Shoppers Throng Stores

With only five more shopping days until Christmas, shoppers are thronging stores to complete their purchases in time, and streets take on a gay, holiday mood. Our photographer went shopping too, for some holiday pictures. Below are some that he found.

FAMILY TOUR — Mr. and Mrs. Witson Smith, of 63 Poplar St., appear to have had good success on their holiday shopping tour. A number of the parcels certainly are planned for daughter Susie, 2 years old.

BE SEEIN' YA CHRISTMAS? — David Cate, age 4, of 526 West Huron St., makes a new friend in a local store and perhaps hopes the friendship will be lasting. David is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Cate.

LIST CHECKING — An important aid to any shopping tour is a list telling who and what. Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Mitchell, of 6651 Rowley Dr., check their list. Two-year-old son Glenn seems to approve.

Postman Bows to Yule Spirit and Heavy Load

Pity the postman in times like these.

As he slogs along the street, bowed under the weight of two bulging mail sacks, working overtime to deliver millions of Christmas cards, some citizens may feel a twinge of guilt.

Are the Christmas cards really worth all that agony?

Surprisingly, the postmen themselves don't mind it a bit.

Listen to Dick Hummel, 45, a Pontiac postman for 10 years:

"Sometimes we gripe a little, but I'd say 99 per cent of the letter carriers here don't mind Christmas a bit.

"You get a lot of enjoyment out of the Christmas spirit, when you see how happy people are over their cards and packages. You get a lot of the spirit back that way.

"And when it's all over, when we all leave the post office late Christmas eve, we have a lot of the Christmas spirit ourselves."

"Of course," he added, "we're motivated by the dollar sign, too, because we get a chance to make a little extra dough ourselves for Chrstmas presents."

Nehru, Ike Back in Washington

Discuss World Issues at Farm; Premier on Air Tonight

GETTYSBURG, Pa. (AP) — President Eisenhower and Prime Minister Nehru of India are back to Washington today after a full day of private talks on world problems at Eisenhower's 190 acre farm estate.

James C. Hagerty, White House press secretary, clocked their talks yesterday at something over 12 hours. He said no such conferences had been set up in Washington, but that they would be arranged if either man desired it.

He quoted Eisenhower as saying he and Nehru discussed "many things in the international field." Asked what kind of things, Hagerty replied that "they did not describe those 'many things.' Neither did they describe or break them down into topics."

Some of them seemed obvious: Americans jailed by the Reds in China, possible U. S. recognition of Communist China, the Suez crisis, economic aid, the Soviet satellites, disarmament.

* * *

Some word on the course of the conferences may come from Nehru tonight. He will make a 15-minute nationwide broadcast over CBS and NBC radio and television networks and the MBS radio network.

Aside from the hour they spent outside, Eisenhower and Nehru spent most of their time talking on the farmhouse sunporch, where they had lunch and 4 o'clock tea.

To Place Heath in Vet Hospital at Battle Creek

Psychiatrists' Report Is Studied by Court Before Decision

Alvin Heath, 33-year-old Avon Township laborer who terrorized his neighborhood Dec. 5 with a six-hour shooting spree and held off besieging Sheriff's deputies for half an hour, was committed to Pontiac State Hospital yesterday after a sanity hearing in Probate Court.

Sheriff's Deputy Fred Pender, who testified in the hearing, said Heath has been promised a bed in the Veterans Administration Hospital in Battle Creek, and will probably be transferred there today.

On the stand, Heath admitted having abnormal fears.

"I become afraid of things the average man would have no fear of," he said quietly. "Like being invited into a restaurant for a cup of coffee."

Heath's wife, Jean, 37, told Probate Judge Arthur E. Moore Heath had told her, "I feel like everybody's watching me, eyes are watching me all the time so I can't even work in the yard."

Asked if he thought he needed medical aid, Heath said, "My main aim is to have something done to me so I can do right by my wife and kids in the future. I haven't done a very good job."

Pender and Sheriff's Det. Steve Hawlik, who aided in subduing Heath after he had emptied his gun at them three times in the one-sided battle, shook his hand and congratulated him after the hearing.

Two Pontiac psychiatrists, Dr. A. Tauber and Dr. Clinton J. Mumby, submitted reports to Judge Moore recommending that Heath be committed. The reports were not detailed in the hearing yesterday.

Committing Heath, Judge Moore said, "Personally, I think the laws should be changed to provide for compulsory treatment of cases like this before it's too late.

"At present the law says they can't be committed until they are ruled legally insane."

After the hearing, Oakland County Prosecutor Frederick C. Ziem said justice court examination of Heath, scheduled for today, will be indefinitely postponed. Heath had been charged with assault with intent to murder.

Discuss Big Ford Gift to U. of M.

HATCHER AND FORD—Dr. Harland Hatcher (left), president of the University of Michigan, talks with Henry Ford as he tentatively accepts offer of land from Ford Motor Company to establish a Dearborn Center for the University. Site of the proposed university branch includes Fair Lane, home of the late founder of the company.

Offers Estate, Cash to Build School Addition

Regents Tentatively OK Gifts Providing State Will Give Backing

DETROIT (AP) — A new branch of the University of Michigan may be established in Dearborn, started by a gift of money and land from the Ford Motor Co.

The company offered 210 acres of land and 6½ million dollars to the university yesterday to start the second branch of the university.

University President Harlan H. Hatcher said the school's Board of Regents has tentatively accepted the offer from the company and the Ford Motor Co. Fund.

Included in the land offered is Fair Lane, the former estate of the late Henry Ford which now houses the Ford archives.

This fall, the university began a two-year senior college branch at Flint in conjunction with the city and the city-operated Flint Junior College.

* * *

Dr. Hatcher said that the university proposed the Dearborn branch at the conclusion of a study into means of providing graduates in specialized fields. Ford Motor was invited, he said, to participate.

NUCLEAR REACTOR

Earlier the company had granted the university one million dollars to build its now-operating nuclear reactor in connection with peacetime studies of atomic energy.

* * *

The university's regents accepted the gifts on the contingency that the State Legislature will provide funds to operate the branch.

The branch, Dr. Hatcher said, would help to meet "an impending emergency in higher education in Michigan."

If the Legislature approves and provides adequate appropriations, Dr. Hatcher said, the Dearborn center would be opened no later

Signs of Progress Noted in Fisher Strike Talks

The first indication that progress has been made toward settlement of the week-long Fisher Body Division strike was voiced today as both management and union officials resumed arbitration talks.

Harold A. Grant, president of Fisher Body Local 596, said "slight progress has been noted" as the result of a 20-hour bargaining session Sunday.

From Detroit a Fisher Body Division spokesman issued the following statement: "The fact that negotiators from both sides met in continuous negotiations for 20 hours over the weekend indicates some progress is being made."

As the strike of 4,300 Fisher workers entered its seventh day, Pontiac Motor Division announced that half, or 6,000 of its 12,000 hourly workers had been laid off because of the strike. Last night at midnight, 1,000 employes were sent home.

The Fisher plant manufactures all the auto bodies for the Pontiac cars turned out at the local factory.

After recessing at 9:30 yesterday morning, both sides returned to the bargaining tables at 1 today.

* * *

Workers left the factory last Tuesday evening after a five-day session between union and management failed to settle alleged grievances for which a strike vote was taken Nov. 14.

CHARGES SPEEDUP

The union charges the company with speeded up production and the elimination of plant privileges previously granted to other workers.

Grant this morning said progress was noted as a newly elected vice president of General Motors Corp. and two top International UAW officials from Detroit sat in on the marathon session.

A Pontiac Motor Division spokesman said no more layoffs were expected today, but more would ensue if the strike continues Wednesday.

GIVES ANSWER

Grant today answered a statement made yesterday by Thomas F. Wiethorn, Fisher Body plant manager, that the "responsibility for the present situation rests elsewhere."

"We had to go out now because if we hadn't management would have penalized a number of workers with families as Christmas approached, because our men couldn't keep up with the speed up production standards," he said.

Missing Hunter Turns Up Safe

Snowbound for Month, Man, 65, Shovels Way Out of Woods

MANISTIQUE, Mich. (AP)—Snowbound for nearly a month in Michigan's north woods, a 65-year-old hunter shoveled his way out and was reported safe late yesterday.

Herman A. Simonds of Gregory, in south-central Michigan, was in good condition, police said, although he lost 25 pounds during the ordeal.

Simonds went into the Upper Peninsula Nov. 20. He was trapped next day by a four-foot snowfall.

His family reported him missing Dec. 9 when the hunting season ended and he failed to return home. State police had been searching for him with an airplane.

Simonds, a retired railroad engineer, said he was "just caught" by the heavy snow but "kept shoveling a path" for his pickup truck and finally worked his way out yesterday. For shelter he had a sleeping cabin mounted on the back of the truck.

All he had to eat, he said, were eggs, bread and dried sardines with melted snow for drinking water.

Diphtheria Cases Stop

DETROIT (AP)—No new diphtheria cases were reported in Detroit today for the third straight day.

What an Open Secret!

ATLANTA (AP) — A joint legislative committee has endorsed a proposal that could enable Georgians to file their state income tax returns on a postcard. Under the plan, taxpayers would be given an option of computing their state income taxes on the basis of a fixed percentage of their federal taxes.

12 Children of Ada Wyatt Subject of Court Hearing

At a hearing today in Oakland County Juvenile Court, Judge Arthur E. Moore made six of the 12 children of Mrs. Ada Wyatt, 33, of Keego Harbor, temporary wards of the court pending the appeal of her Nov. 24 conviction on charges of child cruelty.

He gave her husband, William, 29, 60 days to try to form a plan by which he could take care of the other six children.

Mrs. Wyatt's six oldest children, all by a previous marriage, will be kept in the Children's Home or "suitable boarding homes," the judge ruled.

They include seven - year - old Sherry Wilkinson, target of Mrs. Wyatt's cruelty. A Circuit Court jury found Mrs. Wyatt guilty of severely burning Sherry's right hand by holding it over a gas burner.

At this morning's hearing, Wyatt, a truck driver, told the judge:

"If there had been any doubt in my mind that those kids were not all right, I never would have left them alone.

"But if I didn't work and try to give them an education and enough food, what would have happened?"

Answering his statement that the six Wyatt children were "as well fed, clothed and educated as any kids in the neighborhood," Mrs. Dea Keim, girls' counsellor at the Children's Home, told the judge her impression of the children when they were brought to the home Aug. 23.

"They were untrained, poorly behaved children," she said. "They are improving and have improved a good deal, but when they were brought in, they were soiled and unkempts. I would not say they were filthy, but they obviously lacked supervision."

Judge Moore ordered Wyatt to pay $5 a week for each of his six children while they are kept in the Children's Home.

Mrs. Wyatt, who was sentenced Dec. 10 to 3½-4 years in Detroit House of Correction for burning Sherry, did not speak during the hearing.

'. . . Unto Us a Child Is Born'

Zeus—And a Spark in a Pagan Night

(Editor's Note: This is the second in a series of eight studies of the birth and times of Christ. It describes the status of religion in the heartland of civilization at the time Jesus was born.)

By GEORGE CORNELL
(Associated Press Writer)

Let us go back. Far back. Back into the shades of indelible time. Let us wander in the byways of a strange moment when dawn came at midnight.

It is long ago, but today it still is real. The marvel of that hour remains, imperishable and shimmering new.

And yet, it seems so strange. How unfamiliar and remote the atmosphere, how charged with dread this ancient year when swarms of grotesque gods prevail and a new-born Baby cries in Bethlehem.

It is a curious circumstance. A lonely spark, deep in a pagan night, An isolated candle in the dark. Yet it shapes our world.

Out of a Babel of delusion, one single chord strikes through the overriding din, and guides the march of destiny. It transforms men and governments. It forges the matrix of a faith.

Here, in Romeo's old empire, amid the jaded finery of Egypt, Greece and Persia, here astride the crossroads of a bygone age, a thousand deities hold sway, their clamor thunderous above the still, small voice.

See those ivory shrines, those freakish images of creatures partly man and partly goat, those chanting hordes of white-robed eunuch priests, those lofty temples built to Zeus holding lightning in his hand.

It is odd the turning point would come, that man's transcendent star would rise, just when he floundered most, adrift in fantasy.

But that is the grand phenome-

Eye New Waterford Township Dump Site

Discuss Area on Hospital Rd.

Earlier Plans Dropped When Residents Protest Project Plans

An agreement for a new dump location was discussed at the Waterford Township Board meeting last night, following an earlier controversy over the dump location.

The new site is at 1375 S. Hospital Rd., near North Cooley Lake Road, it was revealed. Action on the agreement to fill the land was deferred until the Dec. 26 meeting of the board, at 1 p. m.

Two previous sites in the Crescent Lake Road - Pontiac Lake Road area were dropped after strong protests from residents of the area.

Police Chief Frank VanAtta presented a letter of recommendation on a traffic survey held last week in conjunction with the Oakland County Road Commission and Michigan State Police.

The following recommendations were made and forwarded to Lansing for approval:

That no parking be established on Crescent Lake road between M-59 and Joan Gay street: on Hickory Nut street between Cooley Lake road and Reymont street: on Lamothe street from Cooley Lake road to the bridge: on Pinegrove street from Cooley Lake road northeast for a distance of 500 feet: on Morningside from Pinegrove north for a distance of 200 feet.

The following speed limits were recommended: Marion street from Elizabeth Lake road north to the end, 25 mph; Major street from Sashabaw to Sashabaw, Oakman from Major to Sashabaw, be posted 25 mph; Cass Lake road from M-59 to Pontiac Lake road, 40 mph limit, also no parking on Cass Lake road from Mark street 100 feet south of the entrance to Isaac Crary School: North Winding drive from Elizabeth Lake road to Otto street, 25 mph limit.

The annual report from the Parks and Recreation Department was presented to the township board and a meeting in early January has been scheduled with them.

Wealth of Unusual and Attractive Items to Please Those Who Like Gift for Home

By JANET ODELL

Yesterday we talked about family gifts. Today let's see what we can buy for the house. Yes, we know some people hate getting gifts for the house. But others like them.

* * *

Tablecloths get prettier all the time. We've seen some beautiful hand painted ones with napkins matching one of the colors in the design. These cloths are made of linen.

One store sells an interesting barbecue set with seasoning salt and barbecue sauce, also a recipe book. According to the label on the sauce, it is "made from the recipe of an infamous and cantankerous old chuck wagon mechanic now gone to tend other fires."

This same store has metal ash-trays made in the form of a leaf—very graceful looking.

Glass pitchers are always welcome gifts. You can get one design in sizes ranging from about half a cup all the way up to the two-quart size.

BEJEWELED DUSTPAN

If you go in for whimsical gifts, you might buy a gilded dustpan that is jeweled! Or matches with the recipient's name written on the folder in gold.

* * *

For friends with a fireplace there is a little item called Quick Fire. Waxed string enables you to start fires quickly and easily.

If other friends don't have a fireplace, get them some incense named Campfire Memories. It is supposed to smell like "the natural aroma of an evergreen campfire."

Brass wastebaskets and magazine racks will fit into almost any scheme of house decoration. The magazine racks are either solid pieces or made of brass wire.

TABLE MIGHT PLEASE

Marble-topped tables are back in style. We saw a beautiful fruitwood lamp table with a white marble top. The table has two drawers in it.

* * *

than 1959, and possibly for the fall semester of 1958.

Rep. Anrell Engstrom (R-Traverse City) said the location seemed ideal for the type of center planned and "the idea should be favorably received in the Legislature. I think we should act immediately."

Sen. Lewis G. Christman (R-Ann Arbor) said, "Education is Michigan's most expensive package and the money for it has become a real problem. I think (the gift) is magnificent."

Henry Ford II, president of the company, said the offer expressed "positively our belief in industry's responsibility to education."

Dr. Hatcher said the combined gifts were the largest ever made by a company and its charitable fund to an educational institution.

He said the center would provide the university with its first major opportunity to combine classroom and shop instruction with practical work in industry.

The new center would offer engineering and business administration courses, junior and senior programs in the liberal arts and sciences, and late afternoon or evening courses leading to advanced engineering, business administration and related degrees.

The money offer would provide buildings to house classrooms, laboratories, shops, lecture rooms, offices, student services and a library. Since most students would live within commuting distance, he said, living quarters are not planned.

Merry Christmas, Jack!

MT. CLEMENS (AP)—Lending a little unexpected holiday cheer are two patients at St. Joseph's Hospital. In one bed is Jack Noel, 25. Next to him in another bed is Jack Frost, 16.

R. J. LONGPRE

The appointment of R. J. Longpre to the general manager's staff was announced today by S. E. Knudsen, general manager of Pontiac Motor Division.

Longpre, as production manager, will be responsible for general material control, parts warehouse operations, central stores and traffic.

A native of Lake Linden, he has been with Pontiac Motor Division 29 years and has been production manager for the past ten years.

Japan in U.N. as No. 80

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (INS)—The U. N. Assembly unanimously adds Japan to its ranks today as its 80th member. Japan's membership, blocked over the past three years by four Soviet Security Council vetoes, will be finalized on a resolution signed by nearly 50 nations, including the big five. Admission of the Tokyo government leaves only two major nations—divided Germany and Red China—outside the global family.

The famed Bow Bells of London's church of St. Mary-le-Bow, historic since the time of William the Conqueror, will soon be replaced. They were destroyed by Nazi bombs in World War II.

May Boost Hospital Board

An ordinance paving the way for the increase of the Pontiac General Hospital Board of Trustees from seven to 11 members, will be up for adoption before the City Commission tonight.

The increase was recommended by a group of hospital management surveyors who completed a study of the city hospital in May. The proposal was passed on to the commission by the board for necessary action.

Mayor William W. Donaldson last week said the four new members will not be appointed until January. Candidates will be discussed at a Dec. 27 informal commission session, he added.

Holding a place on the weekly nine-point slate also is the first steps toward rezoning to Commercial 1 lots 79-81 of the Ball Park Subdivision.

City Attorney William A. Ewart will submit a report on the widening and extension of Bay street.

Confirmation of three public improvement projects will be up for commission approval at the 8 o'clock meeting.

* * *

The extension of a lease with the Michigan Animal Welfare League, Inc. for one year is expected to be approved.

* * *

Commissioners will adjourn next week's meeting to Thursday because of Christmas falling on their regular meeting tonight.

City Increases Limits on West Maple Parking

BIRMINGHAM — City Commissioners not only upheld police Chief Ralph W. Moxley in his part-time parking ban on West Maple Avenue between Chester and Southfield Streets last night, but went one step farther.

It is their opinion that parking should be banned from this strip at all times because of heavy traffic.

Forbes Hascall, representing the Hersey family of 460 West Maple appeared before commissioners to request that early evening parking be permitted in front of their home for the convenience of their guests and those visiting residents in the apartment in their building. This was denied along with the complete parking ban.

The part-time parking plan had been on a temporary trial basis.

Other measures set up at that time are still being tested, Moxley told commissioners.

* * *

Persons entering the Birmingham Post Office might at first glance jump to the conclusion that the governmental unit is taking in washing, but "nothing could be wronger."

In order to speed along the thousands of Christmas cards being mailed, several canvas baskets have been placed in the lobby, marked for mail to Birmingham, Michigan, but outside the city, and outside the state borders.

Postmaster Roland W. Reese says the baskets do away with the task of retrieving mail from the boxes behind the customary mailing slots.

Tremendous volume of mail fills these usual receptacles and additional pieces of mail cascade to the floor adding to time and increasing confusion, Reese commented.

Double deliveries are being made in the city daily to keep the incoming volume of mail from completely taking over postal headquarters.

Activities at the Community House beginning Thursday will include the Oakland County Civil Defense Dinner at 6:30 p.m. that day. Defense officials and mayors of cities in the area will meet to discuss plans.

At 7 p.m. that night, the Senior Planning Board will meet, while at 7:30 p.m., Recovery, Inc., Boy Scout Training Group, and Troop B-25 will meet.

At 10 a.m. Friday, the Girl Scout Council meeting is scheduled. The Horticultural Society meets at 7:30 p.m. Friday, and the Coterie Club and Civil Air Patrol have dances slated for 9 p.m. that night.

Mrs. Frederic W. Sevin

Service for Mrs. Frederic W. (Elizabeth) Sevin is set for 2 p.m. tomorrow at First Presbyterian Church, with burial to be in Erie, Pa.

Mrs. Sevin was active in Chi Omega Alumnae Assn., and the AAUW as well as the church, and was a University of Michigan graduate. Her husband, her only survivor, is a Socony Mobil Oil Co. executive.

It is requested that tributes be given to the church's memorial fund.

Marie Fish, 28, and James Bass, 31, were recently married in Angier, N. C. They met on a fishing boat.

Boy Injured in Collision of Car, Motor Scooter

A 15-year-old Lake Orion youth is under treatment at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital today for a fractured wrist and possible leg injury as the result of Monday night car-motor scooter collision at an Orion intersection.

Richard Lampher, 15, of 366 S. Broadway, was one of two boys riding scooters when he was involved in an accident with a car at Water and South Broadway.

Crash Names Twisted

Monday's Pontiac Press carried an accident story which erroneously stated that a car driven by Leroy R. White, 43, of 125 S. Airport Rd. was struck from behind by a vehicle operated by Ellis C. Seal, 62, of 251 W. Longfellow Ave. Saturday on Baldwin Avenue.

It was the Seal car which was hit by White who reported he was pushed into Seal when he also was struck from behind. Police have found no trace of a third car having been involved.

High Court Sticks to Local Bus Ruling

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court has refused to reconsider its Nov. 13 decision banning racial segregation on local buses.

The clerk's office said official notice of the decision now will be mailed to Montgomery, Ala., in two or three days. The notification procedure had been delayed by the request for reconsideration.

The plea had been made in separate petitions filed by the City of Montgomery and the Alabama Public Service Commission.

The city's petition said the November ruling left unanswered various "vital" law questions. The PSC said it had wrongfully taken from Alabama the state's police power.

The Supreme Court announced its action in two brief orders which said merely that the petitions for rehearing were denied, as well as a request that the tribunal clairfy its Nov. 13 action.

THE ANIMALS' CHRISTMAS

By Walt Scott

Britons Take to Horses, Electric Autos

LONDON (AP) — Lt. Col. Eric Trevor, in riding breeches and a black bowler, saddled his faithful old mare, Dawn, and cantered to work yesterday.

It was the first day of "Suez" gasoline rationing in Britain.

"A much better proposition than my 28-horse-power car," smiled Trevor, 52-year-old London real estate man, as he clip-clopped through Mayfair after a six-mile journey from his home.

Like thousands of other Britons, Trevor had laid aside his auto. Public transport was jammed and towns and cities throughout Britain reported the quietest weekday traffic since the end of World War II.

Garages reported slack trade. Drivers now are obliged to hand over a coupon before they can buy gasoline. Each private motorist gets enough gasoline for 200 miles a month.

STREETS EMPTIER

London's streets were much emptier than usual, although rainy weather brought out some cars whose owners refused to brave a soaking in rush-hour queues for public transportation.

Streets in Glasgow and Leeds, among other cities, had a semi-deserted look. Plenty of parking space was available downtown.

A garage in the center of London reported selling only one gallon of gasoline between midnight and 9 a.m. Many motorists stocked up with full tanks in preparation for the start of rationing. Others balked at paying increased prices. There were reports of a brisk black market operation.

"It is probable that most motorists will hang on to their coupons as long as they can so they will have sufficient gasoline to enable them to travel to see friends over Christmas," said one official.

Britain hasn't had gasoline rationing since May 1950. The Eden government has said the new scheme — including sharp increases in the price of gas — was made necessary by the blocking of the Suez Canal.

There were plenty of complaints by private owners against the allowance, but these were as nothing compared to the roar of protest from business firms and trucking companies.

* * *

Newspapers joined in flaying the government for "chaos" in the system of giving special gasoline allowances for industry and business. Thousands of firms wailed they had not yet received coupons for their extra gas and could not get by on available stocks. Others complained they didn't know how much gas will be allowed for trucks and delivery vans.

There were other enterprising Britons who used their initiative to get around the gasoline problem. A London firm turned to an electrically powered brougham to carry their top directors around the city.

An official said: "The brougham was built in Paris in 1900. It has a top speed of 12 to 15 miles per hour, which should be quite suitable in town. In case of emergencies it has been known to reach 20 m.p.h. with a following wind."

RKO Orders Layoffs

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—William Dozier, production chief at RKO Studio, says 10 million dollars is invested in four major pictures to be filmed early next year, but the studio nonetheless has ordered extensive layoffs because these features will be made elsewhere, on location.

Adds Personal Touch to Customer Service

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — John H. Olmstead is a florist who believes in giving his customers personal service.

He noticed two youths enter a customer's car parked in front of the floral shop and drive away.

Olmstead jumped into his car, forced the two teen-aged boys to stop, turned them over to the police and returned the car to his customer.

Work Wanted: Any Old Thing for Ex-Bar Men

JACKSON, Wyo. (AP)—Do you have a job for an unemployed bartender?

After the Wyoming Liquor Commission suspended retail licenses of two Jackson clubs for 45 days beginning Jan. 1 and two other clubs beginning Feb. 15, the following classified ad appeared in the Jackson Hole Guide:

"Wanted—work! Due to forced vacations effective Jan. 1, we must now seek honest, gainful means to support our families. We have the following qualifications:

"1. Private party catering (both sides of bar).

"2. Baby sitting (young, single females).

"3. Companionship (adept at taking either side of any argument).

"4. Financial advice (we've had lots of it).

"5. Interior decorating (have put a very rosy glow on most of our clients).

"6. Snow shoveling, ditch digging, house cleaning, etc., (any menial labor that no one else will do, we will do better).

"Art Hazen, H. J. Jensen, Jack Francis & Bim Sharkey."

Olympic Refugee Joins Fiancee in Stockholm

STOCKHOLM (AP) — Antal Moldrich, 25-year-old refugee member of the Hungarian Olympic team, flew here today to join his 17-year-old fiancee. She fled from Hungary while he was at the Olympic Games.

Returning from Australia, Moldrich learned in Milan that Maria Klujber had reached Sweden safely. He said goodby to his teammates and followed her here. They plan to marry next year.

"I hope to be able to compete here in Sweden," the pentathlon star said, "even though the Swedish customs took my pistol on arrival. They said I might get it back later."

Fisher Body Dispute Upsets Pontiac Area

This newspaper has not heard the bargaining sessions between Fisher management and the Union.

★ ★ ★

Hence we are in no position to express an opinion on the dispute.

But we do have one distinct impression.

We feel the timing for this strike has been dreadfully unfortunate for the entire Pontiac area. Primarily, the men involved are thrown out of employment directly before Christmas. In addition the shutdown of Fisher quite obviously affects Pontiac Motor Division and this much larger organization has been closing slowly but steadily.

Some 4,300 strikers are putting more than 15,000 out of jobs, plus the additional economic recession they bring to the entire community.

★ ★ ★

Shortly, the Pontiac plant will be surrendered to the guards and maintenance men.

The Press doubts whether the vast bulk of the thousands and thousands of unemployed are particularly happy at upsetting their own personal Christmas seasons.

★ ★ ★

If the Union felt a strike were imperative, couldn't the step have been taken after the first of the year, or a month ago? There's no particular halo to General Motors around an automobile that is built the two weeks before Christmas. The buying public attaches no extra value. But there is a definite halo in everybody's pay check at precisely this season.

★ ★ ★

As the striking period lengthens, the unemployment mounts steadily. The families of the strikers are the first victims, but the entire community suffers right along with them. Retail business is knocked down and other employment lessens as the economy of the community shrinks and dwindles.

It's too bad bargaining and work couldn't go forward together at just this time.

Christmas is precisely one week away.

Discontinue Publication of Leading Magazines

By and large, "business is good" in the United States.

But it's intensely competitive.

The Crowell-Collier Publishing Company has suspended Collier's and The Woman's Home Companion. These are two of the leading magazines in the nation. Earlier in the year, this same company suspended The American Magazine which was also a landmark in the magazine markets of the world.

★ ★ ★

As an indication of the complexity of business conditions, these two current failures had a combined circulation of more than eight million.

They had large readership.

They were accepted by the public.

And yet, "increasing costs" overwhelmed two great institutions that date back into the last century. The most brilliant writers in the country have appeared unendingly in their pages. They have provided the reading public with noteworthy articles and top flight fiction.

★ ★ ★

And yet they close for good.

They surrender forever.

The competition for the advertising dollar today is tremendous. The battle wages without cessation. No quarter is asked or received. And these same conditions hold forth in nearly every line of endeavor.

★ ★ ★

There is a definite touch of sadness in the loss of two old friends like these have always been. Earlier when the same organization closed out The American Magazine, it expressed hope that enough of The American's business would accrue to the two survivors to make continued existence possible for them.

The move failed.

The 1956 loss is $7,000,000.

The race is to the swift and the strong.

Success today demands a wide variety of things. All of its components cannot be broken down into definite factors that can be counted, weighed and essayed. There are always unseen values that figure to an immeasurable degree.

★ ★ ★

This is an unhappy Christmas announcement for more than 2,000 employes. It is also an unhappy announcement for more than eight million people who enjoyed the two magazines. But, trite though it sounds, "time marches on." It's inexorable, remorseless and "the devil can take the hindermost."

Director Has Ability That Means Much to Our City

Idle rumor: One that never is idle.

There are many admirable people in Pontiac and vicinity that deserve applause and praise. High on my personal list is

George H. Putnam.

The director of vocal music seems to have a way with him that pulls adults and young people equally. Everyone respects him tremendously and perhaps this is the basis of his appeal.

I think the younger generation is apt to reach quick decisions on whether they approve of adults. In the case of my old friend, George, the answer is always a definite "yes."

Furthermore, he deserves it. He is giving himself completely in a great cause. We need more cultural influences in this area and George is one of the steadfast sources.

Hints on Decorating Trees for Christmas

David Lawrence Says:

What Can Ike, Nehru Accomplish

WASHINGTON — Personal conferences between heads of states have assumed an exaggerated importance in recent years — and the most striking example of this is the current meeting between Prime Minister Nehru of India and President Eisenhower.

Where there is no fundamental trust by one government in the other, where there is evidence of duplicity and betrayal of the principles of international morality, there can hardly be a foundation for anything more than high-sounding communiques and the exchange of the usual words of diplomatic courtesy.

Nehru poses as a great humanitarian and as a champion of the cause of anti-colonialism in the world, but he showed a callous indifference to the brutality of Soviet colonialism in Hungary when he refused last week to support a United Nations resolution condemning the Soviet for what her troops had done in that ill-fated country.

For basically India — not the people but their government — under the influence of Nehru has played a double game in the world. The facts are in the record, and the effort to bring Nehru here to try to give him the American point of view is the last desperate effort of those American advisers who still believe that by some miracle—perhaps by more financial aid from the United States—a leopard in world politics can be made to change his spots and become a friend of the United States.

WELL INFORMED

Nehru is a well-educated man and well informed about the techniques of western politics and western diplomacy. He is capable of playing both ends against the middle and is a master of the double-talk which diplomats use when expediency dictates it.

The chronological story of Nehru's voting in the United Nations, as handled by his emissary, is revealing. Here it is:

Oct. 21, 1952—Nehru abstained from voting on a motion demanded by the Soviet Union to investigate charges that the United States used germ warfare in Korea. The Free World unhesitatingly voted against it.

March 26, 1953—When the Communists accused the U.S. of "spying" behind the Iron Curtain and the resolution was defeated by the votes of the Free World, Nehru abstained from voting.

* * *

March 27, 1953—When the Soviet Union again demanded a hearing on charges that the United States had used germ warfare in Korea, Nehru voted with the Soviet Bloc in favor of the motion, which was defeated by the votes of the Free World.

Dec. 3, 1953 — When a U.S. resolution was offered in the U.N. assembly to condemn Red atrocities which had caused 30,000 deaths in Korea, and the resolution was adopted by the Free World, Nehru abstained from voting.

Dec. 10, 1954—When the General Assembly condemned the Red China government for holding war prisoners in violation of the Korean armistice and the Communist bloc voted against the resolution, Nehru abstained from voting.

Nov. 4, 1956 — When the U.N. assembly adopted a resolution to send U.N. observers to Hungary, the Soviet bloc voted against it, and Nehru abstained.

Nov. 9, 1956 — When the U.N. assembly passed a resolution denouncing Soviet intervention in Hungary and demanding that Soviet troops be withdrawn and free elections held, India was the only supposedly "non-Communist government" in the world to vote against the resolution.

Nov. 21, 1956—When the General Assembly demanded that Soviet troops withdraw from Hungary and U.N. observers be permitted to enter and that deportations of Hungarian patriots be stopped, Nehru supported only the section on observers but abstained from voting on the other two parts of the resolution relating to troop withdrawal and deportations.

Dec. 4, 1956—When the General Assembly repeated the demand for withdrawal of Soviet troops from Hungary and the entry of U.N. observers, the Soviet bloc voted against the resolution, and Nehru abstained.

Dec. 12, 1956 — When the most important action in the recent history of the U.N. was voted by the Free World, and the Soviet Union was "condemned" for what it did in Hungary, the Communist bloc opposed the resolution, and Nehru abstained.

It is such a record which many Americans feel cannot be erased by official luncheons, banquets and the necessary hospitality extended to ministers of foreign governments.

Dr. William Brady Says:

Mineral Oil Habit Robs Body of Needed Vitamins

It is a serious mistake, I think, to use any kind of mineral oil as an "internal lubricant" or as an "aid" to the action of the bowel.

Mineral oil in small or large quantities inevitably interferes with absorption of minerals and vitamins and so favors development of malnutrition.

Instead of mineral oil, I suggest taking one or two teaspoonfuls of unground flaxseeds daily. Wash the flaxseeds down with water or swallow them mixed with jelly or any breakfast cereal.

Flaxseeds. There they are. Take 'em or leave 'em, but don't nag me about it. If I didn't know flaxseeds are wholesome and even have some food value, I wouldn't suggest taking them.

* * *

Purpose of flaxseeds is to approximate the natural mucus, the very slippery fluid which coats the lining of the healthy gastro-intestinal tract.

CAN BE DRANK

I have no opinion to give about the advisability of steeping your daily dose of flaxseeds in water to make a cup of flaxseed tea to drink instead of the whole flaxseeds. No harm in trying it, if you wish.

* * *

In the booklet The Constipation Habit and Colon Hygiene (35 cents and stamped, self-addressed envelope) I explain that anxiety, worry, fear, irritation, anger or annoyance, delays, arrests, upsets, even reverses the digestive process —impairs appetite, inhibits or retards peristalsis, the rhythmic wave movements which convey food or food residues onward through the canal at just the right rate — when not interfered with.

The emotional factor which interferes with the automatic regulation of these digestive processes as much as any other is, oddly enough, morbid concern or introspection in regard to "keeping the bowels open."

Most misguided customers with the laxative, saline, liver pill, physic, enema or "internal bath" habit will think they know better. But from long and extensive research I can state, without fear of competent contradiction, that there is no foundation in physiology or pathology for the notion or fear that poisoning or "autointoxication is inevitable if for any reason the usual evacuation is delayed a day or two.

The action of the bowel is controlled by the same part of the nervous system that controls the action of the heart and the lungs. Even a physic taker would laugh at the notion that the heart won't beat or the lungs won't breathe if one fails to take a daily dose of digitalis or strychnine. A daily liver pill is just as foolish.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Football Fans Comment About Lions-Bears Hassle

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.

As a Chicago resident I rooted for the Bears for ten years. They're just as clean as any other team. The photo of Layne's injury shows he wasn't struck with a fist or an elbow. He was just plain tackled from behind and tackled hard. Were they supposed to be playing "touch football?"

Parker is just trying to ease his bad defeat. His team was taken and taken so much worse than he thought possible he can't explain it. I see the president of the league reviewed the movies of the Layne accident and said there wasn't a thing wrong and if Mr. Parker wanted to quit to go ahead and quit and creep back to Texas and stay there. I hope if he goes, he doesn't forget to take his crying towel with him. He won't look natural without an over-sized one in his hand.

I switched to the Lions when I moved from Illinois to Oakland County, but I'm going to root for the Bears from now on.

Old and New Bear Rooter

The Lions should quit playing the Bears. That's twice the same hatchet man has cut down Layne. There are lots of other teams in the league. Why don't the Lions play the others and let the Bears use their bar room tactics on the rest of the league? Halas has been around too long. Some civic group should buy the Bears like they did in Detroit.

Lion Fan

If the Bear that cut down Layne isn't properly penalized, what reason will there be for other pro football players to keep a good, clean sport good and clean? The whole league will settle back and stage a series of brawls that will empty the parks. Pro football needs a firm direction from the top office like baseball gets. Remember, a big league baseball manager was set down for one full year. That's why everyone trusts baseball. Football needs the same intelligent control at the top. Is it getting it? Many of us doubt it.

Gleason Has Ordered 300 Shirts at a Time

By HAL BOYLE

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Odd facts a columnist might never learn if he didn't open his mail:

That your heart, if it exerted all at once the force it used in a lifetime, could lift the mightiest battleship 14-feet out of water.

That a woman's heart weighs slightly more than half a pound, and a man's heart slightly less than three-quarters of a pound.

That your heart usually has the same shape as your body—slim if you're slim, chunky if you're short and broad.

That the average human heart beats nearly three billion times in 70 years—and every day pushes from 5 to 10 tons of blood through your system, depending on your size.

That the ambition of singer Teresa Brewer, who has three children at 25, is to have an even dozen at 40.

That a centipede doesn't have a hundred legs. A common house centipede has 30, garden centipedes have 42, and some others have nearly 200.

That every 20 minutes someone in America goes blind, according to sportscaster Mel Allen, chairman of the 1956 "Fight for Sight" campaign.

That a drop of water may look empty but it is more crowded than the busiest highway, since it contains about six sextillion atoms. Spaced an inch apart, these atoms would stretch 40 times the distance from here to the North Star.

That the average family spends better than $307 a year for personal health services.

That people tried to halt the spread of epidemics by fumigating mail with sulphur fumes or soaking it in vinegar.

That it's no wonder comic Jackie Gleason has the reputation of being willing to give you the shirt off his back. He'd been known to order 300 shirts at a time.

That Amelia Scott, an authority on hair care, says short men usually want their wives to look as glamorous as possible, men who were "mama's boys" insist their wives wear long hair, and salesmen like their daughters in short skirts and pigtails.

That a survey by Wayne University showed 75 per cent of the walking done by an average housewife is unnecessary. Every time I print an item like this my wife gets mad at me for a full week.

That saccharin is 300 to 500 times as sweet as sugar.

That shotgun shells loaded with pollen instead of pellets are now being fired into fruit trees to fertilize them. Whoever thought automation would put the bees out of work?

That it was Elliot Paul who said, "Patience makes women beautiful in middle age."

Case Records of a Psychologist.

Explains One Cause of Alcoholism

Paul has millions of distinguished men in the same boat with him. He is at the end of his rope. But he can be cured, especially if his wife will use the strategy outlined below. If you have an alcoholic in your family, send him the booklet described today, for alcoholism is a common symptom of a sexual inferiority complex.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case T-350: Paul R., aged 43, is a brilliant attorney but a chronic alcoholic.

"Dr. Crane, I have tried to break the liquor habit, but never with any lasting success," he protested miserably.

"My wife says I'll always be a drunkard, and I am afraid she may be correct.

"Until three years ago I was a sober, industrious attorney and very successful.

"But now I have gone downhill till I have hardly any clients left and am almost broke. If I had the courage, I'd check out so my wife could at least have my life insurance.

"Is there any possibility that I could still throw off this liquor habit?"

LIQUOR PSYCHOLOGY

Yes there is always a chance for a chronic drunkard to break the liquor habit.

But he must widen his perspective and diagnose himself properly. We psychologists usually regard chronic alcoholism as similar to a fire escape that leads from a burning building.

As long as the building is ablaze and people are being scorched by the flames, they will quite naturally seek the fire escape.

Put out the inferno, however, and there will be little need for that fire escape.

And so it is with chronic drunks. They employ liquor in most cases to flee from an inner inferno that "burns" their pride and humiliates their ego.

When men like Paul develop the liquor habit after a lifelong record of non-drinking, it often means they are terrified.

AFRAID OF 40

Why should grown men, educated and successful in business or the professions, develop sluch a panic after the age of 40?

Alas, this decade from 40 to 50 produces many drunkards among men, as well as women, due to sex terror.

Paul's autobiography is a classical example. He confessed that he had been growing more platonic as a mate for the past five or six years.

Finally, his very fear that he would become totally impotent, produced the dreaded effect, for impotence is usually due to an inferiority complex.

It can thus afflict a new bridegroom, as well as a man after 40:

Psychotherapy is usually enough to restore the usual patient to normalcy again, although tons of hormones are being injected for that purpose.

Paul didn't want his wife to learn the truth, for impotence is mankind's worst bugaboo. It deflates the male ego terrifically.

In this tormented state, Paul sought liquor, partly to give himself a little relief from his unsolved problem. For alcohol acts like a narcotic for a brief interval.

* * *

But Paul also realized, as do most of these drunken husbands that if he staggered home intoxicated at 2 p.m., that would divert his wife's attention. It would serve as a red herring.

"If she sees me drunk, that will apparently explain why I don't wish to kiss her and be affectionate," such a drunken husband subconsciously thinks.

So the basic cure for drunkards, and this holds for Alcoholics Anonymous members, too, is to banish the inner torment that is the real cause.

Wives, send for my booklet, "How to Prevent Impotence," enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus 20 cents.

For when you restore your mate's sex ego, you will have eliminated his major need for this "fire escape" via alchohol.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Poles-Reds Get Together, New Agreement Reached

WARSAW (AP)—Poland and the Soviet Union have signed a formal agreement spelling out many of the technicalities to govern future operations of Russian troops in Poland.

The accord concluded last night followed up the broad agreement reached last month in Moscow during the visit of Wladyslaw Gomulka, Poland's "nationalist" Communist party chief.

* * *

Stipulating that Soviet troops are in Poland "temporarily," the agreement declares again that Polish sovereignty will be respected and that Soviet forces will not interfere in Poland's domestic affairs. Many other parts of the agreement read like a pact between the United States and an NATO ally where American troops are stationed.

* * *

The agreement elaborates on previous concession to Poland of veto powers over the size and movement of Russian troops in this country, even on training maneuvers. But key items left subject to later "special agreements" included the size and deployment of the Russian detachments, regulations governing the movement of Soviet troops in and out of Poland and the use of Polish military installations or public utilities by the Soviets. Agreements on these items are scheduled to be worked out within three months.

* * *

The earlier Moscow declaration said both countries agreed that Russian troops must remain in Poland because of (1) German refusal to accept Poland's annexation of East Germany territory at the end of World War II, (2) a lack of "sufficient guarantees against the rebirth of German militarism," (3) the presence of Soviet troops in East Germany, and (4) "the existing international situation."

* * *

Polish Premier Josef Cyrankiewicz was quoted by Moscow radio as pointing up the absence of a peace treaty with Germany in a dinner speech following last night's signing ceremony.

"The presence of Soviet troops on the Elbe is the chief guarantee for the security of Poland and the entire peace camp," Cyrankiewicz said. "That is what calls for the temporary stationing of some Soviet units in Poland."

Soviet Foreign Minister Dmitri Shepilov and Defense Minister Georgi Zhukov arrived in Warsaw yesterday for the formal signing. They were scheduled to return to Moscow today.

* * *

Well-informed sources in Moscow said the semiannual meeting of the Soviet Communist party's Central Committee had been postponed until Thursday, or possibly until January. It had been believed that the meeting might open yesterday but the visit to Warsaw of Shepilov and Zhukov, both important committee members, could have had some connection with the postponement.

* * *

The agreement signed last night provides that crimes by Soviet soldiers generally will be subject to Polish courts. It makes exceptions where offenses are committed against other Russians or during the performance of official duty. Any offense by Poles against Soviet soldiers is to be handled as if it involved Polish soldiers.

The Soviets agreed to pay Poland for any damage caused "by actions or neglect of Soviet military units or persons serving with them . . . to Polish institutions and citizens of third countries on the territory of the Polish Peoples Republic."

* * *

Poland in turn agreed to compensate the Soviet Union for any damage caused by Polish state institutions or citizens to the property of Russian military unts, its servicemen or their families, either by neglect or direct action.

The amounts of such compensations are to be fixed by a Soviet-Polish commission which also will rule on the interpretation or implementation of the agreement.

* * *

Also included were provisons that Soviet troops must wear regulation uniform in Poland, that Soviet military vehicles must be clearly identified and that construction work at Russian bases must be approved by Polish authorities, and that any facilities vacated by the Russians will be returned to the Polish government "in good condition."

The accord set out that it is subject to ratification and will be effective the date raitfication instruments are exchanged in Moscow.

Where White Christmas Is Quite Unlikely

Bing's Sentiments Hit Home in Singapore

By BOB CONSIDINE

SINGAPORE (INS) — The three slowly revolving ventilation propellers on the high ceiling of room seven in the Raffles Hotel—a room as big as a basketball court—slapped equatorial heat back toward the polished old teakwood floor. The sweat did not pour; it cascaded.

Outside, the garden bloomed with great fan palms and trees that groaned under the weight of white bloomings as lush as gardenias. In the busy street bicycle-powered rickshaws fought the traffic. I dug out a little Zenth transistor set and wondered what strange lute or cymbal tone it might detect in these skies so depressingly far from home. Instantly the huge room was filled with glorious sound. It was Bing Crosby singing "I'm Dreaming of a White Christmas."

Thanks, Bingle.

* * *

Chan Beng Soon, who apparently is the frog-war correspondent of the stately Straits Times of Singapore, deservedly won front page space with his story of a violent frog conflict which took place in the little north Malayan town of Alor Star several days ago.

It seems that an amorous land bullfrog invaded the watery harem of a pond-type frog intent on eloping with the water king's favorite dell frog. She croaked the frog equivalent of "Save Me!" A fight started "as the rival suitors leapt for each other's throat. Hundreds of their followers joined in for a life-and-death showdown."

Chan reported: "The battle raged for two hours during which death croaks from the pond could be heard a mile away. I watched the battle for half an hour. It soon appeared that the water king was being driven from his harem. As his army retreated, the victorious land frogs swam away with the shrilly protesting harem beauties.

"There were heavy casualties on both sides. Afterwards the little pond which had served as the battlefield was littered with dead and wounded warriors.

"According to the village headhand, Inche Osman Bin Hati Mohammed Noor, this morning's battle could have political significance." It is usually a bad omen heralding internal trouble for the country, he said.

I'm getting the hell out while the getting's good.

Learned all over again last night that it's almost impossible to get what we call Chinese food if it's prepared in or near China by Chinese cooks.

With our minds set on some egg roll, pork ends with sweet and sour barbequed spareribs and Moo Goo Guy Pan, we set off for the Peking, a posh restaurant-night club patronized exclusively by tired Chinese businessmen and their slim, slit-skirted, doe-eyed secretaries who understand them so much better than the old lady.

"You're outta luck, chum," the hep boss boy said when we ordered. "You're talking Canton cooking like a New York square. We got Shanghai style."

"Urp!"

American culture seems to be represented in Singapore by one Eddie Sereno, manager of a U.S. troupe billed as "Rock Around the World." Mr. Sereno, a Harvard man one must presume, advertised yesterday for a Malayan stripper. She must be exotic, he said. I can assure the girl that she will have a bright future with the troupe, he added, but then cautioned she will certainly have to rock and roll.

Not One Accident on Big Building Job

MINNEAPOLIS—From the first excavation to the final cleanup, 691 days and 75,000 man-hours of work, not one employe suffered a disabling injury in the construction of an insurance company building in Minneapolis.

Twenty-three accidents had been expected. It was the first major building ever constructed in the Minneapolis-St. Paul area without a disabling injury.

Jet Turbine Blades Become Plenty Hot

BURBANK, Calif. (UP) — Turbin blades used in jet engines to whip air into and through the engine are subjected to temperatures of up to 1,500 degrees—hot enough to melt nearly two thirds of the elements known to man.

These blades can withstand that great heat and also pressures of more than 20 tons per square inch.

CRITICS GREET EDEN — Members of the British League of Empire Loyalists, an organization critical of the British government for not pressing the Anglo-French invasion of the Suez Canal, display placards on London's Downing Street just before Prime Minister Anthony Eden returned from a three-week rest in Jamaica. Eden's government has been under fire from Labor Party quarters for undertaking the Suez invasion at all.

Yule Lighting Entries Slow

The deadline for entries in the Pontiac Junior Chamber of Commerce Christmas Lighting Contest has been extended to Friday, Robert Elert, chairman of the event, said this morning.

* * *

"As we have received only one entry to date, we have decided to extend the previous Dec. 19 deadline to encourage residents to submit their entries," Elert said.

Those wishing to submit their entries by phone may do so by calling Elert at FEderal 4-2571. Other entries should be addressed to Elert, in care of the Christmas Lighting Contest, 71 W. Huron St.

* * *

The first entry was received yesterday from the Arthur Bell's of 100 Spokane Dr.

* * *

The displays this year will be judged on Dec. 26. Winners will be judged according to artistic merit, originality, lighting techniques, and ingenuity.

The grand prize winner will be submitted as Pontiac's entry in the $5,000 General Electric nationwide lighting contest.

* * *

There will be an east and west side winner locally with each receiving a plaque. Grand prize winner will be awarded a selection of household appliances.

The following will be judges in this year's contest: Miss Lauretta Paul, Pontiac General Hospital director, Pontiac State Rep. Leslie H. Hudson, Wayne H. Gabert, local appliance dealer, and Curtis E. Patton, Pontiac insurance agent.

Why Do Commuters Moan and Groan?

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE
(Copyright 1956 by INS)

NEW YORK (INS)—People will go to any lengths to work their way to New York City—Mecca of the Madding Throng, Garden City of the transplanted midwesterner, land of the Rising Star and cost of living, province of privacy for whoever asks it.

Some save their money for years in little towns, so they can trade their contentment for a life of eternal competition.

Restless fathers pack whole families in old cars and join the rat race via the Holland Tunnel, never to be free of the traffic jam again.

Many of New York's most celebrated personalities hitchhiked here, or rode the rails from wherever it was that they spent their youth dreaming ambitiously of accepting the challenge.

But of all the strenuous, desperate routes and modes of transportation to New York City, none is alleged to be as deadly as the trip of a branch of humanity known as the commuter. It is the considered opinion of every amateur sociologist in this area that a commuter is the most long-suffering, ill-starred, woebegone, aching-backed, justifiably irritable expert on stocks, bonds and comic strips in the world.

These amateur sociologists, of course, are the commuters themselves—who else in New York has the time to sociologize? So there is self-pity in this estimation of the situation. They all claim to be going through Hades-on-wheels for the sake of the wife and kiddies who need the country air.

As a wistful ex-commuter named Caskie Stinnett recently wrote: "The commuter travels vast distances in his lifetime, but his fiercely beating wings never lift him an inch off the ground. Like a figure in a frieze, he extends from country to city, then back to country again."

This is all true. A recent news story pointed out that, throughout America, men spend 5,100,000,000 hours a year on trains going relentlessly to and fro in smoking cars. All this, the boys claim, so that the wife and children can glow with health and good spirits while they, poor fellows, grow sooty and cynical.

"Beneath it all," it is said, "flows the strong tide of human woe."

Well, all this sounds very well. In theory and on paper. Yet after 10 years of hearing the plaints of communters (and wives of same), it is hard for me honestly to cluck my tongue with sympathy in the presence of every man with a punched RR ticket and a punchy look.

I have a sneaking suspicion that in a great many cases, despite their everlasting moans, commuters secretly cherish these moments of dull, away-from-it-all lassitude. Severed from the demands of the family in the morning, and the press of the boss in the evening, they have time to revel in solitude or in stag company, depending on the mood.

They can read, gab, play bridge, drink, joke, sleep or miss trains if they care to—all with the seemingly reasonable excuse that the commuter's life is a dreadful and tiring one.

* * *

Professional sociologists are now wondering whether it's worthwhile for families to move out of New York; the doubt arising from whether it's better for children to see nature and not their fathers, or vice versa. And from all I've heard from wives, they wonder that too. While papa is commuting, the children are sleeping, and wives frequently must re-heat dinner three times in one evening because hubby's business and traveling schedule have confused the family clockwork.

A man removes his family to the country so they can be surrounded by trees. And more often than not, I suspect, it's the family instead of the complaining commuter who are out on a limb.

Streetcar Swansong Not Sad for Citizens

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Milwaukeeans have bid farewell, but not sadly, to the No. 11 streetcar line that linked the South Side with the mid-town area. The cars were replaced by motor buses.

The departure of the cars from the route leaves Milwaukee, the nation's 13th largest city, with only one remaining streetcar line.

Ike Announces Date for 'Union' Message

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House has announced that President Eisenhower will deliver his State-of-the-Union Message in person to a joint session of Congress at noon Jan. 10.

That's a week after Congress convenes Jan. 3.

The President's address was sent to Congress last year to be read. But in all previous years Eisenhower has delivered his message in person.

Squirrel Declares 'Nuts to John Law'

OKLAHOMA CITY, (AP) — Highway Patrol Trooper Dale Petty, after a two-week layoff, returned to his parked patrol car and started the motor.

There was a loud rattling and banging. Then acorns began flying all over.

Petty investigated and found a squirrel had torn the insulation from under the hood, built a nest and stored a gallon of acorns around the motor.

Dampens Spirits, Car

GALVESTON, Tex. (AP) — His enthusiasm for spear fishing was dampened considerably when Charles Hayes returned from four hours at the sport to find his car sinking slowly beneath a high tide. He had parked it on the beach and thought it would be safe, but the tide came in faster than he figured.

GOP States Spring Basis

Nominating Convention to Have One Delegate for Each 950 Votes

LANSING (AP)—Representation in the Feb. 9 Republican Spring Nominating Convention in Detroit will be on the basis of one delegate for each 950 Republican votes cast for Secretary of State on Nov. 6.

* * *

This was announced over the weekend by John Feikens, Republican State Chairman.

In outlining plans for the convention, Feikens said the change in apportionment from the one delegate per 650 Republicans of the 1956 conclaves from the heavy Republican vote last month.

* * *

There will be 1,549 official convention delegates.

Wayne County will lose 29 delegates from its 1956 convention strength although the 16th congressional district picked up 10 delegates. Wayne will have 26 per cent of voting strength, compared with its former 27 per cent.

Oakland County gained 17 delegates for a total of 141, giving it the largest single bloc of delegates. Macomb gained 12 convention seats, and Kent three.

* * *

Meeting in the Henry and Edsel Ford auditorium, the convention will nominate candidates for State Highway Commissioner, Superintendent of Public Instruction, one member of the State Board of Education, three justices of the Supreme Court, two members of the State Board of Regents and two members of the State Board of Agriculture.

Delegates will be picked at County conventions Jan. 30.

Dems Need Group for Policy Forming

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Monroney (D-Okla) said today Democrats need to set up a policy-forming group "not dominated by sectional interests" to prepare for the 1958 and 1960 elections.

Monroney defended the plan of National Chairman Paul M. Butler to set up a policy advisory committee for the party.

"It probably would have been better if this matter had been approached differently, with more attention paid to the prerogatives of the Senate and House," Monroney said in an interview.

* * *

"But there certainly is a need for an over-all committee, representing all elements of the party and not dominated by sectional interests, if we are going to win the elections in 1958 and 1960."

Butler has persisted despite rebuffs from Democratic leaders in Congress in efforts to set up a 20-member group authorized by the party's executive committee.

* * *

Sen. Fulbright (D-Ark) said he couldn't see how one small group could set out a program for the party without holding a new national convention. He said he regards it as "a little early after the election to get steamed up" over the matter.

Child prodigy singer Trudy Richards retired from a successful professional career at the age of 13 . . . to go back to school.

Immigration Increases

NEW YORK—The United States admitted 237,790 immigrants during fiscal 1955, an increase of 14 per cent over the 1954 figure of 208,177. An all-time high of 401,090 temporary visitors came to the United States during the year and student admissions were nearly 2,000 more than in the previous year.

Alaska's great river, the Yukon, carries about as much water to the sea as the Mississippi system.

NEW YORK—The United States exported 15½ billion dollars' worth of merchandise in 1955 compared with shipments of 15.1 billion in 1954, but were under their all-time high of 15.8 billion set in 1953.

General imports reached a new high of 11.4 billion, a substantial increase over the 1954 figure of 10.2 billion.

Citizenship was extended to all of the Indians in the United States by an act of congress in 1924.

No Dice Rattle in Reno Hotel

New Hostelry Caters to Hunters, Fishermen, Not Gamblers

RENO (INS)—The rattle of dice and the whir and click of the roulette wheels and the snap of playing cards were non-existent yesterday at Reno's brand new $4,000,000 Holiday Hotel.

Deliberately so, and nobody seemed to miss the familiar sounds associated with the pursuit of Lady Luck in the nation's gambling capital.

The luxury hostelry, dedicated to easy living and offering its own private hunting and fishing grounds for those who are sports minded, opened its doors over the weekend.

Its acceptance by the public, including tourists as well as Nevadans, was immediate and continuing. Thousands thronged the doors in a constant stream.

An extraordinary oasis for those with no king-size thirsts for garbling, the holiday lived up to all its name implies for 270 visiting newsmen from all parts of California and Nevada.

The hotel is the brainchild of Norman Biltz, Nevada rancher, developer and sports enthusiast who admits gambling is Nevada's biggest industry but wants no part of it for himself.

California Puts B Refugee on Way to Happy Future

SAN FRANCISCO (UP) — Golden hopes for the future in America, the land of freedom and opportunity, already are being fulfilled for Jeno Egri, Hungarian watchmaker.

Jeno, with his wife and two children, were the first of more than 150 Hungarian Families brought to California since the air lift to America began. They arrived here Dec. 5.

* * *

But the 48-year-old refugee was broke, dead broke. Worse still, his precious tools were back in strife-torn Hungary.

Word of Egri's predicament was spread by George Allen, business agent for the local watchmakers' union, and things happened.

Employes of one supply house chipped in for a set of basic tools. One of the city's Lions clubs donated money for a lathe and other equipment.

* * *

Members of Watchmakers' Local 101 contributed tools Egri still lacked — and a paid-up membership in the union, so he could go to work.

Then Joseph Granat, head of one of the city's major jewelry firms, came through with the real key to the problem — a job. Jeno had his lathe and tools set up yesterday and was ready to go to work on his new job. Then his new boss provided a crowning touch—a check for a week's work to start him off.

* * *

Overwhelmed, Egri could only blink the tears from his eyes, and murmur, "Thank you, thank you all," over and over again.

Permanent U. N. Police Force?

(Editor's Note: The author of the following report is chief of The Associated Press Bureau at United Nations Headquarters in New York.

By MAX HARRELSON

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (UP) — The Middle East crisis appears to have set the United Nations on the road toward a long-time goal—the creation of a permanent international police force.

A number of U. N. diplomats have hailed the establishment in November of the emergency Middle East force as an important step in this direction.

While all acknowledge the temporary nature of the unit now in Egypt, delegates like Brazil's Cyro de Freitas-Valle feel that the ice has been broken. He suggested action should be taken now to follow up the advance by asking all U. N. members to earmark military units which might be available to the world organization "on a permanent basis."

Freitas-Valle suggested that these units "could perhaps some day fly the flag of the United Nations together with their own national flag." The establishment of such a permanent force, he said, would create a greater respect for the United Nations.

Greek Prime Minister Constantin Karamanlis described the establishment of the Middle East force "as a small step in the right direction."

And Ecuador's Jose Vicente Trujillo expressed the hope that the creation of the emergency force would lead to further studies which might lay the foundation for a permanent group.

OLD IDEA

Actually, the idea of a U. N. military force is as old as the U. N. charter and has been one of the most stubborn problems before the world organization.

The charter provides for use of U. N. military force by air, sea and land to maintain or restore international peace. It was under this provision, that the U. N. intervened in Korea in 1950 after the Communist attack on South Korea.

* * *

This U. N. action, however, was an improvisation, which leaned heavily on the United States both for command and for fighting forces. Participation by other countries was little more than a token.

Former U. N. Secretary General Trygve Lie proposed shortly before the outbreak of the Korean War that the General Assembly establish a U. N. legion which would be a truly international body operating under the U. N. flag.

The plan got some support, but failed to gain the necessary momentum. The United States later proposed that all members of the United Nations earmark specific units for possible use by the world organization, but this too was soon forgotten.

These forces were intended, at least partly, for combat purposes, while the present U. N. Middle East force is strictly a police force. A permanent force could be limited to police duties or it might be given broader powers to enter combat, if necessary to maintain or restore peace.

CHARACTERISTICS

Delegates are agreed it would be much easier to establish a permanent force if it were patterned closely after the emergency force.

The main characteristics of the unit now operating are:

1. It is primarily a police force, as opposed to a combat organization.
2. It is made up of units contributed by small nations.
3. It is balanced geographically.
4. It is completely controlled and directed by the United Nations.
5. It is not authorized to enter any territory without the consent of the parties concerned.

Psychiatrists Differ on Richards' Health

FLINT (UP) — A psychiatrist, Dr. R. Gordon Brain, told probate court yesterday that Harry G. Richards, accused of killing two state troopers, is physically but not mentally ill.

Richards' wife has petitioned the court to have him committed to a state hospital for the mentally ill. A hearing is scheduled for Jan. 8 to determine whether Richards will stand trial on a murder charge.

The troopers, Bert Pozza and George Lappi, were shot to death Nov. 19 by a berserk gunman in his barricaded home near Flint.

Another psychiatrist in a report submitted probate court last Friday described Richards as mentally ill.

But Dr. Brain said he found no signs of an actual psychosis. He added, however, that Richards was not in any physical condition to appear at present for trial. He said Richards required medical care in a hospital. He recommended another psychiatric examination in three weeks for Richards "if he still lives."

Questions to Be Sure— Whether 'Max Secure'

CHICAGO (UP) — Ten convicted murders in the Cook County Jail staged a short-lived demonstration yesterday, protesting the lettering "Max. Security" stamped on their khaki denims.

* * *

The words had been stamped on because the slayers are quartered in the jail's maximum security section. They ripped the lettering off.

* * *

"You're holding us like caged animals—this is ball and chain methods," triple slayer Lawrence Neumann, identified as the ring-leader, told Warden Jack Johnson.

Johnson sent the uniforms to the tailor shop for patching and restamping.

Tiny Radio for Doctors

BOSTON (UP)—Pocket radios are now standard equipment for doctors at Beth Israel Hospital. The hospital yesterday inaugurated its new $10,000 doctor - radio paging system, reported to be the first of its kind on the Eastern Seaboard. The doctor's code number is beeped to the radio clipped to his pocket.

Electric Scaffolds Transport Painters

SAN FRANCISCO (UP) — Painters who keep the Golden Gate Bridge golden are traveling about their business now on electrically-driven scaffolds.

Installed at a cost of nearly $700,000, the scaffold units travel on rails for 4,200 feet along the main span.

Togliatti Is Re-elected by Italian Communists

ROME (UP) — Palmiro Togliatti was unanimously re-elected Monday as secretary of the two million-member Italian Communist party.

The Moscow-trained veteran was returned to office despite much criticism of his support for Soviet intervention in Hungary. Since the Hungarian revolt, factory elections have shown sharp reductions in Italian Communist strength.

Youngsters Heed Happy Parents

By ANNE HEYWOOD

"Why are young people nowadays so stubborn and self-willed?" a mother writes, "In my day, they did what their parents wanted them to do, but not today.

"I have actually been dreading the Christmas holidays this year because our son and daughter will be home from college and the family dinner hour will be a time for scenes.

"My husband is not an unreasonable man. But he does have more experience in the world than the young people have. Yet they won't listen to him.

"Choosing a career is an important thing, but young Bob stubbornly refuses to take his father's advice.

"And Sue won't even listen to me. She just looks at me as if I didn't know anything at all about life."

CHINESE SAYING

This kind of letter reminds me of the old Chinese document which an anthropologist friend of mine told me about.

It was written some hundred years B. C. and said, in effect: The world is going to the devil. Children no longer respect their parents and everybody is writing a book.

Parents have always deplored the attitude of their children, and this mother had better face the fact. And there's another element, too, in this kind of family squabbling.

When children refuse to take advice from a father, it's generally because they don't think he's very happy in his career and therefore is not an authority on the subject.

* * *

It is probable that Pop spent too many hours complaining about how hard he works, and how little credit he gets, and how terrible the boss is.

Probably Mom's monologue is about her dull life and the drudgery of housework.

THE LAST PEOPLE

After so many years of this, the children naturally think that Mom and Pop are the last people in the world to give good advice about the selection of a life work.

If this woman and her husband will take steps to make their own lives more satisfactory, and to radiate more happiness, they'll find a revolutionary change in their children's attitude.

Children pay very little attention to what we say about life, and a great deal of attention to how we live it.

Adopt a good philosophy, get a sound and happy approach to life and you'll find the children not only asking for your advice, but actually taking it!

* * *

If your life is not as happy as you'd like, it's a good idea to read some basic books on philosophy, to reorient your thinking.

If you'll send me a stamped, self-addressed envelope, care of The Pontiac Press, I'll send you my recommended list of books on this subject.

Don't Panic About Late Shopping

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

I know how you feel! At this point and this near Christmas, unless you took my advice about shopping early, you no doubt have the inclination to dash off in all directions at the same time. Control yourself! This is no time for panic.

* * *

I feel somewhat like a bald-headed man who is selling hair tonic because I did not take my own advice quite as I had planned to do. I did do a little better, but not much.

I am no expert at early shopping, as I've just admitted, but I am a super expert (if there is such a thing) about getting us out of the jam we are in now. Seven days before Christmas! It doesn't make me nervous! It just makes me shake all over.

The fatal thing to do now is to dash off, without thought. It is too late to rush into the stores before first thinking things over. If you do, you will probably find yourself giving your great grandmother a second set of false teeth, your 6-year-old daughter falsies, the son of your hi-fi friend a fife and drum, and your canary catnip.

Make a list of the people you still have to find gifts for. I hope it is a rather reduced list. Then the important thing is not to "backtrack."

During all these weeks before Christmas you must have seen various articles advertised by the different stores, some of which you thought would be appropriate for some of the people you have not yet bought a gift for.

A SECOND LIST

Make a second list of the articles you are going to buy and the stores in which you are most likely to find them. Then chart your course from store to store. It will save you an endless amount of time if you do not have to return to the same store several times.

You should also classify the articles. For instance, if you are going to a cosmetic counter, have all of the articles you are going to buy at that counter bracketed.

One year I bought 14 lovely and appropriate gifts in less than three hours with this method. I had an envelope for each store, with the gifts I was to purchase in each store classified as to departments and the accompanying addresses and cards all written out.

The telephone is timesaving and energy saving at this juncture. Make a few calls to see if some of the "special" gifts still are available.

* * *

As I said, the main trick now is to think and classify before you leave the house. I wish you luck!

New Citizens Plan Friday Yule Party

Plans were completed for the annual "Christmas Around the World" program when members of the executive board of the New Citizens League of Pontiac met Friday evening.

The Christmas program will be held Friday evening in the Pontiac High School cafeteria.

The group also voted to contribute to the Salvation Army for its Christmas project.

Bristle Brushes Back on Market

LONDON (INS) — Hairbrushes made of pure bristle—just like the kind grand-dad used—will invade the American hairbrush market this Christmas.

The British-made brushes (made by the English firm of Spa Brushes Limited) have not been sold in the United States to any great extent since before World War II, but it is believed that these hand-fashioned brushes may eventually become more popular than the customary nylon brush.

The brushes will come in ladies styles as well as for the man of the house.

Married Friday were Norma M. McGlothin and Erwin E. Lewis. Mr. and Mrs. W. H. McGlothin of First avenue are parents of the bride, and Erwin is the son of Mrs. Ethel Lewis of Monroe street.

MR. and MRS. ERWIN E. LEWIS

Norma McGlothin Weds in First Baptist Service

Norma M. McGlothin became the bride of Erwin E. Lewis Friday evening in an 8 o'clock service at First Baptist Church. The Rev. Tom Malone of Emmanuel Baptist Church performed the ceremony.

One hundred guests attended the wedding solemnized before an altar decorated with baskets of white chrysanthemums and palms.

Norma is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. McGlothin of First avenue. Erwin, of Kendry avenue, is the son of Mrs. Ethel Lewis of Monroe street.

The bridal gown was fashioned of Italian silk taffeta in a princess style with a chapel train. The modified Sabrina neckline had inserts of re-embroidered French Alencon lace.

* * *

Her headpiece of Parisian styling in Alencon lace held a fingertip veil of pure silk French illusion.

MAID OF HONOR

Donna Hirsch was maid of honor. She wore a red velvet gown and carried a white fur muff with streamers of red and white carnations.

Shirley Dobson was bridesmaid. She was gowned identically with the maid of honor.

F. John Herrington Jr. was best man. Seating the guests were William M. McGuire and Victor Insko.

For the reception held in the church parlors, Mrs. McGlothin wore a blue crepe dress with matching accessories. Mrs. Lewis selected a gray crepe dress with matching accessories.

* * *

The bride changed to a rust knit dress with matching accessories and a white rose corsage for traveling. On their return the newlyweds will reside on Kendry avenue.

Fork Puts a Pattern on Cooky

Mrs. Davis Needs Large Scale Recipe for Half Dozen Boys

By JANET ODELL

Cookies in large amounts are made in the Orval Davis home. There are six boys, ranging in age from three-year-old twins to a son nineteen, to dip into the cookie jar

Trying to stay even with the demands of such a family keeps Mrs. Davis busy. We can understand that. She took time out to share a cookie recipe with us.

CRISS-CROSS COOKIES
By Mrs. Orval Davis

4 cups sifted flour
1½ teaspoons soda
2 teaspoons cream of tartar
1 teaspoon salt
1½ cups shortening
2½ cups light brown sugar, firmly packed
1½ teaspoons vanilla
1 teaspoon lemon extract
3 eggs

Sift dry ingredients. Cream shortening and sugar, add extracts and eggs. Beat until light and fluffy. Add dry ingredients. Chill well.

Using a tablespoon to measure, roll balls of dough and place on a greased cookie sheet. Press with a fork in a criss-cross pattern. Bake at 375 degrees for 8-10 minutes. Makes 6-8 dozen cookies.

* * *

Stainless Flatware in Decorator Colors

Colorful new flatware seen on 1957 tables combines stainless steel eating surfaces with "accident-proof" handles in decorator colors.

The handles—guaranteed not to break, twist, or loosen—are completely safe in hot soap or detergent suds. Colors are so subtle and lovely that they give any meal a look of style, yet add no cares for the chief cook and bottle-washer.

Exchanges Complicate Gift Return

Girl Should Send Original Presents if Possible

By EMILY POST

A reader tells me: "I was given a shower two months ago. At this shower I received several duplicate presents which I took back to the stores and exchanged for other things I did not have and needed. Two weeks ago my engagement was broken and I am told that I have to return all the presents that were given to me.

"What do I do about the presents that I exchanged? Must I return the original presents, or would it be proper to send back the present I received in exchange, with a note of explanation? Will you please tell me what is the proper thing to do in this situation?"

Answer: If you can exchange the things back again for the original presents, that would be the thing to do. If you cannot do this, writing a note of explanation is all you can do.

"Dear Mrs. Post: Is it wrong to mark the envelope of a very personal letter to a member of a large family 'personal'? I have received such a letter from a friend and certain members of my family have taken offense—particularly my mother who considers it a gross insult to her integrity."

Answer: I agree with your mother. "Personal" on an envelope sent to your family address is discourteous because it indicates that the person writing to you thinks that someone in your family might open your letter.

"Dear Mrs. Post: My parents are going to announce my engagement at a family dinner soon. My fiance's sister is 'pinned' to a boy from out of town. Are we obliged to invite him to our engagement dinner?

We had planned on having only the immediate families—that is, his parents and brothers and sisters and my parents and brothers and sisters."

Answer: If they are engaged, then he should be invited. If they are not engaged he does not have to be invited to this family party.

Right Cleaner Removes Stains of Tree Needles

Don't let your Christmas tree get you down during the holidays—all you have to do is remove pitch stains and needles with a drycleaning fluid.

Tree needles can stain a carpet and walking on them may grind them into the pile, so it is best to pick them up as soon as they fall.

Any marks that are left by falling pitch from the tree or the needles can be wiped away by using some non-toxic cleaner on the stained area. Blot the spot with clean, white terry cloth or cleansing tissue, then rub lightly but be sure to start on the outside of the stain.

Do not use carbon tetrachloride as this solvent is highly poisonous.

One-half a million of the known organic chemicals can be produced from oil.

Nebs Club Meets

Members of the Nebs Social Club met for a Christmas party, dinner and exchange of gifts recently. They made plans to furnish a needy family with a Christmas basket.

How Yuletide Traditions Can Grow

Home Activities Cement Bonds

It's Never Too Early, Nor Is It Too Late, to Make a Start

By JOE WING
(Associated Press Writer)

It never is too early, nor too late, to develop a family's Christmas traditions.

And let it be said, in case of any doubt, that traditions with their nostalgic associations are a very important thing in this fast moving world.

Just think back, if not to your own childhood then to stories from elders, about Christmases in the old home. Remember the midnight church services that the family attended together? Or that certain spun glass angel that made its appearance year after year at the top of the tree?

"AMERICAN HOMESTEAD WINTER"—an old Currier & Ives print

There was a feeling about such things, and about the people involved, that arises on no other occasion.

If you want to make a conscious project of it, establishing a tradition is not at all difficult. Just follow out some appropriate little ritual or action that leaves happy memories. Do it again a year later — and there you have it, a real, living tradition.

MAKING OF GIFTS

The buying and giving of gifts at Christmas has a long and honored history. Especially in a family of small children, to whom prestige among their fellows means so much, it hardly would be possible to get away from the custom even if desirable.

And the making of a few personal gifts at home establishes another tradition.

What better token of a little boy's love for his mother than a tray hacked out of plywood, sanded and varnished ever so neatly? And how many wives have laid up more pennies than they realize in the heaven of their husband's regard by knitting him a pair of long woolen socks, dropped stitches and all, for that extra gift, instead of just saying "charge it"?

It will take more than a wish or announcement to bring into being the practice of making gifts for others.

Mother and Father should talk things over with the youngsters, make suggestions of suitable projects, offer them help, and encourage them to complete things on time, otherwise it may be that good intentions will be covered with disappointment instead of achievement and appreciation.

Some suggestions:

For a small boy to make: Bookmark, notebook, paper clip tray, waste basket, ashtray, book ends, candles, box for letters.

For a little girl to make: Wash cloth, pot holder, handkerchief, embroidered motto, painting, knitted wrist warmer, candy, cookies.

For a big boy to make: Photo portraits, bookcase, tool chest, porch table, an album with snapshot picture story of some family or personal activity, large shallow pan to serve as humidifer for house plants.

For the big girl to make: Illustrated notebook on some far place or region her parents or other relatives hope to visit some day, sweater, socks, apron, fruit cake.

TRIMMING THE TREE

Though rooted in old pagan ritual, the lighted tree has become such a part of Christmas that for most families the season would hardly be real without one.

* * *

Buying, setting up and trimming the tree can be a comradely job. Of course, if you live on a farm or have opportunity otherwise to grow and cut your own tree, the possibilities are that much better.

Now for the trimming.. If you are wise, you have saved as many as possible of the ornaments, including perhaps some home made ones, from last year and from the years before that.

New ones can be added of course as the old ones break, but the youngsters will greet old favorites as friends.

Be sure that the little ones not only help in the actual trimming but that they really have something to say about the way it is done. Their job may not be as neat as if you did it all yourself, but it will be far more satisfying to them. And that, after all, is what you are thinking about, isn't it?

PLACING OF THE GIFTS

Whether gifts are opened in your family on Christmas eve or Christmas morning, build up around the occasion some body of tradition.

* * *

Such things should be done this year, and next year, much as they were in the past — with modifications of course as the children grow older.

* * *

"The stockings were hung by the chimney with care" is so ingrained in the national consciousness that you can hardly err by having each member of the family hang a stocking. From the mantel preferably, but just about as well from some piece of furniture.

THE SINGING OF CAROLS

Too few parents realize that the singing of carols need not be a formal, public thing: At their own fireside, with just family and friends present, it can instill greater feeling and create more memories than all the professional performances on radio and in concert halls will ever be able to do thereafter.

* * *

story from Matthew or Luke. The youngest child starts it off and there are exclamations after he has completed his turn about how much his reading has improved since last year. His older brother or sister finishes off the sacred passage, of course, with a flourish.

Christmas morning can be a mad scramble if you don't watch out. Some families like it that way and chuckle in later days about the way the youngsters vied to get down to the business first.

Pontiac Press Photo

More Tickets, Less Arguments

Radar Tames Waterford Speeders

By REBA HEINTZELMAN
(Of Our Waterford Township Bureau)

Tickets issued for speeding have increased in Waterford Township —but the speeder very rarely complains about paying the fine, according to Waterford Township Justice Willis Lefurgy and Justice Don Adams.

Reason for the lack of complaints on the part of the speeder, is the radar-equipped car in operation by State Police, in the area.

"Before radar, a traffic violator would argue loud and long about paying a fine, but with the electronic beam working there is no chance for human error on how fast a car is traveling—and the speeder knows it," Lefurgy said.

Although the radar-equipped car is not a permanent fixture of the State Police post, it is being used in this area to slow people down "for their own good," Police Sergeant Charles Mulick said.

At this time of year, there are more people, more cars and now more children on the roads than ever and with driving conditions changing hourly, the danger of accidents has increased Mulick added.

Waterford Township Chief of Police Van Atta expects to have a radar-equipped patrol car by the first of the year and he, feels that it is needed primarily in the school areas.

"Radar cuts down the danger of fast traffic, because instead of two cars speeding past a school, there is only one," Van Atta said. "With 9700 children enrolled in 22 schools here people traveling at a fast rate of speed create a serious problem in the school zones," he added.

SEC Session to Set State A-Plant Rules

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Securities and Exchange commission (SEC) called a hearing today on whether to cut some red tape for sponsors of a private nuclear power project in Michigan.

The Power Reactor Development Co. of Detroit has asked the SEC to exempt it from being defined as an electric utility company within the provisions of the Holding Company Act.

The SEC recently changed its rules to permit development of such atomic power projects with a minimum of red tape—such as the Holding Company Act requirement that electric utilites register and disclose certain information.

The Detroit firm is financed by 26 companies, most of them utilities. It has obtained a conditional permit from the Atomic Energy Commission to build a 54 million dollar reactor near Monroe.

The AEC has scheduled a hearing for Jan. 8 on the safety aspects of the proposed reactor, which have been questioned by labor groups.

Scheduled for completion in 1960, the reactor has been designed to produce around 100,000 kilowatts of electricity.

20 Ships to Pass Soo Before Jan. 1 Deadline

SAULT STE. MARIE (AP) — Some 20 ships are expected to pass through the Soo locks before they close on midnight, New Year's Day.

The U. S. Coast Guard reports seven vessels lying above the canal awaiting clearance. Others are reported at the lakehead or coming toward the canal.

The Canadian locks closed at midnight Wednesday, but the U.S. locks have remained open to accommodate ore carriers trying to beat the lake ice in hauling iron ore to lower lake ports.

Fire Is Not Bus Alarm

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Eight fire trucks raced to a downtown fire alarm box. The firemen saw a startled woman standing beside it. She told them: "Someone said if I pulled the lever I would get a schedule of city buses."

Aftermath of Suez Canal Hassle

Larger Shipyards, Steel for Bigger Tankers

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) — Larger shipyards and more steel mills to build bigger oil tankers appear today as other likely aftermaths of the Suez Canal mess.

* * *

Uncle Sam may be asked to help out with tax incentives and other forms of aid.

* * *

Many of the world's existing shipyards will be busy for the next five years on orders booked some time back. And when some of the giant new tankers go into service they will find both the Suez and Panama canals and also a number of the world's ports too shallow for them when loaded.

* * *

The canal's blocking has already brought oil rationing to Europe and another financial crisis to England. It has also seen a 12-week climb in rates in the shipping charter market and in some instances has doubled the price of used vessels. It has sent Uncle Sam scrambling to shake the mothballs out of many of his laid-up World War II ships.

* * *

Shipping space has been at a premium.

* * *

The National Petroleum Council helping the U. S. Interior Department plan the oil lift to Europe, reports that shipyards open to the Western world are building or have signed contracts for 314 vessels of 25,352,200 deadweight tons. The West's present tanker fleet consists of 2,506 vessels of 42,195,426 deadweight tons. The council reports present plans call for increasing the fleet by 29 million tons in the next five years.

* * *

Oilmen say the existing shipyards can't carry out the stepped-up program and must build more capacity. The yards say one of their bottlenecks is the tight supply of steel plate.

In Washington the Marine Administration has given tentative approval to the building of 63 new tankers and bulk ore carriers. Its latest step is to approve the proposals of 15 shipping lines to build 27 new tankers and two bulk ore carriers at a total cost of 325 million dollars.

* * *

The Marine Administration also announces 30 day cargo ships are being taken out of mothballs for allocation on charter. It has already assigned 52 ships.

* * *

Some of the tankers being built or on order are larger than 60,000 tons, too big for the existing short-cut canals and are intended to bring oil around Africa for the use of Europe and in time for the use again of the U. S. East Coast. The huge tankers will find only a few drydocks big enough to take them on for repairs.

Refugees Go to Yule Party

CAMP KILMER, N. J (AP)—Some 300 Hungarian children at this Army rettlement center meet Santa Claus today.

Three student fraternities from nearby Rutgers University were to throw a Christmas party for the youngsters waiting to take up permanent homes in this country.

Games, movies and refreshments were scheduled before one of the students, togged out in the traditional red suit and whiskers, distributed gifts to the kids.

The fraternities taking part are Tau Delta Phi, Tau Kappa Epsilon and Zeta Beta Tau.

Meanwhile, a 40-foot Christmas tree cut down deep in the Maine woods was on its way here to brighten the refugees' Yuletide. The tree left Augusta, Me., yesterday but is not due to arrive before tomorrow night at the earliest.

More than 550 refugees arrived yesterday after their flights from Munich and Vienna landed at nearby McGuire Air Force Base or LaGuardia Field, New York.

CHRISTMAS COMES EARLY — Santa Claus hands a gift package to two-year-old Bernard Schumann, of Bay City, who is dying of cancer. The early visit was arranged recently after medical specialists told his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Schumann, that they doubted if the boy will live until Christmas Day. The boy, held by his mother, cannot walk and during the past week has had to have three blood transfusions.

Billy Graham Tells His Favorite Christmas Story

("There was no room for them in the inn" — noted evangelist Billy Graham selects this as his favorite Christmas story and tells why in the following article.)

By BILLY GRAHAM

(Copyright, 1956, By International News Service)

My favorite Christmas text is found in Luke's account of the nativity of Christ where it says: "There was no room for them in the inn." The reason I like it best is because it is so applicable to the world today.

After 20 centuries the human heart has changed little, in spite of other vast changes. What a picture this text gives us of the inhospitality of the human heart. No room for the Son of God! He who had created worlds found no welcome when He came to dwell with men: "There was no room for them in the inn."

Mary, the gentle mother of the Son of God, had to be her own maid and midwife. There were no spotless sheets on which to lay her first-born, only the straw of the oxen's stall. No nurses and doctors rushing in and out of the manger, whispering counsel to each other and skillfully attending the maid Mary, who Martin Luther said was barely fifteen years old.

There was not even a plain cot on which to lay the babe. The record says: "She wrapped him in swaddling clothes and laid him in the manger, because there was no room for them in the inn."

LAVISH SPLENDOR

Earthly princes make there entrance into the world amidst the comforts of lavish splendor, with their subjects waiting with bated breath the announcement that a prince has been born. But only a few shepherds, the lowliest of persons, and three wise men were aware that a king had been born. He whose name is above every name, He who was the prince of peace and the pride of heaven, was wrapped in swaddling clothes and laid in an oxen's manger "because there was no room for them in the inn."

* * *

The question comes to us today: "Why did not the inn-keeper make room for Jesus? In later years when Jesus walked through Palestine, healing the sick, raising the dead, and feeding the hungry, the inn-keeper probably asked himself, "Why did I not make room for Jesus on that night long ago?" At the moment he no doubt had his reasons, just as many today offer excuses for not making room for the Son of God in their hearts.

First, it might have been that the inn-keeper was not expecting Him. He, like many today, had probably adopted the grim philosophy of humanism. He probably said, as many say today, "Life is the way it is, and there is nothing we can do about it." He doubted that God would ever interfere in the affairs of men, and he was not cognizant of the promises of the Old Testament which told that God would one day dwell with His creatures and save them from their sin.

The second reason the inn-keeper found no room for Jesus was, perhaps, that he could see no profit in him. The lowly Mary and the poor Joseph, riding a shabby donkey, didn't look like profitable guests. I hear the inn-keeper, as he scanned the pair, say to his servant, "take them to the manger, there is no room for them with the paying guests."

There are inexhaustible and incalculable riches that are in Christ, but they only come to those who found room for him in their hearts. The inn-keeper, like many today, found no room for him, because in him he could see no opportunity for gain.

Thirdly, the inn-keeper may not have recognized him. Even though Christ was still unborn, he should have been recognized that day long ago. It is very easy to fail to recognize one whom we are not expecting to see. Christ comes to all of us every day in the form of moral issues, and often we fail to recognize him in the issue that confronts us.

It may be the persecuted people of Hungary that have been trampled under Russian steel, or it may be a neighbor next door that has a spiritual or material need. It could be a person on the other side of the tracks that has a different color skin than yours.

Fourthly, the inn-keeper perhaps did not make room for Jesus because he did not want him, and that was his prerogative. He had a right to refuse him a place in his inn. That, I believe, is still a law: that a hotel manager may refuse admittance to anyone he chooses.

Particularly was it true in the case of Jesus, because God allows men to make their own choices. Russia may force its way of life on hapless Hungary and blow its way with tanks and guns into the heart of a helpless nation — but not God. He does not operate on this principle.

From the beginning of history, even until now, God has lovingly outlined the alternatives for error, but has left the ultimate choice up to man. The Bible says: "Behold, I stand at the door, and knock: if any man hear my voice, and open the door, I will come in to him, and will sup with him, and he with me" (Revelations 3:20).

* * *

This season commemorating Christ's birth can be a time of blessed communion with God and a threshold of a glad new era of living. But it depends on our disposition toward him, who not only hallows this day but hallows all of life and the unfolding vistas of the future. Be a good inn-keeper! Not so much because he needs you, although that is true, but most of all because you need him.

More Than One Way to Wreck a Truck!

SAN JOSE, Calif. (AP)—Four-year-old Frank Costa's attempt to chin himself has sent his father Frank Sr. to a wrecking yard to find a new steering wheel for the family pickup truck.

While his father was away from the parked truck shopping, little Frank pushed his head through the steering whee and couldn't pu lilt free.

His howls attracted a crowd. By the time Frank Sr. got back, a construction worker had sawed the wheel and freed the boy.

Extend Fluoridation Form Deadline

With some 600 Waterford Township children registered for a teeth fluoridation program, the deadline has been revised to allow more school children to participate.

Parents of children in Jayno Adams, Waterford Village and Williams Lake schools apparently did not understand the ages at which their children are eligible, so the Dec. 7 deadline for consent forms has been revised to Dec. 20.

Children in these three schools of ages 3, 4, 7 and 10 are eligible for the application, according to Dr. B. W. Ross, coordinator.

"This means," he added, "that if a child is one of those ages now, and will be that age until his birthday sometime during 1957, he will be accepted. It also means that any child in the quoted area who will become one of those ages anytime in 1957 may be included."

Chairmen of the programs in the different schools are Mrs. John Hoke, Waterford Village; Mrs. Robert Brown, Williams Lake; and Mrs. Clare Novess, Jayno Adams.

The letters sent to parents earlier explained the proposed program of direct application of fluoride to the children's teeth.

Dean of Secretaries Gets Heavy Fine

EXETER, N. M. (AP)—Enoch D. Fuller, 64, New Hampshire secretary of state for 28 years, was fined a total of $1,500 yesterday in connection with the automobile death of Henry A. Blood of Bedford last Oct. 26.

* * *

Superior Court Judge George R. Grant Jr. imposed the fines and suspended a six-month jail sentence after Fuller was permitted to plead nolo contendere—no contest.

Fuller was fined $1,000 and received the suspended sentence on a charge of reckless driving, death resulting, "in that he was under the influence of intoxicating liquor."

* * *

He was fined another $500 on a charge of leaving the scene of the accident.

Fuller, dean of state secretaries in the United States, announced he is not a candidate for re-election.

Tots Raid Packages— in Policeman's Home

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP)— Patrolman Fred Gray was on duty in a cruiser when a neighbor phoned headquarters yesterday to report a break-in at Gray's house.

Gray was dispatched there and found three 4-year-old children unwrapping presents under the Christmas tree.

The neighborhood tots, who had entered by an unlocked door, also had helped themselves to soft drinks and doused themselves with Mrs. Gray's perfume.

'Pilgrims' Railway' Surveying Project Let

DAMASCUS, Syria — An American engineering firm has contracted to survey the soon-to-be-rebuilt Hejaz railway, which once stretched 825 miles across the Arabian Desert from Damascus to Medina, near the Moslem pilgrimage city of Mecca.

Called the "Pilgrims' Railway," this line was built in 1908 and destroyed eight years later by Lawrence of Arabia during an Arab uprising against the Turks.

The estimated cost of reconstruction is $25,000,000 to $50,000,000. Contracts are to be let in 1957.

GIRL OF MANY FACES—Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn) studies display showing how a woman identified as Mrs. Sherry Caldwell, an alleged con girl, changed her appearance purportedly to carry on her activities. Miller, subcommittee counsel, testified that $5,000,000 is taken in yearly by a nationwide swindle ring. He also testified that Mrs. Caldwell told him that her home in 1951, in Cleveland, O., was one of the "foremost gathering places" for the confidence schemers.

Tiptoe Tactics Atop Teetering Ladder Assures Seeing Stars on Yule Tree

CHICAGO — Don't risk seeing stars when you try to hang a star on the top of your Christmas tree.

This warning comes from the National Safety Council, because accidents contributed to the 14,000 deaths from home falls last year.

Use a sturdy stepladder, place it as close to the tree as possibl, and be careful when you reach for the farthest branch.

The Council points out that the holiday season brings many fall hazards — placing decorations, toys underfoot, boxes and wrappings laid "temporarily" on stairs, slippery walks outside.

Another danger of the holiday season is fire.

"The Christmas tree, filled with natural pitch and resin, is one of the most combustible objects known," the Council says, "and it can burn so quickly it is almost impossible to extinguish the flames by ordinary methods. In case of fire, call the fire department immediately."

The Council offers eight simple precautions:

1. Buy a fresh tree. Be wary of trees sold as "fireproof." And don't try to flameproof Christmas trees with chemical solutions.

2. Keep your tree in a cold place until ready to use it. Before setting up the tree, saw off diagonally at least an inch of trunk and place base in water-containing holder. Keep water reservoir filled.

3. Locate tree well away from fireplace, radiators, television sets, powerful electric lights and other sources of heat.

4. Use only electric lights, and be sure they bear the Underwriter's Laboratories label. Check wires for defects and loose sockets before putting on tree.

5. Too many light circuits on one outlet may overload house wiring and blow a fuse. Reduce the load if this happens, or connect part to another circuit outlet. Never increase size of fuse, or substitute a penny for a blown fuse.

6. Be sure ends of metallic icicles or other decorations do not dangle into light sockets where they can cause a short circuit and flash fire.

7. Do not operate electric trains or other electrical toys, which may spark, under tree.

8. Take tree down when needles start to fall. Dispose of old trees in fire-safe areas outdoors—never in furnaces, stoves or fireplaces, because they burn with almost explosive violence.

Switzerland Cracks Large Spy Network

BERN, Switzerland (AP) — The Swiss government today reported breaking up a large-scale espionage network it said was headed by an official of the Hungarian legation.

Several persons were reported under arrest.

* * *

Atty. Gen. Rene Dubois declined to give the name of the Hungarian diplomat, or to indicate how many persons were arrested.

"Absolutely no additional information can be given at this time," he said.

However, all those arrested were believed to be Swiss. The Hungarian diplomat presumably was protected from arrest by diplomatic immunity.

* * *

Officials at the Hungarian legation refused all comment. The legation has five officials of the status of diplomat, headed by Hungarian Minister Bela Nemety.

The spy case was first reported in the Bern newspaper Der Bund, which is considered close to the Swiss government. The paper demanded the immediate expulsion of the diplomat involved.

Foreign students from 132 different nations are studying in U.S. colleges and universities.

Pravda Attacks Yugoslav Heads

Soviet Organ Criticizes Tito, Aide for 'Revising' Kremlin Line

MOSCOW (AP) — Pravda fired another salvo today in the word war between the Soviet Union and Yugoslavia. This time the Soviet Communist party organ attacked Yugoslav Vice President Edvard Kardelj's criticism of Russian military action in Hungary.

Pravda called Kardelj a "revisionist," one who interprets basic Marxist-Leninist theory in his own way rather than according to the official Kremlin interpretation. It is one of the graver sins in Moscow's catalogue.

* * *

The two-page article in the Soviet Communist party's chief newspaper followed up blasts against President Tito for his criticism of Soviet policy in Hungary.

This time Pravda did not mention Tito by name. It wished the "glorious Yugoslav people success in the construction of socialism, no matter what form our Yugoslav comrades may prefer," but asked: "Why should the development of Yugoslavia be opposed to the development of other Socialist states?"

"Such a course . . . is particularly detrimental at the present time when reaction is ferociously attacking the Communist parties in an effort to split the Communist movement at any cost," the party paper declared.

Kardelj on Dec. 7 told the Yugoslav Parliament that Soviet troops had intervened in Hungary to preserve the balance of power in Europe rather than to save socialism — communism — in Hungary. He said the Soviet intervention would be justified only if further developments brought results leading to "socialistic democracy" in Hungary.

Pravda accused Kardelj of interfering in the internal affairs of Hungary.

Set Precedent in TV Freedom?

Court's Silence Viewed as OK in Interviewing Trial Witnesses

SAN DIEGO (AP)—An angle in the Latham kidnaping case involving freedom of the press for television today appeared to have led to an unspoken court conclusion that:

Witnesses who have testified and have been excused may be interviewed on television while the trial is still in progress.

The questions and answers must be limited in general scope to the testimony given in court.

* * *

Members of the jury should not see or hear such interviews; just as they are instructed to avoid reading newspaper accounts of the trial.

The issue was raised a week ago when Superior Judge John A. Hewicker threatened to hold a television newsman in contempt of court. He is presiding at the trial of two women charged with kidnaping and attempting to murder Mrs. Ruth E. Latham.

The judge told Harold Keen of KFMB-TV that a repetition of a Dec. 10 interview of two witnesses who had testified that day would bring a contempt order.

George Whitney, KFMB vice president and general manager, said the constitutional issue of freedom of the press was involved. He said Keen's interview technique was his "method of reporting the most dramatic news occurences of the day through the presentation of various persons who figure in such occurrences."

Attorneys representing KFMB and Keen then conferred with Judge Hewicker.

* * *

Keen presented an interview with another witness Friday night, adhering to the general court testimony in his questions.

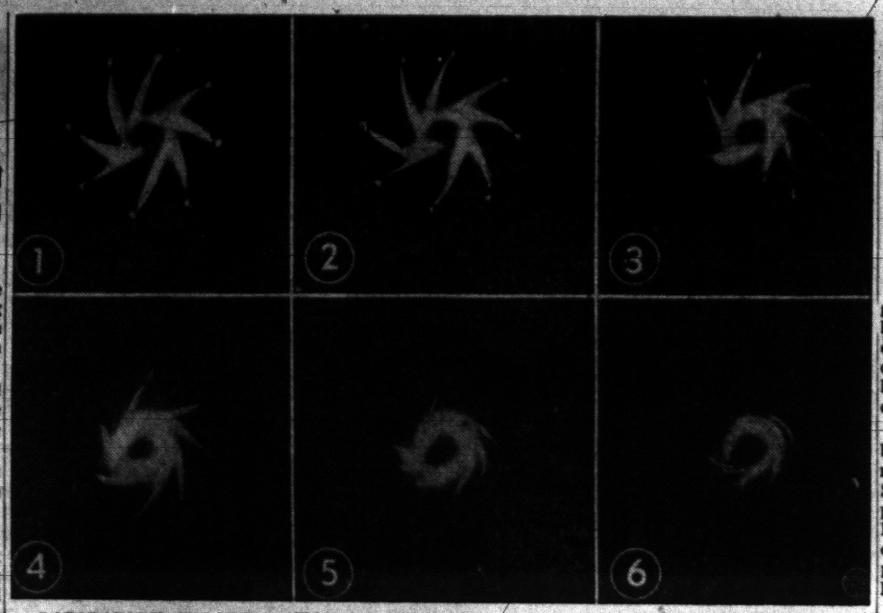
Judge Hewicker took no action when Keen appeared in court Monday. Keen said trial developments would determine whether he would interview more witnesses.

5 Building Permits Issued at Waterford

Building permits for five structures totaling $457,720 were issued at the Waterford Township office last week.

Bulk of the commercial building was a new gas station on Williams Lake road, for $13,500 and another to be built on Dixie Highway for $18,000.

A permit to dismantle a building on Lotus was applied for and only one garage permit was issued.



LABORATORY GALAXY — This photo sequence (left to right) shows the evolution of a miniature eight-armed galaxy formed by the simultaneous discharge of eight "plasma guns," a development of Dr. Winston H. Bostick of Stevens Institute of Technology, Hoboken, N. J. The arms of the spiral are traced by plasmoids — pellets of ionized matter—as they travel across a magnetic field toward a center at speeds up to 450,000 miles an hour. This is about the speed that stars travel in heavenly galaxies. The action simulates in the laboratory, in a fraction of a second, what takes place in perhaps a billion years during the formation of a galaxy in outer space. Galaxies are clusters of billions of stars of which the Milky Way, the galaxy that includes the earth, is an example. Dr. Bostick proposed to the American Nuclear Society meeting in Washington, D. C. a new theory on the formation of the stellar galaxies that is based on his observations of laboratory plasmoids.

Goo, Not Glue, Is One Good Reason Why Postmen Get Christmas Ulcers

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Now is the time when postal clerks and carriers take to drink. Milk, that is.

It helps soothe their Christmas ulcers when:

Bright-eyed ladies ask for specially colored postage stamps to match their gift wrapped parcels.

Proud sportsmen mail overfragrant fish.

Grandma sends jelly and jam in glasses without protective wrapping.

"Honey is our worst problem," groans a postal official. "You'd never believe what a horrible mess it makes."

* * *

From past experience these are among the many headaches the Post Office Department expects to face from now on as the American public wildly begins to send off cards and packages.

Last December the volume of Christmas mail reached the eight million mark, and this year it's expected to jump another quarter of a million during that one month.

"This will be the biggest volume of holiday mail in the nation's history," says Maurice H. Stans, acting Postmaster General. "Our employes will be on the job night and day to make this the most efficient and speediest operation we have ever known."

* * *

In addition to regular postmen, 275,000 temporary helpers will be hired by local postmasters all over the country.

And this Christmas more equipment will be thrown into operation "Delivery."

An order of 6,000 golf type hand carts will be delivered in time for the rush. They'll be wheeled by lucky postmen all over the country who for once will get through the holiday with straight spines. But plenty others will carry back-breaking loads.

The Department admits that some postmen have already bought caddie carts at their own expense to make the job easier.

* * *

There will also be a number of new trucks and three-wheeled motor scooters coming off the production line in time for Christmas use.

"Again this year we expect that no mail will be left undelivered in post offices anywhere in the nation," predicts Stans. "But the American people can help us achieve this goal by shopping and mailing early as they have in the past."

The Post Office Department hands out the following advice to those who want to insure safe and prompt delivery of their cards and gifts:

* * *

Make sure parcels are well packed and securely wrapped in strong containers. Cushioning material, such as excelsior, shredded newspapers or tissue paper should be evenly and firmly placed on all sides of the gift. The carton should be securely wrapped in heavy paper and tied with strong twine.

Mark "Fragile" on delicate gifts such as glass, china, electrical appliances, radios and musical instruments.

* * *

Do not enclose coins and hard objects of any kind in letters without marking the envelope for hand stamping. High speed canceling machines often jam and damage letters because they cannot process them.

* * *

Address mail fully and clearly. Write legibly or print plainly. Where applicable, use zone numbers on the address and return address. Avoid using abbreviations which might confuse mail handlers.

Be certain that a return address is printed on the upper left hand corner of both cards and parcels. This will prevent undelivered mail ending up in a "dead letter" office.

Idled Workers Filing Claims

No Payments Will Go to Approximately 3,000 Men on Strike

The Pontiac office of the Michigan Employment Security Office has been flooded with a rash of unemployment claims as the result of the Fisher Body strike which has idled 10,300 workers in the city.

Frederick A. Hanses, acting branch manager, emphasized that no payments could be made under Section 29 of the Michigan Employment Security Act. This act, Hanses said, stipulates that all claims will be held in abeyance pending settlement of the week long dispute.

Hanses said 1,011 claims had been filed. He expected the number to reach around 3,000 by the end of the week if the strike continues.

"Many of the workers feel that they are entitled to payments immediately," he said, "But I want to emphasize that we cannot make payments."

Hanses said that although both Fisher Body strikers and laid off Pontiac Motor Division workers are eligible to file claims, most have come from Pontiac employes.

The decision on whether claimants will receive payments will be made by the local office through the state office and its legal department after the strike's settlement.

Four extra workers were added to the local MESC staff as 600 claims were filed Monday.

ILA Head Asks End to Russian Boycott

NEW YORK (AP)—The independent International Longshoremen's Assn. has recommended an end to an informal waterfront boycott on handling Iron Curtain diplomatic cargo.

William V. Bradley, ILA president, voiced "grave concern" for diplomatic repercussions yesterday in urging longshoremen to end their boycott. Pier workers have refused to handle Russian-consigned cargoes mostly on the luxury liner piers along the Hudson River.

"We will leave it up to the men," said Bradley.

The ILA decision was taken at a meeting of the union's Atlantc Coast District Committee after receipt of a letter from Undersecretary of State Robert Murphy.

Murphy wrote that the boycott might cause "retaliatory action" by the Soviet Union and its satellites regarding shipments by the United States.

Conflict Over Izaak Walton

Not a 'Compleat Angler'

PRINCETON, N. J. (INS)—The scholars have been at work again and it now appears that Izaak again and it now appears that Izaak Walton was not the Compleat Angler he successfully represented himself to be for three centuries.

A totally unknown book, "The Arte of Angling," published in 1577 76 years ahead of Walton's treatise —came into the hands of a collector of angling literature by chance two years ago.

The fishing book expert found substantial passages from the world's most famous fishing tome repeated word for word in the earlier work, by an unknown author.

When the collector, Carl Otto V. Kienbusch, presented "The Arte of Angling" to Princeton University, it caused a sensation among those professors to whom Walton, writing in an age of plagiarism, had always seemed scrupulous in acknowledging prior sources.

Old Izaak never mentioned "the Arte."

But pro-Walton forces rallied, led by Kienbusch himself and Prof. Gerald E. Bentley who edited a new edition of the older work, published this week by the friends of the Princeton library.

Kienbusch, in his introduction to the new edition, said:

"Our unknown (author) is a lover of nature and, within reason, of his fellow man but cannot express himself with the easy flow of language and the beauty of ideas that adorn 'The Compleat Angler.'"

An Oak Park 13-year-old, Susan Sandler, is in New York today to appear on tonight's $64,000 Question TV program.

Susan, whose parents are the Nat H. Sandlers, 23601 Cloverlawn St., Oak Park, left by plane yesterday with her father to face questioning on horse racing, an interest begun when she was 10 and collected pictures of famous runners.

She reads a great deal about horses and collects sports page items, her mother says, but she has never seen a horse race.

Surprise Wife With Right Gift

If Hubby Reads Minds He Can Find Out What Little Lady Wants

As everyone knows, people like to be surprised on Christmas morning. A wife who wants a silver tea service won't come right out and say, "Dear, get me a silver tea service for Christmas." If she does, she probably really wants a silver tea service and a pink sports car.

Some husbands make it a habit when buying a wifely Christmas present to take her best girl friend along to help pick it out. This is bad for three reasons:

(a) She will select what she likes, not what your wife might;

(b) She'll be sure to tell the wife that her droll husband is trying to surprise her; and

(c) You may feel obligated to buy her something nice for her assistance.

There is always the possibility someone will see the two of you together, tell your wife, who might misunderstand—and you might get shot for Christmas.

After going to all the trouble of buying the gift wisely, the spouse should present it with a flair. If a wife rushes downstairs Christmas morning and finds just a naked mink stole lying under the tree she may think it is a rat and beat it to death.

The thrill is in opening the package while guessing what is inside. So disguise it. For example, this article suggests you might put the mink in a square box that contains a pressure cooker. Your wife may hate you momentarily, but she will love you enough to make up for that if she gets the box open before her safety valve pops.

'New Look' in Store for Bonn Soldiers

BONN, Germany (AP)—The new German army is restoring the jackboot and a uniform similar to that of the old wehrmacht, defense officials said.

The present army uniforms—double breasted with wide-cut lapels—were criticized as being "un-German," "Latin American" or "like hotel porters" when they were unveiled 18 months ago.

The army is now introducing a single-breasted jacket with four patch pockets for dress uniform and a single-breasted blouse with only two breast pockets for working parades. The slate gray color is unchanged.

The army's American - style boots, rather like those worn by parachute troopers, are to be replaced by black jackboots like those worn in Hitler's time.

CHRISTMAS COMES TO THE PEN, TOO — Obscuring the barred windows behind them, these Nativity scenes stand atop the Ohio State Penitentiary's administration building. They were recently completed by three inmates, who worked six weeks on the 40-foot display. It features life-sized figures and a lighted star on the prison wall in background. This is the first year the prison has had such yule decorations.

'Aphid' Students Can Eliminate Bugs From Education for Just a Few Cents

WASHINGTON (INS)—There's a liberal education waiting at the Agriculture Department for anyone with a few extra pennies to spend.

You can learn about all sorts of interesting things in little booklets written by Agriculture Department experts. Some cost 10 cents, some 15 cents and many are free for the asking. Of course, most of them have to do with plants, bugs, or animals, but not all by any means.

Housewives, for instance, might be interested in his one — "French-Frying Quality of Potatoes as Influenced by Cooking Methods, Storage Conditions and Specific Graviiy of Tubers."

There ought to be a subject for a theme for Junior's geography class in one called "The Citrus Industry of Surinam." Surinam is an island off the northeast coast of South America.

FOR BIOLOGISTS

Or if he's taking biology, he might be interested in this intriguing title—"The Biology and Ecology of the Red-Headed Pine Sawfly."

There should be some food for thought for the economist in a booklet called "The Competitive Position of the Yugoslav Dried Prune Industry."

If you're tired of orange oranges, lime limes and yellow lemons, you should read: "The Coloring or Degreening of Mature Citrus Fruits with Ethylene."

There's a 128-page treatise for grocers on how to ripen and pack bananas and a 62-page evaulation of frozen grapefruit sections as a new product.

The just plain curious should look over a 44-page document entitled "Homemakers Preferences for Selected Cuts of Lamb in Cleveland," or possibly the one about "Electricity on Farms in the Eastern Dairy Area of Wisconsin."

If you've already had your education and want an idea of how much your college teachers get—or got—, read "Faculty Salaries in Landgrant Colleges and State Universities, 1951-52."

* * *

Saratoga is a race track, spa and place to relax. Saratoga also is a spittlebug, and there's a book about it available too.

City sanitary engineers, at least, might be vaguely interested in one pamphlet put out by the agriculture department. It's called "Sewage Sludge for Soil Improvement."

You can learn how to raise guinea pigs, guinea fowls, mice, rats, chinchillas, rabbits, mink, hamsters, mules, squab, ducks, geese, turkeys, sheep, and cattle.

* * *

You also can learn how to kill fleas, flies, aphids, caterpillars, mites, periodical cicadas, fire ants (imported and domestic), beetles (Japanese, etc.), cankerworms, and hornworms.

Perhaps the most scintillating sounding pamphlet is entitled: "Components of Variance Method and Partitioning Method of Genetic Analysis Applied to Weight per Fruit of Tomato Hybrid and Parental Populations."

* * *

Running it a close second is "Inheritance of Stem Solidness and Spikelet Number in a Thatcher X Rescue Wheat Cross."

Berserk Father Injures Family

Beats Girl, 11, to Death, Fractures Wife's Skull, Bruises Four Children

CHICAGO (INS)—A father who went berserk, beat his 11-year-old daughter to death and injured five other members of his family in their apartment on Chicago's west side, is being held by police.

Officers said the father, Leandro Hector Suarez, a laborer employed by a kitchen appliance manufacturer, "is definitely mentally disturbed."

William Brown, building superintendent, found the dead girl, Irma, and the injured Sunday when he broke in after neighbors complained about the noise coming from the Suarez apartment.

Suarez was asleep in a chair with his bruised 10-month-old daughter in his arms.

Suarez' wife, Julia, 36, was discovered unconcious on the floor of a hallway near the living room.

She suffered a fractured skull and was reported in serious condition at Mount Sinai Hospital. Her son, Raymond, 5, was found on a couch, bleeding and in a state of shock.

Another son, Leonard, 8, was in a second bedroom and a stepdaughter, Donna Rajnola, 16, was wandering dazedly in a passageway outside.

The children were treated for body bruises and lacerations at the hospital and released.

Donna told police her parents had been quarreling Saturday night and all Sunday morning "over bills."

Tree Flourishes With 50 Lemons for Florist

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Unique among Michigan greenhouse operators is Marshall Towne of Wayland, who owns a fruit-bearing lemon tree.

A transplant from warmer climates, the tree recently produced more than 50 lemons. The fruit ranged up to three pounds each.

Towne, a florist, obtained the tree six years ago from Mrs. Leo Doxie, who said it outgrew the Doxie home where it had flourished more than 30 years.

The Wayland florist keeps trimming the tree and says this operation, plus heavy fertilization, probably accounts for the quantity and size of the fruit it bears. He adds that the tree will continue to bear fruit until March.

Blossoms take about a year to mature, Towne says.

His wife, who freezes the juice for later use, says one lemon from the tree contains enough material for a pie.

7-Foot Omelet Cooks on Jersey Turnpike

SOUTH BRUNSWICK, N. J. (AP)—A huge omelet was cooked on the New Jersey Turnpike yesterday A truck loaded with eggs overturned and caught fire near here.

Police said the omelet was so well done that a bulldozer had to be brought to scrape up a seven-foot high pile of it that blocked the highway for nearly an hour.

The accident occurred when the truck, on its way to New York, skidded and overturned. The ensuing fire fried the eggs.

The driver was not injured.

Water and Sewer Decisions Loom in 3 Townships

Apartment Planning Wins Sylvan Favor

WEST BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP—Plans for a row of 18-apartment multiple dwelling uints along Woodrow Wlson street in West Bloomfield Township has won the interest of neighboring Sylvan Manor subdivision homeowners but awaits a township board decision.

* * *

The strip, long a problem as to development because of its running parallel to the railroad, between the track and Woodrow Wilson, is to see 162 apartments, with each of nine units to cost an approximate $150,000. The total would be $1,350,000.

Permits have been asked of the township by Jack Raisin, of the Sylvan Manor Construction Co., but the plan did not come up at last week's township board meeting and another session is not due until January.

Information had not been received in the required letter form, a township official told the Press.

An aide in Raisin's office said the firm was awaiting the permit, believing all necessary papers had been turned in to the township.

Sylvan homeowners heard Raisin explain his plan at a recent Sylvan Manor Assn. meeting.

Worries that water to be provided for the 162 home-units would lower the water table and cause a shortage of water in wells in the entire subdvision were voiced.

Other than that and septic tank questions, residents looked approvingly at the plan.

It was far better, one resident said, than the earlier plan which the association had downed in court several years ago that called for small, inexpensive and shingle-covered houses. The residents want to keep the area restricted for brick homes.

* * *

It was better also than the light industry for which present zoning of the strip calls.

Raisin has indicated he would develop the first 1,000 feet of Woodrow Wilson from Orchard Lake road. Each 18-home unit would occupy about 300 feet of length, and be on two floors, he said.

Of Sylvan Shopping Center, where his Sylvan Realty which he built and where his Sylvan Realty office is, he advised the homeowners that he has dropped plans for adding six more stores.

A private paved street is planned in front of the structures, set back 25 feet from Woodrow Wilson to avoid having the residential traffic tangle with through traffic on Wilson.

* * *

One and two bedroom units are planned in the apartments, Raisin told the homeowners, so would mean few families with many children would be residing there. He refused to say what rental prices would be.

Unused Well Now in Service

Residents Have Fresh Water After Cleaning, Parts Installation

FARMINGTON TOWNSHIP — A new well was put into operation for a section of the township last week, at a cost of about $1,000 to the township, reports Supervisor Albert Gain.

Residents there were traveling to Northville for water to bring back containers of water to their no-running-water homes. The well, put in years ago by the subdivider for community use, had fallen into disuse and its pump was broken.

Cleaning, a new screen and pump and installation of a hydrant was taken care of by the township board.

Many other homes in the township's "dry area" have shallow wells. "I'm worried about them, with water coming from only ten or twelve feet down, and septic fields close by," says the supervisor.

Our new health officer will help, though, he adds.

Dr. Sylvan A. Broadman was named to the township health office last week by the board.

Gains Says Population Double Census

'We Need New Form of Government'

FARMINGTON TOWNSHIP — "We should have a different form of government," Township Supervisor Albert Gain said today as he talked of an organization meeting tonight of the township's new planning committee.

Up for nomination as the ninth board member at the meeting will be Harvey Freeman, who was dropped from membership in the township board's reorganization of the planning group last week.

Freeman, Percy Guardhouse, Joseph Measel and Thomas Cornell had formed the previous board. Cornell resigned when the reorganization took place. The other two were named to the new group, along with Charles Ghesquire, Howard Warner, Charles Hannan, Howard Wiest, and Ross Patterson.

"A City government would solve a lot of this bickering," Gains says, "there's only so much that a planning group in a township can do."

A lot of energy is misplaced," he said of the recent tempests in the township board and planning unit sessions over water and sewer problems. "We are working under the 1950 census, which says we have 10,000 people, and our population is actually double that figure."

"It makes a lot of difference in allocated money. Every day we have inquiries from people wanting to know when the township will install sewers and water here and there.

"With our funds, we just have to put those utilities where the centers of the population are. The other areas have to wait."

"City government might not be the answer, but some other form would help," he said, comparing the area to that of Livonia at the time of its incorporation.

"We don't have the industry of Livonia," he says. "They have about two-thirds of their revenue coming from industry, while we are practically all residential. But we do have some industry."

State Asking 52 Inch Pipe on Farmington Interceptor

FARMINGTON TOWNSHIP — Enlargement by ten inches of the proposed piping of the Farmington Interceptor sewer has been requested by the state, according to Max Sheldon, coordinator for the interceptor plans.

Cost of the proposed sewer, estimated at about $2,000,000, may rise if the request is complied with, officials say.

The drain, which will run from Keego Harbor through Orchard Lake, West Blomfield Township and Farmington Township, may be delayed by the requirement, Farmington Township supervisor Albert Gain said after receiving Sheldon's advice yesterday.

Presently planned for 42-inches, the pipeline size should be 52 inches, according to the state, Sheldon wrote Gain.

Cost may not be to much, since excavating will remain the same, Gain said. Sheldon had advanced no estimate of boosted cost.

"But," Gain adds, "Everytime you add $100,000 that's that much more we have to scrape up."

"If the state feels we should install pipe large enough for the 1980 population, they should help pay for it," he jested.

"We'll have to go back to the subdividers and builders, who have been very cooperative with cost plans to this point, and see if the extra money is available," he said.

Gain looks toward other delays on the interceptor, which the engineering firm a month ago said might see construction start next year.

Bonding difficulties might also set back the construction, he surmizes, pointing to recent bond advertising which has attracted no bids whatsoever.

Election Recount Tomorrow

Southfield to Check 38 Voting Machines of 12 Precincts

SOUTHFIELD — A recount of the Dec. 3 charter election will begin at 1 p.m. tomorrow, starting at the fire station at 13 Mile Road.

The recount, set up at a specially-called meeting of the charter group last night, had been asked by Ray Wood, Patrick Flannery and Vincent Soto.

The claim that absentee ballots were improperly counted and machine tabulations read incorrectly.

* * *

The city charter lost by 43 votes.

Walton added that he anticipates no mistakes being found in the election figures.

Expecting to attend the recount are seven of the commissioners, with Mrs. Elizabeth Molnar, other member, advising the group she would be unable to be present.

Incorporation Aired at Session

Waterford Township Committee Decides on Information Program

Twenty-five members of the Waterford Township Taxpayers Study Committee, Inc. met last night at the high school to discuss the possibilities of incorporation of the township.

The group decided to begin a campaign to inform the residents in the township about the advantages and disadvantages of incorporation proceedings by speaking at various clubs, and by distributing informatve literature.

The committee, headed by David Hertler, expressed three alternatives other than incorporation. They were: maintaining the status quo, becoming a chartered township, or annexing to the city of Pontiac.

Another meeting is scheduled for January at which time each member has been asked to present disadvantages of incorporation, so that residents may see both sides of the question.

Advantages of incorporation highlighted most of the discussion at last night's sesson.

Blaze Damages Jack Frost Home

ROMEO — Fire and smoke caused an undetermined amount of damage to the Jack A. Frost home, 61741 Campground Rd., Washington, early yesterday afternoon.

A tinker was cleaning brass paneling behind the stove in the kitchen and had removed a switch plate when a spark from steel wool set fire to the cleaning fluid and nearby woodwork.

Home fire extinguishers were used and the flames were brought under control before Romeo and Washington volunteer firemen arrived. Local Fire Chief Walter Werth said smoke filled the home and flames had scorched the kitchen.

Asks Examination on Check Charge

Joseph R. Freer, 25, formerly of 111 Lafayette St., demanded an examination yesterday at a Justice Court arraignment on an uttering and publishing charge before Pontiac Township Justice Robert W. Hodge.

He was remanded to the Oakland County Jail under $1,000 bond to await the exam which is scheduled for 10 a. m. Friday.

Freer allegedly cashed false checks valued at over $2,000 in a spending spree at Saginaw Street stores and banks last June after stealing the blank checks from an Auburn Heights construction firm.

He was recently returned from Minnesota to face the charge after being sought since his June disappearance.

Novi Completes Unity of Schools

County Combines Areas to Meet Requirement of Recent Law

Oakland County completed its incorporation of school districts yesterday when Novi Community School district elected a five-man school board to rule over the new unity of four school districts there.

Under the recent state legislation requiring that school districts that do not have schools join an area that does have a school, many districts in Oakland this year joined forces to meet the requirement.

Final one is the joining to the Novi No. 8 district, which operates Novi School, with the districts of East Novi, Durfee and Putnam. The latter three had operated without schools. The incorporation was voted Oct. 30.

School Superintendent Bill Medlyn, formerly of the Novi No. 8 district and now of the consolidated district, said the newly-elected board will meet in the near future, perhaps after Christmas, to handle problems in the fast-growing area.

Elected to the board by the 305 voters, which Medlyn estimated was a third of the registered voters, were:

For one year term, James D. Mitchell, two year term, Arthur J. Heslip, and Georgia H. Larson, and three year term, Kenneth Bernard, and Jack Crawford.

The board will receive $100 a year for each member, under a salary proposition voted on yesterday as well.

Seek New Charter in Southfield Twp.

Southfield Township Supervisor Eugene V. Swem said today that he will submit the petitions for a new charter commission to the county clerk sometime today.

He was served the petitions yesterday, as the third of the community's three "mayors de facto," following a week's efforts by Ted Shurtleff of the Westwood Village committee to reach him.

* * *

Swem said the petitions were in order. Other petitions last week were served on Township Trustee Donald Swanson and Thomas M. Costello, who ran against Swem for the mayor's post.

The petitions were designed to delay a third city charter vote beyond the June, 1957 deadline, Shurtleff has admitted.

Swem told Shurtleff that he was not available to him last week, since he spent some time in Evart and some in Lansing.

Late Police Chief's Wife Gives Birth to Son

Mrs. Calvin Baxter, of Keego Harbor whose husband Police Chief Calvin Baxter died after a bowling alley fire last October, gave birth to a baby boy last night in Pontiac General Hospital.

This is the second son for Mrs. Baxter. Calvin Jr. is nine years old.

A volunteer fireman, Baxter was burned while fighting a fire at the Spillwood Lanes in Keego Harbor Oct. 3.

Confess Hoax at Northville

62-Year-Old Woman Admits Huge Swindle, 'Ready for Jail'

A 62-year-old domestic worker accused of swindling $80,000 from Northville residents admitted the swindles last night, police say, on a plane returning her to Detroit for questioning.

* * *

Posing as a housekeeper in Parma Heights, Ohio, Mrs. Yvonne Chauvin, was linked to the Northville hoax when her employers noticed that she wiped her fingerprints from coffee cups. Police found that she had the keys to two safe deposit boxes in a Detroit bank.

Police say that she had set herself up in Northville as an elderly matron with a chauffeur and housekeeper. She spread the word that she was heir to $500,000, they said, and began borrowing money from a number of persons claiming her inheritance was tied up.

Mrs. Chauvin told Detective Jack Wooley of the Michigan State Police that she was fed up and would plead guilty. She also resigned herself, Wooley said, "to spend the rest of my days in jail."

* * *

Mrs. Chauvin quipped: "Those people took me for a wealthy widow and were just as greedy as I was. I was after their money and they were after mine. I want to get the trial over with and get to the Detroit House of Correction by Christmas so I can spend the holidays with old friends."

Police say Mrs. Chauvin has had 15 aliases and a police record dating to 1934 for larceny by trick, forgery, parole violation, as an habitual offender, and for engaging in a confidence game.

Royal Oaker Wins Rhodes Scholarship

ROYAL OAK—David W. Baad, a University of Michigan student from this city, is Michigan's only representative on a 32-person list of those winning Rhodes scholarships.

He will be eligible for at least two years' study at Oxford University in England. He is expected to enter next fall.

Baad, who will be 22 on Christmas Day, is assistant to the dean of men at U. of M., and is working on his master's degree in Far Eastern Studies. He lives at 2514 Galpin St.

Rhodes scholars are selected on the basis of academic achievement and leadership qualities under a plan begun in 1903 under the will of Cecil Rhodes, an Englishman who became a South African millionaire.

3-Community Water Plan to Be Clarified

A meeting of Southfield, Farmington Township and City of Farmington officials is being arranged, so that all understand and agree on details of the proposed water agreement with Detroit, says Farmington Township Supervisor Albert Gain.

With Detroit's approval of the tri-area use of water, heads of the three governmental units must agree on cost and prorating of that cost, Gain says.

Southfield Supervisor Eugene Swem is back, having been away all last week, Gain says, and the two will set up the meeting as soon as possible.

He said he had no idea how long it would take, through planning and bonding stages, before construction can get underway.

Seek Looter of Two Homes

Second Oak Park Man Finds House Ransacked by Daylight Thief

Oak Park police believe the burglar who looted items valued at $12,825 from a home here yesterday is the same one who made away with about $4,000 worth from a home a mile away last Monday.

Detectives today are investigating the breaking-into of the Joe Sandler home, 24311 Sussex, hoping to locate the daytime burglar.

Furs, clothing and jewelry were taken in both lootings.

Sandler listed as missing a silver blue mink cape worth $2,500, a ranch mink coat, $6,500, and a natural mink stole at $1,500, a 15-point ruby ring, $300, diamond cufflinks, $175, and two watches, $200.

Also gone was cash totaling $250 and a $100 camera, he said.

Sandler said he discovered the valuables gone and the house ransacked, with contents of many drawers strewn about the floor, at 8 p.m. yesterday. Police said the intruders gained entry by forcing a back door and slipping open an inside glass door.

The home looted a week ago was that of Arnold Lieberman, of 12750 Northfield Road. Leberman is owner of Hy's Juvenile Store in Oak Park and several other businesses.

Canadian Grain Has Good Year

Record Best Season Since 1945 as Last Ships Load Cargo

FORT WILLIAM, Ont. (AP) — Canadian grain shippers yesterday reported "a very good year" as elevators poured about 600,000 bushels of grain into the last three ships to head East, bringing the year's total to a healthy 365,000,000 bushels.

The total is well above the 1954 total of 292,000,000 bushels and the 266,000,000 bushels in 1955. More than 450,000,000 bushels were shipped in the record year of 1945.

Two ships, the Hagerty and Gleneagles, were expected to arrive here to load grain before going into winter berths. They will bring the year's arrivals to 1,305, compared with 999 in 1955.

Icebreakers have been busy keeping slips open for the boats braving late-sailing hazards.

Determining factor in shipping cut-offs in most years is the operation of the locks at Sault Ste. Marie. Although the locks usually close Dec. 15, locks on the American side will stay open until Jan. 1 this year to allow passage of ore shipments, slowed earlier in the year by a strike.

Insurance rates rise progressively as winter conditions worsen on the lakes.

Heavy shipments of grain mean more space in elevators for further shipments from country elevators on the prairies. Most elevators now are only half full and railways are bringing in grain at a normal rate.

Navigation to the lakehead opened this year April 5. The last move of the season, either today or Wednesday, will be the removal of lighthouse keepers from their posts after the last two ships are escorted to their winter berths.

Sad Korean Village to Receive Christmas Gift From U. S.

TADSONGDONG, Korea (INS)—The sad little village of Tadsongdong will get an unusual Christmas gift this year—some permanent buildings.

American soldiers manning the bitterly cold truce front will see to that.

The buildings will not be elaborate. And there will be only two of them, a schoolhouse and a central bathhouse.

But for Tadsongdong they will mean a stability unknown to the small group of villagers living on the brink of despair.

Tadsongdong is one of those tragedies of the Korean War which are still with us.

ONCE PROSPEROUS

It is a small farming village, fairly prosperous before 1950, but by chance, located inside the demilitarized zone between the two armies facing each other across the waist of Korea.

* * *

The 168 people in Tadsongdong cannot leave. It is against the Korean armistice rules for them to cross the demarcation lines north or south without specific permission.

Their only lifeline is a weekly mail and sick call visit provided by the U. S. Army.

The centuries-old farmhouses that once composed the village were wiped flat in the first onslaught of the Communists when they brutally attacked South Korea in June 1950.

Now all that stands are some shaky lean-to huts and thatched-roof mud shacks.

* * *

Building materials are generally unavailable to these poor farmers, and anyway, they say they have lived in fear of a renewal of fighting and therefore have not tried to build permanent buildings.

But now, thanks mainly to the efforts of Capt. Leonard J. Mills, of Augusta, Ga., head of the 24th Infantry Division's civil affairs section, there will be a fresh outlook on life—an outlook of permanency.

Captain Mills said construction materials have already been purchased and shipped to the area near Pnmunjom, the site of the drawn-out peace talks which finally arranged an uneasy truce.

* * *

It was the spirit of Christmas which moved the captain and the men in the 24th Division who provided funds for the building material, but for many it was even more.

"People are the same all over the world," Mills said, "although their cultures are different.

"If we hope to develop the friendship of other countries, we must recognize that they have ways of life which may not be the same as ours but which must be respected."

The one big day in Tadsongdong is Saturday, when the American army backs some trucks into the demilitarized zone to take some of the villagers and their farm produce to a nearby South Korean village market.

* * *

Otherwise, the only contact these villages have is infrequent mail and one small radio set which serves as a window on the outside world for the entire village.

Village Master Kim San Soo was thankful for the prospective Christmas gift to his village. But, for him and his people Christmas marks only a point in the passage of time.

* * *

"We till the land and that is hard work," he said. "But for the transportation given by the Americans for our weekly marketing, there wouldn't be anyone left by now."

CHRISTMAS ORNAMENTS — 2

The Littlest Angel

No Christmas tree would be complete without an angel poised somewhere near the top. Here is a little angel you can make. You can either use this picture directly, or you can make it into a pattern by which to cut out a silver angel from heavysilver foil.

If you use this picture direct, paste it on cardboard and color it with crayons. Color the back, too, with bright red, so that a color will show as the angel turns. Color the face, hands and feet pink and the hair a soft yellow. Make the robe red and leave the wings white. The star in the hands, the border and the stars in the robe all are yellow.

Spread the end feathers of the wings a little, curling them forward by scraping them against a knife edge.

Make a hole in the top of the wing and slip in a piece of red ribbon to hang it by. Then fasten the angel to the Christmas tree.

Asks for U.S. Action Same as Given Suez

NEW YORK (AP) — Anna Kethly, a member of the Hungarian government that was overthrown by Soviet force, wants the United Nations to take international police action in Hungary "as it did in Suez."

Miss Kethly told newsmen the U.N. should expel the present Hungarian delegation "since they so obviously represent no one but the Kremlin itself."

Miss Kethly, 67, was Minister of State in the short-lived revolutionary government of Imre Nagy. She came to the United States early in November.

See "TELEPHONE TIME," 6 P. M. Sundays on CBS-TV

From the Press Box

BY BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

Television viewers of Sunday's Lions-Bears fracas were hardly given even a partial view of what took place during three riotous occasions on the field.

After the game I asked one of the TV men if the camera picked up several glaring incidents which were really terrible to see on a football field, and he remarked, "no, I think it was best the viewers did not see some of the things because they were so bad."

Coming back from the airport, a gentleman was reading the writeup of the game and the free-for-all which took place and he commented to the fellow next to him, "Naturally this is prejudiced toward the Lions."

Believe me, the many stories and accounts which were written about the entire mess were not exaggerated.

★ ★ ★

One thing which was poor taste on the part of one newspaper was a sidelight story which said that coach Buddy Parker remarked, "Chicago's Dirty Football Beat Us."

In this respect I will stand behind Parker because he did not say that. The Lions' coach, in the locker room after the game, gave the Bears due credit for their victory. He praised Rick Casares, J. C. Caroline and the Chicago line.

He also mentioned that he thought that even with Layne the Bears would have been hard to beat.

★ ★ ★

Parker's anger was directed at two major things, the unruly crowd and Bobby Layne's injury. He was also furious about the vicious attack by George Blanda on Stan Campbell.

This was one of the most disgusting things I have ever seen. It was something all of the 50,000 people witnessed, and one of the times when the camera did not catch the incident.

Campbell went to the aid of Gene Cronin who was piled on by two Bears. As he was down on one knee trying to break up the scrap, Blanda came at him with cleats flying.

★ ★ ★

Just as Blanda would do if he was punting the ball, he put all his force behind a kick at Campbell's head. Fortunately, Campbell jumped away, or he may have suffered a crippling injury.

It was for this that Gil Mains went after Blanda and was kicked out of the game.

And official Ronnie Gibbs then had the gall to say afterward that it was just a rough game without deliberate intent. Almost 50,000 people saw this, it's too bad the 25 million TV viewers weren't witness to this. Their stomachs may have turned.

Charges, Denials Still Fly Over Layne Incident

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Lions want Ed Meadows of the Chicago Bears barred for life from professional football. Meadows says he's innocent. Commissioner Bert Bell of the National Football League says the player is being crucified.

The charges and denials stem from Sunday's NFL Western title game when the Bears whipped the Lions 38-21 in Chicago.

Quarterback Bobby Layne, key to the Lions' offense, was smeared and injured on a play in the 2nd quarter. He was out for the rest of the game. The Lions reported he suffered a brain concussion.

Edwin J. Anderson, president of the Lions, dispatched a three-page letter to Bell last night accusing Meadows, a defensive end, of deliberately slugging Layne. He asked Bell to Ban Meadows for life from the NFL and to fine the Bears and their coaches.

Anderson claimed the injury was a "premeditated assault."

The holiday rush may delay Bell's receipt of the letter, but the commissioner was quick with a verbal reply.

"The Lions ought to look at motion pictures of the game and get any other evidence they think they have, before accusing that boy of deliberately injuring another player," Bell declared.

"This is still America and a man still is innocent until he is proved guilty . . . the Lions have no right to crucify this kid, no right to talk of banning him from the game unless they have real proof that he was guilty of an illegal act," Bell said. "If the Lions have such proof, I'll be more than happy to look at it and consider it."

Anderson suggested Bell call for the motion pictures of the game. He said he didn't know whether the Lions' movies would show the incident "since we instruct our photographer to follow the ball and Layne already had gotten rid of it when he was attacked."

Anderson wrote that "Meadows has a bad history and if you (Bell) will check the records you will find that he deliberately slugged Layne when he (Meadows) was with Pittsburgh last year . . ."

Meadows, a 225 pounder who played his college ball at Duke, said in Chicago he might sue the Lions for defamation of character. He didn't know Layne had handed the ball away.

"He'll have to think of something better than that," Layne commented. "If he was fooled, he was the only one in the whole stadium that was."

Layne, who returned to Detroit with the team Sunday night, was pronounced in good shape by Detroit doctors.

He said he didn't know at the time who hit him.

"I'm not surprised to find out it was Meadows," Layne declared. "He's done it before."

Layne said he didn't expect any action by Bell.

"Meadows will be around next year," he said, "but the other players in the league will take care of him. They have a way of straightening guys like that out."

George Halas, owner of the Bears, said that as far as he could see it was a good tackle Meadows gave Layne.

And Bell said: "What do they want tacklers to do, just watch those quarterbacks? When an offensive man charges in, he hits 'em, naturally. Should he just look at the quarterback?"

Bell said he had talked to the game officials and that they reported having seen nothing illegal about the play. No penalty was called.

Anderson said the officials just missed the play entirely "because they were following the ball."

Meadows was banished from the game in the closing minutes for unsportsmanlike conduct involving Bill Bowman of the Lions.

Action, if any, by Bell probably would not be taken until the January meeting of the league.

Anderson said his complaint should not be viewed as "sour grapes," I think it is conceivable that with or without Layne, the Bears would have won."

Buddy Parker, head coach of the Lions, said he was getting sick and tired of what he saw as a trend to deliberate dirty play in pro football, sick enough to consider quitting.

But late yesterday he huddled with Anderson and one report said he agreed to a long term contract to be signed Thursday at a board of director's meeting.

Parker's talk of quitting prompted Halas to remark; "Buddy just seems to develop a retiring personality for a few days after losing a big game."

NOT RIOTOUS, JUST HAPPY — This was the scene in the locker room where the Chicago Bears whooped it up after whipping the Detroit Lions 38-21 for the Western Division title Sunday. They will now play the New York Giants in New York for the World's Championship, December 30th. Some of the players in the picture are Stan Jones (78) top left, Fred Williams (75) bottom left, McNeil Moore (29), Jim Dooley (43) right, Wayne Hansen (51) and J. C. Caroline (25) top right. Spartans Lose Overtime Tilt

MSU Cagers Blow Lead Bow to Butler in Extra Session, 83-79

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Michigan State couldn't check a surging Butler squad that scored 12 points in overtime last night to hand the Spartans an 83-79 non-conference basketball loss.

The Spartans had led the Bulldogs 71-69 with three seconds remaining in the standard contest when Ray Riley tied it up with a jump shot from the foul circle.

In the overtime, Butler struck for five quick points, before the Spartans were able to hit once.

Michigan State, paced by center Jack Quiggle's 22 points, raced into 12 point leads twice in the second half, only to lose them again to the dogged Bulldogs.

With six minutes remaining the Spartans led 63-54, but Butler put on the pressure, pulling within four points in one and a half minutes. Two free throws by Wally Cox Butler a 67-67 tie. The Spartans went into the lead briefly again, before Riley sent it into overtime.

Bobby Plump, Butler's spirited guard led the Bulldog attack with 29 points, his best performance of the season.

Butler earlier beat Wisconsin but lost to Michigan in previous Big Ten encounters.

Zulueta Stops Larry Boardman

Unranked Fighter Is Given Split Decision in Boston Battle

Unranked Zulueta, a Cuban fighting out of New York, boxed and dodged his way to a split 10-round decision over Boardman last night at the Boston Garden.

Boardman, a 12-5 choice entering the ring, kept missing throughout the fight in his efforts to put Zulueta away. Zulueta scored with jabs, hooks and his efforts to put Zulueta away. Zulueta scored with jabs, hooks and his defensve mobility.

Prep Cage Activity Limited

Birmingham's invasion of Southfield and the Oxford-Troy clash, along with a pair of Oakland B League games, receive top billing on tonight's limited high school basketball program in the Oakland County area.

The Maples move into the Southfield gymnasium to tackle a Jay quintet which has absorbed sound lacings at the hands of Ferndale, Redford Union and Walled Lake.

Birmingham, winner over Cranbrook and loser to Royal Oak in its previous two outings, will be favored to take the Jays into camp, despite their home court advantage.

Oxford finds itself in a positive underdog role for tonight's encounter with Troy in the Colt gym.

The Bulldogs opened their season last Friday at Millington and took a severe beating from the Cardinals in a South Central Conference meeting. The Colts have lost only to powerful East Detroit in three starts.

Lake Orion, victim of a mild upset by Madison last Friday for its 1st loss, visits Fitzgerald while Clawson and Roseville collide at Roseville in Oakland B loop scraps. Roseville is winless in two attempts.

Orchard Lake St. Mary, strong Suburban Catholic League team, guns for its 4th victory without defeat tonight against Oak Park on the Eaglet floor in a contest worth watching.

Another area game of better than average interest sends Holly to Grand Blanc. The Broncos, who have won two and lost two, will have their hands full with Grand Blanc, which is perennially troublesome for all opposition.

Almont, loser only to unbeaten Imlay City, goes to Memphis, Dryden invades Armada and Capac visits New Haven in Southern Thumb League engagements.

Other area games tonight are Brown City at North Branch, Frankenmuth at Millington, Van Dyke at Center Line, Grosse Pte. at Mt. Clemens and the Alumni at Hazel Park.

Beliveau Boosts Margin in NHL Scoring Battle

MONTREAL (AP) — Jean Beliveau of the Montreal Canadiens, padding his lead at a record-breaking rate, has moved out to an 11-point lead in the National Hockey League point scoring race.

★ ★ ★

The young center, upping his season total to 45 by collecting nine points in three games last week, has been averaging 1½ points a game — a player gets one point for a goal, and one for an assist.

★ ★ ★

At that pace he would better the present record of 95 for the season set by Detroit's Gordie Howe in 1952-53, and also top his own record of 88 by a center, set last season.

★ ★ ★

Beliveau's also in a position to top the assists record of 56 set by teammate Bert Olmstead last season. Beliveau has scored 16 goals and 29 assists in 30 games. His assists top the league.

★ ★ ★

Howe and Ted Linday, also of the Red Wings, are tied for second in point scoring, each with 34. Olmstead is fourth with 29 and Detroit's Norm Ullman fifth with 28 as the Canadiens and Red Wings continue to dominate the leading scorers' list — filling nine of the first 10 places.

★ ★ ★

Howe is the goal leader with 18, followed by Beliveau and Dickie Moore of Montreal, both with 16.

★ ★ ★

Boston's Terry Sawchuck, benched by illness, is the leading goaltender with a 2.27 goals-against average. Glenn Hall of Detroit is next at 2.33 with past leader Jacques Plante of Montreal third at 2.50.

Foreign Horses Invade U. S.

Record Purses the Lure

MIAMI, Fla. — More than five million dollars in purses has touched off a record invasion of foreign-breds to Florida tracks for the 1956-57 racing season.

The daily purse distribution of $42,800 for Miami's 126-day season has brought thoroughbreds from England, Ireland, France, Italy, Canada, Argentina, Chile, Venezuela, Puerto Rico, British West Indies, Cuba and Australia.

Half a dozen foreign-breds are campaigning at Tropical Park, which opened the season Nov. 28, and Hialeah has two dozen importations prepping for the big mid-season stakes races.

Gulfstream Park, which operates the final 43 days starting March 5, today reported a score of foreign-breds in its barns and more on the way.

These include The Box, 2-year-old bay gelding who won four stakes in six races in England and was third ranking juvenile over there; Damat, winner of five stakes in 10 starts as a 3-year-old in Rome and Milan; and three fillies from Italy — Damina, Misia and Filiole.

Master Boing, winner of the Washington International at Laurel, will come from his native France and is nominated for Hialeah's $100,000 Widener in February.

Pontiac High Mat Squad Faces State Title Team

Twice-beaten Pontiac Chief wrestlers will be definite underdogs for the third straight time Wednesday traveling to Ypsilanti to meet the defending state champions.

It will be the final pre-holiday outing for the Chiefs and Coach Bill Willson is hopeful for the team's best showing yet on the basis of opening setbacks to Bay City and Berkley.

Although admitting Ypsilanti would pose the toughest hurdle his charges have faced, Willson said "I am very pleased with the way the boys are coming along" prior to yesterday's practice.

★ ★ ★

He is holding trial matches with some of his newcomers getting into action with the possibility of improving the starting array, but expects very few changes.

★ ★ ★

Dave Payne, 120, Mel Nosenchuck, 133, Don Herron, 165 and heavyweight Willie Duncan have been the point-getters in two defeats. Other strong showings were turned in by 175-pounder Duke Reilyea and little Jack Keller, who tips the beam at 95.

Louie's, Poole Gain Decisions

Louie's Tavern nipped Davis Machinery in a 42-41 thriller and Poole Lumber coasted to a 51-44 victory over Boyle-Stone Front in Waterford Township Recreation League basketball games Monday night at Isaac Crary Junior High.

★ ★ ★

Olen Hunter's 25-foot field goal, his only bucket of the evening, with just one second left to play brought Louie's its squeaker over the Davis quintet. Don Scott's two foul shots in the last 21 seconds cut Davis' lead to 41-40. Davis led, 41-34, with two minutes to go.

John Collins with 11 points and Morlyn Kluesner with 10 topped Louie's scoring. Ken Harrison and Bob Mills were high for the losers with 13 and 10 points respectively.

★ ★ ★

Houston Shepherd dumped in 20 points to pace Poole Lumber's conquest of Stone Front. Tom Gould tallied 16 points for Stone Front. Poole led all the way.

Don's Loss 1st in 2 Years of Cage Action

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (AP)—San Francisco's all-time collegiate basketball winning streak came to an end at 60 games last night as Illinois defeated the Dons 62-33. It was their first defeat since Dec. 11, 1954, when UCLA won 47-40.

★ ★ ★

The Dons began their streak, which ran through two NCAA against Oregon State, Dec. 17, 1954, winning 60-34. The next night, they avenged the loss to UCLA, 56-44.

Americans Arrive in Australia

Hoad's Temper Boosts U.S. Cup Hopes

ADELAIDE, Australia (AP) — America's Davis Cup tennis forces flew into Adelaide early today comforted by the news that Australia's temperamental Lew Hoad is in one of his petulant moods.

★ ★ ★

The U.S. Cuppers realize their faint hopes of recapturing the trophy may be enhanced if the blond Sydney blockbuster undergoes a psychological break up such as the one that helped America in 1954.

★ ★ ★

At that time, Hoad, who is given to moodiness, became depressed shortly before the challenge round and issued his famous statement asking people to "get off my back." The U.S. went on to win the cup.

★ ★ ★

The Wimbledon champion showed similar signs of edginess yesterday in the final of the Victorian championships in which he lost his third straight decision to teammate Ken Rosewall 4-6, 4-6, 6-1, 6-4, 6-3.

★ ★ ★

He slammed a ball into the backstop. He upbraided a linesman and had him removed. After the match he strode angrily from the courts, not waiting for the official presentations.

The American and Australian teams, staying at the same hotel, chatted amiably in the lobby today and Hoad was kidded about his blowup.

"Pretty soon you're going to be in my class," said Vic Seixas who has lost to Rosewall repeatedly and who himself has had his runins with linesmen.

★ ★ ★

Hoad grinned broadly and said "yes, but I am not as old as you yet."

Entries Now Being Taken for 'Y' Gang Tournament

The annual Pontiac YMCA Gang Basketball Tournament will be held in the 'Y' gymnasium with the opening game scheduled Wednesday Dec. 26, at 9:30 a.m.

Competition is slated in two divisions—preps for 10, 11 and 12-year-olds and juniors for 13 and 14-year-old boys. All games will be played in the YMCA gym, 131 Mt. Clemens.

The tourney is open to any group of six or more boys and there is no entry fee. Games will be played under YMCA rules and the tournament will be conducted on a single elimination basis.

A trophy will be awarded to the winning team in each division and ribbons will go to all players on the winning and runnerup clubs.

All basketball players are warned by the 'Y' to abide by the rules of the MHSAA concerning eligibility. Any boy actively playing with a junior high school team who takes part in the "gang" tourney forfeits his eligibility at his respective school.

Entries are now being accepted for the Gang Tournament. All entries should be returned to the Pontiac YMCA, FEderal 5-6116. Entries close this Friday.

Sparrow Reports Perfect Weather, Good Shooting

The Arkansas duck hunting was good. That's Paul Sparrow's report after spending a week on a private preserve at the Marked Tree club, near Weiner, Ark. Sparrow, and Lakeville's Garnett West were guests of Marked Tree's mayor, Kohn Bray and former Pontiac man, Fred H. Stafford. It was Sparrow's 6th trip there, West's 2nd.

"This place had perfect conditions "Paul says. "On the Mississippi flyway, it also produced many of its own ducks, practically all of them mallards. We got our limits each day, along with some 'suzies'. Weather was cool, as a matter of fact we had to break ice on the edge of a pond one day.

"It was wonderful shooting."

Rally Is Too Late

PLYMOUTH, Wis. (AP)—Lakeland snuffed out a late rally by Northern Michigan and took a 70-68 nonconference basketball victory last night.

SMU Considers Doak as Coach

Former Lions Ace Is Reported Interested in Alma Mater Job

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Southern Methodist University is considering hiring Doak Walker, its former All-America back, as its next football coach, the Dallas Morning News reports.

Walker, a former star for the professional Detroit Lions, is understood by friends and prominent alumni to be interested in returning to his alma mater where he was three times an All-America.

The News said that Walker's name had come up at other times in connection with coaching jobs at MSU and he has helped instruct backfield candidates during out-of-season practice.

Woody Woodard resigned from the head football coaching job at SMU just before the end of the season.

Berkley Wrestlers Host Sexton Squad

Fresh from a convincing opening triumph over Pontiac, Berkley High wrestling forces swing back into action in their home gym playing host to Lansing Sexton in a 7:30 match tonight.

The Bears displayed a rugged, well balanced aggregation in whipping PHS 46-7 Friday and have their sights set on improving on last year's regional championship.

Sebo Gets Three-Year Contract

PHILADELPHIA — The Ivy League, through University of Pennsylvania President Dr. Gaylord Harnwell, has let it be known that a winning team will not be the principal criterion by which a football coach will be judged.

★ ★ ★

In announcing yesterday that Steve Sebo was being reappointed for another three-years, Dr. Harnwell said he was being guided not only by "competence had performance but also personal character with established policies designed to further the university's essential educational purposes."

Sebo, whose first three-year tenure ended Thanksgiving Day when Penn lost to traditional foe Cornell, 20-7, was coach through the darkest years in the Quakers' football history.

★ ★ ★

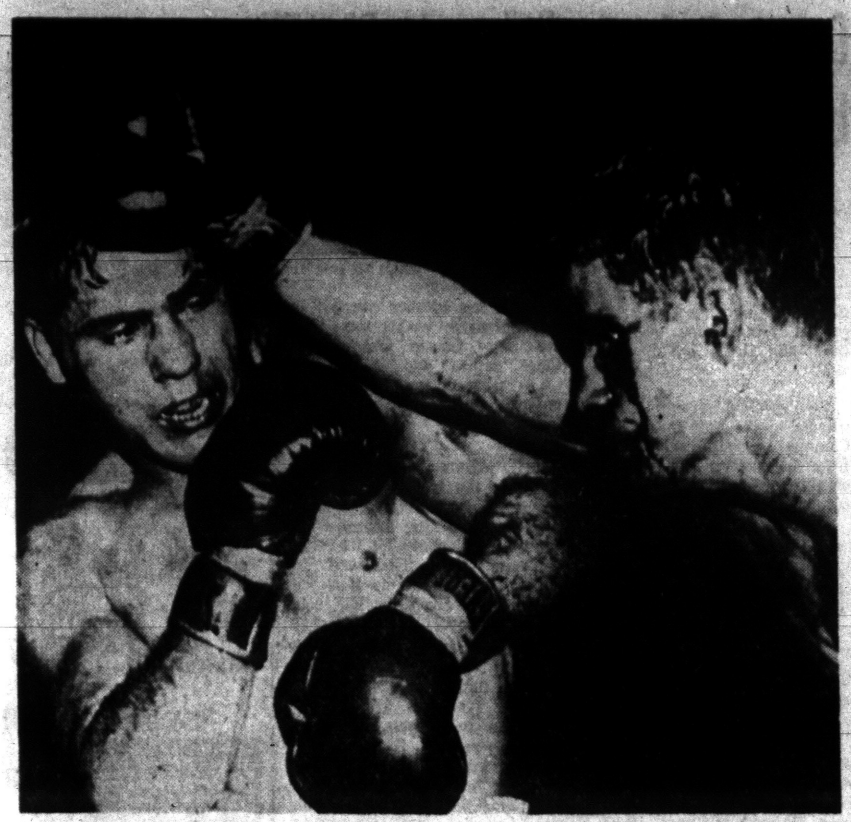
For two years, while Penn was slowly returning to its class after an ill-fated fling at big time football, Penn teams failed to win a game. After dropping the opener to Penn State this year, 34-0, the Red and Blue ended its 19-game losing streak with a 14-7 victory over Dartmouth. The squad, mostly sophomores and juniors, went on to a 4-5 season.

At the time Dr. Harnwell's statement was distributed to the press he was at a closed meeting with his football players, many of whom, according to polls published in the student newspaper, The Daily Pennsylvania, were aligned with their coach's opponents.

Dr. Harnwell presumably sought their cooperation in his decision.

Sebo issued this brief statement after the announcement by Harnwell:

"Naturally I am very pleased by the faith Dr. Harnwell has placed in me. I will give 100 per cent effort and loyalty to the university."



SCORTICHINI SCORCHED — Bleeding from the eye after a first round knockdown, Wilfie Graves of Edmonton, Alberta, connects with a right to the head of Italo Scortichini of Italy in final round of 10-round bout in St. Nicholas' Arena, New York, last night. Illini Spoil Don's Win Streak

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (AP) — College basketball's greatest winning streak has been broken and the San Francisco Dons are glad the finish came at the hands of a "good team."

* * *

Illinois last night defeated the Dons, 62-33, snapping a 60-game string. The Illini pulled off the triumph with a tight defense, one of San Francisco Coach Phil Woolpert's pet weapons.

* * *

The defense-minded Dons had not been beaten since the third game of the 1954-55 season when UCLA whipped them 47-40.

"The end was bound to come," said Woolpert after the game, "and I'm glad it was against a good team like Illinois."

There wasn't much doubt about the Illini's victory. Illinois moved to an 8-0 lead, boosted it to 31-15 at halftime and then refused to let up.

* * *

Center George Bon Salle led the attack with 19 points while his teammates bottled up the Dons. San Francisco was limited to 20 shots in the first half and 12 baskets in the entire game. Six of the 12 Dons were held scoreless.

The Dons had won five straight this season and their first victory set a record for consecutive games won. Their 56th triumph surpassed the all-time record of 55 by Peru, Neb. Teachers in the 1920s.

* * *

The Dons were beaten last Saturday by the U.S. Olympic team in a pre-holiday Chicago Stadium tournament, 83-52, but the loss didn't count since the game was considered an exhibition.

* * *

"I thought Illinois did a real good job," Woolpert said. "We have a better team than it looked — at least the way it played — tonight.

"I don't know if we could have beaten Illinois even if we had played our best because Illinois was really fired up tonight. I've never seen a team so fired up."

Woolpert said he thought Bon Salle was good but added San Francisco center Mike Farmer did an excellent job against Bon Salle.

* * *

Illinois Coach Harry Combes said he was "satisfied" with his team's showing and praised Farmer, who was San Francisco's outstanding performer with five baskets for 10 points. Al Dunbar scored 12 points, eight on free throws.

The victory was undefeated Illinois' fourth of the season.

Iowa Line Coach Lauds Hawkeyes

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — The University of Iowa's line coach, Bob Flora, said his piece about the Hawkeyes, who play Oregon State in the Rose Bowl New Year's Day, and he let it be known the team is tough.

* * *

Flora told the Football Writers Assn. yesterday while Coach Forest Evashevski was drilling the squad in East Los Angeles Junior College stadium:

"Our team improved from week to week. We have 11 solid players and great morale. This is probably the soundest defensive team we've had at Iowa. It isn't a flashy team but it is rugged and durable.

"We'll be at full strength for the game. I don't know what condition the boys are in, but I know we're going to have to work hard for a week because of the change in climate and because we were set back by snow and cold weather. We haven't been able to run outdoors in several weeks."

Asked to compare the Big Ten teams, Flora dodged. "It's too difficult," he said. "In the Big Ten you have to put forth your very best every week to win."

* * *

Has Iowa improved?

"Yes," Flora said, "primarily on techniques."

As to the type of offense, Flora called it "more of a grinding attack than a flashy, quick scoring one."

Coach Tommy Prothro of Oregon State wasn't here because the team hadn't arrived, but through John Eggers of OSC, who had talked long distance with him, he relayed this bit of information:

"I don't think we could beat Iowa even if we repeated the best game we played this season."

'D' Cagers Steal Show

The Wolverines, Boys Club and Peitz Market emerged victorious Monday night at the Lincoln Junior High gym as Class D teams swung into action in the City basketball League.

Meanwhile, CIO Local 594 nosed out Booth Homes and Griff's Grill bowed to the Pontiac Police in adult attractions at Pontiac High.

In Class D games, Rudy Quinke scored 12 points to spark the Wolverines to a 31-22 victory over State Spartans; Boys Club conquered Bussey's Whirlwinds, 49-45, and Pietz Market edged Booth Homes, 37-36.

Boys Club downed Bussey's team despite a 20-point scoring effort by Bussey's Perry Williams which was tops for the game. Gordy Clayton led the Boys Club with 19 points.

A 15 to 2 scoring edge for Pietz in the 3rd quarter eventually proved the difference in the Market squad's narrow win over Booth. Bud Hayward paced the winners with 18 points.

Mel Taylor's field goal in the last second of play broke a 70-70 deadlock and gave the CIO a 72-70 decision over Booth Homes. Taylor took scoring honors with 23 points. Jerry Long notched 15 points for the losers.

A total of 38 free throws were missed, 21 by the Police quintet, as Griff's took a 41-36 beating for its 1st loss in the adult opener at PHS. Bill Newman's 14 points topped the Policemen while Chuck Franklin made 13 for Griff's.

Sooners Also Students — 4 Named to 'Brain' Team

NEW YORK (INS) — When an encyclopedia goes about selecting an all-star collegiate football team, it's only natural that marks are considered — classroom marks, that is.

All-America Tommy McDonald, sensational Oklahoma halfback, was among the players named today by the American Peoples Encyclopedia for its 4th annual list of all-conference scholastic teams in seven major collegiate conferences.

* * *

Included in the selections are players who made "B" or better classroom average while starring on the football field.

* * *

The national champion Sooners placed four men on the Big Seven "brain" team. In addition to McDonald, ends Bob Timberlake and John Bell and quarterback Jay O'Neal were selected for scholastic prowness.

* * *

Some of the nation's outstanding players figured in this year's conference selections by the encyclopedia.

Among the B-or-better boys are halfback Jim Swink of TCU; Purdue quarterback Len Dawson; Indiana end Brad Bomba; Minnesota tackle Bob Hobert; Yale guard John Owseichik; Columbia quarterback Claude Benham; Texas A. & M. fullback Jack Pardee; Tennessee end Buddy Cruze and Georgia Tech guard Allen Ecker.

3-Way Battle Develops for NBS Scoring Lead

NEW YORK — The scoring race, with a third of the National Basketball Assn. season completed, has narrowed down to a three-way affair among Paul Arizin and Neil Johnston of the Philadelphia Warriors and St. Louis' Bob Pettit — each a former champion.

Weekly statistics released by the league today show Arizin in the lead by 10 points over Johnston with Pettit 23 behind. Arizin has 600 and Johnston 590 points, each in 24 games. Pettit has collected 577 in 23 starts.

By playing in one less game, Pettit has the top per game average — 25.1 to 25.0 for Arizin and 24.6 for Johnston.

Although the averages aren't especially high, scoring continues at a record pace in the pro games. Last week, the average per team in 13 games played was 104 points. Boston, New York, and Philadelphia all are averaging better than 100 a game for the season, led by Boston with 104.4.

Other individual leaders are Johnston in field goal percentage with .481, Bill Sharman of Boston in free throw percentage with .926, Maurice Stokes of Rochester in rebounds with 390, and Boston's Bob Cousy in assists with 175.

The scoring leaders:

Scorticini Wins Over Greaves

Italo in Line for a Bout With Giardello After Unanimous Victory

NEW YORK — Italo Scortichini heads towards a bout with Joey Giardello and Wilfie Greaves goes home to Edmonton, Alberta after last night's unanimous decision at St. Nicholas Arena.

* * *

The International Boxing Club may match Scortichini, 25, with Giardello on its TV schedule.

Jake Mintz, Greaves manager, who never is at a loss for words was yelling his loudest in the dressing room.

* * *

"They bumped heads," said Jake explaining both the first round knockdown and cut left eye suffered by his newest "diger".

"He didn't know where he was for four rounds," said Mintz. "You didn't see the real Greaves fight."

Scortichini had a different version of the knockdown.

"It was my right hand," he said holding the hand or high. "Next you know he'll be saying somebody else hit him."

* * *

It was Greaves' first knockdown in his brief 16-bout pro career since leaving the amateurs. It was also his first cut, according to Mintz, a gash that required eight stitches.

Falcons Win Third Straight 'Y' Tilt

The Falcons, YMCA and Baptist Seminary were easy winners in YMCA Intramural League basketball games last night at the 'Y' gym.

* * *

Gordon Montross whipped in 20 points to lead the Falcons to their 3rd win in a row, a lopsided 50-20 verdict over the Gators. Bob Pearl's 10 points paced the YMCA's 29-20 decision over GM Tech and Gerland Spangler tallied 16 points as the Seminary conquered Seaman's, 38-16.

The Intramural League will cease activity until after the holidays. The next scheduled action is Monday, Jan. 7.

Bob Boyd to Undergo 2nd Operation Today

BALTIMORE (AP) — A second operation was scheduled today for first baseman Bob Boyd of the Baltimore Orioles who broke his left elbow on a mighty throw from the outfield last spring.

X-rays taken yesterday indicated the original fracture apparently has healed but that a thin strand of wire inserted in the elbow last spring to speed the healing process had snapped.

West Virginia Five Manhandles Broncs

HUNTINGTON, W.Va. (AP) — Western Michigan was hardly in the game after the three-minute mark last night as the Broncos bowed, 103-75, to Marshall which opened defense of its Mid-America Conference basketball crown.

Marshall, now 3-1 overall this season, went ahead 8-4, then doubled the score twice more to a 42-21 halftime bulge.

Jayhawks Retain Top Spot

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The touring Kansas Jayhawks with Will Chamberlain, the seven-foot sophomore showing the way, remain atop the basketball poll as the No. 1 college team in the nation.

The sports writers and sportscasters who take part in the weekly Associated Press balloting have Kansas an overwhelming margin with 68 first place votes among the 93 cast. Only games through Saturday, Dec. 15 were considered.

Kansas bowled over Washington twice over the weekend with Chamberlain scoring 30 points one night and 37 the next for a season total of 158 or 39½ per game in four winning starts. The travelers wind up their tour in California Tuesday night and then come home to play Wisconsin Saturday.

San Francisco, which saw its record 60 game winning streak snapped last night by Illinois, 62-33, clung to second place. The Dons' loss to the U. S. Olympic team 83-52 Saturday, was in a game rated as an exhibition and did not count in the season standings. The Illini were ranked fifth.

North Carolina picked up 12 firsts more than anybody except Kansas, to move into third place. Coach Frank McGuire's team will play at Madison Square Garden Thursday and at Boston over the weekend.

Southern Methodist edged up a step to fourth with two firsts, followed by Illinois, Louisville, Kentucky, West Virginia, St. Louis and Kansas State. Kentucky's defeat by St. Louis cost them a few points in the standings.

West Virginia gained stature by defeating Duke for the Birmingham Classic championship. Duke had knocked off previously unbeaten Alabama in the first round.

The newcomers to the top 20 are St. Louis, Duke, No. 13, and St. John's of Brooklyn — tied with Oklahoma City for No. 15. They replace Dayton, Niagara and Seattle.

The point totals, figured on the basis of 10 for first, nine for second, etc., give Kansas a bulging total of 864 to San Francisco's 582.

The top 10 teams, first place votes and won-lost records through Dec. 15 in parentheses, points on 10-9-8 etc. basis:

1. Kansas (68) (4-0)	864

County to Send Largest Group to GOP Meet

Oakland County again will have the largest delegation of any Congressional district in the state Republican convention in Detroit Feb. 9, county chairman Chad M. Ritchie said today.

Official computations based on the number of GOP votes cast for secretary of state Nov. 6 give the county a delegation of 141, 17 more than went to Grand Rapids for the nominating convention Sept. 1.

County precinct delegates will meet Jan. 30 in the County Office Building to select the 141 state delegates, Ritchie said. The county convention will begin at 8 p.m.

A total of 1,549 official delegates will meet in the Henry and Edsel Ford Auditorium in Detroit Feb. 9 to pick Republican candidates for State Highway Commissioner, Superintendent of Public Instruction, two members each for the State Board of Regents and State Board of Agriculture, one member of the State Board of Education and three Justices of the Supreme Court to run on the non-partisan ballot.

* * *

Delegate apportionment for each county was set at one for each 950 votes cast in the Nov. 6 election. Oakland County's GOP total for secretary of state was 134,172.

State Chairman John Feikens said the Executive Committee increased the ratio from one delegate for each 650 votes because of the heavy Republican turnout in the election.

Heaviest interest in the spring elections will be in the post of Highway Commissioner. Incumbent Charles M. Ziegler, who has been under heavy fire from Democrats and some Republicans, announced Friday he will not seek re-election.

His chief deputy, George M. Foster, has announced he will seek the job. Foster may face opposition from Grand Rapids Mayor Paul Goebel, a civil engineer and former University of Michigan All-American end.

Feikens himself, whose job is at stake in the convention, may be opposed by J. Addington Wagner, of Battle Creek, former Michigan commander of the American Legion.

Canal Could Be Cleared Quickly

But U.N. Has to Hurry in Order to Use Ships of British-French

LONDON (AP) — Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd stated yesterday British and French salvage ships and crews could clear the blocked Suez Canal in seven weeks if given the chance.

He told the House of Commons clearance of the canal would take at least double that time — and probably much longer — if the United Nations declines to use British-French resources.

His declaration followed a statement by an informed source in Paris that the United Nations had better hurry if it wants to use the British-French salvage fleet. He fixed a Wednesday deadline, indicating that was when French and British forces would be out of Port Said.

Unless the 15 ships and their crews are called upon before then, and assured of U. N. protection, this informant said, the salvage fleet will be withdrawn. He said the U. N. has been informed of the situation.

* * *

Lloyd also said Britain is prepared to allow its salvage ships, crews and equipment to be used under United Nations auspices in the clearing operatons provided effective protection is given to them by the U. N. policing force.

He explained the British government has agreed to release two German heavy lifting vessels and their tugs now on charter to the Admiralty — provided the owners and crews agreed to continue canal-clearing work. British salvage vessels have cleared two channels through the wreck-littered canal at Port Said, but most of the 103-mile waterway remains blocked by sunken ships and blown-up bridges.

Cold Trek to Washington

Alaska 'Solons' on Way

SEATTLE (AP)—A senator without a seat and a congressman with nothing but constituents arrived here last night from Alaska after the coldest trek prospective lawmakers ever made toward the national capital.

"Sen." William Egan and "Rep." Ralph Rivers and their wives reached here after a seven-day, 2,300-mile trip on which the lubricants in one of their cars froze when it stalled in 65-below-zero cold.

* * *

They hope their quest of statehood for the northern territory, bigger than Texas, will be warmer than their trip.

* * *

Egan and Rivers, with "Sen." Ernest Gruening, a former Alaska governor who was in the States ahead of them, were elected to Congress under the so-called Alaska-Tennessee plan." All are Democrats.

The plan got its name from the brash tactics used successfully by Tennessee in 1796 in its fight for statehood. Alaska, like Tennessee and five other states that followed elected its prospective members of Congress ahead of time. The theory was that they would be "official lobbyists" for statehood, then take their seats in Congress if and when statehood is granted.

* * *

The three Alaskans expressed optimism over the prospects of statehood.

* * *

"There was some feeling, even in Alaska, that there was a gamble in taking the seemingly brash step of naming our members of Congress when Congress had failed to grant us statehood." Egan commented. "But the reaction has been favorable. Newspapers throughout the nation have come to our support. It is encouraging."

America's Only Diamond Mine

Admission Price: $1.50 and You Get to Keep Any Gems You Find

NEW YORK, N.Y. — Its "finders-keepers" in America's only diamond mine, located in Arkansas. Here for the admission price of only $1.50, one can hunt for valuable gems—and keep them.

* * *

This "happy hunting" ground is part of a 72-acre diamond crater in the foothills of the Ouachita mountains near Murfreesboro and is comparable in size to the fabulous Premier mine in South Africa.

Fifty diamonds a month are carried away free by tourist-prospectors from Arkansas' "Crater of Diamonds." Last year's "finds" averaged more than a half-carat each, with top prize going to a Dallas housewife who turned over a piece of turf and stood looking down at a 15.36 carat gem, later valued at $15,000.

* * *

Since its discovery more than a half a century ago, the mine has yielded more than 150,000 registered diamonds—both industrial and ornamental. The largest stone found there was the "Uncle Sam," a pinkish-blue gem of 40.23 carats in the rough.

* * *

Except for three unsuccessful attempts at commercial exploitation, the crater has remained virtually untapped.

Fort Knox Gold Lost—Officer's Ring Missing

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—A squad of soldiers from Fort Knox has failed to come up with some lost gold.

It wasn't from the Army post's huge gold vault, however.

J. T. Maxwell lost a gold ring and an officer at Fort Knox thought it would be a goodwill gesture to provide a mine detector and crew.

They never found the ring, but did turn up such trivia as small stones, bits of metal and grassroot wads.

Groucho 'Depresleyed' After Some Wiggles

By EARL WILSON

MIAMI BEACH — Groucho Marx—in Bermuda shorts, straw hat, cigar and blazer-type sports shirt—looked almost as pretty as the hotels. He was doing an Elvis Presley belly-wiggle behind the scenes at NBC's 30th anniversary.

"Everybody can do an Elvis Presley but Elvis Presley," grimaced Groucho. Summoning Johnny Ray from a nearby cabana, he got him and Melinda Marx, 8, to do the Presley wiggle together.

"Now I've got to nap," groaned Groucho. "I feel very depresleyed."

DEBBIE REYNOLDS

Puffing a small pipe, Eddie Fisher hovered over Debbie beaming because he's closing a deal to be Coke's good-will ambassador three years at $100,000 a year.

"You're very skinny," I said. The B.W. spoke up: "Naturally, a father always loses a lot of weight after he's had a baby."

Leo Durocher was off in another cabana hollering like a stuck hog because Laraine Day clipped him at canasta.

"Throw the bum out of the park, Laraine," suggested a spectator, maybe Anne Jeffreys or Bob Sterling or Kitty Kallen or Johnnie Ray. Johnnie learned that "Walking in the Rain" — written by four convicts—just won him a gold record.

"It was high time," he said. "I was getting to be the youngest has-been in show business."

Police Embarrassed by Honest Prisoner

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — A highway patrolman, bringing in a prisoner for drunk driving, stopped at the desk to check his gun. It's a rule that officers can't take their pistols near the jail where prisoners might grab them.

As the patrolman slapped his pistol on the desk, the prisoner reached into his pocket and brought out his own gun.

"Here," he said, "you better take mine, too."

Police were so embarrassed they refused to give out the name of either the patrolman or his prisoner.

World Bank Income Up 4 Million in '55-56

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y.—The World Bank ended the 1955-56 fiscal year with its net income up to $29,000,000, a jump of $4,500,000 in a year.

During the year 26 new loans were made to 20 countries, and at the end of the year loans totaling $2,720,000,000 were outstanding.

Debate Refunds by Gas Firm

State Group Mediates Argument on Rebate by Consolidated

LANSING (AP) — When are some 360,000 Michigan gas users going to get refunds for overcharges they paid three and four years ago?

* * *

The question, eventually to be decided by the state Public Service Commission, still appeared far from an answer today after a wordy hearing Monday consuming several hours.

The principal combatants in the dispute are Michigan Consolidated Gas Co. and one of its bulk suppliers, Panhandle Eastern Pipe Line Co.

* * *

In separate cases, the two utilities are battling each other over gas marketing rights to industry.

* * *

The potential refund, totaling four million dollars more or less—depending on another dispute going on in Washington, stems from a rate increase put into effect by Panhandle in 1952.

Michigan Consolidated raised its rates accordingly, but later on Panhandle was obliged by federal authorities to rescind the rate increase and to rebate revenues derived from it. Earlier this year, Panhandle refunded to Michigan Consolidated.

* * *

Michigan Consolidated in September outlined a plan to the commission under which it says an average of $3.70 would go to ordinary household gas users, $10 to $16 to space-heating customers and a total of $713,000 to commercial and industrial users.

* * *

However, it says it wants to await the outcome of an argument before the Federal Power Commission in Washington over how much, if any, these amounts should be raised because of accumulated interest, so the refund can be completed in a single operation.

* * *

Yesterday, Panhandle objected to the Michigan Consolidated position, and urged the Public Service Commission to order immediate payment of money for refunds now on hand.

* * *

Spokesmen for the cities of Detroit and Mt. Pleasant appeared to argue that Michigan Consolidated should be required to pay a larger amount in refunds.

Commissioner James H. Lee introduced the question of how much of the administrative cost of actually paying the refunds should be borne by Michigan Consolidated.

* * *

As he rambled in making his point, expressions of impatience came from Chairman John H. McCarthy, and an angry exchange ensued.

* * *

Finally, the hearing broke up with nothing decided.

Hollywood to Rival TV

Moviegoers Get Scoop on Censorship Revision

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—What will the new revision in the film industry's censorship code mean to you, the moviegoer?

You'll see franker movies, but not necessarily sexier ones. You'll see more chaste kissing, hear more "damns" and "hells." You'll see treatments of previously banned moral and social problems.

* * *

Last week's announcement of the first big change in the film industry's self-censorship code in 26 years was long expected. Recently producers have been rankling under hard and fast rules. They wanted to deal with topics their rivals in TV could tackle frankly.

They felt they needed more freedom to lure the fickle public back to the theater.

* * *

But the code revisions brought not only freedom. Some rules became stricter. This was the result of other forces. Foreign censors have long complained that Hollywood movies are too brutal. Church groups, especially the Catholics, have criticized increasing sexiness of films.

* * *

So provisions concerning brutality and sex have been tightened.

Other elements in the code changes:

1. Miscegenation is no longer mentioned in the code. That gives the green light to the recently filmed "Island in the Sun."

2. Abortion, white slavery and dope addiction, completely banned until now, may be treated on the screen but with restrictions.

3. Open-mouthed kissing is banned.

* * *

4. The code now admits the use of "hell" and "damn" can be dramatically valid, but advises restraint.

5. More limitations are placed on seduction, rape and details of crime.

6. Nudity is still forbidden, but, oddly, infants' sex organs can now be shown.

7. Bans on sex perversion, veneral disease and sex hygiene still remain.

* * *

The results of the code revision will not be completely seen for a year, when today's scripts will hit the screen. Even then, the changeover will be gradual. Hollywood has learned not to make drastic changes in its moral positions, lest a multitude of censors sweep down on the industry.

Tomorrow: How and why the code originated. How it operates.

Discuss Limit of Bridge Speed

Officials Eye 45 M.P.H. as Possible Maximum for Straits Span

LANSING (AP) — Mackinac Bridge Authority members are talking about a 45 miles an hour maximum speed on the Straits bridge.

However, a decision will have to await the recommendation of traffic experts, says Prentiss M. Brown, authority chairman.

The authority has asked the highway traffic safety center at Michigan State University to study this and other questions about how to manage traffic on the bridge.

One of the problems under discussion is how to deal with automobile breakdowns on the 100 million dollar structure, due for completion next year.

Brown said the bridge probably will be patroled continuously, and disabled cars towed to one end or the other at the motorist's expense.

The chairman said that the toll charge will in all likelihood be fixed on a per car basis, rather than on the combination car-passenger formula used in the Straits ferry service.

The amount of the charge is expected to roughly equal the ferry toll—between $3 and $3.50 now on most trips.

Small Thief—Big Haul

DECATUR, Ill. (AP) — Circumstances show that the thief who burglarized the south Side tavern was small-sized. The entry was gained through a rear window which measured 12 by 15 inches. Owner Harry Schneider reported $200 was taken.

Pays Back Taxes to Clear Conscience

LANSING (AP)—The state got a $210 Christmas present today from a conscience-plagued man who paid up some back taxes on his motor boat.

* * *

Secretary of State James M. Hare said the morning mail brought the season's first "conscience money." The letter said:

* * *

"Dear Sir:

"Enclosed you will find $210. The money should go to the watercraft tax fund.

"For some years I have owned a pleasure craft and have failed to pay the tax.

"The Bible tells Christians to pay tribute to whom tribute is due and to this end is this money sent."

Rails Respond to ICC Ruling

NEW YORK (AP)—Heavily-traded rails charged ahead in early stock market trading today, giving the market a higher tone.

Other issues showed an irregular price pattern, fluctuating from fractions to around a point. The steels, however, were firm and showed some good gains.

Pivotal carriers moved upward in a body, their gains ranging from fractions to around a point. The group was responding to late yesterday's ICC authorization of freight rate boosts amounting to 7 per cent for eastern roads and 5 per cent for western lines.

New York Central and Baltimore & Ohio were up about a point apiece, Santa Fe, Pennsylvania, Southern Railway and Chesapeake & Ohio were up major fractions. Illinois Central rose a shade less.

Two Pontiac women received minor injuries yesterday when the car they were passengers in was struck from behind by another vehicle at Oakland Avenue near Deland Court.

Edith R. Barber, 16, and Evelyn R. Barber, 36, both of 61 E. Fairmount St., were released after treatment at Pontiac General Hospital.

They were riding in a car operated by Freeman R. Barber, 41, of the same address. The other driver was John L. Strong, 18, 3449 Pasadena Dr., Orion Township.

Strong told Pontiac police he skidded into the Barber car while trying to avoid oncoming and parked cars. Barber said he was stopping to avoid a car slowing down ahead of him when he was hit.

MAKING SNOW FOR SKI RUNS — Morton Graddis watches operation of snow manufacturing machine at his Mount Holly ski resort, beside the Dixie Highway, 20 miles northwest of Pontiac. Water driven at high pressure through the center nozzle is turned to spray and frozen into fog by the air driven through the other nozzles. This frozen fog then drifts away as snow. In this manner the ski runs are kept supplied with snow during freezing weather, regardless of the natural supply. Mount Holly nas a vertical drop of 175 feet, with ski runs up to 1,200 feet or more. It has electric tows and is illuminated at night.

Oats, Rye Resist Grain Setbacks

CHICAGO (AP) — A majority of grain futures continued to decline on the board of trade today, but here and there some resistance to the selling appeared.

Hedging pressure and liquidation, particularly the latter again took its toll in old crop wheat, corn and soybeans. But oats and rye held up fairly well, as did new crop wheat contracts. Dealings were active.

* * *

Wheat near the end of the first hour was ⅝ lower to ⅛ higher, December $2.37⅞, corn ⅝ to 1⅛ lower, December $1.31½, oats unchanged to ½ lower, December 75½, rye unchanged to ¼ lower, December $1.44, soybeans ½ to 1⅝ lower, January 2.46, and lard 5 to 8 cents a hundred pounds lower, January $13.92.

In old crop wheat liquidation again was based in part on belief funds for movement of grains abroad under Title I of Public Law 480 had been just about exhausted.

Nixon Leaving for Austria on Ike's Orders

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Nixon leaves for Vienna today to view on the spot the plight of Hungarian refugees fleeing from communism into Austria.

Accompanied by Deputy Atty. Gen. William Rogers and eight other government aides, Nixon arranged to leave by special air force plane this afternoon.

During his three-day stay, Nixon will talk with Austrian government officials who have appealed for more U.S. aid to handle the flood of more than 135,000 refugees who have crossed into Austria during the past month rather than stay in their Communist-controlled homeland.

Nixon, who undertook the trip on instructions from President Eisenhower, is scheduled to return Sunday.

You are not apt to note it in this distant age—So widespread are the myths and mystic cults:

In caves or groves, the members meet to ring bells, sing and stomp. They whip up whirling frenzies, slashing their own flesh and quaffing blood and writhing in the gore beneath the grated altar of a sacrificial bull—the "taurobolium."

* * *

You ask, "Did many do this sort of thing?" Oh yes, quite so.

It seems religious fevers race through the lands, bursting out in weird array, in rampant rites to ectoplasmic gods.

These gods are potent entities: The dagger-wielding sun god, Mithra; the queen of all fertility, Cybelle; the great Osiris, rebirth god, and mother-earth Demeter. Masses huddle in their shadow.

* * *

It is hard to recognize this world of 2,000 Decembers back — back when that tiny parapet arose against the heathen flood, back when that garden grew up in a jungle.

* * *

Come along the streets of any town, of Corinth, Alexandria, of Joppa, Tyre, or even Jerusalem. Listen to the prattling of magicians dream-interpreters and wonder-workers.

A TIME OF SOOTHSAYERS

"May thy planet favor thee today." This is the common greeting. Men's minds are bowed to soothsayers, astrologers, diviners of the future in the liver of a sheep.

* * *

The dazzling sights that catch the eye are the showy marble temples served by hundreds of attendants, by throngs of vestal virgins and corps of temple prostitutes.

* * *

The myths and superstitions of all time and place seem concentrated in this realm, some changed a little, some distorted and combined, borrowing this and dropping that, groping after truth.

From far and wide, the hosts of lords and demons come—war gods, gods of soil and wind and sea and reproduction — mingling ghostly chaos.

In this churning atmosphere, a little seed takes root in Galilee. How could it live? Why do we mark it now? That is the exclamation point of centuries.

The apparitions in Mediterranean skies surge into Judea, straining efforts of the House of Abraham to hold to its one universal God of mercy, justice and of law.

Among these few, the little door is opened to the vistas of tomorrows.

The jumbled spirit polyglot had come with Rome's imperial sweep, with other armies shuttling to-and-fro, with once-great Greece casting its spell everywhere.

* * *

The lusty pantheon of Greece found replicas in Rome's celestial family—the stormy Zeus, god of Grecian skies, resembles Rome's stern Jupiter, and all the others merge and move in close affinity.

The wildest rites are stirred by female deities—Cybell from Asia Minor, Rome's Diana, Assyria's Astarte, Greece's Demeter—and that rowdy god of wine, Dionysus, clad in fawn skins.

With beating cymbals, drums and flutes, the devotees rip animals apart, eat meat still raw, pet serpents, shriek and work themselves into a cataleptic trance and think they're entheoi—indwelt by god.

Less orgiastic are the many men devoted to stalwart Mithra, migrant god from Persia. There's also a popular fraternity of men, Even the Caesars are in the catalogue of gods.

The Emperor Augustus says he's proud of this "revival" of religion. Slave brigades are building bigger towers to the gods.

Yet all things find their time and place, and out of deepest paradox is sometimes born the clearest reason.

Look at the majestic Parthenon, erected for one of that flock of 20 romping deities spawned by Zeus and his wives and sisters up on Mount Olympus. Gaze upon the regal Pantheon of Rome, with walls as thick as forts.

Not long from now, they both are turned to churches, dedicated to that quiet message out of Bethlehem, that small stream swelled into a sea, as love emerges from fear.

2 Masked Robbers Hold Up Drug Store

Two youths wearing caps with visors and yellow rags over their faces held up a Pontiac drug store and made off with an undetermined amount of money shortly before midnight last night.

The robbery occurred at Riddick's Pharmacy at 373 Franklin Rd., where Flossie Jones was working alone.

The woman told Pontiac police she was held at gunpoint by the robbers who emptied the cash register. She said the holdup men appeared to be about 17 or 18 years old.

Railroads Win Freight Hike OK

U.S. Approves 7 Pct. Raise for Eastern Lines and 5 Pct. for Western WASHINGTON (AP) — Railroads serving much of the nation were authorized yesterday to raise their freight rates by an estimated $402,600,000 a year.

Upon five days' notice to the public, Eastern railroads may boost their freight rates by 7 per cent and Western lines by 5 per cent. A request by Southern lines for a 7 per cent increase is scheduled for a hearing Jan. 7.

* * *

The Interstate Commerce Commission, which approved the hikes, trimmed down the increase sought by the Western railroads, which had sought a 7 per cent boost.

The railroads sought increases to help meet the cost of higher wage rates which became effective Nov. 1.

* * *

The Eastern territory lies east of the Mississippi River and north of the Ohio and Potomac rivers. The 7 per cent increase granted in the East was applied also to West Virginia and much of Virginia. A 5 per cent boost was authorized on freight moving between Eastern, Western and Southern territories.

On a number of commodities, the ICC specified fixed permissible increases which amount to less than the 5 per cent boosts authorized generally.

TV Programing Appears Tired

Inventiveness Seems to Be Archaic Now as 1956 Ends

By CHARLES MERCER

The second of two articles.

NEW YORK (AP) — Television programing appears rather tired as the year end nears. It's curious, for the medium does not seem to have tried very hard in 1956 to be even moderately experimental.

The result has been an undistinguished programing year. The best things visible now on the home screen generally were being done a year ago.

* * *

Just as there are more quiz programs and "situation comedies" than ever, so there are more "variety" shows. There are more regular dramatic programs, each inconsistently successful in its omniverous search for new material.

* * *

The paler imitation programs of established successful and superior shows are singing the audience-rating blues however.

* * *

One program form which has grown in stature and popularity as well is the "adult Western."

On the other hand, children's programs aimed at a limited audience of youngsters are having acute sponsor problems and may eventually become extinct.

To a constant viewer the records of the three major television networks in 1956 shape up this way:

ABC, the smallest, has strived hard to grow and has met with noticeable success. There is marked improvement in many of its programs. It still depends chiefly on filmed shows, but is steadily increasing its live programs. "Omnibus, acquired from CBS, is its most distinguished single addition of the year.

* * *

CBS continues to hold the lead with "popular" programs, as rated by the audience pollsters. It has kept its eye on the cash register and generally stayed with tried formulas. Its most distinguished programing has been on Edward R. Murrow's See It Now and many of the special events of its news and public affairs department, which remains superior to those of the other networks. Playhouse 90, the weekly 90-minute drama program, is its most significant contribution on the frontiers of programing.

* * *

NBC remains behind CBS in the endless program popularity contest conducted by the audience-rating agencies at the behest of networks and sponsors. But it also remains ahead of the other two networks in stimulating, sensibly experimental programing which bears on the main currents of life and thought in the world. Some of the offerings of "Producers' Showcase, Hallmark Hall of Fame and Project 20 have been among the best things visible on the home screen this year.

* * *

All these are largely perpetuations of another trend.

The programs a critical viewer calls the best often are not commercially successful. Where between the horns of idealism and business pragmatism does the future of televisio nprograming lie?

'Bring Me Tanya for My Present' —Georgie's Glad

DETROIT (AP) — "We bring you presents," smiled Mrs. Elena Dieczok to her four-year-old son Georgie.

"You bring me Tanya," answered Georgie. "She is my president."

With that, two-year-old Tanya came home to Detroit, after a wild flight to England with her Iron Curtain bound father, and her subsequent rescue by British justice.

While Tanya fell asleep in the arms of her step-father, George Dieczok Sr., her mother Elena admitted, "We are tired."

Mrs. Dieczok and Tanya arrived by plane yesterday. British courts had taken Tanya from the hands of her father, Alexis Chwastov, and given her to the custody of her mother.

Chwastov, who had sought to take his daughter behind the Iron Curtain, continued on to southern Russia to visit his 91-year-old mother.

Chwastov had refused to give her up to Mrs. Dieczok last spring.

Obliging Postal Clerk Hunts Stampless Cards

EASTON, Pa. (AP) — Mrs. Roy Henry dropped the last of her 50 Christmas cards into the mailbox —and then remembered she had forgotten to put stamps on them.

She hurriedly called the post office. An employe suggested she bring in a complete list of names and addresses and the stamps to go with the cards already mailed. She did.

In the midst of the Christmas rush a postal employe took time to sort out the cards, find Mrs. Henry's and stamp them.

Pass Counterfeit Coins

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—Counterfeit coin passers last weekend dumped hundreds of quarters and half dolars made of silver-coated lead in this gambling center. Police are still rounding up the coins, which they say are the most genuine-looking counterfeits they've ever seen.

Schools Set Dating Code

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Eight Catholic girls' schools have formed a code of conduct for the students and their dates at private parties. The ist bans party crashing, jitterbugging in formal clothes, strapless gowns, alcoholic beverages and rides to the seashore after dances.

McClellan Opposes British 'Cancellation'

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. McClellan (D-Ark) said today he will oppose a request for cancellation of an 82-million-dollar interest payment Britain owes the United States on Dec. 31.

* * *

The administration has disclosed it will ask Congress for "sympathetic" consideration of the recent British request. The money is due as interest on a 3¾-billion-dollar U.S. loan to Britain in 1945, and on lend-lease debts.

* * *

"I don't see any reason to forgive the interest," McClellan told a reporter. "They should be required to pay."

He said he would not oppose a postponement of the payment if the British can't put up the money when it falls due. Britain is in a financial squeeze as a result of the Suez Canal crisis.

* * *

McClellan said he regards Britain's invasion of Egypt without consulting the United States and other Western defense partners as weakening her position in asking for the cancellation.

Study Expanded Child Guidance Clinic

A steering committee composed of representatives from the local Child Guidance Clinic and interested south county residents is in the throes of attempting to set up an additional Guild Guidance Center for Southern Oakland County.

Need for the additional clinic arose when metropolitan Detroit discontinued Child Guidance aid to Oakland County residents.

As Madeline Half, director of the local clinic, says "The bulk of the population in Oakland County lives below 14 Mile road and naturally it follows that the bulk of children requiring our service lives below 14 Mile road. Previously we handled only North Oakland County so our load has doubled. The new branch is a necessity."

Interested parties in the southern part of the county gathered for an organizational meeting last June. From this meeting evolved a steering committee which is headed by Abraham Brickner of Oak Park.

EXPLORE FINANCING

Since the June meeting, the committee has explored financing, sought housing and approached school boards, municipalities and civic organizations for support.

Muncipalities and school boards are pondering their share in the project at the present time. The steering committee working with the board of directors of the Child Guidance clinic have proposed an appropriation from these governing units.

The units include Farmington, Southfield, Berkley, Clawson, Ferndale, Hazel Park, Huntington Woods, Madison Heights, Oak Park, Pleasant Ridge, Royal Oak and Troy. Township governments approached include Farmington, Southfield, Royal Oak and Troy.

* * *

The clinic steering committee has proposed that school boards of these areas pay 4 cents on every $1,000 of state equalized valuation for 1957 and 3 cents for the following year and that municipalities appropriate ½ cent on each $1,000 of state equalized valuation.

The committee has asked the governing units to reply to the proposed appropriation by Jan. 1.

Civic organizations which have shown interest in the project will be approached for a portion of the operating funds, Miss Half said.

* * *

Also approached will be agencies which already contributed to the support of the Oakland Child Guidance Clinic. This includes the County Board of Supervisors, Pontiac Area United Fund and Detroit's United Foundation.

The state provides a maximum of four full time employes and one part time employe for the local clinic. The board of directors has requested one more state position for July 1, 1957, Miss Half said.

"And looking further ahead to the time when the branch will be in full operating capacity, we will request a full-time staff for the Southern Oakland County office. Population demands it," Miss Half continued.

* * *

This would make two nearly separate agencies in the county. Both would have separate boards of directors. A joint committee for financing would be the only connection between the two.

Until that time the new offices will be operated as a branch of the main clinic at 133 Franklin Blvd. in Pontiac.

"Our main problem after raising funds to open such a branch will be to staff it," Miss Half reports. "The requirements are so high."

Besides Miss Half and Brickner, the major planners of the project include chairman of the board Robert J. Mason of Birmingham; Benjamin Frank of Huntington Woods, cochairman of the committee; and Mrs. Clarice Tabbert of Madison Heights, secretary of the committee.

Irish Extremists in New Attacks

News of Raid Points Up TV Talk Against IRA by Lord Brokeborough

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (AP) —Unscheduled drama was added last night to a television address Northern Ireland's Prime Minister made against attacks by the Irish Republican Army.

As the official, Lord Brokeborough, stepped before the cameras in London he was handed an urgent telegram. He read the message and then told his TV audience: "An attack on a patrol car is going on at the very moment I speak to you."

* * *

The engagement between police and Irish Republican extremists was fought near Lisnaskea, only a few miles from the Prime Minister's home. A short time later a bomb exploded beside a police station at Newtown Butler, also near the Brokeborough home. It caused little damage.

* * *

The attacks were the latest in a fresh series of raids blamed on the outlawed IRA. In the ambush on the patrol car, one policeman suffered two bullet wounds in the leg. Two of about a dozen face-blackened raiders were captured.

Authorities said the attackers came from the Irish Republic over a little used highway and waited in ditches beside a border road until the police car containing five officers came along.

The IRA seeks to make the six counties of Northern Ireland — now under British rule — part of the Irish Republic.

Town Supports Reopening Bank in New York

ELLENVILLE, N.Y. — The way appears clear for the scheduled opening of the new Ellenville National Bank at 9 a. m. Friday.

Villagers removed a major obstacle yesterday—24 hours ahead of the deadline—by oversubscribing the $1,050,00 needed to reopen the biggest bank in town.

* * *

The former institution, the Home National Bank, was closed by examiners Dec. 3 after a shortage of $1,300,000 was found in its accounts. The deposits of some 8,500 residents in this Catskill Mountain resort area were frozen.

William Rose, 51, head of the old bank, is held in $35,000 bail in connection with the shortage. He denies any personal gain, contending he was only trying to help local business.

Federal authorities last week gave an organizing committee permission to reopen the bank under a revised management — if they raised the necessary $1,050,000 by 5 p.m. today. That goal was oversubscribed by more than $40,000 by 5 p.m. yesterday.

High school students dipped into their savings to help push the subscription over the top. Other townspeople bought one or two shares as Christmas presents. One farmer from nearby Accord showed up with $25,000 in cash to invest in the new bank.

Blind Residents to Square Dance in Lions Series

Blind residents of the Pontiac area will fling out with the do-si-dos and allemand lefts at a Christmas square dance Wednesday evening at Longfellow School.

Sponsored by the Pontiac Lions Club, the dance is the second in a series of five held monthly during the winter.

Jim McClain will furnish the music for dancing, and participating square dance clubs in Pontiac will bring callers who will rotate with regular caller Warren Allen.

On the evening's program will be the St. George Greek Orthodox Church choir singing carols of Christmas. Guests will join in group singing.

Warner Wasmuth, Lions Club chairman of the affair, said all transportation is furnished for the guests and a large crowd is expected.

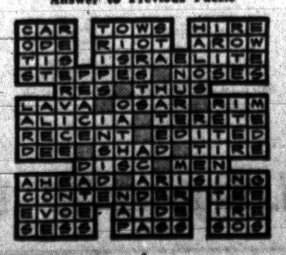
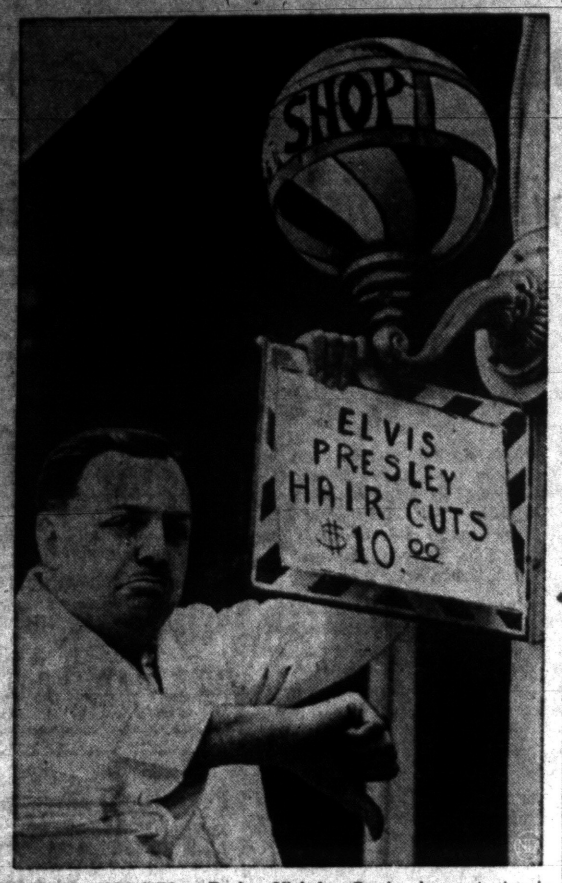
Answer to Previous Puzzle





HE'LL CLIP 'EM — Barber Nicholas Corsino hangs a sign in front of his Rockland, Mass., shop, announcing a 10-dollar price to anyone wanting an Elvis Presley-style haircut. Barbers' code says a customer must be given any sort of haircut he wants. So Corsino jacked up the price from the regular $1.50. So far he's had no takers. He thinks the Presley haircut is the craziest one yet.

Until 'Twas the Night Before Christmas

Each Had Own Version of Santa a Century Ago

A flowing white beard, twinkling eyes, cherry red nose and a round belly like a bowlful of jelly.

This right jolly old elf, of course, is our beloved Santa Claus. Almost any kid today could tell you that.

But, a little over a century ago, children went to bed on Christmas Eve without visions of sugar plums dancing in their heads or thoughts of eight tiny reindeer pulling a miniature sleigh full of toys.

* * *

The reason? Nobody could agree as to exactly what St. Nick looked like. That is, until Dr. Clement Clarke Moore, a professor at Columbia University in New York, wrote his now famous poem that starts: "'Twas the Night Before Christmas . . ."

Up to that time St. Nicholas was anything a parent might wish to impose on his child — a figure tall or short, fat or thin, happy or stern. But Dr. Moore changed all that with his portrait in words entitled "A Visit From Saint Nicholas."

He wrote it on Christmas Eve, 1822, for his own children. And it might have sunk into obscurity had not Harriet Butler heard it read at the Moore home. She was the daughter of the rector of St. Paul's Church in Troy, N. Y.

PUBLISHED

She asked permission to read it to the children of her father's parish. She also sent the poem, minus the author's name, to the editor of the Troy, N. Y., Sentinel. It appeared there for the first time on Dec. 23, 1823.

* * *

The editor, Orville Holley, wrote: "We do not know to whom we are indebted for the following description of that unwearied patron of children, that homely but delightful personification of parental kindness — Santa Claus, his costume and his equipage, as he goes about visiting the firesides of his happy land, laden with Christmas bounties, but from whomsoever it may have come, we give thanks for it."

It didn't appear with the author's name attached until 1837 when it came out in a book entitled "The New York Book of Poetry."

In 1830 the Sentinel employed a wood engraver named Myron King to draw the first picture of Santa to go with their annual poem.

Cartoonist Thomas Nast's version of the red garbed, pipe smoking Santa first appeared in 1869.

From this beginning the Santa Claus we know today has spread all over the world. The poem has been translated into dozens of languages—creating everywhere the same picture of joy and generosity, the same feeling of unbounded goodfellowship represented in its final words: "Happy Christmas to all, and to all a good night."

Seals Selling Well, Says Group Official

Christmas seal contributions are coming in "smoothly and evenly," says A. R. Mussen, executive secretary of the Oakland County Tuberculosis Assn.

So far the seals sent to 90,000 county families have brought in contributions to the association totalling $42,390.75.

"We're a little ahead of last year's contributions at this same time," Mussen said, "but we do remind people who haven't sent in their contributions that funds are needed to carry on the extensive TB program we have in Oakland County."

Funds collected through the Christmas seal sale pay for such things as the local cost of the x-ray units which tour the county giving free x-rays, an extensive educational program for adults and school children, and educational materials.

Total contributions in last year's Christmas seal drive came to $61,862, Mussen added.
