Pontiac Voters Veto Income Tax Proposition

★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★

Proposal Loses in All but One Precinct

Despite cold wintry weather, about 28 per cent of Pontiac's registered voters turned out yesterday to soundly reject a proposed city income tax 6,647 to 2,637.

A total of 9,284 of the city's 33,489 registered voters went to the polls as the lone ballot proposition was defeated by better than a 2½-to-1 margin.

Pontiac became the fifth city in the state, and the third this week, to reject an income tax.

Previously, the issue went down to defeat in Muskegon, Muskegon Heights, Jackson and Grand Rapids.

Precinct 3, located at Bagley School, was the only voting unit to pass the issue, giving it 74 yes votes to 72 no votes.

The tax question was narrowly defeated in Precinct 2, located at fire station No. 2 where 53 yes votes and 55 no votes were cast.

In District 5, largest of the city's seven commission districts the issue went down to defeat by nearly 1,200, 1,808 no to 680 yes votes.

BEST SHOWING

District 1 gave the tax question its best showing, but still defeated it 427 to 279.

Other district totals included District 2, 1,111 no to 509 yes; District 3, 671 to 258; District 4, 1,471 to 449; District 6, 522 to 273; and District 7, 537 no to 189 yes.

Indicating he was not "really" surprised at the election outcome, Mayor William H. Taylor Jr. was critical of "fence straddlers and noncommittal people who failed to take a stand."

Said Taylor, "What bothered me most was the number of

Trouble Is Indicated as Soviet Spaceship Ends Flight Safely

MOSCOW (AP) — Spaceship Voskhod 2 landed safely today west of the Ural Mountains after a spectacular 24-hour orbit during which one of the two cosmonauts aboard frolicked outside the craft. There were indications something went wrong in the landing process.

A Tass announcement that the pilot had steered the spaceship to a landing ended hours of mystery and official silence on the Voskhod's fate. Tass said both cosmonauts were well.

The time the Voskhod was aloft indicated it had completed 17 orbits and was on its 18th when it landed.

The exploit of Col. Pavel Belyayev and Lt. Col. Alexei Leonov meant another big step toward travel to the moon. It was Leonov who ventured outside the craft and floated 10 minutes in the void, proving men could work there to assemble space platforms for shots to the moon.

The spaceship landed at 12:02 p.m. (4:02 a.m. EST) near Perm, west of the Ural Mountains and 725 miles northeast of Moscow. This is far north of the usual landing spot for Soviet spaceships.

This fact and the character of radio signals toward the end of the flight suggested to the Bochum Space Observatory in West Germany that the landing process was irregular, a Bochum spokesman said.

U.S. Planes Hit Targets in N. Viet

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — More than 110 U.S. Navy and Air Force planes hammered military targets at two points in Communist North Viet Nam today and reported up to 100 per cent of the targets destroyed.

All of the planes were believed to have returned safely from the bombing and strafing attack on military supply installations about 160 miles north of the 17th parallel, dividing North and South Viet Nam.

A U.S. spokesman said the targets were known supply and infiltration areas for Viet Cong forces in South Viet Nam. He said the raid was very successful.

"The targets were Phy Van and Vinh Son, where there are a number of military supply installations," said a U.S. statement on the raid.

★ ★ ★

A spokesman said Navy planes also pounded the Thu An supply depot, adjoining the Vinh Son area.

SECONDARY EXPLOSIONS

The spokesman said a number of secondary explosions after the planes hit their targets indicated their bombs and rockets had set off ammunition stores.

The Air Force planes hit 15 to 20 buildings. Ground fire was reported light and inaccurate, and the spokesman said the North Vietnamese apparently were caught by surprise and off balance by the attack.

He said the planes carried "normal" ammunition, including 750-pound bombs and rockets. They were over the target area at about 1 p.m. Saigon time (1 a.m. Eastern Standard Time).

It was the second strike against North Viet Nam in the past five days.

Romney Raps High Price of Tax Relief Bill

'May Cost Michigan $40 Million Yearly'; House OK Is Near

LANSING (AP)—A Democratic-sponsored senior citizens property tax relief bill — due to pass in the House today—would cost the state up to $40 million a year and force it to levy new taxes, Gov. George Romney said today.

The bill — loaded with extras —was moved into position for passage in a three-hour debate Thursday night.

"It must be obvious that the addition of an entirely new spending program of such magnitude to already record budget recommendations cannot be accomplished without making additional revenues necessary this year," Romney told his news conference.

"Thus far there is no genuine evidence that those supporting the bill are prepared to raise the revenue required to pay for it," he added.

Romney urged the legislature "to reconsider the course upon which it has set itself and to review the potential impact on the whole state of its proposed action."

MAY VETO BILL

Romney said he would decide whether to veto the bill when it hits his desk; "But I am determined to take whatever action I'm in a position to take to keep the state from a return to the (financial problems of) the 1950's.

★ ★ ★

"It will pass the Senate and be placed on the governor's desk at the earliest possible date," said Rep. J. Robert Traxler, after Democrats out-waited House Republicans in a three-hour debate last night.

If passed and signed into law, the bill would apply to some 205,000 heads of households and affect a total of 375,000 Michigan citizens over 65 years of age, said Rep. George Montgomery, D-Detroit, chairman of the general taxation committee.

The measure was amended and liberalized yesterday by both Republicans and Democrats to include persons 55 and over who are disabled and living on disability pensions, and to affect homes up to $10,000 in state equalized valuation.

Painting Sells for $2.2 Million

LONDON (UPI) — A Rembrandt painting was sold today to a Los Angeles art foundation for a near world record price of $2,234,000 at an auction at Christie's Art Sales Rooms in London.

The price paid by the Norton Simon Foundation of Los Angeles for Rembrandt's "Portrait of the Artist's Son Titus" nearly matched the $2.3 million which another Rembrandt painting brought more than three years ago.

On Nov. 15, 1961, the Metropolitan Museum of Art in New York paid that price — a world's record — for Rembrandt's "Aristotle Contemplating the Bust of Homer" in an auction at Parke-Bernet Galleries in New York.

Lives of Five Are Spared

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Gov. Frank Clement, rebuffed by the legislature in his efforts to end capital punishment, commuted the death sentences of five men to 99 years today.

He announced his action one day after the House refused, 48-47, to join the Senate in abolishing the death penalty and one day before three of the five were scheduled to go to the electric chair.

"These men have been collectively living under the threat of imminent death for more than 15 years, a fact which in itself constitutes, or very nearly constitutes, cruel and inhuman treatment," Clement said in his statement.

PICKED FOR TREASURY POST—President Johnson shakes hands with Henry H. Fowler at the White House yesterday after nominating the Virginia attorney to be secretary of the treasury. The nomination of Fowler, a former treasury undersecretary, was approved 16-0 today by the Senate Finance Committee. He will succeed Douglas Dillon, who has said he wishes to leave the Cabinet March 31.

Spring to Show; Winter Must Go, So Should Snow

Would someone kindly tell the weatherman that tomorrow is spring, not winter?

He seems to have forgotten, and has planned cold temperatures with partly sunny skies for the day. A high of only 24 to 30 is expected, following tonight's low of 8 to 14.

Today in Pontiac and the surrounding area, winds are from the west and southwest at 15 to 30 miles an hour. They will be diminishing to 5 to 15 miles an hour tonight and tomorrow.

If Wallace Unwilling

LBJ Ready to Call Alabama Guard

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP)—President Johnson says he will call out the Alabama National Guard to protect a civil rights march from Selma to Montgomery if Gov. George C. Wallace is unable or unwilling to do so.

The President told newsmen of his decision at the White House last night shortly after Wallace appealed for federal civil assistance to help protect a massive march designed to dramatize a Negro voter drive.

Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., leader of a nine-week Negro voter drive in Alabama, said the 50-mile highway pilgrimage will start at noon Sunday.

A white segregationist, former Mayor Art Hanes of Birmingham, announced today he was canceling plans for a reverse march from Montgomery to Selma. Hanes said he would bow to Wallace's appeal for citizens to stay away from scenes of tension.

The President said Wallace had a National Guard force of more than 10,000 he could call into service to maintain law and order during the five-day march.

The governor, in appealing for federal civil help, estimated it would take 6,171 men to provide maximum security for the march. Johnson said the federal government did not have civilian personnel approaching that figure.

Then Johnson said in a statement that:

"The federal government, of course, does not have civilian personnel approaching figures suggested by Gov. Wallace. However, Gov. Wallace has at his disposal over 10,000 trained members of the Alabama National Guard which he could call into service.

"If he is unable or unwilling to call up the Guard, and to maintain law and order in Alabama I will call the Guard up and give them all the support that may be required."

RELAY INFORMATION

The President said he asked Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach to relay the information to Capt. W. B. Painter of the Alabama Department of Public Safety in Montgomery.

City Asking: Where to Now?

Predictions Lacking on Course to Follow

Pondering defeat of a proposed income tax, city officials now ask: where do we turn next?

No immediate answers were offered last night by Mayor William H. Taylor Jr., and City Manager Joseph A. Warren.

Taylor, in a prepared statement, said he could not predict what course the City Commission might elect to take.

However, the mayor noted that both sides in the income tax fight did agree that the city needs added revenue.

"The surprising point is," commented Taylor, "all agreed the city must secure additional revenue to meet the rising cost of materials, supplies and services if Pontiac is to move ahead."

INDICATION

Despite the loss at the polls, Taylor indicated he thought property taxes were not the entire answer for the future.

"Too many people," he explained, "are clinging to the past, thinking that increasing property taxes is the solution for today and our needs of the future."

Continued Taylor, "There will and must be, in the very near future, a balancing of the tax burden between property and income."

The mayor added such balancing would be necessary for both local and state governments to survive national government controls.

EARLY MOMENT

Taylor said the commission would tackle the problems

Home, Sport Show Opens in Waterford

The North Oakland County Home and Sport Show opens at 6 p. m. today at Waterford Township's Community Activities Inc. building and will continue through Sunday.

Featured at this year's show, sponsored by the Waterford Township Junior Chamber of Commerce, will be some 80 display booths, game room, treasure chest and numerous prizes including a grand prize camping trailer.

Music will be provided during the three days of the show and food and refreshments prepared by the Jaycettes will be available.

A highlight of the final day of the show will be the 4:30 p. m. crowning of the Pixie King and Queen selected on the basis of highest vote totals.

Jeff Cornish, general chairman of the show, is predicting a record crowd of from 10,000 to 12,000 persons. A year ago 9,000 attended.

SHOW HOURS

Hours of the show will be 6 to 11 p. m. today and noon to 11 p. m. on Saturday and Sunday.

Among the displays outside the building will be a 50-foot mobile home. Indoor displays will include sporting goods, appliances, furniture, boats, color TV and home improvement items, to mention a few.

Spacemen Young, Grissom Set For Flight

CAPE KENNEDY, (UPI) — Two U.S. astronauts and a moon probe, badly upstaged by a Russian who does somersaults in space, will try to save a little national face in a cosmic doubleheader starting Sunday.

The astronauts, John W. Young and Virgil I. Grissom, planned to take part today in a workout of the worldwide, 15-station network that will follow their three-orbit course through the sky Tuesday.

The probe, a package of cameras named Ranger 9, was due today for a final "simulated" countdown in preparation for its scheduled 240,000 mile picture-taking voyage to the moon.

Ranger 9 is expected to blast off aboard a silvery Atlas-Agena rocket Sunday afternoon. If technical, medical and weather experts give a go-ahead, Grissom and Young will depart aboard a Titan 2 rocket on a five-hour orbital flight at 9 a.m. EST Tuesday.

* * *

But the limelight belonged to Russian cosmonaut Alexie Leonov, who rode a 11,000-pound Voskhod 2 ship into orbit yesterday and proceeded to regale television viewers on the ground with a spectacular demonstration of floating and turning somersaults in space outside his capsule.

NO FLOATING

The United States plans no opening of hatches, no floating, no somersaults and no television pictures for Grissom and Young. The astronauts are to sit still, manipulate some controls and get down at the end of three orbits.

This is the same distance U.S. space capsules were flying three years ago. The record is 81 orbits held by Russia.

Grissom and Young were due up for more ground simulations that shaped up as about the same thing they have been doing for the past several months. Sunday, they are supposed to go get final medical examinations from space agency doctors.

* * *

Weather, as always, remained a threat to the Cape Kennedy preparations. Early long-range forecasts called for a "less than desirable" outlook in the spaceport area for Tuesday.

* * *

The forecast came from space agency weathermen, whose low batting average with predictions once persuaded the agency to try to make all official U.S. weather forecasts in Florida a matter of secrecy.

fence straddlers and noncommittal people and organizations that failed to take a stand or give support for fear of hurting someone's feelings or themselves.

REAL SOLUTIONS

The mayor also hit at arguments that a committee be appointed to study the city's financial woes.

"It would appear that both those working for and against the tax gave both sides of the issue very clearly."

Charles Nasstrom, chairman of the Citizens Committee on Taxation, said that his group concentrated on those precincts that in the past have had a high voter turnout.

HERRINGTON HILLS

He cited the Herrington Hills area and Precincts 7 and 39 as examples. Precinct 7, located at Herrington School, turned back the income tax 282 to 74, a difference of 208.

Nasstrom's committee, which petitioned for yesterday's referendum, was the only organized opposition to the income levy.

'WALKS' IN SPACE—Floating in weightlessness a short distance away from the Soviet spaceship Voskhod-2, Cosmonaut Alexei Leonov becomes first man to leave capsule in outer space after first orbit of space flight yesterday. tains. Half the area is forested and unfit for a landing, but there is a plain.

Whatever the success of the landing, Tass said Belyayev and Leonov had carried out their experiment successfully.

The spaceship was steered down by manual controls by Belyayev, the announcement said.

* * *

NOT EXPLAINED

The ship came down 500 miles northwest of the usual cosmonaut landing area of Soviet central Asia and southwest Siberia, north of the launching center at Baikonur.

The landing of the two cosmonauts inside their spaceship followed the pattern of the Voskhod 1, the first multimanned Soviet capsule named with the Russian word for sunrise. It spent 24 hours in orbit last Oct. 12-13. Voskhod 2 was up 26 hours.

* * *

Earlier Soviet space flights in the Vostok series of capsules required the cosmonauts to parachute from the craft. But the Voskhod series is equipped for soft landings on retroactive jets, a report on Voskhod 1 said.

PREVIOUS ANNOUNCEMENT

The last previous official announcement by the Soviets was 5:30 a.m. — 9:30 p.m. Eastern Standard Time — which said the men had completed 13 orbits.

Japanese government radio listening posts speculated that that the spacecraft had landed about 3:45 a.m. Eastern Standard Time after completing its 17th orbit.

They reported that signals from the capsule which they were monitoring stopped at that time and were not heard again.

* * *

The West German Space Observatory in Bochum said Soviet ground stations at 2:50 a.m. Eastern Standard Time instructed Voskhod's crew to switch from automatic to hand piloting.

IN ORBIT

The spaceship then had been in orbit nearly 25 hours and should have completed 16 orbits.

Bochum said on Voskhod's next orbit signals were received from the ship with over 10 minutes delay.

"We deduce from that delay that the space ship was already reducing speed and had started braking for a possible landing operation," the spokesman said.

* * *

The world's space scientists acclaimed copilot Leonov's sally outside the two-man capsule Thursday as a feat which put the Soviet Union even more months ahead of the United States in the race for a manned moon landing.

Senior Trips 'the End' in Waterford

* * *

Action to end the trips after the present senior classes at the school system's two high schools' journey to Mackinac Island in May was authorized last night by the school board.

It resulted from a 1962 school board ruling that anytime less than 50 per cent of senior class members from either school registered for the trip, the entire program would end.

Interest has been dwindling in recent years at Waterford Township High School, and this year only 47 per cent of the present senior class members made plans for the trip. This doomed the program.

At Waterford Kettering High School, however, interest in the senior trip remained high with some 60 per cent of the class members scheduled for the trip.

The board considered canceling this spring's trips but decided to allow them when Roy J. Alexander, secondary school coordinator for the school system, said that deposits would be lost if these trips were ruled out.

Order Ruby Moved to Federal Building

DALLAS (UPI) — Sheriff Bill Decker today ordered condemned slayer Jack Ruby taken out of the Dallas County Jail and moved across town to the federal building for a defense attempt to put the question of his sanity before a federal court.

The killer of presidential assassin Lee Harvey Oswald has not been out of the Dallas County Criminal Courts Building, where the jail and county courtrooms are, since January 1964. He was taken twice to a psychiatric clinic for brain wave tests.

Sam Houston Clinton, 41, lawyer for the Texas Civil Liberties Union, filed a petition in federal court yesterday, asking that a scheduled trial on Ruby's sanity be taken out of the hands of State District Judge Joe B. Brown and turned over to U.S. District Judge T. Whitfield Davidson.

EDINBURGH, Scotland (UPI) — A Scottish National Health Service Committee ruled yesterday that a doctor who prescribed 12 bottles of ale for a patient must pay for the treatment himself.

Cite Problem of Emergencies

Overload at Hospital Forcing Cancellations

Pontiac General Hospital trustees last night expressed concern over the hospital's emergency room load and the resulting cancellation of scheduled admissions.

Harold B. Euler, hospital administrator, touched off the discussion by reporting to the board of trustees that 29 admissions, 20 of them slated for surgery, had been canceled yesterday.

Although the hospital has only seven "holding" beds in the emergency ward, Euler said that emergency cases are averaging 50 per cent of the hospital's weekly admissions.

Euler said the trustees were concerned about the equitable distribution of emergency service throughout the community.

* * *

5 WEEKS IN ADVANCE

Cancellations have been necessary, he said, even though surgery is being scheduled five weeks in advance.

Trustees urged a community approach to the emergency problem.

On a related topic, Euler was directed to come up with a program to control the number of visitors per patient and the smoking of visitors in patient areas.

* * *

COST SHARED

Cost of the electric beds of $27,683 is to be divided evenly with the women's auxiliary. The hospital's share will come from depreciation funds. The $1,516 for the six adult beds will come from the same fund.

Euler said the new beds will mean that all adult beds in the hospital have now been replaced since 1961.

School Quiets Down Arrest 26 in Cleveland

CLEVELAND, Ohio (UPI)—Police today arrested 36 persons, most of them absentee students, in a series of minor disputes around racially torn Collinwood High School.

Police announced the arrests at midday as relative quiet was restored to the big east side school which closed yesterday when Negroes and white students began fighting.

Charges of disorderly conduct were filed against 22 persons and the remaining 14 taken into custody were released.

Police said 13 persons age 14 to 17 were taken to a juvenile detention home. Eight adults were charged with disorderly conduct and a 40-year-old man was charged with being drunk.

* * *

Police said they found eight or nine homemade weapons among those arrested. These included wrenches, a baseball bat, a piece of pipe, car jacks, and knives.

DISOBEY POLICE

Most of those arrested were persons who disobeyed police orders to keep moving and insisted on loitering in the racially tense area. No fights were reported.

Less than a third of the students showed up for classes. An attendance check showed 955 of the 3,332 students enrolled in the school, for the 7th through the 12th grades, present.

City Ponders Solution to Money Need

City Manager Warren, speaking after the returns were in, said "There are not many alternatives."

He thought the campaign had furnished helpful discussion on recognizing the city's financial problems.

Commenting on the possibility of cutbacks in city operations, Warren said such cutbacks, if ever made, need to be planned and must be made over a period of time.

CUTBACKS

He said cutbacks would have to be made as costs go up each year.

Charles Nasstrom, chairman of the Citizens Committee on Taxation, only organized opposition to the income tax proposal, thought more fiscal information would have to be placed before the public before voters could be confronted with anything like a hike in property taxes.

However, he thought yesterday's results were against an income tax and not against taxation in general.

NATIONAL WEATHER — Weathermen predicted snow tonight for north and central Appalachians and Lakes region and rain in north Florida. It will be colder from mid-Atlantic states to the Carolinas and southern Rockies and warmer in the north Pacific states, central Rockies and southern Rockies.

Birmingham Area News

Elementary Districts to Change Boundaries

BLOOMFIELD HILLS — In an effort to cope with enrollment growth, the Bloomfield Hills Board of Education will change boundary lines for some of the elementary school districts next year.

The plan approved by the board was recommended by elementary school principals to balance the number of children assigned to each classroom.

A new area will be created for the Elisabeth Taylor Traub School now under construction on Square Lake Road while Hickory Grove and Vaughan schools will be relieved of some students.

The Traub School area will encompass parts of the present Eastover area—Adams Square, Concord Green, Whitehall and the region north of East Long Lake Road to Hickory Grove Road between Woodward and Kensington.

* * *

Also included will be the Fox Hills and Hugo Hills portions of the present Hickory Grove area.

TRANSFERS

About 75 students now attending Hickory Grove will be transferred to Pine Lake School. Students affected live in the region west of Telegraph and north of Long Lake Road.

Vaughan School will be relieved by transferring to Conant School about 50 students living in the Sodon Lake area bounded by Telegraph, Franklin Road, Lone Pine and Long Lake Road.

The main advantage of the plan approved by the board is that it involves relocation in the fewest possible areas, according to Schools Supt. Eugene Johnson.

* * *

He said the action will stem severe overcrowding in several schools next year. In the last three months, elementary enrollment has increased by 60 students, he added.

CONSTRUCTION

The plan will require that construction of another elementary school be accelerated to permit occupancy by 1966. With funds already approved by voters, the school will be built on a centrally located site now owned by the board, he said.

Bloomfield Hills High School seniors Mary Town and Carolyn Dameron have been named recipients of the Robert C. J. Traub Memorial Scholarship.

* * *

MUSICIAN

Carolyn was cited for accomplishments in music. Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Dameron, 5551 Lakeview, Bloomfield Township.

Alternates are Linda Lee Carnegie for art and Joan E. Aitken for music. Linda is the daughter of Mrs. Douglas Carnegie, 984 S. Reading, Bloomfield Township, and Joan's parents are Mr. and Mrs. George Aitken, 5301 Lauren, Bloomfield Township.

A new 9 a.m. session has been added to the "Exploring Science" series for youngsters at Cranbrook Institute of Science.

* * *

Open to children in the fourth grade and up, the new programs will start tomorrow when the subject will be "Pig Tales or Members of the Elephant Family."

Topic for the March 27 session is electricity.

Drs. Reid, Johnston Leaving Waterford

Dr. Reid, on leave of absence the past year from her duties as assistant superintendent for curriculum, stated in her letter of resignation that she had decided to devote her time in the immediate future to writing and study.

She and her husband, also an educator, have been working together the past year on a research project.

Dr. Johnston, who provides services to the school district on a part-time basis as director of educational research, reiterated his previously announced intention to retire June 14.

HIGH PRAISE

Both administrators in their letters had high praise for the school system and particularly with recent accomplishments.

Dr. Johnston said that in his judgment Waterford is the top school system in the state.

Board members also approved two sabbatical leaves for the 1965-66 school year, both for the purpose of doctoral studies.

O'Brien Backs Stadium Plan

An all-purpose sports stadium proposed for the State Fairgrounds received the support today of Democratic Sen. Carl W. O'Brien of Pontiac.

Yesterday, O'Brien was named chairman of a three-member Senate committee to investigate the plan.

O'Brien said the fairgrounds provides an "ideal setting" for a stadium, and that his committee intends to considre major stadiums of the world for comparison purposes.

"This stadium might conceivably attract world Olympic games to Detroit and it is in this hope that we are studying the question," said O'Brien.

* * *

The stadium was first suggested by Democratic Rep. Arthur J. Law of Pontiac. He has a bill pending before the House that would empower the State Building Authority to construct the facility.

Man Didn't Know Cigar Was Loaded

Boom! went the cigar. A 22-caliber bullet whistled past Farrier's ear. Federal authorities were called to investigate because the loaded cigar had been shipped here from Pennsylvania in interstate commerce.

KANSAS BLAZE — A machine and sheet metal shop at the Beech Aircraft Co. plant in Liberal, Kan., was leveled by fire yesterday with the loss estimated at several hundred thousand dollars. A nearby building housing a gymnasium and automobile warehouse was also destroyed. No injuries were reported.

Budget Wasted?

Ask Cancer Study Review

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A presidential study group believes that results from the $200 million in government money spent on cancer research since 1956 have been disappointing. They want the program overhauled.

The criticism, of the cancer chemotherapy program conducted by the National Institutes of Health (NIH), was contained in a report to President Johnson on a year-long study by a group of prominent doctors, educators and businessmen.

The group concluded generally that there was no basis for criticism that the NIH's $1 billion yearly budget was largely wasted. But it added it was surprising that the charges are not true.

The report went on to recommend a tightening of management procedures in the institutes. Located in Bethesda, Md., near Washington, the agency spends 40 per cent of the medical research expenditures in the United States.

As for the cancer program, the committee said "because the availability of money exceeded the availability of sound ideas, some unsatisfactory effects inevitably resulted."

The committee suggested a committee be formed to look into ways the program can be improved.

France Gets the Word on Gold

NEW YORK (AP) — The U.S. government has given France a tactful hint that extra large conversions of its dollars into U.S. gold will be viewed dimly, as long as post World War II French debts remain unpaid.

That is the interpretation that financial circles place on an unusual statement issued by the U.S. Treasury Thursday spelling out some details of a decline of $250 million in the U.S. monetary gold supply during the past week.

The Federal Reserve and the Treasury said $231.5 million of the total went to cover French conversions of dollars into gold. The Treasury's discussion of details was virtually unprecedented, since the Treasury and the Federal Reserve never discuss details of international financial transactions at the time they occur.

★ ★ ★

But the Treasury spelled out in a special statement:

"With the completion of this transaction, French government dollar holdings are on a level equal in amount to French official debt to the United States and Canada, plus required working reserves."

OWES U.S.

France owes the United States $597 million from post World War II Marshall Plan debt. Canada is owed $62 million. The "working balance" is placed at between $300 million and $400 million.

Thus, in the opinion of the financial circles, if French dollar holdings fall below a total of between $959 million and $1.9 billion because of conversion of dollars into gold, the U.S. government will view the action as use of American and Canadian loans to attack the dollar.

The Treasury and the Federal Reserve declined to comment beyond the Treasury statement on what the official U.S. view would be in such a case.

The $250 million decline in the past week brought the nation total of supply of gold to back currency down to $14.563 billion, the lowest level since Dec. 28, 1938. The total gold outflow for the year is $825 million.

PAST WEEK

The statement said $150 million of the past week's outflow was a second installment on $300 million that France said last year it would convert.

★ ★ ★

The remaining $81.5 million converted by France during the week was a supply of dollars it accumulated during February. France presently has a balance of payments surplus, meaning that it gets more than it pays out in international financing.

★ ★ ★

Treasury and Federal Reserve officials declined to state the government view of further large French conversions but one highly informed source said the United States would take "a dim view" of France converting what, in effect, would be borrowed U.S. dollars.

French President Charles de Gaulle has declared that the Free World nations should return to a strict gold standard. At the same time he has contended that the U.S. dollar and the British pound sterling should not be the Free World's reserve currencies.

Never Rains but It Pours, Graham Finds

MONTREAT, N.C. (AP)—Evangelist Billy Graham will tell you it's a long, long way from Honolulu to Montreat, especially when a friend strands you in tiny Jefferson, Ga., during a downpour.

Graham, on his way home from Honolulu to Montreat, couldn't get out of Atlanta by air Wednesday so he and an associate, Rev. T. W. Wilson, rented a car.

The evangelist, recovering from a lung and bronchial infection, curled up under a blanket in the back seat and went to sleep.

The Rev. Mr. Wilson drove to Jefferson where he stopped at a restaurant to ask directions, leaving Graham in the car. It was pouring rain.

Graham awoke and went into the restaurant, unseen by Wilson. When he came out of the building, the car's taillights were disappearing to the north.

Graham, without raincoat or hat and running a fever, hailed a truck and gave chase. But Wilson was out of sight.

Graham returned to the restaurant, and waited an hour. Nobody recognized him. Finally, he asked a waitress if there was a taxi service. She said a fellow up the road might help.

The man didn't believe Graham was Graham, but he agreed, for $20, to drive the evangelist 80 miles to Greenville, S.C. Off they went in an old car with a cracked windshield in the downpour.

At Greenville, a motel where Graham hoped to stop was filled. So the evangelist went to the Greenville-Spartanburg airport and rented a car.

After a slow drive across fog-shrouded mountains, he arrived home, still feverish, Mrs. Graham, their children, and Wilson were in the front yard when he drove up.

Wilson had not discovered Graham's absence from the back seat until he stopped for gas in North Carolina. He then alerted the FBI, and the Georgia Highway Patrol.

"I was being more considerate than I might have been because of his illness," Wilson explained. "All the way back, I took things easy, trying not to disturb him."

Said Graham: "Ruth (Mrs. Graham) said T. W. was incoherent when he discovered I wasn't in the car. He thought I was in the back asleep all the time."

County GOP Names Field Work Leader

C. March Miller II of Royal Oak has joined the staff of the Oakland County Republican Party as executive director of field operations.

GOP County Chairman Dale A. Feet, in making the announcement, said Miller, 27, will specialize in field work and organization and will help maintain the party's grass roots activity in all areas of the county.

Miller was recently named chairman of the GOP Special Events Committee and, during last year's campaigns, ran all county motorcades.

Feet also announced that Richard Raison, a staff member for the last year and a half, will be executive director of committee operations and office manager for the party.

The changes come about as a result of the transfer of Jack L. Slater Jr., executive director for the Southeastern Michigan United Republican Fund where he will coordinate fund raising efforts in the Tri-County area.

Soviet Voter Revolt Reported

MOSCOW (AP) — Voter revolts in 170 election districts last Sunday defeated the unopposed slate of Communist party-backed candidates to local government organs.

The Soviet Communist party organ Pravda announced the election upsets today in a summary of voting results in the giant Russian Federated Republic.

* * *

It was the largest voter revolt ever announced by Soviet authorities. In 1961, the Soviet news agency Tass said voters in more than three dozen districts refused to accept the Communist party candidates.

The announcement today said in the 170 election districts "candidates for deputy did not receive an absolute majority of the votes and were not elected as deputies."

* * *

New elections are to be held in these districts and in 11 others in which the balloting was declared invalid because of "violations of the election law."

ROME (AP) — The family of ex-King Farouk gathered in Rome today to plan his last rites — and to file suits concerning custody of Farouk's son and division of his money.

Italian authorities dropped plans for an autopsy on the former Egyptian ruler. Farouk's personal physician said his fatal attack at a restaurant Wednesday night resulted from a massive heart attack.

Farouk's three daughters came here from Lausanne and his first wife, Farida, arrived from Beirut. His divorced second wife, ex-Queen Narriman, said she would go from Cairo to Rome to seek custody of their 13-year-old son, Prince Fuad, the last king of Egypt. Family sources said Narriman, in the absence of a will, would ask an Italian court to apply Islamic rules, which would divide Farouk's fortune among the children, with double the share going to a son.

SEOUL, South Korea (AP) — South Korea activated its first Hawk antiaircraft guided missile unit today in a ceremony at the unit base west of Pusan on the southern coast.

President Chung Hee Park, Defense Minister Kim Sung-eun, and U.S. Army Gen. Hamilton H. Howze, commander of the U.N. and U.S. forces in Korea, attended the ceremony.

Labor Lag a Moonshot Drag

While thousands of young Americans, many of whom have met death, are deployed around the globe in furtherance of U. S. interests, a disgraceful scene of disregard of Country and contractural irresponsibility on the part of organized labor is being enacted on our home soil.

The Cape Kennedy and Merritt Island moonport complex has been plagued by a succession of weird and arbitrary work stoppages among the 4,000 building and construction workers whose unions had solemnly pledged not to strike under any circumstances.

At stake is the timing of America's moonshot, scheduled for execution by the end of 1969, and the 15 experimental Saturn flights which must progressively precede it.

But the over-all effort has been hamstrung by continual acts of labor intransigence and indifference to the national objective.

Between Dec. 1, 1962 and Feb. 15, 1965, 78 walkouts with a total work loss of 63,784 man days have been logged. Men who have been getting $5-an hour straight time and others who have been earning from $200 to $400 a week have walked out knowing they could make up their pay with overtime (double time) work.

Currently, the iron workers are the center of labor turbulence. It revolves around an asinine hassle of jurisdiction involving at most 40 jobs and, frequently, as few as 11.

The issue, which has reached all the way to Washington and back, is known as the "crawler crisis."

The crawler, one of four which will move the Apollo three-stage "Saturn Five" moon launch vehicle to its pad is being built by members of the United Steelworkers. But the Iron Workers wants the job for its members, and last January it struck for three days to drive out the steel union.

Since then the crawler controversy has crept through a sequence of government and military agencies — still unresolved with imminent threat of further work cessation and delay for America's vital space program.

It's enough to make you crawl.

Amos Alonzo Stagg

One of sportsdom's immortals slipped quietly into eternity after fulfilling his mortal role as have few earthlings.

AMOS ALONZO STAGG'S 102 years of life were crammed with personal achievement and honorary recognition. During a 54-year span as football coach, he not only greatly elevated the game but was acclaimed for his character-building influence on the youth who came under his guidance. He was justly proud of the fact that in 1929, while coach at University of Chicago, the Carnegie Foundation named the university as one of the few schools that handled its athletic program without proselyting.

Stagg was the only man enrolled in football's Hall of Fame as both player and coach, and in 1889 was named to Walter Camp's first All-America team. He also excelled in baseball, and while a student at Yale pitched his team to five straight collegiate championships.

In 1932 at University of Chicago's mandatory retirement age of 70, he declined a sinecure on the school's staff, and took over as coach of College of the Pacific, which post he held until retirement in 1946. Three years prior, at 81, Stagg was voted Football Coach of the Year.

The multitude of friends and admirers of ALONZO STAGG who mourn his passing will find comfort in the knowledge that America was appreciably enriched by his presence.

New Civic Facility Enriches Waterford

Waterford Township officials have proclaimed next week as Waterford Township Friends of the Library Week in recognition of its newly opened library building. An open house and dedicatory ceremonies are scheduled for a month hence.

Half of the $62,000 cost of the facility came from a government grant, with furnishings and equipment largely supplied by a fund-raising effort on the part of the township's Friends of the Library.

This fine addition to the cultural advantages of our community is but another indication of the appreciation by the citizenry of the need to keep pace with the intellectual requirements imposed by our flourishing society.

The PRESS warmly congratulates Waterford Township on this latest evidence of progress and commends the public-spirited residents whose interest made the library project a reality.

Dixie Crumbling Under Pressure

By JAMES MARLOW
AP News Analyst

WASHINGTON — Southern resistance to Negroes' demands for equal rights is crumbling. There may be other violence in the South, if not in Alabama then elsewhere, but the back of the resistance has been broken.

MARLOW

A good example is in Congress where 10 or 12 years ago Southern Democrats almost to a man have mounted their own massive resistance to the kind of voting bill President Johnson proposed this week.

Now there is speculation whether the Southern senators will even try to use a filibuster, their infallible device of bygone years, to block Johnson's bill.

This measure, to protect Negroes from racial discrimination when they want to vote, is the most far-reaching legislation of its kind ever offered by a president, in this case a Southerner.

The only way to stop a filibuster, if it begins, is for two-thirds of the senators present to vote to end it. In the past it was almost impossible to get two-thirds willing to do this.

Now an Associated Press cross-section survey indicates the Senate leadership could round up more than two-thirds needed to curtail debate if a filibuster starts.

Johnson has the support of Senate Democrats and Republicans from outside the South to such an extent that the Republican Senate Leader, Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, has predicted no extended filibuster.

Southern resistance began to dwindle in 1957 when Johnson, then Senate majority leader, finally got approval of the first civil rights bill passed in this century after Southerners, although fighting it, rejected an organized filibuster.

Two more civil rights bills have been approved since then. The last one, passed last year, brought a filibuster lasting weeks, but in the end it couldn't stop the legislation.

Johnson has thrown the full power of his office behind the Negroes' demands for equal treatment at the polls. But support for the Negro has gone far beyond the White House. Negroes are no longer alone in their fight in the South.

The Finger Man

David Lawrence Says:

GOP Playing Into LBJ's Hands

WASHINGTON — The leadership of the Republican party in the Senate has certainly misinterpreted the function of a minority party.

LAWRENCE

It has, unfortunately, relieved the Democratic party — the majority party — of full responsibility for the unprecedented piece of legislation on voting rights which President Johnson has recommended for immediate passage by both houses.

The President, on the other hand, was politically smart in shifting much of the burden of drafting the legislation to the Republican party leaders. For he thus diverted attention from the split in his own party, and is able now to claim that the measure has bipartisan support.

But history shows that bipartisan support rarely results in bipartisan credit and that the efforts of a minority party in such instances are never appreciated at the polls.

If a piece of legislation is popular, it is the party that put it through Congress which usually gets the votes of approval at election time.

SUPPOSED TO CRITICIZE

The minority party in every representative system is supposed to criticize what the majority party proposes and direct attention to weaknesses in the hope that these will be corrected.

But the minority leader of the Senate now has put a stamp of approval on the President's measure, which is, in fact, already being referred to in many quarters as a Republican bill.

Yet the measure violates traditional Republican party principles as well as the long-standing position of the Democratic party in defense of states' rights.

★ ★ ★

The Republican party has an obligation to its own followers as well as to the American people.

PEOPLE DEPRIVED

Its leaders could agree in principle with the objectives of the measure, but to participate in the actual drafting of a bill of such a controversial nature deprives the American people of the opportunity to get the analysis and criticism which it has a right to expect from a minority party.

There are murmurs about all this in Congress today, and many members have not as yet heard from their constituents.

But the Republican party is in for a lot of trouble due to the fact that it has fallen victim to the wave of emotion which has surrounded the civil rights issue.

The whole procedure is reminiscent of the beginning of the Reconstruction era 100 years ago, the tragic results of which still are being felt.

DECLARED ILLEGAL

A coalition in Congress of northern Republicans and Democrats at that time accepted as valid the ratification by Southern legislatures of the Thirteenth Amendment, abolishing slavery.

But when the Fourteenth Amendment was rejected by these same legislatures, they were suddenly declared illegal by an act of Congress, and puppet regimes were set up which were coerced into favorable action under the pressure of federal troops in the legislative halls.

Today, as happened a century ago, the Congress is being ruled by the Machiavellian doctrine that "the end justifies the means."

Bob Considine Says:

USO Is Still in Business in Places Like Saigon

NEW YORK — Remember USO? You should. It's still around, and if possible it's more needed than it was at the peak of World War II and the Korean War.

CONSIDINE

Lots of people thought it closed shop after that. But each day and night, it looks out for tens of thousands of American service men and women spread through the world.

It is doing a great job in Saigon right this minute; could do a lot more if it had the money.

If you could spend five minutes in Saigon you'd fully comprehend what a haven, what a home-away-from-home, the air-conditioned USO building is in that city of infinite mischief, danger and prevalent ptomaine.

★ ★ ★

Yes, USO is still in business. All it needs is partners. YOU, let's say.

My friend Henry Thody, New York-based correspondent for the London Sketch and News of the World, recently met fellow Englishman Commander Whitehead, the Schweppervescence man.

This was not particularly amazing. The British frequently meet overseas, and on occasion actually shake hands when introduced, properly introduced, that is.

The commander's long beard is just about the best-known chin of hair in the land.

"Perhaps I'll see you in the steam room some day," Thody said.

"Bully!" cried the commander. Then his face clouded. "But how shall we recognize each other?"

'Church Deeply Hurt by Recent Break-Ins'

On March 2nd and 14th someone broke into our building and performed acts of desecration and theft, as well as malicious destruction. It will cost a great deal of money to repair the interior of our building.

★ ★ ★

The most serious part of the crime and sin is that he broke into the reserved Sacrament and profaned the presence of our Lord by throwing the consecrated elements on the floor. Could a person hate God and His church this much?

★ ★ ★

Breaking and entering, combined with larceny, is a serious crime with a penalty which confines a person to prison for a long time. Profaning the presence of God in His sacred house is so serious as to lock up one's soul within himself until the day he confesses and seeks forgiveness. Those whom I serve as a pastor have been deeply hurt.

Strike a Balance

The Christian Science Monitor

In recent years the United States Supreme Court has moved zealously to protect the rights of the criminally accused. But in the opinion of many charged with combating crime, the court has gone too far. They are convinced that court decisions have unreasonably restricted efforts to bring criminals to heel.

★ ★ ★

Officials are troubled by increasing legal difficulties encountered or anticipated in preliminary detention of suspects, the making of arrests, procuring evidence by search and seizure, getting confessions from suspects through interrogation, and obtaining and using information by employing a wire tap. Prosecutors and investigators point to a pressing need for new and better tools with which to combat a mounting crime rate, an increase in violence, and the growth of vast empires of professional crime. Rather than getting the new tools which they regard as essential, they argue that court decisions have increasingly deprived them of some of the more effective tools they once had.

★ ★ ★

Those, on the other hand, whose primary concern is civil liberties, have been greatly heartened by recent Supreme Court decisions buttressing the rights and remedies of the accused. They applaud them as reinforcing the common law maxim that a man is innocent until proved guilty, as supporting the constitutional provision of procedural due process, and as combating secret interrogation, police brutality, and forced confessions. They hail them as offering a bulwark to the right of privacy, a protection to the poor, and a means of relief for the unjustly convicted.

The need, surely, is to strike a reasonable balance — to give police enough authority to do the job and yet to limit authority sufficiently to curb police excesses.

We believe that no specific decision of the Supreme Court on behalf of the rights of the accused has seriously impaired legitimate efforts at law enforcement. We wonder, however, if greater emphasis by the court on law enforcement needs would not help to maintain the delicate balance between liberty and authority and between the rights of the accused and those of society.

We need to remember that the obligation to maintain a balance does not belong alone to the courts. Congress and state legislatures bear heavy responsibility. While certainly no easy task, we are convinced that legislation can be framed whereby to permit effective law enforcement without seriously impairing the rights of the accused.

We hope that legislators, availing themselves of the best thought of the bar associations, will move deliberately but resolutely to find appropriate solutions to this problem which affects so directly both the strength and freedom of American society.

Science Quiz

BY BOB BROWN

PROBLEM: Fireworks from Flour.

NEEDED: Cheesecloth, flour, and a lighted candle.

DO THIS: Make a bag by folding a double thickness of cheesecloth, put flour into it, and shake it over the candle flame. The flour will burn in sudden, sparkling flames.

HERE'S WHY: Flour does not burn readily unless the particles are so separated that oxygen of the air can reach every one. This condition is met as the fine flour dust comes down to the flame.

The finer the flour the more surface is available for this rapid oxidation.

When the proportion of flour particles to air is just right in a large area, an explosion powerful enough to wreck a flour mill can result.

More experiments in this series of "Science For You" experiments are included in the book Science Circus which is on sale in better bookstores.

Amphibious Driver Nabbed

White faces a probation hearing April 7 after having been convicted of driving his car too fast in Channel Island Harbor.

Patrolman William Barker said White's amphibious car had entered the water from a boat ramp and cruised along at 8 miles an hour in a 5-mile-an-hour speed zone.

But Barker couldn't catch the speedy craft. Other officers caught White on dry land.

White also was convicted Wednesday of violating a county harbor ordinance by driving down an unfinished ramp and failing to stop for the patrolman.

A Junior Editors Quiz About DINOSAURS

QUESTION: What made dinosaurs so big? Why did they disappear?

ANSWER: About 200 million years ago, in the Triassic period, much of the land was flat, covered with inland seas, swamps and marshes.

There was an abundance of water plants, giving plant-eating reptiles a fine food supply. The larger ones, living half in water, were safe from attack.

But the carnivorous, or flesh-eating dinosaurs, could prey upon the smaller plant-eaters, and so grew large, too.

To give an idea of size, we show an enormous plant-eater looking down on a man (of course, there were no men in those days, according to the scientists.)

Many scientists believe that the plant-eating dinosours could not adjust themselves to the new kinds of plants growing in the new climate. As they vanished, the flesh-eaters, deprived of food, also vanished.

The last group of dinosaurs to appear were the Ceratopsians, the biggest of which, Triceratops, we illustrate at lower right.

These creatures survived for awhile, apparently because their head shields protected them. But by the end of the Cretaceous period, they had vanished too.

FOR YOU TO DO: Scientists say that although there were no men in those days there were small warm-blooded mammals and that these may have helped to exterminate the dinosaurs. Can you figure out what might have happened? (A hint: the dinosaurs laid eggs).

Warned Accused Generals of Violations, Guard Officer Says

LANSING (AP) — Lt. Col. John Brown, who was fiscal officer for two National Guard generals accused of gross neglect of duty, testified Thursday that he warned them about violations of rules on spending procedures.

Brown said he warned Maj. Gen. Ronald McDonald that "you would get your hand spanked" and later called on Brig. Gen. Carson Neifert for "assistance in getting things back on a straight line."

Brown testified on the eighth day of Gov. George Romney's hearing for the two generals and was scheduled to take the witness stand again when the hearing resumes next Tuesday.

During his two-hour appearance on the stand Thursday, the hearing room was crowded for the first time since the opening day of the hearing. The audience numbered about 40.

ACCUSATIONS

Romney has said it was accusations by Brown which led to an auditor general's report, which led to suspension of the two generals.

Brown was fired by Neifert Oct. 8, 1963, for insubordination, McDonald said, and was reinstated by Romeny Oct. 8, 1964—the same day Neifert and McDonald were relieved of duties.

A Romney aide, Walter Devries, has testified that Brown was reinstated because about 75 per cent of the allegations he made were substantiated by the auditor general's report.

Brown was called to testify on a charge concerning purchase of items by the quartermaster general (QMG) for Camp Grayling or Lansing headquarters for which the bills were sent to local armories for payment.

ARMORY FUNDS

He said McDonald asked him about local armory funds for such expenditures.

"I told him it would be contrary to the Appropriations Act and Department of Administration rules and regulations," Brown testified.

"He asked did I think we'd get in trouble if we used any of these funds," he added.

"I told him," Brown said, "that it would not be fraud but if we get caught you would get your hand spanked."

HELD POST

McDonald was QMG until June 1959, when he became adjutant general and Neifert became QMG.

Brown said he told Neifert "of many violations of Department of Administration regulations going on within the (QMG) office."

Referring to previous testimony, Romney asked why the military would give the Grand Rapids Armory money to spend for items for Lansing headquarters instead of giving the money directly to headquarters.

After some discussion by Brown, the governor said, "that doesn't help me understand why it was necessary to send money to Grand Rapids."

TRUE NATURE

The charges say such procedures were carried out to conceal the true nature of the expenditures.

In answer to a similar question by Assistant Atty. Gen. Russell Searl, Brown said it was done "to circumvent the state purchasing division and buy equipment other than what we had requested funds for."

Fewer Onions, Please

LONDON (UPI) — Disgruntled female teachers in Kent have demanded fewer onions in school dinners because their after-class sweethearts object to onion-tainted kisses.

"When we have an evening date, we either have to go hungry at lunch-time or risk breathing onion fumes all over our boyfriends," one teacher explained.

Rising Tide of Revolt Sweeping U.S. Colleges

NEW YORK (AP) — A rising tide of revolt spearheaded by a new breed of student is sweeping colleges and universities across the land.

From the Ivy League schools of the Northeast to the casual campuses of the West Coast, deep student displeasure with some aspects of higher education has replaced the frivolous high jinks.

* * *

The abrupt resignations of highly respected Dr. Clark Kerr, president of the University of California, and his Berkeley chancellor, Martin Meyerson, following student protests there are examples of the consequences the new demonstrations can bring.

SIMILAR PROTESTS

Similar but less explosive protests have cropped up at Yale, St. John's University in New York, Brooklyn College, Princeton, Washington College in Chestertown Md., the University of North Carolina, the University of Washington in Seattle and Hampton Institute in Virginia.

* * *

A young Yale philosophy teacher, Richard J. Bernstein, who was denied tenure despite mass student protests earlier this month, described the student action as "one of the great moments in the recent history of Yale."

"I hope the spirit of last week will continue to develop," he said. The spirit shows every sign of doing just that.

HITS ST. JOHN'S

Not only has it hit the big, publicly supported universities like the University of California, and Ivy League schools like Yale — it recently broke out at what is regarded as a more disciplined kind of school, St. Johns in New York, the nation's largest Roman Catholic university.

At California and elsewhere, students complain of being "cogs" in educational "factories." They talk of contact between professor and student, and of the need to "get involved" in politics.

The individual generally credited with bringing matters to an explosive head is Mario Savio, 22, former philosophy student at California who led the Free Speech Movement's massive protest there earlier this year.

Savio points to the mushrooming size of modern universities and the resulting isolation felt by students.

ART OF TEACHING

Among other things, Savio is concerned that professors no longer have time to engage in the creative art of teaching because they are expected instead to do research in order to give society the skills it needs to keep an IBM card," he says.

"The understanding, interest and care required to have a good undergraduate school are completely alien to the spirit of the system.

* * *

"The university is a vast public utility, which turns out factory workers in today's vineyard, the military-industrial complex. They've got to be processed in the most efficient way to see to it they have the fewest dissenting opinions. People have to suppress the very contradictions which reading books raises."

Kerr admits there is a problem.

MOST POWERFUL

"Every day makes it clearer," he said, "that the university's invisible product, knowledge, is likely to be the most powerful single element in our culture. With so many young people pounding at our gates, we're up against a tremendous assignment. To take the position that we won't grow would be a terribly irresponsible thing."

Yale students got involved in another aspect of the same question. There, 200 students staged a rally to demand tenure for Dr. Bernstein.

* *

They maintained that in spite of his being an excellent "creative teacher," he was being dismissed because he hadn't published enough books.

They picketed for 76 hours with placards saying "Homer was a two-book man," and "could Socrates get tenure?"

Bernstein kept silent until last Wednesday, when his cause seemed lost. He described the two weeks of turmoil as "the most exciting, exhilarating and bewildering in my life."

* * *

"An entire community," he said, "expressed its deep concern about the most basic issue of education, about the direction of Yale and Amercian higher education, about the type of teacher-scholar that we want at Yale, and about the procedures and criteria for making these important decisions."

* * *

Students at St. John's booed the name of the Very Rev. Edward J. Burke, president of the university. They shouted disapproval of university policies and cheered pleas for greater "academic freedom."

Some complained the school was not following the precedent set by Pope John XXIII and the Ecumenical Concil of airing and discussing controversial issues.

HONOR STUDENT

William Graves, 21, a philosophy honor student who led the protest rally, said Father Burke "refers to himself as the father and to us as the children. We do not believe college students should be treated as recalcitrant children."

* * *

Seventy-one per cent of the graduate students involved had over-all grade averages between B and A. Forty-seven per cent of the undergraduates had better than a B average. Twenty were members of the scholastic honorary fraternity Phi Beta Kappa, eight had won Woodrow Wilson scholarships, 20 had published articles in scholarly journals, 53 were winners or finalists in National Merit Scholarship competition, and 260 had won other academic awards.

Some see the campus revolution as having gone too far. A California state senator, Jack Schrade of San Diego, said if people could see what happened at Berkeley, "there would be a general revolt against support of the institution."

SUPPORT GOVERNOR

There was wide support in California for Gov. Edmund G. Brown when he labeled student demands as "anarchy," and called out the highway patrol to help drag lie-in demonstrators from a campus building.

There are also indications that the controversies are becoming more and more involved with politics.

* * *

Berkeley's Free Speech Movement demanded the right to recruit students and solicit funds for off-campus activites that might be illegal.

At least 60 nations will participate in a 10-year global study of hydrology beginning in January 1965.

St. Patrick's Dance at Pontiac Northern

By ALICE TURNER

The Pontiac Northern High School International Club will sponsor a St. Patrick's day dance tonight in the school's auxiliary gym. The sock-hop, Sadie Hawkins style, will begin at 8 p.m.

The festival, sponsored by the Michigan State Vocal Association, is not a competitive festival between schools. Groups are rated individually as to their tone, pitch, balance, appearance, blend, interpretation and the ability to sight read.

Groups representing Northern are the Northern Lights and the girls ensemble, under the direction of Judith Wade. Others are the a capella choir and the Northern Men's Chorus, under the direction of John Tousley.

Two Pontiac Northern teachers have recently been awarded institute grants.

Robert Varner, a chemistry teacher, will be sponsored by the Natural Defense Act. He will study chemistry and physics while attending Oak Ridge Institute of Natural Science in Knoxville, Tenn. Varner's grant was awarded in conjunction with the Atomic Energy Commission.

Jay Bates, biology teacher, has received an institute grant. He will attend the University of Minnesota in St. Paul, to study biology.

Both received grants through a program designed to promote and improve teaching in United States high schools.

Registrations for spring term adult education classes will be taken at the adult education office March 22-25 from 1-4 and 7-9 p.m.

If a class is not offered twelve or more adults can request its addition to the schedule by contacting the adult education office.

It's 'Play Time' at St. Fred's

By JANIS QUARLES

The English, Latin and French departments of St. Frederick's High School presented a collection of plays at today's assembly.

Taking the lead roles in the Latin II class play, "The East Meets Rome," were Frank Estrada and Jeanne Tarcholski. Larry Mason wrote and directed the play.

"Post Bellum" was enacted by the Latin I group. Heading the cast were Kathy Slabinski, Maria Bora, Carol Hobson, Bill Cook and Paul Schmansky.

It was directed by Peg Polmear and moderated by Gary Rodiger. All lines were spoken in Latin.

Working on the presentation were Maria Landry, John La Londe, Steve Hamilton, Rita Villa, Dan Johnston and Joe Bard.

Juniors at Milford Set Dance Tonight

By BOB GORSLINE

At the recent district band and orchestra festival, Milford's concert band received an overall rating of "2". This was determined by its averaging a concert performance rating of "2" and a sight-reading rating of "1".

2 Classes at Central Eye Plans

By KAY COSMA

GETS PIN

Officers of the Central chapter are: executives Al Munson, Jean Ann Keefer and Christine Schoof; Secretary Mary Cohen; social chairman Donna Whiteman; and historian Erma Cornett. Doris Haynes and Judith Weese are head librarians.

Registration for adult classes at Central for the spring term is scheduled for March 22 through March 25. The office will be open from 1-4 and 7-9 p. m.

Central's co-op department is planning its annual banquet May 18 at Madison Junior High. Attending will be co-op students from retailing, office and trade and industry.

At Kettering

Girls, Boys Swap Roles

By JAMIE SCHUTT

Girls have taken the initiative and switched roles with the boys at Waterford Kettering, for "Sadie Hawkins Day." Boys had doors opened for them and their books carried and were walked to class today.

★ ★ ★

Girls will escort their dates and will present them with an original corsage. Prizes will be given for the best corsages.

Sponsored by the junior class, the dance will feature a marriage booth and an initial tree.

Sadie Hawkins and Li'l Abner will be chosen by drawing.

SPECIAL ASSEMBLY

Science Futurity Association, with the cooperation of the science department, will present a special assembly Wednesday to get more students interested in science and to demonstrate what the science departments are doing.

David Tallenger will serve as master of ceremonies.

The assembly will include experiments such as a vandegraph generator, which sends electricity through the body to illuminate a light bulb; a vortex machine; a styrene plastic display; a rocket demonstration; and a mercury "amoeba."

WTHS Pupil to Go on Tour With Band

By JEAN PERRY

Waterford Township High School junior Carol Meyer has been selected by Musical Youth International to participate in a band and chorus that plans to tour Mexico and Central America this summer.

Carol along with 75 participants will leave Michigan July 5, and return Aug. 4.

Carol said, "When I auditioned, they discovered I could sing so I ended up in the band and chorus too."

After graduation she plans to attend college and major in music.

One hundred fifty new books have been added to the WTHS library. They are being cataloged by Marlyn Jost and Barbara Rose, librarians, and will be circulated in three weeks.

Members for Quill and Scroll have been chosen. They are Lynn Franklin, Rick Cox, Howard Owen, Frank Van Husen, Cathy Bauguess, Jeannette Howey, Barbara Stock, Jean Priestly, Carol Petar, Linda Holznagle, Julie Appel, Patricia French, Kenneth Hodges and Jean Perry.

Girls of Clarkston Battle Kettering

By CATHY RICHARDSON

The Clarkston High School Athletic Association basketball team played Clarenceville Tuesday, in Clarkston's gym. This afternoon, the "She-Wolves" will meet Waterford Kettering's girl basketball team.

"Lullaby," a comedy concerning the antics of a newly married couple will go on their honeymoon with the man's mother, will be presented in Clarkston High's Little Theater on March 26, 27 and 28.

★ ★ ★

Proceeds from the play will aid Clarkston's production of My Fair Lady, in April.

Graduation Means Trip

By KATHY MORGAN

This year's senior class at Rochester High School includes two foreign exchange students. Karin Eriksson arrived from Dalarna, Sweden, in August. Ana de Menezes of Rio de Janeiro, Brazil, came in January.

★ ★ ★

Karin is sponsored by the American Field Service. Eighteen years old, she has completed three years of gymnasium, or secondary school. Two years remain for her when she returns.

Ana is a Youth for Understanding exchange student. She is 17 years old. Ana attended a private Catholic girls' school and plans to study the arts in college.

Karin and Ana will graduate with their class in June. Karin then leaves for a month's tour of the U. S. She sails from New York for Sweden in July.

Ana will fly home in July.

TRAVEL OVERSEAS

Seven RHS students will travel abroad this summer under the Youth for Understanding exchange program. Alma Kayser, counselor and YFU adviser, announced the assignments.

Claudia Gilmore, Carolyn Gullen, and Madeline Johnson will go to Germany.

Cynthia Brown will go to Sweden, Joan Kemler to England, Michael Cox to Denmark, and Lynn Munn to the Netherlands.

To Stage Play at BHHS

By KAREN TRIMMER

Three performances, today and tomorrow at 8:15 p. m. plus a special Saturday matinee at 2 p. m., will be presented.

Written by Mary Chase, this year's play, "Mrs. McThing," recounts the lesson that an "experienced" witch teaches a wealthy snob concerning the real values and qualities of a young boy.

CAST MEMBERS

Others are Ted Nicholas, Howay; Lu Ann Douglas, chef; Terry Niggeman, Virgil; Dave Muir, Dirty Joe; Dud DeNador, Stinker; and Bob Brogan, Poison Eddie.

Still others are Connie DeMatteo, Mrs. Schellenback; Jennifer Squibb, Mimi; Roger Plaxton, and Tim Cowen, policemen; Linda Fegley, and Judy Wood, witches.

St. Mike's Pupils Win Honors in Math, Spelling

By HERVEY LAVOIE

Chalking up perfect scores on the recently completed spelling and basic mathematics at St. Michael's High School were Rosemary Cecelia and Sarah Raymond, spelling; and Rosemary Cecelia, James Stickle and Hervey Lavoie, math.

The Future Nurses Club nominated Margaret Finnegan, president; and Barbara Buller, vice president, for the Tri-County Future Nurses Association. Election for the interschool organization will be in April.

In the opening basketball eliminations Tuesday night, the seniors defeated the sophomores and the juniors, the freshmen. Following the Wednesday night playoff of the rival victors, the seniors will meet the faculty in their annual contest.

A matinee will also be presented tomorrow beginning at 2 p.m.

Some Republicans May Seek Tougher Measure

Vote Rights Bill Wins Friends Quickly in House and Senate

WASHINGTON (AP) — The administration's voting rights bill has won friends quickly in both the House and Seaate but there are signs some House Republicans may press for an even tougher measure.

In a House speech and again in hearings before a House Judiciary subcommittee, GOP members called for a bill with broader protection on Negro voting rights than the Johnson administration has proposed.

But even as he agreed that the bill he helped draft fails to cover all possible cases of Negro vote denial, Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach defended it as the best he could devise to meet "the central problem we are trying to deal with."

In two long sessions before the House committee, one in the morning and one at night, Katzenbach defined that problem as a search for "a systematic, automatic method to deal with discriminatory tests, discriminatory testers and discriminatory threats."

TERMS OF BILL

Under the terms of the bill, six states — although not named specifically — would be the chief targets for federal action to open the polls to Negroes — Mississippi, Alabama, Louisiana, Georgia, South Carolina and Virginia.

As matters now stand, only they would feel the full force of the bill's power to strike down their voting tests and send in federal registrars to qualify Negroes to vote in all elections — federal, state and local.

While the House moved speedily forward with its hearings, the bill passed a key test in the Senate when it was assured that the Judiciary Committee, headed by Sen. James O. Eastland, D-Miss., would not be able to bottle it up.

By a vote of 67 to 13 the Senate required the committee to act on the bill by April 9 or have it returned automatically to the full Senate on that date. Southern cries of "steamroller" were raised during the debate preceding the vote.

2 FRONTS

Katzenbach was engaged on two fronts in the voting rights fight during his appearance at the House hearings Thursday night. Four times while he was answering questions of committee members he was summoned to the telephone by President Johnson. The President wanted help in formulating an answer to Alabama's Gov. George C. Wallace's request for federal assistance in protecting marchers planning to walk from Selma, Ala., to Montgomery, Ala., to protest discrimination against Negro voters.

★ ★ ★

Katzenbach's testimony was also interrupted by the collapse of the committee's chief counsel, William R. Foley. During one of his talks with the President, Katzenbach sat at a desk in an anteroom advising Johnson while a doctor and several other persons hovered over Foley, stretched out on a couch a few feet away.

Chairman Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y., said Foley was suffering from "complete exhaustion." He refused hospitalization and was taken home.

Katzenbach, who faces another round of questioning today, met Republican criticism that the bill does not go far enough with a challenge to the GOP to come up with something better.

WORKED HARD

"Just because we may not have covered every bit of discrimination in the bill is no argument against the bill," he said. "If you can do it, and keep it constitutional, fine. I've worked hard on it, and I can't do it."

The GOP critics were Reps. Charles E. Goodel of New York and William C. Cramer of Florida. On the House floor, Goodell, a member of the House Republican leadership, said the bill's provision that federal action will be taken only in states with literacy tests in which less than 50 per cent of the voting age population was registered or voted last November ignores other states where discrimination is practiced.

"Discrimination practices that disenfranchise 10 per cent, or 20 per cent of the population should not be ignored," he said. "Let us do something for minority rights where the Negro is in the minority, not only where he makes up half of the population."

★ ★ ★

Cramer echoed the same view in the committee. "We should protect a man's right to vote no matter where he resides," he said.

Lots of Melons for Dying Boy

SHAWSVILLE, Va. (AP) — Five-year-old Bryan Akers, a leukemia victim doctors give six months to live, has had a craving for watermelon since doctors put him on a drug six months ago.

His parents and relatives were unable to find any melons in stores around this little western Virginia community.

News stories this week about Bryan have brought gift melons that are overflowing the family trailer house.

★ ★ ★

"Bryan just doesn't know what to say," Mrs. Akers related last night. "He started eating watermelon at 10 this morning and hasn't taken a nap all day."

The Privacy Invaders—III

'U.S. Units Among Worst Snoopers'

(EDITOR'S NOTE — The phrase "Big Brother is watching you" first appeared in George Orwell's novel, "1984." There's a lot of concern in Washington that Big Brother — the government — is indeed watching. The government's role in the battle to preserve privacy is discussed in this dispatch, last in a series of three.)

* * *

By HARRY FERGUSON

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Edward V. Long, D-Mo., believes personal privacy in this country will disappear soon unless strong laws are enacted against private and governmental snooping.

He believes federal agencies are among the worst offenders and his Senate subcommittee currently is trying to find out what is going on and why.

The phrase "Big Brother is watching you" is heard daily around Washington. Big Brother is the federal government, a conception that was borrowed from a novel published in 1949 by George Orwell and called "1984." It scared the socks off everybody who read it.

Orwell conceived of an all-powerful central government which kept its citizens under constant surveillance. He described the experiences of "Winston Smith" in his own home:

"The telescreen received and transmitted simultaneously. Any sound that Winston made above the level of a low whisper would be picked up by it. Moreover, so long as he remained in the field of vision which the metal plaque commanded he could be seen as well as heard.

* * *

"There was, of course, no way of knowing whether you were being watched at any given moment. How often or on what system the thought police plugged in any individual wire was guesswork. It was even conceivable that they watched everybody all the time."

The Big Brother of "1984" was a dictator whose picture bore a marked resemblance to Josef Stalin, and big signs on the streets and in homes warned "Big Brother is watching you." People were watched at both home and at work, and helicopters patrolled all the streets so police could peer into windows.

We are, of course, several miles and years away from Orwell's literary nightmare, but Long and other serious students of the problem are worried about how we are going to protect ourselves against a mounting invasion of privacy.

The Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) has the fingerprints of about 71 million Americans on file. Of those, 11 million are criminals. The remainder are law-abiding citizens, many of whom have volunteered to be fingerprinted.

* * *

Director J. Edgar Hoover of the FBI encourages people to be fingerprinted on the grounds that a law-abiding man has nothing to fear and that the records are useful in identifying amnesia sufferers and victims of disaster.

UNSCRUPULOUS

Long does not anticipate that Hoover will start harassing people on the basis of their fingerprints, but the question remains — what would happen if unscrupulous persons got access to the files?

What makes it so difficult to protect our privacy is that laws on the subject are vague. The present federal law, for instance, does not forbid anybody from tapping your telephone. What it does prohibit is the divulgence of any information gained in such a way.

Some state laws permit wiretapping if a court order is obtained in advance. But there have been many rulings that evidence obtained by wiretapping cannot be introduced in a criminal trial.

* * *

The attitude of the Department of Justice interests Long and his committee. He is convinced that the department indulges in so much wiretapping itself that it is reluctant to prosecute anybody else.

NO VIOLATION

The department's contention is that it's not violating any law if, for instance, an FBI agent taps a phone and then tells another official of the Justice Department what he heard. Somebody outside the department must be told before there is a violation.

Some persons contend census forms, income tax returns and the wide assortment of documents businessmen are forced to fill out call for more personal information than the federal government needs.

They say that in one way or another, the government is building up in Washington a fat dossier on almost every adult in the nation.

* * *

If and when Long ever gets things straightened out inside the federal government, he can turn to the invasion of privacy by telephone. Almost everybody at some time or other has answered his phone to be informed that he is a lucky fellow because he has been chosen to get some free dance lessons.

INVITED TO SUBSCRIBE

Or he is invited to subscribe to a magazine at such a low rate that the publisher seems to be inviting bankruptcy just for the sake of getting you to sign up.

* * *

Consumer polls by telephone are getting to be a big thing and one polling firm alone is said to make 10 million calls a year.

You would think a person could escape such things by slamming his own front door and going to a supermarket, for instance. Not at all. Myron Brenton tells in "The Privacy Invaders" what is likely to happen:

"The housewife shopping in a supermarket may well be filmed by a hidden movie camera . . . the camera eye might observe her facial expressions, gestures, the length of time it takes her to make her selection — what in the trade is called 'the physical dimension of brand selection'.

* * *

"Or the camera might be built right into the counter to secretly record her eye blink rate. The rate at which a person blinks his eyes gives an indication of his inner tension. In a shopper, it reveals a great deal about the impact a particular display makes on her."

Duke Leaves London Clinic

LONDON (UPI) — The Duke of Windsor today left the London clinic where he underwent three apparently successful operations to save the sight in his left eye.

The duke walked out of the clinic in London's Marylebone District at 11 a. m. (6 a. m. Pontiac time). He was accompanied by the duchess. The couple drove to Claridge's Hotel in nearby Mayfair where the duchess has been staying during the hospitalization.

* * *

"The duke is under his doctors' orders and will be staying here (at the hotel) as long as they consider it necessary," the duke's secretary told UPI.

The secretary said it is "up to the doctors" whether the duke returns to the clinic for treatment.

Ex-Congressman Dies

WASHINGTON (AP) — Edward Keating, 89, Democratic representative in Congress from Colorado for three terms starting in 1913, died Thursday. Earlier he had served as editor of the Rocky Mountain News in Denver and was editor and manager of Labor, the national weekly of the railroad brotherhoods, from its founding in 1919 until his retirement in 1953.

Pakistani Keep Wary Eye on Indian Forces

(EDITOR'S NOTE—This is the second article in a two-part series on the fighting for Kashmir between India and Pakistan.)

By DAN COGGIN

WITH PAKISTANI FORCES IN KASHMIR (AP) — In the icy hush of the Himalayas, the full moon cast a brilliant glow on snowclad peaks. Huts and fields in the valley below were quiet.

But the night was to know no peace in these rugged highlands. Nor were the hill people who lay awake listening for the sound of boots on the rocky slope and wondering what the night would bring.

In a shadowy niche a Pakistani rifleman crouched amid the boulders, scanning the valley 10,000 feet below and, beyond the cease-fire line, the ridges where his Indian enemy also watched and waited.

On the ledge above, a heavy machine gun was trained downward along the cease-fire line, a line drawn by the United Nations in 1949 as the first step in a Kashmir solution that never came off.

* * *

The lofty outpost of this Pakistani rifle company, supported by four machine guns and a few light automatic weapons, was on the alert.

TIME NOT RIGHT

But the time wasn't right yet. Any move now would be a dead giveaway in the stark moonlight on the snow. In an hour or so the moon would slip behind a cloud bank and darkness would give some freedom of movement.

At a signal most of the 250-odd soldiers withdrew from their positions to line up at a well-concealed mess kitchen carved into the jagged peak.

Stamping their feet and blowing into their hands, they grumbled about the cold wind whistling through the rocks and talked about women they hadn't seen for six months and whether they would fight tonight. Trailing into their mud-and-stone bunkers, they huddled around tins of smouldering charcoal and ate broiled mutton and rice from tin plates.

* * *

"We'll give those damned bloody Indians a good knock tonight," the company commander, a thirtyish captain from Karachi, told a lieutenant. "I'm expecting some Mujahids up anytime now."

SHEER JOY

A few minutes later a column of about 40 men straggled up a rear slope. The soldiers would have no action tonight. Mujahids had arrived. These civilians, mostly ex-servicemen, fight for their Moslem religion, the sheer joy of killing Hindu Indians and sometimes to avenge a slain wife or sister.

Moslem Pakistan, capitalizing on its popular support in predominantly Moslem Kashmir, claims it has thousands of Mujahids farming by day and fighting by night along the cease-fire line.

Pakistani troops do their share of fighting, but every now and then Mujahids, who undergo weekly volunteer military training, are armed and given guerrilla missions.

* * *

So it was tonight.

After a few words of instruction from the captain, they pushed off down the forward slope. The company settled down to wait, watching the mountain men move quickly and surely on the sharp inclines.

GUNFIRE

Four hours passed. Then it started.

Across the valley, gunfire crackled through the Indian positions, and grenade explosions flickered on the far ridge. The firefight lasted about an hour, then stillness again settled over the mountains.

Surprisingly, it was found later, there were no casualties. It was a clash that attracted scant notice outside the vicinity, just another cease-fire violation, one of hundreds by both sides.

* * *

Few such incidents pass without bloodshed. Pakistan claims 427 Indian soldiers were killed and 385 wounded in the first nine months of last year and that Indian troops killed 72 Kashmiri civilians and wounded 66 others in the same period.

LOSSES A SECRET

Pakistan's military losses are not divulged. India claims there have been hundreds. U.N. observers confirm there have been some, but no compilation was said to be available.

With Pakistan and India no closer to a Kashmir settlement than they were 16 years ago, Pakistani field commanders concede that the conflict has heated up in the past year.

Some predict it will get hotter still and a few say privately that they feel all-out war is inevitable.

* * *

Pakistan holds only 32,000 of ruggedly beautiful Kashmir's 86,000 square miles and only one-fourth of the people. While India controls the lush meadows and lakes of the fabled Vale of Kashmir, Pakistan's mountainous holdings in the barren north are less desirable.

SLIGHT STOP

U. N. attempts to settle the Kashmir question never got off the ground but did manage to stop the undeclared war for Kashmir in 1948.

A proposed three-step solution, contained in Security Council resolutions agreed to by Pakistan and India, called for a cease-fire, a truce and demilitarization of the disputed state, then "a free and impartial plebiscite" to let the people choose between the two nations.

The cease-fire, as shaky as it has become, was proclaimed on Jan. 1, 1949, and the cease-fire line was demarcated the next July. India balked at various demilitarization proposals, and the deadlock has persisted at that point ever since.

* * *

Pakistanis feel India has not agreed to the second part of the U.N. resolution because it does not want to face the third part—a plebiscite—for fear Pakistan would win.

FAVORITE?

Since about 85 per cent of the Kashmiris are Moslem, Pakistan reckons it would be the heavy favorite if Kashmiris are ever allowed to decide their own accession.

However, as years of hostilities mount and Kashmiris grow more disgusted at being a grab-bag prize for India and Pakistan, sentiment is spreading in Kashmir for a third alternative — independence.

Chances of that ever being approved by India or Pakistan are exceedingly slim.

* * *

Aside from the fate of their fellow Moslems, Pakistanis insist they have vital economic and strategic interests at stake. The Indus and three other rivers originating in Kashmir all flow into West Pakistan, and the only two all-weather roads into the mountainous state also link it with West Pakistan.

CLOSER TO REDS

As long-time U.S. allies but now growing closer to Red China, Pakistanis feel the West betrayed them in not trying to force India into a Kashmir plebiscite.

Pakistan denies India's claims that general elections in Indian-held Kashmir constituted a plebiscite.

Pakistanis also deride India's claims that a disastrous chain of events might be touched off by Kashmir's accession to Pakistan. It could result, Indians say, in communal attacks by India's Hindus on the Moslems who still live in India, and a challenge to India's secular constitution.

* * *

Pakistani troops along the cease-fire line say that if it comes to that, they're ready.

Winter Makes Final Stand With Storms, Cold Winds

By The Associated Press

The winter season got ready today to end its mostly unpleasant three-month stand of bitter weather and the cheers were for its leaving and not for its performances.

For winter still was kicking up storms and blowing cold air across wide areas from the Rockies to the Appalachians and into parts of the Southland. However, snow has tapered off in most areas from Minnesota to the eastern Great Lakes.

The calendar shows that spring arrives officially at 3:05 p.m. (Eastern Standard Time) Saturday. But four feet of snow on the ground and drifts ranging up to 25 feet in some parts of the storm-battered Midwest belied the calendar.

Weather Bureau forecasters said there's not much chance of balmy weather with the arrival of spring in many parts of the nation. They added another surge of Arctic air was headed into the northern Plains, following today's icy blasts.

WORST BLIZZARD

The season's worst blizzard hammered much of the Midwest earlier this week and was followed by icy winds which swept sections from the Rockies to the eastern Great Lakes and southward into northern parts of Alabama, Louisiana, Mississippi and Texas. Violent weather — tornadoes and tornadic winds — hit southern areas Wednesday, killing one person and injuring about 70 others.

Subzero cold, along with the stiff winds and a heavy snow covering, made the last full day of winter look and feel like midwinter in the northern and central Rockies eastward into the northern Midwest. Below zero readings were reported in at least 11 states — Montana, Colorado, Wyoming, the Dakotas, Nebraska, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Michigan, Iowa and Kansas. One of the lowest marks was 17 below zero at Laramie, Wyo. It was 78 at Key West, Fla.

Minnesota, Wisconsin and Iowa were the hardest hit by the blizzards. Hundreds of schools remained closed and roads in many areas were blocked by huge drifts. Eight deaths were attributed to the stormy weather, including three in Minnesota.

LEE HILLS

Newspaper Exec to Head Fund Drive

Lee Hills, publisher of The Detroit Free Press and vice president and executive editor of Knight Newspapers, will serve as general chairman for the 1965 United Negro College Fund campaign in Michigan.

★ ★ ★

In accepting the chairmanship, Hills becomes the first chairman outside of the field of Detroit industry in many years to head the campaign now in its 21st year in Michigan.

Hills has been a Detroiter since 1951, when he assumed the active direction of the Free Press.

"Knowing that the Michigan campaign has been the second most fruitful one in the nation, I welcome the challenge offered in raising funds for this most necessary, most worthy of educational causes," said Hills in accepting his appointment.

★ ★ ★

A past president of the Associated Press Managing Editors Association and Sigma Delta Chi, national journalism fraternity, Hills is a director of the United Foundation, Economic Club of Detroit, Metropolitan Detroit Building Fund and of Providence Hospital.

ADVISORY BOARDS

He is on the advisory boards of Junior Achievement, the Detroit Sales Executives Club and the Graduate School of Journalism of the University of Southern California.

$3\frac{3}{4}$ out of every 7 women in Detroit prefer the cleanliness and controllability of electric heat!

Now, if only their husbands knew the facts about the costs!

In many cases, however, electric heat really isn't expensive. And the many added advantages are usually well worth it.

After all, what other heat provides such even warmth from floor to ceiling? And what other heat allows you to control the temperature of each room individually? And what other heat is so clean?

We'd like the opportunity to prove what we say. If you're planning to build, or add a room, or perhaps convert the attic . . . call your Edison office. We can arrange to have one of our heating engineers give you or your contractor a free estimate—figure out how much electric heat will cost to install—and how much your monthly bills are likely to be.

Or, if you're not quite ready for that . . . send for our 20-page book on electric heat. It's free. And a great way to find out what electric living is really like!

Gromyko Squelches Viet Cease-Fire Bid

LONDON (UPI)—Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko today wound up four days of talks with British leaders during which he firmly vetoed suggestions to work for a cease-fire in Viet Nam. He flies back to Moscow tomorrow.

In his discussions with Prime Minister Harold Wilson and Foreign Secretary Michael Stewart, Gromyko delivered a "nyet" on the question of German reunification and the payment of Russian U.N. assessments.

On disarmament and an exchange of visits between Wilson and Soviet Premier Alexi Kosygin, Gromyko stalled. Yesterday he called the talks "very useful."

Britain and Russia are co-chairmen of the 1954 Geneva Conference which put a temporary halt to the fighting in Indochina.

PULL OUT

But Gromyko responded by reiterating Kremlin demands that the United States halt its retaliatory air raids against Communist North Viet Nam and pull out of South Viet Nam "completely."

Qualified diplomatic observers, who feel Moscow is losing its influence in both North Viet Nam and Communist China, concluded that the new leaders of the Kremlin apparently want to play a "wait-and-see" game.

They said the Soviet Union may be reluctant to make commitments to the West or get further involved in Southeast Asia while its own position is in jeopardy.

* * *

Russian hesitations were further spotlighted when Gromyko avoided setting a firm date for Kosygin's visit to London.

* * *

The Kremlin had promised that Kosygin would make an official trip to Britain "sometime in the spring," but now a delay of months was foreseen and there were questions whether it would come off at all.

Power Malfunction Hits Mars Rocket

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — Scientists at the Jet Propulsion Laboratory say failure of a power supply apparently caused the Mariner 4 spacecraft to stop sending useful radiation data back to earth.

Thousands of readings have been transmitted since the launching at Cape Kennedy last Nov. 28. Scientists announced Thursday, however, that the ionization chamber had failed Wednesday when Mariner 4 was 35,000,604 miles from earth.

Spring Flowers Help Chase Late Winter Blues

When it seems that you can't endure winter another minute, the purchase of a few spring flowers will do wonders.

Just the color of daffodils, iris, tulips and hyacinths is cheering. It takes only a few blossoms to add warmth and gayety to a dark corner or the breakfast table.

The Viking Press has just published a new book on flower arranging, "Flower Decoration for the Table" by Violet Stevenson ($3.95).

Here are a few of her general recommendations for the individual who is just beginning to work with flowers.

Flower decorations on a table should be harmoniously linked with the china in color and design, but harmonizing does not necessarily mean matching.

Dried floral materials and accessories should be kept in stock by the busy housewife for last-minute assembling.

HOLDING FLOWERS

● To secure flower stems, mesh wire netting can be cut in a rectangle twice as deep as the container and a little wider, and bent into a U-shape with the cut ends uppermost in the container.

● Florapak, a water-absorbent plastic, is a foamed urea, which will hold its water with no danger of spilling: however, it is so light that it must be weighted down in the water.

● Oasis, a more solid plastic than Florapak, does not crumble but will dry out quickly and must be moistened frequently or stood in water.

● Plasticine and pinholders make a decorator's life much easier by holding flowers securely in place.

ON CONTAINERS

Simple, unsophisticated flowers such as cow parsley, nigela, and daisies look elegant when arranged in a candlestick.

A Byzantine cone is an effective means of decorating a buffet table — the foundation for the cone is made from Oasis or wire netting packed with moss.

Place Oasis in a funnel in the mouth of a champagne bottle as the holder for an unusually attractive arrangement.

FLOWER PRESERVATION

Put a lump of sugar in a pint of water for those flowers like roses and sweet peas which like sweet water.

Sun-yellow daffodils and sky-blue iris combine as perfect reminders of spring, even during the final bleak days of winter. These bright flowers are now available in florist shops across the country—ready to bring spring into any home.

Hears From Philadelphia

How About Clerk Trade?

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I just read "NO SALE'S" letter in the Philadelphia Bulletin and I almost died laughing.

She complains because all the salespeople in Baltimore "pounce" on her and offer to help her the minute she enters a store. But she does not want to be helped. So what is she doing in the store anyway?

ABBY

If she really wants to be ignored, tell her to come to Philadelphia. She will have to hunt up the item she wants to buy, then go looking for a salesperson to sell it to her.

And if she's lucky, she will find one whom she must beg to take her money and wrap up her purchase.

IGNORED IN PHILADELPHIA

DEAR ABBY: Where has "NO SALE IN BALTIMORE" been shopping? I live in Baltimore, too, and believe me, I have never been bombarded with clerks offering to help me when I shop in town.

That's the reason I now do most of my shopping on the telephone.

PREFERS THE PHONE

DEAR ABBY: Please tell "NO SALE" in Baltimore that I would appreciate one of its aggressive sales clerks for a change.

Most of the stores here in Huntsville, Alabama need to have their clerks trained by the Baltimore department store people. When you get a clerk to wait on you in Huntsville, she acts like she is doing you a big favor.

If Huntsville and Baltimore traded clerks for just one week I'll bet "NO SALE" would never again complain about those eager-to-serve clerks who pounce on her and ask if they may help her. Please sign me —

WILLING TO TRADE

DEAR ABBY: Please tell "NO SALE" of Baltimore to go to LOS ANGELES if she wants her problem solved permanently. There she could stand around a store all day and not one clerk would approach her and offer to help her.

It seems to me that all the major department stores in Los Angeles are short of help and crowded with customers.

More than once I have gone into a store to buy something, and became so disgusted because no one seemed interested in waiting on me that I have walked out without buying anything.

DEAR ABBY: I know what "NO SALE" means when she says she doesn't like to have salespeople "pounce" on her and ask to help her the minute she walks into a store. I don't care for it, either.

That's the reason I now shop at the discount stores. All the merchandise is out where you can see it.

You can take all the time you want looking it over and nobody bothers you. And when you finally make a decision, you just put it in a basket and wheel it over to the counter where the cashier takes your money and wraps it for you. That's for me!

Children's Aid Auxiliary Plans Annual Luncheon

The auxiliary of the Oakland County branch of the Michigan Children's Aid Society will hold its third annual benefit luncheon, April 2, in Devon Gables.

Spring fashions by the Jacqueline Shops will highlight the affair scheduled to begin at noon.

Proceeds will permit the purchase, at appropriate times, of those extras which make life more meaningful for individual children in the Agency's Foster Care Program.

Enrichments such as music lessons where real talent can be encouraged, or tutoring, if need arise, can be provided.

The agency's foster parents can be rewarded with small tokens of appreciation for the love, interest and devoted individual care shown to many children placed in their homes.

CHAIRMAN

Mrs. Richard M. Weir of Bloomfield Village heads the luncheon committee.

Mrs. Reed Dewey of Berkley and Mrs. George W. Stark, Pontiac, are handling ticket sales.

The auxiliary president, Mrs. A. J. Helganz of Royal Oak is obtaining door prizes and Mrs. R. N. Rapaport of Bloomfield Hills is publicity chairman.

HOSTESSES

Hostesses will be Mrs. Helganz, assisted by Mrs. Herman Kurth, Pontiac; Mrs. Thomas Eastburn, Birmingham; Mrs. Thomas Swegles, Rochester; Mrs. Louis Scarlotti, West Bloomfield Township and Mrs. Dewey.

In addition to fund raising, auxiliary members assist the agency by driving children to medical appointments and to adoptive showings.

The Michigan Children's Aid Society of Oakland County, a non-sectarian, United Fund supported agency, has aided thousands of children since its establishment in 1920. It has also provided services to unwed mothers and handles adoption work.

Tickets may be purchased from auxiliary members or reservations may be made with Mrs. Dale Flynn or Mrs. Stark.

Food Party for Sorority

The home service department of Consumers Power Company, Pontiac, gave a party foods demonstration for members of Xi Pi chapter, Beta Sigma Phi sorority and guests including some of the Xi Gamma Alpha chapter members recently.

★ ★ ★

Also on the agenda were final plans for a card party on March 24 in the CAI Building. Proceeds will benefit the Oakland County children's home library.

To Hold Dance

A dance will be held Saturday at 9 p.m. by the Mexican Mutual Society in the organization's clubhouse on Pontiac Road.

Sharon Keeps Tradition in Cram Family

While visiting her grandparents, the George A. Crams of Miami Road, Sharon Cooper was notified by Smith College that she had been named to Phi Beta Kappa.

★ ★ ★

She is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Donald R. Cooper (Margaret Cram) of Philadelphia and will follow the tradition of wearing her grandfather's Phi Beta Kappa key which he earned at the University of Michigan in 1911.

Mrs. Cram presented Sharon with a gold chain to wear with it.

A luncheon in the George K. Cram home on Littletell Avenue honored the Crams and the Coopers, who, with Sharon and their son Russell, are en route to Kalamazoo and Chicago for family visits.

Artists Try New Media for Show

"Ceramics by Twelve Artists" opens Saturday in Cranbrook Academy of Art Galleries and will remain through April 8.

★ ★ ★

★ ★ ★

Cleve Gray, the director, invited a group of well-known painters and sculptors to translate their own particular image into ceramics.

★ ★ ★

The purpose of the project is two-fold: to engage artists in a new medium and to make available work by noted American artists at comparatively low prices.

SECOND SHOW

Also on view in the galleries is a show, "Structure and Form" by William Becker and James Smith.

★ ★ ★

Cranbrook's Art Galleries are open Tuesday through Friday from 2 to 5 p. m. and Saturday and Sunday from 1 to 5 p. m. There is an admission.

Not Aware May Be the Case

By The Emily Post Institute

Q: Several weeks ago my daughter became engaged to a prominent man from another city. I have not met his parents as yet.

I suggested to my daughter that I write and invite them to our house so that we can get to know each other before the wedding. She has advised me not to do this and said it is up to them to make the first move. I know this is the conventional procedure but if they don't come forth, do I sit by and do nothing?

It seems senseless to stand on ceremony but my daughter says we will be belittling ourselves if we make the first move. What do you advise?

A: It is true that your daughter's fiance's parents should have called on you, or as they live out of the city, at least have written to you as soon as the engagement was announced.

However, it may very well be that they are not aware of this convention and rather than permit this oversight to develop into an unpleasant situation, it would not be belittling, as your daughter thinks, for you to take the initiative and invite them to your house.

RECEIVING

Q: Where should my husband and I receive and who should stand with us at our silver wedding anniversary? Only one of our attendants can be present.

What part should our children take?

A: You and your husband stand together just inside the door of the room in which you will receive. It isn't necessary, but it would be very nice to ask the attendant you speak of, to receive with you.

INVITATIONS

Q: I have just received my wedding invitations from the engraver and will start addressing them in a day or so. Someone told me that I should send half of the invitations to my fiance's family for them to address and send to their relatives and friends. Is this true, or do I send out all the invitations?

A: The bridegroom's mother sends you her list of names and you address all the invitations with perhaps members of your family or an intimate friend called upon to help you.

First in Department

Policewoman in Uniform Now

(EDITOR'S NOTE—This is the second in a series of four articles on the women staff members of the Oakland County Sheriff's Department.)

By MADELEINE DOEREN

'Well-suited' indeed for her work in the Oakland County Sheriff's Department in Pontiac is Mrs. Norine Ballentine, the first woman staff member to wear a uniform on duty.

Impeccably tailored of wool gabardine, a brown jacket is worn over a matching cotton blouse and slim skirt of what is called 'officer's tan.'

There are stars in Mrs. Ballentine's eyes every time she pins the shiny deputy - badge on her suit - coat. Her big black leather bag is one of the earmarks of women in police work.

OLD HAND

"The department routine is not entirely new to me," she says, "as I was a licensed examiner in the drivers' license division in Pontiac from 1954 until 1956.

"For the next seven years, I handled radio dispatching and drivers' license examinations, along with policewoman's duties in the Troy Police Department.

"I was the only woman in a class of 100 men to graduate in police training and defensive tactics sponsored by the Southeastern Chiefs of Police in conjunction with the Federal Bureau of Investigation."

Returning to the Sheriff's Department in Pontiac as Clerk III, in 1963, Mrs. Ballentine became "Gal Friday" to Mrs. Harold Crozier, secretary to Sheriff Frank W. Irons.

ESCORTS PRISONERS

"Escorting female prisoners to court, remaining with them in the court room and returning them to the Department is also my work.

"I also prepare the monthly statistics on accidents handled by the sheriff's department. Besides, there's a monthly report which is presented annually to the Michigan Sheriff's Association in Lansing."

There are, we find, some 50 trips a year to and from the circuit and justice courts with women prisoners. Crimes range from larceny (shoplifting) to armed robbery, aggravated assault, with an occasional murder.

The women offer no resistance on entering or leaving the police car which is always driven by an armed male deputy. The accused are generally docile while in the court room.

The average stay for women sentenced to the Detroit House of Correction (DeHoCo) is from two to five years. There is a possibility of pardle in 18 months for 'good behavior.'

Nine women were sentenced to DeHoCo in 1964 and two were committed to the Ionia State Hospital for the criminally insane.

BPW MEMBER

Mrs. Ballentine, who lives in Clawson, is a member of the Troy Business and Professional Women's Club and the Metropolitan Club Auxiliary, Spirit 84 of Troy.

★ ★ ★

Answering our question about television programs, Mrs. Ballentine admitted her favorites are 'The Fugitive' (wouldn't you know?) 'The Defenders' and the Johnny Carson Show.

Most of her reading is nonfiction, which, along with knitting, helps her to relax.

Help to Plan Craft Show

Any craftsman living in Oakland county will have a chance to display his work in an exhibit similar to the annual art show.

Anyone interested in helping to plan this show may meet with Mrs. Sanford McLean, chairman, on Monday, 7:30 p.m. in the community room.

New "Majorca" tablecloths from Quaker Lace Company combine two coordinating decorator colors, woven together in the lace. There is no liner. Prices range from $16 to $27, depending on size. Color combinations available: Florentine green with blue; Mediterranean blue with moss green; Athenian gold with orange. Pattern is a floral design. Available locally.

Take Child and Get Away From Critics

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

DEAR MRS. LAWRENCE: Since I broke up with my husband, my boy, 5, and I have been boarding with my parents. As the support money I get for Melvin isn't enough to support me, too, I have to work.

My problem is that my brother and his wife keep telling my mother that Melvin is killing her by his bad behavior. I don't know what to do as he won't mind me either and has tantrums at bedtime. . . .

ANSWER: Does your family's criticism of Melvin make you feel worthless — a total failure?

If it does, you must begin to plan to get away from it even though it takes time to put the plan into effect.

It is bad for Melvin to hear you constantly criticized. To obey you, he has to trust you. How can he do that if he hears you constantly disparaged by your family?

He can't. That's why he's so disobedient. He's trying to make life so difficult for you that you'll take some resisting action to this criticism — and so enable him to trust you again.

OPEN TO CRITICISM

When we have failed as a wife, we can become very susceptible to criticism as a mother. We are very conscious that we've shown poor judgment in the selection of a husband.

★ ★ ★

What we don't realize is that we've lost confidence in all our judgements. We just know that we can't assert our judgment of Melvin's bedtime with any firmness or joy lest it also be mistaken, containing future trouble for us.

When in addition to this almost inevitable loss of self-confidence we live with relatives who constantly criticize the training we give our child, we don't have a chance.

Every time we struggle back to a little sureness in ourselves, it is crushed by suggestions we are doomed to failure as a parent as well as a wife.

Flight is the answer because we are still too wounded to be able to fight back. And submission to our accusers can destroy us.

Don't be frightened. You can't run away this minute. You will need time to work out other arrangements for Melvin's care while you work.

Right now the real problem is realizing the destructiveness in which you and he are living. It's not only the real one but also the hardest one.

There is no chore so hard as realizing that our mothers, fathers, sisters and brothers don't love us as much as they pretend they do.

Melvin knows. That's why he is being so bad.

The Petite Fragile Look Is Hers

Unfortunately many women who are either much taller or much shorter than average are self-conscious about it. Not so with Teresa Stratas, the pretty young Metropolitan Opera star!

Teresa is just a little over 5 feet and likes it. She says, "It's good to be short. A man loves to look down at a woman because it makes him feel so strong and protective."

Nevertheless, as pleased as she is to be tiny and fragile looking, Miss Stratas holds in reserve some optical-illusion tricks for those times when she is in the mood to look taller, both on stage and off.

Miss Stratas wears slacks, flats and feminine sweaters, to rehearsals. The sweaters are not bulky and come several inches below the waist to avoid a "cut-in-half look." She never mixes colors in either sports clothes or dresses since solid colors are lengthening.

She says, "The only type suit I wear is the three-quarter jacket with walking suit. Jackets to the waist, all cluttered up with pockets and big buttons are poison to me. They bunch me up so terribly that I feel, and consequently look, 4 by 4.

Teresa Stratas continued, "I never wear much jewelry, except perhaps for long earrings in the evening. Necklaces take away too much neckline from a small woman and bracelets take away too much arm.

Miss Stratas also believes that makeup for a small woman should be as natural as possible and so should hairdos.

Her only exception to this is eye makeup. "Eyes are the personality, the lively part of the face. You can't notice that I am wearing any other makeup, but I always bring out my eyes with liner and eye shadow."

Keep Kitchen 'Chef Clean'

Worrying about the cleanliness of a fine restaurant is foolish, according to Helen Worth, who is Director of her own cooking school in New York and has toured great restaurant kitchens all over the world.

* * *

The reason: no chef of any stature would work in dirty surroundings.

Along with epicurean cooking, Mrs. Worth teaches efficiency based on time and motion studies.

She says, for instance, that the easiest way to wash a large bowl or pan is to put it in the sink immediately after use, add soap or detergent, and let running water fill it. Setting it down frees hands for other tasks.

* * *

If it has contained protein foods — such as eggs, cheese, meat, or shellfish — rinse it with cold water before soaking and washing it with hot suds.

Water Will Magnify

DEAR POLLY — When you do not have your reading glasses fill a clear and clean glass bottle with water, hold it near the print and see how beautifully it magnifies the print.

* * *

Any size bottle will do but a small one, tightly capped, could be carried in one's purse. — DIANE.

* * *

DEAR POLLY — I have found that a piece of foam rubber cut to the width of a door for its length and about two or three inches wide can be glued to the inside bottom of a door to make a very good insulation against drafts.—NELLA.

* * *

DEAR POLLY — I use the top metal framework from a discarded garment bag for hanging socks and small articles to dry.

It can be hung over a line, basement pipe or bathroom shower rod. It can be folded flat for storage.—MRS. A.V.A.

DEAR POLLY — Extra large cardboard boxes and cartons are a real problem when they are to be burned in an incinerator or trash burner.

At the first sign of rain I put mine outside the door and after it has had a good drenching, the cardboard is soft and pliable.

Then it is easily torn into small pieces and placed in the garbage or trash can. — JOSEPHINE.

* * *

DEAR POLLY — I always like to keep a box of facial tissues handy in the kitchen.

It always seemed to get pushed around and I could never find it when needed until I solved the problem by cutting two flaps on the side of the box. I folded them back and, with thumbtacks, attached the flaps to the underside of a cabinet.

Now the tissues are always handy and when one box is empty, it is easily replaced with a new one. — D.M.C.

Spanish Influence

Modern bath-a-day fans would have had astronomical medical bills if they lived in the days of Ferdinand and Isabella.

These Spanish monarchs of Christopher Columbus fame not only had the swimming pool at Seville's Alcazar filled in, but also decreed that people could bathe only when ordered to do so by a doctor!

Busy MSU Students Get Break

BY JANE BIGLER

PLEDGES

Several students from the Pontiac area are among those who have recently pledged Michigan State fraternities and sororities.

FRATS

Each Evans Scholar has received an Evans Scholarship entitling him to tuition and free room in the Evans Scholar House.

OFFICERS

★ ★ ★

J. Edward Bradley of Spokane Drive is the new pledge master for Delta Upsilon. D. William Nibbelink of Orchard Lake is the DU alumni chairman.

HOUSE MANAGER

Delta Sigma Pi, professional business fraternity, has elected Alan Robertson of Far Hill Drive as their house manager for the coming year.

Nancy Avery of Birmingham will be the secretary for the Helots, newly-formed pep club at Michigan State.

MISS MSU

Marilyn Seiber of Riviera Drive worked on the financial committee for the second annual "Winds of Change" Seminar held in Kellogg Center.

Delta Sigma Pi has elected Sandra Turf, Birmingham, junior, as their Rose Queen for the coming year. Sandra was selected from a field of 28 contestants.

Stephen Crick Jr. of Birmingham was one of the three members of the Michigan State Math Team which received honorable mention in the William Lowell Putnam Mathematical Competition.

Most Clothes Now Washable

Major mail order catalogues, a recognized index of American living standards, currently identify as machine washable nearly 69 per cent of all clothing offered for sale.

★ ★ ★

One educated prediction is that machine washables, by 1980, will constitute up to 95 per cent of all clothing sold.

Anonymous Letters Link Germany to Uruguay Killing

BONN, Germany (AP) — Anonymous letters mailed in Dusseldorf link Germany with a revenge murder 7,000 miles away in Uruguay.

The letters suggest a killer group called "Those who can never forget" have taken revenge against an ex-Nazi accused of a part in the slaying of 30,000 Jews in World War II.

West German authorities show little interest. The murder of Herberts Cukurs, a Latvian who served the Nazis in the war, has caused almost no stir in West Germany.

More than a week after Cukurs' death came to light, West German police said no investigation had been started because the matter had not been brought to police attention officially.

NO PLANS

Legal authorities in Duesseldorf reported no plans to try to trace the letters.

The Ministry of Justice in Bonn said it was not involved.

In fact, no one in Germany said he had ever heard of "Those who never forget."

The French paper Paris-Presse said such a group was formed in 1945 from veterans of the Jewish brigade that fought in the British 8th Army in World War II.

'PURE NONSENSE'

Hanns von Krannhals, another authority on the period, had never heard of the group either. Nor had the central office for the prosecution of Nazi crimes in Ludwigsburg. Or Garrelt Danker, a Hamburg prosecutor whose office has long been working on indictments against Cukurs and other Latvian Nazis.

The case came to light less than two weeks before debate in the West German Parliament on whether to extend Germany's hunt for Nazi murderers beyond May 20, 1965. Could it have been intended to draw attention to the prospect that many Nazis might never be legally punished?

What happened to Cukurs' chief, Victor Arajs? He escaped from British custody in 1946 and some people think he is in Argentina.

NAZIS ON RUN

What about reports from South America that Cukurs was the victim of a clash among Nazis on the run? Did he know anything of the whereabouts of Martin Bormann, once a trusted lieutenant of Adolf Hitler; or of Joseph Mengele, the physician at Auschwitz concentration camp?

The West German attitude is that the answers to these questions might be interesting if they could be found, but that they are much more likely to turn up in Montevideo.

Cukurs, 65, was battered to death in a bright yellow seaside cottage outside Montevideo.

EXECUTED

The letters said Cukurs had been tried and executed Feb. 23 in Montevideo by "those who never forget" for crimes committed as a Nazi in World War II. The letters gave the exact address.

Police found Cukurs' body March 6 in a trunk. His hefty, 6-foot frame barely fit inside. His face rested on his chest as if looking intently at the row of papers spread out neatly on his lap. They included his own identification papers and a red folder containing a mimeographed copy, in English, of Chapter 22 of G.H. Gilbart's "Nuremberg Diary." This chapter deals with Latvian concentration camp horrors in which Cukurs allegedly took part.

Cukurs left his home in Sao Paulo, Brazil, on the day of his murder to board Air France Flight 083 for Montevideo. He had been summoned to Montevideo by Anton Kunzle, who said he wanted to invest in Cukurs' business. Kunzle identified himself as Dutch. He turned up in Montevideo from Buenos Aires, Argentina, on Feb. 15. Three days later he rented a black car.

RENTED HOUSE

On the same day, a man identified as Oswald Heinz Taussig rented the bungalow by the sea. He rented a chartreuse car.

Near the bungalow, a bricklayer worked on a new home and he noted over the next few days the comings and goings of the men in the two cars.

On Feb. 20, Taussig showed up at a modest luggage shop, Casa Schiavo, two blocks from the U.S. embassy, to buy a large trunk. A clerk says "he had a tape measure with which he carefully checked the trunk's size. He wanted a larger one but we had none. He finally selected the largest in stock. He also bought two small cowhide rugs."

Cukurs' landed at Montevideo at 1:45 p.m., half an hour late. It is presumed that Kunzle was there and drove Cukurs to the Victoria Plaza Hotel where he was assigned room 1917. He was in the room only long enough to leave his suitcase and briefcase.

On the afternoon of the killing, the bricklayer noticed the chartreuse car parked some distance from the bungalow. A man coming from the direction of the beach walked down the road and disappeared in the house.

The black car, with three persons in it, arrived around 3:30 p.m. One of the men, now believed to have been Cukurs, had a movie camera slung over his shoulder. They walked into the bungalow.

At about 4:30 p.m., the bricklayer saw three men emerge hurriedly, carrying light traveling bags. They sped away in the black car. Shortly thereafter, two other men left the house, but in more leisurely fashion, and drove away in the chartreuse car.

Taussig returned his car to the rental agency late that afternoon. Kunzle's car was found abandoned in a downtown Montevideo street March 1. Taussig and Kunzle disappeared.

"We cannot dismiss the possibility Cukurs was marked for abduction rather than murder," said Inspector Juan Jose Braga, subdirector of investigation of the Montevideo police force. "The trunk could have served no purpose other than as a conveyance. There were enough large closets in the house to hide Cukurs' body if elimination had been the primary object."

If kidnaping was the objective, it was thwarted by what happened inside the cottage just as Cukurs entered — and apparently reached for a gun.

★ ★ ★

★ ★ ★

A fierce struggle ensued. Blood splattered all over the small living rooms tells that. There is a possibility, Braga says, that Cukurs may have wounded one of his assailants. Two spent cartridges were found on the floor. Splinters of what might have been lead bullets were found in the walls.

Married Pair, Man Bid for West Post

DETROIT (AP) — A married couple and a second man are aspirants for former Democratic Rep. Daniel A. West's vacated House seat.

Sure there's a difference between the luxury '65 Chevrolet and expensive cars

You can put most of it in your savings account

Maybe you've only seen them on the street so far. If so, come on in and see a Jet-smooth '65 Chevrolet right in our showroom. We think you'll do a double-take when you get up close enough for a look at that price sticker. Most people do. Because the major difference between this one and cars that cost quite a bit more is simply—price.

Take room, for example. Chevrolet has more of it than many expensive cars do. You get extra foot room with the new frame and forward engine design. And those handsome curved side windows are one reason for all of the extra shoulder room, front and rear.

And there's plenty of luxury. The smartly functional instrument panel is easy to read, puts everything at your fingertips as well. Color-keyed interiors feature tastefully rich fabrics and vinyls, foam-cushioned seating and plush deep-twist carpeting. And even the low-cost Bel Airs and Biscaynes include these luxury touches.

There's a great choice of power, from Chevrolet's economical, spirited 140-hp Turbo-Thrift Six on up. And that famous Jet-smooth ride is even better this year. A new Full Coil suspension, new wider tread and over 700 sound and shock absorbers work together to give you the feeling there's a foot of air between you and the road.

You can tailor the car exactly to your taste, too. Our catalog lists nearly 200 ways to do that—and our salesmen can show you how easily your present car and realistic monthly payments will have you driving a beautiful '65 Chevrolet nearly as quickly as you've read this message.

A NEW METHOD FOR RELIEVING PAINFUL CORNS OR CALLOUSES

A scientific new formula in an easy to apply liquid is available to those who suffer with corns, callouses, bunions, tired-aching feet or athletes foot. Although many Chiropodists and Podiatrists use similar formulas for their patients suffering with foot troubles, there is no formula that is as complete as this golden easy to apply liquid. Bunex is a liquid that promises you relief from foot troubles or your money back.

For corns on top of the toes or between the toes, just place a little Bunex on and around the corn area and massage in well twice daily using the fingers.

For callouses or bunions, place a little Bunex on or around the infected area and massage in well twice daily.

For tired and aching feet, apply Bunex and rub in well like applying a hand lotion.

For "Athletes foot," apply Bunex each night for about two weeks by massaging into infected area. Although the tissue will clear up in a few days, keep using this wonderful liquid for about two weeks to be sure that all the fungi has been removed.

Bunex is safe to use. Continued use of this wonderful liquid can prevent return of corns, callouses, or athletes foot.

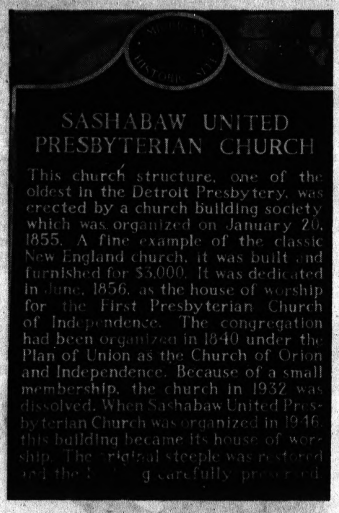
Historical Site Event Set



Historical Marker To Be Erected

INDEPENDENCE TOWNSHIP — A special program in recognition of the designation of Sashabaw United Presbyterian Church as an historical site is scheduled at 12:15 p.m. Sunday at the church.

The program will follow an 11 a.m. mission service at the 109-year-old church at 5331 Maybee.

Mrs. Donald Adams, representing the Michigan Historical Commission, will present the historical marker plaque. It will later be installed as a roadside marker.

Among those attending the ceremony will be Rev. Robert H. Yolton, executive of the Presbytery Synod of Michigan; Richard Manning, Presbyterian Evangelist from South Dakota; and Rev. Walter J. Teeu- wissen Jr., pastor of the Drayton Plains United Presbyterian Church.

Rev. Manning

The general public is invited to the ceremony which will be held outside, weather permitting.

A reception will follow in the fellowship hall of the church.

The text of the historical marker notes that the church, which was dedicated in 1856, is one of the oldest in the Detroit Presbytery and terms the building a fine example of the classic New England church.

* * *

Also pointed out in the marker text is that the church was built and furnished for $3,000. The congregation had been organized in 1840.

A resolution adopted by the Michigan Historical Society commends Rev. Sinclair, the presbytery and members of the church for preserving the church edifice.

Coinciding with the historical site program will be the beginning of a four-day preaching mission conducted by Rev. Manning.

Beginning with the 11 a.m. Sunday service, the mission will continue through Wednesday with evening services scheduled Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

Federal Stores President to Address LWV

WEST BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — Joseph Ross, president of Federal Department Stores, Inc., will discuss the employment and education problems of Negroes at a League of Women Voters meeting here Tuesday.

The West Bloomfield League of Women Voters has invited the public to the 12:30 p.m. program at the West Bloomfield Township Library, 5030 Orchard Lake.

In addition to the administrative duties for his business, Ross is active in civic affairs in the metropolitan Detroit area.

He serves on the citizens' panel which recently reviewed Negro-police relations and published a report touching on the league's current area of concern.

* * *

Ross will discuss the application to his business of the theories which league members have covered in their meetings on human resources this year.

A question-and-answer period will follow his talk.

Troy Commission Sets Public Hearings

TROY — Public hearings on two sewer and water projects will be held at Monday's City Commission meeting.

* * *

One concerns a $64,500 sanitary sewer project on Troywood and Jennings, the other water and sewers on Dorchester, costing $2,935 and $5,780, respectively.

Emergency List Is Being Made

WALLED LAKE—The Chamber of Commerce is compiling an emergency directory for local families and firms.

The list will include the telephone numbers of the police department, fire department and doctors.

The chamber had canvassed doctors on their attitudes toward formation of a pool which would rotate physicians so that one always would be on call.

However, doctors indicated this would not benefit patients who have particular problems and noted that Walled Lake has more doctors per 100 persons than many communities.

When printed, some 2,000 of the emergency directories will be distributed to area residents, businesses and industries.

Rochester AAUW Unit to Hear OU Professor

ROCHESTER — The regular monthly meeting of the Rochester Branch of the American Association of University Women (AAUW) will be held March 24 at the Avon Township Library.

Lake Orion Unit to Air 2 Issues

LAKE ORION — County home rule and legal aspects of the sale or lease of public property will be spotlighted at a Sunday rally of the Lake Orion Homeowners Association.

The 3:30 p.m. affair at the Lake Orion Youth Center will feature talks by Robert L. Templin, former senior assistant Oakland County prosecutor, and James F. Carey, Troy representative on the County Board of Supervisors.

Templin, now a practicing attorney, will discuss the public property sale issue, Carey, the home rule issue.

The home owners' group is concerned about sale or lease of village - owned property for token fees, and has particular interest in a parcel of land on Lake Orion near M24.

* * *

Acting association president Mrs. Juanita Robbins said that the village council has been asked to let a local couple build boat docks on the property.

OPPOSITION

She said the association opposes the docks because they would increase boat traffic on the lake and spoil the only swimming area for children on the east side of the lake.

Also up for discussion Sunday will be the alternative sanitary sewer system proposed originally by local contractor Bud Schaar.

The plan involves an interceptor sewer along Paint Creek, and would forestall construction of a $1.36-million sewer system to eliminate pollution of Paint Creek in compliance with state orders.

The Schaar system has been accepted by the state as a temporary alternative to the larger system, and would eventually have to be replaced by a larger permanent system, probably within five years.

* * *

While the association has taken no stand for or against the Schaar proposal, Mrs. Robbins said the discussion is intended to familiarize members with advantages and disadvantages of the plan so that they can make individual decisions as to its value.

Village government, recently altered with replacement of a councilman and president in the spring election, has taken no action on the alternative plan as yet — weighing the various financial aspects of both proposed systems.

2nd in Highland Church Series Is Sunday

HIGHLAND TOWNSHIP—The second phase of the series "The Creation in Song and Scenes" will be presented Sunday night at the West Highland Baptist Church, 1116 Hickory Ridge.

During the 7:15 p.m. musical service, pieces of oil painted wool felt will be used to create a picture of "The Original Earth." Rev. R. E. Derby, pastor of the church, will deliver a brief message.

Annual Fete Near at Troy Legion Post

The dinner will begin at 6:30, followed by dancing at 9:30.

* * *

Reservations may be made by calling Marilyn McClain, MU 9-0681; Edith McHugh, MI 6-0791; or the post home, MI 4-9643.

Proceeds of the affair will be used for community service.

To Pick Horse for State Fair

A horse will be picked tomorrow to represent Oakland County 4-H clubs at the Michigan State Fair in August.

Four finalists will be judged on conformation at 10 a.m. at the Lyn-O-Rob Farm, one mile north of Rochester on Rochester Road, Avon Township.

* * *

Judges will be Jack Worthington, Oakland County 4-H agent, and three Michigan State University students who are studying judging.

Area Man Co-Owner of Gold Medal Sire

AVON TOWNSHIP — A registered Holstein bull partly owned by an Avon Township man has been designated a Gold Medal Sire by the Holstein-Friesian Association of America.

Riolo Fobes Delight Re Echo, owned by Stuart J. Hutchins of 1062 E. Hamlin and a California man, was awarded the designation, based on both the type and production of registered daughters.

AREA NEWS

Development Head Named

* * *

Lazur is also chairman of the St. Joseph's College sociology department, and a member of the board of directors of LePlay Research, Inc., New York City.

In announcing the appointment, DeLima President Mother M. Lucille, O.P., said that it is part of the expansion program which the school is undertaking to provide higher educational opportunities for Christian women in the Detroit-Pontiac-Flint areas.

Dem Fete Tomorrow in White Lake Twp.

WHITE LAKE TOWNSHIP — The annual St. Patrick's card party of the White Lake Township Democratic Club is scheduled for 8 p.m. tomorrow.

The event will be held at the White Lake Township Community Hall, across M59 from the Township Hall.

Guests of honor will be Edward McNamara, Democratic candidate for the 14th District Senatorial seat, and Mrs. McNamara.

Eastern Star Chapter to Meet in Clarkston

CLARKSTON—Joseph C. Bird Chapter No. 294 Order of Eastern Star, will hold its annual Friendship and Oakland County Officers Night tomorrow at 8 p.m. at Clarkston Junior High School.

Guest officers from other county chapters will participate in the initiation of four candidates for membership.

School Program Attracts 9,400 in Waterford Twp.

Approximately 9,400 persons have participated in Waterford Township's community school program since it began last fall, Robert Lawyer, coordinator of the program, reported to board of education members last night.

In presenting a six-month progress report to the board, Lawyer also pointed out that this number of participants represents a repetitive attendance figure of about 110,000 persons, based on a head count at each session.

Since September, approximately 275 separate programs have begun under the community school concept of greater use of school facilities by the entire community.

The community school program itself has operated 130 of these classes or activities, according to Lawyer.

Other activities such as the recreation department and adult education programs are related to the community school program.

MOTT FOUNDATION

Waterford's community school program, patterned after the one in Flint, was launched with the aid of a grant from the Mott Foundation.

In other business last night, the board authorized purchase of 100 new uniforms for the Waterford Township High School band.

Price quotations will be sought. The board authorized a maximum expenditure of $7,500.

DEFER ACTION

The board deferred action of a proposed bus garage pending further study by its building committee.

Options are either to accept the low bid of $69,927 opened two weeks ago or to acquire a building adjacent to where the new garage is proposed.

The existing building, being used as a commercial warehouse, is just west of the school system's materials center property where the present garage and proposed building site are located.

★ ★ ★

LOW QUOTATION

Board members expressed satisfaction with the low quotation of $11,700 but referred the matter to the building committee which will determine if the specified toilet facilities are sufficient.

★ ★ ★

Also last night the board agreed the school system would participate in a proposed township-wide cleanup program proposed by the Greater Waterford Community Council (GWCC) for the latter part of April and early May.

A formal proclamation for the program will be sought from Township Supervisor James Seeterlin by the GWCC.

2 Crawl Across Thin Ice in U. P. as Boat Sinks

BETE GRISE (AP) — Two men crawled across thin ice to safety today as their fishing smack went down in icy waters near this Keweenaw County community.

★ ★ ★

The smack Widgeon, out of Upper Peninsula's Bete Grise, was on a net lifting trip when it ran into heavy waters and extensive ice. She began to take water while some 50 feet from shore.

★ ★ ★

A tug went out to try to tow the stricken craft to land but was unable to attach a line and returned. Area residents then shoved long, extension ladders out over the thin ice and the boat owners, Waino Asuma and his son, Gerald, crawled over the ladders to safety as their 35-foot craft sank.

Seize Oil Firms in Indonesia

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — President Sukarno announced today the Indonesian government is taking over the management of three foreign oil companies, two American and one Dutch.

★ ★ ★

"We take over the management," Sukarno told newsmen after receiving a petition from Communist-led workers requesting seizure of foreign oil properties in retaliation for U.S. support of Malaysia.

★ ★ ★

There was speculation that the government would try to work out some arrangement under which the companies' foreign employes would continue to operate them under figurehead Indonesian managers.

The government is now trying to negotiate such an arrangement for the $80-million worth of American rubber estates in North Sumatra seized last month.

The companies affected are the U.S.-owned Stanvac and Caltex Oil companies and Dutch Shell. Another American company, Panamerican, also operates in Indonesia but does only prospecting for new oilfields.

Warns of Measles

LANSING (AP) — Measles aren't minor, State Health Commissioner Dr. Albert Heustis warned Thursday, reminding parents that Michigan now is in the midst of the measles season. Heustis said the childhood disease was responsible for 11 deaths last year.

It Finally Happened

Education Unit Backs U-M Plan

LANSING (AP)—Gov. George Romney's Higher Education Committee recommended today that Michigan retain its system of autonomous four-year institutions but that they be required to justify new programs with the State Board of Education.

★ ★ ★

The 190-page report recommended against branch campuses of the existing universities except on a short-term, get-it-started approach. But the report accepted the University of Michigan's plan to expand its Flint campus to a four-year operation next fall.

★ ★ ★

The report recommended expansion of community colleges into a statewide program embodying 29 districts.

It also:

Said a four-year institution is needed in the Saginaw-Bay City-Midland area.

MEDICAL ENROLLMENTS

Said medical enrollments at U-M and Wayne State should be increased before a medical program is offered at Michigan State.

Encouraged higher enrollments at the six smaller state schools to meet an expected over-all state enrollment increase of 49 per cent by 1975.

Recommended two-year budget-planning with closer central coordination.

Portions of the report dealing with over-all control and branch policy appeared bound to influence the current battle between University of Michigan President Harlan Hatcher and Romney over U-M's Flint expansion plans.

Plans Told for GMTC Sales Line

Several executives of GMC Truck & Coach Division met in Detroit today with GMTC dealers of the Detroit zone to discuss sales and product plans for the coming months.

* * *

Attending the meeting at the Detroit Training Center — one of 19 meetings of its kind to be held in the United States — were dealers from Michigan and parts of Indiana and Ohio.

Heading up the delegation of divisional executives was H. O. Flynn, chief engineer from GMTC, who reviewed several sales records established last year by the division and GMTC dealerships.

Truck and bus deliveries in 1964, he said, were the highest for any peacetime year in the division's history.

* * *

He noted that the 1964 total surpassed the previous year's figure by 14.2 per cent, and that this sales gain was about 5 per cent greater than the industry wide increase.

NEW DIESEL

Flynn attributed a significant share of the sales gain to the success of the division's new medium-tonnage diesel. In less than two months after the first production model rolled off the assembly line, the Toro-Flow diesel became the industry's biggest single seller in the under 5-ton diesel class.

* * *

Hosting today's meeting, which featured a display of a new GMTC camper unit, were E. W. Jolly, Detroit zone manager; A. W. Futral and V. W. Jones, GMTC factory branch managers in Detroit; J. S. Davis, factory branch manager in Pontiac; and E. J. Lewis, factory branch manager in Cleveland.

Lagos or Los Angeles, It's the Same

'Ben-Hur' Has Late Premiere

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD—A movie premiere is a movie premiere, whether it's in Beverly Hills, Calif., or Lagos, Nigeria. That's the conclusion of Charlton Heston, just returned from the opening of "Ben-Hur" in that African capital.

THOMAS

Why is "Ben-Hur" premiering in Nigeria five years after Heston won his Oscar for it? The answer concerns movie economics.

"Until now the picture hadn't opened anywhere in Africa, or in South America or Mexico," the actor explained. "The reason is that these countries are accustomed to buying films for $40, and MGM isn't about to sell a big attraction like 'Ben-Hur' for a small amount."

* * *

The Nigerian premiere came about because of the request of the new nation's president, who wanted the film for a "command performance" for charity.

REFLECTS IDEALS

"He had seen 'Ben-Hur' in London and later in Washington," said Heston. "He felt that it reflected the aims and ideals of his country and so he asked for it. When he invited me to attend, the State Department and the United States Information Agency got into the act and wanted me to make some appearances, too.

"Thty told me Nigeria would be an easy assignment and added, 'How would you like to go to Ghana and get some rocks thrown at you?' I was willing to take the risk, but shortly before I was to leave, our ambassador was withdrawn. So the officials didn't think it was the right time for me to visit Ghana."

* * *

Heston said he did indeed find the Nigerians friendly. A former British colony with 55 million inhabitants, the country is progressive and bustling, he reported.

"The premiere was just like premieres anywhere in the world," Heston remarked. "There were the usual motorcycle escorts to the theater, honor guard in the lobby, diplomatic corps in attendance, etc.

HELD RECEPTION

"The president held a reception during the intermission and thanked me for coming. There wasn't any party; my pictures are too long to have parties afterward."

Heston spent more than a week as unofficial ambassador, visiting universities, USIA installations, appearing on television and radio. Communication was no problem, since English is spoken on official levels. There are 100 native dialects, but no common tongue.

* * *

"The students asked me what could be done about establishing a film industry in Nigeria," said Heston. "I told them they already had a good asset: English. No international film can be really successful unless it is in English."

CMU Citation Spurs Charge

LANSING (AP) — Sen. Edward Robinson, D-Dearborn, charged Thursday that faculty ideas are not taken into consideration by the administration of Central Michigan University.

He said faculty members have complained to him there is "an environment of academic mediocrity rather than excellence" at the Mount Pleasant institution.

* * *

Robinson said faculty charges at this point are "rather vague" but he is working to determine specific problems in order to bring them before school president Judson Foust.

The freshman Democrat brought his charges to the floor of the Senate Thursday when a resolution commending Central Michigan came up for consideration.

* * *

At Robinson's insistence, the resolution, which has been passed by the House, was sent to the Senate Business Committee. Robinson said the Senate should find out if there is a problem at CMU before passing a laudatory resolution.

The resolution commended CMU for winning the 1965 distinguished achievement award for excellence in teacher education from the American Association of Colleges of Teacher Education.

THERE ARE SMILES . . .—The oldest daughter of President and Mrs. Johnson—Lynda Bird—is 21 today. Life at the White House over the past year has had its happy moments, as evidenced by these photos made during her many public activities as a member of the first family.

Birthday, That Is

Lynda Bird Takes Cake

WASHINGTON (AP) — Lynda Bird Johnson, the tall, black-haired daughter of the President, turns 21 today with the hope "they give me a birthday cake."

Being 21 won't make a big difference in her life, she indicated, except she is going to register to vote in Texas as soon as she can.

* * *

Lynda included some philosophy and some cheery teasing as she sat in the White House library Thursday, answering the questions of reporters who had requested the interview and were invited for tea.

When one remarked she thought Lynda had matured in the past year, Lynda thanked her and added, "I think having the spotlight on you matures you."

'THRUST UPON YOU'

On being the daughter of a President, she said, "You have to have a role — people thrust it upon you."

Immediately she ran into questions about dates. Was she seeing many young men?

"If I can just keep everybody from sabotaging these young men who take the chance to go out — "she started, then grinned and said "I'm just dating lots of people."

As for living in the White House, "it's very very interesting; I feel very very closely tied to other people who lived here. I've enjoyed most of the things I've done. The only problem is that looming ghost of things undone—like studying for a quiz the next day."

Pregnant, Paralyzed but Actress Cheerful

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Actress Patricia Neal, her speech hobbled and her right side paralyzed by three massive strokes, remained "very cheerful" today, although the life of her unborn child still hung in the balance, her husband said.

"She's displayed tremendous courage — and has never been depressed," said British mystery writer Roald Dah. "She's always joking now."

Dahl, who brought his wife home from UCLA Medical Center Wednesday night, disclosed Thursday that she is five months pregnant.

"But we don't know whether or not she'll be able to have the baby," he said. "We'll have to evaluate the effect of the medication and X-ray treatment she's received."

The Academy Award-winning actress, 39, was stricken Feb. 17 while giving the oldest of her three children, Tessa, 8, a bath. She had just returned to their rented Pacific Palisades home after doing her first big scene in the film, "Seven Women."

"She felt this terrible pain in her neck," said Dahl, recounting the ordeal.

"She lost consciousness, but regained it on the way to the hospital. Thirty minutes later she suffered a second stroke."

While she was being X rayed and given other diagnostic tests, Miss Neal suffered a third stroke, her husband said.

"We didn't know when she went into surgery whether she'd survive. Her chances seemed a little better when she came out of surgery alive."

She remained in surgery seven hours while doctors removed a blood clot and accumulated blood from massive hemorrhaging and clipped together the broken blood vessel in her brain, Dahl said.

"She was unconscious about 2½ weeks," said Dahl. "But gradually she began to come out of it.

To Gain Good Learning Habits

Community College Offers Opportunity

By LESLIE J. NASON, Ed.D.

Dear Dr. Nason: I feel the school has failed my son. He has been accelerated since grade seven. He graduated with an 80 average and was not accepted at any college. He still wants to go very much.

He is interested in engineering and science, but the state universities did not accept him. He can get into a community college but he does not want to go there.

Any advice you can give us would be deeply appreciated. Mrs. M. R., Massena, N. Y.

The school did fail to guide your son in developing proper learning skills.

Success in the study of engineering and science is dependent upon the student's ability to gain more thorough understanding than is indicated by a grade average of 80.

Your son's problem is not a matter of which college he would like to attend. It is your son, not the college that must undergo a change of attitude.

His habits of learning for complete understanding must be established. A community college, which may well have superior teachers, is an excellent place for him to accomplish this.

He can do this without loss of credits toward graduation.

Dear Dr. Nason: My only grandson has entered his last year in high school. Up to now he has never had a definite interest in anything which would assure him a decent living.

Recently he has shown a decided interest in drama and the theatre, and gets much encouragement from his drama teacher in high school. We think this an unfortunate interest as far as earning a living is concerned.

He is a very good boy; has never caused his parents trouble or worry. He willingly takes much responsibility for much of the care of his mother who is confined to a wheel chair.

Can you suggest a way in which we can help him get a college education near home? Would it be worthwhile for him to major in drama? Mrs. T. M. R., Washington, D.C.

★ ★ ★

The fields of drama, theatre and entertainment have many openings for young people with a sincere interest and talent in those directions. Encourage your grandson to prepare himself to the best of his ability in his field of interest.

It is important to his happiness and ultimate success that his goals be his own and not something forced upon him.

Somehow he should be relieved of enough of the routine responsibility at home to allow for continuation of his education. Someone could substitute for him in the home but no one can take his place in college.

(You can write to Prof. Nason in care of The Pontiac Press. Questions of widest interest will be answered in his column.)

JACOBY

South went up with dummy's king of spades at trick one. Then he proceeded to run off his five club tricks in hope that his opponents would let some hearts go.

Unfortunately for South that didn't happen. West's four discards were the six of spades and the deuce, four and six of diamonds while East got rid of his own low diamonds.

Then, South led a diamond to dummy's king. East was in with the ace and had no trouble finding the winning defense. He played his ace of hearts. This dropped South's king whereupon East led a heart to his partner's jack. West continued the suit and the defense had their five tricks.

South had played the hand with all the delicacy of a hydrogen bomb. If he had simply led a club to his king at trick two and a diamond toward dummy at trick three he would have had a far better chance of getting East to return his partner's suit.

East might well have played his ace of hearts anyway since East could have figured out that South surely would hold either the queen-jack or ace of spades for his opening bid and that the only hope of beating the hand would lie in the heart suit.

Then, North and South might have bid the hand a trifle better. South was unlucky to go down at three no-trump, but there would have been no way to beat him at five clubs and somehow or other both North and South had opportunity to shy away from the unsatisfactory no-trump into the winning club hand.

CARD Sense

Q—The bidding has been:

East	South	West	North
1 ♣	Dble	Pass	2 ♠
Pass	?

You, South, hold:
♠K 9 7 6 ♥A 10 8 4 ♦K J 6 5 ♣2

What do you do now?

A—Jump to four spades. Your high card strength for your double is minimum but you have tremendous distributional support for your partner.

TODAY'S QUESTION

Astrological Forecast

By SYDNEY OMARR
For Saturday

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19): Practical matters continue to dominate. Necessary to finish tasks. Many depend upon you. Applies today especially to mate or partner. Job well done results in ultimate profit.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20): Hold back on final decisions, if you wait, you gain. Afternoon fine for discussion of legal factors. Basically a day to express true feelings. Then take time for air to clear.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 20): Obtain hint from today's ARIES message. Ask for results — not rumors. Be specific. Get to heart of matter. One close to you apt to be victim of deception. Go directly to source.

CANCER (June 21 to July 22): Favorable lunar aspect highlights romance, variety — creative accomplishments. Key is EXPANSION. Don't be satisfied to remain in rut . . . break through! Display intellectual curiosity.

LEO (July 23 to Aug. 22): Trying to force issues, decisions would be mistake. Take time to be thorough. Associates may be jealous. Overcome this with tact, diplomacy. Pay compliment to loved one.

VIRGO (Aug. 23 to Sept. 22): Be ready for sudden changes. May involve letter, other communication. Appears to include in-laws. Stress maturity, understanding. Then you are admired — and gain results.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22): Be wary of proposal which involves large groups. Best to express yourself as an individual. Stress independence, courage of convictions. Then you get what you need.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21): Cycle high. But you should revise plans concerning hopes, wishes. Serious thinking required. Friends do NOT possess necessary facts. Make up your own mind. Obtain hint from LIBRA message.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21): Stay out of arguments with superior. Don't attempt to mix business with pleasure. If individual attempts to draw you into dispute — simply walk away. And maintain dignity!

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 19): Enjoy social activity with friends. Don't stray too far afield. Take with grain of salt invitation from distant city. Wait and observe. Bring forth liberal sense of humor.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20 to Feb. 18): Stick to principles. Mate or partner may make excessive demands. Hold back on spending. You may get better deal if you wait. Realize many around you have been under emotional stress.

PISCES (Feb. 19 to Mar. 20): Good lunar aspect highlights writing, correspondence. You are able to make wise decisions. Important to stress future possibilities. Be aware of potential. Natural instinct aids.

IF SATURDAY IS YOUR BIRTHDAY you are musically-inclined, sensitive and loyal. Important year. If single, marriage likely.

★ ★ ★

Rails, Aerospace Issues Up

Airlines Weak on Mixed Mart

NEW YORK (AP) — Airlines were weak while some rails and aerospace issues advanced in a mixed stock market early this afternoon. Trading was moderately active.

Airlines were under some selling pressure, stretching losses to 3 points or so, following publication in a financial newspaper of a report that the government may force cuts in air fares if earnings of the airlines continue high.

A string of moderate gains was produced by aerospace defense issues as investors turned to them again as a result of the Russian success in space.

AVERAGE UP

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up .4 at 335.2 with industrials up .5, rails up .4 and utilities up .1.

Retail-mail order stocks also were ahead, probably because of the latest sign of strength in retail sales. Sears, Roebuck gained more than a point, Montgomery Ward and Woolworth were fractional gainers.

IBM and U.S. Smelting fell about 2 points each.

Prices were mixed in moderate trading on the American Stock Exchange. Up a point or so were Alan Wood Steel preferred, Computer Sciences, Greer Hydraulics, Lee Filter, National Video "A," Pepperell, Pyle National and River Brand Rice Mills. Rollins Inc. fell more than a point.

Corporate bonds were mostly unchanged in light trading. U.S. Government bonds were down a little on news of the latest gold loss.

Genesee Ban on News Is Hit

GOP Units Attack Prosecutor's Action

FLINT (AP) — In opposing Genesee County Prosecutor Robert F. Leonard's news ban, two county GOP organizations Thursday declared "no one man should have control over public information of vital nature."

Officers of the Genesee and Lapeer County Republican committees adopted a resolution to this effect, said Genesee County chairman Dr. Frederick Van Duyne.

* * *

He said he hoped the GOP State Central Committee would approve the resolution at its regular meeting Saturday.

The resolution said that "until and unless" there is a uniform standard set by legislative process which controls protection of criminal suspects "no public official shall control the dissemination of news information of arrest and crime."

NO INFORMATION

Leonard, a Democrat, has barred police from making public information on admissions, confessions and previous criminal records of suspects before court action.

The two county committees said the Republican party has faith in the average American to sit in judgment of his peers and faith "in the great news industry."

* * *

Freedom of speech and press "Remains one of our basic rights," the resolution said.

Kelley Seeks Support on Suit

WASHINGTON (AP) — Michigan's attorney general, Frank Kelley, met informally Thursday with attorneys general of other states to line up support for his proposal to bring a representation suit against Alabama as a result of the civil rights issue.

★ ★ ★

Leon Cohan, Michigan's deputy attorney general, said Kelley has received indications of support from additional attorneys general to those from eight states previously announced as backing him.

Although the question of the suit was not on the agenda of a meeting of the National Association of Attorneys General, Kelley sought support in private conversations.

Kelley wants to sue Alabama, in the Supreme Court, under a constitutional section which he said provides that a state's representation in Congress may be cut in proportion to the number of persons illegally denied voting rights.

★ ★ ★

Bob Kennedy to Scale Peak

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Robert F. Kennedy hopes to be among the first to conquer icy Mt. Kennedy, the Canadian peak named after his slain brother.

And Jim Whittaker, who in 1963 became the first American to climb Mt. Everest, believes the New York Democrat should have the honor.

In Seattle, Whittaker said: "As climb leader, I would step aside and let Sen. Kennedy lead us onto the top."

Kennedy said yesterday he will fly to Seattle Sunday to join the expedition.

The 13,900-foot granite spire was named following the assassination of President John F. Kennedy. It is North America's highest unclimbed mountain.

Located in the Yukon territory, it is sheathed with ice and snow and raked by gale-force winds at this time of the year. Temperatures drop as low as 40 below zero.

Sen. Kennedy said he and Dr. Bradford Washburn, director of the Boston Museum of Science and scientific leader of the expedition, will travel Monday to Whitehorse, about 150 miles east of the mountain.

The Boston museum and the National Geographic Society are sponsoring the climb.

Swallows Fly Back to Capistrano Mission

SAN JUAN CAPISTRANO (UPI) — The swallows returned at dawn today to the picturesque San Juan Capistrano Mission, rewarding a crowd of 200 persons standing vigil for the event.

★ ★ ★

One witness said the birds, upholding a 188-year-old tradition for returning on St. Joseph Day, were not as numerous as in recent years but there were "quite a few fluttering around."

Pair Charged With Break-In

Sheriff's deputies arrested two men for investigation of breaking and entering an Independence Township market early today after a five mile chase over icy roads.

Arrested were Albert Cole, 28, of 38 N. Midland, and Robert Eaglen, 23, of 7610 Clintonville, Independence Township.

The pair is charged with breaking into the Walter Lake Grocery, 4694 Clarkston and taking five cases of beer and several cartons of cigarettes.

Sgt. James Stites of the sheriff's department was patrolling in the area just after 3 a.m. when he noticed a 1963 Chevrolet pull away from the store at a high speed.

Stites noticed that the front door glass of the store was broken. He began pursuit of the car and radioed for help.

★ ★ ★

Stites, Deputy Ben Domroese and Patrolman Donald Bailey of the Waterford Township Police Department converged on the pair's car and stopped it on Clintonville.

New Conservative Group Seeks to Keep GOP on a Right-Wing Course

WASHINGTON (AP) — The newborn American Conservative Union has set up a headquarters near the Capitol, approved a $400,000 first-year budget, barred Birch Society members from its top command, and set for itself this goal:

"We hope to build the greatest in-depth conservative voice and action this country has seen, and on a totally responsible basis."

* * *

The spokesman, ACU Chairman Donald Bruce, former Republican congressman from Indiana, also told an interviewer that the quietly organized new political movement intends to:

Keep the Republican party on the right-wing course it chose in San Francisco last July, despite the election disaster to its nominee, Barry Goldwater.

Enlist conservative - minded scholars and writers to develop — and disseminate — policies and programs for the GOP that will attract what Bruce calls the "ideologically uncommitted majority" of voters who turned away from Goldwater.

* * *

Engage in politics "actively and openly," Bruce said, to get conservative Republicans nominated and elected, by providing all possible help short of cash contributions.

Lobby in Congress for conservative causes. Bruce indicated that ACU would, for instance, oppose direct federal aid to education, the nuclear test ban treaty, urban renewal, and the one-man one-vote reapportionment rule.

TAKING SHAPE

From a nucleus of about 70 organizers who met Dec. 19 at a Washington Hotel in a closed, unpublicized meeting, the ACU has taken form quickly and geared itself for national growth.

Money has begun coming in from a direct mail campaign conducted by a New York fund-raising organization using conservative mailing lists, Bruce said, and Bruce personally is soliciting members and contributions on an arduous schedule of travel and meetings. He talked to groups in Pittsburgh, Boston and Louisville last week, and is visiting Davenport, Iowa, Moline and Rockford, Ill., this week.

* * *

The ACU top command is a 17-member board of directors. Among them are several of the strategists who engineered Goldwater's victory at the Republican convention in San Francisco.

The vice chairman is Rep. John Ashbrook, R-Ohio; the secretary is Robert E. Bauman, national chairman of Young Americans for Freedom, which was the outgrowth of the 1960 "Youth for Goldwater for Vice President" group; the treasurer is Frank S. Meyer, an editor of the conservative monthly, National Review.

OTHER DIRECTORS

Other directors are Texas GOP Chairman Peter O'Donnell Jr., the Dallas oilman who headed the National Draft Goldwater Committee; Editor William F. Buckley Jr. and publisher William A. Rusher of the National Review; William H. Brady Jr., Milwaukee businessman; author John Dos Passos; and former Rep. Katharine St. George, R-N.Y., who was defeated in November.

The ACU thus has at least a cadre of veteran troops for the political wars. Publisher Rusher heads an ACU "committee on political action," and Bruce — though he emphasizes the research and academic aspects of the movement — confirmed that ACU intends to get into the political infighting of the 1966 and 1968 elections.

He said: "We will work within the political organizations, and we will do so openly, not clandestinely."

'OUR PURPOSE'

"That is our purpose," said Bruce.

What if Republicans like Govs. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York and William W. Scranton of Pennsylvania recapture the GOP? Would ACU join the swing, or would it favor a third party?

* * *

"We would not swing. And under any forseeable circumstances we are vigorously opposed to a third party. We believe in building the strongest second party possible. A third party would only splinter the second party and strengthen the whole liberal left."

But Bruce contends that "the heart of our organization is the advisory assembly" — a 60-member panel loaded with professors, authors, editors and lecturers whose talents have been employed frequently in support of conservative aims.

* * *

Conspicuously missing from the list are any overt members of the John Birch Society or so-called "extremist" groups, although one of the advisors, William S. Schlamm, formerly was an associate editor of "American Opinion," the magazine of which Robert Welch, the Birch Society founder, is editor.

The decision to exclude Birch members from being officers or directors of ACU was made at the December organization meeting. There reportedly was hot argument on the question, but anti-Birch sentiment prevailed.

Pneumonia Outbreak Sweeps Merchant Ship

The ship, with 250 officers and cadets aboard, radioed that it was changing course and putting in at Honolulu so the ill crew members can be treated. Only one man was considered ill enough to require hospitalization, the Coast Guard said.

Newspaper 2nd Choice

LONDON (UPI)—Male commuters quit reading their newspapers on a morning train from Guildford yesterday to stare at the compartment wall — where someone had replaced advertisements with three large photographs of nude women.

Spotlighting the Stars

ROGER HAYWARD, Pontiac Northern . . . 6-4 . . . Senior . . . Top vote-getter in the poll of county coaches conducted by The Pontiac Press . . . a regular for three seasons, he is being boomed for all-state honors. Hayward averaged 22.6 points a game while playing guard, pivot and forward . . . possesses a deadly one-hand shot from outside and can shoot with either hand when close to the hoop . . . holds the Northern rebounding record.

★ ★ ★

LEE PALMER, Ferndale . . . 6-3 . . . Senior . . . Leading scorer in Oakland County with a 25.0 average . . . a strong all-state candidate . . . shoots well with either hand from the outside and is rated a tricky driver . . . scored 36 points while being guarded by Royal Oak Kimball's Roger Peltz . . . second in the voting to Hayward.

★ ★ ★

CARL ARNOLD, Pontiac Central . . . 5-8 . . . Senior . . . Sparked the Chiefs to a tie for second in the Saginaw Valley and to the regional finals with an 18.8 average . . . he was second in scoring in the Saginaw Valley . . . he was PCH's main outside threat, but could drive for the basket from the side.

★ ★ ★

HAROLD WILBER, Birmingham Seaholm . . . 6-3 . . . Senior . . . Like Hayward, he is very adept at playing all positions . . . His main forte was bringing the ball up the floor and then switching to the corner or moving into the pivot . . . averaged 19 points a game . . . strong on defense and a good rebounder.

★ ★ ★

ROGER PELTZ, Royal Oak Kimball . . . 6-4 . . . Junior . . . Only junior on The Pontiac Press All-County team . . . noted for his defensive play, but still managed a very respectable 19.5 average . . . his play triggered Knights to tie for the Southeastern Michigan Association title with Ferndale.

★ ★ ★

THE REV. JOHN RAKOCZY, Orchard Lake St. Mary . . . COACH-OF-THE-YEAR . . . Under "Fr. Rocky's" direction, the Eaglets won the Northwest Catholic League crown, lost in the second division playoffs by a point and then stunned Avondale and Lake Orion to win a Class B district crown . . . the Eaglets came within a free throw of upsetting No. 5 ranked Holt in the regional, finally losing in overtime . . . the Eaglets finished with a 15-5 record . . . Fr. Rakoczy's lifetime record at OLSM is 154-50.

Halfback Joins Cards

ST. LOUIS (UPI) — Mike Fracchia, a 6-foot-2, 200-pound defensive halfback who graduated from Alabama in 1963, has signed a 1965 St. Louis football Cardinal contract. Fracchia missed all of last season because of a knee injury, which is reported healed.

Batter Bops Umpire for 3rd Strike Call

BRENHAM, Tex. (UPI)— Umpire Paul Timmins called a third strike on St. Thomas Junior College's Ewell Jackson III for the final out in a 9-6 loss to Blinn JC yesterday.

Bad News Ahead for Prep Matmen

The bad news is Pontiac Northern's Bruce Tippin, who waded through the opposition this season, posting an 18-1-1 record. He's a junior and will be back next year, which is good news for coach Bill Willson.

Tippin, grappling in the 145-pound division, was named the outstanding wrestler on the 1964-65 All-Oakland County Wrestling Team selected this week by county mat coaches and The Pontiac Press' sports staff.

Tippin was the lone Huskie on the mat team which was dominated by Walled Lake, Pontiac Central, Berkley and Farmington. The four schools put two each on the first team.

FOUR JUNIORS

Roger Nicolay (103) and Fred Hering (112) grabbed starting berths for Walled Lake and the Vikings also landed two berths on the second team—Don Findlay (127) and John Heitner (133).

'B' WRESTLER

Buford is the lone Class B school representative on the team. The senior grappler rang up a 21-0 season record that included the state 138-pound championship.

★ ★ ★

Tippin, who placed third in the state in the Class A tournament, competed in three weight divisions during the season — 138, 145 and 154 — and his lone loss came in a 154-pound bout with Kettering's John Salisbury at the start of the season.

Tippin won the Inter-Lakes League championship, the Inter-Lakes-Eastern Michigan title and the regional crown at PNH. He finished third in the state tournament.

Trailing Tippin in the balloting for the MVW award were Peterson of PCH and Craig Irwin of Royal Oak Kimball. Irwin (heavyweight) was a second-team selection.

NEW YORK (UPI) — The Atlantic Coast Football League, composed of eight teams, will vote on the admission of three new members and discuss a common draft at its annual scheduled meeting March 20-21 at Harrisburg, Pa.

UCLA Meets Wichita

Michigan's Wolverines, Princeton Await NCAA Tilt

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — "No," said Princeton Coach Butch van Breda Kolff in answer to a question. "We haven't scouted any of the other teams. But we've played Michigan, so I guess we're fortunate to get them again."

He said it with a wry little grin and was answered with a ripple of laughter through the press conference that was grilling the coaches of the four teams competing in the NCAA national basketball championship tourney.

* * *

Van Breda Kolff's long-shot Ivy League Tigers go against the powerful Wolverines, the nation's top-ranked college power, at 10 p.m., EST, tonight in the tourney opener.

PLAY SATURDAY

The winners of tonight's games play for the title at 10 p.m., EST, Saturday, with the losers playing a preliminary game at 8 p.m., EST.

Both semifinal games are scheduled for regional television coverage. The championship game will be telecast over some 135 stations by Sports Network Inc.

The Michigan-Princeton encounter will be on WJBK-TV, channel 2.

Van Breda Kolff's reference to Michigan was meant to be a funny one. In a previous meeting, Princeton's Bill Bradley, College Player of the Year, scored 41 points and paced the Tigers to a 12-point lead before he fouled out with 3½ minutes to go.

* * *

Michigan came on and won it 80-78 on a 20-foot jump shot by All-America Cazzie Russell with three seconds to go.

* * *

Michigan, again, is a solid favorite to win its semifinal game, as is UCLA, although UCLA Coach John Wooden had second thoughts about the matter.

NO FAVORITES

"I don't believe any one of the four can be much of a favorite over the others," Wooden said.

"They all have to be good teams to get here, and I believe any one at a given time could beat any of the other three."

Be that as it may, his swift Bruins are favored to take it all and become only the fifth team to win back-to-back titles.

The Bruins come in with the best record in the tourney, 26-2, and are sparked by All-America Gail Goodrich and 6-5 Keith Erickson.

Michigan is easily the biggest, strongest team in the tourney and has four returning starters from last year's team that finished No. 3 in the nation. They are 6-6 Russell, Bill Buntin and Oliver Darden, each 6-7 and about 230 pounds, and Larry Tregoning, 6-5.

* * *

Rested Wings Thump Boston

DETROIT (AP) — Four days of rest, a stirring pep talk and just plain determination all played a hand as the Detroit Red Wings increased their National Hockey League lead Thursday night.

The Red Wings gave no indication of feeling the pressure in the close race as they scored five goals in the first period and went on to thump the hapless Boston Bruins, 10-3.

Montreal moved into second place by downing Toronto, 4-1.

THEME OF TALK

"I simply told them that they could not take the Bruins lightly," Abel said. "After all, they had nothing to lose and would try anything to knock us off.

"I also reminded them that we have a game tonight in New York and that, while we were still in pretty good shape, back-to-back losses would really hurt us," Abel concluded.

* * *

Whatever else he said must have hit its mark because the Red Wings stormed the Boston net all night and rookie goalie Jack Norris had to make 47 saves before it was all over.

Parker MacDonald was the only player — outside of goalie Roger Crozier — who did not score at least one point in the contest for Detroit.

The ten goals were all scored by different players and 15 Red Wings in all added to their point totals.

SECOND PLACE

Norm Ullman, with a goal and four assists, led the scoring spree and moved into second place in the NHL scoring race, just ten points behind Chicago's Stan Mikita.

Howe, Pit Martin, Val Fonteyne, Gary Bergman and Floyd Smith notched the goals in the

Kimball Swim Ace County's Best

Records keep falling by the wayside and Oakland County with its 10 class A swimming schools, primarily led by Birmingham Seaholm and Royal Oak Kimball, continues to produce a big bulk of Michigan's star prep tankers.

This year's Oakland County Outstanding Swimmer Award goes to Kimball's Doug Webster, a junior who has been "Mr. Everything" for the Knights. The award is presented by The Pontiac Press.

Last year it was Kimball's Bill Watts who took the honor and for two prior years Seaholm's Bob Wolf was the recipient.

WINS TWO

Webster won the 200 freestyle and 100 backstroke in the state meet and thus dominated these positions but he could as well have been a 400 freestyle choice with his great time of 3:54.6 during the regular season.

Chuck Geggie of Seaholm, state 400 freestyle champion in 4:00.6 won the berth and Pontiac Northern's Steve Yedlin, a sophomore who posted a 4:08. in the state meet received attention here.

Seaholm placed all three of its divers in the state meet and Bob Bacon was accorded the All-County honors with teammate Steve Zimmer and Hazel Park's Rod O'Strand given strong mention.

* * *

In the race for the 200 team freestyle relay, Seaholm, Kimball and Groves were the top teams. The Seaholm foursome of Bill Prew, Bob Downey, Bill Kennedy and Skip Sherwood battled Grosse Pointe to the final touch for the state title.

Each team came in with 1:31.5 but the judges' decision went to Grosse Pointe and the time set a new state record.

Colts to Meet South Haven in Semifinals

By FLETCHER SPEARS

In 15 years at the helm of Troy's basketball team, coach Peyton Goodwin has harvested more than 200 victories and eight league championships.

It's an enviable record, but missing is the juiciest basketball plum in Michigan high school play—a state championship.

With a little luck and a lot of points in the next couple of nights, Goodwin and the Colts could wind up with the state Class B crown.

The Colts will take a 20-2 record into Lansing tonight where they will meet South Haven (21-3) in a semifinal game at Waverly High School. The game starts at 7.

Goodwin, 43, with bachelor degrees from University of Cincinnati and Western Michigan and a master's from University of Michigan, moved into Troy as basketball coach when the school opened 15 years ago.

Since then, Goodwin-coached teams have won 201 games and dropped 85, and along the way managed to nail down eight Oakland A League titles.

SECOND TRIP

The trip to Lansing will be the second for Goodwin and the Colts. The first was in 1955.

"We were only four years old at the time and it was like a bunch of kids hitting the big city for the first time," said Goodwin.

Buchanan was the Colts' foe in the '55 clash.

The two battled on even terms through most of the contest — Troy trailed by three at halftime —but the Colts' top scorer, Jack Acton, ran into foul trouble and Buchanan won, 57-48.

Acton, the team captain, will be with the squad again tonight, making this trip as assistant coach.

* * *

Defense has been the trademark of teams at Troy.

"We play a cautious game," Goodwin admitted. "We concentrate on defense and we're going to need a great defense against South Haven. They are really tough."

South Haven has a team that shoots well from the outside and this could mean trouble for the Colts.

The Colts have a strong rebounding team built around 6-5 Chris Beacham, who is also the team's leading scorer with an average of 18.6.

Effects of the tournament grind were noticeable in Troy's win over Clio in a quarter-final clash at Clarkston Wednesday.

Neither team played well. "They were somewhat tired," Goodwin said later.

Does the grind affect the coach?

Boston College in Ice Finals

North Dakota Upset in NCAA Tourney

PROVIDENCE, R.I. (AP) — Goalie Pat Murphy — cut from the squad as unworthy of the varsity last year — is an important reason Boston College has reached the NCAA hockey finals for the first time since 1949.

Murphy made 36 stops including a spectacular game-saver in the dying moments as Boston College upset North Dakota 4-3 Thursday night. NCAA tourney veteran Joe Lech, in goal for the national champion Sioux two years ago, had 21 saves.

Last Tourney Roar Heard in Lansing

By The Associated Press

That loud roar emanating from the Lansing area tonight and all day Saturday will not be the last blizzard of winter.

Nor will it be the first sound of spring.

As any high school basketball fan will tell you, it's the final two days of the Michigan prep tournament. The noise will be the cheers of the faithful trying to spur their teams to victory.

There are 16 survivors of the state tourney which started almost three weeks ago. Half of the teams will be eliminated.

* * *

A victory tonight means a spot in one of the four championship games to be played in Jenison Fieldhouse on the Michigan State University campus Saturday.

Just the chance to play in the title game Saturday means the team will come back with a huge trophy.

DOUBLE HEADER

A Class C doubleheader will be played at the Lansing Civic Center. The remaining Class A teams will play at Jenison.

* * *

St. Paul had a fine record in the regular season. But it was placed in one of the toughest C districts in the state. And after that, still more though competition in the regionals.

The only other unbeaten team still playing is first-ranked Barryton in Class D. Britton-Macon, which captured the D title the past two years, was eliminated in the districts.

State Tournament Semifinal Pairings

CLASS A

Detroit Southwestern (17-1) vs. Southfield (15-8) at Jenison Fieldhouse, East Lansing, 7 p. m.

Benton Harbor (21-0) vs. Saginaw (18-3) at Jenison, 8:30 p. m.

CLASS B

River Rouge (22-2) vs. Kingsford (18-3) at Lansing Everett High, 7 p. m.

South Haven (21-3) vs. Troy (20-2), at Lansing Waverly High 7 p. m.

CLASS C

Wakefield (18-4) vs. Muskegon Christian (20-4) at Lansing Civic Center, 7 p. m.

Concord (20-3) vs. Grosse Pointe St. Paul (17-4) at Lansing Civic Center, 8:30 p. m.

CLASS D

Covert (22-2) vs. Barryton (21-0) at Lansing Gabriels High 7 p. m.

Pickford (19-4) vs. Leland (21-1) at Lansing Sexton High, 7 p.m.

The Professional Bowlers' Association has undoubtedly as bright a star as there is in the sports horizon.

Reports from the organization continue to paint a currency green future. The formation of the PBA along the lines of golf's PGA some six winters ago must have been done with trepidation underlying the hopes and plans.

Parcularly since the PBA was founded to pick up the pieces of bowling's bankrupt national traveling league. The only other outlets for the talents of the game's brightest stars were a few big money tournaments, exhibitions and teaching.

* * *

The handful of stars that pooled their talents to start the PBA now has grown to a handsome lineup of bright young names, most of whom have been appearing this week at Roseville's Continental Lanes.

The tournament has its head-to-head rolloffs today among the top 16 and tomorrow the four finalists compete in front of the television cameras at the 13 Mile and Gratiot establishment.

With the exception of the latter two, it has been the PBA that has provided the reputation for these new stars. Even Strampe and Billy "G" have had excellent starts at fine money totals on the winter tour.

FEW TRIES

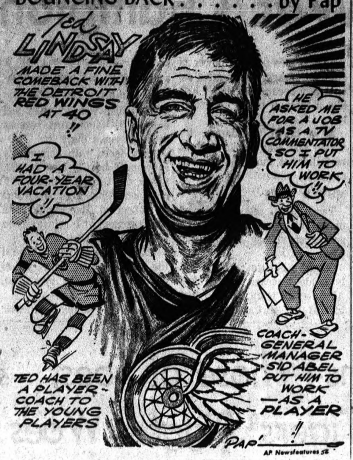
Samardzija has an excellent situation with the Stroh's team in Detroit and makes very few of the PBA tournaments, but has been a consistent money winner in the ones he makes.

Pontiac was a regular stop on the pro tour until this year. The fans had come to realize what an excellent attraction it was.

An unfortunate misunderstanding deprived our city of the event; and this bowling showcase is making probably its lone appearance in our state this year.

Jerry Perna of West Side Lanes put on quite a show last weekend in the Elks National Tournament at Battle Creek. He hit 604 in the team event, 666 in doubles and 681 in singles.

Perna has almost a 150-pin lead in the actuals all-events division, leads the singles class and along with his father Sam tops the doubles field. The $36,000 has several weekends to go yet.



BOWLING

West Side Lanes Classic League bowling Monday night featured Al Pletz's 254-232—709 and Mike Figa's 244-245—705, plus 19 "600" series and 85 games of 200 or better.

Team sweeps were posted by Huron Bowl, Nesbitt's Orange, Orchard Lanes and Sylvan Lounge, while 300 Bowl and Oakland Vending are deadlocked with 56 points each in first place.

* * *

Tonight is position night for the Huron Bowl Classic League and brings together Felice Quality Market and All-Star Lanes. Each took six points last week to remain tied for first place.

Don Martell's 287—684 bowling for Fontana Brothers took individual honors last time and helped the squad to a sweep and 1146—3082 team highs. Veterans Disposal also took eight points.

An excellent 267-224—710 effort highlighted the Grand Trunk Mixed League Sunday at Airway Lanes. Al Servoss posted the 700, and Jean Servoss had a 538 among the women.

Airway's Mixed Doubles Open Tournament now is led by Frank Williams and Nancy Majewski with 1266. They hit the leading total last Saturday. Sunday Karl Smith's 659 carried him and Helen Mills to a 1220 total, good for third place.

The competition will continue through the final weekend of March.

PERFECT

The Monday Men's Trio League at Montcalm Bowling Centre listed Frank Welch with 625 and "Lucky" Smith with 235. In last Saturday's junior bowling, Mike Portwood led the way with 526.

The Gutzkes, Lee Anna (223) and Leland (231), took honors along with Gen Bradley (568) in Monday's Mixed All-Star bowling at Orchard Lanes.

Auburn Lanes' pins were rapped for a 213-237—639 count by Dave Sherman and 211-215—630 by Bill Sherman in the Monday night Lions League. Bill's teammate Miles West had 202-222—621.

The action at 300 Bowl Monday night included a 253 for Jack Washburne and 210 by Clara Geeck in the Lake Oakland Heights Mixed circuit. The "300" Monday night Mixed League listed Elias Vela with 222-216—637.

Advanced prep girls, Michelle Carney (198 and 427); advanced boys Dan Deering (210) and Rich Stewart (552); junior girls, Cheryl Pointer (213) and Ken Bronoel (545). Dana Hassler (126) and Dan Luenberger (124) have qualified for triplicate awards.

The top total last week in Primrose Lanes Kings & Queens loop was Mable Bush's 220—586. Bettie Bain had a 7-9 conversion.

Young Kegler Leading Pack in PBA Open

DETROIT (AP) — Jim Robinette, a 23-year-old whose current tour winnings total $370, took the lead Thursday in the Professional Bowlers Association's $35,000 Continental Open with a final six-game block of 1,286.

The Falls Church, Va., bowler, in his second year on the PBA tour, has yet to win a tourney. His best finish was a third place last year.

Robinette overtook Detroiter Bob Strampe who led after the afternoon qualifying round. Robinette wound up the two-day qualifying round with 5,068 total pins to 5,029 for Strampe. Al Thompson of Cleveland was third among the 16 semifinalists with a score of 5,021.

The 16 semifinalists from an original field of 160 will be cut to four for Saturday's nationally televised finals.

Numerous Changes Dot PWBA Results

A sparkling 606 actual by Pontiac's Amy Rose enabled her to slip into first place by five pins in the handicap singles with a 696 total.

A 427 actual doubles game by Milford's Virginia Cook and Stella Roberts enabled them to gain first place over-all with 1291, nine pins better than Union Lake's Judith Warwick and Vera Schwartz, new in second place.

Rena Collins of Sylvan Lake now leads the handicap all-events with 1943 and Dorothy White of Rochester the actual all-events with 1687.

Stagg Was Champion of 'Little Guy'

By BOB HOOBING

Through 57 years as a head coach, Stagg was the vigorous champion of the little guy and the long shot cause.

His greatest players were—like Walter Eckersall and Clarence Herschberger at the University of Chicago—slight of build, keen of mind.

As a believer in the power of emotion, Stagg never gave up on a boy because he didn't look like a football player, physically.

MOVED WEST

Twice this restless pioneer moved westward to spread his gospel of victory through fair play.

Stagg, a one-time Yale divinity student picked on the first All-America team, started football at the partially completed Chicago campus in 1892 with a squad of 13. He built the Maroons into a Big Ten Conference power which won six titles and enjoyed five unbeaten seasons in his 41 years there.

When faced with compulsory retirement by Chicago in 1933, Stagg, 70, termed himself "fit, able and willing," and migrated to College of The Pacific with the comment, "I refuse to be idle and a nuisance."

To critics of his policy to send the little Stockton, Calif., school against top-flight opposition, Stagg replied:

"Well, if you don't schedule the big fellow how can you ever expect to defeat him?"

AIDED SON

From 1947 until 1953 he aided his son, Amos Alonzo Stagg Jr., at Susquehanna College in Pennsylvania and came up with a double flanker formation which befuddled opponents.

When the illness of his wife, Stella, convinced Stagg he should remain in Stockton the year around, he took a job as advisory coach at the local junior college. Until a few years ago he gave special instruction to the punters.

Mrs. Stagg died in 1964.

Stagg's Chicago stars included Herschberger, the 158-pound halfback who was the first All-America selection from outside the eastern area: Eckersall, Walter Steffen, Jesse Harper, Fritz Crisler, Austin (Five Yards) McCarthy and Hugo Bezdek, who later coached Penn State.

In 1899 Stagg turned out his first unbeaten team which captured the championship of the Big Ten, a conference which he had helped to create. In 1904 he became a member of the national football rules committee.

Home Runs---Those of Foes, Are Tigers' Biggest Woes

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP) —Up to now one great problem for the Detroit Tigers is the home run—the other team's homer.

For the third time in five exhibition games the Tigers have met with defeat, again by one run, and the homer was responsible.

Veteran Dick Stuart's second four-bagger of the day, a 12th inning blast, swept the Philadelphia Phillies of the National League to a 6-5 decision over Detroit Thursday.

Stuart's smash, off Jack Hamilton, followed a three-run homer by the Phillies' first baseman in the sixth inning when Philadelphia collected four runs.

Thursday's game was played at Clearwater home base of the Phillies. The Tigers and Phillies met today at Lakeland in another of the training season "home and home" series.

Both Stuart's homers were powerful drives, exceeding 400 feet.

Hamilton, called in for the 12th with the score tied 5-5, duplicated his experience of the exhibition opener. In the opener fed a game-winning home run pitch to Andy Kosco of the Minnesota Twins in the ninth inning.

BUNNING POUNDED

Taking picks on their old teammate Jim Bunning, the Tigers had gone to the fifth with a 5-0 lead.

Bunning permitted Detroit six hits and all five runs in the first three frames. The Tigers were limited to the same quota of hits thereafter by Chris Short, Jack Baldschun, Ed Roebuck and Grant Jackson in being shut out for nine straight innings.

Starter Bruce Brubaker of the Tigers shut out the Phils on one hit in the first three innings but the roof fell in on reliever Glen Hobbie in the sixth with the aid of Stuart's jolt. The Phils tied it at 6-6 with a run in the seventh.

Detroit's 12 hits included a double and single by Al Kaline, starting his first game in three days, and two apiece by Jerry Lumpe, Don Demeter, Norm Cash and Don Wert. Demeter hit a homer and Wert, Cash and Lumpe each a double. Kaline has been resting a charley horse.

Late Starters Hold Lead in Golf Tourney

68's at Jacksonville Fired by Dickinson, Bernard Hunt

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — Little Gardner Dickinson Jr. and big Bernard Hunt got the best of bad weather and moved into the second round of the $57,500 Greater Jacksonville Open Golf Tournament with one-stroke leads.

Dickinson, a 133-pound native of Macon, Ga., and Hunt, a 200-pound British Ryder Cup veteran, survived winds that gusted to 30 miles an hour and three fierce rainstorms to card 34-34—68s Thursday.

Dickinson finished before the rain started. But the wind was worse then and he had an up-and-down round that parallels his success in tournament golf — up to a peak of $25,979 in 1963 and down to $11,495 in 1964.

"We were fortunate to start late," Hunt figured, since the wind died down some after the rain.

NARROW GREENS

These surprise leaders sat on top of a tightly bunched field. Twenty-two bettered par 72 in the first round over the 6,906-yard Selva Marina Country Club with its narrow greens.

None of the big three of tournament golf could beat par; nor could the winner of the past two weeks and leading money winner this year, Doug Sanders.

Going into today's second round, four entrants were hot on the leaders' heels after first round 69s — Jim Ferree, Bob Charles, Dick Rhyan Jr. and Bruce Devlin.

Killebrew, Allison Figure in Twins' Defense Plan

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP) — Harmon Killebrew is back on first base and Bob Allison has returned to the outfield in the 1965 version of the Minnesota Twins' shuffle, Sam Mele hopes it works.

With the Killer in left and Allison on first, the Twins led both leagues in home runs and runs scored last season but finished tied for sixth.

"Pitching is a big part of the game," said Mele. "But defense makes the pitching. I don't know how many times a pitcher would go into the seventh or eighth with a lead but lose the game on unearned runs by the boots we made. Don't forget we led in homers, but we were eighth in fielding."

Mele decided to make the Killebrew-Allison switch last season. In fact, there is reason to believe he might not have tried Allison at first last spring if it had not been pressure from another source.

THROWING PROBLEM

"In the outfield Harmon doesn't have the good arm to throw people out and Bob does," said Mele. "Killebrew does a good job any place. He played first base a few years ago and has the instincts of an infielder. After all, he started at third base.

"I didn't want to upset Harmon last year in the middle of the season although I had made up my mind to change. He doesn't like to shift in the middle of a year but he doesn't mind a change as long as he knows well in advance.

City's 'B' Rec Champs Advance

Pontiac's Booth Builders, the Class B city recreation basketball champion, advanced to the finals of the Inter-City Tournament with a 61-29 romp last night past Wayne.

★ ★ ★

The builders, the area's only remaining quintet still in post-season play, held a 29-14 halftime lead. Larry Blackburn hit 17 points and Bill Allen 12 for the winners.

The city's other two entries were eliminated from state and inter-city action last week. Waterford Township's Spencer Floor Covering fell from the Class A state tourney last night.

Saginaw trimmed the township five, 108-78, at WTHS. Ben Lewis' 39 paced the victors. Spencer's was led by John Herrington (22) and Tom Durocher (18).

Saginaw now will meet Flint at 8:30 p.m. Monday on the township floor for the regional title.

In a preliminary last night, Frushour and Struble Realty dumped Howe's Lanes, 55-46, for the Class C playoff crown, despite 28 points by Jim Devine. Mike Forsythe's 14 paced the champions and Dick Shipman added 13.

Ailing Villanova '5' Bids for NIT Title

NEW YORK (AP) — The team with the worst doctor's report may win the National Invitation Tournament basketball championship.

That could be the case if Bill Melchionni and Ken McIntyre carry their present conditions over to Saturday afternoon's final between top-seeded Villanova and St. John's.

Despite their various injuries and illnesses, Melchionni starred in Villanova's 91-69 breeze past New York University and McIntyre sparked St. John's to a 67-60 triumph over Army in semifinal games Thursday night.

"If I was missing, I would have taken myself out," said the 6-foot Melchionni, who felt dizzy before and after the game.

In between, though, he poured in 28 points, hitting 11 of 20 tries from the field. Following the Wildcats' victory over Manhattan last Monday night, Melchionni spent part of Tuesday in the school infirmary, feeling sick and weak.

"I think I have some sort of virus," he decided.

UPSET STOMACH

McIntyre, on the other hand, still suffered from a leg injury incurred against Boston College a week ago and an upset stomach which he picked up last Sunday night.

"My leg felt a little better, but it's starting to hurt again," he said in the locker room. "I haven't worked out with the team all week. I haven't taken any shooting practice or anything."

He added that he ate his first full meal in three days Wednesday night.

With all of these aches and pains, the 6-foot-3 McIntyre tallied 21 points and extended his free throw streak to 42 straight. All but three have come in the NIT, putting him within one of tying the tournament record. He also is eight away from equaling the national college mark.

As soon as Villanova crushed NYU, the eighth-ranked Wildcats, 23-4, then started thinking of how they are going to stop McIntyre, who has scored 83 points in three games.

GAME PLAN

"He's one of the greatest players and shooters we've seen all year," Coach Jack Kraft said. "We'll try to keep him from getting the ball and play him tight when he does get it. We'll overplay him and not be afraid of letting someone else take a shot."

Villanova, which beat St. John's 52-43 earlier this season, will be trying for its first NIT title while St. John's, 20-8 goes after an unprecedented fourth crown. The game will be the last for St. John's Coach Joe Lapchick, who retires next month.

The consolation game will feature the same teams that played for third place last season. In that one, Army edged NYU 60-59.

first period—the latter two coming within a 40-second span.

Ron Murphy and Alex Delvecchio beat Norris in the second period and Doug Barkley, Ted Lindsay and Ullman finished things off in the third stanza.

Lindsay's goal climaxed a perfect play—he took a pass from Ullman—and drew the loudest and longest ovation from the crowd of 13,555. It was the largest crowd to watch the Bruins since a matinee turnout four years back.

Any combination which totals eight points will give the Red Wings their first regular season title since 1956-57.

Montreal, only three points back, also has five games remaining.

Following tonight's game with New York, the Red Wings will return home and play host to Chicago Sunday. The Black Hawks are in Montreal Saturday while New York is at Toronto.

Strike Hits Glass Plant

Charlotte (AP) — The new Owens-Illinois Glass Co. plant here was shut down at midnight Wednesday when its 330 production employes walked out as part of a nationwide strike by their union. Plant spokesmen say no local issues are involved.

Official Resigns Post

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Steven Dykema, deputy city attorney here since February 1963, announced Thursday that he is resigning effective June 1 because of the press of his private law practice.

News Policies for Viet Viewed

Officials to Discuss War Press Coverage

HONOLULU (AP) — James L. Greenfield, assistant secretary of state for public affairs, says the U. S. State Department and the Defense Department "jointly decide" press policies in Viet Nam.

★ ★ ★

Greenfield arrived in Honolulu yesterday for two days of talks with other government officials concerning the handling of information on the Viet Nam situation.

An Associated Press news story earlier said foreign correspondents in South Viet Nam had reported that official military restrictions were making U. S. involvement difficult to cover.

The dispatch said U. S. military authorities made information more inaccessible than at any time since U. S. assistance began in Viet Nam in 1961.

Greenfield read the story at an information conference and said:

"We are discussing, as we do periodically, the full range of information subjects relating to Viet Nam.

AWARE OF PROBLEMS

"We are well aware there are problems and we will be making recommendations aimed at facilitating press coverage."

Earl Odom, director of Information Services for the Defense Department, agreed that there was consultation on priority information with State Department officials.

"I think every change has been done in concert," Odom said.

★ ★ ★

Representatives from the White House, the U.S. Information Agency, Greenfield and Odom and others from their departments will confer at Camp H. M. Smith, headquarters of the Pacific military commander in chief.

Photo-Driver Licenses May Be Ready in May

★ ★ ★

Hare said the original timetable called for the first licenses to be issued in late June or early July, but because the cameras are being installed in three stages, the first of the new licenses now should be available some time in May.

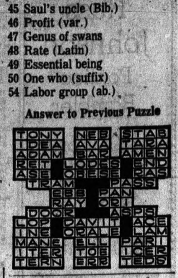
Answer to Previous Puzzle



Sang Way to LBJ's Heart; Now Voices Hope for Kids

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — Miss Patti Page, the singer, has met Presidents Truman and Eisenhower, due to her singing, and also Senator Bobby Kennedy, when he was merely an author . . . and therefore she is willing to raise her two adopted children to be singers if they wish . . . because how else can you meet a President nowadays unless you are a Vice President?

WILSON

But that is secondary to the fact that Patti, while rehearsing at the Brooklyn NBC studios for "The Telephone Hour," was chatting with a nice, quiet, restrained telephone company official . . . who had to make a phone call.

He stepped to a booth. The phone was out of order . . . To a second booth . . . Out of order . . . To a third booth. . . .

"Did he remain there, quiet and restrained? In five minutes there were five repair trucks there!"

★ ★ ★

Patti and husband Charles O'Curran are vastly excited about adopted children Daniel, 9 months, and Kathleen, 2½, whom they're taking to Tulsa to show to the grandparents.

"But the big thing: I want to teach my son to read at 3," said Patti.

She was preparing the big red cards, etc. . . . prescribed in the Dr. Glenn Doman book, "How to Teach Your Baby to Read." Patti said, "Wouldn't it be wonderful if children at 3 could sit in the corner reading—instead of screaming?"

Parents, too, maybe?

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

Frank Sinatra and Joe E. Lewis sent a one-word telegram to Don Rickles wedding: "Why?" . . . Helen Gurley Brown ("Sex and the Single Girl") is due to become editor of a major magazine . . . "What Makes Sammy Run?" open more than a year, is still being changed: Bernice Massi'll get a new song when she takes over the Sally Ann Howes role.

Romy Schneider and Albert Finney are dating in Europe . . . Vittorio Gassman, who'll be here to do poetry readings, wants to settle in N.Y. . . . Bette Davis told interviewer Ed McMahon: "I've watched you and Johnny Carson through my toes many times" . . . Ida Lupino and Howard Duff want to make the film version of "The Subject Was Roses."

City Income Tax Soundly Defeated

Soviet Spaceship Lands; Possible Trouble Indicated

MOSCOW (AP) — Spaceship Voskhod 2 landed safely today west of the Ural Mountains after a spectacular 24-hour orbit during which one of the two cosmonauts aboard frolicked outside the craft. There were indications something went wrong in the landing process.

A Tass announcement that the pilot had steered the spaceship to a landing ended hours of mystery and official silence on the Voskhod's fate. Tass said both cosmonauts were well.

The time the Voskhod was aloft indicated it had completed 17 orbits and was on its 18th when it landed.

The exploit of Col. Pavel Belyayev and Lt. Col. Alexei Leonov meant another big step toward travel to the moon. It was Leonov who ventured outside the craft and floated 10 minutes in the void, proving men could work there to assemble space platforms for shots to the moon.

The spaceship landed at 12:02 p.m. (4:02 a.m. EST) near Perm, west of the Ural Mountains and 725 miles northeast of Moscow. This is far north of the usual landing spot for Soviet spaceships.

★ ★ ★

This fact and the character of radio signals toward the end of the flight suggested to the Bochum Space Observatory in West Germany that the landing process was irregular, a Bochum spokesman said.

House OK Due on Tax Relief Bill

LANSING (AP) — A senior citizens property tax relief bill—loaded with extras and carrying a price tax estimated variously at $20 million to $35 million—was set to pass the House today.

"It will pass the Senate and be placed on the—governor's desk at the earliest possible date," said Rep. J. Robert Traxler, after Democrats out-waited House Republicans in a three-hour debate last night.

If passed and signed into law, the bill would apply to some 285,000 heads of households and affect a total of 375,000 Michigan citizens over 65 years of age, said Rep. George Montgomery, D-Detroit, chairman of the general taxation committee.

The measure was amended and liberalized yesterday by both Republicans and Democrats to include persons 55 and over who are disabled and living on disability pensions, and to affect homes up to $10,000 in state equalized valuation.

Republicans accused Democrats of a rush job and political expediency in trying to beat Gov. George Romney to the punch in developing a senior citizens relief program.

The extension to the disabled would add $14 million to the $18 million bill, one Democrat leader said, predicting that the amendment would not be on the bill when it left the House today. Montgomery estimated its cost at about $1 million.

The bill, as reported out by the taxation committee Tuesday, granted an exemption on the first $2,500 of state equalized valuation on homesteads with $7,500 valuation or less, owned by persons over 65.

It would provide a corresponding direct grant to senior citizens renting quarters in dwellings valued at $7,500. It also required five years residence in the state before becoming eligible.

U.S. Planes Strike 2 North Viet Targets

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — More than 110 U.S. Navy and Air Force planes hammered military targets at two points in Communist North Viet Nam today and reported up to 100 per cent of the targets destroyed.

All of the planes were believed to have returned safely from the bombing and strafing attack on military supply installations about 160 miles north of the 17th parallel, dividing North and South Viet Nam.

A U.S. spokesman said the targets were known supply and infiltration areas for Viet Cong forces in South Viet Nam. He said the raid was very successful.

"The targets were Phy Van and Vinh Son, where there are a number of military supply installations," said a U.S. statement on the raid.

★ ★ ★

A spokesman said Navy planes also pounded the Thu An supply depot, adjoining the Vinh Son area.

SECONDARY EXPLOSIONS

The spokesman said a number of secondary explosions after the planes hit their targets indicated their bombs and rockets had set off ammunition stores.

The Air Force planes hit 15 to 20 buildings. Ground fire was reported light and inaccurate, and the spokesman said the North Vietnamese apparently were caught by surprise and off balance by the attack.

He said the planes carried "normal" ammunition, including 750-pound bombs and rockets. They were over the target area at about 1 p.m. Saigon time (1 a.m. Eastern Standard Time).

★ ★ ★

Scram, Winter, Spring's Near!

Would someone kindly tell the weatherman that tomorrow is spring, not winter?

He seems to have forgotten, and has planned cold temperatures with partly sunny skies for the day. A high of only 26 to 30 is expected, following tonight's low of 8 to 14.

Wintry temperatures are also in store for Sunday. However, skies are expected to be fair.

Today in Pontiac and the surrounding area, winds are from the west and southwest at 15 to 30 miles an hour. They will be diminishing to 5 to 15 miles an hour tonight and tomorrow.

To Act if Wallace Unwilling

LBJ Assures Guard for March

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP)—President Johnson says he will call out the Alabama National Guard to protect a civil rights march from Selma to Montgomery if Gov. George C. Wallace is unable or unwilling to do so.

★ ★ ★

The President told newsmen of his decision at the White House last night shortly after Wallace appealed for federal civil assistance to help protect a massive march designed to dramatize a Negro voter drive.

Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. set noon Sunday as the time for the start from Selma of the 50-mile march sanctioned by a federal court.

A white segregationist vowed to lead a reverse march in protest, starting the same time in Montgomery.

The President said Wallace had a National Guard force of more than 10,000 he could call into service to maintain law and order during the five-day march.

The governor, in appealing for federal civil help, estimated it would take 6,171 men to provide maximum security for the march. Johnson said the federal government did not have civilian personnel approaching that figure.

Then Johnson said in a statement that:

"The federal government, of course, does not have civilian personnel approaching figures suggested by Gov. Wallace. However, Gov. Wallace has at his disposal over 10,000 trained members of the Alabama National Guard which he could call into service.

★ ★ ★

"If he is unable or unwilling to call up the Guard, and to maintain law and order in Alabama I will call the Guard up and give them all the support that may be required."

RELAY INFORMATION

The President said he asked Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach to relay the information to Capt. W. B. Painter of the Alabama Department of Public Safety in Montgomery.

Wallace declined comment on the presidential statement, declaring, "I have nothing to say at this time."

PICKED FOR TREASURY POST—President Johnson is shown with Henry H. Fowler at the White House yesterday after nominating the Virginia attorney to be secretary of the treasury. Fowler is a former treasury undersecretary and has held other government posts. He will succeed Douglas Dillon, who has said he wishes to leave the Cabinet March 31.

Painting Sells for $2.2 Million

LONDON (UPI) — A Rembrandt painting was sold today to a Los Angeles art foundation for a near world record price of $2,234,000 at an auction at Christie's Art Sales Rooms in London.

★ ★ ★

The price paid by the Norton Simon Foundation of Los Angeles for Rembrandt's "Portrait of the Artist's Son Titus" nearly matched the $2.3 million which another Rembrandt painting brought more than three years ago.

On Nov. 15, 1961, the Metropolitan Museum of Art in New York paid that price — a world's record — for Rembrandt's "Aristotle Contemplating the Bust of Homer" in an auction at Parke-Bernet Galleries in New York.

Only 1 Precinct Favors the Issue

Despite cold wintry weather, about 28 per cent of Pontiac's registered voters turned out yesterday to soundly reject a proposed city income tax 6,647 to 2,637.

A total of 9,284 of the city's 33,489 registered voters went to the polls as the lone ballot proposition was defeated by better than a 2½-to-1 margin.

★ ★ ★

Pontiac became the fifth city in the state, and the third this week, to reject an income tax. Previously, the issue went down to defeat in Muskegon, Muskegon Heights, Jackson and Grand Rapids.

Precinct 3, located at Bagley School, was the only voting unit to pass the issue, giving it 74 yes votes to 72 no votes.

The tax question was narrowly defeated in Precinct 2, located at fire station No. 2 where 53 yes votes and 55 no votes were cast.

In District 5, largest of the city's seven commission districts the issue went down to defeat by nearly 1,200, 1,808 no to 680 yes votes.

BEST SHOWING

District 1 gave the tax question its best showing, but still defeated it 427 to 279.

Other district totals included District 2, 1,111 no to 500 yes; District 3, 671 to 258; District 4, 1,471 to 449; District 6, 522 to 272; and District 7, 537 no to 189 yes.

Indicating he was not "really" surprised at the election outcome, Mayor William H. Taylor Jr. was critical of "fence straddlers and noncommital people who failed to take a stand."

★ ★ ★

Said Taylor,, "What bothered me most was the number of fence straddlers and noncommital people and organizations that failed to take a stand or give support for fear of hurting someone's feelings or themselves.

City Asking: Where to Now?

Predictions Lacking on Course to Follow

Pondering defeat of a proposed income tax, city officials now ask: where do we turn next?

No immediate answers were offered last night by Mayor William H. Taylor Jr., and City Manager Joseph A. Warren.

Taylor, in a prepared statement, said he could not predict what course the City Commission might elect to take.

However, the mayor noted that both sides in the income tax fight did agree that the city needs added revenue.

★ ★ ★

"The surprising point is," commented Taylor, "all agreed the city must secure additional revenue to meet the rising cost of materials, supplies and services if Pontiac is to move ahead."

INDICATION

Despite the loss at the polls, Taylor indicated he thought property taxes were not the entire answer for the future.

"Too many people," he explained, "are clinging to the past, thinking that increasing property taxes is the solution for today and our needs of the future."

Continued Taylor, "There will and must be, in the very near future, a balancing of the tax burden between property and income."

Home, Sport Show Opens in Waterford

The North Oakland County Home and Sport Show opens at 6 p. m. today at Waterford Township's Community Activities Inc. building and will continue through Sunday.

Featured at this year's show, sponsored by the Waterford Township Junior Chamber of Commerce, will be some 80 display booths, game room, treasure chest and numerous prizes including a grand prize, camping trailer.

Music will be provided during the three days of the show and food and refreshments prepared by the Jaycettes will be available.

A highlight of the final day of the show will be the 4:30 p. m. crowning of the Pixie King and Queen selected on the basis of highest vote totals.

Jeff Cornish, general chairman of the show, is predicting a record crowd of from 10,000 to 12,000 persons. A year ago 9,000 attended.

SHOW HOURS

Hours of the show will be 6 to 11 p. m. today and noon to 11 p. m. on Saturday and Sunday.

Among the displays outside the building will be a 50-foot mobile home. Indoor displays will include sporting goods, appliances, furniture, boats, color TV and home improvement items, to mention a few.

CAPE KENNEDY, (UPI) — Two U.S. astronauts and a moon probe, badly upstaged by a Russian who does somersaults in space, will try to save a little national face in a cosmic doubleheader starting Sunday.

The astronauts, John W. Young and Virgil I. Grissom, planned to take part today in a workout of the worldwide, 15-station network that will follow their three-orbit course through the sky Tuesday.

The probe, a package of cameras named Ranger 9, was due today for a final "simulated" countdown in preparation for its scheduled 240,000 mile picture-taking voyage to the moon.

Ranger 9 is expected to blast off aboard a silvery Atlas-Agena rocket Sunday afternoon. If technical, medical and weather experts give a go-ahead, Grissom and Young will depart aboard a Titan 2 rocket on a five-hour orbital flight at 9 a.m. EST Tuesday.

But the limelight belonged to Russian cosmonaut Alexie Leonov, who rode a 11,000-pound Voskhod 2 ship into orbit yesterday and proceeded to regale television viewers on the ground with a spectacular demonstration of floating and turning somersaults in space outside his capsule.

NO FLOATING

The United States plans no opening of hatches, no floating, no somersaults and no television pictures for Grissom and Young. The astronauts are to sit still, manipulate some controls and get down at the end of three orbits.

Grissom and Young were due up for more ground simulations that shaped up as about the same thing they have been doing for the past several months. Sunday, they are supposed to go get final medical examinations from space agency doctors.

Weather, as always, remained a threat to the Cape Kennedy preparations. Early long-range forecasts called for a "less than desirable" outlook in the spaceport area for Tuesday.

★ ★ ★

1 Vote Saves Death Penalty

Tennessee Governor's Tearful Plea Is in Vain

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Gov. Frank Clement, rebuffed by the legislature in his efforts to end capital punishment, commuted the death sentences of five men to 99 years.

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — "Thou shalt not kill," said Gov. Frank Clement.

By one vote, the Tennessee House of Representatives favored the admonition from Exodus over the Sixth Commandment Thursday, and left the death penalty the law of Tennessee. As a result, three often-post-poned executions are scheduled for Saturday.

TEARFUL PLEA

Clement, who tearfully pleaded for an end to capital punishment, hasn't said whether he will stay the executions again. However, today's final session of the General Assembly could provide a reason for such action.

The governor has called a special session on legislative and congressional reapportionment May 10.

Before the House today was a resolution calling on Clement to have the special session also consider a bill for a statewide referendum on abolition of capital punishment.

The governor's office said that as long as the issue was before the legislature he would have nothing to say about the fate of the death row trio:

Clayton Dawson, sentenced to death nearly five years ago for raping a woman and her 16-year-old daughter. Seven other women identified him as their attacker. The U.S. Supreme Court has refused to hear his appeal made on the ground that the legislature which voted for the death penalty years ago was improperly apportioned.

SLASHED WOMAN

A bill repealing the death penalty for all crimes except murder of a policeman or prison employe on duty passed the Senate easily. Amended to exclude death for all crimes, it failed by seven votes to get the constitutional majority of 50 needed in the House two weeks ago, and was returned to committee.

Red Spaceship Lands

Whatever the success of the landing, Tass said Belyayev and Leonov had carried out their experiment successfully.

PREVIOUS ANNOUNCEMENT

The last previous official announcement by the Soviets was 5:30 a.m. — 9:30 p.m. Eastern Standard Time — which said the men had completed 13 orbits.

Japanese government radio listening posts speculated that that the spacecraft had landed about 3:45 a.m. Eastern Standard Time after completing its 17th orbit.

They reported that signals from the capsule which they were monitoring stopped at that time and were not heard again.

The West German Space Observatory in Bochum said Soviet ground stations at 2:50 a.m. Eastern Standard Time instructed Voskhod's crew to switch from automatic to hand piloting.

IN ORBIT

The spaceship then had been in orbit nearly 25 hours and should have completed 16 orbits.

Bochum said on Voskhod's next orbit signals were received from the ship with over 10 minutes delay.

"We deduce from that delay that the space ship was already reducing speed and had started braking for a possible landing operation," the spokesman said.

★ ★ ★

The world's space scientists acclaimed copilot Leonov's sally outside the two-man capsule Thursday as a feat which put the Soviet Union even more months ahead of the United States in the race for a manned moon landing.

SOVIET JUBILATION

"The target before us now is the moon, and we hope to reach it in no distant future," he said.

Seleznev said practice for the moonshot was the most important reason that Leonov left the ship. Also, he said, "in the future, cosmonauts will take part in assembling spaceships and there may also arise the need for repairing the craft."

★ ★ ★

A powerful Soviet rocket launched the two cosmonauts into orbit Thursday at 10 a.m. (2 a.m. Eastern Standard Time).

Senior Trips 'the End' in Waterford

Action to end the trips after the present senior classes at the school system's two high schools' journey to Mackinac Island in May was authorized last night by the school board.

It resulted from a 1962 school board ruling that anytime less than 50 per cent of senior class members from either school registered for the trip, the entire program would end.

Interest has been dwindling in recent years at Waterford Township High School, and this year only 47 per cent of the present senior class members made plans for the trip. This doomed the program.

At Waterford Kettering High School, however, interest in the senior trip remained high with some 60 per cent of the class members scheduled for the trip.

The board considered canceling this spring's trips but decided to allow them when Roy J. Alexander, secondary school coordinator for the school system, said that deposits would be lost if these trips were ruled out.

Cite Problem of Emergencies

Overload at Hospital Forcing Cancellations

Pontiac General Hospital trustees last night expressed concern over the hospital's emergency room load and the resulting cancellation of scheduled admissions.

Harold B. Euler, hospital administrator, touched off the discussion by reporting to the board of trustees that 29 admissions, 20 of them slated for surgery, had been canceled yesterday.

Although the hospital has only seven "holding" beds in the emergency ward, Euler said that emergency cases are averaging 50 per cent of the hospital's weekly admissions.

Euler said the trustees were concerned about the equitable distribution of emergency service throughout the community.

5 WEEKS IN ADVANCE

Cancellations have been necessary, he said, even though surgery is being scheduled five weeks in advance.

Trustees urged a community approach to the emergency problem.

On a related topic, Euler was directed to come up with a program to control the number of visitors per patient and the smoking of visitors in patient areas.

★ ★ ★

COST SHARED

Cost of the electric beds of $27,683 is to be divided evenly with the women's auxiliary. The hospital's share will come from depreciation funds. The $1,516 for the six adult beds will come from the same fund.

Euler said the new beds will mean that all adult beds in the hospital have now been replaced since 1961.

After Racial Fights

Cleveland Pupils Return

CLEVELAND (AP) — About half of the 3,400 pupils enrolled at Collinwood High School went back to classes today under a heavy police guard posted to prevent outbreaks of racial street fighting which caused the school to close yesterday.

The police, numbering nearly 200 and including mounted troops, arrested at least seven boys and took weapons away from some of them.

At one time a crowd of about 100 gathered, but mounted police succeeded in dispersing it before classes started. Pupils entered in an orderly manner.

Two boys received minor injuries yesterday when violence flared out of tension which had been building up between white and Negro pupils at the junior-senior high school on the east side. Collinwood has an estimated 10 to 20 per cent Negro enrollment.

"Everything is under control, and it appears as if those who stayed away did so because of confusion and fear," John Lee, Collinwood principal, said as classes got under way today.

YOUNGSTERS PRAISED

Last night, in calling on parents to help restore racial peace, Briggs assigned them a share of blame for the outbreaks of fighting.

He said yesterday's fights probably would not have occurred at the school, in a racially explosive area, if the youngsters had not had the backing of some adults.

City Ponders Solution to Money Need

ing would be necessary for both local and state governments to survive national government controls.

EARLY MOMENT

City Manager Warren, speaking after the returns were in, said "There are not many alternatives."

He thought the campaign had furnished helpful discussion on recognizing the city's financial problems.

Commenting on the possibility of cutbacks in city operations, Warren said such cutbacks, if ever made, need to be planned and must be made over a period of time.

CUTBACKS

He said cutbacks would have to be made as costs go up each year.

Charles Nasstrom, chairman of the Citizens Committee on Taxation, only organized opposition to the income tax proposal, thought more fiscal information would have to be placed before the public before voters could be confronted with anything like a hike in property taxes.

However, he thought yesterday's results were against an income tax and not against taxation in general.

Fans Breeze South to Back State Contestant

Patrice won the poise and appearance division of the preliminaries Thursday and had taken honors in the youth fitness division in the opening round of preliminary judging Tuesday.

Birmingham Area News

Elementary Districts to Change Boundaries

BLOOMFIELD HILLS — In an effort to cope with enrollment growth, the Bloomfield Hills Board of Education will change boundary lines for some of the elementary school districts next year.

The plan approved by the board was recommended by elementary school principals to balance the number of children assigned to each classroom.

A new area will be created for the Elisabeth Taylor Traub School now under construction on Square Lake Road while Hickory Grove and Vaughan schools will be relieved of some students.

The Traub School area will encompass parts of the present Eastover area—Adams Square, Concord Green, Whitehall and the region north of East Long Lake Road to Hickory Grove Road between Woodward and Kensington.

Also included will be the Fox Hills and Hugo Hills portions of the present Hickory Grove area.

TRANSFERS

About 75 students now attending Hickory Grove will be transferred to Pine Lake School. Students affected live in the region west of Telegraph and north of Long Lake Road.

Vaughan School will be relieved by transferring to Conant School about 50 students living in the Sodon Lake area bounded by Telegraph, Franklin Road, Lone Pine and Long Lake Road.

The main advantage of the plan approved by the board is that it involves relocation in the fewest possible areas, according to Schools Supt. Eugene Johnson.

★ ★ ★

He said the action will stem severe overcrowding in several schools next year. In the last three months, elementary enrollment has increased by 60 students, he added.

CONSTRUCTION

The plan will require that construction of another elementary school be accelerated to permit occupancy by 1966. With funds already approved by voters, the school will be built on a centrally located site now owned by the board, he said.

Bloomfield Hills High School seniors Mary Town and Carolyn Dameron have been named recipients of the Robert C. J. Traub Memorial Scholarship.

MUSICIAN

Alternates are Linda Lee Carnegie for art and Joan E. Aitken for music. Linda is the daughter of Mrs. Douglas Carnegie, 984 S. Reading, Bloomfield Township, and Joan's parents are Mr. and Mrs. George Aitken, 5301 Lauren, Bloomfield Township.

A new 9 a.m. session has been added to the "Exploring Science" series for youngsters at Cranbrook Institute of Science.

★ ★ ★

Open to children in the fourth grade and up, the new programs will start tomorrow when the subject will be "Pig Tales or Members of the Elephant Family."

Topic for the March 27 session is electricity.

Top Educators Resign Posts

Drs. Reid, Johnston Leaving Waterford

Dr. Reid, on leave of absence the past year from her duties as assistant superintendent for curriculum, stated in her letter of resignation that she had decided to devote her time in the immediate future to writing and study.

She and her husband, also an educator, have been working together the past year on a research project.

Dr. Johnston, who provides services to the school district on a part-time basis as director of educational research, reiterated his previously announced intention to retire June 14.

HIGH PRAISE

Both administrators in their letters had high praise for the school system and particularly with recent accomplishments.

Dr. Johnston said that in his judgment Waterford is the top school system in the state.

Board members also approved two sabbatical leaves for the 1965-68 school year, both for the purpose of doctoral studies.

The mayor also hit at arguments that a committee be appointed to study the city's financial woes.

"It would appear that both those working for and against the tax gave both sides of the issue very clearly."

Charles Nasstrom, chairman of the Citizens Committee on Taxation, said that his group concentrated on those precincts that in the past have had a high voter turnout.

HERRINGTON HILLS

He cited the Herrington Hills area and Precincts 7 and 39 as examples. Precinct 7, located at Herrington School, turned back the income tax 282 to 74, a difference of 208.

Nasstrom's committee, which petitioned for yesterday's referendum, was the only organized opposition to the income levy.

Warned Accused Generals of Violations, Guard Officer Says

LANSING (AP) — Lt. Col. John Brown, who was fiscal officer for two National Guard generals accused of gross neglect of duty, testified Thursday that he warned them about violations of rules on spending procedures.

Brown said he warned Maj. Gen. Ronald McDonald that "you would get your hand spanked" and later called on Brig. Gen. Carson Neifert for "assistance in getting things back on a straight line."

★ ★ ★

Brown testified on the eighth day of Gov. George Romney's hearing for the two generals and was scheduled to take the witness stand again when the hearing resumes next Tuesday.

During his two-hour appearance on the stand Thursday, the hearing room was crowded for the first time since the opening day of the hearing. The audience numbered about 40.

ACCUSATIONS

Romney has said it was accusations by Brown which led to an auditor general's report, which led to suspension of the two generals.

Brown was fired by Neifert Oct. 8, 1963, for insubordination, McDonald said, and was reinstated by Romney Oct. 8, 1964—the same day Neifert and McDonald were relieved of duties.

A Romney aide, Walter Devries, has testified that Brown was reinstated because about 75 per cent of the allegations he made were substantiated by the auditor general's report.

Brown was called to testify on a charge concerning purchase of items by the quartermaster general (QMG) for Camp Grayling or Lansing headquarters for which the bills were sent to local armories for payment.

ARMORY FUNDS

He said McDonald asked him about local armory funds for such expenditures.

"I told him it would be contrary to the Appropriations Act and Department of Administration rules and regulations," Brown testified.

"He asked did I think we'd get in trouble if we used any of these funds," he added.

"I told him," Brown said, "that it would not be fraud but if we get caught you would get your hand spanked."

HELD POST

McDonald was QMG until June 1959, when he became adjutant general and Neifert became QMG.

Brown said he told Neifert "of many violations of Department of Administration regulations going on within the (QMG) office."

Referring to previous testimony, Romney asked why the military would give the Grand Rapids Armory money to spend for items for Lansing headquarters instead of giving the money directly to headquarters.

After some discussion by Brown, the governor said, "that doesn't help me understand why it was necessary to send money to Grand Rapids."

TRUE NATURE

The charges say such procedures were carried out to conceal the true nature of the expenditures.

In answer to a similar question by Assistant Atty. Gen. Russell Searl, Brown said it was done "to circumvent the state purchasing division and buy equipment other than what we had requested funds for."

Fewer Onions, Please

LONDON (UPI) — Disgruntled female teachers in Kent have demanded fewer onions in school dinners because their after-class sweethearts object to onion-tainted kisses.

"When we have an evening date, we either have to go hungry at lunch-time or risk breathing onion fumes all over our boyfriends," one teacher explained.

St. Patrick's Dance at Pontiac Northern

By ALICE TURNER

The Pontiac Northern High School International Club will sponsor a St. Patrick's day dance tonight in the school's auxiliary gym. The sock-hop, Sadie Hawkins style, will begin at 8 p.m.

The festival, sponsored by the Michigan State Vocal Association, is not a competitive festival between schools: Groups are rated individually as to their tone, pitch, balance, appearance, blend, interpretation and the ability to sight read.

Groups representing Northern are the Northern Lights and the girls ensemble, under the direction of Judith Wade. Others are the a capella choir and the Northern Men's Chorus, under the direction of John Tousley.

Two Pontiac Northern teachers have recently been awarded institute grants.

Robert Varner, a chemistry teacher, will be sponsored by the Natural Defense Act. He will study chemistry and physics while attending Oak Ridge Institute of Natural Science in Knoxville, Tenn. Varner's grant was awarded in conjunction with the Atomic Energy Commission.

Jay Bates, biology teacher, has received an institute grant. He will attend the University of Minnesota in St. Paul, to study biology.

Both received grants through a program designed to promote and improve teaching in United States high schools.

Registrations for spring term adult education classes will be taken at the adult education office March 22-25 from 1-4 and 7-9 p.m.

If a class is not offered twelve or more adults can request its addition to the schedule by contacting the adult education office.

It's 'Play Time' at St. Fred's

By JANIS QUARLES

Taking the lead roles in the Latin II class play, "The East Meets Rome," were Frank Estrada and Jeanne Tarcholski. Larry Mason wrote and directed the play.

"Post Bellum" was enacted by the Latin I group. Heading the cast were Kathy Slabinski, Maria Bora, Carol Hobson, Bill Cook and Paul Schmansky.

It was directed by Peg Polmear and moderated by Gary Rodiger. All lines were spoken in Latin.

Working on the presentation were Maria Landry, John La Londe, Steve Hamilton, Rita Villa, Dan Johnston and Joe Bard.

Juniors at Milford Set Dance Tonight

By BOB GORSLINE

At the recent district band and orchestra festival, Milford's concert band received an overall rating of "2". This was determined by its averaging a concert performance rating of "2" and a sight-reading rating of "1".

To Stage Play at BHHS

By KAREN TRIMMER

Three performances, today and tomorrow at 8:15 p. m. plus a special Saturday matinee at 2 p. m., will be presented.

Written by Mary Chase, this year's play, "Mrs. McThing," recounts the lesson that an "experienced" witch teaches a wealthy snob concerning the real values and qualities of a young boy.

Some Republicans May Seek Tougher Measure

Vote Rights Bill Wins Friends Quickly in House and Senate

WASHINGTON (AP) — The administration's voting rights bill has won friends quickly in both the House and Senate but there are signs some House Republicans may press for an even tougher measure.

In a House speech and again in hearings before a House Judiciary subcommittee, GOP members called for a bill with broader protection on Negro voting rights than the Johnson administration has proposed.

But even as he agreed that the bill he helped draft fails to cover all possible cases of Negro vote denial, Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach defended it as the best he could devise to meet "the central problem we are trying to deal with."

In two long sessions before the House committee, one in the morning and one at night, Katzenbach defined that problem as a search for "a systematic, automatic method to deal with discriminatory tests, discriminatory testers and discriminatory threats."

TERMS OF BILL

Under the terms of the bill, six states — although not named specifically — would be the chief targets for federal action to open the polls to Negroes — Mississippi, Alabama, Louisiana, Georgia, South Carolina and Virginia.

As matters now stand, only they would feel the full force of the bill's power to strike down their voting tests and send in federal registrars to qualify Negroes to vote in all elections — federal, state and local.

While the House moved speedily forward with its hearings, the bill passed a key test in the Senate when it was assured that the Judiciary Committee, headed by Sen. James O. Eastland, D-Miss., would not be able to bottle it up.

By a vote of 67 to 13 the Senate required the committee to act on the bill by April 9 or have it returned automatically to the full Senate on that date. Southern cries of "steamroller" were raised during the debate preceding the vote.

2 FRONTS

Katzenbach was engaged on two fronts in the voting rights fight during his appearance at the House hearings Thursday night. Four times while he was answering questions of committee members he was summoned to the telephone by President Johnson. The President wanted help in formulating an answer to Alabama's Gov. George C. Wallace's request for federal assistance in protecting marchers planning to walk from Selma, Ala., to Montgomery, Ala., to protest discrimination against Negro voters.

★ ★ ★

Katzenbach's testimony was also interrupted by the collapse of the committee's chief counsel, William R. Foley. During one of his talks with the President, Katzenbach sat at a desk in an anteroom advising Johnson while a doctor and several other persons hovered over Foley, stretched out on a couch a few feet away.

Chairman Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y., said Foley was suffering from "complete exhaustion." He refused hospitalization and was taken home.

Katzenbach, who faces another round of questioning today, met Republican criticism that the bill does not go far enough with a challenge to the GOP to come up with something better.

WORKED HARD

"Just because we may not have covered every bit of discrimination in the bill is no argument against the bill," he said. "If you can do it, and keep it constitutional, fine. I've worked hard on it, and I can't do it."

The GOP critics were Reps. Charles E. Goodel of New York and William C. Cramer of Florida. On the floor, Goodell, a member of the House Republican leadership, said the bill's provision that federal action will be taken only in states with literacy tests in which less than 50 per cent of the voting age population was registered or voted last November ignores other states where discrimination is practiced.

"Discrimination practices that disenfranchise 10 per cent, or 20 per cent of the population should not be ignored," he said. "Let us do something for minority rights where the Negro is in the minority, not only where he makes up half of the population."

★ ★ ★

Cramer echoed the same view in the committee. "We should protect a man's right to vote no matter where he resides," he said.

Lots of Melons for Dying Boy

SHAWSVILLE, Va. (AP) — Five-year-old Bryan Akers, a leukemia victim doctors give six months to live, has had a craving for watermelon since doctors put him on a drug six months ago.

His parents and relatives were unable to find any melons in stores around this little western Virginia community.

"Bryan just doesn't know what to say," Mrs. Akers related last night. "He started eating watermelon at 10 this morning and hasn't taken a nap all day."

DEAR POLLY — When you do not have your reading glasses fill a clear and clean glass bottle with water, hold it near the print and see how beautifully it magnifies the print.

DEAR POLLY — I have found that a piece of foam rubber cut to the width of a door for its length and about two or three inches wide can be glued to the inside bottom of a door to make a very good insulation against drafts.—NELLA.

★ ★ ★

DEAR POLLY — I use the top metal framework from a discarded garment bag for hanging socks and small articles to dry.

It can be hung over a line, basement pipe or bathroom shower rod. It can be folded flat for storage.—MRS. A.V.A.

DEAR POLLY — Extra large cardboard boxes and cartons are a real problem when they are to be burned in an incinerator or trash burner.

At the first sign of rain I put mine outside the door and after it has had a good drenching, the cardboard is soft and pliable.

Then it is easily torn into small pieces and placed in the garbage or trash can. — JOSEPHINE.

DEAR POLLY — I always like to keep a box of facial tissues handy in the kitchen.

It always seemed to get pushed around and I could never find it when needed until I solved the problem by cutting two flaps on the side of the box. I folded them back and, with thumbtacks, attached the flaps to the underside of a cabinet.

Now the tissues are always handy and when one box is empty, it is easily replaced with a new one. — D.M.C.

Spanish Influence

Modern bath-a-day fans would have had astronomical medical bills if they lived in the days of Ferdinand and Isabella.

These Spanish monarchs of Christopher Columbus fame not only had the swimming pool at Seville's Alcazar filled in, but also decreed that people could bathe only when ordered to do so by a doctor!

Keep Kitchen 'Chef Clean'

Worrying about the cleanliness of a fine restaurant is foolish, according to Helen Worth, who is Director of her own cooking school in New York and has toured great restaurant kitchens all over the world.

Along with epicurean cooking, Mrs. Worth teaches efficiency based on time and motion studies.

She says, for instance, that the easiest way to wash a large bowl or pan is to put it in the sink immediately after use, add soap or detergent, and let running water fill it. Setting it down frees hands for other tasks.

If it has contained protein foods — such as eggs, cheese, meat, or shellfish — rinse it with cold water before soaking and washing it with hot suds.

THERE ARE SMILES . . .—The oldest daughter of President and Mrs. Johnson—Lynda Bird—is 21 today. Life at the White House over the past year has had its happy moments, as evidenced by these photos made during her many public activities as a member of the first family.

Birthday, That Is

Lynda Bird Takes Cake

WASHINGTON (AP) — Lynda Bird Johnson, the tall, black-haired daughter of the President, turns 21 today with the hope "they give me a birthday cake."

Being 21 won't make a big difference in her life, she indicated, except she is going to register to vote in Texas as soon as she can.

★ ★ ★

Lynda included some philosophy and some cheery teasing as she sat in the White House library Thursday, answering the questions of reporters who had requested the interview and were invited for tea.

When one remarked she thought Lynda had matured in the past year, Lynda thanked her and added, "I think having the spotlight on you matures you."

'THRUST UPON YOU'

On being the daughter of a President, she said, "You have to have a role — people thrust it upon you."

Immediately she ran into questions about dates. Was she seeing many young men?

"If I can just keep everybody from sabotaging these young men who take the chance to go out — "she started, then grinned and said "I'm just dating lots of people."

As for living in the White House, "it's very very interesting; I feel very very closely tied to other people who lived here. I've enjoyed most of the things I've done. The only problem is that looming ghost of things undone—like studying for a quiz the next day."

Pregnant, Paralyzed but Actress Cheerful

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Actress Patricia Neal, her speech hobbled and her right side paralyzed by three massive strokes, remained "very cheerful" today, although the life of her unborn child still hung in the balance, her husband said.

"She's displayed tremendous courage — and has never been depressed," said British mystery writer Roald Dah . "She's always joking now."

Dahl, who brought his wife home from UCLA Medical Center Wednesday night, disclosed Thursday that she is five months pregnant.

"But we don't know whether or not she'll be able to have the baby," he said. "We'll have to evaluate the effect of the medication and X-ray treatment she's received."

The Academy Award-winning actress, 39, was stricken Feb. 17 while giving the oldest of her three children, Tessa, 8, a bath. She had just returned to their rented Pacific Palisades home after doing her first big scene in the film, "Seven Women."

"She felt this terrible pain in her neck," said Dahl, recounting the ordeal.

"She lost consciousness, but regained it on the way to the hospital. Thirty minutes later she suffered a second stroke."

While she was being X rayed and given other diagnostic tests, Miss Neal suffered a third stroke, her husband said.

"We didn't know when she went into surgery whether she'd survive. Her chances seemed a little better when she came out of surgery alive."

She remained in surgery seven hours while doctors removed a blood clot and accumulated blood from massive hemorrhaging and clipped together the broken blood vessel in her brain, Dahl said.

"She was unconscious about 2½ weeks," said Dahl. "But gradually she began to come out of it.

Spotlighting the Stars

ROGER HAYWARD, Pontiac Northern . . . 6-4 . . . Senior . . . Top vote-getter in the poll of county coaches conducted by The Pontiac Press . . . a regular for three seasons, he is being boomed for all-state honors. Hayward averaged 22.6 points a game while playing guard, pivot and forward . . . possesses a deadly one-hand shot from outside and can shoot with either hand when close to the hoop . . . holds the Northern rebounding record.

★ ★ ★

LEE PALMER, Ferndale . . . 6-3 . . . Senior . . . Leading scorer in Oakland County with a 25.0 average . . . a strong all-state candidate . . . shoots well with either hand from the outside and is rated a tricky driver . . . scored 36 points while being guarded by Royal Oak Kimball's Roger Peltz . . . second in the voting to Hayward.

★ ★ ★

CARL ARNOLD, Pontiac Central . . . 5-8 . . . Senior . . . Sparked the Chiefs to a tie for second in the Saginaw Valley and to the regional finals with an 18.8 average . . . he was second in scoring in the Saginaw Valley . . . he was PCH's main outside threat, but could drive for the basket from the side.

★ ★ ★

HAROLD WILBER, Birmingham Seaholm . . . 6-3 . . . Senior . . . Like Hayward, he is very adept at playing all positions . . . His main forte was bringing the ball up the floor and then switching to the corner or moving into the pivot . . . averaged 19 points a game . . . strong on defense and a good rebounder.

★ ★ ★

ROGER PELTZ, Royal Oak Kimball . . . 6-4 . . . Junior . . . Only junior on The Pontiac Press All-County team . . . noted for his defensive play, but still managed a very respectable 19.5 average . . . his play triggered Knights to tie for the Southeastern Michigan Association title with Ferndale.

★ ★ ★

THE REV. JOHN RAKOCZY, Orchard Lake St. Mary . . . COACH-OF-THE-YEAR . . . Under "Fr. Rocky's" direction, the Eaglets won the Northwest Catholic League crown, lost in the second division playoffs by a point and then stunned Avondale and Lake Orion to win a Class B district crown . . . the Eaglets came within a free throw of upsetting No. 5 ranked Holt in the regional, finally losing in overtime . . . the Eaglets finished with a 15-5 record . . . Fr. Rakoczy's lifetime record at OLSM is 154-59.

Halfback Joins Cards

ST. LOUIS (UPI) — Mike Fracchia, a 6-foot-2, 200-pound defensive halfback who graduated from Alabama in 1963, has signed a 1965 St. Louis football Cardinal contract. Fracchia missed all of last season because of a knee injury, which is reported healed.

Batter Bops Umpire for 3rd Strike Call

BRENHAM, Tex. (UPI)— Umpire Paul Timmins called a third strike on St. Thomas Junior College's Ewell Jackson III for the final out in a 9-6 loss to Blinn JC yesterday.

Bad News Ahead for Prep Matmen

There's some bad news in the making for high school wrestlers in Oakland County.

★ ★ ★

The bad news is Pontiac Northern's Bruce Tippin, who waded through the opposition this season, posting an 18-1-1 record. He's a junior and will be back next year, which is good news for coach Bill Willson.

Tippin, grappling in the 145-pound division, was named the outstanding wrestler on the 1964-65 All - Oakland County Wrestling Team selected this week by county mat coaches and The Pontiac Press' sports staff.

Tippin was the lone Huskie on the mat team which was dominated by Walled Lake, Pontiac Central, Berkley and Farmington. The four schools put two each on the first team.

FOUR JUNIORS

Four juniors and eight seniors were named to this year's squad.

Roger Nicolay (103) and Fred Hering (112) grabbed starting berths for Walled Lake and the Vikings also landed two berths on the second team—Don Findlay (127) and John Hellner (133).

★ ★ ★

'B' WRESTLER

Buford is the lone Class B school representative on the team. The senior grappler rang up a 21-0 season record that included the state 138-pound championship.

★ ★ ★

Tippin, who placed third in the state in the Class A tournament, competed in three weight divisions during the season — 138, 145 and 154 — and his lone loss came in a 154-pound bout with Kettering's John Salisbury at the start of the season.

Tippin won the Inter-Lakes League championship, the Inter-Lakes-Eastern Michigan title and the regional crown at PNH. He finished third in the state tournament.

Trailing Tippin in the balloting for the MVW award were Peterson of PCH and Craig Irwin of Royal Oak Kimball. Irwin (heavyweight) was a second-team selection.

News Policies for Viet Viewed

Officials to Discuss War Press Coverage

HONOLULU (AP)—James L. Greenfield, assistant secretary of state for public affairs, says the U. S. State Department and the Defense Department "jointly decide" press policies in Viet Nam.

★ ★ ★

Greenfield arrived in Honolulu yesterday for two days of talks with other government officials concerning the handling of information on the Viet Nam situation.

An Associated Press news story earlier said foreign correspondents in South Viet Nam had reported that official military restrictions were making U. S. involvement difficult to cover.

The dispatch said U.S. military authorities made information more inaccessible than at any time since U. S. assistance began in Viet Nam in 1961.

Greenfield read the story at an information conference and said:

"We are discussing, as we do periodically, the full range of information subjects relating to Viet Nam.

AWARE OF PROBLEMS

"We are well aware there are problems and we will be making recommendations aimed at facilitating press coverage."

Earl Odom, director of Information Services for the Defense Department, agreed that there was consultation on priority information with State Department officials.

"I think every change has been done in concert," Odom said.

Representatives from the White House, the U.S. Information Agency, Greenfield and Odom and others from their departments will confer at Camp H. M. Smith, headquarters of the Pacific military commander in chief.

Photo-Driver Licenses May Be Ready in May

★

Hare said the original timetable called for the first licenses to be issued in late June or early July, but because the cameras are being installed in three stages, the first of the new licenses now should be available some time in May.

Sang Way to LBJ's Heart; Now Voices Hope for Kids

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — Miss Patti Page, the singer, has met Presidents Truman and Eisenhower, due to her singing, and also Senator Bobby Kennedy, when he was merely an author . . . and therefore she is willing to raise her two adopted children to be singers if they wish . . . because how else can you meet a President nowadays unless you are a Vice President?

WILSON

But that is secondary to the fact that Patti, while rehearsing at the Brooklyn NBC studios for "The Telephone Hour," was chatting with a nice, quiet, restrained telephone company official . . . who had to make a phone call.

He stepped to a booth. The phone was out of order . . . To a second booth . . . Out of order . . . To a third booth.

"Did he remain there, quiet and restrained? In five minutes there were five repair trucks there!"

★ ★ ★

Patti and husband Charles O'Curran are vastly excited about adopted children Daniel, 9 months, and Kathleen, 2½, whom they're taking to Tulsa to show to the grandparents.

"But the big thing: I want to teach my son to read at 3," said Patti.

She was preparing the big red cards, etc. . . . prescribed in the Dr. Glenn Doman book, "How to Teach Your Baby to Read." Patti said, "Wouldn't it be wonderful if children at 3 could sit in the corner reading—instead of screaming?"

Parents, too, maybe?
