GLENN H. GRIFFIN

Michigan Funeral Directors' Assn. has elected Glenn H. Griffin, Pontiac, president for the coming year. Dudley H. Moore, Auburn Heights, was named director for the Oakland-Macomb district at the convention in Grand Rapids yesterday.

Other state officers are Ryan Demeester, Grand Rapids and Harold Cederberg, Saginaw, vice presidents; Glenn Dunn, Mason, treasurer; and J. R. MacDonald, Howell, secretary.

Floyd Diamond Trial Date Set

Young Boy Will Face First Degree Murder Charge May 24

A May 24 trial date has been set for Floyd Diamond, 16, accused of first degree murder in the death last Feb. 17 of 9-year-old Kathleen McLaughlin, according to Oakland County Prosecutor Frederick C. Ziem.

Probate Judge Arthur E. Moore waived jurisdiction over Diamond March 2, allowing him to be tried as an adult. He was later termed sane by two Pontiac psychiatrists at a hearing in Circuit Court.

The youth, of 32545 Nottingham Knoll, Farmington Township, is charged with slaying Kathy at a pond near her home at 29430 Gilchrest and a short distance from Diamond's residence.

Other trials slated this month include that of Erlene Wagenshultz, 19, of 75 W. High, Metamora, charged with manslaughter. Police said she drove a car which crashed head-on with another on M-24's "Slaughter Hill" last Dec. 5 resulting in five deaths. The case is scheduled May 16.

Four men, charged with kidnaping and raping a Pontiac mother March 6, are slated for trial May 10.

Showers Forecast for Area Saturday

The weatherman predicts increasing cloudiness and warmer temperatures tonight, followed by showers and thunderstorms tomorrow.

Tomorrow's high is expected to reach 75 degrees, tonight's low, 52-56. Yesterday's high was 68, low 58.

At 8 a.m. today, the mercury in downtown Pontiac stood at 49 degrees. Early morning low was 43. At 2 p.m., the reading was 63 degrees.

Chiang Reveals Minefields Laid in Island Areas

Action Expected to Curb Invasion Attempt, Also Lessen Shipping

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—Chiang Kai-shek's headquarters announced that as of today defensive minefields have been laid in the territorial waters of Nationalist China's offshore islands.

Underscoring Nationalist concern, the announcement said the action was taken in view of the declared intention of the Chinese Communists to invade Formosa and their "repeated attacks on the offshore islands."

Communist artillery on Amoy yesterday poured 150 shells into Little Quemoy, only four miles away, and dropped 11 on Quemoy. The day before Nationalist planes encountered four Red MIG15s north of the Matsus, as other planes attacked and damaged Red gunboats in Amoy Bay.

The announcement termed the minelaying defensive, implying it was intended to obstruct possible invasion from the nearby mainland.

Nationalist sources indicated, however, there was more than one purpose.

One possible effect, they said, might be to choke off shipping to the mainland port of Foochow near the Matsus. They have been concerned about this because they believe the Reds have been shipping jet fuel and other war supplies into Fukien province through Foochow.

They are not worried so much about Amoy, 150 miles to the south. They say their retention of the Quemoys has made Amoy a dead port for some time.

Both foreign and Nationalist quarters believe one result of the minelaying will be to boost insurance rates, which may tend to lessen shipping to that part of Red China.

Official quarters refused to indicate whether mines also had been sown in the territorial waters of the Red mainland.

Nine Die in Chicago Fire

AP Wirephoto

FIREMEN RESCUE TWO—Two unidentified residents of a Chicago skid row hotel, on W. Madison Street, are helped down a ladder from an upper floor after a flash fire roared through the structure early today killing nine persons. The fire, in a hotel called Comfort, is the third disastrous fire in the same area in 9 days. (Story, page 10).

House Votes to Restore Rigid Farm Price Props

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House voted yesterday to restore high rigid farm price supports in a second display of the Democratic leadership's ability to flex its political muscles in defiance of the Eisenhower administration.

As proved to be the case earlier when it voted to cut everybody's taxes by $20, nothing seemed likely to come of this new move—at least this year.

The vote was 206-201 to scrap the flexible system of price supports which Congress approved last year at the urging of the administration.

Speaker Rayburn (D-Tex) and other Democratic leaders mustered 185 Democrats and 21 Republicans for the bill; voting for the administration were 29 Democrats and 172 Republicans.

At the tense windup, several members switched their votes to provide the winning margin.

The farm bill will carry over into next year's session of Congress, and the Senate may act on

Dispute Ended at Parke, Davis

Union, Company Agree on Contract for 2,000 Drug Employes

DETROIT (AP) — Settlement of a wage dispute that had threatened to halt manufacture of Salk polio vaccine at Parke, Davis & Co. was announced early today by state and federal mediators.

The drug firm is one of the major producers of the vaccine.

Mediators said representatives of the company and the CIO Chemical Workers Union agreed on terms covering wages, working conditions and a new pension plan.

The agreement was described as tentative since it was subject to ratification at a union membership meeting tomorrow. The union's bargaining team said it will recommend acceptance by the firm's 2,000 employes.

Terms of the settlement were not disclosed. At issue were wage demand, a guaranteed annual wage and fringe benefits.

The old contract expired Sunday but the union asked that it be extended on a day-to-day basis rather than interrupt the flow of the vaccine by a walkout.

2 Michigan Legislators Abandon Party Lines

WASHINGTON (AP)—Reps. Bennett (R-Mich) and Hayworth (D-Mich) abandoned party lines in the House approval of rigid farm price supports yesterday.

Bennet voted for the bill and Hayworth voted in opposition.

All other Michigan Republicans were against it and all Democrats voted in favor.

The Michigan lineup:

Democrats for (total 185) — Diggs, Dingell, Griffiths, Lesinski, Machrowicz, Rabaut.

Republicans for (total 21) — Bennett.

Democrats against (total 29)—Hayworth.

Republicans against (total 172) —Bentley, Cederberg, Dondero, Ford, Hoffman, Johansen, Knox, Meader, Thompson, Wolcott.

Nevada Ruins Show America A-Age Horrors

2 Survival City Homes Withstand Pressure of Biggest U.S. Test Shot

SURVIVAL CITY, Nev. (AP) —The frightening and sobering reality of survival in the atomic age was driven home to Americans today as the damage to this desert town community was totaled up.

The mighty shock wave of yesterday's atomic explosion buried the Darling family — fortunately only mannequins—in their home on Doomsday Drive, wiped out their neighbors next door and the folks down the block.

The 4,700-foot row, however, was not a complete loss—two out of four homes withstood the gigantic pressure of the biggest open test shot ever held in the United States. Its power was equal to 35,000 tons of TNT.

But the home at the 5,500-foot mark especially built and reinforced—did not stand up perhaps as well as expected. The roof was blown off, much of the front caved in and all windows smashed.

The Darling family's fate and that of their neighbors—especially the luckier ones—pointed up one object lesson: You can survive a nuclear attack if you have the right kind of home.

Fifteen members of the Darling family "perished" in the collapse of their two-story brick and cinder block home. The walls blew out, the chimney fell in sections as though sliced by some multiple scythe. The family never had a chance.

But Civil Defense workers planned to enter the basement after unsafe timbers are removed to see whether perhaps two persons in a corner shelter may have survived.

The single story frame rambler next door was a total loss except for the specially constructed bathroom shelter. This withstood the blast so solidly that only one pane out of eight was blown out of the rear window.

Harold L. Goodwin, test director of the Federal Civil Defense Administration, believes that within a mile and a quarter your chances of survival depend largely on what type of structure you're in.

Delay Release of Polio Shots

U.S. Holding Vaccine Pending Full Report on Situation

WASHINGTON (AP) — Surgeon Gen. Leonard Scheele said today federal release of any additional Salk polio vaccine has been halted pending a complete study of the situation by top medical scientists.

Scheele told the House Banking Committee that production of the vaccine is continuing but federal review and approval of additional supplies has been held off now "for several days."

Scheele, head of the U. S. Public Health Service, said the program of releasing vaccine thus has been "brought to a standstill" for the time being.

Earlier, he had said he feels confident that a conference of

Royal Oak Zoo Lavishes Care on First Gorilla

By BURDETT C. STODDARD

The Detroit Zoo in Royal Oak began lavishing care on its first gorilla today—a two-year-old, 25-pounder named "Jim-Jim."

The $5,000 youngster, who will be a featured attraction of the zoo this summer, is only a few weeks out of his native home in French Equatorial Africa.

He has to be fed every four hours and the milk is tested for warmth on a man's wrist, just like a baby's. Jim-Jim eats baby foods and has to be kept out of drafts so he won't take cold.

With two orangutans he will inhabit the zoo's new Holden Amphitheater and ape house which opens to the public May 19, said zoo Director Frank McInnis.

The new addition arrived at Willow Run last night in a cargo plane from New York. McInnis and veterinarian Dr. William Appelhoff were right behind in a passenger plane.

"You can't be too careful with these gorillas," said McInnis. "They're delicate and subject to attacks by viruses and germs."

The director hopes to train Jim-Jim to do tricks like Jo Mendi and the zoo's other chimpanzees. He also plans to seek French government permission to buy two more gorillas within a year or two and raise a family in captivity—something that has not been done successfully so far.

McInnis and the gorilla became fast friends during four days in New York. The director didn't have the heart to put the animal in its cage here and asked an attendant to do the job.

Jim-Jim broke down and wept when the cage door banged shut.

10 Horses Set for Derby Test

Favored Nashua Heads Field for 81st 'Run for Roses' Saturday

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Ten 3-year-old horses, headed by the odds-on favorite Nashua, today were officially entered for the 81st running of the $125,000-added Kentucky Derby Saturday at Churchill Downs.

There were no surprises as the trainers dropped the names of their charges into the entry box, which opened at 7 a.m. The last of the field was in in 35 minutes before the 10 a.m. deadline.

Rex Ellsworth's California colt, Swaps, was the first entry. He was followed by Murcain Stables' Jean's Joe; Honey's Alibi; Nabesna; the Cain Hoy stable entry of Racing Fool and Flying Fury; Harvey Fruehauf's Blue Lem, the only Detroit horse in the field; the favored Nashua; highly-regarded Summer Tan; and Trim Destiny.

Facts and figures on the derby:

Place—Churchill Downs.

Distance—Mile and one-quarter.

Post time—4:30 p.m. Eastern Standard Time.

Purse—$125,000 added to nomination and starting fees.

Probable field — 10 3-year old colts.

Value—$152,500 if 10 start, with $108,400 to winner.

Favorite—Nashua, 4 to 5.

Last year's winner—Determine.

Record time—Two minutes one and 2-5 seconds by Whirlaway in 1941.

Weather—Fair and hot.

Radio and television—4:15 to 4:45 p.m. Eastern Standard Time by CBS.

General Motors, Ford Co. Would Each Contribute

AFL-CIO Wants Firms to Donate 4 Per Cent of Base Pay for 5 Years

DETROIT (AP)—A half-billion dollars in "reserve funds" to finance a guaranteed annual wage at Ford and General Motors is proposed by the CIO United Auto Workers.

Each fund — an unofficially estimated 125 million dollars for Ford and 335 million for GM—would be created by company contributions of 4 per cent of the base payroll over a period of five years.

CIO President Walter Reuther's auto union made its proposal public for the first time yesterday. It was the first indication of what the union's guaranteed annual wage might cost.

Neither Ford nor GM commented.

The union, through a spokesman, said the proposal already has been made to the two companies.

Ford and GM are negotiating separately with the union over new contracts to replace the five-year agreements expiring within the next four weeks. Ford's expires June 1, GM's June 7.

The negotiations, covering nearly half a million workers, are in recess until next week. In the interim the UAW's national Ford and GM councils will be meeting to hear negotiations reports and presumably plan future strategy.

The union proposed that the "reserve fund" at each company be equal to 20 per cent of the base payroll. It said five years of contributions should do this.

Ford has 140,000 hourly paid workers and GM 325,000. The present hourly pay averages between $2.05 and $2.10.

The union said at no time under the plan would management have more than a "maximum liability" of 8 per cent of its base payroll. It said that from its "employment experience" an 8 per cent figure would be rare.

Workmen Duck Job That Would Disturb Ducks

CHICAGO (AP) — Workmen on Chicago's new 100 - million-dollar water filtration plant have changed their construction plans so they won't disturb two mother ducks who are sitting on a total of 11 eggs.

The ducks are nested in a pile of clay and stone, which is to be used in the dike construction, along Lake Michigan. Workmen put up red flags, warning workmen and others to stay away.

Phillip Connell, president of the contracting firm, said plans called for work at the eastern end of the dike. Yesterday he found the work was proceeding from the western end.

A foreman told him the reason for the change.

Oakland County Children Get Polio Shots Saturday

An estimated 9,500 first and second grade youngsters in Oakland County tomorrow will receive the first in a series of two Salk polio vaccine shots.

The youngsters are those who have not already started the series, according to Dr. John D. Monroe, county health director.

All other county first and second graders whose parents gave consent for the inoculations already have had their first vaccinations. They will get second shots in about three weeks.

Tomorrow's shots will be administered at clinics in Pontiac, Waterford Township, Birmingham, Southfield Township and Ferndale. All clinics will begin at 9 a. m.

Pontiac clinics will be at the following locations:

Webster School—including pupils from Whitfield, Baptist 7th Day Adventist and Crofoot schools.

McConnell School — including Trinity Lutheran, Central and St. Frederick. Owen School—including Hawthorne, Malkim and LeBaron. Longfelow School — including Emerson, Willis and Wilson.

Baldwin School — including McCarroll, St. Michael, Bailey and Wisner. Lakeside Homes Community Building—Bagley and Whittier Schools.

Waterford Township shots will be administered at:

Donelson School — including Stringham, Lambert, Hudson Covert and St. Benedict pupils. Drayton Plains School—including Jano Adams and Waterford Village.

Waterford High School—Waterford Center, Williams Lake, Pontiac Lake and Four Towns.

Two clinics will be operated in Birmingham:

Birmingham High School—Baldwin, Bloomfield Village, Franklin, Quarton, Torry, Walnut Lake and Holy Name. Pierce School—including Adams, Beverly, Pembroke and Our Lady of Martyrs.

First Meeting Held in Pontiac's New City Hall

MUNICIPAL LEAGUE CONVENES HERE — One hundred city and village officials from Oakland, Macomb and Genesee counties gave the Commission chamber at the new City Hall a trial warm-up yesterday when Region 4 of the Michigan Municipal League held its annual meeting. The City Commissioners will give the impressive meeting place its first official use Tuesday night. Following the session at City Hall, the delegates attended a dinner at Pontiac Motor Division.

Senate to Get Toll Road Ban

Has House Approval; Gives Veto Power Over Route to Towns

State Sen. William S. Broomfield (R-Royal Oak) said today he has an assurance from the chairman of the Senate Highway Committee that a bill restricting route-selecting powers of the Michigan Turnpike Authority (MTA) will be reported out for debate.

The measure, introduced by Rep. Lucille McCollough (D-Dearborn), passed the House yesterday. It would give cities and villages veto power over the route of the proposed Flat Rock-Saginaw turnpike.

The bill has been vigorously supported by groups and communities in Oakland County located along the toll-road line as now plotted.

Once the bill is reported out, said Broomfield, "I will present arguments in favor of its passage on the Senate floor and am quite confident I can muster enough support to see it passed."

(Broomfield previously sponsored a bill, which died in the Highway Committee, to abolish the MTA completely.)

"The McCollough bill," he stated, "will give local units necessary control over the route and safeguard municipal home rule."

Murder Trial Jury Still Deliberating

An Oakland County Circuit Court jury resumed deliberations this morning aimed at returning a verdict in the second-degree-murder trial of Charley R. Herron, 37, of 357 Rockwell Ave.

The jurors considered the case for two hours yesterday afternoon after opposing attorneys concluded their arguments and Judge H. Russel Holland explained questions of law and fact involved.

Herron is accused of the fatal shooting of Lawrence Freeman, 28, of 476 Ditmar Ave. last Sept. 25 in back of a home at 29 Iowa St.

An argument had developed between the two over Freeman's efforts to persuade his estranged wife to rejoin him, police said.

Assistant Prosecutor Homer G. Gerue yesterday read a transcript of an alleged confession Herron made to the prosecutor's office shortly after the shooting.

U.S. Delays Release of Polio Vaccine

scientists now under way here will conclude that the vaccine is excellent and that nationwide inoculation should be continued.

Scheele said there has been no effort to prevent vaccinations from supplies already released, or to slow down production. The only slow-down, he emphasized, had been in federal review and approval of the vaccine before it is released.

Manufacturers send the government a sample from each batch of vaccine they prepare. The batch is not released until the government gives approval.

Scheele strongly backed the Eisenhower administration's stand that voluntary methods will be adequate to assure that the vaccine is distributed first to children in the age groups most susceptible to polio.

Scheele said he has great confidence the vaccine will help defeat polio despite the fact that 44 vaccinated children now have been stricken with the disease.

In New York, the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis said it would have to await further word from Washington before it could determine what effect the withholding of vaccine would have on its program of free inoculations for school children.

OFF TO WASHINGTON — Pontiac safety patrollers selected by the Automobile Club of Michigan to attend the 19th Safety Patrol Rally in Washington, D. C., are Spencer Gray, 15, 499 Colorado (left) and David Doyon, 14, 2528 Elizabeth Lake Rd. The two boys, from Whittier and St. Frederick schools, respectively, traveled by car yesterday to Detroit where they will join 118 other Michigan safety boys and board the train for the 4-day tour of Washington.

Pontiac Area Employment Now Highest in 15 Months

Pontiac area employment has reached the highest level in the past 15 months, and without the impetus of heavy defense production, the Pontiac office of the Michigan Employment Security Commission reported today.

Thanks mainly to the high volume of automobile and truck production, 79,700 persons are drawing paychecks from area employers, said James H. Dudley, office manager.

"During the 30-day period preceding mid-April, manufacturing employment increased by 2,000, non-manufacturing by 700," Dudley said.

"The increase was entirely in normal civilian products—defense work is sharply below that of a year ago," he said.

Dudley said the upward trend should continue for the next two months to mid-June.

At the end of April, he said, continuing employment expansion has further reduced the number of available jobseekers and a tight labor market was developing.

Unemployment at mid-April was estimated at 2,400—down by 1,100 from the previous month.

The unemployed made up 2.8 per cent of the total non-farm labor force of 82,100, compared with 4.2 per cent in March and 4.9 per cent a year ago, Dudley said.

Rigid Farm Props Approved by House

it then. It seemed likely to be pigeonholed for 1955.

Basic farm law sets up a standard, called parity, for measuring farm prices. Parity, which fluctuates with general price levels, is designed to give farmers a fair return for their products in relation to their costs.

The law also describes six crops as basic. They are wheat, corn, cotton, rice, tobacco and peanuts. Under the administration program now in effect, the government is required to support the prices of five basic crops at levels between 82½ and 90 per cent of parity. After this year, the range will be 75 to 90 per cent. Under special legislation, tobacco supports are held at 90 per cent.

The House bill would restore the mandatory 90 per cent supports first imposed during World War II for corn, cotton, wheat, peanuts and rice. It also would raise the support floor on milk and dairy products from the present 75 to 80 per cent of parity.

Oakland Will Send 33 in June Draft

LANSING (AP) — Michigan draft boards have been ordered to induct 538 men during June, one of the smallest calls in more than a year.

Col. Arthur A. Holmes, state selective service director, said all men inducted during June will be at least 20 years old except for volunteers.

Oakland County will send 8 from board 65, 11 from board 66 and 14 from board 67. Lapeer's quota is 8 men.

Pontiac Police Officials Attend Demonstration

Pontiac Police Chief Herbert W. Straley and two of his top officials are attending a police dog demonstration staged by the Dearborn Police Dept. today.

Straley, who left this morning with Capt. Vance Hanger and Lt. William Crisp, said an invitation had been received from Dearborn's Chief Lawrence J. Schaefer.

The City of Dearborn recently solved its police man-shortage by adding the trained canines on patrol beats with policemen. Straley beamed a smile when asked whether Pontiac will add police dogs to assist patrolmen here.

Shrine Gets Marker

LUDINGTON (AP)—A seven-foot marble marker is being set in place at the shrine of Father Marquette, early Jesuit explorer and missionary, at Buttersville near Ludington. Members of Mason County Allied Construction Council will donate labor Saturday to place the shrine in readiness for the annual pilgrimage scheduled May 18, anniversary of Marquette's death 300 years ago.

Senate Passes Probate Judge Salary Raise

A bill passed the state Senate yesterday and was forwarded to the House which would raise the salary of Oakland County's probate judge from $15,000 to $16,000.

The measure also would hike the pay of Circuit Court stenographers here from $5,400 to $6,000. The bill includes salary increases for all state probate judges and most court stenographers.

Oakland's present probate jurist is Judge Arthur E. Moore, of Berkley.

Only Wayne County probate judges receive a higher stipend. They would be raised from $17,500 to $18,500 if the plan also receives House approval.

Judges in counties with between 35,000 and 70,000 population, such as Lapeer, would get a $750 per year raise. Lapeer court stenographers would be increased from $4,000 to $4,800.

Lincoln GOP Club Elects 36 Directors

The Oakland County Lincoln Republican Club has elected 36 new directors for the ensuing year and named two honorary presidents, John B. Wilson, president, said today.

The honorary posts go to James W. Clapp, of Pontiac, and George Scott, of Royal Oak, "in recognition of their many years of service to their communities and the Republican Party," Wilson stated.

According to Mrs. Robert A. Tedcastle, club secretary, new directors from Pontiac are:

Robert Sutton, Robert C. Miller, Maynard Johnson, Mrs. Florence Brown, Mrs. W. A. Kennedy and Mrs. Sadie Williams.

Others include:

Fred Poole Jr., Waterford; Clare Fuller and Frank Stevens, Oxford; Mrs. Ralph Reese, Union Lake; Mrs. Lynn Allen, Waterford; Mrs. Floyd Andrews, Clarkston; Chad Ritchie, Bloomfield; Norman Barnard, Troy; Ralph Becker, Milford; Mrs. Brooks Marshall, Bloomfield; Mrs. Frances Covert and Mrs. Margaret Norton, Rochester.

Also elected were:

Fraser Staman, Novi; Wendell Brown, Farmington; Mrs. Jo Nichols, Franklin; Mrs. Genevieve Schock and Don McPherson, Berkley; Mrs. Harry Henderson, Southfield; Charles Stone, Howard Kelley, George Weitzel, Mrs. Helen Randall, Mrs. Kathryn Hopkins, Mrs. Velma Cady, all of Royal Oak; Robert Fox, Gordon Haupt, Mrs. Charlotte Cook, Mrs. Sadie Bowen, all of Ferndale; Guy Holloway and Mrs. Dorothy Rowley, both of Hasel Park.

Animal Rescue League Obtains Land Site Here

Michigan Animal Rescue League members recently purchased a land site from the city for construction of a 100-animal shelter that is expected to be finished by the end of this year, according to Mrs. Martin Davis, League Secretary.

Located at East Blvd. and Featherstone Ave., the triangular shaped lot has 175 feet frontage, measuring 300 feet on one side and 75 on the other.

Funds for the shelter's construction are being donated by the public and many of the league's 700 members. The property is now being cleared and construction estimates will be ready within 30 days, Mrs. Davis said.

The Animal Rescue League, affiliated with SPCA, is sponsoring a contest to name the building. Proposed names for the Animal Shelter may be sent to the Michigan Animal Rescue League, Box 411 Pontiac, or to the present league offices, 297 Oakland Ave.

Hint Gasoline Hike

DETROIT (AP) — Standard Oil may increase its Detroit area prices slightly. Higher octane content and wage boosts to employes would be the reason, management indicated. Regular grades now sell for 30 cents a gallon.

Mrs. Jennie Barker Dies in California

Word has been received of the sudden death of Mrs. Jennie Barker, a former Pontiac resident, in Los Angeles, Calif. yesterday.

Mrs. Barker was born here May 6, 1887. Her parents were William A. and Kitty Brewster, lifetime residents of Pontiac. Her father was active here in politics, having served as alderman and sheriff.

She had been an active member of the First Baptist Church and the Philathea Sunday School Class of her church.

Surviving are two sons, Dr. Roy Barker of 3528 W. 75th Place, Inglewood, Calif., at whose home she died, and Edward of Los Angeles, Calif. Also surviving are a sister, Mrs. Wilbur Rowston of Pontiac and four grandsons of California.

Service will be Saturday with burial in the Inglewood Cemetery.

Mrs. Eli Anttila

Mrs. Eli (Rose) Anttila, 59, of 29 Pingree St. died at Pontiac General Hospital this morning. She had been ill four years.

Born Jan. 11, 1896 in Duluth, Minn., she was the daughter of Herb Sargent and was married in 1932 in Ohio.

Mrs. Anttila attended school in Brainard, Minn. She came to Pontiac from Crosby, Minn. 19 years ago and was a member of Jehovah's Witnesses.

Besides her husband, she is survived by five children, Mrs. Valida Bailey of Clarkston, Mrs. Frances Goff, Frank Shields, Eli Jr. and Donald Anttila, all of Pontiac. A brother, Russell Sargent of Spaulding and a sister, Mrs. Nora Warren of Montana, also survive.

The funeral will be Monday. Arrangements will be announced later by the Huntoon Funeral Home.

Mrs. Peter Henry Beam

Service will be held Sunday at 2:30 p.m. from the Melvin Baptist Church for Mrs. Peter Henry (Delilah) Beam, 77, who died this morning at her home in Melvin. The Rev. Paul McMillan will officiate with burial in the Melvin Cemetery.

She was born in Canada Aug. 12, 1887 and married in Flynn Township Nov. 24, 1894.

Surviving are six sons and five daughters including these of Pontiac, Mrs. Pearl Schneider, Mrs. Mildred Schell, Louis Alvin and Lawrence Beam. Also surviving are 24 grandchildren and 15 great-grandchildren.

Mrs. Beam will be at the Peters Funeral Home in Yale until time for the service Sunday.

Manito Scout District Holds May Roundtable

Manito Scout District Thursday held its May Roundtable at Blanche Sims School, Lake Orion.

Thirty-seven scouters from 12 units attended the program, conducted by Glen Robinson of Andersonville. Up for discussion was the District Camporee, May 20-22 at the Detroit Sportsman's Congress in Oxford.

The group also discussed tentative plans for a summer Family Roundtable, a new program being planned by the scouts. The June theme of outdoor cooking was also discussed at the meeting.

Refreshments were served by the host troop from Clarkston.

UM Rites May 13

ANN ARBOR (AP) — The scholastic achievements of 677 University of Michigan students will be recognized at the 32nd honors convocation, Friday, May 13. Harold W. Dodds, president of Princeton University, will give the main address on "What is a University?"

2,000 Youngsters to Get Polio Vaccine Tomorrow

BIRMINGHAM—Some 2,000 first and second graders from 12 schools in the school district will receive their first shot of the Salk anti-polio vaccine tomorrow.

Mrs. Anyce Gillette, assistant to the health commissioner, said 1,151 eligible students from public and parochial schools in the area will receive their inoculation at Birmingham High School, the other 895 at Pierce School.

Police have been assigned to direct traffic at the schools since, in most cases, parents will be driving their children to and from whichever school they were assigned. The program is scheduled to get under way at 9 a.m.

Seven doctors and 22 registered nurses will handle the inoculation program at the schools on a voluntary basis, she said. The Salk vaccine is provided free by the National Polio Foundation.

Children whose parents have consented to their receiving the shot will receive two more after tomorrow's initial injection. The second will be administered June 4 and a booster, the third, will be given at a later date, Mrs. Gillette said.

The eastern division conference of the Junior Michigan Federation of Music Clubs will be held tomorrow at Redeemer Lutheran Church, starting at 9:45 a.m.

Holy Name boys choir and the First Methodist Church youth choir are associated with the federation and will participate in the day-long meeting. The Holy Name choir recently recorded "The Bells of St. Mary's," and "O, Sanctissima." The record is on sale locally.

The Rev. Paul Shippert, pastor of Church of the Ascension, will conduct vespers at 4 p.m. Sunday at the dedication of the new church.

The new building, at 16945 W. 14 Mile Rd., has a seating capacity of 300 and was built at an estimated cost of $150,000. Cranbrook sculptor Glenn Chamberlain designed a contemporary crucifix of mahogany mounted on a 10-foot wide column of white marble that extends from the floor to the ceiling behind the altar. The church was designed by an Illinois architect.

The Rev. Howard Allwardt of Our Shepherd Lutheran Church, Birmingham, and the Rev. A.N.A. Loeber, Messiah Lutheran Church, Detroit, will assist in the dedication.

An open house will be held at the new church next Tuesday evening beginning at 7:30 o'clock. The Birmingham High School choir will present a program of music under the direction of Victor Ulrich.

Jack Stiff, president of the Supper Club at the Birmingham Congregational Church, said a supper hour followed by square dancing will be held tonight at the church starting at 6:45 o'clock.

Western States Alert False Radar Alarm

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Repercussions of the false yellow alert that threw 11 Western states into varying stages of preparation for an enemy air raid yeterday are still being felt.

Here's what caused it all:

The Continental Air Defense Command in Colorado Springs and Air Force headquarters in Washington, D.C., said a Canadian radar station sounded an alarm that some unidentified planes were approaching over the Pacific.

Actually the aircraft were some U.S. Air Force B47s on a training flight, "but because of a communications delay within the air defense system, Western air defense units failed to receive the notification in time to avoid calling the alert," said the Air Defense Command.

The Canadian alert was heard immediately, and officials at McChord said they had interceptors in the air within two minutes.

The alarm, which started at 10:40 a.m., lasted from 3 to 10 minutes.

Maintenance, Smelter Men Return to Work

CALUMET (AP) — Maintenance men and smelter crews were permitted to return to work today in the five-day-old strike at Calumet division of Calumet & Hecla, Inc.

Federal and state mediators said the striking CIO United Steelworkers agreed to permit maintenance men to re-enter the mines and smelter crews to resume work.

Stalled negotiations are to resume next week.

Asphalt Paving Laid in Record 24 Minutes

COLLEGE PARK, Md. (AP) — How long does it take to lay a coating of asphalt over 383 feet of 24-foot-wide street?

Twenty-eight men, two spreaders, two rollers and 14 trucks yesterday did it in 24 minutes and 35 seconds.

The Corson-Gruman Co. of Washington furnished the crew for the job at the dedication of the asphalt institute's new headquarters on the University of Maryland campus here.

As far as the institute knows, it's the asphalt-laying record of the world.

Nicer Than Pills, Too

TOKYO (AP)—Dr. Masoyoshi Watanabe, of Hotoku Hospital, Tokyo, told the annual convention of the Japan Vitamin Research Society that one bottle of beer a day will supply all the vitamin C a person needs. He said it comes from the germ portion of grain used to brew beer.

Entomologists believe the weight of all insects on the earth is greater than that of all other animals combined.

Firemen Return to Run and Yell Alarm System

WINCHESTER, Idaho (AP) — The Winchester volunteer firemen tired of turning out to false alarms on a new-fangled siren system, are going back to the old-fashioned run-and-yell method.

The fire siren now sounds off when anyone dials the department number on the telephone. The modern system was installed just last December, but City Clerk Walter Dugger said the station telephone will be removed today.

It seems the siren has been wailing false alarms four or five times a day.

Dugger said citizens will have to phone someone who lives near the fire station when they discover a blaze or they can run down and report it to the volunteers in person.

Suicides, Accidents Mar Japanese Day

TOKYO (AP)—Family suicides and traffic deaths yesterday marred Tokyo's generally gay observance of Children's Day.

A 40-year-old mother jumped in front of a speeding train, with a 2-year-old daughter strapped to her back and a 6-year-old daughter in her arms. The mother and baby were killed, the other child critically injured.

Three small boys were in critical condition in a hospital from poison which police said had been given them by their destitute parents.

Eight children were killed and at least a score were injured in traffic accidents.

Syrian Ambassador Will Speak at U. of M.

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Syrian Ambassador Dr. Farid Zeineddine will speak on "The New Syria in the Modern World" Wednesday at the University of Michigan.

Dr. Zeineddine, a graduate of the American University of Beirut, Lebanon, and the University of Paris, is acting chairman of the Syrian delegation to the United Nations General Assembly.

He has been active in the Arab liberation movement since his student days. He took his first official post in 1947.

Expensive Burger

ENID, Okla. (AP)—Floyd Stone, 22, an ex-convict, drew a 10-year sentence for trying to rob a man of a hamburger sandwich. He threatened Jim Zimmerman with a knife, but Zimmerman collared hi and called police.

Grace Kelly Casualty of Battle of Flowers

CANNES, France (AP) — Grace Kelly, Oscar-winning star of "The Country Girl," was a casualty at yesterday's Battle of Flowers.

A flying carnation hit her in the eye as she rode in a carriage. She had to return to her hotel.

Three hundred thousand bouquets were hurled during the battle, which was fought with the aid of most of the movie stars attending the Cannes film festival. In addition to Miss Kelly, they included Esther Williams and Van Johnson.

F.D.R.'s Private Secretary Recalls Oyster Ordeal

By HARMAN W. NICHOLS

WASHINGTON (UP) — Grace Tully knew the late Franklin Delano Roosevelt almost as well as a member of the family.

During the four years Roosevelt was governor of New York and all of his years as President, 1932 to 1945, she was his private secretary.

She likes to tell the story, never published, about the time her boss received a shipment of oysters from a dear friend.

There was a rule in the White House then, and there is still, I suppose, that everything the President eats must be looked over for bugs and other things that might do him in.

Roosevelt demanded that he have a few bites of the oysters without delay. He was told that, according to the White House ground rules, the delay might run into considerable time.

"The boss," Grace told me during an interview, "was in something resembling a rage. He commanded that Harry Hopkins, his assistant, and I run down to the main kitchen in the White House and sample the oysters."

"I want some — right now," Roosevelt told her.

F. D. R. was a firm man, one to be obeyed, without delay.

" 'Grace,' he said to me, 'you and Harry try those oysters on for misery. If you are still alive in two hours, I want a big bowl of oysters on the half-shell, and another big silver bowl of oyster stew for dessert. And keep some back for seconds on both orders.' "

Grace and Harry Hopkins survived the ordeal, and Roosevelt got a tummy full of one of his favorite dishes.

But mostly this is a story about the lovely little white-haired lady named Grace Tully, who has served the Democratic Party well for more years than she would like to admit. She once worked for Averill Harriman, now the governor of New York.

Presently she is executive assistant to Sen. Lyndon Johnson of Texas, the wheel of the Democratic Policy Committee.

"It is fun working with the senator," she said. "All of the Democratic leaders are so considerate and so cooperative."

I asked Miss Tully how she would compare Roosevelt with Eisenhower when it comes to press conferences. She said she was present at many of F.D.R.'s conferences "as an observer," but she added that:

"Ike has the advantage of the lights and the cameras and television. We had the cameras, but not the close-ups that television gives you. But I would like to say that my boss, F. D. R. was a little sharper because he always knew his subject so well.

"And also let me relate that he was not fed questions in advance. I do not think Ike is 'pooped' as you say, in advance, either. That wouldn't be the American way."

That was nice hedging for Grace Tully.

Roosevelt, Grace recalls had a remarkable memory. "He would buzz me when he had somebody in his private study.

" 'Grace,' he would say, 'about four months ago, it was on the 7th of the month, I dictated a short letter to so-and-so. See if you can find it.'

"I would look in the files and there it was. And that was amazing, considering that he dictated hundreds of letters a month."

Senate Gives Gals Right to Tend Bar

LANSING (INS) — The State Senate has ended a 10-yearlegal fight by passing a bill which gives women bartenders the right to remain behind the bar.

In a unanimous vote, the upper chamber approved a bill repealing a 1945 act which prohibits women from working behind a bar and requiring bartenders to obtain a license annually.

Enforcement of the 10-year-old law has been restrained by the courts because of a series of lawsuits.

Also passed by the Senate yesterday was a bill permitting beer gardens within 500 feet of a church or school to buy whisky licenses. However, the tavern would have to have been under the same ownership for at least four years.

Loose-Leaf Manuals Solve Postal Problem

WASHINGTO N(INS) — The post office found a solution today to the problem of keeping its domestic and international postal manuals up to date.

Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield announced both books will be issued in loose-leaf form so that chnages can easily be inserted in the proper places as they occur.

Drillers at Northville Bring In New Oil Well

NORTHVILLE—Oil was found in the Northville area again yesterday when drillers for the Pure Oil Co. struck oil-bearing sand in a Niagara limestone formation at 3,100 fet.

Officials said the well produced 174 barrels of oil in the first four hours.

Other oil discoveries in the area have been brought in from Trenton limestone, which lies much deeper than the Niagaran.

Reserve Bill Gets Committee Approval

A bill to provide the Nation with an adequate armed reserve has been approved 31 to 5 by the House Armed Services Committee.

This measure falls short of the ideal and already has been attacked as inadequate. Yet it does have a few teeth and is considered even by some advocates to be all that could be hoped for from the present Congress.

As reported to the floor, this proposal contains nothing remotely akin to the politically feared but sound universal military training. It does provide, however, that all men who were drafted or enlisted after the Korean War ended will go into the "ready reserve" upon being discharged.

Depending on where they live and available military facilities these men would have a choice of three programs. (1) Attend 48 evening drills a year and two weeks of field training. (2) 30 days of field training and no weekly drills. (3) Take correspondence courses. This is primarily for reservists in remote areas.

Draftees and enlisted men must spend a total of five years in active service and in the ready reserves and then three more in the standby reserves which require no drills or field training.

The bill's teeth are in a clause which provides that any reservist failing to meet his training obligation would be ordered back to active duty for 45 days. Heretofore there was no penalty for the man who shirked his reserve duty.

Although some critics are skeptical, it is contended that this measure will create a reserve pool of 2,900,000 trained men by 1960. If, as the committee's action indicates, UMT is politically impossible now, this reserve measure is the next best thing.

We hope both Houses of Congress realize that as clearly as President Eisenhower and Defense Secretary Wilson understand our dire need of an adequate reserve in these troubled times.

Progress in Guatemala

Dispatches describing May Day celebrations in Guatemala City reveal hope inspiring progress in the country so lately rescued from Communism.

Parades and mass meetings staged by free trade unions were far more dramatic and effective than those which had been directed by the ousted Red regime. In the ten months since the Arbenz crowd was driven out, both the Red shadow of Moscow and the black shadow of extreme reaction have disappeared.

As a result the situation today is encouraging. Not only is the country free but its progress toward democracy can't help but have a beneficial effect on the future of neighboring nations.

Moreover, out of Guatemala's grave crisis has merged a capable and high minded leader in President Carlos Castillo Armas, a former colonel in his country's army. After having led the forces of democracy to victory last year, he has learned well the duties of his office and has won the people's confidence.

President Castillo Armas has chosen the difficult road of mercy, justice and moderation. With the help he deserves from ours and other friendly governments he should be able to lead Guatemala to a bright and secure future.

An old-timer remembers when children managed somehow to get along without having their teeth braced.

GMT's April Output Sets All Time Record

Wheels have been turning at a very rapid rate in the world's largest truck plant.

In fact the folks over on South Boulevard were so busy last month that they built 13,202 units of GMT's new Blue Chip line of trucks. That just happens to be 522 more than the 12,680 units which left the assembly lines in the division's previous peak month of March, 1951.

Everybody who had anything to do with this achievement is justifiably proud of it. This is especially true of Philip J. Monaghan, GM vice president and division manager. He praised the workers who made this record output possible saying "every employe played his part well."

As Mr. Monaghan pointed out, however, more than current good business was a factor in the unprecedented demand for the 1955 Blue Chip models. These not only embody the latest ideas in up to the minute highway transport, but include a total of more than 500 major engineering changes.

The capacity of these 13,202 Blue Chip trucks to expand the capacity of the Nation's highway transport system can scarcely be imagined. There is no doubt, however, that they'll play a vital part in bringing the products of our farms and factories to the homes of America.

If you're smart, you learn by other people's experience.

This Column's Item About One Digit Dates Brings Toll

Courtship: Seeking the hand whose thumb you'll be under.

Immediately after the item about May 5 being written "5-5-55" appeared in this column Tuesday, a deluge of five or six similar digit anniversaries poured in. By Wednesday morning the list was a long one. First coming late Tuesday was of Auburn Heights, born on 7-7-77 and married on 9-9-99. Then was of Cass Lake, born on 11-11-11, and with a son,

Archie Waterman

Roosevelt Waterman,

born on 3-3-33. From Lapeer comes word from

Beulah Valantine

that her father was born on 6-6-66 and she was born on 8-8-88. Celebrating his 25th birthday on 5-5-55 is of Clarkston, with two 5s in his street address. Out East Pike Street lives

Harry Morganson,

born on 2-2-22, whose cat gave birth to 5 kittens on the morning of 5-5-55. And the same morning of 1044 West Huron St., reported that their 11-year-old son, Byron, has eight 4s to his credit. He was born at 4:04 on the morning of 4-4-44 and has two 4s in his address. Calling himself "Grandpaw," of 169 East Pike St., reports that he was born on 11-11-11. When we inserted that item we surely started something.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Temple

Lloyd H. Smith, Sr.,

The St. Louis public library reaped a harvest of 1,700 books on a when fines were canceled and overdue books ranging up to 33 years were returned. Pontiac's Chief Librarian, is quite amused at the incident, but says no such day is planned here. So, there's no use waiting. Get those books back.

Adah Shelly,

After a tour of the Pontiac Press plant, a teacher tells me that one member of her class wrote that "there was a bottle on every desk" in the editorial room. She hastened to explain that they are paste bottles.

Getting a box of high grade cigars, our non-smoking

David Lawrence Says:

Work to Start This Month on AF Pipeline in Spain

MADRID — Construction is to begin this month on a pipeline nearly 500 miles long to carry fuel from an Atlantic port on the coast of Spain to three big air bases far inland. All the plans have been made and the workers have been assembled for what is perhaps the most spectacular project in the American defense program inside Spain.

Starting at Cadiz, which is a few miles from Gibraltar, and running to Seville and then to a point near Madrid and finally across country to Saragossa, this modern means of transportation has been found necessary because of the meager facilities by rail and highway. It will take 435 calendar days to complete the job, and the line should be functioning in the latter half of 1956.

The government of Spain has given every cooperation to the American and Spanish contractors who have joined together to build the line, which will cost a little less than $5,000,000 for labor and an equal sum for materials.

Bids were taken from various contractors, and the contract was awarded to the lowest bidder. A Spanish company, as is required by regulation here, participates with a minority interest and virtually all the employes are Spanish.

The wages paid are those that prevail in Spain and American contractors scrupulously comply with all the requirements for payment of holidays, including Sundays, and for social security compensation. While the wage rate, as set by the unions in cooperation with the government, is not high, relatively speaking, it is to be noted that the price level for living costs is not high here, either.

The entire construction is under the auspices of the U. S. Navy, which functions as a part of the joint military mission headed by Gen. August Kissner of the U. S. Air Force. The pipeline crosses two mountain ranges, one in the south and one in the north, and will be placed three feet under ground. It can be repaired quickly if there is any sabotage, though it is expected that local guards will be sufficiently vigilant to prevent damage.

The line will supply not only the fuel requirements of the American Air Force and Navy but also those of the Spanish military forces. It is a godsend to Spain.

This is only a part of the overall program in Spain, where a total of about $300,000,000 will be spent over the next four years in the defense project instituted by the United States with the cooperation of the Spanish authorities. In addition to this, there are some small appropriations for economic aid, so that the total spent by the United States in Spain over a four-year period may be around $500,000,000. This is, however, the smallest sum spent in any European country which plays a major part in the Allied defense plans.

Thus, latest figures from the U. S. Department of Commerce show that Britain has received in economic aid alone nearly $7,000,000,000 and France $5,200,000,000, West Germany $3,800,000,000, Italy $2,700,000,000, Greece $1,300,000,000, and the Netherlands $1,100,000,000.

Even Russia between the end of the war and 1947 got $426,000,000, for all of eastern Europe about $1,100,000,000. But Spain, for unexplained reasons, has been neglected and only now are officials in Washington awakening to the strategic importance of this country.

It would take so little, relatively speaking, to bolster the Spanish economy and strengthen the whole country to assure effective military cooperation with the United States that it is unfortunate the Iberian Peninsula as a whole has not come in for more attention in the past.

For, with the American Navy assuming the biggest responsibility in the Mediterranean and the American Air Force using the new bases here as an operational front that can send planes into the heartland of Europe, it is nothing less than a tragedy that so much time already has been lost.

When France was defeated in 1940 and American air power came into the war in 1941, the only bases available were those in Britain. The war might have been shortened if the U. S. Strategic Air Force could have had bases like those it is building today in Spain. If, moreover, the political situation inside Britain should some day produce a restraint against our use of bases there for atomic warfare, the Spanish bases will provide an invaluable alternative. America's defense investment in Spain, therefore, is as logical as it is farsighted.

Suggests Leaving Good-Will to People, Peace Conferences to Young Mothers

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.

I see Vice President Nixon said the other day that the government is considering sending the Metropolitan Opera as a good-will ambassador to Europe and elsewhere. A very clever idea, but the politicians came in a late second in that race.

The American people, without cost to them or help from politicians, have had benefit from the world-famous institution as a creator of good-will for a long, long time. For the last decade or so American-born-and-educated singers have been sought after and acclaimed the world over. They have contributed to good international relations more than the billions in gold we gave away.

I shudder to think how much it would cost the taxpayers if politicians put their brains into that field of propaganda and how little they would accomplish.

My suggestion . . . no one is asking me, of course . . . is to leave the job of making friends to the people, not politicians. And . . . while no one is listening . . . give the job of bringing peace to the world to a conference of young mothers with infants in their arms. The old statesmen have, so far, only created more, better and bigger wars.

'Harmless Pets Restrained While Delinquents Roam'

I have read several pro's and con's about the city ordinance compelling citizens of Pontiac to keep their pets and their children's best friend under restraint.

I have never heard of these poor, dumb animals killing anyone, yet they are sentenced to a lifetime of confinement without even the right to know what they are being punished for.

These little mutts are real, live friends to our children, yet they have to be imprisoned. And juvenile delinquents roam the streets at all hours creating disturbances and taking part in vicious crimes like the sex cases recently committed. There is no law to restrain these characters or to penalize their masters.

'Confusion Would Result From World Calendar'

The word 'seven' is frequently used in the book of Revelation, as the 'Seventh Seal,' the Seventh Trumpet,' the Seven Thunders,' etc.

The number seven is a complete number. It denotes completeness. When God created the Earth, He did it in seven days. He made a weekly cycle consisting of seven days.

The weekly cycle is a 'created' cycle, fixed in the heavens by the revolution of the earth on its axis. Any act of man that would try to disrupt this fixed cycle would be fruitless.

The new proposed 'World Calendar' would try to change our weekly cycle, but the only thing it could accomplish would be to bring confusion into the religious world.

'56 Campaign May Reflect Ike's Economic Philosophy

By Merryle Rukeyser

WASHINGTON (INS)—The possible impact of the 1956 political campaign on the outlook for trade and finance springs from the fact that President Eisenhower, as a matter of basic philosophy, defends the enterprise system not only from the Marxians but also from the non-socialist "improvers."

Though this point may be subtle, it is highly important. Under the New Deal and the Fair Deal, all of the top spokesmen publicly professed their faith in "free enterprise," as contrasted with collectivization.

However, many of them added a "but," and the consequences of the mental reservations were expressed in the generic term of "mixed economy." This term purportedly referred to a blending of the best features of a free-choice society and a managed economy, but the confusion resulted from the attempt to blend mutually inharmonious elements.

Eisenhower's sincerity in this area was tested on at least two crucial occasions. The President's back was up against the wall in the winter of 1954 when unemployment in connection with the recession from midsummer 1953 to midsummer 1954 reached a peak.

Ideological critics of the administration were using double talk to create a fear psychology about a possible impending major economic crisis. At the time virtually all of the statistical indicators were pointing downward.

Eisenhower's topmost economic consultants took the position that the downturn was the result of two primary causes: First, a determination on the part of businessmen to reduce inventories, and, secondly, the impact on the national economy of reduced defense expenditures.

The advisers expressed the opinion that the downturn would be relatively moderate in character and limited as to time, but pointed out that there was always the theoretical possibility that a recession could spiral into something worse.

Political adversaries were clamoring for President Eisenhower to bring out the economic rescue squad, with greatly accelerated public works, radical tax revision for the purpose of increasing immediate purchasing power and similar tinkering.

Eisenhower took the calculated risk, and decided that he meant precisely what he had consistently said about his faith in the American enterprise system.

The rest is history. By the end of the summer of 1954 it was beginning to be recorded in business statistics that the administration view of the recession had been correct. Eisenhower made a subtle, but nevertheless enormous contribution to investment and business confidence by letting the American economic system operate.

The second test came this winter after the administration had lost control of the Congress last November. The opposition party attempted to seize the initiative, and made an essay at popular appeal in the $20 per taxpayer tax reduction.

Instead of compromising, Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey described the $20 maneuver as "reckless" and "irresponsible."

This was followed up by an explanation by the President of how fiscal recklessness would be especially harmful to the little fellows whom it purported to help. The President pointed out that a wealthy person could hedge against resultant inflation through common stock purchases.

The technique of meeting such an issue on its merits without endowing political blue sky with a semblance of respectability proved successful, and may give an insight as to how to wage the campaign next year.

Entering Contests Can Be Profitable and Help Fill Leisure Time as Well

Want to win $1,000 per year for life? Well, many prize contests offer you the chance. And contesting is not only an ideal tonic for your mind, but will often fatten your pocketbook. Many readers of this column have thus used the booklet below to win kitchen equipment, cash and even new automobiles, so become a contest fan.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case 0-323: Hal J., aged 27, is convalescing at a Veteran's Hospital.

"Dr. Crane, we fellows read your column every day," he told me when I visited at the hospital recently.

"And we get a lot of fun out of your various psychological tests. For example, we have rated ourselves and our girl friends on your 'Tests for Sweethearts'.

"But we have too much spare time which hangs heavily on our hands. Could you suggest something for us to do?"

Yes, one of the most stimulating outlets for surplus energy is prize contesting.

Hundreds of these contests are going on all the time. Sometimes they are conducted by the newspaper, though most of them are sponsored by soap manufacturers or the makers of breakfast foods, etc.

Contests have a double value. They stimulate your mind by the problems they present, plus the tendency they exert toward making you look ahead to the pay-off date.

And they always offer you at least an outside chance at a cash prize. So take advantage of contesting. And that is especially good advice for chronic invalids and people who have retired at 65 on Social Security.

It doesn't require a college education to win. You are generally asked to write a 50-word or 100-word letter, even though it may have been a crossword puzzle contest or the suggestion of a winning name for a new product.

So the final decision is based on the ideas which you present in your letter. And you don't need long, jaw-breaker words, for simple one-syllable terms are adequate if you express some clever or original thought.

And originality of ideas is not limited to college graduates. Housewives and teenagers often win the top prizes.

It is estimated that between 25 million and 50 million dollars each year are given away in cash or merchandise prizes.

Many readers of this column have written me they have won prizes ranging from electric stoves and refrigerators to brand new automobiles.

Mrs. Crane and I devoted the first year of our marriage to prize contesting. We entered scores of contests and finally had a batting average of about one win for every eight entries, which is good. And we got two first prizes of $1,000 each, but a lot of $1 and $2 prizes.

Follow the rules carefully when you prepare your entry, and be sure you do not exceed the top word limit.

Most entries are typewritten but handwriting is no liability if you write clearly. A little color often adds eye appeal, so you can mount your letter on a sheet of colored paper, easily procured at the dime stores.

And try to inject "horse sense" into your letter by giving some unusual but practical uses of the product. Make your letter sound sincere and homey, instead of artificial.

Don't parrot back the printed sales points or indulge in flattery. And keep entering many contests, so if you don't win on one, your morale can be maintained by thinking, "I have an entry in another contest to be announced next week."

For further specific hints, send for my booklet "How to Write Salable Copy," enclosing a stamped return envelope plus a dime. It contains an entire section on prize contesting.

So, to boost your morale as well as your pocketbook, become a contest fan.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and a dime to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his psychological charts.

Stimulants Never Needed Except for Emergencies

By William Brady, M.D.

At times, explained a periodic drinker in a sober interval, I drink to excess because I feel the need of a stimulant, or rather I just want to feel better. . .

Two ways of saying the same thing.

In my time as medical student I experimented (upon myself) with numerous drugs, including ether, chloroform, strychnine, arsenic, alcohol, morphine, cocaine, atropine, chloral (knock-out drops) and cannabis indica (hasheesh). Fortunately for me, unfortunately for you poor souls, I experienced only unpleasant effects from all of these drugs, particularly from cannabis indica.

I remember my interest in hasheesh was aroused by a statement in Hare that in hasheesh poisoning "the two hemispheres of the brain seem to think differently on the same subject." All I have to say about that is yahbut.

There may be a stimulant that makes one feel better, but if so it has eluded me.

In nineteenth century novels and even in some twentieth century sickrooms and doctors' offices hard liquor has been mincingly called "stimulant" since Laura Jean Libby's day. In the movies that separate the commercials on TV the injured or dying character is revived with brandy.

In real life, in the sickroom, in the operating room or in emergencies such as shock from injury, exposure to extreme cold, fainting, heart failure or snakebite, alcohol is not only useless but in serious depression, such as surgical or traumatic shock and snakebite, this narcotic may be the straw that prevents recovery.

Remember, children, alcohol is depressant and narcotic from first to last, and never a stimulant to heart, circulation, nerve centers. That's why it is never used to prevent or relieve surgical shock following operations.

The periodic drinker who said he felt the need of a stimulant or he just wanted to feel better really meant the desire for a narcotic which benumbs all the senses. Alcohol is the most available of all the narcotics that benumb the senses.

The habitual drinker "feels better" under the influence of alcohol simply because the narcotic effect of alcohol makes him or her less aware, how weak, tired, selfish, unfaithful or rotten he or she really is.

On the other hand, a person who has good faith, good nutrition and vite feels just fine and dandy and doesn't want to "feel better" nor to resort to any narcotic which even slightly dulls his or her sense of well being.

The solace of alcohol or other narcotic drug is for the defective, the delinquent, the moron, the weakling.

In an emergency one or another real stimulant may be of vital importance. But any one who indulges in alcohol or other drug whenever he or she "feels the need of a stimulant" or just "wants to feel better" is an addict.

If you have vite you neither feel the need of a stimulant nor do you want to feel better. Send 25 cents and stamped, self-addressed envelope for Little Lesson 16, The Keys to Vite.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long, pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady if a stamped, self-addressed envelope is sent to the Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Mich.

Peron-Catholic Spat Nearing Showdown

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP)—President Peron's dispute with the Roman Catolic Church neared a head today as the Peronista-dominated Congress studied two measures to break the ties between the state and the church.

The House yesterday received a proposal backed by Peron's party to terminate the Catholic Church as the official state religion.

At the same time a bill was introduced in te Senate to outlaw Catholic religious teaching in public schools. The measure is expected to clear both houses quickly and be signed into law by Peron.

The proposal before the House calls for election of a national assembly to eliminate from the constitution all privileges granted the Catholic Church as the state religion.

Anti-Dance Pastor, 20, Scores Hit With Pop Vocal Disc

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — A long time ago—in my home town in Ohio—the high school didn't allow "social dancing" . . . for 'twas thought sinful.

"A girl who'd dance with a boy would probably do worse things—such as play cards or go to a taffy pull without washing her hands," was Our Town's attitude.

★ ★ ★ ★

Thirty years later, Pat Boone, a handsome, gifted young singer who's made a hit record—and who's a great-great-great-great grandson of Daniel Boone—has clearly announced on Broadway that he preaches Sundays in a Texas pulpit against social dancing.

"Especially for teenagers," he said.

"If a guy dances with a girl, he should marry her—is that it?" I asked.

PAT

"It would be better if he were already married to her," said the young man, whose "rock-'n'-roll" number, "Two Hearts" now outsells the same record by Frank Sinatra and Doris Day.

"Some people may dance to the record," Pat Boone said. "I didn't make it for that.

"You see"—his young wife Shirley, daughter of hillbilly star Red Foley, sat beside him—"Patti Page and Gale Storm are also members of the Church of Christ.

"I imagine they had to give up some of the things they believe in to get ahead. I hope I don't have to.

★ ★ ★ ★

"I don't believe I could sing with a dance orchestra. Though that's one way to be heard.

"Then," he said, "what about night clubs? I'm going to sing in Chubby's in Camden, N. J. That's what they call 'a record room.'

"People may dance there but they won't dance while I'm singing." He shook his head in his own puzzlement. "I'm going to see what it's like and then make up my mind."

★ ★ ★ ★

Pat, who's only 20, preaches Sunday at Sidell, Texas, though his home town's Denton, Texas. Nashville—Red Foley's home town—also claims him. Sticking stubbornly to his determination not to sing with dance bands, he managed to get heard on the radio and thus was signed by Dot Records, which considers him possibly the Big Voice of Tomorrow . . . and potential Hollywood material, because of his looks.

"I wouldn't be so convinced about dancing if I hadn't seen so many statistics about people who've gone astray from it," he said.

"Good luck," I said, and meant it. Later, thinking it over, I decided that Arthur Murray, Fred Astaire, Pedro and Olga and all the other dance teachers should get hold of Daniel Boone's great-great-great-great grandson and show him some modern dancing. No, on the other hand, maybe they better keep him as far away from it as possible!

Girl Pays Fare for Classmates to See Her Off

NEW YORK (AP) — Nine-year-old Suzanne Struckmann of Pottstown, Pa., wasn't too happy about leaving her fourth grade classmates—even for a trip to Europe.

So, before the liner America sailed yesterday, Suzanne's class—28 strong—was on hand to wish her bon voyage.

The little girl used $180 from her own bank account to have her class, plus six chaperones, come here by chartered bus.

Suzanne sailed with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ernst Struckmann; her sister, Gloria, 18, and brother, William, 6.

Struckmann, vice president and production manager of a Pottstown pie company, is taking his family to visit his parents in Hannover, Germany.

DuPont Tests New Rubber

Super-Tough Material May Provide Answer to 100,000 Mile Tire

DETROIT (AP) — A new, super tough synthetic rubber was described before the American Chemical Society this week.

It is called adiprene B polyurethane and still is in the field testing stages of development.

Dr. Frederick B. Hill, of the Du Pont Co., said it is spectacularly resistant to abrasion, does not become brittle at temperatures as low as 90 below zero, can withstand extreme heat, and resists deteriorating effects of oils, oxygen, ozones and weathering.

He said its most obvious use would be for tire treads, and, if it were to prove practical, this would be a major step toward a 100,000-mile tire.

It also has shown promise, he said, in oil field equipment, footwear and conveyor belting.

U. S. Rugg, also of Du Pont, said there are difficulties still to be overcome in processing material. He said that considerable heat develops during the processing and that the heat in turn speeds chemical reactions and the material may "set" before the end product can be made.

Rugg added, however, that "important strides already have been made toward practical means of control and future possibilities for this remarkable new rubber are very bright."

Blood Test for Paternity Is Held Unconstitutional

FLINT (AP)—Circuit Judge Stephen J. Roth has held unconstitutional Michigan's law providing for blood tests in contested paternity cases. No appeal yet has been taken from his ruling.

The law requires that a blood test must be made to attempt to determine paternity if the alleged father petitions for it.

It specifies that if the test indicates the accused man could not have been the father, the court must dismiss the paternity suit. But Judge Roth said that if the test indicates the defendant could have been the father, it doesn't prove that he was.

Judge Roth also holds that the Legislature assumed a judicial function in passing the law, which he says is poorly drawn.

Sioux Confuses Solons

PIERRE, S. D. (UP)—Tom Iron Crow, an Indian, testified at a legislative hearing here. Sen. J. C. Jensen (R-Parker) asked Iron Crow "to speak a little louder so they all can hear you." It developed that Iron Crow was speaking in Sioux.

Chicago Flop House Blaze Kills 9 Men

CHICAGO (AP) — A flash fire roared through a West Madison Street skid row flop house early today, killing nine men. Twelve others were injured two seriously.

It was the third disastrous fire in the same neighborhood in nine day. On April 28 eight persons were killed in a walkup hotel fire and four others in a blaze in a nearby rooming house.

Today's extra-alarm blaze in the Comfort Hotel at 919 W. Madison St. was brought under control within an hour.

The bodies were found on the upper floors of the five-story brick building. Seven of the nine dead were tentatively identified by James O. Casey, hotel clerk, at the Cook County Morgue.

Firemen searched the ruins for several hours but no additional bodies were found.

Firemen said the hotel contains about '00 cubicles, about 6 by 7 feet, separated by corrugated iron with chicken wire tops, for its residents.

The blaze was confined to the second and third floors of the building. The first floor is occupied by a restaurant.

Cause of the fire was not immediately determined. Fire Marshal Albert Peterson estimated damage at $5,000.

Peterson said most of the dead and injured suffered smoke inhalation and most of them were asleep in their tiny, 65-cent-a-night cubicles.

The injured were taken to Cook County Hospital.

Al Reese, 50, a clerk at the hotel, said there were 77 men in the building when the fire broke out about 1 a.m. He said he first saw smoke pouring from a second-floor room behind his office. He said he pounded on the door of the room but got no response.

"Then I pulled the fire alarm and started banging on doors until the smoke got too thick," he said. "I called the telephone operator but I couldn't finish telling her about the fire because the smoke was chocking me."

Fast action by policemen Eugene Reynolds and Robert Becker was credited with saving the lives of several men. The policemen, said they ran into the building when they saw smoke. They said they reached the third floor shouting "Fire" before heavy smoke drove them back. Reynolds said they aroused about 25 men.

About 20 men were carried down ladders by firemen. Two others jumped from windows and were injured.

One man perched on a fourth-floor ledge for several minutes before firemen reached him.

3 Sex Deviate Bills Arrive in Senate

LANSING (AP) — Three bills bills tightening control over sex deviates were before the Senate today after unanimous passage by the House.

The triple-decked legislation, proposed by Rep. Robert Waldron (R-Grosse Pointe), would allow judges to impose indeterminate sentences on sex criminals.

Although the present law allows such sentences, Waldron said, judges are so hamstrung by its wording that they can't take advantage of the law.

One ko the bills would require judges to arrange examination by two psychiatrists before imposing the indeterminate sentence. One psychiatrist would be court-appointed, the other provided by the defendant.

Under the plan, sex offenders sentenced to indefinite terms would be examined every six months by prvson psychiatrists.

Same Person Can't Be Township JP, Trustee

LANSING (AP) — An attorney general's opinion held today that a person cannot simultaneously hold the offices of township justice of the peace and trustee.

The opinion said a justice of the peace holds judicial powers while a trustee holds legislative and administrative powers.

There is a conflict of interest between the two offices, the opinion said, and the Constitution forbids them being held simultaneously.

Million-Dollar Fires Hit Indiana

Two Blazes in State Destroy Plants, Kill Three Workmen

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Million-dollar fires in opposite corners of northern Indiana yesterday killed three workmen, injured several other workers and firemen, destroyed two big industrial plants and damaged two others.

Three men died in the ruins of the Whitley Products, Inc., plant at Columbia City, 20 miles west of Fort Wayne in northeastern Indiana.

Seven other workmen suffered burns and three of them were hospitalized. Company officials said the loss was more than a million dollars.

The dead were identified as Paul B. Walker, 21, Paul Sherwin, 54, and Homer Bowlby, 55. Walker, who was married less than three weeks ago, escaped from the burning building and then went back in to try to rescue the others.

At Hammond, in the northwest corner of the state, the Great Lakes Warehouse Corp. building was destroyed, along with its contents. The nearby plants of the American Chemical Service Co. and the Pratt Food Co. were damaged.

The loss of the warehouse building alone was set at a million dollars and there were unofficial estimates that the contents and the damage to the other buildings would add up to another million.

Oppose Traffic Lights Amid Yule Decorations

LANSING (AP) — IF the Senate can persuade the House to agree, you won't have to search for the traffic light among a maze of Christmas decorations.

The Senate yesterday passed the Porter bill to require all traffic lights and signs to be placed at curb lines. The bill would affect new installations immediately and require existing lights to be all changed by 1958.

The bill also forbids hanging street decorations, Christmas festoons and banners in such a way as to interfere with observation of traffic lights and requires lighted advertising signs to be kept 10 feet back of curb lights.

Dust Bowl Farmers Won't Give Up

(Second of two articles by a reporter who accompanied Agriculture Secretary Ezra Taft Benson on his recent tour of the drought-ridden plains area of the Southwest, where officials fear another "dust bowl" may be in the making.)

By JOHN BOOTH

WASHINGTON (INS) — Winds that have ripped through bare, seared farmlands and ranges in the Great Plains have caused damage that runs well into the billions of dollars.

Authorities disagree on whether present conditions in the Southwest fit the popular idea of a dust bowl. They agree the damage has been great.

Latest official estimates are that, as of April 20, about 13 million acres of land had been damaged in varying degree. At that time, another 19 million acres without protective cover was potentially subject to the same fate.

Since April 20, there have been more severe windstorms and the danger of further damage will continue into the summer.

Up to now, dust storms have been fully as frequent but, in general less severe than in the 1930s. Severity of land damage per acre has been less but about four million more acres are subject to damage now.

Officials say soil blowing hasn't gotten completely out of hand because farmers, ranchers and soil conservationists know more about how to combat wind erosion; they are better organized locally to meet the emergency; the government is better prepared to give stop-gap aid, and most producers have better equipment and other resources to carry out emergency control measures.

In some sections, this drought started in the summer of 1950. The following year it spread into Wyoming, Colorado, Nebraska, Kansas, Oklahoma, Texas and New Mexico.

More than 200 counties—some of them very large—have felt the scourge this year. Four district areas within the overall drought belt have taken the heaviest punishment.

One straddles the Wyoming-Nebraska border. Another, roughly triangular, has its base in Texas and its apex in Oklahoma. A third, shaped like a gnarled cucumber, parallels Texas' western boundary and noses over into New Mexico.

The fourth and largest virtually smothers southeastern Colorado and western Kansas.

In his tour last week Agriculture Secretary Ezra Taft Benson flew to Denver and then motored about 800 miles east, south, and west again to see what was considered a fair cross-section of the whole drought belt.

Less than 15 minutes out of Denver, Benson clambered down to wade ankle-deep in the dust of a wind-riddled field.

Moving from Denver through southeast Colorado to the Kansas line, the secretary and his party saw the worst.

Highway shoulders and fields in many places were wind-rippled like the Sahara. Over vast acreages, only the hardiest weeds survived. Along railroad rights-of-way there were great mounds of dust temporarily cleared from the tracks.

Here and there a brave cover of green in the fields indicated where a wheat crop was doing its best to hang on.

On irrigated lands, the situation is somewhat better but supplies of irrigation water are short too unless the farmer has his own wells.

In the high plains of the Texas panhandle, farmers told the secretary they were "forced into" sinking irrigation wells.

Moore County, for example, has more than 100 newly installed irrigation systems, mostly financed by federal loans.

Such a system costs between $10,000 and $15,000 and the underground water supplies last about 50 years if used wisely.

Benson's views were summed up when he told a farmer at Springfield, Colo.:

"We've got good people here. We just need a little water."

In subsequent speeches, Benson conceded wryly that "That's all hell needs"—good people and a little water.

Life goes on in the drought area but it is not business-as-usual.

In the larger towns and cities, there is at least a veneer of gaiety.

At Guyon, Okla., many of the men are growing fine beards in preparation for a "pioneer days" celebration later this spring.

In Amarillo, Tex., businessmen and prosperous farmers from a wide area flock to the smart Amarillo Club for the luncheon siesta.

Almost everywhere large stores and small shops display the latest merchandise. There are generous sprinklings of Cadillacs, Lincolns and Buicks and the majority of lower-priced cars are late models. There are few jalopies.

But business as well as the farmer and the rancher is feeling the pinch. Many storekeepers said their volume of business is from 20 to 40 per cent less than in 1950.

The farmer and the rancher, however, are really taking it on the chin.

Benson and others are convinced that the only reason there have been so few sales of farms is that the landowners entered this long drought with reasonably large reserves.

A great many of them now have exhausted their savings and so must lean on credit—from the government or elsewhere—or give up.

Although many are now suffering the fifth wheat crop failure in a row, there is little to show that anybody is ready to call it quits. Like farmer Glen Arnold of near Walsh, Colo., the most they'll concede is that "it's an uphill task."

Arnold's case emphasizes what this whole region is up against. Last year he harvested only 60 to 70 bushels of wheat from about 1,200 acres. Usually he averages 20 bushels to the acre.

Dairymen and livestock operators are no better off than the wheat farmers. Accustomed to producing much of their own feed, a great many of them are afraid to break land for feed and forage crops. It might blow away.

As for private credit, Benson found local bankers "naturally concerned and very sympathetic" toward farmers' needs.

He says: "There is evidence of faith in the future of this area on the part of bankers and everybody else. The general feeling is that they can live with this thing."

Annual 'Clean-Up Week' Starts Saturday

Event Sponsored by City Jaycees

Painting 'Blitz,' Pledge Campaign to Highlight Nine-Day Program

Aimed at sparking residents' interest in making Pontiac a brighter, more attractive community in which to live and work, "Clean-up, Paint-up, Fix-up Week" tomorrow begins a nine-day stand here.

The annual event, sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce, will be highlighted by a house painting "blitz,' a clean-up pledge campaign and a "talking" trash can in downtown Pontiac.

During the "blitz," a crew of volunteer AFL painters will descend on a selected home and slap on a quick coat of brightness.

Pledge blanks will be printed in the Pontiac Press and residents will be asked to check off the home improvement and fix-up projects they will do during the year.

The Jaycees will collect the pledges and enter them in a nation-wide contest. They hope to make Pontiac the winner in its size classification in the competition.

The "talking" rubbish container will feature a booming voice reminding passersby at Saginaw and Huron Sts. to do their parts to keep the city clean.

Freshly painted trash cans in the downtown area will be the result of the Jaycees' efforts, although the city actually did the painting.

Tomorrow morning Camp Fire Girls will clean remaining litter in Murphy, Oakland and Indian Village parks as part of the campaign.

Russell Fahr and D. Bruce Richards are co-chairmen of the drive.

PROMISES SUPPORT — City Manager Walter K. Willman (right) prepares to sign a pledge that the city will offer full support to the Pontiac Junior Chamber of Commerce's "Clean-up, Paint-up, Fix-up Week." The annual community-brightening campaign begins tomorrow and will continue through May 15. Looking on at left is Richard C. Carpino, a member of the City Health Dept. staff, and an adviser to the Jaycees in the drive.

Junior Misses Fete Mothers

Home Economics Students Stage Tea, Fashion Show

By HAZEL A. TRUMBLE

Education today can be fun as well as functional!

Ask any one of the several hundred girls in the home economics department of Washington Junior High School who Thursday staged the first annual Mother's Day Tea and Fashion Show.

Seventh, eighth and ninth grade girls demonstrated their new prowess with a needle in lovely spring and summer street, sport and "sleepy time" clothes. On a softly-lighted stage they exhibited their own creations with the poise of full-fledged models.

Many others, students in the foods department, watched the products of their culinary art rapidly disappear from daintly-appointed tea tables offering every kind of cookie from the two-colored pin wheel to the old-fashioned sugar chip.

"Home ec," says Mrs. Ruby Brewer, sewing instructor at Washington, "no longer means learning the proper techniques for ripping basting threads. I don't start girls out hemming towels."

She pointed out that sewing can be fun and girls love to learn it when they can make something to put right on and wear.

Mrs. Brewer says girls today are much more color and fabric conscious than were home economics students several decades ago.

"They put the right colors together, and know that plaids and prints are not compatible," she said.

In the foods preparation department, Kay Justin believes that the day of learning just the proper amount of heat control to produce lump-free white sauce is over.

"We make things junior high school girls like to eat. It is an incentive for them to try it at home and to improve their food projects," she said.

Both instructors feel that teaching home economics in the junior high is as important or more important than in high school. Including this instruction in junior high school is comparatively new in school curriculum.

"It is often the very interest which keeps girls in school," said Mrs. Brewer, "and it provides a training that girls use all of their lives."

Davy Crockett Finding Life Livelier Now

DALLAS (AP) — Life just isn't the same for David Crockett, great-grandson of the "King of the Wild Frontier."

Tiny children now gang up on him when he comes home.

"You Davy Crockett, really?" they ask.

"Sure am," he answers.

"Sing the song," they chant.

"I try," said the 55-year-old drug company accountant. "And it seems to make them happy."

Adults and older children who ring his telephone off the hook want to know if he really is related to bear-killer Crockett.

He is. And right proud of it, although life has gotten more hectic since those TV shows and that song, "The Ballad of Davy Crockett."

Crockett is the son of Ashley Wilson Crockett, the original Davy's grandson. Ashley was the son of Davy's boy, Robert Patton Crockett.

Davy Crockett of Dallas was born at Granbury, near the farm where Davy's widow, Elizabeth Crockett, is buried.

He said the first, famed Davy Crockett had a "rather long face with a prominent, pointed chin. I think I look a little bit like him."

There's one thing that is a little bit trying for Dallas' Davy. Offtimes when he's introduced to someone and he tells his name, they say, "Who're you kidding?"

Would License Cats

SOUTH WINDSOR, Conn. (UP) —State Rep. Clynton B. Buckland complained there are nearly as many cats as humans in Connecticut. He introduced a bill in the legislature calling for the licensing of cats, which he said totaled about 2,000,000. "I like cats," said Buckland, who has three at home, "but there are too darn many of them around."

'Junk Mail' Ban Showing Little Effect in City

Leslie H. Dean, Pontiac Postmaster, says the March 31 law banning "junk mail" has had little effect on his office during April.

"The effects of the new law doesn't show itself under present conditions for the heaviest mail months are during the winter and spring seasons," Dean said.

Before the law was passed, advertisers would merely address their mail "Occupant" and list the street number. Under the address stipulations of the new law, the postmen now must sort the mail, though there is a little less volume, Dean explained.

The new housing divisions constructed in and around Pontiac will present another problem when they are ready to be occupied. Dean plans on servicing 5,000 new homes in the near future.

Subways Trying Maps Operated by Push Buttons

NEW YORK (AP)—To help subway riders find their way underground, the Transit Authority is experimenting with a push-button "electronic wayfinder" with the idea of installing one in each of the city's 509 subway stations.

The setup consists of a large ap of the city with strings of lights marking the routes of the three subway systems. Alongside the map are buttons for hotels, museums and other points of interest.

The rider pushes a button next to his destination and a chain of lights indicates the route to be taken.

No Spring Chickens Allowed

He Dates 350 Women Each Mother's Day

LANSFORD, Pa. (AP)—To many a small merchant in Anytown, U.S.A., Mother's Day could be just another date on the calendar.

But to R. D. Edwards of Lansford, Pa., (pop. 7,500), it's time for a date with 350 women—and there's no romance involved. Their ages start at 70.

Edwards, a stocky Welshman fondly known as Dick by the townspeople in this little eastern Pennsylvania coal mining community, had an idea 17 years ago to do something personal about Mother's Day.

"My mother died in 1934," he said. "For a few years, I really had no Mother's Day. Then I recalled my mother once saying, 'When you're giving flowers, Dick, give them when a person is still living.'"

For Mother's Day in 1939, he invited 15 mothers to a party. They were dined, entertained and decked out in corsages. There was only one stipulation: each guest had to be at least 70.

Edwards felt that the old folks, many of them widows with children long since grown, see little gaiety. He wanted to give them one big day each year.

Dick himself is a twinkling 64.

So many requests for invitations came in the next few years that Edwards needed a staff of helpers.

Ages of the 348 mothers who turned out for last year's party ranged to 94. The party was held in Lehighton, 60 miles north of here. As in 1939, it was dinner, entertainment and flowers for the mothers.

"They filled Lehighton's American Legion hall, the biggest place we can find around here for a party," says Dick, the host and master of ceremonies. "Thin and stout, spry and feeble . . . but they came decked out in their best spring finery."

In 1954, he informed his happy, singing "gang" that their ages totaled 26,127 years; their children numbered 1,309; they had 2,450 grandchildren; 1,079 great-grandchildren and five great-great-grandchildren.

There's always one big surprise. Last year he brought together a mother and daughter who had not seen each other for 30 years.

The mother first spoke over a telephone to her daughter, believing she was at home in Tacoma, Wash. Actually, Dick had brought the daughter East by airliner and she was in an adjoining room during the telephone conversation. There wasn't a dry eye at the party when the two were brought face to face.

This year's party will be held tomorrow, and Dick is as secretive as usual about the big surprise.

Edwards, president of the Bright Department Stores in Lansford and Lehighton, readily concedes the Mother's Day parties help business.

"It costs me $1,500 to put on a party like this," he said. "That may not be much for a big city store, but it's a lot of money in a place like Lansford. The whole thing creates a tremendous amount of good will—on which you can never put a price tag."

But when elderly women come out to Dick Edwards' Mother's Day party, it proves one thing, as Dick puts it:

"Women are women regardless of age. They like to dress up once in a while and always enjoy a party."

PRESSing Questions:

Employers, Employes View 'Coffee Breaks'

"What do you think of coffee breaks?"

That one question has raised more heated discussions between employers and employes over the past few years than the guaranteed annual wage.

In an effort to determine how local workers and bosses feel about the situation, the Press queried a few members of both sides in downtown Pontiac Thursday afternoon.

Here are the results:

Furniture store manager, L. H. Barris, 54, said: "We've always had coffee breaks at this store. In fact, the firm provides a lounge for employes along with coffee. It works better this way because we find most of our employes would slip out for coffee and probably take more time."

BARRIS

"I think coffee breaks are good for the employes—they help break up a long day."

This was Mrs. Leonard Smith's opinion. Mrs. Smith of 97 Hill St., is an elevator operator in a downtown office building. "I think people work more efficiently if they have an opportunity to break up their work day with a cup of coffee in the morning and afternoon," she concluded.

MRS. SMITH

MISS LAWSON

A department store bookkeeper, Mrs. Walter Ratliff demonstrated her opinion. After her photo was snapped, she had this to say: "I'm going on my coffee break right now, so you see I really don't have time to talk to you." The reporter concluded she was in favor of the practice.

MRS. RATLIFF

Miss Jacqueline Barber, of Farmington, a photo artist, said she rarely takes a coffee break away from her work. "Usually if I get tired during the day, I have a cup of coffee at my desk — it seems to revive me when the work gets going hard."

MISS BARBER

Others interviewed, employers and employes alike, seemed to think the custom is here to stay, and that it's not a bad one if not abused.

Bloomfield Woman Lists Dog 'Requests'

"The comradeship of a child and his dog is one of the trademarks of the American way of life, and who would deny that a child is a better child for having a dog companion?"

So says Mrs. William G. Ferguson of Bloomfield Hills, commenting on National Humane Week, May 1-7. An active member of the Oakland County Animal Welfare Society, Mrs. Ferguson lists the things she thinks, if dogs could talk, dogs would ask for, not only this week but the year around:

I want clean water and a clean dish twice daily.
I want a collar that doesn't choke.
I want a dry, draftless place for sleeping.
I want a quiet place in the basement the Fourth of July.
I want every boy softly reprimanded who throws stones at me or twists my ears.
I want folks to judge me as a dog, from a dog's viewpoint.
I want to be treated kindly just as I treat children and all those in distress.
I want my mind and body trained so I can be of the fullest service.
I want to be considered one of the family for I will give my life to protect it.
I want my master to be my god and to act the part.

Hard Work for Nothing

KINGSPORT, Tenn. (UP) — Burglars used an auto to smash an outside entrance, broke through several padlocked doors, then worked for hours with acetylene torches cutting into a safe at J. A. McCurry's auto parts company. It was empty. Besides, McCurry told police, it wasn't locked in the first place.

NAM Seeks Tighter Labor Control

By DON WHITEHEAD

WASHINGTON (AP)—Business interests are seeking to tighten federal and state controls on labor unions and further curb the power of organized labor.

These moves point to no "era of peace" between labor and management.

The National Assn. of Manufacturers is encouraging local business groups to press for "right-to-work laws in the 30 states which do not have them. These laws would ban the union shop, in which a worker must join a union after accepting a job. The Taft-Hartley law already forbids the closed shop, in which only union members can be hired by an employer.

The U. S. Chamber of Commerce has lined up with the NAM. And there is considerable sentiment among businessmen for amending federal law to outlaw the union shop.

The unions are fighting back, not only to prevent new curbs but also to wipe out present restrictive legislation.

Thus the battle lines are being drawn as the AFL and CIO work toward a merger which would give labor almost a solid front in the fight.

In its simplest terms, one of the big business-labor arguments goes like this:

Business: "The AFL-CIO merger is heading in the direction of a labor monopoly and it must be curbed. The American workers shouldn't be compelled to join a union—and he should have the guarantee under law that he has a free choice to join or not to join a union."

Labor: "The right-to-work laws are actually right-to-wreck laws. They are nothing more than a move to destroy union security and destroy the trade union movement. The talk of a labor monopoly is nonsense because a minority of workers belongs to unions."

Henry G. Riter III, president of the NAM, said he has found a good deal of concern among businessmen around the country over the planned merger of the AFL and the CIO. Riter is president of Thomas A. Edison, Inc., West Orange, N. J., and as NAM president, comes as closely as any man to representing the voice of business.

Riter said: "Businessmen are not concerned over the merger as such. But they are concerned because it seems to them this move points to a speedup of tendencies toward monopolistic labor practices. Many of us are concerned over the fact that the antitrust laws affect businessmen—and we have no quarrel with these laws—but the laws exempt labor unions.

"I have found that businessmen believe labor unions, even without a merger, have become a potent force politically and economically. The belief is that merger will increase the monopolistic potential."

Riter said the big question on the labor-management front has to do with "voluntary versus compulsory unionism."

"I think," he said, "that where a man must join a union in order to work, where he can't hold a job unless he is a member of a union and pays dues, then that is an execution of monopolistic power.

"Unions are offering workers a service—and without any compulsion a worker should be able to decide whether he wants that service. But the union shop restricts the worker's freedom of choice in the job he pursues."

What is business' reaction to the announced intention of the AFL and CIO leaders to engage in increased political activity?

Riter: "The workers up to the present have shown a high degree of individuality in thinking and in the way they vote. I would hope they would continue to think and vote for themselves. Labor leaders never have been able to deliver the labor vote as a bloc—and I seriously doubt that it can be done."

Could an AFL-CIO merger mean a greater stabilization of labor-management relations?

Riter: "There very well could be greater stabilization—but it be an enforced stabilization without any choice."

Riter said he thought the Taft-Hartley law had brought about a "reasonable balance of power between labor and management."

"I think it's healthy all the way around for the law to stand as it is," he said. "It leaves the way open for states to act against the union shop if they choose. And I think if the right-to-work law were explained to the people properly, there would be more states ready to vote for it.

"As for government intervention in labor-management disputes, however, I think businessmen prefer lead rather than more intervention."

And so goes the dispute between labor and management—with the dove of peace nowhere in sight yet.

Pontiac Students Start Final Six Weeks of School Year

Final Exams Loom Ahead

Classes, Club Groups Display Term's Work, Plan Final Outings

The final six weeks of school are facing PHS students starting next week, and all know just about where they stand after receiving report cards Monday.

Seniors this weekend are buckling down to hard study and maybe even some cramming as preliminary final exams must be taken Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday of next week.

Tonight the vocal department will present its last performance of its annual spring concert. Today, also, the first Tomahawk put out by the new staff was distributed.

The American Problems classes have been quite active this past week, with the visiting of the Pontiac State Hospital and displaying of various work projects. Ten students visited the hospital Monday during its annual open house. Students gained a better insight on problems of mental health and how they are being dealt with, as they took the trip directed by former PHS student, John Vanderlind, now an employe of the State Hospital.

Vanderlind pointed out the steps made in mental health, and also pointed out the tremendous need for larger trained staffs to help out with the problems faced by the hospital.

Other American Problems classes have on display interesting and in some cases tempting arrays of their present work in class. Mrs. Edna Forman's classes are studying creative hobbies, and projects have been made along these lines.

Martha Machnauer has on display for all the student body to see and covet a beautiful project in cake decorating. An example in woodworking is a beautiful lamp, made by Carl Glenn and Jerry Larson. Paul Wendland displayed his abilities in photography, as did Norvell Sears with a display of the four stages of life. Poster making was demonstrated by Robert Furgeson, embroidery by Carolyn Redman, and collecting newspaper name plates by George Beltz.

Wednesday on "It's Story Time" the Radio Workshop members will present "The Chipmunk That Went to Church", with Alyce Stephen as the Story Princess.

Monday "The Sun Helps Us" will be presented on the series "More Wonderful than Magic." Thursday the Workshop took two of its past shows and presented them in an assembly to the students of Eastern Junior High School.

The Y-Teens will hold their senior banquet May 26 at Devon Gables, and have decided to hold their annual picnic June 6.

The Chem-Physics also made plans for its summer picnic. Cass-Dodge Park will be the scene of the annual affair sometime in June. Handling recreation activities will be Russell Anderson, with Bob Howse in charge of transportation and Madeline Van Matre taking care of refreshments.

Good news was made known to two PHS seniors recently, as Barbara Williamson and Joan Skelly learned they have been awarded entrance scholarships to Michigan State College. Dave Robinson was elected alternate.

The Future Teachers Club this past month took a number of excursions and have plans for some in the future. Tomorrow they will travel to the Henry Ford Museum, following trips to Ypsilanti on April 28 and Wayne University April 23. Twenty-five took the trip to Ypsi, with 11 going to a banquet later that evening at Devon Gables, sponsored by the Pontiac Education Association. At Wayne U., the group heard a talk by a student studying education at Wayne.

Later they saw a movie dealing with "knowing the child in the classroom," and took a tour of the campus. A visit to the Art Museum in Detroit ended the day's festivities.

AF Radar Locates Boat Adrift on Lake

MOUNT CLEMENS (UP) — Adrift in Lake St. Clair in his 21-foot cruiser last night, William D. Wilson, 52, of Detroit was spotted in the darkness by radar and rescued by a crash boat from Selfridge Air Force Base.

The Coast Guard called on the Air Force for help at 11:20 p.m. (EST) after its boats had failed to find any trace of Wilson whose wife had reported him missing on the lake.

Within 17 minutes the 63-foot crash boat located Wilson's cruiser in open water at the mouth of Anchor Bay.

The radar-equipped crash boat was put into service several weeks ago by the Air Force. This was its first rescue.

Mail Must Get Through

HARMONY, Minn. (UP)—Granville Bates, postoffice employe here for 37 years, traveled 458,000 miles without a single accident as a rural mail carrier. Bates used four horses and seven cars during that time. Now he is retiring.

St. Fred Pupils Enjoy Free Day

Touring State Hospital, Bell Telephone Building of Special Interest

Tuesday, St. Frederick High School enjoyed a free day in honor of the Bishop's patron's feast day—St. Alexander. Flowers and a spiritual bouquet were presented the Bishop Monday night by the 7th and 8th grades at a Parent-Teacher Meeting. The entire school attended Mass for the Bishop's intentions early Tuesday morning.

Wednesday morning seniors journeyed to the Pontiac State Hospital for a tour of its grounds. An interesting and educational morning was had by all.

The junior girls are making plans this week for a day at Marygrove College to see what the life of a college gal is like. The trip will be made Monday.

Thursday afternoon a demonstration of "General Motors Previews of Progress" by Clarke Stevenson and Donald Gordon was enjoyed by the entire high school. The demonstration included some of the latest tests recently completed in the GM laboratories. They were: "Synthetic Rubber, The Bottle with a Temper, Sound Reproduction, Microwaves, Cold Stove, and Jet Propulsion."

Seniors had their noses buried deep in "Senior Review Sheets" again this week as the test, which must be passed with a 'B' before final exams are taken, is set for next Wednesday.

Junior Achievement members took time off from school Wednesday noon to tour the Michigan Bell Telephone Building. An enjoyable time was had by all.

"Old man weather" put away his rain and cloudy skies last week long enough for the Ram's games with St. Benedicts and Orchard Lake. Neither score was in their favor, although St. Benedicts had to go into extra innings to down the fighting Rams.

A slogan that appeared under the "Who-When-and Where" of the baseball games this week was—"D.D.T. says we'll win. T.Q. says so too." Who is responsible no one knows.

Party wise, a hayride was given by Sharon Deahy Monday night, for the sophomores, in celebration of her sixteenth birthday.

Also, on the party side, all athletes are looking forward to the Athletic Banquet to be given on May 17. Other than promising a good meal and top celebtities, no other information will be given out by Athletic Director, Father Veryser.

Journalism Lectures

ANN ARBOR (UP) — Two lectures on journalism will be heard at the University of Michigan Tuesday and Wednesday, one of them by an Associated Press writer.

Sigrid Arne, special writer for the AP in Washington, will speak on the "Rocky Road to Truth" at 3 p.m. (EST) Tuesday.

Saginaw Valley Conference

Pontiac Is Victorious in Spring Speech Final

The PHS Spring Speech Team finalists placed first at the regional meet, emerging as victor in the Saginaw Valley Conference at Saginaw, April 28.

Garth Johnston, who was first in the Conference oratory finals, placed high in the regional finals. Burton Belant tied for first place in the finals of humorous declamation, and Robert Evanson, conference champion in extemporaneous speaking, placed fourth in the regional finals.

Participating in the regionals were winners from conference and district contests, with representatives from Battle Creek, Lakeview, Kalamazoo, Ann Arbor, Albion, Lansing Eastern, Lansing Sexton, Midland, Sturgis, Coldwater, Flint Central, Saginaw, Arthur Hill, and Pontiac.

Events held were oratory, extemporaneous speaking, humorous reading, dramatic interpretation, and declamation.

Students from Pontiac were accompanied by Mary Parrish and Walter Smith.

Jammed Cash Register Yields Hidden Wealth

NORTHWOOD, N. H. (UP) — The cash register in Donald MacCallum's garage broke down, but he wound up the day with a profit because of it.

MacCallum took the register apart. He found that a $10 bill had jammed some of the gears.

It still didn't work right, so he kept digging into its innards and came up with a $55 check dated July 1, 1953.

His dream of further riches ended at that point. The machine worked like new.

Take a Bow, Girls

AUGUSTA, Maine (UP)—A report prepared by the secretary of state's office here shows that of 17,303 traffic violation convictions last year in Maine only 866 involved women.

Students to See Business World May 13

With graduation coming ever closer St. Mike seniors took a temporary leave of absence from school Monday as they began the first of the annual trips offered to the departing class. Thi was a tour of the State Hospital in keeping with Mental Health Week. Lectures and movies on the causes of mental illness and of the research being done to overcome and cure this human obstacle gave the seniors a more thorough understanding of the problems of these handicapped people. Members of the faculty accompanying the seniors were Sister Bernita and Sister Muriel.

Now we turn from student excursions to faculty meetings and tours. B.I.E. Day is May 13, during which our faculty will join public school teachers for a look into today's world of Business, Industry, and Education with perhaps even a glance at the future. Tours will take the Pontiac educators through Bell Telephone, Edison Company, Pontiac Press, General Motors, and Pontiac's radio stations, WCAR and WPON.

The Michaelite Staff had a meeting last Tuesday during which they received their assignments and were informed of the Wednesday deadline for news reports. All are now working feverishly to complete this, the year's final publication.

Outstanding senior boy and girl athletes as chosen by the high school were Georgianna Gunnerson, a varsity cheerleader and forward on the girl's varsity basketball team and Robert Anderson, football captain and basketball star who was selected for the Free Press second division basketball team.

Tuesday biologists of the junior class found out just how skillful they were with a scapel when they carried out with unexacting precision the dissection of perch and clams.

Daily, one will find juniors creeping steathily to designated hideaways to work on decorations for the prom. Just exactly what they are doing is a perplexing problem to the seniors, who, if the juniors have their way about the matter, will know nothing about the theme of this affair until the big night.

During this past week male anticipation mounted to almost the breaking point.

The reason was none other than the Sadie Hawkins Dance which is being held tonight and is sponsored by the C.Y.O. This dance is liable to take the jingle out of the girl's purses.

Margaret Bateman gave a surprise birthday party for Colleen Mc Enery, a fellow Croc-a-doll, Saturday night.

On the previous date we also find that a coke and movie party was held in the home of Janet English. Among other juniors present were the M-J's.

Radford's Global Talk Costs Him Prize Globe

WASHINGTON (INS) — Adm. Arthur W. Radford, chairman of hte Joint Chiefs of Staff, was so busy reporting on his gobe-girdling the other night that he lost out on a globe.

The globe was a prize raffled off at a meeting of the Explorers' Clu Radford's name was picked, but he didn't qualify to receive it because he wasn't there.

The admiral had just returned from Formosa and he had to make a report on his trip. The globe will be offered again at the club's next meeting.

Pontiac Squadron Marks CAP Week

Pontiac Squadron 6318-2 of the Civil Aair Patrol is joining with other CAP chapters in observing the current Civil Air Patrol week, proclaimed by Governor Williams.

Today and Saturday, are state CAP squadron "tag days." PGroceeds from sale of the tags will go toward their flight scholarship program that gives 10 hours of dual training free.

Pontiac CAP members will not sell the tags but donations may be sent to Robert Turner, 57 Mechanic St., according to Dee Robinson, Public Information Officer for the Pontiac Chapter.

Anyone 16 to 18 years of age is eligible for the flight scholarship prizses. Winners will be selected on the basis of their school academic and conduct records, Miss Robinson said.

Flight Awards will be presented by General Leaman, Commanding Officer of the Air Reserve in the Great Lakes area, May 15, at Olds Auditorium in Lansing.

Thug Crosses All Six

BOSTON (UP) — A gunman robbed the Keith Memorial theater boxoffice of $28 while patrons were watching "Six Bridges to Cross," a movie based on Boston's unsolved $1,219,000 Brink's holdup.

Marian Day Pilgrimage

Wednesday morning Michaelites enjoyed a mission lecture and two films, one on "Propagation of the Faith," narrated by Bishop Fulton J. Sheen and another, "'Southern Cross," narrated by Jeff Chandler.

Parishioners and members of the high school are making plans for the annual Marian Day pilgrimage to be held at U. of D. Stadium, Sunday, May 8.

All are hoping for an attendance surpassing the record 10,000 attending last year.

Musical aspirants of St. Mike's student body gave their annual recital Wednesday evening in parish hall. The program consisted of individual musical numbers and selections by the Glee Club.

Carson City Fire Hits Four Buildings

CARSON CITY, Mich. (UP) — Flames fanned by strong winds caused $50,000 estimated loss to four buildings and threatened others in Carson City Thursday. Nobody was hurt.

Firefighters from Crystal, Prerington, Sheridan and Hubbardston joined Carson City firemen. Flames raged out of control for nearly two hours.

Most of the damage was confined to a food locker plant, a garbage and the Rebekah Hall of Independent Order of Odd Fellows. Water damage was reported at a food store.

The flmaes apparently started at the rear of the food locker plant, Frank Tabor, assistant fire chief here, said. An alley incinerator or faulty wiring could have been the cause, he said.

An average American family spends 10 per cent or more of the annual income for the operation of automobiles.

It's The Hardtop with Four Doors!

Here's the new hit in hardtops that's taking the country by storm—Buick's pioneering and pace-setting 4-Door Riviera. The "convertible" look, with no center posts in the side-window areas — but with separate doors for rear-seat passengers. Shown here in the low-price SPECIAL model — also available in the high-powered CENTURY Series. Both now in volume production to insure prompt deliveries.

Just wait till you switch the pitch of Buick's new Dynaflow*!

How would you like to take the wheel of a high-powered Buick and feel an experience you never felt before in any earth-bound vehicle?

How would you like to do—just by pressing down the gas pedal—what a pilot does when he's ready for take-off?

And how would you like to drive with the happy thought that you're getting plenty of miles per gallon in normal cruising—and the electrifying action of the world's first airplane-principled transmission when you need it for split-second getaway response or accelerating power?

It's all for you when you say the word and slip into the driver's seat of a new Buick with Variable Pitch Dynaflow.*

Not only do you take command of record-high Buick V8 power—and the most envied ride in the industry—and the brawn and heft and luxury of a truly solid automobile.

You also call the turn on twenty propeller-like blades inside a wondrous new Dynaflow that's patterned after the principle of the airplane's variable pitch propeller.

You hold these blades in their high-economy angle when you press the pedal in the normal way—and you get a lot more miles from a tankful of gas.

You switch the pitch to take-off position when you press the pedal way down—and you get spectacular action instantly.

Don't take our word alone that this is thrilling beyond all previous experience.

Talk to anyone who's tried it. Or, better yet, come try it yourself. That way you can learn firsthand why Buick sales are soaring to all-time best-seller highs. Drop in this week, won't you?

*Dynaflow Drive is standard on Roadmaster, optional at extra cost on other Series.

Local Delivered Price of the 1955 Buick SPECIAL 2-Door, 6-Passenger Sedan, Model 48 (illustrated) is $2267.00

Optional equipment, accessories, state and local taxes, if any, additional. Prices may vary slightly in adjoining communities. Even the factory-installed extras you may want are bargains, such as: Heater & Defroster—$81.70; Radio & Antenna—$92.50.

Women's Division of the American Institute of Banking of Oakland County will hold a fashion show in the Pontiac High School auditorium. Going over notes on the affair, which will feature fashions from Peggy's, are (left to right) Mrs. Bernetta McGinnis of Holly, Betty Berg of Montcalm street and Mrs. Charles Stark of South Marshall street.

Bathing suits and pedal pushers will be among the garments modeled Wednesday evening at a summer fashion show sponsored by the Women's Division of the American Institute of Banking of Oakland County. Admiring the clothes are (left to right) Margaret Samuel of Davisburg, Mrs. Pearl Falk of West Huron street and Mrs. Ronald C. West of Edinburgh road. Tickets may be purchased in Oakland County banks, at Peggy's, or at the door of the Pontiac High School Auditorium.

Institute Plans Show Wednesday

Mrs. McGinnis, Mrs. Stark Are Co-Chairmen

Girls wearing play clothes, beach wear, sports clothes, and summer clothes for the business women, will parade before those attending a fashion show to be sponsored Wednesday evening by members of the American Institute of Banking of Oakland County.

Pontiac High School auditorium will be the setting for the show and fashions will be presented by Peggy's.

Models from Pontiac, Oxford, Royal Oak and Ferndale are working with this year's chairman, Mrs. Bernita McGinnis of the Holly State Bank, to make it a successful show.

Mrs. Virginia Stark of the Pontiac State Bank is serving as co-chairman, Betty Jane Berg of the Community National Bank is program chairman and Margaret Samuel of the Pontiac State Bank is handling publicity.

Tickets may be obtained from the girls in the Banks of Oakland County, at Peggy's, or at the door of the auditorium Wednesday evening.

Garbo: The Legend and the Lady

'The Perfect Lover' and the Swede

By JOHN BAINBRIDGE
IX

Movie stars, as everybody knows, are America's untitled aristocracy. Because of their station in life, they wield a wide influence on fashions and morals. They are adored by some and envied by many. To be in their presence is deemed a privilege, to be presented to them an honor.

Unlike many privileged classes of a more ancient order, the movie aristocracy is not considered a burden by the masses. On the contrary, the common people gladly support the West Coast nobility in a style to which few of them have been accustomed by making voluntary contributions at box offices scattered throughout the land.

While willingly granting special privileges to the aristocracy, the common people also sternly insist that their betters fulfill special obligations. Chief among these is the unwritten law that members of the aristocracy must never lose the common touch. There are many accepted ways by which they may show respect for this rule, such as signing autographs, making public appearances, and smilingly posing for photographs.

When Greta Garbo was elevated to the cinematic aristocracy, she was faced with the problem of trying to conform to its paradoxical code of behavior. She did her best to adjust to it. For example, whenever MGM asked her to pose for publicity photographs, she acceded without protest.

That she failed to provide interesting copy was not owing to a disinclination to do so. She tried. But she was severely handicapped. For one thing, she was heavily burdened with inhibitions, as most Swedes are. Genuinely shy and timid, she was exceedingly ill at ease in the presence of Hollywood newspapermen.

Furthermore, she was constitutionally incapable of talking about herself, as many other people had already discovered. In addition, she was conscious of her lack of extensive formal schooling. For all these reasons, being interviewed was an ordeal for her.

There was still another reason. Stiller, who disliked newspapermen, had advised his protegee to be wary in talking with them, a piece of advice that added to her difficulties. All things considered, it is understandable that Greta Garbo made a vapid impression on American journalists in her first encounters with them.

While The Temptress was being filmed, Greta Garbo was interviewed by a representative of Motion Picture Magazine named Rilla Page Palmborg. It was noted that Miss Garbo's accent was "charming" and that her voice was "deep and low." Her eyes were shaded with a green visor drawn over her forehead. . . . She said that the bright California sun hurt her eyes.

Of America she said, "... You are all so happy. Why are you so happy all the time? I am not always happy. Sometimes yes, sometimes no. When I am angry, I am very bad. I shut my door and do not speak." As to her career, she said only that sometime she would like to play the part of a "good girl."

On the basis of these rather scanty and by no means obscure or ambiguous remarks the author wound up her article, which was published nine months after Greta Garbo arrived in Hollywood, with the prophecy: Greta Garbo will fascinate people, but I wager she will always remain more or less a mystery." To add emphasis to this point, she attached to the article a factitious but provocative title—"The Mysterious Stranger."

And so, in such a way as this, the legend began.

Once the legend was born, events conspired to make it grow. Directly after completing The Temptress, Greta Garbo was cast opposite John Gilbert, "the screen's perfect lover," in Flesh and the Devil. No sooner had the shooting begun than reports of a heady romance between Gilbert and his new leading lady began to circulate. Nobody at the studio did anything to discourage these rumors.

Before Greta Garbo's affair with John Gilbert was over, it had become a matter of international interest and taken on legendary dimensions. "In the full flower of their romance," the Hollywood chronicler Adela Rogers St. Johns once wrote, "Gilbert and Garbo were added by movie fans to the list of immortal lovers, Romeo and Juliet, Dante and Beatrice, Anthony and Cleopatra."

Though Gilbert may not have been a collective modern counterpart of Dante, Romeo and Anthony, he was nevertheless a notable figure of the twenties. Extremely handsome, with coal-black hair, dark, burning eyes and flashing white teeth, he was without dispute the most popular male star of the silent screen.

There are five pages in today's Women's Section

In 1926, when he met Greta Garbo, MGM was paying him ten thousand dollars a week.

Under Eric von Stroheim's direction, he had made a tremendous hit the year before as Prince Danilo in The Merry Widow, which cleared around four million dollars. Following this success, he had scored an even greater triumph as the doughboy Jim Apperson in The Big Parade, which turned out to be the biggest box office sensation since The Covered Wagon. "That was worth doing," Gilbert once said of his role in The Big Parade. "All the rest was balderdash."

Before encountering Greta Garbo, Gilbert had been twice married and twice divorced, first to a movie extra and then to the well-known stage and screen actress Leatrice Joy. Neither marriage lasted long. Gilbert was twenty-nine and Greta Garbo was twenty-one when Clarence Brown introduced them on the set of Flesh and the Devil. "It was love at first sight," Brown said recently, "and it lasted through many years."

There is no doubt that Gilbert fell headlong in love with the young actress. Because of their work, Greta Garbo and Gilbert spent all of their days together, and Gilbert took advantage of every opportunity to press his cause. The opportunities were many and suitable. In the picture they were making they portrayed a man and woman hopelessly and violently in love.

However dated and droll most of Flesh and the Devil seems when seen today, the passionate love scenes between Gilbert and Greta Garbo project a quality of conviction beyond the most accomplished play-acting.

Off the set, Gilbert and Greta Garbo were also getting better acquainted. They often dined together, and the young actress became a rather frequent visitor at Gilbert's Tower Road mansion, set high on a hill overlooking Beverly Hills. They were calling each other now by pet names.

Gilbert's favorite for Greta Garbo was "Fleka," irregularly derived from the Swedish svensk flicka, meaning "Swedish girl." Another was "Gee-bo"; at other times he referred to her as "The Swede" or "Swede." Her nickname for him was "Jacky," which, because of the Swedes' difficulty in pronouncing the letter j, she pronounced "Yacky."

When Flesh and the Devil was finished, Gilbert asked Greta Garbo to marry him—a proposal that he was to make more than once again. Put off by his Fleka, Gilbert abruptly entrained for a vacation in New York. There he was asked about the romance in which the country was beginning to take considerable interest. "Garbo is a wonderful girl," Gilbert told reporters. "We are merely good pals." The romance had temporarily cooled, but it was far from over.

Whatever thoughts Stiller may have had about his protegee's straying from his dominion he kept to himself. As far as his Swedish friends recall, he never referred to the subject directly. Actually, Stiller was so immersed in his own affairs that he paid attention to little else. He was fighting to rescue his own professional life. With Hotel Imperial, which he was directing, he hoped to salvage his Hollywood career.

Preceded by a sizable advertising and promotion campaign, Hotel Imperial was a success when it opened at the Paramount Theater in New York, both with the critics and at the box office. During its first week in Manhattan, the picture took in the very satisfactory sum of eighty-seven thousand dollars.

After Stiller had thus demonstrated his talent in terms of dollars and cents, Paramount offered him a contract at twenty-five hundred dollars a week. He accepted.

"Now that I have such a good contract," Stiller remarked to Lars Hanson, "I'm going ahead and make one more picture. It will be genuine garbage, but I'll do that one and go home with the money." The Lars Hansons were also planning to return to Sweden. So was Greta Garbo. "I'm not staying much longer," she told the Hansons when they talked about leaving Hollywood. "Moje and I will go home soon."

Annual Ceremonial to Be Held June 2

Plans were completed Wednesday evening for the annual ceremonial to be held June 2 by Iraq Caldron, Daughters of Mokanna, with a practice scheduled for 7:30 Tuesday evening.

Members gathering at Grotto Hall on West Pike street heard the Newcomers Club report on a successful card party held last month.

Mrs. John Thomas, Mrs. Eugene Redmond, Mrs. roger Smiley and Mrs. Larry Shelton were hostesses for the evening.

Kirk Shufflers to Hold Dance

Dancers will promenade to the calling of Dick Lewis Saturday evening when the Kirk Shufflers of Kirk in the Hills Church hold a May party at the Birmingham Community House.

Added to the square dance festivities between the hours of 8:30 and midnight will be "Kirk Varieties," an ambitious undertaking featuring a cast of Kirk entertainers.

The dance is open to the public and will include refreshments served by women of the group.

Chairman William Ellison is being assisted by Mrs. Ellison, Mr. and Mrs. George Howard, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Alston, Mr. and Mrs. Ted Guarniere, Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Allen and Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Webb.

Boss Night Dinner Slated for May 18

Still working on plans for the annual Boss Night dinner to be held May 18 at Oakland Hills Country Club, are members of the American Business Women's Association, Tipacon Chapter, who met Wednesday evening at Hotel Waldron.

During their program the women viewed a film on development of the motor car over the past 25 years. The film carried them to Pontiac Motor Division, where the assembly line showed production of the Pontiac from beginning to end.

Invocation was given by Dorothy Brooks, president.

Mrs. Richard Ferris Entertains Group

Gamma Psi Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi sorority met Tuesday at the Aylesbury drive home of Mrs. Richard Ferris.

Mrs. William Dabbs reported on a recent city council meeting and on the distribution of council funds to the Pontiac State Hospital and the civic auditorium fund.

A review of the past year's activities was given by the retiring officers. New officers were installed at the meeting by the retiring president, Mrs. Edward Markham.

A Mothers Day program, featuring a floral demonstration, will be held May 17 at Hotel Waldron.

Mrs. Crawford Fetes Bride-Elect

Seventeen guests gathered at the Whittemore street home of Mrs. Arthur Crawford to honor Dintsy Seibert with a miscellaneous bridal shower recently.

Dintsy is the bride-elect of Daniel Crawford. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Glen Crawford of Birmingham. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Seibert of Cameron street.

The couple will exchange their nuptial vows May 22.

Pythian Sisters Plan Card Party, Project

Fanny E. Tompkins Temple 41, Pythian Sisters, met at the Pythian Hall on West Huron street to make plans for a card party to be held at the hall.

A money making project will be held during May and the sisters will assist the knights with a steak roast to be held in August.

The charter was draped in honor of Hazel Defoe, past grand chief of Michigan at the recent meeting.

Mrs. Benjamin Sweeney was elected vice president; Mrs. Anthony Grand, recording secretary; Mrs. Fred Baumgartner, corresponding secretary; and Mrs. Rex Parker, treasurer.

Final plans were announced for a formal dinner to be held May 19 at Kingsley Inn. An installation of officers and jewel pin ceremony of pledges will take place at the affair. Mrs. Calvin Rhodes is serving as chairman of the dinner.

Amendments to the national bylaws were discussed in preparation for a state convention which began in Lansing today and will continue through Sunday.

Bad Luck Disguises Good Fortune

By ANNE HEYWOOD

What can you do when bad luck strikes? You can either fold your tents and silently give up, or you can turn the unlucky stroke into a real gold mine.

One woman I know had to leave her job for six months because of a back injury.

Instead of lying in bed bemoaning her fate, she used the time to read in her field. As a result, when she got back to work she was promoted within a year to a top job.

Another woman, who had a serious eye operation, used her convalescence to learn to play the piano.

Now, with her vision perfect again, she has a wonderful hobby instead of bleak memories of weeks of darkness.

Behind many successful people and many successful organizations is a similar case of turning bad luck into good.

Take the Calvert School, in Baltimore, for example. The Calvert School is a huge and successful enterprise, which provides instruction to children all over the world.

The children of traveling parents, children located in remote localities, and children who are shut-in can all keep up with their school work, thanks to the instruction kits which Calvert provides.

There are 8,000 children throughout the world who are getting their education — from kindergarten through ninth grade — by means of this unique school. The idea came into being as a result of a tragedy.

In 1905, the Calvert School was a thriving day school in Baltimore. Along came a terrible whooping cough epidemic, and the school had to close.

Not daunted at all by this otherwise hopeless situation, the headmaster devised a program for the children to study at home. It included all necessary equipment and instructions for parents. It worked out fine.

Zontas Meet at Waldron

A mother and daughter luncheon was held by the Zonta Club of Pontiac Thursday at Hotel Waldron. Mrs. Robert Boggs of the Pontiac Story Tellers League told several stories about motherhood.

Mrs. Ruth Wait was in charge of the program.

A recent meeting held by the club featured Donald M. Blundon, public relations representative and field director of Leader Dogs for the Blind for the state of Michigan.

He talked on the Rochester division, saying that it is one of the three recognized by the United States Government.

Mr. Blundon further stated that the idea of a dog training school in the middle west to serve the blind was conceived by a group of business men in the Lions Clubs of Michigan.

The organization was incorporated in 1939 as a non-profit national social agency.

Students at the school live under constant supervision of competent instructors during a minimum of four weeks' instruction period. Training, the speaker said, is conceived as a re-education emotionally and physically to a new way of effective living.

After a period of getting acquainted with his leader dog, the student is taken to Rochester where actual pedestrian training is begun.

In progressive stages adjustment to more hazardous traffic conditions is accomplished through training on busy streets in Pontiac.

At the end of four weeks training with a leader dog, the hesitant blind student is changed to an erect, confident person who has challenged and conquered one of life's severest handicaps, Mr. Blundon concluded.

Job's Daughters to Elect Officers

Women of Job's Daughters, Bethel 5, have circled their calendars as a reminder that election of officers will take place May 16.

Taken into membership at a friendship night were Elizabeth Williams, Patricia Huntwork, Sharon Gable and Gail Gibson. They were welcomed by Honored Queen Mary Moore.

Bethel 40, Pontiac, Rochester, Walled Lake, Clarkston and Commerce were represented by those taking part in the initiatory work, with other friends and relatives present at the recent meeting.

Mrs. Hazel Bath, supreme deputy to Ontario was a special guest.

Making up the serving committee were Nancy Werth, Mary Jo Parker, Virginia Sheehan, Janet Kneale, Martha Sanft and Pat Zielke.

No one knows what became of the people of "Lost Colony" of Roanoke Island. The 121 men and women colonists sent out by Sir Walter Raleigh in 1587 vanished completely.

The Achievement Day program was held at First Congregational Church in observance of National Home Demonstration Week. Ninety-one groups from Oakland County participated in the all-day affair.

Robert Cauley Takes Bride

Robert E. Cauley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick E. Cauley of Henry Clay avenue, claimed Viola Lusty as his bride in a ceremony performed at St. John Vianney Church of Flint.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Lusty of Flint.

A ballerina length gown of white lace and tulle over satin was worn by the bride. The gown was fashioned with stand-up collar and bouffant skirt. She carried an arrangement of white carnations and pink stephanotis.

Mrs. Lawrence P. Jean attended her sister as matron of honor wearing a pale pink ballerina length gown of organdy over white nylon. She wore a matching picture hat and carried carnations and rosebuds.

Charles Cauley served as his brother's best man and seating the guests were the bridegroom's twin brothers, Patrick and Kenneth Cauley.

The bride's brother, John R. Lusty sang the bridal recital. A reception was held at Knights of Columbus Hall.

When the couple left for their wedding trip following the Saturday rites the bride was wearing a blue dress with red accessories. Following the eastern trip they will reside in Flint.

Golf Club Begins Summer Season

A breakfast at Pontiac Country Club marked the teeing off of the golf season for members of Niblick Club on Tuesday.

Mrs. John Meddaugh served as chairman of the breakfast which was served to 21 members. Mrs. Ben Bowman was chairman of the golf committee.

Bridge was also enjoyed by the members and a business meeting was conducted by Mrs. Harold Slankster, president of the club.

Joan Bowhall President of New Society

A brand new organization has come to town, with Phi Epsilon Nu Society holding its first meeting Tuesday evening at the Euclid street residence of Beth McEvoy.

By-laws were set up and plans are already under way for a money-making affair to be held in the near future.

The new society will have as its officers, Joan Bowhall, president; Miss McEvoy, secretary and Mrs. Harold Wiggins, treasurer.

Committee chairmen and their duties include Mrs. Donald Harrison, charity; Mrs. Gerald Swanson, Mrs. Robert Overcashier and Joyce Heflin, social.

Added to these are, Mrs. Wiggins, historian; Rose Marie Johnston, gratuity; Mrs. Clare Blades, publicity; Mrs. A. R. Bartlebaugh and Mrs. Keith Trever, telephone, and Alice Riemenschneider and Joan Hilton, pledges.

Achievement Day Program Is Held

In observance of National Home Demonstration Week members of the ninety-one groups in Oakland county gathered Thursday for their annual Home Demonstration Achievement Day program.

Meeting in the First Congregational Church of Pontiac, 400 women looked at exhibits showing what had been accomplished in the past year, heard their chairman, Mrs. Walter Brown, give highlights on the national meeting she recently attended in Washington, and were stimulated by speakers on charm and fashion.

Using members of the audience to illustrate the points she made, Mary Louise Goodson, graduate of the John Robert Powers school, discussed "Secrets of Charm."

In the afternoon other Home Demonstration members modeled a "Lei of Tropical Fashions." Mrs. Cecil Dunn and Mrs. Stanley Coleman assisted in the fashion show.

Mrs. Frieda Bennett, Home Demonstration Agent, gave recognition to leaders and officers of the local groups and announced the Window Exhibit prize winners.

Pontiac winners were the Interlakes group for their exhibit on hats and the Modern Homemakers for their United Nations window.

The invocation was given by the Rev. Lawrence D. Graves, associate pastor of the Congregational Church.

Committees for the day included Mrs. Henry Ellis, Mrs. Ted Geeham and Mrs. George Perry on registration. Mrs. Frederick Weiss, Mrs. C. P. Issaeson, Mrs. Harold Pennell and Mrs. Walter Brown were the hostess committee.

Tables were in charge of Mrs. Arthur Bezdecny, while Mrs. Burvel Shaffor took care of favors. The style show committee consisted of Mrs. Donovan Tubbs, Mrs. Arthur O'Hara and Mrs. Roy Chappel.

Every Mom Needs Hymn for Comfort

Family's Favorite Spiritual Song Will Restore Strength

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

Soon after the Greys had discovered that Maggie was going to have a sister, they put a down payment on a suburban house—and moved.

The day after they were installed, the little girl next door shoved Maggie away from her doll carriage. Overwhelmed by her own problems, her mother resisted the realization that Maggie might have one.

But on the fourth day when the little girl next door, accompanied by a friend on a tricycle, ordered Maggie off her own front sidewalk, Mrs. Grey became really concerned for her child's social future.

She felt an intense desire to solve Maggie's problem for her by going out and slapping the little girl next door.

Fortunately, she controlled this impulse. What she did was to drop her work and take Maggie on her lap. Then she began to sing their favorite hymn to her.

By the time she'd finished, the angry impulse to solve Maggie's problem for her had passed. The oppressive fear that Maggie couldn't solve it for herself had passed. To the stilled child in her arms, she was able to say smilingly:

"My, how sad we've been about nothing! You don't like unkindness in the little girl next door. All you have to do about it is tell it so. All we have to do is just tell her that we don't like it—and then walk away from it . . ."

And sure enough, a day or so later, Maggie was able to do just that.

It was the beginning of friendship with the little girl next door.

Personally, I think that no mother can ever afford to be without a favorite hymn.

For children bring us their pains and hurts, seeking strength that is firmer than theirs. We do not always have it ready to give to them. The favorite hymn restores it to us.

That is why children want us to have one.

It becomes associated with our conquests of fear for them, so they learn to trust and love it. Though they do not grasp the meaning of its words, they sense that we do.

And in our arms they grow quiet, knowing that we are recovering from our excited, angry impluses to attack what has hurt them.

As our peace comes back to us, Maggie recovers hers. She will know to the instant when we have secured our hold on the "rock that is higher" than ours—and jump off our lap to go and play.

I don't know how I'd ever have managed without our favorite hymn.

One of the many services made available to the bride by Lynneas, consultants to the bride is wedding photography. The consultants opened the store at 124 West Huron street today. Shown holding the large pre-bridal portrait is Viola Fine, and displaying one of several bouquets used in pre-bridal portraits is Jean Smith.

Dr. Whitmer Is Speaker at Meeting

The closer teacher-pupil relationship in today's classrooms was pointed out by Supt. of Schools Dana P. Whitmer, who was guest speaker when the Parent Guidance Club met Wednesday evening with Mrs. Rex Lawrence of Chadwick drive.

Dr. Whitmer explained that the teacher of today is an adult advisor working in the group rather than a dominant force set apart from the children. He also said that while the "three R's remain the basic principal in education, material is presented in a more interesting manner.

Present teaching methods are proving successful, he said. Group discussion followed Dr. Whitmer's talk.

In addition, the club elected a new slate of officers, placing Mrs. Walter Mann in the president's chair and making Mrs. E. H. Viereich vice president; Mrs. Sam Joan, recording secretary; Mrs. James Fortier, corresponding secretary and Mrs. John Sellman, treasurer.

Guests attending were Mrs. Harold Wert, Mrs. Robert Dorman and Mrs. Enar West. Mrs. Ralph Dawe and Mrs. Joan were hostesses and devotions were given by Mrs. Melvin Rentfrow.

Members will gather for a dinner meeting June 1 at Highland Manor, when installation will take place. Mrs. Charles Uligian is in charge of arrangements.

Stars in the flag of the United States are arranged in six horizontal rows of eight stars each.

Film on Cancer Shown

Women of the Moose, Chapter 360, have started arrangements for a mother and daughter banquet which will be held the evening of May 19 at Moose Hall on Mount Clemens street.

During the hospital chapter night meeting held at the hall, a class of seven candidates was initiated in honor of Mrs. Lloyd LaBarge. The new members are Mrs. Wallace Chandler, Mrs. Harold Finn, Mrs. Barney Blackshear, Mrs. James Sage, Mrs. Oleta Adams, Mrs. Addie Brained and Rose Ann Bressler.

In recognition of the Academy of Friendship Degree conferred on Mrs. Ferman Huston and Mrs. Myrtle Huddy in Saginaw Monday, the two were presented with friendship rings by Mrs. C. J. Cavalier and Mrs. Michael Blaut.

An educational film on cancer was shown by Barbara Amundson, secretary of the Oakland County Cancer Society. As guest speaker, she was introduced by Mrs. Jessie Carie, hospital committee chairman.

This was followed by a question and answer period conducted by Dr. Kenneth Vandenburg.

Officers and escorts visited Lincoln Park last evening, when degrees were conferred.

Card Party Profits to Beautify City

Proceeds from Wednesday afternoon's benefit dessert card party and bazaar held by the Better Home and Garden Club, will be used for further city beautification.

Assisting Mrs. A. E. Kilpela, general chairman, were Mrs. Paul Bohlman, Mrs. J. I. Kendell, Mrs. L. E. Potter, Mrs. Ralph Parker and Mrs. I. M. Beauchamp, Mrs. J. L. Slaybaugh and Mrs. Leota Thomas were in charge of the bazaar.

Haven Hill will be the setting for the group's May meeting.

Carmel Jensen Feted at Shower

Carmel Jensen, bride-elect of Daniel Joseph Hackett Jr., was honored recently at a miscellaneous shower held at the East Iroquois road home of Mrs. Ralph Wilson. Co-hostesses were Mrs. Robert H. Kimmins and Mrs. Harold Hackett Jr.

The bride-elect resides in Edwardsville, Ill., and is the daughter of William A. Jensen of Bowen, Queensland, Australia. The prospective bridegroom is the son of Dr. and Mrs. Daniel J. Hackett of Owego drive.

Guests were Mrs. Robert McManus, Mrs. Walter Rapp, Mrs. D. J. Hackett, Mrs. Stanton Deyo, Mrs. Robert L. Hackett, Mrs. Ralph O. Allen, Mrs. Harold J. Hackett, Mrs. Harry W. Kimmins, Mrs. Robert Hasse and Mrs. Frank C. Hasse.

By MARY MARGARET McBRIDE

"If it will help, you may have my childhood," a friend who was brought up in Westchester County, N. Y., offered in answer to my plaint that I am running out of childhood reminiscences and could use eight more lives, like a cat.

Just as I was about to leap at the generous offer, my friend went on to minimize its value.

"The trouble is," she confessed morosely, "I can't seem to evoke the kind of romantic sounds, smells and tastes that make such fascinating reading.

"About the nearest I ever came to a cow all my childhood was the bottles delivered each morning by our milkman and even you would be put to it to make titivating memories of the loud clink of bottles on the paving stone backdoor step.

"The more I think about unfortunates like me, born and brought up in comfortable, middle-class suburbs, the more I'm convinced that we were discriminated against. How could you ever expect to be a great writer, politician or even business executive when you've never gone barefoot in your life, never churned yellow-gold butter, never day-dreamed in your private cherry tree?

"Whoever heard of a President born in the second house from the corner on Linden avenue, complete with sewers, regular trash collections and P. S. 37 two blocks away?

"How could you be a Horatio Alger type cornering the titanium market without a background of grinding poverty or—at the very least — a mortgage on the old home place?

"The suburb, for your information, is that tepid place in between —too prosperous to provide an exciting saga of up-by-the-bootstraps; not rich enough for the glamorous governess-and-pony-cart type of idyl.

"We didn't have town characters — the paid police force scooped them up. We didn't have very good fires—the paid firemen were very efficient. I never even knew there were volunteer fire departments until I started reading other people's warm, colorful memories.

"And, just as you might expect, none of us has turned out very interestingly, either. I don't know of a single tycoon, statesman or even bank robber who was graduated from my public school.

"A few of my classmates made Alcoholics Anonymous and I do hear now and then of a divorce, but most of the boys grew up to be average businessmen and most of the girls got married and raised families—in suburbs much like my birthplace."

Well, I'm still in the market for childhoods of any style. And I think the Westchester suburbs sound rather pleasant.

Salad Oil Pie Crust Is Different

Mrs. Luther Diaz Likes Mom's Way of Preparing Pastry

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

Pie like mother used to make . . . when Mrs. Luther Diaz wants that kind of pie, she uses her mother's recipe for vegetable oil crust. Then she puts her favorite lemon chiffon filling in it.

Two years ago the Diaz family came to Michigan from Colorado when the Navy transferred her husband. Since that time they have been busy finishing the inside of their house. Mrs. Diaz belongs to the Sacred Heart Guild of her church.

LEMON CHIFFON PIE with VEGETABLE OIL CRUST
By Mrs. Luther Diaz

For crust:
1 cup sifted all-purpose flour
½ teaspoon salt
¼ cup vegetable oil
2½ tablespoons ice water

Sift together flour and salt. Combine oil and water. Beat with fork until well mixed. Pour over flour mixture and stir with fork. Roll out and fit into pie pan. Flute edges and prick bottom. Bake at 425 degrees for 20 minutes.

For filling:
1½ teaspoons gelatine
1-3 cup cold water
1 cup sugar
3 tablespoons lemon juice
Grated rind of 1 lemon
Dash of salt
4 eggs, separated

Soften gelatine in 2 tablespoons cold water. Add rest of water, ½ cup of the sugar, salt, lemon juice and rind to well beaten egg yolks. Cook and stir until thickened, about 5 minutes. Stir in gelatine until dissolved. Cool until thick and syrupy. Beat egg whites stiff and gradually add rest of sugar, beating until thick and smooth. Fold gently into cold egg mixture. Turn into cooled pie shell and chill in refrigerator. Serve with whipped cream.

The opossum belongs to one of the oldest living families of mammals.

Largest of all living rodents is the South American capybara. Three feet in length, it loves water and can remain submerged eight to ten minutes.

Homeowner and Painter Can Share

By HUBBARD COBB

There's no question that you can save a good deal of money when it comes to painting your house if you do the job yourself.

On the other hand, if you live in a large two-story house you may find that to do the job properly will take you most of the summer including your summer vacation.

You can, of course, get a painter in to do the job for you but this might cost more than you can easily afford at this time.

In a situation like this, one of the best things we can suggest is to sort of split the job—you do some of the work and let a professional painter do the rest.

For example, if there is a lot of surface preparation to be done such as removing loose paint, etc., why not do this part of the job yourself and then call in a painter for actual application of the paint.

It takes a good deal of time to properly prepare a surface for paint and if you do this work, you make quite a saving.

Many professional painters realize that the average homeowner can paint the lower portion of his house without much trouble but will run into difficulties when it comes to doing the upper half because of lack of adequate scaffolding.

Many of these men will make a deal with you whereby you do all of the work that you can reach from your stepladder and they'll move in when you have finished and do the upper part and the hard-to-get-at places.

This sort of a deal works out very nicely for all concerned and is especially nice for those amateur painters who aren't too fond of standing on the top of a tall ladder while they wield a paint brush.

British Parliament Dissolves for Voting

LONDON (AP) — Queen Elizabeth II sent Parliament home today to campaign for the May 26 general elections. In a farewell speech she said Britain hopes to "enter into fruitful negotiations" with the Soviet Union now that West Germany is once again a free and sovereign nation.

Britain now will be without a legislature until June 7, when the new House of Commons will sit for the first time.

Prime Minister Eden and his cabinet will continue to run their various departments. They do not resign until after the election — either for Eden to form a new cabinet if the Conservatives win, or for the Laborites to take over the government if they are victorious.

Worker's Death Stalls Rail Talk

Union Blames L & N for Shooting of Striker in Tennessee

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—A railroad employe was shot to death on a Tennessee highway last night, stalling crucial negotiations in the Louisville and Nashville Railroad strike as a settlement seemed near.

The shooting came only a few hours after the mayor of Knoxville, Tenn., issued a shoot-to-kill order in a move aimed at halting violence in one of the many trouble spots in the Southern Bell Telephone Co. walkout.

Both strikes—each economically costly and each marked by outbursts of violence and disorder—entered their 54th day today.

Charles E. Wright, a 32-year-old striking railroad carman, was found dead about 20 feet from his wrecked car near Mount Pleasant, a small town in central Tennessee. A bullet had gone through his head from back to front.

An L&N truck also was wrecked nearby. Four nonstriking railroad workers who identified themselves as occupants were arrested on charges of carrying concealed weapons.

Word of the shooting threw a monkey wrench into the negotiations at Washington.

Angry union representatives stalked from a government-sponsored mediation session shortly after midnight. Bitter statements came from both union and rail officials.

Even so, Chairman Francis A. O'Neill Jr. of the National Mediation Board summoned both sides for another session this morning in the urgent and complicated negotiations.

George Leighty, chairman of the union negotiating committee, blamed the railroad for the striking railroader's death.

A dispute over health and welfare benefits resulted in the strike against the L&N and its subsidiaries in 14 states.

India Gets Salk Formula

NEW DELHI (AP)—India is the first country to receive the Salk polio vaccine formula from the United States. The formula was presented by U.S. Ambassador John Sherman Cooper yesterday. India was selected because rhesus monkeys from this country were used in U.S. polio research leading to the vaccine.

Hindu Women Win 5,000-Year Divorce Battle

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—A new marriage law now approved by Parliament gives Hindu women the right to demand divorces for the first time in 5,000 years of history.

When Conservative Hindu members objected that marriage among Hindus is sacramental and unchangeable, Prime Minister Nehru burst out:

"What is sacramental? Is it sacramental to be tied to each other for life, all the time hating each other, biting each other, beating each other, making life hell for each other?"

The law also restricts men to one wife. Although few Hindus have more than one, polygamy has been permitted in some Hindu sects.

Child marriage has been fought in India for generations, but persists in some areas. The new law says men must be 21 and girls 18.

Prayers for Bargainers

DETROIT (AP)—The Episcopal diocese of Michigan today offered spiritual assistance to company and union negotiators now bargaining on new contracts in the auto industry. It was in the form of a prayer sent to the 152 parishes and missions in the diocese. Bishops Richard Emerich and Archie H. Crowley said the "most important thing all of us can do is to pray for those who are so closely involved."

'Nicest' Horse Is Her Choice to Win Derby

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK (INS) — Tomorrow is the 81st running of the Kentucky Derby but, for painful reasons of the heart, I will not tip-toe through the juleps this year.

Instead I shall watch it quietly and alone, on TV. In hand, the weeping towel; in throat, the small and wistful cluck. Because:

The colt to whom I have pledged my loyalty, not to mention a number of my dollars, is scheduled to get beat.

Two years ago I was in love with another Derby horse (Stop leering, o shades of Freud, you know what I mean) who couldn't miss at good old Churchill Downs. He was a sure thing, Native Dancer was. So I took a train to Indianapolis, a plan to Louisville, a highway robber of a taxicab to the Downs—and a Pennsylvania Railroad funeral-car back home.

It was not the money that hurt, as I am not one to bet heavily even on a sure thing. It was the injustice of it. Here was a great strapping tender-eyed colt, beat a whisker by ill luck and bad timing beyond his control.

Like any emotional, sensitive, illogical woman, I wept.

This year, I am rooting for a burnished beast who is probably not great as the Dancer was, but whose failure to win must still seem rank injustice to emotional, sensitive, illogical women.

His name is Summer Tan.

This is a colt to be adored by the girls who play horses with heart, not hunch. He is a long, lanky, Gary Cooper kind of colt, the color of an American Indian after a sojourn in Miami. He shines, even when the sun isn't settling on him, and he eyes you with the plaintive look of a small Brooklyn lad saying "Whs'?"

What's more, he's been sick. He almost died late last fall when he was struck down by a blood clot, but he made a comeback on sheer will to live. You want more reason than this to root for him, maybe?

But the thing that gets you most, as a woman, is Summer Tan's kindly disposition and eagerness to please. He gives everything he's got when he's running, whether he's under an exercise boy in the fresh of the morning, or whether he's under jockey Eric Guerin in the home stretch. When he's urged, he rushes. When he's tapped with the whip, he literally wings.

The only trouble is, he loses. Four out of five times (thrice last year, once two weeks ago) he has been caught at the wire—by anywhere from a nostril to a half-length — by this crazy colt called Nashua. It is a sign of something.

Horsemen seem to be of the opinion that Nashua out-classes Summer Tan. Women of feeling know, however, it is a sign there is no justice, no good guardian angels watching over the good horses.

Nashua—a bulging, deep-brown, Charles Atlas of a horse—has been described by horsemen as a ham of a colt, a joker, a comic. He lounges along at his own pace, as if in defiance of his jockeys and the nerves of his bettors, sometimes lugging and weaving off course for horse laughs.

Then in the last strides, the strange equine mind under the red hair-ribbon on his braided mane comes alive, and like a mad thing he streiches out legs and neck and nose and takes it all.

It is like two little school kids, the one who studies diligently and the one who dips braids in inkwells. When a test comes and the diligent one flunks while the bully gets "A," you've gotta shake the hand that dipped the braids. But you don't have to say to him, "You're the best!"

So I'm staying away from the live, active anguish of the Derby and if Summer Tan takes it I shall kick myself from here to Louisville. Meantime, here's a feminine toast:

May the nicest horse win!

Hal Boyle Says:

New Crocketts Are Suburbanites

NEW YORK (AP) — The Davy Crockett of this generation are the suburbanites.

They are the kings of a new frontier—the housing developments springing up like maddened dandelion patches around the rim of every major American city.

These suburban settlers face more perils than ever confronted the original Davy Crockett. All he had to worry about were Indians, bears and bobcats. His trusty rifle proved to be weapon enough to deal with them.

Your new suburbanite, on the other hand, is confronted by all kinds of open and hidden menaces to his feeling of security and well-being—such as rising taxes, increasing commuter fares, spreading crabgrass, poison ivy, and that greatest danger of all, the fix-it-yourself mania.

Let me explain that last point further:

One of these modern-day Davy Crocketts, a friend whom we'll call Ronald Halfacre, moved to the suburbs several years ago and ever since he has been asking me:

"Why don't you get wise, pull out of the city and buy a house out my way?"

"Frankly, I don't have the courage," I keep telling him. "Every civilization has its form of cowardice, and I'm a machine age coward. Life is too risky in the suburbs."

"I don't get you," says Ronald.

"Well, everyone I know who becomes a suburbanite buys a house that is either half-finished or begins to fall apart the day he moves in," I tell him.

"He finds he can't afford to hire expert help, so he decides to fix up the place himself. He may not have driven a nail for 20 years, but immediately he becomes a carpenter, a plumber, a paperhanger, a painter, an electrician and a landscape artist."

"What's wrong with that?" says Ronald. "It's fun."

"It may be for a boy with a natural aptitude for tools, but for a lot of other people, including me, it's downright dangerous."

"Who are you trying to kid?"

Well, finally I got the official figures on the accident toll among home repair fans for 1954 (compiled by an insurance company engineer) and read them to Ronald.

"Last year," I informed him, "600 thousand fix-it-yourself boys boys suffered disabling injuries.

"Here is how they were hurt: 115,000 performing home carpentry; 98,729 making their own furniture; 95,000 replacing broken window panes; 76,000 painting the outside of their house; 57,000 repairing gutters and troughs; 47,000 putting up or taking down storm windows; 33,000 pruning trees; 32,000 repairing roofs; 31,000 doing interior painting; 11,000 fixing chimneys; 16,400 putting up TV antennas.

"In 300,000 of the accidents ladders were involved, power tools in 180,000, hand carpentry tools in 72,000. And the number of suburbanites who got heart attacks while shoveling snow isn't even included.

"Now why, in heaven's name, should I move out to the suburbs? I live in a nice apartment building in the city that was put up and is operated by an insurance company.

"If anything goes broke in my apartment, I simply pick up the telephone, yell 'Help,' and they send over some succor right away. I don't have to risk my life trying to fix pieces of machinery I don't understand."

"But in the suburbs you get fresh air," said Ronald, defensively. As he turned away, I noticed he was limping.

"What's the matter, Ronald?" I asked him.

"Caught my foot in my new power lawnmower," he said. "But a neighbor helped me get it out in time. That's another thing about the suburbs — out there you find real friends."

See what I mean? It takes more than a heap of living to make a house a home in the suburbs. It takes the old Davy Crockett spirit. Me, I don't have it. But if it weren't for us city cowards who would there be to admire the splendid bravery of the heroes who dare the dangers of the suburban wilderness?

Turns Down $100 Offers for Bill Marked $10, $1

NEW YORK (AP) — Mrs. Hannah H. O'Connor is busy turning down offers of up to $100 for a freak bill she found recently in her pay envelope.

The bill is marked $10 on one side and $1 on the other.

The U.S. Bureau of Engraving commented yesterday that it was a mistake that happens maybe once in 150 million times.

Mexico's coastline is longer than that of the United States.

"Bonanzagram"

Have Fun! Win $100!

"Bonanzagram" is an exciting new puzzle in which the Pontiac Press offers both fun and a $100 cash prize. BUT before you try your hand at "Bonanzagram" be sure and read the rules at the bottom of this page. Solution will appear in the Press May 13.

Claim Check

Below is a duplicate of the "Bonanzagram" entry you send in to contest headquarters. It is ESSENTIAL that you fill it in and save it until the correct solution to "Bonanzagram" No. 9 is published Friday, May 13. Unless you do so, you will be unable to collect the prize if you should send in a winning solution. Check the rules below for further details.

Bonanzagram No. 9

During the war, a strange letter came across the censor's desk. It bore the postmark of a city in North Africa and had been neatly written on a typewriter. However, holes had been cut out in certain places, and the paper appeared to be a grille into which letters could be fitted by the recipient. By deciding what letters to insert in the spaces, the censor was able to reproduce the message of a spy at work. Can you, too, fill in the gaps in the mysterious message?

How To Play 'Bonanzagram'

Solve the "Bonanzagram" by filling in all the missing letters, as indicated by the underscores, in the message. Insert only one letter above each underscore. Many clues to the missing letters are hidden in the story, or anecdote, accompanying the message. Clues may also be found in the message itself, and, in a few cases, the contestant's general knowledge should provide the correct letter. The contestant will note that the message is unpunctuated. Punctuation as well as words must be correct for a perfect solution.

However, if no perfect solution (all missing letters and punctuation) is submitted, a solution with all letters correct and only one punctuation error will be declared a prize winner.

When properly filled in, the "Bonanzagram" will spell out a clear message that will conform in every way with the clues. In many cases it will seem that more than one word would be the correct one. That's part of the fun! You should weigh the clues and select the BEST possible word in each case.

How to Submit Entries

1. After solution is completed, "Bonanzagram" should be clipped and pasted to a two-cent postcard with your name and address.

2. Entries will be received at the Pontiac Press office, 48 W. Huron St., until 5 p. m. Tuesday, May 10. Mail entries must be postmarked before midnight Tuesday, May 10 for Bonanzagram No. 9. Address "Bonanzagram, %, Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Mich.

3. Entries may be mailed in envelope but contestant's full name and number of puzzle must be printed in upper left corner of address side of envelope.

4. Copies of the Press need not be purchased to enter. Facsimiles made by hand and corresponding as closely as possible to the original "Bonanzagram" printed in the Press will be accepted but are limited one to a family. Mimeograph, duplicator or other unofficial mechanical reproduction is forbidden.

How to Collect the Prize

The entrant must work out and keep duplicate solution as a claim check. When the solution is published in the Press, he should compare his "claim check" with the published solution, and, if his claim check is identical, he should call in person with his claim check at the Press office, 48 W. Huron St., before 5 p. m. on the Monday following publication of the solution.

If a winner cannot call at the Press office in person, he should mail his solution to "Bonanzagram Editor." Postmark on this letter must be not later than 5 p. m. the Monday after publication of the answer. Correct answers are void unless the contestant reports his claim by the deadlines listed here.

About Eligibility, Information, Etc.

1. Anyone is eligible for the "Bonanzagram" contest except employes of the Press and members of their immediate families. (Immediate family means all those living in an employe's household.)

2. No question as to winners will be answered by phone.

3. The Press will award a prize of $100 to the winner of each weekly "Bonanzagram." If more than one winning answer is received, the prize will be divided equally among the winners. If no correct solution is received, the $100 will be added to the next week's prize. If the winner is a subscriber of record to the Press a $20 bonus will be added to the $100.

4. Only one winning entry from a family will be eligible for the prize, but there is no limit on number of entries.

5. The Press retains the right to correct typographical errors.

6. Judges' decision will be final and contestant's submission of entries indicates acceptance of these rules.

7. No liability is accepted for entries that fail to reach us.

8. The Press reserves the right to alter rules and/or discontinue the contest at its discretion.

This Message May Mean $800 for You

Herewith is the completed message Mr. Johnson found from his secretary, after he had filled in the missing letters. If you completed the message exactly the same way your answer may be worth $800.

Here is how Mr. Johnson figures out the message:

SEE GERMINATION FILE FOR VOTED DESIGNATION. The given information that the company runs nurseries and therefore undoubtedly is in the seed business is the tip-off for this, and for much of the rest of the message. One might have thought this was SEE TERMINATION FILE FOR VOWED RESIGNATION, but it soon becomes evident that the secretary is not turning in her resignation. The next sentence is therefore not OFFICE HAS SEEN LAST OF ME, but OFFICE HAS SEED. And then comes the plan for the pile-up of work: THE LIST OF MY UNFINISHED BUSINESS CAN BE GIVEN TO SAME YOUNGSTER WHO WAS TYPING IN THE FALL. This is better than SOME YOUNGSTER WHO HAS TYPING, because the efficient Miss Spence would make a definite suggestion for turning over excess work to a specific person who already had had some experience with them.

Since we have established that Miss Spence is not resigning, the next words are not I'M PLANNING FOR NEW YORK OPENING, but rather IF PLANNING FOR NEW YORK OPENING—evidently the opening of the Flower Show or some such exhibit in which the Underwood Nurseries would logically be represented.

For she goes on to remind her employer to CHECK EARLY WITH VICE-PRESIDENT'S WIRE — although she sounds on familiar terms with her employers, this is better than NICE PRESIDENT'S WIFE, for the wives of executives are not normally consulted about business plans or about business entertaining of the kind mentioned in the following lines.

FOR GET-TOGETHER AT HOTEL TOMORROW—They would be more apt to meet at a HOTEL than a MOTEL, WITH LUNCH OF LOCAL GRASS DEALERS — LUNCH is more logical than BUNCH for surely Miss Spence would have used the more conventional word "group" rather than the colloquial BUNCH, if that was what she meant. The GRASS DEALERS is fairly obvious, and while they may be VOCAL people, this would not be a tactful comment for a secretary to include in this informative message.

WHO MADE TEST RECORDS OF THIS YEAR'S SAGES? The information was given that this company owned an experimental herb laboratory, and SAGE is an herb logically included in the catalogue of such a company. This question becomes pertinent automatically when you eliminate WHO MADE BEST RECORDS ON THIS YEAR'S SALES: obviously no one could know, as early in the year as April, who had top records on THIS YEAR'S SALES. The secretary is asking for information here, so that she may include these records in her work.

Miss Spence's plan to be away from the office a day, then back on Friday before going away for a longer time, is indicated by the next sentence, and indeed is the main reason for her written message.

She assures her employer she will be IN MOOD FRIDAY TO ARRANGE DATA; because the month of April, it could be GOOD FRIDAY, and she could be intending to take the Easter weekend off, but failing any other indication of this timing, it is more logical to assume that, with one day off, she will be IN MOOD FRIDAY TO ARRANGE DATA. This is not the DATE of her ruled-out resignation, but the DATA on the records of THIS YEAR'S SAGES that she has asked about.

THEN A COMPLETE REST IN KENTUCKY BLUEGRASS is more logical than a COMPLETE TEST ON KENTUCKY BLUEGRASS. TEST is ruled out here because of the mention of TEST RECORDS in the previous sentence; and the stress on the towering pile of unfinished work leads to the thought that Miss Spence requires some vacation.

GARDEN SPOTS would be an unlikely amplification of the Kentucky Bluegrass country, and we find here a logical mention of the apparent tear-stains on this written message.

PARDON SPOTS tells us that the spots were inadvertent, for Miss Spence goes on to say that the memo has been DASHED OFF DURING SNACK PERIOD. SLACK PERIOD would not coincide with the great rush of work mentioned; indeed, she has had to write the message hurriedly while having a SNACK, and although some beverage has spilled on the paper she has no time to write it over.

The signature is TILLIE, the traditional name of toiling, overworked secretary, which Miss Spence was. It is also one of the nicknames for Matilda, indicated by the initial M.

MEMO: SEE GERMINATION FILE FOR VOTED DESIGNATION. OFFICE HAS SEED. THE LIST OF MY UNFINISHED BUSINESS CAN BE GIVEN TO SAME YOUNGSTER WHO WAS TYPING IN THE FALL. IF PLANNING FOR NEW YORK OPENING, CHECK EARLY WITH VICE-PRESIDENT'S WIRE ABOUT PLANS FOR GET-TOGETHER AT HOTEL TOMORROW WITH LUNCH OF LOCAL GRASS DEALERS. WHO MADE TEST RECORDS OF THIS YEAR'S SAGES? WILL BE IN MOOD FRIDAY TO ARRANGE DATA; THEN A COMPLETE REST IN KENTUCKY BLUEGRASS. PARDON SPOTS. DASHED OFF DURING SNACK PERIOD.

Canada's Cloud Seeders Cause Less Rain to Fall

TORONTO (AP)—Canada's government weather service concluded today that commercial rainmaking experiments in parts of the prairie wheat belt caused less—not more—rain to fall.

The report, written by government meteorologist Warren L. Godson, confined its conclusion to the conditions that prevailed in the tests but it estimated that one seventh less rain fell in areas where clouds were seeded than could have been expectd if man hadn't prodded nature.

Jettisoned Wing Tanks Scare Odessa Farmer

LAKE ODESSA (AP) — Two 12-foot "projectiles" gave Alton Manley, a farmer living near Lake Odessa, a scare Thursday.

Wary of getting to the two objects, Manley summoned deputy sheriffs.

They identified the objects as spare fuel tanks apparently dropped by an Air Force plane. Manley told Deputy Sheriff Clarence Aldrich he heard the tanks drop and thought they were bombs.

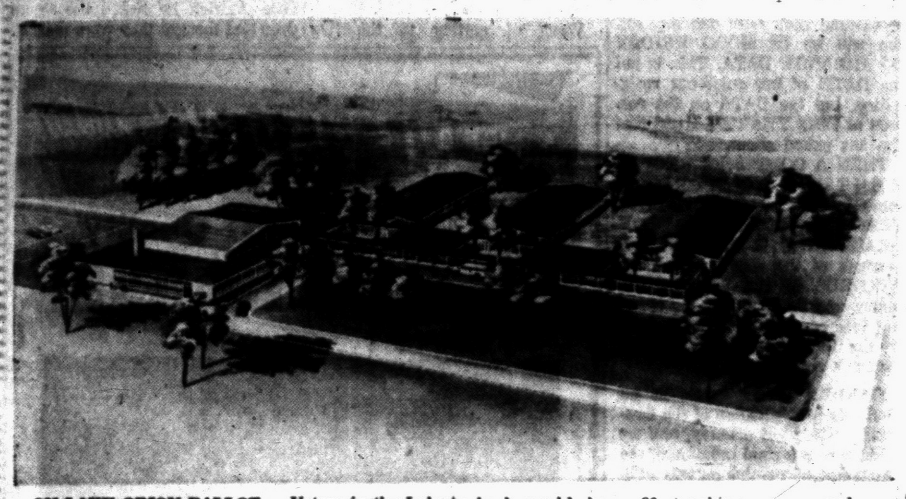
Lake Orion School District to Vote on Bond Issue Monday



ON LAKE ORION BALLOT — Voters in the Lake Orion Community School district will cast ballots Monday on a $1,500,000 bond issue to finance this high school and eight elementary classrooms. Designed by the Eberlee-Smith and Associates architects, the high school would have 30 teaching areas, and cost $1,250,000. Shown at the left is the gymnasium, with administrative offices being joined by three classroom wings on the right.

Fund to Finance New High School, Additions; Tax Hike Also on Ballot

LAKE ORION — Ballots will be cast Monday on a $1,500,000 bond issue for a new high school and elementary school additions.

Also up for voter approval is a three-mill tax increase, for school operating costs.

Polls will be open from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m. for voters in the school district which includes portions of Addison, Brandon, Independence, Oakland and Oxford Townships.

Precinct 1 is located at the Lake Orion Village Hall, 37 E. Flint St., Precint 2 is in the Orion Township Hall, 571 S. Broadway, Lake Orion, and precinct 3 is in the fire station at 3358 Gregory Rd., Orion Township.

The $3 per $1,000 of assessed valuation, as equalized, would be for the period of 1956 to 1960.

The proposed high school would house grades 8 through 12, on its 40 acre site. It would have 30 teaching areas, along with general offices, conference rooms, health clinic, boiler room, and stock rooms.

A 900-student capacity is planned, expandable to 1200. Under the plan, the present high school would be reorganized to house the junior high students.

Also within the $1,500,000 figure is the addition of eight elementary classrooms.

The proposed bond issue and building program was recommended by a 77-member Citizens Advisory Committee.

JOANNE THOMAS

MARCIA SMITH

Name Leading Graduates at Waterford High School

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP—Joanne Mae Thomas has been named valedictorian of the 1955 graduating class of Waterford Township High School.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Thomas of Major Road, she achieved a 20 point average during her high school years.

Taking salutatorian honors with the second highest average, 19.484, is Marcia Smith. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Smith of Elizabeth Lake Road.

Active in school activities, Joanne participated in the girls athletic association, the school paper, and student council. She was also a class officer.

Her educational plans include attending Ferris Institute for the study of pharmacy.

Marcia's activities include the school dramatics club, Pen Pals, the Latin Club, and class projects. She will attend Albion College.

Next in scholastic rating were Mary Ann Comps, Gail Bennett, Dave McMillin, Donna Willis, Charlotte Robb, Gerald Schedlbower, Laurence Anselmy, and Ruth Ann Eddy.

Commencement Set at Imlay City for Rural Schools

IMLAY CITY — Commencement exercises for rural schools in this area will be held Tuesday night at the Imlay City High School.

There are 53 pupils in the eighth grades of the various schools.

The program will open with invocation by the Rev. Randolph Crisp, and songs by the graduates and the Imlay City Boys' Glee Club.

The Rev. Canon Charles Braidwood, rector of Grace Episcopal Church, Lapeer, will be the speaker, and Superintendent Alvin Norlin will present diplomas.

Lakeville Barn Fire Kills Children's Pets

LAKEVILLE — Fire that destroyed the barn of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Somero, 955 Rochester Rd. this morning also killed 10 shepherd-collie pups, 35, chickens and a pet rabbit that the four Somero children were raising.

But the youngsters, Gerry, 15, Tom, 14, Mickey, 7, and Diane, 2, found some consolation in the fact that the mother dog and their pony, Taffy, were brought from the burning barn without injury. Three chickens also escaped.

The Somero family discovered the barn was on fire at 6:30 a.m. They paused only to rescue what animals they could before calling the Addison Township Fire Department.

Cause of the blaze, and the amount of damage have not been determined, Addison Fire Chief Robert McCallum said.

Plan Program at Holly

HOLLY—The Royal Oak Salvation Army Band will be featured at a program at the Holly First Baptist Church Saturday at 7:30 p.m. The event is one of an allied program, and the general public is invited. Besides the music of the full 25-piece band there will also be solo and duet numbers.

Pick Police Head in Keego Harbor

Township Law Officer Calvin Baxter Named by City Council

KEEGO HARBOR — Calvin C. Baxter was appointed police chief of the newly formed city of Keego Harbor last night, by the city council.

Baxter, 30, is a patrolman with the West Bloomfield Township Police Department. A Keego resident eight years, he lives at 2248 Willow Beach with his family.

J. C. Grantham has been named temporary city building inspector and John Carman is the temporary sanitation inspector.

The Keego Harbor branch of the Community National Bank was designated by the council as the city's depository.

Sara Mitchell, John Hill Wed in Lapeer Rite

METAMORA — Sara Kathryn Mitchell and John E. Hill were united in marriage recently in the First Baptist Church of Lapeer.

The bride is the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Mitchell. Mr. and Mrs. John B. Hill of Metamora are the parents of the bridegroom.

A nylon tulle and Chantilly lace gown with a fitted bodice, a boat neckline and a full bouffant skirt was the bride's choice for the rites.

Mrs. James Groves, sister of the bride, was matron of honor, and Elizabeth Umpstead was bridesmaid. Brother of the bridegroom Donald Hill was the best man, assisted by James Grover.

James and Harold Coates seated the guests. A reception in the church parlors followed the ceremony.

Oakland Vicinity PTAs, Garden Clubs, Church Groups Elect and Install Officers

New officers have been elected and installed in child study groups, church guilds, extension clubs, parent-teacher associations, and garden clubs in the Oakland County area recently.

Westacres

Mrs. H. W. Huber was installed as president of the Westacres Child Study Club at the conclusion of the annual meeting recently.

Mrs. David Eicher is vice president, Mrs. Robert Schenck, secretary, and Mrs. Harold Shaver, treasurer.

The club has decided to form another similar organization in the area.

Build Up Soil With Organic Fertilizer

A garden soil needs humus and plant food if you expect to get maximum yields for time, labor and money invested, according to John K. Bray, assistant Oakland County agricultural agent.

To provide this humus, add rotted barnyard manure, leaves, or peat moss before spading or plowing the garden. This will help hold soil moisture and loosen heavy clay soils.

Organic matter improves the physical condition of both sandy and clay soils and supplies food and energy for soil bacteria. It serves as a storehouse for nitrogen and other plant nutrients which become available to the plants as the organic matter decomposes in the soil.

Organic matter acts like a sponge, absorbing water when rainfall is plentiful and holding it to be used during dry weather. The action of organic matter is that of a binder helping to hold and stabilize light sandy soils and help to make heavy clay soils more friable and more easily tilled.

Soils which otherwise tend to bake and form hard crusts through which seedlings are unable to come up, crumble and break up into a granular structure when well supplied with organic matter.

Well-rotted barnyard manure or stable manure is the best source of organic matter. For best results it should be spread at the rate of one-half ton per 1,000 square feet of area before the soil is plowed or spaded.

Artificial manure can be made from straw, leaves, grass clippings and waste plant material from the garden. Put down a layer of the material one-foot thick over an area 6x6 feet. Sprinkle over this 5 pounds of fine lime and 20 pounds of 12-6-6 fertilizer and spray with water until thoroughly moistened.

Add successive layers in the same way until the pile is about five feet high. The pile will decompose into manure equal to good stable manure in several months. Usually synthetic manure is made early in the season and a year previous to using.

Shredded peat, granular muck, and sewage sludge may be used as substitutes for manure. Apply at least one ton of sewage sludge or one yard of peat or muck to 1,000 square feet.

Green manure crops offer another good way to build up the organic matter content of garden soils. Rye can be planted in the garden about Sept. 1 in areas from which the vegetables have been harvested and between the rows of late crops.

The rye will make a growth of 6 to 8 inches in the fall. It will serve as a good winter cover and tend to make the soil dry enough to work earlier in the season. It can be plowed or spaded under whenever the soil is fit to be worked in the spring.

Now that we have improved the physical texture of the soil, maximum yields can be secured by adding commercial fertilizer of a complete analysis such as 4-16-16 or 4-16-8. This fertilizer should be spread over the garden at the rate of 40 pounds per 1,000 square feet and worked into the soil.

The nutrients most likely to be needed in garden soils are nitrogen, phosphorus and potassium. These nutrients are always given in this order in the analysis on the fertilizer bag, for example a 4-16-8 is 4 per cent available nitrogen, 16 per cent phosphorus and 8 per cent potassium.

Garden fertilizer should contain medium amounts of nitrogen and high amounts of phosphorus and potassium. Therefore 4-16-16, 4-16-8, 3-12-12, 3-12-6 and like analysis fertilizer would be a good practice for your garden at 40 pounds per 1,000 square feet.

Waterford Township Woman Discovers "Best Road to Health" Is in Gardening

By JANE WINDELER
Pontiac Press Correspondent

A Waterford Township woman who claims gardening is "the best thing for what ails you" is Mrs. Bert Wilkinson of 2600 Elizabeth Lake Rd.

Her flower, vegetable and small fruit garden, which is the envy of her neighbors, is one of the best roads to health, according the Mrs. Wilkinson.

"Working in the garden and keeping my fingers active is, I believe the only thing that prevents my hands from becoming crippled with arthritis," says this active gardener, who has suffered with arthritis for 25 years.

DIG DEEP—That's the advice of Mrs. Bert Wilkinson of Waterford, whose garden keeps her healthy and provides a high yield of produce.

As with her fellow enthusiasts, gardening is a year-round hobby for Mrs. Wilkinson. Eight to nine months are spent working with the good earth and plants, and the balance of the year is spent poring over seed, bulb, and plant catalogs.

Mrs. Wilkinson's garden plot measures 52x200 feet and includes several patches of strawberries (Nectarina June-bearing and Red Rich everbearing) and black and red raspberries.

Until this year, the garden was twice this size, yet she did all of the spading herself. Using a long-handled, pointed shovel, she makes sure that the soil is dug the complete depth of that shovel.

Last year Mrs. Wilkinson suffered from arthritis and could do no hoeing. In order to keep the weeds under control, she cultivated by shallow spading all summer long.

Mrs. Wilkinson chuckles when she relates what a neighbor said one day after watching this time consuming process. Her friend quipped, "I know what happens to old gardeners — they don't die, they just spade away!"

In spite of being city born and bred, Mrs. Wilkinson has been gardening since a tot when she helped her father with the cultivating.

Today her favorite tools, besides the pointed shovel and rake, are a long handled weeder, grubbing hoe and the regular hoe. The weeder decapitates single weeds just below the soil line, the grubbing hoe makes short work of heavy rooted weeds or unwanted bushes.

In her vegetable plot, Mrs. Wilkinson has three specialties — golden midget corn, mineu cucumbers and cranberry beans in addition to the beets, beans, carrots, etc.

And don't spare the shovel!

Her flower garden includes all of the common annuals and many of the more unusual such as lantana, bells of Ireland, godetia, carnations, schizanthus and clarkia.

In her perennial borders can be found achillia, lupines, scabiosa and armeria as well as many members of the lily, phlox, iris and peony families. Her two most successful biennials have been canterbury bells and sweet williams.

As her formula for success, Mrs. Wilkinson offers the following:

"Every year I revitalize the soil with a load of well-rotted manure. I dig deep and rake the soil fine.

"Regular cultivating and plenty of spraying has proved effective in my garden. I fertilize with chemical 5-10-5 or liquid manure fertilizer every 10 days to two weeks."

Pruning Also Important

Care in Placing Evergreens Will Bring Maximum Effect

"There is something distinctive and majestic about evergreen trees and shrubs," says Raymond E. Keller, parks supervisor of the Pontiac Parks Recreation Dept.

"Nearly every home owner can find uses for evergreens as a background for flowering shrubs or flowers, as basic foundation material to tie the home to the surrounding landscape, or for very dense hedging. And no plant will lend a more enlivening winter effect to the home ground than will the evergreen."

Yet few plants are misplaced so frequently or ill chosen for the garden picture that is desired, Keller points out.

"Gardeners tend to forget that most evergreens will grow to large sizes and require judicious pruning and care if they are to fulfill the original purpose. "It is fitting that Michigan has chosen the white pine as its official state tree, for no tree has played a more important role in the early development of the state," he adds.

Evergreens demand great care when transplanted and should always be balled and burlaped, says Keller. He offers the following advice:

Dig the new hole much larger than the ball and set the tree so that the top of the ball is just below the ground level. Fill the hole with good rich top soil with plenty of decayed vegetable matter or peat moss mixed with it. Tamp the soil firmly and flood with water during the filling process.

Evergreens require large quantities of water both summer and winter, and let it be said that few evergreens die from too much water. On the other hand very little fertilizer is needed since most evergreens do very well on plain soil. They are trees of the sandy lands of Michigan and seem to develop best on these sites.

Mulch the top surface with peat moss, straw or leaves and keep the soil well cultivated and moist for success.

There is a multitude of good evergreens to choose from for every purpose from the tall stately pines and spruces to the spreading and compact yews, junipers and cedars and lastly the creeping ground covers for rock gardens and steep slopes, such as Canada Yew, common juniper and various evergreen vines.

100 Arrested in Riot on Mexican Holiday

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)—Hundreds of people celebrating Mexico's national holiday — Cinco de Mayo—rioted last night when a policeman arrested three of the celebrants for disturbing the peace.

Police wielded night sticks and drew pistols to quell the riot in Cassiano Park. A total of 100 were arrested for drunkenness and disturbing the peace.

A dozen officers were bruised by thrown rocks. However, no one apparently was hurt badly enough to be hospitalized.

Cinco de Mayo commemorates Mexico's victory over the French in 1862.

Legless Man Hitchhikes to Get Artificial Limbs

PEORIA, Ill. (UP)—Hitchhiking isn't a bad way to travel.

That's the conclusion of Willard Maloney, Terre Haute, Ind., who arrived here recently after a 13 hour trip from his home town.

The former truck driver lost both legs in a truck accident in 1952. He made the trip alone in a wheel chair.

Maloney came to Peoria for a visit to the Institute of Physical Medicine Rehabilitation to be fitted for artificial legs.

Disney Unable to Get Coonskin for Grandson

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — The incredible Walt Disney moves into the Hollywood Bowl the 14th and 15th of July, just two days before Disneyland opens to the world.

There will be two evenings of songs from a selected group of Disney's famous pictures, including "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs," "Cinderella," "Peter Pan," and, of course, "Davey Crockett," the delight of all the youngsters.

Walt was very amusing when he talked about Davey Crockett. He said, "Over two milion Crockett coonskin caps have been sold to kids, and will you believe it, I can't get one for my own grandson!"

The Disney presentations in the bowl will be evenings of joy for both adults and children.

A very well-kept secret on the Columbia lot is the contract that Charles Vidor is just about to sign with Harry Cohn to direct a musical on the order of "Gilda."

This only goes to prove that time heals all wounds, if you'll pardon the cliche. One of the bitterest court battles of all time was the one between Harry Cohn and Charles Vidor, which also involved Doris Warner Vidor.

As I recall, Columbia won, but life is short and apparently there are no bad feelings on either side now.

What the title of the musical is has not yet been revealed.

I met Fieldsie and Walter Lang at the preview of "Gentlemen Marry Brunettes," and they told me they are taking a train tomorrow for Chicago where Walter will take a look at "The King and I," currently playing there.

He is to direct it for 20th with Deborah Kerr and Yul Brynner in the starring roles.

In all the years I have known Walter, I have never seen him look as well as he does now. His surgery was 10 per cent successful and he's taken off weight and is rarin' to go.

"The King and I" will not start until September, however, to give Brynner a chance to finish "The Ten Commandments."

Rosemary Clooney has taken off pounds by sensible diet and says she's never felt better in her life.

"This baby of mine is the greatest thing that's happened in my life. Motherhood is a whole new career for me," said Rosie. "I'm rehearsing now to open at the Sands in Las Vegas on May 11, then I'm taking the baby to London to join Jose—and to keep my date at the Palladium."

"I'm not appearing half nude in Las Vegas," she went on emphatically. "I'm wearing fluffy clothes and singing sweet old-fashioned songs."

But Rosie's favorite topic is her son. "When he was baptized, his godfather, Gary Crosby, held him like a football. I was so frightened he would drop him. Gary is taking his responsibility as a godfather very seriously."

In the old days the name of Manuel Reachi was very much in the news. He was a producer of motion pictures and he married the late Agnes Ayres, one of Rudolph Valentino's leading ladies.

Later he married Carmen Figueroa, the daughter of the beloved Maria Luisa Figueroa. He leaves a 5-year-old son by his third wife, Rosemarie Reachi.

Manuel died in Mexico a week ago Tuesday and was buried last Friday in Cuernavaca. With him at the time of his death were his brothers, Santiago, Mexican film producer, and Ramon, who manages the local Macayo restaurant.

Kaline Triples Tigers Into Share of 1st Place

DETROIT (AP) — Al Kaline, Detroit's greatest sensation since the automobile, hits the road with the Tigers today for his 1st long trip of the 1955 season.

This swing, 1st to Chicago and then through the East, should provide a lot of the answers as to whether the 20-year-old outfielder really will zoom to stardom in his 2nd full year in the majors.

It's a cinch he's off to a wonderful start.

His manager, Bucky Harris, says it's a treat—even after some 30 years in the majors—to watch the youngster in action.

"When I was with Washington, I was upset because the Nats didn't make a big pitch to sign Kaline," Harris said. "They had 1st look at him before the Tigers ever heard of him. Now I'm lucky they didn't get him. He can do just about everything—and do it well. He has all the physical equipment, plus the right attitude."

Kaline, a shy, modest young man, seldom says anything. You can get a raise from your boss a lot easier than you can get a word from Al.

He lets his performance speak for him. And so far it's quite a performance.

For example: He's the league's leading active hitter at .395. (The two fellows ahead of him, Bill Skowron of New York and Vic Power of Kansas City, have been sidelined by injuries.) He has hit all but one of Detroit's 20 games, starting off with a 14-game streak.

He's 3rd in the league in runs batted in with 19, 2nd in hits with 30, tied for 1st in triples with 3, 2nd in home runs with 6, 3rd in runs scored with 19 and 3rd in stolen bases with 3.

Tigers have won 13 games. Al personally has provided the winning margin in three of the triumphs.

Latest in his steadily growing string of spectacular performances came yesterday when he lashed a 2-out 9th inning triple to score Fred Hatfield with the winning run in a 3-2 victory over the Boston Red Sox.

The hit climaxed one of the finest home stands in many years for the hustling Tigers. They won 8 of 10 games and moved into a tie with Cleveland for 1st place.

Pressure of publicity is increasing daily on the youngster. So far it seems to have had no effect. Both on and off the field he is calm, composed, confident.

He also acts at times as if he can't quite believe his good fortune.

A couple of weeks ago when he smashed three home runs in one game, two of them in a single inning, against Kansas City, he came back to the bench after the 3rd one grinning sheepishly.

There was no doubt he was happy. But he was so bashful he showed genuine embarrassment as his mates pounded him on the back.

Two years out of a Baltimore high school, Kaline appears set for a long run on the big league glory road.

Kaline's game-winning hit gave Duke Maas, rookie righthander from Utica, Mich., his 1st big league win. The 23-year-old Maas, who was all nerves in his 1st start last Saturday, was steady all the way, giving up only six hits.

Maas retired the 1st 12 batters in order and permitted only one hit in the 1st six innings. Even when the Red Sox scored twice in the 7th and had runners on 2nd and 3rd with nobody out, the rookie hurler didn't seem to be ruffled. He was helped out of the jam by lefthander Jim Delsing who threw out Sammy White at the plate to complete a double play.

An inning earlier, in the 6th, Delsing put the Tigers into a 2-0 lead with a 2-run homer into the upper deck in right.

Satch Figures Boudreau Can Use Him Again

Veteran Hurler Says He Can Help A's as "Smart' Reliefer

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Old Satchel Paige says the Kansas City Athletics might pull one of the greatest surprises in baseball if his old boss, manager Lou Boudreau, had a smart old relief pitcher in his bullpen.

And Satch said last night he knows where Boudreau can get one not more than two home run licks from the A's home park.

That's right, Satch says he is getting in shape as fast as possible and will be ready to offer his services when the Athletics get back home from their road trip east.

Paige 1st went to the majors with Cleveland in 1948, under Boudreau, when most pitchers his age had retired. Satchel says he is at least 48 and "could be" considerably older.

But Satchel has been running to get his legs in shape and will start throwing Sunday. Then he's going to see if the A's are interested.

Chiefs Clobber Lumberjack 9 for 6th Victory

Squares Valley Status at 2-2 With 12-3 Win at Wisner Diamond

Pontiac High School's baseball club yesterday afternoon slapped Arthur Hill around for a runaway 12-3 victory that gave it its 6th win and squared the team's SVC standing at 2-2.

Game was played on the Wisner diamond and Coach Ed Heikkinen's crew nailed it down in the 3rd inning with a pair of tallies. PHS had accumulated three runs prior to that time, and then added seven more for good measure.

Hillites got one run in the top of the 1st frame, and two more in the 5th for all its scoring.

Chiefs will be idle for another week, then face Bay City here in a twin bill a week from Saturday.

Ted Wharry dropped his 1st base chores to hurl a 5-hit job. He went all the way. 'Jacks used three pitchers who gave up a total of 10 hits.

Al Hayward's "4 for 4" was tops at the plate. Al banged a pair of doubles and two singles. Walt Poe had two for three times.

Don Daniel went out to open the 3rd for PHS. Hayward doubled, and Wharry flew out. Bob Murphy singled, and moved to 2nd on a throw that failed to nip Hayward at the plate. Poe singled Murphy home with the winning tally.

Daniels had scored in the 1st on a double by Hayward. Murphy and Poe counted in the 2nd on two walks, an error and an infield play. Other PHS runs were made by Dick Slade, Poe, Jerry Vallad (4th) and by Murphy, Poe, Vallad and Bud Hayward (5th).

Wade scored 'Jacks 1st run after tripling, with aid of Rosengren's sacrifice fly. Wild pitches and a fielding play gave Arthur Hill two runs in the 5th, with Wade and Rosengren scoring.

Coach Opposes Dearborn Nine at Wisner Field

First Game Ceremonies Start State Loop Season for Pontiac

The sandlot baseball season in Pontiac gets off to a flying start Saturday with General Motors' inaugural appearance in the newly-formed Michigan State Baseball League.

Pontiac entertains Dearborn Heating at Wisner Field following opening game ceremonies that have Mayor William W. Donaldson scheduled to throw out the first ball to Charles Irish, president of the Pontiac Baseball Federation. Game time is 2:30 p.m.

Herman Bishop, who won the Pontiac Press Most Valuable Player award for his pitching with the Ortonville team in 1953, has been tabbed to hurl the opening MSBL game for the Coachers.

He will be opposed by either Bob Rock or Willis Hill, both right handers, for the Dearborn club. Among the standouts on Mike Rogan's Dearborn club are second-baseman Hank Jedynak, formerly of Western Michigan College, 3rd baseman Danny Verderbar, one-time Mid-Atlantic Leaguer, and shortstop Roger Lappeus, one of the all-stars of the 18th District American Legion loop when he played with the Ferndale team a few years ago.

Surrounding Bishop in the GMC lineup will be such veterans as Bob Swindell, Les Stone, Jack Farms, Ernie Zubalick, and catchers Jim Berg and Wes Roberts, the latter a "reformed" softball player.

Rounding out the Coach lineup are outfielders Daryl McGlashen and Terry Thomas, 3rd baseman Grant Hefferman and 2nd baseman Bob Fell, another graduate of American Legion baseball, who also played at Alma College.

Here are the batting orders for Saturday's opener:

PHS Track Squad Shoots for Valley's Crown Today

A confident, but not cocky, Pontiac High School track squad takes the finest record in the school's history to Saginaw today with high hopes of adding the league crown to six other victories marked up this season. Chief thinclads are unbeaten, and only Flint Northern has given them any real trouble.

Northern's strength in the dashes is the big factor in how wide Pontiac's margin could be, on pre-meet estimates. Vikings have exceptional speed in the century and furlong, with Ernie Lansdown carrying the burden.

However, if Bay City's Maitre repeats a previous performance this season, he will beat the Northern star. With Flint Central also good in the dashes, a distribution of points against Northern could help Pontiac, observers point out.

Chiefs have plenty of scoring ability in all field events, the hurdles and relays, and have been installed as favorites to take this meet.

Preliminaries will be held this afternoon, with finals at night on Arthur Hill's field.

Coach Wally Schloerke will take 35 athletes to Saginaw. Of this total 33 are runners.

One of the season's stalwarts will be missing. Freeman Watkins pulled a muscle in the Northern meet 1st of the week and has been sidelined. Jim Shorter will continue in Watkins' spot in the speed relay, where he did a fine job at Flint.

Honest Kegler Corrects Score, Drops to Third

OMAHA, Neb. (AP)—Mary Quinn of Buffalo is an honest woman and because she is she's now in third place instead of second in the Women's International Bowling Congress singles division.

Mary had left Omaha with a recorded 658. When she got home she checked her score sheets. She found she had been credited with 10 pins too many. She wrote WIBC officials here and today she was dropped into third place as the 10 pins were dropped off her total.

The shift sent Shirley Garms, Chicago, into second place. Her total is 654, six better than Mary's new total.

Pontiac Old Timers Plan Sunday Workout

Pontiac Old Timers organization will hold a baseball practice this Sunday, May 8, from 9 a.m. to 12 noon, at the Washington Junior High School.

First practice session was held last Sunday morning and the attendance was good, according to reports, but no team has been picked as yet. Any person interested in playing with the Old Timers is still eligible for a tryout.

Senate Rejects Charity Racing.

Bill Aimed at Plans of Texans to Purchase MRA Plant

LANSING (AP)—Legislation to ban so-called charity racing in Michigan was half way through the Legislature today.

The Senate rolled up a 29-2 majority behind a bill forbidding the issuance of a racing license to any group organized for charitable purposes or which gives its income or profits to charity.

Sen. Carlton H. Morris (R-Kalamazoo), one of the supporters of the bill, said it was aimed at the plans of two Texas millionaires, Clint Murchison and Sid Richardson, to buy the Michigan Racing Association tracks at Livonia for five million dollars and turn the proceeds from parimutuel betting over to a proposed charity, Boys' Inc.

The negative votes were cast by Sens. Charles S. Blondy of Detroit and Edward H. Gibbs of Perkins, both Democrats.

Michigan Council of Churches had attacked the proposed sale, contending that gambling money should not be diverted to charitable purposes

Dean of U.S. Walker Cup Team Is Bill Campbell, 32

NEW YORK (AP)—Bill Campbell, feeling quite ancient and paternal at the age of 32, is looking forward to introducing the younger members of the Walker Cup golf team to the Old Course at St. Andrews.

Campbell celebrated his birthday yesterday by sailing with a comparatively youthful team of American amateur golfers for the international matches against Britain, which begin two weeks from today at St. Andrews.

Bill isn't the oldest Walker Cupper—Dale Morey and Billy Joe Patton are older—but he's the veteran of the team as well as its captain. And he's the only one of the nine who ever has played at St. Andrews, the cradle of golf. He thinks they'll find the Old Course something of an eye-popper.

"It will be a wonderful test," Campbell said before sailing. "I played there in the British Amateur in 1950 and went there with the 1951 Walker Cup team for a weekend of golf, so I think I know the course fairly well. I've tried to introduce them to the vagaries of St. Andrews, but you've got to play the course to know it.

"I don't know of any course that displays its personality and subtleties so slowly. Every round is different as the weather changes and you get a respect for it."

* * *

The Americans, who range in age from 21 (Bruce Cudd) to 34 (Morey) will have just five days in which to learn about the Old Course. After a seven-day Atlantic crossing and a short stopover in London, they're due there Saturday, May 14. No play is allowed there on Sunday, reducing their practice time by a day.

Three for Arcaro

NEW YORK (AP)—Eddie Arcaro, who will ride Nashua in the Kentucky Derby Saturday, brought in three winners at Belmont Park yesterday. He was up on Long Row $5, Polly's Jet $11.70 and Evening Out $4.60.

Chief Golfers Upset Vikings

Thursday Victory Is 2nd in Two Days for PHS Squad

Revenge was sweet for coach John Maturo's Pontiac High School linksmen. The Chiefs scored an 8-7 victory over Flint Northern Thursday afternoon at Pontiac's Municipal course, reversing a decision the Vikings hung on them a week ago.

It was the Chief's 2nd win in two days, preceded by Wednesday's decision over Port Huron. Triumph was the 2nd in Saginaw Valley Conference action for Pontiac and snapped a six-game winning streak carried by Northern.

Pontiac won three matches and lost two in the close meet. Bill Martin defeated Tom Buncic, 2-1; Tom Jacobson decisioned Charles Clark, 3-0; and Jerry Richards downed Dave Adams, 2-1. Tom Cross lost to Dick West, 2-1, and Truman Hammett was shut out by Jerry Pratt, 3-0.

Pontiac's Bill Martin was medalist with 43-39—82.

Watch for 'Fool Proof Four'

Type of Plants Described for Devotees of Perilous Sport of Mushroom Hunting

LANSING (AP) — Perilous as it is, the pleasant sport of mushroom-picking is growing—fast as the mushrooms themselves.

In May, the best of mushroom months, cool glades and sunny meadows are spangled with the vari-colored heads of a hundred dierent species.

For the amateur, there is the safe pursuit of shaggymanes and morels—easy to distinguish from the deadly species.

For the expert, there are doxens of varieties—many almost identical. Distinguishing the good from the bad is walking a razor's edge, with life on one side and death on the other.

You want to hunt mushrooms anyway? If you can't, you'll be safe with a brief description of four edible funge—the so-called "fool-rpoof four."

The Morels—one of the most popular varieties—are markedly different from ordinary mushrooms. The morel has a short stem and a cone-shaped wrinkled cap, but it has no gills—the spokes underneath the cap.

Caps of morels vary in color from tan to brown. The stem is lighter. Morels vary in height from two to six inches.

A 2nd variety — puffballs — are entirely safe.

Don't pick aging puffballs. They are likely to be infested with insects.

Shaggymanes have a sylindrical or cone-shaped cap, covered with shaggy tufts of brown tissue. They range in height from four to six inches, but sometimes grow to a height of eight inches.

Not so attractive as these, but no less edible, is the sulphur shelf fungus—or polypore. These varieties grow on rotting wood or upright trees. Yellow in color, they grow one above each other like closely-spaced shelves. The upper surface has yellow and bright orange bands, the under side is uniformly yellow.

Two-Way Baseball Ties Exist in W-O, Oakland-B

Both Wayne-Oakland and Oakland-B baseball leagues have co-leaders following Thursday's diamond action in the area.

Clarkston knocked Brighton from its share of the W-O lead in an 8-6 squeaker, but the Wolves still have to divide first place with defending champion Clarenceville, which beat Holly, 8-4. Milford edged Northville, 7-6, in the other W-O game.

In the Oakland-B, one-sided games were the rule with Clawson and Madison retaining shares of the top spot. Clawson drubbed Lake Orion, 14-4; Madison laced Fitzgerald, 15-6; and Roseville humbled Troy, 22-5.

Clarkston's Bob Yahnke gave Brighton only one hit, but was in constant trouble due to wildness. He fanned 15, but walked 10. Roger Johnson's triple in the 7th led to the winning run. Clarenceville rallied for 5 runs in the 6th to beat Holly, and Milford broke up a 6-6 tie in the 7th with Charles Redman's single decisive.

Milford stole 12 bases against Northville with Redman getting 4 and Alan McFarlane and winning pitcher John Sherwood, 3 each.

Lake Orion committed 6 errors in the first inning as Clawson scored 14 runs in the first 2 frames. Dick Johnson had a double and single for the losers. Remington's grand slam homer in the 5th featured Roseville's rout, while Ray Podulka hit a 3-run homer for Troy.

Rochester scored 4 runs in the first inning on a scratch hit and 3 errors, then relied on 4-hit relief hurling by Bill Henderson to defeat Romeo, 8-3. Henderson took over with the bases loaded in the first and went the rest of the way, fanning 7.

North Branch blanked Imlay City, 7-0, in a South Central game as Dick Griffin twirled a 4-hitter and struck out 16 batsmen. It was the winners' 3rd straight in league play.

Tigers Warned About Nieman

Ex-Bengal Becomes an Effective Hitter in 'Clutch' Situations

CHICAGO (AP) — The co-leading Detroit Tigers tonight must start shackling a surprising clutch hitter they shunted to the Chicago White Sox, outfielder Bob Nieman.

Tied with Cleveland for first place, the Tigers open a vital four-game set with the third-place Sox, who Nieman described today as "the first good team I've ever played on."

Nieman, 28, peddled last winter by the Tigers, has belted across 23 runs and slammed six homers in one of the top slugging performances of the still young American League season. He is batting .333.

Nieman's RBI total ranks him tops in the league with Washington's Mickey Vernon and his homer output is only one behind the pace-setting seven by teammate Sherm Lollar.

"I'm doing nothing different at bat, unless perhaps waiting a little longer on each pitch, relying on my hands more than my body," said Nieman, a 195-pound right-handed hitter, who stands one inch under six feet.

THURSDAY'S STARS

Brooklyn Still Making Shambles of NL 'Race'; Giants at .500; Bucks Sweep Milwaukee Series

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

This isn't the way it was supposed to be at all. Here's Brooklyn shooting along at a .900 clip in the National, the league that was set for a dog fight, and a whole pack of teams beating their chests in the American, where the race was thought to be cut and dried.

It's enough to make a guy start claiming his preseason flag picks were forged.

Brooklyn's bowling over everything in sight, despite seeming unrest over working conditions. (Jack Robinson didn't like sitting on the bench, Roy Campanella was miffed at batting eighth and Don Newcombe drew a suspension when he sulked off refusing to pitch batting practice after his request for a starting chore was turned down.)

The Dodgers now have won 18 of 20 after sweeping their two-game set with the St. Louis Cardinals yesterday 4-3. Only team to beat Brooklyn so far is the New York Giants. And that's all the Giants have shown to support their world championship banner.

It was only yesterday that the Giants reached .500 this spring, beating Chicago's Cubs 6-3. That moved New York into third place, but still eight games back of the brazen Bums.

There was one other National League game played and believe it or not, those Pittsburgh Pirates made it three straight over Milwaukee 9-4. The Bucs pulled off the season's first triple play to boot.

Only one game was scheduled in the American and Detroit won it, beating Boston 3-2 to move into a first-place tie with Cleveland.

That left the Tigers and Indians a game ahead of Chicago and 1½ ahead of New York, the only two teams expected to rassle the Tribe for the pennant. The Kansas City A's, whose shift from Philadelphia was figured to be their big move of the season, are in fifth, just three games behind.

The triple play wrapped it up for the Bucs yesterday, laying a Milwaukee rally to rest in the seventh inning. It was started by Ed Mathews' liner to first baseman Dale Long, who had quite a day for himself. He drove in six runs, hammering three doubles.

Pittsburgh had five doubles all told in their 10 hits off loser Bob Buhl and three replacements. Nelson King won it.

Brooklyn came from behind to smack the Cards, taking a 3-2 lead and then breaking a 3-3 tie on a walk and two sacrifices. Duke Snider drew the pass, then sprinted to third when Ken Boyer left the bag unguarded to join pitcher Harv Haddix and catcher Bill Sarni in pursuit of Campanella's bunt. Rube Walker's pinch fly brought Snider home.

Tom LaSorda started for Brooklyn but left after a hectic first in which he tied the NL record with three wild pitches in one inning. Wally Moon, sliding home on one of the wild tosses, put a two-inch spike wound on LaSorda's knee. Clem Labine and Ed Roebuck finished, with Roebuck the winner.

The Giants finally got a victory for Sal Maglie, although he left in the seventh after thunder showers caused almost an hour's delay. Marv Grissom mopped up, yielding a run on Ted Tappe's pinch homer.

Johnson Meets Mederos on TV

Cuban Is Substitute for Jackson in Bout at Philadelphia

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Harold Johnson meets Cuban heavyweight Julio Mederos in one of those "show must go on" television bouts at the Arena tonight.

Johnson, 26, perennial contender for the light-heavyweight title, was slated for a 10-round bout with Tommy (Hurricane) Jackson, but the latter was forced to withdraw because of a training injury. Mederos was brought in as a substitute.

There was a time when fights were canceled or postponed when one of the combantants was injured in training. But in the modern fight world, the show must go on. The promoter has a TV commitment.

Scottsdale, Ariz. Site of Orioles' '56 Camp

BALTIMORE (INS)—The Baltimore Orioles announced Thursday that they will train next spring at Scottsdale, Ariz., five miles from Mesa, where the Chicago Cubs work out, and 12 from Phoenix, spring base of the New York Giants.

Cleveland Indians also train in Arizona, at Tucson. Orioles President Clarence W. Miles said the Orioles will play an exhibition series in Los Angeles with the Cubs and will barnstorm east with the same club.

Eaglets Stave Off Rally to Keep Top Spot in SCL

Orchard Lake St. Mary staved off a last inning rally by St. Mary of Royal Oak to gain a 2-1 decision Thursday afternoon on a SCL baseball game on the Oak nine's diamond at 13 Mile-Woodward. Triumph was the Eaglets 4th in a row and kept them on top of the loop standings.

Eaglets held a 2-0 lead entering the bottom half of the 7th, but Royal Oak's crew pushed across its 1st run on a single, a sacrifice, and a fielding miscue, and had runners on 1st and 3rd when catcher Al Belanger struck out to end the game.

It was a well-played, closely-fought contest featured by tight pitching. A total of eight hits were made, all singles. Pete Ziebron pitched for Eaglets, limiting the opposition to three hits while fanning seven and walking one. Phil Brzezinski hurled for Royal Oak St. Mary, striking out nine, passing one, and allowing five safeties.

Eaglets scored their 1st run in the 2nd inning and the winning tally in the top of the 7th. Both runs were scored on combinations of two hits and an error.

Metamora Club Arranges Spring Schooling Show

Metamora Spring Schooling Show will be held Saturday, May 29, at the Metamora Club on Delano Road near Oxford. Starting time is 1 p.m.

One of the colorful features will be the professional bareback division, which will be shown over eight fences not more than four feet high.

There will be 12 different classes. Among the interesting events are horsemanship for riders 12 years old or younger; horsemanship, ages 13 to 17; horsemanship over fences, under 17 years of age; junior hunter, to be ridden by a junior 17 years old or less; and the junior club class, to be demonstrated by a junior member of a pony club or hunt.

One of the day's features will be the Hunter sweepstakes.

Other classes include green hunter, lightweight hunter, middle and heavyweight hunters, ladies hunter, hunters under saddle, and open hunter.

Half-Million Gate Is Seen for Rocky-Don

SAN FRANCISCO (UP) — Rocky Marciano's heavyweight title defense against England's Don Cockell will draw a half-million dollar gate, co-promoter Jimmy Murray said today.

"I'm standing on my prediction that we'll do a half million dollars or better," said Murray.

"We have $125,000 in the till right now and another $100,000 out in reservations, although I don't like to count that. But the out-of-town interest is terrific and now, with the fight only 10 days away, local sales are starting to pick up."

The scheduled 15-round bout, Marciano's fifth defense of his championship, is set for May 16 at Kezar Stadium.

Bennie Puts Meads Back in Guard Spot

ANN ARBOR (UP) — University of Michigan football captain J. Edgar Meads of Oxford was back at his familiar right guard spot again today after working out as a tackle in earlier spring practice sessions.

Mean was switched to a tacke role to bolster the Wolverine line. But head coach Bennie Oosterbaan moved him back to his guard post yesterday and set Muskegon Heights, Mich., junior Jim Davies in at right tackle.

Bounties Total $67,200

LANSING — Bounties amounting to $67,200 were paid to Michigan hunters and trappers in 1954, for 3,715 coyotes, 627 bobcats, and 23 grey or timber wolves.

SAN FRANCISCO—Since basketball has become so prominent a sport at the University of San Francisco, a new gymnasium to seat 5,000 is being constructed.

Veterans Pace Field in Event at Ft. Worth

Palmer, Oliver, Bolt, Nelson, Hogan Among Links Leaders

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP)—Chandler Harper, the golf course builder from Chattanooga, led the "Old-Timers" parade into the second round of the $25,000 Colonial National Invitation Tournament today.

The balding veteran who's building his own course at Portsmouth, Va., and is making his 21st tour along the tournament trail, posted a one-under-par 69 for the youngsters to shoot at in the opening round of this rich tournament. And he was joined around the top by such long-timers as Johnny Palmer of Charlotte, N.C.; Ed Oliver of Lemont, Ill.; Tommy Bolt of Houston and the famed Texans of the links, Byron Nelson and Ben Hogan.

Only Jack Fleck of Davenport, Iowa, a newcomer to the golf wars at 32, and Leo Biagetti of Sandusky, Ohio, around only four years, could uphold the so-called "Youth Movement."

Gene Littler of Palm Springs, Calif., the real standard-bearer of the Young army, had a miserable 77.

Harper's iron play was the feature as the man who has done such things as 259 for 72 holes, 189 for 54 and 126 for 36 came in with a stroke lead and then wondered why, with such perfect playing conditions, more hadn't managed to better par over the 7,035-yard Colonial Country Club course.

Chandler shot his fine round despite a 2-stroke penalty suffered when he lost the ball on a tee shot. He used just 30 putts to get around the sun-baked course. One of his putts was for 20 feet and it pulled him out of trouble that had come on the 10th hole where he lost his ball on that tee shot.

In second place were the steady Palmer and Fleck, each with a par 70, while tied at 71 were Oliver, Bolt and Biagetti. Hogan, the tournament favorite—Ben has won four of the eight Colonial tournaments—was in a tie at 72 with Nelson, Jerry Barber of Los Angeles, Julius Boros of Mid Pines, N.C., and Dow Finsterwald of Bedford Heights, Ohio, who also is one of the youngsters.

Consistent Winner

GOSHEN, N. Y. — Newport Dream won the 1954 Hambletonian in two straight heats in the identical time of 2:02 4/5 although sidelined most of the year with leg infirmities. The money won amounted to $57,581.

Average Pay $7,300

NEW YORK — Average player salary in the National Basketball association is $7,300.

Sam Snead's Golf School

5. Today's player's putter is just striking the ball. His left forearm still rests lightly on the left leg and at impact the left forearm slides gently along the direction line just a very short distance with the right hand following this move. Both hands remain at right angles to the direction line. That is, they are squarely across the direction line. There is no body action in a well made putt. If the cup has been placed on a sloping part of the green, you must of course, allow for roll to the left or right. And the sharper the slope, the more allowance you must make for the curve the ball will take. How much to allow is something no one can tell you. You will just have to experiment with this until your judgement is sharpened and you know how much to allow for roll and grass condition.

Dodger Rebellion and Suspension Ends

BROOKLYN (AP) — The one-man rebellion and the 24-hour suspension of Don Newcombe ended today with the penitent pitcher ready to accompany the Brooklyn club to Philadelphia tonight.

Newcombe hit with an "indefinite" suspension yesterday for refusing to pitch batting practice, made a swift peace with Manager Walt Alston after a brief cooling off period. The 28-yearf-old right-hander said he did not intend to defy Alston's authority.

"I simply wanted to pitch, that's all," Newcombe said. "The club was rolling along in high gear and I was angry at myself for not doing my share. I just wanted to help. I feel I could help if given the opportunity. It's a great club and I want to be a part of it and do my bit in this great winning streak."

"My arm is all right now. I know I can win. All I want is a chance to prove it. I guess I didn't go about it the right way. Sure I refused to pitch batting practice but that was because I learned I would not pitch in the coming series in Philadelphia."

"I had previously been told I would. Yesterday I was told I would have to wait until our Western trip in Chicago. So I became stubborn. I told Becker (pitching coach Joe Becker) I wanted to pitch in games, not in batting practice."

The blowup occurred yesterday soon after the Dodgers began batting practice for their game against the St. Louis Cardinals. Becker, on orders from Alston, asked Newcombe to pitch to the regulars. Big Newk refused.

"I called him into my office and asked him what the trouble was," Alston related. "He said he wanted to pitch in games. I explained to him the reason I wasn't using him was that the weather was cold, and I wanted to give his sore arm a chance to come around."

The sophomore manager insisted he held no personal grudge against the 235-pound hurler who won 20 games for the Dodgers in 1951 before going into the service. Expected to win 25 last year after his discharge, Don slumped to a mediocre 9-8 record.

"I want Newcombe back," Alston said, "but only if he obeys orders. I think he can help the club but only if he wants to help it."

Brooklyn Vice-President E. J. (Buzzie) Bavasi chose to interpret the pitcher's dissatisfaction as a different virus than that which made other Dodgers gripe during spring training and the early part of the campaign. Bavasi referred to the popoffs of Jackie Robinson, Roy Campanella and Russ Meyer.

KALINE WINS ANOTHER — Detroit Tiger outfielder Al Kaline (left), whose potent bat has won a number of close games for the Bengals this season, is greeted by teammates after he tripled to centerfield with 2 out in the 9th inning against the Boston Red Sox Thursday to give Detroit a 3-2 victory. Others are Jim Delsing, coach Billy Hitchcock and catcher Red Wilson (10).

House Puts OK on Measure for Deer Season Opening

LANSING (AP) — Michigan's deer season will open on Saturday if the senate goes along with a bill passed by the house yesterday.

A bill to open the season on the Saturday closest to Nov. 15 slipped through the house by a 58-46 vote.

Reps. Gilbert Wales (D-Stambaugh) and Dominic Jacobetti (D-Negaunee) contended Upper Peninsula sportsmen have long fought for a Saturday opening.

In its original form, the bill provided for a Saturday opening only in the Upper Peninsula.

Rep. Arnell Engstrom (R-Traverse City) pushed through an amendment setting a Saturday opening for the entire state. The season would close 15 days after the opening.

Opponents, led by Rep. Kenneth O. Trucks (R-Baldwin), argued the Saturday opening would compound the traffic problem and create more congestion in the woods than now exists during the season.

Under the House plan, the season would start on the Saturday preceding Nov. 15 if that date falls on one of the 1st three days of the week.

If Nov. 15 falls in the last part of the week, the season would open on the following Saturday.

Businessmen have backed the Saturday opening as a good way to cut down on absenteeism in plants, supporters of the plan say.

Three other conservation bills were passed by the House and sent to the Senate.

Shamrock Win Keeps Hopes for Title Alive

North Siders Defeat Cross-Town Rivals in SCL Contest 8-3

Pontiac St. Michael's baseball team kept alive its Suburban Catholic League title hopes Thursday afternoon with an 8-3 victory over St. Frederick at Columbia-Joslyn's north field.

Victory moved Shamrocks into 2nd place in the loop behind league-leading St. Mary of Orchard Lake, which maintained its position Thursday by defeating Royal Oak St. Mary, 2-1. St. Fred's nine suffered its 4th straight defeat at the hands of the Mikes.

Dave Smith returned to winning form on the mound for the Shamrocks, striking out eight batsmen while walking three. He was touched for three hits, all singles, in the 3rd inning when the Rams scored two runs. Their 3rd run crossed the plate in the 1st inning.

Shamrocks scored their 1st run in the 2nd inning and then batted around in the 3rd frame to tally four runs on five hits and a brace of St. Frederick errors. Big blow in the inning was a two-run double by Bob Anderson. Shamrocks tacked on another run in the 4th and two more in the 5th to complete the scoring.

Ed Kast started for the Rams and worked one and two-thirds innings before giving way to Bob Ashby. Ashby was tagged with the loss.

Bud Schwartz and Bill Hall sparked the Shamrocks 10-hit attack. Hall had a perfect day at the plate with two hits and two walks. Schwartz collected two safeties in four attempts.

Armed Forces Boxers Advance

Air Force, Army Teams Do Well in AAU Meet, Lose Only 1 Bout

KANSAS CITY (AP)—The Armed Forces' fighting men proved their fitness in the opening session of the 67th National AAU Boxing Tournament last night by scoring victories in 13 of the 36 fights.

The Air Force moved seven fights into tonight's program at Municipal Auditorium in Kansas City, Mo. The U.S. Army team advanced six fighters from the opening battling conducted before a small gathering in Memorial Hall in Kansas City, Kan.

The only loss charged to the service teams was against one of its more highly regarded boys, Jimmy Hornsby, in the 132-pound class. Hornsby was outpointed by Kenny Morris of Kansas City who is fighting with the Spokane, Wash., team.

Pairings for tonight's bouts were to be made around mid-day.

Experts See 2:02 Winning Derby Time

Smallest Field Since 1948 Was Expected Today

But Cash Awards Are High for Saturday's Race for Roses

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Swaps, chief hope of the Californians to make it two straight in the Kentucky Derby, was the first horse entered today for the 81st runnig of the $125,000-added race tomorrow.

The name of Swaps, owned by Rex Ellsworth, was dropped into the entry box by trainer Mickey Tenney. Willie Shoemaker, the coutry's leading jockey the last two years, was listed as the rider.

"My horse is in good shape," said Tenney, "but I wish he could have a little more racing." Swaps went ⅝of a mile in :01:2.2 in his final warmup this morning.

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — The 81st running of the $125,000-added Kentucky Derby tomorrow will go to the horse able to carry his speed over the mile and one quarter of Churchill Downs' oval in close to 2 minutes and 2 seconds.

That was the consensus of the trainers of the hand-picked field of 3-year-old colts as the names of the horses were dropped into the entry box this morning. A field of 10 was expected for this richest of all derbies.

Although it'll be the smallest field since Citation beat five rivals in 1948, the value will gross $152,500, with the winner earning a net of $108,400 if as many as 10 parade to the post for the start at 4:30 p.m., Eastern Standard Time.

Radio and television descriptive of America's glamour race by CBS is scheduled from 4:15 to 4:45.

Answers to the question of how fast the race will be run brought times varying from 2:02 to 2:04.2 if the track remains fast. Whirlaway's record of 2:01.4 in 1941 way well be in jeopardy.

There is every prospect the racing strip will be at its best. The weatherman said no rain is in sight and predicted perfect overhead conditions for the expected turnout of 100,000 with the skies clear and the highest temperature in the low 80s.

Nashua, the 4-5 favorite from William Woodward's Belair Stud, is capable of running the distance in 2:02 in the opinion of Sherrill Ward, trainer of Mrs. John W. Galbreath's Summer Tan, the 2-1 second choice. Summer Tan has been edged by Nashua in four of their five clashes. Ward, however, declined to say if he thinks his son of Heliopolis can travel that fast.

Bart Sweeney, who'll saddle Nashua in the absence of 80-year-old Sunny Jim Fitzsimmons, sees the Belair Stud ace winning in 2:02.

"And we don't care if the track is cobblestones," he said with a twinkle in his Irish eyes. "This horse can run on anything."

Meshach (Mickey) Tenney, trainer of Rex Ellsworth's Swaps, the 6-1 third choice, said his California-owned colt can do 2:03 or a little better and can run on any kind of a track.

"He has run only one bad race and when he returned to the stables after that one at Hollywood Park he had a fever of 105 degrees," said Tenney. "I definitely think we have the contender."

Real Team Player

Rickey Enthuses Over Dale Long's Efforts

PITSBURGH (AP) — Dale Long, Pittsburgh Pirate first baseman, started a triple play, hit three doubles and drove in six runs yesterday but Pirate General Manager Branch Rickey says fans didn't note "the really important thing that stamps him as a team player.

After the Pirates had won their fifth in a row by routing the Milwaukee Braves 9-4, Rickey had this to say:

"Didn't you notice what Long did when Felipe Montemayor, our leftfielder, went out to play the sixth inning? Well, I did, and it's mighty important. Long saw Montemayor didn't have his sunglasses. He told Felipe to get them. But Montemayor said, 'Phooey, I don't need them.'" Well, sir, Mr. Long held up the game and ran to the dugout to get Montemayor's glasses.

"You can win pennants the Long way. But you can't win pennants the Montemayor way. There's a difference, let me tell you.

"His spirit is that of a real ballplayer. I believe the boy is to stick."

Long, a southpaw hitter, not only had three doubles but hit the ball solidly on his other two tries. One went for a sacrifice fly. Bill Bruton made a diving catch to keep the other from being an extra base blow.

In the seventh inning, with the bases loaded, Long leaped high into the air to catch a sizzling liner off the bat of Ed Mathews. In a flash, he threw to shortstop Dick Groat, who retired Bill Bruton at second base. Groat then whipped the ball back to first, where Long was waiting, retiring Johnny Logan before he could return to the bag. It was the first triple play of the year in the major leagues.

Moore Defends Title Against Bobo Olson

NEW YORK (AP)—If Archie Moore expects to fight Rocky Marciano for the heavyweight title in September, he's doing it the hard way.

After polishing off Nino Valdes, the recognized No. 1 heavy contender, at Las Vegas Monday, Archie signed yesterday to defend his light heavy crown against Bobo Olson, the middleweight champ. They will meet Wednesday, June 22, at the Polo Grounds in New York.

Big Day for Tallman

HILLSDALE (AP) — Shortstop Don Tallman, enjoying a 3-for-5 day at the plate, led Hillsdale to its 1st MIAA victory yesterday, a 5-4 conquest of Adrian.

One of Tallman's hits sent him on the way to the tieing run in the 8th. In the 9th inning he drove in the winning run with his 3rd hit.

Records Fall in Waterford Track Victory

Skippers Win 3-Way Meet Over Eaglets, Mountaineers

Waterford High School's track team leveled its season record at 2-2 Tlursday by winning a record-Orchard Lake St. Mary's track.

Jack Hackett's Skippers tallied 59 1-6 to Orchard Lake's 45 5-6 and 30 fro Mt. Clemens St. Mary. A total of six school records went by the boards during the afternoon.

Laine Hetherington paced the Waterford victory by taking both hurdle events and running on the winning half-mile relay team. He set new WHS records by topping the 120-yard highs in 15.9 seconds and whipping over the lows in 21.3.

Darrel Adams, also of te Skippers, finished 3rd, but set a new school record in the 440 in 55 seconds.

Bill Czerniakowski of Mt. Clemens won the high jump and set a new school record by winnig the 440 in 52.6. Jck Nebel of the Mountaineers won both dashes with Waterford's Gary Wideman out of the meet.

Stan Majewski of Orchard Lake was 2nd to Hetherington in both hurdles, but set new St. Mary records of 16 seconds in the highs and 22 seconds in the lows. Gale Wigner of Waterford turned in a good 4.56 effort in the mile, and Majewski hit 20 feet in the board jump. 5

Illinois Kegler Hits 3rd Place in ABC

FORT WAYNE, Ind. (UP) — Ralph Hansen, of Elizabeth, Ill., who has never won a bowling tournament, rolled into 3rd place in the singles standings of the American Bowling Congress today.

Hansen had games of 243, 279 and 195 yesterday for a 717, highest 3-game series he has ever bowled.

It was the 1st time the 34-year-old bowler had ever participated in the ABC. His 717 was just 21 pins short of the 738 1st place mark of Eddie Gertzen, Milwaukee.

Doubles and all-events leaders remained unchanged after yesterday's bowling.

Most Derby Writers Pick Nashua to Win

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Nashua, the odds-on-favorite, will win tomorrow's Kentucky Derby in the opinion of the big majority of the men writing about the race.

Of the 65 polled, 45 picked Nashua to win. Swaps was the choice of nine and Summer Tan of eight. Flying Fury received two 1st place votes while the other went to his stablemate, Racing Fool.

Turf Trainer McDaniel Is Suicide Case

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Robert Hyatt (Red) McDaniel, at 44 one of the leading trainers in American horse racing, drove his beige colored Cadillac to the middle of the towering San Francisco-Oakland Bay Bridge yesterday and for some unexplained reason jumped to his death.

The Coast Guard recovered the body 24 minutes after three witnesses saw him vault over the railing of the upper deck at 4:30 p.m. McDaniel's wallet, left in the front seat of the automobile, contained no notes or information concerning a motive.

McDaniel, who established a new turf record in 1953 as trainer of 211 winning horses, saddled Poona II in winning the $100,000-added Santa Anita Handicap last February with Willie Shoemaker up. Poona II is one of the favorites in the $50,000-added Golden Gate Handicap at Golden Gate Fields tomorrow.

Priest Knee-Deep in Gray Hair

Campus Residency Offers Secure Life for Oldsters

DETROIT (UP) — The Rev. Wilbus F. Suedkamp and his "one-man staff of social workers" were knee-deep in gray hair today in their experiment in community living for old folk.

Father Suedkamp and his young volunteer assistant, James T. McCuish, described their project of "campus residency" as the only one of its kind in the world designed to keep elderly persons who live alone on modest social security checks from drifting to Skid Row, or to the old-fashioned "poor farm."

"Old age has become as much of a community problem as youth," Father Suedkamp stated in an interview.

"Sometimes I think we spend too much time developing recreation and social programs for teenagers while our old folk who can no longer work just sit in their rocking chairs awaiting God's call to eternity."

For the last eight months, the Roman Catholic priest has supervised an interdenominational program to make the "waiting years" as pleasant as possible.

"It started last summer when an old fellow named Johnny told me he couldn't sleep nights because of the hordes of bed bugs in the flophouse room where he was staying," Father Suedkamp said.

"I looked around in a pleasant old neighborhood to find a room for Johnny in a private home—and then the idea hit me.

"Jim McCuish and I had already taken over an abandoned community hall with the idea of setting up a recreational program for old people—just the usual shuffleboard-and-checkers type of thing. We called it Kundig Center, named in honor of Father Martin Kundig, a fine social worker of the past century.

"Why not, I thought, turn the whole thing into a program of community living?"

The campus residency program was quick to catch on in Father Suedkamp's parish. Soon after it started, 25 men and women ranging from 62 to more than 80 years of age were living in rented rooms in neighborhood homes and eating their meals at the center's community dining room.

Food and rent are provided with $60 to $70 a month which the old folk turn over to the center from their social security and other old age assistance checks.

The Detroit Diocese recently purchased the 750-room Hotel Detroiter to be operated on a similar basis, starting June 1. Applications for the new home have been arriving by the hundreds each day.

"We're up to our knees in gray hair," Father Suedkamp quipped.

"The hotel will go a long way toward Detroit's problem of how to care for the aged. But even the hotel can't replace such neighborhood projects as Kundig Center.

"Our campus residency program may be the answer for many communities all over the country."

'Brain' to Replace 350 Army Clerks

DETROIT (AP)—The Army is installing a mammoth electronic brain in Detroit to replace 350 clerks who keep an inventory of the replacement parts needed to keep all U. S. military vehicles rolling.

The brain cost five million dollars, but Brig. Gen. Paul M. Seleen commander of the Detroit tank-automative center, estimates the electronic device will pay for itself in six years. He said clerks take a month to do what the machine will do in minutes.

The brain will keep track of everything the Army buys. When it sees stocks falling on any of 450,000 items it will flash a warning to buy more.

In Army tradition, when data is fed into the brain it types out its answers in triplicate.

British Ship Freed

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—The 3,500-ton British freighter Incharran, seized Wednesday by guerrillas off the Matsu Islands, was released today, official reports said. The local British consul, Alexander Hermann, will protest the seizure to the Formosa provincial government tomorrow.

All patents are dated as of Tuesday of the week in which they are issued, regardless of whether Tuesday of that week is a holiday or not.

Germans Now Hosts to Troops of Occupation

WASHINGTON (AP)—Restoration of West German sovereignty does not mean that American occupation forces are coming home—they simply become guest defenders under treaties with the Germans.

The same is true of British and French occupation troops.

American strength, which will remain unchanged for the present, includes about 200,000 Army officers and men and 70,000 Air Force people.

Barring sharp changes in the international situation, such a force is likely to be maintained at least until the West Germans can take over their own defense with the 12 divisions they are allowed by treaty. Estimates on that time range from three years upward.

The American ground forces are organized in the Seventh Army which includes five combat divisions and supporting units, including six battalions equipped with the 280 mm. cannon which can fire atomic shells.

Air Force strength in West Germany is primarily assigned to tactical duties and includes at least two squadrons of Matador medium range pilotless bombers.

West Virginia was created when its residents refused to secede from the Union and severed themselves from Virginia during the Civil War era.

Largest large-tooth aspen in the United States stands 69 feet tall and is located near Sumner, Mich.

Ladies and Gentlemen—

We invite you to try a new live taste!

Live taste! Mark that phrase well. It means what it says and it says a lot. Folks who know their beer will be interested in this "story behind the taste."

L-i-v-e! The word implies something you like to think about beer. A taste with vitality. A youthful taste that sets taste buds tingling.

Where does the Goebel live taste come from? From three separate sources located thousands of miles apart. The only places on the face of the earth that can produce the unique characteristics found in the three special strains of hops blended in Goebel.

After analyzing hops from all over the world, the Goebel Brewmaster personally visited the Tettnang hop gardens of Bavaria. There he selected expensive, hand-tended, handpicked hops that capture the evanescent qualities of delicacy and aroma. Next he journeyed to the fertile slopes of the Yakima valley seeking an improved strain of the famous Golding hop from Europe. This is the hop that contributes its buoyant character to the live taste of Goebel. In the gardens of California was brought to light a Pilsen-type hop, mild and cheerful as a morning in May, to complete the sprightly trio of hops that create the great, new live taste. Hops that bring flavor to life!

There is a difference in the beers today—and you'll find the difference in the live taste of Goebel. We invite you to try it today!

Go for the new live taste - GO GOEBEL!

Grains Develop Easier Trend

CHICAGO (AP) — A slightly easier trend appeared in grains on the Board of Trade today as wheat met selling pressure following rain in parts of the Southwest.

Most other grains took their cue from wheat, as they have done all this week. Losses in rye and feed grains were very small, however. Soybeans continued to act in a perverse fashion. After showing independent easiness yesterday, they were independently steady today.

Wheat near the end of the first hour was ¼ to 1½ lower, May $2.16; corn unchanged to ½ lower, May $1.44⅞; oats ¼ to ¾ lower, May 72⅞; rye ¼ to ¾ lower, May 99¾; soybeans unchanged to 1⅛ higher, May $2.53⅜ and lard 2 to 5 cents a hundred pounds lower, May $12.67.

City Underwriters Name New Officers

Fifty members of the Pontiac chapter of National Association of Life Underwriters, elected new officers at a breakfast at the Waldron Hotel yesterday.

Harvey Perry, of State Farm Mutual Insurance, was elected President. Other officers: first vice president, Ben Shaw of Life Insurance Company of Virginia; second vice president, Olin LaBarge, Confederation Life; third vice president, David H. Speer, Lincoln National Life; treasurer, John Stewart, Life Insurance Company of Virginia.

All officers were elected unanimously and will assume their duties in September, according to D. H. Pritt of Lincoln National Life, chapter information chairman.

"Everybody's Business," a film on free enterprise, was shown to the members by John Hirlinger, President of the Chamber of Commerce.

Grand Trunk's Employes Plan Credit Union

Grand Trunk Railroad employes of Pontiac have received approval from the Michigan State Banking Commission on their proposed charter for a credit union.

The new union will serve Grand Trunk employes living in Pontiac, according to Harry Woodman, GM Truck and Coach Federal Credit Union Manager.

Garland Hales, Grand Trunk employe will represent the company and work with Woodman in organizing the union. It will be known as the Railroad Employes Credit Union of Pontiac.

The Union membership will elect men to the board of directors Sunday, 2 p.m., in the Roosevelt Hotel ballroom. Following the directors' election by the membership, the board in turn will elect company officers to serve one year.

The membership will name credit and audit committees to the Railroad Credit Union.

GMC Trucks to Boast Revolutionary Seats Soon

GMC Truck & Coach Division will be the first truck manufacturer to market a revolutionary new truck seat that uses torsional rubber springs to protect drivers from road jolts, it was announced today by R. C. Woodhouse, general truck sales manager of GMC.

The new GMC Bostrom seat greatly reduces driver fatigue by protecting the driver from 60 per cent of the predominant road vibrations and shocks, Woodhouse said.

Marketing plans call for distributing the seats as GMC dealer accessories, Woodhouse said. They may be obtained for most of GMC's 1955 "Blue Chip" models.

Gerity Corp. Turns Up First Profit in 19 Months

ADRIAN (AP) — Gerity-Michigan Corp. turned in a profit last month for the first time in 19 months, it was reported by James Gerity Jr., president and board chairman.

Improvement in production efficiency and price increases on automotive parts led to the upturn, Gerity said. He reported sales in bathroom accessory lines, the new Gerity "attach-it-yourself" dishwasher and Gerity liquid burnishing machines also were responsible for increased profits.

"Long term profits prospects are encouraging," he added.

Dividend Is Declared

NEW YORK (AP) — Standard Oil Co. (New Jersey) today declared a cash dividend of $1.25 a share, payable June 11 to stockholders of record, May 16, the same amount as in the previous dividend this year, bringing the first half total to $2.50 compared with $2.15 for the first half of 1954.

YOUR SPRING FLOWER GARDEN—5

The Hyacinth

A Spanish legend says that when the world was finished, so many angels gathered on a rainbow that it broke into many pieces and fell to earth. From these bits of rainbow came many beautiful-colored plants and blossoms.

Maybe the legend makers were thinking of the hyacinth. It comes in white, pink, blue or purple. Originally from Asia and Africa, the flower was brought to Europe in the early 1500's. It is easily grown and very popular in Holland.

The hyacinth, which also is raised in this country and Canada, grows from bulbs. Its cluster of small blossoms are on the top of a slender stalk. The plant may be from six inches to a foot and a half tall. It is grown in open beds, in hothouses and in the home and needs rich, damp soil.

Dick often works after school and on Saturdays in his father's florist shop. He is carrying a hyacinth out to a customer's car.

Color the flowers carefully and in different colors so you will be able to recognize a hyacinth when you see it.

Tomorrow: A flower for Mother's Day.

Chrysler Shows 1955 Earnings at Peak Level

NEW YORK (AP)—Chrysler Corp. today reported record first quarter earnings of $34,504,730 equal to $3.96 a common share, compared with $7,681,053 or 88 cents a share in the first three months of 1954.

Sales of $958,128,384 set a record, topping the previous high of $950,009,000 in the three months ended June 30, 1953.

Directors declared a dividend of 75 cents on the common stock, the same amount paid in the past three quarters. Up to that time, it had maintained a $1.50 quarterly rate since December, 1951.

The dividend will be payable June 11 to stockholders of record May 16.

Profits for the quarter surpassed the $18,317,000 or $2.13 a share the company earned in the entire year of 1954.

Previous first quarter high for earnings was $24,428,740 or $2.81 a share in the first three months of 1953. Chrysler's record quarter was in the summer months of 1950 following the outbreak of the Korean War when profits totaled $65,703,872.

GM, Ford, Chrysler Report Sales Jumps

DETROIT (INS) — General Motors, Ford and Chrysler today all reported big jumps in sales for the first quarter of 1955 over the same period last year.

GM President Harlow Curtice said his company's sales through April were 142.5 per cent of the total for the corresponding period in 1954. April sales were 132.6 per cent of last year's figure.

Curtice said "this could well be the biggest passenger car year in the history of the automotive industry."

Ford reported its sales through April of this year were 22 per cent over the same period in 1954 and higher than in any year since 1924.

Chrysler sales were expressed in terms of net earnings equal to dollars and cents per share of common stock. The company's first quarter earnings were equal to $3.96 a share, contrasted with income equal to 88 cents a share for January, February and March of 1954.

'Eskimo Village' Used for Testing Guided Missiles

NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y. (UP)—Bell Aircraft Corp. is using a so-called "Eskimo Village" as a vital test center for guided missles and rocket engines.

The colony of thick-walled concrete buildings, located 16 miles from here in the town of Porter, is the site of the former Lake Ontario Ordnance Works, an ammunition storage center during World War II.

It was abandoned by the Army shortly after the war and reactivated by Bell in 1951.

The sunken concrete "igloos," which formerly housed tons of ammunition, now are filled with expensive equipment installed by the Air Force.

Technicians do not launch missiles at the center, but test the component parts of many complex weapons under carefully simulated conditions.

Among the projects tested at the center are the XB63 "Rascal," a pilotless bomber of the air force; the rocket-powered X1A, the world's fastest and highest flying plane and the X1B, another supersonic plane.

Scintillator Business Clicking in Oklahoma

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — The scintillator business is really clicking in Oklahoma City these days. There's a waiting list for the instruments used by prospectors for valuable ore deposits. The scintillator is a pepped up version of a Geiger counter.

The price of a scintillator starts at $100, compared with $19.95 for a Geiger counter, and ranges up to $1,000. Miss Glenda Parker, head of one store's jewelry department, said seven scintillators were sold last week. Three went for $500 with the other four ranging from $300 to $100.

In Memoriam 2

IN LOVING MEMORY OF MY grandmother Mrs. Anna S. Knapp Sturdevant who passed away, May 8, 1946.
Loving and kind in all her ways,
Upright and just to the end of her days;
Sincere and true in her heart and mind,
Beautiful memories she left behind.
Sadly missed by granddaughter Mrs. Dorothy Moriarty.

'Zoo Parade' to Scour Africa for New TV Talent

Six Programs to Be Filmed

Director and Producer Will Spend Summer on Dark Continent

By WAYNE OLIVER

NEW YORK (AP)—Marlon Perkins of NBC's Zoo Parade flies to Africa in a few weeks to search for new TV talent and also to try to swap armadillos for aardvarks.

He and producer Don Meier will spend the summer on the Dark Continent filming six or more programs for the coming season.

The armadillos for aardvarks deal will be part of Perkins' function as director of Chicago's Lincoln Park Zoo, where the weekly show is telecast. He will take along some animal life specimens fairly common in this country, including armor-plated armadillos from Texas, to offer zoos in Africa, where they are rarities. In return he'll seek animals common there, but novelties in the United States, such as the ant-eating aardvark.

When the films are completed and the specimens collected, Perkins and Meier will fly back via Copenhagen and the arctic route to Los Angeles, and thence to Chicago.

African episodes now planned for next year's shows include the annual migration of wild life across the continent's great rift, underwater scenes at Mzimi Springs, the Port Elizabeth snake farm, Krueger National Park, elephant training stations in the Congo, and assorted African oddities.

Although a number of programs will be missing when the new TV season starts next fall, many familiar ones are being renewed. Among those signed up again in the past few days are Life of Riley, Rin Tin Tin, Ford Theater and Captain Midnight. Father Knows Best, dropped by the old sponsor several weeks ago, will be back with a new one starting Aug. 31.

Ambassador Reaffirms Italy's Loyalty to West

HOUSTON (AP)—Italian Ambassador Manlio Brosio says his country's policy is "clear and firm" on three points:

1. Unflinching loyalty to the Atlantic union.
2. A constant effort toward European union.
3. Friendship toward the United States.

"You may rely on us," he told an audience of about 500 persons, at a dinner in his honor last night.

Refugee Nun Makes Debut on Television

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — A nun who in 1952 was sought by the Communists made her television debut last night with Claudette Colbert.

Miss Colbert played the role of the nun who survived one of the more harrowing ordeals of all refugees from the Iron Curtain in the CBS-TV Climax series — "The Deliverance of St. Cecilia."

As a dramatic surprise, Sister Cecilia appeared on the program with Miss Colbert and preached on American freedom.

The nun, a member of the Daughters of the Holy Saviour order, took her first look at the script yesterday at a rehearsal and insisted on changes which were made.

"They played me up too much," she said.

Sister Cecilia is now assigned to Holy Redeemer College near Oakland, Calif. Her dramatic flight from the Communists, while dressed as a peasant woman, was the subject of a magazine article could have been expected if man Czechoslovakia.

Reds Leave Japan

Nixon Kicks Off Drive

WASHINGTON (AP)—United Cerebral Palsy's 10-million-dollar drive for funds was launched yesterday by Vice President Nixon.

Oh, She'll Turn Up

SCOTTSBLUFF, Neb. (AP)—A woman telephoned police to ask help. She said she didn't know where she was but would find out and call back. She didn't call back, and police couldn't find her. But they wondered where she had gone because her complaint was that somebody had stolen the steering wheel from her car.

JOSEFINA PHODACA

Philippine Team Member Speaks

United Church Women Hear Josefina Phodaca on May Fellowship Day

Speaking at the May Fellowship Luncheon at the Central Methodist Church today was Josefina Phodaca of Manila, Philippine Islands.

Miss Phodaca, an attorney, has been on a trip around the world as a member of the International Goodwill Team, visiting Christian women in Hawaii, the Figi Islands, Australia, Indonesia, India, Pakistan, Africa, the Near East and Europe.

The Team was sponsored by the United Church Women.

In past years, church women have devoted May Fellowship Day to cooperative planning and action on such community concerns as race relations, slum clearance and economic problems but this year emphasis is placed on the Responsible Christian Family.

The group believes that communities and nations will be strengthened when Christian families accept their moral and ethical responsibilities in their own homes and in all areas of live. Miss Phodaca will speak on "Families of Nations."

May Fellowship committee chairmen working with Mrs. George Garver, are: publicity, Mrs. Harold Wright; tickets, Mrs. Aden Thornton; hospitality, Mrs. F. G. Latimer; programs, Mrs. Carl Nelsom; decorations, Mrs. Bruce Hubbard and registration, Mrs. T. Warren Fowler Sr.

Film Writer Narrows 6 Names Down to 2

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Superior Court has approved the petition of a screen writer to reduce the total of his names from six to two.

Frank Stanley Gilman Borden Chase Fowler obtained permission yesterday to narrow his name down to Borden Chase. He explained:

"I was named after a flock of rich relatives but it didn't take. I never inherited a thing. So I picked the name Borden Chase out of the lot for a pen name. I used the Borden on account of the milk and the Chase because of the bank."

About 27 million cars and trucks in the U. S. are now equipped with radio receiving sets.

Elbe Veterans Winging Way to Meet Soviets

NEW YORK (AP) — Nine Army veterans were winging across the Atlantic today on the first leg of a flight to Moscow and a reunion with Russian soldiers they met at the Elbe River just before Germany surrendered 10 years ago.

The group, calling itself the American Veterans of the Elbe Meeting, got funds for round-trip tickets to Paris through an appeal on a television program. The Russian government will take them from Paris to Moscow and back.

The reunion is set for May 9, although the actual anniversary of the river meeting was April 25, 1945.

Before their plane took off last night, one of the group, William Weisel of Cincinnati, said: "We are hoping to plant a little seed of brotherhood. We know we won't stop the cold war overnight but we hope that this trip will contribute a little bit toward ending it."

Sea Yields Remains of Two Jap Ships

TOKYO (AP) — Aleutian waters have yielded the remains of two missing Japanese vessels which diappeared a week ago with 45 men.

The oil-covered bodies of nine crewmen of a missing Japanese research ship were found adrift yesterday. Life jackets identified them with the 15-ton fishery research ship Hatsushio Maru. It had been missing since it radioed May 1 that it was running aground at Agattu Island.

Other Japanese fishing boats reported finding debris from the fishing craft Hoko Maru with 21 aboard, last heard from April 30 when it radioed it was in trouble in Aleutian waters. The Coast Guard said it was "presumed lost with all aboard."

The Battle of Tours is considered one of the decisive battles of the world because it saved Christian civilization in western Europe from being overwhelmed by Moslems.

Boy, 5, Hangs Self

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Mrs. Louise Tidwell saw her son Herschel, 5, playing with a rope on the back porch. Moments later he was dead. He apparently became tangled in the rope, fell and was hanged.

Tito Talks With Turk

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (AP) — Turkish Premier Adnan Menderes, on a state visit, discussed world problems yesterday with President Marshal Tito.
