More Than 200 Stitches Needed

Woman Hurt When Car Plunges Into Creek Near Windsor

WINDSOR, Ont. (INS) — More than 200 stitches were required to close head and face wounds of 38-year-old Mrs. Dorothy Dunlop after a car in which she was riding plunged into a creek.

Her husband, John, 35, of Detroit, told from a Windsor hospital bed, how it took him three hours to crawl 100 yards to get help. His wife had gone in an opposite direction and was found unconscious in a field.

She suffered a fractured pelvis, fractured right leg and a ruptured gall bladder. Dunlop was recovering from loss of blood and shock. They are in Metropolitan Hospital.

Dunlop said the couple was headed home on Route 39 and smashed into a bridge 20 miles east of Windsor, after failing to make a bend in the road.

He told police the car went over a 15-foot embankment and landed in 13 feet of water in Pike's Creek. He searched for his wife but couldn't locate her. She had made her way to the opposite bank.

Bleeding and dazed, Dunlop took three hours to reach a farmhouse 100 yards away where he got help. He said:

"It was an eternity I'll never forget. Hell can't be much worse."

Detroit Bus Drivers Win 8-Cent Wage Hike

DETROIT (AP) — A new contract providing an eight-cent hourly wage increase was approved yesterday by Detroit Street Railways operators.

The new pact becomes effective Sept. 1 and calls for the eight-cent raise plus another two-cents-an-hour increase Jan. 6.

Under the new contract, the average hourly wage for bus drivers is $2.23.

Boston Strike Goes On

BOSTON (INS) — Governor Foster Furcolo today makes his mover to end the 17-day mailers' strike which has closed Boston's six major daily newspapers. The governor was scheduled to hold separate conferences with leaders of the mailers' union and representatives of the publishers.

LONDON (AP) — Ho Chi Minh, president of Communist North Viet Nam, arrived in Moscow today. He is on his way home after a tour of European Communist countries, including Yugoslavia.

Airliner's Race to Save Tiny Boy Ends in Failure

CHICAGO (INS) — A desparate race to save the life of a stricken four-month-old boy aboard a New York to Chicago airliner ended in failure just before midnight.

The baby, John Santiago, became ill last night and was treated for a cold at Roosevelt Hospital in New York before his aunt, Mrs. Aurea Santiago, 28, of Chicago, took the child aboard U.S. overseas flight 201 for Chicago.

The baby's condition worsened and two stewardesses, Marie Hirbonen of New York and Bea McFarlane of New York administered oxygen.

Capt. Joseph Kubilus, the pilot, said he notified officials at Chicago's Midway Airport to prepare for the emergency. He stepped up the speed of the plane and airport officials expedited his landing.

But moments before the flight set down, the child died in the arms of a priest. Doctors said he may have been a victim of Asiatic flu.

John was the son of Ishmael Santiago of Chicago. Santiago's divorced wife, with whom the child had been visiting, lives in New York.

Will Review Old Laws

LUDINGTON (AP) — The City Commission plans to meet soon to scrap such antiquated city laws as running across a bridge and speeding at more than six miles an hour on a bicycle. But one old 1874 law the commissioners probably will retain makes it illegal to plant a tree in the middle of the street.

Income Hits New High

WASHINGTON (AP) — Personal income in the United States last year reached a record 324 billion dollars. This was an average of $1,940 for every man, woman and child in the country—before taxes, that is.

Ike Changes Mind, Will Get Flu Shot

WASHINGTON (INS)—President Eisenhower has changed his mind about waiting for an Asiatic flu vaccine shot and will be inoculated today on the advice of his doctor.

The decision for the President to receive the vaccine at this time was taken on the recommendation of U. S. Surgeon General Dr. Leroy Burney that it should be made available to all heart patients.

Mr. Eisenhower told his news conference last week that he did not plan to get a shot of the vaccine until it was available to "ordinary people."

Since that time, there have been three apparent cases of Asiatic flu at the White House, two of them persons who could have exposed the President to the virus.

U.S. Newsmen Trip Stalemated

HONG KONG (AP)—Plans to send American newsmen to China appeared stalemated today by a Peiping demand for reciprocal U.S. admission of Red Chinese reporters.

The State Department promptly rejected the Communist demand.

Radio Peiping announced last night that the State Department's decision to allow 24 U.S. reporters to work in Red China for six months "is completely unacceptable to the Chinese people."

The Chinese government "expects Chinese correspondents to be given reciprocal treatment to go to America to report," the broadcast commentary from the official Peiping People's Daily said.

Secretary of State Dulles' announcement in Washington Thursday permitting American newsmen in Communist China for the first time in eight years said the United States "will not accord reciprocal visas to Chinese bearing passports issued by the Chinese Communist regime."

The broadcast said the State Department is trying to "send people into our country to search out opportunities to create trouble. . . . The wrecking activities of the U.S. government will come to nothing and will never be tolerated by the people of China."

11 AWAIT VISAS

Eleven of the 24 Americans were waiting here for answers to visa applications. The Peiping broadcast did not say specifically no visas would be issued until the State Department changed its stand, but that appeared to be its implication.

★ ★ ★

A full text of the Peiping commentary was read by what veteran radio monitors said was obviously a young American's voice. Forty-one American youths are now in Red China as guests of the government, and 12 American Korean war turncoats also are still on the mainland.

"Fundamentally, the U.S. government is not considering the principle of equality and reciprocity at all, but wants to collect intelligence in China through its correspondents, carry out subversive activities and embitter feelings between the Chinese and American peoples," the broadcast said.

"Keeping to its consistent policy, the Chinese government will continue to work for contacts and mutual understanding between the Chinese and American peoples."

The two Western nations that now have reporters permanently stationed in Red China, Britain and France, permit correspondents of the New China News Agency to work in London and Paris.

Officials in Washington said Dulles agreed to lower his bar to American travel in China because of heavy press and congressional pressure.

Pot-O-Gold Full; Press Relaxes Rules of Contest

Beginning with the new puzzle in today's Press, Pot-O-Gold judges are going to make it easier for contestants to win the $2,300 that's in the pot.

If no winner is found for Puzzle No. 64, entries for this week's puzzle will be allowed one wrong answer and still be eligible to to win.

Of course, if a contestant turns in a solution that contains all the correct answers, he will be the winner. But if not, contestants with only one wrong will qualify.

Turn to page 21 and get busy on your solution.

Now that the puzzle has been made easier, you can't afford to turn in a late entry.

Committee Ups Foreign Aid Bill

Restores $5.9 Million of $8.6 Slashed From Ike's Request

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Appropriations Committee voted today to restore $500,900,000 of the $809,650,000 that the House slashed from President Eisenhowers' foreign aid money bill.

The committee voted 14-7 to recommend to the Senate $3,025,660,000 in new funds. It also approved the reappropriation of $667,050,000 in carryover funds for a total of $3,692,710,000.

By the same vote, the committee rejected a motion by Sen. Ellender (D-La) to hold new funds for military aid to the $1,250,000,000 allowed by the House.

Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon Johnson said earlier he would support a boost in aid funds of about half a billion dollars.

The Texas Democrat made this announcement after an hour-long breakfast meeting with President Eisenhower. It was the first time they met privately with no others present.

Johnson said he told the President he was prepared to support "a substantial increase" over the 1½ billion dollars in new aid money voted by the House.

Eisenhower accompanied Johnson to the door of the White House's north portico after their steam breakfast. Newsmen thought they heard the President tell his guest: "Thanks a million."

LEGAL ADVICE — Army Sp.3.C. William S. Girard chats with personal legal adviser Maj. Stanley Levin, who motored from Tokyo to Camp Drew, near Maebashi, to see Girard prior to today's opening of his trial on charges of fatally shooting a Japanese woman on a firing range.

Girard Denies Luring Victim to Firing Range

But Prosecution Says Soldier Shot at 4 Others Before Killing Woman

MAEBASHI, Japan (AP)—William S. Girard today denied Japanese charges that he lured a woman brass scavenger to her death on a U.S. firing range.

The trial adjourned today until Sept. 10.

Girard, who is in U.S. Army custody, was instructed to reappear in court at 10 a.m. Sept. 10 before the three Japanese jurists hearing the case.

They will proceed to the Somagahara firing range where Mrs. Naka Sakai, 46, was fatally shot.

A surprise element in the case came when presiding Judge Yuzo Kawachi deferred a ruling on the key question of whether his court has jurisdiction over the 22-year-old Ottawa, Ill., Army specialist's manslaughter trial.

The U. S. Supreme Court already has ruled that Japanese jurisdiction over Girard does not violate his constitutional rights.

Japanese prosecutors entered a new accusation that the Army specialist from Ottawa, Ill., shot at four other Japanese before an empty cartridge case fired from his grenade launcher killed Mrs. Naka Sakai Jan. 30.

★ ★ ★

"The facts in the indictment are not correct," the 22-year-old GI told the three black-robed judges as his trial on a manslaughter charge opened in the Japanese District Court here.

In a brief statement Girard told the court Mrs. Sakai's death "was an accident as far as I'm concerned and I'm sorry it happened."

The prosecution charged that he threw out empty shell casings to entice the scavengers onto the firing range, then shot at them.

ASKS DISMISSAL

Moving that the indictment be dismissed, the soldier's chief Japanese attorney Itsura Hayashi renewed the claim that Girard was carrying out his official duty and therefore is not subject to Japanese jurisdiction.

★ ★ ★

This argument originally had set off considerable congressional and press criticism in the United States of the Army's decision to let Japan try Girard.

The trial opened in a steaming hot little courtroom into which were jammed more than 90 people, including 35 spectators chosen by lot and 42 reporters.

Heavy curtains were drawn across the closed windows to prevent photographing into the courtroom.

More than 1,000 Japanese and about 250 newsmen, photographers, newsreel and television men milled around outside the courthouse.

Some of the Japanese carried such slogans as "keep Girard under Japanese custody," "Show the world, give Girard a strictly fair trial" and "Judge! Don't disagrace the pride of the Japanese people."

Three relatives of the dead woman attended the opening session—her 18-year-old daughter, Kayoko Sakai, and two of Mrs. Sakai's brothers-in-law, Mohei Sakai and Tokotaro Sekiguchi.

Kayoko said her father was at a religious retreat in western Japan and would not attend the trial. She added that she thought the court "is leaning over backward to be partial to the United States and Girard."

Girard's Japanese wife Haru (Candy) was not in the courtroom. Hayashi said he told her to stay away because many Japanese felt the marriage last month was in bad taste.

The soldier was brought to the court in an Army motor cavalcade from Camp Drew, 30 miles away, and was turned over to

Hunt Chicago Slayer of Butchered Girl, 15

CHICAGO (AP)—Detective squads combed a West Side neighborhood for clues today in the mutilation slaying of a 15-year-old schoolgirl, whose dismembered body was found floating in Lake Michigan in two separate oil cans.

Police said the body of Judith Mae Andersen had been chopped and sawed, and was waterlogged.

Police said identification was definitely established last night when fingerprint experts made their report.

Crime laboratory technicians said a series of 20 prints taken from the girl's personal belongings matched those on a severed hand.

Earlier, police had assumed the girl to be Judith Mae, missing from her home since Aug. 16. Their assumptions were based on a dental chart identification of the severed head. The head contained a single, small caliber bullet hole, police reported.

The can containing the head, two hands and an arm was found Saturday in Montrose Harbor.

Two days earlier, two men in a boat had found the butchered torso in an oil drum near the same North Side lakefront harbor.

The girl's father, Ralph Andersen, 43, disputed police fingerprint identifications and the report of two dental surgeons on charts taken from the office of the family dentist.

"There's still some doubt in my mind," Andersen, a foreman at a bookbinding company, told newsmen. Then he added, in a voice choked with emotion: "But . . . but they say fingerprints never lie."

Andersen had viewed segments of the body at the county morgue. Judith Mae was last seen about 11 p.m. Aug. 16 when she left a girl friend's house to return to her home, about a mile away, on the far West Side.

The case of Judith Mae was the third sensational and apparently motiveless slaying of youngsters—homeward-bound from night time trips around the city. All the crimes are unsolved.

Officials Split on Value of Plan

Teen Drag Races--Help or Hazard?

By MAX E. SIMON

Court and law enforcement officials in two Michigan counties with legalized drag racing have split into two sharply-divided camps on the success of the program.

On one side of the fence is a group which favors drag strips as providing safe areas for teenagers to test their hotrods.

These officials assert that many teens who formerly flashed through city streets and over public highways now do their only racing on the supervised, marked-off strips.

On the other side is a group which contends that many teenage "squirrels" — reckless, irresponsible drivers, in hotrod parlance—still tear about at tremendous speeds. Youngsters forget, this group argues, that during the week they are not on the strip and use other places to find out what their cars "can do."

TEENAGERS WANT IT

A Pontiac teenage group, the newly-organized Oakland County Timing Assn., is pushing for the establishment of such a strip in this area.

One of the two race sites is at Tecumseh in Lenawee County. Tecumseh's chief of police, George Kilbourn, said that many hotrodders try dragging in the local area before going out to the strip.

"If they could prove to me that the number of complaints my department receives about reckless driving has been cut down by the establishment of the strip, then I'd be in favor of continuing it," Kilbourn said.

★ ★ ★

"But we haven't received fewer complaints. Both my department and the State Police have, in fact, been receiving more complaints since the drag strip was opened."

THUMBS DOWN

Near the Tecumseh drag strip is a State Police post at Clinton, headed by Sgt. Fred O'Donnell, who said of the problem, "My post is thumbs down on this thing. I've instructed my men to have nothing to do with it.

★ ★ ★

"Instead of drag strips, we recommend that these teenagers spend their time and energy on driver training. About three or four thousand persons show up at the place every Sunday, and after it's all over, they drive off thinking they're still there."

Lenawee County Sheriff Robert Stites, said that there will always be a few in the young set who will continue their reckless driving in violation of the law but

Rezoning Seen in Waterford

Gas Station Planned for Acre on Walton if Change Is Made

It is expected that members of th Waterford Township Board will approve the rezoning of an acre of land on Walton Boulevard when they meet tonight at 7:30 in the township hall, according to Elmer Johnson, township supervisor.

The township board has been requested to make the change from residential to commercial, for the construction of a proposed gasoline station.

The Oakland County Coordinating Zoning Committee recently dissapproved the change, on the grounds that it would constitte "spot" zoning. However, the township zoning board had approved the change.

Final decision lies with the township board.

The matter was tabled at last week's meeting following an hour of discussion.

Other business will include the reaffirming of a policy established by the former board regarding building and electric permits. In December 1956, a policy was established of not refunding money on the unused permits after a period of one year had elapsed.

Insurance on three township-owned pumping stations and the Coleman-Friedman sewer plant will be discussed with engineers, board members and agents. The stations involved are Watkins Hill, Lotus Lake and Lake Oakland.

Johnson will present the entire tax schedule for this year's tax spread, which will be mailed to property owners sometime in late November.

Board members will be asked to accept the resignation of Constable Jesse McCrary who plans to move to California.

The driver of the other car, Ralph Gatien, 16, of 14013 Farley St., Detroit, was uninjured, said deputies.

Gossip-Gathering Agent Returns to Stand Today

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Fred Meade, a gossip-gathering agent of Confidential magazine, was in for another round of courtroom questioning today about the Hollywood tipsters who whispered in his ear.

Meade, one of the defendants in the criminal libel trial involving Confidential and Whisper magazines, was to climb back in the witness chair as the trial entered its fourth week after these out-of-court developments over the weekend:

1. A pretty model said in London that she was paid $112 by Confidential for a story that was a "monstrous fabrication."

2. Defense attorney Arthur J. Crowley said he doesn't plan to call any of the film stars he has under subpoena, but added that he'd like to have the prosecution call them so he could "flood the courtroom with witnesses to impeach them."

Meade, who operated Hollywood Research, Inc., with his wife Marjorie, gave the prosecution the names of 10 of his Hollywood informants before he left the stand last Friday. The tipsters, include a bartender, an interior decorator, a governess, an ex-prostitute and a number of bit actors.

The London model, Pat Steele, was quoted in The People, a Sunday newspaper, as saying the story she sold for $112 was about film director John Huston and his blonde secretary.

The paper said Miss Steele voluntarily came forward with the information that she sold the story to Confidential and that it was published this month by Whisper under the title of "Secretary in the Boudoir." Whisper is a companion publication of Confidential.

The article told of a midnight meeting between Huston and a secretary named Laurie at a London hotel in 1954.

★ ★ ★

The paper quoted the 25-year-old model as saying she went to Huston's suite that night and was introduced to the secretary, but saw nothing improper.

★ ★ ★

The paper said Miss Steele related that she mentioned the secretary to a male friend last year and that the friend offered to pay her for elaborating on the story.

The People quoted her as saying: "I agreed to the proposition. Before long, an affidavit was drawn up, based on information supplied by me . . .

"The whole thing is such a monstrous fabrication that, looking back on it all, I can hardly believe I was responsible for it . . .

"What I have read about the trial in the last few weeks has brought me to my senses. How many stars might be suffering because of other liars?"

The paper said Miss Steele is willing to come to Los Angeles and repeat her story on the witness stand.

But Dep. Dist. Atty. William L. Ritzi said here: "I don't quite see how she would fit into a case on conspiracy. After all, it (her story) neither proves nor disproves the criminal intent of the magazine's publishers or distributors. It merely proves they didn't check out their stories too well."

Parents Mourn 3 Buried Girls; Unable to Sleep

BOSCOBEL, Wis. (AP)—This quiet river town today mourned the deaths of three sisters who died when tons of dirt buried them in a quarry near Dixon, Ill.

John Gurnsey, 33, said he and his wife Ruth, 31, had slept little since Wednesday, the day their daughters Nancy, 10, Ruthie, 9, and Theresa, 8, disappeared from their temporary trailer home near Dixon.

★ ★ ★

Scores of volunteers hunted the countryside until someone noticed small footprints at the rim of the pit on Quarry Hill, the quarry which Gurnsey's employers, the H. Turner Construction Co. of Boscobel, had contracted to fill.

★ ★ ★

The Gurnseys were living in the trailer home about half a mile from the quarry while Gurnsey directed the filling operation.

Before dawn Saturday workmen uncovered the three bodies. The dead girls were sitting with their hands in front of their faces as though trying to fend off the tons of dirt that tumbled upon them.

★ ★ ★

Gurnsey said he agreed with investigators that the girls apparently were buried by earth and stone pushed down on them by his crew. He said he would not return to Dixon to supervise the rest of the filling job.

Know the Weather

By E. H. SIMS

Why is it that a house on the side of a hill assures the best ventilation possible?

We have always heard the old expression about building a house on the side of a hill to take advantage of ventilation. This old rule, once thought to be folklore only, is completely sound.

Since warm air rises during the day and cool air tends to settle during the night, a house on a hillside will get the ventilation from all such movements.

A house built in a low area, on the contrary, will get few of the breezes caused by rising warm air and descending cold air.

A home on flat land, in neither a bottom nor on a hillside, will get less effect from heated and cooled air, in the form of ventilation, since the vertical movement of the air will not affect the home greatly.

Signalman Dies as Bridge Falls

New York Rail Accident Scatters 34 Cars, Coal; Cause Unknown

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (AP) — A railroad overpass collapsed into a heavily traveled street after 34 railroad cars jumped the tracks yesterday. A signalman was killed.

★ ★ ★

The New York Central railroad said the cause was not determined immediately.

TRAIN 'BUCKLED'

Syracuse police said the 106-car train apparently "buckled" as it went over the bridge. Most of the derailed cars were gondolas loaded with coal. Cars and coal were spilled in all directions.

Unofficial estimates of the damage were in the neighborhood of one million dollars. Railroad officials estimated it would take 72 hours to clear the wreckage.

The signalman, Sam La Hood, 62, of Auburn, was on duty in a tower beside the tracks. It was sheared off and La Hood was buried beneath the debris.

★ ★ ★

Two automobiles narrowly escaped from beneath the bridge as it fell.

The Central's three main freight tracks were ripped up and all railroad communications in Central New York were interrupted briefly.

★ ★ ★

Police quoted witnesses as saying they saw wheels flying in the air, then the bridge wobbled and crashed.

★ ★ ★

The train was enroute from Southport, near Elmira, to Dewitt.

Girard Slaying Trial Opens in Japan

Japanese jurisdiction for the first time. He was returned to the Army's authority at the end of the day's sessions and was whisked back to camp.

Girard sat alone on a gray, leather-covered bench as the prosecutor read the official indictment accusing him of throwing empty cartridge cases to entice Mrs. Sakai and other Japanese brass pickers closer to him.

Minutes later he stood before the high paneled bench, a package of cigarettes protruding from the hip pocket of his khaki summer uniform, to identify himself and answer the charge.

Judge Kawachi warned Girard that his answers to questions would become part of the evidence in the case and advised him that "you can maintain complete silence from beginning to end."

★ ★ ★

After hearing the indictment read in Japanese and in English, Girard told the court he had nothing to say. But after a hasty conference with Hayashi he returned to the half-circle witness stand declared: "The facts in the indictment are not correct . . . I did not throw brass or lure anyone.

'FIRED OVER HEADS'

"I did not intend to hit anybody. I was doing my job of protecting a machine gun . . . I fired over their heads to scare people, not to hurt them."

The prosecution gave this version of what happened:

Girard and S.Sgt. Victor N. Nickel were assigned to watch some Army equipment during a recess in the target practice.

When Mrs. Sakai and other Japanese started to pick up shell casings, Girard told her and Hidetsugu Onozeki in Japanese, "Old man, old woman, okay." He then fired an empty cartridge which missed Onozeki's feet and the latter fled.

Then, as Mrs. Sakai approached, Girard ran toward her shouting, "Get out of here." Holding the rifle in his right arm he fired a blank at her from a distance of 25 feet and she fell.

The prosecution contended also that earlier in the day Girard had fired at three other Japanese shell pickers, Isamu Yadohara, Toshizo Koyama and Tatsuzo Kanai. The prosecution also said U.S. soldiers had been warned not to fire empty cartridge casings with blanks "since it's dangerous and prohibited."

The defense countered that Girard was performing assigned military duties in an area allocated to the United States by the Japanese government for maneuvers and was carrying out these duties under direction of his superior officers.

★ ★ ★

Hayashi said Girard in firing "was motivated solely by a desire to cause trespassing civilians to withdraw from the area . . . (a motive) reasonably related to his duty to guard the property . . . Girard did not intend to cause injury to anyone."

★ ★ ★

The defense attorney said the soldier had hoped to warn away the shell pickers with an "unusual noise" produced by firing the blank casings.

Differ on Value of Teen Drag Races

that, "generally, it's a good thing."

Stites said that he has received no complaints about the strip, but added that the State Police were "closer" to the situation than he was.

PROFIT VENTURE

The Tecumseh drag races are a profit-making venture of two partners, Larry Coscarelli and James Fielder.

★ ★ ★

The other strip is six miles northeast of New Baltimore in Macomb County.

New Baltimore's chief of police, George Dolecki, said that the races have taken "the teenagers out of his hair. They are very pleased with the idea and so far we haven't received any complaints," he said.

"Nevertheless, ever since we've set up the place, we still have trouble with some teenagers who continue to believe that highways are speedways."

TOO SOON TO TELL

Macomb County Sheriff Harley Ensign said that it's too early for him to voice an opinion as to whether the drag strip should be continued.

"At first, I was completely opposed to the whole idea," Ensign said. But these kids seem to be sincere and their by-laws state that anyone breaking their rules will be severely dealt with.

The drag strip was severely criticized by James P. Rosso, superintendent of the county's Youth Home. The home houses dependent and delinquent children and is similar to the Oakland County Children's Home.

"I don't think anything of it," Rosso declared, and neither do the courts, police or other law enforcement agencies.

"These kids get all hopped up while they're drag racing and try the same crazy stunts on the open road. They soup-up these old cars and when they get on a highway, they can't resist the urge to see what 'their cars will do.' All 17 arresting agencies in this county are beginning to oppose the whole idea."

COUNCIL OPPOSED

The National Safety Council opposes drag racing and other speed competition of hotrod clubs. It announced its stand after a questionnaire poll of more than 1,500 city and state traffic officials, school authorities and local safety councils.

The council said that "since speed violations are often involved in traffic accidents, it could not condone speeding even in the name of competition."

Economy runs, driver clinics and leadership in traffic safety programs were called desirable outlets for interest in automobiles and driver ability.

The council recommended that traffic authorities and safety organizations refrain from endorsing, supporting or participating in speed events.

8-Cent Pay Boost; No Windsor Strike

WINDSOR, Ont. (AP) — An eight-cent wage hike was accepted yesterday by the 259 bus drivers of the Sandwich, Windsor and Amherstberg Railway Co. to end a strike threat which would have halted bus service in Windsor.

The drivers planned to strike Friday to back up demands for a pay hike. They agreed to take the raise at the recommendation of a labor management committee appointed by Mayor Michael Patrick of Windsor.

In a unique plan, the committee suggested the city pay the bus company $23,000 annually to cover the firm's costs for its snow removal from major arteries in the winter. Actually the money will be used to provide four cents of the pay hike with the bus company supplying the other four cents.

The raise is retroactive to June 1 —the date the company-union contract expired. The average hourly wage was not immediately available.

R. J. Archanbault Dies From Crash Injuries

A Madison Heights man, critically injured in an accident involving two cars and a cement truck Friday, died Saturday morning at Detroit's Mt. Carmel Hospital.

Roger J. Archanbault, 20, of 1167 Brockton St., had remained on the critical list for 24 hours with multiple head injuries. He was thrown from a car driven by Robert E. Moore, 22, of Hazel Park.

The accident occurred on W. Eight Mile Rd., near Evergreen St., in Southfield Township.

METAMORA—Among the graduates of the Child Evangelism Institute at Muskegon Friday evening, were Patricia Lassen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Lassen of Metamora, and friend, Betty Stalker of Chicago, who have been taking a summer course. Both girls spent some time serving at an orphanage in Brazil after graduation from Moody Bible Institute, Chicago.

The Day in Birmingham

Public Hearing Tonight for Lake Park District

BIRMINGHAM — Only one public hearing is slated for tonight's commission meeting.

It will concern the special assessment district created for the construction of a storm sewer along the west side of Lake Park drive.

Commissioners will receive a chancery summons from the Cober Co., a Michigan corporation, against the city of Birmingham and its officials.

The company is suing, following the commission's action of denying a rezoning change which would permit them to construct an apartment building in an area that is zoned for terraces.

The rezoning request extends back more than a year and was denied recently by the present commission.

The Cober Co. at the time of the last hearing, said that present plans would suit the land use better than the terrace development, give greater space at the rear for flood control from the Rouge River and provide better construction and a more attractive development.

Frank C. Newell is asking commissioners to take the necessary steps to vacate the portion of Dorchester avenue lying between the west side of Eaton road and the Grand Trunk Railroad. Mr. and Mrs. Newell own abutting property on both sides of the street.

Robert E. Girardin, recreation director is asking that the ski-slope located on 14 Mile road near the disposal plant have lights installed, ready for use this winter.

Girardin said fill dirt has been supplied and through the activities of the Forestry Department, an excellent slope for skiing has been provided. A sled and toboggan section also will be available.

One person was injured in a three-car crash last night at Telegraph and Lincoln roads in Bloomfield Township.

Police said Mrs. Marian LaBelle, 72, of Detroit received injuries of her hip and both knees when the car in which she was riding was struck from the rear.

Police said Leonard Wojciak, 32, of Dearborn and Stanley Potoczack, 44, of Detroit, had stopped for traffic when the latter's car was struck by one driven by Robert Krathwohe, 51, of Detroit.

Mrs. Donald Morrison

A former teacher in the Oberlin College Conservatory of Music, Oberlin, Ohio, Mrs. Morrison, 64, of 26365 Normandy Rd., Franklin, died Sunday after a long illness, in Old Grace Hospital, Detroit.

She is survived by her husband; a daughter, Mrs. William Deal of Marion, Pa.; a son, King S. of Los Angeles; her mother, Mrs. Heromine Schoeffel; two brothers, Paul F. Schoeffel of Franklin and George W. of Portland, Ore.

Private service will be held tomorrow from the Manley Bailey Funeral Home.

Crash Kills 4 at Atlanta Yards

Another Badly Injured as Freight Train Rams Into Tool Shed Car

ATLANTA (AP) — A freight train and a work train crashed at the Southern Railway's Inman yards today, killing four men and seriously injuring another.

Witnesses said a string of about 50 freight cars being switched to another track raced into a tool shed car carrying workmen A flat car on the end of the freight rammed into the side of the work train

Police identified the dead, all believed to be railroad men, as Car E. Ricks, Raymond P. Daniels, Roy E. Morgan and Dewitt C Blackstock, all of Atlanta

Johnnie Reed of Greenville, S.C., was taken to a hospital suffering from chest and back injuries.

Four of the men, including the injured man, were taken from the smashed work car. A crane was needed to pull the side of the work car off before the fifth man was removed.

Railroad crews said both trains were moving when the crash occurred. The flat car appeared to have mounted the work car and then fallen into it, coming to rest about half way through.

Syrian President Hits at 'West's Plots'

DAMUS SYRIA (AP) — President Shukri Kuwatly has returned from Egypt to add his voice to the growing anti-American campaign trumpeted by Syria's new leftist army command.

Kuwatly, who flew to Cairo a week ago amid reports he was stepping down in the face of the leftist army takeover, declared on his return last night Syria would stand fast "despite pressures and plots of imperialism, the West and America."

Looking drawn but tanned after his week of conferences and medical treatment, Kuwatly told newsmen here that Egypt also was determined to resist imperialist pressures. The situation in Egypt, he added, was "good and strong, the same as in Syria."

Kuwatly held a final two-hour conference in Cairo with Egyptian President Nasser, who saw him off at the airport. Earlier, before leaving Alexandria, where he had been hospitalized, the Syrian President told newsmen his country looks forward to uniting with Egypt "in a union which will be the nucleus for total Arab unity."

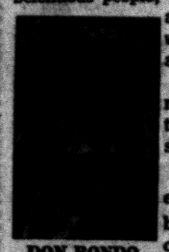
Don Rondo Sings Defense of DJs

By DICK KLEINER

NEW YORK (NEA) — Play a little soft music, maestro, while Don Rondo says some nice things about disc jockies. The DJs often take a beating, being accused of everything from taking money to ruining the musical tastes of a nation.

But Don, whose current song is the big hit, "White Silver Sands," disagrees. First of all, Don thinks the DJs are "hard-working, conscientious people, who reflect the musical likes and dislikes of their audiences, who recognize talent when they hear it and who know a good song when they hear it."



DON RONDO

SAMMY DAVIS JR.

Don feels that DJs wield a tremendous influence, especially on the budding careers of young singers.

"Disc jockies," he says, "often encourage listeners to go out and buy records. And they help a newcomer gain a foothold by bringing his name to public attention."

Since DJs are grass roots individuals, Rondo thinks their advice on musical trends is invaluable. He says he's often received suggestions and guidance from them and he considers them "shrewd, intelligent showmen."

Rondo, a tall, good-looking ex-plumber from Massachusetts, refutes the charges that disc jockies do nothing for public service. He cites case after case of DJs who are good citizens — a Philadelphia man who gives his extra records to a home for girls, a national DJ organization that works for the rehabilitation of youngsters, a Minneapolis DJ group that is trying to combat juvenile delinquency.

As for them taking money — payola — Rondo says he's never been asked for a payoff in return for playing his record.

"Naturally," he says, "I may send them a Christmas gift to show my appreciation and friendship, but cash? They've never asked me for any."

So there you have Don Rondo's tribute to disc jockies. And he's very sincere about it, too.

Decca is going in big for biographical albums. First was Guy Lombardo, now Louis Armstrong and coming is one on Sammy Davis, Jr. Sammy will put his 29 years in show business on two 12-inch LPs, talking and singing. He'll discuss the show business greats he knew—and imitate many of them. He'll sing some of his songs, do some of his better-known routines.

Incidentally, you may find it hard to believe that Davis has been in show business for 29 years. He has—even though he's only 31 now.

Dick's Picks: It may not be a million-seller, but the odds are you'll enjoy Eartha Kitt's "Yomme, Yomme" on RCA. Others: "Dedicated To You" (The Hilltoppers, Dot); "I'm Innocent" (Dolores Gray, Capitol); "Hey Babe" (The Cleftones, Ge); "September Song" (Bill Heyer, Cabot); "Bank Frank" (Bob Jaxon, RCA); "Kingdom of Love" (The Four Voices, Columbia); "How About That?" (The Four Preps, Capitol); "You Can't Get Lovin'" (Johnny Maddox, Dot).

A big, fat must for any Louis Armstrong fan is the beautiful "Satchmo—A Musical Autobiography" on Decca. It has four records, magnificent pictures, some good text (and some, unfortunately, not so good) but through it all is the happy spirit and great jazz of Armstrong. Most of the numbers are newly-recorded, which may insult the purists but does make for better sound. All in all, a fine set.

RCA has issued "La Perichole," the Offenbach opera that was revived at the Metropolitan Opera last season. This is the Met company on the new recording, complete with the surprising presence of Cyril Ritchard. Patrice Munsel and Theodor Uppman sing the lead roles. It's all very sprightly and even opera haters might enjoy it—opera lovers surely will.

Railroad Stations Busy

NEW YORK—More than 500,000 railway passengers enter or leave New York City each day through the Grand Central and Pensylvania terminal stations, according to current estimates.

More NATO Sacrifice Asked

Dulles Sees Threat of Intensive Russian Military Buildup

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles says the United States and its Atlantic Pact allies must continue to make sacrifices to meet the threat of an intensive Russian military buildup.

This means maintaining military units in Europe and contributing new weapons to North Atlantic Treaty members, Dulles said.

He made the filmed statement for a new series of television programs dealing with the Atlantic Alliance. It was released yesterday.

The secretary said a second basic reason for NATO is that "we everywhere must try to develop the unity and the dynamism of the free world. It is not enough just to be militarily secure . . . We must be certain that freedom continues to exert an influence in the world because it produces so much for human good . . ."

★ ★ ★

Dulles said the present NATO structure provides "an effective force in being." But he added: "We still have some serious problems: The shield of these forces is not yet sufficiently strong; an integrated air defense warning system is only today in process of being constructed, and we face the problem of equipping all of the NATO forces with advanced defensive weapons."

Girard Case Watched Closely

Judge Faces Tough Task

By INTERNATIONAL NEWS SERVICE

The Japanese judge who will preside over the manslaughter trial of Army Specialist 3/C William S. Girard starting today faces the toughest assignment of his life—and he knows it.

The verdict and sentence Judge Yuzo K a w a c h i passes on the Streator, Ill., soldier will be by far the most important of his career.

MILD MANNER

In Japanese legal circles, this mild-manner jurist has a reputation for fairness and, according to one confidante, "tends toward leniency."

At 50, the tall, balding and bespectacled judge with the serious countenace could—minus his black robes—pass for the local family doctor.

Kawachi graduated from law school of Tokyo's Hosei University, became a judge in 1931 and during World War II he was a civil administrative official in Java, then occupied by Japan. In 1945, Kawachi went to Singapore to serve as defense counsel for Japanese war criminals tried by British courts.

RETURNED TO JAPAN

In 1947 he returned to Japan and since then has held his present post as district judge in Maebashi, where the Girard trial will be held.

It is not by his own choice that Kawachi will preside at the Girard case. Of the three district judges at Maebashi the assignment fell to him on the basis of a rotation system.

Privately, Kawachi says he is unhappy about all the publicity over Girard. He remarked complainingly in a recent interview that "Maebashi and the Girard case have become questions on television quiz programs."

If anything, the publicity has made the 50-year-old judge more non-communicative—and s t e r n—than his normal self.

A stickler for decorum, he decreed in no uncertain terms a severe set of ground rules for reporters and warned any violation would result in prompt expulsion from the courtroom.

Under Japanese law, Girard could get from two to 15 years imprisonment if found guilty.

And since Japan lacks a jury system, the decision falls primarily on Kawachi, and to a lesser degree his two associate judges.

Of one thing Kawachi is most certain. "The trial," he remarked with simplicity and brevity, "will be fair."

Two AF Lieutenants Bail Out of Jet Safely

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two Air Force lieutenants bailed out of their stricken jet trainer and landed safely in Chesapeake Bay late last night, an Air Force spokesman said today.

The two were identified as Lt. G. K. Bowling and Lt. G. Williams, both of the 3594th Combat Crew Training Squadron, Nellis Air Force Base, Las Vegas, Nev.

The spokesman said the T33 jet trainer had refueled at Andrews Air Force Base here before taking off for Greenville, Miss.

A Weather Forecasting Station in Upper Space

Interesting possibilities have come out of Maj. DAVID G. SIMONS' balloon flight to a 102,000 foot altitude. While nineteen miles above the earth's surface, the Air Force doctor-pilot recorded scientific observations.

★ ★ ★

A similar, pressurized recording station, large enough to house four or five men, is feasible, he reported, following his descent. Such a weather station could make accurate forecasts of weather for half the nation, he declared.

Maj. Simons reported that he could see tremendous distances from his record high point of observation above Brainerd, Minnesota. At one point he could see the western shore of Lake Michigan, some four hundred and fifty miles away.

★ ★ ★

He could see many thunderstorms which could not be seen by observers from the ground. Maj. SIMONS made his observations under great difficulty, for as a one man "band" he had to operate the many facilities which had been provided to safeguard his life in the rarified upper atmosphere, in addition to manning the scientific instruments which were the primary purpose of his ascent.

★ ★ ★

That is what gives importance to his prediction that a four or five man, high altitude, weather station is feasible. One or two of the men in such a station could handle the gadgets designed to safeguard the observers, while the others could concentrate all their attention on the scientific business at hand.

★ ★ ★

Step by step, man is broadening his knowledge and increasing his ability to conquer space. Maj. Simons' courageous ascent provides a bright page in human progress. He risked his life to help push back the mysteries of the skies.

Tariff Act Ignored

Hearings have been held in both the House and Senate involving bills to put a sliding excise tax on imported lead and zinc.

The proposed tariff would be effective whenever the prices fall below 17 and 14.5 cents respectively. Lead and zinc producers apparently need some help although a year ago prices were high and there even was fear of a shortage.

★ ★ ★

The method of relief chosen, however, would establish the precedent of by-passing procedures under the escape clause in the Reciprocal Trade Agreement Act. It also would violate the United States obligation under the General Agreements on Tariff and Trade not to impose this excise tax on imported goods without similarly taxing the same goods from domestic sources.

★ ★ ★

Opponents of the bill say it will damage America's trade relations around the world. About 40 percent of our lead and 65 percent of our zinc requirements are supplied by Canada, Mexico, Peru and Australia. Last year Canada's trade deficit with this country amounted to $1.3 billion. To lesser extents the same is true of the other countries.

★ ★ ★

The President of the Committee for a National Trade Policy had this to say about the measure:

"It will not only open up the floodgates to appeals from all industries in a similar situation, but will in effect repudiate the long established and oft renewed trade agreements act and the basic trade policies contained therein which have been followed for so many years."

Even though there may be some distress in the affected industries the appeal for redress is misdirected. The escape clause of the Reciprocal Trade Agreements Act should have been invoked.

EVEN though the scientist may be right who says that in ten centuries man will have no teeth, it is doubted if he will gum up things then more than he's doing now.

The Man About Town

It Wasn't So Easy

Automobile Not Accepted Without a Few Misgivings

Oakland: A great county; also a great car that became greater when the county seat took over.

This golden anniversary brings recollections of some difficulty to now living at Drayton Plains. He worked on the first Oakland cars, and remembers there was some complaint about Pontiac streets being used as a proving ground. He says they even raced with the horses.

A farmer near Rochester always carried a gun when he drove his horses on the highway, and laid it across his knees when he met a car. Out Mt. Clemens St. was a place where the autos got stuck in the mud, and a farmer near there built up quite a racket in using his team to pull them out—at a standard charge of two dollars. The highway commissioner ran a road scraper over the place and filled up the ruts, but the farmer dug them out again, and raised the price to $2.50. He created our first detour.

A woman on West Howard St. claimed the noise of the factory and cars frightened her chickens so the hens laid smaller eggs, and she wrote the management, "The likes of you and Henry Ford are driving the nation crazy."

MEMBER OF AUDIT BUREAU OF CIRCULATIONS

Green Thumb

David Lawrence Says:

New Rights Bill an Act of Infamy

WASHINGTON — This may turn out to be the week that future historians will call "the week of infamy" in American history. For this is the week in which an intolerant majority in Congress is to take away one of the most important rights given to the states by the Constitution.

LAWRENCE

In fact the Federal government now is to become the policeman authorized by a law—in disregard of the Constitution—to arrest and put in jail not only those local officials of the states who seek to obey the voting procedures as set forth in their state laws but those individuals who allegedly influence improperly the votes of other persons.

Nearly 20 years ago the late William E. Borah of Idaho, a great progressive and perhaps the greatest of the "liberals" of this century—a man who first achieved fame as a lawyer for organized labor and who recently was named as one of the 15 deserving honorable mention for the Hall of Fame of the United States Senate—made a historic speech when the same basic principle now at stake in "civil rights" legislation was up for debate in connection with an anti-lynching bill. He said to the Senate:

"I make no contention but that the Fourteenth Amendment has forever placed it beyond the power of any state to deny any person the equal protection of the laws, or to deprive any person of life, liberty, or property without due process.

"I recognize also that the state acts and speaks through its officers, legislative, judicial and executive. I am not going to take refuge in technicalities, but I contend for what I believe to be a fundamental principle, and that is that while you may call a state thus acting and thus speaking to account, you cannot take jurisdiction over or deal with acts and needs not done by the authority and by the direction of the state. It must at all times be state action.

"You cannot deal with acts under the Fourteenth Amendment not done by and under the authority and direction of the state. The dereliction of an officer in violation of the laws of the state, in disregard of the sworn duty exacted of him by the state, and subject to punishment by the laws of the state, cannot by any possible construction, either in law or in conscience, be the act of the state.

UNDERMINE THE STATES

"To establish any such principle would be to undermine and break down the integrity of every state of the union. If a state may not be entrusted exclusively with the authority and relied upon to exercise the authority to punish those who violate its own laws, public or private persons, then there is no such thing as local government, because the state is deprived of the very instrumentality by which it maintains state integrity."

The new "civil rights" legislation is aimed at local officials who in spite of state laws which say to them that they must not discriminate nevertheless are alleged to be denying Negroes the vote. It is aimed also at any individual who exercises any influence that can be described by the words "intimidate, threaten, coerce," or "attempts to coerce," in voting.

But who is to say that in the many heated discussions between individuals during modern campaigns, the influence actively exerted by precinct workers for labor unions or by employers or by committees formed by other groups, including church organizations, is not an attempt sometimes "to coerce" by "causing" a person to vote for one candidate as against another?

There is to be no assurance, either, of a jury trial. Only if the penalty given at the trial by the judge is beyond 45 days imprisonment is a jury trial to be required when a defendant requests it.

★ ★ ★

Thus are rights of the states taken away "under color of law" which really means under the totalitarian doctrine that "the end justifies the means." It's a sad chapter in American history.

(Copyright, 1957)

Dr. William Brady Says:

Say What You Choose, It's Still Just Rheumatiz

A medical colleague who is on the staff of a large hospital's "arthritis clinic" writes:

"Please do not introduce any new terms. We have enough trouble teaching our internes and residents the old ones. As a matter of fact rheumatism is never used as a diagnosis any more because it does not describe either an anatomical or a pathological lesion. (—, M.D.).

DR. BRADY

Maybe it is clear enough to internes and residents, but I confess I can't understand how an anatomical lesion would differ from a pathological one.

★ ★ ★

The doctor then describes what he calls chronic arthritis of the degenerative type, "more properly called an arthrosis."

Type, my eye! Classifying cases of rheumatiz — that is, degeneration of joint tissues — by "types" is just pretentious skullduggery practiced by doctors who don't really know what ails the patient.

Introduce new terms?

I'm trying to introduce just one term—rheumatiz, for degeneration of joint tissues. This one term would identify 95 per cent of all chronic joint disability. The other 5 per cent of cases would be joint damage by injury or strain — which calls for surgical or orthopedic treatment; and comparatively rare cases of specific infection, which may be called arthritis.

That's all — rheumatiz, trauma and, very rarely, arthritis. What other kind of chronic (a year or more in duration) joint disability is there to argue about?

My reproving colleague offers this gratuitous comment: "You are correct in stating that the arthritis of older people is one associated with a degenerating or aging process affecting the whole organism."

My colleague is wrong in assuming I said any such thing. He put his own words in my mouth. Come hell or high water he — and a hundred thousand other leading physicians — are hopelessly committed and they must maintain the myth of "arthritis" lest their patients change doctors.

If all this is crazy and confusing, perhaps you should study the subject further — send 35c and stamped, self-addressed envelope for booklet Chronic Joint Disability. This is a free country and you may go on calling your chronic joint disability "arthritis" if you prefer the $5 name to the $1.80 name rheumatiz.

★ ★ ★

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped, self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

The Country Parson

"A fellow shouldn't need future rewards to get him to do what's right—he ought to do right because it's right right now."

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Crane Tells of Prodigal Politicians

Ada's worry is simply a modern version of what Thomas Jefferson had in mind when he warned that we must "prevent the government from wasting the labors of the people, under the pretense of caring for them." Beware of Prodigal Sons in politics, and urge your boys to carry newspaper routes!

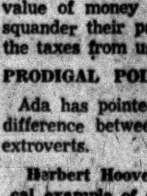
By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case V-373: Ada M., aged 29, teaches a teen-age Sunday school class.

"Dr. Crane, I'm especially interested in the Prodigal Son," Ada began.

★ ★ ★

"Many of our present politicians seem to be like him. For they are glib talkers.



DR. CRANE

"But they keep running us further into debt. Why is it that people who are smooth talkers often seem unable to balance their budgets?

"And the people who know how to save money, seldom are good talkers?

"Wouldn't it be wonderful if politicians also were good bookkeepers:

★ ★ ★

"How can we teach children the value of money so they will not squander their parents' wealth or the taxes from us citizens?"

PRODIGAL POLITICIANS

Ada has pointed out a common difference between introverts and extroverts.

Herbert Hoover was a classical example of an introvert. He knew how to operate a business or a government according to banking and business rules. He was an efficiency expert.

But he wasn't popular because he was an introvert. He didn't kiss babies or glad-hand the public. He couldn't sway audiences with silver-tongued oratory.

So he went into a decline, though history is proving his wisdom and will doubtless give him a top place among American presidents.

★ ★ ★

Herbert Hoover was thus like the Prodigal Son's older brother. The later worked dutifully and helped his father earn the wealth which the Prodigal Son then wheedled from his pater.

Alas, politicians are too often like that Prodigal Son; They seldom have achieved business success in their own right before they enter politics.

No, they have developed the habit of trying to talk their way into elective jobs where the taxpayers then must support them.

MENE, MENE, TEKEL

American statesmen like Senator Byrd, are already seeing the handwriting on the wall.

Biblical Daniel was asked to interpret the "Mene, Mene, Tekel, Upharsin" which was written miraculously on the wall during the drunken feast of King Belshazzar.

★ ★ ★

Daniel told Belshazzar it meant his kingdom was finished:

American spendthrift politicians in legislative assemblies at both the state and national level are almost as blind as Belshazzar.

For 10,000,000 American voters are definitely feebleminded. Yet they can still make their "X" on a ballot, even if they are unable to read.

And rank politicians of both parties appeal to them with glib promises of ever-increasing gifts, more welfare benefits, etc.

Even if the politicians can't deliver, they simply vary their promise at the next election. For those feebleminded soon forget the past and again vote for the glowing promises of the present.

★ ★ ★

You readers of this column are highly intelligent Americans with an I.Q. decidedly above average, for only such people are likely to read editorial features in newspapers.

So you must face up to reality. Our Republic is on the skid. Statism and socialism from Washington, D.C. are already about 50 per cent.

And part of the fault lies with parents who fail to teach their kids the meaning of money;

Be grateful to the Circulation Managers of our newspapers who do train 500,000 boys each year in how to earn their own spending money.

★ ★ ★

Would that every child had to serve an internship of a least one full year as a newspaper carrier, just to obtain this invaluable training in our "free enterprise" system. It should be a requirment for political candidates, too;

For Uncle Sam is degenerating into a paternalistic papa who is placing more millions every year on an "allowance" under the ruse of welfare aid.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 25c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Reducing Price of Cars Won't Stop Inflation Rise

Listening to Reuther on the Garroway show I thought does he think just reducing car prices will stop inflation. While cars are a necessity for the average employe, there are still more important necessities such as food, clothing and fuel.

Twenty years ago men were paid not by union order, or told when to work or strike. The farmer got his own rightful share of milk and other produce. The consumer could buy at his ability to purchase.

Mr. and Mrs. Taxpayer, let us get rid of these encumbrances. Let's get rid of the seat of the trouble, because right now we can't afford to be born, to be sick, to eat, to keep warm or to die.

Students Visiting China at Very Interesting Time

By JOHN H. MARTIN
INS Foreign Director

The 41 Americans who defied state department regulations and went from Moscow to Peiping are getting a warm, back-slapping reception from the Chinese.

The Americans are not expected to get a true picture of conditions in Communist China. They are on a conducted, official tour, for one thing.

But they are inside China at a particularly interesting time and one on which American newsmen hope to report soon.

Political and economic troubles besieged the Peiping leaders. Anti-Communist criticism became surprisingly vehement after Mao Tse-tung's February speech encouraging it. That was the famous appeal to "Let a hundred flowers blossom" and "Let a hundred schools of thought contend."

But this cheng feng, or rectification, campaign stopped this summer at the provincial level—by order of worried Peiping authorities.

CRITICISM BLOOMED

Despite that order, reports from inside China show that the anti-Communist criticism extended into many country areas. Farmers demanded the return of seized property and teased peasants for being forced to pay in taxes twice what they once paid in rent to their former landlords.

There have been strikes in agricultural cooperatives and attacks on officials. Some disorders promptly were labeled "counter-revolutionary" activity and there have been executions of anti-Communists.

To some observers Mao's speech merely was a lure to coax hidden enemies into the open.

On the economic side the Chinese people just have been given the bad news that, beginning Sept. 1, the cloth ration has been cut for most people to 18½ feet annually. This is enough for one suit of cotton cloth or two shirts, with a little left over. The previous ration averaged just over 24 feet.

Shortages are not confined to cotton, but also grain and foodstuffs. A bad harvest and natural disasters such as floods and drought are the official explanations of the shortages.

Graham Leaves Many 'Spiritual Babies' in New York

(Evangelist Billy Graham winds up his biggest crusade this week in New York. What has he achieved? Following is the first of four articles by a famed reporter describing Graham's effects on New York; providing a penetrating new look at Graham, telling what one of Graham's converts thinks.)

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK (INS)—Billy Graham came to New York to feed the souls "starving for God" and to dim out the Devil, which traditionally glitters strongest under the bright lights.

For 89 nights he has pleaded, and for 89 days he has prayed, and now he is packing up his Bibles to leave . . . to be replaced, in Madison Square Garden, by the "Ice-Capades."

LEAVES GIFTS

The powerful evangelist bequeaths two gifts to this polyglot town:

A dedicated fellowship of more than 50,000 "spiritual babies," newly converted to Christ, commissioned to spread love and battle sin.

And an all-new concept and privilege to the people of New York—to discuss religion without smirking, attend church without apology and read the Bible without feeling vaguely like a fanatic.

Billy Graham has not succeeded in clothing New York in purity with his tempting promises of heaven, and his threats of a certain hell for the godless. Hardly that. Having not quite convinced New York that the Devil is totally without a certain lovable charm, he has not stopped the cocktails from flowing; the theater remains punctuated with non-ecclesiastical epithets; the secular lights still dazzle the tote boards, and many men continue to sin on Saturday and pay the church fine on Sunday.

SEARCH SOULS

But to many "smart and blase" New Yorkers, once afraid to mention God without being ridiculed, Billy Graham has made the contemplation of religion "the thing to do." Searching the soul and Bible for answers has become almost as popular as consulting a psychiatrist.

"The big thing about Billy Graham," said Dr. Ralph Sockman, pastor of Christ Church on wealthy Park Avenue, "is that nobody—nobody—ever laughs at him."

It is doubtful that any religious figure, excepting Pope Pius XII, could ever receive such attention from the people of New York. They may have raised brows and scoffed heartily when Graham came into Madison Square Garden for the first rally May 15, but the climate quickly changed.

ALL ATTENDED

Suddenly it seemed like every man's sister was attending crusade meetings regularly, and making a "Decision for Christ," and appearing almost divinely happy. The vice president of the corporation stopped snarling to clerks, and word got around he'd made a "decision."

Sect by sect, class by class, creed by creed, people began to join Graham—or at least talk about him—and the effect spread around the city—until finally it seemed to touch the lives of millions.

Millions remained, and remain, untouched by the old-time-religion, fire - and - glory approach of the evangelist. ("I doubt," said Sockman, "if Billy's form of theology would reach many people who are accustomed to my type of church.")

But when one observes a once miserable and disillusioned person wearing a blissful new countenance—one doesn't feel like laughing. One might even sneak into Madison Square Garden in dark glasses to see what it's all about.

And there he is, banked by a 1,500 voice choir that swells its melodic timbre to match the power of this tall, straight man with probing eyes who looks so alone, yet so strong. Hundreds of spotlights converge attentively on the taut frame in the tan suit, and the hush is so dramatic you can hear your conscience screaming aloud.

Then Billy speaks. In a rush, headlong, as if there is not time enough in these critical moments to spread his word . . . "The Bible teaches that there is nothing in your dead and sinful nature that can originate life. Being dead in sin, you cannot produce a life of righteousness.

"Many people are trying to produce a good, holy, righteous life without being born again, but they can do naught but fail. A corpse cannot generate life. Jesus even made it stronger.

"He said, 'YE MUST be born again.' "

And when he has finished, the time for decision has come. Billy is urgent, solid, sympathetic. He says, "You feel it, God is in you, you will be born again. Come, come, come forward and make your decision, the greatest decision of your life."

The listeners are transfixed. To some the quiet is terrifying. To many "the feeling came over," and these are the ones who, in small hesitant groups, or confident, even impatiently eager singles walk up to the great platform and are led away for consultation with Graham in the big cellar of the Garden.

These are the "spiritual babies," to whom the impeccably-organized, many-man Graham "team" will devote many hours in consultation and assistance.

★ ★ ★

"And that's exactly what they are—babies," Billy Graham explained to me solemnly. "Children of God. They must be nurtured with love and joy and tenderness."

When Billy Graham leaves town, he must put his faith in God and the more conventional church, to see that his babies don't slide back toward the Devil. In God, he trusts completely.

The church, however, can be a "bottleneck."

(Tomorrow: Billy Graham explains himself.)

Eye-Openers From Hal Boyle's Mail

Pleasure Wins Over Missions, 750 to 1

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

That the sternest test of whether you have real will power is this: Can you meet a friend with a black eye—and refrain from asking how he got it?

That a giraffe has no more bones in its neck than a sparrow.

That the letter of the word "tip" originally stood for "to insure promptness" but many people today give tips to waiters "to insure protection" against insults.

That more rain falls by night than by day.

That Harry Rolnick, the Texas hat magnate, predicts by the year 2,000 women will be wearing hornburgs.

That—here's a nice morsel for people who hate New York—Peter Minuit, who purchased Manhattan from the Indians for $24 and a cask of booze, later was fired by the Dutch for extravagance.

That Americans spend about $750 on personal pleasures for every dollar they give to religious missions.

★ ★ ★

That hogs are immune to poisonous snakes.

That women get some of their best ideas from men, and the petticoat proves this. The petticoat stems from a type of male waistcoat, or vest, worn by men centuries ago. The girls took off the buttons and anchored it from the waist instead of the shoulders.

That Grace Downs, dean of a school for air hostesses, tells her girls, "One good way to test your memory is to try to remember the things that worried you yesterday."

That the word "symposium," which too often today describes the dry-as-dust exchange of pious platitudes by pontifical pundits, has a noble origin. To the Greeks a symposium was "a drinkingparty," usually after a banquet.

That the ice cream cone is now 54 years old.

Teamsters Hold Closed Meeting

Leaders Plan Defense for Corruption Charges; Discuss Hoffa

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Top leaders of the Teamsters Union gointo of the Teamsters Union go into a secret session here today to map out a defense against charges of corruption and the possibility of the brotherhood's explusion from the AFL-CIO.

Aslo expected to be assessed during the union's Executive Board meeting are James R. Hoffa's chances of attaining the presidency of the 1,400,000-member organization.

★ ★ ★

The closed conference in a hotel suite may last three days or longer.

President Dave Beck, after lengthy investigation by the Senate Rackets Committee, announced he would not seek re-election.

Hoffa late last week finished a four-day period of questioning by the same committee, whose members accused him of misusing union funds and of allying himself with gangsters and hoodlums to enhance his own union power. He faces more questioning later.

Most local Teamsters' officials said they felt the Executive Board would determine whether Hoffa's investigation by the Senate committee would impede his chances of advancing from a vice presidency to the brotherhood's top spot.

Hoffa appeared jovial and unperturbed on his arrival yesterday. He scoffed at a suggestion that he might bow out of the race for president.

"I will be a candidate," he declared. "Members will make their own decision."

Beck's successor is to be named at the Teamsters' convention starting Sept. 30 in Miami Beach, Fla.

Hoffa, who was castigated by Senate investigators about the vagueness of his answers regarding his past associations with New York labor terrorist Johnny Dio, defended his position by asking a newsman: "Can you remember everything you did three years ago?"

Beck answered with "No comment" a barrage of questions from newsmen on his choice for a successor.

When asked directly if Hoffa was his choice, he replied: "He (Hoffa) would make a fine president."

Mamie Doing Fine; to Remain in Hospital

WASHINGTON (AP)—Mrs. Dwight D. Eisenhower is not expected to leave Walter Reed Army Hospital before the end of this week.

White House press secretary James C. Hagerty said the President's wife is "coming along fine" but repeated a statement he made last week that she "is not hurrying to get out of the hospital."

Mrs. Eisenhower underwent an operation Aug. 6. Hagerty said no date has been set for her to leave the hospital but that he would expect she would remain there all this week.

The First Lady is expected to accompany the President on a vacation at Newport, R.I., about the time Congress adjourns, which now looks like this weekend or later.

Resolutions Disapprove Students' Trip to China

ANN ARBOR, (INS) — The National Students Association is expected to vote to reproach the 41 American students who entered Red China.

The Association is meeting at the University of Michigan and resolutions have been drafted to disapprove action by students who attended the Moscow Youth Festival and those who went to China. Two Detroit students were in the group that went to Red China.

One resolution brands the Youth Festival as an unproper means of exchanging students.

Reds Ask Refrigerators

MOSCOW (AP) — Pravda today called for more refrigerators. The Communist party newspaper said only 180 of the Soviet Union's 475 meat packing plants have refrigerators. It said at least 300,000 tons of refrigerators, both of the home and industrial type, were needed at once to reduce losses of meat and other foods.

Civil Rights Bill Cleared for House Action Tuesday

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House Rules Committee today voted 10-2 to clear the long-blocked civil rights bill for House action.

The committee vote overrode Chairman Howard W. Smith (D-Va) and Rep. Colmer (D-Miss) last-ditch opponents of the compromise measure, and paved the way for House action expected tomorrow.

★ ★ ★

Speedy House passage is expected for the measure which had been bottled up in the Rules Committee since Senate passage Aug. 7.

The meeting of the Rules Committee was forced by seven members because Chairman Smith had refused to call a session of the committee.

Under House rules, a majority of a committee can force a meeting when the chairman does not call one

The committee voted to clear the measure in the compromise form approved by congressional leaders of both parties last Friday.

Then it will be up to the House whether to go along with the committee's decision.

If that happens, as expected, then the Senate is expected to agree to the compromise bill too, and send it to the White House. It would become the first civil rights law since Reconstruction days.

★ ★ ★

Smith announced that Rep. Madden (D-Ind), a supporter of the bill, will handle it on the House floor. Smith said:

"The committee wanted it assigned to somebody who favored it, and that's what I did."

When the bill comes up in the House, debate will be limited to one hour.

Today's meeting of the 12-man Rules Committee was forced when Rep. Hugh Scott (R-Pa) signed a call for a meeting previously signed by six Democrats.

Training Plane Hits Small Mining Town

PITTSBURGH (AP)—An Air Force training plane, crashed into the small mining community of Clinton five miles west of Greater Pittsburgh Airport today, setting fire to two houses.

First reports from the scene were that the plane which crashed was a jet. However the Civil Aeronautics Administration office at the airport said the plane was a propeller-driven T28 en route from Pittsburgh to Youngstown, Ohio.

Occupants of the homes apparently escaped injury.

The burned body of a man, apparently the pilot of the plane, was found at the scene.

Will Press Plan for Cut in Prices

Reuther Will Analyze Reasons Big 3 Gave for Rejecting Proposal

DETROIT (AP) — United Auto Workers President Walter P. Reuther says he will press his inflation-fighting plan to cut 1958 car pices at least $100 despite the fact that the auto industry's Big Three have rejected it.

Reuther says he plans to issue his own analysis early this week of the reasons given by Ford Motor Co., General Motors Corp. and Chrysler Corp. for turning down his proposal to cut car prices in return for a UAW promise to modify contract demands in mid-1958.

★ ★ ★

Ford joined GM and Chrysler over the weekend in rejecting Reuther's bid for a joint union-management effort to curb inflation.

Henry Ford II told the United Auto Workers president, in effect, the same thing GM and Chrysler said: "Ford pricing policies are not a subject for collective bargaining."

Agreeing with Reuther that inflation is a serious problem, the Ford president said, however, "We will not solve the problem with propaganda broadsides."

Ford and Chrysler's refusal, which ran along the same pattern as General Motors, failed to suggest as GM did that present three-year contracts be extended two years as a "contribution to economic stability."

Reuther promised unidentified concessions in the union's contract talks with the Big Three next year if prices were cut.

★ ★ ★

Ford told Reuther in a statement that his proposal amounts to this:

"If Ford Motor Co., this fall, will absorb the cost increases during 1957 and then also reduce the average price of its 1958 model cars $100 below the average 1957 model price, we at UAW in our contract negotiations with Ford next summer—nine months later—will take this into consideration in our demands and we may not ask as much in the way of increased wages and increased fringe benefits as otherwise will be the case."

★ ★ ★

Ford told Reuther, "Suppose I were to say to you: 'If you will accept an immediate reduction in wages to the levels prevailing at the introduction of our 1957 models, we will take this into consideration in determining how much we will increase prices of our 1958 models.'"

Road Workers Save Stranded U.S. Tourists

MASSEY, Ont. (AP) — Highway workers built a temporary bridge over the Sauble River, allowing 16 stranded American tourists to return to Michigan yesterday.

The river's wooden bridge collapsed Thursday when a lumber truck fell through the 30-foot structure. The site is 50 miles north of here and 53 miles west of Sudbury.

★ ★ ★

The truck dropped into shallow water and waw hauled to safety. The driver was not injured.

The tourists were in no danger. They had been holidaying at a lodge and were waiting to return to Michigan by way of Sault Ste. Marie.

Steering Fails, Car Hits Tree Injuring Occupant

A faulty steering mechanism caused an accident Sunday morning which sent James C. Taylor, 18, of 604 Bloomfield Ave., to the hospital.

Taylor was a passenger in a car driven by Woodroe Lampley, 33, of 604 Bloomfield, which hit a tree on Fern, near Bloomfield.

Lampley told Pontiac police he lost control on a curve when his car's steering mechanism failed. Taylor is in satisfactory condition today at Pontiac General Hospital with lacerations of the left eye lid.

Must Get Truth, Then Write It

Dual Challenge Faces American Reporters in Red China

Newsmen BJT — 2 gals

Spencer Davis is a veteran of first-hand reporting in China. He covered the Pacific and Far East for the Associated Press from 1943 to 1950, was assigned to China and Manchuria in September, 1945, and to Manila the following year. Currently he is an Asian specialist for The Associated Press World Service, assigned to Washington.

By SPENCER DAVIS

WASHINGTON (AP) — American newsmen entering Communist China for the first time in eight years will be faced by a dual challenge.

That at least is the opinion today of an Asian diplomat who has won highest honors in journalism and diplomacy—Brig. Gen. Carlos P. Romulo, Philippine ambassador to Washington and representative on the U.N. Security Council.

"The success of their mission will depend upon whether the American newsmen dig out the truth and whether Communist China will allow the truth to be told," Romulo said in an interview. "It's a challenge on both counts."

Romulo was awarded the Pulitzer Prize for the dispatches he filed on a swing through Asia in the critical pre-war year of 1940. He crossed the newly opened Burma road from Rangoon to Chungking to report on conditions inside China during the undeclared war with Japan.

★ ★ ★

"Anything that makes for the unimpeded flow of information should be welcome," Romulo said.

"This will show whether Communist China really means to give the world a chance to know what is happening there by giving these men every facility for gathering news.

"It will also show the American press wants to get the truth."

Romulo said he was speaking as a former president for the Freedom of Information Conference, held in Geneva in 1948, rather than in his diplomatic capacity.

★ ★ ★

Correspondents who have covered China agree that the challenge of presenting a balanced, factual report is formidable.

The language barrier, dependence on interpreters, lack of communications and travel facilities in remoter areas, the general isolation of foreigners even in Peiping and urban centers are all hurdles made even tougher by rigid Communist controls and a powerful propaganda machine.

★ ★ ★

Recognition of this is shown by the selection of the first contingent of the 24 newsmen picked to enter the country. Virtually all are seasoned reporters in their 30's, 40's or 50's, with years of Far East and Chinese experience to serve as their frame of reference. Some can speak Mandarin, others are familiar with a number of dialects.

For the Westerner, China can be bewilderingly complex.

For example, in 1945 Chinese reports in Nanking said Peiping, then held by the Nationalists, was under siege by the Communists. American correspondents in Peiping checking this report circled the city's massive pink walls, rode by train to Tientsin without interference, explored the countryside in vain. They sent a belated dispatch to their papers and news agencies that the siege report was exaggerated.

★ ★ ★

Weeks later it appeared the original Chinese information was correct. The shadowy Communist 8th Route Army was slowly applying an economic squeeze on Peiping by holding up supplies in the hinterland. There had appeared to be no tangible evidence of this when the news was first published.

The challenge of reporting in China likely has not lessened under its Communist masters.

Reports Stress Fallout Danger

AEC in Washington, Scientists in Palo Alto Point Up Hazards

WASHINGTON (AP)—The peril of atomic fallout has been emphasized again in separate reports from opposite ends of the nation.

In Washington yesterday, the Senate-House Atomic Energy Committee released a cautiously worded summary of testimony suggesting that continuance of nuclear tests at present rates could endanger future generations.

★ ★ ★

In Palo Alto, Calif., a group of experts said the peril point could be reached in 1870, and may already have been reached in some parts of the world.

★ ★ ★

The reports pointed up the continuing controversy over the known and unknown dangers of fallout—the deadly shower of radioactivity thrown out by nuclear explosions.

Members of the American Institute of Biological Science, meeting in Palo Alto, said American, British and Russian nuclear tests now are spreading about 10 million tons of radioactive material over the earth every year.

The congressional committee's report was hedged with many scientific reservations expressed in conflicting testimony taken in fallout hearings last May and June.

Can Teenage Terrorists Behind Bars Be Made Into Law-Abiding Citizens?

By WARD CANNEL

ELMIRA, N.Y. (NEA) — This is the town where Mark Twain died, convinced that the awful truth about life was despair. This is the town where many of New York City's convicted juvenile thugs are sent for classification, some of them to remain to serve sentences.

The old guard, patrolling the manicured lawn of the Elmira Reception Center and Reformatory, said bitterly:

"When I signed on as a guard inside here 35 years ago, it was all silence and file. Today it's a play house. Those gang kids in there wouldn't think twice about beating up a cop. But you lay a hand on them and it's your job."

GATES BARRED

Inside, behind gate after barred gate, is a clear view of the crisis in New York's — and America's correctional system.

Every cell is filled. Iron bedsteads line the corridors to hold the overflow of young offenders —17 per cent more this year than last.

These are some of our 16-to-21 age group who have come to pay an uncertain price for their lethal defiance of conscience, law and human life. The remainder who are not in other correctional institutions still roam the city streets with their knives, razor blades, bats, guns, whips belts, chains.

PRISON CROWDED

With most prisons desperately overcrowded with young hoodlums judges must think twice about handing down a jail sentence. And so the youthful offender, full of deadly high spirits, stands a better than even chance of getting off with a reprimand in the custody of his parents.

Of all criminals, these grim children are usually considered by correctional experts to be the most reclaimable as useful citizens. On paper anyway.

The facts, however, about any 100 young people in jail are:

1. At least 99 will be released after an average of 18.5 months.
2. At least 63 will be back again on another conviction.

★ ★ ★

"It's hard to believe that the per capita crime rate will decrease," said Federal Prison Director James V. Bennett, "in view of the increasing number of cars, great mobility of our youth, rising divorce rates, increasing group tensions and other contributing factors.

"Projecting present trends, I estimate facilities will have to be found for 250,000 felony prisoners by 1975."

Statistics show that one out of three of these convicts will be young people.

★ ★ ★

In the offices of one of the nation's leading prison architects, LaPierre Litchfield, partner Clarence Litchfield points with wry pride to blueprints of a new maximum security prison for Lebanon, Ohio.

"It's a well designed fortress," he said. "It represents years of experience, study and building. It's a prison that needs the fewest number of supervisors and administrators per number of prisoners. But it's also the least susceptible to programming. This is the kind of prison where convicts do time."

One of the sharpest indictments of the nation's correctional system comes in the breathless anger of Gen. Charles Brandon Booth of the Volunteers of America.

★ ★ ★

For a lifetime of experience in volunteer prison work, Gen. Booth watched young convicts file into the Elmira Reformatory chapel.

"Our economics are wrong," he said. "Take a young carpenter who has committed a crime. He used to make $24 a day. But here is skill is worthless.

"It's worthless to his family who now needs charity. It's worthless to whomever he injured because he can't pay for his crime. And it's worse for society because we have to spend between $850 and $1,600 a year to keep him jailed.

"And we never teach him that despite his imprisonment he owes society his living."

In its most practical terms, the problem of dealing with these "most reclaimable" criminals was stated by an Elmira guard:

"Look at those cells. Radios. Pictures. Clean sheets. In a couple of years they'll have television. We're taking the fear out of prison and what does that leave you? I'll tell you: A bunch of kids who rush to shake hands with Frank Costello when he comes out of jail."

The guard's opinion, once unpopular, is gaining ground. A New York psychiatrist (who carries an illegal switchblade knife when he walks city streets) put it this way from his experience with juveniles:

ROUGH THEM UP

"The best therapy for these anti-social kids is force. Rough them up regularly. Let the police use nightsticks on them. There won't be any need to send them to jail. They'll have lost their value to their gangs and to themselves."

From the general secretary of the American Correctional Association, Edward Cass, comes the sorry lesson of experience:

"When we're threatended by personal jeopardy or excited by a prison riot, we scream for action. Out of jeopardy and with our mind on other problems, we are content to send criminals to jail and them rot."

The result is a nation badly in need of more prisons. And Federal Prison Director Bennett saying again and again: "Re-examination of America's outmoded correctional concepts is long overdue."

★ ★ ★

And from prison architect Litchfield:

"I'll make it even stronger. Either we change our approach or we'll have more correctional institutions than cemeteries."

Next: Correction.

U. of M. to Cost Student at Least $1,134 First Year

ANN ARBOR (INS) — The University of Michigan says the freshman year in the coming semester will cost state students at least $1,434.

Out-of-state residents, accordind to figures compiled by Assistant Dean of Men Ivan W. Parker, will face basic expenses of $1,484 for their first year.

Wife Sues Palance

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The wife of actor Jack Palance has sued for separate maintenance, charging that he beat her, was habitually intemperate and committed adultery. Mrs. Virginia Baker Palance, former stage actress, asked $4,500 a month support for herself and $1,000 a month for each of their three children. They were wed in New York in 1949.

The average man's whiskers grow about one-half inch a month, or six inches a year.

French Director to 'Remarry' Wife

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Film director Jean Renoir and his second wife have taken out a license for their remarriage — a safety measure for their pending visit to France.

★ ★ ★

Renoir, 62, is the son of the late French impressionist painter, Pierre Auguste Renoir. The director and his wife, Dido, 50, ran into difficulty the last time they visited France, officials at the Hall of Records said yesterday, because the French refused to recognize Renoir's 1942 California divorce from his first wife, Andree Madeleine Renoir, a former Paris actress.

So Renoir, already wed to Dido, then obtained a French divorce from Andree.

★ ★ ★

The Renoirs, when they go to France again, will be able to show authorities that they have been married since the director's French divorce from Andree. They did not say when the repeat ceremony will take place.

Senate Vote Today, Says Sen. O'Mahoney

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. O'Mahoney (D-Wyo) said the Senate will approve late today or tonight a bill making it clear that secret files of the FBI and other government agencies "are not open for fishing expeditions."

At the same time, O'Mahoney said in an interview, the legislation will retain the Supreme Court's basic theory that an individual facing criminal prosecution has the right to inspect FBI and other files pertaining to a government witness' testimony against him.

Both the Senate and House Judiciary Committee have approved bills designed to limit the scope of a controversial court ruling in the case of Clinton E. Jencks, a former union official convicted of falsely swearing he was not a Communist.

The court held June 3 that Jencks had a right to examine FBI files containing material furnished by government witnesses who testified against him, in an effort to impeach their testimony. The high court ordered a new trial for Jencks.

Since then several lower federal courts have ordered government agencies to open their confidential files or dismiss criminal charges. There are conflicts among these decisions.

Pending now in the Senate is a bill drafted by Atty. Gen. Brownell and since completely rewritten by O'Mahoney and the Senate Judiciary Committee. The newest version brings most parties to the dispute into near agreement. Under its provisions, federal judges would first inspect FBI files and could delete any material not relevant to the pending case. In case of an appeal, the entire file, including the deleted matter, would be sent to the higher courts.

If federal prosecutors decided against presenting the files, the testimony of the government witness would be stricken by the judge. Or the judge could declare a mistrial or order a dismissal of the case.

other day at Petropolis, near Rio, and the guide was telling us all about it.

"Lana Turner and Hedy Lamarr have visited here," proudly announced the guide.

"Oh yes—also President Eisenhower," he added as an afterthought.

WILSON

It wasn't surprising that they put Lana and Hedy ahead of Ike—for the Brazilians love movie stars more than politicians and generals.

Ava Gardner and Kim Novak are big lady box office favorites now. Eric A. Johnston, president of the Motion Picture Association of America, has been here doing the good-will bit. It's a pleasure to see him operate; he's such a "pro."

Glib and gallant, Johnston faced a crowd at an American Embassy reception in Rio given by Ambassador Briggs and spoke willingly.

"I am glad to be back in this country where there are so many beautiful women," he declared . . . "and so few handsome men."

★ ★ ★

Elvis Presley's popular here—Ava Gardner is their doll because she's what they wish their brunettes would look like.

Johnston and his representative in Brazil — young Harry Stone, out in Evansville, Ind.—have one big problem.

The top theater admission price permitted in Rio is around 22c; in Sao Paulo, about 30c.

So pictures are slow getting here. Brazil, for example, is looking forward to seeing "Giant", but has hardly heard so far of "Around the World in 80 Days."

ALICIA MARQUEZ

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

Rex Harrison, just back from a Caribbean vacation, said, "It was so peaceful—no one asked me for tickets to 'My Fair Lady' " . . . Is Milton Berle leaving the William Morris office, after 31 years? . . . Tony Bennett's Columbia Records contract expires this week; two companies are scrambling for him . . . Leads Electronic Age; Files for New Patent

HOLLYWOOD, Calif. (AP) — This is the 84th birthday of Dr. Lee de Forest, the inventor who made radio broadcasting possible. His comment: "Now I'm shooting for 94."

★ ★ ★

The mere matter of years doesn't impress the man who paved the way for the electronic age by developing the three-element vacuum tube 51 years ago. Still physically active and young in spirit, he spends far more time inventing than he does worrying about his age.

His only concessions to the advancing years are an elevator in his home and—due mainly to a recent, shortlived spell of heart trouble—an early bedtime.

He still works four afternoons a week in the research lab he maintains in downtown Hollywood. And he also has a workshop and study at home.

The holder of some 300 patents, he filed for a new one about a month ago and is preparing to apply for another. Both deal with television. The one already in is for a projection tube.

★ ★ ★

Famous "firsts" credited to de Forest include the first wireless transmission over land (1904); the first broadcast (1907); the first use of radio knife in surgery (1907); the first feed-back, or oscillator circuit (1912); the first electromagnetic phonograph pickup (1916) and the first theatrical presentation of sound-on-film motion pictures (1916).

The furnaces of Pennsylvania's steel industry in the early years were fed by charcoal.

E. Burney, U.S. surgeon general, said today the presence of Asiatic flu in this country is not the start of germ warfare by the Communists.

"Is there any possibility that the Communists have planted these germs?" Burney was asked in a copyrighted interview in U.S. News & World Report, a weekly news magazine.

"No," he replied. "I don't believe that is a possibility. We have epidemics occasionally and have had them in the past."

★ ★ ★

"Could the entry of Asiatic flu into the United States have been prevented?" he was asked.

"No," Burney replied. "In the first place, there are many unapparent infections. In other words, you may have the influenza virus—carrying it around here now, and I couldn't detect it in you. That's No. 1.

"No. 2—There are about 1,800 people who disembark on the West Coast from the Pacific areas every day from planes, ships and otherwise. You can carry the virus and there's no way of detecting who has it and who doesn't have it."

★ ★ ★

Burney, asked whether he was quite certain the disease was going to come in epidemic proportions in this country, said: "Yes, on the basis of experiences with past epidemics and with its tremendous spread thus far throughout the world."

Burney estimated there are now 20,000 to 25,000 cases in the United States and that between 25 to 34 million persons ultimately may be affected.

"Would you say an individual should be alarmed about the outlook for Asiatic flu?" he was asked.

★ ★ ★

"No," Burney said. "As long as the virulence of the strain does not change—the disease does not become more severe—I think the individual does not have too much of a problem. I think the tremendous impact upon our community life and economy, by having a 15 to 20 per cent attack rate, is the important part.

Burney said the supply of vaccine is now relatively limited but that it is hoped enough vaccine for 60 million Americans will be available by Feb. 1.

Telephone Strike Put Off Temporarily

NEW YORK (AP) — Some 23,000 telephone equipment workers remained on the job in 43 states and the District of Columbia today as union and management negotiators sought to head off a threatened strike.

A one-year contract between the Western Electric Co., manufacturing arm of the Bell Telephone System, and the installers' unit of the Communications Workers of America expired last midnight.

However, after daylong negotiations yesterday, the union announced that it was withholding strike action until at least after today's scheduled meeting.

One Death Every 3 Hours Seen Labor Day Weekend

EAST LANSING (AP) — If past years are any indication, there will be a death on Michigan's highways every three hours over the Labor Day weekend, state police say.

An all-out attack on the prospective death toll is planned, however, as all pass days have been cancelled and more than 1,000 state police will be on duty.

In addition, 250 National Guardsmen will be on special traffic duty teamed with state police and sheriff's officers. The extra patrols will be on duty from 6 p.m. Friday until midnight Monday.

State police said the traffic toll has averaged one death every three hours over the Labor Day weekend for the past five years.

There were 34 persons killed last year over the Labor Day weekend. High tolls were recorded in 1952 and 1953, when 32 died in traffic accidents.

Police predicted an unusually heavy flow of traffic over the long weekend since many vacationers will be returning to their homes to enter children in school.

"Although our death total is down so far this year, the Labor Day weekend will test just how great the driver improvement has been," said Joseph A. Childs, state police commissioner.

There are 33 daily newspapers in New Zealand and five of them have circulations of 50,000 or more. New Zealand's population is about two million.

'20s Chain Purse Now Fashionable

By OLGA CURTIS

NEW YORK (INS) — The chain-handled reticule is coming back into style as an evening bag . . . and that should be mighty good news for men who hate having their dance partner rest her loaded purse on their neck.

"We only made two chain-handled evening pouches last season," says Sylvia Brightman, sales manager for a bag concern (Britemode). "Now we've got six different versions of the chain-handled bag."

The easy-to-carry bags, last popular back in the 1920's, are made of shiny duramesh brass in five, seven and nine-inch widths. Some are pear-shaped reticules of the metal mesh; others are triangle-bottomed pouches. All have brass frames, satin linings and brass chain handles about nine inches long.

ONLY FIVE OUNCES

Miss Brightman credits the revival of the chain-handled bag to a revival of ballroom dancing. She points out that the new gold or silver models weigh only five ounces and dangle easily from the elbow.

"If you ever had to carry a clutch bag onto the dance floor," she notes, "you appreciate a handle. And I guess women are tired of sacrificing convenience for style; they're asking for handles."

★ ★ ★

Bathroom Can Gleam Like Jewel

CHICAGO (INS)—Your bathroom can literally gleam like a jewel.

★ ★ ★

Fake, multi-colored gems are being studded into ceramic tile walls to give bathrooms a dramatic, sparkling touch.

However, the jewels, mounted on a field of white and gold, are designed to be used sparsely in bathrooms as an accent note only.

J. C. Larrimore, an executive with the tile manufacturing firm, recommends that the tiles be placed in spaced, random patterns among more conventional tiles. He said the jeweled tiles also are effective used as the frame for the mirror over the vanity.

★ ★ ★

The firm also makes other decorative tiles that are designed to be scattered on walls in a home's informal living areas.

A butterfly tile, for example, can be used in bathrooms, family rooms or patios. The stylized butterflies come in either pink with amethyst jeweled wings on gray or white backgrounds or in bright red or pink with white jeweled wings on gray or white backgrounds or in bright red or pink with white jeweled wings on an oatmeal background.

★ ★ ★

The tiles are available throughout the country but only through ceramic tile contractors.

Rep. Dwyer Started as Secretary

Elected New Jersey Representative and to U. S. Congress

By ANNETTE DAVIS
(For Jane Eads)

WASHINGTON—Rep. Florence P. Dwyer (R-NJ) finds serving in the Congress of the United States a "very challenging experience," particularly after seven years in the New Jersey State Legislature.

"While I learned a great deal during those seven years," she told me, "I don't think that all of what's good for New Jersey can be projected to the 48 states. Now I have to think in terms of what is good for my country."

Mrs. Dwyer, wife of an industrial relations engineer of Elizabeth, is the only new Republican woman elected to the 85th Congress and the second woman to be sent to Capitol Hill from New Jersey. Former Congresswoman Mary Norton, a Democrat was the first.

BEGAN AS SECRETARY

Always interested in legislation, Mrs. Dwyer first developed a yen to get into politics when she served as parliamentary secretary to the majority leader and speaker of her state assembly.

★ ★ ★

"After learning the techniques I threw my hat into the ring for the state legislature," she said.

"You have to have a desire to be of service if you want to do a good job in politics. You must like legislation, desire to see it come alive in terms of what it will do for the people."

This she finds most exciting in the Congress.

NEVER DULL

"It's like Pandora's box," she said, "something new every day. A tunnel bill today, a Niagara project tomorrow, pay increases for postal employes. People here feel much more strongly about issues on a national level."

★ ★ ★

Rep. Dwyer is at her desk in the House office building at 9 a.m. daily, though many mornings she's on hand at 6:30. On many days she has two committee meetings in the morning before the 11:45 buzzer calls members to the House chamber.

Mrs. Dwyer is a member of the House Veterans Affairs committee and ranking minority member of the Inter-governmental Relations subcommittee. Among bills she introduced this session was one for establishment of a foreign service academy, a major point in her 1956 campaign.

GOES TO NEW JERSEY

Friday evening she takes a train to New Jersey where she maintains three district offices, the principal one in Elizabeth, the others in Plainfield and Summit.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Dwyer had two pleasant surprises recently. One was her first visit from her son, 2nd Lt. Michael Joseph Dwyer, 23, since she came to Congress. The other was a her honor by members of the very fancy shindig tossed in New Jersey delegation, at which time she received "a warm letter from the President."

Wealthy Mexican's Daughter, Aga Khan Linked Romantically

LONDON (AP) — The name of the 20-year-old Aga Khan was linked romantically today with a fourth young woman. This, said the Daily Mail, is really it.

★ ★ ★

She was identified by the newspaper as Sylvia Casablancas, 17, lovely daughter of a wealthy Mexican inventor. She is a student at Ladies' College, an exclusive finishing school at Eastbourne.

"Of course it's true," the paper quoted a schoolmate of Miss Casablancas. "They are so fond of each other. But we have been asked not to talk about it."

LINKED WITH THREE

Since Prince Karim succeeded his late grandfather last month as leader of the Ismaili Moslems, his name has been linked with three other women.

★ ★ ★

The first two were Jane O'Reilly of St. Louis and Anne Marie Mersen, 24, French film starlet. Over the weekend a Cairo newspaper claimed the former Harvard student planned to marry Monael Badrawi, 17, daughter of a wealthy Egyptian family, but he denied any wedding plans.

★ ★ ★

The Daily Mail said Miss Casablancas had gone on vacation to her parents' home in Geneva, where the Aga Khan is to attend the wedding of his uncle Prince Sadruddin tomorrow.

The paper said the Aga Khan and Sylvia will leave for the Riviera together Wednesday.

★ ★ ★

A spokesman at the London home of the prince's British mother said there was no comment.

38 Students at Outing on Sunday

Thirty-eight students, including nine new students, attending Michigan State University under the Evans Scholarship award were guests of Jack Reynolds at his home on Elizabeth Lake road, Sunday.

★ ★ ★

Those attending came from Illinois, Indiana, Wisconsin, Ohio, and the Detroit area. The group enjoyed water skiing, and swimming.

Charles Flaime, president of the MSU group, and C. E. Miller, Detroit District Representative of the Standish Chapter, also vice president of the parent organization, attended and spoke to the students.

★ ★ ★

Plans were made to attend the national gathering of all the chapters at Chicago, headquarters of the Evans scholarships, Friday, Aug. 30.

Wed in Pittsburgh

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Kornbau of Lisbon announce the marriage of their daughter, Rebecca, to John Oliver, son of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Oliver of St. Petersburg, Fla., and formerly of Pontiac. The couple was married at 2:30 p.m. Aug. 18 in Forest Avenue United Presbyterian Church of Pittsburgh.

For College Students

Test Wings Before Taking Flier

By ANNE HEYWOOD

Most big Broadway shows open out-of-town and most big league baseball players begin in the bush leagues.

But, too often, the woman who wants to go into business for herself doesn't realize the advantage of having a "trial run." The result is the alarmingly high percentage of failures we encounter in home businesses.

Statistically, the reason for failures may be listed as "too little capital," "too little research of the market," "bad production methods," "bad customer relations," or what not. But the real trouble is that the lady refused to give herself time for apprenticeship.

SERVED APPRENTICESHIP

It's not mere coincidence that most successful restaurants are run by people who used to be at such-and-such a restaurant; that most successful milliners used to be with some big-name milliner; that hairdressers, corsetieres and dressmakers so frequently have the words "formerly with . . ." on their windows. These people served real apprenticeships.

They didn't just rush in where angels fear to tread.

But I may not ever be able to convince Mrs. K of that.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. K has been writing me for several months—ever since her aunt died and left her some money. It's a confortable sum, and Mrs. K wants to invest it in a catering service. She plans to run it from her own home, "while the children are in school," as she so optimistically puts it.

Mrs. K gives lovely parties herself and her Scotch scones are famous. She's positive she could make out well.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. K ought to get a nice neighbor to take care of the children after school and on days when they have sniffles. Then she ought to get a job with one of the caterers in her own city, even if her salary isn't much more than the amount she'll have to pay the neighbor, plus gas for commuting.

WAY TO LEARN

It'll be a wonderful investment, because it will do the following important things:

1. It will help her to discover whether she really does like catering that well. Serving tea to friends is one thing—catering commercially is another!

2. It will help her to see what her community's tastes are, what kinds of foods people like, what standards they demand. At present she hasn't the slightest notion, except for a dozen or so of her friends.

3. Mrs. K will learn what a business really is—buying efficiently, keeping complicated records, handling billing and customer relations.

After discovering these things, she may decide it's more fun, easier and more profitable to work for somebody else!

But if she doesn't, if she really wants her own business, she'll know what she's doing and won't lose her nest egg overnight!

Flabbiness Reveals Age Secrets

Keep Arms Youthful With Care, Exercise

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

A woman's arms always have been an important part of her figure ensemble, yet many women fail to give their arms the beauty care they deserve.

The arms are sure to become flabby as the years pass unless they are exercised faithfully. Tennis, golf and swimming are splendid exercise. You should also add a few special exercises to your routine and take these year in and year out. Let me give you a couple of good ones today.

Stand tall with arms extending out in front of you, shoulder height and shoulder width apart. Palms face the floor. Clench the fists hard and turn the palms toward the ceiling. Unclench fists and turn palms toward the floor again. Continue.

Another: Stand tall. Clench the fists hard as you bend the elbows and raise the arms shoulder height, fingers touching the upper chest. Stretch the arms sideward, shoulder height and palms facing the ceiling. Turn palms toward the floor as you lower arms to sides. Continue.

WATCH ELBOWS

Take special care of your elbows. You probably will profit by the use of a rough cloth or bath mitt or bath brush on your elbows. Lemon juice will act as a mild astringent. Massage the elbows well, using cream or lotion daily or nightly.

If your arms are to be lovely, they must also be smooth and free from unsightly hair. If the hair on your arms is not too dark or the growth is not too heavy, you need not worry about it.

If the growth is heavy and the hair dark you can easily remove it with a depilatory. This is temporary but is well wooth your time. Individuals differ, but once a week is usually sufficient.

Be sure to massage a good body lotion or cream into your arms regularly.

Do not forget that arm makeup is important to your appearance. Many women fail to use this. When you apply a makeup base and powder to your face and neck, your arms may present a startling contrast unless you give them the same treatment. Go light on the powder so that it will not rub off on your costume or on someone else's.

CLIMATE IMPORTANT

Since we talk so much about the weather and since the climate we live in does have a direct effect on us, let's learn something about it.

Some like their climate hot and some like it cold. More important than that, some people are not designed for very hot or very cold weather. Their physiological makeup causes them to suffer with either extreme. This is a fact.

Temperature changes actually are reflected in your blood pressure and the rate of your metabolism. It has been observed that production drops in very hot weather. Heat also makes most people irritable. General violence as well as domestic quarrels are more prevalent in hot weather.

It is interesting to note that people, like animals, are more restless and unreasonable just before a storm. Some folks actually feel ill in hot weather while others freeze up at the beginning of winter and do not thaw out until late spring.

So, you see the weather does affect our health and our personalities, and therefore our happiness.

Surveys indicate that most people react best when the humidity is about 50 per cent. It also has been found that the best temperature for pep and health is about 68 degrees. Most folks keep their houses far too hot and some stores and public buildings are almost unbearable.

It is a real health measure to pamper yourself in the matter of climate whenever you can. If at all possible, live in the climate which makes you feel best. If you live in a hot climate and it makes you feel exhausted, you might consider air-conditioning.

If you suffer from heat, cut your activities to fit the problem. Do your shopping or errands early in the morning and eat your supper later at night and in a cool spot.

Heat makes most people irritable. General violence as well as domestic quarrels are most prevalent in hot weather.

Over-Solicitous Children Make Parents Feel Old

Insistence Mom and Dad 'Take It Easy' May Encourage Feelings of Inadequacy

By RUTH MILLETT

The married Brown children and slowly and subtly pushing their parents into old age.

Though their parents are still alert and active, the children have stopped asking their advice and started giving it.

Their parents love the big, old house they have lived in for nearly 30 years. But the Brown children keep harping on the theme:

"What you need is a small, modern house. It's silly for you to be rattling around in a big, old house."

The fact that the big, old house is home and the neighbors old friends doesn't keep the Brown children from trying to substitute their idea of a suitable place to live.

Sure, Mr. Brown comes home tired after a day's work. But his job is his life. And yet his children insist that he ought to retire and take it easy.

WORRY TOO MUCH

The Brown children are good about writing letters. And, of course, their letters mean a lot to their parents. But they would have a better effect if they were not over-solicitous. It makes the Browns feel old to know their children worry about them all the time.

Nothing does more to keep an older couple young than the feeling that their children respect their judgment. They should get credit for being able to manage their own lives.

But the most loving children often overlook that fact. In the name of love, they actually push their parents into old age.

Picnic Is Held

Pioneer Sisters met Wednesday at Oakland Park for a cooperative dinner. A social hour followed at the Glenwood avenue home of Mrs. C. L. Clough.

Food can be safely left in tin cans after they are opened; just cover and keep in the refrigerator.

Cheese and Shrimp Add Protein

Mrs. Butcher Uses Salad for Luncheon or Dinner Serving

By JANET ODELL

The season for shrimp must be coming up, for prices have been a little lower recently. This molded salad recipe calls for canned shrimp, but a cup of fresh shrimp would make it taste even better.

Today's cook, Mrs. Don Butcher of Rochester, takes great pleasure in designing and making her own clothes and hats. She is interested in interior decoration.

She and her husband belong to the Avon Players. Mrs. Butcher is also a member of a music and garden club.

SHRIMP SALAD
By Mrs. Don Butcher

1 package lemon gelatin
½ pound pimiento cheese, cubed
½ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon grated onion
½ cup mayonnaise
1 can (5 oz.) shrimp or 1 cup fresh shrimp
1 cup boiling water
½ cup heavy cream
3 hard cooked eggs
1 tablespoon chopped green pepper
3 cups chopped celery
1 cup chopped walnuts

Dissolve gelatin in boiling water; add salt and onion. Place in refrigerator until mixture begins to set. Beat mayonnaise and cream into gelatin. Fold in rest of ingredients. Chill until firm.

This is an excellent luncheon salad. If shrimp is omitted and chopped cucumber added, it is a delicious dinner salad. It serves about 12 as a luncheon dish or 16 as a dinner one.

Unexpected Visit Proves Irksome

Better to Have Left on Seeing Hostess Had Company

By EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post: Would you consider the following behavior rude, impolite or right? We had one couple in the other evening and another couple who are not friends of the first couple, stopped in and stayed the entire evening. We'd hoped to spend this particular evening with the first friends alone to hear the latest news of their visit to our old home town.

"Shouldn't people at least telephone if they expect to spend an evening and if not, shouldn't they beg off and leave when they find other visitors present who are obviously old friends?"

Answer: This depends entirely upon circumstances which I agree should be met with a certain amount of tact. That is, in going to see neighbors and finding others there who are strangers, but obviously very old friends of the neighbors, they should certainly make an excuse and leave — unless earnestly urged to say.

"Dear Mrs. Post: Will you please tell me if it is in good taste to wear gloves in the daytime when not wearing a hat? My girl friend and I have been arguing about this and of course we both think we are right, so need you to settle it.

"She says that gloves should only be worn when you have on a hat. I disagree and say they can be worn aytime, with or without a hat. What is the verdict?"

Answer: With an evening dress gloves are correct without a hat. In the daytime the gloves are also correct even if there is question of the correctness of going without a hat.

"Dear Mrs. Post: My 4-year-old son is to be ring bearer at a cousin's wedding. Will you please tell me if he is supposed to carry the real ring or does he carry a fake one and the best man the genuine? I think it is rather risky entrusting the real ring to a 4-year-old child. I would appreciate hearing from you."

Answer: The real ring is usually pinned or fastened with a tiny bowknot to the ring bearer's cushion, or it is sewn to it with a single stitch. In any case the best man must be told beforehand just how to remove the ring.

Easy to Make Own Frames for Pictures

DALLAS, Tex., (INS)—Making your own picture frame is quite simple and inexpensive compared with ready-mades.

And it is especially advantageous money-wise if you have an odd-size picture and are thinking of having it custom-framed.

Do-it-yourself stores and some lumber yards have molding which is sold by the foot, costing anywhere from 20 cents to 45 cents a foot.

A miter board should be used in cutting corners to assure smooth joints.

Fit the mitered corners together, laying them on a flat surface with top, or curved side down. Nail the corners together diagonally through the joint with small finishing nails.

Hand-rubbed paste wax, or hand-rubbed varnish finish is good on most moldings unless you want it painted a color.

Have the glass cut to fit. It is better to take the finished frame to the glass cutter to assure proper size.

If you do not plant to use glass in the frame, sometimes ordinary moldings, such as are used around window and door frames or at the floor, can be found and are more economical. These do not have the glass groove as picture moldings.

How Child Learns to Tell 'Good' From Bad

(Mrs. Muriel Lawrence is on vacation. In her absence, noted psychiatrist Eric Fromm discusses six frequently asked questions on child-parent relationship. His answers are condensed from his book, "Man For Himself," published by Rinehart and Co.)

By ERIC FROMM
For Muriel Lawrence

Q. How does a child learn the difference between "good" and "bad"?

★ ★ ★

A. The foundations of our ability to differentiate between good and evil are laid in childhood; first with regard to physiological functions and then with regard to more complex matters of behavior.

The child acquires a sense of distinguishing between good and bad before he learns the difference by reasoning. His value judgments are formed as a result of the friendly or unfriendly reactions of the significant people in his life.

In view of his complete independence on the care and love of the adult, it is not surprising that an approving or disapproving expression on the mother's face is sufficient to "teach" the child the difference between good and bad.

In school and in society similar factors operate. "Good" is that for which one is praised; "bad," that for which one is frowned upon or punished by social authorities or by the majority of one's fellow men. This intense emotional pressure prevents the child, and later the adult, from asking critically whether "good" in a judgment means good for him or good for the authority.

The alternatives in this respect become obvious if we consider value judgments with reference to things. If I say that one car is "better" than another, it is self-evident that one car is called "better" because it serves me better than another car.

A thing is called good if it is good for the person who uses it.

With refernce to man, the same criterion of value can be used. The employer considers an employe to be good if he is of advantage to him. The teacher may call a pupil good if he is obedient, does not cause trouble, and is a credit to him.

In much the same way a child may be called good if he is docile and obedient. The "good" child may be frightened, and insecure, wanting only to please his parents by submitting to their will, while the "bad" child may have a will of his own and genuine interests but ones which do not please his parents.

There are happy reflections for the girl who uses a reputable blemish cure to heal and conceal any trace of problem skin. This will help the adolescent girl over feelings of insecurity due to blemishes.

Do Not Set Your Heart on a Big-Name College

(NEWSFEATURES)

Once your son or daughter has narrowed his choice of colleges down to about half a dozen he must fill out an application blank for each college.

Many of the big-name colleges today are crowded. Some of them get from five to 10 applications for every opening they have. This does not mean, however, that only the genius gets accepted.

But in addition to the famous colleges there are many good somewhat less well-known institutions that even have trouble filling their classes.

The things a college looks for in an applicant are:

1. Academic standing in his class.
2. Extra-curricular activities.
3. Recommendation from his high school.
4. Results of the College Entrance Examination.

ACADEMIC STANDING

Academic standing is important. The student in the upper 10 per cent of his high school class will have no trouble; students in the upper 25 per cent probably will be accepted in the big-name schools. Below this it's not too likely a student will be accepted in the popular crowded schools. It would be wise for a student whose grades are not too good to apply to several of the lesser-known colleges.

There is no harm, of course, in his applying to a big-name school, too. Grades are not all the colleges pay attention to; they look not only at academic records. They want young people who are interested in out-of-class activities.

Work on the school paper, in the dramatic club, in sports, in any of the many extra-activities of the high school help turn young people into good college material.

* * *

Recommendation from the high school principal is given heavy weight by most colleges. This recommendation covers not only the grades the student received in high school and a list of his extra-curricular activities but also some remarks on what kind of a human being he is and how much the high school thinks he would profit from a college education.

ENTRANCE EXAMS

Last are the results of the examinations given by the College Entrance Examination Board.

This board offers standardized tests to make it possible for high school seniors to apply to more than one college without taking more than one set of entrance examinations. The scores of the C.E.E.B. tests are submitted by the Board to as many colleges as the student wishes to apply to. Some colleges require these tests, but all colleges consider them.

The C.E.E.B. tests are given all over the world on five specified days during the year. A small fee is charged. There are two tests. The Scholastic Aptitude test is a combination of a general information exam and an intelligence test. It is a three-hour morning exam. The second is the Achievement tests. These are three one-hour exams given in the afternoon.

The student has a choice of which subjects he wishes to be examined in.

The C. E. E. B. tests carry weight with almost all colleges, but of course no college accepts or rejects a student solely on the basis of these tests.

Further information about C.E.E.B. can be obtained from the Board at P. O. Box 592, Princeton, New Jersey.

Queen's Skin Consultant Studies American Diets

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK (INS) — Helen Holland, ex-beauty and skin consultant to Elizabeth II of England, made it clear at the outset of this interview that "you cannot sort of pull down the shutters" on the royal family and speak of the Queen in the same breath with soap.

"However," she said cordially, "If you promise to make it sound like you were pulling teeth to get it out of me — I will say that Queen Elizabeth has one of the most marvelous complexions in England. What a sorrow that she photographs so badly and that lovely skin doesn't show!"

★ ★ ★

And what of Princess Margaret, Mrs. Holland. Does she . . .?

"Ah, ah, ah, ah, no-no," she reprimanded, wiggling a finger at the naughty question. "I cannot talk about the rest of the royal family after the Queen has been mentioned. For one slip of my tongue, you want me to land in the tower?"

STUDYING DIETS

Besides, she said, she is temporarily out of the skin business and has taken up the body and the diet. That is why she is here in America, she said. To study and learn, on behalf of the women of Britain.

"English women look after their hair and their faces," she explained, "but they're not actively figure-conscious. They go in for every fad diet they get in the American magazines — you know the bananas, the carrots, the potatoes and milk —" (Mrs. Holland paused briefly to express nausea), "but they simply don't know anything at all about what you call 'inch-removing.'"

INCLINED TO SLUMP

Hence, in spite of the British movies you see, she said, "English women are not all tall and stoically slender by any means. "Their posture has something of the slop and slump you see everywhere."

Mrs. Holland, a most feminine woman with a most masculine frankness, insists that it was American methods — not American money — that lured her to the U.S. This will soon take her back to London to introduce a new "Slenderella" (slim your figure—fatten your Joie de Vivre) salon in her homeland.

★ ★ ★

"There are a great many too many women eating fish 'n' chips and so on back home," she said, "And they don't have the cars and the climate to lead the outdoor life you Americans do, which helps to offset weight."

For more than a decade, from the time Queen Elizabeth was an 18-year-old princess, Mrs. Holland said, she was Elizabeth's advisor on make-up and skin care. The biggest assignment in this term of duty, she noted, was planning the most flattering cosmetic compliment for the coronation.

It took half a year in preparation, because six types of lighting had to be considered: the dim Westminster Abbey, the state coach, broad daylight, black and white movies, color movies, and television. There was also the question of satisfying H.R.H. herself.

But Helen isn't talking about that. One simply doesn't divulge royal rouge tones, you know.

RECOMMENDS SOAP

However, for those who would like a complexion as flawless as her majesty's, it must be presumed that they use good old-fashioned lather, rather than fancy skin creams, at Buckingham for Mrs. Holland's contention is:

"Put it this way — if you keep your hair really clean, you wash it. The same goes for your face.

"But you must — really you must — use a super-fatted skin soap, and not one of those detergents you'd apply to the kitchen floor!"

Does Jelly 'Weep'

If your jelly "weeps" it can be due to one of several causes. Too much acid, a paraffin layer that is too thick, or storing the jars in a warm place or in a place where the temperature fluctuates may all cause weeping.

For the short, plump Junior who wants best proportion, the coat with not too much fullness is most slimming and makes her seem taller.

Picture of Calmness

Hoffa's Wife Stays Mum About Jimmy's Publicity

DETROIT (INS) — The woman behind Teamsters chieftain James R. Hoffa is a trim blonde called "Jo" who steadfastly refuses to comment publicly about herself or her husband.

Attractive Mrs. Josephine Hoffa was a picture of calmness when her husband was acquitted recently of charges that he had bribed an employe of the Senate Rackets Committee investigating the Teamsters.

While others were caught up in the excitement outside the federal courtroom, Mrs. Hoffa remained unruffled. And when reporters attempted to get a statement, she brushed them off with:

"Jimmy does the talking for this family."

Hoffa met his wife, appropriately for a labor leader, while she was walking a laundry picket line in Detroit.

They were married in 1936 and three years later purchased a modest brick home on Detroit's northwest side for $6,800.

HAVE COTTAGE

The Hoffas still live in the house, except for summers when they stay at a lake cottage in Lake Orion. Neighbors describe Mrs. Hoffa as a typical housewife who waters the lawn and shovels the snow on occasion.

The couple's two children, Barbara Ann, 18, and James Jr., 15, are well-liked and have attended schools in the neighborhood.

Despite her devotion to the home, Mrs. Hoffa is keenly interested in Hoffa's union activities and accompanies him to meetings and conventions whenever possible.

Tuesday was one of the rare occasions when her name appeared in print, and then it was her maiden name—Josephine Poszywak — that interested the Rackets Committee.

It was disclosed that she and Mrs. Bert Brennan, wife of the president of Detroit Teamsters local 337, were partners, in the Hobran Company, a firm that rents trucks to commercial carriers, which in turn delivers autos and hires members of the Teamsters. The women used their maiden names in the venture.

SEE NOTHING WRONG

"I find nothing wrong," Hoffa declared, "in labor representatives or their families having business in the same industry with companies represented by the union."

However, he announced he would liquidate his outside interests in compliance with the AFL-CIO ethical practices codes.

Hoffa told the committee he and his wife filed a joint income tax return, but later said he didn't need any of her money "to support my family on the basis I want to support it."

Intelligence by U.S. Far Better—Morros

WASHINGTON (AP)—Boris Morros, who served as a counterspy for the United States, says American intelligence work is far better than that of the Russians.

"There is no comparison," Morros said yesterday in a TV-radio interview.

★ ★ ★

Morros, Hollywood composer-director, recently disclosed that for years he had been an agent for the FBI even while the Russians believed he was spying for them. Morros said yesterday he began his dual role in 1947, two years after the Russians first approached him.

★ ★ ★

He told his interviewers he knows of several Americans, employed by the government, who he says are spies for the Soviets. He said they are overseas and are under surveillance by American officials. Morros did not identify these alleged spies, but described them as scientists and engineers and as relatives of prominent and rich persons in Europe.

THE PONTIAC PRESS

MONDAY, AUGUST 26, 1957 PONTIAC, MICHIGAN NINETEEN

Fisher Body Will Observe 50th Anniversary

When the Fisher Body Division of General Motors begins producing bodies for the 1958 Pontiacs here it will be starting its 50th anniversary year.

It was in July 1908 that Fred and Charles Fisher organized the original Fisher Body Company in Detroit with a capitalization of $50,000. Four more brothers, William, Lawrence, Edward and Alfred, joined the older brothers in the venture. Their enterprise became one of Michigan's greatest success stories.

In the early days machine tools were comparatively crude. The steel industry was in its infancy and thin gauge sheets were unknown. Carriage and blacksmith shops were the scenes of the first body-building activities. Wagons and carriage bodies were the foundations on which were built the first runabouts and touring cars. Hence the famous nickname, "Horseless Carriage."

Fisher Body first began operations in Pontiac in 1922. Body by Fisher and the Napoleonic Coach emblem, then a tradition of 14 years, was already the world's best known automobile body trademark when Fisher Body occupied the old Beaudette plant at Wessen and Walnut streets.

In 1923, Fisher Body built the present plant at 900 Baldwin Avenue and operated both plants until 1929 when the older plant was razed.

The Baldwin Avenue plant has a total floor area of 1,300,000 square feet.

★ ★ ★

The Body by Fisher plant in Pontiac includes both fabricating and body assembly operations.

★ ★ ★

In the fabricating part of the plant are more than 200 presses stamping out body components. The assembly area has over three miles of conveyors and is capable of assembling several hundred bodies a day.

The plant has railroad facilities for handling 50 freight cars.

During World War II the plant made guns for the Navy.

In an average year, the plant's expenditures in the Pontiac area for payroll, transportation and local purchases exceeds $28,000,000. More than 50 local suppliers serve the plant in its daily needs.

From the beginning, the story of Fisher Body became a story of technical progress. The founding Fisher Brothers dreamed and planned and built the foundations of what is now the world's largest automobile-body engineering organization.

They pioneered and developed the mass production of the closed body and delivered the first volume order of 150 such bodies to Cadillac in 1910. This order was supplied by a small Detroit plant containing about 167,000 square feet of floor space.

Since then Body by Fisher has developed many "firsts" designed for comfort and convenience. These include no-draft ventilation, the turret top, unisteel construction, the panoramic windshield, hardtop engineering and the safety interlock for doors.

Many other refinements received an assist from Body by Fisher engineers. These include defrosting, cowl ventilation, safety-cushioned instrument panels, increased window dimensions, the use of plate safety glass, six-way adjustable seats, integrated body and fenders, keyless locking, push-button door releases, counter-balanced trunk lids, key release trunk locks, sound and weather insulation and many others.

Today, to meet the body demands of Chevrolet, Pontiac, Oldsmobile, Buick and Cadillac, the Fisher Body Division of General Motors operates 11 stamping plants, 16 assembly plants and six plants engaged in tooling, engineering and research work.

Two more plants are devoted to the fabrication of upholstery trim sets and some of the assembly plants include this in their operations. Fisher Body also supplies seven additional General Motors assembly plants in this country and 22 foreign plants. These Fisher Body plants contain more than 25,000,000 square feet of floor space.

★ ★ ★

Fisher Body's central administration, engineering and research activities are located in a 1,300,000 square foot facility at the General Motors Technical Center in Detroit.

At the end of its first 50 years, Fisher Body has built bodies for more than 50,000,000 automobiles—and as many as 4,000,000 bodies in a single year.

Fisher Body was founded in the belief that new engineering knowledge backed by scientific testing and analysis was needed in the development of bodies for power-driven vehicles.

In addition to design and product engineering staffs, Fisher Body maintains large engineering groups devoted to experimental and development work, textiles, plastics, process development, dies and tools, plant engineering and layout, manufacturing, material handling and advanced research.

Fisher Body's general offices are located in two ultramodern buildings at the new General Motors Technical Center northeast of Detroit, housing all Fisher Body central engineering and administrative functions and facilities together on a 192-acre site occupying 1,301,000 square feet of floor space.

The eleven stamping plants, fabricating body parts are scattered throughout the northern industrial states. These are located in Detroit, Grand Rapids, Pontiac, Grand Blanc and Flint in Michigan; Cleveland, Mansfield and Hamilton, in Ohio; Pittsburgh, Pa., Marion, Ind., and Chicago, Ill. The upholstery trim fabricating operations are located in Cleveland, Pontiac, Lansing, Flint, Grand Rapids and Detroit.

Purchase of raw materials and the production of these fabricating plants must be correlated with the needs of the 44 domestic and foreign assembly plants.

The domestic assembly plants are located in 14 cities and in 8 states. There are Atlanta, Baltimore, Tarrytown, Janesville, St. Louis, Kansas City, Oakland, Los Angeles, Detroit, Pontiac, Lansing and Flint (2 plants) and Norwood and Euclid in Ohio, the last being devoted to station wagons and sedan delivery body assembly.

Fisher Body also supplies stampings for finished assembly to seven Buick-Oldsmobile-Pontiac Assembly Division plants.

Foreign plants served by the Fisher Body Division of General Motors include one each in Canada, Belgium, Denmark, Sweden, Switzerland, South Africa, India, Pakistan, Indonesia, New Zealand, Argentina, Brazil, Mexico, Ireland, Venezuela, Peru, Uruguay and five in Australia.

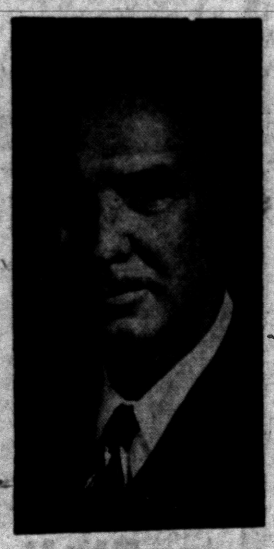
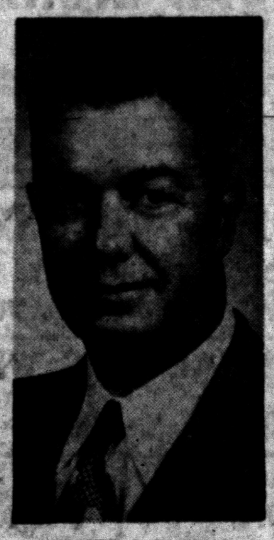
3 Fisher Executives Made Trip From the Ranks to Top Positions

JAMES E. GOODMAN



CARL W. MOYER



ELMER J. HANSON

Two of the top three Fisher Body executives are "local" boys to the Pontiac area who made "good" the hard way, from the bottom of the ladder.

Both James E. Goodman, vice-president of General Motors and general manager of Fisher Body Division, and Carl W. Moyer, general factory manager of the division's Michigan assembly plants, live in Bloomfield Hills.

The third member, Elmer J. Hanson, general manufacturing manager of the division, is a Detroit resident.

QUICK TRIP

Goodman's rise to the top of the Fisher Body organization was a rapid trip up the ladder. He joined the division in 1925 at Norwood, Ohio, as a metal finisher.

By 1936 he was resident manager of the Norwood plant. From there he went to California before returning to Flint and the No. 1 plant. After that he briefly headed the tank division before moving to the general offices. He was named to his present position in 1952.

The 52-year-old Goodman is a native of Union City, Ind., and attended the University of Illinois.

Moyer, the other Bloomfield Hills resident, was born in Canada and received his early schooling there. He also served in the Canadian Army in World War I.

COST CLERK

After four years as a foreman for U.S. Light & Heat Co., in Niagara Falls, N.Y., Moyer moved to Fisher Body in 1925 in Detroit as a cost clerk. In 1931 he became an accountant and by 1937 was manager of the plant in St. Louis, Mo.

Brief stops at Lansing and Norwood plants preceded his move to the general offices. He moved steadily through the organization to his present post in 1954.

Hanson, the Detroiter, is a Connecticut native, having been born in Waterbury, Conn., in 1898.

He held jobs with a tool and die maker, Lincoln Motor Co., a tire corporation and a heat and power firm before joining Fisher Body in 1927 as an engineer at the Ternstedt plant in Detroit. By 1939 he was manager of the plant. When Eastern Aircraft was formed in 1942 he became manager of that plant, continuing in that position when Fisher Body resumed work in 1945.

★ ★ ★

In 1948 he was promoted to general factory manager of the general fabricating plants and subsequently to his present position.

Reverse Ruling on Alleged Reds

Circuit Appeals Court Orders New Trials for Seven

DENVER (UP)—The conviction of seven alleged Communists has been reversed by the U.S. 10th Circuit Court of Appeals which ordered a new trial.

★ ★ ★

Herbert M. Boyle, first assistant United States Attorney, said a decision on a new trial must be made by the Justice Department in Washington.

★ ★ ★

He explained that the indictment under which the seven were tried was drawn in two parts. Two conspiracies were charged.

One charged a conspiracy under the Smith Act in organization of the Communist party in Colorado. It was this portion of the indictment that the Circuit Court ruled invalidated the conviction.

★ ★ ★

The Appellate Court said that under a Supreme Court decision last June it was accepted law that the word "organize" in the Smith Act refers to adoption of the Communist party constitution in 1945.

★ ★ ★

The opinion said the charge of conspiracy to organize was invalid because the three-year statute of limitations started to run in 1945. The seven were indicted in 1954, nine years after formal organization of the Communist party.

★ ★ ★

They were convicted in the May 1955 in a federal district court trial.

12 Europeans Slain by Algerian Rebels

ALGIERS (UP)—Seven Europeans were killed in a Nationalist rebel attack on a farm 40 miles east of Algiers last night. Five others were slain in another attack.

★ ★ ★

The rebels attacked the farmhouse, slew the foreman, his wife and their 20-year-old son, then opened fire on a motor car in which were four members of another family living at the farm.

Another rebel group opened fire on a postal convoy in western Algeria, northwest of Mascara, killing five police.

In France, gangland-type warfare among Algerians erupted in Versailles, Marseille and Lille. Four Algerians were killed. In Lille, a band of Algerians burst into a Moslem cafe, spread gasoline and set it afire, killing two Algerians trapped inside.

Registers of Deeds Meet

LUDINGTON (UP)—The 43rd annual convention of the Michigan Assn. of Registers of Deeds has been scheduled Wednesday through Friday at Ludington. Charles E. Converse of Midland County is president of the organization.

Fisher Body Manager Joined Firm in 1939

Thomas F. Wiethorn, manager of the Fisher Body Pontiac plant, was born in 1916 at Cincinnati, Ohio.

He is a graduate of the University of Cincinnati.

Wiethorn joined Fisher Body in 1939 as a personnel clerk in the Norwood, Ohio, plant. In 1940, he was appointed assistant supervisor of labor standards and was promoted to supervisor in 1946.

He was appointed shift plant superintendent in 1950 and promoted to plant superintendent the following year.

In 1952, Wiethorn was appointed production manager of the Lansing plant.

He was appointed manager of the Pontiac plant in 1956. Wiethorn lives in Birmingham.

10,000 See Close of Lutheran Parley

ST. PAUL, Minn. (INS)—More than 100,000 persons jammed the approach to the Minnesota state capitol building in St. Paul yesterday to watch a pagean which closed the 11-day Lutheran World Federation Assembly.

★ ★ ★

Delegates and observers from 32 nations, clad in their colorful church regalia and bearing banners denoting the country of their origin, marched to the capitol.

The program featured the singing of a 2,000-voice choir and a dramatic defense of the assembly theme, "Christ Frees and Unites," against offstage voices of criticism from the "outside world."

★ ★ ★

Dr. Franklin Clark Fry of New York, new president of the federation, and the outgoing president, Dr. Hanns Lilja, bishop of Hanover, Germany, addressed the gathering.

State Fair Opening Friday

Marines, Army to Give Shows

Governor to Be Present; Calendar Listed for 10-Day Event

The Michigan Fair opens a 10-day run at the State Fairgrounds in Detroit Friday.

★ ★ ★

Highlights of the fair include a mock battle by Marines Sept. 4, with side demonstrations of Navy Frogmen in action and Army GI firing a minature atomic cannon and a mass swearing-in of recruits for all service branches by Gov. Williams.

Here is a round-up of exhibits, special events and entertainment scheduled for the Aug. 30 through Sept. 8, event.

It may assist many Michigan citizens in choosing the day or days they will attend this 108th edition of their State Fair.

Any day is a good day to see the agriculture, livestock, industrial and educational exhibits. But many judging, entertainment and special events occur only on designated days.

★ ★ ★

Grand Opening Day, Friday, will feature the opening day parade in downtown Detroit at 11 a.m. Admission to the Fairgrounds is free until noon on opening day, Donald L. Swanson, General manager, announces.

Saturday, Aug. 31, is Veterans' Day. All Veterans are admitted free and an outstanding program has been arranged in cooperation with the Consolidated War Veterans Councils of Michigan.

There will be a repeat of the popular Sunrise Service on Sunday, Sept. 1, at 8 a.m. The speaker will be Bishop Gerald H. Kennedy, resident bishop of Los Angles area Methodist Church. Visitors attending the Service, which is co-sponsored by the Detroit Council of Churches, will be admitted free to the Fairgrounds between 7 and 8 a.m. and may remain for the entire day.

Many contests on Children's Day, Tuesday, Sept. 3, will be held at the Grandstand for the first time. They proved so popular last year that arrangements were made to provide the greater seating capacity for spectators. In addition to pie eating and pony tail contests, there'll be balloon bursting and pogo stick racing this year.

A continuous program has been arranged for Old Timers' Day, Thursday, Sept. 5, in the Music Shell. There'll be cash awards for the baldest head, oldest woman, oldest man, prettiest hat, longest mustache and the longest married couple.

★ ★ ★

Saturday, Sept. 7, will be Teachers' Day when the State Fair will honor Michigan teachers and educators with awards for their notable contributions during the past year. Michigan teachers will be admitted free.

Again the State Fair will score a group of topnotch entertainers in the Coliseum. There will be three shows daily; 3 p.m., 6 p.m. and 9 p.m. The first week-end, Aug. 30, through Sept. 2, will headline Eydie Gorme, Johnnie Ray, Bill Haley and His Comets, plus many other acts.

Following the livestock showing and judging and the Evening Farm Fun Frolics on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, the Coliseum entertainment for the closing week-end, Sept. 6, 7 and 8, will feature Georgia Gibbs, Guy Mitchell, Fontane Sisters, the Harmonicats and a host of others.

★ ★ ★

Rin Tin Tin with Lt. Rip Masters and Rusty will appear in person in the Grandstand from Aug. 30 — Sept. 6. There will also be other movieland animal stars, stunt horses and racing mules. Leo Carillo will be an added attraction — Sept. 3 — 5.

For auto race fans the Grandstand will present three classics. A 100-mile new car championship on Saturday, Sept. 7 and a 150-mixed championship on Sunday, Sept. 8.

Running throughout the Fair will be a continuous program of free entertainment in the Music Shell and Old Timers' Grove, free cooking schools, band concerts, dance revues, specialty acts and hundreds of educational, industrial and agricultural exhibits.

The new puzzle contains a series o squares which are alphabetically lettered and a corresponding list of sentences with two clue words. Each of the words is numbered. The object is to select the word which you think best fits the clue sentence. You then place the number of that word in the square which has the same letter as the clue sentence.

In other words, you will read the clue labeled A and decide which of the two words makes the most sense in the sentence. You then write the number of that word in the puzzle square marked A.

Do the same with all other squares. Read all the clues carefully and be sure the right numbers are in the right squares.

Bob Considine Says:

New Film Shows Notre Dame's Greatness

NEW YORK (INS)—The passing show—

They study at Notre Dame, too. Producer Owen Murphy, an old Notre Dame boy, has made a beautiful half-hour color film that bears out what we have been told for years: That football is but a cog in the vast machinery of the famed South Bend, Ind., institution.

We previewed the film the other day and it's a fine and stirring picture of Notre Dame as a whole. Breath-taking changes are taking place on the old campus and they have nothing to do with "agitating a bag of wind," as a famed educator once called the game of football.

Matter of fact, football last year accounted for only $300,000 of the needed $15,000,000 university budget.

The film is available to your local TV station or to club groups. Write to a nice fellow named. Rev. Theodore M. Hesberg, the president of Noter Dame, and he'll send you a print to show. It's like a breath of fresh air.

Joe Boland does a fine job of narration.

Louis S. Bardoly, M.D., a friend who feels strongly about what goes on in the Kremlin, sent off the following cablegram the other night:

"Marshal Georgi K. Zhukov, Kremlin, Moscow, Russia, Your Excellency:

"After the morbid recent statements at East Berlin I appeal to you as an absolute master of the great Russian army to devote your love to the great Russian people and make them recognize you as a new czar of Russia. They want peace. Marxism will never survive. The H-bomb is not the answer.

"You are a born soldier. You could be the greatest, the greatest man in the history of the human race, if you turn the tide. You can do it.

"My great President is still your friend. He wants peace on earth. He is to me second to God. Respectfully, Dr. Bardoly, student of world affairs, a desecendant of Attilla."

No word from Zhuky as yet, but Western Union says it got through okay. Doctor suspects the message may be withheld from the Marshal by Khrushchev or Khrushy's pals. He hopes the Voice of America will give Western Union a lift in this ticklish matter. If not, he's blown $16.19.

The liquor industry is puzzled over the names given to drinks made with its latest secret weapon—vodka.

Instead of such dulcet labels as scotch mist, pink lady, manhattan, old fashioned and so forth, vodka mixtures are christened bloody Mary, screwdriver, sledgehammer, broad, Moscow mule, and bullshot—that being consomme with vodka on the rocks.

It's all pretty unnerving to Harley Cole, chief test pilot at Wolfschmidt.

★ ★ ★

He's for changing bloody Mary (vodka and tomato juice, etc.) to "scotch queen," the screwdriver (vodka and orange juice) to "Minnihaha," the Moscow mule (vodka and ginger beer) to the name of any current Kremlin leader, and the bullshot to "ox-on-the-rocks."

Pardon me if I don't take a militant stand on this.

Hollywood Headlines

Grace Kelly May Return to Film; Reason—Money

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — I am reliably informed that Grace Kelly, Princess of Monaco, is not averse to returning to motion pictures, and Lew Wasserman, of MCA, is already in Europe to discuss this little matter with her.

She would form her own company, the Monaco Film Company, and to save face with the prince she would give ten per cent to the Monacan government. MGM, who holds her contract, would of course release the pictures.

Grace and her prince need money, I am told, and whatever arguments they may or may not have had, have come from the usual difficulties — finances. I hear through the grapevine that any trouble with the prince actually stems from a disagreement with Grace's mother, who has kept the father, John Kelly, from giving any money to his princess daughter.

While Fred Astaire was in the Middle East he said "yes" in a cablegram to General Electric to make his first acting appearance on TV. Fred has appeared on Ed Sullivans' show, and other shows of that kind, but this is the first time he will have done a play.

You'll see him next month in an original comedy fantasy, "Imp on a Cobweb Leash." It's the story of an orderly business man who has an imp appear to him who suddenly starts running his life.

My friend, Charlie Brackett, usually a cool customer, is as excited about signing eight-year-old Evelyn Rudie for "Our Love" at 20th as though he'd snagged Garbo. Evelyn is the little girl who starred in "Eloise" on TV but she won't be that mischievous "little monster" in Charlie's picture.

She plays the good little daughter of Lauren Bacall in this dramatic love story with Bob Stack.

The excited Brackett tells me, "I've never seen a child actress like Evelyn — I might go so far as to say I've never seen a more penetrating actress. She's the biggest child discovery in years."

To kiss or not to kiss — believe it or not, that's the cause of the big fracas on the set of "Time Is a Memory" which resulted in Victor Mature walking off the picture! As late as Friday he had not returned.

It seems that when Frank Borzage, the director, signed Chinese star Lila Hua for the leading female role, they forgot to mention the subject of kissing for love scenes. In Miss Hua's country kissing on the screen is an unspeakable vulgarity, and she flatly refused to kiss Vic.

He hit the ceiling saying that the love scenes, a motivating force, are weakened by her stand and after several hours of argument trying to change her mind, Mature went A. W. O. L.

★ ★ ★

Borzage and Batjac Pictures say he's worked a week on expensive location scenes and MUST return — or else, fireworks.

Tigers Starting Late Season Surge

Al Kaline Does Damage in 7-2 Win Over Yanks

3rd Place Still Within Reach; No Salary Drive, Says Tighe

DETROIT (AP) — Al Kaline, Jim Finigan and Johnny Groth are three reasons why the Detroit Tigers are starting another late-season splurge that comes after the club already is out of the American League pennant race.

Kaline, the fleet flychaser who has been fighting a season-long slump, did enough damage all by himself yesterday to defeat the league-leading New York Yankees 7-2.

★ ★ ★

A perfect day at bat with two home runs and two singles proves that Kaline has started to hit the way everyone knew he could all along. As for Finigan and Groth, they are hitting about twice as good as anyone thought they could.

It's too late for the 22-year-old Kaline to win any batting honors but a fast finish at the plate could help lift the Tigers into third place. Today, Kaline is just one point shy of the .300 mark. He has hit in eight of his last nine games. His home run production for the month of August is 10 — against six for the first three and one-half months of the campaign.

Since he was given another shot at the third base job recently, Finigan has batted at a .500 clip, with 17 safeties in his last 34 at-bats. He has hit safely in nine of 10 games.

★ ★ ★

Groth has done almost as well, batting .405 during a 10-game hitting streak since he took over in centerfield. And Bill Tuttle, though recovered from a leg injury, will not return to centerfield as long as Groth maintains a pace even close to his present one.

The victory over the defending World Champions yesterday, achieved before 37,157 spectators, was the Tigers' seventh in 10 games.

"I've seen players get a little better in the field late in the season," he said, "but I've never known a player to cheat himself at the plate. No sir, this isn't a salary drive. We've known for months that good hitting would get us going real good. That's just what has happened."

Lefthander Bill Hoeft benefited from Kaline's hefty bat yesterday. Hoeft scattered eight Yankee hits, allowing Hank Bauer's solo home run leading off the first inning and an unearned run in the third. He fanned six.

Backed up, too, by four double plays, Hoeft sailed to victory No. 6 — 14 under his 1956 performance. He has lost eight.

Next Series With Yankees

White Sox 4 Games Behind

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Those Chicago White Sox die so hard. Who knows? They might just manage to stay alive.

You can smile, pal, but don't laugh. After sweeping a pair from Baltimore 6-2, 3-0, while New York lost at Detroit 7-2 yestreday, the White Sox are four games behind the Yankees in the American League chase.

★ ★ ★

By this evening, the difference may be 3½ games.

By Thursday night, it could be three percentage points—with both clubs even in the lost column!

That's a lot of "may be" and plenty of "could be," yet all it takes is another Yankee loss at Detroit today, while the Sox are idle, and a Chicago sweep in a three-game series with New York opening at Comiskey Park tomorrow night.

★ ★ ★

In the other AL games, Kansas City defeated Boston 3-2 and Cleveland swept Washington 3-2 and 6-4.

Don't knock the White Sox' chances. The Yankees are 5-5 at Detroit, and have lost four of six on this final Western trip. At Chicago, the champs will pitch young Johnny Kucks, Tom Sturdivant and an ailing Bobby Shantz—if his injured finger is okay. Southpaw Whitey Ford, the Sox killer, will be out—perhaps for the rest of the season now that his sore arm has failed a warm up test.

★ ★ ★

Against the Yankees, the White Sox have Jim Wilson, Billy Pierce and Dick Donovan ready—with Bob "No-Hit" Keegan the No. 1 relief man.

It was Keegan, 35, who helped get the sweep over the Orioles, throwing a three-hitter in the opener as a follow-up to Tuesday's no-hit job on Washington. The righthander, now 9-6, walked none and retired the first 10 before Bob Boyd's triple and an infield out scored one in the fourth. Al Pilarcik homered in the fifth, but the Birds didn't get another hit until Billy Gardner singled in the ninth.

The Red Sox, scoring two first-inning runs without a hit and pocketing a pair of unearned runs in the second inning of the opener, were blanked on two hits by Bill Wight until the nightcap sixth. Then Sherm Lollar's two-run single and a wild pitch nailed it. Billy Fischer won his fifth, striking out six and walking but one in a five-hit relief job after Jack Harshman strained his back in the second.

HAZLE NO HASSLE — Warren Spahn (top) is happy over the hitting of rookie Bob Hazle, who has the hottest bat in the Majors at this time. Hazle hit two three-run homers in the 7-3 victory of the Milwaukee Braves over the Philadelphia Phillies yesterday.

Blazing Braves Now Top NL by 7½ Games

By INTERNATIONAL NEWS

Just as the American League has suddenly tightened up, Milwaukee keeps pulling farther away from the field in the National and appears headed for its 1st World Series with less than a month remaining in the Major League pennant races.

★ ★ ★

The Braves, led by more sensational hitting by reserve Bob Hazle, increased their lead to 7½ games over Brooklyn and St. Louis by downing Philadelphia 7-3 yesterday.

The Dodgers moved within one percentage point of 2nd by tripping the Cards 6-5, the big bat of Don Mueller paced New York to a 10-1 rout of Cincinnati and the Cubs and Pirates divided a doubleheader in other loop play.

All Hazle did for the Braves yesterday was belt two three-run homers and a single to lift his average to .526 since he was recalled from the minors a month ago.

★ ★ ★

Warren Spahn, who won his 16th, accounted for the other run off Robin Roberts with a home run as Robin dropped No. 13. Stan Lopata hit the seats for the losers. The blast broke up a six-hit shutout for Spahn.

The veteran Sal Maglie preserved Don Drysdale's 13th win by striking out Ken Boyer on three pitches with the bases loaded in the 9th in the Brooklyn triumph. Sam Jones was the loser as Gil Hodges drove in three runs with a homer and double.

Mueller walloped two homes and added a pair of singles for a perfect day and Danny O'Connell socked a three-run circuit, a triple and single as the Giants had a field day beating Hal Jeffcoat. Ruben Gomez won his 14th, losing a shutout in the 9th when Ed Bailey homered.

★ ★ ★

At Pittsburgh, Vern Law yielded only four singles as the Pirates took the opener 3-0. The Cubs bounced back with 16 safeties in the nightcap to post an 8-2 victory.

Law's 3rd shutout was his 10th triumph of the season. Rookie Don Elston won for Chicago with Cub 1st sacker Dale Long the batting star of the day with three hits in each contest.

Joy Fair Back on Win Trail

Pontiac Driver Makes Sweep at Speedway; 32 Amateurs Compete

Joy Fair, who sat out all the races a week ago because of a broken crank shaft, was back in form yesterday as he made a clean sweep of honors at the Pontiac Speedway.

Fair won the feature in 8:34.92, took his heat, won the pursuit and captured the race of the four fastest cars.

Behind Fair in the feature were Bill Kourt of Brighton, Nelson Ward and Holan Johnweck. The better drivers from eight different cities took part in the feature, and failed to stop Fair.

Bob Valentine won the semi-final. In the feature "Amateur Day" race which saw 32 drivers compete in four heats of eight racers each, Don Rusaloe of Milford, Gene Simons of Pontiac, Glen Sheffield of Pontiac and Jim Roser of Roseville scored victories in their respective heats.

The "Amateur Day" program was the first attempted at the Speedway, and there were no serious mishaps.

Rescue Try Fatal

CORVALLIS, Ore. (AP)—Bob Dethman, about 39, a star player for Oregon State College in the transplanted Rose Bowl football game at Durham, N. C., in 1942, drowned in the Willamette River today while trying to rescue a Labrador retriever dog.

After Almost Quitting

Hazle Sparking Braves

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A discouraged minor league outfielder who decided to give baseball one more fling today is one of the big reasons why the Milwaukee Braves are leading the National League by 7½ games. He is Bob Hazle, 26, now the hottest hitter in the major leagues.

The youngster, who only a few months ago was contemplating quitting baseball because of a troublesome knee and an aggrieved batting average, is hitting a blazing .526. He started hitting virtually the day he joined the Braves July 28 and hasn't stopped. In 57 times at bat since his promotion from Wichita, where he failed to hit .300, Hazle has accumulated 30 hits, including five home runs.

He smashed homers Nos. 4 and 5 yesterday and drove in six runs as the Braves defeated Robin Roberts and the Philadelphia Phillies 7-3 for their 14th victory in the last 18 games. During that stretch Hazle has driven in 21 runs. He also singled and walked yesterday for a perfect day at the plate.

"The kid can really rip the ball," said Andy Pafko, veteran outfielder who has been assigned to tutor Hazle in the art of playing caroms off the outfield walls in the various National League parks. "Next to Henry Aaron he's got the strongest wrists I've ever seen. And he doesn't swing at too many bad balls either. That's rare for a youngster."

Class A Title to Southfield

The T. A. Grissom team from Southfield won the Class A regional softball crown last night at Beaudette Park with a doubleheader victory over Drewry's of Flint.

Behind the herculean work of pitcher Danny Thomas, Southfield chalked up 4-1 and 3-2 wins to qualify for the state tournament this weekend at Escanaba.

Thomas hurled both games, a pair of five-hitters, and chipped in with three hits. His double in the 7th inning of the nightcap scored the winning run to sew up the title.

The Southfield Rayls moved into the Class B regional finals with a 3-2 win over Flint last night at North Side Park. The Rayls meet Port Huron tonight at 7 o'clock on the Beaudette diamond for the 'B' crown.

★ ★ ★

Gingleville, Pontiac's repsentative in the women's Class C regional, faces Owosso tonight at North Side in the title match. The two teams have split a pair of contests in their best-of-three series.

Hoot Song Tuesday's Hambletonian Choice

DUQUOIN, Ill. (AP) — Hoot Song Looms as the popular choice for tomorrow's betless Hambletonian, the Kentucky Derby of harness racing.

The big trotting stake for 3-year-olds, held for the first time on the exceptionally fast baked clay mile oval at the DuQuoin State Fairgrounds has drawn a field of 21.

The track, given good weather, is conducive to a record. Some observers feel the field doesn't have enough class even with perfect conditions.

For the first time since 1940 there will be no pari-mutual wagering. It is unlawful at state fairgrounds in Illinois. But the railbirds are active and there are unofficial odds floating around.

Grand Rapids 9 Dumped in Non-Pro Tournament

WICHITA, Kan. (AP) — Grand Rapids, Mich., was handed a 6-5 defeat yesterday in the 55th annual non-pro baseball tournament by defending champion Fort Wayne, Ind.

The Grand Rapids team held a 5-4 lead in the seventh inning of the second round game when Wilmer Fields put the Indiana team ahead with his winning two-run homer.

In other games, Colonial Heights, Va., defeated Perry, Okla., 3-2 in 12 innings, and Sinton, Tex., downed Bryam, Miss., 8-2.

No Deals With Parker

Colt Prexy Denies Report

BALTIMORE (AP) — A report that former Detroit Lions coach Raymond (Buddy) Parker will coach the Baltimore Colts has been denied by Colts president Carroll Rosenbloom.

Rosenbloom told the Baltimore Sun yesterday that "it's an amazing thing to me. I was under the impression that he (Parker) was going with Art Rooney (owner of the Pittsburgh Steelers)."

A story in the Detroit News Saturday said that Parker would coach the National Football League Colts who now are coached by Webb Ewbank. Parker resigned as coach of the Lions two weeks ago.

The News story said: "Obviously denials are to be expected on secret agreements between the Colts and Parker. The Colts have no desire at this time to tear down confidence in Ewbank by having another coach waiting in the wings."

The story also said the Colts contacted Parker through a league official and "are believed to have secretly granted an option payment 'sewing up' Parker so the Pittsburgh Steelers cannot get him."

The Sun said it contacted NFL Commissioner Bert Bell in Philadelphia on the Parker report and was told by Bell that "Parker can't make committments without my permission and I haven't granted him that."

WAR BREAKS OUT — Hollywood infielder Spook Jacobs (cap off) takes a round-house swing at George Anderson, second baseman of the Los Angeles Angels in their game at Hollywood yesterday. Jacobs bunted and when he was blocked on the base paths he started swinging.

From The PRESS BOX

Little Jim Dennison, who has been in a wheel chair most of his life, received a lifetime membership to the Auburn Heights Boys' Club at the club's dinner recently. Reno Bertoia of the Detroit Tigers made the presentation to Dennison.

Cincinnati pitcher Don Gross of little Weidman, Mich., can't seem to regain his winning form after compiling a string of eight successive triumphs from late last year through the opening months of 1957 play. Four of the victories came at the start of this season and big things were forecast for the chunky left hander but he has since suffered eight defeats in a row as a starter and reliever.

★ ★ ★

It apparently will take a while for the American League-minded San Francisco fans to get used to having the National League Giants playing there. A recent newspaper poll disclosed only a handful of a group of 500 Frisco people questioned were familiar with New York manager Bill Rigney. Some had heard of a fellow named Antonelli but could not recall his first name. Bobby Thomson and Dusty Rhodes were others singled out. Willie Mays, of course, drew cheers from the majority polled.

Keating Ridicules Patterson-Rademacher Bout

INS Sports Editor Raps Congressman

By JOHN BARRINGTON
Sports Editor, INS

NEW YORK (INS) — Boxing certainly has its faults, but it is ridiculous for critics such as Congressman Kenneth Keating to condemn it on the basis of a fight he did not see and a contractual hassle about which he does not know the facts.

Keating gratuitously labeled the Floyd Patterson-Pete Rademacher fight "slaughter" and a "debacle" in a statement that read as if it might have been prepared in advance of the bout for delivery afterward.

Those sentiments were fairly general before the affair, but Keating's was about the only critical voice heard in its wake.

Rademacher gave a much better account of himself than expected, in fact a better account of himself than Patterson's last foe, the seasoned if befuddled professional, Hurricane Jackson.

Moreover, Pete, the alleged victim of what Keating called "modified murder," not only was in the ring voluntarily but actually set the bout up with his super-salesmanship. And whether or not he ever laces on another glove, he stands to make a pile of money from personal appearances and endorsements.

Is that so bad?

And Keating should get his facts straight before he cites the International Boxing Club-Sugar Ray Robinson theater TV dispute as evidence that boxing needs a house cleaning.

In this instance, boxing is an innocent bystander to a competitive struggle within the closed-circuit TV industry. Sports are only a small part of the business transacted in this field, where the bulk of the work consists of arranging private television hookups for business and industry.

As long ago as last April, Theatre Network Television, Inc. — the IBC's choice to screen the Sept. 23 Robinson-Carmen Basilio bout — complained that some of its competitors were cutting corners with side deals, kickbacks and undercover stock options.

Nathan L. Halpern, president of TNT, urged the annual convention of the society of motion picture and television engineers to "review our standards of good business conduct for our own welfare" and to establish "general industry standards of business ethics, so that the closed-circuit industry will not be adversely affected by malpractices."

Phils Give Up on Roberts as Mound Starter

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Robin Roberts, once mainstay of the Philadelphia Phillies pitching staff has been dropped as a starting hurler by Manager Mayo Smith.

After yesterday's 7-3 loss to the Milwaukee Braves, in which Robbie gave up six hits, including two homers in 3 1-3 innings, Smith said he had decided to replace him in the pitching rotation.

"Yes, I'm dropping him. (Don) Cardwell and (Jack) Meyer will take his place. What else can I do?" Smith said.

★ ★ ★

Roberts, 30, joined the club in 1948. He posted a 15-15 record his first full season in 1949 and for the next six years was among the 20-game winners. Last season he missed it by a single victory but lost 18.

Yesterday's game was his 18th loss against eight wins, one of the worst records in the majors.

STATE CHAMP — Mrs. Alice (Floyd) Shotwell, seasoned water-ski competitor from Pontiac, (above) yesterday won the Michigan state women's overall ski championship. She compiled a prohibitive total of 1,320 points at Lake Sherwood to take the first official title ever held in state water-ski circles. Dave Thompson of Kalamazoo won the men's crown.

First State Water-Ski Queen

Pontiac Girl Wins Two-Day Tourney

Despite Saturday's rain, but aided by the fine weather of Sunday, some 86 of Michigan's finest amateur water-ski performers held an audience that varied up to approximately 3,000 fans, spellbound while deciding the first official Michigan championships at new Lake Sherwood.

★ ★ ★

In Sunday's final events, particularly, the crowd that lined the shoreline stayed to the very last, past six o'clock, to see Pontiac's Alice (Mrs. Floyd) Shotwell, 111 James K Blvd., become the state's first queen of the waterborne slats. Men's overall title was won by Dave Thompson of Kalamazoo with a brilliant performance (1,400). He is a senior skier 45 years old.

Other winners:

Senior (overall) runnerup—Paul Boel, 1,220 points; junior men—Bill Derucha, Devils Lake, 1,256, 2nd John Pierce, Birmingham, 960; men's division — Dick Sligh, Metropolitan Beach, 2nd Tom Geiger, Devils Lake.

Women — Alice Shotwell; senior women—Elsa Thomas, Detroit, 2nd Gloria Lake, Whitemore Lake; junior women—tie — Marcia Hickson, Sylvan Lake, Karen Fitterling, Flat Rock.

Mrs. Shotwell's scores (1,320 x 1,500) for the overall put her away in front of the field. She won the slalom and the jump, was third in the trick event to pile up her long lead. Thompson's edge was considerably closer but decisive. Doris Schouton of Flatrock was 2nd with 800.

Overall comments on the affair, sponsored by Milford Junior Chamber of Commerce and two area water-ski clubs, were highly complimentary, and it is expected application for the 1958 Midwest tourney will be filed soon.

★ ★ ★

Outside the fine general performances of the field, special exhibitions were given that delighted and amazed the fans. Dick Sligh of Metropolitan Beach and Roger Versluis of Grand Rapids did the kite takeoffs, and Art Spans and Bill Weaver skiied on the soles of their bare feet (Bill did it on one foot). Jerry Vorheis of Pontiac did the heretofore so-called "impossible" back, deep-water takeoff with short boards. There were events for youngsters and all ages up to the seniors.

Only two mishaps occurred.

One jumper cleared 93 feet, fell on landing and suffered head cuts. His name was not learned. Another skier did the somersault off the ramp, was jolted when his slats broke on impact with the water. He was unhurt.

Sponsors for the Lake Sherwood championships will also hold a twi-county title meet Sept. 8 starting at 9 a.m. at Lake Sherwood. Oakland, Macomb and Wayne skiers will take part.

Hartack, Reward Defeat Arcaro and Alhambra

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

You can't blame Eddie Arcaro if he starts muttering unintelligible words when the name of Bill Hartack is mentioned in his presence.

Hartack, enroute to his third straight national riding title, has moved within eight of Arcaro's all-time record of winning 40 stakes within one year. And twice in $100,000 plus 2-year old races he has been the cause, either directly or indirectly, for Arcaro losing on Alhambra, generally rated the No. 1 contender for the juvenile championship.

Directly, Hartack defeated the Arcaro-Alhambra combination by 1¼ lengths with Jewel's Reward in last Saturday's $144,550 Washington Park Futurity at Chicago.

Favored Burkemo Wins 3rd State Title

By BILL CORNWELL

Class will tell, they say, and it was never more true than Sunday at Edgewood Country Club.

Wally Burkemo, shooting calm, methodical golf, showed his class again yesterday by winning the Michigan Open championship for the 3rd time in his career.

Bearing out the contention that he is the state's No. 1 player, Burkemo fired a 72-hole total of 272 to top his nearest rival, Max Evans of Rochester Golf and Country Club, by two strokes.

Wally was favored to win this tournament and he lived up to his advance billing in cool, calculating style.

The veteran Franklin Hills pro-fessional seized a one-stroke lead Saturday with a course record 65 after carding an opening round 70, then shot rounds of 69 and 68 Sunday to withstand the challenges of at least eight other pros.

Burkemo's 272 score for the three-day medal grind was 12 strokes below par.

Evans got off to a bad start with a one-over-par 72, but he came back with cards of 66-67-69 to make a strong bid for the title. The seasoned Rochester pro wound up with 274.

Bob Inman of Detroit Golf Club, the 1st round leader with a 66, added scores of 70-69-70 for a 275 total and 3rd place.

Big John Barnum of Grand Rapids carved out a score of 278 to finish 4th and Royal Oak's Bob Keller breezed home 5th with 279.

★ ★ ★

Tom Talkington, young Ypsilanti pro, matched Burkemo's course record 65 in yesterday's morning round, but he faded to a 72 in the afternoon and finished 6th at 280.

Meadowbrook's Chick Harbert, a four-time winner of the state Open tourney, came next on a 282 total.

Evans and Inman, trailing Burkemo by only one stroke at the 54-hole mark, missed chances to catch him when putting breaks went against them on the final round of Sunday's 36-hole windup.

★ ★ ★

Max muffed birdie putts of six and three feet and blew a two-footer for a bogey five. Inman made his bold move to catch Wally by dropping birdie putts on Nos. 14 and 15, but he missed short putts for "birds" on the 16th and 17th holes.

Burkemo, who 1st won the state Open crown in 1950 at Adrian's Lenawee course and repeated in 1955 at Washtenaw, pocketed $750 for his business-like efforts. Evans netted $500 while Inman's "take" was $400.

Art Olfs Jr., of Lansing, who fashioned rounds of 69-75-75-67—286, was the top amateur in the tourney. Veteran Tom Draper from Birmingham took 2nd spot with 287.

The 6,400-yard Edgewood links proved to be a nightmare for Pontiac golfers, none of whom could equal its par 35-36—71 layout for the 72-hole distance.

Young Gene Bone carded a 1st round 69, then lost his touch around the greens and ended far down the list with 293. Mike Andonian shot an opening day 70, but grew steadily worse for a 300 finish, and Lloyd Syron withdrew after 54 holes.

AIMS FOR GREEN — Wally Burkemo of Franklin Hills is all ready to send his iron shot winging toward the green during Sunday's final action in the Michigan Open golf tournament at Edgewood Country Club. Burkemo won the state title for the 3rd time in his career with a 72-hole total of 272.

It was the third time that Evans finished 2nd in this event and each time Burkemo was the man who topped him.

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — Tennis players from Los Angeles headed home today carrying half of the trophies from the national public parks tournament. Utah netmen collected the other half.

The final match in the mixed doubles division was scheduled yesterday as the week-long tournament ended at the Liberty Park concrete courts. However, rain caused a postponement of the match until a later date in Los Angeles.

Semifinal winner Joan Johnson and Bert Brown will meet Bill Weatherill and Winnie McCoy to decide who gets the title. They are all from the coast city.

Miss Johnson and Brown yesterday downed June Stack and Bob Sassone of Detroit, 6-3, 7-5, and Weatherill and Miss McCoy defeated Tom Wilkerson and Mrs. Mary Arnold Prentiss, also of Los Angeles, 6-1, 12-10, Saturday.

Linn Rockwood of Provo, Utah, the top-seeded defending champ in the men's singles division, held onto his crown by knocking over George Myerson of Los Angeles, 6-2, 6-4, 6-3, yesterday.

Max Plays 2nd Fiddle

Burkemo Thwarts Evans' Title Bid a 3rd Time

Winning a Michigan Open golf championship, it seems, is just not in the cards for Max Evans — especially when Wally Burkemo is around.

The old saying "always a bridesmaid but never a bride" fits Evans perfectly where the state Open tournament and Burkemo are involved.

Burkemo won the state crown for the 1st time in 1950 at Adrian's Lenawee course and Evans was runnerup. Two years ago Wally repeated at Washtenaw Country Club in Ypsilanti and Max again finished 2nd.

The classy Franklin Hills pro took the state crown for the 3rd time yesterday at Edgewood Country Club with a 72-hole total of 272. What happened to Evans? He took 2nd place again, two strokes behind.

Evans, Jack Fleck's assistant pro at Rochester Golf and Country Club, played consistently good golf in this tourney, but muffed his chances to catch Burkemo by missing hard-luck birdie putts. He also failed on a two-footer which cost him a par.

★ ★ ★

Burkemo, national PGA king in 1953, played "cagey" golf, as he termed it. He forged into the lead Saturday and stayed there wtih a display of regulation shooting.

Wally called Sunday's victory "highly satisfying because it's the only thing I've won all year." He has also been runnerup in the state Open three times.

New course records had short lives during the three-day grind. Edgewood pro Jack Hoffman 1st set the record of 66, five under par, about a month ago. Detroit's Bob Inman and Evans matched that figure and Burkemo set a new mark with a 65. Then Tom Talkington of Ypsilanti equalled Burkemo's feat.

Chick Harbert, the long-hitting Meadowbrook pro, took a seven Sunday on the 361-yard par four 8th hole. Always a popular favorite with the gallery, Harbert had a sizeable crowd following him all day.

An estimated 2,000 spectators attended yesterday's 36-hole finals.

Wins 2nd Major Event

Venturi Milwaukee Champ

By CHUCK CAPALDO

MILWAUKEE (AP)—For a golfer who maintains money is secondary, boyish looking Ken Venturi of San Francisco is doing all right for himself.

The pro pocketed a $6,000 check yesterday for winning the $35,000 Milwaukee Open golf tournament by five strokes with a 13-under-par 267 at the 6,355-yard Tripoli Golf Club.

The victory, his second in a row in tournament play, catapulted him from 30th to 15th place on the PGA's money list with earnings of $14,211 in less than four months.

Venturi, 26, turned pro Nov. 28, 1956. He didn't become eligible for money in PGA co-sponsored events until May 28. During that six-month probationary period, he won $4,249 in non-PGA co-sponsored tournaments, plus about $1,000 in pro-am events. In the last nine months his winnings add up to around $20,000.

Not bad for a guy who says, "My main purpose is to see how much I can win tournamentwise, not moneywise. I figure if I play to win and not for money, the money will take care of itself.

"I truthfully believe that if I didn't have that attitude, I would not have won at St. Paul, Minn., last week and here too. I maybe would have won only one of them. This is no business to be in if you have to depend on making money."

Venturi carded rounds of 68-66-65-68 in the 72-hole event over the par 35-35—70 course. Last week, he won at St. Paul with a 22-under par 266.

He beat 16 of the top 18 PGA money winners here, including Al Balding of Ontario, Canada, and Sam Snead of White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., who tied for second place with 272. They collected $3,500 apiece.

Venturi left for home yesterday and does not plan to compete in another tournament until the Dallas Open next month. He is the first pro to win two events in a row since 1955 when Mike Souchak turned the trick.

New Western Champ Surprises Himself

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Veteran Ed Updegraff, a tall, balding Arizona surgeon, is the new champion of the gruelling Western Amateur, and no one was more surprised than the doctor himself.

Updegraff, 36, made reservations to return to his home in Tucson, Ariz., before each of the first three rounds of match play and had to cancel them.

"I expected to qualify for the top 16 in match play, but that was all," Updegraff said yesterday after defeating Walker Cup player Joe Campbell, 21, of Knoxville, Tenn., 9 and 8, in the finals with remarkable iron play.

The loose-jointed, 160-pounder upset Phil Rodgers, 19, of La Jolla Calif., 2 and 1, in the semifinals.

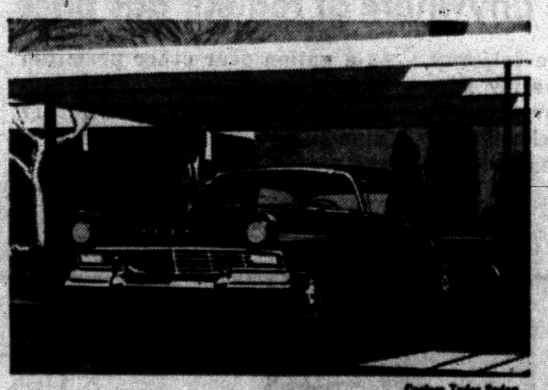
There's a FORD for every garage

The New kind of Ford for '57 comes in two big sizes . . . the big (over 16 foot) Custom models and the still bigger (over 17 foot) Fairlanes. From the Fairlane 500 Sunliner (above) on down . . . there's a Ford to suit every need.

Station wagon minded? Ford has 5 to choose from (including the 9-passenger Country Squire, above). Like all '57 Fords, they're fine cars in every sense of the word. Yet, they're yours for half the fine-car price!

Fairlane 500 Town Sedan



Custom Tudor Sedan

...and a price for every pocketbook

Whichever '57 Ford you choose . . . one thing's sure. You can pay more, but you can't buy better. And Ford is solidly built to be worth more when you buy it . . . worth more when you sell it, too!

Ford is the lowest priced of the low-price three! The '57 Ford, for all its expensive-car features, is the lowest priced of the low-price three.* Another reason why smart buyers everywhere say, "Little budgets love big Fords!"

In the final team results, Williams Lake finished second with 161 points behind Kent Swim Club which won the championship with 202 points.

The local swimmers held the lead after 25 events on Friday with 78 points, showing great depth in each event, but the eKnt Club team took over the lead in the relays and 90 points diving events Saturday.

Outstanding honors in the AAU meet went to Sandra Smith who took first in the 50-yard breast stroke, finished second in the 50-yard butterfly and fourth in the 50-yard back stroke.

★ ★ ★

She was also a member of the 12-and-under girls' relay team which finished second.

The team finish was the finest showing for the Williams Lake week in the State Recreation Championships, Williams Lake finished in 5th place, but four staate champions were brought back.

They were Mike Harrington in the 100-yard breast stroke; Catherine Kantarian in the 150 individual medley; Darleen Stangee in the 100-yard backstroke and the 12-year-old girls' free style relay team.

Birmingham swimmers, representing the Camp Chikopi swim team which is coached by Matt Mann, also fared well in the Grand Rapids meet.

Pete Sintz of Birmingham also qualified in the 440 free style, as third place finisher.

In the 100-yard freestyle for boys 13-14, W. Ploch of the Chikopi wimmers finished second and teammate Tom Dudley was third.

Patty and Mulloy Shoot for U.S. Title

BROOKLINE, Mass. (AP)—Budge Patty, who dislikes the doubles game, today joined Gardnar Mulloy to battle Australia's Ashley Cooper and Neale Fraser for the National Doubles championship he did not seek.

★ ★ ★

Patty, 34, suave employe of a Paris travel agency and Mulloy, 43, are top-seeded as a result of their triumph of experience over youth at Wimbledon.

Defending champions and 11-time winners Louise Brough and Mrs. Margaret DuPont today met Althea Gibson and Darlene Hard for the women's doubles title. Althea and Darlene never have lost a match in the eight tournaments they have played together plus the Wightman Cup.

Teenage Champ Belts Long Ball in Title Race

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP)—Two U. S. Golf Assn. officials today used teen-ager JoAnne Gunderson's National Amateur victory as evidence the younger set is making a strong bid for dominance in competitive women's golf.

★ ★ ★

"I don't see how the girls can get any better, but they are," said Mrs. Charles Dennehy of Lake Forest, Ill., chairman of the association's women's committee.

She said she thought Mrs. Ann Casey Johnstone, 34, of Mason City, Iowa was one of the biggest hitters in women's golf.

★ ★ ★

But the red-haired JoAnne, 18, daughter of a Seattle, Wash., carpenter, outhit Mrs. Johnstone on nearly every drive Saturday in winning the national title at the Del Paso Country Club 8 and 6.

He Went Home to Mother, She Got a Divorce

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Mrs. Joan Stocks won a default divorce decree and a half-ton pickup truck. Her husband James was given custody of a cement mixer.

He got a can opener from the kitchen wall. She won a portable opener from a kitchen drawer. They divided the pots and pans, also the rest of the community property.

Mrs. Stocks, 26, an auto club reservations manager, testified yesterday that Stocks, 30, an industrial arts teacher, visited his mother each morning and evening on his way to and from work. She said also that he once slapped her and told her to leave. But it was he who went home to mother.

Mrs. Stocks will receive $1 a month token alimony.

2 Factors Bring Sag by Grains

CHICAGO (AP) — Grain prices sagged on the board of trade today, influenced by lack of export demand for wheat and favorable weather for corn and soybeans.

Wheat slipped nearly a cent in early dealings on scattered commission house selling and liquidation inspired by reports from Washington that exports are running about 20 million bushels less than a year ago.

★ ★ ★

Corn eased on selling prompted by rains in Illinois over the weekend and a forecast for more moisture.

Soybeans were down on favorable weather and crop news.

Near the end of the first hour, new style wheat was ⅝ to ⅞ lower, Sept. $2.16⅞; corn was ¼ to ½ off, Sept. $1.26⅜; oats were ⅝ lower, Sept. 65⅝; rye was ¾ to 1¼ lower, Sept. $1.30½; soybeans were ⅞ to 1⅛ lower, Sept. $2.37¾; and lard was off 7 to 15 cents a hundred pounds, Sept. $12.37.

New Rights Bill Big Negro Win

Southern Whites Suffer Definite Defeat; Goes Beyond Stated Intention

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—Negroes and the supporters of civil rights have won a clear-cut victory. Southern whites have suffered a definite defeat.

This is clear after an analysis of the compromise civil rights bill which is expected to be passed by Congress this week.

★ ★ ★

It's been called a bill to protect Negroes' voting rights. It goes far beyond that. It would have gone further, by letting the attorney general step into all kinds of civil rights cases.

But Southern senators were able to get that part of the bill knocked out. As it stands, the bill would let the attorney general step into voting rights cases only.

That's plenty. So is the rest of the bill. And for the first time in this century, the Southerners were unable to block civil rights legislation.

That may mean more chance for more civil rights legislation in the future.

The bill calls for a commission to investigate all kinds of civil rights violations. The commission would have no powers to act against such violations, as the attorney general could have done under the knocked-out part of the bill. But it could expose.

Because it could issue subpoenas, it could force witnesses to appear and testify.

★ ★ ★

Under the bill, the attorney general could ask a federal judge for a court order to stop a voting rights violation. Again, there would be exposure. For once a judge issues such an order, he would hold a public hearing to bring out the facts in the case.

And the bill leaves untouched the judge's traditional power to try and jail—without a jury—anyone in civil contempt of courts for disobeying his order.

RAF in Action on Oman Village

Attack Believed Aimed at Mountain Hideout of Rebel Leaders

MANAMA, Bahrain (AP) — The British air force went into action in Oman again today after a two-week lull.

It was reported the action was against a village where Omani rebel leaders, Imam Ghaleb ben Ali, his brother Taleb and Sheikh Suleiman bin Himyar were believed hiding in the mountains.

They are reported preparing to organize a guerrilla campaign against Sultan Said bin Taimur of Muscat and Oman.

An announcement was expected later today on the results of the action. It was believed the RAF dropped leaflets demanding the villagers hand over the rebel leaders immediately and threatening to blast the village if the demand is not met.

Unofficial reports from Muscat said 18 rebel tribesmen had been captured. A representative of the rebel imam said in Cairo the British tortured them.

British officials rejected the charge. A spokesman said the British took no part in the arrests.

The arrests coincided with reports that some of the Omani people are showing a hostile attitude toward the Sultan. The reports said eight cars were attacked in the last few days near Nizwa, the ancient capital of Oman now held by the Sultan's forces.

Waterford Man Injured as Car Hits Guard Rails

Len N. Stoppert, 25, of 2190 Marston, Waterford Township, knocked down six highway guard-rails when his car went off the pavement at 10:30 last night.

Waterford Township police said he was traveling west on M59, near Whitney avenue, when the accident occurred.

Stoppert was taken to Pontiac General Hospital with internal injuries. His condition is reported satisfactory today.

An average American consumes about 222 pounds of wheat and about 75 pounds of corn annually.

Market Lower, Trade Moderate

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market went lower in moderately active trading early today.

Most pivotal issues took fractional losses, but a few were down a point or more. Some stocks bucked the trend with gains ranging from fractions to more than two points.

Despite reports that steel orders for 1958 automobiles are starting to come, the major steels were mostly lower. Aircrafts were mixed. Most leading rails took fairly sharp losses as earnings reports by some big carriers showed declines.

General Dynamics opened at 53½, up 2% on a block of 5,000 shares, United Aircraft was firm. But Boeing and Douglas lost big fractions.

Du Pont and Royal Dutch were down well over a point each. Illinois Central dropped about a point as its earnings were reported lower. Baltimore & Ohio, Chesapeake & Ohio and Pennsylvania Railroad, the latter actively traded, dropped major fractions.

U.S. Steel, Republic Steel and Lukens took fractional losses.

Nonferrous metals, oils, motors and chemicals were generally lower.

Opening blocks included Santa Fe off ⅛ at 22⅞ on 5,000 shares; Bethlehem Steel up ⅛ at 44 on 5,000; and New York Central up ⅛ at 28⅝ on 1,500.

Inventions Could Mean Millions

Firms Wary of New Ideas

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) — Countless American men and women nurse a conviction they have an idea that if recognized and properly commercialized would prove to be a money making invention.

★ ★ ★

Many a corporation knows that their present products run the risk of becoming outdated, despite all the dollars that are being poured into company research. Outside ideas could be the answer if they are to outstrip their competitors.

★ ★ ★

The problem is to get the inventor and the producer and financier together without contusions and abrasions.

Inventors have some strong fears about theft or double dealing by corporations. And some suspect that ideas are suppressed to protect present products.

Companies have had their fingers burned enough by law suits to be aware of the risks of dealing with outside ideas, especially if unsolicited.

★ ★ ★

But men dealing with patents contend that the examples of losses on either side, provable in the courts, have been small compared with the gains to both inventors and corporations, especially in the fields of products for public consumption.

Corporation executives contend that from 200 to 500 ideas submitted must be examined to find one that is worthwhile. They point out that a $25 preliminary patent research by the inventor saves everybody time and money.

George S. Hastings, American Machine & Foundry vice president in charge of its patent department, says many companies now insist upon a submit agreement. This states that the invention isn't being submitted in confidence and that the corporation doesn't agree to compensate the inventor.

★ ★ ★

A payment agreement is something that many an outsider with ideas has asked because he fears that when the corporation knows his secret he's lost his bargaining power. Some courts have held that without the submit agreement an outside submission implies a contract, even if the invention is old or readily available from other sources.

★ ★ ★

The Inventor's greatest fears probably are that the corporation will use his idea without pay or that it will buy the idea but never bring the product out lest that upset the company's large vested interest in its present product because of the costs of tooling, servicing and advertising.

★ ★ ★

Hastings admits that these costs count with a big corporation in deciding upon accepting an invention. But he contends that this condition often gives the inventor a better chance with companies trying to make their way in a given field.

Back From Festival

Reds Gave Youth Trouble

NEW YORK (INS) — An American youth just returned from the Moscow Youth Festival says he's glad to be back after Russian officials gave him some "rough treatment" for talking too much about Hungary.

George S. Abrams, 25, a Harvard law school graduate, was to go on to his Newton, Mass., home today after arriving yesterday in New York from European travels including 19 days at the festival.

Abrams said he spent 15 of his 19 days—starting July 24—making street-corner speeches to crowds of Russians that sometimes numbered 1,500.

"They were eager to hear me talk and asked all kinds of questions," he said.

But the turning point apparently came when, through a volunteer interpreter, Abrams read from the United Nations report on Soviet brutality in Hungary.

CALLED A FASCIST

Abrams said he was called a fascist and an "instigator of the Hungarian revolt" when the Soviet press began to attack him for his reading of the report. Professional hecklers moved into the crowds to disrupt his speeches.

When his exit visa was delayed by the Red government for three days, because of "some irregularities," Abrams said he was "beginning to get a little bit frightened."

After his visa finally came through he left Moscow Aug. 11.

He told reporters in New York, "I feel strongly that the Russian government is really separated from the Russian people. The government has them in a vacuum and they feed them whatever they want.

"The people are really in a brainwashed state."

Abrams said he will enter the Army Sept. 15 to begin his six-months reserve training.

Detroit Papers Back on Stands

All Published Sunday Editions; Regular Sizes Planned Today

DETROIT (AP) — Detroit's three major daily newspapers were back on regular deadline schedules today after settlement of a labor dispute which suspended publication most of last week.

The afternoon Detroit News and Times reported everything normal today as the usual number of pages were planned. The morning Free Press came out on schedule.

The papers all published Sunday editions, although they were thinner than usual and newsboys were a little late with editions.

★ ★ ★

The News and Times both published Saturday after settlement of the dispute shortly after midnight Friday. The Free Press joined them publishing a Sunday edition.

The dispute, between mailers and publishers, ended shortly after Midwest Teamsters boss James R. Hoffa intervened in what was described as a major role in the settlement.

The dispute arose from refusal of mailers to work beyond a 15-hour double shift at the News Aug. 17. The News said it fired 67 mailers and mailers picket lines wer thrown up at the News. Teamsters members then refused to cross picket lines to deliver papers and the News suspended publication.

★ ★ ★

The other two papers stopped publishing after Sunday editions that night under a publishers agreement that if one paper is shut rown by a labor dispute all would close because they have a joint contract with their various unions.

AF Flier Crash-Lands in Yellowstone, Unhurt

YELLOWSTONE PARK, Wyo. (AP)—An Air Force lieutenant on leave became one of the first tourists in history to arrive at Old Faithful Inn by air when he crash-landed his light aircraft last night on a road about half a mile away.

Lt. Charles E. Richardson Jr., stationed at Fairfield Air Force Base near Spokane, Wash., suffered only a face cut as he made a "wheels up" landing on the road.

Two brothers are in the hospital today following an accident yesterday which knocked them from a motorcycle.

Robert B. Mancour, 23, and Dennis K. Mancour, 20, of 366 Linda Vista Dr., were hit at 7:20 p.m. by a car driven by Earl F. Cox Jr., 20, of 2164 Dexter Rd., Pontiac Township.

Cox told police he swerved to the left of the center of Mt. Clemens street, near Bay, to avoid hitting a car making a left turn in front of him. He hit the motorcycle which was coming in the opposite direction.

Compromise Aid Bill Seen

Ike Said Ready to Deal With Half-Billion Dollar Hike in Senate

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower's supporters were reported willing to compromise today on a half-billion-dollar Senate increase over the $2,524,000,000 in new foreign aid funds voted by the House.

Republican Leader Knowland of California said in an interview he expects the Senate Appropriations Committee to vote for a fund substantially higher than the House approved.

While Knowland declined to name any figure, some other Republicans said they would be lucky to boost the total to around three billion dollars.

This would be about 300 million dollars short of the amount Eisenhower has described as a minimum needed to carry out the mutual security program in the current fiscal year which began July 1.

There was bipartisan support in the Senate for increasing the House total, but little hope that the committee would go along with an effort to lift the amount to the $3,367,000,000 previously fixed by Congress as a ceiling.

Sen. Potter (R-Mich) said, "It now looks like the committee will report out something between three billion dollars and $3,100,000,000."

Sen. Holland (D-Fla) said he thinks Congress will put itself in "a silly position" if it doesn't restore the fund to about the amount of the ceiling it approved.

"There has been no change in the international situation that I know of that would justify any big reductions," Holland said.

Even if the Senate should approve a three-billion-dollar allotment, this would almost certainly be reduced in a subsequent compromise with the House. Some Democrats have predicted the final new money figure is likely to be no more than $2,800,000,000.

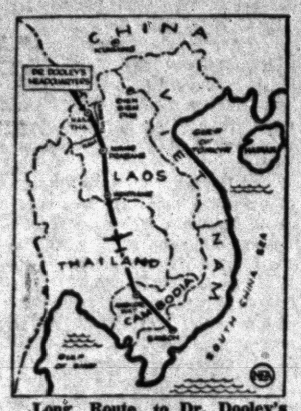
American Doctor Aids Ill in Remote Jungle



Long Route to Dr. Dooley's hospital from Saigon to Nam Tha is shown on map.

By DON DUNHAM
NEA Special Correspondent

SAIGON, Viet Nam (NEA) — I have come halfway around the world to report one of the most dramatic stories in modern medicine.

An incredible journey in Laos to within five miles of the Red Chinese border took me to the primitive land where Dr. Thomas A. Dooley operates a hospital at Nam Tha.

Dr. Dooley, a former U.S. Navy lieutenant, in a tremendous effort is attempting to bring health and happiness to thousands of unsettled northern Vietnamese.

He is one of the real heroes of the successful removal of Vietnamese who fled the several hundred thousand Communists in 1954 after the armistice.

To get patients in before diseases become hopeless and injuries infected, Dr. Dooley works closely with the witch doctors of the eight tribes in the area.

AMERICAN SUPPORT

With tremoundous support from a group of American pharmaceutical houses, which supplied his drugs and medical supplies, and the Laotian government, Dr. Dooley and his young American aides have been treating about 100 patients a day.

Dr. Dooley and his aides reportedly are the first white men ever to go through the monsoon season at Nam Tha, a village in the foot-hills of the Himalayas.

Most of the residents, about 4,000 around the village and 25,000 in the entire province, cannot read. They cannot tell time.

So Dr. Dooley tells them to take two pills when the sun is here two more when the sun is there. The system works fine, he reports.

Dr. Dooley and his team came here from Vang Vieng last spring, after Prince Souvanna Phoum, then prime minister, urged him to take his American medicine north.

★ ★ ★

So here he is, with the latest of American drugs, mosquito bars on the hospital beds, but not his own, and a fence around the clean little hospital to keep out the water buffalo, beast of burden and meat.

Through the days at Vang Vieng, and for a while up here his team was composed of Norman Baker, Berlin, N. H.; Peter Kessey from Texas, and Dennis Shepard from Oregon. Having stayed longer than the promised six months, they returned to the states last spring.

Taking their places were John de Vitry of Bainbridge, Pa., and Bob Waters, Fort Lauderdale, Fla.

Viet Nam refugee movement was viet Nam refugee movement was so special that President Ngo Dinh Diem presented Dr. Dooley with his nation's highest award, the "Officier de l'Ordre National de Viet Nam."

Dr. Dooley was named one of the 10 outsanding young men in America by the Junior Chamber of Commerce last year. He since has been nominated for a high Papal award, and his book, "Deliver Us From Evil," won the Christopher Award.

IN HIS REMOTE LAOS HOSPITAL five miles from the Red Chinese border, Dr. Thomas A. Dooley has a smile for a young native patient as the child's mother watches.

I have been familiar with Dr. Dooley's work for some time through editorials and articles in the Journal of the American Medical Association. It is one of the most dramatic adventures of our time.

★ ★ ★

Here is a real demonstration of person-to-person diplomacy that pays off in rich results of a type that cannot be bought by many more costly programs.

Every morning in Laos after breakfast he does the hospital rounds, then goes to sick call.

There, around the front door of the hospital, will be gathered as many as 100 persons. Some of them may have walked three days to get there.

It has been that way seven days a week for 11 months.

★ ★ ★

Malaria is the chief problem here as in most of the tropics. Whenever a person's resistance is down, malaria takes over. TB, upper respiratory infections, pneumonias, yaws, trachoma, tropical ulcers, whooping cough, the dysenteries, parasites and cholera are Dr. Dooley's chief medical problems.

★ ★ ★

These, with injuries, operations and delivery of babies keep him busy. He has as many night calls as the busy practitioner in any American community.

At Vang Vieng, Dr. Dooley did not get one full night's sleep in five months. There was always an emergency or delivery of a baby.

NEXT: The story of Ion, a 10-year-old native boy.

Turkey Urging U.S. to Join Pact

Also Pressing Jordan to Become Member of Baghdad Alliance

ISTANBUL (INS) — Turkey was reported today to be pressing for the United States to become a full member of the Baghdad Pact as the only answer to Soviet penetration into Syria.

The unconfirmed reports said that Turkey is also trying to get Jordan to become a member of the five-nation, pro-Western pact and asked Iraq's King Faisal to get more fully behind it.

Still another report said Turkish statesmen suggested the U.S. diplomatic troubleshooter Low W. Henderson that the U.S. launch a new extensive economic plan in the Middle East to combat Russia's new 196-million-dollar aid offer to Syria.

Such a program would be an extension of the Eisenhower Doctrine which provides military and economic aid.

Henderson has been holding hush-hush meetings in Istanbul with the pro-Western leaders of Turkey, Jordan and reportedly Iran since Saturday but nothing has officially been announced concerning the outcome of the talks —or what the deputy undersecretary of state's next steps will be.

Henderson talked with young King Hussein Sunday shortly before the Jordanian monarch flew from Istanbul to Spain. All Henderson would say about this meeting was that it was a "courtesy call."

The plea that the U.S. become a full member of the Baghdad Pact was said to have come personally from Turkish Premier Adnan Menderes.

News Lensmen Ask Entry to Red China

URBANA, Ill. (INS)—Secretary of State John Foster Dulles has been urged to grant news photographers permission to enter Communist Chnia.

Robert McCandless, chairman of the Freedom of Information Committee of the National Press Photographers Assn., noted in a letter to Dulles yesterday that the State Department apparently has excluded photo journalists from the group of newsmen to be allowed to go to Red China.

McCandless, a photographer for the Champaign-Urbana (Ill.) Courier, called this exclusion an "infringement upon the freedom of the modern press." He told Dulles:

"Combining words with pictures presents to the American public a more complete, truthful and accurate report than would otherwise be possible."

The State Department recently reversed a long-standing policy and granted permission for each of 24 news-gathering organizations to send one representative to Communist China.

Jack Webb Prepares Two-Year Supply of 'Dragnet'

STILL DRAGGING THE NET — Jack Webb is now filming another two-year supply of "Dragnet" detective stories, despite frequent rumors that he planned to scuttle the 5-year-old series. Jack is star, creator, producer and director of "Dragnet," which is telecast Thursdays at 7:30 p. m. over NBC.

Not Abandoning Detective Tales

He'll Continue Making Series as Long as the Public Demands It

By CHARLES DENTON

HOLLYWOOD (INS)—Jack Webb is on his way back to the salt mines he has been expected to abandon for at least two years.

★ ★ ★

Contrary to reports and authoritative statements, the "Dragnet" man has started dragging his familiar culprit net again on orders from a boss for whom he has the utmost regard—the public.

Rumors that Webb planned to retire the now 5-year-old whodunit have been as frequent—and unreliable—in Hollywood as rumors of Princess Margaret's engagement in London.

Webb has even encouraged them with repeated statements that no television series was ageless, that he yearned for other projects and that he preferred directing to acting anyway.

★ ★ ★

But here he goes again filming another two years' supply of clipped dialogue and "dum da dum dum." Why?

PUBLIC WANTS IT

"I've had the feeling that I'd stop for some time," he shrugged, "but you know I've always said that as long as the public wanted it, I'd keep making it.

★ ★ ★

"When the people lose interest, well, that's another story. But it depends on what you call interest. During the regular season, we stay up there in the top 15 shows. Occasionally we're in the top 10.

"We get beaten by the spectaculars and special events, but we must be entertaining some people, so it behooves us to go on.

"We'd better," he winked, "do what the public wants."

For a man who has wavered about continuing a show, Jack has refreshing faith in the format he has developed for "Dragnet" in five years of TV and six of radio.

★ ★ ★

He doesn't believe the viewers are looking for any change, and he isn't going to louse up a going concern by offering any, unsolicited.

"We're not coming in with any sweeping changes," he said. "That wouldn't prove anything. The public likes the show as it is."

OTHER SUCCESSES

Actually, Webb's more benign view of "Dragnet" probably stems from the success he has realized in other fields of entertainment, notably motion pictures.

★ ★ ★

Back in the days when he was restive to sideline Sgt. Joe Friday and Co., his target was to make and star in feature films.

Now he's achieved that goal with such flickers as "Pete Kelly's Blues" and "The DI," and he's dickering to make three motion pictures for Warner Brothers.

"Years ago," he explained, "I felt I needed diversification. Now I've made the pictures, and people have gone to see them, which has been a wonderful thing for me.

"I think for one thing that it proves I haven't gotten myself into a rut. If I were typed, why would people go to see the pictures? I don't consider myself a big box office attraction.

★ ★ ★

"I feel that as long as the public permits me to do other things, I'll be satisfied to continue with 'Dragnet.' But I'll tell you one thing, I don't plan any sequel to the 'Dragnet' feature, which has been our biggest success so far.

"I look forward to the day when we can produce pictures without me in them and people will come to see them."

Seeks Even More on 'Twenty-One'

Craig Set Out to Win $500, but Has $84,000 Instead

NORTH HEBRON, N. Y. (AP) — Harold Craig set out to win $500.

The 26-year-old dairy farmer has reached $84,000 in winnings on the NBC television quiz show Twenty-One and will be shooting for more tonight.

The money is earmarked for improvements on the 400-acre Craig farm in this tiny hamlet in upstate New York.

★ ★ ★

Craig and Charles Van Doren are the best known of the Twenty-One contestants.

Van Doren is the intellectual offspring of an intellectual family. He holds college and university degrees and is a college professor whose life remains steeped in education.

Craig is the son and grandson of farmers. He went to high school, spent a few months in a teachers college and returned to the farm. He works a 13-hour day that begins at 6 a.m., when he rounds up 43 cows and herds them into the barn for milking. It ends when he cleans the barn after a second milking at night.

★ ★ ★

In between, he feeds and cares for calves and—depending upon the time of year—cuts and stores hay, plants and harvests corn and oats, mends fences, clears land, and does other duties he calls chores.

Each Monday morning for the past 10 weeks, Craig's life has undergone a sharp transition.

When the early chores are done, he changes to a business suit, packs a bag, drives to the nearby city of Glens Falls and boards a plane for New York City. There, he emerges as the current star of a major TV production.

★ ★ ★

Craig's most distinguishing marks as a TV personality are his rural twang, an almost shy smile and the manner in which he methodically — and aloud — works out his answers to questions.

Viewers watching the farm boy compete with urbane, well-educated participants attach a David-and-Goliath aura to the show.

Craig began the quiz venture by applying to a daytime TV show produced by the same organization.

When he wrote, he says, he hoped to make $500. He won a wristwatch.

★ ★ ★

But he made an impression—his occupation helped—and he was asked to take qualifying tests for Twenty-One.

Craig says he has built up his store of knowledge through reading and an especially good memory. "I don't cram," he says. "I just began heavy reading 10 to 15 years ago and have kept it up."

His reading is mostly history (the latest was on the important documents and conferences of modern Europe) and literature.

It includes newspapers and magazines. He admits to being weak in sports and technical subjects.

★ ★ ★

He reads during lunchtime, when the day's work is done and on rainy days. A radio in the barn is kept tuned to a classical-music station. Hence his knowledge in that field.

Craig, who says he can remember things that happened to him when he was 2 or 3 years old, lives with his parents. A brother and sister are married and in their own homes. A second sister is finishing a two-year tour in the Women's Army Corps.

Harold's social activities consist mostly of an occasional date for square dancing ("I'm getting a little too old for it now") or a drive-in movie. He doesn't smoke and has only an occasional social drink.

★ ★ ★

He says there is no special girl in his life, has no plans toward marriage and won't be doing any thinking along that line as long as he is on TV. ("I'm going to wait until the dust settles.")

Craig says that his prime goal as the money and fame increase is to "stay natural."

"But sometimes," he adds, "you get wore a little thin."

★ ★ ★

He says that he intends to remain in farming—on the same farm—for the rest of his life. But he does not eliminate the possibility of a "very short-term" business venture as the result of his TV fame if an opportunity should arise.

Mixup on Dance Terms Almost Brings Trouble

CAIRO (AP) — Confusion of the terms "ballet dance" and "belly dance" almost caused trouble for an Egyptian girl who recently attended the Moscow youth festival.

Reports from Russia said the girl did a belly dance in her nightgown in a railway station.

★ ★ ★

The Cairo press today reported the Education Ministry had investigated and found the girl was properly clad at the time and had performed "a ballet dance of a refined type taught in Egyptian schools—not a belly dance."

Junior Editors Quiz on MERMAIDS

QUESTION: Do mermaids really exist?

ANSWER: Ever since men started sailing the seas there have been tales of sailors sighting mermaids. According to the reports, mermaids had bodies that were half human and half fish. They would sit on the island sands singing and combing their golden hair with golden combs. One legend says they carried a magic cap which they would slip on the head of the man they wanted and then would carry him beneath the sea. The cap enabled the man to live under water.

A few sailors also told of seeing mermen, who captured mortal maidens and married them.

Scientists say that such creatures exist only in the imagination. They say that certain sea animals like the sea cow resemble human beings at a distance and this may explain the mermaid stories. The sea cow, which is like a seal, sometimes stands upright on its tail in the water.

FOR YOU TO DO: Cut out this picture of the pretty mermaid, paste it on cardboard and color it.

U.S. Soldier's Bullet Hits Korean, Killing Him

SEOUL (AP)—The U.S. Army announced that a Korean civilian died today after being hit by a ricocheting bullet fired by an American soldier guarding the Inchon pipeline.

The Army gave this account:

The guard, Pfc. Martin Mills, Brooklyn, N. Y., fired three warning shots into a body of water yesterday after several Koreans ignored his verbal warnings to stop climbing on the pipeline.

One bullet ricocheted off the water, hitting Jon Byong Kil in the arm and then the abdomen.

The Army opened an investigation into the shooting.

5 Filipino Prisoners Killed in Escape Try

MANILA (AP)—Police today killed 5 of 15 prisoners who staged an early morning break from the overcrowded prison at Basilan, on Basilan Island off the southwest coast of Mindanao.

A Philippine News Service dispatch said the prisoners, all Moros, were facing charges ranging from murder to robbery. They fled after cutting two bars in their cell.

The report said the prison had accommodations for only 45 persons but that 120 now were confined there.
