Furniture Store Blaze Brought Under Control

Estimate Damages in Thousands of Dollars at Orchard Lake Shop

A late-morning blaze was brought under control today at a downtown Pontiac furniture store, but only after damage believed to run into thousands of dollars had been caused by smoke.

The fire centered in a one-story rear addition to the Orchard Furniture & Appliance Co., 164 Orchard Lake Ave., at the corner of Exchange street.

Firemen said that flames managed to break briefly through a rear fire wall into the main portion of the store. Smoke billowing through the store may have caused upwards of $20,000 damage to furniture on display, said Fire Marshal Charles E. Metz.

A co-owner, Edward Bloom, of 13321 Oak Crest Ct., Oak Park, said damage to the rear room probably reached $15,000, putting the preliminary estimate of total damage near $35,000.

The other owner is Bloom's brother, Murray Bloom, of 17603 Freeland Ave., Detroit.

A salesman, Edwin Barkey, said he noticed smoke coming from the rear room, which is used for storage and display, shortly after 11 a.m.

Metz said the blaze evidently began on the floor in a pile of new mattresses rolled up in wrapping paper. The cause of the fire had not yet been determined, but Metz said he would investigate if a careless customer had dropped a cigarette into the mattresses.

Barkey said he had been in the rear room about 15 minutes before the fire and noticed nothing unusual.

Edward Bloom, Barkey and two other employes were able to flee the building in safety, although Barkey later cut his right hand while removing office records through a broken window. There were no customers present.

Firemen, under the direction of Capt. Lee Nye, assistant Pontiac fire chief, had the blaze under control shortly after 11:30 a.m.

FAST WORKING FIREMEN — Pontiac firemen worked fast this morning to bring a blaze under control at the Orchard Furniture & Appliance Co., 164 Orchard Lake Ave. The fire began in a recently built storeroom and show room at the rear of the store just before 11 a. m. Firemen had the blaze under control by 11:45 a. m. Damage was estimated at about $35,000.

Yule Parade Will Frolic Through Pontiac Nov. 30

For on this day you'll want to take the kids, as well as yourself, to see the colorful "Christmas on Wheels" parade sponsored this year by the Downtown Pontiac Assn.

Officials of the association held an organization meeting Monday to map plans for the annual extravaganza. They appointed Allan F. Cady, advertising solicitor for The Pontiac Press, as parade marshal.

There will be some 25 floats in this year's line of march, depicting religious Christmas and children's toyland themes. There will also be seven bands, majorettes, Detroit Edison's calliope, military marching units, and a flock of clowns.

According to Keith Ellibee, executive director of the association, entry forms for eight church floats, seven from schools, and six bands have been received to date.

Ellibee emphasized that this is the first year in which the parade will be conducted in the afternoon. It is slated to head up Saginaw street at 2 p.m.

Church and school workers who will aid in the construction of floats have been asked to attend a meeting Nov. 2 at 3:30 at the Waldron Hotel.

Ellibee also made a plea for convertible owners wishing to offer their cars for use in the parade as official cars. Interested owners have been requested to call him at FEderal 8-8991 or FEderal 5-6148.

Train Hits Car, Killing Driver

Walled Lake Resident Dies Following Collision at Unguarded Crossing

A Walled Lake man was killed this morning when his car was struck by a New York Central passenger train going 80 miles an hour.

★ ★ ★

Wayne County Sheriff's Deputies reported that Albert L. Steinberger, 48, of 28294 Beck Rd., was killed at a crossing on Hannan Rd. about ½ mile south of Michigan Ave., in Nankin Township.

Deputies said Steinberger was going south when he approached the unguarded crossing. The eastbound train scattered the car down the tracks for almost a mile.

★ ★ ★

Detective Harvey Auer, of the Sheriff's Department, said that a signal is being installed at the crossing. This was the fourth death at the crossing in three years, he added. There were no skid marks to indicate Steinberger had attempted to stop.

UF Announces Chief Speaker to Open Drive

200 Volunteer Workers Will Meet for Breakfast, Talk by Dr. C. E. Irvin

Principal speaker at the Pontiac Area United Fund kick-off breakfast Monday, will be Dr. Charles E. Irvin, the "Merchant of Message."

Rated among the top six speakers in the United States, Dr. Irvin speaks to nearly 500,000 listeners yearly. He comes to Pontiac sponsored by General Motors Corp.

An ardent United Fund booster, he is the past Assistant Director, Military Welfare, American National Red Cross.

He agreed to speak to the fund volunteer workers at their kick-off breakfast in response to an invitation from Campaign Chairman Dr. Dana P. Whitmer.

Born in Zanesville, Ohio, Dr. Irvin received his education at Oberlin College, Ohio State University and Michigan State University and holds B.A., M.A., and D.ED. degrees.

He has served as both full and part time educator from 1935 until 1957. He taught business speaking and communications at Oberlin, Ohio State, Allegheny College and Michigan State University.

In addition to his speaking, he writes articles for professional journals. He now devotes full time to speaking and consulting in sales training, management training and business and industrial communication.

Over 200 United Fund volunteer solicitors from Pontiac and Waterford Townships are expected to attend the kick-off breakfast at the Elks Temple.

Restore Funds for Research

McElroy Tells Military to Make No Money Cuts on Basic Studies

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Defense Department has ordered the military services to make no cuts in the $1,700,000,000 which Congress voted for basic research in the current fiscal year.

Secretary of Defense Neil H. McElroy, who took office Oct. 10, yesterday announced modification of an Aug. 17 economy memorandum issued by his predecessor Charles E. Wilson.

The Wilson memo had the effect of curtailing some basic research spending, although Pentagon aides said this had not been intended.

Scientific matters also got new White House attention today as President Eisenhower arranged to meet with government officials and Dr. Isadore I. Rabi of Columbia University, chairman of a special scientific advisory committee.

Meanwhile, Russia's Sputnik—a major factor in the quickening interest in U. S. research—silently orbited the earth at 18,000 m.p.h. The Red moon was launched Oct. 4.

In the latest of a series of announced technological advances by the military, the Army disclosed some information yesterday about its new Hawk missile, which is designed to blast low flying planes out of the sky.

An announcement said the missile has a radar device that ignores stationary objects and speeds the weapon toward moving aerial targets. The Army said the Hawk can destroy invading aircraft even at treetop level.

The missile is not yet ready for combat issue and an Army statement said the Hawk "must be brought forward rapidly."

Wilson's Aug. 17 memorandum had stirred much criticism from members of Congress and others. The order told the services to cut their spending by an amount equal to 10 per cent of the $1,700,000,000 approved for basic research.

A spokesman said Wilson had intended that the reductions be made out of $3,600,000,000 set up for procurement and production in research and development, rather than trimming basic research funds.

But the interpretation the various services attached to the memorandum resulted, in the end, in the curtailment of basic research spending.

Elvis Disputes Sinatra Attack on Rock 'n' Roll

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Elvis Presley, replying to Frank Sinatra's denunciation of rock 'n' roll, said last night he considers it "the greatest music ever . . . because it is the only thing I can do."

★ ★ ★

Sinatra, writing in a Paris magazine, said rock 'n' roll is "phony and false" and is "sung, played and written for the most part by cretinous goons."

"Sinatra has a right to what he wants to say," Presley said. "He is a great success and a fine actor, but I don't think he should have said it.

"He is mistaken about this. This is a trend, just the same as he faced when he started years ago. I consider it the greatest in music. It is very noteworthy, and namely because it is the only thing I can do."

Light Turnout Defeats Issue by 3,530 to 2,150

City Officials Confronted by Big Problem to Equip, Furnish New Wing

Property owners residing in the city yesterday repeated their stand taken in May, rejecting a $950,000 bond issue by an unofficial margin of 3,530 to 2,150.

The city had asked approval of the issue in order to provide funds to furnish and equip the new wing. It appeared evident from an impromptu meeting of hospital officials last night that the possibility of continuing the project was almost nil.

It was just as evident that they, as well as city commissioners and city officials, did not know what could be done to finish the project.

The trend in Monday's election was visible about half an hour after the polls closed at 8 p.m. Of the 43 precincts reporting, only 11 showed a favorable vote on the issue.

Precinct 34 at the Public Housing Commission office showed no returns from the 32 votes cast when the machine was opened for a tally. City Clerk Ada R. Evans was to seek an explanation from the manufacturers this morning.

In the first round vote taken May 20, 6,893 property owners cast a thumbs down "no" on a $1,500,000 issue by a 2-to-1 margin of 4,531 to 2,203.

It was apparent in Monday's defeat of the issue, as well as in the May vote, that voters saw a possibility of a tax increase if the issue carried. This was

Officials Ponder What to Do Next at City Hospital

Hospital and city officials alike were puzzled last night, after the defeat of the hospital bond issue, as to what could be done now.

All said they were disappointed and surprised with the results. Some leveled "off the record" criticism at those that opposed the $950,000 issue.

STAND IDLE

Some members of the hospital's Board of Trustees hinted that they should let the new wing stand idle "and let those that opposed this worry when an epidemic or tornado strikes Pontiac."

Hearing the results, Carl I. Flath, new hospital director, threw up his arms and said, "It's unbelievable."

Mayor William W. Donaldson walked out of the hospital with fellow Commissioner John A. Dugan and said, "We're all stunned." Dugan had no comment.

PEOPLE SPOKEN

Willis M. Brewer, chairman of the Board of Trustees, said: "The people have spoken for the second time. Naturally we are all very disappointed. And I just don't know what the next step will be."

He placed the major reason for the defeat as resentment of many taxpayers that non-residents of the city use the facilities of Pontiac General and only pay a 15 per cent surtax.

Brewer mentioned also "the fear of increased taxes" as being another big reason for the rejection.

★ ★ ★

Paul A. Kern Jr., president of the Pontiac Taxpayers Assn., which opposed the issue, said the results of the election were a vindication of the belief of many taxpayers that "we can't provide

Winter Ducks Out; Fair Weather Back

For the Pontiac area, the U.S. Weather Bureau predicts generally fair climes with mild temperatures tonight. The low will be 36 to 40 degrees.

For tomorrow, partly cloudy is the prediction with little change in temperature. The high will be 56-60. The outlook for Wednesday night is mostly cloudy with a low of 34-38.

Thirty-seven was the lowest recorded temperature in downtown Pontiac before 8 a.m. By 2 p.m. the reading was a mild 53.

Shepherd Given Life Sentence

A maximum sentence of life imprisonment today was imposed on James D. Shepherd, 36-year-old Birmingham man convicted of the second-degree murder of his schoolteacher wife.

Circuit Judge Clark J. Adams ordered Shepherd to serve the sentence in State Prison of Southern Michigan at Jackson.

Shepherd, former salesman who admitted stabbing his wife Elizabeth, 42, to death in their home at 1509 Pierce St. last May 27 heard the sentence impassively. He had not asked for leniency.

Conviction of second-degree murder calls for imprisonment for any number of years up to life. Shepherd had originally been charged with first-degree murder which carries a mandatory life sentence.

Judge Adams who had found Shepherd guilty of the lesser charge after a non-jury trial today chose to impose on him the highest sentence possible in Michigan.

Although he admitted wielding the knife Shepherd said that at the time of the slaying he was "blacked out" because of combined use of alcohol and tranquillizing pills.

Soviet Rulers Delay Decision on Marshal's Future

Zhukov Rallies Support in Kremlin

LONDON (INS)—Marshal Georgi K. Zhukov is fighting back against his ouster from the ruling Soviet Presidium, has rallied some support, and has managed to delay a final decision on his future—possibly until Wednesday.

★ ★ ★

This was the word reaching London from authoritative sources in Moscow late today as the Central Committee of the Communist Party again met after its inconclusive session last night and early today.

Before this new information was obtained a Soviet diplomatic source in East Berlin said that Zhukov, ousted without explanation Saturday as defense minister, had been under detention by the Kremlin since his firing was announced.

Accusations against the marshal reportedly included one that he was building a "cult of personality" on the basis of his military leadership—the same charge that Communist Party boss Nikita Khrushchev made against the late dictator Stalin.

The feeling that Zhukov, foremost Soviet soldier, was not pulling his weight in the Communist Party, and not subscribing to the party's belief that the party and the armed services were indissolubly one, crystallized during Zhukov's recent tour of Yugoslavia and Albania.

The impression became firm in Khrushchev's mind that Zhukov on the contrary was throwing his own weight around and becoming unpleasantly dangerous to him.

★ ★ ★

The campaign was begun to oust Zhukov while the marshal was out of the country. Strong measures also were taken to reawaken party consciousness within the armed services, especially the army, leading to the current flow of inspired editorials as well as pep talks within army commands.

Zhukov was confronted with a

Film Giant Louis B. Mayer of M-G-M Dead at 72

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Louis B. Mayer, 72, the sentimental film tycoon who assembled the biggest array of stars in motion picture history, died today.

His death was believed to have been caused by anemia, from which he had been suffering for some time.

Mayer was hospitalized in San Francisco last August, but his condition improved and he was allowed to return to his southern California home Sept. 16.

He had been home only a few days, when his condition deteriorated, and he was admitted to the UCLA Medical Center.

Mayer had been receiving blood transfusions several weeks. His condition took a turn for the worse last evening.

He entered a coma and died at 12:35 a.m.

Mayer—for a quarter-century one of the movies' most powerful executives and from 1937 to 1943 the highest paid worker in the United States—began his business career assisting his father in a ship salvage business.

Born in Minsk, Russia, July 4, 1885, he was taken at three months to St. John, N. B.

That was where he joined his father's business after a short public school education.

He entered the fledgling movie industry as an exhibitor in Massachusetts in 1907. He became a theater owner-manager, then a film distributor and finally—needing more films to show—the co-organizer of M-G-M company.

Nixon, Gruenther—and Stassen

Eisenhower Reported Favoring 3 Men to Lead Republican Slate in '60 Election

By RUTH MONTGOMERY

WASHINGTON (INS)—President Eisenhower has reportedly told several politicians within recent weeks that the Republican Party has "three superb choices" for the presidency in 1960.

A top source said that Ike listed the potential candidates in this order: Vice President Richard M. Nixon, Gen. Alfred M. Gruenther and "peace secretary" Harold Stassen.

NIXON AHEAD

He said the President agreed that Nixon is currently "way out in front" in the running, but that the other two would "also provide excellent presidential timber."

Ike's addition of Stassen's name evoked considerable surprise, since the one-time "boy wonder" governor of Minnesota was demoted shortly after the beginning of Eisenhower's second term.

Stassen, reached by telephone in New York, was asked whether he has had any discussions with the President about his potential presidential candidacy in '60. He replied:

NO COMMENT

"Over the past five years I have enjoyed a wonderful working relationship with the President, and I never comment on my private conversations with him."

Formerly a White House adviser with Cabinet status, Stassen now ranks well down the list of State Department officials and reports to Secretary John Foster Dulles, instead of directly to Ike.

HOLDS NO GRUDGE

If so, Ike apparently holds no grudge against Stassen, and thinks he has exhibited excellent qualities of leadership during the long, drawn-out disarmament negotiations with the Russians.

Stassen, asked during a television interview last Sunday whether he believed he could contribute to national unity by running for an elective office, replied in these words:

"Any time I thought I could make a greater contribution to support of President Eisenhower . . . I would do so without hesitation. I think it is quite likely, after these five years of concentrating in these matters of service overseas (disarmament work) that I would come back to the active political arena in support of President Eisenhower and his objectives."

★ ★ ★

Some politicians interpreted this as a tip-off that Stassen will seek the Republican nomination for governor of Pennsylvania next year.

In light of Ike's reported remarks, however, Stassen could have been referring to the '60 presidential race. Asked for comment on this today, Stassen said he would have nothing to say on the subject.

The President's high regard for Gruenther is, of course, well established. Ike's one-time chief of staff at NATO, Guenther later held the top job by Eisenhower appointment, before resigning to become president of the American Red Cross.

A brilliant strategist, Gruenther undoubtedly possesses enviable qualifications for the presidency. He is, however, a virtual political unknown and unlike Eisenhower—who also lacked previous political experience or party affiliation—Gruenther's name is not a household word.

There is little likelihood that, barring a completely deadlocked Republican convention, Gruenther could win nomination.

Waterford Accepts Land Given for Cultural Center

Waterford Township board members officially accepted the offer made by Frank Steere, 4230 S. Shore Rd., for 17 scenic acres of land on Pontiac Lake road for a cultural center.

The acceptance came at the conclusion of a special meeting of the newly formed Waterford Steere Study Group held last night and was immediately presented at the Waterford Township board meeting by temporary chairman Rev. Walter Teeuwissen.

Steere has offered the land to the township providing they built a $250,000 library and cultural center on the land. Deadline for the township's acceptance was Dec. 23.

The 11-member study group has been authorized by the township board to continue in an advisory capacity. Its next meeting has been set for 7:30 p.m. Nov. 19 at the home of Rev. Teeuwissen, 4269 Monroe Ave.

At that time members will elect permanent officers and outline a general plan of procedure. Each member has been asked to bring a list of ideas and problems to be explored.

Two alternatives are possible for acquiring funds, according to Rev. Teeuwissen. Whether to get the necessary money by taxation and bonding or by public subscription will be studied along penses.

Graham Calls for Conversions

Asserts Acceptance of Christianity Only Way to Defeat Communism

NEW YORK (AP)—Billy Graham says that unless its "half Christians" are converted into "complete Christians" the Christian world will be defeated by communism.

Graham spoke last night at a dinner given by the Protestant Council of the City of New York.

Earlier in the day, he learned that he sustained a slight fracture of the knee when he was butted recently by a pet ram at his Montreat, N.C., farm.

After an examination at New York Hospital, Dr. Phillip D. Wilson Jr., orthopedic specialist, told the evangelist he had a slight vertical fracture at the knee, a deep bruise and that the condition known as "water-on-the knee" had developed.

Graham was ordered to stay off his feet except when absolutely necessary for three weeks. He also must wear stiff knee braces.

At the dinner, Graham declared that the Communists, directed by a handful of "dedicated and disciplined leaders, may triumph unless the Christian world meets the challenge.

He said "we stand in a mad arms race that's about to blow us all to bits."

Graham said two answers are available to the world: The Communist answer "which offers only the intellectuals the answers to their problems" and the Christian answer which "comes not from without but from within."

★ ★ ★

Plaques were presented to Graham, former Army Secretary Robert T. Stevens and Roger Hull, chairman of the executive committee of Graham's recent New York crusade. Stevens is National Chairman of Religion in American Life.

Graham said he was grateful for the hospitality shown in New York City during his crusade, which ended Sunday with a religious meeting at the Polo Grounds.

★ ★ ★

"We had never been to a city where we had been treated with such courtesy—by Catholics, Protestants and Jews," Graham said.

Anastasia Pal Held Under $50,000 Bail

NEW YORK (AP)—Anthony Coppola, sidekick of slain mobster Albert Anastasia, has been held in $50,000 bail as a material witness in his boss' shooting.

Authorities say they fear the 49-year-old paunchy Coppola would suffer the same bloody fate as Anastasia if he were set free.

★ ★ ★

"If this man walks out, it may very well be the beginning of open warfare by the hoodlums in this city," Alexander Herman, assistant district attorney in charge of the Homicide Bureau, warned yesterday in General Sessions Court.

Joseph Panzer, Coppola's lawyer, predicted that the bail will be posted within a day or two.

"There's nothing on earth I fear," bragged Coppola, who often has been described as Anastasia's bodyguard-chauffeur.

"I was just a friend of his. . . I haven't an enemy in the world and I thought Mr. Anastasia hadn't any either. May God have mercy on his soul wherever he is."

Reports Administration Sounded Out Adlai

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Herald Tribune said today it was learned on good authority that Adlai E. Stevenson has been quietly sounded out by the Eisenhower administration for appointment to the new civil rights commission.

A Washington dispatch to the newspaper added that Stevenson, the twice defeated Democratic presidential candidate, has discussed the matter with close associates and is reported inclined to turn down the offer.

Voters Defeat Bond Issue 3,530 to 2,150

Only 5,738 property owners cast ballots Monday. This is out of a potential of between 15,000 and 17,000 in the city.

Mrs. Evans reported that 26 votes were made void when voters apparently lifted up write-in slots on the machines. This too would be checked with the firm, she said.

WHAT NEXT?

Asked this morning what the next step in the long program to complete the wing would be, City Manager Walter K. Willman replied with an emphatic "I don't know."

★ ★ ★

Willis M. Brewer, chairman of the Board of Trustees of the hospital, said he would call an emergency meeting with Willman and the commission to discuss the situation.

The million and a half dollar issue had been trimmed down by hospital authorities in a desperate effort to provide just the bare necessities to get the new wing completed and opened.

Brewer hinted last night that contracts for some $400,000-plus of equipment would most likely be cancelled immediately.

The building committee of the board, headed by Edward P. Barrett, plans an emergency session to discuss this issue.

Paul A. Kern Jr., president of the Pontiac Taxpayers Assn., led a fight to defeat the issue, claiming the city had other sources of revenue without asking another bond issue.

The construction of the 200-bed addition is nearly completed with money from an original 1954 issue of $3,000,000.

Officials asked the succeeding issues because they say building costs have risen sharply since then.

★ ★ ★

Precinct 22, located in the City Hall, was first to turn in returns at 8:15. An hour and 15 minutes later, precinct 19, located at St. Michael's Hall, was the last of the city's precincts to submit returns.

★ ★ ★

Several city commissioners, in the clerk's office awaiting returns, voiced criticism of the small turnout at some precincts, and later for the special election turnout as a whole.

Precinct 38 at Bagley School reported only 27 voters, the smallest turnout. Precinct 5 at Washington School had the largest with 285.

The first paved street in New York was Stone Street. It got its name because the large cobblestones they used to pave it made it "the stony street."

Economists Present Bleak Picture

Governor Williams Fears Unemployment Next Year

LANSING (AP) — Gov. Williams, after consulting with his economic advisers, says he fears a nationwide business slump that will mean above normal unemployment in Michigan's auto industry next year.

The governor said he also is apprehensive that state tax income will not come up to expectations and that Michigan, along with most other states, will be confronted in 1958 with a "very severe fiscal problem."

He talked with newsmen for an hour yesterday after a regular quarterly meeting with his economic advisory group, consisting of university economists and key state officials in the areas of revenue, employment and state budgeting.

Williams related that the advisers had a "generally pessimistic mood" and said that one foresaw a recession ahead of the proportions of 1953-54. None was optimistic, he said.

He quoted Dr. Lawrence Seltzer, Wayne State University economist, that a drop of as much as 10 per cent might occur in the Federal Reserve Board's index of productivity, which this summer stood at 147.

The base period of 100 was 1947-'49.

HITS BRINKSMANSHIP

The governor offered as his own conclusion that the Federal Reserve Board has been "practicing brinksmanship," and said the key to the economic problem lay in federal government hands, and the states could do little.

"They're tightening the screws, tightening the screws—that's what I call brinksmanship," Williams said. "Trying to squeeze inflation to the last drop."

He said this has brought the country to the edge of an economic abyss, although he emphasized that he considered a repetition of the great depression impossible because of the built-in controls of New Deal times.

QUIT POLICY

He said the Federal Reserve Board should "quit its tight money policies," and at another point, declared, "We don't need the brakes any more."

"They have pushed the program of deflation to the very limit, to where it's possible the economy might skid," he said.

"Have you ever had this bleak a picture presented to you before?" a reporter asked.

"No, I haven't," said Williams, who soon will start his tenth year as governor.

Asked if the report came as a "shock," he said that it didn't strike him quite that way because he had been following economic developments.

"The state government cannot control the national economy," he said, "and that's what hurts us. The only thing that's going to juice us up in Michigan is to have that national economy take a step forward."

The governor steadfastly turned aside questions about what the impact might be on his 1958-'59 state budget recommendations, saying he hadn't had a chance to think the matter through.

House Speaker George M. Van Peursem, a Republican, has predicted that Williams will come in with an "economy" budget next year for political reasons.

'Dirty Football' Claim in East

Colleges End Relations Over Deliberate Injury Controversy

BOSTON (INS) — Northeastern and Brandeis Universities today severed all athletic relations in a controversy over whether a Northeastern player deliberately injured a Brandeis star in last Saturday's football game.

Coach Joe Zabilski angrily demanded a public apology from Friedman. When it was not forthcoming immediately, Herbert W. Gallagher, Northeastern Director of Athletics issued this statement:

"It is deemed impossible to carry on an amicable intercollegiate program with this (Brandeis) institution and for this reason it is better that we conclude any agreements we might have made with Brandeis University."

Friedman, who is also Director of Athletics at Brandeis, replied with a statement saying:

"Brandeis University, after careful consideration, has come to the conclusion that its athletic program would be better served by a discontinuance of athletic relationship with Northeastern University."

Prices Are Revealed for Studebaker Cars

The smallest increase was for the two-door Scotsman sedan, up from $1,776 to $1,795.

The regular four-door sedan in the President line has been discontinued and the President Classic sedan price was increased from $2,539 to $2,639.

The Day in Birmingham

Hearing on Zoning Draws but Half Dozen Residents

BIRMINGHAM — Commissioners last night were prepared for a long tough session were amazed to hear the motion for adjournment come shortly before nine o'clock.

The purposely light agenda was prepared to give ample time for the first informal hearing on the new zoning ordinance. Dealing last night with the first three phases of residential zoning, city officials expected a widespread interest.

Only about half a dozen residents attended the meeting and not one had a comment to make.

City Planner Herbert Herzberg explained the three phases and how they will affect future development of the city.

Carl Ingraham, mayor pro-tem, said he was at a loss to explain the apparent lack of interest on the part of residents.

The balance of residential zoning will be discussed in another informal hearing next Monday night.

The suggested residence requirements for members of the various boards and committees appointed by commissioners, was presented last night. After a brief discussion, commissioners voted to withhold action until Mayor William Roberts can be present.

Mayor Roberts has shown considerable interest in this phase of city government and the group felt he should be there for official action.

Reds Seem Divided on Zhukov's Future

fait accompli on the replacement decision when he returned home Saturday.

The burly 61-year-old military leader refused to accept the decision, demanded a hearing, and said he would resist strongly.

Observers said the failure of the Central Committee to make any announcement after the long session yesterday which lasted until 3:30 a.m. today indicated there was no unanimity in the party either about the future of the marshal or the policy issues.

The issues were said to go far beyond the mere question of giving Zhukov another post, or relegating him to obscurity.

Reports late yesterday said Zhukov had also been fired from the ruling Presidium of the Soviet Communist Party. These reports were completely unofficial. They came from members of Western diplomatic missions in Moscow.

While the Central Committee has been meeting, Moscow has been cut off from the rest of the Soviet Union "as a precaution against pro-Zhukov elements in the armed forces."

The source declared that a showdown became necessary because Khrushchev wanted to make himself free to decide both party and government matters.

A Berlin source said tumultuous scenes occurred during the Central Committee meeting when Khrushchev spoke for more than six hours while listing charges against Zhukov.

★ ★ ★

Principal charges against Zhukov, acording to the source, were that he was building a personality cult similar to the one which surrounded Stalin, that he was using the army as his own property and seeking to make the army loyal to himself rather than to the party and the state.

COMMUNIQUE LIKELY

The Soviet source said the Central Committee meeting was expected to end either tonight or tomorrow at which time a communique will be issued giving reasons for ousting Zhukov from the Defense Ministry and the party Presidium.

★ ★ ★

This source said Khrushchev was sure of getting a majority of the Central Committee to support his charges against Zhukov whose only important supporter was said to be Marshal V. D. Sokolovsky, chief of the general staff.

Other members of the armed forces on the Central Committee, including Marshal Ivan Konev, commander of the Warsaw Pact armies, and Deputy Defense Minister Marshal A. M. Vasilevsky, were said to be in opposition to Zhukov.

Marshal Rodion Y. Malinovsky, who took Zhukov's place as defense minister, may be promoted to the Presidium, which has the day-to-day responsibility for running the party and, through it, the country. The Central Committee is responsible for broad policy decisions.

An editorial in the Tuesday edition of Pravda official organ of the party reminded the people that the party headed by Khrushchev is the "supreme inspirer and holder of Soviet power."

It was the strongest of a spate of recent editorials including some in military newspapers which called attention to party supremacy.

A POSITIVE SIGN

Diplomats regarded the editorials as a sure sign that Khrushchev had acted to keep the army from gaining enough power to endanger his position.

★ ★ ★

Zhukov is undoubtedly the most popular individual in the Soviet Union and very likely has adherents among the Central Committee membership.

Even if they agreed to a downgrading of their hero they may have asked some sharp questions of Khrushchev because of the timing of the announcement of Zhukov's removal as defense chief.

The suggested residence requirements for members of the various boards and committees appointed by commissioners, was presented last night. After a brief discussion, commissioners voted to withhold action until Mayor William Roberts can be present.

Mayor Roberts has shown considerable interest in this phase of city government and the group felt he should be there for official action.

Harold M. Stockwell

Service will be at 2 p.m. Wednesday in an Ashland, Ohio funeral home for Harold M. Stockwell, 61, of 1330 Chesterfield Rd. Mr. Stockwell died Sunday in Pontiac General Hospital, after a long illness.

He came to Birmingham 13 years ago, and in 1955 retired after 15 years with the Army Engineers Corps. He had also been associated with Giffels and Vallet, construction and architectural engineers.

He was a member of the First Methodist Church and American Legion Post 88 of Ashland.

He is survived by his wife, Portia K., and a daughter, Nancy J.

Mrs. Israel Gravlin

Prayer service will be at 8:30 p.m. Wednesday from the Manley Bailey Funeral Home for Mrs. Israel (Muree) Gravlin, 49, of 1714 Yosemite St. Funeral service will be at 9 a.m. Thursday from the funeral home.

Mrs. Gravlin died Monday at her home after a long illness.

She is survived by her husband; two sons, John C. Munger of Royal Oak and James E. Munger of Oak Park; her father, James C. McMahon of Detroit; one sister, Mary McMahon of Detroit and three brothers, John C. of Grosse Pointe Farms, Vincent P. of Detroit and James of Dallas, Texas.

service for all the area on our money."

"I only hope the future waits for us," was the comment of William P. Babcock, a member and former chairman of the board.

"It is just unexplainable how the people can put the value of human life on the same pedestal with dollars," said James Clarkson, another board member.

"I would like some frank reasons by those who voted no why they did so, so we, the hospital board and city commission, can improve our public relations in the future," said Rev. Theodore R. Allebach, board secretary.

Gromer to Present Atlantic Coast Film

Julian Gromer's travel film, "The Atlantic Coast Wonderland," will kick off the 1957-58 Travel and Adventure Series tonight sponsored by the Downtown Pontiac Kiwanis Club.

The program is scheduled to begin at 8 p.m. at the Pontiac High School Auditorium, and is one of seven travelogues to be presented through March, 1958.

Gromer, who has won many awards for his excellence in the travel film field, is expected to be one of the season's highlights.

Dr. White Gets Laughs at 5-Mile-Walk Talk

DETROIT (INS) — Dr. Paul Dudley White, heart specialist and consulting physician to President Eisenhower, says all the medicine in the world can't do as much good for a tired businessman as a five mile walk.

White spoke before the Economic Club. His audience, which included about 50 physicians, roared with laughter. White responded: "Yes, I know. I have trouble getting people to walk half a mile with me."

Italians Preview Cars

TURIN, Italy (AP) — Europeans may see the new 1958 automobiles from Detroit before Americans. Turin's International Cars Exhibition opens tomorrow, four days before the New York auto show, and at least four American manufacturers are reported planning to exhibit new models. The Turin exhibition's sponsors say Lincoln, Pontiac, Buick and Chevrolet are expected to show some of their 1958 models here.

Know the Weather

By E. H. SIMS

Does a red sunrise indicate rain before the end of the day, as the saying goes?

There is little scientific support for this belief, which is also a part of a rhyme concerning both red sunsets and red sunrises. A red sunrise merely indicates dusty atmosphere to the west in most areas of the country—not a sign of rain.

A red sunset is an indication, in fall and winter, of dry weather and probably cold weather, more often than not. A red sunrise would seem to have the same value as a weather clue.

Therefore, in the famed rhyme about red sunrises and red sunsets, the folklore about the sunrise would often be wrong while the old belief about the sunset would more often than not be correct.

The party, scheduled to begin at 7 p.m., will feature free cider, donuts and movies for the kids.

Man Forces Deputy, 5 Others Off Road

An Oakland County Sheriff's Deputy said today he chased a Pontiac motorist down Auburn road at speeds up to 80 miles per hour last night, after he and five other drivers were forced off the road.

Deputy George R. Enners said he had to drive off the highway on Auburn, just east of Livernois road in Avon Township, when a car veered into his lane.

Chasing the driver, Enners saw five other cars which had been forced off the road, he said. When finally stopped, the driver allowed his car to roll back into his patrol car, Enners said.

Driver Emerson R. Leslie, 37, of 83 S. Francis St. was arrested on a charge of drunk driving.

No Progress Since 17th Century?

Assails High School Math

CHICAGO (AP)—American high schools were said today to be so far behind in mathematics that "any 17th Century mathematician, reappearing on earth, could without any preparation teach the traditional curriculum."

★ ★ ★

Howard F. Feuhr, president of the National Council of Teachers of Mathematics, told the Conference on the American High School in a prepared speech:

Mathematicians themselves are creating new branches of pure mathematics, much of it knowledge that did not exist 60 years ago. Applied and pure mathematics have burst the existing compartments that house arithmetic, algebra and geometry and have made most of the classical treatment of high school mathematics obsolete."

High schools have continued to teach, with little change, the same mathematics curriculum they taught more than 60 years ago, he said.

★ ★ ★

Feuhr, head of the Mathematics Teaching Department of Columbia Teachers College, New York, proposed a high school math curriculum which he said "catches the spirit of modern mathematics, wherein we seek patterns of thought and mathematical forms rather than specific tricks."

'58 Blockade Planned in Congress

School Aid Future Dim

WASHINGTON (AP)—Federal aid for school construction, twice turned down by Congress in the last two years, has been quietly ticketed for a House committee pigeonhole at the 1958 session.

A decision to drop the school aid fight temporarily was disclosed today by Rep. Cleveland M. Bailey (D-WVa), chairman of the House subcommittee on general education.

Politics, the bitter school segregation issue, and Democratic irritation with President Eisenhower's leadership in last session's school aid battle were all factors contributing to the decision, Bailey said.

Speaking to a reporter, Bailey asserted that as chairman of the school legislation he intended to sit on the bill at the next session of Congress which opens in January.

"The administration had its chance last year," Bailey said, referring to the 208-203 House defeat handed a 1½ billion dollar aid bill which reflected most of the administration's proposals.

On this vote, 111 Republicans and 97 Democrats teamed to kill the bill. Against killing it were 77 Republicans and 126 Democrats.

"First of all, the Eisenhower administration wants to make a political issue of school grants," Bailey asserted. "An election year is a bad time to play politics with school needs.

Bailey, a strong backer of school grants, said he expects Eisenhower will renew his request in his 1959 budget message in January.

"Furthermore, until such time as President Eisenhower can show a majority of his own party is in favor of the legislation, I am not going to take any action," Bailey said.

Bailey said he was also forced reluctantly to the conclusion that the integration dispute — cutting strongly into school aid support "would mitigate strongly against passage of federal grants at this time."

While planning to drop general school assistance next year, Bailey said his subcommittee plans to continue special assistance to local school districts overburdened by pupils from federal defense and military activities.

This federal program of school aid to impacted areas has funneled around $1,200,000,000 in federal school construction funds into some 2,300 local school districts in the past six years.

Additional millions of dollars of federal aid have been spent for maintenance and operation of overcrowded buildings in impacted areas since the program began in 1951. The current budget provides approximately 69 million dollars for this purpose.

Another education subcommittee headed by Rep. Elliott (D-Ala) is expected to consider federal tuition and assistance grants to worthy students in technical training fields.

Eyes Changing Missile Policy

Army General Seeking Lifting of Limitations on Range of Rockets

WASHINGTON (AP)—A hint that the Army hopes the Defense Department may loosen its limitations on Army missile ranges has come from a general critical of the policy.

Gen. Willard G. Wyman, head of the Cntinental Army Command, discussed the need for ground force missiles in addressing the Assn. of the U.S. Army yesterday.

★ ★ ★

"I consider it dangerous to fetter our development now with arbitrary range limitations and rigid definitions," Wyman said.

A directive now limits Army authority to a 200-mile range for bombardment type missiles, and to a 100-mile range for antiaircraft guided missiles.

At a subsequent news conference, Wyman was asked about the remark.

Wyman replied he thought that when former Secretary of Defense Wilson issued the restrictions, in a directive on the roles and missions of the armed forces, he recognized that the area on missile development and use was "somewhat cloudy."

And, said the general, he thought the directive recognized that "there would be changes from time to time."

Wyman put his views into a speech which he read. But another high officer discarded a prepared speech which took pointed issue with some philosophies and claims of the Air Force and limited his actual talk to a mild discourse on the Army's role in air defense.

Lt. Gen. Stanley R. Mickelsen, who is retiring as chief of the Army's Air Defense Command, scrapped his original text which said such things as "interceptor aircraft are obsolescent" and the Army's present Nike antiaircraft missile "can reach and kill any bomber that flies today."

Seeks Crackdown on Teen Dope Use

DETROIT (AP) — Juvenile Judge Nathan J. Kaufman says he has received detailed information of the existence of a dope ring that peddles marijuana to high school teen-agers in Detroit.

He has called for a meeting of police and County Prosecutor Samuel H. Olsen to map a crackdown on the traffic.

Kaufman said a 16-year-old was arrested Sunday along with three other teen-agers on charges involving narcotics violations. He said it was the second arrest in five days involving teen-agers on dope charges.

Kaufman said the 16-year-old listed names, dates and places where marijuana could be bought.

The young informant and his companions were arrested after police stopped a taxicab on a routine check and found a match box full of marijuana in the youth's possession.

The youngster told Kaufman he and his friends bought the narcotic with money they got on the sale of stolen records.

Income Tax Accountants Take Note

Emotional Stress Causes Heart Attack?

CHICAGO (INS) — Your income tax return may be harder on your accountant than on you — as least as far as the heart is concerned.

This was suggested today at the 30th annual meeting of the American Heart Association by two San Francisco physicians who have studied the possible role of occupational stress in causing heart attacks.

Drs. Ray H. Rosenman and Meyer Friedman found that levels of cholesterol, a fatty substance associated with hardening of the arteries, soared and clotting time of the blood was speeded up 30 per cent in 42 male accountants they studied during tax deadline periods.

It is believed that persistent high blood cholesterol levels and short blood clotting time may be the first steps in setting the stage for a heart attack.

The heart attack actually is a clot blocking the coronary artery feeding the heart muscle.

Rosenman and Friedman said:

"We believe this change in the person's blood is clearcut evidence that socio-economic stress and associated emotional tension are important in bringing on heart attacks."

They reported that in their study 83 per cent of the accountants showed highest cholesterol levels at the times of greatest work stress, and in 75 per cent of the subjects, lowest cholesterol was found at the time of least stress.

The physicians said the changes in cholesterol levels in their experiment could not be traced to "any differences in weight, exercise, diet or general health."

Summerfield Sees Postal Rate Hike

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Postmaster Gen. Arthur E. Summerfield predicted Congress will increase postal rates at its next session to reduce a 700-million-dollar annual loss by the Post Office Department.

Summerfield, here for the convention of the National Assn. of Postmasters, said in an interview yesterday he expects first class postal rates to be raised to four cents, air mail to seven cents and other rates proportionately.

He said savings made through more efficient operation and bookkeeping have been more than offset by added expenses authorized by Congress.

"Congress has added 500 million dollars to our expenses while at the same time it has done nothing to increase our revenues," Summerfield said.

He said most of the additional expenses authorized by Congress were for salary increases and fringe benefits for postal workers.

Southeast Feels Cold Move In

Region Extends Into Alabama, Mississippi and Florida

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

There was a switch in the weather, temperaturewise, today, with many parts of the Southeast colder than the Northeast and the Great Lakes region.

Temperatures were mostly in the 30s from the Ohio Valley and the Virginias southward. Some places reported below freezing readings.

The cool belt extended into the northern sections of Alabama and Mississippi and northwest Florida, and covered most areas in the Carolinas, Georgia, Tennessee, Kentucky and Virginia. It was 28 degrees at Crossville, Tenn., compared to a reading of 42 at Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., on Lake Superior.

Cross City, in northwest Florida, reported a chilly 35 degrees, and it was 32—freezing—at Alma, in southwest Georgia. Both Ra- Tenn., cooled to 30 degree marks.

In contrast, it was 43 at Boston, 41 in Minneapolis, 41 in Detroit and 38 in Chicago.

Temperatures in the 30s also were general in the northern Plains and the Northern Rockies but southerly winds warmed the Southern Plains and the Middle Mississippi Valley. Westerly winds also brought warming trend was reported from Texas northeastward through lower Michigan.

Dry weather prevailed in most of the country.

Fair and warmer weather was the outlook for most areas east of the Mississippi River as well as in the lower and Middle Mississippi Valleys and the Southern Plains.

Snow flurries and cooler weather was forecast in the Upper Mississippi Valley while showers were expected along the North Pacific Coast and in the southwest desert region.

Headed for Pacific in Stolen Plane

Search for Suicide Pilot

SEATTLE (AP) — A Coast Guard cutter, hampered by rain and low visibility, today sought for the wreckage of a stolen single-engine plane whose pilot had radioed he was making a suicide dive into the Pacific 100 miles off the Washington coast.

★ ★ ★

The plane, a rebuilt Stinson owned by B. K. Louthan of Seattle, was stolen yesterday from Boeing Field here. It buzzed downtown office buildings and a Puget Sound ferry, then headed west and disappeared in the clouds.

Last heard from the pilot, who identified himself at "J. A. Greenawalt of Seattle," was a radio message about 2:45 p.m. (PST) that he was "taking this way out" to solve recent mental depression.

Civil Aeronautics Administration officials in Hoquiam, on the coast, said a military radar station had spotted the plane going down from 11,000 feet.

★ ★ ★

The Coast Guard cutter McClaine was dispatched by Coast Guard headquarters here to the scene from Aberdeen, four miles east of Hoquiam.

A plane was sent from the Coast Guard station at Port Angeles on the northern shore of the Olympic Peninsula. The plane failed to find any sign of the Stinson.

Weather permitting, another plane was to join in the search today.

Greenawalt was identified by the CAA as a former controller trainee at the Seattle Air Traffic Control Center. He resigned Sept. 7 after working there about a year. Officials said he was 22.

Container Sales Climb

NEW YORK — Some 390,000,000 aerosol-container products were sold in the United States last year at an average of $1 per retail item. Sales of these containholding nonfood items climbed 33 per cent over 1955 and were 10 times those of 1951.

Early U. S. gold pieces were counterfeited in platinum.

Siam Meekly Ends Catskill Romp

AP Wirephoto

VACATION'S OVER — Siam appears pleased as her trainer, Joyce Vidbel, directs her into a motor van after a 13-day Catskill mountain vacation which started when a horse scared her from a barn in which she was housed.

MITCHELL HOLLOW, N. Y. (AP) —Siam, the Catskills elephant, munched today on whisky-soaked feed while residents of this area relaxed. The unlikely safari was over.

The 2½ ton female, considerably chastened by a cold and hunger, submitted meekly to her captors yesterday.

This was not the same girl who had been romping in the Catskill Mountains for 13 days, defying safaris of all sorts, aircraft and her trainers.

Today she was back at the farm she fled Oct. 16. After a week's respose "to settle her mind" she again will take up the television and circus life that she had forsaken for a simple pastoral existence.

★ ★ ★

A posse trailed the tired animal yesterday several miles through woods until she finally halted near a quarry. She had been caught and had broken away twice during the day.

Alfred Vidbel, one of her trainers, simply walked up to her and talked. She listened while an assistant put hobbling chains on her legs.

Then she lumbered up a ramp and was off to the farm she had fled when she was frightened by galloping horses.

A veterinarian, after making a quick check with a zoo, administered a shot of penicillin and prescribed whisky in the feed. Two glassfuls were dropped in.

★ ★ ★

The veterinarian said that Siam's temperature was one degree below normal and that she had a cold in her eyes.

Mrs. Vidbel said Siam received an excited and noisy welcome from her two fellow performers, Bombay and Elhi, also females. They have been together about seven years.

The three spent last night together in a van in order to keep Siam warm.

Mrs. Vidbel pronounced her charge "awfully gaunt" and reported she was gobbling up her alcoholic feed at a great rate.

★ ★ ★

After the week's rest, Mrs. Vidbel said they would begin a refresher course to make sure that Siam had not picked up any wild habits during her odyssey in the Catskills.

Owners Uneasy in House That's Accident-Prone

Late yesterday afternoon two autos collided at an intersection a few feet from the Evans home at nearby East Freedom. The autos locked together and smashed into a wall of the house.

Little more than three hours later a truck and auto came together and they, too, smashed into the Evans home.

The wall of the home was damaged but no one inside the house was hurt. Two of the four drivers were injured. One, Peter W. Odenthal, 44, of Portage, Pa., was reported in critical condition today.

"It makes a person wonder if they shouldn't move to a safer location," Mrs. Evans said.

Finds Wife Dead in Car, Succumbs to Stroke

MAYSVILLE, Okla. (AP) — A doctor said a traveling salesman discovered his wife dead in their car here, and shortly afterwards was found dead in the same car after he had notified his family.

The doctor said both deaths apparently were caused by heart attacks.

City Gives $224 for Children of Dying Mother

Volunteers out collecting in a porchlight campaign to raise funds for the family of a Clarkston mother of 10 who is dying of cancer raised $224 in Pontiac last night.

The money will be deposited in the Mickey Luebke fund at the Clarkston State Bank. Mrs. Luebke, 34, of 6571 Sashabaw Rd., learned on Mother's Day that she had cancer, and would not live long.

A similar porchlight campaign will be conducted in Clarkston tonight, and in the Drayton, Sashabaw, Clintonville area Wednesday night. Persons may also mail contributions to the Luebke fund at the Clarkston State Bank.

Three of the 10 Luebke children have been adopted, and six remain at home. Another is living with relatives. Luebke, a welder, although working now, has been unemployed for some time.

Pilot Lands in Street to Ask About Airport

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M. (AP)— City Patrolman Larry Eversull has often been asked for directions—but never before from an airplane.

The light plane landed on a city street yesterday evening near Eversull's patrol car and taxied over. The unidentified pilot leaned out and yelled he was "going to Montana" and where was the nearest airport.

The stunned policeman told him and the pilot took off.

Emergency Funds for November Relief

Ask Supervisors for Extra $100,000 Aid

Oakland County Supervisors will be asked tomorrow to appropriate $100,000 in emergency funds to bolster direct relief in November.

★ ★ ★

This appropriation will be in addition to $100,000 already appropriated for the same purpose last month.

Robert Y. Moore, chairman of the Board of Auditors, predicted that another $100,000 would have to be appropriated next month to continue direct relief payments through the end of the year.

The emergency appropriations are in addition to the $683,500 budgeted by the county for relief this year. Through September of this year, Moore said, the county had spent $778,833 in direct relief.

County officials listed two main reasons why the 1957 relief budget was used up before the end of the year.

The principal reason, said George Burt, vice chairman of the Social Welfare Department, was that the state cut its contribution to persons on relief July 1.

★ ★ ★

The contribution was cut from 50 per cent of the total aid to 30 per cent, and the county has had to dip into its pocket to make up the difference, Burt said.

★ ★ ★

The second reason has been a five per cent increase in the number of persons on relief.

Burf said there were 1,698 persons on the county's relief rolls last week, compared with an average 700 to 800 a year ago.

This increase, he said, not only reflects an increase in county unemployment, but also the increase in county population, which has risen from about 580,000 a year ago to an estimated 615,000 today.

The emergency funds, Moore said, are being transferred from the county's courthouse building fund. If the expected total of $300,000 is transferred to direct relief this year, it will leave slightly more than $1,000,000 in the fund, Moore said.

★ ★ ★

Re-appointment of Moore, Corporation Counsel Harry J. Merrit and ten other county officers to new terms;

Appointment of a new member to the Social Welfare Department;

★ ★ ★

Appointment of a nine-member committee to study reforms in Oakland County government;

★ ★ ★

Deferment of a special election on the proposed courthouse until a court decision which tied up the courthouse funds is appealed to the State Supreme Court. The appeal may be heard early next spring; and

★ ★ ★

Taxpayers Again Refuse Funds for City Hospital

In a very, very light—but very, very decisive vote—Pontiac taxpayers soundly rejected the current proposal to raise an additional $950,000 to complete the General Hospital.

This project is in the civic dog house.

Only a handful of voters were sufficiently interested to show up and express their preference. Less than 6,000 appeared and the move needed 3,415 votes to carry. It received a bare 2,150. In prize ring parlance, this would be termed "no contest."

★ ★ ★

The voters feel they've been deceived.

When the taxpayers placed the O.K. on the three million dollar bond issue, "to build and equip a hospital," apparently they meant JUST THAT.

Rumors sprang up quickly after this approval, suggesting that the three million dollars would be used mainly for walls; and further methods would be employed to finance the completion and the equipment.

These suggestions reached The Pontiac Press and we immediately printed an editorial (November 22, 1954) and counseled strongly against this procedure. We urged the complete job be done with the three million dollars voted.

However, the City and hospital authorities felt otherwise, saying the advances in costs were responsible, and they used the money primarily for enclosing. Then they went to the people and asked $1,850,000 to finish the job.

The answer was a flat "no."

The current campaign cut the amount to $950,000. But again the majority of the voters was in disagreement. They shook it off —decisively.

City Manager Walter K. Willman tells The Press that money could be diverted from other funds to finish the job. It would seem inexpedient to do this without putting the switch up to the people. The voters should decide whether they want to give up improvements in walks, streets, city buildings, etc., or complete the empty wing.

★ ★ ★

We give very slight chance to any countywide drive to raise funds by "popular subscription." Other communities will smile sympathetically and suggest we build our own hospital. From Birmingham south, there will be no use to try, as Beaumont is discussing another campaign. President TOMLINSON asserted Beaumont had outgrown its size the day the front doors opened.

★ ★ ★

In the meantime, St. Joe is "standing by" waiting for the City Hospital problem to be resolved. If business picks up in the spring, the chances are they will approve a drive destined to raise three million dollars.

Certainly it's their turn.

The PRESS regrets the current stalemate. We feel it is against the best public interests, but the people are adamant.

P. S. Don't get very sick.

MEMBER OF AUDIT BUREAU OF CIRCULATIONS

Congress May Revise Federal Road Program

The U.S. Bureau of Public Roads has issued a progress report covering the 15 months since passage of the Highway Act.

In that time contracts for 2,227 miles of the planned 41,000 miles of the interstate system have been signed at a cost of $1 billion. Congress had estimated that $27.5 billion would pay for the interstate program.

Since passage of the act in 1956 costs of steel, concrete and labor have risen considerably. It now is estimated that $3 billion more will be required to complete the work in the allotted 13 years.

The interstate system is to be built from Federal trust funds coming from use taxes on gasoline, tires, etc. In fiscal 1956 this income fell $60 million under the expected receipts of $1.5 billion.

Congressional committees will review the question in the next session. There are at least four alternatives — to raise taxes, reduce planned mileage, appropriate more money from general funds or lengthen construction time.

Few would be in favor of curtailing this vital program. It may be that lengthening the time would be the answer. Some Federal officials think the period should be increased to 16 years. In the meantime should the cost of materials and labor decrease, the work again could be speeded with benefit to the economy.

One Little Bump and —

David Lawrence Says:

Time to Send 'Sputniks' to Russia

WASHINGTON — The Soviet government has released another "Sputnik"—the synonym nowadays for a world sensation. But this one could prove to be a boomerang—the missile of self-destruction.

LAWRENCE

It publicizes the existence of a cruel dictatorship and gives the people of Russia notice that their only chance to get possession of their own government is by revolution.

But the revolution will not happen until the people of the Soviet Union some day can get all the facts—and that calls meanwhile for a "Sputnik" of information coming daily from the free world.

For if ever there was a time to broadcast some simple truths to the people of Soviet Russia, it is today when the whole world is given a dramatic example of one-man rule. That example is the removal of Marshal Zhukov, war hero, from his post as minister of defense.

No dictatorship in history has been able in the long run to resist the passions of an aroused people. The trouble today is that the outside world does little to arouse those very passions—to awaken the Russian people to the meaning of what has been happening and the dangers that lie ahead.

When the power to make war is in the hands of one man or a little clique, as in Soviet Russia, the people there are in constant danger of being plunged into a war they do not want.

"Sputnik," as a forerunner of new weapons, means that missiles are available to the Soviet dictatorship to be shot over long distances —to destroy bases in Europe, which would be the most important target.

The capacity, on the other hand, to retaliate on a massive scale exists in the nations of the free world. The leadership of Great Britain and the United States has lately reiterated it.

This is what Prime Minister Macmillan and President Eisenhower said on this very point in their formal statement last week:

"In the absence of such disarmament as we are seeking, international security now depends not merely on local defensive shields, but upon reenforcing them with the deterrent and retaliatory power of nuclear weapons."

Here in plain words is warning from the Western leaders to the people of the Soviet Union that, if the Kremlin starts a war, there will be "massive retaliation."

Since one-man rule increases the danger of sudden war, the United States and its allies have a most important "missile" of another kind to launch—a missile of information direct to the people of the Soviet Union telling them of the peril the whole world faces because the Russian people have been prevented from exercising the basic rights of freedom, namely, to choose their own rulers in a free election.

The way to prevent a world war is to ally the people of Russia on the side of peace. At the moment, the people of Russia run the risk of a precipitated war. The sudden removal of Marshal Zhukov has started a guessing game 'round the world.

One thing is clear, the World War II military leader of Russia's victorious armies, and friend of General Eisenhower, was removed from his high office as minister of defense while he was away on a tour of other countries—unquestionably arranged so that he would be out of contact with the army that he leads.

If it had been intended to promote or elevate Zhukov and not relegate him just to another job of supposed importance, the event would have been the occasion for a big ceremony and plenty of publicity.

The mystery and the secrecy have merely emphasized that dictator Khrushchev removed the man he fears most and took advantage of Zhukov's absence to pull off the "purge."

Will the allies have the courage to proclaim the truth to the people of Russia? Will the Congress here cease its policy of unwise parsimony and give the government enough money to send a thousand "Sputniks" of information into the heart of Russia?

The only way to assure peace is to have a government of the people in every country, so that war cannot be ordered by one man or a committee of dictators.

Dr. William Brady Says:

Finds Way to Reduce Sick Headaches, Coughs

A Midwest reader writes:

"I have followed your teachings for many years. Have had excellent results from your prescriptions for chronic running ear, the homemade fool proof cough medicine, calcium and D and several others.

DR. BRADY

"Particularly I have you to thank for reducing my weekly sick headaches to maybe one sick headache in a year. Your daily advice about nutrition has changed my family's habits and benefited us all. (Signed)"

A letter like that cheers me up for several days, even on days I don't bowl. It helps me to keep trying.

The home treatment for chronic running ear is described in the pamphlet on Running Ear. Instructions for one with migrain (periodic sick headache) are given in the pamphlet Why Have Headache? For either pamphlet, send stamped, self-addressed envelope. If you ask for both, inclose 25 cents in addition.

Instructions for preparing and using the Foolproof Home Made Cough Medicine are given in the booklet Call it C R I. The gist of a hundred other lessons is in the red book titled What to Eat and Why. For either booklet, send 35 cents and stamped, self-addressed envelope.

One ingredient the recipe for cough medicine calls for was freely available a few years ago. Indeed, it was formerly used to modify cow's milk for infant feeding. But my readers built up the demand for it and, by some shenanigans, the manufacturers painted on the container: To be dispensed on prescription.

Notice that it doesn't prohibit dispensing WITHOUT prescription. One druggist tells me he knows no reason why a druggist can't sell sodium citrate by the ounce or pound without prescription.

However, if the druggists in your town are difficult about it, use potassium citrate instead of sodium citrate, in the same quantity. To the best of my knowledge, the phony prohibition has not yet been applied to potassium citrate.

★ ★ ★

There's no dope whatsoever in the Home Made Foolproof Cough Medicine. That's what makes it foolproof. It may do no good; although for some reason or other, a good many readers now whip up a batch whenever a member of the family — infant or adult begins to cough. But even if the baby gets hold of it and drinks the whole batch it can do no harm.

★ ★ ★

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped, self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

More Comment on Sabbath Day

I agree the Bible doesn't say the Sabbath is Sunday. The law of God is to be a standard of judgment. Jesus is Lord of the Sabbath. We shall keep the Sabbath as a sign of God's peace. Saturday the seventh day is the Sabbath of the Lord thy God. The Catholic Church, over a thousand years before existence of Protestants, by virtue of the Divine Mission, changed the day from Saturday to Sunday, because the Catholic Church, in the Council of Laodicea A. D. 336, transferred the solemnity from Saturday to Sunday. Constantine passed the first known Sunday A. D. 321.

James Kelley

35 Bagley St.

Scriptures doesn't in any instance establish which day, but does specify a rest day. Some choose Saturday and some Sunday. But what if the good Lord started His work on Tuesday or Wednesday. That would establish the Sabbath on Monday or Tuesday. Will someone tell me where the Bible says which day it was started?

I choose to attend Sunday services as a weekly reminder that on "the first day of the week" Christ arose from His tomb, and that was according to established calendars, which were, so I'm told, non-existent in the beginning.

However, why quibble over which day? If we honor God one day and forget him the rest, we're a lost cause anyway. I like to think of the Sabbath as every day in the week.

'What's Happening to This Nation?'

What is this good old U.S.A. coming to? We're sending millions to foreign lands while our little children are asked to walk a mile or more on highways where cars go at high speeds.

Men are leaving years of social security that their widows will never live to collect, because they must wait years before they can get it. The Negroes are born here and they are pushed around. The Little Rock trouble is disgraceful.

When foreign people are brought in they are given good homes and the best chances for education. But very little is done for our own poor folks. I wonder if the mess in Little Rock is between the rich and the poor. All the poor people in this world have to say is "Oh, Lord, hasten Thy returning." Some of us may be awfully poor, but we're not altogether dumb.

Disgusted Person

Three Discuss Earlier Letter

The person who wrote about the woman nursing her baby in a public rest room must have an awfully narrow mind to think it's so disgusting. What's wrong with that? The poor child has to eat. At least the woman didn't do it out in the store or some other public place. Some people are just disgusting and don't understand nature.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Smile Contains Universal Appeal

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

If you wish to be popular and obtain good jobs, then you should follow the advice of Mr. Buford. For people who win friends easily have a special technique. You don't become popular as a matter of luck or accident. So learn the proper strategy. And start your campaign by imitating the airplane stewardess described below.

Case W-332: Joe Buford, aged 50, is the president of the mixed adult Bible Class which I teach.

★ ★ ★

He starts the meeting with some live wire hymns which most people know. Their tempo is never sluggish or funereal.

DR. CRANE

Then he always recruits some musicians to sing or play on their various instruments as a special number.

"Now we come to the highpoint of our opening exercises," Joe adds. "Let's see your smiles."

For Joe is a meat dealer and a star salesman, too. So he realizes the importance of having church people show cordiality.

As a result, he has not only prodded the class into adopting my "Compliment Club" as a wholesome Christian project.

But he has likewise prompted them into joining the "League of the Golden Pen," wherein you become a member by writing just one letter per week to somebody who merits praise or sympathy.

SMILE, SMILE, SMILE

A smile is also a non-verbal compliment. It shows our companions that we like them and enjoy their presence.

A smile thus is a universal form of sign language which works well on Russians and Germans, French and Americans, Chinese and Hottentots.

But many very splendid people habitually wear a poker face. They may even have a sour puss expression when their features are in natural repose.

So it takes a smile to vitalize the face and make it a "salesman." Joe Buford has thus included a special item in the opening exercises of the class which he headlines on the printed bulletin in this manner:

"IT'S TIME TO SMILE."

★ ★ ★

Visitors to the class often feel a little self-conscious about this arbitrary command to turn on a smile. But they do so and soon the smile begins to feel more natural.

SMILES WIN JOBS

In a previous Case Record I told you about an airplane stewardess who was turned down for the job.

Later she applied again, hoping to draw a different interviewer, but she got the same man. He vaguely recognized her face and asked if she hadn't been there before.

So she confessed but said she had decided to try again in the hope maybe she'd get interviewed by some other man who might pass her.

Well, the interviewer told her he admired her perseverance and would tell her why he had vetoed her application originally.

"You don't realize it, I presume he began, "but your face in its natural repose makes people think you are scared. You look frightened.

"And if we hired you to be an airplane stewardess, think what would happen when the plane hit a little air pocket and dropped a few feet, as they all do.

"If some strange old lady were a passenger and had never ridden on an airplane before, she'd probably be panicky. If she then looked at you and saw your frightened expression, she'd be terrified lest the plane be ready to crash."

Then he urged the girl to go home and deliberately smile at herself, starting when she brushed her teeth in the morning.

"Smile at your reflection in the glass. Smile at strangers. Smile even though you feel very self-conscious. For soon it will become second nature."

★ ★ ★

And it did. Six weeks later this girl was hired, for her smile was now automatic.

For further advice on winning good jobs, send for my "Vocational Guidance Kit," enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus 20 cents (non-profit).

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

THE BERRYS By Carl Grubert

Security for You

Will Combine Checks to Husband, Wife

During the next six months, the Social Security Administration plans to combine most of the checks it's now paying separately to husbands and wives.

By doing so, it will save about a million dollars a year.

The project will start in November and continue until April when the Social Security people figure the job will be completed.

If you're a husband or wife receiving a separate check, an explanation of the plan will be mailed to you within the next few months along with one of your monthly checks.

It will explain that unless you object your check automatically will be combined with that of your spouse.

The exact date you'll get the notice will depend on where you live in the United States. The job is being done on a sectional basis so the work can be spread out over a period of time to keep the cost down.

In any case, if you don't tell the Social Security people you object, the second check following the notice of the change will be combined with your husband's or wife's check.

For example: If your Nov. 3 check has the notice along with it, your Jan. 3 check will be combined—unless you object.

If you don't want your check combined, all you have to do is tell the Social Security people within a month or so after you've received notice of the plan to do it.

The Social Security people don't expect many objections because it already has some experience indicating it.

FEW OBJECTIONS

Since September, 1956, it has been combining the checks of most of the husbands and wives who've been added to the Social Security rolls. In every case, permission to make the combination was requested. Only about two out of a hundred objected.

★ ★ ★

The Social Security people didn't ask, however, the husbands and wives living at separate addresses to combine their checks. It doesn't plan to do so as part of its current project either. Certain other groups of husbands and wives also will not be asked to do so, including situations where one of the persons has been declared incompetent.

The cost of preparing and mailing a Social Security check is about six cents, so you can see the savings involved with some 1,700,000 wives or husbands now on the rolls.

Although the full amount won't be saved by combining a wife's check with her husband's or vice versa, it's likely that about 5½ cents a check a month will be saved.

The immediate savings will be three cents postage, the cost of the check paper, envelopes, other supplies and equipment as well as some reduction in the number of people handling the checks.

Besides this savings to the Social Security Administration, the combination will save a lot of time and money for banks and the Treasury Department.

The move to combine the checks largely grows out of the results of combining in recent years the checks paid to children living in the same household.

(Questions on Social Security problems may be addressed to "Social Security," in care of The Pontiac Press. Questions will be answered by mail from the Pontiac office of the Social Security Administration. There is no charge for this service.)

Bob Considine Wonders:

What Did Anastasia Order From Barber?

NEW YORK (INS)—Collectors of lint, string and small details about big stories are divided on just what Anastasia ordered when he sat down in that barber chair last Friday morning.

According to one source, he said to the barber, "Give me the works." Two guys in masks beat the barber to it. Another source insists the thug said, I'll have a close shave please," and later added, "Not THAT close."

A terrible end for any living thing, of course. But there must have been dozens of chuckles from the dusty graves of his bygone victims and perhaps a last triumphant bubble from a barrel of cement in the East River.

On the theory, one supposes, that possession of the only wheel in town constitutes a license to steal, a local TV station will attempt to make up for the loss of the Giants and Dodgers by televising 78 games of the Philies.

Another station may show Cincinnati's games here. One would think that if National League baseball must be sent into New York — something like CARE packages—the biggest audiences could be reached by sending in San Francisco Giants games and Los Angeles Dodgers games. Or, if that's too costly, games involving the World Champion Milwaukee Braves, whose players are now abundantly well-known here and everywhere else.

Incidentally, a San Franciscan friend predicts that Los Angeles will not take to the Dodgers.

Nye Bevan, on Chet Huntley's "Outlook" Sunday, said:

"I think the U. S. is continuing this (non-recognition) attitude toward China because the administration feels it is too difficult to challenge certain sections of public opinion in America." He added, in effect:

"You will not recognize China because, you say, its troops killed GIs in Korea. The Germans killed your GIs and British boys and yet you have built Germany into a great power again, and insisted that we help. Where is consistency in this?"

Simple. The Chinese Reds still hold American boys in prison. Gen. Van Fleet has placed this number at as high as 300. Capt. Eugene Guild, head of a Colorado organization named "Fighting Homefolks of Fighting Men," would make it a bigger figure.

One member of that organization has a suit pending against President Eisenhower for "aabndoning" these men. For more than two years, a Red Chinese diplomat and U. S. Ambassador Alexis Johnson have been meeting in Geneva — fruitlessly — in our continuing efforts to liberate the men.

People here are unduly angry at the French for slapping a 20 per cent tax on all imported raw materials. We owe a lot to the French — especially people who have stayed at the Ritz and eaten at the Tour D'Argent. Then there was Lafayette.

And besides, where else could you find a people who could build a racetrack like Chantilly? Its mutuel windows are graduated through the various stages of bets, as ours are. There is a window marked 100 Fr., 2,000 Fr. and finally one marked 10,000 Fr. And under the 10,000 Fr. sign is a neat little sign which reads:

"English spoken."

Sees the 7th Fleet Staying in Pacific

HONG KONG (INS) — Adm. Arleigh Burke, chief of U. S. naval operations, said today that even if war breaks out in the Middle East the 7th Fleet would probably remain in the Pacific.

★ ★ ★

Burke, speaking to newsmen before leaving for home after an inspection tour of naval commands in Korea, Formosa and Japan, noted that the 7th Fleet is 1½ times larger than the 6th Fleet in the Mediterranean.

The admiral said more ships were kept in the Pacific because "the East is more important."

★ ★ ★

Burke predicted that despite nuclear weapons and atomic-powered submarines navies would play a vital role in any future war.

The Proxy Murder

By ERLE STANLEY GARDNER

Copyright 1957

THE STORY SO FAR: Jerry Conway is alarmed by an advertising campaign Clifford Farrell, a discharged employe, is conducting to obtain proxies and oust Conway at the stockholders' meeting of the California & Texas Global Co. In a mysterious telephone call a woman calling herself Rosalind offers to supply Conway with a list of the proxies Farrell has acquired. Though he suspects a trap, Conway agrees to follow her cloak-and-dagger directions. Eva Kane, his secretary, thinks she has heard her voice before. Asking the hotel clerk for a message for Gerald Boswell, he obtains a key to a hotel suite for the meeting but instead of finding Rosalind there's a young woman scantily attired and on her face a mud pack. She's Rosalind's roommate, Mildred. She points a gun at Conway, which he takes from her. Since the gun has been fired recently, Conway suspects a frameup and calls Perry Mason, attorney. Mason looks over the gun and asks for the key to the hotel room. Detective Paul Drake convinces the hotel clerk he is Gerald Boswell, and with Mason, finds a woman murdered, in the suite. Mason believes the murdered woman had a list of the stockholders who had sent in their proxies. Mason traps Evangeline Farrell into admitting she is Rosalind. She's getting a divorce from Clifford, and wants to help Conway, to protect her own investment in the company. She didn't ask Conway to go to the hotel, but shows Mason a picture, with clipping attached, apparently of the murdered young woman.

Chapter 14

The clipping illustrated a curvaceous woman clad in a Bikini bathing suit and across the top of the ad was printed in large, black letters: "she'll love it." In smaller type appeared: "And she'll love you for it. Get these private Bikini bathing suits. A wonderful, intimate, personal present, for just the right girl."

The ad went on to extol the virtues of the specially-made Bikini bathing suit.

"Yes," Mason said dryly, "I've seen these ads."

"Evidently my husband answered this," she said, "purchased a suit by mail, and persuaded this young woman to put the suit on."

Mrs. Farrell said, "For your information, Mr. Mason, either the suit was donned for the occasion or . . . well, I'll be charitable and say that the suit was donned for the occasion . . .Do you find her so very attractive that you're completely engrossed?"

"I'm sorry," Mason said. "I was trying to make out the background."

"Well, it's dark and out of focus. I'm afraid you can't get much from it, Mr. Mason. However, if you'll notice the pattern of the rug beneath those high-heeled shoes, which are designed to bring out the shapeliness of her legs, you'll notice a certain very definite pattern. For your information, Mr. Mason, that rug is in my husband's bedroom. Apparently the picture was taken while I was in New York a couple of months ago."

"I see," Mason said.

"My husband," she went on bitterly, "is something of an amateur photographer. He took this picture and two others. Evidently he wanted something to remember the girl by."

"And how did you get them?" Mason asked.

"I happened to notice that my husband's camera which is usually kept in his den was in a dresser drawer in the bedroom. There was a roll of films in the camera and three films had been exposed. I'm afraid I have a nasty, suspicious disposition, Mr. Mason.

"I slipped that roll of films out of the camera and replaced it with another. I turned the film to number four so that in case my husband investigated he wouldn't know there was anything wrong, and in case he had the films developed and found three perfect blanks, he would think something had gone wrong with the shutter, when he was taking these pictures."

★ ★ ★

"I see," Mason commented dryly. "I take it that there were then two other exposed pictures on this roll?"

"Yes," she said significantly. "It was a well-exposed roll, and the model was well exposed."

★ ★ ★

Mason strove to keep his voice from showing undue interest. "I wonder if you've been able to locate the model?" he asked.

"I have located the model."

Mason raised his eyebrows.

"She is Rose M. Calvert, and in case you're interested, the 'M' stands for Mistletow, believe it or not. Her father, I understand, insisted on the name. It turned out to be quite appropriate.

"Rose Calvert is an employe in the brokerage firm which handles accounts for my husband, and, I believe, for some of the other officials of the Texas Global company. My husband has a roving eye, and Rose Calvert — well, you can see from the photograph what she has."

"She's still working with the brokerage company?" Mason asked.

★ ★ ★

"Not Rose. Rose, I understand, is living on the fat of the land. She has an apartment at the Lane Vista Apartments, number 319, but I'm afraid that's just one of the perches where this young bird lights from time to time. Apparently she drops in for mail, and to change her clothes. I've had the place under surveilence for a few days."

"There are then two other pictures?" Mason prompted.

"Two others."

Mason waited expectantly.

NO INHIBITIONS

Mrs. Farrell shook her head. "I'm afraid not, Mr. Mason. They're indicative of a progressing friendship. Evidently this young woman doesn't have the slightest compunction about exhibiting her charms to men or to cameras."

"I'm shock proof," Mason said. "I'm not."

Mason studied the face of the girl in the picture.

Mrs. Farrell said, somewhat bitterly, "I'm afraid you men are all the same. For your information, Mr. Mason, the anatomical exaggeration of those curves will be swallowed in fat within another ten years."

"Yes, I'm afraid so," Mason said, handing back the photograph.

"My husband likes them well-curved," Mrs. Farrell said.

Mason almost automatically glanced at the lounging pajamas.

Mrs. Farrell laughed and said, "It's all right, Mr. Mason. I don't make any secret of it. Now, how about a drink?"

"Well," Mason said, "I could be induced if you twisted my arm."

"Hold it out," she said.

Mason held out his arm.

Mrs. Farrell took hold of the wrist, held the lawyer's arm tight against her body, gave it a gentle twist.

"Ouch!" Mason said. "I'll take it! I'll take it!"

SCOTCH OR BOURBON

She laughed throatily and said, "All right, sit down. I'll have to go to the kitchen. What do you like, Scotch or Bourbon?"

"Scotch," Mason said.

"Soda?"

"Please."

"Make yourself comfortable," she told him, "but don't wear that photograph out while I'm gone. I am going to have use for it."

★ ★ ★

When she had left the room, Mason hurriedly moved over to the Atlas in which the photograph had been concealed. He riffled through the pages but was unable to find any other photographs.

Mrs. Farrell entered the room, carrying a tray with two tall glasses.

She laughed. "You look pretty stout yourself, Mr. Mason. I may as well confess that you're one of my heroes. I've followed your cases with the greatest interest. I like your way of fighting."

"Thanks!" Mason said.

"Here's to crime!" Mason said.

"Here's to us!" She touched the brim of her glass to his, let her eyes rest steadily on his as she raised the glass to her lips.

Mason waited until she had seated herself, then said, "I am interested in how you were able to secure the information that you offered Mr. Conway — the list of proxies."

"Oh that!"

"Well?" Mason asked.

The Army said the child, Bo Sun Yi, darted from behind an ox cart into the path of the ambulance. The Army did not announce the identify of the driver.

Ministers Mixed in Little Rock

3-Faith Unit Integrated More Than a Year Ago; Teach Brotherhood

LITTLE ROCK (INS) — Before sitting down to a meal of Arkansas ham and candied yams, we sang the hymn, "Blest Be the Tie That Binds Our Hearts in Christian Love."

This was a monthly meeting yesterday of a group which fostered racial integration in Little Rock more than a year before the Central High School crisis.

The school's nine Negroes had completed one more day of classes — with fewer troops and more freedom. For the third day, the nine made the trip to and from Central High without military escort, without incident.

The current rumor was that considerably more troops were to be removed. Conjecture was mixed over what might follow.

Yet the Rev. Dunbar H. Ogden Jr., white pastor of Little Rock's Central Presbyterian Church, showed a spiritual integration has existed in the 200,000 population community since June 1956.

That is the date when Little Rock's all-white ministerial alliance merged with an all-Negro ministerial alliance. There are about 60 white pastors and 40 Negroes. The Protestant, Roman Catholic and Jewish faiths are included, and the Rev. Ogden is president.

quet hall of the Little Rock YWCA. Meeting the fourth Monday of each month, the business at hand was the same as always — the spiritual guidance of people raising their children in Little Rock, how to live "more like in the brotherhood of 'Jesus Christ'."

Expect Safe Harvest of Sugar Beet Crop

DENVER (AP) — Despite delays caused by October rain, snow and mud, it appeared today Colorado farmers were going to get their sugar beets harvested before a damaging frost hits. The harvest will bring them about 35 million dollars for the sugar alone.

Latest forecast by the U. S. Agriculture Department estimated the production will be 2,362,000 tons. This is the largest since the record crop of 1947 and almost a third larger than last year.

Several things contributed to the good crop. There was plenty of rainfall and irrigation water all during the growing season. Methods of soil fertilization have been improved, the seed is better and production techniques also have improved.

U.N. Will Hear Gromyko Reply

Await Lengthy Speech on Charges by Lodge in Mideast Crisis

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Soviet Foreign Ministry Andrei Gromyko readied an hour-long speech for the U.N. Assembly today in reply to U.S. charges that the Russians are creating a war scare in the Middle East to frighten Arab nations into the Red camp.

Chief U.S. Delegate Henry Cabot Lodge matched Russian's current tough tone Friday with a free-swinging speech in which he warned that Soviet threats would not stop the United States from carrying out the aims of the Eisenhower Doctrine to aid Red-threatened Middle East nations.

Russia has accused the United States of goading Turkey into an invasion of Syria in an attempt to split the Arab world.

Backers of two rival plans to settle the Syrian-Turkish crisis appeared determined to wait for the other to make the first move.

Syrian diplomats indicated privately they would not put in a resolution embodying their demand to send an inquiry commission to the border until they see "what the other side will do."

U.S. Offers $500,000 for Foreign Scientists

Pitch Black at Noon?—That's How It'll Be—Flying Through Space

(What is there in space that pulls the minds of men with more force than earth's gravity? Maybe it's just the same lure of the unknown that sent explorers across oceans and pioneers across plains. Whatever the reason, it's there. And since space is just around the corner, it's time to examine what's out there and how man can make his way through it. This is the first of four articles.)

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE
AP Science Reporter

NEW YORK (AP) — Your wrist watch tells you it is high noon.

You glance out a porthole, and the sky is entirely black, save for awesomely brilliant, unwinking stars.

Your nose itches. You reach to scratch, and slap your own face viciously . . . you forgot again about no gravity.

★ ★ ★

Suddenly, a too-loud PING echoes through the ship. You freeze in fright, wondering if a meteor made a hole . . . then relax, for no alarm signal sounds.

★ ★ ★

Thirsty, you drink some water, but not from a glass. It comes from a plastic squeeze bottle, with the nozzle carefully planted in your mouth.

ALTON L. BLAKESLEE

For you are going to the moon or Mars aboard a spaceship, where life is fantastically different from earth.

The time—10 years among optimists, maybe many more. Expert estimates vary.

But this is the promise now that the space age has opened with a little man-made moon circling the earth.

MORE MOONS COMING

They will discover actual space conditions and the hazards which partly will determine when and how humans go journeying safely through space.

Rocket and space experts have drawn the general plans, even designed ships and protective measures to vault humans to our sister planets . . . and home again.

It's only your second day out on this rocket hurtling through space, so you can be excused for having slapped yourself when your nose itched. Really, you're rapidly getting used to a most peculiar problem of weightlessness, from lack of gravity.

Your brain told you to lift your hand gently to your nose. But you used the same effort you would have used on earth. Here, undeterred by gravity, your hand would move up like a boxer's lightning jab.

For your ship is really falling through space, not influenced by the earth's gravity. You have no weight, neither does anything else aboard the ship.

High-flying jet pilots experience this same thing sometimes for brief moments when their planes' centrifugal force balances gravity.

They find it a mighty strange sensation, there's no feeling of up or down. Your usual senses fail you. Some find weightlessness upsetting; others say it's not bad or even pleasant.

Except for the foresight of your spaceship's planners, you might be having a terrible time with weightlessness. You still might at times, in some parts of the ship.

With no gravity, you feel like you are constantly falling into a bottomless pit. A slight push of your foot sends you flying into the air. Sneeze, and you'd fly backward to bang against a cabin wall.

WHO'S UPSIDE DOWN

Is that passenger across the cabin standing upside down—or are you? At meals, drop a piece of toast, and it hangs in the air. Your meat would be fastened to a plate, you might eat it by grabbing it with a clamp. The lift of a fork could send it flying to the ceiling.

But your ship preferably is spinning, creating centrifugal force to substitute for gravity. The direction "down" is the outer edge of your round, spinning spaceship.

Gravity gave you a bad moment, you recall, at take-off from earth. The quick acceleration from power rocket engines made you feel like lead, with a weight four to ten times greater than that of normal gravity.

But it was soon over and you taxied up to the space platform 500 miles above earth, dined there, and then boarded this ship for the journey to Mars.

You're aware, and glad of, the forced ventilation. Otherwise you might suffocate. If air has no weight, warm and cold air don't circulate automatically. The air you breathed out could stay right in front of your face, depriving you of oxygen.

Oxygen for a short moon trip comes perhaps from liquid oxygen, turning to gas as it warms up. On this many-weeks jaunt, a special greenhouse of algae or other plant life supplies the oxygen, using the carbon dioxide you breathed out.

Your cabin is, of course, pressurized. You know you'd live only a few seconds in the vacuum of space, unless protected by special pressurized space suits.

This worries you some. Space is crowded with flying meteors, traveling thousands of miles an hour, mostly very tiny. But a big one could smash straight through your ship. The little pioneer man-made moons found this chance was fairly small. Your ship has double walls, the outer one halting tiny meteors. An alarm system warns of any hole for quick plugging.

And your ship is made of special materials to reduce risks from radioactivity of cosmic rays and X-rays from the sun. Again, the IGY moons spelled out the risk.

You gaze out the porthole, and wonder how cold it is right outside in space. The captain explains: Space has no temperature really as we ordinarily mean temperature. There's precious little air to heat up.

VERY COLD SHADOW

The side of the ship exposed to the sun gets very hot, but the side in shadow is very cold and radiates heat into space. Special arrangements of materials and coatings that reflect or radiate heat help keep you comfortable inside the ship.

The nothingness of space is why it is black, also. There is no air to scatter light. Stars shine with brilliant steadiness.

Magnate Pays Cabbie's Fare

London Hack Driver and Wife Get American Vacation—Free

CHICAGO (AP)—Jack Wall, a London cabbie who hadn't had a vacation in 10 years, is living it up in Chicago now—and he says it's all possible because of a secret American benefactor.

The stocky, ruddy - faced Wall said his benevolent friend—whom he will identify only as a shipping magnate — footed the transportation bill for him and his wife from England.

That made the difference for Wall, who told a reporter he makes an average of $20 a week.

And why did the shipping tycoon do it?

"Purely as a humanitarian," says Wall.

It all started, the 53-year-old cabbie said, last April when he picked up an executive type man at the London Airport. During the 40-minute drive to the city conversation turned to Wall's long-standing dream of an American vacation.

"I mentioned that I had never been more than a few miles from London, but that my life's ambition was to travel to America. I told him about my wife's relatives in Toronto and Chicago."

"When he paid his fare he said to let him know when I was ready for the trip and that he would do something about it."

Pressed by his wife, Rose, 50, who maintained that a "man of that caliber doesn't say a thing like that unless he means it," Wall said he called.

The executive kept his word, Wall related. He arranged in mid-August for Wall and his wife to fly to Hamburg, Germany, and there board a ship for the United States. Aboard ship they occupied the owner's cabin, Wall said. They have a reservation for the return trip Nov. 12.

Wall told a reporter that as part of the bargain he would not disclose the name of the shipping magnate.

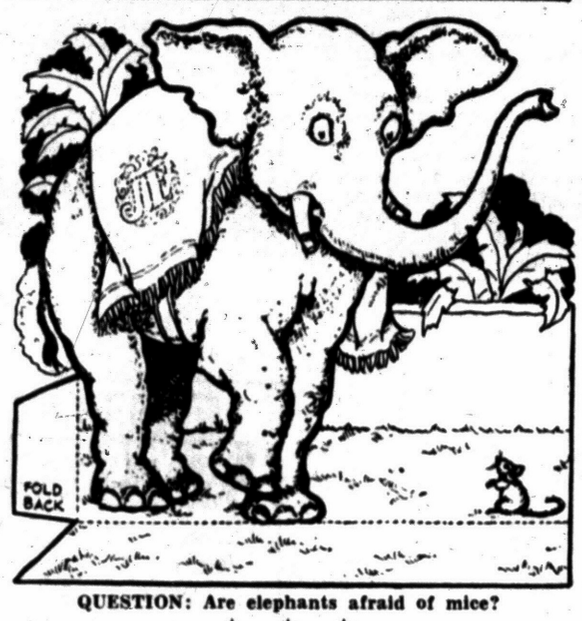
The Walls stayed in Toronto with Mr. and Mrs. Keller and Mr. and Mrs. A. Amster. In Chicago they are guests of Mrs. Wall's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Segal.

With free transportation and matched generosity from their relatives the Walls said they've spent all but $5.60 of the $280 they were permitted to take with them on gifts for their family in England.

"The $5.60," he says, "was for insurance."

Junior Editors Quiz on ELEPHANTS



QUESTION: Are elephants afraid of mice?

★ ★ ★

ANSWER: Probably you have heard the saying that elephants are afraid of mice. It's a story that has been knocking around for ages. The stampede of circus elephants doubtless has been blamed occasionally on the presence of mice. But the fact is that elephants actually don't mind mice. There are mice around elephant stalls in zoos nearly always, because mice are found wherever there is fodder. And zoo keepers will tell you that elephants see them all the time without exhibiting alarm. As for the explanation that elephants fear lest mice run up their trunks, that isn't very logical. One powerful snort by an elephant would blow a mouse across the tent.

★ ★ ★

FOR YOU TO DO: See an elephant in zoo or circus when you can and see the many interesting ways he uses that trunk of his. And color this picture, paste it on cardboard, cut out around the outside black lines, fold the front panel forward, the other back, and stand up in your bookcase.

Plant Nike Launches by 1959

Clearing Okinawa's Sands for U. S. Missile Sites

ST. BUCKNER, Okinawa (INS) —Bulldozers are chewing up Okinawa's gleaming beaches today, making way for guided missiles that will give this pivotal U. S. base in the far Pacific some of the best anti-aircraft protection to be had.

By early 1959, eight Nike launching sites will stretch in a rough arc around the southern—and most heavily fortified—half of this slender, 67-mile long sliver of volcanic rock.

Last month the U. S. Army gave Okinawan contractors the go-ahead and an estimated 5,000 laborers began moving earth.

According to the Okinawa engineer district, "We're moving an awful lot of dirt on two sites and we've actually started working on six."

Officials figure the whole job will take 16 months.

The cost to the U. S. for the eight sites: A cool $10,877,564—exclusive of the expensive missiles themselves.

The tab, however, covers complex electronic equipment and three separate radar systems that guide each missile by remote control to an airborne target.

The Nike sites will ring this vital —and highly exposed—U. S. base with what some Army officers consider the best ground-to-air missile available.

Sleek, 27-foot long Nike-Hercules missiles will stand along the beaches of the East China Sea, the Philippine Sea and the Pacific Ocean.

Inland from the beaches, across Okinawa's rice paddies, lies an incredible multi-million dollar complex of air bases, ammunition dumps, supply depots and communications systems.

Nike-Hercules will be virtually the frist line of defense for the island, the weapon is a souped-up version of the original Nike-Ajax, which now cordons most of America's key industrial regions.

Nike-Hercules is bigger, faster and deadlier than its forerunner. Performance figures for both missiles are classified, but the Defense Department says this officially of the Nike system:

"Its kill potential has far exceeded expectation."

Airline to Use Jets

BOSTON (AP) — American Airlines today disclosed plans to convert its fleet almost completely to turbine-power jets and propjets by 1961. The company earlier had placed orders for 30 jets and has plans for increasing the number to 70.

Youth, 17, Gets Term in Prison for Holdup

A 17-year-old Farmington youth found guilty of holding up an Auburn Heights market was sentenced yesterday to 3-15 years in State Prison of Southern Michigan.

★ ★ ★

Two companions who had pleaded guilty to the armed robbery Sept. 27 already have received 3-15 year terms. They are Frank W. Spencer, 21, of 820½ Baldwin Ave. and Curtis Beatty, 18, of 86 Lafayette St., both sentenced by Circuit Judge Clark J. Adams.

Transportation Strike Continues in Pittsburgh

PITTSBURGH (AP)—A strike of 2,200 bus and trolley operators against Pittsburgh Railways Co. —largest mass transit system in the steel city—went into its 16th day today with no contract talks slated.

Federal and state mediators stepped out of the picture temporarily last week as neither the company nor Division 85 of the Amalgamated Assn. of Street, Railway & Motor Coach Employes retreated from their positions.

Fateful Warning About Suez Given in Strange 1951 Prophecy

A strange man in Los Angeles known as "The Voice of Two Worlds," is offering, free of charge to the public, an astounding 64-page booklet analyzing famous world prophecies covering these times. Written in 1951, it successfully predicted that the next great world crisis would be at the Suez Canal. It shows that four of the greatest prophecies could not come true until the present time. But now they can, and the years that change the world are at hand. Great dangers but still greater opportunities confront forward looking people in 1957.

"The Voice of Two Worlds," a well known explorer and geographer, tells of a remarkable system that often leads to almost unbelievable improvement in power of mind, achievement of brilliant business and professional success and new happiness. Others tell of increased bodily strength, magnetic personality, courage and poise.

These strange methods were found in far-off and mysterious Tibet, often called the land of miracles by the few travelers permitted to visit it. He discloses how he learned rare wisdom and long hidden practices, closely guarded for three thousand years by the sages, which enabled many to perform amazing feats. He maintains that these immense powers are latent in all of us, and that methods for using them are now simplified so that they can be used by almost any person with ordinary intelligence.

The 64-page booklet he is now offering free to the public gives guidance for those who wish to prepare themselves for the momentous days ahead. It gives details of what to expect, and when. Its title is "Beware of These Days."

The book formerly sold for a dollar, but as long the the present supply lasts, it is offered free to readers of this notice.

For your free copy of the astonishing prophecies covering these momentous times, as revealed in this 64-page book, address the Institute of Mentalphysics, 213 South Hobart Blvd., Dept. 23-F, Los Angeles 4, Calif. Send no money, just your name and address on a postcard or in an envelope will do. No obligation. Readers are urged to write promptly, as only a limited number of free books have been printed.

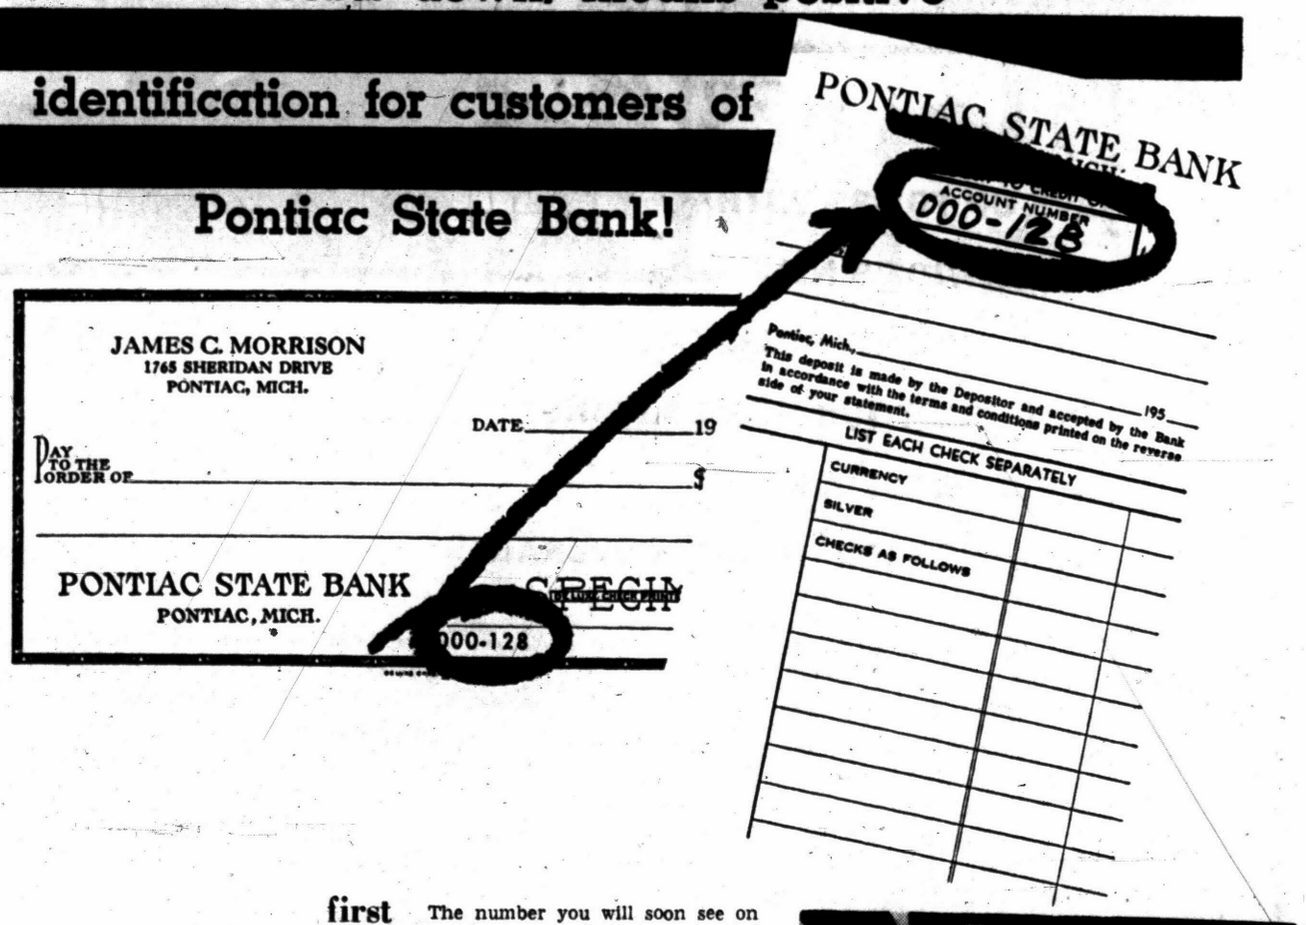
electronic number keeps checking costs down, means positive identification for customers of Pontiac State Bank!



first The number you will soon see on the Pontiac State Bank checks is your new "electronic signature." It is an important part of the new Post-Tronic electronic bank posting system we have installed.
It assures you of positive identification when your personal checks are processed. There is no chance of a wrong entry being posted to your account through error—similarities of names or not legible signature, for example. Your number and signature positively identifies you.
Your "electronic signature" number should always appear on your deposit slip. It should always be written in the box provided, for positive identification of your deposits.
We, too, are faced with rising costs these days, yet we can give you the latest, most efficient check service possible (at the same low Pontiac State Bank rates) through the miracle of electronics.

NATIONAL CASH REGISTER POST-TRONIC MACHINE
"Magnetic memory" . . . the black bands you will see on the back of your statements are magnetic memory strips. Invisibly, they retain all of the facts about YOUR checking account with us . . . memorize information entered in the National Cash Register Post-Tronic machine. They assure you that all record-keeping is done with electronic precision.

CHEVROLET "DREAM CAR" — Chevrolet offers in its 1958 Bel Air series two Impala models, named after and strongly reminiscent of a "dream car" in the GM Motorama. This is the Impala Sport Coupe. A new engine, new frame and two new suspension systems are but a few of the chassis advances that keep pace with the fresh re-design of the Chevrolet bodies. The 1958 Chevrolets will be seen here at the Matthews-Hargreaves showrooms, 34 Mill St.

BISCAYNE FOUR-DOOR SEDAN — The side and rear treatment of the Biscayne four-door sedan points up the complete job of restyling on the 1958 Chevrolets. The broad, flat rear deck lid, the graceful gullwing sweep of the rear fender line and the full-length molding marks the latest development in "sculpturamic styling." The Biscayne series is in the middle price range of the 1958 Chevrolet line and like its contemporaries incorporates major chassis as well as body changes.

1958 Models Go on Display Thursday

Chevrolet Longer, Lower, Wider

DETROIT — The completely new automobiles with which Chevrolet hopes to regain top place in output and sales are longer, lower and wider and emphasize flowing sculptured lines from dual headlamps to flared rear fenders.

Prices are up an average of 4.5 percent over the 1957 level.

The new cars, topped by a sport coupe and a convertible under the Impala nameplate go on dealer display Thursday. The Impala is in the Bel Air series, with six models.

In the middle range of the low-price car bracket is a Biscayne series, with two sedans. The bottom end of the price spread will have three models comprising the Delray series. These two were known in 1957 as the two-ten and one-fifty series, respectively.

Over-all length of the cars has been increased nine inches to 209 inches; wheelbase is up 2½ inches at 117½ inches. Roof lines have been lowered as much as 2½ inches. All have an X-shaped frame.

Coil springs at the rear wheels have been adopted as a standard feature. Air suspension, called "level air," is optional.

The optional turbo-thrust V-8, designed primarily around a new combustion chamber, offers greater torque for improved mid-range performance. It is one of five V-8's and a six-cylinder power plant carried in the new line.

Ramjet fuel injection introduced by Chevy last year again is offered as an option on the 283-cubic inch V-8.

One six-cylinder and five V-8 engines are carried in the line, including one new V-8 called the turbo-thrust. Optional, extra-cost equipment includes fuel injection, air suspension with ride levelizer, and two types of automatic transmission.

Besides the dual headlamps, a grille with fine grid concave ribs and a low, flat hood unbroken by ornamentation, distinguish the frontal view.

Sharp fin protrusion is avoided in the rear fender treatment. These units sweep outward from the body, then curl around the tail light ensemble to form a shape which stylists term the gullwing design.

A new instrument panel extends rearward into the sides of the body. Major instruments are grouped in separate housings.

Students Sent Home at Willow Run School

By INTERNATIONAL NEWS

WILLOW RUN VILLAGE—Some 605 students at Edmonson Junior High School in Willow Run Village were sent home yesterday because of broken glass littered in the building by vandals who caused more than $6000 worth of damage.

★ ★ ★

Authorities said 40 windows in doors leading to classrooms and offices were smashed and halls and classrooms were covered with foam from fire extinguishers.

Willow Run School Superintendent Albert C. Johnson said the vandals probably entered the school Sunday morning. Sheriff's officers said they gained entry by breaking a window in a first floor room.

Commission Meets Tonight

City to Act on Hunting Ordinance

Two city ordinances — one prohibiting hunting in the city and the other enforcing reckless and drunk driving violations — will be acted on by the City Commission tonight.

City Attorney William A. Ewart is proposing the first to outlaw the hunting of birds or animals anywhere in the city limits. Last week it was discovered the city had no such ordinance.

The second will bring a city traffic ordinance in line with state law by allowing for the arrest of reckless or drunk drivers upon "any area designated for the parking of motor vehicles" in addition to other places where the offenses might be committed.

Eleven other items on an 18-point agenda involve confirmation or setting assessment payments for city improvement projects.

A public hearing will be held this evening on the intention of the city to construct two-inch blacktop pavement on Orlando avenue from Monticello avenue to Oakland avenue.

Two other hearings will be on special assessment rolls to finance a sanitary sewer on Branch street from Wessen to the west end of the street, and for curb, gutter, drainage and related work on Burt street from LeGrande to Hillside drive.

Ewart will also discuss a lease agreement between the city and the Borden Co. for use of two feet of alley for a conveyor ramp.

Bes, wasps and hornets won't sting unless you strike at them or sit on them. That's what the Department of Entomology, University of Wisconsin says. They offer no proof.

Suit of Six Doctors Put Off Until Nov. 13

Circuit Judge Clark J. Adams yesterday adjourned to Nov. 13 at 10 a.m. a show cause hearing in the suit of six Pontiac General Hospital doctors against hospital regulatory policies.

All parties agreed to the postponement in order that more time would be available at the later date.

Port Huron Team Wins Drill Contest

"The execution of movement and timing of the winning team was outstanding," said a contest judge, Col. Julian Wade, who is commander of the Iowa Wing, Civil Air Patrol.

★ ★ ★

"The team had stamina equal to that of the men under our command," he said.

Orion Teachers Elect Officers

Form New Association for Better Fulfillment of Their Needs

ORION TOWNSHIP — Teachers of Lake Orion have formed a new organization, "The Lake Orion Community Education Assn.," to better fulfill their needs.

The group recently divided into four sections, each with its own officers and representatives on the board of directors for the association.

* * *

Clinton Galbraith, Margaret Thorpe, and Donald McFate were appointed delegates to the MEA regional council meetings. Remaining members of the board were appointed as chairmen. They are: Dean Cole, salary; Donna Lindbom, professional problems; Lorraine Jarvis, ways and means; Dorothy Wiltse, flowers; Ralph Radford, social; and Ruth Anderson, public relations.

The next directors meeting will be at 3:45 p.m. Nov. 13, at Blanche Sims School.

Southfield Petitions for Own Post Office

A petition signed by 1400 citizens asking for the new post office was received by Congressman William S. Broomfield of Royal Oak on his recent mobile office visit here.

Broomfield has sent a letter to Arnie N. Betts regional director of the post Office Department at Chicago requesting that a Southfield branch be considered.

Sunbonnets, Beards Predominate

Milford Celebrates 125th Birthday

By REBA HEINTZELMAN

Old-timers from all over the United States are swarming back to Milford this week-end, to help their home town celebrate its 125th anniversary.

Sun bonnets worn by the women, and heavy beards on the men are predominant in the village, as the town prepares for one of the most spectacular celebrations in its history.

From the time the huge Pet and Costume Parade gets underway at 6:30 p.m. Thursday, until the town quiets down Sunday evening, there will be festivities that residents and guests will long remember, according to officials.

* * *

An old time engine, caboose and combination mail and passenger car will be on the tracks for display at the C & A Depot on East Huron street.

Every window on Main street has a historical display of some memorable item or event which has taken place in the last 125 years.

A tour of scenic areas and points of interest will be departing hourly from the Main street Library, serving as a "Hospitality and Registration Center" during the 4-day celebration.

THURSDAY IS YOUTH DAY

Because it is Halloween, the Executive and Advisory boards have designated Thursday as "Youth Day."

A parade will get underway on South Main and Huron streets and proceed up Main to the new village parking lot, where prizes will be awarded.

* * *

Friday has been designated as "Neighbors' Day," to honor the hundreds of new residents in the area.

After an old-fashioned noonday meal, served at the Presbyterian church, guests may witness an elaborate "Co-Ed Style Show" at the IOOF hall, a block north of the church on Main.

At 5 p.m. there will be a Band Concert at Van Camp's lot and at 6:30 p.m., judging of the "Whiskerino Contest" will begin.

SELECT WINNING BEARD

Some male residents have been allowing their beards to grow for the last ten weeks, and residents are looking forward to the winning "long-hair," according to president Joe Gerrard.

* * *

Pre-game activities will take place on the lighted football field where the Brighton squad, traditional rivals for the coveted Brown Jug, will battle the Milford Redskins.

Pontiac Press Photo

MILFORD'S TINIEST — Weighing a mere 4½ pounds, and only 10 days old, is tiny Melissa Tressler. Watching her is her mother, Mrs. Walter Tressler and her four young sisters, Margaret 5, Mary Lou 7, Martha 9, and Marcia 1½. The Tressler family traces its ancestry back to Milford's beginning. They are preparing to help celebrate its 125th anniversary this weekend.

During the half time period, a salute to the 125th anniversary will be given, with officials, bands and parades to be presented.

HONOR PIONEERS

Most important day of all, will be "Pioneer Homecoming Day," Saturday, when pioneers and visitors who have returned to revive old friendships, may celebrate.

The highest peak in Greece is Mount Olympus, 9,730 feet.

Parades, Prizes Await Children

One Holly Couple Plans Party for 500 Youths in Their Home

Most villages will have parades and parties while many church and school groups will collect coins for organizations such as CROP or UNICEF.

In Holly Mr. and Mrs. Joe Haas continue their annual custom of welcoming the parade of village children into their home where before the fireplace all are given treats and favors.

Holly

Sponsored by local organizations the Holly Halloween celebration will include a parade at 7 p.m. ending in Cyclone Park. Costume prizes will be awarded, refreshments served and a dance at the multi-purpose room will follow football games between local seventh grade teams and the Holly and Durand eighth grade teams.

* * *

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Haas which has been the magnet for Halloween celebrators for over 40 years is prepared with gifts for 500 including horns, candy, balloons, trick-or-treat bags and other accessories.

Oxford

The annual Halloween party for area children will be held at 6:30 p.m. Thursday, beginning with a parade from the Congregational Church to the Daniel Axford School.

The village council and fire department who sponsor the affair will judge the best costumes and dole out doughnuts, hotdogs and cider. A special entertainment will follow, planned by Oxford's football coach Dick Figg.

"Trick or Treat" on Wednesday night in Oxford will be used by children affiliated with Oxford churches as an appeal for coins to provide food for children overseas, rather than for candy for themselves.

Through CROP the Christian Rural Overseas Program, one penny will provide two pounds of government surplus food for distribution by relief committees connected with the National Christian Councils of foreign countries.

Children of the Oxford Congregational, Methodist and Holy Cross Lutheran Churches will be cooperating in their efforts and will carry special identification badges.

Rochester

St. Paul's Methodist Senior High Youth Fellowship will go trick or treating Halloween on behalf of the United Nations International Children's Emergency Fund.

The idea is to go out on Halloween evening and instead of causing mischief make it an evening of creative and constructive endeavor to collect money to help children in other parts of the world. UNICEF's job is to help the children of the world especially those in war torn and economically depleted countries.

The group will meet at the church at 7:30 Thursday evening. All young people tenth through twelfth grades are invited to join with St. Paul's group.

New Hudson

Fire at Oxford High Does $2,000 Damage

OXFORD — A fire, believed to have been caused by an aquarium heating element, caused about $2,000 damage to Oxford High School this morning.

Major damage occurred in the biology room walls and ceiling and in the attic of the school.

Neighbors who noticed smoke coming from the windows at 5:15 a.m. called the Oxford Fire Department. Firemen worked for nearly two hours eliminating the smouldering threat.

Rochester to Award Water Main Bids Nov. 12

ROCHESTER—Village Council in short session here last night opened bids for the water main extension from Main street to Elizabeth and on Romeo and Parkdale. Bids ranged from $22,296 to $11,751. Engineer George Schmid said bids would be tabulated and awarded at the next meeting of the council on Nov. 12.

A resolution also was passed by Council making the Rochester Branch of the National Bank of Detroit the depository for nine different accounts of the village.

Mrs. Allmayer Slated to Talk in Farmington

FARMINGTON — The Nov. 4 meeting of the Garden Club here will be held in the Farmington Savings and Loan Assn. Building, 22772 Orchard Lake, at 10 Mile Rd.

It will be "Guest Day" for the group and members have been urged to bring their friends to hear Mrs. Albert F. Allmayer, the speaker.

Mrs. Allmayer, who has been a guest lecturer many times at Farmington, offers an entertaining program, including unusual flower arrangements.

* * *

Dessert luncheon will be served at 12:30 p.m., with Mrs. James Robertson as chairman of hostesses.

Church to Serve Ham

The annual fall ham dinner of the Covert Methodist Church will be held Friday, with serving beginning at 5 p.m. Proceeds from the dinner will be used for kitchen improvements.

New Program Aids Hospital Patients

Pontiac Press Photos

Mrs. Marie Lanham, occupational therapist at Pontiac State Hospital, displays the mixmaster in the new family living center. Young women patients about to leave the hospital are given courses in family budgeting and meal planning.

Patients at Pontiac State Hospital eligible for the family living classes are under the supervision of Mrs. Eleanore McCurry (standing) director of the Occupational Therapy department and Mrs. Patricia Hansen, supervisor of Women's Occupational Therapy.

Prepares Patients to Return to Their Homes

Family Living Taught at Hospital

We've said so much about the care and treatment of patients at Pontiac State Hospital — but there's still more to be said. There are many methods employed by the hospital's staff to prepare the patient for his return to society and for re-employment.

★ ★ ★

WORK SIMPLIFICATION

When young married women patients are ready to leave the hospital, they are entered in the program which Dr. Ivan A. LaCore, medical superintendent, says is to help them with work simplification in the home.

"We hope that it will give them a feeling of more security," remarked Dr. LaCore, and he added, "We believe that it is a good rehabilitation project that may have permanent value."

The family living section which includes an all-modern kitchen and living area was made possible by the Birmingham family of the late Henry Mouw, according to Mrs. Eleanore McCurry, director of the Occupational Therapy Department.

Included in the kitchen are table-top stove, wall ovens, a mix-master, dishes, tea service and all electrical appliances. Included in the very comfortable living area furnishings is a hi-fi radio.

TAUGHT BY EXPERTS

Eight patients attend the 12-week sessions for which Mary Hixon, home demonstration agent, and Mrs. Josephine Lawyer, consumer marketing information agent, are the instructors.

★ ★ ★

The classes are given on Monday and Thursday mornings. Following this pilot program, Mrs. Raymond Giffels of Birmingham will teach the classes.

Dr. Phyllis D. Bursey, assistant clinical director, is medical consultant and refers the patients to the department. Assisting her is OT worker Mrs. Patricia Hansen.

★ ★ ★

Some of the items covered in the sessions are use of equipment, cookery, oven and broiler meals, housekeeping, low-cost menus, family living, budgeting, choosing colors and relaxation.

Legislator Addresses GOP Club

★ ★ ★

The guest speaker was Farrell Roberts, state representative from District 3. He announced that the new Republican headquarters in Birmingham will hold open house Nov. 5 and 6.

★ ★ ★

Plans were completed for a countywide speaking tour by George Van Peursem, speaker of the Michigan House of Representatives, Nov. 13 through 15.

★ ★ ★

Guests Leslie Dean and C. A. Ebey were introduced by the Club's president, Mrs. W! E. C. Huthwaite.

Mrs. Lula Luby presided at the refreshment table which featured a center arrangement of fall flowers in shades of bronze and gold.

Help Out Charities

While you're getting transition clothes ready for storage, weed out those that you're unlikely to wear again and send them to some charity. It's wasting money to dry clean or launder clothes that are not really becoming or useful to you.

Isabella Daughters Install New Officers

★ ★ ★

Officers from the Queen of Angels group of Birmingham and the Sweetest Heart of Mary, Oak Park, joined in the program.

SLATE OF OFFICERS

Officers of Our Lady of the Lakes Circle installed were Mrs. Nora Ashton, regent; Mrs. Dan Scott, vice regent; Mrs. John Stevenson, recording secretary, and Mrs. Martin J. Buikema, financial secretary.

★ ★ ★

Others were Mrs. Louis Koprince, treasurer; Mrs. Omer DeConinck, trustee; Mrs. Fern Sturman, custodian; Mrs. Rose Fairbrother, monitor; Mrs. F. Lee Thomas, inner guard, and Mrs. Richard Deschaine, outer guard.

Mrs. Robert Copeman, chancellor; Mrs. E. J. Duffy, scribe; Mrs. Warren Cosgrove, organist; Mrs. Ernest George, first guide; Mrs. Duane Heaton, second guide, and Mrs. John S. Keesling, banner bearer, were also installed.

★ ★ ★

Entertainment followed, with Mrs. Frank Schmidt as chairman. Barbara Nelson and Linda Rollison presented a tap dance and Cynthia Sack did a ballet dance. Several accordion numbers were played by Carol Ann Dejager.

SUPPER SERVED

A buffet supper was served under the chairmanship of Mrs. Fairbrother, assisted by Mrs. Arthur Birchmeir, Mrs. Benjamin B. Budwit, Mrs. Walter Bendig, Mrs. Frank Tuinlan, Mrs. Alonzo Barnard and Margaret O'Connor.

★ ★ ★

In charge of arranging the decorations in an autumn motif was Mrs. William Donahue, assisted by Mrs. Scott, Mrs. Thomas, Mrs. Robert Landry and Mrs. Koprince.

GWENDOLYN ELAINE SMITH

Mrs. Stuart M. Smith of Birmingham announces the engagement of her daughter, Gwendolyn Elaine, to John Melville Evarts, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. Melville Evarts of Fredonia, N. Y. The bride-elect is the daughter of the late Mr. Smith. Miss Smith attends Michigan State University and her fiance was graduated from MSU

Beta Sigma Phi Council Meets at Soper Home

Thirteen members were present at the October meeting of the Beta Sigma Phi City Council held at the home of Betty Soper on Cherokee road.

A report on a recent money-making project was given, and council members discussed other projects to raise funds for civic and charitable donations.

Luana Slaughter reported on the state convention held in Saginaw. The treasurer reported that a $436.29 check was presented by the council to C. K. Patterson for the Pontiac Foundation.

Following the meeting, refreshments were served.

Panel Discussion Heard by Chapter at Matson Home

A panel discussion by state and local members of "Recovery, Inc.," was presented to members of Chapter CL of PEO Sisterhood. Mrs. Charles Matson was hostess to the group at her home on Denby Drive.

★ ★ ★

STUDY THEME

PEO's theme of study for the year is "The world is made over by those who use their best energies to bring enrichment to the lives of other people."

The organization is philanthropic, educational and cultural, and owns and operates Cottey College, a junior college for women. The college is supported by contributions from members. Students come from many countries, chiefly through the International Peace Scholarships awarded by PEO.

★ ★ ★

She Plots Movement of the Mail

Beatrice Aitchison Seeks Faster and Cheaper Ways

By JANE EADS

WASHINGTON — Dr. Beatrice Aitchison, one of the nation's few women transportation economists, says she "came up the hard way" to become the first woman in a top-level policy position in the Post Office Department.

★ ★ ★

She served 15 years as a career government employe before her appointment in 1953 as Post Office director of transportation research. She likes her job.

MOVING THE MAIL

Specifically, Dr. Aitchison's task is finding better, cheaper and faster ways of moving mail between points in the United States.

"We want to get the mail home as fast as we can," she explained.

"We have to move letters, packages and circulars to and from any place in the United States. This is the equivalent of being ready to jump any one of a billion and a half ways at any time."

★ ★ ★

About half the postmasters in the country are women. Many women deliver the mail often under great hardships and over hazardous routes.

HARD WORKERS

"Women are tough," Dr. Aitchison says, "One working in an isolated area just retired after 37 years with not one hour of sick leave. Another uses a jeep mostly. When she can't, she uses her horse. Sometimes she has to walk."

During high water, cars and trucks line up and wait for her to come and measure the depth of the water with the horse.

★ ★ ★

If it's only knee deep on the horse cars can cross. If its above knee deep, only trucks. If its "belly deep" no one but the mail carrier on the horse gets through.

FROM HER FATHER

Dr. Aitchison inherited her interest in transportation economics from her father, Dr. Clyde B. Aitchison, now 83, a former member of the Oregon Railroad Commission and member of the Interstate Commerce Commission from 1917 to 1952.

The two make their home together in a pleasant nine-room house.

Molly Kazan Brings 'Egghead' to Broadway

She Writes Play Backwards

By JOAN HANAUER

NEW YORK (INS) — Molly Kazan wrote "The Egghead" backwards—she researched the play after it was written and figured out act endings after it was in rehearsal.

The tall, slim, gray-haired woman with a young face, who had the added theater advantage of being married to famed director Elia Kazan, explained that she had the same troubles as most serious playwrights:

"I did an awful lot of work on the second half of the third act before rehearsals — almost as much as the whole play. Once it was in rehearsal, it was mainly a question of trimming and rearranging.

OTHERS ASSISTED

"Biff McGuire, who plays one of the FBI men, figured out the second act closing. Then Hume Cronyn, the director, came to me and suggested a third act ending. It was a long time before he risked telling me the stage manager had come up with the idea.

★ ★ ★

"The trimming made a lot of difference, but the actors started to go crazy. They kept telling me it's easier to learn a whole new scene than make little changes. If they do have to substitute a whole scene they feel like heroes and martyrs.

"Hume kept saying Jess (his wife, actress Jessica Tandy) and he would never put up with this kind of rehearsal as actors."

She said she researched her play after the fact, visiting Williams College, her husband's alma mater, and showing her play to an ex-FBI man to verify their procedure.

"The Egghead," which stars Karl Malden, in a "portrait of the liberal as an old man," is Mrs. Kazan's first play to be produced on Broadway, but she said:

"I've got five more in my bureau drawer. It's rare that a first play is produced, although the writer would certainly learn faster.

"Of course, I have some of the severest critics in the business. There's Elia and people like Bob Anderson who wrote 'Tea and Sympathy.' They faithfully read each draft and told me what was wrong.

"This one is better than the others, and the main reason is because it is plotted. That's the hardest thing to learn. I was a play reader and I know the writing can be good, the character fine, the humor funny, but if the plot doesn't shape up, the play doesn't go.

"If the plot is there, the play will go even if it doesn't have the best writing."

Your Luck Is What You Make It

By ANNE HEYWOOD

You have to give luck a chance.

I know absolutely that some people are luck-prone and others are not. The difference seems to lie in that capacity for letting luck happen.

STORY OF MRS. T.

Mrs. T. is a woman who has that capacity. I'll tell her story so you'll see what I mean.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. T. was a widow who had a bare subsistence. When her husband died, it became apparent that she would have to learn a skill and get a job so that she could support herself and avoid becoming a burden to her three children. They all had growing families of their own.

After she picked herself up emotionally and had made some kind of adjustment to her grief, Mrs. T. sold the house, took a small apartment in the city and enrolled in a school to learn shorthand and typing.

★ ★ ★

"It was the most practical thing and it sort of interested me," she said, "although I missed the country, badly.

QUITE A NUISANCE

"But my well-meaning friends in the city were quite a nuisance. They were always dropping in to cheer me up—and interrupting my practice of typing and shorthand. For a while, I almost gave it up as a bad idea."

★ ★ ★

That's what the "unlucky" person would have done.

"There's no sense trying to study anything at my age," they would have said. "I can't concentrate any more."

★ ★ ★

"But Mrs. T. didn't give up.

She called a country cousin of hers, who loved the city but who had few chances to visit it, and arranged a six-week swap.

TRADED DWELLINGS

"I gave her my city apartment, to live in, to see shows and shop, and I took her country place, where I could practice in peace."

★ ★ ★

After she had really learned the rudiments of shorthand and typing and was building up speed, Mrs. T. did the next thing that proves she's "luck-prone."

"I told all my friends in the city," she said, "that I would welcome a chance to practice dictation if they had any correspondence to be done.

"One of them, who's married to a hotel man, was having a fancy wedding for her daughter and had lots of correspondence with out-of-town relatives. So I helped her out. I did so well that she told her husband about me.

"Just at that time, the banquet manager at the hotel needed a secretary who had typing and shorthand and who had experience with invitations, meeting people, planning menus, et cetera. I got the job!

"Now, wasn't that lucky?"

★ ★ ★

Yes, that's lucky.

Mrs. T. has a job that combines her years of experience as housewife and hostess, her love of people and her newly acquired skills.

The reason she got it is because she kept putting herself in a place where luck had a chance to happen to her!

★ ★ ★

If you're interested in the hotel field, send me a stamped, self-addressed envelope and I'll send you my list of good books in the field.

Julia B. Steck Marries in Our Lady of the Lakes

Arrangements of white chrysanthemums banked the altar of Our Lady of the Lakes Church for the Saturday morning wedding of Julia Barbara Steck and James Herbert King. The Rev. Frederick J. Delaney performed the ceremony before 100 guests.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley P. Steck of Hospital road and the bridegroom is the son of the Robert Deweys of Grand Blanc.

For her wedding the bride chose a gown of Rose Pointe lace and nylon tulle over white satin featuring Rose Pointe appliques and a fitted bodice with scalloped neckline. A queen Anne headpiece held a fingertip veil of French tulle. The bridal bouquet was an arrangement of baby chrysanthemums and roses.

Three sisters of the bride, Patricia, Margaret and Mrs. David Jones served as attendants. They were gowned in taffeta dresses with matching chiffon overskirts in various shades of turquoise. They carried bouquets of baby chrysanthemums.

Before leaving on a trip to Florida the new Mrs. King changed to a black wool sheath with black and white accessories. The couple will live in Grand Blanc.

Shower Given for Bride-to-Be Joan Hoffman

Bride-elect Joan Hoffman has been honored with several showers. A bridesmaid for Joan's Nov. 16 marriage to Earl Schulte, Grace Schulte, gave a miscellaneous shower for 45 guests in her East Detroit home.

Mrs. Earl McHugh and Mrs. Wayne Miller entertained for the bride-elect in Mrs. McHugh's Sylvan Shores home. Fall flowers decorated the house for the kitchen shower attended by 24 guests from East Detroit, Bloomfield Hills, Plymouth and Pontiac.

Newlyweds Will Reside in California

Geraldine Lee Safford and Marine Pfc. James L. Bennett were married Oct. 23 at All Saints Episcopal Church. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. C. George Widdifield.

★ ★ ★

Serving as bridesmaid was Joan Bennett, sister of the bridegroom. E. Thyme Safford, brother of the bride, was best man.

Geraldine is the daughter of Mrs. Marjorie A. Safford of Miller street, and Gerald Safford of Grand Rapids.

Scouts Hold Council Fire for Parents

★ ★ ★

Following a supper consisting of chili, hot coffee and doughnuts, the group rallied around the fire for the traditional investure of the entering Girl Scouts of Mrs. Olaf Rose's troop. Mrs. Richard Simpson, neighborhood chairman, presented pins to the girls.

Providing entertainment were members of Mrs. Hugh Smith's Troop 116, who presented a square dance, and members of Mrs. Garnet Smith's Troop 119, enacting a skit.

Home Can Be Dangerous Place

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

If you always have thought of home as a safe place to be, let me warn you against such a delusion. Perhaps it is secure emotionally but not physically. Listen to the facts about accidents published by National Safety Council.

In 1955 there were 95,000 deaths due to accidents. It seems that the two most dangerous places are a motor car and your own home. Of these 95,000 deaths, 40,000 resulted from motor accidents and 28,000 from home accidents.

The remainder were from work fatalities and public accidents.

Falls caused 20,000 deaths in 1955. Of these, 13,600 were in the home. It is interesting to note that women lead only in falls.

According to information from the National Safety Council, in 1955 men contributed 69 per cent of all accident deaths, 75 per cent of car fatalities, 86 per cent of those who drowned and 70 per cent of those who died from poisoning. Women accounted for 51 per cent of the deaths caused by falls.

So, let us pause for a moment to consider the real danger of shoes which wobble, or are loose and poorly fitted, heels which are too high for housework, stepladders which are insecure, scatter rugs which slip, inadequate lighting, and the rush and huff and puff which most women live in.

A little thought and good sense moderation and preventive measures, may save you lots of expense, time and pain—and may even save your life!

This turns my thoughts to the dangers for the man in the house. Every summer I warn against the very real danger to the weekend athlete, or the sedentary man who sits at a desk all week and then rushes out and overdoes on the golf course or on a hike or a vacation. Many of these men die of heart attacks and others damage themselves immeasurably.

Perhaps it is time to remind you that shoveling snow and chipping ice are very strenuous exercises. I do not have the exact statistics on fatalities due to shoveling snow (heart attacks) but I do know that the number of men who die as a result is quite surprising. So, take it easy!

MR. and MRS. ROBERT E. WARMAN

Jo Ann Streeter Speaks Vows in All Saints Rite

One hundred and fifty guests witnessed the Friday evening wedding of Jo Ann Streeter and Robert E. Warman of Thorpe street. The Rev. C. George Widdifield performed the candlelight ceremony in All Saints Episcopal Church.

★ ★ ★

Mr. and Mrs. Case Streeter of Stout street are the bride's parents, and the bridegroom is the son of the Amos R. Warmans of Douglas street.

For her wedding the bride wore a gown of Chantilly lace over satin featuring a scoop neckline trimmed with sequins, long, pointed sleeves and a chapel train. Her bridal bouquet was composed of white sweetheart roses and pompon chrysanthemums on a prayerbook.

Mrs. Robert Morin served as her sister's matron of honor wearing a gown of shrimp colored lace over taffeta with a draped neckline which formed streamers at the back. She carried a cascade bouquet of harvest carnations.

Bridesmaids Mrs. James VanDyke and Mrs. James Crable, a sister of the bridegroom, wore blue lace over taffeta gowns styled like that of the honor attendant. They carried cascade arrangements of yellow carnations.

ATTEND BRIDEGROOM

★ ★ ★

For a reception in the Rose Kheale Room, Mrs. Streeter chose a rose beige dress with black accessories and a corsage of pink and white carnations.

Before leaving on a trip to Niagara Falls the new Mrs. Warman changed to a beige suit with brown accessories and a corsage from her bridal bouquet. The couple will live on Stout street.

Bland Veal Mixes Well With Ham

Mrs. Dickie Bakes Combination Loaf in 2 Coffee Cans

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

Yesterday we gave you a recipe for a regular meat loaf. Today we should like to give you one that uses only ham and veal. Try this unusual combination sometime for a change from your regular recipe.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Fred J. Dickie of Commerce contributed this recipe to a local cookbook published over ten years ago. An active senior citizen, Mrs. Dickie works in her church group and in the Eastern Star.

HAM AND VEAL LOAF
By Mrs. Fred J. Dickie

2¼ pounds smoked ham, ground
1 cup oatmeal
1 large egg or 2 small ones
1 cup milk
Pepper (no salt)

Mix all together and put in two 1-pound coffee cans. Bake one hour in a 350-degree ovn. If loaf is baked in one pan it will take about two hours.

Williams to Pay First $3.25 Toll

Big Dedication Saved for Favorable Weather Next June

ST. IGNACE — The Mackinac Bridge will be open to traffic at 11 a.m. Friday, according to Prentiss M. Brown, chairman of the Mackinac Bridge Authority.

The official linking of Michigan's two peninsulas will be without fanfare and marked with little ceremony and no speechmaking, said the chairman.

The governor, state elective officers and the Legislature have been invited to a pre-opening inspection trip.

Immediately following this, the governor and the Authority officials will drive from Mackinaw City to St. Ignace with the governor paying the first toll, $3.25, to mark the opening to traffic and dramatize the fact that the law prohibits free passes.

"The big dedication celebration will take place during the last week in June 1958, when we can be more certain of the weather than we are now.

★ ★ ★

"Our present objective is to get the bridge open, and break in our operating crews so that we can handle the huge flow of hunting season traffic efficiently," said Brown.

OPENS ON SCHEDULE

It was never intended to have the final touches on the bridge until 1958. According to this original schedule, cable wrapping, painting, landscaping and miscellaneous items were to be finished after the bridge opened. However, the cable wrapping is practically complete.

Brown cautioned motorists to respect flagmen who may be stationed at intervals along the roadway at some periods of the day for 10 days or two weeks after the opening.

"We are very proud of two important facts," said Brown. "First, we stated in December of 1953 that the bridge would be opened to traffic Nov. 1, 1957 and we are meeting this date;

Second, we figured the construction cost would be about 80 million dollars and we have kept within estimates despite three years of inflation. We consider this quite remarkable."

Passenger car tolls will be $3.25 with no charge for occupants. Truck tolls will be graduated upward depending on the number of axles to $14.00. All toll collections will be made on the St. Ignace side of the Straits.

Most Experts Think Bridge Will Boom Economy

Stirs Question of Profit to UP

EAST LANSING — Opening of the new Mackinac Bridge is certain to benefit Northern Michigan—but authorities disagree about the amount of economic expansion to expect.

A member of the Tourist and Resort Service sees the Straits Bridge becoming one of the nation's top tourist attractions and a magnet for tourist dollars which already mount up in millions each year.

Dr. Robert W. McIntosh, MSU extension specialist, points out that traffic is expected nearly to double in the first full year of bridge operation—from an estimated 1,000,000 cars via ferry and bridge this year to an estimated 1,927,000 in 1958.

★ ★ ★

"The greatest effect probably will be in land use and increase of recreational facilities," Dr. McIntosh said. "Land prices are jumping now."

★ ★ ★

The Mackinac Bridge will join the locks at Sault Ste. Marie as a great tourist attraction, he added, pointing out that man-made objects always are the greatest attractions —"like New York City, Washington and the Golden Gate Bridge, for example."

Dr. McIntosh predicts heavier traffic in both directions. Eventually, he pointed out, a four-lane divided highway from Detroit to Sault Ste. Marie will be integrated with the 41,000-mile national system of interstate highways, "creating for many American shippers the shortest route to the Pacific Northwest and the Rockies."

A 10-minute instead of 10-hour crossing for deer hunters will help too, he added.

"Of equal importance, the bridge will mean closer markets for our farm and timber products," he added.

However, Dr. Bennett T. Sandefur, professor of geology at MSU, points out: "The most important Upper Peninsula products are limestone and iron and copper ores, all of which will continue to depend upon cheaper lake shipping to compete with other sources."

Increased tourist trade in the UP could be balanced somewhat by losses at St. Ignace and Mackinaw City, present ferry headquarters, he warned, with some tourist traffic moving on into Ontario resorts.

Told of Lower Seaway Tolls

Rev. Machrowitz Hears Plans for St. Lawrence From Administrator

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Machrowicz (D-Mich) says he has been assured that U. S. officials will work for the lowest tolls possible on the St. Lawrence Seaway.

"I feel reassured," Machrowicz said after a meeting yesterday in his office with Lewis G. Castle, U. S. Seaway administrator.

The meeting was requested by Castle after Machrowicz last week accused Castle of siding with Eastern interests in advocating tolls so high that Seaway traffic would be discouraged.

"I hope, with good cause from Mr. Castle, that he is going to make every effort to make tolls acceptable to the users," Machrowicz said.

"That's my job," Castle added at a joint news conference.

As a result, said Machrowicz, he is withdrawing his suggestion that the St. Lawrence Seaway Development Corporation headed by Castle be replaced by Secretary of the Army Brucker in handling toll negotiations with Canada.

But Machrowicz and Castle were still far apart on some points.

The Detroit congressman said he continued to oppose Castle's position that tolls should be high enough to cover additional expenses as well as the original cost of the seaway.

With the longest span suspension bridge in the world, travelers can move between peninsulas in 10 minutes.

Mackinac Span Tops All Others on Statistics

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Mackinac Bridge has the longest over-all suspension in the world, 7,400 feet compared to 6,450 for San Francisco's Golden Gate.

Michigan's Mackinac Bridge is the world's costliest. It cost 100 million dollars, compared with 78 million for the San Francisco-Oakland Bay Bridge; 35 million for the Golden Gate and 20 million dollars for Detroit's Ambassador.

The concrete anchors for the Mackinac Bridge weigh a combined 360,380 tons—a weight virtually equal to all the steel and concrete in New York's Empire State Building.

End-to-end the Mackinac Bridge lacks 24 feet of being five miles long.

There are 42,000 miles of wire in the cables of the Mackinac Bridge.

The Mackinac Bridge's towers are 552 feet tall—equal to the height of Detroit's 47-story Penobscot building. Over all they are 772 feet.

There are 4,851,700 rivets and 1,016,600 bolts holding the Mackinac Bridge's steel superstructure together.

Michigan's Upper and Lower Peninsulas are joined for the first time by the Mackinac Bridge. It jumps the Straits of Mackinac, which link Lakes Michigan and Huron.

Pontiac's Air Reserve Gets Recruiting Trophy

A trophy has been presented to Pontiac's 9613th Air Reserve Squadron for leading five other state squadrons in recruiting efforts. Presentation was made by Col. Lynn Erratt, Commander of the 9124th Air Reserve Group.

Accepting the award was Major John Underwood, squadron commander, who attributed much of the squadron's success to work by Maj. Hercules Renda, recruiting officer, and Capt. Dodge Melkonian, information services officer for the squadron.

Travel by Bus Over Bridge to Cost 50 Cents

ST. IGNACE (AP) — The Mackinac Straits Bridge Authority has purchased two buses which it will operate for commuters and transients over the new Mackinac Bridge.

The buses were bought from the Detroit Street Railways system and reconditioned. They will be driven to the straits from Detroit this week.

Bus fares will be 50 cents for a single trip with commuter tickets available at 15 for $5. The ferries charge 25 cents per trip for pedestrians. The buses will operate between various points in Mackinaw City and St. Ignace, rather than just across the bridge.

The Authority paid $2,000 each for the buses. They have been completely reconditioned, repaired and painted to match the bridge color scheme of green and ivory.

Hanna Co. Will Cut to 5-Day Work Week

IRON RIVER (AP) — The M. A. Hanna Co. has announced plans to cut back from a six-day to a five-day work week at its four Upper Peninsula mines Nov. 3.

The company said the work-week cut was prompted by a decline in the demand for iron ore.

He Calls Bridge a Wedding Ring

Soo Reporter Crosses Early; Finds Freighters Look Like Toys

(The following story was written by Woodie Jarvis of the Sault Ste. Marie Evening News, who became, by accident, the first reporter to cross the new Mackinac Bridge linking Michigan's two peninsulas. The bridge will be opened Nov. 1.)

By WOODIE JARVIS
Sault Ste. Marie Evening News

ST. IGNACE (AP) — They tell you the Mackinac Bridge is the longest suspension bridge in the world, and you can well believe it when you ride across.

Quite by accident, I rode across the Mackinac Bridge the other day.

RODE TO MIDDLE

Boarding the bridge on the St. Ignace side, I rode to the middle. Three miles away and 200 feet down, the buildings of Mackinaw City seemed like toys on the south shore.

It occurred to me it was somewhat similar to taking an airplane ride with both feet on the ground.

★ ★ ★

I gazed down 200 feet — it seemed like a thousand — to the cold blue waters of the Straits of Mackinac.

FREIGHTER TOY

The wind was strong enough to blow your hat off. I fully expected to feel the bridge sway. But it didn't.

I sped down the Mackinaw City side and came to a high board barricade. A guard came out of a little guardhouse.

A two-sided letter in a clear plastic sleeve let me pass. Stationery was white on one side, green on the other.

I swung off to the right, made a short turn and found myself on the main street of Mackinaw City.

I had crossed the world's longest suspension span. I was traversing a Michigan that had suddenly become one state. There would still be an Upper Peninsula and a Lower Peninsula, but now they were joined for the first time.

Sentenced to Prison in White Lake Death

A Flint man, Harold Frye, 35, was sentenced yesterday by Circuit Judge Frank L. Doty to 1-20 years in State Prison of Southern Michigan for the auto death of a White Lake Township mother of two last summer.

Frye was convicted of negligent homicide on grounds that he had been drinking and was driving on the wrong side of Airport road in Waterford Township when the accident occurred July 15.

Mrs. Richard D. Schultz, 28, of 9510 Portage Trail was killed and five passengers with her were injured.

The bridge, four years in the making and with a 7,400-foot suspension will be dedicated formally next June 25-28.

Electric Signs to Flash

Speed Limit to Be 45 MPH

ST. IGNACE (AP) — The Mackinac Bridge will have a 45-mile-an-hour speed limit, but no load limit provided vehicles meet limits set by the Michigan Highway Department and Interstate Commerce Commission.

U-turns and stops will be prohibited.

Mackinac Bridge Authority police will enforce rules and regulations. There will be deputy sheriffs in three different counties: Mackinac, Emmet and Cheboygan. They'll take offenders to justices of the peace.

(The bridge's southern terminus lies in both Cheboygan and Emmet Counties).

Electrically illuminated signs spaced along the five-mile long bridge can be used to flash speed limits of 15 or 30 miles an hour if such are needed because of mishaps or ice conditions.

★ ★ ★

The signs also could direct lane shifting, but the two-foot wide center mall, which rises about four inches, will be crossed only in emergencies. All traffic could be ordered to a stop by remotely controlled signs.

California's Governor Reaffirms Candidacy

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (UP)—Gov. Goodwin J. Knight said again yesterday that he is a candidate for reelection. This time he did not say it quite as strongly, or so political observers thought.

There still was conjecture that Knight and Sen. William F. Knowland would find some way to avoid a head-on clash next June in the California Republican primary. Both have announced they would seek the gubernatorial nomination.

Knight, who has been suffering from flu, released a 550-word statement yesterday as he left for a secret vacation. He said "several of Sen. Knowland's staunch supporters" had proposed a deal: They would support him for the Senate if he left the contest for governor.

Knight said, "I have not entered into any such agreement."

He fell short, however, of completely ruling it out. He did not name the "staunch supporters."

Sugar Heir Spreckles Weds Seed Heiress

Handsome, Lovable Martinet in Her 80s

Bing's Mother Crosby Family Kingpin —Even Her Five Sons Acknowledge It!

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — Bing Crosby may be a dynamic force in the theatrical world, but his ma is the immovable object, the unpublicized kingpin, of the Crosby family.

"I told him the girl was too young for him," she said firmly. "But they took their time and did it up right by marrying in the church. Anybody can see they're in love with each other, therefore they ought to be happy."

Catherine Harrigan Crosby, a handsome, white-haired, sharp-tongued woman with the will and determination of a lovable martinet, is in her 80s, but her seven children stand in awe of her just as they did when they were teenagers sneaking cookies from the pantry.

Of her sons, Bing, Bob, Larry, Everett and Ted, she said:

"It's been an endless job to raise these boys right. But mothers today have a much worse time than I did. In the old days there weren't so many temptations and there wasn't so much drinking and carousing around.

PROUD OF SONS

"I think they're pretty good boys. Most of the time I'm proud of them," she added. "But none of us are perfect."

Catherine Crosby also has two married daughters, but she doesn't worry too much about them ("Boys are harder to raise.") However, neither of them dares to smoke a cigarette or sip a cocktail in her presence.

Although she disapproves of drinking, Mother Crosby always carries a vial of bourbon in her pocketbook—in case of an earthquake, or similar disaster!

Mrs. Crosby, who once worked as a milliner in a Tacoma, Wash., department store, has lived with Bing since the death of his wife, Dixie Lee, in 1952.

"But now that Bing is married again," she said, "I'm going to move out. One house isn't big enough for two families."

As a young girl, Bing's Ma starred in amateur theatricals and did a little singing, but nowadays she spends most of her time playing canasta and seeing that her family goes to church.

"If we don't go to church," her oldest son, Larry, said, "we catch the devil. So we go. And she lays it on if she catches me working in the yard on Sundays.

"She has an old Irish saying, 'I'll have to undo it with my nose in the next life,' whenever she sees us doing something we shouldn't."

Larry recalled that his father, Harry Lowe Crosby who died seven years ago, wasn't too good with the stick.

"But Mother would larrup us," he grinned. "And we all had chores around the house too—all but Bing. He was always her favorite and she'd let him wiggle out of the housework because he was always mixed up in athletics and she was always so proud when he'd come home with a medal or something he'd won."

"We had to stock the basement with wood every fall, do some of the cooking and wash the dishes," Larry declared. "Father was away at work most of the time. That left Mother the undisputed boss of the household. And she still is.

"She still tells us all what to do and how to do it. She even tells Bing what records he can't record. She doesn't like the risque ones."

Last Christmas, according to Larry, son Everett wrote his mother a letter from New York complaining about his finances and saying he was sorry that he couldn't send her a Christmas gift.

"Mother wired him back," Larry laughed, "and told him to go downtown and charge a handkerchief and send the bill to her!"

Crosby Wedding Follows Filmland Trend

Hollywood Record Good on May-December Unions

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Bing Crosby's wedding to a girl the same age as one of his sons follows the trend in May-December marriages in Hollywood. And, perhaps surprisingly, such marriages have had a good average in a town where divorce is sometimes considered a way of life.

★ ★ ★

There is 30 years' difference between Bing and his bride, Kathy Grant. Far from being a handicap, the gap is considered an advantage by some observers of the filmland scene. Take a look at the record.

Many of Hollywood's mature leading men have chosen wives decades younger than themselves. It's true that such alliances are often second, third or fourth marriages. But they have stuck where others failed.

William Powell set the pattern in 1940. He chose as his third wife an MGM starlet, Diana Lewis. He was 47; she could barely vote. Hollywood gave the marriage six months. The Powells are still happily wed.

Humphrey Bogart, 45, had a headlined romance with his young leading lady, Lauren Bacall, 21. No one gave her a chance to accomplish what three other women had failed to do—tame Bogart. But she did it, and his last decade was the happiest of his life.

Rudy Vallee was another three-time loser. In 1949, he married a University of California coed, Eleanor Norris. Though he was 29 years older, their marriage has remained constant.

Twice-divorced Cary Grant was another star who fell in love with his leading lady. She was Betsy Drake, with whom he appeared in the prophetic "Every Girl Should Be Married." When they married, he was 46, she was 26. They are one of the town's most devoted couples.

Saddened by the death of his first wife, Fred MacMurray found companionship with June Haver, also unhappy from a series of personal tragedies. They married when he was 45 and she was 28. She seems perfectly content to forget her career and take care of their home and their adopted twins.

Older women were among Clark Gable's first four wives. As his fifth, he chose Kay Spreckels, 20 years his junior.

Satchmo Thinks Southerners Run U.S. Government

BUENOS AIRES (AP)—Trumpeter Louis Armstrong says the U. S. government could "put its foot down" to stop race disturbances "but, you know, the government is run by Southerners."

Touring South America with his band, the famous Negro musician told newsmen after his arrival last night that American Negroes are beginning to refuse to be pushed around.

"We don't take that jive now," he said, adding "I'll tell the same thing to anyone I meet down here."

Armstrong after the Little Rock segregation riots announced he was rejecting a State Department invitation to take his band to Russia. Three weeks later he said he had changed his mind and would go if the State Department wanted him to.

The jazz player's arrival here for a two-week engagement touched off a near-riot as Argentine fans mobbed him at the airport. Undeterred by fire hoses, the crowd burst through police and fire lines and almost forced Armstrong to the ground in their welcome.

Armstrong and the band were hurried to the airport hotel after fist fights had broken out in the crowd.

"Somebody could have got hurt," the trumpeter said, "and if we get hurt we can't blow."

Canada and the U. S. consume 244 pounds of wood fiber per capita annually.

Chet Wlodkowski (11:34) led the pack, which included Eaglets' Don Donakowski (2), Tel Kosnik (5), Andy Zandrzyzki (6), Con Nawars (8), Bob Kula (9) and Con Brandt (10). University of Detroit High's Bob McGill (3), Reg Kent (4), and John Hurford (7) were in the top 10.

Eaglets will take part in the state Class C meet Saturday at Washtenaw CC near Ann Arbor.

Now Owns 5½ Per Cent

Bing Adds Tiger Stock

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Bing Crosby has acquired not only a lovely young bride, but also about 5½ per cent of the Detroit Tigers baseball team.

The singer's brother and longtime spokesman, Larry, announced last night that Bing has exercised an option to buy stock in the team, which finished fourth last season in the American League.

At that time, Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick ruled that The Groaner could own only a token share in the Tigers because he also held stock in the Pittsburgh Pirates of the National League.

★ ★ ★

Larry Crosby said that, if Frick approves, Bing's four sons ultimately will buy the singer's approximately 10 per cent interest in the Pirates.

★ ★ ★

Frick's office said Tiger director Paul O'Brien contacted the commissioner in connection with the Crosby deal. But Frick asked for a written statement of the negotiations before making any ruling.

★ ★ ★

Larry Crosby declined to disclose the value of the Detroit stock. However, when the club changed hands last year, the sale price was 5½ million dollars. Estimates of the Tigers' 1957 profits run as high as $500,000.

★ ★ ★

"Actually, I'll be a very minor stockholder," said Bing, who came here yesterday to record a radio show. He has been honeymooning at his ranch near Palm Springs with his bride of five days, Kathy Grant.

After Almost Quitting

Shantz AL Comeback Star

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — "It was darn nice of the fellows to remember me," said little Bobby Shantz today upon learning he had been voted the American League comeback player of the year in an Associated Press poll of baseball writers.

BOBBY SHANTZ

★ ★ ★

Sixty-nine of the 152 participating writers in the annual poll voted for Shantz. Gene Woodling, Cleveland outfielder, was named on 32 ballots. Ted Williams of Boston, who won the league batting title, was third with 12 votes followed by Washington outfielder Roy Sievers and Baltimore pitcher Billy Loes, each with nine.

★ ★ ★

Shantz's modest reaction was typical of the tiny southpaw who almost quit baseball two years ago because of shoulder miseries. His troubles started in Sept. 1952, the year he won 24 games for the Philadelphia Athletics and was selected the league's most valuable player.

★ ★ ★

Shantz, whose 11 victories this year helped the New York Yankees win the American League pennant, said he had a lot of people to thank for his comeback.

Elliott, Taylor Back PCC Rules

★ ★ ★

The two testified yesterday before the State Assembly Subcommittee on Intercollegiate Activities hearing on a bill to set up a state intercollegiate athletic commission.

★ ★ ★

These hearings continue today. Chairman Frank G. Bonelli voiced his personal opinion the PCC was dying and suggested formation of a California conference of California, Stanford, UCLA, Southern California, College of the Pacific and San Jose State.

★ ★ ★

Colorado Ace Is Voted Football's 'Player of Week'

NEW YORK (INS) — Bob Stransky, the magnificent halfback who was a hero in defeat as Colorado just missed a stupendous upset of mighty Oklahoma Saturday, earned college football's Player of the Week award.

★ ★ ★

Stransky, a 21-year-old senior from Yankton, S.D., who is second in the nation in individual ground-gaining offense and leads in rushing, scored one of his team's touchdowns and lateraled off for the other as the Buffs came within one point of tying the Sooners.

★ ★ ★

Other selections:

Game of the week—Oklahoma's 14-to-13 squeaker over Colorado.

★ ★ ★

Play of the week—Kevin Furlong's "steal" of a would-be interception and the touchdown he scored in the fourth quarter to give Iowa a 6-to-0 win over Northwestern.

11 Conferences Scan Differences in Cage Rules

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP) — Commissioners and other officials of 11 athletic conferences are trying to iron out differences in the ways they interpret the rules of basketball.

Represented at the two-day clinic at the University of California are the Big 10, Big 8, Pacific Coast Conference, Skyline, Southwest, Southeast, Southern, Atlantic Coast, Eastern Collegiate, Border and Missouri Valley.

Last night the delegates, attending the conference of the National Assn. of Collegiate Commissioners, used Cal squads as laboratory material and the referees took turns officiating in an intra-squad game.

Texas Aggies Push Sooners to 2nd

Oklahoma Slips After Tight One Against Buffs

Iowa's Hawks Retain 3rd Spot, Spartans in Sixth Position

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Texas Aggies again showed that even the best college football teams can't afford to let down for a moment as they rolled into first place in the Associated Press weekly ranking poll. Oklahoma proved the point as it slipped to second after a close opinion of writers and broadcasters from 36 states and the District of Columbia.

It was the second time this season that Oklahoma's Sooners, unbeaten in 45 consecutive games, had lost the lead just because they didn't win decisively. They dropped behind Michigan State after their 21-7 victory over Texas then regarded as a comparatively weak foe; regained the No. 1 spot a week ago, then dropped behind Texas A & M today after Colorado had held them to a 14-13 decision.

The Aggies, meanwhile, rolled over Baylor 14-0 for their sixth straight this season and their fourth shutout in six starts, thus gaining stature in the eyes of the sports writers and broadcasters participating in the AP balloting.

Out of 166 voters this week, 59 put the Aggies on top and 54 listed them second. Oklahoma drew 51 first place votes and 54 for second. On the basis of ten points for each first place vote, nine for second, etc., the Aggies outscored the Sooners 1,457 points to 1,418. It was the closest contest for first place so far this season.

Only these two teams were ranked in the first ten by all 166 voters. No one put the Aggies lower than eighth while Oklahoma was given two votes for ninth place and two for tenth.

Iowa's Big Ten leaders retained third place with 20 first place votes but from there on down the order bore little resemblance to the top ten of a week ago as upsets and close calls brought about a fast shuffle.

The top 10 teams with first place votes in parentheses:

1.	Texas A&M (59)	1,457
2.	Oklahoma (51)	1,418
3.	Iowa (20)	1,138
4.	Auburn (19)	1,001

Duke Engages Georgia Tech

Shaky Engineers Meet Unbeaten Blue Devils Saturday at Atlanta

ATLANTA (AP)—Duke, one of the nation's top football powers and a leading candidate for the Orange Bowl, will come to town Saturday to play Georgia Tech's below-par Engineers.

Tech, which usually is beginning to get bowl fever about this time every year, is virtually out of the post-season picture. The Engineers, almost 50 per cent sophomore among the regulars, have won two, lost two and tied one.

Duke is unbeaten but was held to a tie Saturday by North Carolina State.

Lake Orion and Hazel Park

2 County Teams Stay Clean

Just like pins on a bowling alley, the number of perfect record high school football teams in Oakland County keeps toppling each week.

There are now only two undefeated, untied schools in Oakland following Troy's 7-0 demise at the hands of Clawson last Friday.

The two members of the charmed circle are Class A Hazel Park and 'B' power Lake Orion. Both squads are clean after five games.

Their roads to a flawless season are still infested with thorns, however. The Vikings must tangle with Ferndale, Garden City, Port Huron and East Detroit, while Troy, Romeo, Holly and Oxford block Orion's path.

Two county teams are unbeaten, but their slates are marred by ties. The Southfield Bluejays have won five and tied one, Holly has won four and tied two.

Five area teams are also spotless. Almont, Highland Park St. Benedict and Detroit St. Rita own six victories apiece, while Warren and South Lake hold 5-0 records.

Four Big Prep Games on Schedule

Grid Thrills Slated Friday

By BILL CORNWELL

If you're looking for high school football thrills this weekend, there should be enough to stand your hair on end right here in the Oakland County area.

Four big games headline this Friday's prep schedule, three of which will decide league championships.

Oakland B — Troy at Lake Orion;

Tri-County — Rochester at Romeo.

Southfield and Farmington will decide who's going to wear the Inter-Lakes crown in an afternoon debate. All the others are slated under the lights.

The Southfield-Farmington title showdown is a huge surprise to most area observers. Both were expected to dwell in the league's 2nd division this year.

But the pre-season forecasts were knocked into a cocked hat as the Jays and Farmington popped up with strong outfits that proceeded to bowl over all league opposition.

Southfield, boasting a powerful ground attack, has raced to five wins and a tie in six starts and rates a slight edge Friday. Farmington's overall record is four wins, one loss and one tie.

Lake Orion will be favored to dispose of Troy, but there is every indication that the affair will be hotly contested from start to finish.

The pressure is strictly on Troy in this encounter. Orion can wrap up the Oakland B crown by defeating the Colts, its final league opponent. The Colts can throw the league race into a three-way tie for 1st with a victory.

The Rochester-Romeo game will in all possibility decide the winner of the newly-formed Tri-County circuit. Rochester leads at the moment with a 1-0 mark, but Romeo has a 1-1 record and can grab the lead by winning. Lapeer also 1-1, would stand to profit in the title picture by a Romeo triumph.

Only winless L'Anse Creuse would bar Rochester's path to the crown if the Falcons can get past the Bulldogs this Friday.

Triumph Over Bay City Clinches It

Midland Voted State's Top Class A Team

By DAVE DILES
State AP Sports Editor

Everyone called it the "game of the year," and the two teams battling it out for the mythical state Class A high school football championship put on a tremendous show.

Midland High's Chemics won the Saturday night encounter at Bay City Central High stadium before a jam-packed throng of more than 10,000 by a score of 20-14. Today, that triumph, achieved on three first-half touchdowns and a defense that rallied when the chips were down, put Bob Stoppert's Midland team all alone on top of the Associated Press state rankings.

Midland and Bay City Central waged a bitter duel for the top spot and had been deadlocked for the No. 1 position for two weeks.

The AP's panel of sports editors who name the weekly "top ten" around the state unanimously selected the Chemics for the top spot this week. Central's defeat, its first in six games, pushed the Wolves only to 2nd place a step ahead of Muskegon Heights and Ann Arbor.

It was a disappointing defeat for Elmer Engel's Bay City team. This was the third straight season the Wolves had been involved in the contest generally regarded as the "game of the year." Each time they have come off on the short end of the count.

Bay City received four second-place votes in the 6th weekly rankings. Muskegon Heights, a 19-7 winner over Grand Haven for its 5th straight victory, stayed in 3rd place while Ann Arbor was ousting Lansing Eastern from their 4th-place deadlock.

After sharing that spot last week, Ann Arbor whipped Eastern 26-7 in their Six-A League scramble Friday night. The defeat shoved Eastern to 10th place.

1. Midland (6-0)
2. Bay City Central (5-1)
3. Muskegon Heights (5-0)
4. Ann Arbor (5-0-1)
5. Flint Northern (4-1)
6. Grand Rapids Union (4-1)
7. Muskegon Catholic (4-2)
8. Grosse Pointe (5-1)
9. Wyandotte (4-1)
10. (tie) Lansing Eastern (5-1)
Muskegon (4-2)

1948 Hambletonian Champion Is Sold

LEXINGTON, Ky. (INS) — Demon Hanover, the 1948 Hambletonian winner, has been sold for $500,000.

The figure equaled the highest price ever paid for a standardbred horse and was purchased Monday in Lexington by John R. Gaines, 28, for a syndicate he declined to identify.

The trotting star, which has been used as a sire, was sold by Robert Critchfield, owner of Gay Acres Farm, Wooster, Ohio, where the famed horse will remain until after the 1958 breeding season. Then Demon Hanover will be moved to a central Kentucky farm.

Detroit Youth Shoots Ace at Bald Mountain

Lynn Chalmers, 17-year-old Detroit golfer, fired a hole-in-one Sunday at Bald Mountain Golf Club. Playing his 3rd year of golf, Chalmers aced the 170-yard 17th hole with a No. 5 iron.

Witnessing the ace were his father, George, and Ed and Phil Boyer, both from Pontiac. Chalmers, who lives at 19485 Blackstone, shot 92 for the round. It was the 5th hole-in-one reported this season at Bald Mountain.

Kelly Out With Injury

Wings Drop Rookie Pair

DETROIT (AP) — General manager Jack Adams, musing somberly on the woeful showing of his National Hockey Champion Detroit Red Wings this season, admitted today he had erred in his preseason estimate of rookie center Guyle Fielder.

Touted by Adams before the season opened as "the best playmaking center we've had in years," Fielder was cut loose from the club yesterday as the Wings prepared for their first major road trip of the campaign.

"He's too slow for this league and has been in the minors too long," Adams said of the 27-year-old Idaho-born Fielder who set a professional scoring record of 122 points with Seattle in the Western Hockey League last season.

Adams said that veteran Norm Ullman would be moved up to the No. 1 line with Gordie Howe and Johnny Wilson to replace Fielder who went back to Seattle.

At the same time, Adams sent rookie winger Bill McCreary back to Hershey in the American League on 24-hour recall and brought up defenseman Bucky Hollingsworth from the Pennsylvania club to replace the injured Red Kelly.

Kelly, a 10-year veteran and captain of the Red Wings, had a leg he injured a week ago put in a cast yesterday.

Standing Ovation Given O'Malley by Over 1,000 Fans

LOS ANGELES (AP)—"Play Ball" shouted former Umpire Beans Reardon. Guests at the speakers' table let fly with rubber baseballs —to the delight of the more than 1,000 fans, who scrambled for the balls like bleacher urchins.

The scene was yesterday's rousing civic luncheon for the transplanted Los Angeles Dodgers baseball club.

Past and present major league figures—introduced by comedian Joe E. Brown—kept the audience chuckling for more than an hour.

A standing ovation went to Dodger President Walter O'Malley, who told the group:

"I hope the next time you will be asked to stand up will be for Duke Snider's first home run in Los Angeles."

Keglers in Cleveland Meet

Three local women's teams will bowl in the 35th annual Women's Central States tournament to be held at Cleveland beginning Saturday.

The teams will include Lion Store and Stroh's of Pontiac and Holland Floral & Gifts of Rochester. Team members will also take part in doubles and singles at the tourney.

Capt. Nellie Smith and the Lion team will see action on opening day. Other members are Fern Colgate, Esther Ulman, Mary Jackalow and Gladys Kimmel.

The others will compete Nov. 9. Peggy Bender leads the Stroh's group which also includes Lee Nolan, Eva Bull, Sally Hoffman and Genevieve Bradley.

The Rochester contingent is made up of Vi Scott, captain, Cecelia Maitrott, Faye Sivert, Mildred Anderson and Doris Lanktree.

First Top Rating for Southwest 11 in Seven Years

DALLAS (AP)—When Texas A&M was voted No. 1 in this week's Associated Press poll today, it marked the first time in seven years for a Southwest Conference football team to attain that rating.

Coach Paul Bryant of the Aggies obviously hopes his team won't meet the fate that befell that 1950 Southern Methodist eleven that was voted No. 1 in midseason.

The SMU team of 1950 was pushed to No. 1 when it won five straight games. The very next week Southern Methodist was beaten by Texas 23-20 and fell out of the No. 1 spot in a hurry. Not only that but SMU went on to lose three of its last four games and wound up tied for next to last in the Southwest Conference as Texas took the championship and played in the Cotton Bowl.

Evy Gets Another Crack at 'M'

Hawkeye Coach Has Lost Four to Alma Mater

Iowa Attempts to Snap Michigan Hex Saturday in Televised Game

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Forest Evashevski, when he became head football coach at Iowa in 1952, had three aims.

Two have been achieved. Iowa won the Big Ten championship and the Rose Bowl last year.

The third goal remains. And it is, perhaps, the biggest of all. Evy wants to beat Michigan, his alma mater.

Evy, who was Tom Harmon's blocking back in 1938-39-40, has only bitter memories of the last four Michigan-Iowa games.

Iowa was ahead 14-13 in 1953 and 1954. In 1955, the Hawkeyes led 14-0 at halftime. They lost 33-21 as the Wolverines, led by Jim Maddock and Tom Maentz, roared to three touchdowns in the final quarter.

The Hawkeyes were rolling along unbeaten in five games last year. They skipped off to a 14-13 lead at halftime. Again it looked as if the "Michigan jinx" would be snapped.

Now, once more as Evy prepares his team for Michigan, Iowa is unbeaten and untied. It's again atop the Big Ten standings. There must be strong incentive this week for Evy and his staff. Three of his aides also played for Michigan.

The Iowa forward wall, which begrudgingly yielded yardage, is anchored by All-America tackle Alex Karras, a 233-pounder who pestered Michigan last season. He's ably assisted by 205-pound guard Frank Bloomquist and 280-pound center Mac Lewis.

4 Gain Draws Playing Chess, Checker Champ

Four checkers players last night gained draws with Newell W. Banks, world champion blindfold chess and checkers player, in an exhibition staged by the Pontiac Chess and Checkers Club.

It was the third consecutive year that Robert E. Dunham, 70, and his son Delos A., 39, both of 272 Cottage St., and Dwight Fisher, 60, of 800 N. Leroy St., Fenton, earned draws with the champion in checkers.

Crow Is Heart of Aggies

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (AP)—The heart of the Texas Aggies as they roll unbeaten along the football trail rated No. 1 in the nation is a big guy who just likes to run over people.

He's John Crow, a 210-pound halfback who never considers defeat. He's the fellow who assures the coach there's nothing to worry about, that the team is going to win the ball game come what may.

It doesn't matter to Crow who does it either. For that reason Coach Paul Bryant says he's "an All-America in my book. He has only a burning desire for the team to win."

Richards Leading NHL

In eight games The Rocket has scored eight goals and collected eight assists. In only one game has he failed to register at least one point.

Right behind in the official NHL statistics released today, are his linemates — brother Henri "The Pocket Rocket" Richard and Dickie Moore. Henri has seven goals and seven assists for 14 points and Moore a five-eight count for 13.

This formidable trio, far and away the most devastating line in the league during the first three weeks of the season, has accounted for 20 of Montreal's 33 goals—a potent factor in the top spot held by the Canadiens.

His Team Good Example

Redskin Coach Says Pro Play Wide Open'

WASHINGTON (AP)—How can a pro football team look so bad one week and so good the next?

In either case, Kuharich said today, there are so many angles it's hard to finger any single one.

"In golf, maybe a key shot trickles into a trap instead of holding to the fairway. In football, you miss a tackle on the line or in the hole and you suffer. Football is a game of errors. The team that makes the most will lose."

The Redskins, loop-de-loops of the National Football League have these results to show for a 2-3 record to date: Lost to Pittsburgh, 28-7. . . beat Chicago Cards 37-14 . . . lost to New York, 24-20 . . . lost to same Cards, 44-14. . . beat same Giants, 31-14.

Nothing surprises Kuharich in pro football, where all teams are pretty much in balance and each has the ability to score on any play from anywhere on the field at any moment of the game. The Redskins have made hay with some slick quarterbacking by little Eddie LeBaron, the league's leading passer, artful receiving by end Johnny Carson and fine running by rookie backs Jim Podoley, Don Bosseler and Ed Sutton. Defensively, they've had good days and bad.

Talent aside, Kuharich listed "fumbles, interceptions and official decisions at crucial moments as the most telling factors in a football game."

Pistons Seeking Two Big Men

Arnelle Nearing Army Discharge, Kalafat Is Already Out

DETROIT (AP) — By the time the Detroit Pistons open their road season in Minneapolis Wednesday night, coach Charley Eckman hopes to have definite word on two big men who might solve a couple of Piston problems.

Eckman has been notified that Jesse Arnelle, rugged 6-feet-5 forward from Penn State, will return from the army this week. Arnelle, who played briefly with the Pistons two years ago, originally was due out in December.

And Ed Kalafat's whereabouts aren't known to Eckman. The big former Minnesota center, obtained by the Pistons in a trade last summer with the Minneapolis Lakers, was reported out of the service last week. But he has not been in touch with the Pistons.

Eckman isn't sure whether Kalafat will report to the Pistons or whether the big guy will retire.

Slight Margins Make or Break 'Derby' Entries

For instance — in the latest bids for leadership in both heavy and long bird divisions fractions of an ounce and small parts of an inch determined the new leaders.

Jesse King's (Pontiac) leading heavyweight (3-pounds 7-ounces was only a half ounce heavier than the previous leader. Then there was the bid by Russell Ciucci, 84 Chippawa Rd., whose bird lacked a bare eighth of an inch of equalling the present leader.

But even the latest figures are liable to be erased. There are still 12 days left for contestants to file entries for the $50 (heaviest) and $45 (longest) entries U.S. Savings bond awards. Noon, Nov. 12 is the final time for entries, all of which must be made at the sports department of The Press.

State 5-Man Teams to Bowl at Huron

Huron Bowl will be the outstate scene of the eliminations for the State Five Man Team title Nov 9-10. The winner here will meet the winner of the Detroit elimination tournament for the state title.

The teams will bowl three games Saturday and six games Sunday. Winners of the Pontiac and Detroit eliminations will then select their home sites and bowl 24 games in home and home matches for the state title.

DeMarco Faces Akins Tonight

BOSTON (AP) — Former welterweight King Tony DeMarco and veteran Virgil Akins meet for the Massachusetts version of the world's 147-pound championship tonight in a scheduled 15-round bout which shapes up as a slugfest from the opening bell.

Realizing victory a "must" to stay in contention for world recognition, both fighters were prepared to shoot for a knockout in their Boston Garden clash unavailable to television and radio audiences.

"I'll be looking for a knockout, but I'm ready to go the distance if I can't find the opening," a determined DeMarco said. "I just want to win—and I will."

Florida Race Track Sold for $3 Million

CORAL GABLES, Fla. (AP)—Waterford Park, a mile race track near Chester, W.Va., has been bought by a Cleveland race horse owner and two Huntington, W.Va., businessmen for about 3 million dollars.

Announcement of the sale was made here yesterday by Horace Wade, racing secretary for Gulfstream Park, near Miami, who will be executive vice president and managing director of Waterford Park.

HEAVIEST — Hunting with a party of four others, in the Bald Mt. park area, Saturday, Jesse M. King (above), 235 South Sanford, Pontiac, downed the current heaviest bird in The Press' "pheasant derby." King's rooster weighed 3-pounds, 7-ounces, displaced one entered Oct. 22 by Don Ernst, by one-half ounce. Others in the party were a son, Don, Dewey Wilder, Glenn Watson, Harman Wilder (Dewey's father), all of Pontiac.

Duffy Orders All-Out Scrimmage

But Michigan State's boss man, Duffy Daugherty, generally a cheerful type, wasn't laughing today. Instead, Daugherty has been feeling mighty low and getting pretty tough.

This afternoon, for the 1st time in two years after a season started, Daugherty has ordered his first and second teams to stage an all-out scrimmage.

"I'm not mad at the team," Daugherty insisted, "but I think a little hitting will help to resharpen our operation. We've had a lot of fumbles and defensive lapses the last two Saturdays. We need to review a lot of things and maybe revise some of them."

The top two teams haven't scrimmaged on a weekday this fall since the Indiana opener. In fact, they didn't scrimmage at all last season either, once play started.

The move shows coaches are really concerned after the narrow 19-14 verdict over Illinois, even more so than after the only loss this season, to Purdue by a 20-13 score the week previous.

One good reason is that for the 1st time this fall, Michigan State was out-rushed. The Illini gained 200 yards overland to 151 for the Spartans. State had only a slight edge in passing and the line play and blocking sometimes looked lackadaisical.

The theory at Michigan State has been that scrimmage during mid-week was too dangerous for the top 22 men on the varsity. There would always be risks that a valuable regular might be crippled by one of his own teammates.

The third team and those below have been trying for blood regularly. But the top talent has been playing for keeps only on Saturday afternoons.

Five squad members were hospitalized over night with colds. It was explained their ailments were merely ba dcolds — not the flu, Asian or otherwise, and the hospital rest was only precautionary.

Marquette Has 16 Losses but Coach to Stay

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Marquette football coach Johnny Druze, bolstered by a full vote of confidence from school officials, returned today to the task of rebuilding the Warriors, owners of the nation's longest major college losing streak —16 games dating back to 1955.

Following Saturday's 26-7 Homecoming loss to Texas Christian, the Rev. John Holbrook, S. J., chairman of the Marquette Athletic Board, said he was particularly happy with the team's showing in the last two games, against Cincinnati and TCU.

"We lost both games but the boys showed that they have not given up, that they have confidence and faith," he said.

Bass Drummer Blamed

Colorado Calls Sooner Fans 'Unsportsmanlike'

DENVER, Colo. (INS) — Colorado University football coach Dal Ward said Monday an "unsportsmanlike" crowd and Oklahoma's base drummer cost Colorado one touchdown at least in C. U.'s near upset of Oklahoma Saturday.

Ward, however, refused to say the crowd and drummer meant the difference between winning and losing, giving full credit to coach Bud Wilkinson's No. 1 ranked Sooners.

Oklahoma beat the Colorado Buffaloes, 14 - 13, in what so-called experts had said would be a runaway game.

Ward, appearing before a downtown Denver booster club, was disgusted about the treatment his team received, however, at the hands of the more than 60,000 fans witnessing the contest at Norman, Okla. He said:

"Never in my life . . . have I witnessed such a spectacle as I saw at Norman.

"When our (Colorado's) quarterback signaled for silence, the partisan crowd would scream all the more. And it wasn't only the crowd.

"I'll always remember that bass drummer in the Oklahoma band pounding harder and harder when the players pleaded for silence.

8-Game Streak for Dartmouth

Desire Helps Makeshift Indians Run Up Longest Win String in 19 Years

"We feel spirit is one of the vital factors in football," energetic, coach Bob Blackman said. "Every man on the squad receives at least one letter a week from the staff during the summer. We do everything we can from a morale standpoint.'

Dartmouth is the only major team with a perfect record left in the East and its eight straight victories extending back into last season is its first such string since the 1937-38 campaigns.

New NFL Slate Planned

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Commissioner Bert Bell says he is working on a new six-year schedule which would allow more games between Eastern and Western Conference teams in the National Football League.

The Commissioner disclosed yesterday that four of the six Eastern Conference teams feel the "big gates" are in the Western Conference and want more games with their more fortunate brothers.

Under the present NFL scheduling system, each team plays home and away against members of its own conference and two games with clubs from the opposite conference.

The Philadelphia Eagles, Chicago Cards, Washington Redskins and Pittsburgh Steelers, all of the Eastern Conference have expressed dissatisfaction with this setup. These clubs feel all the "big money" is in the Western Conference.

Bell says he is inclined to agree with the Eastern owners, although he contends, "it wasn't always that way. The big gates used to be in the East while the West starved. The thing has swung around, however, and I'm trying to do something about it."

Under Bell's new six year plan, each team would add a game with a club in the opposite conference, dropping one away game with a team in its own conference.

Pace Captures Lead in Big Ten Scoring

CHICAGO (AP) — Jim Pace, Michigan's swift and nifty halfback, took over the Big Ten all-games football scoring lead with a pair of touchdowns in a 24-7 triumph over Minnesota last week.

Pace's two touchdowns gave him a total of six for 36 points and one-touchdown edge over Wisconsin speedster Danny Lewis, who moved into second place with 30 points.

Caldwell Seriously Ill, Faces Surgery

PRINCETON, N. J. (AP)—Charlie Caldwell, whose sure hand on the football field molded many outstanding Princeton teams, remained in Princeton Hospital today, his condition unchanged.

The 56-year-old Caldwell was admitted yesterday for possible surgery and his condition was listed as serious. He spent the night under an oxygen tent.

His wife remained with him until 10:30 p.m. and then returned home.

STRIKES AND SPARES
By Joe Wilman

There are four ways to roll a hook ball. Today, we'll discuss two of them. Tomorrow, we'll take up the other two ways.

1. I call this the hand-shaking position. As the bowler looks down, his thumb is in the 9 o'clock position while the fingers are at 3 o'clock. In delivering the ball, the bowler applies no wrist turn but does have a good follow-through. The thumb comes out first, and the fingers impart a natural spin to the ball because they are on the side, as you see in today's illustration. This natural spin is what gives the ball its hook as it nears the pins.

2. A stronger hook results when the thumb is in the 11 o'clock position with the hand behind and under the ball. The fingers give plenty of lift as the ball is released, and the arm follows through. Once again, no turn.

New York Ups Points on Persistent Violators

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — The state is stiffening its "point system" in a move to reduce traffic deaths by forcing dangerous drivers off the highways.

The point system —a certain number of points for each traffic offense — tabs persistent violators and can result in either suspension or revocation of a driver's license.

Use Telescopic Camera

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — A huge telescopic camera which can take 60 pictures a second of missiles as much as 50 to 100 miles away is being used to photograph the rise of rockets from launching pads at the missile test center here.

Wheat Trading Mainly Local

CHICAGO (AP)—Grain and soybean futures were steady to slightly easier on the board of trade today.

★ ★ ★

The trade considered as bearish a government forecast of a larger wheat production next year, based on a lesser number of acres signed up for the 1958 soil bank.

Corn was under pressure of good harvesting weather. There was some buying of the December delivery by commission houses against sales by commercial interests.

Soybeans also were off fractionally on weather conditions. Near the end of the first hour, wheat was ⅛ lower to ⅛ higher, Dec. $2.16⅛, corn ⅛ lower to ¼ higher, Dec. $1.18⅜, oats ⅛ lower to ⅜ higher, Dec. 67¼, rye ¼-⅜ higher, Dec. $1.27⅞, soybeans unchanged to ½ lower, Nov. $2.27; lard 2 to 7 cents a hundred pounds lower, Nov. $11.25.

Settlement of Dispute Averts Buick Strike

FLINT (AP) — General Motors Corp. announced today settlement of a labor dispute that had threatened to close down its Buick plant in Flint.

Edward T. Ragsdale, general manager of Buick Division, said "complete agreement" had been reached with Local 599 of the United Auto Workers without interruption of work.

The union had threatened to call a strike of 20,000 Buick workers in a dispute over seniority and job classifications.

Sylvan Council Names Wilhelm to Fill Vacancy

Joseph A. Wilhelm, assistant office manager at Pontiac Motor Division, has been appointed to fill a vacancy on the Sylvan Lake City Council created by the resignation of Willard L. McRae.

McRae, of 1668 Iverness Dr., resigned "due to recent developments." He was elected for a three-year term in 1955.

Ike to Visit London

LONDON (INS) — The Times of London reported today that president and Mrs. Eisenhower would visit London in December, probably before going to Paris for the North Atlantic Treaty Organization council meeting.

MARLETTE — Jean Hansen of Evanston, Ill., general secretary of the Loyal Temperance Legion of the National Woman's Christian Temperance Union, will be principal speaker at the 77th annual Seventh District Michigan WCTU convention in the Marlette Methodist Church next Wednesday and Thursday.

Miss Hansen will speak at a morning conference of the LTL Thursday and at 3 p.m. on "Cast Up the Highway."

Stocks Higher in Early Trades

Key stocks advanced from fractions to a point or more. There was a scattering of losers.

U.S. Steel, which opened unchanged at 54¾ on 2,000 shares, went ahead around a point. "Big steel" reports after the close today on third quarter earnings and dividends.

Gains of around a point or so were made by Anaconda, Kennecott, International Nickel, North American Aviation, Martin Co. and Chrysler.

American Telephone was up well over a point. Atlas Corp., uranium producer, was off ¼ at 7⅛ on an opening block of 1,000 shares following news that the Atomic Energy Commission has adopted a hold-the-line policy on its uranium purchases.

Opening blocks included: Rhodesian Selection Trust, up ⅛ at 2⅛ on 10,000 shares; General Motors off ⅛ at 38⅛ on 3,000; and Bethlehem, off ¼ at 39⅛ on 3,500. The latter posted a fractional gain later.

Conference to Urge Better Diets for U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP) — A national food conference to urge better American diets will be held here Feb. 24 under the sponsorship of 20 farm and food industry groups.

President Charles B. Shuman of the American Farm Bureau Federation is serving as coordinator in arranging for the conference. Leaders in the fields of nutrition, science, education and medicine are being invited to participate.

"The conference, the first of its kind ever planned, will spotlight the economic, social and nutritional roles that food plays in the lives of the American People," Shuman said.

Earnings

DETROIT (AP) — Fruehauf Trailer Co. has reported net profits of $2,727,143, equal to 39 cents a common share, for the first nine months of 1957. The company reported net profits of $6,298,455, equal to $1.07 a common share, for the corresponding period of last year.

NEW YORK (AP)—General Motors Acceptance Corp. has reported its net income for nine months declined to $31,010,541 from $32,003,475 a year ago. This income included earnings of Motors Insurance Corp. of $839,293 vs $1,583,092 a year ago. Retail receivables purchased in the first nine months totaled $2,875,000,000 compared with $2,818,000,000 a year ago.

NEW YORK (AP)—McLough Steel Corp. of Detroit today announced net profits for the first nine months of 1957 totaled $7,535,966, equal to $4.38 a share. This compared with a net of $6,333,541, equal to $3.57, during the corresponding period last year.

Huron Valley Schools Budget Tops $1 Million

MILFORD — Budget for Huron Valley schools, during the 1957-58 year, will go over the million dollar mark for the first time in the area history.

Supt. Harold Hansen submitted a $1,114,837.50 estimate for school operating costs to the Board of Education here.

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market has been telling us since mid July that businessmen are expecting a leveling off or mild retreat from the long business boom.

Stock traders felt that if such a dip in business activity and earnings was in the works, then most stocks were over priced.

★ ★ ★

They have a number of items in today's news to bear out their fears that bullish times may be ending for a while.

★ ★ ★

The question today is whether the correction in stock prices since mid July has gone far enough—has fully discounted in advance the business recession which may or may not be aborning.

★ ★ ★

Some think the market has over discounted the chances of a recession—that the big snapback last Wednesday marked the end of the price drop.

★ ★ ★

Since the stock exchange is an auction market in which some want to buy and some want to sell there are many who feel just the opposite. They hold that the stock price decline has still more distance to go before prices accurately mirror the chances of business being as good and earnings as high or higher next year.

★ ★ ★

Predictions about business are only a little more trustworthy than those about horse races. But there are a stick of them today to show what the Wall Street bears have been having in mind.

One hundred top industrial leaders have advised the Department of Commerce that they suspect a mild recession is starting and they expect it to last until the middle of next year at least.

The National Assn. of Purchasing Agents says its members are turning even more cautious now because new orders aren't coming in at the rate they had hoped for.

Steel leaders are revising their estimates of fall and winter business. Some now feel their output will stay about where it is now at around 80 per cent of capacity. A few weeks back the same ones were talking about a fall snapback that would bring production up to maybe 90 per cent of capacity.

A survey of 202 business and university economists by F. W. Dodge Corp. shows most of them looking for less industrial production in the months ahead but expecting prices to go right on rising. This would make the gross national product—the total dollar volume of the nation's goods and services—look bigger in terms of dollars, for whatever value they may still have.

Surveys of the expansion plans of industry show that big boom to be about to top out. More companies are now saying that they will spend less next year than this for new plants and equipment. They replace 12 machines formerly required to do the same work.

"The machines will produce the bank's and the customers' records with an unprecedented degree of accuracy and speed," Cross said.

The machine keeps a depositor's checking account balance on conventional-type monthly statements, in the form of invisible magnetic symbols As a result, an operator cannot make an incorrect pickup of a depositor's balance, eliminating a frequent source of error.

Another function of the device is verification that the proper check is charged against the proper account. The black strips that customers may notice on the backs of their statements are magnetic memory bands. Invisibly, they retain all the facts about the account.

Utica Boys Face Court for Opening Switch on Train

UTICA (AP) — Three boys who almost wrecked a New York Central Passenger-Freight train will be arraigned on juvenile delinquency charges Nov. 14 in Macomb County Circuit court.

Railroad police who lay in wait three nights finally nabbed the trio who had opened a switch on the Packard Jet Plant siding.

Edsel Sales Fighting Against Slashed '57 Cars

By DAVID J. WILKIE
AP Automotive Editor

DETROIT (AP) — Ford Motor Co.'s Edsel car, developed at an announced cost of more than 250 million dollars, apparently has been fighting an uphill battle against an industrywide cleanup of out-going 1957 models at cut prices.

Figures compiled by the trade paper Automotive News show the Edsel division has built slightly more than 48,000 cars since it put the new car on the production lines in July of this year. Retail sales have not been announced, but they are known to be sustantially under that total.

Latest development in the Edsel picture was disclosure this week that the former Ford Division Plant at Somerville, Mass., which has been making Edsels for more than six weeks will be retooled for Ford moded production.

"The necessary buildup of the initial introductory stock of Edsel cars having been successfully completed, the Somerville plant will revert to the production of the Ford line of cars which is currently enjoying one of its best sales years."

J. C. Doyle, general sales manager of Edsel Division, said:

"We anticipated a slight decline in sales during October in the cleanup period of all 1957 models. It will not be possible to correctly evaluate our sales potential until we are able to compete across the board — our 1958 Edsel against 1958 models of other lines and all at 1958 prices."

When the Edsel line was put on the market Sept. 4, the suggested price range was from $2,300 for the two-door sedan in the Ranger series to $3,489 for the convertible in the Citation series, plus varying taxes and numerous optional, extra cost accessories.

Industry observers pointed out today that introducing an entirely new line of automobiles always is a difficult undertaking. It is made doubly so, they said, when it is put into direct competition with outgoing models with drastically reduced price tags.

Senators Sidetracked From Probe Into Sears Labor Policies

WASHINGTON (AP)— Sidetracked briefly by a Teamster official's yachts, the Senate Rackets Committee moves ahead today in its inquiry into Sears, Roebuck & Co. labor policies.

★ ★ ★

Nearing the end of testimony about an unsuccessful unionizing drive at Sears' Boston stores in 1953, the committee summoned Charles Seville, manager of the Indianapolis store, for questioning about labor relations there.

★ ★ ★

But several other witnesses remained to be heard on the Boston situation, among them Edmund Wroblewski, also known as Ed Robey of Chicago, a representative of Nathan Shefferman's Labor Relations Associates, Inc.

★ ★ ★

Yesterday's hearing brought testimony from one Sears employe, James R. Donoghue, that he had agreed to let someone "wreck" his automobile with the understanding that the action would be blamed on the Retail Clerks Union then trying to organize the Boston store employes.

★ ★ ★

★ ★ ★

★ ★ ★

Raymond Cohen, who committee aides said was elected as an international trustee of the union at its recent Miami Beach convention, declined to answer a score of questions. He did not invoke the Fifth Amendment's protection against self-incrimination, but said he had "a right not to bear witness against myself."

★ ★ ★

He was asked how he acquired $41,000 worth of yachts while serving as secretary-treasurer of the Teamsters Local 107 in Philadelphia.

Counsel Kennedy said the committee has information that Cohen now has a yacht acquired with $24,000 of union funds and also that he bought another in 1955 for $17,000. Cohen declined to say whether he used union money to maintain the boats.

Chairman McClellan (D-Ark) ordered further inquiry into what Kennedy said was "a great deal of information" turned up about Cohen's financial dealings with Ben Lapensohn, former union business agent now in Canada.

Waterford Board Rejects Plat for Holiday Farms Subdivision

Waterford Township officials are cautiously studying each proposed real estate development submitted for approval in an effort to improve future township operations.

After seven weeks of investigation, study and negotiations by the township board, the plat for Holiday Farms Subdivision on M59 near Airport road was rejected at last night's meeting.

Board members felt that the subdivision was "land-locked" and, in case of an emergency, exit from the subdivision would be hazardous. They want the company to build a road between Holiday Farms and Highland Estates Subdivision.

Another controversial issue was tabled for further investigation when George A. Agree, one of the owners of Belmoral Subdivision on Hatchery road near Crescent Lake road, presented a solution to the central water system for his subdivision.

Originally the Belmoral plat including 102 lots was approved by board members. However, Agree now says his company can only build 30 homes at the present time and cannot afford an expensive water system for so few homes.

Agree has indicated that he will furnish $500 escrow funds for an eventual water system from each of the 30 homes he plans to build. The homes will be in the $12,500-price bracket and will include three bedrooms and a basement.

FLATTENED—The owner of this Volkswagen will never be able to fix this flat as his tiny auto lies squashed beneath a giant truck at Darmstadt, Germany. The truck skidded and toppled over on the auto which had stopped by the side of the road because of another accident ahead. The Volkswagen driver, only occupant of the car, leaped to safety just in time and escaped unhurt.

The board officially approved the hiring of six additional reserve police officers recommended by Supervisor Elmer Johnson. They are Harvey Gilchrist, Loren Anderson, Dave Putman, Tom Peterson, Steve Hubbell and Clayton Hall, all of Waterford Township.

The men have taken a 10-week civil defense training course and have been approved by the State Police. Four were deputized by Sheriff Frank W. Irons. The other two, Peterson and Hubbell, already carry deputy cards, Johnson said.

The men will work under the supervision of the Waterford Township Police Department and will be paid one dollar per year in order to be bonded, receive workmen's compensation coverage and insurance.

REZONING DISCUSSED

The rezoning of four plats of land from residential to commercial was discussed, but no action was taken until people living in the immediate vicinity have been informed of the zoning change.

The lots in question are at Walton boulevard and Clintonville road, on Cass-Elizabeth Lake road, on Dixie highway opposite Our Lady of the Lakes Church, and on LaSalle avenue near Telegraph road.

The township recreation board submitted eight names to represent the public-at-large on the board. Action will be taken on this appointment next week.

Pontiac Tot Injured Dashing Between Cars

A 4-year-old Pontiac boy was injured slightly when he ran from between parked cars into the path of a passing car yesterday, according to Pontiac police.

Donald J. Gauthier, son of Mr. and Mrs. Francis J. Gauthier of 151 N. Jessie St., was treated for facial cuts at Pontiac General Hospital, and released. The driver, James R. Smith, 37, of Vester St. said he had no time to avoid the accident, which occurred in front of the boy's home.

$7,000 Loot Found in Parolee's Trailer

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Montgomery County detectives today sought Glen Cole, 38, after they reported they found $7,000 worth of stolen property in Cole's trailer, north of Dayton.

★ ★ ★

Detective Lt. R. C. Beckett said the recovered items are part of $12,000 in loot and cash taken since February in nine house burglaries in the county.

Beckett said Nola Mae Olsen, 38, was arrested at the trailer last night and was charged with receiving and concealing stolen property.

The lieutenant said Cole was paroled a year ago after serving 10½ years at Marquette, Mich., State Prison for armed robbery.

Timber Output Gains

AUGUSTA, Me. — Maine's 1956 harvest of softwood sawlogs totaled 424,881,488 board feet and hardwood sawlogs 124,302,479 board feet. This compares with 375,018,518 board feet and 87,386,375 board feet, respectively, the year before. The harvest of pulpwood in 1956 was nearly 125,000 cords greater than in 1955.

Can Recover Guided Missile With Parachute

BALTIMORE (AP) — The Martin Co. has announced a new version of the Matador guided missile which permits its recovery by parachute.

This means that troops may be given much more intensive training in the launching sequence and the cost will be significantly less, the announcement said.

In addition, when the Matador is used as a test vehicle for expensive guidance systems and there is a malfunction, the missiles can be brought back for direct examination.

Martin said the section of the missile containing the warhead is replaced by a recovery kit. It in turn can be replaced with the warhead, making the missile completely operational again.

Card of Thanks 1

WE WISH TO EXPRESS OUR SINcere appreciation to the many friends and relatives, Pontiac Motors, for their sympathy and lovely floral arrangements, also the message by Rev. Dorr Pockler and Mr. Capron, Chaplain, VFW and services conducted by Donelson-Johns Funeral Home for their kindness during the loss of our loved one, Mrs. Charles H. Scott and family.

In Memoriam 2

IN LOVING MEMORY OF OBIE Wilson, the husband of Willie Sue Wilson, died October 29, 1956.

IN LOVING MEMORY OF ALMA Allen, who passed away Oct. 26th, 1956.
It is so lonesome here without her,
And sad and weary the way;
The flowers we placed upon her grave
May wither and decay.
But the love for her who sleeps beneath
Shall never fade away
Sadly missed by her Family.

IN LOVING MEMORY OF OUR son and brother, Chris Herrington, who passed away Oct. 29, 1950.
Seven long years have passed since that sad day since you, dear son were called away. God called you to his haven of rest, and beautiful garden of happiness.
We pray Lord, when our work here on earth is through
We will meet again beyond the blue.
When separation will be no more and we can dwell together
Sadly missed by his mother, father and sisters.

IN LOVING MEMORY OF HUSband and father, George Frederick Stocker, who passed away 9 years ago today.
What would I give to clasp his hand,
To hear his voice and see his smile,
That meant so much to me.

Led to Career by Psychiatrist

Paul Ford Says That He Began Acting at 38 on Doctor's Advice

By ERSKINE JOHNSON

HOLLYWOOD (NEA) — Psychiatrist discovers star.

And all along I've given talent scouts, agents, drama coaches, producers, and directors all the credit in the star-discovering business.

Yes, sir, today I can reveal for the first time that an actor now zooming to movie stardom made it the hard way — from the couch.

Not just discovered on the couch, though. It was more than that. Much more. The psychiatrist came right out and told full-of-fears, unsuccessful Paul Ford he was an actor when he didn't even know it himself.

The psychiatrist, the late Dr. W. Beran Wolfe of New York, laid it on the line for Ford, who just co-starred with Shirley Booth in Paramount's "The Matchmaker" during a recess as the nation's best known Army colonel, Sgt. Bilko's commanding officer on Phil Silvers' TV show.

It happened years ago, back in the depression days of the early 30s. But it's as vivid as today's big paychecks to 56-year-old Paul Ford, who didn't become an actor until he was 38 and the father of five children.

NEVER SUCCESSFUL

Until his meeting with the psychiatrist, whom he asked for an explanation of his fears—"I'd be walking down the street and suddenly I'd be afraid but I didn't know what I was afraid of"—Ford was everything except a success.

★ ★ ★

He was a newspaper proofreader, newspaper ad salesman, door-to-door magazine salesman, would-be writer, gasoline station attendant, night watchman and, at the depth of the depression, he sold sandwiches, fudge and peanut brittle he made in his Brooklyn home while his wife became the companion of an elderly doll to help support the big Ford family.

★ ★ ★

The medic listened for a long time and then he said:

"Paul, you're an actor."

ACT FOR LIVELIHOOD

"No," said the psychiatrist, "You ARE an actor. You've been acting all your life. That's why you're a failure. Instead of acting in front of your family about being a failure and acting on the job—acting for everybody—you should be acting for a living."

The psychiatrist knew a puppet-maker in Ford's neighborhood. "Look him up," the medic suggested. "I think you'll be interested in his work." Ford was.

He learned how to make puppets; he got on the WAP puppet project at the New York World's Fair. He wrote the puppet plays and performed in them and an actor was born at the age of 38.

Broadway stage and radio acting followed—"Everyone took for granted I had been in the theater for years," Ford laughs. "No one believed that a guy nearing 40 was just starting out in the business."

★ ★ ★

Tha Army colonel role in "Teahouse of the August Moon" on Broadway landed Ford in the comedy spotlight and the Phil Silvers TV show put him in an even brighter one.

He's been in six movies before, playing detectives, a Western sheriff, a police captain. His comedy talents weren't discovered until "Teahouse" in 1956.

OUT OF UNIFORM — Paul Ford, who plays the beleaguered Col. Hall on Phil Silvers' television show, switches to a romantic comedy role in his new movie, "The Matchmaker," with Shirley Booth. Ford, now 56, became an actor at 38 on the advice of a psychiatrist.

UAW on Trial in U.S. Court

Charges Union Made Illegal TV Broadcasts During Election

DETROIT (AP) — The United Auto Workers Union goes on trial in U. S. District Court here today on charges of making illegal political television broadcasts during the 1954 Congressional campaign.

The case will be heard by Judge Frank A. Picard and a jury.

The union is accused of violating a section of the Federal Corrupt Practices Act which forbids banks, corporations and labor organizations from making political expenditures in connection with federal elections.

An indictment returned by a federal grand jury here July 20, 1955, charged the UAW spent $5,985 from its general funds to sponsor a series of television programs the previous autumn in violation of the Corrupt Practices Act.

The programs were called "Meet the UAW," and were televised locally.

Union attorneys argued that the indictment violated Constitutional guarantees of freedom of speech. Picard agreed with them and in February of 1956 dismissed the indictment without a trial.

The government appealed the ruling to the U. S. Supreme Court. By a 6-3 decision last March, the high court sent the case back to Picard ordering him to try it in order to determine the facts. The Supreme Court did not rule on the Constitutional questions.

If the union is found guilty it could be fined up to $5,000 on each of four counts.

Quartet Nearing Goal After 4,500 Miles in Canoe

JACMAN, Me. (AP) — Four modern voyagers have reached Maine on their rugged, 4,500-mile canoe trip from Denver, Colo., to Old Town.

After an eight-mile portage yesterday, the quartet camped for the night at Penobscot Lake, just inside the Quebec boundary line and about 20 miles north of Jacman.

They still have more than 150 gruelling miles to go. Much of the lake and river waterways they must cover are unusually low this fall, and the weather is growing worse by the day. Old Town had a minimum temperature of 16 above early today.

In the group are Gerald Hewey, 27-year-old ski lodge operator at Aspen, Colo., who comes from Cape Elizabeth, Me.; Earl Rickers, 29, a writer from Chester, Calif., and two Aspen ski instructors—Ed Vestal, 29, and Bengt Soderstrom, 32.

School Sinking Fund Carries in Monroe

MONROE (AP) — A special four-mill levy for school improvements is on Monroe tax rolls today. The tax is a drop of one mill from a five-mill special levy that has been collected for 10 years.

A proposal to set up a sinking fund to erect school buildings and make improvements carried 537 to 362. Another proposal to raise the tax limit by four mills passed 612 to 362.

Driver Gets Probation for Negligent Homicide

MENOMINEE, (AP) — Eugene J. Augustine, 39, of Milwaukee, began a one-year probation term today following his conviction on a charge of negligent homicide in the Oct. 11, 1956, traffic death of Mrs. Mary Cosson.

Circuit Judge Ernest W. Brown imposed the probation after completion of a non-jury trial here yesterday.

Mrs. Cosson, 86, of Menominee, was killed when hit by a car driven by Augustine as she attempted to cross a street in Menominee.

Detroit Men Sentenced for Holdup in Reno

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — Two Detroit men have been sentenced to five years in prison by Federal Judge Sherill M. Halbert for an attempted bank robbery at Reno, Nev.

The men, Petru Doncea, 25, and Howard Shanks Jr., 23, were arrested in nearby Aburun last month. FBI agents said they tried to burglarize the Keystone branch of the First National Bank of Nevada, but got no loot. Both pleaded guilty.

Worked Way Through College

Daly Endured Hardships Before He Earned Fame

By BOB CONSIDINE

(Last in Series)

NEW YORK (INS)—John Daly was in radio news before "What's My Line?" was a gleam in the collective eye of Mark Goodson and Bill Todman. There's a story behind how he and the radio microphone got together. It is not easy to condense, for everything seemed against that union, including the Union of South Africa.

Daly was born in 1914 in Johannesburg, South Africa, second son of an American mining engineer from Boston and London-born Mrs. Daly.

Tragedy struck the little family in 1923. The father died of ulcers and tropical diseases picked up during explorations for the United Mining Corporation. The widow made what must have been a difficult decision. She chose America—Boston—instead of England—London—as the city in which she would raise her children.

Daly was a lonely kid at Tilton School (N. Hampshire), which later was to hail him as its foremost graduate. The other boys railed at his "accent" and the clothes his mother thought proper for a schoolboy to wear.

When finished there, he went on to Boston College, a Jesuit school, and weathered two tough depression years. To pay his way, he drove an elevator, sorted wool for a house engaged in that trade, dabbled in amateur theatricals, was a part-time employe on Station WLOE, for which he told the time.

COUNTED CAPITAL STREETCARS

Daly moved to Washington in 1935 to save money. He had met Margaret Criswell Neal, a William and Mary graduate from Washington on a blind date, and was spending all his money riding to Washington from Boston by bus to see her. In Washington he went to work counting passing streetcars and estimating their passengers. He made $27.50 a week, which is roughly what Uncle Sam permits him to keep of his salary today.

During the early Washington summer of 1937 Daly learned that Station WRC was auditioning summer-replacement announcers. P.S. —He got the job. Harry Butcher, who was to be Gen. Eisenhower's naval aide during World War II, was running CBS in Washington that year. He heard and liked Daly, hired him, soon made him CBS's White House radio reporter.

Ann Gillis, then with CBS, Washington, pointed out to him the wealth of other news fields beyond the White House. Daly took to them like a duck to water.

By the time TV came along after the war, Daly had established himself as one of the top men in the radio news field, TV, for some reason, stumped him. He wanted out . . . wanted the journalistic career that was always in the back of his head. He was appalled by the way he photographed, thought TV's cameras would treat him even worse.

But he wasn't as bad as he thought on an early panel show named "Celebrity Time," run by Conrad Nagel. Eighteen weeks in the role of Walter Burns in "The Front Page" enraged critics but gave Daly additional confidence before the camera.

Goodson and Todman, like Big Brother, were watching. They had found their boy for "What's My Line?" The rest is history.

Daly eats like a longshoreman but stays like a whippet around the beltline. He is a rarity in his income bracket in that he has no agent, knows how to read a contract, argues his own income tax returns. He plays the market and the horses shrewdly, gets a week of pent-up physical fury into his backswing on the golf course, is a notorioiusly subtle check-grabber, likes a drink of old Scotch when day is done, is regarded by poker playing friends as manna.

Louis B. Mayer Discovered Many Greats in Hollywood

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Louis B. Mayer, who died early this morning, came to Hollywood in 1917 and from 1924 to 1951 was executive in charge of production at Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer Studio. MGM climbed to greatness under the production genius of Irving Thalberg. When he died in 1936, Mayer took over direct control of production.

His great talent as a discoverer of stars brought under the MGM banner the greatest galaxy in film history.

Among them were Marie Dressler, Mae Murray, Norma Shearer, Greta Garbo, John Gilbert, Lon Chaney, Nelson Eddy, Jeanette MacDonald, Clark Gable, Judy Garland, Greer Garson, Hedy LaMarr. Others were Luise Rainer, William Powell, Myrna Loy, Robert Montgomery, Joan Crawford, Rosalind Russell, James Stewart, Robert Taylor, Mickey Rooney, Spencer Tracy, Lana Turner, Walter Pidgeon, Esther Williams, Van Johnson and Margaret O'Brien.

MGM's profits rose with the increased output of glamorous, overstuffed movies during World War II. After the war, glamor wasn't enough, nor were stars. Mayer eventually was eased out and Dore Schary, former production boss at RKO, was selected to bolster MGM's sagging fortunes.

Mayer became chairman of Cinerama Productions Corp.

This year, however, he was projected back into the MGM picture as dissident directors of Loew's, Inc., the parent concern, tried to take over management of Loew's. Joseph R. Vogel, Loew's president, charged that Joseph Tomlinson, Canadian contractor, and Stanley Meyer, directors, had been "conspiring, with the guidance of Louis B. Mayer, to seize control of the company."

Dissident directors at a rump meeting elected Mayer a director but a court later held that the session was illegal.

A big operator in all his dealings, Mayer built the greatest Western thoroughbred racing stable of modern times. He poured millions into the sport and got some of it back. His horses earned $1,663,210 from 1938 until 1947, when he began dispersing his holdings.

From his horses, the sale of his breeding ranch at Perris, Calif., and breeding stock and 2-year-olds he realized $7,780,000 in 1947. In the next two years another four million came from further sales.

Among horses that carried his French blue and cerise silks were Honeymoon, Busher, Thumbs Up, Solidarity and Stepfather.

Mayer said he entered the sport as a hobby and got out because it had become too much of a big business.

In 1952 he was back in it and slowly building up a winning stable. He also became one of the new stockholders of the Del Mar Race Track near San Diego and took over part of the stable operated by his son-in-law, William Goetz.

Mayer's salary was the highest in the nation for seven years. In 1943, for example, it was $1,138,992.47.

Mayer's first wife, Margaret, divorced him in 1947. The next year he was married to the former Mrs. Lorena L. Danker.

Mayer got his theatrical start in Haverhill, Mass., where he bought a small burlesque and variety theater in 1907, rebuilt it and named it the Orpheum. He put in a women's orchestra and booked the passion play, a hand-colored movie of the era. Later he brought in stage productions and organized a stock company exhibiting what pictures were available.

Branching out into ownership and management of other theaters he got into film distribution, organizing the American Feature Film Co. It booked independent films for theaters in six New England states.

Needing more pictures, he and other showmen organized Metro Pictures Corp. in 1915. The output still inadequate for his needs, he disposed of eastern interests and moved to Hollywood in 1917. With him as a star he took beautiful Anita Stewart.

He leased a studio and produced a number of films. Then Loew's, Inc., needing pictures for its large theater chain, bought the company he had helped to organize.

Later, with Marcus Loew and Nicholas M. Schenck, he bought the Samuel Goldwyn film plant in Culver City. The merger was completed in 1924. Metro Goldwyn-Mayer began production with Mayer at the helm.

Productions under his leadership included "Ben Hur," "The Big Parade," "The Merry Widow" and "The Unholy Three." "The Torrent' introduced Greta Garbo. "Sally, Irene and Mary' introduced Joan Crawford. "The Flesh and the Devil' had Garbo and John Gilbert in their first romantic teaming. "Our Dancing Daughters" made Miss Crawford a star.

"Anna Christie" introduced Marie Dressler's great career, "The Easiest Way" introduced Clark Gable, "The Rogue Song," Lawrence Tibbett. "The Barretts of Wimpole Street," "Grand Hotel," "Mutiny on the Bounty," and the Tarzan, Andy Hardy and Thin Man series and Nelson Eddy-Jeanette MacDonald musicals were among many memorable films made under Mayer's leadership.
