City Manager Comments on Merger Move

Joining City-Township Needs Consideration, Says Willman

Pontiac City Manager Walter K. Willman commented today on the proposed merger of Waterford Township and Pontiac, a topic stirring much local interest.

The suggestion was made recently by a well known Waterford Township resident, Frank W. Steere. He asked the Pontiac Chamber of Commerce to study the proposal.

Commenting as a city administrative official, Willman pointed out that the matter is one of policy which will eventually be determined, should the question become an official one, through proper initiation in accordance with law by the city commission.

"Naturally the proposal that a city of 80,000 population and an area of 20 square miles annex a township of 40,000 population with 36 square miles, would create many problems that deserve the most careful consideration."

"Mr. Norvell of the Chamber of Commerce has indicated that his organization appreciates the importance of the proposal should it become a matter for official study and an eventual vote by the people, of both city and township, and has indicated that his organization would be interested in analyzing the possibilities within the scope of the proposal.

"Back in September of this year, the City Commission authorized the

Father, Son Rope Deer While It Bucked Fence

MILLINGTON (AP) — Sherwood Smith of Millington believes he's the only Michigan deer hunter to bag a buck this season by lassoing one—and bringing it back alive.

Smith, a wholesale meat dealer, spotted an eight-point buck trying to ram its way through a wire fence. He got close enough to seize the animal and held it while his 9-year-old son, R. J., slipped a rope over the deer's head.

The Smiths then wrestled the deer onto a truck and took it home where Smith plans to slaughter it. Smith, who had a deer license, said he won't have to go north now to hunt.

Changes in Draft Affect Fathers: Those Above 26

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Selective Service spokesman said today a change in the draft regulations is expected "fairly soon" which will have the effect of deferring most if not all fathers.

* * *

He said the anticipated change would provide this order of call for eligible registrants between 18½ and 26 years of age:

1. Delinquents. Defined as those who for some reasons failed to register or to comply with local board instructions to report for physical examinations.
2. Volunteers.
3. Nonvolunteers between 18½ and 26 with no children.
4. Men 26 and younger with children.
5. Men over 26.

President Picks Michigan Man

Appoint Grand Rapids Manufacturer as Aide in Commerce Post

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower has accepted a week earlier than expected the resignation of Lothair Teetor as assistant secretary of commerce and has named Frederick H. Mueller, 62, Grand Rapids, Mich., furniture manufacturer, as his successor.

Eisenhower also named Clifford Cook Furnas chancellor of the University of Buffalo, to be assistant secretary of defense for research and development. He succeeds Donald A. Quarles, now secretary of the Air Force.

Mueller and Furnas will serve under recess appointments until the Senate acts on their confirmation after Congress convenes in January.

Mueller has long been active in the business, social and civic world, but is a relative newcomer to politics.

Prior to his appointment yesterday, on his 62nd birthday, his political experience had been limited to membership on the Michigan State Board of Agriculture. The board's only function is to govern Michigan State University, from which Mueller was graduated as a mechanical engineer in 1914.

Ruggedly handsome and an outdoorsman, Mueller for many years has been a leader in the furniture manufacturing business for which Grand Rapids is internationally famous.

He was one of the organizers of the National Assn. of Manufacturers and has served as its president.

Mueller said last night his son will become general manager of his furniture company and that he will start his new job in Washington Monday. His wife and daughter will move east later, he said.

A Prayer for Thanksgiving

O Thou Lord of the harvest by whose providence we have bread to eat and loved ones with whom to share it, we thank Thee for the good earth. For sun and rain and fertile fields; for man's ingenuity that has found the means to transport earth's bounty to our tables; for our nation and its traditions of generosity, we give Thee thanks. And may our gratitude be such that we shall find our deepest joys in things of the spirit and in love that shares Thy goodness with all our brothers, through Jesus Christ, the bread of life. Amen.

Officials Await State Go-Ahead on $600,000 Plan

Expect to Put Bonds on Market by Feb. 1 if Approval Is Given

The City Commission last night unanimously adopted a 19-page ordinance authorizing a revenue bond issue to finance a $600,000 municipal parking program.

The acceptance of the final reading by the lawmakers now sends the issue to the State Municipal Finance Commission for study and possible approval. It is expected to be in the commission's hands for 30 days.

City Manager Walter K. Willman said he expects the bonds to be marketed by Feb. 1, provided the commission approves.

The six hundred $1,000 bonds will have an interest rate not to exceed four per cent with interest being paid semi-annually the first day of January and July of each year.

The municipal program, which will provide 624 added 5-cent-an-hour parking spaces at four downtown locations, will actually cost $633,447.

The city treasury will provide for $33,447 of the expansion cost of the program.

The fourth lot in the program will be handled under a separate financial deal. Located off Auburn east of Saginaw, it will be leased for the present from the State Highway Dept.

It will furnish spaces for 67 autos when opened and part of it will be used to straighten the Orchard Lake-Auburn jog at Saginaw in the future. The city plans to purchase what is left.

Major lot in the program will be a three-section facility providing for 328 automobiles. The lot will be located in the Lafayette-Wayne-Pine-Jacokes section.

Another will be on West Lawrence west of Cass. It will run through to West Pike and accommodate 148 vehicles.

The last will serve 81 cars and will be located on West Lawrence at the foot of Wayne.

The city now provides 332 spaces in two municipal lots downtown.

Cobo, Bentley Want Draft Call

Potential Governors to Run for Republicans 'If People Want It'

DETROIT (AP)—Mayor Albert E. Cobo of Detroit and Congressman Alvin M. Bentley of Owosso say they do not want the Republican nomination for governor.

* * *

However, both men said after a private parley yesterday in Detroit, one or the other would accept the nomination if enough voters indicate they want them to run.

Cobo and Bentley are the two men mentioned most often as Republican candidates for governor in the 1956 election.

Cobo, asked by a group of GOP state legislators to try for the nomination, promised a decision by Jan. 1. His announcement yesterday was the first indication that he would accept the bid.

'IF PEOPLE WANT ME'

"I don't want to be governor just for the title," he said. "But if I really was the choice of the people, I believe I could accomplish a lot in the state."

* * *

Bentley said he prefers to remain in Washington as a congressman and would not be a candidate for governor if Cobo decides to run. But, he added, he would accept the nomination if he is convinced he is the man the people want.

Both men said the Republican candidate should be able to defeat Gov. G. Mennen Williams or any other man chosen by the Democrats.

The GOP candidate, Bentley said, will be able to base his attack on a number of issues, including the administration's lack of a sound, long-range solution to such problems as mental health, a highway program and taxation.

* * *

Bentley and Cobo both called on Republicans to conduct a harmonious primary election without "low-grade tactics" to disrupt party harmony.

Ike Set for Happy Holiday

FROM OUR WIRE SERVICES

GETTYSBURG, Pa. — The storms and cares of office take a little recess today in that big white country place on the rim of Gettysburg battlefield.

President Eisenhower has some work to do. But at the same time his three lively grandchildren are coming with their parents, Maj. and Mrs. John S. Eisenhower.

And it's Thanksgiving Eve, with a family holiday in prospect.

And like many a plain John Q. Citizen, Washington big-wigs are planning a "home-for-Thanksgiving" holiday.

* * *

Secretary of State and Mrs. John Foster Dulles will retire to the solitude of their Duck Island retreat in Lake Ontario.

If the usual pattern is followed, Mrs. Dulles will cook the Thanksgiving feast and the secretary will wash the dishes.

* * *

In a departure from custom, one of the most harried members of President Eisenhower's Cabinet—Agriculture Secretary Ezra Taft Benson—is taking the entire family to New York City for the holiday.

Commerce Secretary Sinclair Weeks hies to Boston for a festive get-together with his children and grandchildren and Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson will be off for his home base in Bloomfield Hills.

Thanksgiving has a special significance for the nation's capital for, as the National Geographic Society pointed out, it must still be proclaimed by the President every year.

As Ogden Nash puts it: "Thanksgiving, like ambassadors, Cabinet officers and others . . . depends for its existence upon presidential appointment."

From President Grant's time the holiday had been observed on the fourth Thursday in November until the late Franklin D. Roosevelt upset tradition with three successive years of third-Thursday Thanksgivings.

But in the late 1941, Congress kicked over the traces and pegged the date once again on the fourth Thursday. In the past 14 years, no President has sought to meddle with tradition.

Mrs. Woodward Ready for Jury

Widow Will Tell Details of Nightmare Shooting Friday in Court

MINEOLA, N.Y. (AP)—Mrs. Ann Woodward is expected to go before a special session of the Nassau County grand jury Friday to tell how she killed her millionaire sportsman husband with a shotgun blast.

Her lawyer, Murray Gurfein of New York City, says the 39-year-old widow will exercise her right to testify before the grand jury about the killing of her husband, William Woodward Jr.

The Duchess of Windsor may be a witness before the jury.

Mrs. Woodward has told authorities that she shot into a dark hallway of her home at a noise she thought was caused by a prowler. Her 35-year-old husband, who was at the door of his bedroom across the hall, was hit in the head and died almost instantly.

To appear before the grand jury, Mrs. Woodward must waive immunity—meaning that anything she says could be used against her in any possible prosecution.

The state is not calling Mrs. Woodward as a witness, which would be an unusual procedure.

* * *

County authorities, who have questioned the widow in detail, have not challenged her story that the shooting was a tragic accident.

Plans for Freeway May Be Abandoned

The possibility that State Highway Commissioner Charles M. Ziegler has abondoned immediate plans for the north-south freeway which would parallel the proposed turnpike route appeared in Ann Arbor today.

* * *

At the Michigan Turnpike Authority meeting this morning, chairman George Higgins said the proposed freeway was not among a list of pending state projects received by the Turnpike Authority from the Highway Department.

"I can only conclude that this means Ziegler has abondoned plans to push construction of a north-south freeway within the next few years," said Higgins.

* * *

If such a freeway were built, it would take a large volume of traffic from the proposed turnpike, and probably make it impossible to finance a toll road, authorities have said.

Competing plans for the toll road and freeway have caused a long fight between Ziegler and turnpike backers. The State Supreme Court has been asked to rule on the legality of the Turnpike Authority.

Things Are Getting Better

Take-Home-Pay on Rise With Static Living Costs

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government reported today that living costs were unchanged between September and October while take home pay of factory workers rose to a new record level.

October take home pay was estimated at $72.18 for the average factory workers with three dependents and at $64.85 for the single worker, both up more than $5 from a year ago. Take home pay represents earnings less taxes.

In living costs, food prices were lower but this drop was offset by higher transportation and housing costs to leave the government index unchanged.

The figures were announced by the Labor Department's Bureau of Statistics.

Its living cost index for October was 114.9 per cent of the 1947-49 average, meaning that what cost a dollar in that period now costs nearly 15 cents more.

The October index, matching that of September, is three tenths of one per cent higher than a year ago. It is four tenths of one per cent below the record living cost level reached in October, 1953.

LITTLE INDEX CHANGE

There was too little change in the October index, compared with the living cost level three months ago, to require a pay increase for nearly a million workers in the auto industry. Their labor con-

Study Dropping Local Hospitals

Mental Health Head Suggests Plan During Compromise Talks

The recommendation that the state purchase the Oakland County Tuberculosis Sanatorium for emergency care for mentally retarded children was withdrawn yesterday by Charles F. Wagg, State Mental Health Commissioner.

Senator Robert E. Faulkner (R-Coloma) said Wagg made the move.

The legislative conference committee studying the dispute that arose between the House and Senate reported that it has made some progress in the settling of the dispute. The committee recessed until next Tuesday after a 2½ hour meeting yesterday with Wagg.

Sen. Faulkner, Senior Senate conferee, said Wagg was instructed to assemble more facts and figures on the possible use of two new buildings at the Northville State Hospital.

Faulkner said Wagg objected that use of the Northville buildings for mentally retarded children might interfere with the state's long-range program for the care of mentally ill.

Rep. Harry Phillips (R-Port Huron), Senior House conferee, said some House members have not had "a full evaluation" of the Northville facilities.

"If they did, they might change their minds," he said.

The Northville buildings, designed for use by adult patients, are completed and waiting for equipment. Committee members said they could accommodate from 200 to 225 cases.

tracts call for a one cent increase or decrease in hourly pay when the government index changes sixtenths of one per cent over a quarterly period.

The living cost picture in October reflected fairly substantial food price declines as the harvest seasons brought more plentiful and varied supplies to market.

But housing costs, including rents, and transportation, including new car prices, were up. There were also slightly higher prices for medical care and personal care.

Family foods cost less in 39 of the 46 cities surveyed in October. The food index was seven-tenths of one per cent lower than in September and nine-tenths of one percent below October last year.

Prices for meat, poultry, fresh fruits and vegetables led the October food price drop. There were smaller declines for eggs, fats and oils, cereals and chocolate bars. However, restaurant meal costs continued at a steady advance.

Meats, poultry and fish as a group are at their lowest level since April, 1950.

Virtually all the elements of housing costs, including household operation, rose in October, hitting a new record level.

Transportation costs rose one per cent during the month largely because of higher prices for the new 1956 model cars. Used car prices declined, however, and gasoline prices were slightly lower.

Three Persons Hurt in Auto Collisions

Three persons were treated and released from Pontiac General Hospital after automobile accidents yesterday and last night.

Suffering minor injuries were:

State of Siege Asked in Brazil

Congress Will Consider Order to Bar Cafe Filho From Resuming Office

RIO DE JANEIRO, (INS)—The Brazilian Congress considered today a demand from Acting President Nereu Ramos for a declaration of a state of siege.

The request from Ramos for the 30-days of modified martial law was approved by a committee of the Chamber of Deputies early this morning after an all-night session.

The leaders of the majority parties hoped to have the lower house vote approval later today and begin discussions in the Senate immediately afterwards.

Imposition of a state of siege would consolidate the move by Ramos and War Minister Gen. Henrique Teixera Lott which blocked Joao Cafe Filho from resuming office as president after his recovery from a heart attack.

The Congress approved a resolution yesterday declaring Cafe Filho could not take over again two weeks after he resigned for an indefinite period in favor of the Chamber President Carlos Luz.

The former president was placed under house arrest Monday evening after he announced his determination to return to office.

Luz was overthrown and Ramos installed by Teixera Lott and his supporters who said the acting president was part of a plot to prevent President-elect Juscelino Kubitschek from taking office on Jan. 31, 1956, as scheduled under the constitution.

Willman Comments on Proposed Merger

City Manager to prepare an analysis of proposed annexation needs and a general plan for future annexation. The Manager referred this matter to the City Planning Commission with a request that the job be undertaken by the Planning Commission as soon as possible and with an inference that professional assistance, would without a question, be necessary in making this important study.

"The City Commission had a sound reason for preparing this resolution. We have an undeveloped area of approximately 2,000 acres. Our developed area is in the ratio of eight persons to the acre, so if that ratio were continued throughout the undeveloped area now existing, at the most the city could absorb another 20,000 residents which would bring our maximum population to approximately 100,000 people.

"It becomes apparent in view of the aforementioned statement that the city must either enlarge its area by annexation, or become a core city tending to serve, particularly in the field of public utilities, a suburban area which will be developed as a fringe area about the city itself.

"Examples of these diverse attempts at solutions could be Detroit as a core city furnishing utilities to many suburban cities, and Toronto, which has recently absorbed some 16 small communities on the fringe of Toronto proper, into a greater Toronto Metropolitan area.

"Annexation in the thinking of public officials should be rather general in its nature and not particularly selective. Spot annexations are to be avoided. Annexation should conform to sound financing and to a well balanced overall development. Areas should only be absorbed when a full complement of municipal services can be provided without long delay and within the financial ability of the city.

"Furthermore, intelligent development of any newly acquired area should not take place at the expense of the older parts of the city. Annexation in Michigan has been accomplished in some few instances but it has not been an easy maneuver by reason of the present annexation laws. The Michigan Municipal League has been working for several years in an attempt to simplify and streamline the law relating to annexation without too much success.

"It should be remembered that a proposal such as Mr. Steere's will eventually be settled by a vote of the people of the annexing city, and a vote of the people within the area to be annexed, and this has very often been difficult of accomplishment.

"Annexation of a definite area of the City of Pontiac such as Waterford Township could provide the city with additional living room, additional population which would be taken into account in the distribution of State collected funds, such as sales tax, gasoline tax, intangible tax, etc. The question can then be raised as to the added responsibilities of the city to the area that would provide these advantages.

"We are now a city practically free of general obligation debt and with a comparatively low tax rate of $13.70 per thousand for municipal purposes. The combined rate, including school and county for the year 1955 was $40.28. It is my understanding that this is considerably less than the combined rate in the township.

"The city's assessed value is currently approximately $216,000,000. and 56 per cent of this total is an industrial assessment. This industrial assessment factor broadens our tax base and naturally permits a reasonable operating budget at a reasonable tax rate and the conducting of a fairly adequate public improvement program.

"The city still has a backlog of public improvements, which should have first call upon its resources and we are still faced with the solution of many important problems including water, sewage treatment, highways, storm and sanitary sewers, and these are matters of tremendous expense. They are also matters of prime concern to the area suggested for annexation, and in other words, they can be considered fringe problems of the City of Pontiac.

"Our school system is rapidly expanding under a program of careful planning and financing, and the question in the final analysis will be one of balancing the advantages and disadvantages to the two levels of government concerned, and this is a matter that requires the most careful study and analysis.

"Surely, neither the city nor the township is interested in embarking upon a venture unless the working out of this proposal will be of considerable advantage to both levels of government and without extreme penalty to either. I am sure that the City Plan Commission will give this proposal its most careful consideration under their general instructions to prepare an analysis of proposed annexation needs and a general plan for future annexation. Responsibility for the preparation of this analysis and planning has been placed by the City Commission with the City Manager, and naturally, it will get my closest personal attention."

YMCA Schedules Swim Event for Teenagers

The YMCA "Swim and Swing" Club again will open its doors to non-members when it puts on its Thanksgiving Dance, from 9 p.m. to midnight Friday at the YMCA Building.

Teenagers in and near Pontiac, as well as vacationing college students, have been invited to attend the dance, and, if they wish, swim from 9:30 to 10:30, according to YMCA leaders.

More than 250 are expected to turn out for the event, according to Morrie Tubergen, YMCA youth director.

Auxiliary Views Gifts for Veterans Hospital

Meeting at the Legion Home Monday night, the Ladies Auxiliary of American Legion Cook-Nelson Post 20 viewed gifts selected for donation to the Veterans Hospital in Dearborn and set Dec. 17 as the date for their annual children's Christmas party.

The ladies also cancelled a turkey dinner planned for Dec. 4. Next regular meeting will be Dec. 5.

Proposed '56 City Budget Shows $300,000 Increase

The City Commission last night got its first look at the proposed 1956 budget which calls for an increase of $300,000 over the current budget

Presented by City Manager Walter K. Willman, the proposed hike "will very possibly permit a tax rate of $13.80 per thousand of assessed value," the pledged ceiling in the past, he said.

The suggested budget totals $4,891,823,08 with $3,036,513.49 being levied as property tax. An estimated $1,555,314.59 will be income from sources other than taxes. The balance would be reached by allocating $300,000 to it from the city's unappropriated surplus.

Willman said the increase is necessitated by increased costs of construction supplies and labor, adjustments in compensation, increased pension requirements and debt allocation in the hospital expansion program and the proposed addition of personnel in various departments.

Provision is made in the new budget for the continuation of the paving, sewer and sidewalk program and the construction of the public safety building and one added fire station.

The budget also provides for the purchase of most of the remaining property between City Hall and the Clinton River.

Completion of the Telegraph-Orchard Lake grade separation including the by-pass paving and the widening and reconstruction of Perry Street from Huron to the city limits is included in the program.

* * *

"This proposed budget is designed to finance a vigorous program of public service and municipal construction. It is completely within our fiscal limitations and should meet many needs of a growing community," Willman stated.

Council of Churches Sets Thanksgiving Service at 9

The annual community Thanksgiving Day service will again be sponsored tomorrow by the local Council of Churches, with the Rev. Robert Dewey, council president, delivering the sermon, "Can We Give Thanks?"

This year's service will begin at 9 a.m. at the Congregational Church, where the Rev. Mr. Dewey is minister. Also participating will be the Rev. Robert Wilkie, assistant minister at the First Baptist Church and the Rev. MacKay Taylor, minister of Northminster Presbyterian Church.

Edwin F. Kirbert, executive secretary of the YMCA and treasurer of the church council, will deliver President Eisenhower's Thanksgiving Day proclamation. Music will be provided by the adult choir of the host church with Mrs. William Neef, soprano soloist, singing "Marvelous Is the Power of God."

This is one of several services sponsored each year by the Council of Churches, and is open to the public. Other council officers include the Rev. Robert Searls of Franklin Community Church and the Rev. Emil Kontz of the First Baptist Church, both vice presidents.

An architect's report given the City Commission Monday night with reference to progress on the Eton Park artificial ice skating rink, indicated that refrigeration equipment would be installed yesterday, making it possible "to manufacture ice before Christmas."

However, the warming building will not be completed by then. Inside finish work will proceed immediately upon delivery of aluminum sash, due the week of Dec. 19.

Honored last night at the annual "Flowers for the Living" banquet given by the Kiwanis Club, was Edwin F. Kirbert, executive secretary of the local YMCA, who has seen membership in the Y climb from a very small group to over 2,000 since he came here in 1946.

Speakers at the dinner attended by friends and their wives included: Del Ingram, YMCA committee of management; Victor Peck, Rotary Club; Harold Kalbfleisch, Lions Club; the Rev. Robert Graham, First Presbyterian Church; Clarence Nichols, Kiwanis Club; and City Commissioner William Roberts.

A long discussion ended in City Commission denial this week, when a hearing was held to hear objections to rezoning four lots on Southfield, adjacent to the northeastern corner of 14 Mile and Southfield roads, from single family residence to business A.

The city was in receipt of a petition signed by 217 residents in the subdivision, plus individual letters of disapproval, but Commissioner William Roberts at first asked for further legal counsel before a decision was reached.

He said he felt the city had lost too many zoning suits in similar cases which have recently ended up in court. His motion was finally turned down and the petition denied.

With his admission to committing a number of larcenies in the surrounding area, a 14-year-old Troy Township youth has solved the disappearance of several bicycles, break-ins and larcenies from autos, for a total of seven here, Detective Sgt. Robert Schaule, said today.

The juvenile is now in Oakland County Juvenile Home for one year, after admitting a number of purse snatchings to Royal Oak police, Schaule said, and the boy also confessed to over a dozen larcenies in Troy Township.

Child, 7, Hit by Car Half Block From Home

Seven-year-old Gloria Jean Lockhart, of Auburn Heights, was treated and released from Pontiac General Hospital yesterday after she was hit by a car as she ran across the road a half-block from her home.

Oakland County Sheriff's deputies said the driver of the car was Mrs. Ethel Sedam, 47, also of Auburn Heights, who told them Gloria had run across M59 near Squirrel Road too fast to be avoided.

AMERICA GIVES THANKS—3

The First Thanksgiving

The little band of Pilgrims worked hard to make a life in the wilderness.

Early in the fall of 1621 they held a three-day festival to celebrate their fortune in having good crops.

Their Indian friends attended, with Chief Massasoit sitting at the table beside Gov. William Bradford. Gov. Bradford said grace over the food and all of them, Indians and Pilgrims, feasted together. Then the Indians danced and the Pilgrims played the games of their native England.

The Indians brought much food to the feast. Here an Indian boy has brought a young turkey to his Pilgrim friend.

Paste this picture on cardboard and color it with crayons. Cut it out. Cut the slits in the hands of both boys.

Fold the picture forward on the dotted line at the center and the boys will stand, so that you can place it in your collection of Thanksgiving cutouts. Slip the tab on the turkey's feet into the slot in the Indian boy's hands and fold it back. Now he's holding the turkey. Later when he gives it to the Pilgrim boy, he can hold it the same way.

Junior Editors pays $10 for any reader's idea that is used. Write your suggestion to "Junior Editors" in care of this newspaper; it cannot be acknowledged or returned.

Civilians Exempt From Army Rule

Federal Judge Decides Military Jurisdiction Does Not Apply

WASHINGTON (AP) — A federal judge ruled today that civilians accompanying the armed forces overseas cannot be subjected to military trials.

* * *

U.S. Dist. Judge Edward A. Tamm made the ruling in the case of Mrs. Clarice B. Covert, 35, who was convicted by an Air Force court-martial of murdering her husband in England.

ORDERS RELEASE

Judge Tamm ordered Mrs. Covert released under $1,000 bail pending a government decision on whether to appeal from his ruling.

The judge based his ruling on the Supreme Court's recent decision in the case of former Air Force Sgt. Robert Toth of Pittsburgh.

In the Toth case it was held that the former airman could not be called back after discharge for trial by a military court for the slaying of a Korean civlian.

The Supreme Court divided 5-3 in the Toth case.

Judge Tamm commented that he recognized his decision will cause major difficulties for the armed forces. But, he said, there is a ready solution in action by Congress.

Dulles Takes Orders From Mamie Also

THURMONT, Md. (INS)—Secretary of State John Foster Dulles enacted a new role Tuesday at President Eisenhower's cabinet meeting in the Catoctin Mountains.

The secretary whipped out a small, red autograph album and obtained the signatures of all the government officials present at the unusual session.

Dulles explained that he was acting at the request of Mrs. Eisenhower. He said the first lady had "especially asked for autographs of all participants in the cabinet conference at Camp David.

The Chief Executive, who looked on with a broad smile as Dulles collected the signatures, explained that the album is one of Mrs. Eisenhower's "pet" hobbies.

BONN (INS) — When does a Christmas gift become bribery? In the view of the "Anti-Corruption Club" — an organization founded in Bonn to keep businessmen's hands clean, it's all right to accept a calendar or a pocket book from an industrial firm, but a case of wine is "bribery."

The association of business firms and organizations has appealed to businessmen to keep Christmas gifts "within the limits of decency."

Temperance Union Holds Annual Dinner

The Mary Marton Chapter of the Women's Christian Temperance Union held its third annual pre Thanksgiving dinner recently in the Trinity Baptist Church. A turkey dinner was served to 100.

At the program which followed, Mrs. Verda Billings led the singing with Mrs. Mary H. Woods and Mrs. Sarah Gary at the piano.

The invocation was given by the Rev. S. M. Edwards. Short talks were given by the Rev. Richard Dixon, pastor of Trinity Baptist, the Rev. D. E. Ring, the Rev. J. Allen Parker and the Rev. H. C. Shankle.

A paper on Thanksgiving was read by Mrs. Anna Thompson and Mrs. Frank Deaver gave a resume of the organzation's work.

Truck Driver Cited in Nine Rail Deaths

MONROE (AP)—The driver of a truck which carried nine railroad section hands to their deaths in the path of a New York Central train last Friday will be charged with negligent homicide, Prosecutor William J. Braumlich Jr., states.

He is Jarvis C. Martin, 26, of Monroe, who still is confined to a hospital with injuries suffered in the crash. Two others who survived the tragedy also are in the hospital.

The passenger train, bound to Detroit from St. Louis, smashed into the truck at a crossing a mile south of the village of Newport in northeast Monroe County.

The three who survived were in the cab of the truck. The nine who died were seated on benches in the rear of the truck, used to transport railroad workers.

More Slow Pokes Cited Than X-Way Speeders

DETROIT (AP)—More slow drivers than speeders were ticketed on Detroit's expressways during the first week of patrol by unmarked police cars.

Traffic Inspector James A. Hoye said 174 motorists were ticketed for driving slowly in left hand lanes and 133 were ticketed for speeding.

A total of 678 tickets were issued during the week.

Army to Reduce Troops in Japan

First Cavalry Division Strength Cut One-Third in Near Future

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Army announced today that 1st Cavalry Division strength in Japan will be reduced by one-third in the near future, leaving the Army with less than three full divisions in the Far East.

The reduction will be accomplished by taking away all but a token unit of the 7th Cavalry Regiment and the 77th Field Artillery Battalion which have been integral parts of the division since the early days of World War II in the Western Pacific.

The Army said that as its forces are reduced in Japan more facilities will be released to the Japanese. The 7th Cavalry Regiment is stationed at Camp Haugen in Japan but the Army said this camp will be retained for use by other U.S. forces.

The Army's 7th and 24th Divisions are still in Korea. Part of the 3rd Marine Division is in Japan the rest of the unit having been transferred to Okinawa.

The 1st Cavalry Division is actually an infantry division retaining the cavalry designation for historical reasons. The 7th Cavalry Regiment, being closed down as an active unit in the Far East by the new move, won fame under Gen. Custer 80 years ago in the battle of Little Big Horn, where it was virtually annihilated.

70 Pct. of Auto Washes Have Pacts, AFL Says

DETROIT (AP)—The AFL Teamsters Union claim to now have contracts covering 70 per cent of Detroit's auto wash establishments.

Teamsters Local 985 and the Motor City Auto Wash Owners Assn. signed a three-year contract Monday. It covers about 35 shops and some 450 employes.

William Bufalino, Local 985 president, said separate contracts with auto-wash shops outside the association bring total coverage to 70 per cent.

The new contract divides employers into three groups, depending upon volume of business. Employe wages range from $8 to $15 a day.

Ike's Tariff Policy Given New Impetus

Those who believe as we do that tariff liberalization is a sound policy for a creditor nation like the United States, should be pleased by the latest news from this front.

It reveals that our Interior Department has awarded four electrical equipment contracts to Italian, Swiss and British firms. They had underbid their American competitors by at least 12 per cent.

★ ★ ★

This news would have been even more encouraging had it not been for the fact that the contracts were let only after the White House had exerted pressure on the Interior Department. That pressure is completely in line with President Eisenhower's order last Spring calling for liberalization of import practices under the Buy American act.

Up to that time, as provided by the act, Federal agencies were awarding contracts to foreign bidders only if they were 25 per cent under American bids. Mr. Eisenhower then decided that the differential should be no more than six per cent except in areas of substantial unemployment where additional protection would be afforded.

★ ★ ★

The real corrective, as the President long ago pointed out, is repeal of the Buy American act. That, of course, remains one of the important foreign policy goals of the Eisenhower Administration.

Famed Bank's Chairman Sounds Timely Warning

In an address before the New York Chamber of Commerce, Henry C. Alexander of J. P. Morgan & Co. sounded a wise and timely note of economic caution.

The address was delivered on the eve of Mr. Alexander's advancement from president of the banking firm to chairman of its board. In no sense was he offering counsel of gloom. Instead, he warned Government, management, labor and individuals against the danger of confusing inflation, excessive speculation and debt with true economic growth.

★ ★ ★

Mr. Alexander's address had special value for its sound advice to those who believe built-in safeguards can prevent economic disaster, as well as those who think current prosperity is normal. Declaring that we have ample grounds for confidence, he continued:

★ ★ ★

"Our economy not only produces dynamically, it consumes dynamically. But . . . when I hear about the so called built-in stabilizers . . . . I get the chilly feeling that some of us may be dangerously close to overconfidence. The best way to preserve confidence is to prevent it from turning into overconfidence."

★ ★ ★

Continuing, Mr. Alexander pointed out that confidence can sustain and moderate the occasional dips and halts that inevitably interrupt our forward march. He rightly added that overconfidence will collapse at the first unfavorable turn.

West Germany's Army

Postwar history was made at Bonn when the organizational unit of West Germany's new army was sworn in.

In size the unit was far from impressive. It included only 100 men ranking from non-commissioned officers to generals, and it will be at least five years before the projected force of 500,000 can be trained and equipped.

★ ★ ★

There has been some criticism in Allied circles because this first organizational step was so long delayed. Actual authorization of the force that is to help sustain the North Atlantic Alliance came last April in the pacts of Paris.

There is another fact that makes the organization seem belated. It is that arms for the new force, supplied by the United States, long have been available for training purposes.

★ ★ ★

Criticism of the delay has extended to West Germany's Finance Minister Schaeffer. He reportedly views rearmament from the standpoint of fiscal convenience rather than national or European need.

The main reason for the delay, however, is that this force is to be under civilian control and parliamentary supervision rather than one created by a dictator's decree.

The average person easily and correctly reads the handwriting on the wall—and then proceeds to try to convince himself it isn't true.

If the world were to end before January 1, 1956, as a Chicago seer predicts, a lot of people would miss having it around.

Eau de Irresistible

David Lawrence Says:

Look A'Here, Podner, Little Old Texas Should Be in That There United Nations

WASHINGTON—There's one way to break the deadlock which has arisen over the admission of 18 new members of the United Nations, and that's to accept as the 19th new member the great state of Texas. A case as good as, if not better than that being made by Russia for the admission of Outer Mongolia can be made for the Lone Star State.

* * *

The Soviet government has been urging the admission of Outer Mongolia, which used to be a part of China but became a puppet state of Russia in 1945. The United States ambassador to U. N., Henry Cabot Lodge, has stated that this country would abstain from voting—that is, would not object—to the admission of Romania, Bulgaria, Hungary and Albania but doubted if Outer Mongolia could get enough votes in the Security Council.

On every side there's pressure for a "compromise." Already the United States is being blamed by Communist agitators in non-Communist countries for blocking admission of 13 states because Russia can prevent their entry if America refuses to let Outer Mongolia in, as Russia demands. The 13 states on the non-Communist side which would be admitted under the so-called "package deal" are Japan, Italy, Spain, Portugal, Austria, Cambodia, Ceylon, Finland, Eire, Jordan, Laos, Libya, and Nepal.

The argument for the admission of Texas rests on just as firm ground as the original admission to the U. N. in 1945 of Byelorussia and the Ukrainian Republic. Both the latter states are integrated in the Soviet Union and have no more right to call themselves "independent" than has any state in the United States.

ROOSEVELT DIDN'T FIGHT

Only the United States seems to have been remiss in insisting on more than one vote in the United Nations. It was the arrangement whereby the British would have six votes in the League of Nations, while the United States would have only one, that helped build the sentiment which prevented the Senate from ratifying the League of Nations covenant in 1929.

It was at Yalta in 1945 that President Roosevelt yielded to Stalin's insistence that there be three votes for the Soviet Union in the United Nations — the Ukrainian Republic, Byelorussia, and the Soviet government itself. The argument was advanced that Britain already had several votes assured through her dominions and that it would help the people of the Ukraine and Byelorussia to feel a certain prestige of independence if they could be admitted. Roosevelt didn't fight the issue.

Now Moscow is out to get more votes in U. N. It actually controls such satellite states as Romania, Hungary, Albania and Bulgaria, but it isn't satisfied with the admission of these puppet states in Europe. It wants Outer Mongolia to be voted in, and to all intents and purposes that "People's Republic" is just as much under the wing of the Soviet Union as Texas is dependent on the federal union.

TEXAS IS PRIVILEGED

In fact, Texas was once part of Mexico — just as Outer Mongolia was a part of China. Texas was independent from 1836 to 1845 and, though admitted to the union on Dec. 29, 1845, was given by Congress the right at any time in its discretion to divide into five states "of convenient size."

The Lone Star flag still flies in Texas. It can be flown by the side of the Stars and Stripes but not above it. In other words, the emblem of Texas to this day can peacefully coexist alongside of the flag of the union.

Certainly Moscow ought not to object to the admission of Texas, as it would solve a very complicated dilemma and at the same time do for the citizens of Texas what Stalin was so anxious to do for the citizens of Byelorussia and the Ukraine—it would make them feel proud.

CALIFORNIA ALSO

It may be true that, since the early days of the republic, the language—or rather the accent—in Texas has come to be not far different from that spoken in other parts of the United States. But this should not be a basis for disqualification. The members of the British commonwealth of states speak the same language, too, and yet are accorded a separate status as individual nations in U. N.

There is always the possibility, of course, that, if Texas is admitted to U. N., some of the other states in the union may feel themselves eligible for admission. That's, however, a calculated risk which can be taken.

California, for instance, has a good claim. Her people have always considered themselves in an empire of their own. In a few years California may have the largest population of any state in the union. Besides, U. N. itself was born on California soil in 1945.

But while a good case may be made for admitting California and Texas and a couple of other states in the union on the ground that our union is entitled to as many votes in U. N. as is the British commonwealth of states, a "compromise" at the moment by admitting Texas along with Outer Mongolia might end the deadlock—and that's the immediate business.

Professionals' Trick Helps You Address Large Group

By WILLIAM BRADY, M.D.

"This is to report on the results I had from following the advice in your pamphlet on Stage Fright and Examination Jitters . . ." (Any poor soul who faces the awful prospect of singing, performing, delivering a lecture or reading the minutes of a past meeting, may learn how to escape into a reasonably indifferent state by reading the pamphlet.)

* * *

As for the examination jitters, that's only a mild type of misery, which responds to the same treatment.

The correspondent says "the results were excellent, also it has helped to maintain assurance or confidence. The trouble was almost an impediment of speech."

I discovered a quick cure for stage fright when I was a boy on Chapel Street in Canandaigua. It was the last day of school and I was scheduled to address the parents and friends gathered at the schoolhouse, on the subject: "I'm Just a Little Boy."

On thinking it over I realized how it would be to tell the audience what was apparent to everybody, and so, without explaining to anybody, I put on instead another act—Little Boy Suddenly Afflicted With Severe Toothache.

WORKED PERFECTLY

It worked perfectly. With my fingers in my mouth holding the tooth I never uttered a word—all I had to do was bawl till my dad dragged me off the platform and out of the school.

That's why I'm so glad to get reports telling of the benefit derived from the use of the prophylactic I devised for the poor souls who can't escape the ordeal by getting a sudden toothache.

Examination jitters? Never had it myself—not because I was so smart, indeed I failed to pass algebra, physical geography, European history and a few other useless subjects.

Maybe the algebra, physical geography and European history teachers were not such competent teachers as my Latin, Physics, and Chemistry teachers were.

ACTORS' TRICK

One trick actors, musicians and speakers have found helpful is the practice of natural breathing for a minute or two just before going on.

When you try this be sure you know what natural breathing is. It is described in Little Lesson No. 21, How to Breathe, which you will receive with the pamphlet if you inclose 25 cents in additional and ask for it.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long, pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Mich.

UF Worker Turns Down Additional Charity Drives

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature

I have just completed the task of working with the United Fund here in Pontiac, working as a solicitor and unit captain and was pleased with the results of going over the top. As a worker, calling upon the different businesses, and as a captain, telling the people working with me, that this drive was the "Give Once for All" campaign so that we would not be bothered again.

It has now been about two weeks since the UF drive and I have received three requests for other drives, Boy's Town, some outfit in Detroit and Christmas Seals. I see where the mothers are organizing for a Polsy drive, the firemen are having a dance, the Goodfellows are going to sell papers, and I hate to think of the many more things that will be coming up in the next 12 months.

I have to admit that all these organizations are most worthy and that any contribution you may give will be most appreciated and beneficial, but how can a person try to sell the UF and then have all these organizations come up right now and say please help us?

The UF has done a wonderful job in rounding up most charities into their fold, as the speaker at the UF victory luncheon stated and also gave recognition to the person who started it, and my only hope is that these other organizations that are covered in the UF will realize why others besides myself say no to their drives. We felt that the "Give Once for All" meant what it said.

Second Request for Bus in Eastview Subdivision

I agree with "Careless Lady" in regard to bus service in Eastview Subdivision. Why can't we have a trial bus service for a while at least to see if it pays?

There certainly are enough people in this subdivision who would support it, if given a chance. Just what more can we do to get bus service out our way?

Some Circles Term Ike 'Republican New Dealer'

By MERRYLE S. RUKEYSER
INS Economic Commentator

Prudent investment of savings presupposes an ability to peer through the fog of ballyhoo and propaganda to the current realities and the shape of things to come.

* * *

As the contest looms for control of the executive and legislative departments of the federal government in 1956, it is important for the business manager, the saver, the investor and the speculator to distinguish between facts and fantasy.

Take, by the way of illustration, the attempt of James B. Carey, secretary-treasurer of the CIO, and Adlai E. Stevenson, avowed candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination, to link President Eisenhower with business.

A recent public opinion poll indicated that regularly siding with business is less than one-eighth as popular as a "a middle of the road" position.

And to make confusion doubly confused, Gov. Fred Hall, Kansas Republican, takes a diametrically opposite view of the alleged affinity between Eisenhower and business, and instead says that his party can't win next year unless all elements of the party, including the conservatives of business, industry and the professions, "get in step" with the Eisenhower program and the desires of the American people.

* * *

Governor Hall has taken a ghost out of the closet and has revealed that some standpatters in the business world have been inclined to regard President Eisenhower as a Republican New Dealer.

NO RIGID LINE

The dilemma is partly caused by the fact that there is no rigid "party line" in business.

* * *

The truth is that there are right wingers, left wingers and middle-of-the-roaders in the business world.

And I for one have never gone along with those who regret that business opinion is not regimented into a standardized thought pattern. My view is that in a competitive, free-choice economic society, there should be a variety of expressions and ideas.

In spite of slurs, there are differences between the Eisenhower approach and that of the New Deal.

For example, Eisenhower has created a better climate in which business operates by ending the fashion of forever keeping matters stirred up. It will be recalled that in the middle 1930's F.D.R., recognizing that there had been a perpetual ferment, promised business a "breathing spell."

FAITH IN SYSTEM

President Eisenhower breaks from the New Deal in his faith in the efficacy of a free, competitive system. He and his advisers have tried to increase the area for decision-making by citizens, and have sought to affect the environment through indirect controls, such as debt management and credit policies, rather than through direct action, such as price fixing, rationing, allocations, and the like.

* * *

This point of difference was dramatically emphasized during the inventory recession from mid-1953 to mid-1954 when the President avoided drastic pump priming in the belief that the readjustment would be mild and comparatively short-lived.

A sympathetic insider's view of the authentic nature of President Eisenhower's position toward business was presented by his White House economic adviser, Dr. Gabriel Hauge, in a recent speech in San Francisco. Dr. Hauge said:

"The Eisenhower conservative intends to conserve our tradition of incentive and reward.

"The Eisenhower conservative wants to conserve the integrity of the people's money.

* * *

"The Eisenhower conservative seeks to conserve the market mechanism when the government must act to avert a depression or inflation. Within the rules of the game embedded in our laws, his goal is maximum freedom in economic activity by individual Americans.

RECOGNIZES CHANGE

"The Eisenhower conservative recognizes change as the law of life and adjustment to it as the condition of life.

* * *

"The Eisenhower conservative believes that government budget policy must be directed not only to the economical use of tax money and the balancing of outgo against income, it must also be geared to the goal of maintaining the stable growth of the economy."

Case Records of a Psychologist

Game of Marriage Must Be Played Without Childish Exceptions to Rules

Johnny demands special exceptions to the baseball rules, for he is only 4 and his Daddy has spoiled him. But many adult Johnnies want similar exceptions from the rules of marriage. Study this case record carefully; then send for the vital booklet named below. Play the game of marriage according to the adult rules thereof.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case Q-303: Johnny B., aged 4, is a baseball enthusiast.

"I'll show you how well I can bat," he boasted to his visiting cousins.

So one of them started pitching to him. But Johnny fouled a couple, then missed the third strike.

* * *

"You're out," shouted his cousin on the pitcher's mound.

"But daddy gives me more than three strikes," demanded Johnny. "So I want six strikes!"

JUVENILE HUSBANDS

Many adult Johnnies, aged 25 to 50, often want to violate the rules of the marriage game in their own favor. They are thus as juvenile as four-year-old Johnny.

The game of marriage has as definite and precise laws as does baseball.

One of those rules is that a man and wife should patch up their daytime quarrels before they go to sleep at night. Never let a family feud carry over till morning.

Another rule of the marriage game is that a husband and wife should not enter into sexual affairs with anybody else than their mates.

* * *

But many juvenile adults want to waive this rule, too, and two-time their mates at will.

A third rule states that a couple should learn to live within their income and operate the home on a budget.

"Give me a fourth strike," Johnny might beg his cousin. "You can take it off the three strikes due me the next time I come up to bat."

No. He is out when he muffs three strikes, and he cannot beg, borrow or bribe the umpire into letting him "borrow" a strike from his future quota.

Yet many euphoric husbands will squander this week's pay check and then borrow against next week's income.

They'll try to live off their in-laws and use up their future expected earnings long before the latter are due.

This is exactly the same type of behavior as four-year-old Johnny will show when he demands an "advance" of an extra strike against his future time at bat.

LIVE ON A BUDGET

Regardless of your future expected income, try to live on your present budget, at least as regards your current expenses.

The unusual outlay for the doctor bill and hospital expenses for a new baby, is a capital investment and may be budgeted against a long future earning period.

In fact, if your in-laws are able to help you, it is proper that they give you a cash bonus for each new grandchild. And they may properly help you with a down payment on your home.

But don't live as a coddled adult who depends on in-laws for current expenses.

Send for my "Budget Booklet," enclosing a stamped return envelope plus 20c (non-profit.)

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Some Dealers 'Forced Sales'

Witness Says GM Men Didn't OK Orders for Non-Heater Cars

WASHINGTON (AP) — An automobile heater manufacturer testified Tuesday that certain General Motors zone and district managers refused to approve dealer orders for 1955 Chevrolets without factory installed heaters.

* * *

E. L. Schofield, of Rockford, Ill., contended that the practice of forcing sales of heaters listed as optional equipment on cars, is a violation of antitrust laws.

Schofield testified before the Senate Antitrust and Monopoly subcommittee looking into the operations of General Motors. Chevrolet is one of the cars made by the company.

* * *

Schofield said he complained to General Motors which insisted dealers could order cars and trucks, with or without heaters.

He said he also complained to the Federal Trade Commission which conducted an investigation in the Chicago area in August and reported that all Chevrolet dealers denied they could not order cars without heaters.

* * *

Schofield said his sales of heaters dropped most in the Chicago, Kansas City, St. Louis and Boston areas, while sales volume remained high throughout the year in the Philadelphia and Baltimore areas.

Dies of Crash Injuries

CADILLAC (AP)—Albert Bolan, 45, of Ithaca died Monday at Mercy Hospital of injuries suffered Nov. 16 in a traffic mishap on M115. Police said Bolan, a truck driver, got out of his stalled vehicle in an attempt to direct traffic around it and was struck by an auto.

Two men of the same group died within a hour of each other at a dance in a Wellington, New Zealand, cabaret. The second collapsed and died from shock at hearing of the other's death.

Doctor Thinks Hunters Prone to Heart Attacks

DETROIT (AP)—Since Michigan's deer hunting season opened, 12 hunters have died of heart attacks. Neither gunfire accidents nor all other causes of death combined have taken such a heavy toll.

* * *

Are heart attacks more likely to occur among hunters than among an average group of men pursuing everyday activities?

Dr. L. Paul Ralph, president of the Michigan Heart Assn., says "yes."

Conditions present in deer hunting are ideal for bringing on a fatal attack to persons with coronary disease, Dr. Ralph said. These are general exertion, seriousness of the heart condition, exertion after a meal, cold weather and the excitement of the hunt.

Every hunter experiences these to some degree, and a man with a heart condition stands a good chance of suffering an attack if he extends himself, said Dr. Ralph.

Anyone with a history of coronary disease should consult a physician before taking to the woods on a deer hunting trip, he said, especially if he feels any "chest pains."

"Turning back at the right time might well have saved some of those who died this year," Dr. Ralph noted.

Most likely heart attack victim among hunters is the "weekend athlete" — the man who is overweight and gets little or no exercise on his regular job, he said.

"When the hunting season rolls around, he gets a big gun, puts on heavy clothing and then subjects himself to unaccustomed exertion," Dr. Ralph said.

Dr. Ralph recommended that hunters who don't get regular exercise should "go into a little training" before the season opens and gradually build up their strength and stamina.

Army Regulates Insurance Sale

GIs in Europe Helped by New Rules Against 'Sharp' Agents

PARIS (AP)—Headquarters of the United States European command said today new regulations have been imposed on life insurance companies doing business with American GIs in Europe. Some companies have been found ineligible, but the number of firms involved was not announced. Seventeen firms previously have been doing business with American servicemen in the theater.

* * *

The new regulations were imposed as the result of the changes in Germany, with the occupation now officially ended, and as a result of congressional investigations during the past year.

HEARINGS HELD

Hearings were held in Heidelberg last December by a subcommittee of the House Armed Services Committee headed by Rep. William E. Hess (R-Ohio).

A statement said the command had set up a military insurance board including Army, Navy and Air Force representatives to prescribe minimum conditions for doing business on U. S. installations.

* * *

One new regulation—aimed at high pressure tactics—states that "insurance agents will be required to receive written permission from the commander of the military installation and a written request from the prospective service customer prior to making contact."

Ohio Safety Director Closes Fire Houses

WARREN, Ohio (INS)—A city of over 50,000—will have only one fire station in operation today.

Because the voters approved a switch from a 56-hour week to a 40-hour week for firemen and the city cannot afford to hire additional fire fighters, the safety director has ordered three of the city's four stations closed.

The city reported it would have to hire 56 new firemen at a cost of $230,000 a year to staff the other stations. Only the central headquarters will remain open.

Suicide Death Ruled for Writer's Mate

LONDON (AP)—A verdict of suicide has been returned in the death of Richard Bransten, 49-year-old husband of American novelist Ruth McKenney, who wrote the best seller "My Sister Eileen."

Bransten was found slumped in a chair in a London apartment last Friday. An empty drug container was by his side.

The coroner of Westminster ruled Bransten took his own life "while the balance of his mind was disturbed."

Bransten, a native of San Francisco, and Miss McKenny were married in 1937 when he was working on the Akron (Ohio) Beacon Journal. They lived in Europe for several years and came to London last year.

ITU to Insist on Right to Decide Work Control

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—The AFL International Typographical Union served notice today it will insist that the AFL-CIO merger guarantee every union the right to decide what work comes under its jurisdiction.

The letter sent from ITU headquarters to all AFL and CIO unions, state federations and state councils carried the indirect threat that ITU might otherwise secede, as it did in 1938-44.

The AFL will meet in New York Dec. 1 for its own convention, four days ahead of a merger convention.

American Hayride Is International Hit

Fete Exchange Students at Milford Farm

REBA HEINTZELMAN
Milford Correspondent

MILFORD — Thirteen students from various countries of the world experienced their very first hayride here the other night.

Some 35 Foreign Exchange students, American Field Service representatives and their friends gathered at the Robert Greene farm on Wixom road for an old-fashioned hayride, complete with hot dogs, singing, and square dancing.

According to Carl Hanna, AFS state representative, this is the first get-together the group has had since coming from various parts of Europe last September.

Highlight of the evening was a smorgasbord table which featured the flags of students homelands. These included Argentina, Luxembourg, New Zealand, Sweden, Norway, Greece, Finland, Germany, and Italy. All of the students speak English fluently.

ATTENDANCE HIGH

Of the seventeen Foreign Exchange students registered in Michigan, fourteen are living and going to school in the metropolitan area, and almost all were present for the gathering.

Local Foreign Exchange student is Jose M. Regueiro of Cordoba, Argentine, who is attending Milford High and is guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Courtney, of South Milford Road.

Attractive blonde Margaret Davis from New Zealand had this to say: "I don't know why we don't have hayrides in New Zealand. Believe me, here is one American custom that I will try to promote when I return home." Miss Davis is attending high school in Birmingham.

Detroit Firm Options Property at Rochester

ROCHESTER — The Sherwood Realty Corp. of Detroit has taken a 90-day option on a 26-acre piece of property owned by Lyle Knapp and located north of Romeo street, through to Red Oak street and Tienken road.

This is a portion of the acreage which Knapp formerly purchased of William Korff. Knapp stated Monday that he is retaining a third of the original acreage for himself. The acreage will be developed into a subdivision.

5-Day School Vacation

FOUR TOWNS — Thanksgiving vacation will be tomorrow and Friday for Four Towns School. Teacher's workshop will be Monday and there will be no school.

Rochester Group Elects Officers, Plans Bake Sale

ROCHESTER — The Women's Fellowship of the First Congregational Church has announced its new list of officers for 1956, elected at the annual meeting.

Mrs. Maynard Remer heads the group as president. First vice president is Mrs. Verne Johnson; second vice president Mrs. Emerson Carey; secretary, Mrs. A. R. Musson and treasurer, Mrs. Neil Rosso.

Plans were made for an All Guilds Bake sale to be held in the church dining hall on Dec. 10 from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. Christmas gifts will be on sale.

Gets Army Promotion

MARLETTE — Ronald G. Wiltse, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Wiltse, Clifford, recently was promoted to specialist third class in Germany, where he is a personnel clerk in the quartermaster section of Seventh Army headquarters.

Wiltse is a former teacher and coach at Marlette High School.

Metamora Hunt Change

METAMORA — A change in schedule for the Metamora Hunt has been announced. Thursday the hunt will start from the home of Mr. and Mr. Jack Pierce at 11 a.m.

Fruit Inspectors Now in Romeo

To Work in Area Until Dec. 3; Public Meeting to Be Dec. 13

ROMEO — A fruit inspection team arrived in the Romeo area recently to count the number of diseased trees in subdivided orchards.

* * *

The arrival of the inspectors is the first step in the program of education adopted by Macomb County orchardmen in an effort to save their 1956 fruit crop. Experts in the horticultural field had conducted a preliminary survey of uncared for orchards in the Romeo area to discover the extent of damage done by the codling moth. They found that the three-quarter million dollar industry was in jeopardy.

Members of the Macomb County Fruit Council met recently to decided what action to take prior to a public meeting to be held in the Romeo High School auditorium Dec. 13. It was their decision to ask representatives of the Bureau of Plant Industry, MSU to canvas the entire Romeo area counting the diseased trees and contacting lot owners in the subdivided orchards.

Members of the inspection team who will be on the job until Dec. 3 are Robert Scheffler of Berrien Springs and Clyde Smith of Oxford, H. C. Kendeigh, Regional Supervisor, Michigan State Fair Grounds, Detroit, is directing the project.

RESULTS OF TOUR

The report drafted by the experts called upon to study the situation a month ago will be read at the Dec. 13 meeting to area orchardmen and lot owners.

Owners of producing orchards are agreed that their fruit, in spite of an increased spraying program, still suffered damage from moths which are bred in the neglected orchards and carried by winds to the bearing trees. It is their contention, according to Tom Bowerman, Romeo fruit grower's official, that action be taken in the spring to remove the diseased trees and assure a more productive crop next year.

Board Selects Tentative Site

Proposed Holly Area High School May Be on East Baird

HOLLY—A tentative site has been selected by the local Board of Education for the proposed new Holly Area high school building and other extensions.

It is the Chamber of Commerce property out East Baird street, at the east village limits. To this would be added other surrounding property making a total area of approximately 80 acres.

This ground is level and a baseball field has been located on part of it. The adjoining property, in addition to the Chamber of Commerce holdings, has a number of dwellings which could be removed.

Opinions on all of the property have been secured, which can be bought at a net cost to the district of around $75,000, after resales are made. This is the site which the board will recommend at a special bonding election soon to be called.

Proposed Sites Outside Village

Need New High School by September 1957, Says Filppula

ROMEO — A special meeting of the Village Planning Commission will be held next Wednesday to consider the request made on behalf of the Board of Education that it be allowed to attach water and sewage lines for the proposed high school to existing ones within the village limits.

* * *

The request was presented at last night's regular Village Council meeting by Superintendent of Schools, T. C. Filppula. He cited the need for the construction of a new high school by September, 1957 and described the two sites outside the village now under consideration by the board.

A preliminary meeting of the sewage and water committee of the Planning Commission is tentatively slated for Monday night. This group will lay the ground work for deliberation next Wednesday evening. School architects will also be present at the Nov. 30 meeting to elaborate on the needs of the district.

Problems concerning the size of the water and sewage lines, the anticipated load and the cost to both the village and the school district will be aired before a final decision is rendered.

Protest Camp for Prisoners

Residents of Ortonville Sign Petitions Against Preferred Site

ORTONVILLE—Petitions are being circulated and signed by Brandon Township residents protesting an extension camp for prison trusties. The proposed camp would be located on Sands and Saw Mill Lake Rds., just north of Ortonville.

Frank Brigham, supervisor for Brandon Township, reported that at the last meeting of the Oakland County Board of Supervisors a representative from Southern Michigan Prison spoke on the need for such a camp to house 150 trusties. The prison representative mentioned a preference for this site.

Prison officials have stated that a camp of this type is 90 per cent safe.

John C. Austin, vice chairman of the Board of Auditors suggested that taxpayers could voice their opinions at a public meeting in Brandon Township Hall. The protest petitions will be presented at that time.

RIBBONS OF CHAMPIONS — Prize ribbons and trophies form an appropriate background for the 25 pedigreed dogs of Mrs. Walter Taylor, operator of Vicolta Kennels, 4087 Pleasant St., North Branch.

Dream of Pup Grows to Ownership of Kennels With 25 Pedigreed Dogs

BY MYRA SNOW
Press Correspondent

NORTH BRANCH — From a young girl's dream of having a pet Chihuahua pup to the ownership of fine breeding kennels, housing 25 pedigreed dogs and a collection of trophies, seems an incredible step, but that is the experience of Mrs. Walter Taylor, who with her husband and son, operates Vicolta Kennels at their home, 4087 Pleasant St.

* * *

It was at a concession in a park that Mrs. Taylor at 16 was first shown a black Chihuahua puppy and was strongly attached to the animal.

* * *

After their marriage, the Taylors moved to North Branch in 1944. There came the "red letter day" when she purchased her first Chihuahua. From that point on enthusiam developed into a profession. Prestige with other kennels and dog fanciers of the state followed quickly.

The only kennel occupant at Vicolta outside of Chihuahuas is one of Papillion breed, an offshoot of the English Toy Spaniel.

VICOLTA, COMBINATION

Three years ago, the Taylors added on to the kennel. The walls now form a background for trophies and ribbons. The rear of the room gives access to a large outdoor runway for the pups.

The name Vicolta is a combination of Mrs. Taylor's given name, Violet, her maiden name, Cole and her last name.

Among the Kennel clubs from which Chihuahua awards and recognitions, have been received are the Motor City Specialty Club of Detroit, Genesee County Club of Flint, Toledo Club of Ohio, Huron Hills Club of Ann Arbor, Rubber City Club of Akron, O., Pontiac Kennel Club, Erie Club of Erie, Pa., and Westminister Club of New York City.

Mrs. Taylor and her family specialize in the tiny Chihuahua and have been given awards and recognition from many kennel clubs in the midwest for their entries.

Hollywood Headlines:

Anna Magnani Will Come to Filmdom for Premiere

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — Influence that Anna Magnani could not resist was brought to bear on her to come here for the City of Hope premiere of "Rose Tattoo" Dec. 13 and for the New York premiere Dec. 14.

Hal Wallis offered to pay all expenses from Italy for Anna and her son, Luca, who is a polio victim. Hal explained to her that the boy could get polio treatment here that would benefit him, and Anna, who is a devoted mother, consented.

There will be great whoop-de-do about both premieres. In Hollywood proceeds go to the City of Hope. In New York the Actors Studio gets the proceeds.

Marlon Brando, former member of the Actors Studio, and Marilyn Monroe, now studying there, are posing for pictures.

Marilyn, Margaret Truman, Jayne Mansfield and Viveca Lindfors will serve as usherettes, with Helen Hayes as their captain.

MARIO'S CONTENTED

You can bet all the tea in China that Mario Lanza won't move from the Warner lot for his next picture. He's completely sold on Jack Warner and says Jack understands him. To all who listen he raves about his boss.

Mario's happiness was complete today when the Metropolitan Opera soprano, Licia Albanese, arrived on the set. She will sing the entire third act of Verdi's "Othello" with Mario. He wanted an opera singer, and what a one he got!

Do you know who has the inside track as the leading lady in the Louis L'Amour Western Marlon Brando is making? An unknown girl by the name of Jenny Miller, of St. Louis, whom Marlon met on the street last summer.

She has been studying with vocal coach Eddie Lear for a year and Marlon is very proud of his discovery.

Free lancing has been very profitable for dark-eyed, pretty May Wynn, who made her screen debut in "Caine Mutiny," with the late Robert Francis. She has had four leads in TV shows in the past few weeks.

Her latest is "Incident on the Titanic," in which she appears for the Screen Directors Playhouse, co-starring with Leo Genn.

May is very enthusiastic over Leo, saying what a fine actor he is and how much she is enjoying working with him, and how he has helped her. She's a happy girl with all these TV offers lined up.

FISHERS ARRIVING

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random: Debbie Reynolds and Eddie Fisher get here Friday, but Debbie remains only two weeks. She goes back to New York for three days of location work for "Catered Affair," then back home.

Playwright Anita Loos' husband, John Emerson, has been critically ill in a Pasadena sanatorium. John was once a famous screen writer.

The Van Heflins have become very chummy with the Duchess of Windsor, who has been to see "View From the Bridge" four times and usually goes backstage to chat with Van and Frances.

Frank Sinatra was so tired after "Man With the Golden Arm," in which he is in practically every scene, he went to bed in Palm Springs and slept for hours.

The cutest twosome in town is Ronnie Burns and Myrna Hansen who met on the Burns and Allen show—they're his pa and ma.

Smoke Overcomes 3

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—Three firemen were overcome by smoke Monday night while battling a blaze which caused damage estimated at $3,500 to the David Scott residence. District Fire Chief Robert J. Veit said all were revived. He blamed the fire on a defective stove chimney.

Three experts say that the grimy picture Mrs. Birdie McCleane purchased in London because she liked the gold frame, is a 16th century work of art.

Kinsey to Dispatch Aides to European Women

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP)—Dr. Alfred E. Kinsey of Bloomington, Ind., says that he is going to send an American research team overseas to inquire into the sex life of European women.

The author of best-selling books on the sexual behavior of men and women in the United States stopped off here briefly en route from Scandinavia to Spain.

Courthouse Cost Under Question

Newspaper Story Says Chairman of Auditors Hits Construction

A recent story in the Royal Oak Tribune quoted a county official as questioning cost figures on a proposed ten-story structure in downtown Pontiac to be built instead of a three-story courthouse planned by Oakland County northwest of the city.

Robert Y. Moore, chairman of the county's board of auditors, said the large building would cost "$7 or $8 more a square foot" to build. The county is planning a three-story, cement or cinder block and brick building.

Moore said the 10-story building proposed by the Pontiac Chamber of Commerce would have to be made out of concrete and steel.

"When you get into that type of construction, the price goes way up," said Moore.

The chamber reported the proposed 10-story building, built on the present site of the courthouse and health building, would be two or three per cent cheaper. The savings would come from elimination of some o fthe corridor space needed in a spread-out building, the chamber argued.

Another proposal to rent the ground floor of the proposed downtown building for shops and stores was called "impractical," by Moore. In order to tax the property, like all businesses are taxed, the county would be taxing itself, he stated.

Kentucky College Dean Understates the Case

Count Up Blessings Before Thanksgiving

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK (INS)—The trouble with Thanksgiving Day is that there is never time to be actively, thoughtfully grateful, until evening sets in.

* * *

And then—faced with the carcass that was a turkey and the stuffed complacency that is you—there is no urge to count blessings. All you want to count is sheep.

For these reasons, it's rather nice to devote the day before Thanksgiving-proper to running over the good things in your life.

One by one, you dig them out from the drab overgrowth of mistakes and painful memories, and moment by moment your nerves get calmer, your eyes get softer and the view from the window gets lovelier.

To do it up right, you have to unearth the good things from the start . . .

* * *

I am thankful now, for instance, that a collies bit me when I was 4. To prevent my developing dog-nerves, Mother and Dad bought me a collie of my own from whom I learned, through 14 heel-tagged years, the nobleness of animals and the fineness of personal loyalty.

I am grateful for poison ivy. It taught me to watch my step, to realize that all that shines is not lovable, and to hit a golf ball right down the center.

I am thankful that, at an early age, I was conned into giving my older brother a small dime in exchange for a big nickel. From this shady deal, I learned the dangers of greed.

I am grateful to my parents for talking me out of my first love. I was 11 and emotionally unstable. He was Bing Crosby, and already married.

I am thankful that nature gave me a round nose, little eyes, an uninspired figure and no talent. Otherwise I might have been a movie star and that's not my idea of fun.

* * *

I am equally happy that I was born to a comfortable home, but not a wealthy one. That's not my idea of fun either.

I am thankful that my grandfather offered me a pair of skates if I would read the Bible—and that he never quizzes me today on how much of it I remember.

GRATEFUL FOR MUSIC

I am grateful for Beethoven, Chopin, Gershwin, Mozart, Rodgers & Hammerstein and almost all the music ever created in this world, with the exception of two-part inventions by Bach.

I am thankful that rain makes me sad, that wind is exciting, that some men are still gallant, some ladies still tender, that peanut butter can bring nostalgia, that President Eisenhower is improving and so is television, that no one is perfect and that not even the horse can predict who's going to win the sixth race at Pimlico.

Most of all, I am thankful for life. It was right there—just when I wanted it.

Court to Decide Hildy's Future

Adoption Law Provision May Resolve Religion Argument of 'Parents'

BOSTON (AP)—Should 4-year-old Hildy McCoy, born a Catholic, be taken from her foster parents because they are Jewish?

* * *

That question was raised in the Massachusetts Supreme Court today as Mr. and Mrs. Melvin B. Ellis of Brookline began a new effort to keep Hildy.

For nearly five months the Ellises have been in hiding to avoid complying with a lower court order to surrender the child. Whether they would appear in court and risk arrest remained problematical until the last moment.

Today's action before Justice John V. Spalding was based on a petition by the Ellises for a high court review of proceedings in Norfolk County Probate Court, where the Ellises last June were ordered to surrender Hildy to the Catholic Charitable Bureau in Boston.

* * *

At the heart of the matter is the Massachusetts adoption law which requires that, "where practicable," a probate judge must give a child in adoption only to foster parents of the same religious faith.

* * *

The law says that for this purpose the child's religion is presumed to be that of its parents. If they have different faiths, then the mother's religion governs.

Col. Bliss Reburied at Namesake Fort

EL PASO, Tex. (AP)—A brief and simple military ceremony guided Lt. Col. W. W. S. Bliss to his final resting place yesterday in Ft. Bliss National Cemetery.

The body of the scholarly Army officer, which has lain in an all-but-forgotten grave for more than 100 years, was reburied in a place of honor at the military post named in his memory.

* * *

Bliss's body was brought here from New Orleans, its previous resting place.

Bliss was a noted military theorist and linguist. We served under Gen. Zachary Taylor in the Indian Wars and the war with Mexico. He later married Taylor's daughter and was personal secretary to Taylor when Taylor was president of the United States.

Coast Guard Ceases Search for Freighter

BOSTON (AP)—The Coast Guard gave up active searching today for the missing 3,300-ton Liberian freighter Daytona carrying 24 men, mostly West Indians.

The Daytona, en route from Nova Scotia to Philadelphia, radioed early Sunday that she was in distress 75 miles east of Gloucester. She was caught in a storm with winds of more than hurricane (75 m.p.h.) force.

The Coast Guard said it canceled active search last midnight but "all Coast Guard planes and vessels passing through the area will remain on the alert for the missing vessel."

"Git There Firstest With the Mostest—"

That was the battle strategy of Confederate General Forrest. He often won because he had the foresight to anticipate the enemy's next move—and beat him to the punch.

Every day 25,000 people are injured in accidents. Do you know whether or not you will be numbered amongst these?

Beat this common enemy to the punch by carrying The Fidelity & Casualty Co. of N. Y. Maximum Benefit Accident policy which pays a weekly income and also provides against resultant hospital, nurse, medical and surgical expenses.

U.S. Hits New High in Electric Output

NEW YORK, (AP)—The country reached a new milestone in the modern electric age last week—output of 11 billion kilowatt-hours in a single week.

The new record, as reported today by the Edison Electric Institute, was 11,149,000,000 kilowatt-hours, almost 20 per cent more than output in the same week of 1954.

* * *

Colder weather in the Northwest along with booming factory consumption in major cities were major factors in the peak output, according to industry sources. Much of the gain in recent years can be traced to the increasing use of the growing array of electrical appliances in the home.

Here, in brief, is the history of U. S. power consumption:

* * *

Electric output reached 2½ billion kilowatt-hours a week for the first time in September 1939, just after the start of World War II.

Production of five billion kilowatt-hours came in the second week of September 1947.

The nine billion KWH mark came in mid-January 1954, and the 10 billion figure was reached last January.

Pontiac Symphony Auxiliary Gathers for Program

Pontiac Press Photos

Hostesses for the program sponsored by the Auxiliary to the Pontiac Symphony Orchestra, Inc., were Mrs. Irving Gordon of James K boulevard, Mrs. Herman Dickstein of Chippewa road, Mrs. Irving Steinman of Chippewa road and Mrs. Julian Levine of Ottawa drive (left to right). The program was held at the home of Mrs. George Wyman on Ottawa drive Monday.

Jack Boesen, concert-master of both the Pontiac Symphony Orchestra and Scandinavian Symphony of Detroit, and a member of the Detroit Symphony, was guest artist at the meeting of the Auxiliary to the Pontiac Symphony. He is shown with Mrs. George Wyman who was hostess at her home on Ottawa drive.

Guest Artist Plays Violin Selection

Sonata by Handel Presented in Home of Mrs. Wyman

Music for the second meeting of the Association to the Pontiac Symphony Orchestra, Inc., was provided by Jack Boesen, concert-master of the Pontiac Symphony.

* * *

Mr. Boesen also is concert-master for the Scandinavian Symphony of Detroit and has been a member of the Detroit Symphony string section for the past 13 years.

His violin selection, for the Monday meeting held in the Ottawa drive home of Mrs. George Wyman, was George Frederick Handel's "Sonata in D Major" — from the original edition which includes ornamentations not usually played today.

The sonata has four movements of contrasting moods—andantino, minuet, largo and allegro.

Mr. Boesen was accompanied at the piano by another member of the Pontiac Symphony Orchestra, Norman Gifford. Mr. Gifford, also a flutist, plays in the Detroit Symphony Orchestra.

* * *

Conducting the meeting was President Mrs. Maxwell L. Shadley.

Membership chairman Mrs. Vernon C. Abbott reported that 26 new members have been signed since the Oct. 3 meeting.

Interested persons are invited to join the association. They may contact any of the officers including Mrs. Shadley, Mrs. B. B. Roush, Mrs. Arnold Hillerman, Mrs. S. V. Sekles, Mrs. C. H. Purdy, Mrs. Donald Hogue, or any member of the association.

Mrs. Vernon C. Abbott (left) of Illinois avenue is membership chairman for the Auxiliary to the Pontiac Symphony. She is shown presenting new member Mrs. Ernest Wilcox of Wenonah drive with a membership card. Twenty-six new members were signed at the Monday meeting.

Members of the telephone committee for the Auxiliary to the Pontiac Symphony Orchestra include Mrs. Alex Capsalis (left) of Ottawa drive and Mrs. William Gordon of Dwight avenue.

Daughters Observe 39th Anniversary

The 39th anniversary dinner of the Daughters of Pontiac 186 was held Monday evening at the Malta Temple.

Mrs. Grace Pratz, supreme grand mistress of the United States, was a guest of the group. Mrs. Anna Thorpe of Flint also attended.

Those initiated into the Orange Order were Mrs. Margaret Ballard, Mrs. Bertram Barber, Mrs. Anna Nesbitt, Mrs. Richard Lange, Mrs. Elsie Theis and Mrs. Paul Erikson.

The average service station operator works 72 hours a week, according to a Du Pont survey.

Mrs. Ralph T. Norvell of Wenonah drive was photographed as she received tea from Mrs. L. Raymond Sampson of South Shore drive. Mrs. Norvell is recruitment and telephone chairman, and Mrs. Sampson is contribution chairman.

Norma Hartung Married

Norma Jean Hartung became the bride of Victor L. Hood in a candlelight ceremony at the First Church of God Saturday evening. The Rev. Eugene Ramsey performed the double-ring ceremony.

* * *

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vern Hartung of North Midland drive and he is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Hood of Clarkston.

For her wedding, the bride chose a gown of pleated white nylon jersey with a shirred bodice, full skirt and Grecian draped panel covering the shoulders. Her veil fell from a Juliet cap of white lace bordered with seed pearls. She carried a bouquet of white roses.

Glenda Goode, niece of the bride, was maid of honor wearing a ballerina-length dress of deep pink net over taffeta with a lace jacket. She carried red roses and wore a headband of ivy and roses.

Ellen Goode, niece of the bride, and Mrs. Benjamin Evans, sister of the bride, were her other attendants. They wore dresses similar to the maid of honor's and carried roses in matching shades.

Edith May Hartung and Linda Evans were flower girls gowned in frocks of pink and yellow, respectively. They carried miniature bouquets of red roses.

Lyle Vernon served as best man, and ushers were Charles Rose and Victor Chambers.

Mrs. Hartung wore a dress of periwinkle blue lace with black accessories. Mrs. Hood's gown was of slate blue and her accessories were black. Both mothers wore corsages of pink roses.

* * *

A reception was held in the church parlors immediately following the ceremony. The newlyweds will make their home on North Midland drive.

Study Club Hears Talk on Teenagers

When members of Child Study Club Group III met at the home of Mrs. John Q. Waddell on Cherokee road Tuesday afternoon, they heard Dr. L. Jerome Fink discuss "some answers to our problems of the pre-adolescent and the adolescent child."

* * *

The speaker told how the adolescent child is leaving childhood and gaining independence by making his own decisions.

He stated that the top requirements for adolescent well-being are his feeling of security and liking his own self. He must feel worthy of being loved and feel wanted, and he must obtain recognition for what he achieves. He must know his feelings are human and natural and can be understood.

As adults, Dr. Fink stated, we should not be afraid to disagree with teenagers on some things but we should discuss these disagreements together.

A teenager needs love and understanding at this time when he seeks independence, and very often he will appear jealous. Instead he may be very sensitive about his whole being. He may be trying to be an adult but may not be able to recognize it.

In closing, the speaker charged his listeners to weigh their feelings of right and wrong when dealing with their children's problems. To be honest with the child regarding these problems and to make their demands according to his age ability.

By recalling our own adolescent problems we will have an insight into our adolescent child's problems, the speaker remarked.

Guests at the meeting included Mrs. Edward Barrett, Mrs. B. Jack Habel, Mrs. Robert Tedcastle and Mrs. James R. Jenkins.

Mrs. Russell Anderson, Mrs. D. Charles Janter, Mrs. Max H. Doerr and Mrs. Oliver Filer assisted the hostess.

Tea was served from a table centered with a fall arrangement of fruits. Mrs. L. Jerome Fink presided at the silver service.

Nursing May Be Key to Discipline

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

Mrs. Sally A.'s problem:

"My husband and I both work. Five months ago when I became pregnant, his mother who lives near us offered to give daily care to the baby after it came so I could return to my job. Until recently, I accepted this plan without thinking about it.

"Now I realize that it gives me no chance to nurse my baby at all. I've begun to wonder if we shouldn't try to get by on what my husband makes so that I can breast-feed my baby . . ."

What a brave thought to have had. How urgent must be Mrs. A.'s wish to mother her baby herself to push up like this out of the weight of other people's wishes.

* * *

I hope she respects it. Even when we can't nurse our babies, it's fine to know we want to. We'd all know it without the slightest trouble if people with queer ideas of "progress" hadn't confused us.

SOME CONNECTION

Indeed, there may be some connection found one day between our popular revulsion from breast-feeding and the trouble we have in putting physical controls on young children.

* * *

It appears like a most reasonable connection to me. For breast-feeding fosters in us a wonderful, deeply centered sureness of our value to our baby. It is a discipline forcing us to slacken both mental and physical activity, requiring us to "let go" emotional tensions just as tension is released from the breast.

So our nursing time makes a space for a knitting together of our baby and us, building an easy relaxed intimacy between our body and his that I am sure is an important step in our later control of his body.

Certainly our grandmothers who breast-fed their babies as a matter of course, had much less trouble with discipline than we have.

They needed no child training books to tell them how to treat their children's tantrums. Out of their old nursing intimacy with a small son, they could give his tantrum "kind firmness" spontaneously, unhampered by our sickly modern fear of his rejecting it.

GIVE-AND-TAKE

Having shared breast-feeding's physical give-and-take with him, later bodily contact with their children came easy—and our grandmothers could minister as confidently to the rage in their little child's 3-year-old body as they had once ministered to hunger in his 3-month-old one.

By bringing her wish to nurse her unborn baby into clear awareness, Mrs. A. is already beginning to mother him.

In a world where so many things from the bread we eat to the music we hear are abstracted from their origins by complex machine processes, it's lovely when a mother and baby can be together without glass and rubber nipples between them.

She Can Manage Grouchy Boss

By ANNE HEYWOOD

Harriet is a very successful private secretary to a very difficult man. He had seven or eight before her. Each of them lasted about three months.

When Harriet took the job on, it was generally agreed that she, too, would be fired or would resign before very long. Harriet had other ideas.

"I knew he was difficult," she told me, "but he is a leader in his field, quite gifted, and a good man to learn the business from.

"I knew the office was said to be a hotbed of gossip and politics but it's a firm I wanted to work for because the field interests me.

"Also, the pay is good and the opportunity was there, provided I could learn to keep out of the gossip and politics. Well, I learned."

HER FORMULA

Naturally, I asked for her formula. Here it is. If you are having trouble with difficult people in business, it may be of help.

1. Be very quiet and reserved when you first join the firm. Keep your eyes open and your mouth shut.

It's better to have an initial reputation for being "snooty" than to say something that will be distorted and repeated, which will get you in trouble.

2. Lunch by yourself for the first few weeks. Pretend you have shopping to do. If you have lunch with anyone, it may be one clique and the other will be gunning for you.

3. Learn the job, the specific duties, flawlessly. You will then be sure of yourself and your conscience will not bother you.

It is usually a guilty conscience that makes us jumpy and touchy, so that one criticism from the boss makes us blow our tops.

4. If the boss blows up unreasonably, stay calm and get out fast. Let him cool off; otherwise he will say things he will be sorry for and this may make him mad at you.

FIRM, REASONABLE

Later, if he wants to discuss it, he'll be under control. Answer firmly and reasonably and (if you're doing a good job and know it) let him know that you appreciate the stress he is under and are doing your best.

Tell him you can't work in such an atmosphere and will greatly appreciate his consideration.

In other words, if you want to keep the job, you have to protect him from his own bad temper which has lost him so many secretaries in the past.

To "just put up with it" is bad because you will eventually collapse and leave.

* * *

5. Most important of all, according to Harriet — and I agree — is to keep so busy at the work itself that you have no time to think of the personal relationships. Then they'll fall in line.

Hubby Balks at Taking Wife's Arm

She Feels in Need of Support When Wearing Heels

By EMILY POST

"My husband refuses to take my arm when walking to church on Sunday, which I think he should do. The sidewalks in our neighborhood are uneven and when I wear high heels, which I do only on Sunday, I feel unsteady on my feet.

"He says it is improper for him to take my arm and that the only time a man takes a woman's arm is when crossing the street. Will you please tell me if he is right about this?"

Answer: Your husband is right. Correctly you take his arm.

"Dear Mrs. Post: I had some photographs taken of myself recently. They turned out very well and I thought that perhaps I would have copies made to give to my friends for Christmas.

"Before doing so, however, I would like to know what you think about this. Might this be considered very conceited on my part"

Answer: If you send them only to intimate friends who you know will be glad to have them, it is quite correct.

"Dear Mrs. Post: I'm giving a big family dinner, the occasion being my parents' wedding anniversary. While all the arrangements are to be carried out very simply, I find that I have to use placecards to seat so many people.

"Do you think such placecards should be written Mr. Smith and Mrs. Blank or, in this case, may they be written informally?"

Answer: You write the cards by what you call them—"Aunt Mary," "Uncle John," "Jane," etc.

"Dear Mrs. Post: When a bridesmaid receives a gift from the bride and thanks her personally, is it necessary for her to send a written thank-you note, too?"

Answer: Certainly not, if you had an opportunity to say "thank you" sincerely.

There are fascinating collections of leather belts. Many small personalized leather items can be found, too, including jewel boxes, pill boxes, photograph frames, perfume flasks, coasters, place mats, and even buttons.

A real "double entendre" blouse can be worn tucked in or out. Amazing chameleon tendency is produced by the overblouse style with a decorative hipband which is bulkless enough to tuck in if you like. Blouses have a Johnny neckline collar, placket front, large pocket and the extra touch of standaway cuffs and pearl buttons. The tartan plaid blouses come in misses' and girls' sizes.

Pockets Lift Drab Dresses

NEW YORK (INS) — You can make children's back-to-school clothes more useful—and more stylish—by sewing on patch pockets.

A plain old last-year's dress can be dolled up by adding a pocket—perhaps a plaid pocket to a plain dress or vice versa.

And the young person of the house is much less likely to loose mittens or lunch money with roomy pockets available for storage.

The only thing you need remembering when stitching them on is to leave one side open, since they should be practical as well as pretty.

Two prints, such as a coordinate dot and stripe combination, can be made into overlapping round pockets or three prints and a solid create the effect of hobo patches.

You can work in embroideries, fancy stitching along the edges, felt or chintz appliques, quilting or elaborate initials.

Pilfer some of those big wooden beads from a child's play set or salvage the pearls from a broken string of costume jewelry and apply in a pretty pattern.

Other ideas include multi-patterned signal flag pockets stitched down one side or perhaps a splattering of "hopskotch" pockets touched with blackcotton fringe.

Band the hipline of a cotton skirt or line up a row of pockets on one or both sleeves of a tailored blouse for interesting effect.

For junior "around the house" wear try placing big pockets on terry cloth bathrobes, labeling them "toothbrush," "washcloth," etc.

For further attempts at teaching small fry orderly ways you might add pockets to play smocks and jumpers labelled "crayons," "hankies" or even for small nature-overs, "frogs."

Wardrobe Must: —Dash of Color

Color is a wonderful weapon. Why every young thing is perishing to get into her first black dress is a question understandable only to sociologists.

Wearing a black dress is a symbol of being grown up, true, but black is not that important in the infinite scheme of clothing. The "Little Black Dress" gets a play every fall because it's a practical, handsome way to dress.

But this dress isn't the only dress in the wardrobe or all of the dresses there. It's a dress for several specific purposes, not for everything.

There are days when black can drain every ounce of remaining color from a woman's face. She knows pretty much, when she looks in the mirror in the morning, that this is not the day for a black dress, little or big. If she has a consoling color in her wardrobe, she immediately puts it on.

Otherwise, everyone she meets that day is moved to ask, "What's the trouble," when all it was was a bad night's sleep or a disagreeable dinner.

Beauty Clinic

SKIN CARE

No doube through the years you have considered or tried many programs of care for the skin. All the ideas presented are a little different and most have good points. We believe that in this busy age, the simplest treatment is the best. Let us dispel some of the mysteries surrounding the skin. The skin is not an organ of assimulation, as many think. It cannot accept nourishment from the outside. On the contrary, it is an organ of elimination only. It also serves as a protective covering for the body. If the skin absorbed, or assimulated, everything that was rubbed on it, it would no longer be a protective covering. Many foreign substances would enter the tissue. This would be a serious impairment to our health.

So ladies, let us always remember that all any beauty product can do is to cleanse and lubricate. Any product that will do either of these two things is satisfactory as long as it doesn't irritate. The only objection to some cosmetics is that they contain wax, you will readily agree that although it is not harmful, neither will it do much good. Choose cosmetics of a soft creamy texture, these are less apt to coptain wax. Next week we will discuss cleansing and massage.

Cadets Look to Holleder in Tilt With Navy

WEST POINT, N.Y. (AP)—Don Holleder, who probably will go down as the most malinged quarterback in Army history, is not a young fellow who lets his raves-in-reverse get him down.

* * *

If he did, he probably wouldn't be geting ready to lead the Cadets against Navy in the annual inter-service game in Philadelphia Saturday.

* * *

"People said nicer things about me last season," he said with a wry grin before today's workout. "But that doesn't bother me. Neither did criticism in the papers."

Last year, Holleder was an end, and a fine one. This season Coach Earl Blaik converted him to quarterback, and many a head shook sadly when his passing left something to be desired at the start of the season.

* * *

"There's been a lot to learn," he continued. "But I think I've gotten the hang of it now. Don't be surprised if we give Navy more than they can handle."

His season statistics bear out the fact that Holleder has caught on to the quarterbacking job.

He has completed 22 of 63 passes for 409 yards and 6 touchdowns, hardly sensational but adequate. In the running department, he has hit opposing lines for 233 yards in 45 carries, an average of about 5 yards per try.

Holleder, a confident second-lieutenant-to-be, knows he's on the spot.

The Cadets' No. 2 man in the limelight is Bob Kyasky, the fastest back on the squad who has been hampered by an injured knee.

If the cadets can get any appreciable milage out of Kyasky, they'll be a greatly improved club. He survived yesterday's scrimmage, in which his bad knee took a pounding, without incident.

* * *

"It will be more than I expect if he stands up against Navy," said Coach Earl Blaik. "If he is able to go in there I'll use him. While he can play, he'll be a threat to Navy, and I hope even more than that. I don't think we'd have lost three games if he'd been in top shape all along."

* * *

Blaik, who has lost 4 of the last 5 games to Navy including last year's 27-20 battle, conceded that the Tars should be favored. They rule 1-touchdown choices.

"It's not merely that they have lost only one game to our three," Blaik said. "They have a tremendous advantage in depth and the fact that they have been able to keep their first team together and thus achieve cohesion.

* * *

"Their quarterbacks and receivers are far beyond what we can produce in the way of a passing game. Furthermore, their backs are more experienced than ours."

If Kyasky can play, he'll start at left halfback, with Holleder at quarterback, Capt. Pat Uebel at fullback and Pete Lash at right half. Mike Ziegler will start at left half if Blaik thinks Kyasky can't make it.

Old Rivals Meet Thursday

By BRUNO L. KEARNS

The stage is set for one of Michigan's oldest and top traditional high school football rivalries, the annual Thanksgiving Day battle for the "Little Brown Jug" between Birmingham and Royal Oak.

Tomorrow's clash, 44th in the series which goes back to 1913, promises to be one of the hardest fought between the two schools, both of which boast highly successful seasons.

It is the 1st time since 1951 that Birmingham has been given an even chance to beat the Acorns.

Maples, unbeaten in eight games this year, have 22 seniors and it might be the last opportunity for them to regain the "jug" which Royal Oak has held for three successive years.

This may be the last game between the two schools. Even if a final game is scheduled for the Birmingham field next year, loss of the entire regular lineup would favor Royal Oak in the finale.

Coach Carl Lemle expects his team to be in better physical condition than at any time since the 2nd game of the season.

Return of guard Dave Spehar and tackles Dick Dexter and Dave Griffith, a pair of 200 pounders who have been out with leg injuries, will bolster the Maple forward wall.

Last year heavily favored Royal Oak beat Birmingham 12-0. One big factor was the absence of Maples' quarterback Bill Swaney from the lineup.

Swaney missed the game because of an injury, but this season his signal calling and his left handed passing has carried Birmingham to its first Eastern Michigan League title, and top honors among state prep teams.

John Appleford, slick little halfback who leads the team in scoring, along with hard hitting fullback Wayne Geggie and speedsters Bill Wedge and Tony Evangelista, give the Maples fine overall backfield balance.

Four ends, headed by all-state candidate Jim Traa, top the 6'3" mark. They have all been targets for Swaney's aerials.

Two tackles, Larry Cadwell at 225 pounds and Bob Walsh, 200 pounds, spearhead the Acorn line with all-state halfback Darrell Harper, a 190 pounder, the big offensive gun.

Game time is 11 a. m. tomorrow. Royal Oak holds the series lead with 22 wins, 14 losses and seven ties.

TURKEY DAY HUDDLE — Birmingham high school coach Carl Lemle has a few words with Maple co-captains Bill Swaney (left) and Jim Traa about the annual Thanksgiving Day battle with arch-rival Royal Oak. The 44th game of the series will be played on the Acorn gridiron tomorrow morning.

Defense Claim by Army, Blow to Navy Pride

Will Concede Nothing, Replies Middie Coach About Cadet Boast

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP)—Knowingly or not, Coach Earl Blaik of Army struck the biggest pride of his Navy rival, Eddie Erdelatz, in regard to their game Saturday by claiming the Cadet defense is better.

* * *

Defense is, and has been, Eddie's pride and joy. That was his job entirely as assistant coach of the San Francisco 49ers before coming to Navy and he still talks about it.

* * *

He always beams when statistics show Navy among the country's defensive leaders as it usually has been.

He obviously was taken back somewhat, therefore, when shown an Associated Press story quoting Blaik:

"I think we've got a better defensive team than Navy and I'll be surprised if we don't show it Saturday."

* * *

The first reaction of Erdelatz was that "we don't concede anything to Army on defense. I don't think we ought to take a back seat—the game hasn't even started yet."

He noted then that Navy last year went into the Army game with the best defensive record in the nation, a position which the Cadets occupy this time.

It was a scoring contest with Navy winning 27-20.

* * *

Navy now is third in total defense, having been scored on by only 3 of 8 opponents, and it would surprise hardly anyone if Erdelatz comes up with some new arrangements for Army.

Last year, Blaik said after the military classic that Navy had exploited a linebacking weakness in winning. Asked if he was planning the same approach Saturday, Erdelatz said "Army doesn't use that defense any more."

'Hunchy' Placed on Reserve List

Lion Halfback Ready to End 10 Years of Pro Football

DETROIT (AP) — Halfback Bob (Hunchy) Hoernschemeyer of the Detroit Lions may be at the end of his 10-year career in pro football.

The former Indiana University standout has been crippled with a shoulder separation and yesterday the Lions placed him on the injured reserve list. He had indicated earlier this would be his last season in the pro ranks.

End Dorne Dibble, who has been sidelined with a sprained ankle, will replace Hoernschemeyer on the team roster.

* * *

Hoernschemeyer is just 15 yards short of the Lions career rushing record. Since 1950 when he joined the club he has piled up 2,429 yards. The record of 2,444 was set by Ace Kutowsky from 1934-38.

7th Annual Game

Piggy Bowl Competes Against Army-Navy

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Twenty-two gridiron battles, their hearts pumping like mad, meet here Saturday in what has become one of America's classic football contests.

Is it Army and Navy? You ask. We understand they are scheduled to play here, too. But you won't find us there. We will be watching another mighty football tussle in which the weight each player carries will be no more than 110 pounds.

* * *

In fact, if any of these gridiron champs should put on Army or Navy football togs, their noses would just about reach to the belt line.

* * *

For the big contest on Saturday is the 7th annual national Piggy Bank Bowl championship. The players, whose ages range from 10 to 13, are members of the Pop Warner Midget League Football Conference.

Competing for the championship will be the "Choo-Choos" from Chattanooga, Tenn.; The "Little Rocks" of Charleston, S.C.; the "Green Hornets," defending champs from Valley Stream, N.Y.; and the host team, Fairless Hills (Pa.) "All-Stars." Each team is a champion of its respective community leagues.

* * *

The playoffs are scheduled for Friday with the championship and runner-up contests to take place the next day.

"Every team will get a trophy with champion marked on it," said Joe Tomlin, founder and secretary of the Pop Warner Football Conference.

Navy and Vandy Loom as Best Cotton Hopes

Indications Point to These Teams, Although Decision Is Delayed

DALLAS (AP)—Navy and Vanderbilt appeared to be the hottest prospects or visiting team in the Cotton Bowl today although Cotton Bowl officials would not distinguish between five contenders.

President Felix R. McKnight listed Navy, Auburn, Vanderbilt, Mississippi and Georgia Tech and said there would be no choice until Saturday night. That will be after these five have played traditional games.

* * *

But while the Cotton Bowl made no distinction in the five prospects, indications were seen at Fort Worth, the home of Texas Christian, the host team, that Navy and Vanderbilt were the top two and in that order.

Fred Taylor, TCU freshman coach, has been assigned to scout Navy in its game with Army at Philadelphia and Don Ross, an assistant coach, has been delegated to look over Vanderbilt in its battle with Tennessee at Knoxville. It is considered an open secret that TCU favors Navy but that Vanderbilt is the next choice.

Vanderbilt didn't come into the picture until this week. The Commodores beat Florida 21-6 Saturday and it made their season record 7-2. They had lost early season games to Georgia and Mississippi.

Navy has a 6-1-1 record, losing only to Notre Dame and being tied by Duke. It is generally conceded that if the Middies beat Army Saturday they will get the bid.

* * *

Georgia Tech, which played in the Cotton Bowl last Jan. 1, has a 7-1-1 record. Auburn has the same and Mississippi has 8-1. Tech plays Georgia, Auburn meets Alabama and Mississippi clashes with Mississippi State Saturday.

McKnight said he hoped to announce the opponent of Texas Christian in the Cotton Bowl by 6 p.m. (CST) Saturday.

OSU Gridders Still Taking Victory Bows

Cassady and Parker Named as Top Players of Week

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

It's been a big week for the Scarlet and Gray of Ohio State.

First they won their second straight Big 10 football championship and knocked Michigan out of the Rose Bowl by overwhelming the Wolverines 17-0.

* * *

Yesterday Howard (Hopalong) Cassaday, OSU's All-America halfback, was named The Associated Press Back of the Week for his sterling performance as he ended his collegiate career against the Wolverines.

* * *

Now it's big Jim Parker, Ohio State guard, who takes over the spotlight. For his superlative work up front on the Ann Arbor gridiron he was named today The Associated Press Lineman of the Week.

It is the first time in The Associated Press poll of sportswriters and broadcasters that the Back of the Week and the Lineman of the Week have been from the same school the same week.

* * *

Parker, a 6-3, 242-pound husky from Toledo, Ohio, spearheaded the OSU forward line that constantly opened holes in the Michigan line and on defense kept the Wolverines bottled up in their half of the field. Parker, 21, is a junior.

* * *

Lou Michaels, Kentucky tackle, placed high in the balloting for his role in Kentucky's 23-0 victory over Tennessee. He made several key blocks ad tackles in addition to booting a field goal and averaging 40 yards punting.

Tackles Forrest Gregg of Southern Methodist, Norman Hamilton of Texas Christian and George Struge of Washington also were praised.

* * *

Others nominated ineluded Jimmy Phillips, Auburn end, and Paul Smith, Kansas end normally a second and third teamer who came off the bench to catch 3 passes and make 12 tackles against Missouri.

Players Protest Coach's Actions

Washington Gridders Complain to School Officials

SEATTLE (AP) — The Post-Intelligencer said last night a delegation of approximately half the football players at the University of Washington have formally protested to university officials against actions of Coach John Cherberg.

The paper said the protests were made to Harvey Cassill, director of athletics, by two groups in separate meetings with Cassill.

The gist of the complaints, the Post-Intelligencer reported, was that the men don't like the way Cherberg coaches or handles his men. It said the spokesmen for one group, composed of seniors, were Mike Monroe, left halfback, and Sandy Lederman, quarterback.

Aggie-Longhorn Game Top Fare

Southwest Conference Champs Battle Texas in Turkey Day Clash

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Texas A&M, the surprise of the Southwest Conference, finishes up the season's operations against Texas tomorrow in the top game of a slim Thanksgiving Day fare.

* * *

The Aggies, who wound up in the league cellar last year, are favored over the Longhorns, but even if they are upset, they still have the loop championship all tucked away.

However, because of recruiting infractions, they are not permitted to participate in post-season activity. Thus Texas Christian, which already has finished its campaign, will play in the Cotton Bowl as the Southwest Conference representative.

* * *

The traditional Penn - Cornell game also will be played in Philadelphia. Both teams are out of the running in the Ivy League race. Penn, in fact, hasn't won a game all year, so the Big Red from Ithaca, N. Y., will be the choice.

Other games include Colgate vs. Brown, Denver vs. Wyoming, Utah vs. Utah State, Virginia Tech vs. Virginia Military, Wichita vs. Tulsa, Richmond vs. William & Mary and Miami of Ohio vs. Cincinnati.

Christensen Is Figured Tough Test for Martinez

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Denmark's rugged Chris Christensen figures tonight to give Vince Martinez his toughest fight yet in his climb toward a shot at the welterweight title after a year's layoff.

* * *

The young Paterson, N. J., boxer rates a slight favorite off his record in the nationally televised (ABC) 10-round bout (10 p.m., EST).

* * *

In his last fight, Christensen gave away more than 10 pounds to Ralph (Tiger) Jones, a bonafide middleweight and a good one, and lost by 1 point.

* * *

The Dane is slower than Martinez and isn't considered a hard puncher but throws a lot of punches.

His over-all record is 27 victories in 36 fights, 9 by knockouts.

Martinez says despite his knockout record he goes for decisions and tries to keep from getting hit. He's virtually unmarked and looks like a youngster just starting out.

* * *

He was on his way to the welterweight title when he split with his manager in the fall of 1954 and found himself without a bout of any consequence for a year. Martinez has been rusty at times since his return, but impressed onlookers in his workouts here with his skill and speed.

* * *

The New Jersey fighter, who's never been knocked out, has won his last four, including a three-round knockout of Mario Terry last month.

He doesn't seem worried about tonight's fight, preferring to talk about his chances against welterweight champion Carmen Basilio.

Stadium With Roof Seen as Near Reality

Dodgers Considering Dome-Covered Field As Possibility

PRINCETON, N. J. (INS)—A dome-covered stadium, which would rise higher than a 30-story building over the pitcher's mound, may replace Ebbets Field as the new home of the Brooklyn Dodgers.

* * *

Club president Walter O'Malley examined a scale model of the proposed stadium and said yesterday such a structure is "practical and economical" and may be nearing reality.

The model was built by 25 graduate students at Princeton University's School of Architecture under the direction of R. Buckminster Fuller, who was retained by the world champions several months ago.

The stadium would be in the shape of two bowls—one for seats and playing area and the other for a cover. The dome would rise 300 feet at its highest point, over the pitcher's mound.

* * *

O'Malley said, however, that he still faced many practical problems and that land limitations would help decide the type stadium.

Football Fever Grips Middies

Annapolis in Festive Mood as Annual Game With Army Nears

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP)—The Naval Academy yard is in the grip of an annual fever this week—a gay and festive air that precedes every Army-Navy football game.

* * *

Decrations line the passageways and doors of Bancroft Hall, the huge dormitory that houses the entire brigade of 3,600 midshipmen, and Hecumseh, the good-luck Indian statue in front of the hall has donned his bright war paint.

Middies marching to class burst into "Beat Army" chants and sing their traditional songs about such things as rolling Navy down the field and sinking the Army grey.

The football team itself will join in the festivities tomorrow by giving its coaches a dunking in the chilly waters of the Severn — an age-old custom of winding up practice for the season.

Tomorrow night the whole lid blows off with a pep-rally and bonfire in Thompson Stadium.

Coon Hunters Group Plans Annual Affair

The Annual coon dinner and meeting of the Pioneer Coon Hunters Association will be held at the Pioneer Hotel, Bald Eagle Lake, Ortonville, at 8 p.m. Dec. 10.

Tickets are limited, but may be secured from any officer of the association, according to Lewis M. Wrenn, secretary-treasurer.

Fast-Firing Hunter Shoots Park's Pet

IONIA (AP) — Because a hunter's trigger hand was faster than his eye, Ionia County Park has lost its pet deer.

Buckshot, a 4-point, 150-pound bottle-fed deer at Bertha Brock Park, was downed by Robert Bisel of Lansing.

Bisel, returned from an unsuccessful hunting trip, saw Buckshot standing by the roadside. He grabbed his gun and shot the animal before noticing it was in a fenced, posted area.

Buckshot had been a favorite of children at the park since he was found three years ago, an orphan fawn.

Bisel was permitted to take Buckshot home for a venison dinner but will have to pay for a replacement deer at the park.

Hugh Pitts, Texas Christian center and co-captain, will compete in the Hula Bowl game in Honolulu early in January.

Rice Disturbed by Loss Streak

Owls Drop Six Straight Tilts for First Time in 25 Years

HOUSTON (AP)— What happened to the Rice Owls?

The Owls in September were picked by many as the team to beat for the 1955 Southwest Conference championship. Instead, Rice has lost all five of its conference games and will be the underdog here Saturday in a season-ending game against Baylor. The season record: 2-6-1.

Coach Jess Neely, of course, acknowledges that he, his staff, Rice students, the faculty and alumni are disappointed. It is the first time in 25 years as a head coach for Neely to see his team lose six straight games. In 16 years in the Southwest, his teams never before have lost five consecutive games.

Neely offers no alibi.

Poor Pass Defence Tempts Texas A&M

NEW YORK (AP)—Texas, which meets Texas A & M tomorrow, might do well to watch those Aggie passes, the National Collegiate Athletic Bureau warned today.

The Longhorns, who have permitted their opposition to complete .583 per cent of their passes, could go down in the record books as the easiest major team in college history to connect agaist.

The current record is .582 charged against the 1950 Kansas State team.

Three More Bucks Raise Press Entry List to 15

Three more successful Oakland County hunters entered deer in the annual Pontiac Press contest Monday, bringing the total number of entries to 15 since competition began a week ago today. All three were entered in the rack division.

* * *

Clinton Leonard, 6903 Scotch Lake Road, Pontiac, was the 1st to report. Leonard downed a 175-pound 11-point buck with two shots at Onaway near Cheboygan, using a .32 Winchester Special. Leonard's entry was disqualified due to an unequal distribution of points.

* * *

Next entry was offered by Lawrence Smith, who lives at 1025 Owendale in Big Beaver (Troy Township). Smith entered a 168-pound 10-point deer bagged in Dickinson County near Ralph.

* * *

Yesterday's last contestant was Elwyn Hillman, 8046 Marquolt, Davisburg. Hillman shot his buck in the Upper Peninsula's Marquette County near Trenary. The 8-point animal weighed 142 pounds.

* * *

Of the 15 entries, a dozen are entered in the rack competition. In the weight class Wilfred A. Bird of Pontiac is tops with a 260-pounder he bagged opening day.

Fifty dollar U. S. Savings Bonds go to winners in rack, head, and weight divisions.

Founder of Little League Is Fired by Organization

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa. (AP)—Carl E. Stotz, who founded Little League baseball in 1939, has been fired as commissioner of the nationwide organization which promotes baseball among boys 12 years of age and under.

* * *

Peter J. McGovern, president of Little League, Inc., relieved Stotz of his post yesterday in an aftermath of a suit filed against the organization by Stotz.

Stotz filed an attachment in Lycoming County Court here Monday preliminary to a $300,000 suit for breach of contract against Little League.

The organization filed a $130,000 bond yesterday to regain access to its offices which had been padlocked after Stotz filed his petition.

Stotz, who said he will detail all particulars of his charges against the league with the formal filing of his suit, contended that he and volunteer field personnel "no longer have a representative voice in Little League policy decisions." He said that over a period of time his contract was breached.

* * *

McGovern said it was "regrettable" that Stotz "has been unwilling to accept decisions which the board of directors felt were in the best interest of boys who play little league baseball."

* * *

McGovern added that Little League headquarters would remain open and continue normal activities during the litigation and that local Little League franchises would not be affected.

John M. Lindemuth, an assistant under Stotz and with the Little League organization since 1940, was appointed acting commissioner by McGovern.

Little League now has almost 4,000 franchised clubs in the United States and some foreign countries.

Chicago Bears' Brown and Hill Seek to Enter Their Names in Record Book With Other Stars

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A couple of guys named Brown and Hill are seeking to write their names alongside past great National Football League passing and receiving combinations.

* * *

Charles Edward Brown is a 6-foot-2, 205-pound quarterback, and Harlon Hill, a 6-3, 198-pound end, both with the Chicago Bears. Together they spell misery for NFL opponents. The Brown-Hill combination clicked for a pair of touchdowns Sunday which beat the Detroit Lions and catapulted the surging Bears into the Western Conference lead.

* * *

The latest NFL weekly statistics show that Brown is only 1-100th of a yard from being the league's top passer on his average yardage gained per pass. Hill shares the pass receiving honors with Billy Howton of Green Bay and Tom Fears, Los Angeles.

Brown, one of those modern pro quarterbacks who can run as well as pass, has tossed 136 aerial, completed 79 for 1,237 yards and 8 touchdowns. He owns a completion percentage of 58.1, highest in the league. His average yardage per pass is 9.1. Cleveland's Otto Graham still holds the passing lead with an average of 9.11 on 117 passed, 64 completed for 1,066 yards, 7 touchdowns and a 54.7 percentage of completion.

* * *

On the other end of the pass, Hill, who hails from little-known Florence (Ala.) Teachers College, has caught 39 for 741 yards and 8 TDs. Howton's 39 receptions have been good for 648 yards and 5 touchdowns, while the veteran Fears has picked up 478 and 1 TD on his 39 catches.

* * *

Baltimore's Alan Ameche, who like Graham, has been leading in his favorite department almost since the first weekend of the season, held on to ground-gaining laurels, but his lead diminished for the second straight Sunday. Ameche has gained 780 yards on 164 attempts for a 4.8-yard average.

* * *

In other departments:

Doak Walker of Detroit leads the scorers with 77 points on 6 TDs, 20 conversions and 7 field goals.

* * *

Norman Van Brocklin of Los Angeles tops the punters on a 45.4 average.

* * *

Al Carmichael of Green Bay heads two categories, the punt returners with a 9.9-yard average, and the kickoff returners with a 34.6-yard average.

* * *

Willard Sherman of Los Angeles tops the pass interceptors with 9 returned for 72 yards.

Letter Writer Threatens MSU's Coach

EAST LANSING (AP) — Michigan State Football Coach Duffy Daugherty received a threatening letter prior to last Saturday's Marquette game warning him against beating the Warriors by more than 6 points, it was revealed today.

Daugherty and his home were guarded by plain clothes officers last week.

* * *

The letter told Daugherty if he did not follow instructions "something terrible would happen."

* * *

"I didn't take it too seriously, figuring it was a crank letter," Daugherty said. "I turned it over to campus police and they insisted on the police guard, arranged with cooperation of state police.

"I didn't want to say anything about it before the game," he said, "figuring it might worry the players. But that was one reason I wanted a few more touchdowns when we only led by 6 points at the half."

Michigan State's Rose Bowl-bound Spartans walloped Marquette 33-0.

The typewritten, unsigned letter was mailed from Newark, N. Y. It read:

* * *

"Hugh:

"This is to warn you that unless you want something terrible to happen to you and your fine football team, don't beat Marquette by more than 6 points next Saturday. This is not a crank letter, neither is it any form of joke and we are well enough organized to make you very sorry if you fail to heed this warning. Do not try to cross us up in any way as we shall have someone there watching every move."

* * *

The last line was typed in capital letters.

Daugherty turned the letter over to campus police on the Wednesday before the game and the police produced photostats of the letter to police at Newark, postal authorities and the FBI.

Lt. Detective Charles Becker of the campus police said he sent Daugherty said he understood that similar letters were received by Football Coaches Jim Tatum of the University of Maryland, Art Lewis of the University of West Virginia and William Murray of Duke University.

Invitations Extended

NASSAU (AP)—One hundred invitations have been issued by the Bahamas Automobile Club for the 2nd Bahamas Speed Week to be held on the Windsor road course Dec. 5-11.

Diver Will Search Lake for Golfers

DETROIT (AP)—Two sport groups have hired a professiona diver to search for the bodies of four duck hunters missing since Nov. 16 and feared drowned in Gratiot Lake in Upper Michigan's Keeweenaw Peninsula.

The missing hunters were professional golfers. Their overturned boat was found on the lake.

Michigan United Conservation Clubs and the Grand Rapids Golfers Assn. hired diver Rollin Foutain, 35, of Grand Rapids, to look for the bodies of Daniel Nowak and Edward Van Popering, both 50 and of Grand Rapids, Ted Lamanski, 36, of Spring Lake and Leonard Gillette, 50, of Homewood, Ill.

Gony Takes Velarde

HONOLULU (AP)—Baby Gony of Manila won a close 10-round decision over Gil Velarde of Los Angeles last night after taking an early lead and matching Velarde the rest of the way. Each weighed 129¼.

Fight Set Dec. 9

Sugar Ray Doesn't Favor Sprained Ankle Which Postponed Olson Bout

GREENWOOD LAKE, N.W. (AP)—The first thing all visitors to Ray Robinson's camp ask is: "How's the ankle?" The stock answer is, "I don't favor it a bit."

The medical report is a "must" for it was a sprained right ankle that forced postponement of Robinson's bid to win back his middleweight title from Bobo Olson from Nov. 4 to Dec. 9.

You don't have to take Robinson's word for it. Dr. Vincent Nardiello, his personal physician, was on hand to examine the 35-year-old former welter and middle champ.

Pontiac Press Photo

NOT AN ENTRY—This spotted buck was bagged by Pete August Jr., 3021 Henry, Auburn Heights, in Oscoda County near Lewiston last Wednesday. It was not submitted as an entry in the Pontiac Press deer contest. The buck was a six pointer, weighing 130 pounds.

* * *

"His ankle is perfect," said Dr. Nardiello. "He could fight tomorrow if necessary. He would have little trouble boxing 15 rounds. In fact, I think Ray could box 20 rounds if he had to."

* * *

Two reporters dutifully recorded these pronouncements in the small dressing room, just off the pine-paneled training quarters. Sugar Ray sat on a rubbing table with a white towel draped around his shoulders. He wore a wisp of a mustache and a bright smile.

"Ray, what have you found the most difficult thing to do on your comeback?" one asked.

* * *

"Finding my conidence in myself again," he answered. "It's not too hard being confident when everybody believes. But after the Jones fight (a Jan. 19 bout with Ralph (Tiger) Jones, only defeat in his six comeback fights) I began to wonder. Were those people with me just giving me the old razz, trying to make me feel good?

"They say fighters never know when they're finished. You begin to wonder if you'll know when you're finished or keep on listening to your friends who say you're just as good as ever.

* * *

"When I started this comeback I told all the fellows that there was going to be a setback, somewhere along the way. I can feel those things, just like I had a dream the night before I fought Jimmy Doyle (June 24, 1947) that I was going to knock him out and that he was going to die.

* * *

"After the Jones fight, my wife, who never wanted me to fight to start with, she encouraged me most. I began to feel it myself when I beat Ted Olla and Garth Panter. Then I wanted the No. 1 challenger, Rocky Castellani. After that fight I knew I still had it.

"I can do things I want to do. Everytime I box something comes back to me. I can go 15, or even 20 if I have to."

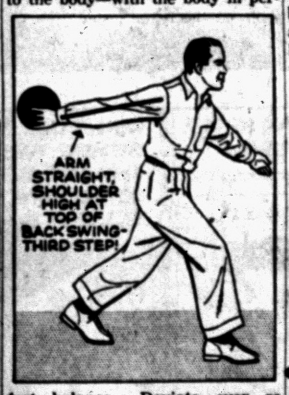
STRAIGHT ARM—We asked several topflighters what one thing they felt more than any other when their swing was in the pay-off groove. Without exception they agreed it was a straight right arm at the top of the backswing. An extended right arm is what they termed it, as the sketch shows.

You can see how important the straight, extended arm is. Only with it does the ball swing close to the body—with the body in perfect balance. Deviate ever so little from the straight backswing line, and you're sure to deviate your footwork as well.



You develop the straight arm by pushing the ball away at the start—by extending the arms fully to put the ball into smooth, timed swing, coordinated with footwork.

Only when you angle cross-alley to the right, shooting right-side spares like the Nos. 3, 6, 9, or 10 pins, do some stars reduce their backswing a little.

We don't recommend cutting down the backswing for right-side spares, preferring the full arm extension, but it may be exactly what you need. Try it in practice to decide which type of swing is best for you.

Daugherty Says Spartan Drills Open to Press

Writers, Radio and TV Will Be Free to Watch All MSU Workouts

EAST LANSING (AP) — Michigan State's football workouts prior to the Rose Bowl game will be open to all members of the working press, Coach Duffy Daugherty announced today.

Some Big Ten teams have restricted admittance to practices on the coast.

All legitimate members of the working press and radio and television corps will be admitted to all workouts, Daugherty said.

He added that some time during the stay on the West Coast he planned to stage a wide-open practice to which the general public would be invited.

"A press day" will be staged at Los Angeles Junior College Stadium on the afternoon of Dec. 16, after the 44-man travelling squad arrives, Daugherty said. The squad will wear game uniforms and be available for pictures.

"If I didn't feel I could trust the newspapermen, it would be a poor reflection on both our professions," Daugherty said.

Daugherty said he planned about three days of practice on the MSU campus and 13 on the coast. One home practice is scheduled for Dec. 13 and the others will be worked in as weather permits.

Ohio State's Woody Hayes, last Big Ten coach to direct a team in the Rose Bowl, had several closed practice sessions while on the coast.

Grains Decline in Slow Trading

CHICAGO (AP) — A further decline took place in grains on the Board of Trade today and dealings became a little more active than in he two very slow previous sessions.

Soybeans again were off the most and this time they were joined in the slump by corn, which had held firm yesterday. Further easiness in soybean meal influenced both cereals as it indicated either a poor feeding demand or a glutted feed market.

Wheat ear the end of the first hour was ¼ to ½ lower, December $2.03½; corn ⅛ to ½ lower, December $1.25; oats unchanged to ¼ lower, December 64⅞; rye ¼ to ⅝ lower, December $1.11¼; soybeans 1 to 1¼ lower, January $2.33, and lard 7 to 15 cents a hundred pounds lower, December $11.05.

Whirleybirds Fly Cabinet Officials —From Now On

WASHINGTON (AP) — It looks as if the helicopter is here to stay as another way to transport governmental bigwigs.

Members of the National Security Council used the Air Force's helicopter taxi service to meet with President Eisenhower at Camp David in the Maryland mountains. Other Cabinet members flew up by 'copter yesterday.

And though a Cabinet meeting by helicopter is unprecedented, the big, strange looking contraptions played an important part.

It is to be hoped, though, that the Cabinet officers were tipped off to the fact that during the warmup a helicopter really gets the shakes. Pilots who fly it call this the mambo period.

Lad Not Lost, but He Thanks Search Party

POLK, Neb. (AP)—Polk's 508 residents read a card of thanks from 11-year-old Kenny Meerkatz in the weekly Polk Progress yesterday. It said:

"I don't know why everybody got so excited. I just wanted to take a nap. But Mom and Dad say I have to thank everybody for waking me up. I wasn't lost. I was just sleeping."

Last Sunday Kenny decided to visit a friend, Lanny Ang, some four miles away. When his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clem Meerkatz, came home from a visit of their own they missed Kenny and became alarmed. Then began a search by townspeople that went on for several hours.

It turned out that Kenny had found Lanny and his parents had also gone visiting. Being tired, Kenny curled up for a nap on the davenport. That was where the Stanford Ang family found him when they came home and sent the word that ended the hunt.

In Memoriam 2

IN LOVING MEMORY OF CLIFford E. Haas who passed away six years ago today:
Deep in our hearts you are fondly remembered.
Sweet, happy memories cling round your name;
True hearts that loved you with deepest affection
Always will love you in death the same.
Sadly missed by wife, children and mother-in-law.

IN LOVING MEMORY OF HOWard Carpenter who passed away November 22, 1953.
Today recalls sad memories,
Of a loved one gone to rest.
And those who think of him today
Are the ones who loved him best
Sadly missed by wife, sons, mother, father and sister.

IN LOVING MEMORY OF ROland L. Fyke who passed away one year ago today.
Loving memories never die
As years roll on and days pass by
In my heart a memory is kept
Of one I loved and will never forget.
Sadly missed by mother, dad, and sisters.

"A painful strain almost ruined my vacation!"

Victoria Lamb of Westmont, Ill., says, "I was about to board a train when I suffered a nasty fall, straining my back so painfully that I was scarcely able to walk. With assistance, I managed to get on the train, wondering what I could do about the dreadful pain. Then I remembered I had a tube of Ben-Gay in my bag. I thought it was worth a try, and it certainly was! After an application of Ben-Gay, I made myself as comfortable as possible. The next day, I found the pain had eased amazingly. I was able to walk without pain and arrived home feeling relieved and ever grateful to Ben-Gay."

Thousands of people, like Miss Lamb, have found Ben-Gay to be amazingly effective in relieving the pains of muscle strain. Here's why: Ben-Gay contains up to two and a half times more of two famous pain-relieving agents than five other widely offered rub-ins! Ben-Gay acts two ways. First, extra blood is brought coursing to the painful area. Second, a pain-deadening action starts at once. The painful muscle strain starts to ease up almost instantly. So keep Ben-Gay on hand always for fast relief from muscle aches and pains. Ben-Gay acts fast where you hurt!

UM Prof Tale on TV

ANN ARBOR—A University of Michigan assistant professor of English has written a one-hour television show, "Assignment: India" tentatively scheduled for 8 p.m. Thanksgiving Day over NBC. He is John F. Muehl, author also of two books on India, "American Sahib," and "Interview With India."

"Tresspassers will be prosecuted," reads a sign on a prison wall at Liverpool, England.

Baghdad Pact Nearly Ready

5 Powers Working Out Military Defense Units for Russian Border

BAGHDAD, Iraq (AP) — The five Baghdad Pact powers are pushing forward with plans to complete their organization for political and economic cooperation.

High military advisers of the five-Britain, Turkey, Iraq, Pakistan, and Iran-met separately to work out a military organization which will join forces along Russia's southern border from the Bosporus to the Himalayas.

Although the pact was initiated by Turkey and Iraq last February, first steps to set up a permanent defense organization within it were not taken until this week.

In another session at Al Zahour Palace outside Baghdad, British Foreign Secretary Harold Macmillan and the premiers of the other four powers discussed economic and political cooperation.

U. S. observers attended both sessions.

HOPE TO FINISH

Informants said the groups hoped to complete the defense organization soon.

The military group is charged with devising a military organization similar to that of the North Atlantic Allies. It will have links to both NATO and the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization through Britain and Turkey in the West and Pakistan in the East.

The task of the Baghdad Conference, said Macmillan, is "to see that no political differences, no past prejudices" prevent its work of making the area safe from aggression.

PRAVDA SPEAKS

Pravda, the Soviet Communist party newspaper, says that the Baghdad Pact "seriously threatens the security and sovereignty" of Middle East nations.

Pravda's article, broadcast by the Moscow radio and heard in London, called the pact an instrument of Western aggression.

Private Company Repairing Bridge

LYONS, Mich. (AP) — Agreement by a private company to pay for $100 worth of repairs to a bridge spanning the Grand River here appears to have ended a dispute which divided this Ionia County community.

The bridge had been condemned, but repairs were held up in a dispute over whether the village, the township, the county or the state owns the bridge.

The American Auto-Felt Corp. of Grand Rapids offered to pay for the repairs because it was unable to get supplies across the bridge and employes at its plant here were forced to walk across it.

The Ionia County Road Commission, which started the work yesterday, said repairs would cost about $100.

Cub Pack Contributes Yule Basket to Family

Cub Scouts of Den 5, Pack 9, will share their Thanksgiving with a needy family in Pontiac this year

A carefully decorated basket, filled with everything from a chicken and cranberries to cake mix, w delivered to the chosen family yesterday by the pack, so that it would be there in plenty of time for the holiday feast.

Cubs who took part in the project are Wally Bryce, David Charbonean, Harold Nichols, Roger Shaw and John Spina, under he leadership of den mother Juanita Wallace.

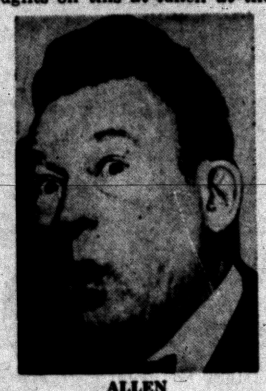
Will Today's TV Stars Be Around — in 1960?

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—D'you suppose any of today's TV comics will be popular—or even working—in 1960?

Will George Gobel be a "Down Memory Lane" item five years from now, and will Old Man Jackie Gleason be a retired CBS elder statesman—sort of a Bernard Baruch with a Buick park bench and a General Motors hearing aid?

Fred Allen gave me some thoughts on this at lunch at the Lambs Club. Don't forget it was Fred who said a few seasons ago, "I quit TV because of ill health—I made people sick."



ALLEN

Fred ordered lunch. "I'll have a Western omelette, out of respect to Gene Autry," Fred said. "In television," Fred suggested, "it's the sameness that kills comedians off. Once they see through your device, you're dead."

Fred didn't use the expression now so trite—"Television is a monster"—but it was agreed that a couple of years is all a new comic should hope to last nowadays, and that Groucho Marx was right when he said, "Lifetime contracts don't mean anything to TV comedians, because no TV comedian will ever last a lifetime.

★ ★ ★ ★

Phil Silvers had a variety program back in 1948 which people said was ahead of its time. It conflicted with his job in "High Button Shoes," and he gave it up. Seven years later he has come along with "Sgt. Bilko" and "You'll Never Get Rich," and is a great new "discovery" to millions.

DENISE

"The big problem," Fred Allen says, "is for the beginners to get a break. There used to be people around with a helping hand for youngsters. Now it seems sometimes that all the helping hands have moss grown over them from lack of use."

Slayer Faces Death Penalty

Brother-in-Law Is Guilty in Killing of Kin's Wife and Baby Daughter

MAYVILLE, N.Y. (AP)—A State Supreme Court jury yesterday found Joseph E. Reade Jr. guilty of first-degree murder in the rape-killing of his sister-in-law and her baby daughter.

* * *

There was no recommendation for leniency, so the death penalty is mandatory. Sentencing was set Dec. 2.

Reade, a 26-year-old former taxi driver, showed no emotion as the jury of eight men and four women returned their verdict after deliberating 2½ hours.

* * *

Reade was accused of raping, beating and strangling Mrs. Beverly Reade, 26, and her 19-month-old daughter Cheryl Lynn in the Reade's Jamestown apartment July 11. Beverly was the wife of Reade's brother Francis, who was away at work the night of the slayings.

* * *

Defense attorney Willard W. Cass had asked for acquittal by reason of insanity.

* * *

A purported confession was introduced in which Reade admitted raping and killing the mother and her baby, but he insisted he did not know why he did it.

'Dumpy' Dog Hopes Folks Will Remember

OMAHA (AP)—A little black and white mongrel dog sits glumly beside a "no dumping" sign where somebody dumped her.

* * *

Named "Dumpy" yesterday by residents of the area—the sign is at the entrance to a county sewage disposal plant—the friendly little tail-wagger seems determined to hold her ground, apparently believing whoever left her is going to remember that sign and come back for her.

She had been there four days yesterday.

Commercial Paper Rates Are Hiked

NEW YORK (AP) — Major commercial paper dealers yesterday hiked rates ⅛ percentage point, effective immediately. It is the 11th such increase this year.

Commercial paper is the money market name for short-term unsecured notes of leading corporations.

The latest boost means that "prime" four to six-months paper now is selling to yield investors 2⅞ per cent compared to 2¾ per cent previously. That's the rate for the biggest borrowers with the best credit ratings.

Commercial paper of the small finance companies sold through dealers now is quoted at 3⅛ per cent against 3 per cent previously.

Insurance Aids 2-Auto Owners

Private Car Discounts Effective Today Helps Specific People

LANSING (AP)—Automobile insurance discounts benefiting owners of two or more private-use cars were announced today by State Insurance Commr. Joseph A. Navarre.

* * *

Navarre said there is no way to determine how many policy-holders would be benefited, but he estimated that the net savings would range from nine to 19 per cent.

The discounts, taking effect today, apply only to non-business cars driven exclusively by persons 25 years of age or older.

Navarre said that when two autos are owned by one person or a husband and wife the normal insurance premium will be charged for the car with the highest premium, while the additional car will be rated at 25 per cent less than normal.

NOT EVERYONE

The reductions apply only to liability and collision coverages and require that all autos be insured in a single policy for either collision or liability or both.

The discounts were filed for liability policies by the National Bureau of Casualty Underwriters and for collision by the National Automobile Underwriters Association on behalf of their members and subscriber companies.

Navarre said the plan will not apply to all householders operating two cars. He urged policy-holders to obtain details from their insurance agents.

French Really Living

PARIS (INS)—Frenchmen live longest in the Ariege department on the border between France and Spain. Official statistics show that 2.2 percent of the Ariege population is more than 80 years old.

Vandalia Man Crushed Beneath His Own Auto

CASSOPOLIS (AP) — Gordon Wanzer, 61, of Route 1, Vandalia, was killed yesterday when he was crushed beneath his own car.

Passing truck drivers said Wanzer lost control of the car on M61 one mile east of Cassopolis. The car ran up on the roadbank and overturned on him.
