Area Becomes a Winter Wonderland

BLANKET OF SNOW — Beautiful scenes in residential areas were painted by last night's three inches of snow. But lovely vistas, such as at Williams and W. Huron Sts., above, were soon filled with struggling shovelers, and snow downtown quickly turned to dirty slush.

All-Night Snow Buries City

At first sight, it was nature's first real appearance this season in one of her most lovely roles.

And then the fun began.

Three inches of snow clogged Pontiac streets this morning, caused motorists to wrestle with cars, and sent home-dwellers out to shovel walks.

Snow fell all night over most of the Great Lakes region, and as far east as New York State. It was expected to stop falling in Lower Michigan today.

A least three traffic accidents occurred in the city during last night's snow, but no injuries were reported. In Detroit, however, a woman died when her car skidded out of control.

Downtown Pontiac streets were cleared early today by salt-trucks and graders. City workers are in the process of cleaning side streets, the Traffic and Safety Bureau said.

Drivers were urged by police to be expecially cautious. The cleared streets are dangerously wet, they said.

Ann Arbor police said that streets early today were lined with parked cars of early arrivals to the football game where the Big Ten title and a trip to the Rose Bowl will be decided.

Main state highways, including those leading to the game, are clear, but wet and slippery in places, State Police cautioned.

The forecast for the Pontiac area was mostly cloudy with snow flurries ending this afternoon. A low tonight of 26-30 is expected and a high tomorrow of 36-40.

Lowest reading in downtown Pontiac before 8 a.m. was 27 degrees. At 2 p.m. the mercury stood at 32.

Mom Snatches 4 From Flames

California Mother Dies Trying to Rescue 6th Child From Home Fire

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A brave mother, awakening to find her home in flames, shepherded four of her six children to safety early today but lost her own life together with her youngest son when she returned for him.

* * *

The sixth child jumped safely from a second-story window.

Firemen reported that Mrs. Virginia Labor Cormier, 34, five sons and a daughter were trapped on the second floor.

Mrs. Cormier awakened the terrified children, ranging in age from 5 to 15, and started them through the flames and smoke. One, 14-year-old Norbert, leaped. All the rest followed mother.

But when she got outside, 5-year-old David was missing. Mrs. Cormier dashed back into the flaming home.

* * *

When firemen brought the fire under control, they found the bodies in an upstairs bathroom. The mother's arms were around the son.

Mrs. Cormier was the wife of advertising executive Ray Cormier Sr., who has offices in several cities in the Southwest. The father was located in Dallas and was reported returning by plane.

* * *

The other surviving children are Raymond Jr., 15, Gary, 13, Virginia Lou, 9, and Stephen, 7.

The home was a total loss, firemen said.

Seattle Crash Probed; Rescue Starts in Nevada

FROM INTERNATIONAL NEWS SERVICE

Investigation is in progress today to determine the cause of the crash of a chartered plane from Seattle carrying servicemen home for Thanksgiving on their return from Far East duty.

The non-scheduled plane bore a total of 74 persons when it took off from Seattle's Boeing Airport just before midnight Thursday. It crashed a few minutes later two miles south of the field, setting fire to a house and demolishing a private garage.

There were 66 servicemen aboard the plane, five other passengers and a crew of three.

Twenty-seven persons were killed and 47 survivied, most of them injured.

The plane was operated by the Peninsular Air Transport Company. The CAA said in Miami that charges of overweight on a flight involving military personnel had been filed against the company two months ago.

A CAA official said that there were 55 alleged violations against Peninsular which has home offices at Miami Springs, Fla.

A company spokesman said the plane which crashed at Seattle had undergone "a complete major checkup immediately before the flight." He said it was the company's first fatal accident in eleven years of flying.

RESCUE TO BE TORTUROUS

At Las Vegas, Nev., seven Air Force medics and 12 deputy sheriffs today labored at one of the most torturous air rescue missions ever undertaken in North America.

They are struggling up bleak, 11,900-foot Mt. Charleston, west of Las Vegas, to recover the bodies of 14 scientists, technicians and air force men who almost certainly were killed when a C-54 transport plane crashed on the towering peak Thursday morning.

Lt. Col. Frank Schwikert, commander of the 42nd Air Rescue Squadron who is directing the rescue operation, said it would be Sunday before the men could reach the wreckage and would take another four days to get the bodies out.

Five of the medics, who went in ahead of the others, reported by radio from the camp they have established 7,500 feet below the wreck that, with binoculars, they have sighted three bodies.

The medics reported that they were being hampered in their ascent by wind, snowdrifts, extremely rough country and 20 degrees below zero cold.

Snow Besetting Marooned Men

Ships Still Battling Sea to Rescue 30 Radar Experts From Island

TEXAS TOWER, 110 miles off Cape Cod, Mass. (AP) — Some 30 Air Force and civilian visiting technicians, marooned aboard U.S.'s man-made radar island since Thursday by strong wind and high seas—were beset today by more trouble—snow.

Ships were unable to approach the tower because of high seas.

"This isolation is as complete as that at the North Pole," was the way one officer described his plight. He had expected to be back in the Pentagon in Washington yesterday.

Wind dropped from a high of 50 miles an hour yesterday to between 20 and 30 last night but 25-foot waves continued to thunder past the three-legged island.

The Air Force men and civilians were swung aboard the tower Thursday in relays from the tug El Sol in a basket hung from a 100-foot crane atop the tower.

Snow Halting Search for Mystery Plane

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP)—A snow storm turned back a searching party trying to reach a spot in rugged, mountainous woodland in south central Pennsylvania where it is believed a plane may have crashed.

* * *

The party of some 50 Civil Defense workers temporarily gave up the search as snow reached 3½ inches. Earlier they reported, after reaching the top of a 1,500-foot mountain, that they had heard shouts and seen flares some distance away in a wooded gully.

SEARCH RETURNS

Dale Murphy, Cumberland County Civil Defense coordinator, said the searching party would go back after sunrise and try again to reach the gully.

The search was begun after Murphy said he received reports from about 10 Civil Defense airplane spotters of either hearing or seeing a plane, "probably in trouble," flying about 1,000 feet over the area.

* * *

The observers described the plane as a twin-engined or four-engined craft. Checks with various air control agencies failed to turn up any reports of a plane either missing or in trouble.

9 More A-Subs Being Planned

Navy to Ask Congress to Augment Two Now in Fleet

WASHINGTON (AP)—A prediction the Navy soon will ask Congress to authorize construction of nine more atomic powered submarines came today from Sen. Jackson (D-Wash).

Two such underwater craft—the Nautilus and the Sea Wolf—have been built. Two others are under construction and four more have been authorized.

Jackson, chairman of the Senate-House Atomic Energy subcommittee on military applications, said in an interview his forecast was based on something he had learned, plus the "impressive showing" of the Nautilus. Jackson did not go into detail on what he had learned.

Secretary of the Navy Thomas said last week that Congress would be asked to authorize more atomic submarines. He did not, however, say how many would be requested.

Thomas said performance of the Nautilus, first of the atomic submarines, has "been little short of amazing."

Jackson wrote Secretary of Defense Wilson this week urging that provision for an atomic-powered aircraft be included in the next defense budget. He also has been pressing government experts to expedite their studies aimed at developing nuclear-powered aircraft.

The United States now has 111 submarines in active duty, divided about equally between the Atlantic and Pacific fleets.

Van Dyke Soldier Among 27 Dead in Seattle Crash

DETROIT (AP) — A Detroit-area soldier was among 27 listed as dead in the crash yesterday of a chartered DC4 on the outskirts of Seattle. Two other Michigan soldiers were injured in the disaster.

Killed was Pfc. Harry Mangeno Jr., 19, of suburban Van Dyke. He was en route home from Korea on a 30-day Thanksgiving furlough.

His wife, Catherine, 17, and daughter, Debbie, 11 months, whom he had never seen, lived with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Mangeno. Mangeno enlisted in the Army late in 1953. He was sent to Korea in June, 1954.

In a letter written Oct. 28 to his wife, Mangeno wrote:

"I hope to be home by Nov. 15. Don't bring the baby to the airport when you meet me. I'm sure that I will cry like anything and I'd rather not do it in public."

The two Michigan soldiers injured in the crash were Pvt. Rhiner Groendyke, 18, of Saranac and Sgt. Theodore J. Gostinger, 20, of Port Huron. Both were returning from Korea.

Police Contend Teen Vice Story 'Exaggerated'

But Prosecutor's Office Goes Ahead With Plans for 'Gang' Probe

Conflicting opinions on the extent of juvenile vice in Southern Oakland County were expressed today as county and state investigation of the charges loomed.

With a meeting of Wayne and Oakland County officials scheduled early next week to probe reports of a juvenile dope ring, Royal Oak Township and Oakdale Gardens police continue to assert that the situation has been "grossly exaggerated."

Oakland County Chief Assistant Prosecutor George F. Taylor today again denied published reports that State Attorney General Thomas M. Kavanagh had received a request from his office for aid in investigating the charges.

He also denied reports that his office had sent a letter to Kavanagh containing the same request.

The only letter, he said, which could have any bearing on the matter was one received from Gov. G. Mennen Williams inviting Prosecutor Frederick C. Ziem to a traffic conference in Lansing Tuesday.

At that time, he said, he and Ziem will talk to Kavanagh

State Road Deaths Rise

Three Accidents Kill 15 Over the Last 24 Hours

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Fifteen persons have died in three multiple-death traffic accidents in Michigan over the last 24 hours.

And the U. S. Weather Bureau warned travel would be especially hazardous today, with two to four inches of snow slicking highways and cutting visibility.

Upstate a weekend traffic upsurge was anticipated with deer hunters flocking to and from the woods.

Harry Kozar, 45, and Anna Komn, 72, of Lexington, were killed last night in a collision at an M90 intersection two miles west of Lexington in Sanilac County.

Kozar's wife, 44, was seriously hurt. The other driver, Frank Niklas, 18, of Carsonville, escaped injury, although his passenger, Yvonne Elway, 17, of Port Sanilac, was slightly hurt.

Four persons were killed and two injured in a late Friday smashup of an automobile and pickup truck on M46, five miles east of Edmore in Montcalm County. A tire blowout was blamed for this tragedy.

Those killed were en route home from visiting the husband of one of the victims at the Veterans Administration hospital in Saginaw. They were: Forrest Lowe, 58, and his wife, Flora J., also 58, of Muskegon Heights; Ruby Straight, 68, of Fruitport, and Mrs. Nettie Strickland, 48, of Muskegon.

Injured were Arthur Strickland Jr., 13-year-old son of Nettie, and James F. Lovay, 27, of Saginaw, the truck driver.

Nine railroad section crewmen were killed and three injured Friday when a New York Central passenger train plowed into a truck in which the men were riding to work.

The accident happened at a crossing a mile south of Newport in northeast Monroe County, about 20 miles south of Detroit.

Deer Season Gun Deaths Reach Three for Michigan

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Michigan counted its third gunfire death of the five-day-old deer hunting season today as State Police gave up hope of finding six missing hunters alive.

James Dingman, 20, of Marquette, was killed in the Upper Peninsula's Alger County Friday.

State Police said he was shot by his cousin, Marvin F. Webb, 18, also of Marquette, who told them he mistook Dingman for a deer in the heavily wooded area where they had gone hunting together.

A new search of Gratiot Lake in the Keweenaw Peninsula jutting into Lake Superior was planned today for four deer hunters who vanished Wednesday. But police said chances of finding them were "almost nil."

The four set out across the lake from their camp for fertile deer hunting country on the other side. The boat later was found overturned. One of the hunter's hats was found not far away.

They were Daniel Nowack, 39, and Edward Van Popering, 50, Grand Rapids professional golfers; Ted Lemanski, 36, a Spring Lake golf pro, and Leonard Gillette, 50, host at the Homewood, Ill., golf club.

An airplane flew over the lake area yesterday as five boats dragged the 125-foot deep waters.

Hope virtually was abandoned, too, for two hunters lost in rugged Upper Peninsula woods. They are Walter Kline of Benton Harbor, last seen an hour after the season opened Tuesday, and Elmer Dahlman, 55, of Plymouth.

Also "presumed dead" were two duck hunters who disappeared in Lake Erie off southeastern Michigan in a howling blizzard Wednesday. Two other duck hunters froze to death when they tried to wade 300 yards to shore through mucky quicksand and became stuck.

Seven deer hunters have died of heart attacks in the woods, one succumbed to monoxide gas while sleeping in his car, and another died from fumes thought to have come from his tent cooking stove.

Man Wrestles Deer

SHEPHERDSVILLE, Ky. (AP)—C. R. Shelton lost an impromptu wrestling match with a four-point buck yesterday. Shelton, 41, was trying to find out why several dogs were barking near his farm when the deer bolted through a patch of tall grass and banged into Shelton. The farmer and the buck wrestled a bit before the buck slipped away and swam across a river.

Marie Dionne Is in Hospital

21-Year-Old Quint Leaves Quebec Convent 2nd Time in 16 months

MONTREAL (AP)—Marie Dionne, quintuplet who was studying for religious orders at a Quebec Convent, has been admitted to hospital here for observation.

It is the second time in 16 months the 21-year-old girl has left the institution where she is studying to be a nun. Her quintuplet sister Emilie died in a Quebec province nursing home in August, 1954.

Marie's family said she left the servants of the Blessed Convent in Quebec City and traveled here with a nurse. She was reported suffering from "loss of appetite."

Notre Dame D'Esperance Hospital, where Marie's sisters Cecille and Yvonne are training as nurses, said she will be kept under observation for a month.

She returned to the convent last September, after leaving it in May, 1954, for ill health. She originally entered the convent in November, 1953.

In North Bay, Oliva Dionne, father of the quintuplets, confirmed Marie has been taken to hospital.

"All I know is that she has left the convent," he said. "I understand she hasn't been feeling well."

Convent officials declined to comment on the report.

The other surviving quintuplet, Annette, is in Nicolet, Que., studying music.

Treasury Head Predicts Female Vice President

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—There will be a lady vice president and three women members of the Supreme Court by the year 2000, says Mrs. Ivy Baker Priest, treasurer of the United States.

She also predicted in a speech yesterday that half of Congress will be female by the turn of the century. Mrs. Priest addressed the ladies auxiliary of the American Institute of Laundering, holding its 68th annual convention here.

A Word to the Wise Is Sufficient

Go Ahead . . . Hurry Up —One Skid Can Kill You

EAST LANSING (AP)—State Police are offering six tips to motorists on how to avoid an encounter with death on some icy highway.

The tips were contained in a booklet prepared by the winter driving committee of the National Safety Council. Here they are:

1. Make sure your car is equipped with good tires and, if necessary, good tire chains. Reinforced chains cut stopping distance on ice in half.

2. Keep your windshields and windows clean. You have to see danger to avoid it.

3. Get the feel of the road. Try your brakes when you're not in traffic to test the road surface. You can't stop on a dime, especially an icy one.

4. Follow other vehicles at a safe distance. It takes three to 12 times as far to stop on snow or ice as it does on normal surface.

5. Pump your brakes in order to stop on snow and ice. Jamming down on your brakes will throw you into a skid, especially if your car is equipped with power brakes.

6. Cut down your speed.

Lt. Shirley G. Curtis of the State Police safety and traffic division said early winter is the most dangerous time of the year for driving.

"In the first few weeks of winter, drivers think they can drive as they have all summer and fall—they aren't prepared for winter driving conditions," he said.

State Police records show accidents rise sharply between four and six in the afternoon, when hordes of motorists hurry home in the early dusk.

Most dangerous of all as far as fatalities go is the period between midnight Saturday and 3 a. m. Sunday.

December, with the throngs of Christmas shoppers, is by far the most dangerous time of year for pedestrians, Lt. Curtis said.

Lt. Curtis offered this advice to motorists caught in a skid:

"Turn your wheel the way you are skidding. Then apply your brakes if you must—but gently."

Ike Tells Nation He'll Continue Road to Peace

Dulles Reports Geneva Talkathon 'Didn't Get Anywhere at All'

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower says that, despite the East-West stalemate at the Geneva foreign ministers conference, the United States "will never admit defeat" in seeking a "just and durable peace."

The President's view was relayed by Secretary of State Dulles at the end of a sober, 30-minute TV-radio report last night on the Geneva meeting.

Dulles conceded the Western Big Three made no progress in the sessions with the Russians. But this assessment was balanced, in part at least, by the secretary's expression of cautious optimism and by a statement from Eisenhower.

Reading from what he called "verbatim notes" made during a conversation with Eisenhower earlier in the day at Gettysburg, Pa., Dulles quoted the President as saying:

"I know that no setback, no obstacle to progress will ever deter this government and our people from the great effort to establish a just and durable peace.

"Success may be long in coming, but there is no temporal force so capable of helping achieve it as the strength, the might, the spirit of 165 million free Americans. In striving toward this shining goal, this country will never admit defeat."

GENEVA SPIRIT LIVES

Dulles said his three weeks at Geneva "didn't get us anywhere at all."

But he said the "Spirit of Geneva," flowing from the summit conference which Eisenhower attended in July, lives on even though the Soviet's summertime smiles turned into frowns this fall.

THE FIVE QUESTIONS

Posing and answering five questions he said "are in the air," Dulles declared he and Eisenhower agree that:

1. The Geneva spirit is not entirely dead because the Russians now shun the "threats and invective" which characterized their pre-summit diplomacy.

* * *

2. The risk of open war with Russia is no greater than in July when Eisenhower said the summit conference had made it "less likely."

* * *

3. The cold war is back, but it is "peaceful" and devoid of rankling "hostility and animosity."

* * *

4. The Eisenhower administration plans no drastic revision of its

Deny Reports of Hotel Sale

But Owners Continue to Negotiate Purchase With Hospital

Reports that the Hotel Pontiac, 50 N. Perry St., was sold Thursday were denied by Manager Carl Ransom yesterday, although he admitted that the hotel's owners were continuing negotiations with the Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital.

Harry Whitlow, hospital administrator, indicated that the two parties may reach agreement next week, provided "one or two obstacles" to the sale can be removed.

Whitlow said that the 27-year-old building would be converted into an osteopathic hospital. The hospital's present site is at 32 Auburn Ave.

David Shubow, managing director of the Hotel Pontiac Corp., was not available for comment. The corporation purchased the 100-room hotel building in 1952.

Admits Robbery of Gas Station

Police Report Suspect Also Confesses 7 Other Crimes in Area

A 23-year-old man, awaiting sentence in Oakland County Circuit Court, has admitted to a string of recent crimes in the Pontiac area.

* * *

Pontiac Police said that the confession of Billie E. White, 800 Young St., helps clear up 12 cases on record, eight of them here.

White yesterday pleaded guilty to armed robbery in October of Arnold's Service Station, 4 East Blvd. N. Circuit Court Judge George B. Hartrick will pass sentence Nov. 28.

White's series of crimes began in September, police said. They said another suspect, a partner in some of the crimes, has not yet been apprehended.

* * *

Police said White's confession involves these cases:

Attempted safe-cracking in the UAW-CIO Hall at 90 Mt. Clemens St., Sept. 1; two robberies of a used car lot at 270 W. Montcalm St., Sept. 4 and 5.

Robbery of a hardware store at 822 Baldwin Ave., Sept. 7; attempted robbery of the Grand Trunk Railroad Depot, Sept. 7.

* * *

Armed robbery of a Dixie Highway gas station in Waterford Township, Sept. 26; and an attempted armed robbery of another township gas station on Telegraph Rd., Nov. 8.

White also confessed to three robberies in October in Alabama, and another attempted armed robbery near Calumet City, Ill., on Nov. 4, police said.

Says Foreign Policy Not Campaign Issue

SAN MARCOS, Tex. (AP)—Senate Majority Leader Lyndon Johnson (D-Tex) said today he does not expect foreign policy to be a partisan issue in the next presidential election.

"If it is raised, the source will be the same people who have been attacking all of our presidents for two decades," Johnson said in a speech prepared for delivery at Southwest Texas State Teachers College Homecoming day.

"The American people have passed the stage where foreign policy is a 'politicking' issue," said Johnson.

To pretend a serious disagreement in foreign policy in the months ahead will deceive no one, he said.

Two Stories Cloud Graham Bomb Plant

DENVER (INS) — Conflicting stories have clouded the issue of the guilt or innocence of John Gilbert Graham, accused of planting a time bomb aboard a United Air Lines Mainliner.

The young Denver man still denies he placed dynamite in the luggage of his mother, Mrs. Daisie King, despite his signed admission of guilt and a statement by an office manager of an electric supply firm that Graham bought a timing device that could be used in a bomb.

Aircraft Unions Want GAW, Other Benefits

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A guaranteed employment plan, substantial wage increases and a full union shop are objectives in collective bargaining early next year by the CIO-United Auto Workers' Aircraft department.

Leonard Woodcock, UAW vice president, told an executive session yesterday that for the first time all aircraft unions will be bargaining on the same basis and with the same demands. Negotiations will start early in January for new contracts covering some 750,000 workers in the aircraft industry.

Area Murder Suspect to Be Tried In January; 3 Others on Docket

Four major criminal trials are scheduled for January in Oakland County Circuit Court, Prosecutor Frederick C. Ziem said today.

They involve men charged with first degree murder, manslaughter, embezzlement and assault with intent to committ murder.

Ray Goff, 32, of Flint is accused of the fatal shooting last Aug. 22 of a pretty Flint mother of three.

A former Flint factory worker, Goff is charged with pumping four bullets into Mrs. Rita Cummings, 27, after ordering the woman's escort, Dean Worges, 25, also of Flint, from a car near Holly.

Worges, testifying at a justice court examination, identified Goff as the man who, Worges said, followed the couple from Flint to the death scene on M87.

A suicide note, purportedly written by Goff, and statements by friends and relatives led police to believe motive of the shooting was jealousy stemming from an alleged broken romance between Goff and Mrs. Cummings.

The manslaughter charge is lodged against Hugh H. Radar, 60, a prominent Highland Park lumber dealer.

Rader, of 2870 Pine Lake Rd., West Bloomfield Township, is accused of negligent driving in a two-car crash last June 27 on Middlebelt road near Lone Pine road which resulted in the death of John C. Welch, 18, of 128 Oakwood, Walled Lake.

Former Lake Orion auto dealer, David P. Dawson, 31, is charged with embezzling $28,802 from the Universal CIT Credit Corp. branch office here.

The company claims that under a contract between them and Dawson, they bought cars from the plant which were shipped directly to the dealer. When sold, he was to return the wholesale price to CIT, the firm alleges.

Dawson sold 17 vehicles between Oct. 27, 1954 and May 18 this year and failed to turn back CIT's share, the firm claims.

Former Fenton village attorney Clifford Dye, 53, is accused of assault with intent to murder.

Dye is charged with shooting William C. Clark, 27, a Fenton tenant farmer, last Aug. 26, following an argument.

The dispute revolved around a lease held by Clark to operate three farms owned by Dye's sister, authorities said.

Police Claim Vice Story Is Overplayed

about the possibility of using the State Police vice squad to assist in the investigation if it be needed.

The charges broke into the open Thursday with disclosure of a formal statement by an unidentified Detroit high school student who charged that a gang of teenagers known as the "Mixers," operating on both Wayne and Oakland sides of the county line, were using marijuana, carrying homemade "zip" guns, and engaging in immoral activities.

Oakdale Gardens and Royal Oak Township police, however, have consistently minimized reports of gang activity. Oakdale Gardens Det. Samuel J. Whitfield, pointed out that there has not been a gang fight in the area for over a year.

And Royal Oak Township Police Chief Robert Richardson said the trouble had been cut down "100 per cent" in three years.

He said there was no indication that juveniles in the crowded Oakdale Gardens housing project were involved in a marijuana ring.

But he admitted youths carrying "zip" guns and Detroit prostitutes, who he said crossed the county line to contact the youths, have recently been apprehended in his area.

Prosecutor Ziem said yesterday his office is investigating the charges, and Taylor disclosed that a meeting had been arranged to discuss them with Wayne County authorities.

At the meeting next Tuesday or Wednesday, he said, will be Detroit Police Commissioner Edward Piggins and Wayne County Juvenile Judge Nathan Kaufman.

Newport Rail Crash Investigation Starts

MONROE (INS)—Monroe County sheriff's officers today plan to question the driver of a truck in which nine railroad laborers were killed in a collision with an express train near Newport, yesterday.

Sheriff Charles Harrington says he wants to know whether the truck stalled on the tracks and why the driver — J. S. Martin, 28 — didn't see the approaching flyer or hear its bell and whistle.

Martin and two others in the cab of the truck are the only survivors. They were severly injured.

There is a theory that they were accustomed to the time schedules of the trains and thought the tracks were clear when they crossed.

The Indianapolis-to-Detroit train was 24 minutes late.

Aid Bureau Charges Couple With Fraud

A Lake Orion couple was charged yesterday with using fraudulent means to obtain $3,178 in social aid checks between Dec. 1, 1952 and Aug. 31 of this year.

John Nevenzell, 70, and his wife, Forence, 57, of 445 S. Broadway, were accused of "fraud in obtaining public assistance" in a warrant ordered by Assistant Oakland County Prosecutor Homer G. Gerue.

The complainant is Ora L. Hinckley, superintendent of the Oakland Bureau of Social Aid. She claims the two had outside income which would have made them ineligible for social aid. No arraignment date has been set.

Army to Screen Security Risks

Wilson Orders Draftee Review as Investigators Probe Military

WASHINGTON (AP)—A new military policy aims at weeding out security risks before they are drafted into the Army, thus sparing them the stigma of a less than honorable discharge.

The new directive from Secretary of Defense Wilson came yesterday in the midst of a sharply critical Senate investigation of the Army security program for uniformed personnel.

Sen. Hennings (D-Mo) said the inquiry by his Senate subcommittee on constitutional rights "probably had something to do" with the new procedure.

Though Hennings said the directive might not go quite far enough, he hailed it as a move to "restore constitutional rights to large numbers who under present regulations would receive security risk discharges."

Wilson has been invited to testify before the subcommittee Monday.

The new directive orders the armed services to make security investigations of draftees before their induction, instead of afterward as at present. It directs that a man shall be taken into service unless this would be clearly inconsistent with national security.

Such a draftee would have the right to an honorable discharge if his conduct in two years of active duty merits one.

Anyone rejected on the basis of a pre-induction investigation would as Hennings phrased it, "be released to civilian life without any mark or stigma indicating the basis on which he was found unsuitable."

The old rule required that servicemen judged security risks be given a "general discharge under honorable conditions" or some other less than honorable discharge at the end of their service.

UM Regents to Ask Road Safety Funds

ANN ARBOR (AP) — The University of Michigan Regents have decided to ask the State Legislature for money to study highway safety and the attitudes of automobile drivers.

At their regular monthly meeting yesterday, the Board of Regents approved a legislative request for $140,000 to finance the opening stages of the traffic study.

George G. Brown, dean of the college of engineering, said, "If there is any factor that has more significance than any other in this field, it is the driver's mental attitude."

Dean Brown said that the study would have to continue for at least two or three years for significant results.

Alaskan Salmon Down

Two Missioners Free of China

Catholic Priests Report Reds Threatened Death for 'Stubborness'

HONG KONG (INS)—Two American missionaries imprisoned by Red China for nearly four years arrived today in Hong Kong and said their lives had been threatened by Communist jailers.

The released men, both Catholic Passionist fathers, were the Rev. Marcellus White, 47, of Waltham, Mass., and the Rev. Justin Garvey, 40, of Union City, N. J.

They were greeted in Hong Kong by fellow missionaries, American consular officials, American and British Red Cross representatives and Hong Kong police.

Both were pale and thin but otherwise appeared to be in reasonably good health although White wept intermittently during an interview with newsmen.

When asked if the Communists were justified in jailing him, Fr. White replied:

"Now, that's a silly question."

Fr. Garvey said his interrogators threatened him with death if he continued to be "stubborn" in jail.

He said he was arrested in Yuanling in 1951 and charged with "cooperating in unlawful activities with Kuomintang (Nationalist Chinese) secret bandits."

* * *

He said he was handcuffed and a rope thrown around his neck "so I could be led through the streets like a criminal."

"In striving toward this goal," he quoted Eisenhower as telling him, "this country will never admit defeat."

2 Jet Fighters Clash in Mid-Air; Find 1 Pilot Safe

NEWARK, Ohio (INS)—Two F-86 jet fighter planes collided with a flash in mid-air last night and dropped to the ground eight miles from each other in the hills around Newark.

One pilot managed to parachute and was slightly injured when he struck a tree. Rescue parties were still searching for the other man—or his body.

The pilots were from the Air Force Academy at Lowry Air Force Base in Denver, Colo., and members of a four-plane flight bound for Lockbourne AFB, Columbus, O.

The state patrol post at nearby Hebron, O., identified the missing pilot as 2nd Lt. J. J. Molanophy, Houston, Tex., and the other as 1st Lt. Russel E. Thoburn, 23, whose only address available was the academy.

Robert Byer, a Baltimore and Ohio Railroad policeman, said that while he was standing on the Newark station platform at 10:20 last night, he "saw a flash." However, he did not report his observation until after he heard about the collision.

Good Weather Okays Straits Bridge Work

MACKINAW CITY (AP) — Good weather today brought start of the tricky job of erecting the working platform from which cables will be strung for the Mackinac Straits bridge.

The 468-foot south back stage must be floated into place on barges, then affixed to the main south tower on the Mackinac City side.

Start of the operation had been held up awaiting suitable weather. It was sunny and calm today with winds of less than 10 miles per hour.

As soon as the south platform is secured work will start on a similar back stage on the St. Ignace side, northern anchorage of the bridge linking Michigan's Upper and Lower Peninsulas.

From the platforms, workmen will begin the first actual bridging between the north and south sides. They will swing cables between the anchorage towers to which suspension cables for the span's roadway will be attached.

All of the span south of the back stage being placed today will rest on tiers. To the north will be the suspension portion across the water.

Britain's oldest fence has been found — a wooden fence revealed in excavations at Verulamium, the Roman City, of St. Albans. The 1,800-year-old fence is made of half - inch overlapping planks and is in an almost perfect state of preservation.

Criticizes Laws for Epileptics

Doctor Urges Revision of Statutes so Victims Can Be Given Help

ANN ARBOR (UP)—A University of Cincinnati doctor states the nation's laws must be drastically revised so that the epileptic, helped by medical science, may occupy a normal place in society.

* * *

Dr. Howard B. Fabing, chairman of the Legislative Committee of the American League Against Epilepsy, spoke before University of Michigan doctors on "Epilepsy and the Law."

"Our laws separate the epileptic from the idiot and the insane only by a comma," Dr. Fabing said.

Modern medicine has substantially removed the enigma of epilepsy through the use of anticonvulsive drugs, "but our laws are a strong factor in perpetuating the stigma against epileptics.

"If this stigma is to be removed, recent medical discoveries in treating epilepsy must be translated into legal reform.

"Controlled epileptics can be granted driver's licenses without danger to themselves or other users of the highway," Dr. Fabing said.

Since the incidence of epilepsy is rare among the children of epileptics, he noted, "not only are the laws unsound genetically, it is impractical to enforce them."

* * *

Present laws and employment policies refuse epileptics employment, the privilege of driving, the right to marry, and in some states even subject the institutionalized epileptic to arbitrary sterilization operations, Dr. Fabing said.

TODAY'S ASSIGNMENT FOR: JUNIOR EDITORS

THE TABLE TOP CORRAL
A Cowpuncher

Now that you have your table top corral made, how about a young cowpuncher to go with it?

You remember you made your corral yesterday from strong paper or cardboard, or from blocks or books standing on edge.

Here is your cowpuncher to sit on top of that corral and wait his turn at riding a bronc.

Cut out this page and paste it on cereal box cardboard. Color it with crayons.

Cut out the boy along the heavy outlines. Use the tabs to hold him in place. He'll perch almost anywhere — on top of a book or on your paper or cardboard fence.

Fold the two outside tabs under him. Bring the center one forward to balance him firmly.

He will sit this way until time for him to go to the chute and get on his bronc.

'Fails to Prove' False Ad Counts

Battery Additive Lists Happy Buyers in Probe of Firm's Assertions

WASHINGTON (UP) — The maker of AD-X2, the controversial battery additive, expressed confidence that he has won his long battle with the government over the worth of his product.

* * *

Jess M. Ritchie of Oakland, Calif., said he was elated by a Federal Trade Commission examiner's finding last night that the government had "failed to prove" charges of false advertising against his firm, Pioneers, Inc.

Examiner William L. Pack said that the "overwhelming weight" of testimony from satisfied users of the product offset scientific testimony that the additive had little or no value in rejuvenating run-down but mechanically good batteries.

* * *

Pack's recommendation for dismissal of the false advertising charges must be sustained by the full five-man commission before becoming final.

Ritchie and his company advertise that the additive lengthens the life of mechanically sound storage batteries and acts to prevent sulfation (deposit on battery plates), a major cause of battery failure.

Ritchie's troubles with the government concerning the additive began seven years ago.

Award Chemist Valid Passport

Dr. Linus Pauling Gets Okay After Nobel Prize and Senate Discussion

WASHINGTON (UP)—Dr. Linus C. Pauling has a valid passport now, good for two years and for use in all areas of the free world.

But the Nobel prize - winning chemist twice was denied a passport by the State Department on grounds issuance of the document to him was against "the best interests of the United States."

The issuance of the unlimited passport followed by a month the award of the Nobel Prize for chemistry to the 54-year-old California Institute of Technology professor.

The first passport denial was in April 1952 when Pauling desired to go to London for a scientific meeting. However, the department later issued him a limited passport for other trips abroad, and revalidated it for three more European trips.

DENIED AGAIN

Then, in October 1954, it denied him a passport again, but a month later, after the Nobel Prize award, it changed its mind again and turned over to him an unlimited passport.

In an appearance before a Senate subcommittee on constitutional rights earlier this week, Pauling said he thought it "a reasonable conclusion" that the department changed its mind because it would have been "difficult to explain" why it was denying a passport to a Nobel Prize winner.

Pauling said he never was a Communist "of any sort" in denying State Department findings that he had been "a concealed Communist."

The Associated Press reported incorrectly Wednesday that Pauling had been trying to get a passport for three years when the unlimited document was issued in November 1954.

Youths Shoot Up 5 Communities

3 Saginaw Teenagers Smash Glass Windows; Police Question Parents

SAGINAW (AP) — Three teenage boys, firing their air guns from a car, peppered glass windows of homes and stores in five communities Thursday night. Police estimated damage from the BB shots would run into "several thousand dollars."

* * *

The 14-year-old driver of the car told police, "We were just having fun."

The 14-year-old and two 13-year-old companions are being held at the Saginaw County Juvenile Home to await juvenile court action. Their names were not disclosed.

Police said a greenhouse in Saginaw County also was a target. No one was reported injured.

Saginaw Police reported receiving 40 complaints and the sheriff's office received a similar number from indignant householders and store owners in Saginaw, Bay City, Reese, Richville and Frankenmuth.

Saginaw Police caught two of the boys late last night after they had fired shots near a scout car. The third boy who had left his companions and gone to a junior high school party was picked up this morning.

Lt. Raymond P. McGillen, head of the juvenile division of Saginaw Police, quoted the driver of the car as saying he took the family car without permission.

In Reese, the boys shot at plate glass windows in 12 stores. Two owners said it would take $300 each to replace windows.

A furniture store in Saginaw reported $700 damage to two plate glass windows.

Henry Schwager, owner of the greenhouse that was shot up, reported heavy glass damage as well as damage to flowers nipped by cold air.

* * *

The parents of the boys were questioned by police.

Police said parents of minors causing property damage are responsible up to $300 under a new state law but a civil court action would be necessary to collect from them.

"MOUTH-PAINTED BY MERLE"—Two years ago, Merle Chisholm, pretty, 28-year-old St. Paul wife and mother, was a commercial artist. Today she is polio-paralyzed from the neck down. But she has wasted no time in self-pity. She set about to learn to draw and paint again with a pencil or brush clenched in her teeth. She won that battle and has built a new artistic career with a collection of exclusive "mouth-painted-by-Merle" Christmas cards and personal note paper. Her husband, Robert, is also an artist. Here their four-year-old son, Gary, watches in fascination as his mother draws a picture.

Editors See Inside Story of U.S. Air Defense Center

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP) —A tiny white light on a panel suddenly begins to flash rapidly. An orange bulb beside it lights up. A gong rings.

* * *

Simultaneously, a code number and a string of figures are chalked alongside the lights by a man—or woman—working behind a glass panel who has to write them backward so they are readable from the front.

An orange line, identified by the same code number, starts across a glass map of the United States 20 feet high and 30 feet long.

That is the way the Continental Air Defense Command charts the course of an unidentified aircraft believed friendly, in any part of the nation.

TAKES ONLY MINUTES

The operation heads up at the command's headquarters at Ent Air Force Base, staffed by Air Force, Army and Navy personnel.

Officers watch the movements and order precautions they deem necessary. The sighting, reporting and the order all take only minutes.

* * *

The orange line lengthens as more reports come in until the aircraft is identified as friendly. Then the marks are wiped out and the warning lights flicker off.

Had the plane been believed hostile, or known to be friendly, different colored bulbs would have told the tale.

NO CAMERAS PLEASE

The system was shown to managing editors attending the Associated Press Managing Editors Assn convention this week.

After a talk by Gen. Earle Partridge, chief of the Continental Air Defense Command and a briefing by staff officers, the editors were taken to the windowless room containing the main plotting board. The only restriction was "no cameras."

Gen. Partridge told the editors: "We're getting along with air defense very fast—faster than I ever thought we would in the United States."

* * *

He warned: "We are not yet ready to cope with" an attack by new, long range bombers such as those shown off by Soviet Russia and taxpayers are going "to have to dig deeper than ever before" to complete the job.

* * *

The editors turn back to newspaper studies for discussions of color photography and news writing. A panel on secrecy in federal government was scheduled for the afternoon, preceding the convention banquet.

New Supply of Salk Vaccine Now Ready

WASHINGTON (AP)—A total of 1,773,485 cubic centimeters of Salk antipolio vaccine, most newly released and some reallocated, is now available.

The Public Health Service announced last night that 1,582,400 ccs—enough for that many innoculations—is ready for immediate use, together with 28,692 ccs from previously underestimated allocations and 152,393 ccs not used in areas to which it was originally assigned.

The service's latest action brings to 12,442,437 ccs the total vaccine released for children under 15 and expectant mothers.

An additional 13,542,441 ccs have gone to the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis for its free inoculation program for children who were first and second grade pupils last spring.

President Sees His Old Friends

Affairs of State Put Off as Ike Enjoys Bridge With Snyder, Gruenther

GETTYSBURG, Pa. (AP)—President Eisenhower, returning rapidly to a normal schedule, put aside affairs of state today to relax with old friends.

* * *

Eisenhower's neighbors in this historic Civil War battlefield community planned to observe the 92nd anniversary of Abraham Lincoln's historic Gettysburg Address. The President was not expected to take part.

For the weekend there was nothing heavier on his schedule than a discussion of Western European defenses with Gen. Alfred M. Gruenther, commander of NATO forces in Europe.

* * *

Gruenther is at the President's farm home primarily as a social guest. His arrival here yesterday led to Eisenhower's first bridge game since he was stricken with a heart attack in Denver Sept. 24.

George E. Allen, Eisenhower's close friend and owner of a neighboring farm, came over to take a hand. Maj. Gen. Howard M. Snyder, the President's personal physician, sat in.

* * *

Russian Bosses Honor Gandhi

Soviet Encyclopedia Attacked Indian Leader as Demigogue

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—Russia's Premier Nikolai Bulganin and Communist party boss Nikita S. Khrushchev viewed New Delhi's famous historic spots today.

* * *

A sightseeing tour on the second day of their 18-day state visit to India also gave the Soviet leaders an opportunity to pay homage to Mahatma Gandhi, whom the Soviet Union once termed "reactionary."

The two Soviet leaders sat on a stone bench to remove their shoes and advanced to the Gandhi Memorial where each placed a huge floral wreath.

LAKELAND DEMAGOGUE

Just over a year ago the Indian government protested informally to Moscow on learning that the official Soviet encyclopedia said Gandhi "pretended in a demogogic way" to lead the Indian independence movement.

Some observers thought today's tribute represented Russian atonement for the Gandhi reference.

* * *

The Russians also saw New Delhi's famed red sandstone fort built by the Moguls 300 years ago and the site of the last resistance by Indian Sepoys in the 1857 mutiny against the British.

Today's crowds were more modest than the throngs on hand to greet the Russian visitors yesterday. Prime Minister Nehru did not accompany them on their three-hour tour.

Front pages in all New Delhi newspapers today were filled with reports of the "unprecedented" welcome given the Soviet leaders.

The Russian delegation will go from India to Burma and Afghanistan on their 5,000-mile tour of Southeast Asia.

DSR May Sell Cars

DETROIT (AP)—The Department of Street Railways is dickering with Vienna, Austria, as well as Mexico City for sale of 110 of its streetcars. Vienna officials, shopping around the U. S. for good buys in trolleys, notified the DSR they expect to make a decision by Nov. 27 on a purchase.

DOLEFUL DOVE—A mourning dove that has a right to mourn is this one being held for the photographer at Silver Springs, Fla. The bird was mysteriously wounded and grounded by a short twig, imbedded in its neck. The wound had healed around the twig so the dove has to go through life with a chip on its shoulder.

Bean Named to Head NLRB Examiners

WASHINGTON (AP)—The National Labor Relations Board appeared headed today down the middle of the road in its administration of the Taft-Hartley labor law.

* * *

This emerged as the signficance of a change President Eisenhower made yesterday in the board's leadership and in his selection of a fifth member of the panel.

He picked Boyd Leedom, 49, an NLRB member since last April, to be the new chairman. Leedom is a former justice of the South Dakota Supreme Court.

And Eisenhower reached into the ranks of NLRB examiners to pick Stephen S. Bean, 63, to fill a vacancy left when the term of Guy Farmer expired several months ago. Leedom and Bean are Republicans.

* * *

Leedom's selection as chairman came as a surprise because Eisenhower had passed over Philip Ray Rodgers, senior Republican on the board and acting chairman, since Farmer had resigned.

Rich Widow's Adoption Proposal Turned Down

NEWARK N. J. (INS)—A wealthy 76-year-old childless widow was turned down yesterday in her effort to adopt a 33-year-old father of four children.

Newark Superior Court Judge Mark A. Sullivan, Jr., told Mrs. Marian D. Hartman of Verona, N. J., that she might someday "understand that what I am doing is for your own protection."

Mrs. Hartman, reputedly worth nearly a quarter of a million, had applied for the adoption because Arthur Gloss of Little Falls, N. J., had been kind to her.

Brothers Face Life as Boys

Sons, 15 and 11, Reared as Girls by Parents; Officials Investigating

KENOSHA, Wis. (AP)—Two young brothers — shorn of their waist length blond, curly hair and divested of girls' clothing for possibly the first time in their lives—faced life today as boys.

Puzzled welfare officials investigated to determine why the parents of the two boys, 15 and 11, were apparently raising them as girls.

The parents, unnamed by authorities until the investigation is completed, said they saw nothing wrong in having their boys wear curls and not attend school.

* * *

Miss Janet Theleen, Kenosha County juvenile probation officer heading the investigation, said the parents will face a juvenile court hearing. No other charges were filed, she said.

The situation came to light Wednesday when a local hotel notified authorities it had found the boys and their mother huddled in the same bed in a darkened, unheated room. The hotel management said they had been living in the room about a month and seldom left it. One of the boys occasionally went out for bakery-goods.

* * *

The boys—wearing girls' clothing when found in the room—were taken to a hospital for examination for signs of malnutrition. Their mother was in a hospital room at Kenosha County jail.

The father reported he was employed by a drivers' school in Chicago, about 55 miles south of Kenosha.

Police Seek Owners of Impounded Bikes

Over a dozen abandoned bicycles, waiting to be claimed, are stored at the Pontiac Police Department.

Some of them have been there almost a year, Sgt. Henry O. Hoyt of the Juvenile Bureau said.

If owners provide a description of lost bikes, or license numbers, they can be returned, Hoyt said.

He reminded owners that a license only costs 25 cents, in case that is the reason they haven't claimed lost bikes.

'Soil Bank' Plan Can Ease Surplus

By OVID A. MARTIN
Associated Press Farm Reporter

WASHINGTON (AP) — A ground swell is developing in farming areas for a federal program that would reduce the size of the nation's farm plant until markets are better able to use what agriculture is capable of producing.

* * *

Farmers now recognize that agriculture over-expanded to meet war and postwar needs and that big surpluses accumulated as a consequence.

Few farmers see hope of any substantial improvement in the farm economy until production can be brought closer into balance with markets.

OK FARM RETIREMENT

At recent hearings held by the Senate Agriculture Committee in major farming areas and in interviews elsewhere, farmers disagreed on price support levels and methods of carrying out price guarantees. But there was an almost unanimous endorsement of a land retirement program.

It appears to be a pretty good wager that the Senate committee will include such a program in new farm legislation it plans to write. Both Democratic and Republican members greeted the idea as a "new look" in farm programs.

* * *

The plan is being advanced as a "soil bank." Farmers would take a portion of their tillable land out of all production and put it to soil-building uses. That would store fertility for a future emergency or to meet needs of an expanding population.

IDLE PAY APPROVED

For taking land out of production, farmers would get a payment from the government. Most farmers agreed that this payment should be enough to pay the taxes on the idled land, pay the cost of seeding it to a soil building crop, and give the farmer a rental fee equal to from 5 to 7 per cent of its annual productive value.

Prime advocates of such a plan are President Howard Hill of the Iowa Farm Bureau Federation and President James Patton of the National Farmers Union.

Some farmers would have the program require every farmer to idle a uniform percentage of his tillable land. Others would make it voluntary.

To protect dairymen and cattlemen from added competition, the plan would not allow grazing or the harvesting of forage crops from the idled land.

Naturally, a program of this kind would cost a lot of money. Estimates vary from 350 million to one billion dollars a year. If the plan works successfully to reduce production, farm prices could be expected to improve. It then would be possible to make gradual reductions in the rental fees.

The Iowa Farm Bureau leader said it certainly would not be more expensive than the present program under which the government lost about 800 million dollars in price support operations alone.

* * *

In advancing the soil bank idea, farmers recognize that present crop control measures have not succeeded in holding down the volume of crop production. This year's farm output will be the largest of record although rigid controls were invoked on cotton, wheat, rice, peanuts, and tobacco and less rigid controls on corn.

What is happening is this: About 10 per cent of the cropland has been taken out of the crops under controls, but this diverted land has been used to produce surpluses in other crops, such as oats, barley, grain sorghum, soybeans and the like.

* * *

But a uniform cut clear across the board in all cropland could be expected, farmers say, to reduce production of all crops and to bring about eventual improvement in the general farm price level.

Navymen Repair Yule Toys for Needy

Children's cast-off and broken toys are being repaired at the Pontiac Naval Reserve Training Center to provide Christmas presents for needy children.

Bicycles, wagons, scooters, baby carriages, dolls and "Davy Crockett' guns can all be fixed like new, Chief Petty Officer S. S. Stone said.

He said that these and any other no longer used can be donated by telephoning the center at FE 4-5137.

Reserve members who attend weekly drills are helping Navy men stationed at the center to put the toys back in working condition.

The newly repaired toys will be distributed through the Pontiac Police Department, Stone said.

Police Recover Loot

FLINT (AP) — Police estimate $6,000 in stolen goods has been recovered from two youths arrested Wednesday after their car knocked over a gas station pump. Jewelry, guns, cameras and other merchandise were found at the home of Thomas Jordan, 21, of Flint. Jordan and Ervie E. Wilson, 16, Mount Morris, are charged with breaking and entering burglary.

New Rescuers Added

BRIDGEPORT, Conn. (INS) — Amateur frogmen and skindivers have been added to the Bridgeport Civil Defense force because of their effective rescue work during the August flood emergency.

Lawmaker Travel Costs Should Be Made Public

Despite some abuses, this newspaper believes that, in general, junkets abroad enable members of Congress to gain needed information and so to do their work more efficiently.

Most lawmakers traveling at the people's expense, cling to the idea that they are on public business and are willing to work at it. There are always a few, however, who consider such trips vacations and act accordingly.

★ ★ ★

This year, according to an Associated Press survey, 206 members of Congress traveled or plan to travel outside the country on "official business." During a single week 40 Congressmen and attaches visited Rome alone. In three months 13 Senators and 37 Representatives visited Wiesbaden. Tours took others all over Europe and the Middle East and as far away as Hong Kong.

A disturbing feature of these junkets is how some lawmakers use counterpart funds. These are funds placed at the disposal of the United States by foreign nations in exchange for aids.

Reports have it that most traveling Congressmen draw about $100 a day in these funds but as much as $300 in some countries, for personal use. One House member tells of a colleague who "bought $2,000 worth of rugs and I know he didn't use his own money."

★ ★ ★

Another disturbing aspect of junkets is the fact that lawmakers' travel expenses aren't made public. The Congressmen don't even have to account for the counterpart funds they use. The only requirement is that they must return what they don't spend. The State Department, which hands out these funds, has no authority to make the facts public.

The need for remedial action is urgent. Taxpayers have a right to know how travel money is spent.

They pay the bill.

Recreation Department Offers Varied Programs

Most Pontiac residents know the City has a fine Parks and Recreation Department, but too few realize how varied are the programs offered for the Winter season.

To spread this knowledge among those most interested, Director David R. Ewalt has had 20,000 pamphlets printed and circulated. Listed in them are programs in which almost anyone could find something to interest him.

★ ★ ★

For example, athletics for women and girls includes basketball, volley ball and fencing. For men, Class A, B and C league basketball, volley ball and fencing are available. For grade school boys there is midget basketball and for boys under 19, an ice hockey program.

Under department sponsorship are such club activities as chess and checkers, square dancing, dramatics, weight reduction, League of the Blind dances and the Sunset Club for men and women over 60. Special club activities include Pontiac Women's Chorus and Pontiac Symphony Orchestra.

On request the department also will provide help in planning parties, organizing clubs and even in landscaping and control of insects.

We believe all this has a social value to the community far beyond its modest cost to taxpayers of less than $2 per capita annually.

Winter's Chill Warning

Snow and gale force winds which have lashed Pontiac and Oakland County should serve as a warning that the most dangerous driving season of the year is upon us.

Pedestrians and motorists alike should remember that from now until the balmy days of Spring, road and weather conditions are likely to be hazardous. Shoppers, particularly after the holiday season gets under way, should remember visibility may be reduced and cars can't be stopped as quickly as on dry roads.

Motorists must be especially mindful of this and more than ever so in school zones and after dark. They should take care also to keep their cars in perfect operating condition. Brakes, windows, windshield wipers, lights and direction signals should be checked regularly.

If all motorists and pedestrians would let these safety ideas govern their actions, Winter wouldn't be the year's most dangerous driving season.

The People's Business

Senate Is Target

Governor May Be Aiming at Reapportionment

By JACK I. GREEN

LANSING—Some observers believe that Gov. Williams has more than the welfare of mentally retarded children in mind when he attacks the Republican-controlled Senate as reactionary.

* * *

They suspect that he is laying the basis for another legislative reapportionment campaign, this time to put the Senate on stricter population basis.

Organized labor and the Democrats have not forgiven the beating they took in the last reapportionment election and have made it plain they still hope to reverse the voters' decision on that one.

You will recall that labor started the drive to redistrict the House and Senate on the grounds that they were no longer truly representative of population changes.

You will recall that the Republicans countered with the so-called Coleman "balanced" Legislature plan which allowed the House to be redistricted on a population basis, but pretty largely held the Senate to the status quo and then froze it in the Constitution that way.

Since then Williams has lost no chance to portray the Senate as a museum of fossils.

HAMMERS THEME

He has been busy hammering this theme in the current row between the House and Senate over providing more beds for mentally retarded children.

* * *

The tenor of his attacks give rise to the suspicion that the governor hopes to sell the people on the idea that the Senate must be redistricted if it is to be made responsive to the will of the people.

Of course, the governor's campaign has a lot of the old "when-are-you-going-to-stop-beating-your-wife" to it because he is assuming that the Senate is going counter to the will of the people and that he and the House are the only ones in step with the popular will.

This may be true, but if you can believe the senators they have not had any indications that the public at large gives a darn one way or another.

* * *

A lawmaker usually judges the importance of an issue by the reaction of the folks back home.

On that basis, the biggest issue in state government in a decade was last spring's fight to change the name of Michigan State College to Michigan State University.

PLENTY OF REACTION

Legislators were deluged with mail, telephone calls, visitors and advice on that issue to an extent not known on any other matter in years. Last spring's fight over expanding state highways also produced a lot of voter reaction.

But the lawmakers say that with the exception of the parents of mentally retarded children, their friends and a few organizations deeply interested in the problem, they are getting little public reaction this time.

There is no indication, either, that the governor is getting deaf with voter outcries, although he spent some of his good campaign money on a television broadcast last Sunday with the obvious intention of stirring up public excitement against the Senate.

So it would appear that if the Senate is arrogantly ignoring the public will on this matter the voters are becoming phenomenally shy about speaking up.

* * *

But we can expect the governor to continue to kill two birds with one stone, seeking to drive his program through the Senate and at the same time depicting the Senate as an obstacle to progress which can only be removed by a constitutional amendment.

Answer—You live in the heart of the wheat country, but few Americans, in city or county, have the gumption to eat wheat, the richest food source of the vitamins which prevent such trouble as yours. Send stamped, self-addressed envelope and 10 cents for the pamphlet Wheat to Eat.

Two years ago I had an operation for ——, which left me with . . . Do you think it will be all right for me to do somersaults? (Mrs. W. R.)

Answer — Ask your doctor. Pamphlet on Somersaults available on written request if you provide stamped, self addressed envelope. Do not use clipping.

Please settle this argument. I say a pregnant woman cannot mark her baby by getting scared. My fellow workers say she can. (W. A.)

Answer — "Marking" is sheer superstition. Where are you working — at the fish market?

Granddaughter has brought her first cold home from school . . . right advice now against bronchitis and the like this winter. (Mrs. C. M. K.)

Answer—Send 35c and stamped self-addressed envelope for Little Lesson No. 5, Call It CRI. If you accept and follow the advice I give in this booklet you're an exceptional grandmother.

Why not educate people about things they should not eat. An arthritic I know eats many undigestible foods . . . (Mrs. W. T.)

Answer — Everybody knows more than I do about that, it seems. I don't know what things people should not eat if they like em. Anyway, even if I could list things people should not eat, people are generally not teachable.

Lost 25 pounds in about a year, following the regimen in your booklet, and looks and feels so well that I want to lose 20 pounds . . .(Mrs. G. A.)

Answer—Send 35c and stamped, self-addressed envelope for Little Lesson No. 10, Rules for Reducing, and pamphlet How to Lose Weight.

When I had my eyes checked the eye doctor said I should not take too much calcium because I have cataracts. My family doctor says no one knows the cause of cataract. What do you advise? (Mrs. S. W.)

Answer—They can't both be right. I think the eye doctor was just guessing. In your place I'd get plenty of calcium, preferably in at least 1½ pints of milk, two eggs, a slab of cheese, some fresh or dried peas, dried beans, raw or slightly cooked cabbage, salad greens, some nuts or peanuts every day.

Please send me the pamphlet Jenky Stomac. (O. S.)

Answer — Postal card or a mere request will not bring a reply. For the pamphlet Yankee Stomach, which deals with common complaints referred to the stomach, such as fullness or bloating after eating, heartburn, waterbrash, acidity, gas, send self-addressed envelope.

About twenty years ago when in high school you published a recipe for preventing excessive or unpleasant perspiration underarm . . . (P. R.)

Answer — I had been out of school years before that. Send stamped, self-addressed envelope and ask in writing, signed, for pamphlet Excessive Sweating.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long, pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to the Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Mich.

Days of All Faiths

Most American of All Our Holidays, Thanksgiving Isn't Original With Us

By DR. HOWARD V. HARPER

The Thanksgiving Day observed each year in the United States is the most distinctively American of all this country's holidays, yet there is not much that is exclusively American about it. Even the most primitive peoples have days of thanksgiving, however crude their ideas of whom they are thanking may be. When rain comes again after a long drought or when food is again available after famine, they give thanks.

The Jews with their Feast of Tabernacles were perhaps the first to have a regular annual thanksgiving after the harvest. But the Greeks soon followed with their feast of Demeter, goddess of the harvest, and the Romans had a similar festival which they called Cerelia.

What would really surprise the average American, though, is that 2,000 years ago, right here on this continent, the Mayans had a thanksgiving day in the fall on which they ate a tremendous turkey dinner and then went to a football game. Perhaps the game itself did not resemble modern football too closely, but the combination of turkey, thanksgiving, and a big game (at which there was even band music) is enough to make anyone wonder whether there is ever such a thing as a new idea.

PILGRIMS BEGAN IT HERE

Thanksgiving is, of course, our direct legacy from the Massachusetts Pilgrims, who, by order of Governor Bradford, set aside December 13, 1621, as a day for "giving God thanks." They prepared for the occasion a "feaste of much fowle." Only 102 Pilgrims had landed at Plymouth a few months before, and since the landing 46 had died, so that there were only 56 white men and women left in the whole settlement to entertain the 90 friendly Indians who showed up to share the feast.

But there was still much to be grateful for since the little group had gathered a fine harvest from 20 acres of corn and the six acres of peas and barley they had been able to clean and plant. And an early spell of cold weather that fall had brought an unusually large amount of game to the milder climate near the ocean. Plentiful food for the winter was assured.

Thanksgiving did not become an annual observance at that time, however. Every two or three years a day would be officially proclaimed—there were 20 such days between 1621 and 1680—but it was not until 1789 that the idea of a Thanksgiving each year was even suggested.

* * *

In that year, just before adjournment of the Congress that adopted the Constitution, a member named Boudinot moved that a day be recommended for universal Thanksgiving throughout the country. The motion carried and President Washington appointed the last Thursday in November, which in that year was November 26.

STATES DIFFER

For some reason the custom of having one day for the whole country did not take hold, perhaps because the country had not yet developed a real unity. Soon each state was observing a different Thanksgiving Day each year. This variety of dates prevailed until 1864, when Lincoln brought them together by a proclamation which reestablished the last Thursday in November as the national Thanksgiving Day.

* * *

The American date is somewhat later in the year than that of other countries. Most people have their thanksgiving somewhat closer to the time of the harvest for which they are giving thanks. Canada, for example, usually observes the second Monday in October. The day is set each year by the Governor General. There is no regulation requiring him to choose the second Monday in October, but he usually does.

Case Records of a Psychologist

If Happy Marriage Appears Likely, Couple Will Be Grateful if You Push

Herman wouldn't be married even yet if I hadn't pushed him into a wedding ceremony. And I did it literally. In fact, I seized him by the arm and propelled him to a jewelry shop to buy the wedding ring. And I served as best man to make sure he wouldn't lose the ring till he had placed it on his bride's finger!

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case P-396: Herman J., aged 41, was an old bachelor engineer.

He used to be one of my students in Applied Psychology at Northwestern University.

* * *

Being wealthy, talented and good looking, he always had plenty of girl friends. But he kept deferring the decision to marry.

At the age of 38, he finally met a wonderful girl. They visited at our house several times.

Herman admitted he loved her with all his heart. and he gave her a big diamond engagement ring.

But he kept putting off their wedding day. Several years rolled around. Meanwhile, he'd come out to our house for a pep talk and keep me up till 3 a.m. discussing her.

Several times he has left me in the wee hours with a solemn promise that he'd marry her the next day, but then he'd get cold feet.

STAMPEDE PSYCHOLOGY

"I've wasted enough time on Herman," I finally told Mrs. Crane "I'm going to see that he gets married."

So I got them together and high-pressured Herman into setting his wedding hour for 5 p.m. next day. Mrs. Crane and I agreed to be present, and I was to take them out for a wedding dinner afterwards.

At 4 p.m. next day, Dr. Charles R. Goff's secretary phoned to tell me Herman hadn't yet shown up at his church office or even called.

At 5 p.m. she telephoned again to say they were now in Dr. Goff's study, but Herman wasn't even shaved and his sweetheart was not dressed for a wedding.

* * *

At 6 o'clock, Dr. Goff called me, saying Herman had made no suggestion as to getting married, so what should he do.

"I never push folks into a wedding," Dr. Goff added, "but I realize if he leaves my office, he'll probably never get this close to the ceremony again."

"Just keep Herman there," I exclaimed. "I'll grab a taxi and be right over. And let me do the pushing, for there's going to be a wedding!"

So Mrs. Crane and I took a taxi. As we strode into Dr. Goff's office, I took the positive attitude that all the plans were completed.

"We're here now, so let's get on with the wedding," I suggested.

"But Dr. Goff has a dinner date for tonight, and I wanted him to go out and dine with us," Herman started his crawfishing.

"Well, that's O. K. We'll give him a rain check on the dinner so let's get started."

* * *

"But I haven't bought her a wedding ring," Herman stalled, "and it's after 5 o'clock, so the stores will be closed."

But I seized him by the arm saying, we'd ask a policemen for the name of some jewelry store that would still be open.

"You get ready while we're gone, for we'll be back in half an hour," I called over my shoulder to the prospective bride and to Mrs. Crane.

As we walked along the street, Herman told me he was glad I had finally pushed him into a decision.

"It's been a terrible load on my mind," he admitted, "but now that the die is cast, I feel happy and lighthearted. I just couldn't make up my mind alone."

They were married within another hour. We took them to dinner. They now have two children in grammar school. Herman is far happier than he has ever been in his life.

* * *

But he would still be an old bachelor if I hadn't pushed him into marriage. When everything augurs well for happy marriage, don't hesitate to push 'em! I've pushed a lot of them and they are always grateful afterwards.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Voice of the People

Local Citizen Suggests Pedestrian Underpass

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.

It was very gratifying to see the picture and story of the proposed new county building and court house in the November 4 Press. Although it is a lot more elaborate than the one I proposed in my letter of last May, via this column, it is a step forward and looking to the future.

Perhaps the city fathers will give another of my ideas some study. I suggest that a pedestrian underpass be built at Saginaw and Huron Streets, one from the northwest corner to the southeast corner, and one from northeast to southwest.

Each would be about 20 feet wide and at the center could be a booth with a police officer on duty at all times to maintain order and give information and directions.

This would be worthwhile in many ways, especially as we have no bomb shelter. It could be very quickly converted to a bomb shelter. The plans should also include the much-needed toilet facilities.

As it would be necessary to ventilate this tunnel, there should be large G.M. diesel motors to run the ventilating system in the event of air raid.

Merchandise display cases could be rented along the wall of the tunnel, and one or two small shops, such as a coffee shop, could be there to defray the expense of the city maintenance.

Leading Russian Architect Returns Home in Disgrace

By JOHN H. MARTIN
INS Foreign Director

Red Party Boss Nikita Khrushchev and Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin are off on a back-slapping good will spree in India.

* * *

Witness, however, another "pilgrimage" which the Russians have made peculiarly their own. This is the sad journey homeward of Alexander Vlasov—who was once so high in the clouds of official power and now is in disgrace.

Vlasov is the Soviet architect who was enjoying himself in touring the United States with a housing delegation. He was in New York about to board a steamer for home when the hammer fell.

A Moscow announcement said that he, Vlasov, the chief architect of skyscraper-conscious Moscow, had been fired. Why? "Extravagance in ornamentation of buildings, over-spending and disregard of the people's needs."

DISBELIEVES STORY

Vlasov told reporters before he sailed that he did not believe the American press reports from Moscow. Obviously he was very nervous, however.

He reached Cherbourg on the Queen Elizabeth, and then took the boat train to Paris. Waiting for him were groups of Russians who prefer the Paris whirl to the regimented austerities of Moscow.

"Don't go back," they shouted to him. "Stay in freedom. Demand asylum."

Vlasov, who apparently still did not know what hit him in his brief absence from the fountainhead of communism in Moscow, smiled thinly. Then five husky Russians—some from the Soviet embassy and some from his own housing delegation—grabbed him and hustled him out of the St. Lazare station. They drove him away to the embassy with the exile shouts ringing: "Kidnaping, Kidnaping."

DENOUNCES ATTEMPT

Pictures of the bodyguards hustling off Vlasov, and the news accounts of the episode, provoked the Soviet embassy to call a news conference Thursday, the day Bulganin and Khrushchev took the gay champagne route toward India.

Vlasov was out before batteries of reporters and promptly denounced what he called a French police attempt to talk him into asylum in France.

He made it all sound very cloak-ish-and-daggerish. Said "A man with a dark face and bushy eyebrows" made the audacious gesture of suggesting asylum in the West.

* * *

Vlasov "confessed," not in Moscow but still on Soviet territory at the embassy, that "my colleagues and I paid too much attention to the decorative side of architecture."

"I am a patriot," he proclaimed. But then came a very revealing phrase about his sad trip back to Moscow:

* * *

"And I have a good family — and a little son whom I love very much."

Subordinate May Greet Boss First

Needn't Wait for Employer to Say 'Good Morning'

By EMILY POST

"A friend and I have been having an argument as to who should greet whom first—the employer or employe. I say that it doesn't make a bit of difference who says good morning first, but she is very definite in her belief that a subordinate should always wait to be spoken to by someone in a higher position. Will you please give us your opinion so that we may settle this argument?"

Answer: I agree with you—there is no discourtesy in an employe happening to greet the employer first.

"Dear Mrs. Post: Would you be so kind as to help me in this matter of table service? I am going to give a dinner party soon and will serve two kinds of wine—sherry with soup and claret with the meat.

"Are the sherry glasses supposed to be removed when the soup plates are taken away or are they left on until dessert?

"If the glasses are to be removed and a guest has not finished his (or her) wine, do you remove the glass anyway or ask the guest whether he (or she) would like to keep it?"

Answer: You do not take the glasses off.

"Dear Mrs. Post: I am going to be married soon and would like to wear 'something blue.' However, I do not know what the customary 'something blue' is. Will you advise me on this matter?"

Answer: "Something blue" can be a ribbon tied on your underclothes or garters, or it can be a blue stone in a pin. In fact, it can be any personal thing that can be worn without being noticed.

Monkey Jacket Now 'Ali Pasha'

By OLGA CURTIS

NEW YORK (INS) — Fashion experts sooner or later glamorize every type of clothing. This season they've gotten around to the monkey jacket.

* * *

Only it's not a monkey jacket any more.

Ceil Chapman, who is reviving the little embroidered jacket as a fancy cover for evening wear, has re-named it the "Ali Pasha."

It's prettier and a lot more expensive — but it's still the same bolero length open jacket with short sleeves that the organ grinder's monkey wears.

Miss Chapman makes her "Ali Pashas" out of lavish fabrics loaded with exquisite embroidery in beading, pearls and golden thread. She likes them topping plain white or plain black evening dresses with low cut tops and simply draped skirts.

She puts a white crepe jacket embroidered in gold and silver over a white silk chiffon dress. A multicolor embroidery heavy in gold tops a black crepe sheath.

There also is a blue velvet "Ali Pasha" jacket worked in silver or gold that covers pale blue draped chiffon. For women who prefer less glitter, one little white jacket is embroidered in silver—and tiny white felt bowknots.

Fear, Fat Cause Delay in Childbirth

U-M Obstetrician Makes Report on Prolonged Labor

ANN ARBOR (AP)—Fear and fat are the major causes of prolonged labor among expectant mothers, a University of Michigan obstetrician says—and usually both causes can be stopped at home.

* * *

Dr. Tommy N. Evans, reporting in the November issue of Obstetrics and Gynecology, said he studied 677 cases of prolonged labor covering an 18-year span in Women's Hospital at the University.

Fear or other anxieties figure in 13 per cent of prolonged cases, Dr. Evans said. Overweight is usually responsible for 25 per cent of the prolonged births.

A woman having her first child is not considered under prolonged labor unless it continues for 24 hours without birth, Dr. Evans said. Subsequent children should be born within 18 hours before labor is considered prolonged.

* * *

The answer to both causes are simple in most cases, he added. Diet can counteract overweight and education and family encouragement can defeat fear.

CITES 5 FACTS

Dr. Evans' study cited five salient facts.

Prolonged labor seldom repeats itself in the same patient.

* * *

Nearly 80 per cent of prolonged labor cases occurred in women under 30 years of age and involved first pregnancies.

Artificial inducements such as drugs or external methods were not needed in prolonged cases to any greater extent than they were needed in ordinary cases. Artificial inducement is not required in 94 per cent of prolonged labors and in 92 per cent of ordinary births.

Infant weight is not a major factor in prolonged labor.

Infant mortality is only slightly higher in prolonged cases—but Dr. Evans quickly adds that his studies indicate the duration of labor is not a cause of death in most cases.

* * *

Dr. Evans said, too, that prolonged labor is quickly declining. National figures indicate that 8-9 per cent of all births in 1943 involved prolonged labor. The incidence now is only 2 per cent of all births.

TO PREVENT ANXIETY

While patient education and psychology are helping greatly, Dr. Evans says, "to avoid the contagion of anxiety," labor rooms in maternity hospitals should be partitioned and sound-proofed.

* * *

The term "labor pains," should be dropped from the medical vocabulary and "uterine contractions" should be substituted, he recommends.

"At the same time," he adds, "no effort should be made to delude the patient into believing that childbirth is not customarily associated with some discomfort."

However, he adds, it is interesting to note that caudal and spinal block anesthetics, which remove much of the childbearing discomforts while allowing the patient to remain conscious and participate, have led to the decrease in prolonged labors.

Chapter Marks 17th Birthday

Members of Psi Chapter of Sigma Beta sorority gathered at the home of Mrs. Joseph Benson on Cherokee road Thursday evening to celebrate the founding of the chapter in November 1938.

New Hairdo Makes for Quick Switch

If you're looking for a quick way to bring about a big change in your looks get a new hair-do. The surest way to have a charming one always at your fingertips is to know your own hair intimately.

No one can wear every hair style; if the face will take it, the hair may not, and vice versa. But every woman has a choice of many pleasing variations, if she will take the trouble to seek them out.

Make 'Turkey' of Flowers

NEW YORK (INS)—Turkeys are a Thanksgiving "must"—and you can include a non-edible gobbler in the goings-on by making one out of flowers.

* * *

That's what a florist exhibiting at the Metropolitan Retail Florists Assn. in New York did, and here's how to copy the idea:

Start out by carving a turkey out of plastic foam, then consult your florist as to how many blossoms you'll need, depending on the size of the turkey.

Use timely, golden pompon chrysanthemums. Just put each flower in place and stick a straight pin through the heart to attach it to the turkey. The pin won't show unless you look quite closely. Keep attaching flowers until the entire base is covered.

Then use a pink pompon for each eye, and shape a piece of charred wood for a beak. Feet can be suggested with black-painted autumn leaves.

* * *

Harvest is another Thanksgiving theme and this is a particularly apt one for a table centerpiece. Stand up two brown, twisted candles in a small bowl, then surround them with yellow Fuji mums and green and yellow croton leaves.

On the table around the bowl place fruit—apples, pears, grapes, green peppers—so that the bowl is invisible. You can stick toothpicks into the pieces of fruit to keep them together.

Let Problems Solve Themselves

By ELIZABETH WOODWARD

The normal ups and down of a young romance aren't enough for some people. They have to do something to speed the ups and hastens the downs. They can't sit quietly and let things work themselves out.

And what they do doesn't necessarily make things better. They can fog up the issue, make things so strained that there's no patching things up.

If they'd only do nothing! And let time and circumstance resolve problems for them.

Look what trying to fix things did for this girl. She writes:

"Dear Miss Woodward: I liked him the first time I met him, and he liked me, too. I brought him home with me and he met my mother and she liked him, too.

"But since I'm only 14 I'm not allowed to go out at all. I guess Mother's right about that—I try to see her point.) We have no phone so he can't call me but Mother allows him to come up to the house every other week.

"Well, I didn't think he'd like that, so I called him up. He wasn't home and I told his mother that I didn't want him bothering me. That very night he came up and asked me what the idea was. I told him the truth and he said that seeing me every other week was okay with him—better than nothing.

"Since that night I haven't seen him. Whether he's doing what my mother said, or is mad, I really don't know. He lives so far away that I can't go to see him, or meet him on the street and ask him.

"Please tell me how I can find out if he's mad—and how I can see him more often?"

Answer: There's a girl who upset the applecart by imagining what she thought he thought. And she put her imagining into action by a phone call that just stirrred up the muddy waters.

It created a scene at his home when his mother demanded to know what it was all about. Made him so upset he came over right away to get things straight.

And he told her just where he stood. Her mother's rules held with him. Every other week was okay.

So what else is there to do but wait and see what gives? Will he be around two weeks from now or won't he? He has the choice. And there's little she can do about it.

After all, she can't go out with him. And unless he's mightily attracted, and likes her home, he's not going to bother too dreadfully much.

It's a delicate situation—but the more she does about it the more tender it becomes. The more likely she is to be wounded.

This is one of those times when the gal should lie low and wait and see what happens. And be joyful if anything does!

What can be more delicate than the situation in which a girl thinks she loves two different men at the same time. How can she make up her mind? How should she treat them both? Here's a girl in that predicament. She writes:

"Dear Miss Woodward: I'm in love with two boys—and they say they love me. The one I love most knows it, but the trouble is that he picks up and leaves me whenever he wants to.

"I just met the second boy a couple of weeks ago. He told my brother that he wanted to go with me, then he went away for some time. And I'm trying to make up my mind which one I like best. Can you help me?"

Answer: A girl caught between two infatuations is in a real pickle. Particularly when she knows one of the boys she thinks she loves, and imagines that she knows the other.

This girl has dated one of these boys, has gotten to know him and like him. There's a basis for her affection for him.

The other boy hasn't been anywhere near her. He has just said he'd like to go with her. And the idea has her fascinated.

Wouldn't practically anybody think it too soon for her to make a choice between a boy who loves her and leaves her and a boy she hasn't had a chance to know yet?

Her position with both boys is too delicate and fragile for her to count on either. The less seriously she takes both the better.

Dress Design Features Real Conversation Piece

Harvey Berin has an uninhibited talent for making clothes that give the wearer assurance of being well dressed. His unobstrusive styling, flattering use of detail and distinctive body lines, all contribute to the success of his designs.

This pattern is a case in point. Cut on a modified princess silhouette, the entire front consists of only two pieces, with figure-molding achieved by lengthened midriff darts.

The V neckline is converted into a heart shape with tacked-on bows that pull it to the sides. In back, the dress is a real conversation piece. Here the full-length gores open out into three deep pleats that sway prettily when in motion.

Choose peau de soie, satin, brocade, taffeta or faille for an afternoon into evening dress in town.

* * *

If you're off for sunny places, consider silk prints, linen, novelty cotton or shantung. This pattern is cut to designer measurements, not standard pattern measurements.

| Bust | Waist | Hips | Sizes |
|---|---|---|---|
| 34 | 24 | 35 inches | 10 |
| 35 | 25 | 36 inches | 12 |

| 38 | 28 | 39 inches | 16 |
| 40 | 30 | 41 inches | 18 |

Size 12 requires 7½ yards of 39-inch material for dress and one-fourth yard of 39-inch material for interfacing.

White Kid Muff Joins With Bag for Dress Wear

PARIS (INS) — Now is the time for all smart women to wear a muff.

But to be in the latest Paris style, your muff should be original, made of a special material or combined with a bag or stole.

A muff this season need not necessarily be made of fur. Dior, for example, shows a smart afternoon and evening muff made of white kid. It is large, draped and has a cuffed pocket in front.

Raphael has a very dressy accessory piece made of velvet for after-dark wear. It is a long stole ending in a padded valvet muff. Outdoors the stole is worn over the head like a hood with the hands in the muff. Indoors you drape the stole over the shoulders of a cocktail dress and push the muff up on the bare arm.

Fur mutts this winter are either gigantic or shaped in some novelty form. Henry A La Pensee shows a jumbo muff of black lamb. Flat in shape, it is at the same time a handbag with a envelope-cuff fastened by a rhinestone snow-crystal. Patou has designed an odd-looking muff shaped like a super-size cocoon. Made of ermine, it is worn with a matching ermine beret.

* * *

One fashionable Parisienne the other day made a "temporary muff" out of her mink stole by rolling it up and fixing the outside with two diamond clips.

Confident Living

Negative Thinking Crowd Happy Things Off Ledger

By NORMAN VINCENT PEALE

Every year at Thanksgiving I like to talk about the "attitude of gratitude." This is one of the most dramatically creative attitudes one may develop. After I had explained it in a radio broadcast last year a man came to me and said that the phrase interested him and asked how in a practical sense it could help him.

DR. PEALE

"I have nothing to be grateful for," he said despondently. "Everything is going badly. I'm just about all washed up." So ran his dismal complaint.

It was evident that his mind was filled with shadowy negativisms. This mental discoloration was, of course, causing his defeat. So, using a technique I had tried successfully on people many times before, I got out a big sheet of paper. On one side I wrote, "Things which make me unhappy." And on the other I wrote, "Things which make me happy."

Then I said, "First I want you to write down in this column all the things which make you unhappy and in the other all that give you happiness."

He remarked that he had plenty of material for the unhappy column, but nothing for the other side. Finally he finished writing a long list of woes and turned the paper over.

LIST REASONS FOR THANKSGIVING

"Let's practice that attitude of gratitude now," I told him, "and make a list of your reasons for thanksgiving. What have you to be grateful for?" I asked.

"Not a thing," he answered.

"Can you see out of both of your eyes?"

"Certainly," he said, a little annoyed.

"Some people can't," I responded. "So write down: 'Can see — both eyes'."

He wrote it down and then I asked him about his ears.

"Oh," he said, "I've only fifty per cent hearing in my left ear."

"Allright, write it down—'one hundred and fifty per cent hearing'."

Then I went on to ask him about his nose, mouth, arms, fingers and the rest of his body, pointing out finally that we had not exhausted the reasons for thanksgiving in his own body, to say nothing of being thankful for his country, his home, sunlight, moonlight, food, etc.

"O. K.," he said with a grin. "I've got the idea; you can stop now."

"Take that paper home with you," I advised, "and go on with your listings. You'll find lots more for which you can be grateful."

MAN'S WHOLE LIFE WAS CHANGED

I received a letter from him some months later. "I've finished that other side," he wrote, "and now I'm crossing out things on the negative side. I wouldn't have believed it possible, but my whole life has been changed by the practice of the attitude of gratitude."

Try it at your own Thanksgiving dinner this next Thursday. Give each one a paper and pencil and ask them to list the things for which they should be grateful; or ask each one in turn to orally mention all his reasons for gratitude. See if it doesn't raise their spirits and improve their digestions.

Since each one will have to say he is thankful for the others, it will deepen the love of all for all, and bind the loved ones more closely together. Such attitude will make for efficiency too in the days that follow.

If you practice this approach to living daily, it will add to your clarity of mind, increase your force of personality and build a strength of character you have never enjoyed before.

The New York subways carried a Bible Society poster one Thanksgiving. It read simply, "Bless the Lord, O my soul, and forget not all His benefits. (Psalm 103)." I wonder how many of the millions of people who saw that really understood how penetrating a message it is?

It will lift discouragement and depression from your mind to affirm that health-giving passage every day. It can revamp your attitude toward your job, toward people and help you to live with joy and enthusiasm.

AMERICANS HAVE MANY REASONS

Certainly we Americans have every reason to practice the attitude of gratitude. Our ancestors who began the practice of national thanksgiving realized that it is good for the soul of a nation humbly to thank God for His blessings.

They also knew that a positive attitude in the national mind will keep the people alert and creative. So this Thanksgiving Day, let's practice the attitude of gratitude.

Salvation Army to Hear Colonel

Army Band, Songsters Will Provide Musical Numbers Tuesday

Colonel Charles Davidson, a native of Scotland, has been assigned for a period of special service in the United States by General Wilfred Kitching, international leader of the Salvation Army.

He will speak at the Salvation Army Citadel, 29 W. Lawrence St. Tuesday evening at 7:30 in a special Thanksgiving service.

Born in Aberdeen of Salvationist parents, he is a graduate of the Salvation Army International Training College, London. At that time, he worked a great deal with the development of the Boy Scout movement.

While in the Far East 25 years, he served under the late Commissioner Gumpei Yamamuro and Ernest L. Pugmire. Yamamuro was the first Oriental Salvationist to achieve the rank of commissioner. He was often called the "William Booth of Japan."

During World War II when he was in Japanese prison camps, Colonel Davidson acted as liaison between the Japanese and the prisoners.

The colonel states that the rehabilitation program includes many new projects such as corps halls, homes for children and youth camps.

The Army band and songsters will provide the musical numbers for the service. The public is invited.

'Pioneer Girls' Awarded 47 Badges in Sanctuary

In a recent Encampment service held in the sanctuary of the Oakland Ave. United Presbyterian Church, 47 badges and ranks were awarded to the Pioneer Girls for achievements earned during the past four months.

"Pioneer Girls" is a weekday club for girls 8 to 18 years which is open to the girls of Pontiac. They meet in the Oakland Avenue Church, across from the Wisner School and have been organized for three years.

Pioneer Girls has three divisions: Pilgrims for girls grades 3-6, Colonists for Junior High, and Explorers for High School.

Pilgrims, grades three and four, meet at 4:15 p. m. on Monday, grades five and six on Wednesday at 3:15 p. m. and the Colonists on Tuesday evening at 6:45.

All groups meet in Fellowship Hall at the church under the direction of Mrs. Glora Luck, youth director and guide, assisted by Miss Lee Osborne, and Mrs. Earl Shepherd in the Colonist group.

* * *

The Oakland Avenue Pioneer Girls are affiliated with the national Pioneer Girls headquarters, 5334 W. Addison St., Chicago.

This club program for girls was "pioneered" at Wheaton, Ill., 14 years ago by a few college students and is now active in over 35 states and in several foreign countries.

Churches of over 20 different denominations sponsor the local groups, known in Pioneer terminology as "fortalices." Meeting weekly for crafts, games, singing, and Bible Exploration, the girls have opportunity for well-rounded development, leadership training, earning achievements in domestic arts, sports, music, camping, citizenship, and other fields.

The major emphasis of the club is that of wholesome practical Christianity integrated with the secular aspects of life according to the organization slogan: "Christ in every phase of a girl's life."

Twenty-five thousand or more Pioneer Girls across the country contribute enough each month to support full-time five missionaries under various mission boards on the foreign field; a nurse in Africa, a translator-artist in Mexico, a youth worker in Holland, one in Japan and one in Germany. The girls also finance their own club activties by means of voluntary "shares" brought weekly, leaving support of the national work to adult friends, churches, and groups.

* * *

The Pilgrim division has three ranks, Voyager, Settler, and Townsman, and thirteen badges in their achievement program.

The Colonist division includes the Pathfinder, Homesteader, and Harvester ranks and nineteen badges.

The Oakland Avenue girls have twenty-five enrolled in the Pilgrims and twenty-two in the Colonists, with an average attendance of forty-five in both groups attending each week.

Kathleen O'Brien is the first girl in the local church group to earn all the ranks (3) and badges (13) in the Pilgrim division. Kathleen is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert T. O'Brien Jr., 47 Pingree St.

In honor of the occasion, she was presented with a Bible dictionary.

"But, Pop—Don't You Love God, Too?"

The church bells are ringing and Jimmy and Jane are all dressed up ready to go. And so is Mother.

But not "Pop". He seems to think that "keeping the Lord's Day holy" is all right for the children. For Pop himself, though, it is his day of rest..."it even says so in the Bible." Besides, he will insist, he "is better than some people who go to church regularly."

Not all "Pops" are like this, of course. But empty pews in countless churches bear witness to the numerous fathers...and mothers also...who are either indifferent concerning their obligation to worship God, or confused as to how they should do so.

There is confusion, in fact, even among those who recognize this obligation. Some Christians insist that the Sabbath (Saturday) is the day to be kept holy, as do Orthodox Jews. In this they are following the literal meaning of the Law of Moses and ignoring the practice of the Christian Church from Apostolic times, as sanctioned by Jesus Christ.

Our Lord Himself substituted the New Covenant for the Old, abrogating the law which made the Sabbath observance obligatory. Sunday became The Lord's Day of the Christians even during the lifetime of the Apostles. After several centuries, it became a world-wide law of the Church, which Christ had authorized to make laws.

There is also confusion as to what constitutes "keeping The Lord's Day holy." Catholics, for instance, must assist at Mass, or The Lord's Supper, under penalty of serious sin. Many other Christians also place great importance on unfailing participation in Sunday worship. But many think going to church, while a "nice thing to do," is not absolutely necessary. Christian opinion also varies concerning what work, and what pleasure, are permissible on The Lord's Day.

Even though you are not a Catholic...and perhaps never intend to be...it will be inspiring and valuable for you to learn the Catholic teaching and practice concerning The Lord's Day. For these teachings and practice date back to Apostolic times and have their origin in the teaching and example of The Master Himself. They give a clear and understandable guide to those who wish to manifest their love of the Lord on His Day.

Don't wait for your child to ask: "But, don't you love God, too?" ## Troy Union Class Studies Pioneer Life

By RUTH REED
Troy Correspondent

TROY TOWNSHIP—Mrs. Evelyn Ruffner, fourth grade teacher at Troy Union School here, is "thrilled" over the results of a Pioneer Unit which represents the work of her class youngsters.

* * *

The students are studying pioneer life in Social Studies Class, and in an effort to make the study more realistic and to better understand and appreciate American culture, Mrs. Ruffner formulated a plan to set up an actual pioneer home.

The youngsters are comparing pioneer home life, clothes, schools and amusements with modern American living, and their enthusiasm and cooperation amazes Mrs. Ruffner.

Children, parents, even the teachers in the school have brought something or contributed in some way to make the Pioneer Unit successful.

Tim Bailey and Paul Newman, two of her students, have built log cabins, "complete to the curtains."

TO GO ON TV SHOW

Kenneth Bateman, instructor of a "Practice Teaching" course which Mrs. Ruffner is taking at Wayne University, is arranging to put the antique display on the university's Saturday TV show.

Upon the homemade fireplace (of orange crates) hangs a gun which belonged to a relative of Daniel Boone.

At the side of the fireplace is an old-fashioned bed-warmer. And a beautiful antique clock hangs over the fireplace.

On the mantle are pewter coffee pot and a pair of candlesticks dating back to the Revolutionary War.

A butter churn, coffee-grinder, oil lamp, hand-made plane, wooden maple syrup bucket, picture frame (also handmade) and an old fashioned clay canning bottle are just a few of the many articles displayed in the unit.

Romeo Exceeds UF Drive Goal

The efforts of volunteer canvassers were successful in placing the Romeo area first of 14 communities in raising funds for the drive in North Macomb county.

Waterford Educators Also Approve Hiring of Guard

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP — When the Board of Education met Thursday evening a report on the Federal Aid survey conducted recently in the school district was presented by James DenHerdee, assistant to the superintendent. He stated that approximately 96 per cent of the questionnaires had been returned and were being compiled by four clerks.

* * *

The survey was made to determine the increase during the past year in the number of government employes in the area. If there has been a 10 per cent increase and the district qualifies, it stands to gain $540 for each child in the increase. If it does not qualify, it gets nothing, officials stated.

The survey will be completed by Dec. 1, but, according to DenHerder, it will be 60 to 90 days before the board will know if its application has been accepted.

A 3½ million dollar bond issue is slated to be presented to the voters in February. If passed, it would permit the construction of a second junior high school and four additional elementary schools plus the purchase of six sites—the four elementary and additional junior high and senior sites.

If the Federal Aid grant came through, the taxpayers would determine if the funds were to be applied on the redemption of the bonds or if they were to be used for more construction.

* * *

In other business, the Board approved the hiring of a crossing guard for the Elizabeth Lake-Voorheis roads intersection. Mrs. Paul McCoy, director of food services at the junior and senior high schools, gave a report on the progress and procedures in her department.

The lace yoke was edged at the neckline with pearl trim. Her fingertip veil of imported Swiss silk net was held in place by a pearl trimmed tiara. She carried a bouquet of white roses, carnations and ivy in a cascade effect.

Mrs. Maurice Peterson of Fenton was her sister's matron of honor and serving as bridesmaid was Marguerite Kinney of Lansing. Flower girls were Carol Sue and Janet Louise Dawson.

Merle Norton of Otsego was best man and seating the 350 guests were the Rev. Maurice Peterson of Fenton, Harold Keith and Eugene Terbush of Pontiac and Darl Laughlin and Jack Parrish of Otsego.

A reception was held immediately following the ceremony in the Fellowship Hall of the church. In charge of the affair was the Marcellyn Reed Missionary Circle of the Emmanuel Baptist Church.

After a wedding trip to northern Michigan, the couple will reside in Otsego. They expect to leave in March for the Dominican Republic, West Indies, where both will do missionary work.

Kefauver Hints Dem Collusion

Senator Charges Party Committee Favors Adlai for Nomination

CHICAGO (AP) — Sen. Estes Kefauver says the Democratic National Committee has favored Adlai E. Stevenson's candidacy for the Democratic presidential nomination.

* * *

The Tennessee senator's verbal blast came at a news conference yesterday after his arrival for the current three-day meeting of party leaders.

Paul Butler, national committee chairman, denied Kefauver's charges.

SHARES SPOTLIGHT

Kefauver's accusations, made while other prospective candidates were going around shaking hands, held chief attention temporarily.

But he will share the spotlight tonight with Stevenson and Gov. Averell Harriman of New York at a $100-a-plate dinner.

Former President Harry S. Truman, who could have much to say about the selection of a nominee at the Democratic National Convention next August, also will address the diners.

Stevenson, the only declared candidate for the nomination, is scheduled to speak at 11:15 p.m. EST. His address will be carried by NBC and ABC radio and television networks.

* * *

More than 2,500 reservations, a spokesman said, have been made for the dinner winding up a three-day party rally.

Gloria Vanderbilt Quits Co-Starring Role in Western

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Heiress Gloria Vanderbilt pulled out of a costarring role in Frank Sinatra's first Western because her part wasn't big enough.

* * *

Neither Sinatra nor Director Don McGuire would give the reasons for the hasty departure last night of the poor little rich girl, who often has been linked romantically with the singer.

But today a source close to the production gave the real reason why Miss Vanderbilt and her two sons left hastily for New York City. She had come here last weekend, declaring to reporters that she had dreamed since 14 of becoming a movie star. She now is 31.

In a tersely worded statement, Sinatra's company said only that "Miss Vanderbilt had withdrawn from 'Johnny Concho' by mutual agreement."

While Sinatra and McGuire declined comment, the unidentified source said no acting tests were made, only tests for costume and makeup.

In "Johnny Concho," Sinatra plays a swaggering young man who terrorizes a town with the help of a brother who is a gunslinger. Gloria would have played the town storekeeper's daughter.

Filmdom Builds Legend Around Dean's Memory

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — This town, which specializes in legends, is building another around the late James Dean.

The 24-year-old actor died in a highway crash Sept. 30; yet he is as much in the public consciousness as he was when he lived. Perhaps more so. Men of genius who die young always excite the imagination.

* * *

Hollywood is agreed that Dean was a genius. Says Nick Ray, who directed him in one of his last pictures: "I think within two years Jim would have taken his place with Laurence Olivier, Gerard Philipe and Marlon Brando as one of the great actors of modern times."

Dean's death hit Ray especially hard. A bond had been established between the director and Dean during the year they knew each other and worked together. They had planned to form their own company.

* * *

Ray illustrated how the Dean legend is growing. He has been receiving some despondent letters from a woman in Erie, Pa., describing Dean as "the child of my heart."

Ray directed Dean in "Rebel Without a Cause." He told of making unusual preparations for the assignment.

* * *

"I had heard from everyone that Jim was difficult to work with," the director said. "So I decided to spend as much time with him before the picture as I could.

"I went East and found out how he lived back there, the kind of music he liked, all about him. I had him spend a lot of time with my son, who is 17. I wanted him to experience the relationship with a younger boy, as he had to enact in the picture.

"I found that Jim wasn't difficult at all. He was a tremendously vital, gifted and earnest young man."

* * *

His reputation for eccentric behavior was due to the fact that he was still growing up, Ray thinks.

"Jim had a lot of maturing to do," he said. "He had had a rugged boyhood. His mother had died when he was 9, and he could never quite forgive her for that."

The love of racing was part of the growing-up process, said Ray, himself a car enthusiast.

Although Dean is gone, his name is as prominent as ever. "Rebel" is doing big business, and he'll be seen in "Giant" next year. Already he's being boomed for an Oscar.

6 Airlines Mull $27 Million Plan

Detroit - Wayne Major Revamping May Mean Move From Willow Run

DETROIT (AP)—Six major airlines serving the Detroit area are considering whether a $27 million improvement program at Detroit-Wayne Major Airport would warrant a shift of operations from Willow Run.

* * *

Airline representatives, Detroit and Wayne County officials met and the improvement program was outlined.

New construction agreed upon at Wayne Major includes.

Two new runways, taxiways and cement parking aprons, $13,864,782.

Nine hangars, $9 million.

A $14,500,000 addition to the airline terminal building.

The program would be financed by state, federal and county funds and would be completed in four years.

Airline spokesmen said it would be months before they would decide on the proposed move.

* * *

"The airport improvements and what they will cost the airlines will have to be considered by each individual airline," said Capital Airlines Vice President Robert J. Wilson.

He said, "We cannot make a decision until the recommendations of the President's Air Coordinating Committee have been reviewed by Secretary of Defense Wilson."

The ACC, earlier this month, recommended the airlines transfer their operations to Wayne Major so that military reserve units in the Detroit area could be based at Willow Run.

Airlines represented at the meeting included Capital, Eastern, American, Northwest, TWA, United and Delta-C & S.

Michigan, OSU Meet in Big 10 'Squeeze Play'

NEW YORK (INS) — Michigan and Ohio State, the giants in Big Ten football, meet today at Ann Arbor in the gridiron squeeze play of the year.

Michigan, if victorious, will make its Rose Bowl dreams come true, while a win for Ohio State would give the Buckeyes their 2nd straight conference championship.

The Buckeyes are prohibited by conference rules, however, from making a repeat trip to Pasadena this year.

A Michigan loss would put once-beaten Michigan State in line for the bowl bid. The Spartans, beaten only by Michigan, have an identical 5-1 conference record with the Wolverines and wind up the season this afternoon against Marquette, a non-conference foe.

The host half of the Rose Bowl picture also will be decided in two Pacific Coast Conference matches. UCLA goes against Southern California and Oregon State travels to Oregon.

A win would wrap up the bowl bid for the UCLANS, but a loss, coupled with an Oregon State win at Oregon, would send the Beavers to the Pasadena New Year's party.

Oklahoma and Maryland, already selected to face each other in the Orange Bowl, are favored to continue unbeaten this weekend.

Sooners are expected to wrap up the Big Seven Conference championship against Nebraska, while the Maryland Terps should have little trouble gaining their 15th straight win against George Washington. The Sooners are three touchdown favorites to win their 28th straight game.

Yale meets Harvard in the grand daddy of the traditional rivalries. Though Yale is favored to win, the Elis have to pray out a Princeton loss to Dartmouth if they want the Ivy League crown.

Down South, Auburn plays Clemson in an intersectional tilt, Tennessee visits Kentucky in an old rivalry and Vanderbilt meets Florida. A win for Auburn would help the Plainsmen along the road to the Sugar Bowl.

Gator Bowl officials will be watching the outcome of the Pittsburgh-Penn State game this afternoon, while the Sugar Bowl folks undoubtedly will see if West Virginia can get back on the winning track against Syracuse.

Other top games on tap for this afternoon of traditional rivalries include:

Iowa at Notre Dame, Wake Forest at Duke, Arkansas at LSU, SMU at Baylor, Colorado A&M at Brigham Young, Delaware at Bucknell, California at Stanford, Iowa State at Colorado, Rutgers at Columbia, Holy Cross at Connecticut, Illinois at Northwestern, Purdue at Indiana, Missouri at Kansas, Kansas State at Oklahoma A&M, Lafayette at Lehigh, Wisconsin at Minnesota, Virginia at North Carolina, and William and Mary at North Carolina State.

DOUBLE TROUBLE — Michigan ends Tom Maentz (left) and Ron Kramer, lauded by coach Bennie Oosterbaan as the two greatest ends he has ever seen on one team, are shown during team's workouts this week. Game today against Ohio State will decide the Big Ten championship and a possible Rose Bowl trip for Michigan.

Buckeye Army Arrives in 12 Special Trains

Ann Arbor Invasion to Swell Attendance Over Capacity

ANN ARBOR (AP)—Michigan, hot on the trail of its 19th Big 10 title and fourth Rose Bowl trip, met Ohio State and All-America halfback Howard (Hopalong) Cassady today in Michigan Stadium.

* * *

More than 12 special trains carried Buckeye rooters from neighboring Ohio to help jam the stadium with the largest crowd ever in a college-owned football arena—97,369. That's 130 over capacity.

* * *

With a victory, Ohio could take its second consecutive conference crown and 10th in history. But Ohio is barred from the Rose Bowl trip because of its appearance last year. It would make a loss even more bitter for the Wolverines because their neighborhood rival, Michigan State, would take second place in the conference and the bowl trip as well.

* * *

On the other hand, the victory would earn Michigan the crown and the sunny trip. A tie would have the same effect as an Ohio victory. For Michigan, it's all or nothing.

The Wolverine squad is in perfect physical shape for the contest after scraping through with injuries to a 7-1 season record, 5-1 in the conference. Their only defeat was to fired up Illinois two weeks ago.

* * *

The Bucks are undefeated in the conference with five victories. But they lost two of their three non conference games to Stanford and Duke, for a 6-2 season record.

Ohio is having injury trouble at right halfback. Both Jerry Harrkrader and Jim Roseboro, their first two men, are hurt and Coach Woody Hayes says he may have to use Don Sutherin, a stocky, powerful sophomore ,5-10), (198).

But Cassady, the Big 10's leading rusher with 812 yards, is the Ohio big gun, carrying the ball almost twice as much as any other Buckeye back for 14 touchdowns.

Makes Kansas Debut

Wilt Scores 42 Points as Frosh Trim Varsity

LAWRENCE, Kan. (AP)—"There's no question about it—he's the greatest basketball player alive today."

Dr. Forrest C. (Phog) Allen, veteran University of Kansas basketball coach, didn't hesitate last night in applying that tag to Wilt (The Stilt) Chamberlain.

* * *

The 7-foot Chamberlain is only a freshman.

* * *

Allen — and 14,000 others — watched in amazement as the giant but graceful Negro poured in 42 points in leading the Kansas freshmen to an 81-71 victory over the Jayhawk varsity.

* * *

Allen, starting his 39th season at Kansas and celebrated his 70th birthday yesterday, seldom is at a loss for words when it comes to talking about his favorite sport. But he had a hard time finding the superlatives to describe Chamberlain.

* * *

"He's just like putting hot grease on lettuce. He makes you wilt," said Phog.

Chamberlain, who was "cold" the first few minutes, dropped in 16 of 35 field goal attempts and hit 10 free throws. He came within 2 points of the all-time Kansas individual single-game scoring record held jointly by Clyde Lovellette, now with the professional Minneapolis Lakers, and B. H. Born. He grabbed 18 defensive rebounds and 6 under his own basket.

Allen concedes Chamberlain still has a few rough edges but is quick to learn. Wilt, who scored 2,252 points in three years for Overbrook High School in Philadelphia, literally slams the ball down through the nets when he goes up for a shot under the basket.

Storm Slows Deer Hunting

By JACK PATTERSON

MIO — Friday was the 1st consistantly good hunting day of the season. No hurricanes, no rain, no snow and hunters who have seen many deer but failed to score began bringing in some nice ones.

PATTERSON

Started our morning rounds with a visit to the Crow Bar Ranch. There has been lots of activity around there but not many deer are in evidence.

Members present were Emil Neilsen and Harvie Little of Pontiac, Mal Banfield, Franklin; Jack Jacob of Birmingham and his brother Jim, from Detroit. Paul Sparrow was expected up from Pontiac.

Angus Campbell had stopped in at Crow Bar on his way home with the report that the 20-odd hunters at the Oakland Hunt Club had managed to bag one deer, which fell to the gun of Mead Myers.

Next stop was at John Cowe's "Cowe Boys Ranch". Two deer were in sight of the people and if all stories we heard about near misses were true, there should have been eight on the pole.

* * *

Keeping genial John company were his brother W. D. Cowe of Imlay City, Milt Fraser of the same town, Jack Hamilton of Ortonville, and John Napley, George Marble and Gordon Grubb of Pontiac, and Jack Fraser of Port Huron.

* * *

Biggest complaint of this group was the one heard most everywhere — the deer are not moving. It's our private opinion that after Wednesday's wind half the deer herd was hemmed in by fallen timber and the other half "dassent" move for fear of getting clobbered by some of the stuff that's hanging by a hair waiting for a breeze to topple it.

* * *

At the Eng—Law Hunt Club we found Charlie Sparks who said to be sure and say that he lived in Waterford Township. Also present were Ted Sage, Elizabeth Lake (who, incidentally had just come in with a buck with as nice a rack as we've seen this year), Jake Cottrell, and Ed Yuille of Pontiac, Clarence Burch of Royal Oak and Jim Eatmon and Ralph Callaghan of Detroit. This group had taken six fine bucks.

Road hunting hasn't been much of a problem this past week, but the coming weekend will see a great deal of activity along such highways as 65 and 72. There doesn't seem much that harrassed conservation department officers and state police can do to keep road hunting under control in the area. Just too many hunters.

We got back to Sleepy Hollow Friday evening and perhaps because the amateur hunters had all gone home, we spied seven fine deer within 30 feet of the cabin. When the boys see this they'll no doubt be back.

Lions Cast in Spoiler Role Against Resurgent Bear 11

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Detroit Lions, perking up too late for a title shot, have revived just in time to take a spoilers' role in the Western Conference battle in the National Football League.

* * *

Detroit, winning its last two after dropping the first six, is about the only blockade remaining between the resurgent Chicago Bears and their first NFL playoff berth since 1946.

The Lions, who have ruled the West for three years and have dropped only three decisions to the Bears in four seasons, have two shots at the Bruins. The first comes tomorrow in Detroit and a Lion victory could drop Chicago from a first-place tie.

* * *

Oddly enough, the situation is similar to the 1950 season. Then, the Bears copped two from Detroit and wound up in a tie with the Los Angeles Rams, who won a playoff for the conference title.

* * *

This time, the Bears again are tied with the Rams—coming back to win five after losing the first three. They gained the tie by swamping Los Angeles last weekend, and now have only a home-and-home series with the Lions, a crosstown trip to play the Chicago Cardinals and a home date with Philadelphia remaining.

The Rams have two left with the Baltimore Colts, the first one coming tomorrow in Baltimore, one with Philadelphia and one with Green Bay.

* * *

Green Bay and Baltimore are tied for third with 4-4 marks. The Packers play the fifth-place San Francisco 49ers (3-5) at Milwaukee tomorrow.

UCLA Favorite in Highlighted TV Grid Game

Expect 100,000 for Tilt With Southern California

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The Bruins of UCLA remained a close favorite to trim Southern California as the two Pacific Coast conference rivals prepared to take the field before an expected 100,000 or more fans in Memorial Coliseum today.

The game was set for a national television showing, Los Angeles area included, over the National Broadcasting Co. network, starting 15 minutes before the kickoff at 1:30 p.m. PST.

Victory for the UCLANs would automatically send them into the Rose Bowl Jan. 2 against the Big 10 representative. A setback, coupled with a win by Oregon State over Oregon, would necessitate a vote by the nine PCC members. UCLA walloped Oregon State, 38-0, for the Beavers' lone conference defeat.

The underdog Trojans, ineligible for the bowl because they were there last year, lost to Washington and Stanford in conference play, and to Minnesota. Coach Jess Hill obviously is on a touchy spot with the alumni. He has lost the last two years straight to the Bruin coach, Henry R. (Red) Sanders.

USC apparently boasted more talent than UCLA but the Bruins showed more finesse, plus an ability to place points on the scoreboard. Going into today's windup to their schedule, UCLA had won 8 games and had lost only to Maryland, 7-0, in the second game of the fall campaign.

Stars expected to shine included the rival left halfbacks, Sam Brown of UCLA and Jon Arnett of the Trojans, and the hefty fullbacks, the Bruins' Bob Davenport and Doug Peters and Trojans' Gordy Duvall and C. R. Roberts.

Sawchuck Gets Stiff Workout

Hawks' 6-1 Victory Ups Terry's Goals — Against Average

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

You can't blame Terry Sawchuck, Boston goal tender, if he has no kind words today for the Chicago Black Hawks' Nick Mickoski.

* * *

Sawchuck went into last night's National Hockey League game between Boston and Chicago with a league-leading goals against average of 1.80 goals a game. When the Hawks got through with a 6-1 victory with Mickoski scoring three times the average was up to 2.06.

The victory boosted the resurgent Hawks into a third-place tie with the Bruins.

* * *

Mickoski scored two of his goals in the second period and the third in the final session. Sawchuck was credited with 31 saves as the Hawks came up with their best offensive effort of the season.

Al Rollins, Chicago goalie, had 39.

Berkley Cager at Ferris

Max Roe of Berkley is among 11 freshmen candidates this season for the Ferris Institute varsity basketball squad, coached by Charles Smith. Roe is a 6-foot forward prospect at the Big Rapids school. The Bulldogs open their schedule Dec. 1 at home against Aquinas of Grand Rapids.

Sellout for ND-Iowa

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP)—Fourth-ranked Notre Dame pits its national rating today against four-times beaten Iowa before a sellout crowd of 57,000 at Notre Dame Stadium.

Pastrano Compared With Patterson After Victory

NEW YORK (AP)—Willie Pastrano from New Orleans looks like the best young fighting man to hit the big time since Floyd Patterson came home from the 1952 Olympics.

* * *

The nimble dancing master from the bayou land—now transplanted to Miami Beach—may not be able to knock your hat off but he can make all the moves. He made most of them last night at Madison Square Garden while beating Joe Rowan, a plodding aggressor, on a unanimous decision in 10 rounds.

* * *

After the match, Harry Markson, managing director of the International Boxing Club, was calling Willie "a big edition of Willie Pep." Markson has in mind a rematch with Chuck Spieser, whom Pastrano beat July 27, or a possible bout with the winner of the Paul Andrews-Bob Satterfield contest at Buffalo, Nov. 29.

* * *

Those who watched the 19-year-old heavyweight could think of nothing but a match between Pastrano and Patterson, current No. 1 challenger to lightheavy Champ Archie Moore. Pastrano weighed 181¾, the same as Rowan.

* * *

Pastrano convinced all three officials of his class. Referee Ruby Goldstein and Judge Jack Gordon saw it 7-2-1 and Judge Artie Aidala had it 7-3. The AP card was 8-2, also for Pastrano.

MSU to Dawdle as UM Battles for Bowl Life

EAST LANSING (INS)—Michigan State's powerful Spartans, only conquerors of Notre Dame, are prohibitive favorites today over Marquette's warriors at East Lansing.

This is despite the fact that the Spartans' eyes are glued on the Big Ten championship game at Ann Arbor where Ohio State battles Michigan for the Big Ten championship and a possible Rose Bowl bid for Michigan—if the Wolverines win the game.

Should Michigan lose, Michigan State, which has a 5-1 Big Ten record qualifies for selection to the bowl.

Marquette, which has won only two games this year, is regarded as having little chance against Michigan State.

Orioles Elect New President

BALTIMORE (AP)—Building contractor James Keelty Jr. was elected president of the Baltimore Orioles yesterday to replace Clarence W. Miles.

Keelty, 43, will serve unpaid in the position for which Miles got $25,000 a year.

The Baltimore builder was promoted from vice president, and the position he vacated was not filled. Neither Keelty nor other Oriole directors would discuss the reason, but speculation is that a suggestion of Miles' is back of it.

Red Sox Trade Three for Two

Paper Learns About Chicago Deal From 'Reliable Source'

BOSTON (AP)—The Boston Daily Record today said it had learned "from a reliable source" that the Boston Red Sox have traded pitchers Mel Parnell and Russ Kemmerer and infielder Ted Lepcio to Chicago for pitcher Virgil Trucks and outfielder Bob Nieman.

* * *

The Record said the trade "definitely" has been made and "will be announced as soon as the football weekend is off the sports pages."

If the trade materializes it will be the second big deal by the Red Sox within a few weeks. The Sox recently completed a nine-player swap with Washington which brings first baseman Mickey Vernon and pitcher Bob Porterfield to Boston.

The veteran Trucks, a right hander, won 13 while losing 8 last season and was a 19-game winner in 1954.

Irish Harriers Win; Broncs Finish Next

CHICAGO (AP) — With its William Pyle and John Wardley Chasing home Notre Dame's William Squires, Western Michigan College captured 2nd place in the central Collegiate Conference Cross-country meet yesterday.

Squires was clocked at 19 minutes and 45 seconds for the 4-mile run; Pyle at 20.16.

Notre Dame finished 1st with 24 points. Western Michigan, aided by Wardley's 3rd place, was 2nd with 50 points.

Champion Carriage Horse Takes Bows at Toronto

TORONTO (AP)—King Clancy, a champion carriage horse and namesake of a hockey all-time great, has been retired after 22 years in the show ring.

For a few minutes at the Royal Winter Fair Horse Show last night, the horse and his harness mate, Scarboro Princess, shared the spotlight.

As a band played "Auld Lang Syne" Clancy, the man now coach of the Toronto Maple Leafs of the NHL, placed floral collars around the necks of King Clancy and Scarboro Princess, termed the most celebrated tandem hitch on the continent.

Clancy and the Princess, 16, are starting retirement at the farm of their owner, Lance Rumble, Toronto automobile executive, at Durham, Ont.

Spartans Win Harrier Title

CHICAGO (AP) — Michigan State University is the new cross-country king of the Big Ten, having been led to victory yesterday by an unofficial record-breaking performance by sophomore Henry Kennedy.

Kennedy, winner of Monday's IC-4A cross-country, covered the 4-mile Washington Park course in 19 minutes and 6 seconds to beat the old Big Ten record of 19:40.5, set by Iowa's Rich Ferguson in 1952.

Kennedy led another sophomore, Charley Jones of Iowa, by 100 yards at finish.

MSU won the team title with 36 points to 57 for 2nd place Illinois. Iowa had 65, Minnesota, 108; Wisconsin, 114. Michigan, last year's winner, did not compete.

Selwyn Jones of Michigan State finished 3rd.

Mustang Squad Defends Coach Against Slurs

Replies to Letters Attacking Woodard in Campus Paper

DALLAS (AP)—The Southern Methodist University football squad came to the defense of Coach Woody Woodard today with "rebuttal to scandalous remarks and petty insinuations."

* * *

It was in reply to letters printed in the campus newspaper that attacked Woodard's coaching.

SMU has won only 3 games out of 8 this season after being ranked as a contender for the Southwest Conference championship. The athletic council recently announced that Woodard, finishing up his 3-year contract, would definitely be back next season.

* * *

The newspaper, The Campus, had two letters in its issue yesterday. The football team was told in one of them that it didn't have a "will to win," and that "nobody can blame a team without inspiration — that's where the coach enters the picture." The other said that "football games are not won by chance or 'breaks' as some prefer to call them. Proof of that lies some 200 miles south of Dallas, where a competent coach has taken the Texas Aggies, a team that nobody wanted, and moded them into the terror of the Southwest Conference, while we at SMU, who are richer by far in the fundamental strength and experience of our players, must rest in the doldrums of mediocracy."

* * *

David Hawk and Forrest Gregg, co-captains of the football team, had a letter, which the newspaper said was "sanctioned by the entire squad," in the same issue, defending Woodard.

Ex-Vol Is Named to Hall of Fame

LUBBOCK, Tex. (AP)—Bristol, Va. becomes one of the few—if there are any more—cities to have two of its athletes in football's Hall of Fame.

Gene McEver, Britol-reared, was a backfield great at the University of Tennessee. He was voted into the Hall of Fame last year.

Today Beattie Feathers, who played with McEver on Fred Reuning's 1926 state championship Virginia high school team and also with him at Tennessee, is being inducted into the hall.

Pimlico Futurity Could Decide or Confuse the Already Complicated 2-Year-Old Crown

BALTIMORE (AP)—The give and take among the 2-year-old thoroughbreds has another go-round today with a dozen of them running a mile and sixteenth in the $80,850 Pimlico Futurity.

* * *

If any except Mrs. Anson Bigelow's Nail wins, the already complicated championship of the division will be close to utter confusion.

Nail got into the running for the year's top honor a week ago yesterday by winning the Remsen Handicap from Prince John. But the race before that, Prince John won the Garden State and Nail was tenth. Nail previously had won the Belmont Futurity and has been first in four out of seven races to earn $171,950.

* * *

A pair who have helped scramble the 2-year-old division, Freeman Keyes' Royal Sting and Bwamazon Farm's Jovial Jove, also are entered. Joviel Jove beat Swoon's Son, up until then a top contender, in the Breeders' Futurity at Keeneland only to be bested in turn by Royal Sting in the Kentucky Jockey Club Stakes.

* * *

Likely to mess it all up are two Calumet colorbearers, Eastgate and Liberty Sun, who are making their first big pitch.

* * *

Other entries are John Barry Ryan's Tulchan, Isaac Prickett's Motor Line, Mrs. Ada L. Rice's Royal Product, Brandywine Stable's Countermand, C. V. Whitney's Born Mighty, Montpelier's Nahodah and Maine Chance Farm's Lord Admiral.

* * *

109-Yard Touchdown Run Proves No Good

BARTLESVILLE, Okla. (AP) — Bartlesville High School end Lynn Reeves had to give up punting from deep in his own end zone last night when the Sand Springs High School line rushed him.

He ran and ran and ran — for 109 yards and a touchdown.

An offsides penalty nullified the score but Bartlesville won anyway 19-0.

Couldn't Catch 'Em

Alabama Coach Calls Miami Fastest He's Seen Following 34-12 Setback

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — "You can't whip 'em if you can't catch 'em," Coach J. B. Whitworth of Alabama moaned last night after his Crimson Tide had taken a 34-12 drubbing from Miami's Hurricanes.

* * *

"We sure couldn't catch those Miami backs. It was the fastest team we've seen this year.

* * *

"My boys didn't quit, even after Miami scored twice in the first five minutes, but that fullback, Don Bosseler, just broke our backs."

Bosseler tore through the Alabama line for three touchdowns as the Hurricanes, three-time losers but still one of the nation's most respected football teams, drove to their fourth straight victory. Miami's three losses, all by close margins, were to Notre Dame, Texas Christian and Georgia Tech of the nation's "Top 10."

* * *

Bart Starr completed 13 of 23 passes for 132 yards and 1 touchdown for Alabama, but it was apparent after the first five minutes that Miami could win as it pleased.

The first time the Hurricanes got the ball, they traveled 70 yards to a touchdown, averaging 10 yards a play. Bosseler rammed 4 yards for the score. Fifty seconds later, Whitey Rouviere intercepted a pass by Alabama's Clay Walls and sped 25 yards to another score.

Shortly after that 14-point outburst, Miami's best breakaway back, Jack Losch, was injured and left the game, but the Hurricanes had no need for him.

In the third quarter, using a straight ground attack, Miami launched two 65-yard touchdown drives. Bosseler scored one on a 2-yard plunge and shot 15 yards through the middle of the Alabama line for the other on a draw play.

Starr's short, hard passes carried the Tide to touchdowns in the second and fourth quarters. He hit Ray Forbus with a 7-yard end zone pass and Don Kinderknecht scored on a 2-yard plunge.

Late in the game, a Miami team composed of third and fourth stringers gobbled up 70 yards in a final touchdown drive which ended when Ed Oliver hit across from the 4.

Your Neighbor's House

Boat-Loving Family Builds Lake Home

background for LIVING

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

"We're all crazy about boats—I'm just as bad as the boys." Don Newman was explaining why he and his family had picked the particular spot for their new home on the north shore of Watkins Lake.

The whole family's crazy about boats — even the cat. Tawny was sleeping in one stored in the basement the day we were inspecting the house. There was a second boat above the first one, three or four motors sitting on blocks, and a third boat still in the lake. The two older boys, Ron and Bob, are building an iceboat in anticipation of some fine sport this winter.

After having hundreds of loads of dirt hauled away from the lake side of the lot so that the house could have two ground floors, the Newmans had to spend hours of back-breaking work building up ledges to keep the hill from washing down. Having husky teenagers is convenient at such times.

It was a little more than a year ago that Don and Peg Newman decided to make their permanent home a lake one. For years they had lived in town and kept up a summer cottage on Watkins Lake. It did not lend itself readily to being turned into a year-round home so the answer was to start from scratch.

They bought their lot and decided on plans early last fall. St. Patrick's Day was moving day. It had been anticipated for several weeks, depending solely on the moving van's ability to negotiate muddy roads. When the day finally came, Mrs. Newman had to be ready in half an hour, with no chance even to notify the rest of the family.

It's been a difficult and wearying time since. There was so much to be done. The couple did all their own decorating. Then there was that yard to finish. The boys and their father hauled and placed 8,375 pounds of ledge rock.

The house is built of pinkish red Mission brick with white trim and gray roof. There's a

BACK OR FRONT? — With lakefront houses, it is hard to designate the back and the front. The Donald O. Newman home at 4015 Lakewood drive, Watkins Lake, presents this view to those passing on the road. The attractive red brick home has its two-car attached garage conveniently located.

FRONT HALL — Attractive and convenient, this front hall provides a pleasant introduction to the Newman home. Bleached birch has been used for the door and the dado.

TWO-STORY LAKEFRONT — On the lake side of the house two levels are exposed. The basement entrance is wide enough to permit boats to be taken in and out. The pine paneled porch at the left has a built-in grill, and entrances to both kitchen and living room.

WHERE'S THE FOOD? — Ron and Bob, like all boys their age, are ready to eat. Informal meals are easily served on this modern plastic table with matching chairs. The unusual wallpaper has copper-toned pots and pans on a background pattern of chicken wire.

AFTER WORK IS DONE—Don Newman enjoys a TV program at the end of a busy day. He has only to turn his head to see a magnificent view of Watkins Lake. The door to the right opens onto the porch. This room which is 15x23 is large enough for all family activities.

ON A SMALL SCALE — Well suited to the 10x10 dining room is the drop leaf table and the small buffet. The decanter on the table is a beautiful piece of antique cut glass. The built-in china cabinet can be seen at the right.

GIVE THE DOGGY A DRINK—Two-year-old Ricky poses willingly as he helps his mother, Mrs. Donald Newman, give a drink to his toy dog. The serving and storage counter between the stove and the table shows plainly in this picture. Corner windows let in a flood of sunlight.

NATURAL MURAL — No need to have murals painted on the walls when you have the view above. The main bedroom in the Newman home is on the lakeside of the house. Natural colored draperies control the light. Wedgwood blue walls are fine in a room as sunny as this one.

Newman Home Is Attractive Lakefront

lantern on a post where the walk joins the driveway in back. The recessed entrance gives shelter from the weather.

Translucent glass brick on either side of the door allows light, but assures privacy. In fact, although there is a house close by on one side, the windows are so arranged that inside one is not aware of any neighbors.

The tiled entrance hall has the ever-useful coat closet. The dado is bleached birch with scenic wallpaper above. An old-fashioned umbrella stand occupies one corner, while bric-a-brac and plants decorate the window shelves.

The living room is wonderfully roomy — 15x23 — and that's exclusive of the 10x10 dining ell to the right. Of course there's a picture window with pink, rose and white draperies to be pulled when necessary to keep out the sun. A door leads to a small knotty pine-paneled porch with an outside grill. Next summer this will be screened.

The walls are painted a soft driftwood gray with a shell pink ceiling. The carpeting is French rose in a textured tree bark pattern.

The furniture is comfortable and scaled to a family predominantly male and large size. A couple of upholstered chairs, a green sofa, a large-size coffee table, the TV set in the corner, plenty of good lamps, all make this a homey setting.

The dining ell is more formal, with its mahogany table, chairs and buffet. A good sized built-in birch cupboard takes care of all the "good" dishes and glassware. Mrs. Newman likes to use some of her antique pieces for decoration and had a fine cut glass decanter on the dining room table.

The lime green kitchen has both working and eating areas. The former is perfectly arranged, according to all good kitchen plans.

Groceries come in from the garage (door opens into kitchen), are put away in refrigerator and cupboards; food is prepared on adjoining shelf with sink at hand; food is cooked on stove, next in line and put on shelf beside it for serving. When dishes come out from dining room, there is a counter ready for them.

Mrs. Newman says she has ample storage space in the birch cabinets. The cafe curtains over the double corner sink are figured chintz. There's one disadvantage to a corner sink, we learned; it's difficult for two people to stand there and do the dishes.

The floor is covered with spatter-dot linoleum with green, red and yellow dots on a beige background. Above the pickled birch wainscoting in the breakfast "nook," the unusual paper has copper utensils which gleam metallically. The bit of green in the paper matches the rest of the room. Behind the wrought iron breakfast set there's a door leading out to the front porch.

Some day two-year-old Ricky's room will be a den. When his oldest brother goes off to college, he'll move in with Bob; and his room opening off the living room will lose its nursery character. The menagerie curtains will be replaced by something less juvenile.

The older boys share a room with built-in bookcases and large closets. Their twin beds have lime green spreads. The chests in this room are antiques.

The front bedroom has a magnificent view of the lake. The pink taffeta spread contrasts pleasantly with the Wedgwood blue walls. Don says the main feature of this room is the wall closet. Floor-length natural color draperies cover the window wall.

Contrary to many of the modern houses we've seen, this one has a huge basement. It contains a large furnace room, a laundry room, a recreation room with fireplace and a boat room.

Finishing the recreation room is the project for the future. The double doors leading out to the lake side of the house were built wide enough for a boat to go through, as was the door from the recreation room to the boat room. This makes winter storage simple.

As a family, the Newmans take pride in their new home. They are enthusiastic about the house and neighborhood. They love lakefront living.

Arthur C. Linney of Pontiac was the builder.

Clean Shower Head

If your shower water comes out in a dribble instead of a spray, then the shower head probably needs cleaning. Simply remove the sprayer and brush it thoroughly in soap and water. To protect the bathroom floor from a strong spray, just install a curtain or glass door around the bathtub.

Old Cobbler's Bench Used as Fashion Item

After gathering dust in museums, the cobbler's bench used a century ago to hold the shoemaker's supplies and tools has come into its own not only as a fashion item but as a usable piece of furniture.

The remarkable revival of the bench is no doubt based on the idea that people, and particularly the homemaker, always like to find a new use for something old. It's now popular as a coffee or tea table, end or occasional table, and is almost always a conversation piece.

Loose shingles should be nailed securely in place for snow and ice can pull these loose ones right off the roof and cause a bad leak.

Winterproofing Complex Work

Once upon a time, it was pretty simple to winterproof the ordinary house.

Leaves, cornstalks, or manure were piled against the foundation to keep the wind from getting under the floor. Then, the family boarded up all rooms but the three or four that were easiest to heat.

Today, winterproofing is much more complicated.

Builders say the best place to start winterproofing is the roof. A flashlight check of the underside of the roof deck most times will disclose any tell-tale leak spot. One leak often foretells additional difficulty.

Different parts of the roof wear out at about the same rate, so a reroofing job is probably the only remedy for a leak in an old roof. Asphalt roofing is a many-year investment. It is easy to have done while the weather is warm.

* * *

In older houses, air leaks around the door and window frames are worth checking. Calking is an antidote for this. The cornices are another trouble spot where calking can help.

Driving winter storms often force water into cornice cracks, causing paint failures and wallpaper stains. In wooded areas, fallen leaves present a gutter problem. A clogged gutter, a heavy snowfall, and a fast thaw are likely to cause water backup. That can mean trouble.

Windows and doors need to be weatherstripped to prevent air leakage. New ponderosa pine window units, assembled at the factory, come completely weatherstripped.

Mineral wool insulation, three inches in the wall and four inches in the ceiling, is essential to economical heating.

Waterproof Glues Sought by Industry

High on the list of industry objectives is the development of a glue for bonding wood which, because of service conditions, is always wet. This would have practical application in the repair of docks, wharves and similar marine products.

* * *

Development of a low-cost waterproof glue that sets quickly at room temperature is another prime objective of the wood industries. Lumbermen see this as a key to economical mass production of high quality big timbers and boards from small pieces of wood. Present waterproof glues are relatively expensive, involve considerable investment in equipment, and require some time for curing.

* * *

A glued end joint, as strong as the wood itself, is still another industry goal. Lumbermen compare their present end joints with steel riveted joints of the past. They hope to develop a "welded" wood joint with maximum strength and a minimum use of time and material.

Here's Caulking Trick

Wide cracks are a problem when caulking. One solution is to stuff mineral wool filler into the crack, then shoot caulking on top of it. This gives the caulking something to hang on to.

Storm Windows Can Cut Fuel Bill by 20 Per Cent

A house without tight-fitting storm sash is poorly equipped for the rigors of winter.

Studies by the University of Illinois Small Homes Council show that tight-fitting storm windows can bring fuel savings of 20 per cent or more.

What does a storm window do?

1. It provides approximately 3½ inches of good insulation between the outdoors and the room.
2. It reduces drafts.
3. It reduces infiltration of cold air.

Combination ponderosa pine storm windows are particularly convenient for home-owners. They are light in weight and strong. In addition, wood, a poor conductor of heat, is a good insulator. Water does not condense on it and so there is no "sweating" problem.

STAINS REMOVED — The chemicals and other materials you'll need to remove iron, oil and wood-rot stains from concrete floors are outlined above.

Is Your Concrete Stained? Here's How to Remove It

Sooner or later, and despite preventive measures, concrete basement and garage floors are going to become stained. It is as inevitable as the common cold. But while there is no known cold cure, there are a number of remedies for stains on concrete.

* * *

The Portland Cement Association declare that practically every type of stain can be removed from concrete. But the key to complete removal is to start treatment soon after the stain appears. Long-neglected stains demand repeated treatments and patience on the "doctor's" part.

Three stains most likely to mar concrete floors are made by iron (the stain looks like rust), oil and rotten wood. Since all are penetrating stains, treatment usually involves applying a poultice or bandage.

A poultice is made by mixing active chemicals with a fine, inert powder, to a pasty consistency—this is applied in a thick layer.

USE BANDAGES

A bandage consists of cotton batting or layers of cloth, soaked in chemicals and pasted over the stain. These either draw out the stain or drive it in deeper, out of sight.

Light iron stains that cover a large area can be removed from concrete, or at least improved in appearance, using the following method: Mop the area with a solution made of one pound oxalic acid powder to a gallon of water. Let stand two or three hours, then rinse with clear water, scrubbing at the same time with stiff brushes or brooms. A second application may be necessary.

For deeper, more intense iron stains, both a bandage and a poultice should be used. First soak the surface with a solution made by dissolving one part of sodium citrate crystals in six parts of water. Then dip white cloth or cotton batting in this solution and paste over stains for 10 or 15 minutes.

Next, sprinkle the floor stain with a thin layer of hydrosulphite crystals, moisten with water, and cover with a stiff mixture of whiting and water. Remove after an hour, or a black stain may develop. Repeat, if necessary, and rinse thoroughly with clear water.

If an oil stain is properly treated soon after it develops, there will be no stain. The proper treatment is to mop off the oil immediately and cover the spot with Fuller's earth, or other dry powdered material, such as hydrated lime, whiting or dry Portland cement.

Oil stains that have remained for some time can be removed by applying a white flannel bandage saturated with a mixture of equal parts of acetone and amyl acetate. Cover the bandage with a slab of concrete or a pane of glass. Keep resaturating the cloth until stain vanishes.

DISSOLVE CRYSTALS

Under the damp conditions that are so common to basements and garages, wood may rot and, if in contact with concrete, cause a chocolate-colored, very dark stain. A solution of trisodium phosphate and chlorinated lime, applied in the form of a bandage, will do the trick.

First dissolve two pounds of trisodium phosphate crystals in a gallon of hot water. Mix 12 ounces of chlorinated lime to a paste in a shallow enameled pan by adding water. Pour this and trisodium phosphate solution into a two-gallon stoneware jar and fill with water. Stir, cover and allow to settle.

Fold a white flannel cloth three or four times and saturate it with the liquid. Paste over the stain and cover with concrete slab or glass pane. Keep the cloth well soaked with the solution, which can also be used to remove smoke stains on concrete.

Firm Planning 300-Home Residential-Resort Project

One of the last large farms on lake property in Oakland County has been purchased by Prudential Investment Company for the development of a 300 home, residential-resort community. Formerly the Basco farm, the property covers 165 acres, bounded by Walton boulevard on the south and Lake Oakland on the north.

* * *

The community will feature four-bedroom brick ranch homes with a bath and a half. Located on 80 foot lots, the homes will be within the $15,000 price range.

* * *

A drainage system has been installed, and hard surfaced roads are curved to provide greater safety for children and to give easy access to all homes. Residents will have a private beach and picnic area.

House plans offer an adaptable arrangement for the fourth bedroom. The bedroom may be used as a family room, activities room or den, depending on the needs of the individual family.

Kitchens will feature natural birch cabinets with formica tops; included is a maple chopping block. Space for family eating is large and cheerful.

COLORED TILE

Colored tile and plumbing fixtures are used in the master bath. The smaller bath is placed near the grade door so that children will have easy access to it.

Separating the vestibule from the living room is a flower box divider. All bedrooms are isolated from the living area to provide privacy and quiet. Hardwood floors are used throughout except for the kitchen.

Included in the sales price are storms and screens. Birch sliding doors are used on the bedroom closets. A perimeter heating system with forced air from gas furnaces gives even air temperature throughout.

This new commumit is located wthin minutes of all city conveniences. Furnished models will be open for inspection November 25 on Walton boulevard, west of Sashabaw, from 10 a.m. to 8 p.m.

* * *

Certified Reality Company are agents for these new homes, which will sell for $14,990, with five per cent down for veterans. Terms for civilians are also available.

New Homes Wanted

A surprisingly large proportion of home owners indicated a desire to buy another home either this year or next, with 6 per cent of all home owners saying they were either "definite" or "probable" in such plans and another 7 per cent indicated "as possible." Among renters these figures were more than doubled.

Allow Thirty Inches When Setting Table

Here are a few tips to help you set a charming table:

* * *

A good rule to remember is: "Allow plenty of room at the table for ease of service." Most authorities recommend that at least 24 and preferably 30 inches be allowed for each place.

If you're using a bare table, try to use place mats that conform to the shape of the table. Oblong place mats are adaptable to a rectangular table. If your table is quite narrow because of limited space, put your mats along each side, leaving table ends for decorations and large accessory dishes.

For a square table, you can use a square center mat and oblong place mats; for a round table, round centerpiece and round doilies.

* * *

Do you like candles at the table? For a small table, a candelabra may be used, or you can place two candlesticks in the center of the table with a flower arrangement (always fresh) between. For a larger table, two candelabras or four candlesticks. Light the candles before your guests are seated.

Heater Produced to End Rust, Odor in Water

An all-aluminum hot water heater is now being made with an aim of ending rusty water and lasting for a longer period of years. The makers say this heater permits higher water temperatures—up to 180 degrees Fahrenheit.

No anode rods, such as those used in some glass-lined and zinc-lined tanks, are needed in the aluminum tank. This tends to prevent unpleasant taste and odor to the water.

WHITFIELD ESTATES — Located at 6690 Manson drive, this model home is now open for public inspection. Fifty-nine of these homes are being built in Whitfield Estates, a new home development off Williams Lake road, between Williams Lake and Maceday Lake. These brick homes are being offered by Munro Realty Company for $11,990, with nothing down for veterans.

Pontiac Press Color Ads Praised by Area Realtor

"Color newspaper advertising certainly packs a terrific wallop," says D. E. Munro, realtor.

"In last Saturday's Pontiac Press," explained Munro, "our firm ran a full page ad in color on our 1956 Twin Lakes Custom homes in Waterford Township. The response was overwhelming. Large crowds visited our home Sunday, traffic was exceptionally good and, throughout the weekend, sales were extremely brisk.

"Also, a great many leads, which will result in additional sales, were secured by our salesmen.

"From every indication all signs continue to bear out the fact that increasing numbers of Pontiac residents are deciding to move from ten, fifteen and 20 year old homes to a modern home that offers the more modern conveniences that make possible an easier, more carefree way of life."

Sound Waves Now Grade Lumber in Home Building

Problem: How to get a look at the inside of a piece of lumber without cutting it.

Solution: Sound waves.

* * *

Since lumber is so widely used for building purposes, a measurement of the strength of an individual piece of wood is important to lumbermen and builders. And that's where the sound waves come in.

The internal characteristics of a piece of wood—its grain structure and irregularities—determine its strength. By using high-frequency sound waves, lumbermen hope to determine these internal characteristics without damaging the wood.

A research affiliate of the National Lumber Manufacturers Association, this week unveiled a new laboratory model of an electronic device that sends concentrated ultrasonic waves through a piece of wood. What happens to the sound on its journey is revealed on the screen of an oscilloscope, a device something like your TV set.

Stress grading of lumber for use in load-bearing jobs, such as studs, roof trusses and rafters, joists and beams, is important to builders for a number of reasons. Their primary task is to obtain the strongest material at the least cost.

Traditionally, lumber has been graded visually by highly skilled specialists, according to established grading rules.

Their decisions are based on a knowledge of trees and lumber and the known factors that indicate strength. These factors include the size and shape, grain characteristics, irregularities and other physical properties of a piece of lumber of a given species.

This grading by inspection is remarkably accurate, but since the exact strength of any piece of lumber could not be determined without actually loading it to the breaking point and thereby destroying it, structural lumber has been given a big safety factor by making it oversize for a given job.

Modern Homes Open to Public

Whitfield Estate, within 12 minutes of Pontiac, has been opened for public inspection this past week. Presented by D. E. Munro, Realtor, the 1956 Twin Lake Custom home is built by Hartman and Tyner. It features a natural fireplace and built-in, adjustable bookcases.

* * *

Fifty-nine of these homes are offered, all within walking distance of Maceday and Williams Lakes, on which private beaches are maintained for Whitfield Estates residents.

Other deluxe features of the Twin Lake Custom home, Mr. Munro said, are gas heat, estate-size lots on paved, safety-planned curvilinear streets and automatic hot water. Included are full tile bath, three master-size bedrooms, colored folding doors, carport, large picture windows, aluminum sliding windows and knotty pine kitchen cabinets.

Shopping centers are near the development and there is bus service to Pontiac.

A display model is open at 6690 Manson Drive, just off Williams Lake road. Occupancy in 30 days is offered in the Twin Lake Custom. Prices start at $11,990, with 30-year terms and no money down to veterans.

Use Asbestos-Cement Board to Close Spaces

Many houses have open crawl spaces under them, particularly under porches and stoops. Besides being inviting to rodents and providing a gathering place for debris, they can be dangerous to children and pets.

A good material to use to close off these open areas is asbestos-cement board, an attractive, moderately priced material that is fire-safe and rodent-resistant. The board can be cut into panels and strips as needed. The lower portion of the board can be set into a trench dug in the ground and the upper portion nailed to the structure.

Protect Picnic Table With Asbestos Board

Now that the family picnic table has just about done its duty for another year, it's likely to spend a lonely winter exposed to the elements. Unless it is the folding kind, or can be taken about, a picnic table is usually too big and cumbersome for indoor storage.

If it must stand outdoors, here is a tip that will help prolong its life: Just cover the top with a panel cut from a sheet of asbestos board. Asbestos board is not damaged by rain or snow. It has a smooth, attractive surface, too, and it is easy to clean.

Don't Get Excited

Oil burners may smoke for a few seconds when the burner starts up. This is because the firepot in the furnace is cold and combustion of the fuel is not complete.

Typical New Home Buyer Can Afford This House

COMMAND PERFORMANCE — This home has been planned to meet the size most buyers showed preference for.

IMAGINE THIS — The house you can build in 961 square feet, no more no less. Garage and covered play space for children within view from kitchen and living room. Passage to and from garage is protected from the weather.

The house most people build or buy has been determined statistically. It is a 5½-room house with three bedrooms and has a total floor area of 961 square feet.

* * *

This has been figured out by the Federal Housing Administration in an analysis of all mortgages it insured last year.

The typical new home buyer, among all who financed their purchases with FHA insured mortgages, had an income of $5,139 a year—the highest on record, and 5 per cent above the previous year.

He bought for his own use a property valued by the FHA at $10,678, including land with a market price of $1,456. He obtained an 85 per cent mortgage loan amounting to $8,862, which he contracted to repay over a period of about 23 years. His monthly installment amounted to $68.62 covering real estate taxes and hazard and mortgage insurance premiums in addition to his debt service. This amounted to a little more than 15 per cent of his income.

WHAT KIND OF HOUSE

What kind of house would fit this majority vote?

We asked Rudolph A. Matern, national authority on small house design, to plan a home answering this preference—961 square feet, no more no less.

Design T-501, shown on this page, illustrates the efficient, livable and attractive house you should be able to build if you are in this typical FHA category.

Since two-thirds of all the new homes included garage facilities, a garage, separated from the house by a covered porch, is indicated in this plan. Both garage and covered porch can be left for a future project for the sake of immediate economy, but you will note from the picture of the house how they add to the length of the facade.

'LITTLE EXTRAS'

Of course, a porch and garage add to the building cost of a house, but not in proportion to their sizes. Construction of this type figures at a lower rate per square foot than house construction.

The addition of the covered porch in this plan provides an outdoor living room with a barbecue fireplace and sliding glass door from the living room. These large plates of glass are framed in aluminum and fitted in aluminum runways to insure east of operation combined with weather-tightness.

The porch also provides a sheltered porch with barbecue fireplace can be added as future improvements if economy dictates.

ARCHITECT SUGGESTS

Economy of construction is planned into this house. Its design is a simple rectangle without expensive jogs in foundation or roof. Room sizes are planned for a maximum use of standard lengths of lumber without excessive cutting and waste on the job. A white asphalt shingle roof is specified for economy of materials as well as for its reflective insulating value.

An exterior of either redwood or cedar vertical siding, capable of taking stain for a minimum of future upkeep, is suggested by the architect. "Add just enough brick for the chimney face, planting box and porch shield to give emphasis and interest," he suggests.

Room arrangement is efficiently planned. Only 6.1 per cent of the entire area of the house is devoted to hall space. More than 44 square feet are reserved for closet space, plus a storage vanitory in the bathroom and generous kitchen cabinet space both under counters and in hanging cabinets.

COVERED DOORSTEP

You enter this house from a covered doorstep. A convenient vestibule is created by the location of a guest coat closet. Living room, dining room and kitchen are designed in the open plan with merely an indoor planting box and a small partition marking their confines.

A minimum of wall space makes the living room especially adaptable to almost any theme of interior decoration. Pine paneling could be used advantageously around the fireplace. Yet this room offers excellent furniture grouping possibilities at the fireplace, with additional furniture placement and television space either on the stair wall or beyond the entrance closet.

This house, Design T-501, canbe built without a basement. To comply with FHA storage requirements, have your builder extend the garage to the full 23 feet, 8 inches of the depth of the house. This will provide adequate storage space.

* * *

Space occupied by basement stairs can be added to the kitchen to enlarge that room, or devoted to more closet space.

* * *

If electric heat is economically expedient, no further changes in plan may be needed. If oil or gas fuel is preferred, a heater room can be built on the porch where the barbecue fireplace is indicated.

Back Door Style in Bright Homes Emphasized

Many home decorators today believe too little attention is given to the back door.

There was a time when the rear entrance was a mere architectural gesture to youngsters and tradespeople.

But today, with growing emphasis on backyard living, and with so many living rooms being replaced in the rear of the house, the rear door has become a decorating focal point, second in importance only to the front door.

These are some tips for the back door:

1. Choose a style that is in keeping with the architecture of the whole house. Ponderose pine panel doors are available in styles appropriate for all types of architecture, from Tudor to modern.

They are treated with a chemical preservative which for all practical purposes prevents sticking and warping.

2. Paint the rear door the same accent color as the front door. As a focal point of interest, it should be colorful.

3. White is generally a poor door color if there are young children around. It's hard to maintain.

Lubricant Shrinks Wood

A new lubricant said to shrink wood has been announced. A few drops on sticking doors, drawers, windows, or squealing school desks are said to do wonders.

An inquiry into drinks and blood pressure has been undertaken by medical officers in Bombay, India. It is "to determine the incidence of hypertension among liquor permit holders and teetotallers."

U.S. Bathtubs Fitting for Any Size Bather

American plumbing suppliers need not measure you to find your correct bathtub size as was done recently in London by a British plumber.

U. S. plumbing industry makes white and colored bathtubs to fit almost any stature, from midget to giant. Six different length of bathtubs are made ranging in size from 38 inches to six feet.

Another is 48 inches long and has a built-in seat and a diagonal bathing area. The average size tub falls in the five to five-and-a-half feet classification.

Bathtubs vary in size to accommodate people of various heights and, at the same time, fit into small or large bathrooms.

Concrete Boards Coming

"Concrete boards" are one example of the new wood products on the horizon for the American public. Widely used in European countries but practically unknown in the U. S., they're manufactured by combining wood excelsior with Portland cement. This produces an efficient building block with wood's natural insulating values and the known qualities of concrete.

Sees Year-Round Air Condition in Homes

Will America eventually become a nation of year-round air-conditioned homes?

The answer of one expert, Sheldon Coleman, an equipment manufacturer, is, "Yes. Year-round climate control is inevitable because the home-owner is beginning to understand how it will raise his standard of living.

"Each student of home trends, every analyst of business movements, predicts the time will come when the majority of homes will have year-round air-conditioning, heating and cooling combined. Some say this will happen within 5 years, some 10 years, others 20. But all agree America will air condition."

Cold Weather Brittles Asphalt Tile, Linoleum

Be careful about laying asphalt tile in cold weather. If the tiles have been outdoors where the temperature is low, they will become very brittle and break easily. It's best if you store them indoors in a room heated to at least 70 degrees before you attempt to use them. The same thing holds true of linoleum.

Seal Your Louvers

If you have attic louvers, they should not be sealed up during the cold weather. If they are, you'll have a damp attic and perhaps even frost on the roof sheathing.

Plain Soap Does It

Regular cleaning with soap and water will keep faucets of bathroom fixtures shiny and new. Never use harsh abrasives. Rough, gritty cleaning compounds will scratch the fittings.

Avoid Color Hodge-Podge of New-Home Decorations

Moving to a new home should be fun. But just when you should be bubbling about the whole idea, there are complications.

A usual difficulty . . .

* * *

"I am going to be married and am in a quandry as to where to start in decorating my new home. Do I pick out paint colors first? Or would it be best to start with fabrics, furniture, rugs?

My family passed along a mahogany kneehole desk, a bleached mahogany coffee table and a maple commode as well as a dark gray living room rug which will just fit the new rooms. But I don't know how to begin planning out the house."

This lady is in a normal dilemma. If she tries to use the varied woods she has been gifted with, her living room certainly will look like a hodge-podge. On the other hand, the dark grey rug will go with many colors.

She'll have to make this decision before she goes any further: Does she enjoy light or dark woods. Then she will need to build around her selection, discarding or painting the other items of furniture.

Fruitwood, walnut, beechwood, pine and even maple may be frequently used together. Ditto pickled, bleached woods. Dark mahoganies and perhaps rosewood are compatible.

PAINT CASTOFFS

Mom's castoff furniture then may be painted and used as an accent in the room after colors are chosen.

The next step is to choose a color scheme. Try to stick to three colors and tones if you must add to them, keeping in mind that large doses of warm shades are ideal on the north side of the house while small doses of cool shades are ideal on the south side.

After the preliminary color selection (it is best not to decide definitely until you figure out the entire scheme with swatches of drapery and upholstery materials) choose the rug.

If the castoff rug doesn't go with the colors you like, you'll be happier without the rug, unless you find another set of colors you'd enjoy just as much that will blend in with the rug color scheme.

If you can afford it, discard things you don't like, and don't use them even temporarily. What's the point of a dreary outlook?

STRONG COLORS

When choosing draperies, seek the two strong colors in your set of three for the pattern. The lighter background is best if walls are dark.

Strong colors are best limited to small chairs or settees. Large sofas should be in neutral tones. A light grey sofa would harmonize fine with a dark grey rug, and gray goes with many colors.

If you are choosing an old piece of furniture to paint, a desk, commode or sofa table is your best bet, although if very high fashion colors are used in the room even coffee tables and end tables may be painted in a high style color.

TRUSTY STEED — Make a rocking horse for your own Davy Crockett, then make a second one for some needy child. Slivers is the name of this little horse. You may get a full-sized pattern for him by sending 50c in coin to Steve Ellingson, The Pontiac Press, Van Nuys, California. If you are planning to make an extra horse for some poor little tyke this year, tell Mr. Ellingson so when you order the pattern.

Stave Off Home Plumbing Crisis While on Vacation

Are you planning to spend some time away from home this winter? If so, be sure to protect your plumbing system from freezing during your absence.

* * *

Ice formations within the plumbing system can rupture pipes, damage fixtures and run up costly repair bills.

An idle plumbing system is more likely to freeze than one which is in constant use. So, before heading for warmer weather, take these precautions.

First, cut off the water supply at the street. This can be done by the plumber or, the city water authority. Next, be sure to turn off the water valve inside the house.

Then, open all faucets so that the water may drain from the pipes. At this point, it is wise to call the plumber. He will empty the water from toilet bowls and flush tanks besides draining the hot water heater and the furnace dehumidifying system if it is linked to the plumbing.

* * *

The plumber also may remove all water from the traps of sinks, lavatories and bathtubs and fill them with a non-freezing agent as an extra precaution.

If a pipe-freeze should occur in your home, there are several solutions. First, examine the pipe to see if it has cracked from the pressure of the expanding ice. If not, then soak some towels in hot water and apply them to the frozen pipe. Repeat until the ice block is dissolved. Also you may melt the ice by pouring boiling water down the clogged drain.

Above all, don't use electrical appliances of any kind to remove the ice. Electricity, metal and water can be a highly dangerous combination.

* * *

The safest remedy of all is the plumber. He is the guardian of your plumbing system and knows how to keep your bathroom and kitchen fixtures operating efficiently.

Use Wall of Closets for Storage Space

Walls of most closets are "lost space" because nobody puts them to work.

Instead of thinking only of shelves for storage area, think of using the walls themselves! Make them functional by installing panels of peg-board, with their scores of holes in rows and their accompanying metal fixtures on which storage items can be hung.

Some wooden lath behind the perforated panels will set the holes away from the wall far enough to permit use of the hanging fixtures. Then fasten the framed board to the wall studs. Prime and paint the peg - board panels just like any hardboard.

More than 60 fixtures are available at lumber yards. On them can be hung away numerous items.

Another often-wasted space is the inside of a closet door. If the door is paneled, simply use screws to fasten the peg-board panel to the door stiles. This is an ideal location for suspending shoes, neckties, hats and the like.

---

To dramatize solid color dishes, try using a tablecloth with a regular design such as stripes, circles or squares.

Carpet Squares Easy to Place

All do-it-yourselfers now have the opportunity to create wall-to-wall carpeting in a design of your own making. It's easy — simply put down one square after another, and before you know it a wal-to-wall installation completely different and breathtakingly beautiful, is complete.

The carpeting comes in 18" adhesive-backed squares of tufted cotton, laminated to its own carpet cushion. All the user need do is simply peel off the protective paper backing which also carries complete instructions, place it on the floor and pat it.

They afford the opportunity to carpet all those "forgotten rooms" that have never had satisfactory floor covering.

The squares are available in 12 solid colors and the pattern variations bring an entirely new scope to interior design . . . checkerboards, stripes, use of varied colors are only a few of the possibilities.

Squares can be used on any clean, dry surface, free from wax and dirt. Once installed, the maintenance is as simple as with any carpet. They can be vacumed or cleaned.

If any one square should be damaged by a cigarette burn or other accident, it can be replaced with a new one or switched with a clean one from under a sofa or chair.

---

Slide a hot pie or cake out of the oven onto a piece of "Peg-Board." Elevate the perforated hardboard on cups and speed the cooling.

Modern Day Factories Require Larger Sites

The modern industrial plant requires more space than the factory of yesterday. Horizontal processing of goods is cheaper than vertical movement; hence the trend to one story construction. More employes own automobiles and drive to work; hence the need for large parking areas.

Automation frequently requires tremendous machines; hence the need for more floor space per worker. Management is becoming more public relations conscious; result, better architecture and more site landscaping. These and other trends all point towards larger sites.

Green Is Versatile

When you're selecting a paint color for the walls of a room, remember that green can be used successfully on an area of any size and in any section of the household. Be careful, however, not to use too yellow a green on bathroom walls. Near the mirror where you face yourself in the morning, it has an unflattering effect on the complexion. It makes you not-so-sure-that-you-feel-too-well.

SLIDE-OUT STORAGE PANELS — This install-it-yourself project is a wife-saving improvement for any kitchen base cabinet. Complete accessibility for the homemaker is its chief asset. With two or three of these panels installed as dividers, the storage space is efficiently utilized to full capacity.

Vertical Kitchen Dividers Eliminate Stooping Woes

Something new in kitchen storage has been developed to give homemakers more accessible space in base cabinets. Vertical dividers with unusual features to eliminate stooping as well as make better use of space are a do-it-yourself project which any handy husband can install in a hurry.

* * *

These dividers are different in that they slide out and they have scores of holes for hooks on which utensils can be stored.

Vertical dividers of Masonite "Peg-Board" panels, available at lumber yards, actually have three important functions: To divide the space and make it more useful, to hold in ready-to-use storage some of the utensils and equipment wanted only occasionally, and to slide out for easy access.

Base cabinets in many cases are not equipped with vertical dividers. As a result, such occasionally-used items as cookie sheets and colanders are stacked in places that are quite inaccessible. Installation of the new-type dividers is one of the simplest projects imaginable.

USE BRADS TO BIND

Channels of wood strips are formed on the bottom and top shelves for the slide-out dividers. In the case of wooden shelves, attach the strips with brads. In steel cabinets, drill holes for the insertion of bolts or machine screws.

Preparation of the "Peg-Board" panels is easy, too. Use a large size bit to make a finger pull in each. Prime and paint each panel to match the inside cabinet finish.

Using metal fixtures also available at lumber yards, place the utensils for the best use of the space.

* * *

It won't be necessary for the homemaker to "stand on her head" to find the desired pan or utensil. She simply pulls out the slide-out divider and slips it off the hook. Due to the versatility of the perforated Presdwood panels, she'll find that the storage capacity of her base cabinet is "the most," too.

Elegant Entrance of Home Will Reflect the Attitude Your Guest Finds Inside

First impressions are often more influencing than they probably should be, and that goes for the first impression of your home, too.

* * *

A guest's attitude toward you may be formed from the moment he or she steps inside your front door, and that is why a home's entrance should reflect your own graciousness and hospitality.

A guest feels more at ease, if the entrance is set somewhat apart from the main entertaining or living area, for he or she may remove wraps or freshen up here inconspicuously.

You may choose to exile your entrance completely with a partition formed by a closet or dividing wall, but it is usually more effective if a planter divider or wall section suggests the division. It may be further set apart if it is lowered or raised on a different floor level.

FIR LUMBER FITS ANY CHOICE

Regardless of your choice for entrance division, fir lumber will adapt itself to any style or design. It has been used very effectively for a half wall with boards forming simple pillars in a straight or louvered effect above the solid wall. This beautiful but rugged softwood may also be fashioned into a shoulder-high planter with plants potted in a metal liner above, and storage for linens, games or even a music wall below.

Planters should be placed near a window or under a skylight, for growing things need to be near the sun for best results.

You will also find that if beautifully-finished fir paneling is used for living room walls and built-ins, an entrance divider of the same wood will blend the entryway effectively and make the door opening less obvious.

Doors that open directly into a living area may be secluded artistically by building screens of fir or west coast hemlock. These may extend from the wall just past the door opening, and may be in any design. Small blocks of two-by-fours may be placed at random or in patterns between a series of two by four studs of the same material. This gives a contemporary abacus-like screen pattern. Or, inspired geometric pieces of wood, set in frames of your own design are striking for a modern room. Some of the shapes may be painted, some left natural for a decorator effect.

* * *

Speaking of decorating, the entrance offers the imaginative homemaker a wonderful opportunity for some effective self expression. For instance, for the woman who would a daring-do, why not an indulgence in some elegant colors in the entrance. They can be striking, when used on one wall, on the door, or modestly for framing effect around the trim of the entryway. Have a fling, girls, it can be fun.

Cleans Fireplace

A good cleaner for sooty fireplace brick is made with ¾ pound of caustic soda to 2 quarts of hot water. Scrub this over the brick with a stiff brush and then rinse the bricks with clean water. Be careful to keep the cleaning solution off of you and painted woodwork and floors.

The edges of laminated plastics can be given a bevel either with a fine toothed file or a wood plane.

Good Kitchen Indicates Better Planned House

Check a new home's kitchen to learn the value of the entire house. Nine times out of ten, if the kitchen is planned for convenience, efficiency and comfort, the rest of the house will be wisely planned, too. Look for these highlights:

1. The kitchen should have about 125 square feet of floor space.
2. It should have at least 15 running feet of base cabinets.
3. Surfaces should be of a material which is sanitary, easy to clean, and durable.

Check Zoning Laws Before Building Home

If you already own a lot, you are obliged to find a house plan to fit that land. Check local zoning regulations, your title company, or your bank to find out how near you may build to a boundary.

With this same information, you can determine how much land you will need for any house plan you prefer.

It is easier and more economical in the long run to fit a house to its site than to try to grade and fit the land to the house.

Officials Take Look at Univac

Automation May Be Used in Lansing State Offices

LANSING (AP)—Automation, that much-hailed and much-maligned adjunct of the atomic age, may rev up the wheels of bureaucracy and so become a hero of taxpayers who foot the bill.

* * *

State officials are already flirting with the idea that one electronic brain could do the work of a hundred human ones in government as well as industry.

P. R. Peck, deputy state controller, journeyed to New York this week to take a look at Univac, the electronic computer developed by Remington-Rand Inc.

"We are proceeding cautiously, but it's something that has tremendous possibilities," says James W. Miller, state controller.

Miller, a Michigan State University political science professor on loan to the state, said automation is "the coming thing in government."

CAN SLICE CUTS

"I see no reason why automation shouldn't find its place in state government, just as it has in industry," he said. "After all, the typewriter replaced the quill and scroll and we are using advanced accounting machines to speed up the work and save money. Why not extend it to electronic computers?"

Such devices, he said, could possibly slice costs and speed up clerical work in many state departments, including the Highway Department, the Social Welfare Department, the Department of Public Instruction, the Health Department and others.

"I see tremendous possibilities for this in the Department of Public Instruction, where there is an overwhelming amount of statistics from school districts," he said.

WILL HELP WORK

In addition, the computing machines might permit the state to handle many statistical and analytical jobs which it cannot now undertake because of lack of manpower.

"One of the complaints of the Legislature is that it needs more statistical information—information that we cannot provide because of lack of help," he said.

When Peck returns from New York, state officials will discuss the possibility of obtaining a full scale, two-day demonstration of Univac in Lansing. Department heads would be invited to observe to see how effective the machines would be in their agencies.

Car Production Tops 7 Million

Output So Far in '55 Bigger Than Any Year in Auto History

DETROIT (AP) — The seven millionth passenger car produced in the United States this year was built this week, but overall production declined 3.6 per cent from last week's second best level in history, Ward's Reports said today.

Thus, 1955 car production by early November topped the all-time 12-month record of 6,674,933 set in 1950 and stands as the best year in history.

This week's 174,256 auto completions added to last week's 180,742 swelled the 1955 total to 7,002,467, Ward's said. The total at the same time last year was 4,702,798 passenger cars.

The record 216,629 cars and trucks was logged last April 25-30. Truck production this week was 27,752, Ward's said.

Supply and production problems at Mercury and Plymouth and several General Motors Corp. divisions brought about the temporarily lower volume this week, the statistical agency said.

New car sales for the first 10 days of November averaged an estimated 18,500 units daily for a 170,000 total and the lowest opening 10-day sales rate in 12 months, Ward's reported.

However, the agency said sales were held back by the Nov. 3-4 dealer introduction of Chevrolets, Buicks and Oldsmobiles plus production problems which delayed normal buildup of other car makes.

* * *

Canadian production this week was placed at 6,153 cars and 851 trucks. Last week, 5,392 cars and 688 trucks were produced in Dominion plants. In the comparable 1954 week, 3,408 cars and 729 trucks were built.

Blood Donations Lag Behind Area's Needs

Oakland County Chapter of the American Red Cross has been unable to fill hospital needs for blood 100 per cent because of a lack of all types of blood, Dr. Ernest Bauer, chairman of the county blood program, said yesterday.

There have been adequate collections of positive blood, Dr. Bauer said, but pointed out that there is need for all types of blood.

Scheduling of bloodmobiles will fall short of its seven-mobile goal per month for the first quarter of 1956, it was announced. Available dates for blood collections are still open in December, January, February and April.

"The blood banks must be filled every week," Dr. Bauer said, in urging that firms, clubs, churches and groups arrange to put on blood drives.

Mobiles scheduled during December are at St. Dennis Hall, Royal Oak, Dec. 5; Lathrup Townsite Community Church, Dec. 6; Pontiac Elks Temple, Dec. 12; and Fisher Body Division, Pontiac, Dec. 15.

Prophet Jones Will Move —His Castle's Too Small

DETROIT (AP) — Because his 54-room mansion "is inadequate to my needs and a more exclusive show place is in keeping with my position," the Rev. James L. (Prophet) Jones is going to sell his "French Castle" on once exclusive Arden Park.

Followers of the Negro minister, who calls himself "Prophet," bought the "French Castle" for him in 1944 for $35,000 and furnished it with an estimated $200,000 worth of furniture, art pieces and carpeting.

A spokesman for "The Prophet" complained the mansion's cavernous garage now was too small to house the minister's current transportation fleet—five cars and a truck.

The Rev. Mr. Jones conducts his services from a red velvet, canopied throne on the stage of a one-time movie theatre. He labels himself head of the Dominion Council of the Church of Universal Triumph, The Dominion of God, Inc., and claims six million followers. His top aides are called princes and princesses.

In announcing plans to vacate the "French Castle," the Rev. Mr. Jones said "God has commanded me to move as soon as possible."

Car Experts Refute Belief 1955 Market Was 'Rigged'

By DAVID J. WILKIE
(AP) Automotive Editor

DETROIT (AP)—Some of this year's 7½ million car buyers may have yielded to bargain offers but none was forced to buy.

* * *

That's the view expressed by numerous experts at the manufacturing level. These experts disagree with the view there was anything artificial about the record-smashing demand for new cars this year. They disagree also with the suggestion that the huge 1955 market "borrowed" anything from the future demand for new cars.

There has been more than a little criticism from the retailing level that the manufacturing division over-produced this year and that the production volume encourages many practices that upset the average retailer's normal merchandising processes.

A Senate subcommittee making a survey of car marketing problems is getting hundreds of letters in reply to a questionnaire it gave wide distribution. Some of the letters report no problems unusual in a competitive market. Just as many or more, however, complain that heavy production volume stimulates new car "bootlegging" and so-called "cross selling."

* * *

"Bootlegging" involves the sale at close to wholesale prices of new cars by franchised dealers to used car operators for re-sale at well below list prices. Usually the cars are resold in another franchised dealer's territory and the transactions bring strong protests from him.

"Cross selling" is the selling of new cars by one established dealer in another dealer's territory.

Some of the protesting dealers are emphatic in saying "there ought to be a law" covering some or all the practices they maintain is hurting their business. One suggestion in connection with territory invasion has been that a penalty be imposed upon the dealer selling in another's territory.

"Bootlegging" is not new in the car industry. It first appeared years ago. It reached rather large proportions a few years after competition returned to the postwar market and the industry began smashing production records.

The term "car bootlegger" gained widespread publicity soon after the industry set its production mark at 6,660,000 cars in 1950. At first it was accepted as applying to the used car dealer who sold new cars at cut prices in another enfranchised new car dealer's territory.

Then somebody raised the question, "Who is the bootlegger?" It was suggested there would be no "bootlegging" unless an established new car dealer or other agency getting new cars from the factory re-sold them to the used car or non-franchised retailer.

What will come from the Senate inquiry into car marketing practices is still to be determined. General Motors itself is being "studied" by the Senate Antitrust Subcommittee.

The major car producers months ago sought amendments to present laws to permit them to crack down on car bootlegging. So far they have not succeeded in getting any such authorization. Meanwhile a lot of dealers are telling the Senate subcommittee, by mail and otherwise, that they are being forced to accept more new cars from the factory than they want.

General Motors offered earlier in the year to repurchase any cars the dealers regarded as surplus. The proposal has not so far been described as successful, however. Some dealers have been reluctant to return cars because they felt to do so would be an admission they could not handle the quotas assigned them.

Some others have insisted upon their right to sell the cars wherever and to whomever they pleased —and at whatever price they chose to put on them.

Paper Consumption Makes Record Rise

Consumption of newsprint during the first 10 months of 1955 was eight per cent higher than it was for the same period a year ago, the American Newspaper Publishers Association reported yesterday.

A spokesman disclosed that consumption at the end of October had reached a peak of 5,478,853 tons.

According to the association, publishers' stocks at the end of the month plummeted to the lowest point since 1933. Average stocks on hand reportedly was enough for 27 days.

Congress Seeks Reason for Newspapers' Plight

LUFKIN, Tex. (AP) — Expressing concern over "the plight of the average small newspaper," members of a congressional subcommittee said here yesterday there is no shortage of lumber for wood pulp but that there is need for the stimulation of newsprint production.

Now touring the South trying to find the answer to America's newsprint problem—a threatened shortage and skyrocketing prices—the committee yesterday visited the big Southland Paper Mill, Inc., plant here.

Rep. Arthur G. Klein (D-NY), spokesman for the four members of the committee, said "what we're down here for is to see if anything could stimulate the production of newsprint."

Argentine Leader Moves to Restore Press Freedom

BUENOS AIRES (AP)—The week-old provisional government of Maj. Gen. Pedro Aramburu apparently is making sweeping moves to revive freedom of the press in Argentina after the tight controls of Peronism.

* * *

By decree, Aramburu yesterday wiped out the presidential press office, the big 1,400-man organization which under former President Juan Peron fed a steady stream of propaganda to newspapers, magazines, radio, television, and movies.

PROMPT SOLUTION

This was followed by a declaration from Subsecretary of the Interior Carlos Manuel Muniz that the government is seeking a "prompt solution" of the La Prensa case. That big, independent newspaper—a strong critic of Peronism—was expropriated in 1951 and turned over to the pro-Peron General Confederation of Labor.

Then the government announced it was lifting immediately its temporary administration intervention from the Socialist newspaper La Vanguardia and that the newspaper El Norte in Salta Province had resumed publication.

ANN ARBOR (INS) — In a special session yesterday, the Ann Arbor City Council agreed to provide overtime pay for the city's undermanned police force. The step was taken following recent mass resignations by 11 patrolmen and detectives who failed to win a substantial pay raise.

The council agreed to give additional pay for hours worked over and above the present 44-hour week. That should mean a sizeable pay check for most of the officers called in to handle today's football crowd.

Next Monday, the Ann Arbor force will go on a 60-hour work week until the strength of the force returns to normal.

Little Nancy Lee Is With Santa and She's Happy

ANN ARBOR (AP)—Christmas 1955 was a happy one for tiny, 27-month-old Nancy Lee Kirk. Christmas came for Nancy Lee in October.

* * *

Yesterday she died of a rare and invariably fatal blood disease, just as physicians predicted she would in telling her parents; "There is nothing we can do for her. She may not live until Christmas."

The story of Nancy's plight spread and a number of persons sent money to her parents to provide an early Christmas.

Mr. and Mrs. James L. Kirk of Ann Arbor, Nancy's parents and Michigan maintenance department, put up a tree in October. The family and friends brought her toys and dresses. Nancy had a wonderful Christmas.

The child was afflicted by leterer-siwe, a disease that destroys fat components in the blood.

* * *

Funeral services will be held Monday for Nancy, whose 11 month old brother, James Jr., is too young to understand what happened to her or that Christmas really comes in December.

Uncover Two Clues in Women's Murder

NEW YORK (INS) — Police chemists were analyzing today skin fragments and strands of h the first tangible clues uncovered in the brutal dual-murder of two women in Queens.

Deep scratches on Mae Gazzo's face and the discovery of hair as well as torn pieces of skin under her fingernails led police to speculate the beauty expert was slain during a furious struggle with her murderer.

Miss Gazzo and Kathleen Egan, a visiting client, were shot in the former's electrolysis salon last Tuesday.

Meanwhile as the laboratory report was awaited, it was learned that a mystery woman was being sought for questioning in the case. It was thought the woman might be a former business associate of Miss Gazzo.

England's Poisons Board has recommended a curb on the sale of a drug found to have been used by housebreakers to provide courage while engaged in crime.

In Memoriam 2

IN LOVING MEMORY OF CLIFford E. Hass who passed away six years ago today:
Deep in our hearts you are fondly remembered.
Sweet, happy memories cling round your name;
True hearts that loved you with deepest affection
Always will love you in death the same.
Sadly missed by wife, children and mother-in-law.

IN LOVING MEMORY OF JAMES R. Tedder, who passed away Nov. 19, 1954. Sadly missed by his mother, Miss Whitehead, his wife, Verna, and Family.
Gone is the face we loved so dear,
Silent is the voice we loved to hear;
Too far away for sight or speech,
But not too far for our thoughts to reach.

Andy Griffith's Accent Is on His Ole' Accent

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—Andy Griffith's Broadway success story is like that of many a shapely young actress except that, instead of accenting sex, he accented accent.

★ ★ ★ ★

"Do you mind if I step across the street and brang myself in some supper?" the ex-North Carolina school teacher drawled the other afternoon in his dressing room at the Alvin. When a waiter fetched him back some stew, Andy attacked it hungrily and then suddenly said, "Aw, now, I didn't order you-all anything!"

ANDY

Andy plays the hillbilly private in "No Time for Sergents" so well that Hollywood's after him, which surprises him because his folks never believed in show business "and the like of that."

"You see, my wife thought we could make a livin' entertainin' civic clubs, and I didn't think we could," continued Andy.

"Wall, anyway," said Andy, "I borrowed $1,000, paid $400 down payment on a car, bought some brochures tellin' what we did, took a house with an extra room for practicin'—and do you know, in two days, we got our first job!

But things picked up, Andy made a recording in a Dixi-ish Herb Shriner kind of way, titled, "What It Was—It was Football," which sold phenomenally, and he was soon hired in night clubs and able to pay back the $1,000 lent him by two neighbors at Mt. Airy, N. C.

Andy plays a mountaineer youth called Will Stockdale and, says Andy, "Will Stockdale is as real as anything to me."

Such expressions as "Ah did don't know" fall rather naturally from Andy's lips. Another one he likes is, "How ya come on?" Then there's, "That'll git it," or, "That'll flat git it." A Carolina comedian, Dave Gardner, uses this expression so frequently that they call him "Flat Git It Gardner."

★ ★ ★ ★

Margaret Truman, Charles Laughton and other such celebrities have come backstage to congratulate Andy on his elevation to stardom. He greets them modestly and quietly, for he's not a demonstrative fellow.

★ ★ ★ ★

"In them little bitty towns, people don't show their emotions much," Andy says. "The only time they ever saw my grandfather kiss my grandmother was the day he died. He just got up out of his deathbed and went over 'n' kissed her. They don't say, 'I love you,' and they don't hug and kiss and all like that."

Rocket Ship X2 Flies First Test

Air Force Hopes to Top 1,650 M. P. H. Record With Bell Airplane

BALTIMORE (AP)—The Bell X2 rocket plane, which the Air Force hopes will beat the 1,650-mile per hour world speed record, got its first test flight yesterday.

The Air Research and Development Command headquarters here annouced the flight lasted about 30 minutes at Edwards Air Force Base in California.

The brief annoucement said the Bell X2 was released from a B50 "mother plane" and flew under its own power six minutes before gliding back to its base.

Lt. Col. Pete Everest, piloting the powerful craft, held it to "transonic speed," or in the "area of the sound barrier," the annoucement said.

The flight was "purely for exploratory purposes."

The X2 was built to "explore the thermal barrier," described as the velocity at which heat caused by friction threatens destruction of ordinary airplane materials.

ARDC officials said the X2 was designed as a successor to the X1A, holder of at least two world records—hitting a speed of about 1,650 m.p.h. and reaching an altitude of 90,000 feet.

Uninvited Callers Fake Guests Out of $340

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP) — The maid admitted four men wearing sport coats, believing they were part of the entertainment at Dr. Joseph Pollock's birthday party.

Mrs. Pollock, who had just welcomed 20 guests, thought they were singers, possibly a surprise arranged by one of the guests.

Then the guests discovered they had to furnish the notes—bank notes—when the quartet drew guns and ordered everybody to toss wallets on the floor.

The four escaped with $340, police reported yesterday.

Farley Granger to End Ranks of the Married

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Some time before Christmas, the Hollywood bachelor actor Farley Granger will marry the Broadway actress Janice Rule.

* * *

Granger's agent announced the 30-year-old film player's engagement last night. Granger and Miss Rule are in New York now, and that's where they plan to be wed in a simple church ceremony. The met last summer in the cast of the Tree."

* * *

A romance between Granger and Shelley Winters waxed and waned for months, here and abroad, before he met Miss Rule, 24. The latter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Rule of Chicago, had several minor screen roles before her career blossomed on Broadway. She formerly was the wife of Richard Nash, playwright.

$5,600 Worth of Jewels Dumped Onto Trash Pile

LONDON (AP)—Mrs. Evelyn Berger hid jewelry valued at 2,000 pounds ($5,600 in a waste basket when she went away for the weekend, but she forgot to tell the maid.

Employes at the neighborhood incinerator now are looking for the jewels as they shovel trash into the furnace.

Racial Bars Stripped in Baltimore Parks

BALTIMORE (AP)—Parks and recreation facilities under the jurisdiction of the city's Board of Recreation and Parks were stripped of racial bars yesterday by board action.

James C. Anderson, president of the board, said the action was taken to comply with a U.S. Supreme Court ruling of Nov. 7 that racial segregation at public beaches, parks and other recreational facilities is unconstitutional.

The Supreme Court ruling upheld a Fourth Circuit Court of Appeals ruling handed down in Richmond, Va., last March. The Circuit Court ruling reversed a U.S. District Court finding against Negro groups seeking an end to segregation at a state park near Annapolis and at a beach operated by the city.

Row Rages Over Cradle of Britain's TV With Ads

By EDDY GILMORE

LONDON (AP) — Britain's commercial television — TV with advertising — is a lusty two-month-old baby over whose controversial cradle rages a row of praise and sneers.

"As permanent as the House of Parliament," says one supporter.

"A flop," reports a detractor.

* * *

Somewhere between these extremes lies the true definition of a revolutionary eexperiment in the lives of an island population wholly unaccustomed, until two months ago, to soap suds and soup sales harangues from the box with the big glass eye.

Before commercial television sent out its first program Sept. 22, Britain's ever-growing TV audience had only one channel — that of the government-sponsored British Broadcasting Corp.

Then, already approved by Prime Minister Eden's Conservative government, commercial TV came in and with it the big switch which is more complicated than it sounds.

The majority of sets in operation were built to receive the single BBC channel. The electric shops were so busy fixig up sets with gadgets that would bring in the new programs that "Have you become converted yet?" became a commonplace question among the citizenry.

* * *

Comercial television hired producers, technicians and stars away from the BBC, imported films of surefire American programs, developed a number of new ideas and threw down a vigorous challenge to the older service.

Such American shows as I Love Lucy and Dragnet became favorites on the new network.

The BBC fought back with Burns and Allen and Amos and Andy — also imports from across the ocean.

Commercial inaugurated morning shows at 10:30 a.m. which the BBC had never done. The BBC began televising earlier in the afternoon and streamlined its weighty news programs to keep pace with commercial's new commentator Chris Chataway.

Wyoming Girl, English Lord to Tie Wed Knot

BIG HORN, Wyo. (AP)—The 20-year old daughter of a Wyoming cattle rancher is going to marry an English lord, and she admits she's "pretty excited" about it.

But Miss Jean Wallop of Big Horn expressed hope today "there wouldn't be a lot of publicity" about the announcement she will marry Lord Porchester, 31, a socialite who has been a frequent escort of Princess Margaret.

* * *

She said she met Lord Porchester, the only son and heir of the Earl of Carnarvon, while she was visiting relatives in England but declined to comment on their romance.

* * *

They will be married quietly in New York, an announcement said. It was made in London. No date for the wedding was given.

Miss Wallop said her father was born and reared in Wyoming. She has a younger sister, 16, and two brothers, one of whom is in the Army. She attended school at the University of Colorado and Garrison Forest in Maryland.

Paper Company Expands

WATERVLIET (AP) — The Watervliet Paper Co. said it is expanding its purchases of Aspen Wood for production of high-quality bond paper. The firm's new pulp mill, which will consume from 50 to 60 tons of hard wood a day, already is in partial operation.

Brazil's export coffee supply for the present crop year is estimated at a near-record 23,800,000 bags, Rio de Janeiro reports.
