Fatal Accidents Down in Oakland on Lakes, Roads

Accidental death is decreasing in Oakland County.

Drownings, on the rise throughout the state, are down in the county.

Traffic fatalities, also showing an upward trend outstate, are well behind last year's pace in Oakland.

Authorities striving to control both lake and highway traffic point to increased patrols on the lakes and good weather conditions as reasons for the drop in fatalities.

There were 51 traffic deaths at this time last year. There have been 41 so far in 1959.

There were 16 drownings at this point in 1958. This year's toll is 12.

"Highway traffic in the first two months of this year was at an extremely low ebb due to the unusual amount of ice on county roads," said Sgt. Lorenz Ahlgrim, commander of the Pontiac State Police Post.

"Bad driving conditions caused motorists to be more careful, Sgt. Ahlgrim asserts. "We naturally warn motorists to drive with care, but one of the best speed preventers I know is a sheet of ice."

In January and February this year the combined death toll equalled that of February alone in 1958.

Seven died in auto accidents over the first two months this year, four in January and three in February. Six died in January and seven in February last year.

Only one month, June, saw a higher traffic toll this year than in the corresponding month 1958.

CARELESSNESS IS NO. 1

Up to this time last year there had been six accidents in which more than one person was killed, compared to only two such accidents this year, Ahlgrim said.

Carelessness, an overworked word in police warnings, is still the No. 1 cause of traffic deaths, statistics show.

Pedestrian deaths, in more than 95 per cent of all cases, result from a person carelessly walking into the path of a mov-

Justice Dept. Probing Hoffa

From Our News Wires

WASHINGTON—Assistant Attorney General Malcolm R. Wilkey said today the Justice Department is investigating "wholesale" racketeering, perjury and income tax evasion by members of the Teamsters Union.

Many of the inquiries grew out of disclosures in the 30-month-old Senate Rackets Committee investigation. The department turned up the other cases on its own.

Disclosure of the Justice Department action came on the heels of two stinging Rackets Committee reports linking Teamsters' President James R. Hoffa with crime, corruption and communism. A Grand Jury has been reviewing Hoffa's testimony before the rackets inquiry for eight months for possible perjury action.

Wilkey, head of the Justice Department criminal division, said certain Teamsters' activities were of "more than academic interest." He rejected any thought that the department was "going after" the Teamsters.

He said "wholesale violations" by certain unidentified Teamsters' officials "have been called to our attention."

COUNT 39 CONVICTIONS

Floods Swirl Over Iowa in Rainstorm

By The Associated Press

Torrents of rain swamped parts of the Midwest today.

More than 11 inches poured down on Lineville in south-central Iowa. Fort Madison, near Iowa's southeast corner, was plunged into a flood emergency by a 9.42-inch rainfall.

The storm drove eastward into central Illinois where Springfield received more than 3.4 inches and Centralia's streets were awash under a 2.2-inch fall.

The rather narrow belt of very heavy rain washed out bridges and left roads and highways covered by freshets and storm-born lakes to depths as great as five feet.

Ministers Agree on Arms Panel as Talks End

Final Message Claims Geneva Parley Brought Powers Closer Together

GENEVA (UPI) — The Big Four foreign ministers left for home today with a tentative agreement on new disarmament talks which saved their 10-week conference here from total failure.

Secretary of State Christian A. Herter and Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko set out by air in opposite directions at approximately the same time — shortly after 3 a. m. EST. French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville heads home later in the day. Herter will arrive in Washington about 3:15 p. m. EST.

Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd returned to London last night.

A mildly-worded communique closing the conference said it had brought the foreign ministers closer together on "certain points," but did not say what they were.

The only concrete achievement of the talks appeared to be the "useful exchange of views" on disarmament negotiations, announced in a separate communique.

Although the official announcement said only that the results of the exchange would be announced after "appropriate consultations," conference sources said the foreign ministers actually had agreed to renew the arms talks broken off two years ago.

They said their plan called for the creation of a U.N. disarmament panel made up of 8 or 10 members, evenly divided between supporters of Russia and the West.

NAME PANEL

The members of an 8-nation panel would be the United States, Britain, Canada and France for the West and Russia, Poland, Czechoslovakia and Romania for the Communist East. Italy and Red Bulgaria would be added to this group if 10-nation talks are decided on, the sources said.

The talks which collapsed in 1957 after several fruitless years had been carried out by representatives of five nations—the United States, Britain, Canada, France and Russia.

As for the questions of Berlin, Germany and European security, the principal issues discussed at the deadlocked conference here, the foreign ministers had in effect handed them up to the "big two"—President Eisenhower and Premier Nikita Khrushchev—for further dis-

Hurricane Swerves Back Toward Hawaii

HONOLULU (AP) — The heart of Hawaii was threatened today by a hurricane.

Hurricane Dot, once thought to have skirted the islands without causing damage, swerved northward abruptly during the night.

The Weather Bureau posted hurricane warnings for the west half of Oahu, site of Honolulu, the capital and principal city of the 50th state.

An Air Force weather reconnaissance plane reported the hurricane 130 miles south of Honolulu at 2 a.m. HST, moving northward at 10 miles an hour, with winds up to 103 miles an hour.

REPORTS TO PRESIDENT — Vice President Richard Nixon reported to President Eisenhower yesterday afternoon following his return from his tour of the Soviet Union and visit to Poland. Milton Eisenhower, the President's brother, who accompanied Nixon on the trip, was with them. Nixon went directly to the White House from the National Airport.

Vice President Is Busy Today at Usual Jobs

Plans to Talk to Cabinet Tomorrow; No Report to Nation Scheduled

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate Republican leader, Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, said today arrangements may be made for Vice President Nixon to brief all members of the Senate on his trip to Russia and Poland.

Dirksen told newsmen there had been some discussion of asking Nixon to speak at a conference of GOP senators but added he thought it might be well to hold a meeting at which all senators could be present.

He said he would take this up later with Democratic leader, Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas.

Nixon, who returned yesterday afternoon from his trip behind the Iron Curtain, was in the presiding officer's chair at the start of today's Senate session.

He also attended an early morning meeting of the National Security Council at the White House. This was the Council's regular weekly session.

Nixon's trip brought no expectation of any immediate turnabout in Kremlin policy in the cold war, which the administration figures could last another 25 to 50 years.

Nixon, who already had cabled back lengthy reports during his two-week tour of the Soviet Union and Poland, made a personal report to Eisenhower during a 75-minute conference at the White House Wednesday.

He will review the trip again at a Cabinet meeting Friday.

There was no immediate plan for a public address to the na-

State Police Entering Case; Doctor's Widow to Take Lie Test

Investigation into the baffling slaying of Pontiac Dr. W. Carleton Warrick picked up today with the assignment of two State Police detectives to the case and the doctor's wife undergoing a lie detector test.

Chief Assistant Oakland County Prosecutor George F. Taylor said Pontiac Police detectives accepted the help from the State Police after two weeks of still being without a motive for the July 24 shooting.

The murderer, with a .45 caliber revolver tucked inside an arm sling, shot the 71-year-old doctor in his office at 24½ E. Huron St. He died the following night.

Early in the investigation, Dr. Warrick's attractive blonde wife, Joan, 44, agreed to take a lie detector test. Investigators decided to administer the test this afternoon at 1:30 at the Redford State Police Post.

Meanwhile, Taylor said he would hold a conference with Pontiac and State police to coordinate further investigation.

Although they have not been named as yet, it was a possibility that State Police Detectives Charles M. Leaf of the Pontiac

Supervisors OK MSUO Sewers

It was sort of like putting the cart before the horse, but the Oakland County Board of Supervisors yesterday completed financial arrangements for the Michigan State University Oakland sewer system while workmen were hard at work on the $660,000 project.

Approved was a $100,000 loan from the county's general fund to the sewer-building Department of Public Works, and the beginning of a $337,000 revenue bond issue to help defray some costs of the system.

The DPW already had $230,000 in available funds, $140,000 from private investors and $90,000 from the university.

Only dissenter to the $100,000 loan and bond issue was Sydney Frid, Northville supervisor.

He raised a question of increased costs from an earlier reported $610,000, and then cast "no" votes on all issues pertaining to the sewer.

Harold K. Schone, DPW director, explained the added costs were for "any additional contingencies."

Before they approved the loan, supervisors first had to put their stamp of approval of the return of $161,877 from the DPW back to the county's general fund.

The moneys were loans made to the department by the county to finance planning of the Evergreen and Farmington sanitary sewer projects.

The department took money from the sale of $12,000,000 in general obligation bonds for the projects to reimburse the county.

Schone emphasized to supervisors that the MSU revenue bond issue would not be a financial obligation of the county.

PAID FROM REVENUES

"The principal and interest on the bonds will be paid for from the net revenues derived from operating costs," he said.

Meanwhile, he said work crews had already laid 2,700 feet of pipe for the sewer system.

Crews are hoping, Schone said, to have the system completed when classes begin next month.

Thundershowers on Way but Heat to Stay

Showers or thundershowers are expected to arrive in Pontiac late tonight, and leave sometime tomorrow, the weatherman says. The low tonight will be 68 and the high Friday near 85.

Today's light variable winds are due to become southeasterly at 8-15 miles an hour tonight and shift to northwesterly late tomorrow.

Showers in southeast and southwest Michigan forecast for tonight will end tomorrow with temperatures a little cooler.

Fair and pleasant is Saturday's outlook.

GMC Truck Sales Best in Three Years

Domestic retail sales deliveries of GMC trucks in July reached 7,062 units, a 42.5 per cent gain over the corresponding month of 1958 and the best monthly sales rate since June 1956, it was announced today by Philip J. Monaghan, General Motors vice president and GMC Truck and Coach Division general manager.

GMC deliveries in the first seven months of 1959 were up 40.6 per cent over the corresponding period last year with 44,457 units delivered this year compared with 31,623 in the seven-month period of 1958.

Ike Jumps Into Labor Bill Row

Airs Views to the Nation on Radio, Television at 6:30 Tonight

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower joins battle tonight with a divided and quarreling Congress over the future shape of legislation to curb labor racketeering and abuses.

With the labor controls issue coming to a head in the House next week, Eisenhower arranged to go before the nation at 6:30 p.m. EST tonight over major radio and television networks. He is expected to urge stricter controls over labor unions than the House Labor Committee has proposed and the Senate has passed.

Announcement of his plans immediately stirred up demands among some House Democrats for equal air time to voice their disagreement. The networks, however, were reserving a decision until they hear what Eisenhower has to say.

Not since the tumultuous days of 1947, when the 80th Congress enacted the Taft-Hartley Act, has Congress been so bitterly at odds over labor legislation.

With tensions mounting, the House Rules Committee opened wide the door Wednesday to a free-for-all battle when the issue reaches the floor next Tuesday.

The committee, which decides how legislation is to be handled, decreed no limits on the amendments or substitute proposals which can be offered or on parliamentary moves that can be made. The week-long battle starts Tuesday.

"It's going to be a Donnybrook," wryly commented Rules Committee Chairman Howard W. Smith (D-Va).

"Everybody can get down there on the floor and scratch and fight and wave their arms."

VESTER E. MOCK

Highway Branch Has New Chief

Vester Mock Named to Head Tri-County Office in Pontiac

New office manager of the Pontiac branch of the Michigan State Highway Department is Vester E. Mock, 55, former office manager of the Jackson County Agriculture Stabilization and Conservation Committee.

The new manager was statistician with the highway department's planning division from 1939 through 1942.

Since his graduation from Michigan State University in 1926, Mock has taught science and mathematics in several state high schools. He was an inspector with the Department of Agriculture from 1937 through 1939, and a postmaster at Springport.

The highway office, located at 926 Featherstone Ave., opened in March, and it coordinates all highway work done in Oakland, Macomb and St. Clair counties.

State Police Enter Dr. Warrick Case

Post, and Calvin Lepien, of the Redford Post, might be assigned to the case.

It was Leaf and Lepien who cracked the mysterious slaying of Royal Oak car dealer Parvin (Bill) Lassiter back in May.

About the Warrick killing, Taylor said: "It has more possible motives than the Thompson case." He had reference to a wealthy Orchard Lake woman axed to death in 1944.

Taylor recalled that suspects in the still-unsolved Thompson case also took truth serum tests but to no avail in finding the murderer.

The man who found the bleeding Dr. Warrick after the shooting, Lloyd J. Tunnell, 53, of Waterford Township, was cleared in the murder after taking such a test Sunday.

Since that time Taylor said no new suspects, clues or motives have been uncovered.

City Man Jailed in Grand Rapids

Admits Beating Wife's Former Mate Whose Condition Is Critical

A Pontiac man who savagely beat his wife's former husband was in the Grand Rapids city jail today awaiting arraignment on a charge of assault with intent to commit murder.

Herbert O. Wilson, of 607 Granada St., admitted to Kent County Prosecutor Joseph A. Renihan this morning that he beat his wife's former husband with a lamp table Tuesday night in a Grand Rapids hotel room.

Wilson was arrested early yesterday morning by Pontiac State Police troopers at M59 and Porter road.

His victim, Jack Levandoski, 35, of Grand Rapids, is in critical condition at St. Mary's Hospital, Grand Rapids, with a skull fracture, brain injuries and multiple cuts and bruises of the face.

Hospital authorities said there is "a chance Levandoski will pull through."

Police in Grand Rapids said they found a note on Wilson which read: "I plan to kill Levandoski. There must be some good I can do in this world."

Wilson told him, Renihan said, that he felt hostile toward Levandoski when the latter came to Pontiac to visit his two small children.

"Wilson said he'd be doing the world a favor by getting rid of Levandoski," Renihan stated.

Wilson invited Levansodki to the hotel, then beat him up in the room, he said in a statement to the prosecutor.

Wilson is a trucking company salesman. He married his wife shortly after she divorced Levandoski in 1957.

tion, but Nixon spoke informally on a national radio-TV broadcast after his sleek jetliner had arrived from Warsaw Wednesday.

He told of friendly receptions he had received among the people of the two countries, and said they want peace. He urged also that Khrushchev, when he visits this country, be received courteously and without hostile demonstrations.

GREETED BY BIGWIGS

Nixon hurried to the White House after a roaring airport welcome. Eisenhower was not at the airport, but among the police-estimated throng of 3,500 greeters were administration and Republican bigwigs and the ambassadors from the Soviet Union and Poland.

GOP boosters waved a big sign: "All America is proud of Pat and Dick."

The first welcomer was little Julie Nixon, 10, who raced up the airplane ramp to hug her father and mother. Her sister Patricia, 13, was at home with a sprained back, suffered while playing.

a seven-inch fall and Creston 3.86 inches.

In most localities, the brunt of the rain fell in periods of six hours or less. Many basements were filled to the ceilings. Normally lazy streams turned into surging flows spread over lowland farms, destroying ripening crops.

South of the Creston-Leon area, the flood courses spread into lower lands of northern Missouri around Trenton and Princeton.

The center span of the U. S. 136 highway bridge over the Grand River was swept away. U. S. 34 near Creston was blocked when a mud bank slipped over the pavement. Many auto routes were blocked along the Missouri-Iowa border areas.

At Fort Madison, where Mayor Walter J. Guenther said he was considering a request that his city be declared a disaster area, a dozen families were evacuated from their houses.

One woman was rescued after flood waters swept her off her front porch and carried her two blocks.

The rain band generally marked a cool front which spread across Northern states from the Rockies to New England. To the South and Southeast, muggy weather persisted.

Air Force Reserve Col. John W. Richardson of 612 Bennington Dr., Bloomfield Hills, president of the Reserve Officers Assn., said he had been assured by both the White House and the Defense Department that the reserve forces will maintain their present strength during this fiscal year.

Col. Richardson made the statement after conferences with officials of the Defense Department and the White House.

Fatal Accidents Down on Oakland's Roads, Lakes

There were 25 pedestrian deaths last year. Nine pedestrians have been killed in the county in the first seven months of 1959.

That careless drivers are abundant is evidenced by 29 motorists who died last year in crashes that didn't involve any other vehicle.

Head-on collisions this year so far have killed four. In 12 months last year such accidents killed 15.

"No matter how the categories differ in the death toll each year, we still can look for improvement judging from our current overall toll of 10 less than last year," says Ahlgrim.

Drownings took a sudden jump early in July but are still four under the toll at this time last year. Nineteen were recorded in the entire 12 months.

Oakland County sheriff's deputies under Sheriff Frank W. Irons and Sgt. Donald Kratt are mainly responsible.

"The current month will answer our questions. From now through the Labor Day weekend is the critical period," Irons said.

Drownings have been rare in the county after Labor Day.

There have been nearly a half-dozen instances recorded this year where the alertness of lake deputies has averted possible drownings.

One case in particular saw four persons rescued from a foundering boat, one of them, a woman, snatched off the lake bottom in 15 feet of water.

"These are concrete examples of drowning situations," Irons pointed out.

"Much more important and common, however, are the many such situations which are prevented from developing each week by the mere presence of water patrolmen."

Kratt, in charge of the water patrol, agrees.

"When people know their lake is being watched by a uniformed man with the authority to hand out tickets, or arrest violators if necessary, boat operators and swimmers are just naturally more cautious."

Boating mishaps claimed six lives. The two categories combined to register 15 of the 19 drownings in 1958.

"So far in 1959 no drownings have resulted from boat collisions, although two victims fell from boats. Only two drownings can be attributed to a child wandering unwatched, into water," Kratt said.

Swimmers have been the big offenders, while last year swimmers numbered the fewest victims in any category.

Seven swimmers have drowned in 1959, more than half of the current total.

Irons admits the fight against drownings is a tough one.

"In 1957 we recorded more than 20 drownings. Last year we fought to keep the toll under 20 and finished with a total of 19. This year we're trying for 15 or under. We've got three to go," he says worriedly.

"We have more men in the patrol this year and they're more experienced. We've had a lot of outside help. This has made a big difference as the statistics show," Irons asserts.

Both highway and lake traffic will go on contributing accidental deaths, no one argues that point.

But authorities from around the state and nation are beginning to look to Oakland County, where both of the grim death columns have been steadily falling for several years, for solutions to their problems.

tortion of kickbacks from employers, and Taft-Hartley Act violations.

In addition, the government has pending 11 indictments against 14 Teamsters for these same crimes plus antitrust violations.

The pending cases will be brought to trial as quickly as court dockets permit, officials said.

The Justice Department also has obtained convictions against eight businessmen for bribery and kickbacks involving members of the Teamsters Union.

OTHERS NAMED

In one of the most prominent cases, former Teamsters' President Dave Beck was indicted last June on charges of accepting a $200,000 bribe in 1954 from two prominent trucking company executives. Beck pleaded not guilty.

Those named with Beck were Roy Fruehauf of Birmingham, Mich., president of the Fruehauf Trailer Co. of Detroit, and Burge Seymour of Litchfield County, Conn., president of Associated Transport, Inc. of New York City.

Hoffa met Wednesday night with some 150 officials of his Union for an 11th-hour strategy session over the impending labor reform legislation.

Hoffa, hit by grave charges emanating from the Senate Labor-Management Committee, had nothing to say about the meeting.

It has been no secret, however, that Teamsters' representatives have been hosts to many House members at a series of breakfasts to present the Teamsters viewpoint.

Legal representatives of both the Teamsters Union and the AFL-CIO also were active during the six weeks of the Labor Committee's bill-drafting sessions.

Chairman Graham A. Barden (D-NC) publicly accused labor's representatives of trying to "take over the chairmanship and run the committee."

'Headless Ghost' Roams in Bloomfield, Say Boys

BIRMINGHAM — A headless ghost is roaming in Bloomfield Hills, or at least that was the story told to Bloomfield Hills Police early this morning by three somewhat shaken youths.

The boys, James Kiefer, 18, of Detroit, and Carl Bender, 17, and Burton Wilson, 18, both of Highland Park, showed up at the Bloomfield Hills Police station at 1:45 a.m. to report the strange sight.

They had been at a lake near Chesterfield road when they saw a "body" walking near the lake —the body had no head, they said. The apparition was about six feet tall and was dressed in black, according to the boys.

All three appeared sober and Bloomfield Hills police returned to the spot with them to investigate. A search failed to locate "the ghost without a head."

"This brings to mind," chuckled Capt. Walter Sluiter of the Bloomfield Hills Police department, "The time several years ago that we had a report of a dead man lying in Lone Pine road smoking a cigarette."

James A. Fowler, curator of education at Cranbrook Institute of Science, has announced a series of observatory demonstrations for Wednesday evening, when the skies may be viewed through a six-inch refractor telescope.

Demonstrations are offered to institute members as well as to the public and are scheduled at half-hour intervals from 8 p.m. to 10 p.m. with an extra half-hour added if enough people make reservations.

Bookings are made by appointment and are limited to 15 people per half-hour period. Non-members will be charged one dollar, and members are admitted free. If skies are overcast demonstrations will be canceled.

After serving for the past two years as boys' and girls' librarian at Birmingham's Baldwin Public Library, Mrs. Dorothy Burns will leave next week to relocate in Ann Arbor, it was announced today by Librarian Jeanne Lloyd.

Mrs. Burns supervised this summer's vacation-reading program concluded Friday, which attracted the largest number of members in the library's history.

A total of 235 children read 1,570 books during the summer under Mrs. Burns' direction, according to Mrs. Lloyd.

Guest minister at Kirk-in-the-Hills Presbyterian church, Bloomfield Hills, Sunday will be the Rev. Elmer G. Homrighausen, dean of the Princeton University Theological Seminary.

He has lectured and preached extensively abroad and has made several ecumenical missions to Asia and South Africa.

County Names Chief Deputy

Clerk's Position Goes to David Lang, Former Remington Rand Man

Oakland County has a new chief deputy clerk in David Lang, Daniel T. Murphy Jr., clerk-register of deeds, announced today.

Lang, 31, of 19714 Stout St., Detroit, fills the vacancy left by the May resignation of former chief deputy Wilfred S. Cooney Jr.

The new chief deputy comes to Oakland County and the $6,000 per year position after nearly 10 years with Remington Rand Division. While with the firm the last three years as sales representative, Lang was instrumental in establishing the Oakland County's microfilming system used for county records.

Before entering the sales field, he managed the microfilm systems service for Remington Rand, which covered a five-state area.

Lang's home town before coming to Detroit from his first job with the division in New York was Jersey City, N. J. He is an Army veteran and a former free lance photographer. He now lives with his wife Paula, daughter Beth Ellen, 8, and sons Richard, 6, and Steven, 4, in Detroit.

Staff of UAW Pays Up Taxes

Income Officers Collect Thousands on Expense Accounts for '55-57

DETROIT (AP) — Staff members of the United Auto Workers Union were reported today to have paid thousand of dollars to the Internal Revenue Service as back taxes for 1955-57 on Union expense accounts or special allowances.

There was no official comment from the UAW. However, a Union source said the UAW has been concerned for some time over the government's definition of expense accounts under the income tax regulations.

According to the reports, the Internal Revenue Service is conducting a nationwide inquiry into Union expense accounts.

UAW staff representatives, who are paid salaries of from $7,000 to $8,000 a year, also draw per diem allowances of $13 a day while traveling and $35 weekly while at home.

Their return payments were said to average between $300 and $400.

President Walter Reuther was said to have initiated a joint effort by the government and the Union to reach an understanding.

Within the last two years at least the Internal Revenue Service has required more detailed reports of expense accounts from various groups of taxpayers, including Union employes.

All in the Line of Duty

ASBURY PARK, N. J. (UPI)— Life guards here have been given permission to speak to pretty girls just because they're pretty. A city ordinance prohibits the guards from speaking to girl swimmers "except strictly in line of duty." City officials have ruled it's their duty for the rest of the month to invite pretty girls to participate in the city-sponsored sea-queen contest.

cussion during their exchange of visits this fall.

Western diplomats said the conference, despite its failure to achieve any positive results on these points, probably could be credited with some negative gains.

They pointed specifically to Eisenhower's comment Tuesday that it was the Geneva deadlock that convinced him of the need for a personal meeting with Khrushchev.

The diplomats also believed that the talks had deferred the threat of a new Soviet move against Berlin at least until after the Eisenhower-Khrushchev meetings and perhaps until after further foreign ministers' talks.

The closing communique said the ministers plan to meet again, but did not say where or when. The general expectation was that they will get together this fall while they are all in New York for the meeting of the U.N. General Assembly which opens Sept. 15.

Rocky-for-President Drive Is Confirmed

MONTCLAIR, N.J. (UPI) — A drive will be launched in New Jersey in November to win the Republican presidential nomination for New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, it was confirmed today.

The campaign will start immediately after the state elections, according to Martin H. Hummell, 32, a New York advertising account executive who has been active in New Jersey Republican politics.

Hummell said the Rockefeller-for-President movement will be postponed until November so that attention will not be diverted from the "very important" state elections.

Gives Advice on Grooming Needs of Men

Cleanliness is, of course, the basic grooming essential. Step up the once-a-day bath or shower schedule with a quick shower after strenuous physical exercise.

A maker of toiletries for he-men explains that the water should be warm enough to open the pores and cool enough to refresh.

Keep a tube of shower shampoo hanging on the shower fixture as a reminder that hair should be washed around three times a week.

After a brisk towelling, shake on some after-shower powder that contains a special deodorant. Acquire the habit of supplementing it with the daily use of a deodorant stick for all-day protection. The 31 million dollars that men spent on deodorants last year is strong testimony that there is nothing sissified about this grooming requisite.

To fit right in with the speedy way youngsters like to do things, shaving lotion now comes jet-propelled. There is a new Jet-stream after-shaving lotion that releases a stream of lotion just by pressing down the container's aerosol top.

How Much Pull Do Chicken Pluckers Need?

Scientists, who turn an inquiring eye on all sorts of problems these days, are trying to find out.

Bob Gene Knapp, graduate student at Oklahoma State University, told the annual meeting of the Poultry Science Assn. today about a device that electrically records the exact force needed to pull one feather.

He said the device may help determine the effect of various factors — such as management methods, and length of time the birds are confined before slaughter — on the ease of plucking.

Knapp said he had found only slight differences in the tenacity with which the various breeds and the two sexes of chickens hold onto their feathers.

Fit Your Child With New Shoes Before School

A youngster whose shoes rub, pinch and bind become an inattentive fidgeter. He quickly loses contact with his schoolwork.

Since a child's feet grow so rapidly, get him to a shoe store at least a week before the pre-school rush commences. This way the salesman will have plenty of time to check the fit of new shoes.

When a child ties on a shoe, press the toe of the new shoe until you feel the big toe and the long second toe. They should be a half or three-quarters of an inch from the toe of the shoe.

Make sure the widest part of the child's foot and that of the shoe coincide. The ball of the foot should rest on the ball of the shoe.

Even if the youngsters says the shoe fits, get him up on his feet and have him walk about the store for several minutes. In a free moving action test, the shoes should not gap at the sides or back.

For all-day comfort and foot ease, the foot specialists recommend an all-leather shoe. The supple leather upper bends and stretches with the foot.

New Gadget Tells Time for Oil Change

NEW YORK (UPI)—A new instrument enables service station attendants to tell at a glance whether your car needs an oil change.

It is called the Fotoscope and was developed by the Mobil Oil

A few drops of crankcase oil from the dipstick are placed in a "cell" of the Fotoscope and a light beam is passed through it. The amount of light that passes through is measured by photo-electricity and is shown on a meter, which tells whether the oil is clean or dirty.

First compulsory milk pasteurization ordinance was enacted by Chicago in 1908. New York followed in 1912.

Ship to Sail on Time

SOUTHAMPTON, England (AP) —The big liner Queen Elizabeth will sail on schedule tody despite her collision off New York with an American freighter. The 83,673-ton liner eased gently into Southampton shortly before midnight Tuesday night still showing the scars of her mishap in the fog, which delayed her sailing from New York last week. The big ship was damaged slightly.

Making Fun of State Lawmakers Is Unfair

Picturing our State lawmakers in a ridiculous and stupid light has been the summer pastime of Governor WILLIAMS and frequently some of our metropolitan newspapers and TV stations.

In defense of this criticism, CHARLES LARSON of the Lansing State Journal writes in his Watchtower column as follows:

"No, the Legislature is not a collection of stumblebums. It is irritating to see Gov. WILLIAMS and some of the metropolitan newspapers working overtime trying to create in the minds of voters the impression that legislators are sitting around idly while the ship of state goes up in smoke. One of the worst examples of demagoguery along that line came recently in a Detroit newspaper.

"Played across page one in an eight column strip were pictures of a vacant senate and house of representatives with an overprint proclaiming 'People Forgotten.'

"Beneath it was a story telling how the legislators had left town for a long holiday weekend, the implication being that they should have stayed and worked.

"What Detroit readers don't know is that early editions of the paper were on newsstands in Lansing before the Legislature had left for the weekend.

"What they also don't know is that the pictures were taken the night before — after the photographer had asked several legislators to leave the chambers so he could take his pictures of the vacant room."

The PRESS is inclined to agree that in many instances our legislators have been unfairly pictured as unfit for the job. Perhaps a solution could have been reached sooner, but we must not lose sight of the fact that the problem is an extremely complex one.

Murphy Qualifies for State Department Job

The name of an acknowledgeable pro is back in the news again. It is ROBERT D. MURPHY, trouble shooter for the U. S. Department of State for many years.

Reinforcements in the line by an established performer are always welcome. MURPHY will add strength to our State Department.

Throughout recent history, at times of extreme crisis, his name came to the fore. Just a year ago at the time of the landings in Lebanon, he rushed by air from point to point in the Middle East using his knowledge of the world and diplomacy to spread oil upon the waters.

Being a career diplomat who has worked effectively and quietly for peace in the world, MURPHY is well qualified for his top post with the State Department.

With the responsibilities of the world's welfare thrust upon it, the United States can well use MURPHY'S talents and those of a legion of professionals like him.

Our Cultural Exhibit Handicapped by Dust

Showing our cultural exhibit in Moscow has been one tough job for the personnel involved. At times, it has been much worse than running an obstacle course.

The Soviet press and Red officialdom have posed many irritating and minor blocks. But then came the dust. Dust from a crumbling floor which had not had time to set properly. Dust covered guides, spectators and exhibits alike.

Our relationship with the Russians is hazy enough without the added handicap of dust. Recent reports are that an asphalt topping has now been laid over the floors and the dust is a thing of the past.

Let's hope that the ground is finally prepared for some good hard selling of America to the critical Russian citizen.

"THERE are 3,000,000 surplus marriageable girls in the U.S.," says a statistician. Sh-h-h-h! Don't say "surplus." The Government might overhear you and start storing these girls in caves or giving them to foreign countries.

Oil and Gas Well Findings Are Getting Much Nearer

Exaggerate: What is almost impossible when you're telling about all the good points of our home area.

With workings started on oil and gas well prospects in Macomb County, our neighbor to the east, much interest centers on the possibilities in our own Oakland County.

We are located between two counties where the prospects are good enough to warrant further exploration, as in Livingston County, our neighbor to the west, arrangements are under way to sink a well.

Options now being taken in the Pontiac area indicate that we may expect some doings in that line in the near future. At least two concerns are seeking the rights.

Well versed in the game, some of the promoters come from the Oaklahoma fields, which they say are showing some signs of exhaustion, hence new possibilities.

It is not beyond reasonable expectation that we may soon see some of those "nodding elephants," the slang name for oil pumpers, working in our county.

Spice in the Stew

David Lawrence Wonders:

Will Americans Boycott 'Visitor'?

WASHINGTON—Do the people of the United States really want Nikita Khrushchev to visit this country?

President Eisenhower assumes that they do. The governments of Sweden and other Scandinavian countries recently issued a similar invitation, but the Soviet premier, after accepting it, decided not to go there because it was evident the people didn't want him to come.

LAWRENCE

What happened in Sweden between the time the invitation was extended and the announcement that Khrushchev had given up the idea for the present? A letter from Dr. Bela Fabian, written from Geneva a few days ago, tells the story. He is chairman of the Federation of Hungarian Former Political Prisoners and was in Sweden at the time of the planning for the visit of the Soviet premier. Dr. Fabian writes:

"Naturally, Major General Zacharov, deputy chief of the Soviet Security Police, knew that the 'August Committees' were preparing mass meetings and demonstrations.

"In Sweden ten meetings were to be held simultaneously on Aug. 13. The one thing he did not know was whether the Swedish people would demonstrate by ostentatiously staying at home, so that the streets would be empty and there would be no one there except the police, or that there would be enormous crowds who would turn their backs on Khrushchev."

Dr. Fabian writes that the "August Committees" contained a large number of members, among them prominent intellectuals, several Nobel Prize winners, university professors and writers. Many student organizations were represented.

Already there are varying points of view in this country as to what the reaction of the American people will be in the cities to be visited by Khrushchev. Certainly any disorderly demonstrations would only result in worldwide criticism on the theory that the Americans were not as courteous to the Soviet premier as the people of the Soviet Union have been toward Vice President Nixon.

But inside the United States—unlike the situation in the Soviet Union, where everything is controlled by the government—the people have a right under the Constitution to speak. They have a right to picket peacefully, if they like, with placards expressing their ideas.

If the Scandinavian plan were put into effect in the United States by boycotting the parades or by viewing in silence the public events where Khrushchev makes his appearance, an orderly protest could be registered.

There may be some in this country who are willing to "let bygones be bygones," but, among the hundreds of thousands of Americans who came here originally from the lands which now are held captive by the Communist dictatorship, there will be no suppression of emotions.

Their point of view toward the Moscow autocracy which has ordered the murder or exile of so many innocent people in the last several years is deeply rooted. They cannot forget.

NO CHANGE IN MOSCOW

It is true that, after wars are over, friendly feelings toward former enemies often are developed. But the governments which ruled in Nazi Germany, in militaristic Japan and Fascist Italy have been removed and free governments established.

No such change has occurred in Moscow, where the same kind of regime is in power today as the one that broke the pledges given at Yalta in 1945 and at Geneva in 1955.

"Khrushchev's criminal record exceeds all," wrote Dr. L. E. Dobriansky, professor of economics at Georgetown University, in a letter to President Eisenhower dated July 31.

The Georgetown professor was the originator of the resolution adopted by Congress to proclaim "Captive Nations Week."

Expressing the hope that Khrushchev would not be invited to America, Professor Dobriansky added:

"It is patently naive to believe that a visit by the 'hangman of the Ukraine' would add anything to what he already knows about our country."

Dr. William Brady Says:

Knowledge Must Alter With Changing Times

When the physiologist, Samson Wright, M. D., F.R.C.P., preeminent in his field, states (Applied Physiology, Oxford University Press) that "calcium diminishes permeability of capillary endothelium," I can't follow him.

DR. BRADY

I know what endothelium is. It is the tissue, composed of a single layer of flat cells, lining the abdominal or peritoneal cavity, the thoracic or chest cavity, the joints, the blood vessels and the heart and pericardium (the sac enclosing the heart.)

Capillary vessels are hypothetical tubes or pipes, too small to be visible to the naked eye, which convey blood from the smallest visible arterioles to the smallest visible venules.

The old timers conjured up capillaries, microscopic vessels having walls composed of a single layer of endothelial cells, a gossamer network traversing or permeating all the tissues and organs.

No one has seen under the microscope an isolated capillary vessel. If any one ever does, I hope he or she will hold it there until I can see it too. Otherwise I won't believe it.

When the blood has passed through the ultimate microscopically visible arteriole it just oozes or seeps through the tissue or organ, between or around the cells, which absorb the oxygen and nutriment they require for growth, repair and function or work and pour into the blood the carbon dioxide and other by-products of metabolism, which the blood carries back through the venules (smallest visible veins) and larger veins to the heart and lungs, liver, kidneys and intestine.

It is understandable that the arteries, particularly the finest or ultimate branches called arterioles, dilate and contract. That's what their muscle coat is for—involuntary muscle, like the muscle coat of the stomach and intestine. But when you ask me to assume that gossamer tubes composed of nothing but endothelium contract or dilate I must refer you to the marines.

I think of this often nowadays when I turn the pages of a notebook kept when I was a medical student. It contains a lot of things my professors told me, things I thought invaluable then, but eventually learned were not wholly empirical. The professors were kindly men and meant well. They were just a little bit too credulous.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Inquires About Flexibility of Police Qualifications

In order for Commissioner Milton Henry to get his friend on the police force the book of rules will have to be changed and the age limit will have to be reduced to 45. If, perhaps, some of the other commissioners might want to get their grandfathers on the force, are we to assume that the age limit will then be changed to 80?

Reader Dislikes Fearful Phrase

God-fearing people—I have often heard and read this expression. I do not like it for to me God, who created everything and laid down the laws by which the universe operates, is a loving God.

He has furnished us with everything we need to maintain a healthy body and has told us how to use the same. If we follow his instructions we can lead a healthy and happy life. He does not punish us for not following his laws; we punish ourselves by breaking them, thus, causing ourselves much unhappiness. We must realize that God is everywhere and with us at all times, and that we can communicate with Him through prayer. When we ask Him to do what is right and in accordance with His laws, He will help us.

NAM Executive Urges Greater Political Activity

HOLLAND (AP)—Describing Gov. Williams as "Michigan's No. 1 jobkiller," a National Assn. of Manufacturers executive today urged businessmen to increase political activity to help restore the state to a healthy business climate.

"As Michigan's troubles arise in politics, it is politics that we must be in," Charles R. Sligh, NAM executive vice president, told the Holland Rotary Club. "This is a new job for most businessmen, who have in the past regarded politics as a separate profession and who have kept hands off in this unfamiliar activity."

However, businessmen are beginning to realize that "they're going to have to become politicians if they're to have any hope of remaining businessmen," the Holland furniture maker said.

"What we must do in public affairs is not a matter of partisan politics," Sligh declared. He said in states which have good business climates "both political parties are committed to maintain conditions which make it possible for business to prosper."

Sligh said businessmen do not want to dominate state government. But, he said, they must make their efforts felt in "selection of candidates to serve all the people and not one special interest group that believes all Michigan's problems should be solved with higher taxes and federal aid."

Sligh said business was leaving Michigan because of tax burdens and because other business firms declined to establish here because of taxes.

Sligh stood fast against an income tax in Michigan because, he said, "such a tax would further impede Michigan's industrial growth."

"I believe that conservatives will find their opposition to the income tax is no handicap when they become active in politics," he added.

"If we leave the Democratic party in the hands of the United Auto Workers and the state in the hands of a UAW-dominated Democratic party and the hands of a UAW-dominated Williams, we can't even begin to make progress," Sligh said.

Sligh also hit at Williams, whom he said had recently called him a "mudslinger" for speeches in other states on Michigan's financial troubles.

"Every factual mud pie I sling," Sligh said, "has been made by Gov. Williams with his own hands and quite apparently with the culinary advice of Walter Reuther." (UAW president).

Sligh said the purpose of his speeches was to prevent other states "from falling into the trap we find ourselves in, to try to avoid a labor government for the United States as a whole, and to try to help Michigan climb out of the hole we've dug for ourselves in the last decade or so."

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Few Aware of Mortician's Job

Don't blame Betty unduly for her mistaken ideas, since we are all likely to become emotionally disturbed in such a crisis. But all of you readers may be in the same boat, sooner or later, so scrapbook this case to widen your perspective at that critical time in your life.

BY DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Her husband was a city fireman. As his fire truck swung around a corner, his hand slipped and he fell to the pavement. He died a few hours later.

DR. CRANE

He was just 31, and carried only $1,000 in life insurance.

Shocked by the unexpectedness of his death and with the usual emotional desire to pour out her love in a fitting type of funeral, Betty tearfully visited a mortician.

She picked out a beautiful casket and ordered a funeral that would cost $900.

But the mortician tactfully vetoed her plan.

"You have three little ones," he gently reminded her. "And I am sure your husband would much rather have you save as much money as possible to look after them.

"I can give you a simple funeral for only $150 and you can thus salvage an extra $750 out of your limited $1,000 insurance."

But Betty insisted on the $900 funeral and actually grew indignant. Still, the mortician would not go along with her ideas.

"I'm sorry," he added as she angrily stamped out of the door, "for I refuse to let you invest more than $150 with me for this funeral.

"In the long run, you will realize the wisdom of what I am doing, even though you may go elsewhere to try to purchase a more expensive burial for your husband."

EMOTION VS. LOGIC

A few hours later, after Betty had calmed down and shed some more tears, her logic began to assert itself and conquer her emotion.

So she telephoned the mortician and apologized; then asked him to take charge of the funeral as he had suggested.

I cite this case for two reasons. First, many people get the mistaken notion that the price for a funeral involves just the casket charge.

So they protest at what they may ignorantly consider a big investment. Actually, a college trained mortician performs a surgical operation in the act of embalming the body, which requires as much time as it takes a surgeon to perform an appendectomy.

And he nets an average of only $92 per funeral BEFORE TAXES, despite his heavy investments in real estate, limousines, etc.

But the public neither sees this embalming process, nor even thinks of it as part of the fee for the funeral.

Then the mortician furnishes a large room and chapel on an expensive real estate site for at least two to three days and nights, where the body lies in state while friends and relatives drop in to pay their respects.

The mortician likewise provides an ambulance and picks up the body at the home or hospital; then transports it to the church and, finally, to the cemetery, possibly 25 miles distant.

He meanwhile arranges for pall bearers, the printing of the obituary, etc. He artistically receives and arranges flowers, too.

So please widen your myopic vision regarding American business costs and quit thinking of funeral charges in terms of merely a casket.

Yesterday I told you 72 per cent of Americans thought industry's profits were MORE than all the workers obtained in wages, when in reality the workers got six times as much as the stockholders.

Another reason for mentioning Betty's case, is to pay tribute to our understanding morticians who try to teach emotionally distraught folks to temper their grief with some logic.

When funerals occur that are far beyond the pocketbook of the bereaved, it is usually due to overwrought folks like Betty who DEMAND such an extravagant outlay.

Morticians, as well as florists, do NOT recommend such inappropriate types of funerals.

Hal Boyle Says:

Would You Like to Be a Columnist?

NEW YORK (AP)—How would you like to be a columnist?

If not, you're a rare person.

Everyone used to have a secret ambition to write a play or a song. Today the secret goal of almost everyone—housewife, truckdriver, financier—seems to be to have a column of his own, and make a better world.

BOYLE

The letter columnists get most often starts somewhat as follows:

"I've been reading your column off and on for years and feel I could write one just as good, and probably better. How do I go about getting started?

I usually reply, "It is first absolutely essential that you study Latin and Greek for 10 years, then learn to speak and write at least two other modern languages besides English."

This isn't exactly true, of course. But it does help to weed out a lot of possible future competitors.

All you actually need to become a columnist is two holes—one in your head, the other in the head of the publisher who gives you your chance.

The rest is easy—as easy as chinning yourself with your eyeballs.

The public has the idea that it is simple to write a column every day. But Don Marquis, who did this chore for years until he repented and became a playwright, described it as "digging a daily grave."

The ailments of any trade or craft reflected its stress. The occupational ailments of column writing are ulcers, egomania, hydrophobia, mental hernia and snow blindness caused from long hours of staring at the same blank piece of paper in your typewriter.

The most frustrating thing about the business is changing a typewriter ribbon. Almost any columnist worth his salt is expert on such problems as when or where we should drop the hydrogen bomb or what makes Nikita Khrushchev tick. But no columnist I know can change his own typewriter ribbon.

Most of the seeming millions of people who yearn to be columnists have the idea they would live in a penthouse, and have a chauffeur-driven car. They dream of hobnobbing with Marilyn Monroe—some hobnobbing that!—and giving advice to Bernard Baruch.

Well, most columnists actually see a penthouse only when they are invited to the home of a rich press agent. And as for Bernie Baruch, if he's ever called me for advice my phone must have been busy.

Does columning need any special equipment? No. Nothing beyond a two-pants suit. This is necessary because you have to spend long hours sitting in a swivel chair looking at the ceiling as you wait for an idea. That's hard on pants.

Don't let any columnist ever tell you he thinks up his own ideas. He doesn't. He just sits there until one falls off the ceiling.

What are the columnists rewards? They are the people he meets. Nobody but a doctor meets more interesting people in more interesting situations.

People are moody, mean, bright, cantankerous, loveable, hateable, selfish, sacrificial, comic, tragic and sometimes fun—but always rewarding. They are also sometimes exasperating.

The most exasperating are those who say to columnists:

"Sure I know you write a column. But what else do you do—in all your spare time?"

Racist Eyes Polio as Integration Shield

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — A state legislator has suggested using Arkansas' current polio outbreak as a means of keeping Little Rock high schools closed against integration.

Segregationist leaders also hammered at the polio angle in protesting an early opening of the high schools. The school board has scheduled the opening for next Wednesday, with six Negroes assigned to formerly white institutions. The previously-set opening date was Sept. 8.

Little Rock legislators moved to get advance notice on legislation planned for any special legislative session which might be called. Gov. Orval E. Faubus said Wednesday, however, that he has no plans for such a session.

Widow, 71, Breaks Hip; Alone 5 Days

SAGINAW, Mich. (AP) — Sadie Rublowski, 71, cried for help when she fell in her apartment and fractured a hip.

She called at intervals for five days. Nobody heard her. A widow, Mrs. Rublowski lives alone and the apartment below is vacant.

Finally, a neighbor called police after noticing an accumulation of milk bottles on the elderly woman's porch.

Officers found Mrs. Rublowski semiconscious. She had not had food or water during her nightmarish ordeal.

New Civil Rights Bill Due for Battle Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — A new civil rights bill was headed today into a brisk congressional scrimmage.

Southerners want to kill it by delay. Democratic leaders hope to get party-bruising fights behind them this year, rather than battle over the issue just in advance of next year's elections.

The House Rules Committee, which has wide powers to speed or slow legislation, has the next word. It may act next week on a civil rights bill completed Wednesday by a divided Judiciary Committee. Southerners are well-entrenched in the Rules Committee, but the group frequently yields in a showdown to the wishes of the Democratic leadership.

County Officials Look to Growth

Consider '60 Population Census May Be Double; Mean Law Changes

Officials of Oakland County know its population will undoubtedly be more than doubled from the 1950 federal census when next year's is taken, so they want to be ready for any new laws the county might come under.

The Board of Supervisors yesterday approved an idea advanced by its Ways and Means Committee that the board's Legislative Committee look into what effect a much larger population will have on Oakland as far as state laws governing counties are concerned.

"We are automatically going to come under the same laws which previously affected only Wayne County," declared Norman R. Barnard, the county's corporation counsel.

Although he said the supervisors had no specific laws in mind, Barnard cited one affecting the power granted the county treasurer in collecting delinquent personal property taxes.

Supervisors anticipated Oakland will fall into a population class "in the neighborhood of 750,000" when next year's census is taken. It was 396,001 in 1950.

The Ways and Means Committee urged an immediate probing of laws for possible amendment. "If the statutes are allowed to remain as they presently exist without amendment, they will work a hardship on the County," said Fred W. Smith, committee chairman.

Surviving are her husband; her mother, Mrs. Harry F. Loch of Pontiac; stepfather, Harry F. Loch; a daughter, Pamela Tice, and a son, Van N. Fick both at home; and two stepbrothers, Carl H. and Lewis W. Loch, both of Pontiac.

New York Hopes to Hire 100 Parking Meter Maids

NEW YORK (AP)—The city administration hopes to have 100 "meter maids" on the job by Jan. 1 to check on parked vehicles.

A bill creating the force of uniformed women is scheduled for passage soon by the city's legislative bodies and signing by Mayor Robert F. Wagner.

City Changes Aimed at Plumbing, Heating

Studying Tighter Housing Code

Pontiac has under study tighter housing code regulations, effecting plumbing and heating.

The restrictions are almost certain to be approved by the City Commission next week.

"The federal government requires tighter rules for urban renewal," explained Robert A. Stierer, assistant city manager.

The new regulations are in the form of an amendment to the city's housing code, a document based on the 1917 Michigan State Housing Law.

"The Michigan law is too outdated for the federal government," said Stierer. "Other Michigan cities, such as Detroit and Ann Arbor, have had to tighten up their housing codes in order to be eligible for urban renewal."

WILL APPLY THIS FALL

Pontiac is applying for urban renewal funds early this fall. The revisions under consideration are based upon rules passed in Ann Arbor, which proved acceptable to the federal government, Stierer said.

Substandard housing would be hit by the tighter laws, especially multifamily dwellings and old apartment houses.

The city is contemplating giving owners of substandard buildings a year in which to comply with the new laws, Stierer said.

All the new rules apply solely to multidwelling buildings except one concerning heating, and it probably would affect only a few single dwellings, if any, Stierer said.

Stierer said the new law would have the following five effects:

1. Multifamily buildings would have to have a separate toilet, wash bowl and bathtub or shower for every two dwelling units. Present law requires only a separate toilet for every two units.

2. Multifamily buildings would have to have a separate bathroom for every dwelling unit 240 square feet or more in size or of three rooms or more. At pesent, there are no bathroom povisions based on size or number of rooms.

3: Rooming houses, boarding houses and lodging houses would have to have a separate toilet, wash bowl and bathtub or shower for every 10 occupants. At present these facilities must be provided for every 15 occupants.

4. All dwellings, except owner-occupied single dwellings, would have to have water-heating facilities capable of heating water to 110 degrees, and all sinks and bathrooms would have to be equipped for hot water. At present, there are no hot water requirements.

5. All dwellings, including single dwellings, would have to have heating facilities capable of heating all habitable rooms and bathrooms to a temperature of 70 degrees when the temperature outside dips as low as 10 degrees below zero.

This last provision is the only one that affects single dwellings, Stierer said.

WINTER PROTECTION

"It is designed to protect people against Michigan winters," he explained.

Stierer said the federal government wants all Pontiac's housing brought up to the minimum acceptable modern standard if federal money is going to be invested here to halt the spread of housing blight.

The tighter laws have been approved by the City Health Department and the Substandard Housing Commission, of which Stierer is chairman.

The City Commission introduced the changes Tuesday and is scheduled to vote on them next Tuesday.

Ribbons and small trophies will be awarded winners as children demonstrate their newly-learned skills for their parents.

"Over 3,000 children and many adults have learned to swim as a result of this program during the past seven years," reports Recreation Director Thomas Belton.

The tournament schedule is as follows: Lotus Lake, Wednesday at 9 a.m.; Elizabeth Lake, Thursday at 9 a.m.; Lake Oakland, Thursday at 6:15 p.m.; Watkins Lake, at 9 a.m. Friday; and Pontiac Lake Recreation Area, Friday at 1 p.m.

NO SOFTIES — Jerry Duffield (right), trail boss of the Bill Williams Mountain Men, congratulates John F. Monroe of Milwaukee after the latter became the only non-Arizonan to complete the club's tough annual horseback trek.

Once a Year

'Mountain Men' Relive Days of Rugged Trappers

WILLIAMS, Ariz. (AP)—Don't go around saying all modern businessmen are softies. Someone may bring up the Bill Williams Mountain Men.

The Mountain Men are an exclusive band of gents who punish themselves brutally just for fun to perpetuate the memory of the rugged trappers who carved an empire from the wilderness of the Old West.

For 51 weeks of the year they're doctors, judges or cafe owners. They live quietly in the Grand Canyon gateway town of Williams, which—like their group—was named for a Bible-totin' old trapper.

But late each winter they grow bushy beards, don buckskin clothing and give up comforts of home for a 5½-day, 165 mile horseback ride to Phoenix.

The trek is something of a publicity stunt with the ride timed to end at the Arizona State Fairground on opening day of the annual Phoenix Rodeo. But it's no lark for a tenderfoot.

It's an overland trip through steep, cold mountains and parching desert. The part-time adventurers ride all day, cavort and spin tall tales far into the night and then try to catch a few winks in bedrolls thrown on the hard, rocky ground.

The Bill Williams Mountain Men have been making their ride for six years and only 29 starters have gone all the way.

The only non-Arizonan to stick the full distance is John F. Monroe, a 63-year-old Milwaukee investment banker who did it this year.

Monroe quickly learned why so many who try it drop out along the way—saddle soreness.

"My face was badly sunburned when we reached Phoenix," he says. "But, man, you ought to have seen the other end."

Few outsiders get invitations to join the mountain men on the trek. Monroe got his quite by chance.

"A year ago," he recalls, "my wife and I were driving through northern Arizona when we saw this weird mob of buckskin-clad riders. We thought they were a bunch of unemployed sheepherders.

"When we found out what they were doing, we got acquainted with them. Later they asked me to make this year's trip, and they probably were laying odds I wouldn't last."

The rub of the saddle isn't the only discomfort.

"Dropping down from the cold, wild country of 7,200 feet into the heat of the desert is a rugged ordeal," says Monroe. "And the rocks under your sleeping bag hardly equal the luxury of the Waldorf-Astoria.

"But the companionship of those men ranks as one of the great events of my life and made it all worthwhile."

The respect was mutual. Monroe's determination convinced the mountain men. They made him an honorary member.

The mountain men don't make the return trip by horseback. They're too sore from the one-way ride and too tired from four days and nights of whooping it up in Phoenix.

Port Director Quits Over Detroit Apathy

DETROIT (UPI)—Carlis J. Stettin announced his resignation Wednesday as Port of Detroit director and expressed disappointment over community failure to recognize the need for public port development.

Stettin said he is quitting the $18,500-a-year job to take a higher paying post with the Port of New York Authority.

He came to Detroit in September, 1956, and twice tried to get voters to approve bond issues for public port development.

But the proposals were defeated at the polls and Detroit has been sharply criticized by shippers this year for inadequate port facilities in the midst of increased shipping with the opening of the St. Lawrence Seaway.

"The only plan we have today is a plan of confusion," Stettin said.

ADRIAN (UPI) — Adrian's City Commission has approved fluoridation of the city water supply. About 900 residents signed petitions requesting fluoridation.

No Rocks in His Head

CARNEGIE, Okla. (AP)—A truck loaded with 26,500 pounds of crushed rock raced wildly, without a driver, into Carnegie.

The vehicle narrowly missed several cars and finally overturned without causing any injuries or property damage. The truck was demolished.

The driver said he fell out when he opened the door to check some rear tires while driving down the hill.

Thieves Make Dry Run

BRATTLEBORO, Vt. (UPI) — Police said the thieves who broke into a dozen soft drink vending machines apparently weren't heavy drinkers. They took no soda; only three dollars in change.

Keeps Python for Proof

RICHMOND, Va. (AP)—When people don't believe Reid Trail once ran over and killed a 12-foot python on a highway near Roanoke, he pulls the stuffed snake out of the trunk of his automobile.

Trail says his wife won't let him keep the stuffed reptile in the house. The snake, a native of Asia and Africa, is believed to have escaped from a circus.

Has 9 Parties Too Many

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—Mrs. Laverne King of rural Fallbrook told Court Clerk Al Fern to keep calling if her telephone was busy when she was needed for jury duty. Her reason: She's on a 10-party line.

What You Don't Know . . .

MONTPELIER, Vt. (UPI)—Rep. George H. Brush, 74, said during debate on a mental health bill that "four-fifths of the members of this House are mentally retarded and they don't know it."

There are more than 420,000 miles of natural gas pipelines in the United States.

President's Blair House to Lodge Khrushchev?

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Blair House, President Eisenhower's official guest residence, is getting a face lifting but it is not known yet whether Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev will stay there or at the Russian embassy during his visit next month.

If Khrushchev picks Blair House, he will be the second high-ranking Russian official to reside in the dignified four-story home of light brick and dark shutters across Pennsylvania avenue from the White House.

Then Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov, traveling as "Mr. Brown" on a super-secret wartime mission, lived there for two weeks in 1942, only the second VIP ever to stay at the stately, federal-style mansion.

President Truman was living at Blair House while the White House was being renovated, when a band of Puerto Rican fanatics tried to assassinate him in 1950.

SAFER AT EMBASSY

Security protection probably would be easier if Khrushchev moved into the Russian embassy, a gray stone neo-classic building on 16th street about three blocks north of the White House.

It was built in 1910 by Mrs. George Pullman, widow of the sleeping car magnate.

Russian Deputy Premiers Anastas I. Mikoyan and Frol R. Kozlov stayed at the four-story embassy during their recent visits to Washington.

Regardless of whether Khrushchev decides to live at Blair House, it will be spiffed up, inside and out, when he arrives in mid-September.

The grime is being sand-blasted from the outside stone stairway. All the window sashes have been replaced.

Inside, Mrs. Victoria Geaney, the mansion's housekeeper for 20 years, is supervising the hanging of new pale blue brocade curtains and valance in the double drawing rooms.

Mrs. Geaney shudders to think that Russian agents might repeat the security precautions they took during Molotov's 1942 visit.

Eleven Soviet security officers pulled down all the draperies and the dust ruffles in Molotov's bedroom, reversed the pictures, and watched the chambermaid make the bed to guard against any hidden assassins, microphones or bombs.

Rocky Seeks to Cut State Expenditures

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller is seeking to cut state-purposes spending by 31½ million dollars in an effort to attain "pay-as-you-go" financing next year.

The state-purposes section of the budget covers maintenance items, such as employes' salaries an equipment purchases. In the current fiscal year, this spending is estimated at about 631 million dollars.

Rockefeller's aides made public a letter from the governor to all department and agency heads, instructing them to show how they could trim five per cent from their spening budgets.

North Carolina's per capita income rose from $61 in 1932 to $584 in 1950.

Don't Let Me Escape

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—Jailer Dave Edwards received this note from Alex Maldonado, serving 60 days for petty theft:

"I would consider it a personal favor if you would not send me to the jail annex because I think I would try to run away. In fact, I know I would. So I would rather spend my 60 days up here and go out clean."

Maldonado's request was granted.

Boat Builder Uses Blanks

Outdraws Best TV Gunfighters

By PATRICK McNULTY

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Wyatt Earp, Paladin and other television gunslingers don't know it—but they are regularly beaten to the draw by a tall-in-the-armchair varmint they've never seen.

Getting the drop on TV's best gunfighters is a hobby of Gordon Clark, a lanky 27-year-old boat builder. And he never leaves his living room TV set.

About a year ago when Western fan Clark decided to test just how quick television's cowpokes really are. He bought a Colt .44, loaded it with blanks and lashed it to his leg. Then he tuned in "Gunsmoke" and waited for Marshal Dillon to make his play.

"Dillon's the fastest," said Clark, who since that first test has bitten the living room carpet many times before the marshal's whip-quick draw.

Clark's special clay pigeon is Paladin, the erudite knight errant of "Have Gun Will Travel."

"I never worry about Paladin with either his .44 or Derringer," Clark said. "You always know a second before he draws."

"He's never beaten me with that screwy Mary's Leg," said Clark with a practiced curl of the lip. "I can't imagine any real gunfighter using a weapon like that."

Here's how Clark rates some of the others:

Cheyenne—"Too clumsy to be a real threat."

Maj. Seth Adams of "Wagon Train" — "Too old and fat. This gunfightin' is a young fellow's game."

But Clark is no village braggart who goads a rival into a fight. He sits in an easy chair at his home in nearby Capistrano Beach and calmly and confidently watches the TV screen. When he senses trouble, he gets up, stands with left foot forward and waits for the other fellow to make his play.

And when Clark fans that six-gun it can be heard all over Capistrano Beach.

"At least that's what the neighbors tell me," says Clark.

7-Mile Bridge Jams; Cars Pile Up 6 Hours

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP) — The Southern half of the Florida keys was isolated for six hours Wednesday night when a drawbridge in the seven-mile bridge system of the Overseas Highway jammed in a raised position.

The bridge over Moser Channel south of Marathon became stuck about 6 p.m. when it was raised to let boat traffic pass.

Traffic backed up for miles on both sides of the bridge. Included in the stacked up traffic were buses, trucks, carloads of tourists and sailors headed back to the Key West Naval Base.

The highway patrol said it did not know what jammed the bridge.

To Probe Costs at Academies

Legislator Calls Yearly Outlay for Training Cadets Astounding

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A congressional investigation has been ordered into the high cost of training cadets at the Army, Navy and Air Force academies.

Chairman George H. Mahon (D-Tex) said Wednesday the House defense appropriations subcommittee has directed its staff members and investigators to delve into the reasons behind the high costs.

Statistics supplied to Congress by the Armed Forces show that in the last government bookkeeping year the average costs per man at the three service schools were:

Air Force Academy near Colorado Springs, Colo. — $28,600.
Military Academy at West Point, N.Y. — $13,078.
Naval Academy at Annapolis, Md. — $7,115.

Mahon said his subcommittee wanted a study made to determine the explanation for the great "disparity" between the services in advance of its closed door hearings on the next defense budget in January.

The Air Force has given as the reason for the high cost last year the fact that it incurred some nonrecurring expenses in setting up its new academy. It estimated that the outlay per cadet would drop to $22,400 in the current year.

Rep. William E. Minshall (R-Ohio), a member of the Mahon subcommittee, said the expense of training the cadets at all three academies is "astounding" when compared with average student costs at non-federal technological institutions.

Hollywood Director Dies in Heart Attack

NEW YORK (AP) — Preston Sturges, onetime top Hollywood producer, writer and director who authored a Broadway hit play, died here today of a heart attack.

Chicago - born Sturges, who would have been 61 years old Aug. 28, died in his room at the Hotel Algonquin — a favored hostelry of theatrical folk—where he had resided for several months.

Sturges' play "Strictly Dishonorable," which later was made into a movie, was a smash hit on Broadway. Produced in 1929, the play ran for two years.

Sturges' fourth wife, Anne Margaret Nagle who is known as actress Sandy Mellen, was reported to be in Hollywood.

Sturges had a hard time crashing Hollywood, where he went in 1932 as a writer for Universal International. But he hit the filmland jackpot in the late 1930s after he had offered to sell Paramount a script for $10—if he could direct the movie.

Paramount accepted, and the result was "The Great McGinty."

70,000 Negroes in Growing Cult

Time Magazine Tells of 'Moslems,' Incited by Anti-White Leader

NEW YORK (UPI)—Time Magazine reported Wednesday a national survey by its correspondents has disclosed that a Negro religious cult called "The Moslems" — devoted to a campaign of "black supremacy" — claims 70,000 members in 29 U.S. cities.

The magazine said the cult is led by a frail-looking, self-styled "messenger of Allah," born Elijah Poole, son of a Baptist minister, in Sandersville, Ga., in 1897, who now calls himself Elijah Muhammad.

Muhammad preaches virulent racism, anti-Americanism and anti-Semitism to Negroes jammed into big city slums, the magazine said. It said 5,500 Negroes gathered in New York's St. Nicholas arena last week to hear him declare that "every white man knows his time is up."

Time said the members talk of 1970 as their D-day and "expansively predict that before that time the big white nations will have eliminated each other with atomic warfare and black Africa will stand unchallenged."

The magazine said the organization is causing growing concern to Negro civil leaders, the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, police departments and the FBI.

It said some police are particularly worried by the fact that the cult has been entirely law-abiding. It quoted a Los Angeles police official as saying: "It's getting worse every day, and I only wish I knew what it's going to take to light the fuse."

Two Quakes in Cascades Cause Little Damage

The earth tremors were felt in an area bordering the Cascade Mountains from Olympia north to the Canadian border.

May Parallel Ike Talks to Western Leaders

Rumors Hint Red Summit Due Soon

LONDON—A Khrushchev trip to Peiping soon after the Soviet Premier's American talks with President Eisenhower appears in the cards, British circles report.

The British Foreign Office said it had heard nothing official on this report but commented such speculation must be considered "very reasonable and intelligent."

Other reports circulating in London talk of a "Red summit" meeting of the European Communist bloc in Moscow late this month before Khrushchev takes off for Washington, and a top-level meeting in Peiping.

Communist China on Oct. 1 celebrates the 10th anniversary of its regime. Mao Tze-tung, Red Chinese Communist party chairman, visited Moscow in 1957 when the Soviet Union celebrated the 40th anniversary of its October revolution.

Observers here believe Khrushchev, who is also Soviet Communist party chairman, is obliged by courtesy and Communist ties to reciprocate in October. And the Red Chinese certainly will want a first-hand report from Khrushchev on his September talks with Eisenhower.

There have been steady reports that Peiping frowns on a summit conference without her leaders present, and looks with lack of enthusiasm on direct Soviet-American summit talks that could leave Red China out in the cold.

Thus, a Khrushchev-Mao meeting in Peiping in October is viewed here as a move to allay Chinese fears and to avoid any serious dispute between the two major Communist powers.

Another report has it that Khrushchev will call together leaders of the Communist bloc, including Red China, for a satellite summit meeting in Moscow before he leaves for his American tour next month.

These sources also said the Red Chinese were cool to the idea of a Khrushchev-Eisenhower meeting, although the Communist New China News agency said it should help world peace.

A Communist top-level conference was reported earlier this month to have been arranged tentatively in Moscow. Among other things, it was reported that Communist China wanted to discuss its relations with the other Red nations, particularly Russia.

Now, sources said, the conference would serve as a policy review and skull session to help Khrushchev in his negotiations with President Eisenhower.

A third report says Mao Tze-tung of Red China is believed to have summoned the Chinese hierarchy to a secret conference to plan some important new move, either on the domestic or the Asian scene. The forthcoming visit of Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev to the United States also might be on the agenda.

The absence of China's big brass from weekend celebrations of the 32nd anniversary of the Chinese Red army strongly suggested that such a conference had been called.

Mercedes Producers Buy Some S-P Stock

STUTTGART, Germany (UPI)—Daimler-Benz Co. has bought into Studebaker-Packard Co., which distributes its cars in the United States.

Daimler-Benz, makers of Mercedes cars, announced briefly that it has bought some of Studebaker-Packards preferred stock.

Studebaker-Packard controls distribution of Mercedes automobiles in the United States through a jointly-owned subsidiary, Mercedes Benz Sales, Inc.

Sales of the sleek German autos have boomed so much in recent months informed sources said, that the parent company here has switched money formerly needed to sustain the American subsidiary into Studebaker-Packard stock.

Auto Barely Misses Hitting Gov. Faubus

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP)—A state official was hit by an automobile Wednesday that narrowly missed Gov. Orval E. Faubus.

Faubus was crossing a downtown street with State Welfare Commissioner Carl Adams and State Police Sgt. Floyd Weaver, Faubus' escort, when the car hit Adams. Faubus and Weaver jumped out of the way.

Adams was knocked about six feet and suffered contusions and abrasions on the hand and leg, police said. He was released after emergency medical treatment.

Police Lt. Joe Campbell said W. H. Parks, 55, of Batesville, Ark., driver of the car, had been charged with failure to yield the right of way to pedestrians.

Of all vegetable seeds offered to buyers, radish seeds lead all other varieties.

Stationery Allowance Should Be Used for That

WASHINGTON (AP)—Two congressmen propose that fellow House members use their stationery allowances only for stationery supplies.

It was reported last week that some congressmen spend part of their $1,800 a year allowances for luggage, billfolds, cigarette cases, hat boxes, electric shavers and Christmas cards.

Under bills introduced by Reps. J. Arthur Younger (R-Calif) and John H. Ray (R-NY), congressmen could use the allowances only to buy items now available in the House stationery room.

WELCOME NEW PASTOR — The Rev. Francis Dietz, left, was installed as the first resident pastor of Sacred Heart Catholic Church in Auburn Heights last night. On hand to welcome him were Mrs. Jack Brickel, president of the Altar Society, and the Rev. Francis Stack, who had been pastor of Sacred Heart Mission for 13 years.

Members of Sacred Heart Greet First Resident Pastor

AUBURN HEIGHTS—Yesterday was a red letter day in the history of Sacred Heart Mission Catholic Church here. It marked the end of its mission statues and reception for its first resident pastor, Rev. Francis Dietz, formerly of Detroit.

The Rev. Dietz received his new appointment in June from the Most Rev. John F. Dearden, D. D., archbishop of Detroit. Because of a previously planned visit to Europe and the Holy Land, the effective date of Rev. Dietz's appointment was delayed until yesterday.

The solemn ceremony of the new pastor's installation took place at 8 p.m. in the church with Monsignor Eugene Pacock, dean for the church in the Auburn Heights district, officiating.

Included in the procession were representatives of all parish societies.

After Rev. Dietz made a Profession of the Faith, he was presented with the keys to the church by the Rev. Francis Stack, who had been pastor of Sacred Heart Mission for the past 13 years.

A short program in the parish hall followed the church ceremony, and some 250 people were present to meet and welcome their new pastor.

A specially-decorated cake made by Mrs. Ronald R. Piche, had the spotlight on the serving table. It had "Welcome Father Dietz" in blue with gold chalices and blue rosaries as the trimmings.

Civic Leader Dies in Romeo

Royal Holt Led Efforts for Youth Center and Other Projects

ROMEO — The man who spearheaded the drive for funds and materials to build the Romeo Community Youth and Civic Center and became its first director died last night at his home here following a long illness.

Royal A. Holt, 62, o 73817 Gould Rd., had moved to h s summer home near Romeo in 1941.

He was co-owner of R & M Manufacturing Co. in Royal Oak until ill health forced him to retire in 1945 and spend the remainder of his life at the farm.

Given only a few months to live 14 years ago, a mechanical engineer, Mr. Holt wasn't content to sit around and wait for the end to come. He began raising blooded Palomino horses, organized the Macomb County Sheriff's posse and took on the non paying job of construction superintendent for the $100,000 Youth Center two years ago.

TOILED MANY HOURS

He spent more hours on the job doing much of the actual work on the building himself than most men in the best of health, center officials said.

Mr. Holt's body lies in state today at Kinsey Funeral Home, Royal Oak. He will be moved to the center in Romeo where he will lie in state from 10 a.m. tomorrow until time of service at 10 a.m. Saturday at the center.

Burial will be in White Chapel Memorial Cemetery, Troy.

Mr. Holt and his family lived in Pleasant Ridge until they moved to Romeo.

He was an honorary member of the Romeo Rotary Club, Detroit Commandery No. 1, Consistory, and the Blue Lodge Eureka, F & AM, and Moslem Shrine, both in Detroit.

He also was a past president of the Royal Oak Lions Club and past chairman of the Romeo Peach Festival Assn.

Surviving are his wife, Helen, two daughters, Helen E., at home, and Mrs. Gilbert Robinson of Onsted; two brothers, Earl of Clawson and Clarence of Poughkeepsie, N. Y., two sisters and three grandchildren.

The family has asked that memorial contributions be given to the Youth Center in Romeo.

Lapeer on Schedule

ROAD WORK — Many of Lapeer's streets are torn up these days while the city's street improvement program is in full swing. Here workmen fill an excavation on Nepessing street after raising the manhole in preparation for blacktopping. The job on this street in particular is due for completion by Aug. 26 when it will be closed off for the city's "Lapeer Days" celebration. The Chamber of Commerce will stage the two-day event.

Improve Streets for Celebration

Target Date Is Aug. 26 for 2-Day Program After Construction

LAPEER — Work on the construction and improvement of city streets is progressing on schedule City Manager Howard R. Gohlke said today.

The target completion date is Aug. 26 when Nepessing street will be blocked off for the opening on the two-day "Lapeer Days" program.

Workmen now are fixing and raising manholes preparatory to blacktopping Nepessing street, and traffic is being rerouted in single lanes around the excavations. New storm sewers also are being installed.

Another much-needed improvement expected to be completed for the celebration later this month is installation of new fluorescent street lights on Lapeer's main street.

Among the other streets which are receiving attention during the current construction program are Pine, Park Saginaw, Clay and Fox. In all cases, drainage facilities are being constructed and in some instances nearing completion, Gohlke said.

Curb work also is being done on many of these streets, be added.

Two hydrants have been changed during the past two weeks, the manager said, and have been relocated as required by the street improvement program.

City workmen are in the process of making a six-inch tap in the 12-inch water main on S. Elm and Oak streets in preparation for the installation of a water line to serve the new Turrill Elementary School.

Gohlke also announced that in order to balance the work schedule of the new Public Safety Department, Alton Coon has assumed regular duties in the department. His former job has been taken over by Louis Finsterwald, who was a member of the auxiliary.

Mrs. Doris Sutton is resigning as a member of the office staff in the City Hall effective Aug. 31. Her replacement is Mrs. Louise Matheson, 118 N. Monroe St., who started work on Aug. 1.

Crowds Already Rush to See Kalamazoo Mall

KALAMAZOO (UPI) — Crowds similar to the Christmas shopping rushes hit the city's downtown shopping mall this week as workmen readied the mall for its formal opening Aug. 19-22.

Two blocks of Burdick, the city's main north-south route, were taking on the appearance of a public park. Pavement was replaced with a broad lawn filled with grass, flowers, shrubbery and trees.

National interest reached city officials in the form of requests for radio and closed circuit television coverage of the activities during the four-day celebration.

Included in the dedication activities will be an opening breakfast and ribbon-cutting ceremonies, a parade, concerts by Jimmy Dorsey's orchestra, fashion shows, street dances, an auto show and displays of merchandise on the mall.

"Miss Downtown Kalamazoo" will be selected Aug. 19 to reign over the activities on Aug. 20, Ladies Day. On that day, Mrs. Hazel Wirick, the only woman member of the city commission, will preside as honorary mayor.

Friday, Aug. 21, will be Southwestern Michigan Day. Products of factories and farms throughout the southwest section of the state will be displayed and officials of area communities are scheduled to visit the dedication.

Entertainment of juveniles and their parents will highlight the festivities on Kids Day, Aug. 22.

Maid of honor was the bride's sister, Nancy Emmons. Another sister, Anne, was the bridesmaid.

Will Return to Work at Tube Company

The company, which employs some 500 men at the plant, is one of the larger independent steel tube producers in the nation.

William A. McHattie, company president, said maintenance crews would begin tomorrow to ready the plant for full production Aug. 12.

Members of Local 1900 of the United Steelworkers union agreed to abide by the terms of the old contract until a settlement is reached in the national steel strike when they would come under its provisions.

The 500 employes had been on strike since the national strike began July 14.

Nicaragua Admits Invasion by Rebels

MANAGUA, Nicaragua (AP)— President Luis Somoza's government reversed itself Wednesday night and admitted there had been an invasion by rebel forces from Honduras and Costa Rica. But it said most of the invaders were captured or routed.

The number still at large was not announced.

A Nicaraguan government spokesman had said Tuesday there had been no invasion and that "everything is quiet through the nation."

Early in June a force of 110 crossed the border from Nicaragua. They were killed, captured or driven back to Nicaragua by Somoza's army. Groups of rebels have formed several times since on the Honduran or Costa Rican borders but have been dissuaded by those two governments.

Commerce Farmer Bests the Birds

Firecrackers Used to Boost Corn Output

By REBA HEINTZELMAN

COMMERCE TOWNSHIP—High-powered firecracker blasts have replaced scarecrows in one of Oakland County's largest corn fields—and it's all perfectly legal.

When Russell Thompson and his son, James, of Commerce Township discovered that 50 per cent of their sweet corn crop was going "for the birds," they decided to do something about it.

The 75 acres, planted exclusively in luscious golden bantam and hybrid sweet corn, is situated in the heart of the big 350-acre Thompson farm, a quarter of a mile away from the nearest neighbor.

For this reason, Thompson was given permission to bring the "fuse-cord" firecracker technique into Michigan, and is probably one of the first corn growers in the state using this scarecrow method for corn preservation. Other states, allowing fireworks, have been using fuse-cords for years, Thompson explained.

Each firecracker is twisted into a one-half thick fuse cord, spaced at about 5 inches apart. The cord is cut in five or six-foot lengths, then laid between the rows where a flock of blackbirds have settled down to ravage the crop.

BIRDS FLEE

After the fuse-cord is lighted, it takes about 20 minutes to burn to each firecracker, and the blast and smoke sounds like the firing of a 12-gauge shotgun. The sky seems to become black with the temporarily-frightened birds.

Scaring crows is another story, according to Thompson.

"These birds are smart," he said. "After the first blast, a crow can tell just about when the next one will pop off, and leaves about two minutes before the fuse has reached the next firecracker. The smoke isn't cleared before a crow has settled back on a new ear of tender corn," Thompson said.

To lick this problem, firecrackers are twisted into the fuse-cord at various spacings — some close together and other farther apart and this has proven successful.

This is only the second year that the Thompsons have been in the wholesale corn growing business and already they have more than 50 outlets between Detroit and Flint.

Early marketing and speed in handling after the corn is ripe, are two of the requisites of a corn-growers success, Thompson explained. Before the frost is out of the ground, big 4-row plows, cultivators and seeders go to work.

PLANTS EARLY

Last spring, the men plowed as early as April 9, when the blade could not get through the frozen ground in some parts of the field. Especially hardy corn is planted at this time, and the first fully-formed ear of corn was sold June 21, Thompson said.

There is much waste at this time, which is the reason that home grown corn is so expensive in early spring, he said.

One of Thompson's biggest machines covers eight rows at one time, spraying for worms, and weeds every other day. It is rigged high over the tallest corn stalk, and penetrates between each leaf.

The recent dry spell has not bothered the Thompson farmers, due to their many man-made ponds throughout the acreage. Water is pumped into the fields, and the intricate irrigation system has saved the men many hard-earned dollars.

James Thompson designed and constructed his own corn-picking machine that whips down between the rows in record time. The corn is packed in big bags, and bedded down with hunks of ice right in the fields, for better preservation.

The two men estimated that they bag approximately 1,000 dozen ears of corn to each acre during the season. Before the new firecracker technique they produced less than one-half that amount, because of the terrific bird damage.

As for the neighbors, Thompson thinks he has the best. At certain times when the wind is just right, the firecrackers can be heard for a quarter of a mile away, however, the people know and understand the value of the "corn popping" in the back 'forty' and have no complaints, the farmer said.

Pontiac Press Photo

BIRD CHASER — Commerce Township farmer Russell Thompson has replaced the traditional scarecrow with firecrackers to keep the birds away from his sweet corn crop. Although the birds can tell just about when the next firecracker is due to pop, Thompson said his new system of crop control has more than doubled his output.

Barbara Spends Over $200,000 on Fall Clothes

PARIS (AP)— BARBARA Hutton is spending several hundred thousand dollars for more than half of Lanvin-Castillo's new colection of fall and winter fashions.

Asked about one report that the bill totaled $200,000, a spokesman for the house replied, "Oh, a lot more than that."

The Woolworth heiress will have plenty of changes for the season. Lanvin showed 171 models, including suits, day dresses, cocktail and evening gowns, coats and furs.

Designer Castillo won't have to whip up half of a new line to replace Miss Hutton's big purchase. Clients only get an exclusive model when it's designed specially for them, outside the collection.

This year Castillo has produced the most conservative collection in Paris. His hemlines drop to the bottom of the calf, while the average length at other houses is top of the calf.

Plan Festival at White Lake

WHITE LAKE TOWNSHIP — A gala festival, similar to an old-fashioned county fair, is being planned for all day Saturday by the 300-member Seven Harbors Assn. in White Lake Township.

Beginning at 9 a.m. a big parade will assemble at Highland and Duck Lake roads, with firemen, scout groups, merchants and a bevy of local beauties getting set to move northward on Duck Lake road, to the Beaumont school grounds.

Paper-decorated bicycles will be featured in the parade, and pretty local girls competing for the honor of queen will ride in open convertibles. One of the biggest parade attractions will be the Oakland County Sheriff's mounted patrol.

At 10 a.m. a flag raising ceremony will precede the Rev. Wayne Ritchie's invocation, and then the festival will get into full swing, according to chairmen, Mrs. Allen Simmons and Mrs. Ray Johnson.

There will be a horse shoe tournament, a little league baseball game, pony rides for the youngsters, baby picture contest, photo-gallery, a shooting gallery, and the Indian Boy Scout troop 42 will present their famous Indian dances.

TO CROWN QUEEN

Highlighting the day's activities at 3 p.m. will be the crowning of the queen. She will be judged strictly on her posture, personality physical and cultural attributes, and ten local candidates have filed applications for this honor.

Quafifications require that a contestant must be not older than 20 or under 16 years of age. She must be a member of one of the families living in the Seven Harbors area. She must be single, and her application must be signed by a parent or guardian.

The public has been urged to attend the festival, and all proceeds will be used in the associations community fund, for lake and road improvements around Duck Lake and White Lake, Mrs. Simmons said.

About 11 million motorists purchase and install new fan belts in their automobiles every 12 months.

Town Volunteers for Health Study

By A. F. MAHAN JR.

TECUMSEH (AP)—Wherever you live, you some day may owe your life to this town in southeastern Michigan.

Most of Tecumseh's 8,500 residents have volunteered to participate in the largest health study of its kind ever undertaken by medical science.

Thorough physical examinations that include cardiograms and X rays are being given families. A health history also is being compiled on each participant.

From this picture of a whole community's health, science hopes to learn what people by types, occupations and kinship have what and why; possible ways to detect an ailment as it develops and before it becomes obvious; whether distribution of a disease reflects the cause of it; interrelationship of diseases, and new methods of prevention.

The study is being directed by the University of Michigan's School of Public Health, whose Dr. Thomas Francis Jr. directed the nationwide trials of the Salk polio vaccine. It will run through 1960.

Currently the study is being financed by a two-year grant of $280,000 from the National Heart Institute, a branch of the U.S. Public Health Service.

Already, some of those participating have been told of diseases or defects they never suspected they had. And experts believe they have discovered something significant about influenza and how an immunity to it may be established. But details are being withheld for the present.

Tecumseh was chosen for several reasons: It is close to the University of Michigan; it is big enough not to be just a farming center; a town with no obvious bias, and a town not dominated by one industry.

A medical description of the community may point in various directions from the current primary emphasis on heart ailments, and should give the basis for a study of family health traits, since near and distant kin can be traced from the original subjects.

While they hope the current study will point to many specific fields for further investigation, Dr. Horton and his colleagues appear confident this health picture may establish the pattern of possibly several diseases and point out means of coping with them more successfully.

Children Should Have Occasional Guilt Feelings

Worrying about giving your child "guilt" feelings? Don't.

A distinguished parent educator, Mrs. Anna M. Wolf, 30 years an executive on the staff of the Child Study Association, believes there is no objection to a child feeling guilt—as long as it is conscious guilt.

"This is how he develops a conscience," said Mrs. Wolf on the eve of her recent retirement from the education field.

Shrieks Fill Radio Studio in New Deejay Contest

NEW ORLEANS (UPI) — A rash of horror movies now showing in New Orleans has prompted two disc jockeys to start a "screaming contest."

The WJBW deejays offered a hi-fi record player to the person phoning in the wildest scream. All one has to do, they explained, is call, give your name and address and shriek.

Try Some Different Lunches for Children

Next to recess the happiest period of the school day is lunchtime—a time when young students enjoy their pleasures and relax between classes.

This is especially true if her lunch box fare lends inspiration—hot tomato soup in a vacuum bottle; a Waldorf-chicken salad; crackers with delightful non-soggy fillings, and cookies.

Some cracker fillers may be spicy peanut butter, double cheese treat or pineapple cheese.

For a spicy peanut butter mix, gradually add ¼ cup apple butter to ¼ cup peanut butter. Blend well with fork.

The Reason . . . Wider Than High

Sees Better Mileage With Small Car Tire

DETROIT (AP)—A rubber company executive predicted today that motorists will get 50 per cent better tire mileage on the new domestic small cars than they have on present larger cars.

Walter D. Baldwin, vice president of United States Rubber Co., made the prediction in connection with the announcement of a new 13-inch low profile tire which will be original equipment on Chevrolet's rear-engined Corvair.

Low profile means a cross section of the tire is wider than it is high. The increased mileage, Baldwin said, will come from the new tire design, plus the lighter weight and lower horsepower of the new cars.

Early reports said the Corvair, because of its unique rear engine, would use larger tires on the rear wheels. But it is learned that all four wheels will be equipped with 6.50x13 tires using more air pressure on the back two wheels.

Ford's Falcon and Chrysler's Valiant, the two other new small cars, also will use 13-inch tires.

Ask Study of Disposal of Dredging Wastes

LANSING (AP)—A legislative study has been proposed of disposal of wastes from dredging of great lakes, rivers, harbors and channels.

The request was prompted by complaints about dredging at the mouth of the Raisin River at Monroe.

Reps. William C. Sterling (D-Monroe) and Edward H. Jeffries (D-Detroit) asked for a five-member House committee and an appropriation of $5,000 for the study.

The state conservation department complained wastes from the Monroe dredging were filling in a marsh area and hurting duck habitat, filling up the old channel of the Raisin River and creating a nuisance to property owners.

The House resolution said this might presage tremendous problems along the entire great lakes coastline as harbor and channel deepening projects are acceleratd with the growth of St. Lawrence Seaway shipping.

Steel Negotiators Urged to Hush Up, Bargain More

2C—2-42 ERB—STEEL NEGOTIAT ta34 eesszyyu v steel rndp um 6

NEW YORK (AP) — Federal mediators are trying to persuade the steel strike negotiators to stop their barrage of public statements accusing each other and to concentrate on real bargaining for a new contract.

Joseph F. Finnegan, director of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service, says: "Anytime parties get together and quit laying down publicity barrages and go at things in a workmanlike way, it's progress."

Finnegan, who maneuvered Wednesday for less blasting in public, said he saw "no indication of any change by either party on any economic issue."

Joint negotiations continue today with the aid of the federal mediators.

The new technique of the mediators Wednesday involved a secret meeting between David J. McDonald, president of the striking United Steelworkers of America, and R. Conrad Cooper, chief industry negotiator and executive vice president of the United States Steel Corp.

While the McDonald-Cooper conference went on, other negotiators discussed contract terms. Finnegan said both sides appeared to be acting "in a more workmanlike way."

The strike of 500,000 members of the union is 23 days old. It has shut down almost 90 per cent of the country's steel production and has idled approximately 107,000 employes in allied industries.

The union's principal demand is for a wage increase of about 15 cents an hour in each year of a new contract, plus fringe benefits. The industry contends that any increase in labor costs would force a rise in steel prices and spur inflation. Prestrike wages averaged $3.10 an hour. The union contends its demands could be met out of profits and increased productivity without a steel price rise.

Red Newspaper Slams Almanac, Encyclopedia

MOSCOW (UPI) — The newspaper Soviet Culture charged today that the 1959 World Almanac contains "gross, libelous fabrications against the Soviet government."

The culture ministry organ charged specifically that the Almanac "described Soviet foreign policy in a distorted fashion."

The article also denounced the yearbook of the Encyclopedia Britannica, saying that it contains "vicious, libelous caricatures of the most respected and progressive leaders of the Communist party in the Soviet Union and of the Soviet government."

U. S. Governors Trim List of Invitations to Soviets

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico (UPI) —U. S. governors trimmed their invitation list to Soviet officials on the advice of the State Department before passage of the authorizing resolution, it was disclosed today.

The bobtailed version of the plan to invite their Russian counterparts to next year's U. S. Governors Conference was approved at the final conference session yesterday after hours of lively debate.

As originally proposed, the invitation could have gone to the heads of all 15 Soviet republics.

In clearing the resolution with the State Department, however, the governors learned this would include heads of government in Lithuania, Latvia and Estonia, three once-independent countries whose absorption by Russia during World War II has never been recognized by the United States.

So the Resolutions Committee narrowed the proposed guest list to include only the heads of the five Soviet republics visited this summer by a nine-man governors committee.

The resolution merely authorizes the new executive committee to extend the invitation, after consultation with the State Department.

The plan could be abandoned if relations with Russia cool before next year's conference, which will be held in Montana at Glacier National Park.

UP to Get New Park

NEWBERRY (UP) — Upper Michigan will have a new state park next year. A popular camping ground owned by the state 25 miles north of Newberry in Luce County has been taken over by the state parks system. Improvements will be started this fall. It will be called Muskellunge State Park. The area includes Muskellunge Lake.

Rivers and lakes are less buoyant than the ocean. A ship settles one foot deeper in fresh water for every 36 feet of draft, the National Geographic says.

Ghost Writer 'Lives' Famous Lives

He Teeters on Edge of Schizophrenia

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK—"Women are more vivid than men—as human beings.

"If you look at life through a man, you see it through a glass, darkly. Through a woman, you see it clearly. Why? Let us be corny and say that a woman is a more sensitvie instrument upon which life plays; say she is closer, through her bearing of children, to the mainstream of life.

"Or be simpler, and just say I'm a romantic. And women are the people you write poems to. Not men."

This "romantic" should know. He has made $300,000 the last five years, seeing life clearly through women. He is a ghost-writer, an unlicensed sort of psychoanalyst, a kind of professional schizophrenic, named Gerold Frank. His books: Diana Barrymore's "Too Much Too Soon," Lillian Roth's "I'll Cry Tomorrow," Sheila Graham's "Beloved Infidel."

He looked through a glass, darkly. It was scotch and water. And then he told how it feels to be so obscurely wealthy.

"I've always been fascinated by people who did outrageous things, who lived life with capital letters, who could do one thing better maybe than anyone else in the world. I was Walter Mitty, leading a mundane life and trying to break out of everyday quiet desperateness, like most people do."

As a newspaperman in Cleveland, that's what Gerold Frank did. He stared, with jaw agape, at the outrageous kinds of people. He recalled that he was so curious that, when he finally came to New York, he traveled all the city's subways—to the end of the line and back.

"People said, 'Are you nuts?' But I had to know where the subways went and what happened to them. What did they do at the end of the line, those cars—just fall off?"

One can imagine, when a person like that meets a girl like Lillian Roth, what happened. "I thought gee whiz, she could have been invented by Dostoyevsky. I had to know more about her. And when I found out more, I could emphasize. And then I was so much taken up by what she'd done, and the tragedy of her life, that there were times when there were tears in both our eyes as she told me the story."

Frank saw Diana Barrymore, later, as a life as confused as a surrealistic painting. And Sheila Graham—"Well, Sheila was deeply touching." He worked for six months on gathering material for eight fo these best-selling biographies. He averaged 10 pages of notes to one page of printed copy. According to Cosmopolitan Magazine, which profiles him among the top ghost-writers in the U.S. in its current issue about "writers." Frank gets so close to his female clients, mentally, that when they begin a sentence—he can finish it.

"I walk always," he said, "on the thin edge of schizophrenia. I struggle in a fascinating quicksand. It's hard enough to know who you are, but when you have to lead another's life too. . ."

Currently, Gerold Frank is attempting to lead the life of Zsa Zsa Gabor, his next biography. She, he said, is "the most difficult dame to get on paper." It has taken him six months to begin research on Zsa Zsa's saga, but she is so mercurial it will take him an extra half-year.

But he's not bored, obviously. And he doesn't feel like hurrying.

"When you're young," he mused, "you have goals and time limits. You feel you're on a ship heading for a distant green shore. But as you mature, you realize you'll never reach the distant short. It's only a cruise you're on, so take it easy."

OPTICAL ILLUSION? — No, just a mistake on the part of a New Jersey employe. He put the plate in upside down. Red-faced Motor Vehicle Division officials said the motorist, Angelo Cordi of Cranford, New Jersey, was given a new set of plates. They were double checked this time.

Michigan Gets Traffic Safety Award, but Must Improve Accident Score

LANSING (UPI)—The state safety commission yesterday received an award for a good record in 1958 and a warning that Michigan needs to improve on its accident score this year.

Norman A. Olman, district director for the National Safety Council, said Michigan was one of three states to get an award of merit, second highest honor the council bestows.

Connecticut and Virginia were also honored.

The national council also cited Michigan for lowering the traffic death record in 1958, improving its traffic records handling and advancing its driver education program.

But Olman said the state should improve its record review procedures, tighten its financial responsibility laws and set up a car inspection program.

He said Michigan also deserved recognition for highway ice control, its road marking program, lighting on trunklines, traffic channeling work and an expanded building program.

Other area where Michigan could improve, Olman said, are number of traffic enforcement officers, keeping of records involving drinking drivers and pedestrians, its driver improvement program and training and supervision of driver license inspectors.

Michigan had 1,375 persons killed in accidents in 1958 and 1,548 died in 1957.

Through July 31 of this year, provisional figures show 742 persons have died in traffic wrecks —which puts the state 40 deaths ahead of 1958 figures.

"The trouble is, most people think they're better than average drivers," state police commissioner Joseph A. Childs said.

He said a program expected to start in late September would be aimed at showing the great majority of drivers—not the teenagers and not problem drivers—where they can go wrong in safety.

The plan, being formed with the cooperation of the Michigan State University Traffic Safety Center, would concentrate on "most unwanted" drivers.

Childs said posters, radio and television appeals and press releases would aim at common violations such as drifting stops, right of way hogging, driving in the wrong lane, and mild speeders.

The program would be pegged to a reverse twist on the FBI lists of "ten most wanted" criminals, Childs said.

James M. Hare, secretary of state and chairman of the safety commission, said a drinking driver program was also under way.

He said of 420 fatal accidents from April 1 through last month, drinking was definitely involved in 169 or 44 per cen. of them.

"We suspect the total is much higher, but in too many cases it's impossible to find out," Hare said. "We do think that if newspapers print the names of persons who have had their license revoked for drinking or any other reason, it helps keep them off the road."

WHY DO WITHOUT A LITTLE LUXURY LIKE THIS...

Chevy's the only car of the leading low-priced three that gives you the convenience of crank-operated vent windows. No awkward latches to fumble with . . . your knuckles and fingernails will appreciate it.

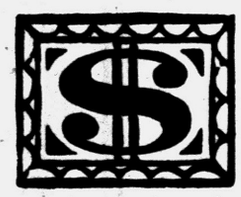
LET ALONE THESE BIG CHEVY VIRTUES!

greater roominess

Automobile Manufacturers Association records carry the facts on this. In a Chevy sedan, for example, you've got more front seat head room than all but one of the high-priced cars! And Chevy's front seat hip room spreads up to 5.9 inches wider than comparable cars.

full coil ride

You're the expert on ride, so you'll want to try Chevy's easygoing smoothness for yourself. MOTOR TREND magazine can give you a hint of what you're in for: ". . . the smoothest, most quiet, softest riding car in its price class." And Full Coil springs, of course, never squeak, never need grease.



bigger savings

Here's solid proof that Chevrolet squeezes more miles out of a gallon: In the famous Mobilgas Economy Run, two Chevrolet sixes with Powerglide took the first two places in their class, averaging 22.38 miles per gallon. And that, friends, won top honors for Chevy from every full-sized car!

higher trade-in

N.A.D.A.* Guide Books prove that your Chevrolet will keep its value. Chevy used car prices last year, for example, averaged up to $128 higher than comparable models of the other two cars in Chevrolet's field.

National Automobile Dealers Association.*

bigger brakes

Bigger, yes, and built with bonded linings for as much as 66% longer life. And how's this for proof that Chevy's a real stopper: in a NASCAR*-conducted test of repeated stops from highway speeds, Chevrolet outstopped both of the "other two" time after time.

National Association for Stock Car Advancement and Research*

fresh styling

POPULAR SCIENCE magazine gave Chevy's styling a thoughtful look, then said it this way: "In its price class, Chevy establishes a new high in daring styling . . ." You'll find your own happy way of saying that Chevy's the only unmistakably modern car in its class.

award-winning engines

The NASCAR Outstanding Achievement award goes to Chevrolet! Chevy wins for "the creation and continuing development of America's most efficient V-type engines . . . for the establishment of new levels of V8 compactness combined with outstanding smoothness." And you can choose among eight V8's and the Six that won the Mobilgas Economy Run for its class.

(NO WONDER MORE PEOPLE ARE BUYING CHEVROLETS IN 1959 THAN ANY OTHER CAR!)

Seek to Throw Out Convention Vote Suit

LANSING (AP) — The Supreme Court was asked Wednesday to throw out a suit seeking to pave the way for an early constitutional convention to rewrite the state's 1908 basic charter.

Sam Torina, solicitor general, said the State Canvassing Board properly certified that a Con-Con proposition on the 1958 general election ballot was defeated. He argued the question now is moot.

Stoliker contended that the canvassing board erred in ruling that the proposition failed because it received less than a majority of the 2,341,829 votes cast at the election.

He said a majority of those who voted directly on the issue favored a convention, even though the affirmative votes were less than a majority of all those cast.

Reveal Contract Winners at State Air Force Bases

DETROIT (UPI) — The U.S. Army Corps of Engineers has announced the awarding of contracts totaling $4,335,542 for construction work at three Air Force bases in the state.

Champion, Inc., of Iron Mountain, was awarded a $1,683,383 contract for construction of a 50-bed hospital at Kinross Air Force Base (being renamed Kincheloe Air Force Base).

Beacon Construction Co. of Massachusetts, Inc., was awarded a $1,783,502 contract for a similar hospital at Wurtsmith Air Force Base, Oscoda.

F. D. Rich Co., Inc., Stanford, Conn., was awarded an $868,565 contract for construction of several buildings at K. I. Sawyer Air Force Base near Marquette.

He Took a Hard Road

LIBERTY, Ky. (AP)—Motorists thought they were seeing things. Right in the middle of Liberty's main street sat a groundhog. Everytime a car approached, he disappeared.

Road workmen found the groundhog had dug through 18 inches of roadbed and two inches of blacktop to make an almost invisible hole.

An average wage earner in the United States today lives to an age of 70 years, compared with 46 years in 1909.

Parents Shouldn't Teach Children to Fear Police

By DOROTHY V. WHIPPLE, M.D.

"WATCH OUT, the cops will get you," said Dad sternly to 4-year-old Freddy, "Better put it back quick."

Freddy turned toward Dad, fear sweeping across his round little face. He put the hammer back in the tool box.

"What would the cop do to me, Daddy," he whispered.

"Cops put boys in jail—boys who take things that don't belong to them," said Dad very seriously.

"What's jail?" asked the child. "It's a place for bad people. They lock you up and don't give you anything but bread and water to eat."

"Could I have toys?"

"I should say not, it's no fun in jail, no toys and no friends. Most of the time you are all by yourself in jail."

"Jail wouldn't be nice."

"No indeed: you'd better be good, then you won't have to go to jail."

A few days later Freddy went to the store with his mother. On the way they saw a policeman walking down the street. Freddy hid behind his mother and hung tight to her skirt. Finally they passed the officer and Freddy said with evident relief:

"He didn't see me, Mommie."

"Who didn't see you?"

"The cop," said the child. "He might take me to jail if he saw me."

This is certainly no way for a child to feel about an officer of the law. And yet many a youngster is brought up to be frightened of policemen, to feel that they are strong, stern men ready and anxious to punish little children.

It seems to me there are two unfortunate results of using the police and the law as threats to make a child behave.

The first is the moral one. We want our children to grow up with a set of ethics that are as much a part of them as the air they breathe.

We do not want them to steal or lie or cheat, not because of fear of being caught but because there is something within each child that tells him not to do such things.

A person who behaves only out of fear will try to get away with as much as possible when he thinks no one will know. This is certainly not the kind of ethical values we want our children to have.

The second reason why children should not fear the police is the practical one that the child who is scared of a policeman is not likely to seek one out, should he be in trouble.

Instead of teaching children to fear the police, the better policy is exactly the reverse. Teach a child that the policeman is his friend. Tell the child that should he ever become lost, be locked out of his house, lose his money, or have anything happen to him where he needs an adult's help, the policeman is the one to go to.

Fire Destroys Press Box

DOUGLAS, Ariz. (AP) — Two boys, aged 7 and 9, went on a summer outing. They carried along some food and late in the afternoon decided to cook a meal.

They didn't get to eat. The fire department put out the cook fire after it had destroyed the press box at the high school football stadium.

People Pause to Pray Today in Hiroshima

HIROSHIMA, Japan (AP)—The 340,000 inhabitants of Hiroshima paused today for a minute of prayer on the 14th anniversary of the American atom bombing of their city.

Two Hiroshima girls, disfigured as children by the searing explosion, tolled the memorial bell in Peace Plaza before more than 30,000 people carrying incense sticks and Buddhist chaplets.

In the crowd was Dr. Linus Pauling, a U.S. winner of the Nobel Prize in chemistry in 1954, and an opponent of nuclear armament.

From Mexico City, touring Premier Nobusuke Kishi sent a message promising that his government will never permit location of atomic weapons or guided-missile bases in Japan. Kishi said the atom bombings of Hiroshima and Nagasaki had convinced Japan that manufacture and testing of nuclear weapons should be banned.

Russians Going Slow in Iraq; Red Chinese Working Fast and Tough

By WILTON WYNN

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP)—Highly reliable reports from Iraq say some Communist leaders there are getting directives from Moscow and others from Peiping. And the two Communist capitals often contradict each other.

The Russians appear to favor a go-slow policy in Iraq. They want the Communist party to look respectable. They know they cannot take Iraq quickly this way, but they hope this policy will strengthen their position in the area as a whole.

The Red Chinese favor a tough line. They want an all-out campaign to take over Iraq and make it a Communist state. They preach chaos, disorder, and an unrelenting war on the "reactionary" elements.

The Soviet line apparently is prevailing at least for the moment. A statement from the Iraqi Communist party's Politburo has condemned terrorist activities, which it blamed on "ill-advised individual leadership." The statement reiterated the party's determination to remain loyal to Premier Abdul Karem Kassem's revolution and republic. This is right down the Moscow line.

Several months ago Moscow warned the Iraqi Reds against a premature grab for power, which the Kremlin called "adventurism" and "opportunism." The Russians apparently felt a premature takeover would stiffen resistance to communism all over the Middle East.

To achieve this the Iraqi Reds will have to cease being troublemakers and a general public nuisance. They will have to curb terrorism and impose tighter discipline on the Communist-dominated Popular Resistance Force and other Communist-front organizations.

Although followers of the Soviet line seem to be on top in the politburo at the moment, the recent uprising in Kirkuk between the Communists and the authorities. It was a kind of disorganized brawl, exactly what the Red Chinese ordered. Such troubles undermine law and order, shake army discipline generally, and breed a chaos that could lead to a Communist take-over.

Kassem's charge that similar "Kirkuks" were planned simultaneously for other Iraqi cities lent substance to the theory that Red China's followers still hope to prevail. The Chinese take the line it is too late for the party in Iraq to adopt a respectable posture.

The Chinese fear a slow down now would mean serious loss of face for Asian communism. They say the Iraqi Reds have given the impression they are driving for power. Now they must maintain this momentum or appear defeated.

If the Red Chinese line wins out, an early communist attempt to overthrow Kassem should follow. If the Soviet policy is followed, the Communists probably will continue to back Kassem for an indefinite period, possibly for years.

Most Books Back in Exhibit but Under Glass to Please Reds

MOSCOW — (UPI) The United States Wednesday put back on the shelves of its Moscow exhibition 70 of the approximately 100 books removed on the eve of the fair because Soviet officials deemed them controversial. But the books were shielded by plexiglass from readers.

Exhibition officials indicated that the plexiglass shielding was a compromise decision to allow the books to be shown and still satisfy Soviet apprehension over the possibility of anti-Soviet literature being included in the exhibit.

Thirty-three books did not reappear and exhibition officials indicated they were unlikely to be returned in the future. As one book exhibit worker put it, "some of the works were pretty rough on them."

Many of the volumes that were placed on display for the first time today dealt largely with Soviet affairs. They also touched on such subjects as the United Nations, international politics and Judaism.

One of the books placed back on the shelves was the 1959 World Almanac.

A book exhibit official said he understood one of the reasons given for removal of the almanac was the publication's estimate of Soviet military strength.

The books had been moved from the exhibition just before the opening day and kept off until Soviet and American officials could reach an agreement on their display.

Among the volumes put back on exhibit were 'Mid-Europe, A Selective Biography" put out by the national committee for a free Europe; "The Smaller Dragon," a political history of Viet Nam by Joseph Buttinger; "The Prerequisites For Peace," by Norman Thomas, and Adlai E. Stevenson's "Friends and Enemies."

Other volumes returned included: "The United Nations," by Leland M. Goodrich; "Great Ages And Ideas Of the Jewish People," edited by Leo M. Schwarz; "History Of the Jewish Khazars," by D. M. Dunlop; "Ideas, People and Peace," by Chester Bowles; "A United Nations Peace Force," by William R. Frye, and "The Tyranny Of Words," by Stuart Chase.

The books by Schwarz and Dunlop were the only two volumes about Judaism restored to the shelves. Still absent were "Politics Of Israel," by Bernstein, and "The Course Of Modern Jewish History," by Sacher.

A representative display of American newspapers is scheduled to be put up today—also under plexiglass.

4 Per Cent Sales Tax Near in Pennsylvania

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP)—The Pennsylvania House of Representatives Wednesday passed a compromise plan to increase the 3½ per cent state sales tax to 4 per cent. The state senate and Gov. David Lawrence are expected to approve the measure within three weeks.

In addition to increasing the rate, the sales tax legislation also would extend the levy to soft drinks, automobile inspection sticker fees, laundry and dry cleaning services and retail sales made by beer distributors and at state liquor stores.

Gets Motorcycle Bargain

Rockefeller Son Thrifty

OSLO, Norway (AP) — Steven Rockefeller has shown the Norwegians a strain of the thriftiness which his wealthy family tries to instill in their children.

Frank Saethrang told today of selling the 23-year-old son of New York's Gov. Nelson Rockefeller the motorcycle that figured in his courtship of his Norwegian bride-to-be, Anne Marie Rasmussen, 21.

Steven, after winding up Army service in Germany, came to Norway to get engaged. He and Anne Marie met in Oslo and went to Saethrang's shop to buy a motorcycle on which to visit her family, who live 150 miles southwest of the capital.

"He was a very careful shopper," said Saethrang.

Steven showed interest in a small model priced at $450, then spotted one like it but slightly damaged.

The youthful heir to millions bought the damaged cycle at a bargain price, said Saethrang. The dealer wouldn't disclose how much he paid.

Steven then bought kidney-protective belts for himself and his bride-to-be. He refused the crash helmets that are standard equipment for motorcyclists in Norway. And he took a one-hour lesson in driving the vehicle.

Saethrang said that young Rockefeller never made his identity known.

"He doesn't know yet that my father did business with his father 30 years ago," Saethrang added.

"In the winter of 1929-30, my father sold Nelson Rockefeller his first ski equipment while he was a student at Dartmouth College in New Hampshire."

Housewives: Check Ads . . . Watch Prices

LANSING (AP)—Here's a tip for housewives from the State Agriculture Department.

Check to see if the grocery item you buy as an advertised special has the mark-down price stamped on the container.

The department reported an inspector recently paid 16 per cent more for four items in a Jackson store than the price advertised by signs and in the newspapers.

The inspector said the store had a policy of not re-marking prices of the specials, but expected checkout clerks to remember them.

The store manager pleaded guilty to charges of false advertising and paid $60 in fine and costs.

"We don't know how general this practice is," said J. L. Littlefield, chief of the department's Bureau of Foods and Standards. "But it could cost grocery shoppers many thousands of dollars."

Underlings Won't Tell Him, So Nikita Must See U.S. Himself

By PETER EDSON

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Nikita Khrushchev has been invited to the U. S. because no Russian apparently has the courage to tell his boss the truth.

And that includes the Soviet leader's two most trusted deputies, Anastas Mikoyan and Frol Kozlov.

Since Washington is convinced no meaningful negotiations at the summit or foreign ministers level can be held until Khrushchev knows the truth about the U. S., the invitation was extended.

The distressingly large number of ideas about the U. S. on which Khrushchev needs to be straightened out has been clearly impressed upon all American visitors to the Kremlin. And they, in turn, have impressed this upon President Eisenhower.

The list of visitors includes, mos notably, ex-Gov. Adlai Stevenson of Illinois, ex-Gov. Averell Harriman of New York, Sen. Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota and finally Vice President Nixon.

Thus the main purpose of Khrushchev's visit to the United States in September will be to correct many false impressions he has about this country and its foreign policy.

There is not the remotest chance that President Eisenhower and Khrushchev will try to settle outstanding differences between East and West.

The exchange of visits between Khrushchev and Eisenhower has been cleared with America's allies and has their approval.

After his visit a year ago, Stevenson declared that Russia had a "depressing lack of knowledge about the U. S." He went so far as to recommend summit meetings twice a year.

Humphrey came back to Washington after his eight-hour interview with Khrushchev to report that Khrushchev would welcome an invitation to America.

Harriman reported to Vice President Nixon and Secretary of State Christian Herter that Khrushchev would give ground on some of his demands if he could visit Ike personally.

All of these visitors to Moscow have come back to recommend the Eisenhower-Khrushchev exchange visits that have now been arranged.

American visitors to Moscow have all been astounded by Khrushchev's amazing misinformation about America.

They blame this on the fact that all lesser Russian officials are still afraid of their party boss. They don't dare tell him the truth, if the truth disagrees with his own convictions and with the Communist Party line.

This was apparent after the American tours of the two Russian deputy premiers, Mikoyan and Kozlov. They went back to Moscow reporting that American businessmen wanted to increase trade with Soviet Russia. The truth is that no one gave them this encouragement.

This was also impressed on one American official during a recent interview with Khrushchev, at which Mikoyan was present.

In this talk, Khrushchev repeated the old Communist line that a "ruling clique of war mongers in America wanted another world war so that they could make profits on arms."

On his American tour, First Deputy Mikoyan repeatedly heard American businessmen say that they did not want war. This was impressed on Mikoyan.

Confronted with this fact in the presence of his boss in Moscow, however, Mikoyan denied it. He said that there were only a few American businessmen who did not want war.

This was interpreted as a most revealing example of the fact that Khrushchev does not understand the West. He is convinced that communism is a higher order of civilization and that capitalism is on the wane.

When Harriman tried to tell him that America was now in its most creative period, Khrushchev remained unconvinced. Harriman concluded that the only way Khrushchev could be made aware of the facts of American life was to get him here and show him.

This Is Not the Best Way to Lure Customers

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Frank Barto, concessionnaire at an amusement park, was working late and got thirsty.

He dropped a dime into the soft drink machine. Nothing happened so he banged it with his fist. A shotgun blast was the response, the pellets inflicting superficial wounds on Barto's head, shoulder and back.

John W. Stewart, the park owner, said he heard the noise and thought burglars were looting the machine.

Sets Up Nuclear Medical Center

U. of M. Unit to Handle Victims of Radiation Accidents

ANN ARBOR (AP)—The University of Michigan Medical Center is setting up a special emergency procedure to handle victims of radiation accidents.

Dr. William H. Beierwaltes, chief of the U. of M. clinical radioisotope unit, said today, "This is not a war plan, nor is it designed to handle a massive number of casualties from nuclear attack.

It is simply a provision for handling the unusual medical problems which might result from the increasing use of radioactive materials in modern civilization."

Dr. Beierwaltes is coordinator of a team of specialists working together to provide prompt diagnosis and treatment for patients exposed to extensive radiation.

The plan was developed in light of the growing use of radioactive substances by industries and research laboratories through Michigan and northern Ohio.

The victim of a radiation accident will be checked by a geiger counter at the medical center's emergency entrance. The first treatment will be a drenching shower to remove any radioactive particles. The patient then will be checked for several days for evidence of radiation effects and the type of treatment determined.

Thief Likes Tail Lights

Police said someone walked into the parking lot of a downtown motel and stole 13 tail-lights off cars.

World's Widest Bridge to Span Portage Canal

HANCOCK (AP)—This Upper Peninsula area is being fitted for a bridge that moves up and down like an elevator.

And a spectacular bit of engineering will take place here some time late in August when a key segment will be added to one of the world's unique bridges.

A 10 million dollar vertical lift bridge now is under construction between Hancock and Houghton to link the rest of Michigan with the extreme northwesterly Keweenaw Peninsula.

The bridge spans the Portage Canal, which serves as a short cut for Great Lakes shipping traffic.

When wind and weather are just right, a 3,500,000 pound double-deck, combination road and railway steel lift span will be floated into place by tugs and attached to the 200-foot high tower piers of the bridge.

The new bridge will replace a swing span built in 1906.

It will have two levels of roadway—a lower one to carry train traffic and an upper level for motor vehicles and pedestrians.

The bridge will operate in three positions.

The first will have a normal clearance of seven feet above water. The second will raise the span to a 32-foot clearance to allow passage of larger pleasure craft. Cars will be able to use the railroad deck at this level to permit an uninterrupted flow of traffic on U.S. 41.

The third position will lift the huge span to 100 feet to allow passage of the largest ships.

The American Bridge Division of the U. S. Steel Corp. and the A. H. Johnson Co. of Minneapolis will move the big span into place. The bridge firm has a $5,933,887 contract for structural steel and machinery. The Johnson Co. has a $4,075,000 contract for other construction, including piers and approach work.

The state highway department said the structure will be the world's widest and heaviest vertical lift bridge.

Teen Girls Buying Undergarments Early

Talk from their mothers and aunts about "not being able to wait 'til I get home and take my girdle off" hasn't affected the teen-age set.

Some girls are buying their first bras and girdles today when they're 11. Almost 90 per cent of them have made their first "unmentionable" purchase by the time they're 13, according to a survey of some 3,000 teenagers made by Perma-lift.

When the teenager who's approaching adulthood makes her first undergarment purchases, a friend of the same age rates highest as adviser. About 40 per cent of the girls shop with a girl friend. Less than 1 per cent of the girls shop alone for bras and girdles.

A teenager's foundation wardrobe is the basis for her well-dressed appearance, according to Marian Hart, young figure stylist. From 12 to 20, a girl's figure changes often and "trying before buying" is the best way to insure perfect fit, both for comfort and fashion.

Airmen Perform Menial Tasks

Lt. Gen. Landon Tells Committee Aides May Work for Officers

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Air Force conceded Wednesday that some of its enlisted men may perform servants' duties at Air Force bases.

Meanwhile, the Army was reported backing down from such use of GI's by reassigning enlisted men now working in officers' clubs. Rep. Frank Kowalski (D-Conn), a retired Army colonel who has been campaigning against the use of enlisted men in menial tasks, said he had been informed of this unofficially.

Kowalski said the Army acted as a result of an investigation by a House armed services subcommittee into charges of improper use of military manpower.

The Air Force views were presented to the subcommittee by Lt. Gen. Truman H. Landon, Air Force deputy chief of staff in charge of personnel.

He argued that it is almost impossible to draw a line between tasks that are in line of duty and those that aren't for enlisted men assigned as aides to high ranking officers.

"It is not our intent," Landon said, "that any airman aide be assigned a full time duty in the performance of household chores."

Under questioning, however, Landon agreed that enlisted aides sometimes are called on to work for a general's wife and children.

"These aides are assigned to the officer," he said, "and at times they work for the officer's family."

The purpose of giving a general an aide, Landon said, is to relieve him of some of his official duties.

Asked if babysitting, walking the dog or driving the general's wife to go shopping could come under this definition, Landon replied:

"I can't give a categorical answer but I can see at times where driving the wife shopping helps the officer."

Landon said he himself has assigned an aide to drive his wife shopping when she needed to buy supplies for a party he was giving for visiting foreign officers.

Landon said, however, that wherever possible it is Air Force policy to hire civilians to perform custodial work on Air Force bases.

Break Ground for Hotel in Middle of Manhattan

NEW YORK (AP) — Ground was broken Wednesday for a palatial 48-story hotel—the first new hostelry to be built in Manhattan since 1931.

The 66-million-dollar structure is a project of real estate developer William Zeckendorf and will be called the Zeckendorf. The hotel site is adjacent to Rockefeller Center on 6th Ave. between 51st and 52nd streets.

Firefighters Hold Upper Hand in West

By The Associated Press

Firefighters held the upper hand today in battles with a rash of big timber and brush blazes in western states.

The situation:

CALIFORNIA — San Bernardino mountains fire, 80 per cent contained after burning 11,200 acres. Control expected Friday.

IDAHO — Three fires which burned between 13,000 and 15,000 acres, contained or controlled. Three missing firefighters found safe.

OREGON — A 35,000-acre range fire near Vale in the eastern part of the state under control. Warming and drying trend makes fire danger very high.

Youth Slips, Falls, Dies in Zion National Park

ZION NATIONAL PARK, Utah (AP)—Young Kelly Hilton slipped on mossy rocks Wednesday and fell 125 feet to his death in Zion National Park in southwestern Utah.

The 17-year-old youth was on a hiking expedition with three companions to the Natural Bridge, which is about 1,000 feet above the floor of the huge canyon park.

The hikers had strayed from the main trail, and Hilton fell as they were coming back. They had to hoist themselves up seher rock faces.

15 Years After Hartford Fire

Can't Forget Unidentified Little Girl

By WARD CANNEL

HARTFORD, Conn. (NEA)—After 15 years — when most of the people who survived have moved away or died or hidden the grisly memory of the Hartford Circus Fire in an anecdote — detective Lt. Thomas Barber still goes to the cemetery to see a grave marked only by a number.

"I didn't know her," he said. "I hardly knew any of them. But you'd think somebody would know a seven-year-old kid and bury her with a name instead of a state police morgue tag."

He says it flatly, factually, the way a veteran detective makes a report, because that is the only way it makes any sense.

"You walked into the armory that July and there were rows and rows of the burned dead on cots covered with blankets. Somebody had to identify a wrong body. And so many of them were little kids."

Those dead have been dead a long time. Two wars have ended since then.

Even the charred earth where the Ringling Brothers and Barnum and Bailey circus stood on July 6, 1944, has been buried under the mammoth Hartford housing project where people who can barely remember the fire are now raising children who will never remember.

There is still no authoritative statement on how the fire started. Official records begin when the flames were six feet high. But detective Barber says:

"I was there. And the first I noticed was a little ball of fire — about the size of an orange— burning through the canvas. The animal acts were just finishing. And there was this little orange ball of fire.

"Six minutes later it was all over."

For circuses are older than building codes and fire prevention societies. And until matinee time of July 6, 1944, the traditional method for water-proofing a big top, according to the National Board of Fire Underwriters, was with paraffin dissolved in gasoline.

In a moment the fire had flashed across the underside of the canvas, burning through halyards and pole ropes as it pursued the oily, waxy cloth.

The flaming tent roared and collapsed.

Spectators high in the bleachers could not find enough exits. People at ringside were blocked ahead by animal chutes and behind by folding chairs crashing down at them like a prison wall.

It was almost over when the fire engines arrived — less than 10 minutes after the alarm. Had they been eight minutes earlier, fire prevention experts say, they could probably have done little.

Nothing could have stopped the fire in the canvas. Summer clothing burned easily. Little children cannot move quickly. High heels get caught easily.

The bodies were piled four deep. "Just the heat was enough to suffocate you," Barber said. "My jacket turned to a cinder on my back — from the heat alone."

The casualty list, now yellowing and brittle, can still make a flat-voiced, factual observer of human misery gasp: 250 injured; 168 dead; 63 of them children under 15.

"I was going to take my little kid," Barber said. "He was seven. Just the right age for circuses. And then I found I was assigned to work it. You know, pickpockets and the other pests that always get into big crowds.

Barber hardly saw his family for a week. He was reassigned to the morgue detail in the armory where the quick came day after day to claim their dead.

Neither Snow Nor Sleet Deterred This Delivery

BOSTON (UPI)—Hundreds of persons were surprised recently when they received letters that had been mailed to them back in 1937.

The missing missives were in a sack found wedged in a chute at Boston's main post office. The chute had not been used for several years and workmen were dismantling it when they made their discovery.

Glaucoma has blinded more than 40,000 Americans.

HOT SPOT — Nurse Gladys Gordon of Denver hurries to spread blanket over a burning hospital bed and Robert McGrath, who teaches hospital employes how to react to real situations involving fire.

Carries Torch for Nurses

Job Keeps This Fellow All Fired Up

DENVER, Colo. (UP) — Robert McGrath gets burned up at his job all the time. But he is never injured, although there have been some close calls.

McGrath lies in hospital beds under a blazing sheet, protected by an asbestos blanket, to teach hospital personnel how to react swiftly and properly when they see a fire.

Attached to the Chicago Fire Prevention Bureau, he carries his message across the nation. In classes in 92 cities, he has perfected his technique and improvised many tricks to test his trainees.

During one class session, nurse Gladys Gordon speedily smothered fire in an empty bed. Seconds later she walked around a screen and was confronted with what looked like an honest-to-goodness emergency.

McGrath was in bed with flames spouting from the bed clothes. Miss Gordon gave one startled gasp before she grabbed a blanket and snuffed out the fire.

Not all nurses do such a good job.

"One little nurse in Louisiana was too short to spread the blanket completely over my body," McGrath recalls. "Things were getting pretty hot when she just crawled right up on top of me and pounded the flames out."

The closest call for McGrath was in a Southern state where an easy-going nurse leisurely unfolded the blanket. By the time she spread it over the flaming bed, McGrath's pants were beginning to burn.

"The main purpose of my instruction," he says, " is to prepare —specifically the nurses—to do something immediately. In hospitals, a woman is more likely to discover a fire than a man, especially at night."

One task is to help the nurse overcome a natural fear of fire. This is done by having them smother roaring gasoline fires with blankets, sheets, single pages of newspapers and thin squares of nylon. They are also taught to use carbon dioxide fire extinguishers.

McGrath says there are 14 recorded cases where nurses trained by him saved lives by quick action, and six other instances of lives saved by persons who witnessed his demonstrations.

Funds for Army Fall Way Short

Asks for 13 Billion, Gets Only 9; 'Slowed Down to Walk'

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army said Wednesday that military budgets are falling far short of providing the means for keeping the ground force modern.

In a panel discussion at the annual meeting of the Association of the United States Army, speakers said there is wide discrepancy between what the Army needs and what it gets.

By coincidence, the scheduled discussion came as Congress finally approved a 39 billion defense budget, of which $9,350,000,000 was for the Army.

Dr. Herbert E. Striner of the operations research office run under contract for the Army by Johns Hopkins University, put it this way:

"You cannot say you are modernizing when you ask for 13 billion dollars and get nine billion . . . you aren't in a race (with Russia), you have slowed down to a walk."

Maj. Gen. David W. Traub, director of the Army budget, said the Army now is "something over four billion dollars short of what it needs."

Striner discussed the money now spent for defense as compared with the gross national product of the nation, saying military expenditures in this ratio have been decreasing instead of increasing because of the expanded total of the national product.

He said, "We have the assets available." What is needed, Striner said, is "the national fortitude" to face up to the needs for defense.

Captains Have It Tough on Ithaca College Team

ITHACA, N.Y. (UPI)—Nobody may want to serve as captain of the Ithaca College football team next season.

On the first day of practice last year, co-captain Brian Wade, of Massena, N.Y., broke his jaw. Halfway through the schedule, co-captain John Fasolino, of Tarrytown, N.Y., suffered a torn cartilage in his leg.

Over-70s Learning Fast

School Helps Oldsters Adjust to New Japan

KODA, Japan (AP) — The woman peered into the registrar's office at "Kotobuki University" and asked if she could enroll.

"We're happy to have you," said Mataro Shiga, the school's chief administrator. "You meet our requirements admirably."

He wasn't joking — although the woman is 90 years old.

For Kotobuki means long life, the name appropriately given to an institution established in Koda in 1957 as unique — and remarkably successful — experiment in meeting a little-recognized need in postwar Japan.

"New ways of thinking and living have come to Japan since the end of the war," says Shiga. "Our society has become democratized. But the old folk, whose minds are deeply ingrained with feudal, old-fashioned ideas, have often found it difficult to adjust to the new Japan.

"Our 'university' is an attempt to help the old people of Koda make this adjustment, so they can understand and enjoy their new environment instead of feeling useless and discarded."

70 TOO YOUNG

Youngsters under 70 do not qualify for admission, though many would like to.

"We keep enrollment down to about 60 for financial reasons. The 'university' operates on an annual budget of $277 dollars apportioned out of local taxes by the Koda town assembly. And tuition is free."

There are 32 men and 28 women in the class of '59 from a town of 18,000 people of which about 300 are over 70 years old.

Classes are held once a month at the Koda town hall to which the old folk commute by bus, on foot, and sometimes in muddy weather on the rear luggage racks of bicycles pedalled by sons or daughters.

Ten classes constitute a complete course, but attendance at eight of these is sufficient to assure a student of a diploma.

AFTERNOON CLASSES

Classes last from 2 to 5 in the afternoon and are divided into lecture and recreation sessions.

"For lectures," Shiga explains, "we have teachers come to discuss problems of the old in our changing society, which is something no one ever considered before.

"Students are encouraged to talk about their particular problems and this serves as a basis for general discussion.

"We also have talks on politics and other subjects of current interest. And travelogue movies are also popular.

"For recreation, the old folk try their hand at handicrafts, or play games, for example, trying to walk a straight line with an apple balanced on the head. They seem to enjoy themselves as much as small children."

FAR FROM THE WILD BLUE YONDER — Stacks of obsolete U. S. jets rest atop one another. They are piled up in a storage area on the Davis-Monahan Air Force Base near Tuscon, Ariz. Planes will end their short lives in blast furnace.

Hails Top Level Visits

Red Press Jubilant

MOSCOW (UPI) — The Soviet press, pulling out all the stops, has told the Russian people that the planned exchange of visits between President Eisenhower and Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev wold be of "the utmost significance" for world peace.

The news was relayed to the Soviet people under banner headlines in the space usually reserved for important government and Communist party announcements.

The enthusiastic press handling underlined a sharp and sudden improvement in the climate of Soviet-American relations with the announcement of the exchange of top level visits.

Izvestia, the official Soviet government newspaper, ran these headlines on the front page:

"A most important step in international life."

"The Americans approve."

"Eisenhower says the visit will help melt the ice."

The Communist party newspaper Pravda carried similar front-page headlines, also including one on Eisenhower's news conference reference on efforts "to melt a little bit of the ice" in relations between the two countries.

Over another front-page story, reprinting reaction from London, Paris and Ottawa, Pravda's headline read:

"The whole world hails the forthcoming meetings."

Izvestia, while carrying an editorial rebutting Vice President Richard M. Nixon's televised Saturday night speech point-by-point, also managed to make the point—in the same editorial—that the exchange of Eisenhower and Khrushchev visits was an important and constructive step.

Big or Little, Sandwiches Please

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

Which kind of sandwich do you prefer? Since August is the month devoted to sandwiches, you may have a number to choose from. Don't you like the samples our live "models" in the picture are tasting?

In a contest which selected the 20 Best Sandwiches of 1959, a restaurant man won with a huge hero-type sandwich. One sandwich will satisfy the entire family as it's made on a 10-inch loaf of Italian bread. On Fridays extra cheese is substituted for the salami. Here is a smaller version of the same sandwich.

Zep Sandwich On a Bun

4 Italian-style hearth baked buns*
4 thin slices Provolone cheese
8 thin slices salami
4 thin slices onion
4 large tomato slices
Salad oil
Crushed oregano
Dash salt
Crushed cherry peppers (optional)

Split buns. Place cheese on bottom half. Add 2 slices salami, then onion slice and tomato slice. Sprinkle with salad oil, oregano and salt. Add a teaspoon of crushed cherry hot peppers, if desired. Cover with bun tops. Makes 4 sandwiches.

*Enriched hamburger buns may be substituted.

Speaking of Friday sandwiches brings to the fore this recipe for little cornucopias. You'll have to trim the crusts off the bread to make these. The small fry should like them.

Peanut Pickle Cornucopias

1 cup finely chopped salted peanuts
¼ cup mayonnaise
8 thin slices bread
8 sweet gherkin pickles

Combine chopped peanuts and mayonnaise; mix well. Trim crusts from bread and spread with peanut mixture. Place pickle diagonally on bread. Wrap bread around pickle to form a cornucopia; fasten with a toothpick. Makes 8 sandwiches.

Here's an interesting filling for a tea or luncheon sandwich. The recipe calls for canned chicken, but it's the perfect answer to using a small amount of leftover chicken.

Chicken Sandwich Hawaiian

1 can (12 oz.) boned chicken, cut in chunks
1 cup thinly sliced celery
1 can (9 oz.) crushed pineapple, well drained
¼ cup canned chopped toasted almonds
½ cup mayonnaise or salad dressing
½ teaspoon salt

Combine all ingredients; chill thoroughly. Makes about 3 cups filling.

Ham-and-Egg Sandwich

8 eggs, beaten
¼ cup milk
3 tablespoons minced onion
¾ cup chopped mushrooms (4-ounce can)
½ teaspoon salt
Dash pepper
6 slices enriched bread
6 slices whole wheat bread
Butter or margarine, softened
6 slices cooked ham (6 ounces)

Combine eggs, milk, onion, mushrooms, salt and pepper. Mix thoroughly. Pour into greased baking dish or pan 9 x 13 inches. Bake in moderate oven (375 degrees F.) about 20 minutes. Meanwhile, toast bread. Spread with butter or margarine.

Cut cooked egg mixture into squares to fit whole wheat toast. Cover with ham slice, then second slice of toast to close sandwiches. Cut diagonally into halves and serve. Makes 6 sandwiches.

This last recipe is for a sandwich you have to eat with a fork. Again, it is a good luncheon idea.

Salmon-Olive Roll-Ups

4 slices enriched bread
½ cup flaked salmon
¼ cup slivered almonds
1 teaspoon lemon juice
¼ teaspoon salt
Dash of Tabasco sauce
¼ cup mayonnaise or salad dressing
16 small stuffed olives
2 tablespoons melted butter or margarine
½ cup condensed cream of celery soup
2 tablespoons milk

Trim crusts from bread. Combine salmon, almonds, lemon juice, salt, Tabasco sauce, and mayonnaise. Spread 3 tablespoons salmon mixture on each slice of trimmed bread. Place 3 small olives across center of bread. Roll bread with olives in center. Fasten with toothpicks. Brush with melted butter.

Toast roll-ups in hot oven (400 degrees) for ten minutes, or until golden brown. Slice remaining olives and combine with celery soup and milk. Heat and serve over toasted salmon roll-ups. Yield: 4 Salmon-Olive Roll-Ups.

WHOSE IS BETTER? — Devotees of the Dagwood sandwich will vote for the one young Dennis West is eating. Calorie-conscious eaters will pick the one Donna West is nibbling. Mr. and Mrs. Charles West of Lagoon drive on Long Lake are the parents of these youngsters.

Frosty Dessert Will Appeal to Small Fry

An inexpensive and nutritious frozen dessert that youngsters will call "ice cream."

Fruit Freeze

1 tall can (1⅔ cups) evaporated milk
3 tablespoons lemon juice
1 cup sugar
⅛ teaspoon salt
1 jar (8 ounces) junior-pack prunes
1 jar (5 ounces) baby-pack pineapple dessert

Chill undiluted evaporated milk in refrigerator ice-compartment tray until ice crystals form around edges. Turn into large chilled bowl and beat rapidly with rotary beater (hand or electric) until stiff. Beat in lemon juice.

Mix ½ cup sugar and one-sixteenth teaspoon salt with prunes; mix remaining sugar and salt with pineapple dessert. Fold prune mixture into half of whipped milk mixture. Turn into 2 ice-compartment trays; freeze rapidly until firm. Makes 2 quarts.

Chilled canned meat will slice better than the same product at room temperature.

Chocolate Bit Filling

Make oatmeal sandwich cookies for after-school snacks by putting several semi-sweet chocolate pieces or shaved chocolate between two oatmeal cookies, bottom sides together. Place them on cooky sheet in moderate oven until chocolate melts.

Waste One-Fifth Food

CHICAGO—About one-fifth of all the food produced each year in the U.S. is wasted, according to federal estimates.

Michigan Produce Heads Food News This Week

Michigan produce dominates the food news. Michigan blueberries, sweet corn and many salad making vegetables are in abundant supply.

Larger supplies of pork than a year ago are contributing to the economy of many pork cuts. Smoked pork is featured again this week. Beef, veal and lamb prices continue as they have been except for store specials. Fryers and turkeys weighing under 20 pounds are in good supply.

FRUITS

Michigan blueberries are at their peak of supply and quality is excellent. A good time to freeze blueberries or make jam.

Most peaches are now the Elberta variety from other states, but more Michigan Redhavens are beginning to appear. Color and flavor of Michigan peaches is predicted to be excellent this year.

Indiana's watermelon harvest has started. Less distance from the growing area and smaller transportation costs will mean lower prices for Michigan shoppers.

Grapes are in heavy supply. California Bartlett pears are becoming more plentiful.

VEGETABLES

Corn is the big item in the vegetable department. Quality varies from fair to excellent.

Retailers report that hot humid weather and rains have damaged lettuce quality so that some heads are light and loose. California lettuce may be more solid and firm and its price will be higher.

Heat has influenced color and quantity of homegrown tomatoes. The combination of rain and hot sun is causing some to crack on the vine.

Michigan potatoes are improving in maturity and you may find lower prices this week.

Michigan celery is abundant in supply. Cucumbers, peppers and green onions are other "salad makings" in large supply and marked to fit most shopping lists.

FOR MAIN DISHES

Watching meat costs? Then check the pork supply. Slab, regular and thick sliced bacon are popular features. Smoked picnics, ham, frankfurters and loin roasts are also specially marked.

Fresh and frozen fryers parts, whole and cut-up fryers and family-size turkeys are in the poultry limelight. Roosters, stewers and duck are about 50 cents a pound in most stores. Turkeys weighing over 20 pounds are about 10 cents more per pound than those under 20 pounds.

Lamb shoulder ground for patties, cut for shish-kabobs, or used as a boneless rotisserie roast will cost about 22 to 24 cents per serving.

Shrimp boats are bringing more shrimp. The medium size is in largest supply and is being featured in fresh and frozen form.

DAIRY AND EGGS

Many dairy items featured a week ago are emphasized again. Shoppers will find cheddar, Swiss and cream cheese; butter and ice cream specially marked.

Large size eggs vary about 10 cents per dozen in price due mainly to differences in grade and egg shell color. The grade indicates freshness and flavor, but shell has no effect on the eating quality.

Small size eggs are already the best egg value when you consider cost per pound, however, supplies are still small and you may not find them.

OTHER

As the canning season progresses, tomato products, pineapple, fruit cocktail, peaches and fruit drinks appear as canned sale items.

In the frozen food cabinet, shoppers will find green beans, corn, peas, mixed vegetables and meat prices offered for quick meals.

Camp Cook Can Fix Quick Meal

The camp cook will have supper ready and waiting by the time the stakes are driven for the tent if she uses a canned meat. All are seasoned and fully cooked, ready for cool eating or tasty hot combinations.

A can of corned beef tossed into a saucepan with a small onion chopped and cooked in butter or margarine and a cupful of catsup makes a lightning-quick barbecue to serve on toasted buns.

Another toasty-hot sandwich can be prepared without so much as a skillet by the camp chef. Top bread with slices of canned lunch meat and toast with the help of a hinged broiler. Close the sandwich with thin slices of onion, cheese, or pickle relish and another slice of toasted bread. It's a meal in one.

Or cook up a skilletful of jambalaya, using canned green beans and tomatoes, quick-cooking rice, and a little salt. After 20 minutes top the rice mixture with drained canned Brown 'N' Serve Sausage.

The cook with imagination will add a final flourish with a topping of grated cheese. Then all is heated about 5 or 10 minutes, just long enough to heat the fully cooked sausage and melt the cheese.

Corned beef hash with an egg is an easy camp special for any meal of the day. Just cut both ends from the can of hash and cut it into fourths as it is pushed from the can. The hash is heated in a camper's skillet with an egg dropped into the center of each round of hash. For even cooking, the frying pan is covered for a few minutes.

Top cold cereals with sliced peaches or apricots and sweeten with dark corn syrup instead of sugar.

Sherry Adds Gourmet Touch to Fish in Foil

Almost any fish is delicious when prepared this way: Place cleaned fish, either small whole fish or fillets, in double thickness of foil. Top with generous dab of butter, chopped mushrooms or minced fresh herbs, 2 or 3 tablespoons of a very dry type Spanish sherry and a sprinkling of salt and pepper. Wrap securely, crimping edges of foil, and place in hot ashes of charcoal fire. Bake about 25 minutes.

Serve right in the foil. Iced fino sherry should be the drink. Especially recommended for flounder, trout or lake bass.

Hot Dogs Made of All Meat Will Cost More

If you give the children a chance to choose their meat for the outdoor grill, chances are they will ask for hotdogs. Have you ever wondered "How are hot dogs made?" or "What meat is used in hot dogs?"

In Michigan, weiners and frankfurters are correctly defined as sausage meat, reports the MSU Marketing Agent. Meats usually used are beef, pork and veal. Color will tell you something of the ingredients. When pork is predominant, the texture is usually finer, the hot dog is more tender and lighter in color. When beef is predominant, it is usually firmer and darker in color.

The highest grade hot dogs are usually made of about 60 per cent lean beef and 40 per cent fat pork with seasonings. "All meat" means just that. The meat has no extenders such as milk powders or flour.

Most of the larger franks are the all-beef varieties with natural casings. They usually cost 15 to 20 cents more per pound than skinless kinds because they are made of all beef of the highest quality with no sinew or gristle, and because of the cost of the natural casing and the labor involved in making it.

Hot dogs are perishable, so store them in the refrigerator. It's best to use them within a week. If you travel to a picnic spot, plan to keep the meat below 50 degrees until you are ready to cook it.

Raw, Cooked Berries Blend in Pie

Easy as pie.

We've often wondered what the inventor of that phrase had in mind.

Perhaps it was our cultivated blueberry deep-dish pie. This delight is so simple to prepare that it almost makes itself.

Angelic is the way it whips into shape in the still-cool summer mornings. Refrigerated all day, it emerges frosty cool in the evening to be crowned with snowy clouds of whipped cream.

Since this dessert is "easy as—," the cook, too, will remain cool and radiant. How can her temper be anything but sweet with the host of compliments after such clever management of her kitchen time?

Deep Dish Blueberry Pie

2 cups fresh cultivated blueberries
1½ cups water
1½ cups sugar
Juice of ½ lemon
2 tablespoons potato flour or corn starch
¼ cup cold water
1 deep-dish cooked pie shell

Cook blueberries in water for five minutes. Add sugar and lemon juice and cook additional five minutes. Moisten potato flour or corn starch in cold water and stir slowly into blueberry mixture. Continue stirring until mixture thickens. Remove from heat and cool slightly.

Pour blueberries and syrup into 8-inch cooked pie shell, made in deep pie-pan. While filling is still sticky, carefully place layer of fresh uncooked blueberries on top of entire pie. Serve cold with whipped cream or ice cream. Yield: 8 generous servings.

Such a Pretty Platter

Easy salad: Choose a rectangular platter that is flat — white, if possible. Line up tomato slices along each of the long sides; fill center with rows of overlapping cucumber slices. Arrange some fresh basil leaves on the tomatoes, or sprinkle with dried crushed basil. Serve with French dressing.

New Pickle Dip

NEW YORK (UPI)—Serve lobster with spicy pickle dip. Combine 1 cup of sour cream with 1-3 cup of sweet pickle relish, drained, ¼ cup of chopped parsley, 1 teaspoon of onion salt and salt and pepper to taste. Mix well. This makes enough dip for 1 10-ounce can of lobster, drained and boned.

Serve Little Puffs at Summer Brunch

A delicious cross between a biscuit and a muffin.

New Jersey Blueberry Puffs

1 cup biscuit mix
1 tablespoon sugar
1 egg
¼ cup light cream
¾ cup cultivated blueberries
Extra sugar
Cinnamon

Do not pack biscuit mix down in measuring. Stir mix and 1 tablespoon sugar together. Beat egg until thick and lemon colored; beat in cream. Stir into biscuit mix with a fork; beat out any large lumps, but do not beat smooth. Fold in blueberries.

Drop into 12 small (each holding 2 tablespoons) muffin-pan wells. Sprinkle ¼ teaspoon sugar over each muffin; dust with cinnamon. Bake in hot (450 degrees) oven 15 minutes. Serve hot.

Fruit Compote Is Elegant Dessert

You have decided to invite a few friends in for an informal dinner. And, before long the list has grown so you decide on a buffet. Of course, with the taste-tempting selection of foods served for a buffet dinner you'll want a light dessert. Perfect for the occasion is Hot Fruit Margery.

Canned sliced peaches and purple plums, and orange sections are flavored with brandy. A topping of sour cream and brown sugar gives the final elegant touch.

Hot Fruit Margery

1 can (1 lb. 13 oz.) purple plums
1 orange.
¼ cup brown sugar.
¼ cup brandy.
1 cup commercial sour cream.
Brown sugar.

Put half of the drained peaches and plums in a casserole. Arrange peeled and sectioned orange over them. Sprinkle with half of the ¼ cup brown sugar and half of the brandy. Cover with remaining peaches and plums. Sprinkle with remaining brown sugar and brandy.

Cover and let stand at room temperature about 2 hours. Bake in a moderate oven (375 degrees) about 30 minutes, until heated through. Serve fruit topped with sour cream. Sprinkle sour cream with brown sugar. Six to eight servings.

Chilled Soup

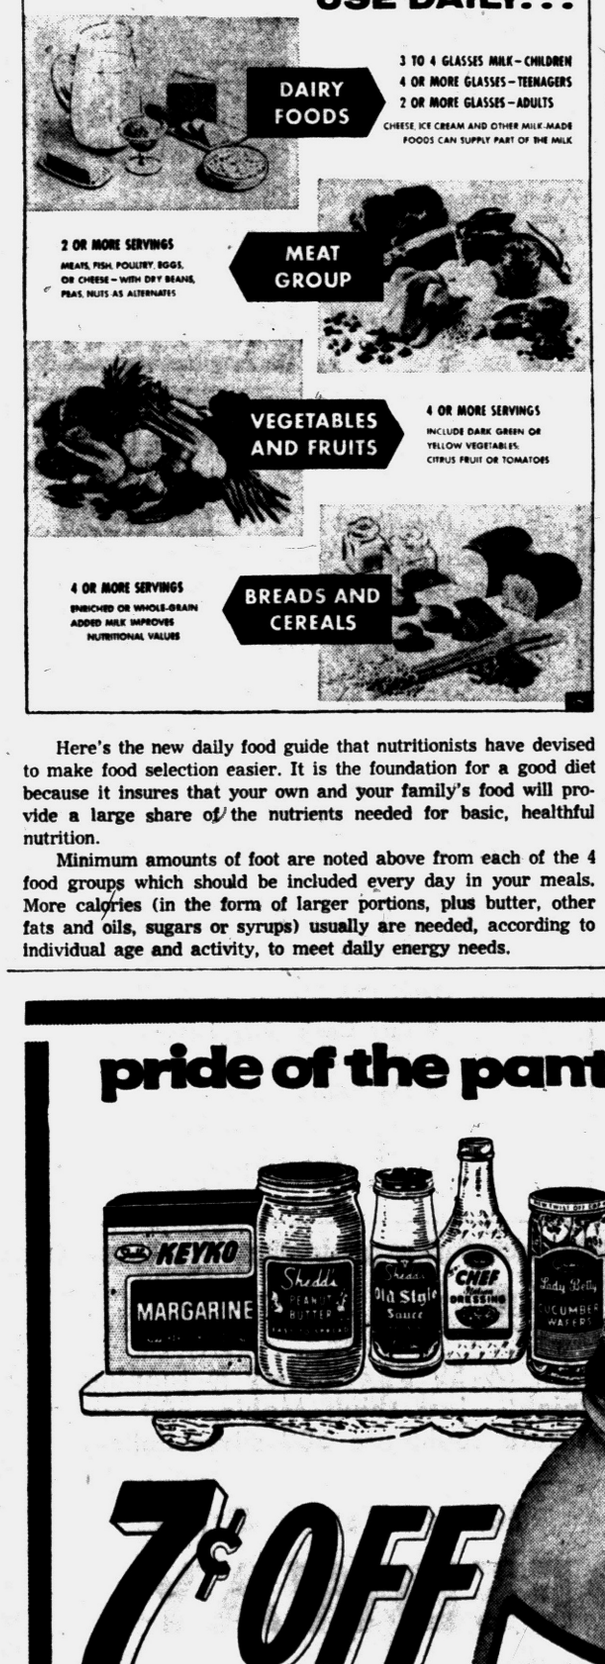
Cold and crisp is this delightful combination. Chill 1 can condensed tomato soup mixed with equal amount of water, 2 tablespoons lemon juice, minced garlic, dash of pepper, and Tabasco. Just before serving add thinly sliced cucumber. Served in chilled bowls.

Toast Bread Cups

Toast baskets for creamed foods are most easily made from unsliced bread. Cut bread into 2-inch thick slices, remove crusts and hollow out centers; brush liberally with melted butter and toast in the oven until crisp and golden.

A Guide To Good Eating

USE DAILY...



Here's the new daily food guide that nutritionists have devised to make food selection easier. It is the foundation for a good diet because it insures that your own and your family's food will provide a large share of the nutrients needed for basic, healthful nutrition.

Minimum amounts of foot are noted above from each of the 4 food groups which should be included every day in your meals. More calories (in the form of larger portions, plus butter, other fats and oils, sugars or syrups) usually are needed, according to individual age and activity, to meet daily energy needs.

Heavy Smokers Die Twice as Fast in Study

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A research scientist says the rate of death from all causes in a large study group has been nearly twice as great for heavy cigarette smokers as for nonsmokers.

He defines a heavy cigarette smoker as a person who smokes two packs or more a day.

The comparative death rates are reported by Dr. Harold F. Dorn in Public Health Reports, monthly publication of the U.S. Public Health Service.

Dorn is chief of the biometrics branch, division of research services, National Institutes of Health. He suggests that pipe and cigar smokers run less risk than persons who regularly smoke cigarettes only.

His findings resulted from a public health study of "the mortality experience" of nearly 200,000 veterans whose moking practices had been learned before their death.

Dorn concluded that smokers run more risk than others of dying from any of several ailments, including lung cancer, coronary heart disease, certain respiratory ailments, ulcers, and cirrhosis of the liver.

The death rate for regular cigarette smokers, Dorn found, was 58 per cent greater than for nonsmokers. For those who smoked two packs or more a day, the rate averaged "nearly twice that for nonsmokers."

But "only very heavy cigar or pipe smokers experience a higher mortality than nonsmokers," Dorn's article says. "The death rates for the heaviest cigar or pipe smokers, those smoking nine or more cigars or 20 or more pipefuls per day, are about the same as the rate of persons who smoke from one-half to one pack of cigarettes per day."

Dorn also found that:

— The death rate from lung cancer for men who regularly smoked more than a pack of cigarettes a day was nearly 16 times the rate for nonsmokers.

— The mortality rate from coronary heart disease was 63 per cent higher for regular users of cigarettes than for those who did not smoke.

— The death rate among smokers from bronchitis and allied diseases, cirrhosis of the liver, ulcer of the stomach and duodenum, cancer of the prostate, and cancer of the esophagus was more than double that of persons who did not use tobacco.

Williams Fans Parlay Debate

En Route Back Tonight After Many Speeches on Many Subjects

SAN JUAN, P. R. (UPI)—Gov. G. Mennen Williams was airborne again today after making his mark at the Govenors' Conference.

He spoke forcefully on everything from the Iron Curtain to the steel strike.

Williams was scheduled to fly by National Guard plane with his wife and three aides to the Virgin Islands before his return flight to Michigan tonight.

The island-hopping governor fanned the hottest debate of the four-day conference yesterday with a warning fawning over Russian visitors who "represent a regime that has resorted to mass murder."

Williams joined with Gov. Ernest F. Hollings, South Carolina Democrat, in tempering a resolution inviting chiefs of five Soviet states to return a visit made by nine governors.

"We as governors should make it clear we haven't receded one single step from our hatred of communism and all it stands for or our opposition to Russian imperialism threatening to engulf the world," Williams said.

Williams plans to visit at least one Iron Curtain country, Poland, this fall.

Williams and other northern Democrats failed yesterday in an attempt to put the conference on record as favoring federal intervention in the steel strike.

The dean of the nation's governors also failed to get adoption of a resolution seeking a standing committee to study state taxes, although the conference executive committee agreed to do some groundwork in setting up a future study.

The Michigan chief executive was praised by other governors for his comprehensive report on state revenue problems. Governors from other major industrial states reported Michigan was not alone in having fiscal woes.

Rambler July Sales Up 79.7 Pct. Over '58

DETROIT (UPI) — Rambler retail sales during July this year represented a gain of 79.7 per cent over the comparable month last year, it was announced today by Roy Abernathy, American Motors Corp., vice president.

Abernethy said the sales of 31,768 were the best for any July in Rambler history.

The upward climb in sales also marked the 10th consecutive month of an upward trend over the 1958 model year.

Rambler sales in the first 10 months of the current model year were 297,652, an increase of 128.1 per cent over the 130,511 sold in the same period last year.

State Senate Honors Wedding Anniversaries

LANSING (UPI) — The Senate yesterday passed two resolutions honoring former state officials on their 50th wedding anniversaries.

Edgar A. Guest Service at St. Paul's on Friday

DETROIT (AP) — Edgar A. Guest, the poet of the plain people who liked to write about the ordinary things of life, will be buried here Friday in the city he called home for nearly 68 years.

Official flags were ordered flown at half-staff until Monday by Mayor Louis C. Mariani following Guest's death early yesterday of a cerebral stroke. He would have been 78 on Aug. 20.

"His works have brought happiness and joy to millions of people," Miriani said. "He was a sweet man."

Funeral service will take place at 11 a.m. EST Friday at the Episcopal Cathedral of St. Paul. Burial will be in Woodlawn Cemetery.

Guest wrote poems for the Detroit Free Press and other newspapers for half a century. Perhaps his best known sentence comprised the first two lines of one of his poems:

"It takes a heap o' livin'
In a house t' make it home."

At the time of his death, his poems appeared in some 60 newspapers. At the height of his popularity they were used by 300 papers. He also turned out 17 volumes of poetry, the most famous of which was his first, "A Heap O' Livin.'" It ran through more than 30 editions of about 500,000 copies.

Guest thought of himself as a versifier rather than a poet but preferred to be called a newspaperman. Before turning to poetry fulltime, he was in turn a copyboy, reporter, editor and a columnist at the Free Press.

He was a native of Birmingham, England, coming to this country with his family when he was 10.

Bang! Rip! More Woe for Guards

LONDON (UPI) — A rap on the head and a rip in the pants added today to the midsummer troubles of Queen Elizabeth's fur-hatted palace guards. It began with a wave of the hand and kick in the shins.

At Windsor Castle, an Irish guardsman executing a smart about-face accidentally rapped goggle-eyed schoolboy William Dakin on the head with his rifle butt.

Each time he presented arms after that, with the appropriate stamping of feet, the hole grew larger.

A growing crowd of tourists watched Foot's ordeal until the commander of the guard arrived with a replacement and sent Foot away to get another pair of pants.

Warns Hawaiians About Hurricane Dot

HONOLULU (UPI) — The U. S. Weather Bureau warned residents along the southern and western shores of all the Hawaiian Islands to be prepared today for 30-foot waves from hurricane Dot.

The bureau said danger of severe damage was past, barring a sudden change of course by the hurricane, now heading north. The storm swept past the islands yesterday, but the main force of the 130-mile an hour hurricane remained safely at sea.

At Waikiki Beach, Arthur Godfrey's television filming program was stalled for the third day. Godfrey, making his first television series since his lung cancer operation, began a planned two days of shooting Monday, but has been able to complete only two hours of filming. He was unable to get anything on film yesterday aside from some sound.

Dances, Sings at Party

Long Gives 'Wing-Ding'

BATON ROUGE, La. (UPI) — Gov. Earl K. Long, showing as much snap as his traditional suspenders, danced and sang at a party in the executive mansion here last night. It was a last "wing-ding" before the special session of the legislature he called for Monday.

Long imported a Bourbon Street band — the "Famous Door Five" — from the French Quarter in New Orleans to play his favorite songs. With the combo playing a hopped-up beat of "I'm Looking Over a Four-Leaf Clover," Long croaked the lyrics.

The music ranged from Strauss to foot-stomping Dixieland, and the governor, who will celebrate his 64th birthday this month, jitterbugged frequently on the crowded floor.

"I still got some snap," he hollered at a reporter during one of the dances.

The 200 guests — legislators "on both sides," administrative leaders and newsmen — were served champagne and sparkling burgundy, along with light snacks.

Long stopped the festivities once to let his candidates make brief speeches, one of them, C. J. (Bobbie) Dugas, ended the talks with a recitation of "Invictus," Long's favorite poem.

The governor sat nearby, smiled approval and prompted occasionally. His eyes lit up at the last line, "My Head Is Bloody but Unbowed."

Board in California to Rule on Teacher

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — The California teaching career of a 38-year-old high school teacher who conducted a "little Kinsey" sex survey among his teenage students today was in the hands of the State Board of Education.

Cecil Cook defended his sex survey as "not harmful" yesterday at the closing of the six-day hearing before a State Department of Professional and Vocational Standards hearing officer.

But he admitted "I'm not so sure I would again give the questionnaire at all in light of what has happened. I think there were administrative problems I didn't understand."

Cook, charged with unprofessional conduct, said he now realized a teacher's obligation was "not to embroil the community" in the type of furor generated by his sex survey.

"However, I don't feel the students were damaged — unless they came there already damaged," he said.

Pickets Quiet, Police Watch

Twenty-five State Police troopers and officers of Macomb County stood by as a court-limited picket line of 20 men patroled the plant gates.

Across the street more than 100 United Auto Workers strike sympathizers massed shoulder-to-shoulder. Nonstrikers were permitted to enter the plant, however.

Two deputies and three pickets were hurt slightly in yesterday's fighting. The three pickets were arrested.

The incident, erupting from a union organizational dispute, occurred yesterday at plant gates in nearby Fraser. Cross is one of the nation's top producers of automation machinery.

UAW Local 155 contends the company has refused to bargain since the old contract expired last October.

The melee began when a nonstriker attempted to drive his car into the plant through a picket line which had been limited to 20 members by court order.

Soviets Like U.S. Movie 'Anne Frank'

MOSCOW (UPI)—A sellout audience of a thousand persons stuck it out at the Moscow Film Festival until 2 a. m. today to see America's "Diary of Anne Frank."

It got the biggest applause yet in the three-day old showings.

"Diary" was the only American movie to be presented at the festival, and it was entered as outside competition so that it was not eligible for an award.

It had the disadvantage of being screened after a full-length Polish epic about a submarine that ordinarily would have been more than enough picture-viewing for one night.

There also was the drawback of having only one male interpreter to translate the dialogue into Russian over an earphone system.

Nevertheless, the audience, mostly Soviet film dignitaries and the upper crust of Moscow society, including members of the foreign colony, gave the film an unusually enthusiastic reception.

The picture is the touching story of a Jewish family hiding in Amsterdam during the German occupation in World War II, as told through a 13-year-old girl's diary.

Its antiwar, anti-Fascist themes went over well with the Soviets, along with its excellent acting and directing.

Counties Should Be Able to Levy More Taxes

LANSING (UPI)—A Detroit lawmaker wants counties to be allowed to levy more taxes where needed.

"It is imperative that sufficient revenues be proviede for the continued operation of county service at an adequate level," said Rep. Frank Williams (D-Detroit) in a resolution introduced yesterday.

Williams' resolution would create a special legislative committee "to study the financial status of the several counties in respect to the need for additional funds to properly finance existing services."

Nixon's Supporters Confident of GOP Gubernatorial Favor

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico (AP)—Richard M. Nixon's backers remained confident today that a majority of the nation's Republican governors support the vice president for their party's 1960 presidential nomination.

The GOP state executives generally were reluctant to express public preferences during the 51st Annual Governors' Conference, which wound up its business here Wednesday. But the impact of New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller on his party colleagues was obviously less favorable than Nixon's friends had feared it would be.

Rockefeller edged somewhat closer to contesting for the 1960 GOP nomination in public and private utterances here. At times he had the appearance for a man who is being convinced that he ought to make a try for it. At others he was as hesitant as he has seemed to be for months.

The word now is that Rockefeller will decide about Nov. 1 whether he ought to take on Nixon. And he will do that only if he is convinced that the vice president seems likely to be defeated by a Democrat and that he, Rockefeller, has a better chance to keep the White House in Republican hands.

Rockefeller impressed his fellow chief executives as a forceful, alert man, willing to take on any comers who challenge his political philosophy.

He did this with Illinois Gov. William G. Stratton, another Republican, in a sharp verbal exchange over federal intrusion into gubernatorial authority. There was no umpire available to judge who won the argument. But it seemed safe to say that if Rockefeller should become a candidate for the presidential nomination, his brush with Stratton did not improve his chances of getting the support of the powerful Illinois delegation.

Some Republican governors seemed to feel, a bit resentfully, that Rockefeller was preoccupied with weighty issues and had little time to fraternize with them. His admitted charm, however, was reflected in favorable comment from others.

Outspoken Gov. Harold W. Handley of Indiana contended that Nixon had held his ground and possibly had improved his prospects somewhat, although the vice president had no staff representative at the conference. But Handley and one or two other Republican governors openly plugged Nixon at every chance.

The conference produced little enlightenment on the position of Democratic presidential hopefuls.

Govs. Abraham Ribicoff of Connecticut and Foster Furcolo of Massachusetts beat the drums for Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass) but seemed unable to find any responsive echoes.

Their theme was that Kennedy has strong support in all sections of the country. There seemed little argument with that, but it also was apparent that not many of the Democratic governors want to wet their political feet in Kennedy's pool yet.

Gov. Edmund G. (Pat) Brown, whose hefty California delegation is a prize target, displayed surprising signs that he may be considering himself as something of a major candidate for top place on his party's ticket.

More is likely to be known about that when Western governors meet at Sun Valley, Idaho, in mid-September. Brown obviously would like to form a Western voting bloc for next year's convention. But whether other state executives will enlist under his banner in such an enterprise remains to be seen.

The potential candidacies of Govs. G. Mennen Williams of Michigan and Robert B. Meyner of New Jersey got no new recruits out of this conference. If there was sentiment for Sen. Stuart Symington (D-Mo), it did not surface to any extent.

Gov. Price Daniel of Texas, who might have plugged for Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, did not even attend the conference.

Dies of Cancer After Receiving College Degree

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—Mrs. Harold Boyd, 42, was graduated from college with her son two months ago after studying 14 years for the degree.

"I've got a daughter entering college this fall for the first time," said Mrs. Boyd, an elementary school teacher. "I want to get a master's degree and walk down the aisle with her at her graduation.

"I think I will, too, because I think the cancer is licked," she added. "But you never know for five years."

Mrs. Boyd died Wednesday of cancer.

Satellite Forerunner Blasts Off in Test

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) —The Air Force fired its versatile Thor missile on a 1,500-mile test flight Wednesday night in a prelude to an approaching satellite shot.

The launching appeared perfect as the 65-foot Intermediate Range Ballistic Missile started over the Atlantic Ocean on a reliability test.

Not far from the launching pad, a 90-foot Thor-Able rocket stands poised to hurl a 142-pound radiation satellite into an orbit about the earth. The attempt is expected in the next few days.

Portugal Provides Aid

Picard, 69, who divides his time between Detroit and Bay City, succeeds Judge Arthur F. Lederle, 71, who had filled the post since it was created in 1948.

Judge Lederle will continue to serve as a justice, one of six presiding over the court.

A good way to earn some extra money for any occasion is by selling something you don't need. . . . How about that old zither you don't play anymore? APPROVED — Frederick H. Mueller, former Grand Rapids furniture dealer, answered questions yesterday from the witness chair during his appearance before the Senate Commerce Committee holding a hearing on his nomination to be secretary of commerce. He has been acting secretary since the resignation of Lewis L. Strauss on June 30. Mueller was almost immediately approved by the committee. The action must now go to the Senate for its approval.

Lawyer Ross Barnett Leading in Mississippi

ROSS BARNETT

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — Ross Barnett held a shaky lead over Lt. Gov. Carroll Gartin today as vote counting resumed in the big precincts that will determine the winner of Mississippi's Democratic first primary race for goveror.

Barnett, 61, a Jackson lawyer making his third effort to become governor, broke into the lead Wednesday night by a 2,000-vote margin. He had trailed in most of the earlier counting.

Returns from 1,770 of 1,829 precincts gave Barnett 145,374 votes to 143,345 for Gartin. Dist. Atty. Charles Sullivan of Clarksdale, the surprising darkhorse, had 120,696, and Robert, Mason of Magee 2,652. Only about 35,000 of the expected 450,000 votes remain unreported.

Probably half the remaining vote will come from Jackson and the Gulf Coast counties, where Gartin had hoped to win.

Sullivan, whose big vote assured a runoff between the leaders on Aug. 25, declined to concede Wednesday night, saying he wanted to study the returns more. Mason conceded Tuesday night.

The winner of the ruoff will head the state for the four years beginning Jan. 19. Democratic nomination means election in this Deep South state where the Republicans offer no candidates.

The second primary is expected to match a Barnett attack on the present state administration against Gartin's platform of continued segregation and industrialization.

Barnett centered most of his first-campaign fire on the administration of Gov. J.P. Coleman, whom he called a racial liberal. Gartin stressed that the administration had kept Mississippi as the only state without any racial integration.

Coleman and former Gov. Hugh White both backed Gartin, who served in the No. 2 post under each. Coleman, who under Mississippi law could not succeed himself, won election to the State House of Representatives from Choctaw County.

From $60 a person in 1913, the United States national debt rose to $1,970 per capita by the end of World War II.

Tearing Down Cast Iron Bank Built to Last

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Here's good news for frustrated woodpeckers.

They're tearing down an architectural rarity — the Cast Iron Building that has housed the American Trust Co. here for 86 years.

The four-story structure was created from cast iron moulds, put together like a jig-saw puzzle, and would cost around five million dollars to duplicate. The bank is replacing it with a modern 12-story building.

Many sections of the Cast Iron Building will be given to museums around the country as a memento of a building that was built to last.

Exercise Will Ease Distress of Sore Feet

Even though we seem to be a sitting-down nation when it comes to exercise, women still have aching feet.

One reason is improperly fitted shoes or wrong shoes for the occasion. Foot exercises will help strengthen foot muscles and also ease tensions of the day.

Men's Fabrics, Brighter Plaids on Fall Scene

When a college gal goes shopping this fall for clothes to take back to school with her, her list will include both the new fashion themes and the beloved classics.

In addition to her sweaters and skirts, her shirts and Bermudas shorts, she should look for men's wear fabrics in her favorite separates by way of something new. Neutral combinations, such as gray and camel, and unusual greens and browns look as new as the houndstooth checks shown in college shops.

Plaids are bigger, better and more brilliant than ever. Ponchos are shown for after class wear in both plaids and solids.

There are lots of reversible coats, jackets, and stoles. Jumpers have been designed to be worn either with or without a blouse. The velveteen jumpers are for date wear and usually offer scoop necks and full skirts.

There are plenty of pleated skirts this fall and the dyed-to-match look in sweaters and skirts still reigns.

They Aid Retarded Children

By MARY PRIME

NEW YORK (UPI)—Some 700 retired airline stewardesses are earning new wings—as "angels" of the nation's retarded children.

The women are members of "Clipped Wings," an organization of former United Airlines hostesses.

"We got our wings clipped by getting married," explained Mrs. Nancy Fero, of Washington, D.C., national secretary. Mrs. Fero was among about 125 women, from as far away as Alaska and Hawaii, attending the three-day ninth annual convention here.

Founded in 1942, Clipped Wings adopted retarded children as its national project in 1950. It was the first group to help the children on a national scale and now is the second largest contributor to the National Assn. for Retarded Children.

There are more than five million mentally retarded persons in the United States, the Women said. About 120,000 children born each year are retarded. Thirty out of every thousand children and adults in the United States are mentally retarded, or more persons than are affected by any physical handicap.

With proper help, 25 out of 30 retarded children can be educated in the basic skills of reading, writing and arithmetic, and can be employed as adults in unskilled and semi-skilled work.

Four more of every 30 children can be trained to care for personal needs and do simple tasks at home or in sheltered workshops. As adults, they will be semi-dependent. One out of every 30 persons will require round-the-clock care throughout life.

RAISE FUNDS

Although the women help in any way they can, the main activity is fund raising. Each of the 20 chapters works out its own methods and decides what NARC project it will help in its area. Last year, the chapters coordinated cross-country fashion shows.

In Washington, D.C., women passed out 1,000 collection cans. In Cheyenne, Wyo., chapters collected during a "Frontier Days" celebration.

In some areas, the women also work directly with the children. Others "adopt" individual youngsters, give Christmas parties, contribute playground equipment, set up work shops and organize dances for teenagers.

A few members have had retarded children of their own, but the organization did not choose the youngsters for personal reasons, rather "just because they didn't have anyone helping them," said Mrs. Jean Stein, of Washington, D.C., mother of seven children and national president.

The former stewardesses also hold monthly social meetings, help the airline with recruiting, and hold functions for the husbands. In Seattle, the husbands formed the "Clipped Tails" to help their wives.

"They might as well," said Mrs. Harry T. Metz, of Freeport, N.Y., convention chairman. "Most husbands have to pitch in on everything we do, anyway."

Use Good Dose of Moth Balls

Half a dose of moth crystals is like half an aspirin tablet—it won't do the job, says a Michigan State University clothing specialist, Bernetta Kahbka.

A pound of moth crystals per 100 cubic feet of closet space is a must. Any smaller amount won't give off enough concentration of vapor to kill insects.

A trunk-sized container also needs a pound of moth preventative, and should be sealed against vapor escaping.

Moth crystals, flakes or balls should be scattered between layers in a trunk or placed high in a closet to get best results, Miss Kahbka added.

Depressing to See Empty Room Neat

RUTH MILLETT

There is nothing more empty than a boy's room — when especially he has left it for his first long time away from home.

You can't make up your mind whether the emptiness of the room is more insistent with the door open or closed. With it closed you are aware that the usual sounds aren't coming from it such as a radio, or bongo drums or the talk and laughter of the boy and his friends.

When it is open you are shocked by how neat and tidy it looks, the way you kept trying to get him to keep it, but without success.

But the neatness now depresses instead of pleases you. It's such an empty, unlived-in kind of neatness. No magazines open beside the bed, no shoes in the middle of the floor, no water ski leaning against a wall.

Still there are many signs to show the room was decorated by a boy, the long, black beard of a wild turkey dangling from a shelf on the bookcase, the big hawk wings hung above the dresser mirror, the gun rack, the mounted big-mouth bass.

KEEP IT OPEN

So you decide it is a little better with the door open. The emptiness seems more temporary that way. And though you don't expect anything to change in the room, or hear voices coming from it, or catch a glimpse of a familiar grin when you poke your head in the door, you can't seem to pass the room without glancing in it.

Maybe in a few weeks you'll grow accustomed to the empty room. But for so many years a boy's room is full of clutter, and noise, and prized possessions. It is so full of him that it may take longer than a few weeks to get used to its being nothing but neatness and quietness.

Monhegan Island, a rocky outpost 10½ miles off Maine, lives by lobstering. In a good season a top fisherman harvests as much as 15,000 pounds of lobsters. As Monhegan has only 60 permanent residents, it operates not as a town but as a plantation—a civil unit with minimum government.

Says Lady Banker

Women Handle Money, but Men Make Loans

STRASBURG, O. (UPI) — Miss Frances Kapitsky, national church leader and bank president, feels that women are increasingly interested in handling money.

Miss Kapitsky, is president of the National Women's Guild of the Evangelical and Reformed Church and the first woman bank president in Tuscarawas county.

She said about 50 per cent of the bank's depositors are women.

In joint accounts or on loan payments, women make most cash transactions, although men handle the majority of loans, she said.

A drive-in window installed at the bank two years ago is used more by women than by men, she said, "especially mothers with small children."

The one-time schoolteacher, who was graduated from Flora Stone Mather College in Cleveland, has held the national church position since 1957.

On attractive dark-haired woman, she recalled that when she entered the banking profession, she preferred teaching to finances.

Her father founded the bank in 1900. She joined the firm after his death 27 years ago and came up through the ranks as teller and cashier.

Miss Kapitsky believes her experience in banking influenced the board of directors to elect her president.

"It takes a lot of experience and a lot of ability to say 'No' to a loan applicant and have him go away happy," she said.

She scoffed at the public's idea of "banker's hours." Her day usually begins at 8 a.m. and runs on into the night.

"I work at home, too," she said. "There are conferences on loans for people who can't come to the bank during the regular hours, and then there are conferences with bank personnel.

"You know, we are more like a courthouse than a bank. We collect taxes and insurance premiums, and even sell dog licenses. But we do stay out of the marriage license business," she said with a laugh.

Gentle Sudsing, Soft Brushing Cleans Leather

Genuine leather or the synthetic variety can be kept clean as new with lukewarm water and mild soap, says W. J. Buxton, general service manager for an automobile manufacturer in Chicago.

Dip a soft brush in lukewarm water, shake out excess moisture, and rub the brush on soap with a circular motion until a rich lather is raised.

Work the lather over a small area of the soiled material, using the same circular motion except along pleatings, seams and natural leather veins. In these areas, the brush should be applied in the direction of the fold or vein.

Repeat the operation if necessary.

Wipe the material clean with dry cheesecloth, then buff to a high sheen.

List School Problems Most Bothersome

Teenagers Tell Their Tales of Woes

By EUGENE GILBERT

To hear the youngsters tell it, the teens are a troubled age. And tell it they will if you ask.

We asked 671 teenagers scattered across the country to list their chief problems in order of their worrisomeness.

Human nature being what it is, there was scarcely a youngster that put world problems ahead of his own difficulties.

And what does trouble the teens most?

No. 1 on the problem list is school and everything that goes with it: marks, studying, teachers, homework and the like.

"What student wouldn't worry about flunking tests, getting homework done, and everything else about school?" asks 14-year-old Robin Brown of Long Island, N. Y.

In complete agreement was Mary Kadish, 15, of Bloomfield, Conn., who listed "getting homework done and understanding the lessons taught" as her chief worry.

Akin to the school worries was the problem that finished in sixth place. John Birden, 17, of Valley Stream, N. Y., summed this one up when he said he worries most about "making a top university."

The youngsters are aware that more and more students are going to college each year and that the entrance competition is getting stiffer.

Many complain that by the time they are ready to apply to the college of their choice, they won't have a chance of getting in.

Just behind the school problems, the teenagers listed relations with the opposite sex as their favorite worry. Oddly enough, the boys found dating and love problems more aggravating than the girls.

FRIENDS RATE 3RD

Another social problem rates third: relations with friends. The girls fret twice as much about this as the boys. As 15-year-old Ronald Fournier of Hartford, Conn., said, "Being ignored by someone you like very much" is quite a problem.

The fourth largest worry is a common one with folks of all ages: money. This is twice as big a problem with boys as with the girls.

The fifth largest worry is parents. "It's those parental restrictions," says Charlene Eveland, 17, of Portland, Ore.

Another big problem is sex. This is in seventh place, right after finding the right college.

The girls are concerned with demands made on them which they don't wish to meet. The boys decline to discuss the nature of their sex problems.

The next biggest worry is developing a personality that will assure their popularity with other youngsters. After this is religion. Many say they are concerned about what they feel is a lack of religious feeling in the country.

Some youngsters have other, individual worries.

Scott Bradford, 17, of Exeter, N. H., asks, "Where can I sit and write away from the busy bustle of aluminum minds?"

Pat Gray, 16, of Detroit, worries about his age. "I wish I was about two years older," he says.

Sue Gulgham of Detroit, worries about "my own laziness and people who are devoid of understanding."

Men Still Holding the 'Buggy' Reins

Women take a back seat when it comes to purchasing automobiles.

A nationwide survey by the University of Michigan showed that most cars are bought by husbands and almost never by wives alone. Decisions to purchase household goods, however, are made either by wives alone or wives with their husbands.

Egypt has a population of 24 million.

Grandma's a Car Dealer

LOS ANGELES — Barbara Holt, fit and fortyish, is doing more that well in a man's field.

She is president and owner of two large new car dealerships. One is a domestic brand and the other a Japanese car.

The executive's firm is rated among the top 10 domestic dealerships in this country. She also was the first dealer in the nation to handle the six-passenger Japanese sedan.

"Many persons are surprised to find a woman who heads an auto agency," she said. "I don't see anything so odd about it.

FELL INTO IT

"My husband, Elwyn, was a car dealer and a client of a law firm for which I worked in the San Fernando Valley, where my agencies are. After we were married, I became secretary and treasurer of his agency and later vice president.

"After he died in 1956, I became president."

The versitile grandmother—she has two daughters—is an accomplished horsewoman and was reared on a cattle ranch. She also relaxes by going deer and pheasant hunting in Oregon and playing the violin and organ.

"I have 160 persons working for me," she said. "I make it a point to get away from my desk as often as I can. I talk cars with salesmen and mechanics, and I even sell a few when it doesn't upset the organization or our company.

"Men didn't want me to be a dealer," she said. "They said it wasn't the kind of work a woman should do. Tsk tsk."

Do It Now!

You Have to Take the Time

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

So many women go along for years weighing more than they want to, more than is becoming to them and more than is best for their health. Even 10 or 15 pounds can add years to a woman's appearance and can make her uncomfortable and self-conscious.

Yet people are very busy and it is human nature to put dieting off until tomorrow. But it is fatal to continue doing this. There never will be a perfect time.

You just have to grab a chunk of life and use it this way. It is encouraging to know that you can lose as much as 20 pounds in the next eight weeks if you need to do so and can greatly improve your measurements.

This week I have been printing some letters from Marathon winners. Each January I run my 8-Week Self-Improvement Marathon. If you think it is a chore to lose 15 or 20 pounds, listen to what one reader did. She extended her dieting period to one year and lost 69 pounds and many inches.

She says, "Dear Mrs. Lowman: Just to show your readers it can be done! I weighed 186 pounds, my bust measured 48 inches, waist 36 inches, and hips 44 inches and I wore a size 18 to 20 dress.

"Now one year later I weigh 117 pounds, my bust measures 38 inches, waist 25 and hips 35 and I wear a size 10 to 11. I also changed my hair from mousy brown to blonde.

"No one but a former overweight woman can know the joy and pride which comes from a slim figure. I have no trouble holding this weight. If I go overboard on sweets and so forth one day, I diet the next."

There are just about eight weeks left before you will be wearing your fall clothes. Want to lose some extra pounds before then? If this is the case you may want the routine which Marathon winners used last January. If so, send 10 cents and a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for the Marathon booklet to Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

Like Pulling on Gloves

Here is a simple, effective technique which will keep your hands lovely, says a beauty expert. Apply your hand lotion as though you were pulling on a long glove.

Begin by massaging the fingertips, one finger at a time. Continue over the palms and back of the hand. Keep massaging with short strokes up over the arms, working in the lotion until it has completely disappeared.

If hands are extremely chapped, wear a pair of old kid gloves to bed at night. Protect your hands with canvas gloves while doing rough work, like painting or gardening. Use rubber gloves for inside jobs. Rub plenty of hand lotion on your hands before slipping them into gloves, and after coming in contact with water.

Surely No One Will Criticize

By EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post: We are two sisters. For many years a family friend and her son visited our house. Years ago the mother died and the son continued to visit us and spend vacations at our summer home. Recently both our parents died. We live alone now.

"Our friend still comes to visit us frequently but we wonder if it will be proper for him to spend a week's vacation at our summer home with us alone. I would very much appreciate your opinion on this matter."

Answer: From your description of the situation, I do not think that anyone will criticize your having this old friend spend his vacation with you and your sister.

"Dear Mrs. Post: My youngest brother was married two months ago to a girl in another state. My brother wrote and said that he and his wife are planning to come here for a visit in about three weeks. I would like to know if it would be proper to have a belated reception for them when they arrive as they had no reception to speak of when they were married.

"Would this be in order? I was told that a reception would not be proper so long after their marriage. Will you please advise me?"

Answer: It will be entirely proper for you to give a reception to introduce your brother's bride. Write across the top of your visiting card, "To meet Mrs. John Brown" or to very intimate friends, "To meet John's bride, Mary," and add under your name the date and hour of your reception.

"Dear Mrs. Post: Recently my uncle died and as the funeral was in another city, we had to spend a night in a hotel. My aunt arranged for this room at no expense to us. I thanked her before we left. I am now wondering if this was enough, or if I should write her a note again thanking her for her kindness."

Answer: Yes, you should write a note of thanks just as you would write a bread and butter letter if you had actually stayed in your aunt's house.

Dear Abby Warns:

Leave Those Married Men Alone

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: One of our co-workers is a lovely, intelligent, decent girl but she has started to run around with a married man who works here. Her eyes follow every move he makes. Anyone can tell she is in love with him. She knows he is married and has children but the romance continues just the same. The man has had several such affairs right in this office, but this girl thinks hers is different. How can we stop a respectable, highly-principled, decent girl from ruining her life over this man?

ABBY

OFFICE GIRLS

DEAR GIRLS: You are mistaken. No "respectable, highly-principled, decent girl" would date a married man in the first place. Girls who take a romantic interest in married men are asking for trouble — and they are rarely disappointed. Your co-worker is destined to learn the hard way.

DEAR ABBY: I am 14 but I am big for my age so I told this guy I was 17. He picks me up at my girlfriend's house because my parents don't want me going in cars with boys. He is 18 and I hate to tell you this, but I think I am too young to be parking with a boy his age. I feel so guilty and mixed up. Half of me wants to see this fellow again and half of me doesn't. Please tell me what to do.

MIXED UP

DEAR MIXED: Use the half of you with the brains in it to convince the other half to stay away from this character. He has none.

DEAR ABBY: I wonder if I am the only woman who faces such a problem? When my husband and I go out to buy something (or have something repaired) he is never satisfied with the fixed price. He has to bargain. Oftentimes he gets the price down, but I get so embarrassed I don't know what to do. We have been married 26 years and he has been this way always. Is there any hope of changing him or not?

FREDA

DEAR FREDA: After 26 years, if you think you are going to teach your old dog new tricks — you are barking up the wrong tree. Let him have his fun. No harm done.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "CANNOT BE CONSOLED": Losing a child is the most tragic experience a parent must bear. But one must believe that it is more than a coincidence that God and GOOD are similar words. Here is a little story one of my readers sent to me:

"There once was a procession of children marching in heaven. Each one held a lighted candle. As they marched they sang. Their faces shone with happiness. One little girl stood alone.

"Why don't you join us, Little Girl?" one child asked.

Fashion Hint

Beauty is a tip-to-toe state. When you dress in lighter colored leather and mesh shoes, keep them as neat and clean as possible. Nothing detracts more from one's appearance than shoes that are discolored and rundown at the heels. When cleaning mesh footwear, put a white cloth inside the shoe. This absorbs the dirt being chased away by the cleaner.

It Pays to Sew Clothes, Says U. S. Exhibit Model

It pays for even a model to sew her own clothes, says charming, silver-haired Mary Whelchel, who is modeling the "mature" fashions at the American Exhibition in Moscow. So she took to her sewing machine to turn out an eight-outfit wardrobe for her trip abroad.

Mary, who has been modeling only a little over a year, has achieved wide recognition as a model for "older woman" home-sewing patterns designed by Vogue. Born in Chickamauga, Ga., she attended Chattanooga University in Tennessee and studied fashion design in New York.

Her personal wardrobe for the Moscow trip was selected for easy packability, lightness and versatility. She chose a basic color scheme of black and white, to simplify the problem of accessories.

After consultation at her local sewing center, she chose a black and white Glen plaid silk and viscose fabric, virtually wrinkle-proof, for her travel suit, and made it with two skirts—a pleated one to wear on the plane, a straight one to wear on arrival.

Other items in the wardrobe include: a beige knit suit with hooded blouse of leopard-printed chiffon, and an extra matching pleated skirt of the leopard print, to team with the blouse for an afternoon dress; a third suit of white arnel sharkskin, with dotted silk blouse; a dressy shirtwaist dress of shimmering, silvery sheer knit; a black silk jersey dinner dress; an olive green evening coat with matching chiffon dress.

To other women planning a trip she advises: select patterns with simple lines and fabrics that won't wilt in a suitcase. Pleated skirts of crease-resistant fabric are comfortable for traveling and won't muss if pleats are stitched in place. Avoid fussy lines, fussy prints and too much color. And to save money, sew your own.

College Grad's Campus Clothes Won't Do Now

College graduates starting out on their first jobs this fall should remember not to carry college grooming habits over into an office. Have that long hair clipped to a short and neatly-shaped hairdo. Keep your sweater collection for weekends and country visits, gradually replace sweaters with simple one-piece wool dresses. Keep jewelry simple.

That beige raincoat and matching cap may have constituted a uniform on the campus but they're not for office wear. Neither are flat shoes, socks or plaid skirts and odd jackets.

You're moving into a new world now, one that calls for an entirely different look than you've had for the last four years. It will take time and careful shopping to break the old habits. But break them you must in order to make a good impression in your chosen career.

Battle Madman After 2 Killed

Police Arrest Gunman During Berserk Spree in Home for Aged

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A madman fired repeated shotgun blasts into a crowded dining room of a home for the aged today killing two of the residents and wounding four others.

He was then wounded and captured in a battle with expert police riflemen.

The gunman, Kyrlo Czupirczuk, 42, an unemployed carpenter had been placed in an institution earlier this year after sending threatening letters to President Eisenhower. He was released in April.

He babbled incoherently after his capture and police were unable to determine what imagined wrong led to his outburst.

About 150 residents of the Uptown Home for the Aged were gathered for breakfast in the first-floor dining room when the gun blasts started from the adjoining building where Czupirczuk lives.

Shotgun pellets shattered the windows and sprayed the residents of the home. Several fell to the floor. Others ran in wild confusion. Some of the more elderly and infirm sat stunned.

Killed were Kalman Galer, 79, and Michael Berman, 84.

Detroit Senator Jailed as Drunk in Lansing

LANSING (AP)—Sen. Basil W. Brown (D-Detroit) was arrested by Lansing police on a drunk charge late yesterday and held overnight in the city jail.

Brown entered a plea of nolo contendere (no contention of the charge) in Municipal Court this morning. He was given a choice of a $15 fine or five days in jail and paid the fine out of $251 on his person.

Police said Brown was found slumped at the wheel of his car parked in a traffic lane in front of a restaurant on the city outskirts about 11:30 p.m. last night.

Brown was arrested in a downtown Lansing restaurant on a disorderly charge on April 21, 1958. He did not contend that charge and was fined $24.

Stolen Vending Machine Found

3 Teens Held in City Theft

Three teen-agers were held for investigation of burglary this morning after officers arrested them emerging from a wooded area near Pontiac Northern High School.

Police found a large cigarette vending machine in the woods, near the intersection of Arlene avenue and Fourth avenue, which had been stolen in a break-in of Doolin's Shell service station at 520 E. Columbia.

Two of the youths denied knowledge of the burglary, but the third said he and the two others committed numerous break-ins in the Pontiac area in recent months, police said.

The three were to be questioned this morning by Pontiac Police detectives.

Police were called to the gas station shortly after 4 a.m. by Charles McCabe, 28, of 514 E. Columbia Ave., who told them he saw three persons hauling a cigarette machine out of the station and into a car.

The station was entered by breaking a window on the side of the building.

The three suspects were arrested 10 minutes later. They are David McAboy, 18, of 17 Allison St., Richard Ayotte, 18, of 293 Voorheis Rd., and Wallace J. McGuigan, 17, of 17 Allison St.

In the youth's car officers found an adding machine stolen from the gas station.

Model Changeovers Cut Into Auto Output

DETROIT (AP)—Model changeovers cut heavily into auto production this week for the first time this year.

Automotive News today estimated the week's production at 106,470 against 122,518 cars last week and 65,614 in the similar week of 1958.

Truck production and Canadian output also fell off sharply because of the end of 1959 model runs and vacations. The truck output was estimated at 11,135 against 20,091 last week and 15,421 in the same week a year ago. Canadian production was down to 134 cars against 2,239 cars last week and 231 a year ago.

Prosecuting Attorneys Attending Short Course

James E. Roberts, assistant Oakland County prosecutor, and Michael C. Dionise, prosecuting attorney for Lapeer County, are currently attending the 14th annual short course for prosecuting attorneys being conducted in Chicago.

The course, which began Monday and will conclude tomorrow, is sponsored by the Northwestern University Law School under a Ford Foundation grant. It is being held at the Drake Hotel with sessions directed by Prof. Fred Inbau, who originated the course back in 1936.

Straley Case Goes to Ionia Tomorrow

Herbert W. Straley's fight to win back his post as Pontiac Police Chief will shift to the Ionia County Courthouse tomorrow.

City Attorney William A. Ewart and Straley's attorney, Clarence L. Smith, will present arguments before Ionia County Circuit Judge Morris K. Davis and discuss informally legal phases of the Straley appeal.

Straley appealed his April 4 ouster by the Pontiac Civil Service Commission to Circuit Court. He was granted a change of venue after he argued there was too much publicity over his firing here for him to get a fair hearing.

Judge Davis, who has reviewed the record of the marathon Straley hearing and studied briefs submitted by both sides, said the attorneys were called to "speed the case up."

"How long it will take for my opinion depends largely on what happens tomorrow," the judge said.

Judge Davis said the attorneys may not present formal arguments, but just present their opinions informally. "It's up to them," he said.

Straley was fired by the Civil Service Commission after the three Commission members found him guilty of incompetency and inefficiency, insubordination, neglect of duty and failure to maintain good behavior.

Chief Judge Takes Bench

T. F. McAllister Gets John Martin's Place in 6th District Court

CINCINNATI (AP)—Judge Thomas F. McAllister of Grand Rapids, Mich., today became chief judge of the U.S. Court of Appeals, 6th circuit. The circuit functions in Michigan, Ohio, Kentucky and Tennessee.

He succeeded Judge John David Martin of Memphis, Tenn., who will continue in active service as a judge of the court.

Judge McAllister was appointed to the Appellate Court in 1941. He previously had served four years as a justice of the Supreme Court of Michigan.

He also has served for the past 15 years as one of the three federal judges on the U.S. Emergency Court of Appeals under appointment by the late Chief Justice Harlan Stone of the U.S. Supreme Court.

A new law which became effective today caused the change in chief judges. It provides that no chief judge may be more than 70 years old. Judge Martin is 76. The new chief is 63 years old.

Owosso Water Fees Raised 30 Per Cent

OWOSSO (AP)—Water rates were increased 30 per cent Wednesday in Owosso.

The increase raises the quarter year minimum price for 22,500 gallons from $5.50 to $7.

Commercial and industrial rates also were increased 30 per cent.

The increase applies only within the city limits.

A utility spokesman said the raise was necessary to keep pace with the growth of the community.

State University Teacher Succumbs in Kalamazoo

KALAMAZOO (AP)—Prof. Howard D. Corbus, 68, head of the agriculture department at Western Michigan University, died suddenly today at his home.

Prof. Corbus, a 1915 graduate of Michigan State University, then a college, had been on the Western Michigan faculty since 1927.

Vote 'No' to Scrutiny on Travel

LANSING (AP) — The House has objected to anyone checking up on its out-of-state travel.

Representatives yesterday unanimously rejected a Senate amendment to a resolution creating a joint committee to study state pension and retirement plans.

The amendment provided that legislative out-of-state travel would have to be cleared by a budget department committee as is done with other state employes. The rule was put in as an economy measure earlier this year.

"If we have to travel, we won't be staying in any $20-a-day hotel rooms," said Rep. Allison Green (R-Kingston), Republican floor leader.

Escapee Claims Dad Dead Premier

TRIESTE, Italy (AP) — A brown-haired, blue-eyed Hungarian youth slipped into Italy from Yugoslavia today and told police he was Miklos Nagy, son of Imry Nagy, the executed former Hungarian premier.

The young man crossed the frontier clad only in a pair of worn blue shorts and a soiled white cotton sweater. He asked asylum.

"I have no documents to prove my identity," he told police "these were taken from men in Yugoslavia."

Octogenarians Marry After TV Romance

SANTA MARIA, Calif. (UPI) — An 83-year-old retired farmer was honeymooning today with the 81-year-old widow he fell in love with when he saw her on a TV show.

Fred Tanner, of Carmichael, Calif., said he started writing letters to Mrs. Matilda Sorenson, of Santa Maria, after seeing her on "Queen for a Day" a year ago. She answered the letters and "love took its course."

They were married Sunday.

Automobile Plant Solves Problem of 2-Car Crashes

KITCHENER, Ont. (UPI) — A local police officer today told how he had helped to reduce automobile accidents at a Kitchener plant parking lot.

Male workers driving their cars out of the parking lot had an unusually large number of rear-end end collisions.

The plant called in Sgt. Wifred Henrich. Henrich took one look and diagnosed the trouble. The men were not watching where they were driving but were watching the female employes leaving the building.

The result—no more rear-end collisions.

Until Nixon Gets Ready to Leave

Red Newsmen Get Extra Liberties

Newsmen with Vice President Nixon were given unusual liberties while in the Soviet Union: lack of censorship, trips to hitherto closed cities, parties by Russian counterparts and general all-around consideration not afforded resident correspondents.

But when it came time to leave they were given a hint of just how captive are even the comparatively free and easy Russians with whom they mingled for 10 days.

As the American group got closer and closer to the Trans World Airlines' big red and white Boeing 707, wading through marshes of lengthy Russian paperwork and passport examination, our cheerful and sometimes almost affectionate Russian friends began disappearing one by one until only case-hardened old Soviet professionals could be seen.

And these were suddenly not nearly as friendly as they had been a day or two before. You could almost hear the iron curtain clanking down again.

It took 45 minutes to get our passports back after surrendering them at the airport counter (having just recovered them from the hotel counter, where they had been earlier surrendered).

About 30 members of the press corps got on the plane and settled down in their seats but were brusquely ordered back to the terminal to pick up boarding passes. Finally everything was in order and we filed out to the big jet.

But to get on was not simple. Three Russian uniformed police stood at the top step of the ramp, blocking the door into the plane. They wanted one more little look at that old passport. You had to put down everything you were carrying, fish out that document again and once more surrender it. The principal goon had a face right out of the history of villainy.

He studied each passport picture and owner at some length, looking back and forth from picture to face. Then he would reluctantly jab the passport back at you.

It was one time in my life I was happy I looked like my passport picture.

It was also the only time in all the years I've been flying that I ever heard a takeoff applauded by passengers. That's how good the people felt about being back in their four-engined United States.

The Soviet press made no mention of Pan American World Airways' record-breaking eight-hour-45-minute nonstop jet flight from New York to Moscow, nor did periodicals print a picture of the plane. No pictures of Trans World Airlines' 707 either, though thousands were permitted to visit it for a restricted number of hours each day it was there.

More thousands would have visited it last Friday and taken home the TWA house magazine which contains a story about the history of the American flag and the freedom the flag symbolizes. But Moscow airport officials abruptly notified the Americans that the ramp they had borrowed from Aeroflot (the Soviet airline, was needed for Nixon's plane. The long Russian waiting line was told to go home. The ramp then was moved to a sideline and sat there unused for more than one hour awaiting Nixon's scheduled on-the-minute arrival.

Later at Warsaw, TWA President Charles S. Thomas, former secretary of the navy, invited members of the controlled Polish press to visit the ship. He had ordered a Polish text of the description of the $5,000,000 airliner and the fact that his company is but one of 25 airlines doing business in the free enterprise system of the U.S.

Thomas also had prepared an essay in Polish on how it's possible in America for an airlines baggage handler to rise to president of the line.

Not one Polish reporter or camera man showed up.

Ran into Ed Sullivan and his pretty daughter Betty at Mass Sunday in the apartment of Father Louis Dion of the Assumptionist Fathers of Worcester, Mass. Sullivan has mastered enough Russian to be able to introduce each act of the 14-act variety show he is presenting in a 10,000-seat open air theater in Moscow in conjunction with the American Exhibition.

He will also produce his CBS television show on videotape in Moscow, using six Russian acts made available to him by cultural commissar Yuri Zhukov, including the red army chorus singing "Tipperary."

At Nixon's press conference before he left Moscow Soviet newsmen on hand made a pathetic spectacle of themselves by asking only questions closely identified with Khrushchev's familiar demands to end atomic tests, close foreign bases, increase trade, stop German rearmament, etc.

Each one made a formal statement or accusation before reading his questions from a script. They seemed interested only in having their colleagues hear them ask the correct questions and seemed to pay little or no attention to Nixon's patient answers.

Poor slobs.

Williams Expected in Oregon Primaries

SAN JUAN, P. R. (UPI)—Oregon Gov. Mark Hatfield said Wednesday Gov. G. Mennen Williams is expected to be among the "big herd" of Democratic candidates in Oregon's presidential primary next May.

Hatfield, a Republican, said the Michigan governor is more "than a favorite son candidate. He has broad base support."

Oregon officials can enter the name of any candidate in the primary.

If Williams doesn't choose to have his name entered in the Oregon primary, he would have to sign a statement proclaiming, "I am not now nor do I intend to be a candidate."

Oil Pipelines Busy

NEW YORK (UPI) — Each minute of the day, 230,000 gallons of crude oil and refined products course through the nation's vast network of more than 200,000 miles of pipeline, according to oil industry sources.

WASHINGTON—Thirty-two of the states and District of Columbia have mandatory provisions in their laws for distribution of free school textbooks.

Khrushchev Says He May Accept Farmer's Invite

MOSCOW (AP) — Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev said Wednesday he had been invited by an American farmer named Garst to stay with him and that he probably would.

The farmer apparently is Roswell Garst of Coon Rapids, Iowa, who has made visits to the Soviet Union and who has shipped a lot of seed corn to Russia. Khrushchev is a great corn fan, and wants a lot of it grown in Russia.

The Soviet Premier told a news conference he certainly wanted to see United States farming areas on his trip in mid-September.

Veterans Uphold Tax Exemption

COLDWATER (UPI)—Hundreds of World War I and II veterans, and veterans of the Spanish-American War, today signed a petition opposing abolishment of the veterans homestead tax exemption.

A bill to abolish the exemption was scheduled to come before the House of Representatives in Lansing today.

The petition will be sent to Rep. Fred H. Marshall (R-Allen).

The existing legislation exempts the first $2,000 of real estate owned by veterans, from realty taxes.

About nine million Americans have a form of heart disease.

ONE COLOR

Foreigners Pay Far More

Mexico Means Money!

By JACK RUTLEDGE

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Foreign residents find Mexico exotic, colorful, different. But it is no longer a penny pincher's paradise.

Prices have tripled in the last few years. A major reason is the emergence of a middle class. Another is the country's bloosoming prosperity.

Pepe Romero, Mexico's best known English - language columnist, quotes his wife Del to the point.

"When I came here as a blushing bride in 1951, a servant earned 100 pesos — $8 — a month," she said. "She now gets 300 up, and a halfway decent cook gets 500.

"Rents have skyrocketed accordingly. Meats, fruits, and vegetables lo mismo (the same).

"But the biggest change I've noticed is the emergence of a middle class. Not too long ago one servant in 10 was literate. Today most girls under 20 can read and write reasonably well."

The good old days for foreigners have become the good new days for Mexico's poor, emerging into a middle class.

"One scarcely recognizes the skyline any more," Pepe commented. "For example, look at all the new hotels, the 44-story skyscraper on San Juan de Letran and Madero, the scores of exciting, ultra-modern buildings.

"Gone are the cargadores—men who carried on their back everything from furniture to freshly butchered bulls—always so much a part of this city. Street vendors are almost no more. The old markets, picturesque and dirty, such as La Merced and La Lagunilla, have been replaced by new, sanitary and unimaginative, strictly functional market stalls. The city, like an octopus, has spread its tentacles—out to Pedragal to the south, past Barrilaco to the west, with new real estate developments such as Satellite City. Modern speedways and viaducts criss-cross one end of the city to the other. And the old cactus plants along main glorietas, or circles, and boulevards have been replaced by myriads of multicolored flowers and gushing fountains."

It is as modern as Manhattan in many ways. But a few miles outside the city limits Mexicans still live in adobe huts with dirt floors, dress in the old rebozos, live on tortillas, beans. During the transition Mexico is truly a country of contrasts.

U.S. Puts Embassy in Nepal's Capital

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States has opened an embassy at Katmandu, capital of the Kingdom of Nepal, the State Department announced Wednesday.

Before Aug. 1, when the embassy began operations, the U.S. ambassador to India handled diplomatic relations with Nepal. Some officials of the International Cooperation Administration and the U.S. Information Agency, however, have been based in Katmandu for some time.

L. Douglas Heck, now first secretary at the New Delhi embassy, will act as charge d'affaires until appointment of a resident ambassador.

State Department informants said opening the Katmandu embassy is a further sign of the importance the United States attaches to Nepal's role as a barrier to communism.

Hoover, Near 85, Says Ike Wise to Plan Visits

NEW YORK (UPI) — Former President Herbert C. Hoover said last night he believes President Eisenhower is "doing a wise thing" in inviting Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev to visit the United States.

Hoover, returning from a three-week visit in California, said he had "the greatest confidence in the President's judgment" and that he was hopeful some good will come from the exchange of visits between the U. S. and Russian chiefs of state.

The former President will celebrate his 85th birthday on Monday at a quiet dinner with friends.

"I feel as if I'm about 72," he told newsmen on his arrival at Idlewild Airport.

Colleges and Universities Must Increase Spending

NEW YORK (UPI)—The nation's colleges and universities will have to increase their spending on plant and equipment expansion by more than a billion dollars annually over the next seven years to keep pace with soaring student population, an education group said Tuesday.

The Council for Financial Aid to Education said the schools would need at least $11,500,000 in new money by 1967, and costs of new land and replacement of old buildings could push the total higher.

It based its estimate on questionnaires returned from 885 private and public institutions.

The price tags would require $1,150,000,000 a year in new tax funds and private philanthropy.

The council said the nation's total expenditure on higher education in 1969-70 for all purposes will be nine billion dollars, compared to a budget of $2,400,000,000 in 1949-50.

Governmental support would account for half of the nine billion. Forty-two per cent would be split evenly between tuitions and fees, and private gifts and grants.

Dr. Frank H. Sparks, council president, said that it was within the nation's capacity to meet the cost of new buildings and equipment.

The American public has already demonstrated that it can increase its aid to education as enrollments increase," he said.

The Council survey disclosed that the cost per student of plant investment would reach $3,834 in 1967, if the total of $11,500,000,000 were spent on that purpose.

It said that 53 per cent of plant expansion money was needed by public institutions, and 37 per cent by private colleges and universities. Junior colleges would require 10 per cent of the total.

Cisler Calls on Premiers During Trip to Moscow

MOSCOW (AP) — Walker Cisler, president of the Detroit Edison Co., called on First Soviet Deputy Premiers Frol Kozlov and Anastas I. Mikoyan Wednesday, TASS reported.

The Soviet news agency said they had friendly, informal conversations. Cisler is here as head of a delegation of U. S. power engineers. He played host to Mikoyan and Kozlov when their U. S. tours took them to Detroit, TASS noted.

Which is tougher, golf or tennis?

This is a good argument and those who can present the best case are people who have participated in both sports for a period of time to have at least learned the fundamentals of each.

A golfer who has never held a tennis racquet will most naturally say golf is tougher, and vise-versa for a tennis player who never hit a golf ball.

Jack Kramer, most noted as a tennis pro, says golf is easier to master.

The tall netter plays a good game of golf, firing in the high 70's or low 80's, and when he made his statement Jess Watson of the Los Angeles Country Club challenged him to play the course.

It is known as a real tough layout, but Kramer accepted the challenge and came in with a 79.

Concentration, form and skill are basically strong elements needed to both sports.

In tennis, however, these elements must be coordinated into split-second decisions while in motion.

A tennis player cannot pause even momentarily to decide how he is going to hit the ball, where he is going to put it and what position he is going to take to make the return. A golfer can ponder about the way he will play a shot.

The move toward the ball and these thoughts must be spontaneous and along with them there has to be concentration of form—position of the feet, the shoulders, the arm and the stroke.

They are both great sports, but we are inclined to agree with Kramer—tennis is tougher.

DITTOS FROM THE PRESS BOX

Sergeant Allen D. Noble of the Pontiac Police department has initiated the "Jones to Rome" campaign and city officials have given their blessing to the idea.

In this column last week we mentioned that Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Jones, parents of Pontiac's great track star Hayes, would probably not get the opportunity to go to Rome should their son make the 1960 Olympics.

It would be a great thing for the ctiy of Pontiac if Hayes did make the team and it would even be a finer gesture if Pontiac reciprocated in giving Hayes a most wanted wish—to have his parents with him.

Mayor Rowston has named Rev. J. Allen Parker and Press sport staffer Guy Moats as trustees of the fund and contributions can be mailed to the Jones Olympic Fund in care of the Pontiac Post Office.

Oakland Hills Player

Yarnall Seniors' Champion

Tom Yarnall, 56-year-old Oakland Hills Country Club golfer, not only entered his first tournament but won it.

Yesterday at Detroit Golf Club, Yarnell fired a 144 to win the Michigan Senior's Championship. Only other events he had ever entered were club tournaments.

Another Oakland Hills entry Cliff Rugg, was second with a 146 total. Rugg was the winer of the Class C division for golfers between 65 and 69.

Rollie Weyand of Birmingham Country Club and Dr. O. B. Aubin of Lochmoor were tied for third with 148's.

Dr. Aubin was the winer in class D for those between 60 and 66.

Yarnell had a chance to break the all-time senior's mark of 142 set by Christ Brinke at the same course in 1952, but he bogied four of the last five holes.

Eleven Qualified for Gold Cup

Detroit Gale Boats Set for Sunday Event; More Try Today

SEATTLE (AP)— "Things," said Bill Stead today, "can get pretty hairy in that first turn."

The Reno cattleman who drives speedboats as a hobby was thinking ahead to Sunday's 52nd running of the Gold Cup race. His mount is a 5,870-pound unlimited hydroplane named Maverick.

Eleven of the huge hydros had qualified for Sunday's running of the Gold Clup on Lake Washington by the opening of the course today for the third day of qualifying runs. They were, in the order they qualified: Miss Pay 'n Save, Seattle; Gale V and Gale VI, both Detroit; Miss Wahoo, Seattle; Breathless I, Piedmont, Calif.; Hawaii Kai III, Bellevue, Wash.; Maverick, Lake Mead, Nev.; Thriftway Too and Miss Thriftway, both Seattle; Miss Spokane, Spokane, Wash., and Nitrogen, Washington, D. C. Four qualified yesterday.

Boats must make three laps of the 3-mile course at better than 95 miles an hour to qualify for the Gold Cup.

Liston Halts Valdes Early

CHICAGO (AP) — Pep Barone, manager of heavyweight Sonny Liston fumes:

"I got a contender and can't get anywhere with him. I don't think that Ingemar Johansson-Floyd Patterson rematch will ever come off. I think the Swede won't defend his title for some time and nobody will put pressure on him to do it.

"Why don't they let my boy fight Patterson? For that matter, why won't Zora Foley the No. 2 contender fight my boy? Things are really messed up."

Liston, a 211-pounder, knocked out Nino Valdes, another 211-pounder in the third round of a scheduled 10-round nationally televised scrap in Chicago Stadium last night.

It was Liston's 18th straight victory, 16 by knockouts, and he now has won 25 out of 26 starts.

String Snapped at 7 Straight by 3-0 Shutout

Tigers Leave Bases Loaded in Dropping Back to 6th

NEW YORK (UPI)—Don Mossi's spell over the New York Yankees has been broken, but the Detroit southpaw didn't go down to defeat without a fight.

He held the Yankees to one unearned run in the first seven innings before Mickey Mantle cracked a two-run homer in the eighth to wrap up a 3-0 victory for New York.

Mossi had beaten New York seven straight times in the last two seasons, including five in a row with Detroit this year.

But he couldn't have won yesterday no matter how well he pitched, an unearned run in the fourth and utter failure of Detroit batters against New York left-hander Bobby Shantz took care of that.

The loss dropped the Tigers back into sixth place in the American League standings, one game behind the Yankees. They still hold an 11-5 edge over the sagging world champions in season play with Mossi and Frank Lary accounting for all but one of the triumphs.

Shantz held Detroit to only five hits and was in trouble only in the ninth inning when the Tigers loaded the bases on a double by Gus Zernial, a single by Frank Bolling and a walk to pinch-hitter Harvey Kuenn.

But Ted Lepcio came up to bat for Mossi and grounded into a game-ending force out.

Mossi's fate was sealed in the fourth when Coot Veal grabbed a liner off the bat of Hank Bauer and then threw wildly past first trying to double Elston Howard off the bag.

Mossi and Shantz remained locked in a pitcher's battle until the eighth when Gil McDougald tripled and Mantle followed with his 22nd homer of the year.

Shantz gained his sixth win against three losses while Mossi was charged with his fifth setback against 10 victories.

Detroit and New York wind up their three-game series this afternoon with Paul Foytack (9-10) facing Art Ditmar (7-7).

Lions in Colorado for First Exhibition

Play Los Angeles Rams Saturday in Afternoon Tilt

Three Veterans Will Miss Boulder Game Due to Injuries

The Detroit Lions took off for Boulder, Colo., from Willow Run airport this morning equipped with packed bags and high hopes for their approaching NFL campaign.

The Lions meet the Rams in Boulder at 4:30 p.m. (EST) Saturday to play their earliest pre-season exhibition game in history.

Head coach George Wilson said his team had "one of its best scrimmages in years" earlier this week. He thinks the team looks very good after two weeks of practice.

Veteran quarterback Tobin Rote went even further, saying that the Lions will be among four teams in the race for the Western Division title this season. The other contenders, in Rote's opinion, are the defending champion Baltimore Colts, the Chicago Bears and the Rams.

But title hopes of both Lion coaches and players alike were sobered somewhat by the injuries to three of the squad's first stringers — halfback Gene Gedman, tackle John Gordy and end Jim Doran.

Gedman will miss at least three weeks of practice while Doran and Gordy are expected to miss only this week's game.

You couldn't blame Wilson and company for shuddering at the thought of Doran's shoulder separation or Gordy's sprained ankle or Gedman's puffed and swollen knee

A series of injuries to key players was the crippling blow which sent the team tumbling from the NFL championship in 1957 to a disappointing fifth place finish last year.

The Lions will have to be lucky and escape with only a minimum of casualties in their longest exhibition schedule in record if they are to make a determined title bid this year.

They will also need some help from their rookie crop in order to replace retired veterans and those who have slowed down a bit in the past couple of years.

Of the rookies in camp, the two who have been most impressive are Art Brandiff, a competent flanker and runner from VMI, and Dan Chamberlain, a sure-fingered end from Sacramento State who was only a 25th draft choice.

Following their contest with the Rams, the flying Lions will play two more "away" games before coming home to face the New York Giants in an exhibition here at Briggs Stadium Aug. 28.

Before that they will play the Chicago Cardinals in Norman, Okla., and the Cleveland Browns in Akron, O., on successive Saturdays.

MAY START — Of the Detroit Lions' three quarterbacks, Earl Morrall (14) may get the starting call for the first exhibtion game Saturday against the Los Angeles Rams in Boulder, Colo. Morrall is considered number two behind Tobin Rote and ahead of Jerry Reichow, but coach George Wilson says the job is wide open.

Billy Martin Struck on Face by Pitched Ball

After an X-ray, doctors said Martin would be out four to six weeks.

He was the lead-off batter in the second game of the Washington-Cleveland doubleheader when the pitch hit him on the left side of the face.

Martin was carried from the field on a stretcher, and taken to a hospital. He never lost consciousness.

7 Midwest Schools May Form League

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Seven midwestern schools have formed an alliance that may develop into an intercollegiate athletic conference.

The schools are the University of Kansas City, University of Chicago, Wheaton, Washington of St. Louis, Depauw, Valparaiso and Wabash.

Fred Beile, KCU track coach and athletic committee member, said the alliance would be on a trial basis for several years to determine the advisability of forming a conference.

Competition Hot in Eagles' Camp

Grid Cards Rout Toronto, 55-26

By The Associated Press

It is doubtful whether Toronto Coach Hamp Pool meant to be taken so literally by the Chicago Cardinals when he said he welcomed the chance to play the National Football League club because of the use of unlimited blocking.

"Football is blocking and tackling and is not right that anything should stand in its way," he said referring to Canadian rules that limit blocking beyond the line of scrimmage.

The Cards didn't let anything stand in their way last night as they ground out a 55-26 exibition victory over the Canadian Big Four Football Union team. Their line continually opened gaping holes and their rock-ribbed blocking kept the Canadian team offstride.

Only two of the 12 touchowns came on passes, both thrown by Argo quarterback Ronnie Knox, on loan from the Chicago Bears. The Cards' eight TDs were divided eight ways. Their defense completely bottled up any Argo ground offense.

The teams compromised on rules, with the exception of the blocking rule. Each team used 11 men when the Cards had the ball, and then reverted to the 12-man Canadian style when Toronto was on the offensive.

Toroto held a 13-7 first quarter lead with 27,770 fans looking on — largest ever for a game in eastern Canada — but the Cards took command after that.

The competition at the Philadelphia Eagles Hershey, Pa., camp became so hot and heavy that three fights and a half a dozen near brawls broke out as the birds went through a 45-minute contact workout yesterday.

Proverb Jacobs, 260-pound tackle, and rookie tackle Al Benecict, from Syracuse, were the first to square off. Linebacker Tom Lauderback got involved twice, first with halfback Billy Barnes, then with rookie guard Darrell Ashbacher of Oregon.

Coach Mike Nixon of Washington is using the competitive urge to help him get a second string quarterback behind Eddie LeBaron. Newcomer Eagle Day of Mississippi and veteran Ralph Guglielmi will oppose each other today in an intrasquad game.

"Let them fight it out," Nixon said.

Vince Lombardi of Green Bay is doing much the same thing. He plans to use a veteran offensive team headed by Paul Hornung and Lew Carpenter against a rookie defense; and a rookie offense headed by Alex Hawkins of South Carolina and George Dixon of Bridgeport (Conn) against a veteran defense in a Saturday scrimmage.

All-Stars Stressing Pass Throwing Now

Although the graduated collegians, who will face the Baltimore Colts in Soldier Field Aug. 14, defeated the Chicago Bears in a scrimmage Tuesday, head coach Otto Graham was not satisfied with the All Star work.

"Our timing was off on passing patterns," he said. "We missed a lot of assignments and our line did not give the passer good protection. We're studying films of the game and pointing out our mistakes."

So far the collegians have not been hit by serious injuries.

Michigan Water Ski Tournament This Weekend

The state water ski championships will be held Saturday and Sunday on the Huron River in Ann Arbor with Pontiac's Tony Mitchell defending his jumping title.

Over 125 water skiers will participate in the two day meet which is held near the old Municipal Beach on the north edge of the city on route 23.

Southfield Holds to Perfect Mark

Southfield was one game short of clinching both halves of the Junior Legion race today following Wednesday's come-from-behind 5-3 verdict over Clawson. Tough Royal Oak stands in the way of a perfect 2nd half showing Saturday.

Birmingham and Troy were other winners yesterday.

Trailing 3-2 in the 6th, Southfield put together four singles in the same frame to give Bob Filar the triumph in relief.

Birmingham's Tim Springer gave up a pair of two-run homers but little else in an 8-4 victory over Rochester. George Forrest had three hits featuring the team's 5th win in seven outings. Dwight Swords and Howard Hinkel socked the homers.

Big Troy pitcher Doug Smith blanked Milford 1-0 on two hits. Pete Davidson got three of Troy's five bingles including the one that drove in the only run following a walk, steal and passed ball.

Finsterwald's Golf Tip:

Loft for Downhill Lie

By DOW FINSTERWALD
1958 PGA Champion

On the average course many shots will have to be played with one foot higher than the other.

On a hilly layout you may have a large percentage of shots this way.

Playing a downhill lie — with the left foot lower than the right —is bound to disturb the normal rhythm of the swing.

You must make alterations in the stance and swing to compensate. An open stance is recommended.

The ball should be lined up off the right heel because that is where the club will come nearest to the earth in a proper swing. If the ball is too far forward, the club will make contact with it on the upswing, resulting in a topped shot.

On the backswing, the club should be brought up more abruptly to prevent the club from dragging as it is liable to in a sweeping motion.

Because there is naturally going to be a great deal more weight on the left foot, the ball probably will hook if hit properly. To compensate for this, aim slightly to the right of the target.

Naturally, a club with greater loft than you would use from a flat lie, should be employed.

You actually are pointing downhill and the ball must be lofted by the club to get it in the air.

Wimbledon Star Makes U.S. Bid

SOUTH ORANGE, N.J. (AP) — Maria Bueno, the Wimbledon queen from Brazil, today set her sights on the U.S. crown to match the two-title sweep of Althea Gibson in 1957 and 1958.

"I'll be trying to win at Forest Hills next month," said the 19-year-old Miss Bueno. "That's a great honor, to win both the Wimbledon and U.S. titles in the same year. I hope I can do it. But it won't be easy!"

6th Silver Lake Ace

Duane Premo, 2048 Cass Lake Rd., Keego Harbor, a consistent Sunday golfer at Silver Lake, accounted for the layout's 6th ace of the season during the last weekend. He holed his tee shot with a 3-wood, on the 200-yard No. 5 green, for his first ace and the 3rd for that green.

With Premo were Harold Washburn, Mike McFarland and Bob Hagerman, all of Pontiac. Premo had 41 for the nine holes. This foursome has played Silver Lake every Sunday since the season's start.

Fanned 90 in 35 Innings

Too Tough for Peewees

OTTAWA, Kan. (UP)—Murphy the Great has hung up his glove for the season. And next year, he'll go on to better things.

So the players in Ottawa's Peewee League can breathe easier, and their parents can calm down.

Murphy the Great is Harry E. Murphy Jr., an affable 10-year-old Irishman who was the source of much controversy in Ottawa this summer.

You see, Harry can throw a baseball faster than anybody who ever played in the Peewee League, a pretty fast circuit for boys 8 to 10 years old.

Harry pitched 35 innings this year—peewee games last only five innings—and struck out 90 batters. In his last start, he faced only 15 Peewees and fanned 14. Harry's team won the pennant with a 7-0 record. Harry's record also was 7-0, including three no-hit games.

Harry is so fast that his catcher, Lyle Adcock, wears boots under his shin guards.

There was a lot of pressure on his parents and on the city recreation director, Orlin Cox, to ban Harry from the Peewee League.

"We got anonymous telephone calls from adults who wanted to know what we meant by letting our boy pitch like that," said Mrs. Murphy. "They said he was too big to throw at their boys."

Actually, Harry isn't unusually big. He stands 4 feet 6 and weighs 95 pounds. But when he rares back and throws his fast ball, he does look sort of big.

"I just told them that Harry was a good baseball player who practiced a lot to get where he is," said Cox. "He's within the age limit and that is the only requirement there is about a player."

"They didn't see him when he first started pitching and cried because he couldn't keep the batters from hitting," said Mrs. Murphy. "He used to cry when he came home and say, 'Mom, I'm going to be a good pitcher.'"

Parents of other Peewee League players wouldn't comment publicly about Harry, except one mother, who said: "That kid throws too hard. He scares those other poor kids to death."

Harry shrugged off the accusation, saying, "I only hit one kid this year. He got a bloody nose and a split lip but he didn't get out of the way fast enough."

Next year, Harry will join an Elks Club team in a league for boys up to 15 years old. He'll be the youngest player in the league.

Investigations of Promotions Are Disclosed

Bill Rosensohn Under Protection While DA Makes Check

NEW YORK (UPI)—Bill Rosensohn was under police guard at a secret hideout today while the district attorney's office and the state athletic commission continued their investigations of his fight promotions.

His telephone-answering service said: "Mr. Rosensohn will be back Saturday."

The assigning of detectives to guard him around the clock apparently was for Rosensohn's protection, although the district attorney's office would not confirm that.

The young promoter said the guarding had started yesterday. He made that disclosure after his fifth visit to the D.A.'s office yesterday, when he was questioned for an hour by assistant district attorneys Francis X. Clark and Thomas McBride.

He was then re-subpenaed to appear before the "boxing" grand jury Aug. 28. That grand jury, which for nearly two years has been investigating underworld connections with boxing, is interested in the activities that surrounded the promotion of the June 26 heavyweight title fight between Floyd Patterson and Ingemar Johansson at Yankee Stadium. Johansson of Sweden stopped Patterson in the third round and took the crown.

District Attorney Frank Hogan stressed that the fight is N-O-T being investigated — only the promotional activities surrounding it.

These "activities" actually started before Rosensohn's first promotion — the Patterson-Roy Harris fight at Los Angeles last August, a spokesman said.

Rosensohn has charged publicly that he was coerced into giving up the rights to theater-TV, radio and movies to the June fight, and into giving up two-thirds of the stock in his promoting organization, Rosensohn Enterprises, Inc.

New Navy Crew Head

ANNAPOLIS (AP)—Navy Wednesday named Louis G. Lindsey, formerly of Stanford, as its new varsity crew coach.

Lindsey, head rowing coach at Stanford from 1955-58, succeeds Rusty Callow, the dean of American crew coaches. Callow retired June 30 because of poor health.

Nats End Loss String at 18

By The Associated Press

Truman for President! That is the new cry in Washington.

They mean Clevenger, not Harry as the Truman of their dreams for he is the man who broke the Senators' 18-game losing streak.

Cookie Lavagetto was a desperate man after watching his Senators tie a club mark by dropping their 18th straight in the first game of a doubleheader last night. The modern major league record of 20 was just around the corner.

Cookie finally settled on Clevenger, a 27-year-old son of Visalia, Calif., who had not started all season. Clevenger had shown enough in 33 relief appearances to convince Lavagetto who by this time didn't need much convincing after watching his other pitchers.

All that Clevenger did was to throw his first big league shutout, a seven hit 9-0 job at the second-place Cleveland Indians and the streak was over. It was the Senators' first victory since the first game of a July 19 doubleheader.

Harmon Killebrew woke up, too. He hit his first home run since July 27, No. 34 and pushed his runs batted in total to 85.

Jim (Mudcat) Grant handed Washington its 18th defeat in the opener 7-3 as the Indians scored six runs in the seventh inning.

There was no change in the pennant race. Chicago also split a twinighter in Baltimore, holding tight to its two-game lead. Barry Latman shutout the Orioles with three hits in the 2-0 opener but Baltimore took advantage of Early Wynn's shaky pitching and five White Sox errors to grab the second game 7-1.

Horses Back in Woods

Draft horses have returned to the Northwest woods to work alongside giant machines in pulling out big logs. The horses can pull out the big logs with minimum damage to young trees.

2 Homers Put Giants Back in 1st

McCovey Rips Milwaukee

By The Associated Press

They were kidding Fred Haney, the National League All-Star manager, about Willie McCovey. Somebody asked why McCovey, a rookie who came up from Phoenix last Thursday, wasn't on the squad.

Haney joked right back. "I'm told that this Willie simply wasn't available," he said. "He already was up in Cooperstown getting measured for a plaque."

That was a couple of days ago. Haney hadn't seen McCovey at time. He probably wishes now that he never did see him for McCovey knocked his Milwaukee Braves right out of the National League lead and has San Francisco on top again today.

McCovey gave the Giants a first-inning lead with a 380-foot homer off Bob Buhl. After Willie Mays' double scored Jim Davenport with the tie-breaking run in the eighth, McCovey tapped Mr. Buhl for another home run, a two-run 400-footer that nailed down a 4-1 victory. Jack Sanford went all the way with an eight-hitter for his 10th triumph.

Billy Rigney, manager of the Giants, continued to juggle his lineup. He played Orlando Cepeda, his first baseman recently shifted to third base with sad results, to left field. Cepeda looked much better as he made a spectacular catch of Hank Aaron's foul drive in the eighth inning.

The Braves dropped to third as the Los Angeles Dodgers remained within one-half game of the top by downing the Cincinnati Reds 6-3 on the hitting of Duke Snider and the pitching of Johnny Podres.

Snider hit two homers, No. 15 and 16, and a single good for three runs to help Podres post his ninth victory in 16 decisions. After a shaky start which saw the Reds score all of their runs in the first two innings, the southpaw allowed only one hit over the last seven innings.

Doubles by Vada Pinson and Frank Robinson behind a walk gave Cincinnati two runs in the first and they made it 3-0 in the second. Then Snider homered in the second, drove in another with a single in a three-run third and added the final tally in the eighth with his 16th homer. Podres drove in a run in the fourth. Bob Purkey 10-11, first of three Cincinnati pitchers lost.

Singles by Joe Cunningham and Wally Shannon and Hal Smith's infield out gave the Cards a second-inning run, enough to cost Bob Friend his 14th defeat. They added two unearned runs in the eighth off rookie Fred Green.

Philadelphia hopped on Bill Henry, the Chicago Cubs' usually reliable relief man, and scored two in the ninth for a 6-4 victory. It was the Cubs' seventh straight defeat. Gene Conley got ninth inning help from Taylor Phillips to earn his 10th victory.

County Golfers National Victors

PALO ALTO, Calif. — Two Michigan entries advanced to the second round today in the USGA National Junior golf tournament here. Three others were turned back in yesterday's first round.

Gary Mouw (Birmingham) defeated Ron Frantz of Indianapolis 5-3 in first round action and Denis Ahern, of Royal Oak, turned back Alan R. York, Auburndale, Mass., 4-3.

Other Michigan scores:

Gary Pageau, Detroit, was beaten by Dennis Shaffer, Palmdale, Calif., 7-6. Larry Joseph, Ann Arbor, was defeated 3-2 by Ronald A. Righter, Landover, Md.

Mike Malarkey, a wiry, 13-year-old kid from Signal Mountain, Tenn., eliminated one of the hot favorites beating young Peter Geertsen of Eugene, Ore., 3-2.

It was one of the surprises in this USGA classic for lads under 18, which brought 128 youngsters together from across the nation.

Geertsen, usually a near-par starter, was 5 over for the match, while Malarkey finished 2 over on the 6,500-yard, par 36-35-71 Stanford University course.

Hard-Earned Wins in Waterford Loop

Dobski's Bar and Lotus Lake had to work hard for their victories in the Waterford Softball League last night.

A triple by John Latimer and loser Frank Miceli's wild pitch produced a 6-5 Dobski win over the Merchants.

Lotus put together two hits, two walks, a hit batter and three of the Arrows' six costly errors to overcome a 3-0 deficit in a five-run 3rd. The final count was 8-5 paced by Paul Emerson's three hits.

In a Little League rout, Schoolcraft Lakers 16, Elizabeth Lake Estates B team 6.

Three-Way Golf Tie

Ties were set up in two events for the Silver Lake Women's Golf League yesterday. Mrs. Don Hetherington, Mrs. Robert Gibson and Mrs. Paul Castelberry each had 31 for low net. Mrs. Floyd Foren and Mrs. Fred Stimpert tied at 35 for 2nd low net, and Mrs. Phil Dorman won the blind hole (No. 8) with a 2.

Low putts were won by Mrs. Louie Daniel.

Plans were made for a "Husband's Day" Aug. 16, with a two-ball foursome tourney the attraction.

By CHUCK ABAIR

Playoff-itis is really setting in around these parts and it promises to leave area fans limp from the steady run of do-or-die battles slated to last another month.

Several outstanding games have already been played in the annual elimination program but they should be even better as we go along.

Whether you like softball or baseball, there is plenty of excitement coming up through early September since every game is a crucial one.

Softball held the spotlight here last night along with a Class B baseball battle. The junior baseballers went back at it today.

Stadium Inn and Casa Mia clinched the Class A and B crowns Wednesday while Class C was extended to tonight.

Jake Mazur fired a one-hitter, fanning eight as Stadium blanked Lakeside, 2-0. He also tripled in both runs. A homer by Tom Stilwell stood up for the Merchants until the 6th when Don Reid belted one with a man on to produce a 2-1 Casa Mia triumph.

Arro Realty was out to wrap up "C" honors but Harrison's Grill combined a walk and two errors to win 2-1 in 11 innings. Four pitchers allowed only seven hits. They meet again tonight at Northside at 7. Wright Upholstering advanced in Class D by downing the Moose, 5-3, paced by Dick Gayette's triple and single.

Pontiac Business Institute evened the baseball playoffs by bouncing back from a 3-1 deficit to trip Talbott Lumber, 5-3. Norm Mallory's triple was the big blow. They met again today at Wisner.

Stadium Inn will enter District play here Aug. 17. Casa Mia does the same at Southfield the same day. Class C will be at Mt. Clemens and "D" at Howell.

The junior diamond crowns will be determined Sunday and Monday. Pontiac will host districts in D, E and F starting Monday.

Playoffs also start Monday for the Boys Club's Pontiac Federal Savings loop with the top four teams clashing. Church softballers are already under way and Waterford teams will follow suit soon.

EXTRA INNINGS

The Hayward brothers have had a big hand in keeping the B & B Sewer Cleaners rolling in Class F. Roger does the pitching and twins Larry and Gary swing the bat pretty well. Big brother Bill is considered by many a future pro prospect. . . . Royal Oak softballer Damon McGrew fanned 20 of 27 in a no-hitter.

Dandy duel in Lake Orion Small Fry League saw R. Stallings allow no hits, whiff 17 and walk two while G. Mann was giving up two safeties, passing just one and striking out 12 in a scoreless duel. Stallings fanned 21 earlier. Twenty teams play in two groups there thanks to the efforts of interested residents. . . . Farmington LL star Mike Weber had two grand slams in a game clearing the fence by over 50 feet each time.

Tony Stiel not overflowed with requests for applications to Tigertown. . . . Birmingham Ruth tilt had 32 walks. . . . Sandlotters in Royal Oak and Madison Heights supported their programs by selling booster tickets, candy and other items.

Three Races Begin Snipe National Event

WAGONER, Okla. (AP) — Snipe sailboaters well down the qualifying list were winners Wednesday as favorable winds enabled the National championship regatta to get in three races on Fort Gibson Lake.

In windward-leeward events over the 7-mile course the victors were Harold Gilreath, Atlanta, Ga., and Bill Kilpatrick, Oklahoma City.

First home over a triangular course was Hi Upson, Middleburgy, Conn.

The championship rides on the top scorer in five races—three triangular and two windward-leeward—for the snipe world's prized Heinzerling Trophy.

The point standings for the 24-boat field, however, were scrambled by protests.

Birmingham's Ed Brown Slips but Still Tied for Overall Lead

VIRGINIA BEACH, Va. — Ken Sedlecky of Baldwin shattered 100 straight targets to tie for the lead in the World's 20 gauge skeet championship, while 14-year old Eddie Brown of Birmingham fell to a 98.

Other Michigan 20 gauge scores: Howard Confer, Detroit 99; Bill Brown Jr., Birmingham 99; Ains Borsum, Detroit 99; Floyd Gilmore, Wyandotte 96; Chet Crites, Detroit 94; Bill Ellis, Mt. Swimmers Hurt in Trials

EAST LANSING (UPI) — A 12-year-old Fort Lauderdale, Fla., diver suffered severe back and neck sprains in a diving accident during warmups for the Pan-American games trials here yesterday.

Observers said Scallan had been given an all-clear by others at the edge of the pool before diving.

Webster, a freshman at the University of Michigan, placed second in tower diving at the recent national outdoor championships in California.

Both were taken to the Michigan State University health center but Webster was released after examination.

Dr. James Feurig, hospital director, said Webster suffered a severe bruise to the lower right back but will be able to compete in the trials for the team to represent the United States at the Pan-Am games in Chicago Aug. 27-Sept. 7.

Feurig said X-rays showed no broken bones or nerve damage to Scallan, but the youth was kept for observation.

Legislator Would Require Them by Law

People Snub Auto Safety Features

By BEN PHLEGAR
Automotive Writer

DETROIT (AP)—When you got into your car this morning did you fasten your seat belt?

"What seat belt?" the man asks.

You probably don't have a seat belt in your car. Most people don't. Some people think you ought to. And one day Congress might pass a law requiring them.

The very active subcommittee on health and safety of the House Interstate and Foreign Commerce Committee has been making an intensive study of automotive safety for the past three years.

It is headed by Kenneth A. Roberts, an Alabama Democrat who was one of the five representatives wounded when Puerto Rican Nationalists shot up the House chamber in 1954.

Roberts has seat belts in his car. He believes you ought to, too. He has a bill pending that would require all available safety devices on cars purchased by the government. And he believes in federal legislation to set up minimum safety standards on all cars.

Roberts turned his attention to car safety after getting a law passed that requires home refrigerators to be equipped with some method of opening the door from the inside.

For cars, Roberts considers a minimum safety package one that would include seat belts, crash-proof door locks that won't spring open under impact, protection against steering wheel injuries and a code of brake and tire performance, among other things.

The auto manufacturers, who spend hundreds of thousands of dollars annually on safety research and engineering, insist they are making significant progress in the field of automotive safety.

Ford was the first of the companies to promote a special safety package which included seat belts, a deep-dish steering wheel, safety door locks, padded dashboard and sun visors and a safety rear view mirror.

The locks and steering wheel design have become more or less standard in the industry. But not seat belts. In 1956, the first year, belts were ordered on seven per cent of the Fords. The figure dropped to 2.4 per cent in 1957 and is down to 2.3 per cent of the current 1959 model run.

Everybody seems to be interested in making it safer to ride in or drive a car. But there are many ideas on how best to accomplish it.

Who is the villain—the driver, the car or the highway?

A report to Congress by the Bureau of Public Roads last March included this statement: "Drivers and others commonly misunderstand accident causes and tend to over-generalize, emphasizing one cause above all else.

The point is that many and sometimes all of these (causes) may be of consequence, and undue emphasis on any one to the neglect of others may impair the planning of an adequate highway safety program."

The interstate highway program of 41,000 miles of limited access roads in the next 10 years is aimed at correcting much of the highway problem.

Charles A. Chayne, vice president in charge of the General Motors engineering staff, recently wrote a paper on automotive design contributions to highway safety in which he said:

"Further gains in crash injury protection are also to be anticipated, although it would be wishful thinking to expect any 'major breakthrough' in this area in the near future that would provide anything closely approaching immunity from serious injury in high impact collisions."

The bulk of the safety campaigns is directed at the drivers. Driver training has become compulsory in some public schools. License examinations have been stiffened. So has law enforcement.

Chayne wrote that the driver is "by far the most critical element in the whole picture. No matter how easy we may make it for him to drive safely, we cannot make cars 'driverproof'."

And he added: "The control of an automobile involves three distinct operations: perception, decision and action. Many aids and even some substitutes have already been developed for the perception and action functions of the driver, but it is much more difficult to substitute devices for the human mind in the decision-making area."

Europe Closing Pay-Price Gap

Expect Rising Production Costs Abroad to Cut Out 'Dumping' in U. S.

By ROBERT G. SHORTAL

NEW YORK (UPI) — European workers are inadvertently doing more than their share to help solve one of the biggest problems facing U.S. businessmen today in their search for world markets.

A number of American industries are concerned about their inability to compete with foreign manufacturers because of higher production costs in the U.S.

They pin most of the blame for this cost gap on the fact that wage levels here are much higher than in Europe and Asia.

But if European workers and labor unions have anything to say about it, that gap will be narrowed sharply in the years ahead.

S. Riley Williams, vice president for international operations for the Worthington Corp., predicted that "the upward pressures for wages in Europe particularly will narrow the existing gap between their costs and ours over a term of years."

When that happens, he added, "our export opportunities will be secure." However, Williams warned that cost-price inflation in this country must be halted to give European costs a chance to catch up.

Frank R. Nichols, president of the Nichols Wire & Aluminum Co., said American industry must change its concept of a dollar-hungry Europe for one of a dynamically expanding Europe.

Nichols said demand for goods is rising so rapidly abroad that "it is likely so-called dumping of goods in American markets should become negligible inside six months to a year."

Nichols said rising demand in Europe for consumer goods and the stronger position of European currencies will make European countries less willing to ship their goods to the U.S., especially at little or no profit.

"The driving force behind this almost revolutionary change is the European workers' insistence on a higher standard of living, an insistence which is similar to the American workers' demands of the past half century," Nichols said.

Nichols said inflationary forces are bound to develop in an economy as expansive as Europe's.

"Even in prosperous and conservatively-governed West Germany," he added, "workers are increasing their wage and fringe benefit demands considerably beyond a mere cost-of-living point."

Even now, incidentally, the difference between employment costs abroad and here is not as great as indicated by wages alone. In many foreign industries, workers live in homes supplied free by employers and they enjoy free medical and other facilities.

Corporation Tax Moving to Front

GOP Senators Finally Talk About Governor's Pet Solution

LANSING (AP) — Republican Senate tax bargainers today weighed a corporation income tax—something they vowed repeatedly in past months they never would consider.

This has been a pet tax goal of Democratic Gov. Williams ever since he took office Jan. 1, 1949.

An acknowledgment by Sen. Carlton H. Morris (R-Kalamazoo) top GOP strategist, raised the possibility of a sudden end to the tax deadlock that has paralyzed the Legislature for seven months.

After a House-Senate negotiating session, Morris said yesterday the conference committee was considering a reduction in the base rate of the Business Activities Tax coupled with a surtax on corporation profits.

The surtax, if agreed to, presumably would be at the rate of one or one and one-fourth per cent.

The committee recessed overnight without reaching any decision.

The negotiators are groping for some type of business levy to round out a compromise tax package that will be built around a one per cent increase in the use (sales) tax, already settled on.

The House on July 24 wrote a use tax - business tax compromise that included a two per cent surtax on corporation profits plus other adjustments in the Business Activities Tax (BAT).

The GOP Senate caucus promptly rejected the surtax idea.

The BAT bill, stripped of its content, lies in a Senate committee. What goes into it is the key to a final over-all tax settlement.

Morris, who repeatedly and emphatically has ruled out a corporate income tax, did not refer to it by that name in reporting to newsmen on results of the conference committee's third huddle.

He spoke of a "surtax on adjusted net receipts of corporations." He said such a levy would yield 23 million dollars for each per cent of tax applied.

A suggested reduction of the base rate of the BAT one mill, making it 5½ mills, would result in an offsetting revenue loss of nine million dollars, he said.

"Are 'adjused net receipts' the same as corporate income?" he was asked.

"I think you can say we're considering a redefinition of income," Morris repied, smiling faintly.

He declined to say what surtax rate was being weighed.

Grain Dealings Light, Mixed

CHICAGO (AP) — The grain futures market was mixed in early light dealings today on the Board of Trade with wheat leading the strength and corn the weakness.

All wheat contracts worked to the plus side during the first several minutes while corn slid off major fractions. Soybeans also were weak.

Wheat was ¼ to ⅜ cent a bushel higher after about an hour with trading at a standstill, September $1.90⅝; corn ⅜ to ⅝ lower, September $1.20⅛; oats ⅛ to ⅜ higher, September new type contract 69⅛; rye ¼ lower to ⅛ higher, September $1.32; soybeans unchanged to ⅝ lower; September $2.16¼.

In further study of the private crop report issued yesterday by C. M. Galvin and Francis I. DuPont & Co., traders see only soybeans of the major farm commodities as showing any likelihood of being in close balance with demand during the next crop year.

Nikita Gathering All His Strength

Resting and Preparing Carefully for Meetings With Eisenhower

MOSCOW (UPI) — Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev flew to his hillside summer retreat overlooking the Black Sea today to "gain strength" for his trip to the United States next month.

His meeting with President Eisenhower the middle of September may be the number one diplomatic project of his career, and Khrushchev was believed to be preparing carefully for it.

At a Kremlin press conference yesterday, attended by 300 Soviet and foreign correspondents, Khrushchev said the question of a peace treaty with Germany would be No. 1 on the list of questions the two leaders would cover.

East and West ended their Geneva talks on the German problem in failure yesterday. Khrushchev made it plain he would stress the question with Eisenhower.

"We believe the principal and most important question is that of liquidating the consequences of World War II," he told newsmen.

Khrushchev went out of his way to sound peaceful. He spoke with a geniality that represented a marked change from the tone of his two earlier meetings with the press in the Kremlin.

Suggests Washington Try Paris Atmosphere

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Daniel J. Flood (D-Pa) wants to bring a little bit of Paris to the Capitol.

The congressman suggests that an outdoor restaurant be built on the west terrace of the Capitol, which looks down on the mall and the Washington Monument. It would serve both congressmen and the public.

If built, the restaurant would resemble the sidewalk cafes in Paris.

Flood made his suggestion to the House Administration Committee and the Senate Rules and Administration Committee.

DETROIT (AP) — For a third straight time the city of Detroit Monday received the Grand Award of the American Automobile Assn.'s pedestrian protection contest. The award was for Detroit's 1958 record in keeping down traffic fatalities.

Market Shows Steady Trend

Trading quieted after an active opening.

Changes of most key stocks were quite small and several showed no price movement.

The market apparently was still meeting the same kind of support that developed in mid session yesterday and arrested a fairly sharp selling drive.

Improvement of the rails was heartening to analysts as the carriers have been undergoing a prolonged losing streak. Sentiment was bolstered by an official estimate that major railroads had estimated their net income for June at $73,000,000 compared with $49,000,000 in June last year.

Fractional gains were posted for such leaders as U.S. Steel, Bethlehem, General Motors, Chrysler and American Motors.

The ticker tape was late briefly in an active opening, then trading quieted.

3 Box Firms Reveal Merger

American Boxboard, Central Fiber, Ohio Boxboard Now One

CHICAGO (AP) — Formation of Packaging Corp. of America has been announced with the merger of Central Fibre Products Co., Quincy, Ill., Ohio Boxboard Co., Rittman, Ohio, and American Boxboard Co., Grand Rapids.

Wayne Young, board chairman of the new corporation and former board chairman of Ohio Boxboard, said the new firm begins operations with mills and converting plants in 42 locations in the East, Midwest and West.

Young said the larger corporation will provide additional and improved facilities, great integration, a wider product range and a market area extending from New York to the Rocky Mountains.

Young added that a new large kraft mill, in which the new company holds a majority interest, is under construction at Counce, Tenn. A contaier plant is being built at Lancaster, Pa., he said.

A nine-man board of directors was approved by stockholders in the new firm, including three men from each of the merged companies. They are American's president, Walter S. Goodspeed and vice presidents, R. K. Stolz and G. B. Bonfield; Central's president, William D. P. Carey and vice presidents, H. B. Weis and R. G. Paramore, and Ohio's chairman of the board, Young; President D. W. Maxon and Vice President, J. N. Andrews.

Young said that for the present, administrative offices of the new corporation will remain in Grand Rapids, Quincy and Rittman.

The consolidation united facilities producing jute and kraft linerboard, boxboard, molded pulp products and other paperboard products.

Summer Fun Club activities at the Pontiac YMCA wind up this week with open houses today and tomorrow.

Parents of boys in the program are invited to the 'Y' building today, and parents of daughters tomorrow.

Both open houses will open with general assemblies in the 'Y' building, 131 Mt. Clemens St., at 7:45 p. m., and last until 9:15 p. m.

One of the features will be a handicraft and woodwork display.

"This open house will give parents the chance to see kids in our Summer Fun Club active in the program and to inquire about regular membership for boys, girls and families," said Robert Wisdom, youth director.

Among the features of the club program were a trip to Bob-Lo yesterday and a talent show.

Participating in the talent show were Susan Huntzinger, Mary Jo Scott, Marsha Goldman, Carol and Bobby Thomas, Linda Taylor, Tommy Phillips, Carol Sluka, Cindy Fulton, Christa Arnold, Linda Armstrong and Anita Crone.

Girl Club youth leaders were Sandy Brooks, Sue Everett, Yvonne Green, Lauraine Bova, Barbara McClure, Mickey King, Lynn Filer, Sue Ritchey, Suzanne Bragan, Maureen Morrissey, Judi Stickney, Sydney Swindells, Karen Strong and Nancy Newcombe.

Youths Report Theft of $10 by Hitchhiker

Two 17-year-old youths told Pontiac Police yesterday they were robbed of $10.12 after picking up a hitchhiker at the intersection of Bagley and Wessen streets.

Seymour Stamp 9516 Highland Rd., Waterford Township, and Mike Feehan of Royal Oak told police they were driving the unidentified hitchhiker home.

He guided them to a deserted alley where two accomplices joined him.

Stamp said he was beaten up by one of the men who wielded a pipe wrench.

They said the three bandits fled after taking $10 from Stamp and 12 cents from Feehan.

Farm Problems Worse, Claims Rep. Broomfield

WASHINGTON (AP) — "Congress has failed completely to cope with our farm problem, which is growing worse by the minute," Rep. William S. Broomfield (R-Mich) said today.

He said the government "is paying out 3½ million dollars a day just to store a growing mountain of surplus farm crops."

"The cost for storage and handling alone of some 12 billion dollars in surplus crops by 1963 will reach four million dollars a day unless steps are taken to stop overproduction," he said.

Broomfield has introduced a bill which would abolish the federal farm subsidy and price support program. It has no prospects of passage, however.

He said in a statement that the farm problem "cannot be solved by ignoring it . . . Congress should be thinking in terms of getting rid of a program that doesn't work, rather than in attempting to pour more money into a useless program which is costing all of us higher prices for our food."

$9,450
This 15 room farm home is 140 years old and looks every day of it. If you like the before and after story in Better Homes & Gardens — This is your opportunity to try your hand at it. This picturesque old place was once one of Oakland Co's. showplaces. It has a full basement and once had new electrical and plumbing fixtures. The yard was once beautiful with it's iron fence and stately trees. This is a home for a real "Do-it-yourself" fan. With plenty of nerve and some money. The big house can be bought for only $9450 with 5 acres and low down payment. Adjoining the house is a tenant house which can also be bought. In addition, a horse barn and cow barn with 35 stanchions are available with as much acreage as you might want. Priced reasonably. You may purchase the big house on 5 acres or other buildings if you wish, or the acreage you desire. Excellent close-in location.

Broadway's Mustache 'Hides' Jackie Gleason

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—Jackie Gleason told me out at his fabulous new "Round Rock" home that he'll wear a black mustache for the B'way musical, now named "Take Me Along," which begins rehearsals this week.

WILSON

"I sing in this show and I'm very timid when I sing," he said. "I'll hide behind the mustache."

There is a large portion of Jackie that the mustache won't hide, however, because the new house has an astonishing kitchen and at least one bar in each room—and Mr. G is using both extensively.

Liz Taylor and Eddie Fisher are now fighting the Battle of the English Press. Their chauffeur, Eddie Arcari, pilot of their Rolls-Royce, wrote his own story for a Sunday paper, saying Liz ordered "two crates" of vodka and that Eddie taught him to make Bloody Marys for her.

Also, "This contrary woman," as the chauffeur called her, "carries her lateness to the point of rudeness . . . For Liz just can't get out of bed and her husband isn't much better . . .there was quite a row with producer Joe Mankiewicz because Liz was always late . . . their habit of eating in the bedroom became an accepted part of life . . . some days they had all their meals there, never stirring outside.

MITCHELL

"Capricious, willful and not-a-little spoiled; that is my summing up of this incredible, incomparable beauty . . . I am convinced she is in love—truly in love—with Eddie Fisher . . . their favorite song which he croons to her all the time is, 'Just in time, I found you just in time' . . ."

The story also says that when they arrived, Eddie told the chauffeur, "Drive around to Buckingham Palace, I want to see where YOUR Queen Elizabeth lives." But as they were en route, Liz read the inscription on her gold bracelet ("To my Queen, from your Prince") and that they cuddled and—neither one saw the palace.

Jim Henaghan, Gwen Verdon's charmin' ex-husband, was at the Harwyn with the bouncy, bosomy chanteuse, Marilyn Mitchell . . . Why go to Paris to the Bois de Boulogne? You have it right here at Tavern-on-the Green (1,500 dining outdoors)—plus the smart new Elmtree Room, with Eddie Wittmer as host . . . Barbara Hunt, who starred in "Kiss Me, Kate" in California, is the House of Vienna's puller-inner.

THAT'S SHOW BIZ: Luscious Erin O'Brien, now acclaimed as an actress, due to TV, admits her church-approved "temporary" separation from her devoted husband is permanent. Yet he watches the kids while she travels—and many a Don Juan is pursuing her . . . Hearing the rumor that she might marry a syndicated columnist, Candy Jones, who can't find her ex-husband Harry Conover, screamed, "What! ME get married at a time like this!"

EARL'S PEARLS: "One advantage of being poor," claim the Vagabonds, "is that your doctor'll cure you faster."

A successful young comic who made good with the arduous coaching of Julius Monk of the Downstairs Room said, "How can I ever thank you?" Julius replied, "Try money" . . . That's earl, brother.

Atomic Experts Call Rickover for Report

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Congressional atomic energy experts called Vice Adm. Hyman G. Rickover today for a report on Russian atomic energy projects he visited with Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

Rickover, pioneer in the development of the U.S. nuclear submarine fleet, was scheduled to meet with the joint congressional atomic energy committee behind closed doors. He returned with Nixon yesterday from a two-week tour behind the Iron Curtain.

Committee sources said the meeting — which was not announced in advance — was arranged to give an opportunity to get Rickover's appraisal of Soviet progress in nuclear energy.

Thanks in part to a timely intercession by Nixon, Rickover may well be the free world's most knowledgeable expert on Russian developments in nuclear propulsion. He was the first American to see the atomic power plant of the Russian icebreaker "Lenin."

Navy Task Force Trailer on Display

The exhibit consists of 18 ships and three aircraft models in formation. The display will remain at its position on the main floor at the front of the store through Aug. 10.

Shown in the display are models of four battleships, three aircraft carriers, two cruisers, six destroyers, one seaplane tender converted for guided missile experimentation and two auxiliary type ships.

Delay Meetings on School Aid

Legislators Deny Stall Tactics but Hope for Last-Minute Surrender

LANSING (UP) — A House conferee on school aid spending says Senate negotiators apparently are trying to put off any compromise until the last minute in the hope of getting their way.

Rep. Einar Erlandsen (D-Escanaba) said yesterday this appears to be their method of holding a final settlement to a formula based on $200 a pupil and three mills deductible for 1959-60.

Senate conference committee members denied they are stalling.

The House voted a $210 and three and one half mills formula that would cost 10 million dollars more than the Senate version.

Deductible millage is a so-called equalizing factor that would channel a proportionately larger share of state money to "poor" school districts, those with low property valuation.

The higher the deductible millage rate, the greater the benefit to poor districts.

Erlandsen said that in more than a week of trying it has been possible to arrange only one school aid conference committee meeting, held last Monday.

At the session, he said, House conferees offered to split the cash difference between House and Senate positions.

Jack Barry Debuts on Legitimate Stage

TRAVERSE CITY (UPI)—Television personality Jack Barry launched a stage career Tuesday night and theater critics agreed that he'll probably be on Broadway by fall.

Barry, who has done mostly radio and TV work for the last 15 years, played the lead role in "Yes, Man," a three-act comedy about a human robot.

It was the first time the play has ever been presented by a professional cast and it is being played here in a pre-Broadway try-out.

If the try-outs at the Cherry County Playhouse here and at the Hinsdale, Ill., playhouse later are successful, the play will be produced on Broadway this fall. Barry hopes to play the lead on Broadway, too.

Senator Offers Prayer

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Wallace F. Bennett (R-Utah) substituted for the chaplain and offered the opening prayer in the Senate Wednesday.

An elder in the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, Bennett asked that senators be given "humility, with the ability to subordinate our personal, selfish aims to the accomplishment of our important tasks."

Teen-Agers' Idols Mass for Clark's Anniversary

By WILLIAM EWALD

NEW YORK (UPI) —"You don't know how I'm looking forward to my return," said Our Leader yesterday. I'm talking, of course, about Our Real Leader — Elvis.

Elvis was just one of a congest of liege lords who gathered yesterday — via recorded messages —to report to their teenage vassals and, in turn, swear allegiance to their master, ABC-TV's Dick Clark.

The occasion wss the second anniversary of Clark's American Bandstand, a record hop 90 minutes long and 120 stations wide which ranks as one of the most powerful enclaves within these United States.

EWALD

There is between Clark and his teenage subjects an affinity somewhat comparable to that between mosquitoes and blood.

I am not quite sure who feasts upon whom, but the attraction is undoubtedly there and it has catapulted Clark into the position of perhaps the most powerful deejay in the nation.

Yesterday afternoon, the nation's singing stars — taking note of the birthday celebration — waterfalled Clark under with telegrams.

There were billets-doux-or-die from Jimmy Rodgers, Tommy Sands, Fats Domino, The Kingston Trio, Johnny Mathis, Connie Francis, Bobby Darrin, Tony Bennett, the Four Aces, Debbie Reynolds, The Platters, Patti Page and just about everyone in the wax world but the inhabitants of Madame Tussaud's.

There was an in-person appearance by Annette Funicello, who, like Fabian, Elvis and Shakespeare, has reached such a heady estate in the world that she is now referred to by a single name—Annette.

And there were beeper conversations with such chieftains as Duane Eddy, Paul Anka, Fabian, Frankie Avalon, Edward Byrnes and, of course, Elvis.

Elvis, unavoidably detained by some military nonsense in Germany, was informed he had won another gold record.

Elvis allowed as how he thought it might be his 31st gold platter and it occurred to me that if this sort of thing continues we may have to shift our reserves from Fort Knox to Memphis.

"There's a language barrier over here," announced Elvis about his German hosts.

"A lot of older ones don't speak any English and I don't speak any German, you know." (As a matter of fact, I didn't know. You mean Elvis has been singing in English?)

However, the highlight of the show may have been a telegram sent to Clark by Edward Byrnes, known affectionately, but somewhat eccentrically as "Kookie."

I was too astounded to get it all down, but I seem to recall phrases like "Like your bandstand is a big two years . . . Like this whole scene is a wig" and it was signed "The Ginchiest."

Religious TV Shows Interesting, Not Dull

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP)—The experiences of Doris Ann, one of the few women producers in network television, demonstrates her remark that "nobody can call TV religious programs dull any more."

As supervisor of all NBC-TV religious programs — "Frontiers of Faith," "The Eternal Light" and "The Catholic Hour"—Miss Ann says she has the cooperation of all religious faiths in presenting professional shows that deal with contemporary human problems.

But, like all TV shows, religious programs can have their very human problems too.

There was, for example, the time Sal Mineo and several other young actors were costumed and made up to look like toughs for a taped "Frontiers of Faith" program dealing with juvenile delinquency.

They went out to eat after rehearsal and didn't come back as show time approached. Finally someone dashed out frantically in search of them. The "juvenile delinquents" had been prevented from entering NBC elevators by elevator operators because they obviously looked like juvenile delinquents.

But human problems are minor compared with some of the zoological problems confronted on "Frontiers of Faith." Like many another TV show, it has had its share of troubles with flies.

Miss Ann insists, however, that the flies which smehow get into "Frontiers of Faith" studios are the most brazen. On one show, as the camera moved in for a closeup of an open Bible, a fly alighted on it and strolled about the page.

There was the case of the lazy white mice in "The Story of Louis Pasteur." The script required them to race madly on a treadmill. But someone fed them too much before the program, and they fell asleep and refused to stir.

On the other hand, there was the case of the boa constrictor who refused to be lazy during the telecast of "The Story of Adam and Eve." The nonpoisonous snake was supposed to lie torpidly in a sand box. But he wouldn't and so a hand kept reaching out and pulling him back.

Thanks in a large measure to efforts, religious programs generally have become as professional as any commercial shows.

"Nobody can call religious shows amateur any more," she says. "They use the same writers, actors, and technicians you get on high budget commercial programs."

Lana Turner, who seldom appears on TV, will costar with Milton Berle and Danny Thomas in a Berle special to be seen on NBC-TV Oct. 11.

Project Results in Jobs, Goodwill

Canadians Win Friends With Asia Dam

PESHAWAR, Pakistan (UPI)—In the puzzling, frustrating game of foreign aid, Canada has caught a winner a few miles from the Khyber Pass.

It's called the Warsak Dam, and you probably will never read about it in the World Almanac. For one thing, its height (235 feet) is only one-third that of Hoover Dam.

But most people around here can't read anyway. And they are not particularly interested that the dam will one day double West Pakistan's electrical power supply and irrigate some 100,000 acres of land.

What they do know is this: Canada is building the dam and providing jobs in a poverty-stricken area where a few years ago angry tribesmen didn't work for white men — they shot at them. Since 1956, when construction began, some 10,000 Pakistanis have put down their rifles and exchanged their turbans for hard hats.

The project's 48-page brochure notes that when the dam is completed next year, the Kabul River will be backed up 26 miles to the Afghanistan border forming a 1,000-foot wide tourist lake. What it overlooks is the fact that construction workers average six rupees ($1.26) per day.

That's not enough to buy a good steak in Moose Jaw. But in Pakistan, where per capita income is about $50 per year, it's enough to feed a good-sized family.

Warsak will cost an estimated $62 million and Canada has made it clear she is picking up the tab. When the Duke of Edinburgh visited Warsak in February, the workers shouted, "Long live the Duke," "Long live (President) Ayub Khan," and "Long Live Canada." Sometimes, Canada came first.

But Canada is not necessarily building up goodwill on the basis of a multi-million-dollar gift. The big return comes from 150 Canadian technicians, consulting engineers, foremen and construction bosses who qualify as grass roots diplomats.

"You don't do any good by giving people a million bucks or sending them a boatload of shoes. This is the way to do it," said Corry Robbins of Edmonton, Alberta, construction manager for Angus Robertson Ltd., the general contractors.

He said the Canadians had transformed backward Pakistanis into semi-skilled and skilled laborers and provided continuous close supervision during three-shifts-a-day operations. Robbins credited this close supervision for much of the project's success and its easy identification with Canada.

Most of the Canadians don't come to Pakistan with the idea of being goodwill ambassadors. Many frankly admit they took the job for the money and for a chance to travel. They average a tax-free $500 per month basic pay with an additional 15 per cent overseas allowance.

There are even those who don't like Pakistan. Consider, for example, the plight of 40 bachelor workers in an area where what few girls you see are always draped in long black hoods.

Still, the Canadians really aren't roughing it. Their community near the dam site is dotted with neat houses. Married workers may bring their dependents and 35 new Canadians can claim Pakistan as their birthplace.
