WHO'S AFRAID — Getting a haircut doesn't bother Tommy Anderson of Kingsport, Tenn., as he coolly takes a swig from the bottle, and keeps his gun handy. The gun? Well, after all, a boy just barely two is no match alone for a big barber. The barber, Ralph Hartsock, is careful with every clip.

Graham in Bed With Bad Eye but Won't Quit

MELBOURNE, Australia (AP)—A recurrence of eye infection kept evangelist Billy Graham in bed today. But he will go on with his Melbourne crusade, said the Rev. Grady Wilson, a member of Graham's evangelical team.

"The eye trouble has been with him ever since the Melbourne crusade began almost a fortnight ago," Wilson said.

The infection delayed Graham's departure from the United States for Australia early this month. He spent two weeks in Hawaii recuperating from it.

The doctors have advised Graham to rest as much as possible and told him to cut his sermons from 60 to 35 minutes to reduce the strain.

The evangelist told a capacity crowd of 25,000 Wednesday night to pray for "Macmillan in Moscow, and Dulles and all other world leaders who are working for peace."

Angry Minority Stalks Out of Lansing House

2 Lawmakers Nearly Stage Fist Fight After Stormy Session

LANSING (AP)—House Republicans grabbed the initiative in cash crisis maneuvering today with a surprise move that triggered a wildcat walkout by Democrats and a near fist fight.

In the stormiest session of the year, Republicans yesterday took steps to force an early showdown on Gov. Williams' plan to ease the state's financial crisis by mortgaging the Veterans Trust Fund.

Over Democratic protests, they pulled the four-bill package plan off the House table where it had lain in cold storage, and readied it for debate.

The move was seen as a GOP attempt to force Democrats into taking a stand on the proposal prior to the April 6 election, thereby embarrassing many who oppose it and stirring veterans' group leaders against Democrats generally.

Caught off guard, Democrats complained the move was made while five Democratic lawmakers of Polish extraction were escorting five women visitors from Poland around the capital.

When Republicans refused a recess after revealing their strategy, Democrats stalked en masse from the House chamber.

Newsmen later surrounded Rep. Joseph J. Kowalski (D-Detroit), Democratic floor leader, to get his comment. On the sidelines making frequent interruptions was Rep. Harry J. Phillips (R-Port Huron).

Piqued, freshman Rep. William H. Thorne (D-Dearborn) told Phillips that "He (Kowalski) is talking to the newspapermen, not you."

"Shut up and mind your own business," snapped the fiery little Port Huron lawmaker.

After a brief exchange, Thorne removed his glasses and lunged at Phillips. Rep. Gilbert L. Wales (D-Stambaugh) restrained Thorne before the two came to blows.

Phillips apologized immediately.

Kowalski hit the GOP trust fund maneuver as "a smart-aleck attempt at political manipulation."

The House, he said, should have taken up the first item of

Chief Incompetent, Eastman Charges

By MAX E. SIMON

GEORGE D. EASTMAN

On his first day as Pontiac public safety director, George D. Eastman was told by now suspended Police Chief Herbert W. Straley: "I'm sorry, but there's no room for you in the police station."

Eastman told of this incident while testifying before the Civil Service Commission last night as the Commission renewed its hearing into removal charges against Straley.

Eastman contends that now there is no room for Straley at the police department.

"He lacks the basic knowledge for carrying out the responsibilities of chief of police," Eastman told commissioners.

The public safety director, hired by City Manager Walter K. Willman to improve the department's efficiency and raise morale, told commissioners he first settled in a small office in the corner of the building.

Late in October he informed Straley he was taking over the chief's spacious quarters, but denied he took the action to provoke Straley into an act of insubordination.

"I felt his office was more appropriate to my needs," Eastman said.

From his first day in Pontiac until he stripped Straley of command Nov. 12, Eastman said he was busy studying police "operations and conditions."

On Nov. 12 when he took over "personal and direct command" of of the force, Eastman testified:

1. The records system was inadequate, decentralized, duplicatory, and records were unavailable to the public, police and outside agencies on a 24-hour basis.

2. The chief did not have a knowledge of administrative formula and statistics that would provide him measures of effectiveness.

3. No planning and research program existed in the department.

4. No attempt had been made to implement the Public Administrative Service (PAS) report recommendations.

5. The chief had not provided the force with an effective disciplinary program. Eastman said that an effective program could be provided within the framework of the Civil Service Act.

6. The chief lacked leadership qualities.

Eastman called the chief "insubordinate" for failing to reply to his memorandums on time. Although he asked for replies on memos within 24 hours, Straley consistently failed to meet his deadlines, Eastman said.

Straley was ordered to prepare

Macmillan, Nikita Fail to Ease Tension

British Leader Travels to Kiev Alone; Formal Statement Due Monday

KIEV, U.S.S.R. (AP)—The Macmillan - Khrushchev talks have ended with neither side "budging an inch," a British spokesman said here today.

The only outstanding business is agreement on a formal communique next Monday, the spokesman added.

At the same time he confirmed earlier reports that the British Prime Minister's visit to the Soviet Union came perilously close to ending abruptly two days ago in Moscow as a result of Soviet Premier Khrushchev's Kremlin speech.

These disclosures were made after Macmillan flew here from Moscow, where he had addressed stern words to Khrushchev in a meeting at the Kremlin.

British sources said he had warned Khrushchev that any attempt to interfere with Western rights in Berlin would be fraught with danger.

(In Washington James C. Hagerty, White House press secretary, said he knows of no grounds for reports that President Eisenhower has authorized partial mobilization of U. S. reserve forces to deal with a possible crisis over Berlin. (Hagerty was asked by a reporter about such reports from Paris and Amsterdam, Holland. The reports referred to partial mobilization by the May 27 date set by the Soviet Union for making West Berlin a demilitarized city and turning access control over to East German Reds.)

Khrushchev had planned to fly

Trombly Health Checkup Asked

Macomb Bar Assn. Cites 'Alleged Mental, Physical Disability'

MOUNT CLEMENS (AP)—The Macomb County Bar Assn. has asked for an investigation into the "alleged mental and physical disability" of County Probate Judge Joseph V. Trombly.

★ ★ ★

A petition for the investigation was adopted yesterday and sent to the State Supreme Court.

If such disability exists, the association said in its petition, efforts should be taken for involuntary retirement of Judge Trombly, a veteran of 18 years on the Macomb County bench.

The court affairs of Judge Trombly already were under investigation by Meredith H. Doyle, state Supreme Court administrator. Doyle visited Mount Clemens last week to check Judge Trombly's court docket. He returned again yesterday.

★ ★ ★

Judge Trombly is in Henry Ford Hospital in Detroit for an examination. He entered the hospital 11 days ago when the Macomb County Bar Assn's. Board of Directors prepared a resolution for action by members requesting an investigation of juvenile court.

Trilck Gives Self Up at Fort Lauderdale

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (AP) — Russell Raymond Trilck, sought for several days in connection with bribery charges in Detroit, gave himself up here yesterday.

Trilck, 52, walked into the sheriff's office here and posted $1,500 bond. He was accompanied by an attorney and announced he will fight attempts to return him to Michigan for trial.

The 5-foot-8, 240-pound Trilck had been sought since leaving Detroit to avoid a charge that he bribed six police officers including a commissioner, said Albert A. Goldfarb, assistant Wayne County prosecutor.

Goldfarb said he had lost Trilck's trail after tracing him to nearby Hollywood.

Police have described Trilck as the gambling king of the River Rouge area. Three charges of bribery and one charge of obstructing justice have been filed against him.

Eight co-defendants, including six River Rouge policemen, have been free on bond pending a court examination today.

Goldfarb had returned to Detroit before Trilck's surrender. The prosecutor was due to appear in court today when the eight co-defendants appear in the gambling conspiracy case.

The eight were arrested Feb. 13. Trilck had left his Detroit suburban home in Lincoln Park three weeks earlier.

Poses Questions on Courthouse

Taxpayers Group Asks Closer Study of Site for New Structure

The Oakland County Taxpayers League has 15 questions it would like anwers to concerning the proposed location and financing of a new courthouse.

Bruce J. Annett, secretary of the league, said he was submitting the 15 questions today to David Levinson, Birmingham supervisor who is in charge of the supervisors' Special Courthouse Committee.

"I would like to state again that the Oakland County Taxpayers League is not in any way attempting to block the building of a new courthouse," Annett said.

"We realize the need of a new building, and are only interested in having it built as reasonably as possible under a sound, moral and legal financing program and where it will offer the most convenience and accessibility to all of the people of Oakland County," he said.

The questions were drafted after Levinson, at Tuesday's meeting of the Board of Supervisors, volunteered to answer questions Supervisor Duane Hursfall of Independence Township said newer members of the board had on courthouse planning.

Supervisors, by a vote of 64-5, refused to delay building plans by granting a 30-day "question period" as requested by Hursfall and Farmington Township Supervisor Frank J. Stephenson.

The following are the league's questions:

1. On what date and where did the supervisors hear any comparison between building the courthouse on the present site or the Telegraph road site?

2. Did your architect and engineer reports show that the same size building with better facilities could be built for less money on the present site?

3. Did an impartial survey of people using the courthouse show

Seek Plan to Keep Goodrich Plant Open

CADILLAC (UPI)—A community-wide mass meeting may be held here Saturday night to work out a plan to keep one of the area's largest plants operating.

The B. F. Goodrich Co. announced earlier this week that it would close its extruded rubber plant here May 1 because of unprofitable operations.

A constant round of meetings has been held in the community since the announcement in an effort to work out a plan to keep the plant in operation.

WICHITA (AP)—How effective is the tranquilizing drug meprobamate on a normal person? License Office Busy Place as Deadline Nears

Long lines were forming at the Secretary of State's Pontiac Office today as the deadline for driving with 1958 license plates neared.

By 11 a.m. more than 50 last minute customers were in line, and officials estimated that number would double or triple in a few hours.

Almost a hundred were in line at the office during peak hours yesterday.

Although ahead of last year's sales, the office estimated there are at least 10,000 more drivers who will want to purchase plates before the deadline at midnight Saturday.

About 40,000 plates have been sold here so far this year, as many as were sold by last year's deadline, reported Willis M. Brewer, Pontiac branch manager.

But Brewer said there are more potential customers this year.

He urged purchasers to get plates today or tomorrow to avoid the last minute rush Saturday.

The Pontiac office at 96 E. Huron St. and the Waterford office in the Waterford Township Hall will both be open from 9 a.m. to 8 p.m. tomorrow and from 9 a.m. until the last customer is served Saturday, he said.

WEST ORANGE, N.J. (AP) — Abner (Longie) Zwillman, 54, prohibition era figure, was found hanged today in his fashionable home here, police reported.

An employe told patrolman Donald Palardi he found Zwillman dead.

A grand jury last week indicted several persons in connection with the alleged bribing of jurors who served on the deadlocked panel that tried Zwillman for income tax evasion in 1956.

Threat of Floods Ebbs

LANSING (UPI) — There has been a "sharp reduction" of the threat of floods in the St. Joseph and Kalamazoo river basins in southwest Michigan, the Water Resources Commission said today.

Pair Reports '4 Saucers' Over State

DETROIT (UPI) — A report of "flying saucers" over Michigan today followed on the heels of sightings of three unidentified flying objects by an entire planeload of passengers, plus the crew.

Mrs. Augusta Netzell of Eau Claire in southwestern Michigan said she was out in a field trimming fruit trees about 3 p.m. yesterday when a hired hand reported seeing three or four objects "about the size of dinner plates."

She said she also saw them and the objects appeared light red or light pink in color and were "flying much faster than a jet." They were traveling from east to west.

Tuesday night three strange flying objects were first spotted over Pennsylvania by Capt. Peter Killian of Syossey, N.Y., pilot of an American Airlines plane en route to Detroit from New York.

Killian checked with his co-pilot, John Dee of Nyack, N.Y., and his engineer, who also saw them. Then Killian notified the 35 passengers aboard the plane.

PASSENGERS SAW THEM

N. D. Puscas, 41, manufacturing manager of Curtis Wright Division at Utica, said he and the other passengers spotted the strange bluish-white lights after Killian notified them.

He also praised the way the pilot told the passengers about the lights. "It was very clever," he said. "There was no panic or worry among any of them."

Killian said when he first saw the mysterious lights, he thought they were the Belt of Orion, a group of stars in a row similar to the lights he saw.

But he said he looked again and found the Belt of Orion also.

Killian said the lights were not close to the plane, but appeared in the southern sky, a little higher than his plane, which was flying at about 8,500 feet.

He said the lights appeared to be in a uniform line but at times changed position.

He Needed Helping Hand to Find Job

By DR. WILLIAM P. ANGERS
Counseling Psychologist,
New York City

On one of our busy Manhattan streets recently, I saw a young man lean shakily against a doorway and then slowly slide to the sidewalk. I hastened to help, but when I touched him lightly he gazed at me blearily and mumbled:

DR. ANGERS

"Go way. Don't need help." Then he closed his eyes sighing, "I'm drunk."

"So I see," I said, feeling a trifle ashamed at disturbing him, "but you do need help. Come on, let's see what a little hot coffee can do."

He was a handsome fellow, 22, I learned, three months out of the Marines—and drunk at 3 o'clock in the afternoon.

"What's the trouble?" I asked when he began coming around to the sober side.

"The world's against me, that's all. It's as simple as that."

Of course it wasn't as simple as that. His real problem was that he had a wife, two children —and no job. He had tried hard but no one would hire him and now he had quite given up.

★ ★ ★

"Look," I told him, "if you feel like it, give me a call. You won't believe this, but I'm in the business of helping people with job problems." I handed him my card. Under my name is read: "Consulting Psychologist, Vocational Service Center."

★ ★ ★

This center, a division of the YMCA, came into being because of the hordes of job-hungry veterans returning to civilian life after World War II. Today 5,000 men and women of all ages come to us each year for counseling, to take our tests and browse through files containing more than 40,000 job classifications.

Our primary aim is not just to find people jobs, but to suggest the right jobs for them—this knowledge can be all-important in finding employment.

LACKED EXPERIENCE

In a few days, the Marine did appear at my office. In the service, I discovered, he had been an assistant to a dentist, briefly, and so enjoyed the work that now back in civilian life he wanted to become a dental technician.

He was always turned away because he lacked enough experience and because no one was willing to give him on-the-job an analysis of the PAS report on Nov. 4, but hadn't turned it in when he was suspended Feb. 9, Eastman said.

"On some of them, I grew tired of asking the chief and just gave up," Eastman said.

Eastman said Straley had failed to set up a training program, and no library was available for officers. "The only books on police work were in his office," Eastman said, "and I don't know if he gave them out."

It became evident, Eastman said, that the department lacked any vice repression policy. "Vice officers were not informed of what was legal and what wasn't," Eastman said.

"On Dec. 23, I learned of a vice officer breaking a glass window in a door to enter a building. This unhealthy practice was common, and it should not have been permitted by the chief."

Eastman said the head of the vice detail, now named the Special Investigation Unit, has told him he was placed on vice for "disciplinary reasons."

It was the first time that any other officer was mentioned specifically in the hearing, and it can be expected that the officer, Detective Richard G. Evans, will be called on for testimony at a future date.

Although the City Commission authorized purchase of new uniforms in January of 1957, Straley had not sent in specifications up to the time he was removed from command, Eastman said.

"Pontiac police officers were not uniformly uniformed, and many went without coats in the winter," Eastman said. "This created a serious morale problem."

Straley's attorney, Clarence L. Smith, asked the Commission to drop many of the charges, contending that Eastman assumed "complete control" of the department from the day he arrived in the city.

"The responsibility for conditions until noon on Nov. 12 were Straley's," Eastman said. "At that time, when I assumed direct command, the responsibility fell on me."

The question was referred to the Civil Service Commission's attorney, James G. Hartrick, for study.

Eastman, under Smith's cross-examination, said he took no oath of office early in his stay and "couldn't remember" if he'd taken one within a month.

"Mr. Willman told me it wasn't necessary," he said. He said, however, he has taken an oath of office.

Eastman said he felt his responsibility as public safety director was to provide effective operations of the police and fire departments through the respective chiefs.

"You had the responsibility, didn't you?" Smith asked.

When Eastman again said he wished to work through the chiefs, Smith snapped: "We're getting as far here as if you used the Fifth Amendment."

Eastman called the Civil Service Act cumbersome, but called it workable if amended.

He denied associating with any one faction in the department and said he, personally, has seen no acts of insubordination against Straley.

Smith will continue to cross examine Eastman when the hearing resumes at 7:30 tonight in the City Commission chambers.

Most of Nation Enjoying Mild Winter Weather

By The Associated Press

Cold lingered in sections of the Northeast but fairly mild winter weather was the rule in most other parts of the country today.

It was zero and a little lower in some of the snow-covered northern sections of New England and New York. However, a general warming trend was forecast for the Northeast area.

★ ★ ★

A general warming trend also was indicated in most of the area from the northern Rockies to the Great Lakes and southward into the middle Mississippi and Ohio valleys.

Raise Question on Site of Courthouse

that the majority of people favored the present site?

4. Why has the Board of Supervisors continually tabled the request of the Oakland County Taxpayers League to put the issue to the vote of the people as to where they preferred the courthouse to be built?

5. Is the proposed plan of financing the courthouse building morally right?

6. How will the plan to finance, if continued, affect schools and townships revenues?

7. What will be the additional cost of providing sewer to the Telegraph road site.

8. If additional property isn't annexed to the City of Pontiac from Waterford Township, what will be the additional cost of building on the swampy land available?

9. Will it be necessary to subsidize restaurants and bus lines at the Telegraph road site?

10. Would it be easier for elderly or infirm people to use elevators in a 10-story building at the present site or walk considerable distance in a 3-story building at the Telegraph road site?

11. For people forced to use public transportation, which site would be more accessible?

12. Will it cost more and be as safe to transport prisoners by vehicle from the jail to the Telegraph road site?

13. Do supervisors contemplate a new jail at the Telegraph road site, and what disposition will be made with the present jail?

14. Why wouldn't abstract companies insure title to the present courthouse site for sale to private purchasers?

15. What other county in the United States has its courthouse located outside of the downtown business area of the county seat?

Annett said, "We think that before a project of this magnitude should be undertaken all supervisors should be fully informed of the problems involved and that any interested group should be given a hearing before the entire Board of Supervisors."

Levinson said he would have to see the questions before he could comment on what the course of supervisors would be.

SET DATES FOR BIDS

Levinson's committee and other county officials met yesterday with architects of O'Dell Hewlett & Luckenbach Associates of Birmingham, and set advertisement of construction bids for the courthouse for March 14.

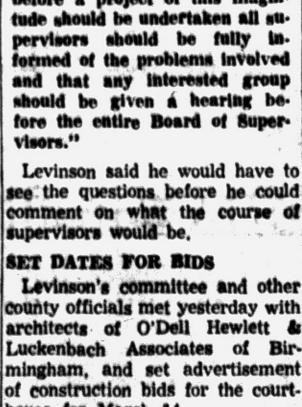
Bids on the $2,875,000 courthouse unit will be taken April 21.

The way was cleared a week ago to proceed with planning when the Michigan Supreme Court ruled that close to two million dollars set aside for the building had been accumulated legally from non-tax or miscellaneous funds.

★ ★ ★

The league in 1956 filed a lawsuit in Oakland County Circuit Court claiming supervisors were violating a law restricting counties from levying in any year not more than one-tenth of one mill for building purposes. A lower court decision in 1957 agreed, but Supreme Court justices by a vote of 4-3 reversed this ruling.

SAFE DRIVING TIP



Drive carefully wherever there are pedestrians.

Motorists who rear into a gas station, a supermarket parking lot, or a private driveway are endangering adults and children alike, the Chicago Motor Club points out. Maturity and common sense are of little advantage to pedestrians in such a situation.

In shopping centers with large parking areas, this unsafe driving practice is doubly hazardous.

In addition to the main course, sausage, toast, orange juice, coffee and other suitable nutrients will be available, and again the "all you can eat" rule will be in effect, the club says.

The event will run throughout the day until 8 p.m. in the basement banquet hall.

Entertainment will be provided by a six-piece band composed of members, plus a singing group from Pontiac Central High School. Dan Murphy, club vice president, is chairman of the event.

Medics' Wrecked Plane Found in Vermont

LITTLETON, N. H. (AP) — The wreckage of a small plane in which two prominent New Hampshire doctors disappeared four days ago was reported sighted last night on a snow covered hill in Gilman, Vt.

Search officials ordered several military helicopters and ground parties to converge on the desolate scene, a tiny community just across the Connecticut River, about eight miles northwest of Whitefield, N. H. The river divides the two states.

The report came from Dr. Stuart W. Russell, a colleague of the two missing physicians—Dr. Ralph E. Miller, 60, and Dr. Robert E. Quinn, 32. All are members of the Dartmouth College medical faculty. There was no word whether any life was noted at the scene.

to Kiev with Macmillan but the visiting British Prime Minister took off alone. Khrushchev was not even at the Moscow airport to see him off.

A British spokesman said Khrushchev told Macmillan at a meeting in the Kremlin this morning he had a bad tooth and must have it filled.

Diplomats wondered whether this was a diplomatic illness. The British have made no secret that relations between the two delegations have worsened since Khrushchev's speech on Tuesday in which the Soviet Premier virtually rejected Western proposals for a Big Four foreign ministers' meeting on Germany.

The talks thus appeared to have made little headway in reconciling British and Western policies with those of the Soviet Union.

In a chilly political atmosphere Macmillan made it clear to Khrushchev at a meeting in the Kremlin that any attempt to interfere with the Western powers' position in Berlin "would lead to a dangerous situation," British informants said.

A communique by Tass, the Soviet news agency, in which every word is officially weighed, omitted any reference to a friendly atmosphere at the latest meeting. A Moscow radio broadcast insisted the morning's talks were "warm and friendly."

Leaders of the Communist-oriented world peace council strove to put a good face on the conferences.

★ ★ ★

They said Khrushchev believes Macmillan's visit will be a good one even if no hard agreements are reached.

Henri de la Vigerie, a French member of the peace group, said Khrushchev told him the Soviet Union will not use force to solve the Berlin question.

There was no explanation for Khrushchev's absence when Macmillan took off for Kiev and a three-day visit to the Ukraine and Leningrad. Dep. Foreign Minister Vassily Kutznetsov and Jacob Malik, Soviet ambassador to London, accompanied Macmillan.

Bloomfield Hills Boosters Ready Letter on Schools

BIRMINGHAM — Many volunteers who have been working in the Bloomfield Hills School District explaining the district's financial needs to voters are summarizing their efforts in a letter to be mailed this weekend.

Chairman of the group, John McBride, who is manager of the Dealer Financial Analysis Department of Ford Motor Co. said this morning the letter will also outline the results should the increase and bond issue for village schools be rejected at the special March 5 election.

In a door-to-door campaign the committee has urged registration of voters. As a result more than 300 additional residents will be eligible to vote, according to School Superintendent Eugene Johnson.

He said in addition to the house calls the committee has met with groups to discuss the entire school problem currently and for the future.

School officials are asking for an operational millage increase of 4.6 mills for the next three years followed by 3.6 mills for another three years after which it will be discontinued.

The $790,000 bond issue for an addition to the junior high school and a new eight-room elementary school on Quarton road will be an .8 mill assessment spread over 25 years.

Failure of the previous ballot last September has already been reflected in the classrooms. Five teachers who left the district in midterm have not been replaced, saving about $10,000. Their classrooms have been combined with others.

Substitute teachers have also been discontinued, leaving classes without proper guidance if a teacher is ill.

McBride said the citizens working on the committee made a thorough study of school management before going into action.

"We are entirely satisfied with how our schools are being run, he said. "We also feel that no tax dollar is used more wisely than those we pay for our schools. Taxpayers are getting full value for every cent they invest."

Birmingham and Detroit police are trying to solve the riddle of a man who apparently attempted suicide at the Birmingham Police Station yesterday, Det. Lt. Merlin Holmquist said today.

★ ★ ★

Holmquist said the man who is about 50 years old gave his name as John Hayden. He told police he was wanted for "several things" in Detroit.

As police here questioned him, they noticed he was eating something from a small box which they discovered to be rat poison.

Hayden was given emergency treatment at William Beaumont Hospital in Royal Oak and removed to Receiving Hospital in Detroit.

Police in that city say he has no record.

Alice Wessels Burlingame, noted horticulturist, will speak at the Soroptimist Club dinner-meeting at Devon Gables at 6:30 p.m. tomorrow. Her topic will be "Gardens—Home and Abroad."

Mrs. Joseph McCelland

Service for Mrs. Joseph McCelland, 82, of 21651 W. 10 Mile Rd., Southfield will be held at 2 p.m. Saturday from the Manley Bailey Funeral Home. Burial will be in Southfield Cemetery.

★ ★ ★

She died at her home yesterday after a long illness.

A native of Southfield Township, Mrs. McCelland was a member of the United Presbyterian Church and its missionary society.

★ ★ ★

Sole survivor is a daughter, Mrs. Charles Spicer of Detroit.

Pilkinton Again Heads City Democratic Club

Allen J. Pilkinton has been re-elected to another one-year term as president of the Pontiac Democratic Club.

Others elected for 1959 were Stanley Jaruzel, first vice president; Mrs. Mildred Burns, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Dora Johnson, recording secretary; George Simpkiss, guide; John Kent, sergeant at arms; and Mrs. Ann Jaruzel, trustee for three years.

Marshall's Condition Remains Serious

FT. BRAGG, N.C. (AP)—Gen. George C. Marshall, 78, was resting comfortably although still in serious condition today.

The report came from the general's physician, Col. George M. Powell.

Marshall was hospitalized Jan. 15, shortly after suffering a second stroke at his winter home in nearby Pinehurst.

Pontiac Council to Air Sewage Plant Issue

The sewage treatment plant bond issue will be the subject of a special meeting of the Greater Pontiac Community Council at 8 p.m. March 12 in City Hall.

Delegates and the public will hear city officials discuss the $3,300,000 bond issue scheduled for a public vote April 6.

The meeting was scheduled for educational purposes on recommendation of the council's civic affairs committee.

New Court Hearing Set in Sinking of Freighter

DETROIT (UP)—A Detroit lawyer has obtained a federal court order to conduct a hearing March 11 on the sinking of the freighter Carl D. Bradley in Lake Michigan with the loss of 33 crew members.

Victor G. Hanson, attorney for the Maritime Trade Department representing 15 unions, said he would clear up some of the mysteries still surrounding the Nov. 18 sinking at the hearing in Presque Isle County Courthouse in Rogers City.

A Coast Guard board of inquiry investigated the sinking but has yet to report findings.

Elmer Fleming, 43, and Frank Mays, 26, only two survivors of the disaster, will be subpoenaed to testify at the Rogers City hearing.

The court order was signed yesterday by Judge Theodore Levin. It also contained subpoenas for Norman Heft, general manager of the Bradley Transportation Co., Sylvester Sobeck, a former engineer aboard the ill-fated vessel, and Robert Leo, an officer and engineer with the Bradley firm.

Because of a death in his family, Sobeck missed the trip in which the Bradley split in two and sank.

"This will be the first time that the two survivors and representatives of the company will be testifying under oath as to what happened," Hanson said.

He said the hearing will be a test case based on the claim of Mrs. Eleanor Tulgetske of Rogers City, one of Hanson's clients. She is the widow of Earl Tulgetske Jr., one of the ship's drowning victims.

Mrs. Tulgetske has filed a $925,000 claim against the company. She is the mother of four children.

Hanson said representatives of the Bradley company will bring to the hearing whatever data they have on the condition of the ship before the disaster.

New Senate GOP Leader, Velvet-Voiced Dirksen, Faces Thorny Task

By ROGER GREENE
AP Feature Writer

WASHINGTON (AP)—A one-time farm boy, Everett McKinley Dirksen has risen twice to lofty heights—both times as a target of hostile fire.

In World War I, he rode an observation balloon over the flaming St. Mihiel battlefield in France, spotting German gun replacements. Today, 40 years later, Sen. Dirksen (R-Ill) recalls his wartime experiences with a twinge of nostalgia. At least he knew that only the enemy was firing at him.

In his new role as Senate Republican leader, Dirksen not only has to buck overwhelming Democratic forces. He also has to strike for harmony in the GOP's own ranks as bristling factions of old guard conservatives and peppery liberals pull and haul in different directions.

Even the velvet-voiced Dirksen, who has been known to move his colleagues to tears, may find it a thorny task.

Congressional wags have dubbed him "the wizard of ooze," and a Chicago newsman once wrote in awe that Dirksen speaks "as though his tonsils were marinated in honey."

★ ★ ★

Long an apostle of the late Sen. Robert A. Taft (R-Ohio), Dirksen is now generally rated as slightly to the right of center, though he disclaims any specific hue in the political spectrum.

Former Sen. Scott Lucas (D-Ill) once called him "the champion flip-flop artist of modern politics."

Such barbs grieve Dirksen sorely. He says he is merely "flexible," open-minded and reasonable.

Even when stung to the quick, he usually prefaces his dissent with the soothing words, "In my humble judgment—I do not say it harshly—"

STIRRED TO TEARS

Sen. Kerr (D-Okla) likes to needle him as "Irksome Dirksen," but the Illinois senator is without doubt one of the best-liked men on Capitol Hill.

Sen. Langer (R-ND) confesses he was stirred to tears by Dirksen's appeal to the Senate for compassion when the late Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis) was stricken with bursitis during the 1954 debate over a motion to censure the Wisconsin lawmaker.

Sardonic jibes at McCarthy's illness, which many suspected of being a stall, brought Dirksen to his feet to cry in trembling organ tones: "There is fever! There is pain!"

Time and again Dirksen defended McCarthy.

With his McCarthy-Taft background, Dirksen's bid for the GOP leadership roused liberal-minded senators to open revolt at the outset of the new 86th Congress.

Dirksen won the battle, defeating Sen. Cooper (R-Ky) by a 20-14 margin, but he appeared genuinely distressed by opposition complaints that he does not represent the modern "Eisenhower Republican" viewpoint.

Dirksen quotes official figures showing he supported President Eisenhower last year on 86 per cent of all roll call votes involving administration issues.

In contrast to former Senate GOP leader William F. Knowland of California, who openly clashed with President Eisenhower, Dirksen says: "My business will be to support administration policies." Eisenhower is on record as calling him "a great public servant."

A former isolationist, Dirksen in 1948 led the House fight for the Marshall Plan for aid to Europe, declaring "we must not be niggardly." Less than a year later he was denouncing foreign aid as "Operation Rathole . . . pouring U. S. dollars into a bottomless pit."

The in 1955 he did a complete turnabout. "Foreign aid is an integral part of our national security," he said. "I remember when I used to attack this (aid) program. I take it back. Publicly and privately, I take it back."

EYESIGHT FAILED

Dirksen was born Jan. 4, 1896, on the two-acre family farm near Pekin, Ill. His German-born parents, Johann Frederick and Antje (Conrady) Dirksen, came to this country some years after the Civil War.

Not until 1927, at the age of 31, did he turn to politics. In that year he was elected Pekin's city finance commissioner, and married Lucila Carver. They have one child, Janice Joy, now Mrs. Howard H. Baker Jr.

Dirksen was defeated in his first bid for Congress in 1930, but was elected in 1932 and served in the House with steadily increasing prominence for the next 16 years.

In 1948, with his eyesight failing badly, Dirksen voluntarily retired from politics. Among those expressing regret, crusty old House Speaker Sam Rayburn (D-Tex) commented: "If we must have Republicans in Congress, let us have men like Everett Dirksen."

Two years later, his eyesight improved, Dirksen staged a dramatic comeback by upsetting Sen. Lucas (D-Ill), President Truman's Senate floor leader, by more than 300,000 votes.

He was re-elected to the Senate in 1956.

Talking with a newsman, Dirksen said he believes the two greatest challenges facing the United States today are (1) inflation and (2) the threat of global communism.

Muddy Becomes Wet

MUDDY, Ill. (UPI) — It's getting wetter by the day in Muddy, Ill., which became the only place in otherwise "dry" Saline County to sell liquor when citizens voted "wet" in a local option election. Now the village is using some of the liquor revenue to install a municipal water system.

Red Flags Mark Cars Navigating in Snow Tunnels

GAYLORD (AP) — Nearly every automobile hereabout sports a red flag at the top of its radio antenna. It isn't just a fad. There's good reason.

This winter playground region has had 94.6 inches of snow this season. Snow plows have tossed it into banks so high, drivers approaching an intersection from one direction can't see automobiles approaching from the other—unless the antenna is up and carries a flag.

There have been no serious intersection crashes recently.

The snow depth is considerably above normal to date for Gaylord, which usually gets about 110 inches a season, much of it in March.

Teachers Said Paid for Nothing

Castro Cracks Down on School Graft

HAVANA (AP)—Fidel Castro's government acted today to clean up graft in the nation's school system and hospital construction program.

The Cabinet approved a decree annulling hundreds of teachers' appointments to primary schools. They included 400 named by ex President Fulgencio Batista and many others chosen by his education minister.

The Cabinet charged that many of the Batista appointments were for political purposes only and that some teachers drew pay for doing nothing.

The new law also set up a promotion scale for teachers.

The Cabinet authorized expenditure of $2,155,000 to complete 10 hospitals on which more than 166 million dollars already has been spent.

The government charged the expenditures to date were 60 per cent in excess of the real value. It said the contracts had been granted for personal gain and that some projects were unfinished after 14 years. It ordered the old contracts canceled and new ones issued.

★ ★ ★

The government also ordered suspension of pension payments to former congressmen who have been getting $500 a month.

A firing squad meanwhile silenced the last of three former officers branded as top war criminals by Castro's regime.

Former Lt. Col. Ricardo Luis Grao, 45, was executed just before midnight, shortly after he had been condemned to death in a seven-hour trial and an insanity plea had been denied. He was convicted of assassination, homicide and robbery while fighting the guerrillas in Oriente province.

Eleven other former soldiers and policemen were executed Monday, bringing the unofficial total to 328. Fourteen others were sentenced to death in Pinar del Rio province.

Doctors Are Lost Due to Lack of Subsidies

CHICAGO (AP) — Tomorrow's doctors are finding other careers.

Dr. John A. D. Cooper, assistant dean of the Northwestern University medical school, says the ability of other professions to offer greater inducements for fellowships and research assistantships is one of the reasons for the loss.

★ ★ ★

"Medicine," he said, "has no equivalent source of subsidy for its students."

Dr. Cooper urges that steps be taken to shorten the medical program and grant higher professional and economic status to the physician in specialty training.

Pontiac Named 'Car of Year'

The experts of Motor Trend magazine have caught up with the local experts in pronouncing the sleek 1959 Pontiac as the "Car of the Year."

This award confirms what everyone on the line and behind its steering wheel has felt since the first of the split-fin beauties began coursing the local highways.

These auto experts of Motor Trend praise our local product as being "the best combination of handling ride, performance and styling of any 1959 car."

Much of the superiority is based on the wide track engineering of Pontiac for 1959, which moved the wheels further apart. This is no advertising gimmick, and the Motor Trend award proves it.

For further proof, check the stack of orders flooding in every day. Pontiac for 1959 is choice of many people, in addition to the experts of Motor Trend.

THE number of clerical workers has doubled in the U. S. in the past 20 years," says a statistician. We probably don't know where we're going, but we certainly have more than ample records of where we've been.

IT IS well that American manufacturers will build some medium-sized cars to meet the demand of those with small-sized incomes. Those with medium-sized incomes will, of course, continue to buy the large-sized cars.

Chicago's Water Grab Ignores Other's Rights

U. S. Solicitor General RANKIN believes the matter so important that he has called a conference for the early part of March to consider the question of Chicago's water diversion from Lake Michigan.

★ ★ ★

Illinois is being called on to tell its future plans and the other six Lake states will have an opportunity to register opposition to further use of water not returned to the Lake system. In 1930 the Supreme Court ordered diversion held to 1,500 cubic feet a second to maintain navigation on the Illinois waterway, in addition to domestic pumpage, that is water needed for home and industrial purposes. Last month Chicago drained more than 4,000 cubic feet a second from Lake Michigan.

★ ★ ★

Until 1900 the Chicago River flowed eastward into the lake. Then by engineering skill the flow was reversed and Lake water brought in. Missouri sought an injunction fearing that Chicago's wastes would endanger the St. Louis water supply. Before the hearing, Chicago quietly knocked out a dam and turned the river westward toward the Mississippi. Missouri and other states through which the treated sewage is discharged complain with good reason that the treatment is inadequate.

★ ★ ★

Taking of 1,800 cubic feet a second for domestic use has lowered Lakes Michigan and Huron two inches and Lakes Erie and Ontario one inch. Harbors and channels have to be dredged deeper at a cost of many millions in Federal and local money. A one inch loss in water levels costs the Lake fleet $4 million annually in its large ship carrying capacity.

Hundreds of miles of shorelines of commercial and private properties have been damaged by lowered water levels. Extensive injury has been done to fishing and hunting grounds. The states themselves also suffer damage to parks, camps and fish hatcheries. Power loss to New York State would be $1,027,841 a year because the diverted water goes to the Mississippi instead of down the St. Lawrence to hydroelectric plants. Canada's loss would be the same.

A bill has been introduced in Congress to increase the 1,500 cubic feet diversion to 2,500 per second. Michigan and the other Great Lakes States are fighting it on the sound principle that it is all right to take the water only if it is purified and returned to the Lake as other American and Canadian communities are doing. Chicago's only excuse is that it would cost money.

Once a substantial farm crop in the Pontiac area, sugar beets no longer are raised here. A Rochester sugar plant paid out several million dollars in the course of its few years in business. But our soil is not too suitable for raising beets, and the project moved farther north in the state.

The Mooring Mast

David Lawrence Says:

Proxmire Finds Serious Weakness

WASHINGTON — Sen. Proxmire (D-Wis) should be hailed as a hero. He has courageously put his finger on the reason why congressional government has been deteriorating.

LAWRENCE

Instead, he is being treated by some of his colleagues in the Senate with a mixture of disdain and cynicism. Others secretly agree but do not concur openly with his defiance of the present system, which permits a role of bossism and dictatorship by an elected leader of the party.

What the Wisconsin senator has opened up to criticism at last, after many years of indifference by the public, is a situation in the Senate where "leadership" has been interpreted to mean one-man control over what legislation shall reach the floor.

While Proxmire calls for the resumption of the party "caucus" or conference, he does not say that an individual senator must forsake his conscience in voting the party line.

He does say that there should be frequent party conferences in which senators may express themselves and endeavor to influence their colleagues.

"There has never been a time," said Sen. Proxmire in his speech to the Senate this week, "when power has been as sharply concentrated as it is today in the Senate. . . . In January 1958 senators assembled and listened to the majority leader read a speech which he had previously released to the press in full. . . . There was not a single matter of party business discussed.

"There wasn't even a mention of party program, not a whisper concerning any legislation. There was no provision on the agenda for such discussion. . . .

"The next meeting of the Senate Democratic caucus was a full year later. It took place just last month. Again the meeting was convened by the majority leader, who delivered another speech on the state of the nation.

★ ★ ★

"This speech, too, had been released beforehand to the press. . . . The only business of the entire caucus had taken less than 2½ minutes. And senators had to surrender for another year their right and duty to determine the Democratic Party's policies and program."

Sen. Proxmire pointed out also that the majority leader exercises his greatest power in determining what legislation shall be considered. Proxmire said:

"It is my objective to obtain for the individual senator the opportunity to have an effective voice in the making of extremely important, vital decisions that occur before legislation can reach the floor of the Senate for action, and to have a voice also in determining what legislation shall reach the floor for a vote."

The Wisconsin senator mentioned also that Majority Leader Johnson of Texas has been "more extravagantly and widely praised by his colleagues and the press throughout this country than any other leader who has graced this body."

Proxmire said that, in a later speech, he is going to "discuss the full implications of this leadership and the power it has generated" and that what he really is calling for is "a greater degree of democracy in our party in the Senate."

★ ★ ★

There was a time in American history when the "caucus" was of prime importance in determining party policy. In the "Reconstruction" period, the Republicans did all their arguing in secret caucus and, when a vote was taken, the minority were bound to support, by their votes in the Senate itself, the action recorded in the caucus.

Some of the most vital portions of the debate on the Fourteenth Amendment, for instance, were lost to history because of the secrecy of those caucus meetings.

The Man About Town

For Tree Farming

Forestry Experts Say Our Waste Land Is Good for It

Argument: What you can best drive home by putting her on the back seat.

Quite a number of farmers and other land owners in the Pontiac area are turning their rough or other uncultivated land over to a purpose on which a new crop is thriving. It is growing trees—at a good profit.

Hillsides, gullied land and other acreage unsuited for cultivation is being planted with young trees that eventually turn those liabilities into substantial assets. It also is restoring our forests which were the foundation of most everything we now have.

Christmas trees of course are the present leaders in this innovation. With little or no care they are turned into hard cash 10 or 12 years after the seedlings have been planted. Many of our farmers already have fattened their bank accounts on them.

But the foresters also recommend the planting of other trees. Young maples find a good market for transplanting for shade trees in less than ten years. Elms for the same purpose grow a little slower. Butternut and walnut trees grow a valuable wood, besides some crop production. The hickory nut is still slower, but also more than pays its way in nuts.

The rapidly growing poplar, now the rage in wood finishes, is big enough for veneering purposes in 12 to 15 years. Even the dean of the slow growers, the mighty oak, in whose honor our county was named, is large enough for the saw mill in 20 years and for railroad ties in 25 years.

All of this can be done with little or no labor in the cultivation of the crop. In most cases it is not necessary to even break up the ground for planting the seedlings.

Dr. William Brady Says:

Lockjaw Often Is Result of Trifling Wound, Burn

Lockjaw (tetanus) is more likely to occur as a consequence of a trifling cut, scratch, puncture or burn that bleeds little, than following a large wound that bleeds freely. This is because bleeding washes out foreign matter or germs which may be invisible to the eye.

DR. BRADY

The cause of lockjaw (tetanus) is Clostridium tetani, the tetanus bacillus, which is a normal inhabitant of the intestinal tract of wild and domestic animals and sometimes that of man. The germ is likely to be present in manure fertilized field or garden soil, street dust, about barnyards, stables, wherever animals are housed or pastured, in the saliva of dogs, on beaks or talons of birds.

The bacillus, especially when dry (in dust, for instance), may survive antiseptics. Therefore an antiseptic agent or dressing is not the best first aid treatment. Every such wound should be asepticized, that is, made free from foreign matter, surgically clean. This is the ideal way to insure healing of ordinary wounds, as well as operation wounds, and the best way to prevent lockjaw.

If the tetanus germ gets into a wound it can do no harm unless there is something there for the germ to multiply and grow on, such as dead or damaged tissue, particles of paper, cloth, soil, wood or metal, gun powder.

The tetanus germ itself is harmless. Only the toxin it produces when such pabulum is present for the germ to grow and multiply on is dangerous—the toxin is absorbed into the system and it is more poisonous than strychnine. The germ is not absorbed, but merely remains in the wound producing toxin until or unless the wound is thoroughly asepticized.

Surgical judgment and skill is required for asepticizing wounds, especially burns, stabs, punctures, crushing or tearing. Immediate excision of damaged tissues may be necessary. So, don't trifle with trifling wounds.

It is a dreadful mistake to cauterize any fresh wound, even a wound inflicted by animal teeth, claws or talons. The actual cautery (red hot iron) or chemical caustic (strong acid) destroys and damages some tissue. Such damaged tissue makes the best possible environment for tetanus germs. Such medieval maltreatment (still advocated by some doctors to prevent "hydrophobia") was in my opinion responsible for many tetanus fatalities ascribed by the old timers to "rabies."

In addition to immediate asepticizing of the wound, first aid treatment of such wounds calls for an injection of tetanus toxoid or antitoxin immediately and a second injection 5 to 7 days later. This is needless, perhaps, nine times out of ten. So is insurance.

Rust in itself has nothing to do with lockjaw.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

The Country Parson

"A man's signature and his intentions have this in common —they are worth no more than he is."

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Guilt Produces Fear of Insanity

Jessie is a classical case, so scrapbook this column. She is terrified lest she soon become insane. Yet her physicians have repeatedly told her she has no cause to think so. Why do you suppose she still insisted that she was soon to lose her mind? The booklet below clears up such wrong notions of young people, so send for it.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case A-464: Jessie D., aged 16, is a neurotic high schooler.

"Dr. Crane, Jessie has an obsession about insanity," her faculty adviser recently informed me when I was at her school for an address.

DR. CRANE

"She has consulted two or three doctors without her parents' knowledge, but they all tell her she is quite normal.

"Still, she persists. In fact, she has refused to date boys because she says she is abnormal and will soon be in a sanatorium, so she thinks it is unfair to waste their time.

"Would you please see her a few minutes, since she seems to have great confidence in your newspaper column."

INSANITY FEARS

When a person insists she will become insane, in spite of expert medical evidence to the contrary, what does it usually mean?

Well, human beings often violate certain divine codes which they immediately imagine will cause God to strike them down suddenly.

★ ★ ★

And the "sudden" type of ailments they generally link with the Almighty are insanity, heart attack, stroke of apoplexy and lightning.

So what do you readers think would make 16-year-old Jessie feel she ought to be punished by the Almighty?

Stealing coins from mother's purse, is not the usual type of offense which folks associate with God's dramatic punishments.

Neither is playing hookey from school or cheating on exams or stealing watermelons or even embezzling money from one's employer.

Most of those crimes make the culprit fear the police or the teacher, but not God.

No, the special offenses which people of all races have spontaneously linked with God's quick punishment, are murder, abortion, deep hostility to one's children or kinfolk that makes the culprit wish they were dead, plus sexual deviations, like auto erotic practices.

JESSIE'S SECRET

In my brief interview with Jessie, I found no evidence of any deep-seated conflict with her parents.

And she was an honor student who didn't cheat on exams.

So I asked her what made her feel she ought to be punished by insanity.

"Why do you think God is going to strike you down in some dramatic way?" I asked.

★ ★ ★

She looked startled, then began to cry, and finally confessed that she had been addicted to self sex practices for a couple of years.

In former times, people were frightened by threats of insanity for this widespread nuisance habit of young folks.

For generations, therefore, children and teenagers have been terrified lest they should become feebleminded or insane. The origin of this modern fear is probably the fact that in the early days of asylums in England, visitors saw the inmates performing self sex acts.

"The insane indulge in such practices," was the quick generalization of the spectators, "so self sex practices produce insanity."

★ ★ ★

That rule was illogical, but it was handed down through succeeding generations and Jessie is a classical victim of this erroneous notion.

Millions of worried young people have suffered torture ever since, so get hep to the facts.

Surveys of boys and girls in modern times have shown that the great majority of both sexes at one time or another in childhood are in the same boat with Jessie.

Send for my booklet "Sex Problems of Young People," enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus 20 cents (non-profit).

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Voice of the People

Readers Enter Discussion of NAACP Pros and Cons

My salute to Southern Negro. His letter should open the eyes of those using Southern Negroes as guinea pigs in politics. Whites aren't the only ones seeking to keep segregation.

If Ike thinks he'll go down in history like another famous President did, he's starting off on the wrong foot.

Billy R. Stewart

2590 Williams Lk. Rd.

(Editor's Note: Because of the large number of letters received recently, The Press is behind schedule. For this reason we are devoting more space to Voice of the People today and we have been compelled to edit letters much more closely than usual.)

NAACP claims are exaggerated. They didn't stop lynchings. Southern people realized it's uncivilized. Labor organizations, progressive employers and legislators were responsible for fair employment practices. That fight started before NAACP was thought of.

★ ★ ★

The Supreme Court isn't the law of the land. Rule by bayonet and force isn't justice. Civil rights legislation was passed by white Congressmen after Negro votes, not by NAACP.

★ ★ ★

Negroes who belong to NAACP are only there to advance their own interests. If Negroes can afford big cars and flashy clothes they can afford to paint their houses. Clean up your homes and neighborhoods and you'll be taking the right step toward emancipation and earn the respect you want.

American Worker

I'm happy to say Southern Negro's letter did some good. After realizing such evil forces prevail against my people, it gave me incentive to join NAACP. Thanks loads.

Betty Threlkeld

461 Valencia Dr.

That was a fine letter by Southern Negro. Every scholar should read the pamphlet, "Color, Communism and Common Sense," by Manning Johnson, a Negro inducted into the Communist party by the preaching of a Communist church bishop.

He tells how certain Negroes are used to destroy the country and the Communists don't care how it's done.

Mrs. Mary D. Walter

Lake Orion

Southern Negro is a phony. He isn't a Negro no matter what color his skin is. Such opinions as his could originate only in a mind the size of a split pea.

★ ★ ★

NAACP is so powerful hatemongers everywhere tremble in their tracks at the mere mention of it. It's the beachhead in the battle for our Constitutional rights. For every fanatic there are 100 Eastlands and one Southern Negro. For every man like Powell there are 100 like Faubus and one Southern Negro. For all good people like Mr. and Mrs. Bates, there are 100 Talmadges and one Southern Negro.

★ ★ ★

Southern Negro would do well to crawl back into his fear-ridden heart and lock the door. Society can get along without him.

James Dilworth

Detroit

Southern Negro takes a responsible and reasonable view of the NAACP. It has been the cause of Southern resistance to integration and civil rights. The sooner NAACP is exposed for what it is, a group of fanatics devoted to self-advancement and political gain, the better it will be for both races.

Northerner

In reply to NAACP, I'm a college graduate and speak the truth in saying NAACP doesn't represent the majority of Negroes, especially those in the South. I attended meetings in college and know not all members are mercenary, but a lot of opportunists and youngsters are misled, and whether you realize it or not, you cause more harm than good.

★ ★ ★

I know NAACP is responsible in a small way for fair employment practices. I also know integration has caused us more trouble than we've ever had in the South. Most Southern NAACP members come from the North. We don't want integration but you cause a big race tension and get Negroes to join.

★ ★ ★

We were getting more and more rights in the South and had little trouble until bayonets were used.

Income Tax Notes

JOINT OR SEPARATE RETURNS

Married persons have a choice in most cases of filing either a joint or separate return. To file a joint return, both husband and wife must be either an American citizen or a resident alien at all times during the taxable year.

★ ★ ★

You do not file a joint return by merely including your wife's income in your return . . . both of you must sign it.

A joint return can be filed on either the Form 1040 or you may use the card Form 1040-A. Read the instructions to see if you are eligible to file the 1040-A since everyone cannot use it.

Marital status is determined as of the last day of the taxable year. Page 4 of the instruction book explains how to determine your marital status.

★ ★ ★

If your husband or wife died during the year, you are considered married for the entire year and you may file a joint return.

If an executor or administrator has been appointed, the surviving spouse and the executor or administrator must sign the return.

Otherwise, the surviving spouse will sign and indicate that he or she is the surviving spouse; such as, John Jones (surviving spouse).

★ ★ ★

If a refund is due when one spouse is deceased, secure a Form 1310 from the Internal Revenue Service. Attach the completed Form 1310 together with a copy of the certificate of death to the return.

Voice of the People

This set our cause back 20 years. If you and your type of Negroes would let nature take its course, we'd still be gaining peacefully.

Southern Negro

(Editor's Note: Today the Voice of the People carries the last group of letters on the question of teachers' salaries. We feel we have been very generous in the space allotted to this subject. Writers now are simply retracing old steps and old arguments. In the interests of the general public, we suggest this debate close.)

More Teachers Take the Stump

Teachers must realize taxpayers pay more than ever and that teachers play an important part in development of America. Teachers' real pay is in being the backbone of a strong and prosperous America.

★ ★ ★

America has been first in progress for over 100 years. People of this area are a part of America just as the first settlers were and we'd better see what our educational needs are and pray we can afford them.

★ ★ ★

I hope I can scrape up enough tax dollars to keep professionally trained people preparing my children to meet the future.

G. R. M.

School systems don't pay teachers in the summer or for Christmas vacation. Where did the writer get the idea teachers get 100 sick days? It takes 10 years to accumulate that much.

Most teachers don't feel they're underpaid but want the standard kept where it is. And remember, teachers are taxpayers, too.

Teacher and Taxpayer

Most teachers must get other jobs in the summer to feed their families. It's possible to have the salary spread over the whole year, but then we wouldn't have enough to live on. Teachers take work home and don't get overtime. Let's not have any more ridiculous letters about the terrific deal teachers have.

Teacher's Wife

I have no children in school and I make my living doing housework and I'm thankful for good health. I never complain of taxes I pay for teachers or a ton of coal, because teachers and coal miners really earn their money.

Grateful Widow

My husband works for the Board of Education and has always been laid off in summer without unemployment compensation. He's also laid off at Christmas with paydays nearly a month apart. I wish we had the luxury job you folks think we have.

★ ★ ★

It's painful to remember "vacations" he worked in gas stations or painted houses, and I made over old clothes. Now he's past 50 and has reached maximum salary. We pay as much in income tax as we used to get for 10 months work.

★ ★ ★

Have we lost sight of the true function of government—to do for people what they can't do for themselves.

There is soul satisfying reward in guidance of young people, but who wants to go to his reward in frayed cuffs and shiny trousers?

Proud to Teach

Teachers aren't different. Their salaries are based on a 9½ month school year. Most systems will divide this and spread it over a full year.

Annual Layoff for Life

Teachers aren't the only ones to get a three-month vacation. However, others call it a layoff and are paid unemployment compensation. Looking forward to working 50 hours a week in a bargain basement in the summer, sweltering over a research paper in a stuffy college library in mid-July, or losing 25 pounds because of meager rations is what keeps me going during the ten humdrum school months.

Your Obedient Servant

Tax Busted should be better informed before making statements about teachers' vacation pay. They aren't paid for summer or Christmas. We're paid for 40 weeks and have to live 52. We pay taxes, too.

School Teacher

My history teacher lives in Flint and commutes. He works hard for a full day and will go to any length to help slower students. He's always available.

★ ★ ★

He's as good a teacher as any and certainly doesn't live on a gravy train. All the wealth in the world couldn't repay things he's done for students. I, for one, appreciate teachers of America.

Top Scientific Whiz-Kids Vie

Westinghouse Finalists Compete in Washington for Talent Awards

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's top scientific whiz-kids for the year come to town today.

They're bringing with them novel ideas ranging from a new way to figure baseball batting averages to new findings about mice that turn backward somersaults.

They're the 40 teenaged finalists in the annual Westinghouse science talent search — stretch-runners in a nationwide high school competition that originally involved some 25,000 entrants.

★ ★ ★

The nine girls and 31 boys will compete between now and next Monday for scholarships and awards totaling $34,250.

They'll be rated on their scientific projects — among other things — and there are some honeys in the lot.

The lineup includes: A girl who has translated the manual movements of rope knot-tying into mathematical formulae. A youth who has a theory that atomic bomb fallout will speed up the evolution of the human species. A lad who has worked out a design for a cheap, family-style radiation counter for possible use in the event of nuclear attack. And a youngster with a concept to allow two broadcasting stations to use the same frequency.

★ ★ ★

Paul Bamberg Jr., 16, of Middletown, R.I. is the brain behind the new wrinkle for evaluating baseball batting averages. Young Bamberg also has checked mathematically the method commonly used by ball teams in arranging the batting order. But Casey Stengel need cast no longing eyes at him—he hopes to be a research chemist.

Ready to roll with a treatise on the backward-somersaulting mice is Miriam Dick, 16, of Brooklyn, N.Y. She did a four-month behavior study on these rodents which hail from the Mediterranean region.

A number of the youngsters, including Miss Dick, are licensed amateur radio operators. Several have built mechanical computer machines. One built a "cable-controlled robot" while he was in the ninth grade.

Some of the finalists have their eyes on careers in space science. There are others whose interests center on some of the tiniest creatures on earth. Arnold Fetell, 16, of Brooklyn, has developed a technique for subjecting microscopic protozoa to an electric current.

Mrs. Williams to Speak Before Virginia Club

LANSING (AP) — Michigan's first lady, Mrs. G. Mennen Williams, is scheduled to address a Democratic women's club in Arlington, Va., today on "The Reality of Democracy."

She plans to join Gov. Williams Friday in Washington where he is scheduled to testify before Congress on education legislation.

State Library Board Wants Out of Warehouse

LANSING (AP)—The state Board of Libraries has issued another plea for a building to house its books and people.

In its annual report to the governor, the board noted that the library, burned out of its Cass Building headquarters in February 1951, is still using a warehouse for "temporary" headquarters.

★ ★ ★

"The library is the only one of the state agencies burned out by the Cass Building fire that does not have a permanent home in state-owned quarters," the board said.

★ ★ ★

Since the fire, the report said, use of the library has doubled and the staff has increased 16 per cent.

Skull, Crossbones Label Proposed on Tobacco

WASHINGTON (AP)—"Absurd—almost unthinkable."

That's the reaction of Chairman Harold D. Cooley (D-NC) of the House Agriculture Committee to a bill before the Utah Legislature which would require tobacco products to be labeled with a skull and crossbones.

★ ★ ★

The bill, similar to one rejected recently by the South Dakota Legislature, may come up for debate in Utah this week.

★ ★ ★

"The whole idea is absurd," Cooley, a tobacco state man, said Wednesday night, "especially when no one has offered any satisfactory scientific proof that tobacco has a harmful effect on humans."

Deaths Elsewhere

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — William Bate Mastin, 78, president and board chairman of Armored Motor Service, Inc., died Tuesday after a brief illness. Mastin in the early 1900s served as secretary to his grandfather, William Bate, during his terms as U.S. senator and governor of Tennessee. He was born in Tennessee.

Second Short-Range Titan Test Success

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) —The Air Force says it has chalked up two successful test flights in a row with the mighty Titan intercontinental range ballistic missile.

★ ★ ★

The 90-foot war rocket, newest entry in the U.S. arsenal, roared off Wednesday on a launching covering close to 300 miles. Project officials announced later that the shot appeared to be good all the way.

★ ★ ★

The latest Titan triumph came three weeks after No. 1 blazed aloft marking the advent of the so-called "second generation" missiles.

Both firings were limited range tests using dummy second stage vehicles loaded with thousands of gallons of water for ballast.

★ ★ ★

Titan is a 100-ton rocket which the Martin Co. developers say is more versatile and less complex than Atlas, the present ICBM leader. The new weapon reportedly has the potential of covering ranges as high as 9,000 miles, far outstripping the "Big A".

Rep. Hunsinger Makes 1st House Appearance

LANSING (AP)—Rep. Josephine D. Hunsinger (D-Detroit), whose illness enabled Republicans to take control of the house, put in her first appearance of the 1959 legislative session yesterday.

Mrs. Hunsinger underwent major surgery just before the session opened Jan. 14.

Republicans, outnumbering Democrats 55-54, took control of the House.

Naming their dogs "Fido" was popular among the ancient Romans. The word means "Faithful."

Flasher Signals Found to Cut Highway Mishaps

LANSING (AP)— Installation of flasher signals has resulted in a drastic cut in accidents at three hazardous intersections, the State Highway Department reported.

★ ★ ★

A traffic survey for a one-year period before and after installation showed total accidents dropped from 20 to 7, injuries from 20 to 1 and deaths from 1 to 0.

Intersections studied were U.S. 27 and M46 in Gratiot County; M78 at Durand road in Shiawassee County; and U.S. 27 and M68 in Shiawassee County.

Mayo Clinic Busier Than Ever During '58

ROCHESTER, Minn. (UPI) — Mayo Clinic, the famous medical haven for thousands of the rich and famous, is a busier place now than it ever was in the days of the Mayo brothers.

Last year, registration hit an all-time high of 159,541, more than 3,000 greater than in record-breaking 1957.

Clinic officials say patients flock to the diagnostic center from all over the world, but that most of them are from a 500-mile radius around Rochester.

Officials say the reasons for the increased use of the clinic are more families with health insurance, the growth in population and a general upswing in the economy.

Dag Plans Moscow Trip

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UPI)—Informed United Nations sources said today Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold has decided to visit Moscow in hopes his own "quiet diplomacy" might prevent a major crisis over Berlin.

Approximately nine and a quarter million patients were admitted to hospitals in the United States in 1937. In 1957, the figure was a record 23 million.

Young Priest Leads Fight Against Paraguay Dictator

(Alfredo Stroessner rules as the lonely strongman of Paraguay, the last dictator in South America. Associated Press correspondent Jose Maria Orlando after a visit to Asuncion, gives this report of life in the country.)

By JOSE MARIA ORLANDO

MONTEVIDEO, Uruguay (AP) —South America's only remaining dictator, Alfredo Stroessner of Paraguay, is fighting a war of nerves led by a youthful Roman Catholic priest.

Stroessner's land-locked country of 1½ million people is a land of fear and suspicion, gradually becoming more isolated in a continent where dictatorships have gone out of style.

★ ★ ★

Thousands of refugee Paraguayans are openly plotting Stroessner's overthrow.

One of the best known revolutionaries is the Rev. Ramon Talavera, 35, who says, "Some church leaders might disapprove of what I am doing, but in fighting injustice and tyranny I'm within God's principles."

The priest came to Uruguay last November after being expelled for openly preaching against Stroessner's strongman rule. Proclaiming a National Liberation Front," he has appealed to other refugee Paraguayans here and in Argentina to join his crusade against the 44-year-old dictator.

★ ★ ★

Father Talavera, son of a wealthy rancher, says his revolt was born while serving as a chaplain in a Paraguayan jail where political prisoners were kept.

"I saw men beat up, or with the burns of an electric wire inexpertly used."

The Stroessner government has accused the priest of Communist leanings but he insists: "I'm not a Communist. I'm a Christian as are most of the Paraguayan people. In our Christian hearts, there is no place for an atheist doctrine like communism."

Stroessner, son of a German settler and a Paraguayan mother, rose to power five years ago at the head of a military coup.

★ ★ ★

The lives of his subjects—overwhelmingly Roman Catholic mestizos of mixed Spanish and Indian stock—are sealed off from the outside world by a veiled censorship. Newsmen who send out dispatches the government doesn't like know they will be called in and possibly expelled.

Stroessner dislikes being called a dictator. Outwardly he acts the role of president, dresses mostly in white linen suits and only occasionally dons his general's uniform. He has an escort of only half a dozen policemen.

★ ★ ★

The old cobbled streets of his capital—Asuncion—clatter in the daytime. The cigar-smoking Indian women, riding their small native donkeys while selling fruits and chickens, mingle with the latest model American cars.

But when night falls, the streets are deserted — shrouded in fear and suspicion.

At no time does anyone publicly say anything against the government. Even foreign diplomats glance over their shoulders while discussing the regime.

★ ★ ★

"Gen. Stroessner is a great man," said a drugstore clerk. "He is doing very much for the people."

"President Stroessner is the savior of Paraguay," comented a middle-aged housewife.

Stroessner, a professional soldier, appears to have a firm grip on the internal situation.

Opposition factions look to the outside for help in overthrowing the regime—spurred by the anti-dictator campaigns in Cuba and Venezuela.

An earlier blow to Stroessner was the overthrow of Argentine dictator Juas D. Peron, his close friend.

Now thousands of Paraguayan refugees—some estimate the number at 150,000—are poised in Argentina, planning a revolution in their homeland. There are unconfirmed reports of raids already made from Argentine bases along the border.

Production of dairy products in their various forms gives employment to 75,000 persons in North Carolina.

Was 'Flotel' at Tawas City

Scrapping Last of Famed Lakes Fleet

END OF THE LINE — The Western States, built for a reported two million dollars in 1902 and last of the sidewheel passenger ships on the Great Lakes, is being carved up for scrap at Tawas City.

By A. F. MAHAN Jr.

TAWAS CITY (AP)—The last of the once-famous D. & C. fleet of swift, luxurious Great Lakes passenger ships soon will be no more.

She is the Western States, a 350-foot side wheeler with 263 staterooms in tiered decks.

Acetylene torches and a derrick are tearing her to pieces now at the Tawas City Municipal Dock. The steel hull, with its innards of engines and boilers, will be towed to Bay City in April and cut into scrap.

The the six-ship fleet of the Detroit & Cleveland Navigation Co. will be dead and gone, and with it an area that stretched back to gaslights. D & C. began operating on the Great Lakes 108 years ago.

The only passenger ships left that cruise the lakes extensively are the Georgian Bay Lines' North American and South American, and they fall far short of the criss-crossing wakes which the D. & C. queens once cut through America's inland seas.

The Western States evaded the wrecker's axe longer than her five sisters, but ended up ignobly and alone, tied up and frozen stiff in Saginaw Bay ice in 1950, when the Detroit & Cleveland Navigation Co. ceased operations.

With the others gone or going to the scrap heap, a bid was made in 1955 to keep the Western States afloat in all her by-gone elegance.

She was refurbished to the tune of $150,000 and towed here from Detroit to become what may have been the world's first "Flotel."

But the idea of making her a floating hotel and tourist attraction didn't pan out.

Robert L. Rosen, president of Lake Shore Steel Inc., of Detroit, poured in most of the refurbishing money. He thought sentimentalists who mourned the lines' passing would rejoice—and flock to the Western States.

Some did, but not enough. Rosen recalled later:

"The letters I've had. I think everyone who ever spent a honeymoon on a D. & C. boat has written."

But when his operating losses mounted to an estimated $100,000-plus by September, 1957, Rosen closed down the flotel.

He offered to sell it for $75,000 a mere fraction of its replacement cost and far below the estimated two million dollars it cost to build at Wyandotte shipyards in 1902.

Marine Salvage Corp. of Detroit finally acquired the Western States, then sold it to Abraham Mono's Bay City Scrap Co.

What was the final price?

"Just say over $30,000," was Mono's answer as he signaled a derrick to reach for some more of the 1,000 tons of super-structure he plans to haul down by April.

Below him, standing on ice, men with acetylene torches cut at the vessel's two giant paddle wheels.

They were the last paddle wheels left on a Great Lakes passenger boat.

Question Left Unanswered

House Debates Charge of Nit-Wit Harboring

WASHINGTON (AP)—Are there nit-wits in the House of Representatives?

House members debated that question, then left it unanswered after a brief but spirited discussion Tuesday on the House floor.

The debate was broken up after at least one member insisted that more of his colleagues be on hand if such a controversial matter were to be discussed.

"I think the folks ought to hear it," commented Rep. Clare Hoffman (R-Mich).

Hoffman objected to such a weighty debate without the presence of a quorum—218 members. Speaker Sam Rayburn (D-Tex) counted only about 20 and then rammed through a motion to adjourn rather than summon the absentees. There was no other business anyway.

The adjournment ended a three-way debate among Reps. Henry Reuss (D-Wis), Gardner Withrow (R-Wis) and Wayne Hays (D-Ohio).

It involved a speech Withrow made recently to the Congress of the Dominican Republic. Withrow was quoted as having told the Dominican legislators "we sometimes elect" nit-wits to the United States Congress.

Reuss didn't like any of the speech. Hays took umbrage at the reference to nit-wits in Congress. He told the House he had first considered objecting to reprinting the Withrow speech in the Congressional Record. However, the sharp-tongued Ohioan added, after reading the entire speech he was inclined to believe that Withrow had proved his point.

Withrow denied having referred to colleagues as nit-wits. Confronted with what Hays said was an official transcript, Withrow retorted that there was no official transcript made.

In his own time, Withrow said, he would make his own defense of his speech to the Dominicans. Hays said he hoped Withrow would. Reuss said he, too, hoped the debate would be resumed.

Monthly Investment Plan Booms

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—Increasing public interest in the stock market these days has swelled the ranks and investments of the stockholders who buy on time—often by payroll deductions.

The New York Stock Exchange reports that there are now 81,000 Monthly Investment Plans in force, and 5,432 of these were started in January, the month of MIP's fifth anniversary. This topped any starts since the first months of its inception.

Those becoming shareholders in this pay-as-you-go fashion usually give as reasons: Simplicity of investing, discipline of saving, belief that their investment is growing rather than being shrunk by inflation.

Those who shy away from MIP stress the free wheeling advantages of rugged individualistic traders who can change course fast when the market veers.

In the five years of this method of buying stocks listed on the exchange the public has started 164,000 such plans (completing or terminating 83,000 of them), has invested 1121/2 million dollars in buying 2¾ million shares.

The investor gives his broker a fixed sum at regular intervals and the broker credits the investor with the designated shares as they are paid for at the market price. Most buyers let the dividends be plowed back to buy more shares.

Of the plans now in force 55 per cent are being paid for on a quarterly basis and 45 per cent by monthly payments. By paying into the plan once a month people discipline their saving more carefully. By paying every three months (usually with a sum) purchasers get lower commission costs.

The most popular shares are those in the medium-priced issues. The MIP investors shy away from low priced stocks.

Here are some examples of why people go into MIP and stick with it.

Phillip J. Neuhart, 35, owner of a drug store in Bath, Ohio, has four plans running, with college educations for his three children as a goal. He likes the plan's simplicity.

★ ★ ★

"Everything is handled by mail, including the reinvestment of dividends," he says. "MIP enables us to use dollar cost averaging. I can buy more shares when the price declines and, naturally, I hope to be able to sell my shares at a higher price."

Barney Nelson presses out right fenders for the Rambler in the American Motors plant in Milwaukee. His wife molds candies for Sperry Candy Co. He started his MIP plan last month and is buying shares in American Motors by payroll deductions at the rate of $7 a week.

"It's painless," he says, "the only way I could manage to buy stock. Everything is automatic. I'm thinking of retirement income. Since I have bought stock, I have been reading the financial section of the newspaper every day."

★ ★ ★

Jim Austin who works for the same company in Milwaukee has just taken out two MIP plans on a payroll deduction basis—but with one he is buying A & P and with the other National Can. He says: "The good part about this program is that I can't touch it—if I should think of selling, the broker would get a commission, and I'd think twice."

Mrs. Martha J. Ritchie, a Montgomery, Ala., nurse now working in New York City, invests $3 a week. She likes to tell the other nurses she owns stock. "They are amazed," she says. "I get a sense of satisfaction from owning stocks."

State Life Benefits Rise

NEW YORK (AP)—The Institute of Life Insurance reported Tuesday that 66,426 Michigan policy holders received $122,497,000 in death benefits last year from their life insurance companies. The payments totaled about six million dollars more than in 1957.

A survey by the American Dental Association indicates that 65 per cent of the toothbrushes used by Americans are too worn to be serviceable.

Want to Change Names? It'll Cost Only $12.25

By CHUCK STRATTARD
Jackson Citizen Patriot Staff Writer

JACKSON (AP)—Like your name? If you don't you can change it—nice and legal-like.

Every year people are doing it The procedure isn't very complicated. It doesn't take very long and it costs only $12.25.

You can give your monicker any kind of face-lifting you want. You can change just your given (first) name or your surname (last)—or both. The fee is the same.

Here's the way it works:

Take Joe Banana for example. Joe's a nice guy, good citizen, pays his bills, has lots of friends and a nice family. But he doesn't like his name. The "Joe" is okay but the "Banana" is getting him down.

★ ★ ★

Not only that, but his name is always messed up on legal documents and it's rarely spelled correctly on mail. He decides he wants to change.

First thing Joe does is file a petition in probate court requesting his name be changed and stating the reasons.

Joe pays the probate court a $4 filing fee plus another $1 to cover the cost of drawing up the legal ad. This is necessary to advertise his pettioin for a name change.

The court requires a public notice on name-change petitions as a safeguard against attempted fraud just in case our "Joe" is attempting to escape financial and legal responsibility for bills, insurance policies, mortgages and so forth.

From this point it's just a matter of time—three weeks to be exact.

The probate court issues an order on Joe's request for a changed name stating the petition has been filed. The order is printed in the legal notice section of a newspaper once a week during the three week waiting period.

★ ★ ★

At the end of this time Joe reports back for a hearing. The judge then issues a formal order changing Joe Banana to Joe "something-else."

Joe then squares up the other $7.25 to cover the cost of the newspaper legal notice. His total bill is $12.25.

Since Joe is a married man, the change automatically applies to his wife and his children—if they're under 16. If Joe has minor children over 16 they must also consent to the name change in writing.

When an adult who is single changes his name, he is the only one who bears the new name. His relatives are not affected by the court order.

Life Back in U.S. Tough for Korea War Turncoats

(What has happened to the Korean turncoats who, after throwing in their lot with their Communist captors, decided to come home? Here's the story of five of these men.)

By HUGH MULLIGAN
Associated Press Writer

Life has dealt differently with a handful of Korean War turncoats who finally renounced Communist blandishments to come back home.

In the five years since the war's end and their ignominious return, some have managed to soothe an uneasy conscience and thwart the taunt of "traitor" by finding acceptance or at least obscurity in their communities.

★ ★ ★

Others have wandered aimless and townless, from job to job, from angry words to barroom scuffles, unable to forget the past or make other people forget it, incapable of seeking any future beyond a vague hope of oblivion.

A few have married and had children. None has had an easy time.

"From now on I'm through with drinking. Drinking got me into this and some other things," said Otho Bell from a jail cell in Olympia, Wash., where he is being held on charges of taking indecent liberties with a 14-year-old girl.

It is Bell's fourth brush with the law since he went to work here as a fruit picker and a packer in a mushroom plant. Twice he has been arrested for drunk driving, once for third degree assault in a fight with another man over possession of a gun.

Married before he went overseas, Bell has three children, two girls and a boy. His wife, he says proudly, has stuck by him in all his difficulties and he wants to keep her and the children "out of this."

★ ★ ★

For alert, crewcut Richard Tenneson of Minneapolis, the past may soon vanish into a scrapbook. Not his own, but one he prepared on the activities of the Junior Chamber of Commerce in nearby Hopkins. The task was routine, but Tenneson volunteered because it represented a milestone, a measure of the trust that the young men of the community held in him after refusing repatriation from Korea in 1953.

"I don't hear it much now," he says, "but it stings more than ever. I think it's because I can see the truth of it now, where before I tried in my own mind to defend myself against it."

★ ★ ★

At first he tried to hide from the light of publicity by working on a farm, in a junk yard, as a proofreader on a suburban weekly, and now in a warehouse. "But I should have known better," he says, "than to think I could conceal my marriage. Janet and I applied for a license one day last December. Three hours later a reporter called up to interview me."

The Tennesons live in a neat but meagerly furnished apartment over a store in Hopkins. They have a small circle of friends, go out occasionally.

"I know I can never completely live down what happened over there," Tenneson says, "but it helps tremendously to think that people are willing to help me back by giving me a chance to do something constructive."

Samuel David Hawkins also wants to do something constructive. Now he is living in a rooming house in Oklahoma City. He attends night high school twice a week in hopes of entering the University of Oklahoma, where he now works as a hospital orderly.

He recently separated from Tanya, the China-born Russian girl whom he met and married during his sojourn with the Communists.

"I think of this separation as a temporary one," says Tanya who with their only child has gone to live nearby with a sympathetic widow. "David just cannot afford to help me now because he is going to school and that is the important thing. It is what you might call a financial separation. We often visit and are not mad at each other."

Hawkins has had several jobs since coming home and found some difficulty adjusting. This Tanya blames on publicity. But now he seems happy at his job and would someday like a career in medicine or biology.

★ ★ ★

"I've always been interested in taking care of the sick," he says. "I hope I can make a career of it."

Lewis Griggs of Jacksonville, Tex., is a senior at Stephen F. Austin College in Nacogdoches, majoring in sociology and with a minor in biology. He says he is "getting along fine" in his studies, hopes to graduate in May, but doesn't know what he'll do after that. Unmarried, he says he has gone with several girls without getting engaged to any and has had no trouble finding dates.

Edward Dickenson has moved from the coal mining community of Crackers Neck, Va., and now lives on a farm near Ashburn with his 14-year-old second wife and their infant son.

His neighbors back in Crackers Neck bear him no resentment or ill feeling. They feel he has paid his debt to society by serving the 3½ years of a 10-year sentence for desertion. Dickenson's first wife divorced him while he was waiting trial. Eleven months ago, he married Alice Begley, then 13, and lived with her in-laws, picking up work where he could as a construction hand, before moving to the farm in Lowden County.

Michigan Honors Trucker as 'Driver of the Year'

LANSING (AP)—Chester E. Searing of Jackson, who has driven trucks more than 1,185,000 miles without an accident, was honored as Michigan's "Driver of the Year" last night.

★ ★ ★

Searing, 53, was presented with a trophy by Gov. Williams at a driver-awards banquet in a Lansing hotel. He has been employed by Inter-City Trucking Service Inc. of Detroit for 23 years.

Searing presently operates a tractor-trailer combination in the Jackson area.

★ ★ ★

He had been named "December 1958 Driver of the Month" two weeks ago by the Michigan Trucking Assn. which sponsored last night's banquet and awards.

British H-Bomb Base Blast Fatal to Two

ALDERMASTON, England (AP)—A violent explosion rocked Britain's big H-bomb research base here today after somebody dropped an explosive charge. Two men were killed and one injured.

★ ★ ★

Officials announced there was no radioactivity hazard to the staff or the general public.

★ ★ ★

The explosion set doors and windows rattling in the village of Aldermaston, two miles away, where 300 people live. Fire engines screamed through the village streets. But there was no panic.

★ ★ ★

"We get used to living close to this thing," said Woodley Thomas, 19, a clerk at the ivy-covered post office.

Why, It's You!

NEW YORK (UPI)—Neighbors called police when they saw four men breaking into a nearby building with crowbars and axes. Ten policemen answered the call, arriving with revolvers drawn.

One group confronted the other. Then somebody recognized somebody else, and it turned out the "robbers" were detectives bent on smashing a bookie joint. One arrest was made.

Miriani, Wisconsin Governor Comment

Water Diversion Would Hurt Chicago

DETROIT (AP) — The mayor of Detroit and the governor of Wisconsin say Chicago would suffer by increased diversion of water from Lake Michigan.

Mayor Louis Miriani of Detroit said yesterday that his water experts believe Chicago's proposal to tap an additional 1,000 cubic feet per second from the lake would result only in poorer sewage treatment.

"If their treatment system was properly designed," Miriani said at the Great Lakes Water Diversion Conference, "the diversion would not be necessary."

★ ★ ★

He said more diversion would harm Great Lakes shipping.

Miriani said the Great Lakes channel in the Detroit River would become a shipping bottleneck if further diversion lowers lake levels. The channel is considered the heaviest traveled seaway in the world.

"The least Chicago could do," said Miriani, "is what all the other communities along the Great Lakes do—return the treated water back into Lake Michigan."

★ ★ ★

"Chicago should pay for its own sewage disposal just as other cities on the Great Lakes are doing," said Nelson.

The six-state conference, sponsored by the Great Lakes Harbors Assn., continues today.

Dies En Route to Hospital

Man Shot Hunting

SOUTH LYON — A Detroit contractor lost his life as the result of a hunting accident one mile southeast of here late yesterday, State Police at the Brighton post reported today.

Henry E. Duffey, 46, was shot in the back when a hunting companion dropped his loaded shotgun.

The men were preparing to go home after a day in the field. Duffey was sitting on the back seat of the car, while other members of the party were unloading their weapons to store them in the trunk which was open at the time, according to police.

When Waldo T. Valdez, 34, a Detroit fireman, dropped his weapon it discharged through the back of the trunk, troopers said. The pellets struck Duffey in the back.

He was dead on arrival at St. Joseph Hospital in Ann Arbor.

Duffey was a fire-brick contractor in the industrial furnace business.

The two roles in the play will be portrayed by Robert G. McGuire and J. Gerald McLean.

Hostesses for the evening will be Mr. Giern's niece, Miss Ann L. Nutzhorn, and Mrs. Margaret A. Kaiser. Music and dancing will follow the program.

5 County 4-Hers to Attend Meet

MSU to Hold Weekend 'Leadermete' for State Farm Youths

Five Oakland County 4-H leaders will attend the Third Annual 4-H Leadermete at Michigan State University Saturday and Sunday, according to Jack Worthington, county 4-H extension agent.

They are John Lessiter of Lake Orion, Peter Perkuchin of Holly, Mrs. Leslie Johnson of Clarkston, Alfred Smithling of Rochester and Mrs. Joyce Peacock of Leonard.

More than 300 leaders from Michigan's 83 counties are expected to attend the meeting held to discuss new and better methods of working with youth through 4-H Clubs.

Main purpose of the Leadermete is to provide an inspiration to the volunteer leaders, exchange ideas and then return to their communities to work with the more than 11,000 local leaders throughout the state.

The two-day meet is sponsored by the Michigan 4-H Foundation through the cooperation of the university.

State Farm Bureau Raises Dues to $12

EAST LANSING (UPI)—Dues for the 70,000 Michigan Farm Bureau members will be increased from $10 to $12 a year with the additional $140,000 going for the state organization.

About 620 delegates at a special bureau meeting here yesterday approved the dues hike because of rising costs and an expanded program. The increase becomes effective next year.

Delegates also rejected a proposal to cut their numbers in half by having each delegate represent 200 members instead of 100.

National Grange Pushes Its New Wheat Program

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Leaders of the National Grange opened a drive today to get congressional approval of its new farm program for wheat.

Called the Domestic Parity or Certificate Plan, the proposal would assure producers a relatively high price for wheat used for food in this country.

The remainder of the production would have to find whatever other markets it could at home and abroad at lower prices. None would move into government surplus stocks as is now the case.

Wrong Youth Asked to Drive

Lapeer Woman Picks Unlicensed Hitchhiker Who Smashed Auto

OXFORD — A Lapeer woman is in Oakland County Jail today because she chose the wrong boy to drive her car into Oxford last night.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Doris Mae Higley, 45, of 3491 Lapeer Rd. picked up a 16-year-old hitchhiker from Pontiac and asked him to take over the wheel.

The youth, who had hardly driven before, ended up by smashing the woman's car into another car and ramming a large sign pole in front of Clyde Throop's Service Station at 72 S. Washington St. here.

Neither Mrs. Higley nor the boy was hurt, but the front end damage to her car was considerable, Oxford police said.

Mrs. Higley is charged with permitting an unlicensed person to operate a motor vehicle. The youth was turned over to his parents and will make a statement to juvenile authorities, police said.

Utica Gets Set for Big Event

The day's activities will start at 9 a.m. with registration of rhubarb, rhubarb dishes and center pieces in the gymnasium. Registration for judging will continue until 11 a.m.

A smorgasbord luncheon featuring prize-winning rhubarb desserts will be served at 1 p.m. by wives of growers and Rotarians and Utica homemaking students.

The festival committee announces: "If you eat lunch at home—wait and have dessert with us."

Sandwiches and beverages also will be available.

The official opening of the festival will be at 1:15 p.m. with state dignitaries taking part in the ceremonies.

Nancy Oliver, 18, of Warren, 1959 Hothouse Rhubarb Queen, will serve rhubarb punch during the afternoon.

From 2 to 4 p.m. the Consumers Power Co. will conduct a cooking school — again featuring rhubarb—in the second floor home economics room.

An auction of prize-winning rhubarb will begin at 3 p.m. Other events scheduled for mid-afternoon include a sound film on rhubarb growing, educational exhibits and displays of rhubarb and rhubarb dishes.

Tours of 45 minutes to rhubarb hothouses in the area will be conducted at 3, 4 and 5 p.m. The tours will leave from the south parking lot.

★ ★ ★

A teenage dance party called the "Rhubarb Hop" will be staged between 4 and 6 p.m. in the gymnasium.

A gala festival dance is planned for 7:30 p.m. with the official crowning of Queen Nancy to follow at 8:30 p.m.

Prize awards for rhubarb and rhubarb dishes will be given between dances. A silver cup will be awarded to the grower exhibiting the best rhubarb in the extra fancy class.

Macomb County hothouse rhubarb growers will be competing for the title of Rhubarb King of 1959.

Louis Campbell of Almont is defending champion, and Emil Martin of Utica will be competing again for the crown he won two years ago.

The annual event is sponsored by the Utica Rotary Club, the Wolverine State Growers Assn., and the Michigan Cooperative Extension Service.

Science Benefits Also

There's $$$ in Guinea Pigs

By United Press International

Few farmers give any thought to guinea pigs in planning their livestock programs. But the tiny animals can be money-makers.

Carl Nielsen, who lives near Scottville in Mason County, has been reaping a profit from guinea pigs for a number of years.

He sells 300 young guinea pigs each month to a scientific laboratory in Chicago and also markets the animals to wholesalers in Indianapolis, Philadelphia and Scottdale, Pa.

Thousands of guinea pigs are used each year for research purposes.

Nielsen started raising the animals as a hobby in 1924 but soon realized the commercial possibilities of his venture.

He keeps 500 guinea pigs for breeding stock. Each female produces three litters a year with an average of four piglets to a litter.

The piglets are shipped off to research laboratories when they are four to five weeks old.

Nielsen says temperature control is an important part of guinea pig raising. The animals are highly susceptible to rapid temperature change. They should be kept in temperatures ranging from 55 to 75 degrees.

In addition to making money, Neilsen is contributing to science.

Guinea pigs have played a major role in practically every major scientific discovery related to disease prevention and cure in the past century.

More than 2,000,000 of the animals were used in perfection of the Salk polio vaccine.

Output Cost, Income on Farms Up in '58

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Agricultural Marketing Service reported expenses in 1958 rose 6 per cent to a record high of nearly 25 billion dollars.

★ ★ ★

The increase largely reflected higher prices for livestock bought for breeding and fattening purposes, feed hired labor, property taxes and interest on mortgages.

However, expenses rose much less than gross farm income, the agency said.

The net income per person on farms from all sources was said to have increased 10 per cent last year to $1,068.

★ ★ ★

Swedish Exchange Student Says Our Winter Weather Mild

By LEE WINBORN

AVON TOWNSHIP — "Winters here are mild compared to ours in Sweden," says Lennart Nilson, 17, who is a foreign exchange student this year at Avondale High School.

Lennart, a blond youth just over six feet tall, said he is used to snowdrifts five feet high this time of year in the northern part of Sweden where he lives.

A senior at Avondale, Lennart is a guest in the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Laughlin, 350 Grace St., Rochester.

Arrangements for his year of study in the United States were made through the American Field Service Exchange program. Lennart sailed from Sweden July 28 aboard a Dutch passenger ship arriving in New York on Aug. 9.

When he reached the Laughlin home he found his foster family was larger than his own back in Sweden.

There was one similarity, however. Lennart has a sister Carin, 13, and the Laughlins have a daughter, Kay Ellen, one month younger than Carin.

The Laughlins also have two sons, Mike, 17, and Pat, 15, who have introduced their foster-brother to a number of American teenage interests and pastimes.

One of Lennart's most enjoyable extra-curricular activities, he says, is his work in the Junior Achievement program. He is a member of a group making wooden keys about 10 inches long with hooks for house and car keys and a pad and pencil attached to them.

★ ★ ★

"The keys are selling well," the Swedish youth said. "In fact we can't keep up with the orders we have."

Lennart is also enthusiastic about television which he doesn't have at home. When asked what programs he preferred, he said, "all of them."

"I can listen to rock 'n' roll too, but not too much of it. I can't dance to those fast tunes," he said with a grin.

Comparing educational systems in Avondale and his home town, Lennart said the main difference is that high school students in Sweden remain in one classroom throughout the day except when they are taking science courses which require laboratory experiments or gymnasium.

"I miss the sports I like best at home," Lennart confided. "I enjoy swimming, soccer and ice hockey, none of which we can do here."

The stalwart youth's father works in a fiberglass factory, and his mother is a clerk in a store. He receives $12 per month allowance from the American Field Service office in New York.

★ ★ ★

The AFS allocates the same amount to each foreign exchange student in this country no matter whether his family can afford to send more or not.

★ ★ ★

Lennart is taking courses now in American history, Germanics, solid geometry and others. He plans to study chemistry in a technical high school back home and become a chemical engineer.

An Avondale student was sent to Hamburg, Germany last summer under the same program. He is Gary K. Wright, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl H. Wright, 790 Nichols Dr., Pontiac.

WRITES LETTER HOME — Foreign exchange student Lennart Nilson, 17, writes a letter to his family back in Sweden while sitting at the desk in the home of his foster parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Laughlin, 350 Grace St., Rochester. Lennart is a senior this year at Avondale High School.

Runaway Pig Going to Chops After Day's Chase

UTICA—The runaway pig which roamed local streets for over 24 hours will end up being pork-chopped after all.

★ ★ ★

The 300-pound boar was cornered last night in the Church Lumber Yard here and returned to the Utica Packing House where it had escaped Tuesday night.

The frightened porker slipped away from packing house employes as it was being unloaded from a truck. It wandered through town all day yesterday, with local police in armed pursuit.

The man responsible for the pig's capture was William Wordell of Davis street here.

St. Michael's Youth Club Learning of Safe Driving

SOUTHFIELD — Michigan State Police and Southfield law enforcement officials are cooperating with St. Michael's Youth Club here in a campaign to promote and teach safe driving among club members.

Officers have lectured and shown films to the 125 member organization on the essentials for safe operation of a motor vehicle, according to club president Ron Belardinelli of 25225 Mulberry Drive.

★ ★ ★

Monthly programs by the State and Southfield police have been staged for the last the last two months in an effort to properly educate club members. Further instructions will be provided by a driving instructor "if we can find one," said Belardinelli.

Interest in the program among members is so great the club officers have voted to erect a St. Christopher Shrine. (St. Christopher is the patron saint of travel.)

In an effort to impress parish members with the importance of safe driving, the high school teenagers have ordered a life-sized statue of St. Christopher and will erect it on church property at the corner of Code and Ten Mile roads. Dedication of the Shrine has tentatively been set for Easter.

Funds for the statue are being contributed by members during Lent. "We want the kids to donate from their spending money saved through sacrifices made during Lent," said Belardinelli.

President Acts to Stop Unrest

Rhodesia in Emergency

SALISBURY, Southern Rhodesia (AP)—Prime Minister Sir Edgar Whitehead declared a state of emergency throughout Southern Rhodesia today and banned the African national party as an illegal organization.

Whitehead acted to prevent the spread to Southern Rhodesia of nationalist unrest in neighboring Nyasaland, which is united with Southern and Northern Rhodesia in the Central African Federation of the British Commonwealth.

Most of the national party officers in Southern Rhodesia were arrested in predawn raids.

There was no immediate word whether similar action would be taken in Nyasaland, where three natives have been killed and more than 50 injured in riots. Nyasaland's capital, Blantyre, is the headquarters of the party chief, Dr. Hastings Banda. A 54-year-old London-educated physician, he returned home a year ago after 40 years of self-imposed exile.

★ ★ ★

Regulations published in the Southern Rhodesian government gazette empowered the government to prohibit gatherings of more than three people, to control movement of people and supplies to weapons, to impose curfews, and to control publications of information about activities of security forces.

Whitehead said a grave situation similar to that in Nyasaland might be created in Southern Rhodesia unless immediate steps were taken.

★ ★ ★

So far, the only threatening unrest was reported at Kariba, where 4,000 striking Africans have brought work to a halt on the huge Zambesi River hydroelectric project. The row apparently started over wages, but British officials say "there is something definitely political about it now."

There were reports that members of Banda's organization had slipped into the area to direct the strikers from a secret hideout.

★ ★ ★

Banda, who describes himself as "the extremist of the extremists," wants to take Nyasaland—a British protectorate—out of the British-ruled federation of Rhodesia-Nyasaland in Southeast Africa. The British are strongest in Southern and Northern Rhodesia, which have 250,000 white settlers and 4½ million Negroes. Nyasaland has only 7,000 Europeans to 3½ million Africans.

★ ★ ★

With vivid memories of Kenya's bloody Mau Mau outbreak, worried British administrators and isolated settlers were again checking their defenses.

Sir Roy Welensky, white prime minister of the Central African Federation and a former boxer, has called to arms virtually all young white men in Southern Rhodesia to augment British-led native troops.

Officer, Buddy Held in Slaying

New York City Widow, 60, Victim of Brutal Sex Attack

NEW YORK (AP) — A police officer and his companion were charged today in the rape-slaying of a 60-year-old widow.

Police said Mrs. Viola Mirman of Brooklyn was dragged into a car Monday, beaten with fists and a blackjack, raped and abandoned in a parking lot.

A tip to authorities led to the arrest Wednesday night of Patrolman Francis J. Rogers, 26, and Thomas Murtha, 22, a truck driver.

Deputy Police Commissioner Walter Arm said Rogers, who was off duty, admitted beating the woman, but denied raping her. Rogers accused Murtha of the rape. Murtha also denied raping Mrs. Mirman, but told of beating her.

★ ★ ★

Found at the scene of the attack, police said, were a wrist watch owned by Rogers and a pair of eyeglasses belonging to Murtha.

Rogers' father is veteran Patrolman Charles J. Rogers.

Arm quoted the men as saying they had been drinking and that they tried to "pick up" Mrs. Mirman. When she ignored them, she was dragged into the car.

Rogers and Murtha were charged with homicide, rape and kidnaping. Rogers was suspended from the force.

'No Work, No Eat' Ends in Divorce

DETROIT (AP)—After 40 years of working for one company, Antonas Waitkunas retired in June 1954. He testified Wednesday that his wife then issued an edict: "No work, no eat."

★ ★ ★

Waitkunas, 74, said he turned his $150-a-month pension check over to his wife, Josephine, who cashed it and gave him $10 a month. She also cut him to one meal a day and made him move into the basement of their home.

★ ★ ★

"She rented my room," Waitkunas said. "I could hear her up there, entertaining a boy friend, having lunch and beer, while I was only getting one meal a day."

Circuit Judge Miles N. Culehan granted Waitkunas a divorce, commenting:

"You shouldn't have married such a young girl."

Mrs. Waitkunas is 64.

Try to Find Beaus for Daughters

Italian Fathers Scheme With Cupid

TURIN, Italy (UPI)—One of Cupid's most unusual gambits is the "Pink Bows Assn.," which tries to button down some beaus for Italy's unmarried women.

Members of the association are all Italian fathers with unmarried daughters.

They have banded together in a movement to save the girls from possible spinsterhood in communities throughout Italy where the females dominate the population.

A lawfully registered organization, the "Pink Bows Assn." is made up of about 50 independent clubs. The movement began in the Canavese District north of Turin several years ago but no one can remember who originated the idea.

"We are not a secret society," said a member who wore a pink bow lapel button signifying that he was the father of two unmarried daughters.

"But we feel that publicity may be a little embarrassing both for our daughters and for some of the shy young men who seek our help."

Each club has different projects to aid the unmarried girls. At the country town of Rivardo, two or three dances and quiet home gatherings are held each month.

Other clubs teach young girls how to "mix" naturally and correctly with men their own age. As far as can be learned, most of the clubs have between 44 to 100 fathers as members.

The latest "Pink Bow Assn." branch was formed at La Cassa, about 20 miles north of Turin, where some 200 single women can be found among the population of 1,000.

★ ★ ★

The La Cassa "Pink Bow" club meets every Sunday to discuss problems.

One project is a still-hazy publicity program that would advertise the plight of La Cassa's unmarried girls in a dignified manner.

The publicity would, however, refer to La Cassa girls as "the most wonderful daughters, the most wonderful wives and the best mothers."

The club members also favor a small tax on mature bachelors to help pay for the spinster pension fund.

Security for You

Setup Unlikely to Go Broke

By RAY HENRY

You needn't worry about the Social Security system going broke. It's financially sound now. And, as near as anyone can tell, it'll stay that way.

In fact, the system may be so well financed by 1969 that a tax boost then can be put off.

These conclusions come from a year-long study of the system's financing by a group of 13 experts from industry, government, labor and universities.

The Advisory Council — as the group was called formally —was set up by Congress and appointed by President Eisenhower's secretary of health, education and welfare.

The nub of the group's report is in this sentence:

"The council finds that the present method of financing the Old Age, Survivors and Disability Insurance program is sound, practical and appropriate for this program."

In discussing the 1969 tax increase, the council said it doubted whether the boost should go into effect at that time —that it could be postponed.

But, it didn't recommend a change in the tax schedule. It suggested another look be taken by a future council as 1969 draws nearer.

NOW PAY 2½ Pct.

Present plans call for Social Security tax raises in 1960, 1963, 1966 and 1969.

Employes now pay 2½ per cent of their earnings up to $4,800 into Social Security. Their employers match this. Self-employed people pay 3¾ per cent of their net earnings up to $4,800.

The 1969 raise calls for employes to pay 4½ per cent of their earnings up to $4,800 into Social Security, with a like amount paid by their employers. For self-employed persons, the tax will be 6¾ per cent of all net earnings up to $4,800.

Although the council found the system sound, it recommended that periodic studies be made in the future to be sure it remains sound.

And, it said it expected that changes in the system both as to benefits and finances will be needed as changes occur in wage levels, the labor force and other factors in the nation's economy.

It particularly noted that the maximum earnings taxed for Social Security—now $4,800 a year—"should be increased from time to time as wages rise."

"We do not recommend," the council said, "any further change in the (maximum) at this time, since the change to $4,800 is just going into effect in 1959. We assume that further consideration will be given to this maximum after the effect of the $4,800 figure has been evaluated."

Any change in the taxable maximum earnings is also likely to mean an increase in the eventual benefits a person can receive if his earnings are at the maximum.

This results because benefits are always based on the average monthly earnings on which a person pays taxes. The higher the earnings taxed the higher the payments.

Ike Asks Firms, Labor to Help in Bond Sales

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower appeals personally today to top corporation leaders to help the government finance a bigger chunk of the national debt through savings bonds.

★ ★ ★

Presidents and board chairmen of about 425 of the biggest corporations were invited to the session by the Treasury Department. Except for an informal talk by Eisenhower, the discussions were closed to reporters and the public.

The conference was scheduled to encourage business leaders to promote sales of savings bonds through payroll savings plans.

As part of the program, the conferees will be acquainted with the mounting problems involved in financing a record national debt of more than 285 billion dollars.

A similar meeting will be held next Monday with top officials of organized labor.

Group Forms to Curb Obscene Writings

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — A group of citizens from various parts of the nation, feeling that obscene literature is endangering the morality of America's youth, has launched a program to do something about it.

★ ★ ★

The group gathered here to form a national "Citizens for Decent Literature" organization The session followed one in Cleveland, where a steering committee was appointed.

"The menace of obscene literature is being recognized in community after community," Dr. Bernard E. Donovan, assistant superintendent of schools in New York City, declared at a meeting of the steering committee.

★ ★ ★

"If we do not stem this tide of filth we shall be guilty of permitting a condition to exist which endangers the morality of our youth and thereby weakens the very fiber of our nation," said Donovan, who is chairman of the committee.

SSG Makes Pilots 'Sit Up'

Three Initials Stand for Standardization Unit to Keep Crews on Toes

MARCH AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (UPI)—Just the mention of the initials "SSG" around a Strategic Air Command base compels SAC flyers to stand up straight—and start thinking.

"SSG" stands for Stragegic Standardization Group.

This unit of 400 highly trained specialists, based at Barksdale Air Force Base in Louisiana, is charged with the task of keeping the flying crews on their toes.

The recent SAC Bombing and Navigation Competition at March AFB, Riverside, Calif., and at Castle AFB, Merced, Calif., was set up and "policed" by SSG to test the crews under simulated combat conditions and make sure they are ready for the "big payoff."

SSG is commanded by Col. D. P. Wood, himself a former deputy SAC wing commander. The group was set up Jan. 1, 1958 to replace the older "Strategic Evaluation Squadron" whose unheralded and admittedly rough inspections had put many a SAC outfit "in a flap."

This is done by publishing a detailed manual—used at all SAC installations — "so everyone will be flying under the same rules." Each base continually schools its personnel in standardized procedure.

In addition to the base work and a continuous standardization school at Barksdale, the SSG checks on its work by sending units — without advance warning —to fly with the crews, check on their procedures and rate the officers and men.

Bakers of Chinese Fortune Cookies Write Proverbs Only When Happy

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Business is booming at the four bakeries in San Francisco's Chinatown which have been made famous by the gag, "Help, help, I'm being held prisoner in a Chinese cookie factory."

Every day the bakeries, all family run, turn out more than 50,000 of the crisp, clam-shaped cookies with the printed proverb or fortune inside. One owner said his output has doubled in two years.

The vanilla-flavored fortune cookies were adapted from traditional egg rolls by Chinese immigrants to this country, according to Ernie Louie of the Lotus Cakes Co.

They were first used for New Year's greetings, later for good luck wishes and the finishing touch to Chinese meals.

Gradually, they caught the fancy of Americans all over the country, who in addition to eating them at meals use them to announce engagements and births and for other special occasions.

Louie's firm is one of the biggest bakers of fortune cookies in Chinatown, turning out 20,000 a day. The sweet smell of baking cookies can be noticed two blocks away from his plant.

MADE IN TINY OVENS

The cookies are made in 90 tiny waffle-like owens mounted on a slowly revolving wheel nine feet in diameter.

The batter of flour, eggs, sugar, vanilla and butter is poured in each oven and a lid drops over it.

The ovens move in a slow circuit over a gas flame which bakes the cookies.

Two workers remove the soft, hot cookies, insert a fortune and fold them into shape. They are placed in a rack to cool and become crisp.

Louie, whose mother, father and wife work in the bakery, is in charge of getting up the fortunes at Lotus Cakes.

Louie said he brings out 300 new proverbs and fortunes each year, drawing on Chinese philosophers such as Lin Yutang, but not Confucius. "Too confusing," he explains.

"It's a hard job," Louie said. "If I'm feeling moody I might put in some abusive ones. I try to do it when I'm feeling happy. The idea is to stimulate conversation."

Thus his fortunes range from "You have a friendly heart and are well admired" to a blunt "There is time enough for you to take a different path."

Trader Vic Bergeron, who owns a string of restaurants across the country, decided fortunes such as these were a little too tame and invited patrons to invent new ones. Entries included: "A fly-by-night is often grounded in the morning;" "You are a born check grabber. Everyone loves you;" and "For true luck, eat the fortune and give away the cookie."

Nuclear Age Health to Be Study Topic

CHICAGO (UPI) — The long-range impact of nuclear energy on public health will be studied by a special unit set up at the University of Chicago, the birthplace of the atomic age.

Dr. Lowell T. Coggeshall, dean of the university's Division of Biological Sciences, said the unit, called the Section on Nuclear Medicine, will explore:

—The increase in natural background radiation due to by-products of all current uses of nuclear energy devices.

—The actual or probable consequences—genetic and physiological —of the increased exposure of man and domestic animals to ionizing radiation.

—Existing and proposed legislative controls of factors responsible for increased exposure to radiation.

—Medico-legal aspects of personal injury and compensation problems of personnel engaged in the nuclear energy industry.

—The psychological reactions of society to the threatening aspects of nuclear energy.

New Germany Is a 'Miracle'

Country Still Divided but Population Up by 11 Million Since '39

WASHINGTON — Thirteen years ago Germany lay in ruins. Its once mighty army had been routed, its cities blasted, its government obliterated.

Along blackened streets hobbled maimed young men who thought themselves lucky just to be alive.

Today a new Germany has sprung up from the ashes of the old, thanks to hard work by the Germans and help from their former enemies.

The prospering new Germany has busy factories, spanking new buildings, gay neon lights, and well-fed, well-clothed people who are buying refrigerators and planning trips abroad. Visitors to Germany come away using the word "miracle."

★ ★ ★

The country remains, however, a house divided. Areas that once were German now are part of Poland or the Soviet Union. Of once great Prussia, nothing remains. Even the name has disappeared from maps.

Through the midst of what remains of Germany runs the Iron Curtain that separates the armed might of East and West. Bisected Berlin, long the center of German culture, is a lonely Western outpost set in Communist-controlled East Germany.

★ ★ ★

Despite war losses and its shrunken size, Germany has more people than before the war, the National Geographic Society says. West Germany's population is up by about 11 million since 1939, due in large measure to refugees. The population density is about 10 times that of the United States.

Comedian Sam Levenson Gets Serious About Spoiled Teens

Parents Need the Guts to Set Rules, Enforce Them

(In the following dispatch Sam Levenson is dead serious as he tells what he thinks is wrong with the present day teenager-parent relationship.)

Written for United Press International

By SAM LEVENSON

I don't deny kids pleasure. God bless them. I want them all to have fun. But I also hate to see them getting killed or seduced in cars and getting into all kinds of trouble. And the statistics are that they do get into a lot of trouble.

What to do about it? The parents have got to have the guts to be parents. It takes a little courage to face up to a kid when you know he is wrong. Our parents had rules and regulations for us. I don't say they were always right. But there were rules, simple rules, and we knew what they were and most of the time we followed them—or else.

You either went to school and did a good job or you went to work. If you went to college you waited to get married at least till you were out. If you wanted a car or a raccoon coat or whatever — I'm not talking about rich kids, but average kids of average families —you worked to get the money for it. Sometimes you could make enough, sometimes you couldn't.

* * *

Now, the kid starts with a car which is given him for no good reason except he wants it and "all the other fellows have one." He can't go out on a Saturday night unless there's a car. There's a bus that passes his house a block or two away, but he won't take it. He must have the car.

The trouble with today's teenagers is they expect everything in life free. We've tried to make our kids happy by giving them everything that we didn't have in life. It doesn't work out. You do a kid no good by giving to him. Because the only thing he gets out of life that way is the habit of receiving. Yo've denied him the joy of achieving.

Does anybody say to a kid any more, "You're off Saturday. You've got nothing to do. How about taking a job for the day? How about working for that extra five bucks you want?"

* * *

He never heard of it. He gets panicky. That's when to lay down some of the rules. One of the biggest is that a youngster must be taught to be self-sufficient. He has to start growing up.

And going steady—at 15! First thing you know—they don't know a thing yet except how to neck or rock 'n' roll—they walk in with some idiot and say, 'Ma, we're going to get married.' And ma says yes because maybe the kid'll walk in next week with an even worse idiot. Then the parents are supporting the kids through the first babies, or through college, or both.

* * *

In the old days, you remember, mother and father made the arrangements. They met the girl—or the boy. They met the family. And they investigated—practically the FBI, fingerprints, everything.

The free car, the early marriage, the unsupervised dates, they're all symbols—symbols of kids getting things they're not ready for, all unearned increment.

It's spoiling their lives. They're denied the wonder of anticipation, of being able to say, "Look, when I grow up, I'm going to work and I'm going to earn money and I'm going to do this and that and the other thing; buy for myself the things I want, earn them with my own hands and brains."

That's a beautiful thing. It's in the American tradition—the right and natural tradition. When you give the kids everything before they've achieved the right to them, you're undermining that basic tradition—and them.

It's up to the parents. Who else is going to protect the young? The tiger does it for his cubs. We'd better find out where we stand in this world, find out our values in this society.

The teenagers need a reason for living, too. They need a devotion. They need an example. They need something that's better and more important than the car. The kids are confused because the whole code of values is upset. A child must be raised with a sense of responsibility to himself, to his parents, to his country.

The parents of America are frightened, they're more frightened than the kids. Actually the ruling class in America today are the teenagers. They have laid the rules out. It's time the parents took the rules back in their own hands.

Congressman Cuts Son's Salary in Half

WASHINGTON (AP)— Rep. Steven V. Carter (D-Iowa) told the House late yesterday he has cut his son's basic salary in half. The percentage cut in actual remuneration is somewhat less.

Nineteen-year-old Steven A. Carter, a college freshman in addition to his Capitol job, had been on the government payroll at an annual salary of 11,873$.

That, under Congress' complicated system for figuring the pay of its employes, represents a base pay of $6,100 a year plus various increases. A cut to 3,$-050 base figures out at $6,402.

"As of today," Carter said, "his basic salary will be cut in half because I can work. . .be in the office. . .have no pain."

Carter, who was applauded at the end of his brief talk, said it was "wonderful to be back ahong the land of the living."

He has received treatment for a recurrence of cancer, which struik him originally in 1957.

OK Summer Music Plan for Local Schools

The Waterford Township schools summer instrumental music program has been approved by the Board of Education.

The six-week program will begin June 22 and end July 31. Classes will meet three hours a day, five days a week. Fee for each pupil will be $12.

Superintendent of Schools William Shunck said last summer's program was self-sustaining financially, and that the same situation probably will be the case this summer.

Aluminum production in the United States is expected to total more than 800 million pounds by 1960, compared with 250 million pounds in 1950.

'No-New-Services, No-New-Taxes' Washington Taxpayers' Revolt Slogan

ELLENSVILLE, Wash. (AP) — A "nonpartisan taxpayers' revolt" that started here over a cup of coffee went into its third week today with the letter-writing campaign spreading to the far corners of the state.

An estimated 10,000 or more revolt-inspired form letters have poured in on state legislators in Olympia, and Gov. Albert D. Rosellini's office said he has received 1,358 of them.

* * *

In addition, thousands of companion petitions were being circulated, the signers pledging not to ask for additional services from state government and demanding in return that no new tax laws be passed.

* * *

"The campaign has exceeded our wildest dreams," said Edward Cross, an attorney who helped start it. "With all the phone calls, my practice has gone by the boards. We've really got a tiger by the tail."

It started at a Lions Club meeting in this town of 2,200 on Feb. 11 when Bryson Reinhardt, a Wenatchee, Wash., salesman, made a speech about government and taxes.

* * *

"When it was over, some of us got to talking and decided that's what we always do—just talk," Cross said. "We agreed to meet for coffee next morning and consider some kind of petition and form letter."

Twenty men showed up, then 40 more joined in, $300 was collected for printing and a nameless organization was born with an eight-man steering committee headed by Ralph Danekas, a mortician who says he is politically independent.

* * *

"It's a completely nonpartisan, grass roots effort," said Cross, a former Republican county prosecutor. The steering committee includes Roy Scott, one-time Democratic county commissioner.

The original goal was to get 1,500 signatures on a "no-new-services, no-new-taxes" petition in Adams County. Cross said they got 1,150 in three days and the idea "snowballed."

After 500 form letters piled up on his desk, Rosellini, a Democrat, replied with a form letter of his own, asking revolters to be "realistic" and claiming increased taxes are needed to maintain even a minimum of services.

"We weren't convinced," Cross said.

The revolt spread to Spokane, 70 miles away, and Norman Bishop, insurance man and chairman there, set a goal of 75,000 signatures. He got city permission to set up booths at four downtown Spokane locations and said his group plans to stay active as a "taxpayers lobby" through 1960.

Letters started coming in to Olympia today from Anacortes and Aberdeen in extreme western Washington. The presidents of both the Young Republican and Young Democratic clubs in Bellingham said they're joining forces to get signatures. Cross said a Seattle campaign will start next week.

Rosellini has proposed increasing the state sales tax from 3 1-3 to 4 per cent and letters or not, some kind of tax increase is expected.

He Missed Only Twice

MOUNT SIDNEY, Va. (AP)—Voters found something missing here in the 1958 election. The something was Col. C. S. Roller Jr., who has missed just twice as an election judge since he was appointed in 1900. He missed in 1918 when in France with the 89th Division. This year he was in the hospital.

Charge Attempt to Kill Boy, 6

Say Couple Tried to Poison Son of Wife With Lethal Candy

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—Charges of attempting to kill a retarded six-year-old boy with poisoned candy have been filed against a California couple.

Phoenix officers were to go to Los Angeles today to pick up Mrs. Edna A. F. Howard, 36, and James L. Will, 38, her former husband, both of Pasadena, Calif.

* * *

They are charged with trying to poison Michael Howard, son of the woman by an earlier marriage. The charge carries a maximum penalty of 10 years to life.

An official of the Valley of the Sun School for Handicapped Children uncovered the poisoned candy Wednesday when she disregarded instructions to see that it went only to Michael.

* * *

As Mrs. Bernice Kussell, school superintendent, broke up the candy for distribution among all the children, she discovered two capsules later found to contain lethal dog worm medicine.

The discovery led to the arrest of the couple in Los Angeles.

Phoenix police said Michael has been adopted by Mrs. Howard's present husband, George.

* * *

Los Angeles officers said the child's natural father is believed to be Edward Weishaupt, Mrs. Howard's first husband. Will was her second husband.

* * *

Sgt. Claude Everley of the Los Angeles sheriff's homicide detail said the boy and his mother each receive $125 per month from a $25,000 estate. He is retarded both mentally and physically.

May Impede Interstate Commerce

Top Court Rules States Can Tax Outside Firms

NEW YORK (AP) — Lawyers and tax experts in leading American corporations today were studying two Supreme Court decisions which could have enormous economic effects on business and government.

The lawyers refused to make any comment. From corporation after corporation came the same refrain: "We're studying it, we can't say anything about it right now."

However, J. S. Seidman, a recognized tax expert with the accounting firm of Seidman & Seidman, foresaw "tremendous economic problems" as a result of the decisions.

The Supreme Court decisions were handed down Tuesday. One held that a state may tax an out-of-state corporation on a portion of its net income calculated to have come from activities within that state.

This was the decision which aroused most interest in corporate legal departments.

The other decision held that Congress' ban on state taxation of imports does not prohibit estate property taxes on ore or lumber imported by a manufacturer and stored for immediate use in the taxing state.

"What will happen," Seidman predicted, "is that states and ultimately cities will now reach out and take full advantage of what they had thought was closed to them — taxes on net income of out-of-state corporations."

Seidman said the rulings "may impede the free flow of commerce from one state to another." He foresaw states imposing taxes on out-of-state corporations which would act as a kind of tariff wall, similar to tariffs between countries in international trade.

Bloomfield Man Still in Office

Committee in Senate Hesitates on Approval of Governor's Nominee

Action to remove a West Bloomfield Township man from the Office of State Labor Commissioner was stalled temporarily today.

Neil B. McArthur, 2300 Middle Belt Rd., remained acting labor commissioner while a five-member Senate committee in Lansing hesitated over Gov. Williams' nomination of James W. Bowden to the office.

Bowden, a former Lansing tool and die maker and a long-time UAW member, was screened by the committee yesterday, but no action to confirm or deny his appointment was taken.

"My impressions have not yet crystallized," said Sen. Edward Hutchinson (R-Fennville) committee chairman.

★ ★ ★

McArthur, former president of Local 19, of the Detroit Carpenters Union has been acting head of the commission since last February. He got the job after Russell White of Owosso was ousted from it when the Senate disapproved his appointment.

White, like Bowden, also had strong UAW connections.

Bowden was questioned about his attitude on fair labor standards, minimum wage and child labor legislation, a civil service survey of his department his union background and his references.

It was brought out that he is still a UAW member in good standing.

Asked if in the light of this he could perform the commissioner's duties impartially, Bowden said he had taken an oath to do so and intended to abide by it.

He also was questioned about permitting a subordinate to draw state expenses to attend a CIO-AFL legislative conference earlier this month in Lansing, and about his contacts with UAW officials since taking office.

Sen. John P. Smeekens (R-Coldwater), labor committee chairman but not a member of Hutchinson's group, took part in the questioning.

If you can fool some of the people all of the time, and all of the people some of the time—well, don't push your luck . . . Any oldster can tell you two can't live as cheaply as once. —Earl Wilson.

OKs County Survey by Goodwill Industries

A field agent from Goodwill Industries of America in Washington, D. C. will be invited to conduct a survey on the need and potential of a workshop center and planned training program for the handicapped residents of Pontiac and Oakland County.

This was the decision last night of the Board of Directors of a local, yet-to-be-named organization which is seeking to provide such a program and cester here to aid the handicpped.

Last night's meeting was held at Pontiac General Hospital.

The Board is still undecided whether to be an independent governing body in the county or to become an agency of a national organization.

Following a report of the gorup's committee meeting with P. J. Trevethan, executive vice president of Goodwill Industries of America, held Feb. 16, the Board decided to accept the offer of a free "no obligation" survey by Goodwill.

One of three conclusions and recommendations is expected to be made by such a survey; to set up an independent unit in the county and be associated with the national organization; to become a branch of the Goodwill in Detroit which is already operating in Oakland County; or to take no action locally on such a project with Goodwill.

★ ★ ★

John W. Hirlinger, manager of the Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce and first vice president of the Board, reported that the field agent would seek the need, potential in population covered and material which would be picked up; the potential of raising money for the project; the community leaders' attitudes of the proposed project and the support they would give as well as availability of the size of building needed.

★ ★ ★

Trevethan had told the committee the national organization would require a local group to raise a minimum of $35,000 in order to be accepted as a member and be able to operate on a full-scale basis in the beginning.

★ ★ ★

Secretary Norman Dunn, public relations representative of Pontiac Motor Division, was instructed by the Board to write to national organizations similar to Goodwill for information about setting up the proposed workshop.

He was also to investigate the possibility of obtaining state or federal funds for the project.

Purpose of the nonprofit organization, made up of Pontiac area business and professional people, is to provide for the occupational rehabilitation of handicapped people of Oakland County.

★ ★ ★

Facilities will be available to all handicapped people "regardless of race, religion, nationality, color or sex" providing they have been county residents one year, according to the bylaws.

Teamsters Organizing Dearborn City Workers

The teamsters Union made its first move in the Detroit area yesterday in a drive to organize millions of the nation's municipal workers.

But there was no indication a similar move would be made in Pontiac.

The union's target is the suburban city of Dearborn. Teamsters Local 299 announced it would demand bargaining rights for 300 employes of the city.

Police and firemen are not among the workers the Teamsters are trying to organize. The union is restricting its drive to Dearborn's Public Works and Sanitation departments.

Dearborn police reportedly have declined financial assistance from the Teamsters in a pay raise campaign. There will be a pay raise proposal on the April 6 ballot.

★ ★ ★

Charles O'Brien, Local 299 business agent, said the state Labor Mediation Board would be petitioned for bargaining rights for the 300 workers. O'Brien said all had signed union membership applications.

Local 299 is Teamsters' President James R. Hoffa's home local.

Floyd P. Harman, secretary-treasurer of Teamsters Local 614, said there had been no move to organize Pontiac municipal employes into the Teamsters Union "as yet."

City officials and municipal employe representatives doubted such a move would take place.

★ ★ ★

Most Pontiac hourly employes belong to Local 100 of the American State, County and Municipal Employes Union, AFL-CIO. The majority of City Hall white-collar workers don't belong to the union, but are members of the Pontiac Municipal Employes Assn.

A Teamsters membership drive would undoubtedly be at cross-purposes with these two labor groups, it was pointed out.

Mexican Railroads Tied Up by Strike

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Striking Mexican rail workers had until noon today to return to work or face dismissal. Two-thirds of the nation's rail system was tied up, but a slight break in the strike put some key trains back in operation Wednesday night.

The wage strike by many of the country's 70,000 railway workers was the first major domestic crisis for President Adolfo Lopez Mateos since he took office last Dec. 1.

The walkout began at noon Wednesday, affecting 9,150 miles of the 14,030-mile government-owned rail system. The government promptly ruled the walkout illegal and threatened the workers with dismissal if they were not back on the job by noon today.

Some came back during the afternoon and night. But many said they would not go back to work until they heard from Demetrio Vallejo, head of the railway union.

Eight Cars Pile Up

LANSING (UPI)—An eight-car smashup on M78 near the U.S.16 intersection just northeast of the city resulted in four minor injuries today but plenty of angry drivers. The pileup, which started when one car skidded out of control and others followed, jammed traffic for 90 minutes.

Year's Millionth Auto Made Today

DETROIT (AP)—The millionth passenger car of 1959 rolled from the auto industry's assembly lines today, Automotive News reported. The millionth car of 1958 was produced on March 12.

The trade paper said industry output this week will total 128,838 cars, the highest weekly output in six weeks. Last week 120,822 cars were built. In the corresponding 1958 week 91,442 units were made.

★ ★ ★

Automotive News attributed the production increase to overtime at several Ford plants and by Studebaker, Rambler, Lincoln and Thunderbird factories.

Truck output this week is placed at 24,867 units compared with 24,408 last week and 17,456 in the like 1958 week.

Canadian factories will build 7,992 cars and 1,595 trucks this week against 7,759 cars and 1,403 trucks last week, the paper said. A year ago Dominion factories built 8,512 cars and trucks.

The United States, Venezuela, Russia and the tiny sheikdom of Kuwait are the world's leading oil producers—in that order.

Teller Outstares Would-Be Lady Bank Robber

NEW YORK (AP)—A Brooklyn bank teller outstared a young woman demanding money, made her lose her nerve, then chased and caught her on the street.

★ ★ ★

The woman walked into the Greater New York Savings Bank on Church Avenue Wednesday and shoved a note at Stanley Egenes, 26, demanding $1,000 in small bills.

Asked Egenes: "Are you kidding?"

"No," the woman replied.

Egenes just stared. The woman finally turned and walked out.

Egenes dashed after her.

Turned over to police, the woman, Ann Mileo, 25, of Brooklyn, a sewing machine operator, was quoted as saying she planned to marry in the fall and needed money for a trousseau. She was charged with attempted robbery.

SMOOTH SLEDDING—Part auto and part airplane, this new Russian aero-sleigh whizzes over ice and snow at speeds said to exceed 40 miles an hour. Called a "Sever," which means north, the sleigh consists of a Pobenda car, equipped with four pontoon-like skis and a variable pitch pusher-type propeller. It is powered by a 260-horsepower air cooled engine.

VANDENBERG AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP)—The Air Force has once again postponed indefinitely launching the Discoverer I satellite it hopes will go into polar orbit.

The two-stage rocket system came within 30 seconds of firing on two different occasions Wednesday. In each case, authorities halted the countdown for undisclosed reasons.

Probe to Check Flower Funds

Labor Unions' Tactics in Politics to Come Under Senate Scrutiny

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Labor-Management Committee plans an extensive investigation of labor unions' tactics and spending in political campaigns, Sen. Karl E. Mundt (R-SD) said today.

Mundt, the committee's vice chairman, predicted the inquiry will deal at some length with:

1. Whether some union flower funds—set up to buy flowers for members who are sick or have died—are used only for those purposes.

2. Whether federal laws forbidding unions to participate in federal election campaigns have been violated or circumvented.

The inquiry is believed certain to plunge the committee's four Democratic and four Republican members into bitter controversy. An investigation of Walter Reuther's United Auto Workers union last year touched off such a squabble.

The UAW and many other labor unions traditionally support Democrats against Republican candidates.

Republican members raised some critical questions about UAW flower funds during last year's inquiry, but the committee refrained from ordering an audit of those funds at the time.

One committee member, Sen. Barry Goldwater (R-Ariz), was described as proposing that the new inquiry embrace the explosive subject of unions' tactics in last November's election campaign against "right to work" laws. Such measures were defeated in five of the six states in which they were voted on last fall.

The committee's chairman, Sen. John L. McClellan (D-Ark) confirmed that the right to work issue had been mentioned Wednesday in a closed meeting, but he said no motions were made or votes taken. He declined to elaborate.

The committee wound up its public hearings Wednesday on alleged extortion rackets in Chicago area jukebox and game machine operations.

McClellan charged that the testimony had shown this was part of a nationwide plot to foist gangster control over many business enterprises. He said the conspiracy was so entrenched that it "threatens the sovereignty of this country."

Herter Favored if Ike Decides to Replace Dulles

WASHINGTON (AP)—If President Eisenhower is forced to appoint a new secretary of state, the general understanding among Senate Republicans is that he will promote Undersecretary Christian A. Herter.

Some influential Senate Democrats are known to have told administration officials also that if Secretary John Foster Dulles decides he cannot carry on because of his illness from cancer, they would regard Herter as his most acceptable replacement.

Eisenhower was represented as feeling that Dulles' policies could best be continued by the team that has been working with him.

This view was reported to coincide with that of Sen. William Fulbright (D-Ark), chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, and some other top Democrats.

Extra Police, Rain Slow Mill Picketing

HENDERSON, N.C. (AP)—Extra highway patrolmen and a steady rain served to minimize activities in the strike at the Henderson-Harriest Cotton Mills here today.

The crowds of about 150 persons each stood in a pouring rain and watched as about 100 or so workers reported to their jobs at the mills' North Henderson and South Henderson plants.

Only three instances of rock throwing were observed. Boyd Payton of Charlotte, regional vice president of the Textile Workers Union of America, was cheered when he arrived at the picket line this morning.

Work, Shelter Provided

Life Brighter Now

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Hungry farm workers who traveled hundreds of miles desperate for $6 a day jobs, only to find neither work nor shelter, had brighter prospects today.

★ ★ ★

They could thank a slight, compassionate man in black clothing — the Rev. Richard A. Crowley.

For days they had barely enough food to keep alive. Men, women and children camped in the open, along ditch banks, without protection from winter rains and freezing night temperatures.

They took their drinking water from irrigation ditches used by cattle. Many of their children were sick.

HEAR RUMORS

Cotton crop failures in Arizona threw the people out of work. They heard rumors crops were ready to be picked in Nevada's Moapa Valley near Overton, 65 miles northeast of Las Vegas. Hopefully they headed north, 300 strong.

They found the harvest late and farmers' housing already bulging with hundreds of other workers who follow the crops. Until the onion, radish and tomato crops ripened, there would be far more workers than jobs.

"The only thing these people have to bargain with is their hunger," says Father Crowley, a Roman Catholic priest.

★ ★ ★

He visited the workers' camps daily, in a borrowed truck, with meager offerings of food and clothing he has collected from donors.

For a week State Labor Commissioner George Jolly was on the scene, sent by Gov. Grant Sawyer largely at the urging of Father Crowley.

"It was a bad deal, but I think things are in pretty good shape now," Jolly said today.

NEW HOUSING SOON

The migrants—American citizens of Mexican, Negro and Anglo descent—now have tents set up by the National Guard. New housing should be finished in two or three weeks.

The harvest is starting, giving work. The workers average six or seven dollars a day, Jolly says, and several members of the family usually work. "But that's for a long day," Jolly adds.

Authorities are starting innoculations against typhoid.

Tod Potter, executive secretary of President Eisenhower's Committee on Migratory Labor, planned an on-the-spot survey today for Secretary of Labor James Mitchell.

Britain Building New Highways

Trying to Match U.S., Autobahns of Germany; 51 Miles Finished

LONDON (UPI)—Britain is revamping her perilously congested horse-and-buggy era road system with a network of modern superhighways for the first time in her history.

★ ★ ★

She is making her first attempt to match the high speed freeways and turnpikes in the United States and the autobahns of Germany.

So far she has completed 51 miles of spanking new dual roads, has another 194 miles under construction and plans 856 miles more.

★ ★ ★

By U.S. or even German standards these are modest figures. But in this tight little, densely populated island they represent the most ambitious highway building program ever launched.

Britain has been on the verge of traffic strangulation.

More than 5,500,000 motor vehicles clog and crawl along her 180,000 miles of existing roads. The total number of vehicles is increasing at the rate of nearly 10 per cent each year.

★ ★ ★

Britain is second only to the U.S.in the number of vehicles on her highways. Actual traffic density, according to the British Transport Ministry, exceeds even that in the U.S.

★ ★ ★

The new highway construction program—originally a four-year one—was announced by the government in February 1955, but it was only recently that it got under way seriously.

The original cost was estimated at about 200 million pounds sterling ($560 million). But the initial plan has been greatly expanded. No new over-all cost figures have been given out but they are expected to be several times greater than the original plan.

Only three officers normally comprise the crew of SAC's B47 Stratojet—two pilots and one combination radar operator, bombardier and navigator.

Not What It Seemed

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—Outside a downtown bank building office girls stopped to gape at an Armored Transport guard emptying a money bag into a city trash can. An explanation was quickly forthcoming—the guard uses a money bag in his truck for a litter bag.

GOP to Define Its Objectives

Alcorn Picks Committee of 44 to Hammer Out Party Principles

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — A move by National Chairman Meade Alcorn to draft a statement of long-range Republican party objectives won support today from GOP members of Congress.

Alcorn announced after a conference with President Eisenhower Wednesday the appointment of a 44-member committee to draft a statement of party principles. The group will be headed by Charles H. Percy, president of the Bell & Howell Co., Chicago.

★ ★ ★

Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona, chairman of the Republican Senatorial Campaign Committee, said "it certainly is worth a try" for party members to attempt to define where they are going.

"We can't get hurt trying this approach and if the members of the committee can come to an agreement on Republican principles it will indicate that the party can do the same," Goldwater said.

★ ★ ★

Rep. Joseph W. Martin of Massachusetts, former House Republican leader, commented, "It can't do any harm to have a new statement of principles before the 1960 campaign."

"Only time will tell, of course, whether they will have any influence on the campaign," he added.

Alcorn said he expects the committee, which meets here March 13-14, to have ready by Sept. 1 a statement covering such topics as civil rights, agriculture, labor, monetary policy and other areas.

"This is an attempt to state what the party ought to be trying to do in the next eight or 10 years," he said.

Saying that the committee represents "all segments of Republican party thinking," Alcorn said he invited only one Republican governor, Cecil Underwood of West Virginia, to join the group.

Alcorn named Sen. Everett Dirksen of Illinois and Rep. Charles Halleck of Indiana, party leaders in the two houses, as the only congressional members.

★ ★ ★

Other members include several from the GOP National Committee, several professors, a number of women, and leaders in the fields of labor, agriculture, business and law.

Economist's Forecast

Manufacturing in the UP to Increase Only Slightly

(This is the second in a series of four articles on the economic outlook for Northern Michigan, as foreseen by a Michigan State University economist.)

EAST LANSING (AP) — Only a slight increase in manufacturing and manufacturing employment can be expected for Northern Michigan by 1970.

That's the forecast of W. Paul Strassman, Michigan State University economist, in a booklet "Economic Growth in Northern Michigan."

Employment in manufacturing reached a peak of more than 40,000 in Northern Michigan during World War II, Strassman said. It has dropped to about 35,000 today, but may edge up to 40,000 again by 1970.

On the optimistic side, he listed these probable gains:

Industries using local materials will expand in the 1960s.

Favorable labor conditions will continue to bring in marginal metal-working plants during booms.

Other small companies will come because of the owners' attachment to climate and scenery, and because of special gifts and concessions by particular towns.

Some pessimistic predictions were:

Petroleum refining and certain types of wood manufacturing will probably decrease because of resource depletion and technological change.

Many marginal metal-working plants started in boom periods will fail in recessions.

The probability of expansion in manufacturing unrelated to local markets or local materials appears low.

"Given the economic conditions in Northern Michigan," the MSU economist said, "manufacturing cannot lead to much progress unless it is manufacturing for export."

He said availability of labor for small and medium-sized manufacturing plants is an advantage compared with the rest of the Midwest, but not necessarily when compared with the South.

Strassman said Northern Michigan must consider these factors as it evaluates potential growth for manufacturing:

The industrial belt generally is expanding toward the South and West.

Northern Michigan plants can truck commodities overnight to Chicago or Detroit, but highways also are improving from other sections to these two major markets.

The St. Lawrence Seaway will not unlock new overseas markets for the area because it is too expensive for large cargo vessels to stop at small ports for small shipments.

Boys Inadvertently Fired at Airliner

BALTIMORE (AP) — A Capital Airlines pilot was correct. He did see tracer bullets pass the nose and wing of his Viscount plane as he was about to land at Friendship Airport.

★ ★ ★

Two boys admitted yesterday they were shooting tracer bullets into the sky the night of Feb. 17.

Federal officials, however, released them. The teenagers, FBI agents said, had no intention of shooting at the plane. It just happened to have come into their range.

"We have no proof of intent," Leon H. A. Pierson, U.S. attorney, said. He explained that intent to damage an interstate carrier is necessary before the government has a case.

FBI agents said an 18-year-old service station attendant at Elkridge and a 17-year-old companion admitted firing bullets into the sky the night of the plane accident.

★ ★ ★

The older boy had a dozen tracer bullets which he said were given him by a soldier-friend stationed at Ft. Meade. He was using a .30-caliber rifle.

Cut U.S. Debt 1 Pct. Yearly, Bill Asks

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Stewart L. Udall (D-Ariz) proposed legislation today which would require that the national debt be reduced by at least one per cent a year.

★ ★ ★

Udall said he "would vote for higher taxes if such a step were necessary" to reduce the debt—which now stands at more than 285 billion dollars.

★ ★ ★

"During the new fiscal year," Udall said in a prepared speech to the House, "out of every dollar paid in federal taxes approximately 11 cents—8.1 billion dollars—is earmarked to pay the interest charge on the debt. In other words, if the debt remains about the same and we follow current debt policies, by 1987 we will have paid out in interest the total amount of the debt—but we will still owe the debt."

Who's Incompetent?

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — A civil service test was held to pick a replacement for city refuse superintendent Julius Horvath, whom city manager Russell W. Rink wanted to fire as incompetent. The top qualifier among 10 applicants; Horvath.

Senator Proposes Huge Sculpture to Honor Indians

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Robert S. Kerr (D-Okla) proposes that two mammoth sculpture works be carved out of some Oklahoma mountains as a national memorial to American Indians.

★ ★ ★

Kerr said he and Sen. A. S. (Mike) Monroney (D-Okla) are considering legislation to authorize a memorial similar to that on Mount Rushmore in the Black Hills of South Dakota where likenesses of four presidents are carved in granite.

"This," Kerr said, "not only would recognize the Indians' historic role and contribution, but I hope might dim their memories of the harsh treatment they often received at the hands of the white man's government."

★ ★ ★

The plan, he said, is to honor the Plains Indians at some point in Oklahoma's Mt. Scott-Wichita Mountains area and a monument for eastern Oklahoma Indians in the Winding Stair and Kiamichi Mountains.

8,000 to Take Physicals

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Individual physical examinations for everyone in the Tecumseh area, some 8,000 of them, are scheduled under a two-year, $280,000 research grant given the University of Michigan school of public health by National Heart Institute, a branch of the U.S. Public Health Service.

Judge to Rule in Alyea Case

Decision on 3 Motions in Southfield Slaying Case Due March 10

Oakland County Circuit Judge William J. Beer said today he will rule March 10 on three defense motions which would either reduce the first-degree murder charge against accused slayer Raymond L. Alyea or free him.

Judge Beer this morning listened to arguments presented by Alyea's attorney, William R. Beasley, and Assistant Prosecutor William E. Lang, and said he would take Beasley's motions under advisement until March 10.

Alyea, 35, of Detroit, is charged with the Aug. 1 fatal stabbing of Anthony Jasinski, a Southfield nursery caretaker. Judge Beer Feb. 4 dismissed a jury which could not reach a verdict.

One of Beasley's motions, which Judge Beer denied twice during the course of the long trial, would reduce the first-degree murder charge, and the other would drop all charges against Alyea on the grounds that the prosecution failed to show the slaying occurred during the perpetration of a robbery.

Beasley introduced a new and third motion this morning when he said his client, under the state and federal constitutions, cannot be tried again under a double jeopardy clause.

Lang argued that "the question of a robbery is strictly a question for a jury to decide, and not one to be decided on a legal motion."

Fire Kills Three in Illinois City

Mother, Two Children Victims; Father Plunges 10 Feet to Safety

ROCKFORD, Ill. (AP)—A mother and her two children died today in a house fire and the father escaped by plunging through a window.

He was restrained from re-entering the house.

The fire raced through the one-story frame house in suburban North Park.

★ ★ ★

The father, Gerald Anderson, 38, crashed through the pane of a closed bedroom window and plunged 10 feet to the snow-covered ground. He was severely cut and taken to a hospital for treatment.

The victims were Mrs. Shirley Anderson, about 30, and her son, Denver, 11, and daughter, Robbin, 1.

★ ★ ★

Anderson attempted to re-enter the home in an effort to save the others but was restrained by spectators because of the belching smoke and flames.

Firemen were unable to reach the victims and one fireman was overcome by smoke. He was revived by artificial respiration.

A fire captain said the blaze started in the basement near the furnace and swept upward through the floor.

★ ★ ★

The floor collapsed, crashing into the basement. The house was badly damaged.

The blaze started less than a half hour after the family returned home from visiting friends.

Report Plane's Altimeters Said 500 Feet at Crash

CHICAGO (UPI)—Altimeters in the cockpit of an ill-fated American Airlines Electra plane showed the craft at an altitude of 500 feet when it plunged into the East River at New York City Feb. 2, the Chicago Tribune said last night.

The copyrighted story by Wayne Thomis said the accounts of two surviving crewmen, made independently, agreed the altimeters showed 500 feet just before the crash.

The accident, which occurred on a foggy, rainy night, killed 65 persons.

The five-and-half-mile long bridge across upper San Francisco Bay from Richmond to San Rafael in California is the longest continuous stel span in the world.

Rema Club, Guests Discuss Problems

In observance of Brotherhood Week, more than 45 Pontiac men of different racial, religious and vocational backgrounds attended a brotherhood dinner last night at the Waldron Hotel, sponsored by the Rema Club of Pontiac.

Purpose of the meeting was to "have the opportunity to exchange points of view with those for whom we have warm friendship and respect but whom we feel will accept the challenge of such an opportunity to honestly discuss the problems concerning the role of Negroes and whites in advancing democracy," chairman Everett Spurlock said.

Questionnaries were distributed to guests with the questions; "What has been most harmful to race relations in Pontiac?" and "What has done the most good for race relations in Pontiac?"

Many commented that the extreme opinions on both sides of the race question were responsible for harming race relations in the city. It was generally agreed that in Pontiac many strides have been made in this area and that many more will be made when people on both sides of the question try and meet on common grounds.

The actions of the local National Association for the Advancement of Colored People and the Urban League were discussed, with suggestions for improving the race relations with these groups and the general public.

The Rema Club is a Negro business and professional men's club.

Prisoner Flees; Hit, Captured at Hospital

DETROIT (AP) — A prisoner who broke away from three policemen who were trying to handcuff him was shot and captured at a hospital yesterday.

The man had been arrested in an $80 gasoline station robbery. He identified himself as Chico G. Valentino but refused to tell police any more and denied the holdup.

★ ★ ★

After breaking away, Valentino ran four blocks and entered Martin Place Hospital by the rear door. Police tailed him in hot pursuit. When the fugitive emerged from the front door of the hospital, the police fired. Valentino fell from shots in his back and arm.

Police found identification papers for two men in his pockets. He was taken in serious condition to receiving hospital.

Police Views on Board Sought

Mayor's Group Seeking Ways to Strengthen Old Trial Board

Pontiac police will be asked by a special mayor's committee for their views on the old Trial Board.

The six-member committee, appointed by Mayor Philip E. Rowston to study ways "to strengthen" the Trial Board, yesterday elected Atty. Glenn C. Gillespie chairman.

Gillespie announced the committee decided to seek "views of representatives of interested groups within the police department."

He was referring, in part, to the Pontiac Police Officers Assn., which fought the old Trial Board and campaigned successfully for Civil Service to replace it two years ago.

★ ★ ★

The committee is working on the assumption that voters will support the City Commission's attempt to repeal Civil Service at the polls April 6, putting police back under the Trial Board.

"Reasonable Trial Board rules and procedure for the hearing of complaints against officers, with a view for their protection," is the committee's aim, it was stated.

Gillespie said his committee would also talk to various city department heads and study rules and procedures of other Michigan trial boards before making any recommendations. He said a report is expected before the election.

With Added Jet-Trip Charge

Boost Ocean Flight Rates

PARIS (AP)—The International Air Transport Assn. today boosted all transatlantic fares two per cent and added a special charge on jet flights.

The action added $30 to the cost of a round-trip economy or tourist transatlantic jet flight. For the first-class jet passenger the increase amounts to $40.

The increases were demanded by many lines which do not yet have jets in transatlantic service and were losing business steadily on their propeller-driven craft

The new rates go into effect April 1 subject to the approval of the governments involved.

The new first-class fares will be $440 one way between New York and London. The additional charge for "de luxe" will be $10 more and jet travel will be $20 more.

Economy one-way flights between New York and London will be $257, with $15 extra for jet.

★ ★ ★

Conference sources said the increases were a victory for the European lines.

Pan American World Airways and British Overseas Airways Corp—now flying jets — opposed the hikes.

The IATA also agreed to boost general transoceanic air cargo rates an average of five per cent, to apply to all freight flights. Passenger fare increases apply only to flights across the north and central Atlantic.

State Bolstered by Tax Decision

Ruling on Right to Levy on Outstate Concerns Felt Helpful

LANSING (AP) — A state revenue official says two business tax decisions by the U. S. Supreme Court "have bolstered our hand in Michigan tremendously."

Clarence W. Lock, deputy state revenue commissioner, said they "lent support for taxing practice and theory already applied here."

He referred to cases in which the high court, by split decisions Tuesday, upheld a Georgia tax on an Alabama manufacturer's net income from operations in Georgia, and Minnesota's right to similarly tax the Northwestern Portland Cement Co., an Iowa firm.

Lock said the cases were "directly in point" with a recent Wayne County Circuit Court decision rejecting an attack by Armco Steel Corp., a Middletown, Ohio, concern, on Michigan's business activities tax.

Circuit Judge George E. Bowles said that although Armco only maintained sales offices in the state it sufficiently engaged in business activity to incur Michigan tax liability.

Lock said that to a lesser extent the Washington rulings tended to reinforce the state corporation franchise tax.

As to the possible effect on measures that may be proposed later this Legislative session, Lock said it was impossible to say, other than there might be some influence on a corporation profits levy.

No such tax has yet been presented in bill form, although both Gov. Williams and a citizens tax study committee have advocated it.

Lock said of Bowles' decision last week that it warded off a threat of 10 million dollars a year revenue loss to the state.

Continue State Search for Missing Airman

GAYLORD (AP)—Search continued today for a missing airman who disappeared while on a flight across northern lower Michigan Sunday.

No trace was found yesterday in the first day of the hunt for M. Sgt. Frank Wyman of Batavia, N. Y. Some 30 planes scoured an area ranging between Saginaw and Sault Ste. Marie, but reported no sign of the missing plane or its pilot.

Air Force, Coast Guard, Civil Air Patrol and police planes are taking part in the search. Wyman was en route to Kinross Air Force Base when he vanished.

Push $2 Billion Housing Bill

Dems Drive for Action Despite Veto Warnings, GOP Opposition

WASHINGTON (AP) — House Democrats shrugged off veto warnings today to push toward House action a $2,075,000,000 federal housing bill going far beyond President Eisenhower's proposals.

The wide ranging House measure was approved by the Banking Committee late Wednesday over futile Republican efforts to cut it back in line with the administration's more modest $1,660,000,000 program.

No immediate House vote was in prospect. The measure still must be considered by the House Rules Committee, which has delayed such action in past years.

★ ★ ★

The bill's impact on the President's budget immediately raised the prospect of a veto. House Democratic leaders professed to have no concern on that point. They announced they would press for enactment of their bill as a mandate from the voters based on last November's Democratic election gains.

Dems Study Highway Funds Sans New Tax

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democrats sought today some method of continuing work on the new 41,000-mile national superhighway system without increasing the federal gasoline tax.

Chairman Pat McNamara (D-Mich) said the Senate Public Roads Committee would ask suggestions from administration witnesses at public hearings on progress of the road network.

★ ★ ★

Called as witnesses were Bertram D. Tallamy, federal highway administrator, and John Allen, under secretary of commerce for transportation.

★ ★ ★

A Bureau of Public Roads spokesman told a reporter in advance of the hearing that not a penny of the 2½ billion dollars scheduled to be allocated to the states for the superhighway network this summer could be apportioned without a change in the law.

The highway trust fund will begin to run a deficit in fiscal 1960 starting this July 1.

Who created the idea that went into the message that sent the reader out of the house to buy?

SINCE A MAJOR AMOUNT OF ADVERTISING is created by advertising agencies, the chances are that one of the country's 3,000 skilled advertising agencies thought up, wrote, designed and placed the newspaper ad that sent this lady out to buy.

Last year advertising agencies and other advertisers in the U.S. and Canada placed over $10 billion worth of advertising in newspapers, magazines, radio, television and outdoor advertising. The largest amount, by far, was invested in daily newspapers.

The function of an advertising agency is to increase the sales and profits of its clients. In the relatively few years that agencies have been in existence they have helped to make thousands of products household words. Through their contribution to greater sales, they as well as their clients have helped us to enjoy the highest standard of living anywhere in the world.

And, from the start, agencies and newspapers have worked closely to bring news of products and services to you, the consumer. Most agencies, like the clients they serve so well, recognize the daily newspaper as the most effective advertising medium to introduce and maintain any product on the market.

Northern Michigan's Tourist Trade Expanding 100 to 150 Per Cent by 1970

(This is the first in a series of four articles on the economic outlook for Northern Michigan as foreseen by a Michigan State University economist. Others will deal with manufacturing, mining and agriculture.)

EAST LANSING (UPI)—Northern Michigan's tourist industry should be in for an almost immediate boom. A spending increase of 100 to 150 per cent can be expected by 1970.

That's the prediction of W. Paul Strassmann, Michigan State University economist, in a publication, "Economic Growth in Northern Michigan."

"If parks and recreatitional facilities are expanded generously, tourists will spend 100 to 150 per cent more money in Northern Michigan in 1970 than in 1954-56," Strassmann said.

His estimate, he said, assumes no national recession and that automobile production and weather will be fairly good.

★ ★ ★

The northern Lower Peninsula, he added, is more sensitive to what happens to the automobile industry than the Upper Peninsula, where many tourists are from Milwaukee, Chicago and other areas with more stable economies.

"An area with a major industry that is likely to expand two or three times as fast as the national economy can consider itself fortunate," he said.

Tourism, Strassman said, is more profitable for Northern Michigan than mining, manufacturing or agriculture.

"The cool, pollen-free summer climate, the lakes, the forests, the deer and the winter ski slopes bring in vacationers who spend money," the MSU economist observed. "Their expenditures for such things as pizza pies and rented canoes comes to more than 100 million dollars a year."

Strassmann said the growth of tourism depends on two factors—the number of people who might want a vacation and the amount of money they have to spend.

He estimated population growth will give Northern Michigan a pool of tourists 34 per cent larger in 1970 than in 1955. He also forecast a 20 per cent increase in average family incomes by 1970.

The tourist industry, Strassmann said, probably will create 10,000 to 20,000 new jobs in Northern Michigan by 1970.

Strassmann said new land must be acquired for boating, fishing and swimming.

"Tourists don't go there primarily to buy what the people of the north have to sell," he said, "they mainly go to enjoy what is freely available."

★ ★ ★

"The supply of these freely available attractions must be maintained, in terms of conservation and access, if sales of other goods are to rise," he said.

"If the supply does not keep up with the demand, if tourists get less for their money in Michigan, they will go elsewhere."

'State Facing Racket Problem'

Says Labor Writer to a Group at Western Michigan

KALAMAZOO (UPI) — Labor columnist Victor Riesel says Michigan is one of several states with outstanding racketeering problems.

In fact, said Riesel, racketeering is even more powerful in Michigan than in New York State.

Riesel told an audience at Western Michigan University Tuesday night that "goons" were sapping the strength of the United States. He said it was costing the country 20 million dollars a year to fight the criminal element.

Riesel was asked about the conflict between George Meany and Walter Reuther within the AFL-CIO.

He said he felt that if Meany left the presidency the AFL-CIO would break up. He said the situation in the labor movement was similar to that in the 1930s when there was a split between craft guilds and trade unions.

Birth and Marriage Rates Show Decline

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States birth rate fell to 24.5 for each thousand population last year. It was the first year since 1951 that the birth rate was below 25.

The marriage rate continued to decline in 1958. It dropped to 9.3 a thousand from 8.9 in 1957 and 9.4 in 1956.

CHEESEBURGER PIE — Hearty and nourishing, this Cheeseburger Pie is recommended for cold weather menus that will appeal to the small fry as well as grown-ups.

Put Cheeseburger Mixture Into Lattice Top Pie

Hamburger, with or without variations, is a favorite of the small fry, and it finds just as many fans among grown-ups too. So with this favoritism, Mom is guaranteed a "clean plate club" reaction to Cheeseburger Pie for dinner.

Hearty and nourishing for cold weather appetites, Cheeseburger Pie features a jiffy "no lump" sauce made with instant nonfat dry milk. This recipe eliminates the necessity of making a roux, mixture of flour and butter for thickening sauce.

Another asset of Cheeseburger Pie is that it is an economical main dish. And instant nonfat dry milk which is highlighted in the cheese sauce is most inexpensive too. A family-size package makes 13 quarts of nonfat milk for as little as eight cents a quart.

Instant nonfat dry milk is an excellent buy in nutrition for it contains milk's important nutrients—protein, calcium and riboflavin. Use it as you use milk—for drinking and in cooking and baking.

Cheeseburger Pie

1½ pounds ground beef
1 onion, finely chopped
2 tablespoons chopped parsley
3 tablespoons chili sauce
1 teaspoon salt
½ cups liquefied instant nonfat dry milk
¼ cup flour
1 teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
1 (8-oz.) package sharp processed American cheddar cheese slices, shredded
2 cups biscuit mix
⅔ cup liquefied instant nonfat dry milk

Combine beef, onion, parsley, chili sauce and 1 teaspoon salt; set aside. Pour liquefied instant nonfat dry milk into top of double boiler. Sprinkle flour, 1 teaspoon salt and pepper over surface of milk; beat with rotary beater until blended. Cook over boiling water, stirring constantly, until mixture thickens. Add cheese; stir until cheese melts and sauce is well blended.

Prepare and knead biscuit dough (using biscuit mix and 2-3 cup liquefied instant nonfat dry milk) following directions on package of mix. Roll dough to thickness of ½ inch. Line bottom and sides of 1½-quart casserole with dough, reserving enough for lattice top.

Fill with alternate layers of meat mixture and cheese sauce, beginning with meat and ending with sauce. Cover with biscuit lattice top. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees) for 1 hour; increase oven temperature to hot (400 degrees) for 10 minutes, or until lattice top is golden brown.

Simmer Chops in Skillet With Vegetables

This way of preparing shoulder lamb chops may be new to you.

SKILLET LAMB CHOPS

4 shoulder lamb chops (about ¾-inch thick)
1 tablespoon butter or margarine
1 medium-sized onion (cut into ¼-inch rings)
2 large branches celery (cut into ¼-inch crescents)
1½ cups carrot rounds (about ¼-inch thick)
Salt, pepper
1 cup cooked green peas

Cut fat away from around chops. Brown lamb chops on both sides in heated heavy skillet in hot butter. Add onion celery and carrots; sprinkle chops and vegetables with salt and pepper to taste. Cover and simmer until chops are tender—30 minutes or longer.

If dome-type skillet is used, there will be enough steam; if not, it may be necessary to add a tablespoon of water from time to time. Add drained peas and heat. Makes 4 servings.

Note: Place vegetables at bottom of skillet around chops so top of meat will stay brown.

You'll Feel Warmer With This Meal

Out California way where the palm trees sway in the breeze, the mode of living is casual and the food that is served there fits perfectly with the way of life. Oatmeal Casserole A La California

2 cups oats (quick or old-fashioned)
1½ teaspoons salt
1½ cups pitted dates, chopped
6 cups boiling water

Heat oven to moderate (350 degrees). Place oats, salt and dates in a 3-quart casserole. Add boiling water; stir well; cover. Bake 10 minutes for quick oats and 15 minutes for old fashioned. Stir once during baking and again after removing from oven.

Sprinkle around edge with ½ cup flaked or shredded coconut; place under broiler 4 to 5 inches from source of heat. Broil 2 to 3 minutes, or until coconut is toasted. Garnish with several whole dates. Makes 8 servings.

Peek-A-Boo Muffins

1½ cups buttermilk pancake mix
¼ cup sugar
1 egg, beaten
1 cup milk
2 tablespoons melted shortening
Raspberry preserves

Preheat oven to hot (425 degrees). Mix together pancake mix and sugar. Add egg, milk and shortening to dry ingredients. Stir only until dry ingredients are dampened.

Fill greased large muffin cups 1-3 full, then place a teaspoon of raspberry preserves on each. Spoon remaining batter on top of preserves. Bake in preheated oven about 15 minutes. Makes 12 large muffins.

Grapefruit Prices Depend on Size

When one grapefruit costs 10 cents and another one 5 cents, which is the bargain? It depends on the size of fruit you are comparing, relates the Marketing Information Agent.

Grapefruit is shipped in wooden crates, and all fruit in a single crate is the same size. For instance, if 64 grapefruit fit into one crate, the fruit size is 64, a large size. When 80 grapefruit fit into that one crate, the fruit is size 80, a medium fruit.

Grapefruit also come in cardboard cartons which hold just half as much. Grapefruit of 64 size in the wooden crate is 32 size in the cardboard carton.

When you compare prices on grapefruit or other citrus fruit be sure to compare sizes, too. Then decide which is the bargain.

Bean Sprout Salad

Drained bean sprouts are good added to salad greens that are to be tossed with an oil-and-vinegar dressing. Some canned sprouts are better than others; find a large sweet variety.

Sardines Came Home Last Year

If you're looking to renew old acquaintances, you'll find one at your food store you haven't seen in a long, long time. It's the California sardine.

For reasons best known to the sardines themselves, millions of them went AWOL from California waters some years ago. However, they held a reunion last year, and what a homecoming it was. Of course, the fishermen were on hand with welcome nets to escort them to the California canneries. These canneries played host to more sardines than at any time since 1951.

The record-breaking catch of these fish is showing up in the many oval-shaped cans of sardines on your grocery store shelf. And that's a break too for you homemakers who'll be scratching your head for Lenten meal suggestions.

You'll probably have your own ideas on how to serve these sardines, but there are many carefully tested, popular recipes for their use. Here's a simple one for deviled sardines you may want to try:

Drain the oil from a can of these California sardines and place the fish in shallow baking pan. Season with ½ teaspoon of salt, ⅛ teaspoonful of pepper and 1 tablespoon of lemon juice. Then spread one tablespoon of prepared mustard on the sardines. Let stand for about 30 minutes, then bake for 15 minutes in a 375-degree oven. Serve with chopped parsley and lemon slices.

Olive Oil Will Tenderize Frozen Fish Fillets

While frozen fish fillets are defrosting, brush generously with Spanish olive oil and sprinkle with a little minced chives, parsley or dried oregano and salt. The olive oil, penetrating into the fillets, tenderizes and moistens them so that the texture is more like that of fresh fish.

When fillets are completely defrosted, place under broiler and cook until delicately browned on each side; during last few moments, brush 2 or 3 tablespoons of heavy sweet cream or sour cream over the fish, continue cooking until flesh flakes easily with fork.

Pork Continues to Lead List of Meat Bargains

Lots of pigs coming to market bring fresh or smoked pork cuts at lowest costs since November of 1956. Over-all, meat prices look much like they did a week ago states the Marketing Information Agent. Due to bad weather conditions some fruits and vegetables have been affected and this is reflected in retail prices.

THE PROTEIN BUYS — Large supplies and corresponding low prices keep pork the major contender for your meat dollars. Some stores will feature one or two cuts, some will emphasize others but the fact remains that all pork cuts are in very ample supply.

Wholesale prices for pork loins are at a two year low. Loins are cut into chops, roasts or "country style" spareribs. Notice that some stores are displaying a loin half. This will give you a roast plus a few choice center cut chops. Or you can buy a whole loin and have it cut as-you-like-it for the freezer.

Picnics, ham, spareribs, bacon, roll, link sausage and frankfurters are a few pork cuts offered at special prices this week.

Have you used one of the semi-boneless hams? Hams normally have three bones which make carving hard to manage unless you know where the bones are located. The aitch bone is at the top or butt end. The shank bone is in the bottom or shank section. The long thin round bone connecting the two runs through the center of the ham.

The semi-boneless ham has the aitch and shank bones removed. It is easy to cut along one side of the round bone, dividing the ham into two parts. Then remove the round bone on the one piece and you have two boneless pieces ready to slice for family and friends.

You'll pay more per pound for the semi-boneless ham, but you may pay no more per serving than for a regular ham. The semi-boneless ham will serve about 3 to 3½ portions per pound.

Wholesale prices for large size beef cattle are slightly lower, but retail prices of most beef cuts are about as they have been. A chuck roast is a wise choice for a slow cooking pot roast. For a meal-in-a-hurry liver and ground beef are two thrifty choices.

Fifteen per cent more broiler-fryers than last year at this time assures you of ample supplies. There are some store specials on whole fryers, chicken parts and roasters.

Light fish catches in the Great Lakes this season are resulting in slightly higher prices than a year ago. Frozen fish offer variety in flavor and texture as well as price. If you buy fish sticks, remember that sometimes as much as thirty per cent of the weight is breading.

VEGETABLES — Rain and cold play havoc with winter vegetable production and harvest. Even so, potatoes continue to be one of the best choices from a price standpoint. Supplies from last fall are large and new supplies from Florida are yours for as little as one or two cents per serving.

Cabbage supplies are increasing. Broccoli continues to be a reasonably priced fresh vegetable.

Due to cold weather, less celery is being harvested. Some lettuce has also been damaged. A good depletion of last year's onions and rainy weather in Texas is creating shorter supplies and prices are increasing slightly.

FRUITS — Michigan apples continue to move to market at low prices. These are coming from cold storage. If you want them to keep crisp and fresh in flavor, store them in the refrigerator.

Navels are the most popular orange variety in the market. Medium and small sizes are most often chosen. These have a small navel formation opposite the stem end, are easy to peel and are tops in flavor.

You may find grapefruit prices lower this week. A backlog of supplies, due to bad shipping weather, brings ample quantities of Cuban pineapple at lower than usual prices.

Slim Sandwich Has Mushrooms

For a quiet afternoon tea or coffee party (maybe that's old-fashioned, too—but it's really very pleasant), these hot mushroom sandwiches are perfect. They are very delicate, Can be made ahead and refrigerated, or even frozen until time to toast.

Hot Mushroom Sandwiches

12 slices thin-sliced sandwich bread
¼ pound butter
Dash rosemary
3-ounce can chopped broiled mushrooms

Remove crusts from bread. Blend together 3 tablespoons butter, rosemary and mushrooms which have been well-drained and minced. Spread a rounded tablespoon of filling evenly over one slice of bread. Lay another slice of bread on top and press the slices firmly together. Use remaining butter, softened to room temperature, to spread the outside of bread.

Toast on sandwich grill or lightly greased griddle, or bake on cookie sheet in a preheated (425-degree F.) oven until lightly browned. Cut each sandwich into 3 fingers.

Salad for Dessert

Salad and dessert together: Arrange round thick slices of orange and stuffed prunes on watercress or some other greens. The prunes may be stuffed with nuts or cheese.

Pontiac Press Photo

A GOOD LUNCH — JoAnn Wood of Garland avenue and Isabel Hawn of Chippewa were caught by the Press cameraman as they toted their full lunch trays to a table in Pontiac Central High's cafeteria. These girls are among the 25,000 students in Oakland County schools who benefit from the Federal School Lunch Program.

Students Eat Well in School Cafeterias

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

In the past we have written many articles on packing lunches for school children. This is the first time we have thrown the spotlight on the students who eat in school lunchrooms.

★ ★ ★

Over half of the schools in Oakland County participate in this program of providing a good hot lunch for children. Although the federal government has been in the picture only since 1946, some county schools have been feeding students for over 30 years. One worker in the southern part of the county is ready for retirement now.

Each school district runs its own lunch program. Some have trained dieticians who plan menus and do the buying and supervising for the entire district. Mrs. Shirley McCoy of the Waterford schools is such a person.

Other districts have a central buying office and a more or less centralized planning program. Differences are made in lunches served to grade school children and those served to high school students. In some districts the workers in each school do the planning of menus.

Oakland County still holds a unique position in the United States with a School Lunch Consultant on the staff at the county Board of Education. Mary Slater is available to all schools who need help with their lunch program. We laughingly referred to her job as an "ivory tower" job; but it is far from that. She is on the go most of the time from one school to another, helping to set up and promote good school lunch programs.

★ ★ ★

Next week we shall tell you something of the history of this lunch program, both locally and from the federal angle.

Grapefruit Garnish

Fresh grapefruit sections make a different and interesting garnish for a chicken salad. Sprinkle the sections with a little paprika for color.

Eat This Bombe It's Delicious!

Do you long for those wonderful fresh strawberries? They'll be available in the spring, but 'til that time, why not enjoy the deliciousness of frozen strawberries. Available all year 'round, they're as tasty as the day they were picked.

Strawberry Bombe is a luscious ice cream mold, with strawberries and pound cake in the center, served with a hot lemony-strawberry sauce. Try it any time of the year!

Strawberry Bombe

1 quart vanilla ice cream
2 1-pound packages frozen whole strawberries, thawed
2 cups diced pound cake
2 tablespoons grated lemon rind
½ cup chopped walnuts
6 teaspoons cornstarch
½ cup lemon juice
¼ cup sugar

Reserve 1 cup ice cream. Spread remaining ice cream on bottom and sides of 1½ quart melon mold. Drain strawberries; reserve sirup.

Combine strawberries, cake, lemon rind and walnuts; mix well. Fill ice cream-lined mold with strawberry mixture. Cover with remaining 1 cup ice cream. Cover mold. Freeze 4 hours.

Blend cornstarch with lemon juice. Add strawberry sirup and sugar; mix well. Cook over medium heat, stirring constantly, until thickened and clear. Unmold bombe and garnish with additional walnuts, as desired. Serve with hot strawberry sauce.

Lamb Takes to Ginger

Add a little ginger to the salt and pepper mixture that is to be rubbed into a lamb roast. Good flavor partners!

Brussels Sprouts Get Hat of Cheese

Luscious way to treat a plain vegetable.

Top-Hat Brussels Sprouts

1 package (10 ounces) frozen brussels sprouts
Boiling water
Salt
3 tablespoons heavy cream
3 tablespoons grated Parmesan cheese

Cook sprouts according to package directions using the amount of water and salt called for. Drain thoroughly. Beat cream until stiff; fold in grated cheese. Arrange sprouts in shallow small baking dish — a shirred egg dish is fine.

Quickly spoon blobs of the cheese mixture over top of sprouts; spread lightly. Broil close to high heat for a few seconds — just long enough to brown topping. Serve at once. Makes 4 small servings.

Almond Flavored Peas

If you haven't tried Buttered Peas with Almonds you'll want to include this delicious vegetable on a menu very soon. NOODLE SPINACH BAKE — Spinach never had it so good as in this unusual and attractive combination with noodles, cheese and cream of mushrooms.

Layer Spinach in Noodle Bake

Here's a bountiful main dish for Lenten meals. It's neither fancy nor elaborate but is an unusually good meatless item:

Noodle-Spinach Bake

2 packages (10 ounces each) frozen spinach, cooked and drained
3 cups cooked noodles (about 4 oz. uncooked)
1 cup shredded process cheese
1 can (10½ ounces) condensed cream of mushroom soup
½ cup milk
⅛ teaspoon ground nutmeg

In buttered 1½-quart baking dish or casserole, arrange layers of spinach, noodles and ¾ cup cheese. Blend soup with milk and nutmeg; pour over. Top with remaining cheese. Bake in a moderate oven (375 degrees F.) for 45 minutes. Makes 4 servings.

Tutti-Fruiti Topping

Ever serve gingerbread with a tutti-fruiti topping? Blend cream cheese with a little milk or cream and add finely candied orange and lemon peel, candied cherries and preserved ginger. Or you can add well-drained (and dried) maraschino cherries, pecans and dates.

Carrot Flower Dresses Top of Deviled Egg

Lemon juice and mustard give tang to these eggs.

Egg Bouquet

6 large hard-cooked eggs
2 tablespoons mayonnaise
2 tablespoons lemon juice
¼ teaspoon salt
White pepper
½ teaspoon dry mustard
12 small round carrot slices
12 capers
12 sprigs parsley

Shell eggs; cut in half lengthwise; remove yolks. Mash yolks fine with mayonnaise, lemon juice, salt, pepper to taste and mustard. Replace in white cavities; ruffle with the tines of a fork.

Cut centers out of carrots with small sharp knife; place carrot ring on each egg half with a caper in the center; tuck a parsley sprig under each carrot ring. Serve with shrimp salad.

You may prefer these eggs with more mayonnaise added.

Broil Lamb Kidneys

Split lamb kidneys that are to be broiled and remove fat and membrane with kitchen scissors. Use medium heat for the broiling and have the kidneys about four inches from the source of heat. Brush the kidneys with butter during the cooking and turn to brown both sides.

Quickie Meals Are Ideal for Busy Cooks

Even if you're the busiest, doingest wife in the neighborhood, that "what's-for-dinner-dear" question can have a hearty and delicious answer with these quick-to-fix menus. Fit for the family king, both dinners are complete . . . from appetizers to oven-fresh desserts . . . but both are table-ready in well under an hour.

Based on that happy partnership of pork and apple, Menu Number One starts with a sweet cider cocktail, well chilled, followed by a main course of braised pork chops with lyonnaise potatoes, harvard beets, and a tossed salad. (Two tricks that speed-up the vegetable preparation are the use of leftover boiled potatoes with instant onion, and canned beets heated in the standard vinegar-sugar sauce.)

★ ★ ★

Delicious wind-up to this busy day menu is a spicy Cinnamon Applesauce Dessert that "bakes while you eat." It's easily made with the refrigerated Cinnamon Rolls you find in the grocer's dairy case and can be popped in the oven just before the family sits down. By the time everyone has finished the last bite of pork chop — dessert is ready . . . piping hot, fresh and fragrant.

Menu Number Two is an ideal dinner for PTA night or any other evening when family plans are on a stopwatch schedule. Based on a variety of quick convenience foods, it takes only 30 minutes to prepare.

A scant five of those minutes goes into the preparation of a really glamour dessert . . . luscious Sour Cream Caramel Rolls. While they bake, you can serve your time-conscious family cups of onion soup, breaded fish sticks, (with quick Tartar sauce of mayonnaise and pickle relish), creamed peas, a Waldorf salad, and toasted English muffins.

Your flavor-full dessert rolls come out of the oven just in time to complete a menu that couldn't be more satisfying if you'd been hours in the kitchen instead of minutes.

Serve Tuna a la Stroganoff

Although tuna is featured on most menus during the Lenten season, the wholesome goodness of this food from the sea makes it a year-round favorite. Its tremendous popularity is due not only to its delicious flavor but also to its versatility, since tuna can be served alone as well as in combination with other foods.

★ ★ ★

A perfect one-dish meal is Tuna a la Stroganoff—a quick and easy entree which can be prepared in an automatic skillet. Hearty prime tuna chunks—that real good meat from the sea — and mushrooms, sherry and tangy sour cream blend themselves into a delightful and tasty dish.

★ ★ ★

Incidentally, this entree is an excellent meal to cook right at the table or buffet, giving a continental touch to a delectable dinner.

Tuna a la Stroganoff

2 cans (6½ ounces) chunk style tuna
¼ cup butter
½ pound sliced mushrooms
1 small onion, chopped
1 can condensed cream of celery soup
½ cup sherry
1 cup commercial sour cream

Saute mushrooms and onions in butter. Stir in soup and sherry. Add drained tuna, mixing lightly with fork.

★ ★ ★

Slowly stir in sour cream. Warm slightly over low heat. Serve in individual dishes, ramekins, or on fluffy rice or buttered noodles. Sprinkle with chopped parsley or chives. Serves six people.

A NEW TASTE THRILL!

HILTON'S OYSTER STEW has captured the flavor and goodness of just opened oysters, pure creamery butter and fresh grade A milk . . . there's no canned taste. Even the finest chefs can't equal it. Not frozen . . . just heat and serve! On your grocer's shelf.

Wonderful for Lent!

PEANUT-APPLESAUCE BREAD—Nut bread is not an unusual bread; but nut bread made with peanuts and applesauce is. This one can do double duty as a dessert or as a sandiwch bread. It keeps well in the freezer.

Peanut Applesauce Bread Can Do Double Duty

Remember how the family raved about the loaf of nut bread grandma made for special occasions? The fresh-baked aroma of the bread, hot from the oven, is something most of us can recall with pleasure. And the flavor, if you will recollect, was out of this world.

Here's a new fashioned loaf of nut bread, that comes from down Texas way, that lives up to its old-fashioned reputation. Called Peanut-Applesauce Bread, its ideal to serve with hot tea — thin sliced and spread with butter — or made into party-size sandwiches with cream cheese or marmalade as a filling.

Peanut-Applesauce Bread also doubles as a dessert when topped with a dollop of whipped cream and served on a small plate with a fork. It's fine for lunch box sandwiches, too. And it has exceptionally good keeping qualities.

After the bread is baked, let it cool in the pan 10 minutes, then turn out on a wire cake rack. Wrap it in waxed paper, clear plastic or foil and store in the bread box or freezer until needed. The bread, packaged for the freezer, will keep for several months, if desired.

Peanut-Applesauce Bread

1 cup coarsely chopped peanuts
2 cups sifted all-purpose flour
¾ cup granulated sugar
3 teaspoons baking powder
½ teaspoon cinnamon
¼ teaspoon allspice
½ teaspoon baking soda
1 egg
1 cup canned applesauce
2 tablespoons peanut oil

Heat oven to 350 degrees. Grease loaf pan 12½ by 4½ by 3-inches or 9 by 5 by 3-inch pan. Sift flour, sugar, baking powder, cinnamon, allspice and soda onto square of waxed paper; add chopped peanuts; mix well.

In mixing bowl, beat the egg, add applesauce and peanut oil; mix slightly and add flour-peanut mixture; stir until just blended and turn into greased pan. Bake 1 hour in 350 degree oven. Remove from oven. Let loaf of bread cool in pan for 10 minutes before turning it out onto wire rack.

After bread is cool, wrap in waxed paper and store overnight before slicing. Makes one loaf. Slice thin with sharp knife and serve with tea, or make thicker slice and serve for dessert.

Peanut Brittle Topping (for dessert bread)

Beat ½ cup whipping cream until stiff. Fold in 1 cup crushed peanut brittle or 1 cup finely chopped chocolate peanut clusters or candy bar. Use as topping for slices of peanut-applesauce bread for dessert. Makes enough for six desserts.

Peanut-Applesauce Bread sandwiches may be wrapped and frozen for school lunches.

No One Will Know They're Leftovers

Mash twice as many potatoes as needed for tonight's meal. Set aside half the portion to cool. After dinner combine 1 cup of cottage cheese, 1 small onion, minced, and 2 well-beaten eggs with 2 cups of the mashed potatoes. Season with salt, pepper and paprika.

★ ★ ★

Fashion into small balls and roll each one in fine bread crumbs, then beaten egg, and again in bread crumbs. Place on aluminum foil and wrap for freezing. Then pop the balls into the freezer, or place in refrigerator if you plan to use them the next day.

★ ★ ★

Allow the balls to thaw before French-frying. Fry until crispy and well browned. Then serve with horseradish-flavored sour cream.

Sweet Potatoes Appear in Many Dishes

"The world's wonder vegetable" is the name the New Jersey sweet potato growers proudly give to their product. They have good reason, too, for the sweet potato can be prepared and served more different ways than any other vegetable. It's that versatile.

Furthermore, the Jersey sweet potato is so packed to the very tip with golden goodness, so brimming with delicate flavor, so crammed full of vitamin A and so high in vitamin C and other essentials to good health, that it provides good eating and good nutrition the year around. It contains a medium amount of calories — and who can live without calories.

The Jersey sweet potato industry displayed this versatile vegetable in a large variety of its forms at a buffet dinner given for New York and eastern food editors, home economists and others to show how it fits so well into everyday and "company" meals and into gracious entertaining.

The guests saw French-fried sweet potatoes, sweet potato chips, sweet potato muffins, cake and pie, grated sweet potato pudding, baked sweets, jellied salad with shredded sweet potato, souffleed sweet potatoes, and many other dishes all made from this vegetable that will be in good supply until next summer.

Jersey Sweet Potato Muffins

2 cups grated raw peeled Jersey sweet potatoes
¾ cup New Orleans molasses
½ cup milk
½ teaspoon cinnamon
½ teaspoon nutmeg
2 eggs
1½ cups flour
1½ teaspoons soda
½ teaspoon salt

Add molasses, milk and spices to grated raw sweets. Beat eggs, add to first mixture. Sift flour, soda and salt together; combine with sweet potato mixture. Fill greased muffin pans 2/3 full. Bake in moderately hot oven (400 degrees) about 20 minutes. Serve hot or cold. Makes 24 2¼-inch muffins.

★ ★ ★

French Fried Jersey Sweets

For four servings pare four medium sized Jersey Sweets and slice into strips ¼ to ⅜ inch square. Crisp the strips a minute or two in salted cold water. Drain, and fry a handful at a time in hot fat or oil at 375 degree to 385 degrees F. until golden brown, turning occasionally to insure even browning. Usually 3 minutes for thin strips; 5 or 6 minutes for thick pieces.

Remove with slotted spoon and drain on paper towel or kraft paper bag. Serve hot as they are or sprinkle with salt or sugar to suit individual taste.

Jersey Sweet Potatoburger

Scrub 1 medium-sized Jersey sweet potato per person. Slice each two-thirds of the way through from end to end. Open slit potatoes wide enough to insert a strip of bacon. If bacon strips are too long for potatoes, fold them. Wrap sweet potatoes in aluminum foil and place on rack in oven preheated to 400 degrees. Bake for 30 to 35 minutes. Open foil to crisp bacon for few minutes. Serve in foil.

★ ★ ★

Jersey Sweetie Pie Pudding

2 cups grated Jersey sweets (about 3 mediums)
2 eggs
1 cup sugar (white or brown)
1 cup milk
¼ cup melted butter or margarine
½ teaspoon cinnamon
¼ teaspoon ginger
¼ teaspoon cloves
½ teaspoon salt
½ cup chopped nuts

Peel Jersey sweets (either yellow or orange type) and grate with medium grater. Measure 2 cupfuls and put into quart baking dish, well greased. In bowl, beat eggs till light, then beat in sugar gradually. Stir in milk, melted butter and spices. Add to grated sweets in baking dish and stir well. Finally, add nuts and mix thoroughly.

Bake in oven preheated to 350 degrees for 30 minutes. Stir well. Resume baking for 30 minutes and serve. Serves 8. Can be served hot with milk or cream, or can be served chilled with whipped cream. Can be held in refrigerator and reheated in double boiler for use later.

Marjoram in Sour Cream Flavors Chicken Pieces

There is an old saying that the best cooks cook with the best. This is certainly true of Chicken Montego. Some of the good ingredients are chicken breasts, canned whole mushroom buttons, peas, and an outstanding velvety sauce of sour cream and canned celery soup with gentle herb seasoning.

For the hearty base macaroni is uncommonly good, and takes the place of potatoes with the meal. If you like wine, choose a dry white one.

Chicken Montego

3 large chicken breasts, split
3 tablespoons flour
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
⅓ cup shortening
1 can (4 ounces) mushroom buttons
4 ounces elbow macaroni
1 can condensed cream of celery soup
1 teaspoon marjoram
1 pint commercial sour cream
1 can (16 to 17 ounces) peas
Paprika

Roll chicken breasts in mixture of flour and seasonings. Brown in shortening; remove from skillet. Lightly brown drained mushrooms in skillet.

★ ★ ★

While chicken is browning, cook macaroni, following package directions; drain. Add soup and marjoram to mushrooms and stir until smooth. Add sour cream.

Put macaroni in a shallow casserole. Add drained peas and half of the soup mixture; mix lightly with fork. Arrange chicken breasts on top and pour the remaining soup mixture over them.

Cover and bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees) 50 minutes. Remove cover and bake an additional 15 minutes, until chicken is tender. Just before serving, sprinkle chicken with paprika. Six servings.

Serve Salad as First Course

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

Do your meals suffer from drab-o-sis? Are they weak in color and skimpy in vitamins? Do you need a lift? We do! And we think a bright salad will turn the trick.

★ ★ ★

Let's have a change and serve our salad for the first course. Even the members of the family who sometimes turn up their noses at green stuff will be hungry enough to clean their plates. And calorie counters can fill up on bulky foods without worrying about poundage. We must remember to take our own advice and have a first-course salad tonight.

Because there is a bumper crop of California oranges this year, they can be used in many ways. Add some small wedges to a tossed salad and spread a few onion rings on top. Pass the dressing separately if you like. Or combine orange slices and cottage cheese.

This next salad is hearty enough to be the main course of a luncheon. The olives add both color and flavor.

Egg and Olive Salad in Carrot Nests

6 hard cooked eggs, diced
1 cup diced celery
2 tablespoons finely chopped onion
3 tablespoons sliced stuffed olives
1 tablespoon sliced ripe olives
1 teaspoon salt
1/16 teaspoon ground black pepper
1/16 teaspoon garlic powder
1 teaspoon fresh lemon juice
3 tablespoons mayonnaise
3 cups finely shredded fresh carrots
Fresh parsley
6 whole ripe olives

Combine all ingredients except carrots and parsley. Toss lightly. Arrange ½ cup shredded carrots on each of 6 salad plates. Make a well in the center of each. Fill with salad mixture. Garnish with fresh parsley and whole ripe olives. Yield: 6 servings.

★ ★ ★

Canned peas are still on the plentiful foods list. If you want to present them in an unusual manner, serve them in a hot salad with tiny canned potatoes and pickle relish. Instead of lettuce, use fresh spinach leaves on the salad plates. This salad doubles as a vegetable.

Hot Pea Salad

1 can (16 to 17 oz.) peas
1 can (8 oz.) white potatoes
½ cup pickle relish
1 can or jar (2 oz.) pimientos
1 small onion
¼ lb. sharp cheddar cheese
¼ cup mayonnaise
Fresh spinach leaves
Garlic French dressing

Combine drained peas, drained sliced potatoes, pickle relish, pimiento strips, onion cut into tiny cubes, cubed cheese and mayonnaise; put into casserole. Cover and bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees) 15 to 20 minutes, until heated through.

Serve on spinach which has been tossed with garlic French dressing. Six servings.

Whole cranberry sauce is the main ingredient in this spicy molded salad that is delightful with ham.

Cranberry Mold Indienne

1 package apple-flavored gelatin
1 cup hot water
1 can (1 lb.) whole cranberry sauce
2 tablespoons brown sugar
1 tablespoon vinegar
½ cup seedless raisins
¼ cup finely chopped almonds
½ teaspoon garlic salt
½ teaspoon ginger
¼ teaspoon red pepper

Dissolve gelatin in hot water. Chill until partially set. Combine remaining ingredients and fold into partially set gelatin. Pour into 1-quart mold. Chill until firm. Unmold on lettuce. Makes 6 servings.

Bake canned apple slices and canned sweet potatoes together with sugar and orange juice; serve with browned link sausage for a quick meal.

Singer Lorrie Collins Weds Stewart Carnell

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Rock 'n roll singer Lorrie Collins, 17, secretely married Stewart Carnell, 26, in Las Vegas last Jan. 4.

Bev Barnett, Miss Collins' publicity agent, said the marriage was kept secret because conflicting road engagements prevented the couple from setting up a home.

Carnell is co-manager of singer Johnny Cash. Miss Collins and her brother, Larry, 14, perform as "The Collins Kids" on television and the night club circuit.

Quite a Surprise!

NORFOLK, Va. (AP) — Mrs. Evelyn Peebles got a kick out of an exhibit of Confederate money here. One of the $10 bills bore the signature of her mother who was a clerk in the Confederate treasury at Richmond.

Ex-Italian Movie Star Waited 6 Years for Role

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Cesare Danova is finally making his first Hollywood movie, almost three years after he came here as the new Italian sensation.

Is he bitter? Not in the least. "I'm not mad at anyone," he declares. "I can see how these things happen."

His understanding didn't make the experience any less painful, however. He was imported originally to play the title role in "Ben Hur."

★ ★ ★

"I came here without being able to speak a word of English," said the actor, "It was agreed that the first six months would be devoted to learning the language. That came easy to me. I have always enjoyed studying languages. (He speaks five.) I like to study words."

Armed with the knowledge of English, he seemed well qualified for the lead in MGM's super-epic. He is well constructed along his 6 feet, 4 inches, is remarkably handsome with wavy brown hair and had a background of classical acting.

But Charlton Heston got the role.

★ ★ ★

"The studio still wanted me," Danova said, "but the director, William Wyler, wanted no accents in the cast. So he wouldn't take me.

"I am not blaming him. He was the director. He had to do the picture according to his own conception. If he had taken me unwillingly, it would have been a bad situation.

So Danova sat. And sat. He couldn't work, and the studio wouldn't let him go. For almost two years he did absolutely nothing.

★ ★ ★

How did he survive?

"I can only answer: with God's help," he said. "Now that it is over, I have put it out of my mind. But you can understand that it was a terrible experience.

"Especially so because in the previous nine years, I had worked continuously. I did 20 pictures in Europe and three full seasons in the theater."

★ ★ ★

He managed to survive by reading, hobbies such as furniture-making and playing with his two young sons by English actress Pamela Matthews. His first action came with the musicalized "Grand Hotel," which he played on the West Coast with Paul Muni. It was a flop, but at least he was working.

Nunnally Johnson saw Danova on TV's "The Rifleman" and picked him for Leslie Caron's lover in "The Man Who Understood Women." Now he's on his way.

Flint Commission OKs Bus Fare Hike

FLINT (AP)—The fare raise for Flint buses is official.

The Flint City Commission yesterday formally approved the increase to avert another strike of bus drivers and maintenance men against Flint City Coach Lines.

Fares now are 25 cents a ride. Also approved was a nickle fee for transfers and elimination of Sunday and holiday bus service.

The Commission had approved the hike tentatively Tuesday night.

Fares formerly were 90 cents for four tickets. Transfers were free and buses ran on Sundays and holidays.

Drivers and maintenance men walked off their jobs last Thursday in dispute over pay rates in a new contract. They agreed to return to their jobs last Monday pending the city's providing financial relief to the bus company.

Even in Utopia Residents Have Tax Woes

CHICAGO (AP)—Everything, it appears, was not so hunky-dory in Utopia, a small community west of Chicago.

A group of Utopia residents and property owners appeared in Du Page County Court at Wheaton Wednesday and told Judge William L. Guild they were unhappy over the tax situation and wanted to secede.

★ ★ ★

Judge Guild granted the request. He disconnected an area of 492 acres, roughly half the area of Utopia and containing 27 homes and 99 residents, which now reverts to unincorporated territory. Still left in Utopia are 266 homes with 1,071 residents.

Composer Schuman Blasts 'Poison' Music

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — American composer William Schuman criticized Wednesday "this poison, the cheap and tawdry music with which we are being inundated daily."

★ ★ ★

"In the dentist's office, on the beach, in the hotel, in the restroom, everywhere (are) the incessant sounds of canned music," he told delegates to the Music Teachers National Assn. convention.

Schuman, president of New York's Julliard School of Music, said "music education in the United States must supply an antidote."

Errol Flynn's Wife Opens Night Club Act

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Patrice Wymore opens a night club act here today but hubby Errol Flynn can't be present.

So he sent her an olinga, a small Cuban animal.

"How appropriate," exclaimed Patrice. "It's nocturnal, a night prowler. Nothing could remind me more of Errol."

Campy Shocked by Son's Actions

School Head Believes David Still Fine Boy but Is Puzzled

NEW YORK (AP)—His parents, the headmaster of his private school and the judge who is handling his case are just as puzzled as a lot of other people as to why Roy Campanella's 15-year-old son got himself involved as an alleged drugstore burglar as well as a street fighter.

Campanella, confined to a wheelchair by injuries which ended his career as star catcher of the Brooklyn, now Los Angeles Dodgers, is heartbroken.

★ ★ ★

He and his wife Ruthe are sticking with young David in his double trouble with the law.

Police say David, a Negro, admitted that he and a white chum, George Delmos, 16, broke into a drugstore Feb. 14 and stole money and cigarettes.

David was released in the burglary case in $3,500 bail Wednesday — one day after he had been before the same Children's Court judge for fighting in the street. Because he is under 16, both charges are only juvenile delinquency.

★ ★ ★

Judge Wilfred A. Waltemade, said: "I am disturbed and disappointed. My chagrin today replaces my shock of yesterday when you appeared before this court.

"But dismay has no place in Children's Court. We're here to assist the rehabilitation of children found to be delinquent."

The judge set a hearing in the burglary case for March 11. In the street fight case the judge had found David guilty as a juvenile delinquent and released him in his parents' custody with a warning.

★ ★ ★

Dr. William Fenton, headmaster at Queens Day School which David has been attending, said after the second court session that the boy had been "cooperative, helpful."

Fenton speculated that perhaps the street fighting was brought on by ribbing from David's friends about his singing.

★ ★ ★

"The burglary I can't understand," Fenton conceded. "And I still think he is a fine boy, and I can't feel otherwise until all the facts are in."

New Fashions Cater to Public Opinion

Paris Has Gone All-Out to Please

PARIS (AP)—Paris dressmakers finally presented pictures of their new styles to the public today with a hopeful, "Here it is, and how do you like it?"

By "it" they mean the natural line that you read about nearly a month ago. Photographs were not permitted until now.

Seldom has Paris made such a concerted attempt to please the public with a flattering, wearable silhouette. The designers must have said to themselves, "Let's give them what they want." Everybody, from Dior to Cardin, Balmain and Heim, fell in line.

★ ★ ★

For their pains, they may be criticized for lack or originality. But they are reported to have had a successful season with the buyers.

HEMLINES BELOW KNEE

Hemlines, you will see, are just comfortably below the knee — the couple of inches that insure kneecap coverage even when you sit down. Since not many people went in for last season's knee-high hems, this probably means that your skirts are just right as they are, without letting down or taking up.

★ ★ ★

Neckline decolletage is generous enough, but it's wide-open rather than low-down. This is what fashion calls the boat neckline, and to keep the nautical note there are sailor-type hats.

A trademark of the 1959 spring styles is the wide Bertha collar, in variations from a flat encircling band all the way to a deep flounce.

★ ★ ★

The waist-in-its-place is the biggest news of the season, with a few designers keeping just a hint of the lifted Empire waistline of last year.

RIOT OF COLORS

There are so many colors in the Paris collections that it's hard to pick the favorites. But greens surprised everybody by their unusual popularity, and beige is probably the basic winner.

Prints are not prevailing, as they sometimes are for spring and summer wear. They run to scribbly abstracts, small checks, blurry flowers and polka dots.

Since the new line is supple, materials are, too. The favorites are tie silk, shantung, chiffon, tulle or net, organdy, lace and woolens.

This costume suit is from Oleg Cassini's spring collection. The suit, of fuchsia silk linen, is accented by fuchsia and black dotted silk trim at the collar and pockets. The jacket features the new short-cropped look.

★ ★ ★

There were no new fashion houses this season, but a new designer in an old house made his mark with an unexpected success. He is Jules Francois Crahay, who designed the whole Nina Ricci collection for the first time. Crahay, a 42-year-old Belgian, has been one of several Ricci designers for five years, but he really put the house back in the news with his first solo show.

★ ★ ★

Happy Talk Endears Oldsters to Others

By RUTH MILLETT

Her father was seriously ill in the hospital, too ill to see guests, and it was her job to meet her father's friends in the hospital corridor, talk to them a few minutes and explain that he couldn't have company.

"It was strange," she said, "these older people would come in looking well and chipper but the moment I asked, 'How are you?' I'd get a 15-minute account of their aches and pains.

"It seldom failed. So after the second day I got smart and didn't ask the fatal question. Instead, I asked them about their children and grandchildren and their special interests. It was amazing what a difference it made.

"Instead of getting a tale of woe about aches and pains and bouts with this and that disability, I had a chance to hear some happy talk."

I mention this incident to impress my older readers with the necessity for making a real effort not to make conversation out of their aches and pains and physical disabilities.

It's awfully easy for an older person whose aches and pains are real and nagging to grab any sympathetic ear and talk about his troubles.

It's depressing conversation to others, and should be avoided.

The older people who are a joy to have around, who make young people think, "I hope I can be like that when I'm that age," are the ones who never dwell on their sufferings.

Instead of talking about their troubles they talk about their pleasures, their interests, their plans. When asked "How are you?" they say that they are fine.

It may be a small deception, but it's a gallant one.

Ask Dentist to Bridge Gap—Abby

Only Small Adjustment Is Needed

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

"DEAR ABBY: When the lights go out I like to give my wife a bedtime kiss. Did you ever kiss a woman with her teeth out? Well, that's my problem. I can tell you it isn't very much fun. She used to wear her teeth to bed but lately she takes them out because she says they hurt her. I tell her to go get them fixed but she says they don't bother her that much. Be a pal, Abby, and help me out."

ABBY

NOT SATISFIED

DEAR NOT: Cajole, threaten or bribe but get the little woman to the dentist who made her dentures. A tiny bit of adjusting can make a whale of a difference in your domestic relations.

"DEAR ABBY: I am too ashamed to sign my name to this letter but I hope you will print it in the paper because I need an answer and I don't know where to turn. My 11-year-old son is getting to be a very clever thief. I give him a generous allowance and if he'd ask for anything extra he would get it, but he seems to enjoy stealing.

"He steals from his friends, the grocer, the druggist and he will even go into my purse and steal money. I see things in his drawer I know he didn't buy. I've threatened to take him to the police station to frighten him but nothing helps. Oh, Abby, am I raising a criminal? Please help a broken-hearted mother."

BROKEN-HEARTED

DEAR BROKEN-HEARTED: A child who steals merely for the thrill of stealing should get professional help. He can be straightened out if he is taken in hand early. Threatening him with punishment by law is unwise. A policeman should be identified as a friend whose duty it is to protect us and our property — not as an enemy who takes pleasure in punishing our wrongdoing. Ask your family doctor whom to see.

★ ★ ★

"DEAR ABBY: What do you think of a wife who comes home with an expensive item like a dress or handbag and announces, 'This is my Christmas present from you.' Sometimes it's 'my anniversary present' or 'my birthday present' or some other special-day present.

"In the sixteen years that we have been married I haven't been able to buy her one gift because she beats me to it by three months. As an excuse she says she wants to make sure she gets something she likes. I resent it. What can I do about it?"

HENPECKED

DEAR HENPECKED: If you've been "henpecked" in this manner for 16 years, I'd say you were a pretty dumb cluck. Tell the little shopper that the next "gift" she buys herself she will have to pay for or return.

★ ★ ★

"DEAR ABBY: My husband is always the 'life of the party' but he will be the death of me. He will do anything to get a laugh, including putting a lampshade on his head and doing the 'hootchie-kootchie' dance. I am the quiet type and hate to see him make a fool of himself. How can I get him to be more dignified? He is almost 50 and ought to know better."

EMBARRASSED

DEAR EMBARRASSED: If your husband enjoys himself and others enjoy him, there is no reason to feel that he is "making a fool" of himself. Let him have a good time.

'Business Is Booming'

'Buttons Have Romance,' Report Manufacturers

Who ever thought buttons were on their way out, along with the horse and buggy, is going to have to revise his or her thinking. "The button business is booming," reports a department store merchandising and management magazine.

WOW!

Button sales of $80 million in 1950 jumped to $100 million in 1955, and they should continue to rise in '59, reports this journal.

There are many reasons. Today buttons have romance. They provide enough countries of origin to make their own import fair. Manufacturers are circling the globe, bringing back attractive new materials, better craftsmanship, unusual designs.

Button colors are keyed to each season's palette; button textures complement new fabric offerings; button shapes take their cue from current silhouettes. Manufacturers and retailers are finding that customers will buy six or a dozen buttons priced at $2 each.

NUDGE JEWELRY

Because of this emphasis on fashion rightness and decorative handling, buttons are challenging jewelry as garment accents. More ready-to-wear customers are seeking buttons to revitalize last year's fashions.

Look for larger buttons to continue their popularity. The spring sizes will range up to 2¼ inches. Jet has especially increased in the larger sizes.

Men, too, are becoming more conscious, going in for decorative metal buttons on sport coats and more attractive styles on sweaters, suits and overcoats.

So, if you think you have all your buttons — maybe you're right.

If a coating of wax is put on shelves, paper will not stick to them.

Reference Woman Guide for Eating

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

A report of the Food and Nutrition Board of the National Academy of Science—National Research Council, brings us some recommended dietary allowances. Today let us consider the recommended daily calorie intake.

Naturally this is an individual mater. Many factors must be taken into consideration. Some of them are age, sex, climate, size, metabolism, and physical activity. However, a recommended allowance is a valuable guide.

The "reference woman" or the hypothetical one who most nearly depicts the average woman at the age of 25, weighs 128 pounds and is moderately active like a housewife or a saleswoman. She lives in a climate which has a mean temperature of 36 degrees Fahrenheit. This is the mean temperature in which most of the population of the United States resides. The recommended calorie intake for the reference woman is 2,300 a day.

The age of 25 was selected because by then full physical maturity has been reached and the ideal weight at this age is the one we should keep for the rest of our lives.

So, lets start with that and make adjustments for age. As we grow older we need less food. This is due to the fact that our glandular systems slow down and we become less active and more sedentary.

Therefore, this report suggests that we reduce our calorie intake three percent for every 10 years between 30 and 50. By the age of 50 we should be eating six per cent less. Then reduce your daily caloric allowance 7.5 per cent per decade from the age of 50 to 70. Still a further 10 per cent reduction is recommended between 70 and 80.

Adjustments must also be made for body size. A larger food intake is indicated if you are larger than the "reference woman" and a smaller amount if you are smaller than she. Of course you can use your weight as a gauge only if you are the correct weight, not overweight or underweight.

As you get older—or the weather grows hotter—you should cut down on high-calorie foods.

The adjustments we must make for climate are interesting. The following estimation used an annual mean temperature of 36 degrees Fahrenheit. When the weather is colder treat yourself to a caloric increase of five per cent for the first 10 degrees decrease from the 36 degrees, and three per cent for each additional decrease.

★ ★ ★

Of course allowances should be reduced when the temperature is higher. Decrease your calorie allowance five per cent for each 10 per cent increase above the 36 degrees.

The recommended allowance for the pregnant woman or the woman who is nursing her child is much much higher.

If you would like to have my calorie chart, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 36. Address Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

Widow Can Be Insistent on Paying

Separate Note of Regret Must Be Written

By EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post: I am a widow and fortunately have been left enough money to live on quite comfortably. I am well able to pay my own way wherever I go, but I do not like going places alone. My friends know this and very often when they go to a movie or out to dinner, they ask me if I would like to go along. I am only too happy to go except for one thing—the question of payment.

"Most of these friends are in moderate circumstances and I do not think it is fair for the husbands to have to pay for an extra woman all the time. Will you please tell me how I can pay my own way without embarrassing them?"

Answer: It is best to treat a situation like this frankly and say that you would love to go with them if you can pay your own way, but won't otherwise. If they agree to this, you can then give a sum of money, which you feel sure is enough to take care of your share, to the husband before you start out.

"Dear Mrs. Post: Would it be possible to send our regrets to the wedding of a friend on the card enclosed with the wedding present? For example, on my card to the bride, write: 'So sorry we can't come to the wedding, but will be with you in thought,' rather than to write a formal note of regret?"

Answer: I am sorry but you should send a separate note of regret because if you don't it is more than possible that whoever is keeping the list of those who accept or regret will never receive your informal regret.

"Dear Mrs. Post: Isn't it impolite to call to the attention of someone that she has a run in her stocking? I think it serves no purpose to bring this to her attention and makes the person very uncomfortable. What do you say about this?"

Answer: I agree with you, unless the one with the run is at home where she can easily change her stocking.

Beware Wide-Eyed Look, It May Spell Trouble!

CHICAGO (UPI) — That wide-eyed appealing look spells trouble, according to cartoonist Joe Kaliff of New York.

"Look out for the man with wide open eyes," he warned the ladies, "He's the wolf, always ogling."

He advised men, likewise, not to be taken in by a girl's big-eyed gaze.

"She may seem gullible but she's not," Kaliff said. "Look behind those eyes and you'll find she's scheming."

Kaliff, president of the Cartoonists Association of America, was brought to the 41st annual convention of the National Association of Retail Clothiers and Furnishers for the entertainment of the dealers. He turned out about 200 cartoons a day, and had ample opportunity to observe the new men's style, the "Continental," with its short, cutaway coat and tapered trousers.

OK FOR DUDES

"It's all right for a slender dude, he said, but the more generously endowed gentleman had best be cautious.

"It's going to exaggerate faults like a big stomach or a well upholstered rear," Kaliff said.

★ ★ ★

Not that Kaliff considers the figure of prime importance. He has urged men to shake off their "morbid preoccupation" with feminine legs, derrieres and bosoms, and raise their eyes to the lady's face.

Women are smart enough to do this, he said, and have learned that crow's feet around the eyes indicate kindliness, deep lines around the mouth denote determination, and horizontal lines on the forehead are the mark of a scholar.

He conceded that men have less incentive than women to direct their glances above the chin.

"Women look too much alike these days," he complained. "They dip their cosmetics out of the same jar, and they all have the same, blank look."

★ ★ ★

Men are more vulnerable in this respect. Their personalities are clearly etched on their faces for the discerning woman to read, Kaliff said.

The trend toward making windows look larger and airier also makes washable sheer curtains more fashionable.

What Young People Think

Teeners Divided on Recognizing Red China

By EUGENE GILBERT
Gilbert Youth Research Co.

Should the United States recognize Red China?

Like everyone else in the country, teenagers seem to be pretty well divided on this sizzling issue, as well as some other current ones.

Interviewing 580 youngsters at random across the country, our interviewers found that:

50 per cent are unalterably opposed to recognition of the Mao Tse-tung regime.

40 per cent say yes, but with reservations on the part of many.

10 per cent don't know, haven't made up their minds or wouldn't answer.

"Absolutely not," answers 16-year-old Marcia Johnson of Duluth, Minn. "The Red China government does not represent the Chinese people."

"No," chimes in 17-year-old Helen Zawicki of Jamaica Plain, Boston, Mass. "They haven't shown any good reason for being recognized."

"It would be a terrible mistake," insists Lois Hassan, 16, of Detroit. "All of China is Communist."

★ ★ ★

The sizable minority in favor of recognizing Red China realizes that it is Communist dominated, but feels that its government cannot be ignored because it exists.

"It won't improve our world situation," admits 17-year-old Mary Irwin of Sac City, Iowa, "but we must face reality."

"They are a bona fide government," argues Robert Leffert, 17, of Los Angeles, "and since a lot of business is being done with them by our competitors, why not us?"

We must recognize them, rationalizes 16-year-old Daniel Gilbert of Windsor, Maine, because we must keep in contact with all world governments: "How can 650 million people not be recognized?"

Teenagers showed the same willingness to jump in and express their opinions on other major foreign policy issues. For the most part, they seemed well informed and eager to discuss their opinions.

★ ★ ★

Most, for instance, welcomed De Gaulle's accomplishments in bringing about a Fifth French Republic, but were realistic enough to sense that his victory did not necessarily auger the dawn of a new golden age for France.

In answer to the question "Do you think France under De Gaulle will again become a great power?" 58 per cent said no, 31 per cent said yes and 11 per cent were undecided.

"No," answered Ellen Leffert, 19, of Los Angeles, "I can't see France taking its place again as a great world power even though De Gaulle is doing his duty. France has gone down too far ever to recover its past prestige."

France "doesn't have the power, the economy or the armed services to take its place among the world powers, no matter what De Gaulle does," said Mike Reasor, 17, Seattle, Wash.

"No one man in his lifetime could ever bring France back to world power," said 16-year-old Florence Niles of Detroit.

ON RIGHT PATH

Speaking for the optimistic minority, 18-year-old Linda Friedman of Washington, D. C., said, "I think France has a long way to go, but De Gaulle might start the drive."

★ ★ ★

"France needed a strong leader," agreed Marlene Kanow, 17, Los Angeles, "and now at last she has one."

How to deal with the Soviet bloc, a problem that has puzzled foreign policy planners since the end of World War II, provoked some interesting if not too encouraging reactions among teenagers.

Nearly seven out of 10 thought there would be another major war within their lifetime. But despite this pessimistic outlook, 60 per cent saw hope of revolutions overthrowing some Communist countries within their lifetime.

★ ★ ★

Most likely to be overthrown, according to the teen crytsal ball, Hungary (by a 46 per cent vote of the youngsters interviewed), Poland (43 per cent), China (13 per cent), East Germany (10 per cent).

Least likely candidate for overthrow by revolution: Russia itself.

WHAT ABOUT WAR?

Should the United States go to war, if necessary, to free any countries from Soviet domination?

Yes, answered 50 per cent of the youngsters interviewed; no, said 37 per cent. The rest didn't know or wouldn't say.

Which countries should we risk a war to free? This time Hungary and Poland tied with a 43 per cent vote. East Germany placed ahead of China 37 per cent to 27 per cent. Other countries behind the Iron and Bamboo curtains shared a 13 per cent total vote. And Russia again finished last with only 3 per cent.

Despite their willingness to go to war to free nations from Soviet rule, teenagers were not too anxious for the United States to start any rough stuff over Berlin.

CAUTIOUS TOO

If Berlin were blockaded again, 54 per cent favored trying to negotiate a settlement, 38 per cent wanted another airlift organized and only 6 per cent advocated that we "blast through with tanks."

Defeatists were few in the teenage ranks: only 2 per cent thought we should "give the city up to the Communists" in event of another Berlin blockade.

On the issue of foreign aid, 87 per cent of the youngsters favored aid to neutrals like India and Burma, but the figure dropped to 62 per cent when Tito's Yugoslavia was the proposed recipient.

In each case, it was felt by most teenagers that both the neutrals and Communist Yugoslavia form a buffer zone against the Soviets that we cannot abandon.

★ ★ ★

"Our job," said 17-year-old Carol Greig of Augusta, Maine, "is to get them on our side or at least keep them neutral. We need all the friends we can get, even passive ones."

An overwhelming majority (88 per cent) of the teenagers contacted by our survey teams approved of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) and favored continuing and strengthening it.

"It gives us a united front against Russia," said 16-year-old Andy Jackson of Detroit, echoing the feelings of most of his young confreres.

On the home front, teenagers shower concern over communism in varying degrees: 30 per cent thought the Communist menace in the United States has increased, a similar percentage thought it had "gone underground," 23 per cent thought it had decreased in recent years, and about 3 per cent thought it had either been virtually eliminated" or "remained the same."

Despite their worries about Communist infiltration at home, 70 per cent favored trade with Communist countries with one important "if." The if being "where it would be beneficial to us."

School to Stage 'The Fire-Bug'

"The Fire-Bug," a three act comedy-mystery, will be presented by an all-senior cast of Emmanuel School in May. The play is about an arsonist who terrifies the countryside.

Included in the cast are Harvey Keith, Barbara Keller, Anne Mercer, John Best, Pat London, Merril Rock, Martha Kuppert, James Snow, Robert Hollis and Donna Brison.

The student officers have planned an all high school talent program to be held next Wednesday. The students will act as judges.

Annice Dean Bassett Wed to Max James Hancock

Annice Dean Bassett and Max James Hancock were married Wednesday evening at Silvercrest Baptist Church. The Rev. James Luther officiated at the double-ring ceremony.

Parents of the couple are Mrs. James Charles Bassett of Waterford and Mrs. Estel H. Hancock of Lewis street.

From the Ben Gershel spring collection comes this 36-inch coat. It is fashioned of tobacco-colored English worsted accented with black crocheted buttons.

IN PRINCESS GOWN

The bride wore a formal-length gown of imported Italian taffeta, fashioned on princess lines with a trapeze back which formed a chapel-length train. The gown featured a bateau neckline, and hand-clipped Alencon lace medallions accented the bodice and skirt.

Her veil of imported silk illusion fell from a wreath of pearlized leaves and she carried a cascade bouquet of white feathered carnations and stephanotis, centered with a corsage.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Grace Colebrook, the bridegroom's sister, was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Robert Lancaster of Waterford and Catherine Hancock.

All wore turquoise peau d'or dresses with sweetheart necklines and cap sleeves, and matching bow headpieces. They carried bouquets of red feathered carnations with white grapes.

ASSIST BRIDEGROOM

Jack W. Hancock was his brother's best man. Ushers were Robert E. Hancock, another of the bridegroom's brothers, and Dan Hardenburg.

A reception was held in the church parlors. Before leaving for a honeymoon, the bride changed to a black crepe sheath dress with black accessories and the corsage from her bridal bouquet.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Bassett wore a blue Chantilly lace and taffeta dress with a crimson rose corsage for her daughter's wedding. Mrs. Hancock was dressed in a navy blue street-length dress.

The bride attended Oklahoma College for Women in Chickasha, Okla., and is affiliated with Tau Beta Sigma Sorority.

Experts say that applicants who look clean and neat are rated as better credit risks.

Texas Larger Than Germany

West Zone Has 95,724 Square Miles; Eastern Territory, 41,490

WASHINGTON—West and East Zones of Germany, including Berlin, now have a population of about 71 million. Of these about 53 million live in West Germany or Western Berlin.

The Federal Republic of Germany (West Germany) has an area of 95,724 square miles—a little more than Ohio. All of Germany—including even 70,800 square miles of territory now under non-German administration—is smaller than Texas.

The postwar "miracle" is attributed to many factors, including government stability, labor peace, help from the Allies, and that hard-to-measure intangible asset—German energy.

Work has deep meaning for the average German. "To look back on a day's work well done," a Krupp employe once said, "is as uplifting to him as the painting of a good picture to an artist."

COOPERATION OF LABOR

Inherited wealth virtually disappeared during the catastrophic events provoked by Hitler. Hence labor appears to bear little resentment toward the managerial class, economists report.

German industry has also experimented with giving labor the right of "co-determination" — a voice in management policy. With insight into the workings of industry, labor leaders are said to take a more responsible attitude. Co-determination remains a controversial economic policy, however.

Throughout the post war period, strikes have been relatively few. Industrial output has climbed above prewar levels, and Germany has built the most modern industrial plants in Europe.

Hal Boyle Says:

'All Good Ideas From 'Heart'--Chevalier

NEW YORK (AP) — "All the good ideas come from the heart," said Maurice Chevalier.

There are few men his age today who can match France's gay boulevardier in either grace or gratitude.

"I am 71, and have been in show business now for 60 years—yes, I started at 11," he said. "I take my job seriously, because it is my whole life, my whole happiness.

"You have to love a profession that has been so good to you."

★ ★ ★

Chevalier, who quit a dubious future in a thumbtack factory to become the most durable song-and-dance man of his time, retains a charm that is financial as well as physical. Nearly 30 years ago he was making $20,000 a week, and today is more solvent than the French government. Or the American government, for that matter.

Seated in the living room of his hotel suite, Chevalier was the picture of a timeless, old-fashioned sport. He wore a smart plaid suit whose pattern looks as if it had been woven in Braille. His spring-blue eyes crinkled in a ruddy complexion.

But at 180 pounds, his agile frame gave a slight hint of portliness.

"If I were intelligent, I would weigh a little less," he sighed. "But I am getting at a moment in my life when it is hard to refuse to eat a little more, or drink a little more, if I feel like it.

"To give way to all the bad instincts that we all have—that is what defeats most people. When I see young artists who are broken by liquor and things like that, it makes me sad.

★ ★ ★

"I am not a moralist—ah, no!—I only know what is good. I know you never run a risk in doing less of anything tempting, and you always run a risk in doing too much of anything.

"Too much of anything is too much—whether it is virtue or vice."

Chevalier is immensely pleased over the international success of his latest movie.

"It is not a comeback for me," he said. "I have always been working in Europe. But to have been a star 50 years—and to still be on top—that makes me very proud.

★ ★ ★

"I have no unsatisfied goals in life. I don't see that I could have done more with my little gifts—considering that I was born to be a working man.

"A man has regrets. He has to have them. But, all in all, I am thankful to my destiny."

Despite his light-hearted air, work has been a religion with him. His art is endlessly rehearsed.

But the old boy, now minus his famed straw hat, still wears life like it was a flower in his buttonhole.

"Take exercise? Ah, no!" he shook his head. "But I stopped smoking 25 years ago, and I drink very little.

"Whisky is the best drink—when you can indulge it. It gives you a lift. So" — he laughed — "So you must not drink it until you fall down."

"But I don't want to look as if I were giving advice. Other people can lead their own lives."

But It Still Hurts

CORONADO, Calif. (AP) — Retired Marine Corps Maj. Gen. Walter G. Farrell testified he was bitten by a Chinese poodle. He had sued retired navy Capt. Theodore J. Schultz, the poodle's owner, for $100,000 damages. Schultz' attorney contended Farrell was bitten by his own Labrador retriever while separating the fighting dogs. The jury denied any damages.

U.S. College Sends Paper to Moscow

AMHERST, Mass. (UPI) — Students at the University of Moscow are now up-to-date on the problems of American colleges.

The Amherst Student, undergraduate newspaper at Amherst College here, published and sent to Moscow a 16-page edition of the paper. Written in English, except for an editorial in Russian, the issue contains articles on the impact of Sputnik on American education, the crowding of U.S. colleges, what they teach and their financial problems.

The newspaper's chairman, senior Paul Dodyk, of Hamtramck, Mich., a Rhodes Scholar, said arrangements for delivery of the paper were made through the Committee of Youth Organizations.

Twelve school fires occur daily in the U.S.

LAKELAND, Fla.—One year has made a lot of difference for the Detroit Tigers in their Lakeland, Fla., training camp.

There are 17 new faces among the players, new bosses on the coaching staff and in the front office, a new broadcasting team for Tiger games, the Henley Field clubhouse got a brand new facelifting and without offense to the local Chamber of Commerce and Lakeland weatherman, the weather is even different.

(The past two years this writer pulled into Lakeland with top coat and wet feet. We won't say it too loud, but as of 2:00 p.m. the sun was shining.)

Most of the new faces among the players are older veterans obtained through trades, like Eddie Yost, Rocky Bridges, Don Mossi, Lou Berberet and Ray Narleski.

Last February personable Jack Tighe welcomed as many writers and photographers on opening day as he did players while Bill Norman came over from Tigertown to watch the proceedings from the equipment trunk in front of the clubhouse.

★ ★ ★

Today it was Norman, wearing jersey number 29, who made the welcoming speech at 10:00 a.m. along with Rick Ferrell, acting general manager who replaced John McHale recently.

Sadly missed from the scene is Mel Ott, as wonderful a personality as anyone could have known. In his place, joining Van Patrick on the Tiger broadcasts is George Kell. And like Ott, the former Detroit third baseman has made himself available for any wanted advice asked for by some of the younger hopefuls.

The "commissioners" of Tigertown, couple miles away, Jimmy Campbell, Ed Katalinas, Bernie deViveiros and Pat Mullin were on hand for the annual opening; Campbell in his new position as vice-president of the club.

The atmosphere in the city of Lakeland is even different. The city fathers are planning a 25th anniversary celebration for the Tigers who started camp here in 1934.

Members of the 1934 team, including Fred Hutchinson, Mickey Cochrane, Tommy Bridges, Billy Rogell, Pete Fox, Charley Gehringer, Schoolboy Rowe and others will be on hand for the celebration and dinner March 6-8.

The town is being decorated with banners and displays in store windows. As a token of appreciation the Tigers welcomed a face-lifting in the Henley Field locker room through courtesy of the city.

★ ★ ★

Even the food is different and the new training laws of Norman are in effect.

No more sandwiches, milk and soda pop are found in the clubhouse. The break between morning and afternoon drills calls for only soups and juices.

Yes, things have changed around Lakeland and Henley Field. Norman calls it a return to an "old-fashion spring training."

Detroit fans could very well hope for an "old fashion" Tiger team to come out of this training camp — say something like the teams of 1934-1935, 1940 or 1945.

Need we mention what the teams did those years?

Brief Welcome, Fast Work, as Tigers Open Camp

THAW FOR TIGERS — Old man winter wouldn't cooperate with a thaw in Detroit so workmen at Briggs Stadium built this device to remove more than four inches of ice from the field so that work on the baseball diamond may progress. A long tunnel made of sheet plastic becomes an oven when hot air is forced into it fed from a fan at one end. The tractor (foreground) crumbles the ice partially before the heat treatment.

Baylor Hits 55 as Lakers 'Kill' Royals

Pistons in Playoffs

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Pistons received a first hand lesson in basketball scoring last night and then failed to apply it.

Still, the Pistons were assured of making the National Basketball Assn. playoff because Cincinnati was walloped by the Minneapolis Lakers in the first game of a Detroit Olympia doubleheader.

The Pistons dropped the second game 104-100 to the St. Louis Hawks.

Their teacher was Elgin Baylor, the Lakers' fabulous All-America rookie from Seattle.

Baylor poured in 55 points while the Lakers were killing off the Royals' last playoff hopes with a 116-96 victory.

While the Pistons watched Baylor play in the first game, he turned in the third best scoring performance in NBA history. Only Joe Fulks' 63 points for the Philadelphia Warriors in 1949 and George Mikan's 61 for Minneapolis in 1952 topped the rookie's one-game output.

★ ★ ★

Baylor hit on 22 of 38 field shots and 11 of 17 free throws in breaking the All-time Olympia scoring record.

★ ★ ★

His masterful performance failed to stir the Pistons. Their top scorer for the night was Phil Jordon, who pushed in 20 points.

They fell behind the Hawks, who have already won the Western Division championship, right at the start and stayed there. NBA scoring leader Bob Pettit topped the game scoring with 24 points.

In the only other NBA game last night, Philadelphia downed New York 134-123.

The Pistons return to action tonight, playing the Royals at Louisville, Ky.

PCH's Faculty Outlasts PNH

Another "first" encounter between Pontiac Central and Pontiac Northern athletes was staged last night in the Huskies gymnasium.

★ ★ ★

When the "cannonading" was over Central's faculty cagers were found to have outlasted the Huskies' crew 63-50. Sore muscles were more numerous today, than baskets last night. An audience of 500 witnessed the setto.

After a see-saw first half, Chiefs' faculty grabbed a lead in the 3rd period that stuck. Northern lost Joe Duby (who hit 16) at that time.

★ ★ ★

Leading point-makers were Ralph Grubb (11), Jess MacLeay (17), and Dick Ayling (21) for PCH, Dick Hall (18) and Arne Wilson (8), with Duby pacing the losers.

The argument will become an annual affair.

Only 17 Back at Lakeland From '58 Team

Biggest Changes Noted in Infield Where Two Regulars Return

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

LAKELAND, Fla.—A brief welcome by manager Bill Norman and general manager Rick Ferrell for the 40-man squad, plus nine borrowed farm hands at 10:00 a.m. today, and then the Tigers got down to work.

Only nine days from now, March 7th, the first exhibition game is scheduled with the Washington Senators and as Norman put it "there's no time a'wasting."

KEARNS

Ten new faces are identified with the Detroit club for the first time since the end of 1958 as result of trades or outright purchases.

Another 13 players are rookies and farmhands getting full shots at big league status and the remaining 17 are from the 1958 squad.

With Tito Francona now in the fold, only Gus Zernial and Charley Maxwell are still unsigned. Both are fighting pay cuts. Ferrell, however, said he expected both outfielders to be signed before the day is over.

The Tigers started the 1959 spring camp more concerned with experience rather than youth, in as much as five of the new players obtained in trades are 30 or better.

Biggest change is noted in the infield where only Frank Bolling and Gail Harris return from the regulars, along with Larry Osborne, Ossie Virgil and Coot Veal who saw part-time duty last season.

Maury Wills, who put his speed to use by stealing 25 bases with Spokane on the Pacific Coast last year, and Rocky Bridges, former Washington veteran, fill the shortstop's position vacated by Billy Martin, now with Cleveland.

★ ★ ★

Third base also gets a veteran candidate in Eddie Yost with 14 years of Major League experience, all with Washington.

Rookie Steve Demeter is rated best as Yost's understudy with Ossie Virgil getting another try at the job. Virgil played in 49 games with the Tigers last year, sharing the job with Reno Bertoia and Martin.

★ ★ ★

With Yost and Bridges, the Tigers figure to be better defensively but the weakness on the left side of the infield still appears to be batting strength.

Bridges hit .263 and Yost .224 for Washington last year. Bertoia and Martin, their predecessors hit .233 and .255 respectively. The difference in batting averages between the two pair favors Martin-Bertoia by .001.

So how much was gained or lost in the trade remains to be seen.

★ ★ ★

Questions to be answered for the next 44 days before the season opener April 10th against the White Sox in Briggs Stadium are: How much stronger is the bullpen? Can starting pitching staff pick up past form? Is the bench stronger? Are the Tigers satisfied with the catching department? Where to get a needed power-hitter?

Red Wings Playoff Hopes Vanish

Rangers Apply Crusher With 6 to 3 Victory

Thin Chance to Avert First Shutout in Last 21 Seasons

NEW YORK (AP)—The final collapse of the once great Detroit Red Wings dynasty was completed last night.

The Wings huffed and puffed for a pair of early goals. But this was the dying gasp of a National Hockey League empire that Jack Adams built over the last decade.

The New York Rangers put in a parade of six goals within 29 minutes. When it was over, so were the Red Wings' Stanley Cup playoff hopes. They were beaten 6-3 by New York, the team they had to beat to gain the playoffs. There's only the slightest mathematical chance left for them.

Ended, barring the unforeseen, is a string of 21 straight seasons that Detroit has qualified for the post-season affair, in nine of those campaigns Detroit led the league, winning the Stanley Cup six times. The Wings were league leaders eight times in the last 10 seasons.

★ ★ ★

These now are hollow memories. Last night's memories are bitter.

Jack McIntyre and Len Lunde gave the Wings a 2-0 lead by the two-minute mark of the second period. Then the Rangers, their own playoff dreams flickering, came back to choke the Wings to death.

New York flashed for six goals as goalie Terry Sawchuk's defense crumbled before him. McIntyre added a goal in the final minute and a half in a heartless gesture.

★ ★ ★

The Wings were pushed seven points behind the suddenly spurting fourth-place Rangers. And they fell into a tie for last place with Toronto. The Maple Leafs edged the Montreal Canadiens 3-2.

Emphasizing the Red Wings' plight is that seven of their remaining 12 games are on the road.

Andy Bathgate of the Rangers, with the goal that started the rout and three assists, returned to the NHL's scoring leadership. He moved past Montreal's Dickie Moore, the defending scoring champion, by one point. Moore was limited to one point last night. Bathgate now has 71 points.

3rd Straight Title for Canadian Pair

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo., (AP) — Canada's near-perfect twosome, Barbara Wagner and Robert Paul, glided away with their third straight pairs championship in world figure skating last night but both were dissatisfied.

"We've skated much better many other times," said Paul, a dashing 21-year-old perfectionist. His saucy 20-year-old partner who has skated with him 5½ years nodded agreement.

Third place went to the United States pair of Nancy and Ronald Ludington of Boston.

Mantle and Cerv Head List

Holdouts Number 3 Dozen

By United Press International

Some three dozen major leaguers—more than in any recent year—become holdouts today when spring training officially opens for most of the big league teams.

Heading the list, of course, are sluggers Mickey Mantle of the New York Yankees, Bob Cerv of the Kansas City Athletics, Jackie Jensen of the Boston Red Sox and Roy Sievers of the Washington Senators. Their demands range from Cerv's estimated $30,000 all the way to Mantle's $85,000.

The National League champion Milwaukee Braves have no star comparable to Mantle or Jensen unsigned but no fewer than six players have yet to agree to terms: Pitchers Don McMahon and Gene Conley, catcher Del Rice, first-baseman Joe Adcock and infielders Felix Mantilla and Casey Wise.

The status of the American League's "big four" is hazy, as might be expected. Roy Hamey, in charge of dealing with Mantle again, talked with the slugger yesterday and said only "it's only a question of money." Cerv rejected the Athletics' last offer of about $23,000 and is at least $5,000 away from a settlement. Seivers is insisting on $40,000 and Jensen, the league's most valuable player, meets with Red Sox General Manager Bucky Harris for a fourth time today.

Others who'll be considered holdouts if they don't agree to terms by nightfall include Hector Lopez, Preston Ward and Ned Garver of the Athletics, Rene Valdes of the Los Angeles Dodgers, Frank Barnes and Joe Cunningham of the St. Louis Cardinals, Gus Zernial and Charley Maxwell of the Detroit Tigers, Andy Carey of the Yankees, Billy Loes, Billy Klaus and Bobby Avila of the Baltimore Orioles and Ramon Monzant and Al Worthington of the San Francisco Giants.

Del Ennis, long-ball hitting outfielder, just got in under the wire yesterday when he signed with the Cincinnati Redlegs. It took 15 telephone calls between Ennis and General Manager Gabe Paul before an agreement was reached—believed to be the first record of the new baseball season.

Other late signers included first-baseman Norm Zauchin of the Senators, outfielder Gene Woodling and infielder Billy Gardner of the Orioles. Each is believed to have accepted a slight reduction.

General Manager Frank Lane, who never has made a deal with the New York Yankees, visited the world champions at St. Petersburg, Fla., but got nowhere with manager Casey Stengel. The Cleveland boss is hoping to acquire infield strength and is known to covet Carey or Jerry Lumpe.

USUAL FIGHT — There has to be at least one fight in every hockey game. Red Wings Norm Ullman, 7, and Johnny Wilson, in front of him, got into this pushing, shoving fracas with New York's Henry Howell while Gordie Howe, 9, and Lou Fontinato, 8, watched. The Rangers won the important home game dimming Detroit's playoff hopes.

Pfeiffer's 3,243 Series Sets New ABC Record

ST. LOUIS (AP) — A record that stood unmolested for 21 years crumbled last night when the Detroit Pfeiffers rolled an astonishing 3,243 series and took the lead in the 56th annual American Bowling Congress tournament.

The score broke the record of 3,234 set in 1938 by Birk Brothers of Chicago, and established the Pfeiffers as the favorite to win the open team division championship.

★ ★ ★

Falstaffs of St. Louis, the defending champions, and pre-tournament favorites, get their chance tonight.

"We'll just have to set a new record," said Capt. Buzz Fazio of the Falstaffs with a grin. "I hate to see them lose the record after only one night."

Ed Lubanski, captain of the Pfeiffers, led his team at the St. Louis Armory lanes with a 700 set. Then came Joe Joseph with 657, Bob Hitt 654, Bill Golembiewski 624 and Bob Kwolek 608.

★ ★ ★

Opening with a mediocre 992 game, the team then rolled 1,075 and 1,176. The final game score was a record for the current tournament. The Pfeiffers had 87 strikes, 68 spares, 6 splits and 3 errors.

★ ★ ★

If Peiffer's big lead stands the strain, the team will win its fourth ABC team title since 1952. It has entered the tournament eight times, once under the sponsorship of E&B beer.

Falstaffs may be bolstered by veteran Steve Nagy, who said last night he probably will play. Nagy had said earlier this week that an old knee injury might keep him out of the tournament.

★ ★ ★

Pfeiffer's big game almost overshadowed a sparkling performance by 26-year-old Bill Pace of St. Louis, who took the singles lead with a 743 series. Pace had games of 239, 225 and 279.

Pace, whose score tops the winning totals in four of the last five tournaments, replaced Dale Schwartzle of Decatur, Ill., as the singles leader. Schwartzle is second with 700.

Petty Declared Daytona Winner

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Lee Petty Wednesday was declared winner of Sunday's 500-mile stock car sweepstakes. This took the victory away from John Beauchamp, who was declared the winner after the race.

★ ★ ★

They finished radiator to radiator in the race after averaging 135.42 miles an hour for the 500 miles.

Bill France, president of NASCAR and the Dayton International Speedway, said movies and still pictures showed that Petty won.

★ ★ ★

Bernard Kahn, sports editor of the Daytona Beach News-Journal, said every picture showed Petty ahead.

The decision means Petty collects $19,000 and Beauchamp $8,000.

Hope Plays Loras

NEW YORK (AP)—Hope College of Michigan will meet Loras in the regional playoffs of the National Collegiate Athletic Assn. small college basketball tournament at Great Lakes in Wheaton, Ill., March 6-7.

Hope has a 16-2 season record.

ACC's Weaver Burned in Effigy at Wake Forest

WINSTON-SALEM, N.C. (AP)—Students at Wake Forest College burned Atlantic Coast Conference Commissioner James H. Weaver in effigy on the main quadrangle on the campus Wednesday night.

★ ★ ★

The demonstration was an obvious protest to Weaver's report on the Feb. 12 fight that developed during the closing minutes of a basketball game between North Carolina and Wake Forest College played at Memorial Coliseum here.

★ ★ ★

Weaver put both teams under strict probation for an indefinite period and warned players of both schools that any further fighting or "unsportsmanlike act in any future contest will endanger their eligibility."

Michigan Ace Tumbles but Calls It 'a Good One'

Ski King OK's Olympic Hill

SQUAW VALLEY, Calif. (UP) — National ski jumping champion Willie Erickson took a high speed tumble but came up to pronounce the hill for the 1960 Winter Olympics "a good one."

But the Kingsford, Mich., star and other U.S. jumpers aren't happy. They must pay their expenses through this entire weekend of the North American Nordic Championships, a preview of next year's winter games.

★ ★ ★

"In every other meet, we've at least had our expenses paid from Friday night on," the 20-year-old champion declared. He pointed out Europeans' expenses are paid from New York to Squaw Valley and back by the Olympic Organizing Committee.

Can United States ski jumpers catch the Europeans?

★ ★ ★

"We have as good potential in this country as in any but we lack training, and we jump in only about 11 meets while Europeans compete in 40 or 50," Erickson replied.

He echoed North American Alpine champion Buddy Werner in seeking some help with skiers' expenses.

★ ★ ★

As to the Olympic hill, several contestants have been eliminated already because of spills. Some observers wondered if the hill were at fault.

Erickson said "no" even after taking a fall himself.

★ ★ ★

"I've just had a few rides to feel out the hill, but I think it's real nice," he declared. "The takeoff seems a lot quicker with a shorter transition before takeoff than I'm used to. So we'll have to lay flatter on the skis."

He won the U.S. title a week ago at Leavenworth, Wash., with leaps of 273 and 268 feet. Form as well as distance counts.

Erickson conceded the Olympic 80-meter hill "does look kind of wicked" but he didn't blame it for spills.

Erickson got up without injury after he went sprawling as did several other jumpers. Among the better leaps were those of about 280 feet by Canada's champion Jack Chariand of Trois Rivieres, Quebec, and Finland's Kalevi Karkinen, brother of the 1956 Olympic champion.

★ ★ ★

On the question of distance off this Olympic jump, where observers expect the games' record of 84 meters (275.5 feet) to be broken, Erickson said. "To break a record everything has to be perfect. Today was a good one with the landing area hard. The take-off wasn't too fast, though."

In this competition, the skiers hit the takeoff at a speed of about 55 m.p.h.

POINT OF INTEREST — Alex Cushing, owner of Squaw Valley Lodge, Squaw Valley, Calif., points out the area where events in the North American Ski Championships are being held.

One of Golf's Toughest Tricks

Dawson Shoots Age, 78

One of golfing's toughest challenges was met a few days ago, by a former widely known Pontiac businessman-golfer, when he "shot his age," a very difficult 78 (par 72).

Robert (Bob) J. Dawson, winner of many links honors at Pine Lake CC and in sectional and national seniors' tournaments over the years, compiled his total at St. Petersburg, Fla. Lakewood CC, the same day that Skip Alexander won the National PGA club pro title at Dunedin with a 77. Skip is pro at Lakewood where Dawson is a member. Dawson was playing in the club's President's Cup test.

"When your shots come off good, and you feel all right, it's a real pleasure to stroke the ball," Dawson commented in a note to The Press' Russell (Bud) Bassett. Bob plays golf every day, he writes, finds it easy with his new home just off the club's first fairway.

"I feel quite elated at shooting my age," Dawson said.

GOODYEAR

PRESENTS THE WORLD'S FIRST TURNPIKE-PROVED TIRES

• New rubbers • New chemicals • New cords

New Turnpike-Proved Tires by Goodyear—built with phenomenal new rubbers, chemicals and cords—give up to 25% more safe mileage even on the turnpikes! That means, they'll give you more mileage with greater safety than ever before.

Here are two vital problems Goodyear scientists solved to bring you these great, new tires!

Problem #1—tread rubber: At high speeds, ordinary tread rubber is literally eaten away. But by intimate mixing of new chemicals and rubber molecules, Goodyear scientists created today's longest-wearing tread rubber for today's toughest driving conditions!

Problem #2—tire cord: At high speeds, the heat that eats away tread also weakens cord. The answer? Goodyear's All-New 3-T cord (Tyrex or Nylon) triple-tempered in our exclusive process involving Tension, Temperature and Time.

Tested on the 140 mph "Turnpike That Never Ends" these Turnpike-Proved Tires by Goodyear are the toughest, safest, longest wearing tires you can buy.

Chiefs Must Beware of Saginaw

Skippers at Walled Lake, Avon at Orion Friday

PNH Hosts Parkers

The end of the road for the regular prep basketball season comes up tomorrow night with several interesting contests serving as pre-tournament warmups.

However, front-runners in the Eastern Michigan, Wayne-Oakland and Southern Thumb leagues will be too busy to look ahead with their games deciding league championships.

One of two games here in Pontiac will match a pair of very hungry teams—Pontiac Northern and Hazel Park.

Northern has a 4-10 record in its 1st season in competition and has lost three straight. The Parkers have bowed 10 times in succession since edging Royal Oak Kimball for their lone triumph in 15 tries.

Two of the top games on the area slate will match old rivals Waterford and Walled Lake and Avondale and Lake Orion. The Vikings and Yellow Jackets each own two-point wins over their top rivals.

Walled Lake could finish 2nd in the Inter-Lakes with a triumph should Southfield lose at Van Dyke and Farmington fall before unbeaten Berkley. The runnerup slot in the Oakland B could finish in a three-way deadlock if Avon wins and Fitzgerald is beaten by champion Troy. Madison is at Clawson to settle the cellar.

Ferndale can gain a share of the Eastern Michigan crown by whipping Mt. Clemens. East Detroit and Port Huron, who are now tied with the Railsplitters, play each other tomorrow. Birmingham faces Royal Oak Kimball in the other game.

★ ★ ★

Brighton is expected to nail down the W-O flag at home against Bloomfield Hills. Holly will be at Milford still hoping to gain a tie. Northville at West Bloomfield and Clarenceville at Clarkston complete that slate.

Almont faces 2nd place New Haven in the Thumb feature already assured a co-title. Oxford can clinch 2nd in the South Central by beating North Branch if Ortonville upsets Millington.

Rochester can finish 14-2 by winning at Lapeer, Lapeer is host to Owosso, improved L'Anse Creuse visits Oak Park, Royal Oak Dondero is at Grosse Pointe, Utica entertains South Lake, Cranbrook travels to Nichols, South Lyon plays Boysville and Lamphere takes on Huron in other games.

Trojans Would Like to Topple No. 1 Quintet

Mythical State Crown, Valley Title on Line Friday for PCH

SAGINAW VALLEY	League W	League L	All Games W	All Games L
Pontiac Central	6	1	13	1
Flint Northern	7	2	11	2
Flint Central	6	3	10	3
Bay City Central	2	7	7	7
Arthur Hill	2	7	5	9
Saginaw	2	7	4	10

Their won-lost record wouldn't frighten a mouse, but the Saginaw High Trojans offer a dangerous threat to the basketball ambitions of Pontiac Central.

The Chief's invade Saginaw Friday night to wind up their 1958-1959 regular season schedule and they should be scared just enough to be on their guard against the possibility of a stunning upset.

PCH has two big stakes on the line—the Saginaw Valley Conference title and the mythical Class A crown in the state's weekly news wire polls.

Central has already nailed down a share of the SVC championship. The Chiefs guarahteed themselves at least half of the honors by conquering Flint Northern 50-42 in their 1st place battle last week at Flint.

★ ★ ★

They can win the title outright, regardless of the outcome of tomorrow night's Bay City Central-Northern game at Bay City, by disposing of Saginaw on the Trojan court.

A decisive victory would also in all probability earn them the vote as Michigan's No. 1 Class A quintet in next week's final AP and UPI ratings.

They were ranked 1st until their 53-52 overtime loss to Flint Central when they slipped to 3rd place. They fought back to a tie for the top spot with Hamtramck two weeks ago, then gained the No. 1 berth all alone this week following the conquest of Northern.

Saginaw is the most dangerous type of stumbling block the Chiefs could encounter at this stage of the campaign.

The Trojans are victory-hungry. They are going nowhere in the Saginaw Valley race and have everything to gain and nothing to lose by shooting the works against PCH, therefore making them all the more dangerous. In addition, they have the friendly home floor advantage.

Saginaw has lost four straight, including a 73-61 setback at the hands of Midland Tuesday at Saginaw. The Trojans' last win was a 69-55 decision over Bay City Handy Feb. 3, also at home.

★ ★ ★

They currently share the Valley basement with Bay City Central and Arthur Hill on a 2-7 record. Their over-all slate reads 4-10.

Coached by Larry Laeding, the Trojans are a fast-break, run-and-shoot club. This kind of foe is always a threat to a heavily favored opponent, especially when the shooting eye is sharp and the ball is going through the hoop.

Central carries an over-all 13-1 mark and 8-1 Valley record into the battle. The Chiefs walloped Saginaw 69-43 in their 1st meeting here Jan. 23.

Northern's outing with Bay City Central and Arthur Hill at Flint Central complete tomorrow evening's Valley schedule.

Parochials at 'End of Line'

Basketball schedules for the three Pontiac area parochial prep squads come to an end today and tomorrow. After these final encounters all three, St. Frederick, St. Michael and SCL champions, OL St. Mary Eaglets, will devote their time to polishing up for the Class C district state tourney at PCH, starting next week.

St. Mary entertains Detroit Sweetest Heart of Mary (Hearts) tonight at 8 o'clock with only the varsity in action. Eaglets aim for their 14th win in 18 outings. Hearts are a Class C school, with a 9-3 record in 3rd division, Catholic League play.

Shamrocks will host a strong St. Ambrose club at Pontiac Central gymnasium Friday night, for its 2nd home tilt this week on the big court. Mikemen seek their 7th win against 8 losses.

Rams will close at St. Elizabeth's in Detroit, Friday. St. Frederick shoots for its 11th win against three defeats.

Rams defeated the Sabres, 42-32, in the season opener, are favored again.

Broil Before Serving

Boas Good Jungle Survival Ration

By ELTON C. FAY
AP Military Affairs Writer

PANAMA (AP)—The snakes in the jungle around here are always in danger of being bitten by a man.

They make nourishing eating for any hungry traveler who has parachuted down a crippled plane and is trying to claw his way out of the tangle of vines, giant trees and treacherous mangrove swamps.

The above opinion is that of Morgan Smith, chief of the United States Air Force Jungle Survival School. He may be almost alone in that opinion.

Smith recommends broiling snakes before eating. Even then, the meat can be a little tough and chewy, especially the large size boa constrictors of the 12-foot-long class. He suggests that if they are brought home for serving to the family, a tenderizer be used.

Boas seem to be popular on the jungle survival menu — probably because they are in good supply and easy to locate.

Smaller snakes are harder to see and some of them are not recommended even for hungry parachutists. The fer de lance is one. He bites first and he bites bitterly. Death from poison and paralysis follows fast.

Smith explains that snake meat is only one of the many foods which the jungle provides for those trained in the art of survival. Small animals, birds, fish and the tender tips of small palms (which taste like cabbage) are available.

Iguana is on the menu, too. The meat from this large lizard resembles chicken.

★ ★ ★

Getting food to keep up strength is only part of the jungle survival problem. Traveling can be rugged where every yard of progress may have to be hacked out with a knife or machete. Stinging insects can make matters miserable.

Much of the time the Central American jungle is steaming. In other areas the dry season complicates the finding of drinking water. Smith's school shows you how to cut off the end of a vine and drink from the clear water stored up in the vine.

★ ★ ★

Twice a month, the survival school takes 10 students and deposits them by helicopter in the midst of jungle. With them is Smith or another instructor. For five days the students learn, the hard way, what they should do if accident put them down into the forest.

In addition to his Air Force jungle school job, Smith is a collaborating scientist for the Smithsonian Institutions. He was born at Orlando, Fla., and his father now lives in St. Petersburg.

200 Million Test Miles Run at GM Grounds

General Motors Proving Grounds have logged more than 200 million miles of automotive testing—equal to 422 round trips to the moon.

This was announced today by Charles A. Chayne, GM vice president in charge of engineering who also is in charge of GM Proving Grounds operations.

"As of Dec. 31, there was recorded a total of 193,854,670 test miles at the Milford Commercial Proving Ground," said Chayne.

"At the Milford Military and Heavy Vehicle Test Department the total log was 664,338 miles. At the GM Desert Proving Ground near Mesa, Ariz., the total odometer read 7,149,100 miles. At the GM Pike's Peak Engineering Test Headquarters we had run a total of 216,785 miles."

★ ★ ★

Louis C. Lundstrom, director of GM proving grounds, pointed out that the Milford ground was established in 1924; the desert ground began operations in 1952 (its total mileage is included with that of the nearby GM Phoenix Laboratory which was started in 1937 and ended in 1951); and the Pike's Peak headquarters, where cars and trucks are tested at the peak's 14,110-foot altitude, was set up in 1954.

"With a total of 6,260 acres, we have the largest, oldest, best equipped, and most diversely used automotive test facilities in the world," Lundstrom said.

Group Proposes Court Reforms

State Procedure Review Committee Eyes Judicial Overhaul

ANN ARBOR (AP)—Sweeping reforms aimed at cutting the red tape and costs of Michigan's court system were proposed yesterday.

The Joint Committee on Michigan Procedural Review—a legislative, state bar and Supreme Court group—announced the proposals after a two-year study.

The committee's report, described as the first comprehensive proposal in more than a quarter century for overhauling Michigan's court operation, would streamline or eliminate various phases.

Prof. Charles W. Joiner of the University of Michigan law school, chairman of the blue-ribbon body of 33 judges and attorneys responsible for the report, said the recommended changes would provide the public with "faster, more economical and more even-handed justice."

In general, the recommendations call for simplifying many court processes. Under the proposal:

1. The distinction between courts of law and equity would be removed.

2. Serving of court summonses would be simplified. For example, a summons could be served by mail. Now it has to be done in person.

3. Jury selection throughout the state would be standardized.

4. Consolidation of numerous claims into a single trial would be encouraged.

5. Judges would be permitted to call an end to certain cases without protracted trials.

Prof. Joiner said adoption of the proposals would permit the courts to handle one-third as many more cases with no increase in court personnel.

Navy to Scrap 5 Battleships, 38 Other Types

WASHINGTON (AP)—Five once proud U.S. battleships and 38 other outmoded warships are going on the scrap heap.

The Navy announced Tuesday that 520,000 tons of combat vessels, built at a cost of $697,640,000, are to be sold for scrap steel.

In addition to the battleships, the condemned vessels include 9 heavy cruisers, 10 light cruisers, 4 antiaircraft light cruisers and 15 World War II light jeep carriers.

★ ★ ★

The Navy calculates that it can salvage about $3,082,000 worth of equipment from the ships and that the scrap will bring about $27,194,000.

The battleships to be scrapped, all built in the early 1920s, are the Tennessee, Maryland, California, Colorado and West Virginia.

The heavy cruisers are the Chester, Louisville, Augusta, New Orleans, Portland, Minneapolis, Tuscaloosa, San Francisco and Wichita.

Only about 12 per cent of passenger automobiles produced today are painted black, although as late as 1948 it was used on 25 per cent.

Grains Move Up to Small Gains

CHICAGO (AP) — Nearly all grain futures prices added small additional gains in early active dealings today on the board of trade.

★ ★ ★

Wheat and corn moved up as much as a half cent a bushel within the first few minutes on buying which appeared to be short-covering. Some brokers said it may have been related to the Berlin situation since commercial demand was described as light and new export business absent.

★ ★ ★

Spain was reported to have bought 3,600,000 bushels of corn overnight. However, that transaction was known to be in negotiation yesterday and was a trade factor in that session.

★ ★ ★

After about an hour wheat was unchanged to ¾ cent a bushel higher, March $2.00¾; corn ⅛ to ⅞ higher, March old type contract $1.15⅝; oats unchanged to ⅛ higher, March 65½; rye unchanged to ⅝ higher, March $1.39; soybeans unchanged to ⅜ higher, March $2.20.

Better Yield of Corn Said Possible in State

EAST LANSING (AP) — Michigan State University's crop experts say Michigan farms with good corn silos can nearly triple their present yield-per-acre.

★ ★ ★

They report a program of recommended agricultural practices should produce a 150-bushel yield. In 1958 Michigan's average yield per acre of corn was 56 bushels.

Stocks Irregular in Active Trade

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market was irregular in active trading early today.

Key stocks showed gains or losses of fractions to about a point.

Among the wider moves was a renewed advance of more than 5 points by Zenith in further response to record earnings and a drop of about 2 by U. S. Gypsum.

American Motors and Studebaker-Packard, battered by selling in the past few sessions, appeared to have reached a support area. American Motors advanced a fraction while Studebaker-Packard was firm.

General Tire, after dipping at the opening, spurted more than 3 points. It was appearently reflecting a continued rise by its rocket-making subsidiary, Areojet-General, on the American Stock Exchange.

★ ★ ★

Chrysler lost a fraction as other big three motors changed little.

U. S. Steel, with a 1-point decline, was about the only notable mover among major steels. Jones & Laughlin advanced fractionally.

Oils were unchanged to slightly lower as they continued their reactionary tendency. Nonferrous metals slid off. Electronics were higher. Small gains were posted for Radio Corp., Philco and Raytheon.

Kennecott, selling ex-dividend, was off around a point. Other losses in about this range were taken by American Smelting, Eastman Kodak and Du Pont.

Moderately higher were Lorillard, International Telephone and American Cyanamid.

Price of Pork Good News for Consumers

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The price of pork is on the way down and is likely to stay down throughout 1959 because there is too much production to meet consumer demand.

The Agriculture Department reported today that hogs from the big 1958 fall pig crop—up 17 per cent from a year earlier—were coming to market. Large supplies for next fall already are assured.

City, Railroad to Dicker

Loop Route Parley Topic

The city and Grand Trunk Railroad will begin discussions Monday on right-of-way for the proposed downtown Pontiac loop highway.

A portion of the road is scheduled to cross railroad property between Cass avenue at Orchard Lake avenue and Saginaw street at Parke street.

The general route has been approved by the State Highway Department and the City Commission, although the exact location is still to be determined.

★ ★ ★

Attending the meeting at City Hall will be R. P. Cornwell, railroad real estate and tax commissioner. The city will be represented by City Manager Walter K. Willman, City Engineer Lewis M. Wrenn, Traffic Engineer Theodore M. Vanderstemple and David S. Geer, planning consultant.

★ ★ ★

The discussion will also take in the city's urban renewal project as it applies to the loop highway, Willman said.

The loop highway was the major recommendation of the Barton Transportation Study. It would circle downtown by Parke on the east and Cass on the west, freeing the downtown area for greater business development.

He Needed Helping Hand to Find Place in World training. This, then, was the basis of his discouragement.

I arranged for him to take our tests, for which the Veterans Administration paid the fee. They showed that he possessed a sound intelligence, an agreeable and friendly personality and, too, that he would probably make a very good dental technician.

The VSC, working with the Veterans Administration, found him the very job he was seeking. A government subsidy made it possible for a dentist to hire him and give him training simultaneously.

NOT TYPICAL

The Marine was not a typical case of unemployment. In our work, there is no such thing. Each individual has a different problem, distinctly personal, but there are, of course, certain aspects which we see again and again.

In this case, two things brought the Marine asunder. Feeling that "people are against me," he fell into defeatism when obstacles stood in the way of his desire. His second failure was one of ignorance; he did not know that there were agencies such as the VA and VSC ready to assist him.

Every day people come to the VSC after quitting or having been fired from jobs, asking us: "What now?"

If they are having difficulty finding work, I try to ascertain whether they are looking for the right job and if they know what their qualifications suit them for.

DIFFICULT CASES

But though it is all well and good to talk about placing the right man in the right job, what about the man who cannot find a job after having been let go from one that he enjoyed and that he performed well?

This is one of the most difficult of all cases to counsel, for outside of the obvious financial problems, the man's dignity, his sense of worth are most likely to be undermined. In such a time of crisis, he could easily fall into a spiral of defeat from which he never would recover.

★ ★ ★

What can a man do when there seems to be nothing to do?

He can pray. A man can pray for strength and courage, and receive them. I've seen it done.

He can be vigilant. In fact, unless he wishes to compound his misfortunes, the jobless man must be alert to easy temptations of surrender, such as alcohol, and indolence and the waste motion of blaming others.

He has to guard against feeling sorry for himself and take care not to let his own misery infect others.

He can act realistically. How? First, by taking stock of himself, by initiating a program of honest self-evaluation. A period of unemployment is the most important time of all to reassess one's goals, to rediscover the truly important things in life, to examine capabilities and admit limitations.

Most of all, it is the time to seek humility, on one's knees if necessary; especially at this juncture can pride destroy. It takes a humble man to accept charity graciously, it takes a humble man to accept work that he feels is beneath him.

And yet, VSC records are full of people who have done just that into something bigger.

Chrysler Comes to GM Defense

Urges Right to Engage in Retail Financing of Auto Sales

WASHINGTON (AP) — Chrysler, smallest of the auto industry's Big Three, today denounced legislation aimed chiefly at Chrysler's largest rival, General Motors.

F. W. Misch, a Chrysler vice president, said bills which would outlaw financing of retail car sales by auto manufacturers are discriminatory and unnecessary.

At present, General Motors is the only major auto firm engaged in retail financing. But in testimony prepared for the Senate Anti-Trust and Monopoly Committee, Misch, said Chrysler also may enter the financing field.

In three days of earlier testimony, spokesmen for commercial banks and independent auto finance companies have urged passage of the legislation.

They testified that General Motors has been able to force most of its dealers to use its finance and insurance firms, despite terms of federal anti-trust actions and decrees.

They contended that GM has a virtual monopoly over financing of sales by GM dealers through its wholly owned finance subsidiary, General Motors Acceptance Corp.

Ford recently announced plans to re-enter the sales finance field and Misch said Chrysler may do the same but that no decision has been reached.

"But," he added, "we feel strongly that we should have the right to do so if it becomes apparent such a step is in the best interests of retail customers, our dealers, employes, stockholders and the public generally."

Plastic Resin, Dubbed Pop Corn, May Aid Surgery

HOUSTON, Tex. (UPI)—A new resin& called "pop corn" because of its fluffy white appearance, has been developed at Houston's M. D. Anderson Hospital of the University of Texas.

The resin, a plastic that will not dissolve in any solvent, has an unusual capacity for absorbing carbon monoxide.

Robert C. Smart, research assistant at the hospital and one of the developers of "pop corn," said it is hoped the resin will contribute substantially to the effectiveness of the closed system anesthsia machine widely used in surgery.

He expalined that this device allows a patient to undergo lengthy surgery by inhaling gas from the machine and exhaling back into it.

"In exhaling, carbon dioxide in the breath must be absorbed or the patient could give himself carbon dioxide poisoning," Smart explained. Soda lime is used for this purpose now. But Smart said the new "pop corn" resin may be able to do the job much more economically.

Michigan Bell, Union Continue Contract Talks

DETROIT (AP)—Contract negotiations between Michigan Bell Telephone Co. and the Communications Workers of America, No progress has been reported in talks so far. Three company offers have been rejected by the union as "inadequate."

A contract covering the union's 17,000 members at the company expired at midnight Sunday, but no strike deadline has been set. Sporadic picketing in Saginaw, Bay City and Grand Rapids was halted by the union.

Charges against 74 others stemming from the Dec. 5 raids were dropped since that time. Shortly after the raid police claimed to have broken up a $2¼ million numbers ring operating in Pontiac.

The 11 persons who pleaded guilty yesterday originally were charged with conspiracy to violate state gambling laws.

Sink Old Battleship for Good This Time

NORFOLK, Va. (AP)—The old battleship San Marcos, once the battleship Texas, has at last lost her title as a menace to navigation in Chesapeake Bay.

The USS Salvager reported her at least 20 feet below the surface after exploding 1,500 tons of explosive on her rusted hulk.

The San Marcos was sunk by guns of the Battleship New Hampshire in 1920. Before that she was used as a target in other firepower demonstrations, including a bombing by Brig. Gen. Billy Mitchell.

★ ★ ★

The Navy has made numerous efforts and exploded many tons of explosives in an effort to destroy the wreckage.

At the end of July Britain's gold and dollar reserves stood at a seven-year high, climbing from $1,850,000,000 in September 1957, to more than $3,000,000,000.

Business Notes

James H. Ebel has been appointed a sales representative in Pontiac for Kessler and Hunter whiskies, it has been announced by Al Ancel, Michigan manager.

Before joining Kessler, Ebel was a sales representative for a national business machines company.

A graduate of Albion College, he has been active in fund solicitation for the United Foundations, and is a member of the Herrington Hills Home Owners Association. Ebel resides with his wife Suzanne at 441 Kuhn St.

Appointment of Merritt D. Hudson as superintendent of production at Chevrolet Motor Division's truck body plant in Indianapolis, Ind., was announced by Plant Manager John H. Greenough.

HUDSON

Hudson since July 1, 1957, has been a senior engineer, machine tool and die, at Chevrolet Central Office at Detroit.

A graduate of Pontiac Central High School, Hudson joined General Motors Holden at Melbourne, Australia, in 1949. He became a plant manager in 1951 and three years later was put in charge of four Holden operations in Australia. He joined Chevrolet at Central Office in 1957.

Hudson and his wife and their two sons will move to Indianapolis about March 1.

Hixon C. Cites, 55 Illinois St., area representative of International Correspondence Schools, has been named to the 1959 Century Club by Joseph H. Biro, vice president and sales manager. This is the fourth consecutive year Cites has qualified for membership in the club.

CITES

Cites, who joined the I.C.S. field organization in 1933, will receive a special Century Club Membership Certificate in recognition of his work during 1958.

Former Highland Man's Estate Aids Education

Michigan's school funds—close to rock bottom due to the state's serious money shortage—were given a $25,526 shot in the arm today, thanks to a former Highland Township man who died in 1920.

Atty. Gen. Paul L. Adams said the state's primary school treasury was this much richer because John W. Thornhill left the income in his estate to a nephew, Edward J. Thornhill, formerly of Milford, who died April 11, 1957.

A provision of this transfer of monies was that should the nephew die not leaving any children, the money would be turned over to the state's primary school fund.

Adams said that John Thornhill's estate has been processed and the money given to the state.

White Motor Plans Common Stock Split

CLEVELAND (AP) — White Motor Co. Wednesday announced it will split its common stock and pay shareholders of March 10 a one-for-one common stock dividend and also an increased cash dividend.

The cash dividend of 87½ cents compares with 75 cents paid on common stock in recent quarters. It will amount to 43¾ cents on each share of White common stock after the split.

White Motor, a leading maker of heavy duty trucks, had 989,677 common shares outstanding last Dec. 31.

The cash dividend is payable March 24, and the additional shares will be issued on that date, too, or as soon thereafter as they are approved for listing on the New York and Midwest stock exchanges.

The company's directors also declared a regular quarterly dividend of $1.31 on preferred stock, payable April 1 to shareholders of record March 17.

GOP Central Committee to Organize for 2 Years

LANSING (AP) — The Republican State Central Committee will organize for the next two years at a meeting here Saturday.

★ ★ ★

Ardale Ferguson of Benton Harbor, state treasurer, and Norman O. Stockmeyer of Wayne, secretary, are candidates for re-election. Sub-committees on executive and campaign, resolutions, budget and audit and research also will be named.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Albert S. Koeze of Grand Rapids, state vice chairman, will head a women's planning division for the spring campaign.

The U.S. Military Academy was established by Act of Congress in 1802; the U.S. Naval Academy in 1845.

Expect $8 Million Budget for Pontiac School Board

Pontiac's Board of Education will begin consideration of the 1959-60 operating budget at its bimonthly meeting tonight.

The school administration staff is expected to submit a budget of more than $8,000,000 for 1959-60.

★ ★ ★

The County Tax Allocation Board is expected to reduce operating income by cutting allocated millage under the 10 mill level.

It is expected that no funds will be available for construction next year.

★ ★ ★

One of the big question marks is the issue of teacher salaries. The budget which the Board will receive tonight does not contain money for pay raises.

Cutbacks in the educational program will be proposed to the Board tonight because of the financial crisis.

Superintendent of Schools Dr. Dana E. Whitmer noted the Board in July reached a policy decision that the quality and scope of the education program be maintained.

"For the 1959-60 year," Whitmer said, "the goal has not been totally achieved."

The world's peoples are divided into four major racial groups: Caucasoid, Mongoloid, Negroid and Australoid.

In Memoriam

IN LOVING MEMORY OF MRS. Nelson Rich who passed away February 26, 1957.
God knows how much we miss her,
Never shall her memory fade;
Loving thoughts shall ever wander
To the spot where she is laid
Sadly missed by husband, son, daughter and relatives

IN LOVING MEMORY OF JOHN Chamberlain who passed away one year ago today
The world may change from year to year
And friends from day to day
But never will the one I love
From memory pass away
Sadly missed by wife Emma, children and grandchildren.

CAIRO — What could a girl take—a GIRL, he said! It's his wife!—on a 10-day trip to Egypt, Spain and Greece?

"Very simple," the Beautiful Wife said. "I take everything I own. Which isn't very much!" she added bitterly.

Now that we're all here in the land of the Sphinx and the Pyramids, living in the new Nile Hilton Hotel right across the street from the very muddy Nile, it's amusing to think about the voyage here which could be called "Operation Excess Baggage."

You can imagine how a bunch of Hollywood glamor gals let themselves go.

Ann Jeffreys brought 12 gowns and 12 pairs of shoes. Ann Miller denied the rumor that her luggage outweighed the plane, but Jane Russell insisted it did.

★ ★ ★

"After all, we have to look nice for the Egyptians," Ann alibied.

Jeanne Crain only brought, in addition to the usual clothes, "two or three little fur things." Her husband, Paul Brinkman, added, "But you should see what she's got me carrying for her besides!"

JEANNE

I wouldn't say my B.W. came overdressed — but she brought three pairs of contact lenses!

"Where are your slacks?" I asked her, because the instructions from Conrad Hilton's gang to these junketeers specifically said the gals could wear slacks for a desert party —but in Cairo at no other time.

"You know I never wear slacks—after what you've written about them!" she said. (I'd merely written a deathless poem which goes: "Women who wear slacks, please by all means, make sure your end justifies your jeans.")

Both Nasser and Tito rode over in the same open car to the opening festivities, and Hugh O'Brian gasped, "What a double-header!" Some of the stars rushed forward to shake hands with Nasser.

★ ★ ★

"I didn't," said Van Johnson,—"I'm much too shy."

Nasser seemed most impressed with Leo Carillo, who was wearing his light tan "Pancho" cowboy suit. The Egyptians hadn't had such a field day of celebrities recently, and they asked for the autograph of every stranger. My wife even signed a few.

She signed the name of Rosemary Clooney.

From our room we can look down on a famous bridge that crosses the Nile over into Zemalech. In their bed-sheets or nightshirts or whatever they call them, the Arabs cross that bridge by the hundreds and thousands staring up at us.

★ ★ ★

For they are glad that this American hotel is here.

One reason is that it replaced the British Army area — where there were formerly several prisons that incarcerated the natives.

Coming back here, one thinks mostly of the changes. Only a dozen years ago, Farouk was still king and had a ringside table reserved every night at every major hotel and night club—whether he came or not he had a table. Then came the Naguib period.

And whither now? But let's not be so serious. It's dinner time. Let's go see which hat Hedda Hopper's going to be wearing . . . That's earl, brother.

FM Radio Fast Growing Media

Many Are Turning to It for Good Music Not Provided by AM, TV

NEW YORK (AP) — One of the fastest growing entertainment media in the country today is FM radio.

A basic reason is that a rapidly increasing number of adults who enjoy listening to "good," though not necessarily "classical" music are failing to find it on their regular local AM radio stations.

★ ★ ★

There are now 579 FM stations on the air. Last year the Federal Communications Commission issued 127 new construction permits and only 22 stations went off the air.

Today there are 70 FM applications pending. A year ago there were 30. Five years ago there were only four.

After a period in the doldrums resulting from the impact of television, the revival of FM reflects a growing public demand for high fidelity music reproduction.

One who grows accustomed to hi-fi music often is not satisfied with the musical tones heard on AM radio, which generally cuts off at from 5,000 to 8,000 cycles. Most TV audio reception is equally constricted.

But an FM radio operates in a wider frequency band than AM. Normally utilizing a range up to 15,000 cycles, its signal is almost free of static and can be heard in fuller dynamic range. Subdued musical passages don't have to battle background noise and there is less distortions in loud passages.

Tracker of Stills Says Product Most Inferior

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Thirty years of tracking down moonshiners gave Dorsey Keeton some pretty definite opinions on their activities.

One is that Kentucky still operators aren't turning out a quality product.

Keeton, 70, of Ashland, retired from government service Wednesday with the comment that Kentucky moonshine "now is about as low grade as you can get.

"It's all sugar now. They used to make it with corn, and you never heard of sugar until after World War II."

★ ★ ★

Even so, he added, Kentucky moonshiners generally use better equipment than their colleagues elsewhere.

Keeton helped raid 3,000 stills during his career.

Lee Holds Record for West Point Library Loans

NEW YORK (AP)—Edgar Allan Poe never borrowed a book from the West Point library while he was at the U.S. Military Academy.

Robert E. Lee borrowed more from the library as a cadet than any other before or since.

★ ★ ★

Lt. Gen. Gar Davidson, superintendent of the Academy, recalled these bits of West Point lore Wednesday night at an Overseas Press Club dinner.

Davidson said it has never been clear whether the poet Poe was dismissed because he wore his uniform improperly at a parade or because he failed to pay debts he incurred at the Academy.

Author Sizing Up Williams for Book

LANSING (AP)—A free lance author in Chicago is sizing up Gov. Williams as the subject of a book.

If the Democratic governor gets into the thick of presidential maneuvering next year, it could turn out to be a campaign biography.

Frank McNaughton, author of books on Harry S. Truman published in 1945 and 1948, has made four visits to Michigan since last October for "advance research" and a "preliminary survey" of the project.

McNaughton said yesterday that one publisher, and possibly a second, has shown interest. However, he said, no commitment on actual production of a book has yet been made. A decision will be made after he completes his survey, he said.

"It looks like an interesting story, both in Williams and the regeneration of the Democratic Party in Michigan," he observed. He said the idea was his own and that there was no inducement from the Williams camp.

Whittlesy House, a New York firm, published McNaughton's "This Man Truman" in 1945 and "Harry S. Truman, President," three years later.

Western Fears of Crisis Over Berlin Building Up

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP) — Western fears of a dangerous Berlin crisis late this spring are beginning to build up again under the impact of Nikita Khrushchev's oratory.

President Eisenhower's rather gloomy appraisal of the outlook at his news conference Wednesday seemed to reflect a growing uncertainty over the possibility of actually getting serious negotiations started.

★ ★ ★

Eisenhower said Khrushchev had displayed an "obviously, palpably intransigent attitude" in his speech and though there was nothing very new in it the tone and the timing were matters of concern.

Noting that the speech came in the midst of Khrushchev's talks with British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan, Eisenhower said the development "is not one that, certainly, you could call hopeful."

★ ★ ★

He then defined a two-point policy for the United States in the present situation. First, he said, "we are not going to give one single inch in the preservation of our rights" to maintain the Western position in West Berlin and to move supplies into that city.

Second, Eisenhower said that this country and its allies are "always ready to negotiate when the other person will give us the slightest area or region in which to negotiate."

★ ★ ★

But he added that he could not see "very much use for conferences" or much promise for negotiation if the present Soviet attitude continues.

Officials said today that the real purpose of Khrushchev's recent speeches could not be judged until the outcome of his talks with Macmillan is known early next week.

★ ★ ★

Sometimes when the Soviets are engaged in tough bargaining, officials said, they deliberately build up a very hard, antagonistic front in order to be able later on to give the appearance of making concessions without actually conceding anything important.

No Use Trying to Drive Without Drive Shaft

GLENDORA, Calif. (AP)—Dolly Mosby's car started fine. But it just wouldn't move.

She called her husband, Robert, who looked under the car. He found why it wouldn't run:

Someone had stolen the drive shaft.

Court Crushes Texas Farmer

Yankus-Type Case Is Reversed by High U.S. Tribunal in Dispute

CANYON, Tex (AP)—Rancher-historian J. Evetts Haley and his son have voiced bitter disappointment at a Supreme Court ruling against the son in a wheat allotment case.

★ ★ ★

The Supreme Court Tuesday reversed a lower court in Texas, which had held that young Haley, 27, was free to raise wheat in excess of his government quota because he used it only for livestock feed.

Officials of the Agriculture Department went to court after the son refused to pay a $506.11 penalty. The dispute is over 43 acres of wheat young Haley grew without an allotment on his ranch in Sequoyah County, Oklahoma.

Haley Sr., an unsuccessful states' rights candidate for governor of Texas in 1956, declared constitutional government has been destroyed. He branded the national farm program "legalized, collective theft."

★ ★ ★

In a separate interview, young Haley likened his situation to that of Stanley Yankus of Dowagiac, Mich. Yankus said last week he planned to move to Australia because of a $2,650 government claim against him for wheat grown in excess of his quota.

"I may have to follow that Michigan man," said Haley Jr. "Yankus may have exceeded government quotas, but he didn't ship it from his farm. He fed it to his chickens, as I fed my wheat to my steers."

The younger Haley said his lawyer would ask a rehearing by the Supreme Court, and he also proposes to ask Congress for remedial legislation.

U. S. Steel Hour Could Use Some of Product in Scripts

By WILLIAM EWALD

NEW YORK (UPI) — CBS-TV's U.S. Steel Hour is an infuriating example of TV blueprinting.

★ ★ ★

Aside from CBS-TV's Playhouse 90, there are no dramas of quality on television and it would seem much to the Steel Hour's advantage to jump into the gap and coat itself with some honor.

But for the past couple of seasons, the Steel Hour has taken refuge inside a dreary sanctuary of mediocrity.

Last night, the Steel Hour did wrong by one of the most exciting young actors in our theater, George Scott. Scott is a whiplash of a performer, vigorous, stinging, crackly.

★ ★ ★

He is a player of leather and given a decent chance, he can lace strength through the flesh of any play.

Unhappily, Scott was thrown into a wafer-thin wrapper called "Trap for a Stranger" that simply buckled under him. It was an implausible piece about a small town sheriff who unjustly accuses a stranger of manslaughter in order to win an election, skinny in its motivations, hogwashy in its conclusion.

It occurs to me what the Steel Hour could use is a little steel in its own scripts.

SHORT SHOTS: Jan Sterling turned in a bonny performance last night on an inert NBC-TV Wagon Train episode. . . CBS-TV's Trackdown didn't even bother with a plot last night—just ground out a single and wearisome chain of gunbooming from start to end. It's a shame to waste Robert Culp, one of the more competent cowboy actors, in debris like this.

THE CHANNEL SWIM: CBS-TV's "Hamlet" pulled a respectable 15.4 trendex Tuesday night. . . General Motors will sponsor eight Art Carney specials next fall, four of them dramatic shows, the others revues or variety shows—no network has been picked yet. . .ABC-TV is plotting a spectacular that would star the three stooges.

by Vopos while boarding a subway to return two library books.

The Vopos confiscated the books, warning her never again to go near Amerika Haus, where little girls were daily kidnaped, they claimed.

She seemed much more concerned about the loss of the books than about the shattering experience she had just endured.

Amerika Haus, which is the only U.S. information center behind the Iron Curtain, first started in a badly bombed building in 1946. Originally, its books were donated by American soldiers after they had read them.

★ ★ ★

Before moving into its new quarters in June 1957, Amerika Haus was visited by more than 11 million persons, had loaned 3,500,000 books. Now it has already outgrown its new building and is looking for room to expand.

East Germans Get News in Amerika Haus in Berlin

By TOM A. CULLEN

WEST BERLIN (NEA) — I have just visited the American "spy factory" in West Berlin.

That's what the Communists call Amerika Haus, the new $250,000 United States Information Center.

But in an afternoon there I could find nothing more sinister than a few gray-haired grannies reading newspapers.

Or maybe it's American jazz that's sinister—there was a whole group of eager German youths listening to the latest long-playing jazz discs from the States.

According to the Soviet-controlled East German press, Amerika Haus is a nest of espionage, where secret agents are recruited for cloak-and-dagger work behind the Iron Curtain.

Only RIAS, the American radio station beamed to East Germany, is attacked more violently in the Communist press. When not accused of subverting the Soviet regime, Amerika Haus is attacked as "this mecca of stupidity and imbecility."

Certainly, Amerika Haus is a remarkable operation by any yardstick.

Through its doors have passed 200,000 visitors from East Berlin and from the Soviet zone of East Germany during the past year.

In coming to Amerika Haus, East Germans risk being identified—they could be photographed entering the building—and arrested by the Vopos, as the East German police are called.

Yet they come in droves, an average of 800 Easterners visiting Amerika Haus daily.

GET LATEST NEWS

They come to see the latest newsreels, to read the latest news about their own Communist bloc. They come to breathe free air.

Happily, there is safety in numbers. "It would take 800 Vopos to tail these people to their homes and arrest them," says Jay W. Gildner, director of Amerika Haus and the only American on its staff.

★ ★ ★

Gildner and other officials leave the Easterners strictly alone. "We don't want to know about them," he says. "We want them to feel free to come and go as they choose, with no questions asked. They have enough people checking on them in East Germany, and we want them to feel the difference."

Occasionally, however, Easterners will approach Gildner with messages of thanks to President Eisenhower and the American people for providing Amerika Haus.

The thing that irks the Communist the most about Amerika Haus is that it attracts so many young people from East Germany—students and young skilled workers of the type who are seeking refuge in the West by the thousands.

★ ★ ★

Most of the young East Germans come to read the latest American technical journals, to attend concerts and lectures, and to perfect their English, I was told.

Amerika Haus has the only library in West Berlin that will lend books to East Germans. This presents a special problem, as the library cannot check out books without some guarantee of their return.

★ ★ ★

Therefore, the library has worked out a system whereby names of Eastern borrowers are kept locked in a safe. It reports that book losses incurred through lending to East Germans are less than one per cent.

Shortly before Christmas a 12-year-old East German girl came to Amerika Haus in tears. She explained that she had been searched
