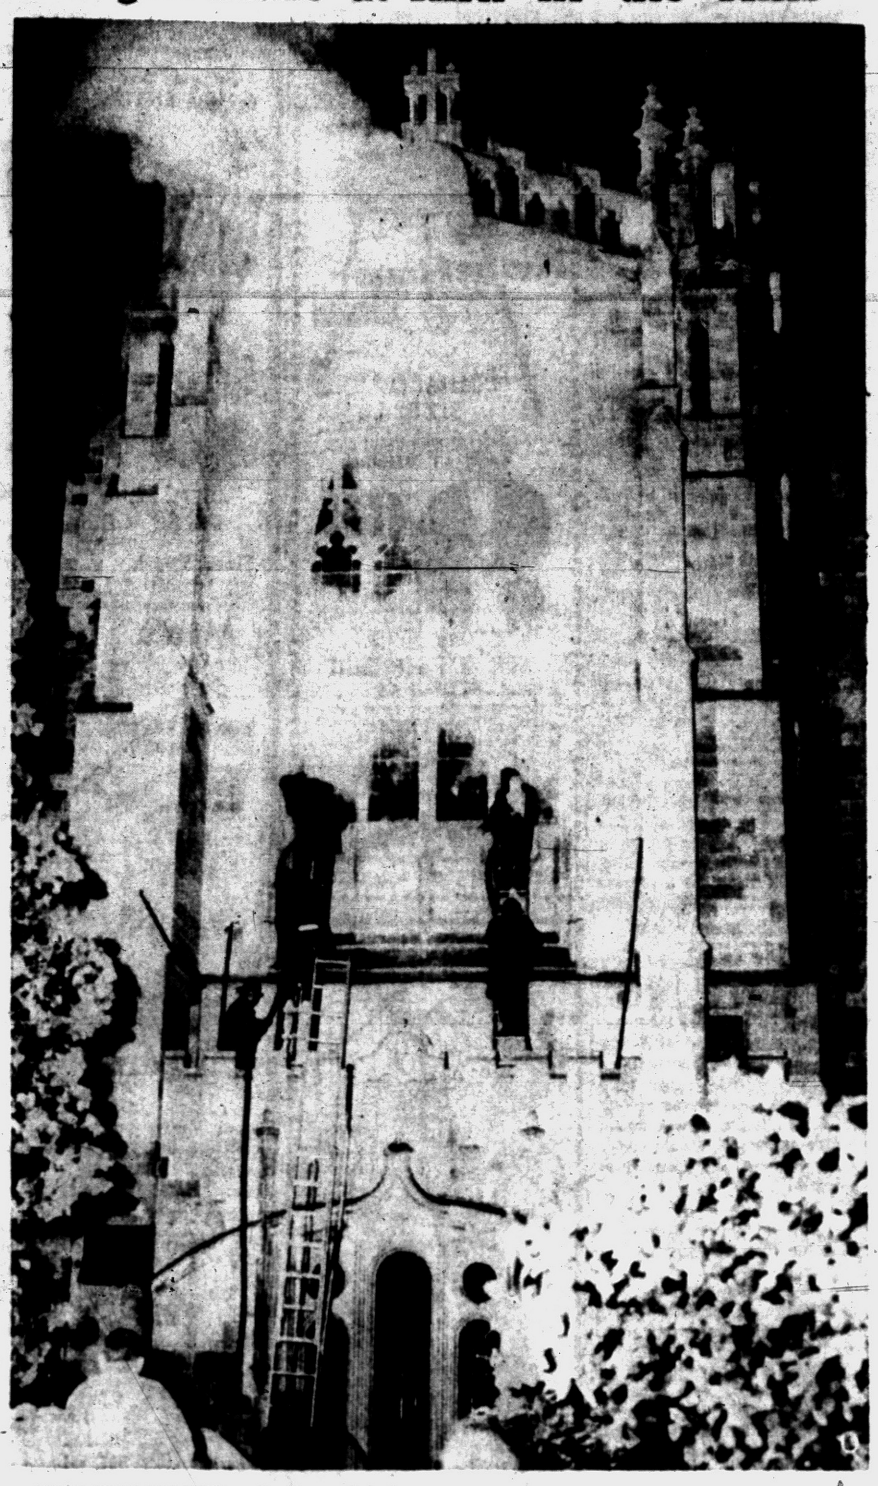
Fight Blaze at Kirk-in-the-Hills



FIRE HITS CHURCH — Smoke gushes from the elaborate chancel window as firemen battle the stubborn, million dollar blaze that ravaged the Kirk-in-the-Hills in Bloomfield Township for nearly 12 hours last night. Damage centered in the $3,500,000 new sanctuary still under construction.

Lightning Strikes Church, Starts Million Dollar Fire

County Lashed by High Winds, Thunderstorms

Threats of Tornadoes Keep Residents on Edge for Two-Hour Period

A battered Oakland County assessed damages today in the wake of last night's high winds, lightning storms and tornado threats which kept residents jittery for a two-hour period.

Driven by winds of up to 60 miles an hour, the rain slashed into the county at about 8 p. m., knocking down power lines, blowing out transformer fuses, toppling trees and cutting off phone service at scattered points.

SPOT FORMATIONS

Simultaneously, a number of black, swirling tornado formations were reported by ground observers and sheriff's deputies throughout the county. The tornado alert was sounded at 8 p.m. and lifted at 10 p.m.

No injuries were reported from the storm, but damage to cars, homes and other property was wide-spread.

In Pontiac, nine calls were received by the Fire Dept., all of wires down. Police reported 14 calls, as wires, trees and limbs went down throughout the city.

PUT OFF GRADUATION

The storm forced postponement of the Pontiac High School Commencement at Wisner Stadium, where some 2,000 spectators ducked under the stands. Graduates waited at Wisner School and Pontiac High until 8:15 p.m. when the principal called off the ceremonies.

Williams Will Permit Enactment of Tax Bill

DETROIT (AP) — Gov. Williams says he will not block enactment of a controversial school aid bill carrying 25 million dollars in new taxes on liquor and cigarettes.

Williams told a statewide television audience last night that he would not veto the measure even though he strongly disapproved of its tax provisions.

The choice, he said, is accepting the bill "or leaving the financing of our schools—and therefore the welfare of our children—hanging in the balance."

He assailed the cigarette and liquor taxes as the "first fruit in a propaganda campaign against the state of Michigan."

Williams did not say specifically whether he would sign the school aid bill or allow it to become law without his signature. In any event, it will take effect not later than July 4 barring a legislative tie-up.

The legislature convenes June 27 for sine die adjournment and at that time will remedy a technical oversight in the bill before sending it on to the governor.

Some 289 million dollars will be divided among schools throughout the state under the legislature's school aid plan embodied in the bill.

TO BRING IN 25 MILLION

Most will come from the schools' two-thirds share of the state sales tax and the primary school interest fund. A two-cent increase in the three-cent state levy on cigarettes is expected to furnish another $18 million and a new four per cent tax on liquor will contribute about seven million.

Williams listed these objections to the new taxes:

"First," he said, "they are direct taxes on consumers, and Michigan already has too many taxes of this kind.

★ ★ ★

"Second, they are the wrong kind of taxes to support education. The spectacle of a great state urging its people to buy more liquor and smoke more cigarettes so its children can have an education, is offensive to me . . .

"Thirdly, these new taxes are likely to cause increased bootlegging of both cigarettes and liquor and thereby create a serious law enforcement problem."

Williams also branded them as "another patchwork job on basic state finances by the Republican majority in the Michigan legislature."

Since state law does not permit him to approve only parts of the bill, he said, he has a choice of letting the bill pass or having no bill at all.

The only other alternative, he said, would be to call the legislature into special session and hope the lawmakers would come up with a new program.

Williams has recommended a six per cent tax on corporation profits as the answer to Michigan's financial problems, with schools getting a share of the collections.

In an effort to ascertain Michigan's tax situation, Williams said he would within a few weeks look into the possibility of organizing a "broad citizens' committee" to study the tax structure in relation to the needs of the people. Also, he said, the committee would be asked to make recommendations on state finances.

The governor said he also would lend support to another committee which will launch a similar study of state taxes, provided it is "unbiased in its make-up."

Start of Blaze at Kirk-in-Hills Laid to Storm

Flames Battled by Men From Nine Departments Throughout Night

By DICK SAUNDERS

A severe thunderstorm which hit Oakland County and the Detroit area shortly after 7 p.m. last night was blamed as the cause of a million dollar fire at the well known Kirk-in-the-Hills, 1340 W. Long Lake Rd., Bloomfield Township.

The blaze which firemen think was started by a bolt of lightning was reported to the Bloomfield Township Fire Department at 7:15 p.m. by residents of the area who saw smoke pouring from the rear of the church.

Fast work on the part of firemen confined the flames to the new sanctuary which has been under construction for about one and one-half years and was to have been finished by this Christmas.

No one was seriously injured.

HARD AT WORK

Despite heavy rains and efforts of eight other fire departments, the stubborn flames kept over 150 firemen and volunteers hard at work until 4 a.m. this morning.

Bloomfield Township firemen were still at the scene after 6 a.m.

Firemen said the fire was difficult to cope with because it confined itself mainly to the loft area which was impossible to get at immediately. An insulated area between the roof and ceiling, they said, stubbornly burned downward into the church instead of upward through the roof.

The only access firemen had to the flaming area was through expensive stained glass windows, including the $10,875 chancel window. They fought heavy smoke for hours before they were able to enter the sanctuary on the ground floor and train hoses and spotlights on the troublesome ceiling.

EARLY MORNING

It was early morning before flames began to emerge through the roof. By this time at least a dozen men had been overcome by smoke and treated on the scene

Giant Search Begins for Clue to Slayer

Spurred by belief that a sex-crazed slayer has added another young girl to his list of victims, area law enforcement officials again doubled their efforts to find some clue which will end the nightmare of battered young bodies.

The discovery yesterday of six-year-old Mary deCaussin's half-clothed body — raped, beaten, fiendishly slashed—rekindled sickening memories of the fate of Barbara Gaca two years ago.

Police responded with a giant manhunt by state troopers, Wayne County deputies, the Ecorse Township police department, and many volunteers, including about 300 Boy Scouts. They are determined to keep up the intense search as long as possible in an attempt to uncover definite incriminating evidence.

Another rape - slaying became a horrible possibility to searching crews and worried parents Wednesday night, as they thought that little Mary deCaussin may have been lured to her death. Two years ago the Gaca girl was lured by candy given her, authorities believe.

Then the worst thoughts were substantiated when Mary's body was discovered at 10:40 a.m. Thoughts were directed back about two years when the body of Barbara Gaca was found, stabbed many times.

AREAS SIMILAR

There is a similarity between the areas in which each body was found. Both were in a wooded, suburban area, and near what was listed as a "lover's lane," adjacent to a dump.

Chances Good for Air Service

CAB Hears Appeal for Passenger Flights From Pontiac

Pontiac and Oakland County's chances of passenger airline service at Pontiac Municipal Airport appeared good today following an appeal yesterday before the Civil Aeronautics Board in Lansing.

"I feel very optimistic that we will eventually get this service," said Homer D. Hoskins, airport manager, who testified before the CAB.

Accompanying him were John W. Hirlinger, Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce manager, and William A. Ewart, city attorney.

"We were talking in terms of a half million people in our appeal," Hoskins commented. "The service will benefit not only Pontiac but the entire country."

STRESS INCONVENIENCE

He said he stressed the inconveniences of area residents in using either Willow Run or Detroit City Airport.

A review of Pontiac's request will be held in September in Washington, D. C., Hoskins said. "It will help to have local representation there also."

A decision is not expected until next year, according to CAB examiner Barron Fredricks.

★ ★ ★

Hoskins told the board the field has "the necessary facilities" now for commercial service, and added that a future project included a control tower and a passenger terminal.

"There wasn't anything brought out in the examination to indicate we wouldn't get the service," he said.

"We constantly emphasized the present improvement plans showing our progress toward the ultimate airport facilities," the manager added.

He testified that the new 4,000-foot runway with 2,000-foot east and west clearances would safely permit larger craft to use the local field.

Bond Issue Due for New Vote?

Election May Be Sought as Emergency Move for Hospital Funds

It was hinted at a joint meeting of the Pontiac City Commission and City hospital trustees last night that another bond issue vote might be sought to gain emergency funds for the completion of the hospital.

Complete details of the meeting are unavailable to the public because Mayor William W. Donaldson called it an informal or "off the record" session.

City Manager Walter K. Willman added this morning that the second hospital vote "is only a possibility based on talks with Claude Stevens, Pontiac's bond attorney."

After the May 20 defeat of the $1,850,000 general obligation bond issue, it was reported that the city could not call another election on the matter for two years. This was because the tax increase was a City Charter amendment.

STEVENS SURE

"Stevens was quite sure we could bypass this ruling by changing the amendment to include just the hospital," Willman said.

Plans would be to strip the vote of a $350,000 parking lot, some equipment, and the sewage treatment plant question which were all on the May ballot.

Several members of the hospital Board of Trustees spoke in terms of one million dollars as the stripped-down needs of the hospital. This would include $436,000 in equipment already ordered, approximately $500,000 in equipment to be ordered, and $50,000 owed architect Leo J. Heenan.

★ ★ ★

Willman expected to confer with Stevens today on the possibility of a vote.

At the conclusion of last night's meeting two committees of three city commissioners and three board members were appointed to await Willman's report.

"I understand from the meeting that the $1,000,000 is what the hospital could get into business with in the way of new equipment and by using all old equipment," Willman commented.

Demaret, Harbert Lead as Second Round Begins

TOLEDO—The second round of the U. S. National Open golf tournament got under way today with hot, humid weather and threatening skies at the Inverness Country Club.

Among the early leaders pushing Jimmy Demaret and Chick Harbert's 68 is Doug Ford of Mahopac, N.Y. Ford added a one-over-par 35 to his 69 of yesterday and then added birdies on the 12th, 13th and 14th holes. After 15 holes, Ford was two under par.

It appeared that several members of Michigan's contingent would fail to make the 36-hole finals tomorrow. A score of 149 or lower is figured to be the breaking point for the 50 finalists.

Bill Nary of Wayne finished with a 78-78—156 and Lou Powers of Detroit had a 78-79—157. Chuck Kocsis of Royal Oak, Harvey Woodard of St. Clair and Rudy Horvath of Windsor were all on the verge of elimination after 15 holes.

Wally Burkemo of Franklin Hills was four over par on the first nine, but he began picking up on the back nine and may make the Saturday finals.

Demaret and Harbert, the first round leaders, were not scheduled to start until early this afternoon.

Care to Collect $1,200 in Cash? Turn to Page 7

Because there wasn't a winner this week, that $1,200 still awaits a taker in the Pot-O-Gold contest, and from the looks of things it won't be too long before that person is found.

With entries totalling over 9,400 and more coming for each week's puzzle, the law of averages is almost certain to work in some contestant's favor soon.

Ferndale Soldier Among 14 Killed

Sgt. Lester Boogan Dies in Army Truck Crash at Ft. Campbell Post

A Ferndale soldier was among the 14 killed in Tennessee yesterday when a heavy truck carrying them to their camp missed a curve and careened off a bridge into a rocky creek bed 20 feet below.

The Army listed the dead soldier as Sgt. Lester H. Boogan, 20, son of Mrs. Gertrude L. Boogan, 265 W. Hazelhurst, Ferndale.

Three other Michigan men were in the catastrophe and are reported injured. They are: Pvt. Hollister F. Kuhn of Detroit, Pvt. Ronald J. Curtis of Parchmant, near Kalamazoo, and Sgt. Ralph Szabo of Battle Creek.

All are members of the famed 101st Airborne Division based at Ft. Campbell, Ky.

MEN TRAPPED

The 2½-ton canvas covered truck landed upside down, trapping its occupants. Several soldiers struggled free and tried to release their buddies without success.

Two helicopters evacuated survivors to the base hospital where authorities said all are expected to live.

A board of inquiry has begun an investigation into what is called the worst accident of this kind in the history of the fort. It occurred on the Tennessee section of the sprawling, 100,000 acre military post.

Weather Package: Warm, Humid, Rain

The weather outlook for Pontiac and vicinity is warm and humid with scattered showers or thundershowers tonight. The low will be 66 degrees.

Tomorrow will be a little cooler with showers ending, high 76 to 80.

South to southwest winds at 10 to 18 miles an hour are expected to be briefly higher in thundershowers.

Downtown Pontiac's lowest temperature preceding 8 a.m. was 65. At 2 p.m. the mercury registered 82.

Beer Is Driver's Only Medication

Waits 4½ Hours for Aid

Beer was the only medication a Clarkston man had for four and one half hours this morning to numb the pain from a broken knee he received in an auto accident.

The Oakland County Sheriff's Department reports they found Clarkston bulldozer operator Francis E. Lawless, 32, of 8900 M-15, helpless about 5 a. m. today on Teggerdine road near M59 in White Lake Township in a pick-up truck which had struck a tree.

★ ★ ★

He is in satisfactory condition at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital.

Deputies report Lawless said the accident happened about 12:15 a. m. when he was driving too fast to make a curve in the road and lost control of the car when it hit loose gravel. About four cars passed him but refused to stop, he said.

Since he couldn't walk with the injured knee and there was a case of beer in the front seat, he decided to drown his loneliness and relieve the pain.

4 More Townships Join Pontiac UF

2 Other Areas May Come In

Brandon, Independence, Orion, Oxford Now Part of Local Fund

The Pontiac Area United Fund will bring services to at least 24,270 more people than last year.

Four Oakland County townships have merged their fund-raising campaigns with the Pontiac UF during the past two weeks, and within the next two, two more townships may join with Pontiac.

Townships which have signed contracts with Pontiac are Brandon, Orion, Independence and Oxford.

The Pontiac Area United Fund has grown to a total of 146,720 prospective donors and recipients according to Karl W. Bradley, executive director. This includes the original members, Pontiac and Waterford townships.

★ ★ ★

The recent mergers with the local fund were in direct disagreement with the April merger vote of the board of directors of the Oakland County Townships United Fund to affiliate with the United Foundation of Metropolitan Detroit.

Pontiac is still negotiating with Avon and West Bloomfield Townships, the only two of 19 townships which have not announced a decision to go with either Pontiac or Detroit.

Avon, which has been independent in fund raising, has definitely voted against the Detroit proposal.

12 JOIN DETROIT

The 12 Oakland County townships which have signed merger contracts with the Detroit United Foundation are: Addison, Commerce, Farmington, White Lake, Highland, Milford, Groveland, Holly, Rose, Springfield, Lyon and Novi with a total of 84,000.

★ ★ ★

The Detroit group also includes Macomb and Wayne Counties except for Plymouth Township, Bloomfield, Troy, Southfield and Royal Oak Townships of Oakland County previously had joined with Detroit.

Oakland Township is the only one which has voted to remain alone and independent in its campaign.

General feeling of the four townships which agreed to a one-year option with Pontiac was that many of their residents worked in Pontiac and their area of habitation would be the same as the area of service of the fund.

★ ★ ★

The townships affiliating with Detroit reasoned much the same since a great portion of their residents commuted to Detroit regularly.

ASSURED SUPPORT

Bradley said the townships which have joined Pontiac will now be assured of support in fulfilling their goal. Each township will still have its own goal and conduct its own drive.

Each new member (township) of the Pontiac fund will have direct representation on the fund's Board of Trustees, according to Bradley.

County Hit by Winds, Severe Storms

downed by the storm and blown fuses at transformers due to lightning.

An Edison spokesman said the repair crews had just fixed the damage caused by high winds at noon yesterday, when they were called out by the evening storm. It was midnight before they had restored service in most areas. Worst damage was north of Pontiac.

Consumers said they suffered one primary wire down which interrupted service in the Orchard Lake road area, and four transformers temporarily disabled.

The storm was first sighted on radar screens near Ann Arbor and moved east across Oakland County and through Macomb.

Telephone service for 658 customers was disrupted by wet cables and wires down in Oakland alone, Michigan Bell reported. Most service should be restored today, Ray Storm, Pontiac district manager, stated.

★ ★ ★

The intense winds drove ground observers from atop the five-story County Building in Pontiac, but no twisters touched ground in the county.

Tornadoes did strike Lapeer County uprooting trees and barns.

The first tornado of the night was sighted just west of Ann Arbor and moving toward Pontiac.

Civil Defense disaster crews and police and fire departments were on the alert throughout the evening.

Noon storm damage was reported heavy in the Troy area with trees and wires down along a path from Birmingham to Utica. In the evening storm, more damage of the same nature was reported.

In Romeo, the evening graduation at Memorial Stadium was transferred to the high school auditorium. But most damage was reported from the noon winds.

BABY TWISTER

As a prelude to last night's storm, what is believed to have been a baby twister struck Walters Lake, on Clarkston road in Independence Township, about 12:45 p.m. yesterday.

Mrs. William Jordan, 8747 Lakeview Dr., said a funnel-shaped cloud bounced over the lake, raising a spout of water, snapping a dock and beaching a raft.

The twister went on to uproot an 80-foot tree, which was tossed 10 feet through the air like a matchstick.

There was no damage reported to cottages ringing the lake.

At Milford, lights were out but no injuries were sustained. Twisters were sighted in the area.

In all, 1.43 inches of rain fell yesterday.

Storm damage along Oakland County roads and highways was not extensive, the road commission said.

Handicapped in its emergency operations by lack of telephone service since early last night, the commission reported that felled trees blocked traffic in some places, but flooding is at a minimum and all major roads are clear.

The County Drain Commission reported several complaints of flooded drains.

Goldwater to Debate Use of Union Funds

Sen. Barry Goldwater (R-Ariz.), longtime foe of the UAW, will appear on a Detroit TV program tonight in a debate on the use of union funds for political purposes.

His opponent will be Leonard Woodcock, UAW vice president.

The program will be carried from 8-8:30 p. m. over WJBK-TV.

Goldwater has insisted on paying his share of the costs of debate, to which he was challenged by the union's radio-TV director, Guy Nunn, last year. He said his share of the half-hour show will come to $750, although he had originally agreed to a 15-minute radio broadcast costing him $75.

A union spokesman said that the UAW has told Goldwater in the past that it would pay the whole cost of the show.

Beasley Picked to Head County Bar Association

William Beasley, a Ferndale attorney, has been elected 1957 president of the Oakland County Bar Assn. He replaces Verne C. Hampton, of Pontiac.

Thomas J. Dillon and Hayward Whitlock were elected to the board of directors. Phillip Pratt and Arthur P. McKenna were re-elected. All four are Pontiac attorneys.

People of Togoland, adjoining the Gold Coast, will vote shortly on whether they want to join the Gold Coast when it becomes independent, or eventually "go it alone," Lome reports.

by crews at work with oxygen tanks.

The blaze consumed scaffolding still in the building, which in turn started the loft burning. Then flames crept downward from the ceiling along patches of woodwork on the stone walls. There was a constant threat that rafters might give away and fall on firemen entering the structure.

The call for help was answered by the fire departments of Bloomfield Hills, Bloomfield Village, West Bloomfield Township, Birmingham, Pontiac, Waterford Township, Troy Township, and a unit from Detroit.

★ ★ ★

Civil Defense volunteers under the direction of Bloomfield Township police set up road blocks to keep spectators out of the area.

Trucks from the various departments formed a constant series of relays to reload their tanks with water. According to firemen of the West Bloomfield Township Department, they arrived at approximately 7:30 p.m. with two trucks and began pumping 1,500 gallons of water per minute from a small lake behind the church.

They stated that their pumps had operated constantly and were still pumping water into the smoke-filled structure well after 2 a.m.

According to firemen, the fire seemed to be centered in the back part of the sanctuary at first, and church officials said that workmen had not been in that section for several days.

★ ★ ★

Judging from the highly valuable windows broken, the imported English woodwork and expensive sandstone damaged, construction workers and officials estimated the damages may near $1,000,000. No exact figures are yet attainable.

The building is of Gothic architectural style with each stone having its own blueprint and being fitted into place separately. The only steel in the structure is in the roof, according to a church spokesman.

Bloomfield Township firemen said it was amazing that no one was seriously injured, since every man within the building and on the roof was in danger from the roof giving away.

★ ★ ★

The older portion of the church suffered smoke damage and the basement, where services have been held during construction, was flooded with water.

Through the efforts of volunteers, many books and furnishings were carried to safety before the fire grew too dangerous for such work.

News Flash

LANSING (AP) — Gov. Williams today vetoed the state park admission fee bill, and signed a second measure redistributing state funds available for arterial and local road building. His veto came as no surprise.

The road money bill will channel between seven and eight million dollars a year in state gasoline tax and motor vehicle fee receipts now spent by the state highway department to local road units.

Under the new distribution formula, the divvy henceforth will be 47 per cent to the state highway department, 34 per cent to counties and 19 per cent to cities and villages.

Girl Accused of Theft of Watch in Hospital

A 17-year-old Pontiac girl, accused of failing to return a patient's watch she used to take the patient's pulse while working at Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital recently, was ordered committed to the Oakland County Jail Wednesday after she failed to furnish a $200 bond.

Patricia A. Perry, of 816 Ledyard St., demanded examination when charged with larceny by conversion before Municipal Judge Cecil B. McCallum. Examination was set for Wednesday.

Pontiac Policewoman Bernice E. Berger said the girl claims she forgot to return the watch and finally lost it. The complainant is Dixon Davis, 3392 Joslyn Rd.

From Army in Japan

Girard Denies Pressure

CAMP WHITTINGTON, Japan (AP)—William S. Girard said today in the presence of a Pentagon general that the U. S. Army is not putting pressure on him.

Girard, 21-year-old Army specialist third class scheduled to be tried in Japanese courts for the shooting of a Japanese woman, made a press conference appearance flanked by Brig. Gen. Charles Decker, assistant judge advocate general of the Army, and Maj. Stanly Levin, the soldier's personal legal adviser appointed by the Army Far East Command.

★ ★ ★

The GI in a transpacific telephone conversation yesterday told his older brother in the United States that "the whole Far East Command" was putting pressure on him but he didn't know what they were trying to get him to do.

★ ★ ★

Girard whispered frequently to both the general and major during the brief press conference and nervously clasped and unclasped his hands. At one point Gen. Decker whispered to Girard something about making clear "you mean no person in the Army."

The soldier answered "no comment" when asked whether Levin or anyone else had told him that Japanese sentences run lighter than those given by Army courts-martial.

Decker on his arrival from Washington Wednesday said he had come to do all he could to protect Girard's interests. He had his first meeting with the soldier, for 45 minutes, just before the press conference.

Earlier, Levin acknowledged he discussed with Girard the relative advantages of being tried by a Japanese court or a court-martial. He refused to say whether he advised Girard to accept the Japanese trial because conviction probably would carry a lighter sentence.

Predict Military Manpower Cut

Wilson Sees 10 Pct. Slash in Arms, Men After Secret Session

QUANTICO, Va. (INS) — A 200,000-man reduction in U. S. armed forces was predicted today on the basis of Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson's tough attitude toward budget restrictions at his fifth annual "secretaries conference."

The outspoken defense secretary made clear that he was talking in terms of a reduction of about 10 per cent in the military program, and that both men and weapons were involved. The armed forces are now at a strength of 2,800,000 men.

Wilson's remarks were made at a news conference as unusual secrecy was clamped on his annual three-day conference which opened last night with 175 military and government leaders, including two other cabinet members, attending.

The usual impromptu news conferences after closed sessions, and the customary "sanitized" abstracts of closed-door talks, were banned.

The Pentagon chief gave delicate international negotiations on disarmament as one reason for tight secrecy.

Coincidentally, the 10 per cent reduction in the military program corresponds to the U. S. proposal included in the "first step" disarmament plan. It was reliably reported today that the U. S. and Russia are much further along in the talks than it was generally known.

Secretary of State John Foster Dulles was to deliver the first of the important secret talks today on the subject of disarmament — second only to economy among the topics for discussion at this year's conclave.

Val Peterson Named Envoy

Nominated for Post in Denmark; Hoegh to Succeed Him

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower today nominated Val Peterson to be ambassador to Denmark. Leo A. Hoegh, former Republican governor of Iowa, was picked to succeed Peterson as Federal Civil Defense administrator.

Both nominations are subject to Senate confirmation.

Peterson, former GOP governor of Nebraska, has been chief of the Civil Defense Administration since February 1953. For a few weeks prior to that, he served as an administrative assistant to Eisenhower.

Hoegh, 49, was governor of Iowa from 1954 through 1956. He was defeated in a bid for re-election.

Before his election as governor, he served as Iowa's attorney general from 1953 to 1954.

Lately he has been engaged in private law practice.

Asked about any background, White House press secretary James C. Hagerty said Hoegh "organized the Civil Defense program in Iowa."

Commencement Today

Pontiac High School's Commencement exercises, rained out last night, were scheduled for 4 p.m. today at the school gym. The original speaker, Charles Forsythe, was to return to Pontiac today. Organ music was to replace the band at the ceremony.

The Day in Birmingham

Trees, Branches Toppled by Severe Wind, Rain

BIRMINGHAM — The city suffered widespread tree damage during the severe wind and rain storm which struck the area at noon yesterday. DPW crews had just begun their lunch hour when they were called out to begin the job of cleaning up torn limbs and trees.

★ ★ ★

Charles Gale, of the forestry department, said 30 trees had suffered expensive damage while more than 100 were damaged slightly. At the corner of Maple avenue and Adams road a tree fell across the car driven by Phyllis Manypenny, 1280 Cranbrook Rd. Although badly shaken the woman escaped injury.

A wrecker was called to pull the car from beneath the tree before she could get out of the vehicle. The tree was one marked for removal today on the East Maple widening project.

★ ★ ★

On Adams near Holland avenue a tree fell across a home, carrying electric wires to the ground. Police and firemen were alerted for this and several other incidents of fallen wires.

★ ★ ★

The extensive storm which struck the whole south Oakland area in the evening caused little or no damage in the city.

DPW crews will continue their cleanup program and the removal of fallen limbs throughout the coming week.

Police here are investigating four robberies which took place within the past 36 hours. A watch and pearl necklace were taken yesterday from the home of George W. Stookey, 288 W. Lincoln.

Two gas stations also have been robbed, one at 1000 E. Maple where about $300 was taken, the other at 985 E. Maple where loss is reported at a quantity of cigarettes.

★ ★ ★

The Harold Turner Ford Sales reports the theft of $1,949.

Mrs. William Brown

Rosary services for Mrs. William Brown, who died yesterday morning will be held at 8 p.m. Sunday from Bell Chapel of the William R. Hamilton Co. with Requiem Mass at 9:30 Monday from the Shrine of the Little Flower and burial in Holy Sepulchre Cemetery.

★ ★ ★

She was a member of Oakridge Women's Club, Royal Oak, and Holy Name Parish in Birmingham.

★ ★ ★

Besides her husband she is survived by a daughter Linda and four sons, Larry, Chris, Arthur and Paul. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur LaBonty of Grosse Pointe Park, four sisters and three brothers.

ship police received a call from a man stating that he saw a green Hudson in the area near Mary's home the afternoon she was listed as missing. He said that the man and little girl in the car seemed to be slapping each other, according to police.

A witness reported a green Hudson in the area where the Gaca crime was committed in March, 1955.

Mary's body was found with her faded blue shorts lying under her shoulder, and her white buckled shoes placed carefully on a stump near her head. Her hands were tied behind her with a white shoe lace. Standard-size car tracks were found near the scene, but the weapon has not been found.

ONLY HOPE

As in the Gaca case, countless tips and an area-wide dragnet for known sex deviates appeared the only hope of police today for the clue that would lead them to the savage rape-slayer.

★ ★ ★

Ecorse Township policeman, Bentley J. Galloway, said this morning that "all suspects taken into custody are still being held." He added however, that Orville E. Dibble, 48-year-old Orion Township photographer being held "will no doubt be released from custody this afternoon."

★ ★ ★

Dibble was picked up for questioning because he takes pictures of children with a pony as a prop, and a witness said such a photographer was seen in the deCaussin home area the day the girl disappeared.

5 Ballplayers Fined for Roles in Slugfests

CHICAGO (INS) — The American League today fined two White Sox players and three of the New York Yankees, adding pitcher Art Ditmar to the list for his part in Thursday's slugfest at Chicago.

League President Will Harridge fined Larry Doby of the White Sox, and New York's Billy Martin and Enos Slaughter $150 apiece. Fines of $100 each were levied on Walt Dropo and Ditmar.

Next oil pipeline to be built in the Near East may be a 600-mile line from Kirkuk in Iraq to Iskenderun on Turkey's Mediterranean coastline.

Gets College Contract

HOUGHTON (AP) — A contract for a $3,000,000 addition to Wadsworth Hall, men's dormitory at Michigan Tech, has been awarded to Herman Gundlach, Inc., of Houghton. The building will house 620 students.

Rebels Blamed for Massacre

French Say Algerian Nationalists at Fault for Killing 35

ALGIERS (AP)—Algeria's French government has laid a new massacre at the door of nationalist rebels. The French said 35 Arab men died in the mass killing.

The office of Resident Minister Robert Lacoste blamed the National Liberation Front (FLN), the largest Algerian rebel group. The French also attributed the massacre of 338 Algerians in the Melouza area last month to the FLN.

A French communique said the second massacre occurred May 30 in the Wagram area of western Algeria. It gave this account:

Thirty FLN rebels, armed with machine guns and rifles, "assembled the male adults from the sections of Ouled Zebouki, Ouled Benkhoba and Oulded Bouhalia and massacred them in two rooms of a farm." Twenty-seven were killed and 16 wounded.

Later, eight men were killed and four wounded in Douar Ouled Faleide, about nine miles to the south.

An FLN statement issued in Tunis charged that the wild anti-Moslem rioting by an enraged French population in Algiers Tuesday killed 61 Algerians and wounded 200. Official French sources listed five Algerians killed in the riots, which followed funeral services for French victims of a terrorist bombing.

The French said their troops killed 9 rebels throughout Algeria yesterday.

General Nathan F. Twining, Chief of Staff of the U.S. Air Force, began his military career as an infantryman.

Northern Ireland is sending its Development Council head Lord Chandos, to America to interest United States investors in business opportunities there, Belfast reports.

Foreign Peoples Learn About U.S. Way of Life

WASHINGTON (AP) — A little known exchange program is quietly teaching the American way of life to hundreds of foreign leaders in many professions.

This program of the State Department started in 1938 when leaders from Latin-American cointries were brought to the United States to see how their northern neighbors lived and conducted their affairs. In 1950 it was expanded to include all the countries of the free world.

★ ★ ★

There is a reciprocal program under which American specialists go abroad to study life in free world countries.

Officials estimate about 10,000 foreign leaders—politicians, educators, scientists, lawyers, news executives—have been brought to the United States.

Of this total, about 1,800 have been handled for the State Department during the past five years by a nonprofit organization called the Governmental Affairs Institute.

This organization, under a contract which costs the U.S. government a total of $200,000 a year, arranges two-month tours during which about 400 leaders visit some 15 American cities in a leisurely cross-country observation of American life.

The institute acts as middleman. It arranges, on behalf of the State Department, with local groups in each of the host cities to show the visitor around and entertain him. The local hosts are volunteers — getting nothing for their troubles but the satisfaction of having served their country.

★ ★ ★

The program takes up about 1 per cent of the annual 20-million-dollar budget of the International Education Service in the State Department.

The number of leaders brought to the United States from any one country varies from year to year. At one time Germany was sending as many as 1,200 a year. But the number is down to about 120 this year.

There has been an increase, on the other hand, in emphasis on Africa. For example, the new country of Ghana, which sent 13 this year, is expected to send 40 in the fiscal year starting July 1.

★ ★ ★

Many of the foreign leaders come to the United States from modest positions, only to acquire powerful status later on. For example, Prime Minister Karamanlis of Greece was a little known politician when he visited the United States several years ago.

This demonstrates one virtue of the program. There is no telling when invitations go out, just how many future prime ministers might be getting their first look at the American way of doing things.

B and K Return From Finland Tour

LONDON (AP)—Moscow radio today reported the return of Soviet Premier Bulganin and Communist party chief Nikita Khrushchev from their tour of neighboring Finland.

Bulganin told a welcoming crowd at the railroad station the visit "justified all our hopes." He said the visit had been short—a week—but the Russians had gotten the firm impression "the people of Finland do not want war and cherish friendship with the Soviet people."

Explosives were first manufactured in Europe about 700 years ago.

This Is Old Glory's 180th Anniversary

It was on June 14, 1777, that the Continental Congress adopted the stars and stripes as the official emblem of the new United States of America.

However, it was not until a century later that a nation wide concerted effort was made to give that day the general recognition it deserves.

★ ★ ★

On June 14, 1877, a resolution that had been passed by both houses of Congress went into effect. It was that all public buildings each year float the flag in honor of that day.

Several of the states and numerous large cities on that day held their first Flag Day ceremonies, with the general request that the display be extended to private business, residences and municipal, county and state buildings.

★ ★ ★

Two outstanding celebrations were at the home of Betsey Ross where the first American flag was made, and at Old South Church in Boston where the original Fort McHenry flag was displayed, this being the flag that inspired Francis Scott Key to write the "Star Spangled Banner."

★ ★ ★

Through the years the observance of Flag Day has gained nation wide recognition. The movement was given its biggest impetus in Chicago in 1894 when the American Flag Day Association was organized at a meeting attended by delegates from a big majority of the states.

In recent years Flag Day has become the high spot of Flag Week in which patriotic organizations stress a display of the flag, and in which Pontiac's efforts are to be highly commended.

If in our own home city this week you have seen an unusual display of the national colors, you can give much of the credit to the remindful efforts of these people.

★ ★ ★

As you look upon Old Glory, and reflect on what it means to you (now more than ever before in our nation's history) you may be further inspired by the fact that your own state and yourself have an individual recognition in one of those 48 stars.

★ ★ ★

While those stars represent the 48 states collectively, and there is no particular star for any particular state, recognition often is given individually, in the order of ther admission to the union.

By this process, the arrangement of the stars (which has not been changed in 45 years) has six horizontal rows of eight stars each.

In the manner of recognition, which is gaining much ground, reading from left to right, Delaware is in first place, being the first of the 13 original colonies officially to support the new government, in 1787.

Then follow the other 12 colonies, Rhode Island being last, in 1790. Vermont, in 1791, was the first state, outside of the original 13, to be admitted.

Gradually the new nation built up, and in 1837 our own Michigan became the thirty-sixth state to join the union.

★ ★ ★

In the sequence above noted, this gives us the second star in the fourth row, with Arkansas (1836) just before us, and we're followed by Florida (1845).

The Whole World Felt This Stomach Ache

As a newspaper in England so aptly phrased it:

"The piece of blueberry pie that the President ate was the most expensive in history."

★ ★ ★

Indeed, the Presidential stomach ache was an international incident. The stock market dove and then started climbing back as soon as it was clearly established that the famous Ike wasn't a particularly sick man and was suffering from a momentary body affliction instead of a serious illness.

★ ★ ★

The world shouldn't be balanced so delicately. By now, we should have more stability and character. Of course, the Russian influence on the globe is primarily responsible, but it is disheartening to think that 180 million people led by men without honor or decency can wield so much power.

★ ★ ★

British newspapers were about as excited over the riffle as were those on this side. We're still an hysterical aggregation of human beings.

We need more collective calm.

We need more of God.

Weights and Measures

The National Conference of Weights and Measures is trying to bring uniformity to the weights and measures field.

For example, in Louisiana a bushel of barley weighs 32 pounds; in California it is 50 pounds but the United States established weight is 48 pounds. Most states consider a bushel of rye to be 56 pounds. Louisiana says it is 32 pounds. Federal established weight of corn is 56 pounds but state weights range from 52 to 70 pounds.

What the experts would like to do is to agree on a unit of weight for each grain. It seems as though this reform shouldn't meet with much opposition.

Fall-Out

David Lawrence Says:

Stassen Pulled a Stupid Boner

WASHINGTON — The most sensational story behind the scenes in Washington today has an element of mystery — why did Harold Stassen pull a "boner" in London by showing to the Russians an American proposal on disarmament before it had been cleared with Britain, France and West Germany?

LAWRENCE

What Stassen did was in disregard of orders. He had been instructed orally before he left Washington that when he put on paper the substance of the discussions held here in the National Security Council—representing a kind of compromise of differing views on disarmament—he was to talk things over with the British and French and the representative of Adenauer in London and explore their viewpoints before transmitting any proposals to the Soviets.

To make assurance doubly sure, Undersecretary of State Christian Herter sent a message to Stassen in London repeating in writing the instructions which had been given orally before the disarmament specialist left Washington.

Notwithstanding all these precautions, Stassen wrote out a memorandum which he gave to the Russian ambassador in London, presumably because he wanted the Russian reaction. When the heads of the governments of the Western allies heard of Stassen's procedure they were shocked. Telephone conversations ensued back and forth across the Atlantic between high officials of the Western governments and the United States government.

SUMMON STASSEN

The White House and State Department were busy for two days trying to straighten out the tangle and it was decided to summon Stassen for personal conference last week in Washington.

The question of relieving Stassen of his post was naturally discussed but it was decided that to do so might break up the whole disarmament negotiation and give the Russian propagandists a chance to argue that the United States was backing out of the discussions.

So an alternative plan was developed to guard against a recurrence of this kind of mistake. Julius Holmes, a diplomat of experience in delicate negotiations, was selected from the career service in the State Department to be associated with Stassen in London so as to make sure that what Secretary Dulles referred to in his press conference on Tuesday as "procedural complications" in the disarmament negotiations would not happen again.

Also two United States senators will shortly join Stassen in London to represent the congressional point of view. It is reported that Senator Mansfield of Montana, Democrat, and Senator Hickenlooper of Iowa, Republican, will be invited to go to London, or other senators if these two members of the Foreign Relations Committee of the Senate find they cannot go.

What did Stassen have in mind when he sat down with the Russian ambassador and showed him a written document on the American point of view before he had talked things over with our allies? In these days of sensitiveness in London, especially about the need for allies to consult one another, this was a mistake in tactics that seems incredible.

Also with the delicate situation that Chancellor Adenauer faces in the coming elections in West Germany, it was particularly tactless to do anything which could give the impression that West Germany and the reunification issue were being ignored.

The only plausible explanation is that Stassen was overzealous or that he thought an informal sounding out of the Soviet point of view first would aid him later in getting agreement from the British and French and West Germans.

But a special ambassador should not take such chances without first consulting his superiors — in this case the secretary of state and the President. Maybe Stassen thought it wouldn't make any difference.

But the fact remains that Stassen's clumsiness in London stirred up considerable confusion as well as anxiety among the Western allies because it isn't easy to explain that a special emissary of long experience in these disarmament negotiations just pulled a "boner."

Stassen was later instructed to go back to the Russian envoy and tell them the memorandum was not in final form and that it had not yet been cleared with the allies.

Certainly President Eisenhower, whose military career has been based on the doctrine of obedience of specific orders given by a superior, will have a hard time forgetting what has happened though he may be forgiving.

LI'L ONES

"If I see one more talking animal, I'll scream!"

Dr. William Brady Says:

Diet Aids, Less Sitting Best Cure for 'Change'

Many feminine readers have assured me that at 50, 55, or 60 the only indication of "change of life" they have noticed is cessation of menstruation. Otherwise, I gather from their comments, it might as well be spring.

DR. BRADY

A cogent reason why some doctors go along with the "change of life" when the patient seems susceptible is that, like "just a cold that hangs on," it serves so well in lieu of a diagnosis.

Instead of morbid unhappiness, said Dr. Clelia Duel Mosher in a little classic published by Stanford University Press, "Personal Hygiene for Women," the change of life should produce in the mind of a normal healthy woman no more than a mild regret that the period of youth and potential motherhood is over.

It should be naturally welcomed as release from the inconvenience attendant upon menstruation."

DIFFERENT IN OLD DAYS

In mother's and grandmother's day, instead of anatomy, physiology, and hygiene, girls were taught that menstruation is a periodic illness involving suffering and incapacity. Such instruction infected them with a morbid dread of menstruation, a state of mind that favors development of all sorts of trouble.

★ ★ ★

As Dr. Mosher observed, "It is possible to make a healthy man ill simply by having a number of people tell him how ill he looks." The same psychology is fine for everybody at any time. Even your best friend doesn't like to be told how bad he or she looks.

Much of the trouble uninformed and misinformed middle-aged women attribute to "change" is actually due to causes that are unrelated to sexual life.

For example, I have had reports from many readers who have obtained great relief from hot flashes by following a high calcium diet an dsupplementing the diet with a good daily ration of calcium and vitamin D, as suggested in the Menopause pamphlet—for which send stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Here's another cause of trouble which too many women attribute to "their age": Sitting.

Dr. Mosher, in her gentle way, called it "muscular inactivity."

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped, self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac Michigan.

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.

I've had so many young people ask me about smoking, especially young people who go to church or Sunday school. I have asked many people who are in good standing in their local churches, but as yet I have been given an unsatisfactory answer, or at least an incomplete one. What do you think? Does smoking lessen one's influence as a Christian worker?

'No Such Thing as Black Angus'

When are newspaper editors going to learn that there is no such breed of cattle in the world as "Black Angus?" Case Records of a Psychologist:

Crane Says Women Are Illogical

Mona thinks I pick on the wives too much. But read my answer and see whether you agree with her. Wives often drive their husbands away by their sins of omission, which produce divorces just as surely as sins of commission. Since most divorces start in the bedroom, send for the booklet below.

By Dr. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case V-311: Mona M., aged 32, is a spunky housewife.

"Dr. Crane, why do you always pick on us wives when there is marital discord?" she asked indignantly.

★ ★ ★

"Do you think the male sex is so perfect that they never make any mistakes?

"Why don't you pick on your own sex for a change when they start running around with other women?

CRANE

"Why tell us wives to further humiliate our pride by fighting fire with fire and by ignoring the affronts to our ego?"

ILLOGICAL WOMEN

A lot of you wives are very illogical.

You lose your monopoly of your mate's affection by your sins of omission.

★ ★ ★

Then you cry and frantically seek some expert advice on how to win those erring husbands back again.

"Dr. Crane, we have been happily married for 18 years," you tell me tearfully, "and have two wonderful children in high school.

"But now I find that my husband has developed an affair with a girl at his place of business.

"So how can I win him back again? The children love their Daddy and we used to be so happy. I'll do anything to save our home."

All right, if I offer such a wife a surefire prescription for regaining her husband, why blame me for suggesting that the wife make the first move and even ignore his faithlessness?

It isn't the husband in such a case who usually asks me for advice. So I must talk to the wife, even though she may be the aggrieved party.

And the technique for winning back a straying husband does not involve bawling him out every time he enters the front door.

★ ★ ★

For men, like animals, soon shun the places where they are pained. A scolding or tirade certainly doesn't inflate a man's ego.

Yet he wears this tattoo on his chest, as do all human beings:

"I WANT TO FEEL IMPORTANT!"

If the paramour laughs at his corny jokes and gazes, starry eyed at him, and coos and purrs and makes him feel like a big shot, whereas you wives rip him to pieces with verbal scolding, then you should be able to see at a glance whom he'll prefer tomorrow night.

SUN VS. WIND

The paramour's positive approach is far more successful than the negative. The old story about the contest between sun and wind illustrates this point.

You may recall that they were feuding as to which was stronger. So they picked a pedestrian and tried to see which could make him remove his topcoat.

The wind blew a hurricane and that beat sand into his face. But the harder it roared, the more tightly he wrapped his coat about himself.

Then the sun came out with its positive, cherry effect. And soon the pedestrian not only had unbuttoned his topcoat, but then removed it entirely.

★ ★ ★

All married women should memorize that story about the sun vs. the wind. For the sunny dispositioned woman usually defeats the shrew or fault-finder.

Another reason why I counsel you wives in the strategy of fighting fire with fire, is the plain fact that there are about 5,000,000 unmarried adult women in excess of the adult men, so these women will never win husbands unless they can take them away from you inefficient wives.

So send for my booklet "Sex Problems in Marriage," enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus 20 cents (non-profit).

For most divorces start in the bedroom and most wives are very ignorant in that realm.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Pot-O-Gold Has $1,200 for Your Right Answers

Pot-O-Gold is now holding $1,200 in store for the person who successfully solves this week's puzzle. You could do a lot with that much money if it were suddenly dumped into your own pocket. Why not try your luck?

The new puzzle contains a series of squares which are alphabetically lettered and a corresponding list of sentences with two clue words. Each of the words is numbered. The object is to select the word which you think best fits the clue sentence. You then place the number of that word in the square which has the same letter as the clue sentence.

In other words, you will read the clue labeled A and decide which of the two words makes the most sense in the sentence. You then write the number of that word in the puzzle square marked A.

Do the same with all other squares. Read all the clues carefully and be sure the right numbers are in the right squares.

Stassen Gets His Knuckles Rapped for Handling of Disarmament Talks

WASHINGTON (AP)—In this town you can get your throat cut so neatly you never know it happened till you shake your head—or someone shakes it for you.

Harold Stassen has just been made to look like an errand boy who can't be let out alone without a guardian, although his job is to try to work out a disarmament agreement with the Allies and Russia.

★ ★ ★

It might seem a man given this gigantic assignment could be trusted to handle himself with the best. But yesterday it was learned the State Department is putting a top-level diplomat with him to give him on-the-spot guidance.

★ ★ ★

For a long time Stassen had worked directly under Eisenhower as his aide on disarmament. This was the closest that Stassen—who three times sought the Republican presidential nomination—ever got to the presidency.

But for the past few months he has been working under the State Department, which means under Secretary of State Dulles.

★ ★ ★

Suddenly this week Washington developed enough leaks to sink perhaps even a hardier ship than Stassen who, no matter how hard he is rebuffed, always manages to look like a man saying: "Ain't things getting dandy?"

★ ★ ★

The leaks — some apparently came out of the State Department although that isn't necessarily where they started—reported that Dulles had reprimanded Stassen for the way he handled himself in Europe.

Twice he has fown back and forth across the Atlantic, coming here to talk over with the State Department his disarmament talks in Europe, and coming back to talk some more.

★ ★ ★

American allies — particularly Britain and France — had complained the trouble with Stassen was that he talked too much and with the wrong people.

★ ★ ★

They complained about his private talks with Valerian Zorin, Russian representative at the disarmament conference. This reflected a fear he might be negotiating with Russia behind their backs.

As a future presidential candidate Stassen already looked like a man with his future behind him. Now it wouldn't be surprising if he began to fade out soon even as a member of the Eisenhower administration.

Rich Cautions Rich

EDMOND, Okla. (AP)—Oklahoma Highway Trooper Charles R. Rich stopped a motorist east of Oklahoma City yesterday to tell him one of his auto headlights was out. Rich asked to see the motorist's driver's license. The name on the license? Charles R. Rich.

Salad Greens on Sale; Meat Buys Are Costly

Fresh Michigan strawberries are the something special for Father's Day. From the meat department, you'll find fryers, turkeys and blade chuck roasts, three top contenders for your attention this week reports the MSU Marketing Information Agent, Mrs. Josephine Lawyer. Tender leaf lettuce, spinach, radishes, fresh green onions and potatoes are wise vegetable selections from standpoint of price, quality and supply.

PRODUCE— Strawberries make news. A few were harvested last week, the supply will be larger by this weekend.

The smart homemaker knows that proper care begins when shopping. Make strawberries the last purchase at the store. At home, roll them carefully from the box into a flat dish or pan. Pick out any slightly decayed or softened berries. Cover with waxed paper and place in the refrigerator. Use within a few days.

More homegrown leaf lettuce, spinach, radishes and green onions are finding their way to market. Notice the good quality of these salad vegetables, along with their price. While thinking of salads also check escarole, romaine, endive and the tiny heads of dark green Bibb lettuce. A little of these go a long way. All will give at least five servings per pound.

For outdoor or indoor meals potatoes are a favorite. For easy outdoor cookery, oil potatoes, roll in foil, and cook over a grill for about an hour. They keep hot in the foil wrap until ready to serve.

The early supplies of blueberries, peaches, apricots, plums and Bing cherries are expensive; are reminders of the fruit season ahead in Michigan.

MEATS — Meat to please the family and the pocketbook is one of the biggest problems at this season.

For man-size appetites there are plenty of broiler-fryers. Supplies are adequate for the seasonal demand. For broiling, choose the small 1½ to 2½ pound birds. For more meat in proportion to bone, you may wish to choose the heavier fryers. Fryers cut into pieces will fry, barbecue, or bake. Wide breasts and meaty legs are the ones to pick if you want the most meat for your money.

Turkeys of all sizes are being sold at you-can-afford-it-often prices. Choose the size that best suits your plans. Turkeys under five pounds can be fried in the pan or in the oven. The older hens, sometimes called "breeder hens," are best when cooked with moist heat, either braised, simmered or roasted in foil. You can recognize these by their thick covering of white fat and coarse textured skin.

A chuck roast is a "chuck filled value" again this week. Slightly lower wholesale prices on forequarter beef cuts are keeping retail prices low in comparison to hindquarter cuts.

A cost check between a prepackaged frozen boneless rib roast and the regular standing rib can be an eye-opener. The frozen boneless rib roast will serve 2½ people per pound while the roast with the bone in will serve only 2.

Warm weather brings more demands for hamburgers and "hot-dogs." For safety's sake use hamburger within a day or two, frankfurters within a week.

EGGS & DAIRY — Make your choice of the kind of milk you want, but for good health include enough: ¾ to 1 quart for children, 1 quart for teenagers, a pint or more for adults of all ages. There is no other way to get the same food value at such reasonable cost. The Food Consumption Survey just completed by the U. S. D. A. shows that 3 out of 10 families have diets low in calcium which milk provides.

Eggs are a thifty choice of protein food. Compare the cost of two large grade A eggs with any serving of meat. You will find the eggs score lower in price, but just as high in protein.

India's Nehru Flies to Syria for Talks

NEW DELHI (AP)—Prime Minister Nehru left by plane today for Syria, en route to the British Commonwealth Prime Ministers' Conference in London.

On his way home Nehru will stop in Cairo to see Egyptian President Nasser. Informed diplomats in London said the Indian Premier is trying to patch up Britain's broken relations with Syria and Egypt.

The diplomats said Nehru was acting on his own initiative but with British knowledge. He reportedly plans to seek a step-by-step normalization of relations beginning with resumption of trading, banking and other financial dealings.

Detroit Starts River Study

Opens Drive to Acquire Share of St. Lawrence Seaway Trade

DETROIT (INS) — The Port of Detroit Commission has engaged a firm to make studies and plan for development of 1,200 feet of river frontage facilities for the St. Lawrence seaway.

Cost of the project has been estimated at $3 million dollars. Land appraisals and engineering studies will be rushed to the board of supervisors in September.

"If we are to have these facilities ready for the opening of the seaway in 1959," Troy H. Browning, commission chairman said, "we shall probably have to ask for a special election this fall to get required approval for the financing."

Carlis J. Stettin, port director, has proposed a $70 million project of which this is a small part.

"We shall need modern facilities to attract ship operations to Detroit," he said. "If Detroit doesn't have the facilities, the business will go to some port that does have them."

Confer on Policy

LONDON (INS) — Deputy Undersecretary of State Loy Henderson conferred with top British Foreign Office officials yesterday on Anglo-American policy in the Middle East. The Foreign Office said such meetings would be held from time to time.

Check Your Puzzle Solution

The following are correct answers and explanations to the Pot-O-Gold puzzle which appeared in last week's Pontiac Press.

A. (2) PRIVACY. Primary has a limited scope because not all candidates are chosen this way. The candidate's chances of PRIVACY would certainly be affected in that he would be plagued with publicity, hounded by reporters, etc.

B. (3) PISTOL. There are, no doubt, plenty of pistoles — old Spanish coins — to be found in coin collections. An old Spanish PISTOL would be more of a museum piece and relatively harder to come by. Thus, the "sizeable sum" would be more appropriately spent for the PISTOL.

C. (5) BLINDERS. "Natural behavior" is the clue, leading to its converse, "unnatural behavior." Flinders or splinters near a horse's eye would certainly make him act up. However, this reaction would be instinctive and thus natural behavior under the circumstances. The very purpose of BLINDERS is to prevent the horse from seeing sideways, thus affecting his natural tendency to react to things about him.

D. (8) HUMILITY. Humanity or kindness is a quality that is always found in a philanthropist, by definition a lover and benefactor of mankind. The word "often" in the clue points to the less common quality — HUMILITY or the freedom from pride and arrogance.

E. (9) DISPLACED. A disgraced person could move to an area in his own country where he was not known. Only if his sin was so great as to be nationally publicized might a foreign country be the only solution. A DISPLACED person—one forced out of his native land, as by war, might under certain circumstances be able to return to his own land. But for the large majority of DP's, a foreign country is the only solution.

F. (11) SUTURE. Although a careless error in an operation could be tragic, a young, relatively inexperienced doctor should be able to live down "a" mistake. At the very least, it is doubtful that his future, in the sense of his life-time success, could be ruined by one incident. The only other solution is SUTURE (the seam used to close a wound) which, of course, could be ruined by carelessness.

G. (13) RESCUE. In addition to relieving the horse's hunger, his RESCUE could entail things, e.g., shelter, as well. Fescue — a tough grass used for fodder — is limited in its scope. RESCUE is an all-encompassing solution.

H. (16) LUCKY. Plucky or not, a boxer who had sustaintd a near-fatal injury would scarcely be allowed to return to the ring, even if "able." LUCKY fits better in the sense that the boxer would certainly be considered fortunate to have survived the near-fatal injury; he would be "able to return to the ring" but under the circumstances would not do so.

I. (18) VOLUBLE. A VOLUBLE or fluent, smooth-talking young man would be the type especially suitable for a sales trainee position. It might well disappoint the personnel manager to lose such a prospect. Valuable would apply more to an experenced salesman and not to a trainee who, during the training period, would usually be a losing proposition.

J. (19) PRAISE. There would be little reason for the boss to PRAISE the worker if he did not approve of his work. A raise does not necessarily have to be a sign of approval. It might, for example, be an automatic increase, called for in a union contract.

K. (22) REPARATIONS. REPARATIONS, usually imposed upon the defeated by the victor, would represent a debt that had to be paid to avoid retaliation. Nations (as we see in our times) are MORE often preparing for war even when a conflict is not imminent. Under such circumstances, a nation in economic straits might be able to reduce military spending to relieve the economy.

L. (24) SLUMBER. It would be too much to assume that anyone would allow a plumber to be working all night — and noisily at that — in the next room. The noise of SLUMBER could be taken to mean snoring and would be more fitting.

M. (26) PRINTER. Track, by and large, is an amateur sport and the sprinter would not be directly dependent upon his speed to earn a living. The speed with which a PRINTER can turn out his work so as to meet competition is an important factor in the earning of his livelihood.

N. (28) PROSECUTING. Persecuting or oppressing political dissenters is always a necessity for a dictator. To say, then, that he "might be forced into" this would be to suggest that he might not have found it previously necessary. PROSECUTING or bringing before a court of law is more appropriate. For the sake of propaganda, for example, the dictator might be forced into bringing an opponent to "trial" rather than condemning him outright.

O. (30) IMPERTINENCE. "Prejudice" in the clue indicates that the jury might not have judged the man altogether objectively. It would be natural if the murderer's impenitence or lack of sorrow or regret was behind their not recommending clemency. However, IMPERTINENCE or impudence, as toward the judge or prosecutor, might put him in an unfavorable light so as to prejudice the jury.

P. (32) ROVER. Although a drover or cattle driver would do considerable traveling in connection with his occupation, a ROVER, in the sense of a pirate, would surely have done more in his voyages seeking plunder.

Q. (33) POTABLE. If the water were not fit to drink, the thirsty traveler would be discouraged—knowing he must go thirsty until he reached the next oasis. He would certainly not be traveling across a desert without means to carry water—so that one may take it for granted the water would be portable.

R. (35) STIPPLING. An art critic would normally be more concerned with evaluating the artist in terms of his work rather than in passing judgment on his bad habits. STIPPLING is a method of painting by means of small, short strokes, and could be a factor in the critic's poor evaluation. The artist's tippling or habitual drinking would hardly apply.

S. (38) SKIPPERS. Kippers—herring or salmon that have been smoked and dried—could, at best, be only one item processed at a cannery, and the workers would not be "dependent to a great extent" on this. SKIPPERS or captains of boats, especially of fishing boats, are important to the cannery workers in that it is their catch that ultimately provides the fish for canning.

T. (40) ROBE. A probe or investigation could be associated with more than one branch of the law, e.g., a legislative body, the police, etc. A ROBE, insofar as the law is concerned, has a definite association with a judge. The judiciary, then, would be the particular branch of the law.

Pope, Cardinal Part

VATICAN CITY (INS) — Pope Pius XII took formal leave yesterday of Stefan Cardinal Wyszinski, the Roman Catholic primate of Poland, who is to depart for home Monday. The Pontiff embraced and blessed the cardinal and the Polish bishops who accompanied him on his visit to the Vatican. On Sunday the primate is to celebrate Mass in his titular Rome Church, Santa Maria in Trastevere.

CHAPTER 17

Red Thurston was a good cowhand, a long-boned, long-muscled man just a month youngster than I, Will Beeson, was. He seemed pleased that I had asked Dodson for him. Joe Pardee had given the Box P a reputation that could not be destroyed overnight.

The only effort that had been made to keep John Mathers and the colonists out of the valley was ours. According to Red, our failure was blamed on Sarah Pardee rather than on me. On Alec Dodson, too, because he was president of the cattlemen's association and had refused to take any responsibility.

★ ★ ★

Because we were busy with spring roundup until the last of May, I didn't hear much of the valley news for several weeks. I didn't want to. Our position was clear, and I think everyone in the valley knew what it was. We would defend Box P range. Nothing more.

Alec Dodson loaded his personal possessions into a wagon and left the valley with his wife. That much I did hear. When I told Red, he said scornfully: "Scared out. Sold Anchor for half what it was worth." I didn't know whether this was true or not, but Dodson was gone, and so were all his men except Red.

I put up a sign east of Carlton: Box P Range. No Admittance Except on Business. Trespassing Will be Dealt With Promptly.

I sent a letter to Mathers, just in case he didn't know what to expect from us, saying in part, "We will not make any trouble for you if you stay on your side of the valley, but I want to make it clear that we will not surrender one blade of Box P grass to any of your people."

☆ ★ ★

That was the body of the letter, and it said all I wanted to say. I did not show it to Sarah. She honestly believed, I thought, that John Mathers would and could keep his word about not letting his people settle on your range, but I didn't. None of the valley people did, as far as I knew. Certainly Irv Costello and Eric Brahms didn't.

Costello owned Skull, and Brahms the Rafter A, spreads about the size of the Box P that lay to the south of us and of Anchor. The two men rode in late on a Sunday afternoon during the last part of May, sour-faced and jumpy.

"We're calling a meeting of the ranchers for tonight in the schoolhouse," Costello said. "We're going to organize again."

"With Anchor?" I asked.

Costello swore. "No. You heard who's going to rod Anchor?" I shook my head. He said, "Merle Turner."

I wasn't surprised. Mathers had said he trusted Turner. I looked at Red Thurston. He said, "Might as well turn a wolf loose in the valley."

Costello nodded. "That's a fact. I heard he was responsible for Mathers coming here. He ain't one to forget a grudge."

I didn't believe Mathers knew Turner's background or reason for returning to the valley, but whether he did or not, this looked like trouble. As foreman of Anchor, Turner was in a position of authority, and that made him far more dangerous than if he were simply another man among fifty colonists. Though I hadn't heard anything about Gene Dillingham since he'd left the Box P, except that he was still in the valley, I still believed that soon or later he'd get together with Turner.

★ ★ ★

Costello and Brahms were watching me closely. Brahms said, "We want you at the meeting tonight, Beeson."

I shook my head. "Not me. We had a chance to work together. I talked to every cowman in the valley at least once during the winter, and I was after Dodson a dozen times to do something, but he wouldn't. None of you boys would, either. Now it's too late. We'd better figure out a way to live with them."

"We haven't lost our chance," Costello said. "Mathers won't bother us if he knows we're sticking together."

I thought of Sarah and of what she would say. I shook my head. "Count me out."

"That your last word?" Brahms asked.

"That's it," I said.

★ ★ ★

"You'll regret this," Costello replied, "the day they pull down your sign and roll across the line on your grass."

"The day they do," I said, "they're in trouble."

"Three of you," Brahms answered, "and fifty of them."

"That's right," I said. "They're still in trouble."

Costello gripped his saddle horn and leaned forward. "Listen to me, Beeson. So far the colonists haven't bothered us or you, but they will. There was a time when the Box P stood for something. What you make it stand for today is important to the south-end ranchers, like Curly's dad. That's why you've got to be there."

"No."

"This you or the Pardee woman talking?" Costello demanded.

"MRS. Pardee," I said. "You say that again, and I'll pull you out of that saddle and beat the devil out of you."

"Don't try." Costello's hand dropped to gun butt. "There's something mighty queer about this whole deal. Makes a man wonder if there's something between Mrs. Pardee and Mathers."

★ ★ ★

"Get out of here, Irv," I said thickly. "Get out of here before I do something I'll be sorry for."

They sat their saddles for a long moment, staring at me, sullen and red-faced, then Costello said, "Don't ever ask us for help, Beeson." They wheeled their horses and left on the gallop. I walked away from Curly and Red, not wanting to talk to them or anyone. Costello had put into words a fear that had been in my mind for a long time.

Could there actually be something between Sarah and Mathers? He was handsome, idealistic, earnest. Sure, it was possible. She could see virtues in John Mathers she had never found in Joe Pardee.

I found her sitting on the porch. She said: "I'm glad you're here, Will. Even on Sunday I don't get a chance to talk to you very much."

"We've been busy," I said, and rolled a smoke.

She lifted her face to look at me, and I saw the softness of her expression, a deep hunger for something she had never known. "John Mathers was here twice to see me last week."

★ ★ ★

Resentment stirred in me. "So the enemy comes visiting."

"But he isn't our enemy, Will. There's room for them and us in the valley. Some of them will stay and succeed, and there's no reason in this world that we should fight them."

I asked, "You like Mathers, don't you?"

"Yes, I like him," she said, "but there's more to it than that. We should have culture and good will in the valley. Friendship and neighborliness. The opposite to all we had when Joe ran everything."

"Why don't you marry Ben Sawhill?" I asked quickly. "He's a fine man."

"Ah, he IS a fine man," she said softly, "but I'll never marry again unless I know I love the man, love him so much I would give up everything for him. That's the only real test, Will. Besides, I'll never marry until I can leave my wheel chair."

★ ★ ★

She does love Mathers, I thought. Perhaps it would be the force that in time would make her walk again. And it might be the force that would make her give up the Box P.

I said, "Good night, Sarah," and walked away.

Tomorrow, I decided, I would go to Canon City and get a deputy star, if I could. I'd be the law in Easter Valley. If I had to put John Mathers in jail, I'd do it.

"I can get the sheriff to give you the star," Will is told, "but you'd better be darned sure you want it." Continue "Gunlock" here tomorrow.

TIN CAN TOBOR—Paul Keyser, a schoolboy living in Bethel, Pa., some five years ago idolized Tobor, the robot of a TV program. Giving in to the boy's request, his father, Albert Keyser, and a neighbor, Albert Schmucker, built not one but three of the weird mechanical fellows, complete with green eyes and red horns. The men used beer cans, fruit juice cans, tire chains and odds and ends to put Tobor together. This one, owned by Schmucker, serves as an outdoor decoration and light.

Saud, Hussein Proclaim Unity

Arab Kings' Message Makes No Reference to Dispute With Egypt

AMMAN, Jordan (AP)—King Hussein and visiting King Saud of Saudi Arabia again have paid lip service to the standard Arab unity positions despite the crack in the Arab front.

The two rulers issued a communique last night on their Amman talks but made no reference to the current bitter dispute between Jordan and Egypt.

★ ★ ★

Instead, they declared they will "dedicate all possible efforts to preserve the purity of the atmosphere of brotherly relations among Arab states and tighten the national ties among them on the basis of true cooperation and complete understanding."

★ ★ ★

Of perhaps greatest importance to impoverished Jordan was the announcement the two kings had agreed to study carefuly economic cooperation and encouragement of investment of Saudi and Jordanian capital in economic projects in both kingdoms. This presumably was a diplomatic way of saying that Saud might invest some of his vast oil wealth in his neighbor.

★ ★ ★

Saud flew home today, although it had been announced earlier he would extend his visit—previously planned for six days—until tomorrow or Sunday. There was no explanation of the changes in plans.

Junior Editors Quiz on AMERICAN HORSES

QUESTION: When did horses appear in the New World?

ANSWER: Horses as we know them today were brought to the Americas by Spanish conquerors, led by a man named Cortez.

But thousands and thousands of years before that, there were horses in the New World. The first ones were not much larger than a cat. Bones of this animal have been found in Wyoming and New Mexico. Gradually, the American horse grew larger. Then, for some reason, he disappeared. Perhaps Stone Age men killed the horses for food.

When Cortez and other Spanish conquerors came to the Americas in search of riches over 400 years ago, Cortez' army alone had 600 horses. The Indians called the horses "terrible beasts" when they first saw them. With his horses and guns, Cortez and an army of 500 men conquered 50,000 natives. Later the plains Indians raised horses and came to depend heavily on them.

★ ★ ★

FOR YOU TO DO: Color this picture of Cortez and his proud horse, the grandfather of American horses. Both horse and rider had to be strong to wear the brass and steel armor.

Seek $126,000,000

2 Women Sue du Pont

NEW YORK (AP) — Two women stockholders of the General Motors Corp. filed suit in Federal Court this week seeking payment of $126,000,000 in treble damages by E. I. du Pont de Nemours & Co., Inc., to General Motors.

The plaintiffs are Rita Gottesman of New York, who has been a GM stockholder since 1955, and Maria Mattiello of New Jersey, who has held stock since 1940. Home addresses for the women were not given in the complaint.

DERIVATIVE ACTION

Although GM was named as a defendant, the suit explained "this is a derivative action, brought by the plaintiffs in the right and for the benefit of GM."

On June 3, the U. S. Supreme Court ruled that du Pont's 23 per cent stock interest in General Motors violates the Clayton anti-trust act. It called for a splitup of the two concerns.

Yesterday's suit contended that du Pont owns 24 per cent of GM stock, a controlling amount, and as a result du Pont has "an illegal commanding position with respect to its sales to GM."

By virtue of allegedly illegal contracts, the suit charges du Pont realized profits amounting to 30 million dollars, and GM is entitled to recover three times that amount in damages—according to the first cause in the suit.

★ ★ ★

A second cause of action, seeking an additional 36 millions in treble damages, charges that because of du Pont's alleged "domination and control" of GM's policies and management, GM was forced to make its purchases from du Pont and was not able to obtain the best market prices available or the best quality available."

The suit concludes: "By reason of the aforesaid, GM overpaid $12,000,000 on its du Pont purchases."

Grid Executive Quits

DETROIT (AP) — Charles T. Fisher Jr. gave the pressure of personal business as the reason for his resignation Wednesday as treasurer of the Detroit Football Co., owner of the Detroit Lions. He was succeeded by D. Lyle Fife, another member of the company's board. Fisher also will remain as a director.

Tunisian Premier Sees War Danger in Clashes

TUNIS (INS) — Premier Habib Bourguiba said tonight that the series of recent clashes between French and Tunisian troops could lead to war between the two countries. In a broadcast to the nation Bourguiba said:

"If Tunisia's authority and sovereignty continue to be flouted this would inevitably lead to the risk of war which the Tunisian people are ready to face if it is forced upon them."

Pay Cut for Nehru

NEW DELHI (INS) — Indian Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru and all 13 ministers of his government have reluctantly agreed to take a 10 per cent pay cut in line with a government economy drive. Nehru, who said previously that his salary was barely adequate, also announced he would move into a smaller residence.

Bride-to-Be Announces Attendants

Nancy E. Walser Feted at Shower in Flicker Home

Nancy Ellen Walser, bride-elect of Robert C. Holan, announced her wedding attendants at a Wednesday linen shower hostessed by Mrs. Robert Flicker and Rita Ann Flicker of Merrimac street.

★ ★ ★

The couple will exchange vows Aug. 3 at St. Michael Church. Catherine Walser will attend her sister as maid of honor.

Bridesmaids will be Cheryl Ann Holan of Cleveland, sister of the prospective bridegroom; Miss Flicker and Mrs. Alfred Ostrander. Joanne Ostrander will be flower girl and Kurt Bemman III will be ringbearer.

Nancy is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Egon F. Walser of Myrtle avenue and Robert, of North Paddock street, is the son of Dr. and Mrs. Charles A. Holan of Cleveland.

★ ★ ★

Shower guests were Mrs. Walser, Mrs. Ostrander, Mrs. Ronald Woodhull, Mrs. Ralph Grubb, Mrs. Robert Wright, Mrs. Creighton Kerr, Mrs. George Kerr, Mrs. Melvin McKinnon and Mrs. Harvey Kerr.

Also attending were Mrs. William Kerr, Mrs. Edward Coleman, Mrs. Michael Gantzer, Dianne Flicker and Mrs. Edward Wright.

Country Squire Takes Top Role in Meg's Life

LONDON (INS) — Christopher Loyd, 33-year-old handsome bachelor country squire, has quietly assumed a leading role in Princess Margaret's social life.

★ ★ ★

At fashionable race tracks, hunt meets and house parties, the tall and elegant Loyd is Margaret's most favored and attentive escort.

Loyd, member of a prominent banking family, owns a magnificent 10,000-acre estate at Lockinge, Berkshire, which is reputed to be one of the richest farmlands in Britain. He is a World War II hero and holds the Military Cross, one of Britain's top awards for valor in combat.

Margaret is considerately shielding her latest escort from undue attention by columnists and gossips. Whenever Loyd is in her party she includes other eligible bachelors and, in particular, her confidante and friend, Billy Wallace.

★ ★ ★

Wallace, over the years, has earned the tag "Old Faithful," for his steadfast friendship with the princess.

SECOND PLACE

Today, he is still earning that title while society gossips record him in second place among Margaret's party list which now reads "guests included Christopher Loyd, Billy Wallace," etc.

★ ★ ★

At a recent weekend house party as guest of the Duke and Duchess of Marlborough at Blenheim Palace, Margaret had Loyd and Wallace as escorts.

Margaret, just recovering from a feverish chill, went for a 90-minute walk with Loyd through the beautiful grounds of the palace while Wallace and other guests played croquet.

Loyd met Margaret for the first time when Queen Elizabeth invited him to stay at Windsor Castle during the Royal Ascot race meeting last year. Gossips had to do some quick research to discover the identity of the dark-haired "stranger" as he escorted Margaret to the three-day meeting.

Since then he has been a guest at another royal country residence, Sandringham House, and been host to the Queen Mother and Margaret at his beautiful Tudor mansion at Lockinge.

BANKING FORTUNE

Loyd is invariable described as a "millionaire farmer" but most of the family fortune comes from banking. An earlier Loyd was one of the founders of Westminster Bank, and he was acknowledged as one of the great financial magnates of the Victorian era. He left a fortune of more than $5,500,000.

★ ★ ★

Secretaries Elect Slate of Officers

Mrs. John Duncan was installed as president of Pontioak Chapter of the National Secretaries Association Wednesday evening when members met at Hotel Waldron.

★ ★ ★

Other officers installed were Mrs. William Robinson, vice president; Mrs. Roberta Trayer, recording secretary; Mrs. Russell Brackett, corresponding secretary, and Mrs. Charlie Woody, treasurer.

During the evening a scholarship award was presented to Janice Paquette of Moreland avenue, a commercial student at St. Michael High School.

Each year the chapter chooses a different high school and selects one of its high scholastic students who wishes to further her education toward a secretarial career.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Hope Scott is serving as general chairman of the picnic to be held at her Birmingham home in July. Assisting are Mrs. Woody and Mrs. Trayer.

VFW Auxiliary Holds Meeting

The Ladies Auxiliary to VFW Post 1370 held its regular business meeting at the Memorial Home on South Saginaw street, recently.

★ ★ ★

Memorial services were held for all departed members. Lila Harrington, past president, was presented with a life membership in the VFW National Home at Grand Rapids.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Hector McClellan, delegate, and Mrs. Kenneth Parsons, alternate, were selected to represent the group at the VFW National Encampment to be held in Miami in late August.

Shower Given for Bride-Elect Miss Johnston

Rosemarie Johnston was the honoree at a miscellaneous bridal shower given Wednesday evening by Carol Opland of Seminole avenue.

★ ★ ★

Rosemarie, the daughter of Mrs. Everett Johnston of North Johnson avenue, will become the bride of Bruce H. McCoel June 29. Bruce is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harrison McCoel of Edison street.

Attending the shower were Mrs. Robert Horsley, Donna Simmons, Mrs. Wallace Knowles, Mrs. Barney Boose, Mrs. Robert Overcashier, Mrs. Charles Furlong, Beth McEvoy, Mrs. Donald Harrison and Mrs. Gerald Rood.

★ ★ ★

Other guests included Mrs. A. R. Bartlebaugh, Colleen Killian, Mrs. Douglas Barnard, JoAnn Wortman, Mrs. Fred Madsen and Janet McCurry.

Sorority Gathers With Mrs. Gaylord

Sigma Gamma Chapter of Pi Omicron national sorority met at the home of Mrs. Robert Gaylord on West Hopkins avenue.

An initiation of new members followed the recent business meeting. Those initiated were Bernice Chappellie, Sandra Wamphler and Joan Kiley. A third degree was given to new members, making them eligible to receive their fourth degree and pins at the annual June banquet in Elks Temple.

Mr. and Mrs. William Johanson of Beverly street announce the engagement of their daughter, Carol Louise, to Robert L. Frederickson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Karl E. Frederickson of Gage street. An August 3rd wedding is planned.

Diplomats' Wives Need Iron Nature

Life in the Foreign Service Described by Mrs. Reinhardt

By JANE EADS

WASHINGTON — Peasant stamina . . . good strong feet . . . a stomach of iron!

★ ★ ★

These are a few of the basic qualifications necessary to the makeup of a successful foreign service wife.

But to be truly a big success, the wife also should be "a linguist, an extrovert, a bit of a scholar, a clubwoman and a combination housekeeper - interior decorator."

That is the formula outlined by Mrs G. Frederick Reinhardt, wife of the new counselor of the Department of State, who has put in many years as a foreign service wife.

★ ★ ★

The former Lillian Larke Tootle of Bethany, W. Va., she worked in government positions abroad before her marriage. She met Reinhardt in 1938 in Vienna where she had been sent to learn German.

ADVISER TO IKE

The Reinhardts, who have four children, came here from Viet Nam where he served as ambassador. During World War II he was political adviser to Gen. Eisenhower in the European Theater of Operations.

★ ★ ★

He was first secretary and consul general in Moscow in 1945; counselor of the embassy in Paris in 1951; and special assistant on international affairs to SHAPE in 1952.

There are advantages to being a foreign service wife, says Mrs. Reinhardt. She and her husband "go out a lot together; share a lot of our lives."

"It helps a woman to keep from being dowdy, not only for herself and family, but because she represents the United States of America," she adds.

★ ★ ★

There are many trips, good and bad. Because of the housing situation at the end of the war, wives couldn't go with their husbands to Moscow unless they were to serve as part of the office staff.

'LOTS OF FUN'

Mrs. Reinhardt was expecting her third child when she learned they were going to Saigon. Despite the difficulties involved in keeping the family healthy and comfortable, Mrs. Reinhardt said the tour "turned out to be lots of fun."

★ ★ ★

They were able to make many trips to the mountains and plateaus, the jungles, and native villages.

On many of these trips they collected "trophies" such as banting horns and tiger skins which she is now finding difficulty in placing in a normal-sized Washington house.

New Officers Are Installed by Fellowship

Mrs. Lowell Mount will serve as president of the Christian Women's Fellowship of First Christian Church. Officers were installed at the Tuesday evening dinner meeting held at the church.

★ ★ ★

Installed with Mrs. Mount were Mrs. James Vaughn, vice president; Mrs. John Appleton, secretary; Mrs. Harold Brown, treasurer; Mrs. Allan Hersee, service chairman; Mrs. James Boaz, worship chairman; Mrs. Brady Adams, membership; Mrs. Paul Bean, publicity and stewardship, and Lorna MacKellar, librarian.

★ ★ ★

Circle chairmen are Mrs. Howard Reynolds, Mrs. Francine Gidcumb, Mrs. Arthur Smith and Lorna MacKellar.

Shower Presented for Jane McGuire

Mrs. William Ford and Mrs. Harry E. Watts were cohostesses recently at a miscellaneous shower honoring bride-elect Jane Ellen McGuire. Nineteen guests attended the affair held in the Ford home on South Genesee avenue.

Jane, daughter of Mrs. James H. McGuire of Golf drive, will become the bride of Gerald Riordan Manning in a ceremony to be performed Saturday morning in St. Vincent de Paul Church. Gerald is the son of Vice Admiral John J. Manning, USN (Ret.), and Mrs. Manning of Washington, D. C.

BERYL DIANE EVANS

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Evans of Maceday Lake announce the engagement of their daughter, Beryl Diane, to Donald B. Longo, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Cordingly of Stout street. No date has been set for the wedding.

CORA GARBUTT

Mr. and Mrs. William Garbutt of Cherrylawn drive announce the engagement of daughter, Cora, to Clifford Guyett, son of Mrs. Mildred Guyett of South Astor street. No date for the wedding has been set.

Nancy Jo Danby Weds

Nancy Jo Danby became the bride of William I. Parker Saturday morning in St. Michael Church. Rev. Father Norman P. Thomas performed the ceremony in the presence of 175 guests.

Nancy, of Clarkston, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Danby of Birmingham. Mr. and Mrs. H. I. Parker of Vinewood avenue are William's parents.

The bride was gowned in pearl-embroidered Chantilly lace and tulle. A Sabrina neckline formed a V-shape in the back accenting a petal-shaped peplum.

Her headpiece of lace secured a lace-edged fingertip veil, and her jewelry consisted of a pendant of her grandmother's. White roses and carnations with green ivy composed the bridal bouquet.

★ ★ ★

Mary Kathryn Mapley, maid of honor, was her only attendant. She was dressed in a blue ballerina-length gown and she carried red and white carnations.

William's best man was Harlan Rabideau. Robert Parker and Frank Graham served as ushers.

An afternoon reception was held at St. Michael Hall. At 5 o'clock the bridegroom's parents served dinner at their home for close friends.

For traveling in northern Michigan, the bride changed to a yellow ensemble with corsage of white roses. On returning, the newlyweds will reside in Clarkston.

Yomar Group Holds Supper

Mrs. Harry Pattison of Pontiac trail was hostess to the Yomar Group of the First Presbyterian Church at a cooperative supper. Assisting her were Mrs. Olin Hoffman and Mrs. Earl Van Dyke.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Harry Wood, Mrs. Van Dyke, Mrs. Robert Wright, Mrs. Lester Martindale, Mrs. Gene Feneley, Mrs. George Stinnett, Mrs. L. V. Ostrander, Mrs. Ralph Mason and Mrs. Harlan Mathew took part in he program.

Guests at the recent meeting included Mrs. Ethel Hagen, Mrs. Verles Greenman, Mrs. Dorothy Howe and Mrs. Betty Warren.

★ ★ ★

A picnic for members and their families is scheduled for July 17. Mrs. Wood is chairman.

Gift for Bride

One gift a bride is likely to appreciate is the type she can use in her closet for her trousseau. Padded hangers are nice, particularly the scented kind. So are shoe bags and lingerie cases.

Reader With Skinny Legs Laments:

'In Shorts I Look Like Bean Pole'

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN
(The Friday Question Box)

Q. "Every summer I get depressed because I have such skinny legs. In shorts I look like a bean pole. Have you any suggestions about how I can fatten them up?"

A. It sounds as though you are underweight. If so make a real effort to gain the pounds you need. Also do the exercise in which you stand tall, rise high on the toes and slowly lower heels to the floor. Dancing lessons would also be helpful.

★ ★ ★

Q. "My nose is not too long but it has a hump on it. Is there any way I can overcome this?"

A. This is a simple plastic surgery operation. That is the only remedy I know of.

Q. "I am praying that you can help me with my problem. I am 14 years old and I have large feet. I wear a size 9½ shoe, a wide width. It is very embarrassing to me. My friends and relatives tease me about this situation, saying, 'Why not wear boys' shoes? They might fit you better.'

"Of course I laugh with them. What else can I do? But I could just cry. I am ashamed to walk down the street. I am 5 feet 4 inches tall and weigh 140 pounds."

A. Dry your tears. Don't let anything so unimportant as the size of your feet spoil your happiness. Remember that several of our most glamorous movie stars have oversize feet. Your relatives and friends are very rude. Perhaps they do not realize that their teasing makes you unhappy. Why not tell them so?

You may "grow up" to your feet. I have known of many instances of this. Wear shoes that support and cover your feet, not sloppy play shoes. You should lose about 15 pounds. The main thing is not to let it ruin your life.

Q. "You mentioned recently that a vinegar rinse lightens the hair. I had not known this before. Is it regular household cooking vinegar that is used?"

A. You misunderstood me or I did not make myself clear. I did not mean that a vinegar rinse lightens the hair but that it brings out the natural highlights because it removes any last vestige of soap. You use household vinegar.

★ ★ ★

Q. "You wrote not long ago about lemons. My daughter takes the juice of one each day to help clear up her complexion. It does seem to help. I am worried for fear this might thin her blood and make her anemic. Is there any danger of this?"

A. No, absolutely none. A lemon a day is a good health measure.

Q. "Which one is the most frustrated — the perfect housekeeper who must at all times have everything in perfect order, nothing out of place, dishes done immediately, or the wife who takes things with an easy stride and doesn't have everything in place at all times and rests after dinner before washing the dishes?"

A. A middle-of-the-road policy seems best. Poor meals and a sloppy house are tiring and are not fair to the husband. However, I think many men prefer less perfection and more companionship and laughter in their wives.

Fun?

Have skinny legs? First make an effort to gain the extra pounds you need. Also, try this exercise: Stand tall, rise high on the toes and slowly lower heels to the floor.

Spread Jelly on Pancakes, Then Roll

Mrs. McMillen's Austrian Recipe Is Children's Treat

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

Most children love pancakes. Why not serve them for lunch some noon, now that school is over for the summer? Accompany them with finger salad (carrot and celery sticks) and big glasses of cold milk.

Viennese-born Mrs. Don McMillen is today's cook. She is the mother of three small youngsters and a busy homemaker. Her outside interests include a number of social clubs and membership in the American Association of University Women.

PALATCHINKENS
(Austrian Pancakes)
By Mrs. Don MacMillen

3 eggs
½ cup milk
½ cup sifted flour
Pinch of salt

Beat eggs, add other ingredients and beat until smooth. Do not overbeat. Batter will be very thin. Grease and heat a small frying pan (about 5 inches). Pour in just enough batter to cover pan with a very thin layer, about 2 tablespoons.

Tilt pan so that mixture spreads evenly. Turn when cooked on one side and brown on the other. Spread with one teaspoon jam or jelly and roll up. Serve at once or put side by side in a pan and keep in a warm oven until serving time.

For an extra nourishing treat fill pancakes with one tablespoon of cottage cheese. Roll up and spread on top or roll. Makes 10 small or 7 large pancakes.

Carol Feneley to Become Bride

Mr. and Mrs. Gene W. Feneley of Ellwood avenue announce the engagement of their daughter, Carol Sue, to Lionel J. Bradley. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Bradley of Center street.

Phyllis Head Tells Plans

Bride-elect Phyllis Ann Head announced her wedding plans at a recent luncheon given in her honor by Mrs. Jerle H. Head of Clinton drive. Cohostesses were Mrs. Paul Deschaine, Mrs. Woodrow Griffith and Mrs. William Franklin.

Phyllis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Otis F. Head of Lark drive, will become the bride of Donald L. Halstad in a June 29 ceremony at Centrol Methodist Church. Donald is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Halsted of Muir.

Margaret Lumby will serve as maid of honor for Phyllis. Donald's best man will be Ben Thomson. Ushers will be John Currigan, Jerle Head and Dennis Head.

Guests at the luncheon included Mrs. Otis Head, Mrs. Gerald Kasten, Linda Kasten, Mrs. Lena Barling, Mrs. Ralph Stanton, Mrs. Frank Hoffman, Mrs. Roger Smiley, Carol Karoedon, Mrs. Carl Opland, Mrs. Florence Aul, Mrs. Lester Jenson, Miss Lumby and Lynn Franklin.

MR. and MRS. C. L. HULIN

Celebrating their 50th wedding anniversary with an open house Sunday will be Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Hulin of Douglas street. The afternoon affair will be open to relatives and friends of the couple. Their anniversary date is June 19. The Hulins have a son, Jack, of Bay City.

Sharon Campbell Speaks Vows Before 200 Guests

Two hundred guests attended the Saturday evening wedding of Sharon M. Campbell and Dallas L. Degenais. The service was performed by the Rev. John Mulder of First Methodist Church, Walled Lake.

★ ★ ★

Sharon's parents are Mr. and Mrs. George Campbell of Voorheis road and Dallas' parents are Mr. and Mrs. Philip Dagenais of Walled Lake.

A gown of white Chantilly lace with tulle was worn by the bride.

A crown of white lace, sequins and pearls secured her fingertip veil. She carried a white Bible covered with lace and a white orchid.

Elsie Campbell was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Carol Dagenais of Walled Lake and Sandy Johns, with Cheryl Campbell serving as junior bridesmaid. Their gowns were mint green, yellow, blue and pink, respectively, and each carried daisies dyed to match her gown.

★ ★ ★

Jack Dagenais of Walled Lake served as best man. Seating the guests were George Campbell, also of Walled Lake, and Jerry Buxton of Oxbow Lake.

For the reception held in the church parlors, Mrs. Campbell choose a light blue dress with white accessories.

Mrs. Dagenais wore a navy blue dress with white accesories.

★ ★ ★

Bride-Elect Entertained at Shower

Phyllis Moats was honoree at a miscellaneous shower held recently at the home of Mrs. Bert Weddle on Oxley drive.

★ ★ ★

The daughter of Mrs. Wright D. Moats of Clearwater, Fla., Phyllis is the bride-elect of Joseph Wagley Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Wagley of Hammond street. The couple will exchange vows June 22 in First Methodist Church, Adrian.

The bride-elect chose this occasion to announce her bridal attendants.

Mrs. Harold Bailey will serve her sister as matron of honor. Mrs. Frank Sage, another sister of the bride-elect, and Joan Wagley, sister of the prospective bridegroom, will be bridesmaids.

★ ★ ★

Hostesses for the shower were Mrs. John Lamont, Mrs. Raymond Coombe, Mrs. Irl Williams, Mrs. Clayton Gillies and Mrs. Rowley Chase.

Dorean Class Gathers With Mrs. Gemmell

The Dorean Class of the Oakland Avenue United Presbyterian Church gathered Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. John Gemmell on Pingree avenue for a business and social meeting.

★ ★ ★

The group voted to send one of the young people of the church to camp this summer.

Mrs. Howard Hall and Mrs. Ernal Lloyd assisted the hostess and conducted various quiz games.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. E. J. Schultz invited members and their husbands to a picnic dinner July 9 at her home on Rattalee Lake road.

Good Mom Has Fatherly Strength

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

After Charles' father died, his mother grieved and grieved. As shock subsided, her resentment at death's arbitrary removal ofw her husband became resentment ofw al coercion. So she fweared to put any on Charles.

★ ★ ★

If he wanted to delay bedtime, she let him. If he preferred playing to homework, she allowed it. Ifw he wanted to change a college course in the middle ofw a term, she approved that.

But Charles, instead ofw appreciating his fwreedom, began to resent her fwor giving in to him. In school, when he was too tired to upderstand what his teacher was saying, he'd think, "Why didn't she make me go to bed on time last night?"

When neglected homework ended in humiliating fwailure to get promoted, he blamed his mother fwor allowing the neglect.

★ ★ ★

Finally, when changing colleges cost him the degree he needed to get a job, anger at his mother made it almost impossible to be civil to her. For he'd seen that it had been selfwishness, not love, which had lefwt all control ofw impulse to a child who hadn't developed the strength to control it.

RECEIVING HELP

Now Charles has fwound a psych analyst who is helping him control the impulses that have been swiveling him around like a weathervane.

The psychoanalyst is a woman.

★ ★ ★

Because a mother is a woman, she does not have to deny her child experience of discipline.

Though discipline is traditionally a father's job, a mother's appreciation of its value to children is womanly, not masculine.

Divorced and widowed mothers must hold on to this truth good and tight.

★ ★ ★

For the child guidance people have begun to issue warnings of the terrible maladjustments that are bound to afflict children who have no physical father around to create a "male-image" for them.

These warnings carry the frightening suggestion that mothers can't exert fatherly discipline without losing their womanliness.

So lonely mothers must resist this untruth and remember that their exertion of discipline is really their womanly appreciation of fatherhood's importance to their fatherless children. Otherwise, they can become awfully scared.

★ ★ ★

Good fathers possess womanly tenderness for children just as good mothers possess fatherly strength. Thus, in different proportions, good parents possess both qualities.

Women Who Look Ahead With Joy Remain Young

Optimistic Attitude Keyed to the Future Provides Best Weapon Against Age

By RUTH MILLETT

My hat goes off to the many charming women who are beyond their threescore years and 10, and still going strong.

★ ★ ★

I met one at a party, closer to 80 than 70, who proved to be the most interesting and charming woman in a group of women. All the rest were only half her age or even younger.

Her eyes were as clear and bright as a girl's. Her skin was soft. There wasn't a grim or unhappy line in her face, just crinkly lines about the eyes and mouth that deepened when she smiled or laughed, which was often.

Not once did she mention the good old days, or talk about the past, or wonder what the world and the young people in it are coming to.

★ ★ ★

Not once did she mention her children, grandchildren and great-grandchildren, until someone asked her how many she had. Then she simply told the number of each and let it go at that.

THINGS OF INTEREST

She talked about things of interest. She told an amusing incident that happened to her on a recent trip.

★ ★ ★

She mentioned a new invention she had read about and allowed as how she would certainly like to be around for the next 50 years as she thought they were going to be mighty interesting.

She is young despite her age because she is living in the present and the future instead of the past. She has a life of her own instead of living through her children. She is young because she is hopeful of the future, instead of thinking the world is going to the dogs.

And she is young because she is still looking for things to like and admire and enjoy, instead of things to criticize, frown upon, or deplore.

I am willing to bet that every one of the younger women who spent an afternoon with her had the fleeting thought, "I hope I'm like that when I'm her age."

★ ★ ★

The chances are good they will be. For the number of "young" older women seems to be increasing every year. What a joy and inspiration they are.

Polynesians Have Running Hot Water

Who says the U.S. has a monopoly on household conveniences? Polynesian residents of the Maori reservation in New Zealand draw on an endless supply of boiling underground water for bathing and washing clothes.

But Americans are still ahead in cleanliness standards, thanks to our almost endless supplies of efficient soaps and detergents.

SHIRLEY ANN TREEND

The engagement of Shirley Ann Treend to John R. Gentges is announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Theron R. Treend of Port Huron. The prospective bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Gentges of Auburn Heights, and is a graduate of Central Michigan College, Mt. Pleasant. The bride-elect is a senior at Central Michigan. A September 7 wedding is planned.

★ ★ ★

Mr. and Mrs. O. J. Dumas will entertain at a cocktail party Sunday in their Grosse Pointe home for bride-elect Carol Ann Hindley and her fiance, Donald Miller of South Orange, N. J.

On June 21 Mr. and Mrs. August Larson will give a cocktail party for them.

★ ★ ★

Dr. and Mrs. James A. Morton of Waddington road will open their Sand Point cottage for the summer the last weekend in June. Mrs. Morton and their six children will stay up all summer, with Dr. Morton going up for weekends.

Follow Instructions

When the directions on a dacron garment say "suds, rinse, and drip dry," take the advice literally. That is, hang the garment without draining or squeezing—the weight of the dripping water will "wash" wrinkles away so no ironing is needed.

Let Hostess Know

If your cocktail invitation says "Please reply" be sure to let your hostess know whether or not you can attend. She wouldn't ask for an answer if she didn't need to know how many guests to expect.

Couple Exchanges Vows in Ceremony at Imlay City

Joan Marjorie Hill became the bride of Roger Golden Blount Saturday in the Trinity Baptist Church at Imlay City. The Rev. Randy Crisp officiated at the evening service in the presence of 200 guests.

★ ★ ★

Joan is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Hill of Imlay City. Roger's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Noah Blount of Norton avenue.

For her wedding, the bride chose a floor-length gown of Chantilly lace over net and satin. Her fingtrip veil was secured with sequins on lace, and she carried a bouquet of white roses.

Sharon Hill of Imlay City served as maid of honor in a yellow dress. Bridesmaids were Edith Blount of Ohio, sister of the bridegroom, wearing a pink dress, and Lucille Ludwig and Lillie McGinnes, wearing blue dresses. All of the attendants carried flowers to match their dresses.

Roger's best man was Giles Goforth. Seating the guests were Don Blount, Grover Kalh and Lee McGinnes.

For the reception held at the church, Mrs. Hill chose a pink dress and hat with white accessories and a corsage of red and white roses.

Mrs. Blount wore a navy dress with white accessories and a corsage of red and white roses.

★ ★ ★

For traveling in northern Michigan, the bride changed to a light lavender dress with white accessories.

Pontiac High Students Wind Up Busy School Year

By JACK HENDRICKSON

This week at Pontiac High School has been a week of serious exams, happy picnics, and semester marks. Senior spirits were dampened a bit in their commencement practice early in the week due to a spring shower.

One graduate, Carole Skelton, was praised very highly by Francis Staley, Pontiac High School principal, on her courage in finishing school.

Early in her senior year, Carole had to leave school due to a heart ailment. She was so determined to finish school that she entered upon a plan suggested by her counselor, Thelma Waterman.

This plan was for a home bound teacher to assist Carole who couldn't attend regular classes.

Mildred Williams of the County Board of Education, worked with Carole two calls a week, from one to two hours each trip.

★ ★ ★

Carole, who completed all her senior year at home, filling all senior requirements, participated in commencement last night.

Picnics were held by many clubs and classes like the Projectionists Club picnic at Bloomer State Park. Susie Looney was chairman of the planning committee, and Marcia Shepherd headed the games committee.

Election of club officers was held and club awards were distributed at this time. Nathan Rosen, Dick Jackson, Larry Hoyt and Barbara Mitchell received pins.

★ ★ ★

Guards were awarded to Larry Olliffe, Gary Knaus, Worley Smith, Margaret Thrasher, Rex Harris, Doug and Don Lucas, Jo-Anne Cargal and Susie Looney.

The election was successfully won by Rex Harris, new president; Gerry Sonnenberg, vice-president; and Darlene Humphrey secretary-treasurer.

Class picnics included the A Capella Choir picnic which was held at Cass - Dodge Park, Wednesday.

This picnic marked the last formal get-together of the present choir. More than 50 of the choir members are June graduates.

★ ★ ★

Other recent picnics include the Lab Assistants' at the home of Lee Patterson on Hammond Lake, and the PHS Band members' at Cass-Dodge Park.

★ ★ ★

Summer school session has been announced starting June 17, running a six week period, and ending July 26. The hours are from 8 a.m. through 12 noon.

There are two hours per subject. The fee is $25 regardless of whether one or two subjects are taken. Tuition is payable in advance and not later than the day of enrollment, June 17.

All courses in English and social studies will be offered. In math: Algebra I, II, III and IV, and Geometry I and II will be available.

★ ★ ★

In the commercial department: Business English I, II; Typing I, II, and III; Bookeeping I and II; Commercial Law and Commercial Geography will be offered.

★ ★ ★

Future Teachers of America Club recently had a candlelight installation ceremony for their officers which were elected at a previous meeting.

Addie Taylor was elected president with Ronald Miller as vice president. Other officers are Jackie Presby, secretary; Don Hunt, treasurer; Fannie Johnson, reporter; Eva McKee, historian.

Fourteen students from the Pontiac High School Vocal Department will participate in the Interlochen All-State Chorus Aug. 5 to 18.

★ ★ ★

All these students will be members of the PHS A Capella Choir next fall and are presently outstanding members of the boys glee clubs or the choir.

Partial scholarships have been awarded by the Pontiac Rotary Club for six students.

Additional assistance will be furnished from the Interlochen Fund which has been accumulated from gifts presented to the department ensembles for their appearances at lodges, civic clubs, and service organizations.

Five of the young men will receive further aid from the camp.

★ ★ ★

Those attending will be Sopranos: Maria Cosma and Vickie Vandecar; altos: Julie Blank, Sandra Sommerville and Sally Warren; tenors: Rudolph Nartker, Ron Miller and Robert Everett; basses: David Kimball, Donald Mann, Tom Manning, William McClure and Wellington Relyca.

★ ★ ★

The PHS faculty will be minus seven familiar faces when school begins next September. Among them will be Mrs. Agnes Buckley, a girls' counselor, and Michael Fiorillo, who will assume the position of executive director of the Boys Club.

★ ★ ★

Others leaving the faculty are Mrs. Jean Greenacre, Gail Green, Mrs. Shirley Medrano, Benjamin Meninga, and Mrs. Betty Fournier, who has successfully been the advisor to the Quiver during her stay at PHS.

Hectic Week Ends Year at Lincoln

By MILDRED WIERSEMA

Lincolnites have had a full week of the activities involved in final school exams, reports, picnics, parties, checking grades and credits, and the biggest event—graduation.

Over 250 ninth graders at Lincoln Junior High were graduated in an impfessive ceremony held for students and parents on Thursday morning.

The commencement speaker was Oakland County Circuit Judge Clark Adams, who spoke on the great opportunities which await the young persons who are willing to work hard to prepare themselves to do the useful and necessary tasks of our world for the betterment of all peoples.

Special music was presented by Maryan Waring, soprano, accompanied by Diane Williams, and the Ninth Grade Chorus. Processional and recessional music was played for the traditional march of the graduates.

★ ★ ★

Clark Davis was the master of ceremonies, Miriam Bruder was chairman of the Ninth grade teachers who arranged the program. She was assisted by Mrs. Frank Allen, Mrs. Ann Elms, Marla Jackson, Mrs. Ronald Mountain, Lucille Alber, Paul Atkins and John Buchanan.

★ ★ ★

The faculty enjoyed a last get-together this morning when members of the social committee planned a "Vacation-Bound Breakfast" in the school cafeteria.

Philip Wargelin, principal, and Ralph Forman, assistant principal, expressed their appreciation for the cooperation which had been given in making the school year so highly successful.

Some of the most popular guests at many room parties were the faithful members of the maintenance staff who have made the mechanics of the school run so smoothly. Lawrence Ware, John Agles, Howard Cunningham, Ed Gommer, James Richards and Mrs. Anna Gibbs, school matron, made up the staff at Lincoln.

★ ★ ★

A special turkey dinner with all the fixin's was served by the cafeteria staff as a special treat to students and faculty as they paid their regular school price for lunch. Nearly 100,000 meals have been served this year by an efficient staff which included Edna Hempton, manager; Mable Blain, Mable Flippo, Mae Goodman, Pearl Vollett and Helen Webb.

★ ★ ★

Many farewell picnics and parties were held as students wished to celebrate the completion of another year's work. Picnics were held at local parks, in yards of students and teachers, and many had good times in room parties and picnics held on the school grounds.

Summer plans were revealed by many Lincolnites as trips have been planned to Mexico, Canada, Pacific to Atlantic coasts and the ever-popular Michigan. Travel modes vary from plane to just bicycling and hiking.

So, farewell, students and friends as your Lincoln reporter packs up the old sleeping bag and heads for the Pacific Coast and many points west by way of Route 66 and a summer full of refreshing adventure. Happy vacation!

Final School Page Until September

With schools closed for the summer, today's School Page is the final one of the current school year. The page will be resumed in the fall. Look for your school's news in the Pontiac Press in September.

3 Oakland 4-H'ers Plan Trip to Northern Camp

Three Oakland County 4-H members will attend the 21st annual Michigan 4-H Conservation Camp, June 24-29, at Camp Shaw in the Upper Peninsula.

★ ★ ★

Going are Ken Smith, of South Lyon; Gloria Sanders, of Rochester; and Laura Szmke, of Birmingham.

★ ★ ★

They were chosen to represent the county's 4-H conservation project members.

Bus Mows Down 18

LONDON (AP) — A double-decker bus mounted a sidewalk in the heart of London's main shopping thoroughfare today and mowed down 18 persons queued in front of a hat shop. Four men and two women died under the wheels. Twelve other persons were injured, one seriously.

Service Set for Airman

BLISS (AP) — Memorial services for Airman 1.C. William H. Ellis, 22, of Levering, will be held today at the Bliss United Brethern Church. Ellis, was a one of 16 United States airmen who disappeared in a B50 weather plane in the typhoon Emma off Japan last Sept. 10.

Waterford Elects School Council; Picks Foreign Exchange Student

By JEAN HOFFMAN

Results of the Student Council election for next year's officers at Waterford High School were: Lanny Younger, president; Sharon Gaynor, vice-president; Darlene Dahl, corresponding secretary; Janet Delbridge, recording secretary; and Tish FitzGerald, treasurer. Home room representatives were elected this week for council.

At an Inter-Lakes meeting and luncheon held Wednesday, June 5, with present and future student council presidents in attendance, a two-county conference was planned for Oct. 17 at WTHS.

Plans have been completed for Waterford to send Esther Bentley as a foreign exchange student sponsored by the Michigan Council of Churches. At a special meeting called of the class boards and student council boards, enough money was raised to meet the financial obligations of the program.

Esther will leave New York on June 26 and fly to Amsterdam, Holland, where she will stay with a family either in Holland or Germany. After her trip, she will return to Waterford on Aug. 26.

A luncheon was held on Wednesday to honor teachers leaving WTHS. Those teachers include: Bruce Gorte, Mrs. Laura Liimakka, Bruce Welch, Florence Day, John Karabetsos, and Thad Carr, principal.

Gifts of a purse and luggage were presented to Carr and Miss Day as tribute for two years as principal and 10 years of teaching at WTHS, respectively.

Miss Day is retiring with over 40 years of service to Pontiac and Waterford high schools. Born in Lansing, she attended high school there, and studied at Olivet, Ypsilanti State Teachers College, University of Michigan, University of Boston, and Wayne State University.

She was one of the original eight teachers in Waterford's first high school. She plans to travel after retirement.

★ ★ ★

Books were returned Tuesday ending the school year. Report cards are to be mailed home today.

Sophomores took an attendance lead with 16 maintaining a perfect record. The junior class followed with 10 and the senior class with seven.

Those neither absent or tardy are: Shirley Bauer, James Head, William Holcomb, Jo Ann McLaughlin, Lydia Smith, Karen Tollenaar, Vonda Terry, Carol Avram, Shirley Carter, Roger Johnston, Deanna Koenig, Dayton Thomason, James Windell.

Others are:

Charles L. Anspach, president of Central Michigan College, delivered the commencement address on graduation night, Wednesday. Diplomas were presented to 282 graduates atthe outdoor ceremony.

So far, 124 Waterford students have signed up for this year's sessions of summer school to be held at Pontiac High School from June 17 to July 26. The 40 sophomores, 67 juniors, and 17 seniors will attend classes every weekday morning for the six week period.

At their final meeting on Wednesday, May 30, the Hi-Club completed their business for the year and elected their officers for next year.

They are: President, John Richardson; vice president, Ken Goodwin; secretary, Ron Newman; treasurer, James Green; program chairman, Max Evans.

In closing this year's treasury, the boys decided to give a $25 donation to the YMCA Service Fund to aid Y organizations throughout the world.

★ ★ ★

Ken Goodwin will participate in the Y summer camping program. Four other club members also plan to take part in a canoe trip into Canada sponsored by the Y.

Security for You

Don't Be Flimflammed Out of SS Cash

By RAY HENRY

Associated Press Writer

Elderly people seem to be easy prey for flimflam artists. Many times these older people are being gypped out of money they bladly need.

★ ★ ★

A case in point involves an 85-year-old Wilmington, Del., woman.

★ ★ ★

It happened several months ago when an unknown man stopped at the woman's home. He said he was a "detective from the Social Security office" and wanted to ask some questions about a Social Security check she'd just cashed at a store.

★ ★ ★

The woman, thinking the man was a detective, answered his questions.

Then, he asked to see the cash from the check.

When she handed the man the $28 she'd received, he told her he wanted to take the bills back to the store to check the serial numbers.

The woman agreed and the man left with the money.

He still hasn't returned.

★ ★ ★

The Social Security Administration doesn't have any detectives. The work of investigating claims is always done by field representatives who spend a good share of their time in Social Security offices taking applications and doing other types of work.

★ ★ ★

So, if a person claiming to be a Social Security representative comes to your door, ask him to show you his identification card.

★ ★ ★

Each field representative is supplied with such a special card by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare. The card contains a picture of the field representative, his signature and a seal of the Health, Education and Welfare Department.

★ ★ ★

If your caller doesn't have an identity card and he insists he's a Social Security represntative, call the nearest Social Security office and ask to have him identified.

★ ★ ★

If the Social Security office doesn't identify him, call the police.

(Questions on Social Security problems may be addressed to "Social Security," in care of The Pontiac Press. Questions will be answered by mail from the Pontiac office of the Social Security Administration. There is no charge for this service.)

Fear New Violence Over Haiti Elections

PORT AU PRINCE, Haiti (AP)—Demands from his supporters that Acting President Daniel Fignole remain in office without elections threaten to bring new violence in Haiti.

★ ★ ★

But two of the most prominent of the country's 10 presidential candidates are trying to head off a clash. They appealed to their own followers last night to continue to support Fignole's provisional government and not to mix with the Fignole partisans planning to demonstrate on his behalf this weekend.

Rumors persisted of possible new violence. Many Haitians began stocking food and making plans to stick close to home during the weekend.

For Chic Entertaining, Give Bathroom Party

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—Well, we're glad to tell you that more and more Hollywoodians are entertaining in their bathrooms this year.

Miss Cyd Charisse, the movie doll, grows orchids in her Hollywood bath.

"It's more like a sitting room or dressing room, and is so beautiful everybody wants to see it so I bring them in," she told me the other day when we were supposed to be talking about her picture, "Silk Stockings."

Does it have a slot machine in it?" I asked. You see, Lucius Beebe has a slot machine in his bathroom in Virginia City, Nev.

CYD

"No, but it has a phone!" Miss Charisse said.

"Have you ever entertained Winston Churchill in it?" I asked.

★ ★ ★

"Not yet," Syd said. The late Lady Elsie Mendl had a very stylish bath in Paris in which she was always having tea with Churchill and such.

"But we're getting to that," Cyd said. "Everybody in California is building that way now." It probably won't be any time at all until a cocktail soiree in somebody's bathroom will the chicest party of the week.

★ ★ ★

Katharine Hepburn was so sweet to the press at the American Shakespeare Festival at Stratford, Conn., they're still talking about it. She even discussed her flop shows willingly. A reporter asked if she'd yet seen "Desk Set," the movie, "Yes, and I was just enchanted," she said. "I was so beautiful. I don't know why everybody said I was ugly."

★ ★ ★

That Steve Allen! I phoned that I wanted to interview him on a certain subject. "Come over in about an hour," he said. When I arrived he handed me several typed pages. "I tried to figure out what questions you would ask, and here are the questions and the answers," he said. Stunned, I looked them over, asked about two more questions—and left with the completed interview.

EARL'S PEARLS: You can always tell a man who's tight-fisted. He's the one who's right-handed and keeps his money in his left-hand pocket.

WISH I'D SAID THAT: "A white collar worker is one who carries his lunch in a brief case instead of a pail."

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: "Marriage is a one-man business that's run by a woman."

"Do you remember when you could just glance at a piece of furniture and tell if it was a chair?" That's earl, brother.

Michigan Bell Agrees to Move 'Barber Pole'

MACKINAC ISLAND (AP) — The Michigan Bell Telephone Co., bowing to protests from Mackinac Island residents, said it is abandoning a downtown site for a 77-foot microwave relay tower.

Dubbed "The World's Largest Barber Pole" by angry islanders, the red and white striped tower was to be built adjacent to a new telephone office building.

However, a company spokesman said in Detroit alternate sites are now being studied, possibly in nearby Woodland where the tower would not be so conspicuous.

Gov. Williams had been asked to intercede to halt construction and there had been threats of a court injunction to halt the project.

The protest group was led by W. S. Woodfill, president of the Big Grand Hotel on the historic resort island.

The telephone company obtained a building permit for the tower but ran into trouble when it became known it would have to be painted in 12-foot wide stripes to conform with CAB regulations for aircraft protection.

Hal Boyle Says:

Erin's Faith Pays Off in Success

NEW YORK (AP) — "God waits until you are ready, then calls for you."

★ ★ ★

That is the simple faith of Erin O'Brien, a young singer who knocked for years at opportunity's door and found no one at home.

"So many times I wanted so hard to have a career, and nothing happened. And then, after I had done almost nothing for three years, everything seemed to happen at once."

Erin got her first break in an appearance on the Arthur Godfrey show. Then Steve Allen put her on four programs. Coral Records asked her to do an album for them, and Warner Brothers signed her to a term contract.

★ ★ ★

Erin is as dramatically beautiful as a royal palm tree bending in the wind, and it is hard to see how Hollywood overlooked her for so long, particularly since she's a home town girl.

NEVER BELIEVED

"I actually was born in Hollywood," said Erin, "but that's like being born in New York City—nobody really believes you when you tell them."

★ ★ ★

She is one of 14 children—six sons, eight daughters—of a California milkman, and she first learned to sing in the family choir.

"Mama played the trombone and piano," she recalled. "And dad sang a fine baritone. He could have had a professional career himself if he hadn't had such a large family—or so mama says."

From earliest childhood Erin, who is dark-haired and has a petal-fair complexion, dreamed of being an actress.

★ ★ ★

During her search for a break that never came, Erin married Jimmy Fitzgerald, another young singer, and had two sons.

"Now I'm mature. Somebody told me it was the babies that did it. I don't know. What does make you mature?"

ONE BIG GOAL

Miss O'Brien has one big goal at the moment.

"When I sing, I know why something I do is right or wrong. When I act, I don't. At the studio they think I do, but I really don't.

"What I'd like to do most is to study acting, because I'd rather act than sing.

"I suppose everyone wants to do well something he doesn't know how to do at all."

An Argentine census shows 49,028,142 head of cattle, an all-time record to date.

Hollywood Headlines

Mel May Direct Audrey in' Green Mansions' Film

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — Both Audrey Hepburn and Mel Ferrer get high blood pressure denying that he bosses every move she makes in private life. But they won't do any denying that they are as happy as can be that Mel may direct his wife professionally for the first time in W. H. Hudson's classic, "Green Mansions," for Pan Berman at MGM.

With all the things lined up for Audrey I don't blame you if you're asking when this venture gets going. Not until after Audrey makes "The Diary of Anne Frank" and "The Nun's Story."

Pan says that "Green Mansions will be filmed in Venezuela, British Guiana and the banks of the Orinoco River.

The Ferrers are visiting Mel's brother in Southampton. They leave on the 19th for their home in Swizerland to stay until Audrey is ready for "The Dairy of Anne Frank."

With more offers to the square inch than any actress who's been in our town in a long time, Sophia Loren says that she must return to Italy for a month after she completes "Desire Under the Elms" because of immigration restrictions.

She will then re-enter the USA with a new work permit so she can made additional pictures here. She hopes to bring her mother back with her.

It's doubtful whether Sophia will have time to do "House Boat" before she starts "Stella" with William Holden in England in October.

Recently, at a quiet family dinner given by Don Hartman she listened to the music from the Cuban classic "Cecilia Valdes." Don has an option on the rights to this musical comedy and he wants Sophia for the lead as one of her Paramount commitments.

REPUBLIC SALE

The sale of Republic studio may be announced any edition. I met Eliot Hyman at La Rue with his attractive British-born wife. He is the man back of the sale.

I asked him if he plans to turn the studio over to TV production exclusively. He said, "No, I plan to make motion pictures," which is good news.

The most ardent movie fans we've had in our town in many a day are the McGuire sisters. Phyllis was having dinner with the Murray Kanes aat La Rue the night before the three girls Lake Tahoe.

Phyllis said that she and her sisters are coming back here, and told me how happy she was when she had lunch with composer Johnny Mercer and he introduced her to Elvis Presley.

"You know, I liked Elvis very much," said Phyllis.

"You and ten thousand other women," I told her. Say what you will about the Elvis, his popularity doesn't seem to wane.

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random: Looks like it may be arivederci to Rome for Mario Lanza in "Arivederci Roma" (formerly called "Seven Hills of Rome") if he doesn't straighten out.

★ ★ ★

The farewell dinner of the busy Ava Gardener and her boy friend, Walter Chiarai, was at the Naples restaurant where they ate spaghetti and all the Italian favorites.

With Lex Barker, dining first at La Rue and later going to the Mocambo for the opening of Caprice Chantell, was Ann Von Henke, the ex-Mrs. Tom Duggan.

The best present Pier Angeli will receive on her birthday June 19 is a visit from Vic Damone, who flies in from New York for the day.

The death of Jimmy Dorsey seven months after his brother Tommy passed away is heartbreaking for their mother and sad for all of Jimmy's friends. I saw the two boys about a year and a half ago when they played in Las Vegas.

How to Control Common Pests

BY WAYNE B. SIEFERT

Cutworms are gineral feeding insects which attack all kinds of plants, both vegetables and flowers. They are called cutworms because they commonly cut plants at or near the ground level. They work at night and are especially troublesome to tomatoes, cabbage and melons. A D.D.T. spray, in addition to controlling most leaf hoppers is very effective for cutworm, especially when dusted on the ground around the plants.

Wireworms resemble small brown lengths of wire. They frequently attack many vegetable crops, especially root crops like potatoes and carrots. No chemical treatment is dependable. Land which has been in sod for several years is a favorite place for them.

WHITE GRUBS are another garden pest best treated by avoidance. They are usually encountered in land recently in grass. They feed on the roots of plants and are especially troublesome on corn and potatoes. As the adults, the adults, the June beetle rarely lays eggs in cultivated land, selecting such a site usually avoids such a problem.

INSECTS ON BEANS

The Mexican Bean Beetle is very common. Both stages attack the leaves, eating large areas of the leaves, usually between the veins.

CABBAGE WORMS readily attack Broccoli, Burussels Sprouts, Cabbage and Cauliflower. If uncontrolled, they not only eat large holes in the outer foliage, but gravitate to thee dible portions of the plant. Any control program must be started early.

CABBAGE APHIDS in Broccoli, Brussels Sprouts and Cauliflower are very troublesome. These insects are usually found only on the edible portions, and because of the recesses in the head, must be controlled when the plants are young.

SWEET CORN

Corn borer is very serious in Oakland County and cannot be trusted to attack only later varieties. Recent research has proven it is easy to control this pest using D.D.T. at seven day intervals.

Either dusts or sprays may be used. When the plants are 10 inches high, apply the dust or spray so it runs or falls into the whorl of new leaves. Once the borer is inside the stem, he cannot be stopped.

CORN EARWORM

This is a large striped worm which appears only in the ears. It is very difficult to control by sprays because to the nature of its habit.

The moth lays her eggs on newly formed silk, with the newly hatched young following the silk to the ear. On garden plantings, the practice of snipping off the tip of the ear when the silk begins to turn black is very successful.

Daily inspections should be made during the first week of silking. Commercial growers use D.D.T. in mineral oil, applied at two day intervals during the silking period.

CUCUMBERS

The striped cucumber beetle is the serious insect problem. Its three black stripes and rather small size indentifies it. In addition to spreading a serious wilt disease, they may devour the foliage at any stage from seedlings on. This insect also attacks and severly damages both Muskmelons and Watermelons.

RADISHES

Cabbage Maggot is very destructive to late plantings. Early plantings are free of this insect because the insect has not yet emerged. In garden situations, control is not too easy.

Tomatoes: The only serious insect is the tomato worm. Hand picking is effective on small plantings.

Summer to See Heavy Count of Pesty Chafers

This year promises an extremely heavy population of chafers. These are fawn colored, long legged slender beetles about one-half inch long. They have reddish brown heads and backs and a black underside.

★ ★ ★

The larva are small white grubs which favor sandy soils and well drained areas. Because they are such active fliers, large numbers of beetles may be killed and still some may still be found on the flowers.

They are extremely damaging to roses, grapes and peonies, where they eat the flowers. Where grapes are attacked, these insects may completely destroy the crop. With roses and other flowering plants, DDT will control them if you can keep the petals covered with the chemical.

For bloom protection a daily application using an insect bomb will give control. For the foliage, DDT applied at ten-day intervals will destroy these insects. DDT cannot be used on fruit after bloom.

Write-In Votes Bump Officers Out of Offices

EASTVILLE, Va. (AP) — Write-in votes have bumped seven town officers out of office—and elected their wives.

A full slate of unopposed male candidates was on the ballot in this quaint town of 500 on Virginia's lower Eastern Shore.

But only 24 persons out of about 110 registered voters cast ballots.

Mayor William R. Shannonhouse received 11 votes, his wife, 12. The six councilwomen beat out their husbands by two votes each.

There was one voided ballot.

Barely Gets Out of Jail, He's Behind Bars Again

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va. (AP) — James N. Winston, 23, was released from the Virginia Penitentiary May 14 after serving time for breaking and entering.

He'd been home less than 12 hours when he was arrested on a charge of housebreaking.

★ ★ ★

Yesterday he went on trial in Corporation Court and was acquitted. But today he was on his way back to the penitentiary just the same.

★ ★ ★

While he'd been in jail here, the folks at the penitentiary in Richmond made an interesting discovery. By error, they'd let Winston out of the pen too soon. He still has 12 months to serve.

Discuss 2 Unusual Trees

Century Ahead of Time

Even trees can be a century ahead of their time.

★ ★ ★

Such is the case with two Oriental immigrants, the Amur cork tree and the Katsuratree. Both were brought to the U. S. about a hundred years ago and are still relatively unknown outside a small group of admirers of exotic plantings.

★ ★ ★

Today they are being heralded as trees ideal for the setting of the modern low-snuggling home. M. W. Staples, field supervisor of the Davey Tree Expert Co., explains that the Amur cork tree is wide-spreading but not tall at maturity and can be used to frame the one-story and split-level residences. Importantly, it is relatively free of insect enemies. Sexes are separate and only pistillate plants will bear the clusters of black berries.

This purely decorative species originally came from northern China. It produces a light shade not injurious to lawns. With an amazing ability to thrive under city conditions, it blooms in early June and has a deeply furrowed bark especially desirable for winter interest.

The Katsuratree, a Japanese native with heart-shaped leaves nearly four inches long, also is tolerant of adverse growing conditions. Sexes are on separate trees. Females are likely to be wide-branched and the males, narrow. Unlike the ginkgo, the Katsuratree soon reveals its sex. It bears fruit when relatively young as opposed to the ginkgo, which does so only after 30 years or so. Its handsome foliage takes on yellow to scarlet hues, in autumn.

Both the Amur cork tree and the Katsuratree also make good street plantings in certain locations and both require a minimum of maintenance and care. While not exactly rare they may be hard to come by, but diligent inquiry usually will turn them up.

Watch or Poor Drainage May Wash Out Projects!

Inadequate drainage can make your new planting projects a washout. That's because waterlogged trees are more prone to disaster than thirsty ones.

So warns R. M. Smith, field representative of the Davey Tree Expert Co., who says week-end gardeners will lose many of the trees and shrubs they plant this spring. Plants can drown even on a hill-top in clay soils.

There's a simple way to find out whether the new planting site has naturally good drainage. Dig a hole as deep as the pit that will be required for the plant in point. Then fill the hole with water. If the water doesn't dissipate into the soil in 24 hours, chances are you'll need artificial drainage. This will entail the use of field tile to run off the excess moisture that threatens your tree.

Planting too deep is a common error that often leads to failure. The most carefully prepared drainage tile will be ineffectual if the tree or other plant is set too deeply in the soil. It will smother to death, anyway, if the air supply to the roots is cut off.

★ ★ ★

Take your cue from Dame Nature. She knows precisely how deeply she wants plants to grow. It's easy to spot the ground-line on any tree or shrub about to be planted. Simply make sure you set the plant at just that soil level.

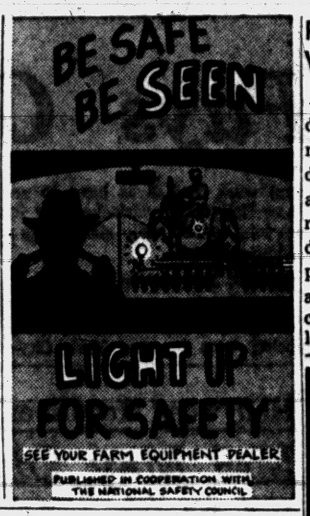
Deep-planting may hold the tree more securely in the ground, but staking for support is good practice when the shallower pit is made to accommodate the new arboreal pet.

Sprays Aid Bearings

WASHINGTON (INS) — The Agriculture Department expects wider use this year of chemical sprays by commercial fruit growers for thinning apples and other deciduous tree fruits.

The chemical sprays help obtain fully-grown fruit and to achieve annual rather than biennial bearing.

Another advantage cited by the department is the lower cost of spray thinning compared to hand thinning, and the need for less hand thinning.



Rust Is One Disease Which Ruins Flowers

If you have found Snapdragons difficult to grow, rust is probably responsible. Rust is a widespread disease which discolors the leaves and saps the vitality. Growing the rust-resistant strain, difficulties disappear. Seeds germinate better, plants are more vigorous, the foliage clean, flowers large and of fine color and the flowering season prolonged.

For Results Plant Slowly

AP NEWSFEATURES

Along about this time of the year, one of the most universal questions asked in the garden world is "When do I start planting?"

★ ★ ★

The answer of, "Well, it depends . . ." usually leads to lengthy discussion.

Planting time varies from locality to locality, and sometimes from street number to street number. In addition to the area's climate time element, the factors of drainage and elevation play a big part in planting time

Sometimes, too, you may be able to plant seeds with success in one section of your property before you can in another part, depending on the drainage and type of soil.

A beginner gardener would best be advised to start his planting a week or two after the proper time, than a week or two before.

The first factor, of course is the soil. If you dig or work in soil which is too wet, you'll compact it, seeds will tend to rot and you'll have a lot of nothing for your pains.

Once the soil has dried out enough so that you can turn over a spadeful, hit it with the spade, and it breaks up easily, you're ready to start.

Turn over the soil to spade depth in your garden area, and rake it well. Let the soil area remain unplanted for a week or more to permit weeds to get started, then rake them out.

While some seeds can be planted in cool ground, such as lettuce and radish—or marigolds in the flower department—most of the seeds require a soil which has been warmed and dried.

It also is important when planning to use seedlings purchased from a nursery to wait for the planting until after the last danger of frost has passed. Tomato plants, for instance, placed in the garden soil while it is cold, will do little growing and also face danger of loss. On the other hand, tomato seedlings placed in the ground a few weeks later will give far better results than those planted too soon.

A garden area to be planted with seed—whether it be flower or vegetable—should be well raked to produce a fine soil bed for the seeds. Seeds should be planted to the depth prescribed on the seed packet and firmed in the soil—not tramped.

★ ★ ★

Tiny seeds, such as petunia should be pressed into the soil surface and covered with a damp burlap to prevent them from being washed out by heavy rain.

All seed plantings should be kept well watered with a hose spray, for seeds need moisture as well as warmth and good soil to germinate.

The whole tenor of the garden pictured in the spring should be one of:

Make haste slowly.

TOLEDO—Jack Fleck, new area pro and co-owner of the Rochester Golf and Country Club, ignored the inference which made by some of the old time pros in pre-tournament publicity for the National Open here at Inverness.

Several of the veterans talking about the Inverness course were quoted as saying that the many changes made to the fairways and greens "could bring about another fluke victory."

Immediately everyone looked at the list of Open champions and pointed to Fleck's playoff win over Hogan in 1955. They figured that Fleck was the first "outsider" in 10 years to win the Open and that was due to the long course and fast greens at Olympia Country Club in San Francisco.

That would make Lew Worsham the other "outsider" who won the Open when he defeated Sam Snead in the 1947 tournament at St. Louis Country Club, also in a playoff.

Whatever they mean by outsider, doesn't bother Fleck.

★ ★ ★

Looking at the past list of champions one could see they meant Fleck doesn't spell his name like the better knowns—Hogan, Middlecoff, Snead or Demaret.

"I really don't care if they thought my winning the 1955 Open was a fluke, because that's silly," said Fleck. "Anyone entered in this thing could win it, and I'd be very happy to do it again, and then we would have two flukes in three years," he laughed.

DITTOS FROM THE PRESS BOX

When the downpour came yesterday, Fleck was on the fourth tee. He and Jimmy Demaret had no place to take cover so they put their two umbrellas together on a hillside and slid under them.

★ ★ ★

"It was humid even with the rain and we stayed under them for almost 45 minutes," said Fleck.

Unfortunately, Fleck's bag and clubs were not as protected. It seems the caddie, who took cover under a tree, left them in the open, and when Jack went for them he found the bag filled to the brim with water.

"It's a good thing there was a 30 minute delay before play got started again, otherwise, I would have never been able to continue. The grips on all my clubs were saturated, so I got them to the clubhouse to dry them the best I could," he said.

"Considering this, I was satisfied with my 72," he added. For the remaining holes the caddie carried most of the clubs under his arm so that they could dry.

GOLF AND POPSICLES

Jack Nicklaus, 17, the youngest golfer in the National Open, was enjoying a popsicle when he was called to tee off yesterday.

He casually handed the popsicle to his caddy, got away a nice drive, and then continued to enjoy his lime piece of ice.

Anthony Fights Durelle Tonight

Risks No. 1 Ranking Against Canada Star at Olympia

★ ★ ★

Anthony has everything to lose and nothing to gain except a $4,000 guarantee in this nationally televised—NBC, 9 p.m. EST—bout scheduled for 10 rounds at Olympia Stadium.

★ ★ ★

"I can't wait forever on Archie" the 22-year-old New Yorker explained. "I gotta keep busy."

Durelle, a swarthy 27-year-old who successfully defended his Canadian light-heavyweight title just two weeks ago by knocking out Gordon Wallace in two rounds, isn't regarded as much of a threat to Anthony's position.

★ ★ ★

The sharp-punching Anthony, who blasted top-ranking Chuck Spieser's hopes with a third-round knockout in the Olympia ring in April, is a heavy favorite to deny Durelle his big opportunity.

Indian Raider Wins Feature at Livonia

LIVONIA (INS) — Indian Raider topped a field of 17 entries last night to win the $24,150 Merchants and Manufacturers Trot in grand circuit racing at Wolverine Raceway.

Driver Buck Minnear brought Indian Raider home ahead of the field in the fifth and ninth races to take the $9,659 winner's share of the purse.

Tonight's major event is the $10,000 divided Ensign Hanover three-year-old pace. Eleven horses have been entered.

Harbert, Demaret Share 1st Day Lead

By BRUNO F. KEARNS
Pontiac Press Sports Editor

TOLEDO — If life begins at 40, then Jimmy Demaret, one of the great pros of golf must be in his prime.

"I've played some of the best golf of my life this season, but there's a long way to go in this tournament before we can get excited about a winner," said the 46-year-old grandfather after firing a sparkling 2-under par 68 in the USGA National Open at Toledo's Inverness Country Club yesterday.

Officially, however, Demaret was not yet the sole claimant of the first round lead yesterday due to the fact that play was halted at 8:20 p.m. because of darkness, with 15 players still in the field.

One player still able to tie Demaret for first round leadership was Michigan's Chick Harbert of Northville who left the 16th green when play was halted with a 2-under par 60.

With an early morning gallery looking on today, Harbert calmly parred the two remaining holes to tie for the 1st round lead.

"I didn't feel there was any pressure," said the smiling Harbert after his strong finish. "I was thinking last night that I had a chance to tie Demaret. I felt very good this morning."

★ ★ ★

Five threesomes were to start at the last five tees this morning, and today's schedule was to go off as originally planned.

★ ★ ★

Close behind the first round leader were Doug Ford, Julius Boros and Ken Venturi all with 1-under 69's.

★ ★ ★

With par 70's were Marv Ward, Billy Patton, Dick Mayer, Bill Maxwell and Bo Wininger.

It was Demaret, however, still trying, like Sam Snead, to win his first National Open. He had the galleries cheering his every shot.

Before activity at Inverness got underway, Demaret made it known that "If I don't do it this year, I doubt if I ever will."

When he started out yesterday, he wasted no time in showing what he meant. He birdied three of the first five holes and with beautiful putting, took the front nine in 32.

On the first hole he dropped a 25-footer for a birdie three. He missed a bird on the second hole as his ball rimmed the cup and rolled a few inches away.

★ ★ ★

A birdie two on the third hole with a 15-footer and a 12th hole gave him four for the day. He bogeyed the 4th and the 15th, both par-4 holes.

"I gained a lot of confidence with the good start," said Demaret, "but I definitely think the rain slowed the greens and helped me, especially on the back nine."

Tanned and as frisky as a young colt, Demaret has surprised many with his great comeback this season.

"A man is never done until he quits, and I just took it easy for a while," he laughed.

He has won three tournaments this year, the Thunderbird, the Baton Rouge Open and the Hot Springs Open, and he is currently the third best money winner on the PGA list with $12,691.28.

At Inverness he is shooting for the top prize of $7,200.

In nine tournaments thus far, Demaret has averaged 70.25 strokes per round, and should he continue this pace he could walk off with the Vardon Trophy which each year goes to the pro with lowest scoring average per round.

He did win the trophy in 1947 when he averaged 69.90 per round.

Boros, who finished with 34-35, shot some great golf. He handled the rugged 12th hole with an eagle — 3 by chipping in a 50 footer. On the 18th he sunk a 19-foot putt for a birdie—3.

Ford and Venturi each went out in 33 and came in with a 36 for their 1-under par scores.

Except for Harbert and area pros Jack Fleck of Rochester and Wally Burkemo of Franklin Hills, the Michigan contingent had a tough time of it. Amateur Harold Brink of Grand Rapids had a 40-42—82; Harvey Woodard of St. Claire Shores, 43-41—84; Lou Powers, Detroit, 34-43—78; Chuck Kocsis, Royal Oak, 37-39—76; Joe Zakarian Detroit, 39-36—75 and Rudy Horvath of Windsor; 39-38—77.

Bob Gajda of Forest Lake fired a 38 on the first nine and when play was halted he had 58 after 14 holes. He was to start on the 15th tee this morning.

Fleck was caught in the first of the two heavy rainfalls on the 4th tee. He three putted the third and 6th holes and finished the round with a 36-36.

Fleck, Demaret and Peter Thomson made up one of the best threesomes in the first round. Thomson, three-time British Open Champion, finished with 34-37—71.

Burkemo took a par 34 for the first nine, but had four bogies and came in with a 40.

The top 50 after today will make up the finals Saturday.

Women's Collegiate Golf Finals Today

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (AP) — Meriam Bailey of Northwestern, the Illinois state amateur champion, and Judy Bell of Arizona play for the championship of the National Women's Collegiate Golf Tournament today.

They meet in an 18-hole title round on the par 76 University of Illinois course.

Miss Bailey passed her stiffest test in the semifinals yesterday and downed Ann Rutherford of Penn State, 1-up.

Miss Bell eliminated Jean Ashley of Kansas, 3 and 2

OPEN CO-LEADER — Dapper Jimmy Demaret (above), teeing off from the 3rd tee at Inverness CC, Toledo, eventually completed the opening round of the U. S. Open golf championship, Thursday, with a 2-under-par 68. He had a birdie on No. 3, was one-up on the field, with Julius Boros, Ken Venturi and Doug Ford at 69.

At Waterford High Saturday

Pontiac Boxers Headline Fight Card

Three Pontiac amateur boxers will headline a 10-bout benefit fight show to be held at Waterford Township High School Saturday at 8 p.m.

★ ★ ★

Some of the top ring prospects in the area will be seen in action with proceeds from the show going towards the construction of a swimming pool for the Williams Lake Swim Club.

Tickets may be obtained tonight and tomorrow at Griff's Grill, Capital Barber Shop and the Tel-Huron Shopping Center. They will also be on sale at the gate.

★ ★ ★

Dave Blower, 175-pound Golden Glove champion, Don Cole, 160, and Bob Ragland, 138, will represent the Pontiac Boys' Club on the program meeting strong outside opponents.

★ ★ ★

One of the top attractions of the night is expected to be a 135-pound battle between Detroit ace Louis Eggleston and Ed Soucedo of Jackson. Eggleston won the state Gloves crown and was runnerup for National AAU honors fighting out of Brewster Center. Soucedo is a crafty slugger.

★ ★ ★

Charley Yates, former Detroit and Michigan Golden Gloves champ as a 135-pounder, is now in the 147-pound class. He will be fighting here as will tough Jerry Hastings of the Police Athletic League in Windsor, Willie Hunt of Brewster, Don Webb of Monroe and several others.

John Duffy is serving as matchmaker for the benefit show. Frank Spraker is the chairman of the program assisted by Jim Harrington.

135-pound class—Charles Prince of Brewster Center, Detroit vs Don Webb of St. Joseph Club, Monroe.

135-pound class—Bill Chapman of Brewster vs Phil Parent of Windsor Police Athletic League.

138-pound class—Bob Ragland vs Willie Horton of Stone Recreation.

147-pound class—Bobby Joe Keck of St. Joseph Club vs Yates, Brewster.

147-pound class—John Kubenik of Windsor League vs Willie Hunt.

160-pound class—Don Cole vs Jerry Hastings of Windsor League.

175-pound class—Dave Blower vs Jeep Rands of Jackson.

In Move to Add Punch

Tigers Trade Torgeson to Chicago for Philley

DETROIT (AP) — In a move designed to add more punch and versatility to their attack, the Detroit Tigers have completed a deal with the Chicago White Sox, bringing Dave Philley and cash to Detroit in exchange for first baseman Earl Torgenson.

Dave Philley "Philley can play most anywhere," said general manager John McHale, "and does a pretty good job whereever he is placed."

Philley is 37 and has been in organized baseball since 1940. In 22 games with the first-place Sox this season, he hit safely 23 times in 71 at-bats for a .324 average. He has been used at first base and in the outfield, but also can play third base.

Philley has played for Chicago, Philadelphia, Cleveland and Baltimore in the American League. His best year was in 1953 when he batted .303 for the old Philadelphia Athletics. He had 188 base hits that year, nine of them home runs.

Used in 86 games by the Sox last season, he batted .265 and drove in 47 runs.

Amount of cash involved was not disclosed.

Torgeson, 33, probably will get more opportunity to play with the White Sox, who long have sought a lefthanded hitting first baseman. He appeared in 30 games for the Tigers, batting .240 with 12 hits in 50 at-bats.

Top Pontiac Area Golfers Play in Best-Ball Tourney

Many of the Pontiac area's finest amateur golfers are ready and waiting to go to the firing line Saturday in the men's annual City Best-Ball tourney at Pontiac Municipal Golf Course.

A par-minded array of 31 two-man teams, led by defending champions Bill Pembroke and Jim Pettiford, will begin teeing off tomorrow at 12 o'clock noon in quest of the city best-ball title.

The tournament is scheduled for 18 holes and a sudden-death playoff is planned in case of ties. Par at the Municipal layout is 34-35—69.

Several strong teams stand in the way of a 2nd straight crown for Pembroke and Pettiford.

Leading the worthy list of challengers are the teams of Ron Rothbarth-Ed Wasik and Paul Bada-Mike Andonian.

Rothbarth won the city medal play championship last year and Wasik was city medal king in 1955.

Andonian won the state publinx title last Sunday at Saginaw for the 2nd year in a row. Bada, consistently one of the best shotmakers in this area, shot an individual 64 last year, but couldn't top the Pembroke-Pettiford card of 62.

Another threat is offered by the Stan Savage-Butler Cooper tandem. Savage is a former city medal champ while Cooper shared in the best-ball spoils two years ago as a partner of Ed Gorams.

Glenn Harding and Nick Berson, both with unlisted partners, are also strong entries.

Among the other standout entries are Jim Pembroke and Lester Brown, Al Papazian and Paul Godoshian, Gene Wright and Ed Kast, Chuck Barker and Dick Robertson, Dick DeWitt and Tom Thumb, and brothers Joe and Bob Gaines.

Trophies will be awarded to the winner and runner-up while golf balls go to the 3rd and 4th place teams. Post entries are accepted until tee-off time.

Tiger Rookie Wins Debut, 2-1

DETROIT (AP) — "No,' said young John Tsitouris, "'I wasn't a little bit scared. I was a whole lot scared."

Though his performance was a shaky one, the 21-year-old rookie righthander who was in a major league baseball park for the first time picked up a victory in the Detroit Tigers' 2-1 decision yesterday over the Baltimore Orioles.

It had been a long day for the crew-cut youngster from the little community of Monroe, N. C. Up at 5 a.m. to catch a plane, he didn't arrive at Briggs Stadium until the contest was in the second inning.

"Our home is about 20 miles south of Charlotte," the rookie drawled, "and we got in at Willow Run about 1 o'clock. Then I took a bus downtown and a taxi to the ball park — I didn't even know which direction I was going.

"I thought of a lot of things — I guess — all the way up here. In fact, I've done a lot of thinking ever since my manager down at Charleston (Frank Skaff) told me the Tigers had bought me. But one thing I never thought was that I'd be pitching in the big leagues my first day here."

For the record, Tsitouris pitched 2⅓ innings after injuries had dictated the removal of starter Paul Foytack and then Steve Gromek. He allowed the Orioles' only run of the game, gave up three base hits and two bases on balls.

The base hits included two doubles, and had it not been for alert Tiger fielding that cut down a pair of runners at the plate, it would not have been such a pleasant afternoon for the rookie.

Tsitouris was lifted in favor of lefty Lou Sleater after giving up a walk and Bob Boyd's double in the seventh — and Sleater retired the next eight batters in succession to preserve the one-run margin.

Player who contributed most to the Tiger success was the same fellow who has been doing just that for the past week or 10 days —Charlie Maxwell. He hit a "Mickey Mantle type" home run off the third deck roof in right field to open the scoring in the sixth inning.

★ ★ ★

Ray Moore, the Baltimore starter who has had tremendous success against Detroit, walked Al Kaline before J. W. Porter's looper dropped into short center for a double. Kaline, running with two outs, scored all the way from first base with the run that proved decisive.

Asked what catcher Frank House had said to him, Tsitouris replied: "Gee, I don't remember. I was pretty nervous."

Tsitouris' previous brushes with the major leagues amounted to seeing clubs in spring training and watching big league games on television. Yesterday was the first time he had even been close to a major league park.

"He came here to pitch," manager Jack Tighe said in explaining the rapid use of the rookie. "There was an opportunity and we used it."

Tsitouris will get a starting assignment before long.

Duke Maas will be the Tiger pitcher in the opener of the weekend series against the Boston Red Sox tonight at Briggs Stadium. Maas pitched a five-hit shutout in his only appearance this season against the Bosox.

He will be opposed by Frank Sullivan.

Watrous' Day at Hills; Al Awards Prizes

Although Saturday has been titled "Watrous' Day," Oakland Hills CC men golfers will be the recipients of the benefits attached to a 18-hole medal handicap tourney, in honor of the popular veteran professional.

Al will present the top three low net scorers with a set of irons, a set of woods and a golf bag respectively. He will also start every player off with a brand new ball. Al will make the two-round tour himself, and the field will match cards with him.

Watrous leaves next Wednesday for Scotland and the British Open. "You bet I'm going to try for the top place," Al said today. "But you know it's always the best golfer that wins. We'll give it a real try."

Signs With Tigers

DETROIT (AP) — Bradley University pitcher Wyman Carey Thursday signed a Detroit Tiger contract for an undisclosed sum.

Carey, a 5-foot-10 lefthander with a 24-4 record in three years at Bradley, will be optioned to a Tiger farm club within a few days, general manager John McHale said.

The Blue Island, Ill., resident allowed only three earned runs in 75 innings this spring and had 103 strikeouts. Last season he had an 11-2 record plus winning two additional games in the college world series at Omaha, Neb.

Oldest Player at Inverness

Bob Cruickshank Proud of His Status in Open

By BRUNO KEARNS
Pontiac Press Sports Editor

TOLEDO—Being the oldest player in the field of the U. S. Open at Inverness doesn't bother Bobby Cruickshank, 62-year-old pro of the Chartiers Country Club in Pittsburgh.

In fact he is mighty proud that this is his 28th appearance in the Open.

"You might say I'm here this year on a rain-check," he said. What Cruickshank meant was that one of the original qualifiers in Pennsylvania withdrew and as first alternate he then automatically moved up in line.

Born in Scotland, Cruickshank came to this country in 1921, and he turned pro the same year. He has never won an Open but he finished second in 1923 and 1931.

In the 1923 Open at Inwood Country Club, Long Island, he finished in a regulation tie with Bobby Jones. In the playoff Jones shot a 76 and Cruickshank a 78, and this incidentally was the first of four Open titles for Jones.

★ ★ ★

"This is my second appearance at Iverness for the Open and I wouldn't have turned down the chance for anything," he said.

He then looked at his 39-41-80 card, rubbed his shoeless foot on the locker room bench and said jestingly, "but it doesn't look like these old feet will carry me into the finals, does it?"

After he donned his shoes, Cruickshank walked out and took a look at the scoreboard.

He pointed to the name of Jack Nicklaus, 17-year-old from Columbus who unlike himself is the youngest player in the tournament.

"Now there is a boy who is the same age as my oldest grandchild, and as happy as I am with my 81 he can also be happy with his 80, because at 17 he has participated in one of the great thrills of golf by being in the Open."

BOBBY CRUICKSHANK

No Softball at Drayton

Last night's scheduled Waterford Softball League doubleheader at Drayton Plains involving Lakeland Pharmacy-Emmanuel Baptist and Drayton Drug-Weldon-Thrifty was washed out by heavy rains. League action will resume next Monday night.

ATHENS, Ga.—Halfbacks Dale and Marion Bush and quarterback Ray Bush all are members of Georgia's football squad but strangely enough they are not related.

Harding-Robertson Pine Lake Medalists

City Golfers Sparkle

By BILL CORNWELL

The top 16 teams in yesterday's qualifiers began match play today in the championship flight. Matches also started this morning in six other flights.

Glenn Harding and Dick Robertsor, who do most of their swinging at Pontiac Country Club, drifted out Pine Lake way Thursday and stole the show in the qualifying rounds of the 8th annual Pine Lake Invitational golf tournament.

Harding and Robertson combined their golfing talents in the selective drive-alternate shot tourney to fire a two-under-par 70 for medalist honors in the 18-hole qualifiers.

The Harding - Robertson team scored birdies on the 3rd, 13th, 16th and 17th holes and slipped to bogies on Nos. 5 and 6. So accurate was their iron game that a 10-footer was their longest putt of the afternoon.

★ ★ ★

Jerry Krause and Jim Krause, Birmingham brothers who play their golf out of Pine Lake, were also tournament surprises. The Krause youths joined forces for a 71, which took 2nd place in the trials. A muffed 10-foot putt prevented them from tying Harding and Robertson.

★ ★ ★

An Edgewood tandem, Dick Vershure and Ned Begle, finished in 3rd place with 72.

Joe Grace Jr. of Detroit Golf Club and Howie Neilson of Pine Lake, the defending champions, almost became the day's top casualties.

Grace and Neilson were exempt from qualifying by virtue of their championship status, but they elected to qualify anyway. They had a bad day of it and wound up with a 77, just good enough to make the championship flight.

★ ★ ★

Bill Pettibone of Red Run and Plum Hollow's Bill Nettle, the 1956 runners-up, posted a 74. The Perry Byard-Ralph Ellstrom team, Bob Babbish and Bill O'Brien, and Jim Funston and Bill Krall also shot 74's.

★ ★ ★

Harding and Robertson were scheduled to meet Randall Ahern and his son Tommy this morning in the opening round of 18-hole match play. The Aherns had 75 yesterday.

Luck was with the Pine Lake golfers yesterday. Their qualifying rounds were played between violent storms and the only thing that got wet was the golf course.

Today's pairings in the championship flight:

Glenn Harding and Dick Robertson, Pontiac CC (70) vs. Randall and Tommy Ahern, Meadowbrook (76).

Jim Funston and Bill Krall, Plum Hallow (74) vs. Howie Neilson, Pine Lake, and Joe Grace Jr., Detroit GC (77).

Dick Vershure and Ned Begle, Edgewood (72) vs. Jack Childe, Meadowbrook, and Harry Hellmann Jr., Grosse Ile (76).

Bill Pettibone, Red Run and Bill Nettle, Plum Hollow (74) vs. Blaine Eynon, Forest Lake, and Dave McHarg, Dearborn CC (77).

Jerry and Jim Krause, Pine Lake (71) vs. Ervin Richard and Leo Daigle, Indianwood (76).

Perry Byard, Red Run, and Ralph Ellstrom, Dearborn CC (74) vs. Mason Brown and Jack Walsh, Plum Hollow (77).

Bob Babbish, Detroit GC, and Bill O'Brien, Oakland Hills (74) vs. Creighton Holden, St. Clair CC, and E. G. Hill III, Pine Lake (76).

Bill Adams and L. D. Yager, Oakland Hills (75) vs. Tom Newell and Earl Thompson, Grosse Ile (77).

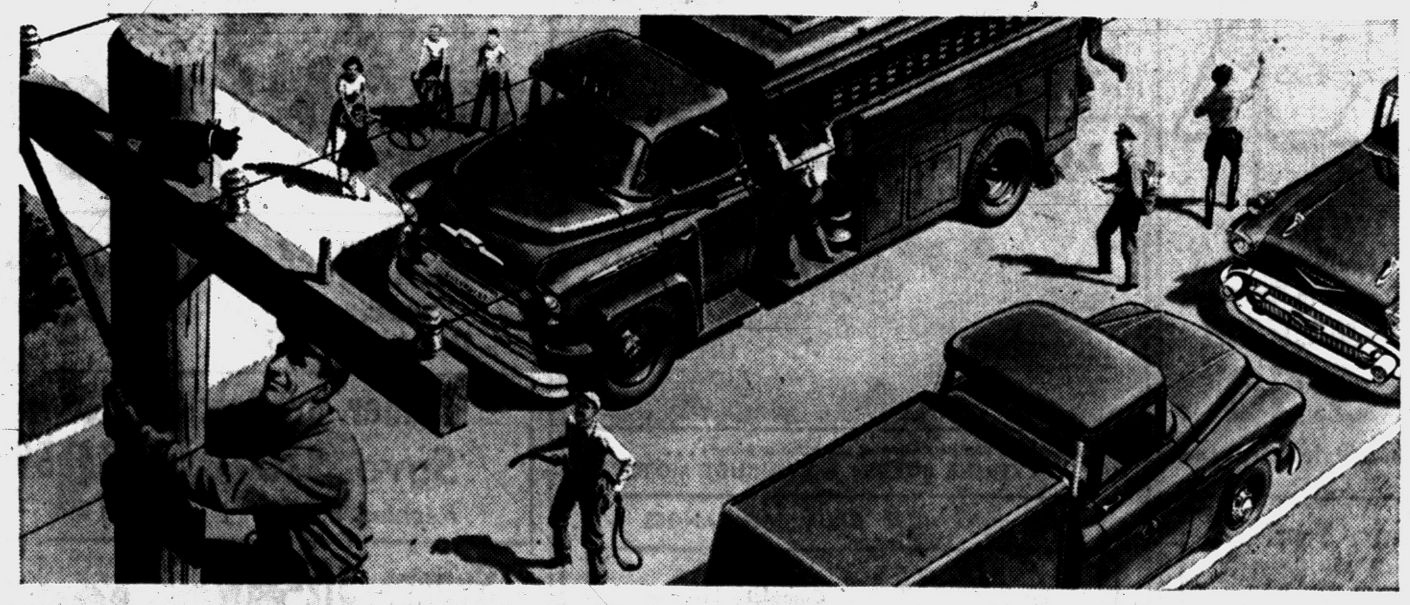
Biggest Sellers...because they're Biggest Savers!



It's no wonder more truck owners go for Chevrolet. Ultra-modern throughout with the industry's most advanced V8's and 6's, Chevy trucks have proved they can stay and save on any job you name!

A lot of Chevrolet truck owners can show you right to the decimal point why they bought the truck they did. They point to the extra savings that show up throughout their cost records—from the original purchase price to the gas mileage on the latest haul. And, what's more, they'll tell you there's no doubt in their minds that this is the key to why Chevrolet has outsold all other makes for almost as long as they remember.

For '57 Chevrolet trucks save you more than ever before with a new wide choice of engines—a total of eight, with power ranging all the way from 140 to 210 hp. This means you get power precisely matched to your job, enough to save minutes but not so much that you waste dollars.

Your Chevrolet dealer will gladly fill you in on a host of other features that prove Chevy sells more because it saves more!

Al Prexy Studies Yank-Sox Brawl

Harridge Plans Next Swing

CHICAGO (AP)—It was Will Harridge's turn to swing today in the free-for-all fight between the Chicago White Sox and the New York Yankees.

Harridge, president of the American League, planned to announce his verdict and pronounce the penalties during the morning.

He was a spectator at yesterday's battle royal between the belligerent Sox and the brawling Yankees—some of whose stars were fined $1,000 by their club for a recent New York night club altercation.

★ ★ ★

A wild pitch by Yank pitcher Art Ditmar in the first inning rang the gong for one of baseball's wildest fights. Larry Doby, who was at bat with mates on first and second base, threw himself to the ground to dodge the ball.

Ditmar moved in to protect the plate as catcher Elston Howard retrieved the ball. Doby and Ditmar exchanged words and Doby landed a left hook that sent Ditmar to a sitting position on the turf.

★ ★ ★

Bill Skowron, husky Yankee first baseman, grabbed Doby and threw him to the ground. Walt Dropo, towering White Sox first baseman, tried to pull Skowron from Doby. Enos Slaughter of the Yanks went after Dropo. Dropo drove a looping right to Slaughter's balding head.

Players of both teams, keyed up by their pennant contention, swarmed on the field and milled in a melee.

★ ★ ★

Peace was close at hand when Billy Martin, Yankee firebrand, said something to Doby and they had to be separated.

The punching and the wrestling, arguing and confusion lasted 28 minutes.

Dropo, Doby, Martin and Slaughter were ejected from the game. Whitey Ford of the Yankees was banished later for riding Umpire John Stevens from the bench.

★ ★ ★

New York won the game, 4-3, and cut the league lead of the White Sox to four games.

But discussions continued. Harridge conferred for 20 minutes after the game with managers Al Lopez of the Sox and Casey Stengel of the Yanks and the four umpires.

★ ★ ★

Chuck Comiskey, White Sox vice president, told newsmen he had protested to the chief umpire, Larry Napp, because Doby and Dropo, his team's power batters, were cast out while Ditmar was allowed to stay in the game.

Comiskey quoted Napp as saying Doby was the aggressor and that's why Ditmar was allowed to remain.

★ ★ ★

Doby stated later that he struck in "self defense"—he thought Ditmar was coming after him. The White Sox claimed Al Cicotte, Yank pitcher, threw at outfielder Minnie Minoso Wednesday night.

Heights' Burton Helps East Win

HUTCHINSON, Kan. (AP) — The shooting of Billy Lickert of Lexington, Ky., and the rebounding of Edward Burton, Muskegon Heights, Mich., made the difference as the East all-stars defeated the West 67-63 in the opening game Thursday of the All-America prep basketball world series.

Lickert scored 24 points to top both teams in the seesaw battle. The West's offensive was carried by three players: John Hagen of Belview, Minn., 15 points; Jerry Cobb of Dallas, and Robert Whelan of Le Mars, Iowa, 15 each.

Ted Gets Mad, Hits 3 Homers

CLEVELAND (AP) — Maybe Ted Williams should get mad at himself more often.

The 38-year-old Boston slugger stormed out of the batting cage in disgust before yesterday's game in which he hit three home runs in Boston's 9-3 victory.

Angered by his inability to meet the ball squarely in batting practiec, the American League's leading hitter threw his bat 50 feet in the air as he left the cage.

"Wasn't I lousy," Ted yelled as he ran out to his left-field station.

Braves Take NL Lead

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

How hot can the pennant races get in September, what with first place resting on percentage-point leads and player brawls bustin' out all over in June?

The Milwaukee Braves, following Manager Fred Haney's spring time directive to the letter, hustled and scrapped back into the National League lead, by eight percentage points, with a riotous 8-5 victory over the Brooklyn Dodgers yesterday.

★ ★ ★

They made it with the help of Pittsburgh's Pirates as Manager Bobby Bragan's kids swept a four-game set from Cincinnati, skidding the Redlegs from first to third with a 3-2 victory. Philadelphia surged back into second place, six points ahead of the Redlegs, with an 8-1 victory that ended St. Louis' winning streak at eight games and plunked the Cardinals back to fifth—only 1½ games away from first and nine points back of fourth-place Brooklyn.

★ ★ ★

The American League had its moments too. Chicago and New York had a rip-roaring, 28-minute melee before the second-place Yankees trimmed the White Sox lead to four games with a 4-3 decision.

And Ted Williams tied a major league record, unloading three home runs in one game for the second time this season as the Boston Red Sox hammered Cleveland 9-3, knocking the Indians backing to fourth place. Detroit regained third, nipping Baltimore 2-1.

Kansas City smacked Washington 6-2 and the New York Giants clipped the Chicago Cubs 7-4 in the other games.

Jim Rivera homered for a 2-0 White Sox lead, but the Yankees then won the rubber game of the series with a three-run fifth on doubles by Gil McDougald and Mickey Mantle and singles by Bill Skowron and Andy Carey. Billy Pierce lost it.

Williams tagged loser Early Wynn for his first two homers, then got No. 17 off Bob Lemon. Tom Brewer, also supported by Frank Malzone's three RBIs, won his seventh.

★ ★ ★

Jack Urban, part of that multi-player deal with the Yankees last February, won his first major league start for the A's, who backed up his five-hitter with four home runs, all off Pete Ramos.

Porterhouse Sets World Race Mark

INGLEWOOD, Calif. (INS) — Liz Lunn's Porterhouse has set a new world record of 1.02 2/5 for the five and a half furlongs.

The six-year-old, with Johnny Longden up, blazed the distance yesterday in winning the $25,000 added Hollywood Express Handicap at Hollywood Park.

★ ★ ★

He carried high weight of 125 pounds and beat his closest rival, Flight History, by two and a half lengths.

The new record replaces one of 1:03 set by Viking Victory at Tropical Park last January.

Judge Hits at .611 Clip

Booker Leads City Batters

Judge Booker, slugging 1st baseman for the Pontiac Jets, is the leading batter in the Class A City Baseball League after nearly four weeks of play in the 1957 season.

All hitting averages are currently based on a minimum of 10 times at bat.

Booker, last year's City League batting champion, is off and running in his bid to win the title again. He has pounded out 11 hits in 18 attempts for a phenomenal five-game average of .611.

Terry Thomas of Shaw's Jewelers holds down 2nd spot in the hitting race. The star outfielder, who won the crown two years ago, has collected eight safeties in 14 trips to the plate for a .571 average.

Ben Roberson of the Jets is in 3rd place with an average of .529, followed by the Jets' Louie Seay and Ernie Nelson of the Giants, each with a .471 average.

The Jets and Shaw's dominate the list with three players apiece. CIO Local 594 placed one man in the elite group while the Giants boast the other two positions.

Leading batters:

	AB	H	Pct.
Booker, Jets	18	11	.611
Thomas, Shaw's	14	8	.571
Roberson, Jets	17	9	.529
Seay, Jets	17	8	.471

Predict Tense Belmont Race

NEW YORK (AP)—The names of seven colts were dropped into the entry box today for the 89th Belmont Stakes, and if racing secretary Jimmy Kilroe finds an extra one it will be the best kept secret since scientists began monkeying with nuclear fission.

Third and toughest of the Triple Crown series, the mile and one half classic is expected to bring a tense duel between the Wheatley Stable's Bold Ruler and Ralph Lowe's Gallant Man. The 3-year-old championship of 1957 probably will hang on the outcome.

Gallant Man will have a stablemate, Bold Nero, in the struggle, while the remainder of the lineup consists of the Greentree Stable's Cohoes, the Cain Hoy Stable's Lucky Dip, Mrs. Jules Schwartz's Nah Hiss, and the D. & M. Stable's Inside Tract.

All will carry 126 pounds in the race to be carried on the CBS television and radio network, 3:30-4 p.m. EST. With seven starters, the jackpot would total $114,350, the winner grabbing $78,300.

Milwaukee Has Pennant

MILWAUKEE (AP) — The baseball season is still young but Milwaukee already has its Pennant.

A tiny gibbon was born in the monkey house of the Washington Park zoo here on the opening day of the baseball season. It was named, appropriately, Pennant.

Along the Outdoor Trail

H. GUY MOATS
Outdoor Editor, Pontiac Press

By H. GUY MOATS

Prospects are excellent for Michigan's bass season opening.

The thousands of flyrod and baitcasting enthusiasts who swear by (and occasionally at) the tough and canny bronzebacks have been promised fine conditions for Saturday's 1957 premiere, that also marks start of The Pontiac Press "big fish derby." The "derby" is a 3-way contest that provides $50 rewards for the heaviest bass, pike and bluegill. It ends Labor Day, Sept. 2.

★ ★ ★

★ ★ ★

Best bets for smallmouth, outside area lakes, are along Lake Huron, from Harbor Beach to Port Hope and up to Pt. Austin. Whiskey Harbor, Grindstone City, Eagle Bay, Pte. Aux Barques, Willow Creek at Huron City, Pinnebog river from M-25 down. Big Bay and Huron Point also are good spots, conservation men report.

Largemouths should do well in Saginaw Bay, Wildfowl and Sebewaing among other areas. On the home front, Pontiac lake is the best water, although most county lakes will produce good bass fishing.

★ ★ ★

Perch fishing is still slow on Lake Huron shores; muskies are still hitting at Clinton river, off Selfridge Field and past Huron Point. Walleyes are starting to hit in Lake Huron at mouth of St. Clair river.

★ ★ ★

Michigan's new law curbing "hot-props" on inland lakes (effective in 1958, March 1), is a welcome bit of legislation to many Oakland county lake residents and to thousands of fishermen. It also meets with approval of the real enthusiasts of motor-boating, who are in the vast majority. There's no place for "exhibitionists" and careless motorboat operators on inland waters, or any others.

★ ★ ★

It's horse show time again and this observer recalls the time when the Bloomfield Open Hunt was more of a hunt than a show . . . when brightly garbed riders on fine hunters made the run, behind the hounds, over rails, brush and stone fences and over ditches; where cross - country races over the countryside obstacles were thrillers. All on the present site of the 40th Detroit Horse Show, June 25-30.

Fox hunts have been moved to Metamora, and there's no longer the "chase" race, all giving way to the individual rider and mount efforts.

Race Feud in East Believed Settled

YONKERS, N.Y. (AP) — Yonkers Raceway officials expect the trotters and pacers to be in action as usual tonight following a court order restraining the Standard bred Owners Assn. from action in concert in failing to enter their horses.

★ ★ ★

"It looks like they'll be racing tonight," said a track official. "But I can't say for sure until we see how the horsemen respond to instructions to enter their horses."

★ ★ ★

Making a HAUL

Works like a truck!

Pile on the load! Ford's new Ranchero is rated for more than half a ton of payload—more than many standard pickups! The floor of its man-sized body is over six feet long. And for extra loading ease, it's the lowest of any pickup.

Having a "BALL"

Rides like a car!

Fun time—and the Ranchero becomes a fine personal car! Behind the wheel, you enjoy every luxury and comfort of a '57 Ford Ranch Wagon. Ball-joint front suspension—for the first time on any pickup—gives true passenger-car ride.

New Ford RANCHERO!

Try America's first work or play truck

Call us now!

Nothing on wheels ever led the kind of double life that this trim, slim beauty leads. During the working day, the Ranchero pitches into any job a pickup truck can handle—and does it in style. After hours, it's ready for a picnic, an evening out or whatever your pleasure is.

And you'll find the Ranchero a great prestige builder, too! It labels your company modern and progressive—good to do business with. Call us and see how little it costs to put your name on a new Ranchero!

Stock Market Edges Upward

NEW YORK (AP) — The Stock Market maintained a narrow edge to the upside in fairly active early trading today.

Key issues were up fractionally but there was a wide assortment of losers.

★ ★ ★

The market was generally higher at the opening but the number of minus signs increased as turnover slackened. There was a good number of opening blocks.

Oils, steels, rails and chemicals showed a mixed pattern. There was a higher tendency among motors and selected issues.

Ford advanced ⅝ to 56½ on 4,000 shares. Chrysler was in demand and fractionally higher. There was little change in General Motors and Studebaker-Packard.

★ ★ ★

Among the gainers were Youngstown Sheet, Boeing, Du Pont, Westinghouse Electric, Revlon, New York Central, Standard Oil (New Jersey) and International Paper.

Losers included Republic Steel, Goodrich, United Aircraft, American Smelting, Royal Dutch and Getty Oil.

Opening blocks included Reynolds Metals off ¼ at 62 on 1,000 shares; Getty Oil off ¼ at 33⅝ on 3,500; and Union Pacific up ⅛ at 29¾ on 1,400.

Grain Futures Trading Is Dull

CHICAGO (AP)—Trading was dull in grain futures on the Board of Trade today and price changes mostly were minor following the downturn of the previous session.

★ ★ ★

Wheat was fairly firm early on buying apparently attracted by reports of excessive rainfall in Kansas and Nebraska, and high winds in Kansas. Corn slumped somewhat, influenced by clearing weather, which will aid corn planting.

Soybeans were unable to make headway despite some encouraging export news.

Near the end of the first hour old style wheat was ¼-½ higher, July $2.02½, new style wheat ¼ to ⅝ higher, July $2.03, corn ⅛ to ⅜ down, July $1.29⅜, oats ⅛ to ⅜ lower, July 64, rye ¾ to 1¼ higher, July $1.18¼, soybeans unchanged to ¾ lower, July $2.32, and lard 2 cents a hundred pounds higher to 5 cents lower, July $12.62.

Boy Almost Completes 200-Mile Bicycle Trip

CAROLINA BEACH, N.C. (AP)—Fifteen-year-old Charles T. Henderson almost achieved his ambition of a 200-mile bicycle trip from his Greensboro home to Carolina Beach.

Police said the boy ran away from home Tuesday evening. State highway patrolmen picked him up yesterday after he had covered 190 miles in 51 hours on his bike.

He was just 10 miles from Carolina Beach. The bike was left by the roadside and young Henderson finished the trip in a patrol car.

Hidden Fortune Found in Rooms of Dead Woman

NEW YORK (AP) — A hoard of $274,980 in cash has been found in a wooden box in the dreary apartment of a woman recluse who died three weeks ago at the age of 90.

The money—some new bills and some old—is in police custody pending a court order on its disposition.

The treasure was found yesterday in the apartment of Mrs. Emma Buhl de Hart, widow of Samuel de Hart, a tugboat owner and captain who died 11 years ago.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. de Hart had lived alone in a second-floor flat above a store on Staten Island.

The bedroom in which the money was found was one of the few rooms in the apartment that could be occupied after a fire eight years ago.

Mrs. de Hart was stricken at home May 23 and died the same day in a hospital. She had no children. Her nearest relatives, who had no idea that she had so much money, could find no will. They got a court order for search of the apartment.

Sent Father to Prison, Now Seeks His Release

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP)—A man whose testimony was instrumental in sending his father to jail for life has asked the State Pardon Board to release him.

★ ★ ★

Charles Russo, Lancaster, Pa., in asking clemency for his father George, said: "I think he is sincerely repentant."

★ ★ ★

The elder Russo, 63, has been in prison since 1948. He pleaded guilty to slaying his second wife during an argument on a Lancaster street.

News in Brief

A 12 foot aluminum row boat was stolen from Proud Lake Recreation Area sometime Tuesday night according to the Oakland County Sheriff's Department. The boat is owned by Bruce Merris, 16741 Stout St., Detroit.

Drop Charge Against Picket

Union Official Requests Trespassing Warrant Be Dismissed

A Pontiac Teamsters Local 614 trustee today withdrew charges of trespassing against a Drayton Plains picket as picketing of the union hall at 1410 S. Telegraph Rd. moved into its fourth day.

★ ★ ★

Alvy F. Bush, 29, appeared before Oakland County Prosecutor Frederick C. Ziem this morning asking that a warrant against William Bellinger, 33, be dropped.

Bush and other union officers could not be reached for an explanation.

Yesterday morning Bush and Floyd Harmon, 614 business agent, summoned Bloomfield Township police when Bellinger defied "No trespassing — Private property—Members only" signs and marched on union property.

AS MUCH RIGHT

"I was trying to show them that I had just as much right on that property as they did," Bellinger said.

He is one of the leaders in a long sturggle by present and past members of the local to win an election from among their own rank-and-file members.

They also seek the end of a 3½-year trusteeship over the local by Teamsters Vice President James R. Hoffa.

★ ★ ★

Pickets, numbering usually around five, have been parading on a right-of-way in front of the hall.

★ ★ ★

Bellinger claims he is permitted on a posted parking strip because his dues have been paid up through May. He added that a provision of his honorable withdrawal card places him in membership standing despite the fact he has discontinued paying dues because he is laid off.

Seek to Block Merger

NEW YORK (AP)—The government today asked a summary judgment in Federal Court to block a proposed merger of Bethlehem Steel Corp. and the Youngstown Sheet and Tube Co. However, court action on the move was postponed until fall.

Blood Donations Needed Monday at Elks Temple

A Pontiac area Community Blood Bank will be held Monday, from 2 to 5 p.m. and 6 to 8 p.m., at the Elks Temple, Mrs. A. H. Magnus, blood bank chairman, announced today.

★ ★ ★

This will be the last blood bank until mid-July, Mrs. Magnus said, and the last opportunity to collect the supply that will be needed for accident victims during the Fourth of July holiday.

Each Fourth, she added, a number of persons are injured in auto accidents in Oakland County, and many need blood transfusions. The bank does not have enough on hand to meet this need.

★ ★ ★

No appointment is needed to donate but for prompt service the public is asked to make an appointment with Mrs. Dorothy Blodgett, blood recruitment chairman, FE 8-3937.

Reds Free 2 Americans

HONG KONG (AP) — A Shanghai telephone operator reported that the Communist Chinese government today freed two American Jesuit missionaries it had held in prison for four years.

The release of the Revs. Charles J. McCarthy, 48, San Francisco, and John Alexander Houle, 42, Glendale, Calif., had been expected since the prison terms of both were completed today.

The telephone operator said the pair had left the prison for the Jesuit mission in Shanghai.

Their release left six Americans confined in Communist China. Two are serving life sentences. Two complete five-year terms next year. One is sentenced to 20 years, and the other to 15 years.

Fathers Houle and McCarthy were arrested June 15, 1953, in Shanghai, presumably on the usual charge of "counterrevolutionary activities and spying."

The number of Americans in Communist Chinese custody has dropped gradually from a high of 55 in 1951. The United States has been seeking the release of all prisoners in prolonged talks with a Red Chinese ambassador at Geneva, but the Peiping regime's professed policy is to free the Americans only when their sentences are completed.

Policeman Tags 5 Cars of Visiting Politicians

NASHUA, N.H. (AP)—One of Nashua's most conscientious policemen tagged five automobiles for illegal parking in front of City Hall.

Later, he learned every one of the cars belonged to a mayor or selectman of a New Hampshire community attending a New Hampshire Municipal Assn. meeting.

Police Chief Joseph L. Regan waived the usual fine as an expression of the city's courtesy to the visiting officials.

Can't Sleep at Wheel

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP) — The Pennsylvania State Superior Court has ruled that sleeping at the wheel is reckless driving.

'Bloody' Shooting From (Catsup) Bottle

Pontiac Police have solved the case of a man who reportedly was seen running down a street yesterday afternoon carrying a shotgun and a blood soaked towel, and wearing a shirt in the same condition.

All hospitals were checked for shooting reports but none were found.

After checking the alleged shooting, Detective Orville Johnston, Patrolmen Albert Foster Jr. and Harry Risner arrested a suspect. But the charge was drunk and disorderly.

The accused, Gary L. Chilson, 20, of 259 Earlmore Blvd., was ordered to spend 30 days in the Oakland County Jail today by Municipal Judge Cecil B. McCallum. He failed to pay the alternative sentence of a $75 fine plus 10 days in jail when he pleaded guilty to the charge.

Police report the bloodsoaked items were doused in catsup and Chilson admitted the hoax.

Just One Big Happy (?) Family for Liz Taylor!

ST. JEAN CAP FERRAT, France (AP) — Producer Mike Todd and his wife Elizabeth Taylor scurried about today preparing for a house guest — Miss Taylor's ex-husband, actor Michael Wilding.

Wilding, divorced from Miss Taylor a few days before she married Todd, is expected from London tomorrow for the weekend. He is the father of Miss Taylor's two children, who are living at the Todd's seaside villa in this swank Riviera resort.

"Why shouldn't the guy come visit his kids?" asked Mike.

A mother in East London, South Africa, testified that her 16-year-old son drove her car without permisnion. The boy was sentenced to "four strokes with a light cane."

St. Mark Lutheran Church to Dedicate New Building

WEST BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP—St. Mark Lutheran Church of West Bloomfield Township will dedicate its new house of worship this Sunday with special festive services. The new church is located at 7979 Commerce Road, one-half mile east of Union Lake Road.

The dedication service will begin at 10 a. m. with a Rev. William C. Huener, of Our Saviour Lutheran Church, Detroit, as speaker. The junior choir will sing special music.

Dr. E. T. Bernthal, pastor of Epiphany Church, will be the guest speaker at the 3:30 p. m. service. The Rev. Theodore Wuggazer of Birmingham will be the Liturgist, while the children's choir from Holy Cross Lutheran Church, Detroit, will render several numbers.

A choral vesper service will begin at 7:30 p. m. at which the Rev. O. A. Gedken of Walled Lake will deliver the sermon. The choir will be that of Our Shepherd Lutheran Church at Birmingham. The Liturgist will be Rev. Howard Allwardt, also of Our Shepherd Church.

The congregation was formed in June of 1955, under the guidance of the present pastor, the Rev. William C. Grafe. The cornerstone for the new church was laid on Oct. 14, 1956.

New Chain of Lakes Nears Completion

By REBA HEINTZELMAN

One of the biggest artificial lake developments in central United States is nearing completion on Commerce road, near Milford.

★ ★ ★

When finished, some time this year, the project will include a string of six lakes, each connected by a river.

The whole idea of the lake project began three years ago when construction engineer James Cole saw the tremendous possibilities of new lake development, due to the natural contours of that area.

The gently rolling countryside sloped down to useless swamps for many miles. He reasoned that by damming up a stream that ran through the area, and digging into the marshland, gushing springs might appear.

WORK TOGETHER

Cole contacted Louis Eastlick, an engineer with heavy lake-building equipment, and together the two men purchased some 2,700 acres of wooded land involving 32 farms.

Already past the development stage are Cedar Island estates and Brendel subdivision near M59. These will connect with the newest project, Lake Sherwood, to be opened to the public this weekend.

There are 700 scenic acres in Lake Sherwood's "planned community," and each lot gently slopes down to the water's edge.

165 ACRES

One hundred and sixty-five acres have been flooded by damming up the as yet unnamed stream on the northwest corner of the property.

The new lake is more than a mile wide and will be three miles long when completed. It has a maximum depth of some 35 feet at the present itme, Cole said.

The lake is mainly supplied by Cole's anticipated springs, which popped up early in the developing stage. He said, "It seemed like every time we put the drag-line bucket down, we hit another spring."

★ ★ ★

At the south end of Lake Sherwood, a huge circular steel reservoir can be controlled to maintain an even water-level at all times, by adding or removing large oak planks.

The spill-way is 13 feet in diameter and 22 feet deep. A 4-foot tube runs under nearby Sleeth road to carry off excess water which flows on to the Huron River.

★ ★ ★

Cole explained that there are more than 5,000 acres of surface-water-drainage in the project, bringing a continuous flow of fresh water to Lake Sherwood.

LICK PROBLEM

Special engineering and experience in developing the new lakes has eliminated the problem of aquatic weed growth, according to co-owner Eastlick.

Already small fish are beginning to appear, and for the next two years fishing in this lake should be abundant because of ideal conditions for existence, Eastlick said.

A tremendous building program is under way at Lake Sherwood. Some 2,000 lots will be available, and already more than 200 have been plotted and are ready for sale from $3,000 up to $10,000.

★ ★ ★

Each lot is at least one-half acre, and home-buildings are restricted to not less than 1,500 square feet. Prices of the homes will range from $27,000 to $45,000.

One of the most unusual features of Lake Sherwood is the six "swimming islands" in various parts of the lake. This is a new experiment, whereby residents can dock their boats, picnic and swim in complete privacy.

The new Lincoln plant is located six miles away and already construction work is under way on Northwestern highway, which bisects the development on the north side.

SOUTH SIDE

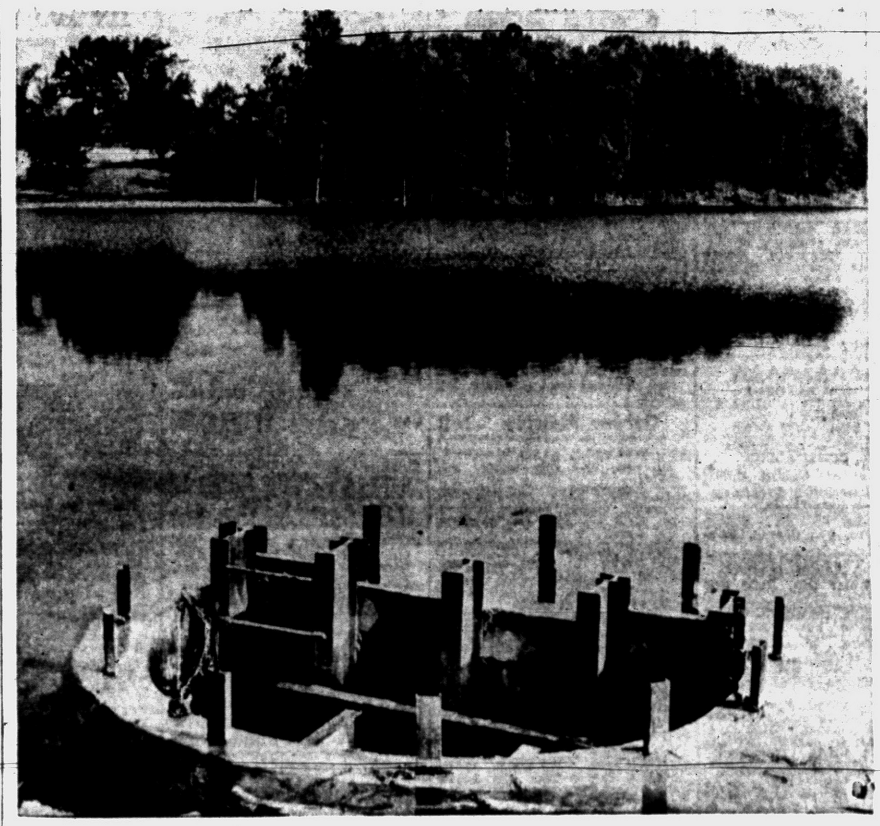
On the south side, the project connects with the Proud Lake Recreation area, with approximately 4,000 acres of wild life facilities.

To the west, the property butts to more than 5,200 acres of the Highland recreation area.

★ ★ ★

The grand opening of Lake Sherwood this weekend will feature extended tours on the winding road throughout the property. These will be paved soon.

Water skiing events will be in progress all day Saturday and Sunday for people interested in "Michigan's northern beauty—at home."



KEYNOTE TO DEVELOPMENT — This dam is a key factor in the development of a 700 acre lake homes project near Milford. One-hundred sixty five acres have been flooded to create a chain of six lakes.

Changes School Post

BRONSON (AP) — George E. Carpenter, superintendent of Bronson Community Schools for the past six years, has resigned to accept a similar post at Bangor.

NOTICE OF SALE. $100,000.00 WALLED Lake Consolidated School District, Oakland County, Michigan Notes.

Sealed bids for the purchase of tax anticipation notes of Walled Lake Consolidated Schools, Oakland County, Michigan, of the par value of $100,000.00 will be received by the undersigned at 615 N. Pontiac Trail, Walled Lake, Michigan until 8:00 o'clock p.m., Eastern Standard Time, on the 24th day of June, 1957, at which time and place they will be publicly opened and read.

The notes will be dated June 15, 1957, will mature March 1, 1958 and will bear interest at a rate or rates not exceeding 4% per annum. Both principal and interest will be payable at such place as may be agreed upon with the purchaser. Denominations and form of notes to be at the option of the purchaser. Accrued interest to date of delivery of such notes must be paid by the purchaser at the time of delivery.

For the purpose of awarding the notes the interest cost of each bid will be computed by determining, at the rate or rates specified therein, the total dollar value of all interest on the notes from June 15, 1957 to their maturity and deducting therefrom any premium. The notes will be awarded to the bidder whose bid on the above computation produces the lowest interest cost to the Walled Lake Consolidated School District. No proposal for the purchase of less than all of the notes or at a price less than their par value will be considered.

The loan is in anticipation of the 1957 tax.

Envelopes containing the bids should be plainly marked "Proposal for Notes."

A certified or cashier's check in the amount of 2% of the par value of the notes, drawn upon an incorporated bank or trust company and payable to the order of the Treasurer of Walled Lake Consolidated Schools must accompany each bid as a guarantee of good faith on the part of the bidder. Checks of unsuccessful bidders will be promptly returned.

Bids shall be conditioned upon the unqualified opinion of the purchaser's attorney approving the legality of the notes, to be secured at the purchaser's expense. The purchaser shall furnish notes ready for execution at his expense. Notes will be delivered at Board of Education Offices, 615 N. Pontiac Trail, Walled Lake, Michigan.

The right is reserved to reject any and all bids.

Honor Scouts Slate Conclave

Colorful Indian ceremonials and the readying of Boy Scout Camp Agawam for the summer season will mark the thirtieth anniversary of Chippewa Lodge No. 29 of the Order of the Arrow which will hold its annual spring conclave this weekend at the Camp near Lake Orion.

The Order of the Arrow is a national Boy Scout society of honor campers and leaders whose members are elected by their fellow Scouts. Chippewa Lodge is the Clinton Valley Council chapter of the Order and is one of the oldest lodges in the country.

Lodge Chief Paul Heil of Milford announced that "this anniversary sary conclave has been designed conclave has been designed particularly as a reunion of former

John Poponea of Pontiac has been named chairman of the two-day initiation ceremonies for candidates to the first degree, called the Ordeal Honor. John Smith of Milford will direct the Brotherhood degree installation for the second-year members.

Highest degree in the Order of the Arrow, called the Vigil Honor, will be given to three members of the lodge and to three visiting members from Port Huron's Blue Water Council. This degree is awarded only after approval by the National Lodge and its careful selection of nominations regarding members who give extraordinary service to camping and to the local lodge.

Names of members to receive this high national honor are kept secret until a special calling out ceremony tonight. Kenneth Sanderson of Westacres, William DeGrace and Glenn Lackey of Pontiac and John Samuelson of Union Lake will conduct the Vigi Honor degree ceremonies.

On Saturday, the members will serve the Camp by setting up tents and installing the dock for the summer season. Following completion of initiation rites to begin at 7:30 p.m., a formal anniversary banquet will be held. Movies of the National Boy Scout Jamboree in California will be shown at this time.

Sunday's program includes church services and a business meeting with election of officers.

Independence Township Board Slashes Budget

Independence Township Supervisor Duane Hursfall, called a special meeting of the Board recently to slash the budget.

★ ★ ★

The township was forced to make drastic reductions in its budget for this year, in order to regulate expenditures to conform with the tax allocation set up by the county for the year 1957-58.

A special meeting of the board was held last week, in order to work out a proper solution to this problem. Cuts had to be made in this year's operating budget.

Among the items that were cut down was that of $12,000 which was set up at the annual town meeting to provide for a completely new reassessment of property values in the township in order to correct serious inequalities in assessed values of property, that had resulted over a period of years without following a definite prescribed procedure of assessment such as is now being recommended by county and state agencies.

Two thousand dollars had to be slashed off the budget for this purpose.

Among other items were reductions of $1,200 in building maintenance, $300 in election expenses, $200 public dump expense, $1,000 new equipment, $2,500 road trucks and gasoline expense, $2,000 contingenies, and $200 in grounds maintenance and supplies.

Also included, were $5,000 that had been set up for the Oakland County Road Commission to cover the cost of extra services not covered by the regular road commission budget, and $5,030 more than hand been contemplated by the Township to cover additional Township road truck operating expenses.

Invitation to Tito Made Without OK of Dulles?

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. McCormack D-Mass said today the ill-fated invitation to Yugoslav Premier Tito to visit America was originally made without Secretary of State Dulles' approval.

★ ★ ★

McCormack, House majority leader, gave this as an "undercutting" of Dulles by "some persons and elements in the present administration."

The Yugoslavs turned down the bid this spring after numerous legislators - including McCormack made plain they did not relish such a visit.

McCormack has charged that presidential disarmament adviser Harold E. Stassen, in paricular, has been trying to "undercut" Dulles. He named no others.

★ ★ ★

He said recent developments "confirm" that Dulles in turn "was giving Mr. Stassen enough rope to hang himself."

"If so, it clearly appears that Secretary Dulles has been successful," he said.

Hire Students as Crew

DETROIT (AP) — More than 150 college students from around Michigan have been engaged as crew members to serve passengers on the new Great Lakes cruise ship Aquarama, scheduled to start service June 21 between Detroit and Cleveland.

Storekeepers in Village Take Wooden Nickels

WELLSVILLE, N.Y. (AP)—Storekeepers are taking wooden nickels here these days.

Centennial observance officials have distributed wooden souvenirs in five-cent denominations to business places. They sell for a nickel and will be accepted in trade.

Anyone who doesn't want the wooden nickels may redeem them at a bank. Proceeds from sale of the souvenirs will help promote the centennial celebration.

Disney Names His New Star

Jerome Courtland Set to Portray Pioneer in Six-Program Series

By ATRA BAER

NEW YORK (INS)—The format for Frank Sinatra's show has just been worked out. Starting Friday Oct. 18th via ABC, Frank will do 13 half-hour musical shows and 23 straight dramas.

The series will kickoff with a special hour-long spectacular. Another Sinatra spec is scheduled around Christmas.

Walt Disney has finally signed a star for his forthcoming "bigger-than-Davy Crockett" series, which starts on ABC come fall.

The series, based on a fictional pioneer named Andy Burnett, will make the star "bigger than Fess Parker" (what happened to Fess?) according to the Disney office.

The lucky guy who'll star in the projected six one-hour shows is Jerome Courtland. Jerry's well known to the around-Carnegie-Hall clique as having a wonderful legit voice, and also for being pretty Polly Bergen's ex-husband.

Tom Blackburn, who appeared in the Crockett series, will be Jerry's co-star.

BREAK FOR ERIN

Erin O'Brien, who got her start singing on Steve Allen's show, has just been signed for the second lead in Warner Brothers' "Marjorie Morningstar."

The beautiful 23-year-old mother of two was discovered by Steve—or so say some press agents—two years ago when she was sitting innocent and unsuspecting 'way back in the audience when Steve was doing the "Tonight" show.

Steve is supposed to have asked "and-what-do-you-do-my-fair lady?" And Erin is supposed to have answered "I sing." She was invited to give a free trial demonstration and the rest is history.

Be that as it may, Erin is on her way to movie stardom, although she lost the lead role she wanted so badly to Natalie Wood. (But practically ever girl in Hollywood has, too.)

Redmond O'Hanlon, the $64,000 Shakespearean policeman, has welcomed his sixth child, a girl . . . Red remains a cop, betimes picking up occasional small fortunes from the $64,000 folk ($4,000 last time out) and has been hired by Barnes and Noble, a publishing firm, to "bring their 'Outlines of Shakespeare' up to date." . . .

O'Hanlon has decided not to take any college offers, the last he turned down coming from an institution "whose Shakespeare man committed suicide," and whose offer said, "If you have no suicidal tendencies, the job is yours." . . .

ED'S DELIGHTED

Ed Wynn told us he's delighted to be signing autographs for his fans again, "but when my girls faint they have a time getting up any more." . . .

Ed said the famous legend of being hit on the head with a pool cue wielded by W. C. Fields during a Ziegfeld Follies "definitely is not true." . . . What really happened, we asked the great old clown and new actor? "He punched me in the mouth," Wynn winced, remembering that 40-year-old jawbreaker . . .

Accident Death Toll in London Now 8

LONDON (AP)—The death toll in London's shopping crowd bus accident reached eight today. A Canadian woman, Mrs. Nina Murray, died in a hospital.

Seven others, four men and three women, died earlier when the big doubledecker bus jumped a curb yesterday and smashed into a crowd waiting at a bus stop on busy Oxford Street.

Hardy Crew Completes Sailing

England, U.S. Hail Mayflower

PLYMOUTH, Mass. (AP) — The hardy crew members of Mayflower II were hailed today by the peoples of the United States and England with completion of the re-enactment of the historic saga of 1620.

The 33-man crew under Cmdr. Alan Villiers brought the 180-ton square-rigged bark Mayflower II into Plymouth Harbor yesterday just as the Pilgrims did 337 years ago.

Villiers guided the replica ship 24 miles across Cape Cod Bay yesterday after remaining in Provincetown overnight. The original Mayflower also called at Provincetown before dropping anchor at Plymouth.

Thousands were on shore to welcome Mayflower II as planes and helicopters flew overhead and a cannon salute was fired from a shore battery.

There were messages from President Eisenhower and Prime Minister Harold Macmillan of England.

★ ★ ★

The 32 crew members were taken into the homes of proud Mayflower descendants who had vied with each other for months for the privilege of playing host.

The 33rd crew member, Joseph Meany Jr., 17, the only American aboard, returned to his own home in Waltham, Mass., for a reunion with his family, whom he hadn't seen since last March.

Mayflower II was 54 days in crossing the Atlantic from Plymouth, England, on a 5,000-mile southerly route. The original Pilgrim ship took 66 days on a 3,000-mile direct route.

★ ★ ★

A crowd, estimated variously at between 10,000 and 50,000, gave a huge cheer as Cmdr. Villiers came ashore with young Meany in a replica of a small workboat such as was used in the 1600s.

Mayflower II will remain in Plymouth about 12 days, then it will be taken to New York as a tourist attraction for the summer and will be returned here in the fall to remain permanently.

Sterility 'New' to Ex-Sergeant

Official at Wayne State Says He Never Heard of Reports Before

DETROIT (AP)—The first sergeant of a special tank company which conducted top-secret experiments in World War II said he hadn't heard until yesterday reports that the tests made some of the men in the company sterile.

Frank X. Tuohey, now public relations director of Wayne State University, said the reports were the first he knew "any of us actu ly was suffering from the rays' effects."

STUDY COMPLAINTS

The Army in Washington is studying complaints from some of the ex-soldiers who said they became sterile after taking part in the project of mounting and experimenting with powerful "light rays" on tanks to "blind" the enemy in night fighting. Other company members said they have fathered deformed children.

Tuohey, 40, a father of four children ranging in age from one to 10 years, said however, that members of his unit were warned from the start that continual exposure to the rays might make them sterile.

The unit's job was to mount 13-million candlepower carbon arc lamps on tanks and conduct tactical experiments with them. Tuohey said he believed any injuries would have been suffered by men installing or reapiring the lamps and thus coming into close contact with them.

SECRET WEAPON

Tuohey said the "secret weapon" was used only once and then ws a failure. "Our tanks rushed into battle at night at the Remagen Bridgehead in Germany and the enemy wouldn't hold still long enough to be blinded," he said.

Tuohey said the secret nature of the experiment forced members of his unit to restrict their associations to one another. They even were prohibited from revealing to their wives that they were working on a secret project

The irritating "buddy" system prevailed even in combat, Tuohey said.

★ ★ ★

"We only suffered nine casualties in Europe but there were a lot of psychological wounds. Divorces were frequent. Many of the men had trouble with their wives because of flimsy stories they had to make up," Tuohey said.

Canoe Race Scheduled

BAY CITY (AP) — At least a dozen entries have been received for the 12-mile Saginaw River canoe Race to be staged Sunday in connection with the Bay County Centennial. The rush of entrants came after the race committee said the event might be called off because of lack of interest.

They Haunt Scotch Castles Looking for Spooks

U. S. Tourists Are Fools for Ghouls

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

LINLITHGOW, Scotland (INS)—It is well known, among the old castle-keepers of Scotland, that American tourists are fools for ghouls.

★ ★ ★

This has led, frankly, to a certain amount of good-natured but businesslike spoofing in the spook department. Without exactly promising you'll see a genooine spirit floating the moat, they have a way of hinting challengingly that the incarnation is there. But only for those with 20-20 sensitivity.

(It has become quite the rage for Americans to purchase haunted castles, as sites for rousing good house parties, and this is particularly ticklish business.)

(So far, I have visited at least three that are reputedly ghost-hosted by Mary Queen of Scots, and haven't seen a single vapor materialize. There was one low moan—but that was from an owner, who happened to be thinking about taxes.)

★ ★ ★

In Scotland, you pays your money and they gives you your choice of historic castles to visit. Will you have Glamis, near Dundee, where Duncan's demise was accomplished; or will ye choose Caerlaverock Castle, where the cadavers are of lesser renown, but more plentiful?

MARY'S BIRTHPLACE

My top recommendation is Linlithgow Palace, near the beautiful borderlands between Scottish lowlands and highlands, the birthplace of Mary Queen of Scots.

★ ★ ★

Not only is it starkly magnificent—rising in great architectural ruins above a small loch (lake)—but it is one castle where apparently no one, except an occasional disobedient servant, was murdered.

This, alone, would make it distinctive.

Mr. Chalmers, he is, who has tended Linlithgow for the past 19 years. A pixie of a Scotsman, he leads you into the green courtyard surrounded by the charred walls of this stately royal residence that was begun in the 12th Century and burned in 1746.

"Ah, cin you visualize this liv'ly fountain," says Chalmers, pointing with reverence to a stone structure around which angel's heads peek out of the moss. "It was the finest and first in all Scutlind, built by King James V. It flowed with wine. The folk drank as they entered."

Chalmers leads on, up into the ceilingless stone palace, round literally hundreds of circular steps, and finally comes out on a high narrow tower above the parapet, from which you can see the green valleys and the blue mountains of the highlands.

"Here it was," he says sadly "that poor Queen Margaret waited in vain for the return of her husband James IV. Sir Walter Scott wrote, she 'all lonely sat, and wept the weary hour.'"

OVER 50 ROOMS

Shaking his head, Chalmers wends you down the circular stairs again and through more than 50 rooms, great rooms in which the walls and floors stand unshakable but the furnishings and roofs are completely destroyed.

★ ★ ★

He points out the cavern that was the banquet hall, with a small room cut from the stone wall that surrounds it. He whispers, "This was the 'vomitorium,' for those as 'ad etten too much."

In the chapel, where Chalmers glowed with personal pride as the altar tapers must have glowed in past centuries, he pokes a finger upward to a two-by-four window high in the thick stone. "The lepers' window," he says, reverently. "Servants with leprosy got stowed away in that li'l room, but they ne'er missed religious services."

In the "No. 3" kitchen, just above the dungeon pits, a round iron basket is affixed to one side of a mammoth fireplace. "This is where," he says, "they turned the spit for the roasts. They put dachshunds in that basket and let them run around the spit-wheel."

★ ★ ★

On Mr. Chalmers' kewpie face is mirrored all the glory and horror of Linlithgow Palace's past. Far finer than a ghost is he, at conjuring up memories.

Road Worker Crushed

GREENVILLE (AP) — A Montcalm County Road Commission worker, Paul Kurnat, 40, of Greenville, was crushed to death when a grading machine overturned on him.

Reds Get Historic Gift

HELSINKI (INS) — Russia's Premier Nikolai Bulganin and Communist Party boss Nikita Khrushchev received a historic gift at the conclusion of their week's visit to Finland. The Finnish government gave the Soviet leaders a locomotive on which revolutionary chieftain Nikolai Lenin escaped into Finland in 1917.
