Adams Says Cohn Threatened Army

'You Mean They Like 'em?'

Tells of Incident Last Oct. 20th at Ft. Monmouth

Counsel for McCarthy Exploded 'This Is War,' Witness Says

WASHINGTON (AP) — Army counselor John G. Adams swore today Roy M. Cohn exploded "This is war" when Cohn was barred from a secret radar laboratory at Ft. Monmouth, N.J. last Oct. 20.

Telling of the incident from the witness chair of the McCarthy-Army hearings, Adams said:

"He became extremely upset. He said 'This is war,' and 'We'll really investigate this place now.'

"He said, 'They let Communists into this place but they keep me out—I've got security clearance to go any place in the world.'"

Adams was supporting the Army's contention that Cohn, 27-year-old counsel to Sen. McCarthy's investigations subcommittee, made threats against the Army.

The Army charges also that Cohn used the subcommittee's power in seeking preferential Army treatment for Pvt. G. David Schine, wealthy New Yorker who was an unpaid consultant to the subcommittee before he was drafted last fall.

Ray H. Jenkins, special counsel for the inquiry into the row, asked whether Cohn had said at Ft. Monmouth that he had access to FBI files.

"He didn't say that to me but he said that to other persons," Adams replied.

Leading up to his story of the Monmouth incident, Adams testified:

1. He was under instructions from Secretary Stevens to cooperate "completely and wholeheartedly" with the McCarthy subcommittee's investigation of alleged subversion at Ft. Monmouth. The McCarthy camp contends Secretary Stevens gave Adams the as-

Cause for Celebration

RAIN IN KANSAS—It was almost a new experience for seven-year-old Daryl Richardson, of Lawrence, Kan., to don his father's boots and splash through king-sized puddles the other day. Heavy rains brought 2.28 inches to Lawrence, along with the first standing water seen in the area in many drought-dry months.

Ike Condemns Officers Who Violate Orders

Hits Act of Giving Out Restricted Army Data as 'Reprehensible'

WASHINGTON (INS) — President Eisenhower today angrily condemned any officer who would violate the orders of his superiors by turning over security information to unauthorized persons.

The President spoke out heatedly on the subject when asked at his news conference to comment on the actions of an unidentified Army intelligence officer who gave Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis) classified FBI information.

Mr. Eisenhower said we might as well disband the Army when we get to the point where we condone the disobedience of orders by any officer or enlisted man.

He branded the action of an officer who would commit such an act reprehensible and said it was perfectly ridiculous to consider that there is one code of obedience to orders for enlisted men and another for officers.

The chief executive declared that there are certain government secrets which should be given only to those persons who must have them.

He said there is an inevitable conflict in free government on how much government information should be made public, and that he normally finds himself on the side of giving out more. But, he added emphatically, there are some things that cannot be given out

The President declined to answer a question on whether he thinks members of what was described as the "McCarthy spy network" should be regarded as security risks.

He began his response to the McCarthy question, which opened his news conference, by noting that one part of the query involved a Senate hearing, which he had said he was going to take a vacation from talking about.

He launched into his detailed reply, however, after noting that the other part of the question referred to the general matter of propriety of anyone making security information available to unauthorized persons.

The President removed any doubt as to the specific application of his remarks, however, be declar-

MARION JO ZOBROVITZ

TERRENCE DE MOSS

Four-year-old Marion Jo Zobrovitz died in Detroit Receiving Hospital Tuesday night a few hours after her battered body was found in a garage behind her home. Police say Terrence De Moss, 15, has confessed the crime.

Playmates Find Child Bleeding, Torn in Garage

Boy Tells of Slashing and Beating Youngster; Tot Dies in Hospital

DETROIT (AP) — An unemotional high school student told police today he fatally beat and slashed a 4-year-old girl, but didn't know why he did it.

Marion Jo Zobrovitz was found yesterday by three playmates in a garage behind her home, her body torn and bleeding. She died in a hospital after doctors fought 4½ hours to save her.

Police Lt. Edward Jocques said 15-year-old Terrence De Moss told him he had struck the girl with a 2-by-4 beam, then slashed her.

Jocques said the boy gave no reason for the attack.

De Moss is a juvenile under Michigan law and cannot be charged with a major crime in Criminal Court unless Probate Court waives its jurisdiction.

Mrs. Doris De Moss, his mother, told police she suspected her son, but police arrived before she could call them.

In a formal statement to police, she said that Terry was fascinated by a newspaper account of the crime. She said that he left for school yesterday morning and came home about 2:50 p.m.

She told police that he went to the bathroom and then to the kitchen, where he tried to clean brown spots off his grey flannel trousers. He told her that a girl had spilled something at school and he had gotten splashed.

Later, she told police, he went to a show with her and his brother.

When they got back home, she said, Terry grabbed their newspaper and began to read the story of the attack.

Mrs. De Moss said he told her he had been at school, but she threatened to call his teacher.

It was then, Mrs. De Moss told police, that he broke down and said:

"I don't know why I did it."

Meanwhile, police, acting on a tip from a policeman neighbor, had already headed for the home.

Patrolman Andrew Hunter tipped authorities to the possibility of De Moss being involved in the crime. He said De Moss was known to have dissected animals and that when he heard of the attack on the girl he thought of the youth at once.

The youth stood 5 foot 9 and was of slender built.

Flint Woman Tells of Red 'Colonizing' in Auto Plants

FLINT (AP)—A Flint housewife who spent five years in the Communist Party's inner circles as an FBI agent said today the party sent "colonizers" into Flint in the late 1940s to rejuvenate its activities in big auto plants.

Red-haired Mrs. Beatrice Churchill gave a detailed report of organizing efforts of the "colonizers" to a House un-American activities subcommittee. The congressional group is holding two weeks of hearings in Michigan.

Mrs. Churchill said the "colonizers" were young, self-styled "members of the intelligentsia" mostly from New York. They were sent to Flint, she said, when party activities were ebbing and needed a shot in the arm.

Their names were kept secret, even to veteran party members here, she said, until they gained seniority on new-found jobs at General Motors plants.

Mrs. Churchill said the "colonization" effort was not very successful because factionalism developed between old-time Communists already in the plants and the highly-trained newcomers.

Mrs. Churchill identified the "colonizers" as:

Ex-Resident Here Sends $1 to City, Obeys Minister

With the help of a minister, a former Pontiac man won a 27-year battle with his conscience and sent a $1 contribution from Philadelphia recently to be used for this city's betterment.

Pontiac Mayor William W. Donaldson received the money and a letter of explanation.

"I lived in your city back in 1927 and I went out early one morning and took two quarts of milk that the milkman had delivered," wrote the ex-resident.

"I am now a believer in the work of Father Divine and he will not accpet any of us as clean members of his church until all of our past is clean. So here is one dollar for charity in your city. Please write and let him (Father Divine) know that I have paid this bill. . ."

Mayor Donaldson said he has placed the $1 in the Pontiac Foundation's fund for a civic auditorium here and has written the requested letter to the Rev. M. J. Divine in Philadelphia.

B26 Bombers Plaster Rebels

French-Piloted Planes Smash Supplies in Red River Delta

HANOI, Indochina (AP)—Squadrons of French-manned B26 bombers plastered the Vietminh rebels today inside the Red River Delta, which France has put on the top danger list in the Indochina war.

The planes smashed bases of the Communist-led rebels in the limestone hills of the southern areas of the Delta—keystone of the French held bastion around Hanoi and the port of Haiphong.

Infiltrating rebels continued harassing action, the French reported, blowing up two freight and passenger trains about eight miles east of this tense north Indochina capital. The French said the railroad was restored to operation soon afterward.

Officials claimed 49 Vietminh were killed and 26 captured today in scattered mop up actions around the Delta.

Greenland Fears Measles Epidemic

GODTHAAB, Greenland (AP)—The 2,000 Eskimos in Greenland's capital of Godthaab may come down with measles within a week, health officials warned today.

The warning followed outbreaks of at least 16 cases. The capital has been isolated from the rest of the big Danish island.

Rapid spread of the disease is feared. Greenland has never experienced it before and the Eskimos have built up no resistance to it.

Health officials believe the disease was brought here by a Danish ship about two weeks ago.

Highland Area May Be Chosen for Encampment

The Highland State Recreation Area is being considered as the site for the national encampment of the Girl Scouts of America in the summer of 1956.

While final decision has not yet been announced, officials of the national organization as well as transportion officials visted the area recently to check on its availability.

The encampment would bring from 6,000 to 7,000 girls and leaders to the 5,200-acre area.

Viet Nam Goes on Record Against Cutting Up Nation

GENEVA (AP)—The French-backed government of Viet Nam declared today under no circumstances must any Indochina armistice settlement include the partition of Viet Nam territory.

The Viet Nam terms were laid before the nine-member Indochina Conference by Foreign Minister Nguyen Quoc Dinh.

They were said by a French spokesman to have the backing of all the non-Communist delegations participating in the talks.

The plan covered both military and political aspects of the armistice. It called for a political settlement based upon free elections under United Nations control.

The main conditions for ending the fighting were:

Any agreement must include sufficient guarantees to insure a "real and durable peace and prevent any new aggression."

The agreement must not lead to a direct or indirect, definitive or provisional, partition of national territory.

It must foresee international control of the execution of the cease-fire conditions.

In Paris Premier Joseph Laniel's government faced a new vote of confidence tomorrow on the Indochina issue. Observers considered it the most serious threat so far to the government. The shaky French Cabinet conferred far into the night. It reportedly moved to ask U. S. Secretary of State Dulles to clarify his statement yesterday that loss of Indochina would not necessarily bring the loss of all Southeast Asia to the Reds.

Some Cabinet members, reportedly fearful the United States has written off Indochina, were said to be warming to the Vietminh peace plan for Indochina.

Says Indochina Not Abandoned

Ike Feels Free World Should Not Write Off Asian States

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower said today that of course we aren't giving up on saving the Indochinese states. He said he doesn't think the free world ought to write off Indochina.

The President told his news conference, however, that no nation can be saved to the free world unless it wants to be saved.

Therefore, the President said, any alliance of Southeast Asian nations would have no right to interfere in Indochina unless they were asked to do so.

Eisenhower told reporters, too, that any differences between himself and Secretary of State Dulles on the Indochinese question are differences in utterances and not in opinion.

The President was questioned about the Southeast Asia situation while Dulles met in closed session with the Senate Foreign Relations Committee to go over the same ground.

Earlier Rep. Vorys (R-Ohio) said he thinks the administration is working on collective security plans for the area which do not call for immediate use of U. S. armed forces or large expenditures of money. Vorys said in an interview he believes Congress would support a security program along the lines now being worked out.

Wildcatter Tells of County Wells

W. J. Morriss Drilling for Oil and Gas in Both Novi and Lyon Areas

Oakland County soon may lay claim to a gas well comparable to the well brought in this week by drillers near Northville in Washtenaw County.

"There are about 15 deep drilling rigs in Salem, Novi and Lyon townships and they may hit any day now," William J. Morriss of Highland Park said today. Novi and Lyon townships are in Oakland County.

Morriss, a veteran "wildcatter," has two wells sunk about a mile from the Northville well, valued by some experts at $5,000,000.

However, he is seeking "shallow gas" in the Dundee formation, which lies about 750 feet down.

The big well goes down more than 4,000 feet, into the Trenton formation. Morriss said the Trenton formation is the deepest of five formations, "each capable of producing gas or oil."

Morriss said he has leases on four sections of land across 8-Mile road from the deep well on the farm of Charles H. Nerreter.

Although he is shooting for the shallow gas in the Dundee formation, Morriss said it is possible he could tap the Trenton formation.

Morriss said he plans to sink two more exploratory wells about two miles from the Nerreter farm. He has been drilling in Lyon Township for the past year.

Seniors to See Business Places

C. of C. Sets May 25 to Show Some 500 How Free Enterprise Works

A Business-Industry-Education Day to acquaint some 500 Pontiac High School seniors with local business and job opportunities will be sponsored here May 25 by the education committee of the Pontiac Chamber of Commerce.

Students graduating in June will be guests of local merchants and manufacturers.

They will "be taken behind the scenes to see the how and why of business operations," said Robert J. St. Clair, C. of C. manager.

"The program will point out at first hand how the American free enterprise system functions, besides providing an opportunity to discover local job possibilities, the qualifications for them and chances for advancement," he added.

Seniors in both public and parochial schools will participate.

Fair Weather Seen Tonight, Thursday

Mostly fair weather tonight and Thursday is in store for Pontiac area residents, according to the U.S. Weather Bureau.

A low tonight of from 36 to 40 degrees is expected to rise to a high of from 60 to 64 degrees on Thursday.

Scattered light frost is expected in the area tonight.

Tuesday, the mercury climbed from a low of 42 to a high of 53 degrees. About .04 of an inch of rainfall was recorded.

At 8 a.m. today the reading was 43, but by 2 p.m. in downtown Pontiac, the temperature stood at 62 degrees.

School Bus at Kalamazoo Overturns, 4 Children Hurt

KALAMAZOO (AP)—A school bus carrying 46 children overturned today after colliding with a tractor on the Vicksburg-Fulton road in southern Kalamazoo County.

All the children were shaken up and bruised, but only four required medical treatment.

The tractor driver, Calvin Hope, 75, of RR 2, Vicksburg, suffered serious injuries and was rushed to a hospital.

The bus driver, George W. Norton, 33, of RR 1, Fulton, told state police the sun got in his eyes and obscured his vision as he was driving east. Police said they also learned that Norton worked from midnight to 6 a. m. in a factory.

Norton escaped with bruises and cuts.

Hope's tractor was struck in the right rear, police said, and the bus skidded 200 feet before turning on its side.

Don Hennesey, 11, who suffered a possible leg fracture, and Delia Carver, 10, who suffered bad bruises, were taken to a hospital for treatment and X-rays. Both live on R-1, Fulton.

Norman Lasler, 15, and Terry Outman, 7, also required medical treatment but weren't hospitalized.

Petitions Now Being Filed for Major Party Delegates

Nominating petitions for election of delegates to the August county conventions of major political parties are being filed with the county clerk. Deadline for petitions is 4 p.m. May 25, according to County Clerk Lynn D. Allen.

Each of the 204 voting precincts in the county is entitled to one delegate at each of the county conventions. Delegates are elected at the Aug. 3 primary.

Nominating petitions must be signed by qualified electors in the precinct in which the candidate resides. Allen suggests that 20 signers be secured for each petition.

To date 19 Republicans and 3 Democrats have filed, according to Miss Rosalind Wildgen, election clerk.

At the county conventions, which election laws specify shall be held within eight days after the primary, delegates are elected to the state conventions, to be held later in the month.

Business of the state conventions include nominating candidates for the state offices of secretary of state, auditor general, treasurer and attorney general.

In precincts from which no delegate candidates file, blank ballots will permit voters to write in names of delegates.

In 1953 there were 136 Republican and 87 Democratic candidates for delegate seats from the 185 precincts. Number of county voting precincts has increased to 204 this year.

No Tax Increase Needed to Build School Additions When Bond Issue Gets OK

From Our Birmingahm Bureau

BIRMINGHAM — With no increase in taxes, voters will get a new junior high school and a 20-classroom addition to the three-year-old Birmingham High School if they approve a proposed $3.5 million bond issue at the June 14 school election.

The Board of Education adopted a resolution for the bond issue last night.

Supt. of Schools Dwight B. Ireland had explained before that no raise will be needed in the present 11-mill tax levy because of the increase in assessed valuation and savings in interest rates since the 1950 bond issue.

Adding strength to the proposal, Ireland issued a report this week on enrollment trends.

Where enrollment increases formerly took place during the summer months, it is now a year-round process. Less than 300 students will be graduated in June. He said 900 new kindergartners are expected to enroll in September.

Ireland estimated that the senior high school will exceed an enrollment of 1,800 students by 1960, with an enrollment of 2,500 in the seventh through ninth grades.

September's opening of the Pembroke and Beverly elementary schools, plus additions to four others, will take care of little more than the anticipated enrollment, he estimated.

"Any continued growth in the elementary schools will require new schools on new sites, as many of our present schools have reached the maximum possibilities of development," he concluded.

Jury Is Told of Holdup Plans

Robber's Wife Claims Fox-Hounds Robbery Planned in Her Home

Mrs. Lula Sullivan, 28, wife of convicted tavern robber James Sullivan, told an Oakland County Circuit Court jury today that plans for the $6,200 Fox and Hounds Inn holdup were made in her Detroit home.

She told the 14-member jury that Charles Clark, 31, and John W. Graham, 37, of Detroit, were among four men who came to her residence to split the money after the Bloomfield Hills holdup last November. Both are charged with armed robbery.

Sullivan, 30, sentenced six weeks ago to five to 15 years in prison on the same charge, is being held in Oakland County Jail as a possible witness.

Clark also is accused of the first degree murder of Jack Gamble last January in Detroit. He will be returned there after trial here.

Delegates Meet to Elect Bishop

Three From Michigan in List Considered for Bishop Emrich's Aide

DETROIT (AP) — Some 500 clergymen and lay delegates from the Episcopal Diocese of Michigan met today in a special convention to elect a new suffragan bishop. Bishop Richard S. Emrich led the group.

They will nominate and elect a successor to Bishop Russell S. Hubbard, now the missionary bishop of Spokane, Wash.

Six names have been submitted for the convention's perusal. Three are from Michigan. They are:

Rev. George R. Selway, D. D. rector of St. Paul Church, Lansing; Rev. Archie H. Crowley, rector of St. James Church, Grosse Ile, and Rev. Canon John Shufelt, executive secretary of the diocesan college work commission.

The outstate candidates for nomination are the Rev. John B. Midworth, executive secretary of the adult division of the national council's department of Christian education; Rev. Roger W. Blanchard, secretary of the Episcopal Church national council division of college work and Rev. Bernard C. Newman, vicar of Trinity Church, New York.

C. E. Wilson Hoping for End of Hearings

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense C. E. Wilson, leaving last night on a three-week trip to the Far East, had this to say about the McCarthy-Army hearings:

"I do hope that at least by the time I get back things are marked down to size and over with."

Wilson also said he wanted to say one other thing:

"The Army and the whole Defense Department has excellent procedures for handling security . . . the Army is entirely capable of taking care of the problem."

McCarthy has contended there has been laxity in the Army in dealing with the problem of subversives.

Mrs. Rudolph Snell Infant Son

Funeral for Mrs. Rudolph (Lelia) Snell and infant son will be Thursday at 2 p. m. from the Voorhees-Siple Chapel. The Rev. Carl W. Nelson of St. John Lutheran Church will officiate and burial will be in Oakland Hills Memorial Cemetery.

Born in East Point, Ga., March 20, 1922, she was the daughter of the late William C. Morrill and Mrs. Alex Ballagh of Pontiac.

Mrs. Snell had resided in Pontiac 20 years before moving to Crystal Falls a year ago. She was killed in an automobile accident Friday at Alpha. The accident later caused the death of her son.

Surviving is her husband whom she married in Detroit Sept. 24, 1948, her mother, a daughter and two sons, Judith, Charles and Shelley of Crystal Falls.

Also surviving is a sister and two brothers, Mrs. Rex Beamer and William C. Morrill of Washington, D. C. and Charles A. Morrill of Pontiac.

George M. Terry

After an illness of six weeks, George M. Terry, 77, of 165 S. Sanford St., died at his residence at 5:45 p. m. Tuesday.

Born in Luling, Texas, Nov. 5, 1876, he was the son of George and Finetta Duke Terry. He came to Pontiac six years ago from ElCentro, Calif. He was a farmer.

Surviving are a daughter, Mrs. Edna Lykins and a granddaughter of Pontiac.

The body will be taken this evening from Kirby Funeral Home to the Bryan Funeral Home at Walnut Ridge, Ark. for service and burial on Saturday.

Mrs. Juan Villarreal

Following a prolonged illness, Mrs. Juan (Paula) Villarreal, 70, of 2250 Dixie Hwy., died at her residence Tuesday morning.

Born in Mexico in 1883, she was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Mungia. She came to Oakland County from Texas a year ago.

Surviving are six sons and four daughters, Juan Jr. with whom she lived, Thomas, Joe, Mrs. Josefa Morales and Mrs. Julia Rivas of Pontiac, Celso of New Mexico, Benito M., Lydia and Mrs. Peter Merino of Texas, and Martin of Holly.

Funeral will be Friday from the Huntoon Funeral Home with burial in the Drayton Plains Cemetery.

Commission Does Routine Business at Short Meeting

Routine business was dispatched by Pontiac City Commission last night in the shortest meeting since the new commissioners took office.

The west 95 feet of lots 123 through 127 of Hillside Manor subdivision was sold to the Pilgrim Holiness Church for $2,000.

A resolution was approved authorizing the city clerk to advertise for bids on public liability and property damage insurance on city owned vehicles and for workmen's compensation insurance for city garbage workers.

A communication was received from local 165 Utility Workers, CIO, endorsing a resolution adopted by the Oakland County CIO Council asking changes in the method of dealing with grievances at Pontiac General Hospital.

A report from the City Plan Commission was received approving assessor's plat 163 subject to authorization by the city engineer.

An engineer's cost estimate of $6,563 was submitted for planned construction of curb, gutter, drainage and related work on First from Barkell to Fuller.

Special assessment rolls were received and public hearings on them set for May 18 on construction of:

Sanitary sewers in Wyoming from existing sewer east of Moter to Franklin and in Brooklyn from Stanley to Richmond.

Combined sewers in Rutgers from University to the PO & N Railroad and in West Princeton from Carlisle to Stanley.

Curb, gutter, drainage and related work on Stout from Green to Palmer.

A public hearing was held on intention to construct curb, gutter, drainage and related work on Tennyson from Joslyn to Highwood. The work was postponed one year on request of residents in the area.

A public hearing was conducted and confirmation of a special assessment roll deferred for construction of curb, gutter, drainage and related work on Longfellow from Baldwin to University.

A public hearing was held and a special assessment roll confirmed for construction of a water main in Ypsilanti from Baldwin to the PO & N Railroad.

Champion Miler Can't Broadcast

Barred From U. S. TV and Radio to Guard His Amateur Status

NEW YORK (INS) — Roger Bannister's dates to tell American radio and television audiences how it feels to run the world's first four-minute mile were cancelled today because of a question as to their effect on his amateur standing.

The slender 25-year-old medical student arrived by plane this morning with commitments to appear—at British Foreign Office "request" —on half a dozen programs beginning with tonight's CBS "I've Got a Secret."

However, the British Consulate announced almost immediately that all of Bannister's appearances were called off upon the advice of U. S. and British Amateur Athletic Union officials because of the "commercial aspects" of the shows.

Indignant CBS, NBC and ABC network officials said they were willing to remove all commercials, making it clear that Bannister would not personally receive any fees for appearing, and they pointed out that many American athletes have appeared—with suitable clearances — on similar programs.

But Bannister, slated to return home Saturday without either running or making any radio-TV appearances, appeared to have made his transatlantic crossing for nothing.

Consulate spokesmen said he was "resting" this morning and that his plans will be discussed later in the day.

Witness Tells of Red 'Colonizing' in Flint

went to work for GM's Buick division in Flint and his wife became treasurer of the party's Saginaw Valley section.

Howard and Nina Falk, New York. Falk also got a job at Buick.

Ted Karpell, New York, Karpell got a job at GM's Chevrolet division, but left Flint after fellow workers painted his car red and roughed him up.

William Vanderboos, New York. Vanderboos became an employe of GM's Fisher Body division in Flint.

George Fox, Lansing. Fox became attached to Chevrolet.

Mrs. Churchill mentioned the name of Leon Sapolinski, of Grand Rapids, while discussing "colonizers," but said he was killed in an auto accident shortly after coming to Flint.

The name of Jim Zarichny, former Michigan State College student, also was mentioned by Mrs. Churchill. But she said he was "not a colonizer because his home was here."

Mrs. Churchill identified more than a score of persons as Communist party functionaries she came across during her stay in the party from 1945 to 1950. Some of these previously were identified by other witnesses at hearings in Detroit and Lansing.

Rep. Harold H. Velde (R-Ill), chairman of the full committee, flew in from Washington to sit in on the Flint phase of the hearings.

The committee wound up two days of hearings in the state Capitol in Lansing yesterday by announcing it would start denaturalization and deportation proceedings against Richard L. Davis, 42, who was identified as a salesman for the Concrete Wall Co. of Detroit in committee records.

The concluding session in Lansing was highlighted by Richard K. Fox, 33, an unemployed carpenter and former Michigan State College student, when he called Clardy a "liar."

Clardy said no decision had been made on recommending contempt citations for any of Tuesday's witnesses. But Fox's outburst, he said privately, was "prima facie contempt of Congress."

When Fox took the stand, he started out to be the most unruly witness of the committee's Lansing appearance. He had to be gavelled to order repeatedly in his first five minutes.

He declined answers to questions about membership in the carpenters union or about alleged Communist affiliations in Detroit and Lansing.

In a statement to the Press, Fox said that he was born in Bloomfield Township, Oakland County and served six years in the Coast Guard where he won two bronze stars.

John C. Houston, 28, Pontiac attorney, refused on the grounds of eight of the 13 articles of the Bill of Rights to answer these questions by Rep. Gordon Scherer (R-Ohio), a committee member:

"Aren't you regularly conferring with high party functionaries in Pontiac?"

Isn't it a fact that you are the leader of the Communist underground in this area?"

In testimony in Detroit last week, Mrs. Bereniece Baldwin named Houston's wife, Betty, as secretary of the Neafus Club, a Communist group, at the University of Michigan in 1947.

St. Joseph Counts 150 Open House Visitors in 2 Days

Some 150 men and women toured St. Joseph Mercy Hospital Tuesday, bringing the total of open house visitors to 200 for the first two days.

Tours of the hospital, demonstrations of special equipment and free refreshments are planned for visitors today and Thursday from 2 until 4 p.m. and Thursday night from 7 until 8.

A special program Friday night will climax the open house, a celebration of National Hospital Week.

St. Joseph Mercy Hospital Alumnae members who guided guests on tours Tuesday were Miss Donna Menz, Miss Jean Zeeman, Mrs. Warren Gatz, Mrs. Robert Holm, Mrs. George Mellen and Mrs. Martin Quick. Refreshment hostesses for the hospital auxiliary were Mrs. H. Guy Moats and Mrs. F. R. Pickering.

3 Breakin Suspects Face Court Monday

Three men accused of a series of Pontiac breakins in March and April were bound over to Oakland County Circuit Court today after appearing before Pontiac Judge Maurice E. Finnegan.

Willie Lee Powell, 26, of 481 Colorado Ave., who was arrested by Pontiac Police April 29 while trying to open a safe with an axe, waived examination and was returned to Oakland County Jail.

The other two, Billie Watkins, 22, of 391½ Franklin Rd., and Theodore Gholson, 21, of 473 Ditmar St., also were returned to jail.

Watkins was arrested in an auto outside the building and Gholson later was implicated by the other two men. Arraignment is scheduled Monday.

Seeks Committee to Speed Seaway

LANSING (UP) — Sen. Harry F. Hittle (R-East Lansing) will sponsor a resolution when the Legislature reconvenes tomorrow proposing creation of a Michigan committee to urge speedy construction of the St. Lawrence Seaway.

Hittle's resolution proposes appointment of a six-man legislative committee and establishment of a citizens' group representing all state economic interests to encourage work on the seaway.

The resolution also lauds work of Sen. Homer Ferguson (R-Mich) in securing passage of enabling legislation in Congress.

Bloomfield Budget Hearing Is May 25

BLOOMFIELD HILLS — The City Commission last night set a public hearing for May 25 to discuss the proposed 1954-55 budget, which is about $15,000 above last year's.

Additional office help and another police officer account for a major portion of the increase in the proposed $143,530 budget, City Manager Elmer Kephart said.

Kephart said the tax levy would be raised from $15.20 per $1,000 assessed valuation to $16.80. He said the budget may be adopted the night of the hearing, if there are no objections voiced.

Former City Pastor Dies in Washington

Word has been received here of the death of the Rev. Decatur N. Lacy, former pastor at First Methodist Church from 1923 to 1926. He died in Kirkland, Wash., where he had resided since retiring.

Surviving are his widow, two daughters and a son.

The Rev. Mr. Lacy was transferred from the Detroit Conference of the Methodist Church to the Pacific Northwest Conference in 1934.

Pontiac Commissioners, Manager Attend Parley

All seven Pontiac city commissioners and City Manager Walter K. Willman are in Fenton today attending the annual regional meeting of the Michigan Municipal League for mayors, presidents, councilmen and other officials.

Auto Man Dies in Flint

FLINT (AP) — Edward M. Cumings, one of the first men in the automobile supply business in Flint, died Monday in his home at the age of 79. He founded the Cumings Bros. Supply Co. in 1904.

Army Driver Faces Hearing

Stands Mute to Charge of Negligent Homicide in 8-Mile Rd. Crash

The driver of a five-ton Army truck which rammed a pickup truck yesterday morning, killing its driver, faces examination on a negligent homicide charge May 20.

Pfc. Frank Ciaccia, 22, of Chicago, of the 99th Antiaircraft Battalion stood mute when arraigned before Royal Oak Township Justice Richard Broder yesterday.

Ciaccia's truck, the last in a convoy heading west on 8-Mile road, entered the Wyoming intersection on a red light, smashing into a truck driven by James W. Ethridge of 21377 Ithica, Oakdale Gardens. Ethridge died shortly after in Mount Carmel Mercy Hospital, Detroit.

Royal Oak Township Police said Ciaccia's vehicle, which was hauling an antiaircraft gun, was a straggler in the convoy. They said Ethridge entered the intersection on a green light and apparently did not see the front section of the procession or Ciaccia's truck.

Ciaccia told police he was traveling about 20 miles an hour and did not see Ethridge's vehicle until he was about five feet away.

He was released on $2,500 personal bond.

Violation of Orders Condemned by Ike

ing we must never think of condoning insubordination for one second, particularly as in this case where there are special laws barring disclosure of such information.

He said in answer to another question that he thinks the Defense Department is perfectly capable of handling the long-run job of weeding the disloyal out of its ranks.

He said he doesn't see why there isn't ample authority to do so, adding that there is certainly ample will in the department for the task.

Mr. Eisenhower added that he thinks congressional investigations of such matters can be both proper and good. He quoted what he called and old saw in the armed services — that which is not inspected deteriorates.

Adams Says Cohn Threatened Army

signment of trying to halt the Monmouth inquiry.

2. McCarthy once told him G. David Schine was "not much use" to the McCarthy subcommittee and McCarthy hoped Schine would be drafted. Adams said as he recalled this conversation with McCarthy took place about Oct. 14 during a subway ride in New York City. He said Mrs. McCarthy also was present.

Adams quoted McCarthy as saying, when telling him Schine was "not much use" to the subcommittee, Schine was interested "only in being photographed."

Adams further quoted the senator as saying he hoped nothing would happen with the process of the draft and that Schine would be drafted. That happened in November, Adams said.

* * *

The McCarthy camp, denying any improper pressures for Schine, has countercharged that the Army tried to use Schine as "a hostage" to halt the Monmouth inquiry by McCarthy's subcommittee.

Adams testified that Cohn became "extremely" angry when he told Cohn in a conversation in the Senate office building about Nov. 1 that the selective service act was a keystone of national defense and the national interest required that it be administered impartially and "with great care." Schine was drafted Nov. 3. The Army contends that long before that Sen. McCarthy and his aides had sought to get a direct commission as an officer for Schine.

* * *

Adams said generally speaking, the conversation with Cohn on Nov. 1 illustrated the trend under which "this subject" (Schine) caused relations between the Army and the McCarthy subcommittee to deteriorate steadily.

After Schine's induction into the Army, Adams said, arrangements were made for the recruit to have two weeks of temporary duty in New York to engage in subcommittee work but that McCarthy asked that this be canceled.

Newshen Uses Parachute to Get to Source of Story

SAIGON (AP)—At 30, petite, brown-haired Elizabeth Brigitte Friang has lived many lives.

When she was 20 she won the French Legion of Honor, the country's top decoration, for heroic work as an underground resistance leader.

Today she is a newspaperwoman who disdains ordinary means of covering a war. She doesn't ride, walk or sail into battle. She jumps in.

* * *

She has been one of the best known women in Indochina, but few of the thousands of French Union and Vietnamese troops at Dien Bien Phu and elsewhere knew her real name. To them she was simply "Madame Parachute."

* * *

In May 1952 she realized a girlhood dream. She made her first parachute jump. It was to cover a paratrooper operation at Xuyen Moc, on the border of Annam and Cambodia. Since then, pencil and pad in her hip pocket, she has jumped 10 times. Six of them were during military operations, including Dien Bien Phu.

Now she's about to realize another childhood dream. She's off to visit the United States, where she is due in San Francisco late this week.

Americans who meet her will get a surprise. Despite the heroism which runs through most of her young life, she is no tomboy. She is as feminine as a Jacques Fath model. She weighs barely 98 pounds, and her pert little nose wrinkles with amusement when she recalls her hundred and one adventures.

* * *

Brigitte is the name she got while serving in the underground in France. She was barely past 15 when the Germans conquered her country. But even then, her rebellious nature wouldn't stay still in face of the enemy. She was only 17 when the Germans arrested her the first time and jailed her for three days. Her crime was taking part in a student parade on Armistice Day, 1941, honoring France's dead at the Arch of Triumph.

* * *

At 19 she had become secretary of the underground resistance organization which operated throughout western France.

She and she alone held the keys to the code used to contact London and the Free French forces of Gen. Charles de Gaulle.

"We were the Cook's Agency of the resistance," she said. "It was our job to bring paratroopers and agents in, dispatch them to various bases in the country. It was while doing this job, seeing so many people drop out of the air, that I got the desire to make a parachute jump."

* * *

There were many narrow escapes, but Brigitte managed to survive for months under the cover of her normal life as a medical student at the University of Paris. But one day, a fellow worker wracked by torture revealed her rendezvous with one of the underground. The Gestapo closed in on her March 21, 1944, in the gardens of the Trocadero, within view of the Eiffel Tower.

* * *

She bowled over one of the Nazi agents and started to run. A bullet in her back stopped her.

The next thing she knew, she was staring into the eyes of a burly German, saying: "Madame, excusez moi. Si grand calibre. C'est la guerre." ("Excuse me, madame, for using such a large caliber bullet. That's war.")

The sentence and the situation were so incongruous Brigitte burst into hysterical laughter.

* * *

The Germans didn't wait long to quiz her. She was still on the operating table when the first face-slappings began. But she refused to talk. Later, they broke her jaw, but still there was nothing but silence.

* * *

Two attempts to help her escape fell through before she was shipped off to Ravensbruck concentration camp. From there she was dispatched to Czechoslovakia, still undergoing hospital treatment.

One day, her name appeared on a list of several hundred women being sent to the gas chambers of Dachau. It was a mistake, since hospital patients were not to be moved. But the mistake saved her life. She never reached Dachau. U.S. planes blew up the tracks, and the doomed women were forced to march. Meanwhile, the remaining hospital patients were taken into a quarry and blown to pieces with hand grenades.

The long walk to Dachau—450 miles in three weeks—saw her make three futile escape tries. But the fourth succeeded. Ironically, it was May 8, the day the war ended.

She weighed just 61 pounds.

* * *

Back in Paris and reunited with her family, she collapsed with excitement when she entered her old room and found the Croix de Guerre on her pillow.

Since then she has won the Croix de Guerre twice.

* * *

In the two years that followed she threw in her lot with her old hero Gen. de Gaulle and helped him form the Rally of the French People (RFP), which he headed. She served as his press officer until the 1951 elections. Embittered by the defeat of the RFP she decided to go to Indochina.

"I felt I might find some real Frenchmen there," she said. De Gaulle sent her off with his blessing.

In Indochina she became correspondent for the Paris publication Samedi Soir and the magazine Sud-Est Asiatique.

* * *

Her first jump was accomplished without prior training. And it nearly cost her her life. Instead of jumping straight out in the conventional manner, she tumbled head first. When the chute opened she found herself twisted in the cords.

* * *

With quick presence of mind, she seized and stretched the strings, stopping the spinning motion of her body.

Her next jump also was operational. Then, carrying things out in reverse, she took four practice jumps and in between times submitted to a medical examination to determine if she was physically fit to parachute.

She says jumping is fun. Halfway to earth in her first attempt, she broke into shouts of exultation.

"C'est formidable, c'est formidable!" ("It's terrific, it's terrific!") she screamed.

She hasn't suffered a single serious injury so far, she says, reaching over to knock on wood.

* * *

One of her jumps—in November last year—was into Dieu Bien Phu when it first was taken from the Vietminh. She returned to the jungle fortress in February of this year, waiting for the expected assault. It was there on Feb. 23 that she celebrated her 30th birthday with Brig. Gen. Christian de Castries, then a colonel. There were champagne toasts, and the troops lobbed a mortar shell bearing the word "Brigitte" into the Vietminh positions in honor of the event.

"They were our best," said Brigitte. "I'm so ashamed I was not there while they fought for their lives."

Pontiac Man to Face Re-Trial Next Fall

DANVILLE, Ill. (UP) — A federal jury reported today it could not reach a verdict on charges that Leonard W. Jarosz, Pontiac, Michigan, tried to bribe a sergeant to change his medical records.

The jury was discharged and the government scheduled a new trial for September for the former air force officer.

The jurors deliberated five hours on charges that Jarosz, a reserve lieutenant, gave $300 to former Sgt. Luther Bradley at Scott Air Force Base, Ill., in August 1951 to alter his medical records.

(Jarosz is not listed in Pontiac directories).

Bond Goal Raised

In its savings bond campaign this year the Treasury has announced two new goals.

First of these is total sales of $5.5 billion, or more than a billion above the 1953 total of $4.4 billion. The other is greater emphasis on E bonds of the $100 denomination and less on the $25s.

Treasury officials believe purchasers are more inclined to cash the 25s than the 100s. They point out that bonds of the smaller denomination cost the Treasury about $6,000,000 a year to handle, account for 68 per cent of the paperwork, but produce only 27 per cent of the revenue.

In order to make the $100 bond more attractive to purchasers, the Treasury plans to "average date" them. That people not only like to buy savings bonds but hold them is shown by the record.

As of January 31, 1954, the total of bonds outstanding was $36.8 billion, the highest since the end of the war. This includes $36.1 billion in E bonds and $700,000,000 in H bonds which pay interest from the date of purchase.

A fact encouraging to Treasury officials and undoubtedly a sign of our economic strength is the way purchasers hang on to their bonds. While $10 billion worth of bonds bought during the war have matured, only one-quarter of them have been cashed.

Equality of All

In reversing the murder conviction of a Mexican-American, the United States Supreme Court has restated a principle which should reassure all citizens.

One Pete Hernandez successfully appealed from a lower court decision by showing that he had been deprived of his Constitutional rights. The lower court in Texas had denied his claim that because Americans of Mexican descent were excluded from the jury, he had been the victim of discrimination.

The facts show that biased administration of the jury system exists in the Lone Star State. In one county over a period of 25 years some 6,000 jurors had been called. Not one of them was of Mexican ancestry although many such eligible persons are residents.

In writing the high court's unanimous decision, Chief Justice Warren rejected the finding of Texas' court of criminal appeals. It had held that the provisions of the Fourteenth Amendment applied only to the white and Negro races.

★ ★ ★

The Chief Justice went on to point out that the Constitution of the United States doesn't tolerate discrimination. Therefore, under the principle of equality before the law, everyone is entitled to the protection of the amendment.

Chosen on Merit

Though some patronage minded politicians may disagree, all signs indicate that the new Librarian of Congress is well qualified for his job.

In filling the post which had been vacant since last July, President Eisenhower had suggestions from the American Library Association and many politicians.

★ ★ ★

Wisely he chose experience over political qualifications and appointed L. Quincy Mumford of Cleveland to succeed Dr. Luther H. Evans, now director of UNESCO. Mr. Mumford was one of the association's six nominees. He is the director of Cleveland's public library and president-elect of the American Library Association.

★ ★ ★

It is good to know that a man with such high professional standing has been chosen to direct the world's biggest library and one of the Nation's greatest cultural and educational institutions.

Accidents Challenge All

J. Dewey Dorsett, a prominent casulty insurance official, is on sound ground in contending that the Nation's accident toll is a challenge to all citizens.

Addressing a North Carolina Industrial Safety Conference he said accidents in 1952 killed 96,000, injured 9,600,000 and caused losses of $9.1 billion. This, he insists, is a toll so enormous that a solution has become a social and economic necessity.

"The motor car that runs amuk, the objects left on stairways, the machine that is neither properly protected nor serviced, all are man-made accidents and could be prevented.

Insisting that these are caused by bad habits, Dorsett believes the solution lies in persuading everybody to be continuously more conscious of their personal danger.

In other words, the need is for safety first at all times for all of us.

The Kentwood, La., woman who has been advertising her husband for sale at $75,000 finally received an offer of $5,000, which should be at least enough to pay for an unwanted used husband.

The typical person who knows exactly how the world ought to be run would be scared silly if it were turned over to him to run.

Fix That Mail Box

Next Week Is Designated as the Proper Time to Do It

Daffynition

Snob: A person who tries to notice only those people who won't notice him.

Next week has been designated as

Mail Box Improvement Week,

and both city and rural patrons of the Pontiac post office are being requested by reports the coldest weather he can remember on such an occasion, 17 above, along with some snow. The trout were biting on dry flies, according to Bill, who was celebrating his birthday over the weekend.

Bill Willman

One of my extra observant scouts, who passes that corner twice daily, tells me that the intersection of Telegraph and 13-Mile Roads is suffering from the absence of a traffic light. There was a bad wreck there the other day, and narrow escapes are numerous.

Trout fishing last weekend for the first time,

Edward Barrett,

local attorney, caught the biggest one in the party, which included some of Pontiac's supposedly experienced trout fishermen, including

Jack Patterson,

Pontiac Press outdoor writer. All of which goes to prove that the legal angle pays off.

That blue jays prey on the eggs in the nests of other birds, and also kill the young birds is the observation of

Nature Boy Himself

Claims Wisner Home Good Place for Statue

I agree with "New Resident" that the unkept condition around the Civil War monument is a disgrace to the City of Pontiac. Years ago this was a well kept memorial with the four cannons and cannon balls. Behind this stood a mobile artillery gun which was removed for scrap iron during World War II.

In this heyday of fast living there doesn't seem to be any time for due respect and reverence for those who gave their lives even in the great Civil War so we may live free as we do.

I have heard that the statue may be moved to the grounds of the Wisner home which would be a fitting place insofar as upon completion of his term in 1861 Colonel Moses Wisner left the governor's chair to lead the Oakland County 22nd Infantry Regiment, ultimately giving his life in the southern swamps.

Even the restoration of the Wisner home is progressing slowly and the longer they wait the more money it will take to restore the building.

People nowadays just don't seem to care about these things and it is a shame.

Old Resident

Says Each Day Takes Us From Past Troubles

When we are close to the chiming of the bells we cannot hear the music for the clangor. It sounds so loud and discordant we cannot hear the undertones of the music around us.

It is even so with our lives. We cannot hear the music for the discordancy of the frustrations, the crosses, the losses and the heartaches we are constantly meeting on our life's journey.

The farther we drift from the bells the more beautiful the music. The sound of the bells is blended into harmony and we are rested and charmed by the melody.

We find this true in our lives. As someone has said, "We drift no more where we drift today," so each day takes us further away from the troubles of the present and the past is like the chiming of the bells, it becomes a happy memory.

THOUGHTS FOR TODAY

Bring forth therefore fruits meet for repentance. — Matthew 3:8.

* * *

True repentance has as its constituent elements not only grief and hatred of sin, but also an apprehension of the mercy of God in Christ. It hates the sin, and not simply the penalty; and it hates the sin most of all because it has discovered God's love.—W. M. Taylor.

Tobacco Helps to Make Users Relatively Frigid

Cupid abhors tobacco! It is the placid grandfatherly male who fondles his pipe instead of his wife, though he may barely have passed 40. And by 50, the heavy smoker has lost most of his interest in romance.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case L-303: Harvey J., aged 58, is a brilliant industrial chemist.

"Dr. Crane, I agree with you that tobacco makes men comparatively frigid," he began, as we had lunch together recently.

"During World War I, we issued cigarets to the men in Europe to help tone down their sex vigor.

"I noticed then that by letting the fellows have plenty of tobacco, they'd sit around and smoke and talk, instead of chasing around with French peasant girls.

"So the tobacco helped make the boys relatively frigid, even before they were past the age of 25 or 30.

"Since I personally got more pleasure, out of a French cutie than from a fag, I never developed the smoking habit.

"And I found that many of my buddies in France, became practically sexless husbands even by the time they reached 40.

"Why do you think tobacco de-sexes a man in that manner? What is the mechanism by which it operates?"

The scarring effect on the blood vessel walls may be one method. For the lining of these vessels get inflamed, just as do the trachea and bronchial tubes of the smoker.

When inflammation occurs, tiny threads invade the area and produce a tough, inelastic scar. You readers have seen scars on your skin which are white and tough.

Normally, the blood vesels are like a rubber balloon. They will stretch when the heart beats and then return to normal between such beats.

This explains why the blood flows steadily in arteries even between the peak spurts at each pulsation of the heart itself.

Finally, the vessels may become so reduced in size that they don't carry enough blood. Then the muscles develop pains and cramps.

You men with heart trouble are taken off your tobacco immediately, or at least your doctor orders you to reduce its use as much as you can.

Well, just as your heart gets less nourishment when the coronary arteries are scarred and thickened, so, too, the gonads may likewise get a reduced supply of oxygen and food via a reduced blood supply.

Tobacco is thus listed medically as a factor in female sterility as well as male sterility.

When the smoker takes a puff on a fresh cigaret, his blood vessels also go into a muscular spasm. They grow smaller. So his skin will instantly blanch and become as much as 15 to 18 degrees colder.

That is most noticeable in your hands and feet — the extremities. The gonads may also suffer indirectly from the same type of nervous spasm of its blood vessels.

You smokers know that your gastric appetite increases when you quit tobacco. You feel hungrier.

Which means that your cigarets, pipe or cigars tend to take the edge off your stomach hunger. By the same token, that may explain why they take the edge off your erotic ardor.

Young male adults have so much more ardor than the normal female that this de-sexing effect of tobacco isn't so apparent.

But when they get past 40, and certainly by the time they reach 50, I have found a very evident sex difference between the smoker and the non-smoker.

(Always write to Dr. Crane in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long 3c stamped, addressed envelope and a dime to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his psychological charts.)

Baering Down

By ARTHUR "BUGS" BAER
International News Service

Question before the rough-house is has civilization been on the upstrake since veepees became audible?

Up until the time of dear Alben Barkley Vice-Presidents had been stashed behind the kitchen door with the mops.

It was dear Alben who boosted the job to a signity comparable to the baccalaureate on a sightseeing wagon.

Up until the time of the Barker veepees were made to be scenery and not heard. Can you name any other veepees whose vocabularies were an octave higher than a nod?

Can you name any veepees whose opinions on anything were ever paged? Can you name any veepees whose advice was ever asked on politics, situations or how to burp a baby? Can you name any veepees?

Would you know El Gerry, Bill King, Hank Wilson, Sky Colfax, Chuck Fairbanks or Dick Johnson? Well, each one was a veepee in his own right on what was left.

Marshall, Dawes and Curtis managed to get a mumble in upside down. And John Nance Garner was interviewed on rainy days. But it was the Barker who took the job away from the moths.

Result is that veepee Nixon is sounding his "A" in bomblike style. The spokesman of the administration has thrown a spoke or two into various agenda.

On several occasions Nix oversold the factory and once he pulled the zipper on the wrong strait-jacket. But nobody raps his oratorical knuckles so we figure he doesn't go back into the trunk with Kukla and Ollie.

Nix is a genuine talking doll with his own opinions and clearance to work both sides of the street. He can thank dear Alben for getting the permit to parade.

The job no longer is limited to buttering cornerstones, clipping the ribbons on short bridges and making a silk hat look inhabited.

It's a real career these days for veepees willing to start at the bottom of the page. But we still aren't sure we liked 'em better when they butted no buts and sawed woulds.

War Crisis Creeps Nearer and Nearer; Ike Facing Need to Talk With Congress

By DAVID LAWRENCE

GENEVA—Maybe before many weeks have elapsed President Eisenhower will be standing in the presence of both houses of Congress with a request for a joint resolution authorizing the use of the armed forces of the United States to meet certain contingencies.

These might arise suddenly at some future time in the Western Pacific and could require immediate action then without the opportunity to consult Congress.

Such an unprecedented move has been under consideration in Washington as a precautionary measure, but the events that could shape a decision by the President to go before Congress fortunately have not occurred as yet.

But they could conceivably happen as a consequence of a fateful turn in Communist policy, which now is suddenly stepping up military aid from Red China to the Communists in Indochina.

Flushed with their success at Dien Bien Phu, the Communists are beginning to act at Geneva as if they want to prolong the sessions indefinitely while their military effort in Indochina is accelerated.

It can readily be imagined what President Eisenhower would say to Congress. He would naturally remind the American people that the armistice was signed in Korea on the assumption that the aggression which had been repelled there would not be renewed in another part of the Pacific area with munitions and troops released by the ending of the fighting in Korea.

Would the Democrats, whose administration ordered the defense against aggression in Korea in 1950, now back away from a move to make sure that the sacrifices which have been made in that country were not in vain?

Would they venture to dissent from the judgment of a man whose military experience led him to conclude that American interests were in jeopardy and that the way to prevent a larger war was to take timely action now to halt the further spread of the Communist armies into the territory of the free world?

It is unlikely—once a decision to ask for authority to use our armed forces is presented to Congress—that such a request would be denied.

Regrettably, military force is the only language the Communists have shown any signs of respecting. America has no desire to move alone in these troublesome times but, until the Congress of the United States has acted, other nations will wonder if any such authority will ever be forthcoming.

So, as a means of bringing about a strong united alliance in defense of Indochina and in order to strengthen America's hand in negotiations with its Allies by making the words of warning already given really meaningful, President Eisenhower may find he has no other course but to lay all the facts before the two houses and ask for the necessary authority to act—in cooperation, of course, with our Allies. The crisis seems nearer than most people think.

Brady Chides Doctors Who Prescribe Aspirin for Children With Slight Fever

By WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.

Did you ever stop to think, Mrs. Wiseacre—that the trick specialist, particularly the pediatrician $400 snobs patronize, is stringing you along when he tells you over the telephone to give your child aspirin?

That's a trick of the trade, Ma'am. It corroborates the charge — my charge — that the practice of medicine—with too many M. D.s—is now in business rather than a profession.

The aspirin dodge works like this. Mrs. Wiseacre telephones her pediatrician (in order to keep up with the Joneses it is imperative that the Wiseacres employ a trick specialist instead of an "ordinary" family doctor, even though he soaks his customers three to five times as much as a general practitioner would charge for the same service).

The $400 snob informs the charlatan that little Ebeneezer is complaining of such and such symptoms. The charlatan has two or three other $400 ones waiting their turn and so he instructs Mrs. W. to take the baby's temperature and report . . .

Mrs. W. is happy to demonstrate her knowledge of the use of the little glass stick, so she telephones again to tell the office girl that the baby's temperature is 100.

The office girl goes into conference with the busy, busy businessman and instructs Mrs. W. to give the baby such and such dose of aspirin until the doctor comes.

Dope. Aspirin may be less dangerous than other analgesics or pain-killers, but that does not justify the practice of doping sick children with it in lieu of proper medical attention.

There is no scientific ground for giving aspirin or any other medicine just for fever.

A rise of temperature to 103 is only moderate fever in a child and it indicates good reaction. The fever is an effect of the illness and not the cause.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long, pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. Brady if a stamped, self addressed envelope is enclosed, etc.

CRICKETS HIS HOBBY—Herbert C. Davis of Greenville, (Mich.) has the unusual hobby of raising crickets. Population of the cricket family in his garage is estimated at 50,000. He is shown looking into one of the cricket incubators heated by light bulbs. Davis feels the commercial possibilities for his hobby have a great potential. He plans to start selling the crickets to bait shops this summer.

Gen. Van Fleet Lands in Korea on His Mission

TAIPEH, Formosa (UP) — Gen. James A. Van Fleet arrived from Korea today on a Far East fact-finding mission and told reporters he would look into the needs of all branches of Nationalist China's armed forces.

Van Fleet, retired former U.S. 8th Army commander, is studying U. S. military aid programs in Japan, South Korea and Formosa for President Eisenhower. He will confer with Chiang Kai-shek tomorrow.

Police to Be Younger

BOSTON (UP) —This city could have 18-year-old policemen if a measure now under consideration were approved by the state legislature. The bill would lower the age limit from 22 to 18 for both policemen and firemen.

Taipeh Radar Spots Unidentified Planes

TAIPEH, Formosa (UP) — Sirens signaled two blackouts between midnight and dawn here today when unidentified planes were spotted by radar over the Formosa Channel.

Officials said there was no indication that the planes belonged to the Chinese Reds.

The blackouts came one day after Nationalist and Communist fighter planes clashed twice off the China coast. The Nationalist air force said one Red MIG jet was damaged.

MPs Save Lady Marine by Getting 'Her' Goat

CHERRY POINT, N. C. (UP)—Warrant Officer L. W. Reed wasn't sure he heard correctly. "Would you repeat that?" he asked.

"I said, there's a goat in our barracks and could you please do something about it!"

Reed feared a practical joke. But he dispatched MPs. They arrived in time to rescue a Woman Marine from a refuge atop lockers in her barracks. They were too late to prevent damage to her blue jeans. And they removed the goat.

Cart Before Horse?

WOODSTOCK, Vt. (UP) — Looks like Woodstock will have to appropriate more money than expected in order to have a new fire truck. The four-wheel-drive pumper was purchased and delivered. But now the fire station has to be remodeled. It's not big enough for the truck.

Blind Girl Holds Down Stenographic Position

BOSTON (UP) — Though totally blind, Miss Hope Macdonald, 25, of Braintere is a full-time stenographer for a Boston firm.

Guided by her seeing-eye dog, Wendy, she commutes daily on the New Haven Railroad. She types from a dictating machine, with Wendy curled up at her feet.

When Miss Macdonald's mother spotted the advertisement for the job in a Boston newspaper last September, she volunteered to accompany her daughter to Boston to see about it. Hope protested.

"Who would hire a girl who had to bring her mother with her?" she demanded.

Hope got the job and has held it successfully ever since.

"Best Seller" for 3 good reasons

YOU'VE probably noticed it right in your own neighborhood.

Bright new Buicks appearing here, there, everywhere. And more and more of them in recent weeks.

Know what's happening?

Folks in growing numbers—(and maybe you'll be joining them soon!)—are finding Buick styling, performance and value far too wonderful to pass up.

So Buick is selling at a record pace—outselling all other cars in its price class and above.

Matter of fact, latest figures for the first quarter of 1954 show that, in total national volume, Buick is outselling every other car in America except two of the so-called "low-price three."

A look and a ride and a peek at the price tag will be all you'll need to know what's back of this best-selling success.

There's styling in Buick that's the greatest beauty advance in years—the very look of tomorrow—and with the spectacular panoramic windshield that's part and parcel of this dream-car look.

There's performance in Buick as never before—with record-high V8 power, with the sensationally smooth whip of Twin-Turbine Dynaflow,* with the buoyant ride of all-coil-springing, with a new precision of control and handling.

And there's value in Buick that's hard to match—with prices starting near the "low-price three"—prices that buy more Buick beauty and power and thrill and sheer automobile than smart money ever bought before.

How about you?

Are you ready, willing and waiting to be shown that this best seller called Buick is the buy of the year for you, too? Drop in this week, or give us a call, and we'll arrange a demonstration.

*Standard on ROADMASTER, optional at extra cost on other Series.

Worm Business Booming

SULLIVAN, Me. (UP) — Worms are big business in Maine. Digging and selling worms for bait is sixth among marine industries in the state. Oscar Greely, one of the biggest operators, pays out $30,000 annually to diggers for the sandworms and, bloodworms highly prized by saltwater sports fishermen.

The Pennsylvania Hospital, opened in Philadelphia in 1752, through the efforts of Benjamin Franklin and Dr. Bond, is the oldest hospital in the United States.

This King Really Lives

COLUMBUS, Ohio (UP) — Ohio State University students elect numerous queens but the one king elected lives in regal style. The lucky man is the Golddigger's King. Women students elect him, foot all bills of a dance in his honor, and pay the expenses for the men who take them to the dance.

Sound travels faster in hot weather, its speed increasing two feet per second as air temperature increases one degree Centigrade.

Reassuring Note

HARTFORD, Conn. (UP) —The Democratic sheriffs of Connecticut have announced plans to hold a party clambake. Sheriff Donald Potter of Hartford added this to the announcement: "As for the party poker players, the only thing we can promise you is that if you're caught — you'll be taken into custody by a Democratic sheriff."

Fish have been found three miles deep in the ocean, and crows have been seen on Mount Everest, more than five miles above the sea level.

Members Like Expulsion

PRATT, Kas. (UP) — Members of this club like to be dropped. It's the rule in the Servicemen's Wives and Sweethearts Club. When the service man returns from his military duty, his wife or sweetheart can't belong any more.

FACES TRIAL—If found physically fit, William Foster, head of the U.S. Communist Party, faces an immediate trial for advocating the violent overthrow of the government. The Justice Department has asked a Federal Court to appoint a doctor to examine him. He was indicted in 1948, but didn't stand trial because of a heart condition.

Hostess Sets Up Table of Meats

Says Cocktail Parties Not Popular but Just Add Buffet to Drinks

SAN FRANCISCO (UP) — Mrs. Kenneth Monteagle, one of San Francisco's most charming hostesses, believes the cocktail party is on its way out.

At least it is in the bay area, she said, where any large gathering necessarily includes guests who must come from their homes 20 to 50 miles away. Invitations to cocktail parties leave these guests stranded with making their own arrangements for dinner.

Recently, Mrs. Monteagle and other hostesses have been solving this problem by serving cocktails, but having a large buffet of cold ham and turkey, bread and tossed green salad.

Mrs. Monteagle, a slender, handsome woman with an engaging smile, manages a great deal of private entertaining besides figuring prominently in San Francisco's two biggest social events of the year — opening night of the opera and the debutante cotillion.

Mrs. Monteagle's favorite way of entertaining even as many as 50 to 60 persons is an informal dinner — with the accent on comfort and plenty of room.

Guests usually are seated at card tables topped by removable round tops, allowing six to eight persons to sit at each table. The first and last course — coffee and dessert — are served to the guests at their places, but for the main course guests serve themselves at a large buffet table.

For a large crowd the card tables are set up in the dining room, glassed-in sun porch and in the garden, with the buffet table on an enclosed terrace.

A cocktail bar is set up in a separate room, leaving the living room and entrance way free of tables and dishes so guests may roam unhindered.

In addition, Mrs. Monteagle is active in the Opera Guild and the De Young Museum Society. Both organizations plan large balls and other events to raise money for art and operatic activities.

Mrs. Monteagle also is on the women's board of the St. Luke's hospital, and the Cotillion Club committee which plans the annual "coming out" of the season's debutantes.

The social schedule is vigorous. But Mrs. Monteagle says she makes time for her only hobby—gardening — at her home in San Mateo's fashionable residential section. The brick house centers on more than an acre of wooded land.

Bob Considine Says:

Congress Still May Probe Case of Coddled Athletes

WASHINGTON (INS) — We may or may not have heard the last of the "athlete coddling" case.

If it is resumed, the suggestion is timidly put forward here that the coddlers, not the coddled, be corraled. It should not be forgotten that if they had not accepted preferential treatment they could have wound up in the sneezer.

Take the World War II cases of Ted Williams the ballplayer, and Tyrone Power the actor. The Marine general in charge of their Florida base showed every intention of keeping them there for the duration. Each asked to be sent to the Pacific.

But Williams was turned down so that he could remain on the base's ball club. Power was kept around to appear at war bond rallies.

In all probability they never would have escaped from Florida if Rep. John W. McCormack (D-Mass), had not asked Brig. Gen. William McKittrick, deputy director of Marine aviation, to let Williams come to Boston in the spring of 1945 for some sort of civic festivity.

McKittrick called Lt. Jerry Greene into his office and bellowed: "What do you know about this blankety-blank ballplayer? What's he doing in Florida? He should be overseas fighting."

Williams' orders were changed immediately. As matters turned out Ted got as far as Hawaii and there ran afoul of another baseball-minded CO who ordered him to stay put.

Power, emancipated also by McKittrick, shipped out and had a fine record.

And speaking of coddling, an old grid star in Congress has gone to bat for the least coddled men of the Korean War, those still being held against their will by Communist captors. The organization named "Kin of America's Forgotten Men" now has a resolution being studied by the House Committee on Foreign Affairs. Numbered 231, it reads in part:

"Whereas it is known that certain members of the Armed forces of the United States are still being held prisoners in Communist China; and

"Whereas it is unthinkable that this country would abandon these American boys or would submit to Communist blackmail: Therefore, be it

"Resolved by the House of Representatives (the Senate concurring), that, as a first step in demonstrating to the Communist rulers of China the gravity with which this country regards the detention of these American boys, it is the sense of Congress that all negotiations with Communist China should be halted, and a resumption of any negotiations or dealings with Communist China should be made contingent upon the release of these Americans."

The resolution was introduced by Rep. Usher L. Burdick (R-ND), old-time Minnesota football end with the Big Ten champions of 1903 and 1904.

Suspended Yank Infielder Goes to Baltimore

BALTIMORE (UP) — Baltimore manager Jimmie Dykes today called Jim Brideweser "exactly the kind of infield protection we need" and added that the ex-Yankee shortstop would see "considerable action" with the Orioles.

The 27-year-old Brideweser, on the Yankees' suspended list for the past three weeks because of his refusal to report to their Kansas City farm of the American Association, was purchased by Baltimore for an undisclosed sum Tuesday night.

As part of the same deal, Orioles sold outfielder Dick Kokos, infielder Connie Berry and rookie pitcher Jim Post to Kansas City.

Brideweser can play shortstop, 3rd base or 2nd base and it was believed he would be used at all those positions by the Orioles.

Oil Man Delivers Goods Through Force of Habit

OMAHA (AP) — When the Ervin R. Simons, of Omaha, redecorated their basement, they converted their furnace from oil to gas. Later their oil man came along with a tankful for another house on the same street and purely from force of habit stopped at the Simon home.

Eighty gallons of fuel oil had poured over the Simon's new basement before Mrs. Simon ran out and put a stop to it.

New Refining Method Found for Zirconium

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (UP)—Zirconium, a metal long difficult to refine, soon will be available for use in chemical equipment as well as in atomic energy installations due to a new commercially practical method of refinement.

Processing equipment for a new zirconium plant at Akron, N.Y. has been shipped by the Pfaudler Co. Zirconium passes neutrons and possesses unusual corrosion resistance. It is used as a construction material for atomic energy reactors and may be used now for tubes and pump liners.

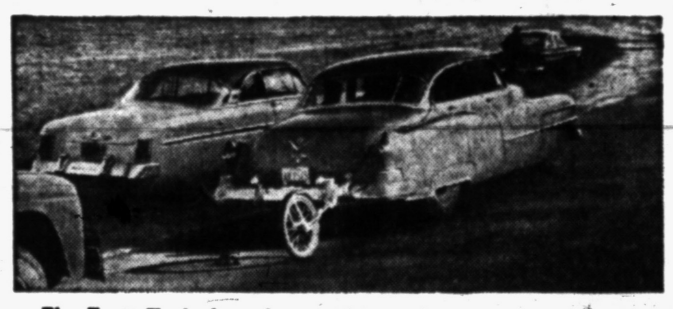
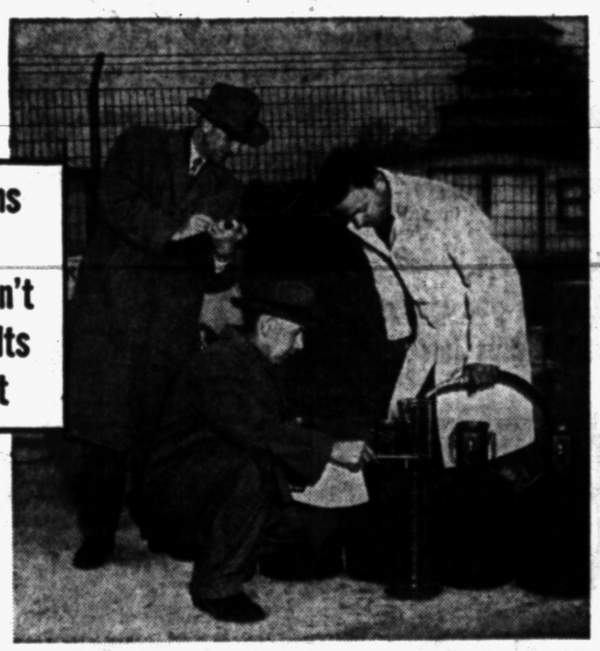
ONLY ONE GRADE—AMERICA'S GREATEST GASOLINE VALUE

THE NEW BLUE SUNOCO WINS AGAINST 'PREMIUMS'

Delivers as much as 14.9% more miles per dollar than 16 premium-priced gasolines tested at Indianapolis Track



All the claims of other gasolines can't change results of this test



INDIANAPOLIS TRACK—New High-Test Blue Sunoco was tested here against 16 well-known premium-priced gasolines. Wilbur Shaw says: "With all cars using $3 worth of gasoline, I saw how much farther those using New High-Test Blue Sunoco went than those fueled with the 16 premium-priced brands tested."

The Test: Each day of test, 16 cars (including cars with highest compression engines) were fueled with $3 worth of gas, driven around track 'til tanks ran dry. Miles each car went were accurately recorded by impartial observers. The fleet of cars was run on New High-Test Blue Sunoco and all 16 premium-priced gasolines. All cars were driven at same pace.

Results: New Blue Sunoco—at regular gas price—beat them all! It gave up to 14.9% more miles (average: 10.4%) than premium-priced brands tested. Ask your Sunoco dealer for names of these brands.

WILBUR SHAW, Pres. of Indianapolis Motor Speedway Corp., and 3-time winner of the 500-mile race, supervised this gasoline test.

How Sun's one-grade policy gives you high-test performance at regular gas price

Sun Oil Company produces only one grade of gasoline—New High-Test Blue Sunoco. This single-grade policy results in savings on storage tanks, trucks and pumps. These savings are invested in research and new, improved refining processes to give you New High-Test Blue Sunoco—premium quality still at regular gasoline price.

Slavery Trial Resumes Today

3 Brothers in Alabama Charged With Forcing Negroes to Work

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP)—Trial of three white brothers on charges of holding Negro farm hands in slavery resumed today after similar peonage indictments of three others were dismissed by a federal court

Those against whom the charges still are pending are Oscar Edwin Dial, 34; Fred N. Dial, 25; and Grady Dial, 28, brothers who operate a large farm west of Livingston, Ala., near the Mississippi line.

• • •

U. S. Dist. Judge Seybourn H. Lynne dismissed cases against Robert Dial, 44, brother of the other three; and two cousins, Arthur Arnold Dial, 27, and Lindsay Winyard Dial, 43.

The court took the action on recommendation of U. S. Dist. Atty. Frank Johnson Jr., who said he felt the evidence insufficient to convict the three.

All were indicted by a federal grand jury last fall on charges of paying fines of Negro prisoners in nearby jails in Alabama and Mississippi, holding the Negroe in servitude on their farms and beating them if they attempted to escape.

Lake Ports Need Big Projects to Use Seaway

CHICAGO (AP)—A vast amount of engineering work faces numerous Great Lakes cities before they can fully accommodate the ocean-going ships that will churn inland through the St. Lawrence seaway.

An Associated Press survey showed today that Great Lakes cities are in various stages of preparation for handling such commerce. The cities will spend millions of dollars on harbor dredging, port construction and other improvements.

The year 1960 is the goal of many engineers.

* * *

Martin W. Oettershagen, Chicago port manager, said many believe the entire project can be completed by then, even though estimates have ranged up to 10 years.

Chicago is planning a 20-million-dollar project to be started this winter.

The long-planned Atlantic Ocean to Great Lakes project got a firm lease on life last week when Congress sent the 105-million-dollar St. Lawrence seaway to President Eisenhower.

* * *

The measure authorizes the United States to participate with Canada in building a 27-foot-deep channel in the International Rapids section of the St. Lawrence and into Lakes Ontario and Erie as far west as Toledo, Ohio.

Sen. Thye (R-Minn) said Congress also will be asked to approve the deepening of connecting channels into Lakes Huron, Michigan and Superior. Navigation to these lakes is now restricted to 21 feet for inbound ships and 25 feet for downbound vessels.

The survey showed:

Chicago—Work is expected to be started this winter for developing 1,300 acres of Calumet Harbor into a modern ocean port. Plans call for a series of docks 1½ miles long, designed for 29-foot vessels, and sheds and other facilities.

* * *

Cleveland—Shipping men say 80 per cent of ocean-going ships now could ply between world ports and Cleveland, which already has a 25-foot-deep channel. Deep dredging plans for Ashtabula and Lorain harbors are well advanced. Lee C. Howley, chairman of the mayor's port committee, said changes in piers and other harbor facilities can be finished within the time required to put the seaway into operation. Some spokesmen forecast that the seaway may double Cleveland's 500-million-dollar a year export volume.

Toledo—An $8,000 survey was started a month ago to determine what changes a seaway will require. A previous study indicated the need for a general cargo terminal, additional warehouse space and facilities for handling freight. A channel 27 feet deep and 400 feet wide to parallel Maumee Bay also was proposed.

Milwaukee—The Milwaukee Port Authority, first on the Great Lakes, claims to be 30 years ahead of Chicago and most other Great Lakes ports. The port plans a 7 to 10-million-dollar shore improvement, including deepening the outer harbor from 25 to 27 feet.

* * *

Detroit—Engineers say present large docking facilities for the Port of Detroit Commission will serve adequately until two years after the seaway is completed. The commission said the present smallest terminal will be enlarged by the time the seaway opens to handle five large ships at a time instead of one. The Rouge River, which empties into the Detroit River, will be deepened from its present 21 feet to 27.

* * *

Erie, Pa.—Nothing is planned to improve port facilities, which already can handle ocean-going vessels.

Gary, Ind.—No plans are in prospect for expanding the facilities at Gary or Indiana Harbor.

Duluth, Minn.—Entrances to Duluth-Superior, Wis., harbors already are 27 feet deep sufficient to accommodate ocean-going ships. Bills are in Congress to deepen the Duluth-Superior channel basins, now 25 feet.

BICYCLE INSPECTION BEGINS—Eight-year-old Roger Benter, Webster School student, was the first tot to steer his bicycle to the inspection group conducting the safety program in Pontiac this week and next. Clyde R. Haskill (left), Safety Committee chairman, supports the youngster's bike while Frank Antrobus (right), of the Webster PTA, secures the license plate on the bicycle. Orrin P. Huntoon Jr., of the Optimist Club, is shown recording Roger's name as one of the students owning a safe bicycle.

Public Tours Are Scheduled

Refreshments Will Be Served to Visitors at 2-Day Affair

Persons interested in a first-hand view of operations at Pontiac General Hospital are invited to attend the medical institution's third annual open house Thursday and Friday, Hospital Director Lauretta Paul said today.

Doors will open to visitors from 1 to 8 p.m. The program consists of a guided tour of the hospital, followed by refreshments.

Guewts will inspect the surgical operations section and the room where surgical instruments are kept. They will view the pathology and clinical laboratories where various hospital tests are made, the blood bank and the offices where business operations are carried o

The laundry, maintenance shop and x-ray department will be seen, followed by a tour through the emergency section including the rooms where fractured bones are set and the various types of splints stored.

Visitors will see the pharmacy, contral supply room and dietary department, including the bake shop, vegetable preparation room and special diets kitchen.

The Tour Ladies of the hospital women's auxiliary will act as guides. Groups of six or more persons may arrange tours by appointment, said Miss Paul.

While refreshments are being served after each tour, a question period will be held, she aded.

Wants Election Slogan Legalized for Name

ALBUQUERQUE (AP)—State Corporation Commissioner Ingram Bragg Pickett has filed an action in District Court to have his name changed to Ingram B. Seven-foot Pickett.

The seven-foot official took the step after Secretary of State Beatrice Roach said nicknames would not be placed on general election ballots. Pickett..who refers to himself in addresses and letters as "your seven-foot friend," seems re-election on the Democratic ticket.

Diseases Jump in Past Week

Oakland Counts Many New Cases of Mumps, Measles, Chicken Pox

Sharp increases in measles, mumps and chicken pox marked Oakland County Health Department's report for last week for the county outside Pontiac.

The report, released by Dr. John D. Monroe, county health director, listed 66 new cases of chicken pox last week — almost twice the previous week's 38 cases. Measles struck 136 people, as against 102 the week before; and 114 new cases of mumps were found, a third again as many as the 85 reported for the preceding week.

The department's complete report reads as follows:

	Past Week	Week Ending May 1, '54	Week Ending May 9, '53
Chicken pox	66	38	127
Measles	136	102	101
Pneumonia (all forms)	2	2	0

While the rest of the county had more measles, mumps and chicken pox last week, Pontiac had fewer cases of all three.

City health department listings showed 13 cases of chicken pox inside Pontiac last week, a couple less than the week before. Six new cases of measles were found, compared with nine the week before; and mumps cases totaled just 17—a bit more than half the preceding week's 32 new cases.

The city report follows in full:

Students Take Part in Bike Safety Plan as Parents Have Their Cars Checked

While their parents are taking part in the Vehicle Inspection Month program, Pontiac's future motorists are participating in a similar program this week and next.

The Pontiac Chamber of Commerce Safety Committee, sponsoring the motor vehicle checkup, also launched the third annual Bicycle Safety Inspection Program Monday at the Webster School.

Held in cooperation with the Pontiac Police Department, the program also is co-sponsored by the Optimist Club and the Pontiac PTA, said Clyle R. Haskill, safety committee chairman.

"We are fully aware that our students are the motorists of the future," Haskill said. "We believe that such programs will help them become safe motorists of whom Pontiac can be proud."

In connection with the bicycle inspections, three bicycle rodeos will be held at the conclusion of the present program. Three trophies and other prizes will be awarded at each of the rodeos.

The first rodeo will be held Saturday at the Eastern Junior High School field at 10 a.m. The second will be at Washington Junior High May 22, at 10 a.m. and the last will take place at Lincoln High May 29 at 1 p.m.

"The purpose for the rodeos," Haskill explained, "is to impress students with the importance of adequate bicycle riding skills for safety's sake during the coming summer months."

Haskill said the rodeo idea was conceived by Police Chief Herbert W. Straley who recently suggested the program to the committee and other groups.

It is hoped every public, parochial and denominational school will be contacted in the present inspection program, Haskill said.

Breedsville Mayor Elected for 38th Time

PERENNIAL MAYOR—Will E. Frude, a perennial mayor of Breedsville, Mich., takes advantage of a dull moment to practice on his flute so he'll be in good form for another of his jobs, president of the town band. Frude has been elected to the unpaid post 37 times. He stopped running for office in 1952 but had the urge again this year and was elected for his 38th term to lead the 252 people of the town.

BREEDSVILLE (AP) — William E. Frude, 64, is a mayor for the 38th time in this little Van Buren County village.

Frude missed being elected in 1952 only because he didn't run. But he came back like an old fire horse this year and was elected again.

This is the first time he's being paid in office. But he doesn't know how much the pay totals.

"We didn't have any provision for paying the mayor but I understand one was passed while I was out of office. Don't know how much it is, though," Frude says.

During his two-year vacation from civic duties in this village of 242 residents, Frude kept busy. He sold farm equipment, operated a tavern and invested in oil leases.

His favorite topic, however, isn't his political career or other jobs. It's music.

He's been president of the town band since it was formed more than 40 years ago. Not many of the original bandsmen are left but musicians from neighboring towns congregate each Memorial Day and parade as the Breedsville Town Band.

Still Winning Fight With Disease

Reverend Sits Back and Studies Bible Preparing for Possible Loss of Sight

NILES (AP) — The Rev. Orien L. Njus keeps his faith in prayer and medical science. And he has preserved his eyesight.

Rev. Njus, boyish looking minister in his late 30s, has fought off a treacherous eye ailment for eight years.

The ailment, known as karatoconus, is capable of causing total blindness, medical men say. About 10,000 cases of the trouble are reported in the United States.

It causes protrusion of the pupil of the eye into a cone-shape, harming sight and sometimes destroying it.

Since 1946, when he became aware of the affliction, Mr. Njus has carried on, confident in his faith.

Now technicians have made him a special plastic, fluidless contact lens for his left eye, the more seriously troubled, and he expects to be able to read as with normal eyesight.

Mr. Njus, married and father of two children, is minister of the Bertrand Bible Church. Bertrand is a tiny community near here.

Mr. Njus remarks of the coincidence of September, 1953.

His left eye ruptured. The eye was left covered with scar tissue. Only a corneal transplant could have aided him, it was assumed.

His church held a special prayer service for its minister. Within two weeks the eye condition had cleared up.

Mr. Njus, Minnesota-born, had trouble with his eyes in student days. He wore ordinary eye glasses. Then, in 1946, he learned the worst.

Long sittings with eye doctors followed. This has continued over the years. Mr. Njus' latest aid is the new lens.

At knowledge of the seriousness of his trouble, Mr. Njus prepared. He memorized passages from the Bible for use in event disaster came.

It has not done so.

FIGHTS BLINDNESS—The Rev. Orien L. Njus has fought off an eye ailment for eight years which is capable of causing total blindness. The Niles minister is afflicted with an ailment known as keratoconus (conical protrusion of the cornea). Here he holds a Bible as he keeps his faith in prayer and medical science to preserve his eyesight.

Commie Huk Officer Is Captured, Kills Self

MANILA (AP)—An officer of the Communist Huk rebels, captured by the army Saturday, was found hanged in an army stockade north of Manila, the army said today.

Army guards said Eugenio Sabug, alias Commander Marley, committed suicide.

Let's All Remember This:

TIP Stands for 'To Insure Promptness'

By MAURICE ZOLOTOW

(Maurice Zolotow has written extensively on the Broadway scene and on the foibles of its characters. Among his books are, "No People Like Show People," "Never Whistle in a Dressing Room," and "It Takes All Kinds.")

It is high time that Great American Sucker broke himself of the stupid habit of automatically shelling out those quarter and half-dollar tips to waiters, barbers, cab-drivers, manicurists and Pullman porters.

We take tipping too much for granted. We have lost sight of its basic purpose.

Today we hand out gratuities indiscriminately whether or not we've received decent service. The purpose of a tip is to reward courteous and considerate service.

ZOLOTOW

I am in favor of tipping and I am a heavy tipper — but I am getting sick and tired of being expected to tip regardless of the service I've received.

Recently I dined in one of the finer restaurants in Los Angeles. The waiter was one of those morbid, morose individuals. He acted like a martyr because he was carrying food and I was eating it. (Who asked him to be a waiter anyway? I didn't.)

He made me feel like a low-down dirty hound for not waiting on him. He shuffled around, muttering to himself, scowling vaguely, sighing whenever I demanded something. And I had to ask him for something every five minutes.

The melancholy waiter forgot to place a napkin at my setting. He didn't bring me a soup spoon until I pleaded for one. I had ordered an extra dry Martini with a twist of lemon peel. So naturally he brought me a slightly sweet Martini with an olive!

I ordered roast beef medium rare. It arrived well done.

When I used up the original pat of butter, I had to signal, whistle, catcall and practically get down on my hands and knees until he deigned to notice me and bring me an extra one.

He fitted the classic definition of a waiter — a waiter is a man who makes you wait and wait and wait.

Why in the name of common sense should I be expected to tip this character the same 50 or 75 cents I would tip a waiter whose countenance was pleasant, who genuinely helped me in the choice of my food and a good wine, who served each course quietly with an air of graciousness so that he actually contributed to my enjoyment of the meal?

* * *

Not long ago I returned from Chicago on one of the crack trains of the New York Central. I wanted to turn in early. At 8, I commenced ringing for my porter to make up the bed. After ringing for half an hour, I trudged up the Pullman car, poking my nose into every opened bedroom. No sign of the porter. He finally turned up at his convenience, close to 11.

* * *

The set-up that burns me up the most, however, is that of the New York cab drivers. I suppose there must be polite hackies in New York. I have never met one.

Unlike drivers in other cities, a New York hackie will never open a door for you to get in or out of his cab — even if your hands are filled with bundles.

He drives through traffic wildly and recklessly, and if you ask him to slow down he throws you a dirty look and snarls a wisecrack.

Invariably, the hackie is sure you want to hear a lecture on his favorite subject — which may be anything from whether Audrey Hepburn should have won the Academy Award to what is wrong with the French military strategy in Indochina.

You're trapped and you have to listen to a lot of idiotic nonsense, uttered in a tone of arrogant assurance.

And the Lord help you if you tip less than a quarter for every dollar on the meter. You will be given a contemptuous glance that will make you feel 10 times lower than sea level. (In cab driver's parlance, you are a "skunk." The waiter would call you a "stiff." The porter would call you a "snake.")

As for the hat-check girls, theirs, with few exceptions, is a racket in which they are victimized along with the customers. Unlike waiters or bellboys, the hat-chicks do not keep their tips but must turn these over to a concessionaire. The girls work for modest salaries.

I think every restaurant and night-club might emulate Don the Beachcomber in Hollywood.

By the checkroom, there stands a series of boxes for various charities like the American Red Cross and the Damon Runyon Cancer Fund. The girl refuses your tip and suggests you drop it into one of the boxes instead.

So let's get back to the original purpose of the tip. It started in the 18th Century taverns of London. The word "tip" is an abbreviation of To Insure Promptness.

Let us all resolve to teach the waiters and the cab drivers, the barbers and the bellboys, that a tip is not compulsory. A tip is not a right. It is a privilege, a privilege that should be earned by skill and tact and thoughtful service.

4th Grade Books Seats for Space Trip

MIDLAND (AP)—Some go to the West Coast for a vacation. Some go south. But fourth graders at Midland's Carpenter School say they're going up.

They're not even sure where they're going. Maybe Mars. Maybe Venus or the Moon. Depends on which space ship leaves first.

The vacation date hasn't been set yet. It'll be about 1974.

But the reservations have been made. They were sent to the Hayden planetarium in New York City, which says it is booking room for a rocket trip to outer space about 20 years from now.

Scientists at the planetarium say the trips will be possible then and the students don't want to be left out—especially since they've just finished a six-week study of the solar system.

The planetarium warned the students, however, that there is a long reservation list ahead of them and they may have to wait for a second section of the rocket fleet. "We're going anyway," they say.

Old Milk Wagon Horse Would Be Glad to Retire

EATON RAPIDS (UP)—Mollie, the mare that draws a milk wagon for Leslie Davis, is having trouble with cars and trains.

A car plowed into the milk wagon. Millie was badly shaken up.

Mollie recovered from that experience only to get a shoe caught in the railroad track. Davis freed the mare with a tire iron seconds before a train whizzed past.

Davis is considering buying a truck to deliver his milk and that would be perfectly all right with Millie.

Second-Hand Shop Yields Art Treasure

CINCINNATI (UP) — Irwin Signer, a jeweler, had always wanted "something different," so five years ago, when he found a painting he liked in a second-hand shop, he bought it.

Today the painting hangs in the John Herron Art Museum in Indianapolis, Ind., and is due for a showing in a Cincinnati Museum.

Signer bought the picture because "there was an expression on her face, her eyes."

Experts say the work is a minor masterpiece by a 16th century Florentine artist, Domenico Puligo. The painting shows Lucretia in the nude, ready to stab herself. In legend, she was the wife of a Roman nobleman and was ravished by a king.

Signer paid "quite a bit, but not what you would expect for an old painting." It is valued upward to $15,000 now. Signer doesn't plan to sell it but loans it out upon request.

Two South Korean Candidates Arrested

SEOUL (AP)—Two candidates for South Korea's National Assembly are under arrest on charges of using abusive language in criticizing President Syngman Rhee's government, National Police Chief Kim Chang Hung announced today.

Lee Yung Man, an independent, is accused of saying Rhee and his Cabinet were as corrupt and doomed as the Communist regime of North Korea.

Sul Huan Choo, allegedly charged that members of Rhee's Liberal party paid for his support in the May 20 election. Sul reportedly said candidates seeking official endorsement "carried money bags" to Rhee's mansion.

Senate OKs 'Under God' for Pledge of Allegiance

WASHINGTON, (AP)— The Senate has passed and sent to the House a bill adding the words "under God" to the pledge of allegiance to the flag.

The revised pledge would read: "I pledge allegiance to the flag of the United States of America and to the republic for which it stands, one nation under God, indivisible, with liberty and justice for all."

Judicial Change OK'd by Senate

Proposed Amendment Would Limit High Court and Set Retirement Age

WASHINGTON (AP) — Twenty-eight of the 347 federal judges holding lifetime posts would be forced to retire, because they are 75 or over, under a proposed constitutional amendment passed yesterday by the Senate.

But since it may be years before there is final action, presumably few if any of these same judges would be affected.

Besides the mandatory retirement provision, the proposal would fix the size of the Supreme Court at nine justices, thus preventing any future attempt to enlarge it.

* * *

Senate approval, sending the measure to the House, came on a vote of 58-19, comfortably more than the required two thirds. All 43 Republicans present voted for it. So did 15 Democrats. Eighteen Democrats and the lone independent opposed it.

The administrative office of the U.S. courts said today in response to a query that 28 federal judges now are 75 or older. None of the nine Supreme Court justices is that old, however; Justice Frankfurter, the oldest, is 71.

Federal judges now may retire at 72, but there is no provision forcing them to retire at any age. They draw full pay for life.

* * *

Sen. Hennings (D-Mo), who opposed the proposal, suggested in the debate that one motive for it might be a desire to force some the present jurists were appointmen off the bench. Most of ed during the 20 years of Democratic national rule.

But Sen. John M. Butler (R-Md), author of the proposed change in the Constitution, said the reason for the age provision was his conviction that most judges have slowed down considerably by the time they reach 75.

Before passage, the Senate eliminated another section by Butler which had political overtones.

* * *

It would have barred any Supreme Court member from running for president or vice president until five years after he left the court.

If the House approves the Butler amendment by a two-thirds vote, it would go to the state legislatures. Thirty-six of them would have to approve it within seven years for the provisions to go into the Constitution.

Butler said it was designed to forestall any repetition of the 1937 plan of President Franklin D. Roosevelt for adding members to the Supreme Court, widely denounced as "court packing" and rejected by Congress.

Pontiac Toastmistress Club Marks First Anniversary

Clara Nusbaumer (left) of North Saginaw street was one of the guests attending Pontiac Toastmistress Club's open house Tuesday evening at Hotel Waldron. On hand to greet her were Mrs. Milton Freet of North Anderson street and Mrs. Norman Sutherland of Hill circle.

Mrs. Leon Windsor (center) of Green Lake road shows the scrapbook she has made for Pontiac Toastmistress Club to Mary E. Mitchell (left), president of the Pontiac Business and Professional Women's Club, and Mrs. A. E. Atwood of Rochester, secretary of Pontiac Toastmistress Club.

Shower Presented for Mrs. Pritchett

Friends gathered at the Robert Pritchett home on Starr avenue Tuesday to honor Mrs. Pritchett with a pink and blue shower.

Among the guests for the occasion were Mrs. Richard Benham, Mrs. Arthur Ellis, Mrs. Richard Ferris, Isabel Markham, Lois McIntyre, Joanne McLain, Mrs. P. C. Miller, June Newcombe and Betty McMiller.

Serving refreshments were Mrs. Willard Sovey, Betty Bryan, Mrs. George Fraser and Betty Giddings.

Cut Toenails Right

The purpose of your toenails is to protect your toes from irritations. They won't do their job well if you file them down too far. Allow them to come to the edge of the toe, and cut them straight across.

Demonstrate Ability

Hold Open House Tuesday

Pontiac Toastmistresses celebrated their first anniversary with an open house held Tuesday evening at Hotel Waldron.

Visitors from various city clubs watched members of Pontiac Toastmistress Club in action and learned what can be done in the way of good public speaking.

They saw the poise manifested by these members, heard them tell of early experiences in public speaking and noted the comparison with these speakers today.

The invocation was given by Mrs. James Palmer, and President Helen Lapisch gave the welcome. Mrs. Robert Sutton was table topic mistress, and winner of the extemporaneous speech was a guest, Mrs. Evelyn Cole.

Toastmistress Mrs. Clayton Rule introduced the speakers of the evening, including Mrs. J. Wendell Green, Mrs. Robert Hodge and Mrs. Orben Wilkins.

Mrs. Rule told of the "Aims and Ideals of Toastmistress" and Mrs. Hodge's topic was "What Toastmistress Will Do For You." Mrs. Wilkins stressed critical listening in her topic, "How the Toastmistress Achieves Her Purpose."

Special event speaker was Mrs. Norman Sutherland who read a poem on the nervous toastmistress.

Critics for the main speakers were Mrs. Robert Bunce, Mrs. Milton Freet and Mrs. A. E. Atwood. Chief evaluator was Mrs. Howard Wheatly.

Helen Turek was tail-twister while Mrs. Gertrude Nethercott served as grammarian. The timekeeper's report was given by Mrs. W. Arthur Vernon.

Marlene Coin Feted at Shower

Marlene Coin, bride-elect of David W. Bess, was honored Tuesday evening with a miscellaneous bridal shower. Mrs. Jack Storm was hostess in her Clarkston home.

The daughter of the Ralph Coins of Baldwin road, Marlene will speak her vows with David on June 5 in First Presbyterian Church. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. David C. Bess of Drayton Plains.

Forest Lake Club to Hold First Party

A dance and midnight buffet are planned as the first social event of the season for Forest Lake Country Club.

The Friday evening event will also mark the first social affair to be held at the club since its reorganization as a private country club.

Stanley Brown of Birmingham is general chairman of the party assisted by David Underdown, Spencer Gates, Roland Bourdin and Charles Clark.

Soroptimist Club Elects New Slate

Mrs. Carl Schultz was elected president of Soroptimist Club at the Monday evening dinner meeting held in Hotel Waldron.

Other officers elected were Mrs. Raymond Swackhammer, vice president; Alice Kimball, secretary; Mrs. Marion Fisk, treasurer, and Mrs. Roy Maxwell and Talmee Surola, delegates.

Reports of the recent regional conference in Milwaukee were given by Mrs. Schultz, Mrs. Arnold Hillerman and Mrs. Maxwell.

Mrs. Josephine Lawyer reported on the Mothers Day activity for the Oakland County Infirmary.

Plans were made for the annual installation dinner to be held at Fox and Hounds late in June. Mrs. Leon Glynn will be chairman. May 24 is the date for the next social meeting to be held in Hotel Waldron.

DUV Entertains for State Officer

Frances C. Butterfield Tent Nine, DUV, entertained Mrs. William H. Smith of Port Huron, who is junior vice president of the Department of Michigan, at a dinner recently.

An inspection of the Grotto Hall followed the dinner at Beth's Restaurant. Inspector Mrs. Margaret Pomber of Ferndale was a guest.

Junior Club Closes Season

Book Authority Is Speaker

Junior Pontiac Women's Club held its final meeting Monday at the YWCA, winding up the president's program for the year on "Friendship."

Guest speaker for the occasion was Mrs. Edward W. Williams of Rochester, literary consultant for Avondale Schools and reviewer for the MEA Journal.

Mrs. Williams gave several readings and discussed books, making it understandable that books are close, beautiful associations.

A former teacher at the University of Chicago and at Wayne University, Mrs. Williams is considered one of today's foremost authorities on children's books.

For the past 18 years she has been carrying on a private crusade for children, said Mrs. Williams. In an attempt to stimulate children's interest in reading good books, believing it is the best way for them to learn honesty and respect for human values, she has often opened her home for readings for children, and has made her library available to them.

Mrs. Williams is a proponent of good books for adults as well, fearing the pulps and comics occupy too much of America's reading time.

Program chairman was Mrs. Harry Aten, who introduced the speaker, and Mrs. Jay T. Ford was social chairman, assisted by Mrs. A. L. MacAdams, Cora Bartell Mrs. Arthur Compton, Mrs. Everett Garrison, Adeline Hook, Mrs. George Morrow, Mrs. Francis D. Larkin and Mrs. Ben Ronan.

Officers will be elected and installed May 24 at Old Mill Tavern.

St. Joseph Alums Plan May 21 Hop

Nurses' alumnae of St. Joseph Mercy Hospital will sponsor the "Alumnae Hop" May 21 at the Knights of Columbus Hall.

Dancing for the semi-formal affair will begin at 9:30 p.m. and will continue until 1:30 a.m.

Mrs. Fred Wyzgoski is general chairman and Mrs. Harold Clifford is in charge of the hall.

In charge of publicity are Mrs. Robert Gagel and Mrs. Kevin Ritter. Mrs. Dalton Smith is handling publicity from Berkley.

MacDowell Chorus to Sing in Ontario

The MacDowell Male Chorus will participate in a concert at Kitchener, Ont., Saturday evening. They will present separate numbers and sing in the massed chorus.

A new personalized type of shopping for Pontiac area will be found at Winkelman's which opens Thursday in the new Tel-Huron Shopping Center.

Pioneers in this concealed stock method of selling were Leon and Isadore Winkelman who opened their first store in Detroit in 1928.

They anticipated the current trend to suburban shopping centers more than 20 years ago, and felt there was a definite need for a personalized specialty shop in each suburban neighborhood.

In this type of store, women can shop easily and casually, with the latest fashion trends brought to them. There are no dresses on racks, everything is brought to the shopper in an individual fitting room.

Trained salespeople select the fashions to be viewed and do accessorizing in the same room.

There is an intensive program for salespeople, keeping them abreast of the newest fashion developments.

Mother-Daughter Fete Held Tuesday

The annual mother-daughter banquet of Zeta Eta Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi was held at Villa Inn Tuesday evening.

Mrs. Betty Smith welcomed the mothers and each mother received a corsage. Adah Shelly, speaker for the evening, gave a tribute to all mothers. Marilyn Main and Mrs. William Doyon assisted Mrs. Ridlon Smith, general chairman, with preparations for the event.

Guest Will Speak to Baptist Women

Doris Reed, student counselor for the State Council of Church Women at the University of Michigan, will be guest speaker when the Bethany Baptist Women's Society meets Thursday at 1:30 p.m.

Also on the program will be talks by several foreign students from the university.

Pontiac Press Photo

Two of the models for Bethany Baptist Church's style show Wednesday will be Judge H. Russel Holland (left) of East Iroquois road and Robert A. Sutton of Lincoln avenue. The show will include men's and women's fashions. Proceeds will be contributed to the building fund for the new church sanctuary.

For Men, Women Tonight

Baptists Sponsor Styles

Mrs. Verland Anding has been named chairman of the "Spring and Summer Fashions for Men and Women" which will be presented tonight by the Young Married People's Class of Bethany Baptist Church.

The show, which will be held at 8 o'clock, will feature Osmun's clothes modeled by Mr. Anding, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Crawford, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond McGregor, the Robert Suttons, Voyd Hicks, Judge H. Russel Holland and Mrs. William Pitchford.

Jean Vire, Richard Weston and Marvin Kirshner will also model clothes and Patty Looman will be commentator.

On the program will be Sharon Holland with piano selections, and vocal selections by Pontiac High School Girls' Ensemble. Proceeds will be added to the church building fund for the new sanctuary. Tickets are available at the door.

Bridal Party Given for Patricia Colpus

Patricia is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Colpus of Henderson street and her fiance, Richard Hague, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Hague of Drayton Plains. They are planning a June 5 wedding at All Saints Episcopal Church.

PEO Entertained by Mrs. Max Fell

Mrs. Max Fell of Drayton Woods opened her home Monday afternoon to CL Chapter of PEO Sisterhood. During the business meeting plans for fund-raising were discussed. The last meeting of the year, a luncheon on May 24, will be held at the home of Mrs. James Henderson of Argyle avenue.

Duo Pianists Close Year for Musicale

Mrs. Gaensbauer and Mrs. Oakley Give Program

By DORA DAWSON

One of the most successful and entertaining programs of Tuesday Musicale closed the year Tuesday in Grace Lutheran Fellowship Hall.

The formal program was given by Mrs. Addison Oakley and Mrs. Ferdinand Gaensbauer, duo pianists. Their offerings ranged from stately classical to modern, revealing ability that equals professional teams in caliber.

In the selections, the artists showed thoughtful penetration in two-piano literature through versatility and artistic accomplishment.

The first number, a Bach chorale, was followed by several variations on a Haydn theme arranged by Brahms. These melodies and subjects were brought out with fine musicianship and understanding.

In all of their playing there is splendid coordination and temperamental feeling, with an elasticity of total production that makes their work a delight to listen to.

Debussy's liquid tones were heard in "En Bateau" in contrast with the liveliness, color and verve of three movements of "Scaramouche," a suite by Milhaud.

The last group of selections included Arensky's delightful "Valse," "Jamaican Rumba" by Benjamin, "Body and Soul" by Green and "Jazz Study" by Hill.

These contemporary compositions reflected whimsical fancy and sophistication. A standing ovation was given these artists who played from memory with technical ease and grace.

After the program Mrs. Donald Hogue, retiring president, called on all committee chairmen to report the year's work. This was done in pantomime and verse with Mrs. T. E. Nelson providing atmospheric music at the piano.

In introducing the new officers for the next year, Mrs. Hogue read a greeting postmarked Madrid, Spain, from Mrs. Paul Kern, the new president who is traveling in Europe.

Mrs. Ralph Norvell, delegate to the convention of the Michigan Federation of Music Clubs being held in Detroit, gave a summary of the event. Mrs. Norvell and the other delegate, Mrs. Gordon Woolcock, are attending the closing sessions today.

ANGELINE S. STRZELECKI

Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Strzelecki of Mott street announce the engagement of their daughter, Angeline Stephanie, to Thomas C. Schmidt, son of Mrs. Rose Schmidt of Lincoln avenue. An October wedding is planned.

Shower Honors Emma Kesthely

Emma Kesthely, bride-elect of William Dale LaMonde, was honored Friday evening with a bridal shower at the home of Mrs. Glenn Reamer Jr. on Lincoln avenue.

Emma, daughter of Mrs. Caroline Kesthely of Home street, will speak her vows May 22 at St. Paul Lutheran Church. The prospective bridegroom is the son of the Niles LeMondes of Auburn Heights.

Among the guests were Juanita Rawlins, Mrs. Bengt A. Pulls, Mrs. Walter Babb, Mrs. Frances McCue, Mrs. Lawrence Kesthely, Mrs. Gill LeMonde, Nila LeMonde, Mrs. Hal LeMonde, Mrs. Robert Genez, Mrs. LeRoy Bailey and Mrs. Thomas Ainge.

Mrs. Virginia Hawkins, Mrs. Richard White, Mrs. William Schiehel, Mary Van Gilder, Mrs. Jack Thompson and the mothers of the bridal couple were other guests.

VFW Auxiliary Names Delegate

A delegate and alternate to the encampment at Grand Rapids were elected Monday when VFW Auxiliary 1008 met at the American Legion Home.

Mrs. Paul Boulder was elected delegate with Mrs. Lucy Wright as alternate. Mrs. Allen Hersee gave the obligation to new officers and she also reported on the children's party at the National VFW Home in Eaton Rapids.

A letter of thanks from the cancer society was read and Mrs. Boulder reported on cancer pads sewed. Mrs. Frank Finkle reported on hospital work.

Shower Honors Barbara Russell

Twenty-four guests were present for the luncheon and "round the clock" shower. The daughter of Everett C. Russell of West Iroquois road, Barbara will speak her vows with John on July 3 in First Presbyterian Church. He is the son of the John K. Irwins of West Huron street.

Plans Made at Women Sailors' Tea

First Luncheon to Be Given May 19 at Orchard Lake

At a tea last Friday at the Rochester home of Mrs. Laurance W. Shaffner, plans were made for the coming season by Women Sailors of Orchard Lake Country Club.

Mrs. Shaffner is chairman for the year and has many able assistants as chairmen of the various committees.

The first luncheon of the year will be given by the sailors May 19 at the clubhouse.

Mrs. George D. Miller is chairman of the rules committee assisted by Mrs. Paul W. Penfield; Mrs. Carson C. Bingham will have charge of crews and Mrs. Berrien C. Ketchum, assisted by Mrs. George Crane, will be head of junior sailors.

Mrs. Basil E. Brown heads the social committee and Mrs. John Fitzgerald will organize publicity.

Mrs. George Russel and Mrs. F. S. Strong Jr. will be scorers, assisted by Mrs. T. W. F. Meyer.

Mrs. Benjamin Micou will assist Mrs. Edward S. Reid Jr. with new skippers, as will Mrs. John Slater, Mrs. Howard Greer, Mrs. Arthur Underwood, Mrs. Patrick Bird and Mrs. Walter E. Kleinert.

On May 23, the waterfront committee headed by Hubert V. Davis, master, will give a champagne breakfast for men and women sailors and swimmers.

Dee Vann Feted at Bridal Party

Dee Vann was honored with a bridal shower given Monday by Mrs. William Hurlburt, Mrs. Dora Dawson and Mrs. Helen Teitgen at the Tilden avenue home of Mrs. Dawson and Mrs. Teitgen.

The daughter of the W. H. Vanns of South Shore drive, Dee will speak her vows Saturday with Lt. Walter Mitchell. He is the son of Mrs. James K. Glenpon of Panama City, Fla., and the late Walter Mitchell.

Beauty Clinic

YOUNG OR YOUTHFUL

To be as young and attractive as possible is probably the secret ambition of most women. Often young matrons and even middle aged women are inclined to adopt the styles of the girls. (Let's say girls are under 21.)

Now it does seem reasonable that if we wear the things girls wear it will have a tendency to make us look more like a girl ... but this is only a half truth.

Young styles on the young reveal what the person has ... youth! Young styles on the older woman reveal what she has ... age!

The young style to look young on the older woman, must be modified, or changed in order to camouflage what time has done ... then the result will be youthful and very attractive. This principle applies to clothes as well as hair-dos.

Cherrywood Never Passe

By ELIZABETH HILLYER

Cherry is one wood that swept from four posters to bookcase headboards without a faltering or awkward stop between.

We enjoy it today for the same reasons that the early colonists favored cherry and the 19th Century made much of it.

It is beautiful and strong for both structural and ecorative uses, has a warm natural color and takes a fine polish.

Even in the newest designs, it has a seasoned look that makes it settle down at home anywhere. One of the most interesting ways that cherry is used is in simple contemporary outline with touches of brass.

Sketched are bedroom pieces from a grouping called Open House Cherry which is sparked with bright brass button-sized pulls on small drawers and decorative bands of brass on the bases of the cabinets and the bed where legs join.

Brass L hinges appear on the louvered-effect door of the chest sketched and on the small door of the headboard.

The bench is particularly ideafull. It's a bench or a table with extra storage room for use at the foot of the bed, or anywhere else in the house.

Manners

MAKE FRIENDS

You ask a girl to a dance several weeks ahead of time. It's wise to be the early bird if you want to get the girl of your choice. But do remember to telephone her in the meantime or make some mention of the date when you happen to see her. She just might be wondering if you've forgotten all about the date if you never mention it again.

And she just might forget it herself.

May Guest List Foods Not on Diet?

Wants to Be Sure Forbidden Dishes Aren't Prepared

By EMILY POST

Today's first letter asks: "When invited to a friend's house for lunch or dinner, would it be proper for me to tell her that I do not eat certain foods so that she will be sure not to have them, rather than run the risk of having her prepare something that I will not be able to eat? I would greatly appreciate your answering this question for me."

Answer: If you are lunching alone with a friend you might tell her the certain foods you cannot eat.

But if you are going to a lunch party you certainly can't interfere with what she is intending to serve to other people and surely there will be some part of the lunch you can eat.

Dear Mrs. Post: My daughter is going to be married soon and from what I can gather she intends to share the expense of furnishing the apartment.

I always thought that it was up to the man to buy the furniture, and that the bride furnished the linen, silver and china. Am I old-fashioned, or is this the modern way of doing things?

Answer: In the present day, it is entirely a matter of how much each one is able to contribute. The one who has the most buys the most.

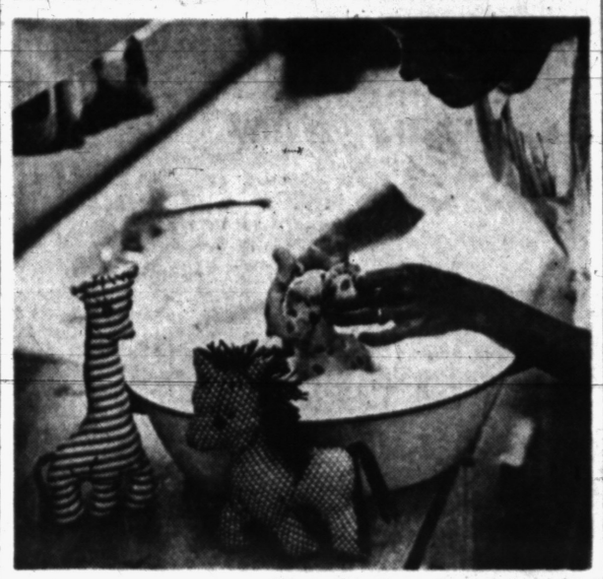
It is true that linens and table silver are usually the bride's contribution, but not if he is well off and she is without means.

Dear Mrs. Post: I'm having some writing paper marked for personal use. Should it be marked Mrs. John Smith or Jane Smith? I was wondering whether Jane Smith is appropriate for a middle-aged married woman?

Answer: Jane Smith is suitable only for a very young girl or a professional person well known simply as Jane Smith.

Paper to be used for all general purposes should be marked with your full name (Mrs. John Smith) and address; social paper should be marked with your initials or your house address.

The average American eats about 10 pounds of fish a year, but New Yorkers average about 30 pounds.



Cuddly toys are now practical and much more healthful —they may be washed by hand or in the home laundry. Home economist Mary K. Dougherty suggests mothers make a game of washing the children's cuddly toys. It will teach them early the basic ways of home laundering.

Make Own Dressing for Salads

Mrs. B. E. MacKay Contributes Recipe From Canada

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

A fairly new resident of Pontiac is today's recipe contributor, Mrs. B. E. MacKay. Mrs. MacKay has not been in robust health for some time, so her activities are of necessity curtailed. But she does lots of sewing for her daughter and loves to bake when she is able to.

This recipe for a salad dressing is one that came to Mrs. MacKay from Canada. She says she has made it and liked it ever since she was 14 years old.

SALAD DRESSING
By Mrs. B. E. MacKay

¼ tablespoon salt
2 tablespoons sugar
1 teaspoon dry mustard
2 tablespoons flour
1 egg or 2 egg yolks, beaten
1½ tablespoons melted butter
⅔ cup milk
¼ cup vinegar

Mix dry ingredients, add beaten egg, butter and milk. Add vinegar slowly, stirring while you add. Cook slowly until thick, stirring to prevent burning. This is especially good on salads of tomatoes, cucumbers and lettuce.

Don't Keep Old Wool Garments

Never let an old woolen or fur-trimmed garment hang in a closet for a long period of time without giving it some attention, even if it is not fit to be worn by the owner.

If it has outlived its usefulness, give it a good going over with the vacuum cleaner to remove dirt and dust, and present it to someone less fortunate, or to a favorite charity.

Unused garments are moth breeders. Worse yet, moths are not selective. They are just as apt to ruin a brand-new garment in the same closet once they have been lured by something much less valuable.

Lose up to 20 lbs. in 10 weeks —or receive your money back
All of those uncomfortable things which have always been considered necessary in order to lose weight have suddenly become outmoded.

Jewels Gain Color

New designs in both precious and costume jewelry illustrate the summer trend toward dramatizing fashions with fresh color and youthful gaiety. Earrings, for instance, are created with a lavish hand for mobile chandelier effects, grape-like clusters and lacy buttons the size of a silver dollar. Because hair is close-cropped, we can afford to greet summer with the flattering emphasis larger earrings provide.

Mary Margaret McBride Says:

Glittering Generalities Are Dandy Collectors' Items

My friend, who is such a pet fancier that she won't invite for the weekend anybody who doesn't love her cat, stomped in the other day furious because a neighbor had stated unequivocally: "All animal lovers are sloppy housekeepers."

My visitor soon stomped out again, angrier than ever, because of my reaction to her beef. It was a triumphant "That makes 300!" I meant that she had just added the 300th item to my collection of glittering generalities.

MISS McBRIDE

James Thurber, the writer, when he started me on this mad pursuit gave me fair warning. You miss the meaning, he said, of most conversations while lying in wait for juicy sweeping statements; your mouth is usually hanging slightly open and your eyes are glazed.

So it has proved to be, but the pleasure of adding a good one now and then far outweighs the annoyance of being thought slightly fey by those who don't understand.

Of course, my ear isn't yet as sharply tuned as James Thurber's and I have nothing to match his choicer specimens, such as the prize he picked up at an important church dinner. The dignitaries at the head table finished eating later than the other diners and the woman on his right turned to Mr. Thurber and said in a firm voice: "Bishops always eat slowly."

Then there was the time at a party when Mr. Thurber told the anecdote about General Wavell who, though he had millions of men in his command leaping at his every order, simply couldn't get his daughter down to breakfast on time.

"All generals are afraid of their daughters," somebody immediately declared with great finality.

There is this to be said about my own gems, inferior as they are to Mr. Thurber's: Everybody, including me, keeps saying them all the time. Check yourself and your friends on these, if you don't believe me:

"No woman can park a car decently," "All politicians are dishonest," "All Southerners are lazy," "All newspapermen drink too much," "Tyrants hate cats," "Private secretaries are frustrated," "Hairdressers are gossips," "Tall men always marry short women," "All successful people are ruthless."

Everybody knows plenty of more sinister examples of generalizations that, constantly repeated, foster prejudice, tension, hard feeling and yet from experience can be as easily refuted as the ones above.

I can name two Southerners right now who are so go-getting that they wear me out, three newspapermen who are teetotalers, a hairdresser who never opens her mouth and even a woman who parks a car without giving me nervous prostration. As for successes, the only ones I ever came in contact with are putty in the hands of agents or managers.

Which gives me glittering generality No. 301: All glittering generalities are false.

'No' Just a Stage

If baby is two and has suddenly started "no" to everything, take heart. It's just a stage. At two, this negative approach is not at all uncommon. Baby is having fun, so ignore his no's.

Fickle Boy Should Be Taken 'As Is'

Girl Can't Change Him Into the Type of Lad She Wants

By ELIZABETH WOODWARD

"Dear Miss Woodward: Last summer I broke up with a boy I'd gone steady with for seven months. I liked him and I didn't want to break up with him, but he had been dating other girls even though we were supposed to be going steady.

"A few weeks ago he started coming over to see me—we even went to a show together. I thought we would be able to get along again.

"But last Saturday we went to a party together and he was in a bad mood and wouldn't talk to me. Several of the other boys flirted around with me, and the next day he accused me of being 'boy crazy,' and he hasn't talked to me since.

"I like him very much, but I can never be sure of him. He acts as though he doesn't care, but as soon as some other boy pays attention to me, he gets mad.

"I never have fun or enjoy myself when I go out. Should I try to forget him or take him as he is?"

Take him as he is—and when you can—and forget him in between times! Some boys are just constitutionally incapable of staying put for very long.

They'll go through the motions of signing up a girl to go steady so she'll be reserved for them when they're in the mood. But the contract doesn't really work two ways. Such a boy reserves for himself the right to flirt as he pleases and light where he wants to light.

Your boy friend sounds like the type. Not really a hypocrite—just will-o'-the-wisp. Going steady with you was a fine idea in theory—but he couldn't resist those dates with other girls on the side.

And once you're a girl of his, you're supposed to stay so docketed. You're not supposed to flirt with other boys when he's around.

And no matter what his mood, you're supposed to remember that he's entitled to your full attention. For what reason? Just his masculine superiority.

Fundamentally, your disposition and points of view are diametrically opposed to his. When you want to know where you stand, you want to be sure of him, you want him to be true.

This guy can't be. So why fret over him? When he's around and in a bad mod, let him sulk by himself. Let him get as mad as he wants when you seem interested in other boys.

He does nothing to warrant your complete attention, he does nothing to deserve your loyalty. Nothing he does should spoil your fun when you go out.

If that's forgetting him — go ahead and try it. It very much includes taking him as he is. You're not likely to change him. And trying to make him conform to the way you think he should act will accomplish nothing but a general stew for you.

The only thing sure is that you can't be sure of him. He's a guy you can't keep tied. You should strain yourself trying?

Here Comes the Bride

Honor Maid, Best Man Play Key Roles

(Editor's Note: Third in a series of seven articles by Emily Post covering all phases of wedding etiquette.)

By EMILY POST

Next to the bride and bridegroom, the maid of honor and the best man have the most important roles the day of the wedding. (Bridesmaids are usually considered as decorations only.)

These two and the ushers have very active duties to perform. Hence many questions about such duties have been directed to me. Some of them are set forth here with my answers.

* * *

"I am to be maid of honor at a friend's wedding shortly.

"I never have acted in this capacity before. Just what are my duties both at the wedding and reception."

At the church you walk up the aisle alone just ahead of the bride; stand where you were told at the rehearsal and hold the bride's bouquet during the ceremony. At the end of the ceremony, you give back her bouquet.

If she is wearing a face veil you take it off or turn it back as will have been decided at the rehearsal.

The only other thing you do is to straighten out her train before she and the bridegroom start walking down the aisle. Correctly you then follow alone.

(To walk with the best man gives the effect of a double wedding and is conspicuously incorrect.)

* * *

"My son has been asked to be best man at a wedding. Will you please tell us exactly what my son's duties and obligations are?"

The best man has three main obligations—to see that the bridegroom is dressed and ready in time; to take charge of the wedding ring and get the money from the bridegroom for the clergyman; and to make himself generally useful at the reception.

* * *

"I have been asked to be best man at a friend's wedding and I would appreciate your telling me just what expenses I have in connection with this position.

"I have heard so many different opinions that I have decided to write to you for the correct answer."

Further than the clothes you are expected to wear (which you probably have) and the wedding present that you would probably give anyway, you incur no expense.

* * *

"My son is to be married. Just when should I be seated in church?

"Also, is it proper for the mother and father of the bridegroom to walk in together, preceded by the usher, or does the bridegroom's mother walk up the aisle on the arm of an usher with the father following?"

The ideally correct procedure is as follows: The bridegroom's mother goes up the aisle on the arm of the head usher and takes her place in the first pew on the right; the bridegroom's father follows alone and takes his place beside her.

The same usher returns to the vestibule and immediately escorts the bride's mother, whose appearance should signify the arrival of the bride and her attendants at the church, and no one else may be seated after this.

* * *

"In addition to the four bridesmaids and four ushers, I am having a flower girl and ringbearer in my wedding party. Where in the procession do the ringbearer and flower girl come?"

They walk together just preceding you.

* * *

"Why do you give your approval to the father of the bridegroom serving as best man, yet always discourage the mother of the bride being a matron of honor—particularly if there are other attendants?

"You never make this stipulation for the best man and yet there are usually younger men serving as ushers."

Because the mother's position is that of hostess at the wedding whereas the father of the bridegroom has no position whatever beyond being present.

* * *

"Since my father is not living, my only brother will give me away. However, my fiance also would like to have him as one of his ushers.

"Would it be proper for him to serve in both capacities? He is quite willing if this arrangement has your approval."

This suggestion is entirely practical. He can perfectly well usher the guests until the bride arrives, and then, instead of walking in the procession with the ushers, he walks up the aisle with the bride. In the recessional he can walk with the ushers.

* * *

"Is the bride expected to give each of her bridesmaids a wedding picture? Should they also be given to the men who are serving?"

To both questions, it is usual for each to buy what she (or he) wants from the photographer. (Not at all necessary that they buy any.)

An occasional pause to elevate your feet during a busy day can do wonders for the weary housewife. Long periods of standing cause foot fatigue and sluggish circulation. Frequent, brief periods of sitting or lying with feet elevated above hips relaxes the weary members, aids circulation, prevents swelling and has a beneficial effect on general health.

Starting to Relate Growth to Family Relationships

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

A saleswoman mother asks me what "magic wand" can be used to stimulate parents' interest in the child development material she's selling.

"The mothers I talk to amaze me by their indifference to this subject," she writes. "They lose interest in what I'm saying the moment I mention child development. Yet this material covers every possible problem that could ever arise. . . ."

I can suggest no sales magic for her child development material because I think we are tired of what it implies.

I think we are weary of preparing ourselves for problems of Johnny's future development and wish instead to work out the development that faces us today. And we want to work it out without fear that Johnny is not conforming to child development's expectations.

"The character of a child is molded by the character of the parents in response to whom it develops," writes Dr. Erich Fromm, teacher of psychoanalysts.

More and more of us, I think, are beginning to agree with him. We're realizing that Johnny develops in response to us, and see his development as connected with our development rather than with charts on child development.

We're beginning to see that his refusal to confess a lie is related, not to charts, but to our development of fear that he won't reflect credit on us.

We wish to deal tenderly with his 4-year-old fantasy of slaying a lion in the yard, not because charts permit him 4-year-old fantasy, but because we, too, often confuse imagination with reality, and have to ask ourselves, "Did this thing really happen—or do I just hope that it did?"

I regard this personal, unprofessional attitude more wholesome than "Scientific" ones for which few of us are scientifically trained.

If this seems odd, remember that even surgeons who are trained do not operate on their family members. Knowing that emotion and scientific exactness are hard to reconcile, they do not expose themselves to anxieties involved in physical probings into people they love.

As our personal relationship to Johnny has different content from a professional one, anxiety is inevitable if we try to regard him as our psychological patient.

I am personally disheartened by any material that implies that a child's growth is different from ours and that the parent-child relationship a mystery, unlike all other human relationships.

You Can Find Work That Uses All Your Skills

Complex World Offers Variety of Jobs

By ANNE HEYWOOD

It is fashionable nowadays to bemoan the complexity of modern life. But that very complexity offers the girl of today a fascinating variety of potential jobs.

Every day I hear of a new one that I never knew existed, as for example, the job being done by Catharine Heinz.

Catharine Heinz is director of the Library Bureau of the United Hospital Fund, and her job has just about everything. She is in charge of the special courses which are given to volunteers.

That means that Miss Heinz works with homemakers of every kind, teaching them how to be hospital library volunteers.

She interviews the women, learns whether they would be happy and effective in a hospital library job, and then conducts the courses.

On top of that, she reads and reviews new books, and decides whether or not they would have an appeal to the hospital patients.

In short, Miss Heinz's job combines what we call the factual, the social and the literary. She must be interested in people and intuitive about them.

She must have great accuracy and be meticulous in teaching the details of library work. And she must be interested in the books, as well as the patient, and have her finger on the literary pulse.

When I hear girls complain about "being stuck with my librarian degree," Miss Heinz comes to mind, and I know that there must be other jobs for the librarian which will give her an opportunity to use all her interests and all the facets of her personality.

By the same token, when women complain that all volunteer work is the same, and that you might as well resign yourself to being bored, I know it isn't true.

The woman who loves books, who is sympathetic toward hospital patients, and who has enough clerical facility not to ruin the recording system, can find a volunteer job in a hospital library which will have all the variety she could want.

The moral is this: If the job you are in, whether paid or volunteer, does not use everything you have, you do not have to sit and die of dry rot.

You can scout around this wonderfully complex world, and find one of the many combination jobs, which will satisfy all your needs and make you of maximum service, which is the only way to get maximum fun.

The fellow who says he's boss in his own house probably lies about other things too.

Old ILA Fined for Contempt

Union Is Found Guilty of Violating Injunction; Levies Total $92,500

NEW YORK (AP)—Fines totaling $92,500 have been added to the woes of the old International Longshoremen's Assn., now locked in a life struggle for control of dock workers in the Port of New York.

The fines, plus jail sentences for three ILA local officials, stem from March 5 to April 2 strike.

They were imposed last night by Federal Judge Harold P. Burke shortly after a jury decided the union had violated a no-strike injunction and was guilty of criminal contempt.

The penalties were far less than those asked by the National Labor Relations Board, which brought court action against the Union. The board asked a $25,000 fine for the parent ILA for each day of the month-long strike and $100,000 fines against eight of its locals.

Defense attorneys announced they would appeal the case today.

• • •

The strike flared up in the midst of tense rivalry between the old union, which had long held firm control over dock workers, and a new ILA set up by the AFL. Overthrow of the old ILA was sought by the AFL after it kicked out the union and revoked its AFL charter last September on grounds that it was dominated by racketeers.

An NLRB bargaining election last December between the two unions was voided because of strong-arm tactics by the old ILA, and a second vote had been set for May 26.

The strike, which hit the port during the uneasy period after the first election, brought a fine of $50,000 against the parent ILA and $5,000 each against seven of its locals.

The judge set a heavier penalty of $7,500 on an eighth local, No 824, which ruled the uptown Hudson River docks of luxury passenger liners and had been dubbed the "Pistol Local" because of its reputation for violence.

A six-month jail sentence was ordered for Harold Bowers, secretary of Local 824. Three-month terms were given to William P. Lynch, secretary-treasurer of Local 791, and William Ackalitis, secretary of Local 874.

Owner of Land Under River Not a Bit Unhappy

EAST HARTFORD, Conn. (AP)—Nicholas Foran is the owner of a lot on the bottom of the Connecticut River here.

He said yesterday he wasn't the victim of a "fast deal" when he purchased the land. He's going to use it to dock his boat in the summer.

Title Transfer Tax Brings in $1,812,060

LANSING (UP) — Secretary of State Owen J. Cleary reported today that tax collection on individual sales of used cars have totaled $1,812,060 for the first seven months since the new levy became effective.

Taxes averaged $16.29 on 108,720 reported sales of cars.

Cleary said that if the rate of collection continues, gross revenue from the new tax will approximate $3,100,000 for the first 12 month period.

Leap Into River Lands Ex-GI on Bed of Sand

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—Now Merle C. Chritian, 45, knows that "river" doesn't necessarily mean water in central Arizona.

He left his hotel yesterday, telling the manager he might not be back. At a pawnbroker's, he sold his clothing, including Army discharge papers, with the comment: "I won't need them any more."

Then he walked to the highest point of the bridge over the Salt River and went over the railing.

He hit the sandy river bed, where water had not flowed for years, and slightly hurt his head.

Mayor of Newark, N.J. Re-elected by Big Margin

NEWARK, N.J. (AP)—Mayor Leo P. Carlin, 45-year-old former head of an AFL teamsters local, has been re-elected mayor of Newark.

He polled 62,929 votes — more than the combined total of his two opponents, former Mayor Ralph A. Villani and Commissioner Pearce R. Franklin, in yesterday's balloting.

Pitching Horseshoes

Legitimate (?) Promoter at Last in the Money

By BILLY ROSE

Shortly before lunch yesterday, Major Timothy Morgan walked into my office exuding an aura of goodwill and bourbon. He was wearing a blue yachting jacket and a gold-embroidered captain's hat.

"Why the nautical getup?" I asked. "Are you contemplating a bit of piracy on the high seas?"

BILLY ROSE

"It so happens," said the old carny hustler, "that I'm thinking of buying a small cabin cruiser — say 80 feet."

"What will you use for money?" I said.

"Money!" said Morgan patronizingly.

He took a monogrammed silver flask from his pocket and upended it. Then he daintily dabbed at his lips with a lace handkerchief two feet square.

"Message received," I said. "When you drink your own firewater, it can only mean you've made a killing and are prepared to give me the details for the usual 20 simoleons."

"This fiscal year," said the self-commissioned major, "I'm using twenties to light my panatellas. May I suggest, my sneering friend, that you step to the window and look down at the curb."

I looked, and parked in front of my theater was the longest, reddest, chromiest automobile I had ever seen.

"I'm all ears," I said.

"I'll tell it in sequence," said the old confidence man. "Some months back, while in New Mexico, I organized an oil-prospecting company. It consisted, as usual, of a desk, a chair and your humble servant.

"Then I advertised in various gazettes and journals that I would accept a few investors as associates. Each investment, however, would be limited to $5,000, and in the unlikely event that no oil was discovered on the property, each investor would get his money back, a hundred cents on the dollar, in 10 years.

Well, sir, as you may have heard, oil is a powerful persuader these days, and so is a bona fide guarantee against loss. In two months, my company's treasury had expanded from zero to $400,000."

"Every penny of which you absconded with," I said.

"Wrong again," said Morgan. "Although I made $100,000 on the transaction, I kept complete faith with the investors. To begin with, I actually spent four weeks digging for oil.

"Well, perhaps 'digging' is not the precise word, but I did inspect a certain parking lot very thoroughly, and wherever the earth was soft enough. I prodded it with a penknife and then examined the blade meticulously for signs of oil. Unfortunately, as it turned out, these explorations failed to uncover a drop of the momentous fluid.

"At the end of the second month, a post office official paid me a visit and charged me with using the mails to defraud. Imagine his chagrin when I proved that I had honored each and every one of my obligations."

"I fail to see how you could do that," I said, "and still show a profit of $100,000."

"The profit," said the major, "came from a system which, I admit was not original with me, but was nonetheless effective. When my explorations petered out, I bought a $5,000 E-bond for each investor who had put up $5,000. This bond, as you know, sells for $3,785, and when it matures 10 years later, is redeemable for $5,000.

"Thus, the bonds cost me $300,000, and the $100,000 I pocketed was only fair recompense for the month I spent on hands and knees with my penknife."

"My congratulations on a swindle in the grand manner," I said.

"That is not the opinion of the United States government," said the major. "In a ceremony recently held in Santa Fe, a treasury representative awarded me a handsome silver letter opener for my patriotic services in stiumlating the sale of government bonds to the public."

Democrat Ends 61 Years With Republican Firm

SALISBURY, Md. (AP)—L. Thomas Parker Sr., an enthusiastic Democrat, completed his 61st year of employment today for a firm bossed by Fred P. Adkins, an equally enthusiastic Republican.

Parker, 73, is general superintendent of the E. S. Adkins Co., a Salisbury lumber firm. He has been with the firm two years longer than Adkins. He said the secret of the long and successful association is:

"We always talk business and not politics on the job."

Blank Charge in Movie Burns Gary Cooper

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Gary Cooper has braved the terrors of movieland bad men for several decades, but today he nursed painful powder burns from a blank charge fired close to him during a filming near here.

The musket charge singed Cooper yesterday as some 500 extras rushed a fortress during the filming of "Vera Cruz." The lanky star was taken to the French Hospital to have the unburned powder grains picked out of his shoulder and to receive tetanus shots.

Rhee Rejects New Plan for Unification

SEOUL (AP)—A high government source said today President Syngman Rhee had rejected a new Allied plan for unification of Korea.

The source said the plan called for U. N.-supervised general elections throughout the country, before the withdrawal of Communist Chinese troops.

The source reported that talks between Rhee and U. S. envoy Arthur H. Dean reached a deadlock Sunday after Dean broached the new plan. He quoted Rhee: "As long as any Chinese remain in North Korea, it would be a Communist election."

Coyote Yell Has Some Wolf Call Qualities

CASPER, Wyo, (AP) — He may not know too much about wolf calls of the human variety, but Howard J. Martley knows his coyote calls. He is district agent for the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service. His coyote calls are a regular part of the predatory control program.

Martley says:

"It's not exactly like a human wolf call. We need help in our business, so we use a small plastic device. It has a reed and operates somewhat on the same principle as a wind instrument. With this, we can simulate three different cries.

"The first is the coyote howl. This is the one most similar to the street corner variety in that it is most effective in the early morning or late at night. The idea, of course, is to get an answering call. The dens are difficult to find. When the coyote answers, the howl guides you to the den.

"The next cry is the distress cry of a pup coyote. The idea behind this one is to bring the parent coyotes to the scene, where they can be dispatched.

"Another call used extensively is the squeal of a trapped or wounded rabbit. It is used particularly in the Southwest, and will bring coyotes in at nearly any time of the year."

Martley says it must be understood that the successful calling of any wild animal depends also on knowing their habits, range and other characteristics.

Which, after all, probably any good street corner wolf could tell you.

Pays Detroit Hospital Bill 24 Years After Injury

DETROIT (UP) — Receiving Hospital has received a check for $67.50 for services rendered 24 years ago.

The check was signed by L. F. Finkler of Allentown, Pa.

"I am sorry to be so late in paying this bill of $67.50," Finkler wrote. "I want you to know I appreciate the fine treatment I received 24 years ago in spite of the fact that I had no money at that time."

A check of hospital records showed Finkler was a patient for a month in 1930 with a fractured right leg.

Better Than Boos

NEW BRITAIN, Conn. (UP) — Mayor John L. Sullivan doesn't like applause when he's on television. It costs too much money, told his studio audience before he delivered a campaign speech for re-election that "should you applaude for 10 seconds, it will cost about $15."

Egyptian Publisher Asks U.S. Verdict

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP)—Mahmoud Abiul Fath, co-owner of the Egyptian daily newspaper Al Misri, called yesterday for the world's free press to investigate Al Misri's suppression.

He said he would accept the verdict of any American or international press committee which would visit Egypt and investigate the suppression by the revolutionary tribunal.

"The world's free press should regard the struggle of Al Misri as its own—a struggle for the sacred right to live and express opinion," he said.

Abul Fath was sentenced in absentia to 10 years in prison on charges conspiring against the regime.

Drunk Driver Crashes Police Ambulance Car

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Joseph Deluca, 44, of Columbus crashed into the rear of a police ambulance cruiser at a stop light yesterday.

When the jarred patrolmen ran back to talk to Deluca, he greeted them with a polite nod and inquired sociably, "What street am I on, please?"

He was charged with drunken driving.

Fugitive Found Near Starvation in Warehouse

CINCINNATI, (AP)—An emaciated, bearded, begrimed man found hiding on the second floor of a furniture warehouse here has turned out to be a former bank examiner, sought since April 10 for jumping bail on a burglary charge, police said.

The man, George Hampton Simpson, 41, was taken to general hospital. Police said he was near starvation.

A warehouse employe accidentally discovered Simpson yesterday while "rooting around" on the second floor of the warehouse.

Police said Simpson jumped bond the day he was to have been arraigned on a charge of burglary. They said he had quit his job as an examiner for the Federal Home Loan Bank about two years ago. There was no indication how long he had been in the warehouse.

Blaring Bands Cover Up Movie Theater Stickup

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP)—As blaring bands marched by in the Armed Forces Day parade, a man slipped up to the cashier's window of a movie theater yesterday and handed Miss Muriel DePrey, 18, this note:

"This is a stickup. Do not make a sound. If you do I'll kill you. No alarms. The money or your life. Put in bag."

Churches Cooperate on Pastor's Funeral

FLORENCE, S. C. (AP)—The Rev. Dr. P. Frank Price's funeral request was fulfilled today, thanks to interdenominational teamwork.

The former moderator of the Southern Presbyterian Church, who died Monday, had asked that his funeral be at Central Methodist Church here. That was for convenience of the staff of nearby McLeod Infirmary, which he had served as chaplain.

A statewide women's convention was scheduled for the Methodist church at the hour of the services, so the First Baptist Church stepped in with an offer—accepted—for the Methodist women to meet there.

Doctor Sees Comeback for Family Physician

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP)—Dr. J. S. DeTar of Milan, Mich., speaker of the Congress of Delegates of the American Academy of General Practice, says that for some reason there is an "amazing comeback" in the field of general practice.

"There are 17,000 family doctors in our membership," he said, adding the goal of the academy is "a family physician for every family."

Reds in Korea Hold Colombian Officers

MUNSAN (AP)—The Communists today told the U. N. Command they are holding three Colombian officers who were picked up in the demilitarized zone near Old Baldy ysterday, the U. N. Command announced.

One of them was identified by the Reds as Lt. Col. Carlos Ortiz-Torres, commander of the Colombian battalion in Korea.

The Reds proposed a meeting today of the joint observation team of the military armistice to discuss the officers and the U. N. agreed.

The U. N. said the Communists claimed the trio crossed the demarcation line and are "held by our ide."

New Rocket Guided Missile System Reported

WASHINGTON (AP) — A rocket-powered supersonic guided missile system, designed to be used from airplanes against airplanes, was announced by the Defense Department last night.

The weapon, known as the Sperry Sparrow I, is "fully maneuverable at supersonic speeds, yet light and compact enough to be carried in multiple units by fighter-type jet aircraft," the announcement said.

The Defense Department called the Sparrow a "guided missile system" rather than a guided missile, apparently implying that it is more than a missile.

The Navy disclosed it is training ship and shore personnel for use of the Sparrow by carrier-based jet aircraft both in the Atlantic and the Pacific fleets.

12-Year-Old Rustlers Take Herd of Elephants

Detective Lt. F. Larue Horner said the youngsters had rustled a herd of 500 elephants from the garage of Mrs. Nathan B. Bubb Jr.

The elephants were returned to their owner.

Adlai Goes Back for Physical Check

CHICAGO (AP)—Adlai E. Stevenson was back in Passavant Hopital today for a physical checkup after making his first public appearance yesterday since his April 12 kidney stone operation.

The 1952 Democratic presidential nominee's physicial, however, said his "health is excellent and his recovery ahead of schedule."

Stevenson is expected to remain in the hospital two or three days. He is due to make a speech May 28 at Meridian, Miss.

Yesterday he visited campaign headquarters of Sen. Paul H. Douglas (D-Ill) and told Douglas' supporters, "I've enlisted to serve in any way I possibly can to assure the return of Sen. Douglas to Washington."

Drivers Shift, 'Rocking Boat,' One Spills Out

MILFORD, Conn. (AP)—Police said this is what happened when Mrs. Phyllis White moved over yesterday to let her husband drive the car:

She accidentally stepped on the accelerator.

Her husband was thrown out, injuring his leg.

The car roared across the treet, narrowly missing other cars, bounded up on Joseph Benedoso's lawn, smashed through his concrete-block garage, tearing a 10 by 10-foot hole in it, and tore down two doors before stopping.

Mrs. White wasn't scratched.

Bandit Busy at Hotel, Gets $40 on Second Try

OMAHA (AP)—Hotel clerk Chester L. Clark told police a bandit who had robbed the hotel a month ago popped out of a hiding place with a long knife in the early morning and said:

"Well, here I am again."

Says Asia Plan Won't Use GIs

Rep. Vorys Predicts Congressional Support on Collective Security

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Vorys (R-Ohio) said today he thinks the administration is working on collective security plans for Southeast Asia that do not call for any immediate use of American forces or large expenditures of money.

He predicted in an interview that Congress would support a security blueprint following lines now being worked out.

Vorys is a senior member of the House Foreign Affairs Committee, which heard Secretary of State Dulles outline his proposed Asian defense alignment in a closed session yesterday. Dulles had a date to give the Senate Foreign Relations Committee a similar briefing today.

Chairman Chiperfield (R-Ill) and other members of the House group declined to be quoted publicly about yesterday's session.

It was learned, however, that no specific mention was made of using American forces of any type in the beginning to bulwark attempts to weld Southeast Asian countries and Western Powers into a defense coalition. Dulles earlier told a news conference the goal is to create an alliance prepared to fight if openly challenged by Communist aggression.

Informed House sources said Dulles suggested that the administration be given flexibility to use elsewhere in Southeast Asia the $1,133,000,000 earmarked specifically for Indochina in the foreign aid bill now before the House committee.

They said he advanced the reason that the funds might be frozen in what the secretary called an outside chance that Indochina fell.

Without specific reference to yesterday's session, Vorys said he was sufficiently familiar with the steps being taken by President Eisenhower and Dulles "to feel that they won't bring a plan to Congress until they have one that will be acceptable."

He said that in any such blueprint, "I don't think that either the immediate involvement of troops in Southeast Asia or heavy expense will be characteristics."

Actress Over Virus

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Actress Eleanor Parker left Cedars of Lebanon Hospital yesterday after treatment over the weekend for an acute gastric ailment which attendants said was induced by a virus.

TEAMWORK—Opera star Lily Pons seems to be straining for a high note as conductor Max Rudolph pulls on her corset strings. In Atlanta, Ga., for a performance of "Lucia," she was persuaded to try on the corset and pantaloons worn by Vivien Leigh in "Gone With the Wind."

Crosswords Waste Time; That's What They're For

By LAURA Z. HOBSON

By International News Service

Crossword puzzles, anagrams, double crostics, crytograms and all other forms of word games are undoubtedly a thorough waste of time.

But, like millions of my fellow citizens who turn to the puzzle in their morning paper, I get a fine superiority complex out of solving a hard one, and we feel the zestful sense of playing hooky from work.

Thus in addition to feeling brainy, we're having ourselves a spicy little sense of guilt and forbidden fruit.

At other times, this harmless hobby gives our minds an escape, however brief, from the problems and tensions of daily life.

* * *

"Escape?" You may challenge me in cross-examination. "Is there anything relaxing about trying to think of a four letter word for a curved molding, or a three-letter word for a silkworm?"

But any housewife who's beating her brains out over "OGEE" and "ERI," is at least having a vacation from beating her brains out over what to give the family for dinner.

All of which makes me wonder why so many of us seem apologetic and defensive about loving either cryptograms or crostics or friendly card games.

* * *

Outdoor sports like golf and tennis, fishing and archery never need any alibis, for we all know exercise is good for our muscle tone and general health. But games with words don't come rigged out with such noble excuses, and in the interest of your conscience and mine, I do wish some leading psychologists would get to work and supply the lack.

They might easily relate it to the infantile joys found by 2-year-olds in playing with blocks marked A for Apple, B for Bow-wow and C for Cat.

What isn't all right is the disapproving friend or relative who tells you you're wasting your time whenever you settle down happily with the Sunday crossword.

These sourpuss characters turn up in everybody's life, always cloaking themselves in the pure white robes of moral righteousness, talking about the grave state of the world and pointing out that only hepcats fiddled while Rome burned.

Convicts Three Youths in Street-Corner Death

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A Superior Court jury has convicted three youths of manslaughter in the street-corner death of a wealthy manufacturer last December.

William Cluff, 57, collapsed and died during an altercation. Found guilty yesterday were Manuel Mata, 19; Robert Marquez, 17, and Richard Venegas, 18. Cluff had intervened in the brawl when he saw the defendants assaulting a Camp Pendleton Marine, John W. Moore, 18.

Foreign Nations in Pact Unwanted by Indochina

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP)—Indonesian Foreign Minister Soenarjo says any defense pact for Southeast Asia must be limited to Asian nations if it is to be effective.

Soenarjo told a meeting of Indonesian university students here last night that the presence of "foreign" elements in such a pact is not desirable.

Has Fun, Dies at 114

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Sam Lemler is dead at 114. His grandchildren say he took a drink when he wanted to, chain-smoked his pipe or cigars and had 10 to 15 cups of coffee a day.

Holland Festival Opening Today

Cool Weather Is Okay, It 'Intensifies Colors' of Tulips, Says Manager

HOLLAND (AP) — Cloudy skies and cool temperatures greeted opening of Holland's silver anniversary tulip festival today.

Despite the weather, upwards of 40,000 persons were expected to jam this Western Michigan community which has a normal population of about 15,000 for opening day festivities.

When told the weather would probably be pretty much the same —cloudy and cool—during most of the festival, tulip time manager Larry Wade said:

"This is not exceptionally cool weather for tulip time and is actually beneficial because it tends to intensify the colors of the tulips."

The colorful four-day festival opens officially at 2:30 p.m. when Holland businessmen, aided by a host of state and local politicians, will scrub the city's "dirty" streets.

From then on, it will be a continuous round of festivities as this modern American city takes on an old country atmosphere for the benefit of thousands of visitors from throughout the United States and Canada.

Gov. G. Mennen Williams will lead the street-scrubbing politicians. He will be joined by Lt. Gov. Clarence A. Reid, Auditor General John B. Martin, Attorney General Frank Millard, State Treasurer D. Hale Brake, Detroit Police Commissioner Donald S. Leonard, Highway Commissioner Charles M. Ziegler, Sen. Clyde H. Geerlings (R-Holland), and Rep. George M. VanPeursen (R-Zeeland).

Compound Aids Repair of Broken, Injured Teeth

BUFFALO, N. Y. (UP) — One of dentistry's most difficult problems, that of saving teeth that have been injured or broken, has been solved by a new chemical compound, according to Dr. Harold Berk of Boston.

Berk, the compound's developer, told the 86th annual meeting of the Eighth District Dental Society, that the compound, developed in 1950, is now coming into general use.

A broken tooth often leaves a nerve exposed. The new compound is applied to the exposed nerve in past form, hardens and forms a protective coating.

Italian Auto Production at All-Time High in '53

ROME (UP) — Italian automobile production reached an all-time high in 1953, with an output of 174,284 vehicles. This was a 35,838 increase over 1952.

Italian car exports also rose from 26,460 in 1952 to 31,506 last year. A parallel increase was reported in the volume of passengers and freight transported by road in Italy, which since 1951 has been higher than railway traffic for the first time in Italian history.

EAST LANSING (AP) — The placement bureau at Michigan State College can boast that it has Gov. Williams among its satisified clients.

The bureau placed Sue Taylor, MSC freshman from Brooklyn, as governess for the governor's three children. Sue will spend the summer with the Williams family at Mackinac Island taking care of Gary, 12; Nancy, 10, and Wendy, 8.

Friday, Smith Take 'Dragnet' to the Movies

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Let's take a look at the king-size "Dragnet."

Jack Webb and his crime-busting gang are shooting "Dragnet" these days, but there's a difference. This time they're working not at their usual haunt, Disney Studios, but a mile away at Warner Brothers. And the end result will not be a half-hour TV drama but an hour-and-a-half movie for theaters.

I arrived on the set as the crew was returning from lunch. It looked much the same as the TV layout, except that the sets were bigger and there were more people on the set. First I spotted jolly Ben Alexander, the reliable Frank Smith of the series. His face was bruised.

• • •

"It's just makeup," he said. "One of the hoods in the picture roughed us up. He's dead now."

I asked Alexander how the setup had changed for the theatrical movie.

"In a lot of ways it's the same," he remarked. "The only difference is that it takes much longer, since we're shooting in color. We need many more lights, and it takes a lot of time to get a set lighted.

"We don't expect to move as fast. After all, in the TV films—at least the ones I write—I try to write in only three sets. In this picture, we'll have 51 sets!"

• • •

Soon Webb, also bruised, appeared with his writer, Richard Breen. They both started in radio in San Francisco with a memorable private-eye show called "Pat Novak for Hire." With them were two noted directors, Delmar Daves and Mervyn Leroy. I also learned that Billy Wilder and George Stevens had visited the set. I couldn't determine whether all these directors were being helpful to a new member of their craft or were merely curious TV fans.

Webb is directing the film, as he does the TV series. That is no easy matter, since he appears in every scene.

When he finished with his visitors, he came over to chat. His conversation is like that of Joe Friday — crisp and full of facts.

• • •

I asked him if there were any surprises in his debut as a director of a full-length feature.

"Only in the speed of the crew," he replied. "I knew they were good, but I didn't think they would be able to keep up the kind of pace we maintain in TV. I've got 24 days to finish the picture, but I hope to bring it in at 18."

He explained that the movie script, like those in TV, was taken from an actual case. It concerns a gangland killing, but is not a whodunit.

"The first third of the picture concerns the how and who of the killing," he said. "The rest of the picture tells how the facts were gathered to present to the courts. This time we will show a division of the police department we have never treated before. It's the intelligence division, which gathers material on a criminal from all departments of the force."

The U. S. Military Academy at West Point was for many years the only engineering school in the United States.

State Police Cancel Holiday Time Off

LANSING (AP) — State Police Commissioner Joseph A. Childs announced today that he would cancel regular pass days for State Police over three summer holiday weekends to step up traffic law enforcement.

Childs said the order will result in the equivalent of a 20 per cent increase of patrol strength over the holiday weekends. The officers will be given equal time off on other days to make up for the pass days cancelled.

First of the weekends covered in the order will be the Memorial Day weekend. Pass days have been cancelled from noon, Friday, May 28, to midnight, Monday, May 31.

Waterford Board Will Hold Hearing on Land Annexation

Shift Would Give City 112 Acres

Site East of Telegraph Is Being Considered as New Courthouse Spot

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP —A public hearing on the proposal to place 112 acres of county-owned land in Waterford Township within the city limits of Pontiac will be conducted by the Waterford Township Board Friday.

The land, adjacent to the present County Children's Home and County Infirmary, is being considered as the site for a new Oakland County courthouse.

Approval of the Township Board and the Pontiac City Commission is needed to annex the property to Pontiac.

Lloyd Anderson, township supervisor, said he believed favorable action by the board would be assured if public sentiment is in favor of the move at Friday's hearing.

Annexation of the 112 acres, located just east of Telegraph road, would clearly define Telegraph as the city-township line. It would also comply with state law which designates Pontiac as the county seat.

"Annexation would mean the actual seat of county government, the courthouse, would be erected in our area on a central site easily accessible to the entire county," Anderson stated. He added that the move would be of "immeasurable value" to the township as well as the rest of the county.

The land is exempted from tax rolls and produces no tax revenue to help alleviate the tax burden of the township, according to the supervisor.

In urging all residents of the area to attend the public meeting, slated for 7 p. m. in the Township Hall, Anderson declared:

"In acting in advance on this proposal, the Township Board is placing Waterford Township in the position of welcoming the much needed county government center to a site far more favorable than the present congested downtown Pontiac location.

"Nowhere is the expansion picture more accentuated than right here in Waterford Township. The people of this community see the fast growth demonstrated daily, and the county as a whole is also mindful of the impact of our rapid expansion."

Chest X-Rays Go On in Area

Van Units Are to Visit 4 Large Communities in Next 2 Weeks

X-ray vans which have already checked 43,000 Oakland County people for hidden tuberculosis will visit Royal Oak, Berkley, Waterford and Birmingham during the next two weeks.

The two X-ray units, mounted on trucks, will tour the county until June 30. All Oakland County people over 15 years old are invited to drop in for a quick chest X-ray — free of charge. No one is asked to undress.

The tuberculosis case-finding drive is sponsored by Oakland County Tuberculosis Association, Health Department, Medical Society and Michigan, Pontiac, Birmingham and Ferndale-Pleasant Ridge health departments.

The two X-ray crews will finish out this week in Waterford and Royal Oak. Waterford's unit at Waterford Township Hall, Highland and Crescent Lake Rds., will take free X-rays from noon until 8 p.m., Thursday and 8 a.m. until 5 p.m. Friday.

The Royal Oak unit, set up at Royal Oak Fire Hall at Woodward and Thirteen Mile Rd., will take X-rays from noon until 8 Thursday and 10 a.m. until 6 p.m. Friday.

The Waterford unit will stay at the township hall Monday from 8 a.m. until 5 p.m., moving to 4540 Dixie Hwy., Drayton Plains, on Tuesday, May 18, for a four-day stay. Hours there will be noon until 8 p.m. next Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday and 10 a.m. until 6 p.m. Friday, May 21.

Monday and Tuesday, May 24-25, will find the North Oakland unit at 1058 W. Huron St., near the U. S. Post Office's Huron Gardens branch, from noon until 8 p.m. The unit will move to Birmingham's Ford Motor Co. May 26 to X-ray employes. Crews will set up shop for the public at Birmingham High School Thursday, May 27 from noon until 6 p.m. and Friday, May 28 from 9 a.m. until 5 p.m.

South Oakland's X-ray unit will stop at St. Dennis Church, Twelve Mile Road and Stevenson, May 17 from noon until 8 p.m. Next Tuesday and Wednesday will find crews checking employes of Berkley's Fuller Tool Co.

The public is invited to drop in Thursday or Friday, May 20-21, as the mobile X-ray van stops at Berkley's Oddfellows Hall, Twelve Mile and Gardner, from noon until 8 p.m., May 20 and 10 a.m. until 6 p.m. May 21.

The unit will stay at Berkley School, Catalpa and Berkley roads, May 24-28. Hours will be noon until 8 p.m. each day except May 28, when the schedule is 10 a.m. until 6.

FRENCH HORN SESSION—Members of the French horn section of Waterford Township High School's band hold a practice session with their band director, Leonard Griffin (rear), before the band concert tonight at 8:15 in the school gymnasium. The French horn section will be featured in a special novelty number, "The Peck Horn's Revenge," which will be narrated by Robert Lippert. Getting in last minute practice are (l. to r.) Karen Underwood, Terry Lancaster, Jim Cote and Mallory Berube.

Waterford Faculty to Give 3-Act Comedy May 14, 15

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP — Members of the faculty of Waterford Township High School will present "You Can't Take It With You" as the annual faculty play Friday and Saturday nights.

The play will be the final one of the current year. Curtain will go up at 8 both nights in the school gymnasium.

Nineteen faculty members will be taking part in the play. The three-act comedy involves the efforts of the heads of the Sycamore family, played by Paul Ripley and Mrs. Emma Olson, in trying to get their daughter Alice, Miss Sue Houghton, married to the man she loves.

The way in which the family goes about doing this promises an enjoyable evening of fun for both the faculty and the audience. The Sycamores' philosophy of life is that a person should live from day to day without a care because—"You Can't Take It With You."

Other members of the cast include:

Peter Evarts as Tony Kirby, Francis Sariego as Grandpa Sycamore, Miss Helen Davis as Essie Sycamore, George Tramontin as Essie's husband, Don Arsen as a handy man, Miss Helen Bulla as a cook, John McCaffrey as a retired Olympic champion and Mrs. Joyce Lewis as a grand duchess.

Also playing are Charles Pappas as a mad Russian, Arthur Lake as Mr. Kirby, Miss Marlene VanAlstine as Mrs. Kirby, Mrs. Mary Katharyn Oakes as Gay, Larry Manhart as an income tax collector, Gerald Lewis as the first G-man, Howard Trinkle as the second G-man and Byron Merritt as the third G-man.

All proceeds from this year's faculty play will be used for a fund for tennis courts for Waterford Township High School.

Board Names 2nd Inspector

Waterford Picks Man From Drayton Plains for Building Job

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP—Two plats were approved, a third temporarily OK'd and another building inspector was named at last week's Waterford Township Board meeting.

Approved were the Northridge subdivision at Airport and Southworth Rds., and the Waterford-Dublin subdivision, at Elizabeth Lake and Williams Lake Rds.

Given temporary approval was a subdivision on Andersonville road, at the Independence-Waterford townships boundary line.

The board appointed Ray Schell of Drayton Plains as the township's second building inspector. An ordinance regulating establishment and maintenance of public billiard and pool halls, dance halls, bowling and soft drink establishments was adopted. The board announced the township would pay one-third the cost of dust-proofing roads.

It was agreed that day care centers, nursery schools and boarding homes will be permitted in residential areas provided not more than three children are cared for in one home.

The board also gave temporary approval to re-subdividing lot 27, Stringham Farms.

Break Ground for New Schools

Program at Clarkston Under Way; Promises Classrooms by Fall

CLARKSTON — Ground has been broken for the new Clarkston Community School building program which promises elementary classrooms by September and the planned high school addition in less than a year.

But cutting the propoed buildings to absolute fundamentals, said Leslie F. Greene, superintendent of schools, the cost per square foot including construction and architectural fees will be $12.20 (several dollars below the current building figures.)

Schurrer Construction Company was granted the contract for the high school architectural trades at a cost of $218,950.

This addition includes seven classrooms, principal's office, boiler room and alteration in the present building to provide two additional classrooms in the Clarkston High School.

Also included for the high school will be vocational shop rooms, band room, cafeteria, study hall and a home economics department.

Hickson Construction Company received the contracts for construction of all elementary schools at a cost of $148,260.

For the mechanical trades, Thornton Company took the bid oat $129,163.70 and Fred Moote received the electrical trades contract at $48,683.00.

Construction design of all the buildings is one-story utilizing flat roofs, factory sash, heat resistant glass, plastic roof bubbles and bilateral lighting.

Exterior walls are to be of off-face brick backed with cinder blocks to form interior walls. These will be painted in pastel shades to provide soft lighting and better acoustics. Class room floors and corridors will be of asphalt tile with brick wainscot used in lavatory rooms.

Incandescent silver globe lighting fixtures will be installed in rooms where artificial lighting is used primarily during the day and fluorescent fixtures in rooms used in the evenings.

At Andersonville and Sashabaw, self-contained classrooms are planned.

Vandalized School Back to Normal

LAKE ORION — Eaton School was reported back to normal today, after vandalism Monday night forced officials to call off classes yesterday.

Mrs. Ruth Young, principal, said most of yesterday was spent cleaning up the pools of beer, bottles, rocks and debris from the floor of the one-room independent school located about two miles east of here.

Authorities are still seeking the vandals.

Milford High Seniors to Give 3-Act Comedy

MILFORD — A three-act comedy, titled "Lady Be Good," will be presented by the Milford High School senior class tomorrow, Friday and Saturday nights at 8 p.m. in the high school gym.

The play involves the antics of a Park avenue girl who rebels against her father's strict control and marries the butler.

Susan Howe plays the leading role, with James Robert as the butler. The father is played by senior class President Paul Shoemaker. James Price is directing the 11-senior cast.

Seats for all performances are reserved.

Hall Roof Renovated

METAMORA — Renovation has been completed on the Metamora Township Hall. A new roof, cement floor and oil furnace have been installed and the interior has been repainted.

Vocal Concert Receipts to Go for Choir Robes

KEEGO HARBOR — Additional choir robes will be purchased with receipts from the sixth annual vocal concert to be presented by Roosevelt High School Glee Clubs in the auditorium tomorrow at 8:15 p. m.

The girls and boys choral groups, under the direction of Mrs. Charles Seavey, will each be heard in five numbers.

Specialty songs will be given by the girls' Triple Trio and Jack Horner will play "Malaguena" as a piano solo. Jane Adam and Ed Tanner will be heard in a duet, "Make Believe."

The glee clubs will combine in the singing of six selections.

Mother, Daughter Fetes Draw Good Attendance

THOMAS—Good attendance was reported for two recent mother and daughter banquets here.

Mrs. Israel Mott received a gift for being the oldest mother at the WSCS banquet, and Mrs. Helena Ward was given a plant for being oldest mother at the OES affair.

Set Missionary Institute

LUM — An all-day missionary institute will be held in the Free Methodist Church Friday, with M Ella Maye Daniels, world traveler, as guest of honor.

Test to Be Held Sunday

Jaycee Teenage Road-e-o Judges Are Announced

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP — Judges for the teenage "road-e-o" sponsored by the Waterford Township Junior Chamber of Commerce will be Police Chief Frank VanAtta, State Trooper Gerald Tafel, Donald White, Robert Beatty and Donald Pringle, it was announced today.

The driving test for teenagers will be held Sunday at the A&P parking lot on Dixie highway.

Teenagers from three high schools — Clarkston, Keego Harbor and Waterford Township — will be competing for driving honors.

Applications for the event may be obtained at any of the three high schools. Any teenager having a driver's license may enter the contest.

A written test will be given in addition to a skill test, both at the parking lot. Trophies will be awarded to first, second and third place winners. The trophies were donated by Filmore Hardware, Les Hutchinson Cafeteria and Earl Kruger Insurance Co.

Winners will also receive certificates from the Jaycees.

Chairman of the driving contest is Philip Nelson. He will be assisted by Gene Shon, Gerald DeWees, Claude Goulet, William Cristos, Gerald Walling and Byron Merritt.

Winner of the local contest will compete with teenage driving winners from all over Michigan in the state contest in Lansing June 5.

The state winner will then go to Washington, D. C. Aug. 10-14 for the national championship contest. Five winners in the national contest will receive college scholarships of $1,250, $750, $500, $350 or $250.

Fund at $2,005 for Keel Family

Neighbors Aid Parents of Boys Who Perished in Home Fire

Fund for rehabilitation of the Jesse Keel family of Avon Township, whose three sons perished when their home burned May 5 has reached $2,005 according to Mrs. William Harmon, secretary of a civic committee formed to assist the bereaved parents.

The money is deposited in the Auburn Heights branch of the Pontiac State Bank under the Keel Family Rehabilitation Fund, Mrs. Harmon said, and the bank has been authorized to accept deposits for the fund.

The money will be used as a start toward providing a new home for the parents on a site still to be selected. Cost of a cemetery lot for the three young boys has been paid from the fund.

Mrs. Harmon said today, after a meeting of the committee and members of the Southwest Avon Community Forum last night, that clothing is not at present needed for the couple, but that house furnishings will be needed in the future when the new home is ready.

The father of the boys, burned while trying to rescue them in the early morning fire, is reported in fair condition. A portion of the $2,000 was contributed by fellow workers at GMC Truck & Coach Div.

How tough should a jelly bean be?

What is the correct wall thickness of a piece of macaroni?

How can you tell whether canned peas are young, middle-aged or elderly?

These problems would baffle the best of housewives, but a man—one man anyway—finds them quite simple. He is George Grantz, a pioneer in the rapidly expanding field of food engineering.

* * *

"I've been stuck with food problems for 32 years," said Garnatz, "ever since I wrote a graduate thesis on the soda cracker when I was studying to be a chemical engineer. Nobody before had ever written a thesis about soda crackers. Chemical engineers then didn't pay much attention to the study of food processes."

Today, as director of the Kroger Food Foundation in Cincinnati, Garnatz and a staff of 25 work in a laboratory full of weird machines developed to see that mama gets what she pays for at the grocery store.

* * *

"Our devices test food products mechanically and objectively," said Garnatz. "They take the element of human opinion out of it, so we can get down to the real facts about food.

"Last year we made more than 197,000 scientific inspections of 1,000 food items. Only a fraction of one per cent had to be rejected because the manufacturers had misrepresented them or they weren't up to government grade."

With a simple micrometer Garnats can measure a piece of macaroni to be sure that it has the proper wall thickness.

"A quick-cooking macaroni should be about 26-1,000th of an inch thick," he said. "Slow cooking macaroni can be up to 4-100th of an inch. We can allow up to 5-1,000th of an inch variation and still guarantee uniform cooking quality."

* * *

How do you tell young peas from old peas? Simple. By the difference between sinkers and floaters.

"As peas get older they get more dense, because they are converting their sugar to starch," explained Garnatz, "in a can of top grade fancy peas not more than 2 per cent of them should sink more than 2 inches in a 13 per cent salt solution in 10 seconds."

He has an ingenious device which automatically can put a can of peas to this test and separate the tender young floaters from the tired old sinkers.

Other gadgets in his laboratory look as if they had been invented by Rube Goldberg. The fluorometer lights up the vitamins in food and shows if they are present in the right amount. The conisistometer measures the density of such products as creamed corn, apple sauce and cake batter. The crumb pressure tester squeezes bread and checks its freshness and resistance to staling.

* * *

There is also a "cookie torturer" called a shortometer. The cookie or soda cracker is placed across two parallel bars. A third metal arm then swings down and measures how much force is required to crumble it.

"A nice, flaky soda cracker ought to break under 2¼ to 2½ pounds of pressure," aid Garnatz, learnedly. "If it has too much moisture content or is made with too little shortening, it may take more than 3 pounds to snap it. Shows it's too tough."

With a sharp-edged sheartester he can also cut through and test beef or jelly beans. A jelly bean that can't stand up to 7 pounds pressure is too soft to keep its shape; one that can take more than 11 pounds is too tough for the juvenile trade.

Once while experimenting with bananas a laboratory assistant saw a can of floor wax nearby and wondered aloud what would happen if they coated a banana with it.

* * *

"Let's try it and see," said Garnatz. They found the waxed banana stayed ripe twice as long as untreated bananas.

"Naturally we couldn't sell food with floor wax on it," Garnatz said. "But we have now developed a harmless odorless wax, and you'll see waxed ripe bananas on the market before the end of the year.

"The wax slows down their respiration rate. Sure ripe bananas breathe. So do potatoes, although of course potatoes respire more slowly than lettuce or celery. This respiration, popularly speaking, is really a form of dying—the giving off of carbon dioxide and oxygen by fruits and vegetables."

* * *

Because of his reputation as a food expert, hostesses are sometimes a bit uneasy when Garnatz comes to dinner. But his wife settled this problem long ago in their own home. She bosses the kitchen, insists on doing the cooking.

"She's a good cook, too," said Garnatz, loyally.

She'd have to be with a man like her husband to please.

Sees Day of Helicopter for Average Families

WASHINGTON (UP) — Igor B. Bensen, an aircraft designer believes new developments in helicopters will make "flying windmills" cheap enough for average-income Americans to own as "family vehicles."

The Raleigh, N. C., designer told the American Helicopter Society in a recent speech here that a new kind of "cold jet" helicopter engine, which he has pioneered, will make for greatly increased economy.

Spartans, 'M' Meet in Vital Weekend Series

Michigan Pitching to Test Michigan State's Lusty Hitting

By JOE FALLS

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Big 10 baseball leaders — Michigan and Michigan State — meet in what should be a decisive 3-game series this weekend, and the rival coaches are agreed that it'll be Michigan pitching against the lusty hitting of Michigan State.

The teams will play a single game in East Lansing Friday and a double-header in Ann Arbor Saturday.

A sweep for either virtually would assure it of repreeting the Big 10 in the NCAA playoffs at Omaha, Neb., June 10-14. Michigan is defending NCAA champion; Michigan State has never played in the post-season tournament.

Michigan State, a surprise team, heads into the showdown series leading the conference with a 6-1 record. Michigan is a shade behind with a 7-2 mark. Series is vital because only one more weekend of activity remains.

"We're simply not hitting," said Michigan coach Ray Fisher today. "So we're going to have to bank on our pitchers to stop State's strong hitting attack."

Spartans, in their 3rd season of Big 10 competition, lead the conference with a robust team batting average of .305.

Michigan State has five regulars batting more than .300, topped by Ray Collard, a sophomore outfielder, with an even .500 average. Catcher Tommy Yewcic is hitting .433, Capt. Jack Zietler .336, outfielder Bob Powell .333 and outfielder Jack Riech .333.

"We know they can hit," explained Fisher. "But take us. We played three road games last weekend and made only 15 hits. I plan to pitch Jack Ritter on Friday, and use Marvin Wisniewski and Jack Corbett in Saturday's doubleheader."

Kobs, who suffered a 20-2 beating at the hands of Michigan last year, is undecided about his pitching.

Heavyweight Scrap Televised Tonight

By HERB ALTSCHULL

WASHINGTON (AP)—Tonight's nationally televised fight matches a pair of better than average heavyweights, Coley Wallace of New York and Bill Gilliam of Newark, N.J.

Wallace is ranked 6th among the big boys. Gilliam is 10th.

The 10-round fight will be televised (9 p.m. EST) by the Columbia Broadcasting System (CBS).

Both Wallace and Gilliam are hoping for a chance at Rocky Marciano's world title and the winner of tonight's bout figures to get into the scramble, should Marciano successfully defend his crown against Ezzard Charles.

Bannister Sets Sights on World's 880 Record

LONDON, (AP) — Roger Bannister announced today he will return to the track May 20—and may try to add the world half mile record to his monumental 3:59.4 mile mark.

The lanky, 24-year-old medical student said he would run the half mile for London University against Oxford University at Motspur Park, Surrey, in an inter-universities meet.

Tartars Sweep Bill

DETROIT (UP) — Wayne University, meeting a favorite foe, took both ends of a doubleheader from the University of Toledo Tuesday with a 7-6 victory in the first game and a 10-2 triumph in the nightcap.

Oxford 2, Ortonville 1
Hamtramck 4, Cranbrook 1
Roseville 12, Troy 0
Clawson 11, Avondale 1
Madison 10, Fitzgerald 2

Top three teams in the Inter-Lakes Conference held their places Tuesday, while the stage was set for a showdown in the Oakland-B.

Berkley, Waterford and Southfield were winners in the I-L, while Roseville and Clawson kept their Oak-B records unmarred.

Berkley retained its half-game edge by nipping Farmington, 4-3. Dick Radatz limited the Falcons to 4 hits and helped his own cause with a triple. Farmington's runs came on Don Robinson's 3-run homer in the 6th.

Waterford got 4-hit shutout pitching from Steve Kebler and beat Walled Lake, 5-0. Kebler fanned eight and walked only one, while Bill Wood's three singles paced the Skippers at the plate. All Waterford runs were unearned.

Tom McCormick held Van Dyke to two hits and whiffed 11 as Southfield triumphed, 12-2. Dave Juhnke had three of the Bluejays' 14 safeties.

Roseville blanked Troy, 12-0, with Jack Huntzman and Jack Ranstadler teaming up on a no-hitter. It was the 4th straight shutout by Roseville pitchers, who have given only one run in 35 innings this spring.

Clawson trounced Avondale, 11-1, as Jack Seefeld and Tom Raines held Avon to two hits. Madison topped Fitzgerald, 10-3.

Oxford edged Ortonville, 2-1, in a game with a bizarre finish. Chuck Palshan carried a 1-0 advantage into the final inning, but walked the 1st two Oxford batters. After one man was retired, Palshan hit two batsmen, forcing in the tying run.

Then after two were out, another hit batsman forced in the winning run. Oxford got two hits off Palshan, while Mike Benedict was the winner on a 3-hitter.

SCOUTED BY MAJORS—Bill (Triple No-Hit) Neesley, 17-year-old Niles High School hurler, is being eyed by six major league scouts. He has won 12 games and lost two in the last two seasons with Niles. Three of the victories were no-hitters.

Niles Prep Pitching Star Attracting Major Scouts

NILES (AP) — Six major league scouts are following the progress of a southwest Michigan high school hurler who learned to throw a curve ball from a one-armed catching partner.

He is Bill (Triple No-Hit) Neesley, stylish southpaw from Niles High School.

This 17-year-old lefthander has won 12 games and lost two in the last two seasons with Niles. Three of victories are no-hitter and his two losses were a pair of two-hitters.

After his 3rd no-hitter, which took place last week, a 6th major league scout made a visit to Niles.

Neesley, rather reticent, is undecided about his future. "It all depends on what kind of offer I get," he says simply.

Neesley's favorite major league team is Detroit. But he's also considering the advantages of three state schools — Michigan State, Western Michigan and Michigan, in that order.

In 127 innings of pitching for Niles, Neesley has permitted only 21 runs and 23 hits.

Neesley learned the tricks of the curve ball at an early age. He could break a ball while still in the 6th grade.

He said a one-armed catching partner taught him the art while he still was a little leaguer.

Pitching is not his only achievement. He hit .320 in 1953 and has eight hits in 24 trips this season.

Two Kayoes in Windsor Bouts

State Welter Champion Gronik Halts Chicagoan in Features

WINDSOR, Ont. (AP)—It was very rough and tumble last night at the Windsor Arena.

It was an expanded Motor City arena fight card, moved to Windsor for that city's centennial celebration. It was televised in Michigan over a statewide hookup.

Feature event was the roughest. Michigan welterweight champion Allie Gronik, weighing 153, knocked out Cyril Kelly, 155, of Chicago. A volley of rights dropped Kelly at 2:08 of the fourth round.

In a 10 round companion feature, Detroit's John Summerlin, 196¼, sent Oscar Pharo, 192, Detroit, to the canvas with a flurry of first round blows, but Pharo got to his feet after a nine count.

Pharo slipped and fell through the ropes in the 4th round. He hurt his leg in the fall and referee John Weber called the fight a technical knockout in favor of Summerlin at 2:04 of the 4th round.

Third slam bang affair was three punches long. Jimmy Davis, 190, of Detroit threw the first punch. It dropped Detroit's Willie Wilkerson, 189, to the deck for a nine count. Wilkerson got back up and two more punches knocked him out at 39 seconds of the 1st round in a scheduled four.

Del Ennis is the only member of the Phillies who was born in Philadelphia.

Plemmons Earns Berth in PGA

Fires Blistering Round in Qualifying Test at Montgomery, Ala.

MONTGOMERY, Ala., May 12 (AP)—Broyles Plemmons of Valdosta, Ga., glued himself to a berth in the national PGA tournament here Tuesday with a burning 65 in his afternoon round over the Montgomery Country Club layout.

* * *

The Georgia professional and five other low scorers knocked out some 34 money golfers from six states for coveted seats in the PGA tilt at St. Paul, Minn., July 21-27.

* * *

Plemmons played his morning round in a creditable 71 strokes and then carded a 65 in the afternoon for a 36-hole total of 136—8 strokes under par.

Also qualifying for the St. Paul trip were Henry Linder of Augusta, Ga., with 69-69—138; Pat Abbott of Memphis, 67-72—139; Scudday Horner of Montgomery, 72-68—140; Darwin White of Anniston, 72-70—142; and Joe Burch of Mobile, 72-71—143.

'M' Drubs Titans; Sparrow Has 3 RBI's

DETROIT (AP) — Led by perfect batting jobs from 3rd baseman Don Eaddy and rightfielder Paul Lepley, Michigan's Wolverines beat the University of Detroit yesterday 15-6.

Eaddy had four hits in four trips to the plate and knocked in four runs, two of them with an 8th-inning home run. Lepley also got four hits, one of them a triple.

Wolverine 2nd baseman Frank Ronan also hit a home run, as Michigan piled up 16 hits and had only two scoreless innings.

DeSpirito Rides in Both Ends of Daily Double

BOSTON (AP)—Jockey Tony DeSpirito has ridden both ends of a daily double 29 times in the two years he's been riding.

He did it again yesterday at Suffolk Downs booting home Scotch Town and Plucky Willie. The combination paid $18.40.

Charles Starts Sparring

MONTICELLO, N.Y. (AP)—Former world heavyweight champion Ezzard Charles started sparring sessions here today in preparation for his title fight with Rocky Marciano at the Yankee Stadium on June 17.

Marciano Could Fulfill Weill's Prediction That He Will Be Heavyweight Titleholder for 10 Years

By GRANTLAND RICE

NEW YORK—The dashing manager, Al Weill, has torn off a piece of magazine literature predicting that Rocky Marciano will occupy the heavyweight throne for ten more years.

* * *

No guarantee goes with this prediction, but if it comes true it's all right with us. Why not? Rocky is a nice fellow, nicer than most men in his trade and he would probably wear well for ten more seasons. Judging from the class we have coming along these pleasant May days, Rocky might still be on top 15 years from now.

* * *

We saw Hurricane Jackson on TV the other night and we have rarely seen a worse looking fighter, that is one so totally lacking in boxing skill and any form of punching power. Yet he must be better than he looked to be considering his victories over other pretty fair fighters.

* * *

Marciano has advantages for lasting quite a while. For one, the quality of his opponents must be considered. In the present situation he has no one worthwhile in the road. Ezzard Charles is physically equipped to give him a good battle.

But Charles must change his entire mental equipment to have any sort of chance. No shy, timid fighter is going far with the champion.

The fellow who was knocked out by Joe Walcott and who later refused to punch when he had the rematch won doesn't figure to best Marciano.

* * *

In his Philadelphia fight with Walcott, Charles was clinching when Walcott, too tired to throw a punch, was feinting. There's a big difference between Walcott's feint and Marciano's punch.

* * *

Marciano has another point in his favor for retaining the crown for some time. He doesn't have to work on his speed or skill to sharpen his boxing ability. Rocky is no boxer. He is strictly a fighter. His fading reflexes later on which, ordinarily, would handicap his boxing skill will not be missed.

Poor Showing Could Put Ted in Bull Pen

Porterfield Shackles Tigers; Al Aber Draws 5-3 Loss

DETROIT (UP) — Southpaw Ted Gray was expected to make a crucial start for the Detroit Tigers today in a return match with the Washington Senators, a team that spoiled the Bengals' homecoming.

The Senators all but toppled Detroit from 1st place in the American League Tuesday by nudging the Tigers, 5-3, before 2,802 chilled fans at Briggs Stadium.

Chicago, meantime, shaded the Boston Red Sox, 2-1, and took a half-game lead over Detroit. However, the Tigers remained ahead in the percentage bracket by 22 points.

The Cleveland Indians dropped behind by a full game as they bowed to the Yankees, 3-0.

There was some possibility that Manager Fred Hutchinson would start Ned Garver today instead of Gray in view of Washington's victory in the first go of a two-game stand. Garver, possessed of a 3-0 record, wins ball games with dependable regularity.

Gray's starting performance, even if it is delayed until the Yankees come to town Thursday night, probably will determine whether he will remain as a starter or find himself in the bullpen.

Tigers' setback Tuesday went against pitcher Al Aber, who relieved starter Ralph Branca in the 5th.

Bob Porterfield, the winning pitcher, held Detroit to four hits and contributed a home run. The blazing righthander pitched to only 15 men in the last five innings.

In earning his 3rd victory against 2 losses, Porterfield was charged with one run that resulted in a fluke performance by Jim Busby. He stumbled chasing a routine fly that fell for a triple in the 3rd inning.

Washington edged to a 2-0 lead in the 3rd on a single by Ed Yost, Busby's triple and Mickey Vernon's single.

Tigers came back in the bottom half to knot the count at 2-all. Branca walked, Jim Delsing clouted the tainted triple and Ray Boone drove home the tying run with a single.

Frank House sent Detroit ahead with a homer in the 4th. That was the last hit off Porterfield.

Score was tied in the 5th when Yost connected with a round-tripper.

Aber held the Senators hitless until Vernon doubled in the 8th. A run developed on Sievers' subsequent single, a walk and an infield out. Porterfield polished things off with a homer in the 9th.

But Not to Run

Bannister to Arrive in United States Today

NEW YORK (AP)—Roger Bannister, the first human to run the mile in less than four minutes, was scheduled to arrive here early today—but strictly for speaking purposes.

The 25-year-old British medical student, who electrified the world with his 3:59.4 effort last week, left London by plane last night and was due in New York at 7:05 a.m. (EST). The British foreign office said he would do no running while here.

* * *

In fact, the New York office said, Roger will be back home on Saturday for the royal homecoming when Queen Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh return from their around-the-world journey.

The foreign office asked Bannister to make the trip which is being underwritten by United States television interests. His first scheduled appearance will be on CBS' "I've Got a Secret" program tonight.

* * *

While he won't do any running here this time, it is certain that virtually every promoter of major outdoor track meets will be on his trail.

In London, his mother ruled out any running.

"Roger left without his running kit," she said. "He is not taking part in any races and is going to America only at the special request of the foreign office. He already has turned down commercial radio and television offers from the United States."

Bannister next hopes to break Mal Whitfield's world half-mile record of 1:48.6 in a meet in London on May 20.

Demaret Thinks 'Outsider' May Win U.S. Open

Scoffs at Talk That Snead, Hogan Are Only Probable Winners

By PAT ROBINSON

NEW YORK (INS) — Jimmy Demaret, long recognized as one of the world's fanciest dressers and one of its best golfers, says the chances are good that neither Ben Hogan nor Sammy Snead will win the National Open golf title this year.

The man who thinks nothing of combining a white cap, lavender shirt, purple tie and green trousers, looks at the coming big test at Baltusrol, N. J. June 17-19, this way:

"The Open may follow the Kentucky Derby routine. The general public thought Correlation was a lock for the Derby but Determine won it. Now all I hear are arguments as to whether Snead or Hogan will take the Open. That's ridiculous.

"I don't say that neither Sam nor Ben can win it, but I do say that with some 150 top-flight golfers shooting the works, anyone might win it. I may win it myself.

"The pressure on Ben and Sam will be greater than ever this time because nobody seems to give any other golfer a chance against these two.

"Of course, if any so-called outsider happens to be leading going into the last 18 that bird surely is going to learn what real pressure means.

"Nobody can predict what Sam will do but you can be reasonably certain that Ben will be steady as a rock.

"You certainly can't write off fellows like Julius Boros, Cary Middlecoff, Jackie Burke, Lloyd Mangrum or even Jimmy Demaret. And a bunch of others. If one of us happens to get hot, we might top both Sam and Ben.

Pro Golfers to Have 'Rookie of Year' Award

NEW YORK, May 12 (AP)—Pro golf is going to have its own "Rookie of the Year" award, with a cash return accompanying the honor.

Ray Parker, golf enthusiast who operates the Concord Golf Club at Kiamesha Lake, N. Y., announced Tuesday he will sponsor the young player chosen for the award on the winter golf tour. Under the award, Parker will pay the young golfer's expenses on the winter tour.

The player will be selected by a vote of the golf writers, with sportsmanship and playing ability basis of the choice.

Eight Major Clubs Already Within Limits

Others Must Trim Roster Before Midnight Tonight

NEW YORK (AP)—Four clubs in each league won't have to worry about paring players off their rosters tonight when the majors must trim their squads down to the 25 player limit, plus returned servicemen.

The New York Giants, Milwaukee Braves, Cincinnati Redlegs and Chicago Cubs in the National League and the Washington Senators, Philadelphia A's, Chicago White Sox and Boston Red Sox in the American League all are within the player limit.

The Red Sox actually are carrying the most players—28—and will be able to carry 30 because pitchers Tom Brewer, Frank Sullivan and Leo Kiely along with outfielders Ted Williams and Karl Olson are on the returned servicemen's list.

* * *

The two defending champions, the New York Yankees and the Brooklyn Dodgers, each have to shave their rosters. The Yanks must eliminate two players. They will probably be outfielder Bob Cerv and pitcher Art Shallock. The Brooks must pare one. He could be outfielder Sandy Amoros or pitcher Joe Black.

The Baltimore Orioles must drop four players. Manager Jimmy Dykes declines to give any indication of the unlucky ones but the best guess is that they will come from among pitchers Mike Blyzka, Vern Bickford, and Jehosie Heard, outfielder Jim Fridley and catcher Darrell Johnson.

The Pittsburgh Pirates must cut four, the Philadelphia Phillies one and the St. Louis Cardinals 1 in the National League, while in the American, the Cleveland Indians must pare six and the Detroit Tigers 3.

Boxing Executives Plan Meeting in Detroit

DETROIT (AP) — The executive committee of the National Boxing Assn. (NBA) will hold its annual spring meeting in Detroit Saturday and Sunday.

Harvey Miller, NBA executive secretary, said representatives of television sponsors and promoters have been invited to attend and help solve what Miller called "the financially disastrous impact of TV on local boxing shows, with the resultant curtailment of new talent in boxing."

Middlecoff Suggests Method of Picking Pro Golf Game's Most Valuable Player

By WILL GRIMSLEY

NEW YORK (AP)—Dr. Cary Middlecoff had a new prescription for golf today—he suggested the fairway boys pick a "most valuable player" the way it's done in baseball.

"We have come to regard our national Open tournament as a symbol for picking our best player," the tall, Memphis dentist said. "But it's a shame for us to pick a champion on four rounds of golf.

"We have also attached a lot of importance in the past to the leading money winners which has been a good gauge. But now sponsors are turning up with $50,000 bonanzas such as the Tam O'Shanter. That throws the whole thing out of whack"

Middlecoff, 1949 National Open champion, is in town for the annual round-robin tournament opening tomorrow at the Meadowbrook Golf Club at suburban Westbury, N.Y.

He has long been one of those who insisted that the open, even though he was a winner himself, was just another tournament in the year-around swing.

"My suggestion is that a score tally be kept on every tournament played during the year. Naturally, we could not count all of the 40 odd tournaments recognized by the PGA. So the idea would be, to a certain number of tournaments—15 say—and that way we would not eliminate golfers who do not make the full swing, such as Sam Snead, Lloyd Mangrum and maybe Ben Hogan." Middlecoff said.

* * *

"In these tournaments the player would receive points by the position in which he finished, one if he finishes first, two if he finishes second, three for third, etc. Then, his combined score for his 15 tournaments would be totalled and divided by 15. The player with the best average then would be declared the most valuable player, who in my mind would be the equivalent of the best golfer in the United States."

Michigan State's Kobs Sold on Laminated Bats

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Michigan State College's baseball coach, John Kobs is convinced that the laminated bat — one moulded from several pieces of wood — is a coming thing in baseball.

"The laminated bat," says Kobs, "meets every standard of the old one-piece ash bat, but it is so much more durable, and hence more economical, that there is no comparison."

Kobs is president of the American Association of College Baseball Coaches.

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP)—Tommy Trevena, 31-year-old pro at the Maccauvlei Golf Club near here, today was selected to represent South Africa in the Tam O'Shanter golf tournament in Chicago in August.

Johnny Pesky's lifetime bat mark in the AL is .309.

Four Teams in Battle for W-O Track Title

By JACK SAYLOR

With a 4-team battle for team honors shaping up, tonight's Wayne-Oakland County League track meet should be a thriller. The 4th annual event will be held at Michigan Normal College's track in Ypsilanti starting at 6 p. m.

The anticipated close competition threatens eight league records as defending champion Milford, Clarkston, Keego Harbor and Clarenceville battle for honors. Holly, Brighton and Northville complete the field.

In dual meets, Clarkston has beaten Keego but lost to Milford, which in turn, lost t. Clarenceville. Clarenceville's loss to Keego completes the cycle, illustrating how close this meet should be.

Clarkston has never been worse than 2nd in the league meet. Wolves won the inaugural in 1951, finished 2nd to Holly in 1952 and were runnersup to Milford last spring.

Milford strength lies in the mile, shot put and the fact that the Redskins have good entries in nearly every event. This makes Russ Gabier's team a very slight favorite.

Clarenceville has excellent hurdlers, but will have to have other points divided equally among the other contenders to win. Keego's principal hope rests with its great sophomore sprinter, Dennis Singleton, but he is backed up by good entries in at least 5 other events.

Clarkston is strong in field events (except the shot), and has an outstanding half-miler in junior Gordon Cascaddan.

Records in peril are the 100 and 220-yard dashes, 120-yard high hurdles, 880 and mile runs, half-mile relay, broad jump and the pole vault.

Top competition should come in the dashes with Singleton and his teammate Walter Goetz matched with Lee Averill of Milford and Don Turek of Clarkston, and the low hurdles with Clarenceville's Bill Myers and Paul Vandenburg going against Bill Cook of Milford and Gary Rogers of Keego.

In the mile, Milford's Dick Jackson could be pressed by Lee Wilcox of Clarenceville. Larry Westburg of Clarenceville, Dave Longfield of Milford, Jack Borah of Keego and Bob Yahnke are all 10-foot pole vaulters and the 440 should be a great race.

Close meets are nothing new in the Wayne-Oakland. Last year, the issue was in doubt for quite a spell and the year before, only seven points separated the top three teams.

Navy Coach Sees Finish of Crew's Perfect Streak

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP) — Rusty Callow, the old man of the river, stared out on the Severn today and what he foresaw was not good for his undefeated Navy crew.

The Middies, with practically the same eight that won the Olympics two years ago, have taken 24 in a row to date and, although Callow would not venture the opinion that his sweepswingers could lose in the Eastern Sprints Saturday, he did take a gloomy view of the big IRA regatta on June 17.

He sees his alma mater, Washington, as the big winner, which means that he has conceded the sprint and the Western Sprints at Newport Harbor, Calif., to his shell. That will mean 26 straight victories for the Middies when they tangle with Washington in the IRA test.

"As usual Washington will be waiting for us at Syracuse (site of the IRA regatta)," Callow said. "They haven't had anything else to do all year. They only row twice a year—the dual meet with California this Saturday and the IRA."

"That Washington crew is as tough as any from all I've heard," he observed. "It has stamina and physical equipment. It has been pointing for a three-mile race all season while the rest of us have had to row at various distances."

Even if Navy is beaten in the IRA regatta as Callow predicted, he'll leave something for future crews to shoot at. No college crew ever has won as many as 26 straight.

Sidelights on Majors' Stars

NEW YORK (AP) — They could have called Mickey McDermott the "night owl" last season when he won 10 games without a setback under the lights for the Red Sox. This year with Washington, he's already lost three games at night. In fact, his only victory was a day affair, against the Yankees April 25.

Vern Stephens of Baltimore needs to score only 37 more runs to reach the 1,000 mark. The veteran third baseman tallied more than 100 times for three straight seasons (1948-1950) with the Red Sox.

The Cleveland Indians are thriving on sacrifice flies. The Tribe has come up with 13 of them—the most in the majors. Their current team batting average of .251 would have been .248 under the old regulations.

Detroit's Steve Gromek, the American League's top pitcher with a 5-0 record, has a lifetime slate of 89-75 (.543) and is 14-9 against the world champion Yankees. Boston and Chicago are the only teams which hold an edge over the veteran righthander.

Waivers Asked on Ex-Tiger

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The St. Louis Cardinals today asked waivers on pitcher Hal White to secure his unconditional release. White formerly was with the Detroit Tigers.

The Cardinals got White for $1 from the old St. Louis Browns last June and he turned in a good performance as a relief hurler for them during the 1953 season, winning six and losing five with an earned run average of 2.96.

But this year the 35-year-old White has pitched just five innings and allowed 11 hits and 10 earned runs.

White's departure would leave 26 Redbirds on the roster, within the legal limit since the club has one returned serviceman.

Charlie Grimm Wins 6 of 11 in Dodger Park

Milwaukee Club Walks Off Tuesday With 2-0 Victory

By BEN PHLEGAR
Associated Press Sports Writer

If times get tough, Charlie Grimm may be able to sell his secrets on how to win in Ebbets Field.

• • •

The Brooklyn Dodger ball park, graveyard of many pennant hopes last season, proved surprisingly friendly territory to Grimm's Milwaukee Braves.

• • •

They won six of 11 games there. No other visiting team won more than three. The St. Louis Cardinals didn't win any.

Now the 1954 edition of the Milwaukee Wonders are trying to do the job even better.

They invaded Brooklyn last night for the first time this season and walked off with a 2-0 triumph. The pitching chores were handled superbly by Gene Conley, a king-sized rookie righthander. In striking out seven while walking nobody, the 6-foot-8-inch sidearm specialist pinned the first shutout on the Dodgers since June 11 last year when another rookie, Allan Worthington of the New York Giants, turned the trick.

• • •

The Braves won even though they lost one of the most prolonged arguments of the season. A seventh inning drive by Eddie Mathews bounced off a railing atop the center field fence and fell back on the field.

• • •

Umpire Bill Engeln ruled it a double since Mathews got only as far as second before the Dodgers tried to make a play on him. Umpire Bill Summers called it a home run and waved Mathews in. The Dodgers screamed. The four umpires huddled. The Braves screamed. But in the end Mathews was sent back to second. Despite the ruling, the drive scored Danny O'Connell from first base with Milwaukee's second run. The first came on Joe Adcock's home run.

• • •

Elsewhere in the National League yesterday, the New York Giants defeated Cincinnati 5-4 and Philadelphia edged Chicago 8-7 in 10 innings. The St. Louis-Pirates game at Pittsburgh was rained out.

• • •

In the American League, Joe Coleman of the Baltimore Orioles allowed his former Philadelphia teammates only two hits, both singles, as the Orioles beat the Athletics 2-0. New York defeated Cleveland 5-3, Chicago shaded Boston 2-1 and Washington beat Detroit 5-3.

Racing fans at Monmouth Park have failed to cash tickets on winning horses worth $249,678.35 in the last eight years.

Dobson Signed as Sox Coach

BOSTON, May 12 (AP) — Veteran righthander Joe Dobson has been signed as coach for the Boston Red Sox who released him unconditionally Saturday as a pitcher.

• • •

The 37-year-old Dobson compiled a lifetime record of 137 victories and 103 losses since he began his big league career with Cleveland in 1939.

• • •

He spent two years with Cleveland, eight with Boston and two with Chicago which released him last season.

Dobson was signed as a coach while the Sox worked out at Fenway Park prior to leaving for the West where they open against Chicago today.

4-Minute Mile Will Continue to Be Hazard

Runner Must Average 13.6 for Every 100 Yards to Do It

By PAT ROBINSON

NEW YORK (INS) — It is 30 years since Paavo Nurmi, the fleet Finn ran a mile on the old Madison Square Garden track in 4:12.

At that time we predicted that somebody would one day run a four-minute mile and only two months ago we predicted somebody would do it this year.

Well, it took many a long year to prove that we weren't off our rocker when we made the prediction but Roger Bannister made it stand up for us with his 3:59.4.

Where do we go from here? A 3:56 mile as Bannister predicts? Or a 3:40 mile as one reckless optimist said?

To hear some of the experts tell it, now that Bannister has shown the way, everybody and his brother will be running the mile in four minutes or better.

That four minute job always has presented something more than a mental hazard. Let's take a look at the figures and what a four-minute mile means.

Anybody clicking a mile in four minutes is averaging every hundred yards in 13.63 seconds. That's almost a sprint for the mile route. That means a quarter mile average of 60 seconds. When you string four such quarters together you really are running.

There is a limit to human speed and endurance and until we develop a race of supermen, the four-minute mile will continue to be a solid challenge to all runners.

8th Grade Girl, 14, Stuns Amateur Golf Tournament

By MERCER BAILEY

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — Two veterans of tournament campaigns and an amazing teen-age school kid who has been playing golf only 30 months held the spotlight in today's second round of the Women's Southern golf tournament.

The veterans were national amateur champion Mary Lena Faulk of Thomasville, Ga., and Polly Riley, four-time Southern winner from Fort Worth. They clashed in the feature match of the round. The winner is favored to capture the championship.

The chunky youngster jumped into a sentimental favorite's role yesterday when she upset Mrs. Maurice Glick of Baltimore 1 up in 23 holes.

Her distance off the tee—she won the tourney's driving contest with a 223-yard slam—and ability to get long putts down at the right time enabled her to oust her tournament wise opponent, a former school teacher in her mid-40s.

The youngster, a protege of Johnny Revolta, withstood pressure like a pro when Mrs. Glick won the last two holes and sent the match into a playoff.

Miss Faulk ousted Mrs. Harry Webb of Huntsville, Ala., 6 and 5, and Polly defeated Mrs. Carl Robbins of Fort Smith, Ark., 8 and 6.

Brennan Not Out to Beat Rockne, Leahy

NOTRE DAME, Ind. (AP)—There's an old belief that success breeds success. Or, to put it another way, the rich get richer.

The young man who has just inherited one of the world's toughest football coaching jobs, Terrence Patrick Brennan of Notre Dame, won't go along with that idea in either form.

Brennan, earnest and sober in his approach to football problems, figures his biggest task is to carry on Notre Dame's winning tradition that goes back to Knute Rockne's time and was ably upheld by Terry's immediate predecessor, Frank Leahy.

"There's pressure on this job but it doesn't come from here." His gesture included the entire Notre Dame campus. "Notre Dame has a big following and the idea of the general public is that Notre Dame should win. But there's not much criticism here if you have a bad season."

His discounts his comparative youth as a coaching problem and if it shows through at all, it's in his over-simplification of the problems he faces. He figures if he's a good coach and gets a few breaks everything will be fine.

"Everybody thinks Notre Dame has two or three times as much material as it actually has," Brennan said.

"We can't bring in as many players as some other schools. When Notre Dame takes a boy and gives him some help, it's for four years, as long as he keeps up his grades and obeys the rules, even if he never makes the team.

"But I like our system. It isn't fair to boys to bring them in for one year and then drop them if they fail to make the grade."

U.S. Net Star Captures Title, Loses a Friend

Budge Patty Irked at Morea's Refusal to Cut Final Match

ROME (AP)—World traveler Budge Patty headed for Switzerland on business today plus one tennis title but minus one friend.

Patty, who used to live in Los Angeles but now resides in Paris is burned up at Enrique Morea, the towering Argentine, whom he whipped in the final of the Italian International tournament yesterday, 11-9, 6-4, 6-4.

"I was so terribly mad at him that I couldn't lose," said Patty. "I played 18 games yesterday morning before watching the final. Every game was hard, so I proposed to Morea that we make the final two sets out of three."

Morea refused and stalked angrily from the dressing room. Patty was tempted not to play the final but was talked into it by Vic Seixas.

• • •

"In addition," Patty scowled, "I hurt my back the previous day and didn't get a wink of sleep that night. I was so tired I was sure I didn't have a chance to win."

For his part, Morea was far from happy at the outcome.

"The next time," he hissed. "things won't end this way. He was a lucky dog."

The match required two hours and 20 minutes and in the end it was Patty's surprising power and clever passing shots that won for him. Morea, whose right leg was injured and required massaging during intervals, depended largely on a baseline game and was guilty of many overdrives in volleys.

Rookie righthander Tom Brewer of Red Sox has had only one year of minor league experience. He won 19 games for Hi-Tom in the Class D North Carolina State League in 1951 before going into military service.

My Greatest Shot

By FRANK STRANAHAN

My most spectacular shot gave me a tie for second in the British Open of 1947.

I have won the British, Canadian, Mexican and North and South Amateur Championships, but this shot in the British Open gave me the greatest satisfaction of my career.

I was about 140 yards from the hole and required a 2 from that point to tie Reg Horne.

I had to walk up to it to see where the pin was located. It seemed like Mt. Whitney.

I thought this one over carefully as I walked back to my ball. I took an 8 iron and a few practice swings.

I hit the ball well and it went into the air and over the mound in a beautiful arc and onto the green, stopping just three inches from the hole.

I did not win the British Open, but tied for second with 294. Fred Daly won with 293.

Kingswood Net Tourney Under Way on Thursday

Twenty-one Oakland County girls are among the 46 entries in the annual Michigan Open Tennis Championships starting Thursday at Kingswood School Cranbrook, Bloomfield Hills.

Twelve Kingswood girls are entered, along with other entries from Rochester, Bloomfield, Lake Angelus, Northville and Birmingham.

Entries also have been received from Grosse Pointe, Grosse Ile, Monroe, Hamtramck, Kalamazoo, Grand Rapids, Middletown, O., Shaker Heights, O., and Quincy, Ill.

Girls 15 years and under will compete from Thursday through Sunday. Girls 16-18 years are scheduled to play May 20-23.

Other seeded players are Phyllis Saganski, Hamtramck, No. 2; Judy Hagan, Middletown, No. 3; Gwen McEvans, Hamtramck, No. 4; Gwyneth Thomas, Shaker Heights, O., No. 5; Sue Hodgman, Kalamazoo, No. 6; Sue Metzger, Kalamazoo, No. 7; Claire Crowley, Middletown, No. 8.

KINGSWOOD—Liuda Rakas, Diane Richardson, Molly Marshall, Susie Simmons, Heather Rayburn, Ann Terris, Jane Wert, Carolyn Wolf, Susan Pint, Kathy Kyes, Kathy Van Dusen, Linda Vessels.
ROCHESTER—Nancy Sutton, Carol Hopkins, Karen Henderson, Susan Webb.
BLOOMFIELD HILLS—Linda Myers, Thayer Bice.
LAKE ANGELUS—Saida Tuttle.
BIRMINGHAM—Bibi Blakeman.

Monmouth Park's 1954 racing season will run 50 days from June 2 through Aug. 9.

Randy Turpin Ready to Return to Ring

LONDON (AP)—Former world middleweight champion Randy Turpin was set to resume his boxing career as a light heavyweight today after getting a clean bill of health from a specialist who gave him a complete physical checkup.

"He is in excellent physical health and quite fit to resume his boxing career," the physician said after the examination. Turpin complained of blurred vision after losing his European middleweight title to Italy's Tiberio Mitri in Rome 10 days ago.

Special Facilities Now Operating for Anglers

Boat rental dock on Kent Lake in Kensington Metropolitan Park opened last Sunday. Hours will be 8 a. m. to 8 p. m. until Memorial Day, when hours will be extended to 6 a. m. to 10 p. m. Two launching sites for private craft also are located on the lakes and 54 slips are available for rental by month or season.

Double launching ramp at Metropolitan Beach on Black River and Lake St. Clair has been opened for some time. Use of the ramp is free.

Handicapped Eaglets Bow to WL in Track

Walled Lake got two victories apiece from Don Hanley and John Reid and whipped senior-less Orchard Lake St. Mary, 73 1-3 to 35 2-3, in a twilight track meet Tuesday at Walled Lake.

Hanley took firsts in both hurdle events, while Reid won the 100-yard dash and the high jump. Lanny Enders won the mile for the Vikings in 4 minutes 55.7 seconds and Ken Zettel tossed the shot 45 feet, 4½ inches.

St. Mary seniors are currently on their trip.

Ty Cobb made his debut with the Detroit Tigers late in the 1905 season. But it was 1908 before the Georgia Peach played in an opening day game.

OCSC Work Bee Set for Sunday

Building of Houses for U.S. Skeet Event One of Projects

Upwards of 200 members of the Oakland County Sportsmen's Club will commence activity on a full-scale grounds clean-up and skeet field Work-bee Sunday morning at 9 o'clock.

Club president, Jerry Woolever, has appointed Paul "Shorty" Gaber as chairman for the affair, with other jobs assigned to committees or group leaders.

Lawn, picnic grounds and Bunyan Bowl will be cleaned up. A group of carpenters will work on the 16 new skeet houses in preparation for this year's National Skeet Shoot, which will be held on OCSC grounds, Aug. 30 through Sept. 5.

Cement workers will pour the cement for the floor of the houses, and other phases of activity related to the shooting field lay-outs.

Snack Bar Committee headed, by Nick Ahnen and Bill Miilu, will have a baked ham dinner free, for all workers, with the meal scheduled for 1 o'clock sharp.

Work projects will be discontinued at 2:30 with normal rifle range, skeet and trap, as well as archery shooting being resumed at that time.

The receipts of $113,242 from the 1954 Minnesota high school basketball tournament were a new high for the state.

Trout Fishing Good Despite Bad Weather

'Paddle Push' on Huron River Slated June 6

Third annual Spring Paddle Push down the Huron River from Milford to Kensington Metropolitan Park will be held Sunday, June 6, starting at 2 p. m.

The 8-mile canoe race is the only event of its kind in southeastern Michigan and attracts some of the best canoeists in the State. There are classes for adults and youngsters of both sexes.

Race is sponsored by American Youth Hostels in cooperation with Milford Chamber of Commerce and the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority.

• • •

Deadline for entries is Tuesday, June 1, Rules and entry blanks may be obtained from American Youth Hostels, 51 West Warren, Detroit 1, telephone TEmple 1-1600. The race is for teams of two in standard stock model canoes of either wood or metal. No racing canoes are permitted.

Beaches Open Soon

Both Martindale and Maple Beaches on Kent Lake in Kensington Park will be open on Sunday, May 23 and on week-ends thereafter until daily operations begins in mid-June.

• • •

Bathhouse at Metropolitan Beach on Lake St. Clair will be open for limited use on May 22 and 23 and on week-ends thereafter until daily operation begins June 5.

Brooks, Browns Reported Doing Heaviest Feeding in Early Weeks of Season

By JACK PATTERSON

What local fishermen need more than anything else is a new weather man and the sooner the quicker. Current March-style climate has a depressing effect on fishing and fishermen alike. Lake fishing is hardly worth the effort at the moment and the fact that trout fishing is as good as it is can be attributed to the nature of the beasts rather than to any aid from national or local weather bureaus.

Dr. Albert S. Hazzard of the Institute for Fisheries Research claims that brook and brown trout do their heaviest feeding of the year during the first three weeks of the open season, and, indeed, may more than double their weight during that period. This would seem to account for the rather good catches of brooks and browns being taken these days despite the horrid meteorological conditions. Rainbows, of course, are rather dependable early season performers.

PATTERSON

Reports from weekend fishermen on northern streams add substance to the Institute's findings. Ross Tenny found the Rapid River productive, but got a dunking in the process. Ross attempted to ease around a large rock in a deep run and failed in the attempt.

Result was a headlong pitch into some of the coldest water this side of your freezer tray. But, like most mishaps, this one had a lesson in it. Because he had his waders drawn tight at the top, he got wet only above the waders, with the rather considerable remainder of his body remaining dry.

This should prove useful information to a large number of fishermen we know who believe it's safer to leave waders open at the top. As a matter of fact trapped air in waders with a tight draw-string will float the hapless tanglefoot out of a potentially dangerous situation in jig time. Waders full of water, on the other hand, are not noted for their buoyant qualities.

City Manager "Bill" Willman caught some decent trout in the Main Stream near Grayling. Despite temperatures that at one time hovered around 17 degrees, Bill found a small dry Adams a useful tool.

The Dave Browns, Paul Hammonds and Russell Bassets claim to have done some fishing at Canada Creek, but prove a little evasive when asked for details on the catch.

We had a near capacity turnout at the Alcona County Curling and Mah Jong Society over the weekend. As fishing editor, we undertook to teach Ed Barrett some fundamentals of trout fishing and in an irritatingly short time he began catching bigger fish than the instructor.

Like most similar societies, this one has more cooks than dishwashers. Lineup of cooks showed fisherman Barrett, Bob Glen, Bob Nelson, Hugh Grove, Chuck Rogers, and Roy Corwin. It doesn't take an Einstein to figure who was left for the dish washing detail.

Well, we managed to sneak away from the dish pan once or twice while the cooks were sleeping or reading, and had some fun in the crick with dry flies, where we found a No. 12 Adams and No. 12 Coachman irresistable. Took seven "keepers," if we'd so chosen, from under one log with the small Coachman, fishing only a leader's length from the log.

Well fishing isn't so hot immediately hereabouts, but with 8-pound rainbows out of the Clinton and 11-pound walleyes from Square Lake maybe we shouldn't kick.

Deer Invading Farm Land Create Problem

By MORT NEFF

Despite efforts to control the Michigan deer herd by the adoption of special seasons permitting the shooting of antlerless animals, something has gone wrong with our planning. Hungry deer in Alpena and Alcona counties are moving out of their browsed - out forest habitat and into the surrounding farms now turning green with budding cherry trees and fresh sprouts of tender leaves on the strawberry plants.

NEFF

As you may have learned in recent news releases from this area, the farmers are up in arms over the situation. The deer damage is costly.

Conservation department has issued permits to the farmers to shoot the trespassing animals.

The average Michigan citizen may well be somewhat confused by the situation. Who is at fault in the failure to keep the deer under better control in this area?

Most of the land surrounding the crop-damage farm sectors is owned by hunting clubs. Some of the individual clubs control more than 20,000 acres. In some instances, despite open seasons on antlerless deer on a statewide basis, the membership has voted down the killing of anything but bucks with good racks. Naturally, with only a few deer shot in huge tracts of land the herd has grown rapidly, overbrowsed much of their natural food, and in hungry desperation moved to the fertile farm lands adjoining.

The clubs have been urging the Conservation Department to adopt a widespread feeding program. But this is definitely against department policy.

Meanwhile the farmers are caught in the middle.

A three-way get-together and possible compromise is now being attempted involving the Department, club representatives and the farmers.

Glory and Heartbreak

OMAHA (AP) — This might be called early glory and late heartbreak. Rolling the same night on the same bowling alley were Dave Murphy and Tony Cisar. Murphy, who had been bowling about a year, had a perfect 300 game. Cisar bowling for 29 years with never a perfect game, missed one when the No. 6 pin stood in the 12th frame.

Delaware Park Jump Too Much for Mast

WILMINGTON, Del. (AP) — Mrs. J. R. H. Thouron's champion jumper of 1953, the Mast, must have an aversion for the 10th hedge on Delaware Park's course. In both the 1952 and 1953 renewals of the Indian River Steeplechase Handicap, the Wilmington-owned horse was the favorite.

On each occasion, The Mast sprawled after clearing the 10th jump. He finished third in 1952 and fourth last season.

Maine Sportsmen Buy Warden Two-Way Radio

AUGUSTA, Maine (AP), —Sportsmen's clubs never have been known for exceptional reticence, but the Arnold Trail Club of Waterville put up money instead of an uproar when a Maine conservation problem came to their attention.

Their local warden had no two-way radio for his car. The Department of Game had no funds to buy one. So the club did.

Tigers' Kuenn Has Telephone Joke Backfire

DETROIT (AP) — This happened in the Detroit Tigers front office:

Shortstop Harvey Kuenn was talking with General Manager Muddy Ruel. The phone rang and the operator said it was Van Patrick, Tiger radio announcer, who was calling from Philadelphia.

Without a flinch, Patrick replied: "Well, I just wanted to tell you that you've been traded to the Philadelphia Athletics."

Kuenn handed the phone back to Ruel.

Kansas Opens Season

WICHITA, Kas. (AP)— Black bass fishermen who've been getting more and more time for their sport, along with fewer rules, now can add Kansas to the list of states with no closed season on their fighting favorites. Fish managers are finding that bass thrive even under the heaviest sport fishing pressure.

Six Cities Request Olympic Horse Events

By STERLING SLAPPEY

ATHENS (AP)—With the International Olympic Committee's biggest battle of the year happily settled at last, delegates today began studying qualifications of the six cities that would like to stage the 1956 equestrian events.

The committee had hardly finished removing the horse competition from Melbourne when four European and two American cities took the lead in the competition to become host for the tests.

* * *

Los Angeles, Rio de Janeiro, Brussels, Stockholm, Paris and London all made their bids. Several other cities will be considered but these are the ones that will get serious consideration.

The committee yesterday voted 30-16 to take advantage in a loophole in Olympic rules and shift the equestrian events from Melbourne. A six-month quarantine on all horses entering Australia caused the shift.

All the committee meetings are closed and Athens police stand guard, but the conference developed leaks.

It was understood that Avery Brundage of Chicago, president of the committee, favored moving the events, but only after saying that such a split in the program would never happen again.

The French, Greeks and a few other scattered committeemen led the scrap to take the entire program away from Melbourne. This attempt has been going on all year.

"This clears the way for Melbourne to move ahead," said Brundage. "I don't look for anything more along this line."

One spot of unpleasantness still hovers over Australia, however, and it concerns the political break between that country and Russia because a Soviet diplomat was given asylum last month.

Lewis Luxton and E. J. Holt, the Australian committeemen, said however, that they don't foresee any difficulty with the Russians.

* * *

"I feel certain Australia would grant visas to any athletes Russia wants to send," said Holt. "Australia would be silly not to do so. We are reasonable people."

* * *

Two new events were added to the winter program, scheduled for Cortina, Italy, in January, 1956. They are a 30-kilometer (18.6 miles) cross country skiing race for men and a 15-kilometer (9.3 miles) relay cross-country race for three girls.

Officials Seek Rivals for Dancer in Met Handicap

By JOHN CHANDLER

NEW YORK (AP)—When nominations for the $30,000-added Metropolitan Handicap closed March 15, a total of 65 horses had been made eligible through payment of $100 each.

* * *

Officials of Belmont Park, where the one mile event will be raced Saturday, were scouring around all but barn No. 20 today attempting to guess how many horses might turn out. One starter is certain, 64 others are question marks.

In barn 20 was Native Dancer, and not many trainers want to tangle with the big grey champion these days. The Dancer, 2-year-old champ of 1952 and 3-year-old king last year, made his 1954 debut last Friday, winning easily.

* * *

Handicapper John B Campbell assigned the Dancer 130 pounds for the Met, with the weights dropping off to 94 pounds for such horses as Blue Repeater and Mazinga. Closest to the Dancer are Royal Vale and White Skies, both with 126. Both are doubtful for Saturday.

Syl Veitch, trainer for C. V. Whitney, said no thanks, he wouldn't enter Cold Command in the Metropolitan, even with only 113 pounds.

Possible rivals for the Dancer include Straight Face, who won the Dixie last Saturday at Pimlico and would carry 117 in the Met; Armageddon, 107; Laffango, 114; Impasse, 112; Landlocked, 116; Kaster, 112; and Marcador, 114. The race will be televised.

NCAA May Suffer

TV of Canadian Football Is NBC's Answer to Loss of College Schedule

By GAYLE TALBOT

NEW YORK (AP)—Canadian football, the infant terrible of the sports world, has contented itself up to now to filching some of this country's brightest stars from the latter body, which felt it had a sort of divine right to the products of our college foundries.

* * *

Now our buddies from beyond the border are preparing to move in on the colleges themselves, with an assist from the National Broadcasting Co. The next yelp of pain you hear will come from the NCAA. On 13 Saturdays next fall the country's television sets will be jumping with Canada's own lively version of the game.

Tom Gallery, NBC's sports infighter, has just returned from the north country armed with a contract and wearing a grim smile. Over his office door they had hung a floral greeting which said, "Well done, Tom!" It might have added, "That's showing the so-and-sos."

* * *

The college group, it perhaps should be explained, took its "Game of the Week" away from Gallery's stable at its meeting on April 23 and awarded it to the rival ABC. Since yet another well-known televising firm, Du Mont, holds all rights to National League games, this appeared to have sawed the limb off behind Tom. Actually it only served to rouse the former West Coast promoter, and now look.

Starting on Aug. 28, a month before his rivals can swing into action, Gallery will start screening games of the Canadian "Big Four"—Montreal, Ottawa, Toronto and Hamilton. This figures to give the country's fans a good chance to learn and become attracted to Canadian 12-man football before there is a rival in the field.

* * *

By the time the first college coast-to-coaster comes around, Gallery feels he'll have his audience nailed down, with not a channel-switcher in a roomful. He and his associates, including Lindsey Nelson, who will be exported to explain and describe the game to the American audience, are convinced that the speed of the Canadian game (no time-outs) will have a big appeal.

Additionally, each of the Canadian teams carries up to 10 former college or professional stars from this country. It seems reasonable that many thousands of fans will be anxious to see their heroes in action again.

Reports From Major Clubs

By ED CORRIGAN

NEW YORK (AP) — Around the majors:

Roy Mack, vice-president of the Philadelphia A's, is a glum fellow, indeed. He can't convince anyone the A's aren't going to move.

"No matter what I do, I still get queries," he says gloomily.

* * *

Report on Bobby Thomson, injured slugger of the Milwaukee Braves:

"The ankle (which he broke in spring training) is still swollen and stiff," he says. "It's a guess when I'll be able to work out. It seems to be getting better each week, though."

* * *

Don Johnson, a pitcher who toiled for the New York Yankees, St. Louis Browns and Washington Senators with a singular lack of success, has impressed Manager Paul Richards of the Chicago White Sox.

"At least," says Paul, "He doesn't walk anybody. He keeps throwing strikes and getting away with it."

* * *

Manager Casey Stengel of the Yanks is mighty annoyed with the poor performances of Whitey Ford. . . . Brooklyn catcher Roy Campanella back in uniform and taking running workouts while the operation on his wrist is healing. Word around the National League is that Cincinnati's Jim Greengrass is most improved defensive outfielder in the loop.

Ohioan Says Santee Will Set Mile Mark

OXFORD, Ohio, May 12 (AP) — George Rider, who has been coaching Miami University's track teams since 1925, predicted Tuesday that Wes Santee of Kansas would crack Roger Bannister's mark of 3:59.4 for the mile within the next three weeks.

Rider, a former national president of the track coaches association, said in a speech at a Kiwanis Club luncheon that he believed Santee would be able to run the mile in 3:58.

The Miami coach said he had been told by Bill Easton, Santee's coach, that the Kansas star had not yet gone "all out" to run a mile in four minutes or better.

Tribe's Avila on Rampage

CLEVELAND (AP)—Bobby Avila is on a hitting rampage for the Cleveland Indians. The Mexican second sacker went 4-for-4 against the Yanks last night to take over the American League batting lead with a .375 average. Avila also has the most hits in the league, 33.

Detroiter's Ring License Revoked

CHICAGO, May 12 (AP)—The Illinois Athletic Commission Tuesday revoked the Illinois license of James Riley, Detroit fight manager who figured in a recent "ringer" boxing incident.

* * *

Riley also was charged by the state's attorney with falsifying his aplication for a second's license and was held for appearance in State St. Court today.

Riley was listed as the manager of one "John Doe" who posed as Paul Holman, an Allston, Mass., fighter now in the Army, in a Rainbo Arena bout last month with Dick Kerber of Milwaukee.

* * *

Bernard Genis, assistant Illinois attorney general, said Riley stated falsely, in applying for an Illinois license, that he never had been convicted of a felony.

Genis said Detroit police records show Riley has been convicted for fraud and for contributing to the delinquency of a minor.

ANNIVERSARY —The German Post Office will soon issue this stamp commemorating the 100th anniversary of Ottmar Mergenthaler's birth. He was the inventor of the Linotype machine which revolutionized newspaper typesetting.

Officer's Anniversary Proves Too Hectic

HAMDEN, Conn. (AP)—Police Lt. Lawrence Melillo, desk officer at Hamden police headquarters, decided to celebrate his 25th anniversary on the force by doing a tour of duty on his old squad car beat.

In no time at all he was involved in an 85-miles-an-hour chase of a speeder. While the man was being questioned another car sped past the scene, and crashed into a wire service pole a block away. After only half an hour in the cruiser, Melillo said he guessed he'd "stay inside" henceforth.

Vo Nguyen Giap Is Name of Winning Rebel General

By CHARLES M. McCANN
United Press Staff Correspondent

The 42-year-old school teacher-general who defeated the French at Dien Bien Phu may be the strong man and actual leader of the Vietminh Communist rebels in Indochina.

If so, it is bad news for the West.

There is much free-swinging speculation as to the share of authority exerted by the various Vietminh leaders.

Some experts believe that Ho Chi Minh, the president of the so-called People's Republic, is now only a figurehead. Some believe Ho is dead.

There is no such doubt about Gen. Vo Nguyen Giap, commander. He is very much alive and he has of the rebel army. He organized it.

Giap certainly is the real leader in chief and minister of defense. just won a big military victory.

Giap is a man of action. Hot tempered and forceful, he would rather fight than negotiate. Giap, too, is a Communist. Giap is one of the radicals of Ho's political organization.

Giap was born in Northern Indochina. He entered the revolutionary movement in his youth.

For some years Giap was a teacher. It is reported that he specialized in English and French history, though he holds the degree of doctor of law.

Giap spent some time in Northwest China, where the Chinese Communists maintained their headquarters during the years they were fighting the Nationalist government before World War II.

During World War II Giap conducted guerrilla operations in far Northern Indochina against the Japanese occupation forces.

By the end of the war he had organized an army of a few thousand men. This was the nucleus of the present formidable Vietminh army.

Giap had no formal military training, though the Chinese Reds had taught him guerrilla tactics. He is one of those men who, in revolutions, emerge from civilian life and show a natural gift for military leadership.

Giap continued to strengthen the rebel army during those years when the French were trying to do business with Ho. When war broke out in December 1946, Giap dominated most of Northern Indochina with an army that had swelled to some 50,000 men. Now his army, with its guerillas, is numbered at more than 100,000.

Commerce Department Reports Exports Down

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Commerce Department said today U.S. exports, including shipments of military aid, during the first quarter of this year were 13 per cent less than in the first three months of 1953, and that U. S. imports were 10 per cent less.

All Grains but 1 Stage Recovery

CHICAGO (AP) — All grains except old crop soybeans staged a recovery on the board of trade today after yesterday's steep decline.

May and July soybeans, which had plunged 10 cents yesterday, still were in plenty of trouble today. They opened with losses extending to 9⅞ cents. They recovered a little and then fell back again.

September soybeans which also had tumbled 10 cents yesterday, did better today. They opened 7 cents higher but subsequently gave up most of this gain.

Wheat near the end of the first hour was ½ to 1⅜ higher, May $1.96⅝, corn ½ to ⅞ higher, May $1.53⅜, oats ¼ to ⅜ higher, May 73⅛, rye ½ to 1 cent higher, May 92½, soybeans 7⅛ lower to 1¾ higher, May $3.75½ and lard 10 to 20 cents a hundred pounds higher, May $18.40.

International Names 14 in Flint Local 659

DETROIT (AP) — Fourteen members and officers of Chevrolet Local 659 of the CIO United Auto Workers union in Flint, have been charged by the union with conduct "unbecoming union members."

The International executive board of the UAW notified the Flint local of the charges today. The board already has taken over management of the Flint Local.

Those charged include Robert Murphy, president; seven members of the Local 659 bargaining committee; Tom Taylor, editor of the "Searchlight," and Mark Reid, "Doc" Wilson and Bert Lambert, co-editors of the Local's paper.

The executive board took over control of the Local last week on charges that the "Searchlight" carried untrue stories. The Local represents 15,000 workers in three Chevrolet plants in Flint.

Ceylon Official Denies Report of U.S. Aid Offer

COLOMBO, Ceylon (INS)—Prime Minister Sir John Kotelawala labeled as a "damn lie" today a Colombo newspaper report that Ceylon had been offered American economic aid by the U. S. if it ended rubber shipments to Red China.

The influential "Times of Ceylon" said that the five-year Sino-Ceylon trade agreement was due for a price review at the end of 1954 and that it had been suggested that Celon terminate the pact at that time.

Stocks Stronger With Point Gains

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market turned higher today after a hesitant start.

On the heels of yesterday's decline, the market this morning started off mixed. It soon turned ahead, however, and by early afternoon the list showed gains running to between 1 and 2 points at the best. Losses usually were fractionally.

Trading picked up pace in the morning when prices began to improve, and it hit a pace better than yesterday's 1,770,000 shares.

Most major divisions joined in the rise including the rails, steels, motors, coppers, oils, chemicals, aircrafts, and the utilities. None showed pronounced backwardness.

Among higher stocks were Atlantic Coast Line, U. S. Steel, General Motors, Montgomery Ward, Boeing, Radio Corp., Kennecott Copper, Du Pont, International Paper, International Business Machines, Pullman, and Texas Co.

Pleads Guilty, Must Go to Jail

William Sears Angry, Shoots Up Restaurant Belonging to Wife

A 36-year-old Waterford Township man who, according to Oakland County sheriff's deputies, shot-up and smashed equipment in his wife's restaurant after an argument last night, was sentenced to five days in jail and ordered to pay a $50 fine and $15 cost.

William Sears, 6005 Hatchery Rd., pleaded guilty to a drunk and disorderly charge today when he appeared before Orion Township Justice Helmar G. Stanaback. He was ordered to spend 30 days in jail if he fails to pay the fine.

Deputies William Smith and Mike Felice said they arrested Sears in front of 2379 Joyce St., after his mother-in-law complained he was tearing up her front lawn.

Waterford Township Police Chief Frank J. VanAtta and the deputies quoted Sears as saying he went to the Runway Inn after it closed Tuesday, "and did some target practice."

About 20 bullet holes from a .30 caliber deer rifle were scattered through the ceiling and walls. A bullet was found in the telephone and one in the cash register.

He also told authorities he smashed tables, chairs, and kitchen equipment in a fit of anger. On the way to his mother-in-law's home, deputies said, he ran down a mailbox.

His wife today was unable to obtain a warrant after requesting a malicious destruction of property charge against him at the Oakland County prosecutor's office.

Ford Motor Raises Retirement Benefits

DETROIT (AP) — The Ford Motor Co. has announced a 33 per cent boost in retirement benefits for some 33,000 salaried workers under its contributory pension program.

Henry Ford II, president of Ford, said yesterday that the company will stand the cost of the retirement boost which will cover retired employes as well as present employes. The improvements are retroactive to Jan. 1.

Two pension plans currently are open to salaried personnel. One is a non-contributory plan which is automatic for all such employes. It provides a maximum monthly payment of $137.50 including social security.

It can be augmented with the contributory plan which the company has improved. Under the improved contributory plan, an eligible salaried employe can put 5 per cent of his monthly base salary over $300 into the plan.

Agricultural Agent Will Address Club

ROYAL OAK — Edmond W. Aichin, Oakland County agricultural agent, will address the Organic Farm and Garden Club on "Soil Fertility Balance" at the group's meeting tomorrow at Royal Oak High School.

Aichin will discuss in non-technical terms soil and tissue tests as a means of determining plant nutrient deficiencies, and the importance of acid-alkaline balance in the soil.

All gardeners and farmers are invited to attend the session.

Humphrey Talks Plainly to Labor

If Budget Is Balanced, Government Must Hire Fewer, Buy Less

WASHINGTON (INS) — Treasury Secretary George Humphrey has candidly admitted that the economic and fiscal policies will mean fewer jobs for Americans in the immediate future.

The treasury secretary yesterday met demands of a CIO full employment conference, that the government take emergency steps to halt a business recession with the statement that White House policy is to balance the budget and reduce federal expenditures.

Humphrey told the labor leaders, who are gathered in Washington for a conference on full employment, that if the federal budget is to be balanced the government must buy less and hire fewer people.

He said that this process will naturally result in fewer jobs for Americans while the policies are being carried out.

Humphrey said:

"There are only two ways in which the country can save money. We have to hire less people. We have to buy less goods.

"This year we are planning on saving about $7 billion. That means some people will be out of jobs.

"What can we do to prevent widespread unemployment? We will give this $7 billion back to the people in reduced taxes. The money we save on the government's side, we turn over to the people.

"That's the program we have decided on."

Humphrey said that the Eisenhoser administration believes that its tax reduction program must help heavy industry as well as other groups.

He said: "You can stimulate consumer production till the cows come home and not stimulate the heavy industries. It's the investors who buy the heavy goods — the tools for production. You have to stimulate the heavy industry. You can't have prosperity by just having consumer goods."

Business Notes

Stewart J. Wolfe, editor of dealer and employe publications for Hudson Motor Car Division of American Motors Corp., was elected president of the International Council of Industrial Editors (ICIE) today at its annual conference in Detroit. Wolfe, a resident of Oak Park, has been active in the ICIE since 1946. The ICIE is composed of 3,250 company publication editors.

A new high in April passenger traffic was recorded by North Central Air Lines as officials reported 19,758 customers carried during the month. This is a 13 per cent increase over March and a 20 per cent boost over April 1953, according to officials.

The Pennsylvania Railroad board of directors named Executive Vice President James M. Symes yesterday to succeed President Waler S. Franklin who will retire at the end of this month. James E. Gowen, a member of the board's executive committee, made the announcement at the annual meeting of PRR stockholders. He said Symes will be elected formally May 26. Franklin will become a member of the board.

Zeke Cook, 41, publicity director of MacManus, John & Adams, Inc., Bloomfield Hills advertising agency, has accepted the position of chief account executive with the public relations firm of Dan Degnan Associated in Toledo. His appointment was announced today by Daniel D. Degnan, president.

Cook has headed the advertising agency's publicity department since 1952. Before that time he was resident account executive for Steve Hannagan of the Electric Auto-Lite Co., Toledo.

File Petition to Get Hudson Stock Value

DETROIT (INS) — A petition was filed in Detroit's circuit court today for court-appointed appraisers to determine the "fair value" of Hudson Motor Car Co. stock before its merger into the American Motors Corp.

The suit was filed by a group of 12 Massachusetts and New York stockholders representing more than 11,000 shares of Hudson stock. The petitioners said they are not trying to overturn the merger of Hudson with Nash-Kelvinator Corp., but only want a fair value for their stock.

American Motors Corp. has offered to pay $9.625 a share, but attorneys for the petitioners said they expect at least twice that much.

Jail 4 Brothers in Cottage Thefts

State Police Estimate Value of Loot Taken at $15,000

CADILLAC (AP) — State Police today said that four Missaukee County brothers, ranging in age from 17 to 43, has admitted in signed statements the systematic looting of 75 cottages and cabins along the Manistee River.

Value of the stolen articles, most of which police said were recovered, was estimated at $15,000.

State Police Detective Sgt. Clarence Bloomquist and Cadillac Post Commander Sgt. Lewis L. Cook identified the brothers as Chris Peterson, 43, Lewis, 27, Loren, 22, and Cledus, 17.

The officers said the four admitted the thefts singley and as a group. They were arrested late Tuesday and held in jail in Cadillac for further questioning and additional statements.

No formal charges have been filed but Cook indicated warrants would be sought in Kalkaska County today or Thursday.

A routine investigation of an apparently abandoned car by Trooper Daniel Comrie led to the arrest of the brothers who live within a five mile radius near Lake City.

Comrie said he found a tire in the car that was reported stolen from one of the looted cottages. A check of the car registration led to the arrests.

Loren, Chris and Cledus, officers said, were arrested at Camp Grayling where they were helping to erect tents. Lewis was arrested at his home where officers said the loot was neatly stacked and arranged in a garage.

Removing a ring of bark from a tree trunk will kill a tree because it interrupts the flow of digested materials downward to the roots. The roots then die of starvation.

Card of Thanks 1

WE WISH TO THANK OUR friends and neighbors for their acts of kindness during the recent loss of our sister, also for their beautiful flowers. Special thanks to the pallbearers, and Rev. David Mortenson for his comforting words, and services of The Huntoon Funeral Home. The Morris family.

In Memoriam 2

IN LOVING MEMORY OF A DEAR Wife and Mother, Gertrude Vennink, who passed away nine years ago May 12, 1945.
Before our eyes you faded,
Patiently bearing your suffering
Until God took you away.
To see you slowly leave us
Helpless, we stood by,
And drank the cup of bitter grief,
The evening we saw you die.
You heard a voice we couldn't hear,
Which said you couldn't stay
You saw a hand we couldn't see
Which beckoned you away.
Now Mother, since you've gone away
The ones you loved so true,
Try hard to carry on the way
We know you'd want us to.
You lived a life that all might envy,
Loved and loving, gentle kind
And in death your blessed memory
Comforts those you left behind.

'Garden' Date Night May 26

Johnny Ray Is Signing Off With 'Good Night, Jane Kean'

NEW YORK (INS) — Liberace expects to gross $50,000 in his Madison Sq. Garden concert May 26 . . .

All the noise about Jackie Gleason and a W. C. Fields. film biography fades with Red Skelton's plans for precisely that project . . .

It's to be a production in partnership with Gene Fowler (who will write the script) and Frank Borzage (directing). Fowler's "Minutes of the Last Meeting" best seller will provide the sotry pattern . . .

Uncle Miltie and nephew Eddie Fisher will star with Eddie Cantor on the latter's final Comedy Hour May 16 . . .

Fisher's shows will fizz from cities all over the west coast, NBC picking up the tab for the deployed cameras.

Audrey Hepburn's boy friend Mel Ferrer is packaging a Dinah Shore replacement which he'll direct, produce and emcee. Plans are for Benny Goodman, Gene Krupa and Mel Powell to jazz it up. . .

Kraft Theater's "Alice in Wonderland" was curiously stokgy and uninspired in the hands of Edgar Bergen, Chas. McCarthy and Robin Morgan, Art Carney, Bobby Clark and one or two others seemed to know what they were up to, but the rest simply weren't with it . . .

Now that her her marriage has ended, Jane Withers wants to forget the whole mess by burying herself in a TV interview session . . . . 0.. ... ...

Sammy Kaye expects to have a TV series from the AStor Roof this summer, entitled, of course, "So You Want to Lead a Band" . . .

Everybody wants to get into the "situation comedy" act: now it's the Ames Bros. recording stars .

Those old headphones we labored so hard to elude in the crystal set and early super heterodyne days are back, and mighty welcome in families where mom wants to go quietely about the housework while junior watches his favorite TV TV noises . . .

Enjoy Eating Those Fish, They Cost Plenty to Hook

PIERRE, S. D. (UP) — Fish don't come cheaply — when you catch them yourself.

The U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service made surveys of fishing expenditures and catches at three South Dakota lakes, and found that fishermen spent from $1.15 to $3.64 per pound of fish caught. Travel cost was one of the most important factors in determining expenditures.

Bing's Son to Substitute

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Columbia Broadcasting System announced yesterday that Bing Crosby's son Gary, 21, will take over the Bing Crosby Show on radio for the summer, starting June 6.

TRUCKER OF YEAR—Gomer W. Bailey, of Denver, Colo., is the trucking industry's "Driver of the Year" for 1954. He topped off more than a million miles of safe driving and climaxed his record by saving the lives of a family of four following a house-trailer smashup.

PEEPERS PREVIEW—One of the most publicized video weddings of the year will be that of school teacher Robinson Peeper (Wally Cox) and school nurse Nancy Remington (Patricia Benoit.) You are cordially invited to attend the nuptians which are scheduled for May 23 at approximately 6:30 p. m. This episode will climax one of the most important events in the annals of the Mr. Peepers television show.

Lowering of Mississippi Reveals Civil War Ship

KIMMISWICK, Mo. (UP) — A drought and the resultant drop in the Mississippi River combined to bring a Civil War ship into view here once more.

About 1862 the vessel, one of this country's first armored naval craft, was caught in an ice gorge and sank. Part of it has been visible occasionally in the past when the river has been low, but now it is almost completely exposed.

The boat, believed to be a Union stern-wheeler named the Windsor, was armored with railroad rails and apparently designed for ramming Confederate vessels. Its prow was reinforced with a solid mass of oak and walnut ties, most of which still remain in position in the rotting hull.

Sergeant Is Impressed by the Oral Evidence

DAVENPORT, Iowa (AP) — The police desk sergeant just laughed when a motorist displayed his overtime parking ticket and complained he'd been tied up at the dentist's office.

Sea Returns Lodge Ring 20 Years After It's Lost

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — The classified arvertisement in the Evening Tribune read: "Edward Drake. I found your ring."

Drake learned on inquiry that the ring he had lost 20 years ago in ocean surf had been found by Nancy Zachary, San Diego State College student. Inscribed inside the Masonic Lodge ring and plainly legible was: "Edward Drake, 3-28-1928."

Is This Progress?

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (UP) — Old Mississippi River packets took five days for the trip from New Orleans to St. Louis while aircoach flights now make it in 3½ hours. But the fare is still the same—$25.

Dog Quarantine Due for Royal Oak Locale

Dr. John D. Monroe, Oakland County health director, said today the health department will clamp a dog quarantine on part of Royal Oak Township "as soon as we get an official request."

The township board decided Tuesday night to ask for a dog quarantine on that area of the township west of Woodward avenue. George Horkey, supervisor, said seven of 17 dogs picked up recently in a government housing development on W. Eight Mile road near Wyoming were rabid.

Horkey said there are about 500 dogs in the development, despite a government order banning them.

A quarantine would mean all dogs in the area would have to be confined to woners' yards or kept on a leash.

Rich Animal Odor

ROCKVILLE, Conn. (UP)—Residents in the neighborhood of a mink farm brought the owners into court. The odor from the farm, the neighbors charged, was too much.

Discourage Japanese Beetles, Skunk at Once

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP)—The Connecticut agricultural experiment station says skunks will rid your lawn of Japanese beetles—but they'll rid you of your lawn at the same time by tearing it up to get at the beetle grubs.

A better system, the agricultural experts say, is to use the insecticide chlordane. That kills the grubs and discourages the skunks by leaving them no grubs to eat.

Federal School Aid Opposed by GOP

WASHINGTON, (AP)—The Eisenhower administration is opposed to any large-scale federal spending on construction of public schools pending further studies.

The administration's attitude was outlined yesterday by Oveta Culp Hobby, secretary of Health, Education and Welfare, in a letter to a Senate Labor subcommittee at the opening of hearings on federal aid to schools.

She objected to passage at this time of any of several bills under consideration, including one by Chairman Cooper (R-KY) which calls for an outlay of 100 million dollars annually for three years starting July 1.

About 40 tons of steel reinforcing bars are used in a mile of two-lane concrete highway.

Hall Raps Hearings on Army-McCarthy

WASHINGTON, (AP) — Chairman Leonard W. Hall of the Republican National Committee says he hasn't heard of anyone who thinks the McCarthy - Army hearings "are doing anybody any good."

Hall talked with reporters at the White House yesterday after visiting President Eisenhower in company with members of a special GOP veterans committee.

"Well, I agree with everybody—I haven't heard anybody yet who thinks they (the hearings) are doing anybody any good."
