Key Sears Man in Senate Quiz on Tactics Used

Shefferman Aid, Guffey Faces Questions About Union-Busting Actions

WASHINGTON (AP) — One of the key men who helped Sears, Roebuck & Co. resist a 1953 unionizing drive faces senatorial questioning today about the tactics used.

The special Senate committee investigating improper labor - management activities summoned James T. Guffey, one of the Nathan W. Shefferman representatives assigned to assist Sears in combatting efforts of the Retail Clerks Union to organize its Boston area stores.

Shefferman, a Chicago labor relations consultant, heads a firm known as Labor Relations Associates. He has been described by committee counsel Robert F. Kennedy as a specialist in "union busting."

A top Sears executive, W. W. Tudor, vice president in charge of personnel and employe relations, testified last Friday that mistakes he described as inexcusable and disgraceful were made in defeating the organization efforts of the Retail Clerks in the Boston area.

He blamed them on Shefferman's firms and "certain personnel" of the big mail order company and told the senators that "a repetition of these mistakes will not be tolerated by this company."

Tudor described the tactics employed as "glaring exceptions" to Sears' over-all handling of its relations with its 205,000 employes.

Guffey's name was brought into the hearings Friday, with testimony that he attempted to dissuade Sears' employes from joining the Retail Clerks Union.

One former Sears employe testified that after he urged affiliation with the Retail Clerks his pay was cut $20 a week and he later was fired. However, he said he was ordered reinstated by the National Labor Relations Board.

Shefferman set up his own firm in 1948 after working on "union relations" problems for Sears from 1935. Tudor said Shefferman was retained on a consulting basis until last year, when he was dismissed.

Tudor also said that Shefferman, while a labor consultant to Sears, had been permitted like other employes to buy merchandise at wholesale prices.

Mild Weather May Be Factor Aiding Turnout

Only Property Owners Eligible to Cast Ballots on Proposal

Clear skies greeted Pontiac property owner voters today as they went to the polls to decide the fate of a $950,000 bond issue to furnish and equip Pontiac General Hospital.

It was expected to remain this way, along with temperatures in the high 40s, as voters have until 8 p.m. to cast their "yes" or "no" ballot. Polls opened at 7 a.m.

At 10 this morning City Clerk Ada R. Evans described the turnout for the special election as slow.

Mrs. Evans said she hoped for an upswing later in the day.

The city is asking property owners to grant it permission to issue $950,000 in general obligation bonds to provide the funds to furnish and equip the four million dollar addition at the city hospital.

Property owners in the city will be the only ones to cast ballots as it is stipulated by state law that only such persons can tell a city whether bonds of this type may be issued on the full faith and credit of the city.

60 PCT. NEEDED

It will take three-fifths or 60 per cent of the total votes cast today for approval of the issue.

If approved, city officials promised that money to pay the interest and principal on the 30-year issue will come from the capital improvement fund. They also said there will be no tax increase next year because of the issue.

All the city's 44 precincts are in operation today with one voting machine per precinct.

The clerk said she expected total tabulations by 10 p.m. The Pontiac Press will offer phone service on the returns as they come in, beginning at 9 p.m. The phone number to call is FEderal 2-8181.

Mrs. Evans estimated there are between 15,000 to 17,000 property owners eligible to vote today.

GM Announces Price Tags on New Models for 1958

General Motors Divisions today announced suggested factory prices for their 1958 cars. As anticipated, all prices are higher than for the 1957 counterparts. The increases range from averages of about 1.5 per cent to slightly under 6 per cent, depending upon the model and make of car.

In the Pontiac price list the models in the Chieftain series, which represents almost 50 per cent of the division's production, have advanced from $50 to $114.

Pontiac's 1958 prices disclose the lowest model at $2,335 and its highest at $2,957, except for the new Bonneville series which was on only limited production last year.

In the new Bonneville series, the convertible will be priced at $3,277 and the sports coupe at $3,179.

In all instances the GM divisions said the higher 1958 prices are due to increased production costs, better styling and improved engineering.

All also said that "entirely new" cars are being offered for 1958 with

Avon Man Dies in Auto Accident

Houston Harris Killed as Car Hits Abutment on Crooks Road

An Avon Township man was killed early Sunday as his car struck a bridge abutment on Crooks road about 100 yards north of Hamlin road in Avon Township, according to Oakland County sheriff's deputies.

Houston J. Harris, 28, of 2770 Hartline St. was pronounced dead at the scene by Oakland County Deputy Coroner Dr. Isaac Prevette.

He suffered a fractured neck and skull fracture.

Deputies report that his car struck the abutment and bounced 51 feet across the road, throwing Harris to the pavement. The accident occurred at 2:33 a.m. on the bridge over the Clinton River.

Harris is survived by his wife, Betty, and two children. His body has been taken to Poteres Funeral Home in Rochester.

Halloween Highlight: Mystery Treat Night

Halloween in Pontiac this year again will be highlighted by the "Mystery Treat Night" sponsored annually by the Pontiac Junior Chamber of Commerce and Parks and Recreation Dept.

Prizes will await the kids from elementary to high chool age that are at home Thursday to hear if they are the lucky winners of prizes ranging from a bicycle to silver dollars.

But it won't be a complete stay-at-home night for the children, as the usual whirl of parties with all the trimmings have been planned at eight schools and centers in the city.

The night will begin with the "Meet and Treat Hour" from 6 to 7 p.m., when the kids are free to visit homes to stuff those sacks with plenty of goodies. Parents are asked to turn on their porch lights at this time as a safety measure.

Officials of the program stress that at this time only are the children to be on the streets.

Parties for elementary school children will begin at 7 and run through 8:30. They will be held at Emerson, Hawthorne, Wever,

Pot-O-Gold's $800 Could Purchase Lots of Gobblers

You can buy a lot of Thanksgiving turkeys and still do a good deal of early Christmas shopping with $800. That's the amount in Pot-O-Gold that's just waiting for someone to come along with the right answers for this week's puzzle and thereby claim the loot.

Each week a new puzzle offers a new opportunity to empty the pot, and this week's Pot-O-Gold appears on page 12 of today's paper.

The earlier you get started on your solution, the more time you'll have to decide on the right numbers, so don't wait. Just a little time and effort can mean $800 for you.

Deny Hoodlum Church Burial

Police Quiz Bodyguard in Slaying of Mobster Albert Anastasia

NEW YORK (AP) — Albert Anastasia, slain gangster, was buried today with brief ceremony and small pomp.

About 30 persons, including the sobbing widow, Elsa, and his brothers, "Tough Tony" and Gerardo, attended a 10-minute service in a Brooklyn funeral home.

Four limousines accompanied the hearse carrying the plain mahogany-colored metal casket to Greenwood Cemetery.

Although he was a Roman Catholic, there was no Mass for Anastasia and interment was in nonconsecrated ground.

Outside the chapel several hundred spectators crowded the sidewalk.

The funeral sharply contrasted the elaborate burial given another Anastasia brother, Joseph, a dock hiring boss, when he died of natural causes in May 1956.

On that occasion a mile-long cortege went to the cemetery. There were $15,000 worth of floral tributes and the casket was an elaborate $6,000 one.

Yesterday Anthony Coppola, Anastasia's paunchy chauffeur-bodyguard, was held in $50,000 bail on a vagrancy charge.

Police described him as uncooperative. They are trying to find out why he was not with Anastasia when the mobster was killed.

Temperatures Up, Only Temporarily

Temperatures are rising, the U. S. Weather Bureau reports — but only temporarily. For the Pontiac area the forecast is mostly fair and not quite so cold tonight. The low will be 34-38 degrees.

Tomorrow will be partly cloudy and a little warmer with a high of 52-56. The outlook for tomorrow night is mostly cloudy with little change in temperature. The low, 34-38.

The outlook for Wednesday is generally cloudy and colder with some snow flurries likely.

The lowest recorded temperature in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. was 33. At 2 p.m., the temperature was 58.

Khrushchev Unquestionably On Top

Future of Zhukov Is Great Moscow Mystery Today

MOSCOW (INS) — One thing is certain in Russia today — whatever changes have taken place, the Communist party will come out on top with Nikita S. Khrushchev unquestionably the leading personality in the Soviet Union.

The future of Georgi Zhukov, relieved late Saturday as defense minister, still is a mystery in Moscow.

Soviet papers published only a bare six-line announcement.

But the press has stepped up its hailing of the Communist party as the "supreme inspirer and holder of Soviet power."

(Such a move would be natural if Zhukov, a much-decorated and highly popular military leader, were about to be downgraded.)

Radio Moscow broadcast a Pravda editorial saying the party's strength "lies in ideological and organizational unity in its ranks."

And on Sunday the armed forces were told in the newspaper Red Star that the Communist Party is the supreme power in the land and they are "tightly bound to it."

Comments on the Kremlin shuffle are flying thick and fast in the diplomatic colony. But the diplomats are equally divided between those who are expecting Zhukov to get a higher post and those who think he may be facing a period of "rest."

Reports said Zhukov drove directly to the Kremlin from the airport Saturday after he arrived from his three-week visit to Yugoslavia and Albania and met with members of the Communist party Presidium.

Later Saturday evening the Soviet leaders were one hour late attending an Iranian embassy re-

Ambassador to U.S.?

By THOMAS P. WHITNEY
AP Foreign News Analyst

If the Kremlin wants to do something almost as sensational as launching Sputnik, and simultaneously solve its problem of what to do with Marshal Zhukov, it could name him ambassador to the United States.

This is by no means as far-fetched an idea as it sounds at first. It might be just the sort of thing which would appeal to the vivid imagination of Nikita Khrushchev. After all, he thought up the assignment of V. M. Molotov as ambassador to Outer Mongolia.

WHAT NEXT? — Things have changed in the Kremlin since 1953 when these Russian leaders attended a Moscow celebration. Georgi Malenkov resigned as premier in 1955 and joined V. M. Molotov and L. M. Kagonovich in demotions following the Kremlin crisis last June. Yesterday came the stark announcement that Marshal Georgi Zhukov had been replaced as Russian defense minister. It is yet to be determined by those outside the Kremlin whether Zhukov is in disgrace or in line for a promotion, such as the premiership. Others in the lineup remaining in power are: Premier Nikolai Bulganin, President K. E. Voroshilov, Communist Party boss Nikita Khrushchev and Deputy Minister A. I. Mikoyan.

Heavy Drinking, Smoking Linked to Throat Cancer

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE
AP Science Reporter

NEW YORK (AP)—Heavy drinking plus heavy smoking equals greater risk of throat and mouth cancer, especially for pipe and cigar smokers, a cancer researcher said today.

Heavy drinking was defined as consistently taking seven or more shots of hard liquor a day.

Heavy smokers who do this run 10 times the risk of cancer of the larynx, or voicebox, and the mouth than heavy smokers who drink moderately or not at all.

The relative risk appears greater for pipe and cigar men than cigarette smokers, said Dr. Ernest L. Wynder, of the Sloan-Kettering Institute for Cancer Research here.

The findings apply only to drinkers of hard liquor, he told the annual meeting of the American Cancer Society. Not enough wine and beer drinkers have been analyzed yet for conclusive data.

Wynder said he cannot tell whether alcohol alone can start the mouth and throat cancer. He

Traffic Crashes Claim Total of 7 in Michigan; Other Mishaps Take 5

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Traffic accidents took seven lives, four of them in one smashup, in Michigan over the weekend.

One drowning, two cases of asphyxiation, a fatal accidental shooting and the death of a man pinned under an overturned tractor also were reported during the 54-hour check period, bringing to 12 the total death count.

The Associated Press tabulation of weekend accidental deaths in Michigan begins at 6 p.m. Friday and closes at midnight Sunday.

Mitchell Crofoot, 5-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. George Crofoot of Fowlerville, was killed Sunday in a two-car collision near Fowlerville. Seven persons were injured, including the dead child's parents and three brothers.

David Francell, 57, St. Clair Shores, drowned Saturday night when trapped in his car after it plunged into the Clinton River near Mount Clemens. Macomb County authorities said Francell missed a curve and the car sank in about 10 feet of water.

Houston J. Harris, 28, Rochester, was killed early Sunday when his car struck a bridge abutment in Avon Township.

Asphyxiation caused the death of Everett Webb, 27, and Alice May Sietz, 23, who were found in a car in Wyandotte Sunday. Police said the car, which was parked at a curb, apparently had a faulty exhaust system.

Killed in the head-on crash Friday night were George Fountain and his wife, Lucille, both 55, of Sault Ste. Marie, and S. Sgt. Wallace H. Harrell, 29, Oklahoma City, and M. Sgt. Ernest Goodman, 41, Terre Haute, Ind., both stationed at Kinross Air Force Base. The crash occured on M129, 18 miles south of the Soo.

John Cheney, 44, Bellevue, was crushed to death Saturday when a tractor he was using to load gravel onto a truck at a gravel pit near Marshall overturned, pinning him underneath.

Ferdinand H. Herzfeld Jr., Huron Township, was killed when his motor scooter and a car collided near his home Friday night.

Karen Jean Schultz, 10, was killed Saturday when her 20-year-old brother, Bayle, accidentally discharged a shotgun he was cleaning at their Monroe County home.

Know the Weather

By E. H. SIMS

Is there much difference between winters today and the winters of yesteryear? Were winters years ago really far colder and more severe than today?

Winters today and those of yesteryear vary surprisingly little. It is true, however, that there is a slow tendency toward warmer winters but this is in fractions of a degree over a period of a year, or years, as the trend continues.

The winters were felt far more in the "old days" because we did not have the efficient heating systems we have today, and other modern conveniences. But the difference between them is very small.

The memory tends to remember the unusual and therefore the unusual or very severe winters of years back are retained in the memory while the mild ones, or the average ones, are forgotten.

hasn't enough data on heavy drinkers who aren't heavy smokers to make a comparative study.

Purely as theories, he said, alcohol might make the throat and mouth tissues more permeable to tobacco smoke, or heavy drinking might produce diet deficiencies making the tissues more susceptible to cancer-causing agents.

Lung cancer has been associated with cigarette smoking by some statistical studies, with little effect blamed on pipe or cigar smoking.

Wynder said pipe and cigar smokers in this new study had a higher incidence of cancer higher up in the respiratory tract.

The study is based on 209 men with cancer of the larynx, 209 men of the same ages free of cancer, 132 men with lung cancer, 543 men with cancer of the oral cavity and 207 patient who had either non-cancerous sores of the head, neck or chest or cancers of the lower gastro-intestional region.

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—A radiologist from the University of Michigan medical school says the idea pipe smoking causes lip cancer is nonsense.

"If pipe smoking were a cause," said Dr. Isadore Lampe, "you could get as many cases of cancer of the upper lip as the lower lip. You rarely see one of the upper lip."

Lampe, a pipe smoker himself, said in an interview he believes long exposure to strong sunlight is a factor in malignancies of the lip.

Lampe is attending Oklahoma City clinical conference meetings.

"This program provides an incentive for the youngsters to be home at an appropriate hour," Buzz said.

Don't Let Life Upset You, Says Centenarian

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Mrs. Emma Keller threw a cocktail party yesterday afternoon on the occasion of her 100th birthday.

Exhibiting a birthday card from President Eisenhower, she offered this advice:

"Eat and drink what you like. Above all, don't worry. Life is too short to let it upset you."

About 70 guests crowded into the weathered brown house her father built 92 years ago.

They found "Aunt Emma" presiding over the Manhattans and glad to see everybody.

"I have so many friends," she twinkled. "None of them is really of my generation, but they are dear friends.

"I like to meet men. Any woman who has anything to her likes men."

Mrs. Keller, the widow of a Marine engineer, can recall the city in mourning for the death of Abraham Lincoln. The earthquake which leveled the city in 1906 is not so vivid. It merely cracked the plaster in her kitchen.

ception. They told their hosts they had been held up by work.

Minutes later the terse Tass News Agency announcement revealed the change of the defense minister's post from Zhukov to career soldier Marshal Rodion Malinovsky.

STRESS PARTY POWER

The absolute supremacy of the Communist party has been increasingly evident on both the political scene and in the newspapers.

Zhukov has great strength in the army, but his "military friends" were out of Moscow when the announcement was made, according to a guarded phone call from Moscow.

The call hinted that soldiers in the capital for the big military parade to accompany the revolution celebration had been withdrawn. But there were no signs of any threatening trouble.

Also significant was the fact that the announcement published briefly in routine fashion by the Soviet press did not include key wording that Zhukov was "released for other duties" or that he had requested his removal.

The Soviet press harped loudly on loyalty of the public to the party and that the military is "tightly bound" to the party.

There were also hints from Moscow that the Kremlin was waiting to find out the reaction to Zhukov's removal before making any decision on his future.

The answer could come Nov. 6-7 when Russia marks the 40th anniversary of the Bolshevik revolution. Many of the top Communists from around the world, including Red China's Mao Tse-Tung, will be in Moscow.

Says Bing to Buy Big Share of Tigers

DETROIT (AP) — Singer Bing Crosby, now honeymooning with his bride of four days, is planning to buy a substantial share of the Detroit Tigers baseball team, the Detroit News reported from Los Angeles today.

The News said Crosby's share is expected to cost $300,000 to $400,000. When the American League club changed hands last year the sale price was 5½ million dollars.

The 53-year-old crooner is selling his stock in the Pittsburgh Pirates of the National League, the News said, because Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick ruled Crosby could not hold substantial interests in both major league teams.

Crosby, a Pirate stockholder several years, once owned 16 per cent of the Pittsburgh club.

Sputnik Silent as Reds Plan Dog-Laden 'Moon'

WASHINGTON (AP)—Russia's pioneer earth satellite spun silently in space today as world scientists redoubled efforts to track the orbiting sphere by visual and other means.

Radio Moscow announced meanwhile that still another satellite—this one carrying a space traveling dog named Kudryavka—will be launched in the near future.

Sputnik No. 1's beeps and buzzes died away Saturday, three weeks after the first man-made moonlet was launched into its 18,000 m.p.h. orbit around the world.

Soviet scientists confirmed that the satellite's batteries finally had failed, and asked scientists of other nations to aid in tracking the now voiceless sphere.

Scientists at the Smithsonian Astrophysical Observatory at Cambridge, Mass., sent to Moscow last night their own computations on the orbits of both Sputnik and its launching rocket, also still circling in space.

The giant British radio telescope at Jodrell Bank tracked both Sputnik and the rocket across the Arctic Circle after a telegram requesting aid came from Moscow.

Radio Moscow, taking full advantage of the worldwide excitement over the Soviet technical breakthrough, also introduced the dog designated to ride the second satellite into space.

The announcer described the animal as "a small, shaggy dog trained to use a space suit and transparent helmet. Kudryavka was introduced to the radio audience, and barked into the microphone.

The announcer said Kudryavka has ridden test rockets, equipped with instruments to record her reactions, and has parachuted safely to the ground several times.

The director of the laboratory training the dogs for a space flight, Prof. Alexei Pokrovsky, said the flights are just a beginning of a new era in human travel.

In this country, complaints the United States is lagging in both the satellite and missile fields brought more congressional grumbling and an announcement of a full-scale investigation.

A 13-man House Appropriations subcommittee planned hearings beginning Nov. 4 in California, with an emphasis on charges that interservice rivalry has delayed U.S. efforts in both fields.

Rep. Mahon (D-Tex), chairman of the subcommittee, said these rivalries are the reason that "the Russians have beaten us so badly."

In other developments:

The United States has fired more than 60 million dollars worth of Intermediate Range Ballistic Missiles in the past year, and about 12 million dollars worth in the past week, according to an unofficial estimate.

Gen. Taylor Calls Cost Acceptable

Countermissile in Sight

WASHINGTON (AP)—Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor said today that a countermissile against the deadly ballistic missile at ready has its beginning in the Army's Nike Zeus project.

Such a defense can be provided at acceptable cost, the Army chief of staff added in an address prepared for the third annual meeting of the Assn. of U.S. Army.

Taylor said, "In the light of recent events, we are becoming increasingly impressed with the need to press forward in the development of the antimissile missile.

"The Army project in this field is, as you know, the Nike Zeus which already partially exists in the form of research and development components. All our efforts in this field have been crowned with success appropriate to the stage of the program.

"I am sure many of you have heard the statement that the dollar requirements for this kind of defense are astronomical and that the whole concept is beyond consideration. I can assure you that the studies which I have seen lead me to a different conclusion."

He made no statement of the cost, however.

The Day in Birmingham

Commissioners to Hold 1st Zone Ordinance Hearing

BIRMINGHAM — Expecting the recently completed proposed zoning ordinance to be one of its major items in some time, city commissioners are scheduling several "hearings" to have all phases of the ordinance thoroughly understood by the public.

The first informal hearing will be held in the city hall tonight, dealing with R-1, R-2 and R-3 Zone Districts, single family residence districts.

Residents learned the first facts of the new ordinance last Wednesday when Herbert Herzberg, city planner, explained it in a session held in the Community House auditorium.

This meeting was held to accommodate more persons. The current official hearings before commissioners are being split into separate groups since the seating capacity of the commission room is limited.

When the plan was announced for "split" hearings, City Manager R. L. Gare stressed the importance of having every interested resident fully informed. The plan was worked out after lengthy discussion and ample notification is being planned for all.

ONE PROTEST RECEIVED

One written protest has already been received concerning the proposed switch from business to two-family residence for a section of East Lincoln avenue, a short distance from Woodward avenue. The writer says that, in his opinion, the trend toward increasing rental property will lower real estate value in the city.

When the "trick or treat" brigade takes over here Wednesday evening there will be two groups—the customary youngsters garbed in masks and costumes out for fun, and a more serious group, out to "help the poor."

Seeking contributions for UNICEF, the young people from several churches will ask for cash donations rather than the goodies which are the popular gift of former years. Following the completion of the UNICEF collections, receipts will be sent as a gift sum from the entire community.

Donald E. Scriven has been named president of the Birmingham Student Loan and Scholarship Fund Assn. Serving with him will be Mrs. Lawton C. Tabor, secretary; Mrs. Peter Loomis, treasurer; Mrs. Carl Hilty, vice president.

Serving with this group as trustees are Albert M. MacCleery, J. W. Duhn and School Supt. Dwight B. Ireland.

Past Chiefs of Pythian Temple 94 will meet Oct. 29 with Mrs. Claude Walker, 32600 Telegraph Rd., at 8 p.m. The official visitation of District Deputy Wilma Kelly is scheduled for the Nov. 5 meeting at the Community House.

3 CAR CRASH

A Highland Couple, Mr. and Mrs. George H. Mosher, 134 South Center St., are in Pontiac General Hospital, following a three-car accident last night at the Ward-Telegraph intersection.

Mr. Mosher, 70, was unable to make a statement, police said.

He suffered lacerations of the left shoulder, right hip and back injuries. His wife, Dora, 66, suffered head injuries. The hospital listed their condition as critical, Bloomfield Township police said.

Mosher's car struck one driven by Herman L. Summers, 38, 15962 Ryland St., Detroit, and spun across the center aisle to strike the second vehicle driven by Chauncey F. Smith Jr., 19, of 2207 Greer St., Keego Harbor. Police said neither of the other drivers were injured.

Newell Banks to Play Against All Challengers

Newell W. Banks, blindfold chess and checkers champion of the world, will take on all challengers tonight in an exhibition to be held at 7:30 at the Adah Shelly Branch Library, 251 E. Rundell St.

The exhibition, which is open to the public, is sponsored annually by the Pontiac Cress and Checkers Club. Admission is free of charge.

Declares Ike Should Give U.S. Facts

Billy Graham Says Danger of War Is Greater Now

NEW YORK (AP)—Billy Graham says the danger of war is greater now "than at any other time in the past 10 years."

The evangelist told a religious rally of 40,000 persons at the Polo Grounds yesterday that President Eisenhower should "tell the American people exactly where we stand."

"The American people are not children," Graham declared. They want the facts straight from the shoulder. The President is the only person with the prestige and confidence of the American people to call this nation into a period of sacrifice, renewed dedication and a return to God."

Graham spoke at a service climaxing "Visitation Week," an annual event of the Protestant Council of Churches of New York City.

This year's visitation program concentrated on the 56,676 persons who made "decisions for "Christ" at Graham's New York crusade, last summer. A total of 1,284 went forward yesterday.

The crusade began with nightly meetings May 15 in Madison Square Garden. The preaching phase ended with a rally in Broadway just south of Times Square Sept. 1.

Last July 20, 100,000 persons jammed Yankee Stadium on a sweltering evening to hear Graham.

Despite yesterday's cold and threatening clouds, Graham doffed his overcoat when he began preaching from a stand at second base.

He predicted the downfall of the United States unless Americans follow the ways of God.

Capitol Used 400 Years

CHICAGO — It is estimated that more than a third of the school pupils in the United States travel to school by bus and 500,000 use private automobiles every day to get to their classrooms—nearly twice as many as went to school in motor vehicles 10 years ago.

The Proxy Murder

By ERLE STANLEY GARDNER

Copyright 1957

The STORY SO FAR: Jerry Conway is alarmed by an advertising campaign Gifford Farrell, a discharged employe, is conducting to obtain proxies and oust Conway at the stockholders' meeting of the California & Texas Global Co. In a mysterious telephone call, a woman calling herself Rosalind offers to supply Conway with a list of the proxies Farrell has acquired. Though he suspects a trap, Conway agrees to follow her cloak-and-dagger directions. Eva Kane, his secretary, thinks she has heard her voice before. Asking the hotel clerk for a message for Gerald Boswell he obtains a key to an hotel suite for the meeting but instead of finding Rosalind, there's a young woman scantily attired and on her face a mud pack. She's Rosalind's roommate, Mildred. She points a gun at Conway, which he takes from her. Since the gun has been fired recently Conway suspects a frame-up and calls Perry Mason, attorney. Mason looks over the gun and asks for the key to the hotel room. Detective Paul Drake convinces the hotel clerk he is Gerald Boswell, and with Mason, finds a woman murdered in the suite. Mason believes the murdered woman had a list of the stockholders who had sent in their proxies. Mason traps Evangeline Farrell into admitting she is Rosalind. She's getting a divorce from Gifford, and wants to help Conway, to protect her own investment in the company.

Chapter 13

"All right," Mrs. Farrell said suddenly, "you seem to know enough—I'm going to have to trust to your direction, Mr. Mason. You could place me in a very embarrassing position if you let Gifford know what I had done."

"For your information," Mason said, "A woman was murdered at the Redfern Hotel this evening."

"Suppose you tell me just what you did do."

"I wanted to give Mr. Conway some information I had. I had a list of the persons who had sent in proxies. I thought it was an accurate, up-to-the-minute list that would be of the greatest value to him. I wanted him to have that list."

"Why didn't you mail it to him?

"Because I was afraid someone knew that I had this list. If it was ever traced to me and then my husband could prove that I had given it to the person he was fighting for control of the company, he'd use it to prejudice the court against me."

"So what did you do?"

"I intended to give him a big build-up, send him out to a motel somewhere to keep a mysterious appointment, and then phone him and tell him that I'd planted the list in his car while he was waiting. I wanted it to be handled with such a background of mystery and all that he'd think I was very, very close to Gifford and terribly frightened.

"I wanted to do everything as much unlike myself as I possibly could. I wanted to cover my trail so thoroughly he'd never suspect me.

TRIED TO SEE HIM

"I tried to arrange a meeting with him twice. Tonight, he was to ditch the shadows, go to a public telephone in a durgstore that was a couple of blocks from here. I was to telephone him there at six-fifteen."

"And you did?"

"I did," she said, "and he didn't answer."

"Are you telling me the truth?"

"I'm telling you the truth."

"You didn't get him on the telephone and tell him to go to the Redfern Hotel and ask for messages in the name of Gerald Boswell?"

She shook her head, said, "I know nothing whatever about the Redfern Hotel. I've heard the name, but I don't even know where it is."

Mason said, "You'll pardon me, but I have to be sure that you're telling the truth."

"I've told you the truth," she said, "and I'm not accountable to you. I don't propose to have you sit there and cross-examine me. I don't owe that much to Mr. Conway and I don't owe that much to you."

"Perhaps," Mason said, "you owe that much to yourself."

"What do you mean by that?"

"For your information," Mason said, "a woman was murdered at the Redfern Hotel this evening. Conway was in the room where the murdered girl was found, apparently only a few minutes before the murder was committed. He was sent there by someone who telephoned the drugstore where he was to get his final directions and . . ."

"So that's it!" she exclaimed.

"What is?"

"I lost control of him. Someone must have called him there just a few minutes before I did. I called him a minute or two before six-fifteen, got a busy signal on the line. I called him at almost exactly six-fifteen and there was no answer. I kept ringing and finally a man's voice answered. I asked if Mr. Conway was there, and he said he was the druggist in charge of the store, and that no one was there. He said a man had been there a few minutes earlier, and had left."

Mason took out his cigaret case, started to offer her one of his cigarets.

"Thanks, I have my own," she said.

Mason started to get up and light her cigaret, but she waved him back, said, "I'm a big girl now," picked up a card of paper matches, lit her cigaret, dropped the matches back on the table.

Mason snapped his lighter into flame, lit his cigaret.

"Well?" he asked.

She said, "It's his phone that's tapped. It's not mine. I put in the calls from pay stations. You can see what happened. I was anxious to see that he wasn't followed. I didn't want anyone to know I had had any contact with him—Someone listened in on the conversation.—What about that secretary of his? What do you know about her?"

"Very little," Mason said.

"Well, you'd better find out," she said, "because someone beat me to the punch on that telephone call and sent him to the Redfern Hotel. I was going to tell him to meet me in a cocktail lounge about a block and a half from the drugstore, but I wanted to be certain he wasn't followed."

'I HAVE THE LIST'

"Do you now have an accurate list of the proxies, or . . .?"

"I now actually have such a list."

"May I ask how you got it?"

She smoked for a moment in thoughtful silence, then extracted herself from the chair with a quick, lithe motion, said, "Mr. Mason, I'm going to confide in you."

The lawyer said nothing.

She walked over to a bookcase, took down an atlas, said, "when a woman marries, she wants a man for her very own. She wants security. She wants a home. She wants companionship on a permanent basis."

Mason nodded.

"I should have known better than to have married Gifford Farrell in the first place," she said. "He's a playboy. He doesn't want a home, he doesn't want any one woman, and he can't give anyone security. He's a gambler, a plunger, a sport."

Mason remained silent.

Mrs. Farrell opened the atlas. She took out an eight-by-ten glossy photograph from between the pages and handed it to Mason.

Mason saw what at first seemed to be a naked woman, but after a moment saw she was wearing the very briefest of light-colored Bikini bathing suits.

Mason looked at the voluptuous figure, then suddenly started as his eyes came to focus on the girl's face. He moved over closer to the light.

'SHE'S NOT NUDE'

Mrs. Farrell gave a short laugh. "I'm afraid you men are all the same," she said. "She's wearing a light-colored Bikini suit, Mr. Mason. She's not nude. She's dressed!"

"I see she is," Mason said drily.

"You have to look twice to see it."

Mason nodded. "I'm looking twice."

The photograph showed a blonde young woman, with well-rounded curves, apparently the same young woman whom Mason had seen earlier in the evening lying dead on the bed in the Redfern Hotel.

"I take it," Mason said, "that you have some connection with the woman shown in the photograph."

Mrs. Farrell laughed. "I'm afraid the connection is with my husband."

Mason raised his eyebrows in silent interrogation.

Mrs. Farrell handed Mason a piece of paper which was evidently a clipping from a popular magazine.

UAW Election Trial Opening Tomorrow

DETROIT (AP) — The United Auto Workers Union's trial on charges of violating federal electioneering laws opens tomorrow in U.S. District Court in Detroit.

The UAW was indicted July 26, 1955, charged with spedning $5,985 from its general funds to sponsor a series of political television progrsms the previous fall.

Banks, corporations and labor organizations are forbidden by the Federal Corrupt Practices Act from making political expenditures in connection with federal elections.

Judge Frank A. Picard, who will hear the case with a jury, dismissed the indictment last year, holding that it violated freedom of speech. The U.S. Supreme Court later sent the case back to Pickard to determine the facts through trial.

On conviction the union could be fined $5,000 on each of four counts.

The American Bible Society has distributed more than 40 million volumes of the Holy Scriptures to men in the U.S. Armed Services.

Halloween Eve. to Begin at 6 P. M. for Waterford

Waterford Township youngsters will begin their Halloween festivities at 6 p.m. Thursday, with a trick or treat program scheduled for one hour.

At 7 p.m. parties will be conducted in various areas in the township for elementary school children, and activities will feature costume judging around huge bonfires, haunted rooms, fortune tellers and other surprises.

The evening's program is sponsored by service clubs and the recreation department, in one big cooperative plan, rather than numerous smaller ones, according to director Tom Belton.

From 7:30 to 9:45, high school teenagers have been invited to participate in a party at the Community Activities building, and this will be a part of the regular high school youth night.

Clarkston Family of 10 to Benefit

Start Fund for Dying Mom

The story of the plight of the Edward Luebke family of Clarkston has spread throughout the Pontiac area, and warm-hearted citizens are preparing for an organized fund-raising campaign tonight.

Mrs. Luebke, a mother of ten children who is dying of cancer, has given her full consent to the establishment of a trust-fund which has been set up in the Clarkston State bank for her children after she is gone.

Although Luebke is now working, bills have become unsurmountable, and "Mickey" is concerned with her children's welfare after she is gone.

After adopting out the three youngest children, 8-months-old Judy, Terry, 2, and Cindy, 3, there remains at home Johnny, 5, Molly, 10, Edward, 12, Elizabeth, 13, Susie, 14, and Lester, 15. George, 7, is with relatives up north.

Mickey Luebke is again home with her remaining family since her release from St. Joseph's hospital Oct. 16, and is being cared for by Susie, who must remain out of school to be with her mother.

Leading the fund-raising drive are Mrs. Lucille Richardson of 153 S. Josephine St., and Mrs. Ben Narris of Clarkston.

The women have contacted numerous residents, organized canister operations and has set the wheels in motion to get help for the stricken family.

Head man for the Pontiac area drive is Rev. Robert North, pastor of the Zion Nazarene church. Many of the churches have pledged full cooperation, after an organizational meeting held last night.

Elvin Gaines has charge of the Oak Park area, and his telephone is FE 2-0994. At Five Points, Robert Clark, FE 5-3974 and Harry Perry, FE 4-5555 have volunteered to answer calls, and canvass.

In the Indian Village section, John Burton, FE 8-3683 and at the Crescent Lake Estates subdivision Wesley Endress of FE 4-0228 will be in charge.

In the Windsor School area, Harry Turner, FE 5-2676, and on the southside of Pontiac Mrs. Newton E. Drake, FE 2-4162 will take charge of the area.

When the all-over porch light parade gets under way Monday from 6 to 9 p.m., all canvassers have been asked to be at the Zion Nazarene church, and return at the conclusion.

The legal firm taking care of all legal matters for the project are Beer, Rowston and Currah, of Pontiac.

Church organizations in the Clarkston area have set their drive for 6-9 p.m. Tuesday night. The Clarkston Baptist Church is the central location for canvassers, under the direction of Rev. Walter Gibson, and Rev. Elvin Mudge of the New Hope Church.

We Must Act to Prevent Others Like Anastasia

ANASTASIA has been put away.

This time, it's for keeps.

The Eastern seaboard hoodlum was summarily shot through his scheming head and if death weren't instantaneous, it was a reasonable facsimile thereof. The ancient adage, "crime doesn't pay," was almost disproved by this guttersnipe who lived by brute strength, assault and murder—and who made it pay and pay handsomely right up to his personal judgment day.

He has been arrested, tried, indicted and yet throughout his bloody life, he thumbed an arrogant nose at law and order — and got away with it. Only his own despicable kind proved "big enough" to get him.

This is a desperately serious indictment of "law and order" as it's constituted today. It causes honest men and women to wonder what "it's all about," and it tends to shake their faith in decency, in honor and in God-fearing living.

We feel no sense of elation or depression over Mr. ANASTASIA'S bloody demise. Rather, we feel a sense of inadequacy and a sense of frustration. Unless we correct the conditions that make lives like this possible, how can we teach our little children that "honesty is the best policy?"

If it takes new laws, let's have them. If it takes stronger policing, let's have that. If it requires a higher type judiciary, let's come up with that.

Why should society bow, genuflect and turn the other cheek to vipers like this?

This was a New York incident and New York is probably at the bottom of the heap in giving established hoodlums "the run of the city."

Guatemala Remains in Democratic Camp

In a special election last week MIGUEL ORTIZ PASSARELLI, a former Supreme Court Justice, was elected President of Guatemala.

As a result of the July 26 assassination of President CASTILLO ARMAS, a special election had to be held. Guatemala's constitution provides for such procedure within four months after the death of a president.

Col. JUAN FRANCISCO OLIVA, minister of defense, who could have taken over at that time as dictator, lifted the state of siege one month after ARMAS' death and declared he was not a candidate for the presidency. Under Guatemala's constitution military commanders can't run for office unless they resign their commands six months before an election. Col. OLIVA'S democratic action is something new in Latin-American politics. Vice-President LOPEZ, who had succeeded ARMAS as president, also refused to run for the presidency.

The newly elected president, 49-year-old ORTIZ PASSATELLI, had the backing of the existing administration and of the National Democratic Movement which has 59 of the 66 seats in parliament. The only real opposition came from an extreme right wing group led by Gen. MIGUEL YDIGORAS FUENTES, former ambassador to Colombia, who in the past had supported the administration.

With half of its 3.5 million people poverty stricken and illiterate Indians, the government is trying to steer a middle and moderate course and to create a rural middle class through agrarian reforms. Business has been diversified with the export of coffee, corn, cotton, and of course bananas. American oil companies are investing in exploration and if oil is found, half will go to the Guatemalan government and profits will be split 50-50.

Guatemala is to be congratulated on its holding of democratic elections and its repudiation of Communism even though an anti-Communist president had been assassinated.

Lawn Threatened?

Case Where Manual Effort Isn't Backed by Good Sense

Pheasant: A bird who can match wits with the hunter — without the help of a dog.

When you rake the leaves from your lawn and burn them, you not only are wasting your time, but you're also wasting a valuable component of the soil. According to Oakland County Agricultural Agent the leaves should be left on the grass, if not too heavy to smother it, and be allowed to create the compost and fertilizer that the soil needs to produce the better grass that you probably are wondering why it doesn't.

If you know of any outstanding lawn, you'll probably find that its owner hasn't the time to destroy the leaves, or would rather read his newspaper or commune with his family than accummulate a flock of hand blisters in doing damage to his lawn by bleeding its fertility.

Only four entries remain in the running in our football contest. They picked Boston College to win over Detroit University in Saturday's game, which the former won, 20-16. The four remaining contestants who favored Detroit to win are eliminated.

On next Saturday's contest game between California and UCLA, two of these survivors pick UCLA to win, one favors California and one forecasts a tie game.

A weekly newspaper editor whom I've known since his dad led him by the hand,

George VanKoevering

of Zeeland has been named as Director of Public Relations of the Michigan Railroads Association. He succeeds of Detroit, who always had a soft spot in his heart for the Pontiac area, and I'm sure George will take it over.

R. H. Allie

My claim that there's nothing the matter with our young folks finds absolute proof in my home town's which is the biggest moving spirit in a village that has no juvenile delinquency. They're paying $900 for a nationally known dance orchestra for one evening. Some oldsters may have misgivings about the financial outcome, but I'm betting on the kids—yes, I'll give liberal odds on 'em.

Graduate of Pontiac High School, native of Oakland County, and well known here is

Varnum B. Steinbaugh,

Detroit engineer consultant, who has just been named by Michigan Highway Commissioner

John C. Mackie

as one of the five men on his State Highway Advisory Board. Varnum was with

when the latter was State Highway Commissioner, and knows the way around our roads and their construction. We know you'll put in a big plug, Varnum, for your old home county.

Remember Way Back When?

David Lawrence Says:

Ike Now Gives Different Reason

WASHINGTON — President Eisenhower, on the advice of his legal aides, now has cleared the air and taken the position that federal troops are in Little Rock "not to enforce or to advance any governmental policy respecting integration, desegregation or segregation" but to enforce a court decree.

LAWRENCE

This declaration in a letter to Senator Stennis, Democrat, of Mississippi, has just been countered by one of the outstanding lawyers in America—Alfred J. Schweppe of Seattle, a member of the Board of Editors of the American Bar Association Journal"—who challenges the President to produce a single statute or constitutional provision that gives the federal government legal power to use troops solely to enforce a federal court order.

The President's letter to the Mississippi senator is along the same lines as a reply he also made to Representative Herlong, Democrat, of Florida, who candidly told the chief executive that he was getting many complaints from parents of boys in the military service "lest a continuation of your present tactics should result in their boys being ordered to proceed militarily against the South in an effort to enforce school integration." Mr. Herlong added: "You have not had any trouble like the trouble you will have if that is done."

SENATOR TALKS

The President's legal position now, as stated to Senator Stennis, is as follows:

"They (the federal troops) are there, simply, because the normal processes of law have been frustrated. Due to state use of force, first, to block federal court orders, due next to state refusal to use troops to prevent mobs from blocking federal court orders, and due finally to local inability to comply with federal court orders because of mob violence unrestrained by state authorities, other than normal means had to be found to uphold the law.

State and local law enforcement agencies being either unwilling or unable to uphold the law, it became imperatively necessary that the law be upheld by the Federal Government."

What "law" did the President have in mind? It so happens that Mr. Schweppe, who was born and raised in the North and served for many years as dean of the University of Washington Law School, wrote an article published currently in "U.S. News & World Report" in which he takes up the same points raised by the President. Mr. Schweppe has written extensively on legal subjects and is chairman of the American Bar Association's Committee on Judicial Councils.

Mr. Schweppe points out that the "laws" which the President is faithfully to execute are the acts of Congress and not court orders.

The noted lawyer adds that the very statutes cited by the President in his proclamation ordering federal troops to Little Rock refer to "the laws of the United States" and apply to contingencies in which "'unlawful obstructions' make it impractible to enforce 'the laws of the United States' by 'the ordinary course of judicial proceedings'."

DECREE IS NOT LAW

Mr. Schweppe says: "Obviously a district court decree cannot be held to be a 'law of the United States.' Such a decree is binding only on the parties, is a precedent only within the district, and is not binding on a federal judge who disagrees." He adds:

"I have found no statute empowering the President to use troops to execute the marshal's duties in the event of the latter's inability to do so. . . . If there is such statute, the President would be acting illegally and beyond his powers. I have seen nothing in the press, moreover, concerning any effort of the U.S. Marshal to enforce the Little Rock decree prior to action by the President."

On the subject of "domestic violence," Mr. Schweppe declares that the Constitution does not permit federal intervention except with the consent of the state unless the violence takes the form of "unlawful obstruction" of a law of Congress and not just of court orders.

Dr. William Brady Says:

'Atherosclerosis' Is Word to Scare Up Fast Dollar

In days gone by, atherosclerosis was a malady one might read about in books but rarely if ever encounter in practice.

Arteriosclerosis (hardening of the arteries) is easy to diagnose.

DR. BRADY

In fact, all you need know is that the patient is past 50. If he is, he has arteriosclerosis.

One person in a thousand or 10 thousand may still have nice, soft, elastic arteries at 50 — just as one person in 10 thousand may still have all his own teeth at 50. These are rare birds.

At first, atheroscerosis may well seem a slight mistake in spelling. I thought it was, the first time I collided with the word in medical literature. It's strictly jive, though, the baffling language of medical merchants who run phony "clinics."

The very name, atherosclerosis, is absurd. It means literally mushy hardening. The fast buck "specialists" latched onto it because they found it impressed their gullible customers — they were confident the poor geeks would never ask how come the arteries are softening and hardening at the same time?

The late, great Dr. Osler's description of arteriosclerosis, unsurpassed by that of any other authority of his time or ours, included this passage:

"In a study of 41 autopsies upon arteriosclerotic cases from my wards, Councilmen follow the usual division into nodular, senile and diffuse forms. In the circumscribed or nodular form . . . the aorta (great artery) presents . . . numerous flat projections, yellowish or yellowish-white in color . . . the patches undergo atheromatous —the material constituting the button undergoes softening . . ."

Remember, Osler was describing arteriosclerosis, hardening of the arteries. He used the right word to describe the softening of these patches or buttons in the lining of the artery — atheroma.

It remained for fast-buck charlatans to invent an imposing theory to go with the atherosclerosis hokum. The patches or buttons, they lead the suckers to believe, are "deposits" of cholesterol, a fatlike substance found in milk, yolk of egg, animal fats, seeds etc.

And so the charlatans prescribe and the poor suckers try to follow a diet of low cholesterol content.

"To date," acknowledges the Journal of the American Medical Association, Sept. 7, 1957, "no definite relationship has been proved that lowering of blood cholesterol by administration of unsaturated fatty acids" (that is, a diet of low cholesterol content) "specifically prevents atherosclerosis or subsequent coronary diseases."

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped, self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Recent Area Killing Brings Request for Death Penalty

Another man admits he's a killer. He says he's sorry. Why didn't he think of that before? I wonder when the citizens and taxpayers of Michigan are going to wake up. I'm for capital punishment, and I'm sure I could get 500 signatures on a petition for it. What do you think?

Another Writes on Deserted Cats

Reference was made recently in these columns to cottage owners who abandon cats at the end of the season. If they only realized it, these animals become wild hunting animals who team up with the great horned owl in doing the most damage to small game.

Cats living off the land, after the song birds have gone south, eat pheasants, partridges and rabbits. It is only human to destroy the cats before the cottage-owners leave and thus prevent these predators from destroying our wildlife.

Offers Alternative for School Buses

Instead of taxpayers paying for the school bus, wouldn't it work out better if everyone in the district would pay so much a week or month to have their children ride? It seems the Township would furnish the bus if people would pay the drivers' wages. It shouldn't amount to much, and I would be willing to pay instead of having my children walk on the highway twice a day. I'm a taxpayer in Waterford and our school taxes are high now.

Gives Sure Cure for Satellite Fear

A lot of commentators claim there are millions of Americans almost hysterical with fear because Russians seem to have the lead in the race for long-range missiles and satellites spinning around the earth.

If they really wanted to get over that fear and have peace of mind, they would get themselves bomb-proofed by becoming a saved Christian. That way if the missiles came over with their names on it, all it could do would be to blow them into Heaven.

Another Waitress Has Comments

I agree with Jobless Waitress. Why is it that a waitress can't be represented in the Pontiac local?

Waitresses, wake up. Why should we have to depend on tips for our wages? Tips are appreciation for services rendered to customers. Our salary won't pay expenses and transportation.

Even though Hoffa may be in the hot seat, he still gets decent living wages for his members.

'Do-Nothings Get No Criticism'

In reference to British royalty visiting our country, one letter gave the impression that they must be beyond fault, because we do not criticize our guests (although our statesmen receive plenty). It is common knowledge among thinking Americans, that if you do nothing, you rate no criticism. Anyone in this world who has done anything successful has been criticized.

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.

The Moscovian Sputnik is a lubber's moon to be looked at over your left shoulder. Moscow is swabbing borsch out of its flying dishes.

We ogle-spotted our first escadrille of early winter comet-whiskers. They beep-beeped in the incubator of the infinite in the homing song of the atomic pigeons.

There is nothing to be scared about. Just one more thing to marginate on your insurance diploma. If you have your hair parted by a Sputnik your spit-curls will rotate anti-clockwise.

We know the Moscow micro-niks are not beating our time. Believe-it-or-not Ripley told me about these things back in 1937. He had a pipe-line to atomicia.

We may be in for some lunar hill-billying from the mountains of the moon. But we're not worrying until the Russians do something with the tides.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Have You a Deficiency in 'H-R?'

Harry is a graduate engineer but he is woefully lacking in a knowledge of "H-R." If you have followed this practical column for even six months, you can run circles around Harry, even if you never graduated from high school. Technical graduates better profit from Harry's error or they'll lose good jobs, as well as sweethearts.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case W-331: Bill C., aged 28, is an engineer in a paper factory. His boss asked Bill to take a new college graduate to lunch and then show him around the plant.

"Bill, I want you to size up this young engineer and see what you think of him," the boss added.

DR. CRANE

The newcomer's name was Harry. As Bill showed him through the factory, Harry tried to display his knowledge by glibly naming the various types of machines in use.

But he went even further, for he'd point out the shortcomings of some of the older models and ask why Bill hadn't changed to newer equipment.

As they were completing the tour, Harry acted somewhat disdainful and said:

"I suppose I'll be the only college graduate in this dump."

To which Bill quietly added:

"No, I'm a Purdue graduate myself."

DEFICIENT IN "H-R"

When Bill's boss later inquired about Harry and asked Bill what he thought of him, Bill replied:

"Frankly, Boss, I wouldn't hire him under any circumstances."

"Well, that's the way I feel, too," the boss nodded, grimly.

Maybe some of you readers think I am exaggerating in this case, but I am quoting the situation literally and repeating Harry's words verbatim.

"But Dr. Crane," you may protest, "how could any young engineering graduate be so tactless?

"Surely, he must have realized he was cooking his own goose by his superior disdain for the older models of machines and for calling the factory a 'dump.'"

But Harry is like thousands of introvertive scientists who lack a knowledge of "H-R."

And that "H-R" means "Human Relations" or Applied Psychology. Another synonym for it is "Horse Sense" or plain, old-fashioned gumption.

A lot of college graduates possess technical textbook knowledge and may even hold advanced degrees, yet be as tactless and undiplomatic as Harry.

COLLEGE MYOPIA

My special field in college teaching has always been Applied Psychology. But many of my "ivory tower" associates look disdainfully at such courses as the "Psychology of Advertising" or "Salesmanship" or "Personnel Administration."

They prefer to stress what they call "pure" science and hide away in cloistered laboratories experimenting on white rats and guinea pigs.

They'll write learned theses on farfetched problems like "The Love Life of the Gold Fish," or the "Libido of the Guinea Pig," while their students don't even know how to carry on an interesting conversation or write an effective letter of application for a job the day after they graduate!

In desperation, I finally launched this clinical column in practical psychology, back in 1935, to help release the proved facts for happy marriage and harmonious social adjustments.

Some of my "white rat" colleagues still veto this column, however, and write letters to local editors trying to coerce them into dropping it.

"Dr. Crane is unscientific," they try to imply, "because he uses 2-syllable words and simplifies psychology too much.

"It should be kept difficult and profound, so people would have to pay $25 per interview to have us cloistered scientists unravel it for them."

Even in this late year of 1957 A.D., thousands of college graduates, tutored by such ivory tower professors, are still making fools of themselves, as Harry has done.

So you readers be the judge: And if you like practical education, then scrapbook this daily column, for it helps you win friends and wage increases.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Security for You

Pertinent Questions, Official Answers

By RAY HENRY

From A.S.R. of Milwaukee: "During the World Series, a friend jokingly remarked that one of the Yankee pitchers was old enough to collect Social Security. Since I'm a native New Yorker, one thing led to another and we got into an argument. I said baseball players weren't even covered by Social Security, so, no matter what, the pitcher wasn't ever likely to collect Social Security. My friend said they were. Who's right?"

Your friend. Baseball players are covered by Social Security and have Social Security tax deducted from their wages.

From E.F.T. of Minot, N. D.: "Each year I receive a form on which my Railroad Retirement credits are listed. I've just noticed that there was an error on the form. How can I get it corrected?"

Get a form called "Protest of Record of Service Months and Compensation" from your employer, fill it out and mail it to Railroad Retirement Board, Bureau of Wage and Service Records, Chicago, Ill. Be sure to include the incorrect form with your protest.

From R.D.P. of International Falls, Minn: "My husband and I have been separated for about 15 years. He is living in Chicago. I heard from him the other day and he says he's now drawing Social Security. I'm 64 and wonder if I'm eligible for Social Security now that my husband is drawing it."

You are, if you're still considered to be the legal wife of your husband. The fact that you're now eligible results from a recent change in the Social Security law. Until the change, a wife couldn't collect retirement payments based on her husband's work record unless she was living with her husband, was receiving support from him or was eligible to receive support due to a court order. These requirements were wiped off the books.

From B.C. of Annapolis, Md.: "I'm scheduled to be drafted in about a month. I'm curious as to whether I'll have to pay Social Security tax on my private's pay. If I do, I don't think it's fair." Servicemen like most civilian workers, are covered by the Social Security law and must pay a tax on their pay, no matter what their rank.

From Mrs. G.L. of Kalamazoo, Mich.: "A 62-year-old man has proposed marriage to me. I'm 58, I'm very fond of him and may accept his proposal. But, as he points out, we have to consider our financial future. If I marry him will I be able to collect Social Security as his wife?"

Yes, after he becomes eligible for payments, you reach 62 and you have been married for at least three years.

From T.Y. of Washington: "I'm a federal government worker and have been working for nearly 12 years. Since I started, the government has been deducting money from my salary for Civil Service retirement. I have a good deal of money in the retirement fund. Now, I'm in some financial trouble and need some money. Can I borrow from my retirement money and repay it?"

No.

(Questions on Social Security problems may be addressed to "Social Security," in care of The Pontiac Press. Questions will be answered by mail from the Pontiac office of the Social Security Administration. There is no charge for this service.)

Tout Rival Plans for Mideast Crisis

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—Backers of two rival plans to ease the Syrian-Turkish crisis both made private claims today of wide U. N. support. The General Assembly resumes debate on the dispute this afternoon.

An Arab diplomat told a reporter a Syrian resolution to send an investigating committee to the tense Syrian-Turkish border might pass in the Assembly, where it would need a two-thirds vote.

A Western delegate said a seven nation resolution to have U. N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold try to settle the dispute probably would get the necessary two-thirds. Neither resolution had been submitted yet to the Assembly, which is considering Syria's Oct. 16 complaint that Turkey had massed troops on her border for an attack. Turkey has denied any intention of attacking.

Stassen Won't Tell His Political Plans

WASHINGTON (AP)—Harold E. Stassen says it is quite likely he will return to active politics. But if he is planning to run for governor of Pennsylvania next year, he isn't ready yet to say so.

He gave neither a yes or no answer yesterday when he was asked about a recurring rumor that he will quit as President Eisenhower's disarmament adviser to seek the Republican nomination for Pennsylvania governor in 1958.

But he left the way open during questioning in a radio-TV interview. A former governor of Minnesota, he was president of the University of Pennsylvania when Eisenhower picked him to head up the foreign aid program at the start of Eisenhower's administration. He later moved to his present post.

Arrives From Britain Tomorrow

Bevan Eying Top Post

By INTERNATIONAL NEWS

Aneurin Bevan is a man on the "make."

For years he was the stormy petrel of British politics and the fiery leader of the Labor Party's left-wing faction. He won a reputation for being "anti-American," primarily for his sharp attacks on U.S. foreign policy.

Now mellowed, the Labor Party's number two man is being hailed as a statesman even by conservative British newspapers. Americans will have a chance to see this "new" Nye Bevan when he arrives in New York tomorrow to launch a lecture tour.

When he isn't before the lecturn, the robust 60-year-old Welshman will be privately filling in the pitholes made by his bombastic attacks on American policies, for he now has his cap set on being foreign secretary.

How well he hits it off with Washington officialdom—especially in the State Department—could be of extreme importance to future Anglo-American relations. The results of recent by-elections throughout Britain indicate that the Laborites would be returned to power if a general election was held now.

Bevan already has gone a long way to cement relations with American leaders. At the Labor Party's recent convention he played a key role in helping to defeat a motion that would have called on the Laborites to demand banning of nuclear weapons on the same terms espoused by Russia.

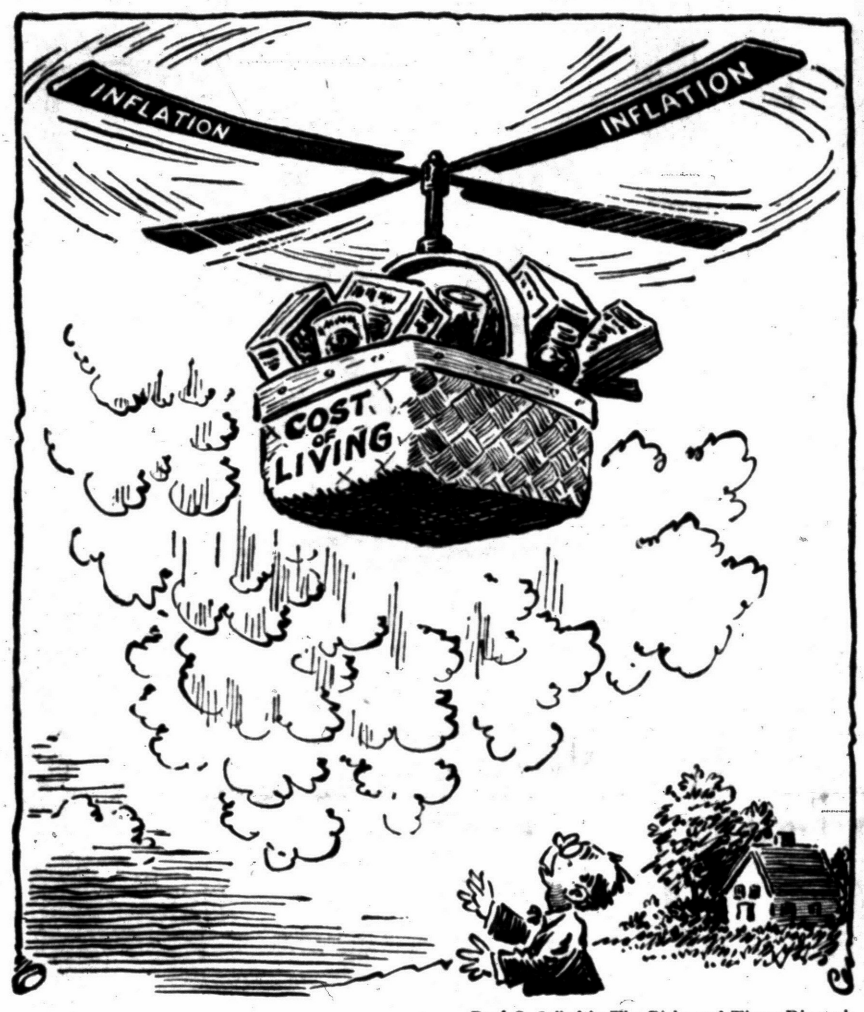
Ironically, the motion was sponsored by a rump left-wing movement that he himself had sired. Moreover, he had often denounced the H-bomb with a kind of sarcasm and scorn that only a Welshman can evoke.

Bevan was born in the mining town of Tredegar, one of 13 children of a poverty-stricken family. At 13, he followed his father into the pits for a seven-year stint underground. He held his first trade union job at the age of 19 and in the early '20s was blacklisted as an "agitator" by the mine owners.

He won easy election to Parliament in 1929 and has been one of the sharpest-tongued orators in that body ever since. In 1934, he married Jenny Lee, the daughter of a coal miner, who also sits in the House of Commons.

About 5.5 millions of persons in the United States suffer from some form of diseases of the heart.



Fred O. Seibel in The Richmond Times-Dispatch

Who suffers from inflation?

Everyone, especially those living on a fixed income... the retired man on a pension... the widow trying to make ends meet.

Who suffers? The young people who may be denied the education they deserve, because the savings for their education were not enough, due to the lower purchasing power of the dollar.

Who suffers? The taxpayer who must pay an ever-larger share of income to a government which must pay more for the things it needs.

Who suffers? Isn't the real question to ask yourself, "Who doesn't suffer?"

Fighting inflation is everybody's job, but the key person in the fight is you—as a buyer, a saver, and a taxpayer.

Here's what you can do

As a buyer, you can buy wisely. Buy what you really need, but make sure you get your money's worth.

As a saver, you can add to your family's security by saving some extra dollars every payday. These extra savings will provide capital our nation needs to keep our economy growing.

As a taxpayer, you can take an interest in your government buying wisely, too. Remember, overspending by government helps push prices up.

You, in short, are in the driver's seat. How carefully you buy... how diligently you save... how plainly you make your opinions known... can help determine how quickly we lick inflation.

Why the life insurance companies are bringing you this message

106 million policyholders have made life insurance America's most widely used form of thrift. In the interest of these policyholders—in the interest of all of us—the life insurance companies feel that they have a duty to help preserve the purchasing power of the dollar.

Would Increase Basic Research

National Science Body Suggests Measures for Greater Support

WASHINGTON (AP)—The National Science Foundation, calling for greater American support for basic scientific research, says Russia has given "special and significant attention" to it.

The NSF in a report yesterday recommended far reaching measures designed to increase the national effort in this type of research.

Among the key recommendations was one calling for revisions of federal income tax laws as a means of increasing "philantrophic giving for basic research" by industries, other non-federal organizations and individuals. It proposed a tax credit for such support, and one especially aimed at encouraging greater support from low- and middle-income individuals.

The principal purpose of the foundation is to foster basic research and education in the sciences. It was created by Congress in 1950 to promote scientific progress.

Basic or fundamental research is research for new knowledge which may or may not have practical value. But the NSF calls such research "the indispensable basis for practical developments."

The 64-page report declared that Russia apparently is devoting a greater proportion of its total research effort to the basic type than is the United States. A spokesman said a tentative estimate is 14 per cent for the Russians compared with about eight for the United States.

Come in now for a peek at the '58 Chevrolet!

All you do is stop by your Chevrolet dealer's and ask for a preview. He'll show you a booklet containing advance information about the '58 Chevrolet! Here's just a hint of some of the things you can expect to see:

The 1958 Chevrolet will be decidedly lower and wider — and much, much longer. It will be built around a new principle in body-frame design.

It will offer an entirely new V8 engine, so radical that it even looks different. You can be sure it goes differently, too!

The new Chevrolet will have amazing advances in comfort and ride, including Full Coil suspension and, for the first time in the Chevrolet field, the incredible softness of a real air ride.

There will be fabulous style touches; for example, an all-new gull-wing effect in the wrap-back of the rear fenders. The line will also offer two new super models of exceptional luxury, beauty and distinction.

These few highlights are the merest clues to what's new with the new Chevrolet. Stop in at your Chevrolet dealer's and take a peek. You can also place your order for an early delivery. If you do, you'll be a '58 Chevrolet-Firster!

Might Mean the End of Life on Earth

Why the Planet Mars Looks 'Red'

(Mars have been dubbed the "Red" planet — not for political reasons — but for the rust-like color which scientists have observed through powerful telescopes. In the following article, last of two, a distinguished scientist explains the reason for Mars being "red" and tells what it may mean for the earth.)

By DR. ROBERT S. RICHARDSON

When we think of the end of the world we usually think of it as coming by some sudden catastrophe: collision with another body in space; the explosion of the sun; or giant tides raised by a close brush with a passing star.

But it need not come this way at all. On the contrary, the end to life on earth might come so slowly that we never realized it was happening to us at all. The process may be going on even now right under our very eyes.

IDENTIFIES MATERIAL

One of the many interesting results that came out of the International Mars Conference at Flagstaff, Arizona, last June was the announcement by Dr. Audouin Dollfus, of the Meudon Observatory, Paris, that he had succeeded in identifying the material composing the reddish brown deserts of Mars.

The mineral is called limonite, a form of iron oxide that is quite abundant upon the earth. Iron oxide is simply a chemical combination of the elements iron and oxygen to form what we generally designate as "rust."

Dr. Dollfus was able to identify the presence of limonite on Mars through certain peculiarities in the light reflected from the planet. He compared these pecularities with the light reflected from various minerals, and found that limonite was the only one that matched the light from Mars. The two matched so closely that identification was about as positive as anything of this kind can be.

SOUNDS INNOCENT

Now all this sounds innocent enough. How can there be anything sinister for us in the discovery of extensive deposits of limonite on Mars?

There is nothing sinister about it at all until we consider the results in connection with certain other facts known about Mars. Our most sensitive tests have failed to reveal the presence of oxygen in the atmosphere of Mars.

We cannot say positively that there is no oxygen in the atmosphere of Mars, but the quantity must be so small that it can scarcely amount to more than a trace. Certainly there is not enough oxygen in the Martian atmosphere to support life.

A man exposed in the open on Mars would die in a matter of seconds. For the air probably consists only of inert gases such as nitrogen and argon, elements that are non-poisonous but which will not support life.

Assuming that Mars once had oxygen in its atmosphere, what has happened to it? There are various possibilities. The oxygen might have gradually escaped from the upper atmosphere into outer space. Another possibility depends upon the great chemical affinity of oxygen for other elements.

Oxygen is always attacking other elements and usually succeeding unless special precautions are taken to prevent it. Iron and other elements in minerals left exposed to the air will generally undergo oxidation if there is moisture present.

The important thing to notice about oxidation in nature is that once it has occured the process cannot be reversed. That is, once a nail has crumbled to rust there is no easy way to change the rust back to iron and oxygen again. Because metals are expensive we go to considerable effort to protect them from the ravages of the air.

But no one worries about the oxygen that is lost in the process. There is plenty of oxygen in the air. It is all around us. "As free as the air" is a common expression. There is no need to worry — now.

But consider the possible consequences millions of years hence. If we continue to lose oxygen to the soil at approximately our present rate there can be but one result: death from suffocation must surely overtake the human race from lack of oxygen.

Limonite is an oxide of iron. We know from the polar caps that there is water on Mars so that rusting could occur. Most of the surface is reddish brown, the color of minerals that have undergone extensive oxidation. That is why Mars is called the red planet.

No wonder scientists have searched in vain for oxygen on Mars. The trouble is they are millions of years too late. If our assumptions are correct the oxygen must have become locked in the soil — fossilized — ages ago. But evidence of its presence still remains — in the fiery red color of the planet itself.

Oxidation is going on continually all around us: in crumbling rocks, rotting wood and decaying organisms. And so life on earth might end in a form of creeping death that comes so stealthily we would never be able to recognize it.

News of Service Personnel

Pfc. Larry D. Spencer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lynn F. Spencer of Oxford, recently received an athletic jacket from Maj. Gen. Arthur F. Binney, Commanding General of the 1st Marine Aircraft Wing for being a member of the softball team that won the Wing tournament.

The tournament was held at the U.S. Naval Air Station, Iwakuni, Japan, and ended Sept. 22. Before enlisting in August of 1956, Spencer attended Oxford High School.

SPENCER

LONG

Pvt. Lawrence V. Long, son of Mrs. Anna Long of 309 Fisher, has recently been assigned to the 3rd Infantry Division, Fort Benning, Ga.

He will take his military training there and accompany the "Marne" Division to Germany next spring.

The Pentomic Marne Division is a new type of Army combat force designed to fight and survive on the atomic battlefield. It will assume NATO defense responsibilities in the American zone of Germany. It is also one of the most decorated divisions in the U.S. Army.

After 10 months in Iwakuni, Japan, Marine Sgt. Richard "Bucky" Pointer was home recently on a 30-day furlough visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Orlin Trammell, 199 Wall St.

Pointer attended Pontiac High School and entered the Marines in March 1954. He took his training at Paris Island, S.C.

Pointer recently re-enlisted for two more years and is stationed again at Iwakuni.

Anyone wishing to write him may obtain his address from his parents.

KINDIG

Pfc. Thomas Kindig, son of Mrs. Blanche Kindig, 2469 Pontiac Dr., Sylvan Lake, is now stationed at Camp Pendleton, Ore., with the Heavy Artillery.

Previously, he was stationed at San Diego where he was a squad leader. Kindig attended West Bloomfield High School.

GIVENS

TUCK

Both Pfc. John R. Givens, son of Mrs. Albert Harrelson, 350 South Anderson St., and Pfc. Richard C. Tuck, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Tuck of Birmingham, have recently completed their recruit training at the Marine Corps Recruit Depot, San Diego, Calif.

The course included instruction in all basic military subjects and the use of all basic infantry weapons.

Word has been received that Richard M. Kinney, son of Mr. and Mrs. Mark W. Kinney of 1220 Mt. Clemens St., has recently returned to the USS Pickaway at San Diego. His bride, the former Darlene A. Cahoon, accompanied him.

Kinney served for two years during the Korean War aboard the USS Dixie and has re-enlisted in the Navy. He is a graduate of Pontiac High School and was employed by Yellow Truck, Pontiac Coach, and Twist Drill.

Doctor Warns Shushing Baby Prods Wailing

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Trying to make baby shush for fear of disturbing the neighbors in the next apartment often backfires, an Oakland, Calif., pediatrician said here.

Dr. James L. Dennis said a baby often develops a "crying disease" because parents "put a niple in his mouth," everytime he stirs.

The baby cries in protest, Dennis said.

"The parents make him cry and create their own little Frankenstein."

Faubus and U. S. Further Apart

Governor Wires Ike to Release 1,800 Men Still on Duty

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — The split between Gov. Orval Faubus and the federal government over integration of Central High looked wider today, although conditions at the school itself were closer to normal.

Faubus yesterday:

1. Telegraphed President Eisenhower and Secretary of the Army Brucker a demand for immediate release of the 1,800 Arkansas National Guardsmen still on federal duty.

2. Announced he was seeking a Senate investigation of his accusation that the federal government was evading the Selective Service Act by keeping part of the state guard federalized.

The governor said he had taken back under his command about 8,500 guardsmen defederalized by the Army this week. Earlier, Faubus had declared he wanted all of the state troops returned and not just a portion.

Faubus said he decided to accept the defederalized guardsmen to protect their individual interests and to avoid giving the federal government "a chance to do something drastic to the guard."

The six Negro girls and three boys who attend Central High with about 2,000 white pupils were going to and from school without military protection.

Transparent Woman in Smithsonian Exhibit

WASHINGTON (AP) — A woman any man can see through immediately goes on display here next week.

But it's only a life-size, transparent model of a woman, in which the organs of the body glow as a recorded voice explains their function.

It's all part of the opening exhibit at the Smithsonian Institution's new hall of health.

Khrushchev's New Look

'Mr. Red' Gets Dapper

By STAN CARTER

ROME (AP) — The best-dressed man in the Communist world — Nikita Khruschev, who else — is getting a new suit that's continental at the hips and American where it meets the shoes.

Angelo Litrico, Sicilian proprietor of a Rome tailor shop, says he got the order for Mr. Communist's New Look while visiting Russia last month as a member of an Italian fashion delegation.

Litrico brought along an overcoat as a gift for the Soviet Communist party boss.

"He was so delighted with the gift that he asked me — through his private secretary — to make him two more coats and the suit," the 28-year-old tailor reported.

Litrico said he will charge Khrushchev the equivalent of $160 each for the overcoats and $136 for the suit.

He said the suit will be mostly Italian-style — quite a bit tighter than American suits and a whole lot tighter than the sacklike chemises the Russians turn out.

It will be double-breasted, a line that's making a comeback in America, and dark gray. One of the coats also will be grey, the other dark blue.

Khrushchev asked for cuffs on the pants, which Italian suits ordinarily don't have. And here's more New Look for the Soviet male — the bottoms of the trouser legs will be 10 inches in diameter. That's exactly what a pair of slacks purchased two months ago on Fifth Ave. measured.

The Italian style calls for 9 inches or less to put the feet through. Russian tailors favor bell bottoms measuring 12 inches or more.

Litrico said Khrushchev has broad shoulders, so there won't be much padding in the jacket. Brooks Brothers, take a bow.

Right Answers Will Win $800 in Pot-O-Gold

The money in Pot-O-Gold now stands at $800, but that's the trouble. All it does is stand. How about you fans working up a little circulation in the pot by sending us the right answers? That way the pot's emptied into your own pocket and more can be added so things don't get stale. Try the new puzzle below.

The new puzzle contains a series of squares which are alphabetically lettered and a corresponding list of sentences with two clue words. Each of the words is numbered. The object is to select the word which you think best fits the clue sentence. You then place the number of that word in the square which has the same letter as the clue sentence

In other words, you will read the clue labeled A and decide which of the two words makes the most sense in the puzzle square marked A.

Do the same with all other squares. Read all the clues carefully and be sure the right numbers are in the right squares.

Lancaster, Douglas Set to Team Up Once Again

By DOROTHY MANNERS
(For Louella Parsons)

HOLLYWOOD (INS)—Ever since Burt Lancaster and Kirk Douglas made a bankful of money for Hal Wallis in "Gun Fight at OK Corral," Burt has been looking for another good story to make with Kirk.

He's found it in "The Siege at Dancing Burg" and even before Kirk landed in New York after eight months in Europe, making two pictures, but had his okay on the script. With that title, need it be added that "Dancing Burg" is an outdoor opery about two men in love with a half-white, half-Indian girl.

The girl hasn't been selected, but Delbert Mann who directed "Marty," the movie that swept the academy awards for Hecht-Hill-Lancaster, will again occupy the director's chair.

From Louella Parsons reporting from New York: "The long-awaited opening of my young friend Anna Maria Alberghetti in the Empire Room of the Waldorf Astoria was all she or any of us who love her could hope for.

"All New York is talking about the marriage of Bing Crosby and Kathy Grant. Remember a luncheon we went to last year which Kathy gave at Bing's house? The favors were tiny records of 'Love and Marriage,' and I thought it would surely be a marriage announcement.

"I've always liked Kathy and I came to admire her even more when she and Bing broke up and even though her heart was breaking she conducted herself with such dignity. Bing is a lucky boy and Kathy is a brilliant girl and a lovely, lovely person."

Hollywood in shorts: A newsome that may become a woosome, Susan Strasberg and Borden Stevenson (Adlai's son) at their favorite spot, Phil Ahn's Moongate.

With all his kidding about Bing's marriage ("I thought he was dating Grandma Moses," Variety quotes him) Bob Hope and Dolores sent the first wedding gift to the Crosbys.

The Ronald Reagans won't care if their second is another girl. "Ronnie just loves little girls," Nancy told me.

Dined at Romanoff's with Marion and Joe Fields and Joe's "Tunnel of Love" star from Broadway, Elizabeth Fraser, and Jimmy Van Heusen. Elizabeth will repeat her stage hit in Joe's movie which is Hollywood's gain. She's a delightful comedienne.

Later we went and got "insulted" by Don Rickles, the insult-expert at the Slate Brothers Club, the funniest nightclub entertainer ever to hit this town.

Dennis Crosby was there saying he was just as surprised as everyone else about his dads' marriage, "But I sure wish them every happiness."

Saw George Raft and told him I thought his book, "Out of My Past" will make a whale of a movie and I like the idea of Dean Martin playing George. "Don't sell him short as a dancer, either," said Raft. "Dean can hoof almost as well as he sings."

6-Month-Old Tot Dies After Starving

DETROIT (AP) — Six-month-old Latnoia Brown, who was found in a room where her dead parents lay for four days Friday died yesterday without regaining consciousness.

The child was taken to receiving Hospital after she and the bodies of her parents, James Brown, 22, and his wife Clara, 17, where found in the bedroom of their two-room apartment in downtown Detroit.

Latonia was suffering from malnutrition and dehydration. Doctors said she had been without food and water for the four days.

Dr. F. X. Krynicki, assistant medical examiner, at first tentatively attributed the Negro parent's death to food poisoning. Later, however, he said it might have been due to a flu-type ailment.

It was believed the two died late Monday night or early Tuesday morning.

A THEATER MANAGER'S LATE PREVIEW REPORT
This is an extraordinary picture. Its story, direction, production and acting all seem to me virtually flawless. It is not only an hilarious shipboard frolic, but a beautiful love story as well. Luxurious and worldly, tasteful and gay. It radiates a luminosity certain to excite the emotions. A good laugh — a gentle tear, they are the ingredients. I urge you not to miss it.
Sincerely

Exhausted Mom Adds 4 Girls to All-Boy Clan

ELGIN, N.D. (AP) — Mrs. Peter Meier, who gave birth to four daughters yesterday, says she has always wanted a girl since the first of four sons was born 10 years ago.

"I'm so happy, but awfully tired," said 32-year-old Mrs. Meier last night in an interview at Lorenzen Hospital.

The quads—Charlene, Marlene, Arlene and Jolene — are "doing well," according to Drs. R. Hankin and William Buckingham who assisted in their births.

"The first 24 to 48 hours are the critical period," Buckingham said. "If we can pull them through that far, they stand a good chance of surviving."

The girls, all sporting mops of dark hair, were being kept in incubators and were receiving oxygen and humidified air.

Mrs. Meier saw the babies shortly after their birth, but did not see them again during the day.

Did she want a girl?

"Did I!" she said. "I have wanted a girl since the first boy was born 10 years ago."

All the other Meier children are boys. They are Michael, 10, Milton, 8, Lawrence, 6, and Virgil, 3.

The family lives in a house small enough to cause somewhat of a problem when the new members move in. Mrs. Meier said the house has two rooms downstairs and two upstairs.

Where will they put the girls?

"Well, we haven't thought much about it yet," Mrs. Meier said, "but we'll find room for them someplace."

The first baby weighed 3 pounds, 1¼ ounces; the second 3-5½; the third 2-12½; and the fourth 3-2.

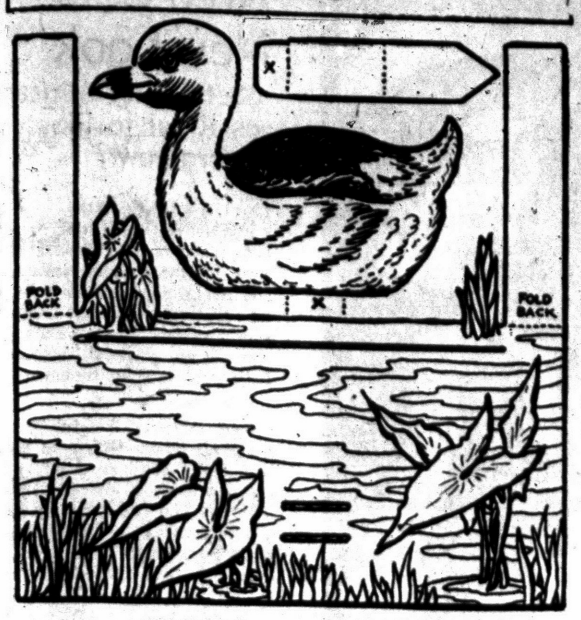
Junior Editors Quiz on BIRDS



QUESTION: What bird can sink like a submarine?

ANSWER: Lots of birds can swim under water but one of these, the grebe, has puzzled hunters and scientists alike. The piedbill grebe, shown here, might be mistaken at a distance for a little duck. But its bill is unlike a duck's bill and its feet instead of being webbed have wide lobes on each toe to help it swim. What puzzles hunters is the way a grebe will dive at the flash of a gun and thus often escape unharmed. What puzzles scientists is the way it will sink gradually into the water sometimes, just as a submarine is apt to submerge. Nobody knows how it makes its body less buoyant, little by little. On land the grebe, nicknamed the hell diver, is very awkward, but in water it swims extremely well.

FOR YOU TO DO: It isn't easy for most of you to see a grebe, so let's cut out a grebe that will sink. It's mostly brown, with a black marking across the bill that gives the bird its name. After coloring it, paste on cardboard. Cut out the grebe and the tab. Fold back the end supports. Cut out the dotted-line slits as indicated. Paste the tab behind the bird at point marked X. Slip the tab through the long slit and down through the short slits, and out the back. Now you can prop up the picture with the end of the tab and use the tab also to pull the grebe down into the water when danger threatens.

Save Arm of Youth Shot While Hunting

Doctors at Pontiac General Hospital today said they have saved the right arm of a Waterford Township boy, wounded by his father during a hunting accident near Marlette Saturday.

The boy, Gary Dexter, 10, of 1537 Eason Rd., was in good condition in Pontiac General Hospital after surgeons removed 41 shotgun pellets from his right arm and elbow.

A hospital source said that Gary will retain almost normal use of his arm. There were reports Saturday that the arm would have to be amputated.

The accident occurred as the father, Delbert Dexter, of the Eason road address, swung his shotgun around to fire at a rising pheasant. The boy, who was supposed to be standing behind him, Dexter said, had gotten into the line of fire without his father's knowledge.

Man Injured by Car as Driver Backs Up

An elderly pedestrian was hit by a car while crossing Auburn Ave. near Shirley Ave., at 6 p.m. Saturday.

The driver, Richard D. Ludwig, 19, of 141 W. Pike St., told Pontiac Police, he was backing up and did not see Clark Canfield, 74, of 71 S. Shirley, who had just left his own car.

Canfield was admitted to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital with a fractured left wrist. His condition is reported satisfactory today.

CAROL LANE

Travel Expert to Tell How to Pack, Budget

"Travel Profits By the Carload" will be the theme of Carol Lane, American authority on automobile travel, when she speaks to the 112 Oakland County Home Demonstration groups tomorrow at the Waterford Community Activities Building, Williams Lake road.

Miss Lane, women's travel director of Shell Oil Company, will use visual aids to demonstrate how to pack, what to wear, how to travel easily with children, how to find suitable restaurants and accommodations and the art of vacation budgeting.

The program begins at 1 p.m. according to Mrs. William J. Tiberg, chairman. More than 1,900 women throughout the county have been invited to attend the program.

State Senator L. Harvey Lodge will attend the meeting and speak to the area women on Michigan state government. He will award ribbons to the county extension groups throughout the county who displayed the best window exhibit in county store windows earlier this month. The awards, presented at 2 p.m., will be followed by the tea at 2:30 p.m.

U. of M. Band Unhurt in Train Derailing

ANN ARBOR (AP) — The University of Michigan's marching band, en route from Minneapolis where it played for the Michigan-Minnesota football game Saturday, was delayed 2½ hours yesterday when four train cars were derailed in Chicago.

The train carrying the 200-piece group was coming into a Chicago depot when a rail split, sending the cars lurching from the tracks. Nobody was injured.

The band completed its trip back to Ann Arbor after boarding another train.

Hoffa Denies Report of Step-Down Plans

DETROIT (INS) — Teamster Union president-elect James R. Hoffa flatly denied today he might step aside as president until court cases against him are completed.

Rumors had it that Hoffa would offer a trusteeship of Einar O. Mohn, administrative vice president, John F. English, Teamster secretary-treasurer and a third high ranking officer.

Hoffa said:

"It's not true. I have never discussed such a plan or even thought of it. I wouldn't have the authority. How could I even think of such a thing with the court cases pending?"

Hoffa is awaiting trial on a wire tap charge and also on charges his testimony before a New York Grand Jury was perjured.

Capitol Hill Area Gets New Look

Section Reclaimed as Rival to Flossy Georgetown

By JANE EADS

WASHINGTON—If the original planners of Washington could see the feverish building and renovating boom on Capitol Hill they'd rub their hands with pleasure. The area they planned as a model residential section is being reclaimed.

★ ★ ★ ★

Construction of the new Senate and House Office Buildings and the proposed billion-dollar southwest development approved by Congress have given impetus to the face-lifting evident to the Capitol area, once the most fashionable in the city.

'THE' ADDRESS

Until recently, historic Georgetown was THE address sought by the government bigwigs and chic hostesses.

During the New Deal and World War II years, realtors made hay "doing-over" every shanty and cold-water walk-up in the area.

Capitol Hill, "wide open" for the past 10 years, currently is doing a landslide business.

Barbara Held, socially prominent daughter of a retired minister, and Roxanna Doran, widow of a former government official — both of whom used to deal in Georgetown real estate exclusively—have moved to the Hill.

IT'S SOPHISTICATED

"Georgetown," say Mrs. Held, "is overworked, oversold, over-priced and overglamorized. The list of famous Hill dwellers is a challenge to Georgetownites. Where Georgetown is considered quaint, the Hill is sophisticated."

Mrs. Held, who sold 10 Hill houses in one recent month, says "you have to sell houses by the gross to make a profit comparable to the sale of one house in Georgetown."

"Lots of members of Congress are interested in living here as cheaply as possible," explains Mrs. Held.

"This is understandable because they have to maintain a home or a rented residence back in their districts."

GEORGETOWN DEAL

When legislators say "the sky's the limit," she begins to think in terms of a Georgetown deal. Down there a $50,000 sale with $10,000 down is usual, she says.

"But the little lawmaker from the Midwest offers $500 down, a good payment for the Middlewest, with the top price not to exceed $18,000."

MR. and MRS. MICHAEL FERGUSON

Mildred Schwartz Says Vows in St. Michael Rite

White chrysanthemums and gladioli banked the altar of St. Michael Church for the Saturday wedding of Mildred Marie Schwartz and Michael Duane Ferguson. The Rev. William Immel solemnized the 11 a.m. Nuptial High Mass in the presence of 200 guests.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Schwartz of Clarence street, and parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Ferguson of Clarkston.

GOWNED IN SATIN

For her wedding Mildred chose a floor-length satin gown featuring long, tapered sleeves and an illusion yolk outlined by a folded collar encrusted with seed pearls. The bouffant skirt was accented by a panel of lace at the front.

Her fingertip veil was edged with lace and was secured to a satin skull cap trimmed with Alencon lace and seed pearls. She carried a white orchid and stephanotis on a white prayerbook tied with white streamers.

Serving as matron of honor was Mrs. Chalmer E. Calme of Drayton Plains, sister of the bride, wearing a gown of white embroidered Schiffli over cotillion blue, featuring an oval neckline and cummerbund of matching taffeta with a floating panel in back. She wore a braided crown with seed pearl trim and a circular veil trimmed with seed pearls. Her arm bouquet was composed of white roses and blue chrysanthemums.

Bridesmaids Shirley Brower and Mrs. John Gregor of Drayton Plains were gowned similarly in dresses of powder blue.

Flower girl Cathy Ann Calme, niece of the bride, wore a short dress of white embroidered nylon over cotillion blue with a square neckline, cap sleeves and a bouffant skirt featuring a cummerbund that tied in a large bow with streamers flowing to the hemline. Her headpiece was of white net petals trimmed with seed pearls and a short circular veil, and she carried a basket of pink rosebuds.

ATTEND BRIDEGROOM

The best man was Thomas McNievel of Clarkston. Ushers were Marvin Menzies and Joseph Rembach, with Garry Adams, cousin of the bridegroom, serving as ringbearer.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the Waterford CAI Building.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Schwartz wore a royal blue dress with white and black accessories and a corsage of yellow and white roses. Mrs. Ferguson also chose a royal blue dress with white and black accessories and a yellow and white rose corsage.

Before leaving on a trip to Washington, D.C., the bride changed to a gray flannel suit with red and white accessories and the orchid from her bridal bouquet.

The newlyweds will live on Auburn avenue.

Givenchy Introduces Egg Look

PARIS (INS) —The "Humpty-dumpty (egg) look" is one of the top fashion silhouettes for fall and winter.

Hubert de Givenchy, who dresses Audrey Hepburn and designed the clothes for the film "Bonjour Tristesse," made humpty - dumpty a la mode. Besides some extreme egg shapes on capes and coats, the new oval style is based on wearable and smart fashion details.

In his boutique Givenchy has a humpty - dumpty trench coat. It has no collar but a double - breasted fastening up to the high neckline. And, of course, it is worn without a belt.

Suits which have rounded shoulders, slouch backs and tapering skirts also provide the new oval silhouette.

For added roundness Givenchy shows some suits with ring scarves. One of black mink, hugging the shoulders and muffling the chin, is particularly smart with a gray tweed suit.

BOWL-TYPE HATS

Round, brimless bowl-shaped hats are also a step toward the humpty-dumpty look. One Givenchy hat of brown suede leather is shaped like a crash helmet and shown with the collarless trench coat.

Other means for this modish egg look are middies or overblouses ignoring the waist-line and string-drawn or gathered into hipbands. Tapering skirts for daytime and bloomer or hoop skirts for evening complete the fashionable roundness.

Use Maid's Name

If you know a friend's maid, greet her by name when she opens the door for you. Saying, "Good morning, Mary. Is Mrs. Smith in?" is gracious.

Bloom Returns to Knighthood

It's a new fad — youngsters in full sets of armor, like so many knights of old.

The fact that their breastplates, shields and helmets are made of lightweight, unbreakable plastic instead of clanging steel doesn't bother the small fry one bit as they brandish their blunt and harmless swords.

The fad provides a good opportunity to instill some knightly good habits. To be worn worthily, armor should be shining clean — and mothers can demonstrate how to suds it off, and then burnish it to a high shine with a dry cloth.

Mothers can also suggest how today's knights can qualify for the Order of the Bath — by following lusty play with a good soaping in the tub or under the shower!

The Rev. Kenneth Stephens Unveils New Building Model

By MARY ANGLEMIER

"Oklahoma," "Oh, What a Beautiful Morning," "Carolina Moon" and "Falling in Love" were some of the songs in the musical package presented in costume at the Fall Festival Dinner of St. Luke Methodist Church Friday in the Will Rogers School auditorium.

The 300 guests were heard softly singing the strains with the chorus.

PASTOR SPEAKS

After the group sang "Michigan, My Michigan," the Rev. Kenneth Stephens, pastor, spoke:

"Michigan, it's only one word but it says a great deal to us. It is a land of many realms and mansions.

"It is a land of sugar beets, fruit trees and abundance; the land of precision assembly lines; a land blessed with beautiful waters . . . in her churches and homes are the mansions of heaven."

In unveiling the model of the new church, he said, "We here at St. Luke's believe in home and church, worshiping God in both.

"We know our responsibility to our fellowman, country and God. Thus I present this model of a new and larger church. Work with us, pray with us, give with us and we shall build not only a structure with wood and mortar, but lives."

Joe Davis, lifelong friend of the Rev. Mr. Stephens, was toastmaster. He led group singing.

CENTURY ON TRIAL

"I believe the 20th Century is on trial for its life," said the Rev. Arthur Howard of the Fenton Methodist Church, guest speaker. "I Believe in the Church" was his subject.

In tracing the history of the church, he reminded his audience it was the church that kept the light burning down through the ages.

"Jesus said, 'I will build my church and the gates of evil shall not prevail against it,'" said the speaker.

"The church has the power to change civilization. Its message hasn't changed. What it needs is not just a beautiful building but people praying, 'Lord here am I, send me.'"

PRESENTING SKITS

Participating in the musical skits were Mrs. J. V. Davis, Mrs. Russell Poole, Jane Arnold, Sharon Warren, James V. Davis, Pat McCartney, Bill Garvey and Roy Brown.

Mrs. Rose Jorgenson, Mrs. Verba Feekart and Donald Tripp were soloists, with Phyllis Peters as piano accompanist.

The Rev. Gordon Lindsey of Five Points Community Church gave the invocation and the Rev. Mr. Stephens, the benediction.

The proposed new St. Luke Methodist Church, white frame with arched windows, will accommodate 350 in the nave with another 35 in the choir.

The chancel area features a center altar with access from all four sides. The lower level will provide church school classrooms, library, church offices, fellowship hall and a stage for dramatic presentations.

MEMBERS TO HELP

The structure will be 40 x 60 feet. The total construction cost is approximately $50,000, said the pastor. It is planned so that much of the interior finish work can be done by the congregation.

Upon completion of the new church, the present sanctuary will serve as a chapel.

Guest to Give Traveling Tips

Carol Lane will speak to 112 Oakland County home demonstration groups and friends Tuesday in the Waterford CAI Building. Her topic will be "Travel Profits by the Carload."

She will demonstrate how to pack, what to wear, how to travel easily with children, how to find suitable restaurants and accomodations, and the art of vacation budgeting.

State Sen. L. Harvey Lodge will present ribbons to the groups having the best exhibits in the store windows of Oakland County this week.

Triangle Hamper Conserves Space

For those who must conserve every inch of bathroom floor space because there's so little of it, a new type of washable hamper set is available. It's triangular in shape, fits neatly and unobtrusively into corners.

Hampers, needless to say, should always be kept immaculately clean, both outside and inside. A sponge wrung through hot soap or detergent suds will do the job. After rinsing, leave the hamper open until dry.

You'll Like Caps

Like all new fashions, those new hats take a bit of getting used to. However, once you start experimenting with the crusable cap in velvet or satin, You're certain to want one.

Represent Pontiac at Regional Parley

Taimee Surola, Mrs. Arnold Hillerman and Mrs. Richard Paschke represented Soroptimist International of Pontiac at the 48th conference of Midwestern Region of American Federation of Soroptimist Clubs. The conference was held in Chicago Oct. 25 through 27.

New Citizens Hold Halloween Party

New Citizens League of Pontiac held its annual Halloween party at Adah Shelly Library Saturday evening. Cartoon movies and pictures of previous Halloween parties were shown by Mrs. Julio Bernero.

Games were led by Rita Silvis. Refreshments were served from a table decorated in the Halloween motif.

Roberta Armstrong Wed in Christ Lutheran Rite

Roberta Jean Armstrong became the bride of Richard Norman Lundgren Saturday in Christ Lutheran Church.

She is the daughter of the Howard Armstrongs of Buick street, and he is the son of Mrs. John Lundgren of Moreland avenue and the late Mr. Lundgren.

GOWNED IN TAFFETA

For her wedding performed by the Rev. Arvid Anderson, the bride chose a gown of Italian taffeta in ballerina length. A wide Bertha collar of Alencon lace framed the V-neckline, and the long tapered sleeves ended in points at the wrists.

Her headpiece was a bandeau of lace and seed pearls, holding a chapel-length veil of silk illusion.

Mrs. Jack Lescoe of Detroit was matron of honor and Joanne McGinty, Daneen Anderson and Elaine Miller were bridesmaids. They wore blue velveteen dresses featuring Sabrina necklines. Their cummerbunds were of satin, and they carried bouquets of yellow and butterscotch crysanthemums.

CHOOSES BEIGE

For her daughter's wedding the bride's mother chose a beige brocaded satin sheath with a red rosebud corsage. Her accessories were brown and beige. Blue satin was the choice of the bridegroom's mother. Her corsage was of pink rosebuds.

Following a reception in the church parlors the new Mrs. Lundgren changed to a gray wool jersey two-piece suit with black accessories.

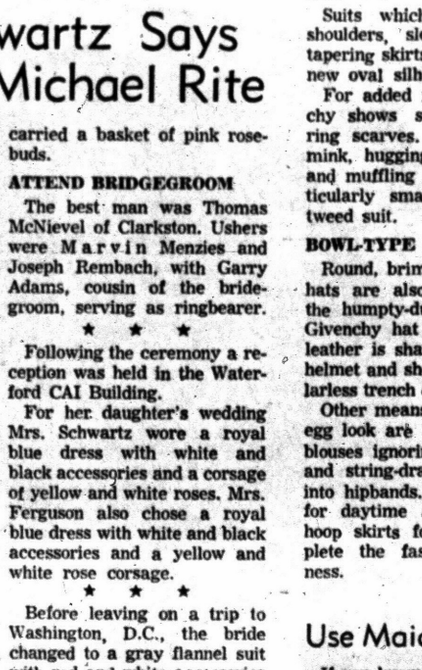
The couple left for a trip through the Smoky Mountains and upon returning will reside on Waldo avenue.

MRS. RICHARD N. LUNDGREN



Mr. and Mrs. William Alfred Shunck of Lotus Lake announce the engagement of their daughter, Sidonie Jeanne, to Bradley Campbell Reardon, son of the Kenneth N. Reardons of Pittsburgh, Pa. Both are seniors at Oberlin College. No wedding date has been set.

What are these women so excited about? Well, Malkim School's annual fair to be held Friday seems to be the reason. They have been preparing for it for many weeks now. Improve Beauty and Health the Easy Way

Exercising in Bed Appeals to Lazybones

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Human dynamos scare me! They seem so unnatural. I think the natural tendency is to let time flow over us and the chips fall where they may. It usually takes the lash of ambition, the sting of danger or the impact of love to get us into action.

Those who require no prodding from life in order to become go-getters must have some special gift which most of us lack.

I am not entirely sure whether this would be a blessing or a curse. Imagine living as though you had just been shot out of a rocket! You would have no time to smell the flowers like Ferdinand, or to find the laugh around the corner. But the majority of us do not have to worry about this. We are expert procrasinators.

How did I get way out here? I started to write about exercises you can take in bed before arising in the morning or before going to sleep at night. That reminded me of how lazy we all are.

Anyway, exercise is one of those things women are most likely to put off. This is true because those who have not tried exercise do not know what great improvement it can make in health and beauty.

It performs miracles for your figure, raises your level of energy and can banish such minor discomforts as stiff joints and creaking spine, constipation and nervous tension.

STRETCHING EXERCISES

If you are too lazy to do more vigorous exercises, or if there is some condition which makes them unwise, you can profit greatly from the habit of taking stretching exercises, plus a few more simple ones, before you get up in the morning or after you are in bed at night.

For instance when you awaken take hold of the headboard or the sides of your bed. Hold on while you stretch all the way to your toes. Relax and repeat several times.

Hold onto the headboard or sides again as you push your hips as far to the left as you can. Return to position. Push them as far out to the right as you can. Return to position. Continue, alternating left and right. Do this VERY slowly, feeling the pull.

Now let go of the bed and turn and twist and stretch in every direction until you feel that you have pulled every muscle in your body. Take time with this. Yawn while you do these stretches. Be LAZY.

Add two more. While on your back, bend both knees up close to your abdomen. Return the legs to the bed. Continue.

Even these few motions will be most beneficial and will send you off to your day or to sleep in a relaxed but toned-up mood and condition.

If you would like to have my leaflet "Setting Up in Bed," send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 27 to Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

MEN DISILLUSIONED BY BEAUTY ROUTINE

It is a well-known fact that although men appreciate the charming results of a beauty routine, they are puzzled and disillusioned by the sight of the product in the making.

We women are so accustomed to the sight of pincurls and curlers and greased-up faces and necks that we may fail to realize what a shock it is to the man in our life to see us looking our best one minute and almost unrecognizable the next.

If you do not believe this, all you have to do is to watch the expression on a man's face when he barges into a beauty salon to call for his wife and is unexpectedly faced with a dozen or more spectacles which only vaguely resemble the human race. Years of habit fail to dull the depressing influence of this experience on a man.

The masculine sex much prefers the finished product. It makes men more comfortable to feel that the beauty they see is natural and exists without effort.

They want to hold their picture of us at our best, but most of all, the machinations we go through are completely bewildering and upsetting to them. Intellectually they admire our efforts to be lovely, but just the same, they would rather not know about them.

OTHER QUALITIES

This sounds like superficial twaddle and it would be if you took it TOO seriously. Of course, a man who is capable of loving a woman will not be lost because he sees her sometimes when she does not look her best and sometimes when she even looks her worst. A man loves a woman for qualities which are much more potent than physical beauty.

However, let's face up to the fact that pincurls do not promote the romantic attitude in the opposite sex, and that it is asking a lot to expect a kiss when you are all greased up. Many women do impose on men in this way and it is very foolish of them to do so.

Let us also face the fact that the woman who cares about looking her best for the man in her life has a problem on her hands, especially if she has dry skin.

Here are a few suggestions to help you:

1. Cleanse your face and put lubricating cream or oil on your face and neck during the day. Leave it on for a few hours. You can usually work this into the average day. Then at night cleanse the face with cream but remove it all immediately. A dash of powder on your nose and a little pink lipstick then can be applied.

Just before going to sleep you can pat a bit of eye cream or oil about your eyes. This is not unattractive. There is also a milk emulsion which actually disappears into the skin and keeps the skin about the eyes soft and moist. You can use this at night and also under your makeup during the day.

CURL IN DAYTIME

2. You can roll up your hair during daytime hours. A woman is usually at home long enough for that.

The woman who works outside her home has a more difficult problem. If she has a good permanent and a beauty parlor appointment once a week, she will not have to roll her hair up at night.

If, for some reason, it is necessary, she can wear an attractive, colorful scarf about her head during the evening at home or while she sleeps.

Can of Soup Is Liquid in Meat Loaf

Mrs. Woodham's Trick With Onions Leaves Only Flavor

By JANET ODELL

A good moist meat loaf can always be the basis for a dinner. There's a certain trick to making one that isn't dry. Mrs. Richard Woodham used tomato soup for the moisture in hers and says it's fine.

A young homemaker (whom we remember from our teaching days at Washington), Mrs. Woodham has one school age daughter. She works outside her home part of the time. For leisure hours the Woodhams collect hi-fi records, dance and swim. Mrs. Woodham likes to read.

MEAT LOAF
By Mrs. Richard Woodham

1½ to 2 pounds ground beef
½ pound pork sausage
2 eggs
1 can condensed tomato soup
Salt and pepper
1 cup cracker crumbs
Green onions or onion slices

Save a little soup to spread on top of the meat loaf before baking. Mix all ingredients except onions. Place in pan and stick onions down into loaf. This adds the onion flavor but doesn't leave any half cooked bits of onion. Remove before serving. Bake at least an hour in a 350-degree oven. Serves 4-6.

Allemanders Gather for Square Dance

Allemander Square Dance Club members gathered at Isaac E. Crary School Saturday with Sam Joan as caller.

Guests were Mr. and Mrs. Harold Ott who came with the George Stouts. The next dance will be held Nov. 9.

DUV Members Attend Meeting

Five members from Francis C. Butterfield Tent 9, Daughters of Union Veterans, attended a recent meeting in Detroit's GAR Hall.

Elected president at the meeting was Mrs. William Vandruska. Mrs. William Paetow was named patriotic instructor and Mrs. Blanch O'Neil, first colorbearer. Mrs. Foster Baker was appointed counselor by Mrs. Vandruska.

It would take 1.9 million boxcars to carry the U. S. lumber production for one year.

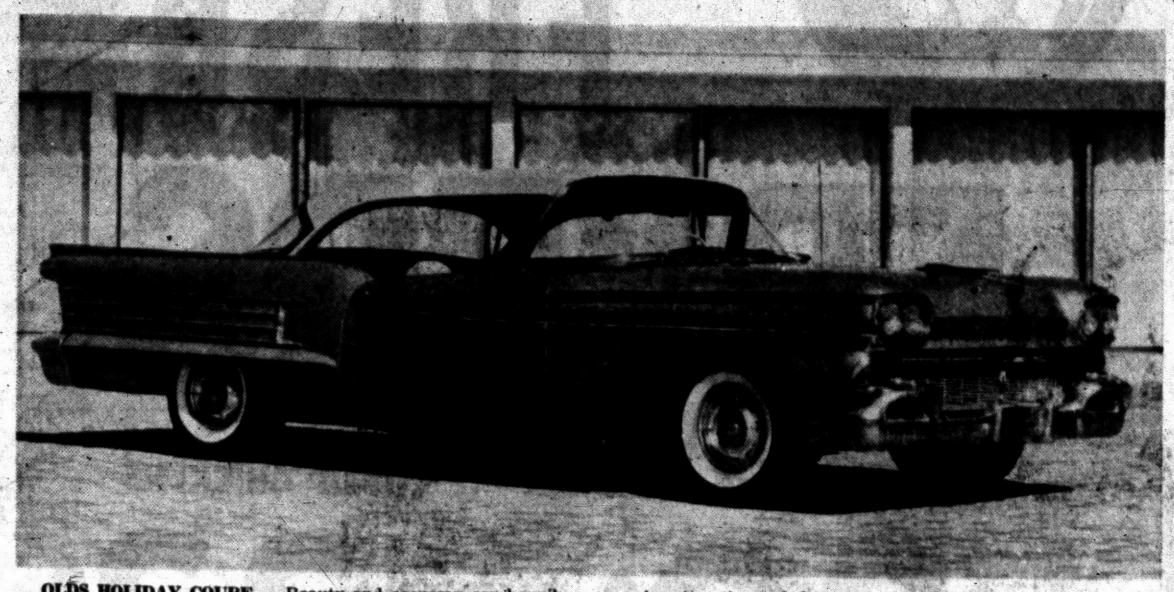
Olds, DeSoto, Mercury Reveal Cars for '58



OLDS HOLIDAY COUPE — Beauty and economy are happily matched in this 1958 Oldsmobile Dynamic "88" Holiday coupe. New "mobile-look" styling includes a completely redesigned body. New four-beam headlamps and a recess-type grille with narrow aluminum louvers lend distinction to the front end appearance. The redesigned rear end is set off by twin blades that extend down each rear fender crown.

An attractive upholstery combination of pattern nylon cloth and morocceen in a variety of colors is offered in the "88" Holiday coupe.

A new more economical Rocket engine with dual carburetion is standard equipment, while a quadri-jet Rocket or a J-2 three-carburetor Rocket are offered as optional at extra cost. New-Matic Ride, the true air suspension system, also is a desirable option.

New Styling Creates 'Mobile Look'

Olds for 1958 on Display Nov. 8

Oldsmobile's cars for 1958 will be on public display in dealer showrooms Nov. 8. Extensive styling changes mark the completely new cars, and in addition the division is introducing a new air suspension system, new Rocket engines and an improved automatic drive.

Styling has created what the division calls a new "mobile look." The new mobil look is expressed in the entirely re-designed body, new rear quarter panels, a new front end with recess-type grille and four-beam headlamps, one-piece rear window with greater glass area and new rear deck and roof. The decorative trim on the side panels accentuates the length, flowing lines and low silhouette of the new cars.

In its three series of cars for 1958 Oldsmobile offers three different Rocket engines.

The "88" series is powered with a dual carburetor equipped engine rated at 265 horsepower, designed for top economy. The super "88" and "98" series have 305 horsepower Rocket engines with quadri-jet engines.

Available on all series as optional equipment is the J-2 Rocket engine with three dual carburetors, generating 312 horsepower.

Sixteen body styles comprise the three Oldsmobile lines.

Two new accessories available this year are a portable radio that can be removed from the car when desired, and a safety speedometer which gives both a light and buzzer warning when a pre-set speed is being exceeded.

The all-transistor radio fits in the conventional compartment on the instrument panel when being used as a car radio. Both these accessories are optional at extra cost.

The new air suspension ride, also an optional feature, cushions the car on four chambers of compressed air, one at each wheel. The system eliminates completely any conventional leaf, coil or torsion-bar spring units with metal-to-metal contacts.

A new steering wheel is recessed to the steering column and has new rectangular horn buttons located in the spokes, replacing the horn ring. The new instrument cluster is readily visible through this wheel.

A safety-padded panel is standard on the "98" and super "88" series and optional on the "88" series.

Oldsmobile for 1958 is offering a wide variety of paints and trims in 22 different colors, 13 of which are brand new.

Among the 22 colors are six high luster paints which are available at extra cost.

FRONT END VIEW — Trim and tasteful front end of the 1958 Oldsmobile is revealed in this head-on view of an "88" Holiday coupe. The recess-type grille, composed of aluminum louvers, the graceful hood lines and the four-beam headlamps blend into a new concept of frontal appearance. A protective note is added by the substantial front bumper with new contour and parking lights integrated in the outer bumper guards. The decorative side trim merges with the four-beam headlamps in the front fender. The headlamps provide a 50 per cent increase in illumination on high beam and 25 per cent more light on low beam for improved night driving safety.

The 1958 Oldsmobiles will be on display beginning Nov. 8. Dealer in Pontiac is the Jerome Motor Sales, 280 S. Saginaw St.

Division Has 20 Models for 1958

Mercury's Park Lane Is New Series

With a big new Mercury series called the Park Lane, and major styling and engineering changes in its full line of cars, Mercury in 1958 will offer a total of 20 models in the medium price field.

The new Park Lane, with three models, is termed the biggest and most luxurious Mercury ever built.

It has a wheelbase of 125 inches and it is 220.2 inches long — nine inches longer than the 1957 Mercurys.

Four new Mercury Marauder overhead valve V-8 engines develop horsepower ranging from 312 to 400. These engines feature new engineering concepts such as water-jacketed intake manifold and combustion chambers in the engine block rather than in the cylinder head.

Full air cushion suspension is optional. This suspension uses air as a springing medium instead of steel, and maintains the height of the car at a constant level regardless of number of passengers.

Mercury's top engine, the Super Marauder, has 430 cubic inch displacement and three two barrel carburetors. The other Marauder engines have four barrel carburetors. The Marauder 360 has 360 horsepower and 430 cubic inch displacement.

Two other Marauder engines with 383 cubic inch displacement have 312 and 330 horsepower. Compression ratio on all engines is 10.5 to 1.

Mercury has developed self-adjusting brakes, with increased lining area, for all its 1958 cars. These brakes eliminate the need for manual adjustment and permit lowering of the brake pedal.

The new Park Lane series has three models. The Montclair series has six, including two Turnpike Cruisers; the Monterey series has five models and there are six station wagons, all with hardtop styling and back window that retracts into the tailgate.

An optional speed limit safety monitor rings a reminder bell when the driver exceeds the speed he has selected on its dash-mounted dial.

A vacuum operated fingertip control for all heating, defrosting, ventilating and air conditioning requirements is provided by Mercury's Climate-Dial—a single dial mounted on the instrument panel.

On the Park Lane it comes with the heater, and it is standard with air conditioning.

An extensive list of options to improve motoring pleasure is available, including power seat, power steering, power brakes, power lubrication, power windows and air conditioning.

Transistor radios are available.

FOUR-DOOR DeSOTO SEDAN — This is the four-door sedan Firedome DeSoto, one of 18 models in four series of cars offered by DeSoto for 1958. Major styling and mechanical changes, and two wholly new V-8 engines mark the new lines. They will be on display by dealers Nov. 1. Cars will be shown locally by Braid Motor Sales, 70 S. Cass Ave. DeSoto retains the high swept tail fins canted outward and terminating in a triad tail lamp cluster.

FOUR SERIES, 18 MODELS — DeSoto in 1958 offers 18 new models, in four series — Firesweep, Firedome, Fireflite and Adventurer. Paced by 15 major styling and engineering changes and two completely new V-8 Turboflash engines, they were designed to compete for "uncompromising style and engineering leaders in their price groups." Distinctive styling and a striking color sweep accentuates the three-tier taillight, hallmark of the DeSoto line. The new Turboflash engines combine exceptional power with low fuel consumption.

Adds Firesweep Convertible Model

De Soto Has Two New V-8 Engines

Fifteen major styling and mechanical changes and two wholly new V-8 engines mark DeSoto's 1958 series of passenger cars.

The new cars will go on dealer display Nov. 1. Added for 1958 is a convertible model in the Firesweep series, the lower priced line introduced last year.

Leading in engineering advances are a new "constant control" power steering installation; an economy fuel system, improved braking fluid, a so-called "sure grip" differential and improved torsion-aire suspension.

For the third year, DeSoto will also offer a convertible and a two-door hardtop Adventurer sports car, which will be available with fuel injection. Complete specifications of the Adventurer will be announced later.

New styling features include grille and bumper design, larger wrapover windshields standard on all convertibles and hardtops, dual head lamps, on all models; new color sweep treatment, wheel covers and rear bumper end guards.

DeSoto retains the high swept tail fins canted outward and terminating in a triad tail lamp cluster.

With the addition of the Firesweep model, four different convertibles are available in the DeSoto lineup: Adventurer, Fireflite, Firedome and Firesweep. Four-door sedans are offered in each of the three series, as well as two- and four-door Sportsman hardtops.

The Firesweep is built on a 122-inch wheelbase and the other lines have a 126-inch wheelbase.

The Firesweep and Fireflite lines offer the two-seat Shopper and the three-seat nine-passenger Explorer station wagons.

The new DeSoto Turboflash engines are compact, simple and rugged, requiring less space under the hood.

The Firesweep has a 280 horsepower, 350-cubic inch displacement engine. A single two-barrel carburetor is standard equipment.

A four-barrel carburetor, increasing horsepower to 295, is available.

A two-barrel carburetor is standard for the Firedome, giving it 295 horsepower, and a four-barrel carburetor is standard with the Fireflite, delivering 305 horsepower.

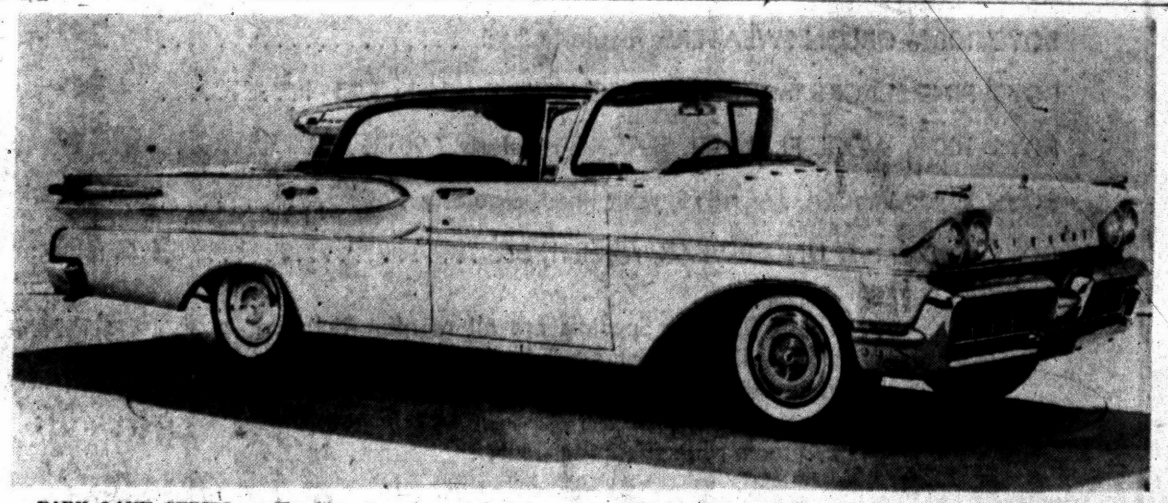
To provide pulling power at either or both the rear wheels at all times, a sure-grip differential is available as optional equipment. The new differential has been designed specifically to overcome mud, snow and ice conditions which cause rear wheel slippage and spinning.

The three-speed Torqueflite and the two-speed Powerflite "push-button" transmissions are again available.

The automatic "push-button" systems have proved themselves mechanically in two years of production.

Electric window lifts, factory undercoating, tinted glass, rear window defroster, six-way power seats, dual power-operated radio antennas, rear shelf radio speaker and a transistorized radio are available in 1958.

MERCURY MONTEREY — The clean classic beauty of the 1958 Mercury Monterey emphasizes the crisp roof line, the thin rear pillar and the fresh new styling of the rear quarter panel. Long, outrigger tail lights of cylindrical shape with bright-finish concentric rings give new meaning to the body side projectile. The Mercury line for 1958 has a total of 20 models. Newly developed engines with 383 and 430 cubic inch displacement and horsepower ranging from 312 to 400 are teamed with new automatic transmissions to provide unequalled performance in the medium price field. Pictured is the Mercury Monterey phaeton coupe.



PARK LANE SERIES — The biggest and most luxurious Mercury ever built — the new Park Lane series — was designed to appeal to buyers in the upper-medium price bracket. Striking styling features and big car size — 220.2 inches long and 125-inch wheelbase — distinguish the Park Lane. Mercury will offer 20 models for 1958. The Park Lane series includes a convertible, a phaeton coupe and a phaeton sedan, pictured here.

The cars will be shown here by Central Lincoln-Mercury Sales & Service, 40 W. Pike St.

Metropolitan Opera Opens 73rd Season

NEW YORK (AP)—The Metropolitan Opera will open its 73rd regular season tonight with a production of Tchaikovzky's "Eugene Onegin" in English.

A capacity audience of 3,846, including 230 standees, is assured.

The premium rates for the opening range from $500 for center boxes seating eight, to $35 for orchestra seats to $2.25 way yp top.

George London will appear in the title role. Other principals include Lucine Amara, Rosalind Elias, Martha Lipton, Richard Tucker and Giorgio Tozzi. Dimitri Mitropoulos will conduct.

Blacksmith Trade Dying

ABILENE, Tex. (AP) — The once thriving blacksmith business in this West Texas town may be a dying trade.

There's plenty of business, but says John Conklin, who owns the largest of three blacksmith shops in town, "You just can't get young men to go into 'smithing'."

Polish Reds Consider Tossing Out Rogues

WARSAW (AP)—Polish Communist leaders worked today on a plan to cut the party's membership in half by throwing out anti-party factions, opportunists and crooks.

First Secretary Wladyslaw Gomulka outlined the goal to a secret session of the party central committee scheduled to end today. His call to trim and harden the ruling party was published yesterday as committee discussion on it began.

Gomulka proposed to the committee Thursday that the present membership of about 1,300,000 be cut in half, eliminating crooks, rakes, speculators, drunkards, brawlers and others who are a "millstone around the party's neck."

Gomulka postponed the December party congress until spring, asserting that discussions leading up to the important meeting cannot be held in an atmosphere of doubt about building communism in Poland.

Birth Certificate Valuable Paper

One Man Lost $75,000 Inheritance Because He Didn't Have His

LANSING (AP) — Nobody doubts that you were born, but the where and when and "to whom" may be open to question.

Birth certificates for that reason are sometimes worth their weight in gold.

An Upper Peninsula man learned that lesson to his dismay recently when he was unable to claim a $75,000 inheritance, all because he couldn't furnish a birth certificate to prove his family relationship.

A Detroit woman was summoned to Germany last spring to be with her ailing son, who was stationed with the armed forces there. She was refused permission to leave the United States because she was unable to locate a birth certificate needed to qualify for a passport.

Most people, fortunately, are able to lay their hands on proof of birth with little trouble. Nearly all babies nowadays are born in hospitals, facilitating the recording of births.

State law also requires someone attending the birth, usually the doctor, to report it to a village, city or county clerk, who in turn passes a copy of the certificate to central files of the state health department. Last year, more than 200,000 births were recorded in this manner.

It was not always thus. Michigan lawmakers decreed in 1867 that all births be reported to state government. But until 1906 when the law was amended requiring the birth attendant to do the reporting only about 60 per cent of births were recorded.

The figure rose to 80 per cent by 1926 and now stands at about 99 per cent.

Anyone whose entry into the world wasn't recorded can apply to probate court for a delayed registration which has the same legal status as a regular certificate. Last year some 7,000 delayed certificates were filed with the state.

All are filed in a new two-level wing in the health department's administration building, which now houses 15 million vital records, including records of deaths and marriage, divorces and adoptions.

All the 3,600 square feet of storage space is fireproof and moisture-controlled to make certain that for decades, and even centuries to come, the records will still be there.

Satellite Will Fade From U. S. View Soon

WASHINGTON (AP)—An observatory which has been keeping close check on the Russian satellite says that soon neither Sputnik nor its carrier rocket will be visible in the United States.

The Smithsonian Astrophysical Observatory at Cambridge, Mass., said this will happen when the two objects began passing over the American continent in broad daylight or in darkness, rather than during twilight hours.

The observatory's calculations were made public here by the National Geographic Society.

After today, the observatory said, the rocket will not be visible anywhere over the United States for from 40 to 50 days. It said the satellite itself may be visible for a few days longer than the rocket, but only to trained watchers equipped with optical aids.

Convict Surrenders 7 Hostages on Mom's Advice

LAVA HOT SPRINGS, Idaho (AP) —A saint-or-sinner convict who spread a trail of terror across two states slept peacefully in a jail cell today after his mother, in a long-distance telephone call, convinced him to surrender.

Willard Arthur Brown, 23, gave up to police without resistance yesterday after told to do so by his mother, Mrs. Dorothy Wilczek, from Jamestown, N. Y.

But before giving up, Brown had held seven persons, including a woman and three children, as hostages. He had escaped from the Montana State Prison at Deer Lodge Saturday in a state car after getting outside on a ruse.

Mrs. Wilczek pictured her son by a former marriage as a gentle and lonesome man who escaped from prison so he could be with her. A man in a ranchhouse where Brown holed up called him a good boy and asked assurances from officers that Brown wouldn't be molested.

But a woman kidnaped at gunpoint by Brown said he raped her. And two Canadians abducted by Brown said he robbed them and threatened to kill them and swore he wouldn't be taken alive.

Brown's surrender at the isolated ranchhouse two miles west of this sulphur water spa ended a fullscale manhunt that centered in Idaho but involved officers in Utah, Montana and Wyoming.

Surrounded by police, Brown released three children whose ages ranged from 1 to 7 and then asked permission to call his mother. Police agreed. Mrs. Wilczek told Brown to give up and he said "Okay, mister, I'll do it for you."

Brown walked out into the light drizzle, put his 30-30 rifle down on the muddy ground, and surrendered.

He was taken 36 miles northwest to the Bannock County Jail in Pocatello, where police pondered today what charges should be filed, and where Brown, meanwhile, got his first sleep of a 26-hour period in which he:

Escaped from the Montana State Prison at Deer Lodge.

Stole at least four cars, the rifle, money and clothes.

Kidnaped a 23-year-old Montana mother of three, Mrs. Laura Shafford, and held her nine harrowing hours. She charges he raped her at gunpoint. Brown denies it.

Forced two Canadian hunters, Gordon Hunter, 21, and Fred Helsel, 20, both of Moosejaw, Sask., to drive him across eastern Idaho, robbed them, then bound them with a torn shirt and drove away. One of the Canadians said Brown told them as he left, "I should shoot you."

Later, fearing police were closing in, Brown holed up in the ranchhouse occupied by J. R. Maughan, 72, Bountiful, Utah, who was baby sitting with his three grandchildren while the parents attended church in Lava Hot Springs.

It was here that police found him, permitted the phone call to be made, then accepted the surprise surrender. They had tear gas equipment on the way. Earlier, Mrs. Shafford had quoted him as saying, "tell the police I'm not going to come easy."

Maughan said Brown insisted on paying for lunch and for the telephone call to Jamestown. He said the convict turned meek even before talking to his mother, permitting the three children to leave, unharmed.

Brown was doing time for stealing a car and violating parole. He had been reported angry because his application for parole was turned down last week. The prison lists his address as Tonawanda, N. Y. He also served time in the Federal Reformatory in Chillicothe, Ohio.

October Chills Most of Nation

In Wide Areas Mercury Hovers Near Freezing; Snow in Cleveland

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A late October cool spell chilled most all sections of the country today.

Snow accompanied the colder air as it moved into the Northeastern part of the nation.

Temperatures were in the 30-40 degree range in wide areas of the country. Exceptions were most sections of Arizona, California and parts of Florida.

Chillier weather spread into the middle and lower Mississippi Valleys and eastward to the Atlantic Coast. Temperatures were mostly in the low 30s, and below freezing in some areas. It was a nippy 29 at Anniston, Ala.

Florida also cooled, with readings 10 degrees or more lower than 24 hours earlier.

Although skies cleared and most of the snow in the north central region melted, cool weather continued. There was a little warming, however, in parts of the Northern and Central Plains and in the upper Mississippi Valley iwth readings mostly in the 30s.

Snow flurries fell in the lower Great Lakes region and along the Eastern Seaboard from Maine to Virginia. Snowfall amounts were generally light in the Northeastern area but more than a foot of snow fell in the Cleveland area yesterday. Fairly heavy falls also were reported in parts of western New York and western Pennsylvania.

The only other wet spots were in the Northern and Central Rockies which reported generally light falls of rain and snow.

Snow flurries and showers were expected to continue during the day in the New England states southward to Virginia. Fair and cool was the forecast in the Southeast.

Mostly fair and warmer was the outlook in the Southern and Central Plains and eastward through the Ohio Valley.

Right-to-Work Laws to Be Pushed in State

WASHINGTON (AP) — Backers of anti-union shop legislation, encouraged by success this year in Indiana, now are planning stepped up campaigns in other industrialized midwestern states.

They said today activity aimed at right-to-work laws for Michigan, Ohio and Illinois will be accelerated during the next two years.

The national right to work committee has listed Michigan and Ohio among its big goals during the next two years. Less has been said about Illinois.

W. T. Harrison, the committee's executive secretary, said it has not been decided whether campaigns in the three heavily unionized states will be aimed at trying to push anti-union shop bills through the legislature or at bringing the issue to a public vote

Name 2 County Pie Contest Winners

W. Bloomfield Judging Scene

Michigan Apples Used in Pastry Race Staged by Oakland Kiwanis

WEST BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — Mrs. Everett Sherrick and Marilyn Matthews were declared winner of the Oakland County apple pie contest finals held Saturday at West Bloomfield Township.

The contest was sponsored by Kiwanis Clubs of Oakland County.

Mrs. Sherrick, of 4416 Pine Tree Road, Orchard Lake village, won the Senior Division for housewives. Miss Matthews, 43259 West 13 Mile Rd., Walled Lake took top honors in the Junior Division for junior and senior high school girls.

A highlight of the event was the naming of Sharon Dreyer as Kiwanis Apple Queen. She was officially crowned by State Senator Harvey Lodge.

The queen and the contest winners were congratulated by Sen. William Broomfield.

Both Mrs. Sherrick and Miss Matthews will receive a cash prize.

Miss Dreyer is scheduled to present the mayor of Detroit with a bushel of apples in a noontime ceremony at Hotel Statler in Detroit, according to John Finlayson, chairman of the contest.

Finlayson also revealed that Miss Dreyer may journey to Washington, D. C. to present a bushel of apples to President Eisenhower.

Romeo Man Expected Death 12 Years Ago

Does Plenty With 'Borrowed Time'

By LEE WINBORN
Romeo Correspondent

ROMEO — For a man who is living on borrowed time 60-year-old Royal A. Holt, retired mechanical engineer, makes the most of every second.

Twelve years ago, Holt's doctors told him he had only a few months to live. They advised him to close up shop and find a quiet, restful spot to spend his final days.

Holt already had a summer home three miles northwest of Romeo; so he, his wife and two daughters packed up and moved out from Detroit to the peaceful countryside.

But Holt isn't the type of man to sit around and wait for the end. He began raising Palamino horses, organized the Macomb County Sheriff's posse and directed the first Mothers' March on Polio in Romeo.

When the non-paying job of construction superintendent for the new Youth and Civic Center was created last March, the Building Authority began looking for a public-spirited individual with time to devote to the project. Holt was asked to take the job, and once he examined the plans and aims for the center, he readily agreed despite his physical limitations.

NEEDED MANY YEARS

"The center is a facility we have needed in this area for many years, so I was happy to devote my entire time to bring it to reality," Holt said.

Being a personal friend of architect Louis Rossetti, who designed the building free of charge, has made it possible for Holt to supervise every step from drawing board to today's near completion of the structure.

Like chief benefactor Walter F. Sheetz, who gave the building site, much of the materials and money, Holt likes to give generously in planning, supervising and actual labor.

Holt puts a healthier man to shame by spending 60-70 hours a week working on the project — oftentimes arriving early in the morning and then returning after supper at night. He attends to every detail, and is constantly coming up with a time or space saver of his own to add to the building's efficiency.

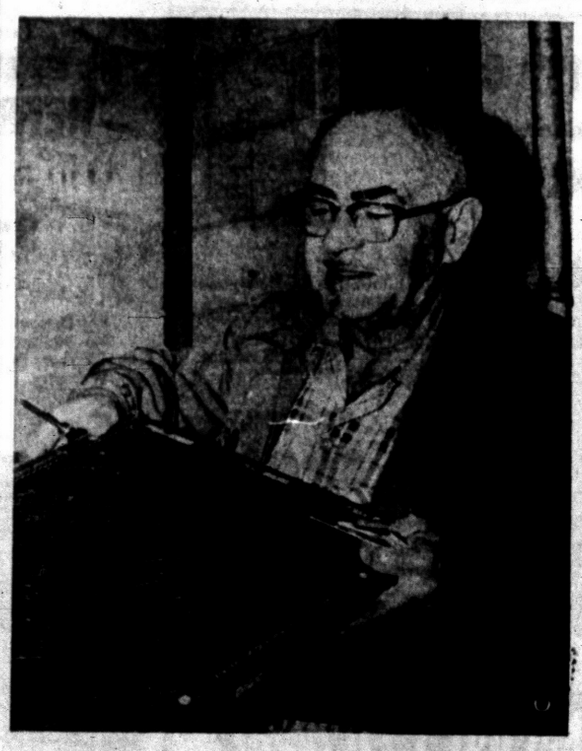
"We are most fortunate to have a man of such outstanding capabilities to direct the construction of this building," Authority Chairman H. O. Evans, Jr., said.

Holt attributes his success thus far to a combination of factors. He has been able to count on cooperation from former business associates in Detroit, personal friends and contacts made by the architect's office and the Authority. All have resulted in sizeable contributions of labor and material for the $100,000 structure.

WORD HIS BOND

These people all know Holt's "word is his bond" and his enthusiasm about the center is contagious.

Occasionally slowed down for a few minutes by a mild heart attack, this amazing man refuses to stay down. He takes a couple of pills, sits down to catch his breath and soon is back at work again. The attractive 60 x 100-foot building will stand as a monument to a man who "wouldn't say die" for many years to come.



Royal Oak YM Promised Funds for Addition in '58

ROYAL OAK — The building in the near future of a $200,000 addition to the YMCA at 1016 East Eleven Mile Rd. has been announced here by the Y's Committee of Management.

Ground will be broken about Dec. 1 for the two-story square building which will be 60 by 60 ft., and will be constructed on the east side of the present Y frame building. A corridor will connect the two buildings.

Money to construct the building has been allotted to the South Oakland Y by the Metropolitan Detroit Building fund. Completion date has been set for June, 1958.

Tomorrow Afternoon at Oxford

Discuss M24 Relocation

State Highway Department officials today expected little objection tomorrow to their plans for expansion and relocation of M24 from Lake Orion north to Lapeer County.

"We've discussed the route with many Orion and Oxford Township residents and almost all of them seem to be in favor of it," said a department spokesman.

The expansion of the state trunkline road will be the subject of a public hearing at 2 p.m. tomorrow in Oxford Veterans Hall on North Washington street.

The results of the hearing will figure in the final approval of the road by the federal government, which is contributing funds for its construction.

The highway spokesman said no date has been set on construction, but added that a new M24 has been given "some priority" in the state present five-year highway plan.

The construction under consideration is seven miles long. The highway from Pontiac north to Lake Orion has already been relocated and widened into a four-lane, divided road.

Tuesday Is Date of Annual Dinner by Farm Bureau

The East Orion Farm Bureau will be putting on its annual family-style farm dinner for the public on Tuesday night.

The dinner will be served at Goodison Town Hall. Serving will be continuous from 5 to 8 p.m.

The proceeds from the event will benefit the 4-H Club and various community projects of the group.

Avon Board Changes Dates of Meetings

ROCHESTER — Avon Township Board has set its November and December meeting dates for the first and third Wednesdays of the month.

The board, in its most recent meeting passed the recommendation of the township water board to raise tap-in fees on 50 and 60 foot streets, and that owners and not renters, be responsible for water bills.

Trustee Lyle Knapp reported that 1385 lineal feet of sidewalk would be needed from the village limits to Livernois Rd., and presented plans for the stretch. Work will begin soon, he said.

The group discussed posting the township against hunting. Several petitions favoering posting have been received, but more signatures would be needed. Petitions are available from the township clerk, they declared, until Dec. 15.

Grid Dinner Will Be Nov. 12 in North Branch

NORTH BRANCH — The annual football banquet, sponsored by the Mom's Athletic Club, will be held at American Legion Hall at 7 p.m. Tuesday, Nov. 12.

Gayle Smith Takes Vows

Wed in Brighton

Approximately 200 guests witnessed the 2 p.m. ceremony, Saturday, which united Gayle Nadine Smith and John Duane Oliver. Scene of the rite was the Federated Church of Brighton.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Smith of Waterford, and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Oliver of New Hudson are the bridegroom's parents.

For her wedding, the bride wore a floor length gown with chapel train. The Sabrina neckline blended into a white sequin and seed-pearl trimmed bodice. A matching tiara secured her fingertip veil, and she carried a cascade of white roses.

Maid of honor was Shirley Webb of Pontiac and bridesmaids were Shirley DeConinck of Waterford, JoAnn Smith, sister of the bride, Jane Oliver sister of the bridegroom, and Mrs. Roger Kellogg of Orchard Lake. Linda Campbell acted as flower girl.

Serving as best man was Fred Burt of Brighton. Ushers were Fred Campbell of Brighton, Duane Shear of New Hudson, Charles Francis of South Lyon and Roy Melchner of Big Rapids.

The 8 o'clock reception in Knights of Columbus Hall, Pontiac, was attended by 300 relatives and friends.

MRS. JOHN D. OLIVER

Upon returning from their honeymoon in Northern Michigan and Canada the couple will reside on Voorheis road, Pontiac.

CONSECRATION AT ST. PHILIP — Memorable occasion for the parish of St. Philip Episcopal Church, Rochester, was the recent consecration of the church and the burning of the mortgage. Senior Warden Ernest C. Simmons of the church met Bishop Richard D. Emerich, of the Episcopal Diocese of Michigan, outside the closed door, with accompanying clergy, and read the order to consecrate the church. Soon afterward Bishop Emerich and the Rev. Edgar A. Lucas, rector of St. Philip, burned the $40,000 mortgage in an indoor ceremony. A number of Rochester and Avon Township officials were present as well as visiting clergy from many churches of Oakland County.

ROCHESTER— Julian Parrish's Continental-Aires, variety singing artists who presented the first concert of the Rochester Civic Music Assn. Sunday afternoon in the student center of the new high school, delighted between four and five hundred members and their guests.

RAMPAGING LYON — St. Frederick fullback Jack Lyon ran for one of his team's 20 1st downs on this 2nd quarter play before being downed by an unidentified St. Benedict tackler. Lyon scored twice and was the game's leading ground gainer with 162 yards but the Rams dropped a 26-19 decision at Wisner Stadium. Shown in the background are Rams Frank Palopoli (32) and Bob Croasdell (50) and St. Benedict players Francis Arleth (70) and Al Philian (66).

49ers, Cleveland Top NFL Divisions

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The San Francisco 49ers, who do their winning in streaks, are at it early this year and, coupled with the flip-flop fortunes of their rivals, it might just be enough to give the Prospectors their first National Football League division title.

Victory No. 4 since an opening game loss was a comeback 21-17 cuffing of the Chicago "Who's Afraid of the Big Bad" Bears Sunday that enabled San Francisco to open up a full game Western Conference lead over Baltimore and Detroit.

The Colts and Lions, sharing the top spot with the 49ers at the start of play, cooperated nicely, Baltimore blowing a tidy lead for the second straight week to go down, 24-21 to Green Bay, and Detroit fell under a Los Angeles rout, 35-17.

Cleveland's revived Browns matched the Frisco story in the Eastern competition, spilling the Chicago Cardinals 17-7 and taking over sole possession of the lead as Washington bounced New York's defending champion Giants, 31-14.

Pittsburgh, pulling into a second place tie with New York, blanked Philadelphia 6-0 in the last of Sunday's six-game program.

The 49ers, behind 14-0 at the outset, touched off their winning rally after learning Tony Morabito, the club's co-owner, had suffered a fatal heart attack during the second period of the game at Kezar Stadium. A pair of key pass interceptions, climaxed by another clutch payoff touchdown pass by Y. A. Tittle, did it this time for the leaders.

Tackle Bill Herchman scored one San Francisco touchdown with a 54-yard runback of a pilfered Ed Brown pass and Dicky Moegle, with three interceptions for the day, set up the clincher with a 40-yard runback. Tittle passed the last 11 yards to Billy Wilson, sinking the Bears — division champs a year ago — to last place with a toothless 1-4 mark.

Fourth quarter nightmares plagued the Colts against Green Bay, just as they had for Baltimore against Detroit the previous week. Leading 14-0, the Colts fell behind 17-14, rallied in the last minute on a Johnny Unitas TD pass, then lost when the Packers' Babe Parilli and Bill Howton combined on a 75-yard scoring pass play with 29 seconds left.

Detroit Fans Cheer Lindsay

Hall Blanks Wings, 3-0

DETROIT (AP) — Former Red Wing stars, Ted Lindsay and Glenn Hall, tasted revenge last night, helping the Chicago Black Hawks administer a 3-0 drubbing of their ex-teammates in a National Hockey League contest at Olympia Stadium.

Lindsay and Hall faced the Red Wings as opponents for the first time since being sent to the Hawks in a controversial off-season trade a year ago. Hall's return was featured by 28 saves for a shutout while Lindsay, who drew more cheers than any Red Wing player, visited the penalty box three times.

Lindsay's name drew a tremendous ovation when his name was announced at the start of the contest while five of the six starting Red Wings received a vigorous round of boos from the crowd of 11,828, largest of the season.

The Black Hawks scored their first goal midway in the second period when Ron Murphy fired Elmer Vasko's liner into the net for his first tally of the season.

Nick Mickoski gave Chicago a 2-0 margin in the final period when he stick-handled away from Al Arbour and put a high 20-footer past Terry Sawchuck who made a total of 29 saves throughout the contest.

Glen Skov, another former Detroit star, added the final Hawks tally a few minutes later, climaxing a fast three-man pass play with a 10-foot back-handed shot to the net.

Pontiac Novice Weightlifter Wins in Flint

Rod Morill, Pontiac YMCA weightlifter, captured the 148 pound state novice championship Saturday night in Flint by totaling 540 pounds in three Olympic lifts.

Two other Pontiac lifters, Ker Howell and Vern Post took second place honors in the 148 and 198 pound class respectively.

Post was out-totaled by Fred Benson of Dearborn, 645 to 635 pounds. Howell was only ¾ pounds behind Morill.

Doug Hills totaled 610 pounds in the 181-pound class to finish fourth.

Air Game Traps Wolves 20-14

Midland Dumps Bay City

BAY CITY (AP) — Mix a staunch line with the speed and passing of Lee Roy Milner and the result is victory in one of Michigan's biggest high school football games of the year.

Milner scored one touchdown and passed for two, leading Midland to a 20-14 triumph over Bay City Saturday night.

The two teams were tied for the No. 1 position in the Associated Press poll of Class A high school football teams in Michigan last week.

Milner, a senior halfback, scored one touchdown on a 45-yard run, passed to Dan Ivan for a touchdown play that covered 63 yards, and passed 15 yards to Howard Mudd for a score.

Bay City got both its touchdowns on short plunges. Fullback Ken Carey bulled over from the five and Butch Kokaly scored from the one.

Cranes Lose on Grid, Tie in Soccer Games

Cranbrook traveled to Nichols school, at Buffalo, N. Y., Saturday and the Bloomfield Hills school ran into a frustrating experience at football and soccer. Cranes lost the grid contest, 27-20, when Nichols' Tom Webb rammed 13 yards for the winning TD in the final period. His run broke a 20-20 tie.

Stu Clark, Crane halfback, accounted for all his team's tallies. His TDs were all on long runs, one of 42 yards. Jack Fletcher booted two extra points. Bill Kritzer made two and John Krast the other Nichols' TD.

Neither Cranes nor Nichols could reach scoring territory in the morning soccer contest that wound up in a scoreless tie. Play was mostly in midfield.

Cranbrook now has a 1-1 mark in Interstate Football league play.

Rams Get Even With Detroit

FIRST DOWN FOR LIONS — End Jim Doran of the Detroit Lions takes a pass from quarterback Bobby Layne in the second period against the Los Angeles Rams for a first down on the 36-yard line yesterday. Moving in on the play is Jesse Whittenton (44) of the Rams. The Lions lost, 35-17.

Avenge Earlier Loss in 35-17 Home Triumph

Van Brocklin Sparks Victors; Reichow and Gedman Lion Scorers

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Detroit Lions found their hosts to be anything but hospitable yesterday when they bowed to the Los Angeles Rams, 35-17, in a bruising National Football League contest before 77,314 fans.

The victory avenged the Ram's loss to the Lions in Detroit two weeks ago while snapping a three-game losing streak.

The Rams, spearheaded by the goal-line plunges of Norm Van Brocklin, put on an impressive display of power, scoring touchdowns the first three times they got the ball.

Los Angeles took the opening kickoff in the first quarter and reached paydirt nine plays and 63 yards later with fullback Tank Younger smashing over from three yards out.

Detroit went no place, and the Rams scored TD No. 2 on a 51-yard march with Van Brocklin over from the one.

Van Brocklin did the same thing again next time his team took possession of the pigskin. His touchdown climaxed a 64-yard march.

Lions quarterback Bobby Layne finally got Detroit going in the 2nd quarter on an 80-yard push which used up 16 plays. Gene Gedman scored from the one.

Layne kicked a 12-yard field goal before the half ended, making the score 21-10 in favor of the Rams at intermission.

Detroit completed its scoring in the 2nd half when Tobin Rote, who alternated with Layne, hit Jerry Reichow with a 9-yard pass.

Van Brocklin took to the air, dropping a 14-yard throw into the arms of end Leon Clarke for the Ram's fourth touchdown.

Los Angeles tallied in the last two minutes on a freak play: Layne threw a pass that hit John Henry Johnson in the back. The ball bounced into the arms of Rams linebacker Dick Daugherty who ran it back 32 yards for the score.

Layne completed 17 out of 32 passes for 193 yards while Rote was successful with 6 out of 12 for 56 and a touchdown. Van Brocklin completed 10 of 14 for 103 yards and one touchdown.

Defeat marked the second of the season for the Lions, dropping them into a second-place tie with the Baltimore Colts in National Football League standings.

Detroit	0	10	7	0	—17
Rams	14	7	0	14	—35

Detroit scoring: Touchdowns — Gebmann (1, plunge); Reichow (9, pass from Rote.) Conversions: Layne 2. Field Goal —Layne (12.)

Los Angeles scoring: Touchdowns — Younger (3, run); Van Brocklin 2 (1 and 1); Clarke (14, pass from Van Brocklin); Daugherty (32, pass interception runback.) Conversions — Cothren, 5.

3 Haney Aides Fired

MILWAUKEE (AP)—In a sweeping housecleaning of its coaching ranks the Milwaukee Braves have fired three of Manager Fred Haney's aides, only 17 days after winning the world championship.

Dropped Saturday were Charley Root, Connie Ryan and Johnny Riddle. The only survivor was Bob Keely, 41, bullpen coach who has been with the Braves since 1946.

The management refused to comment on the shakeup, except to say the action was taken on a decision by Haney and General Manager John Quinn. There was no comment from the trio involved.

Whitlow Wyatt, late of the Philadelphia Phillies, was named to replace Root as pitching coach, and John Fitzpatrick will take over for Riddle at first base.

The club said Ryan's successor at third base will be named later, and that brought up the names of several baseball veterans considered as possibilities.

Among them is Charlie Dressen who resigned Friday as assistant to Calvin Griffith of the Washington Senators. Dressen said he had received three offers to return to the diamond, one of them in a post that would lead to a manager's job in several years.

Another is former Cardinal manager Eddie Stanky, an old favorite of Quinn's who may follow Manager Kirby Farrell and General Manager Hank Greenberg out at Cleveland. Quinn had tried to get Stanky earlier, but he had an agreement with Greenberg.

And there are several Braves minor league managers listed in the running. They are Ben Geraghty of Wichita, Kan.; Sibby Sisti of Austin, Texas, and Bob Coleman of Evansville, Ind.

Not since Dressen was dropped by Dodgers in 1953 after winning the National League pennant, but losing to the Yankees in the World Series, has any club made such thorough changes after taking the title. But in Dressen's case the coaches remained.

STRATEGY TALK — Coach Art Massucci of St. Benedict had some words of wisdom for his star Larry Gacki during a timeout yesterday as the visitors edged St. Fred here to stay unbeaten. Gacki, the leading area scorer, had two touchdowns and averaged 9.7 yards per carry.

Japanese Win Over U.S. Pair

Nakamura and Ono Outshoot Snead and Demaret 557-566

TOKYO (AP)—The man who runs the show today predicted the Canada Cup competition soon will become "The Olympics of Golf," the true test of international supremacy in the sport.

"Even the Russians will find it inexpedient to stay out—they'll have to come in," added Frank Pace Jr., former U. S. Secretary of the Army who is President of the International Golf Assn.

"The surprising victory of the Japanese here over the weekend is proof in itself that the game has become global. The day is past when Britain and the United States can feel their Ryder Cup and Walker Cup matches determine the championship among nations."

Little Torakichi Nakamura, 42-year-old teaching professional, out shot some of the greatest shotmakers in the game, including America's Sam Snead and Jimmy Demaret, to win the International Trophy Sunday. He had rounds of 68-68-67-71 over the par 72 Kasumigaseki Country Club for a 72-hole total of 274.

He and Manchurian-born Koichi Ono combined to win the team trophy by a nine-stroke margin over Snead and Demaret. The Japanese aggregate was 557 to 566 for the Americans.

Pace, who with the sponsoring newspaper, Yomiuri Shimbun, brought top pros of 30 nations across the world to compete against each other, said the day will come when the tournament will be supported by the golf associations of the various countries.

Oklahoma, Vols Use It

Quick Kick Helps Victory

NEW YORK (AP)—The quick kick, as little used these days as the victory mug at Marquette, was used, worked and helped tell the story in a pair of college football victories last weekend.

The most publicized of the two was the one booted on first down by Clendon Thomas that led to Oklahoma's first TD in the 14-13 Sooner squeeker over Colorado.

Thomas, later to score the TD that brought the Sooners from behind, got off a 67-yard boot in the first period, and the ball was touched by a Colorado player on the Buff 13. Guard Jerry Thompson fell on it and the champs had their edge.

The other quick boot, a 57-yard beauty by Tenessee's Obby Gordon, put Maryland on its own 16 in the first quarter. End Tommy Potts blocked a subsequent Terp punt for a safety and Tennessee rode that 2-0 lead until the fourth period before winning 16-0.

Titans a Yard Short of Win

Boston College Thwarts Detroit in Last Minute for 20-16 Victory

DETROIT (AP) — For the lack of one yard the University of Detroit took a 20-16 beating at the hands of the Boston College Eagles Saturday.

After watching a 9-0 halftime lead wither away under a third-quarter Boston College assault, the Titans rallied and drove to the Eagles' one in the final minutes and a half of play.

There, with a first down, the Titans tried line plunges by Al Korpak and Billy Russell. Neither could make it. On third down quarterback Lou Faoro leaped into the end zone but the play was called back by officials for backfield in motion. The penalty moved the Titans back to the Boston College six. From there Faoro threw two frantic passes in the last 35 seconds and both were batted down by Boston College defenders.

The loss was the second against three victories for the Titans this season. It was Boston College's fifth victory against one defeat.

Tony Morabito Is Dead at 47

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Tony Morabito, founder of the San Francisco 49ers who told doctors he wanted "to stay in football and take my chances," suffered a fatal heart attack yesterday watching his team.

The 47-year-old sportsman had been advised by physicians to abandon his interest in professional football when he suffered an attack in 1952.

He remained as the club's principal owner and sat in his box as usual as the 49ers went against the Chicago Bears. They trailed 14-7 near the end of the half when Tony slumped over. He died minutes later at Mary's Help Hospital.

The team, which learned at halftime of Morabito's attack, came back to beat the Bears 21-17 and take first place in the National Football League's Western Conference.

Lou Little Calls 'em

Perhaps it's about time to look around the country and, regardless of unbeaten records, see where some of the outstanding jobs are being done by determined squads and coaches.

Defeat is never pleasant, of course. But we should not forget that late-October records that include one or two defeats can reflect achievement at that.

And don't forget that not all of the notable accomplishments are in the so-called "major" colleges. The "talent scouts" of professional football know that. You'll find them scouting the small colleges often with as much attention as they give the big ones.

If you examine the pro team rosters you'll see they manage to spot in obscure places some great athletes few people ever heard of before.

You know today about the major unbeaten teams — for example how Oklahoma survived a close one, and the part the quick kick, and a blocked kick on a Colorado try for extra point, played in the narrow win.

You know that Dartmouth, Auburn, Texas A&M, Iowa, Notre Dame, Duke and North Carolina State—the latter pair by virtue of their tie—remain up there with the all-winning teams.

Oklahoma completed no passes against Colorado and the failure could be the reason why the Sooners could score only twice. When I saw them against Pitt, Oklahoma scored two touchdowns on forward passes, then helping to make their running stronger.

Even Oklahoma can't afford to lose that offensive balance.

Mississippi was the notable casualty of the week at the hands of an Arkansas team that has lost only once.

Mississippi joins a group that, though not unbeaten, includes many that must be ranked with the strongest in the country—Army, Navy, Michigan State, Princeton, Tennessee, Ohio State and Oregon among them. Ohio State will have much to say about the Big Ten title, as Michigan still may, now that Minnesota is out of the way.

North Branch Bops Ortonville, 20-12

North Branch handed Ortonville its second straight defeat Saturday night, 20-12, in South Central League play.

Paul Obelice scored on a 55-yard pass play and Mickniski added the point for North Branch in the second period. Ortonville made it 7-6 when Chuck Graves scored on a 25-yard pass play.

After a 70-yard run by Jerry Woidan, Bob Lockwood scored from the one in the third period. Ortonville made it 13-12 when Gilbert Whithey went 95 yards.

With 25 seconds to play Jerry Wordan went 15 yards and Mickniski added the final point.

Spartans Stay in Contention After Squeaker

Two Halfbacks Enable 19-14 Win Over Illini in Homecoming Game

EAST LANSING (AP) — Michigan State still is in the running in the Big 10 football race today thanks to two halfbacks that enabled the 19-14 defeat of Illinois.

The Spartans, with a 3-1 conference record, still are hanging in tight behind league-leading Ohio State and Iowa, hoping the two front runners will falter.

Martin built up an early two-touchdown lead. Kowalczyk rescued the game on a winning touchdown with the dramatic timing of a troupe of cavalry which routed Indiana earlier in the season.

It looked for a while Saturday as if history were repeating itself before Kowalczyk made his fourth-quarter touchdown.

State had a 13-0 lead at the half, just as last year at champaign when Illinois stormed back in the second half for a 20-13 decision.

There's a tradition about Illinois winning in the snow. And snow had just started falling on the homecoming crowd of 64,353 when the Illini came to life.

A fumble recovered on the MSU 27 set the stage for one Illinois score with quarterback Tom Haller carrying the last four yards. The other counter was on a 70-yard drive with halfback Bob Mitchell stepping off the last 15 yards.

Martin was already a hero to the homecoming crowd in the first half. His first touchdown was from two yards out and just in by inches. His second came on an 86-yard punt return, the longest Spartan run this season.

Martin took the kick on his 18 but circled back to the 14 for running room. He looked to be trapped midway up the field by three Illinois tacklers but refused to go down and squirted out of the confusion of grasping arms and into the clear again.

Martin also contributed 24 yards to the final MSU touchdown drive. Kowalczyk broke through the middle on a trap play and powered 36 yards for the score that gave the game a happy ending for the old grads in attendance.

"A close call," admitted coach Duffy Daugherty. "I thought that third quarter would never end."

Wayne State University football teams have played two seasons in which they held the opposition scoreless and have failed to score in a season only once.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Big Ten begins its separation process Saturday when Iowa's defending football champions tangle with Michigan at Ann Arbor in a race which has only four teams remaining in the struggle for the title and Rose Bowl bid.

Iowa, Michigan, Ohio State and Michigan State are still in the running for laurels although the Hawkeyes are ineligible for the New Year's day trip to Pasadena.

Iowa (3-0) slid past Northwestern (0-3) Saturday, 6-0 on a fluke pass play which went for a touchdown; Michigan (2-1) bowled over Minnesota (2-2), 24-7; Don Sutherin's third quarter field goal gave Ohio State (3-0) a 16-13 victory over Wisconsin (1-2) and Michigan State (2-1) rallied to whip Illinois (1-2), 19-14, on a 86-yard touchdown run by Walt Kowalczyk.

Indiana (0-3) scored its first victory of the season by defeating Villanova 14-7, and Purdue (1-2) swamped Miami of Ohio 37-6, in a pair of non-conference games. Elsewhere in the Midwest, Notre Dame kept its slate clean with a 13-7 decision over Pitt and Texas Christian racked Marquette 26-7.

Iowa has the task of whipping Michigan, Minnesota and Ohio State in succession if it wishes to keep the Bg Ten crown at Iowa City. Michigan last year pasted Iowa with its only loss and the Wolverines certainly looked the part of "conquering heroes" against Minnesota in regaining possession of the Little Brown Jug. The Iowa-Michigan game will be nationally televised (NBC 130 p.m. EST).

The fact that the Hawks play only six games will work in their favor if they go undefeated. One loss could boot them out of the running since Ohio State and Michigan play seven games.

Michigan already has suffered one loss and cannot afford another. Ohio State could lose one and still take the title since Michigan State also is saddled with one defeat and plays only six games.

The Spartans must whip Wisconsin and Minnesota and then hope the other three contenders all finish with two losses to win the title.

Illinois and Minnesota were relegated to also-ran roles Saturday since they both were beaten a second time. No team has gone to the Rose Bowl with two defeats and this season doesn't seem to be the exception.

While Iowa and Minnesota are matched in a struggle for survival Saturday, Michigan State will be at Wisconsin, Ohio State is host to Northwestern, Purdue is at Illinois and Indiana is at Minnesota.

In other midwest battles, Navy is at Notre Dame and College of Pacific invades Marquette.

Area Teams Qualified

Maples District Titlists

Birmingham's cross-country squad is the Farmington regional champions and five county area schools qualified for Saturday's state run.

Maples collected 44 points, RO Kimball 93, Redford Union 145, Pontiac 148, Hazel Park 183 and Walled Lake 191 to get into the state event. There were 125 runners who finished in the field of 19 Class A schools. First six schools qualified for the state test.

Berkley's Jerry Young was home first at 10:15.5, followed closely by Pontiac's Larry Beamer and Maples' Lee Tout (10:22.5). Others in the top 10 finishers were Tom Harris (RO Kimball), Frank Crowe (Hazel Park), Tony Monte (Plymouth), Mike Harris (RO Kimball) Dave Pew (Maples), Larry Fortner (Redford) and Dick Boyd (Maples). Next three were Birmingham boys, Bob Benson, Fraser Cocks and Jim Reilly. All, with addition of John Welker (E. Detroit) and Emory Gravelle (Redford) qualified for the state, independent of how their teams finished.

Other team finishers in order after the top six were, Plymouth, Mt. Clemens, Farmington, and Ferndale.

Qualifying schools in other Saturday regionals were:

Arthur Hill (1), Lansing East, Flint Central, Jackson, at Lansing; at Trenton, Edsel Ford (1), Dearborn, Wayne, Lincoln Park Wyandotte and Inkster. Richard Darby of Arthur Hill had the best time of the day, a fast 9:55.

Pistons Beaten Despite Yardley

Detroit Ace Bangs in 41 Points, but Warrior Five Wins 112-100

DETROIT (AP) — It seems that when a player scores 41 points in a basketball game his team should win.

But that's not always the case in the harem-scarem, shoot-'em-up National Basketball Assn.

The Detroit Pistons' George Yardley, an old hand at running up high individual scores, pumped in 41 points for the Pistons but it wasn't enough and they fell 112-110 to the Philadelphia Warriors here Saturday night.

Yardley's scoring set a team record for the Pistons, who moved this season to Detroit from Fort Wayne, Ind. He held the old record.

The loss was the second straight for the Pistons in the young NBA season.

In Neal Johnston and Paul Arizin, the Warriors had enough scoring punch to make up for Yardley's performance. Johnston scored 25 points and Arizin, the league's leading scorer last season, bucketed 23.

Falstaff Squad Win's National Pin Tournament

KANSAS CITY, Oct. 28 (AP)—Falstaff of St. Louis won the National Men's Elimination Bowling Tournament here early today with a 12-game score of 12,139.

The St. Louis team moved into a lead in the first round and never relinquished it.

The Reserve and Chuck Hamilton teams, both of Chicago, tied for second place at 11,913 when Paul Krumske of Reserve missed a 5-7 split in the final frame.

The two teams immediately began a three-game roll off to determine a second place winner in the tournament.

Wolverines Get Back 'Jug' in Decisive Win

Crucial Battle Looms With Iowa This Week at Ann Arbor

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Michigan has tradition and a puzzling jinx in its favor as it prepares for Saturday's crucial test with undefeated Iowa.

In recent years, Bennie Oosterbaan's teams often have become greatly improved as the season reached the midway mark.

This 1957 club was ineffective while winning its first two games with Southern California and Georgia. Then its was completely outplayed by Michigan State before coming alive in the final period to beat Northwestern. Now the Wolverines have jelled into a formidable unit.

Their 24-7 triumph over Minnesota last Saturday showed Michigan at its classiest. The Wolverines scored all their points in a near-perfect first half which they completely dominated.

So great was the Wolverines' mastery, they permitted but one first down to Minnesota while piling up 14 of their own. The Gophers could gain only 47 yards rushing and were shut out passing. Michigan, meanwhile, rolled to 157 yards on the ground and 109 in the air.

With the victory and the little brown jug safely tucked away, Michigan rested on its laurels in the second half. The Gophers, watching all hopes for a championship season slipping from their grasp, came back to score once and threaten often.

"It was easily our best game this season," said Oosterbaan. "The reason for Minnesota's upsurge in the second half wasn't due to a letdown on our part as much as their improvement."

One large factor in the victory was the successful defensing of quarterback Bobby Cox who ruined Michigan a year ago. "Our defense was greatly changed this time," Oosterbaan said. "But of course he hadn't been going well in his other games."

Cox rarely was able to run his option play beyond the line of scrimmage. Last year the same tactics ate up chunks of yardage. This time Cox was held to 15 yards rushing, 68 fewer than last season.

Oosterbaan now views Saturday's battle with Iowa as Michigan's make-or-break game of the season.

"It'll be another tough one," he said yesterday after an all-day skull session with his staff.

Philly Golfer Wins North-South Tourney

PINEHURST, N.C. (AP) — J. Wood Platt of Philadelphia, who lost in last year's finals of the North and South Seniors golf tournament, has won it this time.

He defeated James H. Ackerman of Princeton, N.J., 4 and 2, Saturday to win the championship of the 6th annual event for players aged 55 and up. Platt is 59 and Ackerman 61.

Platt took the lead on the 6th hole and never relinquished it.

41 Teams Still Are Unbeaten

New York Stops Canadiens, 4-1

Montreal Loses First as Henry and Lewicki Score Twice

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A triumverate of New York Rangers — Camille Henry, Danny Lewicki and Gump Worsley — handed Montreal's Canadiens their first defeat in National Hockey League play.

With Henry and Lewicki scoring two goals each and goalie Worsley turning aside 22 shots, the Rangers moved into second place last night with a 4-1 victory over the Canadiens. Montreal had won five, tied two.

In the only other game played Chicago goalie Glenn Hall shut out his former Detroit teammates, 3-0.

Early in the second period with the score tied 1-1 the Rangers' Henry, the smallest player on the ice at 150 pounds, notched his first goal of the game and the New Yorkers were never headed. Dick Moore tallied for Montreal.

St. Fred is Impressive in Defeat

Rams Fumble Away Chances in 26-19 Duel

Gacki's Two TDs Pace St. Benedict; Lyon Gets Pair for Losers

By CHUCK ABAIR

The offensive-minded St. Frederick Rams proved they could run and pass with the best of them yesterday giving unbeaten St. Benedict its closest scare of the season before bowing 26-19 at Wisner Stadium.

Two successive fumbles at the Raven two-yard line in the final seconds spoiled a gallant St. Fred bid for a tie following an 81-yard march in the interesting Suburban Catholic clash.

The game had a professional atmosphere with all the scoring, a total of 36 1st downs and not a single punt.

St. Frederick finished with a combined yards-gained edge of 356 to 345 led by the outstanding running of junior fullback Jack Lyon. He and St. Ben ace Larry Gacki put on a running show that will be long remembered by all who saw it.

Each scored a pair of TD's. Lyon had the top total rushing mark of 162 yards for 22 carries, a 7.4 average, while Gacki posted the best average of 9.7 by gaining 145 in 15 tries. Raven Bill Behrend added 129.

Both teams signified they were ready to pour it on by scoring the 1st time they got the ball. St. Fred drove 77 yards following the opening kickoff to gain a short-lived lead with only three minutes gone by.

Lyon went over from the three climaxing the march which he had paced with runs of 16 and 13. The victors went ahead to stay just 3:17 later when a 21-yard pass from Art Massucci to Gacki reached paydirt and Mark Storen kicked his 1st of two extra points.

A fumble recovery at the SF 38 started another St. Benedict surge in the 1st stanza. Al Philian took a 24-yard pass from Massucci for this one.

The visitors upped the count to 20-6 early in the 2nd period going 43 yards with Dan Donar cracking over from the one. But the Rams fought right back going to a score after the ensuing kickoff. Larry Derocher reached the end zone from the two and Dick Deschaine converted.

It took St. Benedict just four plays to go 62 yards for its final points, 54 by Gacki in two runs. He tallied from the 28.

The Ram line made its best showing of the day in the 3rd period stopping an enemy threat inches short of the goal line and then the Red and Black went the entire length of the field to score.

Quarterback Dick Kast, an all around standout all afternoon, engineered the excellent drive and hit on two passes. Lyons went in from the 15.

A fumble recovery by St. Fred on its own 17 with 6:30 remaining set up the dramatic finish.

Orchard Lake Bows, 21-6

St. Mike Wins, 13-7

★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★

The offense still left something to be desired, but a pair of 2nd quarter touchdowns and a staunch defense brought St. Michael a 13-7 win over St. Clement yesterday in a Suburban Catholic League football game at Center Line.

Scoring dashes by halfback Bob Mineweaser and fullback Jim Fox were enough to hand the Shamrocks their 2nd league victory in four starts and boost them into 4th place in the standings.

In other SCL games Sunday, St. Rita stayed at the head of the pack with a 21-6 triumph over Orchard Lake St. Mary and Ferndale St. James drubbed Royal Oak St. Mary, 31-6.

St. Mike spent most of the afternoon in Crusader territory, but muffed one scoring opportunity right after another. Three blocked punts by the Mikes kept the Crusaders bottled up in their own end for the bulk of the contest.

All of the point-making was confined to the 2nd period. The Shamrocks piled up a 13-0 advantage, then permitted St. Clement to hit pay dirt through the air just 10 seconds before the 1st half ended.

Mineweaser broke the scoring ice with a 15-yard slash off tackle in the early moments of the quarter.

Fox tallied the clincher with a 30-yard sweep around end after taking a pitchout from quarterback Mike Flynn. Mineweaser plunged over for the extra point.

The Crusaders struck swiftly for their touchdown to beat the clock. Quarterback Tom Daldine passed to fullback Bob Fortin for a TD play covering 50 yards.

St. Clement had only one other scoring chance. A blocked punt gave the Crusaders possession on the Mike 35, but the Shamrocks braced and stopped them right there.

Dennis Marcola sprinted 58 yards for a touchdown and Mike Young rambled 23 yards for another to spark St. Rita's conquest of Orchard Lake on the Hazel Park gridiron. It was the 5th straight SCL win for the Vikings and the Eaglets' 3rd loss in four tries.

Bill Tunnicliff tallied on runs of 95, 85 and 70 yards as the Dales routed the winless Irish at Royal Oak.

Shrine went down to its 4th straight defeat Saturday at Royal Oak. The Knights were trimmed by Detroit St. Theresa, 19-6.

Area Boys Help Dales Win

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

For a moment in the first quarter it looked like the Hillsdale Dales were off and running to their 31st consecutive football victory.

That was when they struck for a touchdown on a 53-yard pass play from quarterback Doug Maison to Walt Poe. Wayne O'Shaughnessy booted the extra point.

But Hope College came back with a touchdown on Jack Saber's 18 - yard pass to Mike Blough in the second quarter. The conversion attempt was wide. The score was 7-6.

Then the two teams battled without a score until the finish when O'Shaughnessy's kick stood as the factor that extended Hillsdale's victory streak, which is second in the nation only to Oklahoma's string.

The victory kept Hillsdale atop the MIAA standings. In other MIAA games over the weekend, Alma trimmed Olivet 24-0 and Kalamazoo beat Adrian 21-13. Albion smacked Michigan Tech 21-0 in a non-conference game.

Other scores involving Michigan teams: Louisville trounced Central Michigan 40-0, Wayne State rolled over Western Reserve 21-10 in a President's Conference game, Toledo defeated Western Michigan 27-16 in a Mid-America Conference contest, Eastern Michigan held its IIAC lead with a 21-7 triumph over Southern Illinois, Boston College tripped Detroit 20-16 and Grand Rapids JC walloped Ferris Institute 26-0.

Wayne State came up with two touchdowns in the fourth quarter to trim Western Reserve. The winning touchdowns were scored by Jim MacMillan on a 34-yard pass play from Ron Kowalczyk and on a two-yard plunge by John Hatcher.

Oxford and Millington Wage Scoreless Draw

Oxford and Millington high schools battled to a scoreless tie Saturday night in a South Central Conference football game at Millington. Oxford now has a 1-1-1 league record while Millington stands 0-1-1.

The Wildcats made their best scoring threat in the 3rd quarter when they drove to the Millington 10 yard line before losing the ball on downs. Millington had two drives stopped inside the Oxford 20 in the 4th period.

Court Clerk's Joke Falls Short of Amusing Wife

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M. (UP) — Federal Court Clerk William D. Bryars returned from his vacation to find his office walls covered with pin-up pictures and autographed notes like "Welcome back, Bill, we missed you."

Stealing a jump on the office pranksters, Bryars hid the pictures in a desk drawer and substituted a note supposedly from the janitor asking that no such pictures clutter the office walls.

He was enjoying the disappointment of his fellow workers when castastrophe struck.

In both the United States and Great Britain the top 10 per cent of the nations received 30 per cent of the nations' personal incomes before taxes, says the British Oxford University Institute of Statistics.

Soybeans Only Grain Gainer

CHICAGO (AP) — With the exception of soybeans, most board of trade commodities eased in quiet dealings today.

Soybean futures advanced on strength in soybean oils.

Wheat futures started steady, but soon turned downward as buying power disappeared. Exporters were reported buying July deliveries at the outset. Some spreading operations also were noted in the bread grain.

Corn eased on local selling based on an improvement in the weather. With dry weather prevailing over most of the corn belt, the trade looks for a quick pickup in harvesting operations.

Rye followed the action in wheat. Oats were off fractionally.

Near the end of the first hour, wheat was ¼ to 1 cent a bushel lower, Dec. $2.16¼; corn ⅜ to ¾ lower, Dec. $1.19⅝; oats unchanged to ⅜ lower, Dec. 67½; rye ⅜ to ¾ lower, Dec. $1.27¼; soybeans ½ to ¾ lower, Nov. $2.27½; lard was 5 to 12 cents a hundred pounds lower, Nov. $11.22.

Rezoning Topics Facing Board

Central Water Systems Slated for Discussion at Waterford

The rezoning of four different areas in Waterford Township from residential to commercial will be the main topic when the township board meets at 7:30 tonight.

The rezoning of property on the corner of Walton boulevard and Clintonville road, along with five lots in the Elizabeth Lake Estates on Cass-Elizabeth Lake road, will be discussed.

Four lots on Dixie Highway across from Our Lady of the Lakes Church and the Waterford Farms subdivision plus nine more lots on LaSalle street near Telegraph road are also scheduled for airing.

The township zoning board and the Oakland County Zoning Commission have approved the changes. The township board is not expected to take final action tonight, Supervisor Elmer Johnson said.

Two other problems loom as potential trouble for board members when representatives of the Holiday Farms subdivision on M59 near Airport road again submit their plat for approval.

The township wants the company to construct another road leading from the subdivision to M59 before full approval is given.

The controversial issue of establishing a policy that all new home developers install a central water system will be discussed between board members and representatives of Balmoral subdivision on Hatchery road near Crescent Lake road.

The developers originally presented a plat for 102 homes. Since the time that it was approved by the township board, the developers decided to build only 31 homes, and now claim they cannot afford a central water system for so few dwellings.

The Rainbow Lake subdivision plat on Airport road near Rural avenue will also be presented for approval.

Crash Hospitalizes Rochester Family

Mr. and Mrs. Ray H. Lawson of 144 Linwood St., Rochester, are in the Marlette Community Hospital following an accident which occurred eight miles east of Marlette at 1:30 p.m. yesterday.

A truck loaded with sugar beets turned left in front of them, and the Lawson car rolled over several times, reports indicated.

Mrs. Lawson has several fractured ribs, back injuries and facial cuts, and Lawson, who had several teeth knocked out and is suffering from shock, is under observation.

Their son Kent, 3, also is under observation. An infant son, David, is with his grandparents, whom the Lawsons had gone to visit.

The report came from Donald S. Baldwin, superintendent of Rochester community schools. Lawson teaches English and dramatics at Rochester High School.

Constitutional Expert Hits Use of Troops

LITTLE ROCK (INS) — Little Rock's first Negroes to be integrated into a previously all-white school begin their sixth week of classes today amid a new protest against the troops guarding them.

Alfred J. Schweppe, former dean of the University of Washington Law School, declared that the "use of federal troops in Little Rock was illegal."

Writing in the U.S. News and World Report, Schweppe said that a president's Constitutional responsibility to "take care that the laws be faithfully executed" refers only to acts of Congress—which school desegration or a federal court order to integrate Central High School are not.

Schweppe argued that "obviously a district-court decree cannot be held to a 'law of the United States.'"

He said the only "real test" of whether President Eisenhower exceeded his authority would be "an impeachment proceeding against him for calling out the troops without specific statutory authority to enforce a court decree."

This has been the position of Arkansas Gov. Orval Faubus.

3-Year-Old City Boy Hit by Auto, Bruised

Three-year-old John T. Little of 19 Clark St., was hit by a car and bruised Saturday at 2:45 p.m.

James L. Boyer, 34, of 48 Oak Hill St. told Pontiac Police he did not see the boy come out from between parked car.

John, son of Mr. and Mrs. John I. Little, was treated at Pontiac General Hospital and released.

Market Lower, but Few Gain

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market was mostly lower with a few issues showing fair gains in early trading today.

Most key issues fell fractions to around a point or more, but there was a scattering of gainers in about the same range.

After an active opening, turnover fell-off to a moderate pace.

Some sizable opening blocks in steels, aircrafts and other stocks showed losses of a point or so. But Ford rose one at 44 on an opener of 3,500 shares following the report of its excellent sales and earnings. It improved slightly in active dealings.

The influx of third-quarter earnings reports and other corporate news had varying effects on stocks. Chrysler was off around a point and General Motors a major fraction.

The steels were down on reports that producers were lowering their sights on production in the next two months. Bethlehem fell 1¼ at 39⅛ on 8,000 shares.

Despite a drastically lower earnings report over the weekend, Kennecott was up around a point while Anaconda and Phelps Dodge rose fractionally. Trade sources said there were signs of a pickup in copper demand.

Du Pont was up a point following the Justice Dept. proposal for distribution of its stock in General Motors over a 10-year period.

Study Committee to Eye Steere Offer

Special meeting of the newly appointed Steere Study Committee will be held at 7:30 p.m. today at the home of chairman Rev. Walter Teeuwissen, 4269 Monroe Ave., Waterford Township.

A group of township citizens was selected recently by Township Supervisor Elmer Johnson and Supt. of Schools William Shunck to study the offer made by Frank Steere of 17 acres in the heart of the township, for a cultural center.

The group will study the possibility of how to acquire funds and the possibility of building such a center.

Is Kremlin Switch Significant?

Zhukov Puzzles the World

By ED CREAGH

Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — Zhukovs may come and go. But the facts of the world situation go on. Maybe not forever, but at least long enough to make the replacement of a Soviet defense minister not much more than a ripple in a whirlpool.

It is tempting to speculate, of course.

Is Marshal Georgi Zhukov simply getting the bounce, or is he being kicked upstairs?

Is he, maybe, being groomed for the top job? Or for a special "be nice to America" assignment, in view of his onetime close association with President Eisenhower?

Or should he break out his wartime fur-lined boots and parka for a spell in Siberia?

The simple answer is that nobody in the West seems to know.

Some of the Communist newspapers in Europe say with an air of Moscow-fed authority that Zhukov is in line for an important new assignment. That could mean anything or nothing. Zhukov could wind up running Russia's whole show or—with a title befitting his war eminence — shuffling papers in an outer Kremlin office.

This wouldn't matter, outside of Russia, except as a possible tipoff to Russia's intentions toward the rest of the world in the months ahead. And there is no reason to believe those intentions have been changed by Zhukov's being relieved of his duties, as the Soviet government puts it, any more than U. S. foreign policy was affected by the voluntary retiretirement of Charles E. Wilson as secretary of defense.

The broad outlines of the immediate future should be plain to anybody who reads the newspapers:

1. Russia is stirring up trouble, maybe even a war, in the Middle East. The Russians feel full of beans over the success of their Sputnik and the progress of their long-range missile program. They may or may not be calmed down by the recently announced power of American missiles — which, chances are, would not yet have been announced if the Russians hadn't launched the first satellite.

2. On both sides of the Iron Curtain a defensive beefing-up is being attempted. Eisenhower confers with Britain's Prime Minister on ways to strengthen the Western Alliance. The President will go to Paris in December to lend his personal prestige to the buildup effort. China's Mao Tse-tung definitely is going to Moscow next month for a talk with the Kremlin brass. And all signs point to a rebirth of the Cominform, the old Red mutual aid association, or something very like it.

So, Zhukov or no Zhukov, the mushroom-shaped clouds gather.

Almost everybody — even, it sometimes appears, the men in the Kremlin—hopes they can be broken up. So far as the Middle East goes, the next two weeks may tell the story. The blowup which the Russians have been touting, and fomenting, is supposed to take place soon after yesterday's Turkish election. So far there seems no sign of actual warfare. But the United States, Britain and Turkey are set for maneuvers along the Turkish coast just in case.

Signs Say Freedom for GI Girard

MAESBASHI Japan (INS) — William Girard's manslaughter trial neared the end today and all signposts pointed to freedom for the Illinois soldier.

Observers who have watched the trial since it began Aug. 26 at Maebashi District Court predict that Girard will be given a suspended sentence by Presiding Judge Yuzo Kawachi.

One more hearing is scheduled for Oct. 31 and a verdict is expected by mid-November.

It is believed the Japanese judge will find Girard guilty under the charge "causing bodily injury resulting in death." But Kawachi declared in court he did not think the 22-year-old soldier intentionally shot Mrs. Kaka Sakai last Jan. 30 as she was scavenging shells on a U.S. firing range.

Kawachi's own statement, virtually absolving Girard of intent, points strongly to a suspended sentence.

If this is the outcome of the controversial Girard case, it will only be following a pattern that has been set in past Japanese trials of American soldiers.

Schools Told to Develop Capacity to Learn

Automation Can Change Skills Needed

CHICAGO (AP) — American high school educators were told today that automation of industry will call for less, not more, job training in their institutions.

Devereux C. Josephs, chairman of President Eisenhower's Committee on Education Beyond the High School, which submitted its final report Saturday, said in a prepared speech "The young will fill many jobs that do not now exist. They will invent the products that will need new skills.

"Why take precious time to train for proficiencies which may disappear or be modified? Many skills can be taught on the job.

Far more important in an increasing complex society, said Josephs, will be "to learn those things which will be useful to any surroundings, how to read critically . . . upon which can be built the capacity to learn new jobs."

Joseph board chairman of the New York Life Insurance Co. was on the opening program of the Conference on the American High School sponsored by the University of Chicago and the National Citizens Council for Better Schools.

The conference, drawing top educators from all parts of the nation, was called to grapple with a crisis that began to build up at the turn of the century.

At that time, only about eight per cent of American youth of high school age actually attended high school. From then on, spurred by numerous factors including the spread school attendance laws, high school enrollment mounted. Today over 80 per cent of high school-age youth are in school.

Mrs. Summerfield Wins Tax Case

DETROIT (INS) — The wife of Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield won a $183,895 tax award today by a decision of the U. S. Court of Appeals.

The money which Mrs. Miriam Summerfield paid in taxes in 1953 is to be returned to her with six per cent interest.

The tax suit originated when the Internal Revenue Department claimed that $400,000 which she received in 1948 as payment for her share of stock in the Summerfield Chevrolet Co., of Flint, should be taxed as regular income instead of capital gains.

Mrs. Summerfield sold her share in the auto dealership to the corporation which owned it, headed by her husband.

Highland Pair Injured in 3-Car Collision

A Highland couple is in Pontiac General Hospital today in fair condition after being injured in a three-car collision at Telegraph and Ward roads, in Bloomfield Township Sunday evening, according to township police.

George Mosher, 70, of 134 S. Center St., and his wife Dora, 55, each suffered concussions, according to a hospital spokesman. No one else was injured.

The drivers of the other two vehicles were Chauncey F. Smith, Jr., 19, of 2207 Greer Rd., Keego Harbor, and Herman L. Somers, of Detroit.

The original name of Detroit was "Fort Ponchartrain du Detroit." That was when the French held it in 1701.

The U. S. quartermasters corp is the world's largest buyer of textiles.

Ford Sales Hit All-Time Figure

Earnings Also Show 58 Per Cent Increase in Past 9 Months

DETROIT (AP) — All-time record sales and a 58 per cent increase in net earnings were reported for the first nine months of this year by the Ford Motor Co. yesterday.

Henry Ford II, president of the auto firm, said earnings for the first nine months of 1957 were $229,500,000 compared with earnings of $145,000,000 for the corresponding period last year.

Sales for the first three-quarters of 1957 totaled $4,419,200,000, the highest for any comparable period in the company's history, according to Ford. The total represented an increase of 37 per cent over the $3,233,300,000 in sales for the first nine months of 1956.

Earnings amounted to $4.22 per share in the first nine months of 1957, compared with $2.69 for the like period of last year.

Net income in this year's third quarter was $58,500,000, equal to $1.07 a share. This compared with $13,500,000 or 25 cents a share in the third quarter last year.

Ford attributed the increase in third-quarter income to a later changeover in the Ford and Mercury lines.

Turkey's Pro-West Chief Re-Elected Despite Crisis

By WEBB McKINLEY

ISTANBUL, Turkey (AP)—Adnan Menderes won a new term as Turkey's prime minister today while this pro-Western nation faced its gravest foreign crisis since World War II.

Official returns from yesterday's parliamentary election gave Menderes' Democrat party 397 seats in the National Assembly. The People's Republican party, led by former President Ismet Inonu, won 178 and the small Freedom and Nation parties four each.

Twenty-seven contests still were undecided.

The government did not release any nationwide voting figures, but it appeared the Democrats got slightly less than 50 per cent of the total vote of about 10 million.

When the fourth postwar Parliament convenes Nov. 1 Menderes will have a reduced but still firm majority in the 610-member Assembly. In the last elections, three years ago, the Democrats won 488 of 542 seats, although defections later cut the government total to 450.

The only effect the election was expected to have on the Turkish-Syrian border crisis was to give Turkish leaders more time to deal with it. Since the campaigning began, the Turks have paid little heed to the Syrian charges of Turkish plans to attack and Soviet threats to intervene if fighting broke out.

Turkey denied the charges and said troop reinforcements along the Syrian border were there on defensive maneuvers. Foreign journalists visiting the border area found the army in defensive positions placed well back of the actual demarcation line.

Campaigning politicians hardly mentioned the grave foreign crisis. Both major parties support Turkey's alliances with NATO and the Baghdad Pact.

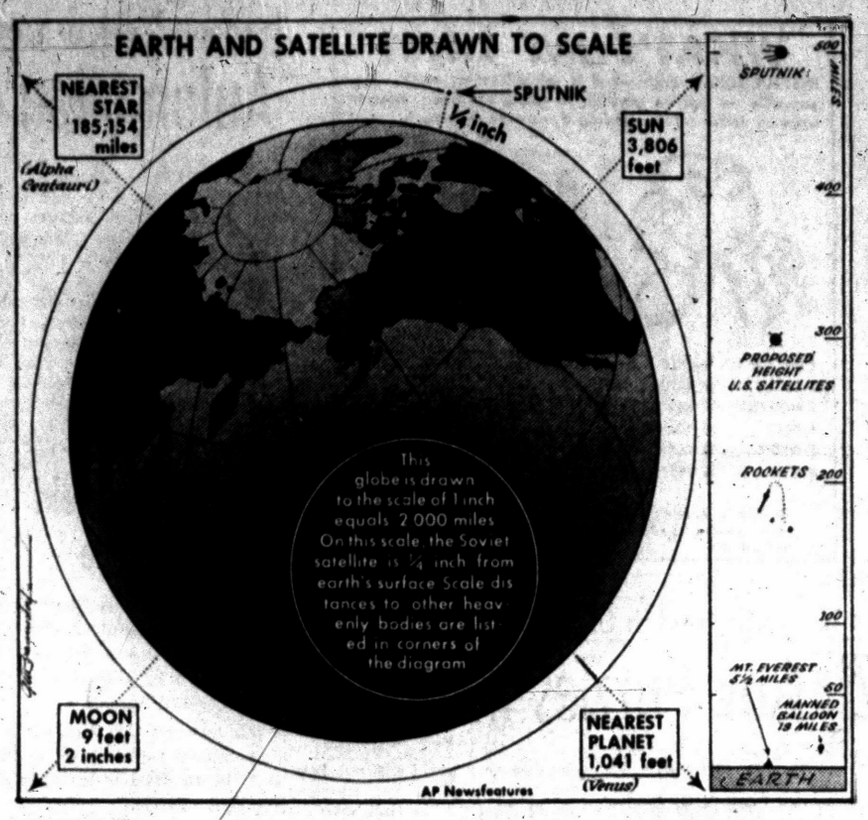
The campaign centered instead of Menderes' full-speed-ahead program for economic development, Turkey's serious shortage of comment's restrictions on civil liberties.

Business to Sponsor 3 Classes on Selling

The first in a series of three night classs to acquaint part time Christmas workers with techniques of selling will begin tomorrow night at 7 at Pontiac High School.

The classes are being sponsored by the Retail Merchants Assn. of the Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce in cooperation with the Business Education Dept. of the school. Other classes will be held between 7 and 9 p.m. Wednesday and Thursday.

William L. Belaney, assistant Chamber manager, indicated that many Pontiac merchants would give priority in hiring to those who attended the three-day series.



SPUTNIK SCALE—A few weeks ago the launching of a beeping Russian earth satellite, Sputnik, was acclaimed as man's first step toward conquest of outer space. But it's unlikely that space even noticed. The above scaled map helps explain Sputnik's smallness in the over-all outer space scheme. On this scale the earth is a ball four inches in diameter.

Sputnik is a microscopic pinhead revolving about the ball at a distance of ¼ of an inch. Placing this newspaper on the floor and measuring nine feet two inches from the miniature earth represents the distance to the moon, our closest neighbor in the solar system. A walk of four city blocks from there gives the scaled distance to Venus, earth's nearest planet neighbor.

An extended walk to a distance of 15 city blocks represents the distance to the sun. And even in this small scale, it would take a walk of more than seven times around the earth to represent the distance to the closest star, Alpha Centauri. So, Sputnik may continue to beep merrily along, but there's still much more to be conquered in the vold of outer space.

King Gives Car to Protocol Aide

U.S. Officer Rewarded by Saud for Making His Visit Smooth

WASHINGTON (AP)—King Saud of Saudi Arabia has given a new automobile to the family of Victor Purse, the State Department protocol officer who helped with details of the King's visit here last January.

Purse was not immediately available for comment, but intimates said the car was accepted as a gift last June and was registered in the name of Mrs. Purse.

They said acceptance of the gift was cleared in advance with the State Department's legal division.

The gift came to light yesterday in the wake of Purse's imminent removal from the post of deputy chief of protocol. He was ordered reassigned within the department after a reported dispute with Wiley T. Buchanan, who became chief of protocol last January. His new post has not been announced.

A quiet feud between Buchanan and Purse broke into the open last Wednesday with announcement of the transfer, after Purse rode into National Airport aboard President Eisenhower's plane from New York while Buchanan was awaiting the arrival of British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan. Buchanan has denied that that incident caused the change, which he said had been in preparation for several months.

Dr. Brothers Ups TV Winnings by Beating Boxers

NEW YORK (AP) — Dr. Joyce Brothers, a 29-year-old housewife and psychologist, has increased her TV winnings to $134,000 by defeating a team of seven boxers at their own specialty—boxing lore.

Dr. Brothers added $64,000 to her previous $70,000 winnings last night on "The $64,000 Challenge" on CBS.

In her six previous appearances on the show she had tied present and past boxers Billy Graham, Ralph (Tiger) Jones, Tony Galento, Abe Attell, Sixto Escobar and Paddy DeMarco.

Last night she bested former light-heavyweight champion Tommy Loughran to beat the team.

Loughran challenged Dr. Brothers when she said Archie Moore knocked out Carl (Bobo) Olson in the third round of a light-heavyweight championship fight in New York in 1955. He said it was the fourth round. She was right.

Woman, Baby Found in Stony Creek Saturday

MONROE, Mich. (AP)—The bodies of a 28-year-old Ypsilanti woman and her 3-month-old daughter were found in nearby Stony Creek Saturday.

The mother, Mrs. Marilyn Patterson, and her daughter, Victoria Lynn, had been missing since Thursday. A search was started when the woman's car was found abandoned near the stream Friday night.

Faulty Wiring Sets Waterford Home Afire

The home of Clayton Whitman, 3099 Pontiac Lake Rd., Waterford Township, caught fire at midnight last night causing $1,500 damage, according to Waterford Township Firemen who answered the call.

Firemen said the fire started from faulty wiring in the attic of the $10,000 home. No one was injured.

NOTICE

John C. Mackie, Commissioner of the Michigan State Highway Department, is calling a Public Hearing on Tuesday, at 2:00 p.m. October 29, 1957, in the Oxford Veterans Hall, Oxford, Michigan, 20 North Washington Street, in accordance with Section 116c of the Federal-Aid Highway Act of 1956, for the purpose of explaining to interested groups the proposed expansion and relocation of M-24, Lake Orion North to Brauer Road in Lapeer County, and to hear testimony regarding the economic effect of this project on the community.

STATE OF MICHIGAN—In the Probate Court for the County of Oakland, Juvenile Division.

In the matter of the petition concerning Frank J. and John C. Sablock, minors. Cause No. 14824.

To Selena Sablock, mother of said children.

Petition having been filed in this Court alleging that the present whereabouts of the mother of the said minor children are unknown, and the children are dependent upon the public for support, and that said children should be placed under the jurisdiction of this Court.

In the name of the people of the State of Michigan, you are hereby notified that the hearing on said petition will be held at the Oakland County Service Center, Court House Annex, 1260-B West Blvd., in the City of Pontiac in said County, on the 5th day of November, A.D., 1957, at one o'clock in the afternoon, and you are hereby commanded to appear personally at said hearing.

It being impractical to make personal service hereof, this summons and notice shall be served by publication of a copy one week previous to said hearing in The Pontiac Press, a newspaper printed and circulated in said County.

Witness, the Honorable Arthur E. Moore, Judge of said Court, in the City of Pontiac in said County, this 25th day of October, A.D., 1957.

In Memoriam 2

IN LOVING MEMORY OF WILliam C. Lange who passed away 2 yrs. ago Oct. 28.
More and more each day we miss him;
Friends may think the wound is healed;
But they little know the sorrow
Lies within our hearts concealed.
Sadly missed by Mother, Father, brothers and sisters.

IN LOVING MEMORY OF WILliam C. Lange, who passed away Oct. 28th, 1955.
Gone is the face we loved so dear,
Silent is the voice we loved to hear;
Too far away for sight or speech,
But not too far for thoughts to reach.
Sadly missed by his brother Herman, Joan and Family.

IN LOVING MEMORY OF MY Husband William Young who passed away Suddenly 4 years ago today, Oct. 28, 1953. Wife and Family.

Preference for 'What's My Line' Puzzling

Daly Considers Reporting News of Chief Importance

By BOB CONSIDINE
(2nd in Series)

NEW YORK (INS) — John Daly starts work on his evening news show at 11:30 a.m. He is assisted by a crack news staff at New York, Washington, Chicago and on the coast. With stringers here and abroad, it numbers about 100 reporters, writers and cameramen.

At 3:30 p.m. a "dummy" is made of the show, based on promised film or film in hand, and the day's basic news stories. By 6 p.m. it is firmed up to the extent that Daly's script can be punched out on the big yellow rolls of the camera's prompting device. Then he sweats out the most perishable commodity on earth — news. Late-breaking stories have caused him to kill the whole day's work and start over again a half hour before air time.

By contrast, on Sunday nights he strolls into the Mansfield Theater off Broadway perhaps an hour before "What's My Line?" is unveiled, chats with the producers, with Dorothy Kilgallen, Arlene Francis, Bennett Cerf and the other panelist, gets made up, wanders into the room where the guests are assembled, puts them at ease with the medium's easiest charm, and goes on.

When it's over he slides affably, but firmly, through the crowd at the stage door, excusing himself for being in such a hurry.

"Probably going to some snazzy party," many people have said, without rancor.

But Daly is racing for the 11:25 to Rye, N.Y., where he has lived for years in a comfortably but hardly ornate house with wife, three children, dog, books and a few poker-playing neighbors.

In his short, engaging trip through the Mansfield Theater, on any given Sunday night, Daly will have attracted more fascinated viewers than with his full, back-breaking week of wrestling with the news. After seven and a half rewarding years as boss of "What's My Line?" he still finds this reaction of the public bewildering.

Daly has a great regard for "What's My Line?" and, of course, it shows in his work. The writer has put him on planes from many points in Christendom to speed him back to New York in time for the Sunday show. He has missed only once in all those weeks. That was on Sept. 29, last. He was on a swing around ABC's European News Bureaus. But he was back, hours early, for the Oct. 6 show.

Bennett Cerf, who filled in for him on the 29th, couldn't have been more pleased. "Wow, I'm glad you're back," he said, seizing Daly's hand as if he had been gone a year.

Daly is as congenial off-screen as he is when he is "having a conference" with one of his temporarily confused guests on "What's My Line?" People accost him in restaurants, on the street, anywhere he meets up with them. They all seem to know him as a warm friend, and his good manners give them little reason to doubt the wisdom of their approach.

But friends of Daly have noticed through the years that he is inclined to grow reflective around the gills if — say — more than ten straight people enthuse over his role on "What's My Line?" without one person's mentioning the news show.

Revival Meetings at Nazarene Church

CLINTONVILLE—Revival meetings will begin at the Clintonville Church of the Nazarene, at 3006 Mann Rd., Wednesday, and run through Nov. 10. The Reverend and Mrs. William Schmidt will be the guest speaker and singers.

The couple will offer a complete program of gospel messages, music and singing. They also present "Scene-o-felt" pictures, with both black and colored lights that are impressive to watch.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Schmidt take part in the singing of solos and duets, accompanied by piano and guitar.

Bing Crosby and Bride Are Due Back at Work

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Bing Crosby and his 23-year-old bride, Kathy Grant, were due back at work today after a four-day honeymoon.

Since their surprise marriage at Las Vegas, Nev., last Thursday, they have been honeymooning at Bing's Silver Spur ranch, 10 miles from Palm Springs.

Crosby was due to tape a radio show today and Miss Grant was to report to Columbia studios for a starring role opposite Van Heflin.

RELAXED ATTITUDE — Hal March believes in "playing it loose," or maintaining a relaxed air, in both show business and private life. Hal, who is starring in a new movie, "Hear Me Good," emcees "The $64,000 Question" on CBS and "What's It For?" on NBC. The former is telecast Tuesdays at 10 p.m., the latter Saturdays at 10 p.m.

Here Is a New Way to Capture a Husband

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — Taffy Tuttle and her sister, Tiny Tuttle, those indefatigable husband-hunters, are so jealous of Rosemary Callahan, the beautiful showgirl, they're poppin' their shoulder straps.

Rosemary recently had a bad fall. She fell right into a husband . . . an oral surgeon.

"It started at a cocktail party," Taffy said.

"Rosemary was leaving, see. She was waiting on the curb for a cab when she happened to fall over the back of this Cadillac. She worked both shows at the Quarter. But late at night she got pains in her ribs and asked her roommate to get her a doctor.

WILSON

The oral surgeon flew down about 3 a. m. looking tall, toothy and tantalizing, and when he dug this shapely young showgal, it was the dentist that said, "Ah." He wasn't supposed to be working that side of the girl, but he taped up her ribs and restored her to perfect health. Any day he's going to ask her to let him take care of her teeth forever.

Taffy admits there's a Moral to this tale.

"If they'd known what an oral surgeon was," says Taffy, "they'd have insisted on a 'doctor doctor' across the street. He's an old spook about 70 with grandchildren. It pays to be dumb if you can be smart about it."

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

The Ethel Merman-Fernando Lamas feud may explode into headlines after an Actors Equity hearing asking the "Happy Hunting" company to show cause for firing Gene Wesson. He was supposedly fired for dyeing hair gray for possible Barrymore role, but lawyer said he had permission and intimated 'twas result of Merman-Lamas bitterness. Miss Merman counter-charges Wesson with unbecoming conduct and asks disciplining or apology.

"The girls at Las Vegas are too nude and shocking for Paris," says Producer Pierre Louis Querin, of the Paris Lido Club.

Detroit Named in Top 7 Best-Governed Cities

DETROIT (AP) — Detroit was one of seven major U. S. cities Fortune Magazine cited yesterday as having "outstanding" government. The list, which covered cities with populations of 500,000 or more, also included Milwaukee, Philadelphia, San Francisco, New York, Pittsburgh and Baltimore.

The magazine named Cincinnati as the best-governed city in the country.

Actor Embarks on Busy Season

Emcees 2 TV Shows, Stars in New Movie, Makes Recordings

By WILLIAM GLOVER

NEW YORK (AP)—Hal March, a man who parlayed questions into television stardom, likes to "play it loose" in and out of show business.

On camera, he is a firm believer in the ad-lib approach to performance. In private life, he is dedicated to maintaining a relaxed attitude toward the importance of work in the scheme of things.

"I love my way of making a living," says March, "but I'm not driven by it.

"On my personal scale of values the thing that ranks first in importance is the dignity of self-respect and integrity. Otherwise you are incapable of giving it to others.

"Next in importance are my wife and family After them comes work."

BUSIEST SEASON

March lists his credo as he launches on his most active season—an additional TV show, his first starring movie and first recordings for the jukebox trade.

"I don't want to be exposed too much," he adds. "Perhaps I'll make four or five guest appearances—but only if they are good, not simply for the money."

Fitting such seemingly strenuous activities into his plan of life is easy, March explains.

"Actually my work as emcee of 'The $64,000 Question' (CBS-TV) only takes about an hour and a half a week. When the new show 'What's It For?' gets into the groove I expect it will take about the same time. That leaves plenty of time for the family.

"The film I made on vacation. The records won't take much time."

LITERATE CON MAN

In his starring movie, "Hear Me Good," March enacts "a literate con man who reforms after once telling the truth."

"What's It For?" an NBC panel show, explores some of the stranger inventions that have been patented in the U. S., England and Germany.

One of these days, March keeps hoping, he'll be able to achieve his biggest show business ambition—to act in a play on Broadway. He had a chance to do that last year, but bought out of his contract for $20,000.

"The big problem with the stage is working six nights a week and being away from the family," he says.

Crash in Manila Kills 3

MANILA (AP) — Three Filipinos were killed and 23 persons were injured last night when a U.S. Navy truck plowed into a group of Filipinos moving a house along a highway. The driver of the truck told police he was blinded by lights of an approaching car.

When the Kickapoo Indian tribe was moved from Indiana and Illinois in 1832, it was given a reservation of 1,200 square miles in northeastern Kansas. Today that reservation near Horton consists of less that 6,000 acres and inhabited by less than 100 Indians.

Bob Considine Says:

Rich Not Very Sorry for Being That Way

NEW YORK (INS)—"Very few feel sorry for themselves for being rich," sums up Fortune Magazine in an article on the 175 wealthiest American multimillionaires.

Well, now, that's a comforting thought at the start of the week. Bums along the Bowery and folks at relief headquarters were noticeably heartened by this newsy estimate.

Winos and newly-arrived Puerto Ricans cheered the revelation that oilman J. Paul Getty, whose personal fortune is "conservatively" estimated at between $700,000,000 and $1,000,000,000, will experience no self-pity in the foreseeable future.

No chump, Getty. He lives in Paris.

To qualify for Fortune's article on the Very Rich a bloke had to have $50,000,000. Getty leads by non-sorrowing couple hundred million.

In the second flight, the $400 million to $700 million class, are four Mellons, John D. Rockefeller Jr., Miami's fabled realtor Arthur Vining Davis and the City of Dallas' living reproach to Runyon's Law," "All Horseplayers Die Broke"—oil baron H. L. Hunt.

TIGHT BUDGET

Several of the Very Rich live on a tight personal budget. Most consider themselves quite careful with money. One California Croesus told Fortune, "I never lost sight of the value of a dollar since the time it took me an hour to make five cent." Just under half of them inherited the bulk of their wealth.

In the third flight, ($200 million to $400 million) one runs into a covey of DuPonts, Fort Worth's Sid Richardson, Howard Hughes and Joseph P. Kennedy, a reassuring name to see in these ranks. If his son makes president or vice president in 1960 he could always drop Joe a postcard and say, "Dear Pater: We're a little short at the U. S. Treasury. Howzabout paying off the national debt?"

Millions of former GIs who enjoyed TV's "Victory at Sea" and "Air Power" must have asked, "Say, weren't we in that war, too?"

Indeed you were, boys, and if a young TV producer from California named Tom Crowley has anything to do with it—and he does—the GIs of World War II and Korea and the A.E.F.'s doughboys of World War I will soon be viewing the major land engagements of those three wars—utilizing film shot on the scene.

I saw a cut of the sample film the other day and it will knock your hat off. It is the story of the American assault on the Gustav line in Italy, the desperate fighting around Monte Cassino, the end run to Anzio and the entrance into Rome.

Crowley worked two years with military advisers putting the U. S. and captured German film together. It is a front row seat at one of the most gruelling battles of history, one that was never given its proper place in the annals of armed conflict.

WINCE AND THRILL

It will make you wince and thrill at the hardiness of the breed on both sides of the line. It should be made compulsory viewing at UN. The Defense Department shows wisdom and forethought in releasing its treasury of land war film at this stage in international relations.

The wedding of Bing Crosby and Kathy Grant came as no surprise to Civil War buffs. In the books, Grant always takes richman.

Looking to the Future

DALLAS (AP) — Oak Cliff Hotel Supply Co., Inc., is a forward looking firm.

Don L. Hill, president of the kitchen supply firm, said the company's Texas charter permits it to expand its operations to do business on interplanetary stations.

The unit of currency in Panama is the Balboa, at par and used interchangeably with the U.S. Dollar.

One Broadwayite handles bores by handing them a card that reads: "Sorry, but I have laryngitis and my hearing aid is being repaired. Therefore I regret we will have to postpone what I'm sure would have been a sparkling conversation. —Earl Wilson.
