44 Die as United Airliner Explodes, Burns in West

LONGMONT, Colo. (INS)—A United Airlines DC6B airliner (a new luxury version of the DC5) exploded and crashed near Longmont, killing all 44 persons aboard and strewing wreckage over a square mile of farmland, last night.

A caravan of ambulances before dawn today carried the victims of the crash from the disaster scene to Greeley, Colo., some 30 miles away.

The United Airlines plane exploded in mid-air 11 minutes after taking off from Denver en route to Portland and Seattle.

More workers and officials waited at a National Guard armory in Greeley to begin identification of the victims.

It was the second major air disaster within a month for United Airlines, which until Oct. 6 had flown 12 billion passenger miles without a fatality.

Two General Motors Corp. officials, one a Michigan man, were among the victims.

They were James E. Straud, 51, of Okemos, a Lansing suburb, and Carl F. Deist, 53, of Oakland, Calif.

The Pontiac Area United Fund total jumped to within $76,276 of the $562,175 goal yesterday with a flood of Industrial and Commercial Division returns.

Three industrial plants sailed over their quotas and the Commercial Division climbed $12,863 to $105,671, or 72.6 per cent of total.

"If commercial returns continue at yesterday's rate we may hit goal by tomorrow's deadline," said Campaign Manager Robert M. Critchfield.

The overall total pledged includes $21,000 of the amount expected from the Birmingham-Bloomfield Hills area as Pontiac's share of money collected by the Detroit drive.

In the Industrial Division, Pontiac Varnish Co. reported 179 per cent of quota, or $1,084, according to Harold Bauer, chairman.

Consumers Power Co. pledged 116 per cent of quota with $4,147, said G. R. Lembke, drive chairman. Jig Bushing reported $486, or 111 per cent of its goal

In the Commercial Division, Sears Roebuck returned an employe pledge of $1,852 plus a $2,300 firm gift. S. S. Kresge employes gave $1,234 and the company, $1,650. The WKC firm donation was $339 plus $535 from employes.

Rubber Official Denies Charges

Noise, Dirt Eliminated, Company Spokesman Says Today

A Baldwin Rubber Co. official today said noise and dust about which neighboring residents have complained have been eliminated.

M. D. McLintock, firm president, said noise-producing vacuum pumps formerly located on the roof have been moved to a building behind the plant and muffling devices provided.

He added that installation was completed yesterday of a device prohibiting finely ground rubber from being loosed into the air.

A number of persons who live near the South boulevard plant appeared at last night's City Commission meeting, asking city help in eliminating noise and dirt they said emanated from the plant.

The Commission tabled action on the matter until Dec. 13 pending a survey by the State Health Dept. of the degree of noise coming from the plant and what can be done about it if it is deemed excessive.

A report was read from the City Health Dept. stating that a "decided" noise was produced by the release of steam from stacks at the eastern end of the building.

The noise was noticeable three blocks away at the time the investigation was made, the report stated.

McLintock said the stacks, which are connected to vulcanizing tanks, had been extended an additional 20 feet so the steam would affect nearby residents less.

He said he didn't know anything about noise from the steam.

Cloudy and Colder, Showers Predicted

The U.S. Weather Bureau predicts a low of 40-44 degrees tonight. Thursday will be cloudy and colder with a few light showers. The high tomorrow will be 44-48.

Snow flurries are forecast for the Upper Peninsula near Lake Superior Thursday with considerable cloudiness and colder.

The Bureau's 30-day outlook calls for below-normal temperatures in November over the northwestern quarter of the U.S., the Great Lakes Region and the Central Plains.

The lowest thermometer reading this morning before 8 a.m. was 48. The mercury rose to 53 in downtown Pontiac by 2 p.m.

Republicans Say Action Program Will Be Cheaper

Sixteen Point Proposal 'To Be More Effective' Than Governor's Idea

By JACK I. GREEN

LANSING (AP)—Senate Republican leaders pushed forward their own "action" program today to counter that of Gov. Williams as the Michigan Legislature went into the second day of its special session.

The Senate GOP chiefs said their program would be just as effective as Williams' and cheaper in the fields of highway safety and mental health.

In the field of teacher-pay increases, the Republicans leaned toward the same amount of money asked by Williams but allocated on a different basis emphasizing local control of school affairs.

Here was the Republican program as enunciated by the Republican Senate Caucus and the Senate Appropriations Committee:

1—200 more state policemen. (Williams advocated the same).

2—A speed limit on highways, the speed unspecified by the caucus but the Senate Highways Committee was favorable to 65 miles an hour daytimes and 55 miles at night. (Williams advocated the same).

3—Local driver licensing examiners to be trained by state police on uniform procedures and standards set by the state police. (Williams advocated state training of local examiners after abandoning proposals for state examiners).

CONSTRAIN BAD DRIVERS

4—Bad drivers to be compelled to attend driving schools operated by the state police, sheriffs, prosecuting attorneys and the police chief of county's major city. (Not recommended by the Governor who favored expansion of a program to take bad drivers off the road).

5—Stiffening of standards for school bus drivers. (Similar to Williams' proposal).

6—Increasing driver license fee boost, urging increased costs present three-year license would cost $3 rather than $1.50. The additional money would give the state police better than one mil.

Thief Re-Enacts Two Breakins

Estate Prowler Admits Intruding Days Before Woodward Slaying

MINEOLA, N.Y. (AP)—A prowler has reenacted on a Long Island estate the two intrusions that Mrs. William Woodward says had her upset and nervous on the night she shot her wealthy sportsman husband to death.

Police took Paul W. Wirths, a convicted burglar, to the sprawling Woodward home at dusk yesterday. They said he had admitted breaking into the garage and bathhouse of the estate on two occasions several days before the shooting.

Mrs. Woodward had told police that evidence of these break-ins caused her and her husband to arm themselves with shotguns before going to bed early last Sunday morning. An hour or so later, the statement to police continued, she fired at what she thought was the prowler on a return visit. Instead she hit and killed her husband.

After questioning Wirths for hours, Inspector Stuyvesant Pinnell, chief of Nassau County detectives, said he was convinced the 22-year-od German refugee was "not on the Woodward property" at the time of the shooting.

3 Who Dedicated Courthouse Still Living in City

By JOE HAAS

Time has removed from our midst most of the names, over 100 in number, of people prominent in Oakland County, who had an active part in the dedication of the courthouse 50 years ago today.

Three remaining are listed here:

TILLSON

Now dean of Oakland County Bar Association, J. A. Tillson of 230 North Saginaw St., was a member of the ushers' committee. Admitted to the bar in 1899, he had exchanged his first love of pharmacy as a profession to that of law. For over a half century, Mr. Tillson has been practicing here.

Then a member of the Pontiac City Board of Aldermen, Byron J. Kelly served on a number of committees at the dedication. At that time he was city editor of the Pontiac Daily Press. He recollects that it was a big day in Pontiac, and that the entire county turned out in generous numbers for the event. Mr. Kelly now is retired and lives at 261 Cherokee Road.

KELLY

Another member of the ushers' committee, made up of budding young disciples of Blackstone, was Clinton McGee, who had become notable in college for his oratory. In 1903, following his law school graduation, he had formed a partnership with Carl H. Pelton, and most of the last half century that legal firm did business here. He now is retired and his home is at 86 Williams St.

Ike May Get Out of Hospital November 11

DENVER (AP) — President Eisenhower's doctors, satisfied with his recovery progress, have picked Nov. 11—one week from Friday—as a target date for letting him out of the hospital.

The tentative decision, subject to review at a full scale medical consultation this weekend, was made known by the White House as the President arranged to confer today with Secretary of Labor Mitchell.

Mitchell is the eighth Cabinet officer to come to Denver for a hospital conference with Eisenhower since the chief executive's Sept. 24 heart attack. The other two members of the Cabinet—Secretary of Commerce Weeks and Secretary of Welfare Folsom—may visit him here next week.

Big 3 Hold Strategy Talks on Red Plans for Germany

GENEVA (INS)—The three Western foreign ministers conferred on allied strategy this morning before resuming four-power negotiations today with Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov.

The conference was recessed yesterday for All Saints Day.

Secretary of State John Foster Dulles and Britain's Harold Macmillan went to the villa of French Foreign Minster Antoine Pinay where they were to lunch after discussing how to meet Molotov's expected next move on Germany.

The western Big Three believed they had a tip-off to the long-heralded Soviet proposal on German "unification" in the memorandum written by Communist East German Premier Otto Grotewohl.

The East German spokesman at Geneva had attempted to have the memorandum delivered to the Western foreign ministers, but the U.S., Britain and France refused it on the grounds they do not recognize the Grotewohl regime.

The proposals outline a method of German integration to be achieved by the Germans themselves with formation of an East-West German consultative council as one of the first steps.

The plan failed to mention the date when reunification was to be accomplished or the free elections which the West insists must be the basis of unity.

The resulting united Germany would be neutralist in its foreign policy and eventually might fall ripely into Communist hands.

If this was all Molotov planned to offer the West, an allied source said the answer would be a resounding "no."

West German sources in Geneva branded the East German plan as completely unacceptable. There was little hope that Molotov's proposals would contribute anything towards breaking the present deadlock.

Dulles personally is handling all of the major State Department problems and has his closest advisers with him in Geneva.

Women Discover Bonanza Hidden in Church Kitchen

NEW YORK (AP) — A group of women, gathered for a charity meeting, had a different kind of money problem yesterday: They had $16,540 in cash and couldn't account for it.

The money, in $50, $20 and $10 bills, was discovered by a member of the Baron De Hirsch Ladies Aid Society at the Yorkville Temple when she went to prepare refreshments. The bills were in a paper bag in a cupboard.

Since no one could explain where the cache had come from, the ladies turned the money over to police.

The money may go to the organization if the rightful owner does not claim it within 90 days.

Margaret Resumes Royal Duties

'It Is All a Closed Book,' Says Peter About Romance

FROM OUR WIRE SERVICES

LONDON — Group Capt. Peter Townsend broke his silence on Princess Margaret today to say he would not be seeing her again.

"It is all a closed book," the rejected suitor told newsmen at the Sussex County country home where he is spending the last days of a furlough that might have ended in engagement to the queen's sister.

Instead, it ended with Margaret's decision that duty to crown and loyalty to church were too great to be cast aside for personal happiness.

He spoke as Margaret herself was making ready to come from behind the protective walls of Clarence House to pick up her royal duties.

Tonight the Princess will make her first appearance since her decision, attending a service at St. Paul's Cathedral. The occasion is the 50th anniversary of the death of Dr. Thomas John Barnardo, who founded a group of homes for British foundlings.

With a full schedule of ceremonial events stretching before Margaret this week and beyond, Prime Minister Eden's government was reported prepared to lighten her load of official duties while she recovers from her shattered love.

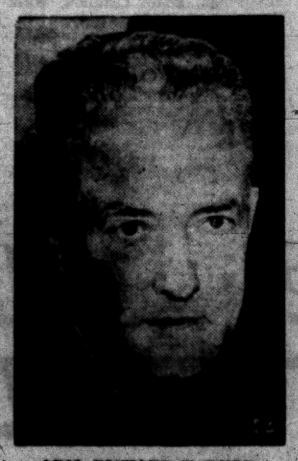
Byrd Heads 'Permanent' Antarctic Program

WASHINGTON (AP)—A growing U. S. interest in the South Polar region has developed tentative government plans for a "permanent unit for Antarctic activity."

Retired Rear Adm. Richard E. Byrd, a veteran of polar expeditions, was designated today as "officer in over-all charge" of all U.S. Antarctic activities and was directed to prepare plans for a permanent program.

The disclosure was made in a letter to Byrd signed by Reuben B. Robertson, deputy secretary of defense. Robertson said he was acting by direction of President Eisenhower on the recommendation of the Joint Chiefs of Staff and the Navy.

Byrd told a radio audience in September the area "is becoming more and more important where world strategy is concerned." He noted that the Soviet Union already claims "a good deal" of Antarctic territory. He also advocated the establishment of permanent human settlements there.



ADM. RICHARD E. BYRD

Although the United States has sponsored several expeditions to Antarctica — and is starting another this year — it never has made any claim to territory there. It likewise has never recognized any claims made by other countries which have sent expeditions to the frozen wastes.

The Defense Department, in making public Robertson's letter to Byrd, gave no indication that any territorial claims are planned now.

Filing of such claims would be a logical development, however, in a long-range permanent program.

Byrd earlier had been designated officer in charge of the expedition being started this fall in preparation for the International Geophysical year 1957-58.

He was instructed to advise and help other government agencies in the preparation of any laws that might be necessary to set up a "permanent unit" within the government to coordinate antarctic matters. He will exercise wide supervision over political, scientific and legislative aspects of U. S. activities in the Antarctic.

The Navy task force assigned to the preparatory stages of the expedition will include 1,800 men, seven ships, two tankers, two cargo vessels and 15 aircraft.

Byrd is expected to leave for New Zealand within the next month to join the first of several trips the force will make to the Antarctic continent in the next three years.

Adlai May Use California Test

Primary Contest There Could Be Most Critical in Presidential Bid

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP)—Adlai E. Stevenson may put most of his primary eggs in a California basket in his expected race for the 1956 Democratic presidential nomination.

Stevenson is reportedly ready to announce his candidacy at a caucus of Illinois Democrats in connection with a three-day national party rally beginning in Chicago Nov. 17.

While he probably will not be prepared to discuss campaign details then, associates said Stevenson has decided to enter elected primaries, of which the June 5 California contest could be the most critical.

* * *

The former Illinois governor won the 1952 nomination without venturing into contested state primaries. But friends said he recognizes the necessity of fighting it out next year with some other potential aspirants for the nomination and welcomes the chance to show what he can do as an intensive campaigner.

However, the Stevenson strategists will pick their own battlefields. They intend to pass up the March 13 New Hampshire primary, where Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee trounced President Truman before the latter announced in 1952 that he wasn't running again.

Kefauver, who reiterated today he hasn't made up his mind whether to run next year, can be expected to enter the New Hampshire lists. His friends also are eyeing the April 3 Wisconsin primary, the May 8 Ohio test and possibly the May 29 Florida contest.

Moms Lose Right to Regulate Traffic

DEARBORN (INS)—A new flare-up occurred today at the embattled intersection of Cypress and Telegraph when sheriff's deputies took away stop signs from a pair of Taylor Township mothers and allegedly went back on a promise to deputize them.

Mrs. Clara Tharrett, 31, and Mrs. Virginia Grubbs, 42, had been stopping traffic on Telegraph with their red paddles to let school buses and children cross the busy road.

The paddles had been issued by the Sheriff's Department and the pair had been tentatively deputized.

Today, however, the sheriff's officers told the women they had no authority to act as deputies and the deal was off.

The two women said today they had held a secret "Township mothers" meeting last night and decided to set up field headquarters on a vacant lot at the northwest corner of Telegraph and Cypress.

They said the owner of the lot had given them permission to set up a tent and serve hot coffee and sandwiches to other pickets.

Sylvanites May File for Water Hookups

Sylvan Lake property owners can now make applications for water connections to city mains, City Manager Ernest L. Ethier said today.

The connections cannot be installed until state tests for purification and pressure are made, he explained, but the forms will be processed in the meantime.

Owners of homes not on paved or hard surfaced streets will pay a $95 fee when applying for a normal house connection. If paving must be torn up, the resident will be charged extra, said Ethier.

Application can be made starting today at the city hall and from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. on Saturday.

GOP Offers Plan to Counter Williams

lion dollars for highway patrols, double the amount going back to local law enforcement agencies and slightly increase the state's revenue from the fee. (Williams opposed any license fee boost, urging increased costs be taken from the general fund. Williams says there is a $17 million dollar surplus available, Republicans put it at about $4.5).

7—A bill making it prima facie evidence of reckless driving to start to pass another car in a yellow line zone. (Williams had no recommendation on this subject).

DELAY CONTROL MOVE

8—No decision until next year on a Republican proposal to take operation of the central violations file away from the Secretary of State and give it to the state police. (Williams recommended expanding this operation under the Secretary of State).

9—No immediate decision on compulsory driver education program in the schools due to conflict in the caucus. (Williams has advocated $25 a year subsidy to schools to achieve this).

LEASE HOSPITALS

12—Probable rejection of a proposal to buy and remodel the Farmington Children's Hospital for $1,160,000 for mentally handicapped children. (Williams wants to acquire the institution).

13—Placing 100 additional child mental cases in foster homes and another 100 in local hospitals under state contracts. (Both advocated by Williams).

14—Placing 220 mentally retarded children in new dormitories of the Mount Pleasant State Home and Training School due to open in December. (Also advocated by Williams).

15—Placing 150 mentally retarded children in the Coldwater State Home and Training School as soon as new construction makes more space available. (Also advocated by Williams).

* * *

16—Give school districts $9 more per child to permit pay raises for teachers and non-teaching personnel as local school boards decide. (Williams wants to give $200 a year more pay to each school teacher without discretion by local school boards).

1,370 EXTRA BEDS

The Senate Appropriations Committee said that its mental health program would provide 1,370 additional beds for mentally retarded children at a cost of $1,206,670.

Williams proposed to add 1,450 beds at a cost of about $2,500,000. There are 1,221 mentally retarded children now waiting admission to state hospitals.

At the same time, Sen. Edward Hutchinson (R-Fennville) filed a bill which would allow counties to remove by popular vote the present 180,000 population limit on counties which may provide special education classes.

Hutchinson said that this would allow communities to start local programs, educational and otherwise, to train mentally retarded children for a useful life outside of state institutions.

* * *

He said another bill in the Legislature would provide an extra million dollars for the local education of mentally and physically handicapped children. Both chambers drove hard for adjournment Friday.

Halloween Trick Becoming Work for 13 Youths

They were caught red - handed Halloween night tipping over nearly 90 cornshocks on the farm of Mrs. J. W. Hess at 5821 Pontiac Lake Road. Mrs. Hess' son Clark, who manages the farm, told police he would drop charges against the boys if they repaired the damage.

Now the boys, all juveniles, are husking out corn. And Mrs. Hess says they're not very good at it.

Troy Racetrack Hearings Reopened Briefly Tuesday

DETROIT—A belated appearance by a Michigan Thoroughbred Turf Club official yesterday caused Racing Commissioner James H. Inglis to reconvene hearings on a license the group is seeking for a Troy Township site.

Henry C. Murray, an attorney and secretary of the club, was one of three officials called by Inglis to testify about land acquisition for the site.

The three failed to appear in the morning and Inglis adjourned the hearings until Nov. 10. At Murray's appearance and request, the hearing was reconvened briefly.

Murray testified that he had never received any legal fees from the club, with which he has been affiliated for about two years.

He also told of meeting Malcolm M. Heber, recently fired as township attorney, and Fred W. Hildebrandt, township treasurer and board member.

The hearings have been centered for the last four days around the part the officials took in obtaining options for the 200-acre site at 14-Mile road and John R.

Testimony has shown that they, along with Heber's law partner, Harry N. Dell, stood to make nearly $170,000 by optioning the land, then turning it over to the turf club.

They acted through a corporation known as the Esroh Development Co.

Murray said the first time he met Heber was last May 20, when the township attorney received two $2,500 checks from the racing group. Murray said he didn't know at the time that Heber held a township position.

He acknowledged that he knew Hildebrandt was treasurer at that time, but didn't learn that he was also a board member until May 23, the day the board voted approval of a race track.

The board last Friday reversed its stand after hearing the part the officials had in land acquisition. Hildebrandt refused to resign at the meeting after Heber was fired.

After his testimony yesterday, Murray told reporters:

"These guys (the racing commission staff) are trying to make out how shocked they were by this deal, but they knew as much about it as we did as soon as we did."

He said a commission investigator had examined the eight land options involved in mid-June, but the commission's hearings were not called on the subject until October.

Governor Asks Bypass Reason

Why TB Sanatorium Plan Overlooked Is Topic of Quiz

Gov. Williams today told an Oakland County lawmaker he would request an immediate report from the State Mental Health Commission on feasibility of the state's leasing the county tuberculosis sanatorium to house mentally retarded children.

State Sen. William S. Broomfield asked Williams why the proposal had been overlooked at legislative sessions yesterday and today.

Mentally retarded legislation is being considered by the Legislature in special session which started yesterday.

"The annex has been vacant for three weeks. It could house 85 patients," Broomfield stated. "Oakland is entitled to an institution located where parents can visit their youngsters."

He said he would press for consideration of the plan and for construction of a new institution within the county.

Alpena Bill Listed for Special Session

LANSING (AP)—Gov. Wliams today agreed to open the special legislative session to consideration of a bill which would allow the city of Alpena to sell a tract of submerged land as a site for a large wood products mill.

Williams agreed to allow consideration of the bill after receiving a request from 33 senators and 85 house members.

The plant, to be constructed by the Abatibi Power and Paper Co. at an estimated cost of 10 million dollars, would manufacture wallboard from northern Michigan pulpwood. It would employ some 400 workers, company officials said.

The City needs state approval of the deal because the plant site would be located on Lake Huron shoreline filled in by the city.

The state several months ago cracked down on landowners filling in shoreline, contending that Great Lakes shorelands were held in trust as public fishing and hunting sites.

The bill would allow the Conservation Department to surrender title to the property.

DR. PIERCE

Lake Angelus Astronomer at Solar Conference

Astronomer Dr. A. Keith Pierce of 1792 Brown Rd. is attending a world conference on solar energy as representative of the University of Michigan.

Dr. Pierce, of the McGrath-Hulbert Observatory at Lake Angelus, presented a paper Monday evening on "The Sun's Energy Distribution." It was the first day of the conference in Tucson, Arix.

During the first two days' sessions, astronomers discussed technical aspects of the sun's physics, the generation of solar energy and its transmission through the earth's atmosphere, and the various processes for utilizing solar energy on earth.

Today and tomorrow they will discuss solar energy as it has already been applied in the fields of house and water heating, mechanical and electrical converters, and high-temperature furnaces.

The world symposium is sponsored by the Association for Applied Solar Energy, the Stanford Research Institute, and the University of Arizona.

The Day in Birmingham

Planning Board Finishes Addition for Ordinance

BIRMINGHAM—Planning Board Members last night put the finishing touches on a professional office district classification and will forward the proposed addition to the city's zoning ordinance for City Commission action Monday night.

In essence, the ordinance would afford protection to residential areas adjacent to a business district, through use of a new zoning "at the edges of two dissimilar districts". Until now, such offices which do not sell, display, etc., a product, have been restricted to business zones.

While no definite action was taken, the board also discussed a one way street system in the central business district, a subject brought on primarily in regard to Willits Street, which is about to undergo widening and paving.

Consensus of the board was that both Chester, north of Maple, and Willits would remain two way streets. Some of those discussed as one way possibilities were Chester, Henrietta, and Pierce, all south of Maple and Bates on both sides of Maple. A traffic engineer's report will be made before the board reaches any final conclusions.

Monday's City Commission meeting saw lawmakers seeking an opinion from the city's bonding attorney before reaching a decision on calling $65,000 in automobile parking system bonds, from assessments which helped pay for Municipal Parking lot No. 1 on Pierce street.

While this would mean an added interest charge, city Manager Donald C. Egbert said it would tend to improve the city's rating on future parking revenue bonds.

Paying off the bonds would then permit the selling of others for financing Municipal Parking Lots 2 or 3 but there was a legal question on possible invalidation of the assessment for the Pierce street lot, if these funds were put to any other use.

By 9 p.m. Monday no one would ever have known that an hour and a half before 5,200 paraders has been swarming over the city's business section. That's how many of the younger generation turned out for the yearly Halloween parade festivities, said Roland W. Reese, chairman of the party committee, yesterday.

It took just 39 minutes to feed the mob, Reese said, "and with the wonderful cooperation of the Police Department and DPW, barricades were removed and the streets and sidewalks swept," turning the city back into its tranquil self by 9.

Reese said about 300 service club and PTA volunteers served as helpers.

James E. Stroud was said by friends to have lived on Suffield road in Birmingham about five years ago.

Straud, who joined Oldsmobile in 1926, is survived by his wife, Virginia, two sons, David and Michael, and his parents, of Newark, Ohio.

"LIKE THE SUN"

Farmer Tony Ruote, who witnessed the crash, said it was "like the sun coming up" as the DC6 hit the ground. The plane's engines were still blazing five hours after the disaster.

* * *

State patrolmen immediately blocked off main roads leading to the scene and summoned 30 ambulances which waited uselessly until it was determined that no one survived the crash.

The plane, Flight 629 bound for Portland, carried 39 passengers, including an infant, and a crew of five. It was piloted by Capt. L. H. Hall.

Ruote, a former Navy man stationed on an aircraft carrier, said the plane was flying at about 1,500 feet when it exploded. He said airliners normally cruise at 3,000 to 5,000 feet above his farm.

Another witness, 12 - year - old Charles Dalpra, said he saw a "huge flash" and heard a noise "like a couple of tank cars colliding."

* * *

The flight path was about 30 miles east of the Rocky Mountain foothills.

* * *

The engines burrowed 50 feet into the ground at the points where they hit. As they continued to burn, they resembled small active volcanoes.

The crash came at a time when the airline was using its regular pilots to substitute for striking flight engineers.

Law Governs Killing of Frogs, Ziem Reminds

Oakland County Prosecutor Frederick C. Ziem reminded residents today of a new state law regulating the killing of frogs.

The statute makes it "unlawful to take or kill frogs . . . from Nov. 16 in any year to the Friday immediately preceding the opening of the season on black bass June 20 of the year following . . ."

Frogs can be speared, however, as long as an artificial light is not used, Ziem explained. Frogs shipped in from outstate can be killed and also those to be used for scientific purposes.

Bob Considine Says:

Baseball Owes Modern Stature to Griffith

NEW YORK (INS) — Probably more than any other individual Clark Griffith made baseball the "national pastime." Presidents of the United States had attended ball games in Washington long before that day in 1912 when Griff audaciously struck a ball in William Howard Taft's chubby paw and ordered him to throw it out on the field. McKinley liked baseball and so did Teddy Roosevelt.

But Graff had the rudimentary salesmanship that made a foll out of the men in the White House. He kept after it doggedly with annual trips to the executive offices to present a gold season's pass to the President and a pass and alligator bag to the First Lady.

It became a part of our culture. So much so that something approximating a political and social crisis was caused in April of 1953 when President Eisenhower dodged the ritual in order to play golf.

Griff window-dressed his gentle old ballyard with Cabinet officers, senators in season, congressmen in and out of season, and year-round brass.

* * *

Maj. Douglas MacArthur was amoung those in the stands when a pitcher named Babe Ruth made his Washington debut in 1914—just as MacArthur, as a lieutenant, had seen Walter Johnson's first start there in 1907.

SIZED 'EM UP

He was a wonderful character, this Griff. Right to the ninth inning of his life of three quarters of a century in baseball, he'd still size up a new acquaintance with the clear-eyed scrutiny which he had clamped on "enemy" hitters while winning well over 200 games as a pitcher.

No person, no crisis, no deplorable Washington team even really vanquished this fearless man. He must have given Death a battle it will never forget.

Griff fought change as if it were a plague. Most of the things big league baseball fans today take for granted Griff battled against in the ground that they were the work of "bushwhackers."

He could make "bushwacker" sound like a curse word when he wanted to, the fire blazing in eyes that rested beneath the gray thatches of his brows.

He opposed night baseball as if it were dishonest, then became just about its widest user. The liberalization of owner-player relations found him a staunch reactionary, but he was dotting and generous with men who delivered for him. He barred George Marshall's Redskins as unkempt gypsies, then relented and embraced them.

Through the years Griff won a reputation for niggardliness while bringing up a big family of adopted children and taking care of a small army of non-working relatives and old cronies to the n'th degree.

BATTLE OF WITS

He never had the limitless capital of baseball's rich men and he ran his operation accordingly. If he could show a profit finishing seventh or eighth with Cubans and Puerto Ricans but lose money finishing that low with second-rate American ballplayers he'd take the imported brand and stay alive to fight another battle for wits with richer men in the game.

He won such a battle in 1933—Washington's last pennant year—by trading astutely for Earl Whitehill, Goose Goslin, Luke Sewell, Walter Stewart, Heinie Manush, Al Crowder and a few others. In 1945 he came within a dropped fly ball of doing it again with a collection of walking wounded Joe and Jose.

Griff was one of the founders of the American League. He was its talent scout. His raids on the rosters of the National League were the sensation of the turn of the century.

He got the great Nap Lajoie to jump from the Phils with money Griff had borrowed from one of the owners of the same team. Honus Wagner locked himself in a pool hall to resist the temptation of jumping the Pirates. Griff's raids made the game a profession with honored contracts instead of piece work.

* * *

As a punk baseball writer traveling with Griff's team of 20 and more years ago I used to wound the old gentleman with an occasional story about his pantalooned incompetents, and would wince as an independent newspaperman when he'd introduce us to strangers as "my newspaper boys."

Now, God bless him, I'm sorry for what little unhappiness I caused him in those dusty days and I'm proud to be included in his possessive pronoun.

People Have Reasons for Doing What They Do

Dist. Judge Edmund Duggan asked him why he picked on that particular place.

"I had a grudge against the laundry," Manley said. "I went there one day just past closing time and the man wouldn't give me my clothes."

Coach Freight Fares Under Board Probe

WASHINGTON (AP) — So-called "coach freight" fares filed by Northwest Airlines between New York, Detroit, Milwaukee, Minneapolis and St. Paul are under investigation by the Civil Aeronautics Board (CAB).

The agency said yesterday it wanted to determine whether the special fares for passengers carrie on cargo aircraft would be unreasonable or unlawful.

At the same time the board rejected requests by United and Capital Airlines for suspension of Northwest's proposed fares. The CAB said the complaints "do not state facts which warrant suspension."

New Chevrolet Arrives Friday

GM Leader Features Greater Power, Rugged Style Appearance

DETROIT (AP) — Chevrolet, currently leading the nation's car makers in output and retail deliveries, will introduce its 1956 line Friday, with increased horsepower, a more rugged appearance and with a new four-door hardtop sports sedan.

* * *

Also presented for the first time will be nine-passenger station wagons. This will give Chevrolet 19 different body styles for 1956.

Prices, already announced, show increases ranging from $49.25 to $84.25. The prices range from $1,550 for the utility sedan in the "one fifty" series, to $2,360 for the Nomad station wagon in the Bel Air series. The prices do not include federal excise, state and local taxes or handling and delivery charges.

Top horsepower in the sixes is ...; in the super turbo-fire V-8 it is 205. Top in the 1955 lines was 136 and 180 respectively. Compression ratio of the top V-8 engine is 9.25 to 1. The V-8s have a new high lift camshaft. The six has 8 to 1 compression ratio. Hydraulic valve lifters are standard on all eight cylinder engines.

SAFETY FEATURES

Safety features include the availability of shoulder harness as well as seat belts. Standard are safety locks introduced by Chevrolet last summer. They are designed to minimize possibility of doors springing open by shock or collision.

Directional signals, formerly an extra cost option, are standard on all models. An improvement also is announced in the 12-volt ignition system. Batteries will carry a 36 month, warranty instead of 21.

Chevrolet is presenting the 1956 line in three series: The "One-Fifty," as the lowest priced; The "Two-Ten" in its middle bracket and the "Bel Air" as the top series of the line.

Chevrolet's six cylinder engine of 140 horsepower replaces two sixes of the 1955 model year which developed 123 and 136. The new engine may be coupled with either automatic transmission or manual gear shift.

Several V-8s are offered for 1956. One, developing 162 horsepower is designed for cars with standard gear shift. The second is rated at 170 horsepower and designed for automatic transmission.

MORE CHEVROLETS FOR '56 — Two nine-passenger station wagons and two four-door sport sedans are newcomers among 19 models which make up the three series of passenger cars of the 1956 Chevrolet line. Above is the sport sedan, new this year. The cars go on display Friday and locally will be shown by Matthews-Hargreaves, Inc., 34 Mill St.

Pontiac Police Officer Returns From Service

Pontiac Police patrolman Robert M. Wachal, on military leave of absence for the past two years, yesterday resumed his duties with the police department.

Wachal, 28, first joined the force in 1950. He left in 1953 for a tour of duty in the military police of the 64th Ordnance Battalion, and was stationed for most of the two-year term at Fort Sill, Oklahoma.

Skin Diving in Sewer

NEW YORK—A building contractor recently used skindiving equipment like that employed by swimming sportsmen to finish an exceedingly difficult sewer installation. Sewer pipe was installed in a trench flooded with 6 to 7 feet of water by workmen wearing underwater breather apparatus, face masks, and fins.

Pontiac Area United Fund Donations Help Blind Persons Get Leader Dogs

Leader Dogs for the Blind, in Rochester, is one of the 55 agencies included in the UF here.

Only two other such schools in the country are approved by the Veterans Administration.

At the Rochester institution, an average of 84 new students are trained to use leader dogs yearly. In addition, some 36 persons return each year to obtain new dogs.

The program is expensive. From the time a dog starts its training until it leaves the school with its blind master some four months and $1,250 are expended.

Each student pays $150 for his training, room and board. The other $1,100 comes from sources such as the UF.

Each dog is trained for three months before meeting its future master. Classes of students number six to eight. Each student is assigned a dog according to individual personalities, height, weight and age.

The students live at the school during four weeks of concentrated training. The work begins in Rochester's residential section, moves to the town's main business district and ends amid downtown Pontiac's busy traffic.

Donations to the UF can bring the confidence of increased independence to persons not blessed with sight.

Moroccan Regents Hand in Resignations

PARIS (AP)—The regency council named to take temporary custody of the Moroccan throne today handed in its resignation to Sidi Mohammed Ben Youssef, the ex-Sultan freshly returned from exile in Madagascar.

The council came into being after drawn out negotiations between Moroccan nationalists and the French.

Williams Reiterates $100 Farm Figure

LANSING (AP) — Gov. Williams' farm advisers refused to back away today from their statements that some Michigan farmers had a "farm labor income" of minus-$100 in 1954.

Rep. Andrew Cobb (R-Elsie), himself a farmer, accused the governor early this week of "misleading" the people in his statements on farm income.

Williams said he based his statements on a Michigan State University survey of 500 farmer cooperators who have kept accurate records on their earnings since 1929.

He said in some of the central Michigan counties "farm labor income" sank to minus-$100 in 1954. Cobb said he saw no such figure in the MSU survey.

(Farm labor income was defined as what a farmer has left after family labor, expenses, depreciation and 5 per cent rental on his land is deducted from his gross income. It does not include produce consumed by his family.)

Linda Yields Gems as Lawyers Agree

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The $132,000 worth of gems that a Milwaukee admirer gave actress Linda Christian have been turned over to the New York jewelry firm from which they were purchased.

The check that Robert H. Schlesinger gave Van Cleef and Arpels of New York bounced. Miss Christian, former wife of actor Tyrone Power, resisted efforts of the jewelers to obtain the gems, claiming they were a Christmas gift.

Yesterday, however, lawyers said an amicable agreement had been reached out of court. Miss Christian, they said, had been given "an undisclosed sum" for the inconvenience.

Civic Parties Brighten Pontiac's Halloween

Halloween isn't what it used to be, at least in Pontiac.

Thanks to the leadership offered by the City Parks and Recreation department, officially supervised parties have all but eliminated the vandalism of days gone by. As a result, says Director David Ewalt, Pontiac's police had only four serious calls Halloween night.

In all, the department supervised parties in six grade schools, two junior highs and at the Lakeside Community building. An encouraging fact is that attendance at the nine parties averaged 400.

Especially appreciated by the department was the help supplied by the musicians' federation. It had offered up to five orchestras for parties at which dancing was a feature, such as those at the two junior high schools and the community building.

A top feature of the evening was the Jaycee-Recreation Department mystery contest open to all school children. The first prize was a bicycle, the second a radio and the third, five silver dollars.

Also much appreciated was the help given by PTA units. Some weeks ago the department offered to supply a trained director to arrange a Halloween party for each school whose PTA would cooperate. We share Director Ewalt's hope that next Halloween more PTA units will be able to assist this splendid program.

It also is our belief that Mr. Ewalt and his aides and co-operating PTAs deserve credit for a big job well done.

Flying Saucer Aircraft Near Production Stage

If you are among the thousands who believe they have seen flying saucers, cheer up, you may be right.

Our Air Force now has admitted officially that certain new types of aircraft similar to reported flying saucers, are under development in the United States and Canada and soon will be in production. Moreover, pictures prove it.

In fact the Air Force in a matter of days will fly the first jet powered vertical rising plane. Another project under contract with AVRO Ltd. of Canada is expected to produce disc shaped aircraft.

Actually experimentation with so-called convertiplanes, combinations of helicopters and conventional planes, has been going on since early in World War II. According to U. S. News & World Report this has produced a wide variety of convertiplane types, some circular, some resembling helicopters and some still on the secret list.

Besides the four already revealed here, other types are being developed and tested in the air by half a dozen aircraft concerns in the United States and at least one in Canada.

There is a revealing coincidence in the fact that in the last five years most flying saucer reports came from Ohio, Southern California, New Mexico and East Texas. It is in these areas that convertiplane development has been concentrated.

It should comfort those who have been unduly disturbed by the reports, that the Air Force is convinced that none of these strange aircraft came from outer space or is of foreign origin.

What all this experimental work means is that we are on the threshold of a new era in aviation—fulfillment of the military need for a high speed, vertically rising aircraft.

Benson's Pork Program

In an address to the Michigan Grange Convention at Ludington, Charles Figy did much to clear up misunderstandings arising out of the Government's pork-lard purchase program.

Among other things Michigan's former director of agriculture, now assistant to Secretary Benson, emphasized an important fact. He said the $85,000,000 program is not a government attempt to put a floor under pork and lard prices.

He added, however, that these purchases might strengthen the hog market by siphoning off surplus pork and lard through other than ordinary marketing channels. By this he meant school lunch and certain institutional needs. The money for these purchases is to come from funds provided by law for just such purposes.

How successful the program will prove in steadying hog market prices remains to be seen. Perhaps the psychological effect of the operation will be as great as that of the operation itself.

No one should forget that the break in hog prices below $14 was a direct result of overproduction. In other words, the effects of a Spring pig crop nine per cent larger than last year had the inevitable result. As these hogs came to market in ever increasing numbers, the prices dropped to the lowest levels since 1942.

It seems obvious that the only sure cure is up to the farmers themselves. That cure, of course, depends on their willingness and ability to re-establish a sound supply-demand relationship.

A letter just received from of Detroit, says he was living in Pontiac at the time of the court house dedication 50 years ago today, and that the parade was "the biggest thing that had happened in a small boy's life." A phone call from

of Birmingham says he distinctly remembers that there was considerable opposition to the size of the new building from outlying districts because it was "too big" for the county's needs. At one time there were three churches at the corner of Saginaw and Huron Sts., and while the court house was being built court sessions was held in one of them. Then presiding over the Circuit Court was who also was judge for Lapeer County. Our Probate Court had Wonder What It Could Be?

David Lawrence Says:

Folks Were on the Right Track All Along When They Reported 'Flying Saucers'

WASHINGTON—The mystery of the flying saucers—it really never was a mystery except in an official sense—has been solved officially at last.

It turns out that the American people had the truth all the time—they did see flying objects in the air shaped like saucers. But for official reasons, mostly related to security, it was apparently decided never to admit that there were objects of such shape—planes or missiles—which could rise vertically.

The key to the misunderstanding is in one word, "conventional." From the start of the stories, the Air Force insisted that observers were engaged in a "misinterpretation of various conventional objects."

Everything that is on the drawing boards or in the test period could be called "conventional." Certainly when jet planes first whizzed across the skies they were unusual to the public but in the technical language used in official statements they could be termed just "conventional" airplanes, if for security reasons it was desired to regard them as such.

1950 STATEMENT

It is interesting to go back five years and compare what the Air Force and Defense Department said then, with what is being said officially now. There is indeed a signifcant similarity and the original theis is maintained. Here is what the Air Force said a few days ago in an official statement:

"We are now entering a period of aviation technology in which aircraft of unusual configuration and flight characteristics will begin to appear.

* * *

"The Air Force and the other armed services have under development several vertical-rising, high-performance aircraft, and as early as last year, a propeller-driven vertical-rising aircraft was flown. The Air Force will fly the first jet-powered vertical-rising airplane in a matter of days. We have another project under contract with Avro, Ltd. of Canada, which could result in disc-shaped aircraft . . ."

Everybody familiar with aviation knows that it takes years of testing of new models before a contract is let or an announcement is made that a plane will be formally exhibited to the public.

The Air Force now says that its own study of the reports about "flying saucers" shows that "all the unidentified aerial objects could have been explained if more complete observational data had been available" and that aircraft, balloons and shooting stars and missiles of various kinds undoubtedly accounted for the strange things people saw or thought they saw. It is officially admitted that a fifth of the reports involved aircraft of some kind.

ARTICLE RECALLED

But it is interesting to go back to an article in "U.S. News & World Report" for April 7, 1950, which gave the first comprehensive explanation of the "flying saucers." In that issue models of "convertiplanes" and combinations of helicopters and conventional aircraft were described and pictures printed of those models which show a close similarity to the planned Air Force "convertiplanes" of 1955. The 1950 magazine article said:

"The first U.S. model designed by Charles H. Zimmerman of the National Advisory Committee for Aeronautics, was elliptical in shape, powered by two piston engines and driven by twin propellers. It had a maximum speed between 400 and 500 miles an hour.

"More important, it could rise almost vertically and its minimum speed for landing was only about 35 miles an hour, a great advantage in military and naval aircraft. And it was far more maneuverable than conventional military planes."

What happened to this early model? The same magazine report in 1950 says:

"It was purchased by the Navy after the original model was tested in 1942. The first full-sized aircraft, built by Chance-Vought, was thoroughly tested by Navy engineers. Then a statement was released that this project had been dropped. Early experimenting with 'saucers' centered in the Navy."

Now the "secret" is out. At least it is officially admitted that "jet-powered vertical-rising, high-performance" aircraft are here and will be seen in great numbers from now on. Nobody officially is saying how and where they were developed and tested and during what period of time.

Do You Really Remember Anything About Childhood?

By WILLIAM BRADY, M.D.

In a kind of symposium we had in this column in the spring of '54 several correspondents told how they just knew they remembered incidents of their early childhood, but I'm still unconvinced that a person past the meridian can remember things that happened before he or she was four years old.

A thick file of letters from readers, who give details of incidents in their own lives at the ages of three, two, and in one case only a year, with corroborating evidence—such as the amazement of older folks that they remember so clearly, hasn't settled the question.

In my own experience, every incident of early childhood I think I can remember has proved on reflection to be something my parents or others were fond of reciting when I was old enough to spell coming, as in "I'm coming home for Christmas" with two m's. Mother broke me of that before I received my degree.

I'm not sorry I coudn't and can't spell very well—it makes me feel friendlier with correspondents similarly affected—that is, unless they talk down to me. When character of the latter sort make slips in spelling, grammar or punctuations it's fun to sic 'em.

REMEMBERS 'PA'

Without precise statistical evidence I can't be sure I actually remember watching my Pa hammer horses, smelling the fragrance (it is nostalgic now) that wafted through the shop when Pa fitted the red hot shoe to the horse's hoof, watching him reach for the handle of the bellows, watching the sparks fly as he beat the shoe into shape on the anvil. I must have been there, maybe four years old—but I can't prove it.

* * *

It's all interesting, friends, but not even the most vivid recollections can prove anything—as this thick file of such recollections attests—to me, that is. I do not mean to imply that your memories of your own early childhood are not entirely accurate. I merely state my own uncertainty.

By association I'd say I was seven years old when Pa suffered multiple fractures in a fall into an excavation. He never made a good enough recovery to get back at his trade. He was disabled for a year or more.

In that year the Chapel Street Bradys achieved the proud distinction of being the poorest family in Ontario County—in the county, not on the county. If any one can dispute this claim in a substantial way, I'll send him or her, with my compliments, the Full Course of Little Lessons in the Ways of Health—a pocket encyclopedia XXIII volumettes. Otherwise it will go into the book as stated, with corroborating details.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long, pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to the Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Mich.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Changing Normal Patterns of Speech May Bring Relief to Stuttering Victims

Tommy stutters badly. He used to be left-handed but his parents changed him into a righthander. Do you think this caused his stuttering? For the simplest outline of why people stutter and how to cure this nuisance habit, study this Case Record. Then mail it to any member of your family who needs it.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case P-387: Tommy J., aged 11, has a very high I. Q.

"But he has begun to stutter terribly," his jittery mother informed me.

* * *

"Could it be due to the fact that he was a lefthanded child and we have educated him to use his right hand?

"Dr. Crane, I have read that lefthanded people furnish a large percentage of stutterers. Is that true?

"And what can we do to correct Tommy's stuttering? I don't want him handicapped like that for the rest of his life."

STUTTER COUSINS

Stuttering has many first cousins. These include spastic colitis, blushing, habitual nausea and vomiting when confronting social tasks like public speaking or singing a solo.

The hand complex mentioned earlier this week, also belongs in the family of neurotic muscular conditions related to stuttering.

Stuttering is a complex that is exceedingly specific. It usually develops during a time of undue humiliation and tension, as when a shy person accidentally mispronounces a word and is laughed at by his classmates.

That single mistake may make his throat muscles go into spasm in the future when he again is in the same type of situation.

"No, no, Tommy: Use the other hand!"

This yelling may cause the child to stop short in confusion and embarrassment.

* * *

offer him his toys on the right side so he will have to reach for them with the right hand.

For as soon as you get his right hand exercised more often than his left, it will be preferred thereafter and he will spontaneously use it first.

But never "yell", and scream at a child or get him upset. Be deft and tactful. Coax him to use the right hand until it becomes habitual.

Since stuttering usually develops in a triangular situation, you can markedly relieve the victim's slavery to his muscle spasm just by altering any one of the three basic points of the "stutter triangle."

STUTTER TRIANGLE

Stuttering thus starts while (1) speaking normally; (2) in your native tongue, as English; and (3) to human companions.

Change any one of those three points and you are on the road to quick improvement.

* * *

For example, the usual stutterer can sing or read aloud or artificially "pitch" his voice higher or lower, and not stutter for this changes (1) above.

Or he can usually speak in German or French or any other foreign tongue and not stutter for this alters (2) above.

Again, he can talk to dogs or horses without stuttering complex, so we have changed (3).

If you adults still stutter, and many famous people do, bite down on your tongue and hold it imprisoned between your jaw teeth (molars) as you continue speaking.

This alters (1) above, for you are no longer in a normal speaking posture, and thus will help free you from the nuisance muscular pattern called stuttering.

* Always write to Dr. George W. Crane, in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

'Despite Prosperous Era, Strikers Grab for More'

We, the American people, are living and enjoying the most prosperous era in history, and the laboring class should be thankful.

But, instead, they are always ready to destroy through strikes, not realizing that they are working hand in hand with our enemies, who have sworn to destroy our industry and country.

These plotters have succeeded to destroy two of our freedoms, through the closed shop and the passing of this so-called "Friendly Employment Pact." Many people don't know the real meaning of this pact and care less.

Taft-Hartley Act Survives 8 Years of Union Hostility

By MERRYLE S. RUKEYSER
INS Economic Commentator

With the putting of finishing touches on the forthcoming AFL-CIO merger scheduled for Dec. 5, it is timely to measure the significance on American life of institutional changes.

Usually candor is restricted when labor-management matters are discussed. Politically, certain delicate aspects were long considered taboo. But the late Sen. Robert A. Taft, Ohio Republican, stepped in where angels feared to tread.

In his Taft-Hartley Labor Relations Act, which has stood the test of time for eight years despite an adverse propaganda campaign which originally characterized it unfairly as a "slave labor act," Taft left an intellectual monument in his redefinition of what is meant by exploitation of the workingman.

Early in the New Deal, the predecessor act, the Wagner Act, frequently referred to as the Magna Charta for labor, was designed to make illegal any "exploitation" of the workingman by the employer or by management.

Taft, who had a profound humanitarian streak, was in sympathy with this objective, and insisted on retaining many aspects of the Wagner Act in the Taft-Hartley Act.

* * *

But in addition Taft felt that the workingman should be protected from "exploitation" or mistreatment from any source. There are even sections of the Taft-Hartley Act intended to protect individual union members from exploitation by union bosses. Perhaps it was this aspect of the legislation which created so much hostility among union leaders.

"RIGHT TO WORK"

Be this as it may, the Taft-Hartley Act, in creating a new approach, made it possible for the states to enact the so-called "right to work" laws. Some 18 states have done so.

* * *

These trends take on new timeliness because the official leadership of both the AFL and the CIO have placed high on the agenda of the forthcoming merger getting rid of the Taft-Hartley Act and the "right to work" statutes, which they characterize as deterrents to union expansion, growth and development.

In the opposition to the Taft-Hartley Act, there has been a discernible tendency to drop the earlier epithet "slave labor law." One possible explanation is that there are at present more jobs available at higher wages and under better working conditions than ever before in history.

These improvements came while the Taft-Hartley Act was on the statute books, and, though it may be controversial as to whether the Taft-Hartley Act helped to bring these gains, the least that can be said is that the act did not prevent social and economic gains by American workingmen during this period.

* * *

The Taft-Hartley Act assures the right of both sides to free speech, though it does set up statutory "unfair labor" practices centering around threatening reprisals for joining a union or implying special preferences if employes abstain from joining.

SECRET ELECTIONS

In order to assure free and untrammeled secret elections as to whether or not a group of employes should designate a union as sole bargaining agent, the National Labor Relations Board, where it has jurisdiction, supervises the balloting.

At present, the board restricts employers from calling a meeting for discussions within 24 hours of the voting, but otherwise management is free to express itself fully. It can compete for men' hearts and for men's minds.

Objective management, in discussions, tries to dramatize the truth that the real boss is the customer, who provides the wages and money for meeting all other costs when he buys the goods and services offered by the employer.

Accordingly, management should envision itself as the star salesman for the labor of the workers, and the only ceiling on benefits is judgment as to what the attitude of the customer will be toward resultant costs.

Astute management does not want a tough or harsh deal with workers. While management needs to be competitive as to costs, it recognizes the supreme importance of good employe morale, and the creative value of giving incentives to workers.

Officials Move to Revive Pact

Highway Reciprocity Agreements With Ohio Canceled by Court

LANSING (AP)—Mchigan officials flew to Columbus, Ohio, today in a last-minute attempt to revive the dying Michigan-Ohio highway reciprocity agreemept.

* * *

John H. McCarthy, chairman of the Michigan Highway Reciprocity Board and the state Public Service Commission, sought Ohio approval of a new reciprocity pact.

The 18-year-old agreement between the two states was cancelled at midnight Monday with the expiration of a court order which stayed the cancellation for a month.

Ohio served notice to Michigan and 16 other states that it would cancel the reciprocity agreements in order to continue collecting its axle-mile tax.

TRUCKS MUST PAY TAX

Out-of-state trucks with three or more axles which use Ohio roads must pay the tax on the basis of from ½ to 2½ cents a mile.

The Ohio supreme court held that Ohio could not collect the tax from Michigan truckers because of the agreement.

William B. Elmer, another member of the Michigan board, said he "presumed" the Ohio board would refuse to sign the agreement.

* * *

Meanwhile, a group of Michigan truckers was awaiting action by an Ohio court of appeals on their petition for a permanent injunction against dissolving the pact.

Competitive Looting

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Competition in the car-looting business is terrific these days, a 20-year-old man complained to police. The man, who admitted breaking into more than 30 cars, said he frequently saw other car looters at work while he was making his rounds. Once, he and another man worked side by side on different automobiles. He said they never did stop to introduce themselves.

Winds Convert Papeete Into Two-Tone Island

PAPEETE, Tahiti (AP) — This South Sea island for the past few months has presented the spectacle of an island that is half garden, half desert.

Rain-laden winds have been blowing only from the south. The southern half of the island has been practically flooded. High central mountains have cut off the northern half, where vegetation is withered thus making a sandy waste.

Missouri has produced more than one-quarter billion tons of coal since 1800.

Sold August 8, 1903; Deed Recorded in 1955

BENTON, Ky. (AP) — Marshall County Clerk Toad Brien shrugged when a newly recorded deed for the sale of a farm was pointed out. The sale was dated Aug. 8, 1903.

Nothing unusual about that around leisurely-living Benton, he said.

It's commonplace for deeds to be recorded 40 to 50 years after the transfer of property.

Federal Savings Group Gives Long Memberships

COUNCIL BLUFFS, Iowa (AP) — The First Federal Savings and Loan Assn. was ready for the inevitable crowd that gathered when construction was started on its new building here.

The company distributed small cards certifying that the bearer "has been duly elected to an exclusive charter membership in the Council Bluffs chapter of the Society of Sidewalk Engineers and Superintendents of America."

Test Case Too Potent for Woman's Curiosity

NOGALES, Mexico (AP) — An American tourist came into a liquor store in this border town and asked the proprietor to show some of his wares.

He brought out some bottles, and she asked if they were really 100 proof, as the label said. "Test it," he said.

The woman held a match to the neck of the bottle. She went to the hospital with severe burns.

'Social Status' Term Baffles U.N. Chiefs as They Try to Enforce 'Human Rights'

"The previous speaker has referred to the right of permanent sovereignty over natural resources and wealth. In the French translation it reads the permanent right to sovereignty. Can the chairman say which is correct?'

The chairman shuffled through some documents. He consulted an aide, then announced:

"We'll refer the question to the secretariat."

A splitting of hairs? Perhaps.

But that is the way the argument goes in the U.N. Social Committee on one of the toughest jobs confronting the U.N.: How to make the protection of human rights a treaty obligation among the nations of the world.

HUMAN RIGHTS

The U.N. charter, now more than 10 years old, makes several references to human rights. It provides for a commission to promote those rights. In December, 1948, the Assembly adopted a universal declaration on human rights. But no agreement has been reached on covenants on human rights which would have the same legal status as international treaties, once they are ratified.

Last year the U.N. Human Rights Commission, after six years of effort, completed the articles for two draft covenants. One defines civil and political rights and the other economic and social rights.

Right now the Social Committee is taking up article one, which reads the same in both covenants. It deals with self-determination, the hot issue between the colonial and anticolonial powers in the U.N.

Britain, Australia and the Netherlands want to delete Article I entirely. Brazil wants to knock out Article I and some others.

Samuel Hoare, a British expert from the Home Office, poked away at Article 1 during a committee session. He quoted from the first sentence: "All peoples and all nations shall have the right of self-determination, namely the right to determine their own political, economic, social and cultural status."

Hoare wondered also about the right to freely determine social, cultural and economic status.

He asked whether that meant the right of a nation to put a barrier around its culture, as Nazi Germany tried to do. Hoare said no nation could determine its economic status—in these days it depends on other nations.

He gave up entirely on social status.

"What the social status of a nation is I utterly fail to conceive," he said. "I am completely baffled by it."

No doubt other delegates will attempt to enlighten him.

But there are 29 articles in the draft covenant on civil and political rights. Each article has to be considered separately, in addition to various proposals and amendments.

It's a long road ahead.

About 68 per cent of all the officers in the United States army have completed one or more years of college.

Kiwanis Holds Meeting

Pontiac Kiwanis Club, at a special meeting honoring past lieutenant governors of Division Five, last night heard an address on "Communism in Russia Today", from the Rev. Joseph Kukib, of St. Cyril and Methodius Seminary, Orchard Lake.

Consumption of cigarettes in Western Germany during the first half of 1955 totaled 20,700,000,000 compared with 18,400,000,000 during the like period of 1954.

Israeli Leader Resumes Control

Ben-Gurion Asks Talks With Arabs to Conclude Holy Land Unrest

JERUSALEM (AP) — Premier David Ben-Gurion today called for face-to-face talks with leaders of Arab States "as soon as possible" to end Arab-Israeli strife.

* * *

Ben-Gurion, now 69, resumed his place at the helm of Israel's government which he relinquished in 1953 to go into retirement. He returned to politics last February as defense minister under Premier Moshe Sharett. Sharett will be his foreign minister.

RETURNS TO POWER

Ben-Gurion, who was Israel's first premier, returned to power at a moment of mounting tension, with Egypt and Israel accusing each other of almost daily aggressions. Feeling also is high between Israel and her other Arab neighbors. There is much uneasiness in Israel over Communist fishing in troubled Middle Eastern waters with offers of arms to the Arab States.

* * *

JUNIOR EDITORS

AMERICAN FOLK LORE—3.
Yankee Doodle

"Yankee Doodle came to town, a ridin' on his pony, Stuck a feather in his hat and called it macaroni' . . ."
Have you ever wondered how this song came about?

It began in London just before the American Revolution. Certain English gentlemen who followed an Italian style of dress were called, "Macaronis," and short, catchy songs about them became popular.

British troops brought the song to America during the French and Indian wars, and the colonists were soon singing and whistling it.

But British soldiers, bedecked in smart, red tunics and shiny brass buttons, were scornful of the shabbily-clad Colonial troops. They laughed and mocked the long-legged country boys riding their farm ponies. Lyrics, believed written by a British army surgeon, Richard Shuckburgh, ridiculed the Colonials.

Instead of becoming angry, the Americans laughed and made the song their own. With feathers stuck in their hats, they rode off to battle whistling the song.

Paste this picture of a young Yankee Doodle and his pony on thin cardboard and color it gaily with crayons. Cut it out to make a circle, then cut around the dotted line on the upper half. Fold back the upper half of circle so Yankee Doodle pops up and he'll rock back and forth for you. Sing his tune along with him.

Junior Editors pays $10 for any reader's idea that is used. Write your suggestion to "Junior Editors" in care of this newspaper; it cannot be acknowledged or returned.

Hodiak Estate Valued Less Than $25,000

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Actor John Hodiak, 41, who died last Oct. 19, left no will to dispose of an estate estimated at less than $25,000, a petition offered in Superior Court stated yesterday.

The document, requesting letters of administration, was filed by Hodiak's sister, Mrs. Ann Sliva. She described his assets as cash not exceeding $10,000; stocks not exceeding $5,000; and other personal property not exceeding $10,000.

Heirs were listed as a daughter, Katrina, 4, who resides with Hodiak's former wife, actress Anne Baxter; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hodiak Sr., a brother, Walter Jr., and Mrs. Sliva.

Claim Russians Use Romanians

But things in Bucharest, though poor by Western standards, look better than the same things in Moscow.

That doesn't mean Romanians are prosperous or glowing with happiness, nor that the people dare to talk to Western visitors. This is one of the most difficult countries in which to make contact with the people. Some Westerners think the Romanians are afraid to complain about conditions in their country, but other experienced observers figure the easy-going Romanians are too smart to complain about something they can't do anything about.

Western diplomats say things have improved here recently, even though the Romanian economy is controlled and exploited by the Russians.

Some Romanians can beat the high prices on food by getting one meal a day at low fixed prices in factory canteens. But when they go out to shop for other necessities, it's difficult to see how they can beat the fantastic prices.

Romania now is producing more of its own consumer goods, but one still may have to wait a month or so for a new model radio or stove if it can be afforded. Most clothing produced here is still pretty poor by Western standards, as well as expensive.

About 25 per cent of the country's arable land is socialized in collective farms, state farms and peasant cooperatives.

Romanian officials recently have been talking a lot about doing more business with the capitalist West. But what can the Romanians pay or give in exchange? The oil and uranium go to Russia and Westerners say even timber is hard to get.

Delicacies Prepared for Ingathering Coffee Hour

Mrs. John Gemmell of Pingree avenue is pictured with her two granddaughters, Lynne (left) and Annette Webb, children of the Howard Webbs of Pontiac drive, Sylvan Lake. The girls are helping to cut the chewy cookies for the refreshments to be served at the annual Needlework Guild Ingathering Nov. 10 at First Presbyterian Church. Mrs. Gemmell is making Empire biscuits, Scotch short bread and cookies for the coffee hour.

Queen Mary Unit Makes Pastries for Coffee Hour

Breakfast breads, coffee cakes, Scotch scones and other pastries will be baked this week and next by members of the Queen Mary Section of Needlework Guild.

* * *

The group will be in charge of the coffee hour for the guild Ingathering at 10:30 a.m. Nov. 10 in the First Presbyterian Church. Mrs. Henry Milligan is chairman, assisted by Mrs. Andrew McKerrow and Mrs. Walter Galbraith.

The women of the section have come to the United States from various parts of the British Isles.

The recipes being used have been handed down from one generation to another among these English, Welsh, Irish and Scotch people.

* * *

It was in 1936 that the late Mrs. Harry Y. Fitzgerald, president of Needlework Guild, organized the Queen Mary Section.

FOR THE NEEDY

She had been invited to one of the group's sewing gatherings. Mrs. Fitzgerald, who loved and lived Needlework Guild, asked the women to join the guild and sew and knit for the needy.

* * *

With Mrs. Harold Parsons of Lake Angelus assisting, a tea was held at Mrs. Fitzgerald's home on Franklin boulevard and the group was organized.

Since everyone in the circle was a British American, the name of Queen Mary was chosen. Through the British consul in Detroit, permission was asked of the late Queen Mary (then president of the London Guild) to use her name.

The group received a letter from her granting the request. She also thanked the women for thinking of her.

* * *

This section meets every two weeks. The women knit and sew, making children's clothes and baby layettes. All of the garments are given through the Needlework Guild to the needy in Pontiac.

Besides the 21 section presidents, 105 directors and Queen Mary Section, the following clubs contribute to the collection of garments and household linens:

Amies, Keloa, Stabafa, Carol Brooks, Beta Sigma Phi, Beta Theta Phi (Alpha Beta and Gamma Chapters), Business and Professional Women, Priscilla, Camp Fire Girls and Parent Guidance.

Shrine to Host Dinner-Dance Friday Evening

Pontiac Shrine will be host to Gov. G. Mennen Williams, the Moslem Temple Divan, and past presidents of the Pontiac Shrine at a dinner-dance Friday evening.

The affair will be held at the Waterford Community Activities Building beginning at 6:30.

Officers of the Shrine who will be on hand to greet the guests include Billie S. Farnum, president; William H. Denmark, first vice president; Charles H. Kreher, second vice president; Forest B. Taylor, secretary; Robert E. Tallman, treasurer, and William J. Morris, chaplain.

There are six pages in today's Women's Section

Checking the coffee cake and the recipe she will be making for the Needlework Guild Ingathering Nov. 10 at the First Presbyterian Church is Mrs. George Bickley of Mechanic street. Coffee and British pastries will be served by Mrs. Bickley and other members of the Queen Mary Section at 10:30 a.m. as directors and members arrive with garments.

Pontiac Press Photos

Sifting flour for the Scotch short bread they will make for the coffee hour at the Needlework Guild Ingathering are Mrs. Peter Leonard of Hill cicle (left) and Mrs. Charles Craighead of Calgary avenue. The next few days will find them busy in their kitchens preparing dainty, delicious delicacies which the Queen Mary Section will serve Nov. 10 at the First Presbyterian Church.

'I Want to Live My Youth Grandly,' Model Proclaims---and She Does

This is the third of 10 articles by a famed reporter on the professional and private lives of America's most glamorous and successful models.

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN

Nancy Berg, $40,000-a-year fashion model, is at the peak of her career as a glamor girl and enjoying every minute of it. She puts it this way:

"I am young. I want to live my youth grandly."

And she does.

* * *

Nancy, who is 24 and single, is an individualist. She works hard and plays hard. She is a 1955 version of an F. Scott Fitzgerald fiction heroine of the gaudy 1920s. She's as up-to-date as the atomic age in which she lives.

Glamorous Nancy, a beautiful brunette, tall, slim and blue-eyed, is one of New York's busiest and highest paid models. She is augmenting her earnings as a model by appearing on her own new five-minute, bedtime WRCA-TV program called "Count Sheep," which runs five nights a week and is making quite a hit.

Although Nancy's way of life is more unorthodox than other top-flight New York models, who are on the conservative side, she is doing all right — financially and otherwise. She is the exception to the rule. She is one model who seems to burn the candle at both ends.

Nancy loves a good time. She takes a drink (vodka and tonic when this reporter interviewed her) and she smokes (cigarettes in public, cigars in the privacy of her home.)

VERY AMBITIOUS

She is a nice, self-reliant girl despite her lack of inhibitions, and she is extremely ambitious. In her daytime off hours, when not posing before the camera, she studies the theater arts and ballet dancing at the neighborhood playhouse of the theater on East 54th street.

She has been "on her own" since she was 16.

Her romances and other activities are mentioned in the Broadway gossip columns from time to time. She is popular with men and has a long list of male admirers. Her love life becomes complicated at times.

I interviewed the stunning Nancy in a Manhattan restaurant in between two of her modeling appointments. When I asked her how old she is, she quipped: "Say I'm 21," and then frankly admitted she's 24. She doesn't look it.

* * *

She was smoking a cigarette in an indolent manner. When asked if it is true she smokes cigars, too, she said yes she does.

JUST TOBACCO

* * *

"I smoke too much anyway," she explained, "and when I smoke cigars I smoke at least 10 cigarettes a day less. Smoking cigars is a habit I picked up in Europe."

She has a "nice" apartment in the east 60s where she lives with a "wonderful" German woman housekeeper and her "adorable" little cocker spaniel. She has a piano, which she likes to play, and the apartment is furnished according to her individual taste.

"I am young," said Nancy, summing up her psychology. "I want to live my youth grandly. I put in about 20 hours a day, counting my work and social activities. I model from 9 a.m. to 7:30 p.m., with some time out for studying at the playhouse school.

* * *

"Youth is wonderful. I go out nearly every night. I think I should enjoy my youth while I can. I hope I'm not conceited but I realize I'm pretty and that I'm successful. There will be plenty of time to settle down."

* * *

Romances? Oh, yes indeed—plenty of them.

She and Dave Garroway, the TV star, were an "item" in the Broadway columns, but that romance apparently is over.

LIKES 'GENIUSES'

Nancy said she likes bright men—men who are "geniuses." She is a friend of Franchot Tone and likes the way he plays chess. Garroway taught her how to play chess.

* * *

She has had dates with other "geniuses." She and G. David Schine, the handsome and much-publicized Army private at the McCarthy-Army hearings, used to "double-date" with attorney Roy M. Cohn and another girl. Nancy regards young Cohn as a "genius in law."

"I almost got married to a French boy last spring," Nancy related. "But he had continental ideas. He thought a woman's place is in the home, thought modeling was 'awful' and thought I should give up my career. That was that—as far as this romance was concerned."

Nancy is often seen in New York's exclusive night spots such as "21" and El Morocco. She also likes to listen to bop music at Birdland or make a trek to Coney Island's amusement park.

Miss Berg was born in Kenosha, Wis., on July 9, 1931. Don Ameche was also born in Kenosha, she recalls.

* * *

Her mother started her modeling in Kenosha when she was 3 years old. Nancy didn't want to talk much about her parents, who are divorced. Her father, she said, is a Navy man.

"I'm not close to my family," she said. "I've had quite a struggle since I was 16."

CAREER IN DETROIT

When Nancy was 6 years old she and her mother went to Red Bank, N.J. There she attended parochial school until she was 14. At 16 she ran away from home to Detroit where she worked in TV fashion shows advertising refrigerators, typewriters and other appliances.

She moved on to Chicago. There she did radio and fashion work. "Then she headed for Miami Beach, Fla., where she was employed as a trick rider in a water ski show.

"That was fun, too," said Nancy.

Nancy came to New York early in 1951 and knuckled down to a career as a fashion model. She was beautiful and shapely and quickly made the grade as a model in a big way. She loves modeling because it enables her to travel from time to time.

* * *

In her new TV program, she makes use of her looks and ability as a model. The program, which is designed to help insomniacs, goes on in New York at 1 a.m. following the Steve Allen show. Nancy goes through a bedtime routine that is the talk of the town.

* * *

She is seen combing her hair or cuddling her little dog, Fido, as she prepares to retire. The routine varies from night to night. She makes a point of showing off some lovely nighties. The program signs off with Nancy yawning and counting sheep as they jump over a fence.

SUBSTANTIAL PAY

The pay for her TV stint has not been disclosed but it is substantial, augmenting the $40,000 a year she makes as a model.

* * *

"Forty thousand a year is not awful," fun-loving Nancy remarked. "Maybe it won't last long. But it's good money while you're getting it.

"I've been around a lot. I think I have my feet on the ground. I enjoy meeting interesting people and I think New York is the most interesting place in the world.

"I'm at a happy point in my life. I'm having fun. I guess I'm in sort of a 'stage.' I'm enjoying my youth, living it up. Maybe I'll never grow up."

'Experts' Try to Frighten Parents

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

How do you discipline your child?

By emotion? It won't do. By reason? The chances are that won't do either. The only reliable disciple says the new book, "Child Behavior," is based on "developmental" knowledge—or what its authors, two child "development" specialists, call "thorough" information on Johnny's weaknesses and strong points at all age levels.

* * *

Well, we haven't got this "thorough" information, have we? Nor as busy parents, do we have time to study in a child guidance clinic—and acquire it.

So these specialists leave us just one alternative, don't they? We've got to depend upon their "thorough" information. By telling us that it bases the "most effective" discipline out of Johnny, they compel us to seek them and their vital information out.

* * *

Today nearly everyone tries to manipulate everyone else. So we can't be shocked when an occasional child guidance "authority" goes in for it. We're constantly being threatened with tooth decay and social ostracism if we don't buy somebody's toothpaste or deodorant.

SCRUTINIZE CAREFULLY

The fact that people in the parent education field sometimes forget their rule against "dogmatism"—and threaten us with an undisciplined child if we don't buy their specialized knowledge — is quite understandable. No harm is done at all so long as we scrutinize what we're told pretty carefully.

* * *

For what manipulators tell us is never quite to be trusted.

For example, the authors of "Child Behavior" write: "If you understand how your child's organism works you will best understand how to move him in the direction you choose."

Knowledge of a child's "organism" gives nobody any title to control him. We derive our right to control our child by our love, our concern for him—our relationship to him.

Knowledge of the human "organism" operating in detachment from love and interest in us may well be the utimate peril of this age.

* * *

Not long ago, Adolph Hitler showed great skill in using knowledge of the human "organism" to make it shout "Heil!" as it murdered and looted. More recently, Communist "brainwashers" have shown us what they could do with understanding of our "organism" by sending our boys home to us dazed and broken.

JUST TOO COLD

No, thanks. We've no intention of regarding our children as "organisms" to be "worked" as you operate a machine as the growth charts compiled by child "development" theorists are sometimes useful, we are grateful for them.

* * *

That's as far as wee can go. The "organism"-view is just too cold, too clinical for our emotional taste.

A waltz-length gown of Alencon lace over satin was worn by the bride. A high neckline and long sleeves ending in points at the wrists accented the fitted bodice.

Mrs. Robert Martin wore a waltz-length dress of coral lace and tulle for her duties as matron of honor. Similarly styled gowns in shades of yellow and aqua were worn by bridesmaids Eulene Morgan and Barbara Morgan, respectively. Their bouquets were arrangements of carnations.

COSMETIC SHADES

Many new and exciting cosmetic shades are offered to us this winter and this very thing poses a problem of selection.

When choosing a new shade for powder and foundation let's remember why we chose the shade we are now using. They were chosen because they matched our skin tones. If you have been wearing a foundation with a pinking cast because it looked best on you, you must choose a new shade from the pink basis. Lipstick should be chosen to match our clothes . . . or to harmonize with them.

Here, we have more opportunity for variation. If you have changed the color of your wardrobe, you should change your lipstick to harmonize with it.

Two shades of lipstick are usually necessary today with the wide range of beautiful colors to choose from in clothing.

Modeling Often Leads to Top Jobs

By ANNE HEYWOOD

We get what we look for in life and we always encounter the thing we fear.

* * *

The young woman, for instance, who thinks all men are beasts and is afraid she'll have "personal difficulties," tends always to meet the most awful men in any office she enters.

But the girl who thinks most people are pretty decent finds nothing but decent people.

This comes to my mind frequently, when I get letters from girls who want to be models.

* * *

"But is it a decent career?" they sometimes ask. "I mean, aren't some of the people pretty awful?"

And if that is her approach, I usually warn her off, because if she's looking for trouble, she will certainly attract it.

DIGNIFIED CAREER

As a matter of fact, today modeling is a dignified profession, one which a smart girl can use as an entree to all kinds of good jobs.

* * *

In the first place, most of us limit our thinking to photographic models, but they make up only a small proportion of the girls who work as models.

There are many, many good jobs in retail shops and in wholesale showrooms where a bright girl can learn the fashion business.

In fact, many of the top women executives in many fields began as models. I checked this point with one of America's leading model schools and the list was enormous.

* * *

This brings me to another point. "Should I go to model school, or can I enter the field without training?" many of my readers ask.

THE BEST WAY

My personal conviction is that a good modeling school is the best way into the field. The training is short, taking less time and less money than is required by any other field I can think of.

The schools help you learn the tricks, develop self-confidence and, in most cases, help you find a job.

If you are a high school graduate, with no particular interest in office work, business, science, teaching, or the arts—and have an attractive appearance—modeling may be just right for you.

It offers good salaries, a toe in the door of fashion and an opportunity to advance into sales, merchandising, or even, if you have the ability and will study hard, fashion designing.

Ann Carolyn Kitchen and Bob Reeves were married Saturday at First Baptist Church. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Kitchen of East Montcalm street, and he is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Reeves of Auburn avenue.

MR. and MRS. BOB REEVES

Marriage Vows Repeated by Ann Carolyn Kitchen

The Rev. H. H. Savage of First Baptist Church officiated at the wedding ceremony uniting Ann Carolyn Kitchen and Bob Reeves. The service was performed Saturday afternoon in Barnett Chapel of First Baptist Church.

* * *

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Kitchen of East Montcalm street, and Mr. and Mrs. Homer Reeves of Auburn avenue are the parents of the bridegroom.

A ballerina-length gown of ruffled net over satin was chosen by the bride. The gown featured a lace jacket with long sleeves over the lace bodice. Front and back lace inserts accented the bouffant skirt. She carried a bridal bouquet of white carnations and roses.

* * *

For the reception held in the church parlors, Mrs. Kitchen wore an aqua dress of taffeta with pink and black accessories.

Mrs. Reeves wore a light blue faille dress with black accessories. Their corsages were of pink carnations.

* * *

Musicale to Hear Pianist, Soprano

The young Japanese pianist Yuri Yamamoto and a soprano, Doralene McNelly, will be guest artists at the November meeting of the Pontiac Tuesday Musicale. The program will be Nov. 8 in Fellowship Hall, Grace Lutheran Church.

* * *

Miss Yamamoto, who has been in America since August 1954, studied piano in Japan since she was 11 years old, the last five years with one of Japan's most outstanding concert pianists, Dr. Susumu Nagai of Tokyo Academy of Music.

Coming to this country under the guardianship of Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Todd, friends of her parents, Miss Yamamoto is now a liberal arts and music student at Albion College. She plans to attend the Eastman School of Music to finish her preparation as a concert pianist.

She has already had considerable experience in public appearances. She played over Radio Tokyo and was soloist with the Tokyo Symphony Orchestra. Last spring she appeared as soloist with the Albion College Orchestra on its tour of Michigan, Indiana and Illinois.

She was sponsored at Camp Interlochen last summer by Mr. and Mrs. Stanley S. Kresge, and she shared top honors with one other student.

SECOND ARTIST

Sharing the program will be Doralene McNelly, soprano, who is now teaching music at Lambert and Four Towns Schools in Waterford Township. Miss McNelly is a graduate of Capital University, Columbus, Ohio, and is now singing in the Rackham Choir of Detroit, the official choir of the Detroit Symphony Orchestra.

In the choir's Christmas concert, she will sing the soprano solos in "Bach Magnificat." Miss McNelly also attended Camp Interlochen last summer. She will be accompanied by Marcella Schalys.

Hostesses for the day will be Mrs. A. A. Dodd and Mrs. Ralph Norvell. At the social following the concert, Mrs. George Wyman and Mrs. J. L. Wilson will pour.

Social committee cochairmen Mrs. J. P. Livingston and Mrs. Ben Jerome Jr. will be assisted by Mrs. B. J. Annett, Mrs. E. R. Bigler, Mrs. B. J. Habel, Mrs. R. H. Galbraith, Mrs. R. G. Isgrigg and Mrs. W. D. Thomas.

This Recipe Will Make Three Pies

Mrs. Ford Snyder Sprinkles Spice on Top of Filling

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

We'll make a guess that the favorite dessert at this time of year is Pumpkin Pie. It's a real American dessert. Now any calorie-conscious person knows that pie is loaded with calories. But Pumpkin Pie has the fewest of all. And if you will bake the filling just like any baked custard, minus the crust, you can enjoy it occasionally. Mrs. Ford Snyder shares her pet recipe for this pie with us.

With five sons at home, Mrs. Snyder keeps busy just doing routine tasks. She is, however, a charter member of the Mothers' Club of the Boys Club. She works with the McConnell PTA whenever she's asked. At present, she's doing a little home remodeling on the do-it-yourself basis.

PUMPKIN PIE
By Mrs. Ford Snyder

1 can (No. 2) custard pumpkin
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1 heaping tablespoon flour
1 cup granulated sugar
2 cups brown sugar
3 eggs
1 quart milk

Beat eggs, and mix all ingredients together. Pour into three 8-inch pie crust-lined pans. Sprinkle with cinnamon. Bake in a 350-degree oven until a knife blade comes out clean.

Edward C. Wells Claims Bride in Virginia Wedding

A gown of blue lace and net over taffeta was worn by Betty Lee Goshorn when she became the bride of Edward C. Wells Saturday afternoon.

* * *

A matching blue velvet headband secured her illusion veil and she wore a single strand of pearls as her only jewelry. She carried a bouquet of pink rosebuds and orchids.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Elkins Goshorn of Fairfax, Va., and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold F. Wells of Pingree avenue.

The ceremony was performed before the fireplace in the home of the bride's parents in Fairfax. The Rev. William J. Smith of the Fairfax Presbyterian Church read the service in the presence of 100 guests.

* * *

Mrs. Ida Thackston of Washington, D.C., was her sister's only attendant. Her gown was of rose lace with which she wore a matching headpiece. Pink roses and orchids comprised her colonial bouquet.

GOWNED IN BLUE

For her duties as flower girl, Ella Lee Thackston wore a blue embroidered nylon dress over blue taffeta and carried a nosegay of rosebuds and forget-me-nots.

Lt. Edward Covington of Ft. Myer, Va., served as best man.

The bride attended Maryland State College and the bridegroom is a graduate of Michigan State University.

Mrs. Ralph Booze to Entertain Group

Mrs. Ralph Booze of Birmingham will serve as hostesses for the November meeting of the North Suburban Alumnae of Chi Omega.

The group will meet for luncheon Nov. 11 at 12:30 p. m. to be followed by a showing of a movie sponsored by the United Community Service.

Chromium will scratch if cleaned with powders and metal pads. Use just soapy water and then polish with a soft cloth.

Behavior at Games Discussed

By EMILY POST

In answer to several letters received recently from readers asking me to write a piece on proper behavior in public places, such as at baseball, football or hockey games, the rules to be observed are as follows:

At all games, outdoors and even in arenas, there is no ban against talking, no ban against smoking or eating, no ban against yelling at the top of your lungs when your teams score.

The only inconsiderate thing to guard against is jumping up in your excitement and forgetting that those behind do not find you transparent!

"Dear Mrs. Post: My daughter is soon to announce her engagement to a young man whose family I have never met. I would like to invite them to dinner so that we may become acquainted.

"We live very simply, however, and his family is quite well off and used to being waited on, and the thought of having to prepare and serve dinner petrifies me.

"Would it be just as proper to take them out to a very good restaurant to dinner, or, since we do have a place in which to entertain them, would they think it strange not to have them here?"

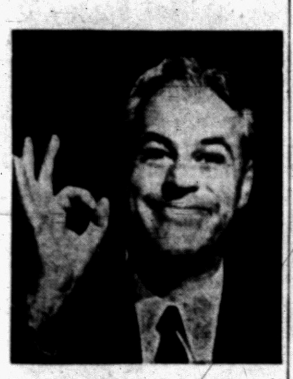
Answer: It is not necessary that you invite them to a meal. Invite them on a Sunday afternoon for a cup of tea.

"Dear Mrs. Post: A friend insists that after a boy brings a girl home from a movie or a dance she ought to thank him for having taken her out. I don't believe women thank men, but I said I'd write to you."

Answer: Certainly she ought to say thank you. After all, this is a message of merest politeness—unless made gushing by the manner in which it is said.

"Thank you for a pleasant evening," or "I enjoyed the picture very much," or "I'm so glad you asked me to the dance" would be mere politeness.

"My Sal knows her stuff!"



▶ I have to hand it to my Sal. She's just a whizz at taking the work out of housework. For instance, most gals practically kill themselves scrubbing and waxing wood floors. But not my Sal! She cleans and waxes them in one easy operation with Bruce Cleaning Wax. The job's done in half the time and with a lot less work. And you should hear all the swell compliments about our beautiful wood floors! My Sal and her Bruce Cleaning Wax sure make simple work of a tough chore. And they make me mighty proud too!

New Wallpaper Has Luxurious Looks, Colors

NEW YORK (INS)—The gal with the delicate air about her wallpaper is right in line with the latest decorating trends.

The newest papers have a luxury look to them—and they also blend in well with the touches of gold to be found in fabric designs.

Grey-green, green-blue and red-blue are the most popular shades. One new paper has the soft, grey-green ground with a Japanese motif of twigs, buds and hummingbirds lightly traced.

For bedrooms, where pink is still a popular shade, there was an airy and light pink paper with purple and blue flowers on it.

For the extra-elegant look, a mural paper in greys displayed low, almost dado-like classical architecture. The only color introduced into the scene was a touch of terra cotta. This would be brought out well in a room using a terra cotta carpet, for instance.

UF GIFTS AVERAGED $25 — Asked what made every driver at Catsman Co. contribute $25 to the United Fund, Jack Adams (in cab) said, "We fellows don't think that's too much to give, when we know all the good the UF does. All it really means is giving up a couple of packs of cigarettes a week." Robert Perna, right, gave his reason, "Several of us are strong for the Boy's Club. We'd give for that service alone." Gifts from all Catsman employes averaged $22.75.

Captive Turns Tables on Killer

Man Who Murdered New Jersey Trooper Slain by Motel Owner

NEPTUNE TOWNSHIP, N.J. (AP) —A 26-year-old man shot and killed a state trooper, and then met violent death today at the hands of a motel owner he held captive almost an hour.

The man, identified as Sammy Alveraz of Brooklyn, N.Y., burst into the Fernwood Motel early today as state police beat through nearby woods in an intensive hunt for him.

* * *

Alveraz fatally wounded State Trooper John Anderson late last night when the latter stopped him for a check on the Garden State Parkway in the vicinity of Red Bank.

Anderson, 32, managed to crawl back to his patrol car and called for help. He was found slumped in the front seat, his service revolver missing. He died later in Riverview Hospital, Red Bank, after furnishing a skimpy description of his assailant's car.

Seek Foreclosure on Auto Heir's Home

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Attorneys for Peter A. B. Widener III, Kentucky and Florida sportsman, have filed a bill of complaint in court here for foreclosure of a mortgage on the plush home of automobile heir Horace E. Dodge II.

The bill, filed last week, asks $89,900 allegedly due on a note and mortgage for $103,500 drawn in August, 1952.

Dodge's mother, Anna P. Dodge, is listed as defendant as holder of a second mortgage on the property dated June 15, 1955.

Dodge purchased stock in the property, known as "Seaspray Estates, Inc." in 1954. The property is located in nearby Palm Beach.

Papers filed by Widener's attorneys said the agreement called for payments of $10,000 on Aug., 15 each year through 1959 and the balance on Aug. 15, 1960.

Resume Construction at Marquette Airport

MARQUETTE (AP) — Construction on a 12-million-dollar air force interceptor base at K. W. Sawyer Airport was scheduled to resume today following settlement of a one-day strike by 80 AFL operating engineers.

Robert Hoyle of the Hoyle-Newberg Construction Co. and William Morrow, business agent of the AFL International Union of Operating Engineers, issued a joint settlement last night saying the dispute which led to the strike had been settled.

Both officials would say only that the walkout resulted from "a series of differences" between the company and union.

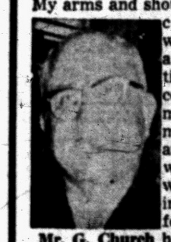
DON'T SUFFER FROM ARTHRITIS—

Read What O-Jib-Wa Bitters Did For Me, And Can Do For You

Mr. Glen B. Church
1404 S. 17th Avenue
Saginaw, Michigan

"I want to tell you my experience exactly like it happened. My arms and shoulders were so crippled up with arthritis and rheumatism that I couldn't take my coat off by myself. My left arm and side was even worse, as lifting my knife fork, or even



Mr. G. Church holding the evening paper up to read, caused vicious plain. My feet would swell up when I walked too, and I had to take my shoes off for relief. Many times I thought I would have to quit working because of all this, but somehow, I managed to keep going. I took treatments, but they didn't seem to help any, so I was becoming quite discouraged. I often heard men at work tell how O-JIB-WA BITTERS had helped them, but I never got around to trying it myself, until one night, I read a testimonial in the newspaper that convinced me that I should give it a try. Right then and there, I decided to see if O-JIB-WA BITTERS would help me. I was half way through my second bottle, when I knew it was really bringing results. The pains stopped and the stiffness started to leave. It made me feel about 10 years younger. I am no longer bothered with arthritis in my neck, shoulders or arms, and my feet haven't swollen up since I began taking this great medicine. I have several friends that used to miss a day or two of work about every week, because of arthritis, but the ones who have taken O-JIB-WA BITTERS haven't been missing a day since. My son was laid up with arthritis in his legs. He took two bottles of your Bitters, and before he had the first one finished, he was up, back to work, and hasn't complained since. My mother in laws used it also, with the same success. When I find something like this wonderful product, I like to tell other people about it. So, why suffer . . . Look at what O-JIB-WA BITTERS did for me. I'm sure it will help anyone who is willing to give it a fair trial."

Bewildered British Begin Conjecture, Rumors About Margaret's 'Eligibles'

LONDON (INS) — Will Meg rebound into the arms of the dashing Billy Wallace?

Or the wealthy Earl of Wilton? Or perhaps the very eligible Lord Plunkett?

* * *

Handsome Peter Townsend is out of the running, but Britain's romantic fever was still running high today over the question of a husband for Princess Margaret.

From Liverpool to fashionable Mayfair, the pub and drawing-room sets were in solid agreement on one thing: It would be "unthinkable" for their pretty young princess to remain a spinster.

Last night's announcement that Margaret would not marry divorced commoner Townsend touched off a new round of endless tittle-tattle in London's smart set over the possibility of Margaret "settling down" with some really acceptable "blueblood."

FAVORITE DATE

But the Mayfiar "insiders" were quickly reviving whispered confidences that the man to watch was not a titled "blueblood" at all, but a wealthy, polo-playing young commoner named William E. Wallace, who has long been known as Margaret's "favorite date."

The 28-year-old Wallace has seen the 25-year-old princess so frequently during the past two years that he is best known along London's society row as "Old Faithful."

The fact that young Wallace does not own a title would not prevent a marriage—at least in the eyes of those who like to think they are on, or close to, the "inside."

They say the Townsend divorce was the real stumbling block, and they quickly point out that Billy Wallace is unmarried—in fact, one of England's most eligible of all bachelors.

ALWAYS THE STANDBY

Margaret, who once declared her intention of being married by the age of 21, has found the ranks of her excorts steadily depleted by marriage over the years.

But through it all, Wallace has been a standby. She has told close friends that she was "very fond" of Billy. But while the Townsend romance was facing an uncertain future, Wallace was publicly regarded as only a "very special" friend.

Now that the Townsend affair is settled, the question is being revived: "Why not Billy?"

He's far and away the best known of Britain's gay blades, but he's also the product of solid British stock. His father was the late well-known Capt. Euan Wallace, a member of Parliament and a former Conservative minister of transport.

* * *

HALF-AMERICAN

In some British eyes, this makes Billy a "half-American." A marriage between Margaret and Wallace, they say, would be a fine thing for Anglo-American relations.

Margaret once confided that she loved to "kick up her heels" the the witty, young Billy, who is sole heir to a fortune of near-thriving business interests.

Although the princess has had many escorts during her public appearances, Wallace always has seemed a little different from the others.

* * *

He always has known, for example, that the princess' escorts were expected to call her "Ma'am," and he invariably has followed all the rules on that line of protocol.

But he also has been able to get away with a parodied wolf-whistle when the princess has strolled into a drawing-room in a low-cut gown.

OTHER CANDIDATES

The other leading "candidates" for Margaret's hand now being whispered around London's West End are the 34-year-old Earl of Wilton, a wealthy bachelor who made headlines as one of the princess' more recent escorts, and the 28-year-old Lord Plunkett, a well-to-do bachelor whose maternal grandmother was the famous actress Fanny Ward.

Just before Margaret left for her summer vacation at Scotland's Balmoral castle, she attended a party given by Lord Wilton and her close friend Judy Montagu. Press reports called the evening a "rug-cutting affair" and said Margaret appeared to have a gala time dancing with her host.

There are a half-dozen "dark-horse" candidates being mentioned, including handsome, 30-year-old Christopher Charles Blount. Like Townsend, Chris is an aviator and an equerry to send, he's never been married.

Winter Rye Plants Used to Cure Infected Wheat

MANHATTAN, Kan. (INS)—Winter rye plants found by chance on a farm near Kansas City are being used by agricultural scientists at Kansas State College seeking a cure for soil-borne wheat mosaic.

The plants showed severe green mosaic symptoms and plants from their seed continued the symptoms when infected in greenhouse laboratories. The seed is being increased so other researchers can have the plants as a host for soil-borne mosaic studies.

HENDERSON, Ky. (AP) — The phone rang in the fire station and an excited voice shouted, "Come quick. A horse is on fire!" But it turned out to be a wooden "horse" marking a hole in the street. Firemen extinguished the blaze in routine fashion.

Doctors Say Heart Can Be Repaired

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Reporter

CHICAGO (AP) — Within a year surgeons may be able to give victims of heart attacks new coronary arteries, or to unplug their own clogged ones, a prominent heart surgeon said today.

* * *

Exactly this kind of replacement or unplugging has been done successfully on dog hearts, he announced.

Still needed is an improved test to pinpoint where the artery is clogged, but that should come, said Dr. C. Walton Lillehei, University of Minnesota Medical School.

Coronaries — such as felled President Eisenhower — come when arteries feeding blood to the heart muscle become clogged with fatty material. Part of the heart muscle is damaged, or dies.

"For the first time, now there is hope that we can open up the heart to repair the artery, or substitute another artery for it," Dr. Lillehei, in a prepared talk, told the American College of Surgeons.

A heart-lung machine would be used to put the person's heart on a temporary holiday for half an hour or so while repairs were made.

And Minnesota researchers have developed a brand new heart-lung machine, the simplest one yet, using a $2 plastic lung and a couple of pumps.

There are two possibilities for repair: One, to cut open the ailing artery, scrape out the fatty plugs, and sew it back together. Two, to take out the diseased length of artery and replace it with a healthy section borrowed from someone else, or using one of the patient's own arteries.

* * *

Artery transplants are not new. What is new is that the smaller-bore coronary arteries can be replaced. This was shown feasible in dog experiments on heart arteries by Drs. Karel B. Absolon, Joseph B. Aust, and Dr. Lillehei.

Such repair of coronary arteries would not overcome the damage already done to the heart by a first attack. But it could reduce the risk of new blockages or pluggings occurring later, bringing more attacks.

One reason for optimism is that most of the blockages occur in a part of the coronary arteries which is relatively easy to get at and work upon, Dr. Lillehei said.

Smallest Baby Dies

BOWLING GREEN, Ky. (AP) — Rosemary Christian, the smallest baby ever recorded here at birth, died yesterday at the age of 10 months. She weighed only 20 ounces when born four months prematurely last December. Doctors blamed complications arising from premature birth.

Sunshine Power Wrings Drinking Water From Air

Associated Press Science Reporter

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—Sun power already can produce fresh water from the ocean at less than one dollar per thousand gallons, can pump irrigation water over hills or small mountains and can wring drinking water from the air, scientists report.

* * *

A thin but tough transparent plastic has made possible the construction of a solar still that can turn out about one gallon of fresh water daily for every 10 square feet of operating surface, said two researchers from Madison, Wis.

They are Risto Lappala and John Bjorksten, who worked under a contract with the U. S. Dept. of the Interior. They reported the results to the World Symposium on Applied Solar Energy.

The still consists mainly of a long trough with a transparent top shaped like a gable roof. A shallow stream of salt water runs slowly along the trough bottom. Sunshine passing through the roof heats the water until some of it vaporizes. The vapor which is virtually pure water, collects on the inside of the roof and eventually trickles down to little gutters along the edges of the trough and is drawn off for use.

This arrangement now can produce water for about 85 cents per 1,000 gallons, Lappala said. At that price it still is too expensive for most irrigation or industrial uses but not far from rates paid by some householders.

* * *

A sun-powered pump which can lift large quantities of water to considerable height was reported by Calvin D. McCracken of Englewood, N. J. It utilizes the pressure created by the vapor in the still to push water through a pipe, much as a gas bubble will push liquid through a small tube.

This machine, called a thermopump, can maintain a flow of several hundred gallons per minute and lift water as high as 1,000 feet, McCracken said.

The thing which squeezes water out of the air was built in 1929 at Montpelier, France, to test a historical theory that the ancient city of Theodosia, in the Soviet Russian Crimea, got its drinking water from limestone pyramids which extracted it from the air.

Dr. George Lejeune, who tested the Montpelier structure, reported to scientists here that the Theodosia theory was plausible on the basis of what he found.

Hazardous Work

NEW YORK (INS)—If there are any government checks overdue for Joseph Petrozi, New York City post office workers wish they would arrive soon. Petrozi threatened a postal clerk with a butcher knife and ax Monday because some checks allegedly were three months late.

Gretna Green in Scotland has long been a center for run-away marriages because Scotland permits couples under 21 to marry without parental consent and England does not.

He Likes the Ocean

NEW YORK (INS)—Pvt. Robert Hruby of Necedeh, Wis., came a long way from his Army unit at Pirmasens, Germany, but the return trip probably will take longer. Army authorities arrested him aboard the liner Italia when it docked in New York. He was AWOL.

The Automobile Manufacturers Assn. estimates that the current annual 560 billion miles of U.S. motor vehicle travel will increase by 33 per cent by 1965.

Right on the Job

WHITE PLAINS, N.Y., (INS)—White Plains police were busier than bees yesterday when seven burglar alarms went off simultaneously. Squad cars rushed to a finance office, two department stores, a bank and other business locations. The alarm system had been short-circuited.

Among older factory employes, one company found that 36 per cent more people qualified as above-average workers after professional eye care than before they sought such care.

Sees Decided Changes

CHICAGO (AP)—A grocery executive predicts that the industry is in for "decided changes" in food processing and packaging.

He added that "meat, produce and dairy products, which together account for 50 per cent of our total business" are in for decided changes which will shift store level processing and packaging to a centrally located operation, to the factory or packing plant."

MTA Chairman Expresses Hope

Higgins Answers Move by Legislature to Omit Freeways From Plans

LANSING (AP) — The chairman of the Michigan Turnpike Authority expressed hope today that the Legislature would ask the state highway commissioner to concentrate on "hundreds of miles" of needed highways without competing with the proposed Saginaw-Flat Rock toll road.

* * *

George N. Higgins, of Ferndale, the chairman, replied thus to legislative maneuvers to exempt certain eastern Michigan freeways from immediate highway department construction plans to avoid conflicts with the toll road.

Higgins has been feuding with State Highway Commr. Charles M. Ziegler, charging Ziegler plans to go ahead with a competing freeway which will make construction of the toll road impossible.

Higgins denied published statements by Ziegler that the toll road would block the improvement of all freeways within a 50-mile radius of the turnpike.

* * *

Higgins said that if Ziegler goes ahead with the enlargement of competing freeways within that area on a normal basis there would be no competition with the toll road.

Police Seeking Gallant Bandits Who Refuse $1

The gallantry of two bandits won't do them any good if Pontiac police can catch them.

The two, unidentified, yesterday forced their way into the home of 72-year-old George Bodell, a Pontiac school crossing guard. Brandishing a nickel-plated revolver, they demanded Bodell's money.

But they turned it down when he handed over his billfold.

There was only one dollar bill in it, and they said they'd be ashamed to take it.

Police are seeking the two on a charge of armed robbery.

To Continue Quietest Atomic Tests Series

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—The quietest series of atomic tests yet has started.

"In a test today there was a detonation of a nuclear device. No fall out problem exists because there was no measurable nuclear detonation, even though fissionable materials were involved."

Residents of this resort city heard and saw nothing.

Bay City Auto Salesman Fined for Buyer's Death

BAY CITY (AP) — A Bay City auto salesman must pay the funeral expenses of a prospective customer killed during a demonstration drive under an order issued in Bay County Circuit Court.

The salesman, Doyle Sovey, 25, also was placed on two years probation, sentenced of 60 days in the county jail, and fined $500 plus $500 costs.

Judge David Lewis convicted Sovey Tuesday of negligent homicide in the death last June of Raymond Bujalski, 17, also of Bay City.

Jet Slipstream Scream Causes Farmer's Death

TURIN (INS) — A low-flying jet plane killed a man near Turin recently without ever touching him and with the pilot unaware of what happened.

Italian doctors said after a post-mortem that the piercing whistle of the supersonic plane had shocked a 57-year-old farm laborer to his death.

THUNDERBIRD FOR '56 — A new 'Continental' spare tire carrier, flipper windows and cowl vents mark the 1956 Ford Thunderbird. The new car has three power train options — a 225 horsepower engine, a 215 horsepower engine with overdrive and a 202 horsepower engine with standard transmission. The car will be displayed locally by Cy Owens, Inc., 147 S. Saginaw St.

Ford Expects Demand of 20,000 Cars for '56 With Higher Price Tag

DETROIT (AP) — Ford Motor Co. expects a demand for 20,000 of its '56 model Thunderbird sports car.

* * *

Robert S. McNamara, general manager of the Ford Division, made this estimate today as the newest version of the Thunderbird was publicly introduced. He said he based the estimate on the sale of 16,155 of the cars in the 1955 model year.

McNamara said four Thunderbirds were sold for every one car produced by the highest volume sports car maker.

The 1956 Thunderbird will carry a price tag of $2,842 at the factory. This is exclusive of taxes, handling, delivery and other charges. It represents an increase of approximately five per cent over 1955. The car has been restyled and redesigned to include a continental-type spare tire mount outside the rear deck.

Its adjustable steering column has a "deep dish" steering wheel. It will have three engine choices, most powerful is the special V-8 (CQ) rated at 225 horsepower with automatic transmission and 9 to 1 compression ratio. There is also a 215 horsepower engine with overdrive and 8.4 to 1 compression ratio is for standard transmissions.

The front seat has new springs and thicker foam rubber. Dual exhaust ports are located in the wraparound ends of a new rear bumper.

An alternate hardtop with a port hole in each side is offered as an option in place of the regular hardtop. The soft top has a larger rear window equipped with a zipper so it may be rolled down to allow full air passage.

* * *

Another option is a combination tonneau and convertible storage cover, colored to match the interior bolster. A zipper runs down the middle so the car may be operated with the pasesnger side protected by the tonneau cover.

Stork Couldn't Wait

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—A new Oklahoma City Osteopathic Hospital was opened 5½ hours ahead of schedule yesterday by an impatient stork. The staff planned a 3 p.m. opening. But Mrs. Robert Gilmore was admitted as an "emergency" first patient at 9:30 a.m., and the hospital's second patient, Lawrence Robert Gilmore, was born at 11 a.m.

MIAMI — Since 1946 a Florida electric company has issued more than 15,000,000 vitamin tablets to employes free of charge. The free distribution was started after tests over a period of years showed marked vitamin-B deficiencies in 85 per cent of the employes tested.

Earl Warren's Daughter Weds

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Nina (Honey Bear) Warren, 22, daughter of Chief Justice and Mrs. Earl Warren, and Dr. Stuart Brien, 33, Beverly Hills, Calif., physician, unexpectedly flew here from Los Angeles last night and were married.

The ceremony was performed by Justice of the Peace John Mendoza in a penthouse suit of the Riviera Hotel.

The elopement was a surprise because the couple obtained a marriage license only two days ago in Santa Monica, Calif. It is the first marriage for each.

WORE BLUE DRESS

Best man for the single-ring ceremony was Saul Bihari, president of Modern Records Co., Los Angeles. His wife Linda, a friend of Nina's since high school days, was matron of honor.

Miss Warren, born in Oakland, Calif., and known to intimates since childhood as Honey Bear, is the youngest of three Warren daughters. Her father was elected three times as governor of California. She was stricken with polio in November 1950 but recovered fully from paralysis of the legs and attended UCLA.

Canada to Ask Mass Induction

Plan Proposes United Nations Include 18 New Members at One Time

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) — Canada will propose soon that the U. N. admit 18 new members all together.

* * *

Diplomatic sources said she planned to introduce a resolution to that effect in the General Assembly's special Political Committee when the subject comes up there.

MAY MOVE UP

Membership is the last item on the committee's order of business scheduled to end Dec. 10. But it could be put ahead. The informants said Canada thought it should, to enable the assembly to accomplish something in at least one important field while the Big Four foreign ministers dealt with other issues in Geneva.

The Canadian delegation, they declared, would propose that all present 22 applicants, except the divided countries of Korea and Viet Nam, be admitted.

* * *

An applicant needs a two-thirds vote in the 60-nation Assembly plus the approval of 7 of the 11 members of the Security Council, including all the big-power permanent members.

Of the 18 countries on Canada's list, 12 are non-Communist and have been kept out by the Soviet veto in the Security Council; 5 are Communist and have been kept out by abstentions that deprived them of the necessary seven votes, and one, Spain, is a new applicant never yet voted on.

Got Hangover? –Drink Juice Sugar, Oxygen

That's the advice of Dr. Maurice Pruitt, Chattanooga, Tenn., who spoke at the sixth annual National States' Conference on Alcoholism.

He also advises that you can take a drug named euporphin by injection to be free of the desire to drink for a year.

Here is his hangover advice: Take a cocktail made of the juice of half a lemon or one orange, one-eighth teaspoon of salt, two teaspoons of brown sugar and enough ice water to make eight ounces. A couple of jiggers of this, he adds, and you are sober in 30 minutes.

GOP Solon Says Party Can Survive Without Ike

HAGERSTOWN, Md. (AP)—Rep. James P. S. Devereux (R-Md) told the Washington County Young Republican Club last night the feeling in the capital is "The Republican Party is strong enough and virile enough not to have to count on any one individual."

Devereux said if President Eisenhower "is able to run, that would be fine, but it would be better to have a well president resting on his farm at Gettysburg than to have a sick man who might not be able to carry on through the campaign."

Sovietskaya Now Offers 'Koktail' for Muscovites

MOSCOW (INS)—Those atomic Soviet "Koktails" which were among the first casualities of the Malenkov administration's temperance drive 16 months ago are making a quiet comeback in Moscow.

* * *

The Soviet Union's No. 1 tavern, the state vodka trust's famed Koktain Khall at No. 6 Gorry St., has long since become a parlor of the Moscow ice cream trust network.

But a second, lesser-known dispensary of the socialized "Koktail," also closed by the Red without fanfare at the Sovietskaya Hotel, sort of a Moscow Waldorf Astoria, for visiting VIPS.

TAKE YOUR PICK

"Taran" is Russian for "Battering-Ram"—half a short of 80-proof vodga topped with layers of Armenian brandy and plum, peach and apricot liquers.

There's also the "Mayak," (Lighthouse)—Hupnter's vodka, Georgian port and a dollop of cherry preserves; and other "strong koktails" labeled Juniper, International, Friendly, Hawk, Sporting, Our Trademark and White Night.

The Sovietskaya's reopened koktail lounge is, however, only part of the newest attraction in Moscow nightlife—a socialist-type night-club.

THE "NOVY-YAR"

The USSR's first nitery, complete with bar, cover charge and floor show has just opened in the restaurant of the Sovietskaya.

It's called the "Novy (New) Yar." The old "Yar" was a pre-revolutionary Moscow cabaret in the grand manner of the bad old days—gypsy violins, curtained alcoves where sugar barons entertained ballerinas and the hangout of the town's sporting bloods who sent buckets of champagne outside to their horses.

The proprietors, the Moscow restaurant trust, charge both a cover and a minimum—twenty rubles ($5 at the official rate of four rubles to the dollar) for the show and 40 rubles for supper—caviar and hors d'oeuvre, main course, ice cream and cookies.

Skeleton, Food, Money Found in Ancient Grave

BONN (INS)—The 1,400-year-old skeleton of a Frankish nobleman found in his grave near Bonn recently indicated that he was well prepared for his earthly departure.

Not counting the recently installed TV antenna on its tower, the Empire State building rises to a height of 1,248 feet.

Truman to Do Writing Again—Autographing

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Harry S. Truman is going to do a lot of writing today — all of it autographing.

Barrymore Memorabilia to Be Sold

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — Lionel Barrymore's accomplished oil painting of a nude brunette hit the auction block this week along with 1,000 other cherished possessions of the late actor. The sale will continue through Thursday night.

Estimated value of the Barrymore belongings is $50,000.

The nude painting, which also includes a portrait of another artist, has been stopping traffic along Wilshire Boulevard where it is on display in an auctioneer's window.

"People have been asking a lot of questions about the painting," said auctioneer Arthur Goode, "but it is not known when he painted it. I don't think there was any romantic interest."

Barrymore, who died last November of a heart attack at the age of 76, also numbered among his beloved mementoes a bust of his brother, John, by Paul Manship.

This bust is being frantically sought by one of John's ex-wives, Dolores Barrymore, who plans to bid on it tomorrow.

SKULL ON LIST

Five wigs and hair pieces the old actor donned in his varied dramatic roles will be auctioned off as will his Whistler and Rembrandt etchings, several ship's models and a library that includes everything but the works of Shakespeare!

In addition to the nude, his original paintings include five self-portraits, a study of his mother Mrs. John Drew and a number of landscapes.

Two Medics to Receive Albert Lasker Awards

NEW YORK (INS)—Drs. Karl A. Menninger and William C. Menninger, and their world-famous Menninger Foundation and Clinic, have been honored with Albert Lasker awards for outstanding work in the fight against mental illness.

The Topeka (Kans.) physicians were among 17 other individuals and four institutions named to receive the awards presented by the American Public Health Association.

U.S. Will Consider Giving Israel Arms

WASHINGTON (AP) — The State Department said today it would consider any request Israel may make for purchase of American weapons.

A spokesman said it was "implicit" in an agreement which Israel made with the United States in 1949 that "they have the right to come in any time they please with a list of requirements which the agreement clearly implies we will consider."

Press officer Lincoln White told a news conference he understood "from public statements" that Israel would submit soon a list of weapons it wants to buy from the United States.

White gave no indication whether the administration would agree to provide any weapons requested by the Israeli government.

Injuries Hamper King in Returning to Duties

OSLO, Norway (AP)—King Haakon of Norway is recovering steadily from injuries received last June, but he may not resume his official duties for some months yet, his doctors said today.

Hollywood Shudders at Expose of Filmland

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK (INS) — I have just seen a sneak screening of a movie of bitter, grimy emotion called "The Big Knife" — a film which should give the Academy Award people the D.T.'s (darndest troubles).

* * *

But the trouble is that what the big knife rips into is Hollywood. And the question is: Can Hollywood officially sanction the magnificent, expert, fascinating disembowelment of itself?

Word is that already there is a shock in some circles of the movie city, where others have seen snatches of this movie.

* * *

Influential film folk and the alleged "little people," who live sanely in the frequently maligned area of Hollywood, are exploding their anger against independent producer-director Robert Aldrich, who made "The Big Knife" after the Odets play had lain dormant around Hollywood for six years—apparently too hot a potato for the big studios to risk their money on.

STARS CRITICIZED

The feeling is said to be strong, too against the stars, Ida Lupino, Jack Palance, Wendell Corey, Shelley Winters and Rod Steiger, each of whom gives a performance worth at least an Oscar nomination.

* * *

Why did they do it? Blasting their own!

The answer should be simple. Palance, who plays a movie star who's sold his ideals, could say frankly it's the role of a lifetime for a good actor. Miss Lupino, who plays his disillusioned and finally destroyed wife, could admit she's never had a meatier part.

Rod Steiger, the ruthless producer in "The Big Knife," Wendell Corey, his corrupt assistant, Shelley Winters, as a no-talent, alcoholic starlet—all of them should admit it was a fine chance to show off their talents, let loose their best efforts, and try to knock off an academy award while they're about it.

They appear, however, to be shilly-shallying.

* * *

Aldrich, the producer and director himself, is a young man of 35 who has come a long way since he was assistant director for "Abbott and Costello Meet Captain Kidd."

It was he who had the courage to make "The Big Knife" when others turned it down. However, in the recent antagonism against the picture, which won't be released till mid-November, he appears to be hedging.

FAUST TRADITION

"It is a moving story," he explains, "in the Faustus tradition. The locale is Hollywood. But it does not attack Hollywood, any more than a picture which shows a corrupt politician attacks all politicians or than a picture which portrays an embezzling banker contends that all bankers are embezzlers."

* * *

The stars, with an eye toward smoothing things over, are taking similar attitudes. Miss Lupino, for example, pooh-poohs the idea that it is a knife thrust at her alma mater.

Why no, is her attitude, it is a story of human degradation, and the setting happens to be Hollywood.

After seeing "The Big Knife" thrust ito a Hollywood columnist, rip open the insides of a Hollywood party and expose the lives of six people who are linked with the motion picture industry, however, it is hard to swallow these protests.

* * *

Anyway, what matter? The country is going to shudder at filmland every time it shudders and cries and churns inside during the screenings of this picture.

And the Academy Award fellas, as I said, will doubtless do some shuddering, crying and churning of their own before it's forgotten.

Heavy Mink Imports May Fold U.S. Sales

WASHINGTON (AP)—U.S. officials were told today that if they make it easier for foreign furs to be imported, mink may go out of style—with disastrous economic results for Americans who breed them.

Arnold W. Mulhern, executive secretary of the National Board of Fur Farm Organizations, made this argument before the U.S. Tariff Commission. The commission is collecting data for the guidance of U.S. representatives at general tariff negotiations scheduled for Geneva in January.

Mulhern opposed any cut in the tariff on dressed skins.

By JUDY CLEMENCE

One of the most important occasions for teenage patients at Pontiac State Hospital was held last night when 15 members of the Pontiac Chiefs 4-H Club were presented with awards.

* * *

Members of community groups and the hospital staff were impressed with the program conducted entirely by the young people. One by one the officers of the club assumed their responsibilities during the ritual.

This was no show-piece of studied perfection. There were mistakes — but the meeting was conducted in an orderly manner and these boys were proud of what they had accomplished.

To the 15 boys went 11 blue ribbons and four red ribbons — an honor in any group.

The audience had an opportunity to see just what had been accomplished in the garden project for which the club had been honored. Movies taken during the growing process and to the time the produce was to be taken to the County Fair were shown.

Dr. Ivan A. LaCore, medical superintendent of Pontiac State Hospital, made the presentation and expressed the enthusiam of the audience. Endorsing the activities of theclub, Dr. LaCore praised the volunteers for their noteworthy contribution.

Taking special notice of the fact that the club had won the county-wide softball playoff, he also noted that one of its members made a very good showing at the Michigan State 4-H Fair in East Lansing, Aug. 31.

Expressing sincere appreciation for the community support and to various service groups was Dr. James M. McHugh, in charge of the Children's Service at the hospital. He commended the club for previous accomplishments and expressed hope for its continued success.

* * *

Dr. McHugh told of the expansion of the club and related that one teenager had returned for the program, although he has been returned to his community for some time.

Mrs. Eleanore McCurry, director of Occupational therapy, explained the special award given the boys' garden project at the regional meeting of the Federated Garden Clubs of America held in Detroit Oct. 7 and 8.

The large assortment of projects available to 4-H Clubs are continuously being scrutinized by John H. Vanderlind, coordinator of activities, Dr. McHugh and the club members for interest and practibility.

Occupational therapists counsel and advise volunteers and assist in solving technical problems. Recreational therapists contribute the use of their facilities which add to the weekly club meetings.

* * *

The club's success, highlighted at last night's meeting, is the result of a working relationship between the professional staff and the club members.

Grand Trunk Seeks to Cut Its Service

The Grand Trunk Western Railroad has petitioned the Michigan Public Service Commission for permission to drop passenger service on four trains that run between here and Romeo and Caseville, the City Commission learned last night.

Because the tracks are paralleled by modern highways and because of the failure of the public to patronize the runs, the railroad said, it is seeking to eliminate the service on the trains which make the runs three times weekly.

It's 37 railroad miles to Romeo. Caseville is on Saginaw Bay and Romeo is in adjoining Macomb County.

The trains now carry passengers and freight.

News of the petitions was sent to the Commission by the public service commission, which will hold hearings Nov. 15.

Trojans 'Play It Cautious' as Last Title Hurdle Nears

WAYNE-OAKLAND STANDINGS

Milford	2	4	0	99	106	3-4
W. Bloomfield	1	3	0	38	158	1-5
Brighton	1	4	0	32	139	1-6

Last Friday's Results—Clarenceville 28, Brighton 0; Clarkston 28, Oxford 0 (non-league); Northville 23, Holly 0; Milford 19, West Bloomfield 7.

Clarenceville head coach Nick Ianni is playing it "cautious but confident these days as he prepares his undefeated Trojan eleven for its last big hurdle towards the Farmington school's 1st gridiron title in 17 years.

The hurdle is the Trojan's Friday night homecoming battle with the West Bloomfield Lakers at Keego Harbor. Kickoff is slated for 8 p.m. If Ianni and company can add No. 6 to their league wins and No. 8 in season play by getting by an injured-riddled Laker team, the Wayne-Oakland crown will be theirs.

Only remaining chance in which the 1954 W-O defending champion Wolves of Clarkston could spoil the Trojans undisputed title chances, is for the Lakers to pull an upset and for the Wolves to conquer 4th place Holly in another loop encounter at Holly. Wolves and the Trojans would end the campaign both holding 5-1 league marks.

* * *

And if one were to ask Clarkston of the Lakers' chances for scoring an upset, they (the Wolves) would probably refer to the 1954 records. Clarkston's single conference setback that season was at the hands of West Bloomfield by a score of 6-0 on Oct. 1.

At Farmington, injuries play a secondary role as Ianni is guarding against over-confidence. "Our boys are pretty cocky right now and that's what I am worried about," the coach said.

In the other two circuit contests, Milford plays I-L Waterford on the Skipper's field while Northville journeys up Grand River to tackle the last place Brighton Bulldogs.

NW Will Not Drop Out of Big Ten Loop

Poor Gridiron Record Stirs School Paper's Suggestion to Quit

EVANSTON, Ill. (AP)—Northwestern, a charter member of the Big 10, has no intention of leaving the conference, university officials reiterated today.

The announcement followed a campus newspaper's suggestion that Northwestern drop out of the Big 10 because it is no longer possible for its teams to compete on even terms with other member schools.

Athletic Director Ted Payseur said: "We have no intention whatsoever of leaving the Big 10. These things always seem to come up. We were one of the first members of the conference and we intend to stay."

* * *

The Daily Northwestern, a campus publication, suggested in an editorial yesterday that the school drop out because of its poor football record.

Northwestern has failed to win a game in six starts this year and has only one conference victory in the last three seasons.

However, faculty representative F. George Seulberger said: "I am chairman of the Faculty Athletic Committee and as such can recommend to the president all matters of policy. No member of the committee or administration ever has entertained the slightest idea of withdrawing from the Big 10. We shall continue in the conference indefinitely.

"There also is nothing to reports at this time that Coach Lou Saban and Athletic Director Payseur are on the way out. We have three more games to play this season and we'll see what happens."

Still another source denied reports that a meeting of the university's top officias, including Dr. J. Roscoe Miller, university president, has been scheduled to survey the athletic program.

Warriors Blank Wever Gridders

Jefferson Junior High School's football team won its 1st game of the season in four attempts Tuesday afternoon at Wisner Stadium. The Warriors handed Wever its 3rd straight loss, 19-0, in a Pontiac Junior High League contest.

Halfback Willie Copeland circled end for two touchdowns and fullback Larry Douglas accounted for the other.

Copeland opened the scoring with a 30-yard jaunt in the 1st quarter, then tallied the Warriors' last TD on a run of 12 yards in the 3rd period. Douglas went 18 yards through tackle in the 2nd quarter and Jesse Watkin kicked the extra point.

Wever's only scoring threat came too late. The losers' advanced to the Jefferson four as the clock ran out to end the game.

Bobby Ball Memorial Last Title Race Under Association Rule

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—Seven of the 10 top finishers in the 1955 Indianapolis 500-miler will drive here Sunday in the 100-mile Bobby Ball Memorial, the last championship auto race to be sponsored by the American Automobile Assn.

Bob Sweikert of Speedway City, Ind., who won the 500-miler this year, got into Sunday's race just before the entry deadline Tuesday night and brought the field to 29.

* * *

The earlier entries include the three men who finished immediately behind Sweikert at Indianapolis. They are Tony Bettenhausen of Tinley Park, Ill., who was second in the Memorial Day 500-miler; Jimmie Davis of Pacoima, Calif., who was third, and Johnny Thomson of Springfield, Mass., who ran fourth.

* * *

The other 1955 Indianapolis leaders entered are Andy Linden of Indianapolis, who was sixth on Memorial Day; Pat O'Connor of North Vernon, Ind., who was seventh, and Jimmy Daywalt of Wabash, Ind., who was ninth.

The $7,500 Sunday event also will have 8 of the 10 current leaders in AAA drivers' point standings. They are Sweikert, who has 2,290; Jimmy Bryan of Phoenix, Ariz., who has 1,280 and is the defending Bobby Ball champion; Thomson, 1,220; Bettenhausen, 1,020; Linden; 927; Davies, 890; O'Connor, 710, and George Amick of Los Angeles, 610.

The AAA announced last Aug. 3 that it was quitting as a race sponsor because it felt racing in the United States was being conducted with emphasis on speed power and endurance of drivers and that such a program was not compatable with the AAA objective of promoting greater driving safety.

Slaughter Enjoys Long Career as Line Coach

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va. (AP) — Edward R. (Butch) Slaughter is a 25-year man at the University of Virginia. The former University of Michigan All-America guard (1924) came to Virginia in 1931 after five years as line coach at North Carolina State. He assists Coach Ned McDonald with the Cavalier line.

Tough Lightweights Meet Tonight in 10-Round Bout

BALTIMORE (AP) — Two lightweights with a reputation for roughness, Paddy DeMarco and Frankie Ryff, will cuff each other tonight (10 p.m. EST) in a scheduled 10-round fight at the Coliseum and on a television network (ABC).

* * *

The winner undoubtedly will make a pitch for a shot at the 135-pound title held by Wallace (Bud) Smith. DeMarco held the title for eight months last year. Ryff's Manager, Charles Black, said he is "ready now" for the championship try.

* * *

While Ryff generally is viewed as a fancy boxer, Orlando Zulueta has a different opinion. After Ryff beat him, Zulueta said he was "the roughest and dirtiest fighter I ever met—even worse than Paddy DeMarco."

DeMarco, a bowlegged billygoat with frequent butting, always has been a picture of roughhouse. He delights in getting in close and swinging anywhere and everywhere with everything.

* * *

He practiced on 18 well enough to win. His only loss was a split decision to Ralph Dupas whom he had beaten previously in New York. The loss was in Dupas' native New Orleans and Manager Black claims "it was a hometown decision."

* * *

DeMarco will provide plenty of ring savvy for the 23-year-old Ryff. The 27-year-old has had 87 fights in 10 years, losing 14 and drawing 2.

Roberts Named Most Valuable by Mayo Smith

Philly Pilot Points Out Robin's Record, Inspirational Value

NEW YORK (INS) — Mayo Smith says if Robin Roberts doesn't receive the National League most valuable player award this year "there simply ain't no justice."

* * *

The Philly manager in a magazine article points out that his great pitching star has won 20 or more games for six consecutive seasons and is an inspiration to the club.

Smith readily admits the qualifications of big Ted Kluszewski of the Reds, Ernie Banks of the Cubs, Duke Snider and Roy Campanella of the Dodgers and Hank Aaron of the Braves, but he insists Roberts is of more value than any of them.

That brings up an interesting question. Is a pitcher ever as valuable as a catcher? Is an outfielder ever as valuable as an infielder?

* * *

The late John McGraw always insisted that Hans Wagner, the old Pirate shortstop, was the greatest ball player of all time. McGraw rated him ahead of both Babe Ruth and Ty Cobb because he thought no outfielder could be as valuable as a shortstop.

Many old-timers rate Christy Mathewson as the greatest of all pitchers but McGraw, who developed Matty and managed him for years, never dreamed of rating the pitcher's value as high as Wagner's.

HEARTY SUPPORT — Kentucky quarterback Bob Hardy today was named The Associated Press back of the week for his performance in the Wildcats' 20 to 16 victory over Rice last Saturday. He scored 14 points and completed 10 of 17 passes for 125 yards.

TCU's Jim Swink Whirls to Top Offensive Mark

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Jim Swink, Texas Christian's successor to Doak Walker in the Southwest Conference, has become the offensive whirlwind in taking over the lead in the major college football total offense and rushing departments.

The Rusk, Tex., junior, who ran for 168 yards to pace TCU to a 28-6 victory over Baylor last Saturday, has sped 851 yards from scrimmage in seven games to take a slim lead in the two departments according to figures released today by the NCAA Service Bureau.

* * *

But Swink's lead is certain to be short-lived, for TCU has an open date while Navy's George Welsh, who picked up 176 yards against Notre Dame last Saturday, and is in second place with a total offense of 810, meets Duke this Saturday.

* * *

Bill Beagle of Dartmouth is the passing leader with 67 completions in 135 attempts for 740 yards and an average of .496. Ken Ford of Hardin-Simmons is in second spot with 65 completed passes for 747 yards and a .546 percentage.

Denver's Jim Bowen heads the touchdown parade with 10 payoff pitches as he holds down 10th spot in the passing department.

Versatile Jon Arnett of Southern California has gained more yards than anyone else by all methods—rushing, passing, pass catching, running back kicks and interceptions. The Trojan, who has moved the ball every way possible, including punting and extra point kicking has thrown and carried for 1,255 yards compared to Swink's 1,176 and Luppino's 1,014.

Phenomenal Upshoot in MSU's Rise

CHICAGO (AP) —Michigan State's rise from the Big 10's second division last year to fourth in the national rankings is all a matter of 10 points.

Even more incredible in this phenomenal upshoot is that the Spartan offense is averaging only 3 points more a game this year than in 1954 when Michigan State scored but one conference victory and finished with a 3-6 record.

Where the Spartans gave up 16 points a game last year, opponents have been able to pick up only 9 this season. Meanwhile, Michigan State is averaging 22 points a game this year compared to 19 in 1954.

Coincidentally, the Spartan totals of 22-9 this year are identical with those of the 1952 team which finished the season undefeated in nine games.

"We expect to play a good Purdue team which shut out Illinois, something we couldn't do," said Stabley. Michigan State beat Illinois 21-7, and Purdue downed the Illini 13-0.

But that's not the reason the Spartans fear Purdue.

When Michigan State rode to national honors in 1952, the Spartans had to intercept a pass within their own 5-yard line and drive to a tie-breaking touchdown which brought a 14-7 victory over the Boilermakers.

In 1953, the Spartans were riding a 28-game winning streak and Purdue had an 0-4 record when the two met. Purdue won 6-0.

Last year, Purdue quarterback, Len Dawson fired three touchdown passes to lead the Boilermakers to a 27-13 victory.

* * *

"That was the worst licking we took last year," said Stabley. "The score is deceiving because we were never in the game."

* * *

Things are expected to be different Saturday. Following an early season 14-7 loss to Michigan, the Spartans have been unbeatable and are rated two-touchdown favorites.

Michigan State has been lauding quarterback Earl Morrall for All-America honors and boasts a powerful line in front of the traditional Michigan State pony backfield.

South American Horse Entered in Laurel Race

* * *

* * *

Prendase, winner of five straight, is the eighth foreign entry to compete against Clifford Mooers' Traffice Judge and another U.S. entry still to be named.

* * *

Darius and Nucleus from England, Panaslipper from Ireland and Prefect from Canada arrived yesterday. Other entries are Picounda and Mahan from France, and Ataturk from Germany.

Kugel ran the first mile in 4:28. He did the second mile in 5 minutes flat and covered the last seven-tenths in 3:26.

Chisox Trio Hit Peak at Night

Figures released by the White Sox today showed Dropo had a .325 batting average under the lights compared with a .280 average for all games.

Harshman and Trucks each had five victories and no defeats in night games. Harshman's season record was 11-7 and Trucks had a 13-8 mark.

Second baseman Nelli Fox and third baseman George Kell were tops with daylight averages of .333. Kell finished the season with .312 and Fox had .311.

Southpaw Billy Pierce was Chicago's best daylight pitcher with an 11-6 record and was 15-10 for the year.

In all, the Sox had a more impressive night record playing at a .689 clip under the lights and .550 in afternoon games.

Stress Pass Defense

Duffy, MSU Remember Prowess of Len Dawson

EAST LANSING (AP) — Michigan State has a bitter memory from last year about the passing powers of Lenny Dawson of Purdue.

* * *

So work on the aerial defense is being stepped up this week in an effort to avoid another upset by the Boilermakers.

A year ago, Dawson led Purdue to a 27-13 victory over the Spartans. He threw nine completions in 14 tries and three of them were good for touchdowns.

"We have to concentrate a lot more on the passing," said coach Duffy Daugherty," especially those long ones that can hurt you. You saw what happened to Iowa last week when Michigan started hitting."

* * *

A downpour of rain yesterday afternoon forced the 1st part of the practice session to be limited to the confines of Jenison fieldhouse.

As soon as the rain let up a little, however, Daugherty trotted his team outside to the soppy turf of the practice field behind the fieldhouse.

End coach Bob Devaney, who has been directing the pass defense, conducted a long workout aimed at containing the Boilermaker throwing threat.

Also receiving a lot of attention from the coaches was left guard Dan Currie of Detroit. Currie, a six-foot-three inch, 210-pounder from Detroit St. Anthony, was shifted from center to tackle and has been running as the number one replacement for Embry Robinson.

Robinson, an experienced senior who directed the defense, is out for the season with a knee injury.

LSU Aims New Punch at Terps

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP)—Louisiana State University, battered and bruised after its fourth defeat, aims its new-found passing punch at the nation's top ranking team Saturday, seeking to dump Maryland from unbeaten ranks.

'Jet' Perry Jumps to 2nd in NFL Ground Gaining

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Joe (Jet) Perry rumbled from sixth to second place in the National Football League ground gaining competition but the defending champion from San Francisco has a long way to plow if he expects to catch the flying Alan Ameche of Baltimore.

The latest NFL statistics show Ameche, the rookie from Wisconsin with 635 yards gained in 116 carries for an average of 5.5 yards per carry. Perry, who gained 149 yards Sunday for the 49ers, has total 466 on 84 attempts for an identical 5.5 norm. Howard Ferguson, Green Bay, second a week ago, fell to third with a total 444 yards and a 4.7 average.

Otto Graham, Cleveland's brilliant quarterback, dropped slightly in his passing average as the Browns whipped the Cardinals, but he still holds a good lead in the aerial department over his closest rival, Y. A. Tittle, San Francisco. Graham has completed 46 of 81 tosses for 780 yards, 4 TDs and a 9.63-yard average per pass. Tittle, has averaged 8.30 yards on 68 of 134 for 1,112 yards and 8 TDs. Bobby Thomason of Philadelphia is third with an 8.13 average, 48 completed of 91 thrown, 740 yards gained and 5 touchdowns.

In other departments:

Billy Wilson of San Francisco continues to lead pass receivers with 29 caught for 493 yards; Vic Janowicz is the leading scorer for the fourth straight week with 49 points—5 TDs, 13 conversions and 2 field goals; Norman Van Brocklin tops the punters on a 45.1 average; Leon Riley of Detroit with a 13.5 average leads the punt return experts; Joe Arenas, San Francisco, is the active kickoff return leader with a 28.1 average, and Los Tngeles' Willard Sherman, for the fourth week in a row, is the top pass interceptor with 8.

Horseman Can't Understand Whipping

* * *

"I stand there and watch them," commented the Olympic champion, "and wonder why they hit the horses."

Gen. Mariles, who probably could give anyone in the world lessons on how to handle a horse, said he never takes the whip to his own mounts.

"I try to teach my horses to love jumping," he said. "If they make a mistake, I bring them back to Mexico and train them some more. I also teach the other members of the Mexican team not to touch the horse going over a jump."

Gen. Mariles refused to say he thought the American team was wrong in helping the horses over the barriers, but when asked why the Yanks resorted to this system, he answered:

"I don't know why. Maybe they want to be sure the horse gets over the hurdle. You know, the national course is too small to do that much in Madison Square Garden, and besides, representatives of humane societies might object."

* * *

That perhaps explains why the Americans have been shut out in the first two international events of the National Horse Show which went into the second session of an eight-day run in the Garden today.

Mexico won the first international test and Ireland the second. The Americans were last among the four teams in the Mexican triumph.

The event won by Ireland's Lt. P. J. Kiernan on Ballynonty, was scored on an individual basis and no Yanks were in sight.

* * *

Gen. Mariles doesn't expect to do well in the National. He was in an automobile accident two weeks ago and still is in bad shape.

* * *

The open jumping, probably the most popular event outside the international, still has not taken on any definite pattern. Riviera Wonder, owned by Bernie Mann of Port Washington, N. Y., captured one stake the first day, and Baiko's Edge, belonging to Mrs. Hugh Barclay of Pulaski, N. Y., won the other.

Phil Warriors Picked as Team to Beat in NBA

Ex-LaSalle Ace Gola Makes Big Difference in Pre-Season Poll

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — The Philadelphia Warriors, also-rans in the National Basketball Assn. for years but now toughened by rookie Tom Gola, were picked as the 1955-56 champions today by league sportswriters. The season opens Saturday.

* * *

Oddly, while Philadelphia was pegged as the playoff winner, the writers predicted that Syracuse would cop the Eastern Division title and that Fort Wayne would do the same in the West. But in the playoffs, Philadelphia was accorded a 7-6 margin over Syracuse in the East and Minneapolis was favored 9-8 to upend Fort Wayne in the West.

* * *

The writers not only chose Philadelphia to replace Syracuse as champs, but tabbed Gola, the LaSalle All-America, as the Rookie of the Year and nominated the Warriors' Neil Johnston to win a fourth straight scoring championship.

Philadelphia finished last in the league's Eastern Division last season despite the heavy scoring of Johnston and Paul Arizin.

The writers forecast this seasonal finish in the two sections: East—Syracuse, Philadelphia, New York and Boston; West—Fort Wayne, Minneapolis, St. Louis and Rochester.

* * *

On the basis of the poll, Johnston will get a stiff scoring challenge from Bob Pettit of St. Louis. Johnston drew 14 votes, Pettit 13, Arizin 5, Bob Cousy of Boston 3, Walt Dukes of New York 2, and Gola 1.

Gola got 75 per cent of the votes for top rookie. Dick Roberts of St. Louis and Maurice Stokes of Rochester had 2 apiece and Ken Sears of New York 1.

British Team Playing Well, Dai Rees Says

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP)—The greens are putting better, the weather has cooled off a bit and the Britishers are playing well.

So said Dai Rees, captain of the British Ryder Cup team, as he led his group out on the Thunderbird Country Club Course for another practice round today.

There were no complaints, either, from Capt. Chick Harbert of the 10-man American outfit which meets the British Saturday and Sunday in the biennial international matches.

Rees said he would continue to shift his players about, seeking proper pairings for the match-play singles and Scotch-play doubles.

Speedy Illinois Poses Question for Michigan

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Michigan's Wolverines face the Big Ten's fastest backfield this Saturday, but their own speedy backs are hobbled by injury.

The worst of the Michigan injury picture, said Coach Bennie Oosterbaan yesterday, is at left halfback. Here, both Terry Barr and Jim Pace, the two fastest, are limping.

Pace, the 19-year-old Arkansas whirlwind, may not even see the Illinois game. Pace has a turned ankle.

Barr, the top Michigan defensive back, besides being its most potent single wing ground weapon, has a Charley horse.

Pace's injury is not responding to treatment, but Barr's leg is rounding into shape. In practice Barr went in early, and Pace wasn't even in uniform for the 2nd straight day.

In the line, Michigan has two of its guards lame. Capt. Ed Meads and Marv Nyren were both in uniform, bucking shoulders at each other, but not participating in the full drills.

Oosterbaan is more than concerned about the upcoming game with the dangerous Illini. With Barr and Pace out of the Michigan lineup, the fleet footed Illini backs, Harry Jefferson, Mickey Bates and Abe Woodson could be even more dangerous behind their beefy line.

Pacing up and down in the rain while the squad worked out in the mud of Ferry Field, Oosterbaan repeated what he has been saying all season:

"I wish we could have them all together just once. But someone's always out-a-hurt. Not once, not one single time this season have we all been together."

It isn't likely they'll all be together at Champaign, Ill., but Oosterbaan did have some heartening news. His centers and fullbacks should be back in top form and his fine ends, Ron Kramer and Tom Maentz, came out of the Iowa game in fine shape.

Rams Face SCL Giant

Although the 1955 Suburban Catholic League football season doesn't officially end until Sunday afternoon when four loop games are scheduled, St. Frederick's gridders probably wish it was over already.

Gene Wright's downtrodden Rams, still minus a victory after 23 tries, collide with a St. Mary giant this Sunday at Orchard Lake and their prospects for the Sabbath afternoon are anything but rosy.

St. Mary's pulverizing Eaglets, who get better as the season rolls along, reached their peak of efficiency last Sunday when they pinned a devastating 52 - 6 setback on St. Benedict at Ives Field in Highland Park.

Orchard Lake's scarlet-clad powerhouse reeled off eight touchdowns against the Bens, a capable squad expected to furnish a busy afternoon for the visitors. The defeat was one of the worst in St. Benedict's history.

Rev. John Rakoczy's undefeated Eaglets, now boasting a clean 6-0 slate, are shooting for their 1st Suburban Catholic League championship. Already assured of a co-title, they will be overwhelming favorites to whip St. Fred and win an undisputed crown.

St. Michael's Shamrocks, pressed to the limit last Sunday before finally eeking out a 20-14 triumph over Hazel Park St. Rita, clash with St. Benedict Sunday at Highland Park in a battle for 3rd place.

Bob Mineweaser's Mikes, who concluded their home schedule against the Ritas, will once again be without the services of speedy halfback Chuck Brown when they face the rebounding Bens.

Center Line St. Clement and Ferndale St. James, deadlocked with 5-1 marks, fight for 2nd place Sunday at Ferndale. Both schools are still harboring faint title hopes, but to all intents and purposes they will be battling for the runner-up spot.

Sunday's remaining SCL contest sends Royal Oak St. Mary against St. Rita in a meeting of oft-beaten squads at Hazel Park. A St. Mary win coupled with a St. Frederick loss would allow the Irish to vacate the league cellar, which they now share with the Rams.

Faculty Cagers Will Face Famed Red Heads on Nov. 7

A team composed of West Bloomfield High faculty members and former court stars, Monday night, Nov. 7 will tackle the All-American Red Heads, world champion professional girls basketball team.

The benefit contest is set for 8 p.m. at the West Bloomfield gym in Keego Harbor. Money raised will be used for the athletic fund to help purchase equipment for the school teams.

The "powder-puff" players boast a winning record for the past 16 seasons. The girls are widely traveled having played not only in the United States, but also Canada, Mexico and the Phillippine Islands. Last year, Red Heads defeated 125 men's teams—their only competition coming from the opposite sex.

* * *

Lorene Milligan at 6 feet 1 inch is the tallest member. Guard Annette Binkley at six foot even is next. Shortest player is 5 feet 8 inches tall. Other stars are "Butch" Moore, Katherine Pitcock, Zethel Keith, Jessie Banks, and Nellie Marlow.

* * *

The men's squad, playing under men's rules, will include: Sam Minard, West Bloomfield basketball coach (he will also coach the team); Dale Nelson, Lakers' reserve football mentor; Doss Wallace, baseball coach; Ken Sauder, assistant gridiron coach; and West Bloomfield graduates Mike and Cecil Hanes and Dick Hesselgrave.

HOLD THAT TURN — Whatever their difference in style, and few look exactly alike, all stars have the same hand action in releasing the ball. The thumb comes out first, leaving the fingers to apply hook spin, as the skech shows.

The thing topflighters guard against is over-turning the wrist, from right to left. In that case the ball will either be driven high on the head pin, due to a jerky delivery without follow through, or it will go into a top-spin. That's the ball that fades slightly and is deflected to the right when it contacts the 1-3 pocket. In place of a strike, it leaves the No. 10 pin, and quite often the 8-10 split.

If you ball is driving high on the head pin, concentrate on more arm reach. Avoid wrist turn and think of bringing the arm up gradually as the swing passes the left leg. I know you'll enjoy the feeling of the thumb releasing first and the fingers applying spin.

BC Central Retains Class A Top Spot

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Other positions: 4. Battle Creek; 5. Birmingham; 6. Jackson; 7. Muskegon; 8. Flint Central; 9. Muskegon Hts.; 10. Arthur Hill.

Tulsa Holds Key to Valley Title

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Last-place Tulsa, without a conference victory in two seasons, holds the key to a Missouri Valley football title chase that's so mixed up Bobby Dobbs' boys still can win the crown themselves.

Snarled in a three-way tie for the lead with 2-1 marks are Wichita, Detroit and Houston, which plays at Tulsa Saturday.

Only Tulsa (0-1) can unravel it because the Hurricane is the only Valley opponent left for all three leaders. After Houston this week, Detroit plays at Tulsa Nov. 19 and the Hurricane at Wichita Nov. 24, Thanksgiving Day.

By taking all three, Tulsa would be the new champion. Each co-leader must beat them for at least a share of the title.

A three-way tie is possible but any one of four teams could take it all. Oklahoma A&M (1-3) has completed its league schedule and is the only team with no chance.

Wildcat's Hardy AP Back of Week

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Quarterback Bob Hardy, the Duke of Paducah who kept Kentucky's Wildcats purring against Rice last weekend with a clutch performance that set up the winning touchdown, today was named The Associated Press Back of the Week.

A bargain basement crowd of backs showed up with outstanding individual performances in college football last Saturday, but none could out-shine Hardy, who twice steered the 'Cats from behind in the 20-16 victory.

Knox Excels in Both

LOS ANGELES, Calif. (AP) — Ronnie Knox, UCLA halfback, does his job well whether he punts or passes. In his 1st three games, while he gained only 28 yards in 15 carries, he averaged 37.44 on nine punts and completed 15 passes in 21 attempts for 179 yards and three touchdowns.

Mantle Speeds Home to Wife in Record Time

The fast wind stream that circles the earth at high altitudes sped Mantle in a Pan American plane the 3,900 miles from Tokyo to Honolulu in 12 hours 11 minutes—much faster than normal flights.

Mickey, who has been playing with the Yankees in Japan, is rushing to Commerce, Okla., where his wife is expecting a baby, possibly twins.

Sooners Defeat Texas

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — When Oklahoma beat Texas 20-0 in the Cotton Bowl this season it marked the 4th straight win for the Sooners over the Longhorns. Oklahoma now has beaten Texas 18 times in 50 games. Two were ties. The shutout was Oklahoma's 5th over the Texans.

Cuban Valdes, Robinson Climb

'Sugar Ray' Replaces Humez in Welter Rank; Jackson Slips

NEW YORK (AP)—Sugar Ray Robinson has replaced France's Charley Humez as the No. 1 middleweight contender and Cuba's Nino Valdes has moved ahead of Hurricane Tommy Jackson in the heavyweight class.

These were among the many changes made in the monthly boxing rankings released today by Ring Magazine, the boxing publication.

Robinson, who meets middleweight king Bobo Olson in a title fight in Chicago, Dec. 9, was second a month ago. Humez was dropped to third because of inactivity. Rocky Castellani advanced to second.

Jackson's loss to Jimmy Slade dropped the Hurricane from third to fourth, reversing positions with Valdes. Slade, unranked for many months, vaulted to fifth place among the contenders. Light-heavyweight champion Archie Moore and Bob Baker of Pittsburgh remained as the top two contenders.

Rice Award Winner Honored Yesterday

NEW YORK (AP)—Friends of the late Grantland Rice, including sports writers, athletes, leaders of the business world and politicians, attended a luncheon yesterday honoring Fred Russell of the Nashville Banner.

The Tennessee sports editor was given the first annual Grantland Rice Memorial Plaque as the one best carrying out the ideals and sportsmanship of Rice, who died last year.

Owners of Top Horses to Be Feted in Miami

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — General managers and officials from the country's major race tracks will meet in Miami on Dec. 5 for the 14th annual TRA meeting. Highlight of the dinner to be held on the final night, Dec. 8, will be the awarding of honors to owners of the leading horses of the 1955 campaign.

Melbourne Cup to Be Symbol of Happiness

MELBOURNE, Australia (AP) — Norm. H. McDonald, owner of Melbourne Cup winner Toparoa, today said he's going to make the trophy "the cup that cheers."

* * *

He plans to make the big cup available to customers in his hotel bar in Hawera, New Zealand, and they can have it filled with beer or any other drink they want any time they like.

McDonald picked up the cup, worth more than $1,000 and first prize money of $22,500 yesterday when Toparoa, a 7-year-old gelding, won the 2-mile handicap at the Flemington Race Track.

* * *

The cup came as a 56th birthday present for McDonald who said he'll place the trophy in a glass case in the bar room and leave the key in the door for the pleasure of the customers.

Rocky Promises Archie 2nd Shot

Moore Says Champion Said He 'Deserved' Another Chance

NEW YORK (AP)— Archie Moore is sure he's going to get another shot at heavyweight champion Rocgy Marciano next June "because Rocky told me so."

"The night of the fight, Rocky told me 'you deserve another chance,'" said Moore yesterday. "I'm going to hold him to his word.

"Who else is he going to fight? That Hurricane Jackson man eliminated himself the other night, losing to Jimmy Slade."

Moore was in town to agree to terms for a light heavyweight title defense against Yolande Pompey of Trinidad, at Earl's Court, London, Jan. 10. But all he wanted to talk about was Marciano.

World Series Hurling May Cure 'Buck Fever'

WITHERBEE, N. Y. (AP) — After the manner in which he blanked the New York Yankees to give the Brooklyn Dodgers their 1st World Series conquest, Johnny Podres shouldn't have "buck fever" this winter. Johnny loves to hunt deer in the Adirondacks near his home and recalls the time he took four shots at a buck standing 100 yards away. None of the shots brought down the big buck.

Zelenka Sets Example, Cottrell Follows Suit

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — After Al Cottrell of Tulane missed the 1st try for an extra point against VMI, Emmett Zelenka booted seven straight extra points. Then Cottrell, apparently watching how it was done, booted one between the uprights to make it eight straight for the Green Wave in its 1st three games.

Hunters and fishermen spent an estimated $250 million in Minnesota during the two years of 1951 and 1952.

Pelee's 'Golden Egg' Turning Bad

By JACK PATTERSON

Pelee Island, long a favorite hunting ground for Pontiac residents, might well take a look at what over-commercialization did to pheasant hunting in South Dakota. Once a drawing card for hunters from all over the country, South Dakota is now a dead issue for non-residents. Pelee Island could kill the goose that lays a mighty big annual golden egg, too. The following letter from Pontiac attorney Glenn Gillespie sums up the current situation:

PATTERSON

* * *

"The annual pheasant hunt at Pelee Island in Lake Erie came to an end last Thursday with a majority of disgruntled hunters returning to the Ontario mainland at Kingsville with lean bags of game.

* * *

"Pelee Island, situated about 25 miles south of Kingsville, for many years has been known throughout the country as a paradise for pheasants. The 20-odd square mile island is devoted almost entirely to growing corn, soy beans and wheat.

"The interior of the island is below lake level and is drained by deep ditches, water from which is periodically pumped back into the lake. The combination of rich farm lands and ditches for cover provide ideal breeding conditions for pheasants, and free from natural enemies they have multiplied enormously in the past."

* * *

"For a number of years Pelee Township has cashed in on the pheasant population by licensing non-resident hunters for a two-day hunt for a fee of $25. In addition, hunters from the U. S., who form the majority making the pilgrimage to the island each year, must purchase a Canadian small game license for an additional $21.

"This year about 1650 non-resident licenses were issued by the township. For several days preceding the Oct. 26 opening hunters came in by plane, yacht and the small passenger steamer from Kingsville. On the evening preceding the opening every bed in the small hotel, each home in the tiny village, and every farm house was filled to capacity, at an average of $10 per person per night.

"All Canadian small game licenses were exhausted and game wardens collected the fee and issued receipts with a notation that licenses would be issued when available.

"Each license permitted the hunter, between the hours of 8 a.m. and 5 p.m. during the two-day season, to shoot six hens and four cocks which could be transported to the U. S.

"Few hunters filled their licenses during the two-days shooting. Representatives of the Ontario Fish and Game Commission at the ferry dock reported an average bag of about six hens to one cock, with few adult birds.

"Residents stated that the pheasant population has been steadily decreasing during the past few years and efforts to import new breeding stock have not been too successful. Nearly all agreed that the pheasant supply was dangerously depleted by the shoot, and unless drastic measures are taken to bring in new stock and also curtail the shooting, few hunters would return next year. Meanwhile landowners were commencing to worry about an increase in taxes, because in the past revenue from hunting licenses has paid a large portion of township taxes."

Wayne Prexy States College Grid Views

DETROIT (AP) — President of Wayne University, where football has been strongly de-emphasized, says all college football eventually will be played either on a "big time" or purely amateur basis.

Schools will either field teams of carefully pickel athletes and play their games in big stadiums before big crowds, or, like Wayne, play football with no dependence on gate receipts, Dr. Clarence Hilberry said yesterday.

"Those in between won't be able to stay there because the cost is too high," he said in a talk before the Michigan Football Writers Assn.

Claims Nail's Wink Brought His Purchase

CAMDEN, N. J.—Trainer George P. (Maje) Odom of Nail, winner of the Belmont Futurity, says the horse winked at Mrs. Anson Bigelow of Palm Beach, Fla., at the 1954 Saratoga yearling sales. It was then that Mrs. Bigelow bid in the grey colt for $20,000. Mrs. Bigelow is the former Josephine (Fifi) Widener.

Need Basic Knowledge

Hunting Popular Sport With Many Uninformed

By MORT NEFF

Hunting as a sport has a broad and powerful appeal to many people who have little or no knowledge of the proper choice of weapons, apparel or methods. Guidance from well-meaning friends is not always sound—and it all adds up to a large group of would-be hunters who stay at home because of a lack of basic information. Maybe we can help point the way in this column.

NEFF

Let's assume that you'd like to go after Michigan's "big game" — the white-tail deer. What gun should you choose? Insofar as make is concerned you must choose the gun that fits you best . . . one that comes to your shoulder quickly and easily, and puts your eye on the sights properly. As for caliber, the 30-06 is probably the best all-around choice.

For bird hunters, including those who plan to try for grouse, pheasant, or waterfowl you must choose from a wide variety of shotguns. The gauges here vary from the tiny .410 to the blockbusting 10 . . . and somewhere in between is the right gun for you. Your weight, sex, and stamina have a lot to do with your choice.

Unless you're hunting ducks (during which you normally move about every little) there'll be a lot of miles ahead over rough ground when your gun can begin to feel like a 75 mm cannon!

Therefore the choice of the lightest gun to do the job is essential. Probably the best all-around compromise is the 16 gauge pump gun, fitted with a variable choke on the end of the barrel. Some of these guns weigh as little as 6½ pounds, and are balanced beautifully for an all-day hunt.

With the variable choke attachment you'll be ready for grouse at close range, pheasant at a slighter longer distance, and those fast flying ducks at 40 yards or more. The choke controls the density of your shot pattern at a given distance.

Hartwig Considers Kramer's Pro Bid

BRISBANE (AP)—Australian Davis Cup player Rex Hartwig said today he is considering an offer to join Jack Kramer's professional tennis troupe.

Hartwig told a reporter he had a radiotelephone call from Kramer yesterday just before his quarter-final match with Mal Anderson in the Queensland championships. The 20-year-old Anderson beat Hartwig 8-6, 6-2, 7-5.

"I guess I was thinking about the offer during play, but that was not the cause of my defeat," Hartwig said.

He refused to disclose the amount Kramer offered him.

Jackie Denies He's Quitting

Rumors That Robinson Will Go to Vancouver Rebuked by Star

NEW YORK (AP) — Add another rumor to the winter baseball guessing game: Jackie Robinson will call it quits with the Brooklyn Dodgers and take a job as manager of Vancouver in the Pacific Coast League.

* * *

A Vancouver newspaper, The Province, published the report as "a possibility" yesterday.

Robinson thought the idea or "any right proposition" along that line would be fine. But as yet he's heard nothing from the Vancouver club itself.

Brick Laws, the club owner who moved his PCL franchise from Oakland to Vancouver last September, wasn't available for immediate comment, but his wife thought "he certainly will be glad to know" Robinson's getting the job.

Jackie, who hasn't yet signed a contract for 1956 with Brooklyn's world champions, told The Associated Press from his home in Stamford, Conn., that "as far as I know right now, I'll be playing with the Dodgers again next year."

* * *

The 36-year-old veteran, first Negro to break into organized ball, insisted he had heard nothing from Laws himself, but explained that would be "tampering," anyway. "They'd have to contact the Dodgers first."

Buzzy Bavasi, Dodger vice president and the man who would have comment on the matter, was enroute to Brooklyn from a league meeting in Chicago.

* * *

The Province quoted Robinson as saying in a telephone interview he is "certainly interested in listening to such an offer." The newspaper said Robbie added:

"I spent the happiest year of my life in Montreal in 1946 and always have treasured the wonderful treatment I got from Canadian fans. My wife and I have spoken often about this and always have hoped someday to return to Canada."

Gale Stringer Heads Birmingham CC for '56

Gale Stringer was elected president; William T. Birnie, vice president; Charles R. Turner, secretary and Howard M. Stiller was re-elected treasurer.

At a prior election, four new members of the club's board of directors were chosen. Samuel Bullock, Joseph Greene, Thomas Lowery and Arthur Zebedee will serve until 1958.

Bill Virdon played five years in the minors before making the National League.

U. S. Seizes Ball Club for Back Taxes

RICHMOND, Va. (AP)—The federal government today had something a little different on its hands— a baseball club.

* * *

The Federal tax collector yesterday seized the assets of the Richmond Virginians of the Class AAA International League and will sell the club at public auction to satisfy a $79,216.68 tax claim. It was believed the first time the government ever seized a baseball club for back taxes.

An unidentified group of seven quickly indicated it plans to bid for the club's purchase. E. E. Haddock, a Richmond city councilman who acted as the group's spokesman, said it would be "premature at this time" to identify the men involved.

* * *

The group met two weeks ago with Frank Shaughnessy, International League president. At that time, there was speculation one of the group was former major leaguer Luke Sewell, Toronto manager the past two years.

The order seizing the club was directed at Consolidated Enterprises, Inc. headed by Harry C. Seibold. Included in the seizure were contracts of 18 players, uniforms, bats, balls, a scoreboard, catcher's masks, shin guards, a lime spreader and a whirlpool bath.

Clifford W. Glotzbach, Virginia internal revenue service director, said the back taxes owed by the club included $31,558.55 for admissions for 1954, and $47,660.13 for withholding and social security taxes during 1954-55. He added the club paid admissions taxes for 1955.

* * *

Tax agents notified Seibold of the action yesterday. Seibold made no comment regarding the seizure. A suit was filed in Law and Equity Court here nearly two months ago against Seibold and Consolidated for back rent on Parker Field. The plaintiff was the Greater Richmond Civic Assn., which leases the field to the Virginians.

* * *

No date has been set for the club's public sale. Federal regulations require the tax collector to hold up the proposed sale until 10 days after he publishes notice of sale but not more than 40 days after publication of the notice.

Shaughnessy indicated in Montreal he may postpone Saturday's scheduled meeting of the league in Buffalo "until the status of the Richmond franchise is clarified."

Richmond started its International League operation in 1954 when the Baltimore franchise was moved here. The Virginians, managed both years by former Chicago White Sox star shortstop Luke Appling, finished the 1955 campaign in the cellar.

Football Sans Arms

Conversion Kicker Doesn't Use Them, so Madison Boy Gets Chance at Game

By GEORGE TRUMBULL JR.

Jim Campbell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Saylor of 30799 Brush, Royal Oak Township, sophomore at the small Royal Oak school on John R, is playing his 1st year of varsity football for the championship bound Madison Eagles. He was born without arms.

Jim's record is not outstanding, but he has split the crossbars twice in eight attempts and because of this Campbell can be seen every afternoon practicing before the goal posts. He participates in limited warm-up exercises and then adjourns to the practice field. Holder for the conversions is 17-year-old junior Jack Tompkins.

Jim was fitted for artificial arms five years ago and wears them for class room work, but when he goes out for practice, he leaves the arms behind in the gym because he is afraid that he will get injured, as he puts it.

Despite his handicap, the Madison mediocre student does not stop at the gridiron sport. When spring rolls around, Jim is a member of the Madison track squad running "about anything." He says he is not active in winter sports but loves to skate.

Last summer he joined a recreational league baseball team in Royal Oak and batted .250 by using a technique he has adapted to overcome the handicap. He plays right field for the same team.

Asked if he plans to continue playing football for Madison, Jim said: "I hope to, if I can stay eligible."

Mountaineers Are Husky

Winless Team Keeps Scoring Moral Wins

In fact, they haven't won a regularly scheduled game since they first fielded their high school team four years ago. They got a tie, though.

* * *

The losing streak has almost become a source of pride. Carroll Abbott of the Kerville Times reports that the Rebels are pets of local grid fans. As one local supporter puts it, it would almost be a shame if the boys win Friday.

Janowicz Makes Grade in Big Time Football

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vic Janowicz, who failed in his attempts to make the big leagues as a catcher with Pittsburgh, has found his mark in big league football. In his 1st four games with Washington's Redskins he scored 40 points to lead the National Football League scorers. He scored four touchdowns, kicked two field goals and made 10 extra points in 11 attempts.

New Candidates Face Real Test

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)— It's been true in other years that the personality of the presidential candidates was a far more vivid factor than the party platforms. It will be particularly true in 1956.

The Democrats and Republicans are so close in their thit afterallowingfore x HMHHM after allowing for extremists and die-hards in both parties — the voters will have trouble choosing between them.

Since neither the parties nor their candidates will want to rock the boat wit novel notions at a time of high prosperity, the voters will be inclined to look closer at the candidates to decide which is more likely to keep the count steady.

EXAMINE SUCCESSOR

This is written on the assumption President Eisenhower will not run again. It's especially because of him, even though he doesn't run, that the voters will examine his would-be successors critically.

They have been exposed, in Eisenhower, to an unusual politica personality. It is an extraordinary political feat that he has retained his enormous popularity after three years of the hurly-burly in the White House.

This in itself is enough to make the voters not only conscious of what the 1956 candidates represent in the way of party promises but of what kind of men they are in themselves.

* * *

The Democrats will probably argue that they set the country on the road to the prosperity it is enjoying now. The Republicans will no doubt claim the credit for Eisenhower, with assurances they will keep up the good work.

ABOVE THE MUD

But aside from the social and economic aspects of Eisenhower's administration, one thing became clearer the longer he stayed in office: He kept himself and the office of the presidency above the mud and feuds of American politics.

By calling no names, getting into no personal uarrels, avoiding all appearance of emotional conflicts and petty spites, he has given the impression of a president who had everything under control, including himself.

* * *

He has handled himself in such a way there have been no attacks on him and practically no blame for anything that went wrong. When anything does go sour, it's blamed on his subordinates, never on him. The result for Eisenhower has been so good he must be classed — whether or not you agree with his programs or his vision or his wisdom — as one of the best politicians in American history.

Marquette Attorney Dies

MARQUETTE, Mich (AP)—John J. Walsh, 66, city attorney for Marquette since 1927, died today at the Mayo Clinic in Rochester, Minn. He had been a practicing attorney here since 1919.

The Greeks Didn't Even Have a Word For It—

Nor did the Romans. It was many centuries later that insurance, as we know it today, came into being.

Like so many good things of this day and age, we take insurance and the protection it provides, for granted.

To many, an insurance policy is just a piece of paper, to be tucked away in a desk drawer and forgotten until something happens.

If something does happen, we suddenly realize that this piece of paper may save us from ruin.

That is why it is important to buy your insurance through an experienced agent who represents strong and long established companies.

Hal Boyle Says:

Wilbur Knows How to Capture a Princess

HOMETOWN, U.S.A. (AP)—Wilbur Peeble, America's most average husband, came home, sat down on the sofa, and pulled off his shoes.

He wiggled his stockinged toes, groaned as he stared at them with the intent look men give their feet when they hurt.

* * *

'Boy, am I glad this day is over," he said loudly.

His wife, Trellis Mae, looked up from the desk where she had been scribbling busily.

"Oh, you startled me," she said. "Are you home?"

"I don't know whether this is home," replied her husband with heavy irony. "But its where I hang up my pants at night."

* * *

Trellis Mae let the remark pass. Wilbur wondered vaguely if he were ill.

"Wilbur, I'm writing a petition, and I need your help."

"Now what's the P.T.A. done wrong?" he asked.

"This isn't about school. It's about Meg and Peter.'

"You mean those new neighbors who moved in upstairs? Are they making noise already?"

* * *

"No, stupid, I mean Princess Margaret Rose and Capt. Peter Townsend. He wants to marry her but she told him no on account of she has to put duty ahead of love on account of he's divorced and she is a member of royalty and she can't marry him because his first wife is still alive."

"So what?" yawned Wilbur.

"So it sounds pretty flimsy to me. She keeps him dangling for two years, then they enjoy 18 days together and then she tells him it's no go. Mighty fishy. Old King Henry VIII, when he wanted to marry a new wife, didn't worry about divorce. He just lopped off the head of his old wife."

"Not a bad idea," murmured Wilbur.

"What did you say?"

"I said—what a batty idea," backtracked Wilbur quickly. "But what's all this about a petition?"

"Well, the ladies of our club met today and voted unanimously to inform the British ambassador that we thought Margaret Rose's attitude was strickly un-American. I'm supposed to draw up the petition."

* * *

"You mean the British government not only has to deal with the Mau Maus but also faces the problem of handling the Minerva Literary and Gin Rummy Society?" said Wilbur. "I'll have nothing to do with the petition. Britain has enough woes."

"But poor, poor Capt. Peter Townsend — my heart bleeds for him," cried Trellis Mae.

"Mine doesn't," said Wilbur, 'in a way he's better off. If she'd said yes, there'd always be gossip that he was merely a poor fly boy who stole the key to a woman's favor and fortune.

* * *

"Now he's free to make a million dollars on his own. He could get at least a half million writing his memoris, '18 days in the Wrong Castle," a quarter million starring in a Hollywood movie of his life, and another quarter million lecturing to women's clubs and turning out magazine articles."

"Oh, Peter Townsend would never stoop to such things," objected Trellis Mae. "After all, he's royal, too, in his own way. He was a hero in the Royal Air Force."

* * *

Trellis Mae looked at him curiously.

"Supposing I was a princess and you wanted to marry me but there were rules against it and I said I couldn't marry you—well, what would you do."

* * *

"I'd do like I did before," said Wilbur, "like I did when your old man said I wasn't making enough money to support us both, and your mother said she couldn't bear to see you leave home, and you said maybe we'd better put it off a while, and I told you that people can't just go on through life putting off love, and I dragged you out of the house and married you."

Trellis Mae's eyes misted. She tore up the petition to the British government, came over and sat in her husband's lap, rumpled his hair and kissed him.

Hollywood Headlines:

Republic Has Big Plans for Filming Mormon Tale

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD (INS)—So excited is Herbert "Papa" Yates about his $2,000,000 plans for Republic's next biggie that he called me from his suite aboard the SS United States that he's bought "Papa Married a Mormon!" I admit it sounded at first like "Papa Married a Moron" until he got the connection clearer.

But anything involving so much money is no laughing matter — particularly with Yates cabling MCA asking for Gregory Peck to star in John Fitzgerald's book purchased for $100,000.

"It's our biggest picture since 'The Quiet Man,'" the headman of the valley studio told me over the bounding Atlantic waves, "and Republic and Prentice Hall Publishing Co. have joined to spend $250,000 to publicize the book and picture on an international basis."

VALUABLE STORY

He has assigned Mervyn Le Roy to direct and produce it, and although they say on the Warner lot that no actor has been chosen, it would be surprising, indeed, if Jack doesn't go after Andy Griffith.

This young actor is so good in the play on Broadway that even the cast applauded him on opening night — an unprecedented thing in a New York theater.

"Wouldn't that be something?" said Frankie. "We have wonderful Cole Porter music and both roles are of equal importance. High time that Bing and I do a picture together."

Frankie's admiration for Bingo started the first day Sinatra arrived in town. In fact, he was crazy about Bing before he ever arrived here and Bing invited him to go on his radio show, thereby killing what might have been a great rivalry.

TALK WITH AUDREY

Audrey Hepburn and Mel Ferrer asked me to have a cocktail with them at the Kurt Frings. It had been such a crowded weekend that I hadn't had a chance to see them. Audrey looked better than I've ever seen her and she says she feels well.

They are off to New York. Jean Simmons telephoned and invited them to go to the premiere of "Guys and Dolls" with her and Stewart Granger, which they accepted.

Audrey told me that she goes to Paris with Mel while he makes "Red Carnation" with Ingrid Bergman. Then in February she, herself, makes "Adriana" in Paris.

"I have to have my cook with me," laughed Mel. Audrey will get an apartment and do the cooking. Whatever she is doing agrees with her, whether it's cooking or acting.

All those reports that Audrey Hepburn and Mel Ferrer were feuding with Henry Fonda during "War and Peace" are laughable, Mel told me. "We became very good friends and there never was any trouble. The picture was brought in five weeks ahead of schedule. Henry wore glasses and played a real character part — and what an actor he is!"

Police Think Tot Victim of Kidnap

Intensive Search Fails to Locate Missing Son of Gotham Airman

EAST MEADOW, N. Y. (AP)—Little Stephen Damman, still missing after a painstaking search of this New York suburban community, is now believed by police to have been kidnaped.

The house-by-house, ditch-by-ditch search over 20 square miles was called off last night.

Several thousand volunteers, including hundreds of the father's fellow airmen at nearby Mitchel Air Force Base, had joined in the search for the child, who is just 2 months short of 3 years old.

BRING HIM BACK

"My wife and I are beside ourselves with worry and anxiety We'll promise to forgive you if you'll only bring him back to us."

The boy disappeared Monday from in front of a supermarket where his mother, Marilyn, had left him and a carriage holding his little sister, Pamela, 7 months.

The boy, the baby and the carriage were gone when she returned from her shopping.

How she got there remained a mystery. It was apparent that the boy could not have pushed the carriage there himself since he would have had to buck traffic and go over rough ground.

Charitable Thieves

JEFFERSONTOWN, Ky. (AP) — To the thieves who lugged away the big safe at the Jeffersontown Pharmacy, the owners would like to say "thanks." The safe hadn't been used for years. It was empty. And the owners had been wondering how to get rid of it. They needed the floor space.

Government Ousts CGT Control of Newspapers as Strike Is Halted

BUENOS AIRES (AP) — The provisional government today took charge of two General Confederation of Labor newspapers minutes after diehard Peronista leaders of the organization had called off an attempted general strike.

* * *

One of the newspapers was La Prensa, formerly the big independent daily run by the Paz family, which was expropriated by the Juan D. Peron government in 1951. The other was El Lider.

A government announcement said both would be administered temporarily by one government appointee, to be named later.

* * *

Since the fall of Peron there have been demands that the government return La Prensa to its former owners. La Prensa of late has been following a subdued course though backing the pro-Peron wing of the General Confederation of Labor. El Lider has bitterly attacked the provisional government of President Eduardo Lonardi.

STRIKE CANCELLED

The CGT bosses had called a general strike, effective last midnight, to enforce demands for the ousting of anti-Peron officials who took over some labor unions when Peron's dictatorship toppled last September.

The strike was called off less than a half hour after it was supposed to have started. Two CGT secretaries general, Luis Natalini and Andres Framini, issued a statement saying they had conferred with Labor Minister Luis Cerrutti Costa and had "reached a solution which is satisfactory to the interests of the working class."

* * *

Details of the talks were not disclosed. But it was possible CGT had backed down in the face of a firm stand by the government, plus opposition to the strike by many workers.

Brucker Clears Clio Lieutenant

Honorable Discharge Is Ordered by Secretary in Security Case

WASHINGTON (AP)—Reversing a security risk finding, Secretary of the Army Brucker has ordered an honorable discharge for former 1st Lt. Walter K. Novak, 28, of Clio, Mich.

Novak, a reserve officer, was denied an honorable discharge when he was released from the Army last Aug. 1. Sen. McNamara (D-Mich) called the case "a shocking miscarriage of justice."

But Sen. Hennings (D-Mo), chairman of a Senate subcommittee on constitutional rights, said the Army was wiping out its security risk finding against Novak. He said it was the second "guilt by kinship" case cleared up as a result of the subcommittee's inquiries.

It had been disclosed earlier in the subcommittee's investigation of the case that most of the Army's charges of leftist associations were made againt Novak's parents.

TRAIN OFFICERS

Brucker ordered a big re-education program for security officers last week. He said he felt some Army procedures for handling security investigations "are not up to the standards the Army ought to have."

The Army secretary, a former governor of Michigan, has written a letter to McNamara about the case, but its details were not released.

Novak was on duty at the Redstone Arsenal in Alabama when he was given a general discharge under honorable (CQ) conditions. This is less than a straight honorable discharge.

Although his parents figured in the charges, he personally was charged with having failed to disclose membership in the International Workers Order (IWO) on his loyalty form. The IWO, now defunct, is on the attorney general's list of subversive organizations.

Novak claimed he had no knowledge that his name appeared on the IWO membership rolls until the question was brought up by the Army. His mother testified that she had enrolled him and his sister without their knowledge in order to obtain cheap insurance offered by the IWO.

Plymouth Township Votes Down Merger

DETROIT (AP) — A proposed merger of the township and the city of Plymouth to create Wayne County's fourth largest municipality was blocked by township voters yesterday.

Voters in the city approved the expansion 2 to 1. The township rejected it 9 to 1. A favorable vote in both the township and the city was needed to authorize the conciliation.

Car, Streetcar Kill Girl on Woodward Avenue

DETROIT (AP) — Struck by a streetcar and flung into the path of an automobile, Gail A. Schlack, 17, of Detroit, was killed last night on busy Woodward avenue.

Police said Miss Schlack was running across the street en route home from her job as an operator for the Michigan Bell Telephone Co.

Bond Experts Delay Action on New Parking Project

Because the bond experts want more time to thoroughly check an ordinance for $600,000 worth of parking lot revenue bonds, the City Commission last night delayed action on the measure one week.

City Manager Walter K. Willman said he would present the ordinance, as approved by the experts, at next Tuesday's meeting.

In other action, the Commission authorized purchase of a house and property at 26 Parke St. as part of a civic center site across from City Hall. The price was $16,700.

Authorized was preparation of a special assessment roll for 11 persons who failed to pay the city for cutting weeds on their property.

At the same time, City Attorney William A. Ewart was instructed to prepare an amendment to the ordinance changing the date of its effect from Aug. 1 to July 1 of each year.

An agreement and maintenance bond were approved for construction of sanitary and storm sewers in a proposed east-side subdivision.

Also authorized were deeds shifting city-owned land to the State Highway Dept and a soft-drink firm. The deals are in connection with the Telegraph-Orchard Lake grade separation right-of-way.

Adjourned one week for further study and additional engineer's reports was a public hearing on a storm drain in the block bounded by Menominee, Genesee, Glendale and Telegraph.

Each spring, it was reported, two low-lying areas in the block fill with water. Still undecided is the best method of eliminating the nuisance.

Public hearings were set for next Tuesday on special assessment rolls for storm drains in portions of the following streets: Dellwood, Fildew, Bagley, Pearsall, Alton and Motor.

Another hearing was scheduled for curb, gutter and drainage on Howland avenue from California to Luther, and Alton street from Franklin to Motor.

Intensive Search Fails to Locate Missing Son of Gotham Airman

EAST MEADOW, N. Y. (AP)—Little Stephen Damman, still missing after a painstaking search of this New York suburban community, is now believed by police to have been kidnaped.

The house-by-house, ditch-by-ditch search over 20 square miles was called off last night.

Several thousand volunteers, including hundreds of the father's fellow airmen at nearby Mitchel Air Force Base, had joined in the search for the child, who is just 2 months short of 3 years old.

The father, Jerry Damman, 26, a Continental Air Command sergeant, broadcast an appeal to the supposed kidnaper, saying:

The boy disappeared Monday from in front of a supermarket where his mother, Marilyn, had left him and a carriage holding his little sister, Pamela, 7 months.

To Entertain GIs

Peggy King Will Take Yule Troupe Overseas

If a man looks at another woman it may not mean he's interested in her, still a man doesn't look at a road map unless he's figurin' to go some place.

BY EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—Howdy, you-all. Arthur Godfrey opens his programs now, according to Jesse Kaplan, by putting his glasses on, glancing around the studio, and saying, "Let's see . . . who did I miss?"

★ ★ ★ ★

Some people surprise me with their mean thoughts. One suggested that Godfrey fired the last batch to attract attention to his story in the Saturday Evening Post. "I can't believe it," I said. "Anyway, what about so-and-so? Arthur didn't fire him." This very cynical party cracked, "He's saving him till the story comes out in book form!"

ROSSANA

Rossana ("Helen of Troy") Podesta got on her high horse—her Trojan horse, I should say—when I asked the pretty Italian star about the claim of Anita Ekberg that she couldn't take a walk in Rome without getting pinched by the wolves.

"If Anita got peenched," replied the sexy beauty ner Bros. in Hollywood, "eet was by the American eet was by the American wolves in Rome . . . by the men in the American colony!"

However she suddenly remembered her good-looking husband, actor Marco Vicario, sitting near her at the Warwick, and remarked, "I'm sorry, but I theenk my husband would like to peench her." Her husband exclaimed, "Si!"

Such excitement at the Copacabanement! Greta Garbo (without a hat) dined there with the Baron de Becker to hear Nat (King) Cole . . . What's this about the Cadillac salesmen being on strike and threatening to picket in Thunderbirds? (They're members of the Teamsters Union).

Taffy Tuttle was telling us at the opening of Gogi's Charterhouse why one New York playboy drinks so much. He's got to get drunk every day so that the gal he married while on a bender will still look attractive to him.

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

Peggy King's organizing a troupe to take overseas to entertain GIs at Christmas . . . Don Ameche's nursing another laryngitis attack; out of his hit show again due to returning too soon . . . Red Buttons is a big hit in Las Vegas at the New Frontier—WITHOUT writers!

PEGGY KING

Denise Lor, singing star of the Garry Moore TV show, is arranging a night club act in which she'll sing, juggle—and play badminton . . . Jayne Mansfield of "Rock Hunter" doesn't care who knows she's in love with Am. Airlines pilot Robbie Robertson. Says, when she feels bad she thinks of him and feels good.

John Jacob Astor's latest interest is Candy Nelson, blonde ex-darling of Peter Crosby . . . What's this about Maurice Chevalier and Anita Loos? . . . Right pretty and charming gal we just met was Sally Kemp, daughter of the late Hal Kemp, a talented actress already on several top TV shows and headed for more.

Brucker Clears Clio Lieutenant

Honorable Discharge Is Ordered by Secretary in Security Case

WASHINGTON (AP)—Reversing a security risk finding, Secretary of the Army Brucker has ordered an honorable discharge for former 1st Lt. Walter K. Novak, 28, of Clio, Mich.

Novak, a reserve officer, was denied an honorable discharge when he was released from the Army last Aug. 1. Sen. McNamara (D-Mich) called the case "a shocking miscarriage of justice."

The Pentagon yesterday announced only that Brucker had ordered the honorable discharge after a personal review of the case.

But Sen. Hennings (D-Mo), chairman of a Senate subcommittee on constitutional rights, said the Army was wiping out its security risk finding against Novak. He said it was the second "guilt by kinship" case cleared up as a result of the subcommittee's inquiries.

It had been disclosed earlier in the subcommittee's investigation of the case that most of the Army's charges of leftist associations were made againt Novak's parents.

TRAIN OFFICERS

Brucker ordered a big re-education program for security officers last week. He said he felt some Army procedures for handling security investigations "are not up to the standards the Army ought to have."

The Army secretary, a former governor of Michigan, has written a letter to McNamara about the case, but its details were not released.

Novak was on duty at the Redstone Arsenal in Alabama when he was given a general discharge under honorable (CQ) conditions. This is less than a straight honorable discharge.

Although his parents figured in the charges, he personally was charged with having failed to disclose membership in the International Workers Order (IWO) on his loyalty form. The IWO, now defunct, is on the attorney general's list of subversive organizations.

Novak claimed he had no knowledge that his name appeared on the IWO membership rolls until the question was brought up by the Army. His mother testified that she had enrolled him and his sister without their knowledge in order to obtain cheap insurance offered by the IWO.

Plymouth Township Votes Down Merger

DETROIT (AP) — A proposed merger of the township and the city of Plymouth to create Wayne County's fourth largest municipality was blocked by township voters yesterday.

Voters in the city approved the expansion 2 to 1. The township rejected it 9 to 1. A favorable vote in both the township and the city was needed to authorize the conciliation.

Car, Streetcar Kill Girl on Woodward Avenue

DETROIT (AP) — Struck by a streetcar and flung into the path of an automobile, Gail A. Schlack, 17, of Detroit, was killed last night on busy Woodward avenue.

Police said Miss Schlack was running across the street en route home from her job as an operator for the Michigan Bell Telephone Co.

Bond Experts Delay Action on New Parking Project

Because the bond experts want more time to thoroughly check an ordinance for $600,000 worth of parking lot revenue bonds, the City Commission last night delayed action on the measure one week.

City Manager Walter K. Willman said he would present the ordinance, as approved by the experts, at next Tuesday's meeting.

In other action, the Commission authorized purchase of a house and property at 26 Parke St. as part of a civic center site across from City Hall. The price was $16,700.

Authorized was preparation of a special assessment roll for 11 persons who failed to pay the city for cutting weeds on their property.

The Commission is empowered to act under a new weed control ordinance passed several months ago.

At the same time, City Attorney William A. Ewart was instructed to prepare an amendment to the ordinance changing the date of its effect from Aug. 1 to July 1 of each year.

An agreement and maintenance bond were approved for construction of sanitary and storm sewers in a proposed east-side subdivision.

Also authorized were deeds shifting city-owned land to the State Highway Dept and a soft-drink firm. The deals are in connection with the Telegraph-Orchard Lake grade separation right-of-way.

Adjourned one week for further study and additional engineer's reports was a public hearing on a storm drain in the block bounded by Menominee, Genesee, Glendale and Telegraph.

Each spring, it was reported, two low-lying areas in the block fill with water. Still undecided is the best method of eliminating the nuisance.

Public hearings were set for next Tuesday on special assessment rolls for storm drains in portions of the following streets: Dellwood, Fildew, Bagley, Pearsall, Alton and Motor.

Another hearing was scheduled for curb, gutter and drainage on Howland avenue from California to Luther, and Alton street from Franklin to Motor.

The following special assessment rolls were confirmed:

GM Invites Queries of Senate Probers

NEW YORK (AP) — Harlow H. Curtice says General Motors Corp. will "gladly cooperate" with an inquiry by the Senate Anti-Trust and Monopoly Subcommittee into GM operations.

* * *

The GM president made the statement yesterday upon returning from a month's tour of GM operations in England, France and Germany.

Sen. Joseph C. O'Mahoney (D-Wyo), a member of the senate subcommittee, announced an inquiry into the automotive industry will begin Nov. 8. He said public hearings will continue for several weeks.

"If the senators are going to investigate our operation, we will gladly cooperate," said Curtice when he was told of O'Mahoney's announcement.

* * *

Curtice said that GM, as part of its 200 million dollar expansion program, was building a new plant at Liverpool, England, to produce accessories for British built cars. He said it also was expanding its French production of refrigeration units and sparkplugs.

Robert Hunter Picked for GM Diesel Post

Appointment of Robert E. Hunter as general sales manager of Detroit Diesel Engine Division of General Motors was announced today by Semon E. Knudsen, general manager of the division.

The appointment is effective immediately. Until this appointment, Hunter had been director of sales of General Motors Diesel Limited of Canada.

Hunter, who was born in New York in 1911, graduated from the University of Michigan in engineering in 1934. He first joined General Motors in 1937 as business management manager at the Pontiac Motor Division. He transferred to the Electro-Motive Division of General Motors as assistant director of industrial relations.

He later became manager of the market analysis and statistical section, and then district sales manager in Chicago. In 1949 he joined General Motors Diesel Limited in Canada.

He replaces E. F. Bentley who is going on special leave of absence.

Robbery Alarm Has Policeman Aiding His Wife

A Waterford Township patrolman, called to the scene of an armed robbery last night, found it was his wife who'd been held up.

Mrs. Thelma Whitlock, cashier at Donato's Super Market on Williams Lake Rd. had handed over $374.85 at gunpoint to two thugs. Patrolman Charles Whitlock arrived too late to stop the robbery.

Mrs. Whitlock said the two were pretending to buy groceries. She described one as tall and thin, and the other as shorter with light hair. Both men, she added, wore light grey ski caps.

Carl Donato, manager of the market, said the two would have collected another $200 if they had arrived 15 minutes earlier. A check for that amount had just been cashed.

"The Citadel is the West Point of the father South," Clark replied. "I've served all over the world with VMI men and they are a fine group."

Ford Output Tops Record Set in 1923

DETROIT (AP)—Ford Motor Co. reported today its January-through-October vehicle production this year totaled 2,147,140 units, topping the full volume of any previous year in history.

By various divisions this year's output was: Ford cars 1,447,971 against 1,130,539 last year; Mercury cars 361,824 against 221,009; Lincoln cars 31,244 against 30,930; Ford trucks 306,101 against 236,497.

Runs in the Family

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — When Mrs. Calvin A. Clapp's 12th child was born at St. Mary's hospital, she said, "it just runs in the family." Her mother, Mrs. Ida Metlabarger, and her sister, Mrs. John Hopper, each had 12 children.

New High in Auto Output Seen for Coming Week

A 48 per cent increase in production over the month of October will boost the number of cars produced this year over the record of 6,672,141 cars which was established in 1950, Ward's Automotive Reports stated today.

The October production, estimated at 508,400 units, fell below the goal of 537,600 units because of longer-than-expected changeovers in plants of several producers, the report said.

But November's schedule calls for a sharply boosted quota of 751,300 units, which will bring the industry well on its way to the 1955 goal of eight million automobiles produced, Wards explained.

The report said that production in October brought the total number of cars produced since Jan. 1 to 6,502,100, or about 18 per cent over the output during all of 1954.

Ford Earnings Break Record

Breech Says Aggregate Gains Surpass Amount Made in Pre-War Years

ST. LOUIS (AP)—A Ford Motor Co. executive says the company's estimated earnings for 1955 before taxes will "surpass the aggregate earnings of the company for the entire 21 years prior to World War II."

* * *

Board Chairman Ernest R. Breech made this statement last night in a speech before the annual Century of Commerce dinner here honoring seven firms in business 100 years or more and 700 others in business at least 50 years.

Breech also reported that Ford profits for the first nine months of this year topped those of any previous full year in the firm's 52-year history. He noted this was "before and after taxes."

He gave no specific figures.

FAMILY OWNED FIRM

The company is entirely family-owned and thus files no detailed sources after detailed research have put Ford earnings for 1950, a banner year, at 265 million dollars. A partial financial statement the company filed last week in Boston with the Massachusetts tax commissioner listed earnings retained in the buiness in 1954 at $1,065,584,000, compared to $921,134,000 in 1953.

Breech said "we haven't been able to produce enough cars to meet the demand," despite Ford expansion and extensive use of overtime.

He predicted an even greater market lies ahead.

The "so-called market of the future—the big boom we have all been anticipating for the early 1960's, is no longer a distant dream," he said.

* * *

He said "there is no evidence at the moment" to support the suggestion that in the "not-too-distant future a small capsule will provide perpetual atomic energy for the propulsion of passenger vehicles.

"However we have read of the atomic-power submarine and what is originally is possible for military purposes usually is followed with broad peacetime applications."

This compared with $6,116,000, or $1.30 a common share, in the same period last year. Sales increased to $195,652,000 from $156,219,000 in the 1954 period. Slack-Up Seen on Tight Credit

Watchful Attitude Taken by Government Groups Hints at Policy Change

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government is quietly dropping the policy of ever tighter credit restraints it has enforced most of this year.

* * *

Instead, it has adopted an attitude of neutral, watchful waiting in the belief the dangers of inflation which brought on the tougher policy may have been mastered.

If this assessment is correct, and if another inflationary blister does not appear in coming months, the possibility of a tax cut next year becomes a strong probability.

The new attitude has become evident through several changes in government actions — chiefly in Federal Reserve Board policy — and in public and private statements of government money managers.

EXCESSIVE GROWTH

A top government policy maker said privately today he thinks the government's efforts in recent months to head off what it considered excessive credit expansion in the stock market, home building, and other fields had "taken a lot of steam" out of the incipient inflationary pressures of last summer.

He would not talk about the future course of policy, but he agreed with a description of the government position at present as "a withdrawal to neutrality."

* * *

This does not mean necessarily that restrictions already in force will be abandoned or even significantly relaxed in the near future. It merely means that new restrictions are unlikely, and that there will be a continued effort to keep the restrictions now in force from creating any credit drought.

* * *

With inflationary pressures off, and revenues from high level business activity large enough to insure a balanced budget by next June 30, the administration would have little reason, if any, to buck the election year tax cut fever bound to be strong in Congress early next year.

The administration has made the fight against further depreciation of the dollar through inflation the backbone of its economic policy. A tax cut while inflationary pressures were building up would tend to increase inflation by raising purchasing power.

GM Production Higher in 1955

Pontiac Increase Part of Growing Figures of Corporation

Maine has 1,796 miles of railroad.

Just Another Gold Digger

CORPUS CHRISTI, Tex. (AP)—A local Cadillac owner reported he was flagged down by a woman motorist, asked him to come to dinner with her in a pleading voice, learned he'd helped her win a bet when he did. She'd bet friends she could get a Texan in a big Cadillac to come home and eat dinner with her.

Shakeup Seen for Stage Show

By JACK O'BRIAN

NEW YORK (INS) — Inside at CBS on Gleason's plight: One faction wants him to shift his show to 8 p.m. (EST) instead of 8:30 to try and stop Perry Como's inexorable march to the top of the ratings.

But the sponsors of the show at 9 o'clock have it in their contracts that they "must" follow Jackie Gleason and not "Stage Show."

ANOTHER SHAKEUP

Like the fellow for whom he substituted so long, Robert Q. Lewis has also thinned down the ranks of his CBS radio-TV troupe considerably; but with somewhat more sympathetic method—

He gave six weeks notice to baritone star Earl Wrightson, diva Lois Hunt, dancer-choreographer Don Liberto . . .

R. Q.'s TV accent henceforth will be on lighter matters, comedy and singers in the pop rather than middle-brow category, Merv Griffin retaining his crooning incumbency and Ray Bloch remaining at the business end of Lewis' baton . . .

GETS HODIAK ROLE

Frank Lovejoy gets the role the late John Hodiak was to have played in the TV version of "Caine Mutiny Court Martial" Nov. 19 on CBS; Lloyd Nolan and Barry Sullivan also will be starred . . .

Phil Silvers' show moved to 8 p.m. Tuesdays on CBS to meet NBC's Berle - Hope - Raye - Hutton headon . . . "Navy Log" has Phil's old 8:30 spot . . .

"Medic" still is hot on the shock-treatment trail: It's Nov. 7 episode will be about sterility . . .

"Lucy" will burlesque Person-to-Person Nov. 14, with Elliott Reid imitating Edward R. Murrow: Reid's the lad whose devastating parody of Rudy Halley (and what ever happened to him!) boosted him to a Broadway revue (Two on the Aisle, with Bert Lahr).

Ringling Bros. Circus will stage a one-shot CBS spectacular Dec. 19 pre-empting "Mama" and "Our Miss Brooks," direct from the big top's winter quarters at Sarasota, Fla. . . .

SEVENTH BIRTHDAY

Studio One will be seven years young next Monday. Among its most frequent contributors is William Shakespeare, with six times at TV bat . . .

It has won 39 major TV awards, made Betty Furness more popular in the kitchen than a midnight snack.

Mary Martin's daughter Heller, a talented chip off the old darling, has had her pert nose applied to the educational grindstone for a while. No acting this TV season except with mom in "Peter Pan" during the holidays . . .

20th-Century-Fox will shave visual production costs and pour more cash in writing and acting talent for its TV series; smart fellow, that Mr. 20th . . .

Mother of 3 Killed, 5 Hurt in Collision

MOUNT PLEASANT (AP) — A head-on crash of two cars last night killed a mother of three.

Porter and Tworozynski were driving the cars when they collided on U. S. 27 about 10 miles south of Mount Pleasant.

Porter and Tworozynski were injured critically and the children — Wayne, 11, Robert, 9, and Kay, 7— were reported in serious condition at hospitals in Mt. Pleasant and Alma.

Detroit Clinic Names New Guidance Director

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Dr. Clyde B. Simons, director of the Child Guidance Center for Dayton and Montgomery County since 1946, has resigned to become head of the children's psychiatric unit at Lafayette Clinic in Detroit. His resignation is effective Dec. 31.

Clergyman Halts at $32,000 Mark in TV Quiz Show

NEW YORK (AP)—The Rev. Alvin Kershaw, Episcopal Church rector and jazz expert, has taken his $32,000 winnings and passed up a chance for the grand prize on "The $64,000 Question," CBS radio and television show.

He says he will use the money—after income taxes—to support settlement of displaced persons in his parish. He also will make a contribution to the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People.

The 36-year-old clergyman announced on the program last night that he would keep the $32,000, rather than risk losing it in a try for more, because it was a "resource and opportunity to support many movements in our world—movements laboring and struggling for brotherhood."

The Rev. Mr. Kershaw, rector of Holy Trinity Episcopal Church, Oxford, Ohio, won the $32,000 in three steps answering questions in his chosen category of jazz.

Medicos Refute Ruthven Claim

Wayne Society Asserts Former Educator Errs in Tuition-Free Idea

DETROIT (AP) — A spokesman for the Wayne County Medical Society took issue today with Dr. Alexander G. Ruthven, University of Michigan president emeritus, on the subject of tuition-free education for medical students.

* * *

Dr. Ruthven wrote in the Michigan Medical Journal that the high costs of medical training stifled talent "from the other side of the tracks." He said medicine is missing talented men who can't afford to go to medical school.

Dr. James Lightbody, chairman of the press committee of the county society, said Dr. Ruthven's suggestion "is more idealistic than anything else."

Dr. Lightbody said the cost of running medical schools already is carried principally by the public — "and has been for a long time."

* * *

He said he agrees there are "brains on both sides of the tracks" but he feels that "very often economic barriers stimulate ambition."

Although the Mayflower had a stormy trip from England to America, only one person died on the voyage.

You There—How Smart D'ya Think You Are?

CHICAGO (AP)—Would you declare boldly and without fear of successful contradiction that, "to sympathize is to be filled with grief?"

* * *

Or would it be a more accurate and logical approach to reason that, "to overflow is to be filled with water."

If you picked the last suggestion and your brain works that way most of the time, you'd stand a good chance of breezing through the recent college scholarship test put on for the nation's brightest high school seniors by the National Merit Scholarship Corp.

115 QUESTIONS

Nearly 60,000 of the nation's most promising seniors took the test in 10,000 high schools throughout the nation Oct. 26. The 4,000 highest scorers will qualify for second exams Jan. 14 which will lead to scholarships next year for the 350 winners.
