Salesman Reports Man of Irvin's Description Buys Shoes Here

A fruitless, five-day search for Indiana's "Mad Dog Killer" Leslie Irvin haunted Midwest police today.

One of many "tips" checked by police occurred here Saturday when a salesman in a Telegraph Rd.-W. Huron St. store reported selling shoes to a man of Irvin's description.

But Inspector Clark M. Wheaton said today there were no other reports of Irvin's being in the Pontiac area.

He said police were unable to follow-up the salesman's tip because they were summoned several hours after the killer of six reportedly was seen.

Irvin, nearly six feet and weighing 200 pounds, escaped from Indiana's Gibson County Jail last Wednesday night.

He reportedly was spotted first in St. Louis. A Detroit woman also claimed seeing a man of his description hitchhiking toward Detroit.

And a Royal Oak gas station attendant, robbed early Saturday, said the armed bandit resembled Irvin. He also was "spotted" in parts of Illinois, Ohio and Kentucky.

Arrest Suspect in Hotel Slaying

Man Admits He Visited Room of Victim, Denies Any Part in Murder

A Pontiac man arrested Saturday had admitted visiting the downtown hotel room of an ex-bookkeeper Thursday night, about an hour and a half before his savagely-beaten body was found by police.

But Charles R. Gableman, 32, of 2433 Auburn Rd., denied in Oakland County Jail that he robbed or beat Frank L. Beheydt, 57, Oakland County Prosecutor Fred C. Ziem said today.

In a statement made Saturday, Gableman confessed visiting the room with two other men at 9 p.m. Thursday, Ziem said, but Gableman claimed Beheydt already was beaten and lying unconscious on the bed.

Another suspect, John A. Curry, 27, of 125 N. Perry St., identified Gableman as one of two men who Thursday night robbed Beheydt of "about $15" and then beat him.

Curry, who said he was present at the beating, had admitted returning to the victim's room later and hitting him "at least twice."

Police said arrest of Gableman's alleged companion may be made today.

Meanwhile, Gableman will be held as a material witness, until his and Curry's conflicting statements are straightened out, Ziem said.

REMOVING TRAIN VICTIM—The body of a victim of last night's train wreck in Los Angeles is lifted through a window of the train, after the car was righted. Both cars of the two-car train overturned when the train hit a curve at high speed.

Horrible Wreck Described

'Trampling Men, Women, Children Spilled in a Pile'

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A woman, trying to escape, stuck in a window, passengers pushing, trampling men, women and children spilled together in a pile, screaming, as the coaches tipped over . . .

These were some of the tales of terror told by survivors of last night's wreck of a San Deigo-bound two-car Santa Fe diesel train.

"The train seemed to slew sideways and topple," said Floyd C. Ballard, San Diego, who suffered shock and a back injury.

"I tried to get to a window. I remember there was a woman stuck halfway through. I was trampled and pushed, but I managed to get up on my feet. I don't know how I got out—but then there I was, outside the train."

Nearly a dozen religious groups were represented at the wreck scene, giving comfort to the injured alongside the rescue workers and administering last rites to the dying.

The Rev. Father Fidelis Kuban of St. Turibius Church nearby, one of the first to reach the wreckage, entered a car by climbing to the upturned side and dropping through a doorway.

"We have promised to strip our shelves, which contain 1,500 pints, if need be," said a chapter house director.

Lobbies of several hospitals were thronged with anxious people throughout the night. They were the searchers. They had come in the hope of learning the fate of friends or relatives.

General Fund Request Breaks All-Time Mark

Governor Says Budget Total Can Be Financed Without More Taxes

LANSING (AP)—Gov. G. Mennen Williams presented the Michigan Legislature today a record breaking 339 million dollar general fund budget for next year, and said it could be financed without more taxes.

Williams' 1956-57 budget request was almost 61 million dollars more than for the current fiscal year, ending June 30.

The governor said the higher budget could be balanced partly with an expected 25 million dollars of increased revenues from existing sources.

All state expenditures for the next year, including non-general fund items, would total 875 million dollars under Williams' proposals. This compares with 550 million in Williams' first year in office, 1949-50.

But the governor told the Legislature that state government will take only 5.6 per cent of individual income as compared to 5.8 per cent the year he took office.

The governor estimated that general fund revenues for the next fiscal year will reach 315 millions, compared to 287.5 millions this year.

The biggest income boost, Williams said, should come from the business receipts tax which was passed by the Republican Legislature over his protest as a substitute for the corporation profits tax which he long has advocated.

Williams estimated the business receipts tax will bring in 70 million dollars next year, compared to 56 million this year and 23 million the first year it went into effect, 1953-54.

Much of the increase results from higher rates and a new allocation formula adopted by the 1955 Legislature.

After splitting a 328 million dollar sales tax collection with local governments—up 13 million — the governor estimated the state will get 72 million from that source—up 3 million.

The corporation franchise tax should produce almost 50 million.

Local Cold Snap Staying Tonight

Center of Nation Hit by Plunging Mercury; Bemidji Records Low

The bitter cold that Pontiac residents woke up to this morning is expected to cling to the area tonight and tomorrow as the entire central section of the nation is being clutched in a deep freeze today.

The Weather Bureau says the mercury will range from 6 to 10 degrees with tomorrow's high expected to go around 18 to 22 degrees.

The thermometer plummeted to a low of 6 at 4 a.m., one degree off the season's low of 5 recorded on Nov. 28.

In the wake of the cold wave, temperatures hung well below zero in Minnesota, northern Iowa, and central and western Wisconsin, with the ice box of the country being Bemidji, Minn., where a frigid 21 below was reported.

Snow pushed into Tennessee and Kentucky while as much as an inch of snow fell in some sections of New York and Pennsylvania. Snow flurries fluttered eastward from the upper Great Lakes region.

The lowest temperature preceding 8 a.m. was 6 degrees. The thermometer registered 23 at 2 p.m.

New Traffic Routes Become Law Today

Motorists traveling on Mt. Clemens and Mill streets today were urged to watch road signs as six major traffic changes within this vicinity took effect at midnight.

Mt. Clemens between Saginaw and Mill street was converted one-way, eastbound, while Mill street between Huron and Pike was made southbound, one-way.

Westbound traffic on Mt. Clemens street will turn south on Mill and continue westbound along Huron street, and another change will permit traffic to turn north onto Saginaw from Huron street at the corner of Waite's Department store.

GOP Watching Illinois Primary

Knowland Entry to Pose Popularity Contest With President Eisenhower

WASHINGTON (INS) — GOP political strategists watched Illinois today for the expected entry of Senate Republican Leader William F. Knowland's name in the state's presidential primary.

Friends expected Knowland to follow Eisenhower by acquiescing to the filing of his name in the April 10 Illinois contest, without definitely accepting or rejecting his candidacy for president.

The deadline for filing in Illinois is today.

Knowland declined to say what course he would follow if his name is entered in Illinois or in the April 24 Alaska preferential primary, which has an entrance deadline of Feb. 1.

But he was believed ready to "not object" if he was placed in either contest.

The California Republican was understood to be willing to let his name appear on the ballots in case Eisenhower announces by the time of the actual voting that he is not a candidate.

But the Senate GOP leader has declared repeatedly that if the President agrees to accept the nomination for another term, he will withdraw and throw all his support to the chief executive.

Motor City Ranks 3rd in Population Increases

DETROIT (INS) — A survey today showed that Detroit had the third highest population gain since 1950 among the nation's 10 largest cities, ranking behind only Washington and Los Angeles.

The Detroit region, according to the centennial edition of the Cosmopolitan World Atlas, expanded 13 per cent from April 1950 to last Jan. 1. Total population for the metropolitan area was estimated at 3,440,000 with 1,415,000 or 41 per cent in the suburbs.

Milford 4-H Girl, 15, Wins Countywide Pie Contest

Judy Crawford, 15-year-old tenth grader from Milford, won the county's annual Cherry Pie Contest Saturday. Like last year's winner, Judy is a 4-H girl.

Second and third places were won by girls from Pontiac High School. Mary Frances Cervantes was runner-up, while Donna Judy won third prize.

Judy is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carlton Crawford of South Hill road. This is her fifth year in 4-H Club work. Leaders of her club are her mother and Mrs. Carlos Long.

Last summer Judy had pie making as a project. She has been practicing for this contest for the past few weeks, and helps at home occasionally with other cooking.

Judges for the contest held at Waterford High School were Jean Hardy of the Detroit Edison Company, Dorothy Davee of Consumers Power and Mrs. Ernestine Mills, Rochester homemaking teacher.

Beth Rose, last year's winner, was an ex-officio judge. Beth who went on to win the state contest and to place high in the national competition, gave a short talk on her experiences to this year's contestants.

Judy will go to Grand Rapids in February to compete in the state pie contest, Mrs. Frieda Bennett, Oakland County Home Demonstration agent in charge of the local contest, said.

May Take Days to Acquire Names of Train Victims

LOS ANGELES (AP) — It may be several days before names of all persons killed in the wreck of the Santa Fe's San Diegan are known, the coroner's office said today.

Many victims were horribly mangled when the two-car, Los Angeles to San Diego train overturned and slid on its side. Twelve bodies were identified, largely from personal effects. Identity of many others may not be known until fingerprints and dental charts are checked.

The coroner's office had difficulty determining the number of dead since many bodies were dismembered and some decapitated.

Producer Korda Dies in England

LONDON (AP) — Sir Alexander Korda, leading British film producer, died today. He was 62.

The Hungarian-born movie magnate was noted for his lavish film productions with which he made—and sometimes lost—fortunes.

He made pictures for 40 years and since the early '30s had been a leader in the British film industry.

Korda died as his latest epic, Sir Laurence Olivier's filming of Sheakespeare's "Richard II," was moving the silver-haired producer back to the peak of Britain's film heap. The star-studded picture will have its American premiere on television in March.

FIRST SMASH HIT

"The Private Life of Henry VIII" was his first smash hit. It catapulted him to film success and a career which included such successes as "The Ghost Goes West," "Catherine the Great," "The Scarlet Pimpernel," "The Fallen Idol," "The Third Man," "The Winslow Boy" and "Tales of Hoffmann." King George VI knighted the producer in 1942.

"Henry VII" also gave him his second wife, Merle Oberon, who played the unlucky Anne Boleyn. They were married in 1939 and divorced in 1945. He and his first wife, a Hungarian, had been divorced in 1930, while he was working in Hollywood.

In 1953 he married a Canadian, Alexandra Irene Boycun. His only son, Peter, is the son of his first wife.

Doctors Attempt to Piece Bodies of Torn Victims

'Blackout' by Engineer Causes Catastrophe; GIs Help Avert Panic

LOS ANGELES (INS) — Coroner's surgeons today set about the macabre jigsaw puzzle of piecing together a jumble of torn bodies in an attempt to identify all of the estimated 29 persons who died in the wreckage of a two-car train in Los Angeles.

Only 12 of the dead have been positively identified.

Another 17 are believed to have been ground to death when a veteran engineer apparently blacked out at the controls of the Santa Fe San Diegoan and the speeding twin-diesel train tipped over at a curve in East Los Angeles.

Of the 170 passengers aboard, 137 others were injured, some so critically that the death toll may go higher. Only a handful escaped the wreckage unscathed.

Santa Fe President Fred G. Gurley said in Chicago:

SEASONED MAN

He added that a seasoned man was at the controls and that the disaster, the worst train wreck in Southern California's history, was "an incomprehensible thing."

At the controls was 61-year-old Frank B. Parrish, a veteran of 37 years with the road.

He said that he started to slow down as the train approached the curve on which the speed was supposed to be reduced to 15 miles an hour. Then he said he must have blacked out because the "next thing I know we were toppling over."

GROUND TO PIECES

Those who were eye-witness to the disaster said that after the train toppled over it slid along

First-Degree Murder Charged to Flint Wife

FLINT (AP)—Mrs. Betty Kehl, 32, was charged today with first degree murder in the fatal shooting of her husband, Robert, 35.

Prosecutor J. F. O'Rourke recommended the murder warrant just as the attractive brunette's lawyer, Lyle S. Church, took steps to obtain her release tomorrow on a writ of habeas corpus.

Brought into municipal court on the warrant, Mrs. Kehl demanded an examination on the charge. Judge John W. Baker set the examining trial for Feb. 1 and ordered Mrs. Kehl returned to the county jail. She is held without bond.

O'Rourke decided yesterday to recommend a murder warrant after questioning the Flint housewife for two hours. She has blamed the slaying on her bachelor boy friend, William Thomas, 25, a Flint pipefitter.

Kefauver Slated to Address Rally at Hall in Utica

Democratic presidential aspirant Sen. Estes Kefauver, of Tenn., will speak Feb. 11 at a fund-raising dinner in the Utica Knights of Columbus Hall at 7 p.m., according to William P. Hull, chairman of the Macomb County Democratic Committee.

Some 600 people are expected to buy tickets at $10 for one or $13.50 per couple. Proceeds will be split between the Democratic National Committee and the Seventh District in Michigan, joint sponsors.

Gov. G. Mennen Williams and U.S. Sen. Patrick V. McNamara have been invited, while State Treasurer Sanford A. Brown and Secretary of State James M. Hare have already accepted.

Classrooms Less Crowded, Superintendent Reveals

Despite national concern over mounting enrollments, crowded classrooms and shortage of teachers, Oakland County has kept a stride ahead of the times in providing facilities to educate the county's 126,020 children.

In an interview with The Pontiac Press today, William Emerson, county superintendent of schools, drew a picture of progress over the past ten years.

Classrooms are less crowded in the county than in past years, with an estimated average of 27.9 pupils per teacher, or 2.6 less than in 1950, he reported.

The county's teachers are earning an average salary of "at least $5,000 annually," Emerson estimates. This is $500 per year more than the average for Michigan teachers and $1,000 more per year than the national average during the school year 1955-56, as estimated in reports by the research division of the National Education Association of the United States.

ENROLLMENT UP

With an 11,000 increase in school enrollments this year, Oakland County faces the same problems as counties all over the nations.

The United States is in its 11th straight year of increasing enrollments, says the NEA report, which indicates that "nearly 1,000,000 American children are being deprived of full educational opportunities during the current school year" because of a shortage of teachers and classrooms that is squeezing children into "understaffed, overcrowded, often obsolete school buildings on half or part time schedules."

"The county picture is brighter than the national one," says Emerson, "because the people have been putting a whale of an effort into building and improving schools."

This year, only 2,541 pupils in five schools are on half-day schedules, he indicated.

In the school year ending June 30, 1955, $32 million was spent to operate county schools. Of this, the state paid $18 million and taxpayers paid $14 million. Also, county taxpayers dug into their pockets for an additional $13½ million for new school buildings and sites.

CONDITIONS WERE BAD

"Back in 1937 when I was a high school teacher in Auburn Heights, things were a lot worse," Emerson says.

"There weren't enough textbooks or supplies to go around. Teachers often had to wait for their pay checks and I remember times when we had to take scrip on local merchants in place of cash. There were a lot of teachers, too, with only normal certificates, or one year of training—that hasn't been allowed since 1949.

County schools today have 4,705 teachers and administrators, of which 623 have temporary licenses. Of the ones with temporary licenses, many have liberal arts degrees and have trained for other professions but still require some credits in the educational field.

County teachers this year got an average salary hike of $400, and salaries have increased each year since 1946, Emerson stated.

Summing up, Emerson pointed out that while it is important to keep pace with the rising school enrollment and continue working for better education for our children, Oakland County people merit a pat on the back for the way they have dealt with school problems.

"In face of the second biggest county growth in the state (only Macomb is growing faster), the people of Oakland County have put forth sufficient enterprise in their schools so that we've had an improvement in public schooling over the past 10 years, instead of deterioration," he concluded.

Deputies Probe Mystery Death

Head Blow, Lacerations Prompt Sheriff's Office to Study Case

Oakland County Sheriff's detectives today are investigating the death Saturday night in St. Joseph Hospital of 54-year-old John Palmore, of 4673 Stanton Rd., Orion Township.

Det. Jack Davis said today there were bruises and cuts on Palmore's body and a severe blow to the head which was believed responsible for his death.

He added Palmore apparently had been in an auto accident Tuesday night, but this accident was not believed serious enough to have caused his injuries.

Palmore, discovered sick in his home Friday night by his daughter, Idell Palmore, 19, of Detroit, reportedly mentioned a second accident. To date, no trace of this accident has been found in official records.

Palmore's car also has not been found, Davis said.

Williams Requesting $339 Million Budget

Williams said, an increase of almost 5 million.

The governor's economic and finance advisers said they based their tax estimates on the assumption that world affairs will not change materially in the next 18 months, that population will continue to grow, that prices will remain relatively stable, that production and consumer income will continue to rise, that unemployment will remain small and that "monetary policies will permit an expanding and vigorous economy."

The governor asked the Legislature for 69.5 million dollars to expand state colleges and institutions. This compared with 19.3 millions spent by the lawmakers in 1955.

He asked for 25 million dollars for higher education. This followed his last year's proposal for a 150 million dollar, six-year building program—20 million a year for the state colleges and 5 million for community and junior colleges.

This year Williams included 3.2 million dollars as the "down payment" on state purchase of Wayne University from the city of Detroit.

Williams' budget proposes to add 2,100 employes to the state payroll—807 of them in the mental hospitals, 415 in the state police and security agencies, 417 in administrative agencies and 134 in the corrections department.

The governor said the recent pay raise granted by the State Civil Service Commission will cost the general fund 6.2 million, plus more than another million dollars for outside agencies.

A longevity pay plan for state employes also imposed by civil service authorities, Williams said, will cost 1.9 million the first year.

The governor asked the Legislature to raise the pay of the next lieutenant-governor from $8,500 to $18,000, of the next administrative board officials from $12,500 to $18,000, of their deputies from a low of $8,500 to $14,000, of the Supreme Court justices from $18,000 to $20,000, and to boost all department heads.

Education got the biggest boost in the new budget—up 25 million dollars to 96.9 millions, or 34.8 per cent more than this year.

Williams reported that outside the general fund the public schools next year will get more than 250 million dollars from the sales tax and primary school fund.

Even with the $200-per-teacher pay raise granted by the last Legislature from unexpected revenue increases, there still will be a surplus of more than 8 million dollars in the school fund this fiscal year, Williams said.

The governor reported that this year—all state operations and expenditures will total 757.8 million dollars, of which 453.6 million went for the benefit of local governments, 52 million went for construction, mostly highways, and the rest, about 252 million, was spent for ordinary state operations and maintenance.

Court Sentences Husband Slayer

Mother of Two Fined, Gets 4 Years' Probation for Shotgun Death

An Otter Lake mother of two, charged with manslaughter after admittedly shotgunning her husband to death during a quarrel Nov. 20, today was sentenced to four years probation and assessed $500 court costs.

Sentencing by Lapeer County Circuit Court Judge Timothy C. Quinn followed a jury recommendation for leniency in the case of Mrs. Grace Tverstol, 29.

During trial Jan. 11 and 12 it was brought out that the woman did not intend to kill when she used the gun to threaten Glenden Tverstol, 35, a factory worker.

A Lapeer policeman testified that Tverstol on his death-bed said, "I'm sure she didn't know it was loaded."

The guilty verdict came after four and a half hours jury deliberation. Judge Quinn had ruled out trial on first or second degree murder charges.

Ionia Woman Killed in Crash

IONIA (AP)—A Detroit-area youth and his 17-year-old girl friend were held today for investigation in the traffic death yesterday of an Ionia woman.

Sheriff's deputies identified Bruce Shady, 21, of Southfield Township as the driver of a car that rammed one driven by William Gregory of rural Ionia, sending it hurtling off M66 into a field where it overturned. Gregory's wife, Mary, 35, was killed in the crash. Gregory and his 10-year-old daughter, Carol Ann, were injured.

Police said Shady's girl friend, Barbara Kubbe, of Detroit, and two other teenagers were riding with Shady. Miss Kubbe was held in the Clinton County jail in St. Johns for Ionia authorities. There are no facilities for housing female prisoners in the Ionia County jail. Shady was held in Ionia. The two passengers, Owen Andrews Jr., and Charles Brooks, both 17, and of Muir, were held as witnesses.

Police said Shady and Miss Kubbe were arrested by Farmington police hours after the early morning crackup.

Undersheriff Herman Smith quoted Gregory as saying he was driving 65 miles an hour when his car was rammed. The car Shady was driving swerved out of control and came to a stop in the field. It was disabled.

Shady told police he and his three passengers waited in the car four hours and then left on foot.

BIRMINGHAM — City commissioners tonight will consider setting a date for a hearing on proposed parking lot HH at Hunter and Hamilton, receive reports on last year's finances and legislative attempts for the Evergreen drain, and honor the retiring health officer.

Dr. W. Lloyd Kemp, who has been health officer for the city since 1930, will be presented an award for his service.

A report on driver safety is also being presented to commissioners, in answer to Commissioner Mrs. Howard Willit's recent request. It includes details on new state regulations on student training.

A sketch showing adaptation of the parking lot A proposed area, to allow an alley behind Hamilton frontage, will be shown the commission by City Planner Herbert Herzberg, for their consideration.

City Manager D. C. Egbert will report on Woodward avenue street lighting, possible widening of pavement on Eton from Yosemite to Lincoln, projected purchase of gasoline, and will present a resolution that would set Feb. 14 for a hearing on the Hamilton cross-over of Hunter boulevard.

The Planning Board's recommendations on zoning requests about Bates and Pierce street residences, as well as income bungalow zoning in the Leinbach-Humphrey Woodward Avenue subdivision will be considered by commissioners.

Continuation of a hearing on widening of Willits street from the Jan. 9 meeting, will be held, with a special assessment district in line.

Two hitching posts now await their owners in detective's section of the police station. The second was placed in the center of the Hunter-Maple intersection last night by two teenagers who were not apprehended, and the first had been found in the middle of a residential street last week. Someone with a warped humor is testing driver reaction to the obstruction, police surmise.

Lt. Col. Paul E. Alban, brother of Thomas Alban who operates Alban's on Hunter Boulevard, is an executive officer of the German Training assistance group at the US Army's European headquarters, helping to train the new German army.

A 16-year veteran, he has the Silver Star and Bronze Star medals. His wife, Laura and children, are with him in Germany.

His Family Gave More Than $1 Million to Fund

Crusader Blames Public for Failing to Cure Cancer

CHICAGO (AP)—A wealthy, healthy businessman spoke of failure yesterday—his failure and failure of society in general.

The speaker, at a small gathering of news and medical men, was Maurice Goldblatt, the head of a chain of department stores whose brother, Nathan, died in 1944 of cancer.

The occasion was the 10 anniversary of his start as surcharged special pleader for funds for cancer research. He and his family have donated more than a million dollars themselves.

HOPES FOR CURE

Goldblatt recalled that he had hoped for a cure in 10 years but:

"We know no more about what causes cancer than we did 10 years ago."

He placed the blame this way:

There aren't enough "modern facilities" and "thoroughly trained researchers."

The federal money appropriated for research is "so small it is a joke" when compared with other outlays, and "We don't get enough money."

Goldblatt suggested that:

Congress set up a survey of problems and needs by a board of businessmen, physicians and congressmen, and

The government and private sources put up 250 million dollars each to bring the research program "up to date."

Oregon Senator Wants Automakers to Limit Engines to 70 M.P.H.

WASHINGTON (INS)—Rep. Walter Norblad (R-Ore), said today he will ask Congress to prohibit auto manufacturers from making cars which can go more than 70 miles an hour.

He said the manufacturers have "almost completely forgotten" about safety while concentrating on developing greater speed and power.

Norblad declared: "Limiting the speed of automobiles to 70 miles an hour would certainly provide the driver of each vehicle more than enough speed and would prevent these tragic accidents that arise out of vehicles driven at 80, 90, or even 100 miles an hour."

The congressman said he was "shocked" during the recent Washington automobile show at the emphasis in sales talks and advertising on greater horsepower in new cars.

BRAG ABOUT SPEED

One salesman, he reported, bragged his car could go 160 miles an hour while another told him he had just purchased one that he had driven 100 miles an hour.

Norbald said: "Signs everywhere bragged about 'jet take-offs,' 'rocket engines,' 'new 255 horse-power engine with high torque take off,' and 'more comfortable at super . highway speeds.'"

Norblad continued: "While the National Safety Council spends a good portion of its budget stressing that speed is one of the greatest killers on the highway, and while it distributes slogans such as 'slow down—speed kills,' manufacturers of domestic and foreign cars are year by year making greater speeds available to the motoring public."

In arguing for a limit of 70 miles an hour, the Oregon Republican said only three states have a speed limit as high as 65 miles an hour, whereas all others are considerably under that figure.

He said he is having legislation drawn up to limit the power in new automobiles, adding that it would make exceptions for ambulances, police automobiles and other emergency vehicles.

Couples Finally Have New Year's Celebration

WAKEFIELD, Mass. (AP) — With shouts of "Happy New Year," 32 persons dropped in on Mr. and Mrs. Frank Pollard yesterday.

For the past 10 years the Pollards have celebrated New Year's Eve with four Rhode Island couples, but bad weather prevented the reunion this year—until yesterday.

The four Rhode Island couples and their 24 children arrived in a chartered bus and stayed with Mr. and Mrs. Pollard and the four Pollard children for about three hours.

AMA Will Discuss Road Safety in Detroit

DETROIT (INS) — The American Medical Association Council on Industrial Health opens its 16th annual two-day congress in Detroit today, bearing down on the highway safety problem.

This afternoon's session will be a panel discussion of "Medicine's Responsibility in the Automotive Age." Included will be an address by AMA President Elmer Hess of Erie, Pa., entitled "Horsepower or Horse Sense."

GOP Solon Polls 10,000 on Choice of '56 Nominee

WASHINGTON (INS) — Rep. Peter Frelinghuysen (R-NJ), has started a poll of 10,000 constituents on their choice of a Republican presidential candidate if President Eisenhower does not run.

Frelinghuysen said the questionnaires will also ask whether the prestige of the Supreme Court would be "seriously" impaired if Chief Justice Earl Warren accepted a draft for the GOP nomination.

Britons Worry About the Prince

London Paper Activates Debate Over Marriage for Bonnie Charles, 7

LONDON (INS)—Bonnie Prince Charles is only seven years old but Britons already are concerned that he might someday get into the same sort of romantic tangle as his aunt, Princess Margaret.

The London Sunday Express in a lengthy article yesterday said the public should decide now whether Prince Charles, heir-apparent to the throne of England, must marry a princess or be allowed to wed a woman of his own choice.

Princess Margaret, after a long publicized romance, announced last October that she would not marry Peter Townsend, a divorced commoner.

Lord Beaverbrook's newspaper said unless some decision is made on whom the Prince may marry, Britons might have "another tragic royal crisis" on their hands in 20 years.

INFINITESIMAL

The article said if the Duke of Windsor found his range of possible brides limited, the young Prince will find it "almost infinitesimal."

The article said there were only two princesses about his age from Europe's nine reigning monarchies, and only about 18 girls his age from Britain's aristocratic families.

The Express said the two princesses were Denmark's Princess Anne Marie, 9, and Princess Maria Christine, 8, of the Netherlands.

The Express article declared: "There seems a far-fetched medieval touch about discussing the marriage prospects of a boy of seven, yet if we don't discuss and settle the matter when he is a child, we may find we have left medieval limitations upon his choice of a consort when he becomes a man."

Catholics Given Efficiency Rating

Church Receives High Management Appraisal by Survey Group

NEW YORK (AP) — The Roman Catholic Church has received a better than excellent rating in a management study made by the American Institute of Management.

The church is as "efficient as any nonprofit organization in the world," said Jackson Martindell, president of the institute, at a news conference in connection with release of the management report yesterday.

The numerical grade given the church was 88, based on a scale for which 75 is the "minimum for excellence" and 100 is the highest score possible.

Martindell said the yearlong study of the church and its worldwide operations "represents the opinions of hundreds of people and statistics gathered by hundreds of people."

The institute is a nonprofit organization with more than 15,000 individual members, including 5,000 company presidents in the United States and Canada. It is devoted to improvement of management practices by comparative appraisals.

Since its founding in 1948, Martindell said, more than 4,000 corporations and nonprofit organizations have been analyzed. Of these, only 3 have rated 94 points and 17 have been given scores of 90.

The Roman Catholic Church rating was based on operations over the past 50 years and had "nothing to do with dogma," Martindell said.

"Corporations do not have a monopoly on administrative problems," he siad. "Since the Catholic Church is the oldest and largest group of its kind, most of the administrative practices of religious groups stem from it."

Just a Keepsake

ST. LOUIS (AP) —The left foot of James Brady, 33, began to hurt. Doctors removed a rusty nail which had wrapped around his big toe bone. Then Brady remembered. He got the nail 28 years ago while playing with a homemade wagon. Original efforts by a doctor to locate it had been unsuccessful, and, since it didn't hurt, Brady just forgot about it.

Roofing tile made of aluminum processes is now being made in Australia.

Accused Burglar Captured as Raw Operation Fails

CLEVELAND (AP)—Accused burglar Robert Hodge was in the City Hospital prison ward today, and mightly glad to be there.

Two pals had tried to remove a bullet from his shoulder in their house, using a kitchen knife and a fifth of gin for a pain killer.

Police found him lying on a sidewalk and arrested him as a drunk. Surgeons removed the bullet later.

Hodge, 26, was shot by restaurant owner Bert Fant early Friday morning after he and his two accomplices robbed the place of $30, police said.

The story of the attempted operation was told yesterday by Hodge and one of his would-be benefactors, whose name was not available. The third man still was at large.

Just Wrong Room

KALISPELL, Mont. (AP)—A 53-year-old drunk transient stumbled into a house and fell asleep in the living room. About 3 a.m. Sheriff Dick Walsh thought he heard a noise downstairs. Upon checking, Walsh stumbled over the unwelcome visitor. The guest was quickly shifted to the other side of the residence—the Flathead County Jail.

Peron Warns Argentina of Bloody Retaliation

Up to a few days ago there may have been a lot of people in Argentina who doubted the wisdom of ex-Dictator Juan Peron's forcible exile.

Their number, however, is certain to be reduced sharply as news spreads of his dire threats against the country he so recently ruled with reckless tyranny. It will be shrunk further as the main outline of a book he has written becomes widely understood.

The book—Might Is the Right of Beasts—still is in manuscript form. It was loaned by Peron at Colon, Panama, to Joseph Newman of the New York Herald Tribune, with the understanding that he could comment on it. In it is revealed for the first time Peron's intention to return to Buenos Aires and take over the government again regardless of the cost in lives.

According to Mr. Newman's radio dispatch from the Canal Zone, the manuscript paints this dire fate for Argentines when Peron returns: "Blood will flow in the streets . . . heads will roll and perhaps as many as a million will be killed."

Peron blames his downfall on a group of Argentine capitalists and the Navy and Air Force. Also blamed either in the manuscript or by Peron personally are the United Press, Dr. Gainza Paz, publisher of the recently restored newspaper La Prensa, Catholic groups and the government of Uruguay.

Argentina, still trying to revive the economy he wrecked, is unlikely to ignore the ex-dictator's threats. It would be well advised to be on guard against him even though his fulminations sound like the ravings of a mad man.

Nautilus One Year Old

Although only a year old, U. S. S. Nautilus, the world's first atomic powered submarine has more than proved the practicability of such war craft.

Since she was launched early last year by General Dynamics' Electric Boat Division at Groton, Conn. she has logged a total of more than 25,000 nautical miles. It is significant that about half of that total was traveled under the surface and that the original atomic fuel still isn't exhausted.

Submarine history was made when the Nautilus completed her undersea run from New London, Conn. to San Juan, Puerto Rico. The elapsed time for the 1,300 miles was 84 hours. Three new records were made on that trip:

No submarine had ever before traveled so far completely submerged. Her average sustained speed of 16 knots was the fastest ever recorded by a submarine. This was the quickest passage ever made between New London and San Juan by a submarine of any type, traveling either surfaced or submerged.

In the words of Navy Secretary Charles S. Thomas, the Nautilus "has far exceeded our most optimistic expectations." This success, of course, is behind President Eisenhower's request to Congress for an appropriation to build the first atomic powered merchant ship.

Rear Admiral Hyman G. Rickover, USN, who played a prominent part in the design and construction of the Nautilus, has called her "the most potent and deadly submarine afloat." In his opinion her naval tactics and strategy "may well approach that of the airplane."

Woman of the Year

When a panel of three judges set out to find Oakland County's Woman of the Year, they just turned to Mrs. Florence L. Doty.

In the widely known, highly capable Register of the Probate Court, the judges, Dr. John D. Monroe, Edward E. Wilson and Howard Kelly found the very person they were seeking.

Not only in the high standards of her professional work but also in the breadth of her social and civic interests, Mrs. Doty stands out as a woman who contributes much to the community.

Through her work in the court, which she has served continuously since February 17, 1920, she has come to know most of the members of Oakland County's bar.

In the fullest measure Mrs. Doty deserves the honor of being chosen the County's Woman of the Year. Her service to the court is longer than that of any other Probate employe in Michigan.

We feel we can speak for all who know her in congratulating and saluting this capable public servant.

The Man About Town

New Cases Found

Late Developments Prove That TB Is Not Licked

Automobile: Sometimes 200 horse.. under the hood and a jackass at the wheel.

Although no case finding program has been in progress, an increased number of tubercular patients has recently been reported by local doctors. This brings about the reopening of the annex at the Oakland County Tuberculosis Sanatorium, which was closed several weeks ago, the main building then having enough rooms to accommodate all patients.

The case load has increased 25 per cent in the last few weeks, and there now are 175 patients in the main building, which completely fills it, with no emergency reserve. State health authorities now require a 10 per cent vacancy to provide for emergencies. There now is a waiting list of about a dozen, so with the necessary transfers from the main building, the annex resumes with about 30 patients at the start, nearly one-half of its capacity.

The courthouse pigeons are increasing their indignities, according to

of the Pontiac police, who saw one sitting within the outstretched palm of the Statue of Justice on its dome.

for 22 years a member of the Oakland County board, representing Commerce Township. Jim's all-absorbing countenance embellishes the first page of the current issue of the Michigan Courthouse Review.

We've heard numerous complimentary remarks about the square dancing of the five-year-olds from the Drayton Plains kindergarten, trained by who says they are more receptive to the terpsichorean art than many 55-year-olds.

in the sports department was stumped. Late the other night when he was on the wire gathering basketball scores, a sweet voice chimed in with, "How much brandy do you put in a fruit cake?"

Florence Doty

gets this column's unqualified endorsement. She's that for every year, as far as we're concerned. In her work we'll stack her against the world. Florence has told us a lot in confidence, even her age. But you find out.

David Lawrence Says:

Marginal Complaints Over Foreign Policy Can Undermine U. S. Leadership Position

WASHINGTON—If, as now indicated, there's to be a political debate in the Senate on foreign policy and the "Brink of War" doctrine, Democrats might well reread a most interesting speech which Adlai Stevenson made in Chicago September 29, 1952. Here is what he said:

"We all know that when the Communists attacked across the 38th Parallel that was the testing point for freedom throughout the world. The men in the Kremlin thought they would be unopposed, and that the whole question of the future could be settled in one blow. If they had been allowed to conquer free people in Korea, they could pick away at the free world and engulf millions, piece by piece, one by one. Sooner or later we would have had to fight and the later we made our stand the bigger and the harder the war would have been . . ."

Stevenson conceded "men in the Kremlin thought they would be unopposed" if they attacked. Why weren't they warned by the U. S. that attack would bring them to the "brink of war?"

The answer given is that Dean Acheson did the opposite. He said in 1950 that Korea was not within the "defensive perimeter" of the U. S. which he said ran from the Aleutians to Japan to the Philippines.

He excluded Korea when he said that if any attack occurred on any country outside the "defensive perimeter," the power of the U. N. would have to be invoked.

REDS MISCALCULATE

Soviet Russia never thought the U. N. would intervene. The Moscow delegation happened not to be present at the Security Council meeting to exercise a veto when the U. N. did order collective resistance to the aggression in Korea.

The Soviet miscalculated twice—about America and the U. N. itself. Had the U. S. enunciated a policy of deterrence as Secretary of State Dulles is now espousing, it is conceivable the Korean war might have been prevented altogether.

The 140,000 American casualties might have been saved and also the millions of Korean, Red Chinese and European casualties, to say nothing of the ten billions or more spent by the people of the U. S. in the Korean war.

There is no misunderstanding of the Dulles policy by thoughtful observers in Europe. On January 17th the London "Daily Telegraph" was saying editorially:

THE BRINK OF WAR

"No one can deny that in Korea and Indochina, Communists were challenging Western interests and that over Formosa they were threatening to do so. If the deterrent policy is not a complete sham, it therefore stands to reason that the U. S. was, as Dulles affirmed, brought to the brink of war. In each case the possibility of the U. S. declaring war in China was a major factor affecting Chinese policy. To deny this is to weaken by implication the whole conception of the deterrent policy on which Western security rests . . .

"No doubt China, whose conduct in recent months has been noticeably mild, needs little encouragement. That is why the hysterical outburst against Dulles' reference to war is doubly dangerous. If it were to confirm Russia's happy confidence that Geneva had cleared away the great deterrent, or if it were to encourage China to start probing again, then our distaste for hearing Dulles mention the awful word now might make us face the reality of war later."

The "Daily Telegraph" points out that "to allow these marginal complaints to provoke us into denouncing the central burden of his (Dulles') argument — that peace has depended in the past, and still depends, on American willingness to fight—is to cut off England's nose to spite Dulles' face."

The idea may be paraphrased for American domestic politics this way: For Democrats to denounce the Dulles doctrine for captious reasons and to imply an unwillingness of the U. S. to fight when it becomes necessary, would be to cut off America's nose to spite a Republican secretary of state. It could push the United States over the brink into war.

'Nervous' Persons Require Activities With More Zest

By WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.

The terms "nervous exhaustion," "nervous weakness," and neurasthenia (which means lack of nerve, vigor, or strength) are unfortunate. They convey a wrong idea.

There is nothing particularly wrong with the nerves or the nervous system of the individual who purports to be a neurotic or a nervous wreck. His machinery is prematurely worn out; his arteries, heart, liver, kidneys are showing effects of long abuse.

The "nervous" individual is suffering from too much energy, not too little. He needs the work or play cure, not the rest cure. He needs to do something with his muscles.

He can't fight and he can't run away, but he can play golf or shovel snow or walk to and from business. For him healthful recreation would be dancing, swimming, skating, or building a bookcase, not attending the movies or playing cards.

MORBID CONCEIT

It was a morbid conceit of a past generation that "nervous prostration" was an exclusive malady of the classes and not permissible for laboring people.

The truth is that the claim of "nervous exhaustion" is strikingly limited to people who live by their wits and to parasites who live by imposing on others.

Many a woman who was "a bundle of nerves" when her husband was making lots of big profits discovered that her "nervous" troubles disappeared after she had let her servants go and resumed her own housework.

Every "nervous" man or woman in business should cultivate the habit of walking to and from business, instead of riding.

A woman who lives about six miles from her shop stored her car and hoofed it all summer—she lost her "nerves" and some twenty pounds of slacker flesh.

There is a popular fallacy that walking increases the appetite and hence doesn't help reduction of oversize.

IF YOU EAT LOTS

If the individual eats too much, walking will help to normalize the appetite. This is experience, not theory. Gauge the effect by keeping a record of measurements not by the weight change.

Remember that good exercise burns off superfluous fat but puts on more muscle.

Signed letters, not more than one page of 100 words long, pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to the Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Wants Series of Articles Telling of City Ordinances

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.

I was deeply impressed with the article about parking. This is the first I knew that such an ordinance existed and I know there are probably hundreds of people in the city who were unaware of it.

I would like to make a suggestion that the Press use a specific place in the paper, each night to tell of a city ordinance and in a period of time they would cover them all, old and new.

Then interested people like me could cut them out for future reference. I am sure that this would cut down on a great deal of the minor violations that people commit honestly and without knowing.

'Property Damage Done by Male, Female Dogs'

I read E. O. Bareis' letter about female dogs being kept tied. I believe all dog owners should be compelled to keep them tied regardless of sex.

All dogs running loose doing damage to other people's property are not females. A day doesn't go by that I don't chase dogs out of my yard.

I own a registered boxer pup tied at all times in my yard. Other dog owners, regardless of of sex or breed should be tied up, too. A dog worth having is worth being taken care of.

Dogs running loose getting into garbage cans are not being taken care of and should be kept from running. Dogs and cats both do damage to property unless tied or fenced in so they can't run on other peoples' yards.

Arab-Israel Riff Dates to Promise to Abraham

The trouble between Israel and the Arabs of today dates back 4,000 years to Abraham, Isaac and Ishmael.

Palestine was promised to Abraham even before Isaac was born, and God's promises never fail. The time is at hand when all God's promises will be fulfilled, and the real Jews shall possess all the Holy Land.

U. S. Prosperity Depends on Dynamic Businessmen

By MERRYLE S. RUKEYSER
INS Economic Commentator

If we are to achieve the full promise of American life, it is extremely important for the public to understand what makes us the way we are.

In a presidential year, competition for power creates a partisan temptation to distort the facts.

Likewise, pressure groups, in order to hold their following and continue to collect dues, frequently tend to take credit for gains for which they are not primarily responsible.

Prosperity is a result of many factors in the competitive system, which gives optimum freedom of choice to customers and workers. The constitutional system of government is port of the success recipe, and President Eisenhower has increased confidence by showing enthusiasm for the private enterprise system.

The nonpolitical National Bureau of Economic Research has brought out into the open the widespread delusion by politicans that depression in the United States has been made unthinkable by built-in stabilizers introduced in the past 23 years.

CUSHION THE BLOW

Its findings show that at best these built-in stabilizers, including government aid programs, social security, veterans benefits, etc., would merely mitigate by 30 to 40 per cent the shrinkage in the volume of employment and economic activity during a depression.

For practical purposes, if built-in stabilizers, desirable as they may be from a humane standpoint, can at best absorb only 40 per cent of a decline, where is the public to look for prosperity - breeding activities?

Primarily to the businessman and his sense of venturesomeness.

If this analysis is accepted, then productive businessmen, in addition to their well-known private aspects as profit seekers, attain important social stature.

They are the self-starters in an economic process which aims at continuous improvement in popular living standards as evidenced by more and better goods in exchange for a week's work.

In a social sense, the businessman is a go-between, who brings the customer, who is a worker, into contact with products, which are the fruits of the labor of their workers.

This clarification may be helpful in a presidential year when some near-sighted political malcontents may want to make hay out of the outmoded practice of hating business and businessmen.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

U. S. Demand for 'Chemical Crutches' Reflects Faith in Medicine Over God

Sleeping pills are "chemical crutches" of tense folks. Roger offers one of the most severe criticisms of modern Americans. Study this Case Record with care, and scrapbook it with the follow-up tomorrow. For millions of Americans are heading for nervous breakdowns. Chemical crutches are not sound "horse sense" and practical psychology.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case Q-355: Roger R., aged 32, is a very busy pharmacist.

"Dr. Crane, I think far more people ought to be reading your column," he said with a smile.

"Oh, I suppose we pharmacists should not object to conditions as they are, but we are really quite shocked by the great dependence of Americans on sleeping pills.

"Last year, for example, 9.4 per cent of all prescriptions coming to our drug departments, were for sleeping tablets and other sedatives to help people relax.

"These sedatives brought druggists $58,000,000 in gross sales, so America is leading the world in demanding chemical aids to relaxation. Isn't that a terrible indictment of our civilization?"

IN GOD WE TRUST

"Trust in God—or worry!" runs an old adage, so take your choice.

"In God We Trust," is the motto on our American coins.

But far too many Americans are idolatrous. They worship false gods and thus can't sleep at night.

They are jittery and unstrung. Before they eat breakfast, they may find themselves so nervous they reach for a cigarette even as they are getting out of their pajamas.

Many men shave in the morning with a cigarette lying on the wash basin so they can grab a puff occasionally between strokes of their razor.

At breakfast, they drink strong coffee to prod them into more tension, by means of the three or four grains of caffeine per cup.

As they leave for work, they must take the cigarette from their mouth to kiss their wives goodbye. Thereafter, they smoke at frequent intervals to give their hands a chance to wave back and forth with a cigarette between their fingers, thus trying to drain off some of the tension.

Then they take another coffee break in the morning to further excite their nervous state. Between times they drink caffeine beverages like the cola soft drinks.

Soon they get worried about pains in their chest and rush to us physicians, whom millions of Americans are now worshiping instead of God Almighty.

And even among the 100 million church members, far too many millions are addicted to "doctor worship."

Parents seem to think polio shots are more influential than God.

They'd rather have hospital insurance than a clear conscience. They act as if a guaranteed hospital bed is far superior to a family pew in their neighboring church.

Don't think I am being a traitor to my own medical profession, for we medics recognize that America is going berserk regarding its phobia of disease and death.

When Aaron erected the Golden Calf for the ancient Hebrews to worship, he started people bowing down to the idol called Gold. But in modern times, it is a toss-up between gold and hospitals.

Sleeping pills are entirely unnecessary, so get hep to correct medical facts.

"But I'd lie awake most of the night with my insomnia," protest the many addicts of sleeping potions.

So what! Nobody dies of insomnia. Then why get so alarmed if you can't close your eyes in sound slumber? See tomorrow's follow-up.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 10c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Ice Fishing Luring Many to UP Lakes

More than 400 residents make up the population in ice fishing shanties scattered over frozen little Bay de Noc. Largest settlements are off Gladstone, Rapid River, Masonville and Ensign.

Conservation Department officials said there are more ice fishermen in the area than in any previous year, many of them from lower Michigan and neighboring Wisconsin.

Young Grave Robbers Given Spooky Sentence

BARTOW, Fla. (AP)—Working in the cemetery is the punishment given five Lake Wales high school boys who dug up a grave after reading of grave robbing in Charl Dickens' "Tale of Two Cities."

They will have to spend two hours a week for the rest of 1956 maintaining and restoring graves under responsible supervision.

Juvenile Judge G. Bowdon Hunt also revoked their drivers licenses yesterday and ordered their families to pay for reinterment of the bones. All of the boys are 16.

Museum Divides Surplus Bones of Gargosaurus

CHICAGO (INS) — The American Museum of Natural History in New York had the bones of a Gargosaurus rattling in its closet.

So it sold the skeleton of the Gargosaurus—which in popular lingo means a Dinosaur that lived about 75 million years ago—to the Chicago Natural History Museum.

And why should New York be so generous to Chicago? Because it had another set of the same bones.

SPREAD-EAGLED EAGLE — Mack Franse, Knoxville, Tenn., zoo director, holds an ailing bald eagle — the national bird — which was found grounded for six days without food near Spring City, Tenn. Because of a 1940 statute, special permission from the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service was necessary for the bird to be captured so that it can be nursed back to health. But the federal government says that if Franse can make the bird well, the zoo can keep it.

Sudan Ready to Buy Guns From Soviets

CAIRO, Egypt (AP)—Newly independent Sudan is joining the Arab countries lining up for possible arms deals with Soviet-bloc nations. But the Sudanese are ready to buy from the West, too.

Foreign Minister Mubarak Zarrog said Sudan has sent arms-shopping missions to Britain, France, India, Pakistan and Czechoslovakia.

He told a news conference "nothing definite has been decided yet," but added that his government has no objections to purchasing arms from Communist Czechoslovakia. The Sudanese defense forces total 12,000 men, Zarrog said, representing a doubling in strength in the past two years.

Sudan declared its independence Jan. 1 after nearly 57 years of joint British-Egyptian rule.

Sen. Byrd Raps GOP's Budget

Says Trying to Pile Up IOUs Is Same Policy as Truman Regime

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Byrd (D-Va) said today the Eisenhower administration is trying to "pile up IOUs" of the kind it criticized the Truman administration for leaving behind.

Byrd, chairman of the Senate Finance Committee and long-time advocate of spending cuts, said in an interview:

"The President's new budget proposes an increase of nine billion dollars in appropriations over the amount Congress voted two years ago."

He said congressional appropriations in the 1954 calendar year were 57 billion dollars, climbed to 62 billion dollars the following year and are recommended at 66 billion dollars in the new budget.

Congress authorizes government expenditures by appropriations. Most of the money involved is spent in the same year but some of it goes into a backlog for future spending.

The new budget request was the first in which Eisenhower has asked Congress for larger appropriations than the amount he estimated the government would spend. Byrd called the request a reversal of the policy by the President.

"When President Eisenhower came into office he and Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey criticized the Democrats for leaving behind a tremendous amount of commitments in unexpended balances of funds," Byrd said. "They couldn't balance the budget because of these commitments. Now they are trying to pile up IOUs of the same kind."

"There certainly isn't any room in this budget for tax cutting and in the end I don't believe Congress is going to cut taxes," he said. "Any reductions that were made would have to be so small that they wouldn't be worth anything politically to their sponsors."

Rescue Tries Fail; Drowns Beneath Ice

PARIS, Ky. (AP)—Stuart W. Frye, 28, drowned under the ice of frozen Stoner Creek yesterday after a heroic effort to rescue him.

His brother-in-law James Matherly, 28, said the ice broke under them as they started out to check some animal traps. Both fell into the water.

Matherly regained his footing on the ice and tried to reach Frye with a long tree limb, but the ice broke again, dropping Matherly into the stream a second time.

Again he climbed free and obtained another limb. Frye, too numb to grasp it with his hands, grabbed the limb with his teeth. He was nearly ashore when his grip failed and he sank under the ice. The body was recovered later.

U. S. Scientists Shortage Acute

Reds Launching Drive to Double Technicians; West Reaches Crisis

WASHINGTON (INS)—The new five-year program of the Soviet Union — which contemplates doubling Russian technicians in all branches of industry by 1960—is spotlighting a drastic shortage of adequately trained scientists and engineers in the United States.

The situation, according to top authorities, is so bad that the aircraft, electrical equipment, petroleum, paper, food and primary metals industries are crying for relief.

Such organizations as the National Science Foundation, the Foreign Policy Assn., and the Air Force Assn., are highly alarmed.

A general belief prevails that the American educational system should be overhauled and subsidized in a hurry if the U. S. is to maintain its leadership in atomic-age production and development.

BRITAIN JOLTED

America's chief ally, Great Britain, also has been jolted by the ambitious Communist plans to pour capable scientists and engineers into the field of research and development.

The London News Chronicle says: "In a world of competitive coexistence where technological skills are essential to survival, the threat is obvious and enormous."

The London Daily Mail says of the Russian program that "neither Britain nor America has so far been able to show anything comparable to this."

U. S. Atomic Energy Commission Chairman Lewis L. Strauss says "the United States can lose the cold war—and a hot one too—in the classrooms."

Admiral Hyman G. Rickover, top atomic naval officer, noted that the U. S. S. R. today is training twice as many engineers and scientists as the United States—that "today it is the scientists, engineers, chemists, physicists, metallurgists, who mean the difference between winning and losing a future war."

St. Louis Zoo's Gorilla Dies of Heart Attack

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Bobo, a playful and good-humored gorilla which became an invaluable attraction at the St. Louis Zoo, is dead of a heart attack.

Zoo Director George P. Vierheller yesterday said the 8-year-old 275-pound animal was the sort of attraction you can't put a price tag on.

He said a heart attack is an unusual cause of death for a gorilla. Parasites are often the killer.

Premature Babe Rallies; Grows Bigger, Healthier

DETROIT (AP) — Wee Julie Ann Baker, who made quite a news splash when she arrived in Detroit four months ago, was back in town today.

To grandmother Mrs. Earl Warren, Julie Ann looked "bigger and healthier than a football player" — all 6 pounds, 13 ounces of her. That's because Julie Ann weighed only a pound and-15 ounces when she arrived prematurely last Sept. 22.

Julie Ann came to Detroit for an eye examination this time and was visiting with Grandma Warren. She stayed in a Detroit hospital the first three months of her life, getting to be as big as most babies when they are born, before she went home to Lansing.

"They told us it was a miracle that the baby lived," Mrs. Warren said.

Engineer Visualizes Automobile of Future

CLEVELAND (INS)—The car of the futur ehas been envisioned as a lower, shorter, glass-roofed job with improved braking, improved ride, an automatic non-skid device, a wider range of colors, more power and more models.

This was the insight yesterday of Harley F. Copp, director of the Office of Lincoln Car Engineering, Ford Motor Co. All developments, he added, will be determined by customer preference.

However, Copp told the Cleveland Advertising Club, realization of this car of the future is being retarded by a shortgage of engineers.

Copp said of the most popular topics of automotive discussion:

1. Use of a rear-engine mount depends upon discovery of stronger, lighter materials with which to build an engine and transmission light enough to maintain present car-weight distributions.

2. Development of a gas turbine engine hinges on discovery of stronger metals to withstand operating temperatures up to 1600 degrees.

3. Fuel injection appears imminent.

Michigan History in 1881

Roaring Flames Envelop Entire Thumb Area of State

Michigan's history is rich and alive. It often is lost in dull school lessons. To bring it to life, this story of eyewitness accounts in Michigan historical collections at University of Michigan has been used.

By JOHN BARBOUR

BAD AXE—Sept. 6, 1881 (AP)—Fire is sweeping the Thumb area of Michigan and has all but destroyed this town as it drives southwestward, feeding on dead stumps and rubble left by lumbermen. The sky was black at midday and more than 200 have died.

It is the second major forest fire to sweep the state in 10 years.

Bad Axe residents have barricaded women and children in the Huron county courthouse and are fighting the fire which has destroyed almost every other building in town. The wall of fire, whipped by a gale yesterday, is eating up waste forest, farms and towns throughout Tuscola, Lapeer and Huron Counties.

One report from a farming area in Huron County tells how residents put their women and children into a ditch, covering it with boards and wet blankets, then turned to fight the fire.

CLARA BARTON HELPS

Casualty reports continue to roll in from the three county area and members of a governor's commission estimate that at least 18,000 persons have lost their means of support. At least 3,000 buildings have been destroyed, and there is scarcely any livestock left.

The American Red Cross, still asking support from Congress, has moved into the area to do what it can. Clara Barton, chief of the Red Cross, has dispatched her aides from her headquarters in Dansville, N.Y.

First reports from Washington indicates Great Britain, France and several countries in Latin America have sent aid for the stricken area. Governor David H. Jerome will ask the Legislature for a quarter million dollars to help the three counties.

WIND JOINS FIRES

The fire was born of many small brush fires, which sprang up during the severe drought of August. Then wind drove them into one huge blaze.

One Bad Axe observer said, "the very atmosphere seemed to turn to fire." In two hours it had destroyed all of the homes in the town. More than 400 are seeking sanctuary from the smoke, heat and flame in the courthouse.

It brought into sharp focus the waste that had been laid to the land through years of indiscriminate lumbering. The wealth of pines that had brought Michigan some of its importance had been decimated with only scrub trees, stumps and tops left to dry in the suummer sun. It was here the fire was born.

A similar fire ravaged the southwest of Michigan, Oct. 8, 1871, but it was overshadowed by the disastrous Chicago fire which ignited the same day. The earlier fire had started in Holland, destroying the entire town and spreading from Manistee on the north through eight counties, in one wide belt of fire from the west to the east of the state.

Traffic Mishaps Kill 11 in State

Other Accidents Claim Five as Snowy, Frigid Weekend Cuts Travel

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Eleven persons died in Michigan traffic and five in a rash of miscellaneous accidents over the state during a frigid, snowy weekend that cut highway outings far below normal.

Among those dying in off-the-highway mishaps was Eugene E. Willoughby, 17, of Detroit. Police said he was shot between the eyes Sunday by a school chum, William W. Bell, 16, who said he thought the rifle was unloaded.

William Green, 32, of Kingston, was found dead Sunday in a car near his home. Dr. D. A. Donahue, Tuscola County coroner, attributed death to carbon monoxide poisoning. State Police found the car in a ditch, the motor still running.

Theodore McDowell, 53, of Detroit, was killed Saturday when a shotgun he was using to pull a fellow rabbit hunter from a ditch near Bronson accidentally discharged.

James Leroy Wright, 19, died Saturday when a tree fell on him at the family farm six miles northeast of Charlotte.

CRUSHED TO DEATH

Edward Powell, 22, a Belding City employe, was crushed to death Saturday when a tractor he was operating flipped over on him.

Wilbur Cowell, 57, of Wyandotte.

Mrs. Augusta Cervini, 61, of Detroit.

Mrs. Evelyn Louch, 44, of Chesaning.

James McGurk, 55, of Detroit.

Danie. Prentice, 3, of Dearborn.

Railroads Recall Worst Disasters

LOS ANGELES (INS)—The estimated 29 fatalities from the Los Angeles train wreck was far below the death list from some of the other major train disasters in the long history of railroading.

The worst train wreck in this nation occurred on July 9, 1918, at Nashville, Tenn., when 101 lives were taken.

The world's worst rail disaster occurred on March 2, 1944, near Balvano, Italy. The wreck occurred in a railway tunnel and deadly coal fumes snuffed out 431 lives. There were only six survivors.

Other major train disasters in this country and the number killed were:

1876—Dec. 29—Ashtabula, Ohio, 84.

Jail 2 as Suspects in Attempted Holdup

Two taxicab passengers were jailed by Pontiac police Saturday night, one of whom they believe pulled a gun on the driver.

But apparently neither man actually tried to rob Jesse W. Wilson, 39 Edison St., police said.

Wilson told them the man who pulled the gun ordered him to "keep on driving" when the cab stopped at Auburn Rd. and Sanford St.

He said he jumped out of the cab and the pair fled, but only after the unarmed man paid the fare.

DETROIT (INS) — Four men faced arson and drunkeness charges today for allegedly setting fire to their 1938 automobile in Detroit's Eliza Howell Park yesterday because it wouldn't start. Held were Robert Ross, 23, of Farmington and Kenneth Schumacher, 26, George O'Brien, 23, and William Clifford, 23, all of Detroit.

ALL OFF FOR PONTIAC — Friday is a day that 18 crippled children from the Detroit Cerebral Palsy Center will never forget. On that date the staff put all the children of the nursery group ranging in age from four to six years aboard the Grand Trunk commuter from Royal Oak to Pontiac as part of a monthly program to aid in integrating the handicapped children into the normal population. Shown above are seven of the 18 children who have already visited a Detroit fire station and will soon visit the Willow Run Airport as another part of their monthly expeditions.

Cornish Hen Virtually All White Meat

Zeeland Hatchery Develops 1 Pounder

By ED MARKAITY
(AP Farm Writer

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—The DeWitt hatchery of Zeeland has developed a one-pound chicken—identified on elite dining spot menus as Cornish hen.

It is described as "close to the ultimate in the chicken breeders' art."

Within six weeks time the Cornish hen, known as The Rock-Wash., and a White Rock bred at Glastonbury, Conn. The Cornish is the male parent.

DeWitt reports The Rockette at three weeks receives a very small dose of diethyl-stilbestrol paste. This hormone gives the birds enormous appetites, quiets them and turns their interests to eating and loafing.

The birds are fed a high protein starter—26 or 27 per cent protein—for fast early growth. The ration later is changed to a 15 per cent protein feed with finely cracked corn.

The feed program allows the birds' bones to obtain correct structure while building up fat in all ette, pops from the incubator and swells into a broad-breasted fowl that is virtually all white meat.

The DeWitt firm started producing its specialty about three months ago. It reports currently processing about 6,000 of the birds a week and the demand still is ahead of supply.

The Rockette is the result of a cross between a special type of Cornish chicken from Puyallup, the tissues, especially in a thin layer under the skin.

Dick DeWitt, hatchery operator, said the Rockette's meat proves more moist than broiler chickens because of the additional fat. He says the birds are processed and sent to market between 1.3 and 1.5 pounds.

Beating by Bandit Hospitalizes Man

Beleti was beaten while trying to prevent a robbery at a Speedway Gasoline Station, Woodward at Buckingham, where he is an attendant. It is not yet known how much money was taken.

Friendly Gesture Brings Injuries to Area Man

While he was pushing another car, he lost control of his own and drove into the ditch, John Nicholas Guilds told Waterford Township police yesterday morning.

Guilds, 33, of 7169 Michigan Rd., is reported in satisfactory condition in Pontiac General Hospital with lacerations and a fractured jaw. The accident happened on Scott Lake Road near Otsego Road.

Graham Speaks to 6,000 Indians at Prayer Rally

MADRAS, India (AP)— American evangelist Billy Graham addressed more than 6,000 Indian Christians today in the sharp chill of an unusual morning meeting.

Some of those present had walked 400 miles to hear him. A much larger crowd was expected to attend a meeting tonight.

"In America," the evangelist said, "people would be asleep at this time. I have never in all my travels addressed a crowd of people like this on such a cold morning."

The congregation, made up of peoples speaking many different tongues, listened in silence to Graham's address. When he finished they moved forward in a body to surround him. Few spoke but some shook his hand.

Graham is making a tour of the Far East.

Probers to Hear Williams Today

Michigan Executive, 2 Other Governors Face Senate Labor Group

WASHINGTON (INS)—Governors of three states testify before a Senate labor subcommittee today on the problem of distressed and economically depressed areas.

Govs. G. Mennen Williams of Michigan, Orville L. Freeman of Minnesota, and George M. Leader of Pennsylvania will discuss decline of employment in industrial sections of their respective states.

The "depressed areas bill," sponsored by Sens. Paul Douglas (D-Ill) and Hubert Humphrey (D-Minn), was described by its supporters as designed "to provide a domestic point IV program to revive industry, investment, production and employment in those areas."

The proposed legislation is designed to encourage new business in areas with chronic unemployment and set up a program of government loans to assist in establishing such firms.

Williams, Michigan Sens. Pat McNamara (D) and Charles E. Potter (R) were to testify particularly on decline of employment in iron mining, automobile parts and radio-TV manufacturing.

Freeman, Humphrey and Minnesota Sen. Edward Thye (R) were slated to discuss business conditions in the iron mining, shipping and lumber cutting regions of their state.

Leader's testimony was to be directed at present conditions in the coal mining regions, railroad shops and other industries in Pennsylvania.

Viewers of Ice Jam Block Algonac Traffic

ALGONAC (INS) — One of the thickest traffic jams in memory occurred yesterday on M29 between Algonac and New Baltimore as thousands of motorists flocked to get a view of the Lake St. Clair ice blockade.

State Police estimated that some 25,000 cars visited the scene over the weekend. Sunday's jam occurred between 1 p.m. and 6 p.m.

Many of the curious ventured out on the ice but police said there were no accidents.

Meanwhile, Coast Guard cutters Tupelo and Acacia continue to smash away at the ice jam although heavy winds are slowing progress. They made it to Roberts Landing, 15 miles below Port Huron.

Plan Wedding Feb. 10 in Methodist Church

TROY — The Rev. and Mrs. Thomas Hackney, Hartford, S. D. are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Ann, of Highland Park, to Irvin G. Sutherland, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard E. Sutherland, 623 Creston, Troy.

The couple plans a February wedding in Troy Methodist Church on Square Lake Road.

He Gets Nothing and Has Check for His Proof

DAVENTRY, England (AP)—Farmer David Lloyd reported today he has received nothing from the British government, and has a check to prove it.

The check from the food ministry is for 0 pounds, 0 shillings and 0 pence. Printed across it is the promise that "if presented through a bank within three months, the Postmaster General will pay the amount stated."

Lloyd, it seems, recently sold six heifers. The food ministry guarantees farmers a minimum price per pound on such livestock sales. Lloyd's heifers brought more than the minimum.

"So I was entitled to nothing," he explained to reporter, "and it seems that the ministry decided they should send me a check for it."

"A clerical error," said a blushing official.

Will Lloyd present his check for payment?

"On the whole, I think not," he opined. "I believe I'll just frame it."

Wilson to Be Rapped for Supply Policies

WASHINGTON (INS)—A House subcommittee has drafted what it terms a "serious indictment" of Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson for his handling of military supply policies.

The House government operations subcommittee, in a report now before the full committee, also questioned the efficiency of businessmen in government.

The report was signed by the Democratic majority of the group, headed by Rep. William L. Dawson (D-Ill).

Wilson and his aides were charged with conducting their supply authority in a way that promoted "separatist" tendencies in the armed forces.

The report has been held up by the full government operations committee, aides stated, because several Republican members said they have not had time to study it.

Argentina Breaks 2 Plots by Supporters of Peron

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP)—The government says it has broken up two new plots in a continuing crackdown on supporters of ex-President Juan D. Peron.

Spokesmen for the regime of Provisional President Pedro Aramburu said one plot was uncovered in Juyjuy province, on the Bolivian border. There 25 persons were arrested in the city of San Pedro.

An undisclosed number of persons was reported arrested at San Juan, capital of San Juan province on the Chilean border.

Train Crashes in West Virginia

One Killed, 20 Injured as Passenger Derails Near Kentucky Border

WILLIAMSON, W. Va., Jan. 23 (AP)—The engine and four cars of a Norfolk & Western Railway westbound passenger train derailed on a curve east of this West Virginia-Kentucky border city today, killing the engineer and injuring about 20 other persons.

The steam locomotive, tender and three cars of the Norfolk-to-Cincinnati train, the "Pocahontas" tore across the eastbound tracks and plunged over a 40-foot embankment. The engine overturned.

Fireman Ernest Hoback, 27 also of Bluefield, was one of nine injured admitted to Williamson Memorial Hospital. Their injuries were not immediately determined.

12 OTHERS TREATED

In addition, a hospital spokesman said "about 12" others were given emergency treatment and released. Additional passengers were treated for minor injuries by doctors at the scene.

The wreck occurred on a curve at Cedar, a village on the Tug River boundary between this state and Kentucky, about 27 miles east of Williamson. The scene is about 65 airline miles south-southeast of Huntington.

Some 40 uninjured passengers were brought here on a train that had been backed to the scene from Williamson.

The cause of the derailment was not determined. Officials said preliminary indications were that excessive speed was not involved.

Rochester Man Hurt as Car Skids Into Tree

Herbert F. Edgar, 47, of Rochester, who suffered bruises, lacerations and a broken finger in an accident Saturday on Adams Road near Pontiac Road, was reported in satisfactory condition today in Pontiac General Hospital.

Edgar told Oakland County Sheriff's deputies he skidded on a patch of ice and lost control of his car, which then hit a tree.

Africa—The Awakening Continent

Communists Insinuate Unrest Into Primitive Minds

Is Africa moving toward communism? What can America do to help the awakening millions and gain their friendship? After a 30-day, 10,000-mile survey mission in Africa for the House Foreign Affairs Committee, Rep. Frances P. Bolton (R-Ohio) gives her views and impressions in a series of three articles starting today.

By REP. FRANCES P. BOLTON
International News Service

The massive, seething continent of Africa is the West's last frontier. If we lose the friendship and cooperation of Africa, as we lost China, we will find the world a much more difficult place to live in.

However shocking the truth may be, we must face it. The great continent that God has kept in reserve can be won and become our good friend, or it can be lost and become a dangerous enemy.

The tension, unrest and ferment speak for themselves as one travels, as I did, across 20,000 miles of Africa, south and east of the Sahara. For 30 days, a succession of planes, trains, riverboats, cars, jeeps and rickshaws carried me through 24 countries, colonies, protectorates and trust territories.

It was a strenuous trip. It also was the most educational and most revealing experience of my life, for Africa is perhaps the most challenging and complicated continent in the world today.

VERY RICH PRIZE

It covers an area roughly four times the size of the United States, with a population of nearly 200 million. It is a continent of vast resources and great potentialities.

It may be a rich prize for the aggressive forces of Communism if we fail to develop constructive working partnerships with the people and their governments. The Russians already are playing economic leap-frog over the western defense lines right into the Middle East and Africa.

And the awakening of the great African masses is stirring strong feelings of nationalism, open to being used by Communist leaders and their Leftist followers.

In West Africa's hill country, the proud Ashanti people have rioted against the Gold Coast government of Prime Minister Kwame Nkrumah, protesting that he is threatening their traditional rights by leading them down the road to socialism.

INDEPENDENT ELECTIONS

Nkrumah himself, a graduate of Pennsylvania's Lincoln University, told me he was anxious his people should get even more complete control of their country. He described the amazing progress of his people since British rule was first accepted half a century ago.

Today, inhabitants of the Gold Coast hold independent elections where the representatives to their congress are elected by popular vote. Except for matters of defense and foreign policy, they practically control their own country, and they expect release from this very shortly.

Another situation prevails in East Africa, where the bloody Mau Mau raids have terrorized British Kenya. The leader of the vicious Mau Mau, Jomo Kenyatta, is known to have spent four years in Moscow. He is now in jail, but the raids continue, although the situation is much more under control.

All across the African continent, thousands of half-educated detribalized Africans are in a state of transition. A breakdown of their traditional tribal discipline could bring chaos, and that could mean a mass uprising against the white man.

REDS FOMENT TROUBLE

This is where the subtle finger of Communism comes in—always agitating, creating disorder, capitalizing on unrest. The revolts and uprisings against established authority all could be part of a sinister pattern.

We know Moscow is well organized for Africa, yet it is difficult to say just how much the Communists are directly involved. It would be difficult to pinpoint any disorder or outbreak that could be traced directly back to Soviet Communists.

There is a Russian hospital in Addis Ababa established by a man who is credited with being the most effective of their proselytes. With a member of the American embassy staff, I went to the hospital and was taken through a large part of it.

SOMBER HOSPITAL

It was a somber building. There were no wards—only rooms of one, two or three beds. Most rooms were locked and had to be opened by an attendant with a great set of keys. There seemed to be an amazingly small number of patients considering the great need for hospital care. I was told there were no charity patients. All must pay.

It was no different from the great hospital I saw in Moscow in 1945 that I wondered whether its usefulness to Russia was confined entirely to the care of the sick—such sick as could afford to come to the hospital.

The coldness of this hospital was so different from the warmth of other hospitals there and elsewhere in Africa. It certainly had no relation to the friendly reception given me by his Imperial Majesty Haile Selassie, who—when he found I spoke French — was most gracious and delightful.

To the average person, I think conditions in Africa might seem shocking. The overwhelming bulk of the population is illiterate and very primitive.

But if you could have gone with me into the "native cities," if you could have seen the efforts being made to give decent homes and the beginnings, at least, of education, of health training, of more adequate care of the sick—if you could have seen the passionate eagerness to learn, I am sure you could feel, as I do, that the people of Africa are going to play a wonderful part in the world's future.

We, the West, must not do to Africa what we did to Asia.

China turned to us when she was ready to industrialize, ready to move ahead to a new, modern life. But we were too busy, and so the Chinese turned to the Communists—and to Russia.

Aswan Dam to Flood 60,000 Out of Homes

CAIRO (AP)—The homes of 60,000 Egyptians and Sudanese will be flooded out in creating the latest man-made lake in the world, behind the proposed Aswan Dam.

The first person to benefit from the new dam will be those whose homes will be covered. All will be compensated and get new homes. In most cases they will be far better off in their new location.

The bulk of these people live in the Nubia region overlapping Southern Egypt and northern Sudan. Their mud-hut villages are so bare that it is hard to understand how they manage to live at all.

These villages are perched on the edge of a plateau; inhabitants live from scanty farming on the edge of the river. When the river floods, in late summer, the farmland is covered with water. After the river recedes late in the fall, Nubians plant their crops and manage to grow enough food for a bare subsistence.

Most of these people living along the Nile will be moved down the river to reclaimed land in the irrigated area of Egypt within the next four years to make room for the reservoir.

Each family will receive from the government a house, work animal, and enough land to support itself. In the irrigated area, they will be able to grow three to four crops a year, in comparison with the one meager crop they get at present.

He's Full of Energy — a Month's Worth

ALSAGER, England (AP) — The Philip Johnson family got home from the movies and found Susan, their Boxer pup, bouncing her rubber bone off the ceiling and charging through the house like a souped up greyhound.

Nearby was a box the pup had apparently knocked from a windowsill. It previously contained Mrs. Johnson's energy pills.

"She had eaten a whole month's supply of pills prescribed by my doctor," said Mrs. Johnson. "Now she just can't stay still."

A veterinarian said Susan should be all right, but that when she calms down she'll have something resembling a king-size hangover.

'He's a Woman Chaser,' Wife Wants Annulment

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP)—Mrs. Harriett Isabell Barfoot filed suit yesterday to annul her nine-month marriage to Thomas Barfoot.

They were wed last April, she said, but her husband proved to be "what is commonly known as a woman chaser."

Both Mr. and Mrs. Barfoot are 33.

Family Trees May Solve Hereditary Disease

ANN ARBOR (AP)—It used to be that people traced their family tree to find illustrious ancestors. Today, genetic counseling centers are tracing family trees to find hereditary disease.

Dr. William J. Schull, assistant geneticist of the University of Michigan heredity clinic, writes in the current Science Review that there are now 16 genetic counseling centers in the U.S. and Canada.

The growth of these centers in the past 15 years, he says, is representative of a shift in medical attention. Doctors are moving from infectious diseases to the degenerative diseases of old age, he adds.

Infectious diseases are being kept under control, he says, while science challenges the new frontier of aging and diseases such as cancer, heart disorders, hypertension and blindness.

Geneticists scout hospital records for cases of suspected inherited disease. Then they contact individuals who are reported by the hospitals to have these diseases. From living members of their families and from records, they begin to reconstruct family trees, find out where and who had similar symptoms. How often did those symptoms occur.

It is ironic, Dr. Schull says, that as science begins to defeat the bacteria and viruses, "We tend to see more and more cases of spontaneous genetic disorders."

The dramatic element of genetics study is in counseling. Dr. Schull says that one young couple came to the university's clinic after having lost one child and about to lose another. The trouble was inherited gall bladder condition. The couple had gone into debt for $5,000 to pay medical bills. What would happen to future children, they wanted to know.

"We do not in such cases attempt to pass judgment on the advisability of parenthood," Dr. Schull says. "It is our sole policy to inform responsible members of the family of all the facts at our disposal so that they can make their own responsible decisions."

There is a positive approach to the problem, expecially when parents are worried about disabled children and tend to emphasize the single gene which caused the trouble.

"We sometimes have to remind such parents of all the good genes in their background," Dr. Schull says.

In essence, he says, the problems are these: Is the disease inherited? If so, how is it transmitted: How often will it occur? What kind of a chance does the currently affected person have, in view of his family history?

Plan Integration in New Orleans

Catholic Schools' Aim Ignites Parents' Furor Over Student Mixing

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Racial integration may come in Roman Catholic schools here this year, a high church official reports, despite protests and demonstrations from parents.

Msgr. Plauche said the timing of the integration was under study and "no definite decision has been made." He said, however, "it's very possible that it may be this year."

Msgr. Plauche's remarks came after a panel discussion at Ursuline Academy on integration, a topic that split up a meeting of the parents club at Jesuit High School two weeks ago and is becoming a hotter issue in this Deep South city where half of the children attend Catholic schools.

A large block of the 600 attending the Jesuit meeting walked out when the principal, the Rev. Claude J. Stallworth, refused to entertain a resolution calling for continued segregation. A similar resolution was passed with only two dissenting votes at Holy Name of Mary High School last month.

Asked to explain the Catholic Church's position on intermarriage of the races, Msgr. Plauche said it was permissible in the church and "would be a lot more desirable" than Louisiana marriage laws that produced mulattos through adultery.

"Is anybody here going to say a couple in love should be refused marriage," he asked, "because their grandmother or grandfather were Negroes? We are opposed to marriage laws as they exist."

He indicated that the social stigma usually would be enough to deter mixed marriages.

Operator Admits Role in Filmland Burglary Ring

Miss Toni Lee George, 23, former dancer who lost her left leg in an automobile accident three years ago, and five men were arrested in connection with the $30,000 burglary early Friday of actress Ginger Rogers and the $50,000 burglary of actor Kirk Douglas Jan. 12.

Police said nearly $35,000 worth of jewelry, furs and other valuables were recovered. The six, booked on suspicion of burglary, were Miss George; Leonard J. Bleecher, 24; Dominick Juliano, 21; John Franco, 23; and Frank Christie, 24, and George Fargo, 26, all of Los Angeles. Fargo was also booked on suspicion of receiving stolen property.

The men remain in jail in lieu of $5,000 bail. Miss George was released from jail yesterday on a writ returnable next Thursday.

She told police she provided the men with the addresses and home telephone numbers of Hollywood celebrities.

Police said Miss George gave the name Dawn Marshall when arrested.

Bob Considine Says:

PTA Marking 60 Years of School Betterment

LOS ANGELES (INS)—It is coming up just 60 years since two fine women named Alice McLellan Birney and Phoebe Apperson Hearst formed—in Washington, D. C.—an organization they named the Parent-Teachers Association.

It was a courageous act at that time, and one that takes on fresh significance in this day of controversy over integration in our schools. The gentle but spirited ladies dropped a rare concept into the collective laps of an indifferent nation: That what was right and good for well-to-do school children should apply for poor school children as well.

They supposed that no more than a couple dozen parents would answer the invitation to the first National Congress of the PTA. More than 2000 showed up.

At the impending founders day celebration of the PTA, the organization will announce it now has a membership of 10,000,000 working comfortably toward a world in which every child may enjoy sound health, spiritual security, careful nurture, and wise schooling.

Through the years, PTA established and supported public kindergartens until public support could be secured. . . Inaugurated a hot school lunch program as far back as 1912. . . Arranged for the rights of Indian children and children of migratory workers. . . Supported the establishment of juvenile courts. . . Donated thousands of scholarships to prospective teachers. . . Hounded officials into raising teachers' salaries, extending curriculums, and improving school equipment.

Promoted thousands of school building projects. . . Kept schools open during war and depression. . . . Raised millions for equipment to make our schools more efficient and pleasant for teachers and pupils. . . Sponsored "Future Teachers of America" clubs.

It made it possible for millions of parents and teachers to become better acquainted with one another and to understand better the common purposes and problems.

Co-operated with countless youth-serving agencies. . . Sponsored home and traffic safety education and safety legislation. . . Placed hundreds of new child welfare laws on the books. . . Established child-care centers for children of working mothers.

TEEN CENTERS

The PTA supported hundreds of teenage recreation centers. . . Called a national conference to treat with drug addiction among the young. . . Told the public of instances where child labor laws were being violated. . . Appropriated a lot of money over the past 8 years for the promotion of American Education Week.

It has published for the past half century the "National Parent-Teacher," a magazine devoted to the welfare, education and protection of children. . . Provided millions of books and pamphlets on the subject dearest to its heart. . . Set up thousands of discussion groups and radio and TV programs aimed at building a better-informed American parenthood.

The group worked closely with the White House conference on children and youth since 1930. . . Sponsored bookmobiles. . . Sent representatives to Germany and Japan during the occupation to set up PTA organizations there. . . Supplied war-ravaged countries with teacher-training text books and books for children.

The group joined up with the Civil Defense Administration in a constructive and active way. . . Urged fluoridation of water supplies. . . Co-operated with the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis in testing gamma globulin and the Salk vaccine. . . Contributed to CARE children book fund projects. . . Made not only a nation but the world more conscious of what a parent and a teacher owes to a child, and vice versa.

Don't Count Ten, Take Some Runs Around the Block

"One of the best ways to stimulate this mechanism of adaptation to stress is with exercise," Michael said.

The exercise should be regular and strenuous, Michael said, but not tiring to the point of fatigue.

He recommended walking and swimming as two excellent exercises to keep a smile on your face.

Visiting Teachers Discuss Behavior of Children

"The purpose of the visiting teacher is to help the individual child, to give help to him and his family and to iron out problems before they become serious.

"The child's behavior can't be changed by lecturing, nagging or by force. Change comes from within the child only when he wants to change.

"The reason for a child's behavior must be determined and corrected before the child will have the desire to change."

These are excerpts from the messages given by Frances Priest, Mrs. Fern Perrin and Allan Copley, Friday evening at the Wisner PTA meeting.

Musical selections were furnished by a flute trio and a brass sextet from Lincoln Junior High School band. Playing in the flute trio were Sara Wood, Nancy Cunningham and Anita Bowers. The members of the brass sextet were Delmer Benson, James Sheridan, Rudy Nartker, Lee Ball, Dan Miles and Tom Beckwith.

Mrs. Ervin Christie announced that a PTA Founders' Day dinner would be held at Lincoln Junior High School Feb. 7th at 6:30 p.m.

Mrs. Robert Klingler planned the social hour assisted by Mrs. Melvin Womack and Mrs. J. B. Baswell. Mrs. Clifford Neville and Mrs. Kenneth Carman presided at the tea table.

Clever Campaign Planned for Her

Will Mama Go for Lavish Camping?

By JANE COCHRAN

SAN FRANCISCO (INS) — The man in the family might regard himself as the big outdoorsman of the household, but a very cleverly planned campaign is being aimed this spring at the real dictator of family vacations, the woman.

"The emphasis is off the sportsman; he's already sold," says Ralph King, merchandise manager of one of the West's largest camp-equipment manufacturers.

King says that all indications point to 1956 as the biggest year in camping history, and to help it along, his firm has come up with innovations for luxurious family camping vacations.

These include gaily-hued, two-toned tents that can be set up in three minutes, miracle fibered, milium - treated colorful sleeping bags tailored to keep one as cozy as under the electric blanket at home and convenient folding furniture.

The company has figured out, King said, that an 18-day camping vacation for four costs $193 as opposed to $400 for the same time spent in a resort.

"And the $207 difference, we figure, is just about right to buy a really good camp outfit for the family," King said. "This outfit then is theirs to use for years at no additional cost, and what's more, banks are now financing such purchases the same way they do refrigerators or any other household item."

The company has figured out the comparative vacation costs go this way: For a camping vacation of 18 days, a family of four will spend $100 for food, $18 for national park fees, $30 for gasoline and $45 for miscellaneous. For the same duration at a resort, they would spend $200 for food, $125 for lodging, $30 for gasoline and the same $45 for miscellaneous.

"More fun for less money is our new camping slogan," King said. "No longer need one consider a camping vacation 'roughing it.' A family can be as snug as at home, yet enjoy all the advantages of the great outdoors, not only on vacations but also on many happy weekends in the country."

Surveys show that four families out of every 10 already prefer camping vacations. It's the other six that King is interested in.

Major emphasis for luxury camping vacations is on sleeping equipment and tents.

Sleeping bags are filled with dacron because it has warmth, is less expensive than down, mildew proof, non-allergic, will not mat and is extremely comfortable. Milium, an aluminum insulation, is then applied to the sleeping bag lining to bounce heat back in the direction from which it came. This makes lighter and warmer sleeping bags which also are done up in attractive colors.

The tents are equally colorful—available in forest green, gold or copper, or a combination of two of each.

And what's more, the old gags about tents collapsing just as the weary camper figured he had the battle won are outmoded. These tents work on an umbrella principle and have a safety stop at the top so that even the shortest person can't experience the horrible feeling of having the center support shoot up out of reach and the whole business collapse.

Average price for a tent is about $60, a sleeping bag $18 and the air mattress which slips into a compartment in the sleeping bag about $10.

And the luggage compartment of a low priced car has been found by King's company to be able to hold these things: Two suitcases, five sleeping bags, tent, cooking ket, ice chest, Coleman stove and lantern and five air mattresses.

Someone New Will Help You Forget Him

By ELIZABETH WOODWARD

"Dear Miss Woodward: I'm in love with him and he has told me that he loves me, too. We've been going steady, but he doesn't want to any more. He claims it's because he's going into the Navy, but I told him that didn't make any difference.

"I've found out that his real reason is that he wants to date other girls. Why didn't he tell me the truth? And how can I forget him?"

Answer: In your hurt you're ready to believe the very worst—just as though that would make you feel any better.

Your boy friend undoubtedly told you the truth, without going into too many details. To him, his imminent departure for the Navy closes a chapter and opens a new one.

It's a clean break he wants to make with his old way of life. He wants to clear the decks before he goes away. And he's probably being braver about it than you realize.

He doesn't know what's ahead of him. So he wants to be free of responsibilities. And free to meet new experience, new associations, new adventures as they come. An occasional date with another girl is not likely to get him involved.

He didn't break up one alliance to plunge himself into another. Dates with other girls are part of his new freedom. And that freedom seems essential to him at this point in his career.

How can you forget him? You won't — until you get yourself caught up in a whirl of going with someone else.

Another boy, if you'll let him, will keep you from being lonely, will occupy your time and your energies, will keep you too busy to remember.

"Dear Miss Woodward: I met him at Thanksgiving, and have seen and heard from him quite a bit since. By last week he liked me well enough to think he wanted to go steady with me.

"But he's very moody, and doesn't really know what he wants. One minute he tells everybody how much he likes me, and the next he acts as though he doesn't care at all.

"He now thinks it would be wiser if we didn't go steady because he lives quite far away from me, he gets jealous, he'd get too serious over me, so we called the steady part quits.

"Then he called my girl friend and told her he was enlisting and wouldn't be seeing me again. I'm so lonesome without him. I don't think I'll ever forget him."

Answer: You're plenty unsettled at the moment. But imagine what he's been going through! He's giving up a new girl about whom he could get pretty serious if he were only going to be around to enjoy it.

Enlisting, in his opinion, makes it seem wiser to him to end things before they get a head start. And you? Consider it a brief moment that might have become something lovely—if it had only had time.

'Rooming In' Sometimes Resented

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

"Please comment on the current magazine article, 'Babies Should Be Born at Home,' by Dr. F. Ashley Montagu," writes a reader. "He's right, I think. The women I know have only borne their children in hospitals because doctors refused to attend them at home . . ."

Separating new mothers and babies, I think, is one of civilization's worst habits.

However, if you're a pregnant mother whose hospital can't promise you "rooming in" facilities for your baby, don't worry about it. Don't raise your blood pressure by rage at civilization's heartlessness.

Just now civilization is not your business; your serenity is. The fact that you want your baby with you is what will count between him and you. Realizing your wish in the actual "rooming in" arrangement is not nearly so important as the wishing itself.

For it's this that represents the eager, welcoming warmth that will mean motherhood to your baby. It will find a way to express itself, with or without the "rooming in" arrangement.

It would be lovely if we could guarantee all babies tender maternal feeling by reorganizing hospitals' designs. I don't think we can.

A new mother who fears and resents her new role might be not relaxed at all by the strains of the "rooming in" arrangement.

Instead of appreciating her chance to care for her baby herself, she might feel herself ill-used—and spend her time, not in tender feeling toward him but in secret wishes for separation from him and recovered privacy.

"The newborn baby needs the presence of a loving, solicitous voice, the warmth and softness of its mother's body," writes anthropologist Montagu in his new book, "The Direction of Human Development."

He adds: "The relations between the mother and infant during the first few days following birth are of utmost importance for each of them."

I believe Dr. Montagu, but I don't see the separation of new mothers and babies as the problem. The fact we've allowed the separation is the problem.

And is part of the big one that's basic to all parent-child relationships today—Awe of the Expert. We're scared to trust what we feel or know ourselves.

What will bless babies in the new "rooming in" arrangements is not the arrangements but their mothers' new respect for their own feelings.

South Florida Residents Are Thawing Out

By ETHEL TOMBRINK

MIAMI—South Florida residents are thawing out after the recent cold spell, beaches are filled with sun-lovers and things are getting back to normal.

Horse racing fans turned northward from Tropical Park to beautiful Hialeah Race Course which opened this week. And sailing enthusiasts were rooting for their friends who competed this weekend in the Fort Lauderdale-Bimini sailing race.

About a dozen sleek craft set sail Friday afternoon off shore from Lauderdale for the all-night race across the Gulfstream to the island of Bimini on the western end of the Bahama Islands. The race opens the winter's Southern Ocean Racing Conference.

Michiganders do a lot of visiting around while they are here and the Ed Yuilles have had a stream of visitors. Former Pontiacers, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Vail who now live in Orlando dropped in to see them a couple of weeks ago. The Vails were on a three-week cruise on the inland waterway in their boat. When the weather turned cold, they turned homeward.

While Jack Walser and Stanley Jones were here on a convention, they took time out to visit the Yuilles too. It was a 'no luck' day when these two Pontiacers went out fishing last Saturday.

Just the other day, the Elmer Wallschlagers and the Ray Maurers both of Pontiac, spent the day with the Yuilles.

The Wallschlagers deserted Miami recently and purchased a home in Hollywood where they'll spend their winters. The Maurers, who now make Vero Beach (where they have a citrus grove), their headquarters, were visiting the Wallschlagers in Hollywood, and the foursome decided on a drive to Miami.

The Yuilles are looking forward to a visit next month from Mr. and Mrs. Vern Williams. The Ralph Haneys are expected down South Florida way at that time, too.

Up at Fred Coe's Trailer Park in Ojus, new residents are Mr. and Mrs. Burt Rewold of Sylvan Lake. The Rewolds have just bought a trailer and will spend the winter there.

Hubby Asks Man to Stay Overnight

Wife Frets About Being Alone With Houseguest

By EMILY POST

A woman reader asks: "Would it be proper for a friend of my husband's to be an overnight guest in our house while my husband is working the night shift and will not be home until 8 o'clock in the morning?

"I have met this friend on two previous occasions but don't really know him very well. My husband has invited him to spend the night at our house while he is in this city.

"I do not think this is proper and feel that he should stay at a hotel. I would appreciate hearing from you on this matter."

Answer: A man that your husband has invited to the house is certainly a proper person or he wouldn't have been invited, and since your husband evidently approves there can be no cause for disapproval.

"Dear Mrs. Post: When one accepts an invitation to a wedding and reception and sends a present to the bride, is that person further indebted to the bride's mother? In other words, is she obliged to return this invitation by inviting her to something? This information is needed to settle a dispute."

Answer: If you are having a wedding in your family, or giving a big general reception of any kind, you would, of course, include the bride's parents on your list; otherwise you are not expected to make any further return—unless you want to.

"Dear Mrs. Post: I have a friend who, when writing a letter, always writes 'For Mrs. John Smith' on the envelope. Isn't it bad form to write 'for'?"

Answer: No, it has always been very good form to prefix an address with either "for" or "to." Our present day omission of it is due to our love of brevity.

Shopping Service Fails Miserably

By ANNE HEYWOOD

Marcy J. was an eager beaver young mother with lots of energy and big ideas. But like too many women of her type, she failed because she was overambitious and unrealistic.

"I'm excellent at personal shopping," she wrote me rather bitterly, "but when I opened my own service, I failed miserably.

"What's the matter with people? Don't they recognize a good thing when they see it?"

According to Marcy, she had done everything right.

"I always did the shopping for everyone in the family and for dozens and dozens of friends. I know all about dressing smartly on a small budget and my friends were always more than willing to let me do it for free.

GOOD BACKGROUND

"My background is good, too. I studied design at one of our leading fashion schools and after I was married I continued to practice what I had learned.

"But friends always let you do things for nothing and then run a mile if you charge even a modest fee!"

A little investigation on my part showed where Marcy had made her mistake.

She had made no preparation at all. One day she just stopped being a friendly type who did personal shopping for her friends and announced that it would cost them money from now on. Naturally, the friends said nothing doing.

Next, she inserted an ad in her local paper, offering to do personal shopping for busy women.

TWO STRIKES

But she didn't realize that two strikes were against her to begin with. She had no reputation, nobody had heard of her. And then, none but the very, very rich are geared to the idea of paying someone for a service of that kind. Her town doesn't have that many rich women.

What could Marcy have done?

She could have started a class in personal grooming, dressing and budgeting, in her own church, for free.

She would probably have had a good many takers and it would have built her reputation, as well as giving her practice.

A few of her pupils, after they knew her and valued both her judgment and skill, might have made a financial arrangement for her services on a personal basis later on.

Better yet, Marcy could have talked a local dress shop into letting her be a part-time saleslady.

If she really is good, she could have advised customers so well that she would have developed, over a few years, a good "following."

Then, when she started her own service, people would have known who she was and what she could do!

Refreshments were served by the hostess following the meeting.

Original Hand Bag Consists of Chain

An elegant Paris socialite has been wearing the most original "hand-bag." It's simply a golden chain to which she hooked her cigarette-lighter and holder, her comb in a suede sheath, her lipstick, a miniature bottle of perfume and her keys.

Instead of wearing their hearts "on the sleeves" girls in Paris are displaying them on their hands.

Past Presidents Zone Meets for Luncheon

Mrs. Kenneth Parsons of Baldwin avenue was hostess to the Zone 8, Past Presidents Club MOMS of America, Inc. for a luncheon and business meeting.

Mrs. E. K. Vanderlind presided at the recent business meeting and Mrs. L. R. Naugle, chaplain, read the Twenty-fourth Psalm for the Bible lesson.

The group made a financial donation to the National Ways and Means chairman.

Mrs. Felix Mayo of James street will have the February meeting.

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery

Finds Healing Substance That Does Both—Relieves Pain—Shrinks Hemorrhoids

New York, N. Y. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids and to relieve pain—without surgery.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by doctors' observations.

Pain was relieved promptly. And, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.

And most amazing of all—this improvement was maintained in cases where doctors' observations were continued over a period of many months!

In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' standing.

All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®)—the discovery of a world-famous research institution. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.

This new healing substance is offered in suppository or ointment form called Preparation H.® Ask for individually sealed convenient Preparation H suppositories or Preparation H ointment with special applicator. Preparation H is sold at all drug stores. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded.

State Troopers Rush Rare Blood to Man

Hospital authorities sent word to the State Health Department blood bank at Lansing that Shirley Griffiths, 59, who underwent surgery for an uncler condition, needed two pints of type O, RH negative blood, a comparatively rare type.

State Police at Lansing took the blood to troopers at Charlotte, battle Creek State Police then relayed the consignment to men from the White Pigeon post, who carried it to Sturgis.

Ousted Minister Holds Service Despite Bishop

NEW YORK (INS) — The Rev. William Howard Melish, ousted from his parish last Jan. 10 by the vestry, held services yesterday at Brooklyn's Holy Trinity Episcopal Church pending a court hearing on the dismissal.

Fanatic Slays Wife, Two Sons

Indiana Sunday School Teacher Kills Family After Deity Claim

MARTINSVILLE, Ind. (AP)—A 31-year-old Sunday school teacher who police said thinks he is Jesus Christ killed his wife and two sons with a shotgun yesterday.

"This is doomsday and I sent them to heaven," Robert Heckman, a truck driver, told Sheriff Victor Young after he was picked up at the home of his father.

The naked bodies of Rick, 11, and Chad, 10, were found lying in a bathtub full of water in the Heckman home at Brooklyn, 11 miles north of here. Outside the bathroom in the hall lay the body of Mrs. Jane E. Heckman, 30.

Young said Heckman told him in an oral statement that he shot his wife, then killed the boys.

The sheriff said Heckman, a former farmer who taught Sunday school classes at the Brooklyn Methodist Church, "believes he is Jesus Christ. He gave that as his name when I asked him."

The Morgan County grand jury will be called tomorrow to consider the case, Sheriff Young said. No charges were filed.

Young said he was told Heckman was treated at a private mental institution in Indianapolis last September.

Reveal 136-Year-Old Secret

Briton Islanders Gleeful; Dog Buying Now Legal

SARK, Channel Islands (AP)— A dog limit law, long observed on Sark, has been exposed as a legal ghost.

Musty archives have given up a secret 136 years old, and a man who covets a Corgi, fancies a Chihuahua no longer is dogged by the threat of jail.

In fact, no reason exists why any of Sark's 500 dwellers can't dash out forthwith and purchase a dog. And it all came to light by accident.

Not long ago a nose count of the island's dog population was taken, and it developed there were 75 of them. Officials recalled that under a law passed by the Sark parliament in 1785, the maximum number of dogs was fixed at 40—one for each of the original 16th Century settlers.

LOOKS GRIM

The future looked grim, and there were sad faces in the audience when parliament convened to consider the problem.

Then up stepped Hilary Carre, the island's Greiffer, or Chancellor of the Exchequer, still dusty from research in the yellowing statutes of long ago. He had great news.

It was true that a 40-dog law was passed in 1785. But the records plainly showed that it had been repealed quietly in 1820.

It still is the law, Carre said, that only one person on the island is permitted to own a female dog. Under a statute dating back to the middle of the 1500's, that right belongs at present to the hereditary Dame of Sark—Mrs. Sibyl Hathaway.

Mrs. Hathaway owns a French poodle named Bella.

How did Mrs. Hathaway take the news?

"I", she said, "am going to start breeding poodles."

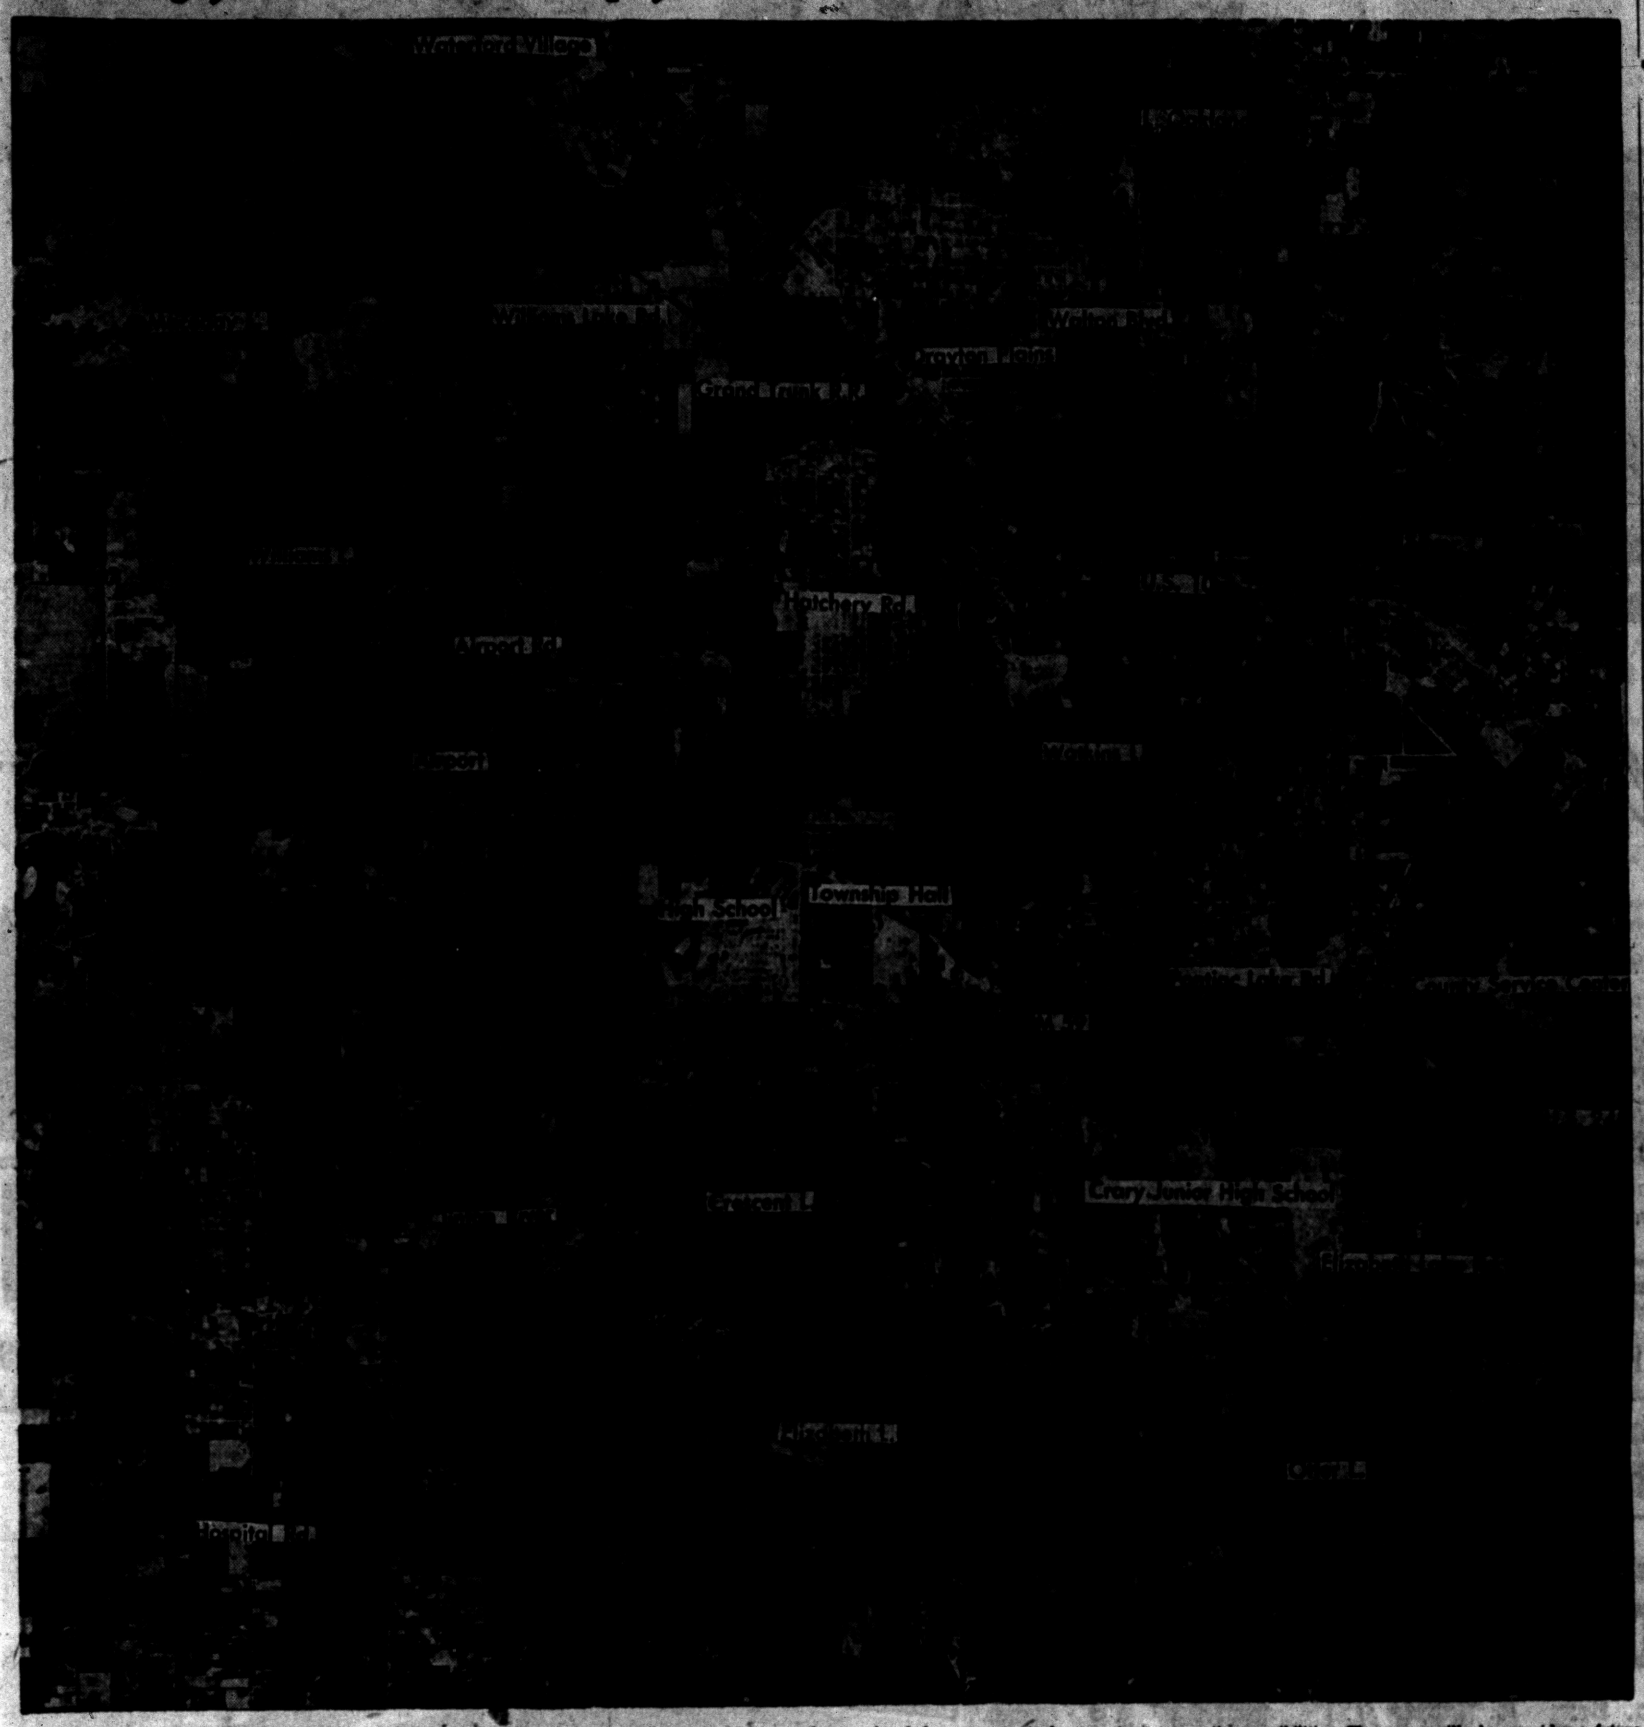
City, Township, or Part of Pontiac?



FUTURE STATUS STUDIED—An aerial view of Waterford Township shows the area which is the subject of a current analysis by an 11-member annexation advisory committee of the Pontiac Chamber of Commerce. The question will also be a topic at a future meeting under the sponsorship of the Waterford Junior Chamber of Commerce, members of which recently spearheaded arrangements for a town meeting on incorporation which attracted more than 1,000 area residents. The Pontiac Chamber has announced that the advisory committee may consult with Basil G. Zimmer, resident director of the social science research project at the University of Michigan, about annexation possibilities. The group will also consider a future meeting with Zimmer to which residents of Waterford and Pontiac will be invited.

Says Michigan Professor

Electronics May Solve Traffic Control Problems

The possibility that every large city may have its own electronic computer team in the future to test proposed traffic control measures in advance was raised last week by a University of Michigan engineer.

Harry H. Goode, professor of electrical engineering, told the annual meeting of the Highway Research Board of the National Research Council that computers can be used to simulate the flow of traffic through busy intersections, spot the causes of tie-ups and evaluate changes designed to alleviate the situation.

This simulation has the advantage of solving in split seconds problems too complex for human mathematical analysis, Professor Goode said, yet it does not affect traffic until an answer has been found, unlike trial-and-error methods.

And as the situations being studied increase in complexity, computer simulation appears to be the "only feasible method" of attack, the speaker said.

"The simulation model is not another method for accomplishing what we can do today," the highway researchers were told. "Rather, it is a tool for solving problems that cannot be solved today."

HUMAN LIMITATIONS

Professor Goode pointed out that traffic engineers are now unable to predict the effect of changes at one street intersection on adjacent intersections. This is within the capabilities of an electronic computer, however, he added.

The speaker described studies at the University of Michigan in which an "intersection" was set up on the Engineering Research Institute's MIDAC computer and the passage of cars under the control of a traffic light, approximated.

The number of cars that approached the intersection, passed straight through or turned right or left was varied, as well as car speeds and the length of time the light was red or green.

In this way it was possible to determine the average delay per car and to find and eliminate the causes of traffic jams.

By linking intersections together on computers traffic engineers could reproduce conditions in a section of a city, Professor Goode noted.

PREDICTS DEGREE

Equally important in Professor Goode's mind is the possibility that a computer might first be used to show whether large or small improvements can be expected from today's traffic control measures.

If small, traffic control funds might better be used to widen streets, build new roads or spread out cities, he said; if large, the computer will then point the way toward the most effective traffic control programs.

About three years would be required to adapt computer techniques to the study of traffic problems, Professor Goode reported. In the first year, a library of "routines," or activities at individual intersections under varying conditions, would be collected.

During the next year, an attempt would be made to simulate traffic in a small, relatively isolated community where drivers are bottlenecked to and from work in a large city. In the third year, the findings could be adapted to larger cities.

"It is possible to imagine a time in the future when every large city will have its modeling team and computer which the traffic engineer will use as a tool to try out projected changes, assuring himself of a smooth transition to a new optimum use of his city's traffic facilities," Professor Goode said.

MAY SHARE COMPUTERS

"Small communities, unable to afford a large machine, would band together, perhaps under state auspices, to use a single large machine. Since the model, once developed, can be changed with relatively little effort, even small communities will be able to develop the technique without having a machine standing by."

Professor Goode also spoke of the use of computers to study the effectiveness of automatic systems now used to regulate traffic flow.

And should the time come when cars will have to be individually guided through cities by some overall monitoring system—as Professor Goode believes to be inevitable—then the computer is the "ideal instrument" for studying the necessary techniques without interfering with actual traffic.

Congregations Hear Ministers

Pastor From Ann Arbor Addresses Fellowship of Five Churches

The First Congregational Church, E. Huron at Mill St. was the place of worship last night for Inter-Church Fellowship.

The evening opened at 5:45 with the singing of hymns.

"God's Laws" was the subject of the Bible lesson given by the Rev. Walter Young, chaplain of the Cranbrook School for boys.

Dr. Milton H. Bank of the Central Methodist Church introduced the speaker of the evening, Dr. Merrill R. Abbey, pastor of the First Methodist Church, Ann Arbor, at the 7:30 service. Dr. Abbey spoke on "God's View—and Ours."

Charles Wilson, organist, presented a selection by Bach preceding the worship hour.

The invocation was given by the Rev. Lewis W. Towler, curate of All Saints Episcopal Church. He also read the Scripture lesson.

Five churches in the downtown area comprise the Fellowship: Lutheran Church of the Ascension, Central Methodist, First Congregational, First Presbyterian and All Saints Episcopal.

Dock Strike Closes Australian Harbors

SYDNEY (INS) — Some 24,000 Australian dockworkers went on strike in 53 ports today.

Following a cabinet meeting, Prime Minister Robert G. Menzies appealed for a solution of the strike by arbitration. He said lengthy paralysis of the nation's docks could have disastrous consequences for Australia's trade balance and overseas reserves.

The walkout followed a breakdown in negotiations between dockers and shipowners. Workers seek increased pay and better working conditions.

The walkout began at midnight and representatives of the dockers said the men were prepared to "dig in" for six months if necessary to win their demands.

Brother Nabs Brother in Bank Robbery

MARION, Ohio (AP) — Hollywood would be hard pressed to plot a bank robbery with more human drama than the one that ended here yesterday with the arrest of three men and recovery of loot estimated at between $10,000 and $50,000.

An assistant bank cashier, his wife and mother-in-law were held as hostages by the robbers. All safe and unharmed after a five-hour, early-morning ordeal, they are Ralph C. Hurr, a bank employe for 20 years, and his wife Alma, both 66, and her mother Mrs. Carolyn Sulser, 88.

THREE ARRESTED

Taken into custody were Willard Lee Ciola, 20; Duane Charles Packer, 26; and Donald Francis Kimberling, 23. All live in the Marion area.

Police Chief Thomas Coon said the trio would be charged today with bank robbery and kidnaping.

The father of Ciola is the bank janitor.

Police said they knew in advance the robbery was going to take place, and they had "staked out" the area. They did not elaborate.

The chain of events began shortly after midnight when the robbers gained entrance to the Hurr home through trickery. At gunpoint, they obtained his bank keys and the combination to the night depository safe at the bank.

One man went to the bank and attempted to open the safe. He failed and returned to the Hurr home. Two of the men then accompanied Hurr to the bank and forced the assistant cashier to open the safe. But they took Hurr back to his home, where their companion held the women hostages, before returning for the money.

On the third trip to the bank, the police, who had been in hiding nearby, closed in and caught Ciola and Packer with little difficulty. Kimberling was arrested at Hurr's house.

FUEL FOR FLAME — Italian workmen store the huge fuel containers which will keep the Olympic Torch burning brightly during the Winter Games from Jan. 26 to Feb. 5. The traditional flame will be lighted on the top of the big ice stadium at Cortina with the Olympic Torch carried from Greece to Athens by relays of athletes. More than a thousand will compete on the ice and snow during the event.

Thinks Red Chinese Killed 10 Million Over 6 Years

TOKYO (AP) — A veteran Japanese diplomat said today "reports I have heard" indicate the Chinese Communists have executed "more than 10 million" persons since taking over the China mainland six years ago.

Shinkichi Yoshizawa, prewar foreign minister and former ambassador to Nationalist China, told the Japan People's Diplomatic Assn.: "I believe they have killed more than 10 million antirevolutionaries."

New F101 Plane Flies More Than 1,000 M.P.H.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The McDonnell F101 Voodoo, probably the biggest, heaviest and longest-ranged fighter in the world, is reported to have flown faster than 1,000 miles an hour a number of times.

Informed sources said today it has flown faster than 1,100 miles an hour at least once, and has exceeded 1,050 miles an hour perhaps half a dozen times.

It also is believed to be supersonic in climbing as well as in level flight. The Voodoo has two Pratt and Whitney J57 jet engines.

It is known that a number of Voodoos are in operation. Estimates of the number that have flown range between 20 and 30. They are said to have performed impressively at altitudes up to 50,000 feet and above.

The Air Force maintains a strict lid on information about the plane, destined for duty with the Strategic Air Command as a long-range bomber escort.

New Walton School Contracts to Be Given

Contracts for construction of the Walton Boulevard Elementary School are scheduled to be awarded tomorrow at 5 p.m. during a special Pontiac Board of Education meeting at 40 Patterson St.

The school, to serve the district's northeast section, will be located on Dexter road about 600 feet north of Walton, Dr. Otto C. Hufziger, building coordinator, said.

Planned for completion by next September, it will have eight classrooms, two kindergartens and a multi-purpose room.

Dem Leader Takes Issue With 'Brink of War' Claim

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. McCormack of Massachusetts, the House Democratic leader, said yesterday congressional leaders advised caution on a plan for U. S. participation in the Indochina war in 1954.

McCormack thus took indirect issue with the claim attributed to Secretary of State Dulles, in a controversy-stirring article in a national magazine, that "strong action" by the Eisenhower administration had prevented U.S. involvement in Indochina and in two other crises.

* * *

Magazine editor Henry R. Luce, in a statement Saturday, said that "if anything in our account of the secretary's position caused any misunderstanding among our readers or the public, we heartily regret it."

FAULT COMPOUNDED

Luce, a supporter of President Eisenhower, said any fault on his part "was furiously compounded by those who, for the moment, put prejudice or personal advantage above the best interests of the United States."

On the basis of the article, Dulles has been roundly criticized by a number of Democrats and by some segments of the British press.

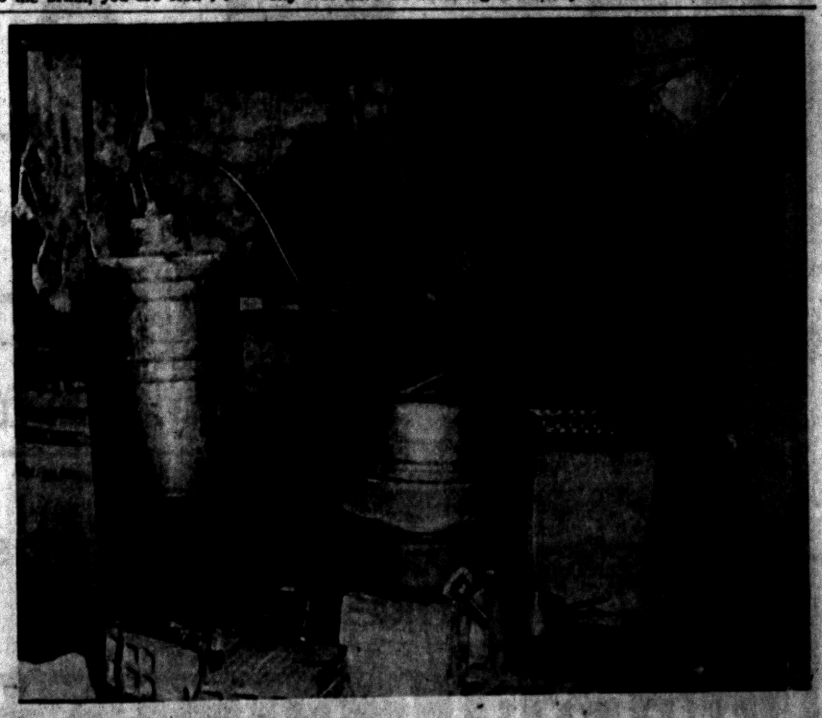
The secretary said last week the article was necessarily oversimplified in its emphasis on some aspects of foreign policy.

Luce said the magazine was responsible for both the "substance and phraseology" of the article. He described as unfortunate the choice of words in the headline and in a caption of the front cover which read: "The Times at Brink of War; How Dulles Gambled and Won."

That was an allusion to a quotation which was attributed to Dulles: "Of course we were brought to the verge of war. The ability to get to the verge without getting into the war is the necessary art . . . If you are scared to go to the brink, you are lost. . ."

Midshipmen at the U. S. Naval academy at Annapolis must be at least five feet, five and one-half inches tall and may not weigh less than 112 pounds.



"HIT'S THE REVENOOERS, MAW" — While proprietor Hazen H. Reed (left) watches helplessly, Det. William Nesbitt of the Pontiac Police Vice Squad examines a 30-gallon still and cooling apparatus in the basement of Reed's Oxford Township house. The still and 14 gallons of moonshine whisky were confiscated, 160 gallons of corn mash were dumped, and the barrels destroyed in a raid last night. The raid was led by Pontiac Police and Oakland County Sheriff's deputies.

THE LITTLE DOG SHOW—1

The Scottie

Each dog has his special place so the judges can see him. On the wall is his entry number and the name of the junior editor entering him. In front of each dog is a name panel showing his complete name and his pet name.

The first entry, a Scotch terrier, is Bonnie Brae Mac Gregor, but his owner, Maggie, calls him Mac. His breed originated in Scotland and makes a good watch dog and a fine pet.

Mac is dark grey, almost black, and has a red collar. Maggie's coat is green, cap red with green ribbons, skirt red and plaid yellow and blue. Her stockings are green. The background could be a light blue.

Cut out around the name panel and fold as shown in the small sketch. The dog and Maggie fold forward and the other parts as indicated. Then they will stand up ready for judging.

Bar to Sponsor Debate

DETROIT (AP) — The question "Should Labor Unions Be Made Subject to the Anti-Trust Laws" will be debated by two Detroit attorneys Jan. 28, at a meeting sponsored by the State Bar of Michigan. Bethel B. Kelley will present the affirmative side. Harold A. Cranefield, general counsel of the United Auto Workers, will present the negative. Dean Charles H. King of the Detroit College of Law will be the moderator.

London's present foremost "Pearly King", John Marriott, has 25,000 pearly buttons on his suit and nearly 2,000 sewed into his cap.

Trap Ducks in Net

LELAND (AP) — Commercial fishermen in the area may turn duck hunters — using the same nets they employ in their regular work. They report a day's lift of nets from the Lake Michigan bottom commonly yields up to a dozen ducks which dive after fish — up to 150 feet below the surface — and become trapped in the twine.

THE BERRYS By Carl Grubert

'We British Jazz Chaps Are the 'Slickest' Combo Yet'

LONDON (AP)—British and American jazz musicians have decided to play in harmony again after 23 years of making rude noises at each other.

To show there's no more hard feeling, their unions are going to permit a swap of jazz orchestras.

Stan Kenton, the tall, piano-playing papa of American "progressive jazz" in the States will arrive here March 9 for a month's tour of Britain.

Three weeks later, Britain's Ted Heath takes off for New York with his big, brassy outfit. It has topped the popularity polls in Britain since the end of World War II.

For the first time since 1935, big names in the jazz world have broken through a trade union barrier in both Britain and the United States, built to protect musicians' jobs from foreign encroachment.

Both tours are booked solid. The agents handling Kenton's say they have four times as many offers as the American maestro could fill if he played four dates a day.

Grey-haired Ted Heath—who played his trombone on street corners when times were tough—is planning his American visit with the precision of a field marshal going into battle.

SHOW 'EM SLICK

"There's nothing I can teach the Americans about music," he says. "But there's a lot we can show them in precision and slick presentation."

He's already packed his 18 players off to tailors for spanking new royal blue uniforms, with gold crests and crowns on the pockets.

"We shall open all our concerts with modern British fanfares played on state trumpets hung with red velvet banners," he said.

Heath plans to point up the contrast between his own disciplined combination, and what he calls the carelessness of American bands. After visiting the United States last year, Heath reported "an apathy and lack of discipline among both audiences and musicians."

British fans won't care if Kenton's jazzmen play in their pajamas. The breezy American outfit has no competitor in this country, and Kenton's discs top all the popularity polls for progressive jazz.

Minnesotans Like It Cold — Even at 45 Below Zero

BEMIDJI, Minn. (AP)—In the land of fabled lumberjack Paul Bunyan, weather-wise natives moved in the even tenor of their way today, unimpressed by a weekend subzero siege that would curdle a less hardy breed.

Bemidji has long since been inured to cold and has learned to live with it.

How cold is 45 below?

Cold enough to cause an atmospheric freak—the illusion of three suns shining through air so frigid it is literally breathtaking.

Cold enough to sometimes freeze the sap inside trees and to send out crackling reports loud as gunfire when the sap expands and splits the trees.

And cold enough to bring sympathetic telegrams to Bemidji, International Falls and other northern Minnesota communities from places like Miami, Phoenix and Los Angeles. But the sympathy, by and large, is wasted.

The cold is almost a matter of as much pride as the sunshine in California and Florida. Bemidji and International Falls vie for "icebox" honors.

"When it's real cold it's always calm and clear. You get up in the morning and see three suns, all shining with almost equal brilliance. The one in the middle is the real sun, the other two are sun dogs.

"The brilliant white smoke from the chimneys will rise straight up for 30 or 40 feet and then when it becomes weighted down with ice particles it will drop down to street level and produce a shimmering, glimmering effect in the air."

Ainley feels sorry for the "smog-ridden and flu-ridden" natives of other sections who don't get the benefit of Bemidji's pure and invigorating climate.

Pipe Dream Spurts

LOS ANGELES (AP)—When black stuff bubbled up through his front lawn and ran down the street, George Argentin thought he had an oil gusher in his yard. He had, all right, but after an estimated 300 barrels had spouted, it was found to be from a broken oil pipe line belonging to the Standard Oil Co. The gusher was pinched off by a company crew.

Hal Boyle Says:

American Wives Exploiting Their Hubbies

Do American wives really exploit their husbands?

Mrs. Sidonia Gruenberg, an authority on family life, detects a tendency in young wives to take advantage of their husbands by having them do too much housework.

Mrs. Gruenberg, who headed the Child Study Assn. of America for a quarter century, objects to this "selfish use of a husband for a wife's personal advantage without regard to his own need."

She feels this husband-exploitation is probably an unconscious feminine reaction against past generations of wife-exploitation by husbands.

But, warning that a man who is forced to do too many maid chores may start staying away from home, Mrs. Gruenberg advances this revolutionary thought:

HE'LL CRY

Well, naturally, kind words like this are enough to make the average husband break right down and cry out of pure gratitude. He isn't used to being appreciated. He is more accustomed to being ridiculed.

The European male for some time now has looked down on the American husband as a forlorn puppet of his womenfolk."

Manhood in America takes a beating from almost every quarter. It is drummed into men from birth now that they are intelligently inferior to women, emotionally more unstable, shorter-lived, and more susceptible to disease and accidents. The knight has lost his armor. Man has become the second sex.

HE'S A DOLT

In the popular family situation comedies on television the husband is generally portrayed as an oafish dolt around the house who is eternally being outwitted by his children and who couldn't even hold his job except for the shrewd behind-the-scenes machinations of his wife. He never gets a raise from his boss. She gets it for him.

America's march toward matriarchy goes steadily forward.

Frankly speaking, Mrs. Gruenberg's friendly pat on the back for the U. S. husband, as welcome as it is unexpected, has probably come too late.

It is doubtful whether most husbands want to be the king in their own castle again and rule the roost as they once did.

To be a boss carries with it the penalty of having to shoulder a lot of responsibility, and many men are tired of responsibility. Why not let a woman be the boss, and lean on her warm comforting shoulder? It's easier.

HE'LL LISTEN

Why should a husband holler about drying a few dishes and manicuring a few rugs for a smart wife who can take most of the rest of life's burdens from him, tell him when to blow his nose, and how to make more money at the office?

As a matter of fact, why not instead do so much around the house that the wife will have time to become a family breadwinner, too? One fourth of the nation's married women now hold down outside jobs, and more will.

It is too late to stay the steady reversals of the traditional roles of husband and wife. The man has come into the kitchen to stay. He's at home by the range there.

No, don't take away Papa's new household chores. About the only manly pride he has left is his belief that, while Mama may beat him in any other field, he at least can equal her as a housekeeper.

Airmen Still Digging Snow in Labrador

ST. JOHNS, Nfld. (AP) — Five thousand American and Canadian airmen at the Goose Bay air base in Labrador are still digging out after the worst blizzard in the history of the base.

Thirty-six inches of snow fell there Jan. 13-19, bringing the total for January so far to a record 58 inches. The previous high mark—56 inches for all January—was recorded in 1952.

Winds piled drifts 15 feet high across the 10,000-foot runways. An emergency strip was kept open but only one plane flew in during the storm.

Despondent Mother Kills Children, Self

PALOS VERDES ESTATES, Calif. (AP)—Police termed it suicide and double murder yesterday when the bodies of a mother and her two small children were found huddled in a car 100 feet from a church.

The dead were identified as Mrs. Betty Lou Brewer, 32, her son Terry, 4 and daughter Susan, 3. Police Chief J. A. Smith said a vacuum cleaner hose ran from the exhaust into the car.

Mrs. Brewer's husband Everett told officers he knew of no reason why his wife, a former airline stewardess, might want to kill herself and the children.

Waterford high school's cheerleaders gave Berkley's basketball team some moral support in their game on the Skipper court Friday night. The car carrying the Berkley pep leaders was involved in an accident on the way to the game and its occupants were taken to the hospital. As a result, it was late in the game before some of the cheerleaders finally got there. In the meantime, upon hearing the news, the junior girls among Waterford's cheerleaders, led the yells for the Berkley section. They must have done a pretty good job, Berkley won 32-31.

Accuracy of Terriers Keeps Club Undefeated

"Why, some of my boys can shoot with the accuracy of the professionals," Lynch said today. "And that's one of the big secrets of their success. They can shoot with the best of them."

Whatever it is, the Terriers have run up 11 victories without a defeat and currently are one of the four remaining major unbeaten basketball teams in the country. San Francisco, Dayton and Temple are the others.

In his seven years at the St. Francis Helm, Lynch never has had a losing season. That's a mighty good record for a school that didn't go over an enrollment of 500 until this year.

This is a young team. Three of its regulars, Al Innis, Tony d'Elia and Les Yellin, are sophomores, but, as Lynch pointed out, they are experienced sophs. Because St. Francis didn't have 500 students last year, the NCAA permitted freshmen to perform on varsity teams.

"I know any one of these kids can get out on the floor and play a full game without being knocked out," he said.

The Terriers have 10 games still to go on their 21-game schedule including some toughies. Their meeting with Seton Hall this Thursday will be a rough assignment. Saturday, they overcame St. John's 76-73. That was the one in which most the experts thought the Terriers would drop.

Warriors Pull Away in NBA Cage Race

The basket-a-minute Philadelphia Warriors are beginning to pull away again in the Eastern division race of the National Basketball Association.

The Warriors hiked their lead to 2½ games over Boston yesterday by belting the Celtics, 129 to 115, before a Boston Garden crowd of 7,507.

Olympic Games Last for Two Canadian Stars

CORTINA D'AMPEZZO, Italy (AP)—Frances Dafoe and Norris Bowden, world figure skating pairs champions, today said they will retire at the close of the present winter season. The two Canadians are strong favorites to win the Olympic title in the games opening here Thursday.

"This definitely is our last season," te Toronto born skaters said. "We'll call it quits after the world championships at Garmisch, Germany, next month."

Miss Dafoe, 26, and Norris, 29, have won two world titles and four Canadian and North American championships since becoming a team at the Toronto Skating Club in the late 1930s.

Hawks, Purdue Tangle in 2nd Place Argument

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Struggling to remain within range of league-leading Illinois, Iowa's defending Big Ten basketball champions invade dangerous Purdue tonight in a battle for 2nd place.

Hawkeyes (3-1) disposed of Michigan in a nationally televised game at Ann Arbor Saturday 78-67, while Purdue posted its 4th Big Ten triumph in six games by nipping Ohio State, 70-69.

Should Purdue beat Iowa, Boilermakers would become the winningest team in the conference since idle Illinois has a 4-0 record.

Northwestern, still seeking its 1st conference triumph, is at Ohio State in the only other Big Ten game tonight.

Iowa beat Michigan at the free throw line, scoring 28 out of 32 charity shots. Michigan outshot the Hawks from the field 27-35 but couldn't overcome Iowa's free throw accuracy.

Bob Bonhomme scored only one basket for Purdue Saturday night but it was a big one which tagged Ohio State with its 2nd loss. Bonhomme scored the game's final basket with 20 seconds left after Robin Freeman had put Ohio State ahead, 69-68. Freeman netted 24 points for scoring honors.

Illinois returns to action in a non-conference game against DePaul Saturday in a Chicago doubleheader which pits Eastern Kentucky against Loyola of Chicago in the 2nd game.

Ohio State is at Michigan State and Northwestern is at Minnesota in conference games Saturday.

McCoy Hits 32 to Lead MSU

Spartans Move Up in Big Ten With 80-69 Win Over Gophers

EAST LANSING (AP)—One more foul would have put him out of the game, but forward Julius McCoy nevertheless racked up 32 points to pace Michigan State to an 80-69 victory over Minnesota in a Big Ten basketball game Saturday night.

McCoy was tagged with four fouls in the first half while hooping 18 points to give the Spartans a 34-28 edge at the intermission. Playing cautiously in the second half to avoid being ejected from the game he tossed in 14 more.

RED WING TRAINER TENDS GOAL — Lefty Wilson, assistant trainer for the Detroit Red Wings took over the goaltending chores for the Toronto Maple Leafs after goalie Harry Lumley injured his knee in the third period last night. Wilson held the Wings scoreless for the 13 minutes he was in the net.

Howe, Lindsay Score Twice to Beat Leafs

Wilson Is Goal Tender for Toronto in Last 13 Minutes

Lefty had to step into the nets against his Detroit Red Wings in a National Hockey League game last night. He was great for the Toronto Maple Leafs.

There was still 13 minutes to go in the engagement. Sinces the Leaf's didn't take along a spare goaltender, Wilson was the logical choice. He's also Detroit's practice goalie.

Wilson didn't allow the Wings a goal and made some nice saves. The Wings were leading 4-1 when he donned the pads. That was the final score. When Wilson wasn't stopping Detroit drives he was yelling at the Leafs to get the puck up the ice.

The 13,861 customers got a big kick when Wilson, who was a minor-league goalie in the Detroit system for several years, put on a Leaf jersey. The roared with laughter as Lefty pounced on nine Detroit shots.

It marked the second time Wilson had subbed in the nets in his seven seasons with Detroit. Two years ago he played the last two periods of a game in Montreal when Terry Sawchuk, then the Wings' regular guardian, was hurt.

The Detroiters, who pulled into a second-place tie with the Rangers, had the game well in hand. They were led by the two-goal performances of Gordie Howe and Ted Lindsay.

The only Leaf goal was scored by Tod Sloan. It was his 27th of the season. Sloan and Howe are tied in the goal-getting race but Gordie leads the NHL scoring parade with 53 points.

It was a different story at Toronto Saturday. Big George Armstrong scored two goals and an assist in pacing the Leafs to victory, their 18th in 45 starts. The loss broke Detroit's winning streak at six games. The Wings with 51 points are 14 behind the league-leading Montreal Canadiens.

Beats American

Italian Bobsledder Winner

CORTINA D'AMPEZZO (AP) — Italy's Eugenio Monti piloted his two-man bobsled to a split second lead over America's Bud Washbond today in the first official elimination races for the Winter Olympic Games.

Italy's little ex-ski champion whooshed his garish red and yellow sled down Cortina's 1,700-meter course (109 yards more than a mile) in one minute, 22.56 seconds after setting a course record of 1:22.38 in an earlier trial run.

Washbond, a gaugemaker from East Hartford, Conn., plunged down the 16-curve track in 1:22.91, the best time ever by a non-Italian on the run.

Each bob drove one official heat today after a purely practice trial run. Each will drive another official run tomorrow and the eliminations are based on the best total times for two heats.

Hawkeye Height Is UM Downfall

Iowa Trips Wolverines, 78-67 in National TV Game Saturday

ANN ARBOR (AP)—Two big men proved much too much for the Michigan basketball team and the Wolverines bowed to defending Big Ten champion Iowa, 78-67, in a nationally televised game Saturday.

Bill Logan and Bill Schoof, a pair of 6-foot-6 forwards swished the ball through the hoops for a total of 50 points for the Hawkeyes. Logan hit for 28 and Schoof for 22.

Football end Ron Kramer was top scorer for the Wolverines with 23 points, 10 of them coming in the early moments of the contest when the lead changed hands a dozen times before Iowa began to move.

The Hawkeyes, who held a 39-35 halftime advantage, hit on 25 of 56 field goal tries to Michigan's 27 of 81. But it was Iowa's greater team height and deadly foul shooting—28 of 32—which spelled Michigan's downfall.

Union Lake Enters Hockey Finals After 3-2 Victory

The victory entitles Union Lake to meet Nestor's All-Stars in the championship final this Saturday afternoon at the North Side rink as part of the Pontiac Ice Carnival. The double-elimination tourney is sponsored by the Parks and Recreation Department.

Cook's winning goal came with only 10 seconds of regulation play left. Jim Swartz and Gary Emery each tallied a goal for the winners, both in the 1st period. Dale Beers scored both goals for Dick & Wes in the 1st and 2nd stanzas.

Nestor's All-Stars trounced Lake Orion in an exhibition game Saturday morning, 5-1. Bob Fargher and Lynn Salathiel slammed in two goals apiece and Tom Bryce chalked up the other for Nestor's. Lake Orion's lone goal was scored by Paul Raychok.

Adrian Sports Chief Resigns

Athletic Director Quits Post; Cagers Without Coach for Game

Fortunato also has been serving as head coach of football, basketball and other sports.

The resignations are effective immediately with the school paying up their contracts to the end of the present term, Feb. 29. Dr. Dawson said Fortunato and Thompson offered their resignations in a joint letter.

Fortunato, formerly football line coach at University of Toledo, came to Adrian in 1953. His basketball team won the MIAA basketball championship in 1954-55 when Adrian had won-lost record of 21-4 for its best record under the Fortunato regime.

Adrian's football team had a 4-5 record last season.

Dons Set Sights on New Win Mark in College Basketball

By The Associated Press

It's put-up-or-shut-up for a number of ambitious hopefuls in conference races this week while the San Francisco Dons make a pitch for an all-time winning record in major college basketball.

San Francisco tries for its 40th consecutive success Saturday in a game with California as college schedules, after a lull because of mid-term examinations, stage a comeback. The Dons themselves will have been idle 15 days when they meet the Pacific Coast Conference entry.

The last time out, San Francisco routed Fresno State to tie the major college winning streak record of 39 set by Long Island U. in 1935-37 and matched by Seton Hall in 1939-41.

While the Dons have been on the shelf, Dayton's Flyers have taken the spotlight to press San Francisco for the No. 1 ranking in The Associated Press poll. The Flyers have had some recent scares, but they're now 14-0 for the season. San Francisco is 13-0.

Xavier of Ohio gave Dayton a bit of a fright Saturday night, but after blowing a 19-point lead, the Flyers came on to win 81-73.

The other two major college unbeatens also stayed that way over the weekend. Temple (11-0) walloped Lehigh 72-44 and St. Francis of Brooklyn (11-0) edged its borough rival, St. John's 76-73.

Dayton, busy with exams for five days, faces a big challenge Saturday in a game with Louisville (15-1). Temple plays Delaware Thursday and Navy Saturday. St. Francis has a job ahead against Seton Hall Thursday and then play Ithaca, N.Y. Saturday.

Those are just some of the "test" games on tap this week. Iowa and Purdue, two ambitious Big 10 Conference entries, get things started tonight in a scrap for second place behind idle Illinois.

Colorado (3-0), trying to repeat as Big 7 champ, returns to action tonight at Iowa State. The Cyclones are a disappointing 1-2 after winning the conference tournament, but they can be tough at home.

Winter Games Open Jan. 26

CORTINA D'AMPEZZO, Italy (AP) —If Cortina's hard ice and melting snows hold out for three more days, the 1956 Winter Olympics promise to be the fastest and perhaps the most hazardous on record.

The games open officially on Thursday, although the first events of the 10-day spectacle are not scheduled until Friday. But already records and bones have been shattered in this little resort which is swarming with the world's greatest skiers, skaters and bobsledders.

While veteran experts wondered who would be injured next, and they freely predicted there would be more casualties, the International Olympic Committee began its annual meeting.

Nothing startling was expected to be forthcoming, although IOC President Avery Brundage of Chicago said the "perplexing" question of televising the games would be discussed.

Some other contestants said Grishin jumped the gun and an official admitted there might have been a bad start. The question will be studied, but even so, most experts agreed Grishin would have done 40.5 with a normal start.

The Italians, who are working on their "home" course, cracked both the two-man and four-man bobsled marks for the run with respective times of 1:19.52 and 1:22.79.

Despite the fantastic times, even better ones are expected. The Swedes and Americans both are hinting at "mystery sleds" they plan to introduce. Speeds are increasing to such an extent that one old-hand said he wouldn't be surprised to "see one of those sleds just take off."

Only yesterday, the No. 2 American four-man team's sled, piloted by Monroe Flagg of Saranac Lake, N.Y., went out of control, and the crew miraculously escaped injury.

Meanwhile, skiers from 15 nations have been practicing on the steep, well-prepared but icy slopes of Tofana mountain for the downhill and slalom events. The bumpy, winding courses already have taken a heavy toll in injuries.

Iba Brothers Ready to Battle in MVC Encounter

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Henry Iba's Oklahoma Aggies, off to a fast start at home in the Missouri Valley basketball race, open a series of four tough road games this week at Tulsa, where Hank is expecting nothing but the worst from brother Clarence Iba's last-place Hurricanes.

The Aggies (2-0) are tied with St. Louis (4-0) for the valley lead while Tulsa (0-3) has lost four straight, three at home, after an amazing 10-1 start that included the all-college tourney championship.

This makes the Cowpokes ripe for an upset and Tulsa much overdue Saturday in the second of two Valley games this wek. Tulsa plays at Houston (4-2) tonight.

The St. Louis-Cincinnati battle Saturday at St. Louis involving two nationally-ranked twice-beaten clubs heads this week's six-game schedule with outside foes.

The Valley won both non-league games last week, extending its intersectional mastery to 52 won, 16 lost, a .765 percentage.

Bradley takes on Drake Thursday and Marquette Saturday in a two-game road trip. Wichita (1-3) entertains Oklahoma City Tuesday. Detroit (2-5) plays at Drake Saturday.

Wichita, playing a rugged schedule, is proud of its 6-4 intersectional record, but all other teams in the double-tough valley are doing better. This shows in this sparkling string of overall records—St. Louis 11-2, Oklahoma A&M 11-3, Houston 10-3, Tulsa 10-5, Bradley 9-5 and Detroit 9-6.

Benefit Game Not Allowed

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — It would take a new law to permit convicts to leave a California prison to play a baseball game for flood relief.

That was the reply of Richard A. McGee, state corrections director, to a suggestion that a Folsom Prison team be allowed to play such a game in Sacramento. It's 20 miles to Folsom.

Bill Conlin, Sacramento Union sports editor who made the suggestion, estimated such a game would net $5,000 to aid victims of Northern California's persistent floods.

The Unafraid—One Shining Light

By GRANTLAND RICE

Unlock the door upon Time's ancient vaults
And you will find this record in the rust,
That life is full of virtues and of faults
That melt and mingle in the age-old dust;
But there is still one shining light that throws
Its guiding beacon to the vast parade—
I lift my glass and drink—The Unafraid!

This life knows one great scourge—and that is fear;
Defeat and loneliness—poverty and pain,
The crash of dreams, when coming night is near,
Or haunting shadows that surround the brain—
The fist of Fate that falls upon the soul—
Where, here and there, a few, still undismayed,
Look through the flame of battle to the goal—
I lift my glass and drink—The Unafraid!

This is no world of softness, dreams and ease,
But greed and hate and sin and endless strife;
Where battled humans sail the storm-swept seas
To find somewhere the Holy Grail of life—
The Holy Grail of Courage—facing odds,
Taking the game, just as the game is played,
Unbeaten by the Fates—the breaks—the gods—

Souchak Wins Caliente Open

TIJUANA, Mexico (AP)—The touring professionals headed back across the border today for tournament play in California and leading the procession was Mike Souchak, who was loaded with loot.

Hefty Mike won the $12,500 Caliente Open with a 72-hole card of 281. The victory netted the engaging young pro $2,200 in cash and a trophy that is three feet high and must weigh a small ton.

"That's the biggest prize I ever got," said Souchak, who will keep it until the 1957 Caliente Open.

The presentation was made by Gen. Abelardo Rodriguez, former president of Mexico and president of the Tijuana Country Club, where the event was staged.

The 28-year-old ex-Duke football player had to come from behind to nail Tommy Bolt and win, and he did it with a last-round 71.

Mike led in the first two rounds, thanks to a whopping 65 and a 71. But Tommy took charge and was two blows in front going into the final 18 holes yesterday.

Putting was the key factor. Souchak sank his for birdies when they were needed. Tommy couldn't sink one to save his neck. He missed one of about 4 feet for a birdie, and one of only 30 inches on the ninth. It was on the sixth that Souchak collared Bolt and the ninth green where he passed him.

The lone long putt Tommy got was a 30-footer in the first round. Bolt won $1,500 for second place.

Tied for third place, at 284 were Marty Furgol, with a last-round 73, Mike Fetchik, a 71, and Rod Funseth, a brilliant young amateur prospect from Spokane, Wash., who had a 71.

The outcome for other name players: Gene Littler, a 73 for 285, Billy Maxwell, 68 for 286, Lionel Hebert 69, and his brother, Jay, 70, both for 287s, Bo Wininger, 80 for 292, and Frank Stranahan, 76 for 291.

On tap this week are the $15,000 Thunderbird Invitational at Palm Springs, and for those not invited there is the $5,000 Imperial Valley Open at Brawley, Calif.

St. Louis Keglers Oust Detroit Strohs

DETROIT (AP)—A new team—for the first time in four years—reigned today as National Match Game Bowling Champion. It was the St. Louis Budweisers.

With a record 26,248 pins for 24 games, the Budweisers snatched the crown last night from Buzz Fazio's Strohs of Detroit, champions three years hand running.

The Budweisers had a 747 pin edge at the end, Strohs' having clipped 86 from an impossible deficit of 833 in the last three games. Fazio's team had managed to win an afternoon block by only 10 pins and Saturday's blocks by only 122.

Led by Don Carter, former singles match game champion, the Budweisers ran up a lead of 956 pins in the first 12 games of the championship competition at St. Louis on the previous weekend, and they added six in their first Detroit block to bring it to 971.

The Budweiser total of 26,248 topped the old team record of 26,038 set in 1947 by Buddy Bomar's Kathryn team of Chicago. And the combined Budweiser-Strohs total of 51,749 topped the previous two-team competition record of 51,347 set in 1948 by Kathryn and E.&B. of Detroit.

Fazio, off his game in the early matches, came through the home series hot as a firecracker. But Carter was even hotter.

Strohs led in the final block 3421 to 3335, after wining the afternoon one 3314 to 3304.

Harbert Skids to Lose at Colombia

CALI, Colombia (AP)—Chick Harbert of Northville, Mich., blew a seven-stroke, third-round lead and finished eighth with only $275 prize money in the Colombian Open Golf Tournament.

Arnold Palmer of Latrobe, Pa., who had a seven-under-par 65 in the final round, won the championship and $1,800 first prize with a 72-hole total of 280.

LA Grid Choice Picks Montreal

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Hardiman Cureton, first-string guard on last season's UCLA Rose Bowl team, has signed with the Montreal Argonauts of Canada's Big Four professional football circuit.

Cureton, drafted last week by the Los Angeles Rams of the National Football League in the 26th round, said he was signed here Friday by Argonaut Assistant Coach Bill Earley.

The husky Negro said he was pretty much ignored by the Rams. "The fact that I was taken on the 26th round is a pretty good indication of how I stood with them," he said.

Free-for-All Mars U-M Win Over Spartan Icers

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Michigan blistered Michigan State, 7-1, in a rough Western Intercollegiate Hockey League game Saturday night which was cut 13 seconds short because of a free-for-all fight.

Fisticuffs flared while Michigan forward Morley's chin was undergoing repairs for an injury sustained in the penalty marked game. The Spartans wound up with 11 penalties to 10 for the Wolverines.

Five Michigan players figureed in the scoring, with forward Dick Dunnigan and center Tom Rendal leach tallying twice. The Wolverines jumped off to a 4-0 lead before Dave Hendrickson scored the lone Spartan goal in the second period.

Meanwhile, Michigan Tech's victory streak was halted at six by Minnesota. The hosting Gophers beat the Engineers, 3-2, in a game which also ended with a fight.

As the game ended, Dick Wilson of Michigan Tech and Minnesota's Ken Yackel traded punches and players of both teams joined in a brief melee. Police restored order and the lights were turned out to prevent further eruptions.

Minnesota tied the score at 2-2 in the opening seconds of the final period. The winning marker came about midway in the period when Yackel beat Tech goalie Bob McManus with a close in shot during a goal-mouth scramble.

Calhoun Finally Gets Main Event Chance

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Rory Calhoun, a young middleweight from White Plains, N.Y., who had to go West to make a name for himself, finally breaks into the main event class in his home area tonight with a 10-round match against Jerry Luedee of New Haven at St. Nicholas Arena in New York.

Frank Bachman, manager of the unbeaten Calhoun who has had only 16 pro fights, insists his boy should have been named "Rookie of the Year" for 1955 instead of Boston's Bob Murphy. Calhoun's latest success was a knockout over Charlie Salas at Los Angeles, Dec. 1.

HOOK OR REVERSE — Having trouble making those right-side spares? Then why not roll a reverse ball, or at least a straight ball from the left side of the alley?

The stars not so long ago argued against changing their hand position for right-hand spares, claiming it would affect their regular hook delivery.

Under today's conditions, however, with most alleys "running" or hooking sharply, the reverse or backup ball is becoming more general. And the troublesome No. 10 pin, away over there in the right-hand corner, is cause for little worry, with fewer errors.

Applying reverse (backup) spin is simple. It's merely a matter of turning the thumb to the right of ball center, as you grip it, and keeping the thumb in that position all the way, reaching out to a full follow-through, as sketch shows.

No wrist movement whatever. The important thing is to take your position well to the left of alley-center and face the object pin or pins. Turn your shoulders toward the target. Then go into your stride smoothly. No rush. No hurrying the swing. The slower the action, the better.

Cadillac

He's Looking for a Mountain!

You see, he knows what he has down under that beautiful hood—a great, powerful V-8 engine that's pulsing with life—and he's simply itching to give it the word!

But he is a sane and sensible driver, who stays within the regulations and observes the laws of common sense—and he knows he can't unleash that engine on a normal stretch of highway.

So he's looking for a big, long, steep hill. Maybe he can get the throttle down there for a short thrust—just to find out what it's like!

Well, maybe so—but even on a mountain, he won't use full throttle for long. For this car is powered far beyond all normal requirements.

Why, you might ask, is this so?

Well, in the judgment of Cadillac engineers, it's done for many reasons.

First of these is safety. A great reserve of power for the quick escape from an emergency is of the essence of highway safety. There is simply no substitute for it.

Then there's economy. A big, powerful engine that loafs at normal speeds permits the use of an axle ratio that makes for gasoline economy.

There is long life—for the absence of strain adds to the life of any mechanism.

And finally, there is the great riding and driving luxury that comes with extra power . . . the whisper-silent engine, the instant response to the throttle, the sense of safety and security.

Of course, luxuriant power is but one of the basic superiorities in the 1956 Cadillac. For here is the finest of all Cadillacs—unmistakably, the "car of cars."

Why not come in soon and see for yourself? We will be most happy to supervise a personal demonstration on the highway.

The car is waiting for you—and any time you find the time would be a good time for a date!

Prime Need Is Relief Pitcher

Tiger Newcomers Given Attention for 3 Positions

(This is the 6th of a series of articles by Associated Press Baseball Expert Joe Reichler dealing on the Rookie prospects of Major League Baseball Teams. Today the Detroit Tigers are featured.)

NEW YORK (AP)—The Detroit Tigers, whose prime needs are an outstanding relief pitcher, another catcher and a second baseman, may be able to fill those positions from among 16 newcomers who will seek to make the club at Lakeland next spring.

The outstanding candidate for the No. 1 fireman role is Pete Wojey a 33-year-old righthander acquired from Montreal in a year-end deal. Three aspirants — J. W. Porter, Charles Lau and Walter Streuli—will vie for the No. 3 catching berth behind Frank House and Bob Wilson. Tom Sarna, the Sally League's all-star third baseman, may be given a shot at second base.

Wojey heads a list of 10 new pitchers, some of whom have had previous brief trials with Detroit. The Tigers are hopeful that Wojey turns out to be a "middle-aged Ray Narleski." Although a consistent winner in the minors he pitched a scant 28 innings for the Dodgers in 10 years in the Brooklyn organization.

The veteran hurler struck out 112 in 166 innings while compiling a 12-6 record at Montreal last season. He started 18 times, finished eight games and had a 3.04 earned run average.

Porter, who opened last season in Detroit as a left fielder and first baseman, has returned to his first choice, catching. Manager Bucky Harris, who always liked him still has hopes that the former Chicago White Sox bonus player will make it.

"I watched him in a couple of games as a catcher last September and he handled himself well."

Lau, 23, is a left-handed batter who hit .293 at Durham. Ruel thinks he has a good chance to be a top catcher some day. The kid showed some power in the Carolina League with 18 home runs and 75 runs batted in. Streuli, 21, is a 190-pounder who caught 92 games for Buffalo. Batting is the big question with him. He hit .243 with only 34 runs batted in.

The Tigers are high on a 23-year-old lefthander named Gene Host despite his 10-13 record at Little Rock. "Host is improving all the time," declared Ruel. His curve and fast ball are good. He's the kind of pitcher who is tough to beat."

Other rookie pitchers on the staff include Bud Black (6-3 at Little Rock), Bill Froats (0-5 at Buffalo and 8-7 at Durham), Tom Sharkey (6-12 at Terre Haute), and Jim Stump (5-13 at Buffalo). Duke Maas and Dick Marlowe, who started the 1955 season with Detroit are back after additional seasoning at Buffalo. A pair of St. Louis Cardinal castoffs, Joe Presko and Bobby Tiefenauer, who won six and five games, respectively, at Omaha, will be given a chance to win a relief job.

Port Huron Setter Named Best in OCKC Winter Show

A fine male English setter, CH (American and Canadian) Ben-Dar's Advance Notice, went best-of-show, Sunday, at the 1st Oakland County Kennel Club winter dog show. Owners are Carol and Jerry Hollands, children of Horace Hollands (Port Huron) who handled the top winner.

The event, held in the new Northville Community Center, attracted a surprisingly large gallery, according to J. P. Moses, OCKC official. "It was one of the best shows we have ever held," he commented today.

The crowd was about double that expected, says Moses. Most of the gallery stayed right through, from start to the finish—when best-of-show dog was determined.

Among the more than 600 dogs, coming from many Midwest areas, was a wirehair dachshund, CH. Fir Trees Coco, from Kirkland, Wash. Owned by Stanley Orne, the dog went 3rd in the hound group.

Oakland County and Detroit dogs also figured in the place winners, including CH. Siefengjagenheim-Lazy Bones, a male Basset, owned by Chris Teeter of Birmingham. Lazy Bones won the hound group title.

Hounds—Lazy Bones, Bassett (Teeter).

Working group—Won by German Shepherd, CH. Chimney Sweep of Longworth, male, owned by Longworth Kennels, Algonac.

Terriers—Won by male wirehair fox terrier, Donneburn Alexander (Mrs. Bess McEachren, Todmurden, Ont.) This dog went all the way up through the terrier classes. He is an English import.

Rawls Winner of Tampa Test

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—Betsy Rawls, the Phi Beta Kappa swinger from Spartanburg, S.C. is $900 richer today after winning the $5,000 Tampa Women's Open Golf Tournament.

Miss Rawls, four strokes behind Patty Berg as the final round opened, went all out and luck was with her. She knocked four strokes off par with a 71 and wound up with 293 and a 5 stroke victory margin.

Just as luck smiled on Miss Rawls, nothing went right for popular Patty. Miss Berg, who had shot 71 twice herself earlier and had led every round, lost touch completely and blew to an 80.

That still kept her in second place with 298 and brought her $630.

Mickey Wright of San Diego, Calif., who was close to the top all the way, finished third with 299 and won $540.

Benton Harbor Golfer Wins at Screwball Meet

Fires 41 in Deep Snow to Help Raise $2,100 for Polio Fund

KENDALLVILLE, Ind. (AP)—Nap Chinnick of Benton Harbor, Mich., won the 10th annual Snowball-Screwball Golf Tournament over the weekend—and he did it with the same score that won it for him six years ago. That was 41 for nine holes.

Golfers, struggling through snow ranging from three inches to waist-deep drifts, raised $2,100 for the March of Dimes. Players could not improve their lies but were permitted to shovel enough snow to hit their red-painted golf balls. Greens were swept clean, but the snow was heaped around them.

United Artists to Produce Another Schulberg Novel

By LOUELLA PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — "What makes Sammy run?" The Budd Schulberg novel—a scathing story about Hollywood which has become almost a classic, will be produced by Freddie Finklehoffe for United Artists.

This novel was Budd's first success, but when it goes before the cameras June 1st his only duty will be to pick up the profits.

A call for help came via long distance telephone from Dorothy Malone, who is in Dallas.

Said Dorothy: "Can't you please help me and say that I am not going to marry Scott Brady? I've only been out with him once in several years, and it's appeared in so many columns that I'm madly in love with him.

"I think Scott is a very nice boy, but there never was any thought of marriage. We are friends and I hope we'll always be friends."

Indian Leader Pleads for Peaceful Solution in Strife-Torn Bombay

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—Prime Minister Nehru's government today searched for ways of meeting the violent protests ignited by its plan for redrawing the boundaries of India's states along language lines.

The protests erupted in savage rioting last Monday in Bombay and spread in the form of demonstrations, strikes and street clashes to other parts of the country. Bombay police put the death toll there at 56 in the weeklong outbreaks. Reliable sources said the count there totaled 300 to 400 dead and thousands wounded.

Nehru met four hours yesterday with the high command of his ruling Congress party and made what a party member described as "one of the most moving speeches ever heard, bringing tears to many eyes."

He said Nehru asked, "Who lives if India dies, and who dies if India lives?"

The Prime Minister appealed to opponents of the government plan to use constitutional methods and not take the law into their own hands, the informant said.

While the violence generally simmered down over the weekend, authorities moved to take precautionary measures against possible outbreaks on Thursday, Indian Republic Day.

Troops moved into Bombay's exclusive bay area and began throwing up barbed wire enclosures around plush apartment buildings. Searchlights swept wide areas during the night.

Poujade to Fight Fine for Slander During Election

PARIS (AP)—French political phenomenon Pierre Poujade is going to appeal a 500,000-franc ($1,400) fine levied against him for slander during the recent election campaign.

Judicial sources said the overburdened courts wouldn't be able to get around to the appeal for four months at the least.

Poujade, whose newly organized union of tax rebels won 52 parliamentary seats in the general election early this month, was convicted of defaming former Assembly Speaker Pierre Schmeiter, a member of the Catholic MRP (Popular Republican Movement).

The court rejected Poujade's defense that he had acted in "good faith" when he accused Schmeiter of implication in the execution of a French woman after the liberation.

Poujade said he based his accusation on a letter from a friend, Leon Dupont. Dupont already has been fined 400,000 francs ($1,142) for the same slander.

New Texas Hilton Hotel Is Lavish - - and Noisy

By EARL WILSON

DALLAS—I whizzed over here with Greer Garson, Ann Miller, Virginia Warren and other beautiful dolls to catch the opening of the Statler Hilton and heard a crazy mixed-up story about gorgeous Mary Castle, the Texan who looks so much like Rita Hayworth.

Well, Miss Castle heard a buzzing in her ears when she awoke in her 19th floor room. "I must get some sleep," she told herself. Before she could get to the aspirin, the buzzing got worse. Finally she thought her head was about to come off, then she decided the noise, which was becoming a roar, wasn't coming from within her head but out of it.

Mary went to the window and flung open the curtains. The buzzing was a helicopter—part of the hotel service—and it was hovering very close just above the heliport on the hotel roof. The life of the guests is hard.

MARY

Hal Hayes, the Hollywood builder who has a house with swimming pool in the living room, which guests often fall into, is here wearing some scratches on his nose given to him by Susan Hayward during a little disagreement they had in New York. "What happened?" somebody asked. A friend who knew the story pointed to his schnozz and said, "Susan scratched here."

Connie Hilton's naturally received many hurrahs but the most amusing was by Leo Carrillo who said that Hilton was born in Socorro, N.M., that his father rented out rooms in their home to guests, and that Connie as a boy would meet trains and carry back the grips. "Hilton," said Leo, "was the first Red Cap in New Mexico."

Solon Sees Gas Bill as Threat to Dems

WASHINGTON (INS) — Sen. Paul H. Douglas (D-Ill.) has estimated the votes of six undecided Senators may determine the fate of the controversial natural gas bill now being debated in the Senate.

Douglas, a leading opponent of the measure, said yesterday he counted 45 Senators against it, 45 for, and six still in doubt.

Appearing on a television program, the Illinois Senator warned passage of the bill would hurt Democrats in next fall's elections.

Douglas said it would weaken Democratic charges that the administration has been conducting a "big business giveaway."

* * *

The measure, which has passed the House, would exempt gas producers from strict federal controls. Douglas contended the legislation would cost the average American family an additional $30 a year.

Elderly Pair Tours Europe — Ends Up in Poorhouse

LONDON (INS) — An elderly Geneva, Ill., couple was on their way home today after a happy six-month European spree in which they spent 1) their life savings of $22,000, and 2) one month in a London poorhouse.

Months ago, the London Sunday Dispatch reported, Day told his wife:

"Ma, we saved $22,000. Let's get a plane and have a last spree."

They visited the sights of Rome, Venice and Paris, where Abraham declared:

Upon their arrival Dec. 14 in London, the couple was unable to afford a hotel and spent two days and nights in the waiting room at the Victoria railroad station.

Mrs. Day related their plight to a policeman who contacted a London welfare official and placed the couple in the care of the Southeast London Poorhouse.

They said:

"It's true we had an expensive vacation and became temporarily broke. But the bill will be paid immediately on our return home. We will not forget the hospitality we had in Britain."

Georgia Lawmaker Hospitalized by Cold

Russell, chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee, had attended a testimonial dinner here Thursday night for Florida's Sen. George Smathers.

The aide said he was suffering with the cold earlier in the week and that he showed a slight temperature rise while here. He was placed in St. Francis Hospital Friday night.

A friend said doctors told Russell he may be able to leave the hospital tomorrow.

Soybeans Ahead in Grain Market

CHICAGO (AP)—A steady tone prevailed in grains on the Board of Trade today. Dealings were very slow with the main feature a lack of selling pressure.

Wheat and corn mostly eased a little at the start. They soon overcame this tendency, recovering to slightly above the previous close. Soybeans were ahead very small fractions from the start, reflecting an improved tone in soybean oil futures.

Largest gains were recorded in lard, responding to a boost in the price of loose lard and expectations of quite large export business in the near future.

Wheat near the end of the first hour was ⅛ lower to ¼ higher, March $3.09¼; corn ¼ lower to ¼ higher, March $1.29⅛; ⅛ to ⅜ higher, March 64⅜; rye unchanged to ¾ higher, March $1.21; soybeans unchanged to ¼ higher, March $2.45½, and lard 12 to 20 cents a hundred pounds higher, March $11.60.

29 Killed, 137 Hurt in Santa Fe Wreck

Some of the passengers were hurled through windows as the train went over. Then the cars fell on them and they were ground to pieces.

One of those who reached the wreck a few minutes after it happened said: "It was just a mess of arms and legs."

As the ill-fated train came to a grinding stop, the sickening sound it made merged with the piercing screams of the dead and dying trapped in the cars.

Mrs. Mary M. Kirkpatrick, of Vista, Calif., one of the not-too-seriously-injured, said from her hospital wheelchair:

SPLIT WIDE OPEN

"Everything seemed to split wide open. The seats and the people took off in all directions. It was horrible. I found myself lying on top of a woman. I believe she was dead."

Daniel J. Caesarotti and C. W. Dress, the first ambulance drivers to reach the wreck, said:

"Bodies and parts of bodies were everywhere. Many of the passengers were crushed in their seats. Others had been thrown through the windows and crushed by the train. We didn't see anybody who wasn't injured."

They added:

"We gave them morphine until we didn't have any more—and still there were people screaming out in pain. It was like a nightmare. When we got there we found the two cars tipped over. We climbed up on the top of them and broke windows so we could climb inside. There were screams and moans all about us. It was horrible."

CUT THROUGH STEEL

As news of the catastrophe spread, thousands of persons, afoot and in cars, flocked to the area. All available police, deputy sheriffs and California highway patrolmen were thrown into the section to rope it off.

Finally, when rescue operations got into action firemen cut their way through the stainless steel hides of the cars to gain access to those in the writhing chaos of bodies, seats and luggage.

About 60 per cent of the passengers were civilians. The others were service men and women returning to their bases in San Diego County.

SERVICEMEN AVERT PANIC

She said the dying and injured people were numb with fear and Marines and Navy men calmed them by quietly urging them to keep quiet and take it easy.

She added:

"I think they (the servicemen) might have saved a lot of people from getting killed in the rush."

Among those who survived the disaster were three members of a Vista, Calif., family who prayed for a safe journey home in the Old Plaza Catholic Church just before they boarded the train.

They were Hugh Dixon, 52, his wife, Mary Agnes, 46, and their daughter, Gloria, 15.

They all were injured and were taken to the Maywood Hospital, but Mrs. Dixon said: "We are still alive—for which we thank God."

Propose 2-for-1 Split

NEW YORK (AP)—Directors of the Texas Co. yesterday proposed a two-for-one split of the company's common stock.

The split is subject to approval by stockholders at the annual meeting April 24 to consider a proposal to increase the number of authorized common shares from 40 million to 75 million.

The directors also declared a regular quarterly dividend of 90 cents, payable March 10 to holders of record Feb. 3.

Moonshine Mill in Oxford Area Raided by Police

Oakland County Sheriff's deputies and Pontiac police cooperated last night in closing down an illegal moonshine still 'n Oxford Township that had been in operation only three weeks.

Hazen H. Reed, 30, of 890 Baldwin Rd., watched while officers dumped 160 gallons of sour-smelling corn mash over the dirt floor of his basement distillery. The still and 14 gallons of whisky were confiscated.

Pontiac Police Vice Squad Det. Herbert Cooley, who has been investigating Reed's activities since last Friday, said his agents had bought five of the seven gallons Reed sold.

Reed and two alleged associates, Royal Connors, 23, of Oxford, and Hubert Keck, 41, of Drayton Plains, were booked in Oakland County Jail on charges of illegal sale of moonshine whisky.

City Man Injured in 2-Car Collision

William DeGrace, 30, of 63 Bloomfield Terrace, was reported in satisfactory condition today in Mt. Carmel Mercy Hospital after a two-car accident yesterday morning at Telegraph and Five Mile roads.

Driver of the other car, Henry C. Gardner, 48, of Detroit, is reported in fair condition. Gardner reportedly suffered internal injuries in the collision.

Redford Post State Police said today the accident occurred when Gardner's car apparently went out of control as he was passing another car in the southbound lanes of Telegraph road.

The car then crossed the center line, police said, colliding with DeGrace's car.

Chrysler Slump Unsettles Mart

NEW YORK (AP) — Heavy selling of Chrysler today unsettled the stock market, and some sharp losses were posted by early afternoon.

The market opened mixed and then started higher. In mid-morning, however, selling began in Chrysler, and the whole market turned down. Chrysler was in the news because of spreading layoffs and production cuts.

Chrysler was down 4 points at the most, and there were frequent losses throughout the list of 1 to around 3 points. Gains were small and scattered.

Trading was rather fast at times and came to more than Friday's 2,430,000 shares.

American Hawaiian Steamship provided a sensational with a fall of 22 to 23 points. S. H. Moerman, the president, said he planned to resign and said he knew of "no good reason fo rthe recent price levels of the stock." The stock opened off 15⅛ at 105 and then slipped rapidly. It was down 5⅝ Friday.

Weakness in Chrysler brought fast trading for other moters at unchanged to lower prices, and the selling soon spread to steels and elsewhere. Aircrafts were down all around but not particularly active.

Ford over the counter closed Friday at 65¾ bid and 66 asked. It opened today at 65⅝-65⅝ and by noon it had slipped to 64⅝-64⅞.

Yearns for Rest and Social Life

Comic Fights Sickness and Silvers to Produce 13 Shows This Season

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Milton Berle, once almost a one-man TV industry, wants to cut his schedule of appearances even further than the 13-a-year he is doing now.

* * *

"I'm beat," he confessed as he rehearsed. "I want to slow down for two reasons: "The doctor says I've got to get more rest; I want to have a normal social life.

KEEPS WORKING

"Right now I have two weeks between the show and when I have to start rehearsals again. But that doesn't mean a thing. I have to be working on material and lining up talent.

"Talent is a real problem. Many of the good names are tied up with other commitments. The ones you really want are up in the $25,000 class. That gets a little rugged. You can't stop progress, but I can remember when my first show cost $12,000—and that included actors, script, lights, costumes and network time. Now my show costs $232,000!"

Berle has been fighting ill health and Phil Silvers all season. The latter's show upset the Berle supremacy on Tuesday for the first time in TV history this season, but Milton has fought his way back on top. He has done this with the Berle standby—the review.

Having done 39 shows annually for his first five years in the medium, Berle cut down to 30, 26 and 20 in following years. This season it is 13. He's supposed to do the same next season, then wind up his contract as a performer with six shows a year for two years. After that, he can sit out the rest of his fabulous 30-year deal with NBC.

Rifle Mishap Fatal to Detroit Hunter, 17

DETROIT (INS) — Eugene A. Willoughby, 17, of Detroit, was killed yesterday when struck between the eyes with a .22 caliber bullet accidentally discharged by a hunting companion, William Bell, 16.

The victim and Bell went hunting with two Livonia youths and returned to the home of Don Zodak, 17.

Bell said he was unaware that the rifle was loaded because one of the other boys had been carrying it.

He said "The gun just went off" while he was talking to Willoughby, I don't know how it happened."

Elevators in the U. S. carry about 30 times as many passengers each year as are carried by the railroads.

German Navy Ready by March

Bonn to Have Fighting Force of 170 Ships in Next Four Years

Within four years, the Germans expect to put 170 fighting ships on the seas as their naval contribution to the Atlantic Alliance.

Capt. Karl Adolf Zenker, chief of the navy department in the defense ministry, says this force will pack a powerful punch through its destroyers and small submarines.

The first ships flying the black-red-gold flag of West Germany will be minesweepers. Operating with German crews under command of the U.S. Navy for several years, they are sweeping World War II mines from the shipping lanes of the North Sea and the western Baltic. When assigned to the German navy, they will continue to destroy old mines that year after year still take a toll.

Their officers and crews, who have learned by the U.S. Navy book will be retained if they volunteer for the new navy.

SEEK U. S. LOAN

West Germany has asked the United States for the loan of 12 destroyers for six years—or until the Germans can build their own. Bonn also has asked Britain to sell six frigates as training ships.

The exact number of destroyers planned for the new navy is an official secret. But defense ministry sources say there will be around 60 organized in 10 squadrons. The destroyers will be small—about 2,200 tons.

Submarines will be limited to 300 tons in size. Zenker says they will be able to travel submerged for 10 days. They will be mainly for reconnaissance or surprise raids on enemy supply lines.

The navy also will include anti-submarine and antiaircraft escort vessels of about 1,400 tons, motor torpedo boats, landing craft, supply ships and training ships.

It will have a small antisubmarine and reconnaissance air force. The naval pilots will be trained in the United States.

About two-thirds of Germany's naval strength will be based in the Russian-dominated Baltic Sea.

Navy headquarters will be at Kiel, the famous base of the Kaiser's massive navy.

Informed sources say the top naval chief with the title of Inspector will be Vice Adm. Friedrich Ruge. He was naval adviser to the late Field Marshal Erwin Rommel when Rommel was building the "Atlantic Wall" to repel the allied invasion of France.

Trace Original Cancer Growth for First Time

BAR HARBOR, Maine (AP)—Cancer researchists at Roscoe B. Jackson Memorial Laboratory say they have traced a cancer growth from a tumor to its original cell—a feat once considered impossible.

The tracing job was done on white spruce trees afflicted wth tumors. The tracing is still considered impossible with animal cells.

The scientists said they located the original cancerous growth by correlating the tree's growth rings to the tumors.
