Grace Kelly Becomes a Princess in Civil Ceremony This Morning

MONTE CARLO, Monaco (AP) — Serious-faced and sitting rigid as a statue, film queen Grace Kelly became Princess of Monaco and bride of Prince Rainier III today. No tears were shed and no kisses were exchanged.

* * *

The brief civil ceremony, uniting the 26-year-old American film star to one of the oldest princely families of Europe and making her First Lady of this 370-acre Mediterranean principality, was televised by Europe's major networks. A religious ceremony will be performed tomorrow.

Today's ceremony consisted mainly of an exchange of "Ouis" and the signing of an official register in the presence of 81 guests.

As the details were concluded, Grace relaxed and glanced at the Prince but he was staring straight ahead. Then she glanced at her sister, Mrs. George Davis of Philadelphia. In the exchange of smiles it appeared for a moment the bride was going to burst into laughter.

'KIND OF NUMB'

"I am kind of numb," she said after the ceremony.

The 32-year-old bridegroom was strained and nervous as he sat beside the blonde beauty from Philadelphia and Hollywood in the small gold and red Throne Room of the Palace of Monaco.

He ran his finger under his collar, bit his fingernail and pulled his mustache. Briefly he folded his hands firmly in his lap, but a moment later was tugging again at his mustache.

Grace was dressed in a rose beige silk suit on which silk lace designs had been stitched. It had a fitted jacket, and a bell-shaped skirt dropping below the knee to a point 14 inches from the floor. Her tiny cloche hat was of pleated organdy, exposing her blond hair both fore and aft. On the right side was a tiny cluster of flowers and green leaves.

GRACE ENTERS FIRST

Rainier and all the other men at the ceremony, except members of the clergy were in formal morning cutaway and striped trousers.

Tall and calmly regal, Grace had entered first, following two officials in tailcoats and medals. Then came her family, and then the Prince and his family.

The couple took seats on red upholstered Louis XIV chairs facing Marcel Portanier, Monaco's Minister of Justice. Both stared straight ahead as the formal ceremony was read, the same in Monaco as it is in France in all essential details. Each winds up with the same question.

Kellys and members of Rainier's ancient Grimaldi family were banked on both sides of the couple in the Throne Room, along with movie and television cameras; representatives of government; a small group of American, French and British reporters, and a few other guests.

SIGNS REGISTER

The bride signed the official register making her a princess at 11:15 a.m., using her full name, Grace Patricia Kelly. She was a little uncertain just how the Prince signed, but said after the ceremony she thought he had written "Rainier, Prince of Monaco." His full name is Rainier Louis Henri Maxence Bertrand Grimaldi.

The week-long wedding celebration which has drawn thousands to this Riviera pleasure spot will conclude tomorrow with a religious ceremony in Monaco's Roman Catholic Cathedral. Actually the

Jersey Machine Hands Kefauver Serious Defeat

Senator Gains One-Half Vote in Convention; Ike Is 3-1 'Favorite' Choice

NEWARK, N. J. (AP)—Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee went down to a resounding defeat in the New Jersey primary today, the most serious setback since he opened his campaign for the Democratic presidential nomination.

At the same time, New Jersey Republicans gave President Eisenhower a firm endorsement, although he had no opposition.

Returns from 3,416 of the state's 4,155 voting districts showed these totals in the preference sections of the ballots:

Eisenhower 260,007.
Kefauver 98,227.

In the Democratic returns, there also were 1681 write-ins for Adlai Stevenson, who was not a candidate in this primary.

LOST DELEGATES

For Kefauver, however, the "popularity contest" was much less serious than the battle for delegates to the nominating convention. His 72 backers — who would have 36 convention votes — were swamped by an unpledged slate headed by Gov. Robert B. Meyner.

The organization elected 63 delegates with 31½ votes, while Kefauver elected only one delegate with ½ vote. The organization led in the remaining 8 contests with 4 votes.

On the Republican side, a 28-vote delegation pledged to the President was elected. It had taken opposition from three "conservative" and undesignated candidates.

Kefauver campaigned intensively for six days in New Jersey, making his final appearance last Sunday. But the tactics of handshaking and meeting people that served him so well in New Hampshire and Minnesota failed here.

BOTH LOSE VOTES

Neither Eisenhower nor Kefauver got as many preferential votes in this election as they had in 1952, but the President's percentage was better. Four years ago, after a hot fight with the late Sen. Robert A. Taft, he polled 390,591 votes — nearly half the total cast then by both parties.

Kefauver got 154,964, in 1952 when he was also unopposed. He did not contest then for convention delegates and at the convention got only three of New Jersey's votes on the first ballot.

Ike Pledges 'No Surrender' to Pressures

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower has pledged no "surrenders to pressure, bribes for support, escapes from responsibility" in his campaign for re-election.

Eisenhower urged Republicans last night to make a special drive to enlist young people in a campaign he said must be "concerned with those things which count for most—people and principles."

Eisenhower was cheered lustily by 900 GOP leaders as he addressed a colorful banquet that wound up a two-day precampaign strategy meeting.

His speech, in effect, was the opening of his own re-election effort.

The President shared the limelight with Vice President Nixon. Party workers left little doubt by their applause most of them want Nixon on the ticket again.

2 Red Bosses Now in London

Welcoming Crowd Both Jeers and Cheers When Bulganin Speaks

LONDON (AP) — Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin and Communist party chief Nikita Khrushchev arrived in London today jaunty and full of smiles and extended a hand of friendship to Britain and the rest of the world.

"We all have to live together on this planet," Bulganin told a crowd of cheering, jeering, and laughing Londoners who came to welcome the Russian leaders at Victoria railway station at the start of a 10-day official visit.

* * *

Prime Minister Eden, wreathed in smiles, stepped forward to shake hands with the Russian statesmen as they stepped from the express train which brought them from the port of Portsmouth.

Outside in the packed streets, thousands of Britons in holiday mood cheered and laughed—and booed.

Eden made a brief speech of welcome under the glistening batteries of television cameramen.

"In greeting, I express the hope that we shall, by our work and by our decision, improve relations between our countries and our peoples," he said.

Bulganin, beaming broadly then stepped to the microphone and replied through an interpreter.

"The Soviet government seeks to have friendly relations with Britain, as well as the United States, France, and other countries."

Bulganin and Khrushchev are here at Eden's invitation extended at last year's Big Four summit conference in Geneva. The British view the visit as a continuation of that parley.

* * *

Bulganin and Khrushchev will be entertained at tea by Queen Elizabeth II at Windsor Castle and given a whirl around the country, but most of the time they will be at a conference table with Eden and his top advisers.

Create Authority in Step Toward Supply Solution

Oakland Okay Paves Way for Attack on Area Shortages

A major step toward a solution of Oakland County's water supply problems was taken yesterday with ratification by the Board of Supervisors of the Southeastern Michigan Water Authority.

The Authority, a joint municipal corporation with equal representation from Oakland and Macomb counties, will have power to issue bonds, condemn land for its use and make contracts.

Royal Oak Mayor Howard K. Kelley, chairman of the Inter-County Committee's water committee, submitted the articles of incorporation to supervisors at yesterday's meeting.

They were adopted unanimously. They had previously been ratified by Macomb County supervisors last Tuesday.

Kelley said yesterday the Authority would seek a fresh-water source, probably Lake Huron, to supply most water needs for both growing counties.

STUDIED 6 YEARS

He said the subject had been under study for six years, since a 1950 Royal Oak survey recommended Lake Huron as a source of fresh water for the county.

With formation of the Inter-County group in 1954, the water committee was appointed to seek necessary powers to take the step.

The new corporation will be financed initially by loans from the two counties' boards of supervisors, Kelley said, and will repay the loans when bonds have been issued.

The Authority originally was to have included Wayne, Monroe, Washtenaw and St. Clair counties, but expansion of the Detroit-Wayne County supply system eased the situation in the southwestern quarter of the metropolitan area, and Wayne, Monroe and Washtenaw dropped out. St. Clair County still is uncommitted.

A survey last October by the Detroit Metropolitan Area Planning Commission disclosed that 37 area communities were not equipped to handle current water needs. Another 100 said they had no municipal water systems of any kind.

Only 58 reported adequate facilities to handle current needs, and many of them expressed doubts of their capacity in the event of further expansion.

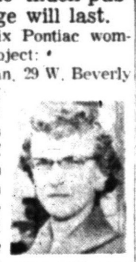
Grace's Marriage to Last? 6 Pontiac Women Hopeful

A question in the mind of the public today is whether the marriage of movie actress Grace Kelly to Prince Rainier, Monaco monarch, will be an enduring one.

A random survey taken in downtown Pontiac yesterday showed that some women in the area believe it will. They also expressed hopes that the much-publicized marriage will last.

Here is what six Pontiac women said on the subject:

Miss Ila Hulsman, 29 W. Beverly Ave. — "Yes, I think it will last because this is not the type of marriage often associated with Hollywood. Grace is a very quiet girl and not the type to run around, like many other stars."



Miss Hulsman

Mrs. Robert Johnson, 526 S. Jessie St. — "For the happiness of both of them and for the two countries, I hope it will be an enduring marriage. The only doubt I have comes to mind when I think of the other similar marriage of Aly Khan and Rita Hayworth."

Mrs. Johnson

Mrs. Frank Lada, 439 Valencia Dr. — "I definitely think the marriage will last. They make a very nice couple and I think that since they both are of the same religion it will help in the marriage."

Mrs. Lada

Mrs. Charles Chancy, 49 E. Strathmore Ave. — "I sincerely hope it will last for I do not believe in divorce. But I must admit I have some doubts as to whether the marriage will continue long."

Mrs. Chancy

Mrs. James Ockerman, 179 Oneida Rd. — "Because they are both in love with each other and desire a family and come from the same religious background I think the marriage will be a very long one."

Mrs. Ockerman

Mrs. Loretta Williams, C-5 Arcadia Ct. — "Prince Rainier has the type of personality that pleases Grace and apparently is the type of man she has been waiting for. This should add up to a long and lovable marriage."

Mrs. Williams

Police Seeking Vote on Change

Question of Residency Outside of City Limits Spurs Request

Winding up a two-hour meeting last night, Pontiac's Police Association voted to ask City Commissioners to place on the November ballot a city charter amendment eliminating the requirement that they live inside the city.

President Robert Gaines told officers he had assurance that all seven commissioners favored putting the issue on the ballot and, "at least two" favored eliminating the requirement.

Paul Meredith, attorney for the group, told officers they should try for official action as soon as possible to place the move on the ballot.

He said in his opinion the courts would delay firing of an officer because of residence outside the city if a decision by voters seemed probable.

If commissioners vote to place the amendment on the ballot, the move will eliminate the necessity of petitions for the move.

Meredith said petitions to put the issue on the November ballot would have to be signed by 5 per cent of voters in the last general election.

Pontiac Soaring to Second Place in Traffic Safety

Pontiac has soared to second place in traffic safety figures released by the National Safety Council for the first three months of 1956.

The rank comes in a comparison of 93 cities with populations between 50,000 and 100,000, according to Clyle R. Haskill, who heads the Chamber of Commerce safety committee.

Only one person has died in traffic here this year, Haskill said, as compared with five deaths at this time last year when Pontiac was ranked about 37th.

Haskill commended drivers and pedestrians for increasing awareness of the terrible toll caused by carelessness on city streets.

"It's gratifying to see that the committee's work to save lives has had success," he said.

Soo Locks Are Jammed; 150 Ships Icebound

SAULT STE. MARIE (INS)—The Soo Lock's worst tie-up of the year today had at least 150 freighters icebound in the upper St. Marys River.

Snow and 40-mile-an-hour winds late last night pushed ice from White Fish Bay to the river's entrance on the Canadian side.

The Icebreakers Mackinaw and Mesquite along with other cutters were working to break up the jam.

U.S. Watches Soviet Action

Reds May Usurp Credit for Letdown of Tension in Middle East

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Soviet Union appears to be moving swiftly and with great skill to consolidate a position as a power in Middle Eastern affairs.

This is the interpretation most generally placed here on the Russian Foreign Office announcement of readiness to cooperate in United Nations efforts to make peace between Israel and the Arab states.

WATCH IMPACT

The move, in the view of U. S. officials, was timed to set the stage for British-Russian talks on the Middle East.

American officials are watching the London scene closely to see what kind of impact the Soviet leaders make on the people of England and Western Europe.

They also are eager to learn whether the Kremlin pair comes up with any concrete proposals for Middle East action, for progress on disarmament negotiations or for developments on other world issues.

Snow, Light Showers Forecast for Region

The weatherman says the Pontiac area will continue cloudy and cool with scattered snow flurries or light showers through tomorrow. The low temperature tonight will be 28-32 and the high tomorrow will range from 42-46 degrees.

Bad weather is expected to continue for the next 30 days with below-normal temperatures and above-normal precipitation.

In downtown Pontiac the lowest temperature preceding 8 a.m. was 30 degrees. The thermometer registered 38 at 2 p.m.

It's a Family Affair

DES MOINES, Ia. (INS) — Mrs. James Mitchell wrecked one of the family's two cars two hours before her husband wrecked the other one and observed: "Neither of us can complain to the other. My husband wrecked my car and I wrecked his. We had switched."

Daniel Will Meet In-Laws on Thursday

INDEPENDENCE, Mo. (AP)—The bridegroom is due here Thursday to meet Margaret Truman's "folks."

Clifton Daniel, the New York newspaper man who will marry Miss Truman Saturday, will be one of the guests Thursday evening at an informal family dinner at the home of former President and Mrs. Truman.

It will be his first opportunity to meet the numerous Truman aunts, uncles and cousins.

Dems Plan Vote on Farm Veto

Request House Support but Have No Real Hope of Overriding Ike

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democratic leaders called for a House vote today to override President Eisenhower's veto of the farm bill but conceded in advance they were merely going through the motions.

They acknowledged they had no real hope of mustering the two-thirds margin required to upset Eisenhower's rejection of the bill. Failure to poll such a majority would kill the measure.

Only in the event the House voted to override would it go to the Senate for a similar test.

House rules limit debate on a veto message to one hour.

With partisan feeling running high, the Democrats prepared to demand a recorded rollcall on the farm issue for use in the fall political campaign.

There was no immediate indication of the course which farm legislation may now take. Eisenhower has urged that Congress act quickly to authorize soil bank payments to farmers to take part of their cropland out of production of crops now in surplus.

Supervisors Reject County Census Bid

Oak Park City Manager Harold K. Schone's annual effort to redistribute state sales tax money in Oakland County failed again yesterday when the Board of Supervisors voted down a special county census.

Schone, who has introduced the special census resolution annually for three years, wants the new census to replace the 1950 federal census, on which the sales tax distribution now is based. He says Oak Park has grown by 23,000 residents since 1950.

Contacted yesterday, W. Ray Ransom, Pontiac member of the Board of Supervisors said the census would benefit 38 county municipalities with money taken from 41 others.

Courthouse Plans Studied by Board of Supervisors

Preliminary plans for Oakland County's proposed new courthouse were presented to County supervisors at their meeting yesterday, and supervisors voted two measures to continue the project.

The board voted to ask the City of Pontiac to vacate a section of West Boulevard so that it may be relocated at county expense around the proposed building site, and to hire O'Dell, Hewlett and Luckenbach, Associates, to continue architectural work.

Both roll call votes passed over the objections of five Pontiac supervisors. A sixth, W. Ray Ransom, voted yes.

Special Building Committee Chairman Harold K. Schone, of Oak Park, who presented the plans, told supervisors he hopes contracts for the first stage of the project—the six-story central court tower—can be let by April 17, 1957.

He said this part of the structure, at an estimated cost of $2,500,000, should be finished by October 15, 1958.

The total structure, he said, will

Foundation Will Cite Grinnell's Head as Outstanding Music Store Merchant

Jack J. Wainger, president of Grinnell Bros. and Pontiac's WKC Inc., will be cited as the nation's outstanding music store merchant by the Brand Names Foundation at a banquet in New York City tonight.

Wainger will be among 24 merchants who will be awarded bronze plaques in recognition of their achievements in presenting manufacturers' advertised brands to the public during 1955.

An audience of 1,700 leaders of government, industry and retailing are expected to gather in the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel to witness the presentations and to listen to a keynote address by Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

Ninety-six others will receive certificates in the 24 categories considered in the annual competition.

One of the WKC store's three founders, Wainger assumed control of Grinnell Bros. in April of 1955. The music store chain has 30 branches in Michigan, Ohio and Ontario.

JACK J. WAINGER

The 48-year-old merchant began his business career in Pontiac in 1928 when he and two partners, David Kessler and E. W. Coggan, established WKC. Wainger later bought complete ownership of the department store.

The Grinnell chain, under Wainger's leadership, last year was named "Top Brand Music Store" in the U. S. by the Brand Names Foundation.

Now a resident of Detroit, Wainger formerly lived in Pontiac for 15 years. He holds a major interest in the Pontiac State Bank Building.

Winners in the 1956 Brand Names competition represent 88 cities in 36 states and the District of Columbia.

Warden Describes Riots of 1952

Bannorr Speaks to Kiwanis Units

Convict Called Product of Bad Home Conditions by Prison Leader

Eighty per cent of the 6,000 convicts at Southern Michigan Prison would not be there if they had the proper kinds of backgrounds, Warden William H. Bannon told 150 Kiwanians at the area's Inter-Club-Rama in the Elks Temple yesterday.

The head of the world's largest walled prison said the additions of new laws or police are of no use in stopping crime if training is not started in the home.

The lack of family and religious tutoring has caused trouble for the majority of prisoners, according to Bannon.

The warden cited the unsuccessful use of child psychology, too-strict school curriculums, and failure to discuss sex with children as some of the chief reasons for their going wrong.

He mentioned the lack of attention as another major factor with so many parents working today. "You have to have them under control to do anything with them," explained Bannon.

Bannon said many improvements have been made and there has been very little trouble at the prison since the infamous riots of 1952. Chief among these has been the construction of new buildings to make it possible to better segregate the criminals.

"I was never so scared before in my life," the veteran penal officer told his audience in describing the terror of the riot days.

The warden told in detail how the convicts wrecked everything they could get hold of, raided the commissary and were having picnics in the yard. He said only the threat of being fired on the spot sent his guards into action after they had first refused to carry out his order to clear the yards.

With all the trouble he has gone through with convicts, Bannon can recall several "happy moments." He mentioned the Flint tornado of 1953 when the men gave more in donations per capita from their 15-cents-a-day allowance than the average citizen.

Another example he cited was when the inmates raised enough money to send a fellow prisoner home for his mother's funeral with an additional $250 contributed to help cover funeral expenses.

Jack Niggeman, President of the host Downtown Pontiac Club, presided at the luncheon meeting. The West Pontiac, North Pontiac and West Bloomfield clubs were the others taking part. A total of seven clubs in the division were represented.

Warden Bannon was introduced by Past President Harcourt Patterson.

A loitering man, about 30 years old, is suspected in the theft of an office-worker's billfold from the National Building yesterday, Pontiac police said.

The employe, Mrs. Betty Dousey, 4616 Rockcroft Rd., told them the billfold was filched from a desk while she was out of the office. There was $10 in it, she said.

probably cost about $5,500,000, and may be completed between 1962 and 1965.

Top floor of the central tower will be devoted to a legal library, Schone said, adding that his committee felt first estimates of storage space needed could probably be cut by 40 per cent.

He said use of microfilm equipment and adoption of a record retention system would enable the cut.

The third and fourth floors of the building, he said, will be used for probate and juvenile courts and offices. Six circuit court rooms, judges' offices and jury rooms will occupy the first and second floors.

Schone said space is planned for six circuit courts and three juvenile and probate courts, although at present only one probate and four circuit court rooms are needed. He said the extra rooms could be used for county offices while the remainder of the structure is being built.

On the ground floor, he said, will be rooms for the prosecuting attorney, jury committee and assignment clerk, with a detention room for prisoners awaiting trial. Elevators, public lavatories and staircases are included.

Doctors Begin New Survey on Effect of Fluoridation

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—A team of doctors has begun a study to determine the effect among children who started drinking fluoridated water here after their permanent teeth appeared.

* * *

Grand Rapids was the first city in the United States in which the federal government, with local cooperation, set up a control area using fluorides in water as a means of protecting teeth. Nearby Muskegon, which was not fluoridated, was the other part of the control.

The team is composed of Dr. Richard L. Hayes and Dr. Norman W. Littleton, Bethesda, Md., of the National Institute of Health, U. S. Public Health Service; and Mrs. Virginia L. DeBois, local Public Health Service field representative.

They are examining students who were in the first grade and who developed six-year molars when fluoridation was started here in 1944-45.

BENEFITS OTHERS

Dr. Hayes said, "We believed at first that the benefits of fluoridation would be shown only by those who started taking the fluorides at birth, but we discovered that the benefits extended to those whose teeth had not erupted but were in process of formation.

"Now we think there may be benefit to those whose teeth already had erupted when fluoridation started," he added. "That's what we are trying to find out now."

Dr. Hayes said if the group finds that there is posteruptive effects of fluoridation there will be a basis for further study to determine whether adults also receive protection from fluoridation.

* * *

A similar examination of students in Muskegon will take place. These students will be compared with the Grand Rapids group. Larger development of decay would be expected in Muskegon if the fluoridation had an effect on the local group, Dr. Hayes said.

* * *

Earlier studies on children who started fluorides at birth showed an average of 60 per cent freedom from dental cares while those who started during formation of permanent teeth showed a 25 to 50 per cent effect.

Prince Weds Grace in Civil Ceremony

couple are married now according to French and Monacan law, but for the Catholic Church they will not be wed "in the eyes of God" until the church rites.

HONEYMOON CRUISE

Later tomorrow the couple will sail on the Prince's yacht for a Mediterranean honeymoon cruise.

There was no special reason why both civil and religious ceremonies could not have been held the same day, as they often are, but this marriage is a great event for Monaco and Monacans are living it up.

* * *

By a 1918 treaty, Monaco would become French and Monacans subject to French taxes and the French draft if Rainier died without issue.

The new Princess looked delighted and happy, but certainly a little dazed. She took a glass of champagne with three American reporters who were invited to the private apartment afterward. They wished her happiness. She smiled and replied and Prince Rainier came up and was also toasted.

CROWDS CHEER

After a round of champagne in the little apartment on the ground floor of the palace overlooking the Mediterranean, the bridal couple came out on the balcony to be cheered by about 2,000 tourists and Monacans gathered in the plaza.

* * *

Both the Prince and Grace waved and smiled repeatedly to the cheering throng.

Just as they stepped out on the balcony, the sun came out for the first time today. Before the sky had been gray and clouded, threatening rain.

MANY DUTIES

For the Prince and Princess, the marriage ceremony was only a part of the work of the day. A lunch for the diplomatic delegations to the wedding followed the ceremony.

In the afternoon the people of Monaco were welcomed to a garden reception at the palace.

* * *

Tonight the couple were to go to a gala in the Opera House sheltered in the casino. The program includes a series of ballet numbers by the London Festival Ballet and the Paris Opera companies. Its high point is a boogie-woogie type of ballet expressing a youthful welcome to Princess Grace of Monaco.

Would-Be Burglar Runs When Glass Door Breaks

A burglar apparently was scared off when the glass door of a market at 183 Edison St. completely shattered in an attempted break-in Monday night, Pontiac police said.

The thief probably was trying to chip a small hole near the lock, they said. The owner, Maurice Croteau, of 112 Marquette St. said the door cost $77.

Group Set to Submit Amendment

Election Battle Shaping Up on Legalization of Bingo

LANSING (AP) — Another election battle over legalizing bingo was shaping up today as a group prepared to submit a proposed constitutional amendment to the State Board of Canvassers.

* * *

A proposal to legalize lotteries conducted by non-profit charitable organizations was defeated at the November 1954 election after a bitter fight between church groups and supporters.

Attorneys for the Michigan Association of Non-Profit Charitable Organizations Inc., which sponsored the 1954 proposal, got informal approval of the petitions from the state elections division yesterday.

Robert Montgomery, state elections director, said the group would submit the petitions to the State Board of Canvassers Friday.

"There is no requirement that they do so, but some of these groups feel it wise to get state approval of the petitions before they circulate them," Montgomery explained.

The proposal offered by the group this year differs in one important respect from the 1954 amendment. It is clearly worded to prevent any gambling receipts from reaching the hands of private operators.

LIMITS GAMBLING

It also limits legalized gambling to bingo and semi-annual raffles conducted by church, veterans and fraternal groups.

"Sponsors of the proposal feel that they can eliminate much of the opposition by spelling out in more detail what types of gambling would be permitted," Montgomery said.

The proposed amendment says no funds can go to "private profit or gain." All receipts must be applied to and intended for "charitable, civic, educational, fraternal, religious philanthropic, religious or other like purposes."

The 1954 proposal gave the legislature broad powers to allow lotteries for "non-profit charitable organizations." It was defeated by some 41,000 votes.

* * *

If the bingo proposal and other constitutional amendments appear on the ballot this fall, voters will be confronted with an unusual amount of fine print.

Bold Task Faces Dag in Mideast

Must Convince Israel's Premier Ben-Gurion of Border Plan Truce

JERUSALEM (INS)—Dag Hammarskjold faced a major hurdle today in his efforts to win the approval of Premier David Ben-Gurion for his plan to reduce tension on the Israeli-Egyptian border.

The U.N. secretary general was expected to ask Ben-Gurion to agree to pull Israeli forces from the border, a proposal approved last week by Egyptian Premier Gamal Abdel Nasser.

The pullback distance believed suggested by Hammarskjold is 500 meters (1,640 feet).

Similar suggestions in the past have been turned down cold by the Israelis.

The Israelis were equally unenthusiastic about the idea of reducing their armed forces stationed on the border unless they receive definite proof that such semi-military organizations as the Egyptian Feyadeen (suicide squads) are to be put out of business.

However, most observers believe that despite her misgivings Israel will go along with Hammarskjold's proposals to reduce border tension rather than risk the appearance of being an aggressor.

Soviet Explains Cominform End

Pravda Makes Clear That Action Does Not Change Aims

MOSCOW (AP)—Pravda made it clear today the dissolution of the Cominform—the international organization of Communist parties—does not represent any change in Communist aims.

* * *

The Soviet party organ served notice that party organizations in the various countries will find new "beneficial forms for their mutual ties and coordination of their activities."

OFFICIAL STORY

Pravda made the comment in connection with the official announcement of the dissolution, carried this morning by all Communist papers in East and West Europe.

* * *

First word in Moscow of the move came yesterday from Deputy Soviet Premier A. I. Mikoyan.

The official announcement said the purpose was to "overcome the division of the workers' party." This was a frank reference to Moscow's desire for establishment of united fronts between Europe's Socialists and Communists, as well as to the Stalin-time split between Yugoslavia and the Soviet bloc.

* * *

The expansion of the Socialist system beyond the Soviet Union's borders, it added, had carried new conditions.

$9 Million County Budget Accepted by Supervisors

Oakland County's Board of Supervisors yesterday accepted the $9,035,485 county budget for 1957 tax allocation purposes. The vote was unanimous.

The budget represents a 15.2 per cent increase over 1956 spending, and calls for $7,415,253.80 to be raised by taxation. Most County departments will receive increases.

Robert Y. Moore, chairman of the Board of Auditors, said Monday he hopes increased assessment values in the County, mainly due to population increases, will cover the budget increases.

"But at most, the individual taxpayer's load won't be increased by more than 10 or 12 cents per thousand dollars of assessed valuation," Moore said.

* * *

The Board voted to change its by-laws to allow its Buildings and Grounds Committee to use county appraisers when others are not immediately available.

Supervisors also decided to reject all bids for the proposed new animal shelter and launch a further study of the project with a view to cutting costs.

Sale of some parcels of county land was voted, and a request for county land on the Tuberculosis Sanatorium site to build a fire hall for Union Lake volunteers was denied.

A report of crowded conditions in the County Children's Home was referred to the Board of Auditors for study. A further report was promised.

* * *

Supervisors took no action on a report by Buildings and Grounds Chairman Harry W. Horton on the proposed Central Garage Building at the new courthouse site.

Horton said cost estimates of the garage, equipment and servicing unit and 120-car storage unit came to $391,000. He said his committee is attempting to reduce the figure.

Supervisors approved a report on the County Tuberculosis Sanatorium which recommended replacement of the building's main boilers and renovation of the main kitchen.

Elmer Kephart, chairman of the Tuberculosis Sanatorium Committee, told supervisors the kitchen renovation was being postponed pending a study by the health committee of general building use.

Kephart said his committee found the buildings in "fair condition."

Robert Girardin Accepts Recreation Chief's Post

BIRMINGHAM—Robert E. Girardin, 28, of Mt. Clemens, has accepted the post of recreation director here.

His letter accepting the Recreation Board offer of last week was received yesterday. He will begin work May 14.

A year and a half as recreation director for Metropolitan Beach is the experience that most impressed the board members, according to the board's chairman. He has a BS in education and recreation from Michigan State University and is working towards a masters in public administration at Wayne University.

He taught in Lansing for some time, and his wife taught here one year. The family, including children, David and Catherine, will probably remain in Mt. Clemens with Girardin commuting.

The post created last fall with a salary shared by city commission and board of education, has been vacant since a director quit in February after working only two weeks.

* * *

The Board of Education last night cleared the way to institute two classrooms next fall for mentally retarded children. County funds will be used for the project outlined last night by a parents group and endorsed by Dr. Paul Carter of the school staff.

Teachers salaries have been increased by from $300 to $400 overall. Beginning teachers with BA degrees have been raised from $3900 to $4200 for next year. This is added to the regular $150 yearly raise.

Top salaries now are $6600 for BA holders and $6800 for MA holders.

* * *

The proposed merger of Congregational churches with those of another denomination will be discussed from both viewpoints at the First Congregational Church tomorrow at 8 p.m.

Dr. Philip Saries of Mayflower Church and the Rev. Irwin Britten of Wayne church will talk and Clint Newman will be moderator.

George Lewis

Service for George Lewis, 54, of 564 Ridgedale Ave., will be at 2 p.m. Friday, in the Manley-Bailey Funeral Home here, with burial in Acacia Park Cemetery.

Mr. Lewis, a Birmingham resident since 1934, was superintendent of outdoor advertising for the Socony Mobil Oil Co. He was a member of River Rouge Lodge 511, F&AM, and of the Multi Lakes Conservation Club.

Surviving besides his wife, Wanda Adams Lewis, are two daughters, Jerry, at home and Mrs. Doris L. Lauhart of Nowaga, Okla.; a son, Edward H. Midworth of Dearborn; and two sisters, Mrs. Lawrence LeGrady of Muskegon and Mrs. Marcus Ward of Detroit.

Monaco Notes: Dowry, Tulips and Rolls-Royce

MONTE CARLO (INS) — The father of the bride, John B. Kelly, laughed heartily today when told of a French newspaper report that he gave Prince Rainier III a dowry of $4,285,742.

"Poppycock," he snorted. "There is absolutely no dowry."

* * *

One thousand pigeons, the gift of the Alpes Maritimes Pigeon Club, will be released outside the Cathedral of Monaco after the religious ceremony Thursday.

* * *

Queen Juliana and Prince Bernhard of the Netherlands will give Rainier and his bride a large vase as a wedding gift. What will be inside? Tulips, of course.

* * *

The Prince and Grace Kelly also will get a Rolls-Royce automobile, a gift of the principality. Two English chauffeurs have taken turns driving the newest model across France to Monaco. It's a two-tone model of shell gray and black.

* * *

The Hotel de Paris is becoming a sightseer's mecca in Monaco. It's where the wedding guests are cloistered. Streets in front are jammed with camera-laden tourists ready to snap pictures of celebrities.

* * *

The marriage is not recognized by the Roman Catholic church until after the religious ceremony tomorrow. Grace will spend the night at the palace and Rainier at his villa at Cap Ferrat.

* * *

Many of the thousands in the tiny principality gathered before television sets, drinking coffee and watching the television version of the civil wedding.

* * *

Rainier insisted again on the eve of today's ceremony that Grace's film career was ended. He wants no continuation of his bride's movie love scenes with Gable, Crosby, Sinatra, Cooper, Grant, Holden, Milland, etc.

Stevenson Rips 'Ballot' Story

Brands News Quote on Convention Landslide 'Wholly Inaccurate'

SOUTHERN PINES, N.C. (UP) — Democratic presidential aspirant Adlai E. Stevenson, scheduled to fly to Pittsburgh from here today, says a news story quoting him as saying he intends to win the nomination on the first ballot was "wholly inaccurate."

* * *

But, said Stevenson, "it is a good idea." He added:

"I don't know much about the history of national conventions, but I doubt if many candidates have been nominated on the first ballot in contested conventions.

* * *

"I've been wracking my brain trying to think of what I might have said to give the young man that impression. If it is a reporter making a prediction, let's hope it comes true."

The report appeared in Monday papers after an interview here.

The Democratic party's 1952 standard bearer will undertake a round of preprimary stumping in Pennsylvania today and tomorrow.

* * *

Stevenson will go to Washington this weekend to address the American Society of Newspaper Editors at a Saturday luncheon session, his Chicago office said.

Stevenson had taken a four-day rest at the farm home here of his sister, Mrs. Ernest Ives.

Why Be Burned? Gulp Sun-Dried Fruit Tree Pill

FLORENCE, Ariz. (UP)—A little pill made from sun-drenched fruit trees is being studied in the desert here to determine whether it has the power to prevent sunburn.

* * *

Scientists from the University of Arizona and the University of Oregon hope the drug, psoralen, will speed the sometimes painful process of tanning.

Psoralen, derived from fig and citrus trees, has been used by the Egyptians for centuries to deepen skin pigmentation.

* * *

Last year the scientists realized they were a long way from success when eight volunteer convicts at the state prison here sen to the hospital with severe sunburn.

But Dr. Thomas B. Fitzpatrick, University of Oregon dermatologist said he is encouraged by the latest results.

Ferry Skipper Honored

PORT HURON (UP)—Capt. Thomas A. Brown of Detroit, senior captain of the Chesapeake & Ohio Railroad's carferry fleet, was honored at a luncheon marking his retirement after 30 years' service. Brown, who formerly lived in Port Huron, estimates he made more than 30,000 trips between the United States and Canada.

House Okays Manistee for Jet Air Base Site

If taxpayers are to be saved waste of $500,000 and another year's delay in the construction of Michigan's new jet air base, House-Senate conferees will have to do it.

This seems to be the inescapable effect of House action approving the base's shift from Kalkaska to Manistee. The vote of 85-52 defeated an amendment to the $2.156 billion military construction bill offered by Rep. FORD, Grand Rapids Republican, to keep the Kalkaska site which is in Rep. KNOX's district.

In support of his amendment Rep. Ford pointed out that the original decision to move to Manistee would result in a loss of $500,000 already spent on the Kalkaska site. He also presented figures to show the Manistee base would cost more to construct and operate.

The House debate made it appear there was more interest in "rescuing a lady in distress" than there was in saving the taxpayers money and getting the jet base commissioned. The lady in distress is Rep. RUTH THOMPSON of Whitehall.

★ ★ ★

According to Rep. HOFFMAN of Allegan, former Air Force Secretary TALBOTT had mistreated her by first designating a site in her district and then changing his mind. As a result the fight has dragged along for 26 months.

There isn't any doubt about the enthusiasm with which the lawmakers went to Miss THOMPSON's aid. It was an excellent rescue job but very bad government. One can only hope that if this issue should come before House-Senate conferees, common sense and reason will prevail.

Expert Sees Big Gains for Automobile Makers

Anyone in doubt as to the future of the automotive industry and our national economy, should study the views of STAHRL EDMUNDS.

Manager of economic studies for the Ford Motor Co. Mr. EDMUNDS told 200 finance company executives in Ann Arbor that the automobile industry will boost its annual income to $16 billion in 10 years. Ten per cent of this increase, he said, will come from persons wanting more from their cars in the way of accessories and size.

★ ★ ★

In addressing the National Consumer Credit Conference Mr. EDMUNDS added that part of the increase will come from the sale of more cars to an increasing number of U. S. families. Still more will come from a rise in the number of two car families.

That has been evident ever since the rapid gain in suburban living began. For example, in 1950 there were 1,500,000 two car families. Today the demands of suburban living have increased that number to 4,300,000.

★ ★ ★

Anyone who has watched the development of Southeastern Michigan isn't likely to question the prediction that the Nation will have 10,000,000 two car families by 1965. Rather, he will be inclined to agree with Mr. Edmunds that prospects for the automotive industry for the next ten years look bright indeed.

Slavery in Arabia

It must come as a shock to a nation which less than a century ago fought a civil war to abolish slavery, to learn that that iniquitous institution is flourishing in Saudi Arabia.

According to the Manchester (England) Guardian, the traffic in human beings not only is growing but the price of slaves is soaring. Prices are said to range from 40 pounds for an old woman and 150 pounds for a strong young man, to 400 pounds for a young girl.

★ ★ ★

Chief factor in stimulating slavery is the wealth that comes from Saudi Arabia's oil wells. At present it is believed there are a half million slaves in the country. A wealthy man may own as many as 40 and there is evidence that some of them are mistreated.

Many of the slaves have been captured in Oman, Southeast Arabia. Others are being transported from Baluchistan and equatorial Africa under the pretense that they are being taken on pilgrimages.

★ ★ ★

Except for Bahrein, Kuwait, Qatar and a few small sheikdoms, there are no anti-slavery laws in Arabia. Fortunately, this spread of human bondage has brought a protest to the United Nations by Secretary C. W. W. GREENIDGE for the Anti-Slavery Society. One at least can hope that this eventually may lead to efforts at corrective action.

David Lawrence Says:

Presidents Need More Vacation Time and Absences From Washington Hubbub

WASHINGTON — The horse-and-buggy days have long since gone but, judging from some recent comments criticizing President Eisenhower for not staying in Washington during a flare-up in the Middle East, it might be supposed that some people do not know that the airplane and the telegraph and the telephone make it unnecessary for any chief executive to remain in the national capital all the time.

As a matter of fact, those who wanted President Eisenhower to cancel his recent trip to Augusta, Ga., didn't realize that such a step would in itself have set off an alarm around the world. Stock markets would have been affected, and nervousness about a new call-up of the draft would have ensued.

For some years now it has been well known in Washington that only one man—the President—has the authority to order use of the atomic bomb in case of sudden attack. Naturally, if a president goes from city to city, as he has to do occasionally during his term of office, arrangements have to be made for instantaneous communication with him. These have always been carefully planned to meet any emergency operation.

ALWAYS IN CONTACT

Wherever the President goes, there are telephone or radio contacts and he can even be reached aboard a plane and hold a conversation with his subordinates while traveling in the air. When Eisenhower goes to Augusta, he has the same set-up on a communication basis that President Truman had at Key West, Fla., during the Korean War—and there were some acute phases in that war.

The telephone and telegraph lines are private. They are for the use only of the President and they connect continuously with the White House telephone switchboard and with the telegraph room there. The same preparations are made many weeks in advance whenever the President is planning a visit to Denver or to any other place across the country where he makes a stop.

The communications equipment at the President's farm at Gettysburg has been established for several months and can be put into operation at a moment's notice. Conferences by telephone nowadays can be held with three or five or more persons at the same time, and two-way conversations are possible among all the participants.

There are folks who think that, when an international situation gets in the headlines, the President should station himself in his office and wring his hands while the photographers take pictures of him "meeting the crisis." The truth is that a president needs time to read the constant flow of messages that come to him from all parts of the world, and he can do a better job of concentration and can think things through with far more objectivity when he is detached from Washington's pressures. Any officials needed for a personal conference can always be summoned in a few hours' flying time.

VACATIONS' CRITICIZED

When Truman went to Key West a few years ago, this correspondent wrote somewhat the same exposition of the presidential communications system and defended Truman from similar criticisms. Unfortunately, there seems to be a tendency to criticize presidents when they try to get some exercise or rest. They never really take vacations except for a few hours at a time.

One thing is rarely publicized. It's that a president often works long into the night and on week ends. The time he spends reading important messages from all over the world and memoranda from his associates is unknown to the public generally—but, whether it's at Augusta or Gettysburg or Denver, the time spent by the President on the golf course is reported.

Also, if he tosses out the first ball at the opening of the baseball season, it's widely covered—and, of course, if he doesn't go to the opening game, it offends the fans. Yet the time he spends at his desk during the day or in his bedroom at night reading official papers never gets into the newspapers. It often means a 50-hour week for him.

It is the pettiest kind of partisanship and narrow-mindedness to criticize any president for taking a vacation or trips away from Washington. It would be better for America if all presidents spent more time traveling around the country rather than tie themselves down to the White House continuously for twelve months a year.

Physical Degeneration Due to Nutritional Deficiency

By WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.

Some days as I sneak out through the patio and head for Elysium, you know, the bowling green, I wonder whether I should quit harping on the theory, concept or notion that chronic joint disability in nine out of ten cases is not arthritis (joint inflammation) but physical degeneration of joint tissues—a condition which I call rheumatiz, (not rheumatism). By the time I arrive at the green, six or eight blocks away, the doubt is generally dispelled and I'm determined to keep hammering away at it.

Physical degeneration, in joint tissues or anywhere else, is due to nutritional deficiency, or as we formerly called it, malnutrition, over a long period, in most instances of chronic joint disability over the period from early childhood.

I say this is the nature of the trouble in nine out of ten cases. Accordingly it is essential in any case of rheumatiz to correct the nutritional deficiences, particularly calcium, iodin, D and B-complex deficiciencies, not for a month or two but from now on. This, I think, is the only effective treatment we have for rheumatiz.

* * *

But one case in every ten of chronic (more than a year in duration) joint disability is not rheumatiz, but arthritis (joint inflammation) due to one or another infection. In these cases of actual arthritis it is the problem of the attending physician to make a diagnosis and determine what treatment is indicated.

To be sure there is plenty of pain and maybe swelling in most cases of rheumatiz, but seldom heat or redness.

Gone is the washerwoman, gone with the great auk and the passenger pigeon. Today Mrs. $350 Snob just drops her nylons and scanties in the machine, sets the dial, watches TV—but she is much more likely to have chronic joint disability than the most "exposed" washerwoman of Osler's day was. There can be no question that even the poor people in the 19th Century were better nourished—had better nutritional condition—than well-to-do people today. I could mention items but I want to keep on teaching you poor souls how to keep well.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Pet Destroyed as Vicious After Fighting Other Dog

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.

Today I stood and watched two men take away my children's dog. How do you explain to ten children why their dog has to be destroyed?

They say he was a vicious dog because he fought with other dogs. Most of the time our dog was kept on a chain. I was gone on the 24th of March on an emergency and the three-year-old girl turned him loose.

He got in a fight with another dog, so they say he is vicious. Last summer he saved my oldest son from drowning. The only time he ever got mean was when strangers got near the children.

I don't blame the men who came for the dog, I want them to know that. But I do blame the two men who swear that he is a mean dog. I can only say that I hope they never have to go through the heartaches of explaining to their children why they had to lose a dog they had loved for almost three years.

'Keeling Takes Chlorine, Poison if Concentrated'

I see Mr. Keeling doesn't want to take "poison against his will." He takes chlorine whether he likes it or not and that's a poison when it's sufficiently concentrated. Maybe there isn't as much personal publicity in opposing other "poisons."

Hammarskjold Must Deal With Varied Strong Men

By JOHN H. MARTIN
INS Foreign Director

U. N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold is dealing with a series of local "strong men" in the tough job of trying to reduce tension in the Middle East.

* * *

He has seen Egyptian Premier Gamal Abdal Nasser, the 38-year-old army colonel who was reared among Egypt's starved peasantry, and is seeing Israeli leaders this week before touring other lands bordering on the Zionist state.

Israeli Premier David Ben-Gurion has just reviewed his troops—the men who will be pitted against the Arabs if Hammarskjold and the U. N. cannot avert war.

Here in brief are sketches of the "strong men" in the Arab-Israeli conflict:

Gamal Abdal Nasser—He is a handsome, mustached revolutionary who has fought the British ever since he was a youth and who still is fighting London's influence throughout the Middle East in his effort to become leader of an Islamic world.

He worked behind the "front" of Maj. Gen. Mohammed Naguib to overthrow the pudgy King Farouk, then deposed Naguib in 1954.

SHREWD LEADER

Ben Gurion—Israel's Premier was born in Poland 69 years ago and has worked for the Zionist cause for most of his life. This shrewd, tough man was Israel's first premier. He went into retirement in 1953 but went back into government harness again more than a year ago.

* * *

Moshe Sharett—Israel's foreign minister was premier during Ben-Gurion's brief retirement. He was born Moshe Shertok in Russia 61 years ago, went to Palestine at the age of 10 and is fluent in Arabic as well as other languages. He has pleaded vainly thus far for American arms to balance the Communist flow of weapons to Egypt.

Shukri Kuwatly—The three-time Syrian President, 61, led the fight against the French for independence and is a stalwart backer of the Arab League, which Egypt is leading.

He is teamed with Nasser and the anti-British King Saud Ibn of Saudi Arabia in a military alliance. He was tossed out of office during his second presidential term and went to exile in Egypt.

He returned and won re-election last August and is credited with putting pressure on Jordan to stay out of the Baghdad Pact.

BRITISH INFLUENCE

King Hussein I—The 21-year-old Jordanian monarch fired veteran British Lt. Gen. John Bagot Glubb as commander of the Jordanian army, the Arab Legion, in cutting down British influence in his small, impoverished country.

His is a very risky job. The British-educated King is torn between old British ties and the fiery Arab nationalism fostered by Egypt.

* * *

Hussein, who is brown-haired and dark-eyed, is a cousin of King Faisal II of Iraq, the only Arab nation that is a member of the Baghdad Pact and which is a rival of Egypt for leadership of the Arab world.

Sin is the most unmanly thing in God's world. You never were made for sin and selfishness. You were made for love and obedience. —J. G. Holland.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Adolescents Must Learn Early to Pay Own Way, Whether at Home or Away

Les had a problem. His daughter quit school and got a good job. So should he charge her for board and room? He didn't actually need the money, but was it fair to subsidize her with free rent and groceries? You young folks might well discuss this at high school or Sunday School.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case R-333: Les M., aged about 42, has a daughter who attended college two years.

"But, Dr. Crane, she decided to drop out and go to work," he began.

* * *

"She was offered a pleasant job that paid her $65 per week and she argued that she was tired of such a constant diet of schooling.

"Besides, she could save money to go back to the university a year or two later on.

"Well, her mother and I agreed to her plan but then we were confronted with the dilemma of what to do about charging her for board and room.

"It wasn't that we had any mercenary designs on her earnings, but we felt it wasn't fair for an able bodied, high salaried person to live on parental subsidies.

"So we evolved the plan of charging her $10 per week, which I deposited in a Building and Loan fund.

"I then told her that if she went back to college, her mother and I would return the full sum to her for college expenses.

"But if she failed to return to college, then we'd keep the money as a proper charge for board and room.

* * *

"She agreed. But after paying us $450, she got married, so we kept her board and room money. Dr. Crane, don't you think that was right?"

LIFE IS A GAME

Yes, indeed, for life is a game with very definite rules. And one of its cardinal stipulations is that you must pay your way if you wish to live as an independent adult.

If a teenager quits high school or college and gets a good job, but still lives at home where Mom acts as laundress, cook and landlord, then that young person should pay her the conventional charge for such services.

"Dr. Crane, our boy is 19 and working in a factory. He makes $60 a week," a mother recently explained.

"But he is buying a new car. And what he doesn't spent on it, he squanders on dates with his girl friends.

* * *

"He has worked almost a year and hasn't offered us a cent for board and room. When I finally suggested he pay $10 per week, he got angry and threatened to move out. What should we do?"

Call his bluff at once! It is unfair to coddle such an overgrown baby. It simply defers his becoming an emotional adult. It prolongs his juvenility.

You parents are not hardhearted or callous if you insist that your employed children pay adequate board and room fees, especially if they are not saving their money for college.

HOT ROD BABIES

A lot of young fellows nowadays want to show off to their girls by buying cars and gunning the motor like hot rod drivers, yet they are at the infantile or diaper stage at home where Mamma still must fend for them and foot the bills for food and shelter.

If you young folks want to be treated as adults out in public then it is high time you acted like adults in private.

* * *

If you aren't paying board and room to your parents, regardless of whether they are millionaires or average folks, then you are welching.

You are still a diaper personality economically. And don't gripe about a $10 board and room charge. See what the conventional price is in your locality.

It runs around $20 to $25 in most places nowadays and they don't throw in laundry service, sewing, ironing and all the extras you get from your own mother.

So get hep to the rules of the game. If you want to be treated as a man, then pay your way like a man.

Send for my "Budget Booklet," enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus 20 cents. It shows you how to handle money like an adult.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

'Little Nikki' Arrives With Red Party Bosses

LONDON (AP)—The Soviet Embassy confirmed today reports that one member of the Bulganin-Khrushchev party to Britain is a baby Russian bear.

* * *

He is a gift for somebody, but the embassy spokesman wouldn't say for whom.

London newspapers broke out in a rash of speculation on who gets the bear? Prime Minister Eden, Prince Charles and Sir Winston Churchill were early favorites in the betting.

LITTLE NIKKI

The bear, a 2½-month-old cub named Nikki, arrived in a crate Monday aboard a Soviet jetliner that brought advance members of the Russian entourage.

He is so young he takes only milk," an embassy official said. "He is so small, so small."

* * *

Pets imported into Britain normally have to be quarantined for six months to make sure they have no contagious diseases. But the Russian cub was taken direct to the embassy.

* * *

"Bears do not necessarily have to go into quarantine," an officer of the Royal Society For Prevention of Cruelty to Animals said diplomatically.

"UNDESIRABLE"

VATICAN CITY (AP)—The Vatican views the Bulganin-Khrushchev visit to Britain as "inopportune and undesirable."

This comment was made by the Vatican radio, which said the Christian world "especially resents" honors being showered on persons it blames for the persecution of the Roman Catholic Church in Communist countries.

NEW AMBASSADOR—Livingston Merchant, assistant secretary of state for European affairs, has been nominated by President Eisenhower as the new U. S. ambassador to Canada.

Proclaim Week for City MOMS and Their Work

Mayor William W. Donaldson proclaimed this week MOMS of America Week in Pontiac and called upon citizens to support the work of this organization.

"Splendid work to strengthen morale of men in service is being performed by mothers of the men in service (MOMS of America).

"In our own state this group is raising funds and seeking through personal service to care for the needs of veterans in 27 hospitals, assist in occupational therapy, aid in the care of hospitalized veterans' families and to do whatever is needed to further the work of the USO," the proclamation said.

This week was set aside to emphasize the part that is being played and the need that is being met in this manner by these women, Mayor Donaldson proclaimed.

A typical diesel locomotive contains 70,000 parts.

Germans Seek 40-Hour Week

Campaign for Shorter Day Without Reduction in Take-Home Pay

BONN, Germany (AP)—Millions of West German workers are campaigning for a 40-hour work week without a reduction in take-home pay.

* * *

They argue that they deserve more leisure after years of hard work building up the war-shattered economy. They contend the same money for less work should be paid as their share of the country's prosperity.

CALLED IMPOSSIBLE

Employers reply it is impossible to reduce working hours until productivity is stepped up. Unless each man produced more in fewer working hours, there would be fewer goods made or higher prices, they say.

* * *

The test case for heavy industry will be the outcome of the present negotiations of the powerful Ruhr Metal Workers' Union for a new working contract. The present agreement expires April 30.

* * *

The Metal Workers are not asking for an across-the-board raise in wages. But they want improved conditions, including longer vacations and other fringe benefits. They have included for the first time the demand for a shorter work week. If the Metal Workers break the employers' resistance, other industries would be compelled to follow suit.

NOW 48 HOURS

The standard work week in German industry is now 48 hours except for underground miners, who work 45 hours. Including overtime, the metal workers now work an average of 56 hours. In shipbuilding, the work week is sometimes as much as 60 hours. The metal workers propose a step-by-step reduction in hours, leading toward an eventual five-day, 40-hour week.

Rarity: GOP Elected to Louisiana Jury

SHREVEPORT, La. (AP)—A pro-segregation Republican was named to the Caddo Parish Police Jury yesterday, the first Republican to be elected in the Shreveport area since reconstruction days.

Charles T. Beaird 33, defeated Democratic incumbent Thomas P. Fitzgerald. Beaird was one of 14 elected to the police jury in Ward 4.

Beaird polled 5,652 votes to 3,294 for Fitzgerald, an attorney, who favors integration.

Five other Republicans ran for posts on the jury, the parish (county) governing body, but all were defeated.

Garment Maker Faces Questions

Solons to Probe Alleged Buying of Bonds Using Phony Names

WASHINGTON (AP) — Joseph (Joey) Abrams, a garment maker, goes before investigating senators today for questioning about his alleged buying of millions of dollars worth of bonds under phony names.

* * *

The Senate Investigations subcommittee summoned Abrams and others in its search for evidence of possible graft in Army uniform buying in the period 1951-53.

Chairman McClellan (D-Ark) said two of Abrams' former business associates were called to testify in advance of Abrams, once a big producer of uniforms at plants in Brooklyn, N.Y. Robert F. Kennedy, subcommittee counsel, named the two as Murray Berman of Island Park, N.Y., and Harry Hyman of Rockville Centre, N.Y.

* * *

The subcommittee received testimony last week about purchases of government bonds and other securities under various names by Abrams and Herman Kravitz, a rival for government contracts.

Carmine S. Bellino, a subcommittee accountant, has testified he traced interest coupons from bonds purchased by both Abrams and Kravitz into a single bank account, opened by Kravitz in 1953 under the name of E. W. Randal.

McClellan said the subcommittee will demand from both Abrams and Kravitz an accounting of what happened to the bonds. He says he intends to show whether any of the bonds were handed out as bribes.

* * *

Kennedy has said both Abrams and Kravitz have been barred from government contracts since 1953.

Pontiac High School Band to Participate in Festival

The Pontiac High School under the direction of Dale C. Harris will participate in the annual Michigan School Band and Orchestra Festival on Saturday at Michigan State University.

The 90 band members will be among 4,000 other young musicians who will take part in the all-day festival on the East Lansing campus.

The Pontiac group will perform in the University auditorium at 9:45 a.m. They will play a required number for Class AA schools a tone poem, "Mannin Veen" by Wood; a warm up march, Debonair by Royal, composed especially for the Pontiac band and played first at the National Convention of the American School Band Directors' Association in Detroit last December; and a free selection, Fantasy on Themes of Frescobaldi arranged by Mohaupt.

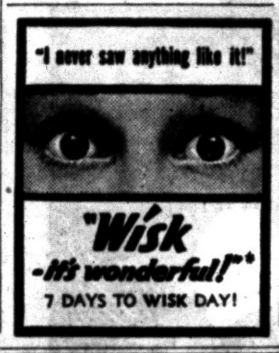
All three of these numbers were played by the band at its annual concert last Thursday. The band will also play two sight reading numbers, music they have never seen before, at the state final festival.

Three adjudicators will evaluate each performance before agreeing upon a final rating. Judges have been drawn from Ohio, Illinois and Oklahoma in addition to Michigan.

The public is invited to attend any of the concert centers. Information about any of the music groups participating will be available at a special desk to be set up in the lobby of the MSU Music Building.

School Erection Begins

GREENVILLE (AP)—Construction has started on the new five-room St. Charles Catholic School here. The school will cost $130,000 and completion is set for next fall.



Poseyville Church Is Damaged by Fire

MIDLAND (AP) — Fire destroyed the interior of the Poseyville Methodist Church Monday night. The church is in a rural area six miles south of Midland.

* * *

Firemen from Freeland, Hemlock and Midland Township fought the blaze for two hours before bringing it under control. Damage was estimated at $20,000.

The fire was believed to have started from the furnace in the basement. The church was built in 1897.

* * *

Because available water supplies were short, firemen used the same water twice. They used a pumper to draw water from the basement that already had been poured onto the fire.

High School Bands Join MSU Annual Festival

EAST LANSING (AP)—More than 4,000 young musicians from 73 Michigan high school bands and orchestras will participate in the Annual Music Festival Saturday at Michigan State University.

* * *

Four auditoriums will sound to music as the high schoolers will perform in a day-long schedule from 8 a.m. to 9 p.m.

The bandsmen, winners of district music festivals, will be rated on their performances by panels of judges. Class C schools will not be represented as they performed last Saturday at Muskegon.

* * *

Leonard V. Falcone, MSU band director and festival chairman, said the gathering of class A and B bands will be the largest ever staged at Michigan State.

Fire Fatality Found

Tot Killed in Collision

IONIA (AP)—Two-year-old Richard Saypher was fatally injured Monday when he was thrown from his father's car in a head-on-collision on an Ionia street. The accident involved cars driven by Keither Sypher, 26, and Chester Barger, 54, both of Ionia. Neither was seriously hurt. Barger, who is superintendent of materials control at the General Motors aircraft plant in Grand Rapids, told police he apparently blacked out and his car swerved across the street.

'Tremendous Appetite'

RIVERSIDE, Calif. (AP)—Jerry Leighton, 2, said he was still hungry after emergency hospital attendants relieved him of a meal of rusty nails, washed down with gasoline. The nails, disclosed by X-ray, were a surprise to everybody but Jerry's mother, Mrs. Betty Leighton. She said her son has "a tremendous appetite." Jerry, evidently undamaged, asked for a cookie as he left the hospital.

DALLAS (AP)—If the thief who stole a violin from the East Dallas Christian Church has any aspirations for a concert career, he is going to be disappointed with his loot. Church officials said the instrument was strung backwards, the D string is knotted, the seams are buckling, and parts fall out when the violin is handled. Besides, the thief left the bow behind.

Canadian Railway Chief Has Horatio Alger History

MONTREAL (AP) — Donald Gordon, 55, whose career reads like a timetable of success, says that being president of Canadian National Railways is a "fascinating job, sometimes a little frightening."

Timidity is not a trait of the six-foot-four, 240-pound CNR chief. A Scottish immigrant newsboy in Toronto at 13, he had a brilliant banking career and became Canada's Wartime Prices boss before taking the CNR throttle in Jan. 1, 1950.

As a financial expert, he found a big problem in his own field when he came to CNR. The publicly-owned system had always hauled an invisible deadweight in the form of inherited old debts.

CNR recently announced a $10,717,600 surplus for 1955 compared with a deficit of $28,700,000 the previous year. Gordon feels that "taking the good years with the bad, we should be able to average out in the black."

Railwaymen see a new vigor throughout the 24,000-mile system with its 110,000 employes, the biggest railway in North America.

"The amount of material that crosses a railway president's desk is frightening," he said. "Our staff training program—courses for promising executives and workers—is close to my heart."

Son of a watchmaker-poet, Gordon was born at Old Meldrum, near Aberdeen. After numerous brushes with the truant officer in Toronto, Donald left school to become a clerk in the bank of Nova Scotia when he was 15, later filling in his formal education at night school.

Here's Why Gruenther Quit Post

By RUTH MONTGOMERY
INS Correspondent

WASHINGTON (INS)—The real reason for the surprise retirement of Gen. Alfred M. Gruenther as Supreme Commander of Allied Forces in Europe can now be told.

* * *

This correspondent has learned from an unimpeachable source that Gruenther prefers a lucrative job with private industry to the chairmanship of the Joint Chiefs of Staff—a post that does not become vacant for another 16 months.

Sidney Weinberg, New York investment banker with the firm of Goldman, Sachs & Co. offered Gruenther a "job in six figures" while the general was in Washington last month.

Besides Continental Can, Weinberg is also a director of General Electric Co., General Foods Corp., B. F. Goodrich Co., Lambert Co., Cluett, Peabody & Co., General Cigar Co., Madison Square Garden Corporation, McKesson & Robbins, National Dairy Products Corp., Champion Paper & Fibre Co. and Van Raalte Co.

The source said Gruenther regards his current NATO post as more important than the chairmanship of the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

GRUENTHER KNOWS

Gruenther should know, since he had a sizable taste of that job in 1947-49. At that time there was no chairman, and Gruenther—as first joint staff director for the three chiefs of staff—exercised many of the duties and responsibilities which now devolve on Chairman Arthur W. Radford.

By terms of the 1947 Unification Act, Gruenther not only coordinated and directed the staff work of the Army, Navy and Air Force, he also sat with the three chiefs and reported directly to the Secretary of Defense.

When Ike became NATO's first commander, he promptly summoned Gruenther to Paris as his chief of staff. One of his early acts after becoming President in 1953 was to promote Gruenther to the Supreme Commandership of NATO.

DISLIKES INTRIGUE

The Pentagon in recent months had been freely predicting Gruenther would become chairman of the joint chiefs at the expiration of Radford's term in August 1957. It will be the turn of the Air Force, if Ike proceeds in rotation between the three services.

An informed source said Gruenther has little taste for the internecine warfare and political hagging involved in the post. He said the general has "absolutely no intention" of going into politics, despite rumors to the contrary.

He also emphatically denied "dope stories" of a rift between Gruenther and Eisenhower. Actually, the two men are unusually close, and when Gruenther was here last month, Ike paid him the unusual compliment of attending a National Advisory Committee meeting to hear Al's off-the-record address. Furthermore, Gruenther is Ike's favorite bridge partner.

A top official explained Gruenther's retirement at the comparatively youthful age of 57 as simply: "Al didn't want to stay on at NATO another 16 months waiting for Radford to resign, and then serve two more years in a job which he regards as a demotion."

"After all," he added, "Al is human. He would like to take life a little easier and make some money for a change—after 40 years in the Army."

Robbery Spree Yields 22 Years for Youth

MOUNT STERLING, Ky. (AP)—Billy Hill, 17-year-old high school senior, received the following sentences when he pleaded guilty to 12 different charges in Circuit Court yesterday:

* * *

Ten years for robbery, two years for carrying concealed a deadly weapon, two years on each of two housebreaking charges, two years on each of two charges of stealing from a school, one year for operating a motor vehicle without the owner's consent, and one year on each of five charges of storehouse breaking.

* * *

The sentences will run concurrently and the youth will be turned over to the Kentucky Youth Authority until he becomes of age.

Wave Proves Youth Is Ambitious

By ANNE HEYWOOD

When I was in my teens, the people I disliked most were those friends of the family who used to carry on about "Young people, today . . ."

* * *

You know the kind of dialogue: How much more self-reliant, decent, sensible, hard-working, virtuous and attractive young people used to be. I vowed that I would never carry on like that when I grew up.

But that was a long time ago. And now I occasionally find myself tempted to compare today's young people unfavorably with my contemporaries who came out during the depression.

I think, "In those days we really had to be good stenographers, good spellers and hard workers; not like these spoiled, lazy . . ." And then I catch myself up and remember the promise I made in my teens.

* * *

Then I remember, too, some of the marvelous young people I've met recently, or from whom I've received letters. Many of them are more self-reliant, harder-working, and more ingenious than I ever was, depression or no.

For example, there's Nancy Lee Crosby.

SHE'S IN THE NAVY

Nancy Lee, whom I met through a Naval Reserve unit, comes from Montana. She is a Wave, 21 years old, knows what she wants and is working hard to get it.

* * *

When Nancy was 14, she lost her father and, for a while, she and her mother and brother knew some lean times.

When she finished high school, she knew it would be impossible to go right to college to study journalism which was what she wanted — so she joined the WAVES. She was only 18.

Eventually she landed a reporting job, but not before she had worked hard at typing and handling all kinds of clerical chores.

She now edits the Third Naval District Reserve Bulletin and is saving her money so that when she is discharged this summer, she'll be able to go to the university.

* * *

It may not be easy, but Nancy doesn't care.

THE ONLY THING

As she explained, "Journalism is the only thing I know and want. As there is just one daily newspaper in my home town, I have an idea the personnel department isn't going to meet me when I step off the train with offers of an after-school job.

"But I've been saving money since the day I enlisted. With my savings, Mother and I should be able to keep going for at least two years. After that, we'll see what happens!"

And if I know Nancy, she'll make good things happen.

Pontiac School Officials Attend Annual Gathering

Incoming and outgoing PTA presidents and principals of their schools were honored at the annual President's Breakfast held Tuesday morning at Pontiac Federal Savings and Loan Building.

Dr. Dana P. Whitmer, superintendent of Pontiac schools; J. Cecil Cox, assistant superintendent of schools; Mrs. Harry E. King, past president of the Michigan Congress of Parents and Teachers and present vice president of the Pontiac Board of Education, and Mrs. Charles Neldrett, vice president of the Michigan Congress of Parents and Teachers, were special guests of the Pontiac Council of PTA.

Past council presidents introduced were Mrs. Frank Schmidt, Mrs. Paul Gorman and Mrs. King.

George Yansen, principal of James Madison Junior High School, gave the invocation.

* * *

Mrs. William Wright, council president, welcomed the group, especially the new presidents, wishing them a successful year in PTA.

STATE GREETINGS

Mrs. Neldrett extended greetings from the Michigan Congress of Parents and Teachers and its board of managers. She stated that the Pontiac PTA Council was the first in the state to hold such a breakfast, and it was planned originally as an occasion to inform and instruct new presidents on the State PTA Convention.

Today it is a social event showing the relationship between the principals of the schools and the PTAS.

* * *

Mrs. King commended the group for constructive projects promoted by the PTA units. She stressed particularly the PTA Teacher Scholarship established through Pontiac PTA Council.

Not only are PTAs recognizing the problem of the teacher shortage, but they are doing something about it. Members are aware of the teacher shortage, and are encouraging their children to enter the teaching profession.

Dr. Whitmer congratulated the group, sending his best wishes for the year of leadership ahead.

"Public education," he said, "always has a crisis, such as expenses of expansion, teachers' salaries, and material and equipment needed. Sometimes emergency measures may have to be taken. The understanding and support of the PTAs are wonderful helps, and with the council to coordinate, a real service is rendered to the community and to education."

Stress Back Panel

As part of the plot to make this spring's narrow silhouette newly appealing is the emphasis on the floating back panel. Hitched to a high waistline, it has very much the look of the little jacket with long tails of the Directoire period and, what's more to the point, offers a relieving line for the back of severely narrow skirts.

Nancy Lee Polasek became the bride of A. Montgomery Haag in a Nuptial Mass Saturday in St. Michael Church. Nancy is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George A. Polasek of Nelson street. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John T. Haag of Los Angeles.

MR. and MRS. A. M. HAAG

Nancy Polasek Becomes Bride in St. Michael Rite

St. Michael Church was the scene of the wedding of Nancy Lee Polasek and A. Montgomery Haag Saturday morning. The 9 o'clock Nuptial Mass was performed by the Rev. William A. Immel.

* * *

For her wedding, Nancy wore a gown of lace over satin designed and made for her by Mrs. Omer DeConinck. Her fingertip veil fell from a crown headpiece trimmed with seed pearls and iridescent sequins. Her only jewelry was a single strand of pearls.

She carried a bridal bouquet of white roses and carnations centered with a white orchid.

Nancy is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George A. Polasek of Nelson street. Mr. and Mrs. John T. Haag of Los Angeles are his parents.

A gown of ice blue taffeta with an extended waistline and a lace off-the-shoulder neckline was worn by maid of honor Katherine A. Bentham. She carried a cascade bouquet of pink carnations.

Bridesmaid Janet English, cousin of the bride, wore a Dior blue gown fashioned like the maid of honor's. They both wore headpieces of azalea pink carnations and roses.

GOWNED IN BLUE

Suzanne Polasek, sister of the bride, was flower girl. She wore a dress of light blue nylon net over taffeta and carred pink feathered carnations in a cascade bouquet that matched the flowers in her hair.

* * *

George Polasek Jr., brother of the bride, was best man. Groomsman was Harvey Morse of Detroit. Seating the guests were Raymond Polasek and Michael Owen.

For the reception held in the Auburn Heights Community Hall, Mrs. Polasek greeted her guests wearing a gray suit with navy blue accessories and a corsage of pink roses.

Mrs. Haag wore a dark dahlia-hued suit with white accessories and a pink carnation corsage.

* * *

The bride changed to a dusty rose suit with patent accessories and the orchid from her bridal bouquet for traveling to Lake Mead, Nev. The newlyweds will make their home in Los Angeles.

Your husband's clothes need wider, heavier hangers than yours. Never put his suits and jackets on wire hangers; they'll strech out of shape.

American Folk Art to Keynote Museum Exhibit

American Folk Art is the keynote for the new exhibit which opens at the Henry Ford Museum Friday.

* * *

A great variety of objects fashioned by the common man in everyday life will be featured. The exhibits will cover a 200 year period, dating from an elaborately decorated chest fashioned by an unknown craftsman in 1685.

Folk art will be displayed in more than a dozen categories, ranging from quilts and samplers to ironwork and early trade signs. Shown in addition to hand fashioned items will be a selection of manufactured objects that have retained the spirit of the folk artist.

The exhibit will continue at the Museum through Sunday, May 20. Regular visiting hours of 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. daily will be observed throughout this period.

Dessert Luncheon Enjoyed by Group

A dessert luncheon was held at the church Friday by members of the September-October group of First Presbyterian Church. Mrs. E. L. Page, Mrs. Margaret Curvin and Mrs. Charles Allen were hostesses.

The meeting was opened with a reading from the Book of Ephesians. Mrs. William Kreklow gave the devotions. Mrs. H. M. Learned read from "The Gift Is Rich," a study of the American Indian.

Plans were made by the group to assist at the Presbyterian meeting in May.

There's a new "travel toothbrush" out for tourists who really want to conserve packing space.

It's a full-size brush which doubles back into its own handle for traveling, making it only a little bigger than a lipstick when packed into its "case." The turquoise case has air vents to prevent the brushing from staying soggy.

How to Rinse Away Your Blackheads

New York, N. Y.—A leading skin doctor today showed an audience of men, women and skin-troubled teenagers how to clean oily skin and shrink enlarged pores with a 10-minute home medical treatment he has perfected. Then he demonstrated how you may rinse away externally caused blackheads, whiteheads and dry up adolescent pimply skin eruptions.

Before our very eyes the doctor selected a 36-year-old woman with typically oily skin. This woman had blackheads around her nose, enlarged pores and whiteheads visible to the naked eye. To this woman's face the doctor applied a cream. Within moments it firmed into a plastic-like mask. Next he sprinkled her face with water, and handed her an ordinary washcloth to rinse the mask from her skin. To her utter astonishment, clinging to the washcloth were not only grimy streaks of dirt... but several blackheads which had marred her beauty for years.

As we stared at the washcloth in disbelief, the doctor's assistant turned to us and said: "You have just seen what looks like a miracle. Yet, what has just been done for this woman's skin, you can do at home just as easily. But to understand how this formula acts to help clear skin troubles you must first knock out of your head some silly notions most people have about their complexions."

The Truth About Cosmetics

Has it ever occurred to you that you lavish more care on your face than any other part of your body ...yet isn't that where you find the most pimples, blackheads, blemishes and enlarged pores? So what do you do about it?

Nine out of 10 women simply don't or won't understand that if they have oily skins, blackheads, pimples or enlarged pores, they may not only have a cosmetic problem... but a medical problem as well.

Now why is this so? Shocking as it seems, if nature gave you either a normal or oily skin, your face is always dirty! Why? Because 24 hours a day your face is always exposed to soot, smoke, factory dirt, car exhaust, coal dust, noxious fumes and other germ-laden dirt that pours into the air. It clings to the natural oils of your skin.

Your pores become choked and clogged. Your natural oils are stopped up and hardened into blackheads or pimples. They try to push out, forcing your pores to open wider and wider. Once this condition starts (especially during adolescence, when glandular disturbances make your skin extra oily) the condition usually grows worse and worse as you grow older. And when this happens... isn't it obvious that it may become impossible to correct unless you start to change your complexion care immediately?

Do This For A Cleaner Skin

If you want to rid your face of ugly blackheads, enlarged pores and externally caused skin eruptions, these are the three things you must do:

First you must soften the hardened dirt and oils that may have accumulated in your pore openings! Second, you must remove that dirt. (But don't squeeze it out. Squeezing only forces part of the dirt deeper into your skin.) And third, you must try to tighten your skin with shrinking and antiseptic agents, not only for beauty, but to guard you against reinfection! And unless you are prepared to do all three things, it's likely you will go on wasting your time and your money the rest of your life looking for "miracle cures!"

What Happens When You Apply This Doctor's 3-Way Formula

First to prepare your skin for treatment we are going to soften and loosen the buried dirt cemented into your pores. The scientific pore cleanser which is Part One of this famous skin doctor's treatment is unlike any other cleanser you have ever used in your life, regardless of how much you can afford to pay. And here is how you can prove it on your skin.

Apply the doctor's scientific pore cleanser. Tissue it off! Now look at the tissue!

When you see the gray streaks of dirt that come off—even after having creamed your face with any other cleanser—then will you begin to understand why you need a drastic change in complexion care.

(2) The second part of your doctor's treatment is a medicated masque which you apply.

Apply it to your face with your fingertips as you would any cream. A little thicker around the "danger area"... namely around the nose, lips, eyes and cheeks.

The first 3 or 4 minutes you will feel a strong stimulation. This is the massaging action of the medical ingredients going to work on your skin. Your face will feel alternately hot and cold. You will like it. Your skin will feel refreshed. It is like a massage without irritation, bringing fresh, purifying blood to your face to draw off the blemish causing wastes in your pores.

After a few minutes this hot and cold action goes away and a wonderful relaxation of all your tense, over-worked facial muscles sets in. Your pulse tends to slow down and you are so relaxed you feel a great tendency to fall asleep. In another moment you will feel your skin getting tighter and tighter. What is happening is this: A wonderful medical absorbing agent doctors call ARGILLA is drying on your skin. It is turning the cream on your face into a firm, plastic-like mask. You get a pleasant, drawing feeling, a relaxing feeling, there is a corrective action, there is an astringent action and an antiseptic action. You feel the ARGILLA drawing on the blackheads. Everything it touches perspiration, pore dirt, hardened oils even blackheads and whiteheads that have resisted removal for months.

After 10 minutes rinse the mask away. Hot or cold water makes no difference. It dissolves in a second. Your skin feels clean, refreshed, sparkling, smoother! Like velvet! But wait... you haven't finished your first treatment yet!

Now Apply Step 3 of Your Treatment... The Astringent

This is not merely a perfumed alcohol that tickles your skin for a few seconds. It's medicated. It penetrates into your pore openings. Kills bacteria lurking there. And even more important, leaves an invisible germ-destroying film on your skin that kills germs for hours.

Now Look Into Your Mirror!

Some of your blackheads should be gone with the very first treatment! Look for softened pimples and whiteheads that may break or be drawn out in your next treatment or two. Look at the corners of the nose, around your mouth, your cheekbones! See how your enlarged pores have tightened! Your skin will feel alive! And you will be amazed to see minor wrinkles softened—almost ironed out! And this fresh, buoyant, youthful effect will last for hours.

Is This For Normal Skin, Too?

Certainly. Simply because this is a doctor's formula doesn't mean that you have to have a "sick skin" to use it. You may be a woman past 30 who has never had a really serious skin problem, but who suspects that your skin is not as beautiful and freshlooking as it could be... but your cosmetic creams can't give it to you. In that case... we think you'll be thrilled by the sheer, smooth, silken beauty that one or two treatments can give you.

On the other hand... if you have an adolescent, broken-out skin; if you are a man who is troubled by blemishes or a "sandpaper skin" and you are sensible enough not to be ashamed to use a so-called "woman's treatment" in the privacy of your own home... or if you are a woman who has abused her complexion with improper and inadequate cosmetic preparations... then this is vital.

We promise you dramatic improvement with your first 15-minute home treatment. Your mirror will show it to you, and we promise you further rapid improvement for the next 14 days.

After 14 days, you will discover whether you have to keep using all or part of the treatment every day, once a week, or once a month, depending on how fast your complexion begins to clear.

Try This Skin Treatment In Your Own Home Without Risking A Penny!

The name of this 3-day doctor's formula is the Queen Helene Skin Treatment. It is named in honor of the nurse who worked at the doctor's side for 15 years while this formula was being developed. Your Queen Helene 3-way formula, enough for 33 home treatments, includes your scientific cleansing cream, your medicated mask cream and your medicated pore astringent. The cost is $3.98... less than 13 cents a treatment. Yes, less than 13 cents for a skin specialist's 3-way skin and beauty treatment.

Follow your daily progress in your mirror and after each treatment, if your Queen Helene treatment does not do for your skin everything we have led you to believe it will do. If you don't see dramatic improvement after just one 15-minute treatment, if you don't see a further improvement each day for the next 14 days, return the unused portion. We'll thank you for trying it, and refund your full purchase price.

But act today! The longer you wait the worse it is bound to get. And like any other condition, the worse it gets, the longer it takes to get well. So right now, while you're determined to help yourself, send coupon today!

Refresher Classes Aid Older Job Hunters

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Major problems face the older woman today—the increasing life span coupled with resistance from employers to extend the age limit for work, and the difficulties of being hired for a new job after 35, plus financial pressures which come in middle life.

A few days ago I visited Greenwich House in Greenwich Village, New York City. It has served its community for 54 years and has a varied and vital program. This includes a child care center, Family Service, an old age program, recreation for children, adult training, music and pottery schools, and a summer camp.

It has done much to improve relationships among community groups of different cultural, economic, religious and social backgrounds, and makes a constant effort to strengthen family life. However, I visited Greenwich House especially to see first hand the program it has for preparing middle-aged women for jobs.

This program includes refresher courses in typing, shorthand, bookkeeping, mimeographing—modern office practices in an orientation series of lectures and conferences.

* * *

It also offers courses in personal preparation and discipline, counseling, morale building, facing the age problem positively. In addition, beginning typing is offered to aid women in getting better jobs by enlarging their skills. AND it's free except for a small registration fee.

TRAINEES SUCCEED

During the past four years a series of eight-week courses have been conducted. More than 85 per cent of trainees have accepted and retained jobs of average or better wage levels. Isn't that encouraging? Once these women had completed their course and applied for jobs they suddenly found that their age was not the problem they had thought it to be.

You are supposed to be 35 or more in order to be acceptable for these courses although some exceptions are made. The average age of the pupils is about 45, with many in their 60s.

Beginning typing is one of the courses offered to middle-aged women to aid them in getting better jobs and enlarging their skills.

One of the most important things the teachers do for their middle-aged and older pupils is to disimbue their minds of the fact that their age is a handicap in their ability to get a job, and to give them confidence and practical guidance in applying for one.

One teacher told me that there are actually one or two companies who do not want to employ any women under 40 after discovering how efficient and reliable the older worker can be.

* * *

Here are some of the things they tell their students. I think they will be helpful to you.

Do not lie about your age. Just be your charming self.

Do not harp on vacations and what you want, although it is all right to ask about them. Show in what way you can meet the job requirements rather than say what sort of a job you want.

Do not discuss your personal problems.

GOOD GROOMING

Be well groomed as to clothes and hair and nails. Do not wear too much jewelry or too much makeup.

Have confidence that you can get a job. Do not go in with a chip on your shoulder because of your age.

Tomorrow: "Set Time Limit on Those Beauty Repairs at Work."

There's Scents Here

To help camouflage the odor of freshly painted rooms, try spraying the air of those rooms with lots of fragrant cologne or toilet water. (An aerosol container would be perfect for this.) The scented liquid will not eliminate the paint odor completely, but will do much to reduce it.

WANT A NEW COLOR?

If you do, let us help you make your selection. There is a color most attractive for you. To begin with, your most attractive hair coloring is your own. By this we mean that even if you are going to have a tint, there is a limit to the shades you may choose if you would have a natural effect. If you were once a light blond and now your hair has darkened, it can be lightened. But if it was dark, and now is grey or just faded, your best bet is a shade near to your original color. Reddish tints look natural on hair that was once red or had a decided reddish cast. If you are thinking of brightening your hair this spring, here are two steps to start with: first have a patch test. Second, try one strand with the recommended shade, before tinting the whole head.

Papa Kelly Complains of Too Many Servants

By EARL WILSON

MONACO—They are calling it Monte Kelly instead of Monte Carlo now.

And ex-bricklayer Jack Kelly, who's becoming Prince Rainier's father-in-law, is a little uncomfortable at finding himself practically a sovereign on the rainy Riviera.

★ ★ ★ ★

"We're staying at the palace but I'd rather be down here," the father of the bride remarked in the lobby of the Hotel De Paris prior to the ceremonies.

"It's very regal. They give you a valet, a butler and I even have an aide-de-camp. All the waiters have hash-marks. Grace's room is like a flower shop.

"Several floral pieces have a hundred orchids on each one," Kelly continued.

"I heard the palace was run down, but it's not. It's all shined up," he added in defense of his son-in-law to be.

Jack's married daughter spoke up. "At lunch I was turning wine glasses upside down for an hour."

★ ★ ★ ★

"The prince said to wear white ties and I told all our crowd. So everybody will have to wear white ties to conform to us," Papa Jack chuckled. "They tell you not to wear cutaways because the waiters wear those."

It wasn't daughter Grace's makeup kit he was lugging around. "It's my wife's jewel case. I was ordered not to let it out of my sight."

Bridesmaids Rita Gam and Judy Kantor visited the gambling casino, which Grace will never enter, unless to attend an opera. The Monagasques aren't supposed to gamble here.

Many comic opera touches developed. Several reporters, hoping to "crash" the cathedral wedding, rented a priest's raiment over at Nice.

But Rainier heard about it, and now priests must show credentials to get into the cathedral.

City Gives OK to Carnival Date

Commissioners Long, Miles Vote Against Request of 2 Groups

A request from the local Marine Corps League and Amvets Post 16 to hold a 10-day carnival next month in the city was approved last night by the City Commission.

A roll call vote was requested during which Commissioners Floyd P. Miles (District 4) and Gilbert W. Long (District 7) voted against the request.

Mayor William W. Donaldson moved the request be tentatively approved for use of the Montcalm street site, but urged the veterans group to secure a safer location for future carnivals.

A report from the Pontiac Police Dept. showed the site to border on the north shore of Harris Lake. This constituted a safety hazard to children attending the show, the report pointed out.

The site would meet the approval of the department if a barricade was constructed on the lake shore with proper patrols provided, the report added.

Commissioner Miles requested the commission's backing to block the carnival site in his district. "Our whole district is attempting to build up the area and this type of operation poses a problem to the entire area," he said.

The commissioner last month led a fight to block a previous request from the group to hold the show at an Oakland avenue site.

Spokesman for the group, Anthony Rene, told the commission that "no one had any cause for complaint as to the way our show was run last year."

Miles had referred to a letter read at the previous meeting at which a minister declared that carnivals tended to "lower morality."

Rene declared that the proposed show, to be staged May 21 through May 30, would be "legitimate and clean" and said police officers would be welcome to inspect it as they did last year.

Broken Oil Pipeline Perils Water Supply

VIRDEN, Man. (AP)—Fifty thousand gallons of crude oil from a broken pipeline today threatened the water supply of more than 30,000 persons along the Assiniboine River.

The break in the Trans-Prairie pipeline occurred late yesterday near this southwestern Manitob town and sent the stream of oil surging down Bosshill Creek toward the Assiniboine.

The towns of Brandon and Portage la Prairie, downstream from Virden, both depend on the river for their water.

J. G. Cowan, Deputy minister of mines and natural resources, said the water systems of the two towns possible draw their supplies from a depth low enough that the oil might pass above the intake.

Commission Introduces Ambulance Driver Law

A proposed city ordinance to regulate qualifications of ambulance drivers and their assistants in the city, was introduced to the City Commission last night.

A second reading and a public hearing is scheduled for next week on the prosposal. Adoption is expected to follow.

The ordinance was drawn up by City Attorney William A. Ewart and patterned after a similiar Flint ordinance.

The Pontiac Chamber of Committee urged the institution of the plan in January and appointed a three-man committee to study it.

The proposed ordinance is to provide safeguards for persons injured on Pontiac streets by controlling the qualifications of ambulance attendents and other emergency vehicle drivers.

It will also require certain training for all attendants and require first aid equipment to be carried in all ambulances operated in Pontiac.

Commissioner Floyd P. Miles last night requested that before formulating city ordinances, like the ambulance law, the persons concerned should meet with city officials to assist drawing up ordinances.

Mayor William W. Donaldson then moved that the city attorney distribute copies of the proposed ordinance to funeral service personnel concerned so that they might appear at next week's public hearing.

Changing Law on Bump Shops

City Zoning Ordinance Prohibits New Places in Commercial 1 Area

A city zoning ordinance was amended last night by the City Commission prohibiting automobile bumping, painting and refinishing in shops located in Commercial 1 districts in Pontiac.

The amended ordinance takes effect in 10 days.

City Attorney William A. Ewart explained to the commission that under the city's non-conforming use ruling it would not effect previously established bump shops.

This prompted Commissioner John E. Carry (District 6) to remark, "this only prevents people going into this type business and is doing nothing to those already engaged in this work."

It was explained that the reason for the new ruling was to limit noise resulting from this type work from bothering persons living in residential districts. Commercial 1 zones abut residential areas.

Commissioner John A. Dugan expressed "fear" in passing the ordinance, because no one in the business concerned was present at the public hearing.

The amendment had received the prior approval of the City Plan Commission.

"I never saw anything like it!"

Trivia on Grace's Wedding

MONTE CARLO (INS) — Ava Gardner, a good friend of Grace Kelly, arrived in Monte Carlo to lend the scene a little more of the Hollywood touch than has been provided by Grace's film studio hairdresser, two publicity men and her agent.

* * *

The wedding cake is five feet high, weighs 200 pounds, has seven tiers and is billed as a "sponge and sugar masterpiece." It took four months to make.

* * *

Among the wedding gifts on display were a mustard pot from the French mustard center at Dijon; several oil paintings; 3,452 letters of good luck from Monegasque school children; a movie projector; clocks, book ends, a crystal inkwell set and, astonishingly, a dozen jars of yoghurt.

* * *

There's speculation around the Hotel de Paris that in exchange for surrendering her movie contract, which still has four years to run, Grace Kelly's agent will demand she give him every tenth child.

* * *

Two Navy jets streaked over Monaco's broad 375 acres today to set a new border-to-border of nothing, flat.

* * *

Aristotle Onassis, Greek shipping millionaire who owns the world's most luxurious private yacht, never laughs much but got a big kick out of the invitation he received from New York detective Frank Cresci the other night at the Casino. Cresci, who was Rainier's bodyguard during the Prince's American trip, said:

"Have lunch with me tomorrow on my rowboat in the harbor. You want salami, or a cheese sandwich?"

* * *

Huge banners with Rainier's and Grace's initials hung outside the grand entrance walls of the palace from which Grace will help him rule his 375-acre principality. And hundreds of persons made the puffing trip to the "rock" on which the palace sits to gape at it all.

These who came to gape included many of the 1,300 newsmen and photographers covering the wedding, and they walked up the mountain like a line of ants.

* * *

Conrad Hilton, President Eisenhower's non-gift bearing delegate to the wedding, did some figuring on a pad today and what he found made him blink.

"I've just figured that if this wedding was being held in the United States, it would be covered by about ten million reporters, cameramen, radio and TV people. That's based on the number covering the wedding here as compared with the population of Monaco."

The Midas of Monaco

Onassis Big Wheel in Grace's Future Kingdom

By ROSETTE HARGROVE

MONTE CARLO, Monaco (NEA) — Most of the guests at Monte Carlo's famous old Hotel de Paris ignore an inconspicuous little man with a shock of iron-gray hair and bright eyes hidden behind horn-rimmed spectacles.

Actually, next to Prince Rainier, he's the most important man around. He's Aristotle Socrates Onassis, the fabulous modern Midas who practically owns the place.

To understand what makes Monaco tick, you must first realize that the principality's economy is tied closely to the famous Monte Carlo gambling casino. This is controlled by the SBM—Societe des Bains de Mer—which also controls the leading hotels, beach clubs and other establishments.

During World War II, Monaco took a financial beating. There wasn't much gadding about, gambling or other pastimes. And, after the war, the ranks of millionaires and crowned heads had considerably thinned.

The tiny country continued to suffer. And SBM's stock declined.

* * *

Onassis stepped in. He bought 300,000 of the organization's 1,000,000 shares, giving him virtual control. He didn't want a Casino so much as an office building for his main source of income, his shipping interests. Monaco, with its site on the Mediterranean, was an ideal locale, and the SBM owned a perfect building for his purposes. He set up his office in what had been the Summer Sporting Club in the roaring '20s.

While he himself takes little active part in running his bailiwick—he says he has more important fish to fry—his administrators set to work hours after he became part of the picture.

Their goal was to make Monte Carlo the most attractive summer resort on the Mediterranean, with a special appeal to youth.

One such attraction is Onassis' fabulous yacht, the Christina. It's a onetime Canadian corvette, 325 feet long, and it cost him $3,000,000. Everything functions automatically.

There is a full-size bar, a movie theater, even a completely-equipped operating room with X-ray apparatus. Priceless Turkish rugs are strewn in every room and the walls are covered in marble and lapis lazuli mosaics said to have cost hundreds of dollars per square foot.

* * *

Onassis has a chateau at nearby Antibes, a fabulous apartment in Paris, and homes in Montevideo, Athens and New York. All this, yet he's only 48. He was born in Smyrna, the son of a tobacco dealer. All his family was killed in a Turkish-Greek massacre when he was 16, but he escaped and fled, penniless to Argentina.

In eight years in the tobacco trade, he saved $180,000 dollars. With that, he went into the shipping business and quickly amassed his huge fortune.

Current gossip in Monaco is that Rainier and Onassis seldom, if ever, meet socially. The Prince, according to rumors, is not too favorably disposed towards the financier. Nevertheless, when Rainier's engagement to Grace Kelly was announced, Onassis' first gesture was to donate 1,000,000 francs to the Monaco Red Cross and next he ordered his yacht to be illuminated with myriad fairy lamps until further notice.

* * *

The big yacht with the fancy lighting is just another fanciful touch to fanciful Monaco. The wealthy Prince rules over a tiny domain—345 acres—and his subjects number a scant 2,500. He governs exclusively, although there is a National Council of 18 members. But the cabinet is nominated by the Prince and he can reject any of the Council's laws or rulings, whether it contains the Principality's budget or a traffic regulation.

Monaco has 170 policemen—plus the 60 carabinieri in the Palace Guard—yet crime is virtually nonexistent.

There were only two automobile robberies between 1935 and 1950, and the jail, at the moment, houses one lone prisoner.

Because of its tax-less condition, Monaco is the mecca of many from all nations who would like to become citizens. There is supposed to be a waiting list of 10,000, but only 25 are admitted yearly. Even then they have to have rendered special service to the state and to have lived at least five years in the Principality. For people who have influence at court—and, so the rumors go, plenty of money—things are made easier.

* * *

On the other hand, since the end of the war, close to 1,000 people have been banished. Some of them were accused of being Nazis, Fascists or collaborators. Others may have made disparaging remarks about the reigning prince or his family.

Monaco is completely un-self-sufficient. It is dependent on France and Italy for all its food, including fruit and vegetables. In only one respect can it take care of itself, and that's gambling.

Year in, year out, the Casino's profits were around $3,000,000 a year—but the war changed all that. The British no longer had money, the Americans discovered Las Vegas and the Casino had to loosen its regulations.

They began to allow shorts and sports shirts at the gambling tables, they imported slot machines, they flew a team of croupiers to Las Vegas to learn craps.

Things are looking up in Monte Carlo's Casino. There's Onassis. There's a new kind of millionaire—the Greek, Italian and Near Eastern industrialists. And there's Grace Kelly—Monaco hopes she'll be a magnet to lure American dollars back to Monte Carlo.

FANCY NEW SIGHT — Onassis' yacht, which even has trees planted in its awninged after-deck.

MONACO'S MONEY IS MADE HERE — This is the roulette room at the Casino, where craps have been added to lure business.

Bay City Soldier Dies of Crash Injuries

BAY CITY (AP)—Maj. James O. Rudolph, former Bay City resident, died Monday of injuries received last month in the crash of a three-engined jet bomber in Texas, relatives here have learned.

* * *

Rudolph and an enlisted man were crew of an XB51 bomber that crashed on a flight from California to Florida. The enlisted man was killed in the crash. Rudolph died in Brooks Air Force Base Hospital in Texas.

The 36-year-old officer was rated one of the Air Force's best test pilots. He saw considerable action in the Pacific during World War II.

He leaves his widow, Clare; a daughter, Lillian, 10; and his father, F. O. Rudolph, program secretary of the Bay City YMCA.

Funeral service will be held tomorrow in Arlington National Cemetery, Va.

Musician Elected Again

DETROIT (AP)—Eduard Werner is starting a new two-year term as president of the Detroit Federation of Musicians. Werner and his entire slate of officers were re-elected. President of the Musicians' Union since 1951, Werner also is a practicing attorney and first vice president of the Detroit and Wayne County Federation of Labor.

Chapter No. 8 (Condensed) . . . The Truth About Cancer

Cancer of Lung Points to Smoking and Air Pollution

BY DR. CHARLES S. CAMERON
Medical and Scientific Director of the American Cancer Society

Within just a few years, cancer of the lung has become one of the commonest types of malignant tumor. Fifty years ago it was almost unheard of.

Twenty years ago it was rare, yet today 27,000 die of it every year in the United States alone—a 500 per cent increase in two decades—and it is second only to cancer of the stomach as a cause of death from cancer.

And there is some evidence that it may now be the most frequent of all the major forms of cancer as deaths from lung cancer are increasing by 1,000 a year.

No other kind of cancer has ever shown so striking an increase.

MEN SUSCEPTIBLE

Cancer of the lung is chiefly a disease of males. Ten men are affected for every woman.

Some people regard this dramatic increase lightly. They reason that it is more apparent than real—that there was probably about as much lung cancer years ago, but just wasn't recognized.

There is one reason why the "better diagnosis" theory does not hold up: Cancer of the lung is not among the more difficult cancers to diagnose.

Yet between 1938 and 1948, while deaths from all kinds of cancer were increasing by 32 per cent, deaths from cancer of the lung rose by 144 per cent!

It is not likely that the ability to diagnose lung cancer should show a four times greater improvement than the ability to diagnose cancer in general.

Perhaps the increase can be attributed in part to the longer lifespan of our people. But here again, after we have taken this factor into account, there still remains a sharp and unexplained increment.

POSSIBLE CAUSES

Scientific attention has narrowed down to a cause that must have these features: (1) it probably comes in contact with the lung; (2) it is of recent origin (on its present scale); (3) more men than women are exposed to it; (4) it is found more in cities than in rural areas.

There are two suspects in particular that seem to measure up to this description: tobacco-smoking and general air pollution.

The case against smoking is directed principally at cigarettes, since almost all of the phenomenal increase in tobacco consumption in the past 35 years is accounted for by cigarettes. Cigarette smoke is generally inhaled into the lungs, whereas cigar and pipe smoke usually is not.

About 30 years ago, the first scientific investigation of the smoking habits of patents suffering from cancer disclosed that as a group they smoked more than did people of comparable ages without lung cancer.

This same approach has been used in some 15 statistical studies carried out since that time—most of them within the past five years. They all tend to show the same thing:

A history of heavy cigarette-smoking is more consistenly met in persons with cancer of the lung than it is in the general population.

The American Cancer Society has undertaken a large-scale statistical research project. Final results should provide reasonably conclusive evidence of the effect of smoking on the over-all death rate and on the cause of death.

Already, the returns have shown a striking relationship between what and how much you smoke and when and from what you die.

Based on the records of 4,854 men who have died out of 187,766 in the survey, it appears that:

1. Heavy cigarette-smoking more than doubles the general death rate, irrespective of cause.
2. Heavy cigarette-smoking nearly doubles the death rate from coronary artery disease (heart attacks). Actually, deaths from this cause were 1.95 times as high in heavy cigarette-smokers as in non-smokers.
3. Among heavy cigarette-smokers, death rates from cancer of the lung are at least five times higher than among men who never smoked.
4. Heavy cigarette-smoking is associated with an increase in the death rate from cancer—without regard to what kind of cancer—amounting to two and a half times.
5. In general, the greater the quantity of cigarettes smoked, the higher the death rate.
6. Death rates of men who divided their smoking between cigarettes and some other form of tobacco are not as high as those for men who smoked cigarettes only, but still they are higher than rates found among non-smokers.
7. The death rate for regular cigar-smokers was slightly higher than that for non-smokers—but the difference was so slight as to be of doubtful significance.
8. The death rate of pipe-smokers was not appreciably different from that of non-smokers.

The above figures apply to men between the ages of fifty and sixty-nine.

INCREASES WITH AGE

Other evidence justifying suspicion of cigarettes is found in the age at which lung cancer is developing. With the exception of a few malignant tumors that usually occur in early life, the freqency of cancer increases with age. The older you are, the greater the chances of getting cancer.

But this is not true for cancer of the lung. It reaches a peak between 60 and 70, and after that, according to our present records, it falls off. The oldsters in our present population are less likely to get lung cancer than their younger neighbors.

One ready explanation would be that the oldsters were not exposed to whatever it is that causes lung cancer so generally as those under 60 were.

Again, cigarettes fit the bill, since they did not achieve wide use until the 1920s.

Why, then, if smoking cigarettes has something to do with cancer of the lung, do we not see more of it among women? After all, they are not far behind men in their addiction to "the weed."

WOMEN, TOO

Lung cancer is on the increase among women—and decidedly so. For another thing, widespread smoking was taken up by women later than by men. And, finally, men still greatly outnumber women as consistent smokers—except perhaps among the younger set.

The important question is whether the statistical association between cigarette-smoking and cancer of the lung is one of cause and effect, or whether it is incidental.

It is possible that the tendency to smoke heavily and the tendency to get lung cancer are both the result of a common and as yet unidentified factor or cause.

AIR POLLUTION

Atmospheric pollution is also on the stand. Modern men and women, particularly those in cities, inhale a variety of smokes, dusts, and fumes relatively new in our environment.

Road and street surfaces today are usually paved with asphalt—a bituminous product that is chemically related to substances known to cause cancer. And the tarry fumes or dusts from such roads are regarded by some as possible cancer-inciters.

We aren't sure yet just how much of a cancer hazard assault from industrial areas on human lungs is—but it is under strong suspicion.

Material filtered from the air of one large industrialized city (in California, of all places) produced cancer in mice whose skins were smeared with it.

LUNG CANCER SYMPTOMS

The most constant first symptom of lung cancer is cough. As is so often the case, correct interpretation of cough is made difficult by the fact that so many people have coughs more or less continuously.

Chronic bronchitis, sinus trouble, the widespread cold, with a cough that hangs on for weeks or months, and the "cigarette cough" are so familiar in most temperate climates that the cough, like the cry of "wolf," excites nobody.

The cough of lung cance sooner or later produces phlegm or "sputum." The appearance o this phlegm varies a great deal It may be frothy and colorless, or thick and purulent (pussy). So there are no features of the ex pectoration that can be said to b typical of cancer, with one excep tion: blood.

Even small amounts of blood in the sputum—fine streaks, for instance—should always be reported to a physician.

Another sign fairly common in lung cancer, and at a relatively early stage, is a faint wheezing sound in breathing. It is not necessarily constant. The patient himself is usually the first to notice it.

CHEST PAIN NEXT

Somewhat later, chest pain usually appears. If infection develops in the tumor or in the portion of the lung being interfered with by the tumor, fever and night sweats occur. Loss of weight and weakness eventually make their appearance.

Actually, the symptoms of cancer of the lung—or, to be more precise, the time of appearance of symptoms—depend a great deal on just where in the lung the tumor is growing. The lung is a large structure, and cancer may develop in any part of it.

Early diagnosis of lung cancer depends on two things: (1) X-ray of the chest at six-month intervals after the age of forty-five, and (2) tracking down the cause of any cough that lasts more than a few weeks.

X-ray films can disclose small and unsuspected tumors, both benign and cancerous, in the lungs of presumably perfectly healthy persons.

And the early returns on patients whose lung cancers have been found through routine chest X-rays—persons, remember, who seem to be in good health and without any complaints—suggest that the treatment at this stage will cure as high as 50 per cent of them.

This is about eight times as many as can be cured once the symptoms have developed.

Do you need any more proof than that of the value of a routine chest X-ray twice a year after you have passed the age of forty-five?

Old Bolshevik Vets Emerge From Hiding

MOSCOW (AP)—Old Bolshevik veterans of the Russian Revolution are emerging from the shadows into which Joseph Stalin cast them.

* * *

The officially sanctioned resurrection into public prominence of associates of Lenin and those who joined the Communist party before the Bolshevik Revolution is part of the party's program to cut Stalin down to size.

The Soviet press reports that one group of old Bolsheviks met in Moscow's Central Lecture Hall to lay plans for the observation of the 86th anniversary of Lenin's birth next Sunday. According to their program they will make personal appearances at dozens of factories, schools and organizations to give personal reminiscences of Lenin.

Ford Offers $5.00 a Day

Workers Flock to Detroit to Gain 'Fabulous Wages'

(Michigan's history is too often lost in the dullness of school lessons. To bring these moments to life, the following story was compiled from files in the Michigan Historical Collections, with the aid of assistant director F. Clever Bald.)

By JOHN BARBOUR

DETROIT, Jan. 5, 1914 (AP)—Automaker Henry Ford shocked the world today with the announcement he will pay employes five dollars a day—for eight hours work. Nearly 10,000 job seekers mobbed his plant in Highland Park.

* * *

Ford, whose company mass-produces cars for as little as $360, said, however the wage rates will apply to only workers with six months in the company.

The action came after a board of directors meeting in which Ford reportedly forced the issue through against stockholder hostility.

Its effect on the country was momentous. Transportation companies report initially that thousands were trying to get to Detroit by every available means, although no one knows how many jobs are available.

Fire hoses were broken out to disperse the mob that jammed the gates of Ford's plant.

$5.00 DAY

The pay raise was apparently brewing since Dec. 31 when the company voted to share $60,000 in profits with 640 employes. In subsequent meetings the $5 plan began to take shape. The Ford workers have been receiving about $2 to $2.50 a day.

Some of Ford's directors took part in today's announcements. Among them were James Couzens, whose initial $2,000 investment in the company has magnified many times, and Horace Rackham, who initially invested $5,000.

The company has been working two 10-hour shifts, but will now work three shifts at eight hours apiece. There was no immediate reaction from other auto makers.

IMPROVE LIVING

The shock of the Ford announcement has hit businessmen all over the country, but no immediate compliance with the new Ford standard is expected.

Ford has indicated that the pay raise will improve living conditions for his workers and help stabilize employment turnover. One source close to Ford said that better living conditions might also cut down some bitterness between workers.

Another source said that Ford was shocked on a recent trip through the plant to find two workers fighting between themselves in front of his son, Edsel. He began thereafter to find a means of improving worker morale, the source said.

The five dollar pay plan and the shift of eight hours is expected to cost the company ten million dollars this year. It will take effect on January 12.

(Footnote: The five-dollar pay plan was a far cry from today's wages, but it had the desired effect, stabilising Ford's work force, increasing production and improving worker morale. Five years later, Ford bought out his stockholders. Couzens received more than 29 million dollars for his share of the company and for the small investment he had made. Rackham realized a return of 12 and a half million dollars. Before their Ford gamble, Couzens had been an employe of a coal dealer and Rackham, a lawyer).

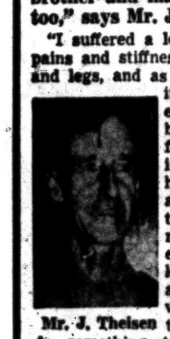
IF YOU WANT
GOOD HEALTH
USE O-JIB-WA BITTERS

"This wonderful medicine not only helped me, but my brother and many neighbors, so I think it will help you too," says Mr. Joseph Theisen, R No. 2, Gaylord.



Mr. J. Theisen

"I suffered a long time with pains and stiffness in my back and legs, and as I grew older, it got worse, especially my back. I am a farmer working 14 or 15 hours a day, and my appetite was terrible. I didn't eat enough to keep a bird alive. I was always thinking that I should do something to correct the cause of the pains, as there was something definitely wrong in my system. My younger brother suffered with about the same thing, and after trying many medicines, he finally found results with your O-JIB-WA BITTERS. I thought that if it helped him, it would likely help me too, so I gave it a trial last July. In about ten days, I was eating well, and the soreness began to leave my back. Soon after, I was all better. My back and legs are all well again, and I eat and sleep fine, and have lots of pep. I want to tell you about one of my neighbors too, who could hardly raise his arms when he started on O-JIB-WA, but now has improved a lot. I hope that others will be helped by reading my story, as O-JIB-WA BITTERS is sure a fine medicine for anyone suffering from ailments such as these."

THE JUNIOR CIRCUS — 3
Katy and Her Cats

Of course there are wild animals in the Junior Circus run by Marcellino, the little clown. One of the favorite acts is Katy and her Cats, a girl with two trained lions, Rex and Rix.

After she has fearlessly put them through several tricks she prepares for the final one, which you can help construct. The lions mount the ends of the see-saw, and Katy jumps on to the center of it. Then they see-saw, up and down, up and down.

First color the picture. Lions are a deep tawny yellow, but their manes and the tufts on the ends of their tails are dark brown. Now paste it on cardboard and cut out the parts carefully. If you are handy with scissors you might like to cut out the spaces between Katy and the lions. If you do not want to do that, color it light blue.

Fold the sides of the stand back and fold the small circular flaps forward. Then the stand will keep solidly in place. Attach the top of the see-saw to the stand with a brass fastener, or a bent pin through the indicated holes. Then the see-saw will work.

(Sharon Sachs, St. Catherine, Ont., first submitted this idea. Send your idea for Junior Editors care of this newspaper and you may win $10. Violet Moore Higgins; AP Newsfeatures.)

Just Another 'Brush'-Off

DENVER (AP)—A buzzing in the luggage of a Denver woman who had just stepped off a plane at Stapleton Airfield brought police demolition experts on the double yesterday. But detectives who cautiously opened Mrs. Frank W. Winegar's luggage found the noise came only from an electric clothes brush operated by two small flashlight batteries.

Which Oil is Right for Spring?

PART OF THE TIME a winter oil would be right, but only while the engine is cold. On unseasonably warm days or on long, hard trips, winter oil becomes too thin. And thinned-out oil does not give full protection to engine parts.

PART OF THE TIME you'd be right with summer oil, but only on warm days or after your engine has run long enough to warm up. On chilly mornings, or on short trips, summer oil will be too thick, and won't protect engine parts as they should be protected.

ALL OF THE TIME TROP-ARTIC® All-Weather Motor Oil is right, because it's a year-around oil. It flows freely when it's cold. It doesn't get too thin when it's hot. Compared to older types of oils modern TROP-ARTIC can even double engine life. Get it from your Phillips 66 Dealer.

Be Weather-Wise! Change Today!

GUARANTEED PERFORMANCE! Change to TROP-ARTIC Motor Oil and use it for ten days or up to 1,000 miles. Air Forces' Starfighter: Fastest, Highest-Flying Fighter in the Skies

PALMDALE, Calif. (AP) — The Lockheed F104A Starfighter, a missile with a man in it, has flown more than 1,000 miles an hour.

* * *

Several hundred persons, including the largest gathering of news writers of its kind, witnessed the achievement Monday. It was the fastest an aircraft ever has flown before a sizeable audience.

FIRST SHOWING

It was the first public showing of this dazzling new craft which Gen. Nathan F. Twining, Air Force chief of staff, has called "the fastest and highest flying fighter anywhere in the sky."

* * *

The exact speed of the plane is a secret. Actually two models were flown—the original XF104, powered by a Curtiss-Wright J65 jet engine, and the production model F104A, which has a lighter and more powerful engine, the General Electric J79.

EQUAL BREAK

Although the speeds were not disclosed, the pilot of an F94C jet fighter reported he was flying 500 miles an hour, and the F104A pilot, Herman R. (Fish) Salmon, was heard to reply over his radio, "I am doing better than twice that fast."

The Air Force and Lockheed held up announcement of the F-104A's flight until today to give newspaper and television reporters and photographers "an equal break" on the release as well as time to process stories and pictures.

A U. S. research plane, the Bell X1A has flown 1,650 m.p.h.—twice the speed of sound — but the speed is not an official record as it was not made over a regulation course.

BRITISH HAVE RECORD

The official world speed record of 1,132 m.p.h. was set recently in England by Britains Fairey Delta experimental plane. The old record was 822 m.p.h., held by a North American F100 jet fighter.

* * *

Robert E. Gross, Lockheed Aircraft Corp. president, told the gathering that the F104 was "the champion in the fighter field—the finest fighter in the world."

Gen. Otto P. Weyland, commander of the Tactical Air Command, announced that his command would be the first to receive the new air superiority fighter, and the first planes soon will go into operational squadrons.

HARDER—FASTER

"This is much more than just another fighter," Weyland said.

"It is a significant and tremendous step forward in our progress on supersonic flight.

"To the Tactical Air Command this addition will mean a capability to strike harder and faster than any other tactical air arm in history.

* * *

"It will be a strong deterrent to any potential enemy. No other country in the world can match it at this time."

RESEMBLES MISSILE

The most striking thing about the new fighter was its resemblance to a missile, largely because its wings are so short and stubby they hardly seem to qualify as airplane wings.

The engine reportedly has a thrust of about 15,000 pounds. The plane is about half as heavy as other fighters so the thrust is the equivalent of that of a more powerful engine.

A.W. (Tony) LeVier, Lockheed's director of flying operations, said the F104 has the highest rate of climb of any fighter in the world.

The plane has such great power that it can climb just as fast as it can fly straight and level, he said.

NOVEL FEATURES

The Starfighter's straight wings are so thin that the leading edge is covered with felt while it is on the ground to protect crewmen from injury. Other novel features include:

1. The first downward ejection seat to be used in a fighter craft.

* * *

2. The application of "boundary layer control," by "bleeding" air over the wing surface on takeoffs and landings to reduce turbulence and give added lift.

* * *

A commercial version of the F104's J79 engine is to be used in the Convair Skylark, the jet transport which the Convair division of General Dynamics Corp. plans to build. There also has been speculation that the J79 would power the Convair B58, the first supersonic bomber.

The F104A is 54 feet, 9 inches long, yet its wings extend out only 7½ feet from the airplane fuselage.

Hal Boyle Says:

Slum or Dear Home? Who Can Truly Say?

NEW YORK (AP) — Actually, just what is a slum?

* * *

There are innumerable slum clearance programs abroad here, as elsewhere in America.

But what is truly a slum?

COSTLY CROWDING

Most people would probably agree — certainly many honest housing experts might—that any area in which people regularly paid more rent than they could afford, were overcrowded, who had less space and light and air than they humanly needed were living under slum conditions.

* * *

If, as many people in the upper East Side of Manhattan do live under these conditions by choice because they feel the address gives them a prestige, who is there to criticize them?

Very few or none. The warrens of the pseudo-rich are spared, but only temporarily. The true rich move away.

* * *

They do certainly in other cities. Usually they move away and their ancient spacious houses become the warrens of the poor. (a warren is a crowded place.)

DIFFERENT PROBLEM

In Manhattan Island the problem is different from other cities. For half a century the whole island has been unduly pushed together, population wise. It has been a civic warren for a long time.

* * *

Old neighborhoods have a stubborn urge to stay together. The people who live there don't want to be displaced, and move reluctantly when new "projects" are built.

Some are not without money. Some on the West Side or the lower East Side have more cash in the bank and have had for years, than transients who dwell on the fashionable East Side, and live from cuff to cuff.

The difference is that, having money, they put up with true slum conditions — lack of space, sunshine, fresh air and personal sanitation facilities—because they are at home. They'd miss their neighbors if they left — and feel lonesome.

I don't believe it is unfair to say that the warrens of the wealthy, here certainly, are maintained by the snobbery of the hangers-on, willing to trade both their birthright and a small income to enjoy a "proper" address.

* * *

The yearning sycophants perpetuate a protective slum around the rich they adore.

But what is a slum? It is an area of out-of-date buildings, populated by some people who love it—people who may be torn down by being forced to move away—and who, themselves, like many of the buildings, are not unworthy of being remembered as they were.

* * *

This is the problem when you tear down a slum, on the East Side—or, as they are doing now also, along Park Avenue. You lose a lot of what was.

Improvements on Agenda at Commission Session

Engineer estimates and special assessment rolls highlighted last night's City Commission meeting as the group took action on a 24-point agenda consisting mostly of public improvement projects for the city.

Action included approving an ordinance rezoning to Residential 3 lots 26 to 36 and lots 48 and 49, assessor's plat 133 on the south side of Auburn avenue from Perkins to Center.

The rezoning received the approval of the City Plan Commission after which a public hearing and adoption followed.

Aside from public improvement projects, action last night included another lot being added to the city for the $600,000 off-street parking program.

The city attorney reported that a warranty deed had been received from John J. McCue for Lot 23, assessor's plat 35, which is part of the proposed Oakland avenue parking lot.

The commission approved a request from the State Highway Dept. to widen Telegraph road between Pontiac Lake and Elizabeth Lake roads from 40 to 44 feet.

City Engineer Lewis M. Wrenn pointed out that this will boost the city's share of the project from $9,000 to $12,100.

Engineer estimates were accepted for seven projects on which public hearings will be held next Tuesday.

At the same time, public hearings will be conducted for the following jobs on which special assessment rolls were received last night:

Curb, gutter and related work for Valencia drive from Mt. Clemens to the south line of Lots 144-253 of the Eastview Subdivision, Hazel street from Telegraph to Starr, and for Beverly avenue from Laurel to Highwood.

Sanitary sewer in Astor street from Maines to Michigan.

Sidewalk and related work on north side of Michigan avenue from Jessie to Tasmania.

Further action on the agenda was authorization granted to the city assessor for a one week extension for preparing a roll for work on Glenwood avenue relocated from Perry to Paddock and Grandview.

Confirmation was given and payments announced on assessment rolls for seven water main projects and one combined sewer job on which hearings were conducted previously.

The city manager was authorized to sign an application for laying out and designing a county drainage district.

A request for rezoning Lots 8 and 9 of the Elkins Addition to Commercial 1 was referred to the City Plan Commission.

A public necessity was declared for improvement work on the Clinton River drive in Robert Herndon's Pontiac Apartment Subdivision.

Just Control That Pesky 'Brain Brake' and Your Weight Woes May Vanish

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (INS)—There's a brake in your brain that holds down your appetite—and your waistline—by sending out signals that say "stop eating—you're full," three Harvard scientists reported today.

If the appetite-braking center is injured by toxic substances, they suggested, you don't get any hungrier—but you don't feel full, either, and so you eat and eat and eat.

These findings—highly suggestive of the fat person who snacks steadily between meals—were reported in animal studies by Drs. Jean Mayer, Norman Marshall and James Anliker at the annual meeting of the Federation of American Societies for Experimental Biology.

Evidence for similar mechanisms in humans has been suggested by Dr. Norman Jolliffee of Columbia University, who calls the brain brake an "appestat."

Evidence in rats, reported today by the Harvard scientists, suggests that the appetite brake is turned on in response to high levels of glucose—that is, blood-sugar—and can be damaged by a chemical compound, goldthioglucose, in which gold is linked to the sugar.

Once it reaches the mid-brain, they said, the goldthioglucose destroys the ability of the brain to control food intake. In rats, they reported, this is what happened:

"Normal animals showed a daily cycle in their food habits. The intervals between meals grew longer as the day progressed. In each day there was a time when the normal animal ate and a time when he satiated and did not eat.

"Destruction of the gluco-receptor cells (in the brain) by goldthioglucose did not change the rate of eating . . . but it eliminated the pauses between meals. In other words, the drug did not increase 'hunger'; it eliminated 'satiety'."

Regulation of the appetite-brake by blood sugar suggests that taking a little bit of sugar—even though it contains some calories might be most effective way to turn off hunger pangs between meals.

Location of the appetite center in the hypothalamus or mid-brain also is suggestive of a link between emotions and appetite, since the hypothalamus is one of the brain's main control centers for emotions.

UAW Member Faces Censure

Suspension Is Suggested for Dissatisfied Worker on Conduct Charge

DETROIT (AP)—The Wayne County Society of Skilled Trades says one of its members has been recommended for suspension from the United Auto Workers union because he joined the society.

The skilled trades group said the action extended the UAW's crackdown on the society to rank-and-file members of the UAW.

The society was organized last year by skilled workers in the auto industry dissatisfied with three - year contracts the UAW signed with the automakers.

Richard De Lyon, president of the Wayne County society, said Glen Kothe, a pipefitter at the Dodge truck plant, has been recommended for suspension from the UAW after standing trial before a union board at Dodge truck local 140.

De Lyon said the UAW charged Kothe with "conduct unbecoming a UAW member after he joined the society. He said UAW officials accused Kothe of soliciting members for the society and distributing society literature at the plant.

Members of the local must ratify a trial board's recommendation for suspension of a member.

Three Men Jailed on Car Theft Count

Three Waterford Township men are being held in Oakland County Jail awaiting an April 23 arraignment in Circuit Court for allegedly stealing and stripping a car early this month.

Theodore Thompson, 21, and Thomas Connors, 24, both of 2335 Dixie Hwy., and Ford Keylon, 25, of 2450 Dixie Hwy., pleaded not guilty to a charge of unlawfully driving away an automobile in a hearing held by West Bloomfield Township Justice Elmer C. Dieterle.

Thompson was committed to jail under $1000 bond with $500 bond set for the others.

The vehicle, owned by Edward Blovet, of Milford, was allegedly stolen April 2 from a country club at 2280 Union Lake Rd., according to sheriff's detectives Leo Hazen and Harry Maur.

Tommy Gidley Buried; Brother Hospitalized

By REBA HEINTZELMAN
Milford Correspondent

MILFORD — As the last relatives left the funeral yesterday of little Tommy Gidley, 6, plans were being made to take Kenneth, an older brother, to Children's Hospital with the same fatal disease, fibrocystic, which took Tommy's life.

This is the third time the grief stricken family has taken a son to Children's Hospital with the same malady.

David, 8, died last June and Tommy, last Friday.

There are two older boys, Merle, 13 and Stanford, 14, in the family who have apparently escaped the plague.

Doctors say there is no cure for the dread disease although heavy doeses of anti-biotics are used to retard the spread of the respiratory ailment.

Letters and telephone calls from well wishers have been received and one man, who wishes to remain anonymous, called the Press to say that he has the same disease, and that it has been retarded by Dr. Walter Pool of the Morass Clinic in Detroit.

Dr. Pool, who was contacted, said, "We are giving my patient heavy doses of the very newest anti-biotics, plus a weekly shot of B-12.

"He is one of the very few known cases of fibrocystic to have reached maturity and he has not lost any ground during the last two years."

Merle Gidley, father of the boys, says, "Every new drug that has been discovered is being tested on my boys in an effort to find out what causes the spread of the disease. Maybe someday it can be controlled but, as yet, there is no foundation for research on fibrocystic."

The Gidleys live at 3485 Childs Lake Rd., near Milford.

Suspect Youths in Auto Thefts

Police Think Joy Rides by Teenagers Explain Recent Acts

A gang of teen-agers is suspected of stealing factory workers' cars for joy rides, according to Pontiac police.

Det. Charles Hewitt said this is the probable explanation behind a series of thefts the last seven days from lots near the Fisher Body plant.

"At least one car has been stolen each night," Hewitt said. "We generally find it later stuck in a ditch or field at the end of a joy ride. Sometimes the damage is considerable."

Workers' carelessness in not fully locking ignition switches in certain brands of cars makes the gang's activities easy, Hewitt pointed out. "When they see an unlocked ignition, they merely break in through a vent window, turn the ignition on without need of a key and drive off," he explained.

The gang seems to prefer green and white, 1955 autos, he said. This was the color of the latest car reported stolen, from a lot last night at Baldwin avenue and St. Louis street. A car stolen Monday night was recovered yesterday in a field off E. Columbia avenue, Hewitt said.

Injured Worker Rate Increases

18,900 Persons Hurt on the Job in Michigan During 1955

LANSING (AP) — Some 18,900 workers were injured on the job in 1955, the State Labor Department reported today.

The figure was an increase of 12.5 per cent over 1954 total of 16,800 injuries. The injury-frequency rate, or number of injuries per million man-hours, was 8.6, an increase of 3.6 over the 1954 rate.

The department said the 1955 record reversed a downward trend in accidents recorded between 1952-54.

"There are several theories for the increase. It might be blamed on an increase in the amount of overtime worked and a rise in the percentage of new workers," said Harold Brown, of the department's statistics division.

The state accident trend reflects a similar increase in accidents noted throughout the country, the department said.

The injury-frequency rate for the nation was an estimated 12.1 per million man-hours.

The department said the frequency rate in Michigan dropped to 8.3 in the fourth quarter of 1955.

The figures were based on reports from 1,817 establishments with a total employment of more than 898,000 persons.

Scholle Denies Grip on Farmers

Michigan CIO Council Leader Tells Dairymen of Stand at Elsie

ELSIE (AP)—August (Gus) Scholle, president of the Michigan CIO council, told a meeting of dairy farmers in this central Michigan milk center last night that he has no desire to be their "dictator."

Referring to reports the CIO sought to take over the Fair Share Bargaining Assn., Scholle said, "You can turn yourself over to the CIO and put me in as a dictator and I'll say no. I already have a job and I like it."

The Fair Sharers are an insurgent group of dairy farmers that rebelled against the Michigan Milk Producers Assn. They staged a nine-day milk strike in the Detroit milkshed that collapsed April 3 after court orders banned mass picketing of milk depots and blockading of milk tanker trucks.

MARTIN BLASTED

Scholle criticized the role of Homer Martin, a former United Auto Workers president, in the strike. A group of Fair Share leaders fired Martin as organizing director following the strike but Martin called the ouster invalid. Scholle had demanded that Martin be fired as a condition for CIO help to Fair Sharers.

* * *

Scholle said contract commitments kept the CIO unions from helping the farmers in their strike.

Scholle said, "There is a time to strike, a time to thumb your nose at the boss, but there's a time when you have a contract."

Scholle said the $1,000 a month the CIO had offered the Fair Sharers to help them organize dairy farmers was relatively unimportant. He said the most effective aid the CIO could give the farmers is advice on organization.

* * *

About 300 dairy farmers attended the meeting here. The purpose was to lay the groundwork for the organization of a half a dozen central Michigan locals which would operate under the banner of the Fair Share Bargaining Assn.

SAGINAW (AP) — A fire destroyed the 74-year-old Brand & Hardin Milling Co. flour mill last night. The Saginaw landmark was one of the oldest flour mills in Michigan.

Damage was estimated unofficially at more than $75,000.

No one was reported injured.

Police said no one was in the building when the fire broke out. The cause of the blaze was not determined.

Firemen saved the adjoining Bond Storage Co. grain elevator, which, like the flour mill, is owned by the Frutchey Bean Co.

Higher Figures in 2 Townships

Farmington Approves $224,130; Commerce Sets $81,640

FARMINGTON TOWNSHIP—A $224,130 Farmington Township budget was approved by township electors Monday night. The budget, originally proposed at $181,130, was revised upward by electors attending the annual meeting.

The township annual financial report showed a surplus of $168,394 in the reserve fund. Ward Eagle, new township supervisor, pointed out that because of this reserve, no township tax had been levied.

Roads, ditches and dogs appeared to be matters of concern. Considerable discussion revolved around a $23,000 balance from last year's appropriation for roads which was allowed to revert to the general fund. Floyd A. Cairns, township clerk, pointed out that money could be spent on township roads only through the Oakland County Road Commission, and only upon roads coming up to specifications.

The electors voted to increase the proposed $15,000 road appropriation to $50,000. They also allocated $10,000 to be used for rounding up the township's numerous packs of stray dogs.

Supervisor Eagle struck from the proposed budget $2,595 which had been intended to raise salaries of township officials. He explained that in an "off" year, such salaries could not legally be increased. Increases of $2,250 were allowed for office and clerical employes.

An amount in excess of $3,000 was allocated to the library with the explanation that the library cannot benefit this year from the recently voted .3 mill tax.

The planning committee recommended the integration of planning and zoning boards into a single nine-member township planning commission. This was approved by electors.

The voters overwhelmingly approved a proposal that the township board prohibit issuance of any building permit until proof is given that the building site has an adequate water supply and facilities for natural or artificial removal of sewage and drainage water. The township attorney was authorized to investigate the legality of such a restriction.

COMMERCE TOWNSHIP—Residents approved a proposed budget of $81,640 for the 1956-57 fiscal year last night at the annual Commerce Township meeting held in the township hall.

The adopted budget calls for a substantial increase in expenditures over those of the last fiscal year.

An audit of the township's receipts and disbursements from March 26, 1955 through March 20, 1956, disclosed that $65,915 was spent during that period. Total receipts amounted to $80,487 a figure that enriched the general fund by $14,571.

Several inquiries from the audience centered around the possibility of road improvement. In reply, Township Supervisor James L. Gardner pointed out that the proposed budget permitted road maintenance only.

He added that township roads would not be improved until money is raised for that purpose at the expense of township taxpayers.

The itemized budget follows:

Salaries and wages (township officers, township board and clerical) $21,980; fire department—$19,000; township hall maintenance — $2,160; street lighting — $1,200; sheriff's department—$8,000; elections — $3,000; car allowances — $2,000; bonding and insurance — $800; legal and auditing — $2,000; postage, printing and tax statements — $1,000; zoning — $1,500; miscellaneous — $1,000; deficiency payments to road commission for road maintenance (local roads) — $18,000.

FINAL PLANS FOR SCOUT-O-RAMA — State Senator William Broomfield of District 12, right, joined Earl L. Gruber, left, and Willard H. Wells, scout executive of Ottawa District, standing, in a final review of plans for the big Scout-O-Rama to be held Saturday at Walled Lake Senior High School. School doors will be open from 2 until 9:30 p.m. Broomfield will serve as the head of a judging committee which includes Gruber, general chairman of Scout-O-Rama; Wells, Ottawa district scout executive and Edward Leland, scout executive of the Clinton Valley Council. The senator will make the presentation of awards to the heads of scouting units for outstanding booth displays in the show. Exhibits will be judged on the basis of quality, originality, action at the booth, and effectiveness.

To Be Saturday at Walled Lake High

Plans Complete for Giant Scout-O-Rama

WALLED LAKE—The doors of the new Walled Lake Senior High School on South Commerce road will swing open at 2 p.m. Saturday, to welcome the public to the third annual Scout-O-Rama, the giant production of the Ottawa District of the Boy Scouts of America.

The event will be continuous from 2 until 9:30 p.m., featuring displays of scouting activities and accomplishments. A special 10-act stage show will be presented at 3:30 and 8:15 p.m.

Every effort has been made to produce a maximum amount of convenience and safety for the visitor, according to Earl L. Gruber, general chairman.

Both the Walled Lake city and Wolverine Lake village police forces will direct traffic to ample parking facilities. The parking of cars will be directed by the older scouts, the Explorers.

The Commerce Township fire department will station a truck at the scene of activity.

Gruber anticipates a record crowd to file into the school gymnasium, considerably more than the 5,000 persons who witnessed the 1955 show.

Nearly 2,000 Scouts from all corners of southern Oakland County will participate in the show. More than 30 booths will be set up to exhibit the activities of 46 scouting units, including basketry, bow and arrow making, conservation, leatherwork, Cubcraft, cooking demonstrations and a model camp.

An international flavor has been added to this year's Scout-O-Rama. A group of Canadian Boy Scouts from Troop 20 of Tecumseh, Ont. will be on hand at the World Brotherhood Merit Badge display.

In addition to an Indian pageant, there will be 10 acts consisting of music, pantomime, comedy, skits and songs. Stage director is Robert Williams with Otis Walton acting as master of ceremonies.

Tickets for the Scout-O-Rama may be purchased from any Boy Scout, Cub or Explorer of the Ottawa district or at the school door on the day of the program.

An elaborate portable food kitchen, owned by Troop 108 of Walled Lake, will be set up on the grounds.

At the conclusion of the concert, college band members will be overnight guests of Milford people and will continue their tour early tomorrow morning.

Hollywood Headlines:

Charles Laughton Plans First Film in Two Years

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — Charles Laughton, who hasn't made a movie in two years, is coming back to the screen for Sam Spiegel in "The Bridge Over the River Kwai."

Charles thought he was through emoting, but when he read the story, which is very similar to his Captain Bligh in "Mutiny on the Bounty," he just couldn't turn it down.

He plays a British captain who is taken captive by the Japanese army, and he has all the meanness and pomp of Captain Bligh, who won Charlie fame and hundreds of impersonations.

Famed Londoner David Lean has been named director, and Charles takes off for Ceylon for locations in the fall.

Thank goodness we're going to have a picture about teenagers which doesn't point up juvenile delinquency.

I'm interested that Sam Engel, who is producing Mary Chase's stage play "Bernardine," says, "it's a mathematical fact that far more kids are decent than not. We wouldn't have so many of them grow up to be law-abiding citizens if all teenagers were delinquent."

Sam is going to use six of the studio's promising young newcomers, Barry Coe, Marco Damon, James Drury, Don Murray, Rick Jason and Ken Clark, and Susan Kohner has a head start for the femme lead.

SCREEN SPOUSE

George Sanders never will be Zsa Zsa Gabor's husband again in real life, but he's going to be her spouse on the screen. Zsa Zsa says she has bought "The Tall, Dark Stranger," which she made on TV with Hugh O'Brian and which received good notices.

"George is one of the best actors I know," Zsa Zsa told me, "and we are making a package deal on this picture."

"How does he like your being engaged to Hal Hayes?" I asked her.

"He doesn't like it very much," she laughed.

I told her I didn't believe that she would marry Hal, then she started telling me how nice he is.

"The trouble with you," I told her, "is that all your men are so nice you never can make up your mind."

"If I marry again," she said, "it's for keeps. Four times married is enough!"

There's a real treat in store for those who lived in New York in the '30s, for music lovers, and well, for just everybody who loves a good picture in "The Eddy Duchin Story."

Tyron Power does an amazing job of fingering at the piano. He worked for six months to perfect it and you can believe it when you see him. At times I thought he looked a little like Eddy, too.

Doesn't Want the Name, Prefers Stage Moniker

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Charles Richard Fitzgerald told Superior Court that during the war when he was in the Army he often failed to answer to his name at bed check and mail call.

Fitzgerald said this and similar inconveniences prompted him to ask the court yesterday to legalize his stage name, Charley Foy.

Foy, 57, is the son of the late Eddie Foy, a famous vaudeville performer.

Ambitious Robin Finds Home Building Risky

DENVER (AP)—A robin got all tangled up in its building project.

A housewife noticed the bird dangling upside down in a tree, its legs caught in a length of string it had carried there for nest building.

Fire Capt. Frank Magor went to the robin's rescue.

Zernial Spoils Lary's Performance

DETROIT (AP)—They had big Gus Zernial riding the bench because they said he couldn't hit right handed pitching. But the big Texan, who has been off and on the trading block for months, proved they were wrong.

* * *

He strolled out of the dugout in the 7th inning at Briggs Stadium yesterday with two on and two out and did the job they figured he couldn't do. Righthander Frank Lary was pitching for Detroit, and until he faced "Ozark Ike" he had a classic all wrapped up by himself in the opening game of the season between the Tigers and the Kansas City Athletics.

Then the 32-year-old Zernial picked on Lary's slider on a 3-1 offering and doubled off the wall in left centerfield, driving across the two runs that sent the Tigers spinning down to a 2-1 defeat.

Lary's individual brilliance had the crowd of 40,037 forgetting the wintry weather until Zernial's effort. The 25-year-old Alabama hurler, starting his second full season with the Tigers, was the whole show until then.

* * *

Not only had he limited the Athletics to three scattered hits through the first six innings, but he had pasted an inside-the-park home run that gave Detroit a 1-0 lead in the 5th inning.

Lary and southpaw Alex Kellner dueled on even terms until Lary pounded one of Kellner's fast balls into center field past Harry Simpson. The A's outfielder lunged for the ball, but it skipped past him and rolled all the way to the wall, some 440 feet away from the plate. Lary slid head first into home plate and the Tigers had the lead.

That's the way it stood until the A's 7th. After Elmer Valo flied out, ex-Tiger catcher Joe Ginsberg rapped his second hit—a double to center—and Bobby Shantz went in to run for him. Jim Finigan walked and pinch hitter Charley Thompson flied to Bill Tuttle in center to set the stage for Zernial's smash.

* * *

Lary scattered four other hits, struck out four and walked but one. The Tigers got eight hits off the combined offerings of winner Kellner, and reliefers Tom Gorman and Tom Lasorda, but they left 10 runners stranded and could not get the clutch hit that would have counted.

They had two walks in the first and two singles in the 2nd and failed to score. After Lary's home run with one out, Harvey Kuenn doubled but was stranded. Tuttle led off the 6th with a double but could get no farther than 3rd base. And in the 9th, 21-year-old Reno Bertoia started it off with a double to left center. But Buddy Hicks batted for Lary and popped to the catcher, Kuenn flied to short right and Torgeson tapped weakly to the second baseman.

Bertoia, making his debut as the Tiger second baseman, performed well. He handled seven chances without an error and got two hits in four appearances.

Veteran Steve Gromek is manager Bucky Harris' choice for the second of the three-game series today against the Athletics. Manager Lou Boudreau of the A's has nominated Art Ditmar, who had a 12-12 record last season for the sixth-place Athletics. The lanky righthander won two games without defeat against the Tigers. Gromek, who finished with a 13-10 record, was 2-1 against the Athletics.

Game time is 2 p.m., and the weather outlook is for more of the same cloudy, windy and cool weather that whipped through Briggs Stadium yesterday.

Tennis Match Held Up

Because of weather conditions that prevented play, Tuesday afternoon, Pontiac High School's tennis team expected today to meet Arthur Hill at Murphy Park.

Another match has been set for Thursday, at Cranbrook. The match with Cranes was not on the Chiefs' original schedule.

There was a question again early today, whether the Arthur Hill match could be played. It will depend on the weather.

TIGERS' FIRST RUN OF '56 — Pitcher Frank Lary scrambles head first to reach home plate in the 5th inning of yesterday's game for an inside-the-park homer to give the Tigers a 1-0 lead over Kansas City at Briggs Stadium. Lary drove the ball past righthander Harry Simpson who made a dive for the ball and missed. Kansas City however scored twice in the 7th to win 2-1 in the season's opener.

From the Press Box

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

Biggest pair of shoes for any man to fill would be those of Matt Mann, one of the nation's greatest swimming coaches, whose University of Michigan teams were perennially among the best in the land.

The big task of filling these shoes has belonged to the feet of Gus Stager, youthful coach who left Fordson High School in Dearborn to take the post at Ann Arbor.

Gus was the guest speaker at the Pontiac High School banquet Monday night honoring the Chief basketball and swimming teams, and his few words of wisdom are well worth repeating and also well worth remembering for prospective college athletes.

"You pick the college, don't let the college pick you," he said, "and most of all don't pick your college on a monetary basis."

★ ★ ★ ★

With today's recruiting program for athletes resembling a tug of war among colleges, one factor and probably the biggest is the responsibility of the athlete in the classroom as well as on the playing field.

Stager wasn't looking for the All-America in the swimming pool and the All-Nothing in the classroom.

"We, like many other good colleges, are interested in the boy who hustles for his grades as well as his athletic awards," he said, "and we want the boy who can accept a challenge in the classroom and on the playing field."

★ ★ ★ ★

Stager used as his model George Breen, the sparkling swimmer from Cortland State Teachers College who recently set a world mark at the NCAA meet at Yale.

Stager was impressed by Breen, not by his form but by the way the young swimmer works.

"He is ultimate example of what a swimmer should not look like," said Stager. "He kicks like a girl and his arms slop through the water to make everyone wonder what makes him go."

"But yet," Gus added, "I think he has the best chance for bringing America a gold medal in the Olympics."

How does he swim so fast with such poor form? "He works hard and gives it everything he's got, and that's the reason for his success," concluded Stager.

★ ★ ★ ★

Stager's well spoken words of wisdom were well received by the Chief athletes and the banquet guests.

"It should be well for the 15 graduating lettermen of the swim team to remember," said PHS swimming coach Bob Boyce in awarding 17 varsity letters.

Seeded Players to 'Feel Axe'

Expect Four Will Drop at River Oaks; Top Stars Still OK

HOUSTON (AP) — At least four seeded players were to be eliminated today in the fourth round of the 22nd annual River Oaks Invitational Tennis Tournament.

Four of the eight matches paired seeded stars, but the four favorites, Vic Seixas, Bernard Bartzen, Eddie Moylan and Gil Shea, were expected to move into the quarter-finals without difficulty.

* * *

Dick Savitt, who quit the tournament trail to learn the oil business in Texas, drew possibly the day's toughest assignment. The former Wimbledon champion, seeded fifth, was paired against Armando Vieira of Brazil, seeded second among foreign entries.

Seixas, seeking his first River Oaks title in five trips here, was paired against Canada's No. 10 star, Don Platt, a third-round winner over Billy Talbert, the non-playing captain of the U.S. Davis Cup team, 6-2, 6-2.

'Treated Like Children'

100 'Bama Athletes Strike

TUSCALOOSA, Ala. (AP) — About 100 University of Alabama athletes struck last night for better rules and regulations, and threatened to leave the school if their demands are not met.

They said they moved out of the university's athletic dormitory because they "were being treated like children."

* * *

The exodus took place after a committee headed by Dan Coyle, former football end, told Athletic Director Hank Crisp "the rules are too strict."

Coyle declared that "unless our demands are met, the general feeling is that we will all leave. We feel that we can go somewhere else, because we are not happy here."

Crisp promised to meet with them Thursday. He could not be reached for further comment.

* * *

The dispute came after Roy Vickery, Alabama tackle, was banned from the athletic dormitory. He had checked in late following a traffic accident Sunday night in which five other athletes were involved.

Disciplinary action against the other five, two of whom are hospitalized, is pending.

Vince de Laurntis, football center only recently returned from the Army, is hospitalized with multiple cuts, and track man Tom Rosing is hospitalized with three broken ribs.

* * *

Others in the accident were Sid Youngleman, tackle and captain of the 1954 Crimson Tide, Jim Bogan, basketball center, and track man Toney Houghton.

Coyle, a former end who did not report for spring practice, said, "We are tired of being treated like children. They have a coach that puts us to bed at 11 p.m. They have a coach that comes around and wakes up at 8 a.m., whether we have classes or not. We have to get signed slips from them to go home, and have to let them know when we are coming back."

A petition demanding five rules revisions was signed by more than 90 athletes and presented to Crisp last night.

* * *

After telling Crisp he could either accept their terms "or else," the athletes moved from the dormitory, which houses about 115.

The athletes are demanding:

1. No bed check out of season.
2. That those in the Sunday accident be allowed to return to the dormitory.
3. No restrictions on seniors, managers and current non-participants in athletics.
4. Revision of night study check.
5. Unlimited privileges of going home over the weekend in off-season.

Meet the Pro

WARREN ORLICH, Tam O'Shanter

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

When it comes to playing an active part in administrative circles of pro golf, Warren Orlich, the popular pro at Tam O'Shanter is one of Michigan's leading representatives.

* * *

Currently the president of the Michigan chapter of the PGA, Warren is also a member of the National Tourney Committee and the National Rules Committee.

This is his 4th season at Tam O'Shanter and the pro committee at the club has just presented him with another three-year contract.

Warren was a "pro" at 14 when he started his apprenticeship at the Grosse Ile.

He stayed there 17 years under Joe Devany and in 1931 became the assistant pro at Indianwood.

* * *

From 1940 through 1952 he stayed at Monroe Golf and Country Club before coming to Tam O'Shanter.

With him are assistants Ted Huffman and Gene Bone with the newest addition John Monits as the club's caddie master.

"This gives us one of the best staffs in the state," said Orlich proudly of his aides.

* * *

A disappointment is something that sticks in Warren's mind the most at the club. This came a year ago when his score card showed 31 for the first nine. There was nothing wrong with this except Warren had to call off the other nine holes because of darkness.

Promoter Appears in Ring Fix Probe

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) Boxing Promoter Jimmy Murray of Richmond and San Francisco was lead-off witness today as Gov. Knight's investigating committee opened Northern California hearings on the fight business.

In recent turbulent hearings at Los Angeles, the committee heard charges that several fights were fixed.

* * *

Today's hearings bring a rematch between Committee Counsel Jim Cox of Martinez and Murray's attorney, Jake Ehrlich, who represented Matchmaker Babe McCoy, main target of the Los Angeles probe. Cox and Ehrlich crossed angrily in the Southern California sessions.

Williams Drives Auto Built by JA Company

ROCKFORD (AP)—With Gov. Williams at the wheel, a $4,000 automobile built by 24 high school pupils went through a successful shakedown run here Tuesday. The car was built by Dodge Achiever Co., a group of teenagers organized as a Junior Achievement firm.

Sixteen - year - old Carl Szejda, president of the company, said 2,500 shares of stock were sold a 50 cents a share and $500 was borrowed from a Junior Achievement bank to finance construction. Parts were purchased from Dodge Division of Chrysler Corp. for $1,750.

'Non-Scheduled' Bout

Ex-Fighters Go at It With Bare Knuckles

SYDNEY, Australia (AP)—Jimmy Carruthers, retired undefeated world banta champion, and Ray Coleman, ex-Australian featherweight champion, slugged it out with bare knuckles more than two weeks ago, it was revealed today.

About 30 people watched as the pair battled for 14 minutes without a referee on the night of March 31.

* * *

Then Coleman, who, reports said was knocked down seven times, said he had enough.

It is almost four years since Carruthers gained a decision over Coleman at Sydney Stadium.

Ever since, it has been a sore point with Coleman that he had to boil himself down to 122 pounds to get that fight.

* * *

Carruthers, now a saloon keeper, told of the fight.

"For sometime Ray has been coming to my pub and creating disturbances," he said. "I run a respectable pub and cannot have that sort of behavior. I repeatedly asked Ray to behave himself or leave.

* * *

"Matters came to a head. I told him I could not have any more of it and he wanted to fight. We went across the street and fought it out with bare knuckles. I am sure Ray realizes that what happened to him that night will be repeated if he wants another return."

Coleman, so called "bad boy" of recent Australian boxing, could not be reached to give his version.

Bertoia Shines at 2nd Even With Butterflies

DETROIT (AP) — For a kid who didn't get much sleep the night before, Reno Bertoia was wide awake yesterday.

* * *

The handsome, 21-year-old former bonus player confided in the Detroit Tiger dugout shortly before the game against Kansas City that he "had a little trouble sleeping last night."

It wasn't so hard to understand.

* * *

This is the year the club could have farmed out the husky second baseman. Signed as a bonus player, Bertoia had to spend three years with the parent club. He did just that, and came to the plate only 106 times in 93 games. His batting average for those 106 trips was .189.

An AP writer remembered a few nights back when the club was winding up its exhibition season in Pittsburgh. The train was rolling home to Detroit and the kid had a nearby compartment. He came in to chat for a while.

It developed that he "expected to be sent out this year," that he was "real surprised but happy" when the Tigers decided to keep him with the Major Leaguers in Florida after a few days with the Charleston Club; that he was "a little nervous" when manager Bucky Harris announced him as the starting second baseman.

* * *

It was just a casual question when Bertoia was asked in the dugout yesterday a half hour before game time if he felt a little nervous. Young Reno unhesitatingly called it "the biggest day of my life" and added:

* * *

"I had a little trouble sleeping last night . . . kept waking up all the time . . . finally gave up and got up about seven. I guess there are a few butterflies down here," and he pointed to his stomach.

* * *

They didn't show after 2 p.m. He made the second out of the game, taking Spook Jacobs' grounder and tossing to Earl Torgeson at first for the putout. Then in the Detroit half of the second, Bertoia had his first turn at bat. He promptly singled sharply to left field.

* * *

He struck out swinging in the 5th, grounded to 3rd in the sixth but doubled to deep left center to open the 9th.

* * *

Then you remembered a few days back when the Italian-born youngster, who makes his home in Windsor, Ont., was talking about his chances to make good this year with the major league club.

* * *

"I'm pretty lucky," he said. "The Tigers need a second baseman and they're giving me the chance to be that guy."

Ike's Record 2-2

Yanks Win After 1st Toss

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower wound up his first four baseball seasons yesterday with a 2-2 record for his home team, the Washington Senators.

Eisenhower has thrown out the first ball at Griffith Stadium to open every season since he entered the White House.

In 1953 his inaugural pitch was followed by a 6-3 victory for the New York Yankees. Eisenhower's right-handed tosses were more beneficial to the local boys in 1954 and 1955. They beat the Yankees 5-3 then the Baltimore Orioles 12-5.

Yesterday, however, the Yankees came back to thrash Washington 10-4.

Presidents have been throwing out first balls since 1910. The late Clark Griffith established the ceremony as an opening day tradition after coming to Washington to manage the Senators in 1912.

Peewee Pilot Named 'Coach-of-the-Year'

HOUGHTON — Ernest Harwick, who coached the Houghton Peewees hockey team to the national championship this year, is "Michigan Amateur Coach-of-the-Year."

Harwick, a Michigan Tech senior from Sudbury, Ont., was named for the award yesterday in a vote by officials of the Michigan Amateur Hockey Assn. He was chosen over some 100 other coaches of amateur hockey teams in the state.

Jersey Revival!

Majors Return After 41 Years' Absence

JERSEY CITY, N.J. (AP)—Major league baseball returns to New Jersey tomorrow for the first time in 41 years.

The world champion Brooklyn Dodgers will take on Philadelphia in the first of seven National League games this season before an expected sellout of 24,100.

* * *

The weatherman predicts fair skies when Carl Erskine of Brooklyn and Murry Dickson of Philadelphia are slated to go against each other.

* * *

New York and Boston played two National League games here in 1889. In modern times, the last non-exhibition major league contest was in 1915 when the now-defunct Newark club was in the old Federal League.

Enthusiastic Jersey City fans, longing for top-drawer baseball since Jersey City's International League team folded in late 1950, were to attend an open house in the refurbished Roosevelt Stadium today.

* * *

School kids were given the afternoon off by city officials who looked for a capacity turnout to watch the Dodgers take batting and fielding practice.

Mayor Bernard Berry will throw out the first ball tomorrow. National League President Warren Giles also will be on hand.

Ground crews have been working at breakneck speed, often under lights, to get the stadium ready for the opener ever since Jersey City and Dodger officials signed on the dotted line of a 3-year pact Dec. 1 of last year.

* * *

The renovating job, costing over $50,000, involved tearing up an auto race track, covering a skating rink in left center, and resodding the entire 135,000 square-foot playing area.

* * *

Roosevelt Stadium, once a pitchers' paradise because a prodigious clout was required for a homer, now has a left and right-field foul line distance of 330 feet. Dead center is 418 feet from home plate.

The game will be televised.

Ironically, it was the television bugaboo which chopped down crowds at the once-profitable New York Giants franchise here and led to its transfer to Ottawa.

* * *

Dodger officials will be looking closely at how well the club is supported here. Although they have underway plans to construct a new stadium in Brooklyn, they haven't entirely abandoned the idea of locating in New Jersey permanently.

Williams, Mantle Start Off Slugging

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Memo to American League managers:: You can forget that defensive shift against Ted Williams. You'll either have to walk the big guy or pitch 'n' pray.

The Thumper, who has won four American League batting titles topped by his .406 in 1941, and has a lifetime .348 average, set the terms for the 1956 season when he made his first appearance in the Boston Red Sox' opening day lineup in four years yesterday.

Forced to miss those recent starts due either to service duties or injuries, Williams showed up as a healthy civilian for a change and banged two doubles to left and a single to center against Baltimore's shift as the Red Sox belted the Orioles 8-1.

* * *

The prescribed defense against Williams' notorious left - handed power has been to shift the shortstop and second baseman into right and crowd the outfielders around to right. Now something new is needed.

Ted, who walked his first time up, drove in a run and scored one in the 16-hit Boston attack, which got started with a four-run first off Bill Wight. Frank Sullivan, who won 18 last year, held the Orioles in check with an eight-hitter, fanning seven.

* * *

The bat spree gave the Red Sox a running break in the predicted four-way AL pennant fight among Boston, New York, Chicago and Cleveland.

* * *

The Yankees, who have been hinting this may be Mickey Mantle's BIG year at last, swamped Washington 10-4 with the Mick swatting two 475-foot homers out of the Senators' Griffith Stadium. The White Sox got a jump on the Indians, winning 2-1 at Chicago when Cleveland ace Bob Lemon walked the clinching run home in the seventh.

* * *

In the National League, which fell short of the Al's 117,210 opening day crowds with an attendance of 108,887, Brooklyn's world champion Dodgers, who won their first 10 games last season, were knocked off by Philadelphia and Robin Roberts 8-6. Hank Aaron and Joe Adcock homered for Milwaukee in the Braves' 6-0 decision over the Chicago Cubs on Lew Burdette's five-hitter. Stan Musial hit a two-run homer in the ninth as St. Louis defeated Cincinnati 4-2. And Johnny Antonelli tossed a six-hitter and homered in the New York Giants' 4-3 victory over Pittsburgh.

* * *

Mantle, a switch - hitter who topped the AL with 37 homers last season, was swinging left - handed for his two wallops off Camilio Pascual that made him the first ever to clear Washington's centerfield barrier twice in one game. It's the Mick's pet park; he hit a 562-foot homer there in 1953.

Yogi Berra also homered for the Yanks, who got six-hit pitching from Don Larsen. Karl Olson, late of the Red Sox, homered twice for the Senators and rookie Dick Tettlebach, former Yank farmhand, once.

* * *

Southpaw Billy Pierce, the AL's earned-run leader in '55, five-hit the Indians, giving up a homer to Jim Busby—only member of the Busby - Chico Carrasquel - for Larry Doby trade to do anything. Doby fanned three times—once with the bases loaded. Sherm Lollar scored the winning run, and drove in the other for the Sox with a double.

* * *

Roberts, who set a major league mark by allowing 41 homers in '55, was tagged for a home run by Roy Campanella and an inside-the-park job by Junior Gilliam, but the Phils gave him the padding he needed by chasing Don Newcombe. Jim Greengrass's three-run blast got rid of Newk in the third, and Gran Hamner homered off Ed Roebuck for the final Phil run in the fourth.

* * *

Musial, out for his seventh batting title, was hitless in four trips before Joe Nuxhall made his ninth-inning mistake. Vinegar Bend Mizell, pitching his first NL game since 1953 after his Army discharge, was the winner, but needed help from old man Ellis Kinder in the ninth.

Dale Long homered twice for the Pirates to make Antonelli work for his decision. Bob Friend, the NL'Ls ERA leader in '55, was the loser with two New York runs unearned. Willie Mays scored the winning marker, scooting home from second on an infield out.

* * *

Burdette was never in trouble and held the Cubs to one hit in the last six frames. It was Milwaukee's fourth straight opening day victory and cut the Cubs' string at six.

Secrets of Better Golf

By Patty Berg

The position of the club at the top of your backswing with a driver is important to the result of your shot. Here is how you should look at this point in your swing:

Your body has completely pivoted, with the weight almost entirely on the right side. The left heel is off the ground and your right hip has turned out of the way so the club can be swung all the way to the top.

Your hands are under the shaft with firm control of the club at the top of your swing. I have the feeling of swinging my hands high at the top of my swing — keeping this thought in mind might help you. The important thing is not to let go of the club at this point.

The club should be parallel to the ground, and the face should remain square. This is important if you are to hit the ball squarely off the tee. An open or closed face at the top of your swing means you will have to do some fast and fancy juggling in order to get the club face back to the same position in which you took it away.

* * *

Your head remains in the same position as at the address. I always think of my body as more or less revolving around my head throughout the swing.

Every player has a definite individual tempo or rhythm in which he swings the club. This is just as much a part of your golf swing as it is of your walk or thinking. I, personally, use a "one and two" type of swing, in which there is very little if any hesitation. To me, it is a swing and a hit—straight back and straight through.

However, I do not advocate this for all players. A one-two-three motion might result in a better timing for you. Generally speaking, for the average player I suggest a slight pause at the top of the swing. This will keep you from hurrying your downswing and aid in giving you better balance and control of the club. A slight pause at the top probably will result in a smoother downswing, and there is less chance of your lunging at the ball.

Birmingham Club Honors Famed Michigan Coach

BIRMINGHAM — Fielding H. Yost, famed Michigan coach who died just ten years ago, will be honored by music and talks at the Exchange Club luncheon meeting at the Community House May 1. His birthday is April 30.

* * *

A song written for him by J. Fred Lawton, a Berkley author, will be sung by the 75-piece Ferndale Lincoln High School band.

* * *

Lawton, will talk on his book, "Hurry Up Yost in Song and Story" which covered Yost's colorful early-1900 football career.

* * *

Coach Benny Oosterbaan of Michigan is expected to attend, as well as Mrs. Eunice Yost, widow of the late coach. Oosterbaan, a lifelong friend of Yost, will comment on his life.

* * *

DeHull N. Travis, a 1908 graduate of Michigan, is in charge of the program. Among others he has invited to the meeting are Robert Muzzey, president of the University of Michigan Club of Detroit, and Mrs. Fred A. Henny, president of Birmingham's U. of M. Club.

* * *

"Great Friend of Youth," is title of the song, to the music of "Finlandia" by Sibelius, and it is being sung for the first time at the Exchange club meeting.

The chorus, which has sung widely in the US and Canada, will sing from the Community House's stage.

* * *

Lawton is known also for his impersonations of Yost's half-time team talks, and for writing the words to Michigan's "Varsity." He is editor of the U of M Club of Detroit's weekly bulletin.

* * *

At 12 years old he "hero-worshiped" the coach, and ran onto the field he recalls, "to touch his overcoat. I did, and that hand didn't get washed for five days." He played football under Yost when the Michigan teams were averaging "a point a minute." In five years Yost's teams scored 2841 points to their opponents' 45, Lawton recalls.

Lawton remained close to Yost during following years, and wears the coach's gold football on his watch chain. Yost coached from 1901 to 1925.

* * *

Singleton's 76 Paces PHS Win

Chief Linksmen Off to Good Start in SVC's 1956 Campaign

While the weather did its best to discourage the efforts of Pontiac's high school golfers and their first 1956 Saginaw Valley opponents, Arthur Hill, it didn't stop one Chief from hitting a mid-season mark. Dick Singleton's 76 (40-36) paced the Chiefs to a 9½-5½ victory over the Municipal Course, first of the week.

Dick dropped many long putts, and this factor, plus a steady performance all the way was the big one in his fine round. Sammy Coleman, who has been improving rapidly, posted a 85 (41-44) to follow Singleton in the totals. Singleton had two birdies, 8 pars.

Tom Cross, last year's ace, and usually a fine player, had a little trouble with borrowed clubs, and posted 91 (47-44). George Bergstrom had 98 (48 - 50) and Dick Whitmer, tenth grader, fired a good 86 (44-42).

For Arthur Hill Chet Fobear had 86 (45-41) to lead his team. Other Hill scores: Fred Barnard 95, Larry Vacik 96, Jerry Hutchinson 93 and Joe Fobear 92.

Pontiac's junior varsity also won over 'Jacks' juniors 12-3. Bob Clapp's 91 was tops for the match.

Pontiac Man Lands 11-Pound Steelhead

Fishing the Platte river near Beulah last weekend, William Fitzpatrick, 442 Cameron, Pontiac, landed a 11-pound-plus lake run rainbow, or steelhead. The trout was Fitzpatick's biggest. It was about 34½ inches long and a female, heavy with roe.

Fitzpatrick was fishing with Tony Tison, 43 Baldwin, a garage operator. Tony didn't have any luck. His partner also took a smaller fish. He used a large Colorado spinner.

"I go up there every spring" says Fitpatrick, "and usually get some fish."

Visitors to Area's Parks Lose Many Valuable Items

LANSING—This year, hundred of persons will lose valuabl items in Michigan's 58 state parks Most will be recovered and large portion turned in to park offices.

There, these items may as wel rot.

For some reason, park patrons fail to check at park offices to see if anybody found their lost tent, or their misplaced eyeglasses or their valuable ring.

Sometimes false teeth are found Shoes are a common item i summer, when man wants t wiggle his toes in sand and con veniently forget he is citified Bicycles and tricycles, and even automobiles, are left. Some neve are claimed.

* * *

Where park officials have any indication of the owner's name and address, an attempt is made to restore the item to its proper pocket.

* * *

But more often than not, no name is attached. The billfold and books and clothing and ve hicles are held at the park for about a year and finally turne over to the state board o escheats in Lansing for disposal

State park officials would rathe have proper owners receive th items. Mostly, however, this i a problem only the loser can solve He must learn to use park los and found offices.

State's Beaver Take Increased

Last Year's Total of 16,700, However, Was Short of Record

LANSING — Beaver and otte seasons meant plenty of activity for some 4,000 Michigan trapper during late March and early April.

Last year, trappers took about 16,700 beavers and an all-time high of 609 otters. The season record for beaver catch was set in 1953 when about 17,500 were trapped—more than were taken in Alaska that year.

Annual catch by, Michigan trappers has been increasing in recen years, under Conservation Department regulations of season length and bag limits. Proper management practices promote balance populations and sustained yield.

Season bag limits permitte U. P. trappers to take six beaver and three otters while Lowe Peninsula limits allowed fou beavers and three otters.

Some areas with lower beave and otter populations, includin all of Gratiot, Saginaw, Wexfor and Manistee counties in the Lowe Peninsula, are closed to trappin this year.

Archie Beats Parmentier in Third Round

SEATTLE (AP) — Light-heavyweight champ Archie Moore, almost having to leap to land his blows, easily disposed of tall George Parmentier in the third round of a scheduled 10-round nontitle fight here last night.

* * *

Moore, weighing in at 193, dropped the 233-pound, 6-5 giant from Eureka, Calif., three times in the third round. The referee called the fight after Parmentier twice had taken the compulsory eight count.

* * *

The champion, training for a June title defense against Yolonde Pompey in England, started slowly but began to wear Parmentier down with a series of left hooks in the second.

A capacity crowd of 4,500 witnessed the fight in Seattle's Civic Auditorium.

2-Day Trial Arranged for Irish Setters

'Reds' Will Run at Pontiac Lake During Coming Weekend

Irish Setter Club of Michigan is sponsor for an important AKC licensed spring field trial this weekend. The two-day running will be held over the Pontiac Lake Recreation area, instead of at Highland, where it was originally scheduled. Conflict with the national Red Setter event dictated the change, ISC officials said.

Entries close at 8 p.m. Friday when the drawings take place in the home of Ed McIvar, club president, in Dearborn (24100 Union street).

Events include an open gun dog amateur stake for all AKC pointing breeds on Sunday. Novice stakes will be limited to dogs that have not placed in any recognized trial.

Pontiac Angler Nabs Big Trout in UP Stream

Don Clark, a meat cutter at Wrigley's Auburn Avenue store, returned from an Upper Peninsula fishing trip Monday night with a 27½ inch rainbow trout as his reward.

Clark, who lives at 2298 Jones Road, Pontiac, landed the handsome specimen in Halfday Creek, a small stream near Brimley. He used a casting rod and a 20-pound nylon test with chub for bait.

"It's the biggest fish I ever caught," Don said. "I was so happy about the catch I quite and came home." Clark was angling with his brother Leonard.

Improved Weather Needed to Produce Good Early Season Rainbow Fishing

By JACK PATTERSON

When we were a deal younger it was cause for regret that we hadn't been around to see 1816, the notorious "year without a summer." Now that we are apparently faced with a repeat performance it doesn't seem to matter much somehow, that we missed the original.

PATTERSON

"Weather" is too mild a term for what we've got. Maybe we could combine it with "dreadful" and come up with a more accurate word like "dreather." Whatever you choose to call it, the stuff is no asset to the few activities currently open to the sportsman.

* * *

Take early rainbow fishing. This can be fun if the various conditions which make for a strong run happen to be present when the season opens.

Otherwise it's a pretty sorry affair. Of the various factors which influence the timing of the spawning run of rainbows, water temperature is probably the most decisive. It probably comes as a surprise to no one to note that controlling waters are a bit on the chilly side.

* * *

Thus, major runs just weren't in evidence opening weekend. Our best guess: another week to 10 days before the fisherman can expect great activity. Warm rains or a few warm days would speed things up but since when have we been able to count on anything like that?

One side effect of the lack of rainbow activity is our inability to draw any conclusions as to the worth of "strawberrys" as bait.

Recently introduced locally, these pre-packed salmon-egg and gauze clusters work pretty well on western steelhead streams—should do well here. But we need fish to try them on.

* * *

Over on Lake St. Clair, muskie fishing appears to be getting off to a slower start than it did last year. Conditions are far from perfect for both fish and fishermen. Here again any change will be for the better.

* * *

Bow and arrow carp fishermen are having some on-and-off activity but major spawning operations aren't under way yet. Some rather large fish have been reported from Walled Lake but they are not appearing in shallow waters in substantial numbers. Cass Lake has some whopper carp in it (as do most of the lakes in the county) but little "rolling" is in evidence to date.

Clashing Interests!

Cricketers Object When Diamond Overlaps Field

VICTORIA, B.C. (AP) Suburban Oak Bay Council was caught on a sticky wicket today by a clash of interests between cricket and baseball.

* * *

The cricketers were up in arms about a recent over-lapping of the Windsor Park cricket patch by a new baseball diamond.

* * *

"It's a shocking thing for anyone from England to come and see us playing under these conditions," said Cricketer J. A. Hobday.

"Deep cover is standing on the mound . . . second base and the extra cover wouldn't get along very well."

* * *

The Sunday cricket match has been a tradition in the park for the last 11 years, he said.

"We have a great following come down and bring their own chairs and bring their tea."

There had been a suggestion that the cricket ground be moved to another park, but "gentlemen, you can't play cricket on a potato field."

ABC's Leaders Unchallenged

New Yorker's 618 in Singles Far Beneath Top 722 Mark

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP)—Another group of hopeful keglers took to the alleys today to challenge the leaders in the American Bowling Congress Tournament.

Yesterday's hopefuls failed in their efforts to shake up the standings.

* * *

James Egbert of Oswego, N.Y., rolled up a top score of 618 in the singles on games of 246, 181 and 191, but it was far below the leading 722 rolled by Eli Panttila of DeKalb, Ill., April 9.

* * *

Don Borowski and Leo Dobola of Buffalo led the scoring in the doubles division with 1,201. Bill Lillard and Stan Gifford of Chicago lead the division with 1,331. Lillard aso leads the all-events with 2,018.

In the team division, the Bud Stempier team of Detroit paced the competition yesterday with 2,801, but it was behind the 3,092 posted by the leading Falstaff Beer quintet from Chicago.

Frank Kisiel of North Tonawanda, N.Y., rolled a 277 game during the team event with nine consecutive strikes.

Boyd Shooting for Tenth Win

No. 2 Middleweight to Take on Holly Mims in TV Bout, Tonight

CHICAGO (AP) — Young Bobby Boyd, No. 2 ranking middleweight contender, tries to expand a winning streak against dangerous Holly Mims tonight to keep his hopes buoyed for an early title shot.

Boyd, lanky 22-year-old Chicago Negro, is unbeaten in his last nine starts and rules a 9-5 choice in the nationally televised (10 p.m. EST, ABC) bout at Chicago Stadium.

Boyd, who turned pro in 1952 after coming up in the Golden Gloves ranks, has advanced steadily in the ratings since his last defeat a year ago to Milo Savage.

He has carved his way to top contention by disposing of such rugged fighters as Italo Scortichini, George Johnson, Gene Fullmer, Tony Anthony and Eduardo Lausse. He defeated Lausse in his last start two months ago.

Possessor of a long, steaming right and an accurate left jab, Boyd had scored 21 knockouts in a record of 38-6-2.

Alpena CC in Market for 2 Head Coaches

ALPENA (AP)—Alpena's Catholic Centrel High School in in the market for both a football and a basketball coach.

Leo Murphy, basketball coach at the school for the past year, resigned this week to accept a physical education post with the Sturgis public schools. His team had 12-3 record.

Football coach Bill Connors resigned last month to join the faculty at DeLaSalle High School in Chicago.

U.S. Olympic Swim Coach Is Cautious

EAST LANSING (AP)—The coach of the U. S. Olympic swimming team is cautiously optimistic about this country's chance in the games at Australia this fall.

Coach Bob Muir of Williams College, at Michigan State University for an NCAA swimming rules meeting, said Australia and Japan should provide the most dangerous opposition.

Muir said he was heartened by National AUU meets and is looking forward to the final Olympic tryouts Aug. 7-10 in Detroit.

MSU, DePaul Pair Pace All-Star Win

CHICAGO (AP)—Julius McCoy of Michigan State and Ron Sobieszczyk of DePaul scored 20 points apiece last night to lead the College All Stars to a 70-68 victory over the Harlem Globetrotters.

It was the Stars' eighth victory in 19 games in a series that moves to Cleveland tonight and ends at Indianapolis tomorrow night.

A crowd of 16,126 saw last night's game in which Woodrow Sauldsbury led the Harlem attack with 18 points. The triumph was the first for the Stars at Chicago Stadium in the seven-year history of the series.

Lady Keglers Dine

The second annual bowling banquet of the Ladies Afternoon Classic league will be held tonight at the Elks Temple.

THEY TOOK THE INDIANS' SCALP — Happy threesome in the White Sox dressing room are pitcher Billy Pierce (center) leftfielder Orestes Minoso (left) and catcher Sherman Lollar. Pierce set Cleveland down with five hits, with Lollar collecting three hits and he and Minoso each scoring in the 2-1 victory at Comiskey Park yesterday.

Mikes, Rams, Eaglets Start Baseball

St. Michael, St. Frederick and defending champion Orchard Lake St. Mary open their 1956 Suburban Catholic League baseball campaigns Thursday afternoon.

St. Mike and St. Fred will entertain SCL rivals on Columbia-Joslyn's adjacent fields at 4 p.m. while the Eaglets open defense of their title at Highland Park against St. Benedict.

Bob Mineweaser's Shamrocks, who finished 2nd in last year's race, meet Royal Oak St. Mary at the Columbia-Joslyn north diamond with only six lettermen on hand.

Pitcher Bill Hall, catcher Jack Erb, infielders Dan Dropps and Chuck Brown, and outfielders Ken Rogers and Joe Schultz are the returning letter winners scheduled for starting roles.

First baseman Tom Harding and 3rd sacker Tom Chapdelaine are slated for duty along with outfielder Jim Fox. Reserves ready for call are Mike Flynn, Gerry Steinhelper and Kenny Halpin.

The Rams of Gene Wright, who wound up in the league cellar last season and didn't win a game, will call on pitchers Dick Doyon and Ed Kast in their hopes for better days as they tackle Hazel Park St. Rita at C-J's south diamond.

Wright's choices for tomorrow's starting lineup will come from catchers Martin Koenig and Mike Malloy, 1st basemen Bill Price and Aaron Koenig, 2nd basemen Jerry Dirker and Charley Phipps, shortstops Gary Dirker and Dick Kast, and 3rd sackers Dick Thompson and Paul Saghy.

John Bradley, Bob Croasdell, Wally Quarles, Joe Sharpe, and Andy and Don Landry are outfield candidates.

* * *

Father John Rakoczy's St. Mary team will be handicapped by the loss of ace southpaw Pete Ziebron in its quest of a 2nd straight SCL crown. The Eaglets posted a 7-1 league record last spring while St. Benedict, Thursday's foe, ended in a tie for 3rd place with a 5-3 mark.

Mosconi Gets Record Win

KINSTON, N.C. (AP) — Defending champion Willie Mosconi of Philadelphia set two world's records in winning the world's championship pocket billiards tournament yesterday.

* * *

In his final match he sank 150 balls following the break by Jimmy Moore of Albuquerque. It was the first time in tournament history a player has won a match in the first inning.

The game, the last of the tournament, also was Mosconi's 14th victory wtihout a defeat, the first time a player has won each of his 14 matches.

* * *

Irving Crane of Rochester, N.Y. with a 10-4 record, finished second and in his final match defeated Michael Eufemia of New York City, 150-29. Moore was third with 8-6 and Luther Lassiter of Elizabeth City was fourth with 6-8.

Win Triangular Meets

Eaglets, Lakers Top Field

Orchard Lake St. Mary and West Bloomfield track teams scored impressive victories in triangular meets Tuesday afternoon.

The Eaglets, boasting one of their finest cinder squads in recent years, conquered Walled Lake and Detroit DeLaSalle on the Orchard Lake track with co-captains Gerry Leszczynski and Stan Majewski leading the way.

Father John Gabalski's thinclads took eight 1st positions to Walled Lake's four and scored 62 points to the Vikings' 53½. DeLaSalle totaled 23½ points.

Leszczynski, the meet's high individual scorer with 15½ points, won the 220-yard dash and shot put, took 2nd in the 100-yard dash and tied for 2nd in the broad jump.

* * *

Majewski accounted for 14 points, winning the 70-yard high hurdles and broad jump and tying for 1st spot in the 120-yard lows.

Lowell Martin was Walled Lake's leading scorer with 6 and ½ points. He took 2nd in the 880 and was part of a triple tie for 1st in the pole vault.

Ray Brancheau personally accumulated 14 points to pace West Bloomfield's conquest of Northville and Bloomfield Hills in their meet at Keego Harbor. The Lakers scored 51½ points, Northville 35 and ¾, and Bloomfield Hills 22 and ¾.

Brancheau took the broad jump and pole vault and tied for 1st place in the high jump. Northville's Dick Chapman won two events, the 100 and 220-yard runs.

West Bloomfield and Northville each chalked up five 1st places, but the Lakers captured four runner-up spots while the Mustangs were gaining only one.

'Ruggers' Head West

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP) — The Harvard rugby team today left for the West Coast and a two-game date with the powerful University of California unit. Games are scheduled for Saturday and Monday afternoons.

Dartmouth College made its first spring baseball training trip to the south in 1892.

Elmer Valo of the Kansas City Athletics batted .452 as a pinch hitter in 40 games in 1955.

Because the 'Nice People' Want It

Guy Believes 'Nice Music' Always Wins

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK (INS)—Guy Lombardo, a carnation-bearing perennial who refuses to be transplanted in the field of music, was sitting at a table beside his band humming the tune they played. It was—what else?—"Stardust."

* * *

"Now there's a song," said Lombardo, definitely.

"If the music business is going to seed, like they say, tell me why the kids today know all the words to it? How come they still want to hear it? You don't know why, I'll tell you.

"It's because the nice people will always win out. You can't take nice people, and nice music—which are as American as ham and eggs—and throw them out the window. They win out in the end . . ."

* * *

Rock 'n' roll music, which Guy confesses he "likes, strangely enough, because it has a beat," will soon be replaced by calmer music that 'not only has a beat but a melody.' And of progressive jazz, the maestro says: "Those boys have progressed themselves right out of business."

REMAINS CALM

For more than 30 years, 53-year-old Lombardo has remained imperturable as he watched Tin Pan Alley suffer the many indignities that have been tossed its way.

Like any other alley, it has been the resting place for a plentiful amount of garbage, yowling cat calls and sullied characters strolling through, looking to peddle a fast buck.

"But sooner or later, the people always put their feet down and get it cleaned up and nice and orderly again."

It is easy, of course, for Guy to speak without cynicism on the subject, for regardless of what has happened to Tin Pan Alley throughout the decades, his "Sweetest Music This Side of Heaven" has bounced merrily along, untouched.

Like a kid at a cocktail party, many have wondered why it was hanging around—but nobody would suggest it be thrown out.

THE GENTLE BEAT

Lombardo's music was always the wholesome touch, no matter how boisterous and novel the musical trend had become. At the end of a hard day of jazz, be-bop, hillbilly and swing, people liked to hear the gentle beat.

"You don't have to analyze it or let it rip your insides apart. You just dance or dream to it."

Lombardo credits Lawrence Welk — another bandleader of easy - going inclination — for doing the most to revive dance-able music on television.

"Lawrence plays the same kind of thing we do, Hit Parade-type music, and his TV show has been successful enough that I think we've finally sold the television industry on dance music at last." (Lombardo has his own filmed show).

"But when they call him an 'overnight sensation,' I can't help but laugh. Lawrence has been along since the mid-1930s, you know. He was big in the Midwest while we were hitting it here in the East."

When he was congratulated for speaking so kindly of his nearest competitor in the music business, Guy Lombardo looked sincerely surprised.

The "nice people," he explained quietly, must stand or fall together.

* * *

So saying, he strolled off to wave his baton over some "nice music" like "Make Believe."

Britain Starts Bond Plan to Save Money

LONDON (AP)—Britain has announced a saving bond sweepstakes with prizes up to 1,000 pounds ($2,800) in a bid to siphon off the nation's surplus spending power.

* * *

Chancellor of the Exchequer Harold MacMillan disclosed plans for the novel scheme in presenting his "save more" budget to the House of Commons. He said there would be no losers—only prizes—in drawing by purchasers of government bonds.

He said plans to get the sweepstake going would be put into operation immediately, but that the "premium bonds" would probably not be on sale until early next year.

The scheme, like all the budget proposals, can go into effect immediately but must be approved by Parliament in the annual finance bill.

Peron Used Millions to Inculcate Youth

BUENOS AIRES (AP)—Ousted dictator Juan D. Peron spent about 6¾ million dollars during the last years of his 19-year regime to corrupt Argentina's youth, a government report says.

* * *

The National Investigating Commission reported on activities of the Union of Secondary Students, a youth organization formed by Peron.

* * *

Peron now is in exile in Panama.

The report said Peron set up the student union to serve his "personal and political ends" and incited the youths to rebel against conventions, morals, customs and institutions.

Drinking Hours Tight for New Zealanders

AUKLAND — It may require a referendum to determine whether New Zealand bars shall continue to close at 6 p. m., adopt staggered hours, or stay open later.

There is strong agitation for the Dominion to "fall into step with the rest of the world by allowing bars to ply their trade at more civilized hours."

Church groups are generally opposed to any change, but the Licensing Committee of some towns have adopted resolutions urging that bars should open at 10:30 a. m., close between 6 and 7:30 p. m. and reopen until 10 p. m.

Currently the hours generally are from 10 a. m. to 6 p. m. Lately there have been more and more prosecutions for after hours trading.

Grain Dealings Drop to Normal

CHICAGO (AP) — Feed grains eased slightly on the Board of Trade today as dealings simmered down to normal levels after the big volume political markets of the past several days.

Both corn and oats dipped fractionally, largely because of a lack of inclination on the part of traders to follow the previous session's advance. New crop wheat firmed after temporary early easiness. May wheat had a firm tone from the start.

Soybeans moved ahead, both the old and new crops scoring small gains after early hesitancy. Lard was steady but did not reach the seasonal high set yesterday.

Wheat near the end of the first hour was ¼ to 1 cent higher, May $2.37¼; corn ⅛ to ½ lower, May $1.47⅝; oats ¼ lower to ⅛ higher, May 65; rye unchanged to ¼ higher, May $1.30¼; soybeans ¾ to 1½ higher, May $2.95¼ and lard 5 cents lower to 5 cents a hundred pounds higher, May $13.62.

He reported first quarter net income of $36,231,322 or $1.24 per share on sales of $309,899,276 compared with the net $28,397,079 or 98 cents a share and sales of $263,041,109 in the year-ago quarter. The company in 1955 had record earnings of $140,755,858 or $4.83 a share on record sales of $1,187,153,197.

GE Tops '55 Mark in Sales for Quarter

SCHENECTADY, N.Y. (AP) — General Electric sales in the first quarter of 1956 neared a billion dollars, and net earnings rose more than $2 million over the comparable 1955 period.

President Ralph Cordiner told the annual stockholders' meeting yesterday that January-March sales totaled a record $946,458,000, compared with $831,014,000 for the first quarter of 1955.

He said net earnings for the quarter were $54,962,000, equal to 63 cents a share. A year ago earnings equaled 61 cents a share.

Earnings per dollar of sales dropped from 6.3 cents last year to 5.8 cents this year, however, Cordiner said. Operating costs climbed by more than $6 million, he reported.

Market Makes Little Progress

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market made a little progress today on slightly expanded volume.

The upward movement wasn't unanimous by any means and carried to between 1 and 2 points at the best. There were many scattered minor losses that went beyond a point only a few times.

* * *

Trading hit a pace around 2,500,000 shares for the day. That compares with 2,330,000 shares traded yesterday.

Steels did better than any other major group. Those metals have been outstanding in recent sessions. Railroads were higher as a group, and most chemicals advanced. Radio-televisions were up.

Motors were steady at best. Oils were mixed, aircrafts steady, utilities steady, and coppers slipped a little.

* * *

Today's market operated on an uninspiring level, as it has for some days, and trading was selective. There is little tendency right now "to buy the market."

At noon, the Associated Press average of 60 stocks was up 40 cents at $188.90. It was down 70 cents at the close yesterday.

* * *

For the past five weeks the market has been moving irregularly within a rather narrow range. It reached its record high peak a week ago Friday when the Associated Press average hit $191.50.

GM Sales Near Quarter Record

Total Tops $3 Billion in First Three Months, Curtice Reveals

BOSTON (AP) — General Motors' January-March operations this year almost matched in dollar volume and net profits those of the record-smashing like period of last year.

Harlow H. Curtice, GM president, told a news conference yesterday in connection with the Boston showing of Motorama, that this year's first quarter sales totaled $3,065,000,000 with net earnings of $283 million. The net was equal to $1.01 per share of common stock.

In last year's comparable period, sales totaled $3,101,000,000 with net of $309,000,000.

On its over-all 1955 operations, General Motors accounted for net earnings of $1,189,477,000 on total dollar sales of $12,443,277,000.

In yesterday's report, Curtice said this year's near-record volume was achieved despite a substantial decline in defense deliveries. These, he said, dropped from nine per cent of total dollar sales a year ago to four per cent in this year's first quarter.

Unit sales of cars and trucks from U.S. plants in this year's January-March quarter, Curtice said, amounted to 1,094,000 vehicles. This was less than one-half of one per cent below the record 1955 quarter, he said.

Curtice said sales in Canada were down because of a prolonged strike which ended Feb. 13, but overseas sales topped those of last year.

The reported General Motors world-wide employment averaged 639,000 workers in the first quarter and that payrolls totaled 760 million dollars. The payroll total, he said, was down about one per cent from a year ago because of decreased overtime.

Aerotrain to Begin Detroit-Chicago Run

CHICAGO (AP)—The New York Central says its new GM aerotrain, a lightweight, low center of gravity coach train, will start a regular twice-a-day run between Chicago and Detroit April 29.

E. C. Johnson, general manager of the NYC's northern district, said the train will be operated on a 4 hour and 20 minute non-stop schedule between the two cities for a period of 90 days. This is 40 minutes under the fastest previous time.

The train will leave Chicago daily at 8 a.m. (EDT) and arrive in Detroit at 12:20 p.m. (EST). On the return trip it will leave at 6:30 p.m. and arrive in Chicago at 10:50 p.m.

Regular coach fares will apply and seats will not be reserved.

The GM aerotrain, which has been on display in a nationwide tour, will join the fleet of NYC streamliners now operating between the two cities—one of the nation's most heavily traveled rail routes.

Williams Slates Five-Day Tour

New Jersey, Illinois and Washington, D.C. on List for Governor's Visits

LANSING (AP)—Gov. Williams is away from the State Capitol for a five-day round of traveling that will take him to New Jersey, Illinois and back to Washington, D. C. before Monday.

After spending today in Detroit, the governor is due in Kalamazoo on Thursday for an experiment with fellow elective state officers on "bringing state government directly to the people."

Following Thursday night in Ypsilanti, he will leave by plane Friday for a meeting of Mennen Co. directors in New Jersey and on the same day hop back to Illinois.

There, he is slated to take part in Evanston at a mock political convention at Northwestern University.

On Saturday the governor plans to fly to Washington for a meeting of the nationalities division of the Democratic national committee, and to attend the Woodrow Wilson centennial dinner.

He will be back at his desk in Lansing on Monday morning.

Man Claiming Kin to Rainier 'Not Interested'

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — The world may be watching the marriage in Monte Carlo this week but D. B. Lorenzi, here in one of America's gambling resorts, says he isn't very interested.

Lorenzi, a retired land developer, claims he is a second cousin of Prince Rainier III, tracing his ancestry to the Monaco royal line of Grimaldi through his grandfather. He said he was born in Monton, France, near Monaco, and came to Las Vegas in 1911.

Asked if he had been invited to the wedding, Lorenzi, now in his 80s, replied:

"No. It's too high class society for me. I'm just a plain Las Vegan."

Schoolteacher Injured in Two Car Collision

A two-car collision yesterday morning resulted in a city schoolteacher being hospitalized for treatment of a broken collar bone.

Mrs. Margaret Parks, 58, of 87 Thorpe St. is in satisfactory condition in Pontiac General Hospital, authorities said. Her car rammed another at Lincoln and Liberty streets on her way to sixth grade classes at Crofoot Elementary School, police said.

Both Mrs. Parks and the other driver, Henry O. Pethers, 38, of 73 Baldwin avenue, told Pontiac police each thought the other would yield the right of way.

AT&T to Study 4-1 Stock Split

Shareholders to Meet in New York to Vote on Expected Move

NEW YORK (AP) — Today is "D-Day" for 1,408,851 shareowners of American Telephone & Telegraph Co., the world's biggest public utility.

At 1 p.m. about 1,500 will gather for the 17th annual meeting of this giant of communications, parent of a score of state and regional companies which operate 80 per cent of the nation's 56¼ million telephones.

Today's agenda calls for the re-election of 19 directors, consideration of two stockholder proposals (for a $25,000 ceiling on executive pensions and for televising annual meetings) and discussion of any other subjects proposed from the floor.

Topics for discussion at annual meetings in the past have ranged from claims of patent infringement to advertising budgets, the desirability of women directors, and increased dividends and stock-splits.

This afternoon Judge Jonah J. Goldstein of the Court of General Sessions is expected to speak from the floor as a stockholder advocating a stock split. Goldstein believes the proxy for next year's annual meeting should contain a proposal that the stock be split 4-for-1.

The judge is president of the Grand Street Boys' Foundation, a charitable and educational institution, which owns 650 shares of AT&T.

The judge first campaigned for his stock-split idea in a letter to Cleo F. Craig, president of the giant utility, last Jan. 23.

Bob Considine Says:

Grace Receives All Titles but That of Wife

MONTE CARLO (INS) — The beautiful princess looked out the barred window of her ancient palace tower last night and to quote the late Tex Rickard she "never seed nothing like it."

* * *

The tinseled, little toy kingdom was dancing away her wedding eve. It had been a day of dazzling sunshine, fluttering red and white pennants, a tremendous serenade to her and the Prince as they stood on a balcony, reception of "des delegations etrangeres," the official foreign emissaries to the great wedding, inspection of two rooms of wedding presents and enough fireworks to light up Nebraska, much less this 375-acre nation.

Her Prince had gone off to his villa at Cap Ferrat. Her exhausted mother and father, who once knew life as a bricklayer and spouse but rose to riches in contracting work and politics, slept exhausted elsewhere in the palace that was old before George Washington was born.

The princess was alone except for her French poodle Oliver, who will be 2 years old today, the day Grace Patricia Kelly picks up a host of titles but not that of wife.

* * *

She and the Prince must remain apart again the night after their civil wedding. They will not be man and wife in the eyes of the Roman Catholic church until the wedding is blessed with religious ceremony in the Cathedral of Monaco Thursday.

They will receive Holy Communion at Solemn Nuptial Mass celebrated by the Bishop of Monaco and attended by a papal nuncio.

AND THEN SOCCER

They will not take off for a month-long honeymoon on the yacht "Deo Juvante II" until after watching a late afternoon soccer match between teams from Barcelona and Rio de Janeiro. "Deo Juvante" means "God Willing."

* * *

If Grace misses the title of wife during the period between weddings she can content herself with the knowledge that she is princess plus Duchess of Valentinois, Baroness du Buis, Marquise des Baux, and countess of such places, houses and memories as Du Mas de Langhier, Beauregard, Sevan, Cap de Verre, Mulor, Monthlanc, Biville, Hamel, Moyan, and too many more to print.

Grace Kelly in fact picks up exactly 138 titles when she says "I do."

The Prince repeated yesterday he will never again permit his wife to appear in the movies. It is understandable why he wants to check at this point her celluloid love life with some of Hollywood's most romantic figures, including Clark Gable, Bing Crosby, Bill Holden and Frank Sinatra.

* * *

Grace was linked romantically with these four. But the likelihood is that reissues of her old films will haunt him in this area for years to come. Nearby theaters in Nice are doing a great business with such releases.

The Prince is a bit on the jealous side. An old friend of the Kelly family recalled today:

"Their first date was an afternoon affair in Philadelphia at Christmastime. Grace had a date that night with Bill Clothier, a rich, good-looking member of an old Philadelphia family—the one Mrs. Kelly hoped Grace would marry.

"Rainier brought her back to the house and stayed and stayed while Grace dressed for her date with Clothier.

"The family tried to hint him out of the place before Clothier arrived, but he was going to size up his competition and he did.

"He won."

Comedienne Nancy Walker Will Go 'Straight' on Video

Michigan GOP Plan Political TV Shows

DETROIT (AP)—Republican State Chairman John Feikens confirmed plans for a television show for Michigan Republicans.

* * *

Feikens said Joseph Hainline, former radio newscaster, Detroit, will head the show. The Republican Party, Feikens said, has retained Maxon, Inc., of Detroit to handle publicity and advertising for the show. Hainline now is an employe of that firm.

Lou R. Maxon, head of the company, said the show will be aired over a Michigan network. He said he hopes to have all arrangements completed this week so the telecasts may begin soon.

* * *

The Republican plan reportedly is aimed at counteracting a weekly Democratic telecast financed by the CIO.

Soo Locks Opening Area for Public Use

SAULT STE. MARIE (AP)—Some of the security restriction on the Soo Locks has been removed.

Visitors now can come to within a stone's throw of the famed General MacArthur locks on the upper St. Mary's Canal.

The area had been forbidden to the public since June 1950 at the start of the Korean War.

New Mexico ranks first in potash production in the United States.

Two Seriously Hurt in Dynamite Trap

CHESANING (AP) — Dynamite placed under the driver's seat of a car parked at a Chesaning packing plant exploded yesterday, wrecking the car and injuring two occupants, one seriously.

* * *

Gerald R. Gross, of Elsie, owner of the car, was in serious condition at Owosso Memorial Hospital. His brother-in-law, Chloris H. Witherell, also of Elsie, was less seriously hurt.

Saginaw County sheriff's deputies said the blast resulted from at least one stick of dynamite. The explosive had been placed under the driver's seat and went off when the car door was opened.

Deputies said they had been unable to learn any reason for the dynamiting. Gross was placed under sedatives and was unable to talk.

* * *

Both men were employed at the Peet Meat Packing Co. and were leaving work when the blast occurred.

Heeds Example of Imogene Coca

Prepares for Dramatic Appearance June 5 on 'Playwrights '56'

BY ATRA BAER

NEW YORK (INS)—TV is making another gal go "straight;" Nancy Walker. The comedienne has been offered a dramatic role on NBC's "Playwrights '56."

We caught Nancy nibbling her almond-shaped nails—"consumed with nervousness"—as she studied the script in which she'll play an Army nurse.

"Unlike Imogene Coca, I've got no desire to play Joan of Arc," says Nancy, who's currently spanking the Broadway comedy "Fallen Angels." (Imogene, before her dramatic debut last week, said honest Injun that's her big ambition).

"I'm perfectly happy playing comedy. I think it's the most serious form of the theatrical profession. But every actor likes to try and branch out."

Nancy, who hitherto has been about as "legitimate" in the solemn theatrical sence of the word as a floating crap game, says "maybe positively" she'll do this part for June 5 production.

* * *

"I know how Imogene feels about wanting to do 'straight' things," Nancy added. "Comics don't choose their professions. When I first found out I was getting laughs I was crushed instead of elated.

"I guess deep inside no woman likes to be laughed at."

LATEST RATINGS

Latest Nielsen (audience poll) rating show top five shows (last two weeks in March) in order: I Love Lucy, $64,000 Question, Ed Sullivan Show, Awards and Disneyland.

Trendex rating for the first week in April show $64,000 Question leading, with "Lucy," Sullivan, Person-to-person and Perry Como following in close order.

A poll run by the Montreal Herald lists Canada's five favorite TV shows in order: Caesar's Hour, Ed Sullivan Show, hockey telecasts, the Plouffe Family and Studio One.

Clown Emmett Kelly guests on "I've Got a Secret" tonight (CBS-TV). . . .

A new "Desilu" series, called "Adventudes of a Model" is in the works. ("Desilu" is the $17,000,000 TV-movie outfit owned by Lucille and Desi).

PREFERS STAGE

Barry Nelson vetoed a TV series in which he could have co-starred with his wife, actress Teresa Galli, because he liked the script of the forthcoming Broadway comedy "Wake Up Darling."

Barry'll co-star with Barbara Britton. Ambitious Babs' only day off from the show is Sunday, and that'll be spent rehearsing and appearing on "The $64,000 Challenge". . .

Meanwhile "The $64,000 Challenge" is getting irate calls from listeners who didn't feel that Staten Island cop Redmond O'Hanlon was "treated square" when he was disqualified in that Shakespeare bet Sunday night.

(Relax: We practically guarantee Red will be back to face new Shakespeare champ Martin Vanoutryve.)

ABC's John Daly says that network hopes to have the Grace Kelly wedding films televised Friday.

All networks are preparing half-hour-or-longer shows on the ceremonies.

Imogene Coco is trying to sublet her 13-room Central Park West duplex (which is all pastel rugs, mirrors and chi-chi brocade) and move into a smaller flat on West 54th. Trouble is Imogene's paying two rents currently and wishes somebody'd come to her rescue.

Jockey Earns $64,000 Purse

Becomes the 4th Grand Winner on TV Show by Identifying Art

NEW YORK (AP)—A free-lance jockey from California, riding a long shot named "Great Art and Artists," has won a $64,000 television quiz show purse.

* * *

Bill Pearson of Pasadena last night become the fourth person to win the grand prize on the CBS show "The $64,000 Question."

Pearson was required to scan six reproductions of portraits by great artists, to identify them as to subject and artist, and to name one man with whom each artist studied.

8-TO-1 GAMBLE

The jockey, who could have quit with his previous $32,000 winnings, said before he started for the grand prize that it was an 8-to-1 gamble, figuring income tax brackets. "But sometimes those long shots pay off," he declared.

The portraits on which Pearson gave answers were:

Erasmus, by Hans Holbein the younger, who studied with his father, Hans Holbein.

* * *

Pope Innocent X, by Velasquez, who studied with Herrera.

Madama Charpentier and her children, by Renoir, who studied with Couture.

Charles I, by Van Dyck, who studied with Rubens.

* * *

The Wyndham sisters, by John Singer Sergent, who studied with Carolus-Duran.

Don Manuel Osario de Zuinga, by Goya, who studied with his father and with Jose Luzan Martinez.
