We Can Beat Recession, Says Eisenhower

Pflimlin Gains Strong Support in Assembly

Promises to Take All Steps to Restore Rule Over French in Algeria

PARIS (AP) — Premier Pierre Pflimlin today held a new lease on political life to try to solve the dangerous crisis brought on by military - rightist power seizure in Algeria.

He promised to take all steps to restore the Paris regime's authority over the insurgent French in North Africa.

Gen. Charles de Gaulle still stood in the wings awaiting the call which the National Assembly didn't give him yesterday.

PREMIER PFLIMLIN

Algeria appeared to be a deliberate rebuff to the World War II hero's bid for power.

Had the Assembly wanted to return the wartime resistance leader to office, it could have paved the way by voting against Pflimlin.

Instead the Premier got support from virtually all elements in the Assembly except the extreme right.

It was one of the biggest majorities ever won by a postwar French premier, apparently due to the deputies' fears of De Gaulle's offer to head a strong-man government.

Pflimlin told the Assembly he would leave day-to-day control of Algerian affairs in the hands of Gen. Raoul Salan, army commander in the North African territory.

The government put Salan in full charge after an Algiers mob of French settlers and soldiers a week ago defied the Paris-appointed civil officials and demanded De Gaulle take over the government.

The Premier added that his government would "take all steps in the coming days to assure the complete return to legality" — a return to Paris control in Algeria.

He did not indicate how he might achieve this.

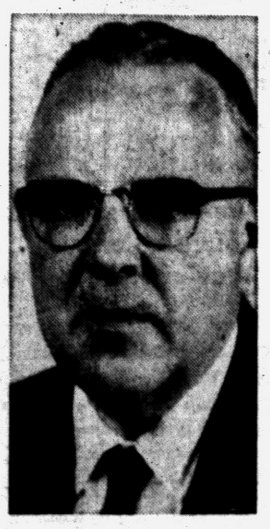
Salan himself continued to pacify the Algiers mob with pro-De Gaulle sentiments.

France is in an Assembly-decreed state of urgency giving Pflimlin the widest powers any post-war premier has had. The measure awaits only a confirming vote from the Council of the Republic, which is considered a certainty.

The government today ended all censorship on news leaving and entering France. But censorship continued on news published in France.

Dismissed Hospital Board Fires Director Carl I. Flath



CARL I. FLATH

Unsatisfactory Progress Announced as Reason; Action Unanimous

The Pontiac General Hospital Board of Trustees dismissed Carl I. Flath from his $18,500-a-year job as hospital director at a special meeting last night.

Board chairman, Willis M. Brewer, issuing a statement he said was approved by board members present, said he notified Flath of his dismissal this morning by telephone at his home.

The statement did not reveal any details. It said in part:

"The board expressed itself as not being satisfied with the progress of the hospital under his (Flath's) direction; therefore, it felt that this action was necessary in the best interest of the hospital."

Flath, 49, came to the post only six months ago to replace Miss Lauretta Paul, who resigned from the job at the board's request last summer.

After being notified by Brewer, Flath said he had "no particular observations at this time" on the board's action.

He hinted, however, that he had been prepared to quit the post later this week and added, "I felt I couldn't be happy or effective here (in Pontiac) in this particular situation, considering all circumstances."

NOT IN AGREEMENT

He would only elaborate by saying, "It has been quite clear to me our philosophies were not in agreement."

Flath said he had no "definitive plans" at present.

In the announcement, the hospital said the board's executive committee would temporarily run the hospital through its administrative heads. One board member,

Jury Selected for Hoffa Trial

New York Panel Picked in One Day for Wiretap Repeat Hearings

NEW YORK (AP) — It took only one day to select a jury for the second wiretap trial of Teamsters President James R. Hoffa yesterday.

Hoffa's first trial on charges of conspiracy to tap telephone wires ended in a deadlocked jury last December. Also on trial with Hoffa are Owen (Bert) Brennan, president of the Detroit Teamsters local, and professional wiretapper Bernard Spindel.

U.S. Atty. Paul W. Williams told the new jury the government would prove 16 separate acts of conspiracy to tap telephones in the Detroit Union headquarters where Hoffa makes his headquarters. The trial will be held in New York because the conspiracy allegedly took place there.

Williams said the defendants wanted to spy on union underlings, "to find out what they were thinking, what they were doing and what they were saying."

GIANT GET WELL NOTE — Pontiac Western Union manager J. F. Slattery was undaunted today when this lengthy telegram arrived at his office. It was a get well note for University of Michigan student Fred E. Charm, 20, of Newton, Miss., who broke his neck diving into Pine Lake Sunday. Signing it were 900 fellow U. of M. students. Here Mrs. Ralph Alee helps Slattery check the message, the longest handled at the local office. Charm is in Pontiac General Hospital.

Perry Street Widening Dooms Majestic Trees

OLD FRIENDS MUST GO — Take a last look at shady Perry street. Most of the towering trees will be gone by tomorrow night to make way for widening by the State Highway Department. This view is towards downtown from the School street intersection. The state trunkline (M 24) is to be widened and repaved from E. Huron street to the northeast city limits, where it joins the already divided M 24 to Lake Orion. Portions of Perry are closed to through traffic during widening operations.

Reuther Battles Split Bargaining

Urges NLRB to Deny Craft Units' Request for Separate Talks

DETROIT (AP) — Walter P. Reuther today pleaded with the National Labor Relations Board to deny in the national interest the request of craft units to bargain separately with the auto industry.

The United Auto Workers president told the board that craft groups created a serious problem with less than 10 days remaining for the UAW to conclude new agreements with the auto makers.

Reuther said, "We can't conclude an agreement even if we were in agreement, which we are not," until it is known whether the UAW will continue to represent craftsmen as well as production workers.

He urged the board to apply to the auto industry the same principle of over-all bargaining that it applies to the steel industry.

The auto companies were expected to support Reuther's stand against splitting tradesmen into separate bargaining units.

General Motors and the UAW, deadlocked in negotiations for a new contract covering 350,000 GM workers, recessed bargaining until tomorrow to make way for the NLRB hearing.

The UAW is battling to retain bargaining rights for all of GM's 250,000 skilled workers. GM prefers overall bargaining with the UAW rather than separate bargaining with comparatively small units.

Included in the groups of skilled workers on which the NLRB will make decisions will be:

The International Society of Skilled Trades (Independent) at Pontiac Motors Division of GM;

The Society of Tool and Die Craftsmen (Independent) at Fisher Body Division of GM.

Pretzel Maker Beats Stassen in Primary

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Harold Stassen's bold venture into strictly Pennsylvania politics ended in shattered wreckage today.

Republican organization leaders steered their ticket to easy victory in a statewide primary election.

Stassen, campaigning for the GOP nomination for governor was beaten by more than 225,000 votes by Arthur T. McGonigle, a Reading pretzel manufacturer making his first campaign for any office.

Veteran Congressman Hugh Scott of Philadelphia easily won the GOP nomination for U. S. Senate.

It was a similar story in the Democratic primary. Mayor David L. Lawrence of Pittsburgh won his party's nomination for governor and Gov. George M. Leader was nominated for Senate, both by overwhelming margins.

Both had tremendous support as the party organization slate.

Republican returns from 8,381 of 8,887 precincts showed:

Governor: McGonigle 552,762; Stassen 320,902. One of the other two candidates, William S. Livengood Jr., had 129,112.

Senator: Scott 727,567; Weldon B. Heyburn, who ran on the Stassen slate, 152,635.

In the Democratic primary, returns from 8,469 precincts gave: Governor: Lawrence 691,763; Lt. Gov. Roy E. Furman, 183,195.

Senator: Leader 685,179; Clarence P. Bowers, who ran on the Furman slate, 240,276.

Voters in the November general election will pick successors to Leader, second Democratic governor in 60 years, and to Sen. Edward Martin, Republican, who is retiring after two terms.

For governor, it will be Law-

Arrest of Couple Ends Vigil Here

Slaying Suspects Held in South Had Relatives in Pontiac Area

A young couple sought in a double murder in Texas was arrested yesterday near Arlington, Tenn., ending a vigil on the part of Pontiac and Oakland County law enforcement agencies.

On Monday a couple in Somerset, Tex., were murdered and their money and car stolen.

Texas authorities suspected a Will Long. Long, 28, with his wife, Kay, and their 2-month-old daughter were believed headed for Pontiac.

The couple has close relatives in Pontiac and Sylvan Lake.

Pontiac police set up an around-the-clock watch on the relatives' home here, while State Police and Sheriff's Deputies watched at Sylvan Lake. All patrols were alerted for the car.

The vigil ended this morning when the news of the arrest by an alert Tennessee highway patrolman was received.

Trooper Walter Duffey stopped the couple's car for a routine check. He asked Long for his driver's license and registration.

★ ★ ★

Long produced the license, but no registration. Duffey ordered him to wait while he contacted the patrol dispatcher in Arlington to check with Texas authorities on the ownership of the car.

The dispatcher earlier had happened to tune in on the Arkansas highway patrol radio and heard the description of the Longs as wanted in Texas.

By this time, Mrs. Long became nervous and blurted to Duffey, "This car is stolen and my husband killed a man."

A check with Somerset authorities disclosed the two are wanted in the death of Mr. and Mrs. Allen B. Lippman. Somerset is about 20 miles southwest of San Antonio.

Sunshine Tomorrow, High of 77 Predicted

Fair and a litle warmer is the weatherman's forecast for most sections of Lower Michigan tonight, with a low near 52.

Tomorrow will be fair and mild with the high reaching around 77, and tomorrow night will be partly cloudy and warmer with the low about 57.

Temperatures will average near or slightly below the normal high of 71 and the normal low of 61 for the next five days. Friday and Saturday will become cooler with a warming trend again Sunday and Monday.

Precipitation will total approximately one-quarter inch in scattered showers about Thursday night and Friday.

The lowest recording in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. was 49 degrees. The thermometer said 67 at 2 p.m.

Sees Economy Taking Upturn Any Time Now

Puts Much Stress on Dangers of Inflation, Mounting Deficits

NEW YORK (AP) — President Eisenhower told the nation last night that an economic upturn is in the making.

He foresaw a future bursting with vitality and promise.

"No single person and no single group, however wise, can name the day or the week when the upturn will begin," the President said.

The slump is not over by any means, he said. He added, however, that reports from the nation strongly indicate that the recession is slowing down.

Once again he promised that decisions on tax cut proposals will be made soon.

He put so much stress on the dangers in inflation and mounting deficits that he appeared to rule out the likelihood of White House support for a general cut in federal income taxes.

James C. Hagerty, his press secretary, told newsmen in response to questions that the President's remarks about an early decision on taxes should not be interpreted as meaning necessarily that the administration will advocate a cut.

The President addressed 2,600 business leaders at an economic mobilization conference called by the American Management Assn.

He was introduced at the conference dinner by Vice President Nixon.

The vice president told the business executives at an afternoon session that political pressure for an emergency tax cut directed solely at benefiting consumers should be resisted.

Early in his speech the President called on all Americans to marshal for a new offensive to promote an early upturn and renewed economic growth that is vigorous and strong.

He made a strong plea to industry and labor to reduce prices and avoid inflationary wage rises.

His recommendation that labor forego pay increases that would raise prices was enthusiastically received.

The business executives also applauded when the President pledged his administration would avoid costly new public works programs.

The audience was silent, however, when Eisenhower advocated less timidity on price cuts and capital investments.

American consumers, he cautioned will express resentment "in ways that are clear and painful" unless future wage and price hikes are justified by increased productivity.

Without such justification, he said, the whole economy will suffer.

The President said the federal government is carrying part of the load in efforts to end the recession. But he also said once again that the biggest part of the task must be shouldered by private business.

"Our economy has grown strong," the President said, "because our people have made jobs for each other and have not relied on the government to try to do it for them."

The audience interrupted the speech six times with applause. At the close, Eisenhower received a 45-second standing ovation.

He flew back to Washington.

Top Democrats Dispute Ike's Optimistic Outlook

WASHINGTON (INS)—Top Democrats disputed President Eisenhower's optimistic economic outlook today and called for quick tax cuts to curb the recession.

Republicans, however, gave him "100 per cent" endorsement.

Two top Senate Democrats, "Whip" Mike Mansfield and Finance Committee member Paul H. Douglas, challenged Eisenhower's estimate.

Mansfield declared simply: "I wish I could be as sanguine as the President."

Douglas declared that the chief executive's speech reminded him "of what President Herbert Hoover was saying 28 years ago—namely that prosperity was just around the corner."

The two Democrats, while agreeing with Eisenhower that tax cuts should not be "the subject of political competition," called for a quick decision on the matter and recommended their own tax reduction plans.

The President said "certain decisions will shortly be taken" in the tax area "after consultation with congressional leaders." He added the decisions "will be made in the light of the latest information regarding the economic situation and with a full evaluation of the probable short and long range consequences."

Mansfield said the tax problem is "not so much a political issue" but it is one "that must be decided and soon." The Montanan suggested eliminating excise taxes on autos, transportation and freight as "one way business could be helped to do the things the President wants it to do."

Douglas, a member of the Finance Committee, called for "action now" and said "the most effective means to spur recovery is a six billion dollar tax cut—evenly distributed to promote consumer purchasing power."

Vice President Richard M. Nixon, participating in a panel discussion of the same group addressed by the President, said he still is in favor of a tax cut in preference to large public works projects to stimulate business.

He also warned that millions of persons in other countries are watching the U.S. economic situation closely and asking whether the American or Soviet system can produce a better way of life. Nixon said: "If we can't recover, economically, it will give the Communists a chance to beat us over the head . . . all over the world."

To Arrange Dedication of New City Post Office

The dedication of the $850,000 building, now under construction on West Huron street between Genesee avenue and Chippewa road, will be sponsored by the Chamber with the cooperation of Acting Postmaster Robert C. Miller, and the Post Office Department, according to John A. Riley, Chamber president.

★ ★ ★

The actual ceremony is expected to be held sometime in mid-July on a Saturday in accordance with the expected completion date of the building, he added.

Invitations have already been sent to Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield, as well as area congressmen and senators.

Riley said a reception is being planned for Pontiac postal employes and their families in the new building the evening before the formal afternoon dedication.

Other committee chairmen named for the occasion are: Al Holcomb, finance; W. K. Willman, decorations; Leslie W. Langford, identifications; Russell Fahr, catering; Herbert W. Straley, parking; Frank Lyndall, reception; John W. Hirlinger, music; Miller and Hirlinger, program and invitations and Miller, display, ushers and tours.

Moves to Better City Hospital

Commission OKs Plan for Parking Lot, Grants Money for Equipment

City Commissioners last night took three steps leading to more improvements at Pontiac General Hospital.

They authorized City Manager Walter K. Willman to proceed with planning for a 214-stall municipal parking lot there; they set about borrowing another $317,000 for furnishings and equipment; and they approved an $8,332 expenditure for extra equipment.

Willman was authorized to negotiate for purchase of ten private parcels south of the hospital between Johnson and Seminole avenues.

The $200,000 price of the lot, he told the Commission in a written report, would be raised through two loans, $150,000 from a 15-year revenue bond issue and $50,000 from capital improvement funds. Both would be paid back out of parking meter revenues, he said.

The city aims at installing the lot by fall, before the present expansion program is completed and the parking situation becomes critical, Willman said.

Oscar Eckman, city finance director, was authorized to apply to the Michigan Finance Commission for permission to borrow the second portion of a total $950,000 which the city has earmarked for hospital equipment and furnishings out of capital improvement funds.

The second note would be sold about two weeks after the state approves the sale. The interest rate was set at a maximum four per cent, but the city hopes it can get a bid comparable to the highly-favorable 1¾ per cent rate set by the Community National Bank, which picked up the first $317,000 note early this year.

The second note would be payable Sept. 1, 1959 out of the 1959 property tax collections. The city plans to borrow the third installment of $316,000 next year on 1960 taxes.

★ ★ ★

The extra equipment cost is for expansion and remodeling of dumb waiters in the original hospital building, Willman said. He said it is the first, large item not anticipated in the original contracts.

★ ★ ★

Any extra cost over $2,500 must be approved by the City Commission. The Hospital Board of Trustees can authorize extra expenditures under that amount, but they are reviewed by Willman first.

Says Spending by U.S. to Rise

Budget Head Predicts $80 Billion Figure for 1959-60 Fiscal Year

WASHINGTON (AP) — Budget Director Maurice Stans predicted today federal spending for the fiscal year starting July 1, 1959, will increase to about 80 billion dollars.

Stans made the forecast after he and President Eisenhower concluded their first discussion of the budget for that fiscal year.

As for the budget for the fiscal year starting July 1, Stans said he looks for a deficit ranging between 8 and 10 billion dollars. And that, he said, does not take into account the possibility of any tax reduction.

When Eisenhower sent that budget to Congress last January, he estimated spending for the fiscal year at $73,900,000,000. He also predicted at that time a surplus of 500 million dollars.

★ ★ ★

Since then, the business recession has brought a decline in tax revenues and an increase in government spending plans.

Stans said he and Eisenhower did not discuss the tax situation.

The President said in a New York speech last night that the administration will decide soon, after consultation with congressional leaders of both parties, whether to advocate a tax cut.

Fire Hospital Director Flath

Harold B. Euler, was asked to act as liasion officer between the board and the hospital.

Brewer said the board would begin the job of finding a new director.

FLATH SURPRISED

The hurried action left the dapper, genial Flath near tears. He said he was surprised by it.

"It is an interesting coincidence that it was my intention to take action on the matter in the current week," he said.

"We haven't recently agreed entirely on certain administrative principles, which is not entirely unusual between executive personnel and boards. But from my standpoint, I have no hard feelings towards any member of the board, individually or collectively."

Asked if he thought the dismissal reflected criticism of a traffic accident two months ago, which resulted in a charge of drunk and disorderly against him, Flath replied, "I don't think so. That could happen even to members of the board."

The administrator eventually pleaded guilty to a reduced charge of disturbing the peace and paid $50 fine and costs.

Following the accident, the board held at least two secret meetings, the last one in the offices of trustee Edward P. Barrett, an attorney, in the Pontiac State Bank Building.

NO ACTION TAKEN

Flath was present at the end of the second meeting, but no action was taken.

These occurred only a few weeks before the hospital was brought into court in the $250,000 damage suit brought last fall by Dr. Neil H. Sullenberger to reverse his suspension from the medical staff.

It was Flath's answer to the surgeon's suit that brought national prominence to the case and the threat that the medical world would be forced to wash its linen in public.

Using hospital records prepared by the medical staff, Flath charged Dr. Sullenberger with violating professional standards in this area in 25 of his cases, in six of which the patient died, he said.

Dr. Sullenberger was preparing to subpoena other members of the staff to testify about their medical practices when the suit was dismissed. He wanted to show his standards were as high as other doctors.

The administrator came under fire from the board two months ago for failing to economize where the board deemed it necessary. Brewer expressed "disappointment" then for Flath's failure to make personnel cuts, allowing instead the total number of hospital employes to rise from 545 to 563 since the time he took over last September.

This represented a sharp change in attitude from last fall, when Brewer said in hiring Flath, "We feel we have made an outstanding choice."

FOLLOWS DEDICATION

The dismissal came 10 days after the impressive ceremonies dedicating the hospital expansion program in which Flath played an important part.

Last night's action developed, Brewer said, at a regularly-scheduled meeting at the hospital of the board's finance committee. He said that during the meeting, it was decided to call a special session of the whole board.

Brewer would not say what prompted this decision. He mentioned only that the finance committee apparently was irked by the fact that representatives of the hospital's auditing firm did not show up as anticipated.

Flath was blamed for this, Brewer said.

Of the 11-member board, nine were present at the special meeting and voted unanimously to oust Flath, Brewer said. Of the other two who couldn't be reached by telephone last night, Cecil J. Cosgrove concurred in the action when informed about it this morning, Brewer said. The eleventh trustee, Isaac Smoot, had not yet been reached, Brewer added.

The executive committee which will administrate the hospital consists of Brewer, as board chairman; Mrs. B. B. Roush, vice-chairman; Rev. Theodore R. Allebach, secretary, and James Clarkson, treasurer.

UAW Calls Ford Letter 'Propaganda Document'

DETROIT (AP) — The United Auto Workers Union said today Ford Motor Co. was using a "propaganda document to excuse the company from responsibility for a general shutdown in June."

Ken Bannon, national director of the UAW's Ford Department, said a letter issued by Ford Vice President John S. Bugas to 14,000 management personnel was "an excuse for the company's refusal to face up to its responsibilities to its workers, its stockholders and to the nation."

The Bugas letter said Ford would continue operations if no new contract settlement is reached with the UAW by the time the present contract expires June 1. It also said there was a "basis for strongly suspecting" the UAW would try to delay a settlement until after the 1959 models were introduced in order to better its bargaining position.

Bannon said the letter aimed to "excuse the company from responsibility for a general shutdown in June which the authoritative Ward's Auto Report already has said the automotive big three are contemplating in order to deplete their inflated inventories."

★ ★ ★

Bannon also accused Ford of not engaging in "serious negotiations up to this time."

★ ★ ★

The Bugas letter also said "the union's purported willingness to work without a contract is not necessarily to be taken at face value" and said the union might "harrass" Ford with slowdowns, work stoppages and sabotage.

'An Explosion—Then Flames, Wreckage'

Survivor Tells of Air Collision

BRUNSWICK, Md., (AP) — Capt. Julius R. McCoy, sole survivor of a plane collision that killed 12 persons, leaned back in his hospital bed and took a drag from a cigarette.

"We were cruising at about 8,000 feet in clear air," he said. "At no time did I see another plane. The next thing I knew there seemed to be an explosion. There were flames and wreckage all around me."

The 34-year-old Air National Guard officer, his hands swathed in bandages, his face red, black and blue from second-degree burns, was the only person to live through yesterday's collision. His condition was not serious.

A Chicago-to-Baltimore Capital airliner and the Air Guard T33 jet trainer collided over the lush Potomac River Valley eight miles west of this railroad town and about 50 miles northwest of Washington.

The four crewmen and seven passengers aboard the turbo-prop airliner were killed, along with the only passenger in the trainer. Capt. McCoy was blown from the jet plane by the explosion and his parachute somehow opened, carrying him to safety.

In Washington, two congressional investigations of air safety were set swiftly in motion as a result of the collision. The Air National Guard also convened an accident investigation board.

★ ★ ★

A Civil Aeronautics Board spokesman said no explanation of the crash could be expected "until the final report is made which, as a rule, takes some months."

The Air Guard said the trainer was on an orientation flight limited to a 100-mile radius of Baltimore.

It was the third air collision this year between passenger-carrying planes and military aircraft.

On Feb. 1, 48 persons died in the collision of a military air transport and a Navy patrol bomber over the Los Angeles suburb of Norwalk. On April 21, a United airliner and an Air Force jet trainer collided near Las Vegas, killing 49.

★ ★ ★

A farmer who witnessed the collision, Malcolm Loy, said:

★ ★ ★

"I saw the jet come out of a cloud and hit the airliner behind the left wing. The jet exploded and the airliner went into a spin."

A state policeman said later he was told by Capt. McCoy that the T33 was flying "in a light cloud cover."

★ ★ ★

The collision occurred about 11 a.m. and it was four hours later before the body of the second man in the jet trainer, Pfc. Donald A. Chalmers of Baltimore, was pulled from the wreckage.

The Day in Birmingham

Arts Festival Exceeding Expectations, Thom Says

BIRMINGHAM — The Birmingham Arts Festival is exceeding expectations, Robert Thom, general chairman said today.

Merchants displaying paintings and art works in their windows have reported business is up, and many of them already are looking forward to next year's festival, Thom said.

The nine-day affair, sponsored by the Bloomfield Hills Art Association, got under way Saturday morning with a flower garland dance at Quarton Lake Falls.

The festival will wind up Sunday evening with the presentation of a concert by the Birmingham Musicale at the Community House. It will begin at 8 p.m.

This afternoon the Little Gallery at 915 E. Maple Rd. is holding open house. Featured will be Laszlo Ispanski, a Hungarian refugee sculptor at Cranbrook, working with a live model.

A chamber music concert by members of the Detroit Symphony at 8:30 this evening at the Community House is practically a sellout, Thom said.

The Young Adult Club of the Birmingham Y.M.C.A will attend a square dance at 8 p.m. Friday at the Northeastern YMCA, Gratiot and Harper, in Detroit.

The following weekend, the group will go to Camp Nissokene, near Oscoda. The weekend activity, sponsored by Metropolitan YMCA Young Adult Council, will begin Memorial Day and last through Sunday, June 1.

Reservations may be made at the Birmingham Branch YMCA.

A trip to Metropolitan Beach on Lake St. Clair in June will be the club's last outing of the season.

All single men and women between the ages of 20 and 40 may participate in the program.

Proposes Aid to Small Firms

Weeks Lays His Plans Before Congress as Way of Fighting Slump

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Commerce Weeks laid before Congress today five proposals for aiding small business as a means of fighting the recession.

In testimony prepared for the House Banking Committee, Weeks said: "I anticipate that the economic picture will be much brighter this year and the next if we do the right things now."

Four suggestions by Weeks would involve changes in tax regulations. The fifth calls for government encouragement of private investment companies which would make loans to small business.

The four suggested tax changes:

1. Revision of the Internal Revenue Code to permit investors in small businesses to deduct in full any losses of up to $50,000 in any one year.

2. Authorize businesses to depreciate at faster-than-usual rates purchases of used equipment not exceeding perhaps $50,000 in any one year. Weeks said most new businesses start with used equipment and that any increase in the use of such equipment would ultimately lead to larger purchases of new equipment.

3. Allow small corporations the privilege of being taxed as partnerships in certain cases. He said this would give them greater stability and would involve a relatively small revenue loss to the government.

4. Allow the payment of estate taxes over a period of up to 10 years by estates consisting largely of investments in closely held business firms. This would avoid many cases of forced sales in order to pay taxes, Weeks said.

Watch for— Shopportunity Days in Pontiac

Shopportunity Days — a mid-spring opportunity for families to shop for special values in timely merchandise will be staged by the Downtown Retail Merchant's Assn. Friday and Saturday.

Victor Hoerath, promotion committee chairman for the association, said members have agreed to offer outstanding buys in items now so that families can prepare for the holidays, picnics, vacations, Father's Day, graduations and other special occasions ahead this spring and summer.

"We urge shoppers to watch the advertisements in tomorrow's Pontiac Press for some of the fine buys available to them from downtown merchants Friday and Saturday," Hoerath stated.

"We plan to give the public now the kind of values that usually are found only after a season is about over. This way they can make use of their purchases for the full summer season ahead," he added.

It May Cost You 4 Cents to Send Letter on August 1

WASHINGTON (AP)—The cost of mailing a letter appeared likely today to rise to 4 cents Aug. 1.

Quick passage was predicted as the Senate prepared to take up a compromise bill to raise postal rates and pay. House passage, possibly tomorrow, would send the measure on to the White House.

Higher rates for first-class mail —4 cents for letters, 7 cents for air mail and 3 cents for postcards —would become effective Aug. 1 if President Eisenhower signs the bill before the end of May. Graduated increases in rates for other types of mail also are provided.

The bill also would boost the pay of 500,000 postal workers as of last Jan. 1—one of several features which had led to some predictions Eisenhower might veto the bill. Raises would range from 7½ to 10 per cent.

A Republican senator reported today that Postmaster General Summerfield strongly endorsed the measure at a White House conference of GOP leaders Monday. The senator, asking that his name not be used, saw this as a strong indication Eisenhower would sign the bill.

Senate staff experts said the added revenue from rate increases in the bill now is figured at 575 million dollars annually at full effect instead of the 530 million announced when the conferees completed their work last Wednesday.

They said also the pay raises for the 500,000 postal employes would total about 265 million dollars a year instead of the 257 million figured last week.

However, the pay boost is retroactive to Jan. 1 so that the total cost in the first full year of operation is estimated at about 390 million.

The rate increases will bring in only about 457 million in the fiscal year starting July 1 because some of them do not take full effect for nearly four years.

Thus the bill would cut only about 67 million dollars off the estimated 700-million-dollar postal deficit in the next year.

Over half the additional revenue in the bill, about 315 million dollars, would result from raising the letter stamp from 3 to 4 cents. Eisenhower had asked for a 5-cent rate on out-of-town mail, 4 cents on local.

Second-class (newspapers and magazines) rates would be raised 60 per cent on the advertising and 30 per cent on the editorial portion of a publication. They would take effect in three annual 20 and 10 per cent jumps with the first one next Jan. 1, 1959.

Third-class (largely advertising circulars) would be increased 66 2-3 per cent in two steps. The bulk piece rate would go up from 1½ to 2 cents Jan. 1, 1959, and to 2½ cents July 1, 1960.

Crossing Guard's Son Decapitated by Train

SAN JOSE, Calif. (AP)—A crossing guard's son was decapitated by a Southern Pacific commuter train last night.

Terry Caldwell, 18, a high school sophomore, waited on his bicycle for a northbound train to go by. Then he pedaled across the tracks into the second coach of a southbound train. He was thrown under the wheels.

Terry was a son of Wilford Caldwell, a Southern Pacific crossing guard.

Maryland Dems for D'Alesandro

Baltimore Mayor Wins Nod as Candidate for U.S. Senate

BALTIMORE (AP) — Mayor Thomas D'Alesandro, for 32 years a storm center Maryland politics, emerged from a seven-way scramble today as the state's Democratic candidate for U.S. Senate.

The victory of the colorful 54-year-old Baltimore mayor set up a November contest between him and Republican Sen. J. Glenn Beall, who was renominated to a second term over token opposition.

D'Alesandro won by a wide margin over his closest opponent, George P. Mahoney, the paving contractor who was the Democratic senatorial nominee in 1952 and 1956.

Unofficial returns from 1,335 of the state's 1,337 polling places gave D'Alesandro 124,500 votes, Mahoney 118,957, and former diplomat James Bruce 57,208. The other four aspirants trailed far behind.

This decisive margin, plus the warmth of Mahoney's statement conceding the nomination, led D'Alesandro and his running mates on a self-styled "harmony" ticket to predict a united party front for the November elections.

Also victorious were the mayor's Democratic running mates, J. Millard Tawes for governor, Atty. Gen. C. Ferdinand Sybert for renomination and State Sen. Louis L. Goldstein for comptroller.

Tawes' opponent in November will be Rep. James P. S. Devereux, the moustachioed former Marine general who was unopposed for the Republican gubernatorial nomination. Devereux was picked for the slot with the blessing of Republican Gov. Theodore R. McKeldin, who is ineligible for a third straight term.

New York Opens War on Litterbugs

NEW YORK (AP) — The City Sanitation Department is cracking down hard on litterbugs.

After a five-week educational campaign, 1,300 sanitation patrolmen took to the streets yesterday and handed out 892 summonses within 5½ hours.

The biggest batch—220—went to janitors and property owners accused of having improper or insufficient receptacles for refuse.

Among the 892 tagged was postal clerk Erwin Ferber. As he watched a store owner argue with a patrolman over a summons, Ferber chewed idly on a bit of a matchbook cover.

★ ★ ★

He shook his head sadly at the storekeeper's fate and the bit of paper fell to the sidewalk. Before the bit hit, Ferber was given a summons.

The summonses bear fines up to $25.

Critics Told to Leave Suggestions on Roof (?)

CHEYENNE, Wyo. (AP)—If sidewalk superintendents have any criticism about the demolition of an old Cheyenne church, they'll have to take it to the Man Upstairs.

The roof of the church already had been removed when this sign was placed on the wall: "Sidewalk engineers with better ideas on how to wreck this building, leave note in suggestion box. Suggestion box on the roof."

A wizard, claims Carey Williams, is a man who can get a bass fiddle into one of those sports cars . . . The more we see of world developments, the more we cease to ponder the question: "When did civilization begin?" The real question is: "When WILL it begin?" —Earl Wilson.

Blames U.S. Culture for Girls' Unfitness

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP)—American girls probably could keep up with the boys in a footrace but wouldn't because it is considered unladylike to be able to run.

★ ★ ★

Culture, and not biology, is to blame for the failure of girls to improve their endurance, Paul Hunsicker, professor of physical education at the University of Michigan, said.

Hunsicker said these were among early findings in a nationwide youth fitness project he is conducting.

Mme. Chiang Due to Visit U. of M.

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP) — Mme. Chiang Kai-shek is on her way to the United States.

A government announcement said the wife of Nationalist China's president left today for a medical checkup and to receive an honorary degree from the University of Michigan.

Her departure was not announced until two hours after she left.

Mme. Chiang has been treated frequently in the United States for a persistent skin ailment.

Amateur Band Willing to Play

But Harbor Springs Ruled Too Far From Mackinac Bridge

INTERLOCHEN, (AP) — The band of the National Music Camp here is willing to take part in dedication of the Mackinac Bridge next month, but not at Harbor Springs, 37 miles from the bridge.

So said Joseph E. Maddy, camp director, in a letter to Rep. Clayton T. Morrison (R-Pickford), chairman of a legislative committee which is helping to plan the June 26-28 dedication.

Morrison's committee last week invited the 200-piece youth band to give a concert June 27 at Harbor Springs, southwest of the Straits of Mackinac.

An earlier invitation from the bride dedication committee, asking the band to perform at the bridge, was withdrawn after the Detroit Local of the American Federation of Musicians protested against use of non-union musicians.

"We cannot be a party to Michigan's complete surrender to unwarranted union threats," Maddy said in declining Morrison's invitation.

★ ★ ★

In a slap at James C. Petrillo, his long - time foe, Maddy added: "The sad thing is that the whole government of Michigan, from the governor's office through your legislative group, has bowed to the most autocratic union boss in America."

There are almost five diesel vessels to every steam vessel in operation on U. S. inland waterways.

Deaths in Pontiac and Nearby Areas

MRS. JACK F. POWERS

Mrs. Jack F. (Gladys L.) Powers of 1415 Rosedale Dr. died yesterday in Pontiac General Hospital after an illness of six years.

A graduate of Eastern Michigan College and Cleary College, she was in charge of the typing department at Crawford & Crawford until her retirement.

Mrs. Powers was active in the First Baptist Church and the Delta Alpha Sunday School class of her church.

Surviving is a brother.

Service will be at 2 p.m. Friday from the Sparks-Griffin Chapel with burial in the Walled Lake Cemetery.

ROBERT B. POWRIE

Robert B. Powrie of 290 Auburn Ave. died this morning in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital. His body is at the Sparks-Griffin Funeral Home.

MRS. HAROLD V. TARBELL

Mrs. Harold V. (Jennie) Tarbell, a former city resident, died yesterday at her home in Grand Rapids after a prolonged illness. She was 68.

Mrs. Tarbell moved to Grand Rapids with her family about 10 years ago.

Surviving besides her husband are a daughter, Mrs. Hilbert Ritsema and three sons, Eugene, Marvin and Jack, all of Grand Rapids, seven grandchildren; and two great-grandchildren.

Service will be Friday from the Alt Funeral Home in Grand Rapids with burial in the Fairplain Cemetery.

MRS. WALTER CHRYSLER

Starkweather Trial Approaching Climax

LINCOLN, Neb. (INS) — Final arguments were expected to be presented today in the first degree murder trial of accused mass killer Charles Starkweather, and the case may go to the jury before tomorrow.

The 19-year-old former garbage collector is charged with shooting Robert W. Jensen of Bennet, Neb., during a murder spree that claimed the lives of 11 persons in Nebraska and Wyoming.

Starkweather claims he killed in self-defense, but his attorneys are seeking a verdict of innocent by reason of insanity.

Bound to Circuit Court on Charge of Larceny

John Guthrie Jr., 20, of 54 Chapman St., was bound over to circuit court today on a charge of larceny from a building.

Guthrie waived examination before McCallum. He was realeased on $1,000 bond pending arraignment May 26.

Guthrie is accused of participating in the theft of $450 in cash and jewelry from the home of Mary Green, 82 Elm St., on April 26. A ring valued at $500 was among the jewelry taken.

Collision in Waterford Sends Three to Hospital

A two-car collision at Williams Lake Rd. and U.S. 10, in Waterford Township, Tuesday afternoon, sent three persons to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, according to Oakland County Sheriff's Deputies.

George C. Kimball, 51, of Daytona Beach, Fla., one of the drivers, and Ruth Kimball, 74, of 131 Oneida Stt., were X rayed for possible injuries and released.

The other driver, Laura R. terry, 17, of 245 Preston St., was treated for minor injuries and released, said the hospital.

Engine Takes Whisky

DETROIT (INS) — A diesel-type engine that will run on high-octane gasoline, jet aircraft fuel, kerosene, furnace oil, crude oil or corn whiskey is being developed by the Ordnance Tank Automotive Center in Detroit.

Mana Road Barn Fire Causes $700 Damage

An old barn at 2933 Mana Rd., Independence Township, burned to the ground yesterday as Waterford Township firemen from three stations fought the blaze.

Firemen said that sparks from trash being burned nearby were believed to have caused the blaze. Owner William Lidster estimated damage at $700. It was not covered by insurance.

PCHS Band at Its Best for Final Performance

Conducting a nationally famous band is not new for DALE C. HARRIS, supervisor of instrumental music in the Pontiac school system. Mr. HARRIS and his young musicians were at their all time best for last Friday's concert.

Over 2,000 people were on hand to witness this splendid recital which climaxed 30 years of hard work under the careful tutelage of Mr. HARRIS.

With the advent of Pontiac Northern the city will no longer be represented by one band. The present Central High School band will be split up after this year with half of its members going to the new school.

★ ★ ★

The band, along with Mr. HARRIS, culminated what has long been recognized as the most outstanding high school organization in Michigan. Year after year our band has gone forth to participate in state contests and with few exceptions emerged at the top of its classification.

★ ★ ★

Credit is due to both the musicians and Mr. Harris for bringing Pontiac this fine recognition. It has not been without work, former band pupils will attest to this. But when the chips were down, Pontiac High's band scored a beat.

★ ★ ★

It is hoped that the ensuing split-up will form the nucleus so that Pontiac Northern may soon join its sister school in bringing Pontiac national and statewide recognition.

Labor Law Speed-Up Is Urged on Congress

The Labor Welfare fund measure which passed the Senate unanimously is running into procedural delay in the House.

Hearings on broader measures to curb labor union abuses are to be held before a House Subcommittee on Labor-Management Relations, but no date has been set.

★ ★ ★

As a member of the McLELLAN Committee Senator MUNDT testified before the Senate Subcommittee on Labor. He declared that there is a definite and continuing deterioration in the relationship between union leadership and the individual rank and file member. The South Dakota Republican said that "national legislation is urgently needed to restore to the labor movement the fine, democratic relationship between union leadership and union members."

★ ★ ★

President AL HAYES of the International Association of Machinists also testified before the Senate committee in behalf of speedy action. He said that organized labor is increasingly aware of the need for curbs on corruption; that measures should be taken to require full disclosures of union financial operations and trusteeships with penalties for false statements and that all forms of bribery in labor-management relations be made a Federal offense.

★ ★ ★

Sen. MUNDT, who has four labor bills in the hopper, isn't very hopeful of any action this session. Knowing the opposition to revision of labor laws and the way Congress is organized, he doesn't expect any serious labor law revision this session unless proceedings are speeded up.

There isn't even a labor bill yet.

India's Nehru Critical of Red Attack on Tito

When Prime Minister NEHRU of India, the leading neutralist of Asia, criticizes Soviet Russia, that's news.

Addressing Congress Party leaders from all over India, NEHRU pointed out that Russian attacks on TITO were a reversal of KHRUSHCHEV's approval of the "different roads of socialism" idea. The Prime Minister sarcastically reminded India's own Communists that they had sent a goodwill greeting to TITO's party convention but withdrew it when Moscow, and Peiping too, launched their new attacks on TITO.

This, said Nehru, "has become internal interference because of external forces." In his neutralist stand he himself sometimes seems to lean in the direction of Moscow, although not pro-Communist nor anti-Western.

With Russia and Red China on India's borders, NEHRU has been forced to talk softly. His people do not seem to have understood this and public opinion polls show that KHRUSHCHEV is more popular than EISENHOWER. Communists fully control the State of Kerala in Southeast India.

★ ★ ★

Prime Minister NEHRU's attack on Communism will have a profound, and we hope beneficial effect on India itself as well as neutralist countries of Asia.

Bridge Has Name

Mackinac Span Is Known by Suggestion of Builder

Thermometer: Another thing graduated with degrees without brains.

Becoming the generally accepted name for the Mackinac bridge is

"Big Mac,"

which we modestly claim was first suggested in this column over three years ago. However, even then it was not original with me, but was suggested to me by its designer and builder,

David Bernard Steinman,

now working on a similar (but smaller) job to connect Europe and Asia at the Bosphorus. Also a top Boy Scouter, he confided this idea to me when the newspapermen were on a tour of inspection of the bridge's foundations, hoping that it never would be named for any individual. Next day our readers had it.

The mourning dove is bound for extinction in this area, according to

Mr. Funston asserts that when one is killed the mate dies of grief. He has seen the survivor remain with the dead body and refuse all food until it also died.

One Way to Detect a Glass Jaw

David Lawrence Says:

Nixon Affair Boomerangs on Reds

WASHINGTON — There is some evidence that the Moscow government is beginning to be disturbed over the consequences of the demonstrations against Vice President Nixon in Latin America. While steadily encouraging anti-Americanism in South America, the Kremlin, it is reliably reported, did not anticipate the kind of climax which now has brought a vigorous countermovement.

LAWRENCE

For today the Communist projects of the last several years are in danger. There are more than 200,000 active Communists in various Latin American countries, guided by daily Communist newspapers. A number of trade missions have been aiding in the work of political infiltration.

WORRY UNEXPECTED

The publicity due to Nixon's experience and the exposure of Communist intrigue have just given the Communists unexpected worries. Their projects will come under fire now inside every country in Latin America.

Already the four-party junta which rules Venezuela, in which the Communist Party is an equal member, is in trouble. Two civilian members of the junta have just resigned in protest against the inaction of the Venezuelan police.

As for the strange behavior of the police—directed by a cabinet minister of Communist sympathies—significant comment comes from Earl Mazo of the staff of the New York "Herald Tribune," who was an eyewitness to the incidents in which Nixon's life was threatened. He writes:

"The Caracas killer mob of 300 screeching Communist-led individuals, ranging from teenagers to aged derelicts, attacked Nixon's car as his motorcade was stalled in a mysterious traffic tieup. The Venezuelan police either vanished or froze where they stood. The tieup occurred in a midtown area that is notorious for bloodshed in revolutions and riots. . . .

REPORTS PHONED

President Eisenhower naturally got reports by telephone about the incident. He decided to send Marines to a nearby point in the Caribbean to be ready "just in case." Thoughtless critics promptly assailed him for doing so.

But supposing Nixon had been trampled upon and taken prisoner, what would the critics have said? Of course they would have denounced the President for not having taken proper precautions.

Should Vice President Nixon have canceled the trip to Latin America?

Secretary Dulles answers this way:

"These things, you know, are much simpler to judge after the event than before the event. I believe myself, in the light of what we knew before Vice President Nixon went there, it was a quite correct judgment on his part to go.

"I think if we had all known what was going to happen there and had been able to foresee the events, probably he would not have gone. But, you know, if you don't go to places because of threats you will be locked up at home.

"I have never gone to any country in the world, hardly, but what I have had threats and there have been demonstrations of one sort or another. It is so with the vice president, who has also visited a great many countries.

"The miscalculation in the case of the visit to Caracas was primarily a miscalculation as to the adequacy and efficiency of the police force. It virtually melted away at the sight of trouble. That wasn't anticipated.

"I don't know whether it could have been anticipated or not. But if there had been an adequate handling of that situation by the police, such as occurs in most countries, there would not have been any reason whatever to have concluded that the trip was unwise to have undertaken."

The Country Parson

"It seems a lot easier for folks to get worked up about something if they're against it than if they're for it."

Dr. William Brady Says:

Reader Makes New Claim for Calcium, Vitamin D

Here's an "indication" for an adequate daily ration of calcium and vitamin D that is new to me —I'm telling about it here because I'm sure it can do no harm and I don't want to overlook any thing that may possibly prevent or relieve suffering.

One J. A. — (I don't know whether it would be John or Jane —) writes:

"For 20 years I DR. BRADY suffered with painful piles, both bleeding and burning. Injection method was temporarily helpful; but later when severe burning resulted, suppositories and warm baths gave relief. The burning was so painful that I had to take pain-killing drugs and once a hypodermic injection of morphine, I suppose.

A month ago a druggist friend suggested calcium . . . In a matter of three days all the wretched burning stopped and I have not had to use any other medication or method of relief since.

"The druggist tells me that he has long recommended calcium to truck drivers and others whose occupation predisposes to piles.

"Now I wonder why one of the doctors I consulted did not recommend this wonderful and simple relief instead of vehemently recommending surgery and prescribing non-effective suppositories." (J. A. Whosit.)

FIRST SUCH CASE

In the first place, this is the only instance of such simple relief of painful external piles that has been reported to me. In the next place, truck drivers, bus drivers, engine drivers or chauffers are no more likely to have piles than other people.

And in any case of external piles, an "attack," such as J. A. Whosit describes, is usually limited in duration; so, if the victim "tries" a variety of remedies the poor sufferer is likely to credit the latest remedy used before the attack subsides with the relief or "cure."

My space here is so restricted that I hesitate to deal with the nature, cause and relief of piles (hemorrhoids). If you have any such trouble, send me a stamped, self-addressed envelope for the pamphlet "You Need Not Have Piles."

Perhaps J. A. Whosit's praise of calcium as a remedy for painful piles impresses me because:

1. I know that most Americans get insufficient calcium from day to day to maintain good nutrition and good health.

2. One physiological function of calcium is to regulate excitability of nerve fibres and nerve centers — nature's tranquilizer.

3. I believe that an adequate daily intake of calcium (of course accompanied with vitamin D to insure utilization of the calcium) raises the pain threshold, regardless of the nature or cause of the pain. More about this in booklet "The Calcium Shortage," for which send 35c and stamped, self-addressed envelope.

★ ★ ★

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Case Records of a Psychologist

Poker Face Nearly Ruins Business

Don's face was his great problem. And it almost ruined him financially. It wasn't scarred or ugly, nor did he have a crossed eye. See what threatened his business success; then profit from Don's mistake. And send for the "Introvert-Extrovert Test" mentioned below. It's fun and also good insurance for success.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE Y - 315: Don G., aged 32, recently purchased a small retail grocery store.

★ ★ ★

"Dr. Crane, I'm afraid Don will fail," his devoted wife anxiously informed me.

"And I'll tell you why. Don grew up as a lonely child. And he developed a great admiration for Indians, especially their stoical nature.

DR. CRANE

"So, during the teens, Don purposely cultivated a 'poker' face. In high school he wouldn't laugh when others did.

"He took great pride in showing no visible sign of either grief or joy.

"Alas, that blank expression has now become a habit. So when customers enter the store, Don never smiles.

"I have prodded him into greeting customers, for he didn't even say a word to them the first few weeks.

"But he still does not smile. And I feel his 'poker' face is going to ruin us in this store, for we have a heavy mortgage on it."

Don is an extreme introvert. Such a person must be cautious about investing his life's savings in a business where he must meet people.

For a merchant or any other person who "fronts" for a firm, should wear a smile and greet customers.

Bookkeepers and mechanics and carpenters and farmers are usually introverts, for they have worked with inanimate objects so long, they haven't needed to smile.

But salesmen and teachers and politicians and information clerks deal with human beings. So they are inclined toward extroversion.

However, you aren't born as an introvert or an extrovert. You acquire these types of personality AFTER birth.

★ ★ ★

The oldest child is thus more introvertive, whereas the younger child is extrovertive. Remember the Prodigal Son?

He was a typical extrovert who spent money freely and liked to be with people.

His older brother was a good farmer and stickler for details, since he was a typical introvert.

COMPLIMENT CLUB

When I invented the "Compliment Club" for one of my psychology classes at Northwestern University, it was to meet the needs of men like Don.

House-to-house selling is one of the quickest but most rigorous ways to change a shy introvert into a talkative extrovert.

★ ★ ★

But many people don't feel they can afford to give up a good job to try door-to-door salesmanship. So they should join the "Compliment Club" wherein they are to pay a sincere compliment to three people every day.

Don, too, should practice smiling before the mirror. When he shaves in the morning, he should wreath his face in a broad grin.

★ ★ ★

And he should reward his children for reminding him to smile. "Daddy, you're not smiling!" his youngsters can exclain whenever he slips back into his poker face.

At the outset, it makes you feel very self-conscious and conspicuous as you arbitrarily force a smile to your lips. But soon the act of smiling becomes habitual.

Then you will grin automatically and not even be aware of that fact. Remember, ALL people who serve the public should learn to wear a smile and start conversation by speaking first.

★ ★ ★

For further advice on "Introverts vs. Extroverts," send for that test, enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus 20 cents (non-profit).

It is also great fun as a party game at church or school or in your home.

★ ★ ★

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

'Now's the Time to Get Your Mailbox in Shape'

This is the season when the Post Office, through the Postmaster, emphasizes the importance of reconditioning your mail boxes, especially those boxes being served by carriers using the motor vehicle.

We letter carriers are extremely interested in this program because it makes it much easier to serve you. Please see that the box is the right height in relation to the window of the vehicle serving the area. Replace that rusty old mail box which is apt to injure a finger. Is the box large enough to hold all the mail? Examine the approaches to the box to see that all holes are filled in.

Special instructions are available if necessary. Your thoughtful and kind assistance will be greatly appreciated by us.

'Read the Contract and Then Decide'

The new highway I said "no one wants" is the one proposed to go through Farmington, not the one east of Pontiac. Mr. Leesam says my statement that the money would be used for another purpose is untrue. I would refer him to Mr. Mackie's recent speech, wherein he stated he had a "legal" opinion that the money (from bonds sold for Northwestern) could be used for other purposes. The inference is obvious. I suggest Mr. Leesam obtain a copy of the contract between the State and Oakland County Road Commission and study it.

'Is FBI Head That Perfect?

You condemn Cyrus S. Eaton in an editorial because he doesn't favor J. Edgar Hoover's vigorous talk and action against the Communists. How do you know Eaton isn't right?

Is everything Hoover does perfect just because it's Hoover? Hoover always wants more money to chase the Reds and there's no real way of knowing whether he's justified. The whole thing deserves calm discussion and patient, frank talk.

'Nixons' Conduct Was Remarkable'

The recent assault on our vice president was a downright low and cowardly trick. And our President acted exactly as he should have by calling on our forces to guarantee his safe return home if at all possible.

★ ★ ★

Many will argue he was wrong, but he was an invited guest and should have been given adequate protection. It was remarkable how Mr. and Mrs. Nixon conducted themselves during such an ordeal and the secret service men also deserve great credit.

★ ★ ★

These countries think of the U.S. only as a credit bureau. If so many promises had not been made years ago, we wouldn't be in the position we are today. I hope we're not foolish enough to loan them a few million now. That's like getting knocked down and kissed afterwards.

'Big Firms Force Little Guys Out'

As a business man, I protest against GM offering to extend the current CIO contract two years. This is unfair, for two years ago when the present contract was signed, business was much better than it is now.

★ ★ ★

Maybe GM can afford to go along, but the nation's full of firms like mine that can't. We demand a step backward. If the three big auto companies sign for two more years at the current rates, it will almost force the rest of us to do the same and we can't afford it.

★ ★ ★

Some of us are barely hanging on now. And some of us have quit hanging on. These huge corporations must consider the little guys. The nation needs all of the little ones even more than it does the few big ones for the total of all of us is greater than the total of the biggies. Unless we succeed, there will be no prosperity for anyone.

'Tell My Folks It's All Right'

My friends go steady but my parents object to my doing it. Will someone convince my mother and father there's nothing wrong in doing something others do regularly? There's one boy that wants me to and I vote for him. I don't want to be a square.

Here's Another Idea for Police

I would like to suggest the City of Pontiac fire all its policemen, retain the chief and install automation in the Public Safety Building. It seems the only way the chief could successfully administer the department as he is incapable of getting along with other human beings.

'Will We Repeat Wet Weekends?'

Horrors. Two years ago it rained 11 out of the first 12 weekends after the middle of March. Are we going to have a duplicate of that in 1958? I agree all those bombs are doing something to the weather.

Pontiac Library to Serve Area

With state and federal help, Pontiac is going to become a library center for surrounding townships for a year.

It's hoped the subsidized experiment will be popular enough to be continued on an independent basis afterwards, said Miss Phyllis Pope, Pontiac Librarian.

Miss Pope went to Lansing today to select the first 2,000 books from the Michigan State Library for circulation next month. Eventually 3,000 to 5,000 will be loaned for what the State Board for Libraries has designated the North Oakland Library Project.

The books will be stored at the Adah Shelly Branch Library for circulation through community libraries in Clarkston, Highland, Holly, Lake Orion, Milford, Ortonville and Oxford. Other communities may join later, said Miss Pope.

With endorsement by Pontiac's City Commission and other local governments, the State board has approved spending federal rural library aid funds here "to stimulate better library service," Miss Pope explained.

"Surveys show that despite the fact that many north Oakland County residents want more library facilities, the area is one of the thinnest in the state as far as the proportion of potential patrons and available books is concerned.

"We hope the general public will become interested enough in the experimental program to prompt the communities involved to spend their own money on it," Miss Pope added.

Pontiac, by contributing a share of money, could participate on a share-and-share-alike basis in an independent project. But the federal aid books won't be available for circulation here, Miss Pope said.

★ ★ ★

Miss Pope has been named associate director of the experiment under Miss Jean Johnson, a state library consultant who will serve as director.

Books to be loaned will include mostly new titles, offering a variety of best-seller fiction, light nonfiction and children's books.

"This will freshen up the selections in the little libraries, since small collections usually grow stale after awhile for regular patrons," Miss Pope felt.

Another important aspect of the program, Miss Pope said, will be regular meetings of area library staffs in Pontiac to develop local programs aimed at stimulating library interest.

GREATEST SELLING EVENT in OUR 32 YEARS

'Flower of Her Youth Lie Buried on Banks of Marne'

Graham Urges Sympathy for France

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Evangelist Billy Graham says the world's heart should go out to troubled France.

"The flower of her youth which should be in leadership today lie buried on the banks of the Marne," he said.

The energetic blond preacher, now in the fourth week of his well-attended San Francisco crusade, told an audience of 13,500 in the 16,500-seat Cow Palace last night: "No country has paid a higher price for freedom than France. Long live France!"

Through last night, he had attracted 341,200 to the Cow Palace, where attendance was not expected to exceed 200,000 in the six-week revival.

Graham plans to appear tomorrow before a State Assembly subcommittee investigating the sale of smutty books. He was subpoenaed, Braxton Sawyer, an Arkansas revivalist, announced he was sending some material by express to Graham to present to the committee. Graham said he had no intention of even opening the package.

★ ★ ★

"The story of man's sin is in the Bible," he commented, adding that is what he would tell the committee. He said he would turn the Arkansas material over to the committee.

★ ★ ★

Graham received word from the Soviet Union that church members in Kiev and Moscow are praying for the success of his crusade. He received a cablegram from Robert Pierce, an American evangelist and missionary, that 6,000 Russians attending services at the First Baptist Church in Moscow offered prayers Sunday.

★ ★ ★

A total of 11,712 had made "decisions for Christ" at the Cow Palace revival through Sunday.

Church bulletins indicate that many churches are experiencing a spiritual awakening, Graham reports. He expressed hope that all those making decisions will be good Christians four years hence.

Tourist Center Planned at Span

Mackie Tells of Plans for Information Station at Mackinac Bridge

LANSING (AP) — Despite a frown from the Legislature, the State Highway Department is going ahead with plans to build a tourist information station on the south approach to the Mackinac Bridge.

Commissioner John C. Mackie said bids will be received June 9 on the project, expected to cost about $45,000 and to be ready for operation in October.

Three similar units now are in service near New Buffalo, Menominee and the Ohio line at Toledo.

Legislative opposition was indicated by refusal to appropriate funds for manning such a facility. Mackie said three to four persons would be required.

In proceeding, the commissioner said he will rely on a 1937 statute authorizing the department to build and operate tourist information stations, roadside parks and picnic sites.

★ ★ ★

"I anticipate the bridge will be the focal point of millions of tourist trips in the years ahead and it is a logical place to locate a highway tourist information station," Mackie said.

He said northland chambers of commerce and public officials had urged such a service.

The building will have 2,200 square feet of floor space. It will be surrounded by a landscaped picnic and rest area and a parking lot.

Here's our BIG CHALLENGE:

IF YOU CAN FIND ANOTHER PICKUP THAT GIVES YOU SO MUCH FOR YOUR MONEY— BUY IT!

Go ahead—shop around. Take a long, hard look at what you get for what you pay for any other pickup in town.

Then—come in and give the GMC the same kind of going over. Check its 22 full-value features—features that would cost you plenty of dollars extra in other trucks. They're all standard equipment in a GMC.

How important are these features? One is a fast-ratio axle for overdrive's economy—without its cost. Another is the heaviest front cross-member of any pickup. Still another's the heaviest rear axle.

These are things that mean greater haulability—lower running costs—longer truck-life. Yet remember—a GMC pickup is priced right down with the lowest.

But come in and check for yourself. Let the FREE Truck E-Value-ator show you your biggest buy in trucks.

Don't put it off. Accept GMC's Big Challenge—today!

Wants to Know Pipeline Costs

Water Authority Seeks Price on Lake Huron Project This Month

The Southeastern Michigan Water Authority is shopping around for a consulting engineering firm which will be able to tell potential water customers what hooking up to the authority's Lake Huron pipeline will cost in dollars and cents.

"We hope to name the firm by the end of May," said Howard K. Kelley, Royal Oak chairman of the authority.

★ ★ ★

Based on how many communities use the proposed new water system, the firm will be able to come up with a rate figure for each, Kelley said.

"This should help greatly in our negotiations with Pontiac, Detroit and Flint," he added. He said these negotiations were "at a standstill" as many communities sought to find the cost to them in joining.

Pontiac City Manager Walter K. Willman has been steadfast in desiring this information before putting the city's name on the dotted line.

The Authority plans to bring a 43-mile pipeline from a Lake Huron intake five miles north of Port Huron in a $150,000,000 project to serve participating Oakland and Macomb communities.

These will join the fold, Kelley believes, after the "big three"—Pontiac, Flint and Detroit — say they're interested, if they do.

To date, only Troy and Utica have signed resolutions of intent to use the lake water.

Flying on Soviet State Airline Unpredictable, Often Hilarious

By ROY ESSOYAN

MOSCOW (AP) — Flying around the Soviet Union on Aeroflot, the Soviet state airline, is unpredictable, informal and sometimes hilarious.

★ ★ ★

The unpredictability starts before you board the plane. You never know until the afternoon before you leave whether you're going or not.

The official explanation is they never know before that whether there will be space.

Visas are required for travel to any Soviet city. These, too, are usually issued only the day before departure.

A last-minute delay at the visa office, never explained, and the airline office is closed for the day. You've missed your plane. A similar delay at the airline office, likewise explained, and the visa office is closed.

A reporter's recent flight from Moscow to Sochi on the Black Sea was postponed twice, once due to a hitch at the visa office and the second time due to a hitch at the ticket office.

★ ★ ★

The plane was a 24-passenger IL14. Soviet planes on short domestic hops rarely fly above 3,000 feet. Two hours after the Moscow takeoff we landed on a meadow. The friendly stewardess informed us this was Voronezh, our scheduled stop. She apologized for the meadow, saying the airstrip was washed out a few days earlier.

A cheerful, unshaved Georgian in a loud shirt had just boarded the plane.

★ ★ ★

"This is the fifth time I'm flying out of here and it's been the meadow every time," he said.

He asked loudly what the fare was. The stewardess told him.

"Exorbitant!" he roared, a broad grin on his face, as he pulled out a fistful of 100-ruble notes, peeled off the fare and paid her on the spot, just as if he had stepped into a bus.

The stewardess smiled.

"He's a joker," she told other passengers.

★ ★ ★

The Georgian was the life of the party for the next hour or so, complaining about his seat, calling for exotic dishes, bantering with the stewardess, laughing and joking. Finally he turned to me and asked: "Where are you from?"

"The United States," I said.

He laughed derisively and remarked: "No, seriously, where are you from?"

★ ★ ★

"I'm an American," I said. "I'm from the States."

His jaw dropped.

"You're not serious?" he said.

Americans aren't as much of a rarity in the Soviet Union as they used to be but apparently they still were to him.

It was a couple of minutes before he spoke again. Finally: "I suppose you can't get back now."

I assured him I could.

Young-Hearted Oldsters Must Leave Boys' Club

The young-hearted oldsters have had such a good time using the youngsters' hangout the past three months, they hope to make it again next fall.

Which is to say, the Sunshine Club won't be able to use Pontiac Boy's Club for Thursday meetings much longer, but it hopes to renew the cooperative program next fall.

★ ★ ★

The club is a Department of Recreation venture whose 80 members are described by David R. Ewalt, department director, as "youngsters over 60."

It found itself faltering this year, primarily because its former quarters in the basement floor of Wilson School were too cramped.

"They only had one little room there, into which they had to squeeze while school was in session, so attendance began falling off," said Ewalt.

Now Sunshine members are not night-owls, so instead of changing their meeting hours (10 a.m. to 3 p.m. every Thursday), they had Ewalt look around for another meeting place.

Ewalt found cooperation in the person of Michael Fiorillo, who directs the UF-supported boy's club at 530 E. Pike St.

His club was not in use while its members were in school so the Sunshine Club was invited to try it out. They liked it fine.

Sunshiners found that now they could spread around throughout the club's three game rooms, library, and shops; stage potluck lunches with the help of the club's kitchen and call off square dances in the gymnasium.

"Their use of the Boy's Club has been a fine example of cooperation between two community agencies which have wholesome recreation as a common goal," said Ewalt.

With school vacation, Sunshiners will have to move out of the club, but they don't mind. In summertime they hold their meetings outdoors anyway, in Oakland Park.

★ ★ ★

When fall comes, the Boy's Club can be pretty sure the Sunshiners will be back again, this time for a full winter's set of activities.

Battle Renewed to Open Taverns at Noon Sundays

Oakland County Table Toppers have renewed their battle to open Pontiac taverns at noon on Sunday, two hours earlier than permitted by city ordinance.

★ ★ ★

An attorney for the organization, Bernard Gerard, told the City Commission last night the ordinance discriminated against about 55 members of the group who operate taverns in Pontiac.

"Local, private clubs operating under state laws are privileged to open at noon," he said. "We feel it is discriminatory to make our licensees open two hours later."

★ ★ ★

The city attorney was asked to study whether the local ordinance was in conflict with the state law and the request was tabled until his report.

Table Toppers made a similar request last year, but it was turned down by the 1956-58 Commission. Now they are trying again with the 1958-60 Commission.

Man Waives Hearing, on Burglary Charge

A Waterford Township truck driver, who police say admitted signing his sister's name to five worthless checks, yesterday waived examination and was bound over to Oakland County Circuit Court by township Justice of the Peace Donald E. Adams.

★ ★ ★

Arraignment on a charge of forgery was scheduled for Monday for Burdette E. Houghtaling, 45, of 741 Hillcliff Rd., who police said passed the checks totaling $37.50 in township stores.

★ ★ ★

Houghtaling was turned over to police by his sister, Mrs. Margaret Kline, of the same address, who told police he forged her name to the checks.

Satellite Chiefs Go to Moscow

Expect Soviets to Push Solidarity Theme After Denouncing Tito

MOSCOW (AP)—The leaders of the Soviet bloc are gathering in Moscow for their first summit conference in seven months.

Communist party chiefs of all the Warsaw Pact nations and their Asian Communist allies began a meeting of the Council of Mutual Economic Assistance yesterday.

★ ★ ★

Chiefs of government, foreign ministers and defense ministers meet Saturday as the Political Consultative Committee of the Warsaw Pact, the Kremlin's counterpart of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

★ ★ ★

A brief announcement in Izvestia, the Soviet government organ, did not give the purpose of the meetings. But it was assumed the whole range of political, military and economic relations within the Communist bloc—and between the bloc and the West — is on the agenda.

★ ★ ★

Solidarity among the Communist nations and relations with Yugoslavia are expected to be a major item in view of the recent Kremlin-led denunciation of President Tito's regime for continuing its independent course.

★ ★ ★

Warsaw Pact members are the Soviet Union, Poland, East Germany, Czechoslovakia, Hungary, Romania, Bulgaria and Albania.

★ ★ ★

Poppies Go on Sale in City Tomorrow

Tomorrow will mark the opening of the annual street sale of Buddy Poppies by local Veterans of Foreign Wars.

The sale will run through Saturday, according to Paul Boelter, commander of local post 1008. Proceeds from the sale will go to aid disabled and needy veterans, and dependents or survivors of veterans.

Nine out of 10 homicides in the U. S. are cleared by police through arrests, but only about one of five larcenies can be prosecuted.

Waterford Residents Remodeling Homes

Reports from the Waterford Township Building Department indicate that area residents are doing more remodeling to their homes than they are building new ones.

Last week there were 24 permits issued for additions, breezeways and garages, as compared to only five new home building permits issued.

Remodeling totaled $27,000 and home building was $74,840. There were no commercial building permits issued.

3 Streets in Waterford Have Names Changed

The names of three streets at Pleasant Lake in Waterford Township have been changed, according to Clerk James Seeterlin.

★ ★ ★

Pease road, near Lodge street, has been named Mainview drive. Gaul street, at Leota, has been changed to New Hope drive, and Noake drive is now Sandyview drive.

★ ★ ★

All of the streets are in a subdivision near Williams Lake and Elizabeth Lake roads. The name changes have been approved by the Oakland County Road Commission and the Waterford Township Board.

State Weighs Leasing Docks

Agrees in Principle to Allow Line to Land at Mackinaw, St. Ignace

LANSING (AP)—The State Highway Department and the Arnold Line have agreed in principle on a lease of state-owned dock facilities at Mackinaw City and St. Ignace, a state officer said.

Sidney H. Woolner, deputy highway commissioner, said a document to execute the agreement is being drafted but has not yet been signed.

★ ★ ★

He declined to go into its terms other than to say he considered them "favorable" to the state.

Under the arrangement, the Arnold Line would get continued use of dock No. 1 at St. Ignace for the months ahead and use of part of the dock at Mackinaw City, where its craft put in at coal docks owned by railroads while the Mackinac Straits ferries were in service.

The state-owned ferry fleet was retired last November when the straits bridge was opened.

Woolner said under the arrangement the line would get use of the pier at the end of the Mackinaw City Dock and a portion of the dock itself. The line operates passenger service between St. Ignace, Mackinaw City and Mackinac Island.

It would leave about two-thirds of the dock free for other uses. The City of Mackinaw has shown an interest in getting use of a portion of the facilities.

Two Professors Win High Awards at MSU

EAST LANSING (AP)—Prof. Donald O. Buell, 50, of the speech department, and Asst. Prof. James T. Anderson, 36, of mechanical engineering are winners of this year's distinguished teaching award at Michigan State University.

Each received a $500 check from John A. Hannah, MSU president, after a meeting Monday of the university's Academic Senate at which awards were announced.

★ ★ ★

Nominations were made by students, alumni and faculty, and the final selection by a special faculty committee. Two awards were made this year because none was given for 1957-58.

A CROWNING ACHIEVEMENT OF GENERAL MOTORS' 50TH ANNIVERSARY

Frigidaire Presents Frost-Proof Freezing

GM

A most important advance in home refrigeration: A new kind of cold that eliminates heat and moisture so freezer frost can never form

Ever since food freezing added new convenience and thrift to the American home—our inquiring minds at Frigidaire have led the search for the seemingly impossible—a freezing compartment where frost would never form.

Now—after the ordeal through which all such major engineering triumphs must pass—they have reached their goal. Not just in blueprints—or laboratory models—but in functioning fact. The first Frigidaire Frost-Proof Refrigerator-Freezer is on the market.

This marks a major advance in the whole field of home refrigeration. It removes one more task from the homemaker's busy day. Like so many other Frigidaire developments—it adds to the charm of the kitchen home center.

Further—it is a dramatic example of the continuing effort of our designers and engineers and production experts to create "more and better things for more people."

Certainly none among us has a brighter record of such accomplishment than those who first made home refrigeration practical nearly three decades ago—with the invention of the first non-toxic home refrigerant—Freon.

We at General Motors look upon this latest Frigidaire accomplishment with pride in this, our Golden Milestone year.

Harlow H. Curtice

GENERAL MOTORS CORPORATION

Styled with the new Sheer Look—Plus. Four glamorous Colors sold by Frigidaire at the price of White.

The Golden Anniversary Patented Frigidaire Frost-Proof Refrigerator-Freezer

Introducing to the American home a completely new idea in food freezing. An entirely new kind of cold whisks away heat and moisture—out of the freezer forever—so frost can never form. Food flavor and vitamins are locked in by perpetual below-zero cold.

Up in the refrigerator compartment all foods are super-chilled with Frigidaire "Flowing Cold"—so here too, there's no frost to defrost.

It's the world's finest foodkeeper—from new Sheer Look styling to mammoth 133-pound Freezer Chest with In-A-Door Ice-Ejector that serves sparkling ice cubes by the score.

You've got to see it to believe it—at your Frigidaire dealer's.

Helicopters Rescue Half of Cherry Crop

LOS ANGELES — When heavy rains threatened to ruin the entire cherry crop of California's Central Valley last season, Army helicopters "saved the day" for the growers.

★ ★ ★

Blowing water off cherries to prevent the sun from causing them to burst is an old commercial helicopter trick, but the huge area to be covered made it impractical to call on the few civilian copters nearby.

★ ★ ★

The Army authorized the use of 15 copters to whirl over cherry orchards in the vallye and blow the rain off the fruit, thus saving at least 50 per cent of the crop — about $2,500,000 in cherries.

Bob Considine Says:

Space Men Can Now Meet Tax Deadline

NEW YORK (INS) — The question of how the man-in-space will meet his tax payments—a vexing problem that has kept the lights burning late at the Bureau of Internal Aevenue—was solved last weekend when the Navy recovered a missile cone in mid-Atlantic five hours after it was fired in Florida.

★ ★ ★

The recovered cone showed that it had a hide tough enough to protect its contents even though it had shot down into the mushy atmosphere of the earth at 9,000 m.p.h. It refused to become a cinder, and thus we can expect the future to bring similar bombardments of the earth, from space, each April 15 and other tax-return dates.

REMAINS PROBLEM

The man-in-space still is a problem to the doctors, however, especially the American College of Cardiology, which is holding its seventh annual convention in St. Louis this week. As usual, the heart doctors are making news.

It it isn't a serious investigation of how the giraffe's heart pumps its blood all the way up to the beast's brain, it's Dr. Paul Dudley White taking a whale's cardiogram by hovering over the monster in a helicopter and harpooning it with cables connected to the machine.

One of the featured scientific exhibits this week in St. Louis is labeled Physiological Measurements from Earth-Orbiting Satellites. Capt. Norman L. Barr, Naval Medical Research Institute, Bethesda, Md., is the skipper of this one.

TRANSMIT DATA

The assorted U.S. and Soviet satellites which still have their battery juice are transmitting certain physiological information back to earth. It is picked up at various points in the world. The dope is rushed instantly to the National Naval Medical Center, studied, put on tape for future studies.

The Navy has completed plans for two-way conversations with the man-in-space, steady and constant though he will be traveling at perhaps 18,000 m.p.h.

The condition of his ticker will be a matter of public record to people in Bethesda, Md., as he rockets 1,000 miles over the Indian Ocean.

Somehow, the giraffe and the harpooning Dr. White seemed simpler.

The American Bible Society continues to find new languages into which to translate the Good Book. The latest is Anuak (spoken in Sunday), Aztec of Guerrero (Mexico), Beti (Cameroun), Benukid (Philippines) and Pocomchi (Guatemala). That brings it up to 271 languages and tongues.

The society, which is 141 years old and which has distributed 500,000,000 volumes of scriptures, springs from the Pennsylvania Bible Society, which is celebrating its 150th anniversary.

★ ★ ★

It, in turn, was inspired by Robert Aitken of Philadelphia, who in 1782 published the first English-language Bible on this continent. Bible shipments from England had been cut off, of course. Congress refused to subsidize the printing of an American Bible, so Aitken took on the job at his own expense —which Congress called a "pious and laudable undertaking."

The society also distributed 55,706 Talking Bibles to the blind last year, including the Hindi, Telugu and Burmese.

Among heads of U.S. families, 84 per cent of those between ages 25 and 44 years own life insurance policies.

Some 300,000 New Jersey residents commute daily to jobs in New York City and Philadelphia.

California, Oregon, Nevada and Idaho are leaders among the states in the production of mercury.

Graduates to Feel Lag in Job Offers

June college graduates won't wallow in as many job offers this year as they did last. A general lag in the employment market has taken some of the frenzy out of campus recruiting, according to a story in a national business magazine.

★ ★ ★

Last spring competition was so hot that companies had to make about four offers for every technically trained student hired and nearly two offers before they could sew up a nontechnical man. This year competition will continue, says the magazine, but not at such a strong pace.

Last year the average starting salary for technically trained men was around $465 a month. This year it will go to $485.

Aeronautical and electrical engineers and engineering physicists received the best pay last June. But cutbacks in aircraft and electronics may hold demand down somewhat for these men this year.

Nontechnical graduates got about $400 a month last spring. That will be up to about $425 this year. Accountants, however, will start at about $465; and insurance, banking and retailing may command above average pay, too.

The scholarship tea sponsored by Pontiac Tuesday Musicale was held at the home of Mrs. Arthur Dodge on Lake Angelus. Three winners of scholarships were Marvyl Simson of West Brooklyn avenue, David Eicher and Karen Eicher of Winterberry drive.

Lynn Thompson of North Shirley avenue (standing) and Joan Grahek of Voorheis road are two other winners of Tuesday Musicale scholarships.

Musicale Presents Awards

Scholarship Tea Is Held

The Lake Angelus home of Mrs. Arthur Dodge was the setting for the Scholarship Tea of Pontiac Tuesday Musicale. The Past Presidents Assembly of Tuesday Musicale sponsored the annual event and served as hostesses for the afternoon.

Tuesday Musicale sponsors four junior clubs, with Mrs. M. J. Wager as head counselor. Leading the four junior divisions are Mrs. J. J. Wiley, Mrs. H. J. Oakes, Mrs. L. A. Snell, Mrs. L. S. Salathiel, Mrs. W. S. Furlong, Mrs. David Eicher, Elda Sutter, Mrs. G. A. Cameron, and Mrs. P.J. Saghy.

★ ★ ★

Five winners of scholarships to Interlochen within the junior clubs were announced Tuesday. Scholarship recipients named were David Eicher, cello; Marvyl Simpson, flute; Lynn Thompson, piano; Karen Eicher, viola; and Joan Grahek, piano.

★ ★ ★

During the afternoon musical selections were played by the scholarship winners. Assisting with the program were members of all four junior divisions including Connie Griesbach, Beverly Patton, Linda Lottner, Diane LaBair, Sharon Moore, Beverly Benson, Ellen Oaks, Deanna Relyea, Suzanne Douglas, Barbara Griffin, and Pamela Griffin.

Janet Livingstone, Joyce Livingstone, Jerry Exline, and Gary Relyea also participated.

Shower Given for Bride-to-Be

Sharon Knickerbocker, whose marriage to Lawrence Dean will be an event of June 28, was honored at a miscellaneous bridal shower given in Pontiac Township Hall by Mrs. Hazel Burns Saturday evening.

The bride-elect is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Knickerbocker of Lowell street, and her fiance is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Dean of Close street.

Show to Have Theme of 'Outdoor Living'

"Outdoor Living" will be the theme of a fashion and product show to be held at Miracle Mile Shopping Center at 9 p.m. Friday and 2 p.m. Saturday.

Carmina Brooks of Detroit will comment on the fashions. The show also will feature garden effects, patio furnishings, a sidewalk cafe, and an organist.

Make It Fun Time

It's best to be relaxed when bathing a young baby, says a prominent medical authority. Even a tiny infant enjoys a bath more when his—or her—mother is lovingly unhurried.

OES Areme Chapter Marks 15th Anniversary

Areme Chapter 503, OES, met at Roosevelt Temple Monday evening to celebrate its 15th anniversary and honor its charter, honorary members and grand officers.

Toastmistress for the dinner was Mrs. Harry Vernon, and Mrs. Clifford Mossey gave the history of the chapter. A solo was presented by Marilyn Vernon, accompanied by Mrs. Claude Kimler.

Charter members present were Mrs. Evert Johnston, Mrs. Claude Lessel, Mrs. Clifford McLean, Mrs. Thad Beall, Eva Dyer, Mr. and Mrs. Mossey, Mr. and Mrs. Karl Schultz, Mr. and Mrs. William Pfahlert, Roy Wilton and Robert Alspaugh.

Among the honorary members were Mrs. Paul Hagle, past grand matron of the state chapter; Mrs. Roy Wilton, past grand Martha of the state chapter; Beatrice Mundy, past grand warden of state chapter; Mrs. Ralph Clara, past grand Esther of state chapter; Mrs. Kent Webb and Mrs. James Shaw, associate conductresses of state chapter and Mrs. Newman Freeman of Holly.

Mrs. Winifred Daniels was presented with a life membership and Mrs. Clara received an honorary membership in Areme chapter. Initiated into the order were Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Clark, Mrs. Hartford Williams and Katie Bunnell.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Raymond Swaney, Mrs. A. W. Robinson, Mrs. Furn Tubbs and Mrs. Sam Wiscombe, with Mrs. Norton Graham and Mrs. Theron Taylor pouring.

Every slim graduate can go chemise for informal graduation. However, full-skirted, small-waisted classics continue popular.

The chemise is new for informal graduation now, but the full-skirted bouffant styles are considered classic, so choose whichever is most becoming to your individual figure. Eyelet embroidery is the newest fabric.

Visitors to See Beauty of Lake Angelus Estate

The tulip beds around the fountain also will create interest at the tea and tour next Wednesday. Kay Holloway (left) wears her favorite costume from her native country. Photographed with her are (left to right) Mrs. Donald Shults, Mrs. Newton Skillman Jr. and Mrs. William H. Wilmot.

Tell Her of Your Surprise

By EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post: I was invited to a party at a friend's house. She told me that I could ask a man friend to come along with me, which I did. I have always known this man to be a very well-mannered and polite person and thought he would be an asset to the party. However, it turned out to be just the opposite.

"He had a little too much to drink and became very argumentative and insulted some of the guests. I was never so embarrassed in all my life and left the party as soon as I could. The hostess put a great deal of effort into the party to make it a success and the evening was ruined because of his behavior. Is there anything I can, or should, do to make amends to the hostess?"

Answer: There is not much you can do except to explain to the hostess that his shocking behavior was a terrible and complete surprise to you, and ask her if she can forgive you.

"Dear Mrs. Post: A short time ago you emphasized the fact that the curb-side rule for a man out with a woman is no longer important, but that it would be very improper for him to walk both on the inside and have her on his left. Why is he supposed to keep her on his right?

"I thought the right as the place of honor or respect applied only on formal occasions. The typical street scene could hardly be classed as one of these. Or could it?"

Answer: For countless generations a gentleman has always placed a lady on his right whenever possible, as a mark of his respect for her.

"Dear Mrs. Post: What should be done with a crumpled paper napkin that is left after eating refreshments in a private house? Should it be put on the plate or in its rather derelict condition is it laid on the table?"

Answer: If it has lost all semblance of a napkin put it on the plate; otherwise at the side as you would a linen one.

Receives 3 New Members

Each member of the six serving on the commission is appointed by Governor G. Mennen Williams.

Even Pioneers Insisted Upon Hair 'Warsh'

In the old-time mining towns in California, there wasn't much to be had in the way of luxury. But the ladies still considered a shampoo and a new hairdo absolutely essential, regardless!

★ ★ ★

An ad in the Old Miner's Gazette, way back when, offered this dilly: "Your hair warshed and blowed dry. Painless hairdos."

★ ★ ★

"Yessir, that's what every woman wants even now — her hair "warshed and blowed dry," plus a "painless hairdo." Nothing like it to lift the spirits!

Metallic Fabric Is Washable, Too

History may well record our generation as another Golden Age because of the lavish use of metallic threads in everything we use or wear.

Fortunately, this sybaritic trend in our era is also a practical one — because the shimmering sheen is just as washable as the fibers with which it's woven.

Want to Get Married in a Sack?

Paris Stylist Uses Lace Coat to Give Chemise Effect

PARIS (INS) — Brides can combine the chemise look with romantic girlish waistlines.

Paris designer Pierre Cardin has succeeded in combining the sack with a slim-waisted wedding gown for brides who want to be up-to-date but still alluring.

★ ★ ★

Cardin's wedding sack is a sleeveless white Guipure lace coat edged in white satin and worn open over a slim-waisted, full skirted white satin dress. The loose lace coat shows the slim-waisted gown by transparency even from the back. Both coat and dress are short and can be worn as a summer evening outfit later in the year.

★ ★ ★

All other top designers in Paris stick to classic romantic styles for spring brides. Bridal hemlines tend to droop at the back revealing the ankles — sometimes even the legs — in front, but trailing on the floor at the back.

Organdy, eyelet embroidery, lace and heavy silk are favorite Paris materials for 1958 wedding gowns. Necklines are cut lower but never "decollete." When sleeves are short, they should be met by long gloves at least for the wedding ceremony.

Two to Host Coffee Hour

Mrs. Leo Croll and Mrs. W. J. Palazina will host a coffee hour Thursday following a public service sewing clinic at Osmun's Town and Country store in Tel-Huron Shopping Center.

Pontiac Women's Club Holds Annual Luncheon

Mrs. Clarence Myers was installed as president of Pontiac Women's Club at an annual luncheon held Monday in Rotunda Inn. Mrs. Joseph Panter installed officers.

★ ★ ★

Others taking office were Mrs. Harry Stowell, first vice president; Mrs. George Crissman, second vice president; Mrs. William Mustard, recording secretary; Mrs. Frank Park, corresponding secretary, and Mrs. Edgar Leonard, financial secretary.

Completing the list were Mrs. H. F. Simmons, treasurer; Mrs. Leon Vogel, auditor; Mrs. C. W. Mossey, publicity; Mrs. Turris McCully, alternate reporter; Mrs. Panter, parliamentarian; Mrs. Myers, delegate to Southeastern District Federation, and Mrs. Stowell, delegate to the state convention.

TALK ON REFUGEES

Mrs. Arthur Sweet spoke on the experiences of two Hungarian refugees who lived in her home for a year. A plaque that will be placed in a refinished room of Wisner home was displayed by Mrs. Ray Falk.

★ ★ ★

A benefit breakfast and card party will be held in members' homes for the nurse's scholarship fund and Loch Rio, first section of Girls' Town.

The annual picnic will be held at Adah Shelly library on June 16. Mrs. M. E. Baldwin was chairman of the day. Mrs. Guy Bevington was the hostess, assisted by Mrs. A. E. Ball, Mrs. C. A. Coons, Mrs. Howard Hall, Mrs. Frank Hardenburg, Mrs. R. J. Boynton, Mrs. Royal Pazik and Mrs. George Spotts.

Don't Understate Problem

Girdle Can Be Your Best Friend

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

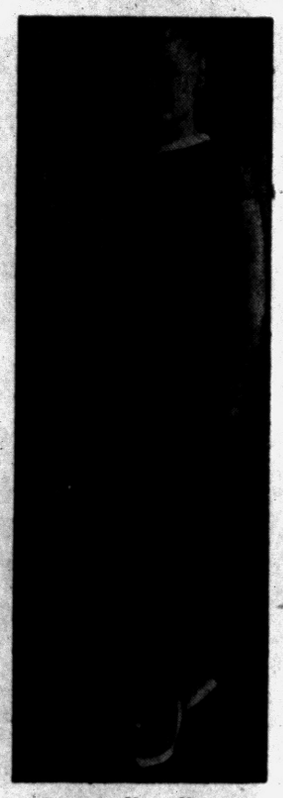
There always has been much controversy about whether or not a woman should wear a girdle. However, today three out of four women do wear one.

If women kept their muscles taut with exercise and maintained their ideal weight, there would be little need for this garment. However, this is seldom the state of affairs from middle age on. Most women feel better because of the support a girdle provides. Many experience backaches after hours on their feet while doing housework, sans any support except that which their own muscles give.

Also, the truth of the matter is that practically all women look more attractive in their clothes when wearing some sort of a restraining undergarment. Our clothes hang better on us and we feel better "put together."

Let me give you a few ideas to think of when selecting a girdle. Don't make the mistake of trying to wear one which is too small for you. Instead of making you look smaller it will have just the opposite effect, much as a dress which is too tight does. You will bulge, you know where, above the waist into that middle-aged looking roll above your girdle.

Also remember that today girdles are comfortable and graceful. Gone is the straightjacket, tightly corseted appearance. Today you can expect both grace and comfort with gentle but firm restraint.



Practically all women look more attractive in their clothes when wearing some sort of a restraining undergarment.

Take advantage of the lightly boned (if at all) but beautifully molding styles and materials.

Your undergarment will last much longer and be more effective if you know how to take care of it. Never leave it to soak in suds for longer than 10 minutes. Gently squeeze the girdle so that the soap goes all the way through. You can use a nail brush on soiled areas. Then rinse.

Do not wring or twist. Roll the girdle in a towel and press gently before hanging this garment over a bathroom rod or placing it flat on a towel to dry. Twisting may get the whole thing out of line.

Since warm weather is breathing down our necks, your girdle should be laundered frequently. Perspiration makes this essential even when the garment looks clean.

Tomorrow: "Swim for Fun, Health—It's a Great Exercise."

1,750,000 Britons to Go Abroad for Vacations

LONDON (INS) — Britain is being boosted everywhere as the ideal playground for world tourists but more and more of the natives are spending their vacations abroad.

British travel agencies estimate on the basis of bookings and inquiries that some 1,750,000 Britons will go abroad for their vacations during 1958. This will represent an increase of a quarter of a million over the 1957 figure.

Most popular spots for touring Britons are the coasts of Spain, the Adriatic coasts of Italy and the Italian and French Rivieras.

But despite sometimes higher costs other British holiday-makers are turning up in greater numbers in such places as Belgium, Holland, Yugoslavia, Germany, Austria, Switzerland, Denmark, Norway and Sweden.

The signs are that Russian and Iron Curtain country tours will increase in the coming years, barring any serious deterioration in the international situation.

One of the most notable features in the vacation abroad trend is the growing popularity of air travel, particularly on inclusive holidays now being pushed by most travel agents.

Last year at least half of all Britons on inclusive holidays traveled by air and indications are that the proportion will spiral upwards in 1958.

'Art Work' Remains

Washability is one of the most engaging features of the boxy white duck coats that teenagers like to decorate with indelible pens. Under the impact of soap or detergent suds, the dirt comes out but the cherished autographs and art stay put.

Naomi I. Whitney, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas R. Whitney, and John W. Hodges, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Hodges, were married Saturday evening in Pontiac Church of Christ.

MR. and MRS. JOHN W. HODGES

Naomi Whitney Becomes Bride of John W. Hodges

Four hundred guests witnessed the Saturday evening wedding of Naomi Irene Whitney and John Wesley Hodges in Pontiac Church of Christ. The Rev. W. W. Hall performed the ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas R. Whitney of South Jessie street, and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. John Hodges of Elkmont, Ala.

For her wedding, the bride chose a floor-length gown of embroidered organdy featuring a Peter Pan collar trimmed in lace. A crown of seed pearls secured her shoulder-length veil. The bridal bouquet was a cascade arrangement of white carnations and pink Carol Amling rosebuds.

Mrs. Billy Yates, as matron of honor, wore a dress of white dotted swiss over rose taffeta and carried a cascade of pink carnations. Bridesmaid Peggy Chittick wore a white dotted swiss gown over turquoise taffeta and carried spring blue carnations. Cande Jones was flower maid.

★ ★ ★

Edward Hodges, cousin of the bridegroom, was best man with Calvin Sumner as groomsman and Joseph Priestly, Billy Yates, Glenn Hasting and Solan Spears as ushers.

To receive guests at a reception in the church parlors, Mrs. Whitney chos a navy crepe dress with white accessories and a corsage of pink sweetheart rosebuds.

The new Mrs. Hodges chose a two-piece navy faille ensemble with white accessories for traveling through the South. The couple will live in Pontiac.

Dear Abby....

Action Cures Litterbug

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

"DEAR ABBY: Twenty-two years ago I was one of those slow moving, irresponsible teenagers who kept my room and drawers looking like a cyclone hit it. My father gave me fair warning, but I didn't take him seriously. One day I came home to find all my books, toys clothes and precious sports equipment gone. He had gathered it up and given it all to the Salvation Army. Since that day I have been the neatest person in the world."

ABBY

"DEAR ABBY: How do you keep your sister-in-law from going into your kitchen and doing your dishes? She thinks she is being a big help, but actually, when she leaves, I have to do them all over and wash them properly.

"She says I am pokey, and her idea of doing dishes is rinsing them under the hot water faucet, so she gets done in 10 minutes. I don't like to hurt her feelings, but I sure wish she would let me do things my way. How can I tell her? She is very touchy."

DO IT MYSELF

DEAR DO IT: It isn't necessary to criticize HER method of dish-washing, if you simply tell her plainly and firmly that you ENJOY doing dishes. When she offers again, don't take "yes" for an answer.

★ ★ ★

"DEAR ABBY: I am in love with a married man with four children. The oldest is 15. We have been seeing each other on the q.t. for a year. His wife doesn't know it because he doesn't tell her the correct amount of his wages, so when he spends money on me she doesn't miss it. He says he loves me. Should I ask him to get a divorce, or keep my own freedom in case I get tired of him?"

GWEN

DEAR GWEN: Don't be in such a hurry to catch this foul ball on the second bounce. He may get tired of YOU before you get tired of HIM.

"DEAR ABBY: My husband died recently and left me with three children, all of school age. His affairs were not in very good order, but he had a good life insurance policy and also a good business. My problem is that his secretary handled all his business matters and naturally knew more about his business than I did. She claims he left an "unofficial" will which leaves her a percentaage of his business.

"My husband's attorney said this will is binding and it also gives this lawyer a percentage of my husband's business. Between the secretary and the lawyer I think I am getting a first-class fleecing, but what can I do? I don't want to create a public scandal because we are well-known here."

NO NAME, PLEASE

DEAR MADAME: If you have any suspicion about the integrity of the secretary OR the lawyer, get other legal advice, and let your new lawyer handle your affairs.

Girls Advised to Be Careful Shaving Legs

Electric shavers are a boon to any gal. They take care of that nasty problem of nicking one's legs, creating scars that last for days.

★ ★ ★

But, if for some reason, you must use a regular razor to shave your legs, handle it with care. Be sure you're working in a well-lighted area.

You'll have to turn and twist in order to see the surface you're shaving and you'll have to be patient. If you hurry, the razor is quite likely to slip.

It's best not to shave your legs while they're dry. Use a lather cream to soften the surface and make the razor slide along easily.

After the task is finished, apply an after-bath freshener or body cologne to your legs with a lavish hand.

Lutheran Women Hold Fashion Show

Ladies Aid Society of St. John Lutheran Church was the setting for a fashion show and luncheon Tuesday. Among the models were Betty and Beverly Larson, Mrs. Eugene Danielson and children, Susan and Chris, John Filippi, Mrs. Harold Person and Mrs. Ruth Olson.

Mrs. LaVon Ryden sang, accompanied by Mrs. Roy Lewis. Chairmen for the event were Mrs. H. F. McClellan, kitchen; Mrs. Ercell Kohlass, dining, and Mrs. F. E. Thoe and Mrs. Carol Nelson, program.

Mrs. Baxter Named by Women of Moose

Mrs. John Baxter of Pontiac Chapter 360, Women of the Moose, has been named queen of sponsors for the state convention. Chairmen presented new horizons certificates from Mooseheart to co-workers.

It was announced at the Monday evening meeting that a little league dance will be held May 31 at Moose Hall.

2 Poppy Chairmen Named for Campaign

Mrs. William Paetow and Harold Fields are poppy chairmen for a Thursday, Friday and Saturday drive by American Legion posts and auxiliaries.

Memorial flowers, the poppy, will be sold to support humanitarian efforts for disabled veterans and children of dead and disabled veterans.

Care Advised for Synthetics

If only little boys were as dirt-resistant as the manmade fibers. But synthetic fibers need special handling even as the little guys do.

In washing a synthetic by hand, such as fiberglass curtains, never wring or twist it. In a machine avoid wrinkles by using short cycles, but no spin-drying and a very light load. Let the curtains drip dry.

Mrs. Richard Veazey, a representative from the Bell Telephone Co., presented a talk, "Your Voice is You," when members of the Pontiac Fshion Your Figure Club met at Adah Shelly Library.

Dorthea Campbell won the trophy for the largest weekly weight loss at the Thursday meeting.

Married Saturday in Memorial Baptist Church were Mary Juanita L. Potter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ervin Potter, and Sgt. Charles W. Parlier.

SGT. and MRS. CHARLES PARLIER

Mary Juanita Potter Wed

Mary Juanita Luran Potter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ervin Potter of Perkins street, and Sgt. Charles William Parlier of Abilene, Texas, were married Saturday evening in Memorial Baptist Church with the Rev. G. H. Rapeljai officiating.

The bride chose a gown of lace with rows of alternating lace and net accenting the back of the chapel-length train. Her fingertip veil was held in place by a cap of lace with flowers and seed pearls. The bridal bouquet was white roses and carnations.

Luella Potter, sister of the bride, as maid of honor, wore a ballerina-length gown of pink chiffon and carried a cascade arrangement of pink and white carnations.

Bridesmaids, Grace Stottlemyer and Ida Bell Mick wore white chiffon dresses with blue cummerbunds and carried bouquets of pink carnations. Kathy Sue Potter, sister of the bride, was flower girl.

Best man was Donald A. Dawson with Robert Ellwood and Jesse Potter as ushers. Ervin Dale Potter, brother of the bride, was ringbearer.

To receive guests in the church parlors, Mrs. Potter chose a dress of gray and yellow silk and a corsage of yellow roses and carnations.

The couple will live in Abilene, Texas, where the bridegroom is stationed with the United States Air Force.

About 50 million people migrated from their homes in search for economic and political security from 1946-55, it is estimated now by the Population Reference Bureau.

Shampoo Hair for Beauty's Sake

Medical experts say that frequent hair shampooing during the teen years is especially important —once a week or even oftener is recommended.

The oily glands of the skin are especially active at this time, and just plain soap-and-water cleanliness is the best answer.

In fact, it's soap-and-water that provides the only sure daintiness from head to toe.

Poncho-Style Cape Fine on Rainy Day

An elbow length poncho cape with a detachable hood, made of water-repellent cotton broadcloth, is charming and useful for drizzly days when full length rain gear is necessary. These rainy day flatterers can be washed repeatedly.

Breakfast Coat Pretty, Washable

As comfortable as a wrapper, and as shapely as a tea gown, is a modern breakfast coat made of drip-dry cotton in a tiny print.

Despite its fine-pleated swishy skirt and surplice collar, this lovely wisp revels in soap or detergent suds—even in a washing machine —because the pleats have been processed for permanence.

Sal Mineo Loses Pants to Horde of Girl Fans

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Sal Mineo lost his pants to a horde of girl fans.

No, the teen-age heart throb wasn't in the trousers at the time.

Sal was exercising in a gymnasium yesterday. He had left his clothes in his monogramed sports car parked outside.

"Souvenirs," shouted the girls when they spotted the car. They also scooped up his shirt, sweater, shoes and socks.

Sal took it philosophically.

"I don't care about the clothes, but I would like to have my wallet back," he said.

Despite Best Safety Devices

Accident Toll to Stay Up if Drivers Not Cautious

From National Safety Council

The car of tomorrow will be super - safe, auto experts predict.

Accidents will be designed out, they say.

Everyone agrees, though, that one accident factor will never be done away with: human error. It will be as great a problem in the year 2,000 or 3,000 as it is now.

"Despite every automotive advancement, people — not speed or unsafe conditions — still will be the major cause of accidents," the National Safety Council believes.

Why?

"You can equip a car with all the latest lifesaving devices — seat belts, padded dashboards and steering wheels that give when pressure is put on them — but you can't design out human errors and unsafe acts.

"The new safety gadgets are marvelous — and they undoubtedly help protect motorists. But without good, cautious driving, the traffic accident toll will remain high."

The toll in 1957, preliminary reports show, was 38,500. Injuries numbered about 1,350,000. The cost of the accidents was more than five billion dollars.

Consider these facts:

1. In 1956, six out of 10 motorists in an accident were charged with a law violation — driving under the influence of alcohol, speeding, not having right of way, following too closely, improper passing, driving on the wrong side of the road, and running stop streets. And that doesn't include motorists who escaped detection.

2. Only eight out of every 100 accidents involved a reportedly unsafe car. Most motor vehicle accidents — about eight out of 10 — occurred on clear or cloudy days.

3. About 1,850 of the 40,000 motorists killed in accidents in 1956 had fallen asleep at the wheel.

"People hold the key to the traffic accident problem," the council says.

Would Increase Executive Powers

De Gaulle's Goal Same

By JOHN H. MARTIN
INS Foreign Director

Gen. Charles de Gaulle is an enigma in some respects, but his goal is the same: to return to power and reform the French Republic along the lines of the U.S. where the President has strong executive powers.

De Gaulle is feared as the "man on horseback," or a would-be dictator. But he arrived in Paris in a Citroen car after a 140-mile trip from his home at Colombey-les-Deaux-Eglises, spoke his bit and returned home.

He disclaimed any intention of wanting to be a dictator and pointed to his previous record. In this he was correct. But quit office six years ago after restoring a post-war republic. He had not broken his silence in three years and had retired to his ivory tower when the French politicians refused to give him the constitution he sought.

De Gaulle gave the impression of trying to soothe the fears of those who were afraid that his return to power would mark the end of the fourth Republic.

He was not successful in this at his Paris news conference. Instead, he gave the impression that if he returned to power it would be on the understanding that he be given authority to sink the fourth republic and create a fifth republic of his own shaping.

De Gaulle also did not reassure some Frenchmen on his attitude toward the three points raised previously in the National Assembly by Vice Premier Guy Mollet, the socialist leader in Premier Pierre Pflimlin's government.

Mollet said the general must declare that the present government is the legal one; he must condemn the revolt of military leaders in Algeria; and he must indicate that if he is called to form a government and is voted down in the National Assembly he would go home quietly.

De Gaulle, World War II hero, former provisional president, mystic and hermit, did not declare the Pflimlin government a legal one. He did not call it illegal, either.

★ ★ ★

The former Free French leader did not condemn Algerian military leaders. Instead, he praised them. And he never got around to the question of acepting any National Assembly defeat. Instead, he put himself above all political parties and said the circumstances of taking power, if asked to do so, would have to be "exceptional."

To his political opponents De Gaulle seemed to be saying he must have clear sailing to remake the state, if asked to govern. That is not acceptable to his opponents.

But to be successful his opponents must hold together more than ever now in trying to solve the Algerian crisis and other troubles. Otherwise, France still could be plunged into civil conflict between right and left, submerging the center parties.

About 90 per cent of the U. S. sulphur and one-half of the world supply comes from Louisiana and Texas.

Says Parents Must Help Train Children

OMAHA (AP) — More than ever before in this nation's history it is essential that parents assume the major responsibility for the upbringing of their children.

That conviction was voiced today by Mrs. James C. Parker, newly elected president of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers.

"This is no time," she said in an interview, "for parents to abdicate their responsibilities, nor for them to expect the school to assume full responsibility for the training of youngsters in discipline and self-control.

"In this strange, confused world of ours, we need more than ever before to strengthen the home and help it to develop those needed qualities of ethics, morals and concern for other people."

The home and the school, she added, "must work together in helping youngsters in all the areas in which children grow. The home can help the child adjust to school, the school can do a great deal toward preparing the youngster for his own family life. It must be a cooperative effort."

Wants to Be Banker and Father—He's Nine

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)— In a composition titled, "What I Would Like to Be Right Now," read by School Supt. Harold H. Eibling at a Columbus School Board meeting a 9-year-old wrote:

★ ★ ★

"I would like to be a father of two children and be president of a bank. Because I like kids and banks. To be a president of a bank you have to have a good record, and no time in the pen. You would have to go to a banker college and to be a father, it's natural and easy."

Townsend Visits Meg

LONDON (AP)—Peter Townsend had dinner at Princess Margaret's place last night and stayed six hours.

It was the third time Townsend has visited Margaret at Clarence House, where she lives with Queen Mother Elizabeth, since he returned in March from a world tour. He made the trip after the princess dissolved her romance with him in October 1955 because the Church of England opposes divorced persons remarrying.

Townsend arrived for dinner at 6 p.m. He drove off alone at midnight. Buckingham Palace described the visit as strictly private—the same term it used when he had tea with Margaret last Thursday.

Townsend has insisted he and the princess are now just friends, but the recent visits have aroused speculation that the romance might still be on.

Husband, Wife Crash on Road; She Survives

BRIDGETON, N.J. (AP)—A young shoe clerk and his wife, each in a separate car, sped toward a quiet country crossroads called Harmony last night.

They met in a flaming broadside crash that swept the two autos against an empty house.

Police were able to pull Lester Wright, 19, from the pyre, but he was dead by the time they got him to Bridgeton Hospital.

★ ★ ★

His wife Vera, also 19, was hurled from her borrowed car and is in serious condition at the hospital with a possible skull fracture.

What brought the couple, married a year and a half, to the lonely intersection at twilight?

★ ★ ★

Police can only hope to question the young widow, who is still in deep shock. They also seek Walter Robinson, who they say owned the car she drove on a learner's permit.

Mrs. Wright's auto hurtled into the left side of her husband's car, sent it slicing through a pole and into a porch. Her car smashed into the foundation. Both were alone.

★ ★ ★

Police theorize they might have intended to turn into the road which leads to Bridgeton, where they lived.

Dana Andrews Is Sued for $100,000 in Accident

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Actor Dana Andrews has been sued for $100,000 in connection with a traffic accident.

The suit contends that Diane Ward, 13, was seriously injured two years ago when Andrews' car slammed into an auto in which she was a passenger.

The action was brought by her father, Eugene Ward of suburban Woodland Hills.

Find Insects Dislike Different Colors

NEW YORK — Insects can see a considerable range of colors, but it's a different range from that of humans. The insects' eyes are constructed differently.

When a red light was shone into an ant's nest, the ants ignored it. But ultraviolet radiations invisible to human eyes sent the ants into a panic, making them carry their eggs to "safety" in the darkness (to them) of the red light.

Also, different insects' color vision varies. Mosquitoes hate yellow and like blue. In Holland it has been found that painting cowsheds blue is effective in keeping out the common fly.

Although it is an inland city, Chicago handles more water-born traffic than the Panama canal in one year, according to estimates of the National Geographic Society.

Russia Claims Sites in Space Plausible

LONDON (AP) — Soviet scientists have proved in theory that they can send up floating space stations to serve as takeoff points for further travel through the heavens, Moscow radio said today.

The broadcast said the scientists believe such satellites can be put in orbit more than 21,000 miles up. It gave this account:

The stations will zoom through space at about 6,800 miles per hour, but since they will move in the same direction as the earth and girdle it once every 24 hours they will appear motionless. Thus flights to the cosmic platforms can be made at any time from any spot on earth.

★ ★ ★

The Soviets believe continuous observation of the earth could be conducted by three such satellites placed some distance apart and equipped with special television.

Doctor Sees Congress Being Fed to Death

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The attending physician to Congress says the lawmakers are being fed to death.

Rear Adm. George W. Calver, in an interview last night at the opening session of the American College of Cardiology convention, said a combination of rounds of luncheons and dinners plus the stress of making the nation's laws, adds up to a high rate of congressional heart and circulatory diseases.

Dr. Calver, president-elect of the cardiology group, said sitting and listening to a colleague's orations just isn't enough exercise to consume the fuel taken in by heavy political dinners.

"Spark plug 'miss' can rob you of 20 to 30 horsepower. I can stop it and save you gasoline."

TCP adds Anti-Miss to anti-knock

You wouldn't take delivery on a new car if it was shy some of its power. Yet in as few as 2000 miles of driving, any car can lose 20 to 30 horsepower because of spark plug "miss." You notice it especially on hills and getaways.

Super Shell with TCP* stops this power loss. Super Shell has higher octane to prevent engine knock. But today anti-knock alone is not enough. That's why there's TCP in Super Shell—to add anti-miss to anti-knock. TCP neutralizes the harmful combustion deposits that cause misfiring — actually brings back lost power.

And Super Shell's "power pack" of aviation fuel ingredients has extra energy for extra mileage, too.

Try Super Shell with TCP additive and feel the difference in your car's performance.

*Shell's Trademark for this unique gasoline additive developed by Shell Research.

Ready for Limited War Anywhere

Army Reveals Existence of Crack Fighting Force

FT. BRAGG, N.C. (AP) — The Army has revealed the existence of a highly trained fighting force composed of four crack divisions ready to wage limited warfare anywhere in the world.

Maj. Gen. Robert F. Sink, commander of the force known as Strac (Strategic Army Corps), said his troops are set to move on a moment's notice, provided the Air Force and the Navy provide the transportation.

★ ★ ★

"These divisions are hitchhikers," said the tough paratrooper general, adding: "If we don't have the means of getting transportation from the Air Force or the Navy, why, hell, we stay at home."

Sink said a joint commander would consider this lack of transportation at his command a fault of the system, although the Defense Department presumably would furnish the planes and ships if and when they were needed.

The fire brigade force furnished 500 paratroopers which were airlifted to the Caribbean when Vice President Nixon was beset by rioters in Venezuela.

★ ★ ★

The existence of Strac and the units which compose it were announced simultaneously at Washington and at a news briefing here.

The organization some years ago resulted partly from the nation's experience in Korea.

If such a limited war force had been in existence then, the Korean War "probably would have been a much shorter and more satisfactory campaign," said Brig. Gen. Charles H. Chase, Strac's assistant commander and chief of staff.

Strac is composed of more than 125,000 men organized into four divisions—the 82nd Airborne at Ft. Bragg, the 101st Airborne at Ft. Campbell, Ky.; the 1st Infantry at Ft. Riley, and the 4th Infantry at Ft. Lewis, Wash.

Having an outfit set and ready to wage limited war gives flexibility to the nation's foreign policy, said Maj. R. C. Grady, Strac's assistant plans officer. With it, the policy makers are not confronted with the alternative of waging total war or doing nothing.

★ ★ ★

Strac, he said, can apply force ranging "from the prick of a bayonet to tactical atomic weapons."

Topical Fluoride Program Slated

Schools in Waterford to Give Treatment to 2,400 Pupils

Because of the success of last summer's topical fluoride program conducted in Waterford Township, all 17 schools in the district have scheduled some 2,400 pupils for this summer's operation.

More than 600 pupils in three schools participated last year — strictly on a trial basis, according to coordinator Mrs. John Hoke.

★ ★ ★

She said, "The response to these treatments was terrific. Parents, teachers and PTA health chairmen have cooperated to promote the program throughout the area."

Beginning June 17, and continuing through August 22, three dental hygienists from Michigan State University, under the counsel of Waterford Township dentist Dr. William Baer, will give the fluoride treatments at the high school.

Children, 3 to 4, 7 to 10, and 13 years of age, will be treated.

Portable equipment loaned to the township by the state will be in use.

★ ★ ★

Each pupil will pay $4 for four treatments, and any profit from the program will be deposited in a fund to purchase future dental equipment for Waterford Township, Mrs. Hoke said.

$150 Gift of U.N. Stamps Worth $42,000 Today

NEW YORK (AP) — Three years ago an elderly patient insisted on giving nurse Stephanie Buetens some sheets of stamps as a memento.

They were United Nations stamps issued Dec. 10, 1954 with a face value of 3 cents each.

★ ★ ★

Miss Buetens put the 100 sheets — 50 stamps to a sheet — in a closet and forgot about them, except when she was spring cleaning and they were in the way. Several times she was tempted to throw them out.

Last week she saw a professional stamp dealer discussing rare stamps on television. She got in touch with him and brought her stamps to him.

"These are worth $42,000," said philatelist Jack Taub.

"I thought I would just die," 25-year-old Miss Buetens recalled today. "You're kidding. That's all I could say."

She hasn't quite decided whether to sell the stamps now or wait a few years to see if their value goes up.

Executive at Burroughs Heads Michigan UF

EAST LANSING (AP) — Kenneth G. Tiffany of Detroit, a vice president of the Burroughs Corp., has been elected president of the Michigan United Fund, statewide fund-raising group.

He succeeds Robert F. Briggs, Consumers Power Co. executive from Jackson who became chairman of the Board of Directors.

John F. Farr of Leonard Refineries, Alma, was named fund vice president of the 11th annual meeting.

Costello Denies Seeing Gunman

Insists That His Back Was Toward Assailant at Time of Shooting

NEW YORK (AP)—Frank Costello says he never saw the gunman who wounded him a year ago.

In fact, the gambler with gravel in his voice testified yesterday: "I don't know of any human being who would have a notion to want to kill me."

★ ★ ★

Despite police and medical testimony that the bullet that creased his skull was fired from in front, the 68-year-old Costello insisted his back was to the gunman.

His testimony was at the trial of his alleged assailant, vincent Gigante, 30.

"Do you know any reason why this man should seek your life?" Costello was asked.

"None whatsoever," he replied.

Costello denied ever having seen Gigante before the trial.

★ ★ ★

While the gambler was testifying, the U.S. Court of Appeals was unanimously denying Costello's bid to upset his 1954 conviction for income tax evasion.

Costello was unaware of the court action as he made it plain at the trial that the attempt on his life was puzzling to him.

★ ★ ★

Costello suffered the slight wound while in the foyer of his apartment building. Gigante is charged with attempted murder. A doorman has identified him as the assailant.

Here, according to Costello, is what happened: "I entered the foyer. I heard a shot. It sounded like a firecracker to me at the time. I paid little attention to it for the moment.

★ ★ ★

"Then I felt something on my face—wet — it was blood and I knew I was shot."

When he turned around, Costello said, "nobody was in sight."

U.S. Atty. Paul W. Williams said he will move shortly to have Costello complete his five-year sentence on the income tax conviction. The gambler was freed in bail after serving 11 months.

★ ★ ★

Costello is expected to appeal to the U.S. Supreme Court.

Exercise Called Good for Heart

Men Leading Inactive Lives Die at Younger Age, Doctor Says

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The man who gets daily exercise keeps his heart's plumbing ready for the crisis that might otherwise cause a heart attack, a New York doctor said today.

★ ★ ★

Men who led inactive lives died at a younger age than men who led physically active lives, said Dr. David M. Spain, surgical pathologist at Columbia University.

This was a major finding of his study of 1,500 sudden deaths in Westchester County, N.Y. The survey was reported to the National Tuberculosis Assn., composed of doctors interested in many diseases of the chest.

Comparing men of like age groups, Dr. Spain found little difference in the amount of thickening or rusting of the arteries or pipes supplying blood to the heart. It didn't seem to matter whether a person had led an active life or not.

What did seem to matter was this: the active person seemed to have better supplementary pipes that helped detour blood around blocked or narrowed arteries.

You could assume that daily physical activity helped a person develop these supplementary blood lines, even though his regular blood vessels were becoming clogged just as much as the inactive person, Dr. Spain said.

To Honor 127 Students

DETROIT (AP) — A total of 127 graduating Detroit high school seniors from 80 public and parochial schools will be honored as outstanding student citizens by local educational and civic leaders at a banquet here Thursday. Youth Awards will go to 64 girls and 63 boys.

House OKs $60,000 for State Weather Post

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House has voted without dissent a $60,000 appropriation for an around-the-clock weather bureau at Lansing's capitol airport.

The money would be available July 1 if the Senate concurs.

★ ★ ★

The money motion by Chairman Price H. Preston Jr. (D-Ga) of the House Appropriations Subcommittee had neither President Eisenhower's recommendation nor that of the subcommittee. It added $60,000 to the Commerce Department Appropriation Bill.

Rep. Charles E. Chamberlain (R-Mich), leader in the fight for the money, thanked everyone for the bipartisan support given the motion.

★ ★ ★

Lansing airport now gives weather information from a downtown Lansing weather office which operates only 40 hours a week.

Crude tar, a derivative of coal, provides aspirin, adhesives, synthetic rubber, sulfa drugs and other medicines.

Too Much Talking Said to Cause Throat Cancer

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — People who constantly talk themselves hoarse are more likely to develop cancer of the voice box than those who speak softly, a Los Angeles surgeon says.

Salesmen, Newsboys, circus barkers, pitchmen and auctioneers are typical of those who keep their vocal cords under strain, said Dr. Alden H. Miller of the University of Southern California Medical School. He reported on 48 cases of cancer of the larynx to the American Laryngological Assn.

Drag Gravel Pit in Clinton for Body of Father of Six

MOUNT CLEMENS — Dragging operations by the Macomb County Sheriff's Department were to resume early this morning for the body of James Ingram, father of six, who is presumed to have drowned yesterday afternoon in a water-filled gravel pit in Clinton Township.

Ingram, 50, is believed to have been the driver of a car which plunged through a wire fence, down a 25-foot embankment and into 35 feet of water, police said.

The empty car was recovered by skin divers more than three hours after the accident happened on Quinn road, four miles south of Mount Clemens.

Sheriff's Department divers had the car hooked twice and lost it. Then two members of the SCUBA Club of Utica succeeded in bringing it to the surface. They were Henry Curtis of 16601 Millar and Kenneth Sulkowski of 804 N. Espelanade, Mount Clemens.

The divers continued to look for Ingram's body until darkness hampered their search. Deep mud at the bottom of the pit made recovery operations extremely difficult, they said.

Deputies said two of Ingram's three daughters were watching when their father's car was raised. They collapsed and were taken to their home at 34191 Venita, two blocks from the scene.

Ingram's stepson, Willie Banks, said he saw his stepfather a few minutes before the accident. He was alone in the car, he said.

Witnesses said the car was traveling at a high rate of speed, struck a soft shoulder and went out of control around 3 p.m. yesterday.

MUTE EVIDENCE OF TRAGEDY — Bill Ballor of Mount Clemens examines the car in which 50-year-old James Ingram is believed to have lost his life yesterday afternoon when the vehicle plunged down an embankment into a water-filled gravel pit in Clinton Township. The car was recovered last night from 35 feet of water. Dragging for Ingram's body resumed this morning.

WSCS Honors Church Worker

Group in Lake Orion Gives Mrs. John Hall Life Membership

LAKE ORION — The Lake Orion Methodist Women's Society of Christian Service presented Mrs. John Hall with a life membership at a noon luncheon today in her honor at the Church House.

Mrs. Hall, who has served as president of the WSCS for seven years, became the second member to receive a life membership.

★ ★ ★

In a tribute to Mrs. Hall, Mrs. John Lessiter wrote:

"If a record were kept on the dinners cooked and other projects held throughout the years, the name heading the list would be that of Mrs. Hall. There are other things we recall, too, such as her sense of humor and wit, her willingness to do her bit, her praise of others and her lack of criticism."

In addition to her church work, Mrs. Hall has served as president of the Lake Orion Woman's Club and is now its historian. She served on the welfare committee of the Lake Orion Community Schools PTA, on the Orion Township Library Board, and was active in the Orion MOMS.

She lives with her husband, John, at 336 Washington St.

★ ★ ★

Following the luncheon, a program entitled "We the Church" was presented by a singing and speaking choir under the direction of Mrs. A. B. Johns.

Mrs. Johns was elected secretary of literature and publications for the conference at its annual meeting yesterday in the First Methodist Church of Midland.

Council Approves $86,000 Sum

Budget Adopted in Keego

KEEGO HARBOR — The Keego Harbor City Council last night adopted a 1958-59 budget calling for $86,000 for operating expenses.

The budget will be for the period of July 1, 1958, until June 30, 1959.

The budget was trimmed to a point where it is $12,500 less than the 1957-58 outlay.

The city will operate on 12 mills during the 1958-59 fiscal year instead of 13 mills as in the 1957-58 fiscal year, was one of the reasons given for cutting the budget. This condition was brought about because the city has allocated five mills to a sewer fund instead of four mills as set forth in the 1957-58 budget, the council said.

★ ★ ★

The other reason for the cutback was that there will be a drop in city revenue during the 1958-59 fiscal year.

★ ★ ★

The trimming of next year's budget will not bring about any loss in city services, however, Mrs. Eileen Van Horn, city clerk, said.

Denies Canada Feels Anti-U.S.

Executive in Bordering Country Calls It Just Plain Nationalism

DETROIT (AP) — A leading Canadian business executive denied today that a wave of anti-American feeling is sweeping Canada.

Herbert H. Lank, president of Dupont Co. of Canada, Ltd., said "The true sentiment, in my opinion, is one of mounting national consciousness, Canadian nationalism or just plain pro-Canadianism."

Lank acknowledged Canada's economic debt to the United States in a speech before the National Assn. of Credit Men's Convention at Detroit but pointed out that continued American economic investments will "accentuate the rising feeling in Canada that our economy is not well balanced."

"As we continue to grow and develop, helped by your credit and capital, our economic vulnerability to the variations of your own economy seems unabated. When your steel and automobile industries slide off, we ship you less iron ore. When your producers of petroleum, copper, zinc, lead, seek shelter, we feel the pinch—to put it mildly. Any change in your policy concerning stockpiling is felt by us at once. So as we become outspokenly pro-Canadian please study your history books."

"Canada is a debtor nation," Lank said, "with aspirations of becoming a creditor nation and quite properly so? Canada is proud of having paid her own way—she was never a Marshall Plan recipient. But her ability to continue to do so will depend on her customers. The U.S. is by far the biggest one. Consequently U.S. economic policies are bound to affect Canada. Such vulnerability at times makes suppliers understandably uneasy."

Disaster Meet to Be Held for Local Residents

A public meeting concerning home and community preparedness in the case of disaster will be held tomorrow by the Oakland County Cooperative Extension Service.

The meeting, which begins at 10 a.m. at the Oakland County Health Center, 1070 N. Telegraph Rd., will include a discussion of family action in time of disaster, by Mrs. Joseph Mann, director of women's activities, Michigan Office of Civil Defense.

Pontiac Fire Marshal Charles Metz will talk about fire prevention and what to do if fire breaks out in your home.

Following lunch, Lewis Jarrendt, Oakland County Office of Civil Defense, will speak on "Oakland County in Time of Emergency," beginning at 1 p.m.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Terry LeRoy and Mrs. Joan E. Herrington of the American Red Cross will discuss first aid during disaster, and at 2:15 p.m. Mrs. J. Mann will conclude the meeting with a discussion on "Alert, Shelter and Emergency Requirements."

Time to Register Kindergarten Tots

ROMEO—Parents of kindergartners starting school next fall will register their children tomorrow at Washington and Romeo elementary schools.

Registration at the Crosswell Street School will be from 9 to 11 a.m., 1 to 4 p.m. and from 7 to 9 p.m. At the North School, hours will be from 9:30 to 11 a.m., 1:30 to 3 p.m. and from 7 to 8 p.m.

Parents will register prospective pupils at the Washington School between 9 a.m. and 4 p.m. and from 7 to 8 p.m.

They have been asked to bring proof of their child's age, preferably a birth certificate, to show that he will be five years old on or before Dec. 1, 1958.

18 Area 4-H Winners Will Vie in District

Eighteen winners in the annual Share the Fun Festival, a county-wide 4-H talent contest, are now eligible to represent Oakland County in the district eliminations held at Michigan State University in August.

★ ★ ★

They are Janet Long of Milford 4-H Club; Sidney Miller, Seymour Lake; Sue Simonson, Bloomfield; and Betty and Bonnie Cellner, Avon.

Others include a square dance group from Milford 4-H consisting of Janet Long, caller; and Douglas Long, Tom Zoner, Cordree Heard, Marjorie Crawford, Donneale Finch, Sue Meagher, Robin Gorsline and David Meagher.

★ ★ ★

Those included in the winning skit, all from the Dublin Shamrocks 4-H of Cooley Lake, were James Wright, Donald Robinson, Joseph Zelnis and Dwain Kluesner.

To Honor Patrol Boys

CLARKSTON — Patrol Boys and Service Girls of the Clarkston Elementary School will be guests of honor at a Patrol Ball tomorrow from 7:30 to 10 p.m. The affair will be held at the school on Waldon road. It will be an evening of games and dancing. Refreshments will be served by homeroom mothers.

To Enroll Kindergarteners

CLARKSTON — Kindergarten children will be enrolled by parents June 9 at the Andersonville, Clarkston, Pine Knob and Sashabaw elementary schools. Teachers and the school nurse will be on hand to meet parents and prospective pupils. Refreshments will be served throughout the day.

MR. and MRS. ROBERT J. BARNES

Patricia Fairchild Weds R. J. Barnes at Oxford

OXFORD — The Immanuel Congregational Church of Oxford was the scene Saturday evening of the marriage of Patricia Ann Fairchild to Robert J. Barnes. The rite was performed by the Rev. A. Robert Harrison.

★ ★ ★

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Marie Cole of 730 S. Lapeer Rd., Oxford, and George Fairchild of Ferndale. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Robert Barnes of Roselawn, Detroit.

The bride chose a floor-length gown of nylon and marquisette with a Sabrina neckline and princess waist. Her flowers were white rosebuds and lilies of the valley.

Mrs. Edward Storey of Lake Orion was matron of honor. Attendants were Miss Marilyn Kull of Royal Oak and Sandra Alexander of Detroit.

Best man was William Cairns of Dearborn. Ushers were Lee Howes and Otto Ludecke, both of Detroit, and Richard Woodbeck of Oxford.

The reception was held in the Knights of Pythias Hall in Oxford.

★ ★ ★

County Calendar

Clarkston

The Woman's Society of the First Methodist Church in Clarkston will serve a smorgasbord style dinner at 5:30 p.m. Friday at the church. Proceeds will be used to help equip Sunday school rooms and the office at the old parsonage on Buffalo street.

North Branch

The West Burlington Cemetery Assn. will hold its annual meeting May 30 at 11 a.m. at the cemetery. There will be an election of officers.

Ortonville

The Ortonville Woman's Club will meet at 2 p.m. tomorrow at the home of Mrs. Dale Dickason on Thayer road. Topic for the day will be "The Life and Work of Stephen Foster." The annual election of officers will be held.

Open Arguments Before Jury on Razing Ancient Caribou Inn

CLARKSTON — Seven men and five women from the Village of Clarkston yesterday began to hear arguments as to whether their ancient village landmark — the Caribou Inn — should be razed to make room for off-street parking.

★ ★ ★

After many months of delay, resulting from difficulty in impaneling jurors who had not formed an opinion in the controversial case, the condemnation proceedings opened in Circuit Judge George B. Hartrick's courtroom in Pontiac.

The Village Council last December filed the condemnation suit to secure the 132 by 186-foot lot at Washington and Main streets. It hopes to construct an 80-stall parking lot on the property where the fire-damaged inn stands.

But an offer of $17,500 for the parcel isn't satisfactory to owner Ernest Felice. According to his attorney, Milton R. Henry, the "very minimum" would be $65,000.

★ ★ ★

Jurors therefore must determine the necessity for the lot. If they do this, they then must settle on a fair price.

★ ★ ★

In his opening arguments to the jury Tuesday, Village Attorney Milton F. Cooney said development of the village has been hampered partially by lack of off-street parking facilities.

Bound to Circuit Court in Hadley Girl's Death

LAPEER — Roy Flynn, 43, of Flint, waived examination in Justice Court yesterday in Lapeer and was bound over to Circuit Court to stand trial on a charge of negligent homicide in the death of a 14-year-old Hadley girl who was struck by his car.

The girl, Paulette Van Horn was fatally injured April 21 while riding her bicycle near her home. She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Van Horn of 3478 Hadley Rd.

Lebanon to Get Light Tanks

U.S. Readies Shipment of Armor From Supply in Germany

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States is assembling a shipment of light tanks for delivery to Lebanon this week.

Officials said the tanks are being collected from stocks in Germany and will be sent to Lebanon by ship.

★ ★ ★

The tanks are destined for the pro-Western regime of President Camille Chamoun in his government's efforts to put down rebellious attackers.

They were requested by Lebanon along with police-type equipment like gas masks and tear gas gear.

★ ★ ★

Officials said Chamoun's government appears to be making progress in its efforts to maintain order in Lebanon. Secretary of State Dulles said Chamoun's complaint of interference by the United Arab Republic appeared to be based on solid evidence.

The United States sent 18 huge C124 transport airplanes to Frankfurt, Germany, last Saturday.

The officials said these big Globemasters, capable of carrying 200 persons or 35 tons, were not for use in airlifting tanks to Lebanon, but could be used to evacuate Americans from either Lebanon or Algeria if the need should arise.

Washington is closely watching the virtual insurrection in Algeria by French military leaders who took over control and called for a French government headed by Gen. Charles de Gaulle.

★ ★ ★

The United States has evacuation plans on paper for all areas where there are Americans. This includes Algeria as well as Lebanon.

Safe Robbery Loss Set at $40,000

GROSSE POINTE PARK (INS) —Peter V. Cavataro of Grosse Pointe Park told police today that an 800-pound safe stolen from his home last night contained $40,000 in furs and jewelry.

Cavataro, 40, said the safe apparently was hauled away by thieves who used a pickup truck seen in the area about 6:30 p.m. (EST) yesterday. The intruders also ransacked the house.

The Cavataros and their three small children were visiting relatives at the time.

Cavataro is vice president of the Erie Backing Co., of Windsor, Ont.

★ ★ ★

Police Chief Arthur E. Louwers said the definite value of the loot will be set by Cavataro after a complete inventory at the residence.

Avon Photo Club Sets Last Meet of Season

ROCHESTER — The Avon Photographic Club will hold its last meeting of the season tomorrow at 8 p.m. in the Woodward Memorial Library. Hal Dick, a member of the Greater Detroit Camera Club, will be the featured speaker.

★ ★ ★

How to take vacation slides, what equipment to take along, the type of pictures to take and what not to do will be the subject of his talk.

★ ★ ★

Slides chosen for the June 13 Shutter Bug Camera Club competition in Detroit will be shown at the meeting. Members may bring guests.

Kindergarten Roundups Set

Walled Lake District Urges Parents, Pupils to Attend Sessions

WALLED LAKE — During the week of June 2, kindergarten roundup will be held at all elementary buildings in the Walled Lake School District.

On Monday, June 2, they are scheduled for Wixom and Union Lake; June 3, at Decker and Glengary; June 4, at Walled Lake and Commerce; and June 5, at Twin Beach.

★ ★ ★

School officials are urging that prospective kindergarten pupils and their parents attend these sessions so that the fall registration time can be for new residents.

The program also will give some information about the kindergarten classes and activities, materials and teaching methods, and the method of reporting to parents.

All children who will be five years old on or before Dec. 1, 1958, should be enrolled at this time. The parents must bring the child's birth certificate to the round-up.

Census takers have been distributing some of the registration materials. Parents who failed to receive them or who have further questions may call the principal of the elementary school their child will attend.

Ready Assessments on Street Widening

Assessment rolls covering the widening and repaving of Perry street (M 24) were under preparation today as State Highway Department contractor crews continued to remove trees from the construction zone.

City Engineer Lewis M. Wrenn told an irate group at a public hearing last night that tree removal operations would be completed tomorrow.

Perry street residents complained of dust conditions since Saturday, when tree removal began.

The hearing, on the city's intention to enter into the project, was mainly a preliminary to another hearing on assessment rolls to raise approximately two-fifths of the local cost by special assessment. This second hearing will be scheduled after the rolls are readied next Tuesday.

Wrenn estimated $103,113 would be raised by assessments on private property; $9,557 on Oakland County property and $4,459 on school property. The city would pay the latter, along with its estimated share, $130,370.

★ ★ ★

State and federal governments are paying the rest of the $1,300,000 cost.

In another hearing, the city's intention to construct new sidewalks on Cherry court east of Hill street met no opposition.

★ ★ ★

Scheduled for next Tuesday is a hearing on intention to construct a water main along the north side of Featherstone avenue from Kenilworth about 300 feet west. Wrenn estimated the assessed cost would be $1,169, city cost $2,894 and the cost per front foot $2.25.

★ ★ ★

Three items were referred to the City Planning Commission. Two were petitions from General Motors Corp., requesting the city to vacate two short unimproved streets, York and Duke, in GMC Truck & Coach property north of W. South Blvd. The third was a petition asking rezoning of the northwest corner of Franklin road and Rapid street from residential to commercial.

Two lots owned by Dr. Neil Sullenberger on W. Huron street between Thorpe and Lincoln were rezoned from residential to personnel service, to make way for a clinic which the surgeon is establishing there.

Arraigned in Break-In at Waterford Store

Travis Dishman Jr., 30, of 1357 Locke St. was arraigned before Waterford Township Justice of the Peace Donald Adams yesterday, charged with breaking and entering a grocery store. He waived examination and was bound over to Circuit Court.

He is accused of the $1,200 theft from Ritter's Farm Market, 3225 Market St., Waterford Township, May 3.

Tubes Haul Liquids

AKRON, Ohio — Thirty-foot-long tubes of rubber fabric have been developed by an American rubber company for transporting liquids. They hold 3,000 gallons and make it possible for a truck or a railroad car to carry dry cargo in one direction and liquid cargo on the return trip.

New Officers to Be Installed

5 Waterford PTAs Will Meet

Five Waterford Township Parent-Teacher Assns. have scheduled meetings for Thursday night.

Teacher vice president will be Mrs. Dorothy Hills with Secretary Mrs. Albert Langdon and Treasurer Fred Peters.

Following the installation ceremonies, the Girls' elementary choir will present a musical program.

★ ★ ★

An ice cream social will be held from 6:30 to 8 p.m. at the Monteith School. Mrs. Dorsey Underwood will direct kindergarten and mothers of first grade pupils in serving guests in the school, and there will be table facilities on the school grounds.

The Waterford Center PTA group will have its annual installation ceremony beginning at 8 p.m.

Treasurer of the Oakland County PTA Council, Sanford Stearns will conduct the ceremonies and those included are President Mrs. Lewis Long, Mother Vice President Mrs Robert Holderman, with Treasurer Lee Lautzenhiser.

Mrs. Lois Zamek will be the new teacher vice president with Mrs. Richard Kind, recording secretary and Mrs. Albert West, corresponding secretary.

Principal of the school William Abersold will present facts pertaining to the proposal to extend the present 5-mill tax for school operation. A question and answer period will follow the presentation.

A pot-luck supper will begin at 6 p.m. at the Waterford Village School, and after a short business meeting, there will be an installation of officers for 1958-59.

The new president will be Al Pauly. Corresponding secretary is Mrs. Norman Dunn, with recording secretary, Mrs. Charles Hale.

★ ★ ★

Mother vice president will be Mrs. Charles Anderson. Norman Dunn is father vice president and teacher vice president, Mrs. Mary Watson. Mrs. Clement Berden will be the treasurer.

Facing Crisis in West Indies

New Federation Turns to Old and New Worlds for Initial Assistance

PORT OF SPAIN, Trinidad (AP)—The new Federation of the West Indies, with grave constitutional and financial problems, is looking to both the old world and the new for help.

★ ★ ★

The aim of the federation is to become a self-governing dominion within the British Commonwealth.

"We will need outside help and hard work on the part of our people if we are to weather the storm," says Sir Grantley Adams, the first prime minister.

"Federation is doomed to failure unless we can obtain a large loan and a substantial grant," says Sir Alexander Bustamente, Jamaican leader.

★ ★ ★

Adams is turning to Canada for technical assistance. Later he plans to appeal to Canada, Britain, the United States and the United Nations for financial help.

The federation has linked three million people of mixed origins in 10 British colonies made up of more than 15 islands in the Caribbean.

★ ★ ★

Transportation is one of the major problems. The federation needs ships small enough to enter the shallow harbors of the smaller islands, yet rugged enough to withstand travel on the open sea. It also needs ships large enough to carry products to markets overseas.

★ ★ ★

There is bauxite in Jamaica and oil in Trinidad. Otherwise the economy is based largely on exports of sugar, rum, bananas, citrus, cocoa, coffee, spices, copra and cotton.

Adams plans to obtain farm experts to study the possibility of diversifying the economy of the islands so that they will be less competitive with one another and less dependent on imports of foodstuffs.

★ ★ ★

Fisheries experts will see if they can establish a healthy industry in the islands, which now import fish from Canada.

Hal Boyle Says:

Chayefsky Believes People 'Losing Size'

NEW YORK (AP)—"I think we're all losing size," said playwright Paddy Chayefsky.

"Too few people today want stature. They seem to be trying to get rid of the stature they have."

Scratch a humorist and you find a moralist. And Chayefsky is no exception. At 35 Paddy, who won fame with "Marty," finds the world a deadly serious place inhabited by people too often motivated by uncontrollable hostility or an uncontrollable reach for personal pleasure.

★ ★ ★

"I get the feeling that the clanking legions of the barbarians are outside the gates again," he said. "People have tried this wild, let's live-it-up philosophy so often before in history, and it has never worked.

"Hedonism for the sake if hedonism — this living only for pleasure is pretty bad.

"When you get right down to it, however, there are only two windows to the world — two great themes to write about.

"One says life is nothing, and the only thing worth living for is death. The other says love makes the world go round. That's my window.

"I believe in any kind of love—even if it's sick or selfish—that gives a person a reason to live."

The Bronx-born author, whose chunky frame is topped by a dark shock of hair as rebellious as his spirit, currently is firm in the saddle of that rainbow mount called success. He has produced his own movie, "The Goddess" and completed the script for another, "The Middle of the Night." He is putting the finishing touches on a Broadway play.

★ ★ ★

But after 16 years of writing, including a period spent as a gagsmith, he feels he has only now mastered the technique of his craft.

"You're a craftsman when you no longer have to watch your fingers," he explained, "and you can tell when you do something whether it's right or wrong.

"I feel now I've got the craftsmanship in my hands. Now I want to go on and become a real artist.

"I take myself seriously as a writer, whether anyone else does or not. I spend hours trying to get a single phrase right. The whole labor of writing is to make it look like it just came off the top of your head."

★ ★ ★

Many who win success find it disappointing. They look with yearning back to some earlier period of their life. Not Chayefsky. Neither his childhood nor his years as a soldier—he was wounded in Europe during the World War II—hold any romantic appeal to him.

"The happiest time of my life is right now," he said. "I hated the war, and adolescence was the unhappiest period I ever knew.

★ ★ ★

"Someone once wrote and asked me why I didn't write a play about teen-agers. I couldn't bear to. I couldn't go back and live that misery over again even in memory."

Suburban Parents Ask Too Much of Children

(This is the third of four articles reporting on the tensions peculiar to suburban living—what causes them and how they can be handled to prevent trouble within a family.)

By PATRICIA McCORMACK
INS Medical Science Editor

The little girl who spends two hours each day getting to and from her school is having tensions over the family's move to Suburbia.

She falls asleep in school and is too tired at night to do her homework. Her mommy and daddy lecture her about her poor grades.

PROBLEM SOLVED

But her problem, brought to the attention of family service workers recently, will be solved next year when a new school opens closer to home.

★ ★ ★

The family agency workers, psychiatrists and psychologists are not so much worried about such "temporary" tensions on suburban children as they are over growing parental insistence that:

—Each child in the family make the honor roll and capture all the awards for extra-curricular activities.

—Each child conform to the highly organized, "joining" way of life in Subrrbia.

FIT PATTERN

Clark W. Blackburn, director of the Family Service Association of America, says many suburban parents are trying to make their children fit a particular pattern—a mold set up by whatever child-rearing book is popular in a particular suburban community at a given time.

Blackburn says Suburbia needs a few rebels, a few families that won't break their necks to conform, a few families willing to let their children be what they will be.

Family agency workers recently were called in to help Jerry M.—whose problem mirrored a typical set of suburban tensions on children.

The 11-year-old, an A student in the city, was barely doing C work in his suburban school. His parents, upset about it, accused him of being indifferent on purpose.

The workers learned that Jerry's mother, anxious to make a good impression on the community, was completely tied up in civic affairs. She was away from home more than she was in it. She was, after two years, one of the "wheels" in town.

Jerry felt left out. Often he had to cook his own supper because Mom was away and Dad didn't get home from the office until 8 p.m. Father's new job, with a bigger salary, required more time. The long commuting ate up additional hours he used to spend with Jerry.

FELL OUT

Jerry fell out with his parents when they kept pushing him. The family service workers convinced the mother she should spend more time at home. When she did, Jerry picked up in school and became happy again.

The Child Study Association of America recently warned that middle-class, largely suburban parents are driving their children too hard, expecting too much.

Shirley Camper, family life consultant of the FSA, says it is true, too, that suburban youngsters to some extent have their wings clipped a bit. In the city they could roam, almost at will, about town.

★ ★ ★

But Suburbia, child-centered, also is car-centered. More often than not, Mrs. Camper says, suburban youngsters must have someone drive them to the movies, the library, scout meetings, to school.

Other FSA experts say some of the ideas about freedom are quickly diluted by a neighbor who yells "stay in your own yard" when Junior or Janie goes hooting across a prize lawn for the first time.

Sometimes even parents are more interested in raising a lawn than children, and issue a chain of commands: "Don't dig in the lawn, don't ride your bike on the grass, don't walk on the grass."

★ ★ ★

For the teenagers, according to Mrs. Camper, there often are the special "don'ts:"

—Don't go steady with anyone who is "beneath" us.

—Don't associate with those who aren't in the same class with us.

Mrs. Camper says many of these admonitions spring from the snobbery found in some suburban communities.

Too many "don'ts" and too much urging to excel frustrate a child and put him or her on an emotional merry-go-round. Some children react by slipping in their school work. Others turn to anti-social acts and become suburban delinquents.

The children of parents who can't "keep up with the Joneses" economically can develop tensions that may mark them for life if they aren't handled correctly.

Tomorrow: What to do about tensions.)

Stops Constipation Due to "Aging Colon"

New laxative discovery re-creates 3 essentials for normal regularity.

As you grow older, the internal muscles of your colon wall also age, lose the strength that propels waste from the body. Stagnant bowel contents become so dry and shrunken that they fail to stimulate the urge to purge.

Relief, doctors say, lies in a new laxative principle. Old-style bulks and moisteners may create gas, take 3 or 4 days for relief. Old-style salts and drugs cramp and gripe the entire system. Of all laxatives, only new COLONAID gives you its special 3-way relief that works only on the lower colon (area of constipation).

(1) COLONAID moisturizes dry, hardened waste for easy passage without pain or strain. (2) COLONAID'S unequalled rebulking action helps re-tone flabby colon muscles. (3) And COLONAID acts gently, on the nerve reflexes that stimulate the vital "mass movement" of your lower colon.

COLONAID relieves even chronic constipation overnight; is so gentle it was hospital proved safe even for women in critical stages of pregnancy. And COLONAID won't interfere with absorption of vitamins or other food nutrients. Get COLONAID, today!

PLYMOUTH SAVES YOU MONEY ON GAS...

MOBILGAS ECONOMY RUN VICTORY PROVES IT!

New "Fuel-Saver" Choke that helped clinch title is standard equipment on all Plymouth V-8s

Pound for pound, Plymouth uses less gasoline than either of the "other two" cars in the low-price "3"! This was proved beyond doubt when a 1958 Plymouth V-8 was officially declared winner of the low-price car competition in the 1958 Mobilgas Economy Run. Plymouth's competitors also entered cars with 6-cylinder engines (supposedly more economical) but Plymouth beat every car in its class—V-8s and 6s alike!

This title-winning Plymouth is exactly the same Belvedere V-8 with TorqueFlite Automatic Transmission that you can buy right off your Plymouth dealer's floor.

These tests prove that every Plymouth has built-in economy features not found in the "other two". For instance—one of the most important factors in Plymouth's smashing win is the new "Fuel-Saver" Choke that you get at no extra cost on all Plymouth V-8s. This ingenious device employs a triple-stage vacuum piston and a new thermostatic element to reduce the amount of fuel you use in warming up the engine. So it can save you even more on short-distance drives—the kind most people make.

Among the many other savings Plymouth gives you is the $140 you save on standard-equipment Torsion-Aire Ride. The "other two" charge up to that much extra for their best suspension systems. And there are dozens more economies, too!

So if you are dollar-conscious, better hustle over and talk terms and trade with your Plymouth dealer. He's ready to give you a great deal!

Starlet Diana Jergens Engaged to Video Man

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — I had heard that Diana Jergens was getting a good role in "Rally Round the Flag Boys," so I telephoned to ask her. She said that hadn't been settled yet but something else much more important to her had been settled.

She is engaged to Peter Brown, who starts a new TV show at Warner Bros. "They sold his pilot in six days," she said. Diane gets her ring this week but she says they won't marry until fall because her parents don't want her to rush into marriage. "I will have known him a year then," said the bride-to-be, "and haven't dated anyone else."

She leaves Sunday on a personal appearance tour with "High School Confidential" for MGM. "I am very excited about going to New York," Diane said, "because I've never been there. I will go to Atlantic City, Boston and Philadelphia."

Great to be as young, as happy and as full of plans as is Diane.

It figures that Sandra Dee would play Lana Turner's daughter in "Imitation of Life." Ross Hunter, who is producing this picture, discovered Sandra and brought her to Universal-International, and both she and her mother listen to his advice.

They are having a lot of trouble casting this picture and getting the right person to play the role Louise Beavers originally created with Claudette Colbert in the first version. It is impossible to get Pearl Bailey, whom they wanted for the part, because of her commitments with Sam Goldwyn. Sandra has to make "The Gidget" first for Columbia.

Took an unexpected trip to Las Vegas to meet some friends from the East who were there attending a convention. There was plenty of excitement when Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt arrived to speak on the U.N. I couldn't believe I was seeing right when I saw her walk into the Sands' casino.

Danny Thomas said to her, "The mountain came to Mohammed." Incidentally, Danny is at his very, very best in his new show. In her speech Mrs. Roosevelt said Americans are born gamblers and she saw her words come true when she had luncheon at the Sahara, stayed overnight at the El Rancho Vegas, visited the Desert Inn and other places along the strip.

On the serious side, Mrs. Roosevelt spoke on "The Choice Before Us," touching on international problems.

Natalie Wood telephoned to ask me when I could go to the races with her and Bob (Wagner). She said she has been spending all of her time on Bob's boat—a new one he bought recently.

"Bob has been working," said Natalie, "but I haven't made any pictures since 'Marjorie Morningstar' and 'Kings Go Forth'." She said that she is not on suspension with the Warner company and that a new deal is being worked out for her. But she's ready and willing to go to work any time, she told me.

Ex-Yale Gridder Held in Japan

Arrested on Suspicion of Fatally Beating His Brother-in-Law

TOKYO (AP)—Joseph P. Crowley, star Yale football back in the early 1930s, was held by Japanese police today on suspicion of fatally beating his brother-in-law T. A. D. Jones Jr.

Jones, a New Haven, Conn., businessman and son of a Yale gridiron great, died here May 8. Funeral services will be held tomorrow at Trinity Episcopal Church in New Haven.

★ ★ ★

Police Inspector Tsunetoshi Shirakawa said Crowley was arrested this morning "on the suspicion of having inflicted the injuries which caused Jones' death."

"We have conducted a thorough and careful investigation. . .and from medical reports and testimonies of all persons involved, suspicion had become strongest against Crowley," the inspector said. He had indicated all along he thought the case might involve manslaughter or assault rather than murder.

★ ★ ★

Shirakawa said an investigation was continuing on Frederick M. Kissinger, a Maryland accountant who accompanied Jones and Crowley to Tokyo May 5 to buy an oil tanker.

From the first Crowley has denied having anything to do with Jones' death. At the police station he refused to answer reporters' questions and said, "The whole thing is fantastic."

★ ★ ★

Kissinger said, "I think the police have made a very gross mistake. They do not know what happened."

Shirakawa said he will refer the case to the office of the Tokyo prosecutor for consideration of formal charges. Japanese procedure gives police until Friday morning to do this. The prosecutor then can hold Crowley for 20 days without charge while completing an investigation.

Cardinal Resting; His Condition Grave

ROME (AP) — Samuel Cardinal Stritch rested well for the second night since he suffered a stroke but his condition today remained grave.

A brief medical bulletin disclosed for the first time that the 70-year-old Archbishop of Chicago had a slight fever. It said his condition was unchanged.

★ ★ ★

However, one of the two doctors who signed the bulletin, Dr. Ralph Bergen of Chicago, said later the prelate appeared "more alert this morning and apparently better."

Bergen said his patient's temperature during the night had reached 99 degrees but that this was not significant. He added that examination showed there was no congestion of the lungs.

The cardinal's private secretary, Msgr. James Hardiman of Chicago, said the prelate was able to receive communion this morning. Msgr. Hardiman spent the night at the cardinal's bedside.

The cerebral thrombosis that hit the cardinal two days ago — three weeks after the amputation of his right arm—left him partly paralyzed and restricted his speech to a whispered "yes" or "no."

★ ★ ★

The stroke canceled plans for celebration today of the 48th anniversary of his ordination as a priest.

Sputnik Carrier Rocket Now Leading Satellite

LONDON (AP)—Moscow radio today said the carrier rocket of Sputnik III is now leading the artifical satellite by two tenths of an orbit as they whirl around the earth.

★ ★ ★

This means that the rocket, which had less initial velocity than the Sputnik, is spiraling in toward the earth and will be destroyed by friction with the atmosphere while the satellite is still aloft.

The broadcast said both objects completed their 77th circuits of the earth this morning.

Shortage Stirs Rebellion

Potato Root of Parisian Woes

PARIS (AP) — The lowly potato was the root of big trouble in Paris today.

To some Parisians it loomed more important than the political crisis.

TERRIBLE SITUATION

"The situation is terrible," said Madame Grandjean. "It could mean revolution."

Mme. Grandjean cleans offices for a living, and potatoes for her family when she can find the spuds.

"My niece has a confirmation on Thursday," she wailed. "How can I possibly entertain relatives and friends when I can find no potatoes in Paris?"

The headline in the left-wing newspaper Liberation was pitched in the same shrill note of protest. "Potatoes and the defense of liberty," it said.

★ ★ ★

The grave potato crisis was brought about by two factors — one political, the other economic.

For obvious reasons few, if any, new potatoes are arriving from strife-torn North African farms.

For less obvious but just as real reasons, the French farmer at home is boycotting the Paris market.

Early this spring the government slapped a price ceiling of about 10 cents a pound on potatoes, a staple of the French diet. Demanding at least 22 cents a pound for his pommes de terre, the farmer is refusing to haul his new crop to the markets of Paris.

LONG LINES

"It's awful," said Mme. Grandjean. "At the only places where potatoes are being sold this morning, there are long lines of housewives.

★ ★ ★

"With no potatoes what is going to happen to France?"

Parting Sweet Sorrow for Kim Novak, Trujillo

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Parting was such sweet sorrow for Kim Novak and free-spending Lt. Gen. Rafael Trujillo Jr.

The 24-year-old blonde actress and the handsome son of the Dominican Republic strongman spent half an hour last night saying goodby aboard his private railroad car.

★ ★ ★

Trujillo said he plans to return for Kim in July when he finishes his studies at the Army Command School in Kansas.

And Kim winked and nodded when a reporter asked whether she will be waiting.

"I'm very fond of Ramfis (Trujillo's nickname)," Kim said.

Is the fondness actually love?

"You know I can't talk of anything like that now," Kim said. "He's still married."

★ ★ ★

Trujillo, 29, whose wife and six children are in the Dominican Republic, says a Mexican divorce will be final in July. Then he will return to Hollywood before leaving for his homeland on the family yacht.

Will it be a honeymoon trip?

"You never can tell," he said.

The general, smiling and dapper in a gray suit, arrived at the train station with Kim on his arm. Several aides tried to shield the couple from photographers but Trujillo waved them aside and walked the actress through a barrage of camera lights.

★ ★ ★

Kim, wearing a tight-fitting black dress, was helped aboard the train by Trujillo. They said farewell in a private compartment while other members of the party sipped drinks in the railroad car's salon.

Then Kim left and walked through a double line of photographers to a waiting car.

"Just say I find Ramfis very sincere and nice," she said before driving off.

★ ★ ★

Trujillo arrived here aboard a chartered airliner two months ago. He rented a $2,500-a-month Beverly Hills mansion and was soon taking Kim on bistro-hopping jaunts along Sunset Strip.

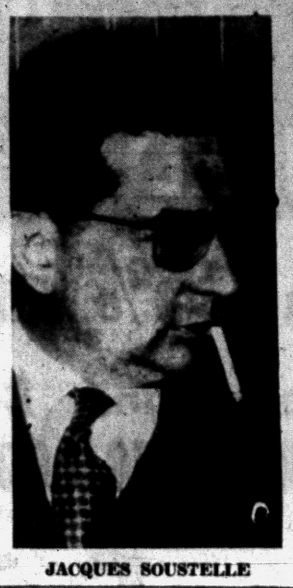
Leads De Gaullist Group

Soustelle Behind It All



JACQUES SOUSTELLE

By INTERNATIONAL NEWS

Jacques Soustelle may be more responsible than any other single man for the current French crisis.

Soustelle is, or was, leader of the group in the National Assembly that follows the policies of Gen. Charles de Gaulle.

★ ★ ★

On April 15, when the Assembly was debating Premier Felix Gaillard's Algerian policies, Soustelle spoke out at an opportune time and assured defeat of Gaillard's government.

His arguments are credited with swinging the votes against Gaillard from those assemblymen who had not made up their minds. The fall of Gaillard's government plunged France into a crisis that led to the current revolt of army leaders in Algeria.

After the revolt began, Soustelle was put under surveillance by French Security Police. He escaped and joined the antigovernment forces in Algiers last Saturday.

Since then, he has been making fiery speeches. The crowds have wildly cheered him when he made such statements as "history will say one day that Algeria has saved France."

Soustelle has been an ardent Gaullist since early in World War II when the general rallied free France to resist the Nazis. Not long after he joined the movement, he became De Gaulle's righthand man.

He was chief of the free French Secret Police. After the war, he was twice a minister in De Gaulle governments.

Soustelle is well acquainted with all the nuances and subtleties of the Algerian issue. He served as governor general of Algeria from February, 1955, to February, 1956.

Soustelle is a burning advocate of all-out suppression of the Moslem nationalists in Algeria. In his mind, Algeria should be a part of France as long as there is a France.

★ ★ ★

Soustelle was born on Feb. 3, 1912, in Montpellier. His expression is brooding, his physique chunky. His interests lie in many areas. Before World War II, he made a name for himself in France in anthropology and other studies. In the 1930s he spent much of his time leading scientific expeditions in South and Central America.

What does Soustelle think of U. S. foreign policies? These are the words he used about the U. S. in helping to end Gaillard's government:

"We are allies when our presence on the European front is solicited. We cease to be when it is a question of North Africa or the Middle East.

"One knows well the (U.S.) State Department doctrine: Sacrifice everything, including your latest and most faithful allies, in an attempt to obtain the friendship or at least the tolerance of the Arabs . . ."

Officer Books Woman Going to Sanity Hearing

BAKERSFIELD, Calif. (AP) — Highway Patrolman Bright Bell sighed heavily after booking Virginia Tyson, 28, Los Angeles, on a charge of reckless driving.

After leading him on a 20-mile chase at speeds up to 115 miles an hour, he said she told him: "I'm on my way to San Francisco to testify in the sanity hearing of a friend."

To Offer Chemist Degree

KALAMAZOO (AP)—Western Michigan University will offer the master of arts degree in chemistry starting next September. President Paul V. Sangren said the new program will offer advanced work in analytical, physical, organic, inorganic and bio-chemistry.

Cedar Lumber Mill Destroyed by Blaze

SEATTLE (AP) — Fire today destroyed one of the world's largest cedar lumber mills.

An army of more than 300 firemen and volunteers battled the blaze at the Seattle Cedar Lumber Manufacturing Co. for more than four hours. There were no deaths or serious injuries.

★ ★ ★

"In 47 years of fighting fires this measures up to the top six I've seen," said Fire Chief William F. Fitzgerald.

Ben Ford, the firm's accountant, estimated damaged at more than 1½ million dollars.

★ ★ ★

Jack Wilde, mill superintendent, said eight million board feet of lumber worth about a million dollars were reduced to ashes.

Fitzgerald said the fire started in a dry kiln but was unable to explain its source.

The infield that carried the Detroit Tigers to their first world championship in 1935 will reunite at Briggs Stadium at the Hall of Fame and Old Timers game June 28th.

Accepting invitations were first baseman Hank Greenberg, second baseman Charley Gehringer, shortstop Billy Rogell and third baseman Marv Owen.

★ ★ ★

It is likely the Tigers will call up Vito Valentinetti from Charleston in the next few days. Pitcher Herm Wehmeier is on the 30-day disabled list with a sore arm.

★ ★ ★

Rapid Robert Feller, Cleveland's famed pitcher, will come out of retirement Monday to pitch three innings against the San Francisco Giants.

Feller will hurl for the Army cadets at West Point in their annual exhibition game against the Giants.

★ ★ ★

"It was a nightmare," said a Western Michigan University official after Wisconsin's baseball team whipped the Broncos 23-2 yesterday.

Wisconsin, pounding five pitchers, had one home run, three triples, six doubles and 14 singles. Western Michigan had eight errors and gave up seven bases on balls.

★ ★ ★

Some interesting things occurred at this week's junior high track meets at Wisner field . . . both of which have connotations for the future at Pontiac Central and new Pontiac Northern. Mike Sedynick's (Lincoln) 10-8½ pole vault (has cleared 11 feet), will give Northern a fine starting vaulter next year (something Central would like right now) . . . Braydell Pritchett (Washington), husky brother of PCH's fine 440 man, Jim (LeRoy) Pritchett, shoved the 8-pound shot 55 feet, 4¾ inches, a JH record. He will help Central later on. Sedynick's vault is also a JH record.

SWAPPED — Infielder Al Dark (right) was traded by the St. Louis Cardinals to Chicago for right handed pitcher Jim Brosnan (left). There was no money involved in the trade. Dark was obtained from the Braves two seasons ago. He had been used as a pinch hitter recently and in his last four appearances he has had four hits.

Club President Gives Manager Support

Tighe Gets Confidence Vote

DETROIT (AP)—Manager Jack Tighe had a vote of confidence from the front office today while his Detroit Tigers were wallowing in a six-game losing streak.

Club president Harvey E. Hansen declared "Tighe is not going to be crucified by the fans and the Detroit Tiger management is not going to be influenced and pressured by fans and newspapers."

He said the talkative sophomore pilot has done "a good job under the circumstances."

The letter-writers have been busy of late, demanding that Tighe be ousted. Newspapers and radio stations have had large numbers of letters and calls from disgruntled fans and one group has adopted the slogan "get rid of Tighe by the fourth of July."

Hansen said his office has been busy, too, with letters from complaining fans.

"The second-guessers have been pretty busy," said Hansen, reflecting on the losing streak that matches the club's poorest string of performances during all of the 1957 season.

"I don't know of another manager in the Major Leagues who has had more to contend with this year than Jack. He's had injuries galore and a lot of bad luck. Sure, people gripe when you lose. That's only natural.

★ ★ ★

"But a lot of good managers have been ruined by this silly notion that you must fire the manager when the club is going poorly. Too many managements — I mean the top brass—have allowed themselves to be pressured into drastic moves rather than to rely on their own judgment."

The Tiger president left open the door for such a move, however, should the club fail to get started before long. He said "as of today, we feel Jack has done a satisfactory job. When the directors feel the lack of success is his fault, we will take the proper action. But Tighe won't read about it in the papers, if and when it does happen."

Hansen was interviewed during Detroit's sixth straight loss yesterday and during the talk he looked up just in time to see Baltimore's Bob Nieman hit his second straight home run over the left field barrier.

Tiger Manager Hoping Al Will Snap Hit Slump

Defeat by Baltimore Puts Detroit 'Solid' in 7th Place

DETROIT (AP) — Al Kaline has been benched for lack of hitting.

Manager Jack Tighe decided after yesterday's 6-4 loss to the Baltimore Orioles that the young right fielder should spend a few days on the bench.

"Maybe it'll shake him up a little," said Tighe. "He's all mixed up out there."

Kaline failed to hit in four at-bats yesterday and his average fell to .217. The 23-year-old flychaser has driven in only 12 runs with 23 base hits that include only two home runs.

★ ★ ★

In 1955 he became the youngest player ever to win the American League batting title, hitting at a sizzling .340 clip when he was just past his 20th birthday. He batted .314 the following year and fell off to .295 last season.

The slump-ridden and sometimes-sulky young man has driven across only three runs in May.

"We have to do something." Tighe explained and announced he will put Johnny Groth in right field in Kaline's spot. He also will take Charlie Maxwell off first base and use Gail Harris there, sending Maxwell back to left field.

Maxwell has played four games at first base. Ray Boone is out with an aching right knee and his replacement, Harris, has been sidelined for a few days with a respiratory ailment. Harris rejoined the club yesterday and took batting practice.

Yesterday, the Tigers lost the contest early to the team Tighe recently called "A bunch of rinky-dinks."

The loss left Detroit solidly in seventh place in the American League standings just a half a game ahead of cellar-dwelling Chicago which is 10½ games out of first place.

Those rinky-dinks plastered softballing Bill Hoeft for four runs in less than three innings and let Bob Nieman do the rest of the damage with home runs against Hank Aguirre and Tom Morgan. Bob Shaw also pitched.

★ ★ ★

Hoeft, who insists on throwing "junk" instead of the blazing fast ball that brought him so quickly to the big leagues, found himself in a bases-loaded jam in the first inning because of a single and two walks. Brooks Robinson singled home two runs.

One more crossed in the second on the first of three singles by Foster Castleman, a National League castoff, a sacrifice by winning pitcher Bill O'Dell and Bob Boyd's second of three hits.

An error by third baseman Reno Bertoia followed by Dick Williams' double routed Hoeft before he could retire a batter in the third. Jim Busby drove in the Orioles' fourth run with a sacrifice fly. Nieman homered in the fifth and again in the seventh against his old mates.

★ ★ ★

The Tigers reached O'Dell for two runs in the third on doubles by Aguirre and Frank Bolling, a single by Bertoia and a sacrifice fly by Harvey Kuenn — who went hitless for the third straight game.

O'Dell weakened in the eight and two pitchers were needed to bail him out of trouble. Bertoia homered behind a walk and with a 2-0 count on Kuenn, O'Dell was removed because of a blister on his pitching hand.

George Zuverink got Kaline on a swinging third strike for the second out. When he walked Lou Skizas, manager Paul Richards called on lefty Jack Harshman. The ex-Chicago White Sox hurler loaded the bases with a walk to Maxwell but right fielder Al Pilarcik ended the threat by picking off Billy Martin's blooper with a falling-down catch. Harshman never permitted the Tigers even a mild threat in the ninth inning, to start a three-game set.

Lowly Pale Hose Fall 10½ Games Behind Bombers

Mickey Mantle, Bauer and Throneberry Slam Homers for Champs

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Wonder what Al Lopez is thinking now? One defeat doesn't a season make. Nor does it destroy a prophecy. One can't help but recall the highly optimistic words uttered by the Chicago White Sox manager only two months ago.

"We're going to win the pennant," he said, then, "because the Yankees are not going to beat us nine of 11 in our park as they did last year. A majority of those defeats came in the late innings after we had taken the lead.

"We had that in mind when we traded some of our power for more pitching. I feel the only club we have to beat to take it all is the Yankees and I'm sure we have the pitching to do it."

★ ★ ★

The White Sox met the Yankees for the first time this season last night — in Chicago. It was the same old story. The Yankees won, 5-1. They hit three home runs, by Mickey Mantle, Hank Bauer and Marv Throneberry. Chicago got only five hits off Johnny Kucks, avoiding a shutout in the ninth inning. The defeat shoved the Sox deeper into the American League basement, 10½ games behind the runaway Yankees.

★ ★ ★

Kansas City retained second place, 6½ games off the pace, vanquishing Washington 7-3. Boston swept past Cleveland into fourth place, thrashing the Indians 6-1. In the only daylight game, third place Baltimore evened their record at 13-13, defeating Detroit 6-4.

The Yankees rapped Dick Donovan and Bill Fischer for 10 hits to register their seventh straight victory, their 11th in the last 12 games and their 20th in 25 games this season. A crowd of 36,167 saw Mantle start the scoring with a double, followed by Jerry Lumpe's RBI single in the second. Mantle's fourth inning homer, an inside-the-park job, was a routing fly ball on which outfielders Al Smith and Jim Rivera did an Alphonse and Gaston act.

Home runs by Ted Williams, Jimmy Piersall and Pete Runnels helped Bob Smith gain his third victory without a defeat. The Boston left-hander went all the way against Cleveland, hurling a three-hitter.

Bob Martyn led Kansas City to its fifth straight victory. He cracked a double and triple, drove in two runs, scored twice and played brilliantly in the outfield. The streak equalled the A's longest skein since they moved from Philadelphia three years ago. Ned Garver gained his fifth victory despite 10 hits.

★ ★ ★

Bob Nieman, the league's leading hitter, walloped two home runs to help Baltimore extend Detroit's losing streak to six games. Billy O'Dell won his fourth although he needed help from George Zuverink and Jack Harshman in the eighth.

BACKS TIGHE — Harvey Hansen, president of the Detroit Tigers, today backed Jack Tighe as fans and writers began taking blasts at the Bengal manager. Hansen and the board of directors gave Tighe a "vote of confidence."

Choice Quotes by Tighe Put in Clubhouse

Orioles Put Clippings of "Rinky-Dink" Title on Bulletin Board

DETROIT (AP) — A few choice quotes from Jack Tighe were plastered in the Baltimore Orioles' clubhouse for a few days in the last week or two.

★ ★ ★

The Detroit manager had publicly referred to the Orioles as "a bunch of rinky-dinks" after the Tigers dropped two games to them on the road. The story was put in a prominent spot in the Baltimore quarters where all the players could get a good look at it.

★ ★ ★

Score of yesterday's game was listed on the board as "Rinky-Dinks 6, Tighers 4."

Buys Home for Old Friend

Musial Shows Gratitude

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Stan Musial, at the height of acclaim for his 3,000th hit in major league baseball, has made Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Kerr of Houston very happy.

The Kerrs moved into a home of their own the other day—a gift from the Musials.

★ ★ ★

Kerr, now 65, was the little lefthanded pitcher who won two games for the Chicago White Sox in the 1919 World Series that produced the Black Sox scandal and one of baseball's darkest hours. He now works for an electric company.

★ ★ ★

The paths of Kerr and Musial crossed in 1940 at Daytona Beach, Fla., a Class D St. Louis Cardinal farm club. Kerr, the club manager, took Musial, a discouraged outfielder-pitcher, and encouraged him to go on playing the outfield and hitting despite an Arm injury.

The Kerrs took the Musials into their home. The Musials' first child was named Dickie in honor of Kerr and the young man now is getting ready to enter Notre Dame in September.

The families have been devoted ever since.

★ ★ ★

"This is the luckiest thing that ever happened to me in my life," Kerr said while standing outside his new home in a subdivision where homes sell from $10,000 to $20,000. "I couldn't be happier."

Mrs. Hume Wins WDGA Tourney

Mrs. John Hume, former state and district champion, fired an 84 yesterday to win the Women's District Golf Association tournament at Western Golf Club.

Mrs. Hume, who once ruled all women golfers in Michigan as Marjorie Row, defeated runner-up Mrs. Frank Campsie by one stroke in the championship flight.

Four others broke 90 in the field of 103 players. Mrs. Keith LeClair shot 87, Mrs. Ruth Stricker 88, Mrs. Don Weiss 88 and Mrs. John LeBoskey 89.

Yesterday's WDGA winner is making a comeback after practically retiring from competitive golf for five years.

Pair of Linemen Signed by Lions

Gatski, Perry Ink 1958 Pacts; Rookie Center Also at Terms

DETROIT (AP) — Two veteran linemen, Frank Gatski and Jerry Perry, have agreed to 1958 contract terms with the Detroit Lions.

Rookie center Gene Alderton of Maryland also has come to terms.

Gatski is the oldest player doing full-time duty in the National Football League. The 36-year-old center will be starting his 13th season in professional football when the Lions start camp in July.

Perry, 6 feet 4 and 240 pounds, is ready for his fourth season. Last season he was the No. 1 defensive line replacement. He was signed as a free agent in 1954 after being drafted by the Los Angeles Rams the previous year.

Alderton was Detroit's 15th draft choice in the 1957 selections. Last year he was captain of the Maryland team.

Illinois Favored in Tennis Championships

MSU in Key Spot for Baseball Title

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Michigan State is in good strategic position going into the final weekend of play to take the second Big Ten baseball title in Spartan history.

★ ★ ★

MSU now is solidly on top of the league with a 9-3 record. Ohio State fell back to 8-4 and Minnesota is third with an 8-3 mark.

State's only previous conference championship was in 1954, on an 11-2-1 finish.

The Spartans have to travel for the three-game windup but still figure as favorites.

The single game Friday is at Iowa, now in last place with a 3-9 record. Michigan State then plays two at Minnesota to lay the title right on the line. A win over Iowa and a split with Minnesota would eliminate the Gophers since Minnesota has one less game.

Ohio State would have to win its last three games to even figure in a tie for the title. The Buckeyes have a single game with Purdue on Friday and two with Illinois Saturday. Minnesota's Friday game is with Michigan.

"I think we should rate as good or better than our closest competition," said coach John Kobs with confidence.

★ ★ ★

"Our hitting has held up well and I don't see why it should falter over the weekend. Our fielding has been good and it also looks as if we've found a third pitcher."

Larry Foster, Lansing sophomore, has stepped in to become the third effective pitcher. Ron Perranoski has won four, Dick Radatz has won three and Foster now has two conference victories.

The only fear haunting Kobs is that his team might run into freak weather over the weekend—a rain-out—and have to sit idly by while others decide the championship.

★ ★ ★

Illinois, unbeaten in 15 dual meets this season, is favored to win the Big Ten tennis championship.

Competition will start tomorrow on the Northwestern University courts and continues through Saturday.

Defending champion Michigan will be hard pressed to repeat after losing by graduation Davis Cup star Barry Mackay, the 1957 Big Ten singles champion.

John Erickson, John Harris and George Korol are Michigan's only returning lettermen from the team that won the crown with a record 78 points.

Illinois is headed by Carl Noble, No. 1 singles player who teams with Al Holtmann, former U.S. National Indoor Junior champion, to form a strong doubles combination. Other veterans are Bob Breckenridge and Roger Bielfeld.

Entry Deadline May 27

'Shoe' Loop Starts June 2

The Pontiac Parks and Recreation Department's City Horseshoe League, which has been steadily growing in popularity, will start its 1958 season on Monday evening, June 2.

A special meting will be held Tuesday night, May 27, at Oakland Park to draw up the year's schedule and discuss league rules. Meeting time is 7:30.

The league schedule will run from June 2 through September 12. Competition will be held Monday and Wednesday at Murphy Park and Tuesday and Thursday at Oakland. All matches begin at 7 p.m.

Singles and doubles are scheduled each night at each park and a trophy fee of $1.25 will be charged per person per event.

★ ★ ★

A maximum of 16 singles and eight doubles can register for any one night. The Recreation Department hopes that the eight doubles teams can be composed of the 16 singles entries on any given evening.

★ ★ ★

Registrations and trophy fees must be filed with the Recreation Department by Tuesday, May 27. No entries will be accepted after the deadline because of scheduling urgency. A man can only register for one night of play.

Further information may be obtained by calling any of the following persons:

John Vitton, president, FE 4-0448; Leonard Skaggs, vice-president, FE 4-3023; Ed Justin, secretary-treasurer, FE 4-5025; Herc Renda, league director, FE 4-0241; Parks and Recreation Department, FE 3-7131, Extension 71.

First No-Hitter in City Softball

Deni's Corner received some brilliant no-hit pitching from Jim Long last night at Beaudette Park for a 7-0 triumph over the Post Office in National division action of the City Softball League. It was the first no-hiter of the season.

★ ★ ★

Long faced only 26 batters and fanned 10 while walking three. Art Weiss hurled for the losers and allowed just four hits, one a 2nd-inning lead-off home run by Deni's Mike Fiorillo.

★ ★ ★

In the only other scheduled game, the American Legion made a three-run 3rd inning stand up for a 4-3 conquest of the Pontiac Merchants. Ken Spears was the winning pitcher on a six-hit effort.

Birmingham defeated Stadium Inn, 8-5, in an American loop exhibition contest at North Side.

Doctoring Your Golf

By DR. CARY MIDDLECOFF

Patient's Complaint: "Pooped" Chip Shots.

Diagnoisis: Backward Sway.

Treatment: The treatment needed here is simple—keep your body in place after you set yourself to make a short shot around the green.

But first, let's be sure we understand each other on the term used in the complaint. By "pooped" chip shots, I mean those on which the clubhead hits the ground behind the ball, and the ball moves only a few feet instead of the several yards you intended.

There's a natural tendency in golfers to move the body laterally backwards just a little bit on short chip shots. It ties in with the very wrong and widespread theory that the clubhead needs a little help from the hands in getting the ball up. So a lot of golfers sway backward to get in position for a "lifting" action with the hands.

The best way to avoid this sway fault is to put a little extra weight on the left leg when you take your stance from a chip shot. Let the weight distribution be about 60 per cent on the left leg and 40 on the right. This will be an aid in producing the down-and-through stroke that's so essential to good chipping.

Cardinals Reach First Division

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

First division at last. After almost being left at the starting gate, the St. Louis Cardinals have pulled up finally into fourth place in the National League.

It took 11 victories in their last 13 games to do it. Lindy McDaniel made sure of that by hurling a seven-hitter last night against Philadelphia as the Cardinals triumphed 5-0. It was the $50,000 bonus right-hander's first shutout of the year and his first since he blanked the Phils by the same score on May 16, 1957.

★ ★ ★

The Cardinals' sizzling pace is being matched, practically victory for victory, by the San Francisco Giants. The West Coast sensations also made it 11 victories in their last 13 outings with a 4-2 decision in Cincinnati. Young Mike McCormick, the $60,000 bonus left-hander, posted his fourth victory without a defeat with a five-hitter.

The Giants' triumph, coupled with Los Angeles' 6-3 success in Milwaukee in 11 innings, boosted them into first place by 24 percentage points over the Braves. Pittsburgh blasted out of a five-game losing streak with a 12-3 walloping of Chicago.

The Cards' surge can be attributed to their sudden ferocity against southpaws, who used to give them a greal deal of concern. They have faced seven starting left-handers during their streak, and have beaten six, kayoing the seventh.

Curt Simmons, their latest victim, was driven out in the sixth inning when the Cards scored twice. Four straight singles by Gene Green, Ken Boyer, Curt Flood and Hal Smith accounted for three runs in the fifth. Green's double and Del Ennis' single finished Simmons and dropped the Phillies into fifth place.

★ ★ ★

The Giants scored twice in the eighth to snap a 2-2 tie with Cincinnati. Orlando Cepeda drove in the first run with a sacrifice fly and Daryl Spencer doubled in the insurance run. A single by Jim Davenport, a double by Willie Mays and an intentional walk to Hank Sauer by loser Harvey Haddix had filled the bases. The Giants had tied the score in the sixth on Sauer's ninth homer of the campaign.

★ ★ ★

Still another bonus pitcher, $20,000 Sandy Koufax, limited the Braves to two hits for his first victory of the year. Duke Snider, in a pinch-hit role, drove in the winning run for Los Angeles with an 11th inning double following a two-bagger by Junior Gilliam. Carl Furillo's single and John Roseboro's sacrifice mly furnished the final two runs. Roseboro's seventh inning homer had tied the score at 3-3. The defeat was charged to Gene Conley, his second without a victory.

★ ★ ★

Frank Thomas rapped his 13th home run, Bill Virdon his first and Bill Mazeroski and Hank Foiles cracked two doubles each as the Pirates clubbed six Chicago pitchers for 13 hits. Bob Friend went all the way for the winners, registering his sixth success against two defeats.

Milford Wins 4th Straight W-O Title

One big area prep track meet was completed yesterday, and another championship event comes up today, with the top feature during the weekend, when Pontiac Central defends its 1957 state crown at Ann Arbor. Many area "A" squads will take part, including the Wayne-Oakland champion, Milford.

Redskins grabbed their 4th straight W-O title as hosts, last night at Milford, compiling a 47½ point total to edge a closely-bunched field of eight teams. Farmington is host today to the Inter-Lakes championships in which Gene Freed's crew, Walled Lake and Waterford are expected to engage in a hot 3-way battle.

Two league records and a field mark were broken at Milford; Milford's medley relay quartet (Manley, Munson, Heintzelman, Hackett) hit 2:40.5; Milford's Roy Danley ran a 2:07.9 half mile. Bloomfield Hills' Armstrong (4:49.6-mile) and Milford's vaulter, Bill Veresh (11 feet), were top performers. Team standings —Milford 47½, Clarkston 35½, Holly 26½, Northville 25½, Bloomfield Hills 25, W. Bloomfield 20, Brighton 11, Clarenceville 6½.

Waterford defeated Wayne in a dual track test 78½-30½, with hurdler Bill Cole setting the pace as Skippers collected 10 firsts.

Avondale turned in a 1-hit baseball shutout over Madison 7-0, with Dennis Evans the winner with 16 strikeouts. It was his 8th win. Skippers' Kirken won a 2-0 shutout over Berkley, I-L leaders, his mates scoring in the 5th and 6th frames. Love for Farmington shut out Walled Lake 1-0 in a mound thriller, in Inter-Lakes play. Game went an extra inning.

Three Wayne-Oakland golf teams got together in a links triangular match at Pontiac CC, and Bud Badger led the Bloomfield Hills contingent with a 40, as medalist, to a victory (167) over West Bloomfield (183) and Holly (193). Terry Kelly and Barry Johnson for WB had 44s, Holly's Kinney had 46.

Grosse Ptr. Univ. School defeated Cranbrook at tennis, 3-2 taking all but the first singles and the second doubles matches. Cranes will entertain the state regionals, Friday and Saturday of this week.

St. Mike Athletes Honored

The presentation of the Steve Griffin trophies to Bob Mineweaser, Jerry Ohngren and Joyce Dropps highlighted St. Michael's annual all-sports banquet last night at St. Mike parish hall.

For the first time in the history of the awards, a tie developed for the boy's honors and Miss Rose Griffin, author of the awards, gave a trophy to each boy.

Mineweaser is the son of St. Mike's head coach Bob and he lettered in football, basketball and track. Ohngren gained all-state and all-county honors on the gridiron.

The trophies are presented annually to the outstanding senior boy and girl athletes at St. Michael. Rev. Roman Narkun, former St. Mike athletic director, presented the trophies to the three youths.

Awards were given to all St. Mike athletes and cheerleaders with seniors receiving the traditional individual trophies for each sport in which they participated.

Bill Yeoman, assistant football coach at Michigan State University, was the guest speaker. Chuck Lewis of radio station WPON was the toastmaster.

Cards Trade Veteran Al Dark for Hurler

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The fourth-place St. Louis Cardinals have traded veteran shortstop Alvin Dark for right-handed pitcher Jim Brosnan, formerly of the Chicago Cubs.

The Cardinal front office said no money changed hands in the deal.

The Cards plan to put the 28-year-old Brosnan, 3-4 so far this season, into pitching rotation immediately.

Dark, 35, was one of the highest salaried players on the Red Bird squad.

Teeing Off

By BILL CORNWELL

There have been many memorable moments in the history of the Western Open.

Like all golf tournaments of great stature, the Western has produced sensational shots, brilliant scoring and climactic finishes.

It's impossible to give justice to all the thrills that have transpired in 54 previous Western tourneys in space as short as this. So yours truly will pick one achievement today that ranks with the greatest.

The almost unbelievable closing round by Dr. Cary Middlecoff in 1955 at Portland Golf Club in Oregon stands unparalleled in Western Open annals.

Middlecoff, who turned professional 11 years ago after he decided he'd rather play golf than yank teeth for a living, won the 1955 Western to end six years of frustration. The way he did it is monumental.

The golfing dentist entered the final 18-hole round trailing Mike Souchak, the ex-Duke University football player, by four strokes. Cary himself saw little chance to win the event when he strode to the first tee.

MIDDLECOFF

Middlecoff proceeded to shoot an incredible 29-34—63, nine under par, for a 72-hole total of 272 and victory by two strokes. The amazing part of his score was the fact that he fired nine birdies in 10 holes — beginning with the 3rd hole and ending on No. 12.

The luckless Souchak carded a closing 69 and had to be content with second place on a total of 274.

It was the hottest streak of golf ever enjoyed by Middlecoff during a fabulous career which has seen many dazzling performances.

His blazing 63 is still the lowest round in the 59-year history of the Western Open and it equalled the course record held by Ben Hogan and Jim Ferrier.

The Memphis swinger will try for his second Western Open championship next week at Red Run and if there are any 63's left in his system, he might just succeed.

SHORT PUTTS

The air age has come to golf. A helicopter bearing walkie-talkie equipment for use in the Western Open landed near the Red Run clubhouse yesterday and unloaded.

One of the most thorough jobs of reporting scores ever undertaken will be in effect during the May 29-June 1 tournament. Walkie-talkie will relay scores back to the main board after every three holes.

Among the lastest entries in the Western classic are Roberto de Vicenzo, Bob Goalby, J. C. Gossie, Ted Kroll, Tony Lema and Monroe's Ben Lula.

Easy Wins at Waterford

Spencer Floor Covering and Hubert Wall's Service were easy winners in Waterford League National division softball games last night at Drayton Plains.

Wall's thrashed the Eagles, 17-3, with the 10-run rule stopping play after 4½ innings. Welch led the winners with 3 hits, including an inside-the-park home run. In the other game, Spencer handed the Pontiac Lake Merchants a 16-8 trouncing.

Jewelers Win Opening Tilt

Jones Hurls 4-Hitter for 5-2 City League Baseball Victory

Shaw's Jewelers opened defense of their Class A City League baseball title Tuesday with a 5-2 victory over CIO Local 594 at Wisner Field.

Jim Jones, the fireballing righthander, hurled a four-hit gem for the Jewelers, striking out nine batters and walking only two.

His teammates gave him solid support with a nine-hit assault against the CIO's Jim Wagner, including three by Herm Bishop and two by Red Wing goalie Terry Sawchuk who played first base.

The Jewelers iced the decision with three runs in the first inning as three CIO errors played a key role. Shaw's added two more in the 3rd for insurance before the CIO tallied twice in the 5th stanza.

Memo from AUTO CLUB

Because of the new and magnificent federal road program, there will be more road construction all over America this summer.

More detours, more road blocks, more bridge building, more tourist frustration.

But Auto Club members won't mind. The road counselor at every Auto Club office has a daily list of detours from all over the United States and AAA members will be routed the best and easiest way.

If you tour this summer, now is the time to join and tour comfortably.*

Rose Bowl Question Remains Unsettled

PCC Concludes Spring Meeting Without Action

Decision as to Eligible School for 1960 Classic Left in Question

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—With an air of amiable togetherness, the Pacific Coast Conference wound up its annual Spring meeting yesterday afternoon two days early, leaving unsettled the important question of what schools might be eligible for the 1960 Rose Bowl game.

Friendship keynoted the meeting, which was to have lasted though Thursday. Nothing was brought up which might have marred the pleasant program.

The faculty athletic representatives—they run the show—who would have voted 5-4 last year on whether to stop standing or sitting were bosom companions. The athletic directors were cloaked in a brotherly soberness.

★ ★ ★

The football coaches wore half-size smiles; the basketball coaches no smiles at all as they contemplated the slimming down of the conference due in 1959. That's when California, UCLA and Southern California have said they will pack their athletic bags and depart.

It was learned but not reported officially by the conference that the coaches had gone to the faculty men with statements of solidarity. These said, in effect, that no coach was mad at any other coach and hoped to perpetuate the feeling.

★ ★ ★

Because of the air of heavy harmony the conference spokesman, Prof. Emmett Moore of Washington State, was asked if old wounds might be forgotten and forgiven before the 1959 deadline and he replied:

"I don't believe you can assume that."

★ ★ ★

When the three southern schools break away they will leave the Rose Bowl game and its quarter-million-dollar payoff to the six survivors. The conference holds a contract with the Tournament of Roses to provide the western representatives in the bowl for 1959 and 1960.

★ ★ ★

The conference altered the rules slightly on spring football practice and changed the method of cutting up television income. Formerly limited to 20 days of practice in a 30-day period, the football coaches now may spread the spring workouts over a 36-day area.

Late Rallies Win for Pontiac Nines

Pontiac's representatives in the Latin-American Baseball League put on come-from-behind rallies in the weekend games, to win one-run tilts.

Los Mayas defeated Flint Pirates 8-7, on rallies in the 7th and 8th frames, paced by R. Aginaga's 5-for-5. Aztecas won a 5-4 tilt over Mt. Clemens Latins, with a 3-run blast in the 9th, after trailing the entire time to that point. Al Hayward got 3-for-5. Third game saw Port Huron Braves scraped by Capac Tigers 4-3 on a final frame 3-run rally. Braves lead the loop at present with three straight wins.

Pancho Increases Lead

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP) — Pancho Gonzales defeated Lew Hoad 6-4, 9-11, 9-7 Tuesday night to increase his lead in their cross-country tennis tourney to 46-34.

An estimated 2,300 net fans watched the world's professional champion outscore Australia's Hoad. In a preliminary singles match Tony Trabert defeat Pancho Segura 8-2.

Duke Tries to Stay Out of 'Dog House'

Snider-Bavasi Smoke 'Pipe'

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Duke Snider, the Los Angeles Dodgers' controversial center fielder, says try as he will he just can't seem to stay out of the dog house.

"I try to steer clear of trouble," Snider said last night with the air of a man with the cards stacked against him, "but I just seem to fall into it."

The Duke wasn't talking about last night in particular, because for the moment at least he wasn't in dutch with anybody, with the possible exception of Gene Conley, Milwaukee Braves pitcher.

Snider smashed a pinch-hit double off Conley and drove in the deciding run in the Dodgers' 6-3, 11-inning victory over the Braves.

★ ★ ★

Only the night before, though, Snider and Dodger Vice President E. J. "Buzzy" Bavasi exchanged barbed remarks over Bavasi's charge that the Duke was guilty of indifference and lacklustre play in the face of a .225 batting average and five RBI's.

★ ★ ★

"I had two long talks with Bavasi after I heard about what he said," Snider explained, "and I'm very satisfied with his explanation to me. He's a helluva nice guy. He has a lot on his mind right now."

Snider claims his latest scrape with Bavasi grew out of a misunderstanding over his ability to play.

"My left knee is still swollen and I can't run or play on it like before," Snider said. "As a matter of fact, we're waiting for a report from Dr. Dan Leventhal right now on my knee. I can't play every day as it is.

Dr. Leventhal removed cartilege from the knee in an operation last winter, but Snider reinjured it in an automobile accident during spring training. He has been of little use to the club since.

"That accident was just another example of how trouble follows me," Snider said. "I tried to be a safe driver, but I get into a crackup anyway. Maybe it's part of my life. My poor wife goes through hell everytime the club goes on the road, worrying if I'll get into hot water."

★ ★ ★

"The truth often gets me into hot water. Take that time I hurt my arm trying to throw a ball out of the Coliseum. It was a crazy thing to do, sure, but I could have said I hurt my knee and no one would have known the difference. I told them what I did and got into a jam."

The Duke isn't a .225 hitter and a five RBI man anymore. Maybe, because President Walter O'Malley says, Bavasi was only "trying to shake Snider out of his slump by goading him."

Snider's hitting .235 now, with six RBI's.

Shutouts Feature Church Loop Play

Tuesday's four-game Church League softball card produced two shutouts, one the season's first no-hitter of the circuit.

Floyd Hicks of First Baptists blanked the Bethany club 6-0 without a blow, while Stan Barker of First Presbyterians gave up only two in his 10-0 shutout win over First General Baptists. Gene McCurry of First Presbyterians drove in seven of his team's runs with a grand-slammer a double and single.

A shoulder separation cost Presbyterian's their first baseman, Joe Fisher, for the season. He was injured during a slide at the plate.

Salvation Army defeated St. John Lutherans 9-2 and Church of The Brethren won over St. Luke's Methodists 10-5 in other games.

Along the Outdoor Trail

H. GUY MOATS, Outdoor Editor

PROUD ANGLER — Dr. John D. Schmitt was a proud angler, yesterday. Above, he displays the 22 pound, 12 ounce muskie he caught on a St. Clair river fishing trip, and the missus admires the prize. Fish was 49 inches in length, took 15-20 minutes to land in a choppy seaway. It was the Pontiac dentist's first muskie, and his biggest piscatorial prize.

3-Day Archery Show Set

By H. GUY MOATS

Approval has been given plans for a three-day archery "fair" or show and tournament, on the Oakland County Sportsmen's club grounds, says general chairman Edward Kuder. The affair, expected to be a big, highly interesting exhibition of equipment pertinent to the bow and arrow sport, and demonstrations of their usages by some of the state's most expert performers, is set for the weekend of Aug. 30, 31, Sept. 1. (Labor Day weekend).

"We anticipate between 5,000 and 15,000 visitors during the show. Between 500 and 700, we expect, will be archers, competing in all types of events, field shooting, target, fun shooting, distance and so on. Top male archer at the close of the shoot will be awarded a golden arrow trophy. A silver arrow trophy will go to the leading feminine shooter."

A queen will be selected to rule over the affair, and will be featured at an archer's ball, Aug. 30, at OCSC clubhouse.

Requests for space have been received, Kuder says, from many firms handling and making archery equipment. They come from as far as Downey, Calif., include Wisconsin, Ohio and many Michigan concerns.

Judges will be named for the queen contest on July 27. Entries will be received at that time. All prospective entrants, Kuder says, must be bonafide archers, over 16 years of age.

National Bow Title at Stake in State Shoot

Grayling Is Site of Field Archery Trials July 28-31

All trails lead to Grayling, come July 28, when the nation's top archers convene for the four-day National Field Archery Championships. This 13th annual tournament will be held at the Michigan National Guard training camp.

★ ★ ★

Following the national tourney rather continuing the competition in the big event, will be what the promoters declare is the country's richest "money shoot." The Bear National Invitational Archery Tournament offers cash prizes amounting to $5,000, of which amount $2,000 goes to the winner of the men's division, $1,000 to the woman champion.

Field will be limited to eight men and eight women, having the highest combined scores for field and hunters rounds for either free-style or instinctive divisions in the national tourney. It is a one-day tournament.

Obedience Test and Puppy Show

A puppy show and obedience test will be held Sunday June 22 by the German Shepherd Dog club of Detroit. The AKC sanctioned event takes place at the Rudy Buchmann Woodland Shore Kennels, 1921 Delrose Rd., Pontiac. Event is for German Shepherds only, and there will be two groups, puppies two to 12 months old, and an all-age obedience match.

★ ★ ★

There'll be trophies for all classes. A pre-show parade of entries is planned, and there will be refreshments, boating, swimming, water skiing as added features.

Emil Lederer is show chairman.

Shrine Golfers Win

Shrine High School's golfers took a 15-point margin, 4-1 match yesterday from Orchard Lake St. Mary, over Pontiac CC. Shrine, led my match medalist Ed Dupke, who had 41, compiled a 175 team total to 190 for Eaglets, paced by Marty Fryt's 42.

Both teams are entrants in The Press invitational Prep tourney May 26, at Pontiac Municipal course.

Fishin' Fun on Light Tackle

'Gills Offer Good Sport

By JACK PATTERSON

Some people collect lakes like others collect stamps, cigar bands or other trivia. This is a very pleasant, rewarding hobby. Unfortunately, we can't all indulge in this sort of thing, the fact that there are not enough private lakes to go around being just one of the reasons. The next best thing is to be on friendly terms with the owner of a good "stable" of lakes.

PATTERSON

We know such a fellow, and the other afternoon he picked us up and we went out to his newest acquisition in the northwest part of the county to see what, if anything, the bluegills were up to. Well sir, they were up to plenty.

Actually, the fishing was too good. It was very hard to cast without getting a strike. In fact, if the popper bug was laid up within a foot or so of the shore, the question was not if, but how big? This went on without interruption until the cool of evening put a stop to feeding.

The point of this rather lengthy prologue is not the obvious one that private lakes tend to make for good fishing but that this is THE time to take bluegills on a flyrod anywhere. Private lakes, public lakes, sloughs, ponds and some ditches all have bluegills in shallow water waiting for a popper bug to land in their cone of visibility.

The only thing to remember to get the most out of this type of fishing is to suit the tackle to the business at hand. A bluegill on a six-ounce bass rod and a 10-pound leader is just a wiggle in the water and a flip into the boat. A bluegill on a two- or three-ounce rod, with a 6x or 7x leader is a worthy adversary.

★ ★ ★

Most any color popper works well so long as it's black. The best we've seen are made by Ben Hardesty's fishing buddy, Arnold Hubbell of Grayling. Bottom of the body is flattened off flush with the shank of the hook so that the whole bite of the hook is free and clear.

Now as anyone whose experience with water goes beyond drinking it knows, mid-May is a perfect time to be in a trout stream. But many bosses entertain the twisted notion that working is more important than trout fishing, and it's usually impossible for most people to spend as much time in those streams as they should.

We think light tackle bluegilling is not only a first-rate time killer between trouting expeditions, but serves as top flight fun in its own

Season of the outboards is under way. Most every area lake with public access had its quota of boats last weekend. The outboard boating sport, along with water-skiing has gained tremendous following everywhere over the country.

Pontiac Press Photo

BIGGEST! — Seven-year-old Randy Hall, son of Mr. and Mrs. William R. Hall, caught his biggest fish, in a weekend angling jaunt to Pontiac Lake. Randy is holding his prize, an 18-inch, 3-pound bass (it's legal in Pontiac Lake). Randy is a pupil at Jayno Adams school. The young fisherman landed his fish all alone. A shiner minnow was his lure.

Youngsters Land Big Ones

Two young anglers showed their elders how to get the big ones, in weekend fishing trips for Randy Hall, 7, Jayno Adams School pupil, and 11-year-old Edward Marx.

Randy, the son of the William R. Halls, Newberry road, Drayton Plains, fishing with his dad on Pontiac Lake caught a better than three pound bass, his first bass and his biggest fish. Poppa Hall had to hang onto Randy's coat collar to keep him from falling overboard when he got excited making the landing.

Hall, incidentally, puts a lot of stock in the old adage that "when the blossoms are on the trees, then's the time the big ones hit." He says it's so, as far as pike are concerned, for he is a pike angler, and was with Bill Johnstone, a neighbor when the latter took a 14-pounder on the AuSable, a few days ago. 'We didn't have a net big enough to handle that pike, so I jumped in the water and grabbed it by the gills," Hall said.

Young Marx, 3979 Woodmere, Drayton Plains took a 14-inch, one and a half pound yellow perch from Woodhull lake, using a worm as bait. Boat liverymen on the lake report panfish hitting good, despite strong winds. Several fine strings were reported by the Oakland Boat Livery.

Willie Hartack Back in Saddle

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Bill Hartack returned to the saddle Tuesday and said the leg which was broken in a spill April 26 "felt fine."

Hartack, the nation's leading rider for the last three seasons, wears a special leg brace and a zippered boot. He was aboard Dr. Stanley, a horse at James D. Norris' Spring Hill Farm near Miami.

Hartack said he hopes to return to the races late next week and will go to New Jersey to resume riding.

Adrian Archer Top Shooter in State Event

Harold Doan of Adrian and Alex Sebo of Detroit shot top rounds in the recent state archery shoot at Pontiac Lake recreation area. Doan, long one of the midwest's leading bowmen, shot a 898 in the match held under auspices of Pontiac Archery club. Sebo had 833 in the EBAA class, led by Doan.

In EBA, inst., L. G. Green, Pontiac Archery club, fired 701; Sid Stark (PAC) carded 647 in EBA freestyle for 3rd place; Tom Adams (OCSC) was 5th in EBAA with 805.

Field included 200 bowmen, representatives of clubs in Detroit, Flint Archers, East Detroit Archers, Western Wayne Cons. club, Royal Oak Acorn Archers, and many others. This shoot was a preliminary to the big state shoot, later on at Lansing.

'Pulls' Husky Muskie

Pontiac Dentist Hooks 23 Pounder

During a recent discussion of fishing, between a man of the cloth, a dentist and a layman with piscatorial connections, plans for a muskie expedition were formulated. Yesterday they reached fruition. While the trio came home from a weather-shortened angling jaunt on St. Clair river with just one fish, that one was a "buster."

The dentist, Dr. John D. Schmitt, 27110 Sylvan Shores, was the lucky fisherman. He hooked a 22 and ¼ pounder that measured 49 inches in length, his first muskie — and biggest fish. The party included the Rev. Richard Thomas of St. Benedict's Church and Joe Zelesnick. Storm warnings drove the party ashore after two hours, and rest of the day was spent on a round of golf. They'll make another trip, soon.

What happened to the big fish? Dr. Schmitt turned it over to the nuns at St. Benedict, and it will become the "piece de resistance" at a forthcoming dinner.

A heavy spoon was the lure, and the fish struck shortly after the fishermen began trolling the stream. The same guide that handled the threesome's boat took one, lost two muskies the day before, in the same area.

Eighth Annual Event

Posse Holds Horse Show

The Oakland County Sheriff's Posse will present its eighth annual horse show, this Sunday (May 25), at the John F. Ivory Farms, 9990 Cooley Lake Rd., Milford.

IT'S CATCHING — Obviously a girl who knows all the angles when it comes to rod and reel, Barbara Snyder is justifiably proud of a bluefin tuna that weighs almost as much as she does. The Baltimore miss, who weighs 112 pounds, hooked the 93-pound denizen of the deep off Hatteras, N.C.

★ ★ ★

The many contests in horsemanship and the judging of entries in various classes will begin at 9 a.m., according to C. H. Hoofnagle, show manager.

After seven events there will be an intermission until 12:30 p.m. when the first of 15 remaining events will begin. Admittance will be $1 and children under 14 will be admitted free.

Boy Scouts in uniform when accompanied by adult supervision will also be admitted free. Through the courtesy of the John F. Ivory Polo Club the children will be given free pony rides, said Hoofnagle.

A $15 cash prize and ribbon will go to the champion high point horse of the day and a cash prize of $10 and a ribbon will go to the reserve champion.

The other show officials have been announced as: George Seaman, of Howell, judge; Gene Hales, of Ortonville, ringmaster; and W. F. Wagner, of Birmingham, secretary.

Harvard Going to Regatta if Cash Shows Up

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP) — Harvard's crew has voted to participate in England's famed Royal Henley Regatta this summer providing $8,000 can be raised.

The oarsmen voted in favor of the trip last night just as Yale's unbeaten heavyweight crew turned down an invitation to the classic international event.

A group known as Friends of Harvard Rowing composed of former varsity oarsmen has promised to raise the remainder of the needed cash if the current varsity can solicit 1-3 of the $8,000.

Little Stories About Outdoors

One of the early summer skeet tournaments of importance in Michigan takes place Saturday and Sunday at the Lansing Rod & Gun Club. It is the 5th annual Capital City Open and Governor's Trophy shoot.

Six events will be shot in the open, three for the Governor's Trophy. Trophies and chevrons go to champions and runnersup. Open includes individual and 2-man team events, Saturday; individual, 2-man and 5-man team tests are set for the "Trophy," on Sunday.

★ ★ ★

The "big ones" are beginning to show up in the creels, and on the strings of area anglers, in increasing numbers, and Fred Reible, 3795 Indian Trail, was one of the lucky fellows. He took a 12¼ inch long, 1-pound, 5-ounce crappie a few days ago.

★ ★ ★

Michigan's Hamlin Lake, and Gun Lake were mentioned recently by a traveling angler (Erwin A. Bauer, N.Y.), as "top bass water." Oakland County's bass lakes (and these bronze-back fighters are found in many) probably produce as many and as big bass as anywhere in the state.

All About Men . . . Chapter Nine

But Her Mother Never Told Her

By JOSEPH H. PECK, M.D.

Like all pregnant females, your wife may entertain a violent change of heart toward the cause of her condition, and you may wind up in the dog house before you know your way around the bedroom.

She is still just a girl, and mother never told her it would be like this: tossing her hash, and a sense of smell so acute she can't cook beefsteak without feeling like a caged diger. She will develop an appetite like an ostrich and hanker for the queerest things.

In the middle of the night she may insist that you run down town and get her a bottle of beer and some hot pastrami, and she will say, "You men never understand," if you dare tell her the stores are closed.

Meanwhile, she is suffering acutely, and she knows just who is to blame. It won't do you any good to reason that it was she who took your simple show of affection in earnest.

I don't know why women long so for pregnancy, why they seem so proud of it in later months when they look like a black snake that has swallowed a rabbit, or why they get so furious if anyone finds out about it during the first few months; but man, they are touchy on the subject.

START SAVING, POP

The ordeal passes, and she gets to the point where the front of her gown twitches as if she were hiding kittens under it; she becomes the sweetest thing this side of heaven, and probably the prettiest, too. The old masters had good reason to paint pregnant women.

You better cut down expenses and save money. Babies haven't changed much over the centuries, and the stork is still the bird with the big bill. Production costs have skyrocketed.

In my early practice, doctor, nurse and housemaid seldom set the husband back more than $50, but this is going to be a full color, wide-screen production.

When the moment arrives, you will probably have a flat tire or a neighbor's car will be parked in front of your driveway, locked with the brake set.

You frantically phone the doc and a sleepy voice answers. "Oh, doctor, she has a pain! Your voice quavers.

But the unfeeling doc has a "so-what" attitude. You always thought this stinker was not the doctor for your little chickadee. Between yawns he tells you to time her pains and let him know in the morning how far apart they are.

So you walk the floor, watch in hand, as intent as a bookmaker clocking a new nag.

Your wife drops off to sleep, so you wake her and inform her that the next pain was due 30 seconds ago—something must be terribly wrong. The poor tired kid mumbles something that sounds like, "Oh, go to hell," and goes back to sleep.

FATHERS ALWAYS SURVIVE

Being a prospective father is an awful thing, with a lot of prenatal cares, but most fathers live unscarred through the ordeal, though I did have one faint and fall on the side of a stove.

Often in the old days Pop sat at the head of the bed where his wife could maul him when having a pain.

Father's first words usually in a muted whisper, were, "Oh, Doc, do you think he's all right?"

On being assured that the head, which at the moment looked like a pineapple squashed in transit, would assume a normal shape in a few hours, he was somewhat relieved.

★ ★ ★

To Mom, of course, the new arrival is always a thing of beauty. "Doctor, isn't it a lovely baby?" she invariably says. The best way to handle this emergency is for the doc to shake his head admiringly and say, "Now there is a baby!" That covers everything.

Incidentally, take the rubber sheet from the crib along when you haed for the hospital. Babies have been born in automobiles and the only thing harmed was the car upholstery.

(NEXT: IT'S HER BABY!)

American currency which is most frequently counterfeited is the $10 and $20 denominations, the U. S. treasury department says.

Cisler Elected Director

NEW YORK (AP) — Walker Lee Cisler, president of Detroit Edison Co., has been elected a director of American Airlines. Cisler headed the public utilities section of Supreme Headquarters Allied Expeditionary Forces in World War II. He later was executive secretary of the U. S. Atomic Energy Commission's industrial advisory group.

WOULD AID INDUSTRY — Frank G. Binswanger Sr., above, head of an industrial realty organization bearing his name, has proposed that the Federal government establish a mortgage insurance program for industry, similar in concept to the FHA for private homeowners. Binswanger's plan, which he explained at a series of meetings with top officials in Washington, calls for insured 25-year loans, at the prevailing rate of interest, for manufacturing industries with assets of five million dollars or less.

Sees Demand for Big Autos

Chrysler Official Says No Apology Needed for American Cars

DETROIT (AP) — A Chrysler Corp. vice president says Americans want today's "long, low, fancy, big and powerful" cars and can better afford them than Europeans can their small economy models.

★ ★ ★

Byron J. Nichols, Chrysler group vice president in charge of automotive sales, said in a speech prepared for delivery before the National Assn. of Credit Men today:

"We have no apologies for the type of automobile that rang up approximately 19 million sales in the last three years and helped keep the whole economy rolling in high gear."

Defending what he described as 14 miles to a gallon of gas in an American car compared to 35 miles in a European import, Nichols said the American driver is ahead because he can better afford the gas.

He said a British auto worker—if he could afford to buy a small British-built car—"would travel approximately 39 miles on the amount of gas he could buy for one hour's pay. This would be in a car that has given 35 miles to the gallon in town and country driving under controlled testing conditions.

"Now if we assume conservatively that an American-built car in the low-price field will give even as little as 14 miles to the gallon under similar conditions, an American worker would still travel approximately 94 miles—or nearly two and a half times as far as the British worker—on the gasoline he could buy for an hour's pay," said Nichols.

★ ★ ★

He said if Chrysler finds that public demand justifies producing a small car, "it will be designed to meet American needs and driving conditions—not a slavish imitation of one of the small cars built for the lanes and by-ways of the European countryside."

Ferndale Votes Down School Bond, Tax Issue

FERNDALE — Proposals calling for a 1½-million dollar bond issue and a school tax increase were turned down yesterday by voters in the Ferndale School District.

The tax increases would have been used for operating expenses for the new Ferndale High School during the next three years. The proposal was rejected by a vote of 3,243 to 2,726.

Voters opposed the bond issue, 3,395 to 2,248.

Woolworth Sales Up 1.6 Pct. Over Year Ago

WATERTOWN, N.Y. (AP)—Sales of F. W. Woolworth Co. for the first four months this year rose to $232,230,432, an increase of 1.63 per cent over the year - ago period, James T. Leftwich, president and chairman, told the annual meeting today.

By May 1, the company opened 26 new stores and had plans to open a total of 80 this year, Leftwich said. Last year Woolworth opened 102 new stores with 89 in shopping centers.

Stock Market Rises Slightly

NEW YORK (AP) — The Stock Market rose slightly in active early trading today.

Gains by most leading stocks were fractional. A number were unchanged.

★ ★ ★

U. S. Steel and Bethlehem were heavily traded and backed away from slight early gains. U. S. Steel showing a slight loss. Chrysler was active and down a major fraction.

Gains were made by selected aircrafts, base metals, chemicals, rails, oils and distillers.

The Market followed through at the start from yesterday's vigorous rise, the best since April 30. Profit taking was apparent in the larger steel issues and other stocks after the first move forward.

★ ★ ★

The Market was bolstered by news after yesterday's close that the short position had risen to the highest level in 27 years.

Republic Steel was up a bit but Youngstown Sheet dropped a major fraction.

Oil Moving Parts

Furniture manufacturers say life can be added to your furniture by occasionally oiling its moving metal parts, such as rocker springs, reclining chair mechanisms and casters or glides. A coating of light machine oil on bearings, hinges and joints and other spots where metal touches metal will eliminate annoying squeaking when the furniture is in use.

Conceal Identity in Road Tests

'59 Model Cars Set Well in Advance

By DAVID J. WILKIE
AP Automotive Editor

DETROIT (AP) — It takes months of preparation to get a new model car into production. The industry calls it "lead time."

The 1959 model automobiles now moving toward the assembly lines were on drafting boards as much as two years ago. Many handtooled models — the industry calls them protypes — have been undergoing road tests for general performance, economy, ride and durability.

★ ★ ★

With the bodies of 1958 and 1957 models their identity as forthcoming new models is effectively concealed. They will be driven many thousands of miles on all kinds of roads and in all weather conditions.

Generally the car makers do not talk about their testing of specific future models. They tell you many things planned for 1960 and 1961 models have been tested in the laboratories and behind the barred entrances to proving grounds.

★ ★ ★

Several of the 1960 models already are off the drawing boards; components have been under test for months. Many will get final approval before the 1959 model year is well under way.

Ford's M-E-L (Mercury, Edsel, Lincoln) Division has disclosed its 1959 models, including the Edsel, already are under road and laboratory tests. Planning for the 1959 Edsel began months before the 1958 version, first of the line, was introduced.

★ ★ ★

Supplier firms, with orders for parts for the new model, already have tooling operations well advanced. Some tools for 1959 Edsel production are being made in Ford's home plant in Dearborn.

Huge machines are cutting dies to be used in stamping sheet metal parts —fenders, quarter panels, hood covers, deck lids, rooftops and other pieces.

Preliminary work on the 1959 Edsels further scotches rumors Ford might not continue the line. James J. Nance, general manager of the M-E-L Division already has said the company is satisfied with the progress made in the Edsel's first year and has not considered dropping the line.

Other company executives say the 1959 models retain the basic styling characteristics of the initial Edsel line. There are reports, too, that several competing makes will have some of the Edsel features in their 1959 models. In this connection special reference has been made to the Edsel's rear-end gullwing lighting installation.

Styling details of the 1959 Edsel have not been disclosed. They probably will be kept secret until a couple of weeks before new model introduction. The manufacturer has said there will be styling advances and that the unique vertical oval in the front grille is retained.

There has been considerable industry gossip about earlier introductions of 1959 model cars. No company has yet said it will present its new models earlier this year, but an earlier windup of the 1958 model run is expected.

★ ★ ★

The 1959 Edsel has not been among those reportedly planned for earlier introduction.

Ike Surprises Reporters With Visit to Banquet

NEW YORK (INS) — President Eisenhower paid a surprise visit last night to the annual banquet of the New York Newspaper Reporters Association.

The Chief Executive dropped in for a brief hello on his way to LaGuardia Airport for a return flight to Washington after making a nationwide radio-television address on the nation's economy.

★ ★ ★

Eisenhower, who has declined invitations to all dinners of newspapermen and women in Washington this year and last year, attended the New York function where new officers of the association were installed.

The President told the group "the invitation came from no less a personage than the police commissioner of New York City."

He said he considered it "a good act of discretion" to accept.

★ ★ ★

In his many meetings with the press during 17 years, the President said, he had "learned much."

And he added with a smile: "It's nice to stand in front of a bunch of reporters and know they are not going to ask you a lot of questions."

Jerry, 8, Forgot He Locked Pal in Tight Trunk

SCHWABACH, Germany (AP) — Jerry had just locked his German playmate into a big steamer trunk in which they were playing in the attic.

★ ★ ★

There came the voice of his mother: "Jerry, it's dinner time." Jerry, 5-year-old son of a U.S. Army officer, scrambled.

When his friend Klaus failed to appear at his dinner table, his worried parents called the police. They searched the city park and a nearby pool. No trace of Klaus.

★ ★ ★

When Jerry woke up next morning, he remembered his friend. His parents rushed up to the attic. Klaus had died in the airtight trunk.

Police refused to identify the American boy because of his age.

Expect Drop Here in Gasoline Prices

Independent gasoline dealers in Oakland County are expected to follow Detroit independent dealers in cutting prices another two cents in the "next few days."

The move is being prompted as major brand dealers continued their price cuts. The last slice was 1.3 cents a gallon, bringing the price of regular to 25.9 cents and premium to 29.9 at most stations.

Independent dealers generally charge two cents a gallon less than major companies.

'Hire Now' Plan Gets City Push

Commission Resolves to Back Current Drive for Full Employment

The City Commission is behind the drive for full employment in Pontiac.

A strongly - worded resolution was passed last night, calling unemployment in Pontiac a matter "of grave public concern."

The resolution said "the total ingenuity and resourcefulness of our community should be dedicated to restoring our unemployed residents to payrolls as promptly as possible."

The drive here is sponsored by the Greater Pontiac Area Community Advisory Council through a special 11-member full employment committee.

Their "Hire Now Campaign" is part of a statewide campaign being launched by the Michigan Employment Security Commission.

The MESC said approximately 12,725 are unemployed in Pontiac and Oakland County at the present time.

In signing the proclamation, Mayor Donaldson said the campaign could have a twofold result. "If successful, not only would more people be on the job, but their return to work would bring about increased purchasing power to spark our economy."

The Pontiac MESC Branch pointed out advantages of hiring now.

"Employers who can possibly hire even one person, nowadays, have the best selection of help ever available in this state," it said. "Because of widespread layoffs of capable, qualified workers, we have on our job registers today the widest variety of potential employes, from which they may make their choice.

Wholesale Food Prices Up Slightly This Week

NEW YORK (AP) — Wholesale food prices, as measured by the Dun & Bradstreet Inc. food index, advanced slightly this week.

At $6.65 the index compared with $6.62 last week and was 9.2 per cent above the figure of $6.09 in the similar week a year ago.

The index represents the total cost at wholesale of one pound each of 31 foods in general use.

Higher this week were flour, wheat, corn, rye, beef, cottonseed oil, cocoa and steers. Lower were oats, barley, lard, coffee and potatoes.

All persons interested are requested to be present.

A copy of the Zoning Map together with a list of the proposed changes is on file in the office of the Township Supervisor and may be examined by those interested.

ADSIT STEWART, Chairman
WATERFORD TOWNSHIP ZONING BOARD
JAMES E. SETTERLIN, Clerk
Waterford Township
May 21, June 4, '58.

To the qualified electors of the Clarkston Community School District, Oakland County, Michigan:

Notice is hereby given, that a special election will be held in the Clarkston Community School District, in the County of Oakland and State of Michigan, on Monday, the 26th day of May, 1958, from 7:00 o'clock a.m. to 8:00 o'clock p.m., Eastern Standard Time, to vote upon the following proposition:

Shall the Clarkston Community School District, County of Oakland, State of Michigan, borrow the sum of not to exceed two million five hundred thousand dollars ($2,500,000) and issue its bonds therefor, for the purpose of defraying the cost of erecting and furnishing a new high school building and additional school facilities either as new buildings or additions to existing buildings and to acquire additional school sites?

Notice is further given, that the voting place for said election will be at the Clarkston Elementary School building in the Village of Clarkston.

Notice is further given, that the Board of Education of said school district has estimated that two million five hundred thousand dollars ($2,500,000) is the amount of money necessary to be borrowed for the project for which said bonds are to be issued.

Dated May 14, 1958.
WALTON T. ROBBINS, Secretary, Board of Education
May 14, 17, 19, 20, 21, '58.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN OF A public hearing to be held by the Waterford Township Zoning Board at the Township Hall, Wednesday, June 11, 1958 at 7:30 p.m. to consider the following change to the zoning map.

To change from residential to commercial:

Lot 11 of Acre Heights, a Subdivision of part of the SW¼ of Sec. 31, Township of Waterford, Oakland County, Michigan, as recorded in Liber 39 of Plats, Page 29, Oakland County Records, and a portion of vacated Malcolm Drive of Acre Heights subdivision described as: Beginning at the southwest corner of Lot 11 of said Acre Heights subdivision thence west along the extension of the south line of Lot 11, a distance of 80 feet; thence north along the west line of said plat, a distance of 300 feet; thence east along the extension of the north line of Lot 11, a distance of 80 feet; thence south along the west line of Lot 11, a distance of 300 feet to the point of beginning. This property has a frontage on Cooley Lake Road of 130 feet and has a depth of 300 feet.

All persons interested are requested to be present.

A copy of the Zoning Map together with a list of the proposed changes is on file in the office of the Township Supervisor and may be examined by those interested.

ADSIT STEWART, Chairman
WATERFORD TOWNSHIP ZONING BOARD
JAMES E. SETTERLIN, Clerk
Waterford Township
May 21, June 4, '58.

To the qualified electors of the Clarkston Community School District, Oakland County, Michigan:

Notice is hereby given, that a special election will be held in the Clarkston Community School District, in the County of Oakland and State of Michigan, on Monday, the 26th day of May, 1958, from 7:00 o'clock a.m. to 8:00 o'clock p.m., Eastern Standard Time, to vote upon the following proposition:

Shall the Clarkston Community School District, County of Oakland, State of Michigan, borrow the sum of not to exceed two million five hundred thousand dollars ($2,500,000) and issue its bonds therefor, for the purpose of defraying the cost of erecting and furnishing a new high school building and additional school facilities either as new buildings or additions to existing buildings and to acquire additional school sites?

Notice is further given, that the voting place for said election will be at the Clarkston Elementary School building in the Village of Clarkston.

Notice is further given, that the Board of Education of said school district has estimated that two million five hundred thousand dollars ($2,500,000) is the amount of money necessary to be borrowed for the project for which said bonds are to be issued.

Dated May 14, 1958.
WALTON T. ROBBINS, Secretary, Board of Education
May 14, 17, 19, 20, 21, '58.

Singing Family Guided Career

Carolina Mountain Girl Vocalizes Regularly on Jack Paar's Show

By JANET KERN
International News Service

When Betty Johnson was born, on March 16, 1930, she seemed fated to lead the life "normal" for a depression-born baby in a mountain sharecropper family.

★ ★ ★

The Johnsons were reasonably typical of South Carolina's poor farming families. They were industrious, devout, dedicated to the distant hope of some day buying land of their own; opposed to such worldly sins as smoking, drinking, dancing, etc.

The Johnson family differed in just one way from their neighbors. The Johnsons could sing, magnificently.

The year Betty was 5, and the depression was at its painful height, Pa Johnson built a house trailer, hooked it to a broken-down jalopy and set out with $16 in cash, two cardboard boxes for "luggage," and his singing family.

★ ★ ★

"If we came to a crossroads where there was an eating place or a gas station, we'd stop and put on a sing, then pass the hat. It got us meals and gas," Betty recalls.

ON THE AIRWAVES

In 1940, station WBT, Charlotte, N.C., put the Johnson family on the radio. They quickly became part of CBS' weekly network show, "Carolina Calling."

★ ★ ★

Betty was allowed by her family to attend college, with the understanding she had to pay her own tuition and still do her share of the farm labors and be on hand at WBT every Sunday.

She sold her crop of lima beans for her first tuition payment at Queens College, Charlotte, and worked her way through school as a laundress, governess, church choir singer, etc., eventually emerging a college graduate.

In 1952, when the family paid a brief visit to New York, Betty stayed on and won on Arthur Godfrey's "Talent Scout" show. As a result she was chosen to sing at New York's Copacabana nightclub (Betty still describes nightclub engagements as "supper clubs" when talking to her family).

★ ★ ★

After the Copa, Betty handled TV commercials, was vocalist on Don McNeill's Breakfast Club in Chicago, and sang on the Eddie Arnold TV series.

HUSBAND'S SONG

Her first hit record, "I Dreamed," was written by Charles Grean, then one of her managers and now her husband.

★ ★ ★

After guest appearances on the Ed Sullivan, George Gobel and other shows, Betty finally became a "regular" cast member on the "Jack Paar Show."

Broadway Now Tries to Outroar Twenties

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — We mingled with a lot of Charleston-dancing flappers the other night at a "Roaring Twenties" party which we imagine will be copied all over the U.S. by eager hostesses.

WILSON

Faye Emerson put on a black wig and raised her skirts above her knees and put a sexy garter below her knee and copped one costume prize, along with Mrs. Hugh Shannon, though Hope Hampton, "the Duchess of Park Avenue," grabbed off first, partly due no doubt to her dazzling jewels, which were so real they blinded the judges.

TV comic George DeWitt came as "Scarface" Al Capone, and wore not only a scar, but a handcuff. The George Schraffts, who gave the party, discovered that most women can dance the Charleston but that men mostly fake it.

Zsa Zsa Gabor's mother, Jolie, told me off in a corner that she wasn't upset about Zsa Zsa being called "the most expensive courtesan."

"Zsa Zsa is a qveen in Hollywood, dey all love her. Same vay in Vashington, vere dey all give her parties," exclaimed Mama Gabor. "The Congressman cannot understand that a girl can take a present of a car or diamonds without giving her love to a man!" She implied that it's an old Hungarian custom.

During the swank party, the Maharajah of Baroda, dancing with a lighted cigar in his mouth, burned his lady companion on the upper left chest and promised her he'd buy her a diamond big enough to cover the scare, if any. One party guest said: "One part of the Roaring Twenties we don't have here tonight — 'bathtub gin.'"

A bartender cracked: "Don't be too sure!"

Blames 2 Bars for His Injuries

Rochester Man Claims Taverns Responsible for Auto Accident

Is a bar or tavern responsible if they serve a man who allegedly has had too much to drink and is later involved in a traffic accident? A Rochester man believes they are.

★ ★ ★

So William H. Atkinson, 57, of 314 Drace St., filed suit in Oakland County Circuit Court yesterday seeking $25,000 from a Rochester tavern and one in Lakeville for serving a man who the suit alleges was intoxicated.

Atkinson, a janitor at the Bloomfield Hills High School, said in his suit that he met this man, James W. Wright, of Rochester, in the Paint Creek Tavern in that city, and that they later went out for a drive which resulted in Wright's car crashing into another car on Oct. 9, 1955.

Atkinson said because of the accident he suffered a dislocated hip requiring hospitalization and surgery.

★ ★ ★

He charges Martha Ann LaPonsa of the Rochester tavern, located at 611-613 N. Main St., and Garnet A. West, of the Log Cabin Inn, 1318 Rochester Rd., Lakeville, with "unlawful sale" to Wright.

Results of the 1910 census and a report of the deaths during 1909, 1910 and 1911 comprised data for the first U.S. government mortality statistics.

Man Waives Hearing on Bad Check Charge

Joseph M. Nicholson, 32, of 83 Axford St., Lake Orion, waived examination in Pontiac Municipal Court today to a charge of attempted burglary.

Judge Cecil B. McCallum bound his over to Circuit Court. Nicholson is accused of trying to enter Hertzog's Mobil Service Station, 1448 Joslyn Ave., Tuesday night.

Receives $28,500 for Losing His Arm

DETROIT (AP) — Kenneth L. Jobe, 47, who drove eight miles in a state of shock before he realized his arm had been torn off by a sideswiping truck, received $28,500 damages yesterday in a circuit court settlement with the Wayne County Road Commission.

★ ★ ★

Jobe drove for 41 minutes July 15, 1955 and could not remember the accident when police, following a trail of blood, stopped him. He was driving alone with his left arm jutting from the window when a Road Commission truck, towing a power shovel on a trailer, attempted to pass in the opposite direction. The sharp cleats of the shovel ripped Jobe's arm off.

Jobe had sought $250,000.

Anderson Lauds U.S. Economy

Treasury Chief Says Private Enterprise Fights Well Against Slumps

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Secretary of the Treasury Anderson told the nation's governors today "the private enterprise economy is putting on an impressive performance" in resistance to further economic declines.

★ ★ ★

Anderson spoke after President Eisenhower had called upon the country to rally all of its forces to speed an early upturn in business. Anderson cautioned against any program of massive government spending that might further unbalance a budget he said is likely to equal the 78-billion-dollar outlay proposed by former President Truman in the Korean War period of 1953-54.

Supporting Anderson's position, Secretary of Defense McElroy said that unless some savings are made elsewhere future defense expenditures threaten a rigid control of the economy.

McElroy said in a speech prepared for the closing business session of the 50th annual Governors Conference that defense spending now represents 50 per cent of the total outlays by the federal government.

"I can't offer any realistic hope that this will decline as long as international tensions continue at current levels," he said.

★ ★ ★

Anderson said in a prepared speech that the country cannot expect any decline in defense spending in the near future. He said over-all outlays "are more likely to increase in the absence of curtailment of domestic programs or a lessening of uncertainties in the world situation."

He said there are signs that a long-term adjustment of the economy is taking place in the framework of built-in resistance to any lasting business slump.

★ ★ ★

"Month by month we can see proof that our basic strengths are effectively resisting the downturn," he said.

Open Drive to Better Hall's Acoustics

DETROIT (AP)—The Detroit Symphony Orchestra plans a $90,000 public subscription for a new acoustical shell in the Ford Auditorium.

Dead spots in the multi-million dollar building where the orchestra plays part of the season have annoyed music lovers. The acoustics were severely criticized at a music critics' meeting here last year.

Architects say the auditorium needs a shell for the orchestra and another for solo artists.

The orchestra hopes to have the new shells by January.

Idaho City Acts to Keep Planes Off City Streets

OAKLEY, Idaho (AP)—A couple of hundred men, women and youngsters pitched in to build an airstrip and parking facilities so that, as Chamber of Commerce President Ross T. Nielsen put it, the airplanes will stay off the city streets.

★ ★ ★

It seems that pilots used to land in the fields just outside town and taxi up to the schoolhouse via the streets and park their craft.

Somebody got the idea of building a strip with tie-down facilities and practically the whole town supported it. The Chamber got the land. Local firms provided earth-moving equipment. The State Board of Aeronautics chipped in as much money as it could—and the project began.

A strip 200 feet wide and 4,000 feet long was built.

The finishing touches will be done today by volunteers from this southern Idaho community of 684 people.

Faraway Look Around the Eyes

Stassen Quietly Faces Defeat in Pennsylvania Vote

By RELMAN MORIN

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The portrait stood on a table in the corner, propped against the wall by some election leaflets.

It was a likeness of Harold Stassen, painted in another day.

It stared at the bunting in the Stassen - for - governor headquarters. There was a faraway look around the eyes.

★ ★ ★

Ten years ago this summer, there was a Stassen-for-president headquarters in Philadelphia. It was jammed with people, struggling through a thicket of camera tripods and battalions of reporters, a tornado of noise and excitement.

Shortly before 1 a.m. today, the headquarters on Chestnut Street in Philadelphia was almost deserted. The room was quiet. A handful of volunteer workers stood talking in low tones. A single movie camera waited.

★ ★ ★

The hour was early, but even before that Stassen, in effect, had conceded that he was defeated in his bid for the Republican nomination for governor of Pennsylvania.

HAROLD E. STASSEN

He spent the early hours of election night in his hotel room. Only his wife, a slight, sweet-faced woman, was with him.

★ ★ ★

Then, less than three hours after the polls closed, Stassen came to his headquarters in the hotel. A few reporters and photographers were waiting.

"The Philadelphia returns would be difficult to overcome," he said.

He had an air of marble calm.

"That sounds as though you have already thrown in the sponge," a reporter said.

"We will have to wait for returns from other places where counting paper ballots is slow," he said. "But it would be difficult to overcome the returns in Philadelphia."

A starched little smile played around his mouth, he waited, quietly, for more questions. No, he wouldn't comment yet on details. No, he wouldn't talk about his future plans.

"I'm going to the Chestnut Street headquarters now," he said.

There he shook hands, thanked his volunteer workers, answered a few telephone calls, made a recording for a radio broadcast.

Through it all, he seemed cool, totally unruffled.

★ ★ ★

At the same time, he had the enigmatic expression of a man who knows a secret, something he isn't telling.

In a corner, three of his aides were talking. One of them said: "We're getting clobbered tonight. In November, the party will get clobbered.

"Then, there will be a wholesale housecleaning in the Republican party."

Reports already are current that, should these prophecies come true, Stassen will try to head a reorganized GOP in the state. He wasn't saying.

"I'm going home and go to bed now," he said. "See you in the morning, boys."

The portrait in the corner stared across the years.

Eyes Clues to Health

BOSTON — Your eyes tell what goes on inside your body. The only internal blood vessels visible from the exterior are the ones in the back of the eyeballs, called the retina vessels. From these, which can be studied with a special instrument, a doctor can find clues to how the rest of your body is functioning: your heart, liver, kidneys, blood pressure, thyroid, and even your teeth.

Heart Stopped 5 Minutes

Watch Russians Bring Dead Dog Back to Life

MOSCOW (AP) — Six U. S. women doctors touring Soviet medical institutions told today of watching Soviet scientists bring a dead dog back to life.

They said scientists drained the blood from the dog. They waited five minutes, then revived the animal and it barked.

A similar experiment was reported last January in the magazine Ogonyek.

The magazine quoted Prof. V. A. Negovsky as saying dogs have been revived up to an hour after their hearts have stopped beating, and monkeys up to 20 minutes. There have been cases where humans have been revived five or six minutes after heart stoppage.

Dr. Jean Henley of Columbia University said that what they had seen so far led her to believe the Russians had come along much faster in the medical field than the United States.

She and five other women arrived last Wednesday on a visit in exchange for a tour six Soviet women doctors made in the United States last fall.

The other American doctors are Leona Baumgartner, New York City health commissioner; Helen Taussig, Johns Hopkins University, Baltimore; Esther C. Marting, University of Cincinnati; Margaret Sloan of the National Research Council, Washington; and Thelma Dunn of the National Institutes of Health, Bethesda, Md.

★ ★ ★

Dr. Henley said Soviet equipment, personnel and techniques are more than adequate. She added that the Russians were most eager to show off their experiments and their results.

Houston was the capital of Texas until 1840. Now it is in Austin.
