Ike Visits Dulles, Who's Back in Hospital

Flier Glad to Forget Castro

AP Wirephoto

Flees Cuba Under Death Ban

Nye Reunited With Family

CHICAGO (AP)—Alan Robert Nye is back home with his family in nearby Whiting, Ind., and says he wants to forget quickly his imprisonment in Cuba and suspended death sentence for the alleged plot to kill Premier Fidel Castro.

The 31-year-old former U. S. Navy flier landed at Midway Airport Sunday night on a flight from Havana, less than 20 hours after a Cuban military tribunal pronounced a death sentence.

The tribunal suspended the sentence on condition Nye leave Cuba within 48 hours.

Nye, who steadfastly maintained his innocence during his 106 days in jail and at the trial, was greeted at the airport by his mother, Mrs. Joseph Lynch, 51.

★ ★ ★

"We're all right now mom, aren't we?" Nye asked, embracing his mother. "Don't cry. We're safe now."

★ ★ ★

Then the gangling Nye, appearing jubilant, turned and kissed his stepfather, Daniel Lynch, who had attended Nye's trial in Havana and flew back with him and his attorney Joseph P. Sullivan.

WON'T COMMENT

Both Nye and Sullivan declined to comment on Nye's conviction on charges of conspiring to kill Castro while Castro was fighting to overthrow the Cuban dictator Fulgencio Batista. Nye was arrested last December and had been a prisoner in grim La Cabana fortress overlooking Havana since January.

Dressed in khaki trousers, a tan cloth jacket, blue sports shirt and black combat boots, Nye told reporters: "I'm just glad to be home. I'm going to Whiting and get a good rest."

Asked about his imprisonment and trial, he said: "I can't discuss Cuban politics and I don't want to say anything about my trial."

"Cuban politics don't concern me anymore and never will again. I'll never go back there again." (The military tribunal said Nye will face a firing squad if he ever returns to Cuba).

★ ★ ★

At New Orleans earlier, Nye said he had about as much chance of getting a fair trial in Havana "as a snowball in that place made famous by Dante."

★ ★ ★

Nye, 32, was convicted early yesterday by a three-man Cuban tribunal which took only 10 minutes to reach a verdict after a five and one-half-hour nighttime trial in the Officer's Club of Cabana Fortress at Havana. The court said Nye was offered $100,000 to kill Castro.

Nye denied all the charges.

After his conviction, Nye was told he would be shot on sight if stayed in Cuba more than 48 hours.

"Where is the way out?" Nye asked.

Before midnight, he was in Chicago.

Mrs. Lynch said defense of Nye had cost her $10,000.

"But he's my son," she said.

Values Galore Await Dollar Day Shoppers

Outstanding values await downtown and area shoppers tonight and tomorrow during Dollar Days in Pontiac.

Stores throughout the city are offering countless bargains during the first large spring sale.

To help shoppers take advantage of the bargains, 42 merchants are offering to pay customers' parking costs if purchases total $2 or more.

Others will give patrons bus tokens with their purchases.

Participating in the sales will be department stores, hardware stores, men and women's apparel shops, bookstores, sporting goods businesses, lawn and garden suppliers, specialy shops, appliance stores, office suppliers and shoe shops.

★ ★ ★

Many of the stores have made special purchases in anticipation of the event, so that they could offer special bargains during the sales.

No Music Cut, Says President

Griffin, MacAfee Report Committee to Work on Band Time Issue

Board of Education President Glenn H. Griffin said today there is no intent on the part of the Board to de-emphasize the school system's instrumental music department curriculum.

"On the contrary," Griffin said, "an attempt is being made to strengthen and expand this part of our educational system, just as we are constantly examining and trying to strengthen many other fields of the system."

Griffin's comment came in the wake of last Thursday's Board meeting where 100 persons protested Board policy concerning the Pontiac Central High School Band.

The band's practice time has been cut from two to one school period and junior high instrumentalists are no longer allowed to practice with the group.

★ ★ ★

"We are most happy that the citizens' group, interested in this particular question, accepted our invitation to form a committee to work with the Administration in studying every phase of this particular area," Griffin said.

"This may take considerable time and we are hopeful that a mutual understanding and solution may come from this joint study group of administration and citizens."

Griffin's statement was welcomed by Roy MacAfee, chairman of the committee which will meet with school administrators.

"While we consider that the theories and actions of the adminis-

West Proposes Limited Ban on Atom Tests

But Russia Is Cool to Plan That Affects Only Surface Blasts

GENEVA (AP) — The United States and Britain asked the Soviet Union today to agree to a prompt controlled suspension of nuclear weapons tests on or near the surface of the earth — leaving the problem of other types of blasts for later negotiations.

Informants said the proposal provided for splitting up the test suspension problem.

It was advanced as the three-power talks resumed after an Easter recess.

First Soviet reaction was reported to be negative.

Under the new Western plan, agreement would be reached at once on banning surface and atomic nuclear tests — the ones which cause dangerous radio-active fallout.

★ ★ ★

Such an agreement would not cover very high altitude and underground atomic and hydrogen weapon blasts. Such explosions — difficult to police in any event — could be covered in some subsequent agreement reached after the first problem had been solved.

★ ★ ★

U.S. Ambassador James J. Wadsworth and British Minister of State David Ormsby-Gore proposed dividing the nuclear problem into two parts with the idea of getting quick agreement on the types of tests easiest to detect. The ending of such tests also would minimize health hazards to the world's population.

Earlier Story Page 14

The sources pointed out that the United States and Britain would prefer an agreement covering the entire range of tests. But the Western powers recognized that this conference, which began its deliberations on Oct. 31, now was bogged down on East-West differences about controls.

Presumably the limited agreement now suggested as a first step would require less elaborate policing arrangements than a total ban. The Western powers, however, want foolproof controls built into any type of agreement they sign.

AILING SECRETARY — Boarding the Presidential plane Columbine III, Secretary of State John Foster Dulles begins his flight back to further medical study in Walter Reed Hospital. He received cancer radium treatments before going to Hobe Sound, Fla., for a rest.

Secretary Slips in His Battle Against Cancer

Officials Expect He'll Resign Now Although President Hopeful

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower visited ailing secretary of State John Foster Dulless at Walter Reed Army Hospital today.

An early decision appeared probable on how long Dulles will remain in the Cabinet.

Eisenhower went directly to the hospital after arriving by plane from Augusta, Ga., where he has been on a golfing vacation.

Allen W. Dulles, head of the Central Intelligence Agency and brother of the secretary of state, arived at the hospital five minutes after Eisenhower.

Already with Dulles were his State Department aide, Joseph N. Greene; and his secretary, Phyllis Bernau. They had gone to the hospital earlier in the morning. Among other things, they brought with them an electric typewriter.

IKE GRINS

Eisenhower grinned at newsmen and photographers as he stepped out of his limousine at the end of the 30-minute drive from the airport to the hospital.

"How'd all these photographers get up here?" he asked. Then to Maj. Gen. Leonard Heaton, the hospital commandant, and waiting hospital aides, he added: "How did you get out here?'

Eisenhower was accompanied by his chief aide, Wilton B. Persons; press secretary James C. Hagerty; and Maj. Gen. Howard McC. Snyder, his personal physician.

Eisenhower had already arranged for a 24-hour return to Washington before Dulles flew back from Florida to re-enter the hospital.

LOOKS HAGGARD

The 71-year-old secretary, a world-renowned figure in diplomatic battles against the Soviet Union for six years, re-entered the hospital Sunday afternoon.

Looking haggard and considerably underweight, Dulles cut short his Florida rest stay to undergo a new head to toe check-up to determine what could be done to arrest the cancer.

Dulles returned to Washington only a few hours after the State Department said "it is now desirable he have a period of further observation."

Many of his worried aides glumly reported that barring a medical

County Tax Hike Looms Under Proposed Budget

A preliminary 1960 county operating budget of $13,906,584 — for which Oakland County taxpayers can expect a tax increase of 85 cents for each $1,000 of property valuation — will be presented to the Board of Supervisors tomorrow.

The budget, for the purpose of setting a 1960 county tax rate to meet next year's monetary needs, is $1,620,861 higher than the current 1959 budget of $12,285,723.

Robert Y. Moore, chairman of the Board of Auditors, said the 1960 budget would require a county tax rate of $6.47 — "the largest we've ever had."

This would be the rate needed, he said, to raise $11,705,584 in taxes under the proposed 1960 budget. The balance of $2,201,000 will come from anticipated receipts paid to the county, Moore said.

For the second straight year the county budget is swelled by the soaring cost of social welfare and hospitalization which it is being burdened with.

Welfare costs alone in the 1960 budget amount to $2,733,700, some $800,000 more than what was allocated in the current budget. Hospitalization is listed for $1,012,040, or some $300,000 more than set out this year.

County 1958 taxes, to raise funds to meet this year's operating budget, were levied on a rate of $5.62 for each $1,000 of state equalized valuation.

This rate, which was 13 cents less than what the county needed to meet its present budget, failed to bring in enough money to keep Oakland County from facing a deficit of $1,193,293 by the end of this year, Moore said.

COSTS TO SOAR

Welfare and hospitalization costs are the biggest contributing factors to the deficit, he said.

Because of these costs primarily, he added, the county can expect to spend $427,568 more this year than its estimated 1960 budget of $13,906,584.

Moore said no attempts could be made in the 1960 budget to start erasing the whopping "paper deficit" because the county has to wait until it knows the actual dollar and cents deficit the county is in the hole.

Supervisors tomorrow will only receive copies of the 1960 budget. It is preliminary so that the County Tax Board, when it starts its tax hearings next month, will know what the county's fiscal needs for next year will be.

With the county needing a record-high $6.47 tax rate, which would be levied, if approved, in December, it means also that this would leave but $8.53 to be split among the townships and schools, based on the 15-mill statutory taxing limitation.

JIMMIE GLEASON

Famous Actor of Character Parts Dies at 72

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Actor Jimmy Gleason—the dour, long-faced actor who played character roles in scores of Hollywood films—died late Sunday night.

Gleason, 72, had been in ill health for a year. Death came at the motion picture country house hospital in nearby Woodland Hills. His last part was a minor role in "The Last Hurrah."

He entered the hospital almost a year ago, suffering from chronic asthma.

Actor Pat O'Brien termed Gleason's death "'a great personal loss." Gleason was godfather to O'Brien's daughter, Mavourneed.

O'Brien said that Gleason's only son died during World War II and that his wife passed on shortly afterward. The only survivor is a grandson.

Gleason was nominated for an Oscar in 1942 for a role in "Here Comes Mr. Jordan." It was probably the high point of a career which took him through all theatrical mediums.

See Fair, Warmer Weather Tomorrow

A very welcome forecast of fair and warmer has been issued for Pontiac and vicinity tonight and tomorrow.

The mercury will drop to about 35 degrees tonight and will rise to a high of 60 Tuesday.

★ ★ ★

The U.S. Weather Bureau reports that temperatures will average about four degrees below the normal 56 high and normal 37 low for the next five days.

Temperatures will be somewhat cooler Thursday with a warming trend expected Saturday. Showers are likely Wednesday and Thursday.

★ ★ ★

In downtown Pontiac the lowest temperature recorded preceding 8 a.m. was 29. At 2 p.m. the thermometer reading was 51.

Hussein in Detroit Stresses Red Threat

DETROIT (AP) — Jordan's King Hussein followed a busy schedule of auto plant visits and receptions today as guest of the Motor City.

Stops at General Motors, Chrysler and Ford were on the program of a city tour to be capped by a civic dinner tonight at the Detroit Athletic Club.

The young monarch, 23, repeated a pledge to fight for Arab unity and against Communism in a talk last night at a reception held by Detroit's Arab Community.

"Communism and Arab nationalism can never be together," he said.

Upon his arrival from Chicago he was greeted by a few sign-carrying demonstrators at the Detroit Metropolitan Airport. The pickets were orderly. A few also appeared at the hotel where he spoke. They identified themselves as members of the Arab Student Assn.

Signs carried by the pickets said "We Want Arab Unity" and "release Arab Nationalists from Prison."

Michigan's lanky Gov. G. Mennen Williams, towering a full head over the King, was among Hussein's welcomers at the airport.

★ ★ ★

The mustachioed little king, well put out in a neat dark suit, emphasized his position against Communism in an airport interview.

"We are all on the side of freedom and we all recognize the threat of communism," he said.

Hussein is on a four-week tour of the United States. His next stop tomorrow will be West Point.

Susan Cabot Flying to Meet Jordan's King?

HOLLYWOOD, (AP) — Actress Susan Cabot flew to New York Sunday night, thereby encouraging rumors she is having a romance with Jordan's King Hussein.

Hussein, who met her while he was visiting in Southern California is now in Detroit. He is due to New York Tuesday.

The couple dated several times after meeting at a party. Susan, a petite divorcee of 31, termed Hussein "the most charming man I have ever met."

Accidents Claim 11 State Lives

Michigan Traffic Kills 10; Ohio Mishap Takes Ottawa Lake Woman

By The Associated Press

A rash of accidents claimed 10 lives on Michigan highways over the weekend.

In addition, a Michigan woman died in a traffic accident Sunday in Ohio.

The Associated Press fatality count started at 6 p.m. Friday and ended at midnight Sunday.

Killed in the out-of-state accident was Jean M. Van Dyke, 36, of Ottawa Lake. Her car ran off Ohio 333, near Sylvania, Ohio.

The Michigan toll:

Marshall Gordon, 25, of Flint, killed Sunday when his car overturned near Clare.

Donald M. Cunningham, 21, of Lansing, killed Saturday night when his car overturned between Eaton Rapids and Charlotte.

Everett L. Harvey, 46, of Spring Lake, killed Saturday in a car-train collision at a crossing in Lake County.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Edna Stoddard, 21, of Washington (Mich.), injured fatally Friday night when her car struck a tree six miles south of Romeo.

Gerald Andrews, 32, of Adrian, killed Saturday when his car went off a road near Adrian.

Thomas King, 11, of Port Huron, killed Friday night when his car was involved in a three-car collision near Port Huron.

Franklin Koehler, 44, of Escanaba, killed Saturday night when his car overturned on M35.

Alfred G. Bent, 41, of Grand Rapids, father of three children, killed Sunday in a two-car collision in Grand Rapids.

★ ★ ★

Raymond Roberts, 24, of Eaton Rapids, killed Sunday when he was thrown from a motorcycle upon which he was riding as a passenger.

Robert A. Graves, 57, of Ferndale, died Sunday of injuries he suffered Saturday night in a collision about 15 miles north of Lapeer.

SPRING, IT'S WONDERFUL! — Jumping for joy, singer Pat Boone clicks his heels together while getting some fresh air in Manhattan's Central Park. The park is across the street from the studio where Pat rehearses for his "Pat Boone Showroom" program.

So Who Wants to Be Cured?

Spring Fever --- It's Real

ANN ARBOR (UPI) — It can strike any day now, and we have no cure for it, said University of Michigan Professor E. Wendell Hewson.

"We learned a lot about it during the war years," he said. "But still it is a mystery to men of science. However, it is real and not psychological."

It strikes down the most ambitious of men, the professor said. It can hit you while you are looking at the calendar, reading about spring training or cleaning your fishing gear.

"Spring fever occurs when the body increases its amount of blood because of warmer outside air," Hewson said. "Spring fever is real although there may be a psychological reason involved. The power of suggestion may act upon people who don't have spring fever, but get it by reading about it."

★ ★ ★

He said that during World War II doctors learned that when troops were flown from high, cold latitudes to warm areas in the tropics, the men had a period of lassitude or inertia.

He explained that the volume of blood in the human body varies about 20 per cent. It increases from winter to summer and decreases from summer to winter.

Hewson pointed out that the body becomes accustomed to the change from cold to warm weather by expanding the fine blood vessels near the skin. These tiny vessels are constricted during the winter to provide a layer of insulation against the cold.

He said this also accounts for the large number of spring colds brought on when the body resistance to cold is lowered by the off-and-on warm spells of early spring.

Police Get New Name, Description on Suspect in Lassiter Murder

Armed with a revised description and a different name, police throughout the area continued their search for the killer of Parvin (Bill) Lassiter, Royal Oak used car dealer.

Lassiter's body, with a bullet wound in the head, was found in a ditch near Willow Run Wednesday. He had arrived at the nearby air terminal Monday.

★ ★ ★

State Police Det. Lt. Howard Whaley came up with the new look after further questioning of the TWA clerks who saw the man meet Lassiter at Willow Run Airport Monday and apparently was responsible for his death.

Whaley said the man has boil-like sores on his face and neck, instead of scars as originally believed.

His last name sounds like "Kolb" and his first name like "Hope" or "Pope."

He has blond, crew-cut hair, dusty as if covered with sand or cement. Whaley believes the man is a construction worker.

Whaley said all suspects questioned have been released. But police still are being flooded by tips.

Lassiter was buried yesterday in his hometown of Murray, Ky.

50,000 Attend Billy Graham's Sydney Opening

SYDNEY, Australia (UPI) — An estimated 50,000 persons attended the opening of Billy Graham's crusade Sunday.

Hundreds waited several hours for the gates to the city show ground to open. Thousands of automobiles and some 400 special buses created one of the largest traffic jams Sydney has experienced.

An official said 3,036 persons made "Decisions for Christ."

The North Carolina evangelist said the numbers are not so important "as the effect of it all five years from now."

The Rt. Rev. Ronald Kerle, coadjutor Anglican bishop of Sydney, said Australia's Christian churches never had such unity as under the crusade's banner.

It was mutually agreed by both men that during the negotiation period no useful purpose would be served by a public controversy such as might develop in the Pontiac Press "Voice of the People" column.

Eastern U.S. Gets Wet Snow as Surprise

By The Associated Press

A belt of moist air moving up from the Carolinas ran into a cold front coming down from the North Sunday, creating scattered April snowstorms over parts of the eastern United States.

The U.S. Weather Bureau in New York City reported today that the cold air was drifting out to sea around the middle Atlantic Coast.

The snow fell in scattered areas south of a line from Nantucket, Mass., down through the middle of Connecticut and southern New Jersey. Rain fell to the north of the line.

The snow was wet, and mixed with rain in many places. The highest accumulation reported was 6 inches at Oakland, Md. Parts of West Virginia reported 5 inches. There were 4 at Altoona, Pa.

New York City had a trace of snow—too little to measure. It fell for several hours and melted before changing to rain just before midnight.

Virginia reported a 3-inch snowfall in the Shenandoah region, threatening pear and plum crops.

Washington, D.C., had intermittent snow and rain, coming after a day of 90-degree temperature, the hottest for the date in 30 years.

West Virginia was almost entirely covered with about 1 to 3 inches. In the northern Panhandle up to 5 inches was reported.

Flurries quickly turned to rain in Baltimore, but west of Chesapeake Bay in Maryland from 2 to 6 inches was reported.

I Won't Take Fifth, Teamster Official Says

DETROIT (UPI) — Teamster Union official William Bufalino said today he would not take the Fifth Amendment if called to testify before the Senate Rackets Committee Tuesday.

Bufalino, president of Teamster Local 985, said he would not take the Fifth Amendment if the committee "hit me with a sledgehammer."

The Rackets Committee last week heard testimony of "sweat shop" conditions in some Detroit auto wash racks.

Bufalino's local covers jukeboxes, auto wash racks and other miscellaneous labor groups.

Probe Safecracking at Southfield Firm

State Police from the Redford Post and Southfield City Police are investigating a safe cracking at McDonald Mobile House, Inc., 23800 W. Eight Mile Rd., Southfield, this morning.

Southfield patrolmen discovered the safe blown open when returning to the office at 3:30 a.m. after having checked it earlier.

Detectives reported an undetermined amount of money had been stolen.

Trouble-Shooter Will Go Ahead

2nd 59ers' Group Cagy

DETROIT (AP) — Detroit's second Alaska 59ers group hopes to avoid the misfortunes of the first by sending a scout on ahead.

Frank Milazzo, a co-leader, is leaving this week to visit the Kenai Peninsula camp site of the group now in Alaska.

A spokesman for the second group, which plans to leave June 22, said Milazzo will try to learn the causes of all the first group's difficulties so they don't be repeated.

The second group, larger than the first, plans to go in a caravan of 75 cars and trucks.

On the way to Alaska and since their arrival, the original homesteaders encountered numerous troubles, including car and truck breakdowns on the 6,500-mile journey. Reports also have told of difficulties over the availability of good homesteading sites.

The Day in Birmingham

Commission to Consider Letter on Library Plans

BIRMINGHAM — The "lone voice in the wilderness" will be heard by city commissioners tonight as they consider the letter of Carleton C. Patterson Jr. of 783 Pilgrim Rd. concerning the proposed Baldwin Library addition.

A lifelong resident of Birmingham, Patterson said he has always been impressed with the dignity of the library.

"I remained silent when modern furnishings and lights were put in, but the idea of a modern wing on the old building is too much. I protest and do so violently," Patterson wrote.

He suggests that a branch library be built, possibly for the exclusive use of children and teenagers. He pointed out that a wing of modern design on the library "would be contrary to the overall picture of the so-called civic center which includes the Municipal Building and Shain Park."

"If enough townspeople feel as I, then I think the present plans should be stopped," Patterson concluded.

Tonight's meeting also will see three commissioners returned to office and sworn in by City Clerk Irene Hanley. They are Mayor Carl Ingraham and former Mayor Charles Renfrew, beginning three year terms, and William Burgum, re-elected for a one-year term.

Following this, commissioners will select two of their group to serve as mayor and mayor pro tem for the coming year.

Bloomfield Hills Police are charging an 18-year-old Royal Oak youth with burglary in the nighttime involving a theft of $1.20 from a Crippled Children's Fund canister at the Bloomfield Hills Bowling Alley.

Police Capt. Walter Sluiter said Robert H. Monro of 3536 Elmhurst St., Royal Oak gained entry by forcing his six-foot-four frame through the louvers of a ventilation fan last Tuesday night. Monro was arrested yesterday.

He was apprehended through the license number of his car and button torn from his shirt as he entered the building.

The youth has been released in the custody of his parents pending his appearance in Bloomfield Hills Municipal Court May 7.

Two home burglaries were reported to Birmingham Police over the weekend.

At the Jared W. Finney home, 1588 Stanley St., $55 was stolen while the family was away on a two-day trip. Police said the dwelling was completely ransacked.

Between 5:30 and 10 p.m. yesterday, the home of Dr. Kenneth W. Sproule, 1568 Yorkshire Rd. was broken into and $28 in cash and tools estimated to be worth $15 were taken.

Birmingham Chapter 220 OES will observe Friendship Night at 8 p.m. Wednesday at the Masonic Temple.

Officers from other south Oakland County chapters will exemplify the degrees of the order.

B. Frank Turcott

Service for B. Frank Turcott, 45 of 908 Pierce St. will be at 2 p.m tomorrow from the Manley Bailey Funeral Home. Burial will follow in Roseland Park Cemetery.

★ ★ ★

Mr. Turcott, a sand and gravel contractor, died yesterday in William Beaumont Hospital, Royal Oak, after a short illness.

He is survived by his wife, Elizabeth; two daughters, Mrs. Robert Scholtus of Battle Creek and Judith Ann at home; a son, Frank, at home; his mother, Mrs. Della Dingle of Detroit; three sisters and seven brothers.

Fitting a Washer 'Simple Job,' Says Harassed Wife

GUNARD Isle of Wight (UPI) —A wife, obviously harassed by a do-it-yourself husband, penned this letter to the Daily Mirror today.

"Had a dripping tap in the bathroom. My husband volunteered to fit a new washer and broke the tap. While removing the tap he broke the wash-basin.

"He bought a new tap and basin, but, alas, the new basin was wider than the old one so he had to widen the brackets on the wall.

"But that was not all. He then found the wash pipe was a size too small so the new fitting had to be adapted. After the wall has been redecorated we hope to be able to use the bathroom again.

"Simple job, fitting a washer!"

The writer thought it better not to disclose her name.

Waterford Board Acts Tonight on Road Work

The final hearing for the blacktopping of Lansdowne and Marion streets in Waterford Township are the only items on the agenda for tonight's Township Board meeting according to Clerk James E. Seeterlin.

Tentative bids for the work have been awarded and bonds will be sold to pay for the two streets plus Camley avenue.

Individual property owner assessments have been set up by Supervisor Elmer R. Johnson and these are expected to be presented at the hearing tonight.

Jet Sets Record

LOS ANGELES (UP)— A TWA Boeing 707 jet airliner arrived here last night from Chicago in record-breaking time of 3 hours and 20 minutes. Aboard were 114 passengers. The time eclipsed the commercial transport record set Jan. 9 when the inaugural flight of a TWA 707 made the trip in 3 hours 54 minutes.

Nye Leaves Cuba After Conviction

"Any mother would have done the same."

Nye contends he was ferrying a plane to South America from Florida and was forced down in Cuba. Castro's government charged he came to Cuba to assassinate the rebel chief.

Burning of three F51 fighter planes at Fort Launderdale, Fla., Oct. 9 could mean more trouble for Alan Robert Nye, soldier of fortune who left Cuba under a death sentence.

While imprisoned in Havana, Nye allegedly admitted setting fire to the three surplus fighter planes at Broward International Airport. The planes were awaiting delivery to Cuba.

Ben Grigsby, chief investigator for the Broward Sheriff's Department, said he would confer with county prosecutors to decide whether a warrant should be issued for Nye's arrest on arson charges.

Gas Board Electrified

LONDON (UPI)—The British government's gas board acknowledged today that its new special training school at Mere is completely outfitted with electrical appliances—and hasn't a gas outlet on the premises.

Dulles Has Relapse, Returns to Hospital

miracle Dulles probably would have to lay aside the foreign policy chores he loves so dearly.

IKE WAITS

Eisenhower was understood to be holding off any decision until Dulles' doctors complete a new series of tests.

The President was reported still hopeful that Dulles could serve as special adviser, at least, during the Big Four foreign ministers conference on Germany. This is to open in Geneva May 11.

"I feel pretty good," Dulles told newsmen at the airport as he walked slowly down the ramp from the President's plane.

He even managed to joke about the weather, a windy mixture of sleet and rain. In appearance, however, Dulles was a far cry from the rugged 185-pound New Yorker who broke all travel records during his six years as secretary of state.

His complexion was ashen. His gray topcoat hung loosely on his frame. Newsmen who have covered his activities for years estimated he had lost 15 to 20 pounds.

One of his top aides said Dulles has not yet submitted a resignation. But, this official thought, some sort of "clarifying announcement" might be issued within a few days.

Acting Secretary of State Christian Herter, who joined Vice President Richard M. Nixon in meeting Dulles at the airport, was reported to be Eisenhower's choice as Dulles' successor if Dulles quits.

Dulles' sudden return came three days after he visited the Palm Beach Air Force Hospital.

Nixon talked for 10 minutes with Dulles aboard the plane.

POWERFUL NEW PLUNGER CLEARS CLOGGED TOILETS In a jiffy!

NEVER AGAIN that sick feeling when your toilet overflows

'TOILAFLEX' Toilet ALL-ANGLE Plunger

Ordinary plungers just don't seat properly. They permit compressed air and water to splash back. Thus you not only have a mess, but you lose the very pressure you need to clear the obstruction!

With "Toilaflex", expressly designed for toilets, no air or water can escape. The full pressure plows through the clogging mass and swishes it down. Can't miss!

- Double-size cup, double-pressure
- Tapered lail gives air-tight fit
- Designed to flex at any angle
- Contors itself, can't skid around

For positive insurance against stuffed toilet, have a "Toilaflex" in your home.

Distraught Boy Takes Dead Dog and Runs Away

CLEVELAND (AP)—Max, a toy collie, followed his master, 11-year-old Donald L. Lutman Jr., to school in nearby Strongsville Friday as usual.

Then something happened. Max died. Apparently he had eaten some rat poison. Donald, grieving over the death of his dog, did not go home. He still had not returned home Sunday night.

A custodian found Donald sitting in the high school basement beside the dead dog Saturday morning.

"He asked me for a bag in which to put his dog," said the custodian, Malcolm J. Fish. "I gave him a canvas sack and a quarter."

The boy wandered off with the dead dog in his arms.

Fish did not know that Donald hadn't been home.

Police, firemen and volunteers formed a search party Sunday and combed a section of Cleveland's Metropolitan Park system without finding any trace of the boy.

Authorities learned Donald spent several hours at a service station Saturday and took a road map with him when he left the station.

★ ★ ★

Strongsville Poice Chief Charles F. Sperber said violence is not being considered and that the boy has "run away from home before."

DO YOU HAVE ARTHRITIS?

Here is a message you will want to read.

Your doctor can tell you there is absolutely no known cure for arthritis. Medical research specialists are now engaged in several projects which, it is felt, will ultimately help in finding a cure, but as yet none has been found. Naturally, we all live in hope they will be successful, but until that time we must be content to get the best relief possible.

Right now there is a fast, safe and effective relieving agent available called Pruvo. Pruvo's ingredients have been used in hospitals and clinics, prescribed by doctors, and have helped scores of men and women to lead happy and full lives. You can be sure nothing is faster, safer or has been proven more effective than Pruvo for temporary easing of a minor arthritic condition or its related diseases . . . rheumatism, neuritis, sciatica, lumbago and bursitis. And it's wonderful for backache and every-day muscular aches and pains too. Try Pruvo today. You must be satisfied with the results or your purchase price will be refunded by the maker. There are larger, economy sizes also, for continued use. You can get PRUVO at SIMMS BROS., 98 N. Saginaw.

Icebreaker to Cut Channel Near Soo

SAULT STE. MARIE (UP) — The Coast Guard icebreaker Mackinaw was ready to start clearing a shipping channel near here today or tomorrow.

Cmdr. E. J. Bodenlos said the vessel would attempt to clear the lake channel near the entrance to Lake Huron. He said the Mackinaw would move into the heavy icefield in Lake Superior's Whitefish Bay at a later date.

The Great Lakes shipping season is scheduled to open Thursday.

Both the American and Canadian canals at the Soo have been opened and are ready for the first ships.

Liquor License No Bar, Claims Petoskey Mayor

PETOSKEY (UP) — Donald Stark says he intends to become Petoskey's mayor tonight despite legal problems arising from his interest in a grocery where beer and wine are sold.

The 31-year-old mayor-elect said he expects to work out the problems with the Michigan Liquor Control Commission.

The Comission has ruled that a mayor, who is a peace officer unless someone else is designated in the charter, cannot hold any type of liquor license while in office. The grocery in which Stark is a partner has a beer and wine takeout license.

Stark said he was working with an attorney to settle the problem.

He defeated incumbent Chester A. Crago in last Monday's election.

BENNY MARKS ANNIVERSARY — Bandleader Benny Goodman shares his "25th anniversary" cake with three girls who have spanned his long career as a top musician. Admiring the cake trimmed with clarinets are (l-r) Donna Musgrove, Goodman's new singing discovery from Iowa State Teachers College; Peggy Lee, a former Goodman vocalist who made stardom; and Helen Ward, Benny's first girl singer.

Government to Tell Court:

No Tainted Evidence Used in Goldfine Case

WASHINGTON (UP)—Attorneys resume this afternoon a court argument over whether House investigators had benefit of electronic eavesdropping and stolen records when they questioned Bernard Goldfine last July.

Asst. U.S. Attorney William Hitz said he would offer evidence before Federal District Judge James W. Morris that the special subcommittee on legislative oversight used no tainted evidence.

The question was raised Friday when Goldfine's lawyer, Edward Bennett Williams, contended the questioning of the Boston industrialist was "born of a theft."

The subcommittee, headed by Rep. Oren Harris (D-Ark), was checking into Goldfine's relations with various federal agencies and with Sherman Adams, then top assistant to President Eisenhower.

Williams argued that the hotel room of Miss Mildred Paperman, Goldfine's secretary, was entered during her absence from Washington over the weekend of July 3-6, that Goldfine's personal papers were taken away and photographed, then returned.

He said a hotel cashier, William Walters, removed the documents and turned them over to Baron Shacklette, then the subcommittee's chief investigator. Walters was arrested, but a grand jury refused to indict him.

★ ★ ★

Hitz said he knew of no evidence used by the committee which was obtained either by eavesdropping or by theft. No such evidence was presented to the grand jury which indicted Goldfine on 18 charges of contempt of Congress for refusing to answer questions, Hitz said. He added that no such evidence will be used in the trial.

Can your child afford not to have a college education?

ADVANCED EDUCATION does not miraculously confer health, wealth and wisdom. But it helps—as millions have learned. Thus, every year, more and more high school graduates enroll in the particular college program best designed to develop their abilities.

U. S. Census statistics show that the cost of college is returned many times over in extra earnings in later years.

In an average lifetime, college graduates earn $100,000 more than those with a high school education only. And this takes no account of the extra satisfactions a college education can give.

One way to help make sure your children will have the education they need is through Metropolitan's Education-Estate Builder Plan.

This policy may be taken out shortly after a child's birth. Of course, the younger the child, the lower the premium. Then, on maturity of the policy, the amount is available for the child's education. For a slight additional cost, the policy can even provide for the waiver of future premiums to maturity date in the event of the father's death.

And still another advantage to this Metropolitan Education-Estate Builder Plan is the privilege of conversion:

When the policy matures, if the money is not then needed for education, each $1,000 of the plan can be converted into $5,000 of Limited Payment Life insurance. The premium remains unchanged and no medical examination is required.

Thus, this converted insurance becomes a ready-made insurance estate for your child's start in family life.

Planning for your children's education is not a thing that you should put off. It is never too soon to prepare for the costs of a college education.

That is why it is a good idea to talk to your Metropolitan Representative as soon as possible. He will be happy to explain how a Metropolitan Education-Estate Builder Plan can help you give your children the advanced education they will need.

Metropolitan service is . . .

CHEVY 6 WINS ITS CLASS IN MOBILGAS ECONOMY RUN!

Biscayne tops Class "B" award (low-priced 6) with 22.37-m.p.g. average in 1,898-mile test!

From Los Angeles to Kansas City—up, down and over every kind of terrain—a Chevrolet Six with Powerglide automatic drive took all comers to win in its class the world's most conclusive test of automobile economy. It's a matter of official record now—Chevy Biscayne 6 gets more out of a gallon than any other six in its class.

Conducted and sanctioned by the United States Automobile Club

Chevrolet's great standard engine, the Hi-Thrift 6, specializes in coaxing extra miles out of a tank of regular. It's engineered to go easy on gasoline with an economy-contoured camshaft, modified valve lifters and a recalibrated carburetor. Press Control Being Fought

Newsmen Are Reported Risking Their Lives in Totalitarian Nations

ZURICH, Switzerland, (AP)—A journalist may risk his life today by, reporting the news factually in a totalitarian nation.

A cartoonist may be jailed for his caricature of a government official.

★ ★ ★

These are some of the "facts of life" newspapermen face in dictatorial regimes, says a study on "The Press in Authoritarian Countries," issued today by the International Press Institute. This organization of editors representing 500 newspapers in 38 nations compiled the survey from reports of journalists who have lived or visited countries—Communist or non-Communist—where the press is subjected to government control.

★ ★ ★

The study reports a "spirit of revolt against the complete tutelage of the press by the state" is making itself felt in totaliarian are "prepared to run grave risks in defying government authority for the sake of their aspirations."

After the 1956 Hungarian revolution was suppressed by Soviet might, journalist Joszef Gali and a colleague, Gyula Obersovsky, continued to publish a clandestine newspaper.

According to charges subsequently filed, their paper contained "articles against the government and the U.S.S.R."

★ ★ ★

The men were sentenced to death, but this was later commuted to life imprisonment for Gali and 15 years for Obersovsky.

Attempts to defy Franco's censorship in Spain have become more frequent and increasingly bolder.

★ ★ ★

Last year, a cartoonist for the satirical publication "La Codorniz" was sentenced to two months' imprisonment and fined.

Other examples for 1956-1958 are reported from the Soviet Union, Poland, Communist China, Romania, Czechoslovakia, East Germany, Yugoslavia, Portugal, Latin America, Egypt and the Far East.

★ ★ ★

Most of the countries whose government are Marxist-inspired deny the existence of censorship, but their conception of the press and methods for controlling it are similar, the study reports.

The study concludes with the affirmation that only in countries where information is controlled and newspapers held in bondage is freedom of the press appreciated — by contrast — for its true value.

Businessmen Urged to Express Viewpoints

In a recent speech to the North Carolina Citizens Association at RALEIGH, CRAWFORD H. GREENEWALT, president of the Du Pont Co. stressed the need for a new attitude toward politics by businessmen.

Their indifference toward political issues has produced a social maladjustment, he declared, by upsetting the historic balances essential to democracy and bringing about distortions and inequities. Businessmen cannot expect support unless they let it be known what they stand for.

His remedy would be closer contact and understanding on both sides of the business-government relationship. Emphasizing the fact that all manner of viewpoints on public questions exist in business, he cautioned that politics is not an instrument of power but of persuasion and communication.

★ ★ ★

In a similar vein and criticizing the failure of business to generate broad participation of people in local politics, HENRY FORD II recently said and with a good deal of truth, that it has identified itself and its causes too exclusively with the extreme conservative political viewpoint; spends most of its time trying to convert the faithful; does not appeal to the large mass of independent voters and does not make its influence felt within the moderate elements in both political parties.

★ ★ ★

Both these public spirited men are leaders in their fields and express the conclusions of many thoughtful citizens. To strike a balance consistent with our economic and political freedoms, every element of our system has a duty to expound its viewpoint and a right to be heard.

'Foreign Aid' Programs Spell Mutual Security

Now that the Administration has requested a $3.9 billion fund for our Mutual Security Program, it is well to have a look at some of the protection this money buys.

Mutual Security is not "foreign" aid. Actually, about 75 per cent of all appropriations is spent in the U. S. and most of what is spent abroad goes for American exports, to the benefit of all American business. Mutual Security spending in this country accounts for over 500,000 full time jobs.

★ ★ ★

The program specifies that a certain amount of the fund ($2 billion to date) must be used to buy and export surplus agricultural products in exchange for foreign currencies. President EISENHOWER is asking for $1.6 billion for military assistance. While military equipment and supplies go to foreign forces, they really are part of our own defense program.

★ ★ ★

Most of the $825 million requested this year in defense support covers economic assistance to such countries as Turkey, Viet Nam, Korea and Formosa to help them maintain larger military forces in their own lands. The President wants $272 million for economic assistance to those countries which do not get aid under other categories and $200 million as an emergency fund to be used for relief in floods, earthquakes or other disasters.

★ ★ ★

The Development Loan Fund was established last year to make loans to underdeveloped countries. About $700 million is requested out of the 1960 Mutual Security funds. At the present time there are on hand approved requests for $3 billion with only $400 million available. Loans go for industrial, agricultural and power development, transportation and health programs. This will come back into the Treasury eventually.

★ ★ ★

Acting Secretary of State HERTER points out that during the 10 year life of the aid fund, the U.S. has advanced $22 billion in military assistance but the governments involved have spent $141 billion of their own money for defense.

The sharp rise in Communist aid to some 18 non-Communist underdeveloped countries — one billion last year—is a warning we can't ignore. Our own program must be flexible and not hampered by any short sighted policy.

Good sports to the number of 3,026 entered our baseball contest before the closing time Friday noon. The one who predicts what player will be leading the American League on the night of April 23, and comes the closest to predicting his batting average, wins the prize of $250 U.S. savings bonds.

This far exceeds the number of entries in any of our baseball contests since they were started 12 years ago, being 378 more than last year, which was the largest up to that time.

The entries cover a wide variance, including 126 players. Those who got ten or more votes were:

Kuenn, 311; Kaline, 177; Mantle, 154; Bridges, 118; Bolling, 101; Fox, 94; Doby, 73; Williams, 66; Runnels, 55; Jensen, 51; Calavito, 51; Cerv, 47; Skowron, 44.

Meeting at a Summit

David Lawrence Says:

Proposed Labor Laws Inadequate

WASHINGTON — The American people may not realize it yet, but the Congress isn't going to do anything at this session that really will put an end to the racketeering in labor unions. This is already conceded privately by the leaders on both sides.

LAWRENCE

Actually, none of the proposed measures, even if passed, would eliminate the corruption that has been exposed at the hearings conducted by Senator McClellan and his committee.

One of the most significant comments has just come from George Meany, president of the AFL-CIO. In an interview in the current issue of "Dun's Review and Modern Industry," Meany pointed out that the unions alone cannot stop the abuses. Here is an excerpt:

"Q. Do you believe that the labor legislation now pending in the Congress will provide adequate power to curb these abuses?

"A. Adequate power? Frankly, these abuses could not be stopped by the unions alone. The trade union movement is trying to do what it can in this field. We think we have some moral responsibility to do this.

"But the AFL-CIO has no legal responsibility to curb corruption in union locals. We aren't a law enforcement agency, and we don't have the power of subpoena. We couldn't possibly call a trade union official before our council and say, 'We are suspicious; we don't like the way things are going.'

"Certainly we would not hesitate to take action where we had proof of wrongdoing or corruption. But we must have the proof, and we haven't got the machinery to go out and make these investigations.

"It is quite obvious that the real answer to corruption, whether in unions or anywhere else, is better law enforcement. Nobody runs to the American Bankers Association every time a cashier defaults or somebody on the inside robs a bank—they expect the local district attorney to handle that.

"When companies engage in business frauds, nobody runs to the Chamber of Commerce or the National Association of Manufacturers and says, 'What are you going to do about law enforcement?' No, they expect the local district attorney to do it."

★ ★ ★

This correspondent read the foregoing quotation to Senator McClellan and asked him for his opinion on it. The Arkansas senator said:

"They say they do not have the power, and that is correct. They can't stop a Hoffa. That's why laws are needed. If they had the power, and would be diligent in exercising it, we probably wouldn't need additional laws, or so many laws.

"But they cannot deal with people like Hoffa, and it's imperative that we enact laws to at least curb —you never completely prevent crime of any kind.

"Q. I wonder why the local district attorneys haven't done more on this?

"A. I think the simple answer to that is, politics. They control —just like they control an industry or control an operation. They have the political power where they control often the people in public office.

"Q. You mean the unions do?

"A. Sure. Or the union racketeers—that element in them. There's no question about that."

All this points up to the fact that labor unions are not at all analogous to trade associations or groups of businesses. The labor unions have a monopoly power. They get it out of existing laws and also out of the refusal of Congress to include labor unions as within the jurisdiction of antimonopoly or antitrust laws.

Labor unions have not only a monopoly power in being able to fix wages in an entire industry, but they have a monopoly power with respect to memberships. In some lines, they can prevent an applicant from getting a job. They can force a member out of a union through various devices and deprive him of his means of livelihood.

This type of potential coercion makes it difficult for anyone who is aware of corruption to give testimony to the law enforcement authorities for fear of punishment by union officials. No such power over the individual is held by any other trade organization or private association of any kind.

THOUGHTS FOR TODAY

But they which shall be accounted worthy to obtain that world, and the resurrection from the dead, neither marry, nor are given in marriage.—Luke 20:35.

★ ★ ★

Happy are we if on the body of the resurrection we can bear the face with which victorious Christians leave the earth.—Samuel Duffield.

Dr. William Brady Says:

Colitis, Ulcer May Mask Hidden Vitamin Deficiency

Many medical textbooks are vague or silent about the nutritional deficiencies of diets followed by persons who have anemia, colitis or peptic ulcer.

Functional disorders due to insufficient daily intake of vitamin B or vitamin C, for example, are masked by the symptoms of the disease and so the patient gets less than the maximum benefit from treatment.

DR. BRADY

This is particularly applicable to the many thousands of wiseacres, ninnyhammers, persons with a little knowledge, misguided ones, credulous customers — choose your own category — who think they have "mucous colitis."

I maintain: (1) that excessive mucous is a consequence, not a cause, of the colon derangement which persons with a little knowledge call "mucous colitis"; (2) that flow of pus (suppuration) from the tooth sockets is a consequence, not a cause, of the jaw degeneration commonly known as "pyorrhea alveolaris"; and (3) that exposure to cold and damp has nothing whatever to do with chronic joint disability whether you call it "arthritis" or rheumatiz.

If you think you know more than I do about these conditions, pay me no heed.

As an intern I learned a lesson about diet. A patient in one of the wards suddenly collapsed and died of shock. At autopsy we found one of the ulcers in the ileum perforated by a long thin tough curd of milk. Liquid diet, chiefly milk, was used exclusively then.

A few years later, when I was attending physician on the staff of another hospital a patient with duodenal ulcer suddenly collapsed and died, and at autopsy we found the ulcer perforated by a milk curd that was as hard and tough as gristle.

These experiences taught me that neither liquid nor soft diet is better than solid food if the patient hungers for something to eat.

As for the management of peptic ulcer, physicians today generally agree that the patient should have anything within reason, provided (1) he wants or craves it and (2) has the equipment to masticate it.

Most persons with peptic (stomach or duodenum) ulcer get along better on four or five meals a day than on two or three — small meals rather than "square" meals. They may well have an extra snack at 8 or 9 p.m. and again at bedtime or in the night.

(Pieces to follow will deal with "Smoking and Ulcer" and "Anxiety and Ulcer".)

★ ★ ★

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Voice of the People

Mr. Schimmel Expresses Views on Schools Crisis

The present financial plight of Michigan's school districts is due to the failure of the State to meet its financial commitments to local districts, either on time or in amount.

★ ★ ★

The State has failed to face up to the truth that it can't spend more than it takes in without eventually having to make a choice between (1) providing new revenues, which means new taxes; (2) reducing expenditures, which means reducing services; or (3) going bankrupt and that will not happen because intelligent lay citizens will provide the necessary leadership to solve the important problem that now escapes the limited capacities of their elected political representatives.

★ ★ ★

But the time has come when those who have enjoyed the privilege of spending must face the responsibility of providing the funds to pay the bills. Is that bad or is it a blessing? Is it bad to ask those who clamor for more services to provide the taxes to finance the cost? Is it bad to force people to distinguish between things that are really needed and things that are nice to have because they are easy to get or appear to be "free"?

★ ★ ★

There have been financial emergencies before and when the problems became serious enough to concern those capable of solving them, good solutions have been found.

Director, Municipal Advisory Council of Michigan

'Why Not Support Lake Huron Water?'

Now that the City has again voted down improvement in sewage treatment facilities, our newspaper should meditate on what seems to be its basic policy—that is, do nothing but scream bloody murder about unions, taxes and business "climate."

★ ★ ★

Industry needs fresh, soft water in huge quantities as well as the need to dispose of waste. The labor is here, the land is here, our highways are good and and getting better, and despite your claims to the contrary, our taxes are in line with other sections.

★ ★ ★

If you want to improve business climate, support and advance plans for bringing in Lake Huron water and building a larger sewage system. By educating the public you can help improve the business climate.

'Here's Some More Soapy Opposition'

The wild man in Lansing now proposed five billion (yes, billion) dollars a year for "world aid" and he says the U. S. should contribute three billion of this in addition to the 3.3 billion we are already doling around. Someone ought to call the paddy wagon and have him put away. He may inflict physical injury on himself.

Taxed to Death

Williams wants U. S. to contribute three more billion to the 3.3 billion we are already pouring around the world. Why doesn't he come home from making speeches in Toronto and everywhere else and try to dig Michigan out of the mess he created right here.

'They Can Keep Such Statements'

I'm declaring war on all merchants that put staples through the middle of their monthly statements with the individual slips pinned in the center. Bookkeeping as sloppy as this should not be encouraged and I am now sending all such foolishness back to the store so they can do it over again and I hope everyone in Pontiac will join me in this battle against bad manners.

'Fireman's Job Is to Fight Fires'

I am absolutely opposed to firemen and policemen rescuing stray cats out of trees. They're paid to protect human lives and property and not an occasional alley puss that seems to be more stupid than the usual run of cats.

★ ★ ★

If a fire broke out while the Auburn Heights Fire Department was chasing around after a silly cat, I'd demand the dismissal of everyone concerned. Common sense must rule and not squawking cats in trees.

If they're dumb enough to climb up, let 'em climb down. Leave them alone until they get good and hungry and they'll come down without the fire department, the police department or the Humane Society.

Public servants must spend their time doing what they're paid to do.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

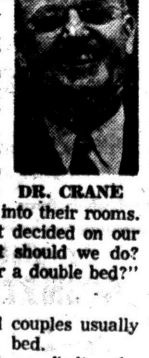
Crane Votes Against Twin Beds

Luella brings up a vital point which all newlyweds should keep in mind. For insomnia and nervous breakdowns are often due to erotic maladjustment. Twin beds may thus be a sympton of sexual ignorance, so study this case and then be sure to send for the medico-psychological booklet below. It will help banish insomnia and the need for sleeping pills.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE B - 407: Luella M., aged 23, is getting married in a few weeks.

"Dr. Crane," she began, "I read an article recently in which a scientist said it isn't as restful for a married couple to sleep together.



DR. CRANE

"He recommended twin beds. But a newspaper article I saw a year ago said that hotels are now finding that couples don't like the twin beds, so the hotels are putting more double beds into their rooms.

"We haven't yet decided on our furniture, so what should we do? Order twin beds or a double bed?"

TWIN BEDS?

Happily married couples usually prefer the double bed.

That's why hotels are finding the trend is back to the double bed and away from the twin bed idea.

★ ★ ★

The usual wife likes to snuggle her head against her husband's shoulder as a pre-sleep prelude. And she likes to reach out and touch him to be sure he is near her.

Sometimes, of course, she will place her cold feet against him to get them warm. In hot weather, however, people like to toss and roll from side to side, so the twin beds have an advantage in this respect.

For such a tossing sleeper would often disturb his mate if they shared a double bed.

Even so, the usual married couple will still vote for the double bed, depite hot weather.

And modern air conditioning is undermining even this major argument for the twin bed.

INSOMNIA & TWIN BEDS

"Yes, Dr. Crane, but what about insomnia?" Luella asked.

"If a person can't go to sleep and wishes to read a while, wouldn't a twin bed be less disturbing to her mate?"

Yes, that is often true, but if a wife sends for the booklet below and uses the ideas outlined therein, she is never likely to be bothered by insomnia!

Senual frustration is one of the common causes of insomnia.

On the other hand, a satisfied person rarely lies awake and needs to read for an hour to grow in the mood for sound slumber.

★ ★ ★

We medics have long realized that a sexually adjusted couple is not likely to want any sleeping pills or other chemical aids to put them to sleep.

Sleeplessness is a common symptom of sexual maladjustment.

A devoted couple want to be near each other, even in sleep. And this desire does not wane even if they have celebrated their 25th or their Golden Wedding Anniversary.

So newlyweds would be wiser to order a double bed for their bedroom.

But a double bed is not complete insurance for a blissful wedded life unless they also learn some of the basic medico-psychological facts for marital compatibility.

Oddly enough, a man and wife are not anatomically constructed to be satisfactory to each other without the use of additional techniques devised by the human brain.

God apparently expected us to improve on nature, as we have done by inventing shoes and eyeglasses and clothing, etc.

So send for the booklet "Sex Problems in Marriage," enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus 20 cents (non-profit). It gives this additional technique needed to avoid divorce as well as sleeping pills.

★ ★ ★

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 4c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

'Electronic Weapon'

BROWNSBURG, Ind. (AP)—Rival supermarket managers wondered how Marion Saunders kept his stockboys so busy while he sat at is desk. Then they learned the youngsters had been told that the transistor radio earplug Saunders was wearing was actually an electronic device enabling him to hear anything said anyplace in the store.

$15 Billion Yearly Outlay Says Yes

Does Package Make the Product?

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — A lot of businessmen believe that if clothes make the man the package makes the product you will buy.

And industry is now spending 15 billion dollars a year to wrap the materials for manufacturer and shipper and the final product for you. This is 350 per cent more than it spent just before World War II.

★ ★ ★

Research engineers are thinking up new packaging gimmicks constantly — paper that stretches, aerosol metal cans that measure exactly anything from a drop of flavoring to spoonfuls of flour, paper containers in which frozen foods can be cooked electronically, polyethylene coated paper pouches in which precooked foods can be made ready for the table by dropping in boiling water, rigid opaque paper containers for sale in supermarkets of brassieres, panties and socks.

★ ★ ★

The competition is growing—tin cans, glass jars, squeeze bottles, tubes, paper containers, plastic or metal foil wrappers.

LARGE INCREASES

Robert H. Evans, Olin Mathieson Chemical vice president, says that since prewar days sales of paper and paperboard have risen 439 per cent, metal containers 284 per cent, corrugated and solid fibre containers 490 per cent, sanitary food containers 1,415 per cent, paper bags and sacks 554 per cent. Last year 403 million pounds of cellophane were produced, or double the 1948 output.

★ ★ ★

William C. Stolk, American Can president, says half of his firm's 1958 sales were of products unknown 20 years ago. He expects the industry to produce 555 million aerosol pressure cans in 1959 and sales of spray paint cans to hit 60 million, up 10 million from 1958. Stolk hopes for big things when the price comes down on aluminum cans, now used for motor oil, beer and barbecued sardine fillets.

★ ★ ★

The Can Manufacturers Institute puts 1958 sales at 42 billion cans and looks for a better 1959. The Kraft Paper Assn. expects that industry to produce a record 2,800,000 tons this year. The Folding Paper Box Assn. of America says new orders this year are 4.3 per cent ahead of last year in dollar volume and 1.9 per cent ahead in tonnage.

★ ★ ★

John Warren, technical advisor of the packaging division of the American Management Assn., predicts a 30 per cent rise in the industry's production by 1963, partly due to the expected growth in population with the increase in needs, and partly due to the steady trend to more prepared products packaged for easier sales and ready use.

SHOW NEW GIMMICKS

At his association's National Packaging Exposition and Conference in Chicago this week some 400 producers or suppliers are showing new gimmicks.

★ ★ ★

Westinghouse Electric is stressing cost cutting redesigns for use of aluminum, aerosol and display cards. International Harvester shows how to pack service parts, with emphasis on requirements of the armed forces. Parke, Davis is demonstrating production control for automated packaging. Royal McBee has a polystrene cocoon for shipping heavy precision equipment. General Foods is exhibiting its gourmet foods operation.

★ ★ ★

Impulse buying is a prime problem always. But Dr. Myron J. Helfgott, head of the Package Research Institute, affiliate of Lippincott and Margulies, New York industrial design firm, says the big change this year will be away from machines and gimmicks to packages that will both sell at the store and resell themselves when the housewife gets them home.

And Harley Earl, head of his Detroit design firm, says a package must be more than an eye catcher. It must be functional, too—for storing, display, dispensing and even preparing and serving of the product in the home.

POWERFUL NEW PLUNGER
clears CLOGGED TOILETS in a jiffy!

NEVER AGAIN that sick feeling when your toilet overflows

TOILAFLEX
Toilet ALL-ANGLE Plunger

- Accordion-action design to flex at any angle.
- Double-size cup blasts double pressure directly at obstruction.
- Tapered suction-grooved tail gives air-tight fit.
- Pilot-tail guides plunger to dead center of drain—can't skid around.

Ordinary plungers just don't seat properly. They permit compressed air, water and sludge to splash back. Thus you not only have a mess, but you lose the very pressure you need to clear the obstruction.

With "Toilaflex", expressly designed for toilets, no air, water or sludge can escape. This unique, patented plunger assures a snug, air-tight fit in any toilet trap, regardless of irregular shape or size.

"Toilaflex" has a powerful double-sized cup that blasts more than twice the amount of compressed air directly at the obstruction. The full pressure plows through the clogging mass and swishes it down. Can't miss!

Your toilet could overflow tomorrow With a "Toilaflex" in your home there's no problem, no mess, no expense; you clear your toilet with ease, in a jiffy.

Division Lost in Servile Jobs

Colonel - Congressman, Says Aides, Chauffeurs Are Wasted Manpower

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Defense Department has reported about 17,500 servicemen are used as aides, chauffeurs, stewards and in similar service jobs. Most of them are mess stewards.

★ ★ ★

A retired colonel, now a freshman congressman, promptly contended the Pentagon's own figures have proved a point he has been trying to make.

The West Pointer-congressman is Rep. Frank Kowalski (D-Conn). His point, first made during debate on extending the draft, is that at least the equivalent of a division of men is being used in what he termed servile or else essentially civilian jobs. He contends the jobs should be eliminated or filled with civilians.

Kowalski's criticism cropped up again during closed-door hearings in February by a House appropriations subcommittee on the defense budget.

Kowalski, commenting in an interview, said the breakdown is fuzzy and probably doesn't cover all the kinds of jobs to which he objects.

"But it convinces me all the more," he said, "that at least a division of men is being used needlessly. And I'm just back from a visit to military installations in Europe, where we uncovered more places where this is going on."

In all, there are about 2½ million men in the armed services.

Next Rodgers, Hammerstein Musical in Fall

NEW YORK (UPI)—The next Richard Rodgers-Oscar Hammerstein Broadway musical, which will star Mary Martin, will be called "The Sound of Music" and is due next fall, it was announced tonight.

The famous collaborating team of Howard Lindsay and Russel Crouse is writing the libretto for the Rodgers music and the Hammerstein lyrics. Producers are Leland Hayward and Richard Halliday, Miss Martin's husband and manager.

Rehearsals are scheduled to start Sept. 3. The story is based on the career of the famous Trapp singing family of Austria.

★ ★ ★

This will be the second Rodgers-Hammerstein show for Miss Martin, who was the original leading lady of their "South Pacific." She also starred in the national touring company of "Annie Get Your Gun," which they produced but did not write.

Miss Martin and Halliday left last Friday by freighter for a two-month vacation at their Anapolis, Brazil plantation.

Teamsters Would Aid USW if Strike

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP) — Teamsters President James R. Hoffa says he believes individual Teamsters will, in the event of a steel strike, honor Steelworkers picket lines and refuse to move stockpiled supplies.

★ ★ ★

Hoffa, here for a meeting with Pennsylvania Teamsters locals, indicated such action would not be a formal one of the Teamsters Union, but it would have his blessing.

He said he felt that inability by steel companies to move their supplies would deprive them of one form of economic pressure against the United Steelworkers Union.

The USW and the nation's major steel firms are to begin contract talks in New York next month.

ONE OF A SERIES

ANSWER: THE DAILY NEWSPAPER. A recent study by the Market Research Corporation of America revealed that "88% of all U. S. families had a newspaper in their homes yesterday." And Sindlinger & Company, analysts, report that on an average day, some 100,000,000 people (12 years old and over) read the newspaper! American Grandmothers Getting Younger

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

The American grandma seems to be getting younger. The average woman in this country now has her last child at the age of 26, becomes a grandmother at 44.

In the Soviet Union 80 per cent of the college students are paid by the government to go to school. Soviet professors get up to $60,000 a year plus, in some cases, a summer home and a chauffeured car. But their freedom isn't even academic!

★ ★ ★

What do you pay for medicine? The average prescription now costs $2.90. And more and more women are getting notions of a career amid the lotions. Some 12.1 per cent of students in pharmacy schools are women.

There is a lot of blue-sky speculation about space today. We actually may have worldwide television in another decade but it is highly unlikely you or your neighbor will make a tourist trip to the moon.

There is no greater assurance of success than superb self-assurance. Andre Maurois once wrote, "Bernard Shaw thinks himself greater than Shakespeare," to which Shaw modestly replied, "I don't just think it—I am!" (Well, he did leave a larger estate than Shakespeare.)

FRESH AIR

If you want to breathe clean air, go to a desert. Desert air has half the impurities than the air over forest or farmland. City air is usually at least five times as dirty as the air over country areas.

The U.S. Navy builds more than atomic submarines and aircraft carriers. It also has developed an artificial leg that can be worn while swimming.

Speaking of swimming, drowning is now second only to the motor car as a cause of accidental death to Americans between the ages of 5 and 44. The 1958 toll: 6,000 lives.

Is there a doctor in the house? Well, there have been a lot of them—in the Senate as well as the House. Since its beginning, some 362 physicians have served in the U.S. Congress.

Four out of every 10 American mothers with children of school age now hold jobs outside the home. Could this be a big reason for the increase in juvenile delinquency?

Plan Would Pare Flight Pay Ranks

WASHINGTON, (AP) — The armed services expect to save 40 million dollars a year in flight pay by cutting down proficiency flying by officers whose regular jobs are on the ground.

Deputy Asst. Secretary of Defense Stephen S. Jackson gave the estimate to a House Appropriations subcommittee. It was contained in testimony made public today.

Reminded that Congress has frowned on alleged abuses of proficiency flying, Jackson told the subcommittee a definite plan has been worked out to tighten up the rules.

Take all its beauty, balance it gracefully on a wider, steadier wheel design and you have a car the likes of which you've never owned. The wheels are five inches farther apart. This widens the stance, but not the car. You're secure at the controls, more comfortable from head to toe. There's a noticeable lack of lean and sway. Narrow track cars fall far short by comparison. Wouldn't this be a good day for you to drive this sweet automobile? The keys are waiting.

THE ONLY CAR WITH WIDE-TRACK WHEELS
Dotted lines show conventional wheel positions. Pontiac's wheels are five inches farther apart. This widens only the stance, not the car itself. Pontiac takes a better grip on the road, hugs tighter on curves and corners. Sway and lean are considerably reduced, ride is smoother, balanced, steadier.

Reds Sounding Out Possible Nixon Trip to Russia

By PEEL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Editor

From the foreign news editor's assignment book:

The Sawdust Trail:

Soviet diplomats quietly are sounding out whether Vice President Richard M. Nixon would like to return Soviet Deputy Premier Anastas Mikoyan's U. S. tour early this summer.

Moscow boss Nikita Khrushchev occasionally speaks of the greeting President Eisenhower would get in the Soviet Union. At the moment, however, the welcome mat appears aimed mostly at Nixon. Apparently Khrushchev would like to get a close up of the man who may be the next President.

Doctors Orders:

The Kremlin also is wondering how a summit conference could be held this summer if White House physicians advise the President against making long trips. Khrushchev is more than willing to travel to Washington to see the President.

The Russians also are considering the possibility the President might ask Vice President Nixon to sit in for him should summit negotiations prove long drawnout. The Russians might be willing to accept Nixon. They are determined there will be a conference as close to the summit as possible.

Their object, as one Soviet diplomat put it, is to "thin out the military fuel" in Europe in order to maintain a political status quo. First objective in the "thinning out" process: Squeezing Western troops out of Berlin.

More About Health:

And what of Khrushchev's health—and the recent report in a West German newspaper that he had been suffering fainting spells? The most authoritative line from the Kremlin is this: Khrushchev is not a sick man, but like any man of 65, he must watch himself carefully.

He is beginning to tire easily and has long had liver trouble. It's pointed out that Khrushchev has had a far more strenuous, indeed gruelling life than most statesmen. This includes work in pre-Revolutionary coal mines as well as the intense strain of working under Stalin and surviving the power scramble after Stalin's death.

So the Kremlin is concerned about Khrushchev's health. But no specific grounds for concern are seen at the moment.

Iron Curtain Secrecy:

The Soviets apparently do not always inform the Communist East Germans about their Berlin strategy in advance. Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's statement that May 27 is just another date caught East Germans by surprise.

They had been predicting confidently that on May 27 they would get complete control of Western Allied traffic to West Berlin. But Khrushchev said controls will not be handed over until a peace treaty is signed.

Bottoms Up:

There are reports that Berlin is making overtures to Chile and Argentina for possible joint tenure of the Graham or Palmer land peninsula in the Antarctic. If such advances are being made, they could stem from a jet age project to use the south polar route at the bottom of the world for faster communication with Australia.

Canadian Pacific first brought up the idea some two years ago. Officials pointed out the possibility of an excellent payload through Latin American countries enroute.

Pay Dirt:

One story about how the Communists finance their propaganda activities in Latin America is that they smuggle gold or national currencies mule back through secret mountain passes. An easier method is the exhibition of films from iron curtain countries. The film costs are cheap and the revenue from exhibitors need not necessarily be remitted. Some famous Soviet pictures have been going the rounds for many years.

Wiley Post's Mother Dies at 85 in Texas

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Funeral services will be held Tuesday for Mrs. May Post, mother of the late flier Wiley Post. Burial will be near Grand Saline, her northeast Texas birthplace.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Post, 85, died Saturday night at her Dallas home. She had lived here for 13 years but spent most of her life in Oklahoma.

Her son and humorist Will Rogers died Aug. 15, 1935, in a plane crash near Point Barrow, Alaska, in the plane which Post flew around the world in 1933.

Before marriage the biggest spenders are men; after marriage it's women . . . Nothing makes a woman look better than three martinis — inside a man . . . These inflationary days, in order to buy healthful foods you have to pay sickening prices.—Earl Wilson.

Buick Worker Receives Lathe on Retirement

FLINT, Mich. (AP)—Many retiring employes go home with a wrist watch as a token of "well done" after their last day on the job.

Edwin W. Niedzielski, who retired after 41 years with Buick, went home with the two-ton lathe he had used for nearly 30 years.

Niedzielski bought the lathe from Buick for $62. The auto firm paid $3,414.79 for it back in 1929.

★ ★ ★

The retired auto worker plans to put the lathe in his garage.

"I just want the pleasure of owning it and looking at it," he said.

An early automobile designed by Uriah Smith of Battle Creek, Michigan had an artificial horse head protruding from the front so as not to frighten horses on the road!

Phone Answers Call in Battle With Actor

GARDEN GROVE, Calif. (AP) When actor Lash LaRue hit his wife during a domestic argument she picked up the telephone, police report.

★ ★ ★

But she didn't call anyone. She socked him with it.

★ ★ ★

Then, officers said, LaRue's sister-in-aw, Mrs. J. M. Osborn, clobbered him with a mop.

After five stitches were taken in his scalp, LaRue was booked on suspicion of assault, battery and disturbing the peace Sunday. The complaint was signed by his wife, Paddie, and Mrs. Osborn.

What started the argument at the home of friends was not disclosed.

Bob Considine Says:

Sonic Booms Part of Every Day Jet Flying

LAS VEGAS, Nev. — The biggest air show in the nation's history, the World Congress of Flight, went boom! This morning shortly before noon.

A B-58 supersonic bomber, capable of carrying the H-bomb at speeds equal to or better than the best-known Russian fighter planes, sent a sonic boom crashing down on Convention Hall, where airman from all over the free world are gathered.

Apparently it was a directed boom, just for their benefit and study. If the bomber would have streaked directly across the breadth of the city, at supersonic speed, it would have spread a corridor of booms not unlike a plane dropping a long stick of 500 pound bombs. Much plate glass might have shattered, plaster fallen, roulette wheels been thrown off balance.

But these newest sounds from on high can be pointed, too, by means of a dive in the direction of the target below. They are shock waves, pure and simple, caused as the nose and leading edges of the wing penetrate the atmosphere at a greater speed than sound.

★ ★ ★

The booms are a source of some worry to the armed services, notably the Air Force. One of its boys accidentally turned the juice on too hard while flying over Panama City, Fla., not long ago — and the Air Force got a bill for $30,000 in broken windows. Natives said it was like a bombardment.

Claude Witze, writing in Air Force magazine, concludes that the public is just going to have to get accustomed to the booms.

BOOM HERE TO STAY

"It's no longer an isolated phenomenon, a stunt performed by a diving fighter pilot to impress a crowd," he writes. "The boom is becoming part and parcel of the day-to-day operations of the Air Force, an inescapable element of straight and level flight at supersonic speeds.

"The isolated, one-shot boom has become a corridor of concussion, a noisy nuisance, but one that is essential to our nation's survival.

"It is unaboidable, and we must learn to understand and accept it just as we accept the rattle of street cars, the roar of trains and trucks across the countryside. We must learn to live with it, for in today's unsettled world we cannot live without it."

Witze's description of the phenomenon is vivid:

"The full truth is that an aircraft capable of supersonic speed in straight-and-level flight creates a continuous sonic boom, a sound that is not a single snap, but a roar that crosses the country like the opening of a zipper.

It follows the flight path of the aircraft; if it were visible it would look like a cone, in fact, two cones. One of them has its apex at the nose of the plane, the other at the tail.

The cones are shock waves that travel to the ground at the speed of sound — about 762 mph. As each wave moves, it is robbed of energy by friction of the air, a friction that is affected by temperature and humidity and such physical stumbling blocks as mountains or clouds.

When the shock hits the earth, the wave is further obstructed by trees, buildings cars, people, rose bushes and outdoor movie screens.

"The two shock cones are so close they almost always sound like a single clap of thunder. If they were real claps of thunder, they would impose a pressure of about one-half pound on each square foot of the earth or the obstacles in the way.

★ ★ ★

"What is the pressure from a sonic boom? Not more than five pounds a square foot, ten times that of a thunder clap or five times the noise created in a boiler factory."

A supersecret supersonic B-58 mission recently was followed by thousands of "victims" of the sonic booms the plane spread along its course.

Both Air Force and Navy pilots have been ordered to stay as clear of population cenetrs as possible when stepping on the gas, but accidents will happen . . . and they can only increase as the years go on and the speeds advance.

One of these days we'll have supersonic airliners, real big jobs, and their boom will bend the Empire State Building — unless somebody invents a boom buster.

Say What You Mean, Mean What You Say

HONOLULU (AP)—Dr. Kenneth Warner advises girls to watch their language in coping with ardent swains.

★ ★ ★

Warner says the warning should not be, "Sir, you have gone too far."

It should be, "Sir, you have come too close."

The University of Maryland semantics expert gave this example to show how people fail to say what they mean.

Rather Pay His Tax

CHICAGO (UPI)—A harassed taxpayer has asked the Chicago income tax director's office for help with his mother-in-law problem. The office said yesterday the man claimed his mother-in-law as a dependent, but attached this note to the return: "Please note my new exemption. If you can arrange her removal from my home, I'll gladly pay the additional $120 tax."

Sen. Kennedy Due in Detroit May 23

DETROIT (AP) — Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass), front running Democratic presidential prospect, will star May 23 at the big Jefferson - Jackson Day fund-raising dinner of Michigan Democrats.

★ ★ ★

His selection was announced by Mrs. Helen Salamon, general chairman of the dinner. The invitation was tendered on behalf of Gov. Williams and the Democratic party of Michigan.

★ ★ ★

Kennedy last appeared in the state during the general election campaign last fall.

As at the 1958 dinner, tickets will sell for $25 a person or $35 per couple, Mrs. Salamon said between 2,500 and 3,000 persons are expected to attend. Ticket sales already have begun.

★ ★ ★

The dinner, an annual affair, will be held at the Light Guard Armory in Detroit.

Federal School Funds Favored by Senator

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Jennings Randolph (D-WVa) favors federal funds for school facilities and teachers' salaries. In testimony prepared for a Senate subcommittee today, Randolph discounted the argument that federal funds would lead to federal control.

"The threat of federal control is a myth, and the fear of it is spun from fantasy and a misreading of our history," Randolph said.

West Proposes Limited N-Ban

Geneva Parley Resumes but Russia Still Wants Veto on Inspection

GENEVA (AP)—The West and the Soviets resume negotiations on control of nuclear weapon tests today with Britain and the United States reported ready to propose a limited ban on test explosions.

The plan would ban all tests at or near ground level, which cause dangerous fallout. It would permit high altitude and deep underground blasts, which Western experts contend produce no harmful results.

★ ★ ★

Western officials were hopeful their new formula might help soften the Soviet Union's adamant stand against a veto-free inspection system to police the proposed agreement banning nuclear tests.

Judging from the line taken in a Soviet Foreign Ministry statement Sunday, the Soviet position has not changed since the conference recessed March 19 for Easter after five futile months of talking.

★ ★ ★

Since the conference first convened Oct. 31, the United States, Britain and the Soviet Union have agreed on seven articles of a draft treaty. But there has been no progress toward a solution to the East-West squabble on manning control posts and inspection teams, and the voting procedures to be followed by the control commission have remained in dispute.

The Soviets clearly still want a veto oyer any inspection and control machinery established to enforce a test ban.

★ ★ ★

The United States and Britain insist on a control system set up on a truly international basis, organized to operate with a minimum of government interference. U.S. officials have denounced the veto as a device that would permit the Soviets to block the operations of inspection teams and open the way for sneak tests.

Strike Brings More Molasses, Less Sugar

HONOLULU (AP) — Hawaii's four-month sugar strike in 1958 caused a drop in sugar cane production, but raised molasses production by 2,500 tons over the 1957 figure.

★ ★ ★

The Hawaiian Sugar Planters Assn. explained that the strike resulted in lowering the purity of cane juices. Because the juices contained less sucrose, more of the non-sucrose content was available for processing into molasses.

Russian 'House Cleaning'

Shakeup in Soviet Sports

FRANKFURT, Germany (UPI) —A big shakeup in Soviet sports will be completed this week by a high-level conference which meets in Moscow to pick new bosses for Russia's two billion dollars-a-year sports effort.

The April 17 conference of sports, government, army, trade union and Young Communist League representatives is expected to mark the end of a sweeping housecleaning in Soviet sports. It was set off a year ago by a string of stunning defeats and scandals involving some of Russia's most pampered sports stars.

★ ★ ★

The housecleaning slowly built up, from condemning and punishing individual cases of failure or corruption to changing selection and coaching methods and to a review of basic planning methods in Russia's state-directed sports life.

Now, reorganization apparently is reaching the highest level. The Moscow conference is expected to formally dissolve the sports ministry and put supreme direction into the hands of a non-government, more Democratically functioning "union of sports societies and organizations."

Slated to become chairman of the new organization is Nikolai Romanov, who looks like an elder Yul Brynner. He has been a senior official in both the Soviet and the International Olympic committees.

"The (new) Union's principal task will be to make sport one of the basic means of improving the people's health," Tass recently quoted Romanov as saying.

But Romanov failed to explain in the interview why the change was necessary at all—could not the former "committee for physical culture and sports," a ministry-type government organization directly responsible to the USSR council of ministers, have cared for the "improving of peoples health" as well?

Studying the draft statutes of the new organization, western observers thought that one of the main reasons for the change was to liberalize and loosen up the whole rigid structure and atmosphere of soviet sports.

★ ★ ★

Although plenty of political influence still will be exerted on the new union through its trade union and young communist league representatives, it could be a body that looks much more like a western-type "Amateur Athletic Union" than the old sports ministry.

Dorothy Gets Commutation to Life in Zoo

HUGO, Okla. (AP) — Zoo officials will bring Dorothy, the once-doomed circus elephant, back alive to Tulsa this month.

Director Hugh Davis of Tulsa's Mohawk Zoo said the man-killing elephant will be taken from here to her new home April 22.

Davis said Dorothy will be used strictly for exhibition, "although she is an expert performer."

★ ★ ★

It was two faulty performances which caused her present owner, circus owner Jack Moore, to order her execution.

Moore purchased Dorothy from another circus after she performed a headstand on her trainer, crushing him to death.

He thought he could rehabilitate the elephant, but two weeks ago she repeated her stunt on another trainer. He was injured.

Davis said his elephant trainer "says she might straighten up and become a perfect lady."

But they'll take no chances.

Her first 60 days in Tulsa, Davis said, the elephant would be shackled inside the elephant building. With the completion of a moat around the building, she'll be unchained.

"We've saved Dorothy's life at no cost to the city," Davis said. "She's a beautiful elephant and will be used only for exhibit."

The cost of shipping Dorothy to Tulsa will be paid by Tulsa radio station manager Bob Hoth, who suggested to Davis the zoo might obtain the doomed elephant.

"Everybody is very happy about the ending to this," said Hoth.

Says Housework Hardest

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — The little woman may have good reason to complain of a headache after a day of housework.

A Los Angeles eye expert, Dr. James E. Gregg, told the Utah Optometic Assn. Sunday a survey of 200 occupations showed the housewife's job is more demanding on the eyes than any other.

Extradition Hearing for Trilck Scheduled

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (UPI) — Gov. Leroy Collins will hold an extradition hearing this afternoon at 2:30 for a man wanted in Michigan on gambling graft conspiracy warrants.

Russell Trilck, downriver Detroit gambling suspect, was one of eight defendants named in the warrants charging conspiracy in the suburb of River Rouge in February.

Trilck left for Florida some weeks before the others were picked up. He surrendered to Florida police Feb. 25 but elected to fight extradition.

Chief trial lawyer Raymond J. Deryck and Assistant Prosecutor Paul Slack of the Wayne County Prosecutor's office will represent the state at the hearing. They flew to Florida Saturday.

The other defendants were bound over for trial April 1 after examination before Common Pleas Judge Thomas A. Kenney.

Social Security Report Gives 1st Year Figure

Hospital Benefits Would Cost $ Billion

WASHINGTON (AP) — Addition of old-age hospitalization protection to federal social security benefits would cost at least a billion dollars a year to start, the government estimated today.

The added costs would require at least a one-half per cent increase in the social security payroll tax. It is now 2½ per cent the first $4,800 of earnings for both workers and employers, and will rise automatically to 4½ per cent by 1969.

★ ★ ★

The estimates were contained in a lengthy report by the Social Security Administration filed with the House Ways and Means Committee by Secretary of Welfare Arthur S. Flemming.

The report contained no recommendations or conclusions. It was requested by the committee last year after Congress voted a 7 per cent increase in social security benefits and an increase in the tax rate.

★ ★ ★

Proposals to add federal hospital, nursing home and surgical care to old-age retirement benefits are now pending before the committee, but House leaders have ruled out any action on them before next year.

STUDY BENEFITS

The 117-page study of old age-health benefits was limited to factual information, with these highlights:

1. There are about 15 million persons in the United States 65 or over, and their number is increasing because of medical advances.

2. About 43 per cent, or two out of every five persons on social security retired rolls now have voluntary health protection.

3. Most social security pensioners have a low or limited income, increasing the problem of financing adequate medical care.

4. Hospital and medical costs are rising. Of social security pensioners hospitalized in 1957, the largest group—about 85 per cent—had medical bills of $1,000 or more.

5. Numerous alternatives to social security health insurance are available — subsidies to private health insurance carriers, government reinsurance of private carriers, direct federal assistance to persons unable to finance their own medical costs, and stimulation of voluntary insurance plans.

★ ★ ★

Rep. Aime J. Forand (D-RI), chief sponsor of legislative proposals for social security health benefits, said the report confirms the need for federal action.

The Flemming report's estimates of first-year health costs varied according to types of benefits. In round figures, however, a 1960 initial cost of a billion dollars was indicated as a probable minimum. Cost estimates by others than the Social Security Administration were higher.

★ ★ ★

The Health Insurance Assn. of America estimated costs of hospital benefits for social security pensioners at $1,319,000,000 based on 1959 costs, requiring an increase in the social security tax of around 65 per cent.

Eden Suffers Attacks, Comeback Is Unlikely

LONDON (AP)—Former Prime Minister Anthony Eden has suffered his second attack of his long-time liver ailment since returning from a rest in Mexico last month.

Sir Anthony was ordered to take things easy, dampening speculation he might re-enter politics as a member of the House of Lords. He is 61.

Say Rockefeller Support Grows

'Wilkie Tactics,' Using Political Greenhorns, Being Employed

WASHINGTON (AP)—The same off-beat campaigning that landed the 1940 Republican presidential nomination for Wendell L. Willkie apparently is under way for Gov. Nelson Rockefeller of New York.

★ ★ ★

Responsible Republicans brought to last week's meeting of the GOP National Committee here reports that supporters of Rockefeller are seeking to enlist businessmen, professional men and other political amateurs as Rockefeller backers.

★ ★ ★

A GOP national committeeman who has participated in several presidential campaigns described the tactics as similar to those which helped put Willkie over. He said he has personal knowledge that bankers, lawyers, doctors, insurance men and others with influence in their communities are being urged to line up behind Rockefeller.

★ ★ ★

The first outward sign of this cropped up recently with the formation of "Californians for Rockefeller." This self-styled group of "political greenhorns," is headed by Charles Lewsadder, Los Angeles businessman.

★ ★ ★

A state chairman who supports Vice President Richard M. Nixon for the nomination said he knew of similar activities elsewhere in behalf of Rockefeller. He predicted Nixon's backers soon will be doing the same kind of campaigning.

It was explained that Rockefeller himself is standing aloof from these activities. He is holding to the line that his only ambition is to make a good chief executive for his state.

★ ★ ★

It was noticeable, however, that the governor lost no time in moving one of his closest advisers, George L. Hinman, into a seat as Republican national committeeman from New York. Hinman will be in a position there to keep close tab on an organization in which a majority of members obviously favor Nixon for the party's 1960 presidential nomination.

★ ★ ★

The Rockefeller forces appear fully satisfied that the committee's new chairman, Sen. Thurston B. Borton of Kentucky, will carry out his pledge to remain neutral in any Nixon-Rockefeller contest.

★ ★ ★

Morton was chosen unanimously to succeed retiring chairman Meade Alcorn at a weekend session in which the committee also voted solidly to hold its 1960 convention in Chicago, the week beginning July 25.

Ima Washout says she's shopping around for a doctor who'll order her to a better year 'round climate for her health . . . A woman may be weaker than a man, but she can put a lid on a fruit jar so tight that he'll never get it off . . . A woman's art is the ability to look up to a man who's shorter than she is. — Earl Wilson.

Workers behind the scenes of the Pontiac Symphony Orchestra play an important role in the success of the organization. Left to right are Mrs. Fred Coleman, who is responsible for the program booklet at each concert; Mrs. James Rosenthal, who prepares the music notes for each performance; Mrs. Roger Welton, who recruits new talent, and Lillian Laska, the business manager. Each of these women has devoted a great deal of time, talent and effort to make the Pontiac Symphony a success.

Dedicated 'Back-Stage' Workers

What's Behind Symphony?

By DORA S. DAWSON

When the Pontiac Symphony Orchestra closes its season of concerts April 21 at Northern High School, fine music will be enjoyed, but few will realize the unsung work that has been done by a score of willing, interested people who have worked behind the scenes. They have fulfilled jobs that have ben a necessity to the success of the concerts. Good attendance is a matter of innate love of music, the persuasiveness of members of a selected ticket committee, or the result of publicity, window displays, posters and individual effort.

To go behind the scenes — at each rehearsal there is the business manager, Lillian Laska, who signs in each orchestra member, keeping track of attendance and turning this report in to the treasurer of the executive board of the management.

SERVES AS CONTACT

Miss Laska acts as a contact between the board and the musical director. In getting acquainted with each member, she in turn has acquainted the members with each other and created a unity of spirit that is a bond in their desire to produce to the best of their ability the interpretations the director calls for.

She established a coffee break in rehearsals, bringing together members who in private lives are of many professions, but have the love of music in common.

Then, there is the setting up of chairs, music desks, podium, lighting and equipment by the house committee, and the distribution of parts of the music for each individual orchestral section and the collection and care of the same by the librarians after rehearsals.

Ushers, generally young music studnets, are chosen for each concert.

SCOUTS FOR TALENT

Mrs. Roger Welton, an accomplished musician in solo and ensemble music, is recruitment chairman and constantly on the alert for new talent — either youngsters or seasoned musicians who are new in the county and can pass the audition. With the increased instrumental training in the schools, future players are anticipated and listed, as it is the desire to make the orchestra an ever-growing one in the area.

★ ★ ★

Another feature that takes time and thought is the program booklet, prepared by Mrs. Fred C. Coleman, for each concert. Items, personnel lists, advertising and program material have to be adjusted to pages with the plan to save space, yet accommodate everything before being taken to the printer.

Appearing in the program booklet for each concert are notes about the music to be played. This takes research and study. They have been completely and capably prepared by Mrs. James Rosenthal.

★ ★ ★

Music planned for each concert is worked out with director Francesco DeBlasi, and the music committee, Mrs. Celia Merrill Turner, associate conductor; George Putnam; Robert Peterson; Mrs. Rosenthal; Jay Jacobson and Mrs. Ferdinand Gaensbauer, with the thought of presenting the finest music available both in traditional and contemporary compositions.

Shower Honors Bride-to-Be Arline Green

A miscellaneous shower honoring Arline H. Green, bride-elect of Leonard Sheffer, was given at the home of Mrs. Douglas L. Green on James K boulevard.

Arline, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Scherly L. Green of Gregory road, and Leonard, son of Mrs. Sinda Sheffer of Prescott, will be married May 15 at the First Free Methodist Church.

★ ★ ★

Guests invited to the shower were Mrs. Green, Mrs. Sheffer, Mrs. L. J. Green, Mrs. Marvin Middleton Jr., Joan Strine, Eleanor Gingell, Joan Turner, Mrs. Lewis Turner, Mrs. Eugene Green, Mrs. Gerald Green, Mrs. Henry Fosmoen, Mrs. Marie Cix, Mrs. Robert Petersen, Mrs. Fred Green, and Mrs. James Marsh.

Women's Unit of Symphony to Meet Monday

Mrs. E. D. Foley of Locklin lane entertained members of the Women's Association of Pontiac Symphony Orchestra at 1 p.m. today.

Philip Steinhaus, organist and choir director of All Saints Episcopal Church, was guest speaker. He presented a resume of the orchestral numbers to be played at the April 28 concert at Northern High School auditorium.

Mrs. F. J. Moreau was social chairman for the coffee hour preceding the program.

Mary Rathbun Married in Auburn Heights Rite

A white floor-length gown of lace and net over taffeta was worn by Mary J. Rathbun for her marriage to Bruce B. Forbush Saturday evening at United Presbyterian Church, Auburn Heights. Some 180 guests witnessed the ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Rathbun of North Eastway drive. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Robert Forbush of Auburn Heights.

★ ★ ★

A semi-circular cap of lace secured the bride's fingertip veil, and she carried a cascade arrangement of shattered carnations and ivy.

SISTERS TAKE PART

Grace Rathbun, sister of the bride, was maid of honor, gowned in blue. Bridesmaid Janet Rathbun, sister of the bride, also wore blue. Flower girl Shannan Walls was dressed in a pink frock.

★ ★ ★

Best man was Ben Forbush. Emmett Morse ushered, and ringbearer was Michael Herr.

★ ★ ★

Following the ceremony the new Mrs. Forbush changed to a pale blue suit with navy accessories and a pink corsage for traveling. The couple is residing on Paddock street.

Mr. Forbush attends the Detroit College of Applied Science.

MRS. BRUCE B. FORBUSH

Runnette-Proctor Nuptials Solemnized

Christ Church Cranbrook was the scene of the Saturday evening wedding of Mary Chase Proctor and Creighton Wilson Runnette of Detroit. The Rev. Robert L. DeWitt and the Rev. Jones B. Shannon of Washington, D.C., officiated at the wedding.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Edward Alexander Proctor of Birmingham and Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Creighton Runnette of Pittsburgh, Pa.

IN TAFETA AND LACE

The bride wore an ivory silk taffeta gown with an open neckline appliqued with Alencon lace. The floor-length skirt formed a chapel train. Her mantilla of Alencon lace was from her mother's wedding veil, and she carried a bouquet of white roses and ivy.

★ ★ ★

Cynthia Chisholm of Laurel, Miss., was maid of honor and Mrs. Charles C. Alexander of Cambridge, Mass., was matron of honor.

Bridesmaids were Mary Fowlkes of New York, Elizabeth Partridge of Hingham, Mass.; Sally Beardslee and Mrs. Clune Walsh Jr., both of Grosse Pointe; Mrs. Richard T. Flood Jr. of Pomfret, Conn., and Ellen Eagle of Durham, N.C.

All wore dresses of aqua silk organza over silk taffeta and carried bouquets of Garnett roses.

ASSIST BRIDEGROOM

Best man was Gray Merrill of Poughkeepsie, N.Y. Ushers were Robert Runnette, the bridegroom's brother; John K. Runnette, a cousin; William Brownlee, Hudson G. Samson, Dwight D. Foster Jr., and Victor O. Friday Jr., all of Pittsburgh, and Edward A. Proctor Jr. and Woods Proctor, the bride's brothers.

A reception was held at Orchard Lake Country Club. Following a honeymoon in Bermuda, the couple will live in Royal Oak.

The bride attended Bradford Junior College and the bridegroom is a graduate of the University of Pittsburgh.

Married Saturday were Mary C. Proctor and Creighton W. Runnette of Detroit. Parents of the couple are the Edward A. Proctors of Birmingham and Mr. and Mrs. Alexander C. Runnette of Pittsburgh, Pa.

MRS. CREIGHTON W. RUNNETTE

300 Attend Dr. Jones' Zonta Tea

By MARY ANGLEMEIR

Dr. Sarah VanHoosen Jones greeted nearly 300 fellow members and friends of the Pontiac Zonta Club at a tea in her Stony Creek home near Rochester Sunday afternoon.

Receiving with Dr. Jones were Alice Serrell, Maugaret Stark and Maude Chambers.

GRACIOUS SETTING

The home, with its log burning fires and candlelight, was the perfect setting for a Sunday in the country. Guests were welcome to wander through the century-old residence to see the many posessions which have been loved and cared for by five generations.

★ ★ ★

A chest in the dining room was brought to the home when the Taylor family came to the area in 1812 from Albany, New York.

From windows on three sides of the house, the rippling water of Stony Creek could be seen meandering through the farmland. The creek begins at Cranberry Lake and empties into the Clinton River near Rochester.

AT TEA TABLE

Pouring during the afternoon were Mrs. Andra Francis of Saginaw, international president of Zonta Clubs, Mrs. Chad Mellinger, president of the Pontiac Zonta Club, Mrs. L. Harvey Lodge and Mrs. Fotis Takis.

★ ★ ★

A spring bouquet of roses, daisies, stock and pansies in a silver epergne centered the tea table. The organdy cloth and the candles were mint green.

★ ★ ★

Chairman Mary Kelly was assisted by Mr. Roy H. Riddle, Mrs. Neal Scott, Mrs. Dorothy Brooks, Mrs. John Kinzler, Mrs. Katherine Baker, Mrs. Richard Wolfe and Mrs. Nat Morrison.

Pine Lake Club Hears Art Talk

Mrs. Malcolm Sweezey of Pine Lake road opened her home for the board meeting of Pine Lake Art Club this afternoon.

A talk on "Backgrounds of Art" was given by Mrs. LeRoy Small.

At 1 p.m. Wednesday, the club will hold its regular meeting and luncheon at Rotunda Inn. This will be a closed meeting as officers are to be elected.

Feted at Shower

A pink and blue shower honoring Mrs. Melvin McDowell was given by Mrs. George McGlone and Mrs. Delbert Burnett at the McGlone residence on Cameron avenue.

Selecting geraniums to be used as table prizes for the benefit to be given by Pontiac branch of the Woman's National Farm and Garden Association are left to right, Mrs. Milo J. Cross, Mrs. A. R. Young and Mrs. R. S. Nelson. The club is sponsoring a benefit bridge April 29 to furnish a room at Pontiac General Hospital. Mrs. Cross is opening her home for the affair, Mrs. Young is chairman of the benefit and Mrs. Nelson is assisting with arrangements.

Musicale Groups Stage Recital

The Student, Junior and Senior Groups of Pontiac Tuesday Musicale held a joint recital Sunday afternoon at Fellowship Hall of Grace Lutheran Church.

Mrs. Ralph O. Allen, Junior Club coordinator, introduced sponsors of the groups Mrs. Lester Snell and Mrs. Lynden Salathiel of the Student Group; Mrs. William Furlong and Mrs. David Eicher of Junior Group; and Elda Sutter and Mrs. George Cameron of Senior League. Mrs. Ralph Norvell, president of Pontiac Tuesday Musicale was also introduced.

★ ★ ★

Members of the Student Group taking part in the program were Diane LeBair, piano; Margaret Moreau, piano; Martha Kurzweil, violin; Ann Todd, piano; Beverly Benson, piano; and Mary Slowik, piano.

Junior Group members were Pam Morris, flute; Victor Schramm, recorder; David Eicher, cello; Pam Griffin, piano; Katherine LeCore, piano; and Karen and David Eicher, cello and viola duet.

Members of the Senior Group taking part were Sue Douglas, clarinet; Barbara Atwell, flute; Marlene Beale, voice; and Jerry Exline, tuba.

Accompanists were Deanna Relyea, Mrs. Charles Kurzweil, Mrs. Furlong, Mrs. Orrin Dalley, Miss Beale, Barbara Griffin and Mark Miller.

Miss Relyea poured at the tea following the program.

Sisterhood Slates Talk by Former Local Rabbi

Rabbi Milton Rosenbaum will speak on "Jewish Humor" and Judith Dickstein will present a piano recital when the Sisterhood of Temple Beth Jacob holds its annual donor night Tuesday, April 14, at 8:15.

Rabbi Rosenbaum of Temple Emanu-el in Huntington Woods, was formerly at Temple Beth Jacob. Husbands of the sisterhood members will be guests for the occasion.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Herman Dickstein, assisted by Mrs. Harold Goldberg wil be in charge of the social hour following the program at the temple. Others assisting are Mrs. Jerome Peters, Mrs. Meyer Fine, Mrs. William Present, Mrs. Herman Stenbuck, Mrs. Louis Traschen, Mrs. Alvin Steinman, Mrs. Bernard Horowitz, Mrs. Abe Lapides and Mrs. Irving Steinman.

All Saints Prepares to Open Antique Show

Stevens Hall, All Saints Episcopal Church, is humming with activity today as exhibitors and committee members set the stage for Pontiac's 1959 Antiques Show and Sale, opening Tuesday for three days.

Center of the activity is Mrs. Robert Tricker, general chairman of the show, directing traffic and solving problems. Reporting to her on pre-show ticket sales are Mrs. James Hampton and Mrs. Eva Dyer.

Members of the Michigan Weavers' Guild are arranging their handwoven articles for their exhibit and sale, to be held in the Girls' Clubroom.

The fragrance of freshly baked orange and date-nut breads and roasting turkeys comes from the kitchen as cooks prepare for the buffet lunch and tea to be served daily.

★ ★ ★

On the balcony Mrs. Horace Hall and Mrs. Norman Durpcher and their committee handle with care the fragile and precious heirlooms loaned for the occasion. Antique quilts, handwoven coverlets and shawls and hooked rugs will be on display here.

Notable among these is a pieced quilt 150 years old handed down to Mrs. L. Raymond Sampson from her grandparents.

A red and white coverlet, handspun, dyed and woven, is being shown through the courtesy of Mrs. Marshall Smith. Mrs. Smith's mother was only 12 years old when she fashioned this lovely fabric.

PAISLEY SHAWL

Mrs. Ross Stockwell is lending a double paisley shawl, woven in the Paisley Mills in Scotland. It was a treasure of the late Judge Stockwell's family. Two quaint old bonnets and a velvet cape, also from Mrs. Stockwell, will be modeled during the show.

A man's shawl, relic of the days of Lincoln, has been unpacked by Mrs. Arthur MacGregor. When it was worn by her great-uncle he was a young schoolmaster and considered quite dashing.

★ ★ ★

Hooked rugs on display are contemporary and were made from authentic early American designs by Mrs. Edward Karkau.

A shawl of fine wool in bright red and cream stripes, a wedding present to Mrs. Whitney Prall's mother, is being shown. Mrs. Prall is also lending a white bedspread, woven from cotton grown on her grandfather's plantation in Virginia. It is handspun and handwoven.

MANY QUILTS

Contributing to the quilt collection are Mrs. Peter Hooge-rhyde, Mrs. Fredrick Cockle, Mrs. Harry Baker, Mrs. H. B. Harbage, Mrs. William Isgrigg, Mrs. Larmon Smith, Mrs. Guy Meixsell, Mrs. Harold Kelly and Mrs. William Thomas.

The show, sponsored by the women of All Saints, will be open from 11 a.m. to 10 p.m. daily.

Are Guests All Close Relatives?

By EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post: My brother's wife has a distant relative of hers living with them in their house. We have family "get-togethers" several times a year on different occasions. I would like to know if it is necessary to invite my sister-in-law's relative to these get-togethers.

"I feel that she has no place at these gatherings but have been told that it would be very rude to leave her out. I would like your opinion."

Answer: If these gatherings include none but immediate members of the family, it is unnecessary to invite her. But if you are going to have any relatives or friends, it would be rude to leave her out.

"Dear Mrs. Post: Will you please tell me if it is correct or even in good taste when serving a scotch (or rye) and soda to guests in one's house, to leave the "stirrer" in the glass? I have encountered this quite a few times and was rather surprised.

"It is not only very awkward to attempt to drink out of a glass with one of these in it, but is is impossible to find a place to rest it should one try to get rid of it. If is my contention that the "stirrer" belongs at a bar or in one's kitchen. What is your opinion?"

Answer: If a "stirrer" is used at all in one's house, it should be removed from the glass.

"Dear Mrs. Post: My girl friend was to have been married this spring at a large wedding. I had planned to give her a shower before the wedding. However, two weeks ago she and her fiance eloped and were married in another city. I would like to know if it would be proper to still give her a shower?"

Answer: There is no reason why you may not still give her a shower at this time if you like.

Church Women Discuss Books

The Year Book of Prayer for missions and missionaries in the foreign field and at home was presented by Mrs. W. H. Marbach at a meeting of the February-December Group of First Presbyterian Church Friday. Members met for a luncheon at the home of Mrs. Don Cotterman on West Iroquois road.

Mrs. Merle Voss reviewed the study book "Ever Widening Circles," explaining the section on Christian Political Circles. A Bible study on the subject, "The Spirit Speaks to the Church" was led by Mrs. Willis Brewer.

Cohostesses were Mrs. Earl Downing, Mrs. Edward Mann, and Mrs. Clifford McLean.

Mary Lou Darnell Speaks Vows at Kirk in the Hills

A double-ring ceremony performed Saturday at Kirk in the Hills united Mary Lou Darnell and Peter Skillman Rosborough. The Rev. Harold C. DeWindt officiated.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence T. Darnell of Bloomfield Hills. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Afred J. Rosborough of Birmingham.

IN RENAISANCE GOWN

Given in marriage by her father, the former Miss Darnell wore a candlelight Renaissance - period dress of imported silk taffeta trimmed with peau de longe lace. Her illusion veil was secured by a Juliet cap, and she held a colonial bouquet of white roses, lilies of the valley and orchids.

MRS. PETER S. ROSBOROUGH

Sister of the bride Mrs. Beverly Wallace of Chicago, Ill., was matron of honor. She wore a romance-blue princess style dress of silk organza over taffeta and a matching headband. Her flowers were white camellias.

★ ★ ★

Bridesmaids were Donna Chayer of Beloit, Wis.; Judith Rowland of Rockford, Ill.; Mrs. Alfred J. Rosborough Jr. of Birmingham, Patricia Siefrid of Royal Oak, Mrs. William Geary of Berkley and Mrs. William D. Myers of Rolling Meadows, Ill. All wore gowns and carried flowers identical to that of the honor matron.

ATTEND BRIDEGROOM

Alfred J. Rosborough Jr. of Birmingham was best man. Ushers were William Geary of Berkley, Charles Rankin, Earl Henderson, all of Birmingham; Carl Vogel of Royal Oak, and Kenneth Roberts of Detroit. Scott Brian Wallace, a nephew of the bride, was ringbearer.

Mrs. Darnell wore a honey beige silk dress and a cymbidium orchid for her daughter's wedding. Mrs. Rosborough was gowned in navy peau do soie with matching hat and wore a white orchid.

Following a reception held at the home of the bride's parents, the new Mrs. Rosborough changed to a beige wool costume suit with matching accessories for a two-week trip to New York City. After April 23 the couple will be at home on Coolidge road in Oak Park.

★ ★ ★

Mr. Rosborough attended Highland Park Junior College.

Out-of-town guests present were Mr. and Mrs. Lauran L. Rowland of Rockford, Ill., Mrs. Ann Chayer of Beloit, Wis., and Mr. and Mrs. William D. Myers of Arlington Heights, Ill.

Albion Alumni to Hold Dance

John F. Seely Jr. of Birmingham will be reception chairman for the Detroit Albion College Alumni Association's annual dance May 23 at the Red Run Country Club. Dancing will be from 9 until 1 a. m.

Other committee chairmen are John A. Ferry of Farmington, tickets; John P. Barry of Berkley, dance; and Jack L. Beauchamp of Detroit, general chairman.

Tickets may be secured from Mr. Seely who lives at Tanglewood court in Birmingham.

Dear Abby . . .

Suburbanites Sing When It Rains

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

"DEAR ABBY: Instead of being happy when nice weather comes on the weekend, we pray for rain. We live in the suburbs and every weekend our friends who live in the city come to visit us. It's so bad they even pop in before 12 noon and we hardly have a chance to get out of bed. The same silly excuse, "We were just riding through" and then they stay all day.

ABBY

"Abby, we have lost some friends because we told them we had plans on the Sunday they stopped here. WHY DON'T PEOPLE PHONE? It is really a big problem to us."

SUBURBAN BLUES

DEAR BLUES: Those "friends" who haven't the good manners to telephone before "riding through" deserve to be told that you have other plans. You'll miss these "friendships" like you'll miss a boil on your neck.

★ ★ ★

"DEAR ABBY: All right, how long does it take to have a baby? My wife and I were married in a hurry because she said she was expecting a baby. I got permission from my C. O. (and I had to tell him the reason) and it has been eleven months and there is no baby. She has been giving back her breakfast and she IS a little heavier, but she doesn't know which month she is in and sometimes she says she thinks she IS and sometimes she thinks she ISN'T.

"Now get this, Abby. She is AFRAID of doctors and refuses to go to one. I am about out of my head with this woman. Will you tell me what to do with her?"

SOLDIER

DEAR SOLDIER: Overrule her childish notions and insist that she get some medical attention—and on the double soldier!

"DEAR ABBY: I married a man with a 14-year-old boy. I don't expect this boy to call me "Mother" because his own mother is still living (divorced and remarried) but I do not like his calling me "HELEN" because it is disrespectful.

"He could call me "Mom" or "Mamma Helen" or even "Ma" of if that bothered him I wouldn't even mind him calling me "Mrs. So and So" but when he answers the phone or door and it's for me, he yells, "OH, HELEN!" like I'm a housemaid or something. I suppose this is petty and foolish, but it is my problem and I'd like some advice on what he should call me.

PUZZLED

DEAR PUZZLED: Don't make an issue of what this lad calls you. Real "respect" is seldom payable on demand. It's earned.

★ ★ ★

"DEAR ABBY: My boyfriend is stationed in Georgia and I won't see him until next summer. We have been going steady for three years and everybody knows we are going to get married. He wrote me saying he wanted to send me and engagement ring by mail. When I told my girlfriend she said everybody would laugh at me if I got engaged that way. She said the only way an engagement is official is if a boy puts the ring on the girl's finger and not until.

"Is she right, Abby, or could I accept the ring through the mail? I don't want to be laughed at, and I don't want to hurt my boy friend's feelings by telling him not to send it."

BROWN EYES

DEAR BROWN EYES: I suspect there is a "green-eyed monster" in the picture, also. Let your boyfriend send the ring. Many engagements have been officially made (as well as broken) via the mailman.

Good for Your Heart

Better Exercise Some, Men

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

During the past few years the importance of exercise in health has been emphasized. Many heart patients are urged to exercise to the extent of their ability. Of course this is always a matter for your physician to decide.

Coronary heart disease is seldom blamed today on too much physical exercise. Most experts feel that if a sudden and unusually strenuous spurt of exercise seems correlated with an attack, the disease already was well established. The present idea is more that the sedentary life may play a part in promoting heart trouble. Naturally exercise must be suited to the condition of the man or woman.

Many interesting studies have been conducted which seemed to indicate the vaue of exercise. Farmers have an unusually good health record so far as heart disease is concerned.

Diet also may be involved in that picture. The Food and Agriculture Organization of The United Nations found that all over the word those folks living in rural districts eat a diet which has much less fat in it than those living in cities, towns and hamlets.

The Study Group on Arteriosclerosis and Ischemiatic Heart Disease of the World Health Organization reports, "It has been suggested that the apparent rise in some countries in the frequency of heart disease among young and middle-aged men may be related to the reduction in the average level of physical activity."

In discussing the effects of the strains of work an article in The Lancet says, "In 69 men aged 60 to 69 in whom a confirmed diagnosis of coronary artery disease was made, the prevalence seemed to be unrelated to the mental demands of the men's occupations. It was fairly closely related to the physical demands of their occupations, being highest for men in sedentary work. This was most evident in professional and related occupations."

Yes, exercise done with a physician's approval and planned in accordance with the individual's physical condition, seems to be one of the best health measures we can adopt.

If the man in the family needs to lose weight, he can drop from seven to 12 pounds in 12 days with my Tubby Hubby Diet. If you would like to have this booklet, send 10 cents and a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request to Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

AUDREY MILLER

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Miller of Saginaw announce the engagement of their daughter, Audrey, to Wayne Magnan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Magnan of Airport road. A May 16 wedding is planned. Miss Miller attended Michigan State University, where her fiance is a junior.

Mary Raymond Becomes Bride of Daniel Dropps

Mary Raymond and Daniel Dropps were married Saurday morning at St. Michael Church. The Rev. Michael J. O'Reilly officiated at the ceremony before 200 guests.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. George Raymond of East Ypsilanti street and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Dropps of West Brooklyn street.

The bride chose a gown of rose point lace with a bateau neckline and long tapered sleeves. The bouffant floor-length skirt formed a chapel train. Her fingertip veil of silk illusion was held by a double crown of pearls and sequins, and she carried a cascade bouquet of green ivy and stephanotis centered by a white orchid on a white pearl prayerbook.

Phyllis Raymond was maid of honor. Her dress was of maize colored nylon sheer with a bateau neckline and cap sleeves. The circular skirt was pleated and she carried a bouquet of aqua carnations.

Bridesmaids were Grace Hurd, Carmelina McIsaac, Judith Sutherland and Joyce Dropps. Their dresses were like the maid of honor's, but in aqua and they carried cascade bouquets of yellow carnations. All the attendants wore picture hats.

Everette Dropps was best man. Ushers were Gordon Dropps of Ann Arbor, Thomas McIsaac, Donald Raymond, Edward Sutherland and Bernard Raymond was ringbearer.

BREAKFAST-RECEPTION

A reception breakfast was held at Knights of Columbus Hall. Before leaving for a honeymoon to Florida, the bride changed to a navy blue suit with light blue accessories and the white orchid corsage from her wedding bouquet.

The couple will live on Stanley street.

Mrs. Raymond wore a navy blue crepe dress with pink accessories for her daughter's wedding. Mrs. Dropps was dressed in aqua silk with beige accessories. Both wore pink rose corsages.

U.S. Tourists in Japan Are Confused Kings

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

TOKYO—An American tourist in Japan is a confused king in a court he never made.

All about him, and considerably beneath him in physical stature (the Japanese being roughly ¾ths his size), are smiling men and fawning women.

They bow. They say "Okay" and "Yes Sa" to his requests. They confine their hands to their pockets to avoid being tipped. They are courteous, correct and, in the female version, lovely as glossy silk.

Yet the tourist with sensitivity sense almost immediately that, between him and the diminutive hosts and hostesses, there can be no real rapport.

Partly it is a matter of languages that are as incompatible as pidgin English and Sanskrit (a Japanese student studies from ages 6 to 16 to learn 2,000 symbols of their language; Westerners find it utterly forbidding).

But mainly, the differences lie in the morals, the religions, the economics and the attitudes between these surfacely polite and almost subservient people who still worship before statues and the shrines of their ancestors—and the relatively easy-going Western world.

★ ★ ★

"When we get our jets out there in the Pacific later this year," a Pan-American pilot said, "There'll be only nine hours between the U. S. and Tokyo."

. . . Nine hours—and 2,600 years.

NATION OF ENIGMA

Possibly no nation in history has been more of an enigma to other nations than Japan, and this very puzzle makes it a fascinating land to visit.

Americans who live here claim that they still feel like tourists, living in an exotic dream world where every day is a colorful, unpredictable experience.

For the price of one week's domestic help in New York City, an American in Tokyo can have four servants for the month, gentle little bobbysoxers to bow the food to the table, husky mama-sans to dust, sweep and prepare culinary masterpieces out of "Good Housekeeping Cookbook," sinewy artist-gardeners to care for the grounds and young men to chauffeur the car to the office.

American housewives report that they live in luxury-unto-absurdity. Their servants are diligent and punctual and like all Japanese, excessively polite. But understand them?

"Heavens, no," said a New Orleans woman, here five years. "They seem loyal and devoted for two long years and they spoil you rotten. Then one day, they disappear—perhaps taking a bit of your jewelry with them. Why? You wonder.

"Did you do something to offend their dignity? Did they want more money and hesitate to tell you? Or maybe they needed the jewelry to pawn for some offering to their ancestors."

★ ★ ★

"The longer you're here, the less you understand the Japanese mind. You can make generalities about other Asian countries—say that the Indians are grim, the Chinese are friendly, and the Russians are crafty. The Japanese are just plain incomprehensible."

Japan has been an island of self-imposed isolation since 660 B.C., when the legendary Jimmu, great grandson of the sun goddess, founded the dynasty that still exists today.

Its roots were in China, but the Chinese blood was mixed with some primitive Mongoloid stock from the Asia mainland and some Polynesian blood from the islands.

It worshipped its ancestors as deities, and its contemporary emperor as divine. In recent history, its children were brought up to feel that the greatest joy in life would be to die for their emperor—and in so doing they, in a minor way, would become divine.

Such thinking led to Pearl Harbor and self-destruction, and to Japan's present status, as an island that must depend on the Western culture for life: Confused, proud, uneasy, set apart, with a new democratic way of life they didn't ask for.

The attitude of the "new Japan" may well be as confusing to its own people as it is to us.

Mother Puts Kibosh on Youthful Business

LANDRUM, S.C. (AP)—Chalk up another small businessman as a failure.

Jerry Clark, 5, strung up a barricade with his fishing tackle at a small bridge leading to his mother's beauty parlor.

He had cleared 21 cents — one per customer — when Mom, Mrs. Wayne Clark, put him out of business.

If your income is over $5,000, it's 91 per cent certain that you own a car. Live better by far with a brand new car.

Urge School Age Hike

LANSING (AP) — Delegates to the convention of the Department of Elementary School Principals have adopted a resolution urging that any child entering kindergarten be at least 5-years-old by Sept. 1 of the year he enters school. This would hike the minimum age for entering school by three months.

7 U.S. Spacemen Train for Flight Into Orbit

ONE WILL GO—Testing to choose America's first spaceman has boiled down the number of candidates to seven. All are married men with families. Three branches of the U. S. military are represented. The men won't know which has been selected to become our first space traveler until the day of the big ride. The candidates are (from left): Navy Lt. Cmdr. Walter Shirra, Hackensack, N. J.; Navy Lt. Cmdr. Alan Shephard Jr., East Derry, N .H.; Air Force Capt. Virgil Grissom, Mitchell, Ind.; Air Force Capt. Donald Slayton, Sparta, Wis.; Marine Lt. Col. John Glenn, New Concord, Ohio; Navy Lt. Malcolm Carpenter, Garden Grove, Calif.; and Air Force Capt. Leroy Cooper Jr., Carbondale, Colo.

FLYING BLIND — Air Force Capt. Grissom is blindfolded as he "flies" in an equilibrium chair. Dr. Joseph Mundie attends Grissom as he tries to keep the rotating chair on an even keel.

Lucky Man to Stay a Secret

WASHINGTON (AP)—The first Mercury Astronaut to attempt an orbit of the earth won't know he's been chosen until the day of the big ride.

★ ★ ★

That was the reply of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration to queries as to what special preparation the "first man," among the seven-man team, will receive.

"They'll all get the same training, all seven of them," an NASA spokesman said.

★ ★ ★

"The man who draws the first launching won't know about it ahead of time so he won't have time for any special preparation. He won't have any special worries beforehand, because all his companions will face the same selection possibilities as he will."

★ ★ ★

All seven appear equally eager to be the first into orbit, regardless of the menace of the unknown.

Air Force Capt. Donald Slayton expressed the views of all. "I'd give my right arm to be the first man in space," he said.

After their introduction at a news conference last week—which one astronaut called the worst part of the whole grueling selection program—the seven future spacemen were to be on their own for two weeks.

This will give them time to move their families from California, from Ohio, from their various homes to the tidewater area of Virginia.

Henceforth, for several years, at least, the seven men will be part of NASA's space task group at the Langley Research Center, Hampton, Va. They will make their own housing arrangements, will buy or rent homes in the Hampton area.

★ ★ ★

NASA said all seven would get the same intensive training for the next two years except for one important difference.

Each will be trained as a scientist in one particular phase of space research.

One will become a technical specialist on communications, another on propulsion systems, another on guidance.

★ ★ ★

Each specialist will be responsible for keeping his colleagues abreast of developments in his particular field.

For 'Mercury' Pilots

Tests Were Rough

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The seven test pilots picked for Project Mercury's manned satellite program already have been through enough to make an ordinary mortal holler uncle.

If they don't wonder what space flight can do to them that hasn't been done, they're not human.

For seven and one-half days and three evenings at the Lovelace Clinic in Albuquerque, N.M., they submitted to every indignity doctors could think up for physical examinations.

Then for six days and three evenings at the Wright Air Development Center's aeromedical laboratories in Dayton, Ohio, they were buffeted with "stress measurements" and with various "psychological evaluations."

★ ★ ★

In the Wright ordeal, for example, they were required to fill out a 566-item questionnaire and then, without paucing for breath, give an acceptable answer to the query, "Who am I?"

The exhaustive and exhausting tests to which the Mercury Astronauts were subjected were detailed last week by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA).

Reporters at a news conference with the Astronauts asked which of their ordeals they liked least. One complained that wherever the doctors found part of the body into which they could push something into, they pushed—"as far as they could go."

Another lamented the time spent on a "bicycle treadmill." A third said he was not overjoyed by the requirement to swallow a long tube for some gastric examination or other.

TAKE MANY TESTS

The layman schooled by science fiction in the horrors of space—weightlessness, disorientation, claustrophobia, and such—might wonder if life at Albuquerque and Wright was any better. At Wright, for example, doctors:

★ ★ ★

—Made the candidate hop 20 inches high every two seconds for five minutes.

—Forced him to walk a treadmill until his heart hit 180 beats per minute.

—Required him to plunge his feet suddenly into a tub of ice water.

—Asked him to make sense out of a control panel with 12 constantly changing signals, each requiring a different response.

—Packed him into a space suit and for one hour checked to see how his heart operated at a simulated altitude of 65,000 feet.

—Isolated him for three hours in a dark soundproofed room to see if he could stand it.

★ ★ ★

—Put him in a rotating machine to test his ability to suffer with poise pressures many times that of gravity.

—Heated him for two hours at 130 degrees.

—Asked him to control, blindfolded, a tipsy chair with built-in tendencies to whirl in three dimensions at once.

★ ★ ★

None of the Astronauts beefed too much about these terrestrial stresses. But all of them, without exception, said they would welcome a chance to spend a few quiet hours in space.

HOT SPACEMAN—Perspiration covers Navy Lt. Malcolm S. Carpenter as he reads during a heat test. The test was designed to measure Carpenter's ability to function under extreme heat stress. The temperature was 130 degrees.

GRAVITY TEST—Ability to cope with multiple gravity forces is recorded as Marine Lt. Col. John H. Glenn is locked into a centrifuge by Dr. Evan Lindberg. All pictures of tests were taken at Wright Air Development Center in Ohio and released by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

'Mercury Astronauts' Pick of Nation's Pilots

By JOSEPH L. MYLER

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Seven nonchalant young men have been launched on astronautical careers which may take each of them into orbit around the earth aboard U.S. satellites.

They are "the Mercury Astronauts," chosen above all others for the honor and glory and the danger of being the first to carry their country's colors into space.

They cherish the honor, aspire to the glory, and despise the danger.

The seven — one Marine, three Navy, and three Air Force test pilots — were presented publicly by the National Aeronautics and Space Adminstration (NASA) Thursday as the Americans best qualified for Project Mercury, as the manned satellite program is called.

They range in age from 32 to 37. All are married and all have children. In appearance they look like almost any group of tanned, healthy close-cropped American males. They laugh easily and give the impression of knowing what they are doing and where they are going.

★ ★ ★

But not one of the hundreds at Thursday's mass news conference with the Mercury Astronauts at NASA headquarters came away with the notion that these young men are just average representatives of their generation. One of their examiners let it be known that their I. Q.'s run above 130 which, he said, "is very high — higher than any of ours."

NASA Director T. Keith Glennan, in introducing the select seven, described them as "superb." Another NASA official later predicted that these gifted men eventually will form the nucleus of America's first "Academy of Astronautics."

JUST ANOTHER JOB

All of the seven took the attitude that the Mercury assignment was just an extension of the work they already had dedicated their lives to as test pilots.

One reporter asked what "sustaining faith" lay behind the pilots' decision to volunteer for a job unique in the history of man.

The seven replied that they were buoyed by religious faith, their wives' faith in them, their faith in themselves, and their faith in the people planning Project Mercury.

All are in the process of being uprooted with their families from the places they called home before Project Mercury moved in on them. They have been given until April 27 to transplant themselves and their families to NASA's Langley Research Center near Hampton, Va.

Mercury, briefly, is a project to fire a man into orbit —in 1961, if possible — and bring him back alive.

★ ★ ★

Only one of the Mercury seven can, of course, make the first historic voyage into space. He will be picked on the day the first U.S. manned satellite is launched. But NASA officials promised that his colleagues will have their chance to contribute to the young art of astronautics in subsequent Mercury flights.

Until then, some or all of the Mercury pilots will — if all goes well — get rides in the nose of an Atlas rocket over the ballistic missile range between Cape Canaveral, Fla., and Ascension Island in the South Atlantic. They will be preceded by monkeys, dogs, pigs, and possibly bears.

MANNED CAPSULE

But the climax of Project Mercury will come on the day when a controlled space capsule blasts off from Canaveral with a Mercury pilot inside.

It will course around the earth two or three times, at intervals of about 90 minutes, at an altitude of 100 to 150 miles. Then, coming in over the Pacific toward California, the pilot will fire three reverse rockets which will force the air-conditioned capsule to begin its descent.

It will re-enter the atmosphere near Canaveral. A small parachute will pop out at 60,000 feet to slow its plunge. At 10,000 feet a bigger one will open to drop man and capsule gently into the ocean.

Four waiting ships, if the plan works, will retrieve the buoyant space bulb and its human passenger.

Even if it fulfills all expectations, Mercury will be but a "stepping stone in development of space exploration techniques," the NASA said.

Four on Raft Hope to Drift to South Seas

CALLAO, Peru (AP) — Four men from three nations headed West into the Pacific today in hopes the wind and ocean currents will carry their raft to the South Sea isles.

★ ★ ★

The sail-equipped raft Cantuta II is skippered by Edward Ingris, 45, of Czechoslovakia. He is accompanied by Jose Matause, 37, another Czech; Joaquin Guerrero, 37, of Argentina; and Jaime Toledo, 34, of Peru.

Ingris and Guerrero failed in a previous attempt to make the voyage aboard the Cantuta I.

★ ★ ★

Several adventurers have made the crossing since Thor Heyerdahl, a determined Norwegian, rode the raft Kon-Tiki with his companions from Peru to the South Pacific. To prove it wis possible for early inhabitants of the South American coast to have gone with the wind and the ocean currents to the islands of Polynesia.

Illinois, with 110,000 railroad workers, has the greatest railroad employment of any state, with an annual payroll exceeding half a billion dollars.

2 Crashes and Out for Gas Truck Driver

MONTICELLO, Utah (AP) — A truck-trailer carrying liquefied gas overturned south of here Sunday. Driver Charles Allen Hamilton, 23, allup, N.M., was unhurt.

★ ★ ★

He borrowed a smaller truck to transfer gas from the wrecked vehicle to Aero Gas Corp. tanks at Blanding, Utah.

★ ★ ★

Several hours later, the second truck left the highway at a hairpin curve and plunged into Rocky Devils Canyon.

Hamilton was killed.

Judge Admires Work Done to Repair Auto

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—In municipal court on a charge of driving an unsafe automobile, 19-year-old Harold Hedges produced snapshots showing his car had been reconditioned from grill to back bumper since his arrest.

He got off with $13 in court costs and a compliment from the judge on a "minor miracle" in repair work.

In 1900 surveys indicated that there were less than 8,000 automobiles in the U. S., and less than 10 miles of concrete pavement. Today there are 5,982,342 registered autos on over 56,000 miles of surfaced roads.

Memorial to Sen. Taft Recalls '52 Convention

WASHINGTON (AP) — Times change, politics makes strange bedfellows, your opponent can become your friend, and it is fitting to speak well of the dead.

Against a background of such time-proven statements, Dwight D. Eisenhower will take part tomorrow in a ceremony honoring the late Robert A. Taft.

No one who remembers the 1952 Republican convention in Chicago will forget the bitter fight between Taft and Eisenhower for the presidential nomination, or its strange and somewhat poignant aftermath.

Taft, "Mr. Republican," Senator from Ohio, mastermind of Senate GOP strategy, desperately wanted to follow in his father's footsteps and be elected President.

He tried more than once, and failed. He thought '52 was his year. It almost certainly would have been except that Eisenhower dusted off his five stars and knocked Taft out with one punch in a first ballot nomination at Chicago.

* * *

Remember?

Ike muscling through crowds on that Chicago street to clap the beaten Taft on the shoulder . . . Taft summoning up a weak smile . . .

And then Taft, renouncing all White House hopes, hitting the campaign trail for Ike . . . meeting with Ike after the election . . . charting his own program for the new administration . . . getting Ike to go along with most of it . . . steering it through Congress.

And then dying of Cancer July 31, 1953.

Curiously, Taft noticed the first sign of his fatal illness — a weakness in the legs — just before leaving for Augusta, Ga., for a golf date with the President who had become his friend.

Today Eisenhower flies back from Augusta to take part in the dedication of a Taft memorial bell tower 16 blocks from the White House which Robert Alphonso Taft never got to occupy.

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

New York, N. Y. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain — without surgery.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by doctors' observations.

Pain was relieved promptly. And, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.

And most amazing of all — this improvement was maintained in cases where doctors' observations were continued over a period of many months!

In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' standing.

All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®) — the discovery of a world-famous research institution. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.

This new healing substance is offered in suppository or ointment form called Preparation H.® Ask for individually sealed convenient Preparation H suppositories or Preparation H ointment with special applicator. Preparation H is sold at all drug counters. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded.

First Venus Probe Likely Next Month

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States plans to launch a 50-pound satellite next month as a preliminary step toward exploring the planet Venus.

A National Aeronautics and Space Administration spokesman said Sunday night the launching will be attempted from Cape Canaveral, Fla., under NASA supervision. He said a follow-up attempt probably will be made in June to send a satellite into the vicinity of Venus.

Next month's satellite, equipped with four rectangular fins, will have a solar battery much more powerful than the one contained in Vanguard I. The first Vanguard, launched almost 13 months ago, still is orbiting and its solar-powered transmitter is still sending signals. The fins on the planned satellite will provide more area for gathering solar energy.

NASA hopes the new satellite will orbit at a peak altitude of 20,000 to 30,000 miles, dipping to a low altitude of 200 miles. It will contain devices to measure cosmic rays and check magnetic fields.

Honeymoon in Florida Following Area Wedding

LAKE ORION — Area newlyweds, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas M. Angeli are honeymooning in Florida following their recent marriage at St. Joseph Catholic Church.

★ ★ ★

The bride is the former Gloria M. Oliver and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas P. Oliver of 32 East St, Oxford. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry J. Angeli of 553 Central Dr.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Vincent Myrick before an altar decked in white lilacs.

For her wedding the bride chose a princess-style gown with an empire waistline of Italian silk. The portrait neckline was trimmed in alencon lace re-embroidered with irridescent sequins and pearls.

★ ★ ★

Her floor-length skirt fell in a chapel sweep and featured a double butterfly bustle. A fingertip veil of silk illusion was secured by a taffeta headpiece. She carried a bouquet of white orchids and carnations.

★ ★ ★

The bride's sister-in-law, Mrs. Richard Oliver of Pontiac, assisted her as matron of honor.

★ ★ ★

Bridesmaids were Mrs. William Oliver and Mrs. Timothy Oliver, both of Pontiac and also sister-in-law of the bride.

★ ★ ★

The duties as best man were performed by the bridegroom's brother, Henry J. Angeli Jr. of Lake Orion. Ushers were William Gardner of St. Clair Shores and Ronald Tripp of Lake Orion.

★ ★ ★

The newlyweds will reside in Lake Orion upon their return next week.

Ortonville Youth, Ferndale Man Dead

2 Area Persons Killed by Traffic

Two area persons were killed in weekend traffic accidents. One, a Ferndale man, died of injuries received in a crash in Lapeer County. And the other victim, a 17-year-old student from Ortonville, was killed in Iowa.

Robert Graves, 58, of 2917 Horton St., Ferndale, died early Sunday in Hurley Hospital, Flint, of injuries he suffered the night before in a car-truck smashup.

★ ★ ★

The accident occurred on M24 at Otter Lake Rd., Lapeer County Sheriff deputies reported today.

Charles Kile, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kile of 2791 Groveland Rd., near Ortonville, was killed instantly Friday night in a two-car collision two miles north of Marshalltown, Iowa, on Highway 14.

He was a passenger in a car driven by Melvin G. Moschke, 23, Twin Lakes. Both were students at a telegraphers school in Marshalltown.

Moschke was reported in satisfactory condition at a Marshalltown hospital.

★ ★ ★

Driver of the truck involved in the Lapeer County accident was Edward R. Dodds, 23, of Vancouver, B.C. He was taken to Lapeer County General Hospital with a broken nose, face cuts and bruises.

Sheriff's deputies are still investigating the accident. The truck driver told them he couldn't remember what happened, and both vehicles are so badly damaged it is hard to determine point of impact, they said.

Candidate Is Patient but Arabian Can't Vote

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—Bill Hartley, campaigning for city council, was stopped by a university student and spent 20 minutes answering questions about the American electoral system.

"Are you registered to vote?" Hartley finally inquired.

"Oh, no," explained the youth. "I'm from Saudi Arabia."

Romeo Girl Fights for Life in Hospital

ROMEO — A six-year-old Romeo girl is in St. Joseph Hospital, Mount Clemens, fighting for her life today after suffering second and third degree burns over 50 per cent of her body in an accident in her own backyard Sunday.

Marylyn Luscomb, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard D. Luscomb, of 276 E. Gates St., is reported "holding her own" in the hospital today.

The youngster's mother said Marylyn and several other small children were playing near a small trash fire and her daughter was trying to keep the younger boys away, she said.

Apparently the fire was stirred up and a piece of burning paper blew up, landing on Marylyn's dress setting it afire, Mrs. Luscomb stated.

The trash fire was left unattended only for a moment when the accident happened.

★ ★ ★

The little girl ran to the door of the house screaming, but wouldn't come in, her mother said, because she didn't want to set the house on fire.

★ ★ ★

The child's parents rolled her on the grass and beat the flames out with their hands. Her father then called Romeo State Police to escort his car through the Sunday traffic as he rushed his daughter to the hospital.

New York Senators to Reveal Their Payrolls

WASHINGTON (AP) — New York's senators, Republicans Jacob K. Javits and Kenneth B. Keating, plan to make their office payrolls public.

"Both of us hope the Senate as a whole will approve a policy of disclosure, but if not we shall act on our own," Keating said in a statement Sunday.

Buttons, a Cat, Saved Renee, a Poodle Puppy

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Nobody knows how Buttons knew about it, but Buttons—just a plain alley cat—saved Renee's life.

★ ★ ★

Renee is a poodle, six months old.

★ ★ ★

Buttons made enough noise Saturday night to awaken Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bradford and lead them to Renee, recuperating in a back room from a tonsillectomy.

Renee, who had bitten into a live electrical extension cord, was unconscious. Bradford gave artificial respiration. Mrs. Bradford called the Harris County Emergency Corps.

Ike Talks Politics With GOP Women

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower and top officials of his administration talk politics and programs with 2,000 women today.

The President, returning briefly from a Georgia golfing vacation, will address a dinner tonight of Republican women from 46 states gathered for their three-day seventh annual conference.

★ ★ ★

Vice President Richard M. Nixon started things off Sunday night. Gathering in a long queue, the women turned out to shake hands with the vice president at a two-hour reception.

3-Year-Old Found in Field Unharmed

ST. JOSEPH (AP)—Three-year-old Virginia Lee Ford, object of an all-night search by some 150 persons, was found unharmed and asleep in a weed-covered field yesterday about a mile from her home near here.

The girl, wearing a snowsuit apparently suffered no ill effects from the sub-freezing weather, doctors said.

Searchers included boy scouts, sheriff's deputies and neighbor-farmers. They were aided by two planes and a bloodhound.

Virginia was found by Henry Taylor, a farmer from Sodus Township.

★ ★ ★

The little girl, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Ford, wandered off from her home in Sodus, near here, late Saturday afternoon. She was last seen about 5 p.m. playing in her yard.

Virginia got lost and apparently wandered around until she got tired and then went to sleep, deputies said.

Sales of new motor vehicles in Canada during the first six months of 1958 fell to 245,458, an 8 per cent drop from the corresponding 1957 period.

Women Hold Jobless Rally

Leader Demands That Carl Stellato, Local 600 Chief, Find Solution

DETROIT (AP)—A group of some 90 laid-off Ford workers, mostly women, held a "we want jobs" rally in a North Woodward auditorium yesterday.

Etta Belle Warren, 39, Rouge plant assembly line employe and a leader of the rally, demanded a solution from Carl Stellato, president of Ford local 600 of the United Auto Workers.

She said that if Stellato was unable to produce results she would campaign against him in local 600's annual election May 6.

Miss Warren said she has 16 years seniority at Rouge but has worked only 12 weeks in the last 18 months.

Among those present at the meeting was Pat Rice, a former local 600 vice president who will oppose Stellato for the presidency. Rice has had a long career in the UAW.

Rice said the Rouge plant has lost 10,000 jobs because of Ford subcontracting policies. He said that Stellato was at fault in permitting this.

Stellato was not at the rally. Asked for comment, however, he said he could do no more for laid-off women than for anyone else. He also said the number of jobs for women at Rouge has decreased greatly.

Stellato said Rice's statement was without foundation. He said the union could not decide "for Ford" on where a job was to be done.

Grapes have been cultivated so long that the plant's place of origin cannot be accurately determined. Egyptians evidently grew grapes and made wine 6,000 years ago. The oldest Hebrew, Greek and Roman writings all refer to grape culture.

Hollywood Headlines

Sal Mineo Loses Flame to Dashing King Hussein

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD — The youthful King Hussein of Jordan probably doesn't know it, but he threw Sal Mineo, the teenager's delight, into a royal tizzy when His Majesty monopolized Susan Cabot while he was here.

Sal confessed on the set of "A Private's Affair" at 20th that he was frankly non-plussed over the royal competition. He said he met Susan in New York and had been steadily courting her for several weeks when the 24-year-old Moslem king moved in on her affections and left him in the cold.

"But what can you do when your girl becomes infatuated with a king?" he asked.

Theodore Bikel, who won an Academy nomination for best supporting player in "The Defiant Ones," is loud in his praise of Hollywood's kindness to foreign-born actors. He comes from Israel.

His next picture is "Blue Angel" at 20th Century-Fox, in which he will play one of the featured roles with Curt Jurgens and May Britt. This is his second trip to 20th. He was with Susan Hayward in "Woman Obsessed."

At the Academy Awards Susan introduced me to Bikel, whom I had never met. He feels in Hollywood any actor really has a chance and the awards don't just go to Americans. He cites as an example Scotland-born David Niven getting the top male award.

Do we neglect our old-time stars? Jacques Tati, winner of the Academy award for "My Uncle," said he thought it was a shame that the great comedians of the screen were not more honored in Hollywood.

I talked with him at the cocktail party Walter Reade Jr. gave in his honor. Harold Lloyd and Buster Keaton were among the guests. Tati had gone earlier to call on Mack Sennett and had seen Stan Laurel, who is not well.

"In France," he said, "we never forget our stars." I told him we don't forget them, but we live in such a hustle and bustle perhaps we don't take time out to remember the stars of yesteryear as well as we should.

Over the weekend Martha Hyer flew to New York to talk with Broadway producer Oscar Lerman about a starring role in "Sleeper Jump." This is a new comedy by Daniel Ullman, which Lerman is readying for a Broadway bow in the fall. Martha wants to arrange her picture commitments so she can accept the Broadway offer.

In addition to "Sleeper Jump," Lerman is also getting Pearl Buck's "My New Indian Family" ready for Broadway presentation. The music and lyrics are being written by Sammy Fain and Paul Francis Webster.

If Eva Gabor felt any qualms about the suicide of model Venita Ratcliffe, whose boyfriend, wealthy Richard Brown of New York, Eva has been seeing lately, she has kept it hidden.

★ ★ ★

She said today she is very excited about an offer received from London to star in the British stage hit "Odd Man In" on Broadway beginning in late summer. She is arranging her schedule with this in mind. Noel Coward is also writing a play for Eva and himself, after having teamed with her in "Present Laughter."

Airliner With 61 Limps In Safely

AKRON, Colo., (AP) — An airliner with 61 persons aboard landed on a snow-soft emergency field here Sunday night with only two of its four engines functioning.

Capt. D. L. Boone of Los Angeles brought down the American Airlines DC7 smoothly. There were no injuries.

★ ★ ★

The 56 passengers on the nonstop flight from Washington, D.C. to Los Angeles, were taken by bus to Denver, 90 miles west, where a DC7 ferried in from Chicago picked them up and continued the trip.

★ ★ ★

The pilot said a governor failed on the No. 2 engine on the left side. The engine spewed parts which ripped into neighboring No. 1 engine.

Without Books Life Would Be an Empty, Lonely, Dark Place, Says Author

(This week thousands of communities are observing the second National Library Week, sponsored by the National Book Committee in cooperation with the American Library Assn. Here a well known novelist explains what books—and libraries—mean to her.)

By TAYLOR CALDWELL

Written For The Associated Press

It is an old aphorism that we never miss what we have until it has gone.

We take books for granted, all the glory, tragedy, humor, sadness and adventure, which books contain, all the companionship and the inspiration, all the new paths they open for us, the new places, the new scenes, the new people the wisdom, the golden thoughts, the laughter.

A book is a passport to the world, and it is only when we lose that passport that we discover that we are homeless, that the world of men is closed to us, that we are bound and exiled, with no place to go, and that we have lost touch with our fellows.

* * *

There are some who say that it is much worse to be hungry and homeless and unwanted than it is not to have books. I disagree. I have been hungry, homeless and unwanted, and I filled all the barren space with the books I borrowed and I was consoled and inspired, and I was given courage.

For years the only books I possessed were Shakespeare, an ancient copy of Thoreau, "Quo Vadis" and "Jean Christophe." I read an reread them literally hundreds of times, in a place where there were no books at all and nothing to read.

I still have those old books; I wouldn't part with them for anything for I cannot forget what it means not to have books, the loneliness, the emptiness, the shut dark places.

EYE INJURY

The first terrifying experience of not having books—that is, unable to read them—occurred when I was 14 years old. I had been wandering in some woods and a thorn tree whipped at me and injured my right eye. For two weeks thereafter, I was forbidden to read until my eye healed.

There was music in our home, but music is only part of the world. I could walk on the streets, but the street was only a tiny section of living. I could talk with others, but talk does not convey a man's real thoughts. For a few days I had to live in a darkened room, and to this day darkness means terror to me and emptiness, a place without thought or being.

* * *

When I was finally permitted to read I fell on books as a starving man falls on food and I could not get enough of them, and I still can't, for without books there is a spiritual darkness.

A home without a library is not a home at all. The library does not have to be a special room. For many, many years my only library was three wooden shelves I put up myself in a rented room. Once my library consisted only of a suitcase.

Music and pictures, friends and entertainment, are only part of living. But books are all of living, for in them are music, pictures, friends and entertainment. A book contains the thoughts of the ages; the most modern book is only an echo of books written hundreds, even thousands of years ago. It is man's greatest monument — the book. The written word is man's noblest invention. A people without an alphabet and books are a people without civilization. They remain at the primitive level of beasts. "A man who does not read," said Plato, "is a creature who is not fully a man."

* * *

Three years ago I had another accident to my eye and was forbidden to read. I tried listening to the radio, both plays and music. I tried visiting with friends. And, I was not only bored but I was terrified. I began to visualize a world without books for me and the thought was unendurable.

So, against my doctor's orders I resumed reading, and it did not matter to me any longer whether or not I was injuring my affected eye. My very tenseness at not being able to read was hurting my eye worse than reading, and the infection cleared up quickly.

* * *

All material things could be taken from me and they would matter very little so long as I had my library, and so long as I could travel the long and fascinating world open to mankind only through books.

I have lost much of my hearing, but I hardly miss it, for I have only to start to read to hear voices "Heard things are good, but the unheard are sweeter."

Take a book in your hand. You will walk ways you never walked before, see people unknown to you but who echo your most secret thoughts, love again if you are without love or youth, hear wise men speak, listen to consolations and hopes, and see all beauty.

It was said by St. John, "In the beginning was the word. . . ." This not only true of God but true of his children. In the beginning, there is always the word. In more ways than one we die spiritually without books.

Detroit to Remodel 20 School Buildings

DETROIT (UPI)—First priority in Detroit's 90-million-dollar school construction program will go to remodeling and rehabilitating 20 ancient school buildings classified as fire or health hazards.

That was the word from Dr. Anthony Adinolfi, chief planner for the Board of Education in an interview with the Detroit Free Press.

Adinolfi said the school board Tuesday will be asked to set up advisory councils to work on planning four-million-dollar additions to Osborn and Ford high schools, a half-million-dollar addition to Yost elementary school and a new half-million-dollar Mark Twain elementary school.

He said the five-year construction program will get under way July 1.

Bowl of Chili So Hot It Set Barge Ablaze

CAPE ELIZABETH, Maine (AP)—A bow of hot chili blew up and set fire to a barge Sunday.

Authorities said the chili which erupted on the hot stove set fire to the eating and living quarters of the crew. No one was injured.

The fishing vessel Mary J. pulled up alongside and extinguished the blaze.

IRS Watches Your Income Tax

Nearly 3 Million Returns Were Checked Last Year

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — Just how much of a looking over will the Internal Revenue Service give my income tax return for 1958?

A lot of people may be wondering that, since the deadline for filing returns is Wednesday.

This year, IRS says, there will be returns from around 60 million individuals, 975,000 corporations, and a million partnerships, plus 20 million employment tax returns, and 3 million returns on federal excise, alcohol and tobacco taxes. There will be 260 million documents involving those returns.

That's a lot of looking over for the 50,000 people employed by IRS in its nine regional, 64 district, and 900 branch offices. Of the 50,000, about 15,500 are auditors but a lot of the others are used in checking returns.

In the case of some of the biggest corporations, IRS assigns three to five agents all year around because they have complexities never dreamed of by an individual taxpayer.

Last year 2,841,000 returns—including 159,000 from corporations—were completely checked. This means more than just checking the arithmetic. A complete check means auditors went over the books of corporations or the records of individuals.

30 MILLION 1040s

This year about 30 million people will have used the short-form 1040 because they made less than $10,000 in salary and fitted other requirements for using this simple return. These get looked over to see that the exemptions tally.

But they can be run through electronic computer machines which not only can determine the tax but can figure out whether you overpaid or still owe some tax.

All those reporting income over $10,000 not only get their arithmetic checked but also get a going over by an experienced agent to see whether the return should be accepted or turned over to an auditor for deeper examination.

The auditing can be done by calling in the taxpayer for a conference or sending an agent to his home or office to examine his records. The 2,841,000 returns audited last year brought the government an extra 1½ billion dollars.

ERRORS FAVOR TAXPAYER

Last year IRS found 1,905,000 errors in making the simple arithmetical check. Of that total, 1,245,000 taxpayers had made errors in their own favor. IRS usually tries to get a delinquent taxpayer to file a return. If he doesn't, IRS can file it for him and then set out to collect.

★ ★ ★

What happens if IRS audits your return and then decides you owe more tax?

★ ★ ★

You are notified but you can appeal the tax; after that you have a conference with the agent who examined your return and with his supervisor. Then, if you are still not convinced, with special technical advisers who work in IRS separately from the agents.

If after all this you and the service still don't agree, IRS will issue what is called a statutory notice this means within those 90 days you must appeal to the U.S. tax court or pay up.

★ ★ ★

Suppose you ignore the 90-day notice, don't appeal, and don't pay up. IRS presents you with a bill. Then either you pay or IRS will try to collect by seizing your salary, your car, or other possessions.

Last year IRS issued 73,000 statutory notices. But 66,000 people who got them paid up within the 90-day limit. That left 7,000 to fight it out in court.

★ ★ ★

In case of a downright evasion of tax a criminal charge can be made. But out of 60 million taxpayers, IRS says, only about 1,000 face criminal action each year.

Illinois Police Shoot Former Nazi Soldier

PRINCETON, Ill. (AP) — A former German soldier, far from his home in New Jersey, was shot three times by police yesterday, ending a bullet-spattered 90-mile chase through five northern Illinois counties.

The wounded motorist shrugged off questions as surgeons treated bullet wounds in his stomach, back and hip. One bullet lodged in the man's artificial leg.

Police identified the man as August Juergens, 32, of Farmingdale, N.J. He lost his leg during World War II while in the German army. He came to this country three years ago from Germany. In Farmingdale, neighbors said Juergens, unemployed, left his home Saturday morning to drive to Bridgeton, N.J., and hadn't been seen since.

Princeton Police said the glove compartment of the man's auto contained a eight-page written statement containing the remark: "Everybody hates me and I don't know why."

According to the latest figures, 10,300,000 people are currently employed in highway transport industries. Live better by far with a brand new car.

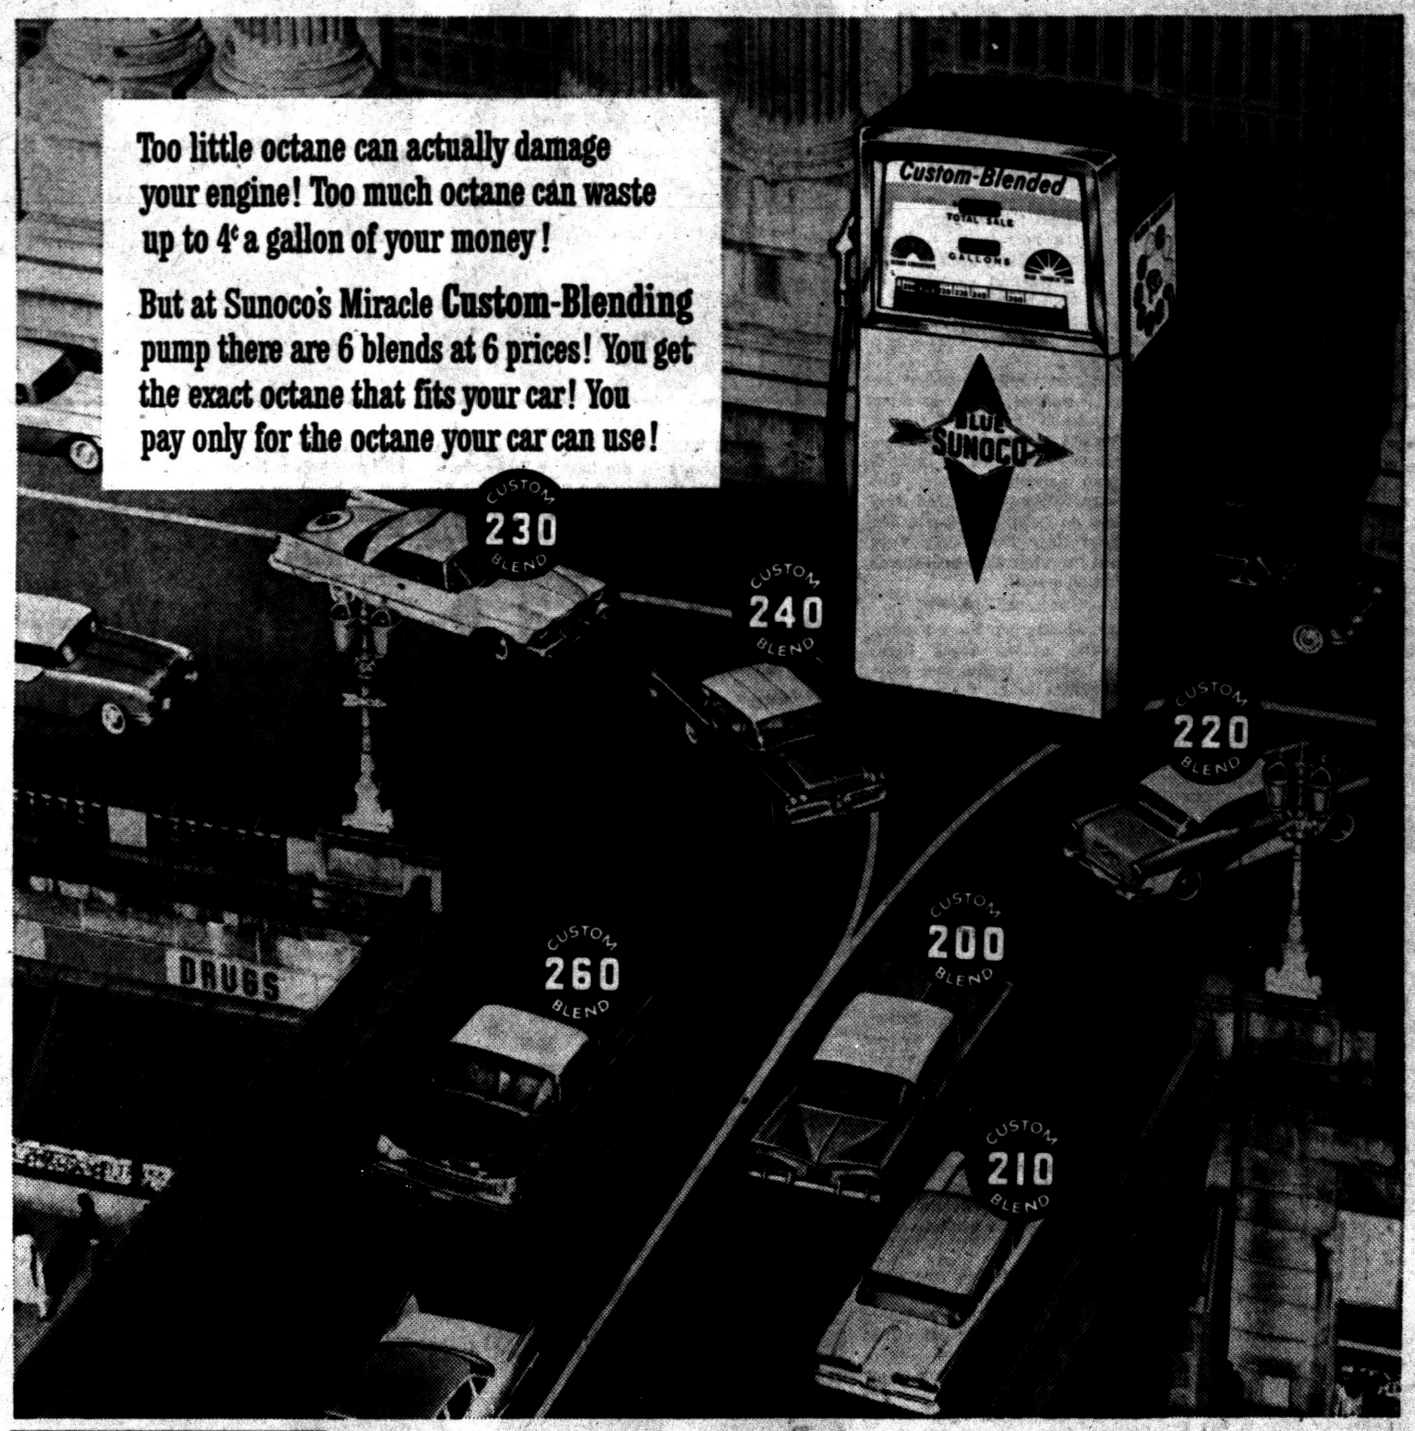
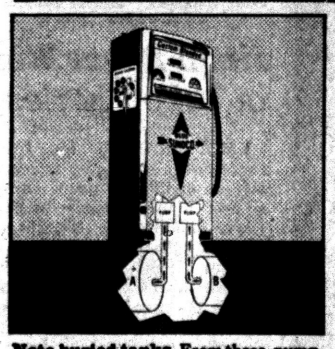
"Misfit-octane" hurts 2 ways!

Too little octane can actually damage your engine! Too much octane can waste up to 4¢ a gallon of your money!

But at Sunoco's Miracle Custom-Blending pump there are 6 blends at 6 prices! You get the exact octane that fits your car! You pay only for the octane your car can use!





Note buried tanks. From these, pump draws (A) premium quality Blue Sunoco "200", and (B) Sunoco Octane Concentrate (specially refined motor fuel). These are precisely blended by the pump to the exact blend number. Approved by various governmental authorities!

When you get the exact octane your engine needs . . . then and only then — will your car deliver its best power without wasting your money. In fact, when your fuel is custom-fitted to your engine by Sunoco, you can save as much as 4¢ a gallon on premiums!

And, because each of Sunoco's 6 great Custom-Blended fuels is the finest quality gasoline your money can buy, you'll enjoy surging power, instant acceleration and freedom from harmful deposits and spark plug fouling.

And, Custom-Blending is so easy! Just start with the blend recommended for your car by your Sunoco dealer. Next tankful, drop down to the next lower blend at the next lower price, and so on, until you find the blend that performs the best, yet costs the least!

Big power at "Regular" Price! Sunoco Custom Blend "200" means big new power for many "regular" users. It's proved higher octane than most "regular" buyers are getting anywhere else! It's higher quality...highest value!

CUSTOM-BLENDED BLUE SUNOCO

Only Sunoco's 6 can fit all cars!

Tigers' Hope for Fast Start Stalled

Bengals Strand 30 on Base in Three Defeats

Chisox Sweep Series With 5-3 Win Over Lary Sunday

DETROIT (UPI) —The Detroit Tigers' hoped-for fast start stalled.

But manager Bill Norman, who said he'll return Larry Doby to left field and probably juggle his batting order for tomorrow's game at Cleveland, said the Tigers will bounce back from the cellar to the first division after three straight two-run losses to Chicago.

★ ★ ★

And, Norman said he'll continue to go with his three-pitcher rotation of Jim Bunning, Paul Foytack and Frank Lary although none of them went all the way in the White Sox setbacks. Lary lost yesterday's encounter 5-3.

"These guys aren't 'down,'" Norman said, "they're professionals. We've been in every game right up to the end. And you have to remember we were beat by a pretty good ball club."

★ ★ ★

But the Tigers beat themselves as much as the White Sox did.

Six times in the three-game series Detroit loaded the bases without scoring a run, leaving a total of 30 men on base. Twice yesterday the Tigers jammed the sacks, on five walks and a safe sacrifice bunt, but the Sox slammed shut the door to the plate.

In the seventh, with Detroit trailing 4-3, Gail Harris couldn't get the bat off his shoulder and looked at a called third strike for the second out in the inning and then pinch-hitter Gus Zernial lofted a short fly to right to end the inning.

★ ★ ★

Three passes filled the bases in the eighth after Chicago scored its final run in the top of the inning on errors by Rocky Bridges and Gail Harris and Al Smith's sacrifice fly. Sox manager Al Lopez brought in ex-Tiger Bob Shaw, his fifth pitcher of the day, and Eddie Yost rapped his first pitch to third baseman Bubba Phillips who started an inning-ending doubleplay.

The Tigers set down Nelson Fox, who had seven hits in the first two games, without a hit yesterday but they weren't as lucky with Sherman Lollar who drove two runs across the plate including the winner. Rookie Norman Cash smashed his first Major League homer as Chicago grabbed a 3-0 first inning lead.

Detroit battled back with a pair in the second. Frank Lary singled with two down for the Tigers' first hit off Dick Donovan and Yost added another. Harvey Kuenn lined a double to left to score them. Yost cracked a lead-off homer in the sixth to tie the game briefly.

★ ★ ★

Jim Landis, who scored a pair of runs, tripled to the left center field fence and Lollar singled through the drawn-in infield for a 4-3 lead.

Lary, lifted for a pinch hitter, took the defeat while Donovan grabbed the victory. Donovan lost four one-run decisions to Detroit last season.

Area Fencers Get by Preliminaries

Two Pontiac area fencers got by preliminaries, Saturday, in the state fencing championships in Detroit. They included Birmingham's Dick Berry, and Lapeer's Judy Goodrich.

Berry, 1958 runnerup, and national champ, was in a 4-way knot back of Greg Flynn and Mike Bruce in the epee division. Judy, unbeaten in seven bouts, led women qualifiers.

Cepeda's Hitting Rips Cards

Look at the Giants Go, 3-0

By United Press International

The potent bat of Orlando Cepeda has the unbeaten San Francisco Giants off and running today in a start that takes the edge off perfect getaways by the favored pennant-contenders.

Neither the Milwaukee Braves nor the New York Yankees has lost a game but a look at the standings shows that each has ground to make up. The Giants' three-game sweep of the St. Louis Cardinals gave them a half-game edge on the Braves and the White Sox' three-game wrapup of the Detroit Tigers has earned them a one-game lead over the Yankees.

Standings at this stage of the race don't mean much, of course, but the point is that two strong contenders — not too heavily-favored defending champions — have made the most of the few games played so far.

Cepeda, the National League rookie of the year in 1958 when he hit .312, delivered the key blow in a 6-3 victory yesterday after driving in four of the Giants' five runs Saturday night. The Giants had rallied to tie at 3-3 on Willie Mays' two-run triple but the score was still tied when Cepeda went to bat with two out and Jim Davenport on base in the ninth.

★ ★ ★

The 21-year-old native of Ponce, P. R., promptly snapped the tie with a triple that put the Giants ahead, 4-3, and Felipe Alou followed with a homer that gave them their final margin of victory.

The world champion New York Yankees finally got underway after two rain-outs and beat the Boston Red Sox, 3-2, on World Series hero Bob Turley's two-hitter and the Los Angeles Dodgers defeated the Chicago Cubs, 5-3, in the only other games.

Al Worthington, who took over in the eighth inning, picked up the San Francisco victory after lefty Mike McCormick yielded three runs and six hits in seven innings. The Cardinals scored all their runs in the first inning aided by errors by Alou, Cepeda and Andre Rodgers but Vinegar Bend Mizell couldn't hold the lead against the hard-hitting Giants.

Norm Siebern, playing his first game at Yankee Stadium since his losing duel with the sun in the fourth game of the 1958 World Series, homered in the eighth to get the defending world champions off to a successful start. Turley didn't yield a hit until Pete Runnels doubled in the seventh and wasn't touched for the second Red Sox hit until Vic Wertz singled with two out in the ninth. Singles by Siebern, Yogi Berra, Gil McDougald and Marv Throneberry produced a 2-0 Yankee lead in the first inning.

Don Demeter's two-run seventh-inning double put the Dodgers ahead, 4-3, and a double by Gil Hodges and a single by Ron Fairly produced an insurance run in the eighth. Johnny Klippstein, who pitched the middle three innings, gained credit for the win although Clem Labine finished up. Labine allowed two hits and one walk and struck out one in his three frames.

New 'M' Grid Staff Greets 90 at Drills

New Aides Join Bump Elliott in Spring Football

U. of M. Coach Installs Winged-T System With 23 Lettermen Back

ANN ARBOR (UPI)—There's going to be a new look — everything from coaching staff to personnel to formation — when an expected 90 University of Michigan football players greet rookie head coach Chalmers "Bump" Elliott today.

Elliott has pieced together an almost completely new coaching staff to teach his wing-T formation to 23 returning lettermen, several reserves and a host of freshman candidates. Only Bob Holloway, who was promoted from assistant to head line coach, and freshman tutor Don Dufek were retained from former coach Bennie Oosterbaan's staff.

★ ★ ★

New coaches are Hank Fonde, the little ex-Ann Arbor High coach whose teams lost only eight games in 11 years; Jack Nelson, formerly of Utah and Colorado; and Jack Fouts, an assistant last year at Bowling Green University in Ohio. All are coaching in the Big Ten for the first time.

There is little doubt that Elliott and his staff have one of the biggest jobs in Michigan's colorful grid history. In an attempt to improve the school's 2-6-1 record they must rebuild with a relatively untested squad.

★ ★ ★

Only five regulars are listed among the returnees and Elliott points to noticeable weaknesses in depth at almost every position except halfback and guard. He says his freshman unit is "just average."

The returnees are halfbacks Brad Myers and Darrell Harper, guard Alex Callahan, tackle Don Deskins and captain-elect George Genyk, who will move to guard.

"The big job is to find a quarter back to replace Bob Ptacek," said Elliott, who will carefully watch the progress of senior Stan Noskin, reserve Don Hannah and newcomers Paul Palmer and John Stamos.

The big question is whether Noskin can show some of sophomore form after suffering a terrible slump last fall. The lightweight 165-pounder from Evanston, Ill., completed only 12 passes last year — and passing is supposed to be his specialty.

"Stan might do better in the wing-T formation this year," explained Elliott, who recalled Randy Duncan's passing success from this formation at Iowa. Elliott was backfield coach there during Duncan's first three years.

Last year Michigan ran from a single wing base, multiple offense. Now the quarterback's duties have changed, especially in that he will have to block less.

WEEKEND FIGHTS

Burgess Balks at Idleness in Pittsburgh

Trade-Minded Braves Get Vernon

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Manager Fred Haney was home with his Milwaukee Braves today—and rumor has it he is still pounding the trading tom-tom.

"We always think about trades," Haney says regularly. "It's one of the best ways to build a better ball club."

★ ★ ★

Veteran infielder Mickey Vernon was shifted to the roster of the National League champion Braves from the American League Cleveland Indians on Saturday in an even swap for Milwaukee hurler Humberto Robinson.

The latest name to pop up is that of Smoky Burgess of the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Executive Vice President Birdie Tebbetts — when asked point blank what he has on his mind in the way of future trades—won't deny that when he left Cincinnati to join the Milwaukee front office that he tried to bring Burgess with him. Pittsburgh, however, beat the Braves to the draw by offering Frank Thomas in contract negotiations.

★ ★ ★

Burgess is obviously disappointed that all of the Pirate catching duties so far have rested with Hank Foiles.

"If I can't catch regularly, I'm gonna wrap it up," Burgess said in Pittsburgh yesterday. "It isn't worth the separation from the family."

Burgess hinted that Pittsburgh would like to have Stan Lopata, whom Milwaukee obtained in a three for-three swap with the Philadelphia Phillies.

★ ★ ★

Haney called the swap with Philadelphia one of bench strength for bench strength but also said it helped ease Milwaukee's catching problms by having Lopata available to share the rugged receiving chores with Del Crandall and Del Rice.

Lopata has played in only one game with the Braves since the trade and that was an exhibition contest with Detroit. He was hitless in three trips to the plate. Burgess is rated as one of the top pinch hitters in the National League.

To date, contract haggling has brought Milwaukee second base men Johnny O'Brien and Ted Kazanski in addition to Lopata in the Philadelphia trade. The Braves' exchanges were pitcher Gene Conley and utility infielders Joe Koppe and Harry Hanebrink.

O'Brien is with the Braves, but Felix Mantilla and Chuck Cottier are slated for most of the work to plug the gap left by the ailing Red Schoendienst. Kazanski was sent to Louisville in the Miwaukee farm organization.

Still causing murmurs are negotiations with the Washington Senators for catcher Eddie Fitz Gerald. Tebbetts says the acquisition of Lopata in no way put a stop to plans to eventually having Fitz Gerald with Milwaukee.

"All we can do is wait and see what happens," laughs Haney.

NO-NO GAME TODAY — Typical of what happened around the Major Leagues the past weekend as the season got started was the "No Game" sign at many stadiums. Three inches of snow covered Forbes Field in Pittsburgh yesterday as the game with the Braves was called off. Youngsters enjoyed snowballs instead of baseball.

Hugh Royer Wins at Lake Charles

LAKE CHARLES, La. (AP)—Professional golf's ever increasing brigade of talented youngsters got a new member today in Hugh Royer of Columbus, Ga. His credentials included a victory in the seventh annual $5,000 Lake Charles Invitational tournament.

The 22-year-old broad-shouldered product of the University of Georgia came home in front by three strokes yesterday with a 72-hole total of 278. Although he faltered somewhat in the closing round, Royer withstood the valiant charge of old pro Dick Metz, the defending champion, who tied Mason Rudolph of Clarksville, Tenn., at 281.

Hose Going Places, Boss Says

Lopez Tabs 2 Rookies as Chisox Sparkplugs

DETROIT (AP)—Those go-go White Sox are going places, says manager Al Lopez.

"This is the fast start we've been looking for," said the Chicago manager after his club completed a sweep of a three-game series against the Detroit Tigers. "Beating a club as good as Detroit three in a row can do wonders for a club like the Sox."

Lopez has been a runnerup to the New York Yankees seven of the eight seasons he has been an American League manager. Always the optimist, Lopez contends each spring that his team is capable of beating out the Yankees.

This year the Sox skipper is depending on a pair of green rookies, neither of whom has had as much as two full seasons in the minor leagues.

★ ★ ★

"They can make or break us," said Lopez. "But even after just three games, I have all the confidence in the world both of them will come through and do great jobs for us."

Lopez is talking about Norm Cash, a 24-year-old outfielder who was handed the first base job, and John Callison, a left fielder who just turned 20.

Cash hit his first Major League home run in yesterday's 5-3 victory. It was a two-run blast in the first inning. Cash hit safely three times in 10 trips in the series, walked twice and stole a base.

Callison has failed to hit safely in 11 official at-bats but has drawn three walks.

"I'm not worried about him, though," said Lopez. "He's pressing like the devil. Once he shakes that off, he'll be fine."

Cash worked his way up from the "B" squad in spring training and beat Earl Torgeson, Ray Boone and Ron Jackson out of the first base job.

"These guys aren't just experiments," said Lopez. "Cash and Callison are regulars. They've strengthened our club enough so that I think we can win the pennant."

It never is too early for pennant talk with Lopez, even though he admits some baseball fans may tire of hearing it year after year from a club that has not won a flag since 1919.

"Why shouldn't I talk pennant?" Lopez asks. "We got off to a lousy start last season and the Yankees had an unbelievably good one. In the last half-season we outplayed every other team in the league. Now, with the kind of a start we got here in Detroit, this could be our year."

Fans Irk Finsterwald

GREENSBORO, N.C. (AP) — The sponsors of the Greater Greensboro Open Golf Tournament were wondering today if their current champion, Dow Finsterwald, may be around next year to defend his crown.

The 29-year-old Tequesta, Fla. PGA champ indicated yesterday after his six-under-par 278 72-hole total for top honors that he'd rather not play here next year because of what he termed "gallery cheering when I made a bad shot or missed a putt."

Finsterwald had to fight both a biting cold wind and rain, and the gallery in yesterday's final round, and wound up with a six-over par 77.

At the presentation ceremony he said he wondered what he had done to turn the gallery against him. Later in the locker room Dow, a PGA tournament committee member, declared he didn't mind the crowd rooting for Art Wall, a North Carolina favorite who went to Duke University, but he resented their cheering his own misfortunes.

Wall, Finsterwald and Tony Lema of San Leandro, Calif., played the last threesome of the day. It took just 10 minutes short of five hours for them to slosh around the 6,600-yard Starmount Forest Country Club course.

Finsterwald had a four-stroke cushion starting the final round, thanks to earlier rounds of 68-68-65.

DISGUSTED WINNER — Dow Finsterwald won the Greenboro Open golf tournament Sunday, but the Tequesta, Fla. pro says he won't return to the event next year. Finsterwald accused the galleries of bias, claiming the spectators cheered when he missed a put or made a bad shot.

Betsy Rawls First in Zaharias Open

BEAUMONT, Tex. (AP)—Betsy Rawls, the husky former Texan with the talented golf swing, led the women's tour in tournament victories today as the caravan headed toward Dallas and the $10,000 Civitan Open.

Miss Rawls won the $6,000 Babe Zaharias Open yesterday by overtaking Louise Suggs, another golfer seeking her third tournament victory.

Miss Rawls, who plays out of Spartanburg, S.C., and won the Lake Worth, Fla., and Columbus, Ga., opens on the winter tour, wound up with 215 for 54 holes to bag first money of $997.50. She is the only player winning more than two tournaments.

Miss Suggs, the veteran from Sea Island, Ga., led the tournament through its first round with a 4-under-par 69. But yesterday she faltered to a 74 on the first 18 to allow Miss Rawls to overtake her with a 71. Then she soared to 75 on the final 18 while Miss Rawls was posting an easy par 73.

Doctoring Your Golf

By DR. CARY MIDDLECOFF

PATIENT'S COMPLAINT: Early-season inconsistency. DIAGNOSIS: Timing naturally off.

Treatment: Starting to play golf again after a layoff, as most golfers are doing at this season of the year, naturally presents problems. Chief among these problems is getting your swing timing back right. This means the same as getting re-acquainted with the game — of getting the feel of it again.

The best and quickest way to do this is to practice your short shots — the chips and pitches — before you undertake the long ones. The swing you use for these is the full swing in miniature. But being a shorter and easier swing, it's a lot less complicated and therefore easier to time properly.

As you practice these short shots, pay attention to the basics of the swing: a smooth backswing . . . eye on the ball and head anchored in place; a smooth and unhurried downswing . . . a hit down and through the ball and a follow-through toward the hole.

I guarantee that this type of practice early in the season will give you a head start on your fellow players.

Remember, short shots or long, the formula is adherence to the four fundamentals. These you must be thoroughly familiar with.

Blake Aims at 4-Game Windup

Canadiens Go 2-Up With 3-1 Win Saturday

Habs' Boss Figures to Use Rocket and Jean Beliveau on Tuesday

MONTREAL (AP) — Confident, but still trying to wring every possible goal from his team, Coach Toe Blake of the Montreal Canadiens said today:

"We're certainly going to try to wind up this thing in four games."

★ ★ ★

And, he added, we might have a surprise in store for the Toronto Maple Leafs in the third game of the Stanley Cup finals in Toronto tomorrow.

The Canadiens, after a 3-1 victory Saturday lead 2-0 in quest of an unprecedented fourth straight Cup. Now they may use the injured Jean Beliveau. The big center, who scored 45 goals during the regular season, suffered a spinal injury against the Chicago Black Hawks in the Cup semifinal. He has resumed skating, but is in pain.

★ ★ ★

"I'm taking him along to Toronto," said Blake. "There's a chance we may be able to use him tomorrow and an even better chance he'll be in action Thursday.

"I'm not writing off the Leafs, but we are in a good spot, now."

He also said he's hoping that the great Maurice (Rocket) Richard is about ready to break into the scoring column. The 37-year-old Rocket, out with a broken foot since mid-January, returned to the lineup in Thursday's victory, but was used sparingly.

In last Saturday's 3-1 victory, the Rocket alternated with Bernie (Boom Boom) Geoffrion, but didn't score.

★ ★ ★

It was a tight game, with goalies Johnny Bower of the Leafs and Jacques Plante of the Canadiens doing standout work. The Canadiens, just as they did in the first game, had to pull it out in the third period.

The count was tied at 1-all when Claude Provost found the range at 5:02 to break the tie. He hit the net again at 18:33 for an insurance goal.

PCH-Flint Central Meet in Today's Prep Feature

The dual track meet of the year, featuring the state prep defending champion, Pontiac Central, and the top 1959 challenger, Flint Central, takes place at Wisner Stadium this evening starting at 4:00 p.m.

The Indians from Flint have already shown their strength in winning the Eastern Michigan Relays and the Central Michigan Relays on successive weeks.

Pontiac Central finished 4th at Eastern Michigan and last Friday took second behind the Indians at Mt. Pleasant.

"Flint Central is the best bet to win the state title this year," said PCH coach Dean Wilson, "they have the kind of team we had in 1956-57, with plenty of speed and depth."

★ ★ ★

The Chief thinclads boast a team largely made up of sophomores and juniors, who Wilson expects to improve as the season moves along.

The track meet highlighted the biggest schedule of the new prep season featuring several baseball games and the 1st PCH-Northern tennis match at the PNH courts.

Pontiac Central opened Saginaw Valley play at Saginaw Arthur Hill while the Suburban Catholic League got started with a full slate in baseball.

★ ★ ★

St. Michael was at St. James, St. Frederick at St. Clement and Orchard Lake St. Mary at home against St. Rita in diamond contests. Rochester played at Romeo, Lake Orion was host to Oxford and Clarkston was guest of Fenton elsewhere on the baseball front.

Golf action today had Birmingham, Dearborn and Edsel Ford visiting Southfield and Walled Lake opening at Livonia.

Another heavy slate is on tap for Tuesday afternoon. Included will be Pontiac Northern's debut in baseball at Birmingham, Cranbrook will take on Detroit Catholic Central in the only other baseball game.

Track will hold the spotlight with Waterford at Royal Oak Dondero, Orchard Lake St. Mary at Clarkston, Milford at Brighton and Cranbrook at Ann Arbor. The Southern Thumb thinclads will start hostilities with a trio of loop dual meets. Pontiac Central takes to the road tomorrow for 1st opening golf match playing at Arthur Hill. Cranbrook will host Grosse Pointe and Berkley visits Dondero in tennis play.

Kansas City, Yankees Make 2-for-2 Trade

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Shortstop Mike Baxes and outfielder Bob Martyn, both utility men, were traded by the Kansas City Athletics yesterday to the New York Yankees for two rookies.

The A's also sent along an undisclosed amount of cash to get shortstop Tom Carroll, 22, and outfielder Russell Snyder, 24, from Richmond, the Yanks' farm in the International League.

Baxes, 28, started last season as the Athletics' second baseman. But he was used sparingly after a mid-season injury and hit only .212 in 73 games. Martyn, also 28, batted .278 in 95 games.

Carroll had a .289 batting average with Class AAA Denver and .278 with Class AA New Orleans last season. Snyder batted .285 with New Orleans.

Both Baxes and Martyn were assigned by the Yanks to Richmond.

Nickell of Pontiac Leads Way With 658

Birmingham Team 7th in ABC

ST. LOUIS (AP) — An unheralded team almost walked off with the top prize in the American Bowling Congress Tournament last night.

The A&A Asphalt team of Birmingham, Mich., took seventh place in the open division with a 3104 total.

Although they missed first place by 140 pins, the A&A team had an excellent chance to surpass the pace-setting Pfeiffers of Detroit who led with 3243.

Starting off with 1071, the A&A team then improved to 1083, but splits and taps—the latter on the No. 4 and 10 pins — in the last game cut that total to 950.

★ ★ ★

Leadoff man John Nickell, a 26-year-old Pontac, Mich., postal clerk, was high for A&A with 658. Anchor man Al Parnigian hit 643, Bill Schlicker had 642, Bob Briarton fired 596 and Monty Oncz rolled 565.

There were no changes in the top 10 standings of the singles, doubles, all-events or booster team divisions.

In the National Doubles Match Game tourney at Peoria, Ill., Bob Chase and Glen Blakesley of Kansas City led the eight qualifiers today into the round-robin finale. The pair just missed qualifying last year.

★ ★ ★

The $14,700 tournament will end tomorrow night.

The Kansas City team climbed from 11th place Saturday to first place last night with a final 24-game doubles total of 9,913.

Defending champions Don Carter and Tom Hennessey of St. Louis were second with 9,847.

The best one-man performances in the two days of qualifying play were posted by two men, neither of whom reached the round-robin finale.

Al Savas of Detroit, totaled 5,077 for 24 games but his partner failed to help. The highest single game was 288, rolled by Ed Lubanksi, Detroit star on Saturday.

Top prize in the meet is $2,000.

No Change at Howe's

New Leader in Elks Meet

The Elks Mixed Doubles Tournament came up with a new leader over the weekend while the top two positions remained unchanged in the Howe's Lanes Singles. Both meets have two more weeks to go.

Lee Ann Jones rolled 484 and Howard Fields 636 to go with a 180 combined handicap for a 1300 total to go ahead in the Elks event. Their performance finally forced Arlette and Earl Hagan out of the lead. They had been in front since the 1st round at 1282.

Hallie and Max Warren took over 8th place with a 1245 while two other teams tied at 1242. They were the tandems of June Kinney and Emil Croteau and Elizabeth Baker-John McGinnis.

All four duos with top weekend performances are from Pontiac.

★ ★ ★

Marvin Horsch of Rochester took over 3rd place with 909 to feature the 2nd week at Howe's.

Emery Tee of Waterford rolled the new high actual game of 247.

Ray Ball of Ortonville continues to head the pack at Clarkston with 942 followed by Frank Miller's 915.

The standings were scrambled in the Moose State Handicap tourney at Ann Arbor but all the leaders were able to hold their ground. That meet runs to May 10.

Detroiter Takes State Lead in All Events

DETROIT (AP)—Duke Marquardt of Detroit, rolled a 1914 over the weekend to move into the all events actual lead of the Michigan State Men's Bowling Tournament.

Marquardt replaced Ed Gray of Detroit, who had held the top spot with 1,882.

Other changes saw the Rams of Lansing, move into second in the team handicap with 3,277; the Edmund Olds team of Detroit, take second in the team actual with 2,969, and Doc Roberts of Lansing, take third in the all events handicap with 2,097.

There were no other changes. The tournament continues through May 10.

City League Meetings Tonight and Tuesday

The first meeting for managers or representatives of women's softball teams seeking entry in the City League this summer will be held tomorrow night at 7:30 in the Pontiac Parks and Recreation Department office at City Hall.

An organizational meeting for the men's City League baseball program in classes A and B is scheduled tonight at the same hour and place.

Weather Ruined Early Start

Baseball Crowds Down

By The Associated Press

The weatherman didn't win friends, influence people or make any money on attendance for major league baseball's early weekend start this season.

The major's scheme to begin the 1959 season five days early to get the attendance gravy from an extra weekend ran afoul because of cold and rainy weather in most major league cities.

★ ★ ★

The American League attracted 108,459 and the National 132,191 for a combined total of 240,650 for Friday through Sunday. This was far off the 535,476 combined total for the first 1958 weekend.

Los Angeles' baseball opening beefed the 1958 total. The Dodgers playing in the mammoth Coliseum, drew 167,209 fans for a three game series with San Francisco. This was more than either league drew this year, when the Dodgers opened on the road.

★ ★ ★

The American League had 186,904 for its first weekend in 1958 and the National had 348,572.

There were 12 games postponed over the weekend by rain, snow or cold including doubleheaders in Baltimore and Philadelphia. Only two single games were washed out in 1958.

The opening day crowds, not including the early openers at Washington and Cincinnati, also suffered this year. In 1958, the season began on a Tuesday and drew a combined total of 259,008 for eight games, compared to 159,990 for five games on a Friday opening.

★ ★ ★

The American League had a paltry 83,521 Friday because of two rainouts and the National League 76,469 with one postponement. In 1958, 133,126 turned out in the AL and 125,882 in the National League.

	1958	1959
American League	186,904	108,459
National League	348,572	132,191
Total	535,476	240,650
For Openers
American League	133,126	83,521
National League	125,882	76,469
Total	259,008	159,990

Cranes Open Season With 3-2 Victory

A two-run blast in the second inning gave Cranbrook nine its season's first victory, and a successful start for the year, Saturday, 3-2, over Assumption of Windsor Ont. Game was played at Cranbrook.

Cranes' Andy Billedson squeezed in Rog Rothenburger and John Hartman tallied the eventual winning counter on Charles Heavenrich's infield blow. Heavenrich was the winning hurler.

Cranes meet Detroit Catholic Central at Cranbrook, Tuesday.

Backstairs at the White House

Code Dubs Ike 'The Prominent'

By MERRIMAN SMITH
UPI White House Reporter

AUGUSTA, Ga. — Know what President Eisenhower is called over the ground-to-air communications system of the White House?

★ ★ ★

"The Prominent."

That's code, see.

When the President's plane, the Columbine III, is approaching a landing field away from Washington, personnel of the Army Signal Corps aboard the aircraft and on the ground are in communication via portable shortwave radios which are about the size of portable typewriters.

This system permits the exchange of last-minute details between the air borne party and the advance group on the ground. It also frees the plane crew from having to transmit this type of information when they have their hands full bringing the Columbine in for a landing.

The other day here in Augusta, airport spectators could follow this drama of the airwaves quite easily. One of the signal Corps sets, sometimes manned by agents of the Secret Service, was perched atop a parked car and the nearby crowd could hear the monotone interchange with the plane.

"Angel, this is Spicy," squawked the loudspeaker.

"Angel" is the Columbine and "Spicy" was the ground unit.

The radio traffic dealt at some length with the last-minute addition of an Army general to the welcoming party which would greet Eisenhower after landing.

★ ★ ★

"The general has just landed here by military aircraft and will be in the party greeting the Prominent," said one voice on the radio.

"Thank you," said another voice, obviously speaking from "Angel," and adding, "We'll pass this word back to Prominent immediately."

This amused the daylights out of the airport crowd. They'd come to the airport to see President Eisenhower land and learned that behind the scenes, he's not referred to as the President, but simply as plain old "The Prominent."

Freedom of Information Note: The President's Augusta National Golf Club simply will not disclose publicly the precise number of paid admissions to the annual Masters Championship Tournament.

As a point of reference, the paid attendance at major league baseball parks is announced before the game is over.

Cliff Roberts, moving spirit of the Augusta National along with Bobby Jones, has several reasons for this policy. He says newspaper estimates of the crowds are invariably high. He and Jones think this adds to the crowd-pulling qualities of the tournament.

★ ★ ★

And Roberts insists that the annual tournament could well use some additional paying guests, even though the crowds last week were the highest ever. Roberts, who is board chairman of the club, says the Augusta National has parking space for 10,000 cars, yet last week when the reporters estimated the crowds at between 40,000 and 50,000 the parking fields were by no means full.

Governor Gets Security Guard

Almond of Virginia Is Under Protection After Attempt on His Life

RICHMOND, Va. (AP)—Police today maintained an unprecedented security vigil about Virginia's governor after a reported attempt on his life.

★ ★ ★

Gov. J. Lindsay Almond Jr. was shot at Friday, officers said, as he walked near the executive mansion en route to the Capitol.

★ ★ ★

Capitol police doubled their guard at the mansion, State and Richmond city police promised closer surveillance of the Capitol grounds.

★ ★ ★

"I hate to see more security around here, but I guess I should take the advice of the police authorities," Almond said.

★ ★ ★

The Virginia governor recently has been the target of abuse and threats from anonymous telephone callers and letter writers who accuse him of selling out in the school segregation issue.

Almond, once an advocate of massive resistance to school integration, recently has taken a more moderate stand.

★ ★ ★

The attempt on Almond's life was denounced by President Eisenhower as "shocking" and something that "only an insane person would try."

Thrilled to Death

John H. Glenn, father of Astronaut John H. Glenn Jr., of Concord, Ohio, said in Arlington, Va.: "We're all thrilled to death."

The automobile has provided more jobs for more people than any other single industry in America.

Rye Prices Slip After Report

CHICAGO (AP)—Grain futures prices were about steady to weak today in early dealings before uptrending on the Board of Trade with new crop rye months slipping as much as a cent a bushel within a few minutes.

The pressure on rye was attributed to the government report which indicated the crop had not deteriorated as much as some private trade reports had indicated.

The market had become mostly strong near the end of the first hour with wheat ½ to ¾ cent a bushel higher, May $2.10½; corn ⅜ to ¾ higher, May $1.25; oats ⅛ lower to ¼ higher, May 68⅞; rye ½ higher to ¼ lower, May $1.42½; soybeans unchanged to ½ higher, May $2.27.

Brokers had reports that India had requested offers on 3¾ million bushels of wheat, West Germany on 2,425,000 bushels and Formosa on 441,000 bushels.

Crane 'Copter Unveiled Today

New Development Has Big Future in Army, Transportation Industry

STRATFORD, Conn. (AP)—The new Sikorsky S60 crane heilcopter, radical in construction and use, was unveiled today.

Instead of the conventional passenger or cargo cabin, the fuselage of the S60 consists of a bridge-like boom extending from the cockpit to the tail rotor. Loads are carried externally by hoists suspended from the fuselage at a point directly under the main rotor.

The aircraft is powered by two 2,100-horsepower Pratt & Whitney piston engines. It can carry a 4-to-6-ton payload up to 100 miles.

Its construction was a joint project of the Navy and the Sikorsky Division of the United Aircraft Corp.

★ ★ ★

In today's demonstration, the helicopter lifted a two-ton public utility pole and placed it in a hole; transported a 60-foot, 4,500-pound Army bridge span and positioned it on a foundation; and ing a dummy of an Honest John flew across the flight field carrying a dummy of an Honest John missile, demonstrating the mobility the flying crane will give the Army's missile arsenal.

Lee S. Johnson, Sikorsky general manager, predicted the crane would revolutionize the transportation industry.

The S60 can be transformed into a troop carrier by the use of detachable pods. It also can be transformed into a flying emergency hospital for the quick removal and transport of the wounded.

600 Expected at May 11 Fete for Sheriff Irons

A dinner honoring Oakland County Sheriff Frank W. Irons will be held May 11 at Northwood Inn, and is expected to draw 600 people.

The dinner will mark Irons' 35 years of police service to Oakland County. He began as a Berkley patrolman on May 10, 1924.

Guest speaker will be Ed Piggins, former Detroit police commissioner and now Wayne County Circuit Court judge. Paul Williams will be master of ceremonies.

Chairman of the dinner is Nick Elnicky, and Undersheriff Donald Francis is assitant chairman. The dinner will begin at 7 p.m.

Two Motorists Report Being Shot at Here

Two motorists reported to police Saturday night that someone fired shots at their cars at the intersection of Wilson Ave. and Ferry street.

Laverne Geans, 47 Beaudette St., first told police at 11:05 p. m. he was fired at. Ten minutes later police received a similar complaint from Thomas Odneal, 288 Crystal Lake Dr.

Neither man was injured. Police said the shots were probably fired by juveniles with high-powered air rifles.

Dealer Inventories of Cars Up Slightly

DETROIT (AP)—Dealer inventories of new automobiles on April 1 totaled 777,313 U.S.-built units and an estimated 64,000 imported cars, Automotive News said today.

★ ★ ★

Stocks of domestic-built cars March 1 numbered 706,839. On April 1 a year ago they totaled 833,201 units. Automotive News' Previous count of imports was on January 1 when they numbered 55,000.

The trade paper said factories were confident of continuing sales gains this month.

★ ★ ★

"Shipments of imports to the United States are expected to hold at record levels throughout the second quarter, especially in view of the nationwide sales acceptance of January and February," the paper added. It noted that all new car makers in this country are stockpiling steel, and said:

"A prolonged stoppage in the mills, however, could delay 1960-model introductory dates and hand over the autumn market to the unaffected Europeans."

Key Stocks Gain on Mart

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market edged higher in active early trading today.

Fractional gains were the rule for most key stocks. There were a few small losses.

Among more speculative issues, Vick Chemical spurted more than 3. Texas Insturments continued recent gains with a fractional advance.

Oils, rubbers and chemicals offered a string of small gains. Nonferrous metals were unchanged to easier.

Motors were a shade higher except for Chrysler which dropped a fraction.

Yankus Taking Preview Trip to Australia

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Michigan's rebel farmer, Stanley Yankus, is on his way to Australia.

The 40-year-old poultry farmer who quit his land rather than go along with government crop limitations flew from here yesterday for a visit down under.

★ ★ ★

Yankus said he would spend 10 days in Australia and decide whether to try a new future in that country with his wife and three children.

He would finance a permanent resettlement with the approximately $30,000 he netted from the auction sale of his 100-acre farm and property near Dowagiac, Mich.

★ ★ ★

Over a period of six years, Yankus paid more than $5,000 in fines and penalties for growing excess wheat. He said the government's restrictions infringed on personal liberty and were unconstitutional.

Yankus' current trip to Australia is financed by the Chicago Daily News.

U.S. to Launch Satellites Today

Plan 2-in-1 Shot From Canaveral, North-South Try at Vandenberg

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The United States plans to launch three more earth satellites today—two from Cape Canaveral, Fla., and one from Vandenberg Air Force Base, Calif.

If all goes well, the three manmade moons will be fired skyward before midnight.

The new satellites are designed to glean more data on the earth's make-up and weather, and explore the possibility of putting huge reconnaissance satellites into orbit in the future.

The Cape Canaveral shot is scheduled to be a unique 2-in-1 launching with the Vanguard rocket. It will carry an instrumented satellite for measuring the magnetic field, solar radiation and meteor effects, and a 30-inch inflatable sphere for checking air density.

Actually, the Canaveral scientists may put three objects in orbit if all goes well. The third and final stage of the rocket assembly is expected to go into orbit with the two satellites.

At Vandenberg, the Air Force will try to put a Discoverer satellite into a south-north polar orbit. This launching will be part of a long-range endeavor to develop satellites capable of scanning the earth with television and photographic cameras.

MADE FOR STABLE FLIGHT

The Discoverer satellites, which are designed to achieve stable flight rather than tumbling about like other satellites, have an important relationship to eventual efforts to put a man in space as well as to military communications, meteorology and reconnaissance.

The Vanguard satellite will carry a magnetometer to measure the strength of the earth's magnetic field, fluctuations in the field caused by charged particles from the sun and the relation of such variations to radio signals, magnetic storms and the aurora.

In addition, it will carry a small plastic-aluminum balloon folded into a compact package. Once the satellite goes into orbit, the package will be detached and the balloon will be inflated with nitrogen. It weighs only seven-tenths of a pound.

Learning Driver Triggers Crash of Eight Autos

BIRMINGHAM — Chester street looked like a gigantic pool table yesterday morning as a 58-year-old Detroiter triggered an eight-car crash.

Richard Gorback of Detroit was taking his fourth driving lesson. He made the journey from his home without any trouble until he began to turn from Maple avenue onto Chester street. He passed one parked car successfully and then something happened.

Gorback hit the second parked car in the line a glancing blow, and also hit the panic button. His foot slipped of the brake and onto the accelerator.

He bounced off his second victim, another parked car, and struck a car double-parked to discharge a passenger.

The beginners new car then crossed the street and racked up number four, pushing it far enough over the curb to bend a parking meter post.

Gorback didn't really score on the last three parked cars. They just smacked into each other after he hit the first one.

Thomas V. Beegle, 47, a car salesman who was giving Gorback some practice time at the wheel, suffered slight cuts on his forehead, Mrs. Gorback, 57, the other passenger, had a bruised leg.

The car Gorback was driving has estimated damages of $400. Damage on the other vehicles totaled $700.

Two Quartets Entered

GRAND RAPIDS —The Chord Counts Quartet of Holland and the Sharpkeepers of Detroit will sound Michigan hopes next July at the International contest of the Society for the Preservation and Encouragement of Barber Shop Quartet Singing in America (SPEBSQSA). They won top honors Saturday at Grand Rapids in regional competition.

GINA IN SUPPORTING ROLE — Italian screen star Gina Lollobrigida finds herself in a supporting role in this scene at Idlewild Airport. The actress carries her son, Milko Jr., 1½, as her husband, Dr. Milko Skofic carries luggage. She is on her way to Hollywood to make her first picture in the U. S.

Weeping Connie Tells Jury Gun Was Turned on Self

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Connie Nicholas completed her murder trial testimony in tears today, telling the jury her playboy lover was killed as she drew her small revolver to shoot herself.

After the state wound up its cross-examination in only 16 minutes, defense attorney Charles W. Symmes got the divorcee to pin down the motion she said she made with her gun in Forrest Teel's white car.

★ ★ ★

"Toward myself," she replied. "I told him I wouldn't be around to bother him any more. I wanted to scare him—the fact that I was going to kill myself in his car."

"Were you afraid of further beatings?" Symmes asked.

"I was afraid because he had struck me and had thrown me across the seat of the car."

Dep. Prosecutor Francis E. Thomason came back for one last question on cross-examination: "Was this the first time he had beaten you?"

"Yes."

Mrs. Nicholas was followed on the stand by Dr. Charles Bonsett, a neurologist who testified her back and neck injuries are the type "generally caused by physical violence."

Shown a picture of the pretty divorcee sprawled across the front seat of her car after she had taken sleeping pills, the doctor said:

"I don't think the injuries to her back and neck would have been caused by this."

Mrs. Nicholas wept as the jury filed out for a recess at the end of her testimony.

"It's been an ordeal," she said as she returned to the defense counsel's table.

"I've got a cold, she explained, "something I seldom have. My throat is very sore."

She appeared in a yellow suit and the black velvet hat which she had worn at the start of the trial four weeks ago.

She told Thomason during the cross-examination that she thought Teel was following her in his car when she drove to a secluded riverbank to swallow 75 sleeping capsules after the shooting last July 31.

"I became more frightened. I wanted to get away," she said.

★ ★ ★

Thomason also got her to repeat some of the financial details she had given of her 15-year affair with Teel, a married executive. Again she said Teel gave her $2,800 in 1957 for apartment rent and to pay off a car loan, and $1,200 again in 1958 for rent.

Mrs. Nicholas, who turned 45 Sunday, testified she weighs 105 pounds and measures 5 feet 1 "if I stretch a little."

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Connie Nicholas' first husband said today "everything was wrong" with their wartime marriage.

"Nag, nag, nag as soon as I'd get into the house," Ray J. Kiefer, 41, told a newsman. "She wanted to know why I wasn't a big shot like some of her so-called friends. A guy like Teel; I couldn't match him.

"She's made her own mess. Now it's up to her. She's a mixed-up kid."

★ ★ ★

Kiefer said he has no plans to appear at his former wife's trial for the slaying of Forrest Teel, drug company executive. The Kiefer marriage broke up after Connie started dating Teel.

"She's been making her own moral laws for quite a few years now," Kiefer said. "I don't know what kind of society we'd have if everybody did that."

Kiefer is a television repairman who was serving as an Army Air Corps sergeant while married to Mrs. Nicholas in 1942-57. He said he sold a TV set to her and her second husband, Custis Nicholas, and returned to repair it a few times.

★ ★ ★

Later, he said, "I told them to get somebody else. I wasn't going any further with that."

Woman's Body Found in Foxcroft Garage

Mrs. Margaret Kenrick, about 50, of 6345 W. Surrey Rd., Foxcroft, was found dead in the back seat of her car in a closed garage yesterday afternoon.

The body was discovered by Howard B. Steggall, her brother-in-law, of 1125 Chesterfield Rd., Birmingham.

Dr. Prevette said death was due to asphyxiation and that she had probably been dead for about seven or eight hours.

Rochester Scout Honored

Receives Top Award

ROCHESTER — Sixteen-year-old Blaine McGiverin Jr., Explorer Scout of Post 138, received his God and Country Award in a special ceremony conducted yesterday during the morning worship service at St. Paul Methodist Church here.

Blaine is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Blaine M. McGiverin Sr., of 880 Viewland Dr., Avon Township.

Officiating at the presentation made by his mother were the Rev. J. Douglas Parker, church pastor; Kyle Elliott, minister of education; and Scoutmaster Howard Powers of Troop 123.

Scout officials say the God and Country award is one of the most difficult to achieve because of the complexity of the work and the length of time involved to complete it.

To be eligible to receive the award, an advanced scout must prove himself vitally interested in the work of the church by performing various service projects such as book binding, arranging chairs, accepting leadership responsibilities in youth groups, attending special training conferences and making reports to church groups.

In addition, the candiate for this special award must make a study of the church of which he is a member, acquaint himself with its mission program, understand the philosophy of its education program, be familiar with the Bible and commit many passages to memory.

Blaine, wearing the new Explorer Scout uniform beamed broadly as his mother pinned the award to his jacket. He is a junior at Rochester Community High School.

Avondale Group Slates Rummage Sale Saturday

AVONDALE TOWNSHIP — The Community Clothes Closet of the Avondale School District will sponsor a rummage sale from 10 a. m. to 4 p. m. Saturday at the Avondale Community Hall on Auburn avenue.

★ ★ ★

All of the proceeds will go toward the purchase of shoes, boots and other articles of clothing for any needy family in the area, according to Mrs. Leon Steward, secretary of the organization.

The group was originally formed, Mrs. Steward said, when Mrs. Bonnie J. Norman, visiting teacher, pointed out the need for such an organization in the school district.

★ ★ ★

Items must be brought to the hall after 7 p. m. Friday and must be in good, clean, usable condition, Mrs. Steward said.

At one time he served on the St. Lawrence Seaway Commission.

Bishop was survived by his widow, Loutie Mildred, two daughters and his son.

Minister Seeks to Start Church

Surveys Area in White Lake and Commerce Townships for Site

REV. IVAN C. ROSS

WHITE LAKE TOWNSHIP — The Rev. Ivan C. Ross of the United Lutheran Church in America is presently surveying the area here and in northeast Commerce Township prior to establishing a church of his denomination locally.

Plans call for a church to be built within two years after a congregation has been organized. A five-acre site for the church has already been purchased on M59 in the Twin Lakes Housing Development neighborhood.

In the meantime, the Rev. Mr. Ross will seek a building in which to hold services temporarily.

The present survey is being conducted to determine how many residents in the area are interested in forming the church body.

"The actual organization of the congregation will take place after services have been held for several months and after every possible prospect in the area has been given the opportunity to become a charter member," said Mr. Ross.

★ ★ ★

The minister is presently residing with his wife and two daughters at 8250 Elizabeth Lake Rd. Another daughter is away attending school.

Prior to coming here, Mr. Ross established a Lutheran church in St. Louis, Mo.

He was born in Downs, Kansas, in 1910 and graduated from Midland College at Fremont, Neb. with a bachelor's degree. He subsequently received his bachelor of divinity degree at the Chicago Lutheran Theological Seminary in 1936 and was ordained later that same year.

His first assignment was at Paducah, Ky. And, in 1954 Mr. Ross organized the Holy Trinity Lutheran Church at Niles.

Harp, Vocal Group to Play at Rochester

ROCHESTER — The Rochester Tuesday Musicale will sponsor The Harp and Vocal Ensemble of the Cass Technical High School in a concert open to the public at the Woodward School multipurpose room at 8 p.m. tomorrow.

Harp instruction is a part of the daily schedule for music students at Cass Technical High School. The school purchased five harps and made them available to those who had had some piano study. Interest developed and soon harp instruction was offered to evening school students.

This state harp group has met in Detroit on several occasions and has given concerts in which as many as 35 harps played in ensemble.

Hostesses for the evening are Mrs. Lyle Marshall and Mrs. Harold Sherman. Mrs. Homer Warren, Mrs. Edwin Kirchofer and Mrs. Ray Frank are the social committee.

Boy Takes Pills, Dies

MUSKEGON (AP)—Mark A. Thomas, 20-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Thomas, died Sunday at Osteopathic Hospital where he was admitted after swallowing a quantity of ferrous sulphide pills at his home. The boy was one of six children in the Thomas family.

Plant Resumes Full Operation Following Blaze

ROCHESTER — The Rochester Paper Co. plant on Mill street which was damaged by a $50,000 fire Friday night is back in full operation today, according to Owner Paul H. Travis, of Detroit and Romeo.

Travis added that the new equipment located where the fire broke out is not in use, however, pending an investigation of the cause of the blaze today by the Ross Manufacturing Co. of New York who installed it.

The fire broke out in an oven where the paper is dried. The heat was so intense that it activated the sprinkler system, and the Rochester Fire Department was summoned to help fight the fire for about an hour before bringing it under control.

★ ★ ★

Travis said that the water caused more damage than the fire, and that employes spent most of Saturday and Sunday cleaning up after the blaze.

Rochester Women to Hold Polio Clinic

ROCHESTER — The Rochester Junior Women's Club, with the cooperation of the Rochester Community Schools, will sponsor a polio clinic at North Hill Elementary School from 6 to 9 p. m. Thursday, Mrs. John Toski, club publicity chairman, announced today.

Local medical doctors and registered nurses will administer any one of the four inoculations in the series. The charge will be one dollar a shot.

The school and club join in urging all residents in the district to receive this protection against polio, Mrs. Toski said.

A parent, guardian or a responsible adult must accompany anyone under 21 to the clinic. Another one will be held May 14, followed by one next fall.

In Memoriam 2

IN LOVING MEMORY OF Russell Kelley who passed away April 13, 1956.
Do not ask me if I miss Him,
For there is such a vacant place.
Oft' I think I hear his footsteps,
Or I see his smiling face.
For he left me broken hearted
Friends may think the wound is healed,
But they so little know, the sorrow
That is in my heart concealed.
Sadly missed by wife, Virginia.

IN LOVING MEMORY OF MY dear husband Louis G. MacFarlane who passed away April 12, 1958. Today recalls sad memories of a loved one gone to rest, and those who think of him today are the ones who loved him best. Sadly missed by Kitty and all the family.

'C'mup and See Me' Is Still Mae's Line

By EARL WILSON

LAS VEGAS — "C'mup and see me," Mae West said with a wiggle-waggle in her voice and then, just to show you how she's changed, she added, "in about an hour, honey."

WILSON

It was about 6 p.m. and Mae was in a pink nightgown, negligee, or whatever it's called now. She wasn't up high anywhere but on the first floor and she had a surprise for me. And I had one for her.

"They want me to do this TV May 3 for Dean Martin and Bob Hope," Mae said. "They're two good men. But it depends on material. I have to have a certain kind of material." (Dean says she's signed "and she's going to give us a lot of viewers. I hope she keeps it clean because I want to be on some more.")

★ ★ ★

I asked the great sexpot of the 1930s and early 1940s how much TV she's done.

"Just the one with Rock Hudson for the Academy and that was the talk of the whole world. It was when we did 'Baby, It's Cold Outside.' They even bootlegged that in Italy and other places. Just that little bit of film — only about two minutes."

"Do you remember the time you got practically barred from radio because of the program you did with Edgar Bergen and Charlie McCarthy?"

★ ★ ★

Mae's bosom shook when she laughed about it.

"I didn't write that," she reminded me. "Arch Oboler wrote an Adam and Eve sketch. Don Ameche played Adam. It stopped traffic."

MAE

I had come to tell Mae that something new in the falsie line had been developed — entire false fronts (approximately half a false girl) are being worn by chorus girls in the Burl Ives show.

Girls bounce out with their tummies and torsos covered covered with a very thin mesh. Under the mesh appears to be — on each girl — the most perfect front ever beheld by man.

★ ★ ★

While the customers are marveling that anybody should have found such perfectly molded young maidens, the girls peel off the false fronts which are made of plastic and rubber and fit down to the hips.

Under the false fronts the young ladies are shapely but not that shapely, and they're also modestly covered.

This spoof on the nude show trend in Vegas was created by a talented young designer and choreographer named Barry Ashton, an Englishman.

"I guess they'd be all right for girls who need such things," Mae West said. "Personally, I never have.

★ ★ ★

"I guess you know," Mae added, "that girls have plastic operations to increase their measurements. I here that's what a certain party has."

"Who do you mean?" I asked Mae.

"I never mentioned that party's name," Mae replied. Well, its going to keep me up all night guessing.

Seven Are on Board as Skipjack Achieves Secret New Records

GROTON, Conn. (AP) — The atomic submarine Skipjack, with seven congressmen aboard, plunged effortlessly to new ocean depths at record speeds over the weekend.

The whale-shaped Skipjack, to be commissioned Wednesday, ploughed deeper and reached speeds greater than any known submarine in history. It returned to its berth here Sunday. Members of the Joint Congressional Committee on Atomic Energy who made the trial run and took turns at the controls were visibly impressed.

★ ★ ★

The Navy would give no details but Sen. Clinton P. Anderson (D-NM), chairman of the committee, said in a statement: "For security reasons I can only say that we were deeper than 400 feet and moving faster than 20 knots."

He added later, "She whipped to that depth and at those speeds without effort."

★ ★ ★

The Navy, as early as four years ago, listed such speeds and depths for their first atomic submarines. Exact figures have always been classified.

The committe took a similar trial run in 1955 on the atomic underseas craft Nautilus. Anderson said the speed of the Skipjack was "substantially above the speed achieved in the Nautilus."

★ ★ ★

Vice Adm. Hyman G. Rickover, stood by proudly as the congressmen spoke of the trip they had shared with him on the Skipjack.

Rep. Chet Holifield (D-Calif) called the trip "one of the most thrilling experiences of my life." Other committee members were Sens. Henry M. Jackson (D-Wash), John O. Pastore (D-RI) and George D. Aiken (R-Vt), and Reps. James E. Van Zandt (R-Pa) and Jack Westland (R-Wash).

Lama Consults Indian Officials

God-King Welcomed, but Cannot Direct Tibet Resistance There

NEW DELHI (AP)—The Dalai Lama consulted today with an Inon his plans for the future and what he wants to tell the world.

Tibet's young fugitive spiritual and temporal leader arrived in Bomdila, near the northeast frontier, to find special envoy P. N. Menon of the Indian Foreign Office waiting with crowds of Buddhists who jostled each other to pay homage to the god-king.

★ ★ ★

The Dalai Lama arrived after a 62-mile trip by horsebtck from Towang, his first stopping place in the Himalayas after he crossed the frontier. He was expected to rest in Bomdila a few days before going by jeep to the foothills and his first meeting with newsmen since his escape from the Red Chinese.

Prime Minister Nehru has been put in a difficult position by the conlict between Indian sympathy for the Tibetan rebels and his own desire to preserve good relations with the Chinese Communist government. He sent Menon to receive the Dalti Lama and to try to get him not to make any statements that might anger Peiping.

Nehru has said the Dalai Lama will get the respectful treatment due him as a living god of the Buddhists. But Indian officials have made clear the reugee would not be allowed to direct or inflame the Tibetan resistance movement from India.

303 Ping Pong Games Played in 50 Hours

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Has a University of Southern California freshman ended or just begun the latest in silly season rages?

Thayer Holbrook, 19, halted a 50-hour ping-pong endurance contest Sunday night because "I have classes in the morning."

His fraternity house kept him supplied with soup and gallons of orange juice while he played in his bare feet.

During the marathon Holbrook won 165 games and lost 138 against a dozen opponents.

Just about half of all the seamless stockings made in the U. S. are manufactured in North Carolina.

Mistletoe, Pigeons Drafted in Battle Against Diseases

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — Pigeons may provide new and valuable aid in the quest to solve the riddle of a major cause of heart disease, a group of North Carolina scientists reported today.

Dr. T. B. Clarkson and three associates of Bowman Gray School of Medicine, Winston-Salem, reported they had discovered at least one variety of pigeons fulfilling a long and hitherto fruitless search by science for "an inexpensive and readily available animal with spontaneous atherosclerosis."

Atherosclerosis, which gets part of its name from the Greek word athero, meaning porridge, is a condition in which a mush material accumulates on the inner lining of blood vessels, thus narrowing the passageways for blood.

The condition is the cause of coronary heart attacks and cerebral strokes in man. The search for its specific origin and for the means to prevent it constitutes one of the great efforts of medical science.

In laboratory research, scientists have reproduced it artificially in a number of animal species. But the ideal laboratory subject is an animal which gets the disease naturally. The few animals that do so have been expensive or difficult to procure, thus hindering research, the North Carolina doctors said.

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP — A plant with joyous yuletide connotations—the mistletoe—is under investigation in the ever-widening search for new chemicals to fight cancer.

A team of Buffalo, N.Y., researchers reported Sunday they had confirmed earlier findings that there is antitumor activity against certain animal cancers in plants of the loranthus (mistletoe) family.

★ ★ ★

Researcher Oleg S. Selawry and two colleagues of Roswell Park Memorial Institute told the closing session of the 50th annual meeting of the American Assn. for Cancer Research that they had tested a number of preparations derived from such plants.

Some of them showed strong tumor-inhibiting action, especially against one form of mouse leukemia, they said.

★ ★ ★

The scientists said attempts are now under way to isolate and purify the active principle.

Tax Reform Called Vital

Williams Says State Must Revise Program to Avert Crises

DETROIT (AP)—Gov. Williams believes future cash crises in Michigan can be averted only with a revised tax program.

"Michigan's tax structure has become a crazy split of patches with little pieces being put on here and there to meet some problem that has arisen over the years," Williams told the annual meeting of the Michigan Assn. of Plumbing Contractors Saturday night.

"What we need is something that will help us liquidate our present deficit and provide for the future."

The governor reiterated his stand that a personal state income tax would help alleviate the current cash shortage and prevent the state from going from one financial emergency to another.

"Michigan is growing in both population and industry," Williams said. "We are the fastest growing state in the nation with the exception of California and Florida."

He said reports about the current crisis have given Michigan a bad name in other states. The governor called for a "crusade of truth about Michigan," saying it would erase these "untruthful" reports.

Search on Lake Huron for Lost Airman Ends

SAULT STE. MARIE (UPI)—The Air Force has abandoned its search for a missing New York airman who apparently drowned after his plane crashed in Lake Huron.

Air Force Maj. Wood Buell said 17 planes made a final sweep over the area yesterday afternoon.

M Sgt. William . Wyman of Batavia, N.Y., was last seen Feb. 22 enroute from his home to a new duty assignment at Kinross Air Force Base near here.

Detroit Man Reports $4,200 House Burglary

DETROIT (AP) —A scrap dealer and midget auto racer reported to police that some $2,600 in cash and $1,000 in jewelry was stolen from his Detroit home Sunday.

Detectives said burglars entered the home of Lewis Stern, 39, at 18410 Lauder, through a milk chute. A $4,000 mink coat taken by the thieves was found by police in the alley behind the home.

Union College, in Schenectady, N.Y., founded in 1795, was the first college in the nation to teach American history and government.

Senator Blasts Sec. Benson

Claims He Overstates Cost of Farm Supports in TV Interview

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The chairman of the Senate Agriculture Committee yesterday accusen Agriculture Secretary Ezra Taft Benson — in a face-to-face TV interview — of overstating farm support costs and furnishing ammunition to critics of federal farm aid.

The charge by Sen. Allen J. Ellender (D-La.(came after Benson had estimated farm support costs since 1933 "in the neighborhood of around 20 billion dollars."

"It's such statements as you're just making now that give the newspapers tnd others an opportunity to print stories that really do not reflect the facts," Ellender said.

He maintained that the entire cost to the Agriculture Department's price propping Commodity Credit Corp. since 1933, was only $5,675,000,000.

Benson conceded there are some cases where it is hard to decide whether expenses should be charged up to the farm price support program.

Omnibus' Strange Ordeal: Good Shows, No Sponsors

By FRED DANZIG
For WILLIAM EWALD
United Press International

NEW YORK (UPI)—I think "The Strange Ordeal of the Normandier" on NBC-TV yesterday is less important than the strange ordeal of Omnibus, the show that presented it.

That unfettered and unparalleled TV series, Omnibus, also was unsponsored.

A spokesman for producer Robert Saudek said the lone sponsor's seasonal commitment merely expired before the Omnibus season did. "We are awaiting renewal for next season," he added.

I worry when a venturesome, much-honored program like Omnibus must anxiously await a buyer at this date, when so many lesser shows are being snapped up for next fall. Anyhow, thanks to NBC for sticking with the series.

"Normandier" was a tramp freighter whose crew was stricken with blackwater fever in 1918. Unfortunately, the playing of this maritime tragedy was too broad, too shrill, too melodramatic and didn't snap into human-scale focus until the final few minutes. I felt the production staff's victory in videotaping the show despite many difficulties overshadowed the ultimate triumph of some crewmen, led by Rex Thompson, over disease and stormy weather.

It was nice getting George Bernard Shaw on TV, even though it was just a splintered Egyptian smidgin of his "Caesar and Cleopatra."

Maurice Evans and Piper Laurie appeared in the kittenish first act of the G.B.S. classic on CBS-TV's GE Theater last night and it made for a tight show, in the GE Theater style. I thought Piper made a proper Shawvian Cleopatra. Evans was Evans.

No doubt, the sponsor feels it has done something noteworthy, but I rather suspect the lure was a Shaw fragment that didn't say very much. It's a rare combination and an irresistible one.

Shorts Shots: Friday's Swing into Spring on CBS-TV was a winner. This musical kickshaw gave us planty of crisp music by a new, young, Benny Goodman band; a new, young Benny Goodman quintet and "old-timers" Peggy Lee and Ella Fitzgerald. The young dancers were buoyantly happy and swinging. The sets by Rouben Ter-Arutunian were clean. Talk was at a minimum. The goal was swing and it swung.

The Channel Swim: NBC-TV's tentative fall schedule lists six one-hour Westerns over a six-day period. The lineup would be: Trace Hunter on Sunday, 7-8 p.m.; from 7:30 to 8:30 p.m., Bat Masterson, Monday; Bonanza, Tuesday; Wagon Train, Wednesday; Laramie, Thursday; Riverboat, Saturday. A non-Western, Johnny Staccato, starring John Cassavetes as a private eye, would go into the Saturday, 8:30-9 p.m. slot.

District 7 PTA Conference Set

"Let's learn together PTA techniques" will be the theme when the annual spring conference of District 7 of the Michigan Congress of Parent-Teacher Assns. is held at the Lamphere High School in Royal Oak at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday. The school is located on Tawas street, north of 12 Mile road.

Registrations and exhibits, for which the 239 local units and 17 councils have been requested to bring their history and procedure books for display, will begin promptly at 7:30 p.m.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Roy Stevens, president of the Madison Lamphere Council, will be hostess for the "little convention," as the district conference is often referred to.

Mrs. Charles Cox of Ferndale, director of District 7, will be presiding officer, and will introduce presidents of the new locals that have been organized this year.

Following the registration, the general meeting will be held in the school gymnasium. Workshops will be set up in individual rooms to represent all phases of PTA work, and will be led by state and county leaders in their own fields.

Mrs. Charles Neldrett, president of the MCPTA, will direct a workshop for local presidents. Otto Yntema, vice president of MCPTA, will head the "cracker barrel" session of questions to be asked by different workshops. These questions and answers are intended to give those attending a better scope to aid in the broadening of knowledge in all fields of PTA.

Committee members for this session will be Carl Anderson, treasurer MCPTA; Mrs. Charles Cox; Dr. Charles Stewart, chairman of juvenile protection; Mrs. Serge Foeller, regional vice president; Clifford Smart, state legislation chairman; and Hugh Ferguson, principal of Monroe School, Madison Heights.

The teachers role in PTA was a new feature added last year and, due to the interest it created will be on the program again this year.

The newest feature will be the administrators role in PTA, which includes principals, superintendents of schools, and school board members. Chairman will be James Covert, superintendent of Royal Oak Public Schools. Gerald F. Rush, assistant supervisor of the Madison district schools, will act as host.

Mrs. William Porter, president of the East Oakland County Council will act as chairman for the workshop for council delegates. Mrs. Robert Sanford, past president of the East Oakland County Council, will chairman a workshop for publicity.

Mrs. William Anderson, president of the Pontiac Council will lead a workshop for treasurers; Mrs. William Mihalek, past president of the Pontiac Council will lead the discussion on budget and finance, and ways and means. Mrs. Harvey Hoslock, president of the Oakland County Council, will be a resource person for the hospitality and social group.

Representing the Walled Lake Council of Parent-Teacher Assn. will be Mrs. Charles Scully, council president, who will be a resource person for the workshop for council presidents; Clifford Smart, superintendent of the Walled Lake Consolidated School System, will conduct a workshop on legislation; and William Gregory, membership chairman, will be a resource person for the workshop for membership.

★ ★ ★

The annual spring conference of District 7 is designed to give the more than 55,000 PTA members in Oakland County an opportunity to learn more about the workings of the PTA.

Find Body of Hunter Drowned Last Fall

MONROE (AP)—The body of a Detroit duck hunter who drowned last fall in Anchor Bay was found on a Lake Erie Island yesterday.

With two companions, James E. Anglin, 36, father of four children, was flung into the water when their boat overturned Nov. 27. His body was found on Fishers Island near here.

Anglin lost his hold on the boat while the other two clung to it as it drifted two miles into Lake St. Clair. The other two were rescued.

The body was found by William Navarre of Monroe, while walking on the island.
