House Gets It Tomorrow

Senate to OK Labor Bill

From Our News Wires

WASHINGTON — An adjournment-minded Senate awaited the chance today to stamp approval on the compromise labor reform bill and send it to the House for final congressional action.

Democratic leader Lyndon B. Johnson (Tex.) called the senators in early (9:30 a.m. EDT) to take up the bill, and said he would hold them late tonight, if necessary, to get it passed. The House was expected to follow suit tomorrow. The measure will then go to Eisenhower.

Virtually everyone in the Senate except Sen. Wayne Morse (D-Ore.) looked forward to this chore although many were not entirely pleased with all the provisions in the bill.

Another highly displeased person was Teamster President James R. Hoffa, whose giant truckdrivers union was the prime target of the bill. Hoffa called it "a black day for labor."

The compromise bill worked out Wednesday writes into federal law for the first time detailed controls over internal operations of unions on such points as finances, elections, trusteeships and rights of members.

But it also—and this is the part which caused the long and difficult conference — beefs up the Taft-Hartley law on such bitterly disputed points as secondary boycotts and organizational picketing.

In the end, the conferees accepted the basic pattern of the broader Landrum-Griffin House bill on the Taft-Hartley changes in the seventh and final title.

LIMIT PROVISIONS

But Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass) and the other Senate Democratic conferees succeeded in getting into the measure limitations on the new Taft-Hartley provisions aimed at protecting legitimate union rights.

On the first six titles dealing with internal union procedures, the compromise follows the framework of the Senate measure originally worked out by Kennedy last year. But some House changes were written into these sections.

The compromise won almost unanimous praise from Congress members on both sides of the dispute over the bill. But there were reservations by those most sympathetic to labor's position.

The bill was almost sure to be disappointing to labor. The AFL-CIO had criticized the measure in the form it passed the Senate, and strongly assailed the Landrum-Griffin version.

Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell said he was "extremely pleased" with the bill and added: "No honest trade union or employer has cause to fear this legislation."

On another matter, Senate passage sent to President Eisenhower today a bill to exempt from state corporation income taxes business within a state by traveling salesmen or brokers for out-of-state companies.

Ford Shows Its Falcon, Bulwark Against Europe

By HARRY REED
Managing Editor, Pontiac Press

Ford Motor Company pulled the stopper on the magic "compact car" bottle yesterday, displaying a genie which it hopes will push the foreign import cars right back to Europe.

The Ford Falcon was the first of this fall's three "smaller" cars to be displayed to newsmen. Chevrolet is building a rear-engined Corvairs at Ypsilanti, and Chrysler's Valiant will soon be coming off Detroit assembly lines.

The Falcon will be 50 per cent more economical on fuel than a regular Ford or Ramber, and 30 per cent better, gas-wise, than the small Rambler American, officials said.

Production of the Falcon will hit 100,000 units by the end of December, and Henry Ford II said he expected the new car to get a good share of the one million cars he expects the small Ford, Chrysler and Chevrolet will sell in 1960.

No price was indicated for the Falcon, but it is expected to be between $1,800 and $2,000. It is slated for public display Oct. 8.

Examining size, the new car is larger than a Volkswagen or Fiat, but smaller than the standard Ford.

The Falcon is 15 feet, 1 inch long, against 17-4 for a 1959 Ford; 4 feet 6½ inches high against 4 feet 8 inches and 5 feet 10 inches wide against 6 feet 4 inches. It weighs 2,366 pounds, compared with 3,570 pounds for the lightest 1959 Ford model.

The Falcon has a 109.5 inch wheelbase.

Girl Beater to Stand Trial

Pontiac Butcher Found Sane by 3 Psychiatrists After Examination

Bruce M. Taylor, 32-year-old Pontiac butcher accused of the brutal beating of an 18-year-old baby sitter he said he thought was his estranged wife, has been found sane and capable of standing trial on a charge of assault with intent to murder.

★ ★ ★

Circuit Court Judge Frank L. Doty delivered the ruling this morning after hearing the testimony of three court-appointed psychiatrists at a sanity hearing requested by the defense.

Doctors Ivan J. LaCore, Clinton J. Mumby and Maurice E. Willis concurred that Taylor is sane enough at this time to assist his counsel in the defense of his case.

★ ★ ★

The slight and balding man's clean shaven face was expressionless throughout the half-hour proceedings.

★ ★ ★

Willis said, "He understands the nature of his acts."

DISTURBED BUT SANE

LaCore testified, "He has emotional disturbances, but they are not strong enough to make a break

President Calls on NATO Group to Calm Fears

Is Fresh and Relaxed; Gets Along Famously With De Gaulle

LONDON (AP)— The Big Four tonight were reported near full agreement on reviving negotiations to halt the East-West arms race.

PARIS (AP)—President Eisenhower today gave the West a blueprint for peace: Refuse to retreat one inch from principle and stay flexible tactically.

"Then there will be no war . . . there will be peace," the President told the North Atlantic Council during a surprise visit.

The President sandwiched the quick visit to NATO headquarters into a tight schedule of talks with Western leaders and French President Charles de Gaulle.

His appearance at the council was designed to calm the fears of the smaller powers that his coming meetings with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev spelled a lessening of their roles in NATO.

"NATO is a matter of spirit, of determination to work as partners and to preserve the ideals we all cherish," the 68-year-old President said.

"If we are firm among ourselves, if we refuse to retreat one inch from principle, if we remain flexible so far as tactics are involved, if we give NATO the same patriotic, deep devotion we give to each of our own nations, then, there will be no war. There will be peace."

"The United States seeks no position in NATO except that of an equal position, ready to work with all member nations regardless of their size.

This reference was aimed at both the smaller NATO powers and De Gaulle, who is giving Eisenhower a spectacular welcome in France as a demonstration of the nation's friendship for the United States.

The two wartime comrades — only a month apart in age-continued their discussions at a lunch Eisenhower gave at the U. S. Embassy residence. From all outward appearances they are getting on famously on a personal level.

Bodies Under This Rockslide?

AP Wirephoto

RACE AGAINST TIME — Bulldozers, directed by Army Engineers, are racing rising waters to move 350,000 cubic yards of rock for a 200-foot wide spillway over the earthquake-caused mountainslide damming the Madison River in West Yellowstone in Montana. The spillway is to prevent flooding downstream. Engineers must finish the task before the new lake (in background) reaches the top of the dam. Water is rising at the rate of nine feet each day. Bodies of 19 persons missing since the quake may lie entombed beneath the slide, officials say.

Monitors Demanding Hoffa Purge 3 Teamster Officials

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Teamster President James R. Hoffa came under new pressure today from his union's court-appointed monitors to purge three Teamster officials on grounds they are corrupt.

★ ★ ★

Formal recommendations by the monitors demanded Hoffa suspend the presidents of three Teamster locals. They are Joey Glimco of Local 777, Chicago; Harold Gross of Local 320, Miami, and Anthony Provenzano of Local 560, Hoboken, N.J.

In addition, the monitors want Hoffa to permit independent audits of the books of all three locals and to appoint a trustee to manage the affairs of Local 777.

The recommendations, issued last night, may lead to a showdown between Hoffa and the "watchdog" monitors. The three-man board was set up in January 1958 by Federal Judge F. Dickinson Letts as part of a compromise settlement of a suit by 13 rank-and-file Teamsters who challenged Hoffa's election as president of the big truckdrivers union.

ORDER CLARIFIED

Hoffa has ignored, with apparent impunity, other monitors' cleanup recommendations. The three issued yesterday were the first following a July Court of Appeals decision clarifying the relationship between the monitors and the union.

If Hoffa flouts these latest demands, the monitors may ask Letts to order him to obey.

Hoffa, attending a Teamsters meeting in Atlantic City, N.J., said today he "would be guided in this matter of charges by the constitution of the Teamster brotherhood.

Our laws provide a regular procedure for handling charges and they insure that the person charged gets a hearing," he said.

Each of the recommendations, citing Senate Rackets Committee hearings, accused the local presidents of misdeeds.

Glimco was alleged to have taken kickbacks from officers of Local 777, to have extorted "protection" payments from merchants in Chicago's Fulton Market, and to have spent union funds for personal travel and legal expenses.

Gross, the monitors said, accepted $98,000 in salary payments from Neo-Gravure Printing Co., of Weehawken, N.J., in exchange for guarantees of no labor trouble or harassment.

Provenzano, the monitors said, "demanded the payment of moneys from employers who had contracts with the Teamsters Union for a guarantee of labor peace."

The recommendations, signed by the monitors' chairman, Martin F. O'Donoghue, called on Hoffa to suspend and bring charges against the trio and to give the board a progress report within 10 days.

Slate Kangaroo Court at Hawthorne Dedication

Mayor Philip E. Rowston will don judicial robes and preside, gavel in hand, at a kangaroo court on Labor Day during an all-day festival in honor of the dedication of Hawthorne Park.

Self-appointed Keystone Cops intend to haul quite a few law-breakers before Judge Rowston for sentencing.

Fines will run in the nickel, dime and quarter category.

They'll all go into the fund that the Wever-Owen-Hawthorne Community Club is building to help finance improvements to the park, located on Little Silver Lake south of W. Walton boulevard at N. Telegraph road.

Just what actions on the part of festival attenders will be in violation of the festival's ordinances, no one seems prepared to say.

Perhaps you'll be arrested for wearing socks that match. Maybe because (in rare instances) they don't match. Perhaps, again, the law won't be concerned with socks at all.

That way, the club will collect more funds, it's figured.

FUN IN EARNEST

The fun reflects the serious endeavor behind the festival. Hawthorne is the city's newest—and potentially the biggest of the municipal parks.

In appreciation of the club's drive to help make the park's beautiful potential a reality, the City Commission recently decided to make the park's traditional name official.

The park will be the first one in Pontiac that has been dedicated with an official name.

Ceremonies will be at 4 p.m. with city commissioners in attendance.

Participating will be Rowston, City Commissioner Floyd P. Miles; Mrs. George W. Gray Sr., club chairman; Leslie H. Hudson, festival chairman; State Rep. Arthur J. Law, and David R. Ewalt, director of Parks and Recreation.

Besides refreshments, the festival will offer a variety of attractions for youngsters, games and contests, a used car auction and talent show, and a teenage dance from 7-10 p.m.

Expect Fair, Continued Cool Weather Here

Westerly winds, recorded at 10 miles per hour at 1:15 this afternoon, will diminish tonight.

Federal Roads to Be Helped by Extra Penny

If Levy Passes, State Residents Will Pay 2nd Jump in Short Time

From Our News Wires

WASHINGTON — The House, under pressure from leaders of both parties, appeared ready to give its reluctant approval today to a one-cent gasoline tax boost.

The federal action could mean the second gasoline price increase within a short span of time for Michigan motorists.

The state's disputed one-cent use tax, which went into effect Tuesday, is included in the price of gasoline as three-tenths of a cent per gallon. (Individual station operators, however, may choose to withhold this charge.)

For car owners, the federal bill would add another $1,050,000,000 to motoring taxes for the next 21

If necessary to get the labor bill out of the way this week, Rayburn said, there also will be a session Saturday.

Try to Resolve Issue Out of Court as Kennedy Man Watches

By GEORGE T. TRUMBULL JR.

Out-of-court settlement appeared near at noon today in the Robert P. Scott-International Barbers Union lawsuit, as attorneys huddled all morning under the watchful eye of an investigator sent to Pontiac by Robert F. Kennedy, chief counsel for the Senate Rackets Committee.

Oakland County Circuit Judge William J. Beer recessed the case until 3 p. m., the fourth time since it began Tuesday. Not a word of testimony has been taken.

One of Scott's attorneys, Gene Schnelz of Walled Lake, said, "We're getting a favorable reaction, but it's not quite all we wanted." He said there was a "close proximity of settlement."

Meanwhile, an officer for Detroit Local 552 of the Barbers' Union, AFL-CIO, had to be coached by his attorney in denying Scott's charge that he was booted out of

Judah Lake Estates — a Growing Subdivision

IN PICTURESQUE COUNTRYSIDE — This aerial shot, taken from over Judah Lake and looking north, shows part of the 200 acres devoted to Judah Lake Estates. Started about four years ago, the Orion Township subdivision has had its biggest growth in the past year. One hundred and thirty homes in the $10,000 to $12,000 class are built. There are 500 lots in the subdivision. The character of the rolling countryside has been kept and 33 acres on the lake are set aside for the use of the residents. Most of the buyers are from the Pontiac area. This subdivision has several models of the Viking all-aluminum home.

Expects Falcon to Send European Imports Home

a six-cylinder, 90 horsepower cast iron overhead valve engine, and it's capable of 30 miles per gallon, under normal driving conditions," Ford said.

Although the interior styling of the car is roomy and typically American, the exterior has a distinctive European flavor. The fender line is curved like a barrel stave, arching up at the center of the car and sloping off at both the front and rear.

It has the traditional Ford "bull's eye" taillights, single headlights—on either side, and the hood slants down to a plain-looking concave grille.

* * *

An all-day cruising speed of 70 m.p.h. may be maintained, and it has good passing characteristics, engineers said. Top speed has been 95 on the test track.

Cost of parts replacement and repairs are expected to be between 30 and 50 per cent below those of standard models, it was predicted.

Automatic transmissions will be available, and air conditioning will be optional later. No convertible models are planned, but station wagons and pickup trucks will be introduced later.

Ford entry into the smaller car field was not without a good deal of testing, and considerable experience for many years in making smaller Fords in England and in Europe, it was pointed out.

Tests of the Falcon rolled up more than 1½ million miles, and several of the cars had 100,000 miles logged.

* * *

Similar to the many foreign imports, the Falcon will not be changed as much each year as the regular size units of the Ford line.

A question about whether Ford has any plans for a small car, the same size as the foreign imports, brought the answer that nothing of this type was on the drawing boards.

The company said market research, carried on extensively on small cars since 1954, indicated potential buyers of such a car were interested first in high gas mileage and second in low initial cost. These surveys, the company said, indicated these two factors were far more important than compactness.

James O. Wright, a Ford vice president and general manager of the Ford Motor Division, said production has begun on a two-shift basis at plants in Lorain, Ohio and Kansas City, and the car also will be made in San Jose, Calif.

* * *

Of the 14 Ford plants in Michigan expanding their operations to produce components of the new car, two are in the Oakland County area.

* * *

The Northville plant is making all engine exhaust valves for the Falcon. The Sterling Township plant in Macomb County will devote about 20 per cent of its volume to making front suspension and rear axle assemblies.

The news conference was held by closed circuit television with newsmen in 21 cities across the nation.

* * *

Questioned by newsmen, Elmer Albrecht, secretary-treasurer, at first replied "no comment" when asked if Hoffa had given orders to give Scott the heave-ho last year.

LAWYER INTERRUPTS

Suddenly Bonz Siegel, Albrecht's and the local's attorney, interrupted and told his client he saw no harm in answering the question. Before that Albrecht said he wouldn't comment because "I know what the papers do to twist the truth."

Coached by Siegel, Albrecht said to Scott's charge: "It's not true. It never was true."

Formerly a business agent and vice president of Pontiac Teamsters Local 614, Scott, 53, of Waterford Township, sued the International, the Local, Albrecht, and Arthur Borowski, Local 522 business agent, last year seeking $150,000 damages and reinstatement.

* * *

He said his expulsion was Teamster-inspired.

In the light of the committee's past probe of the Hoffa empire, Kennedy last night hurriedly dispatched Walter J. Sheridan, an investigator, from Washington to Pontiac. Sheridan said he was here as "an observer."

INFORMING KENNEDY

He conferred frequently with Scott and attorney's in the hallway outside Judge Beer's courtroom. He reportedly was keeping Kennedy informed by phone.

After a full day recess yesterday, today's session began with the judge immediately allowing more time for settlement discussions, after first warning clients — apparently meaning Scott more than the union—"to always follow the advice of counsel."

But Schnelz and his cocounsel, Paul Franseth of Detroit, were having a hard time convincing Scott to give in to a compromise offer made by the union.

This calls for Scott to be reinstated, paid roughly $2,000 in damages, and then turn around and resign.

Scott, who walks with the aid of a cane and leg braces because of a stroke he suffered several years ago, said the union wants him to resign so Gov. G. Mennen Williams would have reason not to re-appoint him to the three-member State Board of Examiners of Barbers, because he no longer was a union member. He says he still holds his position as treasurer although his five-year term expired last September. He said no replacement has been made.

WON'T ACCEPT

Scott said he wouldn't accept the union's pact. "Not the way they want it," he said.

* * *

He said he was holding out for an unspecificied financial settlement, a retirement card so he can retain his union status, and because of a promise of his own to Albrecht and Borowski that he wouldn't rejoin their local as long as they were officers.

The team won top honors in Pontiac's Class F Little League. Fenkell, in talking to the boys, emphasized the importance of overcoming weaknesses both in baseball and everyday life. An extensive question and answer period followed his talk.

Brooklyn Youth Stabbed in Third Attack by Gang

NEW YORK (UPI)—An 18-year-old youth was stabbed and seriously wounded and three companions were beaten in an unprovoked attack by a teenage gang on a Brooklyn street corner yesterday. It was New York's third outbreak of youth violence in 11 days.

Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller and Mayor Robert F. Wagner planned separate conferences today to deal with the problem.

The wounded youth, Dominick Scudiere, told police he was talking with three friends when a band of about 15 youths, believed to be Puerto Ricans and members of a gang called the Majestics, approached and asked if they were members of either of two gangs.

Scudiere and his friends said they were not but one of the band, believed to be the leader, said: "You took care of our boys and now we're going to take care of you."

The attackers then set upon the quartet, stabbed Scudiere in the left side, beat the other three, and fled. Scudiere, who was scheduled to enter the Air Force this fall, was taken to a hospital.

It came only three days after two teenage boys were wantonly stabbed to death in a playgound off Times Square and 10 days after a 15-year-old girl was shot to death and a teenage boy fatally stabbed in an outbreak of juvenile gang warfare in the lower east side of Manhattan.

The accused slayers — three Puerto Ricans—are being held by police, two on first degree murder charges and the third on a homicide charge.

Yesterday's outbreak occurred as Rockefeller and Wagner were mapping plans for a series of conferences to deal with an upsurge of teenage gang violence that has shocked millions of New Yorkers and left residents of "sensitive" areas terror-stricken.

Police saturation of neighborhoods with a high incidence of teenage violence, ordered Monday by police commissioner Stephen Kennedy, has curbed gang warfare somewhat but tension was still high in many sections of the city.

Merchants in Dither Over New Use Tax

LANSING (UPI)—Michigan's 4 per cent use tax, designed to help solve the state's financial woes, was causing woes of its own for merchants as it went into its third day today.

* * *

The biggest question of course was whether or not the State Supreme Court would rule the levy unconstitutional. The answer to that would would have to wait until the court decided.

Another question was: "How should it be applied?"

That answer was: "As directed by the Michigan Retail Merchants Assn."

* * *

Cook said his telephone has been ringing regularly since merchants received conflicting breakdowns from his organization and from the State Revenue Department.

The breakdowns designated ranges for use-sales tax collections. For instance, the MRMA bracket levied a tax of one cent on sales from 17-37 cents.

The version offered by the revenue department put a penny tax on sales between 13-17 cents.

* * *

However, Clarence W. Lock, deputy commissioner of revenue, indicated merchants should follow the MRMA bracket recommendation.

* * *

"Our bracket system applies to transactions involving only the use tax," Lock said.

* * *

Collection of the use tax spread other confusion and uncertainty today.

A new ruling by state officials rolled away troubles for auto dealers, but contractors still awaited an attorney general's opinion on their problems.

* * *

Taxpayers were advised by Atty. Gen. Paul L. Adams that it might be advisable to keep separate records of sales and use taxes they pay until the State Supreme Court decides whether the new law is constitutional.

* * *

Adams said he had taken under advisement a request for an opinion on contracts signed by contractors before the new law took effect. All transacted before Tuesday assumed payment at a three per cent rate on materials.

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP)—Laotian government troops threw up a defense line against advancing Communist rebels today only 12 miles from Sam Neua, the royal army's military headquarters in northern Laos.

* * *

Red forces since Sunday have overrun lightly manned outposts. Advance units were reported within 12 to 18 miles of Sam Neua in what shaped up as a major offensive.

He charged that the attackers included at least one battalion of regular North Viet Nam troops, from Laos' Communist-ruled neighbor to the east.

"We intend to hold Sam Neua at all costs," Phoumi declared. "To let it go would be a convincing argument to the world that the Pathet Lao were re-established in their old domain."

Church Art Exhibit Takes Aspect of National Event

BIRMINGHAM—What began as an exhibition of contemporary American religious art on a limited scale by Holy Name Catholic Church here, now has taken on all the aspects of a national exhibition believed to be the first in the United States sponsored by a denomination.

Enthusiastic acceptance by top-ranking artists of invitations to compete for $1,300 in purchase awards and prizes is reported by the Rev. William B. Davidson, assistant pastor of Holy Name parish and chairman of the exhibit which has an impressive patron list of prominent suburbanites including a number of leading industrialists and automotive executives.

Sales stimulating plans for the exhibited works in original paintings, sculpture, metal work, ceramics and textiles are being made, Father Davidson said.

The exhibition will be opened formally Oct. 15, and will run through Oct. 26. Deadline for submission of entries is Sept. 18 and further information may be obtained from Father Davidson at the Holy Name Parish House, 645 Woodland Ave.

The Awards Jury is made up of William Woolfenden, curator of education, Detroit Institute of Arts, Zoltan Sepeshy, director of Cranbrook Academy of Art and the most Rev. Alexander Zaleski, auxiliary bishop of Detroit.

City Police Sgt. Malcolm (Scotty) Ross, 59, is retiring from the force but not from life as a policeman here.

He has been hired by the Birmingham School District to maintain law and order in the parking lot at Seaholm High School.

In the past, the Birmingham Police Department has taken care of the school parking lot. But, according to Police Chief Ralph W. Moxley, the school district's wish to have a full-time policeman at the lot would cut the number of patrolmen for the rest of the city by a fourth.

A check of police reports shows that the parking lot has been the scene of continued vandalism and thievery as well as traffic jams.

He has been a member of the police department here since 1936 and was promoted to sergeant in 1951.

Birmingham has scored another first—this time at the 82nd annual meeting of the American Bar Assn. at Miami Beach, Fla.

The city was named recipient of an Outstanding Accomplishment Award in the Field of Traffic Court Procedure.

The award cites Birmingham as first in the 25,000 to 50,000 population class.

Commerce Man Critical After Auto Accident

A 61-year-old Commerce Township man, Albert J. Sternhager, was in critical condition today at Pontiac General Hospital with injuries suffered in an auto accident early this morning.

Oakland County sheriff's deputies said Steinhager's car collided with auto driven by Melvin Spencer, 20, of 5663 Carbert St., Walled Lake, at W. Maple and Halstead roads in West Bloomfield Township at 12:40 a.m.

Sternhager, who lives at 8437 Lagoon Dr., suffered head, rib, arm and leg injuries. Spencer was in satisfactory condition with head and back injuries.

Deputies were unable to take a statement from Sternhager. They said Spencer told them he ran a stop sign at the intersection.

Report 3rd Theft at Avon Twp. Bar

Oakland County sheriff's detectives today were investigating the third burglary this summer from an Avon Township bar.

Richard James, owner of Jay's Bar, 54 W. Auburn Rd., reported the break-in yesterday. Thieves broke a side window to enter the building and pried open vending machines as in two previous breakins last July.

House to Vote Hike in Federal Gas Tax

The states bear 10 per cent of construction costs, the federal government 90 per cent.

The issue was put to the House on a take-it-or-leave-it basis—hike the tax a penny a gallon or allow construction of the interstate highway network to bog down drastically.

Even so, many House members intended to vote against the tax increase. And those who favored it hoped that a formal rollcall would not be required so they wouldn't have to go on record for higher taxes.

Many lawmakers were plugging for highway financing schemes that didn't involve a tax boost. Most of these plans called for dipping into the treasury to beef up the highway trust fund.

But the sponsors had no chance to offer these as amendments to the bill because the measure was being considered under a procedure barring amendments from the floor.

with reality or constitute a psychosis. He is sane."

Taylor of 806 Mt. Clemens St., admitted beating Phyllis Jean Keel of 88 Wall St., on June 22. He told police he thought it was his wife sleeping on the living room couch.

Mrs. Juanita Taylor was working at Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital when the beating occurred at her home, 223 W. Rutgers St.

Taylor's six-year-old daughter, Valerie, testified at an earlier examination, "I saw my daddy beating the baby sitter with a ball bat." Phyllis Keel was unconscious and in critical condition for more than a week.

Trial is scheduled for the third week in September. If convicted, Taylor could receive a maximum sentence of life imprisonment, the same as that for second degree murder.

Assigned by the court as defense counsel, William Whitfield said, "This does not preclude raising the question of sanity at the time of the crime when Taylor stands trial."

Ballad Praises Earl Long

BATON ROUGE, La. (UPI) — Disc jockeys in Louisiana's capital city were swamped today with requests for "The Ballad of Earl K. Long."

The record, said news director Ronnie Gomez of station WAIL, came through the mails Tuesday. It is on a "Recco" label and is sung by Jay Chevalier.

The lyrics refer to Long as a modern "Robin Hood" and conclude with the lines:

"Some say he's wrong, others not so,
The rest of the people just don't know,

Patients on More Than 100 Islands

Puget Sound Doctor Outflies Stork

FRIDAY HARBOR, Wash. (UPI) — Dr. Malcolm G. Heath is the kind of doctor who, when his patients call, goes to treat them.

Sometimes this takes some doing, since Dr. Heath's possible patients are scattered over more than 100 islands in wild and watery northern Puget Sound.

Dr. Heath, now 46, is an ex-paratrooper. So far he hasn't parachuted to a bedside, but he does spend considerable time in the air.

"It's a flying job mostly," he says. "Usually 10 to 40-minute hops. Honestly I couldn't figure my mileage but I logged about 250 flights this past year. Most were to the dozen or so bigger islands."

Dr. Heath disclaims anything heroic or unusual about his San Juan Island flying practice. He and a partner are the only regular physicians in all San Juan County.

'COUNTRY DOCTOR'

'You could call me a country doctor, yes," he said. "Only my partner and I think we're quite modern and up-to-date.

"Things are modernized a lot now. We're not as isolated as we used to be. Transportation, everything else, is improved."

Dr. Heath and his wife, daughter of a Cornwall, England, physician he met overseas in World War II, came to this area in the winter of 1950.

Up to then, retired physicians occasionally saw patients on the San Juans. Vacationing or a few full-time doctors would stay a few months and make calls, usually only on their own islands. There was no hospital.

This past year and through the winter Dr. Heath and his partner, Dr. John M. Bell, were usually always able to fly to answer calls for medical help when needed, because of favorable weather.

But it's not infrequent that winter gales, or blinding fog, stop flying.

OWN LIGHT PLANE

Dr. Heath flies his own light plane. For night calls or tough assignments, he has flying service friends who take him in a larger plane.

He also makes trips on the Coast Guard's 83-foot patrol boat or smaller craft, or in his own outboard cruiser. Mrs. Heath on occasion pilots their small boat to land him in an isolated spot.

The practice runs the whole list of a Northwest physician's work: logging or fishing injuries, pregnancies, automobile accidents, childrens' hurts.

concerts and from medical meetings as far away as Los Angeles. A vacation? The word is hardly in his vocabulary.

The San Juans have a year-round population of about 3,400. Their beauties as a vacation area and such nationally-popular books as "Till Fish Us Do Part" have helped bring summer visitors in great numbers.

Dr. Heath, who was born in North Carolina, is a member of the National Flying Physicians Assn. He and Mrs. Heath have two children, Paula, 11, and Andrew, 8. The family's popularity and well-earned admiration is undoubted.

TWO MEDICAL CENTERS

As one evidence, two modest medical centers have been built, one here at Friday Harbor, and the other at Eastbound on Orcas Island, in large part a tribute to Dr. Heath.

He would be a success in any large city, yet he chooses to live in this out-of-the-way area because he has the missionary spirit of serving others.

Find Smoked Moonshine

MOBILE, Ala. (UPI) — Revenue agents learned yesterday that where there's smoke there may very well be moonshine. Seeing smoke coming from under a car hood, they investigated and found 21 jugs of moonshine on top of the engine block.

La Paz, Bolivia, 11,909 feet above sea level, is the world's highest large city.

Nikita Slates Surprise Trip to Exhibition

The show, which closes tomorrow, has been a solid sellout since it opened in Moscow July 24, attracting as many as 75,000 Soviet visitors in one day. No formal closing ceremonies had been planned for it.

Khrushchev visited the fair site several weeks before the exhibit opened to inspect the construction then going on at full blast. He commented on the smooth working relationship between Soviet laborers and their American supervisors.

He also attended the formal opening of the exhibit with Vice President Richard Nixon. It was in front of the exhibit's color television display that the two men engaged in their widely publicized debate on the comparative merits of the capitalist and socialist systems.

It appeared the Soviet leader was quite favorably impressed with many of the fair's display items, which ranged from kitchen appliances to a model of an American paddlewheel satellite.

★ ★ ★

Exhibition officials were being bombarded with telephone calls from Soviet citizens anxious to take last-minute advantage of the show and the facilities it offered.

Adm. Robert E. Lee Raises Rare Ponies

BLAIRSTOWN, N. J. (UPI) — Retired Adm. Robert E. Lee has undertaken a hobby which would have been difficult in his Navy days — raising ponies.

Lee, who retired from the Navy in 1945 after 40 years of service, has imported to his farm six rare Norwegian fjord ponies. Says Lee: "Usually a farmer raises one or two and they are treated more like a dog than a pony. As a result they are very gentle and friendly."

An estimated 62 million acres of land now planted to crops in the United States is said to be completely safe from erosion losses.

Oakland County Happy With GM Appointments

Citizens in this general area are happy over the current promotions in General Motors' administrative staff.

Honors went to Oakland County residents. GM is the largest corporation in the world and to have this organization run by our own people is a feather in our community cap.

L. C. Goad has been designated "to head all the corporation's general staff activities." This places him next to F. G. Donner and John F. Gordon — the third man in the largest manufacturing plant there is.

Cyrus S. Osborn and Sherrod E. Skinner were named executive vice presidents and the former is a well known Oakland County man. Pontiac's own Roger Kyes replaces Mr. Skinner. Pontiac always feels an especially proprietary interest in Mr. Kyes as he was once head of the GMC Truck and Coach Division and has been the board member to whom the South Boulevard concern has been accountable. The other executive vice president, George Russell, is another Oakland County man.

Thus currently, the president of the corporation and three of the four executive vice presidents are Oakland County people. The area can well be proud of the record. In addition to those just mentioned, there is a long list of vice presidents, plant general managers and a dozen directors.

General Motors has plants all over the nation, but a preponderant part of central management claims Oakland County as a residence.

This is "home."

Tourist and Dollars Flowing Both Ways

The Department of Commerce has just issued its 1958 report on travel to and from the United States.

Residents of this country spent an estimated $1.46 billion abroad while foreign travellers here paid out $825 million. Of this sum Canada accounted for more than half. In fact, Canadians spent far more in this country than we did there.

Mexico was next with $144 million and other Latin American nations, $125 million. European and Mediterranean countries account for $86 million and all others, $45 million. It must be remembered that in some of these countries currency restrictions limit the amount of money their nationals can take abroad for tourist expenses.

★ ★ ★

On the other hand American tourists left the largest part of their money in Canada, followed closely by Mexico, then Italy, France, Britain and Germany in that order. Switzerland and the Benelux countries, Japan, the Cairbbean islands and Bermuda came in for a good share. Last year's heavy increase in visitors to the Low Countries was due to the World's Fair in Brussels. American visitors to the Benelux countries spent $40 million.

In supplying tourists to Europe, New York came first; to the Far East, California and to Latin America, omitting Mexico, Florida. Curiously enough, Illinois accounts for 10 per cent of this country's ticket sales to Mexico.

Everywhere the travel business continues to grow. In the United States since 1950 it has risen at an average annual rate of 10 per cent. This indicates that more people have more money as well as a healthy desire to see and understand foreign lands.

Help!

David Lawrence Says:

Ike Given 'Vote of Confidence'

WASHINGTON—It's a good thing that, in the midst of his fateful trip to European capitals, President Eisenhower has not been confronted with unfavorable news from Congress.

LAWRENCE

For, had the President's veto of the $1-billion public-works bill been overridden, the people of Europe, accustomed as they are to a parliamentary system of government, might have construed the roll call as a formal vote of "lack of confidence" in Eisenhower.

This could have had a frustrating effect on the President's mission abroad, where a majority vote against the party in power customarily means a change in executive leadership.

Little consideration, on the other hand, was given here to this point by most members of Congress in their voting on the merits of the public-works bill that the President had vetoed. Since none of Eisenhower's previous 143 vetoes have been overridden by the necessary two-thirds vote of both Houses, dramatic attention was centered on the final roll call.

★ ★ ★

The margin of one vote by which the veto was sustained may or may not reflect the maneuvers that went on inside both parties. For the issue really turned on what the folks back home would say in those districts where water-power projects and other federal construction proposals had been promoted.

ON THE SPOT

Every member of Congress who had urged federal appropriations that would bring about the building of public-works projects in his own district naturally was on the spot. If he voted against the bill, there was the chance that political capital would be made out of this in the next election by a rival candidate.

If the member happened to be a Republican, he had to consider the effect on his constituency, especially on the Republican voters, if he deserted the leadership of the President.

Some Republicans, but only a handful, did vote to override the veto. Only a small group of Democrats deserted their party leadership in siding with the President.

The issue was decided primarily by a straight party vote of Republicans and Democrats, respectively. The small number who crossed party lines really wielded the balance of power.

Maybe if there had been any way to determine in advance exactly how the voting would go, the defenders of the bill might have won out. The last-minute changes indicated that nobody was quite sure of the outcome.

PRESSURE INTENSE

The fact that nearly two-thirds of the membership of the House of Representatives wanted to override the veto indicates how intense is the pressure for what has often been called "pork barrel" legislation. As the projects emerge from committee, a congressman often feels he has to support the projects in another member's district in order to get support for his own.

It was surprising, indeed, to find the veto sustained, but it was largely due to the devotion of the Republican Party in Congress to the President's leadership. Had the Republicans given way to selfish local interests, the veto would easily have been overridden.

The final test, sustaining the President's leadership, cannot but have a favorable effect on the Republican Party's position in the country, enhancing its prestige as a responsible party which is anxious to keep the budget in balance and to maintain the nation's finances on a sound basis, as against extravagant spending and other inflationary policies.

Dr. William Brady Says:

Don't Underestimate Power of Soap, Water

Washing with soap and water sufficiently cleanses and disinfects anything from a bath tub to a clinical thermometer, from clothing to bed linen, from comb and brush to surgical instrument, to make it safe to use no matter what disease a previous user may have had.

DR. BRADY

In my opinion no chemical or drug, however colored or flavored, is better than plain water as mouthwash, dentifrice or gargle. Or for a wet dressing on an inflamed or infected wound.

For that matter, gargling is a bit of hokum rather than a remedial measure. It accomplishes in a noisy and, to the uninitiated, impressive way only what an ordinary mouthwash accomplishes in a quiet way—cleansing of the oral cavity.

Automatically, when one gargles, the oral cavity is sealed off from the pharynx (throat) by the anterior pillars or folds in front of the tonsils and the base of the tongue, to prevent the liquid from getting into the throat or larynx.

Even if gargling reached the tonsils it could have no effect on tonsillitis, quinsy, pharyngitis, laryngitis or septic sore throat (Streptococcus infection). That is, no more effect than a simple mouthwash or rinsing of the mouth has. Although medication in a gargle, spray, lozenge or direct application may annoy or even destroy germs on the surface of throat or tonsil, it cannot reach the germs that are responsible for the trouble, that is, the germs that have invaded the tonsil or throat tissues. I tell you, children, no matter how thin you slice it, gargling is monkey business.

Only the physician with special training and skill can apply medicaments directly to the tonsil, tonsil crypt, pharynx or adenoid, but this method is seldom employed nowadays simply because it is of questionable value.

Some persons have a repugnance to soap and water—that is, the taste of it—acquired perhaps in childhood, when washing the mouth with soap and water was punishment for using bad language. No doubt soap doctored up to meet beauty requirements tastes pretty bad, but the plain toilet soap I prefer for cleaning my teeth or for first aid care of wounds scarcely tastes at all, or at any rate it just tastes clean.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

'Owner of the Universe' Offers Space Passports

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Want to visit the moon? Go ahead and book passage. Long-term passports are available.

You can get yours from Jesm T. Mangan of Evergreen Park, Ill., who figures he owns the universe —except for the earth, of course.

The reason Mangan reasons this way is that he has claim, duly and legally recorded in Cook County, Ill., to all of outer space. He calls his domain Celestia, and reports that about 22,000 earthlings have become its citizens—only he uses the term "participants."

Mangan has declared himself premier of Celestia. He also has appointed himself acting secretary of state, in which capacity he signs the passports.

The passport received here was accompanied by a statement prepared by Premier Mangan. It announced, among other things, that President Eisenhower's old two-year passport to the moon has expired.

Since Mangan believes somebody will reach the moon before 1965, he is making the new passports good for five years.

★ ★ ★

He announced that the first of the new passports was issued to his excellency, John Wesley Ozier, operator of a restaurant in Chicago—without explaining why Ozier is called his excellency.

The premier also took the pains to explain that no encroachments on his lunar claim will be tolerated.

"On July 25, 1958, Celestia issued a proclamation declaring the moon a protectorate," he says, "and the document was legally recorded the same day."

His claim to the whole universe, incidentally, has been on the books since 1949.

Mangan is underselling the U. S. State Department, too. While the going rate for American passports, good for only two years, is $10, one from Celestia costs just a buck.

It entitles the holder "to pass through or remain in any part of interplanetary outer space between earth and moon" until Jan. 1, 1965.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Is 'Telepathy' Just Coincidence?

Note Teresa's interesting case for it has occurred ever since the beginning of history. And millions of folks believe the answer is "telepathy," but we scientists are more like Doubting Thomas. We feel such incidents are a chance climax to a culmination of subconscious processes. Scrapbook this case.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case - 434: Teresa J., aged 19, is very much troubled.

"Last Tuesday night I had the most fearful dream. I thought my mother was dying.

DR. CRANE

"She seemed to be calling for me. It was all so vivid I woke up and couldn't go back to sleep.

"And the next morning I got a telegram that she was dying. Wasn't that a good case of mental telepathy?"

IS TELEPATHY PROVED?

Please don't say "mental telepathy," for that is redundant, since "telepathy" really means "mental transference." To add the extra "mental" means you say "mental mental transference."

But what about the facts Teresa has mentioned? Well, the usual psychologist would not concede that her dream was an evidence of telepathy.

Instead, we would call it a chance climax to the clumination of a few subconscious processes.

For example, when I quizzed her further, Teresa admitted that she had visited her mother two weeks earlier and had felt that her mother looked unduly frail.

Teresa also informed me her mother always wrote her a letter each Sunday, which usually arrived in Tuesday's mail.

On this Tuesday, no letter came from her mother. So when Teresa went to bed, two ideas were lodged in her subconscious mind, namely, "Mother looked ill" and "Her letter didn't come today."

Those two ideas were entirely adequate to explain a dream that would generate a death situation.

And just one such coincidence, like Teresa's dream that was actually followed by the telegram, is remembered whereas thousands of similar dreams that do not coincide with a death notice, are quickly forgotten.

Most of you readers have thus dreamed of the death of one or more relatives and friends during your lifetime, yet there was no such death when you awakened next morning.

★ ★ ★

But you tend to forget these dreams and only remember or repeat a classical case like Teresa's. In fact, people seem actually to want magic and telepathy versus simple scientific explanations!

SUBCONSCIOUS REASONINGS

The subconscious mind consists of those millions of ideas that are constantly percolating through our brain, but outside the bull's-eye of our conscious attention.

Thus, "doodling" with a lead pencil while we talk on the phone, is also an example of subconscious behavior.

"The Hidden Persuaders," is a stimulating recent book by Vance Packard outlining how such subconscious appeals sway us in buying merchandise.

It is possible for 100 people to start out with the same data and independently arrive at the same answer, even though they are in distant states.

If, for example, I were to ask you to write down the product of 10 times 15, I could outguess you in England, Russia or China.

For human minds use standard logical processes, so we can outguess what will happen in such cases.

Extra Early Peach Crop Ready for Home Canning

What foods will you buy for the Labor Day weekend? Many meats will be specially marked to make meal getting easy as well as economical, and Michigan grown produce is still abundant. The harvest of Michigan peaches is about 10 to 14 days earlier than last year. Homemakers planning to can, freeze, or preserve more peaches should do so within the next week, for supplies will soon grow smaller.

MEATS FOR THIS WEEK

Pork supplies have already started the fall increase and the fall supplies will be about 16 per cent larger than a year ago. This, plus the fact that the amount of pork in cold storage is larger than a year ago indicated lower-than-last-year's pork prices.

Whole, half and portions of ham are specially marked this week. Check whether ham is "fully cooked" or marked "ready - to - eat," for roasting time will differ. If you choose canned ham, check the label for refrigeration instructions. Many stores will slice and tie canned ham for easy oven heating.

Spareribs will cost less than earlier this summer, and barbecue might be made in the oven if not on the grill. Franks, roll sausage, bacon and Boston butt are other pork cuts rating the "economical-buy" list.

Beef prices look much the same as they have been during the last month with ground beef, steaks, chuck and standing rib being featured in some stores. Continued withholdings of breeding and feeding stock should support the cattle market through the remainder of 1959.

Broiler-fryers and family - size turkeys continue in the limelight. Fryer prices during the first part of September will be about the same as they were in August. Family size turkey supplies will be abundant through September.

When you choose fish, remember that Lake Erie perch are plentiful and ocean fillets are in good supply. Pickerel are scarce.

PRODUCE IN THE MARKET

Hot wether has caused peaches to ripen 10 to 14 days earlier than normal. Fresh peach supplies from Southwest Michigan are not as heavy as anticipated. The peaches are ripening so quickly that more are being sent to processors.

In the eastern Michigan area the peach story is about the same. The Halehaven peach, one of the mid-season varieties, will be finished by Labor Day. The Kalhaven, one of the late season peaches and one of the best for canning and freezing will ripen from the middle to the end of this week. These are followed in about three days by Elberta and then J. H. Hale peaches.

Since the peak of supply and the best flavor comes three to five days after harvest for variety begins, homemakers wishing to conserve more peaches should do so now. The season will soon be finished. Wait and your cupboard or freezer may be bare of peaches.

Peach prices vary from about $2.50 to $5.00 a bushel depending upon variety, the size and condition. A bushel will make about 32 to 48 pints canned or frozen. When you pay $3.00 to $4.00 a bushel this avearges about 15 to 17 cents per pint (including containers, sugar and ascorbic acid used in freezing.)

No Bum Steer

Rodeo Bulls May Have False Horns

LEMON COVE, Calif. (UPI) — The steers brave cowboys rope in rough-riding rodeos may not be so fierce as greenhorn audiences think.

Chances are, in fact, that the steers' horns may be falsies.

Until Ayres put his inventive mind to work, it was well nigh impossible to rope a domestic steer.

U.S. bred bulls either are dehorned or have stubby and fragile horns.

That meant steers for rodeo roping had to be imported, usually from Mexico, at considerable cost.

Ayres, 35, who owns the 15 acre Shady Acres horse ranch in the Sierra Nevada foothills, sells his "handy horns" for $30 a set. He has two models — the 18-inch spread for roping and the 25-inch for bulldogging.

The horns are made of molded Fiberglas mounted on a plastic cap lined with foam rubber. Straps connect the cap to a plastic plate under the jaw with the plate turned down to allow freedom to the animal's jaw and lip.

It took Ayres more than a year of painstaking trial and error to get all the kinks out of the horns.

"I've sold about 400 sets and guaranteed them for a year," reported Ayres. "I clear about $10 on each set."

"The Mexican steers have pretty good natural horns but after a lot of roping and bulldogging they become injured about the head—rope burns and bruises," he said. "They don't have much meat on 'em to begin with, and after being retired from rodeo use they're hardly good for hide even.

"Handy horns, however, are uniform as a target for the cowboy and they don't injure the animal. Some steers get riled up a bit when the horns are first put on but they soon forget about them."

She Pledges $17,000

HARBOR SPRINGS (UP)—A $17,000 gift to finance refurbishing of the interior of the Harbor Springs Methodist Church has been pledged by Mrs. Herbert Stockham of Birmingham, Ala. The gift is in memory of her late husband, an Alabama industrialist who frequently vacationed here.

The London Police Force was organized by Sir Robert Peel in 1829.

No Motive . . . No Suspects

Home-Made Bomb Kills Seattle Widow

That warning cry came an instant before Mrs. Pearl Kongsle, a 62-year-old widow, was blown to bits by a home-made bomb on the front porch of her duplex last night.

The blast knocked hub caps off a parked car, shattered windows and light fixtures in the neighborhood and caused about $5,000 damage to the home.

Shreds of Mrs. Kongsle's clothing were found 150 feet from the scene. Strips of wood were ripped from the home and its steps crumbled.

"The whole thing exploded right in her face," said Mrs. Alberta Bowman, a neighborhood friend who stopped in to pay a good night visit.

Mrs. Bowman and Mrs. Edith Friedman were visiting another friend in the neighborhood and decided to stop by and say good night to Mrs. Kongsle.

"I notices a brown paper bag on the steps," said Mrs. Bowman. "It was wide open. I went to lift it up and put my hand on it. I noticed some movement or vibration and also noticed a piece of cord or string.

"I knocked on the door and Pearl answered. I asked her:

"'Pearl, what is that sack on the porch? There's a noise in it and something going on in there. It's awfully heavy. You better go out and see what it is.'"

'PEARL'S DEAD'

"When she picked it up, it went off in her face," said Mrs. Bowman. "Mrs. Friedman started screaming 'Pearl's dead. Pearl's ded.'"

★ ★ ★

The slaying touched off one of the most intensive police efforts here in years.

"We've got lots of work to do," said a police spokesman. "That whole area out there will have to be searched and examined thoroughly."

Police could offer no motive for the murder and said there were no suspects as yet.

Launches Battle Against Sales Tax

Detroit Attorney Fights for His Beliefs

LANSING (AP)—Charles C. Lockwood, the Detroit attorney who launched the court fight to kill Michigan's new four-cent use (sales) tax, says he believes in fighting for what he thinks is right.

He has a record to prove it.

Lockwood, 65, is president of the Greater Detroit Consumers Council, a loosely knit organization formed 25 years ago to protect consumer rights.

"I have no idea how many members we have because we charge no dues and meet only when we feel we have a battle to fight," the lanky, gray-haired lawyer told newsmen.

"In the past we have been affiliated with labor, civic and teacher groups, and others in fights against higher milk and meat prices, and other issues affecting the consumer," he said. "I am sorry to say that in a city of two million people we are the only group organized in the interest of the consumer."

★ ★ ★

Lockwood served without compensation as attorney for Lt. Milo Radulovich, Air Force officer threatened with discharge as a security risk. The young officer, who was stationed at Selfridge Field, was a suspect, largely because his father subscribed to a foreign language newspaper considered pro-Communist, Lockwood said.

He was cleared in 1953.

Lockwood said his suit filed in the State Supreme Court yesterday was his first appearance in the high court.

He has practiced law in Detroit 40 years and from 1926 to 1936 taught at the Detroit College of Law. In 1938, he ran unsuccessfully for the University of Michigan Board of Regents on the Democratic ticket.

"I am not affiliated with any political party now, but I do consider myself a liberal," he said.

Lockwood blasted the sales tax as "vicious, a violation of the fundamental principle of taxation according to the ability to pay."

"The new so-called use tax is nothing more than a subterfuge for an additional sales tax," he said.

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower's unbroken record of never having had a veto overridden is establishing him as one of the toughest chief executives with which any Congress has dealt.

The one-vote margin by which 132 House Republicans and 6 Democrats sustained Eisenhower's veto of a $1,216,000,000 public works bill Wednesday left the dominant Democratic majority mired in new political frustration.

As it had 143 times previously, Congress bowed to Eisenhower's rejection of a measure that a majority of both houses had supported previously. In comparison, 12 of Harry S. Truman's 250 vetoes and 9 of Franklin D. Roosevelt's 631 vetoes were overriden.

★ ★ ★

Beyond his veto record, however, Eisenhower is demonstrating that a president who stands his ground can come close to getting what he wants out of a Congress overwhelmingly controlled by the opposition party.

★ ★ ★

This is no means political accomplishment and politicians of both parties recognize it is likely to have some deep-seated effect on the outcome of next year's presidential and congressional elections.

GRABS THE BALL

Some leading Democrats admit privately that Eisenhower has grabbed the ball away from them and is making a lot of political yardage with his budget-balancing and anti-inflation maneuvers.

★ ★ ★

His vetoes have all but destroyed the bold, imaginative programs Democratic leaders were talking about in January. Time after time they have had to tailor their production to fit the pattern laid down by the President, as they seem likely to do in a new public works bill.

The general effect on this has been to draw a sharper line between the parties on the highly important economic issue. In the public mind, Eisenhower appears to have become to many the symbol of the "savers," battling the Democratic "spenders."

Nasser, Saud Chit-Chat

Charge They Aided Nationwide Ring

Dope Rackets Grand Jury Indicts Chicago Police

CHICAGO (AP) — A special grand jury probing the dope rackets has indicted three Chicago policemen and a former federal narcotics agent on charges they were involved in a coast-to-coast narcotics distribution ring.

★ ★ ★

Seventeen others, many alleged narcotics peddlers, were named Wednesday in indictments which followed monthlong questioning of hundreds of witnesses, many brought here from prison cells.

The ring, the government said, was headquartered in Chicago and grossed $75,000 every 10 days here alone.

The indictments were described as a major development in the Justice Department's drive against organized crime and racketeering.

The policeman, Sheldon E. Teller, Miles J. Cooperman, 29, and Richard E. Austin, 37, until recently all members of the police narcotics detail, were accused of giving protection to the ring for money.

This was done, the indictment read, "by advising their codefendants and coconspirators of the plans and activities of governmental agencies charged with the responsibility of enforcing the laws relating to illicit traffic in narcotics."

The former agent, Edward R. Gayles, 38, a Negro, now an attorney, was charged with conspiracy with six codefendants and eight alleged coconspirators for conspiring to import narcotics for sale and distribution in the United States.

Police Commissioner Timothy J. O'Connor immediately suspemded the three policemen. They surrendered to federal agents and were held on $5,000 bond each. Gayles was arrested and later released under $5,000 bond.

Teller told newsmen he and the other detectives are innocent of any wrongdoing.

Air Crash Kills Eight in Alaska

6 Young Girls Perish as Plane Cracks Up in Storm Near Fairbanks

FAIRBANKS, Alaska (AP)— Lost in a storm and running low on fuel. That was the last terse report from the pilot of a chartered plant that crashed in central Alaska Tuesday night carrying eight persons, including six girls, to their deaths.

The girls, all in their early 20s or late teens, had been selling magazine subscriptions and were homeward bound when the twin-engine C45 plunged to the ground near McGrath, 300 miles southwest of here.

Killed were C.W. (Bud) Priest, Anchorage, the pilot; C.A. Bailey, 35, Seattle, who had charge of the tour; Rosalee Johnson, Conrad, Mont.; Diane Nelson, Fargo, N.D.; Shirley Salazar, Hawaii; Cathy Clark, Cheyenne, Wyo.; Albert McKellop, Tulsa, Okla.; and Virginia Lee Ostrander, 18, Seattle.

In Seattle, Miss Ostrander's mother said, "Virginia Lee planned to return home yesterday but they decided to stay in Alaska a few days more."

Bailey, formerly of Lynchburg, Va., worked on contract for the Local Reader Service of Chicago. His wife and three children now live in Seattle, where a regional office was established.

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP)—Earl Michael Jenkins, 5, laid the blame on inadequate education after he disappeared for several hours on his way home from his first day at school.

Cape Workers Back on Missile Projects

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (UPI) — More than 800 construction workers involved in several important missile projects returned to work today following settlement of a wage dispute.

The three-day strike at the nation's missile test center ended yesterday when striking equipment operators won in a wage dispute with a civilian construction firm. The walkout had virtually halted construction activity at the base.

The settlement cleared the way for the return of more than 800 construction workers working on such projects as the Pershing and Minutemen missiles and the Saturn space rocket.

Enthusiasm High at Navy Base

Bound for South Pole? Take Golf Clubs Along

By MAURICE CUTLER

LITTLE AMERICA V, Antarctica (UPI)—Memo to prospective visitors to the Antarctica: Take your golf clubs with you.

Enthusiasm for golf runs high at this U. S. Navy base some 750 miles from the bottom of the world. With the arrival of summer, proponents of the grand old game don their "muckluck" snow boots and take to the "greens."

Called the "Sam Snead of Antarctica," Navy Capt. Eugene H. Maher, of Ogden, Utah, is promoting the sport as a recreational activity here. Maher is the officer in charge of the seven U. S. bases in the Antarctic and makes his headquarters at Little America.

Among the advantages of golfers around here is the fact that they can play it 24 hours a day, since the sun never sets during the seven months of summer from September through April.

Maher, a husky-looking man in his late 40's, introduced this correspondent to South Pole golf late this month in a one-hole contest played on the deep snow that covers the base.

All you need, he said, is a club, preferably an iron; a ball, preferably of soft material and for obvious reasons any color other than white, and someone to carry your camera and take pictures, because no one is going to believe you when you get back home.

We opened the Captain's back door and found a pile of snow about five feet high. Maher climbed out with a club and a ball for each of us and helped me through the hole in the snow into the sunshine.

After selecting his club, a four-iron, Antarctica's pioneer golfer handed me the other club, a number five, and a ball apparently made out of twine. It weighed a little less than a normal golf ball, and it was a bright red.

When I asked for a tee, Maher said "that's not necessary," and scooped up a pile of snow, placed his ball on the "tee" and announced that the first hole was a half-buried radio pole about 100 yards away.

My experienced adversary addressed the ball and drove it about 30 yards, leaving the snowy tee intact. After two attempts to lift the ball off the snow, I managed to drive it some 10 yards where it landed in a trough of hard snow.

Almost one-third of all American homes have ice cream on hand on an average day and about one-half of them serve ice cream as a dessert at least once a week, according to the Minnesota Dairy Industry Committee.

The Balkan Mountains extend through the center of Bulgaria, rising to a height of 8,000 feet.

Pennsylvania's greatest income is from coal and steel industries, but more than half the land area of the state is in farms.

New Technique Used on Nursery Stock

Halts Insect Infection

LANSING — The Conservation Department's development of an effective and inexpensive method to prevent shipment of insect-infected nursery stock has stirred considerable interest among forestry officials of neighboring states.

The technique was introduced after the European pine shoot moth was discovered in several nursery beds in the fall of 1957.

Applying and expanding research data obtained from the Canadian Department of Agriculture, the department built fumigation chambers at Higgins Lake and Wyman nurseries. After nursery stock was baled and ready for shipment, it was placed in these chambers and methyl bromide gas was injected.

During the fall of 1957 and spring of 1958, more than 8,500,000 red pine seedlings and transplants were treated. Jack pine and white spruce species were also experimentally treated and planted.

The fumigation project's effectiveness in killing larvae while not being injurious to treated stock, has prompted forestry officials to continue its use on red pine and to test other tree species on an experimental basis.

Legion Leaders Criticize Diggs

Negro Post Commander Chides Congressman for Running From Fight

DETROIT (AP) — The Negro commander of American Legion Post 184 has criticized Rep. Charles Diggs (D-Mich) for resigning from the legion in protest against what Diggs called racial discrimination.

Diggs, a Negro from Detroit, announced his resignation last week because the Legion's national convention rejected a proposal to integrate its 40 & 8, a fun-making auxiliary.

John M. Harris, commander of Post 184, of which Diggs was a member, said he had written the congressman urging him to reconsider.

"I have always held you in highest esteem for being a fighter for the civil rights we as Negroes are entitled to, but certainly do not have," Harris wrote Diggs. "Yet you quit in the face of a fight."

Harris, a Ford Motor Co. electrician, said his post currently is all Negro, but has had white members in the past.

Paris Thunders Welcome to Eisenhower

By RELMAN MORIN

PARIS (AP)—Dwight D. Eisenhower the diplomat rode down the Champs Elysee Wednesday. A million or more Parisians cut loose in frenzied enthusiasm equaled only on the liberation of the city from the Germans by the forces of Dwight D. Eisenhower the general.

★ ★ ★

"Je vous aime, tous"—"I love you, all."

★ ★ ★

"We love you too, Ike," came the thunderous response, in spirit if not in those exact words.

For Eisenhower, on another mission in a quest of peace, it was a day poignant with memories.

And the French put on a show of pageantry to make it a day to remember for the first American President to visit France since Woodrow Wilson after World War I.

The rousing welcome began the moment Eisenhower's jet touched down from London and carried on into the night. The early evening drive up the Champs Elysee brought the crowning climax.

Eisenhower and President Charles de Gaulle stood up in the open car as they proceeded up the avenue to the Arch of Triumph. Eisenhower beamed broadly, bowed repeatedly, held both hands over his head again and again.

He wore a dark civilian suit. De Gaulle wore the general's uniform of the French army he led in World War II under Eisenhower's over-all command.

The vast throng fell silent as the two old soldiers reached the tomb of France's unknown soldier under the arch.

Massed there were French and American veterans of both world wars. . .a man with a mutilated, grotesque mask of a face. . .a man limping on a wooden leg. . . a blind man behind dark glasses. . .and a cluster of generals and admirals.

Two Americans, a Negro Army sergeant and an Air Force sergeant, handed the President the wreath.

Eisenhower gently placed the wreath and then, in a symbolic ritual, he took a sword and increased the eternal flame that flickers at the head of the tomb.

A ruffle of drums that swelled in crescendo broke the silence. A band played the "Sonnerie aux Morts," the French Taps.

Eisenhower kept his eyes on the tomb and the flickering flame about it.

The band struck up "The Stars and Stripes Forever" as the President walked through the ranks of war veterans, French and American.

With the conclusion of the solemn ceremony, the crowd burst again into cheering as the two presidents rode away for the city's official welcome at the hotel de ville, the Paris city hall.

To the huge crowd waiting in the square there, De Gaulle said: "Although the years pass, nothing can efface the memory of the victory won under his command by the Allied armies and, naturally in France, with the soldiers of France.

"Proof that one does not forget? Paris has just given it"

Eisenhower—if he had prepared notes—discarded them in replying. Looking across the vast audience he said: "When the heart is full, the tongue is very likely to stumble. Should I try to express to you today the true feelings, the true sentiments that now inspire me, I should be completely unable to speak at all."

Burst of applause interrupted him. The President swallowed hard as he went on: "We have been allies for many years, from the days of Lafayette. . .To this very moment, America cherishes the friendship, the loyal cooperative effort that have always been here whenever she needed it from France."

Fire in Oven Vent Hard to Extinguish

A stubborn fire, confined to a baking oven, kept Pontiac firemen at the Pontiac Motor Division Foundry Plant for several hours this morning.

★ ★ ★

Plant protection officers said the fire was caused by an excess of residue in the ventilating system of the oven. It did not cause much damage but was difficult to extinguish due to its location.

Trucks were called to the plant at about 7:30 a.m. One pumper remained there until shortly before noon. No damage estimates have been announced.

Psychological Warfare Part of Defense Course

A discussion of psychological warfare, Communist style, will be a new feature of the Medical Emergency Course, about to begin its third year in Pontiac under the direction of the Oakland County Office of Civil Defense and the Oakland County Health Department.

The 13-week course will be held from 8 to 10 p.m. Thursday nights at Mark Twain School, beginning with registrations at 7:45 p.m. Sept. 10.

"The course offers training in the event of any medical emergency, whether it be natural disaster, an enemy-borne disaster, accident or family illness," said the course supervisor, Mrs. Herminio Rodriguez g jr., a nurse who acts as coordinator for medical training for the county civil defense office.

The lecture on psychological warfare will be given by Mrs. Rodriguez. She said it would cover the background of Communist plans and tactics and the present techniques used by Communist infiltrators.

Other subjects will include first aid; medical emergencies arising out of nuclear, biological and chemical warfare; sanitation, home protection, basic nursing techniques and artificial respiration.

★ ★ ★

Films will be shown and the final class will be devoted to a field exercise in which the school will be converted into a temporary hospital.

The course is open to the public. It is sponsored by the Pontiac Office of Civil Defense.

Dig Into Stonepile for Port Huron Boy

PORT HURON (UPI) — Workers using power equipment began digging into a huge pile of crushed stone in search of an 8-year-old boy missing since Tuesday morning.

★ ★ ★

Meanwhile, hundreds of police, skin divers, Boy Scouts and other volunteers continued scouring the St. Clair River, the fields and the woods for young Paul Ferriby.

★ ★ ★

It was feared the boy may have wandered into the Peerless Cement Co. plant near his home and become engulfed in a 14-ton pile of crushed stone over a hopper which draws the stone into the plant.

India's Menon Will Attend U.N. Despite Red Threat

NEW DELHI (UPI) — Premier Jawaharlal Nehru said today Defense Minister V. K. Krishna Menon will head India's U.N. delegation this year as usual despite the Communist threat to the nation's northern borders.

Nehru spoke in Parliament in answer to a pointed question from Socialist leader Acharya Kripalani, who asked whether it was wise for the defense minister to leave India at a time of crisis.

"The country's defense is in safe hands," Nehru said. "If necessary, further arrangements could be made without difficulty . . . the defense minister could be called back."

Kripalani was active earlier in the week in a campaign led by the opposition in an effort to force Menon to resign. Newspapers here charged that he had been playing politics with the armed forces.

India is preparing to rush troops to the border states of Bhutan and Sikkim to meet the threat of Communist infiltration from conquered Tibet, it was reported today.

The Hindustan Standard said a regiment of Gurkhas, tough little mountain men from the border state of Nepal, is reported already on the way from Darjeeling to an unannounced destination.

Unconfirmed reports earlier this week said armed Reds from China had already invaded Bhutan. Other Communist units were reported massing opposite Larchen and the Nathula Pass, points where it is practical for men in large numbers to cross the rugged Sikkim border.

IN CALCUTTA

In Calcutta, police gunfire killed two rioters in the waterfront area, increasing the toll of this week's savage mob violence to at least 12 persons dead.

Hoodlum mobs swarmed in the streets, setting fire to shops, in some cases attacking police stations with home-made bombs or bricks and in general carrying off everything that wasn't nailed down.

The new outbreak of rioting—one of the first incidents of daylight violence in this week's disorders—coincided with the start of a Communist-sponsored general strike which virtually paralyzed Calcutta.

The first electric sign in the United States was hung by Miners theater at 28th and Broadway in New York City and the year was in 1882.

Fugitive's Wife to Stand By Him

Were Married During 10 Years He Was at Large From Michigan

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—The wife of an escaped Michigan convict, whom he married during 10 years of fugitive existence under an assumed name, says she will stand by him.

"Now we can go back to Michigan and straighten this out," said Mrs. Lenora Marks, 26, who married Frank Marks in Alvin, Tex., eight years ago.

Marks, whose real name is Calvin Coolidge Pandall, 34, formerly of Logansport, Ind., was arrested at the couple's home in suburban El Cajon yesterday. He said at county jail he would waive extradition.

During the 10 years of life as Frank Marks, following his escape May 29, 1949, he had worked as a house painter in Pennsylvania, Texas and California.

He said a previous wife, Grace, of Logansport, divorced him while he was serving time at the Ionia State Reformatory for violating parole from a 1946 conviction of burglary in Battle Creek.

He and his present wife have a daughter, Susan, 7.

Surgeon General Hails Salk Shots

WASHINGTON (AP)—Results of the Salk polio vaccine were hailed yesterday by Surgeon General Leroy E. Burney as a major triumph for preventive medicine.

* * *

He cited new statistics on paralytic polio cases this year in which vaccination status is known. The study shows 83.7 of those cases involved persons who were unvaccinated or vaccinated fewer times than required.

Conceding that the number of paralytic cases reported this summer is well above last year's, Burney nevertheless said very substantial progress has been made.

Hal Boyle Says:

Architect Lapidus Defends Adornment

NEW YORK (AP) — Architect Morris Lapidus today is America's leading designer of resort hotels.

Asked what he thought of it, he snapped: "It's an anthill!" To which Lapidus, designer of the hotel, replied: "I'm flattered. An anthill is one of the greatest abodes nature ever perfected.

BOYLE

Lapidus, who has designed everything from stores to skyscrapers, is best known for some 75 million dollars worth of ornate tourist hotels that stud Florida and the Caribbean.

* * *

Lapidus himself, busy planning a 100-million-dollar office, hotel and shopping center in Los Angeles, rather enjoys the controversy.

"Some members of my profession say, 'You're too corny — you're pandering to the public,'" he said. "Yes, I am. My critic is the masses. I design for them.

"Let's stop trying to educate the human race. Let's just make them happy."

The big quarrel between Lapidus and his critics is over adornment. He thinks much of modern architecture is becoming too bare and stern.

* * *

"The love of adornment fills a basic need in people, a need as basic as food or sex. Much architecture today ignores this human desire," he says.

"I'm not a Hollywood character who merely tries to shock people. I don't do things just to be sensational.

"But hotels and restaurants are not like factories or schools. They are places where people go to get a lift—to get out of their humdrum life.

"What I try to do is to create buildings which give people a sense of exhilaration and enjoyment. Some architects feel we have reached a point where we are sophisticated enough to admit pure structure and pure form.

* * *

"That may be true of a minority. But the majority still get an emotional bang out of adornment. Rich colors, beautiful materials and handsome decorations satisfy their emotional need for adornment.

Lapidus studied coppersmithing, his father's craft, as a boy. Later he acted and studied stage designing.

In a way, he designs his hotels as if they were vast stage sets.

His creed: "Even a doghouse, or a birdhouse, should have adornment."

"We're in one of the great golden ages of building, and it hasn't reached the peak yet," he said.

* * *

"The trouble is that when a civilization reaches the golden period of its architecture, it crumbles. That happened in Egypt, Greece and Rome.

* * * *

To Vote on School Bonds

BOYNE CITY (AP) — Boyne City school district residents will vote in October on a $995,000 bond issue to finance an elementary school and combined junior-senior high school. A $1,400,000 issue for similar purposes was defeated in June 1958. The new school would replace one built in 1905 and now described as overcrowded and a fire hazard.

★ ★ ★

Visitors will see more Michigan livestock and farm products than have ever been shown at the State Fair in its entire history.

The veterans will have their big day on Saturday, Sept. 5, climaxed by the naming of the "Veteran of the Year" with appropriate ceremonies in front of the Music Shell. All veterans will be admitted free by wearing a service cap or by presenting suitable identification.

Dr. Reuben Youngdahl, pastor of Mt. Olivet Lutheran Church in Minneapolis and one of the nation's foremost Protestant leaders, will deliver the sermon at the ninth annual Sunrise Service this Sunday. He is expected to address a crowd of more than 10,000.

★ ★ ★

Union and labor organizations will step into the spotlight on Labor Day, Monday, with an unusual program arranged for the entire day.

★ ★ ★

The kiddies will have their chance to participate in the Fair activities on Tuesday in the annual Children's Day festivities. There'll be pie eating contests, pony-tail events for the girls and a full day of events for all youngsters.

★ ★ ★

Governor Williams will have the limelight on Wednesday, the traditional Governor's Day and Agriculture Day at the Fair. He'll make a tour of the grounds in the morning, lunch with the bevy of beauties vying for the Miss Michigan State Fair title, participate in the auctioning of the grand champion livestock in the afternoon in the Coliseum and then crown "Miss Michigan State Fair" in the evening in the Music Shell.

Oldtimers, many as old as 90 or more, will be honored guests on Thursday, Sept. 10, and will compete in a series of contests throughout the late morning and afternoon in the Music Shell.

Then follows Family Day with the selection of "Mrs. Michigan State Fair" on Friday, Sept. 11; Teachers Day on Saturday, Sept. 12, at which many of the state's outstanding educators will be honored; and the windup comes on Sunday, Sept. 13, with the huge International Day festival.

In addition, there'll be free shows twice a day in the grandstand for the first nine days and then a 250-mile new stock car race in front of the grandstand on the closing day, Sunday, Sept. 13, and a gigantic free fireworks display that last Sunday night.

The Coliseum will feature its traditional stage shows during the first four days and nights with Dick Clark, Frankie Avalon, Duane Eddy, The Coasters, LaVern Baker and 10 other acts. The show for the final three days and nights will be featured by Tony Bennett, The Mills Brothers, Connie Francis, Richard Hayman, the Blackburn Twins, Sparkletones and the Johnny Conrad dancers.

Blames NCO in Burglaries

Polish Youth, on Bond, Says ROTC Instructor Accepted Loot

A 17-year-old Polish youth released on $1,000 bond from the Oakland County Jail yesterday pending examination Sept. 11 on a breaking and entering charge has incriminated an ROTC instructor formerly at Cody High School in Detroit.

Albin Kurylczyk of Hamtramck, claimed yesterday that the instructor, a sergeant in the regular Army, encouraged him to commit 40 burglaries.

State Police of the Redford Post, who are handling the investigation, refused to name the sergeant pending charges. He has been transferred out of the country, they said.

Kurylczyk, an unidentified 16-year-old youth, and Angel Jaime, 33, of 28252 Shiawassee St., Farmington, were arrested in connection with burglaries committed in the Farmington-Redford-Detroit area.

★ ★ ★

The Polish youth told troopers that he and the other boy had turned over their loot to Jaime and the Army sergeant and that the latter encouraged them to "get" other items for him to buy from them. Jaime has denied the charge.

State Police have asked the U.S. Army to question the sergeant.

Kuryczyk, who has been living with his mother and stepfather in Hamtramck, has said that he wants to become a U.S. citizen and join the Marines. Now he is afraid that he will be deported instead.

Macomb County Deputies Turn Into Angels

Hungry, Forlorn Family of 12 Smiles Again

MOUNT CLEMENS (AP)—A hungry, wandering family of 12 which had just about given up hope was found and pulled from despair early today by Macomb County sheriff's deputies.

Deputies Lewis Marasco and William Balfour were on routine road patrol when they spotted a battered 1951 sedan parked on a Clinton Township roadside near here.

Marasco said, "We stopped and went over to check it. It was pretty beat up and really had seen the road."

They found Kenneth Payne, 46, and five children sleeping on the ground around the auto. Mrs. Payne, 33, was asleep inside the car with five other children. The children range in age from eight months to 15 years.

Payne told the officers he and his family had lived in Memphis, (Mich.), but went to Illinois when Payne lost his job. He worked briefly in Illinois, then lost his job again.

"They looked for work in Port Huron and Detroit areas yesterday but couldn't find anything," Marasco said. "The family seemed to have just about given up all hope."

The officer added: "Balfour and I decided that we ought to try to help these folks. We went to Mount Clemens and got them a $25 check from the sheriff's emergency relief fund. I thought the man was going to cry when we gave him the check.

"Then we went to a motel and arranged with the manager, J. Stewart, to let them have two units without cost temporarily. He agreed and they moved in.

"After that we had the guys at the office contact a construction company in New Baltimore. The company said to send Payne over and they would have work for him.

"He starts tomorrow."

Ship Company Sets Great Lakes to Europe Run

DETROIT (AP) — T. J. McCarthy Steamship Co. of Detroit announced today it will inaugurate a Great Lakes to Europe run Oct. 1.

The company said it had chartered a 10,000-ton fast general cargo ship, the Alco Puritan, and that ship would be the first from a Great Lakes firm to fly its flag on the high seas.

T. J. McCarthy Jr., board vice-chairman, said the Alcoa Puritan will call at Chicago and Kenosha, Wis., as well as Detroit.

If the Maritime Commission grants an operating subsidy, McCarthy said his firm planned to build its own fleet of ocean-goong cargo ships, but said a subsidy is needed to offset cheap labor available to foreign ships sailing to and from the Great Lakes.

Matures Fast in Heat, Rain

State Produce Ahead of Schedule

DETROIT (AP)—Fruit and vegetables are a week to 10 days ahead of their season schedule because of high temperatures and rain, the Michigan State University Cooperative Extension Service reported today.

The service said the supply of fruit is excellent but that the quality of some vegetables has been affected by the weather.

The service emphasized that the information on features and prices applied only to Wayne, Oakland and Macomb counties.

This is the peak week of production and low prices.

Sweet corn continues to be in fine quality and supply.

Cucumber quality has not been greatly affected but supplies will taper off in another 10 days. Volume harvest of green peppers are arriving in slightly larger sizes and good quality.

★ ★ ★

Some Michigan celery has been weather damaged and some stalks may be small due to the necessity to strip the outer stalks.

The quality of caultiflower is variable though improved. Both summer and winter squash varieties are abundant aand extremely economical.

PEACHES MATURE FAST

Fruits: Peach harvestings were interrupted by the showers and the hot weather continued to bring the peaches to maturity faster than expected. Michigan Bartlett pears have begun to make their appearance.

There are plentiful supplies of plums.

The late crop of homegrown cantaloupe has been hurt by the rain and heat, but prices are still at reasonable levels. The fall apple crop is about a week to 10 days earlier on all varieties.

Meat: Hot weather has decreased both the demand and the receipts of pork and caused a general depression of prices.

Little change has occurred in the general beef market.

Lamb supplies are abundant but there are no changes in the retail market.

★ ★ ★

Though production of fryers has been somewhat curtailed, market supplies are still heavy and retailers are featuring them at economical prices. Consumer sizes of turkey between 4 and 16 pounds are also in their peak of supply. Prices are believed to be at their lowest levels.

★ ★ ★

Eggs and dairy: Small sizes of eggs are in heavy supply, medium ones are constantly becoming more plentiful and large sizes are decreasing. Overall supplies are heavier than usual at this time, becoming the best value by weight. Medium Grade A eggs are steadily and quality.

Cambodia Arrests Bomb Suspects

PNOM PENH, Cambodia (UPI)—Authorities investigating Monday's palace bombing have ordered the arrest of "a number" of members of the anti-government underground, it was reported today.

The arrests resulted from a palace guard officer's report that he received a letter signed by the underground last week advising him to resign his post because "we are going to wipe out the whole royal family."

Prince Vakrivan, chief of palace protocol, and two other members of the royal staff were killed when a package addressed to King Suramarit and Queen Sisowath exploded while it was being unwrapped.

Sugars Are Colorless

NEW ORLEANS — When refined all sugars are colorless and odorless and cannot be distinguished by ordinary chemical tests.

Delaware has only 295 miles of railway and Rhode Island only 194.

Fire in Imlay City Damages Building

IMLAY CITY — Fire of undetermined origin last night destroyed a shed and damaged Schonfield's vegetable storage building on Main street beside the Grand Trunk Railroad tracks here.

Imlay City firemen had to don oxygen masks to enter the main building the smoke was so intense.

The shed which is attached to the main structure was filled with wooden crates. The large refrigerated building was being remodeled so it was empty.

The Attica fire department stood by at the scene. Extent of loss has not been determined.

Experiment With Mice

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—Two tiny white mice now living in a sealed glass jar at a Chance Vought aircraft laboratory may show man how he can breathe and eat when he makes long voyages in space or explores distant planets.

★ ★ ★

The mice, named Yoke and Zebra, and four quarts of life-giving algae and water make up the experiment which Chance Vought's space medicine scientists hope will show them how to build a sealed chamber capable of producing vital oxygen food and water for space travelers.

The mice have been in the sealed jar for 17 days and Dr. Russel O. Bowman of the research team conducting the experiment says they are thriving.

★ ★ ★

In an earlier experiment Yoke lived in the jar for 292 hours. Troubled with patchy fur when he entered the jar, he now is in excellent condition, Dr. Bowman said.

★ ★ ★

To the jar containing the mice Bowman has attached—by a system of pumps and tubing—a narrow, 4-foot-high, fluorescent-lighted, double-walled plastic tank holding the algae and water.

The algae provide oxygen for the mice and the mice supply carbon dioxide for the plant.

Currently the mice are being fed laboratory food in pellets. Later they will be fed algae to which certain salts and nitrogen-yielding urea are added.

Khrushchev Wars on Missile Plans

By CHARLES STAFFORD
AP Feature Writer

With threats of retaliation, Nikita Khrushchev is trying to scuttle plans of the West to ring Russia with missile launching sites.

A glance at a map and some quick calculations make it clear why the Soviet premier is working so hard to convince members of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) that they should refuse United States offers of intermediate range ballistic missiles (IRBMs).

The range of the IRBM is 1,500 miles. Armed with nuclear warheads, they could rain devastation on much of Russia from launching sites in Western Europe (see map).

The NATO missile plan has barely gotten started, however.

Great Britain has four squadrons of Thor IRBMs, each handling 15 missiles. But they are not ready to fire. Defense Secretary Neil McElroy said in late April it has taken longer "to prepare the bases and to install ground equipment than was originally anticipated."

Italy agreed last March to accept IRBMs. Two squadrons of Jupiter missiles will be stationed in northern Italy near Milan. It will be some time before these are ready to fire.

Negotiations are under way to locate IRBMs on Greek soil, but no agreement has been reached.

NATO has proposed placing IRBMs in The Netherlands, France and Turkey. So far, only Turkey has announced its willingness to accept them.

When a nation accepts missiles, it agrees that any decision to fire them will require the joint approval of its government and NATO's supreme headquarters.

President Eisenhower told Congress the program was undertaken because Russia "left no doubt that the most modern and destructive weapons of all times were being introduced into the Soviet armed forces."

He also said, "The introduction of modern weapons into NATO forces should be no cause for concern on the part of other nations since NATO is a purely defensive alliance."

Khrushchev obviously doesn't agree.

On May 26, while visiting Albania, the Russian leader said: "If the governments of Italy and Greece permit the Americans to set up rocket bases on their territory then it is possible that we will be forced to arrange with the government of . . . Albania to set up something against them. And if you put medium range rockets or even short range rockets in Albania, they will be able to cover all Italy."

★ ★ ★

Back in Moscow in early June, Khrushchev said: "I believe that the governments of Italy and Greece will be sensible and will not agree to subject their peoples to danger." He also warned:

"To put rocket installations into motion means to start a world war, to plunge the peoples of peaceful countries into its abyss."

Khrushchev proposed a "rocket-free, non-atomic zone" in the Balkans. A few days later, he proposed a similar zone in the Baltic Sea area, suggesting that Denmark and Norway withdraw from NATO.

A year ago, Foreign Minister Adam Rapacki of Poland—with Russia's backing—proposed a nuclear-free zone in central Europe. Nothing came of that plan for the same reason nothing is likely to come of Khrushchev's: Western doubts that Russia is sincere.

While the Rapacki plan was being debated, Norwegian military officials said they had information that Russia already had built Germany, Poland and Czechoslo- IRBM launching platforms in East Germany charged that a Soviet vakia. A short while later, West rocket fortress, armed with IRBMs and other nuclear weapons, was being erected in East Prussia.

And a year before Khrushchev threatened to send missiles to Albania, diplomatic informants in Washington said they had information that the Russians were constructing missile launching sites at the Albanian port of Valona.

Ha! Ha! Bay Place of No Return, Says Collector

If you do, see Richard H. Nagel, who collects railroad timetables. Ha! Ha! Bay is in Canada and a train leaves for there every day from Arzida, Quebec.

★ ★ ★

House Will Act on Vetoed Bill

Bows to Ike's Wishes; to Pass Scaled-Down Public Works Program

WASHINGTON (AP) — Failing by one vote to override a veto of a bigger bill, the House was reluctantly ready today to bow to President Eisenhower's wishes and pass a scaled-down public works measure.

Scheduled for passage Friday or Monday was a bill appropriating $1,163,967,208 to finance several hundred river and harbor and flood control projects in almost every state. Left out were 67 projects in 32 states involving an initial outlay of $51,510,600 and an estimated over-all cost of $804,526,600.

It was inclusion of these projects in an earlier bill that caused Eisenhower to veto it because they were not provided for in his budget program.

The House Appropriations Committee meets today to whip the compromise bill into shape. Wednesday the House fell one vote short of the two thirds needed to override the veto of the $1,216,000,000 measure. The vote was 274-138, with 263 Democrats and 11 Republicans opposing the President's position and 6 Democrats and 132 Republicans upholding it.

It was the 144th bill vetoed by the President since he took office. None of them have been overridden.

Britain, Iceland Adamant

Fish War Enters Second Year

By GLENNE CURRIE

LONDON (UPI)—The "fish war" between Britain and Iceland is now in its second year, with neither side having made either territorial or diplomatic gains.

The dispute—over Iceland's unilateral extension of fishing rights to 12 miles from her shores—shows no sign of a solution before next March's international convention of the law of the sea, and possibly not even then.

Everybody concerned is heartily sick of it—with the possible exception of the British Navy—and would willingly come to some sort of agreement which would save face for both sides. But the two sides are so far apart it will need a spectacular "break-through" to settle things.

Iceland's livelihood depends on abundant fish. She feels that unrestricted fishing of her waters by a half-dozen European nations is rapidly depleting fish stocks. Accordingly, last Sept. 1 she extended her fishing limits from four to 12 miles and warned that any trawlers working inside the 12-mile limit would be arrested and heavily fined.

The British distant-water trawler owners, who get about a quarter of their total catch from Icelandic waters, and one-tenth from inside the 12-mile limit, stood to lose much of their income—though perhaps not as much as they claim. The British government, always jealous of its rights on the "high seas," claimed that attempted arrest of British trawlers outside three miles would be "piracy."

And promised full protection for the British trawlers.

That has been the pattern ever since.

As many as 122 British trawlers have been inside the limits at any one time, under the wing of three or four British frigates or destroyers. More than 40 British Navy vessels have taken part at various times, as protection vessels, tankers or supply ships. Four Icelandic gunboats have constantly been on patrol, hoping to make an arrest.

But there have been no arrests of trawlers following the Navy's instructions, and no one has been badly hurt. The gunboats have fired warning shots or blanks a few times; the protection vessels have yet to fire a shot at or near the Icelanders. Relations between British and Icelandic sailors have been surprisingly good.

For the Navy, it has provided valuable training. Commodore Barry Anderson, Scottish commander of the protection squadron until July, has admitted that "We have been getting wonderful sea training in an area where we may have to operate in any future trouble." He pointed out that the ships and personnel involved would have been on other duty if they hadn't been in Icelandic waters, and the cost to the British taxpayers has been negligible.

As far as the trawler owners are concerned, however, the situation is less rosy. Due partly to bad weather last winter—gales up to 104 knots—and partly to the restrcited fishing, Icelandic catches have dropped by about a third since the "war" started.

In Hull, the biggest distant-water port, landings are down from 1,700,000-half-ton kits in the year before the dispute to 1,009,535 kits. (A kit is a basket of fish.)

So far, retail prices have been little changed, because catches elsewhere were good. But a prolonged dispute would raise prices.

In 1940-41 the United States National Guard brought into Federal Service 300,034 men in organized and trained units.

Will Soviets Jam Voice of Premier From U. S.?

WASHINGTON (AP)—U.S. propagandists have come up with an apparent can't-lose proposition by deciding to beam back to the Soviet Union at least two major speeches by Premier Nikita Khrushchev.

Slated for live broadcast in full by Voice of America transmitters are Khrushchev's addresses during his visit here to the National Press Club Sept. 16 and to the U. N. General Assembly in New York Sept. 18.

Communist jammers so far have clattered full tilt against Russian language programs aimed their way by the Voice 16½ hours a day. The Reds say the Voice lies.

1. If the Soviets continue to jam, they will be open to worldwide ridicule for clobbering the voice of their own leader.

★ ★ ★

2. If they don't jam, Soviet listeners will have an unparalleled opportunity to tune in on the American radio.

FBI Chief Hits Crime Apathy

Blasts Citizens Who Stand By as Violence Rises in U.S.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover lasned out today at Americans who stand idle while criminals turn parts of the nation into a "no man's land" of violence.

Hoover, writing in the FBI law enforcement bulletin, described as "shocking" the 9.3 per cent increase in crime last year. He noted it was the highest rate in the recorded history of U.S. crime.

The FBI chief said the report showed that some areas are a veritable "no man's land" where crime is ever lurking. He reprimanded citizens who have a "detached attitude towards crime."

"This country's citizens," Hoover wrote, "must awaken to the fact that the war on crime is not just the battle of the law enforcement officer.

"Every citizen has a stake when hoodlums prowl the streets brazenly committing atrocities which appall even veteran police officers. No one is immune from the attacks of depraved murderers, robbers, sex offenders and kidnapers."

Hoover said the police officers are a "small patrol" when compared with the "army of law breakers roaming America."

"Often the law enforcement officer's battle is a lonely one," he added, "and too frequently the citizens who should be his allies are indifferent and apathetic."

★ ★ ★

The FBI director said he has been "repeatedly shocked recently by the alarming number of instances reported from throughout the country in which local law enforcement officers have been mercilessly gunned down by hoodlums."

Cites 'Inadequacies'

State Bar Group Urges Overhaul of JP System

LANSING (AP) — A complete overhaul of Michigan's justice of the peace system has been urged by a state bar committee.

A report from the committee of attorneys concluded that "inadequacies exist in the administration of justice court level, mostly because of lack of training, knowledge and information."

Recommendations will be offered to a meeting of the full bar in Detroit Sept. 24.

Possible solutions offered included:

1. Abolition of justice courts and their replacement by county courts of inferior civil and criminal jurisdiction, with legally trained judges on a salary basis.

2. A requirement that all justices of the peace be trained as lawyers.

3. Reduction in the number of justices provided by law.

4. Elimination of partisan election of justices of the peace.

The report said because of different conditions in various localities, it was recognized the proposals might not be practical in every part of the state.

"Many of the present inadequacies," the report stated, "might be corrected without changing the method of selection of justices."

It was noted a 1908 law gives circuit courts supervisory control over the justices courts.

The Washtenaw County Court, the report said, assumed this authority in cooperation with the County Bar Assn. and the prosecuting attorney.

As a result, two justices against whom the complaints were received were investigated and both resigned, the report stated.

Other county circuit courts and bar associations were urged to follow the Washtenaw County example.

The bar study committee also was flatly opposed to the present system of nomination of supreme court candidates by political parties.

The report said this "involves political commitments and the necessity of campaigning" and termed the non-partisan designation on the actual ballot as "hypocrisy."

The committee suggested nominees be selected by the governor from a list submittd by the bar and be prohibited from active campaigning.

Officials Order New Boundaries

Change Voting Precincts

Three of the changes are to reduce precinct populations to less than 1,400, the maximum size set by the state.

The others are sought to keep the number of Pontiac voting precincts at 44, said City Clerk Ada R. Evans, who recommended the changes.

"We'd have to buy more voting machines if we added more precincts," she said.

Commissioners Tuesday night ordered an ordinance prepared to make the new boundaries official.

Mrs. Evans said details of the changes will be worked out as the ordinance is prepared.

In general, the six changes are these:

Precincts 6 and 7 (both small) will be combined into one of normal size (about 1,000 voters).

Precinct 17 (with about 1,500 voters) and Precinct 18 (1,400) will each be split in two.

Precincts 19 and 44 (both small) will be combined into one of about 1,200 voting population.

The northern portion of Precinct 42 will be shifted to Precinct 2. Precinct 42 has more than 1,500 voters.

Voting district lines will not be affected by the changes, Mrs. Evans said. Precincts 6 and 7 are in District 3; Precincts 17, 18, 43, 19 and 44 are in District 5; and Precincts 42 and 32 are in District 4.

Film Mounties No Help

HULL, Que. (UPI) — Thieves broke into the Crawley Film Studios and stole a box containing $400, police reported today. The theft occurred during the shooting of a film on the Royal Canadian Mounted Police.

Scientist Believes Reds Ahead on Crew Capsule

LONDON (UPI) — An authoritative American scientist said today he had good reason to believe the Russians have advanced their manned space flight program to one of the last technical stages—keeping the crew of the capsule steady as it re-enters the atmosphere.

★ ★ ★

"I would say they had a lead of some months on us at the moment. But this doesn't necessarily mean they'll be first."

★ ★ ★

He said if the capsules "enter earth's atmosphere properly, man can withstand tremendous gravitational pressure. If they don't he's liable to be scraped off the walls."

★ ★ ★

According to the scientist, the matter of recovering a crew capsule one if lands on earth is a "bigger problem" to the Russians than to the United States.

He pointed out that the American and Allied navies could blanket the oceans for a relatively easy pickup should the crew capsule land in the sea.

"Russia doesn't have this naval capability," the scientist said. "They've got to make sure their their capsule lands somewhere in accessible areas of the Soviet Union or China where it can be easily reached."

"Until they're sure of this, they won't try," he concluded.

Talk of a manned statelite launching has predominated at the congress, which adjourned today to give the delegates time off for some sightseeing before the meeting's conclusion.

Big Traffic Jam, —That's Jakarta

88,000 Autos, 250,000 Bicycles and Only Two Signal Lights

JAKARTA, Indonesia (UPI) — Take 88,000 motor vehicles, 12,000 motorized bicycles or motorcycles, 20,000 pedicabs, 250,000 bicycles, 3,000,000 pedestrians and two traffic lights and you have quite a traffic jam. Jakarta certainly does.

"Yes," admitted Baron Winoto of the city's police department, "we have some traffic problems."

But the biggest of them all, he explained, is not the number of vehicles or traffic lights. It is the lack of traffic police.

Jakarta has a total of 250 persons in the police department's traffic control section. But, according to Winoto almost half of them are administrative personnel, leaving only about 130 for traffic duties, many of them part time.

To make matters worse, the two lights are installed in areas where traffic is lightest. They were put up just before the Bandung Conference in 1955.

At the time, officials had a grand plan for giving the city more than a dozen traffic signals. But the plan ran into hard times and bogged down in Indonesia's endless bureaucracy.

The idea was to install a string of lights running through one section of Jakarta. In fact, a commitment of $12,000 had been obtained from the U.S. International Cooperation Administration to cover the cost of the equipment.

But the project floundered as soon as customs officials pointed out to city officials that the lights were luxury items and they would therefore have to pay more than $30,000 in duty just to import the $12,000 worth of material.

But even with only about 130 traffic cops, only two traffic lights and no stop signs at all, Jakarta suffered only 131 traffic fatalities in 1958, Winoto said. There were 2,932 reported accidents with 1,978 injuries.

UF President Tells Goal for Detroit Drive

DETROIT (UP) — The United Foundation says its goal for the 1959 torch drive in Detroit will be $17,650,000.

Genson Ford, UF president, said the goal was "the largest ever set by any community in the nation. But even though this figure is larger than the amount we raised last year it is the minimum amount necessary to meet the needs of our 195 agencies."

The drive will be staged Oct. 13 through Nov. 5.

Up in Smoke? Naturally!

GRAND RAPIDS (UP) — It figured, when about $800 in merchandise went up in smoke Tuesday night in a fire started by an electrical wiring short circuit at a business place operated by S. Abraham and Sons. The firm is a wholesale tobacco shop. No one was injured.

How did the Vatican get its name? Some scholars say the word is derived from a vanished Etruscan town called Vaticum. Others suggest Vatican Hill was where a soothsaying king of legendary Rome declared his "vaticinia," or messages from the gods, about 600 B.C.

Air Guardsman Wins Trophy

Mount Clemens Man Takes Ricks Trophy for Aerial Photos

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — A Michigan Air National Guard pilot won the sixth annual Ricks Memorial Trophy competition, a test of speed and photographic skill, yesterday.

Another Michigan air guardsman was third.

Capt. Merwin F. Read, flying for the 107th squadron at Detroit, was third.

Reid, first of the 10 to take his Republic RF84F Thunderflash jet reconnaissance aircraft off the Memphis airport, placed second from the standpoint of speed, averaging 570 miles per hour for an elapsed time of one hour, 29 minutes and 10 seconds for the 850 miles.

The second pilot into the air, Lt. Robert G. Graham of Nashville, Tenn., flew the fastest race —1:28:39 for a new unofficial speed record of 580 m.p.h. between Memphis and Miami.

However, Graham's reconnaissance photographs were unacceptable. Of the three targets he photographed only one was clear enough to qualify.

Believe Deckhand Dead

PORT HURON (AP) — Frederick Ferguson, 38, of Buffalo, N.Y., was reported missing Wednesday from the tug boat Lydon and was presumed drowned. Ferguson, a deckhand, disappeared in the lower Lake Huron channel.

Negroes Map Due on Dismissal Voters in South

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — Plans are being mapped for a drive to qualify at least 100,000 Negro voters in Arkansas.

I.S. McClinton, Negro president of the Arkansas Democratic (Negro) Voters Assn., said the state has 250,000 potential voters out of a Negro population of 400,000.

The campaign will be launched at a Little Rock meeting Sept. 9. Six hundred Negro leaders from all sections of Arkansas have been invited.

Hold Seven Girls of Gang for Assault

MILLINOCKET, Maine (AP) — Seven members of a teenage girl gang called "the Kittens"—one of them the police chief's daughter—have been held for the grand jury on charges that they kicked and beat a 15-year-old baby sitter.

★ ★ ★

Gail Rideout, 17, daughter of Chief Lloyd L. Rideout; Roxanne Styles, 19, and sister, Constance, 17. The others were juveniles, and their names were not disclosed.

★ ★ ★

All were released in $1,000 bail. They were formally charged with aggravated assault on Jean Reed Saturday night.

★ ★ ★

There was no apparent motive for the attack, officials said.

Beware Flying Objects

GRANITE, Okla. (AP) — While driving to nearby Hobart, the Rev. and Mrs. Walther Haefker saw a sign warning of a nearby missile range and adding: "Watch for flying objects." Just then a piece of gravel from the road flew up and made a hole in the windshield of their car.

AERIAL WATCHDOG — A bolt from the blue may strike motorists on the Kansas Turnpike who think the road's 80-m. p. h. speed limit is too low. State police, flying the Cessna 182 above have nabbed 117 violators through July of this year — one-fifth of the total of speeding arrests. All have been upheld in court. Mile markers on the highway, plus a stop watch in the plane, enable troopers to accurately clock the speed of a car some 1,000 feet below them. When a speeder is identified, a radio message alerts a highway patrol car, which issues the ticket. Kansas' air-and-ground campaign has pushed speeding several steps down on the list of causes of turnpike accidents.

Billy Graham Blasts North's Racial Bias

ASHEVILLE, N.C. (AP) — If the recent juvenile violence in New York had occurred in a southern city, "there would have been an outcry for federal troops," says evangelist Billy Graham.

Graham said Wednesday in an interview he is convinced that "racial tension in many Northern cities is far greater than anywhere in the South."

British Ruling Due to Dismissal of Ship Captain

LONDON (AP) — The British High Court will be asked to rule soon whether Capt. James Armstrong of the Cunard liner Britannic was wrongfully dismissed.

Armstrong, 55, filed suit Wednesday claiming damages from Cunard for wrongfully firing him after 30 years with the steamship line. The amount of damages would be assessed by the court.

Armstrong was fired after a voyage from New York to Liverpool last June. His friends call it "the jealousy case." They say two women passengers complained that other women aboard got more than a fair share of the captain's hospitality.

Asks U.N. Council to Meet Regularly

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)— U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold suggests that the Security Council hold periodic private meetings to discuss any aspect of the international situation which may prove of concern to it.

He also says the Economic and Social Council should set up brief special sessions at the ministerial level looking toward international economic policies.

AAA Awards 2 National Honors

Praises State for Safety

LANSING (UPI) — Michigan has been named for two national safety honors from the American Automobile Association for cutting pedestrian death rates more than a third in three years.

The awards were for first place among the 11 largest population states and for tie with Connecticut for grand prize among all 50 states in the AAA national pedestrian protection contest for 1958.

Gov. G. Mennen Williams was presented with the awards yesterday.

Ralph Thomas, former AAA president, said Michigan was tops in school traffic safety programs, use of pedestrian accident records and in traffic engineering.

In 1955, there were 458 pedestrians killed in traffic and 7,181 injured. Last year, pedestrain deaths were cut to 302 and injuries to 6,183.

★ ★ ★

Thomas said the record was "the result of years of diligent, concentrated efforts by persons who spend practically every hour of the working day making this a safer state for all."

Red Press Warns About U.S. in Laos

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet press today stepped up its campaign against what Red Star called "gross U.S. interference in the affairs of Laos." Red Star, the Soviet Defense Ministry organ, pictured Laos as threatened by foreign military invasion.

"Pretexts are being prepared in advance for the movement of foreign troops into Laos. Plans are being worked out to transform its territory into a U.S. military springboard against the democratic Viet-Nam republic, against the Chinese People's Republic, against Cambodia and other countries in Southeast Asia," Red Star said.

Nonstriker's Car Damaged at Home

A Royal Oak man was one of two nonstrikers at Cross Co. to report to Mount Clemens Police today that their cars were damaged.

Edwin A. Hosking, 28, of 2019 Dallas St., Royal Oak, said the rear window in his station wagon was smashed last night while he was at work. The car was parked in the drive of his home.

Paul Czkekis, 38, of Grosse Pointe Woods, said a light bulb filled with paint was thrown at his car as he drove from the firm's Fraser plant last night.

The strike entered its 32nd day today.

Orders Arrest of 17 in Argentine Revolt

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP) —Secretary of War Elbio Anaya today ordered the arrest of 17 generals in a speedy counterattack against a large-scale rebellion within Argentina's army.

Garrisons throughout the country pledged allegiance to Gen. Carlos Toranzo Montero, who was fired by Gen. Anaya Wednesday.

The rebellious stand in the army erupted into a fresh military crisis for President Arturo Frondizi's government, which has been rocked by a series of conflicts within the armed forces since it took power 16 months ago.

Union Leader Host to Nikita

James B. Carey Plans to Offer Peace Plan to Khrushchev

WASHINGTON (AP) — Union leader James B. Carey said today he will propose in a dinner meeting with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev Sept. 20 at San Francisco that both the Soviet Union and the United States drastically reduce defense expenditures and devote the money to promoting peace.

Carey, president of the International Union of Electrical Workers, will be host at the dinner. Half a dozen other union leaders will attend.

"We want a frank exchange of views," Carey said. "We're not interested in just socializing."

Carey said he already has sent word through the Soviet Embassy he wants to discuss with Khrushchev the possibility of drastic U.S. and Soviet arms cuts, perhaps as much as 50 per cent of defense expenditures, with the money devoted to helping backward peoples of the world.

57 Millions Spent for Waterfowl Conservation

WASHINGTON (AP) — Nearly 57 million dollars has been spent on waterfowl conservation under a federal aid program iin the last 20 years, the interior department reports.

The federal government put up $42,300,000, or three-fourths, under the Pittman-Robertson Act providing for wildlife restoration projects. The states put up the remainder.

Of the federal total, $14,200,000 went into acquisition of waterfowl habitat areas, 22½ million was used for development, operation and maintenance; and $5,600,000 went into research.

Under the acquisition phase, the states acquired title to 672,543 acres, plus additional acreage on lease, at a cost of nearly 19 million dollars. Ths figure does not include any state expenditure in excess of the required matching.

Minnesota acquired title to the most acreage, 10,900 acres. Th s includes the 52,000-acre Roseau area, the largest state-purchased duck habitat under the program.

Arkansas ranks second with 82,680 acres. Then in order come Wisconsin with 57,663 acres, Michigan with 41,130 and Oregon with 27,000.

Wants Khrushchev's Visit to Be Safe

Red Official Checks U.S. Security Measures

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A high official of Russia's secret police, Maj. Gen. Nikolai S. Zacharoff, is now in the United States checking security arrangeemnts for the visit of Premier Nikita Khrushchev.

Official sources say Zacharoff and a top aide are visiting the cities where Khrushchev will stop and are checking the routes along which he will travel during his 12-day tour beginning Sept. 15.

He accompanied Khrushchev and then Premier Nikolai Bulganin when they visited England in 1956.

This is Zacharoff's first visit to the United States. But the assistant accompanying him has had a good opportunity to "case" this country. He is Vladimir T. Burdin, a KGB officer who was here earlier this year with Deputy Premiers Anastas I. Mikoyan and Frol R. Kozlov on their U. S. tours.

Zacharoff and Burdin, working with American security officers and local police, are inspecting airfields, hotels and other buildings for danger spots.

They are visiting Washington, Pittsburgh, Los Angeles, San Francisco, New York, Des Moines and Ames, Iowa. The Russians also will check the heavily guarded presidential retreat at Camp David, Md., where President Eisenhower and Khrushchev will hold Cold War talks Sept. 25 to 27.

Official sources said Zacharoff's arrival some days ago speeded completion of the detailed schedule for the Khrushchev visit. These sources said Soviet Ambassador Mikhail A. Menshikov, in charge of arranging the tour in consultation with State Department officials, was being "difficult" on some points until Zacharoff moved in and nailed down plans in jig time.

American officers describe Zacharoff as a top professional who who knows his job thoroughly, is easy to deal with and gets down quickly to essentials.

WANTED OPEN SPOTS

Menshikov had wanted to leave some open spots in Khrushchev's schedule for him to wander where he wished on the spur of the moment, an idea which American security officials received with horror.

★ ★ ★

Zacharoff quickly vetoed that idea and sided with American officers who were demanding a complete and airtight schedule.

Menshikov said late night, after a lengthy meeting with Undersecretary of State Robert Murphy, that Khurshchev's schedule and itinerary were complete except for "insignificant adjustments to be made."

But the State Department still was wrestling with the problem of deciding how to accommodate 318 foreign and American correspondents who have applied for accreditation to accompany the Khrushchev party. Among these are 39 Russia newsmen.

Plans to try to put all the press on one plane appeared doomed unless the department wished to incur the wrath of about 200 correspondents who would have to be left off under such an arrangement.

BRAKING POINT — Anyone who tries to run these stop signs at Lone Rock, Wis. will be wearing his rear license plate like a collar. Stuck smack up against a sheer rock wall, the signals may seem superfluous, but were erected to catch car headlights and warn motorists to turn left or right, after a number of autos barreled down the highway and slammed into the 'dead end.'

Plans, Fits Braces and Crutches

'Daddy Mac' Offers Hope to Crippled Youngsters

By BILL CLAYTON

OKLAHOMA CITY (UPI) — For hundreds of crippled youngsters, "Daddy Mac" is an almost miraculous figure who has made it possible for them to resume most normal activities.

"Daddy Mac" is William H. McDonald, supervisor of the brace department of the Children's Memorial Hospital, one of the teaching hospitals of the University of Oklahoma Medical Center here.

McDonald does most of the planning and fitting of braces and crutches for some 3,000 patients a year, many of them youngsters with birth defects and limb diseases who are entrusted to him after they have undergone surgery or medical treatment.

"Daddy Mac" runs a team of brace-makers who tool the metal, leather and elastic devices which can turn a child's fumbling steps into a smooth stride or can straighten a twisted limb.

Among McDonald's treasured possessions are letters and cards from patients attesting to their progress.

"Here's one I got just recently," he said proudly, extending a post card from a young girl who has been a patient since she was a child.

"I'm going to need some white shoes," she wrote, "for when I get married."

Years ago, walking was a laborious task for Laurita King. "Daddy Mac" fitted her with braces for both legs and provided a crutch for each arm. Soon she could walk well, and regained her poise.

"I prayed for some solution to this youngster's deformed wrists and legs and hands," McDonald said. "There had to be a way of fitting him to crutches so that he could begin to learn to walk.

"Late one night, I awoke with the answer, I may have dreamed it because I had been going to bed with the problem for what seemed like a long time.

He devised a crutch with box-like hand parts, so the youngster could rest his hands inside the partitions, and use the crutches.

McDonald, whose brace shop is 95 per cent financed by March of Dimes contributions, obviously derives much satisfaction from working with youngsters.

"One of the main things," he said, "is getting their confidence, so they won't be afraid of you. After they get over that, I don't have any trouble getting along with them. They have a way of sorta picking up with me."

Prison Looking for Paying Guests at Extravaganza

Prisoners will stage a two hour show — described as an extravaganza and satire—on Oct. 9. The public is invited to write in for tickets at 95 cents each.

The production tells of the troubles of the builders of the world's largest prison who have trouble filling it and so stage a television show to attract customers.

Red Newspapers Mum

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet press has not mentioned reports of Red Chinese encroachments on India's northeast frontier, nor Indian Prime Minister Nehru's placing the area under military control.

Test Soil Acidity Now

Now is the time to test for soil acidity in fields you'll plant to wheat this fall, says James A. Porter, Michigan State University soil scientist. Lime supplies calcium. It also helps legume bacteria take nitrogen from the air.

2 Million More Autos Crowd U.S. Highways

WASHINGTON (AP) — If you think the nation's highways are more crowded you're right. The government has estimated that more than 70 million vehicles are licensed for highway use—two million more than in 1958.

California has the largest number of registrations, with 7,300,000 expected this year. Forecasts for other leading states were: New York 4,900,000; Texas and Pennsylvania slightly more than four million each; Ohio, Illinois and Michigan more than three million; and New Jersey and Florida more than two million.

Wheat Good in State

Cookie maufacturers like Michigan's high-quality white winter wheat, says E. H. Everson, farm crops scientist at Michigan State University. He feels Genesee wheat gives top yields in most parts of the state. He also recommends using only certified seed.

GASTONIA, N. C. (UPI)—When a finance company repossessed William Bolding's car because of defaulted payments, Bolding filed suit for $199.50 to recover payments he had made.

When he found out that the company had also taken a quilt top in the car, Bolding filed an additional $50,000 indemnity suit.

Nothing in This Name Finds Carolina Judge

CHARLOTTE, N. C. (UPI) — Judge D. E. Henderson recalled today on his 80th birthday anniversary that his parents named him Jackson Ezekiel David James Nathaniel Sylvester Willie Edward Demosthenes Henderson in honor of his uncles in the hopes at least one of them would leave him something in the way of a legacy.

★ ★ ★

Henderson said all he got out of it was the name and a pair of pants from one uncle.

Communists to Unify India After English?

By J. M. ROBERTS
Associated Press News Analyst

International communism now shows some signs of replacing British rule as a great unifying force on the Indian subcontinent.

Since then they have been divided into separate states, India and Pakistan, have exchanged some blows, and have been at loggerheads over possession of Kashmir and control of the great northern river system.

★ ★ ★

Both maintain considerable armed forces poised against each other.

★ ★ ★

The world has considered it a pity this should have happened to the two peoples who put up such a consistent fight for independence, and whose poor economic status cries out for cooperation.

★ ★ ★

Under a program devised by the World bank, some hope has arisen that the water dispute will be settled and eventually lead to a compromise over Kashmir, a largely Moslem state formerly ruled by a Hindu prince who sought to cede it to India after independence.

★ ★ ★

Now come the Communists with their aggressive actions, their border violations and their aid to Afghanistan in building roads along the ancient West-East invasion routes by which the Moslems first came to India.

Prime Minister Nehru of India and President Ayub Kahn of Pakistan met briefly at an airport this week in an atmosphere of friendliness such has not occurred before in many years, and talked of cooperation.

This followed a statement by the Pakistan leader some weeks ago that the Pakistani and Indian armies, instead of facing each other, should stand side by side for defense.

Nehru then asked, "Defense against whom?"

The neutralist leader has had to revise a lot of his ideas in the past few weeks, and probably could answer his own question today without any fumbling.

★ ★ ★

Pakistan already is receiving American military aid. India refuses it. But Nehru knows that in a showdown with Red China he would have it quickly.

India and Pakistan would then be forced into a cooperation which would be comparable to that welcomed somewhat grudgingly by Winston Churchill when, because of common peril, the Soviet Union and Britain became allies during World War II.

India and Pakistan have a common future. India might be a viable state alone, but Pakistan, divided into two widely separated sections, can hardly hope for economic stability.

Communism may only force recognition of the need for cooperation. But it may also be about to perform an historic role looking toward reunion.

Drinks on House if Nikita Visits This Tavern

IRVINGTON, N.J. (AP)—Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev has been given an opportunity to cause a rare occurrence.

Some 40 patrons of a tavern have invited him to stop by for a drink when he visits this country.

If he does, proprietor Milt Hollander promises the drinks will be on the house.

Times Have Changed

WASHINGTON—The U. S. secret service bureau was established in 1860 and its only function then was to apprehend and prosecute counterfeiters.

In area, Brazil is 15 times larger than France. Each has about 42 million inhabitants.

Budget Official Sounds Warning

U.S. Spending May Top Figure Forecast by Ike in January

WASHINGTON (AP)—The deputy director of the Budget Bureau told Congress Wednesday that "the balanced budget for 1960 is in serious jeopardy."

Elmer B. Staats, the No. 2 budget official, said it now appears that spending will be significantly higher than the $77,030,000,000 forecast by President Eisenhower in January.

He did not mention a figure in testimony to the Senate Civil Service Committee, but it is understood that bureau specialists now believe budget outlays will rise to somewhere between 78½ and 79 billion dollars.

Revenues also are expected to exceed the January forecast of $77,100,000,000. However, the steel strike adds a factor of uncertainty here.

Staats testified in opposition to a bill that would provide health benefits for certain retired federal workers. He said this would cost the government 15½ to 22 million dollars a year and put further pressure on the budget.

Much of his testimony was devoted to the government's general fiscal situation.

If you consider that the purchasing power of the dollar was $1.00 in the 1947-49 period, then it was worth $268.10 in 1909 and less than 83 cents today.

Works at Wrong Things, Says Leaflet

Boss Operates Like Rest of Us

By ARTHUR EDSON

WASHINGTON (AP) — The boss, it turns out, is just like the rest of us.

★ ★ ★

He, too, ducks the hard tasks, invents chores that really don't help him with his work, and fritters away his time—but in a high old executive fashion.

★ ★ ★

This disturbing news comes today from the Small Business Administration, which has put out a four-page leaflet called Management Aid No. 103. It is written especially to help the man who owns and manages his own business.

The leaflet begins with an observation.

★ ★ ★

"Of course, most executives do have to work hard. But—and this is the important question—are they working hard at the right things?" it says.

"Unfortunately, in many cases the answer is a resounding No."

It then turns to the mythical but sad case of Harvey Winston, a manufacturer.

The leaflet doesn't say what Harvey manufactures, but let's suppose it's something like paper clips. Anyway, he inherited the business, and now after five years he finds he's making money and everything is fine except for this: Each night he has to tote a briefcase full of work home with him. Why? Why?

Harvey calls in "a well-qualified consultant," who seems to be a square shooter, though a bit on the poetic side.

He says Harvey spends too much time on details and not enough on managing, and then soars into speech.

★ ★ ★

"A business, particularly a small business, is a creative work. Don't smile—it is. It's in its way as creative as a song, a painting, a statue. The difference is this: That the work of art is finished at some point. But an active business reaches no such point of completion. And the creator — you, the businessman — must forever keep on creating and improving his creation," says the speech.

The reaction to all this? "Harvey Winston was stunned."

Which isn't surprising, especially if he were making something like paper clips, rarely considered as a work of art.

What he found out makes you wonder how a man like Henry Ford, who also was once an owner-manager, ever got the first fivver out of the barn.

The detail hugger: Checks up on everything, every day. "Terribly interested in the amount of string used for packages."

The conference caller: "Won't let anyone order a dozen paper cups without the trappings of a time-killing executive summit meeting."

★ ★ ★

The dream merchant: So busy saying what he's doing tomorrow he has no time left to do anything today.

Well, Harvey finally concludes that what alls all these men is that they are avoiding work that has to be done. Filled with food resolutions about self-discipline, he returns to his work.

★ ★ ★

"Harvey Winston's factory is the best-run in its field," the leaflet proudly says.

And he's free! Free! Free to spend his nights like any other red-blooded American, to watch TV, to bark at his kids, and to burn the steak on the outdoor barbecue.

Posts Grim Warning

BEULAH (AP) — Dramatizing the tragic results of an auto crash, Benzie County Sheriff Jerry W. Pelton has placed two wrecked cars near the scene of a crash which claimed one life and injured four persons. Pelton hopes the grim evidence will provoke viewers to improve their driving habits.

Due Back at Chris-Craft

CADILLAC (AP) — Spokesmen for Chris-Craft Corp. said the firm is completing the second week of its annual two-week inventory layoff at the plant in Cadillac. About 140 of the plant's 146 employes are expected to be called back next Tuesday.

Squeezes 20 in His Car; Claiming Jam Record

GRAND HAVEN (UPI) — A 19-year-old Colgate University student from Grand Rapids today claimed a new "world's class B car-jamming record" after squeezing 20 persons, including himself into his auto.

He said his 1954 Ford's four springs were sprung by the stunt but said he beat the previous "class B car-jamming record" of 16 persons set at San Jose (Calif.) College.

The national average pay of school teachers in the United States is $4,325 annually.

Exactly 167 years to the day after the British ship "Bounty" was burned and sunk by its mutinous crew off Pitcairn Island in the Pacific on Jan. 23, 1790, diver Luis Marden found the vessel's remains.

Williams Cool to Loan Bill

Small Companies Plead With Governor to Favor Interest Rate Measure

LANSING (AP)—Gov. Williams has indicated he will remain cool toward a bill to liberalize interest rates and make other changes in Michigan's small loan law.

Representatives of some of the state's small loan companies met with the governor yesterday to plead for approval of the bill.

Williams had delayed signing and aides said they thought he would veto it. The measure was recalled by the Senate for revisions to overcome some of the reported objections from the executive office.

Williams reportedly disliked a pre-computation factor which would permit the companies to charge the full interest rate over the entire term of the loan and add it at the start as part of the overall charge.

The bill also would double interest rates on loans from $300 to $500 and permit lifting of the small loan ceiling from $500 to $1,500.

LIMIT 'TOO LOW'

The present ceiling limit is ineffective, the small loan company representatives claimed. Borrowers wanting more than $500 just spread the loan among several companies and this increases operating expenses, they said.

Spokesmen for the companies said the small loan business is about the only one in Michigan that hasn't been allowed some relief in recent years. They said some of the companies would go bankrupt unless the present law is liberalized.

'Squeegie' No Longer Fugitive, Just Missing

DETROIT (AP) — "Squeegie" no longer is a fugitive as far as police are concerned. A search for the six-foot Bahama boa constrictor was called off Wednesday.

The snake escaped Monday night from a cage in the garage of its owner, John M. Fleischer, 15. It is not considered dangerous.

About 10 per cent of all fire calls are false alarms.

Diners Counted Calories

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

Out at Four Towns church last week the women of Elizabeth Russell Guild put on a dinner. There is nothing unusual about that, as they have several dinners each summer. But what they served and the way they serves WAS unusual.

Realizing that many people nowadays are calorie conscious and prefer not to eat a large meal, the women decided to present each food separately and to give their customers a number of choices. It was cafeteria service with a difference.

The menu was clearly printed above the serving counter. We are listing it, including the comments after several of the more caloritic foods. The calorie count of each portion was also noted.

Turkey
Dressing — Too many
Corn on the Cob
Butter!
Molded Salads
Roll
Low Calorie Cake
Cantaloupe
Mashed Potatoes
Snap Beans
Gravy — (no cost) Horrible!
Garden Salad
High and Low Calorie Dressings
Pie — No! No!
Watermelon
Coffee, Tea and Milk

It was entirely possible to have a complete meal with a minimum of calories. However, the person who was a hearty eater had no trouble getting all he wanted. No butter was put on the vegetables; if you wanted it, you took it.

Although this idea was suggested to emphasize the calorie total, we think it is one that might well be copied by other church groups. The waste of food at church dinners is appalling when the whole meal is served on a plate.

Family style is another way of cutting down on the waste, but that doesn't take into consideration the person who doesn't want any dressing or who prefers a tossed salad to a gelatin one or fruit to dessert.

We talked with the chairman of the dinner, Mrs. Louis Hanna. She said it wasn't any more work than any other dinner. Her committee felt it was a success. We should like to add that the food was presented in a most attractive manner and that hot foods were hot and cold foods really cold.

Pontiac Press Photo

A HARD CHOICE — Whether to choose a low calorie slice of chilled cantaloupe or a high calorie slice of homemade pie was difficult for patrons of the church dinner held at Four Towns last week. The committee in charge gave everyone a chance to pick his own meal combination. Mrs. Dan Simpson (left) of Williams Lake road and Mrs. Chester Amann of Sarvis were on the dinner committee.

Slivered almonds, Brazil nuts or walnuts sauteed in butter, give a crunchy texture and unusually delicious flavor to cauliflower and favorite green vegetables.

Cold Chicken Loaf Good for Summer Buffets

Which came first the chicken or the egg? No one has answered this puzzle. But both these nutritious foods are featured in this delectable Chicken Loaf. Chopped cooked chicken is flavored with broth and well-seasoned enriched yeast-raised bread crumbs, baked and served with a pretty Egg Sauce. It provides an inexpensive and tasty second-time chicken dinner.

Chicken Loaf

¼ cup butter or margarine
1 tablespoon chopped onion
2 tablespoons chopped green pepper
½ cup flour
1 cup chicken broth
½ cup rich milk
4 cups chopped cooked chicken
3 cups soft bread crumbs
1 pimiento, chopped
Salt and pepper

Melt butter or margarine in saucepan. Saute onions and green pepper until tender. Stir in flour, then chicken broth and milk. Cook, stirring constantly until thickened. Combine with remaining ingredients.

Put the mixture in a greased loaf pan and bake at 350 degrees F. until the loaf is well-browned, about 1 hour 15 minutes. Serve cold.

Egg Sauce

2 hard-cooked eggs, separated
½ teaspoon perpared mustard
¼ teaspoon salt
Dash of pepper
¼ cup salad oil
¼ cup vinegar
¼ cup India relish, drained
½ teaspoon chopped parsley
½ teaspoon chopped chives
Pinch of Tarragon

Chop the egg whites and set aside. Mash the hard-cooked egg yolks with a fork until smooth. Add salt, mustard and pepper. Add oil, a few drops at a time, beating vigorously until 2 tablespoons have been added. Then add in a thin stream beating all the time.

Add vinegar a small amount at a time whenever mixture becomes very thick. Add the chopped egg whites and remaining ingredients. Serve with cold chicken loaf.

Add curry powder and lemon juice to mayonnaise and serve over sliced hard-cooked eggs and romaine for a noontime salad.

Hollywood Headlines:

Midget Stand-in 'Grows' Along With Film Children

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Luz Potter is a mere 48 inches tall, but for 20 years she has been growing up with movie children.

THOMAS

Luz is a movie stand-in and she has seen her counterparts come and go. Says she: "When I start standing in for a child actor, I wear flat shoes, than I graduate to high heels. As the child keeps growing, I stand on blocks of wood then a two-step riser. That's as high as I can go, and I start all over again with another actor."

★ ★ ★

She started all this in 1939. With vaudeville dead, she gave up a dancing career to try the movies. She found out the studioes needed her.

"They like to have adults stand in for the children," she remarked. "We little people can take the hot lights better than children. And we can work an eight-hour day, while children have to go to school for three hours."

So she has seen a parade of performing tots — Margaret O'Brien, Gigi Perreau, then her sister Jeanine, Natalie Wood, Sherry Jackson. Her best break came with the "Father Knows Best" series. She had five years of standing in for Elinor Donahue and Lauren Chapin until both outgrew her.

Now she's starting what might be another long-range assignment. She's stand-in for Jay North, the cute tyke who plays "Dennis the Menace" in the new Screen Gems TV series.

What does she think of her young counterparts?

"I've always had good luck with them. I haven't seen any of the movie brats you hear about. They've been nice children, perhaps a bit brighter than most. It always amazes me how they come out of a big scene with lots of dialogue and go right to work studying their school work."

She used to do stunts in films, but does little since an accident in "The Rains of Ranchipur." She suffered serious leg injuries while doubling for a child who was supposed to be swept away in a dam break.

S-P Ready to Sign With UAW Local 5

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP) — Studebaker-Packard Corp. reports it has reached agreement with United Auto Workers Local 5 on a two-year wage contract.

★ ★ ★

The company said the pact covered pensions, wage rates, insurance premiums, night shift premium and related matters and expires Nov. 30, 1961.

★ ★ ★

Settlement details reached yesterday, will not be released pending submission to the UAW membership for a ratification vote Sept. 5, the company said.

Troop Rotation Has No Appeal to Army Now

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army has dropped its much heralded troop rotation program.

"Operation Gyroscope" a system of rotating units between Europe and the United States—was started with much ceremony in January 1955. At that time, the 1st Infantry Division in Germany changed places with the 10th Infantry Division at Ft. Riley, Kan.

Later the Army cooled off on the idea of rotating divisions, and it limited exchanges to battle groups, battalions, and lesser groups.

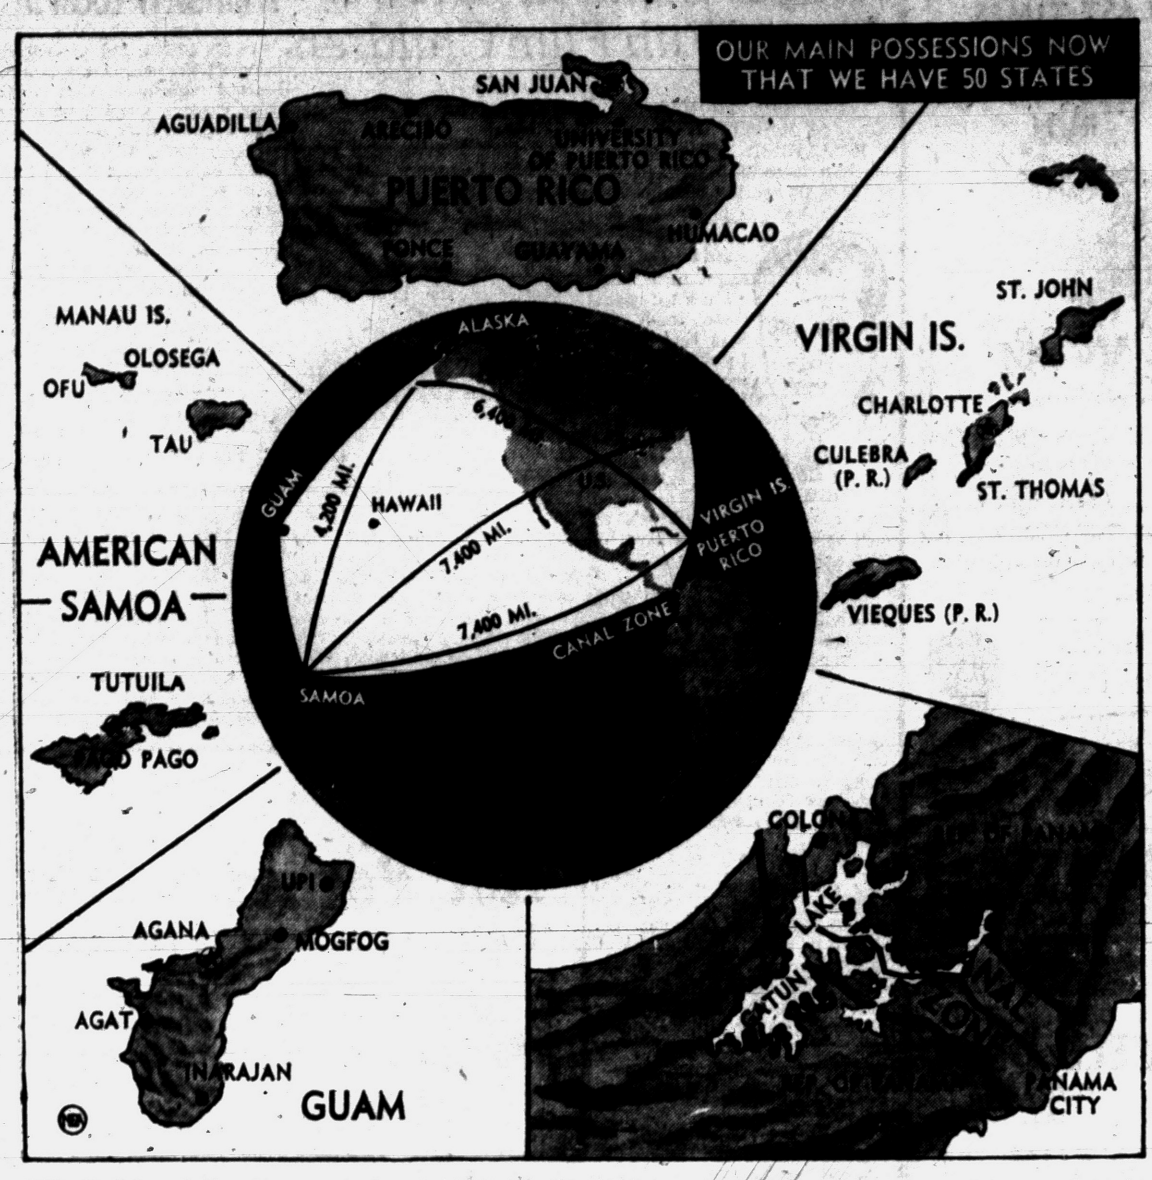
Who's Next in Statehood Line?



With Alaska's and Hawaii's admissions as numbers 49 and 50, attention turns to other chief U. S. possessions as potential statehood candidates. Best bet is Puerto Rico (pop. 2½ million; 3,435 sq. mi.). Although in 1952 islanders chose commonwealth status — not designed to lead to statehood — sentiment is now changing. The Virgin Islands (pop. 30,000; 132 sq. mi.) have a good chance of becoming a territory, important rung on statehood ladder. Not so with the Canal Zone (pop. 39,000 plus military; 553 sq. mi.) with few permanent inhabitants. Guam (pop. 37,000; 209 sq. mi.) is an unincorporated territory. American Samoa (pop. 20,000; 76 sq. mi.) has a legislature and appointed governor. Composed of seven islands, Samoa is 2,300 miles from Hawaii.

Wants Congress to Stay All Year

Sen. Humphrey Thinks It's Time to 'Grow Up,' Not Be Running Home

WASHINGTON (AP) — Opposing a leadership drive for an early adjournment, Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn) said today Congress ought to "grow up" and hold yearlong sessions.

Humphrey, as aspirant for the 1960 Democratic presidential nomination, said he is against a proposal by Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas for unusual Saturday and Labor Day sessions in a drive to get Congress out of town by Sept. 12.

"My view is that Congress ought to grow up to its responsibilities and recognize that the times demand that it stay on the job throughout the year," Humphrey said in an interview.

"We could provide opportunities at stated periods for members to go home without missing roll call votes and we could give them an opportunity to live at least a few weeks of family life."

Humphrey said that if Johnson hopes to get Senate action next week on a stripped down civil rights bill, he is entertaining "A vain hope." Humphrey said he will be ready with controversial amendments any time the issue is brought to the floor.

Johnson told the senate Wednesday, after Senate-House conferees agreed on a labor reform bill, that if members buckle down to work they can look forward to an early adjournment. He listed civil rights as one of the legislative matters that must be disposed of before Congress quits.

Find Boy in Attic, Afraid to Go Home

WHITINSVILLE, Mass. (AP)—David Chabot, 12, a polio victim missing some 20 hours, was found Wednesday hiding in the attic of an unoccupied house about 100 yards from his home.

The boy said he was afraid to go home Tuesday night because he was late after delivering newspapers on his route and making collections.

Key Parts of House

Key members of the house are sills, joists, studs and rafters which hold the house together, and to a large extent, determine maintenance required for surface parts. The lumber specified for these major structural elements should be no lower than No. 2 grade, and always properly seasoned.

Surrey Goes Together in 2 Weekends

Kits to Build 1903 Cars Score Big Success

NEW YORK (NEA)—Listen. A manufacturer would have to be an imbecile to spend all that time and money on a new product unless there was a real, solid demand for it. Consequently:

There must be a savage hunger in America today for a 1903 type of automobile that you can put together yourself.

This is obviously the only way to understand the Surrey — the latest car on the market. After all, what kind of automobile manufacturer would design and produce a car just because it appealed to him?

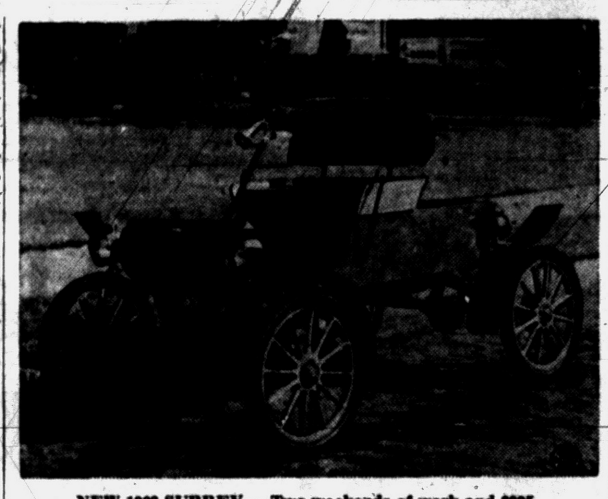
So, to satisfy a ravenous public need, the Surrey is: 93 inches long; 700 pounds; all steel body; brass lights, brass hubcaps, brass horn (with bulb); wooden-spoke wheels; two-gallon gas tank (about 140 miles worth); and speeds up to 35 miles per hour.

executive said, "it takes only 55 hours to put together. That's less than two weekends of work. And very easy because the instruction manual is beautifully written and illustrated."

You can buy the whole thing for $995, f.o.b. Canton, Ohio. You can also buy the manual by itself for $2, which is not only a saving of two weekends, but also a nice way to dress up your library.

There is, of course, no reduction in price if you buy the disassembled kit without the manual.

Actually, $995 is considerably cheaper than most cars on the market today. And the big saving in price is possible because the working parts — engine, driver and companion — are all 100 per cent air-cooled.



NEW 1903 SURREY — Two weekends of work and $995.

"And best of all," one Surrey car for the family's shopping or getting around town or to the station.

"But it can't hope to compete with the kinds of cars Detroit turns out. Ours is a different sort of prestige."

His broadest market, he figures, will be about 3,000 people: college kids (or their fathers); high school kids (or their fathers); grade school kids (or their fathers).

But at this low price and with all that challenge and fun in building the cars, he says, a family will want more than one.

PLAN NEW MODEL

"We have plans under way now to bring out a new model each year. Perhaps a Maxwell next year. Perhaps an Essex the year after. Think of it: two or three old cars in every carport."

He has had considerable success already — but strangely from an unexpected market. Promoters, stores, supermarkets, fraternal orders are buying Surreys to catch the public eye with their wares or to give as raffle prizes.

"It's put a whole new complexion on merchandizing," he said: "You can now open a new supermarket without a movie star or a chicken on rollerskates. And then you can use the car for deliveries."

★ ★ ★

If sales continue at their present rate, he says, there's no telling what the company can make next.

Buggy whips, maybe, or silent movies.

Phone Call Checks on Slowpokes

By EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post: My daughter is to be married very shortly. The invitations were sent out several weeks ago and all but a very few have replied. I would like to know whether or not they are coming as we are having a sit-down dinner and are being charged so much per person. Would it be proper to write each one of them a short note asking them to please let me know if they are coming?"

Answer: You might telephone to those who have not answered and say that as you are afraid some of your invitations may have gone astray, you wish to make sure that they have received theirs, and as an afterthought ask if they are coming?

"Dear Mrs. Post: What can one do when faced with the problem of having to introduce two people and the name of one of them has completely slipped your mind? I think this is a most embarrassing situation. Is there a tactful way to handle this situation?"

Answer: I agree that not being able to think of the name of one of two people you have to introduce is indeed one of the most embarrassing situations imaginable. You can try saying to the "nameless" one, "Oh, don't you know Mrs. Smith?" hoping that she will be understanding and tactful enough to announce her own name. If this fails, it may be necessary to say that you must be losing your memory because for the moment you can't, to save your life, remember her name.

"Dear Mrs. Post: Will you please tell me how I can tactfully refuse to kiss a boy good night when he takes me home after a date? This is rather an awkward situation that has come up several times lately and I would appreciate your telling me what I can do without hurting his feelings."

Answer: You might tell him that you are saving your kisses for the one you fall in love with.

Florists Discuss Shift

June Losing Out as Wedding Month

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa. (AP) —Take it from the florists—June is losing out as the favorite month of brides, a flowery bit of scientific research disclosed today.

August is looming as a strong threat, and even September and November are coming up fast though these latter are still below the average of other months excluding midwinter.

Midwinter weddings still appear to be unpopular both as to incidence and the money spent upon flowers when they do occur.

These and other facts came to bloom today in a report made to a horticultural session of the annual meeting of the American Institute of Biological Sciences on the campus of Pennsylvania State University.

Researcher Earl H. New and several colleagues of Michigan State University's horticulture department described results of a study they made of retail flower sales variations both seasonally and by "occasion." The occasions included weddings, funerals, birthdays, holidays and so on. The survey covered 12 selected florist in Michigan and includes sales made during a period of a year.

New told a reporter that neither he, the colleagues nor the florists could say with any certainty why the brides are swinging away from June.

He said there was a time when August ranked away down in the marriage date sweepstakes.

"Maybe it' just a tendency to get away from doing things according to tradition," he said.

"Although it has been suggested in circles outside the scope of our research that maybe youngsters who might sentimentally want to be married in June put if off until August so as to defer for a couple of months the first payments on the future.

Buy Art in Department Stores

By MARY PRIME

NEW YORK (UPI)—Soon we'll be able to buy original paintings as we do dresses—at department stores.

Prompted by the tremendous interest in art, a firm which owns stores in New York City, Newark, N. J., and Los Angeles will add art galleries to its New York and California stores about Nov. 10. If the idea goes over, the third store probably will get a gallery, too.

The store is the first to sell valuable paintings on a cash-and-carry basis. The paintings will be valued up to $1,000 or more, but prices will be kept to a minimum because of the low mark-up policy followed throughout the stores.

"We will sell paintings, not for what we think they're worth, but for a small amount of profit," said Jerome Ohrbach, store president and an art collector.

For example, if the store pays $95 for a painting, it will sell the picture for about $115. Prices will range from about $85 to $1,000, with the average from $85 to $250 —still lower than most paintings purchased from art galleries. There, the average cost is $500 to $600, Ohrbach said.

"Not that we're trying to take away from the galleries," he added. "This is a new approach to art—and believe me, it's art. The prices will be in the reach of the average person because we don't have to have the mark-up of galleries.

"Our perfect customer is the school teacher, or girl just out of college," he continued. "She wants quality but can't spend much money. We think this will bring her better art for the money."

The stores have sold paintings for some time, but they were of "lower quality," Ohrbach explained. Most were purchased merely for the attractive frame.

Ohrbach hopes to include some "name" paintnigs in the gallery, but every painting will be a "good example of an artist's work, not just an excuse to use names."

"We think the average person would rather have a good selection of unknowns than fragments of 'name' artists' works," he added.

So far, all paintings have been done within the past few years. But all types are included, from abstracts to romantic styles.

Everything is original, and most pictures will be oils because "that's what people want in their homes, what will DO something for a living room.

The first collection will number about 200 pictures, and stock will be replenished when necessary.

Married Saturday evening at St. Andrews Episcopal Church were Margaret Elaine Meston and Keith L. Johnson. Their parents are Mr. and Mrs. Harold L. Meston and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur H. Johnson.

Original Idea Is Still Good

The first mechanical washing machine used a suction cup on a handle to agitate the sudsy water. Now, a very resourceful man has made use of this idea to invent a small plastic suction cup version to facilitate wash-basin laundering of small articles.

The inventor admits that he got the idea when he saw a farm wife use an inverted funnel on a stick to wash clothes in a large pot in her yard. He remembered the first washing machine principle, and took it from there.

Snacks Are Fatal

Dieters Will Rarely Tell All

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

I was chatting with a doctor friend of ours the other day, and he made an interesting point. He said, "There is one thing I wish you would write in your column, and that is that many would-be reducers are terribly frustrating to their doctors. And do you know something? When they begin telling doc what they eat they never get past luncheon.

"I have had it happen to me over and over again. A patient who needs to reduce and wants to do so will say, "I eat practically nothing. I never have anything but a cup of black coffee at breakfast. At lunch I have two lettuce leaves and three tangerine sections and that is all."

Then the good doctor continued, "You can never get them to go any further than that. As soon as you ask what they eat at night or in between meals they always change the subject."

In such a case the doctor prescribed a detailed diet for his patient to follow. She looked at it in horror, threw up her hands and said, "Doctor I haven't eaten potatoes for years. I almost never eat any bread. I wouldn't think of putting sugar in my coffee."

Nevertheless she was assured that she would lose if she would stick to the doctor's diet. What happened? Two weeks later she came back and had gained two pounds! Those in-between meal snacks had been her downfall.

I have noticed this same attitude so often when talking with women who wish to lose weight. They may cling to one or two fairly unimportant items and to erroneous conceptions. There is no reason why a woman cannot have a couple of teaspoons of sugar in her coffee in the morning and a potato is not fattening unless it is cooked in a fattening manner or lots of butter is added. Bread is a low-caloried and important food unless you eat too much of it and load it with butter.

The first thing a woman must do if she really wants to shed pounds is to stop kidding herself. She surely cannot kid her doctor!

Dear Abby Says:

Mind Her! Put That Apron On; You'll Avoid the Spots, Spats

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: How does a 24-year-old married woman, who is the mother of two children, deal with a mother who is the world's champion nagger?

ABBY

I love my mother, but her nagging will drive me out of my mind. When she is at my house (or even if I'm at hers) and we do a little something together in the kitchen, she will say, "Put an apron on!"

I could be only putting jello in the refrigerator, but she yells, "put an apron on!"

Now, if I am old enough to be married and have children, I don't need to be told to put an apron on. If I spot my dress, it's my dress, isn't it? How can I get her to stop nagging at me? NAGGED

DEAR NAGGED: By this time you should know how irritated your mother becomes when she sees you in the kitchen without an apron. You're a big girl now. Simply put an apron on and don't make a federal case out of it. You may avoid a spot and a spat as well.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: Every morning when I take my garbage out, I find my trashcan filled to the brim with empty beer cans. This burns me up!

Someone in this neighborhood (and I'm pretty sure I know who the guilty party is) drinks about a case of beer a night. She is ashamed to have her garbage man see them, so she puts the empties in my trash can.

Should I have it out with this neighbor, or should I haul the empties back to her trashcan?

NO BEER DRINKER

DEAR NO: Don't take any chances. You might haul the "empties" to the wrong neighbor. Talk to the party you suspect and bring the matter to a head.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: I am getting married in October. I am experienced. He is not. Should I tell him? DEBATING

DEAR DEBATING: I vote no. If you are experienced and he is not, there will probably be no questions asked.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: I am a 15-year-old girl who went on a diet last winter and lost 50 pounds! Never have I received so many compliments. I feel as though I have started a new life full of fun.

I want to tell every overweight teenager in the world that it can be done. All it takes is will power and a desire to have a happy life.

WALKING ON AIR

DEAR WALKING: Your letter should be an inspiration to other teenagers who need to unload some excess poundage. a word of warning however: Don't attempt any crash diets without first consulting your doctor.

Civic Baby Doll Is Washable

In Chicago there's a washable doll—infant size—which has a steady job helping teach folks how to save lives.

This doll has tiny lungs that really "breathe" when nurses, policemen, firemen, and others give the "baby" oxygen. Thus, these public servants learn the technique for administering oxygen in emergencies. And this public service doll, which is made of vinyl plastic, works so hard that she has to have a soap-and-water bath as often as a real infant.

Iraq Caldron Holds Meeting

The first fall meeting of Iraq Caldron No. 70 was held Wednesday at the Pontiac Federal Savings and Loan Building. Founders Day was celebrated and the past mighty chosen ones as well as charter members were honored.

Arrangements were discussed to send delegates to the supreme session at Youngstown, Ohio, Sept. 30 through Oct. 2.

At the next regular meeting on Oct. 7, officers will be elected and annual reports given.

Mrs. Wayne Scott served refreshments.

Glamour Trick Is Ruinous

It's a bad habit, ruinous to the eyes. Dark glasses were not intended for artificial light. They were meant to cut the glare of the sun. When they are worn indoors, they can definitely damage the eyes.

So don't copy what appears to be a glamour trick unless you want to pay for it with poor eyesight.

Only constant care will cut down on enlarged pores. Steaming the face with a hot washcloth when bathing helps open up the pores. If you tend toward this condition, use tepid water for bathing, finish with a splash of cold water in the face or run an ice cube over the face for a few minutes.

Jr. Attendants Can Now Dress Modern

Junior members of modern wedding parties are wearing pretty party outfits, in place of the period costumes that were chosen to put pageantry into yesterday's nuptials.

Mothers of popular young attendants will rejoice at the highly wearable and washable Sunday-best suits and dresses now favored by brides. Gone are the useless hoop-skirted frivolities and the page-boy's velvet knee-pants!

White is still favored for these outfits, but now it's practical because it's washable in soap or detergent suds —ready for the next party on the young social calendar.

Predict Fall Interests of Teenagers

By EUGENE GILBERT

What crazy things are teenagers going to be thinking, eating, wearing and doing this coming school year?

* * *

A great number of people — parents, teachers, storekeepers, manufacturers and the youngsters themselves — would like to know. And our Youth Barometer should be able to provide some pretty good guesses. It's been set up on the basis of information gained this last year from the surveys I have been making every week for newspaper articles and for various organizations.

First thing, our young people will be going back to class highly resolved to study harder and bring up those marks. Even though the sputnik scare has worn off, they are well aware that it's going to be harder year by year to obtain entrance to the colleges of their choice, and right now they are determined to do something about it.

* * *

But they are swearing no oaths to make drastic reductions in the phone conversations, the dating, the movie and the television viewing that sometimes interfere with scholastic achievement.

Speaking of entertainment, the teeners still hold fast to the idols they revered before school doors closed last spring. Marlon Brando, Tony Curtis, Debbie Reynolds and Kim Novak are Hollywood favorites. Ricky Nelson, Pat Boone, Frankie Avalon, Connie Francis, Debbie Reynolds again, and Dody Stevens are top songsters. In television, "Peter Gunn," "Gunsmoke," and "77 Sunset Strip," with Edd (Kookie Byrnes, are favorites of the high school crowd.

Such interests fail to keep these youngsters from reading, although they complain there isn't time to read much aside from school assignments. When they do find time, they go mostly for best sellers.

* * *

Fads? Sure! But that's something on which the Youth Barometer is far from infallible. Fads bob up without warning.

* * *

It would appear however that bowling is going to continue gaining popularity and that teenagers will be wear special bowling shirts and blou s to school on occasion in preparation for bowling dates. Such outfits come in a variety of colors and designs.

Another clothes fad item will be a fleecy, bulky outfit including sweater, jacket and pants. Some will be in solid, vibrant color, some in bold stripes. Some will have boat or crew necks.

For more ordinary wear, the seamless trim-fit stretch tights will still be a common sight. They'll come in assorted colors as well as black, and will be teemed with black skirts and black sweaters. But of course the old skirt-and-sweater combination will retain its ascendancy.

* * *

One fad that looks like a good bet is the fur garment, whether full length coat, car coat, jacket or smaller piece. Fur items in lower priced lines are being designed especially for young people's needs and pocketbooks.

That Cleopatra look—at least around the eyes—will be big as eye makeup gains increased popularity with the girls.

For the boys, the new emphasis will be on fit rather than on startling styles. For casual wear, it's still slacks and sweaters. But when it comes to suits, the youngsters favor fitted waists and natural shoulder lines.

Whereas automobiles remain the No. 1 interest of young men — whether it be driving them, tinkering with them, or talking about them—boys remain the No. 1 interest of the girls.

* * *

With thoughts set on early marriage the gals are giving early thought to hope chests. They study silver, china and crystal patterns with as much relish as they savor latest fashions, and are apt to request such things for Christmas.

Increasingly conscious of complexions and diet, the teenagers are apt to be eager to try a host of acne-care products, and to go in for weight watching, calorie counting and the like. But don't sell the pizza short!

One fad that has shown a flurry is the one of zany bookcovers with such titles as "Embalming Can Be Fun," by Maude Lynn, or "101 Ways to Make Blubber," by S. Kimo.

First 'Spacemen' Shampooed Too

The pilots chosen for participation in Project Mercury—our first official "spacemen"—underwent a full week of vigorous physical examination before the final designations were announced.

Frequent shampooing was one of the pleasanter aspects of the testing, for each man had to wash his hair thoroughly on nights preceding the mornings set aside for brain-wave measurements. These repeated latherings insured that no foreign matter would interfere with the electro-encephalograph readings!

Oily Skin a Problem? Here's Aid

To begin with, she should understand that its cause is overactive glands. Their action can be controlled, to some degree, by a diet which leaves out sweets, fat and starch and stresses, instead, lean meat, salads, fresh fruits and lots of fresh vegetables.

Exercise will step up your circulation and therefore also be a help. Cleanliness is an absolute must. You should wash your face with hot water and soap three times a day. Use a thick terry cloth and really give yourself a good scrubbing. Follow this with an astringent in the interests both of removing dirt and drying out your skin. Avoid moisturizing cream and never put new make-up on over old. (This is a good rule for any woman.) You should see improvement if you stay with this program.

Sometimes shoppers amaze you with the things they would rather have than money.

Take a Good Look at Special Man

By RUTH MILLETT

Before she decides that she can't live without a young man, a girl ought to figure out if it is going to be easy to live with him. He won't be easy to live with if—

He is so jealous that he resents the time she spends with other girls, checks on her constantly, and goes into a sulk if she seem even faintly interested in anyone else.

He is inconsiderate, often being late for dates or calling one off at the last minute, or refusing to take her to a dance because he doesn't like to dance.

He rates her parents low, telling her they are too strict and that she is silly to let them tell her where she can go, what time she should be in, and so on.

He lacks ambition and is content to drift along, hoping for a "lucky break" some day.

He doesn't get along with his own parents and shows little respect for their wishes or their ideas.

He isn't honest in small matters and is obviously proud of being able to lie his way out of an unpleasant situation.

He can't take criticism from anybody but is very good at dishing it out.

He isn't as much in love with her as she is with him.

He doesn't like her friends or seem to care about having good friends of his own.

He deliberately tries to make her jealous.

He is a practical joker who laughs like crazy when he puts someone else in an awkward or embarrassing situation.

A young man with only a few of these strikes against him should prove easier to live without than to live with in holy matrimony.

Homemade Chili Sauce Blends Tomatoes, Fruit

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

Homemade chili sauce is such a delicious accompaniment to meat that we like to make it every year. This year we are using a recipe from Mrs. Neil Warren of Birmingham. Hers is a fruit chili sauce.

* * *

Mrs. Warren has for many years been an active worker in the American Association of University Women and is a past state president of the organization. She enjoys gardening and has a flair for interior decorating.

FRUIT CHILI SAUCE
By Mrs. Neil Warren

10 tomatoes
6 pears
6 peaches
6 onions
3 green peppers
½ pound raisins
4 cups sugar
1 quart vinegar
6 teaspoons salt
2 tablespoons mixed pickling spices

Peel and cut up tomatoes, pears, peaches, onions and green peppers. Put spices in small bag. Mix all ingredients and cook slowly until thick. Seal while hot in sterilized jars. Makes about 7 pints.

A delicious thousand island dressing may be made with this chili sauce, mixing it half and half with mayonnaise.

Gloves, Cream Used at Night Will Save Hands

Gals who find that their hands remain rough in spite of cleaning might resort to a trick of grandma's — white cotton gloves worn to bed at night.

It works like this: Cream your hands thoroughly, using one, two or three coats, as necessary. Then don a pair of clean, old white cotton gloves. The cream or lotion will stay where it belongs, on your hands, during the night. And it will have time to do a job penetrating and smoothing the skin. The gloves can go into the washer during the day and be ready for the next evening.

Floor mopping, dishes and cleaning the bath room are all essential to good housekeeping and rough on the hands. If yours are the kind you'd rather sit on at a tea or cocktail party, try giving them the old glove routine. It really works.

Shrimping Profitable

NEW ORLEANS — Shrimp comprises the most lucrative of all America commercial fishing enterprises, and about 230 million pounds worth $55 million are taken in the course of a normal year.

Average 10 Pounds

In 400 years about 2,200 vessels have been wrecked near Cape Hatteras, N. C., reports the National Geographic Society.

More electric power is produced in the United States than by the next six countries in the world combined.

Motor vehicles in 18 of the states are exempt from the general property tax rolls liability.

Would Simulate Moon Conditions in Laboratory

LAWRENCE, Kan. (AP) — The moon may be ready for man but man isn't ready for the moon. So Dr. T. Charles Helvey wants to create an artificial moon on earth.

"Even if we started preparations today," he says, "it probably would take about 10 years before we would have humans properly indoctrinated (to go to the moon).

"We might get them up there sooner but only at great risk and probably loss of lives. This in turn would push us farther behind in the race for knowledge that lies beyond our own earth."

Helvey, a visiting professor of radiation biophysics at the University of Kansas, believes the job of getting men on the moon would be greatly aided by his "moon" on earth, which would acquaint humans with moon conditions.

His is no idle dream. He has it down on paper, documented by years of research. When he leaves the university, he will return to his job as head of a research unit of Radiation, Inc., Orlando, Fla.

His project would put two men and a woman in an experimental laboratory here on earth. It would simulate conditions on the moon. The three humans would follow a research and work schedule for six months, isolated from all other humans.

The basic structure of the moon lab would be a sphere 50 feet in diameter and 25 feet high made of inch-thick steel. Within this would be a cocoon-like building, of plastic-impregnated nylon and foam plastic, in which the two men and the woman would set up housekeeping.

Air pumps would simulate a terrifically high altitude; refrigeration would hold temperatures far below zero. The food, scientific equipment and necessities inside the cocoon would be limited to the practical payload a moon rocket could carry.

Helvey says the experimental laboratory would take about two years to construct and equip and would cost around a million dollars.

Why three on the team and why should one be a woman?

"One man sent up alone would not be equal to the task. Two men also would be under an unbearable, mental and physical strain, so three is the best number.

"A woman is needed on the team to help prevent the emotional crises that would arrive if only men were present.

"A man tends to put more restraint on his emotions in front of a woman. He is more likely to suppress hostility toward another male. Also the vanity of a man is such that he wants to 'look good' in front of a female."

The woman member of the crew wouldn't tag along just as a psychological factor. She would have to be a scientist like the two men and carry her full share of the research and work load.

Helvey says his plans have been submitted to various government agencies.

Foresee Burial of Water Bill

Supporters of Chicago's Diversion Request See Hopes Dimming

WASHINGTON (AP) — A quiet burial for a bill to permit Chicago to take more water from Lake Michigan was forecast today by one of its top backers.

Supporters were glum about prospects for retrieving the bill from the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, where the Senate sent it last night by a 54-34 vote.

Senators Patrick McNamara and Philip Hart, Michigan Democrats, voted with the majority to send the bill to the Foreign Relations Committee.

Sen. Paul Douglas (D-Ill), leader of the fight to win Senate approval for the proposal, predicted the committee would bury the bill.

He noted that Sens. Alexander Wiley (R-Wis) and Frank J. Lausche (D-Ohio), ardent opponents of the bill, are also members of the Foreign Relations Committee.

President Eisenhower has twice vetoed similar legislation because of Canadian objections.

Sen. William Proxmire (D-Wis), who spearheaded later stages of the debate, said he was "very very happy" at the outcome.

To Start Production

ST. CLAIR (AP)—Panhandle Eastern Pipe Line Co. says construction will start immediately on a $140,000 headquarters building here for its Michigan production division. It is expected to be completed by Dec. 1 and will house the firm's "oil and gas exploration and production activities in Michigan."

Cash Bolsters Strike

Reports No Gain on Steel Contract

NEW YORK (AP)—The striking steel union—bolstered by a grant of a million dollars from the AFL-CIO — continues contract negotiations with the industry today.

The strike of a half-million members of the United Steelworkers of America is 51 days old.

No progress toward settlement was reported after Wednesday's negotiating session, which followed a five-day recess.

Joseph F. Finnegan, director of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service who is sitting in on the talks, told newsmen: "Views were exchanged by the negotiating teams, based upon their study during (the) adjournment..."

Finnegan said the meeting was adjourned until today by mutual consent to give both sides time "to further evaluate the ideas exchanged."

Wednesday's session was believed to have been confined to noneconomic issues.

There was no public comment by the top negotiators—David J. McDonald, president of the Union, and R. Conrad Cooper, executive vice president of the United States Steel Corp.

The million-dollar donation to the striking steelworkers was announced in Washington by Walter P. Reuther, president of the Industrial Union Department of the AFL-CIO.

Reuther said the money from the department was merely "a first down payment" because the steel strike might well last into the winter.

He said the seven million union members in the department also are being asked to contribute to the steel strike fund. The steel union has ample funds at present, Reuther said, but nobody can tell how long the strike may last.

The strike has shut down almost 90 per cent of the nation's steel production. About 150,000 employes in related industries have been made idle.

The union is seeking a substantial wage increase and other benefits. Prestrike earnings averaged $3.11 an hour.

★ ★ ★

The steel companies are seeking a one-year freeze on wages and benefits. They contend that any increase in labor costs would force a rise in steel prices and spur inflation. The union denies this.

Catholic Paper Asks Equal Time to Answer Nikita

WINTER PARK, Fla. (AP) — The Florida Catholic, a newspaper, wants "a spokesman of American decency" to have equal network time to answer Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev.

Khrushchev is scheduled to make a one-hour telecast Sept. 27 from Washington over NBC.

The Rev. Vincent E. Smith, executive editor of the paper, said its telegram told NBC: "We demand that your network grant to American decency at least the same time you give to atheistic infamy."

Triplets Offer Identical Trouble to Teachers

This week Mrs. Daniels brought in three more pupils — Shirley, Shelby and Sheila.

The twins, a girl and a boy, presented no problem, but Shirley, Shelby and Sheila were assigned to separate first-grade classes.

"We had to do it," Charles E. Allen, the school principal said. "They're so identical you can't tell them apart."

Exclaimed Man to FBI: 'Knew You'd Get Me'

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — "I knew you would get me," said James Francis Duffy Wednesday when FBI agents arrested him in a Philadelphia rooming house. Duffy, who had been on the list of the FBI's 10 Most Wanted Men, was unarmed.

Keychain Treatment Only for Headstrong

NOGALES, Sonora, Mex. (AP) — Newspaper publishers in this Mexican border city complained that their newsboys were being swatted across the head with keychains.

Customs collector Emilio Carranza investigated. He said officers at the port of entry told him this was the best method of keeping the newsboys from running in front of autos crossing the border.

Louisiana Has Totaled 10 State Constitutions

CHICAGO (AP) — Louisiana has had 10 constitutions, more than any other state. Its documents have totaled an estimated 201,423 words.

Rhode Island, the smallest state, has had one constitution, which happens to be the shortest in the nation — 6,650 words, according to the Book of the States.

Try Peaceful Coexistence or Face War, Says Nikita

NEW YORK (AP)—Nikita Khrushchev says the West must fall in with the Soviet policy of peaceful coexistence of communism and capitalism or face "the most destructive war in history."

★ ★ ★

"There is no third choice," the Soviet Premier said in an article appearing in the current issue of Foreign Affairs, quarterly review of the Council on Foreign Relations, a private organization of prominent Americans.

Khrushchev said that if relations between the West and the Communist bloc are to improve, "all barriers in international trade must be removed" to let international life develop normally.

The Soviet Premier confidently predicted that the Communist system eventually will win out in what he called peaceful competition. But he said this does not mean Communist interference in the affairs of other nations.

★ ★ ★

Khrushchev accused the North Atlantic Alliance of letting the West Germans convert NATO into an instrument for aggressive plans that could "plunge the whole world into the chasm of a devastating war."

He called West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer a potential stumbling block to the improvement of East-West relations.

Khrushchev wrote: "Some say: the Soviet people are unduly sensitive. Can one assume that West Germany is now in a position to precipitate another world war? Those who put the question thus forget that Western Germany is at present acting in the world arena not alone but within the military North Atlantic bloc.

"She plays a paramount role in this bloc. It is not at all impossible, therefore, that Western Germany, taking advantage of her position in the North Atlantic Alliance, might provoke hostilities in order to draw her allies into it and plunge the whole world into the chasm of a devastating war."

The Soviet Premier said the Big Four foreign ministers conference in Geneva brought the two sides closer together but there are still substantial differences on a number of questions.

State Sniper Makes Sailing Tourney

WAGONER, Okla. (AP) — Canny Ted Wells of Wichita, Kan., led a field of 24 skippers into the first round of the U.S. snipe sailboat championships today.

Wells, a three time national and two-time international champion, won another heat yesterday to wind up far ahead in the qualifying rounds at nearby Fort Gibson Lake.

'Standuppers' Spook Away From Boats

NEW YORK — Don't stand up in that boat if you want to keep the fish from seeing you.

Recent tests have shown that fish, viewing the world from their water habitat, are restricted to a view between 90 and 97 degrees. Usually, a fisherman standing in a boat falls within this field of vision.

A low silhouette boat, however, can approach within several yards of fish without bothering them.

Will Restore Luther Burbank's Childhood Home

Piles of bricks are all that are left of the house where Burbank was born 110 years ago. Troops at nearby Fort Devens have used the property as an assault training area.

★ ★ ★

Army engineers will clear the property, cut the grass, fill in the foxholes and dugouts and replace dead elms with sugar maples.

Later, a concrete obelisk bearing a bronze plaque will be placed on the spot where the house stood.

That's a Lot of People

NEW YORK — At present rates of population increase, in almost every part of the globe, the world will have 5.5 billion people in the next 30 years.

More than 80 per cent of Austria is mountainous, but more than half of this is under cultivation. Agriculture employs one-third of the population.

Report Record GNP

September Starts Out Big

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)— September is starting out bigger if not better.

Americans are making regular payments on a record installment debt.

The cost of living, at a record high at the last official tally, seems sure to have climbed even higher since.

The federal debt has crossed the 290-billion-dollar mark for the first time in history and is expected to go five billion dollars higher before it stops.

The U.S. Treasury is paying more to borrow money—to support the federal debt in the manner to which it's now accustomed—than any time since the banks were closed in 1933.

And Americans are paying a larger tax total to federal, state and local governments than ever before—and are warned they'll pay still more.

The rise in interest rates and the totals of various forms of debt is expected to continue. Bankers are now waiting for the Federal Reserve Board to drop the other shoe and raise the discount rate.

This is what it costs member banks to borrow to swell the funds they can lend businessmen or instatement plan consumers.

The rate is now 3½ per cent and is expected to rise to 4 per cent. The U.S. Treasury is paying more than that now to borrow—which it must as the debt rises to new peaks.

Bank loans to businessmen who are their best customers and have the best credit will now cost 5 per cent. If you aren't that gold plated you'll probably pay up to 6 per cent for a loan.

Demand for such loans continues to rise—to finance the movement and processing of crops and to carry inventories for fall and Christmas trade. The increase in demand has been sharper in many cities than in New York.

Charges for consumer credit also are rising slowly. But that doesn't deter many persons. Total instalment debt has climbed to 36½ billion dollars. In July alone Americans took on more than four billion dollars in new on-the-cuff obligations, the largest amount for any month on record. Non-instalment debt has increased to nearly 11 billion.

★ ★ ★

Home mortgages cost more now than a year ago. And as money tightens, finding someone to take the mortgage may get a little harder.

September also is bigger in other ways.

Americans are importing record volumes of some types of foreign goods while other Americans are trying harder to hold their domestic and foreign markets against foreign competition.

★ ★ ★

The nation is using more electricity than ever before. Part of this is due to rising industrial activity in areas untouched by strikes. Part of it is for air conditioning as a particularly hot and humid summer lingers on in many sections.

★ ★ ★

It all adds up to a record gross national product. This is the dollar volume of all goods produced and services performed in the nation. Latest GNP figures of 483½ billion a year are for the period before the steel strike. But if they should dip a bit now, they are expected to climb even higher when the strike is over.

'Things' That Go Bump, Scratch, Perplex Family

LAKEWOOD, N.J. (AP)—Things that go bump in the night and a mysterious scratching in the wall have driven a rural family from their home.

★ ★ ★

The strange noises come every night, say Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Salomon. Specialists and exterminators who have been called in have failed to find the cause.

★ ★ ★

"We don't know what to do," says Mrs. Salomon. "We've tried everything. But still the bumping continues."

★ ★ ★

The Salomons say they spend the nights with neighbors most of the time. They have sent their 17-year old daughter, Miriam, to stay with relatives.

★ ★ ★

The Salomons said the scratching and thumping sounds began coming from the walls of their farm house in nearby Whitesville about six weeks ago.

The Salomons acted on the theory that some sort of animal was trapped in the walls.

They called an exterminator, then a game warden, and then a farm specialist from the Department of Agriculture.

★ ★ ★

A contractor rejected the theory that the house was making settling noises.

★ ★ ★

Now the family is calling on an assistant wildlife specialist from the Department of the Interior, stationed at Rutgers University.

Watch Take-All Disease

Farmers shouldn't follow wheat with wheat where they have noticed "take-all" disease, says Richard L. Kiesling, plant pathologist at Michigan State University. This disease causes yellowish, stunted plants around heading-out time. It can ruin yields.

Offer Building Plans

Farmers can now get plans for a 50-foot wide clear-span farm building, says Michigan State University agricultural engineer Robert Aldrich. This large, economical building has no internal braces making it handy for storage and livestock housing.

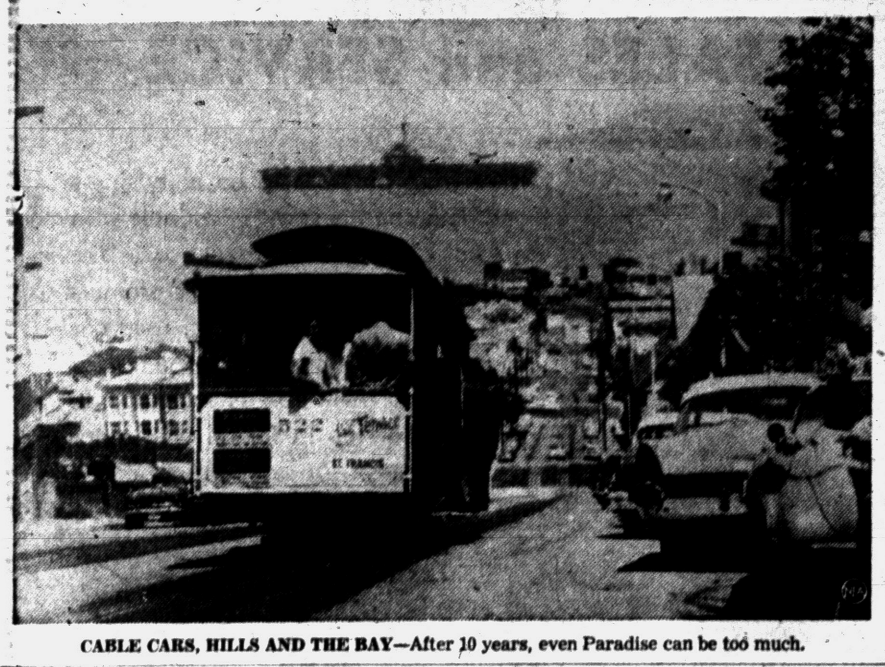
10 Years of 'Paradise' Just About Enough

By WARD CANNEL

SAN FRANCISCO (NEA)—In these cynical times when a Redemption Center is a place to swap trading stamps for toasters, it is invigorating to repair to San Francisco's holy air of civic pride. Why, they employ a whole staff here just to tally suicides.



CABLE CARS, HILLS AND THE BAY—After 10 years, even Paradise can be too much.

"We are practically tops in this field with 25 per 100,000 people," a vivacious statistician told me. "That's 18 higher than New York."

It is also 15 higher than the rest of the nation, but that doesn't count. In fact, nothing seems to count in San Francisco unless it is bigger, higher, cleaner, broader or more than New York.

In this competition, San Francisco also leads New York (and most of the country) in climate, alcoholism, weather and violent crimes.

"There is an interesting correlation between violence and weather," Dr. Frederick Boyes explained. He is the city's chief of the Adult Guidance Center — the old-fashioned kind of redemption center.

"More suicides occur in December and October — our most beautiful months. They seldom happen on bad, foggy, gloomy, rainy days. It leads to an interesting speculation:

"People who feel depressed and inadequate seem to be equalized by bad weather that depresses almost everyone. The beautiful days we have in San Francisco, however, make the contrast much more noticeable."

Now, it is a very difficult thing to change the suicide rate, even if you wanted to. Most of these folks, Dr. Boyes says, have lost their identities in the trance state of our society and will not ask for help.

But the city is taking great steps to hold the line on other violence.

Mayor George Christopher assured me that his Operation S (for Saturation of dangerous areas with police) is doing wonders. The plan calls for on-the-spot questioning of people who are on the streets at late or unusual hours without any visible or lawful business.

Of course no plan is perfect, as any San Franciscan will admit. And so 80 per cent of the vagrancy cases — about 1,800 per year — are dismissed as unfounded.

"This leaves 1,800 people with criminal records each year," said Ernest Besig, executive director of San Francisco's Chapter of the American Civil Liberties Union.

"There is only one thing to call it: lawless enforcement of the law. And I don't see any evidence that the violence in the city has diminished.

"In fact, we have complained about the police beating people in streets. But we are told from official quarters that it did not happen. I saw it happen once and was later told by officials that it did not happen."

"A society is like a plastic bag of water. Push it here and it has to expand there. There are an awful lot of pressures pushing it."

Especially in San Francisco, the sociologists say.

To begin with, the prices. Take men's furnishings, for example: a mattress ticking jacket costs $12.50; a suede poncho, $15; white leather slacks, $85; a combination fish knife and linoleum cutter, $4.95.

Whale Most Happy Fella

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Scientists who want to record the heartbeat of the whale have found it necessary to make him a most happy fella before he'll cooperate.

How it's done was described by Dr. Frank G. Nolan, a Los Angeles physician and founder of the Marine Heart Research Foundation, whose group harpooned its first whale off the California coast this past winter.

The whale had its heart beat recorded, which is a boom to research involving the human heart since the two are so basically alike.

Dr. Nolan, who has compared the results of his work with President Eisenhower's heart specialist, Dr. Paul Dudley White of Boston, has been sailing Pacific coastal waters from Mexico to British Columbia for some time in his attempt to subdue — not kill — a whale.

To do this, especially when the whale is heading home for the Arctic, and is in an unsociable mood, Dr. Nolan developed a technique of using a "cold" harpoon. It is not loaded with high explosives but with Serpasil, the tranquilizing drug; Xyloclaine, an anesthetic, and Tetracyline, an antibiotic.

Then, because the whale wasn't hurt, the first whale electrocardiograms in history were taken. At this point, the whale was alive, a 42-foot mammal weighing 25 tons, and in a mood for study as it lolled through the water for nearly two hours.

When the electrocardiogram was completed, the whale finally was killed so that Dr. Raymond Truex, Philadelphia anatomist, could go to work on the huge heart section.

The object was a complete study of the whale's cardiovascular system, which Nolan and Truex agreed could provide many clues on congenital heart ailments, blood coagulation problems and many other ailments involving the basic cardiac system.

The whale's heart, they found, weighed about 350 pounds. It took the two doctors about three days to remove the sections they wanted from it for their research.

Kent County Election Spurs GOP Hopes

LANSING (UPI)—Results of the special legislative election in Kent County reflected "the resurgence of Republican strength in Michigan," state GOP chairman Lawrence B. Lindemer said yesterday.

"This is another straw in the wind blowing for a Republican victory in 1960," Lindemer said about the Monday victory of Martin D. Buth in the third legislative district.

DETROIT (UPI)—You're never too old to learn at Wayne State University and University of Michigan.

Adult education divisions of the two schools are allowing anyone over 65 to enroll in courses for a $2 fee. The normal charge is $10 to $20.

The universities said: "These courses can give the older person a greater appreciation of the things which he now has time to enjoy."

Tigers Welcome Day Off After 'Off' Night

From the Press Box

BY BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

You've heard said so often that Pennsylvania produces more high school football players for the college ranks than any other state in the country.

Check the college rosters from Boston to Washington and from Michigan State to Miami of Florida and there's almost certain to be one Keystone Stater represented on the squad.

Michigan State's largest out of state contingent is from the land of William Penn. Kentucky, Cincinnati, Army, Navy, Notre Dame, Miami, Maryland, North Carolina, Tulsa, Minnesota, Purdue, Indiana, U. of D., and even Wayne State and a dozen other brochures that have hit this desk are sprinkled heavily with Pennsylvanians.

There are many reasons. One is the competition between communities. Every couple miles there is another town and another high school.

Football is part of the table disscussion at most every household dinner. Big local games are front page stories of hometown papers.

This in turn creates a tremendous desire in the youngsters to take part in the game and to work with all possible endurance to earn his way to a scholarship to some college.

During the first week of August there were two all-star games in the Pittsburgh area, made up of seniors who will enter some college in a few weeks.

Football may be just a sport to many, but it has also proven itself to be a lucrative profession in the post graduate days. For thousands football has been the means for a college education.

Football practice in Michigan is hardly a week old, and already local coaches are complaining that many of their lettermen or top prospects have not reported, because parents forbid it; because dad bought junior a jalopy and he has no time for football; or because junior just doesn't dig the training rules.

Actually, local coaches should probably be happy such candidates did not report. It merely saves them the trouble of separating the men from the boys.

GANGED UP ON TIGERS — The White Sox ganged up on the Detroit Tigers yesterday in winning a doubleheader. They shelled the Tigers with 11 runs in the 5th inning of the nightcap as shown by the number on the sleeve of Luis Aparicio. Joining the celebration are Sherm Lollar, Ted Kluszewski and Al Smith. The White Sox won the second game, 11-4, to increase their league lead.

Chisox Get Day Rest Before Tribe Series

CHICAGO (UPI) — Manager Al Lopez gave his league-leading Chicago White Sox a day off today to rest up for a three-game weekend series with the second place Cleveland Indians.

The Sox wound up a three-game series with the Detroit Tigers Wednesday night by taking both ends of a twi-night doubleheader after the Bengals won the opener on Jim Bunning's three-hit pitching.

"After Bunning shut us out Tuesday night, I was a little scared Detroit was going to make things rough for us," Lopez said.

"They're a tough club and I figured they were beginning to make a late-season move starting with us. But I'm glad we beat them and we're going to rest up for Cleveland."

The victories boosted Chicago's American League lead to 5½ games.

Lopez was cautious about the Cleveland series starting Friday night but he said "I'll settle for two out of three."

"Cleveland is another rough club and they're likely to be in a miserable mood after the way we beat them four straight last weekend," Lopez said.

In the dressing room Wednesday night, Lopez pointed proudly to a religious statue given him by Luis Aparicio. It was a statue of St. Jude, known as the "saint of the impossible."

A card on the statue read, "To Al. Here's the 10th man on our team."

Lopez, always frightened by a late surge by the Yankees, was asked if he thought the defending world champions could be written off as a threat to the White Sox.

"Heavens no, not yet," he replied. However, the Yankees today were 16-games back of the Sox who have 22 games remaining.

Chisox Blast Bengals Twice to Lead by 5½

Lary, Foytack Losers in 7-2, 11-4 Beatings; All 11 in One Inning

DETROIT (AP) — The pennant-bound Chicago White Sox literally blasted the Detroit Tigers out of third place in the American League and all but blew them out of Comiskey Park in taking a twi-night double-header 7-2 and 11-4 last night.

The biggest explosion came in the fifth inning of the second game when the Sox sent 16 men to the plate and banged 11 runs across, 10 of them after two men were out.

The double loss dropped Detroit from third to fourth place, a half game back of the New York Yankees, who beat Washington 4-3. And it left the Tigers only two games up on Baltimore, a 4-0 victor over Boston.

The Tigers had an off day today. And they welcomed it, as would anyone after taking two thorough beatings the same night right after five straight triumphs had lifted them to lofty heights.

Detroit pitcher Paul Foytack coasted into the second game's fifth inning with a 3-0 lead. Al Smith nicked him for a home run, Chicago's fourth hit. Foytack got the next two batters in order. But before the inning was out, the White Sox had battered him, Tom Morgan and Ray Narleski for 10 more runs on nine more hits, a hit batsman and a walk.

Dick Donovan limited the Tigers to four hits in the opening game, while his Chicago teammates were making seven good for seven runs off Frank Lary and reliefer Dave Sisler.

Charley Maxwell drove in both Detroit's runs, one with his 28th homer of the season and the other with a single.

Detroit's Harvey Kuenn, the American League's leading batsman, got only one hit in seven trips to the plate, and Al Kaline was hitless in five trips.

Reliefer Gerry Staley finished up both games for Chicago and did not allow a hit in either. He took over in the ninth from a tiring Donovan and came to the rescue of rookie Joe Stanka in the eighth.

Lions' Defensive Backfield on Spot

Van Brocklin Leads Eagles' Aerial Attack

Detroit's Once-Proud Passing Defense Gets Another Test Tonight

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

The once-proud defensive backfield of the Detroit Lions will find it difficult to recuperate tonight from last week's humiliation at the hands of the New York Giants.

The Giants were not supposed to be a great passing team yet aging Chuck Conerly and Frank Gifford teamed-up to maul the Lions' porous umbrella defense.

Tonight in Toledo, the Philadelphia Eagles, with Norm Van Brocklin and Tommy McDonald forming what is considered one of the best passing combinations in the Eastern Division, will give the Lions' secondary another true test.

The Lions have one defensive back too many on the team and so coach George Wilson said yesterday he would start rookies Jim Steffen and Jim Wagstaff along with Gary Lowe and Dave Whitsell.

Veteran defensive backs Yale Lary and Jim David would see action but were not expected to start. Terry Barr is still on the injured list.

"One of the four starters has got to go, we want to see more of them tonight," said Wilson.

In three exhibition games to date Van Brocklin has passed for 751 yards and seven touchdowns. He hit for 378 yards las week when the Eagles lost to Green Bay, 45-28.

Several changes were made in the Detroit lineup for tonight. Charley Ane will be back at center and Jerry Reichow is back at the end position.

The Eagles will have two of Michigan State's finest runners in recent years in their starting lineup. Walt Kowalczyk will be at halfback and Clarence Peaks at fullback.

Before making the trip to Toledo yesterday, the Eagles announced the trade of defensive back Jerry Norton to the Chicago Cardinals for guard Bob Knovsky and tackle Jerry Wilson.

They also cut five more players including back Joe Gatuso of Navy, lineman Jim Griboski, guard John Burroughs of Iowa, end Billy Templeton of Mississippi and guard John McMullan of Notre Dame.

Game time tonight in Toledo is 8:15 p.m.

British 'Tiger' Deals 'Ace' His First Ring Loss

CAMDEN, N.J. (AP)—Unranked Dick Tiger, the British Empire champion, has handed fifth-ranked middleweight Gene (Ace) Armstrong his first pro loss. But the optimistic Armstrong feels defeat has some blessings in disguise.

"I'll be more relaxed, and my future opponents might be less aggressive," said the 27-year-old Armstrong. "I won't have a winning record to keep going and they won't have one to knock off."

Tiger's decision over Armstrong in their 10-round nationally televised (ABC) fight last night at Convention Hall was Gene's first defeat in 18 fights.

Indians Win, Yankees Return to Third Place

The Cleveland Indians came up with what could be a very important victory last night although the White Sox appear well on their way to the American League pennant.

Fresh from a four-game losing streak and trailing, the Tribe rallied to beat the A's 6-3 to avoid a drop to 6½ behind since the leaders won twice. They lost only one-half instead of 1½ so its 5½ now.

New York skipped past Detroit into 3rd by edging Washington 4-3 while Baltimore's Billy O'Dell was blanking Boston 4-0 scattering seven hits in other games.

Gary Bell (15-11) pitched nine innings of five-hit relief after starter Herb Score was chased with two runs in, the bases loaded and none out in the first.

A five-run third clinched the issue and handed Ned Garver his 11th setback against nine victories. Tito Francona had two-run single and Woody Held batted in two more on a double in the big frame.

Yogi Berra belted a two-run eighth-inning homer to produce the Yankee triumph. The blow, his 18th of the season, broke a 2-all tie and offset a run in the 9th by the Nats.

Harmon Killebrew doubled and scored on a single by Clint Courtney but winning relief hurler Jim Coates, now 4-1, retired two pinch-hittters to end it. Pedro Ramos, who led 2-0 until the 7th, was the loser (12-16).

The Orioles scored twice in the 2nd inning to end their scoreless slump at 23 innings and coasted along after that behind O'Dell. The other pair crossed in the 3rd. Both O'Dell and loser Tom Brewer are now 8-10 for the season.

Orioles to Recall Eight Farm Hands

BALTIMORE (AP) — The Baltimore Orioles announced plans last night to recall eight players from their minor league farm team affiliates.

In addition bonus player Dave Nicholson, leading home run hitter in the Oriole organization with 32, will be reacquired from Aberdeen of the Class C Northern League.

The players to be recalled are third baseman Jim Finigan, shortstop Ron Hansen, first baseman Al Barth and pitcher Wes Stock from Vancouver of the Pacific Coast League; first baseman Bob Hale from Charleston of the American Assn.; pitcher George Zuverink and infielder-outfielder Leo Burke from Miami of the International League, and infielder Jerry Adair from Amarillo of the Texas League.

Reporting to Wichita

WICHITA, Kan. (AP)—Lou Pucillo, 5-foot-9 North Carolina State guard with a three-year scoring average of 12.4 points per game, will report to Wichita's 1959 National AAU basketball champions Oct. 1, the team announced Wednesday.

Bucs Stub Toes in Pennant Race

By The Associated Press

Pittsburgh's Pirates finally have stumbled in that National League pennant race, stubbing their toes on a club they've walked all over this season.

The Cincinnati Reds, who had won only five of 16 from Pittsburgh, dropping six in a row and 10 of 11, jolted the fourth-place Pirates twice with a 6-3 and 2-1 sweep in a twi-night doubleheader last night.

A three-run homer by Willie Jones won the opener, ending the Pirates' latest winning string at five. And Don Newcombe, who hadn't beaten Pittsburgh in more than two years, then out-dueled Bob Friend in the second game as the Bucs dropped two in a row for the first time in a month.

That spilled them five games behind San Francisco's first place Giants, who defeated the Chicago Cubs 4-3 on Jackie Brandt's ninth-inning homer. Second place Los Angeles stayed within 1½ games of the lead by beating St. Louis 9-6 after trailing by four runs. Philadelphia again spilled Milwaukee, 11-5, dropping the third place Braves four games behind with their third straight loss.

Vern Law (15-8) was the first-game loser for the Pirates, giving up singles by Gus Bell and Frank Robinson before Jones capped his tie-breaking homer in the eighth against unbeaten reliever Elroy Face. Vada Pinson and Robinson also homered for the Reds.

The Pirates scored their three in the first inning, two on Dick Stuart's homer, then were blanked on three hits by rookie Jim O'Tolle (5-7), who didn't give up a hit after the fourth inning.

A triple by Johnny Temple and Pinson's double broke a 1-1 tie in the night-cap eighth for Cincinnati against Friend (8-16), who like Law had won four in a row. The only run of Newk (13-7), who had singled in the Reds' first score, was unearned in the seventh.

Brandt's 12th homer, off losing reliever Don Elston (6-7) handed Sam Jones his 18th victory in relief for the Giants, tying teammate Johnny Antonelli and Milwaukee's Lew Burdette for the major league lead.

The Dodgers blew a 1-0 lead when the Cardinals scored five unearned runs in the third inning, three on Curt Flood's homer. They finally put it away against reliever Bob Duliba (0-1) with two runs in the sixth on Gil Hodges' single and a double by Charlie Neal. Chuck Churn (1-0) was the winner in relief as the Dodgers set a major league pitching record with 899 strikeouts for the season. The old mark was 896, set by Detroit in 1946.

Carl Sawatski drove in four runs for the Phils, chasing Burdette (18-14) with a three-run homer for a 6-2 lead in the sixth inning. Gene Freese also homered for the Phils, while Hank Aaron hit his 37th for the Braves off Robin Roberts (12-15), a winner after losing three straight.

Doctoring Your Golf

By DR. CARY MIDDLECOFF

PATIENT'S COMPLAINT: Hitting from the top.
DIAGNOSIS: Backswing too fast.

TREATMENT: Once again it's the old bugaboo of starting to hit with the hands from the top of the swing.

This is perhaps the worst and most prevalent fault in golf — this fast and jerky action just at the point where it's so important that the action be slow and smooth.

This bad fault can have a number of causes, one of which is setting up an overly fast swing pattern by taking the club back fast and abruptly. I think it'll be readily seen that if the overall swing pattern is kept in a slow and smooth rhythm, it'll be easier to keep the various parts of it slow and smooth.

With that in mind, take the club back smoothly and unhurriedly, as you see in today's drawing. Not paralyzing slow, mind you, but slow enough to keep things well under your control.

Then, when you arrive at the top of the backswing in this slow and smooth pattern, you'll not be so easily tempted to start the downswing too fast.

LSU Again Seen as Nation's No. 1 Grid Team

Diamond Dust

By CHUCK ABAIR

Summer baseball for youngsters had its greatest season in history in Auburn Heights thanks to the rapidly-growing Boys Club there and a guy named Sam Sheehy.

Sam was the darling of the mothers, the envy of the fathers and the idol of the players for the way he conducted the program and handled the players.

The 1956 graduate of Avondale High coached the club's team in the various divisions of the Pontiac Parks & Recreation setup and finished with a good overall record.

With Sam it was not just a case of being coach. He was adviser, friend and all-around leader to his players and other boys in the area.

"It amounted to almost a 24-hour a day job for Sam the way the boys were always calling him or hanging around his house," one mother told the Press.

"Sam took the boys to the zoo, to Detroit Tiger games and many other places on his own. Many of the kids would be waiting on his doorstep when he woke up in the morning and they would keep him going until dark," was the comment of Mrs. Douglas Ball.

SHEEHY

Tigers Favored to Repeat in National Poll

Top Team for '58 Has 30 Lettermen Returning This Season

ATLANTA (AP)—Louisiana State's colorful Tigers are the defending national and Southeastern Conference football champions. So it comes as no surprise that down in Dixie they are favored to be No. 1 again this fall.

It is not merely a case of the ing with the winner. There are 31 pre-season crystal ball boys rid-solid reasons for putting the championship monkey on LSU's back. Those reasons include All-America halfback Billy Cannon and 30 other lettermen Coach Paul Dietzel welcomes back from his imaginative, perfect-record marauders of last year. Only four veterans were lost.

But LSU's task, even at the conference level, is not simple. Powerful Auburn, unbeaten in 24 games and No. 1 in the nation two years ago, and swift-striking Mississippi are eager—and perhaps able—to shoulder LSU from the pinnacle.

In the Midwest:

IOWA CITY, Iowa — Halfback Bob Jeter, veteran Iowa swifty, dislocated a finger on his left hand and will not be able to engage in heavy contact work until next week.

BLOOMINGTON, Ind. — Coach Phil Dickens has named senior end Ron Miller, Green Bay, Wis., junior tackle Moses Gray of Conemaugh, Pa., and senior blocking back Eddie Fritz of Whiting, Ind., as possible kickoff specialists.

MINNEAPOLIS — Minnesota is working on improving the weak passing attack which hampered the Gophers' offense last season.

Old Woes for U-D Coach

In addition to the troubles inherited from former U-D grid mentor, Wally Fromhart, Miller also has only three weeks in which to prepare his Titans for their first game of a tough 1959 schedule.

U-D makes the earliest start of the state's major college football teams when it opens the season here Sept. 18 against George Washington University.

Miller has 19 lettermen back as he prepares his squad for its 10-game schedule. Ten members of the 1958 squad—which was expected to be one of the better U-D teams in history, but ended the year with a disappointing 4-4-1 record—were lost through graduation.

The new coach is switching from the winged-T to the straight T-formation this season, but he lacks an experienced quarterback to handle the team under the new system.

Lou Faoro, leading passer for the last three years, is working with the squad this season, but as an assistant trainer and not as quarterback. He was one of the graduates.

Old Injury Jinx Hits Michigan Eleven Again

Center Syring May Miss All of 1959 Season

First Stringer Suffers Dislocated Shoulder in 2nd Workout

ANN ARBOR (AP) — The old injury jinx hung over Michigan's Wolverines today as the team faced its first scrimmage without first string center Dick Syring.

The Bay City junior probably will be lost for the rest of the season as the result of a dislocated shoulder suffered on the second day of practice yesterday.

It was a tough break for new head coach Bump Elliott who had counted on Syring to anchor the middle of the Wolverine line this season. The injury was a recurrence of one suffered in the last game of the 1958 season.

"It looks like we got hit early this year," Elliott said, "but that's football. Injuries can come any time."

★ ★ ★

Elliott, in his first year as head coach, said he probably would use Jerry Smith, a gritty little Detroiter to fill the pivot post vacancy.

Ironically, it was Syring's injury in the final game of the season against Ohio State last year that gave Smith his first chance to perform.

Prior to the Ohio State game, Smith, a converted fullback, played less than four minutes in two games up to the finale. But when Syring was injured in a head-on tackle with Buckeye All-America fullback Bob White, Smith got his first big chance.

Syring reinjured his shoulder in a light contact drill as the first and second teams concentrated on timing, spacing and execution of plays from the new winged T offense.

Look, Wilson Work Strictly on Offense

Spartan QB's Go One Way

EAST LANSING (AP)—The Michigan State football quarterbacks will only have to worry about making touchdowns this fall—not stopping them.

Ike Grimsley, junior from Canton, Ohio, who came to MSU with a hot reputation as a high school passer, has been spelling Look on the defense in early workouts.

"I think we'll get better production out of our quarterbacks that way," Daugherty said. "Then they only have one thing to concentrate on—moving the ball."

Look has been loking good so far as a passer although he has yet to be tested in scrimmage.

He was asked if he thought he might—even unconsciously—try to protect himself.

"It never bothered me before," he said.

Look grinned. "Besides, as I understand it, quarterbacks are supposed to get protection."

Emphasis again was on speed in yesterday's non-contact workouts. Halfbacks Herb Adderley and Garry Ballman, and end John Sharp and fullback Blanche Martin led the racers in the wind sprint sessions.

The Spartans had a full complement of players as the last straggler of the squad of 71 showed up. Sophomore fullback Ron Hatcher reported for duty yesterday after a delayed trip from Carnegie, Pa.

Mrs. Gawne in Semifinals

Mrs. S. E. (Sue) Gawne is making another determined bid to win the Women's District Golf Association match play championship.

Mrs. Gawne of Franklin reached the finals last year before losing the title match to Sally Sharp. The 1959 tournament is now under way at Lochmoor Golf Club and Mrs. Gawne has worked her way into the semis.

The Bloomfield Hills CC member played the last 10 holes in even par Wednesday to win her quarter-final match against Mrs. Don Weiss of Flint by a 5-4 margin. Mrs. Weiss won the WDGA crown in 1952.

Royals Lose Services of Parr for 1959-60

CINCINNATI (AP)—The Cincinnati Royals of the National Basketball Assn. lost some sorely needed height Wednesday when Jack Parr, former Kansas State star, announced he would not play this year.

★ ★ ★

Parr, who stands 6-9, notified Royals' General Manager Pepper Wilson, that he plans to enter Washburn University to complete undergraduate studies necessary for him to enter medical school.

DETROIT (AP) — Pacer Casa Grande, after two months of trying, finally won a race at Wolverine Raceway last night. And bettors who had stuck with him were mighty happy. He paid $106.80, $28.40 and $9.80 across the board.

By comparison the daily double of Dick Colby ($7.60) and Bonnie Zombelle ($7.20) paid only $1.60.

Hayes Jones on Pan-Am Relay Champs

CHICAGO (AP) — It was all over except for loud huzzahing in track and field competition, but the United States continued its merry gold-medal-winning way in the third Pan-American games with the emphasis on swimming and basketball.

Now owning a staggering total of 45 gold medals for the athletic carnival which opened last Friday, Uncle Sam's power-laden forces also have a chance at four boxing championships tonight.

The USA track and field contingent, flexing strong muscles in a tune-up for the 1960 olympics, wound up competition in Soldier Field yesterday with 18 of 22 gold medals in the men's division and 8 of 10 in feminine activity.

Coach Chick Werner's track squad accounted for 15 of 17 Pan-Am records, while the ladies of coach Ed Temple produced 5 of 6 meet marks.

JONES ON RELAY TEAM

The United States men's 400-meter relay team, which includes Hayes Jones of Pontiac and Eastern Michigan University, placed first yesterday, defeating Venezuela in the championship heat.

In a semifinal heat, which it also won, the U.S. team set a new Pan-American record of 40.1 seconds. The old mark of :47.7 also was bettered in the championship heat, which the U. S. captured in :40.4. The old record was set by the U.S.A. in 1955.

In the opening Pan-Am games at Buenos Aires, 1951, the USA won 14 of 24 gold medals, and in the last games at Mexico City in 1955 took 16 of 22. The American women, in 1951, captured 2 of 9 titles and, in 1955, 4 of 7.

COUNTY FENCER WINS

Richard Berry of Royal Oak, Mich., won three matches and lost one as the United States men's epee fencing team defeated Venezuela 11-6. His only loss was by a narrow 5-4 margin. He won by as much as 5-1.

Yesterday's closing session produced four gold medals in men's track and one in women's competition, a new Pan-Am record resulting in each case.

This country's first marathon victory in Olympic or Pan-Am effort since 1908 was fashioned by 125-pound John Kelley, Groton, Conn., English teacher, in 2:27:54.2.

★ ★ ★

The 1,500 meter title went to Dyrol Burleson, Cottage Grove, Ore., as he paced a 1-2 USA sweep with a games record of :49.1. The USA men's and women's 400 meter relay teams won inv :40.4 and :46.6, a new meet mark. The javelin title went to Buster Quist of Albuquerque, N.M., with a record toss of 231 feet 3½ inches.

★ ★ ★

The USA won three swimming crowns in yesterday's opening round—swooping the first three places in the 3-meter diving, won by Gary Tobian. Bill Mulliken captured the 200 meter breaststroke and Jeff Farrell won the 100 meter freestyle, both setting new Pan-Am marks.

BOXERS ADVANCE

Six of the ten U.S. boxers advanced into championship bouts. They were featherweight Charles Brown, Cincinnati, O., light welterweight Vincent Shomo, New York, light heavyweight Amos Johnson, Stockton, Calif., and heavyweight Allen Hudson, Glencoye, N.Y.

★ ★ ★

Internal Unity Sought by NBA

Go-Slow War Against Underworld Is Planned by Boxing Group

That was the top-level thinking today as the organization moved into the final day of its 40th annual convention. Only routine business remained.

Newly-installed NBA President Tony Maceroni of Providence, R.I., promised a purge of undesirables, but said the NBA could proceed only through unified action and when the facts are available.

Selected Spider Webb of Chicago as the top middleweight contender and directed NBA champ Gene Fullmer to defend against him within 90 days.

Upheld — after a brisk argument — California's suspension of ranking light heavyweight Jesse Bowdry for pulling out of a fight with Sixto Rodriguez in San Francisco last month.

Fans Stand Up to Cheer Red

MILWAUKEE (AP) — "Schoendienst batting for Pizzaro" came over the loud-speaker at the Milwaukee County Stadium last night.

With a roar 18,047 fans got to their feet and cheered Red Schoendienst who went into a Milwaukee Braves game for the first time this year. He grounded out for pitcher Juan Pizaro.

"I had more butterflies than I ever had," Red said with a grin afterwards. "It was truly a big moment."

National Drag Races in Detroit

DETROIT (UPI) — Assembly line stock cars — the kind that are made in Detroit — roared over the quarter-mile track at the new Detroit dragway today to kick off the fifth annual National Championship drag races.

The stock models, which will take more punishment that they were built to receive in this contest of quick acceleration, will race today and tomorrow from 9 a.m. to 11 p.m. at the dragway located in suburban Wyandotte.

Then a strange looking assortment of cars, many of them hand made and biult especially for this type of racing, will take over. Included in this group are sports cars, hot rods and specially designed "dragsters.

They will race from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Saturday, Sunday and Labor Day-Monday.

Many of the more than 700 cars entered in the championship drag races received their pre-race inspections yesterday while mechanics worked over others, making last-minute tune-ups and adjustments.

This year marks the first time that the national drag races have been held in Detroit.

Candlelight Dinner Tactics

'Mother Knew Best' About Men

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK — My mother is an extremely wise woman—wise on matters of men and menus.

A long time ago, before I knew a lobster from a sunburned crab, she taught me these salient facts of culinary life:

1—Be a good cook but never a fancy one, because fancy foods are not good for your man and besides, do you find it attractive to spend your life in the kitchen? And . . .

2—If you insist on using candlelight at dinner you probably will be "taken out" to dine often, on account of men tend to pamper romantic-type women and furthermore they like to see what they are eating occasionally.

These simple, old-fashioned homelies (known as the "Battelle Theory of Diversionary Domestics" or, more simply, the "Look, Pa—All Thumbs" rule) has worked out beautifully.

BEAUTIFUL ROSES

My husband takes me out to dine with great frequency, although it will be decades before he equals my father's record; and Ma and I feel great self-satisfaction whenever we admire our men's sylph-like physiques and reflect on the fact that all those candles and evenings out have kept the roses coming in like clockwork on wedding anniversaries.

★ ★ ★

A psychologist named Peter Siegle has just confirmed that mother's system is not only sound, but is a good deal more imaginative than the tactics used by most women.

Siegle has just finished a survey for the John R. Thompson Company, a natfonal restaurant chain, to find out what motivates men and women to want to "dine out" or "stay home for supper."

He concludes that almost all women love to eat in restaurants as often as they're asked. Most men either don't care particularly or would just as soon stay home for the evening meal.

GIVE ME QUANTITY

★ ★ ★

Therefore, considering the fact that a man usually has had his lunch in a restaurant—and considering also the fact that dining out costs money—it is reasonable to conclude that men are more "home-oriented about eating, while women are more restaurant-oriented."

To a man, dinner in a restaurant is an habitual procedure.

★ ★ ★

"This means that they are likely to be less interested in the quality of the food than in the atmosphere which they will tend to romanticize often beyond the reality.

I HAVE A DATE

There is a distinct group — a growing group, which Siegle terms "the suburban and upper-middle-brow culture"—which finds eating, itself, an adventure.

They hold the gourmet approach to dining at home, as well as out, and divide their time between fancy restaurants and fancy kitchen built-ins—with the men generally doing their share of the exotic cooking.

Since men like this are still quite hard to find, restaurant-loving women resort to all sorts of devices to get their reluctant men to go out after a tough day on an expense account.

They use the "deserving martyr" approach (it's been a tough day with the push-buttons, but I don't mind cooking tonight—really); the "I try so hard" technique (point to garbage pail, sobbing, and say you tried a new recipe which didn't work out); the "pass the buck" pitch (the kids have been begging all day to go out for dinner, what could you do but say yes), and many, many more.

BURLINGTON, N.C. (AP) — Mail carrier Paul (Hardrock) Simpson slowed a little by the heat and too fast an early pace, hit town about dusk Wednesday night to finish his 55-mile birthday run.

Last year he ran 54 miles in nine hours. This year his run took 10 hours and 40 minutes.

Grain Dealers Slow Trading

CHICAGO (AP)— Grain futures prices eased slightly in slow early transactions today on the Board of Trade.

★ ★ ★

There appeared to be some hesitancy on the part of speculative dealers to make any new commitments pending issuance later today of the monthly crop report by Francis I. Du Pont & Co. and its statistician, C. M. Galvin.

The setback of major fractions in soybeans was the deepest on the Board of Trade and indicated a belief that the monthly report would raise the previous estimate of production at least slightly. In August, it predicted a yield of 521 million bushels.

Near the end of the first hour wheat was ¼ to ⅜ cent a bushel lower, September $1.92⅜; corn ¼ to ½ lower, September $1.18⅝; oats ¼ lower to ⅛ higher, September new type contract 67; rye ⅛ to ¼ lower, September $1.31; soybeans ⅝ to 1 cent lower, September $2.09.

OH, BACK IN THE BOX, YES — That's Jack Benny's humble reply to a reminder from former President Harry Truman. Benny is holding the gold head of the presidential flagstaff and Truman is making sure it finds its way back into its box and not into the comedian's pocket. It's all part of the special show Benny is taping and for which the ex-President has turned over his entire library.

Taping TV Show at Library

Benny, Truman Trade Ad Libs

By DOC QUIGG

INDEPENDENCE, Mo. (UPI)—This town'e most famous citizen and Waukegan's most famous native—both exactly 39 years old—got together to rehearse a television show in the Truman Library here, and the onlookers were kept howling by the offstage ad libs.

The funny stuff was not provided by the comedian, Jack Benny. It was dished up by the politician, Harry S. Truman, an old hand at off-the-cuff drollery. He is to be guest on a Benny Sunday night show on CBS-TV in mid-October.

The show itself is designed to be instructive about the purpose of the Harry S. Truman Library —a sort of museum devoted to help people learn about the meaning of the presidency.

"And we are," said Truman.

"I'll kill myself if it isn't," said Benny.

Visitors to the library—there are around 600 a day during summer months—were startled to see the two men walking through their parts, scripts in hand.

"Most of the visitors," Truman confided, "come here to see if the animal is still alive—but I fool 'em, I stay in my office most of the time."

When rehearsals finish, the program will be put on tape, a process that will make the former President an actor, which means he'll have to be paid scale—$155 for the performance. He has specified that whatever additional amount Benny wants to pay must go to charity, Benny said he thought he could dig up a few dollars more, maybe 15 or 20.

"This is the first actor drawing scale that I couldn't shout at said Director Seymour Berns. Truman told him, "Go ahead and holler at me as much as at any actor—remember I said actor."

At a break in the rehearsal yesterday, Benny and Truman sat down on a bench to go over the script. Truman looked up and found that they were sitting directly under an oil portrait of him. He moved the conference to a bench across the corridor, directly under a portrait of President Eisenhower.

Asked if he was having fun appearing on a TV show, Truman said:

"I'm doing it for Jack Benny and nobody else. I've never done it for anyone else and I won't do it for anyone else—and there you are. I've had hundreds of requests to go on television—Spivak, Jack Paar, and so on—and turned them all down. When I give out an interview, it's to all the press. Anyway, if they want to know anything they can read it in the paper."

He explained that at Benny's suggestion, he and Benny appeared in a benefit concert with the Kansas City Philharmonic 18 months ago "which pulled the orchestra out of debt" and that he was grateful.

Mecca for Daredevils

Niagara Falls a Challenge

NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y. (UPI)—The deep chasm that forms mighty Niagara Falls and the Whirlpool Rapids has been a challenge to man since the Indians first laid eyes on its majestic beauty.

Through the years, hundreds of daredevils hoping to conquer this natural phenomenon one way or another have been lured to this border city nestled in the northwest corner of New York State facing Canada.

But the greatest Niagara Falls performer of them all was Jean Francois Gravelet, who, under the name of Emile Blondin, was once the world's greatest tightrope artist.

Just 100 years ago, this slim son of Napoleon's military heroes defied death many times high above the turbulent Niagara and lived to tell every thrilling moment of it. In fact, when he did die, it was quietly in bed.

Even before coming to Niagara Falls in the spring of 1859, Blondin had long thrilled European crowds with his tricks on the ropes. Feeling keenly Niagara's challenge, he brought along his family and his able manager, Harry Colcord of Chicago, and settled down as a resident of what was then a mere village.

Blondin made his preparations carefully. He even purchased and helped put up the tightrope on which he would perform. Then, on June 30, 1859, he ventured out for the first time on the swaying line stretched between the American and Canadian banks some 180 feet above the Niagara River.

Blondin was the first of many tightrope walkers to try the feat but for sheer courage, he was never duplicated. Performing twice a week before crowds of 25,000 and 30,000 — extremely large for those days—he left his audiences limp with the audacity of his tricks.

The tope, with many guys and a special winch to keep it taut, was installed almost midway between the present Rainbow Bridge and the lower bridges, perhaps a mile below the cataract itself.

Blondin walked, pranced, ran, turned somersaults, walked backwards, sat down, lay down and negotiated the high wire with baskets on his feet. He even walked across the chasm on stilts.

Blondin, well liked by his neighbors, spent the winter in Niagara Falls and was back at his old tricks the next summer. The Prince of Wales (later Edward VII) and former president Millard Fillmore were among those who lined the banks on either side of the river to watch him.

His tricks included holding a hat out at arm's length while John Travis, a local sharpshooter on the "Maid of the Mist" boat below, put a bullet through it. Another feat was to lower a mug on a string to the boat and then, after pulling the mug back up, drink the water out of it.

Only once did death come close. Blondin offered to carry someone across the chasm on his back. Nobody volunteered and finally his manager, Colcord, agreed.

Gamblers on both sides of the border were wagering the pair never would make it across, and they almost collected. Too much slack in the rope exhausted Blondin. He stopped and asked Colcord to get down.

Colcord had no experience on the high-wire but he obeyed. Slipping down Blondin's back, he grasped the latter's hips and waited. Once Blondin's strength returned, the little manager scrambled back up to his perch on his shoulders and the pair made it to safety.

Air Time Bill Frees Stations

Now Ready for Senate; Only Political Speeches to Be Equalized

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House has passed a bill providing that radio and television stations don't have to give equal time to political candidates on news programs.

★ ★ ★

The vote Wednesday was 142-70 on a compromise worked out in a Senate-House conference. The Senate now must approve it before it goes to the President.

The exempted broadcasts include bona fide newscasts, news interviews such as panel shows, news documentaries and on-the-spot coverage of actual news events.

Congress acted to remove these new programs from the equal time provision after the Federal Communications Commission ruled that all candidates for a given office were entitled to equal time if one candidate appeared on a news program.

★ ★ ★

Industry officials said this would make impossible demands on their air time and that they might have to cut out most of their coverage of political campaigns unless the law were changed.

Claims New York Is Better for Little Guy

By EARL WILSON

★ ★ ★

"In Hollywood, unless you're a star, you're a real nothing—and if you're a star, you're like God," says Edward Binns, star of "Brenner," the only bigtime TV series now shooting here.

"But in N.Y. even the hit actor is treated with respect. He's called by name . . . He's not 'Hey, you' or 'All right, you two guys.'

"In Hollywood," says the six-foot Philadelphia-born Quaker who learned acting at the Cleveland Playhouse, then stopped a while to be an Air Force captain, "more respect is given to the size of the bankroll and the bust than to ability."

WILSON

Nancy Kovak, hostess on "Beat the Clock," is a Wilson Girl nominee.

Pat Suzuki, who loves to shoot, plans to take lessons from Martin Kane of Sports Illustrated in "instinct shooting" — firing from the hip without aiming. But being tied up in "Flower Drum Song," she can only practice in B'way shooting galleries. "Could you learn it there?" I asked Pat, who said, "Yes, everything would be fine until I shot the proprietor."

NANCY

"Hush money," claims Sammy Fuchs, is nothing new — he paid it to his niece for years not to sing around the house . . . People who blast female stars who get into scandals should be reminded of some words attributed to Sam Goldwyn: "There was never a bad woman who wasn't good box office."

Teacher Asks for Study Hour to Be Tuned In

FOWLER, Kan. (AP) — Odes Sapp, superintendent of Fowler schools, has mailed a form letter to parents saying:

"I would like to ask for your help. With our modern gadgets, we are getting too much competition.

"Could we set aside a few minutes each night for studies? If the children miss Maverick, Cheyenne or Colt 45 (on television) it still can be picked up next week. But it is a little inconvenient to pick up the missed school work the next year. How about arranging for a study hour."

Car Makers Predict Even Greater Demand

Station Wagon Sales Soaring

By BEN PHLEGAR
AP Automotive Writer

DETROIT — This weekend thousands of families will pile into their station wagons for a holiday trip or a return from the country after a summer's outing.

On the highway they will pass hundreds of other wagons loaded with kids, pets, household goods or an assortment of each.

The wagon is the fastest growing body style in the auto business. During the past 10 years five million have been built, some 900,000 of them in the 1959 model years. The experts claim it won't be long before one of every five cars sold will be a station wagon.

The growing demand took most car makers by surprise a year or two back, but for the 1960 model year they are primed with the widest choice so far.

For example, there will be a rash of new offerings of three-seat wagons, advertised as nine-passenger jobs. Many of these will have the third seat facing the rear and at least one is offering a new panel-type door on the back instead of the traditional tailgate. This allows much easier entry into the third seat.

Studebaker-Packard will offer a four-door station wagon in its Lark series for the first time. Four-doors have been by far the most popular style for the industry.

During the 1959 model run some 700,000 of the wagons were four-door models. By companies this field was dominated by Chevrolet, Ford, Rambler and Plymouth.

The hottest individual seller has been Ford's four-door Country sedan with two seats and a V-8 engine. Chevrolet's Parkwood V-8 has been second and Rambler's Super Six third.

Many explanations have been advanced for the mounting demand for wagons. Some say the vehicle's combination cargo and passenger-carrying capacity has been the major factor. Others claim the appeal as a family-carrying car is decisive. And there are still others who prefer the styling of the wagons instead of the conventional sedans.

Stylists in medium priced lines, especially, have gone all out to create an air of luxury about their station wagons. Once sold almost entirely for their utility and cargo carrying, the wagons now are pushed as the complete family car, equally suitable for the cottage or the country club.

There is no doubt that their added passenger room has become increasingly important. The rising hump in the floor of modern sedans combined with the lowered roofs makes it difficult to find a sedan that can seat six adults comfortably. A station wagon usually can.

None of the Big Three's compact car lines will offer a station wagon at first but both Corvair and Falcon have announced plans to produce one early in 1960.

By contrast, a similar survey of convertible purchases found the $2,701 - $2,800 range most popular. One reason—neither Rambler nor Lark made a convertible in 1959 while the only lines not making wagons were at the extreme other end of the price ladder, Cadillac, Lincoln and Imperial.
