Semon E. Knudsen New Pontiac Motor Head

Technical Center Post Is Assigned to Critchfield

GM Executive Changes Include New Manager at Chevrolet Division

Appointment of Semon E. Knudsen as general manager of Pontiac Motor Division, effective July 1, was announced today by Harlow H. Curtice, president of General Motors.

Robert M. Critchfield, a GM vice president and general manager of Pontiac since July 1952, will assume direction of the GM process development staff at General Motors Technical Center.

Critchfield joined General Motors in 1921 and was assistant general manager of the Allison Division prior to his appointment as head of the Pontiac Division.

The post given Critchfield is new in that it represents a broadening of responsibility for the process development staff at the GM Tech Center. In it, Critchfield will report directly to Curtice, GM president.

Knudsen, 43, has been general manager of the Detroit Diesel Engine Division since March of 1955.

Son of the late William S. Knudsen, former GM president, he began his General Motors career with the Pontiac division in January of 1939 on a special manufacturing assignment.

He served successively as chief inspector, defens plant, superintendent of the car assembly plant and assistant general master mechanic at Pontiac. He later served as director of General Motors central office process development section and as assistant manufacturing manager of aircraft engine operations in the Allison Division.

Other changes in the executive organization of General Motors also were announced today by President Curtice.

Thomas H. Keating, a GM vice president and director and general manager of the Chevrolet Division since 1949, becomes group executive in charge of the passenger car divisions of the corporation.

Edward N. Cole, chief Chevrolet engineer since 1952, will succeed Keating as general manager of Chevrolet.

The position assigned to Keating is one formerly held by Harry J. Klingler. It has been vacant since Klingler's retirement in 1954.

Mason M. Roberts, general manager of the Frigidaire Division at Dayton, Ohio, has elected to retire after 44 years' service. Herman F. Lehman, general sales manager of Frigidaire will succeed Roberts.

Clyde W. Truxell Jr., works manager of the Detroit Diesel Engine Division, will succeed Knudsen as general manager of the division.

Norman M. Ross, general manager of GM's Brown-Lipe-Chapin Division at Syracuse, N. Y., will retire after 37 years of service. Edward A. Kaegi, general manager of the Detroit Transmission Division at Ypsilanti, will succeed Ross.

O. W. Habel, general works manager of the Saginaw Steering Gear Division, will succeed Kaegi as general manager of the Detroit Transmission Division.

Steel Industry Getting Ready to Close Down

Plants Begin to Bank Furnaces as Saturday Strike Date Nears

NEW YORK (AP)—The nation's giant steel industry began banking fires today as a precaution against a Saturday midnight strike of 650,000 employes, but negotiators strove anew to find a settlement.

Management and union representatives agreed to get together again at 3 p.m. despite an exchange of angry letters last night.

The letters first raised and then dashed the possibility that the present contracts might be extended beyond their June 30 expiration date to postpone the strike and permit more time for negotiations.

That left the negotiators with but three days to find some solution.

Industry shutdown procedures were leading off with the banking of the first furnace at U. S. Steel's Gary, Ind., works — the world's largest.

• • •

Banking operations there were to continue through Saturday, but with no layoffs until Saturday.

• • •

Bethlehem Steel's Johnstown, Pa. plant, employing 16,000 men and producing 2,300,000 tons annually, began production cutbacks this morning. The program began in the coke oven department, with blast furnaces and open hearths to follow.

Similar operations were on tap throughout the industry, although a Jones & Laughlin official at Cleveland said "we are very hopeful there won't be a strike."

The situation wasn't so pressing for one firm — Laclede Steel Co., which employs 3,500 workers in plants at Alton and Madison, Ill. Its contract with the United Steelworkers still has two months to go.

• • •

Both sides worked frantically last night to avert a shutdown and each blamed the other when the efforts ended in stalemate.

Twelve major companies began the exchange of compromise proposals by suggesting in a letter to Union President David J. McDonald that the strike be postponed indefinitely and negotiations continued after the contract expires at midnight Saturday.

The letter suggested that during the negotiations the union give 72 hours advance written notice of a strike any time after the deadline to prevent cooling damage to furnaces.

The companies promised in turn to shorten their demands for a five-year contract to four years and four months "with a proportionate reduction in benefits."

Length of the contract has been a major bone of contention. The current contract is for two years, with a one-year wage reopener.

McDonald rejected the companies' proposal as an "11th-hour" offer that "meets none of the union's reasoned objections to their original proposal."

Survey Tells Facts on General Hospital

Director Urged to Alter Conditions Which Raise Operational Costs

Pontiac General Hospital has been raked over with a fine-tooth comb in the form of a thorough four-month appraisal of its organization, management and operation. The study was requested last November by the board of trustees.

The findings and recommendations in the 139-page survey were made by James A. Hamilton Associates, hospital consultants of Minneapolis.

Good things were said about the operation and personnel. There were adverse criticisms lodged against some while others were praised for their work.

Some positions were suggested as unnecessary; new positions were recommended. Everyone from board members to the laundry manager was evaluated.

Room rates were found in line with average rates yet adjustment in special charges was suggested. Some salary schedules contributing to a high operating cost, were found to conflict with prevailing wages at other hospitals. The average per-day patient cost was set at $31.91; the Michigan average being $21.78.

The study was divided into four major sections: (1) appraisal of policies, organization, and operation of top level and executive management; (2) of medical staff; (3) operation of departments, and (4) appraisal of fiscal activities, rates, and methods of control.

The firm summary comment was: "Although there is room for significant improvement, the citizens of Pontiac can take pride today in its community-owned hospital despite extreme overcrowding which has created serious inconveniences and handicaps for patients, employes and the members of the medical staff alike."

Throughout the report, it is suggested the board "concentrate

Auctions Off Odds and Ends

Town Holds Weekly Sale

LENEXA, Kan. (AP) — Every Friday this quiet little Kansas town 20 miles southwest of Kansas City awakes to the clatter of a community sale.

The townspeople are accustomed to the commotion. It has been going on for six years.

First, the trucks arrive and are unloaded. Then come the curio seekers, the bargain hunters and those in search of amusement.

Occasionally, a buyer happens upon a collector's item. It's possible. Everything from a long piece of rope to a set of once-expensive glassware is auctioned off.

Shortly before the auctioneer begins calling for bids, the crowds of men, women and children move about, examining the heavy boxes filled with dishes, furniture, garden equipment, phonograph records, books, and sometimes a washing machine or a refrigerator.

Others poke more carefully among the whatnots, obviously in search of an antique.

The weekly sale was started in 1950 by a Danish family, Soren Schmidt, and his two sons, Ejlif and Gudmund, and typifies other community auctions at Paola, Lawrence, Ottawa and Leavenworth, Kan.

Governors Box Williams Out of '57 Chairmanship

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (AP)—Gov. G. Mennen Williams of Michigan was bumped out of any chance for the conference chairmanship yesterday as the 48th conference of governors ended in a flurry over segregation.

Gov. Williams was bumped right off the executive committee and that killed his chances of the chairmanship. Instead, the governors named Gov. Thomas B. Stanley of Virginia as chairman.

Repeatedly mentioned for the chairmanship, Williams has never made the post, everytime accompanied by rumors of Southern opposition.

Although he denied it, rumors persisted that this time his chances were killed by Gov. Allan Shivers of Texas.

Williams himself said, "I wasn't running for it, so what difference does it make?"

Another liberal Democrat, Gov. Frank J. Lausche of Ohio was reportedly William's nominator. William's admitted that a member of the nominating committee, to which Lausche belongs, had told him his name would be entered for the job.

Gov. Ed Johnson of Colorado, asked what happened to Williams, said, "Mr. Williams was not elected to the executive committee."

Pressed to say whether there was a fight over Williams on the nominating committee, Johnson, also a committee member, was silent for a moment and then walked away.

Wilson Refutes 'Resign' Rumors

Says Price of Progress Is Trouble and 'I Must Be Making Progress'

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Defense Wilson returned last night from a short vacation in Canada and, professing puzzlement that such a question was asked, said he has no intention of resigning.

Then, obviously referring to the fire aimed at him in recent days by Senate critics, he told newsmen:

"The price of progress is trouble and I must be making a lot of progress."

The last time he used this phrase, when a round of Army-Air Force bickering broke out last month, he said the trouble he then noted was "too much."

Some Senate Democrats called for Wilson's resignation after he used the word "phony" last week in discussing with newsmen senatorial moves to increase the Air Force budget. Saying later that he was misunderstood, Wilson asserted he didn't mean to apply the word to senators.

Senate Action Not Likely on Special Vet Pensions

FROM OUR WIRE SERVICES

WASHINGTON—Prospects seemed dim today for Senate action on a House-passed pension bill with a special $90-a-month provision for World War I veterans.

Proposals for bigger payments to service-disabled veterans and to veterans' widows and dependents were stripped from the measure during a turbulent session yesterday in which the House passed it and sent it to the Senate by a 364-51 roll call vote.

And the long-delayed federal school aid bill comes up in the House today with a fight over civil rights holding the spotlight.

Today's session will be limited to debate, with voting to start tomorrow. Leaders hope to complete action Friday—except for the final roll call which will take place Monday.

The legislation was approved 10 months ago by the Education and Labor Committee, but was not cleared for floor action by the Rules Committee until last Wednesday.

The bill would authorize $1,600,000,000 in federal funds to the states over a four-year period for the construction of badly needed classrooms.

IKE URGES AID

President Eisenhower has repeatedly urged enactment of a school aid bill. However, its passage is endangered by an anti-segregation amendment which

Cancer Research Gets $48½ Million From Congress

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congress has appropriated a whopping 48½ million dollars for cancer research during the coming year in a money bill sent to the White House.

The compromise bill provides $2,366,380,781 to finance the Labor Department and the Department of Health, Education and Welfare in the fiscal year starting Sunday.

The House and Senate each approved the measure by voice vote.

The total compares with $2,363,885,400 asked by President Eisenhower for the agencies.

The House originally cut the Eisenhower estimates while the Senate raised them.

During 1955, 245,000 Americans died of cancer, while 36,000 were killed in motor accidents.

Newsman Treks Off on Land to Moscow

BERLIN (AP)— Edmund Stevens, an American correspondent, stepped into a jeep station wagon today and headed for Moscow. It will be the first auto trip to the Soviet capital by a Western civilian since the Russians rang down the Iron Curtain.

Stevens, who covers the Soviet Union for Look magazine and the Christian Science Monitor, is accompanied by his son Edmund Jr., a student at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

For the 1,000-mile journey they loaded up with extra gasoline, food and a tent.

Birdnaper Gets Soft, Brings Back Ailing Parakeet

Pete, the frail parakeet, is back home at 79 Delaware St., thanks to the tender heart of an unknown thief.

Whoever stole Pete and his cage from the front porch of the Harry Lumsdens' home Tuesday night, evidently thought better of the deed after reading of Pete's delicate heart condition in the Pontiac Press.

The bird and cage last night were left on the front poch of a Drayton Plains couple, Pontiac Det. Olin Hoffman said. With the aid of the Oakland County Animal Shelter, Pete was returned to his quite home and the restricted life befitting a heart victim.

The Lumsdens thanked all concerned.

U.S. Netter Advances

WIMBLEDON, England (AP)—Top-seeded Lew Hoad of Australia and Art Larsen, the San Leandro, Calif. southpaw who is America's third-ranked tennis player, breezed into the fourth round of the Wimbledon men's singles tennis championships today.

Hoad easily disposed of John Fleitz of Long Beach, Calif., 6-3, 6-2, 6-0. Larsen, American champion in 1950, quickly knocked out Jackie Brichant, Belgian Davis cup player, 6-3, 6-3, 6-1.

Tiger Coach Quits

DETROIT—Joe Gordon quit today as coach of the Detroit Tigers.

The former second baseman for the New York Yankees and Cleveland Indians was serving his first year as a Bengal coach.

Air Crash Probe Approaches End

CAA Investigation Says Outcome Will Be Public Late in August

The Civil Aeronautics Administration's investigation of the fatal air collision over Pontiac Municipal Airport Saturday evening is nearing completion, according to Thomas S. Murphy, CAA safety agent.

He said a report will be forwarded to Washington "within the next two weeks." No public statement of the findings can be released now or before the second week in August because of CAA regulations, Murphy continued.

Three men lost their lives when, according to witnesses, one plane in a formation of three collided with another plane flying in the landing pattern over the airport.

Murphy said today he doubted whether the altitude of the planes could be determined.

Killed in the crash were James G. Pickett, 42, of Drayton Plains, pilot of the local plane, Dale Mathews, 25, of Charlevoix, pilot of the second plane, and his passenger, Jess Trott, 60, of Almont.

Meanest Trick of Week

LOUISVILLE, Ga. (AP)—Someone has poisoned more than 75 dogs here in the past month and a half. Police haven't been able to track him down. The dogs have died from poisoned meat thrown into yards at night.

Cool, Fair Weather Forecast for Region

The forecast for the Pontiac area tonight is fair and cool with a low of 70 to 74 degrees.

The prediction for tomorrow is cool with a high of 74 to 78 degrees. The mercury is expected to drop to a low of 56 to 60 degrees tomorrow night as the cool weather continues.

The lowest temperature reading preceding 8 a.m. was 53 degrees as recorded in downtown Pontiac. The thermometer registered 68 degrees at 2 p.m.

By Train and Bus From Every Direction

Tent City Bustles as 6,000 Scouts Invade Camp

Buses crammed with excited, singing Girl Scouts arrived at short intervals at the national Roundup in the Highland Recreation Area today.

Trains from the West pulled into Detroit's Third Street yards all morning. Exuberant teenagers, some weary from their ride across the country from California and other western states, spilled out of the special trains to board large buses for the last stage of their trip to the campsite.

Trains began pulling into Detroit at 6:45 a.m. They will come in at half hour intervals until 6,000 girls and their leaders have arrived.

The girls, neat in their special green, white and yellow uniforms, hopped off trains carrying duffle bags and packs loaded with personal gear and items, to trade at the Roundup "swap tent."

They carried shark teeth from Virginia, twigs from trees on President Eisenhower's farm at Gettysburg, Pa., pieces of Mastodon tusks from Alaska and chop sticks from San Francisco.

Girls from the West and Southwest were among the early arrivals. Other contingents will come in today from Hawaii, Alaska, the Panama Canal Zone and Puerto Rico.

In addition to the duffle bag allowed each girl for her personal equipment, there were boxes and packages of gear for each patrol of eight. Tents, kitchen flys, tables and benches, cooking utensils and tools were carried across the country for this first National Senior camp.

Once in camp, the girls registered, received their dog tags and scattered to their respective areas to set up their tents. Within two hours, part of the gigantic tent city was erected. The rest will go up tomorrow.

All campers changed into the camp uniform of green Bermuda shorts or slacks, yellow and white seersucker blouses or green work shorts and green Bermuda socks. All wore the official Roundup corded tie and patch on their blouse pockets.

U. S. Army contingents worked throughout the day, delivering baggage, transporting personnel and directing traffic. Their jeeps and large trucks were in evidence everywhere.

The waterfront staff, directed by the American Red Cross, was on duty all day. Campers will swim in Teeple Lake at the regular Teeple Lake Beach which is closed to the public until after July 11.

Sightseers will not be admitted to the Roundup site until after 10 a.m. Saturday, June 30. From then on, visitors will be welcome daily. The camp will be closed at sundown each night.

On two nights, July 4 and 9, the public will be invited to remain. Fireworks will be shot off to celebrate Independence Day and a large-scale Girl Scout pageant will be presented on the ninth. Other public spectacles will be given at 3 p.m. July 4 and 7.

Ike to Go Home Next Saturday

Gains 1 Pound; Plans to Convalesce on Farm at Gettysburg

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower's doctors reported today he has started to gain weight for the first time since his operation.

This encouraging news came as the President prepared to leave Walter Reed Army Hospital Saturday morning and continue recuperation at his Gettysburg, Pa., farm.

Eisenhower looked ruddy and happy last night as he made his first "public appearances" since his operation—three quick trips to the window of his hospital room to salute serenading Army musicians.

He waved and smiled broadly from the ivy-rimmed window as the U.S. Army band played a concert on the grounds of Walter Reed Hospital. Mrs. Eisenhower twice was at his side.

* * *

Eisenhower's weight now is 163 pounds. It has stood at 162—a loss of 7 pounds—since his June 9 operation.

Eisenhower had no appointments scheduled today beyond a conference with his chief assistant, Sherman Adams, and other staff members. The National Security Council was meeting at the White House with Vice President Nixon presiding.

Senate Not Likely to Act on Pensions

will be offered by Rep. Adam Powell (D-NY).

The amendment would bar any federal funds to schools which continue to maintain segregation, which the Supreme Court has outlawed. The general consensus is that the amendment's adoption would doom the bill to a Southern filibuster in the Senate.

Both parties appeared split over this explosive election-year issue, but House Republican Leader Joseph W. Martin Jr. has predicted a majority of GOP members will vote for it.

In the meantime, the House and Senate conferees are meeting today on the 960 million dollar increase which the upper chamber voted in the Eisenhower air budget over the administration's objections.

Some GOP conferees were pessimistic about their chances of scaling down the boost. The House in May rejected a similar attempt to expand air power. But some of their delegates to the conference believe now it may be wise to boost the air budget.

CALLED ADEQUATE

The White House took the position just before the Senate action on Tuesday that the 16 and two-thirds billion dollars President Eisenhower asked for the Air Force was adequate to maintain U. S. supremacy in the skies.

But the White House said that if there must be an increase, it would prefer to limit the hike to 500 million dollars, which Republicans advocated.

However, the GOP plan was beaten, 47 to 42, in the Senate.

The Senate increase was the result largely of hearings of the Symington subcommittee which has been probing air power. The unit recalls Air Secretary Donald A. Quarles today for further questioning.

New Mexico, Michigan Floats Win Top Awards

KANSAC CITY —New Mexico's float won the grand sweepstakes award for the most unique and beautiful entry in the Junior Chamber of Commerce national convention parade yesterday.

Fifty-five floats from 48 states and some foreign countries were entered in the two-hour parade. New Mexico's float titled "New Mexico Then and Now," was entered in the state or industrial theme category.

Michigan took second place in the same division.

Open Air Political Rally Scheduled for Tonight

Republican gubernatorial candidate Donald S. Leonard, Democratic Lt. Gov. Philip A. Hart and 20 candidates from both parties for Congress, State Senator and State Representatives are expected to speak briefly tonight in Birmingham.

A political rally sponsored by the Birmingham League of Women Voters is scheduled to start with a torchlight parade at 7:30 tonight. Speeches, starting about 8:30, will be given in Shain Park if the weather permits or in the auditorium of Baldwin School in event of rain.

Candidates for precinct delegate will carry the torches lighting the parade, according to Mrs. Janet Rex, publicity chairman for the rally. Candidates will ride in open cars.

Leonard and Hart each will speak for five minutes.

Democratic Congressional candidates Zigmund Niparko and Paul Sutton, and Republican William S. Broomfield, George N. Higgins and Marc Williams are slated to make three-minute talks.

All ten candidates for state senator, including three Democrats and seven Republicans, also will speak for three minutes each.

A majority of the nine candidates for the state Legislature from Districts 3 and 4 are also expected.

Candidates for county office attending the rally will be introduced to the audience, Mrs. Rex said, but will not speak.

Truman Heading Home to Reflect on European Trip

SOUTHAMPTON (INS) — A happy Harry Truman headed for home aboard the liner United States today "to contemplate" what he has seen and heard during his six-week tour of Europe.

The former President ducked questions on American politics at a final news conference but restressed his distrust of the Soviet Union's "new look."

Truman said "I never trusted the Russians and I don't trust them yet. They made all kinds of promises to me at Potsdam, then went home and broke them."

Truman was sporting a blue "old school tie" from Oxford, noting that he was entitled to it because of the honorary degree conferred upon him by the renowned university.

He said he was convinced the people of Western Europe are friendly to the U. S. and that he would like to visit them again as soon as possible.

Truman and his wife will celebrate their 37th wedding anniversary today aboard the liner.

Red Movie to Depict Stalin Military Fault

MOSCOW (INS) — Soviet movie fans soon will see the Russian film industry's first crack at the Stalin legend of supreme military genius.

* * *

The film, "Immortal Garrison," tells the heroic story of the defenders of the Brest Fortress on the 1941 Soviet-German border in partitioned Poland.

* * *

Surrounded by the Germans from the first hours of the June, 1941 invasion, the garrison held out for 28 days. Only one man survived.

For the first time in a Soviet film it is revealed that Stalin failed to alert the army to the German invasion - buildup which preceded the attack.

The movie opens on VE day near Berlin as a Soviet tank outfit pulls up outside a prisoner-of-war camp which has just been taken over from the guards by the prisoners.

Clarifies Decision on Election Rules

LANSING (AP)—Atty. Gen. Thomas M. Kavanagh modified today an April 16 opinion holding that the same person cannot serve as a member of a township board of canvassers and as township inspector of elections.

Answering an inquiry from Secretary of State James M. Hare, Kavanagh said the earlier conclusion was based on the fact that while acting as canvasser in township elections, the officer would be compelled to investigate and correct his own mistakes.

Insofar as it relates to township elections, the attorney general said, this is a correct statement of the law.

However, Kavanagh said in the new opinion, the idea of incompatability does not necessarily apply, for example, in a county or state election.

Whether or not it does would have to be determined from the facts and functions to be performed by the board of canvassers at each election, he said.

Posse Still Searching for Ohio Triple-Killer

WARREN, O. (INS) — A close-knit posse made up strictly of law enforcement officers continued their hunt today for triple-killer Alfred Wilson who is still believed hiding somewhere in the nearby Phalanx Station-Braceville area.

* * *

Wilson is accused in the slaying of his two sisters-in-law and a teenage girl last Thursday after escaping from an Ohio county jail.

Trumbull County Sheriff T. Herbert Thomas said that the posse would be limited to sheriff's deputies and state patrolmen and that no volunteers should turn out unless someone in authority asks them.

* * *

Thomas said he wants the posse to consist of law enforcement officers under a central control to prevent someone from getting "shot by mistake."

Yesterday and last night more than 150 persons took part in the search for the elusive 37-year-old truck driver, who has eluded authorities for almost a week.

Ex-Diplomats Said 'Lonely'

Burgess and MacLean Are Without Friends, British Paper Says

LONDON (INS)—Ex-British diplomats Guy Burgess and Donald MacLean were reported today to be the loneliest men in Moscow.

* * *

A London Daily Express correspondent who recently visited the Russian capital said the two men are cold-shouldered, friendless and ignored as a result of the Kremlin's new policies.

In addition, the Express said, the two men are more of an embarrassment than an asset to their Soviet employers and they have been relegated to obscurity.

Burgess and MacLean, who fled from Britain in the face of spy charges, were said to be assigned now to a remote annex of the Russian foreign office writing informative "appreciations" of Western policies, essays and evaluations which are rarely read and then only on a low level.

OCCASIONALLY CONSULTED

The Express correspondent said they occasionally were consulted by the policy boards of Pravda and Izvestia and by some of the intellectual weeklies but that their advice was more often ignored than accepted.

The correspondent said it was untrue that Burgess and MacClean had been used at any time by the Soviet foreign office as advisers on Western policy.

He quoted a Western diplomat as saying the "Value of Burgess and MacLean was comparatively small as it was, but it is now nil."

Kaiser Reports Earnings

OAKLAND, Calif. (INS) — Net earnings of Kaiser Aluminum and Chemical Corp. were $43,293,295 for the fiscal year ending May 31, compared with $28,565,377 a year earlier. Net sales increased to $330 million for $268 for the 1954-55 fiscal year.

Group Reports 180 Polio Cases

Public Health Service Says Salk Vaccine Is Proving Effective

WASHINGTON (AP)—The U. S. Public Health Service said today 180 new cases of polio were reported last week, exactly the same as the previous week.

* * *

Ordinarily the number of persons stricken rises steadily during the height of the polio season, from June until late August or September.

A spokesman, emphasizing the evidence indicates Salk polio vaccine is "extremely effective" among inoculated persons, said it is still too early to forecast the polio trend for the year among the entire population.

* * *

Among the 180 cases reported last week, 94 were paralytic. The total compared with 277 in the corresponding week of 1955 and a 1951-55 median of 419.

The service reported a total of 1,332 cases through the current disease year, which began about April 1, and 2,399 for the calendar year to June 23. Comparable figures for 1955 were 2,310 and 3,373. In 1952, when the sharp jump did not occur until July, there were 1,776 and 3,094.

* * *

Among the states, Texas reported the most cases, 37. That was four higher than the preceding week. California dropped one, to 36, while Louisiana declined from 22 to 15 and Florida from 11 to 8. Illinois went up one, to 10.

Houghton Lake Girl Named Cherry Queen

TRAVERSE CITY (AP) — Nancy Kay Phillips, 19-year-old brown-haired beauty from Houghton Lake, was named national Cherry Queen last night and will reign over the National Cherry Festival here July 12-15.

Nancy Kay, who entered as Miss Houghton Lake, won out over 19 other girls representing communities throughout northern Michigan's big cherry growing region.

Audrey Levandowski, Miss Manistee, placed second and Bonnie Elliott, Miss Petoskey, was third. With the other four top entrants they will appear as the queen's court during the cherry festival.

The others are Marian Danforth, Miss East Jordan; Ellen Mitchell, Miss Leland; Carolyn Mae Bourdo, Miss Northport; and Eleanor Jakubeck, Miss Traverse City.

Watches and $34 Stolen

Two wristwatches and a purse containing $34 were reported taken in the breakin of a home at 51 Henry Clay Ave. last night, according to Pontiac police.

Police said entry was gained through an unlocked side door.

Re-Vamp in Zoning Eyed; Would Keep High Level

BIRMINGHAM — Housing standards, now well above the minimum zoning requirements in Birmingham's present ordinance, would be maintained at their high level by a zoning ordinance being drafted now by the city planning board.

The planning board met last night with the planning consultant, David Geer, to discuss the progress on the revision of the zoning ordinance. Work started about two months ago.

Satisfactory progress was reported by Herbert Herzberg, city planner, who has consulted with Geer on several occasions on the ordinance's lengthy wording, enforcement, and other items. Last night such mechanics were discussed.

Primary discussion, however, was on area, height, bulk and placement sections of ordinance. The whole ordinance is a major change, Herzberg says.

The proposed ordinance will conform to what is had in the city today, the board plans. Much building done in the city is far in access of minimum requirements in present ordinance, members contend.

An example is the single family zoned area, where minimum floor area is 700 square feet, but the great majority of homes are way over that size. A builder of homes today on a mass production basis would seldom consider under 1000 square feet, Herzberg says.

Herzberg was authorized to continue his study on height, bulk and placement and come back with a recommendation in about one month.

He and the board will continue meanwhile on the mechanics of the ordinance.

The planning board had met the previous night and agreed to pay for an appraisal of the five-lot land bounded by Oakland, Hunter, Lawdale and Madison for the group of adjoining property owners who have indicated a desire to purchase it as a park site.

They wish to prevent commercial use on the edge of their residential area.

Pontiac Deaths

John Chunovich

John Chunovich, 69, of 675 Cartwright St, died of carcinoma at 2 a.m. this morning in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital. He had been ill a year.

He was born in Carlovac, Austria on March 21, 1887, the son of Joseph and Anna Gracan Chunovich.

He attended school in Austria and came to Pontiac from Detroit 35 years ago.

A member of the Catholic Faith, he had been employed at Fisher Body Division.

Surviving are a sister living in Austria and a brother, Nich Chunovich of Pontiac, three nieces and one nephew.

Service will be at 10 a.m. Saturday from the Huntoon Funeral Home with Father Michael J. O'Reilly of St. Michael's Catholic Church officiating. Burial will be in Mt. Hope Cemetery.

Daniel R. Stevenson

Daniel R. Stevenson, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Stevenson, of 2546 Adams Rd., died June 14 in Beaumont Hospital, Royal Oak. He was born in the hospital June 13, 1956.

Besides his mother and father, Daniel is survived by a brother, John Walter; two sisters, Kathleen Ann and Marjory Lynn, both at home; grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Smith of Royal Oak and Mr. and Mrs. John Stevenson of Pontiac.

Burial was in the cemetery at Gaines.

Local Suspect Arraigned on Drug Ring Charge

Arraigned yesterday as an alleged member of a drug conspiracy in the southwest area, LeRoy H. Eaddy, 24, of 5142 Tillman St., Detroit, was remanded to jail under $5,000 bond set by Pontiac Municipal Judge Cecil McCallum.

Eaddy and 14 others named in the conspiracy to violate state narcotics laws are scheduled for examination July 11.

Bank's Shareholders to Decide on Merger

The proposed merger of Milford's Oakland County State Bank with the Community National Bank, of Pontiac, will be considered August 14 when Community National shareholders will convene at a special meeting.

The group will be asked to ratify the merger agreement made by the bank's board of directors. Similar agreement has also been reached by the board of the Milford bank.

A. C. Girard, president of the Pontiac institution, said today that the proposal to merge has been approved by the U. S. Treasury Dept.

The Oakland County State Bank, founded in 1935, is headed by President Paul H. Sinclair.

House Group Okays State Flood Projects

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Public Works Committee yesterday approved a bill to authorize future construction of multi-million-dollar flood control projects on the Kalamazoo and Saginaw Rivers.

* * *

The bill, which also appropriates money for navigation, power and beach erosion projects, would cost the federal government approximately $1,100,000,000.

* * *

The Saginaw River flood control work would cost $16,084,700 and that on the Kalamazoo River at Kalamazoo $5,358,000.

The bill now goes to the House for consideration and then will go to the Senate. If it becomes law it would merely authorize Congress to make appropriations in future years for construction of the projects involved.

* * *

Also included under the measure are maintenance expenses for the St. Joseph, Mich., harbor and a navigation survey for a channel from Port Island to Lake Michigan.

Another proposed expenditure would provide $786,400 for improving the harbor at Toledo, Ohio.

Mexico High in Cars

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Mexico now has a motor vehicle for each 58 inhabitants, a mark which the National Finance Council figures is good compared to other countries besides the United States. The world average, excluding the U. S., the council says, is one vehicle per 80.5 persons. Of Mexico's 495,500 vehicles, 28 per cent are in the federal district.

French Production Up

Things are looking up economically for often troubled France.

Evidence that the outlook for the Republic has brightened is found in the widespread abandonment of the idea that the country's economy is static. This, in turn, is supported by statistics supplied not only by government but private industry.

Proof of this new national attitude is to be found in the success with which the Ministry of Finance launched a new type of loan. It guarantees bond holders a minimum of five per cent return on their investment but subject to upward revision in line with the nation's expanding economy.

Gabriel Ardant, Commissioner of Productivity, looks ahead optimistically. He is convinced that France can double its national output of goods and services in ten years without increasing hours of work.

During 1954 production of French industry and agriculture increased 3.5 per cent. The gain was six per cent last year. For instance, reforms suggested by Ardant's staff raised output in 37 silk manufacturing plants an average of 50 per cent.

Increases of 17 to 23 per cent in less than two years were shown by 300 weaving and cotton spinning mills. French workers in general benefited directly from adoption of the new production ideas. In these mills specifically wages went up 11 to 14 per cent.

★ ★ ★

What has happened in France is the development of an entirely new attitude toward production and the economy. So far, the change appears to be a great improvement.

We'll Take the Fresh, Home Grown Varieties

Modern refrigeration and quick shipping has revolutionized some of our eating habits.

There's no longer a "season" on anything in the fresh fruit or vegetable line.

★ ★ ★

What we formerly enjoyed for only a couple of months in the year we now have on the table around the calendar.

No doubt that is one of the principal reasons for our increasing good health and extended span of life.

But we're still happiest when the home grown products come to us directly from the garden, bush or tree, even if they do make the bathroom scales a reproachful thing to look in the face.

Right now home grown strawberries command our epicurean attention. While the refrigerated or canned kinds are good, nothing tops a Michigan strawberry, fresh from the vine, with its delicious and most tantalizing juice and frosty looking interior, more beautiful than a work of art.

This is followed by the bush berries, and then along comes the Michigan peach, a world beater in itself, and which we claim grows best in the Pontiac area.

Succeeding the peach are the plums and pears, with the star performer, the Michigan apple, left to the last. It has a flavor that knocks galley west the publicity given the vastly inferior apples from other states.

And home grown sweet corn surely is entitled to a paragraph or two all of its own. Nothing in the world can beat it.

★ ★ ★

Nobody but a confirmed dyspeptic grouch can ignore the heavenly chimes that ring forth in all their melodius charm when you forget Emily Post and run your face, harmonica style, across a well buttered ear that was broken from the stalk only a few minutes ago, and even has communion with your own ears.

Mickey Mantle

Can Mickey Mantle beat the mark of 60 home runs that Babe Ruth set in 1927?

That is a question many a baseball fan is asking himself these days. It isn't of world shaking importance, but it does provide a welcome change of pace from the more serious questions arising from the atom age and its radio-active fall-outs, tornadoes, the arms race with Russia and the presidential election.

The powerful young center fielder from Oklahoma started out strongly this spring and stands a good chance of reaching the 60 mark. Foxx hit 58 in 1932 and Greenberg hit the same number in 1938. But that fabulous 17 homers that the mighty Babe hit during September, 1927 to climax his record breaking year must begin to loom larger to Mantle as the baseball season nears its halfway mark.

Further proof of the growth of the Pontiac area is found in the annual official directory of Oakland County, just off the press. Compiled under the direction of it points out why this is "such a superb place in which to live, work and do business." It predicts a million population for the county in the not too distant future, and recites the preparations being made for it. The book lists national, state and county officers, also those in each of our 20 cities, 13 villages and 25 townships, several hundred names in all. It is for free distribution, and may be secured at the clerk's office or by writing or phoning same.

"It's No Use — He Won't Confess"

David Lawrence Says:

Solons Inciting Foreign Aid Spat

WASHINGTON—Whether it be the will of the people or the confused thinking of their concientious representatives here in trying to determine what to do in a distraught world. Congress is saying some pertinent things these days which ought not to escape the notice of foreign offices everywhere, domestic and foreign propagandists, and prominent Americans returning from their travels abroad.

• • •

For the Congress is striving to cut down foreign aid by a billion dollars and at the same time is increasing appropriations for air power by a billion.

"Money talks," and, in this instance, it says a great deal. It tells the folks who have been shouting loudly that America is putting too much emphasis on "military alliances" that Congress hasn't gone soft despite the criticisms from the so-called "liberal" sources and from those Democrats who have been carping about how this country is throwing its weight around in a military sense.

CONGRESS AT FAULT

It tells the folks who have been transparently seeking to drive a wedge between President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles that their troubles in getting more money out of America do not happen to be concentrated in the executive branch of the United States government but in the Congress.

It tells the wobbling and wavering countries abroad, including certain Allies and also certain so-called "neutral" countries, that maybe they have persuaded the Congress that it is unwise to rely on overseas bases. Whatever propaganda victories Communist Russia gets out of the "Yankee-go-home" slogans in Iceland's election campaign or in Egypt or in Tunisia or elsewhere, Congress is beginning to believe that the best way to protect this country is by intercontinental bombers, a strong naval air force with carriers fully equipped to carry all kinds of bombs, and a mobile force of ground troops.

Members of Congress cannot in the very nature of things become military experts, but they are swayed by events in the world that take on special significance to them. For weeks a few Democrats, with some traces of partisan motivation, have been regularly picking flaws in the foreign policy of the United States with a series of speeches. Whenever the Kremlin makes an effective move of infiltration somewhere, it is promptly blamed on Dulles, or on Eisenhower's illness or on his lack of pressure on Congress. It is immediately urged, moreover, that there be a "re-examination" of our policies.

WAR, THE ANSWER?

Unless, of course, the Democrats who are articulate on this subject really want the United States to get into a war in order to force the Communists to behave, there isn't much point in blaming the State Department for the aggressive acts of the Kremlin.

But the critics who must really be disappointed over the attitude of Congress this week are those who have been extolling Nehru and praising his virtues as a "neutralist." They have been arguing that America should give more and more money to "win men's minds" in the "neutralist" countries. They have been complaining that the southeast Asia treaties are actually sinister—as they do no doubt look to Nehru and the Communists—but they forget that these pacts were meant to be a warning against further aggression when the Indo-China truce was signed and a means of discouraging any more Korean wars.

It is remarkable how soon those Americans who are thinking so much about the objectives of foreign countries can so readily forget the objectives of their own country. It seems to be fashionable to find fault with the American policies—the foreigners are pictured as always right.

But the Congress, irrespective of party, has spoken this week—somewhat awkwardly, to be sure, and without a clear-cut explanation of what's back of it all, yet plainly on one point. For the legislators here in Washington are beginning to think a little more about the interests of the American people and not so much about the numerous petitioners abroad who have been demanding more and more money as the price of their cooperation with us.

• • •

It's not an encouraging thing to see dissension in the ranks here on foreign policy, but it's in Congress and not in the executive branch where the "isolationism" has cropped up. And, of all things, it has emerged in the Democratic party, whose votes have gone to big money for defense of America instead of for defense of American military alliances abroad.

Smiles

Nothing makes a girl laugh at life in general like real pretty front teeth.

Dr. William Brady Says:

America Lacks Schools for the Family Physician

I can remember riding my (brother Andy's) bicycle on the cinder path between Canandaigua and Shortsville, a gruelling six-mile voyage, seldom meeting another cyclist, to study medicine in the office of my preceptor, the late Dr. Daniel Eiseline. I was the only member of my class in medical school that had one. Under my preceptor's tutelage I acquired in the course of the summer an insight and inspiration which has been of inestimable value throughout my professional life.

A recent survey of medical education in America suggested that the preceptorial system, virtually abandoned since the medical schools took to training trick specialists exclusively, is to be revived.

What this country needs is a revival of schools for family physicians exclusively.

A medical friend who has looked forward to the day when his son would complete his training and come home to assist and in due time succeed his father in practice, told me sadly that this was only a dream. The young man is now in his tenth year of preparation, in a residency, which is a cut above internship, and upon completion of his three year's residency will begin practice—as a specialist, of course. "Dad, the professors cautioned us not to waste our lives in general practice. We can't afford to do so. People today demand . . ."

If was plain that dad was a little dazed by all this. He restrained the impulse to say what he honestly thinks about it. Indeed, he pleaded in self defense when I chided him for truckling to specialists, that he is now so hemmed in by specialists that he has to cater to them in order to make a living.

But you know me. I just don't give—I plump for a revival not only of the preceptorial system but also a reformation of medical education with a view to training young men and women for general practice as family physicians.

Perhaps the dearth of family physicians could best be corrected by setting apart certain medical schools in which students, admitted upon high school graduation, would complete their medical training in four years, to qualify for an intership of one year and finally the degree M. D., which would entitle the holder to practice anywhere he or she wishes to practice. We Americans are downright silly about some things. We authorize certain educational institutions to grant the degree, Doctor of Medicine, to qualified persons, but the politicians, not the educators, decide whether the Doctor of Medicine shall be permitted to practice. This mockery stimulates and facilitates corruption. The "fee" the candidate passes over the table for the privilege of taking the state board's examination may be only $100, but the bundle he passes to the right party under the table may be what gets the license.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Don't Like Presley? 'Then Don't Listen'

I've read all the articles that were in the paper about Elvis Presley. One writer said that there are more teenagers against him than for him, but I think it's the other way around.

Maybe the older generation doesn't go for rock and roll singers, but what do you expect teenagers to like when all we hear is rock and roll? I've heard a few teenagers say they don't like Presley, but they like his records. But I've heard more say they like him and his records, too.

People might want him taken off TV and radio, but who is he hurting? If you don't like him, there's no law saying you have to listen to him. You can turn off your radio or TV.

How did Elvis Presley get so popular if the teenagers didn't like him and buy his records?

Romeos in Old Trinidad Go Courting With Calypso

PORT OF SPAIN, Trinidad (AP)—You don't have to be able to write love letters to court a girl in old Trinidad.

• • •

You tell her with music. And you don't even need to be a musician yourself. You simply fork over a little ready cash to the singer and he creates a quick ballad extolling in song the charms of the girl you're after.

RITA SET TO MUSIC

A movie company here now making a film with Rita Hayworth recently had her immortalized in this manner. Total cost — $100.

• • •

Calypso songs originally were improvised satires on current events sung to an African rhythm at the annual pre-Lenten carnival.

Today, however, the calypso industry is not much more spontaneous than the art of canning tuna fish. It gets more like Tin Pan Alley every year. The ad libs aren't vocal. They're written out ahead of time.

• • •

"The calypsos are becoming more commercialized," said Charles S. Espinet, assistant editor of the Trinidad Guardian and an authority on island folk music. "But at parties, where the singers know the guests, they still often improvise."

Calypso singers are a breed apart. Most of them have little education, little formal knowledge of music. They usually come from the other side of the tracks, or, as the saying here goes "behind the bridge."

• • •

But they have a keen sense of rhythm and a quick eye for the absurdities and pretensions of the human race.

They all go by colorful or high-sounding names—such as "Lord Melody," "Lord Creator," "King Radio," "Cowboy Jones," "Lord Invader," "Attila the Hun," and "The Mighty Sparrow."

• • •

Calypso singers — there are about 100—average $1,200 a year income.

TUNES EXPLOITED

Many of the singers complain that visitors have stolen and exploited their tunes without paying them any royalties.

• • •

A gentleman named Vital Angel has just started a music publishing firm here with the hope of stamping out tune robbing by foreigners.

"Some calypsos are being played all over the United States," he said, "while the calypsonians here who originated them do not get enough money to buy a set of teeth."

Case Records of a Psychologist

Facts Erase Fears About Heart

President Eisenhower's heart was actually in better shape six weeks after his heart attack than it was the day before that attack. So get wise to the facts about medicine and save yourselves much unnecessary tension. Harry, too, needs to team up with God as a junior partner. Then he'll feel more calm and show a lower blood pressure.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case R-394: Harry D., aged 44, is a high pressure insurance salesman.

"Dr. Crane, I had a heart attack six months ago," Harry began. "And ever since then I have been scared.

"The doctor kept me in bed for six weeks, but then told me I was O.K.

"But I keep dreading lest it strike me again. What can I do to get over my fear of another attack?"

HEART PSYCHOLOGY

If we had a good high school course on applied psychology, followed by a semester of another course on "Applied Medicine," millions of you laymen would be less fearful and neurotic.

First of all, you are entirely recovered from your coronary thrombosis in six weeks.

If a tiny floating blood clot plugs up the branches of the fanned-out coronary artery, we call this an embolus.

If the walls get so thickened from irritation via tobacco, they may finally close near the end. This is a coronary thrombosis.

The effect is the same, whether your plugging of the final branches of the artery is due to a clot or thickened artery walls.

If only a small area is thus suddenly blocked off from blood supply, you may not be unconscious, but simply suffer severe pain and oxygen hunger.

If a larger terminal branch is blocked off, you may actually become unconscious.

• • •

Suppose an area as big as a dime were to be plugged off from blood. In 10 to 14 days, the heart muscle of that area will "resorb." That means it melts away and is dissolved.

So that spot is very dangerous at the end of 14 days. Sudden exertion might make the heart burst.

As a child, maybe you have filled a brown paper bag with water to drop on somebody's head.

If you hold the sack of water too long, the paper gets so wet it bursts open, doesn't it?

Well, that is what can happen to your heart at the end of 10 to 14 days following the attack.

FACTS BANISH FEARS

But scar tissue immediately begins to replace the dissolved heart muscle. Tiny fibrous hairs, like threads, grow into the region of dead muscle. And at the end of six weeks, a tough scar has entirely replaced the former muscle.

Indeed, this scar tissue is tougher than the muscle used to be, so your heart is as good as before the attack.

• • •

It is thus silly to worry about a previous heart attack. After President Eisenhower had convalesced for six weeks, he was as good as he was the day before his original heart attack.

Indeed, he was probably better, for he had lost some weight and thus his blood pressure should have been lower.

If you ever do suffer from a real heart attack, or even an imagined attack, be sure to lie down; then indulge in forced deep breathing!

The chief remedy for a heart attack is oxygen. But until we medics can get an oxygen bottle to you, you can give yourself an extra supply of oxygen just by forced deep breathing.

That's the very best "cardiac first aid" you can obtain on the scene. So grit your teeth, for this deep breathing will not damage your injured heart but will actually help dissolve the pain and insure your recovery.

Also, team up with God as a junior partner so you can relax more at night, as well as by day, for then you blood pressure will be lower.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac Michigan.

Liquor Agency Obeys Subpoena

Blackford Says Senate Probers Plan Methods to Which He Objects

LANSING (AP) — Frank Blackford, chairman of the State Liquor Control Commission, said that the commission will comply with the subpoena of a Senate Investigating Committee, although he questioned the Senate group's methods.

• • •

In a letter to Sen. John Minnema (R-Traverse City), Blackford said the committee's subpoena directing him to appear before it "with all books, paper, documents and records" of the liquor agency would require a "fleet of moving vans" for literal compliance.

Minnema is chairman of the Senate group.

Blackford said the suggestion of the investigating committee that a "corps of snoopers" could be hired through a private detective agency in Detroit to carry out the inquiry is "ridiculous on the face of it."

"Such a procedure would be hardly less disruptive of the operations of this agency than sending you moving vans of records," Blackford said.

He went on to say certain information in commission records is confidential "for obvious reasons."

QUESTIONS METHODS

The records contain, among other things, information on income tax and income derived from sources other than liquor sales, he said.

Such information might be used to the advantage of a competitor, he said.

Although Blackford said members of the investigating committee could examine the confidential records at any time, he questioned whether it is proper for paid agents outside the state government to do so.

"What assurance can you give the public that your outside agents will not be hired by clients with a different interest in these confidential records?" he asked.

PROUD OF WORK

Blackford said the commission would allow the investigation to be handled in one of two ways—by providing an office for the committee's hired agents where they can examine records, or by delivering by moving van to a place designated by the committee all the records for any specified year or years.

"We are proud of the integrity and record of public service of this agency of the people," Blackford said.

"We fear no investigation and will cooperate fully with your inquiry in spite of the fact that members of your committee publicly admit you are on a 'fishing' expedition, and have no specific charges against us.

• • •

"We have nothing to hide," he added. "Our policies and actions are, and have been, open to public scrutiny at all times."

Brick Machine Aiding Industry

Produces One-Fourth of Product Made in South Australia

ADELAIDE, South Australia — An American-made Vibrapac brick-making machine is now producing one in every four bricks manufactured in the State of South Australia.

The machine was imported by Jayworth-Besser Pty. Ltd., of Blakeney Road, Rosewater, Adelaide, and so keen has been the demand for its products that a second unit, now in process of installation, will increase output to one in every two bricks made in that State.

The machine cost $90,000, and produces a type of brick which eliminates the necessity for both interior and exterior plastering.

DUE TO TEXTURE

This is due to the fine texture of the product, which in use results in a saving in building costs.

The first machine produced about 20,000,000 bricks a year and the company has a backlog of orders.

Within three months of installation, it was working two shifts a day and even when this was stepped up to work for 20 hours a day, the company found that output was still inadequate to meet demand.

Venezuelans Build Dreams on Horse Bets

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

CARACAS, Venezuela (INS)—It is not easy to save money in Venezuela, due to the fact that the best things in life—sun, moon, bananas, etc.—are taken for granted, and now everyone wants a dishwasher on easy payments.

* * *

When it comes to making money fast, however, this country is unexcelled.

Americans get rich quick in oil Real Estate, construction and a general out-maneuvering of the natives.

The natives don't mind. They like the Americans, maybe even pity them.

For what almost every Venezuelan over the age of 5 knows is that his ship is coming in at any moment—and it is going to coast in, easily, without all this foolish financial angling that the foreigners indulge in.

* * *

The prospective pot of gold lies at the end of a successful Saturday night session of a game called "5 and 6."

THE NATIONAL SPORT

This is the national sport, carried on weekly in connection with the Caracas horse races. Nearly 300,000 serious, wistful addicts indulge in it every Saturday night.

* * *

It is a sport to make even reckless "daily double" players in the States turn pale . . . a sport that requires supreme talent, enormous luck and God's blessing . . . a sport that has been known to pay $300,000 to a shack-dweller, and to provide a 4-year-old girl with a lifetime income.

To win, all a man or woman or child must do is pick the last five or six winners in a Sunday card of racing.

As a horseplayer who feels lucky indeed to have one winner a day at beautiful Belmont in New York, I was alarmed at the very thought that so many could be so conned for so much.

* * *

Every week throughout the country of Venezuela, people wager up to $900,000 on the slim possibility that five or six beautiful but dumb animals will get the message and hurry their way into the winner's circle.

LOTS OF DISCUSSION

These animals are analyzed by 31 newspapers, periodicals and radio statios. They are discussed for days prior to each Sunday, in the smallest villages.

* * *

They are hunch-picked by little children, soberly handicapped by men, and devoutly prayed for by women.

On Saturdays, hundreds of "5 and 6" polls are set up at street corners and garages. Here, the people gather by the dozens to buy form sheets and long printed cards on which to register their selections.

The minimum cost of picking six possible winners is $1.20. But a man may make many choices, and pay as much as he wants for a multitude of cards.

* * *

As the races are run, three TV and six radio stations carry results, because the small Caracas racetrack will not hold crowds—and many "5 and 6" players have spent their last Bolivars (the Venezuelan currency) to bet.

MANY SADDENED

They cannot afford also to see their victory or demise.

When the first horse in the last race has sped across the finish line, there is despondency in most Venezuelan homes, boundless joy in a few.

The money is divided up: 60 per cent going to the one or ones who picked six winners; 40 to those who picked five. The government takes out of the winnings only a dainty 10 per cent for income tax.

Big fortunes have been made by little people who played "5 and 6". The joyful memory helps keep Venezuela happy.

Although the gold rush days are gone, Alaska still yields more than $8,000,000 worth of gold each year—more than the entire purchase price when the United States bought Alaska from Russia in 1867.

ARTHRITIS?

I have been wonderfully blessed in being restored to active life after being crippled in nearly every joint in my body and with muscular soreness from head to foot. I had Rheumatoid Arthritis and other forms of Rheumatism, hands deformed and my ankles were set.

Limited space prohibits telling you more here but if you will write me I will reply at once and tell you how I received this wonderful relief.

Complete General Hospital Study

more on its functional role of policy making, planning and review."

More attention should be directed to the quality of the professional care program, the report went on to say of the board.

SOME ALARM

It points out that the executive management of Pontiac General Hospital is rated "above average."

Alarm was voiced about the increase in the infant mortality rate, certain patient charges, and the relation of Miss Lauretta Paul, hospital director, with other departments and members of the board of trustees.

Major recommended additions to the staff are for an assistant director, controller, personnel and public relations officer, and purchasing agent.

GIVES WARNING

The deletion of several other positions, re-shuffling others, and adding the four would amount to a net annual saving of $71,760, the study illustrated.

It warned against any "political complexion in the composition of the Board."

The infant mortality rate last year was 1.9 per cent. The accepted limit is 2.0 per cent. A 1951 figure of 2.8 was "abnormally high" and then an "improvement trend" was reversed in 1955 to reach the 1.9 figure.

* * *

The researchers suggested broadening the pre-natal clinic, after the medical staff claimed the high rate was due partially to lack of pre-natal care before delivery.

COMMENT ON DOCTORS

Because a survey showed the age of the doctors too high to make room for a younger medical staff, the study suggested that when a doctor reaches 70, he be changed to the honorary staff with admitting privileges discontinued.

The intern and residency program at Pontiac General Hospital was praised in the analysis. But this program should be expanded to include pediatrics, anesthesiology, radiology, and medical rehabilitation, the report suggested.

Concerning pediatrics, the report noted that 17 per cent of beds at the hospital were used for children. This indicated some children were hospitalized who might be cared for at home.

An investigation of the anesthesiologist's income was urged by the firm. "The present agreement does not operate fairly to hospital and public," the study stated.

A psychiatric clinic was recommended for the hospital.

COMMENT ON DIRECTOR

After an extensive study of the work of Miss Paul, who was appointed director in 1948, the report suggested she be given one year "to carry out recommendations . . . . for strengthening executive management and internal operations."

It added that her salary should be raised to $12,000 (presently $11,000) with an annual increase to $15,000 within three years.

"She has many necessary attributes of a good executive but her fundamental weakness is that she runs a 'one man show'," the study revealed.

It pointed out that two members of the Board of Trustees were attempting 'to replace" Miss Paul.

"The director has pursued a rugged path during her eight years stewardship . . . her superior qualities tip the scales in favor of her performance in spite of several major deficiencies which impair her her competence."

COSTS TOO HIGH

Financially it was determined per patient day costs were too high compared with community and state levels. This cost is $31.91 while the average state cost is $21.78. The cost at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital is $27.41.

"Salary schedules are materially out of line with prevailing wages at other hospitals and consequently inflate the hospital's operating costs."

It was recommended operating costs be lowered by three per cent.

The survey also indicated that the hospital was over-staffed by as much as five per cent.

Two major deficiencies exist at the executive management level. They are: absence of the "second in command" or assistant director and the fact the director is "spreading herself too thin trying to supervise directly and coordinate the work of to many department heads."

It was recommended the Board membership be increased to 11 or 15 members with the president of the Woman's Auxiliary being made an ex-officio member. There are presently seven members.

There should be no more than one four-year re-appointment of members thus limiting to eight years the length of consecutive service on the Board. Members are appointed by the City Commission for four years.

ASKS JOINT COMMITTEE

There is need for streamlining paper work at the hospital and better supervision and training of employes. More professional nurses are needed also.

A joint conference committee consisting of Board members and representatives of the medical staff should be established.

Although criticized for a tendency to "interfere with the internal administration," the Board has accomplished a commendable record to date, the report said.

* * *

Adjustments in payments are needed to assure the hospital of collection for both county and state patients using Pontiac General Hospital. The report cited the case of 60 per cent of 50 cases in 1955 amounting to $10,000, for which the hospital had not received payments.

COMMENT ON NURSES

Indicative of the reported high cost is the report that food costs per meal averaged nearly 40 cents in 1955, which is higher than average hospital experience. The suggestion was to decrease the cost to 37 cents thus permitting an annual savings of $14,000.

The cleanliness of the hospital seen by the public was rated as "good" but less conspicuous areas rated as "fair."

While the nursing service is overstaffed, there is an increased need for professional nurses at Pontiac General, the report emphasized. Only 26 per cent of nursing care is professional.

And the average number of nursing hours per patient should be lowered from 4.94 hours to 3.9 when additional beds are made available.

* * *

Attempts should be made to reduce labor turnovers to 25 per cent instead of the present 33. Major areas of concern in turnover exist in the administrative, nursing and radiology departments, the study pointed out.

COMMEENT ON RECORDS

Terminal interviews should be obtained and calculated to determine why employes depart from the hospital.

Priority should be given to hiring the assistant director and personnel and public relations director, the Board learned from the report.

Other unsatisfactory grades were given to level of staff consultations and medical records. Ten per cent of the medical records were found unacceptable by the analysis.

There is also a laxity on the part of the medical staff to attend staff meetings. One-third of active staff in the last two years has missed more than 25 per cent of the meetings, statistics revealed.

Publishers Injured in Escanaba Wreck

ESCANABA (AP)—Philip T. Rich, 58, publisher of the Midland Daily News, and William A. Butler, 57, publisher of the Holland Evening Sentinel, were injured last night in an auto wreck on U.S.2 about 20 miles east of Escanaba.

The accident occurred when Butler swerved his car to avoid striking a porcupine. The car left the highway and overturned.

Rich suffered a severe head gash and chest injuries and was admitted to St. Francis Hospital here. Attendants said he was in satisfactory condition. Butler was treated for a deep knee gash and released.

The two publishers were traveling with two friends to the God's Lake country 300 miles north of Winnipeg, Man., for a fishing vacation.

The others, Dr. Wilbur B. Towsley and Howard Arbury, both of Midland, were following in another car. Dr. Towsley administered first aid to the injured men before they were taken to the hospital.

Butler's car was badly damaged.

'Inside Story' Row Continues

White House Approved Book Discloses Secret Talk on Second Term

WASHINGTON (AP) — Close associates of President Eisenhower, called to a secret White House meeting the night of Jan. 13, got the impression at that time he would seek a second term.

This is contained in Robert J. Donovan's book, "Eisenhower, the Inside story," to be published Saturday.

The book which its jacket says was written with White House cooperation but without official censorship, has aroused prepublication controversy in the Senate as to how Donovan obtained his confidential source information.

Donovan says one of the most telling points made by Milton Eisenhower in summarizing arguments for the second term was that if the President was to work effectively for world peace it would have to be from the White House, not from retirement.

The author says that argument was probably the greatest single factor in influencing the President to seek a second term after his Sept. 24, 1955 heart attack. Eisenhower announced his decision to seek another term on Feb. 29.

Other high spot assertions of the book include:

The President was not convinced that the vital interests of the United States would be best served by prolonged nonrecognition of Red China.

The President, in private, was "disgusted and infuriated" by the tactics of Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis).

The question as to who supplied Donovan the material for the book is a source of inquiry by the Senate Investigations subcommittee.

Baby Treated for Cuts After Fall From Auto

A 22-month-old girl fell from her parents' moving auto last night, according to Pontiac police.

Debra Sue Lynn escaped serious injury. She was treated for minor cuts and bruises and released from St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, authorities said.

The parents, Charles and Nancy Lynn, of 5061 Sherbourne Rd. said the right side door suddenly opened and the tot fell out on Bagley street north of Jackson Street, police said.

Cash Drawer Is Looted in Theft at Car Agency

The cash drawer in an auto sales office at 40 W. Pike St. was rifled of $50 in bills and change, according to Pontiac police.

Police believe the theft occurred sometime Tuesday. The business manager, Daniel C. MacKinnon of Detroit, reported the theft after the cash was counted Wednesday morning, police said.

Electronic Eye Sorts Lemons by Color

SAN JOSE, Calif. (UP) — Lemons are contrary things. A green fruit, or a yellow one, or shades in between, may be ripe, but housewives just don't buy green lemons.

The industry has had the expense of sorting the fruit by hand, sending the green ones to storage for color correction. Now it has an electronic eye that sorts the fruit into four color grades.

It does the work of 20 or more girls. Each lemon goes to one of four groups. Uniform yellows go to market. The others go to storage where they slowly change color to yellow. The grading is the key as to how long the fruit is in storage.

This May Be Record for Political Brevity

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M. (UP)—Former Gov. Edwin L. Mechem may have set some sort of record for brevity in announcing he would be a candidate for the Republican nomination for governor.

Asked if he would make the race, Mechem replied:

"Yup."

Asked if he would make any other comments, he replied:

"Nope."

FOUR "BOWS" FOR ARROW — Shimmering gold in color, "Golden Arrow," above, is scheduled to be coursing along America's skyways in 1959. The four-jet passenger ship, seating 60-plus, will be shot into production by fourfold efforts of Convair division of General Dynamics, Hughes Tool Co., Delta Airlines and General Electric. Some 40 planes are on order for the newcomer to the highly competitive jet field. Pressurized, it's designed to cruise at 35,000 feet at top cruising speed of 609 m. p. h. On the drawing board, it streaks from Los Angeles to Chicago in 3 hours, 24 minutes.

Security for You

Social Security Also Pays for Funeral Expenses

By RAY HENRY
AP Writer

Did you know that when a person covered by Social Security dies, the government will make a lump-sum death payment ranging from $90 to $255?

The payment may be made to:

1. The surviving wife or husband who has been living with or receiving support from the deceased.

2. Or, anyone else who pays the funeral expense if there is no surviving wife or husband.

The death payment will be made not only when a worker dies before retirement but also when a retired worker dies who has been drawing regular monthly Social Security checks.

And the lump-sum death payment is separate from, and in addition to, any other benefits to which members of the dead worker's family may be entitled. For example, it would be in addition to monthly payments to the surviving wife or husband or children.

The amount of the lump-sum depends on the amount of benefit built up by the person who died. You don't have to try to figure out how much the lump sum payment to you should be. That will be done for you by the Social Security people when you apply.

IMPORTANT DETAILS

Here are some other details to keep in mind:

The government doesn't automatically hand out the death payment. You have to go to the nearest Social Security office in person and fill out a form, unless you're physically unable to do so. If you don't know where the Social Security office is, ask at your post office.

If you can't go to the office—say you're bed-ridden or too old or otherwise unable to go out—someone from the Social Security office will visit you and have you fill out the form.

Now comes the question: Suppose the surviving wife or widow didn't pay the funeral expense. Some one else paid it. What happens to the lump-sum payment?

The payment always goes to the surviving wife or husband no matter who paid the funeral expense when he or she has been living with or receiving support from the dead worker.

For example: John Jones died. His brother paid for the funeral. His wife can still go to the Social Security office, claim and get the lump-sum payment. She doesn't have to show any receipt from the undertaker noting that she or anyone else paid for the funeral.

If Jones' brother wants to be reimbursed for the expense, it's a problem between him and Mrs. Jones.

But suppose Tom Smith dies. He leaves no widow. His wife died some years ago. But, he does leave several children and aged parents. Can't any of them claim the lump-sum payment as next-of-kin?

No. Only the person who in this case paid the funeral expenses can make the claim and get the money. It might have been Tom Smith's boss who paid for burying him.

In that case, Tom's boss must go to the Social Security office, make his claim, fill out a form and show a receipted bill from the undertaker.

You may apply for the lump-sum death payment up to two years following the date of death of the worker.

(You may write Ray Henry in care of this newspaper about your Social Security or retirement problem. Please enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope and 25 cents in coin.)

School in the Forest

TACOMA, Wash. (AP)—High school students who show an interest in the lumber business attended the second annual Junior Logging Congress in Pack Forest, about 40 miles southeast of Tacoma. The tract is operated by the College of Forestry of the University of Washington. At the Congress were 120 high school students representing many schools in the state. The limit was seven from a school.

'Interesting' Day

BISMARCK, N. D. (AP) — In this city: Policeman Eddie Hayes shot a squirrel that had undertaken to remodel an elm tree and littered a yard with gnawed-off limbs. Other officers rounded up cattle that were gallavanting over lawns in another part of town. Their owner said someone cut a fence. And a man and his wife were charged with throwing stones in a neighborhood fuss.

Group Named to Study Roads

Federal Aid Program Causing Changes in State Highway Picture

LANSING (AP)—James M. Telford, president of the Michigan Good Good Roads Federation, today announced appointment of a committee to revie wthe state highway picture.

Telford said it should be re-examined in the light of the new federal aid program and recently completed surveys of state road needs and financing.

He said the committee would be asked to recommend any changes in state highway, road and street laws that may be required to provide the best possible overall approach to the state's road problems.

"Though Michigan's engineering needs and fiscal reports have been completed for several months," Telford said, "all changes hinged upon what the federal government was going to do.

"Now that the measure is passed, we must meet our responsibilities."

Named to the committee were: Charles M. Ziegler, commissioner, and George M. Foster, deputy commissioner, Michigan State Highway Department; John Huss, director Michigan Municipal League; Glenn C. Richards, commissioner, Department of Public Works, Detroit; Otto S. Hess, superintendent, Kent County Road Commission; John Jacoby, legal division, Wayne County Road Commission; C. J. Carroll, executive secretary, Michigan Road Builders Assn.; Gilbert Haley, executive vice president, Michigan Automobile Dealers Assn.; Oscar G. Olander, secretary, Michigan Trucking Assn.; Stanley Powell, Michigan Farm Bureau; George Swart, Grand Rapids; George Ames, Michigan Bell Telephone Co., Detroit; and D. B. Varner, vice president, Michigan State University.

Insurance Case Has Odd Twist

Canadian Juror Holds Decision in Civil Suit by Motor City Couple

LONDON, Ont. (AP) — Supreme Court Justice H. A. Aylen has reserved decision on whether a man boarding with his brother is a member of the family within the meaning of an accident policy.

• • •

The case involves a judgment of $54,000 for a Detroit, Mich., couple, Mr. and Mrs. Allan Bell.

The action may be a test case in Canada of the "standard type" auto liability insurance policy. "We may be breaking new ground," Aylen told counsel in the absence of citation of similar cases in Canadian courts.

The Bells brought action against the Wawanesa Mutual Insurance Co. of Winnipeg for collection of $54,000 awarded them in May. They were injured in a car crash near the Lake Huron resort of Bayfield.

• • •

The other car was owned by John Milley of Sarnia and was driven by his brother, Everitt, who was killed. The insurance company contended that Everitt was not a member of his brother's family and was not covered by the policy.

Parents Ban Romance—Teenagers Bicycle Off

MINNEAPOLIS (INS) — Two teenage sweethearts eloped on their bicycles because of parental objection to their romance. The boy left home with a $10 bill, a shotgun and a rifle. The girl carried a tent and other supplies.

The father of the boy found the campsite of the teenagers on a golf course yesterday and notified police to call off the search for the two whose names were withheld.

Buzz of Activity Creates Big Sting for Post Office

NEW YORK (AP)—The dead letter office turned out to be a hive of activity yesterday.

A packing case containing thousands of bees, waiting transfer to a train, broke open unaccountably in the general post office building.

While Supt. Lester Bricks of the dead letter office went in quest of a DDT bomb, between 300 and 500 bees decided to buzz off on a tour of the world's largest post office.

• • •

The dead letter office came alive with swatting, slapping, howling mail clerks and television crewmen, who rolled their cameras against a real-life background of the "Flight of the Bumblebee."

• • •

Bricks finally subdued the yellow-jacketed dive bombers, but one casualty came after the armistice. Postal clerk Charles Fox obligingly agreed to pose for the cameramen with a dead bee on his nose. Only the bee wasn't dead, as Fox's nose now knows.

City Obtains Option on Parking Area Lot

The city has acquired an option to purchase a lot at 127 W. Lawrence St. upon which the City Commission earlier this month ordered condemnation proceedings filed.

• • •

The lot, owned by Lewis C. Jarrendt, was needed to complete part of the city's $600,000 off-street municipal parking system.

City attorney William A. Ewart said the option is for $25,000.

The condemnation suit against Pearl A. Merriman for two lots at 18 Jacokes, needed for the same purpose, has been filed. The City Commission asked for the suit June 12 when no price settlement could be reached for the lots.

New Flights Slated by Capital Airlines

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP)—Capital Airlines will inaugurate new flights July 18 connecting Buffalo with New York, Detroit and Chicago.

The airline, which had been serving Buffalo since 1937 with flights to Pittsburgh and Washington, will begin six daily flights to New York and three daily westbound flights to Chicago and Detroit.

James H. Carmichael, president of the company, said the airline would use new, 44-passenger turbo-prop Viscounts for the flight.

Carmichael said the new planes would cut the flying time eastbound and westbound 10 to 25 minutes below present schedules.

On Aug. 1, Carmichael said, the airline will add four more eastbound and three westbound flights daily.

The earth's rotation slows down very slightly over any long period of years.

Want Phone Numbers in Russia? Age Please

By EARL WILSON

MOSCOW—It's been bruited about in America that Russia has no phone books.

I guess that's just some American propaganda. There are phone books. Why, I've even met people here while "Rushin' Through Russia" who claim they've seen some.

But they're not "easily available." New York attorney Morris Ernst asked the Russians why, while touring here, and one said, "Why should anyone have my telephone number? I'll give it to my friends. Why deprive me of this remaining bit of privacy?"

"But "Information" is helpful—the only problem is, when you want to find out a number, "Information" asks you the person's age.

"I wonder what age has to do with it?" I asked when the Swift Family Wilson was trying to get a number.

★ ★ ★

"Everything," our interpreter and Intourist guide said. If I didn't know the man's age, maybe I didn't know him well enough to have his number. Besides, names are similar—would I want the 35-year-old Ivan Ivanovitch or the 72-year-old Ivan Ivanovitch?

I fell quite comfortable here and have no fear of being followed. American tourists tell me they don't think they're atched much any more.

But the Russians thoroughly protect their leaders. The Americans here still talk of how Producer Mike Todd forgot to take his passport along to the May Day parade for identification. It was supposed to be checked at merely six different points.

TINA

"I can prove to you I'm Mike Todd," he said. He showed them his name put inside his jacket by his tailor.

"I even got my name on the wrappers of my specially made cigars!" He pointed that out.

THE MIDNIGHT EARL IN N.Y. .

Julie Styne wants Jerry Lewis for a B'way musical next season . . . Sammy Davis Jr.'s honey, Cordy King, flew back to Chicago after visiting him here for five days.

Steve Allen's son Stevie, 12, danced with Kim Novak at the Harwyn party after the Allen TV'er. Steve said, "I want my boy to have all the advantages I never had" . . . TV's "Happy Birthday" show, with Barry Nelson, Betty Field and Tina Louise, was a comedy hit.

Earl's Pearls . . .

Many a woman would be glad to have a split personality—as long as the other one did the housework.—Lois F. Pasley.

WISH I'D SAID THAT: "When a man's bent on getting married, there's usually a girl around to straighten him out."

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: Hal Jackson described a constant drinker: "He's always drinking, either to cure a cold or to prevent one."

A couple of Sinatra fans were starting a nasty rumor about Elvis Presley—they said his sideburns are false! That's earl, brother.

Egyptians — the Biggest Headache for Egypt

CAIRO (AP) — Egypt's biggest problem is Egyptians.

They are born at the rate of more than 1,000 per day, making an annual increase of 400,000 in a population of 23 million.

* * *

Despite a high death rate, Egypt's population has doubled in half a century. At the present rate, it will double again in only a quarter of a century.

While the birth rate in the last decade has been constant at 42 per 1,000, the death rate has decreased from 27 to 16 per 1,000.

Even the multifillion-dollar Aswan Dam project could not solve Egypt's population problem. It is believed the benefits of the dam, if completed in 15 years, would just about cope with the demands of the increased population.

An increase in agricultural production has failed to keep pace with the rise in population.

Hussein el Shafei, minister of social affairs, says:

"Not only do I approve of birth control, but I also believe it has become a social necessity — if we continue to reproduce with maximum biological impetus, we shall have more weaklings, vagrants beggars."

Religious opposition to birth control is strong, however. Numerous verses in the holy books of both Moslems and Christians are quoted.

Children in Egypt have a great value socially. They raise the status of mothers and protect them from divorce — mainly on account of the alimony the father has to pay for each child of a divorced wife. In a country where divorce is easy to obtain and polygamy is legal this becomes important.

Apart from the religious and social factors involved, most peasants are too ignorant to practice birth control even if they wanted to.

The government is adopting a two-fold program in spreading birth control.

A number of ulemas, or Moslem religious scholars, have written on birth control from the Islamic point of view. These conclude that Islam not only permits birth control but advocates its necessity for the welfare of society.

Along with this religious approach, a program has been set up by the newly formed National Commission for Population Questions, to instruct the fellah (peasant) on birth control techniques. Twelve family clinics have been established in the big cities and villages, financed by women welfare organizations and the government.

RUPERT, Idaho (AP) — Officers of the Pershing School PTA say it'll be a long time before they again try the "circulating basket" project as a means of raising contributions. The PTA put three baskets into circulation with instructions that they be passed along from person to person, collecting food and money for the school. Only one thing went wrong with the plan—all three baskets are missing.

Blood Saves 15 Infants

BUTTE, Mont. (AP) — A Butte mother of five has been credited with saving the lives of 15 babies afflicted with a blood disorder in five years. Mrs. Pauline Cain, assistant to the laboratory technicians at a Butte hospital, has Type O negative blood, found in about 6 per cent of the nation's inhabitants. A physician said Mrs. Cain's blood enabled 15 babies with Rh incompatibility to live and grow, healthy and happy.

Re-enact Treaty Signing

BREMERTON, Wash. (AP) — The signing of the treaty of Hahd-Skus at Point No Point by which the white man received from the Indians a considerable portion of what is now Kitsap County on the Olympic Peninsula was commemorated in a ceremony here. A bronze plaque was unveiled at Point No Point. Taking part in the ceremony were the Rev. William Kitsap, grandson of Chief Kitsap for whom the county was named, and David Prince, a descendant of Chief Chetzamoka, who was the first person to affix his signature to the treaty.

Turn About's Fair Play

YORKTON, Sask. (AP)—Anton Wachesyn, 24, went up a tree fast when chased by a brown bear. The bear went up after him and clawed his legs. Wachesyn came down fast, grabbed a hatchet and chased the animal away.

WORLD'S MIGHTIEST INLAND WATERWAY—When deep-draft craft steam through the St. Lawrence-Great Lakes waterways system, perhaps as early as some time in 1959, the men who go down to the sea in ships will be traveling the world's longest inland route for deep-draft traffic. It's approximate 2,300-mile length (inclusive of one-way mileage from Lake Huron into Lake Michigan and down to Port of Chicago) will rival the Mediterranean Sea route (inset). The United States, New York State, Canada and her province of Ontario have joined hands in the 900-million dollar-plus effort which is creating the huge navigation project. Data from Steelways magazine.

Causeway Planned in Lake St. Clair Area

DETROIT (UP) — A "Blue Water Highway" from Detroit to Port Huron, widened in spots for playgrounds and beaches, will span the shallow shore waters of Lake St. Clair, if current plans become fact.

• • •

Officials of suburban St. Clair Shores are studying a proposal for a causeway from the Shores to Harsens Island. A private syndicate has offered plans for the 14-mile, water-spanning road.

• • •

Henry E. Beyster, representing the firm, says the island-skipping road could be built from industrial waste and fill dirt from excavations such as those for expressways.

• • •

He says the causeway could also serve as a breakwater to prevent fluctuations in shore depths that raise hob with sewage flow. The causeway would also inhibit damaging ice and storms.

U.S. Communications Experts to Aid Korea

SEOUL, South Korea (UP) — The South Korean government announced today that nine communications experts from the Philco Corp. will help the country reorganize its telephone, telegraph and radio systems.

The Americans' visit is provided for in a $300,000 contract signed by the government and the corporation. The announcement did not say when the communications team would arrive.

9 Years, 9 Bulls— He Wants a Heifer

SHELBY, N. C. (UP) — If you know how to get a cow to have a heifer calf, farmer Charles Peeler wishes you'd pass along your secret.

Back in 1946, as part of his 4-H club project, Peeler received a registered Jersey heifer who turned out to be an exceptional milk giver. She also produced a calf the year after Peeler got her. It was a bull.

Nine years have passed, and each year she has had a calf — always a bull.

She Got Her Man

NORFOLK, Va. (UP)—Mrs. Helen Agnes Hall, a telephone company supervisor, was stopped at a traffic light when a truck bumped her rear fender and didn't stop. She chased it into a dead-end street, blocked it with her car and called police. The truck driver was charged with hit-and-run driving, property damage and no registration card.

Turkey Passes Political Law

Places New Restrictions on Opposition Parties Over Public Meetings

ANKARA, Turkey (AP) — Premier Adnan Menderes' overwhelming majority in the Turkish Parliament has taken a second step in its crackdown on opposition parties.

• • •

Deputies from Menderes' Democratic party last night rammed through Parliament a law sharply curtailing the holding of political meetings and authorizing police to fire on public gatherings if they "degenerate from stated purposes."

The measure permits political groups to hold only three public meetings or demonstrations a year 45 days before elections.

• • •

The measure was approved 281-2, with most opposition deputies boycotting the vote. The new law outlines three steps for bringing police firearms into action against crowds:

1. Warning must first be given by word.
2. If the warning is unheeded, police may fire into the air.
3. If the overhead firing gets no results, officers may fire into the crowd.

Fines and jail sentences of three months to two years are provided for violations.

Tempted Lad Succumbs to Crashing Love

ST. LOUIS (AP)—There was a toy station wagon in the window of a juvenile department store and a 5-year-old boy outside.

• • •

The lad, who "wanted to see how it would run," was tempted. He found an iron rod and smashed a hole in the window last night, squirmed through unharmed.

• • •

Police found the boy happily sitting in the station wagon inside the store but they couldn't get to him. The hole in the window was too small.

They called the manager, who opened the door. The boy was released to the custody of his parents.

Waterford Takes Stock of Disaster Care Facilities

SOME UP THERE LIKES ME! — Getting a helping beak from its mama, a one-and-a-half day old flamingo appears bewildered as it begins its life sentence between the skyscraper-size legs of its mother. Area Can House 20,210 Refugees

Group Conducts Survey to Determine Fitness for Future Emergency

Thanks to the efforts of a group of Waterford Township housewives, the first "giant step" in a long mile of civil defense work has been taken.

Mrs. J. Thomas Peterson and a committee of 50 members of the American Assn. of University Women have turned in to Oakland County Civil Defense Director Lewis C. Jarrendt a detailed study of Waterford Township's facilities for feeding and housing refugees during a disaster.

Jarrendt says the survey shows 20,210 people could be sheltered in schools, churches, community buildings, bowling alleys, theaters, skating rinks, hospitals and large halls.

A total of 37,015 meals per day can be served in Waterford Township in public facilities, restaurants and school and church kitchens.

To finish the survey, Mrs. Peterson's committee measured every large hall in the township to calculate sleeping capacities, and interviewed kitchen staffs.

The survey provides another indication of the growth of the township, Jarrendt pointed out. A similar Red Cross survey in 1951 showed that only 1,675 refugees could be sheltered, and 1,625 could be fed.

Jarrendt said similar surveys now are being conducted in all townships in the county, to provide an adequate indication of the county's capacity to abosorb refugees from a disaster area.

"For example," he said, "If a tornado should hit Clarkston 1,000 people might be homeless. With the results of this survey, we could assign them to emergency shelters in Waterford Township and be sure they'd be taken care of."

A second major potential use, he said, would come in the event of a nuclear bomb attack on Detroit.

"If we had four hours' warning of such an attack," Jarrendt said, "Civil defense authorities in Detroit would order an evacuation of the city. They are depending heavily on Oakland County to absorb a large part of Detroit's vast population.

"We must know where we can house and feed over a million people."

"This survey established refugee centers. The next step is for Louis Dorman, Jr., civil defense director of Waterford Township, to assign workers to manage the shelters in a time of disaster.

"He will begin collecting volunteers to handle specialized problems in the shelters—auxiliary electricians and plumbers. He will organize a system of communications between shelters and a central registry office where records of all refugees can be kept."

Jarrendt said special certificates of appreciation will be presented to Mrs. Peterson, her committee, William J. Bawden, administrative assistant in Waterford Township schools, who assisted them in gathering the information.

Subcommittee chairmen included Mrs. Faye Donelson, Mrs. Catherine Thurston and Mrs. Royal Exline, he added.

MAP SURVEY PROJECT — Lewis C. Jarrendt, Oakland County civil defense director, assigns territory to Mrs. Faye Donelson and Mrs. Royal Exline, subcommittee chairmen in a survey of refugee feeding and housing facilities in Waterford Township. The survey, just completed, provides Jarrendt with comprehensive information to be used in the event of disaster.

Who Should Foot Bill for the Honeymoon?

EAST LANSING (AP)—Should the bride pay for the honeymoon if the bridegroom lacks the funds?

• • •

Asst. Prof. Margery R. Ross, who teaches courses in "marriage" and "marriage and family counseling," says Michigan State University students appear divided on the question.

In classroom discussion, the girls generally say "no," and men students "yes."

Miss Ross cited as a typical feminine viewpoint:

"It just isn't right to make her pay for an expense rightly his."

• • •

Men students are apt to take the attitude "Once they're married what's hers is his, and what's his is hers." In short, what's the difference who pays?

• • •

Prof. Ross said in her opinion the right answer probably varies with circumstances.

May Ask Legislative Action

Hare Seeks Right to Deny Licenses to Bad Drivers

LANSING (AP) — Secretary of State James M. Hare said today he may ask the Legislature for specific authority to deny new licenses to motorists with "bad" driving records.

• • •

Until Tuesday, Hare acted in the belief that he had such power. In 1955, about 25,000 applicants for new licenses were turned down, many of them on the basis of bad driving records.

But then Judge Marvin Salmon ruled in Ingham County Circuit Court that a record of repeated minor traffic violations was insufficient grounds under the law for rejection.

Hare said one of the effects of the ruling will be to throw a huge additional administrative burden on his staff.

Heretofore a motorist who had built up a record of numerous violations could be turned down for a new license simply on the basis of a quick review of his file at the time of application.

• • •

In the future, a rejection will have to follow a hearing by one of Hare's examiners. This procedure, considering the volume of cases involved, would require a large increase in personnel and a vastly greater expenditure of time to accomplish the same end result.

Man Drowns in River

NEWAYGO (AP) — Arthur Westgate, 22, of rural Newaygo, near Hardy Dam Wednesday. He and a companion, Bruce Kyser, 22, of Clarksville, were thrown from a canoe when it overturned. A fisherman rescued Kyser.

Recruiters Double as Painters

Widow's Plight Brings Navy Aid

The Navy came to the rescue in helping fulfill a dream of Mrs. Ella Wilcox, 77, of 38 N. Shirley Ave., a widow who is partially blind.

Two members of the Navy Recruiting Service in Pontiac, Petty Officers L. T. Harris and W. J. Borer, are busy this week putting a first coat of paint to Mrs. Wilcox's home.

Both men volunteered to take over the job which was a project originally suggested for Pontiac Junior Chamber of Commerce's "Clean - Up, Fix - Up, Paint -Up Week."

So, a number of friends of Mrs. Wilcox, who lives on a monthly pension of $70 from the Aid for The Blind, solicited the services of the U. S. Navy.

The Pontiac Paint and Varnish Co. supplied the paint to help Mrs. Wilcox's long dream of having her home painted come true.

HELPING HANDS — Performing beyond the "call of duty" in helping paint the home of Mrs. Ella Wilcox, 38 N. Shirley Ave., are members of the local Navy Recruiting Service, Chief Petty Officers L. T. Harris and W. J. Borer. The men are donating their time for a week to paint the home of Mrs. Wilcox, a widow who is partially blind.

Bubonic Plague Peril Reported in California

LOS ANGELES (INS)—Epidemiologists are collecting rodents and fleas in the back country of Ventura County, north of Los Angeles, in a move to head off a possible outbreak of bubonnic plague in Southern California.

The state reported its first bubonic plague death in 10 years last Monday and it is believed that the victim contracted the deadly disease while on a fishing trip.

The victim was Andrews Sakacs, 43. He died at the Corona Naval Hospital, east of Los Angeles.

GMC Trucks Handle Camp Chores

Twenty flame red GMC trucks are doing a good deed for 5,000 girl scouts by keeping vital supplies flowing smoothly through their vast "tent city" west of Pontiac.

The trucks were loaned by GMC Truck and Coach Division to the 1956 Senior Girl Scout Roundup at Highland Recreation Area.

"Without the trucks, we'd be lost," said Julian H. Salomon, site and facilities director for the Roundup. "They literally serve as our supply lifeline."

Nine pickups, seven Suburban station wagons, three panel trucks and a stake truck have been furnished for the June 28 — July 11 outing.

They shuttled personnel and cargo around the camp prior to the arrival of the Scouts, and now deliver supplies to the girl campers.

"We are pleased that the Pontiac area was chosen for this huge gathering of girl scouts, and that our division can be of some assistance to them," said Philip J. Monaghan, vice president of General Motors and general manager of GMC.

"The essential nature of truck transportation in the Girl Scout encampment illustrates, on a small scale, the vital role trucks play in the movement of various commodities. The camp, as the nation, needs a constant flow of goods and services, hauled by truck to maintain its many functions."

Heading the movement of supplies is Miss Gretchen H. Yoffa. Miss Yoffa became acquainted with GMC trucks as an overseas Red Cross clubmobile driver during World War II and the Korean conflict.

"Being connected with GMC trucks seems like old times," Miss Yoffa said. "I'm particularly pleased to have the panel trucks. They will permit us to load paper supplies in the rain without running the risk of water damage."

Miss Yoffa has used her military organizational "know-how" to set up a supply distribution operation that "will keep those trucks busy just about all the time."

"Girls will draw three days' supplies at a time at distribution centers established in each camping section," explained Miss Yoffa.

"The trucks also will be used for various maintenance operations and other 'housekeeping' chores essential to the smooth operation of the camp. At times, they even will haul foodstuffs around the camp."

Salomon said the trucks also will be used for various other purposes besides delivering supplies. The stake truck, for instance has been used to pick up camping equipment and baggage at various Michigan cities.

They'll Build Area's First Shelter

No More Cyclone Scares for the Pixleys

Mrs. Dorothea Pixley is plain fed up with tornado scares.

So's her Scotty dog, Princess. Together, they have dashed for safety to the basement of their home at 273 Edison St. too many times recently.

There in a dark tool room Mrs. Pixley sat on an uncomfortable chair listening to a portable radio for news that tornado alerts are over.

Princess, which thunder and lightning easily set to trembling, joined in the all-night ordeals.

So Mrs. Pixley talked it over with her husband George. The result will be tornado-proof shelter.

"Some folks think I'm silly," said Mrs. Pixley, 49, "but it seems to me that tornadoes are here to stay and I'm not going to lose any more sleep over them."

The shelter will be of concrete reinforced with steel. It will be built under the front porch, where the contractors, Bob's Building Service, today started work renovating the porch and siding. Both jobs will be done at the same time.

Murray White, president of the company, thinks its the first home tornado shelter in Pontiac.

Costing around $500, it will serve as a bomb-shelter too, he said. A steel door will lead to the Pixley's basement.

It will be eight by six feet wide, high enough to stand in, and ventilated.

"I'll have a bed in there, and my radio and an electric lantern," Mrs. Pixley said.

Pixley, a 52-year-old foreman at General Motors Truck and Coach, probably will continue to sleep in the bedroom during alerts.

"Tornado scares don't bother him," said Mrs. Pixley. "Even if I never use the shelter during a real tornado, it still will be worth it.

"We can store things there—like the lawn mower."

Elect Sheriff's Officers

PORT HURON (AP) — Robert J. Russell of Ithaca was elected president of the Michigan Sheriffs Assn. Wednesday as the group ended its annual convenion. Willard Barnes of Mason was named vice president and Louis A. Johnson of Fennville was relected secretary-treasurer.

Man Fractures Arm as Truck Rolls Over

A Garden City man suffered a broken right arm when a truck rolled over yesterday afternoon on M25.

• • •

Robert J. Anderson Jr., 30, was listed in good satisfactory condition in Pontiac General Hospital. He was riding with Paul E. Tabor, 27, of Garden City, who was not injured, according to Oakland County Sheriff's deputies.

Tabor lost control of the truck while passing several cars north of Opdyke road, deputies said.

OFF TO CAMP GRACE BENTLEY — Forty physically handicapped children from Oakland County wave goodbye as they boarded the bus yesterday for Camp Grace Bentley on the shores of Lake Huron for two weeks of living and playing outdoors. The camp is sponsored by the Michigan League for Crippled Children. The local children are going through the sponsorship of the Oakland County Society for Crippled Children.

Chicago Pioneers in Field

First Civilian Reactor

CHICAGO (AP)—The nation's first private nuclear reactor for industrial research went into operation today.

* * *

The event gave American industry the first green light to conduct reactor studies without government security restrictions.

The 50,000-watt reactor is at the Armour Research Foundation of Illinois Institute of Technology on Chicago's near South Side. It is the first to be constructed in a highly populated area since the world's first reactor was operated under wartime secrecy at Stagg Field at the University of Chicago.

* * *

The reactor, a "solution type," uses as fuel enriched uranium dissolved in about four gallons of water. It was built by Atomics International, a division of North American Aviation, Inc., Canoga Park, Calif. The Atomic Energy Commission supplied the uranium on an "extended loan" basis as required by law.

* * *

Dr. Richard F. Humphreys, director of the reactor program, said its most probable frequent use will be the production of radioistopes which will be used in the study of chemicals and various materials.

Fair Prizes Set Record

DETROIT (AP) — Prizes for the 1956 Michigan State Fair now total a record $138,000, some $7,000 over the 1955 premium total, general manager Donald L. Swanson announced. Deadline for entries is Aug. 10. Singer Julius LaRosa will head the Coliseum entertainment at the Fair Aug. 31-Sept. 9.

About 4,000 grade crossings accidents occur annually.

Public Works Bill Passes in Voice Vote

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress passed by voice vote yesterday a compromise bill appropriating $856,727,000 for government public works programs in the fiscal year that begins Sunday. This figure compares with President Eisenhower's request for $818,501,000.

* * *

The bill carries $635,012,500 for river and harbor and flood control projects and $144,225,000 for reclamation and irrigation program. Funds for 288 projects were included.

Eisenhower signed two other money bills. One provides $117,804,058 to operate Congress in the coming fiscal year. The other makes available $5,968,000,000 for a number of executive bureaus, boards, commissions and other independent offices.

Ex-U. of D. Footballer Sentenced for Theft

BAY CITY (AP) — Andrew W. Karpus, 42, former college and professional football player, has been sentenced to 1½ to 4 years in Southern Michigan prison for stealing an electric toaster.

Circuit Judge David R. Louis declined to consider probation, noting that Karpus had a record of previous convictions involving assault and robbery charges.

Karpus, of Bay City, started his football career playing with the University of Detroit. He spent part of a season with the Philadelphia Eagles, had a tryout with the Detroit Lions and played in the old American Football League.

Positive Policy With Soviet Near

Ike May OK Swap Visits

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower is due to approve soon a "positive" policy for exchanges of visits between the United States and Russia.

* * *

Officials said the proposed policy statement, now reported agreed on in the administration, would provide for the United States to propose some exchanges with Russia as well as to react to Soviet proposals for visits.

Secretary of State Dulles told a news conference the problem of East-West exchanges "is coming up within the next few days, perhaps, for final decision through the National Security Council and the President, which will help us firm our position."

* * *

United States policy has been knotted in controversy, principally among the State, Defense and Justice Departments, for several months. The Justice Department reportedly has not been enthusiastic about having a large number of Soviet visitors.

However, the State Department and some presidential advisers have argued that the United States could not afford to erect an "Iron Curtain" of its own.

* * *

Officials said the new policy would provide for "positive action" by the United States on a basis of reciprocal treatment. The basic idea is that as the Russians open up their country to American visitors the United States is prepared to welcome Soviet visitors.

To the Rescue

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Police said a man who almost succeeded in rescuing his brother from the paddy wagon was carrying family loyalty too far. He was thrown in jail too.

Chou Proposes Formosa Talks

Wants to Negotiate the 'Peaceful Liberation' of Nationalist China

HONG KONG (AP)—Red China's Premier Chou En-lai tonight proposed direct negotiations with Nationalist China to arrange the "peaceful" transfer of Formosa to the Communists.

* * *

"The dying gasp of the Taiwan (Formosan) authorities under the United States cannot last for long," Chou said in a speech to the National People's Congress—Communist China's Parliament—in Peiping.

The speech was broadcast by Peiping radio.

* * *

"On behalf of the government," Chou said, "I formally declare we are willing to negotiate with the Taiwan authorities (the Nationalists) on specific steps and conditions for the peaceful liberation of Taiwan and we hope that the Taiwan authorities will send their representative to Peiping to discuss these tasks with us."

* * *

"Liberation" is the term Peiping always uses for the transfer of Formosa to its control. Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek's anti-Communist government of Formosa was certain to reject Chou's bid.

New Officers Elected to Police Association

SAULT STE. MARIE (AP) — Police chief Arthur Nagel of Garden City is the new president of the Michigan Assn. of Chiefs of Police, succeeding G. Donald McCormick, police chief at Marquette.

Other officers elected by the chiefs Wednesday as they closed their three-day convention included supt. Dewey Beaver of Grand Rapids, first vice president; chief Thomas Tombley of Grosse Pointe, second vice president; and state police commissioner Joseph Childs, re-elected secretary-treasurer.

OSU PREXY—Novice G. Fawcett, above, superintendent of Columbus Public Schools, was named the eighth president of Ohio State University by the board of trustees. The 47-year-old Fawcett, a native of Gambler, O., will succeed Howard L. Bevis, 70, who is retiring.

Train Hits Car, Killing 6 People

3 Women and 3 Men in Auto Perish at Grade Crossing in Ohio

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP)—A Pennsylvania Railroad freight struck a car at a grade crossing near here early today, grinding the car to bits and killing all six occupants of the car—three men and three women.

Conductor P. H. Conley of Richmond, Ind., said it looked as though the car didn't slow at all before the train engine smacked into it.

Butler County Coroner Garrett Boone identified the three men killed as James Nease, Franklin, Ohio; Jerry Stidham, 30, Wolf Coal, Ky., and Claude Raleigh, 38, of Miamisburg, Ohio.

* * *

The coroner was unable to identify the women immediately. He said one had a tattoo "Leona" on her left arm.

* * *

The three men and two of the women died in the crash. The sixth victim died in Mercy Hospital here about an hour after the crash.

The sheriff's office said the southbound freight dragged the car about 200 feet before the car swung around and "got tangled up" with a freight car.

The crossing is at Williamsdale, about five miles north of this southwestern Ohio city.

To Ask Marine Probe

DETROIT (AP) — Joseph J. Lozo of Detroit, national commander of the Third Cavalry Group Veterans Assn., said he is demanding a congressional investigation of treatment of marine recruits at the San Diego marine base. Lozo said the mother of a teen aged marine recruit from Michigan had written him of "terrible conditions" at the base. He did not disclose her home town. Lozo forwarded her letter to chairmen of the House and Senate Armed Services committees.

Marilyn, Miller Get Blood Tests

Playwright Says That Wedding Won't Take Place This Week

ROXBURY, Conn. (AP) — Marilyn Monroe and Arthur Miller have been given blood tests — requirement in Connecticut before issuance of a marriage license.

The tests were made in hasty fashion yesterday.

* * *

Miller's cousin Morton Miller rushed to the State Bureau of Laboratories with two vials containing the couple's blood and picked up the reports of the Wasserman tests two hours later.

* * *

A spokesman for the bureau said Morton telephoned late in the morning to ask if time could be saved by bringing the blood specimens to the bureau directly. He was told at least a couple of days time could be saved.

"I'll start now," the spokesman quoted him as saying.

Morton arrived at 2 p.m. and picked up the reports at 4 p.m. With instructions to return the blood test reports unopened to Miss Monroe's and Miller's physician, Morton returned to Roxbury.

* * *

Miller, a dramatist who has won the Pulitzer Prize for his play "Death of a Salesman," has declined to disclose the time and place of the wedding.

He has scheduled a news conference for noon tomorrow. He has said there definitely will not be a wedding this week.

After issuance of the marriage license, a couple must wait five days before they can wed. The waiting period can be waived by a probate court judge but only under emergency conditions.

Sandy Clue Conclusive Against House Thieves

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M. (AP)—Police at last found a use for the sand that has plagued housewives and city officials for years.

A laundry was burglarized and policeman S. A. Romero was driving along a paved street when he noticed two young men removing sand from their shoes.

There was no sand on that particular street, but there was considerable sand at the site of the burlgarized laundry. The two were arrested when Romero found they had some of the stolen clothes.

Buried Miners Escape

GIFU, Japan (AP) — Five coal miners, given up for dead after a cave-in Sunday, were found alive today. Collapsing timbers in the Yamato mine formed a safety pocket in which the miners huddled more than 100 hours awaiting rescue. They were rushed to a hospital for treatment.

American in Cyprus Escapes Bomb Plot

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP)—A homemade bomb was discovered today in the gasoline tank of a car owned by an American who lives in an outlying section of Nicosia.

* * *

The bomb was found by a member of the British security forces who heard a muffled noise.

The explosive had been pushed into the filler pipe of the tank.

The name of the American was not divulged at once.

* * *

It was the first attempt at violence against an American since June 16, when U. S. Vice Consul William P. Boteler was killed and two other Americans injured in a bombing.

Dr. Fazil Kuchuk, leader of the Turkish minority on Cyprus, said his people will never accept any proposal to give the island's Greek descended residents majority representation in the National Assembly.

* * *

His statement was issued as reports from London indicate dthe British government is preparing to offer Cyprus a new constitution which would give Greek Cypriots an Assembly majority.

Of Cyprus' population, about 400,000 are Greek and 100,000 Turkish.

Packing

Here is a suitcase that can be packed with the items shown. If you see, in newspapers or magazines, pictures of things suitable for camp you could cut them out, fold them up and put them in the case too.

Choose carefully the things you put in because a wise camper always travels light. He makes sure that the clothes he takes along are sturdy, because they will get rough treatment, and will be good protection against all weathers, but he does not take too many of them.

Among the items experienced campers find vital are strong, comfortable walking shoes or boots, gloves, some form of head covering, raincoat and rubbers.

Color this picture, paste it down on thin cardboard, and then cut out all the parts carefully. Fold up the suitcase on the dotted lines, and paste the flap marked "A" over the flap "A 1", and the flap "B" over "B 1". Then the suitcase will stand up. Cut a slit in the handles, as indicated, so that Jane or Tommy, who appeared earlier this week, can carry it. Slip the hand with the ticket in it through the handle and fold back the tab.

Pravda Chides Bosses Publicly

Demands What Present Chiefs Did to Halt Tide of Stalin's Abuses

MOSCOW (AP) — Pravda has reprinted an article demanding to know what the present Soviet leaders did, if anything, to stop the excesses of the last years of Stalin's rule.

The organ of the Communist party reprinted an article which Eugene Dennis wrote for the New York Daily Worker asking the question.

• • •

It was the first time the current leadership has been publicly criticized here, even by implication, and marks a radical shift in the traditional Soviet propaganda attitude.

The article was spread over parts of three pages in Pravda. It caused a sensation in Moscow.

Many people, reading copies of the paper pasted up on walls, learned for the first time Communist party boss Khrushchev had made a secret report to the 20th Communist party Congress in February denouncing Stalin. This was the first publication here of any references to that speech.

Pravda also hinted that it considered the version published abroad as accurate. The paper not only reprinted the Dennis article but carried an editorial note about it saying:

"The author has in mind material which the State Department of the United States has published in the press calling it Comrade Khrushchev's report to the 20th Congress of the Communist party."

Pravda did not deny that it was.

Atom Radiation Experts Study Bomb Fallout Effects

By FRANK CAREY
AP Science Reporter

WASHINGTON (AP)—English cows have eaten grass sprinkled with radioactive elements released in atom bomb tests in faraway Nevada.

* * *

While stressing that such a radioactive menu—not restricted to cows in Britain alone—is far from being at any danger point at this time, the National Academy of Sciences mentions it to emphasize this point:

The sea, the air and plants and animals hold the answers to some of the still-unsolved radiation safety problems.

"We had better be ready with the answers," the academy adds.

So far, says this group of eminent scientists, only relatively small amounts of radiation have been released. And, on the whole, it says, things have gone well from the safety standpoint — both in controlling release and applying protection measures.

* * *

But the academy says time is running out for obtaining new knowledge to assure maximum protection against increased hazards expected in the next two decades as atomic power plants spring up.

It also mentioned the "continuance" of H-bomb tests, but offered no estimates of how long they would go on.

The job of coming up with answers calls for the combined efforts of weathermen, oceanographers, agricultural scientists and experts in the disposal of radioactive wastes, the academy says.

* * *

The academy, in its recent report on hazards inherent in radiation of any kind, listed radiation from atomic bomb tests, nuclear power plants, medical Xrays, and from naturally radioactive materials in the ground and atmosphere.

Elsewhere in its report, the academy said there is a need for greater technical improvements to assure against serious—and conceivably even catastrophic — accidental releases of radioactivity from atomic reactors. Present reactor safeguards have had a very fine record, but protective measures could stand improvement, the report said.

* * *

Concerning radiation once released — whether from reactors, reactor waste or "garbage," or from bomb tests — the academy said this:

Between the potential sources of man-made radiation and the people of the world there's a vast complex "connecting network" of air, water, and the plant and animal life which form the links in the chain of our food supply.

The scientists said:

* * *

"English grass has been sprinkled with (radioactive) strontium from Nevada. And English cows have eaten it. Plankton in the North Sea has very likely taken up some of the radioactivity being dumped there from a British atomic reactor. Where did the ocean currents then carry this plankton? What fish fed on it? Who ate the fish?"

In stressing the need for more research on the workings of the radiation-bearing "network," the academy said:

* * *

"We must know more about how the winds or the ocean currents move, how plants and animals may concentrate radioactivity and transport it from one place to another.

"There is still time to find out but not very much.

"The amount of man-made radiation that has been put into our surroundings so far is, from almost every point of view, probably negligible.

"But the testing of megaton (million-ton) weapons continues. In the next couple of decades the atomic power industry will mature and the question of what to do with almost unthinkable quantities of radioactive waste products will be upon us.

"We had better be ready with the answers."

Look, No Lake

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Rainy Lake in Presque Ile County does a disappearing act, almost as if somebody had pulled its plug. At intervals the lake in northeastern Michigan nearly disappears through an underground channel, like bath water down a drain. Geologists say the water seeps down into an underground limestone cavern. The lake fills up again when mud and silt accumulate to plug crevices in its bed.

A 200-pound man would weigh only 74 pounds on Mars.

SAFETY'S WEAK — Males of Joplin, Mo., are chortling over this boo-boo by a woman driver. Prudent officials refused to identify the woman who knocked down the safety check lane sign, erected in connection with Joplin's observance of its Safety Week.

Put 'Major' Suskie on 7-Year 'Leave'

DETROIT (AP) — "Major" Joseph Suskie, a frustrated military man, was back in retirement today for the sixth time in six years. And once again he's had to swap an officer's uniform for drab prison garb.

• • •

Federal Judge Thomas P. Thornton sentenced Suskie to seven years imprisonment after he pleaded guilty to a charge of posing as a Selfridge Air Force Base major to cash a worthless $40 check.

Asst. U. S. Atty. Robert E. DeMacio said Suskie, 28, has impersonated Army, Navy, Air Force and Marine officers to cash a total of $15,000 in bad checks over a period of time.

• • •

He has been jailed in Illinois, Pennsylvania, Indiana and Nevada and is wanted in Oregon and Texas, DeMacio said.

The historic Liberty Bell was made in England in 1752 and later recast in Philadelphia.

Gardener Had Wrong Dope on 'Tomato' Vine

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The things that came up in auxiliary police officer William Spike's back yard looked like tomato plants, so he tended them carefully.

Some grew as tall as five feet, but he got no tomatoes.

Then he attended a lecture on narcotics and grew suspicious.

He took a sample to Lt. Alvin Niccolini, narcotics expert.

"The biggest batch of marijuana we've found in years," Niccolini said.

Spike pulled them up and burned them yesterday . . . still wondering how the garden got started.

She Vaguely Recalls?

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Police said a burglar entered a home and pinched the sleeping housewife on the leg before taking her purse and $13. The woman said she vaguely remembers being pinched, but went back asleep.

Nixon Plans to Visit Saigon Next Month

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Nixon has accepted an invitation to visit Saigon in the new Southeast Asian republic of Viet Nam early next month.

• • •

The White House, in making the announcement, said President Eisenhower is "delighted" that Nixon was able to accept. He will be accompanied by Mrs. Nixon, arriving in Saigon July 6 and leaving the next day.

The trip will be Nixon's second tour of the Far East since he became vice president. The first trip, an extensive one, was made in 1955.

No Fines or Questions

MOUNTAIN HOME, Idaho (AP) — The Carnagie Library here has hit on a plan for overcoming a serious shortage on its shelves. It granted a one-week amnesty for the return of all overdue books—no fines and no questions asked.

Harriman Hopes for Split Among Adlai Supporters

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — New York's Gov. Averell Harriman appears to be focusing his bid for the Democratic presidential nomination on the hope that Adlai E. Stevenson's supporters will break apart on the civil rights issue.

Harriman made little political progress on the surface at the 48th annual Governors Conference which ended here yesterday. But he pounded away on his theme that the party must take a strong stand on civil rights.

• • •

The New York governor's strategists professed to believe that if that issue is pushed to the forefront at the Chicago convention, so much pressure will be put on Stevenson he will be forced into a stand alienating either Northern or Southern support.

If a wedge can be driven into the Stevenson ranks, Harriman's backers seem to be willing to risk a convention walkout and face the prospect of Democratic loss of some Southern states in November.

• • •

Harriman has said repeatedly the Democrats can't win unless they carry New York and what he calls "likeminded" states.

While his and Stevenson's public statements on the Supreme Court's order for racial integration in the schools have not been far apart, there is evidence that Harriman is prepared to go much further than Stevenson now is in the direction of a declaration for enforcement of that order.

As a possible evidence of how seriously some Southerners regard the consequences—for them—of a strong platform delegation, nine Dixie governors agreed at a huddle to cooperate in efforts to prevent adoption of any plank of this kind.

• • •

They included some Stevenson supporters, but none who could be regarded as at all favorable to Harriman.

Those who attended were Governors Thomas B. Stanley of Virginia—new chairman of the Governors Conference, Orval E. Faubus of Arkansas, Luther H. Hodges of North Carolina, Marvin Griffin of Georgia, Leroy Collins of Florida, James P. Coleman of Mississippi, Frank G. Clement of Tennessee, James E. Folsom of Alabama and George B. Timmerman Jr. of South Carolina.

• • •

Faubus said he and the others want to stave off any third party movement or convention bolt by doing what they can to get a moderate civil rights plank adopted. Others who attended said there was no discussion of individual candidates for the nomination.

"It was the consensus of our group that the attitude and atmosphere among most, if not all, of the leading Democrats is such that we felt a platform could be worked out that we all could support," he said.

• • •

"We want to meet more than half way any others who are interested in keeping the Democratic party united so that it can win a victory in November."

Faubus said the governors may hold a pre-Chicago convention meeting if they feel developments warrant. Timmerman is promoting such a meeting not only among governors but other party officials.

The governors' formal sessions ended in a flareup over federal aid for schools. In the maneuvering a resolution endorsing the recommendations of President Eisenhower's White House Conference on Education was killed.

The governors also rapped the Supreme Court's order invalidating state antisedition laws and called on Congress to specify in federal statutes whether they override state laws.

WHICH ARE TOP SEVEN NATURAL WONDERS? —In this bumper year for visitors to the nation's national parks, surest way to start a hassle is to arbitrarily list the seven top natural wonders of our country. You take your vacation and make your own selection from among the sights, several of which are illustrated in sketch, above. No one—but no one—will go out on a limb and be identified with an opinion concerning anything so personal as appreciation of color, grandeur, majesty or sheer beauty. Travel agencies, park officials, tour agencies—all remain mum. Selection, following is a concensus of several authorities who are vigorously anonymous: Grand Canyon, Yosemite, Yellowstone, Crater Lake, Carlsbad Caverns, Mount Rainer, Rainbow Bridge.

Not Booze, Honestly, Just Throat Medicine

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A bus driver says it wasn't booze he imbibed but sore-throat medicine. So a jury acquitted him of a drunk-driving charge.

Glenn Robertson, 45, was arrested last May 20 on the San Bernardino Freeway. The son-in-law of a passenger on the bus later had told police he thought the driver was drunk.

Robertson told a Municipal Court jury that just before boarding the bus he swigged a throat remedy containing 40 per cent alcohol. The aroma of the medicine, he argued, misled police into thinking he was under alcoholic influence.

7 Teeth Short but— He Still May Make It

INGLEWOOD, Calif. (AP) — The City Council has been asked to waive a rule that policemen must have at least 16 natural teeth. Calvin Alvin Potter, a city recreation director, wants to join the police force. But he has only nine teeth, he says—he lost the others playing football.

"Well," observed Councilman Fred C. Jones, "I had an uncle who could bite a nail in two with his gums."

The other councilmen looked silently at Jones, then took Potter's plea under advisement.

Cowboy Forgets Whereabouts of Self, Horse

SAN PEDRO, Calif. (AP)—A Colorado cowboy says he saddled up Old Paint about three weeks ago and rode into town for a "quick one with the boys."

* * *

Charles Ellis, 20, told police he doesn't remember what happened next but he woke up here yesterday and decided to try to find out how he got here.

Officers telephoned the town—Cheyenne Wells—and said they were told that Ellis is wanted there on a charge of stealing a truck owned by his employer, rancher W. I. Howard, on charges of speeding, driving while intoxicated and creating a disturbance.

* * *

Asked the whereabouts of the truck, police said, Ellis shook his head. He doesn't remember the disturbance either, he said, or the driving. And Old Paint?

Old Paint is missing too.

French Approve Plan to Boost Age Pensions

PARIS (AP) — France's National Assembly has approved Premier Guy Mollet's scheme to boost old-age pensions with new taxes on big cars—most of them American-made—and other revenue.

Some 5½ million persons with limited incomes will receive additional annual payments of 31,200 francs ($89.13) under Mollet's plan. They begin at age 65, or 60 if the recipient can't work.

During World War II there was a loss of over 4,000 seagoing ships, together exceeding 20 million gross registered tons.

Community Club Readies Celebration

The Northside Community Club will sponsor its annual five-day Independence Day celebration beginning Saturday at Oakland Park in conjunction with the city Parks and Recreation Departments, it was announced today by Robert R. Schmude, club president.

* * *

The event will get under way Saturday morning and continue through the holiday, with all funds to be used towards improving city recreation facilities or other needs.

Two special days will be held for children to highlight the celebration. On these days, the kiddies will be able to enjoy the various amusements, rides, and concessions, at reduced prices.

Several races and various types of contests for the children will be featured July 4 with the carnival coming to a climax that night with a big fireworks display at 10 p.m.

All activities at the park, located at Montcalm and Glenwood Streets, will be under the direction of members of the Community Club and workers from the city departments.

Plumbers Given Raise

JACKSON (AP)—Unionized plumbers in Hillsdale, Jackson and Lenawee counties have accepted a 17½ cent hourly pay raise, ending a three-week work stoppage. They will receive 2½ cents more an hour Jan. 1 1957, and an additional 15 cents June 1, 1957.

Algerian Moslems, Rebels Not United Against French in Independence Fight

ALGIERS (AP) — The stevedores were unloading armored cars and ammunition for the French army. Each sweating workman wore a red fez. All were Moslems.

* * *

The bustling scene on the docks here spotlights one aspect of the Algerian rebellion. The Moslem population is by no means united against France. Thousands, for one reason or another, are content to work with the French if not actively for them. The rebels, if they are to succeed in their proclaimed intention of setting up an independent Algerian state, must somehow wean most of the Moslems away from France.

Every day, over the breadth of Algeria, there is a score of seemingly isolated attacks on individuals. The local papers carry them in almost box-score fashion.

* * *

Even the aggregate makes little impression. Stories which start out, "Forty-three persons, most of them Moslems, were slain in a series of attacks in various parts of Algeria today . . ." lose their impact through repetition.

* * *

But a study of these apparently isolated assaults shows that in virtually every case the victim is either a long-time French settler with many Moslem friends, or a Moslem with a record of cooperation with the French. Moslem veterans with distinguished war records are special targets.

The rebel strategy at this point seems to be to cut all bridges between the two elements of Algeria's population, the Europeans and the Moslems.

* * *

A secondary rebel aim in attacking Moslems friendly to France is to deprive the French army and police of possible informers among the Arab population.

The rebels have made a special target of SAS (Service Administrative Specials) officers the French have been stationing in Moslem villages to instill confidence among the rural Moslems and to gain their friendship. These men, all experts in the Arabic language and customs, take up a post with a small staff as a symbol of French authority and French cooperation.

* * *

Another rebel tactic has been to harass the French settlers. The object of this apparently is to render life so unbearable for the settler, usually a long-time resident, or a second-or third-generation European in Algeria, that he will pack and quit the country. Many French settlers have applied for visas to Canada.

A French tradesman, with a wide clientele among European farmers, puts it this way:

"In the past the French farmer used to stroll, quite unarmed, among his farm workers to see how they were getting along or to give them directions. Now, there are always two supervisors. One carries a gun and watches the Arabs. The other watches the work."

* * *

With the arrival of strong contingents of troops from France, this picture is changing. Officials say the Moslems in some areas have regained confidence that the French will protect them if they continue to work French-owned farms.

Fires Plaguing Forests in West

Army of Men Fighting Rash of 150 Blazes in Arizona, New Mexico

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP)—Forest Service officials and an army of 2,500 men fought an unprecedented rash of about 150 fires in Arizona and New Mexico today.

Most of the fires were caused by lighting and ranged from less than an acre to 4,800 acres.

* * *

"This is undoubtedly the worst time we've had in region history," said M. H. Davis, assistant forester. "Our people are getting very fatigued. Fires are breaking out almost faster than we can keep abreast."

The largest was a 4,800-acre fire on Graham Mountain, south of Safford, Ariz. It broke out two weeks ago and was brought under control a few days ago. Then, late yesterday, wind up to 60 miles an hour fanned it wild again.

NEW OUTBREAK

Another big one broke out late yesterday in north central New Mexico around the scar left by a fire extinguished about six weeks ago. Davis said the new outbreak, on the north end of the Sangre de Cristo Mountains just south of the Colorado line, had swept three sides of the old burn and covered about 2,000 acres.

Davis said 50 more Indian firefighting experts from New Mexico had been asked for duty on a new fire in Coronado National Forest north of Douglas, Ariz. He said 100 soldiers from Ft. Huachuca, Ariz., had been sent out on that one and it had spread to an "excess of 2,000 acres."

In that one forest, 30 lightning-caused fires were reported by late yesterday, he said.

3 Poles in Antarctic

BOSTON — Antarctic has three poles: the geographic South Pole, the magnetic South Pole, and the "pole of inaccessibility" at the center of Aurora Australia.

8 Teachers Join Area School Staff

NORTH BRANCH—Eight new elementary and secondary teachers have been engaged to fill the North Branch Area School staff for the 1956-57 school year. The staff is now complete with the exception of three vacancies.

New Elementary teachers are, Mrs. Zella Marsh of Otter Lake, Mrs. Mary Jacobs of Brown City, Mrs. Marion Ritter of Clifford, and Mrs. Lois Ann Innes of Snover.

New instructors on the secondary level will be George Clinke of Breckensidge, William Mumby of Corunna, Paul Earl Bush of Flint, and William Esau of Saginaw.

Mrs. Ruth Fox will remain elementary principal, as will Albert Stickle at the high school. C. Wesley Clarton has been re-engaged for three years as superindent.

Soviets May Soon Read Nikita's Tirade on Stalin

MOSCOW (INS) — The Russian man-in-the-street soon may be able to read the historic Khrushchev denunciation of Stalin made last February at the 20th congress of the Soviet Communist party.

Some Western diplomats in Moscow believe that the publication in Pravda yesterday of an article from the New York Daily Worker was a prelude to the appearance of the Khrushchev speech in the Communist party organ.

Army Predicts Defense Against Enemy Missiles

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army held out high hope today for countering the coming menace of the intercontinental ballistic missile (ICBM) armed with an H-bomb warhead.

* * *

It predicted such an antimissile system will be ready in four or five years.

The Senate subcommittee investigating U.S.-Russian air power released last night previously secret testimony by the Army's specialists in missiles and missile defense development.

Included was the statement of the chief of the air defense branch of the Army's missile division, Lt. Col. Woodrow B. Sigley, that the Army is "confident" it will have a counterweapon ready in time to "meet the described threat" of the ICBM in 1960 or 1961.

Censors deleted portions of the testimony which apparently dealt with details of Army progress toward producing an antimissile system. It was assumed, however, that the Army was describing its Nike II missile.

Unlike the Nike and Nike B missiles, which are designed for operating against manned, jet bombers and other conventional planes, the Nike II is intended to reach and destroy ballistic and guided missiles with supersonic speed at great height and at more than double the lateral range of the antiaircraft Nikes.

* * *

Nike II is being designed to climb at speeds of thousands of miles per hour to a height of as much as 50 miles. The mass destruction hydrogen rocket must be countered and destroyed far away and high above its intended target to make defense practical.

The Army also gave the committee a new timetable for development of an American intermediate range ballistic missiles (IRBM). Lt. Gen. James M. Gavin, chief of research and development, said, "We will put a ballistic missiles into business very soon."

* * *

And Maj. Gen. J. B. Medaris, who heads the Army's ballistic missile agency at the Redstone, Ala., arsenal, disclosed plans to fire a test device—for range only—more than 3,000 miles. Medaris said, "We will do that shortly." Presumably, this is one of the reasons for the recent agreement obtained by the United States to permit extension of the test range extending southeastward from Florida into the Atlantic.

Medaris also testified that "no great stretch" would be required to provide a 5,000-mile range for the 3,000-mile rocket.

His remarks probably will disturb the Air Force, which has been assigned primary responsibility for developing an ICBM of 5,000 miles reach. Medaris' comment could mean the Army was aiming at adding distance to its IRBM to equal the Air Force's 5,000-mile goal before the Air Force could perfect such a rocket.

As far as is known, the Air Force up to now has fired no ballistic missile. On the other hand, the Army has test-fired many times its Redstone ballistic missile which has a range up to 200 miles.

* * *

The Army is so confident in the IRBM field that it already has prepared a target list for the Eurasian land mass, the testimony disclosed. In the censored transcript, no names were given for potential targets in Russia or Red China.

Pakistan, U.S.S.R. Sign 1st Trade Pact

KARACHI, Pakistan (AP) — Western-allied Pakistan and the Soviet Union have signed their first trade agreement. Russian experts came here a month ago to open negotiations as part of the Soviets' new economic drive in southern Asia.

The total amount of the trade anticipated was not announced.

Pakistan will sell the Soviets jute, cotton, wool, hides and tea. In return she will get industrial and farm equipment, chemical products, metals, oil, timber

Harriman at AFL Meet Raps GOP 'Prosperity'

NEW YORK (AP)—Gov. Averell Harriman says, "We've got prosperity, but only one group is enjoying that prosperity—the big contributors to the Republican party."

"We are not satisfied with the few crumbs they choose to brush off the table," he said yesterday in addressing the 93rd annual convention of the State Federation of Labor (AFL).

* * *

The 600 delegates end their four-day convention today with the election of officers.

* * *

Harriman, urging a change in the national administration, told the delegates:

"We hear a lot about middle of the road. That's Eisenhower's trademark, and I say let him keep it. It's just a front for inaction or little action. We Democrats have a responsibility to go forward.'

* * *

Harriman, a candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination, said Eisenhower has broken promises to bring about amendments of the Taft-Hartley law.

Harriman said much is being heard about "Eisenhower prosperity," and added:

"But the President says all his prosperity can afford is a minimum hourly wage rate of 90 cents. I have been demanding $1.25 an hour. Let us stand together until we get it."

* * *

Eisenhower advocated raising the former federal minimum wage of 75 cents an hour to 90 cents. Congress made it $1 an hour, and the President signed the bill. The new rate became effective March 1.

Smoking Jurors Nix Real Cool Courtroom

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The grand jury, at the invitation of Chief Federal Judge George H. Moore, moved its session Tuesday into the judge's air-conditioned courtroom, which wasn't being used. Yesterday they moved back to their own non-air-conditioned quarters.

There is a no-smoking rule in the courtroom.

Shepilov Flies to Athens to Confer With Greeks

BEIRUT (INS) — Soviet Foreign Minister Dmitri Shepilov left Lebanon by plane today for Athens, where he will confer with Greek government leaders.

During his three-day visit to Beirut, Shepilov was reported to have offered to supply Lebanon with arms in addition to extending economic aid.

Monkey See, Monkey Do

SAGINAW (AP) — Harvey Landeryou, 13, helping chase a monkey that escaped from the Saginaw Zoo, got a rude shock when the animal turned around and chased him. The monkey caught up with the boy and bit his fingers four times. Harvey was released after hospital treatment. Zoo officials caught the monkey.

Subway Chase Nets Fugitive

FBI Captures Criminal in Hotel Lobby After Under-Street Pursuit

NEW YORK (AP) — A fugitive wanted in a cop shooting eluded FBI men yesterday by jumping out the window of a crowded train, but he was caught moments later in a hotel lobby.

"FBI — stop the train," agents shouted as the wanted man hopped aboard a northbound subway leaving the IRT's 66th Street station.

* * *

The conductor quickly halted the train, but the fugitive, identified as Eugene Rambert, 25, scrambled out the window and fled into the tunnel.

Agents with drawn guns gave chase but held their fire on the crowded platform.

Rambert was captured unarmed after he emerged from the subway and hid behind a pillar in a hotel lobby.

* * *

Rambert was held in $20,000 bail as a federal fugitive from justice. A hearing was schedled for July 11.

Asst. U.S. Atty. Arthur Christy said Rambert and two other men are wanted for the shooting of policeman Lawrence Highes in a gun battle last April 7 in Baltimore. Christy said all three had plotted to hold up a crap game and were caught in a police trap.

* * *

Rambert was captured after the gun battle but later escaped. G-men ferreted out his hideaway in a tenement near Central Park in Manhattan and were ready to move in when Rambert suddenly emerged from his second - floor room, hurled a bag of empty bottles at his pursuers and fled across the street and into the subway.

Davis Is Bound Over for Court Arraignment

Charged in the fatal shooting of a neighbor June 2, R. D. Davis, 37, of 306 Howard McNeill St. yesterday was bound over for arraignment July 9 in Oakland County Circuit Court.

Pontiac Municipal Judge Maurice E. Finnegan remanded Davis to jail without bond. Police claim Davis shot Jimmie Fields, 37, of 320 Howard McNeill.

Davis is charged with murder.

Yugoslavs Cheer Tito on Return to Belgrade

BELGRADE (INS) — Marshal Tito, home to a hero's welcome from his triumphant tour of Russia, looked ahead today to a meeting at the summit of the world's three leading "neutralist" powers.

The Yugoslav president arrived by train in Belgrade last night to a 21-gun salute and the cheers of nearly 100,000 of his countrymen.

A short time later it was announced that next month Tito would meet at his summer headquarters on Brioni Island with Egyptian President Gamal Nasser and Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru of India.

The Good Sport

By DAMON RUNYON

My old man had great admiration and respect for women. Maybe that is where I get mine. He always contended that women are better sports than men in any situation.

"Even love?" someone might ask.

"Even love," my old man would say and then he would tell a story about a woman named Hattie who ran what was known in those days as a road house outside Oldtown in Colorado. A road house was a place where people went to drink and dance.

Hattie's house was not considered a very nice place. In fact, the public prints in speaking of it generally referred to it as notorious and they spoke of Hattie the same way when occasion required that they speak of her at all.

However, in the days of Hattie and her road house, Oldtown was a separate municipality and gambling houses and saloons ran wide open there. Colorado Springs was supposed to be dry and the only places you could buy liquor were the drug stores where they sold whiskey that tasted like something a doctor prescribes for malaria. If a fellow wanted to really cut up, he had to go to Oldtown.

A HANDSOME WOMAN

Well, this Hattie my old man used to tell about was a handsome woman of mature years, maybe 40, and had flashing, slashing black eyes and blue black hair and a swell figure. She fell in love with a young gambler named Dan something who was about ten years her junior and a tall, good looking fellow, but rather shiftless. He may have reciprocated Hattie's love, though my old man was not sure about that.

Hattie was making a lot of money with her road house and she bestowed plenty of it on Dan, giving him expensive presents like a fast buggy horse and a big diamond ring and a diamond stud for his shirt bosom and finally bankrolling him in a gambling house of his own that was a success from the start.

Dan had a good business head, because he was soon investing in side lines of a sounder nature than gambling and finally one of these ventures took him east to New York City. Hattie's interest kept her in Oldtown and my old man says she seemed to mourn Dan's absence greatly, especially as Dan was no hand for writing letters.

HE WAS GOING GREAT

Well, Dan discovered Wall Street on his trip east and presently he was setting himself up in business there and going great, and in fact if it would not be getting ahead of our story we would tell you that his name and fame eventually became nationwide—for this is a true yarn. But before that he met a young girl of highly respectable family and fell in love with her.

He was away from Oldtown a couple of years and one day he turned up back there to settle some business affairs in connection with his gambling enterprise and he was in town a couple of days before he went to see Hattie. She knew of his arrival but never said a word to anyone about it and my old man says there was speculation as to how she would receive Dan because everybody knew Hattie had a hot temper.

One evening Dan dropped in at the road house and went into a private room and sent for Hattie. She came in quietly and greeted him with a handshake and said she was glad to see him. Dan, a little shamefaced, said:

"Let's have a bottle of wine, Hattie, like old times."

Dan murmured something about the money she had invested in him and Hattie said:

"It was my pleasure, and it's all wiped off the slate. Never mind about it."

'BY THE WAY, DAN'

Dan got up to go and said:

"Thanks, Hattie. I always thought you were one of the finest women in the world and now I know it. Goodbye, Hattie, and God bless you."

"Much obliged," Dan, and the same to you," Hattie replied, then as he got to the door, she added:

"By the way, Dan, don't forget you owe me for that bottle of wine."

MEN ARE THE GOSSIPS

My old man always contended men were ten times greater gossips and tattle-tales than women. He said one big reason for this was that the men had more opportunities for gossiping than the women.

He said that the average married woman had to put in most of her time at home attending to her household duties and her children. She ordinarily had few social callers in the course of a working day and therefore no one to gossip with. That was before there was a telephone within anybody's reach, of course.

He said he would bet he could go through any business building right there in our old home town of Pueblo in the middle of a business day and discover any number of men with their feet up on their desks in their private offices swapping gossip with some chance caller.

My old man said that for every pair of women you could find standing gabbing on street corners, he could show you twenty pairs of men doing the same thing. He said the ratio was about the same for hotel lobbies and the corridors of the post office and court house and city hall.

My old man said he had come to the conclusion that men were gabbier by nature than women, though through persistent propaganda across the years the men had pretty well established the women as the gabby and gossipy ones. He said since time began it had been a favorite trick of the men to make themselves out superior to women in every way. He said it always made him snicker when some fellow, that he knew had a tongue loose at both ends, spoke of women as gossipy.

My old man said he had probably lost more sleep than any man alive through gossip. He said many a time he had been in gatherings that were gossiping about everybody they knew practically in alphabetical order. He said sometimes he would get pretty tired and sleepy and would have liked to have gone to bed but that long experience had taught him to stick around because he knew they would gossip about him as soon as he was out of ear-shot.

He said he always waited until only one man besides himself was left and then he would retire. He said, however, he had known men who were such inveterate gossips that even when they were the last man left they would go on gossiping to themselves.

Bob Considine Says:

Governors Give Cold Shoulder to Kefauver

ATLANTIC CITY (INS) — Sens. Estes Kefauver was the forgotten man of the 48th annual governors' conference.

The record shows that, except for Adlai Stevenson, more delegates prefer him as the Democrat nominee than any other man in the race officially or unofficially. He gave Stevenson a solid whipping in Minnesota, winning 26 of the 30 convention delegates.

But you never heard his name mentioned when the governors grubbed about this sandbar in solemn annual convention. Estes had no one to speak up for him.

His opponents didn't even honor him with a blast. He appeared to be as actively in the minds of the politicians as, say, Rutherford B. Hayes.

* * *

He was, however, the subject of one joke (small size). Kefauver has come to the conclusion the reason he lost ground recently is that unlike Eisenhower, Stevenson, Harriman and Truman he has never had a major operation.

CASE FOR 'MEDIC'

The story adds that Estes is going to undergo a critical operation on "Medic," TV's anatomy course, and in the middle of the show the camera will pan up from the incision to Estes' face, and he'll say with a wan smile, "I'm Estes Kefauver and I need your mmmmm he'p."

"I didn't come here to do any politicking," handsome Averell Harriman assured newsmen the other day. "I'm doing no button-holing. Neither is any of my associates."

The governor would have had more to say but he had to rush off to greet the 25 Democratic governors he had invited to cocktails.

Happy Chandler's press conference remains the high humor note of the conference. His comments on a host of subjects, his endearing references to the slightly battle-axed lady reporters as "honey," and particularly his self-sacrificing offer to submit to a White House draft brought roars of laughter.

The Kentucky governor who once was baseball's czar good-naturedly joined in the laughter.

One reporter who started to ask Happy a question about what he would do with the tangled foreign situation if he were president became hysterical in the midst of the query.

* * *

It took him three coughing, sputtering minutes to complete the sentence.

"Ah get the impression you don't think ah will be nominated and elected," Happy said to him, with a fine show of teeth.

'Kissin' Jim Folsom is a dead ringer for Dizzy Dean, but a good foot taller. Both were pitchers, one of baseballs and the other of woo.

The governor's ladies made an unforgettable picture as they walked single fine into the ornate dining room of the Shelburne for the state dinner.

The band played "A Pretty Girl Is Like a Melody," and it couldn't have been more appropriate. They looked just fine.

Their husbands, handsome in white dinner jackets and special dress shirts presented by the Schiffli Lace and Embroidery Institute, made an equally impressive entrance to the stirring thumps of "Pomp and Circumstance." The country looked in good hands.

Gov. Robert B. Meyner and his staff gave the governors and their families the time of their lives. Everything was perfectly arranged for their comfort and pleasure.

* * *

Dances and swimming parties were put on for the teenagers. Babysitters were available at the Shelburne and Dennis Hotels.

There were golfing privileges at two good nearby courses, helicopter trips, a day at Monmouth Park racetrack, tours of the area, transportation in air-conditioned Lincolns, cocktail parties, two dinners, a world premier of a Martin and Lewis picture, an air show, free rides, and an opportunity to get Lawrence Spivak's autograph.

Bachelor Meyner's gracious mother, Mrs. Gustave H. Meyner, was a hostess who made the whole conglomeration feel as if each was a treasured guest in her home.

FISHIN' FOR MUSKIE—Willis A. Trafton Jr., speaker of Maine's House of Representatives, was the Republican victor in the Maine primary. He'll run against Gov. Edmund S. Muskie, Maine's first Democratic governor in 20 years, in the November elections.

Kids Can Name 'It'

DECATUR, Ill. (AP)—A cub bear in Fairview Park remains unnamed because Park Supt. Lacy Chandler hasn't been able to get close enough to learn whether it is a boy or girl. Until the cub's sex is learned the park board can't hold competition among school children to pick a name.

Kookaburra Fricassee Delights Aussie Palates

WASHINGTON—The cry of the kookaburra, "the full-throated gloating of sin triumphant," as one ornithologist heard it, is disappearing from Australia's woodlands. The reason: the birds are good to eat.

Government efforts to dissuade people from making fricassee of kookaburras have not been entirely successful. Bird lovers in Sydney and other cities are urging more protection for them.

The kookaburra's distinctive cry, used by Radio Australia as a signature, is all things to all people. The one point of agreement is that it is loud, the National Geographic Society says.

Called the "Settler's Clock" in colonial days because of its shouted greetings at dawn, the kookaburra makes a noise variously described as a "constant delight" and as an approximation of the shrieks of fiends.

To many, its song sounds like peals of idiotic laughter, rising in intensity, and ending with a drawn-out sardonic chuckle, as though in cynical comment on the ways of man.

KINGFISHER'S KIN

A relative of the American kingfisher, the kookaburra is a big-beaked bird of the open forest. It feeds on insects, mice, small snakes and the young of other birds.

A pair of kookaburras will sometimes play "catch" with a snake. One bird seizes the reptile behind the head, flies up and drops it on the ground. The second then snatches it up and repeats the process. The game goes on until the snake is finished.

By destroying harmful rodents and insects the kookaburra more than makes up for the occasional nestling it eats, ornithologists report.

About the size of a crow, with whittish body feathers, and blue and brown wings, the kookaburra manages to look alternately smart and stupid. It seems to have moods, switching in a moment from dignity to rollicking good humor. Friendly and easy to tame, the kookaburra is a vulnerable target in its habitat where there is little other game, a factor affecting its decrease in numbers.

Nicknamed the "laughing jackass," the kookaburra (Dacelo gigas) has at least 45 other names, many of them variants in spelling. It ranges through Eastern and Southern Australia, and has been introduced in Western Australia and Tasmania.

Reds Loosening Grip on Scholars

Progress Crippled in Intellectual Field With Strict Censorship

HONG KONG (INS)—Communist China has loosened the straitjacket on the minds and thoughts of Chinese intellectuals.

The straitjacket, the Communists now admit, has crippled progress in the fields of literature, art and scientific research.

The party's new policy towards intellectuals was explained by the propaganda chief of the party's central committee, Lu Ting-Yi.

He attacked "sectarianism," "the doctrinaire tendency" and "dogmatism" among party members. He told a gathering of Communist scientists in Peiping that apart from learning from the Soviet Union, they must also acquire knowledge from non-Communist countries.

The party's new policy for intellectuals, says Lu, "advocates freedom of independent thinking, in the work of literature, art and scientific research, freedom of debate, freedom of creative work, and freedom to criticize, freedom to express one's opinion, freedom to maintain one's opinion and to reserve one's opinion."

LINE SURE CHANGES

This is the same policy the late veteran Communist scholar Hu Feng advocated and for which he was branded a traitor and executed along with his followers and students a year ago.

This freedom is, however, restricted to those who have "reformed" or undergoing "reform" compulsory or voluntarily. Lu said: "We hold that we must practice dictatorship over counter-revolutionaries. But among the people we take the stand that there must be democracy and freedom."

The new freedom does not mean that political studies can be abandoned. "We should continue to organize study of Marxism-Leninism on a voluntary basis," said Lu.

Red China apparently discovered that too much control over the minds of intellectuals robs them of enterprise and initiative the lack of which in turn seriously hamper the Communist plan to achieve the highest level in science within 12 years.

COLD CUTS SMORGASBORD — A platter of cold cuts — offering salami, liver sausage, luncheon loaf, spiced ham and deviled eggs — is the basis of this smorgasbord for four. Add a basket of assorted breads, a relish tray, cup cakes for dessert and iced tea or coffee, and the menu is complete. Shown are only a few of the more than 100 ready-to-eat meats now available to make summer meal preparation easy.

Try Nut-Broiled Pollock Fillets

Most everyone has puzzled over the fact that a particular fish has more than one name. Take, for example, ocean perch which is also called "rosefish" and "redfish." Then there's striped bass, known as "rockfish" around Chesapeake Bay.

Here's another to mix you up. The National Fisheries Institute says that pollock is sometimes called "bluefish" or "Boston bluefish," although there really is a bluefish often designated as "genuine bluefish."

While we're on the subject of pollock, which by the way are plentiful right now, here are a few more interesting facts about this plump, shapely fish.

Although pollock is a member of the cod family, it swims at all depths, often at the surface like mackerel, breaking water like a porpoise. Pollock are fierce and aggressive and feed on young cod and herring.

* * *

Regardless of a tough attitude toward other fish, however, pollock is a tender-meated and firm-fleshed fish, making it ideal for filleting, packaging and freezing, to be shipped to all parts of the country, for appetizing summer meals like this one of pollock fillets broiled with a nut sauce.

Pollock With Nut Sauce

One pound fillets will make three servings. If fillets are frozen, let them thaw on refrigerator shelf or at room temperature. Wipe with damp paper towel.

Preheat broiler and broiling pan. Place fish on pan. Brush with melted butter or margarine. Sprinkle with slivered or chopped nut meats, salt and white pepper, and place in broiler two inches from source of heat.

* * *

Broil 10 to 20 minutes, or until fish flakes easily when tested with a fork. Serve with a mixture of melted butter, nuts and a little lemon juice.

Olives Add Zest to Meat Souffle

To serve luncheon and supper dishes with a distinctive note in flavor, color and texture, it's a good idea to keep some pimiento-stuffed green olive recipes handy.

Ham and Chicken with Olive Souffle Sauce, a tempting new individual casserole suggestion, will have family and guests asking you to make the dish often.

Ham and Chicken with Olive Souffle Sauce

1 cup diced cooked ham
1 cup diced cooked chicken
½ cup mayonnaise
½ cup chopped pimiento-stuffed green olives
2 teaspoons lemon juice
Dash salt
2 egg whites, stiffly beaten

Arrange ham and chicken in 4 individual baking dishes. Broil 3-4 inches from source of heat 5 minutes. Combine mayonnaise, olives, lemon juice and salt; mix well. Fold in egg whites.

Spread sauce over ham mixture. Broil 3-4 inches from source of heat 1-2 minutes, or until puffed and golden brown. Makes 4 servings.

Tomato-Lemon Aspic to Serve on Hot Day

Mold tomato juice with lemon-flavored gelatin.

Tomato-Lemon Aspic

1 can (1 pound and 4 ounces) tomato juice
4 slices onion
4 slices lemon
3 whole cloves
1 small bay leaf
½ teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons lemon juice
1 package lemon-flavored gelatin

Put tomato juice in saucepan and bring to a boil; add onion, lemon, cloves, bay leaf and salt. Simmer over low heat for 15 minutes. Remove from heat. Stir in lemon juice.

Put gelatin in mixing bowl; strain hot tomato juice mixture over gelatin; stir until gelatin dissolves. Pour into 4 to 6 individual molds and chill until firm — about 4 hours. Unmold on salad greens. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

Unusual New Candy Made With Potato

MONTE VISTA, Colo. (INS) — Theo A. Heersink of Monte Vista has come up with an unusual candy recipe guaranteed to please potato lovers.

Mrs. Heersink says it is done this way:

Peel and boil a medium-sized potato until it is thoroughly cooked. Drain off the water, mash it in powdered sugar until you can roll it like pie crust dough.

Next spread on peanut butter or chopped nuts after rolling the potato out. After spreading, roll like a jelly roll to about the size of a half dollar.

Trim off the roll and slice into slices, separating them slightly so the air can get between them. The candy is then ready to eat.

Put enough fat in your skillet, when you are frying fish, to have it about one-eighth inch deep.

Smorgasbord for 4 Easy With Assorted Cold Cuts

There's no trouble at all in preparing a cold cuts smorgasbord for four! Simply stop at the market and order a selection of ready-to-eat meats.

Combine a variety of the meats with a few deviled eggs, add some relishes, breads, beverages and a quick dessert, and you've a menu that's sure to make the mounting temperature a forgettable event.

The nutrition-packed meal may be varied as the cook chooses, though a generous supply of the cold cuts will not only add interest to the meat platter but supply essential protein, too.

Keep cold cuts tightly wrapped in your refrigerator and use within a week. Here's a menu suggestion:

Cold Cuts Smorgasbord

Cold Cuts Platter
(Salami, Liver Sausage, Luncheon Meat, Ham, Sausage, Deviled Eggs)
Basket of Assorted Breads
Relish Tray: Carrot Sticks, Green Onions
Dill Pickles, Radish Roses
Raw Cauliflowerets
Spiced Cup Cakes
Iced Tea or Coffee

Some of the most popular of the more than 100 varieties of cold cuts available include these:

SALAMI — Highly seasoned, air-dried sausage, containing just the right amount of garlic. Wonderful sliced for cold meat platters and sandwiches, or slivered for use in salads and soups.

BLOGNA — Big brother to the frankfurter. Available as ring bologna or large bologna, this mild and pleasing combination of ground beef and pork is one of the most popular cold cuts. Use it on meat platters in sandwiches, or pan-fry thin slices until edges curl and use for individual servings of vegetables.

LIVER SAUSAGE—There's plenty of variety in this favorite—all the way from soft, light-pink Braunschweiger to the darker and firmer types. Delicately spiced and seasoned, and sometimes smoked, liver sausage contains many of the important nutritional values of liver. Besides using it on cold meat platters or in spreads for appetizers, heat slices of liver sausage in barbecue sauce and serve on cooked rice for a delicious supper.

THURINGER SUMMER SAUSAGE—Mild spiced and semi-dried, this relatively soft sausage usually is finely chopped and contains a good percentage of pork for extra juiciness. It's similar to summer sausage and salami except that it contains no garlic.

In addition to serving on the cold meat platter, use thin slices of thuringer summer sausage to top casseroled vegetables or macaroni and cheese, and broil until browned.

LUNCHEON LOAF—Includes a variety of products—some square, some round—that have the ham-like flavor of good, cured pork. A number of varieties have the meat in larger cubes, rather than chopped or ground. Serve on cold meat platters or fashion a summer salad from thin slices of it by rolling the slices around bananas and garnishing with sour cream-mayonnaise.

Packaged Foods in New Variety

More and more prepackaged, partially prepared vegetable and fruit items will help speed up meal preparation in your kitchen this summer.

From John C. Newell Jr., marketing consultant to the Folding Paper Box Association, comes news of some of the ingenious new offerings designed to meet the homemaker's needs for greater convenience and variety:

Now packaged and "pan-ready" are apples—cored, sliced and diced; beans—both piece and french cut; shelled lima beans; sliced, shredded and julienne carrots; eggplant—both sliced and french fried; and onions in slices and rings.

Potatoes offer a great selection of servings: peeled, sliced, waffled, diced and cut for french frying.

If it's a salad you're whipping up, you can get packaged shredded cabbage and carrot combinations; stuffed celery stalks; cole slaw; mixed greens; salad mixes of chef, tossed or waldorf combinations.

Ham-Egg Mold for Torrid Day

Deviled ham, mixed with hard cooked eggs and crisp seasoning-type vegetables and then molded in unflavored gelatine, is excellent for summer food platters.

The recipe may be doubled for buffets, and goes along with your favorite potato salad.

Deviled Ham 'n' Egg Molds

1 envelope unflavored gelatine
½ cup cold water
¼ teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons lemon juice
¼ teaspoon tabasco
¾ cup mayonnaise or salad dressing
2 2¼-ounce cans deviled ham
1½ teaspoons grated onion
½ cup finely diced celery
¼ cup finely diced green pepper
¼ cup diced pimiento
2 hard cooked eggs, chopped

Soften gelatine in cold water. Place over boiling water and stir until gelatine is dissolved. Stir in salt, lemon juice and tabasco; cool.

Stir gelatine mixture into mayonnaise; blend in deviled ham. Mix in remaining ingredients.

Turn into six individual molds or a 3-cup mold; chill until firm. Unmold; serve with *potato salad. Garnish with tomato wedges. Yield: Six servings.

* * *

Potato Salad

2 pounds potatoes (8 cups diced)
1 small onion, chopped
2 cups diced celery
2 teaspoons salt
1 cup mayonnaise
2 tablespoons prepared mustard
2 tablespoons vinegar
½ teaspoon tabasco

Cook potatoes in skins until tender. Peel and dice. Add onion and celery; sprinkle with salt. Mix together mayonnaise, mustard, vinegar and Tabasco. Add to potato mixture.

Mix lightly with a fork being careful not to break potatoes; chill. To serve, garnish with salad greens and tomato wedges. Yield: Twelve servings.

BUTTER CRUNCH — Make a recipe of Butter Crunch, the new crumb topping, and you'll have the perfect ingredient to dress up any number of dishes. Butter, brown sugar, flour and nuts or coconut — that's all you need for this versatile addition to some of your favorites.

All-Purpose Butter Crunch for Pies, Cobblers, Topping

Introducing Butter Crunch — a new crumb topping, perfect for cobblers, tortes, parfaits and pies own all-purpose crumbs!

Butter Crunch, newest recipe development of a famous test kitchen, is baked from butter, brown sugar, flour and nuts or coconut—all products you usually have on hand. The ingredients are mixed, spread in an oblong pan for baking, and on removal from the oven, the mixture is stirred to form crumbs.

Warm Butter Crunch can be pressed into a pie plate as a crumb crust. Or the crumbs can be cooled and stored in a covered jar for toppings.

The sugary buttery flavor and nut-like texture of these crumbs compliment a host of desserts. When the crumbs are sprinkled on fruit sauce, prepared pudding mixes, ice cream sundaes—these plain dishes assume the elegance of party sweets. And cobblers and fruit Betty's are easy when Butter Crunch is waiting in the ice box.

Butter Crunch

½ cup butter
¾ cup brown sugar (packed)
1 cup sifted flour
½ cup chopped pecans, walnuts, or coconut

Heat oven to 400 degrees. Mix all ingredients with hands. Spread in oblong pan 13x9½x2". Bake 15 minutes. Take from oven, stir with spoon. Makes 2½ cups. Cool and store Butter Crunch in covered container in refrigerator for later use.

Ways With Butter Crunch:

1. Apple Crunch Sundae. Over each serving of vanilla ice cream spoon 2 tbsp. hot applesauce and sprinkle with 2 tbsp. Butter Crunch. For a party touch, add a few drops red food coloring to applesauce.

2. Easy Fruit Betty. Heat 1 can fruit pie filling (cherry, blueberry, etc.) Pour into 1 qt. baking dish. Sprinkle with 1 cup Butter Crunch. Serve warm with cream. Six servings.

3. Crunch Cobbler. Thicken canned fruit (cherries, peaches, etc.) Pour into 1 qt. baking dish or 6 individual saucedishes. Sprinkle with Butter Crunch, 1 cup for large dish or 2 tbsp. for each individual serving. Serve warm with cream or vanilla ice cream. Six servings.

4. Applesauce Crunch. Pour 2 cups sweetened spiced applesauce (add 1 tsp. cinnamon in serving dish. Cover with ½ cup whipping cream, whipped, and sprinkle with 1 cup Butter Crunch. Six servings.

5. Crunch 'N Pudding. Make your favorite flavor pudding mix (vanilla, butterscotch, chocolate, etc.) While hot, pour into flat serving dish. Sprinkle with 1 cup Butter Crunch. Serve with cream. Six servings.

6. Parfait Crunch. Make your favorite flavor pudding mix (lemon, coconut cream, etc.) Alternate layers of Butter Crunch and pudding in parfait glasses. Top with whipped cream. Garnish with cherry.

7. Fruit-Custard Crunch. Pour chilled soft custard over berries or fruit (oranges, bananas, peaches, strawberries). Sprinkle with Butter Crunch. Serve.

Crispy Pizza Pies Good With Salads

Here's a summertime treat with an Italian accent that's especially good with salads. Easy-to-make bination of sardines, chopped olives and spices on crispy cracker rectangles, will add an extra flourish to your next luncheon or dinner menu. Be sure to serve them lightly browned and hot from the oven. Here's how:

Crispy Pizzas

1 6-oz. can tomato paste
¼ teaspoon powdered garlic
½ teaspoon oregano
2 tablespoons chopped stuffed olives
1 3¾-oz. can boneless and skinless sardines
30 saltine crackers
1 tablespoon olive oil
1 tablespoon grated Parmesan cheese

In a small bowl combine tomato paste, powdered garlic, oregano and chopped olives. Mash undrained sardines and add. Stir to blend. Arrange crackers on a baking sheet and brush each lightly with olive oil. Top each with 1 teaspoon sardine mixture. Flatten the mixture with the back of the spoon. Sprinkle each with Parmesan cheese and drizzle remaining olive oil over. Broil 5 inches from heat for 1 to 2 minutes or until cheese and crackers are lightly browned. Makes 30 or enough for 5 each for 6 people.

Jubilee Joes Surefire Hit

Cooling bottled soft drinks have added their sparkle to the Fourth of July for the last hundred years. More popular today than ever, they'll add their tangy refreshment to many a holiday menu, and will quench the thirst of many a parader—from the oldest ranks of the Legion to the littlest Brownie and Cub Scout.

In fact, it's probably the youngsters who get the biggest bang out of "The Fourth"—so here's a recipe just for them, called Jubilee Joes.

They're little dolls made of a sweet dough prepared with orange carbonated beverage.

Jubilee Joes

2 tablespoons lukewarm water
1 yeast cake (or 1 package dry yeast)
¼ cup orange carbonated beverage
2 tablespoons dry milk powder
⅛ teaspoon baking soda
¼ cup sugar
½ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon mace or nutmeg
¼ teaspoon allspice
½ teaspoon grated lemon rind or 1 teaspoon cinnamon
1 egg, beaten
¼ cup soft butter or margarine
2¾ cups sifted all purpose flour

Crumble yeast cake over lukewarm water; or sprinkle dry yeast over warm (not hot) water. Set aside for five minutes.

Pour orange carbonate beverage into mixing bowl. Sprinkle with dry milk; stir with fork until dissolved. Stir in baking soda and sugar. Stir yeast until dissolved, then stir into beverage mixture.

Add remaining ingredients, stirring in half the flour. Beat well, then beat in enough of remaining flour to make a very soft dough.

Turn out onto lightly floured board, knead lightly about 10 minutes, or until smooth but still sticky. Place dough in a warm, greased bowl. Brush with melted butter. Cover with a damp cloth and let rise in warm place (80-85 degrees) until doubled.

Punch down and turn dough over in bowl. Let rise until almost doubled. Divide dough in half, leaving half in bowl. Divide the other half into 5 or 6 equal rounds. Cover and let rest 15 minutes.

To shape: Pinch off small piece of dough from round to make head: Place on greased baking sheet. Pinch off larger round for body and place below head, leaving space between. Divide remaining round into two long rolls. Join head and body with one. Join center of other to body to form legs.

When half the dough is shaped, brush forms with melted butter. Cover and let rise until light but not doubled. Repeat procedure with second half of dough. Bake in moderate oven (375 degrees) 15 to 20 minutes.

* * *

Decorate with confectioners' orange frosting; add raisins for eyes and buttons, and a sliver of maraschino cherry for mouth.

Makes 10-12.

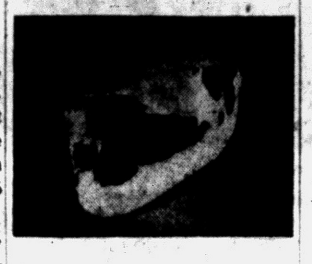
Confectioner's Orange Frosting

3 cups confectioners' sugar
¼ cup orange carbonated beverage

Blend beverage into sugar until smooth (beat with electric mixer if desired). More beverage may be added if necessary.

* * *

Set bowl over pan of hot water while spooning frosting over Jubilee Joes.



Q. What is the name of this cut of meat?

A. T-Bone Steak

* * *

Q. Where does it come from and how is it identified?

A. It is cut from the short loin. It is identified by the T-shaped bone. The tenderloin muscle in the T-Bone is slightly smaller than that found in the Porterhouse steak. These two steaks are quite similar and used more or less interchangeably.

An oil labeled "salad oil" ought salad dressing at refrigerator not to solidify or separate from a temperature.

EASY RULES FOR WINNING

1. PRINT clearly in the puzzle the letters you think will form words that best fit the clues. After you have filled in the puzzle, PRINT your name and address clearly on the entry blank. Be sure also to print the first letter of your last name in the box provided. Entries must be postmarked no later than midnight August 6, 1956, and must be received no later than August 20, 1956. Mail all entries to: "The Trickster", Box 91, Cincinnati 1, Ohio.

2. You may submit as many solutions to this puzzle as you desire, using official entry blanks. With each entry send a boxtop from any size bottle of JOY (if you have one) or a facsimile copied from any source—OR enclose a separate sheet of paper on which you have copied the number from the bottom of any size JOY can, which now may be seen at your store. In this ad are pictures of the New Milder JOY bottle carton and can.

3. Carefully study the clues before writing your answers. The right solution requires the most appropriate and suitable word in each blank. The judges will determine which word is the most appropriate and suitable to the clue in each case. The judges have been appointed by Procter & Gamble to consider all entries and select the prize winner. Decisions of the judges are final.

4. Procter & Gamble will pay $32,000 for the right solution to this puzzle. If no correct solution is received, the most nearly correct solution, based on the number of correct words, will be the winner. One prize will be awarded.

In the event of ties, a separate "Trickster" puzzle and sentence for completion, "Joy makes dishwashing almost nice because . . . (25 words or less) . . . ", will be mailed to those who have tied. No JOY boxtop or can number will be required with a tie-breaking entry. Entries in the tie-breaking contest will be judged on the basis of the puzzle. In the event of ties, the prize money will be paid to the tying entrant whose sentence for completion is judged most apt, original and sincere.

5. Entries limited to residents of the continental United States (including Alaska) and Hawaii, except employees of Procter & Gamble, its advertising agencies, and their families. Government regulations apply.

6. All entries become unqualifiedly the property of Procter & Gamble for any and all purposes. No entries returned. Except for incidental, uncompensated help from family and friends, entries must be wholly the work of the person in whose name the entry is submitted, and will be disqualified for outside professional or compensated help. Mechanically reproduced facsimiles or numbers are ineligible. The winner or tying entrants will be notified by mail about 8 weeks after all entries are received.

CLUES ON JOY TO HELP YOU WIN

Procter & Gamble's new JOY is the liquid that makes dishwashing—no, not fun—but almost nice. Takes the greasy smell and look and feel out of dishwater. Gets the job over quick, leaves your dishes sparkling clean. And it's milder than any other leading liquid—gentle to your hands. JOY saves you money, too. Penny for penny it does more dishes than anything else. Just one capful makes nice-smelling suds billow up. You try it. Get JOY today in the nice new can or the gay bottle.

TOPSY TURVY COFFEE RING — It looks like a dessert, but it's not! It's a delectable breakfast bread that takes only twenty minutes to bake. It's so pretty that you'll want to serve it to guests when they come for brunch. Pancake mix makes the batter an easy one to make.

Easy-to-Fix Coffee Cake Saves Time in Morning

If coffee cake for breakfast means hours of work to you in the kitchen during the dawning hours of the day, read on! Those last minutes in bed are too precious to give up for tedious early morning baking.

Serving a freshly baked coffee cake and still being able to get those extra forty winks is like having your cake and eating it, too. So here's a recipe that takes only minutes to mix and 20 minutes to bake, and you can set this Topsy Turvy Coffee Ring before the family.

There's no need for that breakfast "come and get it" call when the tantalizing aroma of baking coffee cake wafts through the house. It's a real waker-upper!

Then, too, the job can be made even faster by doing some of the measuring the night before. By using your favorite pancake mix, as in this recipe, you are actually measuring several ingredients at once. The next morning, all that is left to do is some last minute combining and arranging the pineapple and cherries in the pan while the oven is preheating.

* * *

See! Just as easy as snapping your fingers. And the pineapple slices and bright red cherries blink such a cheery "Good Morning."

If you're lucky, there might be just a piece or two of this Topsy Turvy Coffee ring left to go with your mid-morning cup of coffee as you relax for a minute with the morning newspaper.

Topsy-Turvy Coffee Ring

2 eggs, beaten
½ cup sugar
⅔ cup milk
1 teaspoon vanilla
2 cups pancake mix
⅓ cup shredded cocoanut
⅓ cup melted shortening
4 slices canned pineapple, halved
8 maraschino cherries

In a well-greased 1½ quart ring arrange halved pineapple slices, alternating the direction of each half circle. Place cherry in center of each pineapple slice.

For coffee cake, gradually add sugar to beaten eggs, beating until light. Add milk, vanilla, pancake mix and coconut, mixing until just combined. Lightly stir in melted shortening. Spoon batter over pineapple. Bake in hot oven (400 degrees) about 20 minutes. Cool for 2 or 3 minutes in pan; invert on platter and serve.

Clam Cracker Dip

Canned minced clams and processed cheese sauce are a mighty fine combination for a potato chip or cracker dip. Mix drained clams with the cheese sauce and add a pinch of celery seed, a teaspoon or more of grated onion and enough lemon juice to make a tangy dip.

Boston Butt Pork

The juiciest meatiest, thriftiest of all barbecue pork is the Boston Butt. Buy the whole Butt and cut into steaks at least one inch thick for outdoor cooking. Then cook slowly, about eight inches above hot coals, for about 45 minutes. Turn the steaks every five minutes. Seasonings suggested are salt, pepper, a dash of lemon juice or a rub with garlic.

Add chili powder to canned stewed tomatoes for extra zip.

Make Firecracker Red Salads

FOR THE FOURTH — Decorate your Cranberry Jellied Salad Molds with flags for the Fourth of July. The delightful tang of canned cranberry sauce is perfect for the holiday season.

Just the Thing for Gala Fourth

3 Recipes Use Colorful Cranberries; Flags Add Holiday Touch

Use ready-to-serve cranberry sauce to make firecracker red salads for the Fourth of July chicken barbecue menu. You can mold the colorful salads in paper cups and carry them right to the picnic grounds.

Brush the cups with a thin coating of salad oil before pouring the cranberry gelatin mixture into mold. The paper is easily removed at serving time . . . and no molds to wash later.

Softened cream cheese can be used to border the salads. Use little paper flags as decoration or cut small cranberry stars with an hors d'oeuvres cutter to trim the colorful salads.

Here are some summery cranberry salad combinations for your Independence Day tables.

Cranberry Ribbon Salad

¼ cup "red hot" cinnamon candies
1½ cups boiling water
1 package lemon gelatin
1 pound can jellied or whole cranberry sauce
1 3-ounce package cream cheese
2 tablespoons heavy cream
2 tablespoons mayonnaise

Dissolve candies in boiling water. Add lemon gelatin and dissolve. Cool. Add cranberry sauce. (If jellied cranberry sauce is used, crush with a fork.) Pour half of the gelatin mixture in a 1-quart salad mold and chill until firm.

Whip cream cheese with cream and mayonnaise. Spread over gelatin layer. Add rest of gelatin mixture and chill until firm.

Cranberry Banana Mold

1 envelope unflavored gelatine
¼ cup cold water
½ cup boiling water
1 pound can whole cranberry sauce
¼ lemon
1 banana, diced
¼ cup chopped walnuts

Place gelatine in cup. Add cold water and let stand 2 minutes. Add boiling water to dissolve. Stir dissolved gelatine into cranberry sauce. Put lemon through food chopper, rind and all. Add chopped lemon, diced banana, and nuts to cranberry mixture.

Pour into pan or molds to chill until firm. Cut into squares or unmold individual molds into crisp lettuce cups.

• • •

Try one of these frozen cranberry desserts when the temperature soars. Any one of the variations would be a good choice for the Independence Day dessert menu.

Cranberry Gingerale Ice

1 lb. can jellied cranberry sauce
¾ cup gingerale

Crush cranberry sauce with a fork or beat with beater. Add ginger ale. Mix cranberry sauce and ginger ale well. Pour into freezing tray and place in freezing compartment of refrigerator (control set to lowest temperature). Freeze until firm.

To serve Cranberry Ginger Ale Ice:

(1) Serve a scoop of Cranberry Ginger Ale Ice in the center of an avocado ring on bed of watercress.

(2) Surround a scoop of Cranberry Ginger Ale Ice with balls of honeydew melon.

(3) Serve Cranberry Ginger Ale Ice on spears of fresh pineapple.

(4) Serve Cranberry Ginger Ale Ice in scalloped orange shells as a meat accompaniment.

(5) Serve Cranberry Ginger Ale Ice on chilled grapefruit segments.

(6) Serve Cranberry Ginger Ale Ice in rings of melon and garnish with fresh mint leaves.

Mocha Nut Roll Easy to Make

"Sweet are the uses of adversity," but not at all adverse are the sweets you'll make with this simple recipe.

The method is simple, but the flavor is subtle, because it combines quick coffee flavor with semi-sweet chocolate to make mocha. You can add coffee flavor quickly with instant coffee, spooning it dry right from the jar.

You'll have slices of chewy, delicious Mocha Nut Roll, and the recipe makes a generous 1¼ pounds.

Mocha Nut Roll

1 cup dark brown sugar, firmly packed
¼ cup light corn syrup
¼ cup evaporated milk
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 package (6 ounces) semi-sweet chocolate bits
1 tablespoon instant coffee
1 cup nuts, coarsely chopped

Combine and bring to a boil sugar, corn syrup and milk. Boil 2 minutes, stirring constantly. Remove from heat.

Add and beat until smooth vanilla, chocolate bits and instant coffee. Add nuts and mix well. Shape on waxed paper in two 12" rolls. Roll up and chill. Cut in ½ inch slices. Makes about 1¼ pounds candy.

Weight-watchers might well use a salad dressing made with yogurt. To the yogurt, add lemon juice, salt, pepper and finely grated onion (pulp and juice) to taste.

Unusual Filling Will Transform Easy Cake Mix

Here's a really different way to treat a cake mix.

Canadian Loaf Cake

1 package (11 ounces) yellow cake mix packed with baking pan and chocolate frosting
1 package (6½ ounces) pitted dates
1 teaspoon grated orange rind
⅓ cup orange juice

Prepare and bake cake as directed on package. Remove cake from pan, following directions. Place cake on rack; cool thoroughly; slice in half lengthwise.

Slice dates into small saucepan; add orange rind and juice. Cook over low heat for several minutes, stirring often, until dates and orange juice are combined and thick; cool thoroughly.

Spread half of date mixture over top of lower half of cake; top with remaining half of cake. Spread cake top with remaining date mixture.

Prepare frosting according to package directions; spread carefully over date topping. Wipe cake knife with damp cloth before cutting each slice.

'Burgers Fame Started in 1904

The hamburger sandwich was introduced to the public appetite at the great St. Louis Fair in 1904. Ever since that time, this popular creation has held the fancy of the American people. Consumption of hamburgers both in the home and abroad has grown tremendously until it now reaches nearly eight pounds per person per year.

The hamburger is no longer merely the economy food to be served to the family on the night before payday. It stars at any number of family get-togethers and parties . . . picnics, barbecues, beach cookouts, teenager parties. Hamburgers are quickly prepared, gentle on the budget, and also compatible with innumerable favorite foods.

Serve them with lots of accompaniments . . . mustard, pickle relish, catchup, sliced onions, potato chips, barbecue buns, cheese, etc., and let everyone help themselves.

Heavenly Hamburgers

1 pound ground beef
¼ teaspoon MSG (monosodium glutamate)
¾ teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper

Break up meat with fork in mixing bowl. Shake MSG, salt and pepper over entire surface of meat. Toss gently with fork to distribute seasoning. Shape into 4 patties.

Cook in ungreased skillet or on open grill until meat reaches desired degree of doneness, turning to brown evenly. Yield: 4 servings.

Cream butter with a little crushed garlic and spread over the cut surface of halved tomatoes. Bake or broil. Delicious with chicken, meat or fish.

Strawberry Season Calls for Set of Special Recipes

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

Strawberries are good to look at. Strawberries smell wonderful. Strawberries taste wonderful. In fact, there's nothing quite like strawberries.

We have our own patch. I don't even mind the job of picking them, since I can eat as many as I like during the time I work (sometimes they taste a little gritty from the sand!)

When we have more than we can eat at one sitting—and that can be a lot of berries—I freeze them. Only the best berries go into the freezer. I sprinkle a little sugar on them and the job's done. And do they taste good in the winter time!

Now there may be thousands of ways that strawberries can be fixed. But the Better Half at our house—and the Seven-Year-Old—and Miss Teenager all prefer plain strawberry shortcake. Miss Teenager and I can make shortcake automatically.

Last night I used buttermilk in place of sweet milk and dropped the dough from a spoon. Usually I knead it briefly and roll it out. The buttermilk biscuits were as light as the proverbial feather.

Perhaps you would like some new strawberry recipes. This is the week to use lots of them. Trot out all your old favorites and give a thought to some of these new ones.

Our picture shows an angel food cake with a filling of whipped cream and strawberries. Cut the cake in half crosswise. Whip 2 cups whipping cream, sweeten to taste. Fold in 2 cups of halved strawberries.

Spread between layers and swirl over top and sides of cake. Chill before serving. Makes 12 servings. Keep cake refrigerated until used.

Baked Alaska spells glamor. It never fails to invite compliments. The United Fresh Fruit and Vegetable Association suggests this easy way of making Baked Alaska.

Fresh Strawberry Baked Alaska

9-inch square yellow or white cake
About 2 cups sliced fresh strawberries
1 quart vanilla ice cream, frozen very hard
7 egg whites
½ teaspoon salt
¾ cup sugar
1 teaspoon pure vanilla extract
9 whole uncapped fresh strawberries

Have all ingredients ready before you start this cake for best results. Be sure the strawberries are chilled, the ice cream is very hard, the meringue is made and the oven preheated to 450 (very hot.)

* * *

Place the layer of cake on a baking sheet over which spread half of the strawberries. Top with ice cream. Spread with remaining berries.

Cover the entire cake with meringue made by combining egg whites and salt and beating until they stand in soft peaks. Gradually beat in sugar and pure vanilla extract. Continue beating until they stand in stiff peaks.

Place cake in very hot oven 1 to 2 minutes or until brown. Watch closely to prevent browning too much. Lift to a serving plate with 2 wide spatulas and garnish with whole, uncapped fresh strawberries. Serve at once. Yield: 9 servings.

How about making Strawberry Sherbet with fresh berries? It makes a simple desert or a pretty addition to a fruit salad plate.

Strawberry Sherbet

2½ cups strawberry pulp and juice
¾ cup sugar
⅛ teaspoon salt
2 egg whites, stiffly beaten

Combine strawberry pulp and juice with sugar and salt and chill for 1 hour. Then freeze in the refrigerator tray until mushy.

Stir in the stiffly beaten egg whites and continue freezing until solid, but not too hard. Serve in chilled sherbet glasses or orange cups.

I know I've given it to you before, but I want to repeat my favorite recipe for strawberry pie. Bake a pie shell and cool it.

Wash and hull a quart of strawberries. Chill all but 1 cupful. Mash these slightly. Add 1 cup of sugar, ½ cup water and 3 tablespoons cornstarch, blended with a little of the water.

Cook until thick and clear, stirring to keep mixture from burning. Cool. Add chilled berries to cooled mixture and pour into baked pie shell. Serve with or without whipped cream.

Little Cook Book Has Tantalizing Italian Recipes

When your friends come back from Italy this summer, with faraway looks in their eyes, just assume they're dreaming of superb Italian cooking — and rush right out to buy the little Italian cook book "Thank You, Mister Columbus," as a "welcome home" gift.

Scampi Neapolitan

1 pound shrimp
1 clove garlic, minced
¼ cup olive oil
3 anchovy fillets
1 large can Italian tomatoes
¼ teaspoon oregano
Pinch crushed red pepper
1 tablespoon chopped parsley

Shell and devein shrimp. Drain on paper toweling. Heat olive oil in large frying pan. Add garlic and shrimp, place shrimps in the pan with backs down. Saute shrimp about 5 minutes until pink.

Remove shrimp, add remaining ingredients. Mix well, breaking up tomatoes. Cook slowly 15 minutes. Pour sauce over shrimp in serving dish. Serve with slices of fried Italian bread.

Whip a Dessert of Strawberries

The Strawberry Tulip Loaf pictured here is literally pretty as a picture—not only the whole loaf, uncut and undisturbed, but each of the twelve servings will lie handsomely on its plate!

Made of strawberry-flavored gelatin whipped to a dreamy texture, fresh berries and cream, and garnished with marshmallow tulips, it has that wonderful quality which invites the always flattering question: "How did you make it?"

Strawberry Tulip Loaf

1 package strawberry-flavored gelatin
1 cup hot water
1 cup cold water
2 cups halved fresh strawberries
½ cup sugar
6 marshmallows, finely cut (optional)
1 cup cream, whipped

Dissolve strawberry-flavored gelatin in hot water. Add cold water. Chill until slightly thickened. Combine strawberries and sugar and let stand 10 minutes.

Place slightly thickened gelatin in bowl of ice and water and whip with egg beater until fluffy and thick. Fold in strawberries, marshmallows and whipped cream.

Spoon into loaf pan. Chill until firm. Unmold and serve in slices. Makes 12 servings.

To Garnish: Whip ½ cup cream. Spoon over top of loaf, making two rows of small puffs. Top each puff with a strawberry slice. Split 4 marshmallows to make 8 circular halves. Using small sharp knife, cut each marshmallow half into the shape of a tulip. Mount four "tulips" on each side of loaf at base, and garnish with mint leaves.

STRAWBERRY TULIP LOAF — With strawberries in the market in good supply now, it's time to prepare this delicious Strawberry Tulip Loaf. Made of whipped strawberry-flavored gelatin, fresh strawberries and cream, it is as attractive as it is good to eat.

Fancy Dress for Eggs

Dress up scrambled eggs! Just before serving sprinkle them with grated cheddar or Parmesan cheese, tiny squares of fresh bread toasted in butter, minced green pepper or strips of canned pimiento and chopped parsley.

Two Sandwiches to Make Picnic Food Interest

Beach picnics, picnics on the lawn or in the backyard . . . in fact, picnics anywhere are so much fun you'll want to make them a regular occasion for your family this summer.

But don't let the word regular come to mean ordinary or tired. And, since sandwiches are usually the most important item in any picnic, don't let them become ordinary or tired either. Make sure they don't turn out to be wet and soggy or dry and tasteless.

From the current issue of a home magazine, here are two delightful picnic sandwich recipes . . . both impervious to the hazards of travelling and packing . . . both delicious: They're called Beachcomber Sandwiches.

One of them, the "Avocado Grab," is made by combining the following ingredients:

½ avocado, diced
1 7½-ounce can of crab meat
2 teaspoons capers
½ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon monosodium glutamate
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1 tablespoon mayonnaise
A dash of pepper
Eight slices of bread

Another unusual picnic treat is the "Tunut-butter-wich." To make this one just:

Moisten the contents of one 7 oz. can of tunafish with 2 tablespoons mayonnaise and spread on one slice of bread for each sandwich. Then, spread 6-8 tablespoons peanut butter on the other slice and put them together.

Use 12-16 slices of bread for the recipe.

Shrimp a la King Fit for Royalty

Shrimp A La King

1½ pounds shrimp, fresh or frozen
3 tablespoons butter or margarine
Half green pepper, cut in strips
3 tablespoons flour
1⅔ cup (13-ounce can) evaporated milk
1 cup whole milk
1 pimiento, cut in strips
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
Salt and pepper to taste

Shell and devein shrimp. Cook in boiling salted water3 to 5 minutes, until shrimp are pink. Drain.

Melt butter, add green pepper and cook until soft. Remove from heat. Add flour and stir until smooth. Return to heat.

Add evaporated milk and whole milk gradually, stirring constantly until thick and boiling. Remove from heat. Add pimiento, Worcestershire sauce, salt and pepper. Add shrimp.

Serve on buttered toast, split buttered English muffins or in toasted bread cups. Makes 6 servings.

Allsweet does it all

Be skeptical. Be firm. Tell yourself it can't be that good. Because when you actually do taste Allsweet's delicate, natural flavor . . . you'll be twice as happy. You'll go around telling everybody that it's true: Allsweet does it all, for spreading, for flavoring, and for cooking

. . . because it has that fresh, natural flavor you love!

July Fourth Meals Top Shopping Lists This Week

Picnic plans for the Fourth of July are probably foremost in the minds of food shoppers this week. With more and more people discovering what fun it is to cook out of doors, this is an ideal time to enjoy good eating in an outdoor setting, backyard, favorite park or beach area. Plan picnic menus for family satisfaction and good nutrition, just as any other meals suggests Mrs. Josephine Lawyer, Consumer Marketing Information Agent.

• • •

MEATS—Many red meat cuts, as well as poultry, are good values at the meat counter. Variety meats and cold cuts fit into the list of meats easy to prepare.

BEEF—This is the season when the cuts of beef that require long cooking are not so popular with with food shoppers. Consequently, steaks hold a steady price while the less tender cuts are being offered at real savings.

For barbecue or kabobs try round, flank, or chuck steaks cut in one piece or small cubes. These can be tenderized in 12 to 48 hours in a food acid preparation in the refrigerator. Lemon juice, vinegar, wine or tomato juice are natural food acids that will break down the meat fibers and impart a distinctive flavor.

Ground meat has a special savory flavor when one tablespoon of barbecue sauce is placed on each hamburger as it is individually wrapped in aluminum foil. Hamburgers made this way and cooked on an open grill eliminate watching—make a picnic more fun.

PORK—Hams and picnic shoulder cuts are good choices for holiday fare. Many hams are specially marked this week, with prices varying as much as forty cents a pound according to cut and cure.

In some instances, canned ham, compared to other ham, is a better value cost-wise. It is free of bone and skin and yields approximately four, 4-ounce servings per pound. Thrifty, juicy pork cuts are the rib-end loin roast and Boston Butt. Try either, sauce drenched, and cook over a slow fire until well-done.

• • •

VEAL—Good supplies of veal may suggest a leg, rump, or sirloin roast for this week's menu plans. There is a wide variation in veal prices, mostly due to variations in quality.

POULTRY—More broiler-fryers are expected to come to market this July than last. Compared with costs of many red meat cuts, they are a good buy for the market basket. A good quality bird has a short, compact meaty body, a thin clean skin, a layer of fat under the skin, and a flexible breast-bone.

FRUITS—Fresh fruits are always a wise choice for desserts, and are particularly good for outdoor eating. Watermelon is expected to be of good quality, in large quantity, and listed at the lowest prices of the season for the holiday ahead. Most watermelons are from Florida, and weigh about 25 pounds.

The recent rains were a life-saver for locally grown strawberries. According to the District Horticultural Agent, Karl Bailey, this moisture will greatly help, and might double the crop. By the end of this week, shoppers should be able to see better quality berries.

Hot weather last week before the rains caused strawberries to break down easily and spoil rapidly in shipment. Even though quantity supplies were available, quality was not as good as everyone anticipated.

Fresh peaches at 29 to 39 cents a pound will go a long way when used in shortcake or combined with other fruits in salads or desserts.

VEGETABLES — Fresh green salad vegetables steal the show at produce centers. Farmer's Market reports list leaf lettuce in heavy supply; butter or Boston lettuce, romaine, and the small heads of tender Bibb lettuce in moderate supply. Iceberg or head lettuce, America's favorite salad green, is very reasonable compared to other salad items.

EGGS—Deviled eggs are a must on any picnic menu especially at present prices of around 49 to 55 cents a dozen for the large size Grade A quality. For cool summer meals eggs in salads and sandwiches provide a good source of the daily protein needs. Three eggs yield about the same amount of protein as a 4-ounce portion of lean meat.

Barbecued Beef

2 pounds boneless meat, cut in 4-inch pieces
1 tablespoon shortening
4 cups chopped onion
2 tablespoons shortening
¾ cup undiluted tomato soup
¾ cup catsup
2 tablespoons Worcestershire sauce
1½ teaspoons salt
Dash pepper, celery salt

Brown meat well in 1 tablespoon fat in heavy saucepan. Add 1½ cups water, cover and simmer until tender—1½ to 2 hours. Put meat through coarse grinder.

Fry onions in 2 tablespoons hot shortening until tender and transparent. Combine with meat. Add tomato soup, catsup, Worcestershire sauce, salt, pepper and celery salt.

Add about 2 cups meat broth to make the mixture moist. Heat to bubbling and serve between buns. Makes enough filling for 24 sandwiches.

South Africa Claims Richest Kaolin Field

DURBAN — Near South Africa's eastern coast has been found one of the world's richest deposits of kaolin—a china clay used in stomach powders.

There is enough there, experts say, to cure all the world's stomach aches for the next 100 years. That's on a basis of about three stomach aces a year for every man, woman and child, and the theory that a half ounce of kaolin would be enough to alleviate the trouble.

The deposit is probably the purest in the world it is claimed—40 per cent kaolin and 60 per cent silica. The deposits are estimated to be worth at least $14 a ton, with 15 million tons of workable conglomerate available.

Vary Cooked Frosting

Vary that seven-minute frosting. Use your standard recipe, but when you add the vanilla, beat in a cup of marshmallow-snippets. To get the snippets ready, cut regular-size marshmallows — using a kitchen scissors—into small pieces.

Pour boiling water over slices of beef liver and let stand for about five minutes; flavor is improved this way.

Some cooks like to add a little finely diced or grated onion to bulk sausage that is shaped into patties and fried.

Want that packaged vanilla pudding to taste special? Fold whipped cream into the pudding when it has cooled to room temperature.

Use high quality eggs for poaching, frying and cooking in the shell; other grades may be used for general cooking and baking.

The post-war baby boom peak in the United States was reached in 1947 when there were 26.6 babies born for every 1,000 people.

LOBSTER DIP — Lobster tails which come frozen or in a thawed state, are always elegant eating. It may be gilding the lily, but a dip made with fresh lemon juice will enhance any lobster. Absolutely heavenly!

Fillets — Aaah Ze French Way!

We often think of the great fishing industries as centering in Boston and Gloucester, along the Gulf of Mexico, or in San Diego and other West Coast ports.

But fresh water fishing has its claim to bigness, too—it employs more fishermen than any other fishery, according to the National Fisheries Institute. Salmon is next, then clamming, with shrimping fourth.

"Fresh water fish"—now those are words to make your mouth water, because our Great Lakes, rivers and smaller lakes yield a wide variety of fish that make excellent eating.

Blue pike and yellow perch are now particularly plentiful. Both are sold in packages of frozen fillets—ready to be pan-fried, broiled or baked, however you best like your fish.

Of you might like to copy a housewife of Provence in southern France who most likely would serve fish with a garlic-flavored tomato sauce. This recipe, of course, is good with any kind of fish—those that are caught in salt water, too

Fresh Water Fillets Provencale

1 pound blue pike or yellow perch fillets (cod, haddock, ocean perch or sole may be used)
Salt and pepper
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 small onion, cnopped
1 clove garlic chopped fine
1 No 2½ can solid-pack tomatoes

If fillets are frozen, let them thaw on refrigerator shelf or at room temperature. Season with salt and pepper. Melt butter in skillet. Add garlic and onion, cook until onion is tender. Drain tomatoes; press through a sieve and add to onion in skillet.

Place fillets in skillet. Cover and let cook about 10 minutes or until fish flakes easily when tested with a fork. Remove fillets to a hot platter and spoon out sauce onto fish. Serve immediately. Makes 3 or 4 servings.

Cool as It Looks— Frosty Lime Sherbet

A refreshing dessert after the roast!

Lime Sherbet

½ cup sugar
1 cup water
1 package (3 ounces) lime-flavored gelatin
1 cup orange juice
2 tablespoons lemon or lime juice
2 cups milk

Stir sugar and water together, in a 1-quart saucepan, over low heat until sugar dissolves; boil 2 minutes. Sprinkle lime gelatin over; stir until dissolved. Stir in orange and lemon juice. Pour into refrigerator tray.

Have refrigerator control at coldest setting; place mixture in freezing compartment until frozen about ½-inch around sides and bottom of tray.

Turn into mixing bowl beat with rotary beater (electric or hand) until fluffy.

Gradually beat in milk; beat about 1 minute longer or until thick and doubled in bulk. Turn back into trays; freeze, stirring every 15 minutes, until firm.

Elegant, Easy — Lobster, Dipped

Lobster tails are always elegant, but especially so when served with a plump lemon wedge and tempting Lemon Lobster Dip.

It's easy enough for the new bride! And she's just the gal to impress luncheon guests by serving lobster tails with some crusty rolls and a lush dessert.

But new bride or not, you'll want to try this dish. It can be served so many ways—the impressive luncheon entree can double as an appetizer, and precede a very special dinner. All you need for this dish is a package of frozen, uncooked lobster tails and your own spice shelf.

Cook the lobster according to package directions, then slit the shell and remove lobster meat. Cut in bite size pieces and return to shell. To make the clever little lemon boats for the dip, cut lemons in half lengthwise and scoop out pulp (save for dip or salad dressings).

Make your delicious Lemon Lobster Dip and spoon it into the boats. Such elegance with ease!

Lobster Dip

1 8-ounce can tomato sauce
1 teaspoon prepared mustard
1 tablespoon horseradish
¼ cup fresh lemon juice
3 anchovies, chopped

Combine all ingredients; mix well. Serve in lemon boats.

Cheese Tops Crackers — Serve 'em With Soup

Crackers topped with bubbling melted cheese go like a charm with big steaming bowls of tomato soup . . . or vegetable soup

The crackers are no trick at all; just saltines topped with sliced processed cheese and run under the broiler a few minutes. You may like a dusting of paprika or poppy seeds . . . or oregan over the cheese before broiling.

Insure Milk's Flavor

To insure top flavor and food quality, milk and cream should be stored at 40 degrees in the refrigerator and used within three or four days.

If you're broiling bacon, toss some of the hot fat with popped corn. Or pass ketchup for dipping individual grains.

SKILLET CLUB FOR MEN

By Frank Kohler

Ralph S. Clark of Kalamazoo joins the Chicago Daily News Chapter with some highly sapient words anent outdoor cookery. It is his opinion that most grills have no means of changing the distance between the fire and the food, hence no heat adjustment, which is necessary for proper broiling or spit work.

His outfit has three different heights for the spit rod. The fire is in a sheet metal tray which can be moved forward or back on three sets of horizontal guide rods at different heights and about four inches apart. This provides the desired heat control.

His stove also has an oven back of the broiling location, using the same fire, where such things as potatoes, rolls, etc., can be baked. He cooks his vegetables here frequently, wrapping them in wet parchment paper and then in foil to steam.

For those who want to go all out, he suggests an auxiliary unit with variable fire control and a steel plate top to serve as dish warmer, carving stand to keep things hot, and incidentally as a griddle.

FOR BETTER STEAK

Clark offers the following rules for steak cooking:

1. Use real charcoal.

2. When fire is right, without flame, it is ready for use. Have grill about four inches above fire to start.

3. Remove all excess fat from edges of steaks to reduce chance of fat drippage, else smell of burning fat comes right back into the steak.

4. Sprinkle each side of steak with black pepper, place on fire and lightly sear both sides as quickly as possible.

5. Move fire tray or grill so meat and top of fire are about eight inches apart; complete cooking at a slower rate to the desired doneness.

FINE FOR CHICKEN

Filet mignon is excellent cooked this way. Broiled fowl, such as chicken, goes well this way, too. Cut in pieces and baste with a favorite barbecue sauce. Try Chablis barbecue sauce, or your own favorite.

For ease in handling, the chicken pieces may be held in a wire hand grill. Or, you may prefer to do a whole stuffed chicken on a spit, following the procedure outlined below for rolled roast beef, but basting frequently with barbecue sauce to prevent burning of the skin.

To roast beef (or fowl) on a spit, have a seven to nine-pound rolled roast and remove all excess fat. Put spit through axis of roast, in the center, and start with meat about ten inches from fire.

Turn every five minutes to sear and after 15 minutes, when meat is nicely seared, move meat 12 inches from fire and continue cooking slowly, turning spit about every ten minutes.

Keep fire going properly by adding a small amount of charcoal about every 15 minutes as required. Try to keep fire from flaming any more than can be helped. The fire is actually hotter than most people think.

"When finished," Clark explains, "the outside of the roast will appear almost black with char marks. Too high a fire will burn it. Almost all of the meat juice has been sealed inside. It is extremely good this way."

Clark produces fine coffee too. He uses a sack made from an old-time cotton sugar bag, ties the desired amount of coffee in it, and puts it in a big old-fashioned pot with one cup of water per tablespoon of coffee, plus two or three extra measures of coffee for good luck. This eliminates need for the egg to settle the coffee.

Bring to a boil, then let simmer until ready to use, usually about 10 or 15 minutes

Difference in Diets

"Nutritionally, the difference between good diets and usual diets lies chiefly in the larger quantities of protective foods (fruits, vegetables, milk and its products, and eggs) in the good diets," says Dr. Hazel K. Stiebeling, director, Bureau of Human Nutrition and home Economics Research, U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Pontiac Toastmistress Club Installs New Officers

BPW Clubs to Convene in Florida

Three From City to Attend Sessions From July 1 to 6

When the "moon shines over Miami" Snuday evening it will shine on the 1956 biennial convention of the largest national and international women's organization in the world, the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs.

Representing the Pontiac club will be Mrs. Hazel MacGirr, Mrs. Margaret Long and Mrs. C. William Salton, president.

Miami Beach is hosting the convention July 1-6 with one of the largest advance registrations in the history of the federation.

Over 2,400 have registered, representing the 48 states, Alaska, Hawaii, Great Britain, Sweden, Holland, Demark, France, Switzerland, Germany, Italy, South Africa and Canada.

* * *

Headquarters for the biennial convention will be the Hotel Fontainebleau.

MANY SUBJECTS

A large agenda awaits the delegates, consideration including the legislative platform, administrative affairs, adoption of uniform and standard bylaws, and conferring of the Distinguished Service Award.

* * *

Marguerite Rawalt, national president of the organization, will open the convention formally on Sunday. A salute to the Pan American countries will include a parade of the 21 flags. Thirty costumed Cuban girls will present Cuban folklore.

The first plenary session of the convention will open Monday morning with delegates parading with flags of their individual states. A series of lectures on career advancement, public speaking and parliamentary law will be given.

Tuesday's speaker will be Sinclair Weeks, United States secretary of commerce. He will speak on various phases of the contemporary business outlook.

A forum for "Women Who Work" will include Mrs. Helen Valentine, editor-in-chief of Charm magazine, and Clem D. Johnston, U. S. Chamber of Commerce board chairman. Adding a lighter touch will be a fashion show by Burdine's of Miami.

WATER PAGEANT

A colorful fiesta and water pageant are planned for the Wednesday program. The Michigan delegates will attend the East Central Region luncheon at the Hotel DeLido on July 5.

"Speaking of People" will be presented by John Henry Foulk at the formal banquet in Hotel Fontainebleau next Thursday evening.

At the close of the convention, many are planning to go on to Havana, Cuba, and others will travel northward to the international convention being held July 8-13 in Montreal, Que.

This is the first international BPW convention to be held this side of the Atlantic.

New Italian Glamor Boy Yearns to Play Cowboy

By EMILY BELSER

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — Hollywood finally has found a glamor-boy exciting enough to fill the shoes of the late Rudolph Valentino and what happens? He wants to lose his accent and play cowboy roles!

* * *

His name is Cesare Danova, a handsome 6-foot, 4-inch tall Italian who looks like a cross between Robert Taylor and Tyrone Power.

And what feminine moviegoer could ask for more?

Cesare (pronounced Chesari), who recently arrived from Rome, hasn't yet made an American film, but when he does, Errol Flynn and Rossano Brazzi may have to move over!

"I've made films in Italy, Germany and France," he said, "now I would like to make an American movie and I think it would be interesting to play a cowboy.

* * *

"I wouldn't want to be the villain," he added in his soft Italian accent, "I want to be the punisher!"

FOREIGN FILMS

Danova, who was brought to this country and signed to a long-term contract by MGM, has starred in some 15 or 20 foreign films. His latest is a German production of "Don Juan," his only film shown in this country.

* * *

The handsome young actor not only is a fine technician, but also an expert swashbuckler.

He's a champion swimmer, a champion swordsman and an expert rugby player.

"I go slightly crazy," he admitted, "if I can't get to a gym every day. I've been taking strenuous exercise since I was 12."

* * *

When he isn't scouting around looking for gymnasiums, Danova is getting the kinks ironed out of his speech at MGM. He'll probably have to hibernate for six months before he'll be shown off to the American public.

FOUR LANGUAGES

Although he speaks four languages, he won't need any of them in Hollywood—even if he snags the role of "Ben Hur," a film to be produced by his studio next year.

* * *

Danova has co-starred with curvy Gina Lollobrigida and other Italian beauties, but his favorite is Anna Magnani.

"She is terrific," he said, "both as a friend and as an actress."

Cesare explained that he has been here such a short time he hasn't had time to arrive at any conclusion about American women.

"But I know I'll love them," he grinned, "in fact I love women—period!"

Prepare Wedding Stories Promptly

Advice Offered for Brides

Members of The Pontiac Press Women's Department have prepared several suggestions for prospective brides in order to assure them a complete and timely wedding story.

As an aid to prompt, accurate and complete information, wedding forms will be mailed upon request, as well as being sent to those who have announced their engagements in The Pontiac Press.

The wedding blank should be returned at least two days before the wedding as this amount of time is needed for handling such detailed stories.

Those received more than three days after a wedding will not carry details of reception, bridal costumes, etc.

Because of limited space, brides-to-be may submit only one picture (either engagement or wedding) if they are to be married within two months of the engagement announcement.

While it is not always possible to provide the picture with the wedding information, brides are asked to note that the picture cannot be used unless it is ready for publication by the second day after the wedding.

That is, pictures taken at a Saturday wedding must be in The Pontiac Press office by Tuesday evening at the latest. Publication deadline then is Wednesday's issue of the paper.

Pictures should be black and white glossy prints, since sepia pictures will not reproduce well.

Cool, crisp and always comfortable is an ivy print dress for summer days. Offsetting the gay green and white pattern is the simplicity of the scooped neckline, tiny sleeves and slightly flared skirt. Huge masses of appliqued ivy leaves decorate neckline.

No-Iron Fabrics Keep 'Em Clean

Keeping the kiddies neat, clean and cool in the summertime is a day-long job. They climb things, fall into things, slide down things and generally wear out more clothes in a week than an adult does in several months.

Most young mothers solve the problem somehow, usually with the help of no-iron fabrics and several loads of washing per day. As for footwear, lots of them put their children into crepe - soled, fabric - topped shoes for play wear. Children find them comfortable, mothers find them inexpensive and washable.

Cancer caused 237,000 U.S. deaths in 1954.

Summer Plays Havoc With Your Personal Things

During summer weather, a woman needs to take special care to keep her lingerie fresh.

Here's how to do it.

Close zipper or other fastening of girdles. Soak garments in warm, sudsy water from three to ten minutes, but no more. Squeeze gently with a cupping motion and remove spots or soil by rubbing gently with a soft brush. Rinse several times in clear, tepid water.

Roll each garment in a thick towel to absorb moisture. Hang a brassiere over rod or clothesline, but not by its straps as this tends to pull it out of shape. Hang a girdle by its garters from a hanger or lay it on a towel to dry. Never dry any foundation in sunlight or direct heat, for this will eventually ruin the elastic.

A bra, if ironed, should be pressed on the underside while it is damp. Elastic sections should not be ironed as this will harm the elasticity.

Although manufacturers generally recommend hand laundering, many women are satisfied with results from machine laundering. Sorting is the first step in this method. Then remove garters, if they come off, from girdles. Do not wash boned girdles in the machine. Zip all zippers.

Use the coolest setting on the machine. If a net bag is available, it's helpful to wash the garments inside this. Use a short cycle on the machine.

Summer Suits Are Cool and Practical

NEW YORK (NEA)—If you are not equipped with a couple of cool summer suits, now is the time to do something about it.

A few years ago, summer suits were hardly worth the trouble. They'd get wrinkled and dirty fast. Most of them looked like second hand pajamas.

But today, science and industry have combined forces to create summer suits that resist wrinkling, wash easily and are even cooler than the old ones. And they're not expensive.

The man made fibers are especially adaptable to summer wear. They are light in weight, can be woven loosely, readily take the special finishes which make cloth wrinkle-resistant.

* * *

The porous construction of many of these fabrics, like the linen-textured rayons, allows the air to circulate and keep the wearer cool.

Rayon has certain advantages over other synthetics—it doesn't trap moisture, hence never feels clammy; it has little static electricity and thus won't cling to the skin.

Dacron, orlon and nylon also make fine summer suitings, especially if blended with cotton, rayon or silk. Best bet is a blend of from 55 to 65 per cent of the synthetic fiber, balance of a natural fiber. This gives enough of the synthetic to make the garment "wash-and-wear," enough of the natural for proper feel.

* * *

Some of the trade-mark fabrics, like Palm Beach, usually include some synthetic fiber to make the garment washable. Palm Beach, this year out with a new sleeve-lined model to aid in retaining the shape, is 100 per cent washable. Use warm, not hot, water, spin dry and press, they recommend.

With rayon, dacron and orlon, even pressing is eliminated. Avisco, for its rayon, says suits may be washed, hung up to drip dry and worn again without pressing.

DuPont, for dacron and orlon, advises that badly soiled areas be pretreated before washing, by rubbing with a heavy paste made of a heavy-duty detergent and warm water.

* * *

Then the suit is washed in warm water. In an automatic machine, use a five-minute washing cycle. Do not let it spin dry or wring dry. Hang the suit from a non-staining hanger to drip dry.

No pressing—just hand-smooth the collar, lapel and seams. Hang the trousers by the cuffs.

The suit should dry back into shape. It may need a touch-up with a steam iron to get the creases knife-sharp.

It'll be ready for the next scorching hot day.

Friend Sells Wrong Kind of Washer

But Purchasing of Competitive Brand Might Offend Him

By EMILY POST

The first letter in today's mail describes a very difficult situation: "The husband of friends of ours is a salesman for a washing machine company. He works on a commission basis. I need a washing machine very badly, but I do not happen to like the make this friend is selling.

"I much prefer another make but my husband thinks it would be very disloyal to this friend to buy a machine from a competitive company and will result in the loss of friendship. Are we bound by friendship to buy the washing machine from him?"

Answer: Unless, after you tell him of your preference for his competitor's machine, he assures you that his feelings will not be hurt, I am sorry to say that you would run the risk of losing his friendship—especially if he is a super-sensitive person.

"Dear Mrs. Post: Will you please tell me the correct way to have matchbook covers and napkins printed for our forthcoming wedding?

"My fiance's name is Gerald but everyone knows him as Jerry. Would it be proper to use Jerry and Anne (or should it be Anne and Jerry) for these items?"

Answer: Correctly, at a formal wedding you should use only the initials of your two families. But at a not too formal wedding, and on items as informal as those you mention, you could use "Anne and Jerry."

"Dear Mrs. Post: My husband and I have been invited to a late afternoon wedding—5 o'clock to be exact—and to the reception following.

"Would it be proper for my husband to wear a white dinner jacket and I an evening dress? If not, what would be the correct clothes for us to wear at this time of day?"

Answer: No evening clothes are ever proper before 6 o'clock. Correctly, you should wear an afternoon dress and hat, and your husband a business suit.

Joiner Enriches Her Personality

By ANNE HEYWOOD

"I'm not much of a joiner," women frequently tell me.

They always say it with a kind of vanity and arrogance, as if joining organizations were beneath them. They seem to think that this attitude makes them superior.

The women who never joins anything, who does not volunteer work, who engages in no group activities, is usually either lazy, shy or very egotistic and selfish.

Sometimes, of course, a woman's job, plus family responsibilities, makes extra-curricular activities impossible. Yet is is usually these busy women who do "join" something.

* * *

Actually, we gain a great deal by taking part in group activities.

We heighten our awareness of people and we sharpen our social skills; we enrich our personalities and we contribute our talents to a world which badly needs them.

STARTED EARLY

From the day when, aged 8, she took bags of marbles to the children at Chicago's "Home for the Friendless," Mrs. Gladys Cahn of New Orleans has been working with people.

* * *

Mrs. Cahn is president of the National Council of Jewish Women.

She has joined in such projects as the Golden Age clubs for older people, teenage clubs, nursery schools, programs for retarded children and others.

Her experience has given her a knowledge of psychology, an understanding of people, a compassion and personal philosophy which no courses, no books, no hours of earnest introspection could achieve.

* * *

Next time you decide not to join some group, not to volunteer for some organization, because "I'm not a joiner," remember this:

We live in a world of people and our happiness comes from working with them.

If you are interested in finding out what possibilities exist in volunteer work, send me a stamped, self-addressed envelope in care of The Pontiac Press, and I'll send you a pamphlet on the subject.

Hey, Teeners! This May Help With Swim Suit

Now is the season when teeners go shopping for a new bathing suit or for the second or third one that water-loving young people find necessary.

Here are some hints for deciding on a suit while in the store.

To get into the suit, grasp it at the waist and pull up. Pulling from the top or bosom portion is more difficult and may stretch the suit out of shape.

Get into the bra portion of a one-piece or the top of a two-piece the same way one gets into a regular bra—by leaning over into it and then hooking or zipping.

Strain on hip seams and the rear end should be checked by bending over again. There should be tension, but no exaggerated pull or hopping up. There should not be a diagonal pull from the back seam to the underarms that causes the bra portion to pull down, in a one-piece.

The fit of the bra and length of the suit should be assured by putting arms over the head. The top of the suit should not rise or fall.

Sit on a chair, face toward the dressing room mirror. Be sure the suit doesn't cut in around the thighs and that there is ample coverage.

Check, of course, that there are no rough interior seams that scratch or chafe.

Dinner Given for Bride-Elect Miss Flanders

Beverly Flanders, bride-elect of Michael Slivensky, was honored Wednesday at a spinster dinner at Hotel Waldron. The couple will exchange wedding vows July 7 at St. Michael Church.

* * *

Beverly is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T .R. Flanders of James K boulevard and Michael is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis P. Slivensky of West Huron street.

* * *

Attending the evening affair were Rosemary Betham, Kay Klinkhamer, Mary Foster, Mary Sutherland, Julie Steck and Jane Tuohy.

Frequent Wash of Foundations Lengthens Life

Wash foundation garments frequently and you'll not only prolong their life, you'll help reshape them each time for better fit.

* * *

Close slide fasteners, hooks and eyes when you wash. Lay the garment flat on a drainboard and go over soiled parts with a small handbrush. Never wring, but remove excess moisture by rolling lengthwise in a Turkish towel so hose supporters and metal fastenings can't cut the fabric.

Smooth in shape and dry. Dry flat on a towel or hang over clothesline. Press only the fabric or lace sections. Never allow an iron to touch the rubberized sections.

* * *

Don't dry in direct heat or sunlight since they tend to cause rubber deterioration and will shorten the life of your garment.

Keep Duster Handy

A clean dust cloth in the right place at the right time is a great time and temper saver. Use drawstring bags on the back of the closet door in every room. Keep fresh cloths in one, soiled ones in the other.

Feet Reveal Symptoms of Disease

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

There are some important facts which men and women should know about their feet. Few people realize that there are 23 diseases that show symptoms on the feet. Sometimes these foot symptoms are the first to appear.

For instance, swelling of the feet and ankles may come simply from hot weather, poorly fitted shoes, sitting on long trips or standing for long periods of time.

On the other hand, this can be evidence of diseases such as cirrhosis of the liver, heart or kidney disease, pernicious anemia, and many other serious conditions.

Lesions may come from purely local irritation but may be evidence of systemic disorders. Abnormal redness may be due to chilblains or local irritation but can come from more serious trouble.

* * *

Pain in the foot, ankle or leg may be the result of faulty posture, improper shoes, a weak arch, a fracture or a sprain, but tuberculosis and arthritis also can cause them.

MORE SERIOUS ILLS

Pains and cramps can be due to deficiencies in nutrition, weak feet and poor posture, but may result from more serious conditions.

* * *

In the case of the diabetic, foot care is of the greatest importance. Weekly inspection of the feet is a "must." Many physicians advise their patients to have their feet checked once a month by a podiatrist or chiropodist. Do not attempt to treat your own feet.

I do not want this column to frighten you, because usually the foot conditions mentioned are harmless except for discomfort. However, it is true that those who specialize in the treatment of feet sometimes see these conditions before the physician, who may not have examined the feet.

Bathe your feet daily. After this, use powder on them.

For foot health remember the following things:

When standing or walking keep your feet in a parallel line, toes pointing forward. When you turn your toes outward you place a strain on your arches. Weak feet often result from this practice. The body weight should fall more on the outside of the feet than on the inside.

* * *

The following exercise is a good one: Walk about the room with your weight on the outside borders of your feet. Lift your arches and turn your toes in, grasping the floor with your toes.

DAILY BATHING

Bathe your feet daily. After this, use powder on them. Be sure that your stockings are long enough and your shoes long and wide enough. Do not wear shoes without stockings for long at a time.

* * *

If you would like to have my exercises for the feet send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 14 to Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

* * *

MAXINE HURT

Mrs. Myrtle B. Hurt of Auburn avenue announces the engagement of her daughter, Maxine, to Jack Main, son of Mr. and Mrs. John S. Main of South Pemberton road.

Maxine is a senior at Western Michigan College, and he is a graduate of the U. of M.

Mary Jean Brown Feted

Mrs. Richard Hague of South Shaker drive entertained at a linen shower Tuesday evening honoring Mary Jean Brown.

* * *

Mary Jean, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Brown of South Tilden avvenue, is the bride-elect of Bruce Srigley. Bruce is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Srigley of Watkins Lake. They will be married Aug. 18 at Central Methodist Church.

She announced her bridal attendants at the shower. Mary Jean has asked Mrs. Byron Barnes to be her matron of honor.

Other attendants will be Mrs. William Brown Jr., Barbara Merriss and Mary Lou Lackie. Patricia Goff will be flower girl and David Brown, nephew of the bride, will be ringbearer.

* * *

Attending the bridal shower were Mrs. Brown, Mrs. Srigley, Mrs. John Maturo, Mrs. Johnnie Millmine, Mrs. John Kennedy, Mrs. Charles Hoffman, Mrs. Harry Long Mrs. Ben Bondo, Mrs. Michael DiMauro and Mrs. Tom Toteff.

Completing the list were Mrs. Bill Buettner, Mary Rose Hall, Mrs. John Bates, Miss Merriss, Mrs. William Brown Jr., Miss Lackie and Mrs. Barnes.

Economists Explain

Modern Women's Styles Are Sensible

WASHINGTON (INS)—The 47th annual American Home Economics Assn. today saw a fashion show proving that modes for modern women are stylish and sensible, pretty and practical.

The fashion show was narrated by Ruey Messenger, fashion coordinator and director of public relations for a leading Washington department store, and accompanied an informal talk on "clothes for modern day living."

The collection of fall fashions included creations by Harvey Berin, Hulitar, Nanty, award-winning Kaspar, Adele Simpson and David Crystal.

The show began with what Mrs. Messenger calls the "miracle fabrics." These included not merely the "drip and dry" fabrics like dacron, orlon and acetate and arnel jersey, but also cottons woven to look like herringbone tweed, a moth-proofed fleece and alpaca coat, a completely washable jersey coat and a cotton coat woven to look something like pale blue sponge which has been both water and weather proofed.

The daytime dresses used three silhouettes—the empire sheath, the bloused dress and the cropped jacket dress. The sheath makes a particularly handy, non-creasing dress for office wear. The bloused dress provides free-moving comfort and the jacketed ensemble dress can be converted from daytime to cocktail wear by merely removing the jacket.

ACCESSORIES SHOWN

The various suits—an easy-jacketed black and white tweed, a gray number with the belt about an inch and a half above the natural waist, and an elegant black broadcloth empire-line suit—were shown with a variety of hats, gloves, jewelry and other accessories to show how the working woman can dress up or down to suit the occasion.

There are two categories in which the laboring gal doesn't have to worry about being over-sensible, the at-home outfit and lingerie.

Color is the keynote of new undergarment styles and the home economists gaped at a parade of bright red, flamingo, turquoise, coral, green and sapphire "unmentionables."

Color was also emphasized in lounging outfits, such as a scooped neck, yellow silk blouse shown with coral silk skirt embroidered with yellow daisies. A floor-length polished cotton housecoat was given the royal treatment in bright purple.

In a discussion of textile standards, Philip M. Talbott, president of the National Retail Dry Goods Assn., H. Thomas Hallowell Jr., president of the American Standards Assn., and Albert E. Johnson, director of trade relations of the National Institute of Dry Cleaning, all agreed that the consumer should consider textile standards along with price and style when shopping.

Other home economist morning groups discussed art, family economics-home management and afternoon sessions delved into family relations and child development, food and nutrition, social welfare and public health, and housing and household equipment.

Banquet Attended by Mothersingers

The Pontiac Mothersingers held their annual banquet at Hi-land Manor Tuesday evening. Mrs. Milton Reddeman of Oxbow Lake then opened her home for a social gathering.

Plans were made for a July 10 picnic at the Reddeman home. Mrs. Sidney Fellows and Mrs. Norman Davison will assist the hostess.

Annual Picnic Held by First Philathea

Mrs. Ralph Fosdick opened her home on Locklin drive Tuesday for the annual picnic of the First Philathea Class of the First Baptist Church.

Following the picnic luncheon, the 40 members and guests present enjoy a social afternoon.

Shower Honors Grace Campbell

Mrs. William Thomas opened her home in Utica Tuesday evening for a personal showering honoring Grace Campbell, bride-elect of Richard Noble.

* * *

Grace is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Campbell of Preston avenue and Richard is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Noble of Centerline.

The couple will speak their vows Saturday at St. Benedict Church.

Guests attending the shower were Mrs. Campbell, Mrs. Noble, Annette Campbell, Evelyn Campbell, Mrs. Charles Diss and Joyce Eiter.

Mrs. Stanley Fisher, Mrs. Leonard Hylla, Kay Klinkhamer, Mrs. Thomas Larrison, Julie Steck and Mary Sutherland also attended.

Blue Star Mothers Meet Tuesday

Donations to two veterans families were made by the Blue Star Mothers Chapter Four at their Tuesday meeting held at the YMCA.

A donation was also made to the Dearborn Veterans Hospital for their July 14 Carnival. Other donations were to the chaplain's emergency fund and towards a fund for a Korean orphan girl the group has adopted. Mrs. Lettie Hancock gave a report on the sale of daisies on Daisy Day.

* * *

Completing the guest list are Mrs. William Chettleburgh, Mrs. George Hall and Mrs. Harley Miller of Walled Lake, Mrs. Hagans, Mrs. Daniel Hickman of Ypsilanti and Mrs. Arthur Placeway and Kay Ann Placeway of Lapeer.

Pretty Wrapping Increases Fun During Shower

A bridal shower can be fun—even if you're the hostess.

Colorful gifts are part of the gaiety of the proceedings. Use plenty of ribbon, and make it frilly.

* * *

Gift papers for these occasions are among the most attractive for any event or season. One new design, for instance, features a reproduction of a stained glass cathedral window, while another shows the music for traditional wedding marches against a floral background.

Still others take their inspiration from lilies of the valley, orange blossoms, wedding cakes, church bells and other symbols of matrimony.

* * *

Gift papers can be used in other ways than just for packaging presents. Attractive place mats for the luncheon table can be cut quickly from shower gift wrapping. Book matches and favors can be made festive by covering them in gift paper.

Useful, Beautiful Silver Will Thrill Brides

When you spot a wedding invitation in the morning's mail, you can be fairly certain you will have about three weeks' time in which to make up your mind on a gift for the bride.

* * *

Some of us, however, are prone to put off the shopping for a while, and then worry at the last minute over what to buy. The Jewelry Industry Council, all for making it a pleasure instead of a chore, sends along some wedding gift shopping ideas which are sure to be helpful.

First of all, they remind us that brides frequently register their gift choices with the jeweler. Thus a gift of silver, china china crystal in her favorite patterns can be ordered immediately, over the telephone if necessary.

If the bride has not designated any particular choices, your jeweler is ready with a score of good suggestions representing a wide price range, and it is likely that he will also have a list of presents already selected from his shelves for the bride.

One of the most thoughtful of all gifts is, of course, an addition to her sterling silver flatware pattern.

If you are checking with her family as to the name and manufacturer of the silver she has chosen, be sure to find out if she prefers hollow-handle or regular knives, and whether or not she is collecting luncheon or dinner-size knives and forks. Some silver patterns are available with these variations.

COMPLETE SETTING

A complete place setting customarily includes a fork, knife, salad fork, butter knife, teaspoon and soup spoon and, as a unit, makes an ideal gift.

For less money but with no sacrifice to the thoughtfulness you want your gift to express, you can buy individual pieces or serving pieces such as the cold meat fork, gravy ladle or serving spoons.

There is also the continuation setting unit which contains four pieces: Iced beverage spoon, cocktail fork, dessert spoon and demitasse spoon.

The jeweler's silver holloware department, which includes handsome pieces in both sterling silver and silver plate, is a bride's wonderland, filled with gifts that are as useful in an everyday way as they are exquisitely beautiful in design and pattern.

* * *

Here, too, the shopper has a pleasing price range from which to choose. There are candlesticks, coasters, pitchers, vegetable dishes salts and peppers, bowls, gravey boats, vases and any number of practical, lovely pieces she will be thrilled to own and use for many, many years to come.

The right buy for the sheath dress is the slip (or half-slip) with sheath lines. The slip that's even faintly frou-frou is all wrong for the slim sheath.

The three-dimensional effect is used by Pauline Trigere on the diagonal in this herringbone weave. Black and white are accentuated by an attached stole of sheer white organdy. The middy top buttons in the back.

The hottest thing this summer won't be the weather...

...it'll be sales! It looks like we're moving into the biggest sales Summer in history!

Predictions are that people this Summer will spend far above the 43 billion retail dollars they laid out so freely last Summer.

Some Selling Season! Do you know that people buy more in Summer months than most other months of the year? No wonder, since, as surveys show, more than 90% of the people are at home on an average day during the Summer! Only a few are away on vacations at any one time. And those who are away may be replaced by visitors from other areas.

Don't Miss These Sales! Somebody's going to get the business ... why not you? Whatever you sell, make sure you plan to promote your product or service all Summer long. Not to a few of your customers – but to everybody in the area who can possibly buy! That, of course, means in newspapers.

No Summer Replacement for the newspaper! People keep on reading the newspaper all Summer long – for news, for amusement, for the advertising.

Across the nation they go on buying 54 million or more copies of their newspapers daily through June, July and August.

The surest way to reach the most customers, most often, most effectively, is in the newspaper. If you haven't already planned a steady series of Summer selling ads – call us today!

All business is local . . . and so are all newspapers!

Action Seen Against European GI's

HEIDELBERG, Germany (AP) — America's top representatives in Germany have promised speedy action to reduce friction between U.S. serviceman and German residents.

West German officials have charged that troublemaking by Allied troops has increased rapidly this year. Allied officials denied such an increase, but said steps are being taken to assure proper conduct by troops stationed in Germany.

Gen. H. I. Hodes, U.S. Army commander in chief in Europe, issued a statement saying "prompt and effective corrective action" is being taken wherever necessary.

"Commanders thoroughly understand that misbehavior on the part of troops and particularly criminal acts are not tolerated in the American Army," Hodes said, "and that such conduct is as abhorrent to Americans as it is to our German neighbors.

"The Army is not a haven for bad actors or criminals, nor does it afford these offenders the protection of anonymity. Commanders are pursuing vigorously their investigations into these situations and are taking prompt remedial action."

Hodes' statement was forwarded to West German Foreign Minister Heinrich von Brentano by U.S. Ambassador James B. Conant.

In an accompanying letter, Conant said he was confident military authorities "are taking every appropriate measure to ensure that good relations continue now and in the future."

Wilhelm Hoegner, president minister of Bavaria, alleged recently that incidents of violence, particularly rape, involving U.S. troops in the first half of 1956 have already equaled the total for last year.

Other German officials have charged there have been increases in robberies and assaults.

Hodes said "statistics do not sustain charges that these alleged crimes and misdemeanors have increased"

Yet Some Still Dissent

Congregational Christians 'Happy' in Church Union

OMAHA, Neb. (AP) — A long, memorable journey was over today for Congregational Christians, and a new one begun—in company with other Christians.

• • •

For the last scheduled time as a separate denomination, the church representatives had assembled for their regular biennial General Council meeting.

As delegates headed home today, the future of their church was wrapped up with another institution of the faith—the Evangelical and Reformed Church.

About the last word of the week-long council meeting, before it adjourned yesterday, was a message telling the new denominational partners that "we rejoice" that the long-sought union "has now been accomplished."

• • •

The message, referring to the years of contention and adjustments before Congregational Christians gave final approval to the plan, added:

"We are humbled by the remembrance of your patience. . . .

"We are heartened . . . that the delay has not diminished your willingness to accept us as equals in the bond we have covenanted together. . . .

• • •

"In achieving the first significant 'break-through' penetrating the barriers between different families of churches in the United States, we do not disown our traditions nor carry our inherited riches in a slack grasp. . . .

"We believe that as the united church of Christ is made truly His church, it will not only gather in one communion all the people of our two fellowships but will summon to its ampler life others who, like us, bless the name that is above every name."

• • •

The message was presented by Dr. Truman Douglass, head of the church's Home Missions Board, and adopted by the council.

The Congregational Christians, with 1,350,000, and the E. and R. Church, with 775,000, are to hold their founding synod of the United Church of Christ in June 1957.

Excavators in a cave near Tivoli, Italy, found six pieces of Stone Age carving believed to be among the oldest art objects ever found in that area.

Let's face it. Spike Briggs goofed when he hired Bucky Harris to manage the Detroit Tigers.

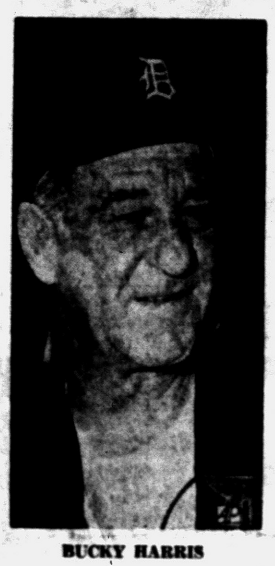
Now Briggs is jumping from one side of the fence to the other trying to absolve his own doing by throwing the blame at everyone from Herold (Muddy) Ruel down to coach Bill Hitchcock.

As general manager, Ruel may rightly deserve to take much of the lashing that goes with a losing ball club. The Tigers were needing players at several positions. It was up to Ruel to ease the weaknesses and he failed.

The fact that Ruel failed to get additional strength doesn't mean that the present roster is a 6th or 8th place squad.

★ ★ ★

This is where Bucky Harris came in. Did Briggs actually believe that Bucky could guide the Tigers up a notch or two over the 5th place finish of last year? Or was it just wishful thinking?



BUCKY HARRIS

A manager with a little spunk and fire might have helped the Tigers, unless of course it was another manager like Harris who himself doesn't, or never did, believe this team is good enough for the first division.

Sure it is easy to criticize a manager especially when things go wrong, but the bottom hasn't just started to fall out. It has been a bottomless pit for over five years.

There was nothing impressive in Harris' background to warrant his hiring. For over 25 years he has jumped or been shoved around the Majors with less than a mediocre record to show for it.

Maybe it was the thinking of Briggs and company that the old guy has what it takes to handle a team of youngsters. This should have been quickly dispelled when Harris started his "youth movement" association by bringing in Masterson, Kennedy and rocking chair company.

He may know as much as there is to know about the game but his record for winning doesn't stand behind him.

As a strategist, one of his so-called assets, Harris has shown little.

Since the start of spring training he has constantly moaned about the lack of bench strength, yet in direct disagreement with this thought he has ridiculously tried to adhere to his "platooning" system.

The obvious example is Charley Maxwell's case. Here is the second best hitter in the American League, maintaining his average with hits against pitchers from both sides. Yet let an opposing team start a left-handed pitcher and Maxwell will find himself benched.

USING A ONE-MAN PLATOON SYSTEM

By this deduction, Kaline, Tuttle, Boone and others should be benched when an opposite side pitcher takes the mound.

It seems rather inconsistent to employ a "one-man" platoon setup — for Maxwell alone.

One such argument is definitely no reason to fire a manager. Harris may be a nice guy. He is not expected to be a miracle man. He might not be a fireball and does not carry a whip, but that might be just what's wrong.

★ ★ ★

There's no doubt, he is managing the Tigers in 1956 just as he has managed other big league teams for 28 years and again that might be what's wrong.

One day Briggs is rapping him, the next day giving him a "left-handed" vote of confidence. The players themselves are throwing "confidence" votes into his corner, which is a natural thing.

No one should expect Kuenn to say "we don't want him, get rid of him."

No one is hanging Harris. They offered him a job and he took it. But now Briggs should admit his mistake, and Bucky should accept it as such.

Gordon Quits Tigers After Feud With Briggs

DETROIT (AP)—Walter O. (Spike) Briggs Jr., a millionaire's son who is trying to peddle the baseball club he inherited, found himself in the middle of a raging controversy today after his scathing attacks on Detroit Tiger players, their managers and coaches.

* * *

Former New York Yankee great, Joe Gordon, resigned today as Tiger coach after a feud with Briggs.

Gordon, who spent 11 seasons as a Major League player, was in his first year as Detroit coach after serving several seasons as supervisor of Tiger Scouts on the West Coast.

It is the first actual split in the organization since Briggs began publicly criticizing nearly everyone connected with the ball club about a week ago.

"It seems the president is dissatisfied with about everyone concerned with the ball club," Gordon said. Gordon said he would return to his home in Sacramento, Calif., but he would like to stay in baseball.

The club lost to Washington yesterday, 3-1, and now has gone 11 games without a victory.

A solid choice for fifth place in the pre-season polls, the Tigers are in sixth and only 2½ games ahead of the seventh-place Senators.

* * *

Briggs' blasts started several days ago, and first it was Manager Bucky Harris who was blamed for the club's worst slump since 1953. The 44-year-old president also had comments about the players, saying they were not hustling.

Then he took off with his wife for a brief vacation in Florida, causing one high Tiger official to comment, "That was the best hit-and-run play of the season. First he hit us, then he ran."

Harris, now in his 29th season as a big league manager and his second tour with the Tigers, had no comment on Briggs' criticism.

The players were more concerned with finding a way to win.

* * *

Yesterday, after announcing he was "fed up" and thinking about making some personnel changes, Briggs took off on General Manager Herold (Muddy) Ruel and the coaches. Ruel said nothing, but the coaches broke the silence. They spoke out against Briggs' method of handling the situation and added they thought he should have the "courage to give us our criticism first-hand rather than to let us read about it in the papers."

Said one coach:

"If he wants to fire us, why doesn't he call us into his office and get it over with? The way he's carrying on in the papers, blasting everyone and his brother, doen't help anything, especially the players."

Another said, "The guy has been rapping everyone but I don't see where he's done anything to help. He makes all the decisions but never accepts any of the blame."

Briggs said Ruel "hasn't done a thing since he's been general manager (in late 1953)." Third base coach Hitchcock, he said, has been "blowing calls all season and Gordon hasn't been much better." Gordon was the first base coach.

Asked of his plans after resigning, Gordon said:

"There's a thought in my mind—as is probably the case with a lot of other fellows—about my future in baseball."

* * *

It was understood that Gordon talked with Ruel last night and planned to consult with Harris before the team departed for Kansas City for a night game tonight.

* * *

Briggs became the Tiger president in 1952 after he and his sisters inherited the club from their late father. Lawyers advised the Briggs family that the club should be sold to comply with a trust fund agreement set up by the elder Briggs.

Bidding will open next week on the Detroit Baseball Co. More than a half dozen groups have put up $250,000 to show "good faith" and to take a look at the company's books.

Open's Lineup Doesn't Include Chuck Kocsis

Never Filed an Entry for Indianwood Test, PGA Officials Rule

By H. GUY MOATS

"Chuck Koscis never had filed an entry for the current Michigan Open Championship at Indianwood. Therefore the PGA committee has ruled that it would not let down the bars today to permit his playing."

* * *

Speaking for the state's Professional Golfers' Association tourney committee, PGA prexy Warren Orlick made it clear this morning there would be no additions to the published list of starters for the event that gets under way Friday at the Lake Orion layout.

Kocsis, a 6-time Open champion, sought to become an added starter. He accepted the committee's ruling with the comment "If it's too late, why that's it, I guess." Kocsis first won the state title in 1930, was champion also for two years in a row in 1945-46.

* * *

"While Kocsis, as a former champion, would have been exempt from qualifying, he would have had to file his intentions of playing, same as everybody else," Orlick said today. "I talked with Lou Powers (PGA secretary), Don Soper, (tourney official) and Frank Metzger, (co-chairman with Orlick), and we were in agreement on the matter. There's nothing we can do about it, in all fairness to club sponsor and the players themselves," he added.

PICKOFF FAILS — Red Wilson, Tiger catcher is safe at first base after Washington pitcher Bob Wiesler tried to pick him off the bag. Senator first baseman Roy Sievers dropped the ball on the play in the 3rd inning. Washington handed the Tigers their 10th straight defeat, 3-1.

Tigers Lose 10th Straight, 3-1

Same Story, Different Score

DETROIT (AP)—There's no place like home—at least, the Detroit Tigers hope there isn't.

Now they have gone 11 games without a victory following yesterday's 3-1 defeat by the lowly Washington Senators.

The Tigers left Briggs Stadium, where they have been victorious in just nine of 32 contests, for Kansas City. There, Detroit, has won all three games played this season against the Athletics.

Starting tonight, the Tigers and the A's will meet in three night games and a Sunday contest before the Bengals return home Monday against Chicago. In the opener, it will be left up to 37-year-old Virgil Trucks, who will be after his third win against two setbacks.

* * *

Charlie Maxwell's 13th home run was yesterday's only bright spot after another barrage of criticism from president Spike Briggs and this time an angry retort from his coaches.

Briggs' latest in a series of blasts was directed at Tiger coaches Billy Hitchcock, Jack Tighe and Joe Gordon, and general manager Muddy Ruel The president said Hitchcock, the third base coach, and Gordon, who coaches at first, have made bad calls all season.

His criticism of Tighe wasn't quite clear, but that against Ruel was emphatic.

Washington's Bob Wiesler, who has been bothered by wildness throughout his major league career, victimized the Tigers yesterday, allowing just five hits and walking only two.

Frank Lary, the losing pitcher for the 9th time against four victories, gave up just two runs. Reliefer Duke Maas permitted a 9th-inning home run by Pete Runnels.

The Senators scored on three singles in the 4th, and on a double, hit batsman, a walk and an error by Jim Brideweser on a double play ball in the eighth.

Al Kaline, Detroit rightfielder, was hitless in four trips. The strong-armed 21-year-old had only nine base hits in 48 times at bat during the home stand for a meager .187 average. His overall average is .274, compared with a .340 mark last season.

Maxwell's homer, a base-empty smash in the 9th, dropped into the upper deck in right field.

Navy After 2nd Straight Title in Olympic Trials

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP)—The Navy Admirals began their comeback bid for a second straight Olympic eight-oar title today in the U.S. rowing trials — and they determined to go it together or not at all.

* * *

Bill Fields of Forsythe, Ga., took his place at the No. 2 oar with his broken left wrist encased in a steel and leather cast. Wayne Frye of Maysville, Ky., had his familiar No. 7 spot although pained by an inflamed appendix and weakened by pills.

"This crew is psychologically better with these boys in there," said Coach Russell (Rusty) Callow. "They wouldn't stand for any changes. So we're going with the original crew."

* * *

The experiment of the Admirals, who were reassembled from outposts throughout the world to try to repeat the Olympic victory they scored in 1952 as Annapolis undergraduates, highlighted preliminary heats in the Olympic trials on Lake Onondaga.

All together, a total of 242 oarsmen and coxswains representing 71 entries, strive this weekend for the 26 regular berths and four reserves available on the squad which will compete at Ballarat, on the outskirts of Melbourne, starting Nov. 23.

* * *

The admirals race in the first heat at 5 p.m. (EST) against Cornell, the national college champions; the feared University of Washington and Stanford.

Loses to SMU Golfer

Syron Ousted in NCAA

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The 59th National Intercollegiate Golf Championship went into the marathon stage today.

SYRON

Two rounds of 18-hole matches were due to cut the field to eight by nightfall. And, by day's end, either medalist Rex Baxter Jr., of Houston, or defending champion Joe Campbell of Purdue — perhaps both — will be sidelined.

If the two stalwarts survive the morning round, they'll tangle in the afternoon. Baxter, who smothered the field by six strokes in the qualifier, has the big problem as he goes against Tom Beard of LSU, who fired a 71—with four threes on the last six holes—to oust Texas Tech's Classy John Cain yesterday.

Pontiac's Lloyd Syron, a junior at Notre Dame, was eliminated 3 and 2 by Jerry Pittman of SMU.

Only one survivor remained from Michigan. Ken Rodewald of MSU won the 18th to get even and then the 19th to win from Billy Shelton of Florida State.

* * *

Fellow Spartan Bob Nodus was eliminated by Don Granger of Purdue, 5 and 3, and Fred Micklow of Michigan bowed to Don Sechrest of Oklahoma 2 and 1.

Most of the favorites came through the first round over Ohio State's 7,120-yard par 72 course, but there were only two one-sided matches. Three went extra holes, six ended on the 18th, 10 on the 17th and 7 on the 16th, so tenacious were the losers.

Campbell, who was two under par in defeating Ernie George of San Jose in the first round, faced Don Sechrest, one of four survivors from Oklahoma A&M, this morning.

Seven U. S. Netters Survive Men's Singles

LONDON (INS) — Sixth-seeded Ham Richardson and 8th-seeded Vic Seixas led a contingent of seven U. S. survivors into the third round of men's singles tennis competition at Wimbledon today.

* * *

Richardson, of Westfield, N. J., met Torren Ulrich of Denmark, and Seixas, the 1953 champion from Philadelphia, faced another American, Herb Flam of Beverly Hills, Calif.

* * *

Defending champion Louise Brough of Beverly Hills, Calif., gunning for her 5th Wimbledon crown, met Britain's J. M. Middleton in the top women's third-rounder.

* * *

Ten Americans, eight men and two women, failed to get by the second round yesterday and the most surprised victims were 4th-seeded Budge Patty of Los Angeles, third-ranked Sven Davidson of Sweden and Mrs. Dorothy Head Knode of Forest Hills, N. Y., who was seventh-seeded among the women.

* * *

Richardson first completed a 6-4, 9-7, 11-13, 8-6 victory over Jack Arkinstall of Australia in a match that had been interrupted by darkness on Monday and then raced through Gordon Mudge of Great Britain with the loss of only two games, 6-1, 6-1, 6-0.

* * *

The five other Americans to advance were Art Larsen of San Leandro, Calif., Bob Perry and John Fleitz of Los Angeles, Flam and J. Allen Morris of Atlanta.

* * *

Larsen trounced Hugh Stewart of San Marino, Calif., 6-3, 6-2, 6-0; Perry upset Gil Shea of Los Angeles, 6-4, 7-5, 6-4; Flam beat Tony Vincent of Miami, 6-3, 5-7, 6-3, 6-1; Fleitz defeated Dennis Hughes of England, 6-2, 6-4, 6-4, and Morris stopped Bruce Gulley of Australia, 6-2, 6-3, 6-3.

Four others eliminated were Sam Giammalva of Houston, Pablo Eisenberg of Milburn, N. J., Barry Mackay, University of Michigan player from Dayton, and Joe Blatchford of Los Angeles.

Detroit-Ottawa Huddle

Tracy's Future Unsettled

TORONTO (AP) — A four-hour meeting failed last night to settle the future of fullback Tom Tracy, of Birmingham, Mich., who wants to avoid a contract with Ottawa Rough Riders of the Big Four football union and join Detroit Lions.

Sam Berger, Rough Rider president, and coach Frank Clair met here with Detroit Lions' general manager Nick Kerbawy.

"We had a very amicable session," Berger said, "but nothing was settled. We'll report back to our respective directors and finish the negotiations by letter or telephone.

"What we have accomplished may have far-reaching effect, not only between Detroit and ourselves over the Tracy case, but maybe something far beyond that. We hope to elaborate further on this next week."

Tracy, who was signed by Ottawa and played in the Big Four last season, wants to play with Detroit for the 1956 National Football League season.

Ottawa is willing to let Tracy go to Lions, but the Riders want a suitable player in return. Numerous names were mentioned at last night's meeting but nothing definite in the trading line was accomplished.

U.S. Jaycees Criticize AAU

KANSAS CITY (INS)—The U. S. Junior Chamber of Commerce has passed a resolution at its National Convention in Kansas City criticizing the Amateur Athletic Union for being "inconsistent in the enforcement" of its standards.

Delegates attending the 36th annual convention urged yesterday that the AAU "revise its regulations" to meet changed conditions of today's competition, but did not mention specific application of their criticism.

NFL to Begin September 30

PHILADELPHIA (INS) — The National Football League's 72-game schedule will open this year on Sunday, Sept. 30, with the Cleveland Browns opening the defense of their world championship against the Cardinals in Chicago.

The other five opening games will send the Chicago Bears to Baltimore, Detroit to Green Bay, New York to San Francisco, Philadelphia to Los Angeles and Washington to Pittsburgh.

NFL commissioner Bert Bell also announced that this season's title game is scheduled for Dec. 30 in the home city of the Eastern Conference champion.

Ladies Finish Tourney Play at Highland

The Highland Ladies Golf League concluded its summer tournament Wednesday at the Highland Golf and Country Club, then wound up the day's activities by holding an "estimated score" event. Mrs. Myron McGlynn was the hostess. Mrs. Rolland McKenzie swept honors by winning both of yesterday's events.

Tournament results:

Boys' Club Nine in Legion Lead

A 6th-inning, 6-run uprising yesterday put the Pontiac Boys' Club Junior American Legion nine on top the County League standings, with a 8-4 victory over the Waterford club.

* * *

Boys' Club standing is 4-1, half a game ahead of Berkley, with a 3-0 record.

* * *

Pontiac's Cook-Nelson representative was trailing 4-0 going into the 6th frame. They put together five hits, two walks and a Waterford error to collect the half dozen tallies. Rog Rogers, hitting for Tom Conly, cleaned the bases with a lusty triple for the big blow of the inning.

* * *

Pontiac added two more runs in the final frame on an error and Jim Skinner's triple. Victory was Jerry Orr's 3rd, a 4-hit effort.

Lou Boudreau is in his 14th year as a major league manager.

Louie's Rally Nips Franklin

Lunsford, Royal Bar, Auto Parts Also Win in Softball Play

Louie's Tavern rallied to defeat Franklin Products and Lunsford Market, Royal Bar and the North Side Auto Parts girls were winners in Wednesday night's City Softball League play at Beaudette and North Side parks.

Louie's chased three runs across the plate in the 6th inning to dump Franklin, 4-2. Consecutive doubles by Bill Schroder, pitcher Wilbur Wright and Jack Avery tallied the decisive runs for the Tavern club.

Elmer Swansey blasted a three-run homer in the 6th stanza as Lunsford Market trounced Drive-In Cleaners, 10-5, in the Beaudette curtain-raiser.

Cal Atwood pitched a five-hit shutout to lead Royal Bar's 2-0 conquest of Stadium Inn at North Side. A walk, Walt Allison's single and two errors pinned defeat on Atwood's mound opponent, Ed McManus, who gave up only three safeties.

Effie Seay slammed a solo home run in the 6th inning at North Side Auto Parts walloped the Gingellville girls, 17-2, in the opener at North Side.

Record Holders Jam Meet for Olympic Team Trials

LOS ANGELES (AP)—An amazing collection of track and field athletes compete in the Coliseum here tomorrow and Saturday for places on the U.S. Olympic team, and in no less than 13 of the 17 events, competitors have bettered or equalled the Olympic records.

* * *

In some instances, the competition here could be even tougher than at the games at Melbourne, Australia, in the fall. Take the pole vault. The Olympic record is 14 feet 11½ inches set by The Rev. Bob Richards in 1952. Four vaulters in the trials, including Richards, have cleared 15 feet this year. The others are Don Bragg of Villanova, Bob Gutowski of Occidental and Ron Morris of Southern California. Only three can make the team.

* * *

Even stiffer competition comes in the 800-meter run and the 110-meter high hurdles. In both, competitors who might beat the best of all the other nations might not be fast enough to make Uncle Sam's team.

Coach Jim Kelly of the U. S. track and field team cautions against rating the nation's athletes too high because those of other countries have also improved.

* * *

In the 100-meter dash, both Ira Murchison of the Army and Bobby Morrow of Abilene Christian have best times of 10.2, equalling the world mark. Thane Baker of the Air Force and Willie Williams of the Army both have run 10.3, the Olympic record.

* * *

Baker, Morrow, Andy Stanfield and J. W. Mashburn all have 20.6 in the 200 meters compared to the Olympic mark of 20.7. Stanfield, the defending champion in the event, shares the record with Jesse Owens who set it originally in 1936.

* * *

In addition, the entry list here includes Jim Lea, who smashed the world 440-yard record with a 45.8 and Tom Courtney who has the same time for 400 meters. The metric distance is about 3 yards short of the quarter mile.

Funds Swelled for Michigan Wildlife Needs

LANSING (AP) — Michigan will have a total of $714,000 in federal funds during 1956-57 for wildlife restoration projects under the Pittman-Robertson act.

The State Conservation Department said Wednesday an earlier regular allocation of $580,525 has been swelled by an additional Federal grant of $133,474.

The National Baseball League is in its 81st year.

I'LL BOP YOU — Cleveland catcher Earl Averill looks like he is ready to bop Tito Francona of Baltimore with the ball. Actually Averill tagged the Oriole centerfielder trying to steal home and then held up the ball in preparation to make a throw to second to stop double steal. Umpire Ed Hurley calls the play while Oriole catcher Tom Gastall watches.

Doctoring Your Golf Game

By DR. CARY MIDDLECOFF

DIAGNOSIS: Changing swing arc.

TREATMENT: Putting is much like a woman. It's got to be wooed. It demands patience, know-how, and a lot of try. Good putters aren't born. They're developed, through hard practice.

It's a game in itself, this putting, and it's a tricky business that calls for finesse. There are greens surface undulations to consider, and the texture of the grass changes almost from day to day, so that you've got to have a sound stroke and a keen perception of distance and touch to get the ball into the hole consistently.

These are important putting points: A steady head. No movement whatever. Flex the knees for relaxation. Stand well over the ball, as sketch shows, to better get a line from ball to cup. Have the back of the left hand facing the hole. Swing clubhead straight back from ball, using no wrist break on putts within six feet. In this way you'll keep the putter blade in line.

VFW Romps, 17-1 in Softball Tilt

The VFW collected nine hits and utilized 17 bases on balls by three pitchers to chalk up a runaway 17-1 victory over White Brothers in a Waterford League softball game Wednesday night at Drayton Plains.

Action was stopped in the bottom of the 6th inning with one man out because of a league ruling which prevents further play after a lead of 15 runs has been attained.

Robinson and Goff each made two safeties and Wayne O'Shaughnessy scored four runs for the VFW. White Brothers garnered only one hit off Jerry Thomas, a 3rd-inning single by Tipton.

Howell Wins Feature Race at Speedway

Pontiac's Benny Howell rolled to victory in the feature race and added another triumph in the pursuit to highlight Wednesday night's old model and modified hardtop show at the Pontiac Speedway.

In addition to his hardtop wins in the feature and pursuit, Howell recorded the top qualifying time. Don Delduca won the four-car dash while Jim Nelson and Ray Fraley took heat victories. Nelson and Joe Doyle followed Howell across the finish line in the feature.

Don Irish captured the old model feature, with Bill Tisdale taking 2nd and Dale Priest 3rd. Priest won the pursuit, posted the best time in the preliminary trials, came home 1st in the four-car dash and took the 2nd heat race. Dick Hadley was the winner in the 1st heat.

* * *

Over 50 cars qualified for the program and three drivers had accidents. Ross Hiechel of Pontiac crashed the retainer wall in his hardtop, Claud Zanoni also rammed the retainer wall during the modified feature to cut it short after 16 laps, and Larry Fernald was involved in a collision with five other cars. Only Fernald was injured and taken to the hospital for treatment.

Modified hardtops will run again Sunday night on the M59 track. Time trials get under way at 7 p.m., with the 1st race at 8:30.

Chisox 9-Game Streak Ends

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

It isn't how long a winning streak you can put together that counts in the two major league pennant races this season — it's how fast you can bounce back from defeat that tells the story.

Take that madcap National League scramble. Milwaukee's Braves had run up 11 straight successes before being jolted by Philadelphia. Then the Phils laid the wood to 'em again last night, 4-3 in 11 innings, and for all their hustle the Braves have no more than a half-game hold on first place.

* * *

Cincinnati lies just 12 percentage points back after routing Pittsburgh 10-2. And if the Redlegs, who have won five of their last six games, can do it again tonight while the Braves are idle, they'll grab back the NL lead.

Brooklyn's Dodgers closed to within 1½ games of Milwaukee by beating Chicago 6-2. That gave the Brooks a sweep of the three-game set with the Cubs after a doubleheader loss to Cincinnati Sunday.

* * *

In the other NL game, St. Louis walloped New York 6-0 with three home runs and Tom Poholsky's five-hitter.

In the American League, the New York Yankees whipped Kansas City and strengthened their lead to 2½ games as the Chicago White Sox were beaten 11-9 by Boston after winning nine in a row. The White Sox, who swept four from the Yanks for New York's only losses on the just-ended Western trip, picked up only three games for all their huffin' and puffin'.

Cleveland's Indians made it eight straight victories since the Yankees left town by overcoming an eight-run Baltimore lead to bop the Orioles 12-11 in 11 innings. And Detroit's Tigers staggered through their 11th start without victory, losing to Washington 3-1.

A sacrifice fly by Billy Martin, following a triple by Tom Sturdivant who won his fifth, broke a 2-1ll tie for the Yanks in the fifth inning. Hank Bauer put it away with his 16th homer in the eighth off loser Art Ditmar. Mickey Mantle, still 11 games ahead of Babe Ruth's record 60 pace of home runs although he hasn't clubbed one in a week, singled ahead of Bauer's homer for his only hit in three trips. He was 1-for-2 vs. the shift.

The Yankees, who won 9 of 13 on the road trip, drew a whomping 385,545 for the 13 games.

Boston blew a 7-0 lead, then came on with three in the eighth for the White Sox' second defeat in a 14-game home stand.

* * *

Ted Williams was 4-for-5 while Jimmy Piersall and Billy Klaus each had three RBI's for the Red Sox. Dave Philley drove in four for the Chisox, who used seven pitchers. Millard Howell lost it. Ike DeLock won it, in relief.

* * *

The Indians finally topped the Orioles on Chico Carrasquel's fifth hit, single that scored Al Rosen. That pair had nine of Cleveland's 17 hits. Don Mossi won it while Hec Brown lost his first for a 4-1 mark.

Union Lake Routed, 20-5

Rogers Electric routed Union Lake, 20-5, in a Waterford Township Little League softball game last night at the Williams Lake ball park. Mike Kaines made three hits for the winners and Bob Diamond homered for Union Lake.

Lake Orion Man Assumes Lead in Fish 'Derby'

When Harvey Boatright, 2850 Lakeside Dr., Lake Orion, landed a 1-pound 1-ounce bluegill the other day, he didn't think too much of it. But his wife did, and so the husky 'gill today was the current leader of the bluegill division in the Pontiac Press "big fish derby."

Boatright's fish was 11¼ inches long, 6 inches deep. It was taken from a lake near the Boatright residence. The lucky angler (he's in the race for a $50 U.S. savings bond), took his fish on a white popper bug, using a flyrod.

The new leader pushed a 1-pounder, entered by Dan Finkle, 9 years old, out of the race.

'Crow' Count Shows Pheasant Broods Up

LANSING (AP) — Early season counts indicate the state's pheasant brood population is up from last spring.

However, the state conservation department said Wednesday the late spring this year may reduce the total production of young birds.

Department "crowing counts" show the highest number of cock pheasants surveyed during the seven years the counts have been made.

Counts are made on 780 miles of highway routes in 30 southern Lower Peninsula counties.

Field workers travel 20-mile-long road strips on still, early mornings during mating season, counting the number of pheasant calls audible at mile intervals.

One Stroke Off

Sally Just Misses Title

Ann Arbor's Susie (Keith) LeClair scraped into the WDGA medalplay championship yesterday afternoon at Knollwood, by a single stroke. She edged Birmingham's young star, Sally Sharp, 256 to 257 for the 54-hole test.

Sally came along strong in yesterday's final round, carding 87 to Mrs. LeClair's 89, but Susie had 84-82 to add to it, while Sally's previous rounds were 87-83. Betty Courtright Wilson, also of Ann Arbor, who was even with Mrs. LeClair for the 1st two rounds, slipped to a tie for 4th at 259, with Helen Grinnell of Detroit.

Mrs. John LaBoskey pulled into 3rd spot in the final round with an 88 that gave her a 258 total.

This was Mrs. LeClair's 2nd straight district title.

Daugherty Will Hold Grid Clinics Abroad

EAST LANSING (AP) — Duffy Daugherty, Michigan State University head football coach, was to leave today on an overseas air hop and a month's stay in Germany.

Daugherty is going to Germany to set up a series of football clinics for U.S. Army personnel.

Joining him in about a week for the start of daily clinic sessions will be four of his coaching assistants, Lou Agase, Bob Devaney, Burt Smith and Everett Grandelius.

Membership Meeting

General membership meeting for the Lake Orion Gun Club takes place at 7:30 o'clock tonight at the Park Island indoor range. Final plans will be made for the coming holiday Turkey shoot, July 4.

BALANCING ACT — Austria's Albert Huber, who is well known for his court clowning, isn't fooling this time as he goes down horizontally against Budge Patty of Los Angeles in the men's singles play at Wimbledon, England. Patty beat Huber, 6-2, 6-4 and 9-7.

U. S. Girls Remain in Meet but Bermudas Not Allowed

SUNNINGDALE, England (AP) — Four American girls swung into the quarter-finals of the British Women's Amateur golf champion ship today—with not a single pair of dimpled knees in sight.

* * *

The glamor girls whose shorts caused raised eyebrows among the elderly dowagers, a standard feature of women's golf over here, were not among the quartet of Americans still in the running for the championship. The skirt-wearing Americans in the round of eight were Margaret (Wiffi) Smith of St. Clair, Mich., Polly Riley of Fort Worth, Mary Ann Downey of Baltimore and Mary Patton Janssen of Charlottesville, Va.

* * *

The shorts, and dimpled knees displayed by blonde Barbara Romack of Sacramento, Calif., and Jane Nelson of Indianapolis were certainly approved by the majority of the crowd. But there was an undertone on the clubhouse porch of "Well, it may be modern, my dear, but not at Sunningdale. . . ."

* * *

It was not that the shorts were too short, as shorts go. They were knee-length Bermudas, with sober white woolen stockings. Actually, they were not as daring as the girl scout length dresses and non-existent necklines worn by these same dowagers in the 1920's.

* * *

To get back to golf, at least one of the Americans was sure to be eliminated today, for Miss Riley was paired against Miss Downey. Miss Smith met Pat O'Sullivan of Ireland and Miss Janssen, surprise of the tourney met England's Elizabeth Price. Angela Ward of England played Mrs. Leiselotte Strenger of Germany in the only non-American match.

* * *

Miss Smith, a powerful hitter, was generally accorded the tournament's favorite role today for the convincing manner in which she defeated Mrs. Bunty Stephens Smith of Britain, 3 and 1, in yesterday's afternoon round. Earlier she had whipped Mavis Glidewell of Britain 7 and 6.

8 Californians Stay in Field of Kazoo Meet

Only 1 Doubles Team Survives in Tournament for NCAA Honors

KALAMAZOO (AP) — Alex Olmedo, smooth - stroking sophomore from the University of Southern California, moved up to the favorite's spot today in a surviving field of eight Californians in the National Collegiate Tennis Tournament.

Olmedo, second seeded in the singles competition, became the tourney favorite with the ouster of top-seeded Jose Aguero of Tulane in a stunning upset fashioned by Joaquin Reys, unseeded USC entry, in third round play yesterday.

Reyes dropped the first set, 2-6, then turned on his powerful net game to take the next tow sets with ease, 6-1, 6-2. The defeat ended Tulane's chance to annex its 4th straight NCAA singles crow.

The west coast was assured of winning the singles title when four players from UCLA and two each from Stanford and USC won the eight matches played yesterday.

Olmedo, who had to come from behind to take a 6-4, 6-4 decision from Les Dodson of Kalamazoo College, will face John Lesch of UCLA, who eliminated Dick Potter of Michigan, 6-1, 6-2. Potter was the lone Big Ten survivor.

Kalamazoo's doubles team of Jim Fowler and Dean Pinchoff is the only Michigan entry still in the tournament. They took two hours and 15 minutes to whip Gary Linden and Doyle Perkins of the University of Washington, 8-6, 9-11, 6-4.

Other Michigan results:

Al Kuhn and Paul Bennett II, Northwestern, won by default over Earl Clark and Sanford Kaplan, University of Detroit.

John Been and Ronnie Sawyer, University of Houston, defeated Mark Jaffee and Dick Potter, Michigan, 6-0, 9-7; Lemaitre and Reyes of USC defeated Denny Telder and Larry Yoder, Western Michigan, 6-3, 6-4.

Toski Says Weather Factor for Tourney

WETHERSFIELD, Conn. (AP) — Former champions Bob Toski and Tommy Bolt figure on New England's weather to be the big factor in the $20,000 Insurance City Open Golf Tournament that opened today with an 18-hole round.

New England is noted for its fast changing weather.

However, Toski, the 1953 champion, doesn't think any of the 148 entries will better the tournament record of 269 which he shares with last year's winner, Sam Snead.

Ted Kroll, the 1952 winner, figures on 271 being good enough to win. Par on the 6,551-yard Wethersfield country Club course is 35-36—71.

Wolverine Netmen Out

HACKENSACK, N. J. (AP)—Third seeded Lt. Cliff Mayne of Ft. Monmouth ousted Jon Erickson of the University of Michigan, 6-2, 6-2, in yesterday's rounds of the Eastern Clay Court Tennis Tourney.

Whitlock Takes Over

LANSING (AP) — Dr. S. S. Whitlock will take over as assistant chief of the conservation department's game division on July 8.

Harry D. Ruhl, game division chief, announced Wednesday that Whitlock, now in charge of game research for the department, will succeed Joseph H. Stephenson, who retired after 40 years on Sunday.

Kansas City has 18 players once with other major league clubs.

AN OLYMPIC HOPEFUL — Ernie Shelton, former University of Southern California track star now performing for LA Athletic Club, demonstrates his high jumping form during workout at Coliseum in preparation for the Olympic tryouts this weekend. Shelton wears a spiked shoe on his left, or takeoff foot and his right foot is bare. He soared to 6 feet 11¼ inches last year.

Junior Equestrian League Grows Rapidly

Malley's Dream Now Observing 5th Birthday

By BILL CORNWELL

A dream conceived by a veteran Northville horse enthusiast started observing its fifth birthday last week at the Detroit Horse Show.

The birthday celebration will end next fall in the neighborhood of its conception.

J. P. (Pat) Malley, who fathered the dream and then saw it blossom into reality, viewed additional evidence of its rapid growth during the five-day festivities at the Bloomfield Open Hunt Club.

In 1952, Malley devised the idea of organizing Junior Equestrian teams into a competitive league, with an eye toward the development of future American riders for the Olympic Games.

Its progress has been remarkable. The league began with three teams of three members each. Today there are 14 teams totaling 56 young riders. New teams are expected in 1957.

The Junior Equestrian League consists of two divisions, Class A and Class B, with the classification of each rider determined by riding experience rather than age. Team members must be between 12 and 21 years of age.

Five trials are held each year at various horse shows throughout the Greater Detroit-Oakland County area. The 1956 competition opened last week at the Detroit program.

Metamora will be the scene of the season's 2nd trial, Toledo will host another and Northville is the site for the other two events, with the Junior Horse Show in the fall winding up the campaign.

Each trial is comprised of three separate competitions—the Junior Prix Des Nations, the team jumping event and the relay class. All are jumping events and the team boasting the lowest number of faults at the end of the season retains the league trophy until the following year.

The league champion also earns the right to meet the Canadian titlist for the Junior International Challenge trophy, established by Malley and the Northville Optimist Club, which now sponsors the Junior Equestrian League.

This year's Class A division is made up of the Bloomfield Irishmen, Bloomfield Fairlaners, Bonnie Lassies, Birmingham Outlanders, Outland's Equestrians, Toledo Jets and Toledo Bombers.

The Irishmen, composed of Zander Duffield, Paul Garlick, Howard Miller and Rick Otto, won the trophy last season and defeated the London, Ontario Pony Club in the international trial. The Bloomfield team team opened defense of its title a week ago at the Hunt Club by sweeping all three events of the 1st trial.

In the Class B group are the Birmingham Bees, the Outland Bees, Royal Scotsmen, The Topnotchers, Bloomfield Thunderbirds, Bloomfield Open Hunt Foxes and the BOH Hounds.

Class A Nine Finally Wins

Fowler Team Outlasts Jets, 8-7 for Initial City Loop Win

CLASS A STANDINGS	W	L		W	L
GMC	10	0	Griff's	5	6
CIO 594	7	5	Jets	4	7
Oliver	5	5	Fowler's	1	9
Elks 723	5	5

After nine futile efforts, Fowler's Fine Foods finally won a Class A City Baseball League game. It required 10 innings to turn the trick, but the Anderson Jets became the 1st victim Wednesday night at Wisner Field by a score of 8-7.

Chuck Moore raced home from 2nd base with the deciding run on a costly error by 3rd baseman Sam Jones to break up a see-saw overtime battle. Relief pitcher Monroe Moore was tagged with the loss while Delmo Chapdelaine hurled the distance for the winners.

The Jets held a 6-2 advantage entering the bottom of the 6th inning when Fowler's club erupted with five runs to take a 7-6 edge. The Jets tallied once in the 7th to tie the gount and force the game into extra stanzas. Then Moore crossed the plate in the 10th and Fowler's owned its 1st triumph.

Gingellville Rally Edges Wildcats in Junior Play

Gingellville rallied with three runs in the 7th inning to defeat the Oxford Wildcats, 3-2, in a Class E Junior League baseball game yesterday on Columbia - Joslyn's north diamond.

An error, passed ball, Roger Williams' single, walk and a double by pinch batter Larry Crouch brought Gingellville its narrow victory in a last-ditch uprising.

The Clarkston Merchants downed the Mets, 5-1, in a Class E contest at Columbia-Joslyn south.

Jim Singleton hurled a four-inning no-hitter as Boys Club No. 2 crushed the Wolves from Clarkston, 20-0; the West Side Kiwanis trimmed the North Side Kiwanis, 6-2; Osmun's whipped GMC, 16-2; and Matthews-Hargreaves outscored Arnold Drugs, 16-12, in Class F games on the Columbia-Joslyn fields.

In Knothole division play at Jaycee Park, Wasik and Vasquez combined to pitch a four-inning no-hitter as Boys Club lambasted Joslyn Market, 20-0, and Wing Lake defeated the Senators, 18-14.

Chestnut Stops Costa With TKO

WASHINGTON (AP)—Ike Chestnut and his walloping right hand were steaming today for another crack at a ranking featherweight.

Chestnut, the unrated underdog, stopped fourth - ranking Carmelo Costa of Brooklyn last night on a TKO in 29 seconds of the eighth round in a scheduled 10 at Capital Arena. The fight was nationally televised and broadcast (ABC).

"I'm ready for anybody they give me," Chestnut said afterward.

"And that includes Sandy Saddler," added beaming Manager Hymie Wallman.

Saddler is featherweight king, and Chestnut will have to prove himself against some others before he gets a chance at the title.

Michigan Oarsmen to Vie

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (AP) — All that the representatives of the Ecorse Boat Club (Mich.) and the Detroit Boat Club have to do today to qualify for the semifinals of the pairs without coswain in the Olympic rowing trials is to row over the 2,000-meter course.

• • •

The third entry in their heat, the U.S. Army-Seattle tennis club pair of Dick Wahlstrom and Al Ulbrickson, withdrew last night when Ulbrickson's injured back failed to show improvement.

• • •

Under Olympic rules, the ecorse pair of Bill Fluharty and Joe Leblank and the Detroit Club duo of Ted Nash and Arnold Haseley, will have to row over the course. The first two pairs in each heat qualify for Friday's semifinals.

Draft Physical Faces Giants' New Fielder

NEW YORK (AP) — Outfielder Jackie Brandt, one of four players the New York Giants received in the eight-man swap with the St. Louis Cardinals June 14, has been ordered to take his draft physical in two weeks.

• • •

The order could result in another blow to the Giants' half of the trade. They already have lost second baseman Red Schoendienst for an indefinite period because of calcium deposits in his shoulder.

Council Appropriates Fireworks Fund; Give Lot Size Extension

ROCHESTER — At the Tuesday night meeting of the Village Council, $150 was appropriated for the Rochester Fire Department and their display of fireworks on July 4.

As has been the custom for a number of years, Fire Department will stage the Fireworks Display.

It will be on the acreage just east of St. Andrew's Catholic School.

Lyle Buchanan, president stated today that permission had been granted to use the property. The high ground will enable the display to be seen by the many hundreds of villagers.

The council committee, which has been working on a schedule for building code and lot sizes, asked for an extension of time Tuesday. President Clarence Burr gave them until the next regular meeting to submit their final report. On the committee are Norman Day, Elizabeth Maitrott and Frank Rewold

A public hearing was set for Friday night at 7:30 p.m. for the West Fifth Street and the Campbell subdivision rezoning.

Bids on the new deep well turbine pump for the Water Works were opened but the council voted to hold them until the return of the Village Manager R. A. Slone. At that time they are to be tabulated and evaluated at the next regular meeting

Grave Damage Termed Grave; Seek Culprit

LAKE ORION—Village officials have offered a $100 reward for information that leads to the arrest and conviction of the individuals responsible for the nearly $2,000 damage to urns and stones at Evergreen Cemetery last week.

The council this week also considered the parking problem on Lake street near the cement ramp from the road into the water where smaller craft can be unloaded without carrying from trallers.

New signs are to be posted, reading, "Boat launching only from North Shore line to lake, Park in the free municipal parking lot downtown."

A petition from owners in the R. P. Stanaback Subdivision for sidewalks was presented the council. The owners offer to give right of way across their property.

Thieves Enter Bar Twice in Two Weeks

CENTER LINE — Last night, for the second time in two weeks, thieves broke into Smitty's bar at 25625 Van Dyke. They got away with approximately $1100 this time.

Proprietor Ernest Smith, 55, of 8891 Warren Blvd. told Commissioner Dennis Frazer of the Center Line police that he closed the bar at 3:15 a.m. and returned at 5 a.m. and found the money missing.

Two weeks ago, $995 and three cases of whisky were taken.

SISTERS MARRY — A recent double wedding in Methodist Church, North Branch, united Eva Jane Smith and Therion Case of Lapeer and Della Dee Smith and Martin McSkulin, of North Branch. Parents of the girls are Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Smith, also of North Branch.

Rehire 30-Year Teacher; School Named for Her

MARLETTE—The 1956-57 teaching staff of the Marlette Community School will have a new principal and will welcome a former teacher who has been in retirement.

The staff is now complete with the exception of two positions in the junior high school.

Wendell Brenner has been elevated to the high school principalship, replacing Richard Kaminska.

Mrs. Roy McDonald will return to teach the second grade. Mrs. McDonald retired from teaching two years ago, after having served thirty years in the Marlette Schools. The new Elementary School, dedicated Sept. 25, 1955, was named the Bea McDonald School in her honor.

Former Oxford teacher, Warren Fred Liken, has been engaged to fill the vacancy created by Brenner. Liken graduated from Central Michigan College.

Earl Decker, of Yale, a graduate of Michigan State Normal College, Ypsilanti, is a former principal and science teacher at Yale.

His wife, Helen Decker, has also accepted a position on the teaching staff. She has been the school librarian at Yale for several years.

Continuing as superintendent is Alfred Amundsen. Charles Joslin will remain elementary principal.

Crowns for Two Ready in Holly; Given on 4th

HOLLY — Two queens will be chosen at the Fourth of July celebration. One will be a preschool child and the other a teenager.

Both will be chosen by popular vote that morning. The preschool queen will be crowned by State Treasurer Sanford A. Brown and the teenage queen by Patricia Stinson, last year's queen.

The day's program, most of which will be at the municipal bathing beach, includes a parade at ten o'clock, police drills, water fight and other sports, band concert and fireworks display.

Troy Youth Elect

TROY—"Chuck" Smith has been elected president of Troy Methodist Youth Fellowship. Other officers are vice president, Jerry Joe Kumler; secretary, Sharon Mauney and treasurer, Bill Smith.

Fair Slates Top Stage Talent

Entertainment Schedule Listed by Swanson Aug. 31-Sept. 9

The Michigan State Fair, famed for its great Coliseum shows, has come up with some of the nation's leading recording and stage stars for this year's program, Aug. 31 through Sept. 9.

The Coliseum entertainment schedule, as announced by Donald L. Swanson, general manager, is as follows:

Aug. 31, Sept. 1, 2 and 3: Jaye P. Morgan, Don Cherry, The Gaylords, The Platters, The Blockbusters, The Krackerjacks, The Four Step Brothers, Bud and Cece Robinson and Roy Tracey m.c.

Sept. 7, 8 and 9: Julius LaRosa, The McGuire Sisters, The Four Lads, The Platters, The Blockbusters, The Krackerjacks, The Four Step Brothers, Bud and Cece Robinson and Roy Tracey M.C.

Admission price to the Coliseum will remain as it was last year: $1.50 for adults and fifty cents for children.

Authority Sets July 12 Meeting

Would Welcome Letters From Residents on Site Chosen

By DOROTHY JEAN ZACK

"Northeast of Pontiac, a whole segment of Oakland County is without adequate public park facilities," said Kenneth Hallenbeck, director of the Huron Clinton Metropolitan Authority as he discussed authority plans with the Pontiac Press today.

The 3,500 acre park, which some Rochester-area residents have opposed since the authority revealed its plans recently, is to answer this area need, he explains.

Some of the property which was included in the map shown in a public hearing last week in Rochester, has already been eliminated from authority planning, he explains.

The area is between 26 and 28 Mile roads, and is bounded by Mound and Sheldon roads. It overlaps Macomb and Oakland Counties. Beaches for 50,000 persons, wildlife, sports and picnic areas are expected.

The Lockwood subdivision, partially included in the area last week, will not be encroached upon by the park, Hollenbeck says.

Authority executives surveyed the subdivision, which they had not see previously because it is all privately owned, on Saturday, and decided it would better be left outside of park borders.

The areas included in the map have been changed somewhat since the meeting, he said, as officials have talked with land owners for the first time.

"Much of the difficulties will be avoided through talk," he said, explaining that he felt that of the 250 people at the meeting about ten or 12 persons formed the objecting nucleus. "Over half were in favor of the park," he says.

Stressing that the land chosen is suitable for such an extensive park, Hallenbeck said that the next board meeting will be July 12.

He said the board would welcome letters from residents. He feels that the petition's 100 objecting signatures represents only a smattering of residents in comparison to the probable 20,000 in the county who would welcome such a beach.

Appraisers and negotiators are at work, and options are being taken on the land, he said, preliminary to the July 12 meeting.

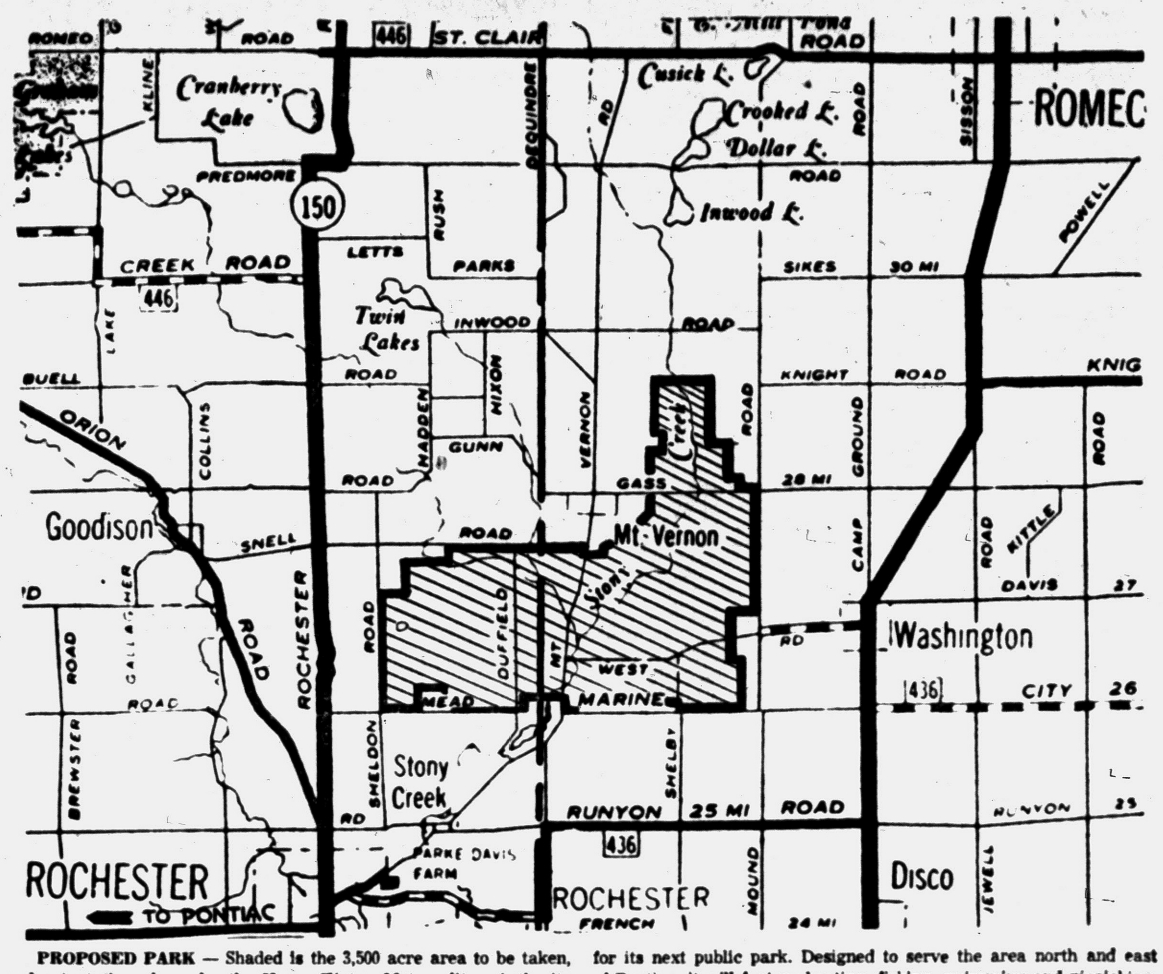
He said letters should be addressed to the Board of Commissioners, 1750 Guardian Building, Detroit, 26.

"Of the land included in our proposed plan," Hallenbeck says, "at least half is up for sale now. About 1200 acres are on the market at present."

Strong supporter of the Huron Clinton authority is Clare Cummings, president of the Pontiac Federal Savings and Loan Assn., who is a former chairman of the board of commissioners. He is named as the Oakland County representative to the board by the county board of supervisors.

School Reunion Held

MARLETTE — The thirteenth annual Brown school reunion was held Sunday in the Masonic Hall, in Decker, with about 100 attending and enjoying a co-operative dinner.



PROPOSED PARK — Shaded is the 3,500 acre area to be taken, under tentative plans, by the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority for its next public park. Designed to serve the area north and east of Pontiac, it will feature boating, fishing, swimming and picnicking.

Plan New Church; Invest Local Men into Ministry

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP — A new church is to be started in the Jayne Adams School area.

The United Presbyterian Church, working through the Drayton Plains Congregation, has authorized the beginning of a new church there.

Preliminary surveys will be made during July and August by Richard C. Smith, a member of the staff of the Drayton Plains United Community Presbyterian Church. A Sunday Bible School will probably begin early in the fall in the school.

"Our interest in starting a new church in that area," said W. J. Teeuwissen, Jr., pastor of the Drayton Plains Church, "was prompted by our desire to help meet the religious needs of that rapidly growing community."

Two Drayton Plains young men have been licensed as ministers of the United Presbyterian Church.

The Detroit Presbytery of the United Presbyterian Church, at its meeting in Detroit last week, heard Roy Lindahl, Jr. and Harvey Beach preach and meet the other requirements for licensure to the ministry.

Roy is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Lindahl, of Coseyburn drive, and Harvey is the son of Mrs. Ora Beach, of Walton Blvd.

Both have completed their second year at Pittsburgh-Xenia Seminary, Pittsburgh, Pa., and both are members of the Drayton Plains church.

Lapeer County Schools to Vote on Annexation

DRYDEN — The Brownell and Kile school districts will vote Saturday on whether or not to annex Dryden.

• • •

Last Saturday a proposal to annex Dryden with the nearby White School was defeated, but the election has been protested and will be voted upon again.

Boat Docks for Repairs; Passenger Sticks It Out

BLOCK ISLAND, R.I. (AP) — It took the motor vessel Sprigg Carroll 13 hours yesterday to go from Providence to Block Island — a normal five-hour run — while carrying only one passenger.

Eleven other passengers disembarked at Newport on the mainland, where the vessel was delayed six hours while its clogged cooling system was flushed.

The hardy passenger who stayed with the vessel was not identified.

New K. of C. Chaplin

DETROIT (AP)—The Rev. Ralph E. Kowalski, a philosophy teacher at Marygrove College, has been appointed chaplain of the Michigan Knights of Columbus by Edward Cardinal Mooney, archbishop of Detroit. Father Kowalski, 39, succeeds th Rev. William J. Walsh of Bay City as state K. of C. chaplain.

NAACP Plans Political Action

Passive Resistance Is Urged as New Weapon to Win Civil Rights

By LEONARD MILLIMAN

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Direct political action and passive resistance were urged on the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People, meeting here today, as weapons to win equal civil rights.

• • •

"It is within our hands to determine whether there will be a Democratic or Republican 85th Congress," said Clarence Mitchell, top political strategist of the nonpartisan NAACP.

He said Negroes hold the balance of power in 60 congressional contests and 16 senatorial races in November electins. The Negro vote cannot be controlled, he said, but could be tipped either way with "a little direction."

• • •

Roy Reuther, one of the three Reuther brothers of the United Auto Workers, went further. He proposed immediate action by a coalition of NAACP, unions and churches "working as a team" to influence House and Senate votes on civil rights in the current Congress.

Both spoke to a Midwestern NAACP "workshop" yesterday as the House Rules Committee in Washington voted 8-3 to send the bipartisan civil rights bill to the House floor. Chairman Smith (D-Va) said it might be scheduled during the week of July 9 for action in the House. Two days were allowed for debate.

• • •

The Mahatma Ghandi tactics of passive resistance were recommended as a new Negro weapon to a mass meeting last night by the Rev. Dr. Martin Luther King, leader of the six-month-old bus boycott in Montgomery, Ala.

He called it "a new and creative method which might be added to the several methods which we must use to make integration a reality."

Dry Ice Fumes Kill Baltimore Workman

BALTIMORE (AP)—A short time after a refrigerated truck left a plant here for Wilmington, Del., employes noticed that a maintenance man was missing.

State police were asked to check the truck. It was intercepted just across the state line in Delaware.

Locked in the refrigerated compartment officers found Thomas Hock, 34—dead.

Police said he had made a terrific struggle to get out. He had torn a foot-wide hole through plywood sheathing and insulation of the door, but he had been unable to pierce the metal outer shell.

Dr. S. S. Bjornsen, Delaware state medical examiner, said Hock had died of asphyxiation from the carbon dioxide fumes produced by dry ice.

The Census of Agriculture says 10 per cent of the farms in the United States produce 51 per cent of all farm products.

NEW MEDIUM—Baritone Eddie Fisher, already a radio, television and recording star, is now tackling the movies in "Bundle of Joy", a musical film in which he co-stars with his wife, Debbie Reynolds.

Hollywood Headlines

Eddie Fisher Adds Films to Music-Making Career

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Now it's Eddie Fisher, star of records, radio, TV—and movies.

• • •

Sweet-voiced Edwin from Philadelphia is now making his first movie. It's called "Bundle of Joy", and he's appearing opposite Debbie Reynolds, of all people. Despite such pleasant and familiar surroundings, he's worried about the outcome.

OTHERS FAIL

"Liberace does a picture, and it doesn't turn out so good," he mused. "George Gobel does a picture, and business isn't so hot. What are they going to do to me?"

• • •

I volunteered that his was a different case. Neither the Liberace nor the Gobel picture was exactly an artistic triumph. Gobel wasn't funny as his fans expected. As for Liberace's fans, they're not the kind who go to movies anyway.

That's where Eddie holds a trump card. His following includes the youngsters, who have been the backbone of the movie audience for decades.

• • •

Eddie seemed heartened by these observations and went on to admit that he was enjoying himself immensely.

NO PROBLEMS

"I'm having a ball," he grinned. "No nerves, no problems. It all comes easy to me. How it will come out on the screen is another matter.

"The thing that impresses me most about making a movie is the time and care that goes into it. . . ."

• • •

As with the two other TV stars he mentioned, Eddie is doing a musicalized remake. (Liberace's "Sincerely Yours" was based on George Arliss' "The Man Who Played God"; Gobel's "The Birds and the Bees" on Henry Fonda's "The Lady Eve." "Bundle of Joy" is derived from the RKO oldie, "Bachelor Mother." Mr. and Mrs. Fisher play the roles once done by David Niven and Ginger Rogers.

TO SHARE PROFITS

Eddie is making his film debut under the best of financial conditions. He'll take a sizable share of the profits under his deal with RKO.

• • •

"That is—if there are any profits," added the ever-modest Eddie.

His director, Norman Taurog, is high in his praise of the lad.

"You'd never know that it was his first picture," said the veteran director. "He acts like a veteran. I think he'll make it. It's about time the screen had another romantic singing star."

Ida Cantor Recovering From Coronary Seizure

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — The condition of Mrs. Ida Cantor, wife of comedian Eddie Cantor, is reported as "satisfactory" by doctors at Cedars of Lebanon Hospital here, where she was taken following a heart attack two weeks ago.

The doctors said Mrs. Cantor will be able to return home about the middle of July, barring further complications.

France Begins Campaign to Save Tunisia Air Bases

PARIS (AP)—France has launched a diplomatic battle to save her military bases in newly independent Tunisia in the face of stiff opposition from the government of Tunisian Premier Habib Bourguiba.

• • •

Bourguiba is here to negotiate a treaty covering relations between France and her former North African protectorate. He told reporters, "We admit that for the moment Tunisian forces cannot alone assume defense of Tunisia, so French troops can fill this role during the transition period."

"But," he added, "we will never admit that the presence of French forces in our country—and particularly at (the big Mediterranean port of) Bizerte—can take on a permanent character under pretext of needs of Western strategy or defense of the free world."

• • •

This was an obvious reply to French Foreign Minister Christian Pineau's statement to the French Senate this week that "there is no question of envisaging the departure of the French army from Morocco and Tunisia."

Pineau and Bourguiba met at the French Foreign Ministry yesterday to try to reach some compromise. Tunisian Vice Premier Ben Ladgham, who was present at the talks, told reporters, "It is possible that French forces could remain in Tunisia, but only as part of a general defense scheme among a number of countries in which Tunisia would participate as a fully sovereign member.

• • •

"There are American troops on French soil, but they are not occupation troops. They are there as part of an agreement among equal nations in which each one has its mission."

The Tunisian leaders said they consider Tunisia part of the Western world and want to cooperate in its defense.

Detroit Arsenal Chief

DETROIT (AP)—Col. Herbert W. Wurtzler has taken over command of the Detroit Arsenal, succeeding Col. Roger H. Hemion, new chief of research and development for the ordnance tank automotive command at the arsenal. Hemion replaced Col. George T. Peterson, who was assigned to the Frankford Arsenal in Philadelphia.

'Guided Missile,' Rockets in Use for 7 Centuries

WASHINGTON— Rockets, which may enable man to burst out of the sky and into space, have been used for at least seven centuries as weapons and for fiery display.

* * *

The great rockets of today, military missiles and high-altitude research craft streaking to the upper edge of the earth's atmosphere, employ the only known motive power that can operate as well in a vacuum such as outer space as in air.

First known use of rockets was in China in 1232, when defenders of the city of Kaifeng shot self-propelled missiles at besiegers, the National Geographic Society says. The Chinese later developed a fireworks rocket.

Rockets became known in Europe by 1250. For the next 500 years they were used occasionally for fighting, but were developed "to a high and delightful degree" as pyrotechnics—fireworks.

WAR ROCKETS IN 70'S

War rockets began their first period of great importance in 1790, when rocketters of the Prince of Mysore cut up attacking British forces with iron-tipped missiles in the battle of Seringapatum, India.

The Indian rocket inspired further advances pioneered by Sir William Congreve, who designed a 32-pound sheet-iron weapon. In the War of 1812, surprise rocket barrages helped the British capture the city of Washington.

During the night of September 13, 1814, the British fleet, including several rocket barges, unsuccessfully attacked Fort McHenry in Baltimore Harbor. One watcher was Francis Scott Key, hence "the rockets' red glare" in "The Star Spangled Banner."

Peaceful uses of the rocket were also developed. By the 1830's rockets were carrying lines to stricken ships, as they still do.

* * *

They have also been used to deliver mail, to carry cables across gorges as a first step in bridge building, and to lay telephone lines in difficult terrain. Pointed downward, they dig holes for telephone poles as well as soldiers' foxholes.

ROCKETS AIM AT SPACE

Improvements in artillery rendered war rockets seemingly obsolete about the turn of the century. On Pearl Harbor day, the United States armed services had no rockets in use.

But by the end of World War II, blankets of modern rockets were being laid down from ships and land launchers; rockets were being fired from planes, and the Germans had developed the V-2.

Tomorrow's rockets, scientists say, may be driven by new forms of energy, perhaps akin to a stream of light generated by a controlled nuclear reaction, and will travel at speeds comparable to that of light itself.

Grain Market Slowly Active

CHICAGO (AP)—Soybeans managed to stage a slight recovery from recent weakness on the Board of Trade today, moving ahead for relatively small gains in moderately active dealings.

Soybeans were pretty much alone on the upturn and even they were not able to hold their best gains. Other cereals had an easier undertone, wheat and corn particularly being under pressure.

Wheat near the end of the first hour was ½ to 1 cent lower, July $2.05¼; corn ⅝ to ¾ lower, July $1.48; oats ⅛ to ⅜ lower, July 66½ rye ¾ to 1 cent lower, July $1.20¾; soybeans ¾ lower to ½ higher, July $2.84½; lard 15 to 33 cents a hundred lbs. higher, July $10.30.

Breakfasts Served Free in Battle Creek

BATTLE CREEK (AP)—Breafkast of cereal, cream and sugar was served up free along a half mile of tables set up on Battle Creek's main street today as the Kellogg Co. celebrated its 50th anniversary.

* * *

Seated at 222 tables, townspeople consumed huge quantities of Kellogg cereal dished out by cereal festival workers to 2,400 diners at a time. Many were dressed in clothes of 1906 vintage.

Anita Miller, Kellogg's sweetheart of corn, and W. H. Vanderploeg, company president, rode in a gold-plated cadillac which led a parade of old cars through the business district.

Displays in 41 downtown store windows depictthe history of the company.

* * *

Kellogg, with the city's largest factory payroll employs about one-tenth of Battle Creek's working population.

Browns grade A large 41; medium 36 small 30. Checks 28.

Whites grade A extra large 41-42½; large 39-40½; medium 38; small 23.

Browns grade A extra large 39¼-40; large 39-39½; medium 33-35; B large 32.

Comment: Market steady. Demand irregular, being good in some instances and just fair in others. Available offerings of extra large an djumbo sizes are scarce and short of full needs. Top quality large are about ample and clearing readily. Mediums are clearing better. Smalls are in very slight supply. Undergrades clearing satisfactorily.

Appointed sales manager was John S. Davis, of 370 Square Lake Rd., Troy, while William J. Lampman, of 77 Osceola St., was appointed used truck manager.

Walker also disclosed the appointments of two others as sales representatives: Dexter J. Kennedy of 315 Draper St., and James V. Harrison of 231 Blanche St., Troy.

Stock Market Decline Stops

NEW YORK, June 28 (AP) — The Stock Market turned mixed and more active early this afternoon.

Prices of leading stocks fluctuated within a range of around a point.

Earlier the market was declining as steel led the downtrend after failure to reach a strike-averting compromise. The steels were still lower, after it was announced negotiations would resume this afternoon.

Bethlehem was off around a point, shading its earlier loss. Republic and Youngstown Sheet & Tube cut their earlier 1-point losses to fractions. U. S. Steel remained a bit less than a point off.

Aluminum stocks went ahead as a group to lend a bit of spark to the market.

Aluminum Ltd. rose close to 2 points. Reynolds Metals, Alcoa and Kaiser Aluminum advanced well over a point apiece.

Boeing gained around a point while Douglas and United Aircrafts were up fractionally to give their division a firm tone.

Motors, however, were still showing minus signs. But White Motor was up a point, continuing yesterday's rise on news of a better dividend.

Friday Dance Sets Dutch Treat Theme

WEST ACRES—A "dutch treat" theme will be carried out in this Friday's Teen-age dance sponsored and chaperoned by the West-acres Women's Club.

Marian MacKenzie will be chairman of this second dance called the "Holland Hop." "Dutching treating" will carry through with a nominal admission charge and refreshments.

Featured at tomorrow's dance will be the Nu-Tones, a male quartet of seniors from St. Frederick's School in Pontiac.

The dance will take place at the Westarcres Clubhouse on Commerce Rd. from 8 p.m. to 11:30 p.m. It will be open to all local teen-agers from 14 through June graduates.

The North American Continent produced 369 million tons of petroleum in 1955.

Band Concert Set Tomorrow in Lake Orion

LAKE ORION—Tomorrow night, at 7:30 the community band shell near the railway depot will be the scene of the first summer band concert to be presented by students participating in the summer program.

About 35 students from the 8th to 12th grades are playing for this concert, for their own enjoyment as well as that of the public, according to David Lieth, director. He states that this band will be constantly changing because of the students' vacation plans, so marches and lighter selections will be featured.

This week's concert includes: "Colorama," "March Lorraine," "Entry of the Gladiators," "Great Gate of Kiev," "Pacific Grandeur," "People Will Say We're in Love" and "You'll Never Walk Alone."

A total of 114 students from the 5th grade beginners group up have registered for the summer band program. The students own their own instruments, except for a few heavy pieces.

Summer Bible School Holds Final Program

DRAYTON PLAINS — Parents are invited to the final program for the children participating in the summer Bible School of the Community United Presbyterian Church which will be held at 10:30 a.m. tomorrow in the sanctuary.

Enrollment of the school, which is now in its second week, has exceeded 250. A staff of 35 has been in daily attendance.

REGISTRATION NOTICE

For General Primary Election, Tuesday, August 7, 1956

To the Qualified Electors of the City of Sylvan Lake, County of Oakland, Michigan

Notice is hereby given that in conformity with the "Michigan Election Law," I, the undersigned Clerk, will, upon any day except Sunday and a legal holiday, the day of any regular or special election or primary election, receive for registration the name of any legal voter not already registered who may apply to me personally for such registration. Provided, however, that I can receive no names for registration during the time intervening between the thirtieth day before any regular, special or official primary election and the day of such election.

Notice is hereby given that I will be at my office Monday, July 9th, 1956, last day for registration from 8 o'clock a.m., until 8 o'clock p.m. on said day for the purpose of reviewing the registration and registering such of the qualified electors as shall properly apply therefor.

The name of no person but an actual resident of the precinct at the time of said registration, and entitled under the Constitution, if remaining such resident, to vote at the next election, shall be entered in the registration book.

NOTICE OF SPECIAL ELECTION AND of Registration of Voters

To the Electors of the Village of Wolverine Lake

Notice is hereby given that a special Village election will be held at Village Hall, 297 Glengary Road in the said Village, upon Tuesday, the 14th day of August, 1956, at which there will be submitted to the vote of the electors of the Village, the question of ratifying a certain public utility franchise contained in an ordinance adopted by the Village Council at its meeting held upon the 18th day of June, 1956, which said ordinance is entitled as follows:

An Ordinance, granting to Consumers Power Company, its successors and assigns, the right, power and authority to lay, maintain and operate gas mains, pipes and services on, along, across and under the highways, streets, alleys, bridges and other public places, and to do a local gas business in the Village of Wolverine Lake, Oakland County, Michigan, for a period of thirty years.

On the date of said election the polls will be open at 7 o'clock in the forenoon or as soon thereafter as may be, and will be kept open until 8 o'clock in the afternoon, Eastern Standard Time, when they will be finally closed.

The Village Clerk will be in his office on the 16th day of July, 1956, said date being the thirtieth day, as determined by statute, preceding the date of said election, for the purpose of reviewing the registration, and registering such of the qualified electors of the Village as shall appear and apply therefor, which registration may be made on said date between the hours of 8 o'clock A. M., and 8 o'clock P. M., Eastern Standard Time.

Missouri Synod Asks $113,110,700 Budget

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP)—The Missouri Synod Lutheran Convention here has recommended a six-year, $113,110,700 budget.

* * *

The long-range budget proposal passed unanimously late yesterday in the form of a recommendation to the church's fiscal conference. It covers the years 1957 through 1962.

The conference which is expected to meet this summer in St. Louis is the body which actually will set up the budget.

* * *

The total, broken down to yearly allocations, represents an increase each year of some 10 per cent over the previous year. Synod membership has been growing at a 4 per cent rate annually.

The convention recommended the budget after the Rev. John Herrmann, St. Louis, reported the synod had added 635,000 new communicants in the past 10 years and has entered 12 additional countries since World War II.

* * *

Delegates also voted to petition executive and legislative branches of the government to "abolish the present compulsory attendance of its military personnel at divine services."

Burglars Bungled

LAKE ELMO, Minn. (AP)—A pair of all-thumbs burglars got an efficiency rating of zero in an attempted theft. After loading the safe into a stolen truck, they lost their way, turned up a driveway, drove up an embankment, stalled the truck, lost the safe when it rolled out the back and fled when a farm boy investigated the clumsy goings-on.

Remote Tuner Cuts Off Sound

Tiny Electronic Gadget May Improve Quality of TV Advertising

A new gadget designed to help TV listeners dodge the commercials they do not want to hear without moving from their easy chair is described by Larry Wolters, Chicago Daily Tribune TV writer. His account follows:

Recently I spent an afternoon playing with a revolutionary TV remote tuner. It's a compact device you hold in the palm of your hand.

It has four push buttons. Without batteries, electricity, light or radio waves, the device enables you to operate a TV receiver across the room from you.

You can turn it on or off, dial right or left to bring in the desired channel, and when even silence commericals. It weighs only 8 ounces.

This device, called "Space Command TV," will be introduced to Zenith Radio Corp. distributors by L. C. Truesdell, vice president.

While any remote control tuner makes a TV set easier and more pleasant to operate, this device (or similar ones) may have a distinct effect on the characters of TV commercials.

TV commercials often are too raucous, blatant, stereotyped, and repetitious.

The TV code lays down rules about the length and frequency of commercials, but these too often are ignored, even on the major networks.

Once you have silenced the noisy pitchman with this gimmick, his gyrations and frantic waving take on a comedy aspect.

And if he is not amusing to you visually, you just look at the set occasionally to see whether he has finished his spiel, and then turn on the sound.

FROM ANY POSITION

The device can be used to activate or control receivers from any position in the room or even from an adjoining room.

However, its range is limited to your own house so it cannot be used to knock off a post-midnight blaring across the corridor in an apartment house or in the house next door.

The device emits no radiation harmful to human beings, the company states.

You do not see, hear, or in any way feel the transmission of any impulses between the "command" and the TV set. The developers decline to reveal the principles involved.

* * *

If such devices as commercial killers ever achieve mass ciculation TV sponsors may have to give very serious thought to good taste and moderation in their advertising appeals. Of course, many already do.
