MISS JAPAN — A tall shapely beauty queen from the Orient, Keito Takahashi, strolls with a Japanese parasol on the beach at Long Beach, Calif., as she waits for the opening day of the Miss Universe contest. She represents her nation as Miss Japan when judging begins next week. Keito, at 5 feet 5 inches and 120 pounds is quite tall for a Japanese girl. Bust, waist and hip measurements are 34-23-35.

Ziegler Assures County of Roads in Future Plans

Will Restudy Projects When Affecting Issues Are Resolved

By BURDETT C. STODDARD

LANSING — State Highway Commissioner Charles M. Ziegler here yesterday repeated statements made previously by his aides that Oakland County would not be overlooked in Michigan's accelerated road-building program.

As soon as three indefinite issues are resolved, probably in the next five months, the Oakland situation will be re-examined and more projects planned for this area, Ziegler promised.

The interview was arranged by State Sen. William S. Broomfield (R-Royal Oak).

Ziegler said that no projects are now in the planning stage for Oakland, above those already announced, pending a new federal aid bill, a decision on the toll road and results of a Detroit-area traffic survey.

He summed up progress toward starting work on the Telegraph Rd. . Orchard Lake Ave. grade separation, the widening of Perry Street in Pontiac and the widening of M24 from Perry to the north county line.

The commissioner said the projected extension of Northwestern Highway across the county to Fenton, planned for several years, is a definite possibility within the next two years.

He stated surveys are being brought up to date for a limited-access freeway north-south across the county along a route similar to that of the proposed toll road.

"We've already spent several millions constructing bypasses of Flint and Saginaw which would tie in to a north-south freeway through Oakland," he stated.

"We could build a north-south

Small Quantity Detected Here; Source Hunted

Water Supply of Utica Still Being Transported by Tank Trucks

Chromium wastes are still being put into the Pontiac sewer system, Floyd Vermette, sewage treatment plant superintendent, told the Pontiac Press today.

He said the amounts were "dribbles" and that crews were pressing efforts to find their source.

"We don't consider dangerous the amount coming in now," he stated. "It is actually less than what was being put into the sewers three weeks ago."

He said that 18 employes, assisted by a State Health Dept. sanitary engineer, are working to run sewer and river tests 24 hours a day. This morning, below the sewage treatment plant, tests showed slightly less than one part per million of chromium compound was in the river.

Vermete said seeking the source of the contaminating chemical was like "looking for a needle in a haystack." The city has been trying to locate the industry or industries dumping the chemical for four weeks, he said.

The search was intensified this week, however, after a large quantity of the solution was poured into the sewers and eventually got into the Clinton River, contaminating the water supply of the city of Utica in Macomb County. Utica gets its water from the river.

Since Monday night, Utica residents have been getting drinking and cooking water from tank trucks bringing it in from adjoining wells.

KNEW OF WASTES

Pontiac officials have known for some time that chrome wastes, which are dangerous to the kidneys in large amounts and which could prove fatal if taken in large enough doses, have been getting into the sewers.

Saturday morning, a "slug" estimated at more than a ton was dumped, officials believe accidentally. They have been unable to find which industry turned loose the compound.

Vermette said the fact the chromium was dumped in dribbles made the job of tracing it difficult.

He said he believed the small amounts being put in the sewer now would not affect the Utica water supply.

LESS THAN EARLIER

Humid Heat Will Remain Despite Expected Storms

While most of the nation shared the Pontiac area weather fate, and sizzled under 90 plus temperatures, the U. S. Weather Bureau had little immediate encouragement for this vicinity and the country at large.

Wide areas of the United States will continue to swelter under hot, sticky weather despite the thunderstorms that lashed the Mississippi Valley last night and this morning.

Although a few scattered thundershowers are a possibility in the Pontiac area Friday, the weather will continue hot and humid today and tomorrow.

Today in the Pontiac area, a low of 66 degrees was recorded at 4:45 a.m., and the mercury, stood at 92 degrees in the city at 2 p.m.

The low tonight is expected to range from 68 to 72 degrees rising to a high of from 88 to 92 degrees on Friday.

The mercury made its customary upward skid, Wednesday, reaching a torrid 91 degrees at 4:30 p.m. in Pontiac. The low recorded yesterday was a comfortable 66 degrees which, unfortunately, began to mount early in the morning.

In an emergency announcement today the city of Detroit asked residents to use water only "for absolutely essential purposes." The city water reservoirs were reported "dangerously low" and cannot be replenished as long as the current heat waves lasts.

Plan to Arraign Triple Slayer

Fourth Victim of Gun in Critical Condition at Flint Hospital

FLINT (AP) — Friendly looking Kenneth Kuzner, still bewildered by his actions, faced court arraignment in a murder charge today in the wanton tavern slaying of three persons he never had seen before.

He was picked up by State Police of the Pontiac Post only 45 minutes after he pulled a gun from his shirt Tuesday night in a Grand Blanc bar, and killed the trio.

While authorities prepared for legal action against him, the fourth victim of the 30-year-old Detroit trucker's fusillade of bullets Tuesday night clung to life in a Flint hospital.

James R. Dollars, 26, of Flint, still was on the critical list. He had two bullet wounds in the shoulder and one in the neck.

Killed were Said Farah, 26, a Flint engineer; his wife Jeannine, also 26, and Mrs. Margaret Cross, 31, a divorcee.

The four, longtime friends, were sitting together in a booth in a tavern at nearby Grand Blanc when Kuzner, without provocation and at point blank range, opened fire. Those killed all were shot in the head by Kuzner's snub-nosed .38 caliber revolver.

Dulles Arrives in France for Pre-Geneva Conclave

PARIS (AP)—U. S. Secretary of State Dulles flew into Paris today to help put the finishing touches on Western strategy for the Big Four summit conference.

He was to confer today and tomorrow with French Foreign Minister Antoine Pinay and British Foreign Secretary Harold Macmillan to complete coordination of Western policy for the Geneva talks.

They will meet Saturday with the North Atlantic Council to outline the Western policy to their NATO partners' foreign ministers.

Informed that Soviet Communist party boss Nikita Khrushchev and Defense Minister Georgi Zhukov were accompanying Premier Bulganin to Geneva, Dulles commented "that's normal."

In an airport statement, Dulles declared that "great hopes are in the air" that steps will be taken at Geneva toward a peace settlement "rich in human values."

The statement, taking cognizance that today is Bastille Day, France's chief national holiday, said:

"Our own liberty seems the more precious as we sacrifice to make it secure and as we see those who, having had liberty, have lost it and now aspire to regain it.

After reading his statement to reporters, Dulles went directly to the U. S. Embassy residence.

The Western Three were reported ready with a plan to limit Germany's armed forces — even after unification — to half a million men in order to convince Russia that a unified Germany within NATO would not menace her.

Truman Predicts Democrat Victory With Stevenson

CHICAGO (AP) — The Democrats are going to win in 1956, says Harry S. Truman, and he is going to support Adlai E. Stevenson for the party's nomination.

Stevenson, the party's 1952 presidential nominee, drove from his Libertyville home to the Hilton Hotel yesterday and spent 45 minutes with Truman who has been in Chicago this week for the annual Shrine convention.

Stevenson, who was hospitalized from last Thursday until Monday by an attack of bronchial pneumonia, said he felt "weak, a little weary." He said Truman and he agreed that "the best thing for the country is the Democratic party."

Watrous Paces Amateur Golfers

Royal Oak Linkster Posts 144 in State Test at Jackson

Tommy Watrous, 20-year-old Royal Oak golfer, was the early leader in the 2nd round of qualifying in the Michigan Amateur golf tournament at Jackson today.

Watrous, who posted a 70 at Arbor Hills Country Club Thursday, added a 35-39—74 at Country Club of Jackson today for a 36-hole total of 144. Watrous was tied with Charles Barker of Pontiac, two strokes back of another Royal Oak player, former champion, Ed Ervasti, after Thursday's first round.

Barker, a local public links player, had a 39 for his out-going nine this morning at Arbor Hills. Ervasti was a late starter today.

The low 63 scorers will join defending champion Glen Johnson of Grosse Ile in match play starting Friday. Other 36-hole scores included another former champ Bob Babbish of Detroit, 73-74—147.

Several Pontiac and Oakland County players had completed their qualifying bids early this afternoon. Bob Goldsmith of Birmingham added a 36-37—73 to his Thursday 81 for 154, as figure matched by Stan Setera of Huntington Woods.

Jack Reynolds of Pontiac booked 76-80—156. William Balkwell of Walled Lake was at 157 on 76-81, and Mike Conroy of Birmingham had 81-81—162.

GOP Campaign Plan to Create Advisory Group

LANSING (AP)—Republican legislators moved today ot fight for continued control of the Michigan Legislature.

In the face of a rising tide of Democratic successes in legislative elections, the Senate Republican caucus voted to create a five-man campaign committee and said that for the first time it expects to receive funds from the Republican State Central Committee for use in legislative district elections.

Previously, each candidate financed his own campaign.

If everything goes according to plan, the lawmakers will wind up their business today and tomorrow's session will be merely a formality.

Can't Take License Till Final Conviction

LANSING (AP)— Atty. Gen. Thomas M. Kavanaugh today reversed his predecessors and held that the state may not suspend a driver's license while he has an appeal pending from a drunk driving conviction.

Kavanagh advised the secretary of state that the law does not permit a justice court to send the license and record of conviction to the secretary of state until the conviction becomes final.

If an appeal is taken after the license has been suspended the license must be returned to the driver, Kavanagh held.

GOP Seeks Compromise on Federal Highway Plan

WASHINGTON (AP)—Republicans promised a strong effort in the House Public Works Committee today to compromise rival proposals for financing a mammoth new road-building program.

The committee yesterday approved the construction program itself, calling for about 37 billions in federal funds and 10 billions from the states over the next 12 years.

But it defeated 19-14 President Eisenhower's proposal to finance the road-building expansion largely through bonds to be issued by a special government corporation.

The committee takes up today a substitute Democratic plan to pay for the new roads by immediate increases in taxes on gasoline, trucks and buses, heavy tires and tubes, and diesel fuel.

As approved by a subcommittee, these increases would raise about 850 million dollars a year. Some Republicans and Democrats have protested the increases are too steep, especially on truckers, and drives were under way to reduce them.

Clark Gable Stays Away From Party to Be With Bride

CRYSTAL BAY, Nev. (AP)—Actor Clark Gable scheduled a gala wedding party last night at a Lake Tahoe resort but failed to show up and the management finally canceled his reservation.

Gable, who took Kay Williams Spreckels as his fifth wife Monday did not emerge from two days of seclusion at a friend's ranch in the high Sierra.

Marion Johnson, maitre d'hotel at the plush Tahoe-Biltmore on the lake, commented:

"We've set up and torn up his table for 40 twice already. They're no better than anyone else. To hang with them."

A suite of 12 rooms had been reserved for the actor and his party, which was supposed to arrive at 8 p.m.

At 11 p.m. when no word was received from Gable or his friends Johnson declared the party was off.

New Treasury Nominee

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower today nominated H. Chapman Rose to succeed Marion Folsom as undersecretary of the treasury. Rose, a lawyer from Cleveland, Ohio, is now an assistant secretary.

Man-made: Farmers market, Forest Lawn, Hollywood studios, Huntington Library, Knott's berry farm, Marineland, the Missions, Palm Springs, Palómar observatory, radio and television studios.

American Motors Gives Flat Refusal to UAW

DETROIT (AP)—American Motors Corp. today rejected contract demands of the CIO United Auto Workers, saying it will not settle for what it called a "pattern plus" agreement.

Edward L. Cushman, vice president in charge of industrial relations, said by "pattern plus" he meant that the union is asking the same contract it secured from General Motors and Ford plus several fringe benefits American already has in effect.

General Motors and Ford agreements include a layoff pay plan which American also rejected.

Big 4 Security Precautions Under Way in Geneva

GENEVA (INS)—Extraordinary security precautions are near completion in Geneva to protect the Big Four leaders who will meet and live in luxurious surroundings at next week's historic "summit" conference.

Fifteen hundred Swiss soldiers and policemen will be on duty during the first East-West conference in 10 years.

Swiss infantrymen will guard the main gates and grounds around the various villas and hotels and the Palais des Nations where President Eisenhower, Premier Nicholai Bulganin and Prime Ministers Sir Anthony Eden and Edgar Faure will meet to reduce cold war tensions.

Additional security for the American, Russian, British and French heads of state and their advisers will be provided by 350 plainclothes policemen. Special concern was shown for Bulganin's personal safety.

Inside security at the villas and hotels housing the delegation leaders will be in the hands of police authorities from their home countries.

Heading the security detail at the palatial villa where President Eisenhower will stay are U. E. Baughman, chief of the U. S. Secret Service, and James J. Rowley, head of the Secret Service's White House detail. They arrived in Geneva last week.

Swiss detectives have already cleared Geneva of any suspected trouble-makers and frontier guards are carefully watching the borders. All foreigners entering Switzerland in recent days have undergone a careful check.

The most imposing of the accommodations set aside for the conference principals will be the temporary home of President Eisenhower. The elegant, 15-room lakeside mansion was put at the President's disposal by its owner, industrialist Andre Firmenich.

The 18th-Century villa is set in an enormous park that contains an Italian garden, numerous rosewalks and several small summer houses. The villa's 150-yard frontage on Lake Geneva will be patroled day and night by the Swiss Navy — several police motorboats.

Secretary of State John Foster Dulles will stay at the nearby villa "La Terrasse," owned by Miss Louise Worthington Boothe, an American.

Bulganin will move into the villa "La Pastorale," just behind the beautiful white villa which houses the permanent Soviet representatives to Switzerland.

The choice adds greatly to the safety of Bulganin—who appears to be the chief worry of the Swiss police—because of its nearness to the Palais des Nations.

Bulganin can attend the meetings simply by walking from "La Pastorale" through the permanent Soviet villa grounds and across the street into the Palais' main entrance.

Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov will stay with Bulganin while the remainder of the huge Soviet delegation will be housed in the Hotel Metropole.

Swiss authorities who have been dealing with the Soviets say it is much easier now to get along with them than it was last year when they came to Geneva to confer on Indochina. The Russians are said to agree rapidly to most suggestions and to remain in constant good humor.

Eden and Faure also will live at villas only a short distance from the conference halls while their delegations will be housed in Geneva hotels.

British Foreign Secretary Harold Macmillan will remain with the delegations at the Hotel Beaurivage but French Foreign Minister Antoine Pinay will have a villa to himself.

Eisenhower, Eden and Faure are expected to arrive at Geneva next Saturday for the conference which begins on Monday. Bulganin is due on Sunday.

Quiz Suspect in Kidnaping

Police Check Errors in Farmhand's Account of Rape; Slaying Denied

JOPLIN, Mo. (AP) — Officers checked discrepancies today in a farm laborer's rambling account of abducting 2-year-old Donna Sue Davis from her crib and raping and beating her.

The body of the Sioux City, Iowa, child was found Monday in a farm field near South Sioux City, Neb., just across the Missouri River from the Iowa town.

Detective John Showers said Audrey Brandt, 42, of La Porte City, Iowa, orally admitted taking the girl from her bed Sunday night, raping her and hitting her several times.

Showers said the farmhand claimed, however, that he did not kill her.

He told officers he hitchhiked here from Sioux City.

Officers questioned him late into the night on his story, which they described as incoherent in parts.

Detective F. E. Eichelberger said the FBI and Joplin police were studying certain phases of the story that "didn't jibe."

At La Porte City, Police Chief Henry Kruse said Brandt had a record for petty thievery there. Brandt had been arrested on child molestation charges in 1947 and last April, Iowa authorities reported.

Detective Showers said the farmhand related that he passed the home of Donna Sue's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Davis, twice Sunday night and then crept into the child's room through a window, took her from her crib and went across the Missouri River.

Showers quoted him as saying he then raped the child and hit her when she began screaming.

The farmhand was arrested on a street corner here after a truck-driver told police he had given a ride to a hitchhiker fitting the description of a man wanted in the case.

No charges have been filed.

File Libel Warrant Against Local Man

An order for a warrant charging criminal libel and slander was issued yesterday by Assistant Oakland County Prosecutor Homer G. Gerue.

Named is James Dean, 34, of Pontiac. He is accused of falsely stating two Pontiac policemen took $275 from him and failed to return the sum, Gerue explained.

The officers arrested Dean early Monday at Saginaw and E. Pike Sts. He pleaded innocent to drunk and disorderly and was released on bond.

Dean went to an attorney and signed an affidavit stating the officers took the cash which he claimed he was about to place in a night deposit box for his employer, Gerue said.

The employer denied giving Dean any money to deposit and the libel warrant followed. Meanwhile, Dean was picked up on another drunk charge and sentenced to seven days in Oakland County Jail Tuesday by Municipal Judge Cecil McCallum.

Criminal libel is a misdemeanor carrying $100 fine, 90 days in jail, or both.

Mute on Arraignment, 2 Released on Bonds

Two 17-year-old Royal Oak Township youths, charged with attempting breaking and entering, stood mute to the charge when they were arraigned yesterday before Troy Township Justice Scott C. Belyea.

The pair, Laquintes Collins and Mark Briggs, were released on $500 bonds pending examination July 20. They are accused of attempting a nighttime breakin of a grocery store at 4020 Rochester Rd., Troy Township, Sunday.

A resident noticed the pair flee the store in a car and turned the license number over to police.

Two Men Rob Novi Gas Station

Thugs Loot Cash Box Threatening Attendant With Pistols

Two pistol-brandishing holdup men robbed a Novi filling station of $285 early this morning after forcing the attendant to lie face down on the floor while they looted his pockets and cash box.

The attendant, James Killeen, told Oakland County Deputy Sheriff Gordon Misenar that the pair threatened to "blow his head off" if he refused to follow orders. He said the men tore the phone receiver off the wall before they fled in their car.

Killeen stated that the thugs had entered the station earlier to purchase a candy bar. "They acted sort of suspicious so I took their license number when they left," he told Misenar.

They returned in about five or 10 minutes, and told the attendant to fill up their car's gasoline tank. Both went inside and when Killeen followed, he said he found himself looking down the barrel of an automatic.

Centennial Plan Amazes Officer Answering Call

Pontiac Police Lt. George T. Scott was slightly baffled this morning when he received a phone call from the State Treasurer's office especially when the voice at the other end asked when Pontiac was planning to hold its Centennial celebration.

The conversation went something like this:

"This is Warren Wright, the state treasurer. Say, when are you planning your centennial down there?"

Scott: "Centennial? What centennial?"

Wright: "The Livingston County centennial."

"Scott: "Pontiac is in Oakland County."

Wright: "There's no Oakland County in the state."

Scott: "Where are you calling from?"

Wright: "Chicago."

Scott: "This is Pontiac, Michigan."

Wright: "What? I was calling Pontiac, Illinois."

"I thought it was a gag at first because I know Sanford A. Brown is Michigan's treasurer," Scott related. "But I thought maybe I'd misunderstood when he started mentioning Livingston and Pontiac," he said.

The long distance operator could not be reached for comment.

Youth Sought Here Nabbed by Troopers

A 16-year-old Detroit boy, three-time escapee from the Boys Vocational School and wanted here in connection with at least three breakins and several car thefts, was seized today by State Police from the Romeo Post.

Troopers, who said the youth was wanted for two St. Clair County breakins, acted on a tip from relatives who said he and a 15-year-old Pontiac boy had been living in a cottage near Imlay City.

State Police stated they found $1,000 worth of stolen articles in a car the Detroit boy had been driving before he set out on foot.

The Pontiac boy was released to his parents. Police said he was not implicated in the breakins.

Pontiac Police Lt. Walter Krause said authorities at Port Huron will ask for a juvenile court waiver on the Detroit Youth so he can be tried as an adult.

Rev. Elwood Dunn Named Vice President

The Rev. Elwood Dunn, former pastor of Central Christian Church, was today elected a vice president for Great Lakes Region of the International Society of Christian Endeavor. The group is meeting in convention at Columbus, Ohio.

A member of First Christian Church here, he lives at 640 Third Ave. and is a former president of Michigan Christian Endeavor.

Revised Measure Up Today Omits Veterans From Program

WASHINGTON (AP)—A military reserves bill shorn of compulsory training requirements for present and former servicemen comes up for Senate debate today.

The Senate Armed Services Committee, approving the measure yesterday, voted to require future reserve training only of those men entering regular service 30 days or more after the measure becomes law. That would delay the compulsory drills at least until late in 1957.

As passed by the House, the bill would have permitted an almost immediate use of a form of compulsion, as asked by President Eisenhower to assure trained men for the expanded reserve forces he wants. The House voted to permit required training of all men who entered service after the Korean armistice, July 27, 1953.

The Senate committee voted 7-2 to reject that idea, however, and proposed instead a scale of bonuses to veterans who voluntarily join Army and Marine Corps combat reserve units during the next two years.

Chairman Russell (D-Ga), calling for Senate passage of that plan, said in an interpiew that "I think we have a good, workable bill and I'm ready to defend it anywhere."

Commission Slates Race Track Hearing

A public hearing will be held Monday to discuss the amended application of the Michigan Thoroughbred Turf Club for a license to construct a horse racing track, with pari-mutuel wagering on a 200 acre parcel of land at the northeast corner of 14 Mile Rd. and John R Rd., in Troy Township.

The hearing will begin at 10 a.m. in the offices of the State Racing Commission at 1702 Cadillac Square Building, Detroit.

Both Birmingham and Clawson may voice possible objections to the proposed race track. The Birmingham City Commission's main objection is the possible traffic congestion on 14 and 15 Mile roads running through the city.

The Clawson council expressed their opposition unless "adequate precautions" are taken on traffic and similar problems.

The Troy Township board originally approved the track by a 4-3 vote, although one group of Troy residents had petitioned against the track, while another group filed a counter-petition for it.

Troy officials will attend the meeting.

Charge Area Man With Manslaughter

An order for a warrant charging manslaughter was issued yesterday against William R. Birckelbaw, 23, of 315 Liberty St., South Lyon, according to Assistant Oakland County Prosecutor Robert D. Long.

Birckelbaw drove a car which collided with another on Pontiac Trail in Lyon Township June 30 resulting in the death of Mrs. Eleanor Haw, 32, of 29546 Gilchrest, Farmington, July 6 in a Brighton hospital.

The order charges Birckelbaw with driving "under influence of intoxicating liquor" at an "excessive rate of speed." He will probably be arraigned later today in Farmington Justice Court.

Davy's Still Roaming

LITCHFIELD, Ill. (AP)—David W. Crockett, 26, of Lake City, Ark., asked Police Chief Ted Rogers if he could r[illegible] for a few hours in the city. After a little nap, Davy told [illegible]gers he was going to continue his hike northward. He was looking for a job.

The United States had almost 3½ times as many non-farm dwellings in 1950 as in 1900.

Says Oakland County Won't Be Overlooked

freeway just as fast as a toll road could be built if the forthcoming federal-aid bill hikes the U.S. government's share of interstate road building from 60 to 80 or 90 per cent."

The project would take longer than the three years the toll road would be built in if federal aid is left at the 60 per cent level, Ziegler explained.

"There is definitely no need for both a freeway and a toll road running north-south through Oakland," Ziegler declared.

Newly elected Michigan Turnpike Authority (MTA) chairman, George N. Higgins, of Ferndale, said Tuesday he could not see constructing a toll road if the Highway Department goes ahead with plans to construct a freeway along a similar route.

The apparent conflict may be resolved when the MTA meets in Lansing July 25. Higgins has asked the Highway Department to supply him information at the meeting showing whether the toll road would duplicate any work planned in Oakland by the department.

Of the three things holding up further work-plans here, the Detroit area traffic survey, including Oakland's south portion, will be done within two months, said Ziegler.

A new federal aid bill is expected at least by fall and a State Supreme Court decision on validity of the toll road act can be expected about October, he added.

Right-of-way is still being obtained for the Telegraph-Orchard Lake grade separation "and we have hopes of starting drainage and grading operations yet this year."

A contract has been let and work is slated to start in two to three weeks on widening M24 from two to four lanes between Opdyke Road and Lake Orion.

Widening of Perry from Opdyke in to Mt. Clemens Street in Pontiac is slated for 1956, as is the extension of the M24 widening from Lake Orion north to the county line, the commissioner stated.

Projects which would be given first consideration in a reappraisal of Oakland's situation would include widening M59 from Auburn Heights into Pontiac and also Orchard Lake Avenue from Telegraph to Keego Harbor, said Ziegler.

The commissioner declared that he feels Oakland has received a fair share of money available for road construction since World War II.

"If we turned all the gas and weight tax funds paid by Wayne, Oakland and the five other large counties back to them, it would leave practically nothing to build roads in less populous counties," he asserted.

"People in your county want good roads to ride on when they travel outside Oakland.

"Since 1947 we've spent $14,575,000 for new construction in Oakland, not counting projects now in the works. We've also expended about $3,000,000 for maintenance work in your county."

Broomfield expressed pleasure over the promise to re-evaluate and speed-up Oakland's program.

"But the county road commission, Board of Supervisors and individual citizens must keep watch of the situation and let the Highway Department know we're vitally interested in getting better roads," the senator urged.

Utica Water Supply Still Contaminated

to be as well off as it ever has been," he said. "The dribbles now are less than before the crisis and nobody was worried three weeks ago."

Meanwhile, water - short Utica has been offered a temporary supply from the city of Detroit. Utica officials were scheduled to study the offer. Detroit authorities made it clear the offer was on an emergency basis only.

The contamination level today remained far above the .05 parts per million judged safe. Frank B. Gibbing, Utica water superintendent, said the readings were about .09, the same as yesterday.

He said he could not estimate when Utica's water crisis would end.

Straits Ferry Traffic Up 7.3 Per Cent Over 1954

LANSING (AP) — Traffic on the Straits of Mackinac ferries during the first six months of 1955 showed a 7.3 per cent increase over the same period last year, the State Highway Department reported today.

The ferries carried 263,595 vehicles during the first six months of 1955 compared to 245,755 during the same period of 1954, an increase of 17,840.

Water Rules Tightened as Demand Nears Peak

BIRMINGHAM — Notices concerning further emergency sprinkling regulations will be put in the mail today, City Engineer L. R. Gare announced yesterday.

In addition to those rules already in effect, Gare, acting in the absence of City Manager Donald C. Egbert, said that no sprinkling is to be allowed from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m.

"In other words, persons living at an even-numbered address may sprinkle any time on even days of the month except the hours prohibited, and may not sprinkle on odd-numbered days of the month at all." The same process follows for those with odd-numbered house numbers.

The new ruling is to remain in effect until rescinded, he said.

At 8 last night, only hours after more rigid sprinkling regulations were ordered, the city sounded its siren 12 times, the first time this summer residents have been signaled to cease sprinkling for a two-hour period.

Fire Chief Park Smith said, while the 5,608,000 gallons of water consumed yesterday were not quite as high a count as the day before, city wells could not meet last night's peak demand and still hold enough water in reserve in case of fire.

In asking immediate compliance by householders, Gare said, "We realize the restrictions will not take effect until notices are received, probably Friday, but would like to ask for residents' cooperation in easing off at once, even before they have received official word."

Fire Chief Park Smith said, "It's a question of whether people want green lawns or black ashes that once were a house.

"Under the new system, we hope to be able to meet the peak demand from 5 to 9 p.m. and to conserve our water supply in case of emergency," he said. "The prolonged dry spell brought on just a little more of a demand than our system could supply."

City Commissioners this week accepted the resignation of Clarence W. Blenman, Birmingham's junior member on the Oakland County Board of Supervisors.

In turn, the lawmakers reappointed Mrs. Hope F. Lewis, Elmer W. Haack, Luther Heacock and David Levinson. Reapportionment on the board cut the city's representation from five to four members.

Det. Sgt. Robert Schaule and Richard Thomason were among policemen from all over the state who yesterday attended a meeting sponsored by the police administration branch at Michigan State University. Subject of the day-long conference was fraudulent checks.

A long-time Birmingham resident is dying and is expected to be gone by nightfall.

Shain Park's big Elm tree, which last year barely survived a lightning strike, has succumbed to the Dutch Elm disease and is today being removed.

The great Elm's demise marks the end of a 100 year reign, its age as estimated by City Forester William LeBold.

A champagne appetite and apparently a beer pocketbook, landed John Haddad, 43, of Port Huron in jail here yesterday. Police are holding him on a charge of larceny from a building.

Police said he was arrested after leaving Cunningham's Drug Store, 101 South Woodward Avenue, without paying for a $6 bottle of champagne he took with him. Haddad was expected to make a statement at the Oakland County Prosecutor's office today.

Honor Graduate Loses Hand in Bomb Blast

The youth is in a serious condition at Saratoga General Hospital. Doctors amputated his shattered hand just above the wrist.

Eilers was injured while conducting a chemical experiment in the basement of a friend.

House Favors New Program for Survivors

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House voted yesterday for a broad overhaul of government payments to the survivors of servicemen.

Passage by voice vote sent the complicated measure to the Senate, where it is uncertain whether it can be acted on before the session's end.

The bill would do away with the present $10,000 free insurance for men in uniform, put all servicemen under social security and provide more liberal Veterans Administration compensation payments to their surviving widows, dependent children and parents.

60 Unhurt as Plane Skids on Bent Wheel

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sixty persons escaped injury early today when an Eastern Airlines Constellation skidded several hundred feet after its right landing gear collapsed on landing at National Airport.

An airline spokesman said many of the 55 passengers were shaken, but that none apparently was hurt. One of the passengers was Rep. Keating (R-NY). The plane carried a crew of five.

The plane was bound from Newark, N.J., to Houston, Tex.

Right Time for Lunch Depends on Breakfast

SANTA FE, N.M. (AP)—The State Game Commission held a session in Santa Fe, the only major city in New Mexico with daylight saving time.

Chairman C. M. Botts, who ate breakfast on standard time, wanted to know if the commission recessed for lunch on daylight or standard time. The folks ate breakfast on daylight time favored going to lunch on the same basis. They prevailed.

Rotary Club Speakers All Tell Same Joke

BELLEVILLE, Ill. (AP)—The guest speakers at the weekly Rotary Club meetngs changed but the joke, about the motorist and the insane asylum, remained the same—for five consecutive weeks.

The members began to complain.

H. T. Dunck, the program chairman, tried to forestall a repetition of the joke by telling it himself in introducing speaker No. 6. He was shouted down.

Williams Airs Views on Policy

Tells Colgate Students U. S. Must Keep Faith With Captive Peoples

HAMILTON, N. Y. (AP)—Gov. Williams said last night that nations in the shadow of the Iron Curtain will not rely on United States friendship if this nation forgets captive peoples in Communist satellites.

Williams spoke at a conference on American foreign policy at Colgate University.

"If we give even the appearance of abandoning those behind the Iron Curtain," Williams asked, "How can we ask those who live outside of it, but in its shadow, to rely on our friendship?"

"We must," he said, "devise and put into effect a more positive program of action to show our sympathy for the victims of oppression, to reassure the world that we have not forsaken the cause of freedom and to keep alive the hopes of those behind the Iron Curtain who hunger and thirst after justice."

Williams advocated more support for the Voice of America "to maintain the bond of truth between

ourselves and our silent allies . . . "

Everyone, Williams said, agrees that liberation of the Communist captives by war would harm not only them but the world.

"Nevertheless," he said, "a continued policy of strong talk (often for political purposes) at home, and supine accpetance of the status quo abroad, can only serve to drown the precious sparks which one day must rekindle the fires of freedom in those unhappy lands."

State's Roadbuilders Can Do More Work

LANSING (AP) — Michigan's roadbuilders can handle anything that comes up under the state's new highway expansion program and the federal road bill now being considered in Congress, a spokesman said today.

C. J. Carroll, executive secretary of the Michigan Road Builders' Assn., said Michigan contractors can build 175 million dollars worth of highways a year with almost no increase in present organizations. He said they could expand to take care of 250 million dollars worth of construction a year within three years.

Carroll said road builders last year completed 8 0 million dollars worth of highway and bridge programs while working at 41 per cent of capacity.

Russians Start on Mail Orders, Supermarkets

MOSCOW (AP)— Samovars and bicycles from Tula, kerosene stoves from Moscow, balalaikas from Tashkent—just mail your orders, folks.

The Ministry of Internal Trade is beginning to build up a mail order business for consumer goods through display advertisements in its official newspaper Soviet Trade.

Simultaneously, the Soviet trade organization is working gradually to develop self-help in stores. The idea is to cut sales personnel for use of this manpower in other industry and agriculture.

In both merchandising fields the Russians are just making a beginning.

The mail order system is designed especially to aid millions of farmers and villagers who often can't find what they need in rural stores and must travel to the nearest city to buy.

Leningrad announced the opening of its first self-help, American-style supermarket last year. Some smaller shops of this kind have been opened in Moscow.

Campsites Available at Outstate Parks

LANSING (AP) — Campers who have been finding most state parks overloaded with visitors were advised today that some state parks still have camping sites even on holiday weekends.

The State Conservation Department said that even over the Fourth of July weekend, excellent campsites were available at such parks as Traverse City, Harrisville and Rogers City.

Rocket Kills Guardsman From Indiana at Grayling

CAMP GRAYLING (AP)—Explosion of a defective rocket on a firing range yesterday killed Cp. John P. Myers, 20, of Peru, Ind., an Indiana national guardsman. Two other soldiers were wounded.

Cp. Myers was killed when fragments from the rocket struck his heart.

Wounded were 2nd Lt. Donald E. Burkhalter, 21, of Delphi, Ind., and Cpl. Robert R. Helfrich of Evansville, Ind.

The Indiana national guard is in summer training here.

Burned Bodies Removed From Jet Bomber Crash

SHREVEPORT, La. (AP) — The bodies of four men were removed from an Air Force B47 Stratojet bomber which crashed 10 miles south of here early today, officials at Barksdale Air Force Base said.

A crash crew and civilian authorities reached the wreckage of the bomber about three hours after it crashed and burned shortly after midnight.

The bodies of the three officers and an airman were brought to Shreveport. Names of the victims were not disclosed.

The six-engine jet bomber crashed on the banks of the Red River. Part of the plane was submerged. Wreckage was strewn over a wide area.

The plane crashed about three miles south of Lucas, which is about 10 miles southeast of Shreveport.

Officers at Barksdale said an investigation at the scene was being hampered by a driving rain.

The Barksdale public information officer said two civilian witnesses said the plane burst into flames before it struck the ground.

Bill Bailey said he saw a "bright flash. The whole sky just lighted up. The brightest light I ever saw at night. It looked like the sun in late afternoon. About six or seven seconds later, there was a big rumble."

Joel Brown said he saw the flames from a drive-in theater. He said he saw a "red flash followed by a big red ball and then came a terrific explosion."

Barksdale officials said the plane was attached to the 376th Bomb Wing.

One-Winged Bandit Makes $3,000 Haul

DETROIT (AP) — A supermarket was robbed of $3,000 last night by a holdup man with one arm in a sling.

Assuming a "shiny object" partly hidden in the man's sling hand was a gun, the store manager put the money in a shopping bag and gave it to the robber.

In another robbery a gasoline station man was kidnaped by two men, driven nearly a mile and robbed of $250.

The supermarket, in the mid-town-Woodward district, was held up while about 50 customers were shopping.

A man with his right arm in a black cloth sling went up to and handed him a note saying "There is a price on my head for murder. I won't esitate to shoot. Give me the money.

The holdup man took the bag of money while also retriving his note and fled. Klein said he followed him five blocks but lost him.

William Burgerhoudt, co-owner of a service station, was driven 10 blocks to two holdup men in their car. They took $250 from him and released him unharmed.

Study of Michigan Trade Is Planned

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Library of Congress has agreed to study the impact of fireign trade on Michigan.

Members of Congress from the state said yesterday the 9-month study will be conducted by the library's legislative reference service and will cover business, industry and agriculture.

Similar studies have been of five congressional districts in various parts of the country but none of a whole state, said a statement issued in behalf of the Michigan delegation.

Approximately 15,000 business firms, trade organizations and individuals are to receive questionnaires.

The statement said Rep. Lesinski (D-Mich) suggested the study. Sens. Potter R(R) and McNamara (D) and Reps. Dondero (R) and Rabaut (R) are representing the delegation in the matter.

Pilot, Passenger Hurt as Craft Spills Debris on New York Street

NEW YORK (AP)—A helicopter crashed and burst into flames yesterday while taking off from the 17th-floor heliport of the Port of New York Authority Building in downtown Manhattan.

The pilot and the only passenger were injured as they tumbled out of the burning craft seconds after it crashed on the 16th floor. It then dropped to a narrow setback of the 15th floor.

Port Authority officials said the pilot apparently forgot to unplug a 30-foot "booster" cable, often used to energize the starter. As the craft rose from the heliport, the cable became taunt and jerked the machine down over the side of the building.

Debris and burning gasoline showered the traffic-jammed street below, but there were no injuries there.

Port Authority employes and firemen quickly quenched the smoldering skeleton of the craft as it hung precariously on the narrow ledge above 9th Avenue near 16th Street. The helicopter was later hoisted to the 16th floor.

The pilot, Marcel O. Chevalier, 30, suffered a concussion and scalp laceration. He was reported in fair condition.

The passenger, Arthur Truss, 33, a Port Authority photographer, suffered a concussion, fractures and multiple abrasions. His condition was listed as critical.

The heliport is a table-like structure 10 feet above the 16th floor of the building.

Canadian Sen. King Dies at 82 in Ottawa

OTTAWA (AP) — Federal Sen. James H. King of Vancouver, former speaker of the Canadian Senate, died early today in the Civic Hospital. He was 82.

The Senator entered the hospital June 20 for treatment of a heart condition. He subsequently contracted pneumonia.

His death brought to 23 the number of vacant seats in Canada's 102-member upper chamber. Senators are appointed for life by the Governor General on recommendation of the government.

King, a member of Canada's dominant Liberal party, was a physician in private life. He had posts in both provincial and Federal cabinets.

FREED BY SHERMAN — Matt Carter, former slave, is 103 years old, but his memory is still vivid enough for him to describe the Civil War days when he was freed by Gen. William Tecumseh Sherman during the Union leader's march to the sea. The Columbus, Ohio, centenarian lived on a plantation near Phenix City, Ala., then. He was the property of a Doctor Ingersaw, who bought him for $500.

Detroit Glider Fan Wins Soaring Title

ELMIRA, N. Y. (AP) — Kemp Trager of Detroit, who trained glider pilots during the war and once flew to an altitude of 23,000 feet in a motorless craft, tonight will receive a trophy emblematic of the United States soaring title.

Now a tool and die executive in Detroit, Trager was awarded the title yesterday although he finished second in points in the week-long contest.

The Soaring Society of America ruled the winner had to be an American citizen. Trager finished second to Cmdr. H. C. N. Goodhart of England.

Trager will receive the R. C. duPont trophy at a banquet here tonight.

The pilot, father of four children, has been flying gliders for 15 years. He is a one-time commercial airlines pilot and still does commercial flying for a Detroit mining engineer, Patrick Adamson, as a sideline to his tool and die business.

Trager had 1,038 points to 1,081 for Goodhart. He flew 121 miles on a round trip flight from Elmira to Utica yesterday in the final competition

Draft Evasion Adviser Guilty

Jury Decides Against Woman Who Wrote 9 Young Men

BRATTLEBORO, Vt. (AP)—Mrs. Lucille S. Miller, 45, stood convicted today on 18 counts of advising young men to evade military service.

Federal Judge Ernest W. Gibson said he will sentence her Aug. 8. However, Mrs. Miller's lawyers have announced they will appeal.

The jury returned its verdict yesterday after deliberating a little more than an hour, after a three-day trial.

Mrs. Miller, the only defense witness, took the stand following five unsuccessful attempts by her counsel for a dismissal of the indictments. One of the arguments for dismissal was an assertion that the draft law is a violation of the 13th Amendment against involuntary servitude.

A high point in Mrs. Miller's testimony came when she replied to a question asked her by U.S. Atty. Louis G. Whitcomb. He asked her if she "deliberately intended" to violate the law when she wrote to the nine young men, advising them to evade the draft. Her answer was, "I certainly did."

Maximum sentence for Mrs. Miller could run as high as 90 years and fines of $180,000.

Returned Transport Delays 'Gyroscope'

ITAZUKE AIR BASE, Japan (AP)—A C124 Globemaster in Operation Gyroscope developed radio trouble over the Pacific today and returned with its 100 America-bound paratroops and crewmen.

The mishap threw the schedule slightly out of kilter in the giant transpacific airlift.

The returned plane was the 27th to leave of 37 hauling the 187th Regiment to Ft. Bragg, N. C.

The planes brought the 508th Airborne Regimental Combat Team from Ft. Campbell, Ky.

The 187th has 3,100 men going to the states. The 508th brought in 3,800 paratroopers.

Korean Reds Okay Cut in Truce Teams

PANMUNJOM, Korea (AP)—The Communists today agreed to a reduction of number and personnel of neutral nations inspection teams stationed at ports of entry in Korea.

The reduction was proposed by the Swiss and Swedish delegations of the four-power neutral commission. Other members are Communist satellites Czechoslovakia and Poland.

The new plan cuts the number of teams from 10 to 6 and halves the personnel on each team. At present the Neutral Nations Supervisory Commission has five teams in North and five in South Korea. Each team now has 10 to 12 members.

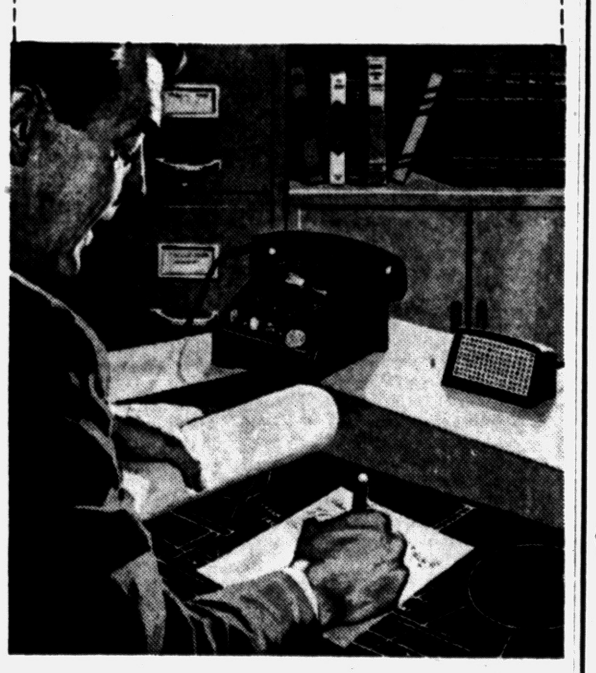
New Telephone Lets You Keep Both Hands Free While You Talk



This man is talking over the telephone—a remarkable new telephone that lets you talk with both hands free. You don't even have to lift the receiver to answer a call!

Here's how it works: Just press a button on the telephone. A microphone in the base carries your voice to the person at the other end; you hear him through the compact loud-speaker shown at the right. (You also can use this telephone in the conventional manner whenever you prefer.)

It offers many advantages to the businessman. You can take notes with both hands free, keep the conversation going while you get a file, quote from catalogs, or check blueprints.

A hands-free telephone can be yours for only an additional $6.60 a month (including 10% federal tax).

To order one, call your Telephone Business Office.

The Home Gardener Now Comes Into His Own

The season for the supreme revelry of the home gardener is at hand. If he has done his part he has won the battle of the bugs and war of the weeds.

He is reaping the rewards for those blistered hands, backaches, fights with the neighbors' chickens and other discouragements of last spring when he often wondered why he fell for those lovely pictures in the seed catalog.

Nobody ever has really lived and enjoyed life to the full until he has had a home garden. There's an appetizing satisfaction and waist bulging contentment in it that words cannot describe.

A home garden is such a family affair. Of course no man should plant one larger than his wife can weed. If she gets into the spirit of the occasion, both on the production and cooking lines, then the household joy is complete.

Your first radishes have a snap, crack, flavor and lack of burp that you cannot buy. Your lettuce, peas, beets, beans, turnips, onions and other vegetables then all parade along in a manner that knocks out all dieting in the first round, and everybody is happy.

But the apex of joy supreme is reached with your first green corn. That is when everything else is discounted. That's when all restrictions go out the window, appetites seem endless, and the bathroom scales climbs to new heights.

There's only one way to enjoy fully home grown green corn. You must plaster on plenty of butter and salt, put both elbows on the table, throw Emily Post and all conventionalities to the summer breezes, and go after it a la harmonica.

Wrapping yourself around green corn plucked only a few minutes before in your own garden is like listening to a great symphony orchestra. There's never a sour note, and each succeeding number only whets your appetite for more.

Be Careful of Fires

Two tourist guides operating out of the Canadian Soo have been charged with failure to put out a campfire. It burned over 4,500 acres of forest. Some 350 men and ten airplanes fought the blaze before it was brought under control.

Here is another reminder to all vacationers who go into the woods. If you build a fire, put it out before you leave the spot.

It may look as if just a few sparks are left, and it may appear impossible to you that it could spread. But you never know what may happen after you leave. A breeze may spring up that will fan those sparks and blow them onto nearby leaves. Or a similar breeze may blow dry material into the remains of the fire.

Take no changes with anything as dangerous anywhere. But be particularly careful in the woods. It takes many years to grow a tree; only a few minutes to destroy it. Also the danger to life, both human and animal, is great.

Put out your fires.

Keep our forests green.

Although it is well known that a partial vacuum is formed in the central area of a tornado, it is difficult to believe the report by a Kansas farmer that a tornado that ripped through his place milked all his cows.

Drama Continues In All Star Games

An odd twist came Tuesday when funeral service was held for Arch Ward, Chicago Tribune sports editor and the originator 22 years ago of the All Star Baseball game.

The first All Star Baseball game came simply as an offshot of the World's Fair held in Chicago in 1933. It wasn't intended to be a permanent affair.

The club owners and managers weren't exactly enthusiastic about lending a star pitcher, even if he worked only three innings or so, or any other star, with no profit to the club. And regular games that did mean profits had to be held up so that the All Star game could be held.

But the fans lapped up the idea of the best of the American League being pitted against the best of the National League. The first All Star game at Chicago, with Gomez winning for the Americans, Hallahan losing for the Nationals drew 50,000 customers. So to discontinue the contest after one year proved impossible.

The outstanding feature of the first game was a home run by Babe Ruth, hit when he had three balls and no strikes.

Like this year's game when the going is tough and the old pro steps to the plate watch out.

The fans' vote was not great enough to start Stan (The Man) Musial, but with the game tied in the twelfth inning he hit the first pitch into the right field bleachers well over the head of Detroit's Al Kaline.

The Man About Town

Water Pollution

A Former Resident Writes About Doings 60 Years Ago

Middle age: When most of the exercise we get is caution.

"Don't worry about water pollution in Pontiac," writes from his present home in Detroit. He continues, "When I lived in your city 60 years ago we dumped our dead horses and all other dead animals and garbage into the Clinton River—which reminds me of our present Detroit water."

Celebrating his eightieth birthday this week by retiring from his work as traveling salesman, which he has followed for 53 years, is of 272 Oakland Ave. He divided his birthday between one son at Lansing and another at Worcester, Mass., making the trip by plane.

Few Oakland County areas can run their local ancestry as far back as the Olive Branch community near Holly. Its annual picnic is on July 24 at the home of

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Andrews which stands on the site of the log cabin of the latter's great grandfather,

Moses Smith,

and she has the deed from the government, signed by

the community being named for Olive, N. Y., from whence many of the first settlers came. Mr. Andrews is the son of

Floyd Andrews,

Chairman of the Oakland County Board of Supervisors.

The season has arrived when some people find small "tomatoes" on their potato vines. Really, these are not tomatoes at all, but a form of potato seed common many years ago, but now rather rare.

Here around Pontiac we have plenty of transportation problems. But they don't bother the young opossums. The other day of 3377 Clintonville Road, saw an old 'possum leisurely carrying two young ones piggy back across her front yard.

Born in Northern Michigan 37 and 35 years ago,

Thomas Garrison

now of 5796 Dwight Road, Pontiac, and his sister, Marion, had never seen each other. This week, in company with his wife and daughter, he flew to Riverside, Calif., to get acquainted with his sister.

It is the observation of

of the Oakland County Tuberculosis Sanatorium that the former patients who held their annual meeting there Sunday are an outstanding testimonial of its work. Not only are they a vigorous and healthy company, but their children comprise the healthiest bunch of youngsters that can be imagined.

Older and Wiser

David Lawrence Says:

Ban on Nuclear Weapons May Hike Armament Costs

WASHINGTON — Paradoxical as it may seem, the net effect of any ban on the use of nuclear weapons that could be proclaimed at the four power conference at Geneva, or in any subsequent conference, might be to increase substantially the armament cost to the American people.

What is not generally realized is that because atomic and hydrogen bombs contain many times the explosive power of the conventional bomb used in World War II and known as "blockbusters," there is substantial economy in their substitute for the ordinary bombs. If both A-bombs and H-bombs are tabooed, the United States would have to build up its capacity to drop conventional bombs on enemy territory.

This means that long range bombers by the thousands would have to be provided. Estimates vary. But one military executive said he thought it might mean trebling the cost for more bomber aircraft just to be able to deliver the blows that would be necessary to make sure "massive retaliation" against an aggressor would be effective.

Obviously the contention of many military men is that disarmament talk is nonsense unless the plan is to include all kinds of armament. In other words there cannot be any partial restriction on the use of weapons because it would only mean the equivalent increase in conventional weapons to secure adequate defensive strength.

NICE TO TALK ABOUT

The disarmament problem is regarded here as something attractive to talk about in international conferences — as a sort of evidence of good will and good intention. But nobody expects the limitation to get anywhere, and if it does, the inevitable result will be to create a new demand for long-range bombers. The aircraft industry certainly may enjoy its biggest boom if the ban on nuclear weapons becomes effective.

All this is but another way of saying that the world is reaching the point where it will become necessary to find a way to ban all forms of international military airpower, and find some sure means of inspection if anything real is to be accomplished in the field of disarmament.

Precisely because no nation, least of all the United States, is going to throw away its means of defense, whether on a conventional or unconventional basis, the chances of a disarmament agreement are nil.

It is important to talk about it, however, as a goal and as a means of offsetting the accusations of "warmonger" which the Communists level at the United States. That's why disarmament will be a topic of discussion for a long time to come though nothing concrete will ever come of it.

MILITARY CONCERNED

Naturally, military men are concerned about any restrictions on the use of weapons. They have been saying in recent years that introduction of nuclear weapons cuts down expense and actually permits reduction in the arms budget. The fact that the converse is also true—abolition of nuclear weapons means an increase in conventional arms — has not yet seeped through to the people in the Western countries.

There is evidence that the Russians are building up their armament at the very time that their propaganda is urging a reduction or limitation. It is to the interest of Moscow to catch up with the United States, particularly in airpower.

If air strength is to be limited, however, the Reds have an ace in the hole — they have the biggest land armies in the world. Naturally it is Moscow's effort to persuade America and the West to stand still a few years while the Communists build up their armament.

So the disarmament game isn't fooling our own military leaders as they scoff at talk of reduced expense and lower taxes allegedly as a result of international agreements to limit armament. No plan that has as yet been brought out will accomplish any economy for the American people—it could conceivably increase by many billions of dollars the armament budget.

County Worker Agrees With Editorial, Praises Integrity of County Government

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature

Congratulations to the Press on the editorial praising Mr. McQuaid for his work as Register of Deeds.

I work for the county, and I can testify personally how very right that editorial is. He runs his office like a business, and holds it as a public trust; his only criterion in any decision is saving money for the taxpayer, and service to the public.

The office is notably free of politics, a terrific contrast to those in the metropolis to the south, where workers must constantly "pony up" campaign contributions.

I know two other county set-ups fairly well and the contrast in integrity and efficiency is startling. So far as I can determine, all other county offices here are well run. I have never entered partisan politics, and I have no doubt that there are Republican-run local governments somewhere which are corrupt and graft-ridden. I just don't know where they are.

The only ones I am familiar with are not Republican. And when I saw the heavy Democrat vote in south Oakland County last fall, I was sickened for I know the kind of political machine these emigrant Detroiters would put into power.

I can only pray that the people of this county may look long and carefully during the next year at what we have here, and remember it next November when they vote.

'Hospital Supporter' Asks When They'll Start Work

I'm one of the many people that voted to enlarge the city hospital. I went in there the other day and right away I wondered "when are they going to start the work?"

When are they?

Hal Boyle Says:

Resort Owner Illustrates Dignity of Mountain Folk

GATLINBURG, Tenn. (AP) — "In saying hill folk live with dignity, I feel that I am not making a misstatement, for indeed they do."

So said a lady here of whom I inquired what peculiar virtues mountain people have.

One example of mountain dignity is Jack Huff, who also superbly exemplifies another continuing virtue of the original Scotch-Irish settlers in the Great Smokies — pride of family.

Would you carry your own mother on your back up a mountain merely to let her see a sunset and a sunrise that you enjoyed and, as a son, felt she should share?

Jack Huff did once. It's a good story. Ernie Pyle told it in 1940, and I'd like to tell it again and bring it up to now.

About 1900 Jack's father came here with a pocketful of timber money looking for more, and ended up by building the pioneer Mountain View Hotel. It lies here in a cup in the hills, now one of America's leading summer resorts.

Jack loved the mountains and didn't want to lean on his pappy. So he decided he'd build a lodge of his own atop Le Conte, one of the highest peaks in the Great Smokies, then reachable only by footpath. This was before the federal government took over the area and made it into one of the nation's most popular public parks.

Jack built the lodge largely with supplies he toted up first on his own back, then on the backs of horses.

He now has enough cabins there to sleep 48 people overnight. Ernie Pyle figured in 1940 that Jack had climbed some 15,000 miles in creating his mountain eyrie. During most of his trips up the 7½-mile journey he shouldered a 50-pound pack.

His description of the magnificent view at the top of the peak intrigued his mother. She was time-crippled.

Jack built a special back chair, and put his mother on it. She weighed more than 90 pounds, but her son carried her up the steep slopes with her favorite kitten sitting purring in her lap.

He thought it was a privilege to do this for his mother, not a hardship. But it still has left him a deep regret. For the weather turned bad. His mother spent several days on the peak and her rheumatism finally forced her to come down again, and she died in time, never having seen the sun rise or set from the peak that Jack loved. It was something he had known she wanted to know, — too — and she never did.

Her son has never forgotten.

Jack doesn't pack supplies up the trail on his back anymore. His father died four years ago, and now he has to run the big prosperous hotel here in town.

He worries about the service, says it's hard to find people anymore who want to do a job right just because they feel that's the way a job should be done.

Jack takes his exercise now golfing. His doctor tells him his heart isn't what it was 20 years ago.

But his spirit is, and now it's valley-bound. He makes plenty of money. I would guess, but his eyes shine when he talks about the past, and they dull when he talks about the present.

He is a tall, lean, big-eared, courteous, friendly man hungry for yesterday, lonesome for the youthful prime when his mind was free and all his troubles were on his back. He misses climbing, going uphill, building in a new place.

When I asked him about the mountain top, he said:

"Up there you never find two days the same. It changes. You can see far. Every moment is different."

Growing older and wealthier in the town below, Jack Huff remembers being happier younger and higher up.

But hereabouts he will always be honored because he once carried his mother up a stony road to watch a sunset she never lived to see. It gives him a respect beyond any bank account.

Case Records of a Psychologist

Send Children Away to Summer Camp for Valuable Training in Growing Up

Try adopting a child at least part time! Pick out somebody like Lois in your church and send her to a summer church camp. Mrs. Crane and I have sent all five of our children to church camps at least four summers aviece, and some went for six summers. Note the reasons why.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case O-382: Lois L., aged 13, wants to attend a camp wth other young people from her church denomination.

"Dr. Crane, I suppose it is a good idea," her mother began, "but it will cost us about $20 for the week she is away.

"Her Daddy grumbles that we shouldn't waste so much money on her. He also thinks she is too young, and says let's wait awhile.

"But Lois has her heart set on going with the other young folks from our church. There will be eight boys and girls at the camp from our town.

"So should I let her go this year or wait?"

CAMP IMPORTANT

By all means try to see that every child attends church camps, Scout camps and similar youth gatherings away from home.

This is one of the essential steps in helping a youngster grow up. For a child must learn to live away from mama.

Millions of semi-adults haven't yet acquired this valuable training. When they enter college in the fall, they grow so homesick that they run back home on alternate weekends.

Or, if they do stay on the campus, they may be so restless because of nostalgia that they can't concentrate on their studies and hence flunk out during that first semester.

In big universities, we may lose 500 students the first semester, largely due to nostalgia (homesickness) with its bad effect on grades.

MOTHER BIRDS

Mother birds are often smarter in this respect than human parents, for a mother bird may actually push its fledgling from the nest when it sees the youngster should be trying its own wings and flitting around under its own power.

Nostalgia is the most widespread ailment on college campuses and causes more harm than all germ diseases that afflict students during their years at the university.

Tens of thousands of young men also go AWOL from military service because they can't stand to be away from home.

Thousands of patients enter mental sanatoriums because they were never weaned, emotionally, and hence have never cut loose from Mamma's apron strings.

And the tragedy about the matter is that many supposedly educated parents are the most guilty.

Wealthy families often try to coerce and dominate their children, even as regards choice of a sweetheart as well as occupation, so their children don't mature emotionally and thus become wastrels of the famous prodigal son variety.

EMOTIONAL WEANING

So start weaning your child emotionally before he can walk. This means you parents should hire a baby-sitter and go out for a date at least once per week.

Pick a baby-sitter who is kindly and loves children and who is well known and liked by your youngsters. Don't shock a child by suddenly pushing it into the custody of a total stranger as your baby-sitter.

Also, take your child to Sunday school. And see that he is in a large play group or nursery school by the time he reaches the toddler stage.

Prepare him with delightful anticipation for entrance into kindergarten or first grade. And socialize him by helping him play the games of his age group with average dexterity.

By all means, teach him to earn his own money. Then let him spend it largely as he wishes. He'll be a shrewd spender if he has earned it.

For further advice, send for my "Tests for Good Parents," enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope, plus a dime.

Many college educated men and women are the very worst of parents, so you better check on yourself.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and a dime to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his psychological charts.

Dr. Brady Says:

Diet Deficient in Vitamin B May Even Affect Memory

By WILLIAM BRADY, M.D.

Before World War II, a third of the population of the British Isles existed on diets containing insufficient vitamin B. Probably nutrition was no better here.

After war began the British government required the millers to leave 85 per cent of the wheat in the flour. Aside from the mild restriction this placed on the criminal waste of food for the production of refined white flour, it restored the consumers in Britain a good deal more of the vitamins and minerals removed from wheat in the refining process than we do in that snide product called "enriched" flour.

Many mild clinical cases of vitamin B1 deficiency have escaped notice because (I quote this sentence from Bignell & Prescott's The Vitamins in Medicine) clinicians wait for the appearance of full-blown beri-beri . . .

Until or unless you can work up a full-blown case of beri-beri the doctor can give you "shots" of something or other to keep you from wondering what ails you.

SYMPTOMS

It is against my Hippocratic principles to tell readers which symptoms indicate what disease or vice versa. But I believe it can do no harm and may do much good to mention the common manifestations of vitamin B deficiency, which most Americans have because they get most of their calories from refined white flour and refined white sugar — the namby-pambies.

Fatigue. Dyspepsia. Palpitation. Breathlessness. Slight swelling around the ankles. Pain produced by squeezing the calf muscles. Pins and needles sensations in hands arms, feet or legs. Distension of veins in neck and arms. Squatting on the heels is painful and perhaps you can't rise without using your hands. Inability to concentrate, defective memory, nervous irritability and anxiety. Diminished inclination to perform accustomed work.

Today it is difficult even for the expert to select food which will supply the minimum daily requirement of vitamin B—that is, the amount necessary to prevent these manifestations of deficiency—from the bewildering array of pretty packages of ready-cooked, ready-to-serve, pasteurized, sugarized and maybe accepted yet by the AMA.

Various investigators have noticed these psychological manifestations in human volunteers who ate only foods extremely poor in vitamin B1.

Intolerance of noise, inability to concentrate, inattention to details, nervous irritability, memory defects, anxiety, insomnia, diminished inclination to perform customary work.

Being nutty, I readily imagine I have most of these manifestations myself, so you needn't worry if the description hits your case. Do as I do—eat some extra vitamin B daily to supplement your refined namby-pamby Yankee diet.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long, pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady if a stamped, self-addressed envelope is sent to the Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Mich.

Tax Collector Caught on Delinquent Record

DES MOINES, Iowa (UP) — An employe in the city assessor's office, checking on a delinquent tax record, came across a report on his boss, City Assessor Bert Zuver.

Zuver checked into the record and sure enough, found he had neglected to pay a personal property tax of $3.24 for the last half of 1951. With penalty, the amount due was $4.18. Zuver paid up.

SHE'LL HAVE REAL VACATION — Mrs. Olive Howard of Clayton is looking forward to a real vacation for a change. It's really her retirement. She has had only a few days at a time for vacation from her telephone operator job for the last 33 years. She'll hang up her earphones and mouthpiece for the last time about midnight July 15.

Service to Her Friends More Vital Than Overtime

CLAYTON (AP) — No wonder Mrs. Olive Howard is looking forward to her vacation this month — it will be her first in 33 years.

What's more, it will be the first time in those 33 years she hasn't been on 24-hour call as chief operator for the Clayton Telephone Co.

"I've had a couple of days off now and then," she says, "But never a real vacation. In this business you don't get vacations."

On midnight July 15 Mrs. Howard will hang up her earphones and mouthpiece for the last time. The next day she'll move to Charlotte and later in the summer will go to Colorado on a trip with her son and family.

Since April of 1922, when Mrs. Howard started work on the switchboard in Clayton, she has been on call literally 24 hours a day. The company was 16 years old and had 130 customers then.

The rules said that on Sunday, for example, service was from 7 to 9 a.m. and 5 to 6 in the evening. Emergency calls were accepted at all hours, however, and Mrs. Howard found it "awfully hard" to enforce the emergency only regulation.

"In the first place," she said, "the operator wasn't supposed to listen in and had only the caller's word that it was an emergency.

"In the second place, even if it was late at night, once the operator was out of bed she might just as well complete the call. On top of that, everyone had a different idea of what 'emergency' meant."

However, Mrs. Howard knew that an operator on a rural exchange can't follow a set number of hours. She learned the telephone switchboard business in Pittsford after the death of her husband 44 years ago.

"You actually work 20 of the 24 hours of each day," Mrs. Howard says. "I know it sounds impossible but that's the way it is.

"Most people don't call after 10 p.m. but there are fire calls, messages for doctors and veterinarians and that type of thing going on all the time, even with only 330 families. You have to be here and ready, even during your sleeping hours."

One of her big jobs is handling all fire alarms for the volunteer department which keeps its trucks in the village.

Calls are telephoned to the operator who sounds the siren at the top of the fire barns. Within a few seconds she must handle calls from firemen who want to locate the scene and residents who want to know what is happening.

The White House has four elevators and 107 rooms.

Electric Bill Payment Winds Up in Holland

GRAND RAPIDS (UP) — Mrs. Douglas Erickson of Grand Rapids thinks postal employes should take a course in reading.

She mailed her January electric bill to the Consumers Power Co. office here. A month later, the company notified her that the payment was not received.

The bill was returned to her several days later. The postmark showed it had been all the way to Enkhuizen, Netherlands.

Mrs. Erickson said the post office must have been to blame because her writing isn't that bad.

University of Arizona at Tucson, established in 1890, on ground donated by the town's leading gamblers, was constructed before the state had any high schools.

Get Light Request

WATERBURY, Conn. (UP) — Firemen who raced to the home of a recent immigrant after receiving a telephone call from him finally learned that all he wanted was a light bulb.

BRUSHING UP — Joseph Giustino's job at Republic Aviation Corporation's Farmingdale, N. Y., plant is painting small signs on jet planes. But he's better known to Air Force pilots all over the country for his lunch-time art—decorating their plastic helmets. Here he puts the finishing touches on a fire-breathing dragon for one of his "customers."

Washington and Franklin Are Common Town Names

WASHINGTON—Town and city place names from A (Aaron, Ky.) to Z (Zylks, La.) dot the face of the United States, mirroring its history, charm, customs and sense of humor.

The commonest post office names in the country are: Franklin and Clinton, each attached to 27 cities, towns or hamlets; Washington and Chester, 26; Arlington and Troy, 25; and Marion, Manchester, Princeton, Newport and Greenville, 24 each.

These place names, however, are outnumbered by the simple, workaday word Summit, says the National Geographic Society. Only 11 Summits are large enough to warrant post offices, but in all there are nearly 70 Summits scattered from California to Rhode Island. Most are wayside spots; many merely whistle stops at the top of railroad grades, some scarcely populated in the immediate vicinity. Nearly 20 States have more than one Summit—New York, Ohio, Tennessee and Pennsylvania at least four each.

Communities frequently wish to change their designations and when they do, the problem likely lands in the lap of the Board on Geographic Names in the Department of Interior.

Many towns have already been through the renaming process. Berwyn, Okla., is now Gene Autry. The people of Hot Springs, N. Mex., changed their town to Truth or Consequences.

Grave Creek, Ore., made a considerable transformation—to Sunny Valley. Hell-to-Pay, Wash, evolved into Eltopay and later into Eltopia.

QUITE A CHANGE

Mountain, W. Va., was made out of a Mole Hill in 1949. Long ago Hangtown, Calif., decided to forget the gruesome past. It is now Placerville. Hot Spot, Ky., became Premium. Prosperity, S.C., was once Frog Level.

Kentucky and West Virginia display perhaps the widest range of captivating place names. Hardshell, Baptist, Pumpkin Chapel, Hi Hat, Stopover, Brightshade, Julip, Mud Lick, Mud Camp, Fishtrap, Pippapass point up to the Blue Grass State. West Virginia possesses Justice, Cinderella, Mud, Petroleum, Auto, Gip, Bim, Bud, Looneyville and Cuzzie.

Other eye-catchers are:

Solo, Dawn, Minimum, Huzzah, Clever in Missouri; Hurry, Dames Quarter, Accident in Maryland; Barnstable in Massachusetts; Only, Difficult in Tennessee; Ben Hur in Virginia; Cee Vee (from a branding iron), Tarzan in Texas; Brave, Bird in Hand (from an old tavern), Distant in Pennsylvania.

Also: Bread Loaf in Vermont; Weeping Water, Wynot (from Why Not) in Nebraska; Meddybemps in Maine; Sleepy Eye (from a Sioux chief) in Minnesota; Marked Tree, Evening Shade, Smackover, Gid in Arkansas; Economy in Indiana; Buncombe in Illinois; Bunnlevel in North Carolina; Battiest and Bowlegs in Oklahoma.

The West has Zigzag in Oregon; Twodot in Montana; Cocolalla in Idaho; Dusty in New Mexico; Kaycee in Wyoming; Rough and Ready in California; Paradox in Colorado; and Jiggs in Nevada.

In the deep South there are Soso and Askew in Mississippi; Water Proof in Louisiana; America, Choccolocco and Vinegar Bend in Alabama; Round O in South Carolina; and Ty Ty and Social Ciricle in Georgia.

Ain't New No More

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Oscar Hammerstein of musical world fame was touring the set of "Oklahoma" at a movie studio. On an impulse he asked a deputy sheriff, who was escorting him, what he thought of the production. "Just great," said the deputy, "but why are they using all that old music?"

Davy's First Bear Shot at Age of 8

OKAWVILLE, ILL. (UP) — Davy Crockett didn't kill a bear when he was three, according to one of his nearest living relatives. The first killing by thte famed Indian fighter and frontiersman didn't occur until he was eight.

Contrary to song and story, that is the word passed on by Mrs. Margie Ree Chon.

According to family legends, Mrs. Chon said Davy Crockett was responsible for obtaining meat for the family when he was eight because his father and older brothers were too busy with the crops.

To do this job, Davy was given one bullet a day. If he shot and missed he still had to get the meat. In a short time, he rarely missed.

Officials of the 1938 Texas Centennial compiled a genealogy tracing Mrs. Chon's relationship to Crockett.

Crockett and his wife had three children, two boys and one girl.

The daughter, Margaret Finley Crockett, married Wiley Flowers. They were the parents of Mrs. Cohn's grandfather, David Flowers.

David's son, Thomas, was Mrs. Chon's father, making Davy her great-great grandfather.

Kent Employment Up

GRAND RAPIDS (UP) — Michigan Employment Security Commission reports show Kent County employment continued an upward swing in June. Figures list 109,800 wage and salaried workers for the period ending June 15, compared with 109,500 for the previous period. An unemployment jump—from 2,600 in May to 3,000 in June—was described the result of an influx of students into the labor market.

New Welfare Secretary:

Folsom Fathered Layoff Pay Plan

By FRANK O'BRIEN

WASHINGTON (UP)—Marion Bayard Folsom, chosen by President Eisenhower today to be the new secretary of health, education and welfare, is a founding father of the social security system.

He devised, and put into practice in 1928 a private social security system at the Eastman Kodak Co., where he was assistant to the chairman. That was seven years before the United States became the last of the major industrial nations to legislate protection against old age, unemployment and widowhood.

And in 1931, as unemployment mounted toward its depression worst, Folsom organized 14 companies at Rochester, N. Y., including Eastman, into the "Rochester Plan"—a scheme of layoff pay similar in many respects to the agreements signed this spring by Ford and General Motors with the CIO United Auto Workers.

This effort, startling in the dank depression year of 1931, sent hopeful delegations from cities across the nation to Rochester to confer with Folsom, in hopes that other cities could imitate the "Rochester unemployment benefit plan."

The plan coming atop the Eastman-financed social security plan for its wage earners made Folsom nationally known as a big business executive with a bent for social planning.

Folsom, now 61, was born Nov. 23, 1893 in McRae, Ga.. He is a quiet, soft-spoken man who neither drinks nor smokes and has made a life speciality of the dusty complexities of pensions, and tax and social security law.

When the Eisenhower administration came into power, Folsom was appointed undersecretary of the treasury for tax matters.

From the outset, his job was the complete revision, first in over 70 years, of the federal tax code put into law last year. Folsom claimed little public notice for his part in devising the new 900-page tax law, but it is very much his own work.

That job done, he had planned to return to private business this summer. But the illness in her family which prompted Mrs. Oveta Culp Hobby's resignation as secretary of welfare opened a job Folsom could not resist—administering and making policy for the social security system he helped develop.

Folsom, a Harvard Business School graduate with a passion depression weapon.

It was with this background that for figures and detail, has very often seen an advantage to business as well as to workers and the community in proposals that set other businessmen to crying "socialism."

In 1931 he publicly urged adoption by industry of the five-day week. Also, he told a national meeting of Community Chest executives that planned public works could be used as a powerful anti-the late President Roosevelt picked Folsom, a Republican, to help frame the social security laws.

Folsom has served as a director of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce and as a member of the Commerce Department's advisory council. He is an overseer of Harvard College and he is a Presbyterian.

Set Up Piano Award

INTERLOCHEN (UP)— Grinnell Bros. music house has announced a $1,000 piano scholarship, to be awarded annually to a Michigan piano student selected by the Michigan Federation of Music Clubs. The scholarship was announced by Lloyd P. Grinnell of Detroit, president of the music firm, attending the current Michigan Federation of Music Clubs convention at the National Music Camp.

Red Clover Discovery Resists Stem Disease

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (UP) — A new variety of medium red clover, resistant to northern anthracnose, a stem disease, has been released by several midwest agricultural experiment stations after 10 years of testing.

C. N. Hittle of the University of Illinois' agricultural school said a limited amount of seed will be available in 1956.

The new clover, named Dollard, has shown up exceptionally well in the northern two-thirds of Illinois, out-yielding other varieties when anthracnose is present.

Consumers Shifts Aide

GRAND RAPIDS (UP)—Philip R. Brown, assistant to the Consumers Power Co. division manager at Battle Creek, Wednesday was named to a similar post at Grand Rapids. Brown has held the Battle Creek post since 1952.

The ostrich makes a noise which sounds much like the roar of a lion.

Land Animals Swim Well When Necessity Arises

WASHIGTON — "Ol' swimming hole" time is approaching for the American boy, one of the few water-loving North American mammals not a born swimmer.

While hundreds of thousands of youngsters must go through a learning period of thrashing clumsily about in river, lake, ocean surf or pool, less resourceful lower animals seem to have built-in swimming ability. Most land animals, when the need arises, can propel themselves in water, some with agility, some awkwardly.

The hare and hedgehog sometimes take voluntarily to water, says the National Geographic Society. The mighty moose swims well. Bats can hold up on watery surfaces. Ermine navigate proficiently.

In Puerto Rico a colony of monkeys bathes along the seashore, and in Washington some Rivers present no problem for the 15-pound Texas armadillo. The armored beast swims wide creeks but walks across the bottom of narrow streams.

The star-nosed mole, with its 22 fleshy tentacles, has a flair for aquatics, occasionally moving under ice. A resident of Canada and the United States, the restless mole swims among flooded cattails and probes the ground for worms.

The four-inch-long brown lemmings, arctic inhabitants of old and new worlds, are dogged swimmers. Tawny, with short tails and furry feet, the creatures sometimes assemble in the millions to migrate. Neither lakes nor streams stop their march. When reaching the sea, as in Norway, they plunge in and, acting on some mysterious impulse, swim away to death.

years ago, an escaped monkey plunged into the Potomac River and eluded a pursuing rowboat for more than an hour.

The brawniest lifeguards can't compare with a polar bear in water. Occasionally, after the seasonal retreat of ice, the big white bears are seen in open sea far off the Labrador coast. A wounded female once swam from danger while shielding a cub twice the size of a Newfoundland dog between her forelegs. One ship's company watched a bear climb an uptilted ice pan, lie on its side and slide 40 feet head-first to a watery splash.

The solitary mink is equally at home raiding thickets and henhouses for food or seeking its fill with otterlike ease under water.

T'aint Funny, McGee

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (UP)— Frank Shinee, who has some uranium claims in Kern County, sent his representative, Jack Adams, to check up on them. Back came a postcard from Adams: "Having wonderful time. Wish uranium were here."

Five in Family Pick Careers in Medicine

IOWA CITY (UP) — When the last of A. W. Berryhill's 10 children finish at the University of Iowa here in 1957, five will be in the medical profession.

The "medical family" started in 1951 when Boyd, now 41, enrolled in the college of medicine. He is a pediatrician at Eugene, Ore. Sister Marion is a nursing instructor at Hendrick Memorial hospital, Abilene, Texas.

Brothers Clinton, 27, and LeRoy, 25, are in second and third year of medicine, and Glenda, 21, completed nurses training last year.

Rain Won't Tell

PORTALES, N. M. (UP) — Ab French, head of Roosevelt County's drought committee, had about all the water he could use. A hail and rain storm broke off all his fence-post rain gauges and he had to use buckets to measure the water. He said he'd "swear to between five or six inches of rain, and I think we had more."

Vegetables Are Tops

DAVIS, Calif. (UP) — The super giant among California's agricultural giants is the vegetable industry. So says J. E. Knott, chairman of the Department of Vegetable Crops at the State Agricultural College. He said vegetable shipments in 1954 more than double the state's combined volume of grapes, citrus fruits, deciduous fruits, nuts, berries and miscellaneous fruits.

ORDINANCE NO. 1280

An Ordinance to Amend the Building Zone Map of Ordinance No. 944, Known as the "Building Zone Ordinance."

Adopted July 11, 1955

Effective July 21, 1955

An Ordinance to Amend the Building Zone Map of Ordinance No. 944, Known as the "Building Zone Ordinance."

The City of Pontiac Ordains:

Section 1. The building zone map of the Building Zone Ordinance is hereby amended to provide that the land in the description hereinafter set forth, be classified as Residential 2.

Part of S.E. ¼ Section 22, T.3N., Range 10 East, City of Pontiac, Oakland County, Michigan, described as commencing at the S.E. corner of said Section 22; thence west along the south line of said section also being the southerly line of Lot 49 Assessor's Plat No. 104, to the southwesterly corner of Lot 49 as a point of beginning. Thence continuing west along the southerly line of the section 1180.46 ft. to the easterly line of the Grand Trunk R.R. Belt Line R.O.W., thence N. 00°26'08" E. along the R.O.W. line 1352.60 ft., thence S. 89°42'53" E. 1174.70 ft. to the west line of Lot 49 Assessor's Plat No. 104, thence southerly along said west line of Lot 49 to the S.W. corner of Lot 49 being the place of beginning.

Section 2. The change in the building zone map in the above area to Residential 2 is made pursuant to the recommendation of the City Plan Commission and said Commission is hereby appointed to make a final report upon this amendment to this Commission previous to the public hearing to be held before this amendment is adopted, pursuant to Section 4 of Act No. 207 of Public Acts of 1921, as amended.

Section 3. That not less than fifteen (15) days notice of the time and place of the public hearing on the final passage of this amendment shall be given in a newspaper of general circulation in this city; that such public hearing is hereby fixed at the 11th day of July 1955.

Section 4. This ordinance shall take effect ten (10) days from and after the date of its passage by the City Commission of the City of Pontiac.

Made and passed by the City Commission of the City of Pontiac, this 11th day of July, A.D. 1955.

Hint Zhukov May Attend Geneva Talks as Delegate

By KINGSBURY SMITH
INS European General Manager

GENEVA—Soviet Defense Minister and World War II hero Marshal Georgi Zhukov was reported by Russian sources to be a member of the Russian delegation to next week's Geneva chiefs of state conference.

These informants in the Swiss lakeside city said the marshal, who commanded the defense of Moscow and led the Red armies to victory over Nazi Germany, will welcome an opportunity to renew his wartime friendly acquaintance with President Eisenhower during the Geneva talks.

There was a possibility that the barrel-chested marshal will seek a private informal chat with his wartime colleague-in-arms in an effort to assure the U.S. chief executive that Russia does have peaceful intentions.

Since arriving in Geneva, this correspondent has heard an amazing tale concerning the role that Zhukov allegedly played in connection with liquidation of former Soviet Interior Minister and Secret Police Chief Lavrenti P. Beria.

SHOW OF STRENGTH

If it is true, it would be a further indication of the strength of his position in the Soviet setup.

According to the INS informant, Soviet Communist Party boss inside story of how Beria was re-Nikita S. Khurhschev revealed this moved to Yugoslavia's Marshal Tito during the recent visit of Soviet leaders to the Balkan state.

Khrushchev said the showdown over Beria came when the latter refused to accept a curtailment of his police powers following Stalin's death.

The other members of the Soviet presidium became convinced Beria was seeking to step into Stalin's shoes as the absolute ruler of the Soviet Union.

It was decided to replace him and a special meeting of the presidium was called for that purpose. Beria, learning the purpose of the meeting, refused to attend. Zhukov sent troops to bring the minister to the Kremlin by force, which they did.

BERIA ACCUSED

According to the story, Beria then was accused by the now Soviet Premier Nikolai A. Bulganin and by Khrushchev and others of attempting to engage in a struggle for power. He was called upon to give an accounting of his actions.

At that point, Beria was said to have started shouting against Bulganin, Khrushchev and the others.

When it became evident Beria was "raving like a madman," Zhukov and Marshal Ivan Konev drew their pistols and with them pointed at the police chief forced him to leave the room with them.

According to Khrushchev's tale, the two marshals took Beria into another room and ordered the gaurds to shoot him right then and there. The next day it was announced Beria had been imprisoned.

The talkative Communist Party chieftain also reportedly told Tito that Stalin was losing his mind for several years before his death and toward the end indulged in wild parties and drinking orgies.

Never Judge a Book by Its Outside Cover

MILES CITY, Mont. (UP)—Justice of the Peace Herbert Abel was sympathetic with John Swanson, 68. He was shabby and there were holes in his tennis shoes.

Abel fined Swanson $25 after Swanson pleaded guilty to stealing a 35-cent package of figs. Swanson reached into his shabby jeans, pulled out $890, paid the $25 fine and went on his way.

'Bomb' Package Found to Contain Intercom

CHICAGO (UP)—The package ticked ominously and rang at nerve-shattering intervals, so the railroad mail clerk summoned a post office inspector who sent for the police bomb squad.

Sgts. Drew Brown and Frank Grady Jr., opened the package and found a harmless battery-operated intercommunication system. They rewrapped it and sent it on.

Largest Blast Furnace

DETROIT (UP)—A steel company claims its blast furnace on Zug Island in the River Rouge is the world's largest. It measures 30 feet 3 inches in diameter and has a rated capacity of 50,000 tons of pig iron a month.

Spend Night in Vain

DETROIT (UP)—Burglars broke into the Bor in Transit Mixed Concrete Co. to get a heavy safe. They dragged it through an office, across a yard, into a garage, and hoisted it into a company truck with a company crane. They used a crowbar to pry a chain off a gate and drove off. That took at least half the night. In the safe was an old, outdated deed to a house. That was all.

Michigan—Tourist Mecca

LANSING (UP)—The State Tourist Council reports Michigan now is fourth in the number of tourists, who spend an estimated 500 million dollars annually. Ahead of Michigan are New York, Florida and California.

Number Necessary

HARTFORD, Conn. (UP)—A motorist asked the state motor vehicle department for the number of his old and discarded 1954 driver's license. He said he had forgotten it and needed it to get into his safe. The license number and the safe combination, he explained, were the same.

Florida Town Exudes Air of Mystery Month After Unsolved Abduction

MANALAPAN, Fla. (INS) — An atmosphere fused of suspicion, sunshine, mystery and fear hung over the plush little community of Manalapan today—serving as an uneasy memorial to the disappearance of Circuit Judge Curtis E. Chillingsworth and his wife, Marjorie, just one month ago.

The consensus of the man-in-the-street is that "the perfect crime" has been committed and that the continuing investigation will come to naught.

But police claim they are far from whipped and point to the famed Lindbergh case, which took two years to solve.

The Chillingsworths, both in their late 50s, were last seen the night of June 14 when they attended a dinner party in fashionable West Palm Beach, a few miles to the north. They left for their seashore home at an early hour—and were never heard from again.

CITE MOTIVE

A West Palm Beach city commissioner, who asked that his name not be used, said the judge's colleagues are convinced the case is one of vengeance.

"The judge was a tough man on the bench," he said, " . . . just, but unbending. True, he had many friends—but he also had his enemies, even here in West Palm Beach.

"This was not the job of a couple of amateurs. Whoever carried off the judge and his wife knew exactly what they were after . . . and it's the belief here that it was someone that received a stiff sentence."

FEW CLUES

Only a few slim clues have turned up in the baffling case. Two rolls of adhesive tape—one partially used—a broken floodlight and a few drops of common-type blood are all the police have had on which to work.

The house showed no signs of struggle, and nothing was missing.

County Investigator John R. Hiatt said he could not go along with the premise that the Chillingsworths case was destined to go down as an unsolved crime.

"People making those statements just are not familiar with police work," he said. He added:

"Take the trouble to go back through your police files: It is not unusual for a case to go unsolved for months, or even years. It took two years to catch the kidnaper of the Lindbergh child.

5 MEN ON CASE

"We'll start worrying when we stop getting phone calls and tips from the public. At present we have five men doing nothing but running down such leads. Some of them aren't too logical, but we check them out anyway."

Loren Simon, Judge Chillingsworth's brother-in-law and the official spokesman for the family, said he had "all the confidence in the world that the mystery will be solved." He said the family was content that "police are doing everything within their power," and added: "We're leaving it entirely in their hands."

Hiatt had the highest praise for the Chillingsworth family, and the way its members have conducted themselves during the tedious, outwardly unfruitful investigation.

KEEP HEADS

"They've cooperated 100 per cent," he said, "and managed to keep their heads. By this time, most families would have been to a crystal gazer and consulted their ouija board, then would have expected us to check out the results."

The Chillingsworth's few remaining neighbors in the "summer ghost town" all have reacted in about the same way to the disappearance: They're frightened, suspicious of anyone who mentions the judge's name. Questions bring only "yes" and "no" if replied to at all.

The community—made up almost exclusively of winter homes of well-to-do Northerners—borders Route A-1-A, the Florida ocean highway.

The judge's home sits back off the road on a knoll overlooking the pounding surf, a strange mixture of all that's bright and gay—and sinister and forboding.

Democrat Given Government Job

Gordon Gray Succeeds Hensel in Foreign Aid Program for Pentagon

WASHINGTON (AP)—Gordon Gray, Democrat who has served in administrative and investigative assignments under Democrats and Republicans, returns to government service today.

Gray, secretary of the Army in the Truman administration, becomes assistant secretary of defense for international security affairs.

Despite his arrival, there will be a net reduction of one Democrat in the higher administrative levels of the Eisenhower administration. Two Democrats are leaving—Deputy Security of Defense Robert B. Anderson and Mrs. Oveta Culp Hobby, secretary of welfare, both Texans.

Both Anderson and Mrs. Hobby are being replaced by Republicans.

Gray succeeds H. Struve Hensel. His job is concerned primarily with carrying out the Pentagon's part in foreign military aid programs.

Gray, during 1950, made an overseas mission as a special assistant to former President Truman to prepare an economic report on conditions abroad.

His latest previous government service was as chairman of a special board named by the Atomic Energy Commission last year to investigate charges brought against Dr. J. Robert Oppenheimer.

Gray has been president of the University of North Carolina since October 1950.

Reds Invite Robeson

TOKYO (AP)—Paul Robeson, American Negro singer, has been invited to the fifth Youth and Student Festival in Warsaw "as a guest of honor," Peiing radio said today.

ANIMAL PUZZLE — Paul Dittambl studies a newcomer to Chicago's Lincoln Park Zoo. Rabbit-like creature with a foxy nose is a fennec, a species of African desert fox.

Marion Davies Buys Hotel in Palm Springs

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Marion Davies is now a hotel owner.

The former actress announced yesterday that she has bought the Desert Inn in Palm Springs for two million dollars. The sellers were Earl Coffman and George Roberson.

Miss Davies, who said she will be the sole owner, said, "It'll cost a lot more by the time we get through with it. I plan to develop it into a miniature Rockefeller Center."

Sign Insect Pact

TOKYO (AP)—Red China and Bulgaria have signed an agreement in Sofia to cooperate in curbing insect pests and plant diseases, Peiping radio said today. The plan provides for exchange of experts and information.

Davy Man of Year for Dealers in Fur

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The man of the year among St. Louis dealers in raw fur is Davy Crockett, who died at the Alamo 120 years ago.

The demand for Davy Crockett hats and other frontier garb created by the current craze over the King of the Wild Frontier has enabled fur dealers to sell skins that had been taking up warehouse space for years.

"We have sold a lot of lemons that had been around for a long time — anything that had a tail on it," said one dealer. "And raccoon tails, which until recently had been almost worthless, went for $4 to $5 a pound."

Cuba is the chief outlet for American rice and lard.

Engineer Is Killed as Train Derails

BRIDGEPORT, Conn. (AP)—The engineer of the Federal Express was killed early today when the engine and seven cars plunged from an embankment.

The New Haven Railroad identified the engineer as Arthur Orteneau, of New Haven.

Six people were injured, apparently none seriously, the railroad said.

A spokesman said five of the derailed cars on the Washington-to-Boston train had no passengers. The other two cars were a sleeper and a coach. There were 17 cars in the train.

The derailment occurred about a mile west of Bridgeport station. The cars plunged about 10 feet to the freight yards. The locomotive struck a switching engine, whose engineer was injured.

Odd Names Dot Map of America

Choices of Founders Reflect Humor, Urge to Be Different

The American people dislike the commonplace. They go to extremes trying to be different. This attitude is found when a town is to be named. The National Geographic Society, which keeps records of names throughout the world, came up with the following:

Unusual names have been consciously sought out in more than one instance. Odd, W. Va., and Peculiar, Mo., both wanted to be odd and peculiar.

The grim realities of frontier life were not ignored: Tombstone in southeastern Arizona; Skull Valley, Ariz.; Bone Cave, Tenn.; and Bone Gap, Ill., have a funereal ring. And Montana made no bones about putting Quietus on its map.

Frost, W. Va., recognized its nippy weather, but a town in Florida wanted all the country to know it was Frostproof.

a King, Pennsylvania a Queen, Texas holds an Ace, three states Alabama a Jack, Texas a Spade, seven states a Diamond, and Missouri a Clubb.

North, East, West and South are among the most common prefixes for combination names. Strangely, the hamlet North is found in the South (Virginia), as is also Due West (South Carolina). Ohio has a North Star and Montana Polaris.

Incidentally, there are Dixies in the North as well as the South—in Idaho, Washington, West Virginia and in Georgia, Louisiana and Virginia.

Mexico Trying to Sell Huge Surplus of Sugar

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Mexico is trying to find somebody to buy 400,000 tons of sugar. An excess of any foodstuff is something new for Mexico.

Mexico was an importer of sugar until six years ago. Then her annual production of around 500,000 tons began to climb. This year's crop is expected to top 900,000 tons.

Russia has taken about 20,000 tons this year, but can't be depended on to take much more. Mexico, through her ambassador in Washington has asked the United States to increase Mexico's present quota of 11,445 tons to 160,000 tons. The matter is still pending.

Building Booms on Black Sea

Construction Projects Aid Trade Development on 'International Lake'

WASHINGTON — A construction boom along the shores of the Black Sea is writing a new chapter in the history of the ancient, strife-ridden "internatonal lake."

Encircled by one democratic and three Communist nations, the 159,000-square-mile inland sea between Europe and Asia upholds its heritage as one of the world's most strategic waterways, the National Geographic Society says.

The Soviet Union has completed a vast canal system that connects Moscow to the Arctic Ocean and warm-water anchorages in the Black Sea. Ships on their way from northern waters to the southern sea and its bustling Russian ports no longer must sail around Europe via Gibraltar.

Romania has started construction of a 40-mile canal to link the heavily traveled Danube River with Media, its new Black Sea port. The Balkan nation has rebuilt Constanta, once a luxury resort, and modernized its docks.

Turkey, an anchor nation in the western world's chain of defenses, is constructing a series of modern harbors along its 800-mile stretch of Black Sea coast.

The Black Sea can hardly be called a friendly body of water, however. Rivers provide a surface layer of fresh water. But extreme salinity in its lower depths pickled life many years ago. Today, few if any plants or animals exist below 300 feet, for hydrogen sulphide gas produced by bacteria prohibits life at the lower levels.

Rainmaker Takes Credit for More Dallas Water

DALLAS (AP) — Dr. Irving P. Krick, of Denver, says his "rain-increasing' service is responsible for 21 billion extra gallons of water which has poured into Dallas reservoirs since 1952.

He said yesterday lakes serving Dallas have gained 84 billion gallons since he was hired in 1952, and that of this amount he claims credit for 21 billion at a total cost of $100,000.

SILENT SIGNALS — Gesturing in sign language, Ralph J. Lee of Memphis, Tenn, tells his pet Blackie to sit up, and the dog obeys instantly. Lee and his wife are deaf and use their hands to talk to each other. Blackie understands the sign language better than oral commands. If they make the word sign for cat, Blackie gets all excited. When asked in sign language if he's hungry, the canine licks its lips.

Two Enterprising Teenagers Open Kiddie 'Play Skool'

By PAT CONLON

Ellen Niedelson and Sue Gordon are different. These two thirteen-year-old girls have turned a dream into reality.

If you walk down Rosshire court past number 14, Ellen's home, Monday, Wednesday or Friday about 10 a.m., you'll see Ellen and Sue with four little girls and six young boys on the front porch.

You'll see the "Play Skool," as they call it, in session.

Everybody is happy about the "Play Skool." The mothers of the little boys and girls say it gives them a chance to get out three mornings and do their shopping or just relax and take it easy.

The children are happy because they enjoy the organized activities and the association with children of their own age.

Ellen and Sue like it because they want to be teachers or social workers, and the school is bringing them closer to the realization of their dreams.

They also enjoy making the weekly trip to the bank with their earnings.

Class begins at ten a.m. three mornings a week, and after assembling on Ellen's front porch the little group generally proceeds to a nearby park where the children are allowed to play by themselves for a period of fifteen minutes.

Following this is a 20 minute period of group games after which one of the older children or the teachers read to the class during the rest period.

Every Friday is "picnic day" and the children bring their lunches and go for a walk together, perhaps to Washington Jr. High School grounds or to Webster School.

The two enterprising young ladies are both students in Washington Jr. High School. Ellen is in the ninth grade while Sue is in the eighth.

And this is only the beginning. The girls hope to extend their services next winter by setting up a "baby-minding" business at a nearby shopping center, where mothers can leave their children while they shop.

SCHOOL DAYS! — School days are cool days for students of Ellen Niedelson and Sue Gordon's Play Skool as the children hold classes three mornings a week. Drugstore Blaze to Cost Over $60,000

PORTLAND, Mich. (AP)—Loss was estimated at upwards of $60,000 today in a drugstore fire.

Flames swept through the Portland Drug Co. in the middle of a main business block last night. The blaze was believed to have started in wastepaper storage in the basement of the two-story brick building, but the cause could not be learned immediately.

The co-owners of the drugstore, Charles Callihan and Charles Quick, said the loss to contents would amount to $30,000. Mrs. Carl Bywater said the damage to the building she owns would equal that amount. There also was smoke damage to two adjoining stores and a dentist's office over the stores.

Beef to Be No. 1 Feature in Stores This Weekend

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Beef will be the No. 1 feature in food stores across the nation this weekend.

Prime ribs and chuck roast will be particularly favored, with prices moderately below those of a week ago. Some markets plan specials on ground beef and boneless stewing beef.

Fryers, legs of lamb, lamb chops and pork chops are other meats named by specialists as attractive buys for weekend shoppers. Selected markets will offer good buys in legs and rumps of veal.

Sirloin steak prices will be on the higher side. A major chain is boosting prices from two to six cents a pound in most of its outlets.

The Department of Agriculture reports that meat supplies this year will average around 160 pounds for each American, or seven pounds more than last year. It figures that consumers will pay little if any, more for meat this year than last.

EGGS GO HIGHER

Egg prices will be up two or three cents a dozen in some parts of the country this weekend. Butter will sell for about the same as a week ago.

Once again, produce departments will offer a wide range of vegetables at reasonable prices. The men who watch the markets report that beans, beets, cabbage, squash and corn are leading best buys.

They also favor potatoes, eggplant, cauliflower, cucumbers, lettuce, onions, peppers, celery and tomatoes.

Watermelons are cheap. Oranges, grapefruit and limes are considered good buys in fruit. Western cherries are attractively priced and grapes are lower, with the white Thompson seedless the most abundant.

Canteloupes, honeydews and peaches are described by produce men as moderately priced.

July is Ice Cream Festival Month and the dairy industry hopes you'll do your part. Last year, production was almot 600 million gallons and Americans spooned or licked their way through an average of 3½ gallons each.

Mechanic Salvages Snake Hiding in Car

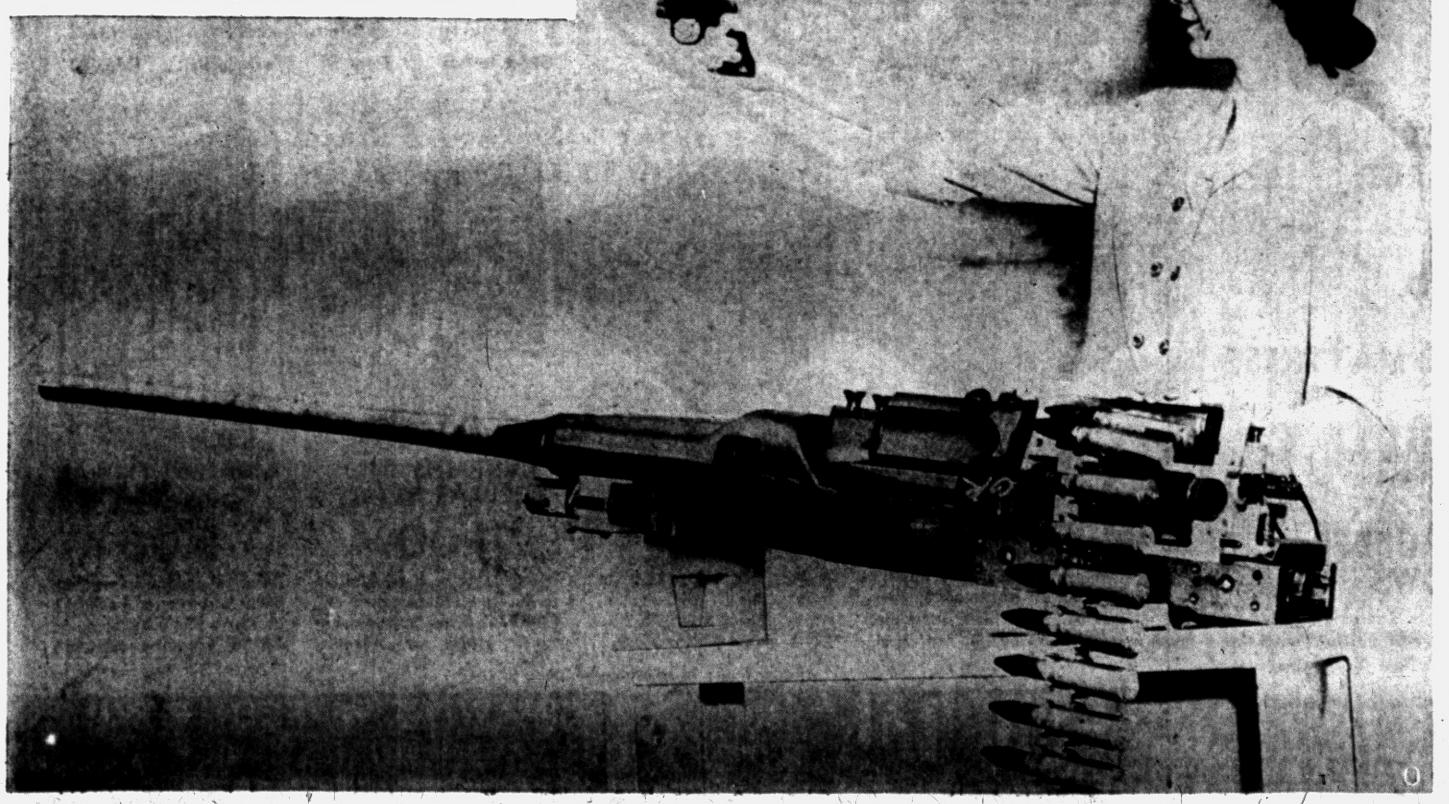
SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—Press Gragg, an auto mechanic for 33 years, has taken a lot of bugs out of cars, but never a snake—that is until yesterday.

Harold Brown brought his car to Gragg "to get the snake out."

Gragg tackled the job with a plate of milk and a heat lamp after other mechanics had pulled the seats out of the car without snaring the reptile.

Gregg grabbed the five-foot gopher snake with his hands, when it came out from behind the dash board to sip the milk. He dumped it into a cardboard box to be returned to Brown.

"It's Mr. Brown's car and Mr. Brown's snake," he said.



AIRCRAFT CANNON — Like the revolver held by the young lady, this 20-mm. aircraft gun has a revolving cylinder in which the rounds are chambered and fired. The cannon, used as main armament on U. S. Air Force fighter planes, are produced at the Pontiac Motor Division plants here. The Detroit Ordnance District this week awarded a $7.5 million contract to the local GM division for continued production of the guns. Capable of a rate of fire almost as rapid as a machine gun, the M39 cannon fires a bullet nearly seven-eighths of an inch in diameter.

4 More States Impose Curbs on Fund Drives

CHICAGO (AP)—Legislatures in four more states cracked down this year on charity rackets, said to be fleecing the public of up to 120 million dollars annually.

Income tax statistics show that an average American family doles out about $88 a year to charities ranging from lonely street corner beggars to nationwide drives.

Most of this year's legislation followed a pattern set by New York last year. After hearing a committee report on charity abuses, the New York Legislature adopted a law requiring charity organizations to register with the State Department of Welfare.

Oklahoma passed a similar law this year requiring charity groups to register with the secretary of state and file financial statements. Exemptions include churches, the American Red Cross, educational and fraternal groups. New York exempts only church groups.

A law requiring charities and professional fund raisers to register for the first time was put on the books in New Mexico.

Maine made an existing law tougher. Professional solicitors must now register with the state if they are making collections away from the city where their organization has its home office.

Utah's Legislature passed a bill prohibiting charity groups from using the names of persons without their consent. This also is a feature of the New York law.

Report Volunteer Appeal Issued in Pontiac Area

There is a big hole in the defensive fence guarding this nation against surprise air attack. That figurative gap is in Oakland County, whose Ground Observer Corps posts are short 1,500 volunteers.

Coverage at the county's 13 posts ranges from 24 hours a day every day to no minutes a day any day.

The Air Force, which coordinates GOC activities, has been beating the drums for volunteers throughout the county for several months, but with little success.

Today, the third anniversary of "Operation Skywatch," stock was taken of the situation in the local area.

"Pontiac is really sad," observed S. Sgt. Nicholas A. Chizewsky, who coordinates post activities in Oakland and adjoining counties and helps recruit volunteers. "It is only 40 per cent manned."

The city post, located atop the Oakland County Office Building, has but 50 volunteer sky watchers and at least 120 more are needed, Chizewsky said.

The unit is headed by Arthur J. Heaton, who is seeking to interest teenagers over 15 and adults in joining the ranks of the 350,000 who scan the skies across the country.

In comparison, Chizewsky points happily to the post in the relatively small community of Milford.

There 152 men and women make certain that every minute of every day the course of each plane passing overhead is carefully noted and reported to the GOC Filter Center in Grand Rapids. Post Supervisor is Mrs. George Seeley.

Of course, Chizewsky said, some county posts are worse than Pontiac's. In Birmingham, South Lyon, Leonard and Goodison, for example, he reports there is no activity.

Other communities vary. Clarkston, supervised by Ted Hennig, has 20 active viewers and 160 are needed. Headed by George A. Volkert, the Clyde post is about 50 per cent efficient by Air Force standards. It needs 120 more volunteers.

The competitive spirit is moving Mrs. Doris G. Hendershot and her 150-person crew to operate 90 per cent of the time in Commerce, not far from Milford. And Chizewsky said that unit will soon join Milford in operating around the clock.

Davisburg is now inactive but is expected to get into action after Aug. 1, deadline for construction of an observation post. Heading the activities there is William A. McCullen.

Vern Willard, Farmington director, has about 140 members operating the post 85 per cent of the time. And in Ortonville, Wilmer G. Kilbourn operates a post from his home about four hours a day. A regular station is to be built by August 1 and 170 volunteers are needed to join the five already taking part.

The Oxford post, guided by Silbert Roberts, is 75 per cent active and could use about 25 more volunteers.

After logging 25 hours of sky peering, watchers are presented with a set of silver wings by the Air Force. Other awards are given for service up to 2,500 hours.

Purpose of the GOC is to fill in the defensive screen not covered by radar. A low - flying speedy bomber might sweep in from over Canada beneath the probing radar rays.

Only a ground observer, telephone in hand, could sound the warning which would send interceptor planes into the air to challenge the enemy.

Persons wishing to join the corps should contact their local supervisor or may call the county civil defense office, FE 3-7151.

Actress Returns to Hospital Bed

Suzan Ball, Recovered From Leg Amputation, Has Cancer Relapse

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Suzan Ball, a resolute young actress who came back to a film career and marriage after losing her right leg to cancer, is waging a fresh battle against the disease today.

The City of Hope medical center at nearby Duarte disclosed that the pretty brunette, 21, has been a patient there since July 5. Her condition is serious.

Little more than two years ago Suzan fell on a dance floor. She had just been signed to a movie contract. Nobody thought the injury would keep her from work for long. But she had trouble with her leg, and doctors now think she aggravated a dormant condition.

The following November she fell again, in the kitchen of her home. This time the injury to the leg did not respond to treatment. A bone graft was tried, but without positive result.

Suzan learned soon afterward that she would probably lose the leg. But she never lost her courage.

In 1953 she and actor Richard Long became engaged. Suzan's ailment however, interrupted her marriage plans as well as her career. On Jan. 13, 1954, her right leg was removed.

She bounced back to seeming health—in a few weeks she was planning her marriage again, and the resumption of her film work. In a few more weeks she was learning to walk with an artificial leg.

The postponed wedding took place in Santa Barbara April 12, 1954. And Suzan walked up the aisle, just as she had said she would.

"I'm going to show the world I can walk," she announced during rehearsals for a TV play in which her husband also appeared. During much of the action she was shown in a wheel chair. But at the play's end she walked.

Then she made a picture, "Chief Crazy Horse." Thereafter she and Long settled into their domestic roles.

"People have asked me how I felt after coming through my experience with cancer," Suzan said after the amputation. "I can only say I was never afraid of it. I always thought in terms of being cured; that was my only consideration. The grimmer aspects of cancer never occurred to me."

The City of Hope announcement yesterday came as a shock to all except Suzan's closest friends in the movie colony. They knew she hadn't been well.

"Mrs. Long's general condition is considered serious," a hospital spokesman said, "and she is being evaluated to determine a course of therapy."

Democrat Blows Up at GOP Sign Site

SOUTH CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP) — Grocer John Ray, a Republican, was peeved with the city's Democratic administration anyway. When a "no parking" sign appeared in front of his store, he boiled over — uprooted the sign and heaved it into an empty lot.

GOP Mayor Joseph W. Londeree said a stenographic error in the minutes of a council meeting put the sign in the wrong spot.

"That still doesn't justify Ray's taking the law into his own hands," he said. "There's no politics involved.

European Women Won't Miss Good Music

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK (INS) — American women love classical music — symphony, opera, the ballet — but not enough to buy their own tickets and go it alone. They'd rather be in the company of a masterful man than masterful musicians.

European ladies, on the other hand, will give up dinner, bid adieu to their men, and stand in queues for hours to dream with Debussy or churn with Tchaikovsky.

"Who is to say which kind of woman is right?" sighed maestro Efrem Kurtz, giving the old palms-up, or what're ya gonna do? gesture.

"To a man who makes his business conducting symphonies, like myself, the European woman seems to have a very likeable approach. However, for a husband who likes to go to night baseball games, the American girl would seem to be smarter."

Kurtz, who left the Houston Symphony 18 months ago to rove Europe conducting its largest orchestras, insists that women the world over have the same sensitive urge to listen to fine music. "It's just that in Europe, their urge takes the form of a terrific drive.

WON'T STAND FOR IT

"The average European man is like the average American man. When he is weary, after a day's work, he will go in for sleep or light entertainment rather than visit a concert hall. Well, the women won't stand for it.

"They will fight for their musical enjoyment. They will gather together however many pennies they have saved, and will collect in lines outside the hall—sometimes bringing their knitting and handiwork—until they get up to the box office and can buy a standing-room ticket."

Kurtz dipped his head—a handsome head, half gray, half bald—and said, "I bow to them. Women everywhere."

The Russian-born conductor was noted in this country for building the Kansas City Philharmonic and the Houston Symphony, as well as for conducting every large and distinguished U. S. orchestra, before he took off for Europe suddenly.

He has now accepted a post, beginning next fall, as permanent conductor of the Liverpool Philharmonic, and will return to Europe next month after conducting several concerts at the Lewisohn Stadium in New York and Robin Hood Dell in Philadelphia.

"It will be in many ways painful to leave the United States," he says, "but I have come to the conclusion that I am not a large-city man. The thump-thumps, bump-bumps, whack-smack noises distract me."

He has several "retreats" in Europe: In the mountains of Switzerland, in the outskirts of Liverpool, and in the little town where Puccini was born in Italy.

GREAT ORCHESTRAS

Now that he has spent more than a year traveling as guest conductor for symphonies from Israel through France and Belgium and Scandinavia and Holland, he can say—can Kurtz—that there are "three great orchestras" in Europe compared to the finest symphonies in the U. S.

"But they are different. They are equally brilliant, and equally technically perfect, but they sound different." Partly this is because of the variance in cultures, and partly because the individual instruments are constructed differently—like flutes, which are made of wood in some European countries, but are made of metals in others.

But fine music is fine music everywhere. Just as good audiences are good audiences, and beautiful women are beautiful women.

"You study music—or for that matter, women—and you will find that it is the same in every land," said Efrem, with a pixie smile. "No matter where you go, music and women are just like the weather . . .

"There are some refreshing, lovely days and some gloomy, bad ones. Both are needed to make it a wonderful world."

Ancient Medics Had Know-How About Chemicals

DETROIT (AP)—A University of Pennsylvania professor says that the oldest known medical prescriptions show the ancient had "a broad acquaintance with chemistry" and used material which required skills for preparation.

Dr. Samual Noah Kramer, research professor of Assyriology at Pennsylvania, said the ancient prescriptions are on clay tablets which lay buried 4,000 years in the sands of Mesopotamia, and are written in Cuneiform script developed by ancient Sumerians.

Kramer told the American Assn. of the History of Medicine, the ancient doctor used potassium nitrate, table salt, ground snake skin and turtle shell in his prescriptions, as well as botanicals made from seeds, bark, roots or leaves of cassia, myrtle, thyme, willow, pear, fire, fig and date.

"The prescriptions," he added, reflected the long-standing confidence of the ancients in odoriferous principles of botanical elements. Asafetida was included."

Mt. Pleasant Regrets Forgetfulness of Circus

Now the town fathers are unwilling custodians of a cageful of baboons. Crabby baboons, at that.

Dog Warden James Deckerd has taken over care and feeding of the animals until the Cole Brothers Circus reclaims its lost property.

Gourmet Fasts in Florida: No Shark Fin Soup There

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Chua Choon Liong, a contractor and builder from Singapore, stayed in a plush oceanfront hotel during a Miami vacation, but avoided the dining room.

"Only one complaint," he observed. "They don't serve shark fin soup, my favorite dish."

There are plenty of sharks in Florida waters, too.

OK First School Loan

LANSING (AP)—The State Department of Public Instruction today qualified its first school system for loans under the 100 million dollar state school construction loan fund. The qualification was given to Garden City.

Filter Just Too Good

SAN LUIS OBISPO, Calif. (AP)—Norman Sharpe, a professor at California State Polytechnic College, says he has devised a holder that removes more than 95 per cent of a cigarette's nicotine. He concedes commercial possibilities for the experimental filter are about nil because "it removes all the smoke and taste as well."

U.S. Survey Shows Few Empty Houses

WASHINGTON (INS) — Commerce Secretary Sinclair Weeks said that a government survey shows housing vacancies are low enough to dispel any fears that builders are erecting too many new dwellings.

Weeks said a survey by the Census Bureau shows that in the last three months only 2.2 per cent of all dwelling units in the U. S. were vacant. This compares with 1.6 per cent when the last survey was taken five years ago.

Weeks said the survey shows that the demand for housing continues strong, and that the near record number of dwelling units which are being built this year are being readily occupied.

Colorful Owner of Ontario Inn Taken by Death

RIVERSIDE, Ont. (INS) — Mrs. Bertha Thomas, a widow who started 35 years ago cooking and waiting on tables in her small restaurant and expanded it to the million-dollar Thomas's Edgewater Inn in Riverside, Ont., died Tuesday.

Death in Windsor's Hotel Dieu (hospital) was ascribed to injuries she received in a fall June 18.

Mrs. Thomas, a former Detroiter, was one of the broder city's most colorful figure, well known for work among the poor. At Halloween and Christmas she gave parties for underprivileged children in the area's schools.

In recognition of this service, Mayor Robert Bondy of Riverside today ordered all municipal flags in the community flown at half mast as a tribute to Mrs. Thomas.

Funeral service will be held Saturday from her apartment adjoining the inn and at St. Rose of Lima Catholic Church. Burial will be in St. Alphonsus Cemetery, Windsor.

Costly Vase Gone, Worth $100,000

PASADEN, Calif. (INS)—A Chinese porcelain vase worth $100,000 is missing from the private gallery of Pasadena art collector Hulett C. Merritt, 83.

The gallery manager, Stanley A. Anderson, reported the theft to police yesterday. Merritt is out of town.

Anderson said the vase is 3 feet tall, and is from the imperial Kang Hsi dynasty of 1722.

Thieves took the vase from a glass case and also stole the vase's history, which was enclosed in a 12 to 14 inch picture frame, Anderson said.

Tomato Powder Near Commercial Production

WASHINGTON (INS) — Tomato powder, which can be reconstituted into juice when mixed with water, is reported to have moved a step closer to commercial production.

The Agriculture Department says a Milwaukee firm has proved that high-quality powder can be produced by a continuous process in commercial vacuum-drying equipment.

The nation's hospitals employ 1,200,000 persons and pay them $3 billion a year.

Socony Oil Reveals Cut in Wholesale Gas Prices

NEW YORK (INS) — Socony Mobil Oil Oil Co. Inc. announced Wednesday a reduction in wholesale gasoline prices in many areas along the eastern seaboard in a move to restore orderly gasoline marketing activities.

The adjustment involves price reductions of three-tenths to five-tenths of a cent a gallon and the simultaneous elimination in price war areas of voluntary discounts which have been as much as five cents a gallon. Socony's action represents the first downward revisions in wholesale gasoline prices since a short-lived cut put into effect July a year ago.

Cuba comprises the sixth most important center for America's export trade.

Almost 1,800 miles of major toll highways will be in operation in the U.S. by the end of 1955.

Backlog Jams Steel Plants

Mills Rushing to Fill Old Orders; Delivery Behind Week, 10 Days

NEW YORK (AP)—The biggest order logjams in history are facing steel producers, Iron Age, the national metalworking weekly, said yesterday.

The brief steel strike made a bad situation worse, setting back deliveries a week to ten days on some products, it added. Two weeks after the end of the walkout, mills are still struggling to get back to the pre-strike production level and it's questionable whether they'll achieve this in the next several weeks.

Iron Age reported as follows:

The effects of the shutdown are broadened by a maintenance problem. The supply of hot iron has been reduced due to the strike and to shutdown of blast furnaces for repairs. In addition, hot weather and vacation problems are having their normal summer slow-down effects.

Meanwhile, there are no signs of a let-down in demand. It's increasing, if anything. Automobile companies are pushing production to the hilt, expecting prompt deliveries in the face of their short inventories. They'll switch to the new models almost without missing a beat in production; and pretty much the same situation prevails in other industries.

Ingot production was estimated at 93 per cent of capacity, up seven points from last week.

FAMOUS CHILDREN'S PAINTINGS—4

Baby Stuart

The chubby child pictured today is sketched from one of the famous paintings by the great artist, Sir Anthony van Dyck. The baby was one of the children of King Charles I of England, and when he grew up he became King James II.

The original painting shows three children — including an older brother and sister of young James Stuart. But the youngest of the children frequently is studied as though it were a single portrait.

Van Dyck was born in Flanders, which is now known as Belgium, in 1599. He went to England when he was 33 and spent the rest of his life there. Before his death in 1641, he painted hundreds of portraits—many of them of the royal family.

The original painting of today's picture is in a gallery in Turin, Italy. Color it as you think it should be, and add it to your collection of famous paintings of children.

Buffalo's Good Neighbors Entertain Foreign Visitors

BUFFALO, N. Y. (UP) — To scores of foreign visitors from all over the world, Buffalo is "The City of Good Neighbors."

For it is here that some 125 transient foreigners annually are welcomed into homes for an opportunity to see what Americans are really like.

Buffalo is believed to be the only city in the United States with an organized program for inviting foreign visitors to the home, church and school. Now in its fourth year, the program has been so successful in promoting international understanding and good will that it has attracted praise fro msuch officials as Secretary of State John Foster Dulles.

The program is administered by an informal organization known as the Buffalo World Hospitality Committee. More than 200 citizens participate, with the only requirement being the willingness to play host. There is no membership fee, nor is the group subsidized in any way.

Last year, the committee catered to more than 125 visitors from 28 countries in Europe, Asia and Africa. Among them were ambassadors, journalists, political leaders, government officials, religious leaders and professional and business men.

Most pass through Buffalo under the State Department's international exchange program. As guests of the committee, they sleep in private homes, eat with families, attend church, tour cultural points and schools and compare notes with their counterparts in government and business. In other cities, the visitors generally stay in hotels and eat at restaurants.

All stops here include a trip to nearby Niagara Falls and passage over the Peace Bridge into Canada. Invariably the foreigners are astounded at the ease with which they can cross the international boundary. They wonder at the lack of red tape and armed guards.

LIKE PROGRAM

Miss Ethel Mason Coan, committee chairman, said the foreigners eagerly accept their hosts' friendliness and help. Most arrive with an apparently distorted picture of Americans, she added, and are agreeably surprised to find that "we are simply people just as they are."

Recently a couple from Austria arrived by train, alone and bewildered. When Miss Coan walked over and said, "Welcome to Buffalo," the two broke down and wept with relief and joy.

"Our visitors write and tell us they will never forget our kindness," Miss Coan explained. "We feel we are helping the peace by making these people our lasting friends."

Kids Don't Change Much but Teachers' Ideas Do

SPRINGFIELD, Mass. (AP)—Guidance has changed more in 40 years than children, says Francis S. Warner.

"In fact, kids basically have hardly changed at all," Warner says, and he should know—retiring after 40 years as school janitor and custodian.

The most valuable thing teachers can do in guidance, Warner says, is to manage the two or three mean kids found in every group "so the other children will influence the mean ones instead of vice versa."

Death Has 3 Lives

by Brett Halliday

Distributed by NEA Service, Inc.

THE STORY: Private Detective Michael Shayne, up to his ears in a series of murders, is forced to tell Police Chief Will Gentry the full story of his connection with the case when he learns his pretty secretary, Lucy Hamilton, has been kidnaped by the killer.

XXVII

IN a flat, unemotional tone, Shayne told Gentry exactly what he had been told over the telephone by the murderer.

"Stop a minute, Will, and consider the situation. What would you and your entire police force have done at that moment if I'd taken the story to you?"

"We could have saved the woman's life and gotten the whole story from her by sitting tight," blustered Gentry. "He told you he had her hid out with arrangements for us to find her if you didn't come across with the money in a certain length of time. You caused her death by forcing the issue."

"He told us he had her hid out," Shayne reminded him. "But he didn't in fact. He had her tied up and locked in the trunk of the stolen car all the time." Michael Shayne's voice had an unaccustomed note of pleading in it. "Do you have Doc Martin's preliminary report on her?"

Will Gentry hesitated, then he conceded gruffly, "Doc didn't find a trace of salt water in her lungs. She must have been dead before the sedan went over. Suffocated in the trunk."

"How long before the car went over, Will?"

"At least half an hour," said Gentry grudgingly. "But that doesn't absolve you, Mike."

"I know, I know," said Shayne wearly. "If you'd had a jackass for a father, you'd be out in a field braying right now instead of sitting at this desk. So, I made a fast decision. There was one way we might trap the guy. By sending Lucy out with a decoy package under her arm . . . and don't blame Pete Fairwell for helping me make up that bomb. I gave him a good story why I wanted it, and he cooperated the way you've always had your men cooperate with me before."

"I blame you for bungaling the deal," said Police Chief Gentry.

TOO MANY IFS

"Fair enough. There again, we have a whole batch of ifs. If he hadn't gunned the motor so fast before the bomb went off. If the guard fence hadn't been down at exactly that point. If an officious motorist hadn't picked up the unconcious man and carried him away before the police or I got there . . . Those are ifs no one can anticipate. I took a gamble on catching him and lost. If I'd succeeded, you'd be pinning a medal on me instead of having me on the carpet."

"But you didn't succeed. Go on with your wild story about a bank robber named Hugh Allerdice."

SHAYNE went back to the time of the payroll theft and related the sequence of events leading up to the automobile tragedy while Allerdice was being taken to prison.

Then Chief Gentry broke in with:

"Arlene Bristow is missing from her home. Supposed to have left for Miami a couple days ago under somewhat mysterious circumstances. With her brother dead here, I naturally wondered if it was she in the luggage compartment of the sedan."

"Arlene in Miami!" exclaimed Shayne. "Lucy must have learned that after we left her somehow. And that's what took her down to the morgue!"

"From what you said there, I gathered you thought Lucy was the woman whom the man recognized as he came out, and who took her away with him. Some man named Jenkins from 12th Street, who was afraid she was his daughter."

"Nuts! He's the murderer, of course. The man who was driving the sedan. He recognized Lucy at the morgue, caught her by surprise and hurried her out before she could protest. His Miami street address was the giveaway, Will. No one in Miami lives on plain 12th Street. It's either Northwest or Northeast, Southwest or Southeast. That mistake proves him a stranger."

HE KNEW HER

"Why would the murderer go down to try to identify the body?" argued Gentry. "He certainly knew who she was."

"Maybe he was afraid she had something incriminating. The important thing right now is that he has Lucy Hamilton. What are you going to do about that?"

Will Gentry's voice was deceptively mild. "Since you seem bent on running my police department, suppose you tell me what to do."

"Don't, Will. It's Lucy we're talking about. I'm convinced the man who has her prisoner has already killed two people tonight. Why not Lucy, too?"

"I can't think of any good reason." The cigar was drawing well and Gentry regarded the glowing end approvingly. "Unless he's holding her as sort of hostage to force you to give him the money he's after."

"I told you there was no money." Shayne half rose from his chair with clenched fists.

"YOU told me a lot of things the last 15 minutes. Give me a description of this so-called murderer . . . if he exists."

"He's heavy-set," said Michael Shayne between tight-clenched teeth, "and middle-aged. Wearing a gray suit and gray hat. Probably driving the car he stole from the Miami Beach resident who picked him up at the accident and got slugged for his trouble."

"That's not much to go on."

"Do you remember Jack Bristow told Lucy that a dead man had shot him?"

"I recall you saying that Lucy said Bristow had told her that."

"Call New Orleans," said Shayne angrily. "If you want a complete description of your man. Detective First Class Mark Switzer. The cop who was handcuffed to Hugh Allerdice when the police car went into the river there three days ago."

(To Be Continued)

Light Didn't Change; —There Wasn't Any

PETERSBURG, Va. (AP)—Traffic piled up at a busy intersection while a driver of the lead car sat calmly behind the wheel. The driver told police he was waiting for the light to change. But there wasn't any light.

The judge said $100 fine and thirty days in jail when the driver admitted that, while maybe not seeing double, he was "in no condition to drive."

Crusades, Inc. Provides Work for Handicapped

LA CROSSE, Wis. (AP)—An industry planned to provide jobs for handicapped people is almost ready to start operations here. Warren Loveland who has given up a well-paid job to head Crusades, Inc., made the announcement.

Loveland, president of the chamber of commerce, has been active in the National Association for Infantile Paralysis. He has a son Stafford, 10, now being treated for polio at Warm Springs, Ga.

A survey shows there are about 100 employable handicapped people in the La Crosse area. Subcontract work has been lined up to start Crusades, Inc. and it will eventually go into light manufacturing, Loveland says.

He expects the project to compete on a private enterprise basis. At the same time he plans to adjust the jobs so that handicapped people will have a proving ground as well as a place to polish their skills for employment in other firms. His new firm will also be an educational project to show that handicapped people can be effective workers, he says.

Although many firms do employ the handicapped, enough fail to do so to keep many people in idleness to the detriment of themselves and the community, he urges.

World Flight Becomes Race

'Frisco Executive, Pert Beauty Queen Will Fly in Different Directions

SAN FRANCISCO (INS) — A 21-year-old former Denver girl and a young San Francisco executive made plans today to confound all the Rudyard Kiplings and the Horace Greeleys, and to prove that East goes East, and West goes West — and the twin shall meet in San Francisco.

All that is involved is a simple air race around the world, each traveling separately in opposite directions.

The whole thing started last week when the San Francisco Junior Chamber of Commerce, after choosing pert, copper-haired Susan Ryan as "Miss San Francisco International Airport," decided to send her on a round-the-world flight in an attempt to break the global record for present commercial airliners.

At this point, in stepped Andrew W. Lerios, 34-year-old San Francisco travel agency executive and global flying enthusiast since his teens.

"Why not make it a race around the world?" he asked Susan. "You go East, and I'll go West, and we'll see who gets back to San Francisco first."

SUSAN AGREES

Susan promptly agreed.

Lerios, flying West, will leave San Francisco International Airport at 11:30 P.M. Monday, July 25 (PDT on Pan American World Airways flight 831 for Honolulu, Wake Island, Guam and Manila.

Susan, leaving San Francisco just and hour and five minutes later (12:35 A.M. Tuesday, PDT), will head East by American Air Lines to New York. From there, via Pan American and Air France, she will travel to Paris, Rome, Beirut, Baghdad, Karachi, Calkcutta, Bangkok, Saigon, Manila, Tokyo, Wake Island and Honolulu, thence home to San Francisco.

Her schedule will bring her back to the Golden Gate city just in time to preside as queen over a two-day Flight-O-Rama air show, Saturday and Sunday, July 30 and 31, at the San Francisco International Airport.

Lerios meantime will be continuing westward via KLM, Air France, Pan American and United Air Lines through Bangkok, Rangoon, Karachi, Beirut, Rome, Paris, London, New York and on to San Francisco.

160 HOUR FLIGHT

Susan is scheduled to arrive back at San Francisco International Airport at 11:30 A.M. Saturday, after 106 hours, 55 minutes —more than 8 hours better than the existing record for current operating commercial airliners.

* * *

Lerios' connections so far call for him to trail Susan into San Francisco by three hours and a quarter, but he hopes to overcome his initial four-hour - 20 - minute "handicap" by arriving early at one or more of his connecting points and taking alternate schedules that may then be available.

C. of C. Cooperates

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP)—The Chamber of Commerce looked up the Triple H Bar brand for Francis H. Jacoby of Carmel, Calif. He was designing a gift for his mother who registered the brand with the Cattle Sanitary Board in 1907 when she was Hazel Hostetter. Jacoby wanted to put the old brand on the gift.

Senior Scouts to Hold Outing This Weekend

MENOMINEE (AP) — The seventh annual Senior Scout Bay Jammer, one of the most unique outings in scouting, will be held in Menominee Marina and the waters of Green Bay on Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

The Bay Jammer, the idea of Scout Leader John Turner of Menominee, has grown until this year 735 have sent registrations from five states. Senior Boy and Girl Scouts, Explorers, Sea Scouts, Marine-Sea Scouts and Ranger Aids, will spend three days sailing large and small sailboats, take part in boat safety drills and operations, enter log rolling, swimming and other water events and stage a Senior Scout parade. The affair is limited to Senior Scouts.

Scouts are registered from Michigan, Wisconsin, Illinois, Iowa and Indiana.

Many will be quartered on sea scout ships, which will be sailed here from all over Lake Michigan and Wisconsin's Lake Winnebago country, while others will camp in tents at the beach park and Senior Girl Scouts and mariners will be quartered in hotels.

The Bay Jammer is the only scouting event of its kind in the nation. Similar outings are being patterned after the Bay Jammer for Scouting activities in other parts of the country.

Set Safety Record

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Consumers Power Co., Grand Rapids division, this week achieved a safety record of one million consecutive accident-free man hours. Gordon L. Carson, division manager, said Wednesday the division's 540 employes posted the mark over a period of 11 months.

Limestone Quarry Reopened in State

ALPENA (AP)—The lower Great Lakes area now has more support to its claim of being the nation's largest source for limestone.

Reopening of the Stoneport Quarry of Presque Isle Corp.—put back in operation at an investment of 15 million dollars—is responsible. Before the year is up, tons of limestone will have been shipped from here to steel mills.

The quarry is one of several of the area.

Five steel firms, including Bethlehem, Youngstown, Republic, National and Jones-Laughlin, formed Presque Isle Corp. two years ago for the operation here.

The first shipload of limestone went out from Stoneport last April. Shipments will continue until navigation ends in December.

Woman Lavishes Care on Plants of War Marker

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) —A daily ritual, carried out almost unnoticed, keeps potted plants blooming brightly at the World War II Memorial in downtown Grand Rapids.

A middle-aged woman, seen by early work-goers, has made it her personal project.

Sometime between 6:30 and 7 a.m. she appears at the memorial with a shopping bag which holds a sprinkling can of water for the potted geraniums and petunias around the monument base.

She wipes off any stains she finds on the sturcture's metal nameplates.

"I think people on the other side of life see what we do," she told a Grand Rapids Press reporter. "When I pick up around the monument and water the flowers, they say, 'Thank you, Pearl.' "

"I know that borders on spiritualism, but I believe it," she says.

The woman says she never had a son but thinks of the names on the monument as "hers."

"There aren't enough flowers. I didn't put them there, but I keep them living," she says.

The nation's hospitals combined have more than 1.5 million beds.

Death Has 3 Lives

by Brett Halliday

Distributed by NEA Service, Inc.

THE STORY: Private Detective Michael Shayne, up to his ears in a series of murders, is forced to tell Police Chief Will Gentry the full story of his connection with the case when he learns his pretty secretary, Lucy Hamilton, has been kidnaped by the killer.

XXVII

IN a flat, unemotional tone, Shayne told Gentry exactly what he had been told over the telephone by the murderer.

"Stop a minute, Will, and consider the situation. What would you and your entire police force have done at that moment if I'd taken the story to you?"

"We could have saved the woman's life and gotten the whole story from her by sitting tight," blustered Gentry. "He told you he had her hid out with arrangements for us to find her if you didn't come across with the money in a certain length of time. You caused her death by forcing the issue."

"He told us he had her hid out," Shayne reminded him. "But he didn't in fact. He had her tied up and locked in the trunk of the stolen car all the time." Michael Shayne's voice had an unaccustomed note of pleading in it. "Do you have Doc Martin's preliminary report on her?"

Will Gentry hesitated, then he conceded gruffly, "Doc didn't find a trace of salt water in her lungs. She must have been dead before the sedan went over. Suffocated in the trunk."

"How long before the car went over, Will?"

"At least half an hour," said Gentry grudgingly. "But that doesn't absolve you, Mike."

"I know, I know," said Shayne wearily. "If you'd had a jackass for a father, you'd be out in a field braying right now instead of sitting at this desk. So, I made a fast decision. There was one way we might trap the guy. By sending Lucy out with a decoy package under her arm . . . and don't blame Pete Fairwell for helping me make up that bomb. I gave him a good story why I wanted it, and he cooperated the way you've always had your men cooperate with me before."

"I blame you for bungaling the deal," said Police Chief Gentry.

TOO MANY IFS

"Fair enough. There again, we have a whole batch of ifs. If he hadn't gunned the motor so fast before the bomb went off. If the guard fence hadn't been down at exactly that point. If an officious motorist hadn't picked up the unconcious man and carried him away before the police or I got there . . . Those are ifs no one can anticipate. I took a gamble on catching him and lost. If I'd succeeded, you'd be pinning a medal on me instead of having me on the carpet."

"But you didn't succeed. Go on with your wild story about a bank robber named Hugh Allerdice."

SHAYNE went back to the time of the payroll theft and related the sequence of events leading up to the automobile tragedy while Allerdice was being taken to prison.

Then Chief Gentry broke in with:

"Arlene Bristow is missing from her home. Supposed to have left for Miami a couple days ago under somewhat mysterious circumstances. With her brother dead here, I naturally wondered if it was she in the luggage compartment of the sedan."

"Arlene in Miami!" exclaimed Shayne. "Lucy must have learned that after we left her somehow. And that's what took her down to the morgue!"

"From what you said there, I gathered you thought Lucy was the woman whom the man recognized as he came out, and who took her away with him. Some man named Jenkins from 12th Street, who was afraid she was his daughter."

"Nuts! He's the murderer, of course. The man who was driving the sedan. He recognized Lucy at the morgue, caught her by surprise and hurried her out before she could protest. His Miami street address was the giveaway, Will. No one in Miami lives on plain 12th Street. It's either Northwest or Northeast, Southwest or Southeast. That mistake proves him a stranger."

HE KNEW HER

"Why would the murderer go down to try to identify the body?" argued Gentry. "He certainly knew who she was."

"Maybe he was afraid she had something incriminating. The important thing right now is that he has Lucy Hamilton. What are you going to do about that?"

Will Gentry's voice was deceptively mild. "Since you seem bent on running my police department, suppose you tell me what to do."

"Don't, Will. It's Lucy we're talking about. I'm convinced the man who has her prisoner has already killed two people tonight. Why not Lucy, too?"

"I can't think of any good reason." The cigar was drawing well and Gentry regarded the glowing end approvingly. "Unless he's holding her as sort of hostage to force you to give him the money he's after."

"I told you there was no money." Shayne half rose from his chair with clenched fists.

"YOU told me a lot of things the last 15 minutes. Give me a description of this so-called murderer . . . if he exists."

"He's heavy-set," said Michael Shayne between tight-clenched teeth, "and middle-aged. Wearing a gray suit and gray hat. Probably driving the car he stole from the Miami Beach resident who picked him up at the accident and got slugged for his trouble."

"That's not much to go on."

"Do you remember Jack Bristow told Lucy that a dead man had shot him?"

"I recall you saying that Lucy said Bristow had told her that."

"Call New Orleans," said Shayne angrily. "If you want a complete description of your man. Detective First Class Mark Switzer. The cop who was handcuffed to Hugh Allerdice when the police car went into the river there three days ago."

Light Didn't Change; —There Wasn't Any

PETERSBURG, Va. (AP)—Traffic piled up at a busy intersection while a driver of the lead car sat calmly behind the wheel. The driver told police he was waiting for the light to change. But there wasn't any light.

The judge said $100 fine and thirty days in jail when the driver admitted that, while maybe not seeing double, he was "in no condition to drive."

Crusades, Inc. Provides Work for Handicapped

LA CROSSE, Wis. (AP)—An industry planned to provide jobs for handicapped people is almost ready to start operations here. Warren Loveland who has given up a well-paid job to head Crusades, Inc., made the announcement.

Loveland, president of the chamber of commerce, has been active in the National Association for Infantile Paralysis. He has a son Stafford, 10, now being treated for polio at Warm Springs, Ga.

A survey shows there are about 100 employable handicapped people in the La Crosse area. Subcontract work has been lined up to start Crusades, Inc. and it will eventually go into light manufacturing, Loveland says.

He expects the project to compete on a private enterprise basis. At the same time he plans to adjust the jobs so that handicapped people will have a proving ground as well as a place to polish their skills for employment in other firms. His new firm will also be an educational project to show that handicapped people can be effective workers, he says.

Although many firms do employ the handicapped, enough fail to do so to keep many people in idleness to the detriment of themselves and the community, he urges.

World Flight Becomes Race

'Frisco Executive, Pert Beauty Queen Will Fly in Different Directions

SAN FRANCISCO (INS) — A 21-year-old former Denver girl and a young San Francisco executive made plans today to confound all the Rudyard Kiplings and the Horace Greeleys, and to prove that East goes East, and West goes West — and the twin shall meet in San Francisco.

All that is involved is a simple air race around the world, each traveling separately in opposite directions.

The whole thing started last week when the San Francisco Junior Chamber of Commerce, after choosing pert, coppery-haired Susan Ryan as "Miss San Francisco International Airport," decided to send her on a round-the-world flight in an attempt to break the global record for present commercial airliners.

At this point, in stepped Andrew W. Lerios, 34-year-old San Francisco travel agency executive and global flying enthusiast since his teens.

"Why not make it a race around the world?" he asked Susan. "You go East, and I'll go West, and we'll see who gets back to San Francisco first."

SUSAN AGREES

Susan promptly agreed.

Lerios, flying West, will leave San Francisco International Airport at 11:30 P.M. Monday, July 25 (PDT on Pan American World Airways flight 831 for Honolulu, Wake Island, Guam and Manila.

Susan, leaving San Francisco just and hour and five minutes later (12:35 A.M. Tuesday, PDT), will head East by American Air Lines to New York. From there, via Pan American and Air France, she will travel to Paris, Rome, Beirut, Baghdad, Karachi, Calkcutta, Bangkok, Saigon, Manila, Tokyo, Wake Island and Honolulu, thence home to San Francisco.

Her schedule will bring her back to the Golden Gate city just in time to preside as queen over a two-day Flight-O-Rama air show, Saturday and Sunday, July 30 and 31, at the San Francisco International Airport.

Lerios meantime will be continuing westward via KLM, Air France, Pan American and United Air Lines through Bangkok, Rangoon, Karachi, Beirut, Rome, Paris, London, New York and on to San Francisco.

160 HOUR FLIGHT

Susan is scheduled to arrive back at San Francisco International Airport at 11:30 A.M. Saturday, after 106 hours, 55 minutes —more than 8 hours better than the existing record for current operating commercial airliners.

* * *

Lerios' connections so far call for him to trail Susan into San Francisco by three hours and a quarter, but he hopes to overcome his initial four-hour - 20 - minute "handicap" by arriving early at one or more of his connecting points and taking alternate schedules that may then be available.

C. of C. Cooperates

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP)—The Chamber of Commerce looked up the Triple H Bar brand for Francis H. Jacoby of Carmel, Calif. He was designing a gift for his mother who registered the brand with the Cattle Sanitary Board in 1907 when she was Hazel Hostetter. Jacoby wanted to put the old brand on the gift.

Senior Scouts to Hold Outing This Weekend

MENOMINEE (AP) — The seventh annual Senior Scout Bay Jammer, one of the most unique outings in scouting, will be held in Menominee Marina and the waters of Green Bay on Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

The Bay Jammer, the idea of Scout Leader John Turner of Menominee, has grown until this year 735 have sent registrations from five states. Senior Boy and Girl Scouts, Explorers, Sea Scouts, Marine-Sea Scouts and Ranger Aids, will spend three days sailing large and small sailboats, take part in boat safety drills and operations, enter log rolling, swimming and other water events and stage a Senior Scout parade. The affair is limited to Senior Scouts.

Scouts are registered from Michigan, Wisconsin, Illinois, Iowa and Indiana.

Many will be quartered on sea scout ships, which will be sailed here from all over Lake Michigan and Wisconsin's Lake Winnebago country, while others will camp in tents at the beach park and Senior Girl Scouts and mariners will be quartered in hotels.

The Bay Jammer is the only scouting event of its kind in the nation. Similar outings are being patterned after the Bay Jammer for Scouting activities in other parts of the country.

Set Safety Record

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Consumers Power Co., Grand Rapids division, this week achieved a safety record of one million consecutive accident-free man hours. Gordon L. Carson, division manager, said Wednesday the division's 540 employes posted the mark over a period of 11 months.

Limestone Quarry Reopened in State

ALPENA (AP)—The lower Great Lakes area now has more support to its claim of being the nation's largest source for limestone.

Reopening of the Stoneport Quarry of Presque Isle Corp.—put back in operation at an investment of 15 million dollars—is responsible. Before the year is up, tons of limestone will have been shipped from here to steel mills.

The quarry is one of several of the area.

Five steel firms, including Bethlehem, Youngstown, Republic, National and Jones-Laughlin, formed Presque Isle Corp. two years ago for the operation here.

The first shipload of limestone went out from Stoneport last April. Shipments will continue until navigation ends in December.

Woman Lavishes Care on Plants of War Marker

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) —A daily ritual, carried out almost unnoticed, keeps potted plants blooming brightly at the World War II Memorial in downtown Grand Rapids.

A middle-aged woman, seen by early work-goers, has made it her personal project.

Sometime between 6:30 and 7 a.m. she appears at the memorial with a shopping bag which holds a sprinkling can of water for the potted geraniums and petunias around the monument base.

She wipes off any stains she finds on the sturcture's metal nameplates.

"I think people on the other side of life see what we do," she told a Grand Rapids Press reporter. "When I pick up around the monument and water the flowers, they say, 'Thank you, Pearl.'"

"I know that borders on spiritualism, but I believe it," she says.

The woman says she never had a son but thinks of the names on the monument as "hers."

"There aren't enough flowers. I didn't put them there, but I keep them living," she says.

The nation's hospitals combined have more than 1.5 million beds.

Smoke-Cancer Link Unfounded

British Research Fails to Establish Connection in Extensive Tests

LONDON (INS)—The British Empire cancer campaign has reported that a lengthy series of tests has failed to prove that smoking causes cancer.

The 531-page report cited in detail tests made on mice and hamsters in various laboratories.

Leeds University, which constructed "a robot smoker" that puffs 36 cigarettes simultaneously, started one set of experiments in 1953.

Extracts from the tars produced by the smoking cigarettes were injected into mice of five different strains for 18 months —and with negative results.

"This suggests," said the report, "that at most any carcinogenic (cancerous) properties possessed by the tars used are very attenuated."

50 CIGARETTES DAILY

The report cited the efforts of other laboratories to produce cancer by exposing hamsters to the smoke of 50 cigarettes daily.

These tests also were negative for eight months, but the report said cautiously that the negative results might be caused by the use of unsuitable strains of laboratory animals. The experiments are continuing.

The long report told of similar negative results in the attempts to cause cancer in other laboratories by injecting, feeding, or painting the skin with tobacco tars.

The injections included tars from ordinary cigarettes and also from cigarettes made entirely of paper.

Another investigation line sought a possible link between soil and stomach concer. Soil samples were taken from gardens of homes in Wales and England where people died from various forms of cancer.

MOLOTOV LISTENS ON WEATHER PHONE — Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov listens on phone to a special weather report device as he tours Museum of Science and Industry in Chicago recently during lay-over between trains. Explaining the phone operation is Maj. Lenox Lohr, left, head of the museum. Others are unidentified.

Senators Even Argue About Vacation Sites

WASHINGTON (INS) — In case you're wondering where to go to escape the heat this summer, ask a senator.

If you don't feel like asking, he'll tell you anyway, and he'll also tell other senators.

Sen. Hubert Humphrey (D-Minn) started it off in the Senate yesterday by extending a brief invitation to his colleagues and the world in general to visit his state for a vacation.

Sen. Olin Johnston (D-SC) leaped to his feet. He said he didn't want to take anything from Minnesota, but he added:

"It is just about half as far to South Carolina, where you can go to Myrtle Beach. Or, if you don't like that, go to the northern part of my state and there bask well in the mountain regions."

Humphrey said he didn't mind if "some" people go to South Carolina, but Sen. Alexander Wiley (R-Wis), whose state borders on Humphrey's, had a word or two of his own to speak.

Scorned Sweetheart Gets Just Deserts

GRAND RAPIDS (UP) — Police learned the power of a women scorned, but they won't tell her name. Her boy friend won't prosecute.

Someone reported a hit-and-run accident. A young woman was lying in the street. Questioning disclosed it wasn't a hit-run case, exactly.

She had followed her boy friend, who drove another young woman home in his convertible. While he was saying good night to the other woman, No. 1 picked up rocks and smashed the lights, windows and instrument panel of his car. As he returned, she grabbed the convertible top and began ripping away. He drove off while she was still ripping. She was knocked down.

Water Drillers Strike Oil on Farmer's Land

FREDONIA, Ky. (UP)—Oil's well with farmer Malcom Boone, but the town's civic clubs have troubles. The clubs raised money for Fredonia's first waterworks and arranged to drill on Boone's land.

But oil was struck and the project was abandoned after the clubs had spent $1,300. Boone leased 296 acres to an oil company, which will drill for oil, not water.

Woman Gives Bandit Scare of His Life

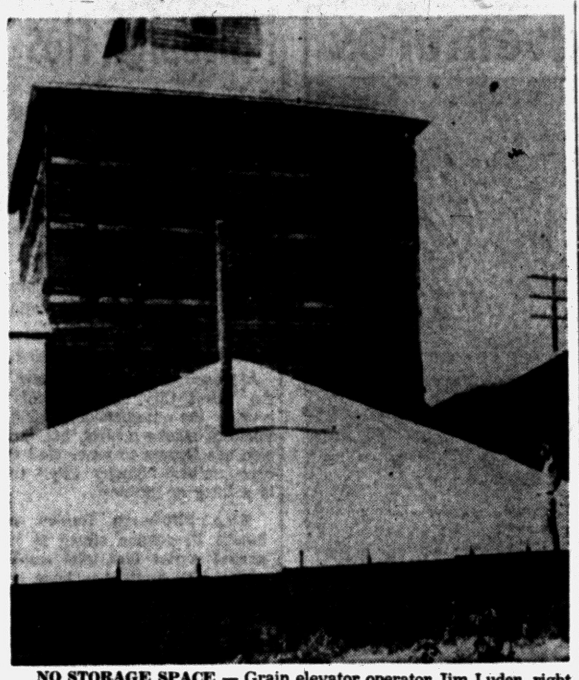
MINNEAPOLIS (UP) — A stick-up man approached Mrs. Mary McGlynn, about 50, at her grocery store here.

"Theres going to be no robbery here," she shouted at him. "I'll hit you over the head with a bottle first."

She proceeded to shoo him out and chase him down the street screaming, "That man tried to hold me up. Follow him."

Two neighbors nailed the would-be bandit, a six-footer weighing 280 pounds. Mrs. McGlynn stands five feet, two inches.

HOUSE-HUNTING'S EASY when you place a Pontiac Press Wanted-To-Rent ad. Phone FE 2-8181.



NO STORAGE SPACE — Grain elevator operator Jim Luder, right, has a partial solution to the shortage of boxcars to haul away wheat from his Waldo, Kas., elevator. He cut a hole in the side of the elevator and dumped the extra wheat on the ground through the hole. Capacity of the elevator is 16,000 bushels, with an additional 12,000 bushels on the ground.

Atomic City Vagrant

LOS ALAMOS, N. M. (UP)—At long last, this atomic center had a vagrancy case.

A $100 fine on the charge was levied by Justice of the Peace Joseph Conner and the fine suspended on condition the arrested man leave the area. It was the first vagrancy case in Los Alamos' more-than-10-year history.

About 65 per cent of Formosa's people can read and write.

And She's Wrong?

CLEMSON, S. C. (UP)—Sam Burnett of the post office staff reports one patron always mails her income tax return addressed to "Eternal Revenue Dept."

United States Place Names Present Amusing Thought

United States place names sometimes lend themselves to amusing word patterns when arranged in groups.

For instance, Roulette, Pa., might conjure a picture of a gambling town. The community really derived its name from Jean Roulette, a French land promoter. Mention of Looneyville, W. Va., may bring smiles. But it stems from the family name Looney, the National Geographic Society says.

Nonetheless it is a fact that Arkansas, Missouri and West Virginia each have towns named Romance. And there's Love in Kentucky; and a Loving, N. Mex., Ga. and Texas; Beauty, Ky.; Admire, Kans.; Coy, Ala. and Ark.; Smile, Ky.; Wink, Texas; Clinch, Va.; Embarrass, Minn. and Wis.; Blue Eye, Mo.; Deary, Ida.; Kissimmee, Fla.; Darling, Pa. and Miss.; Bridal Veil, Ore.; Bliss, Ida., Ky. and N. Y.; Venus, Fla., Neb., Pa. and Texas; Romeo, Colo., Fla. and Mich.; Juliette, Ga.; and Casanova, Va.

Ava Gardner must be shared by many states, four have an Ava and seven a Gardner.

The devil's domain is suggested by Diablo, Calif.; Devil's Elbow, Mo.; Devil's Lake, N. D.; Devils Slide, Utah; Devils Tower and Hell's Half Acre in Wyoming. But paradoxically Paradise is not far away—in eight states. There are also 16 Edens and a Utopia in Texas.

Three states have a Prosperity, Utah a Bountiful, Washington an Opportunity, Mississippi a Progress, Kentucky a Busy, Indiana and California a Mecca, Tennessee a Boom, and Arkansas a Booster. Minnesota has a Babbitt.

AND EVEN MORE

Appropriately Iowa and Minnesota have a Fertile. There is a Wonder in Oregon, a Paragon in Indiana, and Success in Arkansas. Arkansas and Texas each claim a Best; Georgia and South Dakota an Ideal. Three states have an Advance (Louisiana has Retreat).

One Mississippi town is Money; and towns or hamlets in Arkansas, Kentucky, and Virginia are called Cash.

Many a name strikes a cheerful note: Sunshine, La. and Wyo.; Sunny South, Ala.; Sunbeam, Ida.; Sunnyside in several states; What Cheer, Ia.; Happy, Ky. and Texas; Happy Jack, La. and Ariz.; Benevolence, Ga.; Brilliant, Ala. and Ohio; Jolly, Texas; Welcome in four states; and Amity, Concord and Harmony scattered over the country. To a small community in Oklahoma, home town is Okay. Long ago a Blessing was bestowed on Texas.

A Ripping Good Time

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M. (UP)—It was all in the line of duty but Deputy Sheriff Mickey Espinosa was embarrassed anyway.

Trying to place a disorderly woman under arrest, the officer lost the protection of the seat of his pants when she grabbed a hip pocket, pulled, and produced two long rips down his trousers.

Public Notice

in the event of an enemy air attack

OUR TOWN MAY NOT HAVE AN EARLY WARNING!

Lack of civilian volunteer plane spotters leaves vital observation posts vacant

How important are these plane spotter posts? Read these facts and judge for yourself:

The Reds have recently completed several air bases in northern Russia from which they can reach any point in the United States. The Soviets are known to have 1000 heavy bombers—enough to blast 89 top U. S. cities at a single blow leaving eleven million casualties!

"What about the Air Force and Radar?" you ask.

Our interceptor planes and anti-aircraft batteries . . . must have an early warning. Our present radar can not be depended upon because of its inability to spot low-flying aircraft. Only the eyes and ears of the Ground Observer Corps can do this job. And, the shocking fact is that our town simply does not have enough volunteers to man all of the necessary spotter posts!

Will you help fill the gaps in our ranks? Join the 300,000 Americans wearing the G.O.C. wings. So long as the Iron Curtain still exists, we dare not relax our "Sky Watch." Two hours a week is all that is required to help keep your home and your country safe!

Joan Crawford 'Best Dressed'

Screen Glamor Girls Classified by Choice of Personal Attire

HOLLYWOOD (UP) — The film industry's glamor girls are divided into three groups—those who became famous as "best dressed," those who made the grade as "best undressed" and the few who qualified in both classes.

The first two are the main divisions, and each has found that it is able to command a large following.

An unofficial captain of the first bunch is Joan Crawford, who does not particularly mind the fact that she made a name for herself as a "clothes horse." When Miss Crawford's female fans go to a Crawford motion picture, it's frequently for the dual purpose of getting a preview of next year's style trend and of watching what may become an Academy Award-winning performance.

Miss Crawford's taste has proven reliable. If her hemline drops, a woman knows that she will be quite correct if she drops her hemline, too. And when the actress introduces natural "Ivy League" shoulders in Columbia's "Queen Bee," her fashion-conscious fans know shoulder pads have had it.

This whole fashion busines is a very serious thing with Miss Crawford. A month of hought, planning and conferences with the studio designer, Jean Louis, went into her wardrobe for the film in which she plays Eva Avery, a femme fatale of the South. The role gives a range of attire which includes afternoon dresses, evening gowns and negligees.

'DRESSED GROUP'

Rosalind Russell is another member of the "dressed" group. Marlene Dietrich, despite an occasional exception, is in the group, along with Lana Turner. A Dior personification here is Audrey Hepburn.

And on the other side of the fence—the "undressed" side—we find Betty Grable, who has earned her niche by leg display that has sold many a theater ticket and will continue to, as in 'Three for the Show." Marilyn Monroe and Jane Russell are in the same league.

In the dual class, Gloria Swanson is perhaps the best remembered for her performances when she stared for Cecil B. DeMille.

The old master could present her as a fashion plate. And, as everybody knows, he also could offer any of his stars in the usual DeMill bathtub.

Notice of Intention to Construct Water Mains.

You are hereby notified that at a regular meeting of the Commission of the City of Pontiac, Michigan, held on the 11th day of July, 1955, by resolution it was declared to be the intention of the City Commission to construct water mains in Cloverlawn Drive from Kennett Road to Ypsilanti Avenue; Cherrylawn Drive from Kennett Road to W. 'Phone System Helps in Training CP Youngsters

CHICAGO (UP) — A miniature telephone system is helping in the training of cerebral palsied children.

The system — made up of a discarded switchboard and three telephones — was installed by Illinois Bell Telephone Company employes at the Illinois Children's Hospital-School here.

Each of the three telephones interconnects with the other two and with the switchboard so that a telephone conversation can be carried on.

The "operator" can ring the other two telephones in another room from the switchboard when asked to by one of the youthful "subscribers."

"We hope this experiment will help motivate tte children to speak more adequately, thus aiming toward improved speed," said Superintendent Richard Eddy of the Hospital-School.

Pick Your Date

The Dra Valley in French Morocco grows more than 300 varieties of dates, says the National Geographic Society. The average resident of the valley eats three pounds of dried dates a day.

Says What U.S. Needs Is More Eggheads

NORFOLK, Va. (UP) — Kenneth Harris, local artist, says Norfolk needs dreamers and eggheads (intellectuals). He described Thomas Jefferson as a "real egghead."

Harris told the Lions Club that civilization as we know it is based on the reveries of dreamers but that in the last hundred years "We have decided it is not safe to place our trust in a band of dreamers." He spoke of anti-intellectualism as a basic defect in American society.

It is believed that poliomyelitis was first described by a London physician in 1874.

Pittsburgh Has Smokeless Sky

Steel City Brags About Reducing Its Soot 85.8 Per Cent Since 1946

PITTSBURGH (UP)—The proof of the pudding is in the eating, and in Pittsburgh the proof of smokeless skies is in the seeing.

A glance out of any window in the "Steel City" is sufficient to reveal the tremendous strides made in smoke control, but there also are figures to prove that the once-familiar "Smoky City" title is a thing of the past.

The Pittsburgh Bureau of Smoke Prevention stated in its annual report that total smoke within city limits has been reduced by 85.8 per cent since 1946.

In addition, during the same period, heavy smoke was reduced by 98.7 per cent.

TRYING TO OUST DUST

The report attributed the dustfall to the still unsolved problem of how to stop the discharge of ore dust from open hearth furnaces of steel mills in this area.

A joint committee sponsored by the steel firm is conducting experiments to solve the problem.

The bureau reported that one steel producer has experimented with nine different types of dust collectors. The only one at all satisfactory was an electrostatic precipitator.

However, the high cost of such a precipitator—between $400,000 and $500,000—has made its use economically prohibitive.

Unglamorous Birds Convene on Florida Key

KEY WEST, Fla. (UP)—Like the swallows at Capistrano, but with less romance, the sooty terns always come back to Bush Key.

An estimated 71,000 of the ugly, black and white sea birds swarm down on the scrubby little island at the western end of the Florida Keys and raise families. With them come a sprinkling of Noddy and Roseate terns to what is believed their northernost nesting ground.

Bird men believe the sooties stay in the air almost continuously during the six months they are gone from Bush Key.

Joseph C. Moore, birth biologist for the federal government who counts the terns each year, is often attacked by the quarrelsome birds as he goes about his work. One tern, he said, nests in the same spot year after year and for the last three years has pecked him as he came near to take the census.

Cities May Vie on Air Academy

Appropriations Snarl Could Revive Bidding by Interested Towns

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Kilday (D-Tex.) reported yesterday there is a possibility of a revived fight among cities seeking the proposed Air Force Academy.

But the Air Force said it had no plans or intentions of making a change in the site of the academy.

Kilday is a member of the House Armed Services Committee.

The committee said in reporting the appropriation bill that no more funds should be spent on the academy until the Defense Department has definitely settled its plans for the proposed academy and coordinated it with proposed expansion of Ft. Carson in the Colorado Springs area. The House is scheduled to debate the bill today.

Kilday said the question has arisen as to the adequacy of water supplies for all of the proposed defense requirements in the Colorado Springs area.

"There is a possibility that the academy will not be built in Colorado Springs," Kilday told a reporter. "In this event, there undoubtedly would be a wide open fight again for selection of a site for the Air Academy. Naturally, I would then do my best to get it in the San Antonio vicinity."

Phantom Strikes Again

HARTFORD, Conn. (UP) — Two months after 500 ballpoint pens were installed in the postoffice, the old - fashioned "scratchers" were returned to duty. Officials said patrons were so pleased with the new pens that they swiped not only them but also their "theft-proof" chains.

Kohler Clay Ship Seeking New Port

MILWAUKEE (AP) — The owners of clay ordered by the strike-beset Kohler Co. decided last night to abandon efforts to unload their shipments at the Lake Michigan ports of Milwaukee and Sheboygan.

The decision was announced by O. S. Hoebreck, Milwaukee attorney for the cargo owners. He said "We are looking around for other ports closer to Sheboygan, either American or Canadian, where we can find people willing to do business with us."

The announcement followed a vote by the Milwaukee Common Council which refused to guarantee the unloading of a shipment of clay headed for the city and a decision by the White House to step up federal efforts to settle the 15-month long dispute at the plumbingware firm. Local 833 of the UAW-CIO struck the firm, located in the village of Kohler near Sheboygan, April, 5, 1954.

The first shipment of clay sparked mob violence in Sheboygan, its first port of call, and later at Milwaukee a threat by the CIO to issue a general strike call in the city.

Blowing Stack at Work Helps Protect Heart

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Want to avoid a heart attack ebecause of worry at work?

Then tell off yo ur boss—tactfully.

Or as Dr. David Gelfand puts it: "Get it off your chest. Blow your stack."

Dr. Gelfand has a unique job. He heads the cardiac work evaluation unit at Philadelphia General Hospital under the sponsorship of the Heart Assn. of Southeastern Pennsylvania and in 3½ years of careful study has examined 438 men and women.

Nearly all of the patients are referred to the unit by industries anxious to determine the heart victim's capacity for work — whether he be tired businessman or frustrated ditchdigger.

Dr. Gelfand said 46 per cent of the patients—each examined by a cardiologist, a vocational counsellor, a me dical social worker and a psychiatrist—have a psychological factor which "is a basic insecurity."

"Resentment that is not expresed goes into the cardiovascular system," he said, "where it tightens the blood vessels. Continued insult to blood vessel tisues results in permanent hypertenion."

Bingo—a heart attack.

Dr. Gelfand said of 350 workers his unit examined 92 per cent went back to full-time employment—and 23 per cent of these needed no restrictions. Only 3 per cent were advised not to work at all.

Ritual Gets Results

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP) — No rain was forecast for the annual Cherokee Area Council Boy Scout Exposition, but it came down in "buckets" shortly after a Talladega, Ala., troop did an Indian rain dance.

Salk Vaccine Flown to Texas for 2nd Shots

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—A shipment of Salk polio vaccine for Texas schoolchildren's second shots arrived by plane last night from Eli Lilly Co., Indianapolis, Ind.

Most Texas cities had arranged for a quick pickup of their share of the vaccine so that the vaccination program can be resumed. An Air National Guard plane flew from Dallas to get vaccine for Dallas County and 14 other northeast Texas counties.

Ike Repudiates Aid Bill Action

President Attacks Rider Giving Congress Veto Power Over Arms Bills

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower's avowed intent to disregard a provision of the new defense money bill unless the courts tell him to abide by it brought Republican praise and Democratic denunciation in Congress today.

Sen. Mundt (R-SD) said the President showed "courage and integrity." Rep. Sikes (D-Fla) protested, "This country is not under martial law."

In a special message, Eisenhower directed a broadside against a provision giving either the Senate or House appropriations committees veto power over Defense Department decisions to divest itself of any of its business activities.

Describing the provision as a violation of the constitutional injunction that the branches of government shall be independent, Eisenhower said it "will be regarded as invalid by the executive branch of the government . . . unless otherwise directed by a court of competent jurisdiction."

Were it not for the "imperative need" of the Defense Department for the money, Eisenhower said in the unusual message to Congress, he would have vetoed the entire bill.

Starts Solo Voyage Across Atlantic Ocean

SWAMPSCOTT, Mass. (AP) — A former Harvard and Boston University football player leaves today on the first leg of a solo voyage across the Atlantic in a homemade 30-foot boat.

George Boston, 33, estimated it will take him 40 days to cover the 2,000 miles to the Azores and another 20 for the 1,000-mile trip from there to Gibraltar in his double-end auxiliary ketch Tahiti.

Boston said he may continue around the world in the ketch, if he reaches Gibraltar.

Brilliant Excuse Fails

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP)—William Harris Henson, charged with speeding, explained, he had borrowed the unmarked patrol car of Police Chief Tom Kilpatrick, of nearby Belle Vista Beach, and was hurrying to get it back by the time Kilpatrick had to start patrolling. City Judge Herbert L. Peterson said the excuse was good but was not good enough. He fined Henson $20.

New Winter Barley May Replace Oats

KANKAKEE, Ill. (AP) — Farmers hereabouts are keeping their eyes on the fall-seeded barley field of Henry Classen for it may prove to be a profitable substitute for oats as o crop.

Known in New York state as Hudson barley, it is a new winter variety developed at Ithaca by the Cornell University Agricultural Experiment Station in cooperation with the U. S. Dept. of Agriculture.

In its home state, yields have averaged 54.6 bushels an acre during the years 1947 to 1953. The test weight is 49.4 pounds a bushel.

It is believed the new variety of barley is especially daptable to the Illinois climate because Classen's field showed very little winter kill.

Wallet Injury Worst

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP)—Although cut and bruised in an auto accident, Charles Padgett was hurt worst in the wallet. The mishap occurred several miles outside Lexington. When the Mount Clemens, Mich., motorist reached for his wallet after arriving here, it was gone. It and the $2,611 in it are still missing. Padgett has no idea how he lost the wallet.

Bob Considine Says:

Davy Dies Once More in America's Stores

NEW YORK (INS) — Davy Crockett didn't die nearly as completely at the Alamo as he's now dying on the special clothing and novelty counters of our department stores.

"Something or somebody pulled the coonskin rug from under our Davy," Max Hess Jr., the Allentown, Pa., merchandising prodigy tells us.

"We haven't found the culprit as yet. Maybe it was all those stories about his various love affairs. Maybe it was the release of his congressional speeches. Maybe it's the hot weather. Anyway, the kids stopped buying. We had Davy all over the store. Now he's on one table."

Young Hess owns and minds what must be the biggest country store in the country. The five-story building, which sells everything from canned octopus to uncanned mink coats, grossed $22,000,000 last year in a town of 106,000. Quite a town, too.

Its fine newspapers, the Call and Chronicle, have a circulation only a few thousand under the population. Newspaper people have come from all over the world to inspect the plant's almost completely automatic composing room.

To boot, Allentown is the only place I know of in this country where the city maintains gay flowerpots on its lamp posts. Real purty.

BUSINESS BALLOONS

Hess has increased his place's business 20 times since he took over during the depression at the age of 21. The Pennsylvania Dutch troop in from miles around to goggle at the wonders of his bazaar.

But Hess takes the show on the road, too. He has put on fashion shows in coal mines and steel plants, to show the men what their wives are blowing the dough on.

Informal soul. Waits on customers who can't find a salesgirl, doesn't have an office, sends his Santa Claus looping about the Pennsylvania countryside in a helicopter, invites all new housewives who move into the area to lunch at the store, sells sterling flatware and rare china for 33 cents a week, insures credit payments against the death of a wage earner . . . and officiated at the latest death of Davy Crockett.

Howard Hawks, producer of "Land of the Pharoahs" for Warner Brothers, finally found a way to fill a Cinemascope screen.

He hired 10,000 Egyptians for some of the background scenes in the impending superduper about the building of the great Cheops pyramid. Another item for the film's auditors: 12,000 breechclouths.

On the occasion of a visit to the pyramid in April, an Egyptologist told us one of the greater feats involved in the building of the incredible structure was keeping 100,000 workers and their families supplied with water.

Hawks had a water problem, too. To keep "water breaks" from slowing down production in the sizzling heat he hired dozens of nightshirted blokes to stroll among the extras, carrying water jugs suspended on poles just as was done 4,750 years ago.

HIS TURN TO PAY

Texas story: Two oilmen dropped into the Packillac agency in Fort Worth one afternoon while on a little shopping spree. The eye of one of them lighted on two $10,000 convertibles.

"I'll take them, podner," he said to the salesman. But as he reached in his pocket his friend slapped at his arm.

"No you don't, Clem," he said, reaching for his own roll. "You got the lunch."

World Communism at Crossroads Today Through Failure to Indoctrinate People

AP Foreign News Analyst

The summit conference of the Big Four will find world communism at a crossroads.

Much has happened in the Soviet Union since President Eisenhower saw it at the end of World War II. Undoubtedly Ambassador Charles E. Bohlen has been bringing the President up to date on those changes, which loom importantly at Geneva.

The Geneva conference is a fateful gamble for high stakes. The Soviet leadership has, in a sense, anted up the future of world communism. The West may be gambling on its faith in human nature and a belief the Communist experiment to produce a machine called "the new Soviet man" has failed.

Two world wars and modern technological progress have produced a new Russian common man. He seems gradually to be realizing his own strength. He is looking around his vast, rich and beautiful country, a land he loves passionately, and sees promise of a peaceful and prosperous life.

But he is afraid too. I have spoken to him in many places and found him deathly afraid of a new war. He accepts most, if not all, of his government's peace propaganda because he dreads war. The ordinary Russian is not a Communist party member—there are only six million party members in a country of 210 millions—but he is an important factor at Geneva.

A constant tug-of-war goes on inside the U.S.S.R., mirrored by its press and propaganda. It is on all levels—economic, social, political, cultural—between old and new. Bolshevism, a product of the late 19th and early 20th centuries, is dead. Now the type of dictatorship going by the unwarranted name of communism is fighting a back-to-the-wall battle for the purity of its doctrine. If it loses in the Soviet Union, it loses in the world.

Communist boss Nikita S. Khrushchev and the party have not surrendered their pretensions of world Communist domination. They remain doctrinaire Communists, ostensibly devoted to Lenin's principles and giving at least lip service to Stalin's.

On the other hand, the new collective bluntly and outspokenly publicizes the shortcomings of the economy. They have emerged from behind the forbidding Kremlin walls and made friendly gestures to representatives of other systems. They have pushed aside the bluster of Stalinism in favor of a more fetching approach of surface reasonableness and amiable words. Why?

The problems of Khrushchev and the collective go back to the people. Year by year the number of educated and eager citizens is growing.

At the end of the school year this summer, 250,000 young specialists with higher education poured into the stream of the nation's economy. They are not the servile robots pictured in the Stalinist description of "the new Soviet man."

Pravda said recently these young specialists must go "where the greatest need for qualified cadres is felt." But many are getting stubborn about it. These young people, said Pravda, are wrong. They want to choose their own futures and places of work.

Still another sign of the burgeoning bloodless revolution is the attitude of Soviet youth. Authorities constantly are concerned with a tendency of young people to rebel against the attempt to straitjacket all of them into a single Communist pattern.

These manifestations of social change must be in the back of Soviet minds as Moscow approaches the conference table at Geneva.

Plant Starts Addition

MIDDLEVILLE (AP) — The Middleville Engineering & Manufacturing Co., producers of plumbing hardware and home appliance parts, has started work on a $200,000 addition to its main plant. The White Products Corp., manufacturer of home water heaters, also has begun work on a plant addition at Middleville.

Air Force Recruit Has Real Enthusiasm

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — The Air Force will have a hard time finding a more enthusiastic recruit than Norman Sutherland, 18, a Scot.

Sutherlad has wanted to join the U. S. Air Force since he was 10. When he reached 16 he wrote the mayor of Richmond, then Dr. E. E. Haddock, about it. He was advised of the requirements and the necessity for a sponsor. Parents prevailed on him to wait until he was 18. He did and he still wanted to join. He wrote Mayor Thomas P. Bryan. Bryan turned the letter over to Maj. William E. Morgan of the recruiting service. Maj. Morgan became sponsor.

Sutherland said he held two jobs and worked 85 hours a week to get the money for his passage from Scotland.

Reds End Ban on Jazz, Swing

Czechoslovakia Bows to Popular Demand for Western Music

VIENNA (UP) — Communist Czechoslovakia, apprently bowing to popular demand, has started broadcasting Western-style dance music for the first time since the Reds seized power there in 1948.

For seven years the Czech radio denounced jazz, swing and other popular Western music as "decadent" and "a form of American corruption."

But a few weeks ago Radio Prague started to throb again with familiar dance tunes, including U.S. favorites.

The station now devotes about two hours of its broadcasting day to dance music, all of it played by Czech studio orchestras.

POPULAR EXPORT

Observers here long have regarded American popular music as one of the most successful U.S. propaganda exports to Iron Curtain lands.

Mailbags at Vienna radio stations bulge with record requests from behind the curtain.

The quality of the Cxech studio orchestras is good.

AGING GRACEFULLY — Former silent screen stars Ben Lyon and Bebe Daniels are happy as they celebrate 25th wedding anniversary in their London, England, home.

Chou Promises to End Abuses

Overseas Chinese Told Money Sent Home Will Reach Needy Relatives

HONG KONG (UP)—Red China has launched a new campaign to assure overseas Chinese that money they send home lands in the right pockets.

Premier Chou En-lai issued a proclamation recently that illuminated both the past and future.

He condemned officials who "have failed to grasp the significance of the government's policy of protecting overseas Chinese's remittances."

Chou said some officials have extorted the funds from the families receiving them, simply failing to deliver the money.

The admission that remittances often failed to get into the hands of the intended recipient merely confirmed what so many Chinese abroad have strongly suspected for a long time.

THE PROCLAMATION

The proclamation, directed to the more than 12,000,000 overseas Chinese as much as to the officials who must mend their ways, went on to say:

No delay of payment or investigation under any excuses of overseas Chinese's remittances shall be practiced. No person or public body shall be allowed to borrow money by means of force or pressure from dependents of overseas Chinese. Cases of deliberate embezzlement, theft or extortion of remittances shall be dealt with according to law."

Chou further said that "dependents of overseas Chinese enjoy full freedom to spend their remittances on weddings, funerals and other living expenses."

Pretty Plastered

YADKINVILLE, N. C. (UP)—State Highway Patrolman R. L. Carpenter arrested a man who was really plastered. The man piled up his car on a highway and came out white as a ghost. A sack of flour in the car had burst. Carpenter said the man also was plastered with the usual stuff.

The high and low points in the U.S. are within 60 miles of each other in California, where Mount Whitney rises 14,496 feet above sea level and Death Valley sinks 276 feet below it.

In the United Kingdom, 16 per cent of the people are over 60 years old.

Ducks have transparent membrane which can be lowered over their eyes, much like goggles.

American Town Names Evolve From Everything

Where do names come from? The National Geographic Society has some answers concerning the naming of towns.

Most names fit into several categories:

1. Personal names: Twain Harte, Calif., perpetuates memory of West Coast visitors Mark Twain and Bret Harte. Every president's name save Eisenhower's is matched by a town.

2. Foreign cities: Capitals abroad particularly have loaned their names—London, Paris, Rome, Moscow, Dublin, Belfast, Vienna, Lisbon, Berlin, Madrid, Cairo, Tokyo, Warsaw and Belgrade. During World War II Berlin, Ala., was renamed Sardis.

3. Indian words: Chicago, "wild onion place," is one of hundreds of examples.

4. Dutch, Spanish, French, German and Scandinavian names: For instance, Amsterdam in five states; Santa Fe, N. Mex.; Pierre, S. D.; Hamburg in 12 states, and Oslo, Minn.

5. Biblical terms: for instance, Bethlehem, Nazareth, Egypt, Emmaus, Lebanon, are all in Pennsylvania. Illinois has a Bible Grove and New a Bible School Park. North Carolina and South Dakota have Faith; Missouri Charity; but the greatest—in numbers—is Hope. There are Hopes (often taken from plantation grants) in 13 states.

6. Local history: Council Bluffs, Ia., stands where Lewis and Clark held council with the Indians.

7. Anmals and plants; Alligator, Miss.; Coyote, Calif. and N. Mex.; Bat Cave, N. C.; Cuckoo and Birdsnest, Va.; Bivalve, Md. and N. J.; Pigeonroost and Raccoon, Ky.; Bison in three prairie states; Alfalfa, Okla.; Cucumber, W. Va.; Bean City, Fla.; Blue Grass, Ia. and Va., and Bluegrass, N. D. (but no Blue Grass post office in Kentucky).

Arkansas has a Deer, Bass, Tomato, Strawberry, Grapevine, Wild Cherry and Peach Orchard.

Homing Pigeon Bored With Returning Home

MATTOON, Ill. (AP) If the pigeon club of Cleveland, Ohio, is missing one pigeon with band number "A.U. 52-L.U.33" and a tag marked "U 948," the bird is in the hands of Mrs. Harley Snyder. She told police that the pigeon landed in her yard and showed no signs of wanting to leave.

Investigation showed it was one of 1,800 homing pigeons released for the annual 500-mile pigeon derby which starts in Mattoon and ends in Cleveland.

2 New Varieties of Peaches Get Michigan Tests

SOUTH HAVEN (AP) — Sunhaven and Richhaven—two new varieties of peaches developed by Stanley Johnston at the South Haven Agricultural Experiment Station — were introduced this year. Both originated from crossing of the Redhaven and SH-50.

Both varieties are bright red and gold, averaging 2¼ to 2½ inches in diameter. The Sunhaven ripens 10 days earlier than the Redhaven, currently the first Michigan peach of commercial importance.

Johnston says the Sunhaven tends to be clingy until it is fully ripened and is intended only for fresh market channels. The Richhaven is a dual purpose peach, rated excellent in commercial canning tests. A tough, thick skin protects it well in shipping.

Trees are large, vigorous and self-fertile. Some of them weathered a freeze of November, 1950, which killed off about half southwest Michigan's peach trees.

Rules Driver of Bus Kind of Public Servant

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M. (AP)—The driver of a bus is in a sense a public servant "in that he must be more patient and careful than the average driver and must hold his temper" District Judge D. A. Macpherson ruled.

He dismissed a $5,000 damage suit brought by a bus driver against a motorist following a fight between the two.

And Here's the Proof

INDIANAPOLIS (UP) — Clay Trusty, city editor of the Indianapolis News, dashed outdoors into a midnight hailstorm, scooped up a handful of hailstones and put them on ice in a home freezer. Next day he published a photo proving the hailstones were as big as golf balls.

Cherry Salad Spares the Cook

Summer's the time for gaiety and fun but, alas, most get-togethers involve food, and food involves cooking. But that needn't bother you much during cherry time, for there are dozens of quick-as-a-wink dishes you can prepare with big, juicy sweet cherries.

But, remember, big cherry time is all too short, so make the most of it. Keep fresh cherries on hand all through the season.

They're a wonderfully nutritious between-meal snack for youngsters and adults alike, for they contain vitamins and body-building minerals. And, because they're naturally sweet, cherries dull that sweet tooth, making the children forget the concentrated sweets they constantly beg for.

Favorite cherries for out-of-hand eating are the Bing and Lambert. The Bing, named after the Chinese gardener who developed it, is a deep red cherry, plump and sweet. The Lambert is a shown-off, large, bright red in color, and a favorite not only for eating, but also for centerpieces, salads and colorful desserts.

The Royal Anne, a lighter sweet cherry, is used for sauces, salads and out-of-hand eating, but most especially for maraschino cherries.

However, all three types of sweet cherries are delicious in dishes of every type, in jams, sauces and syrups for winter menus; and all three freeze beautifully.

But, back to that summer get-together . . . we can't think of anything more delightful on a hot summer day than this frozen cherry salad:

Frozen Sweet Cherry Salad

1 cup pitted sweet cerries halved or quartered
½ cup diced pineapple
1 banana, sliced
½ cup chopped nuts
½ cup mayonnaise
1 3-ounce package cream cheese
⅛ teaspoon salt
Salad greens

Combine fruit and nuts. Blend mayonnaise and cream cheese and add salt. Fold fruit and nuts into cheese and mayonnaise mixture and mix thoroughly.

Pack in refrigerator tray and freeze. Cut into squares and serve on crisp salad greens. Serves six.

FROZEN CHERRY SALAD — It's a fix-ahead dish. Make this creamy cherry salad in the cool of the morning and forget it until serving time. Besides the sweet cherries, it contains pineapple, banana, chopped nuts and mayonnaise. Sounds like the perfect salad to serve for late evening refreshments.

Teen Appetites Encouraged by Family Meal

Breakfast is a meal teen-agers can get for themselves, but do they? Many do not. Of 10,000 junior and senior high school students questioned in a recen survey, 3,000 did not have breakfast daily. Two of the principal reasons given by those who did not eat breakfast were (1) breakfast was not prepared, and (2) no one to eat with.

Many nutrition authorities state that breakfast is the most important meal of the day, and a third of our teen-agers should not be missing it. Busy, fast-growing adolescents need a good nourishing meal in the morning. Everyone does, but the teen years are ones of particular stress. Growth-adding inches and pounds apace—is demanding. And activity! Healthy, busy teen-agers are happy ones.

Eating alone is no fun, and it seems that companionship is the thing that would encourage many youngsters to get interested in breakfast.

It takes just about a quarter of an hour to prepare a breakfast of fruit or juice, ready-to-eat cereal with milk, bread and butter or margarine, and a beverage —little time for big returns in health. And while the kids may not be too willing to "go-it-alone," they'll pitch in and help.

So make breakfast a family meal. It's the pleasantest way to get off to a good start in the morning.

Sparkling, Cooling Ades Defeat the Summer Heat

The tinkle of ice and tall glasses of fresh fruit drinks will be a welcome sound on any hot day.

Frozen concentrate for lemonade from California provides fresh flavor for these drinks and is so much easier than squeezing lemons..

Red Strawberries in Lemonade

Fresh strawberries
Frozen concentrate for lemonade
Cracked ice

Make a pitcherful of lemonade by adding water according to the directions on the can of frozen concentrate.

Wash and hull strawberries. Then, in tall glasses, layer the strawberries in cracked ice (this way they will stay floating in the glass and not sink).

Fill glasses with lemonade, and serve.

Raspberry Lemonade Crush

2 tablespoons mashed, sweetened raspberries
2 tablespoons frozen concentrate for lemonade
Crushed ice
Plain or sparkling water

Mash raspberries and sweeten to taste. In each tall glass use 2 tablespoons of the crushed raspberries and 2 tablespoons of undiluted concentrate for lemonade.

Fill each glass with crushed ice and plain or sparkling water. Stir and serve immediately. Makes 1 serving.

Lemonade and Grape Juice

Lemonade and grape juice have a real taste affinity.

For a cool, refreshing summer drink, place 2 or 3 tablespoons frozen concentrate for lemonade in bottom of a tall glass; fill glass with grape juice and ice.

Tropical Punch

1 (6-ounce) can frozen concentrate for lemonade
1 (6-ounce) can frozen pineapple juice, ice cubes
1 tall bottle sparkling water

Combine concentrate for lemonade with pineapple juice. Mix well; add ice cubes and sparkling water. About 1 quart.

Cream Extra Chicken

Dice that leftover chicken and add to a well-seasoned cream sauce. Serve over hot biscuits for a wonderful brunch on Saturday or Sunday morning. Sprinkle a little paprika over the creamed chicken just before serving for attractive color.

West Coast Eggs Are Hearty Fare

This recipe is patterned after famous Eggs Benedict.

West Coast Eggs

1½ tablespoons butter or margarine
1½ tablespoons flour
¼ teaspoon salt
¾ cup milk
½ cup grated cheddar cheese
½ cup ripe olives (cut from pits in large pieces
4 slices hot toast
1 can (3 ounces) deviled ham
4 poached eggs

Melt butter and stir in flour and salt. Add milk; cook and stir over moderate heat until thickened and bubbly. Stir in cheese over low heat until melted, then olives.

Spread toast with deviled ham; top each slice with a poached egg; cover with sauce. Serve at once. Makes four servings.

Of the total U.S. rural road mileage, the percentage that is surfaced has risen from eight per cent in 1904 to 60 per cent.

Add Apple Tang to Little Loaves of Beef and Pork

There's nothing like a gay little change now and then to quicken interest in family meals. So when you serve these individual meat loaves, each deliciously brown, juicy and tasty . . . they'll seem novel, and fun.

The big reason for their special tastiness is ready-prepared applesauce . . . which you can buy in any grocery store.

Individual Applesauce Meat Loaves

½ cup minced onion
1 lb. ground beef, chuck
½ lb. ground lean pork
1½ teaspoon sage
1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce
1 teaspoon salt
1½ cups canned applesauce
1 cup dry bread crumbs

Combine onion, beef, pork, sage, Worcestershire sauce and salt; mix well. Add applesauce and crumbs; mix well.

Pack into large greased muffin pans. Bake in moderate oven, 350 degrees 30-40 minutes.

Try Indian Coleslaw Made With Corn

To give your cabbage salad a little more "body" try the addition of some canned corn. Chilled whole kernel corn makes an interesting contrast to the shredded green cabbage.

Indian Coleslaw

2 cups finely shredded cabbage, well chilled
1 can (1 pound) whole kernel corn, drained and chilled
½ medium-sized onion, finely chopped
¼ cup chopped green pepper
2 tablespoons chopped pimiento
½ teaspoon salt
¼ cup tart French dressing

Combine all ingredients; toss lightly. Makes four servings.

Fiesta Flavor Baked Into Rice

Rice dishes which have appetite appeal and economy in their favor have a permanent place on your family's menu. Fiesta Baked Rice with its flavor accent of tomatoes and olives has these advantages and is easy on the busy homemaker, too.

Chopped onion is cooked until golden in margarine, then the raw rice and all the other ingredients are added, and the dish is baked. It couldn't be simpler or more delicious.

As a final added touch, about halfway through baking, grated cheese is sprinkled on. The cheese adds extra flavor and nutritive value to the dish.

Fiesta Baked Rice

- ½ bar margarine
- 1 medium onion, finely chopped
- 1 cup raw rice
- 1 cup boiling water
- 1 No. 2 can tomatoes (2½ cups)
- 1 2-ounce jar stuffed olives, sliced (½ cup)
- Dash of cayenne
- ½ teaspoon salt
- 1 cup grated American cheese
- ½ cup grated cheese

Melt margarine in saucepan, add onion and cook until yellow. Add next seven ingredients and mix well. Turn into greased 2-quart casserole, cover, and bake in moderate oven (350 degrees) 30 minutes.

Remove from oven, stir, sprinkle with one-half cup grated cheese and bake, uncovered, 45 minutes longer, or until rice is tender. Makes six servings.

Cold Soup Features Tomato, Cucumber

Warm weather makes a well-flavored cold soup welcome.

Chilled Tomato Cucumber Soup

- 1 can (10½ ounces) condensed tomato soup
- 1 soup can water
- 1 small clove garlic (peeled and minced)
- Freshly-ground pepper
- ½ medium-sized cucumber
- 2 tablespoons lemon juice

Stir soup, water, garlic and pepper to taste together; chill. Wash and dry cucumber; partially pare so you have a striped effect; slice very thin; there should be about two-thirds cup.

Mix cucumber with lemon juice; chill. Just before serving stir soup mixture and cucumber together. Serve in chilled bowls. Makes four servings.

Enrich Cookies With Rice Bits

If you can't get to the seashore this summer, bring the seaside atmosphere to your table in the form of Seafoam Cookies — the light and right accompaniment for an icy fruit drink.

As refreshing to the eye as they are to the palate, these cookies look like miniature whitecaps and are as light and delicate a summer sweet as you can find.

But don't be fooled by appearances. Their daintiness belies their real value—good cereal nourishment provided by the bite-size shredded rice biscuits from which these cookies are made.

It takes just a few minutes to make the frothy egg white and sugar mixture that surrounds the golden-crisp shredded rice biscuits —and a few minutes to bake—just long enough to tan the tips of these meringue-like cookies.

Win warm compliments on a warm summer evening by serving Seafoam Cookies with your favorite fruit or carbonated beverage in tall, frosty glasses.

Seafoam Cookies

1 egg white
¼ cup brown sugar, firmly packed
¼ cup white sugar
⅛ teaspoons salt
½ teaspoon vanilla
1½ cups "bite-size" shredded rice biscuits

Heat oven to slow (300 degrees). Grease shallow pan or cookie sheet. Beat egg white in 6-cup bowl with rotary beater until peaks bend over slightly at top when beater is removed. Beat in brown sugar, a tablespoon at a time. Add white sugar, salt and vanilla. Stir until all sugar is mixed into the egg white.

Add bite-size shredded rice biscuits. Stir gently until each biscuit is coated with mixture. Drop from teaspoon onto greased baking pan 2 inches apart.

Bake on rack slightly above center 12 to 15 minutes, or until outsides of cookies are dry and very light brown. Remove from pan at once. Makes about 2 dozen 1½-inch cookies.

Broil This Sandwich

Here's a tasty way to use leftover baked beans. Spread the beans on buttered brown bread slices. Place half a strip of bacon on top and broil until the bacon is crisp — about 10 minutes.

Use Sardines in Pizza

Next time you plan a pizza snack, build it around tasty, succulent sardines. You'll save yourself time in preparation for sardines are already cooked in the can. For a really shortcut, use a prepared pizza mix too.

Schnozzola Tells His Favorite Menu

Jimmy Durante's favorite menu has been included in Betty Crocker's forthcoming book, "Favorite Menus of Famous People."

The Schnozz' meal is as follows: First a shrimp cocktail.

This is followed by an "Umbriago" salad. This is a tossed salad with Jimmy's own special dressing. It is made with olive oil, vinegar, Roquefort cheese, a little cream, lemon, English mustard and Worcestershire sauce.

Next is a broiled steak (so there's no grease) with a baked potato with sour cream and chives. For a vegetable, Jimmy prefers fresh asparagus or chopped spinach.

For dessert, fresh fruit in season topped half with ice cream and half with sherbet. The beverage is tea.

Sour Cream Gives Cooking Gourmet Touch

If you have become acquainted with fresh dairy sour cream, you're undoubtedly on the lookout for more ways of using it. If you've never used this product, it would be an excellent idea to add it to your next marketing list.

Dairy sour cream has a pleasant tangy flavor that gives a magic taste to foods with which it is used. Many a homemaker has built up her reputation as a good cook through the use of sour cream.

It is the finest marinating agent known for meats; it makes beef, veal and chicken very tender. As a salad dressing, sour cream blends with both garden and fruit salads.

Fine textured cakes, cookies and breadstuffs result when sour cream is an ingredient. It is a gourmet's delight when used in borscht, beef stroganoff and chicken paprika.

For a quick dessert, sweeten sour cream and serve it over fresh strawberries sliced bananas or peaches.

Try Pineapple Chutney

Quick Pineapple Chutney: This simple pineapple relish is the right accompaniment for curry. Drain a No. 2½ can of pineapple chunks. Melt 2 tablespoons of butter or margarine in medium-sized skillet. Stir in one-fourth teaspoon curry powder and a dash of salt. Add drained pineapple chunks, stirring to coat well.

Wine Lends Appeal

A knowing dash of wine in the pot seasons, tenderizes, imparts delicious flavor. Alcohol? By some mysterious alchemy, alcohol quickly evaporates when heat is applied, leaving the blessing of wine's flavorful bouquet.

To corned beef hash add a finely chopped tart apple.

Stuff Turkeys at Last Minute

The Consumer Service Department of the American Institute of Baking reaffirms its concern over the safety of frozen stuffed turkeys.

A bacteriological investigation of bread stuffings, made by the institute laboratories and test kitchen in 1952, showed that advance stuffing and holding of poultry provide a food poisoning hazard.

At that time definite recommendations were made that the stuffing ingredients be combined, and the cavity of the cleaned, ready-to-cook bird be filled just before roasting.

Since it is not always practicable to prepare stuffing at the last minute, certain advance preparation procedures were suggested. These were:

For Moist Stuffing

1. Refrigerate prepared liquid ingredients.
2. Measure and prepare dry ingredients. Store at room temperature.
3. Combine ingredients just before stuffing and roasting the bird.

For Dry Stuffing

1. Combine ingredients (with the exception of raw egg if it is to be used), and refrigerate.
2. Stuff the bird just before roasting.

Currently, it has been found that in roasting the stuffed and frozen birds, now available in some market areas, that the meat of the bird is overcooked and falling from the bone by the time the temperature of the stuffing has reached a degree that will assure safety.

Cantonese-Style Pancakes Lend Zing to Supper

Here's a dish that is delightfully different.

Cantonese Pancakes

3 tablespoons peanut oil
¼ cup chopped onion
1 cup diced celery
2 cups bouillon
2 tablespoons cornstarch
2 tablespoons cold water
One No. 2 can bean sprouts (rinsed and drained)
1 cup diced cooked shrimp
1 to 2 tablespoons soy sauce
Pancakes

Heat oil in 10-inch skillet; add onion and celery; cook gently until onion is golden brown. Add bouillon; simmer 10 minutes.

Mix cornstarch and cold water until smooth; add to bouillon mixture, stirring constantly until thickened and bubbly.

Add bean sprouts and shrimp; stir well, cover and cook gently until shrimp is heated through. Stir in soy sauce to taste.

Place filling across center of each pancake; roll up and serve at once. Makes four to six servings.

To make pancakes: Beat an egg until yolk and white are combined; beat in 2¼ cups milk. Add 2 cups pancake mix; stir together lightly.

Fold in 2 tablespoons melted butter or margarine. Pour one third cup batter for each pancake onto a hot lightly greased griddle. Bake to a golden brown, turning only once.

Orange-Lime Sauce Tops Off Cupcakes

A luscious combination of fruit flavors makes this dessert sauce recipe one you'll want to use often.

Orange-Lime Sauce

1 tablespoon cornstarch
⅓ cup sugar
Dash of salt
1 teaspoon grated lime rind
1 cup strained orange juice
1 tablespoon lime juice

Stir cornstarch, sugar and salt together thoroughly in a 1-quart saucepan. Add grated lime rind, orange and lime juices; stir until there are no dry-ingredient lumps.

Cook and stir constantly over moderately low heat until thickened, clear and bubbly.

Serve warm over white or gingerbread cupcakes; top with whipped cream if white cupcakes are used, with cream cheese blended with a little milk or cream if gingerbread cupcakes are used. Or toppings may be omitted. Makes enough sauce for four to six cupcakes.

Tomato Kraut Cocktail Is Cool and Refreshing

Here's a cool and refreshing first course.

Tomato Kraut Cocktail

One No. 2 can tomato juice
One No. 2 can sauerkraut juice
½ teaspoon dried crushed oregano

Mix tomato juice, sauerkraut juice and oregano; chill to allow flavors to blend. Makes six servings.

Tropical Gingerbread

Tropical Gingerbread: Pineapple and ginger are natural affinities. Enjoy the combined flavors in this delicious topping: Add one-fourth cup of crushed pineapple to 1 cup of cream (whipped) and serve over squares of your favorite gingerbread.

Like Milk Ice Cold

A recent national survey revealed that most connoisseurs of milk like it best ice cold. Milk served at a temperature of 38 to 40 degrees is recommended as most appetizing.

Blend Cheese and Pineapple

Pineapple Roquefort Cheese Salad is excellent for dinner or luncheon and will fit into almost any menu pattern. Stuffed ripe olives and celery enrich this green lime mold that makes a refreshing dessert salad also.

Pineapple Roquefort Cheese Salad

1 package lime-flavored gelatin
1 tablespoon gelatin softened in 2 tablespoons of cold water
½ cup hot water
1 cup pineapple juice
1 tablespoon lemon juice or vinegar
½ teaspoon salt
½ cup chopped celery
½ cup chopped stuffed olives
1 cup drained crushed pineapple
½ pound crumbled Roquefort or blue cheese

Soften gelatin in cold water and dissolve with lime-flavored gelatin in the hot water. Add the pineapple juice, vinegar of lemon juice, salt, celery, olives and crushed pineapple and chill until slightly thickened.

Add the Roquefort cheese and turn into individual molds and chill until firm. Unmold on crisp endive and serve with your favorite salad dressing. Serves six.

Liver Patties Good Broiled or Pan-Fried

If broiled dishes are your meat, Liver Patties are for you. Or panfry, if you like.

Keep one or two handy containers of junior meat on the emergency shelf for just such welcome main dishes.

Liver Patties

2 tablespoons butter or cooking fat
2 tablespoons minced onion
1 tablespoon minced parsley
⅛ teaspoon thyme
1 teaspoon salt
1 cup boiling water
½ cup quick-cooking rice
½ cup junior liver and bacon (one 3½-ounce container)

Melt fat; add onion, cook until tender but not brown. Add parsley and thyme. Add salt to boiling water, then quick-cooking rice; simmer about five minutes or until all water has been absorbed.

Add chopped liver and bacon. Combine rice and meat mixture with the cooked onion. Mix well.

Cool mixture thoroughly. ((Store in refrigerator when prepared in advance.) Shape into patties, brown under the broiler or in a small amount of fat.

Makes four generous patties.

Note: To round out the liveraloner's meal, serve with sliced fresh tomatoes and crisp greens, milk or hot beverage, rolls and fruit, fresh or canned.

Chilled Soup Stars Chicken, Pimiento

Like chilled soups? Try this new combination.

Chilled Chicken Pimiento Soup

1 can (10½ ounces) condensed cream of chicken soup
Milk
Diced canned pimiento
Chopped chives

Put undiluted soup in a mixing bowl. Add 1 soup can of milk. Blend with a mixing fork or whisk. Stir in diced pimiento and chopped chives to taste.

Cover and chill. Serve in chilled bowls. Makes four servings.

ORDINANCE NO. 1281

An Ordinance to Amend the Title of Ordinance No. 448 of the City of Pontiac Adopted July 19, 1909 and to add to said Ordinance No. 448 Sections 1A, 1B and 1C.

Adopted: July 11, 1955
Effective: July 21, 1955
The City of Pontiac Ordains
Section 1.
That the title of Ordinance No. 448 be amended to read as follows:
"An Ordinance to provide for the removal and destroying of noxious weeds in the City of Pontiac and for the collection of the cost of such removal by the City of Pontiac by Special Assessment procedures."
Section 2.
That sections 1A, 1B and 1C be added to said Ordinance No. 448, said added and amended sections to read as follows:
Section 1A.
The Director of Parks and Recreation is hereby appointed Commissioner of Weeds pursuant to Act 359 of Public Acts, 1941. It shall be the duty of said Director to give general notice to the owners of property or occupiers of any land in the City of Pontiac whereon noxious weeds are growing. Said notice shall order the cutting and destroying of such noxious weeds which shall be by publication in The Pontiac Press at least one week previous to August 1st of each year. If any weeds so ordered to be cut and destroyed by August 1st as aforesaid, are not removed by the owner or occupier of the premises then the Director of Parks and Recreation is hereby authorized to enter upon the land and destroy said weeds at the expense of the persons failing to comply with said published notice.
Section 1B.
If any person herein requested to cut or destroy noxious weeds shall fail or refuse to destroy said weeds by August 1st then the Director of Parks and Recreation shall enter upon the land and cause such noxious weeds to be cut down or destroyed with as little damage to the premises as may be.
Section 1C.
The Director of Parks and Recreation shall keep an accurate account of the expenses incurred in carrying out the provisions of this Ordinance with respect to each parcel of land entered upon under the terms of this Ordinance. The amount of such expenses incurred in the destruction of such weeds shall constitute a debt due the City of Pontiac by the persons so failing to comply with the order of the Director of Parks and Recreation to remove such noxious weeds. In the event the cost of destroying such weeds as herein before provided remains uncollected or unpaid on the 15th day of September following the cutting of such weeds said unpaid amount shall be certified by the Director of Parks and Recreation to the City Manager who shall forthwith report such amount and the owners of the lands delinquent in the payment of the same to the City Commission of the City of Pontiac. The City Commission shall cause an Assessment Roll to be prepared by the City Assessor in the same manner as other special assessments are made under the Charter of the City of Pontiac. The charges for the removal and cutting of said noxious weeds shall become a lien upon said lands from and after the certification by the Director of Parks and Recreation to the City Manager of the City of Pontiac and a copy of such certification shall be filed by the Director of Parks and Recreation with the City Clerk.
Section 3.
All ordinances or parts of ordinances in conflict herewith are hereby repealed.
Section 4.
This ordinance shall take effect ten days from and after its final passage by the City Commission of the City of Pontiac.
Made and passed by the City Commission of the City of Pontiac this 11th day of July, 1955.

CHEESE TEMPTERS — They may look like cookies, but they're actually tempting little wafers with a wonderful cheese flavor. The rich, short appetizers are perfect with juice, soup, a salad or chilled fruit.

Cheese Snacks Mimic Cookies

These tempting little tidbits aren't cookies, but crunchy cheese wafers topped with a pecan half. They make delicious appetizers served with salad, soup, vegetable or fruit juice.

Easy to make and well worth the little effort they take, these Cheese Tempters are sure to be such a family favorite that you'll want to keep the cookie jar filled with them for between-meal snacks.

Cheese Tempters

1 bar (½ cup) margarine
½ pound grated sharp or American cheese
¼ teaspoon salt
Dash of cayenne
1 cup plus 2 tablespoons sifted all-purpose flour
Pecan halves or quarters

Let margarine soften slightly in mixing bowl. Add cheese, salt, and cayenne and mix until well blended. Add flour and mix well. Shape dough into three rolls, about 1½ inches in diameter.

Wrap in waxed paper and chill in refrigerator overnight. Cut in one-eighth inch slices and place on ungreased baking sheets.

Bake in moderately hot oven (375) 11 to 13 minutes. Makes about 5 dozen.

Fix Lemonade Eggnogs

Children love lemondae eggnogs. For each serving, beat 1 egg thoroughly, add 4 tablespoons frozen concentrate for lemonade, beat again, then add 1 cup milk. (If you make the eggnog in a blender, all ingredients may be mixed at the same time.) Flavorful and nutritious, these bear frequent repeats.

Marinate snap beans and thinly sliced radishes in a tangy French dressing. Serve as a relish with hamburgers or cold meat or fish.

Skillet-Cooked Stuffed Steak Ideal in Summer

When it's hot, cook your main dish on top of the range.

Stuffed Flank Steak

1 package (1¾ ounces) beef vegetable soup with noodles
1½ cups water
1 flank steak (1½ to 2 pounds)
Salt, pepper
Garlic salt
1 cup soft bread crumbs
1 small onion (finely chopped)
½ pound sausage meat (cooked and browned)
¼ cup sausage drippings

Cook beef vegetable soup with noodles according to package directions using 1½ cups water. Strain soup, reserving noodles.

Sprinkle flank steak with salt, pepper and garlic salt. Mix reserved noodles, bread crumbs, onion, sausage meat and drippings.

Spread stuffing on steak and roll up crosswise like a jelly roll. Fasten with skewers. Brown steak on all sides in saucepan or skillet; add soup liquor.

Cover pan closely and cook over low heat for two hours or until tender. Cut into 1-inch slices and serve with meat juices; or thicken juices slightly with flour if desired.

Note: Stuffed flank steak may be cooked after browning in a pressure saucepan at 15 pounds pressure for 30 minutes.

Cheese Adds Zest to Creamy Spinach

Here's a brand-new way to make spinach taste delicious

New Creamy Spinach

1 box (10 ounces) chopped frozen spinach
1 package (3 ounces) cream cheese
2 to 3 teaspoons lemon juice
½ to ¾ teaspoon onion powder
Salt and pepper.

Cook spinach according to package directions; drain lightly by placing cover over saucepan and pouring off liquid. (Refrigerate spinach cooking liquid for use in sauce or gravy next day.)

Push spinach to one side of saucepan; put cream cheese in other side. Stir over low heat to break up and melt cream cheese.

Add lemon juice, onion powder and salt and pepper to taste; mix spinach and melted cheese well with seasonings and reheat. Makes four servings.

Left-over syrup from peaches is good mixed cup for cup with chilled ginger ale and a couple of tablespoons of lemon juice.

Lend Tang to Appetizers

Pickles are a cocktail time favorite whether they lend their pungent flavor to canapes or are part of a relish tray. There is a multitude of variations for serving pickles as cocktail tidbits.

Try wrapping thin lengthwise slices of carrot around sweet gherkins and fasten with toothpicks. Or cut holes in centers of radish slices and thread strips of dill pickles through slices.

For a tempting treat, wrap thin slices of candied dill strips around cheddar cheese balls and spear with toothpicks.

Another bite-size canape can be made by overlapping slices of small sweet gherkins around the edges of crackers spread with nippy cheese.

Pickle Fruit Kabobs are the proof that pickles plus imagination provide a never-ending source of nibble food.

Chilled glasses of tomato juice and shredded whole wheat wafers are tasty companions.

Pickle Fruit Kabobs

1 small banana, mashed
1 tablespoon lemon juice
½ cup mayonnaise
1 cup sweet gherkins
1 cup cubed avocado
1½ cups canned, drained pineapple chunks

Combine banana, lemon juice and mayonnaise; mix well and chill. Arrange gherkins, avocado and pineapple as desired, on toothpicks or short lengths of plastic straws.

Serve banana mixture as a dip for pickle kabobs. Makes about 24.

Serve Cottage Cheese Promptly; Don't Store

Unlike other cheeses, cottage cheese should be used promptly, within a day or two after purchase. Also unlike other cheeses, cottage cheese is best served cold.

Cottage cheese cannot be stored for long periods of time. Always refrigerate cottage cheese and keep it tightly covered.

New Toasting Method

Next time you make a deviled ham and jelly sandwich, place the bread slices in a heated waffle iron and bake to a golden brown. For variation, use spicy apple butter with deviled ham.

Chef-Style Dressing Always Welcome

This salad dressing is always a favorite.

Chef-Style Salad Dressing

⅔ cup salad oil
⅓ cup heavy cream
⅓ cup white wine vinegar
Salt and pepper
Garlic powder
Onion powder

Put salad oil, cream and vinegar in container; beat with a fork or shake until combined. Add salt, pepper, garlic powder and onion powder to taste. Makes 1 1-3 cups.

For a tasty and refreshing salad, toss drained canned apple slices with coleslaw . . . . a good companion to sausages or frankfurters.

Cornbread Stuffing Adds to Goodness of Spareribs

Men like a good meal that includes taste appeal and satisfies hearty appetites. Baked spareribs stuffed with cornbread do just that, without making considerable fuss or bother for mother.

Like most dressings, cornbread stuffing for spareribs can be made excellently from leftover bread, or the cornbread can be baked fresh. Either way, this is an easy and healthful main course dish to prepare.

Corn-Stuffed Spareribs

2 matching spareribs racks, cracked through center
1 small onion, finely minced
¼ cup melted butter or bacon drippings
5 cups crumbled cornbread
1 egg, slightly beaten
1 cup milk
1¼ teaspoon salt

Saute minced onion in fat slowly for about five minutes. Pour over crumbled cornbread. Combine egg, milk and salt and pour over bread. Combine carefully.

Place one section of ribs flesh side down, season with salt and pepper, and spread with stuffing. Cover with other section (which has been seasoned on inside), and either sew together or lace together using small metal skewers and cord.

Sprinkle with salt and pepper. Place on a trivet in a shallow pan and bake, uncovered, in a moderate oven, 350 degrees, about 1½ hours or until tender. Allow three-fourths to 1 pound ribs per serving.

Corn Bread

¾ cup sifted flour
3 teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
1½ cups cornmeal
2 eggs, well beaten
1 cup sweet milk (room temperature)
2 tablespoons melted butter

If self-rising cornmeal and flour are used, omit baking powder and salt from this recipe.

Sift together the flour, baking powder and salt. Add cornmeal and mix well. Combine beaten eggs, milk and butter and add to dry ingredients all at once. Stir only enough to moisten the dry ingredients.

Pour into greased 8-inch square pan and bake in moderately hot oven, 400 degrees, 20 to 25 minutes.

Main Varieties of Lettuce Show These Qualities

You'll find these main types of lettuce in the stores right now.

CRISP HEAD OR ICEBERG
The most popular—available the year round—a tight head, medium green on the outside with a pale green heart.

BUTTERHEAD OR BOSTON
The head is soft and the inner leaves feel oily or buttery; the leaves are generally greener and smoother than the crisp head; medium size, usually smaller and lighter in weight than the crisp head.

COS OR ROMAINE
A long head with stiff upright leaves. Leaves are coarse but sweet. Has stronger flavor than other types; color ranges from a light to dark green depending on variety.

BIBB
A flat, loose, very small head; leaves are tender, mild flavored, blue-green in color.

SALAD BOWL
Small head, larger than Bibb, surrounnded by curly, spreading leaves; leaves are smooth, soft, very tender; outside leaves are medium green while center of head is yellow green.

LEAF
Leaves grow loosely branching from the stalk; may have a curled or somewhat smooth leaf and crisp texture.

Serve Quick Hot Sauce With Burgers, Franks

For your next hamburger or frank cook-out, we suggest serving this Quick Hot Sauce as a tangy taste treat with the perennial picnic favorites:

Hot Sauce for Hamburgers, Franks

Saute in 2 tablespoons salad oil: One finely chopped onion and 1 finely chopped green pepper, until soft but not browned; add:

1 tablespoon brown sugar
1 8-ounce can tomato juice
1 jar junior vegetable soup
½ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
⅛ teaspoon chili powder

Cook over low heat 10 minutes. Makes about 2 cups of sauce.

Twin Loaves Make 2 Meals

One to serve and one to save—that's what you'll have when you make Twin Meat Loaves. And if you want them to be the best you've ever tasted, use this recipe.

Bite size shredded wheat biscuits and condensed cream of tomato soup are the ingredients that make the loaves extra good. The soup helps make them moist and tasty. The bite size biscuits keep them in shape and add the good wheat flavor that blends so well with meat.

You'll like using bite size shredded wheat biscuits for another reason—they're ready to add as they come from the package, no crushing or crumbling necessary.

You'll also like the idea of making two loaves at once—saves time, effort and oven heat.

Serve one of the meat loaves hot for dinner tonight, wrap the other in foil and take it along for tomorrow's picnic lunch. Or keep it on hand for slicing and serving with a sauce or in sandwiches.

Twin Meat Loaves

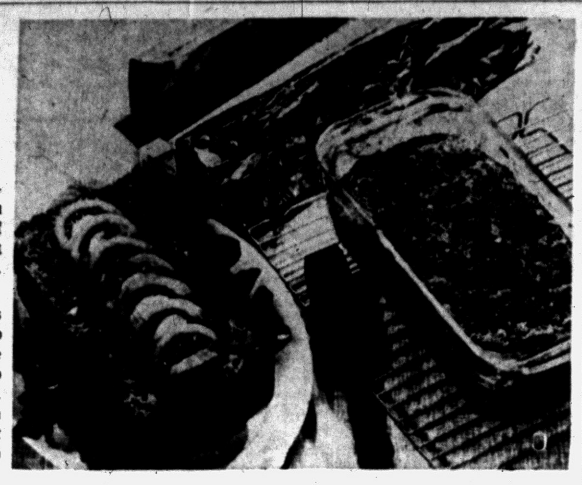
4 eggs
1 can (10½ ounces) condensed cream of tomato soup
½ cup water
2 cups bite-size shredded wheat biscuits
2½ pounds ground beef
½ pound pork sausage
2 teaspoons salt
½ cup finely cut onion

Break eggs into 4-quart bowl. Beat slightly. Add tomato soup and water. Mix well. Add bite size shredded wheat biscuits. Let stand 15 to 20 minutes.

Heat oven to slow (300). Grease two 6-cup loaf pans. When cereal mixture has stood 15 to 20 minutes, add meat, salt and onion. Mix well.

Pack half of mixture into each loaf pan. Pour two tablespoons of water over the top of each loaf. Bake on rack slightly below center 1 hour and 15 minutes. Makes two loaves, each yielding eight ¾-inch slices.

Serve one loaf hot, garnished with tomato wedges. Cool the other loaf, cover and store in refrigerator for later use.



TWIN MEAT LOAVES — Make Twin Meat Loaves and save yourself time and work on hot summer days. Serve one loaf for dinner tonight; save one for tomorrow's picnic. These loaves owe their good looks and better flavor to the bite-size shredded wheat biscuits and condensed cream of tomato soup.

Other Flavors Flatter Shrimp in Appetizers

Tender, plump shrimp make delicious party appetizers and their pink profiles are even prettier when speared with gaily colored toothpicks. As a matter of fact, there are so many ways to spear shrimp that you'll soon be thinking up flavor combinations of your own.

In the meantime, here are some ideas from the Shrimp Association of the Americas to make your next party not only more fun, but a little different, too. For extra generous hors d'oeuvres, sandwich more than one shrimp between the other foods.

Clean and cook one pound of shrimp, fresh or frozen. Wrap each shrimp in a half slice of bacon, and secure with a toothpick. Broil until bacon crisps. Place a stuffed olive on the end of each toothpick and serve immediately.

Skewer cooked shrimp and pineapple chunks on toothpicks, or shrimp and cocktail sausages.

Place cooked shrimp, speared with colored toothpicks, on a cocktail platter around a dunking bowl of Thousand Island dressing, or make a dip sauce of two parts sour cream, one part mayonnaise, with a dash of Worcestershire sauce.

Skewer cooked shrimp with avocado chunks, artichoke hearts, or pearly cocktail onions.

Dress Up Plain Cake

Dress up baker's plain white or sponge cake with a homemade frosting. Cream 3 tablespoons of butter or margarine with 2 cups sifted confectioner's sugar and a tablespoon of grated orange rind. Mix in enough orange juice to make good spreading consistency.

Ever add a dash of curry powder to egg salad for sandwiches? Good!

There Is Always News in New Food Products

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

Move your chair over into that patch of shade and let me fill your glass with more iced tea. Now, we can settle down for a short chat about this and that.

Sure, it's been hot. But those families of ours still insist on eating three times a day, don't they? You might tempt their appetities with a new salad dressing now appearing in the stores. It's a sweet-sour dressing, good for all vegetable, meat and seafood salads. The introductory offer gives you two bottles for the price of one.

Have you seen the new instant chocolate milk? Put out by a famous evaporated milk company it comes in a 10-ounce package with a convenient pouring spout. The "magic crystals" of this instant chocolate flavored drink dissolve immediately in hot or cold water. It provides all the nourishment of fresh whole milk, except butter fat.

Speaking of instant milk . . . another milk company is putting out a family-size package of its nonfat dry milk. It makes three gallons of milk and is most economical, adding up only to about seven cents a quart.

30 MILLION UNDERWEIGHT

Does it surprise you to know that there are thirty million adults and youngsters in America who are underweight? I sometimes think we dwell too much on the problems of the overweight and forget those who strive desperately to gain pounds.

For these individuals there is good news. A new high-calorie food supplement is on the market. It can be used in the same way in which you use wheat germ. It can be sprinkled on fruits, cereals or ice cream; it may be used in baking, sauces and gravies. It can be substituted for part of the flour in a recipe. Look for it in most chain and independent drug stores.

New products to watch for in the stores: opaque waxed paper that is white. The featured advantage of this type of waxed paper is its vitamin-saving ability.

A second new product is a particularly soft paper napkin put out by a famous paper company. Picnic season calls for more paper napkins than usual.

PICKLES IN NEW STYLE

Pickle lovers, take note. The line of the famous 57 has been increased by the addition of Candied Dill Strips and Barbecue Relish. The relish is especially versatile. Use it as a table garnish on hot ham, pork or sliced beef, hamburgers or hot dogs. It is also good for a "quickie" barbecue. Try this recipe:

½ pound chipped spiced ham
1 cup Barbecue Relish
6 sandwich buns, heated

Heat ham and relish in saucepan. Serve in heated buns. Makes 6 sandwiches.

For centuries man has dried food to preserve it. Now modern man is learning how to dry a food that previously was impossible to dry—meat.

Notable progress had been made in producing dehydrated pork that both looks and tastes good when reconstituted. Dehydrated steak and dehydrated fish sticks have both been perfected. All of these would be mighty useful in case of any major disaster.

I should like to tell you of a cooking failure I had just recently in order that you might be spared the same mistake.

USE GREASE-FREE BOWL

Having broken the large bowl for my electric mixer, I had to substitute a plastic bowl when I made a package angel food for Miss Teenager's birthday. The egg whites never did attain the heights they were supposed to, and the cake was only half as high as it should have been.

Evidently the plastic bowl was not entirely free of grease—it holds grease longer than a glass or ceramic one does. This grease prevented the egg whites from whipping up.

I shan't repeat that particular mistake again and I hope this warning saves you.

Frozen Shrimp Soup Adds Savor to Fish

If there's a fisherman in your family, you can "do him proud" by dressing up his catch with an easy shrimp sauce. Heat a can of frozen cream of shrimp soup with one-third cup milk. Pour sauce over fish while it bakes.

Lay a frozen fillet (1-pound size) in a flat casserole or baking dish and top with an unthawed can of shrimp soup. Whisk casserole into the oven to bake for an hour. Extra touches . . . brush fillet with melted butter and sprinkle a tablespoon of lemon juice over it before baking.

Or, sprinkle grated cheese over shrimp sauce. It will taste simply elegant!

Mix Fruit, Milk Drinks

Is there an electric blender in your kitchen? Use it for fruit and milk drinks for small fry. If you make the drink an hour or so before serving and chill it, you may want to reblend it for 10 seconds or so before serving. Milk, ripe bananas and sugar make a delicious drink.

Give added flavor to meat pie by putting a little minced onion into the baking powder biscuit dough used for the crust.

Try Devil Burgers

Here's a new and hearty mixture for burger buns: Saute chopped peppers, onion and celery; scramble eggs into mixture and, when eggs are soft, stir in can deviled ham. Pile hot mixture on split bun and toast for a few minutes.

Carrots simmered gently in apple juice develop a delicate hint of apple flavor . . . delicious with pan-boiled meat patties.

Use Yolks in Custard

When you prepare a gelatin dessert that calls for egg whites, use the yolks in a soft custard sauce. Serve the sauce with the gelatin dessert or with a fresh fruit compote.

Use Frozen Pear Icecaps to Make Salads, Desserts

Put a No. 2 or No. 2½ can of Bartlett pears in food freezer or in ice cube compartment or refrigerator 12 hours or longer until frozen.

When ready to serve, run hot water over the outside of the can, then open both ends. With one of the discs from the can push the frozen pears from the can. Slice.

A No. 2 can will serve six. No. 2½ can will serve eight.

Ice Cap Salads

Place icecap on salad greens.

Top slices with cottage cheese and mayonnaise and maraschino cherry.

Top with mayonnaise, shredded carrot and salted peanuts.

Top with cream cheese balls rolled in nuts and mayonnaise.

Put icecap on pineapple slice. Top with whipped cream dressing and pimiento garnish.

Top icecap with combination fruit salad or Waldorf salad.

Icecap Desserts

Fold peppermint stick candy crushed into whipped cream and top slices of Icecap.

Fold chipped chocolate mints into whipping cream for topping.

Top with vanilla ice cream and strawberry sundae sauce.

Serve atop slice of jelly roll. Top with whipped cream and chopped nuts.

Make sandwich of two large ginger cookies with a slice of icecap.

Open can and put in maraschino cherries before freezing. Top with bit of whipped cream.

Put Pineapple Mixture in Cupcake for Dessert

Giant-sized cup cakes: A large, freshly baked cup cake makes a delicious dessert if you serve it this way. Cut a cone-shaped section from the top of each cake. Fill the hole with this filling:

Combine in a saucepan 1½ cups drained crushed pineapple, one-half cup sugar, 1 tablespoon cornstarch and 1 tablespoon butter or margarine, dash salt and nutmeg. Cook, stirring until thick and clear. Cool. Replace top, pointed-side up. This also makes an excellent filling for cookies.

Pour hot creamed seafood mixtures into halves of pitted, ripe avocado, unpeeled.

BAKED SALMON SANDWICHES — Serve a hot sandwich like this baked salmon treat when you want a meal-in-a-dish or as a supper snack. Substitute tuna for the salmon if your family prefers it; or use whole wheat bread instead of white.

Hot Sandwiches Feature Salmon

A good hunch for lunch! Make it one hot main dish for a cool summer meal in the form of a baked souffle sandwich. Green pepper, onion and mustard add tang to tuna or salmon.

A cool, crisp salad and tall glasses of iced tea are all this sandwich needs to make your meal quick, cool and complete. It's an excellent guest menu.

Baked Salmon Sandwiches

8 slices enriched bread
Butter or margarine
1 cup flaked salmon (8-ounce can)
¼ cup chopped celery
2 tablespoons chopped onion
2 tablespoons chopped green pepper
½ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon caraway seeds
4 slices American cheese (¼ pound)
2 eggs, beaten
1 cup milk
Paprika

Spread four slices bread with butter or margarine. Place in bottom of 8-inch square baking dish. Toast lightly in oven (350) about 10 minutes.

Combine salmon, celery, green pepper, salt and caraway seeds. Mix to blend. Arrange salmon mixture on toast slices. Top with slices of American cheese. Cover with remaining bread slices to make sandwiches.

Combine eggs and milk and pour over sandwiches. Sprinkle with paprika. Bake in moderate oven (350) 40 to 45 minutes. Makes four sandwiches.

Serve Chive Butter

Mince chives and mix with butter; place a dollop of the mixture over each portion of broiled steak as you serve it. Makes a wonderful sauce as it mixes with the meat juices. The steak should be broiled so it is rare or medium-rare.

Cheese Souffle Tops Open Tomato Sandwich

Here is a bit of summer sophistication for the little luncheon—Tomato Cheese Souffle Sandwich. On buttered slices of bread, place two slices of fresh tomato.

To make the souffle: Allow one egg for each two open-face sandwiches. Beat egg whites and yolks separately. Season yolks with pepper, paprika, Worcestershire sauce and mustard. Add one fourth cup grated, sharp cheese for each egg yolk.

Combine egg mixtures, folding the yolks carefully into the whites. Top tomatoes with about one-half cup souffle mixture. Place on greased baking sheet and bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees) for 15 minutes.

Baby Fruit Provides Basis for Taste Treat

For a simple but distinctive dessert when there are only two for dinner, borrow a can or jar of strained fruit from the baby food shelf — apricots, peaches, applesauce, or whatever you like.

Add to it a tablespoon of sugar, two drops of almond flavoring, and half a cup of finely crushed lemon wafers. Then fold in a fourth cup of heavy cream, whipped. Either chill the mixture thoroughly or freeze it.

Library Answers Questions on Almost Everything

Good reading habits often are the result of early library training. Barbara Olds (left) of Pioneer avenue and her sister, Marsha, a first grader, were two youngsters caught by the photographer during a visit to the Pontiac City Library this week.

Pontiac Press Photos

Two students of the Bible, Ross Berry (left) of Judah road and Doris Tucker of Collier street were photographed at Pontiac City Library as they were doing research on various religious doctrines. They find the library an excellent source for information in their work.

"This might help you," suggests librarian Florence Wells (left) of Williams street to Jackie Kosky (center) of LaSalle avenue and Sandy Filer of Edgefield drive. The girls find real pleasure in the books on the shelves at Pontiac City Library.

Miss Adah Shelly, head librarian at Pontiac City Library, helps Shirley Hopper of Lorraine court as she prepares to take a few books out of the library.

City Folks Often Seek Information

55,515 Books Are Kept Available for People of Pontiac

Some folks want to know how to raise crickets—others want help in raising butterflies. So, they call the Pontiac City Library.

And most often they find the answers they're looking for. If members of the staff are in doubt, they can, in a few seconds' time, locate the answer for you.

Miss Adah Shelly, head librarian, explains that many times they are asked questions on wedding etiquette, and on radio and television repair. They often are asked for books on building houses and boats.

Job and career information is available for high school students, the librarian pointed out. There is a file of over 10,000 pamphlets, pictures, maps and agricultural bulletins.

55,515 VOLUMES

The library lists a total membership of 28,234 and a total book stock of 55,515. During the month of June 12,193 library loans were made.

Miss Shelly, who has served this community for nearly 30 years, was honored last March when the Adah Shelly Library was dedicated.

Besides the Adah Shelly branch which is on Rundell Street, there is a small branch on South Sanford Street.

Both branches are under the administration of the main library, as is the bookmobile.

Bride-Elect Entertained at Shower

Lynn M. McCallum Honored at Party in Scott Home

Lynn Mildred McCallum, bride-elect of Edward M. Green of Lansing, was honored Tuesday evening at a bridal shower given by Mrs. Bradley D. Scott of South Genesee avenue. The hostess was assisted by her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Bradley D. Scott.

Lynn is the daughter of Judge and Mrs. Cecil McCallum of Dwight avenue and Ed is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Morris J. Green of Lansing.

The wedding ceremony will be performed Aug. 6 at Christ Church Cranbrook. The Rev. Perry Williams will officiate at the 8 p.m. ceremony.

Guests at the shower were Mrs. McCallum, Mrs. Green, Mrs. Leo R. Donaldson, Mrs. Dawson C. Baer, Mrs. Arthur C. Compton, Mrs. Eugene K. Wellman, Mrs. Clark J. Adams, Mrs. William B. Moore and Mrs. Harold Richards.

Other guests were Mrs. Ericson Lewis, Mrs. Clarence Saunders, Mrs. Horace Young, Mrs. Allan McLintock, Mrs. Bert F. Griffin, Mrs. Phillip Long, Mrs. Clifford E. Maison, Mrs. Kenneth Miller and Mrs. Frank J. Moreau.

Mrs. Cash Bond, Mrs. Ben A. Ronan, Mrs. R. E. Spangler, Mrs. W. L. Moore of Lake Orion, and Mrs. Otto J. Deyo and Mrs. Arnold W. Grooms, both of Birmingham, completed the guest list.

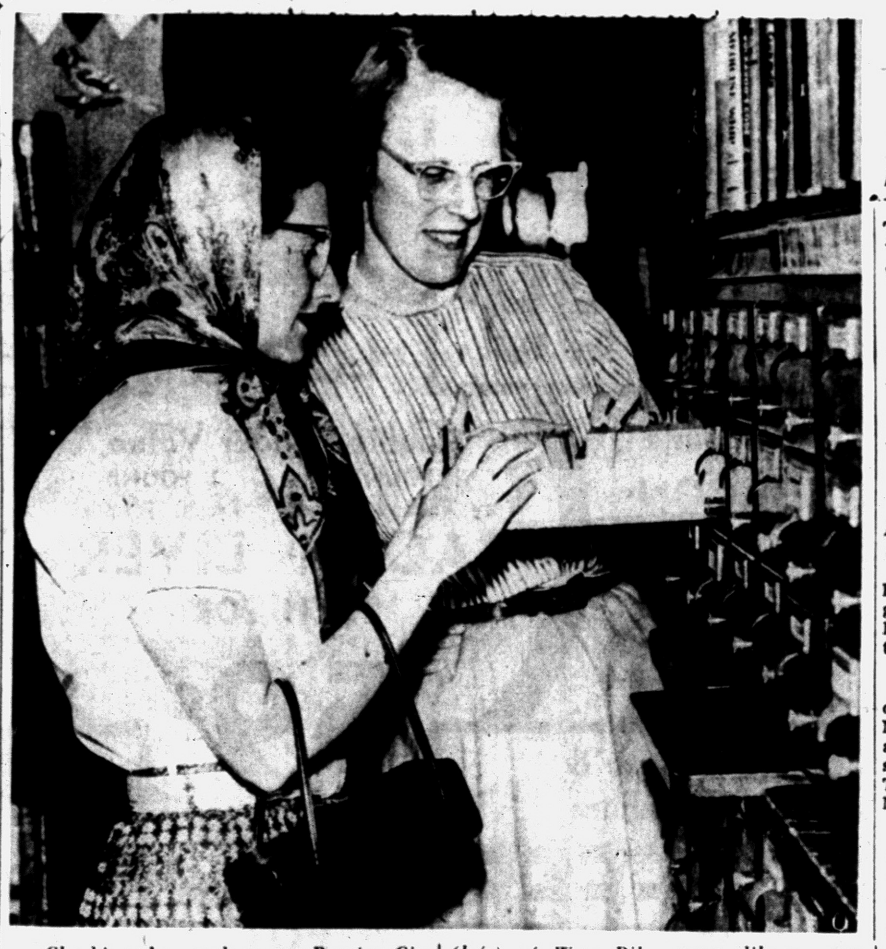
Lynn and Ed were feted recently at a pantry shower given by Mr. and Mrs. J. Stanley Bien of Lansing. Gaily wrapped bushel baskets held assorted canned goods and gifts. Fifteen couples were present at the affair.

Acquaintance Club Plans Bob-Lo Trip

A trip to Bob-Lo is planned by the Widow and Widowers' Acquaintance Club for Saturday evening. The group will meet at Malta Temple on Perkins street at 7 o'clock and go to Detroit on a chartered bus.

The club meets every Tuesday night in air-conditioned Malta Temple.

For further information, call Mrs. Adeline Cox of South Sanford street.



Checking the catalogue at Pontiac City Library is Diane Walker of Mary Day avenue. She is being assisted by Doris Haynes (left) of West Pike street, library cataloguer.

Nancy Campbell Honored at Shower

A linen shower honored Nancy Campbell Wednesday evening at the Chamberlain street home of Mrs. John Hill. Assisting the hostess was Mrs. William L. Campbell.

Nancy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Collin L. Campbell of Bellevue avenue, is the bride-elect of William A. Donahue Jr. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William A. Donahue of Lewis street.

The couple will exchange nuptial vows Aug. 6 at 9 a.m. in St. Vincent de Paul Church.

Nancy has asked her cousin, Shirley Clancy, to attend her as maid of honor. Bridesmaids will be Kathleen Kinch, Elinor Schutt and Ella Powers. Dianne Campbell will be flower girl.

William has asked his brother, Thomas Donahue, to serve as best man. Seating the guests will be Louis Miller, Michael Lovinger, William Campbell, Richard Campbell and Daniel Donahue.

SHOWER GUESTS

Guests at the shower were Mrs. Ruth Nackerman, Mrs. Philo Wright, Mrs. Gilbert Hoffman, Mrs. Glen Donahue, Mrs. M. J. O'Connell, Mrs. Donald Isles, Mrs. W. R. Campbell Jr. and Alma Swiastyn.

Other guests were Mrs. Harold Wesley, Marcee Hill, Janice Price, Mrs. W. R. Campbell, Mrs. Clark Denison and the bride-elect's mother and the prospective bridegroom's mother.

A miscellananeous shower was given recently for Nancy by Miss Clancy, and Mrs. James Powers and Mrs. Barney McKevitz were hostesses at another shower.

Couple Will Marry Early in September

William Popps of Hillside drive announces the engagement of his daughter, Myrtle, to Lowell Menter, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Menter of Spence street.

An early September wedding is planned.

She was graduated from Michigan State University and he attended Deerfield Academy and Williams College. An Oct. 1 wedding is planned.

Boy Plays Havoc With Sisterly Teamwork

By ELIZABETH WOODWARD

When you need a pal to squat low and pin up a sagging hem, a sister is right useful. When you can't see to put the permanent curlers in your back hair, a sister comes in handy.

You can count on her to get phone messages straight. She's talented at covering up for you, rushing to your defense when you need protection.

She recognizes the wisdom of cooperating with the beds, the dishes, the tidying up. Together you present a united front. A mutual society of two.

Until some boy comes between you!

Then everything goes plop. She won't even lend you a nickle. You lock up your lipsticks. Turn a deaf ear to her arguments that it's your turn to clear the table. And suddenly plaster a placard on your bedroom door that says "Private, Keep Out, This Means You."

Your beautiful relationship is riddled with suspicion, doubt, jealously and resentment. An unconcious male is the cause of it all.

Sisters, though they may be cut from the same pattern, are rarely really alike. Their tastes are different. They appeal to different boys.

They ought to be smart enough to realize that boys they cannot share. As in this case.

"Dear Miss Woodward: Last summer my sister, who is a year older than I am, liked Jack, but he liked me. She accused me of deliberately trying to take him away from her!

"This time she likes Joe but he doesn't know it yet. Last night I saw him and talked with him, and when I mentioned it at home, right away she accused me of trying to get him to like me.

"She won't speak to me around the house and is telling untrue things about me to all her friends. But worst of all is having her believe these things about me. Can you help me out?"

Answer: Your sister is jumping the gun a bit in considering any boy she likes as her personal property. Neither of the boys you mentioned staked a claim to her apparently, or gave her real reason to think he liked her best.

But until she figures out that she's slightly previous, don't add tinder to her fire. Avoid any boy she says she likes. Don't mention his name. Act as though you couldn't care less.

If he talks to you, and you feel you must mention it, make it quite clear that you've no claws out, that he asked you about her, that he is very much her type If he's around the house, dig out so you can leave them alone.

And the best trick of all is to do a lot of talking about a boy you like. Even if it's not true, it's very reassuring to a jumpy sister!

Secretaries Conduct Installation Rite

Members and guests of the Pontioak Chapter of the National Secretaries Assn., International, held a candlelight installation of officers Wednesday evening at Hotel Waldron. The ceremony was conducted by Mrs. Hope Scott, past president.

Mary Eleanor Lockman was installed as president; Edythe Perry as vice president; Mrs. Warren Trevethan, recording secretary; Mrs. William Robinson, corresponding secretary, and Mrs. Loretta Collins, treasurer.

Committee chairmen appointed by Miss Lockman were Mrs. Collins, birthday and means; Miss Perry, program; Mrs. Russell Brackett, public relations, publicity and scrapbook; Mrs. Robinson, employment, and Mrs. Harry Ault, membership.

Mrs. John Duncan is education chairman; Mrs. Ellen Boyd, achievement, and Mrs. Scott, public works and welfare.

Speaker for the evening was William Beer, who talked on "The Secretarial Profession." Marcella Kilgore rendered two piano selections as part of the program.

TO ATTEND PARLEY

Mrs. Ault, Oakland County Secretary of the Year, announced she will be leaving soon for Chattanooga, Tenn., to attend the 10th annual National Secretaries Assn. Convention being held July 20-24.

Mrs. Ivy Baker Priest, treasurer of the United States, will be the keynote speaker at the convention.

MARY ELEANOR LOCKMAN

She will use the convention's theme, "The Secret of Success Is Constancy of Purpose," as the basis for her talk.

Highlights of the affair will include the selection of the association's "Secretary of the Year."

The August meeting of the Pontioak Chapter will be a picnic at the Williams Lake home of Mrs. George Korn.

Republicans Hold Election

Mrs. Kenneth B. Nichols of Franklin is the newly elected president of the Republican's Women's Federation of Oakland County.

Woman Objects to Being Left Alone at Restaurant Table

By EMILY POST

A wife tells me: "My husband and I had dinner in a restaurant the other evening and while we were waiting to be served, my husband spotted an old friend and his wife seated at another table. My husband left me and went over to their table and had a short visit with them.

"When he came back I told him that I thought he was very rude to leave me sitting alone. He, of course, can't see anything wrong in what he did and says that I am just too sensitive. Will you please give me your opinion on this matter?"

Answer: I'm sorry but I have to agree with your husband!

"Dear Mrs. Post: Recently I gave a large dinner party at my house and later was told by my maid that several of the guests tipped her. I never heard of this being done before and was quite put out with her for having accepted these tips as I pay her well for her services. Wasn't this most irregular?"

Answer: I have never heard of such a thing (except of course for guests who stay overnight). Your maid, however, would have been very discourteous had she not accepted the gratuities with obvious pleasure.

"Dear Mrs. Post: I am going to be married at a summer evening wedding. The bridegroom and best man are going to wear white dinner coats and I would like to know if it is necessary for the ushers to wear white coats too or may they wear the regular dark tuxedos."

Answer: It is not necessary that the usher's clothes match those of the bridegroom and best man, but the ushers themselves must be dressed alike.

Lawn Dinner Held by Philathea Class

A cooperative dinner was enjoyed Tuesday on the lawn of Mrs. Anna Brown's Meinrad road home by 25 members and their husbands of the Philathea Class of the Oakland Avenue United Presbyterian Church.

Mrs. Ernal Lloyd conducted the business meeting and Mrs. E. J. Schultz had charge of devotions.

Mrs. Andrew Creswell, a former member visiting from Pittsburgh, gave a talk on the churches and colleges she had visited. Guests at the affair were Mrs. Ann Johnson, Mrs. Martha Martin, Mrs. Jeanie Graham and Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Martin.

Mrs. Dayner Feted

Mrs. Harold Dayner of LeBaron avenue was honored recently when members of the Lucky 13 Club met to celebrate her birthday. The next meeting will be held at the Stirling avenue home of Mrs. Anderson Bee Sept. 12.

Susan E. Mock to Become Bride

The engagement of Susan Elizabeth Mock to William L. Shallberg is being announced. Susan is the daughter of Mrs. Frances Marshall Mock of Birmingham and James R. Mock of Orchard Lake.

She was graduated from Stephens College and the University of Michigan and is a provisional member of the Junior League.

Mr. Shallberg is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lester E. Shallberg. He was graduated from Michigan State University where he was a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity, and from the American Institute of Foreign Trade at Phoenix, Ariz.

Mothersingers Meet for Picnic

The Pontiac Mothersingers were entertained at a picnic dinner Tuesday evening at the Bogie Lake road home of Mrs. Stoddard Hamilton.

Assisting the hostess were Mrs. Lowell Green and Mrs. Milton Redeman.

Mrs. John Bills will have a picnic for the group at her Watkins Lake home Aug. 16. She will be assisted by Mrs. Phoebe Van Deusen and Mrs. Harry Dickie.

Rehearsals will begin in September and anyone interested in joining may contact Mrs. Charles Chapman or Mrs. Sidney Fellows.

A table can be turned into a temporary playpen for a child by turning it upside-down and winding a sheet around the legs.

Clean, Dry, Store Hot Water Bottles

Put the family hot water bottle away clean and dry for the summer, and it will last to comfort aches and pains again next winter.

First wash it in warm soapsuds and rinses, wipe it dry, and hang it upside down until all moisture evaporates from inside.

Blow into it to separate the surfaces, and sprinkle well with talcum powder or cornstarch. Store in a cool, dry place.

Two New Silhouettes Challenge the Sheath Dress

Insertions of black silk chiffon for a sheer black wool afternoon or cocktail dress are seen on this dress from Samuel Winston's collection by Roxane. Silk satin ribbon set in under the unpressed pleats of the skirt ties in a bustle-like bow.

A sheer wool olive green costume combining a three-quarter sleeved sheath dress and shapely peplum jacket is designed by Branell. A large teardrop rhinestone pin centers the banded neckline of the dress, and matching small pins drop from the scallops of the jacket.

B. H. Wragge's day dress of worsted flannel has thrown-back scarf in grey and white silk print attached to the half moon collar. The "piping rock" coloring of the dress is charcoal-toned.

'Orchid,' 'Coquille' Show Unusual Effects in Skirts

By OLGA CURTIS

NEW YORK (INS) — Two new silhouettes popped up today to give the top-favored sheath dress a run for the title of fall's favored fashion.

Both new dress shapes were introduced by Samuel Winston, Inc., whose designer—Roxanne — names them "The Orchid" and "La Coquille (The Shell)."

The "Orchid" and "Coquille" silhouettes look like sheaths on top, but are very different further down.

"The Orchid" features a shapely bodice, with high, rounded bustline, moded waistline and softly rounded hipline. It sticks to the body till knee-height, when it suddenly breaks into same puff that the flower shows.

Below the knee, the skirt of "The Orchid" looks like an inverted wine glass. It's held out with masses of colored petticoat ruffles.

FLATTERING BODICE

"La Coquille" has a flattering, midriff - minimizing tight bodice which slides down to a point on either side of the hips. In front and in back, between those two sleek hip panels, the skirt is gathered very full and high. Sometimes it pours out in little conical swirls like a Charlotte Russe.

The effect of this round shell of a skirt is heightened when skirt and bodice are made in contrasting colors. One such dress had a dull apricot satin bodice, draped chiffon midriff of apricot, and a shell skirt of black taffeta.

Designer Roxanne didn't ignore the sheath dress in spite of the two new silhouettes. The Winston showing had sheaths with high midriff emphasis, usually with their own little jackets cut bolero-level or just to the waist.

Just to show this designer plays no favorites, there were also sheaths banded both at bosom and at hip. Most of the sheaths had ribbon bow trim, and there was one dress which put 12-inch-wide ribbon, gathered in puffs, right on the bustle.

Sportswear designer Carolyn Schnurer also showed her new fall clothes today. She had a smaller-than-usual group of dresses and separates, and featured both the slim sheath and the long - torso dress with full skirt.

Miss Schnurer concentrated on brown, which is fast becoming the high-fashion tint for fall. She used brown in every tint—from light coffee color to undiluted demi-tasse.

Wallpaper Painting Imperfect but Fast

Results obtained by painting over wallpaper are not perfect, but if you don't care you can save yourself a lot of trouble by doing it.

Test the colorfastness of the paper by rubbing with a damp cloth. If it's not colorfast, apply a coat of thinnned shellac and let it dry three hours before painting.

Bath mats now come in nylon on a base of cotton duck. They machine wash well.

Married Business Partners Clash

By ANNE HEYWOOD

It is a well known fact that husbands, as a rule, cannot teach their wives how to drive. The thing gets too personal.

Every suggestion is taken as a personal insult and. before they're finished, they are apt to be fighting violently about something that happened way back in their courting days.

My experience has been that the same dangers are attendant on the husband and wife who go into business together. Unless they're very careful, the marriage, as well as the business, is apt to explode.

Here is a letter from a woman to whom this nearly happened:

"Do tell your readers," Mrs. Y. says, "how dangerous it is for a husband and wife to open a shop.

DEAL IN ANTIQUES

"Jim and I had dreamed of it for years and, when he retired, we finally did open our little shop.

"We dealt in antiques, buying and selling them as well as refinishing them. We had what it takes, really, but did we get into a mess!

"Jim was going to do the refinishing and the purchasing," she continued, "and I was going to handle the customers.

"We didn't plan it too much, just assumed that everything would work out. But it didn't.

"We were both nervous and anxious to make the shop a success. Purchasing was supposed to be Jim's department, but I would occasionally butt in and tell him I thought he was paying too much for certain items.

"After all, I had to sell them and I knew what the traffic would bear. Then he would blow up and make all kinds of personal remarks and I would be in tears.

HE'D INTERFERE TOO

"Sometimes he would interfere when I was dealing with a customer — his methods and ideas about selling are different from mine—and we would lose sales. After the customer left we would blow up again and, I'm sorry to say, I would begin making nasty remarks about him.

"Fortunately," she concludes, "we didn't end in Reno, but we sure did sell the shop. Now Jim has his own refinishing shop, set up in the garage, and is doing very well, and I work as saleslady for a big antique shop in town.

"But I do wish you would warn other couples about the dangers in working together.

"If Jim and I had been aware of them and had planned things more carefully and more maturely, I think we could have made a go of it."

Wallpaper Sets Tone for Room for Work-Sleep

NEW YORK (INS)—Work-sleep areas can look both business-like and beautiful.

Frilly and feminine do-dads might look out of place in an area half devoted to work, but an elegant look is always appropriate.

An example of this on display in New York provides a few tips to housewives planning a room.

The wallpaper sets the tone for the room. It's made to imitate birchbark. Cream-colored with brown streaks scattered about, it also has bunches of gold flecks for the textural effect of that bark.

A sofa-bed takes care of the sleep department, covered in a cream and tan nubby fabric. Several chairs are upholstered in this fabric, while others are done in a cream-beige covering with shantung-like texture.

The floor is covered in brown, beige and white tweed, according to the latest style note in carpeting.

The maple desk is simple but features a cut-out back shelf so the back is not an eyesore.

An interesting lamp base is made of hunks of mineral rock, and a decorative piece of rock is placed on the back-shelf of the desk. A low end-table sits in front of the sofa-bed. It has an inlaid line of brass for a border. Another brass accent is used on a nest of tables.

Boil Stove Burners in Washing Soda

Cast-iron gas stove burners need to be boiled for a few minutes occasionally in a weak solution of washing soda.

Clean the hollow fuel tube with a bottle brush, and use a pipe cleaner to "scrape" out the small holes.

Then wash in hot soapsuds, rinse, wipe off, and place in a warm oven until dry.

IF large-for-her-age Junior—

Slim silhouettes for fall. Princess sheath suits your type better than the pinafore. Lilac and mauve new fall colors.

Slim silhouettes are making a greater impact than ever before for juniors. The large girl should not wear "baby doll" pinafores. Emphasis will be on color generally with both pale and brilliant colors for juniors this fall.

Big Bath Tiles

You can cover walls with new plastic tiles that come in eight-inch squares. To apply, simply moisten and stick them up — no nails, tacks or paste. They come in bamboo or mahogany textures.

Area Golfers Set Pace in State Amateur Test

JACKSON (AP)—The 44th Michigan Amateur golf championship went into its 2nd qualifying round today after probably the lowest scoring competition in history.

Eighty-six players in the field of 315 scored 76 or better in yesterday's 1st round, making it appear likely it would take 152 or better to win a place in the bracket of 64 that goes into three days of match play starting Friday against champion Glenn Johnson of Grosse Pointe.

Holding a two-stroke lead in the fight for medalist honors was Ed Ervasti, 41-year-old former champion from Royal Oak. He posted a 34-34—68 at the Country Club of Jackson yesterday.

His nearest rivals were Tom Watrous, University of Detroit sophomore who celebrated his 20th birthday by shooting 35-35—70 for the day's best round at Arbor Hills Country Club, and Charles Barker, 37-year-old Pontiac public course player who scored his 36-34—70 at the Country Club.

The huge field was split for the 1st round of qualifying and the players changed courses today.

Ervasti, runner-up for the title the past two years, was consistency personified, hitting all 18 greens in regulation figures. He had four birdies.

At 71 were Harold Brink, Grand Rapids veteran playing in his 23rd state competition, and Dave Hill, 18-year-old Jackson champion. Hill cut four strokes from par with a 32 on the 1st nine, the day's lowest, but soared to a 39 on the way back.

Brink shot 35-36. Both played the Country Club.

Players at Arbor Hills dominated the par 72 group with Bob Glick of Jackson, Fred Micklow, young University of Michigan player from Hillsdale, and John Huettman of Grosse Pointe Farms equalling par there, and Dr. Robert Corley of Jackson matching par at the Country Club.

In the 73 bracket were Howard Closcum and Howard Weikle of Ann Arbor, Vic Cuiss of Jackson, former champion Bob Babbish of Detroit, Fred King of Dearborn, Dale Grieve of Montague and Wally Smith of Royal Oak.

Smith hustled here from Indianapolis after being eliminated from the National Publinx tournament there.

Two former champions, Fred Turner of Flint and Tom Draper of Detroit, were among a group at 74.

This list also had Mickey McMillen of Midland, John Short, Walt Pittman and Bill Pautke of Jackson, Bob Wallace of Charlevoix, Don Gaertner of Albion, Jim Taylor of Belmont, Keith LeClair of Ann Arbor, Jim Seltzer and Frank Gerrard of Flint, Lloyd Syron of Pontiac, Jim Frost of Battle Creek, H. E. Woodward and Don Mead of Detroit, and Frank Skeystone Jr. of Grand Rapids.

Other Oakland county players taking part in the state amateur golf qualifying rounds, Wednesday included the following:

Mike Andonian, Pontiac (38-37—75), Paul Weyand, Birmingham (39-37—76), Richard Weyand, Birmingham (38-38—76), Al Krol, Royal Oak (34-42—76). This group played the CC of Jackson. On the Arbor Hills CC, were Jack Reynolds, Pontiac (37-39—76), Tommy Shannon Jr., Royal Oak (37-39—76).

Dick DeWitt (41-40—81), Jim Brafford (40-42—82) and Stan Savage, all of Pontiac (40-42—82) also played qualifying rounds.

Charles Gains Split Decision Over Andrews

Comes Off Floor in 2nd to Edge New Yorker in Heavyweight Bout

CHICAGO (AP) — A slowed-down Ezzard Charles plodded to a split 10-round decision over young Paul Andrews last night to keep grinding away on the comeback treadmill.

He proved he still has the heart of a champion if little else. He was decked by a short right for the eight count in the second round.

But he weathered Andrews savage left hooks and right uppercuts to fight back and earn the decision from Referee Frank Sikora, 94-91, and Judge Frank McAdams, 96-95. Judge James McManus gave it to the 25-year-old ex-paratrooper from Buffalo, N.Y., 95-89.

The Chicago Stadium scrap, televised nationally, drew only 2,123 fans to ringside and a net gate of $5,072.

Charles, outweighing Andrews 193 pounds to 189, opened a gash under his opponent's right eye in the fourth round and it kept bleeding most of the way. He battered Andrews in a sledging body attack to slow him down from the fifth on. But Charles' only impressive punch of the fight was a long right that staggered his lanky foe in the first round.

The Cincinnati fighter, who outside the rig shows little wear and tear for a 34-year-old veteran of 104 bouts, appeared to have lost all the finesse that once carried him to the heavyweight title. He no longer seems to have the power that earned him three shots at the crown after he had lost it, nor the skill that puzzled champion Rocky Marciano at times during their two title bouts last year.

In fact, Charles was asked bluntly why he goes on.

"Fighting is my business," he said. "I don't have another job. Besides, how can you turn down money."

He has hopes of getting another crack at the title some day, especially if Archie Moore dethrones Marciano in September.

Lunsford's Gain Tie for Lead in City Class E Play; Mets, Rosebud 9s Win

CLASS D
Rosebud Market 10, Clarkston 5.
Mets 10, Dublin 1.
CLASS E
Lunsford Market 11, Vivian's Bty 3.
CLASS F
East Siders 8, Dick & Wes 2.
Don Nicholie 14, West Side 8.
KNOTHOLE
White Sox 6, Whitfield Cubs 1.
GMC 9, North Side Aces 5.
Tigers 25, Earl's Market 2.
Orioles 23, Athletics 3.

Lunsford's Market pulled into a 3-way tie for 1st place in the Class E City League Wednesday by beating Vivian's bBeauty Shop, 11-3. It was Lunsford's 4th win in 5 games, a record matched by Boys Club and Cass Ponts.

Roger Rogers and Leon Weeks each had 3 hits to pace the Marketeers, and Len Biallas contributed a home run with one aboard in the 6th. Don Gibbs homered for the losers.

In Class D, Mets had an easy time disposing of Dublin Community Center, 10-1, but Rosebud Market had to come from behind to down Clarkston Merchants, 10-5.

Ron Sandage pitched 4-hit ball to stop Dublin, striking out 7 batters. Ray Boyl was the big man with the stick for the Mets, rapping out 3 singles and a double. The Clarkston-Rosebud game was a see-saw affair, which Rosebud tied at 5-5 in the 4th inning. In the 5th, 3 walks and 2 errors gave the victors 3 runs and the game. Chuck Graves homered in defeat for Clarkston.

Ron Bunch limited Dick & Wes to 2 hits as the East Siders took a Class F victory, 8-2. Stan Jertal had 3 straight hits for the winners. Also in "F," Don Nicholie overcame a 7-run 4th inning by the West Siders to take a 14-8 triumph.

The Nicholie nine scored 10 runs in the 5th. Earl Hewitt led the way with 3 hits.

In Knothole action, White Sox tripped Whitfield Cubs, 6-1, behind hit pitching by Gary Greene and Glen Roberts. Dave Moczarski belted home runs in both the 1st and 2nd innings, but North Side Aces couldn't hold the lead as GMC came up with 7 in the 3rd to win, 9-5.

Tigers blasted Earl's Market, 25-2, with Ron Burnstrum pitching no-hit ball for 5 innings and striking out 12. Don Marsh homered for the Tigers. The Orioles walloped the Athletics, 23-3, as Keith Smith and Larry Brennan hit homers.

Trabert Leads Favorites in Tennis Quarter-Finals

ATLANTA (AP)—Favorites, led by top-seeded Tony Trabert of Cincinnati, met today in the quarter-finals of the National Clay Courts tennis tournament.

Of the seeded players, only Bill Quillian of Seattle, rated No. 7, has fallen out of line. He was topped in a marathon match Wednesday with second-seeded Johann Kupferberger of South Africa 6-2, 8-10, 8-6.

Trabert had a rough time of it for a spell against 18-year-old Mike Green of Miami. He trimmed Green 6-0 in the first set, but the youngster broke his service and took the second set 8-6. Tony, who won his Wimbledon crown without dropping a set, topped Green 6-3 for the third set and the match.

* * *

Ham Richardson, seeded No. 2, found himself up against a toughie and appeared to tire after breezing 6-2 in the first set against Tim Coss of Washington, D.C. He dropped the second set 5-7 but took command again to score an impressive 6-1 final set.

Defending champion Bernard Bartzen of San Angelo, Tex., seeded No. 4, took Atlanta's 15-year-old Ned Neely in straight sets 6-3, 6-0 to gain the quarter-finals.

Eddie Moylan of Trenton, N.J., Gerald Moss of Modesto, Calif., and Jack Frost of Monterey, Calif., all seeded players, completed the quarter-finals lineup.

Lone Star State Lucrative Spot for Golf Pros

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)—Texas will become the happy hunting ground of the golf professionals next year. It will have three tournaments offering a combined $75,000 in prize money.

The ancient Texas Open, which revolutionized the golf tournament in 1922 when it offered $5,000 and set the pattern for the present day big money events, has raised its purse from $12,500 to $20,000 for next year.

M. P. Wilson, tournament director, said it was to insure the presence of the game's top touring professionals. The Texas Open makes a profit each year and has a good sized reserve fund at this time.

The highest paying tournament in Texas is the Houston Open, which offers $30,000. Colonial National Invitation at Fort Worth forks over $25,000.

The Texas and Houston Opens are held in February, the Colonial tournament in May.

Pirates Hit Century Mark Both Directions

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Pittsburgh Pirates have won more than 100 games in a season twice in their National League history, rolling up 103 victories in 1902 and 110 in 1909. On the other side of the ledger they have lost more than 100 games a year five times—the last three in succession.

Gregory, Sam Kocsis Still in Public Links

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—Two Michigan golfers remained in the running today as the fifth round began in the National publinx golf tournament.

They were Jack Gregory of Detroit, who had to go 21 holes to whip Billy Joe Lauer of Spokane in the fourth round, and Sam Kocsis of Detroit, another overtime winner. He beat Robert Kay of Toledo 1 up in 19 holes.

Tougher Boxing Code Presented

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP)—Pennsylvania hoped today to salvage its vanishing boxing prestige with a new, tougher boxing code aimed at giving the State Athletic Commission control over outside promoters operating in the state.

Goaded by a series of controversial fights climaxed by Harold Johnson's mysterious collapse in a bout May 6 with Julio Mederos, the commission yesterday culminated weeks of investigation with the presentation of the new code.

Now it hopes for quick legislative approval and, eventually, nationwide adoption of the Pennsylvania model.

Outstanding features of the proposed code are a five per cent gross receipts tax on all admissions to closed television bouts seen in the state, as well as on money paid to promoters for television, radio and motion picture rights to fights, and a requirement that an out of state applicant for a co-promoter's license must furnish whatever information the commission requests.

Summer Tan Is Shelved for Rest of Racing Season

NEW YORK (AP)—Summer Tan, leading money winning 2-year-old in 1954, is through with racing for this year.

The colt, who won five of 11 starts and $266,821 last year and then survived a critical illness, was shipped yesterday to the Meadow Farm of John Ward at Versailles, Ky. Ward is a brother of Summer Tan's trainer, Sherrill Ward.

Summer Tan, owned by Mrs. John W. Galbreath, was edged by Nashua in the Wood Memorial and finished third back of Swaps and Nashua in the Kentucky Derby. He came out of the Derby with a bad ankle and has not raced since.

Baseball Resumes With Tribe and White Sox on Spot

The major league pennant races get back to action tonight with two big questions to be answered: Can Cleveland and Chicago survive the one-two invasion punch of New York and Boston in the American? And, just how secure is Brooklyn's 11½-game lead in the National?

New York's Yankees top the AL by five games as the All-Star game break comes to an end, while only one game separates each of the other first division teams—Cleveland, Chicago and Boston. That means the runner-up Indians, who had a half-game lead on the Yanks at this point in '54, and the third place White Sox have to worry about kicking off the Red Sox as well as catching the New Yorkers.

Manager Al Lopez, naming Bob Lemon (12-6) to face Tommy Byrne (7-2) and the Yanks tonight, claims his pitching staff is back in shape. It better be. After facing the Yanks for two, the Tribe must then take on the bustlin' Bostons, who have lost only six of their last 34, for three games Saturday and Sunday.

The Yanks will have a three-game "breather" against fifth place Detroit over the weekend, then start the one-two punch all over again at Chicago. They play the White Sox Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday with the Red Sox barging into Comiskey Park Friday, Saturday and Sunday in a four-game series.

The National presents a different picture. It hardly seems possible, but the Brooklyns, a league and a half ahead of the pack, are hurtin' the only thing that's kept them away out front is, oddly enough, the even-Stephen make-up of the circuit.

There's no panic yet, but a team that loses 10 of its last 19 games can't be sleeping too well—even with that 11½-game bulge.

Roy Campanella insists He's ready to go back to work behind the plate tonight when the Dodgers take on the St. Louis Cardinals at Ebbets Field, but Manager Walt Alston indicates he has other plans.

That disturbing 9-10 record followed Campy's knee injury, and Alston doesn't want to start his big guy before the leg is healed completely. Better to lose some while you can afford it than use Campanella too soon and perhaps have him lost later when things may really be bad.

What has kept Brooklyn riding high so far is that early season 10-game winning streak followed quickly with a 11-game all-winning burst.

Second place Milwaukee looks to be in the best position, perking up for recent seven and six-game streaks.

Third place Chicago has won no more than four games straight this season. New York won six in a row—once. So did Cincinnati and Pittsburgh. The Cards won five straight at one point, Philadelphia picked up seven in a row but it didn't do the Phils much good—they had just lost 17 of 19.

Betters World Mark

Nashua Gives Arcaro Swift 5-Furlong Run

CHICAGO (AP)—Nashua gave Eddie Arcaro the fastest five fulong ride of his life in a workout at Arlington Park yesterday but failed to scare any rival out of Saturday's $155,000 classic.

The Belair Stud's champion, seeking his fifth $100,000 payoff victory of the year, was timed in :56 3-5 handily, the swiftest trial at five furlongs ever recorded at Arlington Park. It bettered the world mark of :57 for the five-eighths of a mile route set in 1951 by Encantadora.

Arcaro then pulled up Nashua sharply, but the big son of Nasrullah galloped out three-quarters of a mile in 1:09 4-5, only a second off Hill Gail's track record.

"I had no idea he was going that fast," said the veteran jockey. "But when I left New York, Mr. Fitz (trainer Sunny Jim Fitzsimmons) said to let the horse roll, and I did. This horse is improving with every workout and every race.

"He's much better now than he was in the Kentucky Derby (when he lost to Swaps)."

Despite Nashua's showing at least six others are expected to oppose him Saturday.

One other colt yesterday was added to the probable field—William A. Peavy's Jett Flame, easy winner of a six-furlong sprint last week.

Other probable starters are Brookfield Farms' Impromptu, Mrs. Jan Burke's Dedicate, C. F. Morris' Munchausen, E. Gay Drake's Dogoon and Clifford Mooers' Traffic Judge. Calumet's Trentonian and Hasty House Farm's Summer Solstice are on the doubtful list.

Dedicate breezed a mile in 1:41 2-5 yesterday and Munchausen dashed the half mile in :46 3-5.

Athletics Eye 1st Division

KANSAS CITY, Kan. (AP) — The Kansas City Athletics, consigned by the experts in almost all preseason polls to the American League cellar again, are talking among themselves about a first division berth.

Manager Lou Boudreau left that surprise cat out of the bag at a private dinner party given the ball club last night.

The A's, who finished 60 games out of first place last year, now have a firm hold on sixth place, 18 games behind the league leading New York Yankees and 5½ back of fifth place Detroit.

For Kansas City fans, getting their first taste of major league baseball, that in itself is highly satisfactory. Most of them would have been willing to settle for seventh place.

But Boudreau, once the boy wonder in big league managerial circles and up until now conservative in discussing the erstwhile Philadelphia failures, is hitting a new note.

Introduced at the banquet given by meat packer Art Mauer as a possible selection for "Manager of the Year," Lou bowed gracefully past that suggestion.

"No one man, or even six or eight men can make a ball team if they (the players) don't want to play," he said. "I just hope the ball bounces right and I can guess right whenever I have to call for somebody from the bullpen."

Boudreau suggested the fans look at the schedule from here on out. It shows 52 ball games for the A's against New York, Cleveland, Chicago and Boston—the current first division family.

"If we can play .500 ball against those four ball clubs—we are going to have to improve and we are going to have to win those one run games—you'll see this club close to fourth place," he declared.

The club opens a 13-game home stand tonight taking on Baltimore, Washington, Boston and New York in that order.

Boudreau's big "If" will get its test soon.

Last Inning Rally Gives Motors Edge on Jets 4-3

General Motors rallied for two runs in the last half of the 7th inning to nip the L. C. Anderson Jets, 4-3, in Class A City Baseball League action Wednesday night at Wisner Field. It was the Coachers' 10th win in 11 games and strengthened their grip on 1st place.

Both teams blew leads last night. GMC had a 1-0 advantage entering the 6th, but saw it fade into a two-run deficit when the Jets scored three runs. The Coach club came roaring back in its final turn at bat and the Jets saw their hopes for victory go by the boards.

In the 7th, Al Barkley led off with a single and was forced at 2nd by Ernie Zubalik. Zubalik advanced to 2nd on a passed ball and Wes Roberts walked. Dick Goldsworthy running for him. Both runners moved up a base as Bob Swindell was thrown out at 1st. Jack Farms rifled a single to left, scoring Zubalik and Goldsworthy with the tying and winning runs.

Singles by Fletcher Davis and Eugene Cox, a pair of GMC errors and a wild pitch accounted for Anderson's three-run 6th. Singles by Terry Thomas and Barkeley tallied the Coachers 1st run in the 4th and a walk to Farms and Thomas' triple scored another in the 6th, reducing the Jets lead to one run.

Russ Lothery pitched the distance for the Jets and struck out seven batters. Jim Wagner started for GMC and hurled six innings before Herman Bishop relieved him. Bishop was the winning pitcher.

Council Talks TV and Pensions

Major - Minor Group Ends Two-Day Session in Chicago

CHICAGO (AP)—The major-minor league executive council was to conclude a two-day closed meeting today with discussions of various administrative problems.

Television-radio effects on minor league attendance and the player's pension plan were believed to be subjects reviewed although the agenda was not disclosed.

Charles Segar, secretary-treasurer under Commissioner Ford Frick, said no public announcement will be made of the talks and that no other meeting is scheduled in Chicago Aug. 1.

Frick presumably included a report on his survey aimed at improving the game in the discussions.

The council is made up of men who direct professional baseball including, in addition to Frick and club owner representatives, Will Harridge and Warren Giles, American and National League presidents, and George M. Trautman, president of the National Assn. of Professional Baseball Leagues.

Rocco Calvo, a member of Cornell's 1952 football team, will be starting his 1st season as a grid coach at Moravian College, Bethlehem, Pa., this fall.

Knight Stick on Top

DETROIT (AP) — Knight Stick, owned by Mrs. Al Eastin of Wayne, Mich., won the 1st of the Michigan Colt Stakes for 3-year-old pacers at Northville Downs last night.

Knight Stick, driven by Leon Boring, finished 1¾ lengths ahead of Marna Creed. Direct Eddie was 3rd.

Leading Trotters Run in Roosevelt Feature

WESTBURY, N.Y. (AP)—A dozen of the nation's leading free-for-all trotting stars will battle it out tonight in the $35,000 Roosevelt Trot at Roosevelt Raceway.

The field for the mile and one half event includes Newport Dream last year's Hambletonian winner, and Katie Key and Pronto Don, both two-time winners of the country's richest race for older trotters.

Katie Key and her stablemate, Gene Mac, are the early 5-2 favorites. Owned by Pat Tuccio of Riverhead, N.Y., Katie won the Roosevelt last year and in 1953.

Industrialist Eyes Purchase of Frisco Seals

Rogers Hornsby Would Be Co-Owner, General Manager of Coast 9

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Oscar Salenger, Los Angeles industrialist, will be here this weekend to talk terms on buying the San Francisco Seals, limping at the gate and in the Pacific Coast League cellar.

If a deal is made, Salenger told the Chronicle, Rogers Hornsby would be a co-owner and general manager. Salenger said he talked with Hornsby in Chicago.

"Hornsby thinks he can take over this club and make real money," said Salenger, former owner of the Sacramento Solons, now tied with the Seals in eighth place.

"It's a wonderful franchise but it needs some solid backing. In this case, I would put up most of the money and be the silent partner, and Hornsby would be the co-owner and general manager."

MSU Planning 18-Hole Course

144-Acre Golf Links to Be Completed by Next Summer

LANSING (AP)—Detailed plans for the new 18 hole golf course to be constructed at Michigan State University were outlined today by the course architect, Bruce Matthews of Grand Rapids.

Matthews, a 1923 MSU graduate in landscape architecture, is manager of the Green Ridge Country Club at Grand Rapids. He designed the Williams aCollege and the Manistee Country Club course course among others.

The MSU course will be laid out over 144 acres near the corner of Harrison and Mt. Hope Rds., within walking distance of the campus.

Matthews said it was hoped the course would be completed by next summer.

YARDS

"We'll have to hustle to make it, but that's our goal," he said.

He said the course will be of championship length and is plan to measure 6,750 yards from the back tees.

"It will be a very interesting course," he promised.

Water hazards will be provided on at least three of the holes. Par will be 71.

MSU Athletic Director Clarence (Biggie) Munn said the Munn said the course will be "first and foremost for the benefit of the students." He said arrangements also will be worked out so faculty members and alumni also can use the course.

A club house still is in the planning stage. The cost of construction for the course and club house will come from athletic funds, primarily from football receipts.

At present, MSU is the only big ten school without its own golf course.

Kazoo, Hamtramck Pair Wins Junior, Boy Titles

KALAMAZOO (AP) — Les Dodson of Kalamazoo and Gerald Dubie of Hamtramck are the junior and boy champions, respectively, of the Michigan Junior Chamber of Commerce tennis tournament.

Dodson beat out Jon Erickson of Kalamazoo in straight sets in the juniors finals yesterday, 6-3, 6-2, 6-4.

In the boys' division, Dubie, the state Class A high school champion, defeated Ray Senkowski of Hamtramck, 6-0, 6-1.

Publinx Champ Still Winning at Indianapolis

Andrews Bests Bradley, O'Brien, Now Opposes Missouri Golfer

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Walter Robyn, a Maplewood, Mo., insect exterminator, today had the sixth chance to stop Gene Andrews' toward a second straight USGA Public Links golf championship.

Andrews, insurance agent from Pacific Palisades, Calif., was one over par for 30 holes yesterday in eliminating Foster Bradley of Los Angeles, 1954 USGA junior champion, 5 and 3, and Bill O'Brien of Seattle, 5 and 4.

Two members of Miami's Harding Cup championship team were among the 16 survivors in the Publinx tourney, which started last month with 2,007 entries at 39 sectional eliminations.

Marshall Carlson, Miami accountant and former University of Toledo basketball star, and plasterer Ralph Allen of Miami Springs, came through the third and fourth rounds Wednesday against strong opposition.

Carlson shot 2-under-par to beat Don Essig of Indianapolis, a 16-year-old links prodigy, 3 and 2, and was only one over in a match with Lester Kelly of Atlanta, Ga., that went the full 18 holes. Today he met William C. Scarbrough, Jacksonville, Fla., Navy chief and 1954 semifinalist.

Allen had to go two extra holes to beat Harry T. Matthews of Atlanta after both shot 74s for the regulation distance on par 70 Coffin Municipal Course. The Floridian then eliminated Dayton Olson of Minneapolis in the afternoon, 3 and 2.

The men had sent home most of the boys by the end of the fourth round. But Charles W. Thurn, 19, of South Bend, Ind., a Notre Dame sophomore, and John Fry, 21, of Oakland, Calif., University of San Francisco junior, were still in business.

Thurn won 10 straight holes with par golf in a fourth round victory over Robert W. Lichtenwalter of Erie, Pa., by the widest possible margin, 10 and 8. Fry defeated Norando Nannina of Highwood, Ill., 2 and 1.

Women Pros Chasing Suggs

Smith, Crocker, Faulk Top Threats in LPGA Test at Ft. Wayne

FORT WAYNE, Ind. (AP)—Some of the nation's top women golfers started out today to challenge the money-winning lead of Louise Suggs, Sea Island, Ga., in the Ladies Professional Golf Assn. National tournament.

Back to try to repeat last year's win here is Marilynn Smith, Wichita, Kan., as well as Fay Crocker, winner of the recent National Open Tourney in Wichita, and Mary Lena Faulk, Thomasville, Ga., who tied for runner-up in the Open.

Miss Suggs leads the LPGA's "dollar derby" with winnings of $10,458.

Medal play opened today and will continue over 54 holes through Saturday before the top two are paired for a 36-hole title match.

Homer Mark Challenged

Top threats to Babe Ruth's 60-homer record in a season were by Hack Wilson with 56 in 1930, Jimmy Foxx with 58 in 1932, and Hank Greenburg, also with 58, in the season of 1938.

TRACTOR CADDIE — Henry Cotton finds it easy to follow through with this electrical golf bag carrier which will even pull him along. The engine is operated by a twist-grip control in the handle. The famous British professional designed the power unit.

Orioles Yield 'Hoot' in Return for Bill Wight

Greenberg Hopes Ferris Will Provide Pennant Spark for Tribe

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland Indians hoped today to bolster their team with two former Detroit Tigers—Hoot Evers and Ferris Fain.

Evers, Baltimore outfielder, went to Cleveland on waivers in exchange for southpaw relief pitcher Bill Wight whom the Orioles claimed off the waiver list.

Fain, fiery 1st baseman fired by Detroit last week after a series of run-ins with teammates, is being signed as a free agent. Fain may be wearing an Indians' uniform when the Tribe goes against the league-leading New York Yankees tonight.

"We think that acquiring Ferris Fain will help us win another pennant," said Cleveland's general manager Hank Greenberg. "He is a fiery competitor and he should certainly help improve our club."

Fain was batting .264 when the Tigers released him. He hadn't been able to perform regularly because of a knee injury. He has a lifetime batting average of .291 and led American League batting in 1951 and 1952.

Cleveland manager Al Lopez said he was "tickled to have Fain on the team."

Evers, who was among the American League's top hitters early in the season, was batting .354 on May 13. However, he went into a slump and has played only occasionally the last month and a half.

He was picked up as a free agent in the spring after playing with the New York Giants, and Boston and Detroit in the American League last season.

His Oriole record in 60 games and 185 times at bat was 44 hits, including six homers, a triple, 10 doubles and 30 runs batted in, for an average of .238.

Records Fall, Scott Frost Still Favored

California Trotter Remains Choice for Rich Hambletonian

NEW YORK (AP)—Two track records, one over the half-mile oval at Roosevelt Raceway and the other over Vernon Downs (N.Y.) 6-furlong strip, failed to dislodge Scott Frost as the favorite for the $100,000 Hambletonian at Goshen, N.Y., Aug. 3

Scott Frost, owned by Sol. A. Camp of Shafter, Calif., and driven by Joe O'Brien, established one of the marks himself as he won the $15,000 Old Country Trot at Roosevelt in 2:03 4-5. The time was one-fifth of a second faster than the track standard for 3-year-old trotters.

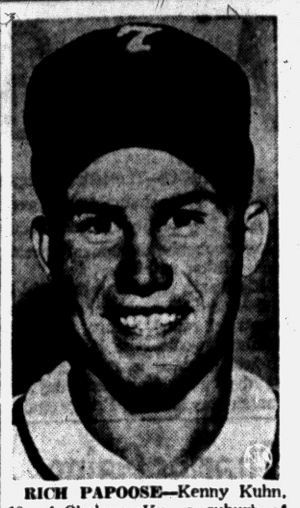
Childs Hanover, representing K. D. Owen of Houston, Tex., and reined by Frank Ervin, went even faster at Vernon Downs. He stepped a mile in 2:01 for his second track record in a week. Last week he beat Scott Frost in one heat of the Dickerson Cup over Goshen's half-mile track in 2:04 3-5. The 2:01 was the fastest time turned in this year by a 3-year-old trotter.



RICH PAPOOSE—Kenny Kuhn, 18, of Okalona, Ky., a suburb of Louisville, has been signed by the Cleveland Indians for a reported $40,000. The youngster, a classy-fielding, hard-hitting shortstop, graduated from high school in June. He will join the club at once.

Stefanis Set Pace for Ranger Victory

Mack and Jack Stefani, father and son polo combination, set the pace for the Ivory Rangers in their winning match with Detroit Rockets, Wednesday night at Ivory Field.

Each counted three goals in the 8-6 victory. Two goals in the final period clinched the win.

Pontiac Chiefs defeated Rochester 11-7 in the opening match.

Reynolds Fires No-Hit Victory

Riteway Hurler Also Keeps Foes Out of Scoring Column

Once upon a time no-hit games were considered unusual, but the way city league softball pitchers are hurling these days, it's becoming downright common.

Riteway's Roger Reynolds twirled a nine-inning no-hit, no-run game at Beaudette Park Wednesday night to edge Ashland Flying Octane, 1-0, in the feature game on last night's card. It was the 2nd no-hitter in the men's softball leagues in as many nights.

Reynolds had tough competition, since John Geiger was also mowing them down for Ashland. Geiger allowed only four hits, but a base on balls and a costly error gave Riteway the winning run in the 2nd overtime stanza. It was Reynold's 2nd no-hitter.

Gil Luebke hurled a three-hit shutout as North Side Service upended National league-leading Loule's Tavern, also by a 1-0 count, in the opener at Beaudette.

Franklin Products downed Mike's Used Cars, 7-2, at North Side, behind the four-hit pitching of Cal Bidwell.

General Motors' girls unleashed a 10-hit attack to trample Avondale, 13-5, as Bendig clouted two home runs for the winners.

Gidcumb Pitches Lions' 9 Back Into Township Lead

Chuck Gidcumb, a veteran pitcher in Pontiac-area softball circles, made his 1st start for the Waterford Lions a success Wednesday night by hurling the Lions back into a first-place tie with Dick & Wes in the Waterford Softball League.

The Lions' 2-1 decision over Richardson Dairy was their 11th win in 13 games. For the luckless Dairy nine, it was the 12th loss in 13 games.

Gidcumb fanned 6 without yielding a walk in posting the victory on a 5-hitter. The lone run he gave up came in the 4th on Jack Hagen's single, a force play, passed ball and single by Harold Richardson.

The only other time Richardson's threatened was in the 5th when Jack Nelson led off with a double and was stranded. Lions made the 2 runs they scored in the 2nd inning hold up.

Stan Roosa's single and a walk were followed by a wid pitch, an error, Gidcumb's sacrifice fly and another error. Tom Studet and Al Doud had 2 hits each for the Lions while Wayne Beckley picked up 2 of the 5 safeties off Gidcumb.

Pros Rip Par at Milwaukee

MILWAUKEE (AP)—A field of 132 of the top professionals and amateurs in golf opened fire in the $35,000 Milwaukee Open today over the Blue Mound Country Club par 70 layout which was taken apart in practice rounds yesterday.

Best reported fired in the warm-up were six-under par 64's turned in by Tommy Bolt, Chattanooga, Tenn., and Bill Casper, San Diego, Calif.

Casper tuned up for the 72 holes of medal play by blasting six birdies and an even dozen pars.

Bolt kept his birdie production to himself but had nines of 31-33, against the 35-35 par. Blue Mound is a short run, stretching just over 6,500 yards, but the traps and bunkers are often and well placed.

Sam Snead missed a short putt on the final hole that kept him out of a tie with the dry-run leaders. His 65, on nines of 31-34, was one of four.

Julius Boros, former National Open champion of Mid Pines, N.C., Mike Fetchick, Lake Mahopac, N. Y., and Walker Inman Jr., Augusta, Ga., had the other three.

Jack Fleck, victor over Ben Hogan in a man-to-man playoff for this year's National Open title, toured in 66. He was matched by Ed Furgol, Paul O'Leary, Bismark, N.D., and Eric Monti, Los Angeles.

Bill Spiller, another Los Angeles entrant, was alone at 67. Mike Souchak, Grossinger, N.Y., who paces the season's money winners with close to $20,000, Freddie Haas, Claremont, Calif., Joe Cielsa, Arlington, Tex., and Chandler Harper, Portsmouth, Va., turned in 68's.

Most of the contenders said the course "played easy" yesterday. They predicted things would "toughen up" for the championship rounds.

The first squad in the tournament trail to drive off left the first tee at 8 a.m. In the threesome was Gene Battistoni, Chicago, amateur Sammy Ruskin, Milwaukee and Brien Charter, of Janesville, Wis.

Eight Skaters Pass Proficiency Tests

In the season's final skating tests Tuesday at Rolladium Rink, eight roller skaters were successful.

Richard Hamlin and David Perkins passed the bronze medal dance test and Louis Parker passed the bronze medal free skating requirements.

Other successful skaters included Tom Obie, silver bar free skating; David Hakim, silver medal dance; Mary Alice Clouse and Phyllis Linden, prize bar dance and Lynn Anselmy, singles bar.

Going price for a pair of wolf ears to bounty hunters in Harris County, Texas, is $5 a pair.

Shelley Family Set for Trip to Wilds

With dufflebags all packed and the car ready, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Shelley and son, Mickey, Friday head for the wilds of the Canadian Algoma district, 245 miles north of the Soo. They will be gone for 10 days on a fishing and camping trip which the OCSC official will probably record on colored motion picture film.

Trip will be Mickey's 1st to the "big outdoors."

3 Events on Card at GSA Field Test

There are three events on the Sunday "fun trial" for the Genesee County Sportsmen's Association, at Ortonville Recreation Area. They include a puppy match (entries close at 10 a.m.); derby (entries close at 11) and all-age (entries close at noon). Running starts at 7 a.m.

Aussies, Mexicans Set for Cup Test

CHICAGO (AP) — Australia, an overwhelming favorite, and Mexico have completed their singles pairings for the American Zone Davis Cup tennis matches opening tomorrow at the Saddle and Cycle Club.

Experts predict the Aussies will sweep the two opening singles competition tomorrow when they send aces Ken Rosewall and Rex Hartwig against Mexico's Gustavo Palafox and Esteban Reyes, respectively.

Keen observers believe Australia will wrap up a team victory with the lone doubles match Saturday.

Tigers Shoot for 1st Division Position

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Tigers, hoping to finish in the 1st division for the 1st time since 1950, get a chance to start doing something about it tonight when they meet the Boston Red Sox in a twi-night doubleheader in Briggs Stadium.

At the same time, manager Bucky Harris of the Tigers will get a chance to start straightening out his pitching staff, which just about reached the point of impossibility before the All-Star break.

The Red Sox come into Detroit with a flaming record of nine victories in their last 10 games, plus 28 out of their last 34. In that time, they drove from 9½ games behind the Tigers to 5½ ahead of them.

While the Red Sox surged forward, the Tigers sagged. They have dropped nine of their last 12 —a span in which Harris has used 40 pitchers.

Harris has named two rookie righthanders—Frank Lary (7-10) and Duke Maas (5-5) — to face Boston tonight. They will be opposed by George Susce, Jr. (3-3) and Ike Delock (6-4).

Originally, Harris said Billy Hoeft, his All-Star lefty, would pitch against Boston in one of tonight's games, but the Detroit manager changed his mind, preferring to save Hoeft for the New York Yankees, who visit Detroit for a doubleheader Saturday.

The Tigers will be seeking a bit of revenge against the Red Sox. On their last eastern trip, Tigers were jolted three straight times in Boston's Fenway Park.

In an exhibition game last night, Tigers bowed 5-4 to the Redlegs at Cincinnati. Chuck Harmon drove home two runs with a triple for Cincinnati in the 8th after the Tigers had pulled into a 3-3 tie.

Harvey Kuenn and Al Kaline, who played in the All-Star fame Tuesday, skipped the Cincinnati trip. Joe Coleman, Paul Foytack and Leo Cristante handled the pitching with Cristante drawing the loss.

The exhibition marked the 1st appearance of bonus rookie Jim Small for the Tigers. The young outfielder took over from Bill Tuttle in centerfield and collected a single in two times at bat.

Howell Extends Hardtop Streak

There seems to be no stopping Benny Howell and his hardtop these days.

The Pontiac driver bagged his 4th straight feature event win Wednesday at the Pontiac Speedway by coaxing his swift little Ford around the 25 laps in 8 minutes, 25.12 seconds to beat Chuck Partello by about three-quarters of a lap.

Howell's string of wins has stamped him as the pre-race favorite in Saturday's 75-lap track championship test at the M59 oval. Benny also won the pursuit last night, while Partello took the semi-windup and Rusty Kelly won the dash.

Heat winners included Partello Jim Estes, Dorris Sanders, Ted Cody and Glen MacAbee.

Saturday's title race program at the Pontiac Speedway starts at 8:30 p.m. with qualifying at 7 o'clock.

Church League Resumes

Free Methodist Church Softball League swings back into action tonight at the GMC athletic field. The Bulldogs encounter the Crusaders on the 1st diamond and the Fightin' Farmers meet the Sluggers on the 3rd field. Both games start at 6 p.m.

League-leading Bulldogs, managed by Laverne Riemenschneider, boast a 4-2 record. The Farmers, even at 3-3, are piloted by Bob Myer. Russell Carlisle's Crusaders and the Slugger are knotted with 2-3 marks. Sluggers' manager Darwin Pratt, left for the army Tuesday and his father, Keith Pratt, has taken over the reins.

Three games, including tonight's contests, remain on the schedule for each team, plus one tie game to play off.

5 Birmingham Babe Ruth Players on All-Star 9

Sluggers with batting averages over .500 were among all-stars named this week to represent Birmingham in the Babe Ruth League state tournament opening at Birmingham and Southfield High School fields on July 23.

Sixteen teams will be entered, including Algonac, Berkley, Bessemer, Southfield Twp., Escanaba, Farmington, Grosse Pointe Woods, Huron Valley, Kalamazoo, Lincoln Park, Northwest Detroit, Port Huron and Port Huron Township, and Walled Lake.

Tournament will be run off on a one-game knockout basis on the weekends of July 23 and July 30, with finals on Sunday, July 31. Winner will enter the regional tournament against Ohio, Indiana, Illinois and Wisconsin champions at Terre Haute, Ind., Aug. 1-6. Regional champion will play in the World Series at Austin, Tex., during the following week.

Pete Hurley (.588) and Dick Cloonan (.541) were top hitters of the Birmingham All-Stars. Both are pitchers who also play regularly at other positions. They were closely followed by Phil Russell and Jim Maurer, each with .538. Pat Baldwin completed the top bracket with an even .500.

Other All-Stars elected by vote of all five managers in the league were: Len Willis (.479), Jeff Boucher (.400), Jay Madonna (.440), Bob Squiers (.416), Tom Leupen (.437), Dave Parnie (.350), Ron Cornila (.300), Ed Busch (.385), and Gary Littleson.

Fred Petrucci, manager of Birmingham's All-Stars, will climax practices this week with an exhibition game against Berkley's All-Stars Sunday at 2 p.m. at Birmingham High School Field.

Morning Star Far Ahead in Yachting Test

HONOLULU (AP) — Richard S. Rheem's 98-foot ketch Morning Star raced toward a new crossing record in the 2,225 mile Trans-Pacific yacht race last night. But she would be lucky if it finishes in the top three of the final standings of the 49-year-old racing classic because of handicaps.

The sleek-hulled sailing craft from the Los Angeles Yacht Club was only 40 miles from the Diamond Head finish line at 9 p.m. The rest of the 50-boat fleet was strung out for 1,200 miles behind it.

Final standings will not be determined for several days. The race winner is detemined on a handicap basis.

Drug, Puertas Teams Victors in Waterford

Drayton Drug won its 5th straight game in Waterford Township's Junior Softball League Wednesday by trimming Keego Hardware, 10-7. The Drug team is in 1st place.

Meanwhile, Puertas Service won its 1st Little League decision by downing Waterford Village, 8-1, as Gordon Rice struck out 9 and contributed a home run and 2 singles at the plate.

Sam Snead's Golf School

Experts differ as to just how the downswing should begin—whether it starts with a hip turn which "leads" the shoulders and arms, or with a shoulder-and-arm action which the hips follow.

This confusion is understandable, since there are no separate movements at any stage of a smooth-flowing swing.

The correct swing is one continuous motion with all parts working together simultaneously. The only essential difference between good players, I think, is in their mental picture of the swing—not their actual making of it.

Thus one expert is conscious of a hip turn at the start of his downswing, while another is thinking about a left arm pull. But both are actually doing the same thing at the same time.

At any rate, you'll note in today's drawing that the player already has his hips turned back square to the ball (or parallel with the line of flight, if you prefer), while his shoulders still have quite a bit of unwind left in them.

This certainly indicates that the hip rotation proceeds faster than the shoulder rotation, even if it doesn't precede it.

Note also that the wrists are still fully cocked and there is an impression of a straight left arm pulling the end of the shaft down —toward the ground—at this point.

Kaycee Park Proving Homer Hitters' Paradise

NEW YORK (AP)—American League batters, streaking toward a possible home run record, are finding Kansas City's Municipal Stadium the easiest park in which to connect for the circuit.

A total of 107 homers have been hit in baseball's newest major league park, figures compiled by The Associated Press showed today. The Kansas City stadium has replaced Boston's Fenway Park as the American League "bandbox." The Red Sox' park in which 139 four-baggers were hit in 1954, has been the scene of 102 this year.

Cincinnati's Crosley Field remains the hitters' paradise in the National League with 125 homers. Brooklyn Dodger fans have seen 106 walloped at Ebbets Field while Busch Stadium (St.Louis) has had 100 and the Polo Grounds (New York) 99.

The Athletics, making a surprising showing in the pennant race, have hit 43 at their home ball yard with the opposition getting 64. Cleveland has had 12 homers in Kansas City, Detroit and Chicago 11 each, Boston and Washington 10 apiece, the Yankees 6 and Baltimore 4.

The Redlegs have walloped 64 in Crosley Field compared with 61 for their opponents with Ted Kluszewski, the majors' home run leader, getting 16 of his 29 round trippers at home.

A total of 199 homers was accounted for at Cincinnati last season, topping the 193 total for Ebbets Field and the 187 for the Polo Grounds.

The major league home run figure is up to 1,269 with 717 in the National League and 552 in the American. At that clip, the existing records for both circuits — 1,197 for the NL and 973 for AL — will go by the boards.

The loud long-distance cannonading around the league amounts to merely sporadic popgun fire in Baltimore's Memorial Stadium where only 24 home runs have been hit. The powerless eighth-place Orioles have hit only eight. The seven visiting clubs have combined for 16, which shows there is little favoritism and no one club has the secret.

Pittsburgh, last in the National League, is also last in the homer production at hometown Forbes Field. Only 55 have gone into or over the seats in the steel city.

The A's gained little or no ground on their transfer from Philadelphia but will probably see an improvement in the 129 home runs hit in Connie Mack Stadium at Philadelphia during 1954 — whether or not they are responsible.

Nelson Is Tied for French Lead

'Lord Byron' Linked With British Pair at 10-Under-Par

PARIS (AP)—Byron Nelson, former U.S. Open champion, headed into the final 36 holes of the French Open Golf championship today tied for first place with two veteran British Pros.

The Roanoke, Tex., stylist shot a 10-under-par 134 over the 6,660-yard La Boulie course yesterday to tie for the lead with Harry Weetman and Harry Bradshaw.

Nelson and Bradshaw had cards of 69-65 while Weetman turned in a 68-66.

Defending champion Flory Van Donck of Belgium was three strokes back.

The 1928 Boston Braves lost five straight doubleheaders.

Vacation Objective

Writer Lists Hazards to Returning Refreshed

By MORT NEFF

One of the prime objectives of a satisfactory vacation is to return refreshed in mind and body—yet far too often it just doesn't work out that way!

NEFF

The hazards of vacationing involve a lot of worry about the youngsters who can always find trouble even when it seems far out of reach. A good deal of farsighted thinking is necessary to plan various moves during a vacation—and maybe a few tips here will help bring YOU back mentally and physically better off.

You don't have to be warned that vacationing drivers are a hazard to themselves. Thousands of them will be traveling the same roads you travel—and a lot of them will be sight-seeing, paying not too much attention to their driving.

The automobile can be a lethal piece of machinery. Treat it properly and it can be an indispensable aid to a good vacation. Misuse can end up in pure tragedy for you and your family.

Vacationing calls for eating at scores of drive-ins, road-side restaurants and resort establishments. Unfortunately the combination of summertime temperatures and not-too-rigid precautions by the management can result in many a tummy ache for the customers. It's best to stick to simple foods.

Poison ivy, poison oak or poison sumac can spoil any vacation. Teach the youngsters (and yourself) how to identify these plants.

Takes Grand Aggregate in Smallbore Test at OCSC Range

Paced by Roberta Gubbins, Michigan's new smallbore rifle champion, Oakland County riflemen collected their share of medals and trophies in the 46th annual Michigan Smallbore Championship matches at the Oakland County Sportsmen's Club.

Other area shooters helping the 1955 champion to keep awards in the OCSC clubhouse were John Treeful K. Danielson, Jane Martini, Don Rose, Cora Garbutt, Bert Beam and Carolyn Henry. A total of 66 shooters, including a team from Canada, registered for the two-day event held last week-end.

Grand aggregate—Roberta Gubbins, 3186-198x; Iron sight aggregate—Charles Casper, 1582-107x; State junior championship—Ron Insley, 1566; Any sight aggregate—Roberta Gubbins, 1594-96x; Four-man team championship—OCSC, 1582-85x; 50-meter iron sight event—Charles Casper, 398; 50-yard iron sight match—Richard Roberts, 400-29; International free rifle match—Gerald Quellette, 292x300.

50-meter any sight—Alex Smith, 399-25; 50-yeard any sight—Roberta Gubbins, 400-30; Dewar iron sight—Roberta Gubbins, 398-24; 100-yard iron sight—Gerald Quellette, 400-22; Sporting rifle match—Gerald Quellette, 199; Dewar any sight—Roberta Gubbins, 398-20; 100-yard any sight—Charles Casper, 399-23.

Ousted Carver Superintendent Sues to Get Job Back

Buffington Says Board Fired Him Without His Questioning Witnesses

ROYAL OAK TOWNSHIP — Ousted Carver School Superintendent Walter Buffington has filed suit against the Royal Oak Township Board of Education to get his job back.

A hearing has been set for Aug. 8.

In his suit, filed Tuesday afternoon in Oakland County Circuit Court, Buffington charges that he was denied the right to cross-examine or question the 14 witnesses who testified against him at a private hearing June 21 on a morals charge.

Buffington further charges that his contract was negotiated in April of this year and has three years to run.

Robert J. Colombo, Buffington's lawyer, has requested an investigation of all records in the case.

Buffington was issued a three-year contract at a salary of $8,980 per year at an April meeting of the Carver School Board.

Board members Chester Carter and Loretta Baker were ousted from the board in a recall election held May 12. The new board declared the April 11 meeting null and void because armed guards kept the public from attending.

CLARKSTON—Married Saturday in a double ring, evening ceremony performed at All Saints Episcopal Church were Marilyn Wright and Richard J. Abraham.

Mr. and Mrs. Owen Wright of Clarkston are the bride's parents, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Abraham of Dearborn.

The bride approached the altar in a floor length gown of Chantilly lace and tulle over satin. A heart shaped headpiece of matching lace with embroidered seed pearls secured her fingertip length veil of silk illusion. She carried a tinted orchid mounted on a prayer book.

Matron of honor was Mrs. William Morris, the bride's sister, and bridesmaids were Lorraine Weine of Berrien Springs, and Delores Abraham of Dearborn, the bridegroom's sister.

Raymond Abraham, the bridegroom's brother, performed the duties of best man and ushers were Edward Abraham of Adrian and Vern Roberts of Dearborn.

A reception at Bemis-Olson Amvet Hall followed the ceremony.

Imlay City Couple Wed in Lapeer Church Ceremony

IMLAY CITY—Mary E. Warner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Warner of Imlay City and Lyal H. Watkins, also of Imlay City, were married Monday night in Grace Episcopal Church, Lapeer.

They were attended by Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Warner, Lapeer.

A buffet lunch was served for the immediate families at the Ronald Warner home.

Mr. and Mrs. Watkinns will live at 1775 Fairground Rd., here.

Keego Moving to New Offices

Young City to Operate From Second Floor of Community School

KEEGO HARBOR — Officials of this city will move into their new offices this week, on the renovated, redecorated second floor of the Community School building on Orchard Lake road.

Edward Hermoyian, city clerk, said today he hopes to have a safe, new locks on the doors, files and office furniture installed, and business going in full force by Saturday.

There are two rooms to be used by the city. One will house the clerk-treasurer office along with the chief of police and the building inspector. The other room will be used for the justice court and council chambers.

The city will assume the cost of heat, lights and maintenance of the building for the year. They also will relieve the West Bloomfield Board of Education of any liabilities that may arise during the tenancy of the city, officials said.

The basement of the building houses a branch of the West Bloomfield Township Library and storage rooms for the school properties.

Hermoyian also announced that streets of Keego Harbor will receive the second grading and chloride application this week.

Russian Farm Group to Be at MSU Aug. 15

EAST LANSING (AP)—The Russian farm officials who are coming to tour the United States will visit Michigan State University Aug. 15, MSU officials said today.

The group of 13 farm officials led by the Rusisan Minister of Agriculture will be at Michigan State for the opening day of the Farm Mechanization Exhibit to be held in connection with the MSU Centennial celebration.

The Russians will stay over night at the Kellogg Center. The stop at MSU will be one of the last in their tour of the country.

Two Ships Sink in Stormy Seas

Huge Caribbean Waves Blamed for Disasters, 45 Believed Drowned

VERA CRUZ, Mexico (AP) — The crowded coastal passenger boat La Flecha sank last night in the storm-tossed Gulf of Campeche 40 minutes after sailing from Veracruz. Twenty-nine persons were feared lost.

Twenty-six persons were reported missing. Three bodies—of an adult passenger and two children—were recovered and 37 persons were reported rescued.

All those aboard the 145-ton vessel were believed to be Mexicans.

The La Flecha sinking was the second marine disaster of the day in the Caribbean area. Early yesterday a Liberian ore carrier, the Sun Princess, rammed and sank the 6,155-ton Trinidad. Nineteen crewmen of the Geologist were missing and the body of another was recovered.

The La Flecha went down about four miles off Veracruz. She was bound across the gulf for the port of Progreso, on the Yucatan Peninsula. Coast guard vessels and fishing boats searched throughout the night for survivors.

66 ON BOARD

A rescued crewman said the La Flecha was carrying at least 66 persons. Her sailing list showed 32 passengers and a crew of 14 aboard, but many of those rescued were not on the list.

The cause of the sinking was not immediately determined. Heavy storms had swept the gulf area and survivors told of struggling against towering waves before being rescued.

They said the ship went down so rapidly there was little time for launching lifeboats.

Eileen Franklin Bride of John Arthur Themm

MR. AND MRS. JOHN A. THEMM

OXFORD — Eileen Ruth Franklin became the bride of John Arthur Themm recently in an afternoon ceremony performed in the Lakeville Methodist Church.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Franklin of Lakeville and he is the son of Mr. and Mrs. August Themm of Oxford.

The bride wore a floor length gown of Chantilly lace and tulle and her Juliet cap of seed pearls held a fingertip length veil of tulle. She carried a colonial bouquet of white roses and carnations.

Caroline Themm, the bridegroom's sister, was maid of honor and Thomas Curtis of Oxford was best man. Albert Franklin, the bride's brother, and Basil Foisy were ushers.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the church parlors.

Claims Race From Cop Just Borrowing Round

DETROIT (AP)—Clover West, 59, explained to Traffic Court yesterday why he led a policeman on a foot race through apartment houses and back yards and over fences after his car hit another.

"I knew a lot of friends in the buildings and was just trying to borrow money to pay the damages," he said.

West got a 30-day jail sentence for reckless driving.

Red Five-Year Plans Progress

Russian Leaders Boast About 'Success' Gained in Economic Buildup

MOSCOW (AP)—The Central Committee of the Soviet Communist party told the Russian people today they have reached the goals of Russia's fifth five-year plan eight months ahead of schedule.

The plan, covering the 1951-55 period, was fulfilled last May 1, the committee said in a statement published in all Moscow newspapers. As outlined before the last all-Soviet party congress in 1952, the plan called for an immense buildup of Soviet economic strength.

The committee statement accompanied a report by Premier Nikolai Bulganin that the Soviet Union has made great progress in heavy industry development.

The party leaders said the experience of past years reaffirms "the correctness of the general line of our party — the priority development of heavy industry."

Emphasis in the fifth five-year plan, as outlined in its early stages, was on boosting the output of steel, coal and petroleum in line with the heavy industry buildup. Goals called for an increase in steel output of 62 per cent, 43 per cent for coal and 85 per cent for petroleum.

The statement published today said production of consumer goods, machine tools and agricultural equipment particularly had increased. It added, however, that rapid introduction of new techniques was being hampered by conceit and complacency among workers and "weak leadership of ministers."

Finds Rifle Superior to Broom for Bear

LA VETA, COLO. (AP)—A summer resident at Cucharas Camps, southwest of here, found that a broom is a poor substitute for a gun when it comes to dealing with a bear.

Mamie Burns said she stepped from her cabin yesterday and found a young bear just outside the door. She seized a broom to protect herself, but the bear, instead of heading for the woods, charged her.

She dropped the broom and grabbed a .22-caliber rifle. Her first two shots missed but the third — the last left in the weapon — killed the bear.

Airman Sues Colonel

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—An airman second class has filed suit in District Court for $10,000, accusing a lieutenant colonel of slandering him. John F. Crogman claims Lt. Col. Walter Callahan damaged his reputation by calling him lazy in a statement spoken in the presence of another airman, Miles Miller. All are stationed at nearby Tinker Air Force Base.

Lana as Irked as Senator Over Painted Panty Case

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Lana Turner is just as indignant about the case of the painted panties as Sen. Kefauver is.

Recently the Tennessee Democrat was here to investigate the effect of movies on juvenile delinquency. The hearings went far afield and one day the matter of movie ads was brought up.

Several exhibits were offered, including one featuring Lana's frame in "The Prodigal." A movie ad censor testified that he had ordered pants painted in an effort to make the picture seem less racy.

"The picture was much worse afterward than it was before," exclaimed Lana when the matter was brought up. "Those pants looked awful. Such a drab green color. Awful!"

She defended the costume, which appeared to expose her hips to a remarkable degree. Actually she wore flesh colored covering underneath the beads.

"I was well concealed," she remarked. "There was nothing pornographic about it at all. There wasn't even any cleavage. It was mild compared to some movie ads.

"The reason it was criticized was because the pose had never been done before. It was new, so people thought it was immoral."

Kefauver could find nothing to complain about in Lana's costumes for her current epic, "Diane." When viewed, she was covered from neck to toe in a suede riding dress of old France. She was riding a horse—sidesaddle yet—in a foxhunt in the film. She'd like to get out of the costumes and into a smart comedy, but so far her studio has not come up with one for her.

Steel production in the U.S. has now spread into 27 states.

Retired People Bored With Life; All Want Work

DETROIT (UP) — Dr. Ferdinand Mauser, chairman of the department of marketing at Wayne University, said the widely held idea that people look forward to retirement so they can start taking things easy just isn't so.

Mauser, who directed a recent study of persons over 65, said that of the 144 people interviewed 91 had to retire and 51 of those wanted to continue to work but could not because of company or union policy.

Mauser said interviews indicated that persons over 65 have a strong need to retain identification through work, if only on a part time basis.

Nearly half said they were interested in doing community and charity work even though it offered no salary, he said. There were "strong indications" that security extends far beyond financial aspects.

"The chief worry in the over 65 group is isolation — the loss of feeling of belonging," he concluded.

Woman Drunk Pays— for the Liquor, Too

RICHMOND, Ca. (AP)—A woman arrested on a charge of public drunkenness was brought into court several hours later. Asked if she was still drunk she replied:

"Hic — certainly not."

"That's the most damaging testimony I've ever heard," remarked Trial Justice R. Dixon Powers. "Ten dollars and costs."

Begin Deportation of River Swimmer

DETROIT (INS) — Deportation proceedings were started Wednesday against a penniless Yugoslav refugee arrested swimming across the Detroit River, apparently confident that someone in the States would give him a job and a pair of pants.

He is Milan Davidovich, 25, who had been in the water 45 minutes and was within 50 feet of the Belle Isle shore when seized Monday.

Immigration officers said Davidovich would be shipped back to Cannada as soon as the deportation proceedings are completed.

He said he had sneaked across the border from Communist Yugoslavia into Austria three years ago and then entered Canada but couldn't find work in Windsor.

Sour Accounts Growing Daily

Easy Credit Causing Increase in Number of Delinquencies

NEW YORK (AP)—The Wall Street Journal said today that soaring buying on credit is pushing a rising number of delinquent bills into the laps of collection agencies.

A survey by staff reporter Ray Vicker said that collections at tribute the bad debt boom to the widespread easing of credit terms.

The newspaper added that the credit easing has helped to push up the volume of installment credit outstanding by $2,700,000,000 in a year to a total of $24,100,000,000 on May 31.

Although exact records of uncollectable bills are not available, the survey indicated that this year's total is running ahead of last year's by at least 10 per cent.

"We're having the best year in 24 in this business," said Robert Heller, owner of the Heller Collection Bureau of Warren, Ohio, which is processing 1,000 delinquent accounts a month.

"My business is so good it has me worried," commented Fred A. Church of Des Moines, who noted a 100 per cent jump in business over last year.

But some of the biggest lenders in the United States see no cause for alarm.

"In every barrel of apples," said an official of a big national lending concern, "you'll find some bad ones. Relative to the total amount of credit outstanding, delinquents still are small."

Pontiac Deaths

Mrs. Thomas Crowle

Mrs. Thomas (Maria G.) Crowle, 76, of 112 Omar St. died at her home at 3:15 p.m. Wednesday. She had been ill two weeks.

Born in Durham, Eng. Sept. 17, 1878 she was the daughter of Simon and Helen Gilbert Menear. She married Mr. Crowle at Cornwall in June 1904. She came to Pontiac from Calumet 36 years ago, and was a member of Oakland Park Methodist Church.

Besides her husband she is survived by four daughters and a son, Mrs. George Lentz of Saginaw, Mrs. Lowell Stack and Mrs. Robert LeMar of Pontiac, Mrs. Ralph Hacker of Coldwater and Clarence Crowle of Keego Harbor.

Also surviving are a sister, Mrs. Harry Hancock of Cornwall, 12 grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

Funeral will be at 1:30 p.m. Saturday in the Voorhees-Siple Chapel. Dr. Milton H. Bank of Central Methodist Church will officiate and burial will follow in Perry Mount Park Cemetery.

Albert J. Fisher

Funeral for Albert J. Fisher, 91, of Lake Worth, Fla. will be at 2 p.m. Friday at the Sparks-Griffin Chapel. Dr. Milton H. Bank, pastor of Central Methodist Church, will officiate and burial will follow in Oak Hill Cemetery.

Mr. Fisher died last Sunday in Florida.

Harry H. King

Word has been received here of the death Wednesday of Harry H. King, 74, of 45 Grove St. in Mt. Clemens.

Mr. King lived for many years at 104 S. Johnson Ave. moving to Mt. Clemens about 14 years ago.

Surviving is his widow and a daughter, Mrs. Helen Copenhaver of Pontiac.

Funeral will be at 2 p.m. Saturday from the Hubbard Funeral Home in Mt. Clemens.

Charles Stamas

Graveside service was held today in Oak Hill Cemetery for Charles Stamas, infant son of Leo C. and Mary Louise Seese Stamas of 109½ S. Saginaw St. The Rev. Soterios D. Gouvellis of St. George Greek Orthodox Church officiated.

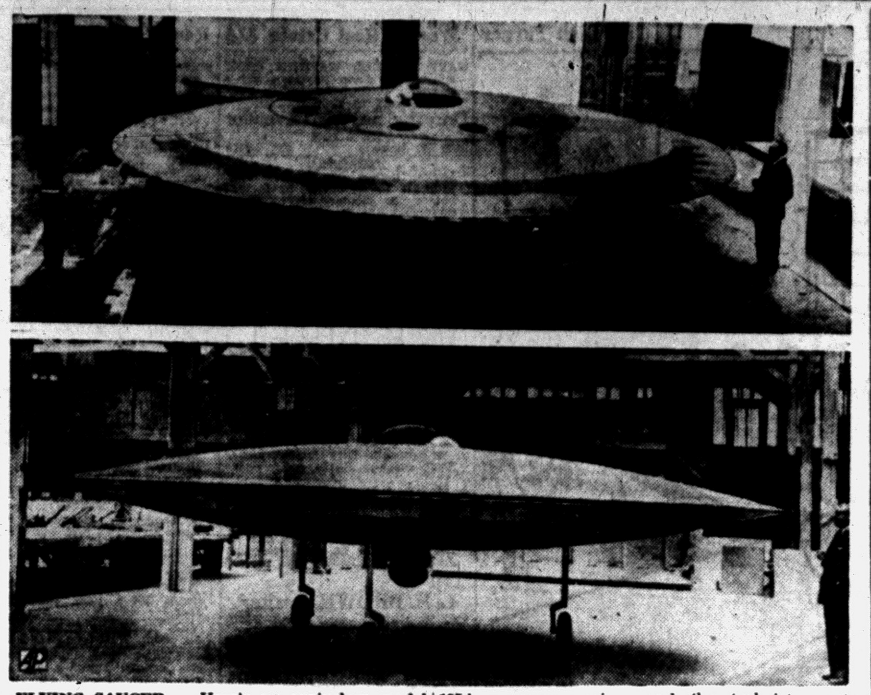
The baby was born Monday and died Wednesday morning in Pontiac General Hospital.

Besides his parents he is survived by two sisters, Patricia and Penny.

Arrangements were by the Voorhees-Siple Funeral Home.

Beekeepers to Meet

IONIA (AP)—Michigan Beekeepers' Assn. will pick a honey queen at its annual meeting Friday. Four men will be presented honorary life memberships as outstanding beekeepers. They are Leonard Griggs of Flint, George Lengst of Tuscola, James E. Harwood of Thompsonville and John Seidelman of Ionia.



FLYING SAUCER — Here's an engineless model of the French aerodyne—latest version of the flying saucer machine. The plane, unveiled in Paris by designer Rene Couzinet, has a diameter of almost 27 feet. Upper and lower circular sections will revolve in opposite directions when powered by three 135-horsepower engines and the turbojet reactor visible on the underside in the lower view. Pilot and passengers will be carried within the transparent cupola at top center. The designer hopes the experimental plane will fly next year.

Grains Show Small Losses

CHICAGO (AP)—Grains eased for mostly fractional losses in routine dealings on the Board of Trade today.

The list started a little lower. Wheat dipped the most, partly on hedging pressure and partly on selling by local traders. It then tried to stage a little recovery, but quickly fell back.

Corn was independently firm. Soybeans started out steady and then dropped. Oats were weak from the start. Harvesting of this crop is proceeding at good pace with fair-sized quantities arriving at terminals.

Wheat near the end of the first hour was ⅛ to ⅜ lower, July $1.99⅝; corn ⅛ to ¼ higher, July $1.41⅜; oats ⅛ to ⅜ lower, July 61¼; rye ⅝ to 1¼ lower, July 98; soybeans ¾ to 1¼ lower, July $2.37½, and yard 5 cents lower to 5 cents a hundred pounds higher, July $11.95.

Ford Announces Plans for New Glass Plant

Plans for the construction of a new glass manufacturing plant to be located at Nashville, Tenn., were announced by S. W. Ostrander, vice president and group executive of Ford Motor Company.

The new facility is a part of Ford's $2,325,000,000 postwar expansion and modernization program, involving the addition of more than 50,000,000 square feet of floor space to Ford facilities in the United States.

Construction of the new plant is scheduled to start later this summer. The plant is expected to be in operation in 1957.

A. R. Wardroy, general manager of the company's Dearborn General Manufacturing Division, will direct operations of the Nashville facility.

Recess Chrysler Talks

DETROIT (AP) — Negotiations between Chrysler Corp. and the CIO United Auto Workers have been recessed until Monday. Both sides announced Wednesday that they have completed presentation of contract proposals. The UAW also held contract talks during the day with American Motors Corp.

Market Beats Quiet Retreat

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market beat a quiet retreat today, a continuation of the fall that brought a few heavy losses yesterday.

There wasn't any urgency about the decline at all. Some prices fell away between 1 and 2 points, but there were a few gains in that area. Most changes were small.

Steels were mostly lower as were motors, chemicals, railroads, oils, airlines and building materials. No single group stood higher, but most had plus signs.

Yesterday's stock market ran into selling after an early try at an advance petered out. The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was off $1.80 at $173.40.

Today's market was lower right at the beginning, but there was a lack of selling pressure.

Lake Channel OK Expected

House Group Chairman Sees Action Next Week on Dredging Work

WASHINGTON (AP) — A House subcommittee will probably act next week on legislation to authorize a 110-million-dollar channel deepening project on the upper Great Lakes.

Disclosing this today, Chairman Blatnik (D-Minn), of the Public Works group said he anticipates a favorable vote by both the subcommittee and later by the full committee. House action this year will be sought, he added.

The subcommittee recently held a two-day hearing on the proposal and no opposition witnesses appeared.

The work is designed to provide a 27-foot channel between the upper Great Lakes. This is the same depth of the St. Lawrence Seaway, scheduled to be completed late in 1958, from Lake Erie to the Atlantic.

Blatnik said he received assurance from Rowland Hughes, director of the Budget Bureau, that the administration's views on the channel deepening work will be sent up soon.

OK PREDICTED

"I expect the report will be favorable," Blatnik said.

Early this year, the Board of Army Engineers unanimously approved the channel work in the upper lakes to provide a 27-foot channel for both down and upbound traffic. The present channels provide 25 foot clearance for downbound ships, 21 for upbound.

Business Notes

Studebaker - Packard officials have announced the opening of a sales and service establishment in the Pontiac area.

RUSS COX

Russ Cox is the owner of the Russ Cox Sales and Service Co., located on 3342 Auburn Ave., Auburn Heights.

The announcement of the new dealer's enterprise was announced recently by the automobile manufacturers.

The appointment of Russell M. Downey to the position of General Manager of Wilson Pontiac-Cadillac, Inc., Birmingham, was announced this week by Edward E. Wilson, president of the dealership.

Prior to his advancement, Downey served as sales manager of the firm the past four years. He has been associated with the automobile business since 1945.

DOWNEY

"The appointment of Mr. Downey on the eve of our first anniversary in our new dealership building, marks a year of considerable growth and progress for our company. Mr. Downey will carry out our long established policy of rendering the best possible service, offering the finest specialized facilities and equipment, and backing up everything we sell, to the complete satisfaction of the customer," stated Mr. Wilson.

A resident of Birmingham the past five years, Mr. Downey is active in civic affairs, a member of the Birmingham Lions Club, the Chamber of Commerce and Forest Lake Country Club.

John H. Griesen, agent for the New York Life Insurance Company in Pontiac, was designated as "Man of the Month" in the Detroit agency and had one of the outstanding records in the East Central Division, which comprises four states.

He wrote more cases than any other agent in the four state area during the month of June. For this he was awarded a trip to the Catawba Clift's Beach Club, Port Clinton, Ohio.

General Motors Announces New Educational Plan

AC Spark Plug will pioneer a new General Motors educational program this fall in Flint.

The program has been designed by GM to give some technical training to liberal arts graduates, especially from the smaller colleges, and then to use these men in such fields as production and sales.

Under the plan, four young graduates will "co-op" for a year at AC and General Motors Insitute.

They are Billy N. Howlett, of Flint, from Kalamazoo College; B. Thomas Smith, Jr., of Flint, also a Kalamazoo graduate; Laurie J. Slocum, of Minnesota, a Carleton College graduate; and Edwin R. Saurbier, Millington, a graduate of Central Michigan College.

State GMC Leads All U. S. Truck Makers

Heavy demand for 1955 "Blue Chip" GMC trucks during the past two months has placed GMC Truck and Coach Division in the forefront of the nation's leading truck manufacturers in sales percentage gains, according to R. C. Woodhouse, GMC general truck sales manager.

He said GMC sales in May and June climbed 57.8 per cent over the corresponding months of 1954.

"Starting early in May, when the GMC dealer organization received the new 1955 models in enough volume to meet the enthusiastic customer reaction, GMC has made greater gains than any other leading truck manufacturer," Woodhouse said.

He pointed out that all of the division's wholesale zones and the great majority of GMC dealers have chalked up much higher sales figures this May and June than in the corresponding two months of 1954.

Card of Thanks 1

WE WISH TO THANK OUR friends, neighbors and relatives for their acts of kindness and floral offerings during our recent bereavement in the loss of our beloved wife and mother Minnie Manion. Henry Manion and family.

WE WISH TO THANK ALL WHOSE kindness and sympathy offered comfort during the illness and recent death of our Aunt Margaret Harley. We are especially grateful to those responsible for the many beautiful floral offerings and to our Minister Brother Truax and to the singers. Special thanks to all the church folk and neighbors and friends. Mrs. Cleo Eason Mrs. Robert Mofield, Mrs. James Reynolds.

FORD
I am a 1951 Ford 6 tudor. My color is navy blue and I am in excellent shape. I am proud to say I have a spotless inside and brand new $20 set covers. They are pale blue and white. I am fully equipped with directional signals, back up lights, radio and heater. I also have wind-shield washers, but the bar is broken. My owner was a girl and she didn't use me much, just for work. I have been offered $800 in a trade in for a '55, but will sell to a private party for $500. That price can easily be talked down, because my owner is getting married and wants to sell me. I wish someone would let me show them how nice I am. You can see me at 154 Pontiac Trail, Walled Lake anytime after 6 or on Sat. & Sun. If you can't come at those times, why not call MA 4-1741 anytime after 6 and we will be glad to make some arrangements.

Nehru Says Russians Similar to Americans

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—Indian Prime Minister Nehru during his recent trip to the Soviet Union reportedly found the Russians "remarkably similar" to Americans.

Associates said Nehru, at a Cabinet reception last night welcoming him home, described the people of both major cold war opponents as "hospitable, friendly, mechanically minded, and liking to do things in a big way."

The Indian leader arrived back in New Delhi yesterday from a five-week tour of the Soviet Union and countries in Eastern and Western Europe. He visited the United States for three weeks in late 1949.

102 Years Ago Today:

Japan Marks Perry Visit With Rites at Landing Site

TOKYO (AP)—Four black ships slipped silently into Tokyo Bay 102 years ago today.

Startled Japanese saw strange red, white and blue flags fluttering over decks lined with menacing snub-nosed cannon.

These visitors who had dared violate the Mikado's "forbidden waters" were the Mississippi, Susquehanna, Plymouth and Saratoga —the fleet of Commodore Matthew C. Perry of the U.S. Navy.

Now Perry's arrival is celebrated here as a link with America that opened Japan to western trade.

Today the great adventure will be marked in ceremonies at Kurihama — midway between Yokohama and Yokosuka—where Perry and 300 "splendidly arrayed" officers first stepped ashore.

U.S. Ambassador John M. Allison will particiate. So will Rear Adm. Fitzhugh Lee, chief of the U. S. fleet air arm in Japan and great-grandson of one of Perry's ship commanders.

Stories of the "black ships of evil mien" remain vivid in Japanese memory. The strangers refused to deal with local officials and would not deliver a message from President Millard Fillmore to anyone but the Japanese Emperor in person.

After threatening to land an armed party, Perry finally agreed to the Japanese stand that the Emperor was too exalted a personage to approach in person. He agreed to deliver the letter to high-ranking Prince Toda.

A special house had been erected at Kurihama for the meeting. There, July 14, 1853, the delegations met under the threatening guns of the American fleet, and Japan was lifted from a long period of self-imposed isolation.

Some say the trade agreement signed was the first step along the road that made Japan a modern nation.

Ex-GI Starring in 'Great Life'

'Friends' Flock Around Since He Has Gained Television Fame

By EMILY BELSER

HOLLYWOOD (INS)—TV actor William Bishop decided today that success has brought him more headaches than a harem full of Marilyn Monroes.

Bishop, the romantic-looking ex-GI who's always being chased by the gals in "It's a Great Life," said his troubles began when his video series option was picked up for another 39 weeks.

"I received a congratulatory note from my landlord," he shrugged, "with a postscript informing me that my rent had been raised 50 per cent 'for the next 39 weeks!'

"Then, I came home one day and there were a dozen people sitting outside, including three insurance agents, two real estate brokers, a stockbroker and a Texan."

"Come to think of it," Bill added, "I never did find out what the Texan wanted, but he had some oil leases sticking out of his pocket."

Bill recalled it was only about a year ago that he was counting his pennies and his girl friends on one hand.

NOW HE HAS PALS

"All I had to offer," he grinned, "was a couple of hamburgers and a few jokes that nobody laughed at. Now, when I go into a restaurant I'm ushered to a ringside table and people I haven't seen in year stop by for a drink or two—all on my tab.

"And if I tell a joke older than Joe Miller, you'd think I was George Gobel by the roars that go up. It's great for the ego, but rough on the pocketbook."

Bishop, a product of motion pictures, stage and summer stock, once decided he'd be a lawyer, but his uncle — playwright Charles MacArthur — got him a job at the Suffern County (N. Y.) theater and that was the end of William "Clarence Darrow" Bishop.

He became so inspired after working with Broderick Crawford, Jose Ferrer, George Tobias and Kent Smith that he quit college to tour in "Tobacco Road."

After appearing in "Victoria Regina" and "Merchant of Venice" with Helen Hayes, Bishop was signed by MGM to make a South Pacific movie with Esther Williams.

The film was shelved and the 190-pound hero got, instead, a starring role in the U. S. Army with the Signal Battalion. He was stationed, of all places, in the South Pacific.

THEN CAME FILMS

Later, he spent three years emoting in such films as "Anna Lucasta," "The Walking Hills" and "Harriet Craig."

"For years," Bill recalled, "I knocked around Hollywood with moderate success and it wasn't too bad. Since I wasn't a star, my life wasn't complicated. But now that I've gotten lucky things sure have changed!"

To help consolidate his sudden professional rise, Bill hired a business manager.

"He put me on a tight allowance, out of which I have to pay my rent, utilities and car expenses," Bishop related.

"Last week I had used up his check when the phone company notified me of an outstanding bill. I called my manager for some additional money but he refused me flatly and told me I'd have to work it out for myself.

"So I had to sell my best suit that afternoon to come up with enough cash to pay the bill.

"Success is wonderful, but it sure presents a lot of problems!"

Montana Legislature Probing Gas Prices

MISSOULA, Mont. (AP) The man in charge of a oMntana Legislature-ordered investigation of gasoline prices said his preliminary studes show that gasoline prices in Montana are the nation's highest, exclusive of taxes. He said Missoula's gas prices, exclusicve of taxes, are the highest of any city in the United States.

John Vance, counsel for the Montana Trade Commission, said "Maybe there is a satisfactory explanation. That's what we are trying to find out." The Legislature appropriated $20,000 for the investigation.

French Postcards Bear "Printed in Italy" Label

By EARL WILSON

CANNES—When I saw Elsa Maxwell and Ben Cohn, the Hollywood publicist for Burns & Allen, on the Hotel Carlton terrace, I felt I hadn't left home.

Ben had a complaint about the French women. They're always chasing him.

Ben—a former Broadwayite—and I were in college together. When we got in the elevator and he told the operator, "Premier etage, s'il vous plait," he turned to me and said, "That's my Ohio State French."

GRACIE

"The women do the pursuing here," lamented Ben.

"Every time I walk on the terrace, 25 or 30 of the prettiest girls you ever saw bat their eyes at me. It's terrible."

Ben took off for London to help launch the Burns & Allen TV show there. First we compared our new cameras, his new Retina, my new Nikon. His has a built-in everything.

"You don't need a photographer with these new cameras," claimed Ben. "All you need is an engineering degree."

I made a discovery about French postcards—those of Bikini babes sold in respectable spots. They bear a label saying:

"Printed in Italy."

From Rome come reports of Red Buttons' doing Italian double talk while ordering food—and causing panic among a dozen waiters. They asked him his name and he replied, "Rouge Butoni." They laughed and said, "Ahhhh, Communista!"

Harold Lloyd had taken 200 rolls of stereo pictures when he finished Paris. "How's Paris?" he was asked. "All I know," he said, "is what I see through my camera."

The wife and I risked a few francs on a game of chance at a Coney Island type concession. I won a cheap bottle of wine, she what she thought was a box of "St. Louis" candy. The candy proved to be plain cube sugar—some prize for people trying to diet by using saccharin!"

DOROTHY

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

Sammy Davis Jr. will sue a magazine for libel. Famed att'y Jerry Giesler has the case . . . Harry Truman will tour Europe this fall; he'll get an honorary degree in London . . . Dick Haymes, singing in Las Vegas, turned his check over to Rita to make sure the gambling tables didn't get it.

Walt Disney bought four of Jeff Chandler's original tunes . . . Frank Sinatra's nightly dates this past week have been with his daughter, Nancy . . . Gary Crosby can pick up $50,000 for two weeks' singing at a Las Vegas safe, if he wants it . . . Dorothy Wilson, a top fashion model, is taking up another career: Dancing on TV.

Everybody's been twitting me about what happens to all the pictures I take. Glad to say some of them are in the new Collier's, and have to admit I'm a very proud photographer. That's earl, brother.

Army Labeled Deceptive for Hiding Peress Facts

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Investigations subcommittee today blamed 48 errors and Army red tape but not subversion for the promotion and honorable discharge of Maj. Irving Peress after he refused to say whether he was a Communist.

It said Secretary of the Army Stevens, or perhaps some of his Pentagon bosses, did "a disservice" to the country by what it termed concealing facts about the case of the New York dentist for almost a year. It also accused "the Department of the Army" of some deceptive practices toward Congress.

But it made no mention of subversion in a formal report saying the case showed "individual errors in judgment, lack of proper coordination, ineffective administration procedures, inconsistent application of investigating regulations, and excessive delays."

Army delay in making the facts public, it said, "served to unduly arouse and increase suspicions of the public as to possible Communist influences and thereby was a disservice, to the Army as a whole, to this subcommittee, to the Congress, and to the general public."

One subcommittee member, Sen. Bender (R-Ohio), refused to sign the report.

It should have stated, he contended in a minority report, that "no Communist influence was found in the Army."

It should have stated, Bender said, that "not one iota of evidence" was found to support charges by Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) that some "silent Communist mastermind" in the Pentagon was involved.

Catholics Urge Press Freedom

Ask Peron to Allow Exchange of Ideas in Argentina

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP)—Argentina's Roman Catholic episcopate has urged that the Peron government grant complete freedom of press, radio and public meetings as the first step toward establishing a real public opinion in this country.

A pastoral letter calling for such action was published yesterday in response to President Juan D. Peron's July 5 appeal for political truce.

The letter reviewed events it said figured in the "state of religious persecution in Argentina." Its 24 signers included two cardinals and five archbishops.

Peron brought the government-church feud into the open last November when he accused some members of the clergy of working against his regime. The church denied the accusation. Since the June 16 revolt against Peron was put down, the government has dropped its open antichurch campaign.

Roman Catholic church sources reported yesterday the government has decided to resume salary payments to some clergymen. Salary contributions had been paid by the government to top Catholic prelates and their assistants but were cut off last month.

A-Town Gets Boot Hill

LOS ALAMOS, N. M. (AP)—Low death rate or not, and former brags out the window, this atomic community is at last going to get a cemetery. Arrangements are being made to provide management of the plot through the Ministerial Fellowship.

Tax Men Striking at Canadian Tickets

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP)—The United States Internal Revenue Service has launched a drive to curtail purchase by Americans of travel tickets in Canada. By buying in Canada, travelers avoid payment of a 10 per cent U. S. excise tax.

Edward S. Shea, assistant director of the Buffalo office, said the practice has become widespread on the Niagara frontier in recent months.

American tourists, he says, flock to Canada to buy travel tickets. Most buying is done in Fort Erie and Niagara Falls, Ont.

Shea disclosed his office already has notified "a number" of Buffalo residennts they will have to pay the tax. Americans visiting in Canada or maintaining summer homes there are not free from the tax liability.

Under the revenue code, Shea said, Americans convicted willfully avoiding the tax are guilty of an offense puninshable by five years imprisonment, a $10,000 fine or booth.

Democrats Aver Their Platform Will Hold Ike

RICHMOND, Va. (AP)—Nineteen of Richmond's Democrats for Eisenhower were invited to the White House. The Richmond News Leader gives this report of a part of the conversation with the President.

Coleman Wortham Jr., invited the President to Virginia to see "the best duck hunting marsh in the United States."

"Do I have to go through Richmond?" the President asked. On one visit, he recalled, he was hustled past some dignitaries he was supposed to greet. Then of course the speaker's platform collapsed with him on his 1952 campaign stop.

"Mr. President, excuse me," one member of the party cut in, "but the Republicans built that platform. They wouldn't let us near it. Democratic platforms don't collapse."
