miss Taylor all could win without stirring a ripple of surprise.

Among the men, most experts figure David Niven to take the top male Oscar, although Sidney Poitier, the brilliant Negro actor, has come up strong in recent weeks. The other three nominated are Tony Curtis, Spencer Tracy and Paul Newman.

"Gigi" still is the favorite for best picture, but is being pressed by "Auntie Mame," one of the screen's funniest comedies. The others, and all rate a chance, are "Cat on a Hot Tin Roof," The Defiant Ones," and "Separate Tables."

Among the supporting actors and actresses, Burl Ives and Lee J. Cobb are favorites among the men and Martha Hyer and Wendy Hiller favored among the ladies.

City Ballot Has 3 Proposals

What 'Yes' Means

Three proposals face Pontiac voters when they close the curtain behind them in voting booths today. Because of the wording of the proposals as they appear on the ballot, The Press is explaining just what a "Yes" vote on the proposals will mean.

Proposal No. 1—A "yes" is a vote for repeal of civil service for police officers.

Proposal No. 2—A "yes" vote is a vote for repeal of a city ordinance which has taverns opening at 2 p.m. Sundays instead of noon.

Proposal No. 3—A "yes" vote is a vote for approval of a $3.3 million general obligation bond issue to finance new sewage treatment facilities.

All registered voters may cast ballots on Proposals 1 and 2. Only property owners and their wives or husbands may vote on Proposal 3.

Only a simple majority is necessary to pass Proposals 1 and 2, but a three-fifths majority must approve the bond issue if it is to pass.

Jobless Bill Hinges on Ruling

High Court Decision on Ford-UAW Dispute May Cause Trouble

What's to become of a trimmed down Senate-approved bill to extend jobless pay to Michigan's unemployed hinges on the controversial Ford Motor Co.-UAW Supreme Court ruling, Rep. Farrell E. Roberts (R-West Bloomfield) believes.

Roberts, chairman of the House's GOP-controlled labor committee which cut some 12 Senate provisions in hopes of a speedy passage, said the new bill with 25 committee amendments was ready for debate tomorrow night.

1. Definition of a business establishment as it relates to the court's opinion two months ago which awarded jobless pay benefits to some 11,000 Detroit area employes of the Ford Motor Co. idled by a 1953 strike at a Ford plant in Canton, Ohio.

2. Granting a 13-week extension to July 1 in unemployment benefits.

3. Granting an increase in the cost-of-living for workers which would average about 83 cents per week, Roberts said.

Future of the bill will depend on whether Democrats will go along with Republicans in the House who are opposed to what the Supreme Court ruled, Roberts said.

"It's our contention that the union should not be able to shut down one plant and have all workers affected by this shutdown collect unemployment compensation," Roberts said.

"This could blackjack the company into supporting the entire union. It should be just the union versus the whole company involved in the particular manufacturing concerned," Roberts elaborated.

Democrats, it is reported, are ready to reconvene Tuesday night only willing to go for the unemployment benefit provision.

Whatever course they and Republicans take, it actually will amount to nothing more than an exercise, as any Senate approved bill amended in the House must go then before a 6-man conference committee which is charged with settling on the final compromised form.

"We're going to pass the bill in some form or another tomorrow night," said Roberts, "and then it will be up to the committee of three representatives and three senators."

Mock Promise of Amnesty

Reds Seize Hungarians

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UPI) —Six-thousand Hungarian refugees who accepted Communist promises of amnesty to return home have been executed, imprisoned or shipped to Russia, the International League For the Rights of Man reported.

The Communist double-cross was charged in a report handed to United Nations Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold last Friday by Roger Baldwin, chairman of the league, a private agency with consultative powers at the United Nations. The report was released last night.

It said that about 21,000 persons accepted the Communist offer of amnesty and returned home since the 1956 revolt. About 6,000 of them were sent to prison or shot. Some skilled technicians were shipped off to Russia, the report said.

"All those who have returned and are presently in prison or internment camps had received previously at the Hungarian legations of the countries where they were a 'letter of amnesty' promising them complete forgiveness. This letter, however, did not have any meaning once they arrived in Hungary," it said.

The report, prepared by the Hungarian National Revolutionary Committee in exile and approved by the league, said most of the returnees were allowed their freedom for about five or six weeks after they returned home.

Then, it said, the Communists called them in for questioning about their part in the rebellion. The returnees were asked to turn informer and those that refused were jailed, it said.

"There are many among those who returned to Hungary who did not get to their homes at all and whose fate is completely unknown from the moment they crossed the Hungarian border," the report said.

"Those were sent directly to prison or internment camps and according to well-documented information, some of them were sent to the Soviet Union." These were reported to have included persons with special technical skills.

The report was made up of individual case histories of persons who vanished after returning home. Their stories, told by other returnees who fled Hungary a second time, all related incidents of deception and disillusionment.

Safe Cigarettes Said Possible

Eight Chemicals That Cause Cancer Found, Scientist Reports

EXCELSIOR SPRINGS, Mo. (UPI) — Eight cancer-causing chemical substances have now been isolated from cigarette smoke, and the only question needing an answer is what else besides Cigarette smoking causes lung cancer, said Dr. Ernest L. Wynder of the Sloan-Kettering Institute for Cancer Research of New York.

The eight substances are all proved to be cancer-causing, Wynder said.

In this connection, he and an associate will make a technical report to the annual meeting of the National Association for Cancer Research in Atlantic City next Saturday.

Wynder is a pioneer in seeking cancer-causing substances in tobacco tars, and has shown repeatedly that these tars cause cancers in mice when painted on their skins.

Isolating cancer-causing substances from smoke is an entirely different matter, however — it's putting a finger on precisely whatever the substances were in the tars that cause the mouse skin cancers.

His own research has now turned to a search for chemical substances which if added to tobacco, would prevent cancer-causing substances from forming in the combustion of burning of the ciragette.

This would be a long step toward "the safe cigarette" which, Wynder added, is quite possible.

Some tobacco companies have made a start toward it by selecting tobaccos with lowered tars content and improving their filters, he said.

truckers are showing an increase in business," Monaghan said.

"In such a basic industry as trucking this means that business in general is at a much higher rate than last year," he added.

"The south and west showed the highest sales gains regionally in the GMC sales picture for March 1959, with the Kansas City zone having the best rate of gain of any zone in the country."

WHEAT HELPS SALES

Prospect of a good wheat crop in the bread basket zone, Monaghan reported, "stimulated GMC truck sales purchases, up 102.4 per cent over March 1958."

The figures released by Knudsen disclosed also that Pontiac sales were keeping up with its production figures.

Pontiac is in second place in the GM line through March, following Chevrolet's 441,939 units with 115,952 new split-fin wide-tread models.

Dropped down by Pontiac's surge were Oldsmobile, with 114,671 units in the first three months of 1959, and Buick, which has logged 87,971.

During the same three months of 1958, Pontiac produced 75,225 new cars.

Waterford Twp. Budget Allows Fund Boost for Safety Units

Included in a tentative budget approved at the annual Waterford Township meeting Saturday was a request for five additional police officers, two additional full-time firemen, and a full-time fire chief.

The township's total budget was $418,400, $2,000 more than last year's total.

In submitting his budget to the board, Police Chief Millard Pender asked for an investigation officer and a juvenile officer plus three sergeants with starting salaries of $5,450 each.

This would bring the police department personnel to 15 people, including the chief. The entire budget was $88,700.

Pender made his request for additional personnel so that the present officers could be put on a five-day week rather than the present six-day setup.

The police department budget totaled $79,550, including a full-time fire chief at a starting salary of $6,500.

Last year's budget was approximately $57,000.

Also included in the fire department budget was a request for six full-time firemen to be paid $5,250 each and two additional full-time firemen with a starting salary of $4,900.

Of 10 comparable townships in the area, Waterford's Fire Department has the last number of full-time firemen, works the most hours, and is lowest in salary payments according to a report submitted with the fire department budget.

Peiping Propaganda to India Increased

NEW DELHI (UPI) — Peiping Radio stepped up its propaganda broadcasts to India today in an effort to discredit the Dalai Lama—a move almost certain to strain relations further between India and Red China.

Broadcasts beamed directly to India on a far stronger signal than usual told Indians the Dalai Lama was still "under duress" and "under the spell of reactionary elements." The statement disputed Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru who said the Tibetan god-king fled of his own free will.

One broadcast also tried to convince the Indians the Tibetans have acknowledged the rival Panchen Lama as the temporary head of Tibet. Three times it repeated the Communist assertion the Dalai Lama was the prisoner of anti-Communist rebels.

Peiping quoted some Communist Indian papers which supported the Chinese action in Tibet but it ignored the great majority which condemned the Chinese action. And it said "reactionaries who call themselves followers of Buddha" had murdered the chief priest of the Sera monastery.

Relations between neutralist India and Communist China have worsened since the Communists used modern arms against the Tibetans in an effort to put down an anti-Communist rebellion. India's sympathies were with the Tibetans and Nehru granted political asylum to the Dalai Lama.

Nehru told his monthly press conference yesterday India sympathized with the Tibetans and that developments in the Himalayan kingdom had embarrassed relations between New Delhi and Peiping and probably would do so in the future.

New Delhi newspapers were speculating that Chinese Communist Premier Chou En-lai might come to New Delhi to try to patch up the strained relations but government officials said they had no information on the reports. Chou made such a trip when the Hungarian rebellion sparked anti-communist sympathies in India.

First Police Get New Uniforms

Ten Officers Fitted as Changeover Begins Following Delay

Pontiac police were trying on their new uniforms today — all wool, and all guaranteed non-inflammable.

The first 10 officers went this morning for fittings at Randolph Harwood Clothiers, the Pontiac outlet for the Howard Uniform Co., of Baltimore, which prepared the outfits.

Ten officers will be fitted everyday until everyone has been accommodated, said Robert A. Stierer, assistant city manager.

The uniforms are the first that the city has supplied free to officers. Previously, Pontiac police have had to pay for uniforms themselves.

Uniforms became a point of controversy in the recent Herbert W. Straley hearing. It was argued that the former Police Chief spent nearly two years preparing their design, while officers went without needed replacements to their old uniforms.

Straley critics asserted that the material he chose — a miracle fabric mixture — was inflammable. Straley denied this and both sides spent time at one point during the Civil Service Commission hearing applying flame to samples of material.

The argument over inflammability turned out to be academic, since the uniform specifications were changed last winter and the new uniforms are made of non-inflammable wool.

CANDY-COATED POLIO SERUM — This young man is getting his polio vaccine in a much more pleasant way than the usual shot in the arm. He's testing a cherry-flavored, one-dose serum that is taken orally. The Minnesota Health Department is trying out the serum on 115 students, wives and children at the University of Minnesota.

The Day in Birmingham

City Commission to Meet for Light Agenda Tonight

BIRMINGHAM — With interest centered on the annual spring election, city commissioners have scheduled a light agenda for tonight's meeting.

They will receive a number of petitions carrying signatures of 400 Birmingham residents, requesting the dedication of city-owned natural areas that are available for dedication.

George W. Talburtt, 612 Brookside Dr., says the petitions are the result of a meeting held in February, when representatives of 30 civic organizations met to discuss the preservation of natural areas and parks owned by the city.

Among other commission items will be further discussion on the proposed Lincoln avenue widening and a summary from Charles Gale, city forester, on a six-year program carried out against Dutch Elm disease on public and private lands.

Police reported two thefts in Birmingham Saturday night, and commented that "They're getting bold."

At the Birmingham Television Store, 1842 S. Woodward Ave., a large front window was kicked in to gain entry. Owner John Palmer of Royal Oak said a 29-inch TV set and a stereophonic high fi record player was taken. He gave the total value as $309.

At the M. Vettraino home, 2095 Sheffield St., entry was made by forcing a milk chute and unlocking the back door.

Police said that three small-change banks containing a total of approximately $22, plus $80 taken from a purse, was reported missing.

Mrs. John K. Ormond, formerly of Birmingham and now of Southfield, will speak on the Asiatic phase of the "contest" between the East and West at tomorrow morning's meeting of the Ruth Shain International Relations Class at the Community House.

With her husband, Dr. John Ormond, former Ford Hospital, urologist, Mrs. Ormond spent several years in India where the doctor went to help establish medical centers. She has gained insight into the mind and characteristics of the Far East through close contact with its peoples.

Birmingham Temple 94, Pythian Sisters, will meet in the Community House at 8 p.m. tomorrow for the annual visit of the district deputy, Mrs. Theodore (Wilma) Kelly. Members of Pontiac's Fannie Tompkins Temple 41 will be special guests.

Mark R. Watson

Private service for Mark R. Watson, 65, of Detroit, will be at 11 a.m. tomorrow from the Manley Bailey Funeral Home in Birmingham. Burial will follow at White Chapel Cemetery.

Mr. Watson died Saturday in the Herman Kiefer Hospital, Detroit, after a long illness.

He is survived by his mother, Mrs. Frank Watson, and a sister, Miss Donna Watson, both of 2238 Waddington Rd, Birmingham; and a brother, Frank of Muskegon.

5 Men, 3 Women Held in Vice Raid

Five men and three women were arrested by vice squad officers in a raid at 205 Hughes St. early Sunday morning.

Whittkar, 41, of 25¼ E. Pike St.

Also arrested in the raid was Tina Harris, 21, same address, for investigation of being an inmate in a house of prostitution.

At Wellington, New Zealand

40,000 Hear Billy Graham

WELLINGTON, New Zealand (AP)—Prime Minister Walter Nash and 40,000 other New Zealanders braved a biting autumn wind Sunday to hear Billy Graham.

Graham, visiting New Zealand for a week between crusades in Australia, accepted an invitation to return in 1962-63 for an extended crusade.

The evangelist told his audience the SEATO conference being held in Wellington is a symptom of the sickness of the world. He said efforts for a cure are in vain unless mankind returns to Christ.

OVER 2,000 'DECIDE'

More than 2,000 persons came forward to make "decisions for Christ," bringing the total so far in the New Zealand campaign to nearly 10,000.

Among the group Sunday were 13 of 120 prisoners in a Christ church jail who heard Graham by a telephone hookup.

Purchaser to Fight as Yankus

DOWAGIAC (UP) — The man who bought Stanley Yankus' poultry farm says he will carry on the rebel farmer's wheat control fight with the government but in a different way.

Dale Douthett, 55, of Three Oaks, bought the farm at auction Saturday for $20,500.

In all, Yankus realized $30,000 from his farm and other possessions. He plans to take his family to Australia.

Douthett said he would attempt to get Congress to change the laws governing the production of crops, rather than rebel against them as Yankus did.

"You can't bend the laws to suit the individual," he said. "If the law is unfair then we must get Congress to change it."

Yankus paid some $5,000 in fines and penalties in six years of fighting the government to grow wheat as feed for his poultry flock.

Douthett said he has no immediate plans for the farm, although he did say he will plow under Yankus' present winter crop before the May 15th deadline under crop laws.

Farmers at the auction said Douthett paid a high price for the land although it included an eight-room house, a barn and a chicken house.

"I'd rather have this than government bonds," the new owner said.

CANFIELD, Ohio (UP)—If he's as good an engineer as he is at engineering, Paul Springer Jr. of Canfield should do well.

Four Injured Blasting Fish

Quartet Faces Charges of Illegal Dynamiting in Au Gres River

AU GRES, (UP) — Four men illegally blasting fish with dynamite in the Au Gres River over the weekend were injured when one of th sticks of explosive blew up.

Arnold Dewald, 30, of Turner, was holding the stick Saturday when it went off. Dewald was hospitalized in critical condition.

Patrick Soper, 36, of Au Gres, and Raymond Farver, 29, of Turner, were hospitalized in serious condition. Floyd Sesler, 20, of Turner, suffered minor injuries.

State Police said the men were in Sopher's boat and using the dynamite to blast fish in the river about five miles north of this Arenac County community.

They said dynamite fishing was illegal and that they planned to bring charges against the men.

Bob Considine Says:

Ike Won't Get a Word if Nikita Starts First

NEW YORK—The suggestion has been made that Western leaders let the Russians talk first at the summit meeting. We're not at all sure that this is wise in the case of Khrushchev. It is foolhardy per se to give the floor to any man who outtalked Sen. Hubert Humphrey for eight hours. At that rate President Eisenhower might never get a word in.

Khrushchev has an unnerving way of gesturing while talking across a conference table. The day he spoke to W. R. Hearst Jr., Frank Conniff and myself in Central Party Headquarters, Moscow, he used a long stiletto-type letter-opener as a kind of baton or marking wand. For emphasis he would swish it at us every now and then, in little stabbing motions.

All of which made more interesting, if that's the word, Hearst's casual remark to Khrushchev at the end of three hours. Our leader said:

"I've heard every word you said and don't believe one of them."

Conniff and I looked around uneasily for an exit, but Khrushchev apparently can take such direct retorts without having the foreign intruder clapped into jail. The spokesman for the West and all the decencies and liberties we stand for would be wise not to give this fellow his unrestrained head but hear him for only so long as he makes sense, then nail him with a blunt rebuttal.

In "Alias Jesse James," Bob Hope plays an insurance salesman who sells the outlaw in question an insurance policy for $100,000. It would have been a nice investment for Jesse or his family in real life. When the varmint Bob Ford let Jesse have it and done him in, old Jesse left only $250.

Fidel Castro's schedule will be a tight one in this country after he addresses the American Society of Newspaper Editors in Washington next week. He will spend some time at the Cuban Embassy and then fly to New York that following weekend, be honored by Columbia University on April 21, spend the day at U.N. on the 22nd, speak to the Overseas Press Club on the 23rd and take part in a huge reception given by Cuban admirers that evening at a local armory, appropriately enough.

Meanwhile, New York is filled with reports that Batista people who made good their escape, as well as American gamblers who had to get out in a hurry when Castro came in and shut down the bribe-ridden casinos, who are attempting to sell their mountains of Cuban pesos at 45 cents on the dollar against the day when Castro changes the style of currency.

We've wondered for some time now why Castro didn't make the change immediately, if he was so determined to punish and pauperize those who took it on the lam with bales of currency.

The Kremlin has given many good American reporters the boot through the years. There's no appeal process. One was asked to leave because he was accused of giving a copy of Life magazine to a student he had befriended. Another was told to git because his network presented a fictional script which suggested that Khrushchev was involved in the death of Stalin.

One of the ablest and most informative of the Moscow correspondents, NBC's Irving R. Levine who was silenced not long ago, is saying farewell to suite 315 at the National Hotel in Moscow with a fine book named "Main Street, U.S.S.R.," published by Doubleday.

If you plan a trip to the Soviet Union and you should, for their sake as much as your own, you should have Levine's book for background. Or foreground. It makes delightful and revealing reading.

Levine, who has no reason to look at Russia's leaders through rose-colored glasses, writes that he cannot conceive of their suddenly inaugurating World War III.

"It is only through a prolonged period of peace that Russia can achieve a standard of living that will provide adequate housing, shoes, and a few of the niceties of life that have for so many years been denied the people," he writes. "This is acknowledged by the men who govern the Soviet Union."

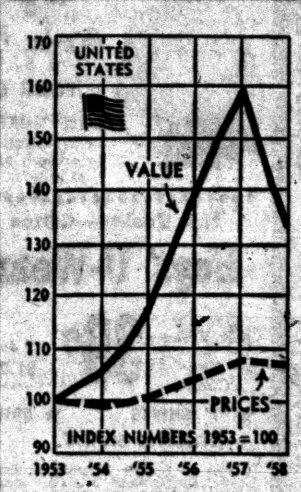
Levine uncovers a strain of bitterness that we seldom are aware of in this country. He asked a Russian girl why she had not accompanied her husband on his vacation cruise to Europe.

"They're afraid we wouldn't come back," she said. Then another fragment of basic unrest among the articulate: One Russian said to Levine "Have you heard? Pravda is running a contest for the best political joke. The first prize is 20 years."



FREE WORLD EXPORTS DECLINE — After a steady four-year rise topped by a record year in 1957, U. S. exports of civilian goods declined in 1958 as did those of Canada and the United Kingdom (see Newscharts). Together with France and West Germany, these countries accounted for nearly half of total world exports (excluding Soviet bloc and China mainland). France's exports declined slightly while West Germany's showed the only increase among the five. U. S. shipments were still one-third higher in '58 than in '53.

PURIFY AIR IN OFFICE

You'll work, play, sleep better in clean, purified air ... fresh as all outdoors! How'd you like to live in air washed in sunshine? How'd you like to sleep in air pure as oceanside? Wonderful new Sun Flo treats the air in your home electronically by means of ultra-violet "sun tubes" ... produces healthful "ionized air" almost completely free of air-borne allergens, dust-carried bacteria, pollen and impurities! And research now shows that the breathing in of ionized electron-enriched air promotes quick, palliative drugless relief from respiratory ills mentioned above. Actually helps your lungs and throat clear themselves of congestion and foreign matter so you can breathe easier. Quickly helps relax bronchial asthma spasms ... speeds recovery from colds! Nagging symptoms vanish faster!

WHAT IS "IONIZED AIR"?

It's air that's electronically treated by ultra-violet "sun tubes" in the new Sun Flo Air Purifier so it becomes revitalized and "energized."

Have you ever noticed how dragged out, dull and irritable you feel when you're in a room that's overheated ... or has stale, tobacco-smoky air? And how refreshed and alive you feel almost instantly when you step outside for a breath of clear, fresh air? Why? Because scientists now know that stale air is "ion-poor" ... fresh air is "ion-rich!" And that's what Sun Flo does for you ... helps you work, play, sleep better in a roomful of revitalized, ion-enriched air ... invigorating as all outdoors ... purer, too!

IN go dust, germs, pollen, odors, allergens and other irritants ... OUT comes the pure, safe, fresh and beneficial kind of air you should breathe – plus an increased supply of "activated oxygen" that promotes immediate, blessed relief with every breath you take.

SUN FLO DEODORIZES AND "DUSTS", TOO

The room with a Sun Flo needs far less dusting ... Sun Flo is your electronic maid! The room with a Sun Flo even smells healthier ... objectionable kitchen, sickroom, nursery and bathroom odors are banished right out of the air that flows through a Sun Flo! "It's like washing air in sunshine!"

A TRIUMPH OF MODERN SCIENCE—
PERFORMS THESE 4 ELECTRONIC "MIRACLES"—
BELONGS IN EVERY UP-TO-DATE HOUSEHOLD!

The Sun Flo does 4 jobs at the flick of a switch; it purifies as it filters as it deodorizes as it recirculates a whole roomful of enriched, healthier-to-breathe air every few minutes. The irritants that rob you of sleep and cause you to sneeze and wheeze are drawn out of the air as if magnetized. Special electronic tubes treat this new revitalized air with ultra-violet rays that kill bacteria. Think of it — over 99% of dust-borne germs are filtered out or destroyed!

SUDDENLY YOU BREATHE FREE AGAIN!

If allergies, hay fever, sinus congestion, asthma or bronchitis have made your days dreary and your dreams nightmares, if you've felt you'd never draw a free breath again ... try Sun Flo. It may open a whole new world of comfort and blessed relief you'd given up hoping for.

Helps You Relax... Breathe Easier... Sleep Like A Baby!

Conscience Foils Million Dollar Postal Robbery

(A daring robbery . . . a radioactive parcel . . . pornography which corrupts American youth . . . frauds that prey on fear or generosity—these are just a few of the problems handled by one of the nation's least-known but most effective investigative forces, the U. S. Postal Inspection Service.)

By RUTH MONTGOMERY

WASHINGTON—Chief Postal Inspector David H. Stephens strolled into the office of Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield late one afternoon, glanced at his wristwatch, and tossed a bombshell.

"General," he began, "at exactly six o'clock there's going to be a million-dollar holdup attempt on the mails."

Summerfield, shoving aside the dry statistics which he had been preparing for a congressional rate hearing, rasped out one word: "Where?"

"Las Vegas," Stephens replied, and then began to brief his chief on one of the most daringly planned, skillfully intercepted robbery schemes since the days of the pony express.

Patrolmen Edward Meagher and Walter Ludwig, early in 1955, had been forced to resign from the Las Vegas police force for accepting a box of apples from a produce truck driver who should have been handed a traffic ticket instead.

Ludwig, like Meagher and other Las Vegas police officers, knew that every afternoon two cops in a patrol car pulled into the driveway of the post office and stood guard while registered pouches containing as much as a million dollars in currency—the nightly haul from the flourishing Vegas gambling casinos—were loaded into their automobile.

What could be simpler, Ludwig decided, than to divert a cool million to his own hot hands?

5 ACCOMPLICES

The daring plan which he devised required the services of five accomplices. He first enlisted police officer George Anderson, a cop in good standing who agreed to join the conspiracy.

Anderson's willing helpmate, Joyce, his 19-year-old brother, Bob, and a young neighbor, Robert Schomer, next were tapped, and the only remaining necessity was a fast, fearless driver who could shoot straight.

Anderson knew just the man: Ed Meagher, who had reason to be disgruntled with the local police force. Approaching his friend, he invited him to join in a robbery "bigger than the Brink's."

The next day he walked into the post office, asked to see the postal inspector, and poured out his fantastic tale.

He then reluctantly agreed to become an undercover agent with the gang, provided the inspectors would protect him from actual participation in the holdup. From that moment forward for several weeks, Meagher lived in terror while he met regularly with Ludwige and Anderson to complete the details.

An out-of-town car stolen by Anderson just prior to the holdup would be driven by Schomer, dressed as a woman even to wig and falsies, into the exit driveway of the post office, just as the scout car was ready to pull out with its million-dollar load.

Ludwig, Anderson and Meagher, garbed in GI attire and masks, would be hiding behind the bushes with their sawed-off shotguns ready.

The moment that Schomer blocked the exit, they would leap out and force the armed policemen—with persuasive bullets through the heart, if necessary—from the scout car.

FALSE HOLDUP REPORT

No other patrol cars would be in the vicinity. Anderson's wife would already have reported a false holdup on the west side of town.

As Schomer backed the stolen car into the street to block traffic, Meagher would swing the patrol car out and, with sirens screaming, drive the bandits through town to a deserted area where Anderson's wife would be waiting in her own Cadillac.

The money bags were then to be transferred to the car's trunk, the scout car abandoned, and the accomplices driven to the Anderson house, where they would quickly change clothes and go home.

A Tuesday evening was selected for the climax, and two days before, police inspectors who had been secretly meeting with Meagher for constant fill-ins arranged for him to enter the hospital with a mysterious ailmen.

And what happened? Schomer's car appeared, as did Anderson's. A few moments later, the scout car left the platform with a substitute pouch, and proceeded to the railroad station without incident.

Police immediately arrested Schomer and Anderson, and caught the latter's wife and Ludwig a few hours later. A search unearthed the masks, guns, ammunition, falsies and GI attire, and a confession was obtained from Schomer, who said Ludwig had been unable to find a substitute for Meagher in time to pull off the job that particular evening.

Anderson, Ludwig and Schomer were sentenced to federal penitentiaries for terms ranging from two to four years.

The ending is a sad one. A few months after testifying against his former colleagues, Meagher met death in a splintering crash while driving to the scene of a fire.

A full scale investigation failed to disclose evidence of foul play, but in post office files the tainted cop who determined to go straight is listed as an unsung hero.

All Men on Commission Deserve City's Thanks

AUSTIN CARLSON GUINAN

Regardless of personal feelings on the outcome of the hearing into the ouster of suspended Police Chief HERBERT W. STRALEY, Pontiac residents owe a great debt to three men, STUART AUSTIN, THEODORE CARLSON, and GERALD GUINAN.

As members of the Civil Service Commission, they undertook to reach a decision on a subject which had the interest of the entire community — the Pontiac Police Department.

The Civil Service Commission is made up of one man elected by the police and firemen, one man appointed by the City Manager, and a third man, selected by the first two.

Not one of these men had to do this job for the community. They all could have backed out, on one pretext or another. They all realized that something like the session they just completed was liable to happen.

But they chose to serve their fellow men in a very sticky job. And they put many hours into it. Collectively, their patience was a bright spot in the hearing sessions.

Either way their decision went, they would make enemies. But for the few who are angry, there are many full of thanks for a job well done.

Publicity Concluded on Civil Service Hearings

Pontiac's three commissioners have unanimously ruled that HERBERT STRALEY should be dismissed.

This brings the trial and the publicity to an end but it doesn't terminate the case by any means. Straley has already announced that he will appeal the decision to the circuit court.

Fortunately for the good name of Pontiac, the testimony already taken will be reviewed by the Judge and the decision affirmed or reversed. There will be no huffing and puffing in public.

Red Conquest of Tibet Blow to Whole World

To undertsand what is going on in Tibet, it is necessary to go back to 1950 when Chinese Communist forces invaded and conquered the country of 1.3 million people. Recently the Tibetan Cabinet issued a manifesto denouncing the 1951 treaty forced on them by Peiping and calling upon the Chinese to withdraw.

When China, in effect, incorporated Tibet into its Communist regime, Peiping promised to respect the religion and culture of the Tibetans. But Communist pressures finally provoked open rebellion in the capital, as it was intended to do, and the mountain tribesmen joined in the uprising.

The Reds' answer was brutal bombing of the defenseless city of Lhasa and an attempt to capture the Dalai Lama, spiritual and cultural head of Tibet. The Lama is said to have fled south toward the Indian border and the Communists have installed their puppet, the Panchen Lama, in his place.

Chinese cruelty in Tibet, akin to Russia's in Hungary, will have serious repercussions in nearby Nepal and India as well as elsewhere in Asia. In fact, what takes place in that far off country affects the whole free world. It shows that no place on earth is safe from the scourge of Communism.

MANY people don't seem to care where the world may be heading. One receives the impression they just came along for the ride.

"SUMMER millinery will be sensible," says a style magazine. If so, many women will go bareheaded.

The Man About Town

Drop Prejudice

A Player From the Bushes May Be the Leading Hitter

Income tax: One that should make us happy—suppose you were not eligible to pay one.

Should I be allowed to compete in our baseball contest, I fear that my judgment might also be biased in favor of a Tiger. For several days last month, the family were our neighbors at Tiger Village at Lakeland, Fla. They're a wonderful bunch.

Harvey expressed regret that he was not able to merit the confidence of our contestants when they made him their biggest choice in last year's contest. A dark horse jumped into the lead on the final day. He said "I'll be thinking of your people every time I go to bat."

His wife, Dixie Ann, would win any beauty contest; their daughter, Robin Rene, aged 3, ruled the community, and their son, Harvey Edward Kuenn III, was three months old while we were their neighbors, but never was profuse in the bawl game.

Your entry in the contest must be received by Friday noon of this week. That $250 prize awaits you. And it might be well to remember that there are a few hundred more players in the league, and one of them might again nose out the favorite.

One of my greatest wishes is that other communities had such a person as who a few years ago plugged the Clarkston Pioneer Club which is making old age attractive in our beautiful suburb to the northwest. Its plan is getting attention from cities and towns throughout the nation.

Now Medical Director at the Oakland County Tuberculosis Sanatorium, who was personal physician to Chiang Kai-shek for ten years says there's a big difference between Russian and Chinese communism.

James T. Cheng,

A daily diary kept by

Josh Felderman,

then a Pontiac young man, now a successful merchant in Chicago, shows that his total weekly expenses when attending the University of Michigan in 1905 averaged about three dollars.

In proof of my long time contention that our Novi did not get its name because it was the sixth toll gate out of Detroit (No.VI) on the old Grand River Road, comes from a descendant of one of the pioneers who helped name it. It had been known as West Farmington, which was considered to be too long, so a word of four letters was "just put together" to go to the other extreme.

"Doesn't He Know the Water's Freezing?"

David Lawrence Says:

Robertson Was Invaluable in Asia

WASHINGTON — Sometimes it takes the news of an illness or a departure from public office to bring about a true evaluation of the services of a man to his country.

LAWRENCE

The announced resignation of Walter S. Robertson from his post as assistant secretary of state for Asian affairs focuses attention on the valiant and successful fight of a sick man to keep America from blundering into recognition of the Red China regime.

Robertson, who leave the Department of State in a few weeks, says frankly he never would give up his work if he did not feel assured that the United States will not yield to the tyrants in Peiping.

Few people outside the government are aware of the indefatigable battle Robertson has waged against all manner of intrigue that has been going on inside and outside the government to win for Red China a place in the United Nations and diplomatic recognition by the United States government.

Robertson served under the Truman administration, but has played an even bigger role under the Eisenhower administration in steering foreign policy as it relates to Asia.

It was most unfortunate to read the other day a comment by former President Truman accusing the Eisenhower administration of "surrendering" because an armistice was signed in Korea.

All one has to do is to read the book by Admiral C. Turner Joy, who presided for the United States at the Panmunjom negotiations, to find out that, before the Eisenhower administration came into power, the American representatives had been instructed to accept the principal portions of the final agreement.

They did so, and only a dispute about exchange of prisoners remained when Eisenhower became President in 1953. So the real question was whether to repudiate or to honor the agreement made by the Truman administration. President Eisenhower chose to honor the signature of the United States on the sections already agreed upon by the previous administration.

As a matter of fact, it is only in what happened prior to 1950, when state department officials were being accused by congressional committees of catering to Communists in the Far East, that there is any basis for controversy. In a speech delivered three weeks ago at Ottawa, Canada, Robertson said:

"Since 1950, the difference in basic China policy between former President Truman and President Eisenhower is the difference between tweedle-dum and tweedle-dee.

"In early 1950, following the Communist take-over of the mainland in December 1949, at about the time of British recognition, President Truman vetoed the recommendation made to him that we recognize Red China.

"The Republican attack on the Democrats in the 1952 election campaign was not on basic China policy as it then was, but rather on what was alleged to have been the vacillations and blunders which had helped create the Frankenstein monster of Red China and enhance its menace to the free world.

"In 1956, an election year, a Democratic-sponsored resolution, reaffirming support of the Republic of China and opposing the seating of Red China in the United Nations, passed the House of Representatives by a vote of 391 to 0 and by 86 to 0 in the Senate.

"Not a single congressman or senator of either party was willing to vote against this resolution. This is a phenomenon unprecedented in American political history. When the parties later assembled for their national conventions, they adopted almost identical planks in support of this policy.

"In the recent Taiwan (Formosa) crisis, Truman was among the first to come out in strong support of President Eisenhower's position. To repeat, the differences of opinion about China policy do not represent differences between political parties, but rather differences between individuals, irrespective of party lines."

Smiles

Some new songs are murdered so often on TV and radio that they're dead on arrival at the music stores.

Dr. William Brady Says:

Easy Breathing Exercise Proves Helpful to Women

In her famous little book, "Personal Hygiene for Women," (probably to be found only in your public library), Dr. Clelia Duel Mosher, for many years Medical Adviser of Women at Stanford University, told how, in a large number of cases of painful menstruation (dysmenorrhea) and excessive loss of blood (menorrhagia) she corrected these conditions by this physiologic method:

DR. BRADY

All tight clothing having been removed the woman is placed on her back, on a level surface, in the horizontal position. The knees are flexed and the arms are placed at the sides to secure perfect relaxation. One hand is allowed to rest on the abdominal wall without exerting any pressure, to serve as an indicator of the amount of movement.

The woman is directed to raise the hand by lifting the abdominal wall without straining, then to see how far the hand can be lowered by the voluntary contraction of the abdominal muscles, the importance of this contraction being especially emphasized.

This exercise is repeated eight or ten times, night and morning, in a well ventilated room, preferably while she is still in bed and in her night clothing.

She is cautioned to avoid jerky movements and to strive for smooth rhythmical raising and lowering of the abdominal wall.

These exercises should be taken twice daily every day in the month including the time of menstruation.

DON'T HOLD BREATH

The breath must not be held — if she is inclined to hold her breath while doing the exercise let her keep her mouth open, breathing naturally.

The voluntary contraction of the muscles will at first be very slight, particularly in those who need the exercise.

It is often necessary to urge the concentration of attention on the abdominal muscles and to forget the breathing, which will take care of itself. Not until these muscles are developed to a point where a good contraction is possible can any marked results be expected.

Dr. Margaret L. Johnson reported that use of the Mosher method brought relief in 72 cases of dysmenorrhea, 17 cases of menorrhagia and 14 cases of metrorrhagia (bleding between menstrual periods).

"The method is so simple," Dr. Mosher cautioned, "that a certain number of failures have been recorded because the girl has been simply directed 'to do abdominal breathing.'"

'Blame Is With Members for Dictatorship of Union'

Truman's birthplace will become a memorial. Who bought the property? You did, several years ago, or rather the UAW did for you with union dues. Hope you were invited to attend the ceremonies. It's a very unusual event. Previously former homes of Presidents were given by the family or bought by state historical societies.

Another news item says the union plot uses bigotry in building Federal housing project in Miami. Goons and racketeers are heard and seen at Senate investigations, their connection with unions proven, but they can't remember anything but to hide behind the Fifth Amendment.

Either you union members condone the actions of these racketeers by doing nothing, or you've been so brainwashed by UAW speakers who say to "believe nothing you read anywhere except in union papers and listen only to Guy Nunn on radio and TV." Until recently we had a Democracy under God. Now we have Socialist Democracy under the Union, because the worker is afraid to use his own mind because he might lose his job.

A Pennsylvania Negro saved two small boys from death in the water and it's a good thing it wasn't a segregated pool or it's a good thing the Negro boy didn't find out what color the drowning boys were before he risked his life to save theirs. Arkansas, hang your head.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Nip Homosexual Tendency in Bud

Percy's mother is unwittingly predisposing him to become a homosexual in later life, so study this case with great care. Our sexual outlook is largely determined by our training, and this is even true of quadrupeds, as in the case of the male donkey mentioned below. Parents must be on guard.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

"Dr. Crane," the latter began, "Percy is what I consider a sissy.

DR. CRANE

"For example, we have no other children and there is a dearth of boys in our neighborhood.

"So Percy plays almost entirely with girls. That has been true ever since he has been old enough to go outdoors by himself.

"And now Percy seems ill at ease when his male cousins come for a visit. He just doesn't seem to know how to act with his own sex.

"And I think he is getting a feminine outlook on life. Do you suppose he may develop into a homosexual in later years?"

HOW HOMOSEXUALS DEVELOP

When little boys deliberately choose girls as steady playmates, it often means they have a longing to identify themselves with the female sex.

And this may predispose them in later years to a homosexual life.

Even if boys are simply placed in an all-feminine environment by chance or force of circumstances, as in Percy's case, it is also possible for a boy to develop a feminine outlook.

Indeed, such boys may even unwittingly take on many other female characteristics, such as a girlish walk and way of gesturing with his hands or even giggling.

For long continued association in early life will exert a strong educational influence and even curb a child's natural tendencies.

As an example, one of our eminent scientists even placed baby English sparrows in a canary's nest and let the sparrows be reared therein.

When these English sparrows began to sing, they would trill and imitate the canary song, apparently thinking they were canaries.

SEX EDUCATION

Much of our sexual behavior is likewise a result of training and not an inherited or instinctive trait.

For example, when farmers wish to produce mules, they breed a male donkey to a female horse (mare).

But there seems to be a tendency for donkeys to stick to donkeys, so the male (Jack) often will have nothing to do with the mare.

Thus, farmers have learned that it is wise to take the male donkey from its own mother when it is a colt and rear it among horses.

Then it seems to get the idea that it is a horse and will thereafter react to female horses like the typical stallion.

Such practical knowledge of sex education needs to be disseminated more widely, for many mothers innocently predispose their sons for an abnormal adult sex life.

They may thus foist a sissy name on the boy at the outset. And they may relish his long curls to such a degree, they even refuse to let him get a boy's haircut till he is almost ready for kindergarten.

If the child's daddy is dead or away in military service, and the mother is living with grandma, plus maybe a spinster sister or two, the lad thus grows up in an all-female environment.

This isn't the only way that people become homosexuals, but it is a common beginning, so try to give your child a normal chance to play with its own sex, in addition to the opposite sex.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 4c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Reuther Urges Unity in Union

Says He'll Try to Get Small Cars Produced in Canada

OSHAWA, Ont. (UP) — Walter Reuther, international president of the United Auto Workers, Saturday pleaded for unity among his 1,100,000 followers in the face of fast-moving developments in the industry.

Reuther, here to discuss domestic problems with General Motors Local 222, made two forecasts:

1. The Big Three will be forced by market demand to produce small cars.

2. Some aspect of the profit-sharing principle would eventually be gained by labor.

In speeches and interviews here and at Brantford, Reuther said that if small cars aren't manufactured in Canada, "they'll be made elsewhere and imported."

The Big Three of the automotive industry — Ford, General Motors and Chrysler — didn't want to manufacture small cars, he said, but were being forced into it.

"The question is where will they be made."

The UAW president said "there'll always be people who'll buy cars a block long with three-foot fins, but facts are proving that customers want a smaller car."

"Canadian auto workers should have every opportunity to take part in their production and the international UAW will do all in its power to compel the Big Three to produce small cars here."

Two Saved as Boat Capsizes on Erie

DETROIT (UP) — A sudden gust of wind capsized a 13-foot sailboat on Lake Erie Sunday, dumping an Ypsilanti boater and his teenaged daughter into the icy water.

It was more than 30 minutes before rescue workers pulled Allen L. Moore, 43, and his daughter Anne, 13, from the lake.

"Another five minutes and they would have been goners," said Gregory Swader, 49. "We had just enough gas to get them and bring them back."

Moore, a member of the Grosse Ile Yacht Club and the Detroit Boat Club, had taken the sloop out for a spring trial run.

In 1685, the first printing press outside of New England was assembled by William Bradford in Philadelphia. Last year newspapers all over the United States and Canada invested more money to improve their plants and equipment than in any previous year.

Go All Out on This Job

Champ Tells Why Women are Best Drivers

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

LOS ANGELES—The American female is not only a safer auto driver than the American male (see statistics) — she is also a

Oddly enough, her own relative timidity at the wheel is the factor that helps a woman get more miles-per-gallon than the more aggressive male in the family.

She is, literally, less of a "jerk" when driving. And it's those jerky starts and stops that gobble the gas.

on male-vs.-female drivers the exciting way. At the age of 20 she became a "death driver." Her job was to see how many times she could roll over in an old car without demolishing it or her.

FLIES THROUGH AIR

She got a real jolt out of that business, but one must move onward and upward, so at 22 she became a "hell driver." This required that, among other little novelty acts, she fly through the air in brand new Dodge automobiles — a distance of 50 feet from ramp to ramp.

That is fun, too, though more of a responsibility. ("Every time you zoom up that ramp, you wonder a little — will I break up this lovely new car?")

Today Pat Jones is on vacation. Since she loves both sun and snow, she decided naturally to divide her vacation between the desert and the mountains. And the only way to accomplish this economically was to enter the annual "Mobilgas economy run," in which she drives for five days, from Los Angeles over the Rocky Mountains to Kansas City.

The challenge — and there always must be a challenge where Miss Jones is concerned — is to cover the distance, roughly 2,000 miles, on less gasoline than any of the other 47 autos entered. Last time she entered this strenuous test to ascertain which cars can get the most miles per gallon under all driving conditions, she took top honors in a 1957 Dodge, getting 21.7 miles to the gallon.

This time, in a '59 Dodge, she hopes to lick them again, with maybe 22 m.p.g.

"I am not particularly a feminist," she said quietly, "and please don't think I'm immodest, but I believe women are more capable than men, as a rule, of driving a car economically.

GRACEFULNESS HELPS

"Saving gas consumption in a car is not just a matter of holding down your speed. To get more miles to the gallon, well it takes ease and grace. You must make slow, graceful take-offs when you leave a parking place or a stop light. And when you slow down at an intersection, you have to do it delicately.

"Also, you have to have a steady foot. Keep it constant on the accelerator. I don't wear shoes when I drive for economy, because then I can feel every tremor of my foot on the pedal, and stop it.

"As I say, women have an advantage in all these techniques; men are aggressive drivers — they like to zoom off, and stop short at a light. Women are more placid, and not as self-confident. They coast easily, and that way save lots of money on gasoline."

The economy run is not as dangerous as "rolling cars" or jumping ramps. Pat's year-round job, but it's more gruelling. Every minute of every hour, there is the tension of moving along at a steady pace that will not use up one extra ounce of gas.

"It gives you butterflies all the time. But when you're flipping through the air at 60 miles an hour, there's no time to worry." She smiled sweetly.

"Of course when you're hell driving, you get butterflies as you climb into the car, but that's good. They tell me that when you stop feeling the butterflies, you've got an overload of confidence, and that's the time you're gonna kill yourself. Or kill somebody else, which is worse."

Pat Jones' vacation ends in Kansas City this Wednesday. Watch for the results. If she wins, she will be $1,000 richer (the better to buy insurance, my dear). If she loses, we will be surprised.

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

New York, N. Y. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain — without surgery.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by doctors' observations.

Pain was relieved promptly. And, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.

And most amazing of all — this improvement was maintained in cases where doctors' observations were continued over a period of many months!

In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' standing.

All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®) — the discovery of a world-famous research institution. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.

This new healing substance is offered in suppository or ointment form called Preparation H.® Ask for individually sealed convenient Preparation H suppositories or Preparation H ointment with special applicator. Preparation H is sold at all drug counters. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded.

Hoover Says We're Set to Stand Firm

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP)—Former President Herbert Hoover said Sunday he was confident that Anastas Mikoyan found the people of the United States were adamant, prepared and unafraid.

Hoover suggested the real purpose of Mikoyan's recent visit to this countr was to sound out the people's determination in the cold war.

In a taped radio broadcast for the Maniou Rorum, THoover said that never in his recollection had the nation's leaders and people been so "united in their feelings that the time has come for a determined stand." President Eisenhower, he continued, must have such support in forthcoming negotiations with the Soviets.

Develop Robot With TV Eyes

Will Be Used in Hot Nuclear Labs, Maybe on Ocean Floor, Moon

CLEVELAND (AP)—Development of a mobile robot with television eyes was reported today at the fifth Nuclear Congress here.

Called the Mobot Mark I by its developer, the Hughes Aircraft Co. the robot looks like a fork-lift with flexible steel arms and TV cameras.

Dr. John W. Clark, head of Hughes' nuclear electronics department at Culver City, called the mobit the first of "a new family of remote control handling machines" for use in hot labs in nuclear research.

Dr. Clark envisioned a variety of other applications, from work on the ocean floor, where the robot would be controlled by a shipboard monitor, to gathering samples on the moon while scientists controlling it relaxed in the relative comfort of a rocket ship.

One of the stars of the atom fair is a nuclear heat conversion generator designed and built for the Atomic Energy Commission by the Martin Co.

The generator, smaller and more efficient than a cousin that was shown off by President Eisenhower Jan. 16, powers a radio transmitter which will use the call letters W8NPC during the six-day congress. Sunday W8NPC reached a ham in Albuquerque, N.M.

Vending machines that will issue accident policies to passing motorists are being made for an insurance company which plans to place them along major highways.

Rep. Clare Hoffman Speaks

Approves Hiring Relatives

WASHINGTON (AP)—Unabashed by all the publicity over congressional nepotism, Rep. Clare E. Hoffman (R-Mich) rises in defense of relatives.

Unless it's a mother-in-law at a bride's convention, no one is more conspicuous these days than a cousin on a congressional payroll.

But peppery 84-year-old Clare Hoffman has a good word to say for the working fraternity of kinfolk.

"No one, for either moral or legal reasons, is required to discriminate because of relationship," Hoffman says, adding:

"If a congressman cannot be trusted to properly and efficiently use the sums provided for the carrying-out of his official duties and do a good job, he should be defeated."

To emphasize his point that all relatives aren't to be shunned, Hoffman gallantly pointed to a couple of Democrats as "conspicuous examples."

There is Sen. Lyndon Johnson of Texas, the Senate Democratic leader, for example. Hoffman said Johnson's "brother is on the payroll and earns all he receives."

Another example, Hoffman said, is former Speaker Cactus Jack Garner of Texas, later vice president, "whose wife was his assistant before he was elected and until he refused to longer accept office."

"Probably there have always been legislators and executives who have employed relatives and overpaid them," Hoffman declared.

"But relatives employed by congressmen have usually rendered competent services, earned what they were paid."

Family in Truck Rams Way to West

BRUNSWICK, Germany (AP)—Taken by surprise, Communist border guards failed to stop an East German family of ten from crashing through the Iron Curtain in a seven-ton truck.

Friedrich Graefe, 47, said he, his wife and eight children, aged 2 to 13, left East Germany for political and economic reasons.

Graefe was not halted when he approached the frontier as his truck had a special permit for the area. The guards were caught off balance when the vehicle crashed through the barbed wire fence separating the two halves of Germany.

Henry Wallace Urges Worldwide Conference About Overpopulation

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN

SOUTH SALEM, N.Y. (UPI) — Henry A. Wallace believes that one of "the most challenging" problems facing mankind is overpopulation.

The former vice president pointed out in an interview that the population of the world is increasing at the rate of 48,000,000 a year.

He said something must be done to help overcrowded "have-not" areas such as China, India and parts of the Near East, where population is growing fastest, to attain the higher standard of living toward which they are struggling.

"The situation makes for international tension and calls for a solution," he said.

A constructive step, Wallace said, would be to call a world conference on resources, technologies and populations.

Now 70, Wallace is devoting his time to running a 110-acre poultry farm here called "Farvue." He cross-breeds chickens, corn, plants and flowers. Occasionally he takes time out to deliver lectures on scientific topics.

"The population of the world today is 2,900,000,000," he pointed out. "But the big emerging problem is that the world is heading for 6,000,000,000 people in 40 years.

"In other words, the world population as a whole is doubling in 40 years whereas in the most crowded parts of the world the doubling will take place in 30 or 35 years. In Western Europe, however, the doubling will require about 90 years.

"The most dangerous situation for both Russia and the United States is in the Near East where population is now increasing at a rate to double in 25 years and where both strategic location and oil combine to make both Russia and the Western world acutely uneasy."

Wallace explained that the life span of peoples in the overcrowded areas is increasing because of the use of antibiotics and modern health measures.

He said China's population, now 650,000,000, is growing at the rate of 13,000,000 a year. He estimated it will reach 1,000,000,000 in 2 years.

"The Chinese," he said, "are a proud, intelligent and hard-working people. They are straining and yearning for a better way of life.

"While Russia will never admit it, the Soviet leaders are enormously concerned with what will come out of China, with the application of new techniques in industry and agriculture.

"In the long run, China's struggle for a better standard of living will verride ideological considerations."

Wallace thinks it would be practical for the "have" nations to use their vast supplies—preferably through the United Nations—and with the cooperation of Russia, "to get the crowded areas of the world set on the right path to meet their needs."

Aerial Road Aids Dam Work

Project at Glen Canyon Reached by Cables Over Colorado River

NEW YORK — Steel forms an aerial highway that will lead to the reclamation of a vast desert area in the Southwest.

Steelways, official publication of American Iron and Steel Institute, says a network of steel cables, strung from towers 700 feet above the Colorado River, carries men and material to be lowered to the construction site of the Glen Canyon Dam which, when completed in 1964, will open up some 110,000 square miles of arid land in Arizona, Colorado, Utah, New Mexico and Wyoming.

The Glen Canyon Dam, biggest construction job in the country today, is taking shape in rugged north central Arizona, about 70 miles from the nearest habitation. Second only in height to the Hoover Dam, it will rise 700 feet above the Colorado River to span the canyon's sandstone flanks and will be in operation by 1964.

The publication says the steel industry was called upon to supply aerial highway of steel cable — sometimes referred to as wire rope —to transport to the canyon 5 million cubic yards of concete plus more than 35,000 tons of steel that would comprise Glen Canyon's chief building material.

Turkey has the largest number of active NATO divisions — 12. Next comes Italy with 8, Germany with 7 and the United States with 6.

Chapel Bells Tell Austrians Hermit's Okay

SAALFELDEN, Austria (UPI) — The chapel bell that rings each morning, noon and evening tells residents of this picturesque Alpine village that all is well with its hermit.

For the last 25 years, Friedl Schobersteiner has lived alone in his three-room hut, wedged against the damp rocks of the Alps. A few steps away from his hut stands a solitary chapel, erected many years ago in memory of St. George.

A bearded man with a wrinkled face, Schobersteiner accepted the job of chapel caretaker because he needed work. He is not a priest.

Occasional summer visitors who make their way up to the chapel along the narrow mountain path find a tall, weatherbeaten man whose welcome is in the form of a strong drink, taken from a hiding place behind the altar.

But when the summer months pass, complete solitude reigns. There are no visitors, for heavy snow surrounds his hut and the chapel and strong winds whistle through the night.

Yet, Schobersteiner never misses ringing the chapel bell. The hermit — he is believed to be about 70 — has maintained good health during his 25-year "exile."

Occasionally, he has ventured into the valley, but these excursions have been curtailed because vandals have stolen some of his meager belongings during three short absences from the hut.

Years ago, the hermit was given food by the peasants, but now he receives a small pension for the upkeep of the chapel and himself.

"Brother Friedl" took in a companion not long ago — a black cat. The cat disappeared after a few days and was never seen again.

So, Schobersteiner remains alone high up in the Alps, where the chapel bell will ring three times each day until it tolls no more. And then, the villagers wonder, who will take the hermit's place?

Who will volunteer to lock himself up in a hut, with no radio, no newspapers, only a few visitors, in this day and age?

FBI Files Are Still Open on Unsolved Kidnapings

By HELEN THOMAS

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The two recent baby snatchings in New York and the even more recent one in California were happily solved in a matter of days.

But there are two other major kidnapings which the FBI has been unable to solve in more than 20 years, marring its glittering record in dealing with such crimes.

Both kidnapings, still under active investigation, date back to the late 1930s. And both involved boys, aged 10 and 12.

The first occurred early in the evening of Dec. 27, 1936. Four youngsters were playing in a room at the home of Dr. W. W. Mattson in Tacoma, Wash.

They were Charles Fletcher Mattson, 10; his brother, Billy, 14, his sister Muriel, 16 and her 16-year-old friend, Virginia Chatfield.

At about 9 p.m., a masked man banged on the French doors with a blue steel revolver and broke into the house. As he entered the room he was wearing a scarf across the bridge of his nose. The mask slipped, however, and the children got a look at his face.

He appeared to be about five-feet-seven or eight inches tall, slight in build, coarse-featured and between the ages of 25 and 35. He wore a tan checkered cap, dark trousers and a zipper jacket. He spoke with an accent.

At first, the intruder demanded money of the frightened Mattson children. Told there was none, he seized 10-year-old Charles and said "We'll take this kid."

As he backed out of the room with his victim, the kidnaper dropped a prepared ransom note demanding $28,000 in cash for the safe return of the child. But he never contacted the Mattsons and the money was never paid.

Nor was Charles Mattson ever seen alive again. On the morning of Jan. 11, 1937, his body was found about 600 feet from the side of a road six miles south of Everett, Wash.

The boy had been badly beaten. When discovered, he had been dead perhaps as long as 10 days. An exhaustive inquiry was conducted. It has never ended.

Dozens of people have called at FBI offices throughout the United States and have confessed committing this kidnap-murder. Some of these persons have been motivated by a desire for publicity. Others have been suffering from a mental or emotional disturbance.

In some instances, the confessions have been so logical and clear that an intensive inquiry was needed to prove the confessors' innocence.

Through the fall of 1958, the FBI had uncovered 25,725 suspects in the Mattson case. Of this total, 25,600 have been eliminated and 125 suspects still are being investigated.

The tragic kidnap-murder of Peter David Levine, the 12-year-old son of Murray Levine, a New York attorney, also remains an open case in the annals of the FBI.

Between Feb. 24 and March 1, 1938, the Levines were contacted three times by the kidnaper or kidnapers. A ransom of $60,000 was demanded. The third and last ransom negotiation reduced the ransom to $30,000.

Although the instructions of the kidnapers were complied with by the Levine family, no ransom money was paid.

On May 29, 1938, at about 6:35 p.m., the body of Peter Levine was found and identified from his clothing. The body had washed up from the Long Island Sound near the breakwater of Davenport Neck, New Rochelle, N.Y.

State of Maryland Can't Brag Much

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP)—Officially, there's not much new in Maryland —except for a bridge dedication and construction of a harbor tunnel —since the Battle of Monocracy July 9, 1864.

The state's latest official information pamphlet, though bearing a portrait of a new governor elected only last November, lists the bridge and tunnel as noteworthy events of the 20th Century.

The Hall of Records list says seven important events occurred in Maryland in the 16th Century, 12 in the 18th Century and nine in the 19th Century.

Red Statement Perils Confab

U.S. Officials Warn Russian Attacks May Jeopardize Summit

WASHINGTON (UPI) — American officials said today the Russians themselves were jeopardizing the forthcoming East - West talks with a new series of propaganda statements on the Berlin situation.

They said the statements, issued even before the foreign ministers could get set for their Geneva meeting, could hardly be viewed as examples of the "sincere desire to negotiation" that President Eisenhower has said the Soviets must show to justify a summer summit meeting.

The latest Soviet charge made public yesterday said a high altitude American transport flight to West Berlin was an attempt to wreck agreement on the East-West talks.

Three Soviet fighter planes buzzed an Air Force transport on Good Friday as it flew to and from Berlin. In a note yesterday, Russia said the American plane "ccmmitted a gross violation" of Berlin corridor flight regulations by flying at 25,000 feet.

State department officials pointed out there never had been any agreement to limit the altitude at which allied planes could fly in the air corridors to Berlin and hung a propaganda label on the Soviet statement.

The Soviet note said "The deliberate violations . . . can hardly be regarded otherwise than as an attempt of the United States to worsen conditions for a foreign ministers meeting, if not to frustrate completely the agreement on East-West talks."

The President's determination not to be stampeded into a propaganda - style summit conference with Russia was stiffened by the results of the three-day NATO council meeting last week, high U.S. officials said.

DENVER, Colo. (AP) — While nearly a score of officers and detectives slept, two masked gunmen robbed the Albany Hotel of an estimated $500 in cash early Sunday.

'Hostile' Soviet Stand Blasted

U.S. Note States Our Planes Did Not Enter Russian Air Space

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States has told the Soviet Union it creates an "atmosphere of hostility" by accusing U.S. airplanes of violating Soviet air space when actually they were over open seas.

The State Department today released the text of a note sent to the Soviet Union March 25. It is the latest of a series concerning air incidents over the Baltic Sea and the Sea of Japan Nov. 7 and 8 last year.

The U.S. note replied to a Soviet note of March 5 which reiterated the Soviet position that American military planes had approached the Soviet border "with hostile aims" and fired on a Soviet fighter.

The Soviet government, the United States replied, must be "fully aware that no violations of Soviet air space where involved in these incidents in any way."

The note repeated that no American aircraft had fired in the course of these incidents.

On Nov. 7, 1958, a U.S. aircraft was twice fired upon by a Soviet fighter over the Baltic Sea about 66 miles from the nearest Soviet territory.

"These attacks were launched from behind and without warning; the American aircraft did not fire," the U.S. note declared.

He Couldn't Return

ATLANTA, (UPI) — Delta Air Lines reported receiving a fare refund request from a former passenger who said he'd like to have the money "as soon as possible" because "I think I'm going to need it." The return address was the Lincoln County Jail in Fayetteville, Tenn.

Salt Shaker Use to Divide Social Classes

WASHINGTON — Superstitions arose from salt. Arab tribesmen seal agreements by eating salted bread and saying, "By this salt and bread I will not betray thee." Greeks and Romans sprinkled salt in religious sacrifices.

An ornate salt shaker in the middle of the table marked seating order at medieval English banquets. Nobles sat above the shaker and those of lower birth below.

The custom underwrote an 11th-century law which required any person seated above his qualified position to be "pelted out of his place by bones at the discretion of the company," says the National Geographic Society.

Americans find 14,000 ways to use salt, mostly in industry. Salt seasons foods, freezes ice cream, melts ice and snow on streets, cleans teeth, removes soot, kills weeds and insects, and helps process chemicals, ceramics, leathers and medicines.

Windsor Fire Guts Building

Loss Put at $1 Million or More; Weakened Walls May Crumble Soon

WINDSOR, Ont. (AP) — A four-story office building was gutted last night by a fire which threatened to spread to an entire downtown business block.

The flames were brought under control early today. But police planned to keep the area, at the busy corner of University and Quellette avenues, clear of pedestrian and vehicle traffic today. Firemen said it was possible the weakened walls would crumble any time.

The loss was estimated unofficially at a million dollars or more.

One fireman had to have six stitches to close a cut from broken glass. Three others were treated for minor burns.

The building houses several stores and 23 offices.

There was no immediate explanation of the cause of the fire, which began in the basement.

Still Hunting 14 Young Fugitives

JESSUPS, Md. (AP)—Hundreds of state police, National Guardsmen, county police and Marines captured more fugitives today from a mass prison break at the Patuxent Institution.

Fourteen of the 34 young inmates who overpowered guards and broke out of the Institution for Defective Delinquents Sunday night were still at large.

Two others who might be from Patuxent were picked up in southern Maryland's Calvert County and could reduce the number to 12.

State Police Lt. W. W. Corbin said two airplanes flying low over the area had accounted for the capture of six prisoners early today.

"The planes found four of them hidden under the trees," he said. "A short time later they located two more going into the woods."

Police also quelled what Corbin said could have developed into a riot this morning when four prisoners refused to return to their cells, threatened guards, and otherwise caused trouble.

Inmates made their break about 7 p.m. Sunday by seizing keys from two unarmed guards and unlocking six doors between them and freedom. State Supt. of Prisons James W. Curran said it was the largest break in the history of Maryland prisons.

Corbin estimated at least 300 men were taking part in the search today for fugitives from the institution of 331 inmates 15 miles southwest of Baltimore.

In addition to about 100 troopers, the group included U.S. Marines from the National Service Md., and three companies of National Guard troops. Baltimore sent five police dogs, and about 20 University of Maryland students also volunteered.

Flood Conditions Eased

Dry Weather Welcomed

By United Press International

Dry, mild weather prevailed over much of the nation Monday, helping ease near record floods in Northern Illinois.

In the Rockford, Ill., area, where about 1,800 persons have been driven from their homes, the Rock River climbed to within a fraction of the record 63-inch flood crest, and then fell back to 60 inches Sunday.

However, little immediate relief was seen for the Rockford flood as the river's headwaters in Wisconsin continued at record heights.

The Pecatonica River, which joins the Rock above Rockford, crested Sunday just short of a record height of 17 feet. Flooding on the Pecatonica forced at least 61 residents of Freeport to take shelter in the city's National Guard Armory.

Flooding in Central Michigan also appeared to have eased after water rose to six feet at a main intersection at Saginaw. Police evacuated 15 persons at Saginaw.

Rain during the night occurred along a frontal system in parts of Ohio, Pennsylvania, New York and Lower Michigan. Most of the rain was light, with Buffalo, N. Y., with .38-inch, reporting the heaviest.

A few scattered showers occurred in Washington State and the Northern Rockies.

A warming trend sent the mercury climbing from 10 to 32 degrees early Monday from the Lower Mississippi Valley east to the Atlantic and northeast through the Ohio Valley to New England.

time on his bed with his left hand, clutched a cigar in his right, and said: "I wish I had some popcorn."

Ira Cox, business manager of the band, gave Williams a Confederate flag and said, "We'll come out and serenade him whenever he asks." The band played "Camptown Races," "The Vanished Army," and "Down South."

Williams repeated the words to some of the songs. And a television entertainer sang the final song just before Williams dropped off into his afternoon nap:

"Old Soldiers Never Die—They Just Fade Away."

Army Chaplains Protesting Forced Retirement Act

WASHINGTON (UPI)—When a GI has a grievance, he can tell the chaplain. But where does the chaplain go when he thinks he is getting a raw deal?

That question has been the subject of jesting debate in many a barracks. But at the moment it's no laughing matter for hundreds of Protestant Catholic and Jewish chaplains in the Army.

They feel they are about to become the victims of a gross injustice. They are asking Congress to do something about it.

Their grievance concerns a hitherto-little-noticed clause in the Reserve Officers Personnel Act which Congress passed in 1954.

It provides that, beginning July 1, 1960, any reserve officer who is in the rank of lieutenant colonel or below when he reaches the age of 52 must be retired from service.

The provision applies only to Army officers. The Air Force and Navy are not affected.

The "force-out" clause was written into the law because the Army wanted to push some of its older line officers into early retirement, making way for promotion of younger men.

The idea was that most Army officers are commissioned when they are fairly young (the average age for infantry officers is 23) and they can get in 30 years of service by age 53. With 30 years service, they are eligible for retirement pay equal to three-fourths of their base pay.

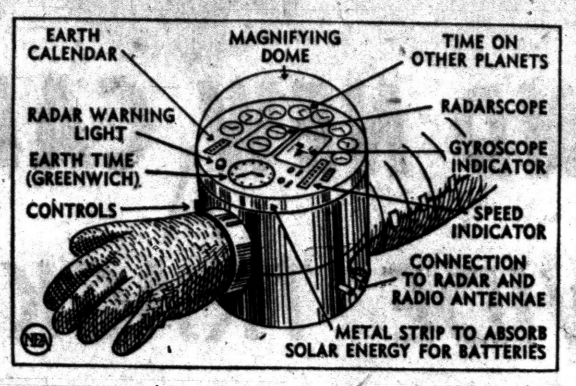
But . . .

Nobody seems to have realized, when the law was enacted, that it would work a peculiar hardship on chaplains. A chaplain usually comes to the Army after he has spent four years in college, three years at least in seminary, and two or more years as a civilian minister. The average age at which chaplains are commissioned is 30.

This means that the vast majority of chaplains who enter the Army on reserve commissions have no chance of qualifying for a 30-year retirement.

Their best hope is to get in at least 20 years of active service before they reach 53 and are forced out. With 20 years of service, they are eligible for only one-half base pay in retirement.



SPACE WATCH — Pretty cumbersome on earth, but practical and necessary in weightless space, is this solar-powered "watch" for future spacemen. Drawing above lists all the functions the watch is intended to perform, something like a portable instrument panel. Designed by Lloyd Motz of Columbia University for Girard Perregaux and Co., it's still in the drawing-board stage, however.

The real joker in the deal, according to the chaplains, is that many of them will be forced into retirement after 17 or 18 years of active duty — which means they won't get any retirement pay at all.

Religious organizations have only recently become aware of the time bomb which the 1954 reserve law planted under Army chaplains. They are protesting it vigorously on four main grounds:

1. It is a cruel way to treat veteran "padres" who will have a hard time finding pastorates if they are suddenly catapulted into civilian life at age 53. Most churches in search of pastors insist on younger men.

2. It is a breach of faith on the part of the Army, which encouraged World War II reserve chaplains to believe they could count on earning retirement benefits if they would remain on active duty.

3. It will make it even more difficult than it already is for religious denominations to persuade able young pastors to take up careers as military chaplains.

4. It is absurd to apply to chaplains age limits which are appropriate for combat officers. Maturity is an asset to chaplains, and at age 53 they are likely to be far more effective than younger men for the special role they play in the Army.

The General Commission on Chaplains, representing 36 major denominations, has appealed to the House and Senate Armed Services Committees to take legislative action exempting Army chaplains from the force-out clause.

Unless Congress acts, Army figures show that 139 reserve chaplains—nearly one-forth of those now on active duty—will be retired next year. Of these, 81 will not be eligible for any retirement pay whatever.

ELECTRONIC DOGFIGHT — Fighter planes move so fast now that sighting a plane's missiles on the enemy is a problem. Sketches show how new GE optical sight attempts to simplify the difficulties. Cross hairs and a moving arrowhead (called a "bug") do the job. 1—Sight is in front of pilot. Arrowhead appears in right margin of circle — showing firing range is too great. 2—Pilot maneuvers to get enemy plane centered in cross hairs. Arrowhead moves to right as distance narrows. 3—When arrowhead moves far enough to show enemy within range, letter "F" appears on glass. Pilot fires. 4—Screen goes blank and signal sounds in earphones warning pilot to change course and avoid debris.

28-Cent a Day Native Extras Admire Tarzan

By DICK Du BROW

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Ah, wilderness! Tarzan's next movie, to be shot in deepest Africa, will employ tribal natives as extras for 28 cents a day.

This information comes from Tarzan himself—tall, dark and handsome Gordon Scott, who is set to embark for the Mau Mau country in Kenya for the ape man's latest epic.

At lunch in a Hollywood restaurant, Scott, 32, recalled how the price for extras was set when he made his first Tarzan film in 1955.

"We contacted about 14 tribes in the area," he said. "The first tribe we met was the Masai, and our interpreter offered about 50 of their people one shilling (14 cents) a day. We also offered to shoot them a zebra, and they loved the idea because zebras are tough to trap.

"Well, our director said we ought to pay them more than that—at least two shillings. But the interpreter said, 'No, no! It will spoil them. There's no telling what they'll want next.' We finally settled for two shillings and no zebra."

Scott, a native of Portland, Ore., acknowledged that it was sometimes dangerous to approach the tribes—especially when the Mau Mau were around.

"But," he said, "they're like everybody else—they like money."

According to Scott, some of the tribes have actually heard of Tarzan.

"As for the others," he said, "we learned we could make friends with them by impressing them with physical prowess. They admire people who are strong or run fast.

"In one scene, I had to climb 60 feet up a rope, hand over hand, then jump off onto a plain and sprint a distance. The Masai were impressed with this. They're so fast they can run an antelope into the ground, but they're weak above the waist because their women do most of the manual labor."

Scott said he himself performs all of the Tarzan stunts—including swinging from tree to tree.

When he swings around the trees, he said, there are no nets to catch him in case he falls. He added that he usually operates from 15 to 60 feet above the ground.

Scott revealed that Tarzan's mate, Jane, will not appear in the forthcoming movie, "Tarzan's Greatest Adventure." Scott's wife, actress Vera Miles, once played the part.

"We all feel that it'll be good to put Tarzan back in his element," the actor said, "and we don't think he should have any hindrances like wives or children. He's a wild man, and he should be kept that way.

"The whole idea is to raise the level of the Tarzan movies. We're making this one in color and with a wide screen. It'll cost over a million bucks."

Eye-Stopping Beach Clothes Aim to Catch Male Attention

By MARY PRIME

Women are turning up at resorts with animal-faced hoods, backwards bathing caps, wild poncho towels, and beach bags which look like giant cigarette packs, records, typewriters and chewing gum sticks.

"It's all to attract attention," said Vivian Auerbach of Bonne Age accessories, which specializes in zany beachwear. "People want conversation pieces so they'll be spotted on the beach.'

"One buyer told us she took a crazy bag on a cruise and had more fun than ever before. She said so many people stopped to talk to her about the bag that it was like having a puppy along.

Who buys the bags?

"Everyone," said Mrs. Auerbach. "Models, young girls, mothers who want a carrying case for diapers."

The firm's latest items, besides the bags, are Poncho towels, made with a hole in the middle and worn as beach or bath towels.

Called "ponch - a - towels," they are printed with such designs as an old-fashioned bathing suit, a barrel, and a sandwich sign that says, "Come Eat at Joe's." One mother-daughter poncho set shows a tiger leaning against a palm tree. Turn around, and you see the tiger's back.

BAGS UNUSUAL

Other firms turn out beach bags which look like love letter envelopes with the address on the front, and leather bags shaped like shorts, complete with patch pockets.

Beach togs are jazzier this year, too. For children, there is a white terry cloth jacket with a yellow pigtail hanging, Chinese style, from the hood, a short bloomer suit of white terry printed with butterflies, and a two-piece suit with slim, ankle-length terry pants and bloused, hooded jacket, printed with starfish and lotus flowers.

Another beach suit has a terry cloth jacket with a hood which looks like a hound's face in the back. It has long, floppy ears, sad eyes, and a bright red tongue.

Bathing caps also join the animal parade. There's one with a cat's face on the back, complete with long, pointed ears and real whiskers.

400 Attend St. Michael Breakfast

Over 400 mothers and daughters attended the annual mother and daughter breakfast held Sunday at St. Michael Hall. The breakfast was prepared and served by the men and boys of the parish.

Honored guests were officers of the Altar Society, their daughters and granddaughters, and leaders of the Girl Scout troops sponsored by the society.

Other guests present were the Rev. M. J. O'Reilly, Rev. Norman Thomas and Rev. Jack Child.

It was announced that the annual spring card party will be held Tuesday, April 14, at 8 p.m. Men of the parish are planning a dinner April 26.

Tension An Enemy of Sleep

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Insomnia is becoming a number one threat to the health and happiness and success of many persons. With the noises and tensions of civilization, many men and women are unable to go to sleep easily and sleep deeply, and to awaken refreshed the following morning. The millions of dollars spent each year on tranquilizers and sedatives prove this to be true.

The man or woman who is habitually shortchanged on sleep or sleeps lightly and fitfully cannot cope with everyday life in a normally vibrant, vital or gracious way, in business or in human relationships. Life may become a nightmare of fatigue and irritability because of too little shuteye.

Wtih this in mind I dropped in to see Mr. Norman Dine at his Sleep Center in New York City not long ago. For some time I had planned to meet Mr. Dine, who has long been recognized as America's number one Sandman.

HE COULDN'T SLEEP

Like so many successful careers, Mr. Dine's is an outgrowth of a personal need. He became interested in sleep because he could not get any. He suffered miserably from insomnia, to such an extent, that he took what he calls a "Sabbatical Sleep Year." He was determined to learn how to overcome a problem which was serious to him. There were no courses in sleep at Columbia University in 1931, but Mr. Dine studied Mental Hygiene at Columbia's Teachers College that year.

His Sleep Center is an outgrowth of this. Mr. Dine is the first to advise that we learn to rid ourselves of inner tensions, and feels that if we could do this, we would need no devices with which to woo sleep. "But," he said, "the art of relaxation is a technique which must be learned just like dancing or swimming." It is true that for rewarding sleep we must cut down on tensions before going to bed and know how to relax once we are there. Unfortunately many folks will not take the time or do not have the patience to learn this technique.

Emotions have a great impact on our bodies. Worry, frustration, disappointment, feelings of guilt or inferiority and all such negative emotions cause tension in our muscles and make it impossible to relax.

Mr. Dine said, "It is not my business to reduce emotional tension, but physical tension and therefore minimize the impact of the emotional tensions. For instance, a hot bath will reduce muscle tension in 20 minutes, and when the muscles are less tense, the emotions become more feeble."

Many people toss about, sleepless, because they are attacked from two sides — by emotional physical tensions from without, such as noises, glare, fickle temperature, uncomfortable pillows or beds and so forth. They find themselves in a vicious circle, with each type of tension adding to the other.

If you would like to have my leaflet "Shuteye" send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet no. 34. Address Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

Hot Milk Cooks Frosting in Bowl During Beating

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

If you are tired of plain powdered sugar frosting, here is a new frosting for you to try. Mrs. Roger Morris of Highland, whose recipe it is, says be sure to have the milk really hot.

Mrs. Morris is active in church work and is a member of the Evening Circle of her church. She has two children for whom she likes to sew.

EASY FROSTING
By Mrs. Roger Morris

1 egg white
1 cup granulated sugar
1 stick margarine
⅓ cup vegetable shortening
8-10 tablespoons hot milk
½ teaspoon vanilla

Beat egg white stiff in small bowl. Cream sugar, margarine and vegetable shortening in large bowl. Add egg white and beat well. Then add hot milk, 2 tablespoons at a time at high speed. Add vanilla and beat to spreading consistency.

Six Subjects Tops for Gals' Talking

By RUTH MILLETT

What would we women talk about if we couldn't talk about—

Our children. They are a never-ending source of conversation for us from the moment they are born until they become parents and we can start talking about our grandchildren.

Our husbands. Whether we are complaining about their faults or bragging about their good qualities or quoting their opinions we can always talk about our husbands.

Our houses. What we are doing to our homes, what we are planning to do to them, and what taking care of them is doing to us can always be used to start a conversation with another woman.

Our diets. I haven't been in a group of women in years that somewhere along the line some woman didn't mention her diet and by so doing get half of the other women present to discussing their diets.

Clothes. If she's old enough to talk, a woman is old enough to talk about clothes, and she never gets too old to have something to say about the latest fashions.

Parties. One of the reasons women love to go to parties is that they like to discuss them afterward. That's why when women go to a party they make mental notes of everyone present, what all the women are wearing and what the hostess serves in the way of food. You can't make much conversation out of a party unless you can remember such details as these.

If you think we women have a lot more to talk about these days than these six overcrowded subjects, just listen next time you are in a group of women. Chances are all six topics will be introduced and they'll start more general conversation than any weighty subject brought up. Bcause they are topics all women have something to say about.

Neat Home, but, Oh, Her Hands

Dishpan hands, generally regarded as a big joke, are no fun at all to the women who have them. And any woman who keeps house has them at times. Plunging your hands into hot water several times a day, will turn the trick.

But the average homemaker does far more than that. Despite the many electrical appliances, many cleaning tasks are still done with one pair of hands. And once the house is shining, the hands are usually rough and red. The nails are rough, too, and sometimes torn.

This might seem the point at which you just give up and never clean house again. But this is rather drastic and not really a first-rate solution. Far better to reach for a tube of healing cream and give your hands a first-aid treatment.

Offer to Buy New Book for Friend

By EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post: A friend of mine loaned me a book recently. One day my four-year-old child got hold of it and wrote all over the pages with crayon. I was horrified when I discovered it and immediately tried to buy a new copy, but was unable to get one at the one book store here in town.

"Will you please tell me what I can do about this? Would it be proper for me to send her a check for the cost of the book? Please advise me as I am rather upset over it."

Answer: If the book store cannot get a copy for you, the best thing to do is ask her if there is any other book she would like instead of the one you are unable to replace.

"Dear Mrs. Post: My employer's father has just died and I am wondering what I may do about sending flowers. I didn't know the father, but I've been in my employer's office for many years and would like to show some feeling."

Answer: There should be no impropriety in your sending flowers to the funeral. If this is beyond your means, then express your sympathy to your employer and ask if there is anything you can do. Since quite likely he will not be in the office for several days, you may have to write this expression of condolence in a note addressed to his house.

"Dear Mrs. Post: Will you please tell me in what manner a girl is correctly cut-in on at a dance?"

Answer: The one who is cutting in simply puts his hands on the shoulder of the man who is dancing and says, "May I cut in?" The man dancing with the girl releases her and the other man takes his place. The important rule is that the first man cannot "cut back" until another man has cut in on the second man or she has danced a long time with him and might be "stuck."

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Birkett of Joy road and Mr. and Mrs. Orin J. Brown of Imlay City.

The bride's gown featured an embroidered neckline and chapel train. A queen's crown of pearls and sequins held her fingertip veil and she carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley centered by a white orchid on a Bible.

Mrs. Douglas Birkett, the bride's sister-in-law, was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Judy Brown, the bridegroom's sister, and Elna Fielding.

All wore identical dresses of chiffon over taffeta and carried cascade bouquets of pink and white carnations.

Ronda Leigh Scott, flower girl, wore a dress of white organdy over blue taffeta.

Douglas Birkett was best man. Ushers were Fredrick Stuewer and Nelson Schuneman.

The couple will live in Denver, Col., where the bridegroom is stationed with the U. S. Air Force.

Dear Abby . . .

She Toasts Wife Who Butters Up!

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

ABBY

"DEAR ABBY: I was amused to read the letter from "DISAPPOINTED" and was surprised with your reply. So what if "Ma- does want her to mash his potatoes and butter his toast for him? How many men DO keep their dresser drawers neat and hang up their clothes? This young lady is misinformed as to her wifely duties. It is the DUTY of a wife to fix her husband's meals (yes, mash his potatoes and butter his toast) to pick up after him and keep his dresser drawers neat. What else does she have to do all day?"—HAPPILY MARRIED (FOR 8 YEARS)

DEAR MARRIED: What else does she have to do all day? Lady, I am afraid it is YOU who are misinformed. There is washing, ironing, polishing, dishwashing, waxing, scrubbing, marketing, cooking, baking and mending, and I am sure there are women who could add to this list without much effort.

"DEAR ABBY: (Reader asked if a cat eats all the mouse.) Yes a cat eats ALL the mouse, beginning at the nose. Very tidy about it, too. Doesn't leave a trace. If the snack is a bird, there'll be a few feathers around, but if it's a mouse, only the cat knows what was for lunch." L.B.

"DEAR ABBY: In answer to your query,. "Does a cat eat all the mouse?" I can state with some authority that the cat eats all the mouse, but he regurgitates the indigestible hair in the form of a little ball about the size of a nickel. He will also bring up any other indigestible matter, or that which repels him such as the gall bladder. If the cat is not very hungry, he will let the tail hang out of his mouth. Satisfied? Well, back to breakfast."—PHIL

"DEAR ABBY: I have conferred with several experts and have been assured that cats DO eat all the mouse, including the tail. Cats will NOT eat a rat's tail, however, as a rat's tail is bitter. SAN JOSE

"DEAR ABBY: My son, age 14, was invited by a girl classmate to be her escort at a school dance. He accepted. A meeting of the School Council was held and my son's name was brought up for President. This girl stood up at the meeting and said to withdraw his name as he was too dumb. My son said, "Just for that — she can take herself to the dance." As this is the daughter of one of my neighbors and he has accepted the date, I would like to have him take her anyway. He still refuses. Answer soon." TROUBLED MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: If the girl actually SAID what you said she said, I don't blame your son for refusing to take her. Any girl who is that tactless deserves to stay home.

"DEAR ABBY: I was taught that a boy doesn't have any respect for a girl who lets him kiss her the first time he tries. This boy tried to kiss me and I told him NO, so he didn't try again. I like him a lot and want to know how I can get him to try again." MISSING OUT

DEAR MISSING: If he's normal and you're attractive, time is your best ally. Be available but not eager.

Predicts Bright Job Picture for U.S. Women

NEW YORK (AP)—Bertha S. Adkins, undersecretary of welfare, today predicted a period of improved job opportunities for older women in the next six years.

But she cautioned that older women would get jobs only if they keep in step with progress.

In a speech prepared for the New York State Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs, Miss Adkins said Labor Department figures show the country will need 10 million more workers by 1965. But the labor will have only five million more men by then than it has now, she said.

"This means additional opportunities for women of all ages," she said, noting that extra opportunities probably would arise in the professional, managerial, official and supervisory fields.

Acclaimed at Sunday Recital

Singer Young Is Warmly Received

By GEORGE H. PUTNAM

Sunday afternoon at Grace Lutheran Church, one of the Pontiac area's promising young baritones presented a recital. It was enthusiastically received by the audience which felt the hour was filled with music of a high quality and variety.

Kenneth Young, a sophomore in the Western Michigan University School of Music, was graduated from Waterford High School in 1957. He has appeared in five recitals since entering college.

RICH TONES

Opening the program with Dr. Arne's "Air from Milton's Chorus," he displayed a rich, well modulated voice and gave skillful and sensitive interpretation to his songs throughout the program.

Two contrasting selections by Benjamin Britten, "Sally Gardens" and "Oliver Cromwell," provided an opportunity for such special treatment.

The familiar "O Du Mein Holder, Abendstern" (Evening Star) from Richard Wagner's opera "Tannhauser," is a song all baritones enjoy singing. This aria displayed wide range and careful restraint.

Three songs by Johannes Brahms were also sung in German. In contrasting mood and tempo, each received proper treatment.

FINAL GROUP

Kenneth Young's last group included the dramatic number, "O Thou Billowy Harvest Field" by Rachmaninoff, "Lonesome Man" by Paul Brooks, and "Adam and Eve" by Ernest Bacon. "I Hear an Army," a brilliant and forceful song by the contemporary composer Samuel Barber, closed the program.

Mary Palmer, soprano from Kalamazoo, was assisting artist. She also displayed fine training in her two groups of songs.

Both singers were accompanied at the piano by Gary Forslelf who displayed fine technique and give an outstanding performance.

Don't Sacrifice Sleep Dawdling Away Evenings

That sleep is one of the greatest boons to beauty is an established fact. Yet, the number of women who sacrifice it to dawdling is legion.

Housewives who complain that they never get enough rest and are always tired can spend hours "visiting" on the telephone. Career girls who talk of exhaustion can stay up late to watch old movies on TV.

Both are fooling themselves and guaranteeing that in middle age, they are going to look a sagging middle age when they might have looked fresh, youthful and bright-eyed.

It's true that it's far more enticing to putter about in the evening than it is to pick yourself up, draw your bath water and get ready for bed. But it's every bit as easy to form a good habit as it is to form a bad one. And getting enough rest is definitely a good habit, one that produces clear skin, sparkling eyes and sufficient energy for the whole day's tasks.

Monosodium glutamate has a way of intensifying flavors. It may be used along with salt and pepper in cooking, but not in place of them.

Thermo Therapy in Antarctica

'250 Club' Members Roast, Then Roll in Snow in -50 Degree Cold

LITTLE AMERICA V, Antarctica (UPI) — Residents of this Antarctic base think nothing of going from a steam bath hotter than 250 degrees and rolling in the snow at temperatures colder than 50 below zero.

The doctor is Captain Thomas D. Slagle of the U.S. Navy's medical corps. He's a native of Sylva, North Carolina.

Earlier this year, the gray-bearded medic, who is in his fifties, warmed himself up to a temperature of 251 degrees. Then, he rolled in the snow outside. It was 55 degrees below zero.

Participating in the spread of 306 degrees was Lt. Max J. Perlitsch. U.S.N. Dental Corps. He's from Medford, Mass.

The institution on this frigid continent consists of a small gymnasium and a steamroom of the type seen in Scandinavian countries. The stove is surrounded by big rocks. These radiate the intense heat.

Getting rocks presented a problem when the "clinic" was being established. Little America is built on a huge chunk of ice the size of California and 800 feet thick. There's nothing but ice and snow for hundreds of miles in all directions.

Members of the "250 Club" sit on three tiers of seats in the small Finnish bath and absorb the dry heat radiating from the rocks on the stove.

When they have had enough, the lobster-red men roll in the snow outside for several minutes. They wear shoes only.

Capt. Slagle opened up for business at the beginning of the Antartica Winter Night, a time when darkness covers the frozen continent for several months.

His clientele includes Navy men at the base and International Geophisical Year scientists.

He said extreme temperatures are good for the system, particularly for circulation of the blood.

During the long winter night recently, two club members underwent the heating process in the steam room and then, in their birthday suits, rolled in the snow outside.

Lord Nelson, Britain's greatest naval hero, had an unusual occupational ailment—seasickness! He suffered from the malady throughout his extraordinary career.

Crime never pays, but it always costs. It exacts a 20-billion-dollar annual toll in the United States, or between $400 and $500 for every family.

Alcoholics Can Be Aided Before They 'Hit Bottom'

By LOUIS CASSELS

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Many people believe that an alcoholic has to "hit bottom"—make a real mess of his life — before he is amenable to treatment.

This widespread belief is now being vigorously challenged by medical authorities. They are telling doctors that alcoholism, like cancer, diabetes and other diseases, should be diagnosed and treated as early as possible.

One of the principal proponents of this viewpoint is Dr. Marvin A. Block, chairman of the Committee of Alcoholism of the American Medical Association.

Dr. Block has played a leading role in arousing the medical profession to awareness of its responsibility for dealing with the disease of alcoholism, which now ranks as the nation's number four health problem with an estimated 5,000,000 victims.

He believes that special alcoholism clinics, while valuable, can never handle more than a fraction of the huge caseload.

In his opinion, the best hope for a successful assault on the disease lies in teaching general practitioners to recognize its symptoms early and to treat its victims promptly, and matter-of-factly.

"The average doctor should be able to motivate his patient to cooperate with treatment long before he hits bottom," Dr. Block said.

It is not even necessary, he added, to wait until the patient's drinking has reached the uncontrollable stage which is usually regarded as the threshold of true alcoholism.

"If the patient shows a pattern of adverse results from drinking —that is, if his drinking is already causing significant difficulties in his job, family or any other department of his life—he can properly be called a 'problem drinker' and he should be advised to abstain completely," Dr. Block said.

"This would prevent many people from becoming alcoholics."

Research indicates that it usually takes from 7 to 17 years of drinking for a potential alcoholic to acquire the disease in full-blown form.

While Alcoholics Anonymous and others have demonstrated that it is possible for even the most helplessly addicted alcoholic to recover, the chances for arresting the disease are clearly much greater in the early stages, before it has ravaged the patient's mental and physical health, and while he still has some power of will over his drinking.

Dr. Block pointed out that doctors no longer have to rely on warnings alone to motivate an incipient alcoholic to adopt the course of total abstinence which is his one hope for recovery.

Any patient who is sincerely willing to try doing without alcohol can be powerfully supported in this resolve by modern medical treatment, including the use of tranquilizers where indicated and supervised administration of the new drug antabuse, which creates a violent allergy to alcohol.

The hold-up that grabs a slice of every dollar you spend or save

Last year another 2¢ disappeared from your dollar... 32¢ have gone just since the war.

Inflation doesn't care whom it hurts.

It grabs a chunk from every dollar you spend or save. Every time prices creep up, it's because inflation has nipped a few cents more from your shrinking dollar. Inflation is Public Enemy No. 1, all right. And no one escapes.

What can we do? First, it is essential that enough people make up their minds that inflation must be stopped.

And inflation CAN be stopped!

Where your representative in Congress is already working to protect the buying power of your dollar, support him in every effort he makes to tighten up on unnecessary and postponable expenditures and to see that the budget is balanced.

One thing we need to do is to make the Employment Act more effective by adding a stable dollar as one of our primary goals along with maximum employment, production and purchasing power.

Your watchful interest and support is needed just as much in state and local affairs. If we keep on pressing any government for more and more benefits when we're already committed to heavy expenditures, two things can happen. Higher and higher taxes. Or more and more inflation. Either way, you pay.

When government starts living within its income again, we'll have taken a big step against inflation. We'll also have given millions of Americans extra incentive to add to their savings. Not only will a growing nest egg bring a comfortable feeling of independence and security. But those savings, as they are invested, will provide the capital needed for America's future growth.

America's future—and yours—depends on a strong and stable dollar.

Brought to you in the interest of every American who is concerned with preserving the value of the dollar.

Many Designs Crowd Skies

By ALICE MORGAN
Pontiac Press Correspondent

Kites and hawks soared over Birmingham Saturday afternoon as the Recreation Board and Bloomfield Art Assn. concluded the 1959 kite contest.

Apparently attracted by the strange objects invading their airy domain, a flight of about a dozen hawks circled for an hour or more over the eastern edge of the city.

Kites, carried by a brisk wind had worked their way from Poppleton Park toward the east, and high in the sky they dipped and spun while the hawks held their own "glider" contest.

Man-made soarers took every shape, size and color. A dainty, fragile little "bee" bobbed happily while the huge Chinese "dragon" showed his nasty disposition and refused to stay aloft for more than a few minutes.

Every crash sent its maker, William F. Howard of 4685 Tully road, Bloomfield Hills into the business of untangling its many sections and strings. In spite of itself, the Dragon came out with first-place prize in the senior, "most unusual design," division.

Top winner of the two-part show was 15-year-old Alan Crise of 6400 Wimbley Lane, Walled Lake. Alan won the design contest of two weeks ago in his age group for having both the most unusual and largest kite.

Members of the Norman Lyle Squadron, Birmingham Air Force Association, were instrumental in bringing Colonel James McPartland and a helicopter here from Selfridge Air Force Base to carry judges up to the kites.

Kite designs included a squid, which came to a tragic end when one of the supports was broken, a gaily colored bird, flying saucer, black bat, the traditional kite-shaped kite, one fragile-looking, six-sided work of art, bright with gold foil trim and a multi-colored tail, and numerous box kites.

Carrying a foil tail, a black kite was an extreme modification of the box type. It looked anything but graceful. A bystander was heard to remark, "If that thing flies, when it comes down I'll eat it —foil, tail and all!" When the kite was landed the gentlemen was no where to be found.

Materials ranged from newspaper and wrapping paper to plastics, silks and nylon chiffon.

At the conclusion of the flight contest, awards were presented to winners including those in design competition judged two weeks ago.

Brandon Seeks Millage Hike

Voters to Decide Today on Fire Protection Issue, Reminds Clerk Jencks

BRANDON TOWNSHIP—Voters in the township will go to the polls today for the second time in less than a week to cast their ballots on an issue important to the entire township, Helen M. Jencks, township clerk, reminded today.

The electorate turned out in force last Thursday to approve extra millage for school operation in the Brandon School district. Today's proposal seeks voter approval to set up the township as a special assessment district for fire protection.

Township officials are asking for an increase in millage estimated not to exceed $3 per thousand of assessed valuation for one year to equip and operate the department, Mrs. Jencks explained.

Voters are asked to pay particular attention to the buff-colored ballots which have the fire assessment district proposal, she added.

Attend Meetings in Respective Townships

Residents in Area Hear Annual Reports

Of all the townships that held annual meetings Saturday, Pontiac Township drew one of the largest crowds with some 60 persons present.

Like other townships, the session was devoted mainly to the reading of annual reports, determining pay for township officials and setting up assessment districts for fire protection.

The item of business which caused the most comment and took the longest time to resolve was the question of pay for township personnel.

After considerable discussion the group voted to put the three top officers on salary in lieu of fees. The supervisor will receive $7,000 per year and the clerk and treasurer $5,500 each per year.

The motion also included provisos that they be placed under the Social Security Act and that they share equally with the township in paying for hospitalization, if they so desire.

All three will be entitled to two-week vacations each year, according to other action taken at the meeting.

Another recommendation adopted was that the clerk be appointed deputy treasurer and the treasurer deputy clerk.

Trustees' pay was set at $17.50 per diem, and members of the Board of Review, $17.50 up from $10.

Township voters authorized the continuation of the present procedure of spreading two mills on the equalized valuation for operation of the two fire districts.

This will mean "no increase" in the tax levy, officials said.

The board then was instructed to study the feasibility and cost of offering garbage collection in the township and to report back within four months.

Township officials also were given six months to draw up a building code.

Finally, those at the meeting authorized the township to blacktop the parking lot behind the township hall.

AVON TOWNSHIP

Avon Township residents at their annual meeting Saturday voted to have the water board from the water district placed on the elective ballot instead of being appointed next year.

They also adopted a $176,700 budget for the next fiscal year.

In other action, the group voted to put one and a half mills on equalized valuation for township purposes and one mill on assessed valuation — outside the Rochester village limits — for fire protection.

OAKLAND TOWNSHIP

Residents in Oakland Township, who attended the annual meeting Saturday, approved $500 pay raises for the three top township officials. The supervisor will receive $3,000; the clerk, $2,500; and the treasurer, $2,000.

Trustees will get a straight $12.50 per meeting — nullifying the $300-a-year limitation previously in effect.

The group also decided to have the minutes of every meeting mailed to all registered voters in the township. Board meetings are held the second Tuesday of every Month.

OXFORD TOWNSHIP

Salaries and fees for officials of Oxford Township were determined by those at the annual meeting there Saturday. The supervisor will receive $3,300 next year; the clerk, $2,800; and the treasurer, $2,500—all $300 above last year.

The trustees' pay will stay at $10 per meeting.

Two thousand dollars was appropriated for the cemetery fund, and the township board was authorized to add up to $4,000 to the sinking fund for a building and fire apparatus at the close of the fiscal year.

There is $6,000 in this special fund now, Herbert V. Rahm, township clerk, said today.

INDEPENDENCE TOWNSHIP

Some 40 people attending the annual township meeting here Saturday authorized an increase in the supervisor's salary from $8,000 to $9,000 and in the clerk's salary from $5,500 to $6,000.

A proposed budget of $87,206 was presented. However, the officials' salary hike will necessitate several adjustments to be made in other departments, they told the group.

MILFORD TOWNSHIP

Residents attending the annual township meeting from 2 to 3 p.m. Saturday authorized a $1,000 increase in the supervisor's salary and expenses.

Supervisor Mayon Hoard will now receive an annual salary of $6,000.

In other business it was revealed that the fire hall fund is approximately $2,000 short due to delinquent taxes.

Voters had approved a two-mill tax hike in November for a new township - fire hall, combination building. This would have amounted to $22,500. However, only $20,637 has been collected, according to the report of Amber Culham, treasurer of the fund.

Plans for constructing the building will proceed as far as the funds will allow, said Supervisor Hoard.

Several residents were at the meeting to discuss a proposed township dump site and were told by the board that a study would be made before any site was established.

Speaker for the group, Jack Thompson of 2441 Charms Rd., told the board that people were dumping debris near his home at the corner of Bruno and Charms roads, assuming that it was the township dump.

The treasurer's report showed a balance of $47,841 in the Milford Township general fund.

County Health Director to Be Honored at Banquet

Oakland County and its director of health will be singled out Wednesday by the Michigan Health Council in East Lansing.

Dr John D. Monroe will receive the council's public health award at its annual banquet at Kellogg Center on the Michigan State University campus.

Dr. Monroe is also acting director of the Pontiac Health Department. President last year of the Oakland County Medical Society, he is a former president of the Michigan Health Officers Assn.

The award will come during the two-day rural health conference, Wednesday and Thursday, at which health programs and problems will be discussed by more than 50 experts in the field. More than 300 students and teachers are expected at a careers conference Wednesday.

'Religion Not Old Fashioned'— Rector

Jazz Combo Plays in Anglican Church

NORWALK, Conn. (AP) — It was strange to be hearing this kind of music in a room where there wasn't a blue veil of cigarette smoke and no undercurrent sounds of ice clinking into glasses.

The four piece jazz combo sent out the modern sound in St. Paul's Protestant Episcopal church.

"We intended to show our youth that religion is not old-fashioned," said the Rev. Anthony P. Treasure, rector of St. Paul's.

On Sunday, in New England — where great pride is taken in the past — this small church was trying something new. The music was the "Twentieth Century Folk Mass" written a few years ago by the Rev. Geoffrey Beaumont, vicar of St. George's church, Camberwell, England.

It started with the ripple of a piano, then brushes massaging a drum, and finally the bass and alto sax, while youth who came to pray listened knowingly and their elders just listened.

This was the way the solemn Mass had begun — a so-called "Jazz Mass," before a standing room crowd.

The Rev. Mr. Treasure told this conservative Anglican parish "We cannot leave a part of our life behind us as we come to the house of the Lord."

The Russ Martine quartet wore simple dark suits. A choir wearing traditional robes stood about them.

The organ was silent.

The Kyrie Eleisen and the Agnus Dei was heard transposed over the dance rhythm of a Latin beguine. The offertory hymn was a waltz.

The Gloria, Sanctus and Benedictus were bold and swung to a four-time beat.

The congregation responded in voice to the singing of the tenor.

The Rev. Mr. Treasure is 37. He said the mass was an attempt to place the solemn Eucharist in a familiar setting. The musicians are all professionals from neighboring Stamford.

As the congregation left the church and strolled down the Norwalk green, they had mixed reactions.

A New York advertising director said it wasn't really anything new. "Some of the 11th century plain chants were originally drinking songs," he said.

One high school student said she liked it "but I wouldn't want to hear it every Sunday."

CUBS ON INDOOR OUTING — These four Cub Scouts discovered an unfortunate 'brother' of theirs when Den 7 of Lambert School Pack 30, Waterford Township toured Al Hilde's taxidermy shop at 1920 S. Crown Prince Will Wed Friday

Clouds Can't Dampen Tokyo's Gaiety

"Cloudy and occasional rain" is the forecast for April 10, the date of the prince's wedding to Michiko Sheda.

Even showers aren't expected to dampen the public gaiety for the biggest social event in Japan since Akihito's parents were wed 33 years ago. More than a million persons probably will jam the five-mile route along which the couple will be driven after the ceremony.

Police issued special rules for the giant crowd in an attempt to preserve some sort of decorum.

Firecrackers are banned and so are loud music, throwing of streamers, balloons and bouquets, flash bulbs for pictures and jumping into the street.

With a campaign under way now for for election of a governor of Tokyo, distribution of pamphlets and speechmaking along the royal route are prohibited.

Police also warned against drinking liquor and said old people and children should be accompanied by escorts or guardians.

Police estimated that only about 300,000 would be able to see the young couple drive by. To help out, 115 television sets will be installed at various spots. Nearly 9,000 policemen will patrol the route.

Sun Spot Observer Paid Space Rates

BOULDER, Colo. (UPI)—Scientists at Colorado University's High Altitude Observatory were long puzzled because an observatory in Czechoslovakia continually reported more solar flares — sun spots — than any other observatory in the world.

When Colorado's Harold Zirin embarked recently on a 13,000-mile tour of the Soviet Union and eastern Europe, he was asked to check up on the situation. He came back with this explanation:

"One scientist who observes solar flares much as we do is paid on the basis of the number and size of the flares he observes."

Goats Run Wild in Park, Sheriff Sends Out Posse

Now the 10 goats living in the park have been declared a nuisance and Grant County Sheriff Mrs. Robert Seemeyer is considering sending out a posse to round them up, and, if that fails, to hunt them down.

Test Run Due to Start in 2 Months at Monroe's Atomic Power Plant

By A. F. MAHAN JR.

MONROE (AP) — Michigan's first atomic power plant will begin operating in less than two months—but without uranium fuel and without producing any electricity.

The Enrico Fermi plant's atomic furnace isn't due to start cooking with uranium 235 until September 1960, when the Detroit Edison Co.'s 150,000-kilowatt generator will be ready to start humming.

But on June 1 a 13-month testing and training program will start at the plant at nearby Lagoona Beach off Lake Erie.

Before the testing is finished every seal and weld, every pipe and wire and all the steel and concrete will have undergone tests just as if the plant were fired with uranium. And, it is hoped, mistake-proof crews will have been trained.

Sodium, a metal that turns to liquid at 208 degrees, will absorb the atomic furnace's heat, transfer it to other but non-radio-active sodium, which in turn will transfer it to water from which steam will run the turbine generator.

In the testing, a temporary, oil-fired furnace will heat the 30,000-gallons of sodium to 750 degrees—the same as the uranium furnace will—and pumps will send it flowing through 30-inch pipes on its way to make steam.

Sodium, a capricious metal capable of violent reaction unless kept pure, will be pumped through its automatic cleaning plant, just as it will after uranium starts heating it.

So a constant overflow from the atomic heating vessel will be pumped through the cleaning plant, then pumped back into the vessel to force out more.

The works of the cleaning plant are encased in a building whose concrete walls, top and floor are six feet thick. After the reactor starts cooking the cleaning plant works will become radio-active. But it will be sealed before then.

The cleaning plant's inside will be the only radio-active spot outside the furnace itself and an isolated fuel storage building. Workmen will be able to walk about in the domed building housing the 92-ton stainless steel furnace, which scientists call a reactor.

No other commercial atomic power plant now being built uses sodium as a heat transfer agent.

WELL WRAPPED

The furnace, made of two-inch thick steel, extends deep in the ground, wrapped in concrete and graphite shields. Atop it are five feet of concrete. The domed building is constructed of inch-thick steel.

In the testing process, the interior of the domed furnace building will be subjected to air pressure of 40 pounds per square inch to make sure there are no leaks—just in case anything atomic might get loose inside.

Its doors lock like those of a bank vault—and there are two, one in front of the other, in the building's only two entrances. One entrance is for workmen, the other for bringing in new fuel and taking out spent uranium 235 and the radio-active plutonium it breeds.

Plutonim is itself an atomic fuel, and the Enrico Fermi plant will produce 1½ pounds of plutonium for every one of uranium that it burns. The government will buy the plutonium. It can be used in bomb-making, too.

Just in case of a breakdown any where, the sodium circulating system is equipped with automatic heaters that keep the metal from falling below 208 degrees, where it would became solid and plug pipes.

There are hundreds of other things to be tested. The giant steel claws that pick up the uranium fuel rods and the machines that manipulate the elements that keep the burning within bounds are among those that will get over over and over again testing.

When the wheels of the 59 million dollar plant begin to turn under atomic power in mid-1960, they will turn slowly and testing will go on as they build up speed toward production of 100,000 kilowatts of power.

POWER PLANT BUILDERS

Detroit Edison hopes eventually to get steam necessary to hit the capacity of its generator—150,000 kilowatts.

The reactor was built by Atomic Power Development Associates, Inc. The heat exchange building, cleaning plant and the rest of what might be termed the boiler works was constructed by Power Reactor Development Co. Detroit Edison will take the steam and turn it into electricity in a 17 million dollar adjoining power plant.

Atomic Power Development Associates primarily is a research organization; Power Reactor Development Co. a building and operating group. Both were formed by utilities and equipment manufacturing firms and will have an investment of 42 million dollars.

Edison will get the steam at about the cost it could manufacture steam from coal heat—three mills per kilowatt, Power Reactor Development Co. expects to run its part of the plant at a loss to begin with but hopes it is pointing the way to still cheaper and cheaper electricity.

Already, says Myron Beekman, director of Detroit Edison's nuclear power development department, drastic improvements are in the offing.

Ways have been found, Beekman says, to build a reactor more efficient and for less money, and still less complicated to operate.

By the time so-called third generation atomic power plants come along, possibly by 1975, Beekman predicts they'll be cheaper to build and have double or triple the capacity of Enrico Fermi.

New Firm Plans to Sell Strike Pay Insurance

WILMINGTON, Del. (AP) — An executive of an insurance firm formed recently to sell strike pay insurance says the firm hoped to be offering policies in 60 to 90 days.

Anthony Freitas, secretary-treasurer of the United Employes Insurance Co., said the firm now is in the process of raising $375,000 in capital to meet Delaware requirements for businesses of its type.

The firm is offering a 20 million dollar issue of common stock and Freitas said "from the inquiries we've been getting it looks like we should be selling policies within three months."

The policies will be offered to unions with the proviso that 80 per cent of the participating union — whether a local or international group — participate.

Freitas said maximum benefits will be $62.50 a week for 12 weeks, after a two-week waiting period, at a cost of 65 cents a month. still other policies, at higher premiums, drop the waiting period requirement.

Those eligible for the benefits, he said, will be union members on a legal strike — one authorized during the period of a contract by the union officials responsible in this area — or a legal strike that follows expiration of a contract and inability to agree on terms of a new pact.

Freitas said insurance contracts will provide that the policy be in effect for at least six months prior to the expiration of a union-management contract.

Freitas identified himself as a former Portland, Ore., aluminum products dealer. He said he had been in the Wilmington area more than a year laying the groundwork for the firm and that plans for this new type of insurance company were in the works seven years. He said he initiated the plans.

He said the Securities and Exchange Commission had given the new insurance firm clearance to begin operations last month.

Her Memory Gets Citation for Detroiter

DETROIT (AP) — Nancy Ibanez, a 21-year-old drug store clerk, will get a civilian citation from the Detroit Police Department because she has a good memory.

A crook took $69 from her on Jan. 3 and then returned to the drug store again on Feb. 2, this time taking $80.

Miss Ibanez looked at several mug shots of known thugs but couldn't identify any of of them. She told police, however, that she would know the man if she ever saw him again.

While driving along a Detroit street Sunday, she saw Billy Liner, 21, working on a supermarket truck. She called police and told them Liner was the man who had robbed her.

Officers said Liner, who had no previous record, admitted the holdups, plus a $700 shotgun robbery of a supermarket.

Repeal of Prohibition Law Up for Vote in Oklahoma

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Oklahomans wind up a short but hard campaign Tuesday by deciding whether to swap 51 years of prohibition for legal liquor.

Observers predict up to 700,000 voters will have their say.

One question determines whether to repeal constitutional prohibition, in effect since statehood, and substitute legal liquor. The amendment provides for private package stores, with sales by the drink banned.

The second question, determines if county option will be adopted if repeal passes. If both are approved, counties will vote May 12 tn whether to go wet or stay dry.

The election follows by two days a huge effort by state law officers to dry up Oklahoma. Led by 33-year-old Safety Commissioner Joe Cannon, city, county and state officers raided 13 Tulsa bootleggers and x4 Tulsa nightclubs Saturday night.

Then at midnight a vtst network of roadblocks was set up over most of the state for six hours.

Neither raids nor roadblocks netted much—50 bottles of liquor and 22 persons arrested on liquor charges—but Cannon termed it a success.

He has headed the three-month crackdown which Gov. J. Howard Edmondson promised voters in his campaign last summer.

The crackdown had the announced aim of giving voters a clear choice between repeal and enforced prohibition.

It also was seen as an effort to stir up thousands of wet voters who in past yetrs have either voted dry or stayed home Election Day. Registrations, especially in wet Tulsa and Oklahoma City, are up considerably.

The United Dry Assn., financed mostly by churches, pitched the prohibition campaign to the evils of alcohol and weaknesses in the amendment. c

Knight Buys Charlotte News

Say Between $1½ and $2 Million Paid for 2nd Daily in City

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP) — The Charlotte News was purchased Sunday by the Knight Publishing Co., which owns the Charlotte Observer and newspapers in Miami, Detroit and Akron, Ohio.

No sale figure was announced, but unconfirmed reports put the price at between one and a half and two million dollars.

Thomas L. Robinson, publisher and principal owner of the News, announced the sale. He said it was economic standpoint" because increasing costs had exceeded gains in advertising and circulation revenue.

The sale left the Carolinas without separately owned dailies in any city. Besides the morning Observer here, the Knight group owns the Miami Herald, Detroit Free Press and Akron Beacon-Journal. It recently sold the Chicago Daily News.

The News has a circulation of 65,000 and is the largest afternoon paper in the Carolinas. The Observer's circulation is 154,000 daily and 173,000 Sunday.

ILW Proposes 35-Hour Week

Also Wants Reduced Retirement Age, Higher Minimum Wage

SEATTLE (UP)—West Coast longshore leaders today proposed a 35-hour work week, reduced retirement age and higher minimum wages to help meet "displacement of men by machines."

Officers of the International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union said in a convention report that labor can help maintain employment by seeking "further reductions in the work week without reductions in pay."

The report to the ILWU's 13th biennial convention opening today was signed by Harry Bridges, president; Louis Goldblatt, secretary-treasurer, and Vice Presidents J. R. Robertson and Germain Bulcke.

They also advocated more and longer unemployment pay, easier disability pensions, medical benefits for Social Security beneficiaries, a national health service, and action "to reduce the burden of taxes, both federal and state."

The ILWU officials urged continued opposition to all forms of labor control legislation, but the report to the independent union said little help for labor can be expected from the present Congress.

Turk Minister Praises Unity

Says Smaller Countries Heartened by Solidarity on Berlin

DETROIT (AP) — Turkish Foreign Minister Fatin Rustu Zorlu yesterday lauded the solidarity of the free world in the face of Russian threats.

The foreign minister said there was no sign of fear of Russia at meeting of foreign ministers which he just attended. "Nor does there exist any difference in the aims of any NATO country," he said.

"After all, it is the Soviet Union which has threatened the peace in the Berlin crisis—not the Western nations."

Zorlu said in a press conference shortly after his arrival by plane last night that President Eisenhower's strong stand on Berlin "heartened all t he smaller countries."

Asked if Turkey might deny Russia passage through the Dardanelles if the Soviet Union should cut off Western access to Berlin, he said, "Let's hope it never comes to that."

Zorlu will leave Tuesday for Chicago.

'Come Off It, Monty,' Says British Press

LONDON (UPI) — The British press reacted with undisguised alarm today to Field Marshal Viscount Montgomery's plans to talk over East-West affairs with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev.

"Every time Monty blunders into politics he makes an ass of himself," the tabloid Daily Sketch said in a front page editorial. "This time he can do untold damage to the West as well."

Montgomery, who has often been in hot water with the newspapers for his outspoken views, is retired from active army life and has no official government connection.

The News Chronicle slapped a headline across the top of its front page today which said "Monty shakes America," but the story didn't give the impression the United States was unduly shaken up.

It also pointed out there was no official comment from the U.S. government on Montgomery's trip, planned for April 28, but it noted that American statements on a strong Berlin position "happened" to follow Montgomery's announcement.

The intimation was that the Washington announcement was timed as some sort of reply to the Field Marshal's announced intention of going to Moscow "because I am very interested in this conflict between East and West. I want to go over and have some talks about it."

Baseball Grip Trademark of New Masters Golf Champ

Pennsylvanian Fires 66 With Five Birdies in Last 6 Holes

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — An unorthodox baseball grip and a glass-shafted mallet putter are the trademarks of the new Masters golf champion — quiet, modest Art Wall Jr., of Pocono Manor, Pa.

"When I first started playing I never knew there was another way to hold the club," Wall said today of his Mickey Mantle style of whacking a ball. The putter is a recent addition to his bag — replacing an old wooden-shafted blade he had carried for 10 years.

The putter — with three dots on its head to warn against three putts — played a major part in the most dramatic last day comeback in all the 25 years of Masters tournament play.

Starting six strokes back and in a tie for 13th place, Wall fashioned a brilliant six-under-par 66 yesterday for a total of 284 which left the pace-setters scrambling for runnerup money.

Cary Middlecoff finished in second place at 285. Defending champion Arnold Palmer took a triple bogey six at the 12th hole, the key hole of his success in 1958, and wound up with a 74 for third place at 286.

The old Canadian war horse, Stan Leonard, faltered with a 75 for 287 tie with Dick Mayer. Amateur champion Charlie Coe, three-putting five greens, fell back to 73 for 288.

The Masters never has seen a rally such as Wall's. In 1956 when Jack Burke backed in after being eight shots behind he only had to hurdle three players. In 1957 when Doug Ford won with a last round 66 he also only had to push ahead of three rivals. Wall leaped over 12 players in his spectacular surge to the front.

He sank one putt of 20 feet, three of 15 feet and finished with a 12-foot birdie putt on the last hole.

He had five birdies on the last six holes.

Wall's victory earned him $15,000 and pushed his year's money winnings past $30,000, giving him the thickest wallet on the tour.

Wall is 35 years old, son of a state representative from Honesdale, Pa., and a pro for 10 years. But until this year, he never made a serious threat for the golf pinnacles which have been occupied by such stars as Ben Hogan and Sam Snead, now on the decline. Hogan finished at 295 and got a consolation check of $300. Snead had 293 and banked $1,275.

Palmer appeared a cinch, even after his nightmarish triple bogey six at the 12th, until he missed a three-foot putt on the 17th and a five-footer at the 18th. Coe, putting poorly already had dropped from contention.

Then Wall made his driving finish — going birdie-birdie-birdie-par-birdie-birdie on one of the great rallies of all-time. But even then he couldn't feel safe until Middlecoff, needing a birdie on one of the final three holes to tie, came home. The Memphis doctor never had a good birdie chance.

YIPEE! — Art Wall Jr., waves with the ball aloft on the 18th green after putting out with a 66 for a 284 total to win the Masters Tournament. He brilliantly fired five birdies on the last six holes.

Western's Mark Tops State 9's in Florida

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (UPI)—Of three Michigan teams entered in the annual Florida State University baseball tournament here, Western Michigan finished best with a 5-2 tourney record.

Michigan State ended the tourney play during the weekend with an 8-2 victory over the host Florida State team, to finish with three wins and four losses. The MSU victories included a 1-0 shutout game Saturday over arch-rival Michigan.

Michigan ended its tournament play with a 1-6 tally.

Illinois was the unofficial tournament champion with a 5-1 record, best of the eight teams entered. Others were: Florida State, 6-4; North Carolina 2-1; Duke, 3-5, and Florida, 1-3.

Boston-Toronto Gird for Series' 7th Game

BOSTON (AP)—Boston and Toronto girded their battered forces today for 60 minutes of all-out combat which will decide Montreal's opponent for the Stanley Cup hockey championship series.

With their best-of-seven series B competition tied 3-3, the Bruins and Maple Leafs must settle the question on Boston Garden ice tomorrow night.

Montreal, seeking an unprecedented fourth straight Stanley Cup triumph, eliminated Chicago in six contests.

"I don't think the Toronto club will catch us as they did last time here," said Boston coach Milt Schmidt referring to the Leafs' convincing 4-1 triumph here Thursday.

That one gave Toronto a 3-2 edge and forced the Bruins to make a last-ditch stand for a 5-4 triumph in the Canadian city Saturday.

As a result of the jolting body checks and furious competition that has marked the Bruins-Leafs series, the Boston corps is hurting.

Capt. Fernie Flaman and Bob Armstrong have groin pulls while Jim Morrison has a swollen upper lip which required 15-20 stitches. Fast-rushing Doug Mohns continues to limp on strained leg ligaments.

Schmidt was hopeful about the status of all but Mohns who he figures won't dress.

The Montreal Canadiens arrived back in town from Chicago quietly last night with prospects of taking things easy for a few days.

They knocked off the Chicago Black Hawks 5-4 Saturday night in the sixth game of their semi-final for the Stanley Cup, closing out a 4-2 victory.

They will not play again until Thursday, when the winner of the Boston Bruins-Toronto Maple Leafs series comes to Montreal to start the finals.

"This layoff can't do us anything but good," coach Toe Blake said. "We're certainly glad to get the opportunity to have a rest."

Moore Hoping to Be Promoter

SAN BERNARDINO, Calif., (AP)— Light heavyweight champion Archie Moore says he wants to become a boxing promoter.

He plans to ask the California boxing commission for a license next Saturday.

Feels 'Ambushed'

Middlecoff Had Sights on Palmer and Leonard

By CARY MIDDLECOFF

AUGUSTA NATIONAL GOLF COURSE — I feel like I was ambushed.

I managed to gun down the ones I set my sights on—Palmer and Leonard and Coe—and here comes this Art Wall out from behind a rock and gets me right between the eyes.

This finish of Wall's must be as great as any in the history of golf. So all that the rest of us can do is take off our hats to the man, as he puts on the green coat of a Masters champion.

Looking back on my Sunday round, the most miserable shot I hit was a little pitching-wedge chip at the 14th. I was no more than 30 feet from the hole and it was a shot your Aunt Emma could undoubtedly play as well as I did.

I started to play this shot with a putter and my caddie, name of Eight Ball, favored this course of action. I left the ball five feet short and missed it to take a bogey.

But then if I had parred the 14th, what with the tactical situation being what I thought it was, I would surely have played the second shot to the 15th more to the fat part of the green instead of ripping it for the pin as I did. So I probably would have got a birdie instead of that eagle.

At that point I thought I could catch Palmer and Leonard, (I was playing with Leonard, and Palmer was about three holes ahead) with a birdie and three pars.

Wall, you see, was still behind that rock.

PAIR OF MASTERS — Art Wall Jr., shows the plaque he received after winning the Masters Golf Tournament yesterday. He was presented the award by Bobby Jones, all time golfing great and president of the Augusta National where the tournament is played.

From The PRESS BOX

NHL President Clarence Campbell, who saw the 15-minute riot at Saturday's Montreal-Chicago game, said their will be no league action taken. "It's a matter for the building management to stop the throwing of bottles and other debris on the ice," he said. Montreal coach Toe Blake said: "Chicago crowds always were the worst."

The 1959 Davis Cup final will be held at Forest Hills, N.Y. Aug. 28-30, it was decided Saturday. The Rose Bowl and L. A. Coliseum had been under consideration. Vic Seixas won the international tennis tourney in Puerto Rico Sunday while Pancho Gonzales was whipping Ashley Cooper to go ahead of Lew Hoad on the pro tour.

North Carolina basketball star Doug Moe has been dismissed for excessive class cuts. Hospitalized former pro ace Maurice Stokes netted $6,189 from a benefit game held recently.

Henry Leland started the golf season in great style yesterday with a hole-in-one on the 145-yard 16th hole at the Rochester Golf Club. He had a 74 for the round.

Three horse players picked five winners in the 5-10 handicapping contest at the Caliente, Mexico track yesterday and their $2 ticket on the combination was worth $63.-705. A total of 48 other players picked four winners for a consolation prize of $442 each.

Now Soviets Take Credit for Baseball

MOSCOW (AP)—Well, perhaps it was bound to come out, but now we know where Abner Doubleday got his idea for baseball. The way Russia tells it, from the ancient Russian game of lapta.

The magazine "Little Light," a weekly pictorial, said Lapta was carried to the United States and Canada by emigrants in the 18th and 19th centuries, where it became the forerunner of baseball.

Lapta is played with a ball and bat and players on opposing sides. That is the principal similarity with baseball. The players line up on opposite sides of the field. One side hits the ball toward the other and the player tries to reach the other side and return before being touched out by the ball recovered by the opposing team.

Year to Reckon With Yanks Is Most Unlikely

White Sox Expected to Fall in Standings of AL Race

NEW YORK (AP)—The rest of the American League may be catching up with the New York Yankees, but the year of reckoning is not yet here.

Because of their wealth of proven players, their vast depth in pitching, their multitude of extra manpower and their extraordinary maneuverability, the defending champions must be picked to win their fifth consecutive championship and their 10th in 11 years under Casey Stengel.

The Yankees are not invulnerable, but the feeling is that not one of their rivals has bolstered itself sufficiently to make a successful bid for the pennant. The team that has a chance to at least make a token challenge seems to be Detroit with its vastly strengthened pitching staff and in lineup that includes such solid hitters as Al Kaline, Harvey Kuenn and Frank Bolling.

Chicago, the perennial runnerup, doesn't appear to have gained strength to overhaul the Yankees. In fact, the White Sox may have a difficult time beating off a challenge by the remodeled Cleveland Indians.

Boston, with a re-shaped pitching staff, and outfield problems stemming from the trade of center fielder Jimmy Piersall to a flock of injuries capped by Ted Williams' pain in the neck, may slip into the second division. That seems to be the final habitation of Baltimore; Kansas City and hapless Washington.

The forecasted order of finish:

1. New York
2. Detroit
3. Chicago
4. Cleveland
5. Boston
6. Baltimore
7. Kansas City
8. Washington

Ramsey Sparks Celts' 2-0 Lead

BOSTON (AP)—Point - a - minute Frank Ramsey is the inspired Boston substitute who once almost was traded to Minneapolis. The Lakers would willingly buy him just to get him out of their hair today.

As the Celtics "sixth man," Ramsey is the main reason Boston leads Minneapolis 2-0 in the National Basketball Assn.'s championship playoffs.

The Celtics took charge early in yesterday's 128-108 decision over the Lakers but, as usual, it took Ramsey to light the fuse.

The former University of Kentucky star made his first appearance at 8:51 of the first period with Boston holding a slim 19-16 edge. From then until the period ended the Celts outscored the visitors 13-1.

23-Year-Old 'Veteran' Stars

By The Associated Press

Bobby Anderson, a towering 23-year-old right-hander who was something less than sensational last year, has developed into the key man in the Chicago Cubs' pitching staff. So much so that Manager Bob Sheffing today decided to give him the opening day starting assignment.

At such a tender age, the supposition would be that Anderson is pretty much of a novice in the pitching trade.

Guess again.

He has toiled for five minor league clubs and now is going into his fourth hitch with the Cubs.

Anderson, 6-4, spent most of last season with Fort Worth in the Texas League where he compiled a 17-9 record. He hung on with the Cubs for a while and posted a 3-3 mark and a 3.95 ERA.

But yesterday, he capped a fine exhibition campaign, holding the Boston Red Sox to three singles during a seven-inning stint in Fort Worth. The Cubs won, 5-0, and Anderson got Friday's starting assignment against Los Angeles.

Billy Pierce whitewashed the Washington Senators, 3-0, for the Chicago White Sox in Charleston, S.C., and Bob Friend, ace of the Pittsburgh Pirates' staff, cut down the Philadelphia Phillies, 5-1, in Fort Myers, Fla.

Elsewhere, the San Francisco Giants edged the Cleveland Indians, 7-6, in Denver; the Los Angeles Dodgers downed the Kansas Cty A's, 3-1, in West Palm Beach., the Cincinnati Reds outlasted the New York Yankees in 10 innings, 7-6, in Tampa, and the Baltimore Orioles turned back the St. Louis Cardinals, 5-4, in Miami.

For Pierce, the triumph was his first nine-inning job of the spring. But in this case the silver lining had a dark cloud. The Sox collected just six singles. They've been having trouble all spring getting anything more than a single.

Friend outpitched another veteran, Robin Roberts. The Pirate righty gave up only six hits. Roberts was touched for 13, including homers by Bill Virdon and Dick Stuart.

Home runs were the big factor in the victories of the Giants, Dodgers and Reds.

Jackie Brandt lined a three-run job in the eighth to earn the struggle over the Tribe. Charlie Neal sent the Dodgers ahead with a homer in the third. John Powers came up as a pinch-hitter for Cincinnati in the tenth with Pete Whisenant on base and blasted one of Jim Bronstad's pitches over the right field wall and the Yanks were dead.

Made Surgery Plans

Wall Was Ready to Quit

SCRANTON, Pa. (AP)—Art Wall, who won the Masters tournament Sunday with brilliant final 6-under-par 66, and is currently golf's leading money winner, nearly quit the professional circuit a month ago.

Suffering from a virus infection and plagued by a pain in his side, the lean 35-year-old Pocono Manor., Pa.., pro consulted a physician in New Orleans who told him he might have a hernia condition requiring surgical repair.

"I didn't agree with the hernia diagnosis and took Art to a couple of specialists who agree with my view that the pain in his side was likely only a vague secondary sympton of his virus trouble," Dr. Wall said Sunday night.

"We told him to go 'back to work' and by golly, he certainly seems to have done so with a vengeance," Dr. Wall chuckled.

Hockey Rioter Apologizes

CHICAGO (AP) — A 33-year-old machinist who was injured when he rushed on the ice rink Saturday night interrupting the Montreal-Chicago hockey game said Sunday he was sorry he lost his temper.

Jean Rev, struck on the head with a hockey stick when he chased Referee Red Storey, said he hoped he would not be barred from future games in Chicago Stadium.

Rev said he became disgusted when he thought Storey should have called a penalty against Montreal.

After being injured, Rev was taken to a clinic where eight stitches were taken in his head.

The game, which Montreal won 5-4, was delayed more than 15 minutes when fans threw debris on the ice.

Houtteman Is Unhappy; Thought He Had It Made

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (UP)—Former Detroit Tiger pitcher Art Houtteman sat on a rubbing table in the Kansas City Athletics clubhouse and said:

"You know I thought I had this club made. I've felt good this spring and I feel I've pitched pretty well."

The 31-year-old veteran of nine full seasons in the American League had good reason to believe that he had won a job on the A's pitching staff. In 12 innings of exhibition baseball Houtteman allowed only one run. And, only a week or so ago, Manager Harry Craft had said the righthander's work was like "picking up money in the street" for the pitcher-poor Athletics.

Why then was Houtteman, who once won 19 games for Detroit, sent back to the minors?

Craft decided to keep two younger men — rookie George Brunet and Rip Coleman, who has shown good stuff this year after failing in previous trials with New York and Kansas City. Also, Brunet and Coleman are lefthanders and Kansas City is woefully short on lefthanded pitching.

"I don't think I've ever had to do anything more difficult than tell Art that we couldn't use him," said Craft. "He's done everything you could expect of a man. There hasn't been a harder worker in camp and he was willing to do anything we wanted him to. He only gave up one run so it's obvious that he did a good job of getting the hitters out.

"I'll tell you the truth, I couldn't offer him a good reason why he was being released. What are you going to say to a man who has only given up one run all spring?"

Houtteman, obviously shaken, said: "I'm not mad at anybody. Craft had a decision to make and he made it.

"In his judgment he thought someone else could help the club more than I could and I can't blame him for that."

The A's bought Houtteman conditionally from Detroit for a reported $25,000. He was returned to the Tigers' triple-A farm at Charleston, where he had a 7-9 record and 3.25 earned run average last season.

After brief service with Detroit in 1945 and 1946, Houtteman joined the Tigers as a regular in 1947. His best year was 1950, when he won 19 and lost 12 for Detroit.

"I think Art could help several clubs in our league," Craft said. "In fact, I made some long distance calls trying to get him on some place. I didn't do him any good but I think that if he'll stay in shape and keep pitching like he did for us he'll find a job in the majors before too long."

Swimming Title to Southern Cal

Michigan Independents Outstanding in National AAU

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (UPI)—It's Southern California by an eyelash over Michigan in their strictly unofficial battle for the national team swimming championship.

Led by triple winner Murray Rose of Australia, the Southern Cal Trojans ran away with the Men's National AAU swimming crown in the tournament that concluded here Saturday night, accounting for five of the 15 records set and scoring 62 points to 29 for the runnerup New Haven Swim Club.

Michigan won the NCAA championship last week. Southern California, under suspension, wasn't eligible to compete in that tourney. 'M' could not enter the AAU as a team.

Rose was the big gun for the Trojans, winning three individual championships and taking the individual scoring trophy with a 21-point total. Rose captured the 1500-meter, 440-yard and 220-yard freestyle events, setting a new American and meet record in the 440 Saturday with a brilliant 4:18.8 clocking.

Michigan sophomore Frank Legacki clipped nearly a second off the American and meet records in the 100-yard butterfly with a 53.4 clocking in the preliminary, and won the finals Saturday.

Other top performers from Michigan were Jozef Gerlach, who won the three meter dive, Tony Tashnick in the individual medley and butterfly and Ron Clark and Cy Hopkins in the breaststroke as the Wolverines totaled 60 points.

Day of Decision for Tigers

AP Wirephoto

NEW BRAVE GETS A TIGER—John O'Brien, Milwaukee Braves' newly acquired second baseman, forces Detroit Tiger Larry Osborne at second and then completes double play in the game at Bradenton yesterday. The Braves beat the Tigers, 5-0, behind Warren Spahn's pitching.

Five Players to Be Chopped Prior to Trip

Game Today Is Final of Grapefruit Circuit for Bengals

LAKELAND, Fla. (UP)—This will be a day of decision for Detroit Tiger manager Bill Norman.

After today's final Grapefruit League game, Norman must pare five players from his 33-member squad before making the trip north to open the regular baseball season.

Judging from the battery Norman sent against the Milwaukee Braves at Bradenton yesterday, the Detroit manager plans to continue experimenting until the very end.

The names of the five who don't make the grade probably will be released shortly after the game here today with the St. Louis Cardinals.

Detroit was handed its 10th exhibition defeat in 22 starts yesterday when Milwaukee's Warren Spahn shut out the Tigers 5-0 on six hits. The shutout was lefthanded Spahn's second in three starts.

Only two Tigers got as far as third base as Spahn hurled the defending National League champions to their third straight exhibition victory and their ninth in 24 starts.

Detroit's Jim Bunning, the loser, turned in a fine performance, doling out five hits in seven innings.

Milwaukee's big blast came in the first inning when the Braves collected three runs. They scored again in the second and once more in the eighth when Joe Adcock blasted a homer off Ray Narleski.

The Tigers are scheduled to break spring camp Wednesday and fly directly back to Detroit. This will be the first time in many seasons the Tigers haven't come home the long way and played exhibition games along the route as they came north.

Some 37,500 fans are expected to be at Briggs Stadium Friday when the Tigers open their regular season against the Chicago White Sox. Norman hasn't decided on a starting pitcher yet but is expected to give the nod to either Bunning or Frank Lary. Bunning opened last season for Detroit.

Badminton Title to Detroit Pair

DETROIT (UPI) — The Detroit team of Mildred Sirwaitis and Mary Connor scored an upset victory Saturday night over the top-seeded team of Helen Gibson and Wanda Bergman of Norwalk, Conn., to take the senior women's doubles championship in the U.S. Open Badminton tournament here.

The Detroit pair was in command all the way in the first game winning 15-10, wilted badly in the second which the Norwalk team took and then finished strong to take the deciding contest 15-11.

Ypsi Five Wins MRA Title

Big George Brown, former Wayne State University basketball ace, was more than either the Pontiac Knights of Columbus or VanderWiede & Sons of Grand Rapids could handle last Saturday afternoon and evening as Ypsilanti Thorne Tire Co. won the Michigan Recreation Association Class A cage crown at Pontiac Central.

The 6-foot-5 Brown poured 86 points through the hoop in the semifinal and final games to almost single-handedly lead the Ypsilanti quintet to the state MRA title.

Ypsi's sharp-shooting center meshed 38 points in the opening game of the afternoon semis to spark his team to an 84-72 conquest of the Knights of Columbus, city Class A champs.

Brown collected 48 points in the championship contest on 15 field goals and 18 of 20 at the foul line to pace Ypsi's 80-71 triumph over Grand Rapids. The Furniture City quintet gained the title round with a narrow 66-65 victory over the Dearborn Hart All-Stars in the semifinals.

The Knights of Columbus held a 21-15 first quarter lead against Ypsi, but Brown started hitting in the 2nd period with a 16-point spree to push th K. of C. into a 41-34 halftime deficit and the Pontiac cagers never caught up.

John Keller, ex-St. Michael star, and Bloomfield Hills basketball coach Hal Trott led Pontiac's scoring efforts with 23 and 20 points, respectively. Brown netted 13 field goals and 12 of 13 free tosses for Ypsilanti.

Ypsi trailed Grand Rapids at the half of the final, 34-29, but Brown fired 19 points in the 3rd quarter to send his club into a 61-55 edge and Ypsi never let Grand Rapids close the gap.

Hubbard Raps Pay Circulars

Claims 'Smear Sheets' Are Being Distributed by Dearborn Policemen

DEARBORN (UP) — Mayor Orville Hubbard, opposing Teamster Union plans to organize Dearborn city employes, has ordered an investigation into the distribution of circulars calling for a pay increase for policemen.

Hubbard said several police officers were handing out what he termed "smear sheets full of dishonest statements."

Hubbard ordered Acting Chief Edward Mealey to determine whether Dearborn police officers have joined the Teamsters Union, have been solicited by Teamster business agents or accepted money from the union to promote a pay raise proposal for police and firemen.

Eight police officers who allegedly handed out literature supporting the pay raise were questioned by their superiors last night. No charges were made.

"They put out a smear sheet full of dishonest statements," said Hubbard. "We have an ordinance requiring that anyone putting out literature of that type shall have their full name and address on it."

Ellsworth Hanlon, attorney for Firefighters Local 412, said Hubbard had violated a federal court injunction restraining him from interfering with the circulation of literature favoring the pay increase.

Hanlon said he would ask U.S. District Judge Arthur F. Lederle Tuesday to take action against the mayor.

Hubbard staid he, too, would place some charges Tuesday — against the eight officers. He said he would charge them with violating a city ordinance.

Teamsters Local 299 was authorized last week to bargain for 480 Dearborn city employes, most of them in the Department of Public Works and Sanitation Department.

4 Pontiac Men Attend Phoenix Project

Four Pontiac area men attended a meeting in Ann Arbor to launch a campaign to raise $2,000,000 for that city's Memorial-Phoenix Project for atomic research.

Attending were Oliver L. Beaudette, Dr. Glenn R. Brooks, of Rochester; Glenn H. Griffin, and Stuart E. Whitfield.

They were among 104 state business and industrial leaders who heard campaign and project officials outline the results of the Phoenix research over the past 10 years, and described the needs of the future.

James C. Zeder, Chrysler Corp. vice-president and campaign committee chairman, told the group that funds raised to establish the project in 1948 as a memorial to the university's World War II dead are nearly exhausted.

Asks Examination in Store Robbery

Richard Haines, 22, of 49 Sheffield St., demanded examination at his arraignment on a breaking and entering charge before Waterford Township Justice Pat Daley.

The pretrial examination will be at 2 p.m. April 15.

Unable to furnish a $10,000 bonds, Haines is being held in the Oakland County Jail.

He is accused of participating in a safe burglary at the Aris Drugstore, Sashabaw road at Walton Blvd., last October.

Haines is accused of being with Jack Swartzbough, 23, of 5340 Pine Knob Rd., Clarkston, at the time the store was broken into. Swartzbough is now serving a prison sentence at Jackson State Prison for the same crime.

Some $3,400 in government bonds and securities and $1,100 cash were stolen, along with the safe.

Month Sees Upturn in Employment

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The White House announced today that March unemployment figures show a "gratifying" improvement over February.

The February total was estimated at 4,749,000, unseasonably high.

The new figures, to be announced tomorrow by the Labor and Commerce Departments, were submitted to President Eisenhower today by Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell.

The President asked Mitchell to come to the White House this morning with a preview of the March figures which will be made public in detail just in advance of an unemployment conference called here for later in the week by organized labor.

The President held a 35-minute conference with Mitchell. White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said afterward:

"The President, of course, is continually concerned about the involuntary unemployment of any American, and not just statistical reports.

"However, he believes that the figures to be released tomorrow will be gratifying and of great interest to all Americans."

Asked if the new figures represented an improvement over February, Hagerty said, "They're pretty good."

Red Embassy Has Blast

DAMASCUS, Syria (AP)—The local press said today a time bomb inside the Soviet Embassy building in Baghdad yesterday but there were no casualties. The Daily Al Wahda said the bomb went off on the first floor.

Hollywood Party Fetes Ingrid

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—"It seems that I have never been away."

So said Ingrid Bergman, beaming, as the top stars of Hollywood gathered to honor her on her first visit to the film capital in a decade.

The Saturday night affair lasted well into Sunday morning. A feature of the late hours: Sir Laurence Olivier doing a jitterbug routine to "Turkey in the Straw."

Among those present were Jenny Ann Lindstrom, Ingrid's 19-year-old daughter by her first marriage, and her third husband, Swedish theatrical producer Lars Schmidt.

Miss Bergman is in Hollywood to present one of the Oscars at tonight's Academy Awards presentation.

SAC Head Says U.S. Plans Inadequate

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The head of the Strategic Air Command has told Congress the Defense Department is "risking the whole country" by failing to provide for enough missiles and bombers in the years ahead.

Gen. Thomas S. Power assured the House military appropriations subcommittee that U. S. retaliatory striking forces are strong enough now to crush any would-be aggressor and thus to deter war. But he said he feared for the future, even next year.

Power, whose Feb. 13 testimony was made public last night, said the United States must impress upon Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev the fact that "he cannot strike this country with impunity.

"I think the minute he thinks he can . . . we will 'get it' in the next 60 seconds," he added. "The only thing to keep him honest is full knowledge of what will happen to him."

Can Develop New Chemistry

'Hell Fires' Urged

BOSTON (AP) — A scientist today declared we ought to create "hell fires" on earth, just to see what happens.

He warned the Soviet Union is probably trying to do it — first.

The hell fires would be laboratory temperatures of 10,000 to 60,000 degrees — 2 to 12 times hotter than those usually produced on earth.

Out of research with them come an entirely new chemistry — perhaps vastly more powerful rocket fuels, strong new materials, strange new chemicals.

RESEARCH JUMP

A research jump into these "hell fires" was urged by Dr. Aristid V. Grosse, president of the Research Institute of Temple University, at opening sessions of the American Chemical Society's 135th national meeting.

"We simply don't know much about what happens in chemical and physical reactions above about 5,000 degrees," he said.

"But temperatures above 10,000 degrees might lead to new fuels, rocket propellents, and materials able to resist tremendous heat."

'Our national security could be involved, if these high temperatures do hold secrets to new fuels and new chemicals.

"The Soviet Union is trying to leapfrog us in the missile race, and probably is working hard on facilities to create ultra-high temperatures."

California Experiment to Reward Good Drivers

Will Try Merit Rating Car Insurance

By JACK VANDENBERG
UPI Automotive Editor

DETROIT — A traffic ticket may cost you more than just the fine assessed by a judge and an accident may be more costly than just replacing a dented fender if a California experiment proves successful.

On the other hand, if you can avoid a traffic ticket or an accident for three years, it will save you more than just a fine and a repair bill.

The insurance industry will begin its biggest experiment with an insurance program which penalizes the bad driver and rewards the good one when "merit rating" insurance takes effect in California May 1.

If the California experiment proves successful, the plan is expected to be adopted by most insurance companies throughout the United States, according to the National Bureau of Casualty Underwriters and the National Automobile Underwriters Associations.

These two associations, representing about 200 insurance companies, petitioned the California Insurance Commission for permission to try the experiment to see if merit rating automobile insurance is practical.

Under the California plan, drivers with no accidents or moving violations over a three-year period get a 20 per cent discount in their insurance rates. Those with one accident or violation pay about the same rate they would pay under any standard plan. Those with two or more accidents or violations will pay higher rates.

Only moving violations, not parking infractions, are counted against policyholders. Traffic accidents involving $50 or less in damages and accidents in which a car was damaged while it was parked also are exempt from charges against the policyholder.

HAS BEEN TRIED

This type of insurance actually is not new. It has been tried in various forms over a period of several years and currently is being written by individual companies in various states.

But it is generally considered to be still experimental by the insurance industry and the California experiment is the biggest of its kind undertaken to date by the industry.

It could be the key to widespread use of merit rating insurance or to the death of it, depending upon the results.

Most insurance companies have been hesitant about trying the plan previously because they foresaw one big drawback.

Most motorists will take the insurance and benefit from its lower rates until they have proven themselves bad drivers, the insurance companies felt. Once they get into the higher rate bracket, they would drop the insurance and switch to a company that provides insurance at a standard rate.

This would mean the companies using merit rating plans would have to pay damages incurred by these drivers in their first accidents but would not be able to keep them once they had to start paying the penalty.

It could mean the companies would not get enough revenues from their low-rate customers to cover the expenses necessary for damages incurred by customers who quit to avoid paying higher rates.

So far there has not been enough experience to determine what will happen. If all companies use the plan, and any driver switching from one company to another would have to pay a higher rate until he establishes a record with the second company, it might work out, insurance officials say.

There is some hope this type of insurance might further encourage drivers to be more careful. But again, there's not enough experience with it to prove this theory.

Antibiotics Aid in Keeping Food

EAST LANSING (UPI) — Most people think of antibiotics only as a medicine. Today, however, they are being used more and more in the preservation of food, says John Moore, agricultural economist at Michigan State University.

Promising results have been achieved with antibiotic treatment of fresh fruits and vegetables and fish.

Spinach dipped in streptomycin lasts one to two days longer on the shelf. Brown rot in peaches is reduced 44 per cent by treatment with antibiotics. The storage life of various kinds of fish can be extended three to twelve days by antibiotics.

This Thief Is Alarmed Over Not Waking Up

HARTFORD, Conn. (UPI) — Somewhere there is a thief that must have had a hard time getting up in the mornings.

Grain Trading Holds Steady

CHICAGO (AP) — Offerings to sell were a bit more liberal at the opening of the grain board of trade today but they were quickly absorbed and prices firmed somewhat after initial weakness in spots.

Brokers said there appeared to be no new factors influencing trade and that it maintained steadiness on skimpy cash receipts over the weekend.

Norway bought a small amount of corn and the United Arab Republic about 1,100,000 bushels of wheat but half of it is the white variety.

After about on hour wheat was ⅝ cent a bushel higher to ¾ lower, May $2.10¾; corn ⅝ to ⅞ higher, May $1.23⅞; oats ⅛ lower to ⅛ higher, May 67⅜; Rye ¼ to 1½ higher, May $1.43; soybeans ¼ to ⅝ higher, May $2.26½.

The good advance in corn prices over the past two weeks should provide a good test, brokers said, of what may be necessary to attract larger supplies into commercial positions.

Antitrust Charges Filed Against Kroger

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Federal Trade Commission has charged the Kroger Co. of Cincinnati, Ohio, the nation's third largest retail food chain, with illegally acquiring more than 40 other corporations and their 1,900 grocery stores.

The Commission said the acquisitions, dating back to 1928, were a violation of the Clayton Anti-Trust Act and may result "in a substantial lessening of competition or tendency toward monopoly."

Kroger was given 30 days to answer the complaint.

Ex-Royal Oak Man Is Caught

Ionia Escapee, Friend Taken Near Cleveland After Smashing Car

A former Royal Oak man was one of two escapees from the Ionia State Reformatory captured Sunday in Bay Village, a Cleveland suburb, after they smashed up a stolen car.

The two were identified by village police as Jack Hammer, 22, formerly of Royal Oak, and Gerald Hotaling of Mount Pleasant.

Police said they spotted the car when it turned a corner in Bay Village. They gave chase at speeds up to 95 m.p.h., but couldn't come close to the fleeing vehicle. The chase ended when the stolen car plowed into a lawn and hit a tree on a sharply curving street.

Hammer surrendered but Hotaling fled, officers said. A patrolman fired two shots over Hotaling's head after the latter refused a command to halt. Hotaling hid in a garage but was found by the patrolman.

The two escapees had a year to go on convictions of breaking and entering. They escaped last Friday. Police said the two told them they stole a car at Ionia, abandoned it, then took a second one from a Detroit used car lot.

Young People Cause Florida's New Land Boom

Many of the answers to this question are revealed in a recent issue of a national magazine.

Reporting that the Florida population is swelling at the rate of 225,000 a year, the article reveals that the majority of the migrants are young people looking for the pleasure of a year-round life in Florida's balmy outdoors. The other portion of the newcomers are retired poeple who had put off the big move until their pensions became secure.

Perhaps one of the greatest flux is the state's successful real impetuses to Florida's recent influx is the state's successful real estate policing action which has insured well-planned and trustworthy housing developments.

The building boom is going ahead full speed, and as a result, industry has moved in to help Florida achieve a balanced economy on which to make solid growth.

DETROIT (AP)—American Motors reported today a new record of 29,895 retail car sales in March.

This topped the previous record month, December 1958, when retail sales of Rambler cars numbered 27,151 units. Last month's total compared with 14,139 unit deliveries in the like 1958 month.

Rambler retail deliveries in the first six months of the 1959 model year totaled 148,931 units compared with 62,189 in the similar 1958 period.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (UPI)—Ohio State University, which makes it a point of turning out good football teams, recently inserted an advertisement in the Columbus Dispatch for a "lineman."

But the school wasn't trying to recruit football players. The "lineman" would help out at the university airport.

U.S. Rebuttal Due on Du Pont

Attempt to Prove Plan for Distributing GM Stock Feasible

CHICAGO (AP) — The government calls rebuttal witnesses today in an effort to prove feasible its plan on how the Du Pont company should get rid of a 23 per cent controlling interest in General Motors.

The Supreme Court has ruled the Du Pont interest — 63 million shares worth three billion dollars — is a tendency toward monopoly. It ordered U.S. District Judge Walter J. LaBuy to work out a solution.

For the past three weeks Du Pont attorneys have presented a series of witnesses who testified the government plan to sell 20 million shares of GM stock on the open market over a 10 year period would harm both the country's economy and the two corporations.

After the government rebuttal, Judge LaBuy will take the mass of evidence and argument under advisement. The hearings began last February. A final decision is not expected for months.

In addition to the open market sale of GM stock, the government proposes the remaining 43 million shares in Du Pont hands be distributed to Du Pont shareholders on a pro-rota basis. Investors would receive 1.38 shares of GM for each share of Du Pont they own.

Government attorneys contend the sale and distribution would solve the monopoly problem and would not depress the market prices of either GM or Du Pont stock or stock prices in general.

Du Pont attorneys disagree. They claim GM and Du Pont stock prices would dip as much as 25 to 30 per cent.

Safecrackers Get Early Start on Area Links

Safecrackers got out onto the golf links early in the season after breaking into the Tam O'Shanter Country Club in West Bloomfield Township last night.

The club's heavy safe was carried out of the clubhouse and rolled about 200 yards down the 10th fareway before burglars stopped to pry the door off with crowbars, said Trooper William Dreger of the Pontiac State Police Post.

About $212 in cash and two checks totalling $169 were taken from the cash box, which theives did not pause to crack open until they had fled another 75 yards down the fareway away from the clubhouse, said Dreger.

The clubhouse, located on Walnut road, east of Orchard Lake road, apparently was entered through a door in the dining room, which was pried open, said Dreger.

The safe was located in an upstairs office. It apparently was skidded out of the building, then carried to the fareway, Dreger said, where marks indicated it was rolled away end-over-end.

Law Found That Can Assist 59ers in Land Claims

Rep. William S. Broomfield (R-Oakland County) may have solved one of the big problems facing Detroit's 59er expedition to Alaska.

He said today that a search by the Bureau of Land Management has revealed existence of an unused, 1946 provision that, in effect, permits the setting aside of a block of federal land for group filing.

The 59ers, who motored from Detroit to Alaska's Kenai peninsula, reaching Anchorage last week, want a tract of about 35,000 acres to settle as a group.

Broomfield, who has given the 59ers support in Washington, D. C., said that by filing under the 1946 regulation, the pioneering group could keep others from capitalizing on their plans by moving into the area before claims are filed.

U.S. Art Lovers Disprove Idea

Show Loads of Culture by Attendance at Van Gogh Show

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Vincent Van Gogh—the Dutch painter who died nearly 70 years ago — is doing a lot to disprove allegations in Europe and elsewhere that the United States is a cultural desert.

Travelers from abroad have long contended that Americans love material comfort to the exclusion of anything that might do them some intellectual or artistic good.

Such critics would probably be surprised to know that more than a quarter-million persons recently turned out on the West Coast to see 155 sketches, water colors and oils done by Van Gogh in the 19th century.

Two Los Angeles authorities — William Osmun, curator of the Los Angeles County Museum, and Donald B. Goodall, chairman of the Department of Fine Arts at the University of Southern California, were particularly encouraged.

"Undoubtedly, the book and motion picture about Van Gogh were responsible for some of the great turnout," Osmun said. "But, certainly not all of it."

Osmun's personal explanation wept this way:

"Van Gogh was a very sympathetic person. He was a lay preacher at one time, you know. He was not an artist painting in an ivory tower away from humanity.

"The emotions he expressed are universal and they come through in his paintings."

Anyway, Osmun said, he never doubted that Americans were interested in art.

The educator said he likes to think that the American public is capable of more than an appreciation of television westerns.

"As a matter of fact," se said, "in many cities in the United States more people visit museums each year than visit big league baseball stadiums."

Injury Doesn't Show Struggle

Nerve Expert Disputes Claim of Mrs. Nicholas About Fight With Teel

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—A nerve specialist today denied a defense claim that Minnie B. (Connie) Nicholas' right arm was paralyzed by a fatal struggle with her lover.

Dr. John A. Hetherington of Indianapolis, a state witness in Mrs. Nicholas' murder trial, said wrenching or twisting of the arm would not cause paralysis "in a conscious adult."

The surgeon testified the probable cause of the paralysis was, as the state contends, her cramped position while lying in a near-suicide coma for 20 hours, her head resting on the arm.

Mrs. Nicholas swallowed 75 sleeping capsules shortly after the fatal shooting of handsome Forrest Teel last July 31.

A few minutes after court recessed for lunch the prosecutors decided to rest their case. The defense indicated it would ask for adjournment until Tuesday morning before starting its testimony.

Dr. Hetherington said a paralysis like the one Mrs. Nicholas suffered usually comes from prolonged direct pressure on a nerve, coupled with reduced blood circulation in the arm. Even "one, two or three hours" of such circumstances, he said, could cause paralysis.

House Must Breathe, Let Moisture Out

Is your house breathing? Many tightly constructed modern houses without adequate ventilation become traps for excessive moisture. Moisture in a house comes from such sources as oil and gas furnaces that are not properly vented to the outside. Moisture comes from the kitchen when you're cooking, from the bathroom without a ventilating fan when you're bathing.

The steam from the laundry, and clothes dried indoors, also contribute. For protection against such invasion, use ventilating fans, louvers in the gables and such breather devices as small tubes, wedges or gaps placed at the bottom of siding material.

Expect Large Turnouts

April Is Meeting Month for Nation's Stockholders

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Stockholders of the land arise! This is your month to howl, to be wooed, to be fed, to demonstrate how the American corporate system works or should work.

In April stockholders annual meetings crowd fast on each other's heels. There will be at least 60 on one day — April 28 — and if you have stock in more than one of the companies you'll have to make a choice.

This April looks more festive and less bellicose than some past ones. Fewer proxy fights are in prospect. Rising profits put shareowners in a better mood.

Stockholders grow in number each year — not only in the national total, but on the rolls of most of the largest corporations.

And each year more stockholders flock to annual meetings. They're more fun than they used to be — and more informative.

The company with the greatest number of common share owners — American Telephone & Telegraph with 1,619,397 at last count — expects such a turnout April 15 that it's taking over a New York armory accomodating 25,000.

The company expects between 7,500 and 12,500 actually to show up to vote on a 3-for-1 stock split and 10 per cent dividend boost as recommended by the directors. Last year AT&T attendance topped 2,500 with only routine business in sight.

Jersey Standard Oil with about 503,000 owners, and General Electric with 395,000, each have had annual meetings of more than 4,000 in the past to claim previous records.

The New York Stock Exchange's magazine notes today that the oil firm had the greatest rate of gain last year in new shareholders, which now has 171,000. Third was Columbia Gas with 155,000 now.

On the same day that telephone stockholders trek to the armory there will be 36 other annual meetings to choose among. Included are Borden, Columbia Broadcasting, Owens-Illinois Glass, Pitney-Bowes, Texas Instruments and Virginia Electric.

Among the 60 meeting on the biggest day, April 28, the exchange lists American Can, American Smelting & Refining, Cities Service, Continental Can, Eastern Air Lines, Eastman Kodak, Gulf Oil, Ingersoll-Rand, Merck, Minneapolis-Honeywell, National Gypsum, Olin Mathieson, Phillips Petroleum, Safeway Stores and Youngstown Sheet & Tube.

Third biggest day is April 21 with 35 meetings, and fourth is April 14 with 29 meetings. But there are seven others this month when from 12 to 28 meetings are scheduled.

Shrimp Most Valuable Sea Food Last Year

WASHINGTON — United States commercial fishermen landed a record $380-million catch last year, and the succulent shrimp again wriggled out in front as the most valuable part of the oceans' bounty.

Once relished mainly by gourmets of the Gulf Coast, shrimp appear increasingly in cocktails, gumbos, jambalayas, and salads in all parts of the United States, the National Geographic Society says.

Trawlers in 1958 pulled up 212 million pounds of shrimp worth some $74,500,000—far more than the next most valuable fish. To meet the growing demand for shrimp, 138 million pounds were imported in 1958 from Mexico, El Salvador, Ecuador, Greenland, India, Japan, Egypt, and Spain.

Missing from the 1958 haul were Royal Red shrimp, a large, brick-red species found in deep waters off Florida. These tangy crustaceans enjoyed a flurry of popularity in 1957, but the cost of taking them from 1,000 to 1,200 feet of water makes their netting uneconomical. Fishery experts believe that an inexpensive method of catching Royal Reds will be developed, however, because shrimpers have a knack for finding them.

Before World War I, shrimpers dragged over the muddy bottoms of shallow bays with beach seines. Between 1912 and 1915, the otter-board trawl was developed. It is a net more than 100 feet wide with large wooden doors that act as jaws to hold it open.

Shrimping suddenly became highly profitable, for a few men can handle the trawl in deeper waters. As boats grew larger, they moved from coastal bays and shoals ino the open Atlantic and Gulf of Mexico.

In 1938, Louisiana trawlers west of the mouth of the Mississippi River found the home of the "jumbos," white shrimp with "tails" six to seven inches long. Boats from neighboring states flocked to the new grounds, starting a migratory "boom" pattern for the industry.

A variety of brown shrimp was located off the southern Texas coast and adjacent Mexico in 1940. They were caught in great numbers after World War II, but sold poorly because buyers were accustomed to white shrimp. The resourceful shrimpers hired their own marketing expert; soon the "Golden Brazilians" were selling well.

Useful Quartz Low in Esteem

Abundance Fortunate for Man Who Found Its Value Early

WASHINGTON — Electronic experts, builders, glass blowers, high fashion jewelers, even soothsayers all use one of the lowliest of minerals—quartz.

Quartz rarely gets much public attention, however, because there is so much of it, the National Geographic Society says. Nature has put quartz almost everywhere, in the rocks of the highest mountains and sands of the sea.

The very abundance has caused men to scorn quartz as a precious gem and only rarely consider it as a strategic military material.

Quartz is a form of silica, a compound of the elements silicon and oxygen. It occurs in hexagonal crystals or in crystalline masses. Hard and brittle, it may be colorless or almost any color. Its form varies widely.

Long before written history began, primitive man discovered the marvel of quartz. He found that good cutting tools can be chipped from flint. His delicately hewn flint knives and arrowheads were among man's first achievements on the long road to civilization.

Later, man came to appreciate the beauty of the colorless quartz known as rock crystal. Greeks who came upon it near Mount Olympus believed it was water frozen forever by the gods. They called it krystallos, meaning ice. From this came the English word "crystal."

Ancients made beads and other jewelry from rock crystal. They also invented the crystal ball.

Says Garbage Cans Cause Traffic Jams

Tiny Aden Port 2nd to New York

500 Vessels Pass In and Out of Fueling Point Each Month

WASHINGTON — Among world capitals, Aden has no peer as a fueling port.

Its superb anchorage at the heel of the Arabian Peninsula has been busy since prehistoric times. The modern seaport, which is capital of Aden Colony and Protectorate, not only is one of the most active in the British Commonwealth; since construction of a huge oil refinery there in 1954, it has become second to New York as a bunkering depot. Some 500 vessels call each month.

Separated from Africa by the narrow Bab el Mandeb straits, Aden is a trade center for Arabia Ethiopia, and the Somalilands, the National Geographic says. The population has risen from about 80,500 at the end of World War II to a present peak of 140,000.

The oil refinery is called the "Garden of Aden." Yet urban Aden is hardly an Eden. It is extremely hot and often hazy with red dust. Black volcanic cliffs shoot skyward from stark-white homes and buildings. Its lack of verdant beauty has been immortalized in a British pipe march, "The Barren Rocks of Aden."

Aden is so dry that plants of the region have solved the water shortage problem in various ways. Most plants have few leaves. Some have obese stems, others a hairy covering. A common plant of the caper family guards against evaporation with a thin coating of wax.

For many years Aden distilled drinking water from the sea; deep artesian wells now provide an extra and more economical supply.

The port and its immediate environs, all told about 75 square miles, are Aden Colony. It comprises two rocky peninsulas that enfold the anchorage like claws. The old city crouches in an extinct volcano on the eastern peninsula and is appropriately called "Crater." A modern white city has arisen at Steamer Point to the south. The oil installation occupies "Little Aden," the western peninsula.

86th Congress Back Tomorrow

Long List of Budget Battles Awaits Return of Solons

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The 86th Congress reconvenes tomorrow to resume work on legislative issues sure to stir political controversy and rock the Eisenhower budget.

House and Senate members of the Democratic-controlled Congress end their 11-day Easter recess at noon tomorrow. But no major activity is scheduled for this week.

Many members will not come back until Wednesday and Congress will mark time on Thursday for the traditional season opening major league baseball game in the nation's capital.

But there are plenty of legislative headaches ahead. Perhaps the first will come in a budget test on the Democrats' big airport construction bill.

This measure could invite a presidential veto, depending on whether a $465 million dollar or a $297 million dollar version emerges from a House-Senate Conference Comtee.

They include the $2,700,000,000 housing bill which passed the Senate and is now in the House, a Senate-approved $398,000,000 depressed areas bill awaiting House action and legislation boosting funds in the World Bank and Monetary Fund but applying the costs to the fiscal 1960 instead of this year's budget. The latter bill is in conference.

Fights are ahead on labor reform legislation, next major issue to come up in the Senate; a civil rights bill; some kind of aid-to-education program; defense appropriations, and foreign aid spending.

Living Gulf Critical

JERUSALEM, Israel (UPI) — The gulf between living standards in the United States and Britain and those in Asia and Africa "is the most serious problem facing the world," Israeli Premier David Ben-Gurion said last night.

Solons Rock Johnson's Boat

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — At the start it looked like such a comfortable year for Sen. Lyndon Johnson. As leader of the Senate Democrats the tall Texan had everything he could wish for, including peace and quiet.

It was like being the skipper of a ship on a windless sea. Then suddenly out of nowhere the wind came up. It didn't capsize him but it rocked his boat.

Loyalty? He had it. Probably every Democratic senator is beholden to him for some favor or other. He's a great one for doing favors, knowing the importance of having senators feel favorable to him when he wants something done.

Prestige? He had it in abundance. Wasn't everyone saying he was a positively brilliant maestro in a place which has more prima donnas than an opera house? He had a genius for getting them to say yes or no as he wanted.

And best of all for him: he had an overwhelming majority of Democrats to work with. Thanks to last November's elections, his party's majority was the greatest since early New-Deal days.

What more could a Senate leader ask? If he were asked, he'd probably have said more of the same, as anyone would. He was even being prominently mentioned as a likely Democratic presidential candidate in 1960.

Then a comparative newcomer, Sen. William Proxmire, Wisconsin Democrat, strode up to the bridge and pulled the skipper's cap down around his ears. This was a few weeks ago.

In brief, this was Proxmire's complaint: Senate Democrats were being treated to too much of the daddy-knows-best stuff, with Lyndon the Daddy. Proxmire wanted less of a one-man show and more say-so from everybody.

He wanted Johnson to hold more pow-wows with other Democrats so they could have a voice in what legislation should be pushed, changed, or shoved aside.

Last week Johnson encountered criticism of his leadership from another Democrat, Sen. Pat McNamara of Michigan. He didn't like the way Johnson acted—failed to act was the way he put it—on the jobless pay bill.

This bill, as approved by Congress, was much less than McNamara wanted. He accused Johnson not only of failing to provide leadership but of failing to take a stand at all.

Sen. Wayne Morse (D-Ore) came up with still more criticism during the weekend. He didn't mention the 51-year-old Johnson by name, nor did he name Johnson's fellow Texan, 77-year-old Sam Rayburn, speaker of the House. The two Texans have been the undisputed Democratic bosses in the Capitol.

But Morse blasted the "Democratic leadership on Capitol Hill" which he said had benn the "charlie McCarthy in a political ventriloquist act" with President Eisenhower and his administration on the Edgar Bergen end of the act.

"Could it be," asked Morse, "that we are witnessing a tragic political spectacle of both of our political parties in the control of old, tired, sick, reactionary men?"

He said in effect: the Democratic leadership in Congress, instead of leading and pushing through Democratic programs, has been playing footsie with the Eisenhower administration.

On top of all this the 27-man Democratic party advisory council tried to light a fire under Johnson and Rayburn Sunday with an appeal to them to ignore Eisenhower's spending holddown and to start a program to bolster the economy.

Johnson, a man highly sensitive to criticism, was out of town and

Surgery on Dog Settles Law Suit Out of Court

LA JOLLA, Calif. (AP)—A ventriculucordectomy settled a law suit.

It was performed by Dr. J. E. Spoon, veterinary surgeon, to correct the noisy barking of Maxie, a dachshund — reducing it to something like a gentle cough.

Miss Priscille G. Ferry, whom the barking had bothered, then withdrew her suit against Miss Sara G. Hayden, Maxie's owner.

News Media Panel Raps World Reports

NEW YORK (UPI) — A five-man discussion panel questioned yesterday whether the great volume of news presented by newspapers, radio and television is providing the American public with the information it needs to understand these complex times.

The hour-long discussion, on the CBS television program "The Great Challenge," concluded an appraisal of modern journalism begun on the same program last week. Both were presented with the cooperation of Sigma Delta Chi, the national journalism fraternity.

Participants in yesterday's discussion were Presidential Press Secretary James C. Hagerty; Charles A. Sprague, editor and publisher of the Oregon Statesman and former governor of Oregon; Robert D. Swezey, executive vice president and general manager of WDSU Broadcasting Corp., New Orleans; James Reston, Washington correspondent of the New York Times, and Arthur Schlesinger Jr., author and professor of history at Harvard University.

Only Sprague gave an unqualified affirmative to the question of whether the public is getting enough information.

"I think they are getting it more in quantity and better in quality than ever before," he said. Later, asked how his newspaper makes understandable to its readers such complex new subjects as modern weaponry and radiation hazards, he replied:

"We try through selection of material and through editorial comment, and I think that is where there needs to be more development . . . we need to have better trained reporters and we need to have better trained editors both on the news desk and in the writing of editorials. I think that is an area in which there needs to be great improvement on the part of the press . . . this news will have to be distilled and interpreted."

Schlesinger and Swezey said they thought the public was not getting the information it needs. Reston said he believed they are getting it in some places and not in others.

Hagerty said, "I hope so, but I am not sure."

Hagerty, in the closing moments of the program, assailed all the news media for attempting to present a picture of the world in capsule round-ups and television in particular for putting so many educational programs on Sunday afternoons when "nobody is home," instead of during weekday evenings.

He also charged that correction of errors in newspapers is seldom given the same prominence as the original error.

"How can a newspaper present world affairs in a half-column roundup each day?" Hagerty asked. "Let's go to radio. How can we have a worldwide roundup each morning and each evening from the listening posts of the world and capitals of the world and have a man in one minute tell me how every Britisher, how every Frenchman, how every Russian, is feeling on that question that day?"

Lansing TV Event Lauded

Convicts Give Concert

LANSING (AP) — The television stuio lights were dimmed and the audience drifted out as the entertainers quietly packed their instruments.

The performers exchanged their dinner jackets, formals, and white ties and tails for plain shirts and heavy gray woolen trousers.

Outside, eighty husky men with guns carefully concealed under their jackets took their places in front of a big red bus.

The performers were numbers again—headed back to Southern Michigan State Prison.

It was one of the most unusual shows ever presented over station WJIM-TV. For 60 minutes convicts sang, danced, joked and performed like real troupers.

For the first time in 20 years inmates at Jackson Prison had been permitted to put on a show outside prison walls.

Kent County Circuit Court Judge Dale Souter came to see the performance. Between acts the judge complimented the state on its rehabilitation program.

Expert Urges Green Roads, Yellow Lines

NEW YORK (UPI)—An eye specialist suggested yesterday that the nation's highways be tinted green and divided with yellow lines to rest the eyes of the nation's drivers.

Dr. Alden N. Haffner, executive director of the Optometric Center of New York, said the "lack of color in black" tends to make it fatiguing to the eyes. Combined with white, it causes more fatiguing glare.

Speaking to a meeting of optometrists on vision and highwty safety, Haffner also suggested that drivers be required to carry a vision card showing the visual properties of each eye and indicating whether the driver should wear glasses, or be barred from driving over 35 miles an hour or at night.

French Kill 81 Rebels

ALGIERS (UPI) — French troops killed 81 Algerian rebels in the Constantine region over the weekend, French military officials said today. The French said Smain Madjoub, believed to be the rebel chief in the East Constantine sector, surrendered.

Nowadays It's Every Woman for Herself

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—I've just been asked a surprising question. "Have a lot of pretty young girls," inquired a male acquaintance, "been annoying you lately by wanting to hug and kiss you and fondle you?"

Frankly, none had, but not wanting to appear a wallflower, I smiled knowingly and said, "You, too?"

WILSON

"Darned embarrassing, isn't it?" fretted my friend. "I'm 60" — he's 65, but never mind — "and when one of these 20-year-olds hurls her shapely self on my chest and says, 'Hey Lover, how about a smooch?' I cringe. An old-timer of about 70 who lives at a nursing home tells me he gets these advances made at him, too. By young girls in the neighborhood who want to teach him the cha-cha-cha. You know what I think it is?"

"WHAT IS IT?" I asked anxiously. I figured it must be some sexy shaving lotion I didn't know about yet.

"It's the population change! We men are at last the exclusive sex. We are going to be wooed and the pursued."

"If it'll help the country, I'll endure it," I said, bravely, gritting my caps.

But I knew that my woman-chased friend was right. The male shortage that was once Hollywood's, leading beautiful starlets to phone men for dates, pick them up and also pick up the checks, has spread until in all sections of the country, young girls are going to be "carrying the U.S. male."

I went to a recent party attended by the most glamorous models and starlets in New York, including Miss Tina Louise.

TINA

"Isn't it too bad?" one pretty thing whinnied to me. I asked what was too bad. "Not enough men to go around, as usual," she answered deep in gloom.

I didn't mean to blab this, but it was at this same party that one girl told me I was obviously such a grand chap I was entitled to have two wives at the same time.

'Come Get Me,' Jail Escapee Phones Warden

SAN FRANCISCO (AP—"Come and get me," Dewey Dill telephoned the warden of San Quentin prison Sunday. "I have to do the rest of my time some day. It might as well be now."

Dill, 28, was convicted of helping to rob a supermarket at Martinez, Calif., in 1956 and broke out of the state's minimum security prison at Chino in 1957.

"All this time," he explained, "although I was loose, I knew I was never really free. If I'd stayed in like the other guys with me I'd have been out on parole by now."

But They Mean Progress

Plenty of Detours Awaiting Vacationers This Year

WASHINGTON (NEA)—Be prepared to drive over a lot of bumpy, dusty roads on your summer vacation.

Highway construction is going on at a record pace throughout the nation as workers strive to add 3,000 miles this year to the completed 6,000 miles of the coast-to-coast federal-state highway system. This means that almost anywhere you travel, you're likely to run into detours.

Highway engineers warn that driving on temporary routes calls for observing special safety procedures. A list of detour driving rules urges motorists to:

Remember that road signs marked "Slow Down," "Road Closed," "Danger — Men and Equipment Working," mean exactly what they say. Watch out for barricades and flaming smudge pots used for night markers. Many accidents are caused by hitting them.

Heed the signals of the flagman, and don't get impatient if he makes you wait. He knows the road conditions ahead, what sort of construction work is going on and is trying to prevent you from having an accident.

Look out for heavy road building equipment especially when trying to pass it. The driver may have a blind spot on your side.

Concentrate on driving, not on the construction activities. Safety experts warn that the biggest hazard of traveling on detrour routes is the drivers' curiosity.

Drive slowly. Traveling at high speeds through construction zones is hazardous, damages your tires and auto and is uncomfortable to your passengers.

Since last year's vacation season, high-speed toll roads, freeways, and super highways have been completed in Illinois, Kansas, Missouri, Pennsylvania, Maryland, New York, Virginia, North Dakota, Washington and California.

RECORD PACE—Road building this year means motorists will face a lot of detours on summer driving trips, but there are some new super roads to compensate.

New expressways have been completed in 10 major cities to relieve bumper-to-bumper traffic snarls, according to the 1959 edition of the Parade Turnpike Guide.

By the 1970s, these roads will be linked with others in a 41,000-mile highway system that will enable vacationers to drive from coast to coast and from border to border without a stoplight.

The following sections of the new nation-wide highway system are expected to be completed late this year or in 1960:

Interstate 87, "The Northway," which will extend north from Albany, N.Y., to Montreal, Canada.

Niagara section of the New York Thruway, a 21-mile strip connecting Buffalo, N.Y., and Niagara Falls.

Interstate 90 which will provide a high-speed scenic route through Washington's Cascade Mountains.

The interstate system will use even numbers to designate the east-west routes and odd numbers for highways heading north and south.

Road builders explain, however, that so far only a limited number of the new signs have been erected. Thus, travelers should still rely on the old U.S. route numbers.

FALSE SECURITY

Safety experts urge motorists to guard against being lulled into a sense of false security and becoming drowsy while driving on the new roads.

This condition, called highway hypnosis, is caused by driving at unvarying speeds on long, straight stretches of road.

Safety officials say that drivers should avoid monotony by glancing occasionally at the roadside, instrument panel and rearview mirror; turning on the radio and singing.

Russian Expert Speaks Tonight in Waterford

Dr. William A. Dallis, former naval attache in Moscow and now professor of political science at the University of Michigan, will speak tonight at 8 at the John D. Pierce Jr. High School in Waterford Township.

The public has been invited to hear the talk on Russia and see colored slides of Russia. It is being presented to the school's Literary Club.

Dr. Dallis is now also a consultant on Russian affairs for the government.

His widespread knowledge of the USSR was gained as research analyst on that country for the U.S. Department of State, for the Offices' of Production Management and Board of Economic Warfare, acting director of Institute of International Affairs at the University of Washington, chairman of a project on Russia and Asia at that university, and American director for a study on Russia in Munich, Germany in 1954.

Japanese Coal Miners Win Raise, End Strike

The miners demanded a monthly raise of $5.55 but settled for $1.67. Wages before the strike averaged $66.66 a month.

The strike cut production 70 per cent, or 1,610,000 tons during the two-week period.

Don't think that every sad-eyed man has loved and lost. He may have got her . . . The greatest burden in life is to be polite to neighbors whose dogs, pianos, children and TV sets are all tuned too high. —Earl Wilson.

Tooth Enamel Records Illness Throughout Life

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — Your teeth are a permanent health chart. Every disease and injury you've suffered is recorded in them, according to Dr. Maury Massler, head of the department of pedodontics at the University of Illinois Dental School.

Teeth are like trees, he said, adding concentric rings as they grow. The rings of the teeth are the layer of enamel.

The first layer is formed by the fifth month after conception and from then other rings form regularly. This applies to baby teeth and to permanent teeth alike.

Dr. Massler said that any injury or disease causes a change in the layer of enamel.

Thus, by getting a person's baby teeth when they come out and by cutting them across to study the rings, a doctor can determine accurately when the child was ill even if it was before birth.

More than 40,000 teeth from all over the world have thus been analyzed by Dr. Massler, who believes the time of injury or illness can be pinpointed within a month.

However, he stressed that this method tells nothing of the exact nature of the illness or injury.
