Clergy Makes Direct Appeal to Gaca Killer

Slayer Offered Asylum Until He Is Turned Over to Police

By JOSEPH K. SFAIR

Oakland County Sheriff Frank W. Irons, who Saturday called upon clergymen and churchgoers to aid in the investigation of the slaying of Barbara Gaca, was joined today by five clergymen making direct appeals for the killer to surrender.

The appeal is a long shot, they believe, but they also confide that perhaps in a moment of thought and reason by the killer, he may possibly surrender.

Offering the killer asylum until he is turned over to proper authorities, the five clergymen advise the killer that he is mentally ill and needs help.

Any one of the five clergymen will assume responsibility for his surrender, helping him to reach the proper agency safely for help.

If you're the wanted person or know of him, the following messages should be thought over carefully.

First to offer his appeal, the Rev. Edward D. Auchard of the First Presbyterian Church, urged:

"You may be able to avoid for a time the police. You cannot escape yourself. A person capable of such an act is surely mentally sick. You need help. You need to protect yourself and others from the violence you may inflict.

"Let me invite you to turn to your minister, priest or rabbi. He will go with you to the law enforcement officers or mental health institution. You can help to make sure that justice will be done without violence. If you have no pastor of your own, you can contact me or one of the other clergymen joining in this appeal to your conscience and humanity."

The Rev. William J. Rademacher

Kids of All Ages Greeted by Ike at Egg-Rolling Fete

WASHINGTON (INS)—President Eisenhower personally welcomed 6,000 children of all ages today to the traditional Easter Monday egg rolling in the White House "back yard."

Eisenhower appeared briefly to greet his visitors and got a rousing ovation as well as two hands full of multi-colored Easter eggs.

But the chief executive's plan to distribute the eggs among the White House staff was short circuited by screeching youngsters and oldsters.

The President handed the eggs back over the fence which separated him from the throng. He deposited then into eager hands and commented: "I did a transfer job there."

The President did not attend last year's egg rolling but two years ago, he was almost mobbed before the eyes of horrified secret servicemen when he walked through the crowd with his granddaughter in his arms.

Today, the President did not mingle with the throng. He stayed behind a low fence that had been installed to protect the White House garden and the celebrated presidential putting green from tramping feet.

The President told the crowd that Mrs. Eisenhower, who is at their farm home in Gettysburg, Pa., wanted him to pass along her hopes that everyone has a wonderful time.

Today's crowd was smaller than expected, although late comers seemed likely to swell the throng until it at least matched last year's 11,500.

Nearly 28,000 turned out for the event in 1953 when the President, the First Lady and their grandchildren were all on hand.

Easter egg rolling started at the White House in 1878, and has become an annual fete.

State Planning Duplicate Pike

Freeway From Detroit to Bay City Revealed by Highway Chief

DETROIT (AP) — Charles M. Ziegler, state highway commissioner, says the state Highway Department plans a free super highway from Detroit to Bay City that would serve the same traffic as the proposed Flat Rock-to-Saginaw turnpike.

Ziegler said Saturday the project had been given "top priority" under the good roads bill before the state Legislature.

He said the highway could be built for some 64 million dollars less than the toll road planned by the Michigan Turnpike Authority (MTA) and could be completed in four years.

Ziegler said the free road would be an extension of the Lodge expressway and Northwestern highway running west of Pontiac and east of Flint to a terminal point at Kawkawlin north of Bay City.

Eventually, Ziegler said, links would be built to tie in with the Southfield expressway planned

Report Liner Down With Chinese Flying to Afro-Asian Meet

NEW DELHI (INS)—An official Indian spokesman said today that an Indian passenger plane carrying a number of Chinese Communist newsmen to the Afro-Asian conference crashed into the South China Sea north of Sarawak.

L. C. Jain, director-general of civil aviation, said that the possibility of anyone being saved was "remote."

He said that the plane was a chartered Air India Constellation.

The number of crewmen and passengers aboard was not immediately determined.

(A Hong Kong report said it was believed that 11 passengers were aboard, eight Chinese officials, a North Vietnamese national and two journalists.

Singapore reports said that the plane sent three distress signals giving its position as 108 miles north of Kuching, Sarawak. Ships in that area were instructed to search for the plane.

Reports from Jakarta earlier today said that the first plane carrying Chinese Communist delegates and journalists for the conference opening April 18 at Bandung, outside Jakarta, was expected in Jakarta tonight.

Tension Mounts in Other Areas; More Lines Cut

Mob Forces 4th Phone Exchange to Shut Down in 29-Day Walkout

ATLANTA (AP) — Tension mounted today in three states where mobs battered down a Southern Bell Telephone Co. exchange door, forced the closing of another exchange and squirted acid into a policeman's eye.

There was growing unrest elsewhere in the nine state Southeastern area as the CIO Communication Workers of America strike continued for the 29th day.

The Easter weekend was marked by widespread violence, the cutting and shooting of more cables and the arrest of at least 17 persons. Company official announced the dismissal of 19 strikers, bringing to 44 the number fired since the walkout started March 14.

At Clinton, Tenn., Sheriff Joe Owen said a mob of about 300 persons smashed the telephone exchange door after he read a temporary injunction banning mass picketing.

At Birmingham, Ala., 15 persons were arrested as police broke up a noisy crowd. Police Commissioner Robert Lindbergh charged the walkout had developed into an "explosive situation" and said gatherings of large crowds, can't be tolerated."

Police Chief G. L. Pattie said acid was squirted into the eyes of officer E. S. Elam. He was taken to a hospital where attendants said the acid appeared to be some kind of paint thinner and apparently had not permanently harmed his eyes.

Southern Bell reported that the Middlesboro, Ky., exchange was forced to close, leaving the town of 15,000 without phone service. It was the fourth exchange to shut down because of threatened violence since the trouble began. Others were shut earlier at Lafollette, Jellico and Maryville, Tenn.

The Atlanta area experienced a rash of cable cuttings, bringing to 140 the number of such incidents reported in the area.

W. A. Smallwood, CWA district director in Atlanta, said the union knew nothing about these or other incidents.

Pontiac Physician Urges Priority on Polio Vaccine

A voluntary priority system for allocating the first commercial supplies of Salk polio vaccine was proposed by the State Medical Society Saturday for use if the vaccine is approved.

University of Michigan researchers will announce Tuesday whether the vaccine has been proven successful.

Dr. Robert H. Baker of Pontiac, president of the medical society, said in a letter to all members that voluntary controls would be necessary only until drug manufacturers can catch up with the expected public demand.

If the vaccine is approved, the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis will use much of the available supply to vaccinate first and second grade children.

He suggested that those supplies be allocated in this order: To children below first grade level and more than 1 year of age, to school children in grades 3 through 8, to pregnant women.

Dr. Baker urged a campaign to educate the public in the necessity for temporary controls over the vaccine.

Circuit Court in April Term

Docket Schedules 124 Criminal Cases During Quarter

Some 124 criminal cases are slated for disposition during the April term of Oakland County Circuit Court which began today with Judge H. Russel Holland presiding.

All the cases may not come to jury trials during the term which runs through June 13, said Chief Assistant Oakland County Prosecutor George F. Taylor. ..

"Every case will be reviewed in a pre-trial conference between the judge, a prosecutor, each of the accused or their attorneys," Taylor explained.

"Many persons who first plead innocent, immediately change their plea to guilty when they appear in court before a jury. The pre-trial hearing gives them a chance to change their plea then, without waiting for a jury to be assembled and a trial date arranged."

The conferences are set for April 26 through 28, with the jury slated to begin May 3, said Taylor.

Cases scheduled include the first-degree-murder trial of Floyd Diamond, 16, charged with slaying 9-year-old Kathleen McLaughlin, of Farmington Township, Feb. 17.

Four men accused of kidnaping and raping a 21-year-old Pontiac mother March 6 also will be tried.

of St. Vincent De Paul Church said:

"Any Catholic priest will be happy to help you get fair treatment. You will be given asylum until you are placed with the proper law enforcement agency or institution. Consider in your own conscience the need of your surrender and we'll be happy to act as an in-between for you."

Rabbi Sanford E. Saperstein of the Temple Beth Jacob, said, "You need treatment—you're sick. Your act followed fear. If you come to me, you will be provided with asylum until you can be given help."

Rev. J. Allen Parker, president of the Pastor's Assn., said, "Before you strike again at some other harmless little child, give yourself up. It's your duty to yourself and others that you don't harm others. Think of helping others by giving yourself up. You will be helped."

Rev. Otto G. Schultz of the Grace Lutheran Church also appeals for the killer's surrender. "If you surrender on your own, you may be given careful treatment."

Sheriff Irons and Pontiac Police Chief Herbert W. Straley also said they would attempt to help the slayer if he surrendered to either of them.

"I don't believe in the final outcome that this person enjoys killing," said Irons. "I believe that he might be reasoned with. He can surrender to anyone of the clergymen or to me or any other police department. We'll do the best we can for him in the way of fair treatment."

Police in Detroit have arrested another suspect in the murder, a 42-year-old factory worker in whose light blue car a knife wrapped in a cloth stained with brown spots was found.

The suspect was stopped for speeding. A brown spot was also found in the back seat of the automobile with evidence that attempts had been made to clean it.

The man, who spent time in prison for molesting a young girl, said he was asleep until noon March 24, the day Barbara was abducted on her way to Assumption Grotto School.

Peaceful Atomic Progress Asked by Pope on Easter

VATICAN CITY (INS) — Pope Pius XII exhorted scientists yesterday to "persevere bravely and confidently" in developing the atom for peaceful purposes and urged a start on "progressive disarmament."

In his Easter peace message, the frail 79-year-old pontiff asked statesmen on both sides of the Iron Curtain to reach a "lasting understanding" that would spare the world the "ruins of a new war."

The leader of the Roman Catholic Church spoke for eight minutes from the balcony of St. Peter's Basilica in his first full-scale open air rites since his nearly fatal illness last December.

He was acclaimed wildly by a crowd of nearly 250,000 jammed into the square. The brief address was relayed around the free world and beamed behind the Iron Curtain by Radio Free Europe.

The Pope gave his blessings to all those "whose action has a decisive influence on the good of humanity and the salvation of souls" so that they "conclude pacts which assure peace, and they begin progressive disarmament, thereby preventing the ruins of a new war."

Driver Wrecks Car After Police Chase

Emmet Schmidt, the driver, suffered face cuts, burns and bruises. His condition was reported as good.

Holly Patrolman William Wood said he chased Schmidt at speeds up to 70 miles an hour when he spotted him speeding south on Milford road. He fired two shots at the fleeing car when Schmidt turned off his lights, Wood stated.

Schmidt's car missed a curve, smashed down a railroad crossing sign, careened across the tracks, rolled about 50 yards and burst into flames.

Schmidt was trapped under the auto, but Holly firemen, summoned by Wood, freed him. A passenger, John S. Martin, 24, of Holly, was thrown clear. He was treated for minor bruises.

Teachers of the Pontiac Public Schools will hold their annual Curriculum Conference Tuesday with a pair of noted educators scheduled to speak at the morning and afternoon sessions in Pontiac High School.

Under the chairmanship of Glenn Husted, the two addresses will be supplemented with a series of group discussions for the elementary instruction area, the junior high school and a combination of the senior and junior high school staff.

Dr. G. Lester Anderson, now dean of the school of administration at the University of Buffalo, will deliver the morning address on "Gearing Instruction to the Individual Child."

He is former director of teacher training for the University of Minnesota and has served as coordinator of teacher training for New York City College.

An arithmetic authority, he is the co-author of a recent series of mathematics books for the elementary and junior high school level.

Charles N. Hill, manager of the Howell Chamber of Commerce and well-known in the area of communications, will speak in the afternoon on, "The Importance of Skills in Listening."

A former high school teacher, he served five years in the Michigan State College Department of Communication Skills. He is now writing his doctoral thesis on "Listening."

In conjunction with the morning program there will be a handwriting program for elementary teachers and an extensive book exhibit staged by Mrs. Janet Gautheir, school librarian. These will be held in the senior high school auditorium.

Michigan Planning Free Expressway

by Wayne County, the Monroe expressway, now under construction and Willow Run expressway.

He said the proposed super highway was under departmental study before the MTA was created by the Legislature.

As it would become part of the federal trunkline system and thus qualify for federal-local fund participation, Ziegler said, it would cost Michigan only 25 million dollars. The Saginaw turnpike is estimated to cost some 164 million dollars.

In Lansing, state lawmakers predicted a record turnout at a public hearing April 21 on demands for repeal of the 1953 turnpike law. Groups from Oakland County, Dearborn, Flat Rock and Flint who are opposed to the toll road, are expected to attend the hearing.

Legislation to repeal the law already has been introduced by Sen. Broomfield (R-Royal Oak).

The Day in Birmingham

Mayor Will Be Selected by New City Commission

BIRMINGHAM — Mrs. Florence H. Willett, Manley Bailey and Harry Denyes Jr. will be installed as the city's three new commissioners at tonight's City Commission meeting. The new governing body will then elect a mayor and mayor pro tem.

Expenditure of $3,781 for Eton Park—for which the voters overwhelmingly approved a $125,000 bond issue for a winter artificial skating rink and summer activities—has been asked by the Recreation Board and will be recommended by City Manager Donald C. Egbert. Almost half the budget —$1,425—is asked for completion of a new softball diamond.

No more black police cars for Birmingham—that is the recommendation of City Manager Egbert and Police Chief Ralph W. Moxley. They will tell the Commission the advantages of colored autos as adopted by several other South Oakland communities. Replacement of two of the present police cars is sought. ..

Lawmakers will receive a communication from the Michigan Department of Health approving the proposed Columbia Relief Sewer in northeast Birmingham on condition that it be restricted to carrying sanitary sewage from the proposed junior high school at Adams and Derby.

The school board and a real estate dealer both have applied for construction of the sewer, which will be needed before the east side junior high school is opened.

Save the appearance of Hunter boulevard (US-10) through Birmingham and "retrive" that which has been permitted to become unsightly, will be the plea of former Mayor John E. Martz to the City Commission.

Martz, a Detroit attorney, pointed out in a letter that when wider Woodward was built, the city, county and state cooperated and "planned for much more than a mere wide highway."

Frontage on the boulevard was acquired for appearance's sake and park purposes, and an anti-billboard ordinance was enacted, he recalled.

"But" he says, "commercialization, with its shoulder parking, has apparently gotten a start on much of the rest of the boulevard at the lasting expense of access drives, sidewalks, grass and plantings on the shoulders."

The annual meeting of the Franklin Cemetery Association will be held at 8 o'clock tonight in the home of Kenneth Bristol, 3130 Bingham Rd.

$450 in Cash, Checks Taken From Kitchen

Checks and cash totaling $450 were reported taken from the home of James Anderson, of 6579 Alden Dr., West Bloomfield Township, Oakland County Sheriff's deputies said.

Anderson stated he left his home for a short time Sunday and someone took the cash and checks from a drawer in the kitchen. Nothing else was reported missing.

Sentence Man, Woman for Passing Bad Check

A Royal Oak man and woman were sentenced today by Circuit Judge George B. Hartrick after they had admitted last week passing a $75 bad check Feb. 2.

George D. Harlington, 31, of 629 Baldwin, was placed on two years probation and assessed $200 costs. Beverly L. Upton, 22, of 1031 Alexander, will pay $100 and be on probation for one year.

Play to Make a 'Calypsos' but Don't Overlook Tricks

By OSWALD JACOBY

Calypso is a game of points, and the side that scores more points wins the game. If you try to win as many tricks as possible, you will also get your fair share of the calypsos and you will win most of the games. If you concentrate so hard on calypsos that you lose sight of the tricks, you will wind up on the short end of the score.

The winning style in calypso consists in using your trumps and your partner's trumps to best advantage and in preventing the enemy from making the best use of theirs.

Now let's see how you can obtain these advantages. If you lead even the deuce of your own trump suit, that card will be treated as though it were the ace. You will win the trick unless some other player trumps. It's a big advantage to turn your deuces into aces, and you should therefore look for chances to lead your own trump suit.

There's another way to use your trumps wisely—to trump when you cannot follow suit to some other player's hand. When you trump, you will win the trick unless some other player overtrumps.

The other side of the picture is that you have no advantage at all when somebody else leads your trump suit. You can then win the trick only if you play the highest card, provided that nobody else trumps. You cannot trump, for you can only follow suit with your own trump suit. If you play the deuce of your trump suit, you will surely lose the trick; your deuces don't improve but stay simple deuces when somebody else leads your suit.

These are the two basic principles of calypso: You have an advantage when you lead your suit or when you trump some other suit; but you are at a disadvantage when somebody else leads your suit.

The next pointer comes easily from these basic principles. Don't lead your partner's suit except in very unusual circumstances.

As we have just seen, he will be at a disadvantage when his suit is led by somebody else (including you), and you don't want to thrust disadvantages on your partner. In the same way, he shouldn't lead your suit, unless he has nothing else to lead.

One other principle: It does pay to lead an opponent's suit. You enjoy putting an opponent under a disadvantage. The ace of an opponent's suit is one of the best possible leads.

Hattie W. Caraway, of Arkansas, was first elected woman senator in the United States, serving from 1931 to 1945.

Fete Winners in Brand Names

New York City Is Host in Recognition of Best Promotions

NEW YORK — New York City officials rolled out the red carpet as the one hundred and nineteen winners of the nation-wide Brand Name Retailer-of-the-Year competition arrived in town to start a 3-day program ending with the Brand Names Day awards dinner in the Waldorf-Astoria Wednesday.

The group will be awarded plaques and citations by Brand Names Foundation, Incorporated, for outstanding presentation of brands to the public during 1954. Forty states are represented in the group. According to Foundation president, Henry E. Abt, more than 1800 civic and business leaders will witness the presentations on Wednesday evening.

To honor the Retailer-of-the-Year group, Mayor Robert F. Wagner has designated Wednesday, April 13, as "Brand Names Day in New York City."

Through Wednesday, the group will be the guests of publications, manufacturers, and the radio and television networks at a series of special activities.

Boss Tangles Little Things

By MARGARET LATROBE

My former boss, like many other great men, was a curious mixture of the simple and the complex, the customary and the eccentric. In involved business transactions his mind sped far ahead of lawyers, accountants, experts of all kinds. But he could snarl up the entire telephone switchboard by punching the wrong buttons on his handset. Gigantic problems or emergencies found him quite calm, solution ready. But small tangles brought thundering profanity.

He never grasped time that implacable and irrevocable ticking away of the hours. Seasons changed as best they could—without notice or assistance from him. Daylight and darkness he acknowledged vaguely—but hours, minutes, seconds? Nonsense.

In his own office he was never late for appointments, for none was made. "Drop around and see me," was sufficient unto the highest, the mightiest caller. Elsewhere, "Well, I'll be seeing you—" was definite, fixed.

That trains were obliged to run according to schedule, he never understood. Pretense of any sort annoyed him, when he bothered to think of it at all. And the pompous habit of railroad cars leaving a station at a certain split second struck him as highhanded egotism on their part.

Did they expect a man to jump up in the middle of a conversation (and these were important to him in the same degree, whether it was his son who wanted to go fishing instead of mowing the lawn, or a prominent representative of a foreign government), grab his hat, suitcase, and go kiting wildly down to the station merely because some idiot schedule required a locomotive to pass a given spot at a given time?

He found it cheaper and more convenient to buy a small plane and engage a pilot who wasn't psychologically impelled toward schedules, either.

In the winter of 1942 he sent me to Alberta, Canada, to assist the company's war project. He would personally arrange my transportation so government secrecy requirements were met. No train tickets! Now, I bow to none in patriotism, but love of country and cowardly apprehension finished close at the prospect of moving three yards hence, if my beloved but baffled boss had one iota to do with arrangements thereof.

Simple? His plan was ingenius! Rides to be hitched in small planes, stopovers, messages to intercept from unknown persons, midnight rendezvous at tiny airports here and there—and eventually, Canada. And it might have worked except he forgot to tell the last rescue party about their passenger hopefully waiting in Casper, Wyoming.

Lovely town it was, even at 22 below zero. And riding a leisurely sheep train to Lethbridge is a real experience if you enjoy being hungry, thirsty and frozen.

I got there two weeks later. Emerging from iccles due only in part to winter, I found everyone hard at work.

Including the boss. "And where have YOU been?" he roared. "Nobody in my whole blankety blank outfit can even catch a blankety blank train unless I plan every step for 'em. Who ever heard of a sheep train running once a week! Don't they know there's a war on?"

Chinese Paper Bares Charges Against Two Purged Party Leaders

TOKYO (AP)—Peiping radio today broadcast an article by People's Daily hinting that two purged leaders of the Chinese Communist party were the tools of "American imperialism."

The official party newspaper said Kao Kang and Jao Shu-shih plotted to seize power and added that enemies of the Communist state try "their utmost to use the most unstable and least reliable elements in the party."

* * *

"The American imperialists do not deny this," it said.

It charged that a U.S. State Department official told the House Appropriations Committee Feb. 10 that "our hope of solving problems on the China mainland is not through attack upon the mainland but rather by actions which would promote disintegration from within."

* * *

(The statement was made by Walter S. Robertson, assistant secretary of state for Far Eastern affairs. He told the committee also that he did "not think American forces should be used to initiate offensive action against any country.")

Peiping has reported that Kao, boss of the five-year plan, "committed suicide." Jao, secretary of the party in east China, is expected to be tried. Jao may be under suspicion because he once visited the United States. He is said to have studied at any American university.

Crazy, Mixed-Up Thief 'Just Looking' at Cash

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Three men tried to rifle the cash register of a gasoline station yesterday but were foiled by K. O. Burnett, Oklahoma City motorcycle officer, who works there part time.

"I didn't intend to steal the money. I was just looking at it. I accidently hit the cash register and when I regained my senses I had the money in my hand."

You can add Egypt to the list of nations that are making an all out pitch for the Yankee dollar.

But there are also quite a few Americans here looking for a last Egyptian piastre.

Slightly more than three years ago this gate city to the Orient was smouldering from the torches of antiforeign mobs. Rioting took more than 50 lives, caused millions of dollars in damage. Such landmarks as Shepheards Hotel and the exclusive British Turf Club were destroyed.

Many foreigners fled the country. Others stayed on in an atmosphere of uneasy tension. Confidence was destroyed. Some businessmen liquidated and got out. Tourists bypassed the city in favor of other Mediterranean resorts.

* * *

But today Cairo's remarkabe comeback is evident everywhere. To a visitor's eye it has a boom town hustle and bustle. The foreigner no longer has a feeling of being unwanted.

When you step off a plane at Cairo Airport the first sign you see says "Welcome to Egypt." But you begin to believe they really mean it when you go through customs. The official baggage searchers in old days had the reputation of being the toughest, worst-tempered in the world. Now they simply look at your tourist visa and wave you through with a smile.

Many changes have sprung out of the fateful rioting of January 1952. Farouk, symbol of Egypt's corruption under the pashas, was kicked out by a group of nationalistic young army officers. They have set out to rebuild the country. Reform has been slow in the land where peasants still live pretty much as they did 5,000 years ago under the Pharoahs.

* * *

Final results aren't yet in, of course, on the reform program initiated by young officers. Today's peasant may not see in his lifetime substantial betterment in his own standard of living.

The longtime problem of Egypt is to upgrade her overcrowded millions—find ways to educate them, teach them skills needed in modern industrial society, the only kind of society that could wipe out the vast gap between appalling poverty and overwhelming wealth. She needs a middle class.

The first signals of change are more visible in cosmopolitan Cairo than in rural areas.

* * *

One of the first moves by the Revolutionary Council was to tap heretofore overlooked sources of income—tourist spending.

Egyptians have been so conscientious in their effort to make the foreigner feel welcome that they had daily instruction of the customs personnel in the art of smiling. It is said one customs official flunked. Under Farouk he had mastered the cold suspicious sneer. Under the new regime the best he could muster was a leer.

The government also has available a corps of girl guides, most of whom speak at least three languages, to take tourists on sightseeing trips. There also are tourist police who help protect unwary visitors from being stung too badly while buying mysterious souvenirs of the mysterious East.

Cairo has become what it was before the last war, a crossroads of the world. Most of the people you bump into are from out of town. Many are tourists. But there are also many who are looking for business. Germans, Swedes, Italians, French—and even some from Iron Curtain countries—are all trying to muscle in on Egyptian trade formerly dominated by the British.

American firms are showing more interest, too, now that U.S. economical aid has bolstered Egypt's scanty supply of dollars.

There are some 1,200 Americans now living in Egypt—and some 4,000 Germans. The figures mirror the change.

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery

Finds Healing Substance That Does Both—Relieves Pain—Shrinks Hemorrhoids

New York, N. Y. (Special)—For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids and to relieve pain—without surgery.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by doctors' observations.

Pain was relieved promptly. And, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.

And most amazing of all—this improvement was maintained in cases where doctors' observations were continued over a period of many months!

In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' standing.

All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne*)—the discovery of a world-famous research institution. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.

Now this new healing substance is offered in ointment form for hemorrhoids under the name *Preparation H. The price is only 98¢ a tube including an applicator. The name to ask for is Preparation H—at all drug stores. And remember—if not entirely satisfied—your money will be refunded promptly. *Reg. U.S. Pat. Off.

Play Ball!

At long last a great annual event is at hand — the opening of the Major League baseball season.

In the opinion of real fans nothing does so much to make Spring official as the traditional cry of "Play Ball" soon to be heard in all Big League parks. From then until the end of the World Series the sharp crack of the bat and mighty roars of the crowds will be music to the ears of the millions who love our national game.

This year, as was the case in 1954, the American League has a slightly different look geographically. For example, Spike Briggs' Tigers open against the lowly Athletics in their new home in Kansas City. A year ago it was the St. Louis Brownies who started the season in their new home in Baltimore under the name of Orioles.

Whatever questions about them remain unanswered, we'll leave the Tigers' prospects to the experts. But of one thing there is no doubt. The team which three years ago had to admit an average of 29.6 years today averages only 26.7 years and is the youngest in the junior circuit.

Believing that this accent on youth can't fail to bring happy results, we wish Spike Briggs and Bucky Harris and their young athletes a gloriously successful 1955 season.

Pontiac Motors' Sales Set Record in March

There is nothing wrong with our national economy.

The same thing can be said of conditions here in the old home town. This is made clear in a sales report just issued from the office of R. M. Critchfield, General Motors vice president and general manager of the Pontiac Motor division.

In March, according to the report, the division sold 54,146 new cars. This is the largest number of Pontiac cars ever sold in any month in the division's history. It reflects a 66 per cent increase over March of last year and a gain of 30 per cent over February sales this year.

As a result of this strong demand Mr. Critchfield predicts that total production and sales in the 1955 model year will reach 550,000 units. Sales to date total 228,000.

That prediction means many more weeks of work for the thousands of men and women whose skill makes these magnificent cars available to the country's motorists.

NATO Six Years Old

The North Atlantic Treaty Organization now is six years old.

This makes it fitting to examine what NATO has come to mean for Europe in that short space of time. Though the forces organized by member countries are far from being as formidable as those Soviet Russia can control, the accomplishments of the 15 member organization are considerable.

At present Russia has 85 divisions immediately available. If need be it could mobilize 175 and with its satellite forces eventually could put 250 divisions into the field.

Since 1949 NATO's forces have grown from nothing to 48 divisions. Experts consider that this force now is sufficient to carry on a holding operation should the Russians attack. Before 1949 our Western Allies would have had no choice but retreat before an advancing Communist horde.

There is far more to NATO than manpower statistics, however. As has been well said it has come to mean a third force in Europe between an aggressive Soviet army on the one side and massive American retaliation on the other.

This, it seems to us, is ample reason for a feeling of reassurance and new hope among all the peoples of the free world.

MacArthur Request Fair

Gen. MacArthur's request for release of all, not part of the files bearing on his attitude toward Russia's entry into the Japanese war seems to us fair and reasonable.

The request is an outgrowth of the General's statement that if he had been consulted in the matter before Yalta, he would have advised against seeking Russia's help.

Almost immediately came a report that an entry in the diary of the late Defense Secretary Forrestal indicated that Gen. MacArthur was strongly in favor of getting Soviet aid.

Speaking for Gen. MacArthur, Maj. Gen. Courtney Whitney challenged the accuracy of the Forrestal diary. He also denied that the file of MacArthur messages to the Joint Chiefs of Staff contained any reference to Soviet entry into the war except for one message at the beginning.

The Army has upgraded the security classification of these files leaving the matter of their release to the Defense Department. With 10 years having elapsed, there should be no security reason why Gen. MacArthur's request couldn't be granted.

Release of the files would bring out all the facts and that's what everybody wants.

David Lawrence Says:

F. D. R. Scoffed at Report on Commie Threat in '39

WASHINGTON— Representative Martin Dies of Texas, Democrat and former chairman of the House Committee on Un-American Activities, says President Roosevelt blundered at Yalta and that to acknowledge the mistakes "is not a condemnation of the Democratic party." Dies has written to this correspondent a letter which is presented here in full text:

"Of all that is being written and spoken concerning the tragic mistakes of Yalta, certain basic facts are being ignored or overlooked. In order to understand Yalta, it is essential to know the attitude of the Roosevelt Administration towards Russia and communism when the President and his advisers met with Churchill and Stalin to decide the future of the world.

"No judge or juror can render a fair decision if he has preconceived opinions or if he hears the case with his mind made up in advance of trial.

"I know it to be a fact from my conversations with Mr. Roosevelt, Mr. Ickes, Mr. Hopkins, and other members of the Roosevelt team that Mr. Roosevelt and his advisers went to Yalta with tragically erroneous ideas about Russia and communism.

"As I have reported many times since 1939, Mr. Roosevelt and his key aides told me quite frankly and definitely that they did not believe the findings and conclusions of the Dies Committee with reference to the criminal and aggressive plans, tactics and methods of Communists at home and abroad, and that they believed that the future of America depended upon close collaboration with Russia and a tolerant, if not protective, attitude towards Communists in the United States. They ridiculed the finding of the Dies Committee contained in our first report dated Jan. 3, 1939, which reads as follows:

" 'We have shown that communism is a world-wide revolutionary movement aiming ultimately at the setting up of a world Union of Soviet Socialist Republics. This is a proposition which is beyond dispute. It is substantiated by voluminous literature of the Communists themselves.

" 'In this plan for world revolution, the Communist have omitted no country or people as too small or insignificant to command their attention. They have, on the other hand, taken the logical position of concentrating their attention upon the richest and most populous countries of the earth.

" 'Among these the Communists recognize the United States of America as the foremost. The Communists' conquest of the earth will be far less than complete until it has conquered America and destroyed our free institutions.

" 'It follows logically from the Communist international's plan of world conquest that every possible tactic, device, maneuver, and intrigue would be employed to gain such an end as the communization of America. These tactics, devices, maneuvers, and intrigues are both boldly open and patiently subtle, both violent and insidious. The tactics and maneuvers for revolutionary ends are the meat and drink of a Communist. They are the very air he breathes.'

"Mr. Roosevelt treated this and many other warnings issued by me and the committee concerning the tactics and aims of the Communists as a huge joke. On one occasion Mr. Roosevelt laughingly told me that he thought I 'saw a Red under my bed at night.' Mr. Ickes called me a 'zany' and ridiculed me publicly. Mrs. Perkins made the false statement publicly that I had accused Shirley Temple of being a Communist.

"It is this sort of attitude and thinking which Mr. Roosevelt carried with him to Yalta. Is it any wonder, therefore, that America lost at Yalta the fruits of hard-won victory and that Stalin came out of the conference with concessions that changed the map and future of the world?

"I do not mean to imply that Mr. Roosevelt was actuated by ulterior motives. I do not believe there has ever been a president of our country who intentionally did something contrary to the best interest of our country. Neither do I seek to detract from Mr. Roosevelt's great leadership during the dark days of the depression. But it is important to our children that we face up to the ugly truth of Yalta in the hope that future generations will profit by our mistake and avoid another Yalta.

"Blind and misguided partisanship which defends the indefensible does not serve the best interest of our country. It is not a condemnation of the Democratic party today to acknowledge one of the worst blunders in the history of our country. The Republican party has been guilty of tragic blunders, such as the reconstruction era after the war between the states which did so much to retard the political, economic and spiritual growth of our country.

"The 'party hacks' who condone and defend the mistakes of their party are neither statesmen who serve the interest and welfare of their country, nor politicians who serve the ultimate interest of their party.

"Despite all the denials and countercharges, Yalta was a terrible blunder which has already cost our country precious lives and billions of dollars and which may yet plunge us into a devastating war. Only if we recognize it as a blunder and acknowledge its cause can we profit in the future and save our civilization from destruction.

"There are none so blind as those who will not see; there are none so deaf as those who will not hear. In the world in which we live we cannot survive if we are blind and deaf to our mistakes."

Case Records of a Psychologist

Young Man Who Had Been Homosexual Now Lives Normal Life as Husband

Can a homosexual be changed into a normal person? Well, Jerry's case should be of great interest to all those millions of men and women who have homosexual tendencies, and also to parents as well as school teachers. Scrapbook this psychology column every day as an aid to better social adjustment.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case O-301: Jerry F., aged 29, shows the tremendous value of the daily newspaper in helping change human lives constructively.

"Dr. Crane, I was orphaned at the age of 12," Jerry began, "and had to make my own way.

"I struggled through high school and two years of college. And I sent for most of your psychological booklets, which I used to raise my grades in public speaking classes and many others.

"But the biggest problem in my youth was the fact that some older men initiated me into self sex practices and homosexuality.

"I became a nervous wreck and felt I was going to end in a mental institution.

"Then I sent for your booklet on 'Sex Problems of Young People' and learned that a homosexual can change if he will exert enough will power.

"You said that homosexuality is simply an immature or juvenile stage in emotional development. So I vowed I'd grow up.

"At first it was very difficult for me to date girls and try to act like a normal male. I felt nauseated by girls.

"And it was just like taking bitter medicine for me to hold a girl close. As for kissing her, I felt appalled and had to grit my teeth to force myself to give her even a goodnight kiss.

"Sometimes I just couldn't stand dating girls at all, so for weeks I'd stay away from them. Then I'd re-read your booklet, and begin again.

"Besides, I realized I had become somewhat sissy during my homosexual period, so I had to watch my mannerisms, my gestures and even the way I walked and talked.

"I kept on dating different girls and resolutely ignored all homosexual tendencies and temptation, which was very hard, for misdirected passion is just as strong and blinding as the normal type of love.

"I took your advice and avoided girls in taverns. Instead, I selected nice, religious girls and if one ever started to drink, I'd drop her like a hot potato.

"Always, I was striving to find a girl that I could fall in love with

"Finally, I did. My wife doesn't know anything at all about my past homosexual deviation.

"We rated each other on your famous 'Test for Sweethearts' and I fell completely in love with her.

"I quickly got adjusted to normal marital life and now have no more yearning whatsoever for my own sex.

"I find that heterosexual life is far superior to my former homosexual way of living.'

"We have been married happily for 5 years and have two wonderful children. I wish you'd tell your readers about my case to prove your point that homosexuals can change if they have the will power.

"It took several years, but I am cured entirely. It would have been a simple thing to have given up and slipped back but I was relentless in my efforts.

"So your articles in my home town newspaper really changed my whole life. I'm now a happy, well adjusted husband and father, active in my church and a stable member of my community.

"I have proved in my own life your psychological axiom that if you go through the proper motions, you'll soon begin to feel the corresponding emotions."

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and a dime to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his psychological charts.

Mrs. Earl Bauer Wonders if Law Exists Which Protects Pets From Stray Animals

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the writer is critical in its nature

I would like to know what the laws are in Oakland County regarding dogs. They claim your dog should have rabies shots before you can obtain a dog license.

We had two dogs and my husband always saw to it that they had their shots and licenses. He always kept them penned up and also saw to it that they got their exercise.

Recently we lost a beagle dog from distemper. He must have caught it from some stray dog. Now our springer spaniel also has it and we are taking him to the veterinarian.

We called the Dog Pound to see what the laws are and also called the supervisor. Everyone seems to be passing the ball. Frankly, I don't think there are any laws.

It's a shame when you can't even protect your own pets. Some people don't even know how to take care of dogs. The animals live out of garbage pails. They ruin other's shrubbery. Their owners don't even buy licenses for them.

Says Burying Rubbish Better Than Burning

It seems when Spring comes, most people get a strong urge to burn every kind of rubbish. If they would only realize a rake and shovel can do a much better clean-up job.

Of course, it takes muscle and elbow grease to dig a hole and bury junk but think of the fresh air, sunshine and exercise you would get. It would benefit your health as well as help Mother Nature's soil.

Ever Dream H-Bomb Hit Your City?

Did you ever have a dream about what would happen if an H-bomb landed in your city?

Even if you have your highways built in time you must have an understood plan of evacuation so that confusion and traffic jams would be prevented. Without such a plan, all the work done in building the 8-lane evacuation highways would be in vain.

A successful plan would be to have side streets take turn, one by one, emptying onto the main evacuation highway which would lead 200 or 300 miles out of the city. You should not load your car with a lot of things you cannot use. Remember, your car might be your home for no one knows how long.

Concentrated foods should be taken. Observe all orders of evacuation. If you do not, you may not get out of the city in time.

Quotes German Soldier Regarding New Army

In one of our national magazines there appeared a letter written by a former German soldier. He said, "I am a German and ex-member of the glorious Wehrmacht, who has fought American soldiers in Africa, Italy and Germany.

"You are mistaken thinking the German army is being created as an instrument to save your retreat when the Red army starts steam rolling over Europe. It is true the Germans hate the Russians and that Communism is alien to the German mind.

"But we also remember the infamous behavior of the American occupation army and we also remember Nurnberg. The German army (new) will become a fast, not a ham strung, second class, 'Foreign Legion' of the USA but as the free German Army of the free German people."

Great Rewards Reaped by Giving, Says 'Andy'

When will mankind learn that only in giving may one receive? That the fullness of receiving is in the very act of giving? Giving with no anticipation of reward is the only true way of giving that results in receiving.

The obscurity of night gives forth to the light of day and in turn the sun is cast aside by the obscurity of night. In the daytime is the joy of doing and living and in the nighttime is the peace of meditation and rest.

The soil gives forth its nourishment and the rose blooms with its soft perfume. The mother gives birth to the child and from the child she receives the joy of having given. Without giving, there can be no receiving. Everything is an exchange, nothing is independent.

My ambulatory ambassador briefs me on the European case.

It followed its boarding-house policy of feeding those with the longest reach And also hooked up France and Germany with the old one-two of diplomatic impact.

We harked back to the time when Hank Wallace was secretary of aggravated culture. It was a postscript on Hank's theory of ever normal famines.

We staked Germany to corn and sent beans to France. Both nations got together and signed the treaty because they like succotash.

The next step will be parliamentary procedure over the disputed coal and steel territory. There will be another Saar plebescite. Once again we will be ringing up fares in the carbarn.

It's a feather in our paper hat when we broke the Paris logger-head jam. And we created the London-Paris-Berlin bent axis for the first time in history.

Decay Can't Be Stopped by Brushing Your Teeth

By WILLIAM BRADY, M.D.

According to Aunt Polly, the president of the American Dental Assn. says a person is just as well off brushing his teeth with water as with any toothpaste or powder. As far as he knows there is no adequate evidence that any dentifrice is useful in preventing decay "except as it assists the toothbrush in cleaning the teeth."

The president, Dr. Daniel F. Lynch, of Washington, D.C. added that "The American Dental Association will stand back of that."

Maybe that was so when Dr. Lynch said it, but will the Association stand back of it now that I have elbowed my way into the discussion? If it is possible, my views and teachings concerning hygiene and health are almost as unpopular with the A D A as they are with the A M A.

"It's about time," I thought, when Aunt Polly began her story—but my elation was momentary. The toothbrush, it seems, is still de rigueur in Yankeeland.

But, dentistry, like medicine is making strides nowadays. Half a century ago a crack at glorified soap such as Dr. Lynch's would have. . .

As any dentist can tell you, a plodding practitioner of medicine is not qualified to have an opinion or give advice concerning the preservation of the teeth.

As I tell you, no dentist has as yet explained why or how brushing teeth, with or without some magic nostrum flavored with soapy lemon or wintergreen, prevents decay.

It would be as sensible to brush one's tonsils before or after each meal as it is to brush one's teeth—in my opinion.

I have nothing against soap and water cleanliness. Believe it or not I sometimes rinse my mouth with soapy water after eating. But when I'm too busy to mess with such mouth washing, or when the kind of soap I prefer is not available, I don't mind neglecting my teeth, if it is neglect.

If you can refrain from comments on filthiness I'll tell you why I feel so comfortable about not brushing my teeth. I say "my" teeth, meaning, of course the teeth I grew myself and the teeth my dentist made and installed making in all 28 functionally efficient teeth.

For you see I have seen for myself the teeth of the people of Tristan da Cunha—the finest teeth in the civilized world—at least they were the finest up to 1949. Prior to '49 the people there had no use for tooth brushes or dentifrices, for they had no dental caries.

But about that time the refinements of ultra-civilization were introduced — the residents even boasted they could get white sugar, white flour, candy, etc. at the store lately opened by the Capetown - London company that had established a cannery on the island to market the crayfish that abound in the waters there. This refinement in diet probably marks the end of a great lesson in nutrition, dental hygiene and health.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long, pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady if a stamped, self-addressed envelope is sent to the Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Mich.

(Editor's Note: Communists nations have been pumping Red propaganda for seven years into about 28,000 Greek children abducted during the Greek civil war. Now the Reds are suddenly eager to return the hostages. Why? William L. Ryan has sought the answer in this the first of three dispatches.)

By WILLIAM L. RYAN

KASTORIA, Greece (AP)—A special train from Communist Bulgaria screeched to a halt on the Greek side of the frontier. A Greek in his early 20s leaped from the train and, falling to his knees, kissed the Greek earth he had not seen for seven years.

The young man wept as he proclaimed his joy at deliverance. He had been one of about 28,000 Greek children abducted by the Communists, along with thousands of adults, during the Greek Civil War of 1947-49.

* * *

Two weeks after his repatriation, Greek security police arrested this same young man. He was, they said, a trained Communist spy.

* * *

The young man was more than that. He was an example of how communism sets about to capture a generation. He was part of a compounded tragedy which has become a major problem for Greece and a matter of concern for Greece's friends, including the United States.

This area, within sight of the towering wild mountains—which mark the border of Communist Albania, was one of the hardest hit by a crime which shocked the civilized world—the wholesale kidnaping of Greek children.

* * *

Now the Communists seem suddenly eager to return thousands of those forced across the border and possibly some of the many who went willingly as the families of Red guerrilla fighters.

* * *

Many Greeks are asking—Why? Why, at this moment, after all these years and all the futile pleas of Greece before world opinion?

For humane reasons, the Greeks want their people back. But there are misgivings. A sudden flood of repatriates raises serious economic difficulties in the villages. It raises political problems, too, because the children forcibly abducted have reached their late teens and early 20s after seven years of the most rigorous Communist indoctrination, forced estrangement from their parents, isolation from any free world influence.

* * *

And Greeks ask: Are the Communists preparing a time-bomb for Greece?

* * *

Communists of the Soviet satellite nations, through the International Red Cross, agreed last year to return some of the Greeks. Up to now, 3,700 have been repatriated in this way, but:

Of the 3,700 repatriates, 60 per cent are women. About 1,300 are over 60 and an equal number are children, most of them born across the border. Only 1,100 are in the 20-to-60 age group. Those coming back at the moment include many who will be burdens to their communities. Attached to their return is a condition that they must go to the villages or areas of their origin.

Even these few created problems for Greece. The Communists seemed fully aware of that. Poland suddenly offered to repatriate 6,000 in the dead of winter, when it would be most difficult to accommodate them. The number was too great for the Greeks to handle in one batch. They asked that it be scaled down to 2,000 and the time advanced to spirng.

There is now a strong rumor that the Communists replied with a offer raising the number to 11,000, to be moved in a single batch at once. It seemed an effort to embarrass the Greeks. Security screening alone is a long and arduous task, taxing Greek facilities to the utmost.

* * *

There might not be dangerous elements among the first batches. Repatriates here angrily deny that any of their number has any use for communism. But Greek officials are frankly worried about those to come—the children schooled for seven years in a Commnist vacuum.

Interrogation has shown that many of the children, grown to adulthood in isolation from their parents, have undergone the most thorough of indoctrination courses. Many had special treatment in special schools under the guidance of the Greek Communist party, now based largely abroad in the satellite countries. They had better treatment in many cases than did the children of the native Romanians, Poles, Hungarians or Czechs.

In Romania, a big Bucharest building and two big villas were set aside for Greek children. They were kept to themselves under Greek Communist teachers. Village children from birth, in a hard mountain country, they had never seen a large European city. Budapest, Prague and Bucharest were proud old cities long before the Communists came along. Children would be impressed.

TOMORROW: The making of a young Communist.

"Bonanzagram"

Have Fun! Win $100!

"Bonanzagram" is an exciting new puzzle in which the Pontiac Press offers both fun and a $100 cash prize. BUT before you try your hand at "Bonanzagram" be sure and read the rules at the bottom of this page. Solution will appear in the Press April 22.

Claim Check

Below is a duplicate of the "Bonanzagram" entry you send in to contest headquarters. It is ESSENTIAL that you fill it in and save it until the correct solution to "Bonanzagram" No. 6 is published Friday, April 22. Unless you do so, you will be unable to collect the prize if you should send in a winning solution. Check the rules below for further details.

Bonanzagram No. 6

The bank robber had gotten away with a large haul, ducking in during the Friday midday rush and leaving unnoticed with a bag of bills — $10,000 worth. Detective Conn spotted it for an inside job but the suspected cashier had been occupied in the vault at the time, and had given the alarm when on returning he discovered that his cash drawer had been rifled. Investigation gave him a completely clear record. The break came ten day's later when the bank president's secretary, coming back from lunch, found a note rolled in her typewriter. It was the expected tip-off from an inside informer, but was written by a novice at typing who had failed to strike certain keys. However, Detective Conn managed to figure out the meaning and cracked the case. Can you, too, decipher the message?

How To Play 'Bonanzagram'

Solve the "Bonanzagram" by filling in all the missing letters, as indicated by the underscores, in the message. Insert only one letter above each underscore. Many clues to the missing letters are hidden in the story, or anecdote, accompanying the message. Clues may also be found in the message itself, and, in a few cases, the contestant's general knowledge should provide the correct letter. The contestant will note that the message is unpunctuated. Punctuation as well as words must be correct for a winning solution.

When properly filled in, the "Bonanzagram" will spell out a clear message that will conform in every way with the clues. In many cases it will seem that more than one word would be the correct one. That's part of the fun! You should weigh the clues and select the BEST possible word in each case.

How to Submit Entries

1. After solution is completed, "Bonanzagram" should be clipped and pasted to a two-cent postcard with your name and address.

Mimeograph, duplicator or other unofficial mechanical reproduction is forbidden.

How to Collect the Prize

The entrant must work out and keep duplicate solution as a claim check. When the solution is published in the Press, he should compare his "claim check" with the published solution, and, if his claim check is identical, he should call in person with his claim check at the Press office, 48 W. Huron St., before 5 p. m. on the Monday following publication of the solution.

If a winner cannot call at the Press office in person, he should mail his solution to "Bonanzagram Editor." Postmark on this letter must be not later than 5 p. m. the Monday after publication of the answer. Correct answers are void unless the contestant reports his claim by the deadlines listed here.

Major State Issues Still Hanging Fire

Lansing (UP) — Michigan's Legislature has been in session nearly three months, but the major issues of the session will be settled in the next eight weeks.

Lawmakers appear determined now to call it quits by June 3. They have been marking time on some issues until after the spring election. They simply haven't been able to agree on others.

The three major problems to be settled before the curtain rings down on what will be the longest session since 1947 are:

Appropriations, taxes and a highway program.

It's almost a cinch that a record spending budget will be approved and that taxes will be increased.

But any kind of highway program may be doomed after months of quarreling and futile efforts at compromise.

Republican leaders are talking about $25,000,000 to $30,000,000 increase over last year's record breaking appropriation for operating state government.

It appears that Gov. G. Mennen Williams won't get the additional $48,000,000 he requested in his budget.

Williams told the Legislature in his budget message that $46,000,000 of increased revenue would be necessary to meet his requests.

This brings up the question of taxes.

The Republicans apparently are bent on increasing the state's business receipts tax to produce an extra $30,000,000.

Such a proposal has been introduced by House Tax Committee Chairman Rollog G. Conlin (R-Tipton) who calls it "the most stable and equitable tax possible at this time."

The $30,000,000 increase would cover the increased spending estimated by Republicans.

But there still will be a fight for a corporation profits tax recommended by Williams and being pushed by House Democrats.

Williams' proposed tax program includes a five per cent corporation profits tax, repeal of the corporation franchise tax and exemption of incorporated businesses from the business receipts tax. This would produce almost to the penny the $46,000,000 needed to balance his proposed budget.

Senate Republicans, who hold a 23-10 majority, have bitterly denounced a corporation profits tax but have not yet come up with a counter proposal.

Senate Tax Committee Carlton Morris (R-Kalamazoo) has asked his 41-member Citizens Advisory Committee to come up with some tax recommendations within two weeks.

Morris has indicated he would go along with an increase in the business receipts tax far quicker than he would accept a corporation profits tax.

Republicans and Democrats, the House and Senate, Williams and the Legislature, and the large and small counties have been battling each other since the opening day of the session over a highway program.

The battle now is being fought on the issue of whether more money would be spent for a statewide "superhighway" program than for improvements of county roads.

The deadlock seems unbreakable. Months of haggling have failed to produce a program which would satisfy the House, the Senate and Williams. The upshot could be a straight 1½ gas tax increase to be distributed under the present formula of 44 per cent to the state, 27 per cent to the counties and 19 per cent to the cities.

But the odds are that Williams would veto any plan which would not provide money for a start on the 2,000-mile "superhighway" plan.

Planning Commission Guide on Subdivisions Going to Far East

The Oakland County Planning Commission has received a request from the Japanese government's Building Research Institute for a copy of a "Land Survey Guide" compiled by the local group in 1953.

The guide to proper subdividing of land has won international recognition since it was cited as an outstanding publication by the American Society of Planning Officials two years ago.

One of the first booklets put out by the planning commission, it contains information on how best to plan a subdivision to meet proper health, road and drainage requirements, said Commission Director George N. Skrubb.

Some 1,000 copies has been distributed in the county, across the United States, in Canada, Alaska, South America, "and now comes a request from Japan," Skrubb stated.

Letters asking for copies have come from governmental agencies in Wasington, plus colleges and individuals including architects surveyors, engineers and realtors.

"We plan to revise the guide and make it much more complete," said Skrubb.

"We think it's worth the effort after getting requests for copies from such placese as Mesquite, Texas; Chico, Calif., and even the U. S. Atomic Energy Commission."

Israel, Egypt Blamed for Fighting at Gaza

JERUSALEM (AP) — The U. N. Mixed Armistice Commission has charged both Israel and Egypt with truce violations in a recent border clash along the troubled Gaza Strip that left two soldiers dead and 12 wounded on each side.

A communique, issued yesterday after an emergency meeting of the commission on the April 3 shooting at Nahal Oz, also contained a plea by U. N. truce chief Maj. Gen. E. L. M. Burns of Canada. Burns called on both sides to keep "firm control" over their armed forces in the Gaza Strip, scene of a series of bloody outbreaks recently.

The commission ruled the April 3 skirmish was "a very serious incident" involving violations by both sides.

The folding fan was invented by a Japanese in the seventh century and probably was brought to Europe by Portuguese traders 1,000 years later.

Reporter Says Ike Won't Run

Belief Told in New Book by Merriman Smith, Veteran UP Writer

WASHINGTON (UP)—Merriman Smith, United Press White House reporter, expresses the belief in a book published today that President Eisenhower will not seek re-election in 1956 if he is free then to follow the inclinations he has now.

Smith gives his reasons for this belief, and at the same time lists factors which could lead to a second term race, in a volume of closeup observations about Eisenhower's transition from 5-star general to civilian head of government.

The book is "Meet Mister Eisenhower" (Harper; $3.50). It gives behind-the-scenes glimpses of the President (and reporters) at work and at play. It includes an authoritative account of how Eisenhower feels at midterm about his job, his achievements and the future course of the nation.

Smith, White House reporter since 1941, believes that Eisenhower doesn't want to run for a second term. Among the reasons he cites: The President's age (he would be 66 at start of a second term), his "distaste" for politics, a yearning to retire to his Gettysburg farm, and Mrs. Eisenhower's health.

"She (Mrs. Eisenhower) is not a robust woman and she finds the hours and the work, particularly during the social season, definitely fatiguing," Smith writes.

Eisenhower, however, might seek re-election "if he were convinced, whether by his own reasoning or the pleas of others, that his continued presence at the American helm might be essential to preserving the peace or winning a war . . ."

But "barring tensions, pressures and dangers which cannot be foreseen or measured at the present," Smith concludes, "My guess is that he will run again — right straight for Gettysburg."

DETROIT (INS) — A 14-year-old Detroit boy accidentally killed his best friend with a homemade spear yesterday.

Ronald Lee Brandon and John Gunnerson, 14, his best buddy, along with two other boys, went polliwog hunting in a vacant lot after they had shed their Easter finery for blue jeans.

Brandon said the boys were running toward a mound when he decided to throw his spear—a five-foot length of floor moulding with an eight-inch rat-tail file for the spearhead—to one side of Gunnerson.

Gunnerson swerved from his path and the spear hit him at the base of the neck. He was dead on arrival at Mount Carmel Mercy Hospital.

Brandon was released to the custody of his parents after making a statement to the prosecutor's office.

Molotov Greets Austrian Chief

Julius Raab Arrives in Moscow to Begin Talks on Speeding Up Treaty

MOSCOW (UP)—Austrian Chancellor Julius Raab landed at Moscow's central military airport this afternoon to begin conferences with Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov on speeding up an Austrian independence treaty.

Molotov and deputy Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko headed the welcoming party at the snowy airport. U.S. Ambassador Charles Bohlen was among the diplomats present.

"I hope this trip will improve relations," Raab told the crowd which greeted him in a blinding snowstorm.

He said he was glad to come here and recalled it was just 10 years ago that Soviet troops liberated his homeland.

Raab comes to Moscow on the invitation of Molotov, who has said personal contact between the Austrian chancellor and top Russian leaders would speed up completion of the Austrian treaty, deadlocked in the 10 years since.

The Soviet foreign minister said in a speech to the Supreme Soviet (Parliament) Feb. 8 that Moscow no longer insisted on linking the Austrian treaty to the German problem, and since then the two countries have been exploring ways and means of getting the treaty signed.

"Five Years of Labor Peace Made that Headline Possible"

The headline on that newspaper points up the fact that General Motors and their employes have enjoyed five great years.

We could name several reasons. But one of them certainly traces right back to the historic contract worked out by the U.A.W. and General Motors in 1950.

That turned out to be a good contract for all concerned—as the record of the past five years will show.

It has been a record measured in 128,000 more jobs—higher pay per hour—steady employment—plant expansion—and increased sales.

These benefits have been enjoyed across the board—in the 64 cities and 19 states where GM plants are located. But let's look at the hometown figures.

WHAT HAPPENED RIGHT HERE IN PONTIAC

JOBS INCREASED BY 5,222

In January 1950, GM employed 25,561 people in Pontiac. The total today is 30,783.

PAYROLLS INCREASED $37,468,065

During 1950, wage and salary payments to GM Pontiac employes totaled $117,637,462. In 1954, our annual payrolls in Pontiac had climbed to $155,105,527.

But a lot of folks find it hard to think in millions. So let's look at this record another way.

44c PER HOUR WAGE INCREASE

The GM wage formula—fair to everyone, as a good formula should be—provides for two types of increases which come automatically. Since 1950, the Annual Improvement Factor increase, assuring a higher standard of living, added 22c an hour. In the same time, the cost-of-living allowance, protecting the buying power of an hour's work, added 22c more.

FIVE-YEAR AVERAGE—40.1 HOURS A WEEK

This figure is also important, because it indicates that employment has been stable. One reason that earnings have been good is that there has been practically no work lost due to strikes in GM plants in Pontiac during these five prosperous years.

PLANT EXPANSION

GM increased plant area in Pontiac by 2,018,640 square feet in the past five years.

DID YOU KNOW THAT—

$5,164,006 in sickness and accident benefits have been paid to Pontiac GM plant employes in the last five years.

• • •

$8,955,875 worth of hospital care has been received by Pontiac GM employes and their families since September 1, 1950. This came through Blue Cross and Blue Shield coverage paid for equally by GM and GM employes.

• • •

$4,758,867 in death benefits have been paid to beneficiaries of 959 Pontiac GM employes since 1950.

• • •

NEW CONTRACT NEGOTIATIONS ARE UNDER WAY

Representatives of GM and the U.A.W. are meeting now to negotiate changes in the current five-year agreements.

We at GM have taken our place at the bargaining table with an open mind. As in the past, we are determined to work hard in an effort to negotiate a new agreement which will be fair and of mutual benefit to the public, our employes, the union and the company.

As these negotiations begin, all the facts and figures on this page add up to a few simple but important reminders.

Every one of us who is a member of the GM team can be happy that we have a winning combination that benefits all concerned.

There's every indication that this can be the best year of all.

Guild 11 Begins Antique Show on April 19

The quaint, the crude, the humorous, and the elegantly beautiful accessories of the living past will be assembled to stage Pontiac's third antique show, April 19, 20, 21 at All Saints Episcopal church.

From Pennsylvania, New England, Ohio, Michigan, and from parts of Europe, antiques are being brought in by the sixteen collectors who have reserved booths this year.

With taste, imagination and just plain hard work, a bare gymnasium will be changed to a setting of nostalgic glamour. The sparkle of old and valuable glass, the gleam of polished silver, the soft patina of age-mellowed wood, will contribute to the charm of the three-day show.

Pine furniture from historical New England, country furniture from old homes in Ohio and Pennsylvania and early kitchenware will be displayed in several booths. A pierced tin safe is an especial treasure of one of these exhibitors.

Items from an old country general store will be featured by another collector. Colored glass, brass, gone-with-the-wind lamps, and hand-painted china will be arranged in another.

One exhibitor is bringing a collection of snuff boxes, rare Staffordshire cup plates, and bowls such as Bar flight Worcester, Rockingham, Silver luster, Crown derby and Pratt.

One dealer feels fortunate to have acquired some Blackberry luster plates and handle-less cups and saucers. These rate with the Gaudy Dutch and Welsh, according to the dealer.

A Pennsylvania Dutch birth certificate, dated 1829, and printed on a Washington press (the first to print color in this country), will be a highly prized exhibit in the same booth.

Primitives and pewter, historical china, hand-woven articles, jewelry, and old prints will be featured by other collectors. Custom picture frames and lamp shades will again be offered.

Ohio, a rich source of antiques with homes dating back to 1787, will be represented by dealers from Toledo, Canton, Carrollton and Rossford.

Those from Michigan will come from Detroit, Port Huron, Saginaw, Grand Blanc, Farmington, Nashville, Milford, Brighton, Birmingham, Bloomfield Township and Southfield Township.

The collections represented have been gathered from New England, Pennsylvania and other eastern states as well as from Michigan and Ohio. Many items were imported from Europe.

The women and men who haunt auctions or search for forgotten attics and barns, browse through antique shops or flock to shows in search of rare treasures, are not just following the squirrel instinct, according to both historians and interior decorators.

Decorator John Greer of Washington, D. C., cites a need for beauty in this practical age. Some furnishings keyed to the romantic elegance of days gone by should be used in the 1955 home according to Mr. Greer.

The purely modern clips off the past entirely. People want to be reminded of the past and the beautiful things it has produced, according to this authority.

Historians award America's antique collectors with the title "unsung patriots" and credit them with leading the way in the preservation of the American arts.

This year's show is managed by Mrs. Stanley Warne, as were Pontiac's first and second shows, and is sponsored by Guild 11 of All Saints Church.

First Methodist Church of Hamilton, Ohio, was the setting for the Saturday marriage of Norma Maureen Fant and William F. Goodwin. She is the daughter of the Claude L. Fants of Hamilton, and he is the son of the William Goodwins of Dover, Ohio.

MRS. WILLIAM F. GOODWIN

Norma M. Fant Is Bride of William F. Goodwin

Norma Maureen Fant of East Iroquois road became the bride of William Frederick Goodwin of Tiffin, Ohio, Saturday evening at First Methodist Church of Hamilton, Ohio.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Claude L. Fant of Hamilton, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Goodwin of Dover, Ohio.

The Rev. Wheaton Webb performed the seven-thirty o'clock ceremony before an altar decorated with vases of lilies and palms, in the presence of 150 guests.

Lighted candles marked the pews as the bride approached the altar wearing a gown of imported Chantilly lace trimmed with nylon tulle. The fitted bodice was fashioned with bateau neckline set in illusion and long tapered sleeves.

Her floor length skirt ended in a chapel length train. A tiara of Chantilly lace trimmed with seed pearls secured her veil of hand rolled silk illusion in fingertip length. She carried an arrangement of white lilies.

Geraldine Worthman of Bluffton, Ind. attended the bride as maid of honor and Mrs. Melvin Baker of Hamilton was matron of honor. Genevieve Goodwin, sister of the bridegroom from Dover, was a bridesmaid.

They wore ballerina length gowns of nile green crystalette fashioned with strapless bodices and detachable shrugs. Delicate white headpieces with veils and bouquets of white carnations and lilies completed their outfits.

Howard Dafforn of Dover served as best man and seating the guests were Wesley Hargraves of Canton and Claude L. Fant Jr., brother of the bride from Hamilton. Paul Kirk, cousin of the bride, served as ring bearer.

In June the couple will make their home at Heidelberg College, Tiffin, Ohio, where the bridegroom is a student. The bride is a graduate of the college.

'Meet Your Neighbor' Sale Planned

Begins Friday in Several Stores in Pontiac Area

Friday and Saturday housewives in the Pontiac area who will be doing their marketing in local grocery stores will be greeted by members of the Pontiac Federation of Women's Clubs.

These members will be selling Betty Crocker cake mixes, and they hope you will purchase a box or two from them. And they have good reason for wanting to sell the mixes to you.

They are hoping for a civic auditorium in Pontiac, and they have promised all proceeds from the sale for the building.

You'll know these women by a little yellow tag they will be wearing which says, "Hello Neighbor!"

Mrs. J. A. Rammes and Mrs. Ericson Lewis are serving as general chairmen of the "Meet Your Neighbor" project which is sponsored by the federation.

Posters in stores throughout the city and suburbs will inform you of what stores are participating in the project and mention will also be made in advertising by the stores.

Enthusiasm is running high among the women who are taking part in the project in an effort to raise money for the Civic auditorium fund. Many women are giving a full day's time to promote the sale of these mixes and others are giving much of their time in calling women for help.

Don't Consider Friends Potential Customers When Opening Business

Writer Says Paying Customer Best

By ANNE HEYWOOD

People who contemplate opening a business or service of their own think friends will be their first customers. "I know I'll do all right," they say, "because to start off with, I have a lot of friends."

Invariably, they might just as well forget their friends, because friends almost never become customers.

Mrs. G. K. has learned this the hard way. Mrs. G. K. has a tremendous talent with children, so she decided to open her own day nursery.

She got everything all set up, fixed a price, and did a little advertising.

"My prices are very reasonable," she tells me. "I charge $10 per week for total care, including meals, etc.

Of course, I have low rates by the day. The only taker so far is the mother of a child I met through my activities as a Den Mother.

Worst of all, all my friends continue to let me do baby sitting for nothing.

"I love kids, and always did take care of my friends' children just for fun, when they went shopping or to bridge games or movies.

When I announced my new service I was sure they would become customers, since my fees are so low.

But, can you imagine, they still get me to do it for nothing, and never think of offering me my fee! What should I do?"

First of all, tell your friends you are sorry, but you can no longer take their children, you are busy with your business.

At first, they may be huffy, but they'll get over it and will like you better in the long run. But they will probably never become customers—they'll find some other "sucker" who will take their children for nothing.

You can get many paying customers if you notify the right people. Send a little announcement to the pediatricians in your community.

They frequently need to know of such a service, particularly for their working mothers. Send another notice to the personnel directors of your local big companies.

There are many mothers who must work, and good child care is important not only to them but to the people they work for. Continue to place a small advertisement in your local newspapers.

Hot Pudding Has Topping of Raisins

Mrs. Adelitzo Pours Sweet Fruit Sauce on Unbaked Batter

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

From Wixom comes an interesting recipe for a baked pudding. Our contributor, Mrs. Anthony R. Adelitzo, says this dessert is a favorite with her family.

The youngest member of the family is just recovering from illness, so Mrs. Adelitzo has been kept at home more than usual. She is a working member of the Wixom PTA and of the Relief Society of her church. For hobbies she lists piecing quilts, collecting recipes, canning and gardening.

BAKED RAISIN PUDDING
By Mrs. Anthony R. Adelitzo

½ cup brown sugar firmly packed
½ cup white sugar
1½ cups boiling water
1 tablespoon butter or margarine
1 tablespoon lemon juice
¼ teaspoon cinnamon
¼ teaspoon salt
⅔ cup raisins
1 teaspoon vanilla
¼ tablespoon shortening
½ cup white sugar
¾ cup all purpose flour
1¼ teaspoon baking powder
½ cup milk
½ cup chopped nuts

Combine brown sugar, ½ cup white sugar, boiling water, butter, cinnamon, salt and raisins. Bring to a boil. Reduce heat and simmer 15 minutes. Remove from heat, add vanilla and lemon juice.

Sift flour once, measure and resift with baking powder and salt. Cream shortening and sugar, then add flour mixture. Fold in nuts, then add milk and blend thoroughly. Drop from a tablespoon into an 8-inch square pan and pour raisin sauce over all. Bake in 350-degree oven 30 minutes or until lightly browned. Serve warm with cream or custard sauce. Serves 6-8.

The person who applies for a job should make a point of sitting up straight, instead of slouching down in his chair. He should keep his hands quiet. And he should pay strict attention to what the person interviewing him is saying, being careful not to interrupt.

To convince an employer that you can handle a job—you must at least be able to convince him that you can handle yourself well at the interview.

Dip Nail Head in Beeswax Solution to a Problem

A man who should know tells us that if you rub a little beeswax on a nail it will make it easier to drive into hardwood.

You get the same effect if you dip the nail into linseed oil. The oil, by the way, will help to keep the wood around the nail head from rotting.

Don't lubricate nails or screws with soap because the soap can be corrosive to certain metals.

It's not a good idea to use a water-thinned wax on a shellacked floor because the water in the way may turn the shellac white in spots.

When fastening hardboard into place, oe sure that the nails are spaced at least ⅜ inch from the edge of the hardboard panel. If the nail is too close to the edge, it won't have much holding power.

While it's possible to cut laminated plastics for table and countertops with an ordinary handsaw, it will soon dull the saw.

If you plan to do a lot of cutting it will pay to get a plumber's saw for these are made of very hard steel and also fine teeth which are necessary if you want to get a nice clean cut.

Should the edge of a linoleum rug curl, warm the material a bit with a warm iron and then place a heavy object on the edge to hold it down until the lionleum has cooled off.

Boy Should Take Check on Dates

By ELIZABETH WOODWARD

"Dear Miss Woodward: Recently I secured a part-time job after school which doesn't pay much. Now the boy I've been going steady with for over a year thinks I should take him out, paying his way all the time.

Though he's not working, he gets enough allowance to take me out on week ends. I don't mind paying once in a while, but paying all the time doesn't seem fair to me. Is it right for him to expect me to do this?"

Any going-steady arrangement needs a treasurer, and under normal circumstances it's the boy who pays.

It's conceivable that some steady-going couples need two treasurers — if the things they want to do and the places they want to go require more funds than one treasurer can provide.

But manly pride usually balks at letting a lady pay for a couple. A boy doesn't feel comfortable standing idly by while his date goes up to the ticket window to buy their way in. It's the role of the male to provide the wherewithal.

Very good friends, such as you two are, can make exceptions occassionally. You can secure tickets for things ahead of time and give them to him to carry. You can agree between you that a special evening is to be on you, and give him the money before you start out. But those are special occasions.

Normally, he should pay your dating expenses. And if he can't see it that way, then don't go out. Make your dates stay-at-home, expense-free propositions.

"Dear Miss Woodward: The boy I used to like gave me a beautiful bracelet for Christmas. I've now decided that I don't like him very much, and I've been wondering if I should give the bracelet back or keep it and wear it?"

He gave you the bracelet — a gift when all was rosy between you. You loved the bracelet then, and you probably still love it. He can't wear it and you can. So, why give it back?

Put it away for a while, since there are certain associations that might make wearing it uncomfortable. Let it age while those associations dim.

Later on when you take it out of your jewel box you'll find it has become an ordinary piece of jewelry. You'll be able to wear it for the sheer pleasure of it—not because of its romantic attachments.

Tepid Sudsy Bath Makes You Cooler

Logic or no logic, it's a warm bath that keeps you coolest in hot weather. As a matter of fact, there is logic in it to medical experts. They explain that warm water causes blood vessels to dilate so that a lot of internal heat can reach the skin and leave the body.

A tepid sudsy bath can actually keep you comfortably cool for some five or six hours afterwards; so keep this in mind to look and feel your best on a hot summer's day.

BISHOP-GRACEY

I've struggled against the impulse which will probably start the nation's squirrel-lovers after me. But I can't resist, now that the heat of controversy has died down, commenting on the White House squirrel tempest that blew up when somebody discovered that employes were trapping the little animals and moving them to distant trees so they wouldn't dig up the President's putting green.

I should like to ally myself here and now with the pro-squirrel forces. I felt instant outrage when I first read about the squirrel-trapping. Also I was glad to hear (a) that it had been halted; (b) that the President, far from ordering it, heard of it first in the public prints.

I should, however, also like to examine a rather ridiculous aspect of this great outpouring of sympathy for our small nut-eating friends by individuals of a great nation which boasts more fur coats per capita (many of them sable-dyed squirrel, too), consumes the greatest amount of meat per person, possesses the largest number of leather shoes and uses for its success stories the theme of the man - with-the-better - mousetraps.

Why, I asked myself after the first flush of annoyance over the high-handed exiling of squirrels from the White House had faded, WHY are we so inconsistent? How can I continue to enjoy spare-ribs or a fine savory roast of pork and still turn faint at the mention of rabbit stew or squirrel pie?

Certainly I've remorselessly worn rabbit fur in my time, and squirrel too. Which reminds me that one of the most devout nature-lovers of my acquaintance makes a specialty of cooking pheasant. Another gentleman I know is stickily sentimental every spring about a family of swallows in his garage—but he's all dressed up in his red jacket with his rifle oiled the day the deer hunting season opens every fall.

Whoever heard of a public hue and cry against a housewife who wants to rid her cellar of mice? Or against a homeowner who takes measures to dispatch the moles in his lawn? Yet squirrels, if not moles, are members of the same rodent family.

Seems to me long ago I did hear of one consistent animal-lover. Wasn't it the late Minnie Maddern Fiske who not only refused to own furs or eat meat but also tabooed leather shoes, and would not kill a fly?

Imagine what a difficult life her principles made her lead. Like the Indian sect which is opposed to a destruction of animal life: these people go so far as almost to stop walking in the grass for fear of accidentlyy treading upon an ant, or some other tiny insect.

Well, I say again I'm pro-squirrel. But when I go up to Stella's Catskill farm next week I don't intend to show the least mercy to the black flies and no-see-ums that I know are waiting for me.

Miss Post Helps Girl Plan Party

Hostess Should Send the Tickets to Invited Guests

By EMILY POST

A young girl writes me: "I will be celebrating my eighteenth birthday soon and instead of having a regular birthday party, mother said that I could have a theater party this year.

I am pleased with the idea but never having given a theater party before I don't know how to go about it. Will you please help me with the details?"

First of all your mother (and you) decided on the number to be invited. Then buy the tickets for whichever evening you can get the number and location that you want.

Invitations could either be telephoned or short notes written. When you have received all of your replies, draw a diagram of the seats at the theater and seat all of your guests exactly as you would seat a dinner table so that those who like each other shall be seated together.

Then a day or two before the party, mail the right ticket to each girl and to each boy along with a card on which you write, "Please be in the lobby of the Apollo Theater at 8:15. On the evening of the theater you stand in the lobby to receive your guests.

As soon as several of them arrive they are sent into the theater. Each gives her (or his ticket to the usher who shows each to her (or his) seats. When the last guest has arrived you go to your own seat.

If there is to be a supper afterwards at your house, it is up to you to provide a means for their getting there.

Dear Mrs. Post: Will you please tell me the correct way to eat an open-faced sandwich?

Should both halves be put together and then picked up and eaten in the fingers, or should it be left on the plate and eaten with a knife and fork?

Answer: Unless it is completely dry, an open-faced sandwich should be eaten with a knife and fork, and if it is a hot one with gravy, it must be.

Dear Mrs. Post: I am the corresponding secretary of a study club. When writing letters to other organizations on matters concerning the club as a whole, is it proper just to sign The X Study Club, or must I also add my name, under the name of the club.

Answer: You sign The X Study Club, and then your own signature beneath followed by "Secretary."

Aluminum Stays Clean if Painted

By HUBBARD COBB

In this day and age you can find quite a lot of aluminum around the outside of a house.

We have aluminum windows not to mention aluminum storm sashes and window screens.

Some people have aluminum gutters and downspouts and some have aluminum flashing or awnings.

Now as we all know, aluminum won't corrode but certain types will pit especially if they are subject to salt air and the bright surface of any aluminum will discolor from soot and dirt.

Now as far as the discoloration from dirt goes there are several things that can be done. One is just not to notice the discoloration. Another way out is to paint the aluminum.

The paint, of course, will have to be renewed from time to time or washed. If you wish, the aluminum can be coated with wax which prevents pitting and discoloration.

Trouble here is that in time the wax will become dirty and it must be removed before a fresh coating of wax can be applied.

Aluminum can be cleaned with soap and water but this is a time consuming job and will have to be repeated at frequent intervals especially if you live in a locality where there is a good deal of soot or smog.

Some people clean their aluminum with steel wool but this has a tendency t scratch the surface.

There are however, special aluminum cleaners on the market which will clean the surface and also give it a protective coating against discoloration.

How long the protective coating will remain effective depends on how much dirt and corrosive matter there is floating around in the air but in normal conditions they should remain effective for a good many months.

Short Fingernails Look Good Too

Well-cared for and well-trimmed nails are beautiful nails. So if your job or your housework means that you can't have the long, graceful ones, don't feel bad.

Short nails are just as handsome, when they're well-tended.

THE STORY OF BREAD—1
Sowing the Wheat

Bread, called the "staff of life," is one of the oldest and most widely used foods in the world. It may be made from rye, oats, rice or corn, but the grain used most in this country is wheat.

Wheat is a kind of grass. There are two plantings, one in the fall or early winter, the other in early spring. It usually takes seven or eight months for winter wheat to be ready for harvesting. Spring wheat takes three and a half to four months from seeding to harvesting.

Before the seeds can be planted, the ground usually is plowed and then made fine and smooth with a harrow. For thousands of years, before the machine age in agriculture, the seeds were planted by hand as the farm boy in the picture is doing.

Now in this country the grain is planted in close rows by a machine called the grain drill. The wheat is planted in long rows and is covered lightly with earth.

This is the first of a week-long series telling the story of bread. Color the picture carefully and save it so you will have your own story of bread.

Tomorrow: Harvesting the wheat.

Austrian Balloonists Land in Red Zone, Held 3 Hours

VIENNA, Austria (AP)—The Russians arrested Austrian Trade Minister Udo Illig yesterday after a charity baloon flight wafted him into their zone.

They released him and his companions three hours later with apologies.

Illig, his son and several others set out from Vienna in a Swiss balloon scheduled to land at Salzburg in the American zone. But wind currents carried them over Soviet territory and they landed near Arbesthal, about 25 miles below Vienna.

It is possible for a plant to live without either roots or leaves as for instance, the lichens, which absorb moisture and food from the air.

Protein 'Highballs' Urged for Weary Businessmen

CHICAGO (INS) — Business executives with that tired out feeling should try drinking new protein "highballs" in place of the alcoholic kind which gives a false energy boost.

This advice comes from Dr. Ben L. Boynton, of the Northwestern University Medical School who spoke at a nutrition conference in Chicago.

Dr. Boynton said the nutritional highballs are composed of protein concentrates mixed in milk or in other non-alcoholic beverages.

In explaining the need for a "pick-up" drink, Dr. Boynton said: "Ours may well be called the age of disillusionment.

"It has been our experience during the last three years that supplemental protein in amounts from 20 to 80 grams per day, in the otherwise healthy, busy person may significantly relieve that tired 'businessman' complaint."

Dr. Boynton said protein concentrates are composed of yeast, amino acids from which proteins are made, and other nutrients.

The protein highball is made by mixing two or three teaspoonsful of concentrate in any liquid, but preferably milk which adds more proteins.

Dr. Boynton pointed out that businessmen would save money too, because the protein highballs cost on the average of 50 cents to $1 a day.

Goliath Takes Over in Sea Lions' Pool

ST. LOUIS (AP) — A 2,500-pound bull sea elephant is the new boss of the sea lion pool at the St. Louis Zoo.

The sea elephant, which just arrived by air from California with his mate and a pup, was put in the pool yesterday. Zoo Director George P. Vierheller was afraid a little fur might fly between the two but it didn't. The sea lions just scampered out of the water and cowered at the opposite end of the enclosure.

Maureen O'Hara Wins Contract With Columbia

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — "The Long Gray Line" did it! Maureen O'Hara has signed a multiple picture deal with Harry Cohn at Columbia. But don't believe that she's going to replace Rita Hayworth in "Joseph and His Brethren." She's too Irish!

Maureen telephoned to say she has never been so excited in her life, and I'm sure Columbia returns her enthusiasm. The contract was signed on the day the studio needed a bit of cheering—the day Rita Hayworth kicked up her heels and refused to do "Joseph."

Maureen wants to sing, so don't be surprised if Harry Cohn gives her a musical to kick off her new contract. She's just back from Mexico where she made "Magnificent Matador."

Just as soon as "Guys and Dolls" is finished, Marlon Brando packs up his Oscar and heads for the straw-hat circuit where he'll star in "Teahouse of the August Moon" during the summer months.

I'm sure there is more method than madness in Marlon's decision. More than anything else right now he wants to make "Teahouse" in the movies and while he's practically set for the MGM version, the actual contract isn't signed. So he'll show 'em just how good he is in the role of the philosophical interpreter.

He plans to open July 4th at the Cape Playhouse in Dennis, Mass., and if all goes well he'll have John Forsythe, of the original broadway company, as his costar.

The passing of Theda Bara brings to mind the first time I met her, a dark-eyed girl who came from Cincinnati and whose name was changed to spell Arab backwards.

I interviewed Theda many years ago at Fort Lee and had luncheon with her in her dressing room. Theda never wanted any of the eerie publicity that William Fox insisted upon giving her. At the height of her terrific success he tried to keep everyone from seeing her.

After we both moved to Beverly Hills, I used to meet Theda on her walks, long after she retired from the screen, and we would stop and chat. She was an extremely sensitive person, and the last time I talked to her was a few days before she went into the hospital. She discussed her life story for the screen.

"I don't want the picture made if they ridicule me," she said, because of my 92-year-old mother, my sister and Charles." (Her husband of 30 years.)

She was finally talked into having some comedy angles in the picture, and I believe this is the way Columbia will handle it.

Until the child ran into his arms with her exciting news, Dean didn't even know she was up for a part in "Anything Goes," the Bing Crosby picture. Among several other pupils at the Buddy Ebsen dancing school, Gail was sent to the studio to tryout for a good part in "Anything Goes." Gail won—and is Dean proud of her!

Bob Hope goes to Australia at an almost unbelievable salary. He hasn't been there since the war years when he entertained the troops in the Pacific.

Saw Irene Hervey and Allan Jones at Chasen's and he's getting ready to open Tuesday night at the Mocambo. These two seem so happy it's just great.

Five thousand Moslem extras in Pakistan gasped in amazement when Stewart Granger kissed Ava Gardner in public in a love scene for "Bhowani Junction." Moslems won't even shake hands where they can be seen. Ava will again be seen barefoot. She had to leave her shoes outside when scenes were shot in a 300-year-old temple.

Pianist Pulls Faux Pas With Duke of Windsor

Talks May Help Island Situation

African-Asian Confab Could Prevent Attack in Formosa Strait

WASHINGTON (AP)—The African-Asian conference opening a week from today may be a big factor in Communist China's decision whether to attack in the Formosa area this spring or, in fact, at any time.

have decided the Chinese Reds are

In any event, top U.S. officials not likely to move on the Matsu or Quemoy islands before or during the conference, to be held at Bandung, Indonesia.

It was disclosed authoritatively yesterday that President Eisenhower has directed American forces to stand clear of any initial attack on the coastal islands until he personally can determine the nature and intent of the assault.

Administration sources said Chiang Kai-shek's Chinese Nationalists will be expected to bear any initial thrust. American forces have been told to stand in readiness but not fight unless deliberately attacked, they said.

Secretary of the Army Stevens, returning yesterday from the Far East, said he doesn't believe the Reds have any immediate plans for an offensive in the Formosa Strait. If there is an attack, he said, he thinks Chiang's forces could "give a very good account of themselves."

American leaders attach great importance to the Bandung talks, not because of the issues which will come up but because of the diplomatic maneuvers that will take place in conference corridors.

The Chinese Communists will be one of the principal participants. What happens to them there may have either of two results as authorities here analyze the situation:

1. If the Communists find that their demands for possession of Formosa and the offshore island groups are generally supported as right, then they will be encouraged to use force in realizing those claims. The danger of war in the Formosa Strait would flame high the next week or soon thereafter.

2. If the Chinese Reds find that their threat to use force costs them good will of the African and Asian nations and subjects them to censure, then they may be persuaded to stay their hand. Slender hopes for a negotiated settlement would be substantially enlarged.

Brothers' Meeting Turns Into Tragedy

Roy Birdwell, 33, Houston, was returning from visiting a sick brother at Carthage. At the same time, a third brother, Troy Lee Birdwell, also of Houston, was en route to Carthage.

The brothers waved. Roy started to cross the highway toward the store.

Auto Accidents of Surviving Kin Delay Funeral

MENA, Ark. (AP) — Three traffic accidents in different parts of the nation have resulted in an indefinite postponement of funeral services for Albert A. Philpot, orginally scheduled for today.

The 75-year-old retired Polk County farmer and stockman died Friday and relatives from California and Texas began automobile journeys here.

A traffic accident yesterday near Seymour, Tex., critically injured a son, Otis Philpot, of Fresno, Calif. His sister and three other members of his family were not seriously hurt.

* * *

Another son, A. J. Philpot, also of Fresno, was reported in critical condition at an Idabel, Okla., hospital after the car in which he was riding skidded on wet pavement yesterday and crashed into a tree. His son Alton Ray, 7, was reported in "good" condition at a Texarkana, Ark., hospital where he had been transferred with serious head injuries. Others in the vehicle escaped serious injury.

A third accident had forced cancellation of a planned trip here by Sam Miller, of Tahoka, Tex., a brother of the deceased man's widow, and his wife. They had driven 100 miles when their car smashed into a bridge. Their injuries were described as not serious.

Husband, Sister Mourn Alone at 'Vamp's' Rites

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Theda Bara, the original movie "vamp," was laid to rest Saturday, with only her husband and sister attending private funeral services.

Miss Bara died Thursday of abdominal cancer. She was 62.

Her husband, Charles Brabin, former film director, and sister, Miss Lori Bara, attended the services. The actress' mother, Mrs. Pauline Louise Bara, was too ill to attend.

1900 Re-Enacted in Virginia Blaze

Town Burns 55 Years to the Day After First Conflagration

BOWLING GREEN, Va. (AP)—The business life of this northern Virginia town was paralyzed today as the result of a $750,000 fire that proved to be a tragic replay of history.

Only 6 of 26 buildings remained after a four-hour blaze that engulfed the Bowling Green business district on a warm, windy Easter afternoon.

The flames started in a hayloft of a barn behind a row of business houses — and occurred 55 years to the day after a fire that nearly wiped out the community, located some 30 miles north of Richmond.

The outbreak in 1900, centered in the same area of this town of 700.

* * *

The toll in yesterday's fire included two restaurants, a 10-cent store, two drug stores, a clothing store, a hardware store, two barber shops, two electrical appliance places, a grocery, two shoe shops and a garage. A Red Cross office and a Masonic hall burned, too.

Eight families who had apartments atop some of the business houses were left homeless. Two persons suffered minor injuries.

Several persons told of seeing two or three small boys run out of the barn moments before the flames were spotted. The 1900 blaze began when someone tripped over a lamp.

Shakedown Set for Atomic Sub

Nautilus Will Undergo Extensive Workout With Other Naval Units

WASHINGTON (AP) — The atomic submarine Nautilus will head out to sea soon to test her speed and stealth against the best of the Navy's antisubmarine forces on a "shakedown" cruise of thousands of miles.

The big, 3,000-ton nuclear submarine came back into New London, Conn., late last week from a demonstration and test conducted for a Navy survey board which approves new ships for acceptance in the operating fleet.

The Nautilus' crew already has sailed her more than 3,000 miles and dived almost 100 times. But most of this has been to test her mechanical performance for the Electric Boat Division of General Dynamics Corp., which built her, and for study by Navy technicians.

* * *

The purpose of a shakedown cruise for a conventional submarine lasts between two and four weeks, but, it was learned, that of the Nautilus will extend far longer than that and over much greater distances. There was no indication, however, that this first real sea cruise would be a test of the claimed round-world cruising capability of the first atomic submarine. Such a demonstration may come later.

The probability is that the Nautilus will cruise in the western Atlantic and Caribbean. She will workout against destroyer escorts, planes and blimps equipped with the most modern underwater detection gear.

U. S. Pilot Prefers Death to Ditching Jet Over City

The Navy said the pilot, whose name was withheld, developed engine trouble over Yokohama. He refused to bail out over the city and tried to make it back to the base.

Church on Horseback Turns Out for Easter

The worshipers, clad in jeans, cowboy hats and boots, meet the first and third Sundays of each month at a corral and riding field.

Brush Blaze Sets Fire to Byron Store Block

BYRON (AP)—A brush fire spread to a two-story brick building and damaged three stores yesterday in this Shiawassee County community.

No one was reported injured.

Most severely damaged was the Tower Hardware and Electric Store, one of six stores in the building. A grocery store and a drug store also were damaged.

There was no immediate estimate of the loss.

General Sees Sites for Proposed Base

TRAVERSE CITY (AP)—Maj. Gen. Lee B. Washbourne, assistant chief of staff for Air Force installations, made a personal tour of three proposed sites for a jet plane base in northwestern Michigan over the weekend.

Gen. Washbourne said he will submit his report on the locations to the House Appropriations Committee.

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — A family of eight narrowly escaped injury when trapped in a home fire at nearby Marne yesterday.

A defective fuel oil drum started the fire, Klein said. The house was destroyed.

Color TV Can Rip You Apart Inside

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

BURBANK, Calif. (INS)—I am not married but most of my friends and both of my parents are. And I am warning all of them to look to their hearths and practice domestic temperance, come the advent of color TV.

It is going to cause upheavals, this chromatic chrystalis. Unless viewed with extreme caution color TV, from its multi-colored mornings to its spectrascopic late-late movies, could be home-shaking.

First off, commodities which were smoke dreams in black-and-white will become all too real.

"Daddy," mother will say, clutching her hands to her bosom, "Don't you think that Christian Dior dress was made for me?"

"Marilyn Monroe," father will think, bouncing his head on the wall, "why did I ever get married?"

Second—Color has a way of intensifying the emotions. Sadness is bluer, excitement is redder, laughter is yellower and hangovers are oxford-grayer on color TV.

I learned all this from a young man who knows: Burr Smidt, top color consultant at NBC's giant, new Color City — the first studio ever constructed to house nothing but colorcasts. A fine artist before he took up the blending of hues for television six years ago, Burr speaks of colors psychologically, spirtiually and devotedly.

"Color television is going to be so powerful," he says, "that we can change a viewer's mood several times in the course of one musical number. Dinah Shore can be standing in moonlight one moment and then suddenly, with one complex lighting change, and one crashing orchestral chord, she can be splashed with sunlight."

Smidt wipes his Kleig-tanned face just thinking about it. "These effects have a tremendous impact on a viewer's emotions. They can rip you apart inside."

Such emotional stimulation as this can set the scene for all manner of moods. Everything becomes very real, including the luscious women on the screen, Roy Rogers, President Eisenhower, interior decorations, fashions . . .

You think this won't start a trend? As we see it—Smidt, the color expert, and I, the student of human nature—man and women may be vying for vividity honors in their fashions a decade from now. And many a bathroom, under the influence of Lucy's lavatory, may be lovable lavender.

In anticipation of an unwanted wackiness, NBC has built Color City (which sprawls like a great green hotel surrounded by California Hills) and put Smidt (and dozens of color conscious friends) in its depths. They are surrounded by nearly $4,000,000 worth of equipment needed to turn out this complex monster, color TV.

"It is a marvelous, imaginative medium but it must be handled," as Smidt points out, "with the utmost care. Right now there are only about 10,000 color TV sets in circulation. They cost nearly $1,000 for a 21-inch screen model, which should explain everything.

But it won't be long, at the rate color studios like this are perking, before it'll be as accessible as black-and-white. Then beware. The American home will be overrun with glorious, intense, dramatic, beauty.

Let's hope it will bring out the best, rather than the beast, in us.

City Once Was Mighty

Angkor in Cambodia, a city buried in the jungle for nearly 500 years before French scholars uncovered it, held more than a million people. It was the resplendent capital of the mighty Khmer Empire from the 9th to the 15th Centuries. Sacked by invading Siamese, it was then completely abandoned.

Ike's Pitch Signals Opening of 1955 Major Baseball Season

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The nation's millions of baseball fans eagerly awaited President Eisenhower's first "pitch" today, the signal for the official opening of the 1955 major league season.

Following the chief executive's ceremonial toss in Washington, the Senators according to custom, were scheduled to launch the American League campaign against Baltimore's Orioles at 1:30 p.m. (EST). The six other clubs will get under way tomorrow.

Not to be outdone, the National League's Cincinnati Redlegs also were slated to beat the gun by 24 hours, taking on the Chicago Cubs. A traditional sellout crowd of some 33,000 was ready for the opening of the National League's 80th campaign, dating back to 1876.

* * *

Action will break out on all fronts tomorrow. In the National League, Pittsburgh will be at Brooklyn, New York at Philadelphia, Cincinnati at Milwaukee and St. Louis at Chicago. In the American, it's Washington at New York, Chicago at Cleveland, Boston at Baltimore and Detroit at Kansas City.

The spotlight will focus on Kansas City, which will mark its formal bow in major league society. When the transplanted Athletics take the field for their game with Detroit, it will mark the third successive year a change in the major league map has been made.

Two years ago, Milwaukee moved into the National League, taking over the Boston Braves' franchise. Last year Baltimore replaced St. Louis in the American League.

Fair and warm weather was promised at Washington today where a sellout crowd of 27,000 was expected to see the Senators' Bob Porterfield oppose Baltimore's Lou Kretlow in a battle of righthanders.

Experts have tabbed Cleveland and Milwaukee as the likely World Series antagonists.

A more wide-open race was predicted for the better balanced National League with three clubs—Milwaukee, New York and Brooklyn—serious flag contenders. St. Louis and Cincinnati were regarded as outside choices.

* * *

Until outfielders Del Ennis and Richie Ashburn suffered severe injuries in a collision last Friday, the Phillies, to, were rated a "dark horse" in some circles. Ennis suffered a broken leg and will be out at least a month. Ashburn sustained pulled ligaments and was not expected to be available for the start of the season.

The Braves, who for two successive years established record attendances at Milwaukee, are convinced this is their year provided they escape the crippling injuries which spiked their top guns last year. Warren Spahn, the Braves' best pitcher, is set to open against the Reds' Gerry Staley.

The Giants are confident they can repeat last year's success with the same veteran team that overwhelmed the Indians in four straight last October. Southpaw Johnny Antonelli is the Opening Day choice against the Phillies' Robin Roberts.

* * *

The Dodgers, for the first time in a number of years, are not the favorites to capture the flag. A great deal depends upon the condition of Roy Campanella and Don Newcombe, who were of little help last season. Carl Erskine will face Pittsburgh's Max Surkont in the opener.

The Indians look stronger with the addition of Herb Score to the pitching staff and Ralph Kiner to the outfield. Tomorrow, Bob Lemon, a 23-game winner last year, will begin defense of the title against Chicago's Virgil Trucks.

The Yankees, determined to regain their former laurels, will send Whitey Ford, their southpaw ace, against lefty Maury McDermott of Washington.

Big Welcome Is Ready for KC Athletics

Expect 200,000 Will Greet AL Club Today; Play Tigers Tuesday

KANSAS CITY (AP)—The Kansas City Athletics fly to their new home—and a rousing reception—today encouraged by a strong finish (13-14) in the spring training exhibition campaign.

The A's make their American League debut against Detroit's Tigers in brand new Municipal Stadium at 3 p.m. (EST) tomorrow. Yesterday they completed a sweep over the National League Phillies in the traditional two-game series, 14-5.

Chamber of Commerce estimates have more than 200,000 hanging out of downtown office building windows and cramming the parade streets for a first look at the A's.

Manager Lou Boudreau and his A's, plus such dignitaries as baseball commissioner Ford Frick and American League president Will Harridge, all are recipients of the city-wide welcome.

All reserved seats for the opener have been sold out for a week. Some 4,000 unreserved tickets go on sale tomorrow morning. First day gathering is expected to be a bulging 35,000. A 2nd day "opener" with the same Detroit Tigers also could attract a capacity crowd—depending on a good 1st day performance by the A's and favorable weather.

Aboard the plan with Boudreau and the playing crew today was Connie Mack, grand old man of baseball and daddy of the erstwhile Philadelphia Athletics, and his son Roy who made a a game but losing battle to keep the team at its birthplace.

If the 92-year-old Mack shows up for the opening game he will present the "pitchout ball" to former President Harry Truman who in turn will toss it into the playing field. At any rate, Truman is scheduled for his 9th major league opening day toss.

Named for opening game pitching assignments are Alex Kellner, lefthander for the Athletics, and Ned Garver, righthander of the Tigers.

Amateurs Bag Holes-in-One, 'Back to Back'

RICHMOND, Va. (AP)—The 6,713-yard James River Course of the Country Club of Virginia, where the National Amateur Golf Tournament will be played in September, looks tough to most golfers.

But not to Landon P. Cabell and Dr. Kinloch Nelson, a couple of Richmond amateurs who are far from good enough to make the field for the championship tournament. Well, anyway, not the 154-yard fourth hole.

League Names Officers

Members of the Housewives Bowling League met recently for election of officers for the 1955-56 season, and retained Bertha Budwit as president. The annual redpin tourney was held at this time also, with Frieda Lorenz the winner with a 235 series and Marge Newby with high game of 91.

Orioles Sign Football Star

Auburn Ace Pyburn Gets $50,000 Bonus, Enters Pro Baseball

BALTIMORE (AP)—The Baltimore Orioles have shelled out their biggest bonus yet—a reported $50,000—for a college lad who made his name in football, Jim Pyburn of Auburn.

General Manager Paul Richards said he understood Pyburn wields a potent baseball bat. The fledgling Oriole, a junior at Auburn, has withdrawn from school and will reprt here Wednesday, Richards said.

The 6-foot, 190-pound athlete was an All-SEC end in 1953 and 1954. He starred in Auburn's Jan. 1 'Gator Bowl victory and had been elected alternate captain of the 1955 football squad.

Under major league rules, the Orioles must carry him on their roster for two seasons. That means Richards will have to get along with 24 seasoned contenders instead of 25.

Syracuse Jinx Holds, Nats Win NBA Title

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

One of the oddest hexes in the sports world is still alive today and because it is the Syracuse Nationals reign as kings of the National Basketball Assn.

This refers to the weird mastery the Nats hold over the Fort Wayne Pistons on their home floor. In six years and 23 games—ever since they entered the league—the Postons have been unable to win at Syracuse.

Sunday came the unkindest loss of all. The Nats perpetuated the hex in the seventh and deciding game of the playoffs, beating the Pistons 92-91 to win the 1954-55 NBA championship.

Milwaukee Wins Title

CHICAGO (AP)—Milwaukee won the Hellenic Basketball Championship Sunday night by beating Evzones of Oak Park, Ill., 75-70 in an overtime.

Tigers Drop Final Exhibition, Face KC A's in AL Start

ST. LOUIS (AP) — If Manager Bucky Harris of Detroit starts Jay Porter at 1st base and Bubba Phillips in left field when Detroit meets the Kansas City Athletics tomorrow, he'll have only two men on the field over 30 years of age.

Already the youngest squad in the American League, Detroit will present an almost beardless lineup.

Only Ray Boone and Fred Hatfield are over the 30-year-old mark. Boone by 20 months, Hatfield by less than one month.

Al Kaline, just turned 20, will be the youngest Tiger on the field. Detroit has a free day today after yesterday's 10-9 defeat by the St. Louis Cardinals.

Detroit scored eight runs in one inning but still couldn't beat the Cards in their final exhibition game.

St. Louis first blew a 6-1 lead and then overcame a 9-6 deficit to gain the victory.

Each side had 13 hits. A total of 10 pitchers were used—five for each side. Only starting pitchers Jack Faszholz of St. Louis and Billy Hoeft of Detroit and the last hurlers for the two clubs, Frank Smith of the Cards and Van Fletcher of the Tigers, were effective.

After four scoreless innings, St. Louis nicked Bud Black for a run in the 5th. Detroit tied it up in the 6th but the National League club blasted Ray Herbert for five runs in the 2nd half of that inning.

Tigers came back and pounded Gary Blaylock, Herb Moford and Floyd Woolridge for eight runs in the 7th only to have the Red-birds rebound and score four times off George Zuverink.

Winning and loser pitchers were Wooldridge and Zuverink.

Hoeft gave up only one hit in his first three innings. Tigers' 7th inning was their biggest of the spring season. Twelve men batted in that inning. Bill Tuttle and Phillips collected two hits each and Harvey Kuenn rapped out a triple to the right-field wall.

Jets' Nine Practices

Jets baseball team of the Class A City League will hold a practice session Tuesday at 5 p.m. on the Bagley diamond. Manager Pops Culp has asked all interested players to attend.

Canuck Heavy Subs Against Ez Charles

EDMONTON (AP)— Vern Escoe, former Canadian heavyweight champion, was substituted for Johnny Arthur of South Africa as an opponent Monday night for Ezzard Charles in a 10-round heavyweight bot.

Arthur, South African champion, had to bow out Sunday after he was taken to a hospital with a virus infection. Escoe has been acting as Arthur's sparring partner.

Macias Ready to Make Defense of Bantam Title

MEXICALI, Mexico (AP) — Raul (Raton) Macias, the NBA's version of the world bantamweight titlist, is ready to fight anyone the NBA wants him to after knocking out Memo Sanchez in the sixth round of a non-title bout Sunday.

There was no public weighing in of the fighters, both from Mexico City, and no weights were announced. The bantamweight range is 113 to 118 pounds.

Vejar, Nellis Signed

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (AP) — Chico Vejar, middleweight from Stamford, Conn., and Paolo Nelis, former Italian welterweight champion, will meet in a 10-round fight at the War Memorial here April 29.

'56 Olympic Picture Clouded

MELBOURNE, Australia (AP) — Obviously disappointed at the progress being made for the 1956 Olympics, Avery Brundage, president of the International Olympic Committee, stated flatly today that it was not too late for the games to be taken from Australia.

"I would like to leave saying I am happy," said Brundage, as he prepared to enplane for Canberra after surveying Melbourne's preparations for the past eight days. "But some one has to face facts. I am not quite happy. I know of at least three cities that could take the games over at this late stage.

* * *

Although Brundage evaded direct answers to many questions in the press conference, there was no masking his unhappiness over the turn of events.

"In 1949, Melbourne assured the IOC the job could be done," he continued. "Three years later when some nations asked us to take the games from Australia, we again were assured the job could be done.

"A year ago when more nations asked us to take the games away from Australia, we again overruled them. Now I leave Melbourne with the question in my mind: Can the job be done?"

Brundage, one of the most influential men in the Olympic setup, will make a report to the IOC at a major meeting next month in Paris. His report will be instrumental in determining the course the committee follows.

The Chicago hotel executive made a hurried trip here a week ago when he heard rumors that all was not going well. When he arived Down Under, he admitted that his trip was more unofficial than official because "unofficial" reports were disturbing.

Australians have been most worried over a dispute between carpenters and contractors which halted progress on the building program two weeks ago.

"Every day there are more and more nations thinking we have done the wrong thing in granting the games to Melbourne," he said. "If I were responsible for organizing the games in Melbourne, I would be very proud of myself."

This was Brundage's most serious outburst against the Aussies. Heretofore, he had been perhaps their most ardent booster. Last year, when international politics threatened to disrupt the plans, Brundage stayed in Australia's corner.

"There still are too many things in the planning stage," he continued. "They are good plans but they should have been put into operation long ago. In the last six years, Australia should have gotten a lot further ahead than plans."

MASTERS' CHAMP NOW—Cary Middlecoff slips into the traditional green jacket worn by winners of the Master's Golf tournament after winning the test at Augusta, Ga., Sunday. He gets an assist from Ben Hogan, who was runnerup. It was the first Masters' victory for Middlecoff, who fired a windup 70 for a 279 total. AP Wirephoto

4th Injury in 4 Years

Phils' Misfortune Keeps Spring 'Jinx' Alive

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — For the fourth time in as many years a major league ball club has had its pennant hopes dimmed by spring training injuries to key ball players.

This time it's the National League's Philadelphia Phillies.

Misfortune scored with a high, hard one when first-line outfielders Del Ennis and Richie Ashburn collided and were injured while chasing a fly ball Friday in an exhibition encounter with the New York Yankees.

* * *

The New York Giants were hurt critically when Monte Irvin fractured his ankle in 1952. And last year the Milwaukee Braves lost the services for almost the entire season of the then newly acquired ballhawk, Bobby Thomson, also victim of an ankle fracture.

There was also the loud wail of the Boston Red Sox when the incomparable Ted Williams broke his collar bone while shagging fly balls.

* * *

Speculation has it that Ennis, a good fielder and a better slugger, will be out for at least a month. If Ennis is out anywhere near that length of time the Phils' offense is almost sure to suffer.

* * *

Ashburn is the team's leadoff man who crossed the plate 111 times last year to lead the team in that department. His ability to play in the season opener Tuesday is doubtful. Ashburn has played 731 straight league games and his absence from the starting lineup tomorrow would smash his attempt to beat the National League mark of 822 consecutive games set by Pittsburgh's Gus Suhr in 1937.

Pin Hotshots Slated in ABC

Nagy, Norris, Wilman, Bomar, Day Set to Roll This Week

FORT WAYNE, Ind. (AP) — The danger signal has been hoisted over the American Bowling Congress Tournament for leaders in all divisions.

The reason for the storm warning, after three consecutive days of calm when no major changes were made in the standings, is the most star studded week of bowling greats lies ahead.

* * *

Tuesday night the defending champions, Hamms Beer of Chicago, boasting two members of the hall of fame in Joe Norris and Joe Wilman, take the alleys.

Another pair of the pin world's top names, Buddy Bomar and Ned Day, head the appearance of the Falstaff Beer quintet of Chicago on Wednesday. These are only a few of the plus 1,000 average teams scheduled this week.

Switch in Handicap Nets Tourney Lead

BAY CITY (AP)—Only two changes were recorded in the Men's State Bowling Tournament over the week end and one of them came through a check of the handicap records.

The Service Oil Team of Cassopolis went into 1st place in the team handicap division on its 3144 fired last week. A check of the records showed the team had a handicap of 459 instead of the 408 listed previously.

The tournament runs through May 23.

Only Two Contests in Skate Elimination

Only two contests were skated during the weekend in the Rolladium Rink's 4th elimination event, without a contest in the A division races were slated only in B and C.

Class C—Nancy Morris and Gerry Bunce.

After taking the sporting group title, Royalist was named best-in-show out of 871 entries in the annual Toledo Kennel Club show at the Civic Auditorium.

Frejax also was best-in-show just a week ago in the Chicago International. It was the 4th such honor for the Oakland County owned dog. He is the son of Ch. King Peter of Salilyn.

Another Oakland County dog winning honors in the show was Ch. Siefenjagenheim Lazy Bones, a basset hound, owned by Chris Teeter of Birmingham. He was judged best in the hound group.

California Runners Set New Prep Mark

SANTA ANA, Calif. (AP)—A four-man, Bellflower, Calif., high school team has set a national interscholastic 4-mile relay record.

The team of Jack Ballew, Dell Estey, John Samarin and Ken Harpham raced the distance in 18:55 Saturday at the Santa Ana College Eastern Relays. This bettered the old mark of 18:56.8 set by MacKenzie High School of Detroit in 1954.

Ruel Says Detroit Fans Will Like Rookie Porter

DETROIT (UP)—General Manager Harold (Muddy) Ruel said today Detroit fans are due for a pleasant surprise when they get their first glimpse of rookie J. W. Porter.

Ruel, who has watched hundreds of rookies break into the majors during a career that span more than 30 years, said he was amazed at the poise shown by the 22-year-old ex-serviceman.

"Rookies are generally awkward and have many faults at first," Ruel said. "I expected Porter to be like that. He certainly surprised me during spring training."

Porter, who came to Detroit during the winter of 1952 in a trade that sent Virgil Trucks to the late St. Louis Browns, has clinched a starting berth with the Tigers.

Manager Bucky Harris plans to use the long-ball hitter in left field but might convert him to first base if Ferris Fain fails to shake off a leg injury.

"Actually, we don't know just what position Porter is best suited to play" Ruel said. "He's had more experience at catcher than at any other position but we have two capable receivers so Harris decided to use him in left field. He also played some at first base when he was in the army."

Stanky Says Cardinals Could Win or End 6th

ST. LOUIS (AP)—"We could win the pennant or finish 6th—that's the type of club we have."

This is how manager Eddie Stanky of the St. Louis Cardinals felt at the end of spring training and the exhibition schedule Saturday. Pitching remains his No. 1 problem.

"Our overall defense is as good as any other team's in the league," Stanky said, "with a fine infield in (Stan) Musial, (Red) Schoendienst, (Alex) Grammas and (Ken) Boyer. And our power should be as good as it was last year."

Sweep for Hornets

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP)—The Pittsburg Hornets have made a clean sweep of American Hockey League honors.

The Hornets, who finished first in regular season play, copped the league's Calder Cup with a 4-2 victory over the Buffalo Bisons Sunday night.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Chicago Cubs, who have been saved from the National League cellar by the Pittsburgh Pirates the past two years, today emerged the champions of the Grapefruit-Cactus League, the loop that nurtures hopes that rarely materialize.

Stan Hack's team came through with a 15-7 record, including a seven-game winning streak that ended Sunday when the Chicago White Sox took a 9-7 decision in the second of the annual Windy City series.

In the American League, the New York Yankees won the spring bunting with a 17-9 record, followed closely by the Washington Senators with 15-8. Then, in order, came Boston, Cleveland, Kansas City, Chicago, Baltimore and Detroit.

* * *

These spring songs can be deceiving as witness the high position of the Pirates. The Buccos won 11 games against the combined opposition of the A's and the Orioles. And they were beaten five times by the Birds.

Other clubs, like the A's, who came up with a fair 13-14 record, played many games against minor league opposition.

* * *

All the clubs wound up activities Sunday. The Chicago White Sox gained their triumph over the Cubs by scoring clusters of four runs in each of the second and sixth innings. Bob Thorpe and Hy Cohen were the victims with the latter taking the loss.

In the other intracity rivalry, the Yanks whipped the Dodgers 7-3. Yogi Berra and Joe Collins hit home runs off Brooklyn starter Joe Black, the loser, who was getting a major trial. Three Yank hurlers combined to hold the Brooks to five hits.

Hank Aaron, a young man who could do great things for the Braves this year, broke up a ball game with the Indians by stroking a home run in the 10th inning with one mate on base to give his club a 6-4 triumph.

* * *

Pinky Higgins made his first appearance in Boston's Fenway Park as the manager of the Red Sox, but the Giants spoiled his debut by getting to Dick Brodowski for all their runs in the first five innings and a 6-4 triumph.

The A's, who arrived home amidst a city-wide celebration today, stroked four Philadelphia pitchers for 20 hits, including two home runs by Vic Power and one each by Bill Wilson and Gus Zernial in the process of grounding a 14-5 victory.

Washington scored four times in the eighth to defeat Cincinnati, 5-2, and Baltimore eked out a 4-3 triumph over Pittsburgh when pitcher Vernon Theis threw wild on a bunt to permit the winning run to score in the ninth inning.

Putting Gives Middlecoff Masters' Title

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP)—Cary Middlecoff won the 1955 Masters Golf Tournament by a record seven-stroke margin and he can give you a one-word explanation of his victory; "putting."

Ben Hogan, winner here in 1951 and 1953, wasn't putting with his usual accuracy this year and had to settle for second place, his fourth time in the runner-up spot. Ben remarked that he lost his best opportunity to overtake Middlecoff when he took three putts on three greens in the third round.

Middlecoff's 279 total was four strokes higher than the record Hogan set in 1953 but the seven-stroke margin from his rounds of 72, 65, 72 and 70 was the biggest ever.

The 34-year-old, 6 feet 2 Tennessean, who registers out of Kiamesha Lake, N.Y., spoke of the battered putter he has been using since 1949 with special fondness.

"I'm gonna marry that putter," he said with a chuckle. "That's the greatest thing since the automatic starter."

Cary said he put a considerably bigger grip on the handle of his putter for the first time a week ago.

* * *

"It seemed if I held it as loosely as I wanted to it would turn on me," he commented. "I like to hold my putter loosely. It works fine now."

* * *

Sam Snead, who won the Masters last year in a playoff with Hogan, matched Middlecoff's closing up and moved into third place with a 287. Two of the younger stars, Mike Souchak of Durham, N.C., and Bob Rosburg of San Francisco, tied with former U.S. Open champion, Julius Boros of Mid Pines, N.C., for fourth. They each won $1,333.33.

Middlecoff collected a $5,000 check for his triumph. Hogan got $3,125 and Snead $2,125.

Cary, who deserted his dentist's office for the golf circuit in 1947, won the 1949 U.S. Open championship but he called his Masters victory the "biggest thrill I've ever gotten out of golf."

* * *

Byron Nelson was Middlecoff's playing partner and this was the sixth time the Texan has brought in the Masters winner, not counting the two tournaments Nelson won. He brought Snead in twice, Hogan, Claude Harmon and Herman Keiser once each.

"I couldn't pick a man out of the field who would be better to have with you on that last round," Middlecoff said. "If I seemed to get into trouble or tighten up he'd pat me on the back and say, 'Come on now, just play your game.' That helped a lot."

The Augusta National course, with its 6,950-yard length and its mammoth, undulating greens, is rated one of the greatest tests of golf anywhere. It's par of 36-36—72 is not easily bettered. Only Middlecoff, Snead and Hogan were under par for the four rounds this year. No one was last year.

Chico Seeks to Make Bat as Potent as His Glove

CHICAGO (AP)—Chico Carrasquel, fancy-fielding Chicago White Sox shortstop is out to prove he's as valuable a man with the bat as he is with the glove.

Carrasquel started out on the wrong foot the first part of spring training when he drew a $100 fine for not showing up on the practice field.

Since that day, Chico's been the hottest player in the White Sox lineup. Batting .383, Carrasquel reached base 62 times in 110 trips to the plate during the White Sox 26-game exhibition grind. He also has hit in 12 successive games and has driven in 18 runs.

A great fielder ever since he forced Luke Appling to the bench in 1950, Carrasquel is now expected to provide some of Chicago's much-needed power.

He rapped his third homer of the exhibition season at Wrigley Field Sunday to lead the Sox to a 9-7 victory over the Cubs.

In addition to his rise as a slugger, Carrasquel last year drove in 62 runs as a leadoff man, drew 85 walks, was hit by a pitch on five occasions and scored 106 runs.

Redlegs, Cubs Open National Loop Campaign

Fowler, Rush Opening Day Pitchers Before Crowd of 34,000

CINCINATI (AP) — The Cincinnati Redlegs, a team that hasn't finished higher than fifth in the National League since 1944, opens another National League baseball season against the Chicago Cubs today with all of the old familiar fanfare and largely familiar faces in both lineups.

A capacity crowd of 34,000 was assured and even the gloom from a disastrous spring training session faded among Redleg fans as the annual hope the team will be a pennant contender burst forth again.

* * *

But there has been little in spring training exhibitions to give much support to that hope. Ineffective pitching, weak hitting from what was supposed to have been a power laden lineup and some erratic fielding caused the Reds to drop 17 exhibition games while winning eight and tying two.

* * *

The Opening Day lineups were largely the same as the ones fans watched last year. Ray Jablonski at third base will be the only new Rhinelander. He was acquired, along with pitcher Gerry Staley in an off-season swap with the St. Louis Cardinals for relief pitcher Frank Smith.

Gale Wade, who hit .273 with Indianapolis last year, and catcher Harry Chiti, returned from military service, will be replacements in the Cub lineup. Wade will start in center field while Frankie Baumholtz moves to right and Hank Sauer to left to fill the spot held down last year by Ralph Kiner.

* * *

Manager Birdie Tebbetts, starting his second year as a major league manager, was to start "sophomore" Art Fowler, who won 12 games and lost 10 for Cincinnati last year. The Cubs Opening Day hurler was to be veteran Bob Rush, who had a 13-15 record last year.

Wings Just One Game Away From Stanley Cup

DETROIT (UP)—The Detroit Red Wings headed back to Montreal today, hopeful of wrapping up the Stanley Cup championship by cracking the home ice "jinx" which has dominated the post-season playoff.

So far the series has followed a win-at-home pattern, with Detroit taking three games on its own ice and Montreal two.

The Red Wings pulled ahead in the best-of-seven set last night by trouncing the Canadiens, 5-1, as Gordie Howe scored three goals to set a playoff record for total points. Howe has 19 points, one more than the mark set by Montreals Toe Blake in 1944.

The two teams had arrived in Detroit at three oclock Sunday afternoon. Twelve hours later—at three oclock this morning—they were headed back to Monreal Forum where the 6th game will be played Tuesday.

If the Canadiens continue the home ice pattern, and win Tuesday, the 7th and deciding game will be played in Detroit Thursday.

This has been a series of short streaks. Detroit won the 1st two games in Olympia Stadium, where they haven't lost since Dec. 19. It looked as though the Red Wings would take the title in four straight games.

But when the action shifted to Montreal last week, the Canadiens —who were oh, so dead in Detroit — suddenly came to life before their roaring hometown fans and whipped the Wings two in a row. They defeated Detroit 4-2 last Thursday and 5-3 on Sturday.

After a quick start last night, Canadiens again fell flat on Detroit ice. Jean Beliveau shot Montreal into a 1-0 lead after eight minutes of play, but that turned out to be the only goal of the night for Canadiens.

Five minutes later Glen Skov tied the score for Detroit, netting one of the strangest goals seen in Olympia in many a season. He beat Beliveau in a faceoff deep in Montreal territory, and slapped the puck high and to the left of the cage. But it struck defenseman Dollard St. Laurent in the shoulder and whizzed into the nets, past a very surprised Jacques Plante, Montreal goalie.

Howe scored the next three goals to nail the victory—at 18:29 of the 1st period, and at 12:29 and 16:20 of the 2nd period. There was nothng flukey about any of the goals, either.

The line of Howe-Lindsay and Dutch Reibel broke the playoff mark for most points by one line. They have tallied 49, one more than the mark set by Blake, Maurice Richard and Elmer Lach in 1944

"It's not the ice," Skinner said in the dressing room, "it's the players. This team can win this thing anytime it wants. We outshot Montreal on its home ice but wound up losing both games."

A crowd of 14,284—larges to see a playoff game in Detroit this season—was treated to some fisticuffs in the 3rd period. Red Kelly of the Wings clashed with Montreal's Butch Bouchard. Kelly got the unofficial decision. Both received three penalties for their troubles—a minor, major and misconduct.

This misconduct, which carries a $25 fine, was the 1st in Kelly's career. Bouchard has had quite a few of them.

WESTBURY, N. Y. (UP)—Stanley Danver, star harness race driver, followed up his four victories of Thursday night by driving a triple at Roosevelt Raceway last night.

He won both ends of a $39.90 daily double with Mighty Storm $3.60 and Tronia $17.30. His third winner was First Discovery $2.70.

The 27-year-old New Egypt, N.J. sulkyman now has 14 winners for the first seven days of the meeting.

Boston Doge in Finale at Bowie

BOWIE, Md. (UP)—Boston Doge, a bay colt which did the dark horse act for some time before he finally drew major notice, will be the center of attention in the Governor's Gold Cup at Bowie next Saturday.

The Paul Andolino entry, the only undefeated candidate for the Kentucky Derby, has won nine straight. In the Gold Cup, the flourishing Bowie track's $30,000 race for 3-year-olds, Boston Doge will only have to sprint three quarters of a mile. He never has been tested beyond seven furlongs and expert opinion on his chances in the mile and a quarter Kentucky Derby is still reserved.

The Gold Cup features the close of Bowie's 33-day meeting. Horse racing in Maryland moves to Laurel a week from today.

The biggest prize ever offered in Maryland for handicap horses went to Alfred Gwynn Vanderbilt's Social Outcast last Saturday. The Outcast won Bowie's John B. Campbell Memorial, and took a $55,600 purse.

Lions to Play 3 'Bowl Games' for Exhibitions

DETROIT (UP) — The Detroit Lions will be bowl-bound at least three times during the pre-season exhibition season this fall.

General manager Nick Kerrawy announced over the weekend the Lions will meet the Philadelphia Eagles Aug. 19 in the Cotton Bowl at Dallas, 6th year in a row the Lions will play an exhibition game there. Kerbawy had previously announced the dates of two other bowl appearances, against the Washiongton Redskins in the Senior Bowl at Mobile, Ala., Aug. 24 and the Pittsburgh Steelers in the Orange Bowl at Miami, Fla., Sept. 2.

A non-bowl exhibition is scheduled between the Lions and the Browns at Cleveland Sept. 10.

Softball Team Drills

Wheat Declines as Mart Eases

CHICAGO (UP) — Wheat declined around a cent on the Board of Trade today and the rest of the market had an easier undertone. Dealings proceeded at a relatively slow pace.

One reason for a tendency on the part of local traders to go slow was the fact the Agriculture Department was scheduled to issue a crop report after the market's close.

Wheat near the end of the first hour was ⅞ to 1⅜ lower, May $2.08¼; corn ⅝ to ⅞ lower, May $1.42¼; oats ⅛ to ¼ lower, May 70; rye 1¼ to 1¾ lower, May 99¼; soybeans 1 to 2 cents lower, May $2.49½; and lard 3 cents lower to 18 cents a hundred pounds higher, May $13.25.

General rains throughout the wheat belt were mainly responsible for the early slide in wheat prices. It was still raining in some sections when the board opened and showers and thundershowers were forecast for today, tonight and tomorrow. Some dry areas apparently received moisture.

This moisture outweighed the probability that the Agriculture Department's crop forecast this afternoon would show a decline in wheat production prospects from the report of last December. Many traders do not think the decline will be very large, however.

Early Trading Trends Upward

Most changes either way were small, although some losers extended to between 1 and 2 points.

A block of 20,000 shares of Anaconda Copper traded at 63 up 1½ and then it extended its gain to 3 points. There were several other large blocks on the tape including Southern Pacific 2,500 off ⅝ at 59¼, Parke Davis 6,100 up 2¼ at 49¾, Bethlehem Steel 2,000 off 1⅞ at 135, New York Central 4,000 up ⅜ at 40, and 3,100 General Dynamic up 1⅝ at 72½.

Although most major divisions were higher, there were minus signs flecked through all of them.

The market last week advanced in three out of four sessions with the Thursday market doing well. The Associated Press average of 60 stocks in that final session of the week advanced $1.00 at $161.80. At that level the average was only 80 cents away from the record high reached last March 4.

PNS said many persons were injured in the Lake Lanao area of Mindanao, which bore the brunt of the previous earthquakes.

Residents in the Marantau district on the west shore of the lake reported "a yardwide fissure extending several miles" immediately after the first shock, said PNS.

Seven-Year-Old Hurt When Struck by Auto

Gregory R. Webster, 7, of Mansfield, Ohio, suffered a broken left leg Saturday when struck by an auto driven by Miss Margaret M. Scott, 54, of 147 Osceola Dr. at Oneida near Huron St.

Two Million New Yorkers Turn Out for Easter Parade

NEW YORK (UP) — A record crowd of 2,000,000 persons joined the traditional Easter parade yesterday to see and be seen on sun-drenched Fifth Avenue.

The crowd jammed Fifth Avenue in an elbow-crushing mass in a 10-block area around St. Patrick's Cathedral and overflowed into Madison, Park and Sixth avenues and into Central Park.

Smartly dressed women confounded the fashion world by wearing mostly small hats. It was a surprise to milliner's who predicted larger hats this season.

About 10,000 persons worshipped in mid - town Manhattan's famous churches and more than 5,000 more were turned away because there was no room for them inside.

Francis Cardinal Spellman, archbishop of New York, officiated at a two-hour pontifical mass at St. Patrick's Cathedral. Admission was by ticket only. Many thousands more crowded around the church to hear the service over loudspeakers.

Foresight for Investments a Need in Changing World

By MERRYLE S. RUKEYSER
INS Economic Commentator

Speculation is the art of acting today on future expectations.

But foresight is needed not only by risk takers in securities, real estate and other forms of property. It is needed, in varying degrees, by every one who is called upon to make an adjustment to a changing world.

Parents, advising their offspring concerning schools and colleges, must appraise future prospects in various vocations. The purchase of a home entails a long term forecast of neighborhood changes and fashions in housing. The choice between a deferred annuity, on the one hand, or pure life insurance, on the other, calls for an estimate of the life span of the individual.

Investors are making educated guesses as to which industries and which established managements have what it takes to survive, grow and prosper.

Accordingly, although, to some extent, the future is unknowable, there is an insatiable human demand for windows on tomorrow.

* * *

Some forecast by ear or by leaning on the judgment of others, whereas others seek all varieties of statistical aides for foretelling the shape of things to come.

Simon Kuznets, of the National Bureau of Economic Research, observed:

"We live in the present and cannot avoid the future; the decisions we make today will affect tomorrow. Such decisions, whether made against the background of articulated forecasts or out of a subconscious but often quite strong feeling about the climate of life to be expected, imply projection in the sense of some view of the future.

"The choice is not between making and not making an extrapolation into the future; it is between making the projection in overt and sometimes quantitative terms, and proceeding by feel and by faith. Even inaction implies some picture of the future."

A common system of forecasting is the method of trend projection. While this method appears to have a good batting average, it falls down where most needed, namely, when a reversal is in the making.

* * *

Various students of the problem have sought to single out indexes which lead the way, and warn in advance of impending general changes. Geoffrey H. Moore, statistician, listed the following eight points as investors, as contrasted with stock traders, hedge against their own judgment as to future prospects by means of a balanced financial diet, consisting of cash and high grade bonds, as well as business risk securities.

This type of diversification is intended to give continuity to family living standards even during unpleasant episodes when the national economy may be taking one step backwards before taking two steps forward.

But, in these choices, you pay for what you get. The price for the assured repayment of principal and regularity of income in high grade bonds is not only a moderate return on capital but also the foregoing of any expectation of capital increment no matter how the national economy may grow.

Balanced financial diets, and balanced corporate capital structures are practical evidence that prudent men recognize limitations in the present science of foretelling future developments.

Holding Suspect in Mad Killings

Hope 2-Year-Old Girl Can Identify Man Who Wiped Out Family

EVANSVILLE, Ind. (UP) — A two-year-old girl who was found lying beside the body of her murdered mother was a key figure today in the questioning of a suspect in the "maniac" slayings of at least three persons.

Evansville authorities refused to confirm or deny whether little Shirley Fay Duncan had identified the suspect as the man who all but wiped out her Henderson, Ky., family.

But it was reported elsewhere that Shirley Fay said the man being held here was the killer who "caused the trouble" at her farm home March 28.

A killer, described as a "maniac," invaded the home of her grandfather that day. He killed Shirley Fay's mother, Elizabeth, 19, the grandfather, Goebel Duncan, 53; and her father, Raymond, 20. All three were shot in the head after their hands were tied behind them.

Evansville police have not revealed the identity of the man being held, but a detective said today that the suspect was still regarded as "the best we've had" after days of intensive questioning.

Motorama Carrier Strikes Pole, Burns

TULSA, Okla (UP) — A semi-trailer truck carrying heavy loading equipment for use in the General Motors' Motorama display now touring the country, struck a power pole on U.S. Highway 66 yesterday, overturned and caught fire.

Highway Patrolman O. D. Day said that the driver, Mitchell John Drozdrowski, 28, of Flint, crawled through a broken windshield to escape the flames and was not injured.

Day said the General Motors' truck was forced onto the gravel shoulder to avoid hitting another truck and plowed into the power pole carrying 13,000 volt wires.

Lewd Books Sold on Capitol Hill – Rep. Thompson

WASHINGTON (INS)—A Midwesteren congresswoman charged today that obscene magazines are being sold to congressional pages and other youngsters within the shadow of the National Capitol.

Rep. Ruth Thompson (R-Mich) explained that her crusade against sale of lewd literature was sparked by her discovery that minors can purchase such publications on Capitol Hill.

The congresswoman, who lives near the capitol, said the problem was startlingly called to her attention when she noticed that congressional page boys, neighborhood youngsters, and visiting teenagers were buying trashy magazines in stores near the House Office Building.

Miss Thompson explained that she did not have the nerve to buy the publications herself, so she sent out for them. When the magazines were brought to her office, she added, she could not even read them—they were so bad.

Although lewd literature is now banned from the mails, bills sponsored by Miss Thompson and other House members would prohibit all sale or distribution of obscene puolications.

Pakistan, Afghanistan May Break Relations

KARACHI, Pakistan (UP) — Informed sources said here today Pakistan may recall her ambassador from Afghanistan as diplomatic relations between the two neighboring lands appeared near the breaking point.

Rising tension followed Pakistan's plans to unite its western provinces into one unit — West Pakistan. The Afghans are apprehensive about the fate of the Pathan minority across the border in Pakistan. The two neighbors have been squabbling over the Pathan tribesmen for years.

Williams Bows to Stevenson

Governor Says Adlai Is Dem Party's Choice in 1956 Presidential

DETROIT (UP)—Gov. G. Mennen Williams today was apparently out of the 1956 presidential race—unless Adlai Stevenson decides not to seek the nomination.

On a national television program yesterday, Williams indicated he did not believe he was acceptable enough yet to southern Democrats to seek the nomination.

The Michigan governor was quizzed about his political aspirations by three Washington newspapermen over the CBS "Face the Nation" television program.

"Adlai Stevenson has got it for 1956," Williams said when asked about his party's candidate for the presidency.

Williams also spiked reports he might be Stevenson's running mate on the 1956 ticket. He said the "geographical closeness" of Illinois and Michigan ruled out his selection as a vice presidential candidate on a slate headed by the Democrats' 1952 nominee.

The suggestion that he did not have enough favor in the South to be a presidential candidate was drawn from his answers to questions about banquets he planned to attend.

He said he planned to attend a dinner for House Speaker Sam Rayburn in Washington but he "had not been invited" to a dinner honoring James E. Brynes, South Carolina Dixiecrat.

HUNT WINNER—Unscrambling the woods of Oakland Park for the golden egg worth first prize in Saturday's triple-header Easter egg hunt wasn't too much of a chore for 5-year-old Vicky Gaylord, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gaylord, 163 W. Hopkins St. Above, she receives congratulations from Fred Lynch of the Pontiac Junior Chamber of Commerce, which co-sponsored the hunt with the Pontiac Parks and Recreation Dept. More than 1,800 youngsters took part in the searches at Oakland, Beaudette and Murphy parks.

First Jaycee-City Easter Egg Hunt Draws 1,800 Children to Three Parks

More than 1,800 youngsters sifted through three parks Saturday to come up with gaily colored eggs in the first Easter egg hunt sponsored by the city.

Leonard T. Buzz, recreation supervisor for the Pontiac Parks and Recreation Dept., which sponsored the hunt with the Junior Chamber of Commerce, termed the event "an overwhelming success."

Finders of golden eggs in each park were awarded three silver dollars as first prize. Those finding silver-colored eggs beneath bushes or behind trees were awarded the two-silver-dollar second prize.

Ninety-nine other prizes consisting of Easter toys and candy were presented to finders of yellow-hued eggs. The Jaycees provided the eggs and the 105 prizes.

First place winner at Oakland Park was Vicky Gaylor, 5, of 163 W. Hopskins St. Second place winner was Kenny Irwin, 3, of 203 W. Longfellow Ave.

Judy Leavenworth, 10, of 451 Telegraph Rd., won first place at Beaudette Park. Second prize went to Carol Gaydos, 5, of 1295 Atkinson.

200 Ex-POWs May Face Trial

House Learns Many Former GIs Are Listed as Treason Suspects

WASHINGTON (INS)—More than 200 former U. S. servicemen held as prisoners by the Communists during the Korean War may be prosecuted for treason.

This disclosure and other pertinent facts about U. S. crimes and law enforcement were made in closed-door testimony before a House appropriations subcommittee, released yesterday.

Other highlights of the Justice Department officials' testimony were:

1. "A large number" of potential espionage cases are being investigated. Assistant Attorney General William F. Tompkins noted the conviction of former national security agency employe, Joseph L. Petersen, for violating the espionage statute, but made no other references to the spy investigations.

2. FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover said anti-Communist legislation has driven American Reds underground—but that the 22,663 known party members represent "a trojan horse of rigidly disciplined fanatics."

3. Hoover blamed a sharp increase in juvenile delinquency on "do gooders" and "sob sisters" who coddle criminals. He deplored "maudlin sentimentality" toward law-breakers.

Tompkins said the prisoner of war cases were referred to the Justice Department because the men are now civilians. He told the subcomittee: "At the presnt rate, 176 such cases have been referred and we are told that we may expect many more. Our original figure of approximately 200 such cases may, therefore, be much too conservative."

Texas Growing Fast

AUSTIN, Tex (AP) — Texans might brag a bit, but sometimes they have figures to prove it. The State Department of Public Health figures one out of every 16 babies born in the United States last year was a native Texan.

Hunt Machinegunner in Huge Bank Holdup

NEW YORK (INS)—A notorious ex-convict known to be skilled with a machinegun was sought today for questioning in the still unsolved, history-making $305,000 robbery of a New York bank.

Police issued a confidential order naming Edward Schussler, alias Schirmer, 45, a 200-pound, German-born criminal known for his machinegun technique and his daring as a posible suspect in the daylight holdup of the Woodside branch of the Chase Manhattan Branch bank last Wednesday.

Police Seek New Motive in Strangle Death of Girl

TORONTO (AP)—Police looked today for a new motive in the strangling of eight-year-old Judy Carter whose body was found Saturday on a nearby river bank.

Judy disappeared while returning from school six weeks ago.

Police said the child had not been sexually assaulted as originally feared and only her shoes were missing.

Normality Can Sometimes Pay

'Life With Father' Star Has Four Daughters, Is Really Solid Citizen

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—One of the least likely persons you'd expect to find in this fabulous fun town is Robert Young.

After al, Young is the picture of normality. A solid citizen, he is the father of four daughters in real life and three children on TV's Father Knows Best. Although flashier stars draw the headlines, Bob has proven that being normal can pay off, even in Hollywood.

* * *

He and his for-real wife Betty (Jane Wyatt is her TV counterpart) were here for a spree before he starts a year's work on TV films. And there is one of the nicest success stories of the year.

Bob did Father Knows Best on radio for a number of years. The gentle comedy seemed a natural for TV.

"But I wasn't sure I wanted to get into it," he remarked. "I didn't know if I wanted to undertake all that work. Oddly enough it was Loretta Young (no relation) who helped convince me. She told me TV was the thing to do. And then I ended up opposite her on Sunday night."

* * *

"I knew it was going to build slowly," he said. "It was that way on radio: people didn't call up their friends and tell them to be sure and listen to it. The show built enthusiasm slowly but when it did get fans they were intensely loyal."

This peculiar loyalty proved the saving of Father Knows Best. A couple of months ago, the cigarette sponsor announced it was dropping the show. This brought forth a flood of letters from determined fans. Even hardboiled TV editors joined in the campaign to find a sponsor for the pleasant, homey series.

* * *

Young believes that this wave of enthusiasm was a major factor in finding a new bankroller. A paper concern dropped My Little Margie for Father Knows Best. If all the options are picked up, the filmed series will run into an investment of 10 million dollars.

Refuses Parole to Go on Singing in Prison Quartet

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP)—Prison officials didn't believe it at first when they heard that a young convict turned down a chance for a parole because he likes to sing on the Kilby Prison quartet.

Orville F. Gray, 27, also surprised Parole Supervisor E. M. Parkman when the official came to interview him in regard to parole.

Gray, convicted of robbery in 1948, has served most of his time under a 10-year sentence. He could take a parole in June.

The parole supervisor said Gray asked to be passed over for parole so he could keep on singing in the prison quartet.

Deputy Sheriff Taken for Mental Patient

SAN BERNARDINO, Calif. (UP) Patton State Hospital attendants thought they had apprehended a mental patient when they found Rod Scott wandering on the second floor of a ward.

After nearly one hour, Scott finally convinced them he was a sheriff's deputy from Imperial County and accidentally had stepped off the elevator on the wrong floor.

Flying Manhole Cover May Alter Science of Flight

PALO ALTO, Calif. (AP) — The test pilot who first took off in a radically new wingless "flying platform" says anyone who can walk can fly it.

"You just lean the way you want it to go," said test pilot Phil A. Johnston of the "research tool" developed by Hiller Helicopters, of Palo Alto, for the Office of Naval Research.

"I'd let my kids fly it. It's no tick at all," he said.

Johnstons first flight was Jan. 15 in the weird new machine which looks like a flying manhole cover with guard rails. It is a literal flying saucer.

* * *

Hiller's development to date, said the Office of Naval Research in the first disclosure of the new craft, "definitely has established the feasibility of radically simplified flight."

The "flying platform" works by a downward thrusting air stream generated by two counterrotating propellers. They produce balancing force, like a gyroscope.

Two ducted fans, presently powered by two small engines producing together less than 100 horsepower, suck in air through holes in top of the platform. The fans thrust air out the bottom of the six-foot-across platform with great force.

* * *

What happens if the engine quit, however, is an obvious problem too. Without the lifting air thrust, you drop like a brick.

Test flights so far have been little more than eight feet off the grond at the Hiller plant's testing field.

Children's Bodies Found Along River

SAGINAW (AP)—The bodies of two young children, missing since Feb. 23, were found yesterday in the Flint River 11 miles south of Saginaw.

William Crampton, Saginaw County special deputy, found the body of Charles Schram, 10, tangled in a brush pile on the river bank. The body of the boy's 8-year-old sister, Georgeanna, was found a short distance away.

The children were last seen playing on the frozen riverbank behind their home. Officials said the youngsters apparently had fallen through the ice.

Two Unidentified Bodies Found in Detroit River

DETROIT (AP) — The unidentified bodies of a man and a woman were found yesterday in the Detroit River.

The man's body was recovered near Bishop Park in suburban Wyandotte. The woman's body was taken from the Grosse Ile Yacht Club basin.

Both had been dead some time.

Smith Act Trial Begins Today

Junius Scales Accused of Seeking Overthrow of U. S. Government

GREENSBORO, N.C. (AP)—Junius Scales goes on trial today, charged with advocating overthrow of the United States government by force and violence.

The FBI has identified him as leader of the party in the Carolinas and Tennessee.

* * *

The 35-year-old University of North Carolina graduate was indicted under the Smith Act's membership clause by a jury at Wilkesboro last Nov. 18. FBI agents picked him up in Memphis, Tenn., only a few hours after the jury acted. His whereabouts had not been known publicly since Oct. 6, 1951, when he left his home at Carrboro.

* * *

Scales is the second person brought to trial under the Smith Act as an individual, rather than as a member of a group conspiring against the government. The other was Claude Lightfoot, who admitted membership in the Communist party. Lightfoot was convicted last January in Chicago. He is appealing a sentence of five years and a $5,000 fine.

Scales refused to say before the trial whether he is or was a Communist.

Hatoyama Hoping to Meet Chou, Nehru

TOKYO (AP) — Prime Minister Ichiro Hatoyama said today he would like to meet Premier Chou En-lai of Communist China to discuss world problems.

He also said he would like to meet with Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nebru of India for the same purpose, but did not know how such meetings could be arranged.

He said he had no plans to seek such meetings at this time. He did not enlarge on the subject further.

The Premier said he thought the foreign policy of having no dealings with Russia and Communist China, practiced by former Premier Shigeru Yoshida, was wrong.

Nab Escaped Convict

CADILLAC (INS)—William Breuer, 19-year-old armed escapee from the Leland Jail, was nabbed by State Police early today when he tried to hitch a ride south of Cadillac.

He offered no resistance and was quickly relieved of a loaded revolver.

7 American Tourists Draw Fines in Spain

MADRID (UP) — Scores of foreign tourists including seven Americans were arrested Sunday for throwing leather cushions into a Madrid bullring to show their disapproval of the poor quality of the bullfighting.

The Americans, who were fined $6 apiece, said they didn't know much about bullfighting but they threw their pillows because they saw so many Spaniards doing so.

Firearms High Fashion in Miami This Easter

Police reported 175 weapons were sold last week, about 75 more than are registered usually by Miami gun shops, pawn shops and other outlets.

Seek Unidentified Man in Ludington Stabbing

LUDINGTON (AP)—An unidentified assailant stabbed and killed Oscar Davila, 23, of Hart, at an itinerant farm workers' party near Ludington yesterday.

Witnesses said they had seen Davila, a Muskegon foundry worker, arguing with the assailant minutes before the stabbing.

Ike Tries to Carve Out More Space in White House

WASHINGTON (INS)—President Eisenhower has decided to do something about a problem that has plagued chief executives for years—how to find enough room in the White House for official duties.

Presidential News Secretary James C. Hagerty announced today that the consulting firm of Robert Heller and associates, of Cleveland, has been hired to work out a long-range solution to the problem.

The study won't affect the living quarters in the central portion of the White House, but is concerned with providing more office space which is now limited to the east and west wings of the mansion.

Hagerty said the Heller firm already has made a preliminary report recommending minor modifications in the west wing to provide more room and is now consulting with government agencies and officials on a long-range program.

The White House spokesman, mindful of the controversy stirred up when President Truman built a balcony on the south portico in 1947, promised that none of the contemplated changes would impair the beauty of the 155-year-old mansion.

He declared: "The study is being conducted on the clear understanding that the traditional lines, simple dignity, and sense of permanency of the White House will not be changed by any new construction or renovation of existing structures that may be proposed."

Hagerty, in noting that the executive offices are greatly overcrowded, recalled that this problem has confronted every president since the turn of the Century when Theodore Roosevelt had the west wing built as a "temporary" structure to house his offices.

Asked by newsmen whether the Heller study might result in plans for an addition to the White House, Hagerty said that consideration of the matter had not gone that far.

But one of the more pressing needs appears to be for an extremely large room or small auditorium where the President can meet large groups of visitors, or hold his weekly news conference. The news conference now is conducted in the old State Department Building across the street.

Hagerty said Eisenhower "would like adequate room" for conferences with sizeable groups such as state governors and mayors, members of the Advertising Council, Red Cross delegations, and similar gatherings.

He pointed out that when the President now meets with a group of more than 25 persons, he has to talk with the visitors in the rose garden behind the executive offices, weather permitting.

As another example of the space problem, Hagerty noted that office room also will have to be made for Harold E. Stassen, who has been named as a special assistant to the President in charge of disarmament problems.

Some additional space — but not nearly enough — has been found by shifting around offices in line with recommendations made in the Heller group's preliminary report.

Hagerty pointed out that a bowling alley in the White House recently was moved to the old State Department Building and the vacated room now is being used for files and communications.

The smallest known fish in the world is the Pandaka pygmea. These are about the size of an ant and are almost transparent, the large eyes being the only feature clearly visible.

Bob Considine Says:

Cheops' Solar Boat Being Restored

CAIRO (INS) — Some of the venerable Egyptologists are inclined to scoff, but the most exciting diggings in recent years have been in connection with the Cheops solar boat. It is virtually the property now of a young architect and part time archaeologist named Kamal Mallakh, who is a dead-ringer for Max Schmeling.

We had a look at the boat the other day and there's not much question about it: It will attract new tens of thousands of tourists to Cario. Which will be perfectly all right with the new regime, which is tourism conscious to the hilt.

Dr. Mallakh explained the boat and its history to us one blindingly bright afternoon outside the dull-looking wooden shed which now hovers over the excavated boat and houses also the crude but efficient derrick which lifted the great stones that guarded it for 4,750 years.

The boat is but one of five built for use by the soul of Cheops, in whose memory the nearby pyramid was constructed over a 20-year period by himself and his successor.

To simplify the complicated theocracy of the time (over-simplify it, I'm sure,) Cheops was to sail into the beyond with the sun, which the ancients believed was reborn each dawn, grew to manhood at noon, and passed out like an old man at sunset. At noon or thereabouts the soul of the pharoah was to transfer from the kid's boat to the man's boat.

It is the kid's boat which Dr. Mallakh has found. When he gets around to it he'll dig up the man's boat, which he feels certain is immediately to the west of the boat he has found, as befits the legend. He has already scraped away the sediment of time down to the heavy blocks of limestone that serve as its enduring roof.

The boat is littered with small limestone splinters and the dust of the sail that was made of mats and papyrus. But there is ample evidence that it is as sound as say, the Nautilus. Cheops' people chose stout cedar from Lebanon and joined it delicately and solidly with wooden nails. To the slight dismay of his elders, who consider him lucky and not too knowledgeable, Dr. Mallakh has been given permission to take the boat apart, plank by plank, chemicaly treat each bit of wood, and put it back together again.

In time a museum will be built around it and it will sit there under glass (and air conditioned in its remarkably white trench dug from the solid rock of the hill on which rest the best known pyramids of the world. The mast will be partly raised, for apparently the first time, but there will be no effort made to reproduce the sail which was to have aided Cheops in his flight to sunset.

Dr. Mallakh is the boat's No. 1 fan and can talk about it by the hour. He likes to relive the moment of its discovery.

"There was only a small hole dug through the great rock over its center," he recalls. "One had to wait until noon to see what was below, but already I knew. I could tell from the perfume of the wood that the boat was there in the darkness, as it had been since that ancient dynasty. It was not only a historical moment. It was a hysterical moment." He waits for his laugh.

"Then as the sun reached his height I looked through a window into the world of 5,000 years ago and saw this rare, intact prize. You see it today for nozzings. In time the tourist will pay to see it and will be pleased."

Dr. Mallakh has been puttering around the area since he was 11. He learned first about the possibility of solar boats from a Roman travel writer named Herodotus, who dropped by 500 yeras before Christ, and French and German archaeologists pinpointed the location of the boat he has discovered.

After that it was just a matter of digging and lifting off the blocks, and, of course, continuing in favor with the people downtown.

"You continue to believe it was built by slave labor," he'll complain. "It was not. The farmers of Egypt at that time were forced into unemployment for one third of the year by the flooding of the Nile. What to do with them?

French to Probe Fall of Dien Bien Phu Fort

PARIS (AP) — The French government has launched an investigation into the causes of the fall of the Indochina fortress of Dien Bien Phu almost a year ago.

The government's official gazette said a board of five officers has been set up to determine the responsibilities of all who took part in the battle that resulted in victory for the Communist-led Vietminh last May 7.

The fall of the fortress led to an armistice and loss of North Viet Nam to the Vietminh.

"Cheops who knew he must leave a pyramid behind, hired them. His men were great organizers. We see today how difficult it is to supply men with water and food on the desert. Yet he would have as many as 100,000 men working for him each day of a working season, along with their wives, children and relatives. All these had to be fed; had to have water.

"Today all we see is a mound of great limestone blocks, which, if broken into one square foot blocks would reach two thirds of the way around the world. But when it was finished it was a lovely sight. It was covered with the same bright white limestone you see protecting the solar boat. And the sun, shinning upon it, was reflected brilliantly — and all basked in the glow of a fine man's soul."

Alleged Rhee Enemies Will Go on Trial Soon

SEOUL (AP) — The prosecutor's office said today four persons will go on trial in a week or two on charges of plotting assassination of President Syngman Rhee. They were indicted Saturday.

The four were among seven arrested last month in a police raid on what police officials called a Communist cell hideout. Police withheld further details.

new Dark Elegance shades

Society Brand takes inspiration from the dark-velvet-and-diamonds of the midnight skies . . . and proudly presents Dark Elegance. Dark hues, rich and deep . . . with just a whisper of color sprinkled upon them. Tiny sparklets of gold, heliotrope and blue are skilfully dotted into the fabric . . . and provide just the correct touch of accent. Dark Elegance is subtle and dignified . . . never flamboyant or showy.

We think it's a fine compliment to the quality of fabric and excellence of tailoring in Society Brand clothes . . . and a fine compliment to the good taste of the men who choose Society Brand clothes. May we have the pleasure of showing you how well you look in a Society Brand suit? From
