Death on the Highway

Auto Smashup Fatal to 3 Oakland Men

A head-on, two-car crash claimed the lives of three Oakland County men on M15 in Tuscola County yesterday.

Dead are Louis Millman, 55, of 31700 Nottingham Rd., Franklin; Lio W. Switzer, 54, of 4922 Carroll Lake Rd., Commerce Township; and Walter Dunn, 78 of 6084 Brock Way St., Commerce Township.

According to Tuscola County Deputy Sheriff Frank Kroswek, the smashup occurred one and a half miles north of Millington when Dunn attempted to pass a semi-trailer truck and collided with Millman's oncoming car. Switzer was a passenger in the Dunn car.

"From the looks of the damage," Kroswek said, "they both were going at a high rate of speed." Both cars were demolished.

Switzer and Millman died in the crash. Dunn died later in a Saginaw hospital.

Delbert Storms of Millington, the truck driver, told police he saw both cars coming and blinked his lights in an effort to get the Dunn car to slow up "but they kept coming."

Storms said he pulled his truck almost entirely off the road but had to stop because of a tree.

Millman was vice president and secretary - treasurer of Millman Brothers Inc. The firm operates the 25 Vanity Fair shops in Michigan. Millman was en route to Bay City when the crash took place.

Dunn was heading south on the two-lane highway. Switzer was directing him to his summer cottage which Dunn was considering purchasing from him.

Switzer was a self-employed carpenter. He is survived by a son, Leo of Commerce.

Millman is survived by his wife, Sarah; two sons, Stanley and Gerald, both at home; a daughter, Mrs. Eleanor Bernstein of Cleveland and three grandchildren.

Cape Canaveral Hit by Strike

Carpenters Picket Gates of Missile Center; Could Affect 5,000

Pickets were set up at the north and south gates of both the center and nearby Patrick Air Force Base. Two men were at each post, carrying placards reading: "Carpenters employes on strike for higher wages."

Picketing was orderly.

About 400 carpenters in Brevard County — 115 of them at the cape — are involved. The strike could affect about 5,000 of the estimated 10,000 employes at the Cape and an additional 2,000 at the air base and other construction projects in the county.

The Carpenters Union, Local 1685, decided to strike after an 8½-hour negotiating session with members of Associated General Contractors failed to produce a new contract.

It was learned the union is asking an unannounced pay boost retroactive to April 1, when the old contract with the contractors expired.

The contractors have offered a staggered 35-cent-an-hour wage package in a two-year pact. They insist the first 15-cent boost not be retroactive.

Light Frost Again, Weatherman Says

The Weather Bureau forecasts scattered light frost again tonight. Skies will be partly cloudy and the temperature near 38.

Saturday's prediction calls for fair and warmer weather with the high near 58. Today's north to northwest winds at 12 - 18 miles will diminish to 5 - 10 miles tonight.

Fair and warmer is the outlook for Sunday.

Thirty - nine was the lowest temperature in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. The reading at 2 p.m. was 43.

Belgium's King Touring Detroit

Monarch Will Hurry Through Past, Future; Goes to Chicago Today

DETROIT (AP) — A swift tour of Michigan's past, present and future was planned today for Belgium's bachelor King Baudouin.

The 28-year-old monarch arrived in Detroit yesterday. He was scheduled to leave the Motor City by plane for Chicago at 2:45 p.m. today.

Before leaving, Baudouin planned to visit the famous Greenfield Village started by the late Henry Ford for a glimpse of the past. The village contains numerous exhibits of Americana and is noted for its museum which contains automobiles and airplanes built in the infancy of those industries.

A glimpse of the future awaited Baudouin at nearby Monroe where the Enrico Fermi atomic power plant is located.

Some 200 of Baudouin's fellow countrymen were at Detroit Metropolitan Airport to greet the King yesterday when he arrived after a three-day state visit at Washington. Small children in the crowd waved black-and-gold Belgian flags as well as American flags.

News Flash

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government said today production hit an all-time high in April.

The Federal Reserve Board's index of industrial production moved up two points to 149 per cent of the 1947-49 average.

This compared with a pre-recession peak of 146 in February, and with a recession low of 126 in April 1958.

Nash Admits Firing Shot in Lassiter Murder Plot

By GEORGE T. TRUMBULL JR.

Charles Nash thought his ex-convict friend, Richard Jones, was doing him "a big favor" when he paid $150 to bail him out of a Chattanooga jail last month.

But what Nash didn't know at the time was that Jones had had his prison buddy eyed for about a month as the triggerman in a "gun-for-hire" plot to murder Royal Oak car dealer Parvin (Bill) Lassiter.

In a confession to Wayne County Prosecutor Samuel H. Olsen last night, Nash admitted firing the fatal shot from a .45 caliber Army revolver which killed Lassiter April 6.

Nash, 42, of Chattanooga, Jones, 27, of Rossville, Ga., and Roy C. (Buck) Hicks, 36, the man, named as the instigator of the plot, were arraigned on first-degree murder charges this morning.

Nash and Jones waived preliminary pre-trial examination and were bound over to Wayne County Circuit Court, while Hicks demanded examination. This was set for May 25 before Dearborn Township Justice John L. Mokersky, before whom the trio appeared this morning.

All three were returned to the Wayne County Jail without benefit of bond.

Nash told Olsen and State Police detectives last night that he was being held in jail in Tennessee charged with carrying a concealed weapon when Jones paid out $150 to release him.

"I knew he was a friend of mine but I didn't know why he was springing me," Nash was quoted as saying.

Atom Smasher, 2 Miles Long, Being Planned

Ike Says $100-Million Monster Will Take Six Years to Build

From Our News Wires

NEW YORK — President Eisenhower last night announced plans for a new $100,000,000 atom smasher —a machine two miles long and by far the largest of its kind ever built.

The President addressed about 500 scientists assembled at the Waldorf-Astoria hotel for a symposium on basic research sponsored by the National Academy of Sciences, the American Assn. for the Advancement of Science, and the Alfred P. Sloan Foundation.

He told the gathering the proposed new atom smasher would be "by far the largest of its kind ever built." It would take six years to complete.

The Chief Executive said the scientific progress of this country thus far was due largely to the American concept of freedom.

To keep this progress moving, he said he would recommend to Congress that the federal government finance construction of a new electron linear accelerator originally proposed by Stanford University.

The White House explained that the new linear accelerator, or atom smasher, would be a completely national facility available to qualified scientists for creative research.

The President said the over-all cost of about $100,000,000 for the new project was too great to be borne privately and therefore must become "a federal responsibility."

BASED ON REPORTS

Eisenhower's recommendation was based on reports from the General Advisory Committee to the Atomic Energy Commission and his own Science Advisory Committee, headed by Dr. James R. Killian.

Reds Work on Similar Atom Prober

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A 100-million dollar scientific monster to make the greatest assault ever on the atom will be America's next entry in the field of nuclear research.

It will be by far the most powerful thing of its kind, although Soviet scientists are working on plans for an instrument something like it.

The American machine will be two miles long. One of its biggest tasks will be to "see" a speck or a space one-hundred-thousandth of a billionth of an inch long.

Plans for the awesome gadget were set in motion in New York Thursday night by President Eisenhower.

Details of the big project were given by Stanford University officials.

In a news conference they expressed hopes of getting contracts signed within a year and said the machine probably would be operating in six years.

Dr. W. K. H. Panofsky, director of the Stanford laboratory where the prototype of the big machine now is operating, said the more powerful instrument is needed to determine how particles within the nucleus of an atom behave at distances too short to be observed by atom smashers.

The linear electron accelerator is an atom smasher that shoots particles in a straight line, rather than around in spirals as do cyclotrons.

School Board Won't Budge

Band Protests Rejected

By MAX E. SIMON

With a denial that new policies will bring about the "inevitable deterioration" of the Pontiac Central High School Band, the Board of Education last night refused to backtrack on recent changes in the instrumental music department program.

The Board was heckled by members of the Band Parents and Alumni Committee after a prepared statement was read, rejecting numerous demands made by the Committee.

The Committee had protested reducing band practice time from two to one school period and a prohibition against junior high students practicing with the senior high instrumentalists.

The Board last night turned a deaf ear to pleas that the band rehearse two of six school periods daily, with junior high students admitted.

Both policies were discontinued last September.

After the Board's decision was announced last night, Roy MacAfee, chairman of the committee, said:

"We are not surprised at your action, but rather disappointed, and are highly indignant at the diverting and delaying tactics used by the Board."

The Board's prepared statement charged that statements by band supporters in the past left the implication that administrative judgments were made on the basis of "conclusions . . . drawn from a few malcontents" and that judgments and decisions were "formed by hearsay from individuals who have had little or no working knowledge of departmental procedures."

The Board added:

"These are serious implications, for they represent an attack on the integrity, motives and judgment of the Board of Education and school administration. Furthermore, these implications are not borne out by the facts."

"It is unfortunate that efforts by the administrative staff and Board to study the instrumental music program with the view of serving all people better have been labeled as lack of interest and support, and an effort to reduce the level of musical excellence," the Board statement said.

The Board called it "unfortunate that the leaders of the Band Parents and Alumni Committee have refused to meet with administra-

Lawrence St.; and Vicki McLaughlin, 193 Mohawk Rd., all of Pontiac Central. The club also presented a $100 check to Marilyn Vernon, 158 W. Rundell St., a Pontiac Central singer who will tour Europe this summer as a choir member.

Crash Kills 2 in Ambulance

Lapeer Mishap Claims Driver, Patient; Third Man Near Death

The patient and driver of an ambulance en route from West Branch to Detroit were killed on M24 in Lapeer early this morning when the ambulance veered off the opposite side of the road and struck a tree.

The driver's assistant, sitting in back of the ambulance with the patient, was critically injured and is not expected to live, Lapeer police said.

Dead on arrival at Lapeer County General Hospital were the patient, Fred T. Slimp, 59, of rural West Branch, and driver Allen J. King, 55, of Detroit.

The driver's assistant was identified only as Robert A. Martin. He was unable to tell officers how the accident happened because of the seriousness of his condition. He also was taken to Lapeer County Hospital.

There were no witnesses to the crash. The ambulance was a total wreck, police said.

The ambulance was taking Slimp, a heart patient, to the U.S. Public Health Service hospital in Detroit.

Leaves Hospital

Emotion-Choked Godfrey Offers Message of Hope

NEW YORK (AP)—Arthur Godfrey came out of the hospital today after a lung operation for cancer and said "I got a break—and I'll do my damndest to deserve it."

The 55-year-old television and radio entertainer choked with emotion as he first tried to talk with reporters in the waiting room of Columbia Presbyterian Medical Center.

Aides tried to hustle him out but he refused.

"No," he said, raising a hand. "I've got to tell them this."

After bowing his head in his hand a moment he began to talk.

He said that he had been frightened before the operation and he thought it would help people to realize that his fears rose from not knowing what lay ahead of him.

"I don't know how much any of you know what they did to me. That thing—that damnable thing—was not only in the lung, it was wrapped around the aorta, the main vessel to the heart."

His lips trembled and he took a handkerchief from his pocket to dab at his eyes.

"But I got a break — the surgeon got it out, under circumstances so trying that one slip one way or the other and I wouldn't be here talking to you.

"I'm grateful for it and I'll do my damndest to deserve it."

"Why I want to talk to you," he said in faltering voice, "you will take to the people the message from me which may be of help to others."

He paused, swallowed, and went on:

"Inside I was afraid. The reason I was afraid, I didn't know. Like all aviators I'm not afraid of what I know about. Every time a flier pushes the throttle to the wall he knows it might be the last time.

"He takes what we call a calculated risk. That's why we take off and land without qualms.

"When you come to something like this, when in apparent excellent health an X ray shows a shadow on the lung and the doctor says 'I don't know what it is, let's go in and take a look at it' . . ."

Godfrey expressed the highest praise for the doctors, internists, nurses and hospital facilities, and said with deep feeling:

"Thank God we live in a world like this."

Godfrey will spend several weeks in his New York apartment, returning to the hospital regularly for X-ray treatments. Thereafter he plans to go to his Virginia farm.

Geneva Confab Adjourns After Peace Proposal

Americans Say Russia Wants to Prolong Split of Country

GENEVA (AP) — Russia formally proposed to the West today a peace treaty to be signed with divided Germany.

The United States said it was "keenly disappointed" and accused the Soviet Union of wanting to perpetuate the division of Germany.

The U.S. reaction was given in a statement issued immediately after the Big Four conference ended its first week of sessions with a recess until Monday.

In a speech presenting the Russian treaty draft which was originally made public Jan. 10, Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko charged the West with fostering a renewal of militarism in West Germany.

The treaty, as published by Moscow in its original form, would force West Germany to sever its ties with the Western powers.

The United States, Britain and France months ago rejected this approach.

Western informants said after a quick examination of the version presented by Gromyko at today's two-hour conference session that it apparently contained no substantial changes.

Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev had said in a speech that peace must be made "with the two actually existing German states."

The Soviet plan is completely at loggerheads with the Western package proposal, introduced here Thursday, which calls for a peace treaty with a unified Germany.

AIRS HIGHLIGHTS

1. Conclusion of a peace treaty with Germany is important and it will be indefinitely postponed if it has to wait on the formation of an all-German government.

2. The treaty is now the main issue in the cold war.

"One cannot regard this argument as either correct or convincing," the Soviet minister said. "It is based on purely formal juridical considerations, which could not be less suitable under existing conditions."

He revived an old Soviet charge — that the West is sponsoring a revival of militarism in West Germany.

British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd told Gromyko the Western plan offers "a clear, constructive and practical program" for solving the problems of Berlin and Germany. He appealed for serious Soviet consideration.

Lloyd rejected Gromyko's argument, made earlier this week, that the package plan creates a tangle of issues by linking a German unification and peace-making program with disarmament and European security.

"The Soviet government," he said, "is mixing up the discussion of problems with the carrying out of solutions. Of course you can discuss them one by one. But as they are in fact all connected, they cannot be settled in isolation."

Today's session wound up formal work of the week by the big four foreign ministers. They recessed for the weekend. They meet again at 3:30 p.m. (9:30 a.m. EST) Monday.

Ram Tax Bill Past Senate

Goes to House; Due for Defeat

State's General Fund Empty After Today's Payout to Schools

LANSING (AP)—True to their vow, Republicans rammed a second use (sales) tax bill through the Senate today and steered it toward the House where a similar measure went down to defeat two days ago.

The vote was 20-13. Sen. John P. Smeekens (R-Coldwater), on record as opposed to any new taxes, sided with Democrats in voting against the measure. Sen. Perry Greene (R-Grand Rapids) declined to vote.

The Legislature adjourned for the weekend at 11:39 today. Both the House and Senate will come back into session at 8 p.m., Monday.

The House, evenly split between Republicans and Democrats, likely will give the bill the same treatment it did the first.

Sen. Carlton H. Morris (R-Kalamazoo), sparkplug of the Senate use tax drive, urged Democrats to "let the people have the type of tax they prefer."

"The people do not want an income tax," he said.

Sen. Harold M. Ryan (D-Detroit), Senate minority leader, called it "an absolutely unworkable bill, a shabby piece of draftsmanship, a hoax and a mess of junk deserving only to be junked."

Despite the Senate action, compromise talks gained momentum in both the House and Senate.

House Democrats, responding to steady prodding by Republicans for a party tax program, yesterday endorsed a tax package incorporating a personal income tax and a corporate income levy. It was laid beside the Republican sales tax increase as a basis for compromise.

Republican leaders in both the House and Senate said they would submit the proposal to their respective caucuses next week. Ryan and Sen. Frank D. Beadle (R-St. Clair), GOP majority leader, said they would suggest appointment of Senate committees to sit in with House Republicans and Democrats on the compromise talks.

The new Democratic plan, drafted by a seven-man negotiating committee and endorsed by a Democratic caucus as a starting point for negotiations, would produce about 144 million dollars in new revenue.

A $22,704,819 payout to local schools today sent the state treasury's sensitive general fund balance nosediving to a near clean-out level of $452,863, lowest in modern history.

The check-issuing spree routed full payment of May 15 primary school interest fund obligations to all school districts in 40 counties and half payments to those in the other 43 counties.

A big payout to local schools promised today to empty the Michigan treasury's general fund, sensitive barometer of the state's financial well-being.

The distribution of primary school interest fund monies to 2,350 local districts, a lifeline to some in acute distress, was expected to amount to between 20 and 25 million dollars.

Of this, $17,000,000 represented a half payment to each district, and the remainder the other half due counties at the head of the alphabet.

Meanwhile, the state's debt piled steadily higher. Its creditors, including the University of Michigan, grew increasingly nervous wondering when the succession of cliff-hanging episodes would end.

School Board Firm on Band

tors to receive and discuss information which is available.

"In this refusal they have demonstrated an unwillingness to look objectively at all facets of the situation, and have assumed the privilege of making critical judgments without the obligation of examining all facts.

MacAfee insisted that his group had sought to learn both sides of the controversy, but that the Board tried to dictate impossible terms for any meeting.

The Board announced that the scheduling of band in senior highs for one period a day would be continued. But, the Board added, there was no prohibition against extending band practice time by scheduling rehearsals before and after school.

The Board also disclosed that the bands at Pontiac Northern and Central would be independent and self-sustaining. "This is the practice in all other aspects of school life," the Board noted.

As for its barring of junior high musicians from the high school band, the Board said:

"Programs, activities and the organizations of each school are determined as appropriate to the age of pupils involved. They are and should be different . . .

"Junior high pupils who participate with the senior high school marching band in the fall must attend rehearsals which begin at 7:30 a.m. This puts a drain on their physical resources.

"They arrive late at the junior high school. They must attend some evening rehearsals. As measured against pupil welfare it is much better for pupils to find at each school level a complete program within the school designed for their age group."

The Board also pointed out that it has "legal and moral responsibility for the education program and welfare of the school system" and the obligation to determine the educational programs that shall be maintained.

To the demand of band supporters that the Board not hold faculty members accountable for results and standards attained under new policies, the Board spelled out its position in detail:

"The Board employs professional personnel to carry out educational programs as they have been established. The Board retains the obligation to evaluate the effectiveness of personnel in carrying out these programs.

"If the Board finds that personnel are unable or unwilling to carry out educational programs with effectiveness that have been established, then consideration must be given to personnel changes which are required."

Three members of the instrumental music department have gone on record as opposed to the new policies of the Board, including Dale C. Harris, director of the band and head of the instrumental music department.

The others are instructors Eldon C. Rosegart and Frederick Wiest.

A court reporter sat near the Board president as he read his statement and took down all of the opinions expressed on the band issue.

After the Board position was defined, MacAfee asked:

"Has the Board ever put that statement on record?"

Board member Louis Schimmel shot back with another question: "Are you afraid we'll welsh on our statement, that it's not made in good faith?

"I move this statement be adopted as the policy governing the instrumental music department."

In a roll-call vote, Board members unanimously put themselves on record as subscribing to the statement.

"Just as sure as you think we're wrong, we think we're right."

He said more time had been devoted to the band controversy than any other issue during his 10 years on the Board.

Schimmel said that in his 20 years on the Board he had not seen an issue discussed to such lengths.

ACCEPTS URBAN LEAGUE AWARD — Harrison Munson (left), of 57 Chapman St., accepts the ninth annual Urban League award from board member Dr. Harry L. Riggs, 3499 Franklin Rd., Bloomfield Hills. The award, given to the person or organization contributing most to racial and religious understanding in the community, went to Munson for his academic, athletic, and other extra-curriculum achievements at Pontiac Central High School.

Urban League Honor Goes to Munson

A Pontiac Central High School senior last night received the ninth annual Urban League award presented each year to the person or organization contributing the most to racial and religious understanding in the community.

Harrison Munson, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Smile Munson, 57 Chapman St., was presented the award at the League's annual dinner meeting in Madison Junior High School cafeteria.

In honoring Harrison with its annual award, the Urban League cited his academic, sports and other extra-curriculum achievements.

Harrison, who will graduate next month sharing the top ranking in a class of 345 members, has one "B" on his three-year high school record. The rest of his grades are "A"s. He received the "B" in physics.

WASHINGTON PRESIDENT

While attending Washington Junior High School, he was president of his 9A class, president of the Student Council, excelled in track, football, and basketball, and along with other members of his class, received a complimentary trip to Washington, D. C. as an award for his services to the school.

He was selected a member of the National Honor Society. Harrison excelled in track, football and basketball, and was named to the 1959 all-county and Saginaw Valley teams in basketball.

Harrison, who is a member of the Regional Committee of the 1960 White House conference for children and youth repesenting students of Pontiac public schools, plans to enroll at the University of Detroit on a full scholarship to study engineering.

Marion A. Wright, a retired lawyer, a past president of the Alumni and Law Alumni Associations of the University of South Carolina, and vice president of the Southern Regional Council, spoke to the group on "By-Products of Resistance."

Wright said the contrasts between the North and South are rapidly disappearing because of the movement of industry to the South and a pouring of Southern labor into the northern cities, thus removing sectional differences.

SEGREGATION 'GONE'

Segregation, which developed out of the plantation economy, with its semi-feudal system of share-croppers and tenants has gone forever, Wright said.

This has no place and will not long survive in an industrial society, he said.

On the board of the Urban League, the terms of Robert R. Boyer the Rev. Richard H. Dixon, Norman H. Kuijala, Dr. Harry L. Riggs, Fred V. Haggard and John F. Perdue expired as of last night's meeting.

In accordance with the Constitution, Directors Boyer and Kuijala, having served two terms, were not eligible for renomination.

The group re-elected Haggard, Perdue and Riggs. To fill the three vacancies, William L. Belaney, associate manager of the Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce, Attorney Leon H. Hubbard and the Rev. J. Allen Parker were elected to the Board of Directors.

Teamsters Lose Bid to Sign Attendants

Pontiac employes of the Clark Oil & Refining Corp. have voted 14-2 to stay with the Michigan Gas Attendants Union.

An election conducted by the National Labor Relations Board Wednesday saw Pontiac Teamsters Local 614 defeated in a bid to gain recognition of the employes.

Joseph Cory, president of the gas attendants union, announced terms of a new annual contract signed in the wake of the election. It puts base wages at $1.65 an hour and contains provisions for liberal insurance and hospitalization plans, Cory said.

U.S. Golfers Blank Britons in Cup Play

MUIRFIELD, Scotland (AP)—Amateur golfers from the United States scored a clean 4-0 sweep over Great Britain today in the team matches of the Walker Cup competition. Eight singles matches are scheduled tomorrow.

Charles Coe, playing captain from Oklahoma City, and Billy Joe Patton of Morgantown, N.C., scored the most-one-sided decision of the 36-hole matches contested over the windy Muirfield course. They crushed Michael Bonallack and Arthur Perowne 9 and 8.

The other three matches went down to the wire.

Weather May Cut Crowd at Holland Festival

HOLLAND (AP) — Unseasonal weather threatened attendance marks today at the 30th Tulip Time Festival, now in the second of a three-day run at Holland. Early morning temperatures (7:30 a.m.) stood at 40 degrees.

A parade of more than 3,000 school children costumed in old world Dutch fashions was a feature of the festival scheduled today.

Besides the regular attractions, visitors were offered an added inducement of two evening songests by barbershop quartets at Holland's Civic Center.

About 10,000 spectators, many wearing topcoats against a chill northwest wind gusting up to 25 miles an hour, watched the festival opening yesterday. The temperature was 50 degrees.

A special appearance by the Great Lakes Naval Training Station band was switched from a lakefront outdoor location to the Civic Center because of the weather. In past years, with favorable weather, the festival has attracted an estimated half-million spectators annually.

Birmingham Resident Wylie Groves Suffers Fatal Heart Attack

BIRMINGHAM — Chief planning engineer for Detroit Edison Co., Wylie E. Groves, 63, of 542 Westchester Way, suffered a fatal heart attack late yesterday afternoon at his office in Detroit.

A lifelong resident of the area and a native of Troy Township, Mr. Groves had been with Detroit Edison 40 years.

He retired as president of Birmingham's Board of Education last June. A member of the Board 18 years he served as treasurer during most of that period.

Mr. Groves was a member of First Methodist Church of Birmingham, Birmingham Lodge 44 F&AM and the High 12 Club.

He is survived by his wife Esther, three daughters, Mrs. Ralph Hohman of Forelane Park, N. J., Mrs. Bruce VanDusen of Birmingham and Mary Ellen, a student at Michigan State University.

Other candidates are Francis H. Allen, 1751 Villa Rd.; George W. Coombe Jr., 4412 Parklane Ct., Bloomfield Township; George J. Fulkerson, 3011 Middlebury Lane, Bloomfield Township; Albert H. Guiliani, 1576 Cheltenham Rd.; Richard L. Halstead, 1238 Ceder Ave.; Granville C. Ryan, 550 W. Lincoln Ave.; and Theodore J. Szymke, 1116 Buckingham Rd.

The second vacancy for the four year term was created when Amos Gregory said he would not seek re-election. Gregory had been a member of the Board for 15 years.

Mrs. Dean Beier, 1509 Dorchester Rd., is unopposed for a one year term to which she was appointed last January.

A Birmingham High School boy was awarded the 1959-60 John L. Brumm Scholarship at the Michigan Interscholastic Press Assoc. annual meeting today.

Jack W. Mitchell of 4871 Lock Lomond St., received an amount equal to one semester's tuition at the University of Michigan College of Literature, Science and Arts. He plans to major in journalism.

Birmingham Police, this morning reported, a theft of about $20 and a cash register from the Colonial Cleaners, 1184 E. Woodward Ave.

The cash register, serial number 5,086,487, is valued at $300, police said. Entry was made by breaking a window at the rear of the building.

Members of the Birmingham Society of Women Painters are making the final arrangements today for their 15th annual exhibit.

Mrs. William Lyman, exhibition chairman, said the exhibit will open tomorrow at the Bloomfield Art Assn. Galleries on North Woodward ave.

Open to the public, paintings may be seen from 2 p.m. to 5 p.m. and 7 to 9 p.m. Saturdays and Sundays. The exhibit will run to the end of the month.

Teamsters Threaten State Road Building

DETROIT (AP) — A strike that could idle some 5,000 workers and tie up $100,000,00 in Michigan highway projects was threatened today by the Michigan Conference of Teamsters.

Frank Fitzsimmons, chief negotiator for the conference, said if "real progress" were not made in contract negotiations by noon the Teamsters would strike Monday. The two sides were scheduled to meet with federal and state mediators at 10 a.m.

The conference and the Michigan Road Builders Assn. are bargaining on a new contract to replace one which expired last fall. The conference represents some 1,500 workers.

Fitzsimmons said the conference was asking for higher wages and improved fringe benefits.

A spokesman for the Road Builders Assn. said a Teamsters strike would idle an estimated 5,000 workers and halt construction of nearly

City Hospital Hails Work of Volunteers

Pontiac General Hospital today hailed its vast corps of volunteer workers, who put in thousands of hours a year offering patients care and services.

"The volunteer workers render an invaluable service to our patients and are an integral part of the hospital family," said Harold B. Euler, hospital administrator.

As a part of National Hospital Week, the hospital pointed out that last year more than 1,500 Pontiac area residents gave more than 17,000 volunteer hours to the city-owned hospital.

Volunteers provide services throughout the hospital, Euler said, their duties ranging from comforting the dying and administering to the critically injured to cheering the children and making hospital stays pleasanter for adults.

4 MAJOR SERVICES

Volunteers are gathered into four major services — the Chaplain Corps, the Red Cross First Aid Corps, the Red Cross Grey Ladies and the large Women's Auxiliary.

Last year, 15 volunteer clergymen put in 1,256 hours comforting the sick and giving messages of faith to patients who desired religious aid.

Their work is non-denominational in nature, and takes on a religious aspect only on request of the patients. Otherwise, clergymen help cheer the sick through smiles and words of optimism.

All first-aid instructors, the 26-man corps put in 2,167 hours last year assisting doctors and nurses, helping injury cases in every way except actual administration of medication.

SPECIALLY TRAINED

The Red Cross First Aid Corps went through a special course of instruction at the hospital and their presence means that emergency cases get quicker, more thorough service.

There are 33 members in the Red Cross Grey Ladies, and they donated 5,925 hours to the hospital last year, performing as receptionists, delivering patient mail, handling flowers and providing escort service to and from the patient floors.

The Grey Ladies sometimes are called on to feed weak patients, or to write their letters for them. Some volunteer ladies work in the hospital's central supply headquarters, preparing surgical instruments for sterilization.

The Women's Auxiliary now numbers 431 volunteers, performing services in and out of the hospital. Last year, the auxiliary put in 7,913 volunteer hours.

A list of the auxiliary's nine committees indicates the varied activities of the volunteer group.

Within the hospital, there are the visiting ladies who cheer adult patients who are without friends or relatives.

A group, called "the play ladies," makes it a point to visit with the children during the day, keeping their minds off the tedious process of recuperation.

Knowing that it's the lonely moments before going to sleep that prey most heavily on lonely children's hearts, the auxiliary has a group of storybook ladies, who visit the children's wards after visiting hours, reading the youngsters to sleep.

CIRCULATES BOOKS

Volunteers have two pushcarts that circulate the patient floors every day—one containing free books and magazines, the other supplied with such notions as combs, lipsticks and handkerchiefs.

The Woman's Auxiliary also staffs the hospital's outpatient clinic, providing receptionist service.

One committee sews such hospital supplys as dish towels, diapers and aprons.

Another raises funds to provide nursing scholarships for Pontiac area girls.

Every year, the auxiliary contributes several thousand dollars to the hospital, often for needed equipment, such as five respirators purchased last year.

The auxiliary runs the television-set rental service and is raising funds to begin a gift shop on the hospital's main floor.

Ferndale Man Guilty of Murder in Miami

Smith, a sailor who previously served terms in Michigan prisons, was found guilty Wednesday in the slaying last Oct. 22 of Edward Setnor, 63.

Officials said Smith admitted the Oct. 21 slaying of John T. Stewart, 55, a retired Navy commander but denied killing Setnor.

The jury which found Smith guilty recommended mercy. Circuit Judge Harold R. Vann was expected to sentence Smith to life imprisonment.

It Was a Double Take

TOKYO (UPI)— Police thought they were seeing double when Hagiwara and Mrs. Kameyo Mitsui for shoplifting. The women, both 44 and mother of four children, were twins.

Assails Government, Labor, Big Business

Romney Raps Power Concentration

EAST LANSING (AP)—Excessive power concentration in the federal government, labor and big business "should be identified and halted before it is too late," the president of American Motors Corp. asserts.

George Romney, writing in the Michigan State University publication "Business Topics," says continued growth of federal power is "obliterating state and local government independence, importance and strength."

"Economic motives," he adds, "have corrupted both political parties to the point where they are largely duplicates of each other and are devoid of differences based on political, social or broad economic principles."

Both parties, Romney continues, "have reached the point where their primary effort is to secure immediate victory by meeting the economic demands of as many groups as possible with the least offense to other groups and the general public."

IMPORTANT INFLUENCE

He terms the substitution of union power for business and agricultural power as the most important single political influence in the country and adds:

"We have a Democratic Party that is increasingly dominated by union leaders and a Republican Party that is determined to avoid offense to them, although still largely dominated by big business leaders."

As for the unions themselves, Romney contends that their "excesses and abuses of power endanger the economic future of the United States."

This, he says, is partly due to the national economic policy of "regulating industry on the basis of fostering competition and promoting collective bargaining on the basis of monopoly."

Turning to big business, the auto executive proposes that firms which achieve too large a share of the market should be encouraged to give birth to separate new companies.

As Romney sees it, this would multiply the good administrative practices responsible for the success of the parent firm.

8.3 Per Thousand in '58

Michigan Residents Dying at a Record Low Rate

GRAND RAPIDS (UPI) — State Health Commissioner Dr. Albert E. Heustis said yesterday Michigan people aren't dying as fast as they used to.

Heustis told public health workers attending a three-day conference the death rate last year was 8.3 per thousand population — a record low for the state.

He said 65,460 people died last year compared with 66,435 in 1957.

The total number of deaths has increased since 1950, but not in pace with population growth, Heustis said.

200,000 BABIES

Birth rate has climbed to over 200,000 babies a year and total population is now about eight million, he said.

Local health programs, industrial health and laboratory services have contributed to the decline in death rate.

"However, in other ways we're like a man trying to launch a rocket with a slingshot — we're falling short," Heustis said.

He said 13 counties don't have a full-time health department, 50 per cent of resorts and motels are not health department approved, vaccination programs need improvement and nursing home services are drastically limited.

Food sanitation is a "myth" in some places, Heustis said, and the state's bill for mental patients due to syphilis is nearly two million dollars yearly.

"While we have much good news in health in Michigan, generally we need a stronger health program," Heustis said.

2 Indicted for Link to Poisoned Fish

PHILADELPHIA, Pa. (AP)—Daniel Diorio, president of the Universal Seafood Co., and Noel Lo Castro, a foreman for the firm, have been indicted by a federal grand jury on felony and misdemeanor charges in the distribution of poisoned fish.

The grand jury, which began an investigation last Thursday, returned the indictments Wednesday.

The indictments stem from an investigation started March 25 when flounder allegedly treated with poison sodium nitrate killed three-year-old Dale Kleinschmidt of Haddon Heights, N.J. Hundreds of people in the greater Philadelphia area complained of illness.

U.S. Atty. Harold K. Wood said the indictments charge two felonies in that the use of sodium nitrate was an intentional act as distinguished from mere negligence or carelessness.

Ike, McDonald to Meet

NEW YORK (AP)—President Eisenhower arranged to meet today with David J. McDonald, president of the United Steelworkers Union. However, White House press secretary James C. Hagerty said the meeting would be "just a social call."

Curb on Price Cards at Gas Stations Fails

LANSING (AP) — A bill to regulate price advertising by filling stations was rejected by the Senate yesterday 15 to 13.

In its original form, its backers said it would end fraud in retail gasoline sales by limiting on-premises advertising to small placards placed on gas pumps.

Opponents said the measure would put "independent" stations out of business.

After several amendments, the bill was reduced to what Sen. Edward Hutchinson (R-Fennville) said was gibberish.

Sen. L. Harvey Lodge (R-Oakland), one of 13 senators to vote against the measure, said he would like to help small business and couldn't go along with the bill in its final form.

Dolores del Rio Faints During Television Show

A doctor was summoned to the studios of CMQ-TV to attend the Mexican actress. The cause of her faintness was not announced immediately.

Michael Rennie Sues Actress for Divorce

Rennie charged desertion and asked custody Wednesday of the couple's 5-year-old son, David James. He called Miss McGrath an "unfit mother."

He was ordered to pay $500 a month alimony and support for the child.

Rennie, 49, and Miss McGrath, 39, were married in London in 1946.

The Red Cross was granted a congressional charter in 1905.

Mother, Three Girls Killed in House Fire

EUREKA, Calif. (AP)—A mother and her three young daughters, trapped in an upstairs bedroom, died as fire destroyed their frame home Wednesday night.

James Hallmark, husband and father, leaped from a second-story window and battered down a rear door in an effort to re-enter the house but was driven back by the flames. He was hospitalized with burns and shock.

The victims were Annie Jo Hallmark, in her 20s; Janie, 7; Mary Ann, 4; and Patty, 2.

Policemen Zane Dunbar and Kenny Kilburn were forced back by intense heat when they tried to enter the house.

Fire Chief Allan D. Pettingill said the fire apparently started downstairs.

There are six federal prisons in the United States.

India Seeking Car Its Average Citizen Can Buy

NEW DELHI (AP) — Wanted by the government of India: A good, dependable automobile for the "average Indian family." Should cost no more than $1,000 to $1,200.

The job of filling this bill has been turned over to a special seven-man committee. It is charged with surveying the progress made by India's infant automobile industry and examining the possibility of producing a low-cost automobile in this country.

Automobiles have long been beyond the reach of the average Indian, who still travels by scooter, horsedrawn tonga or bullock cart — or walks.

Under present import restrictions, only three small automobiles, two British and one Italian, may be brought into India. They are assembled in varying degrees with parts manufactured in Indian factories.

But there's a waiting list of months and even years for would-be purchasers.

The committee is to report later this summer.

The Great Clock at Westminister Palace in London — more commonly known throughout the world as "Big Ben" — started ticking on May 31, 1859. Its famous bell, however, didn't begin to toll until the following July 11.

NLRB Will Take Hotel-Motel Cases

WASHINGTON (AP)—The National Labor Relations Board, bowing to a Supreme Court ruling, has decided to take jurisdiction over labor cases involving hotels and motels doing half a million dollars or more gross annual business.

The board has had a traditional rule against taking any hotel-motel cases. But the Supreme Court ruled last year the board could not waive jurisdiction over the entire industry as a class.

There has been speculation as to the possible import of the court ruling as it may apply to professional sports.

The test case began in 1955 when the Hotel & Restaurant Workers Union attempted to organize Miami area hotels.

GE Develops Costly Toaster-Sized TV Set

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (UPI)—A battery-powered television set which is about the size of an automatic toaster has been developed by the General Electric Company but the high cost of production keeps it off the market.

GE says the really portable TV measures 7¼ by 7¼ by 8¾ inches and weighs 10 pounds, but that the cost of the 22 transistors in the chassis prohibits marketing it at "an acceptable consumer price."

Attempts to Discredit FBI and Hoover Fail

It's a sad and sorry admission, but of late there have been a few attempts to "take a crack" at the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

Even the Lord faces a few atheists.

But throughout the years, our FBI has been the open pride and joy of a great nation. Political parties united in standing squarely behind this great organization. Republicans and Democrats alike have always cheered our great inner defense.

However, the FBI's enemies are now sticking their noggins above the horizon and sniping at long range. It revolves around an attempt to smear J. EDGAR HOOVER and his entire setup. Perhaps they want the great HOOVER out now. Perhaps they are merely setting the stage for weakening the Bureau when he steps aside as he will some day. (J. EDGAR is now 64).

Another sector of the opposition lies in the ranks of the Commies who have long since discovered that the FBI is the greatest thorn that exists in that thick Russian flesh. Forever, the Reds have struggled to discredit the Bureau of Investigation.

And well they should.

No other entity has done as much to protect America against the machinations of these slimy fifth columnists. They have been unrooted and exposed all over the nation. They've squirmed repeatedly as the FBI strips and rips them naked.

All hail a great Institution.

And a great Chief!

Dominican Republic Rule Strictly Trujillo

The original nepotist is Generalissimo RAFAEL L. TRUJILLO who will have completed 29 years of iron-fisted rule of the Dominican Republic this Saturday.

Talking about favoritism, he has so many cousins and relatives on the government payroll, including his sons, that it runs into dozens. You could say without a qualm that TRUJILLO has done a remarkable job of keeping the country in the family.

Brother Hector is president of the republic.

Jose, a nephew, is secretary of defense.

Luis, another nephew, is secretary of war and aviation.

Rhadames, a second son was a major at 13. (Rafael, Jr., was a general at 9).

Even the in-laws seem to get into the act. PORFIRIO RUBIROSA in between marriages and flirtations, has served as a diplomat. He was briefly married to daughter FLOR DE ORO.

This power monopoly entitles TRUJILLO to the title, Benefactor of the Fatherland, bestowed by the Dominican Congress, which also thoughtfully renamed historic Santo Domingo as Ciudad Trujillo.

Looking at the serious aspects of this dictatorship makes one shudder to think of this absolute hold on a country. All the earmarks of a revolution are beginning to shape up in this Caribbean stronghold.

Post Office Clamping Down on Foul Mailings

"Pornographic" is the four dollar word the literary world uses for describing this type of scum but it's the same despicable thing, whatever terms you employ.

When anything of this nature is sent through the mails, the Post Office Department and the United States Government are interested. In fact, they're interested to the point of prescribing heavy fines and jail sentences.

Postmaster Robert C. Miller says there is a multimillion dollar traffic in obscene pictures and written material. The worst feature lies in the fact that the purveyors of this dirty stuff are now establishing a market among high school pupils. Peddling it under the counter to adults wasn't enough to satisfy the vultures who now start swooping down on the younger generations.

Delayed Spring

Readers Report on Absence of Real Seasonal Weather

Politics: In which too many are machine-made, rather than self-made.

The best gardening suggestion I've heard comes from

of Keego Harbor, who wishes the weather man had a green thumb.

The annual tulip display at White Chapel Memorial Park, nine miles southeast of Pontiac, is being held up by the late spring, according to who says the blossoms are slow in maturing. Due notice of when the 100,000 blossoms are at their best will be given in this column.

Roscoe Hoyt

of Birmingham, says everything was ready for it—except the tulips.

Grower of several varieties of peonies for many years,

Mrs. August Heilman

of Waterford usually has them at their best for Memorial Day, but reports that this year it may be the Fourth of July.

"This is the first time in 30 years," phones

Gerry Kuhlmann

of Rochester, "that I didn't have fresh radishes from my garden by May 15."

Mrs. Onalee Frostman

of Auburn Heights—the weather man forgot to defrost. OK, Mrs. Frostman; there's something in a name.

On account of the late season, and another reason, of Commerce has decided not to plant any oats. A pair of robins built a nest in his grain drill.

George Fernley

Slight Handicap

David Lawrence Says:

Free German Elections Key Issue

GENEVA — The champions of freedom have told the dictatorship of the Soviet Union that there is no substitute for free and uncoerced elections as a means of determining the true will of a people.

Germany can be reunited and the City of Berlin can be a "united city" but only if the heavy hand of totalitarianism is is lifted and the people are permitted to choose their own form of government.

LAWRENCE

This, in essence, is the big issue here at the conference of the foreign ministers of Britain, France, the United States and the Soviet Union. This is the real road to peace—the way to get rid of festering sores that slowly but surely bring on the conditions out of which world wars are born.

The so-called "package" plan isn't properly described if by this is meant that it is a take-it-or-leave-it proposition and that its several successive stages cannot be altered by sincere and honest negotiations.

But its basic principle is unalterable. Either the status of a conquered province subject indefinitely to the military power of the conqueror is to remain, or else some progress is to be achieved toward the grant of full sovereignty to all of Germany as a unit.

For a long time the position of the Western Allies has been that there should be free elections. Former Secretary of State John Foster Dulles held out for this objective, but his position was misconstrued as meaning that no step could be taken toward reunifying Germany except by a free election.

Actually, he pointed out a few months ago that free elections could be a separate stage and that other steps could be taken first.

FOUR STAGES

This is why the new plan is separated into four stages. It is a well-thought-out formula which permits the two German governments to get together through a committee and work out electoral laws which can be submitted to all the German people for a vote in the next two and a half years.

It provides for the making of a new constitution. It provides also for the meeting of a committee or council of West German and East German representatives to develop their own way of setting up election machinery and a unified system of government.

This is an enlightened approach to a complex problem. Berlin's status becomes secondary in the sense that things remain about as they are during the transition period, but with better and clearer definitions about the access of Allied troops to the city.

Also there are provisions for the gradual reduction of the size of the armies and a proposal for the withdrawal of any foreign troops later if the unified government doesn't want them there.

The basic principle is one of volition. Theoretically, no government allows foreign troops on its soil unless consent is given.

If a reunited Germany wants to join the Warsaw Pact dominated by the Soviets or to affiliate with the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, as the West German government does today, this would be a choice which the all-German government would be free to make.

Throughout the Iron Curtain countries, where the fires of freedom still burn in the hearts of the enslaved, the Western plan is more than a ray of hope.

It is the symbol of earnest desire not to surrender to the will of the tyrant but to hold high the banner of freedom and free elections. For in that direction alone lies the road to reduced armaments and the prevention of another world war.

Many a citizen in the Soviet Union as well as in the so-called satellite countries is secretly praying that some day a miracle will happen and free elections will become available to them, too. For when peoples rule, there is no chance of war. Only dictatorships cause wars.

THOUGHTS FOR TODAY

For ye know how that afterward, when he would have inherited the blessing, he was rejected: for he found no place of repentance, though he sought it carefully with tears. — Hebrews 12:17.

Repentance, to be of any avail, must work a change of heart and conduct.—Theodore L. Cuyler.

The Country Parson

"There are more people who will direct others in the way they should go than will accompany them."

Dr. William Brady Says:

Good Game of Lawn Bowls Best Cure for Flabbiness

These days, it seems, everybody wants to relax.

For people who do honest work (with their muscles) relaxation is fine — say for 15 minutes mid-morning and 15 minutes mid-afternoon or thirty minutes at lunch time.

DR. BRADY

For people who live without working — students, professional people, white collar employes, housewives who hire maids, cleaners, laundresses, etc. to work for them, parasites who live by the generosity or bounty of others — relaxation is very bad medicine.

Muscle relaxation, that is. It compounds what already ails them: flabbiness.

I still believe the ideal diversion for people who do no honest work (students, teachers, doctors, pastors, lawyers, dentists, light housekeepers, white collar workers in general) is about two miles of oxygen on the hoof two or three times a day. Try walking instead of riding to and from office, school or shop.

Unfortunately only a few can afford to spend two hours walking every day. Moreover traffic hazards in cities makes walking so dangerous it is no longer enjoyable.

GOOD EXERCISE

I'd say a game of bowls is equivalent to a two mile walk. Maybe a little better, considering the extra muscular effort of bending to pick up your bowl and crouching to deliver it.

Bowls, says Webster, is "an ancient game, popular in Great Britain, played with biased balls on a plot of greensward, the aim being to roll them near a stationary ball called a jack."

Lawn bowling would be infinitely better for professional and business people than the vicarious tingle and make-believe diversion they get from watching professionals play.

The mild exercise of lawn bowling is but a minor feature of the effect of the game on vite and longevity.

We hear a good deal, a good deal too much, I think, about new drugs called tranquillizers — I call 'em dope that is just a little more subtle than morphine, heroin or barbiturate.

However, I do heartily recommend one tranquilizer, which is not only 99.44 per cent effective but especially beneficial to victims of cardio-vascular degeneration (heart and artery trouble of insidious development).

Yup — you guessed it: lawn bowling.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Why Must Wives Always Submit?

Notice the challenges offered by the cultured women at Dr. Rang's reception for me. They knew that it isn't smart to ask a husband to curb his stomach hunger, yet they seemed to think another basic appetite (the erotic) can be stopped at will. Wives, it makes a happier home when you furnish your mates plenty of erotic as well as gastric calories.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE B-435: Dr. and Mrs. Robert Rang graciously had a reception for me at their home following my evening address at Washington, Indiana, last winter.

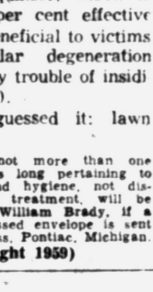
And a crowd of wives called me into the kitchen, saying they wanted to argue about some points I had made in my speech.



DR. CRANE

"Dr. Crane," they began, "you said that a wife hasn't as much erotic hunger as her husband. Well, we agree with that.

"But you further stated that a modern wife must function as a one-woman harem in order to keep her husband devoted through their Golden Wedding Day.

"Why do you expect us wives to make all the sacrifices for a happy home?

SEX DIFFERENCES

"Why don't you expect your husbands to curb their stomach appetites," I replied, "and remain content on 2,500 food calories per day, instead of their normal 3,500 calories?

"Just tell them to use more restraint and learn to live on short rations at the dinner table. Well, you know what would happen, don't you? They'd grow irritable and snarlish.

"Not only would they snap at you and become caustic, but they'd extend their ire to your children. Soon the youngsters would be crying because of daddy's harsh remarks and bitter tongue.

"So you smart wives know it is wise to feed your husbands their full 3,500 calories at the dinner table.

"In fact, you garnish the foods, even scallop the edges of the grapefruit and constantly try to fantalize our male appetites with new recipes, till you coax us into adding a roll of excess upholstery around our equators via your tempting viands.

"So why think mankind's second basic appetite can be curbed or restrained without producing a vile tempered mate?

"Basic human appetites may be temporarily sidetracked, but they will ultimately break forth, like an irresistible force.

"And males show this ill effect via peeping Tom behavior, pornographic art, burlesque shows, or clandestine affairs, etc.

"So it is much simpler just to feed your mate his basic requirements of both gastric as well as erotic calories.

"Then you'll have him purring contentedly. He'll be a devoted husband and think you are wonderful.

"Better yet, he will not project his ill will and ire upon the children. So you wives will not only insure yourself a happier marriage but will also guarantee your youngsters a much pleasanter domestic environment."

WOMEN'S CHARM

It may seem that I pick on you wives excessively, but that's because you are more scientific than men.

Even though a wife is the best cook in town, she still retains

Men tend to be more egotistical. They figure they know it all, so why study the methods of other operators!

You women since the beginning of history have been the chief custodians of culture and morality, music and education. You make up 90 per cent of the attendance at PTA meetings, music clubs, etc.

But don't try to ration your mate in the erotic realm! Send for my booklet "Sex Problems in Marriage." enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus 20 cents (non-profit). It's ideal insurance against divorce.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 4c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

'Supreme Court Assumes Powers of the Legislature

The U. S. Supreme Court has rewritten a section of the Constitution and has violated and superseded the Fourth Amendment, therefore violating the private and individual rights of every American citizen. They've done this by passing a law whereby your home can be searched without due process of law without a warrant.

When did we give the Supreme Court permission to be a legislative body, to pass our laws or to abridge or supersede the Constitution? That's up to Congress and individual states.

If the Supreme Court is allowed to get away with this deal, then God help our country in the future. It's time for Congress to start an investigation of the Supreme Court's recent decisions. Thank heavens the American Bar Association is beginning to get upset by this decision.

'All Right, Smarty, What's Due Next?'

Someone said in Voice of the People that spring would be wonderful because winter was so severe. Summer is here in six weeks and spring is more than half gone.

While Sol Hurok and the National Council for Soviet-American Friendship dine and feast Moscow's Bolshoi Ballet in New York, many innocent, forgotten Americans are suffering and dying in Russian prisons in the Arctic.

Suggests Method to Help Business

A good step to encourage more commerce in downtown Pontiac would be to start at once in our idle parking lots with a straight ten cents charge for any 24 hours or part of it, also ten cents per stop up to an hour on our streets. Then put a group of strict traffic policemen on the alert to record and place charges of 25 cents a minute on double parkers.

Let them stand as stern as a Big League umpire. All complaints would be settled in our local traffic court. What do you think?

'Greedy Females Should Stay Home'

Having read P. O. Clerk's recent letter, I agree. Woman was made for the home, not for General Motors nor a full time job that a young couple could make a living and get by on.

Shame on you greedy females. You want your job that some man needs badly or perhaps buy that new car while other men are out of work, out of unemployment benefits and unable to pay insurance any more.

You want everything while 5,000 families in this area are losing everything, including their old car. It must be nice to have two paychecks, put your three boys to college, but how about the other guy? Why don't you quit and go home?

Don't Expect Very Much From Geneva, Summit

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—It is only realistic to expect very little from the foreign ministers meeting in Geneva or, if it is held later, from a summit meeting between President Eisenhower and Premier Khrushchev.

The following possibilities seem all that can be expected from all the discussions for a long time:

1. The West and the Soviet Union eventually may reach some agreement to stop nuclear weapons testing to avoid fallout dangers; and they may find some way of easing their dispute over West Berlin.

2. If the talks can continue without an explosion, there may be what diplomats like to call an easing of tensions. That's a phrase made of rubber. It could turn out to be real and helpful. It could prove to be a dangerous myth.

Here are some reasons for not expecting sensational agreements, starting with the broadest problem — disarmament — and going on to the discussions at Geneva now among the foreign ministers of the United States, the Soviet Union, Britain, France.

A truly broad disarmament agreement seems out of the question for years. The West is hugely outnumbered by the Communist world in military manpower. The only thing the West has to offset the numerical superiority is nuclear weapons.

So long as the West and the Soviets retain nuclear weapons, talk of a general disarmament is more idealistic than practical. But isn't it possible the two sides may agree on banning nuclear weapons, too? Not for a long, long time.

Nuclear testing may be detected. But scientists now have no way of detecting stockpiles of nuclear weapons which a nation wants to conceal. So even if both sides agreed never to use nuclear weapons in war, this would be the result:

Neither side could feel safe about the promise unless both sides destroyed their nuclear weapon supplies. But neither side could be sure such a promise was carried out, when neither can tell whether the other cheated and has secretly stored such weapons for future use.

At Geneva both sides are making proposals, each with its own interests in mind:

The Soviets want the West to recognize the Communist government of East Germany as the legitimate government of that country. The West refuses.

Such recognition would suit the Soviets because it would strengthen the Communist grip on East Germany and all the other European satellites. Any hope the people in those countries still had for freedom from Red rule would be badly diminished.

But the West wants to keep hope alive in the satellite peoples. Further, the big Western powers are allied with West Germany which wants the two Germanys united and hopes such unification will mean a Germany linked with the West.

At Geneva the West unveiled a program for eventual unification, with the people of the two Germanys voting on the kind of government they want.

The West seems to have no doubt of the outcome—a government linked with the West—or it wouldn't have made such an offer. Further, in any voting the West Germans would outnumber the East Germans by better than two to one.

Khrushchev already has said he wouldn't let Communist East Germany go capitalist. So while there may be a lot of gumbeating at Geneva over the Western proposal — which the Soviets have scorned — the proposal seems doomed.

The Soviets want the Western Big Three to get their troops out of West Berlin. No wonder. That part of Berlin is 100 miles within Communist East Germany. It's the most real and advanced Western outpost inside the Communist world.

It's a constant beacon of hope for East Germans who want to flee to the West. It dispels any doubts of those East Germans that the West is standing fast against total Soviet domination of East Germany.

But the West insists, for the reasons given, plus others, that it won't pull its troops out of Berlin. And the deadlock remains.

Lonesome Prisoner Sentenced 30 Years

STE. GENEVIEVE, Mo. (AP)—A young killer who got so lonesome for his mom on Mother's Day that he broke jail to see her has been sentenced to 30 years in prison for slaying his uncle.

Billy Glenn Newhouse, 28, of Desloge, Mo., pleaded guilty to first degree murder Thursday for the rifle killing of James L. Huskey, 58.

Newhouse and three other prisoners tunneled out of the 100-year-old St. Francois County jail in Farmington last Sunday. Newhouse surrendered nine hours later, glibly explaining, "I was lonesome for mom on Mother's Day."

Two of the other three escapees are at large. The third also gave himself up.

Boy, Rejected by Mates, Steals From 18 Homes

LOS ANGELES (AP)—"I could not make friends with the other boys," the 13-year-old said.

"I thought if I could get money I could buy them things, and then they would like me."

That, the boy told police, was why he stole from 18 houses. His loot included radios, watches, clocks, knives, a pistol and $143.50 in cash.

He and another 13-year-old who helped him sell the loot were released Thursday to their parents' custody.

Wood Gives More Space

Wood frame walls, because they are less bulky than brick or concrete, actually provide extra living space inside the home. The buyer of a home 40 by 30 feet (outside dimensions) gains up to 40 square feet of interior space, says the West Coast Lumbermen's Association, when building his home with wood frame walls. That's enough for an extra bathroom, or two closets.

Japan Tells Russia It Cannot Be Neutral

TOKYO (AP)—Japan today told the Soviet Union it cannot adopt a policy of nutrality in world affairs.

The Japanese government rejected Soviet accusations that nuclear arms have been brought into Japan.

It said Japan's defense forces will not be armed with nuclear weapons and the government "will not consent to the introduction of such weapons into the country."

The foreign ministry delivered a note to Soviet Ambassador Nikolai Federenko, replying to a Soviet note of May 4. The reply accused the Soviets of trying to interfere in Japan's internal affairs.

The reply also said a Soviet bid for a nuclear free zone in Asia is an issue that should be settled by the nuclear powers — not Japan.

The Japanese reply also rejected the Soviet contention that the U.S.-Japan security treaty is a treaty is wholly defensive. treaty os wholly defensive.

Shotgun Blasts Rock Maine Town

Hurts 2; Kills Wife, Chief, Self

LIMERICK, Maine (AP) — A brooding businessman shot and killed his wife and then killed a police chief and wounded two state troopers before his suicide ended a five-hour gun battle with nearly 100 officers Thursday night.

Gordon E. Hamlin, 51, upset over the recent loss of his furniture manufacturing business, shot himself as police closed in on his cellar holdout with bullets and tear gas.

Also dead were Hamlin's wife, Rose, 46, and Westbrook Police Chief Pierre Harnois, 34, both killed by shotgun blasts.

State Trooper Stephen A. Regina, 42, of Saco, was critically wounded by Hamlin's shotgun in the stomach and leg. His name is on the danger list in a Portland hospital.

The scene of the blistering shooting was a quiet Maine crossroads settlement by an old mill pond about a mile from the center of Limerick, a village of 1,000 population 30 miles east of Portland.

Witnesses and police pieced together this story:

At 4:15 p.m. as Rose Hamlin crossed the street to visit Mrs. Jessie Mitchell, Hamlin shouted to her from his front door and fired once with a shotgun.

FIRES AT WIFE

"He greeted me with both barrels of the gun," Parker said.

Although wounded, Parker radioed for reinforcements and stayed to assist arriving troopers, city police and game wardens.

The officers stationed themselves behind their cruisers and in houses on each side of Hamlin's home, firing with rifles and pistols.

They could see Hamlin from time to time ducking from one window to another as he fired his shotgun.

FIRST CHIEF

Harnois, a former FBI agent and Westbrook's first full-time police chief, was killed as he raced toward the house with a tear gas bomb in his hand.

Regina was shot as he approached the house from the opposite side.

Both lay sprawled on the lawn for nearly an hour before troopers could drag them out of range. Harnois was pronounced dead at the scene.

When darkness fell, searchlights were brought to the scene to light up the Hamlin house.

At one point, a tear gas grenade set fire to the roof. Firefighters put out the small blaze and then trained their hoses into a basement window where Hamlin now was holed out.

As water streamed into the cellar, Hamlin shot himself in the chest.

Medical Examiner Stephen A. Cobb said Hamlin had time to put the shotgun on a shelf before he slumped dead in several inches of water.

The Hamlins' daughter, Judy, 16, was at a baseball game when the shooting started. She is the salutatorian in her high school graduating class.

Friends said Hamlin had been despondent in recent months because of the failure of his small furniture plant in nearby Sanford.

Eisenhower Doctrine Loses Iraqi Ties

BAGHDAD, Iraq (AP)—Iraq is officially cutting all association with the Eisenhower doctrine, which offers aid to Middle East countries threatened by Communist aggression.

Premier Abdel Karim Kassem said Thursday the Communists were his friends but that he wants to remain friendly with Western nations too.

Kassem's announcement that Iraq will withdraw from the Eisenhower doctrine came as a surprise because the doctrine has been considered a dead issue here since Iraq quit the Baghdad Pact.

U.S.-Iraq relations were ruffled by an Iraqi detective who invaded the U.S. embassy on Monday to drag out an Iraqi seeking a job.

Good Food Can Breed Delinquent Youth

NEW YORK (AP)—Human nutrition has reached the point where experts feel, that by controlled feeding, a population can be matured earlier, enjoy a longer prime of life, or extend its actual longevity.

But which of these three goals does a society want?

"They are quite different things," pointed out Dr. Robert S. Goodhart, scientific director of the National Vitamin Foundation, a nonprofit organization.

"What is optimal nutrition? It depends on what you want.

"If we and the Russians are engaged in trying to build up big armies, we can do this by maturing our youths faster, but they'll be dying of coronary attacks and other degenerative diseases in their 40s and 50s.

"The earlier an animal matures the earlier it dies."

Dr. Goodhart said it would be possible to add potential years to a child's life by keeping him thin and small and postponing the development of his maturity as long as possible. But the price would be a lowered vitality.

"Later I myself would probably want to take him out and shoot him, because he would be useless to society," he said.

"The idea of merely living as long as possible is, it seems to me, a lousy ambition."

Dr. Goodhart feels the average child fares best if fed a diet that allows him to mature at his own pace rather than one that spurs him into a forced growth.

"A lot of us are concerned," he said, "about mothers who worry about the fact their child is smaller—even though he may be actually healthier—than the boy next door.

"In trying to make him grow taller by overstuffing him with calories and proteins, these mothers merely may be bringing him to his final stature.

"The question is whether forced-growing does anything more than bring on this earlier maturity."

The rise in juvenile delinquency, Dr. Goodhart says, may be, in part at least, explained by a conflict in what American society expects of its young people.

"We are feeding them diets that mature them earlier physically and mentally," he said, "but at the same time we are trying to keep them children longer emotionally.

"This is particularly true in the upper classes, which want to send their sons and daughters through college and don't like them to get married until they are well into their 20s."

This, he thinks, creates an area of explosive tension.

"At present we are trying to keep them immature and dependent, while maturing them earlier physically and mentally.

"These things fight each other. The kid is unhappy. The family is unhappy.

VFW Posts to Hold District Meeting

Delegates of 35 Oakland County VFW Posts in the Fifth District, Department of Michigan, will meet Sunday at the New Baltimore Post 7573 for the annual Spring Encampment. Fifth District Commander Eugene Poker of Roseville, will preside at the 2 p.m. business meeting.

The Ladies Auxiliary will start the all-day session with a membership breakfast at 10. Membership awards will be made at that time.

Fifth District President Mrs. Forrest Sims of Walled Lake will preside at the 1:30 p.m. business meeting. Nomination and election of officers will be the main order of business at the afternoon meeting of both post and auxiliary delegates.

A husband and wife team, Mr. and Mrs. William Mader of Royal Oak Post 1669, is expected to head the Fifth District for the ensuing year.

SPACE TO PLAY — It's all out for Mars at a modernistic playground in Hannover, West Germany, where these kids have some outer-space fun. They whiz down a sliding chute which has been updated by the addition of a rocket ship at the grounds of the German Flower Show.

Feels People Should Know

Urges Germ War Facts

The scientists could be the victims of germ or biological warfare. The deadly capsule could have been planted by a saboteur.

Science fiction? No, according to researchers at the University of Iowa.

In fact, they said, mass exterminatoin or incapacitation could be carried out anywhere in the world to any group of people, animals or plants.

SECRET REPORT

This was the substance of a secret report which the researchers made to a group of top-echelon Civil Defense workers recently.

The report was delivered by Dr. Wayburn S. Jeter, associate professor in the school's department of bacteriology, who said he was not trying to cause panic, but was merely explaining the real potentialities of biological warfare.

Jeter pointed out that germs of varying intensities could be spread in an infinite number of ways. They could be hidden in a ventilating system or dropped into a city's water supply.

Victims could also be attacked through the food they eat, especially, if crops are dusted with disease-bearing organisms. Certain crops could also be killed if other types of blights or rust were introduced into the soil or air.

Infected insects, Jeter said, could be cast into the air in an almost invisible cloud by a plane or submarine and cause widespread sickness or death.

The germs, Jeter said, could also produce three different effects. One type could cause quick death to large numbers of people. Another type might bring about a prolonged illness with a low fatality rate. A third might produce temporary illness.

'PARTICULARLY SUITED'

He explained that the first would probably be used only in case of an all-out war, while the others "are particularly suited to sabotage," especially in industrialized areas.

The scientists said the U. S. must carry on extensive research in order to be able to retaliate against germ warfare as well as to construct a defense against it.

The problem of defense is a big one, he said, because of the different ways the germs could be spread and the fact that many carrier agents are odorless, tasteless and invisible.

The best defense, he said, would require the quickest possible knowledge that a biological attack had been launched so the germ could be identified.

Another defense might be widespread use of isolation and quarantine measures to cut down the spread of the disease.

Other suggested defenses include germ-proof masks, protective clothing and safety shelters — none of which have yet been tested under actual germ-warfare conditions.

BIGGEST PROBLEMS

But Jeter said the biggest problem in defense is against germs spread through the air.

Normal sanitary measures can control the transmission of water and food-borne germs, he said, but these would be "extremely weak" when it came to handling air-launched bacteria.

Jeter maintained that one of the best methods of defense would be to educate the American people now to the danger of germ warfare so they won't panic if it ever happens.

Poor Thinking in Youth Called Accident Key

ITHACA, N. Y. (UPI)—A psychologist says poor thinking tends to cause accidents among young people while a lack of coordination and dexterity leads to mishaps among older folk.

John Whitfield, a visiting professor from England, says a study of accident-proneness among a group of miners found a "distinct difference" between younger and older workers.

Melting Snow Means Extra Cheer for Him

WOLCOTT, N. Y. (UPI)—Sunshine melting the winter snowbanks around Wolcott brought an extra lift to George Newbury.

Chester Capron happened on the wallet Newbury lost in the snow more than four months earlier and returned it to the owner. The overjoyed Newbury found the contents of $150 still intact.

GOP Releases Delegate Total

1,325 to Have Vote at 1960 National Confab in Chicago

WASHINGTON (AP) — The 1960 Republican National Convention in Chicago will have 1,325 delegates with one vote each under a tentative apportionment worked out by the party's national committee.

This is just two more than the 1956 convention roster. It was computed on the basis of rules adopted at the last convention.

The 1960 total could be increased by 6 to 1,331 if Hawaii, treated as a state in the computation, elects a Republican senator or governor in its first state election next July 28.

Democrats will not determine their 1960 convention strength until next fall. Their national committee is authorized to fix the basis of the apportionment, in contrast to the Republicans who must use a formula worked out by the last national convention.

Here's the way the Republicans are allocating to each state delegates to their 1960 convention:

Delegates at large: 4 (2 for each senator); 2 for each representative at large; 6 bonus delegates for each state casting a majority for the GOP candidate for president in 1956 or, failing that, electing a Republican senator or governor then or in a later election.

District delegates: 1 from each congressional district casting at least 2,000 votes for the Republican nominee for president in 1956 or for the Republican candidate for congress in the last preceding congressional election; 1 additional delegate for each district casting at least 10,000 votes for the same candidates as above.

Under the district delegate rule, designed to stimulate GOP voting in the South, only two Southern states will fall to get their full quota of 2 delegates each per congressional district in 1960. Mississippi will have only 1 delegate each from 4 of its 6 districts; and South Carolina will have only 1 from 3 of its 6 districts.

Mississippi's 1-vote districts are the first, second, third and fifth. South Carolina's single vote districts are the third, fifth and sixth.

The following increases in delegates, compared with 1956, are shown: Alabama 1; Alaska 2; Georgia 1; Louisiana 6; West Virginia 6; District of Columbia 2. The decreases are: Hawaii 4 (this could be wiped out in the July election); Mississippi 3; Missouri 6; South Carolina 3.

Forty states supervise the accounting practices of one or all of the sub-government agencies.

PLAN BENEFIT CONCERT — Mrs. Carl Masters (left), president of the Wilson School Parent-Teacher Assn., discusses plans with three teachers for the concert by the 200 voice chorus of the New Bethel Baptist Church of Detroit slated at Pontiac Northern High School Sunday. Castro Group Easing Up on Executions?

HAVANA (AP)—Nine days without announcement of an execution anywhere in Cuba has aroused belief that Fidel Castro's revolutionary government has ordered a halt to the shooting of war criminals.

The last announced execution was May 5 at Bayamo, Oriente Province, by unofficial count the 551st collaborator of Fulgencio Batista's regime to fall before revolutionary firing squads.

The government usually has been fairly prompt in reporting executions. There have been no suggestions that announcements are being withheld.

During te past nine days, however, military tribunals sentenced to death at least five persons adjudged guilty of war crimes. Havana newspapers have speculated that these sentences may be commuted to 30-year prison terms.

Castro said in a recent speech, "The military tribunals have completed their job." He said civil courts soon would replace the military tribunals although he did not give a date.

Brig. Hernando Hernandez, Batista's National Police chief, was sentenced Thursday to 30 years in prison for murder and torture of anti-Batista people. Previous convictions on such charges have meant death.

Hundreds of civilians in Havana jails are awaiting trial for various offenses. The newspaper Informacion recently said there were about 1,000 in La Cabana prison but did not specify how many were classified as war criminals.

The revolutionary government has turned its main attention to getting the country on its feet economically.

Castro has called a meeting of his cabinet atop the mountain birthplace of his revolt in the Sierra Maestra Sunday to dramatize the formal launching of the agrarian reform program. The area is reachable only on foot or horseback.

The prime minister said the program would have an initial working capital of 75 million dollars with 20 million coming from confiscated funds and properties of Batista and his collaborators.

Castro said on a television interview Thursday night he is taking one million dollars with him to the cabinet meeting, to begin handing out loans at 3 per cent interest the minute the new agrarian reform law is promulgated. Under the program tenant farmers and other landless peasants will be installed on uncultivated lands owned by the government or seized from big landlords. The government has promised to compensate the landlords but has not announced the maximum unworked holding they will be allowed to retain.

Held High Court Posts in Desegregation Edict

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Members of the Supreme Court at the time of the desegregation decision of May 17, 1954, were:

Chief Justice Earl Warren and Associate Justices Hugo Black, Felix Frankfurter, William O. Douglas, Harold H. Burton, Tom C. Clark, Stanley Reed, Sherman Minton and Robert Jackson.

Grows Beard to Sell Story to Hollywood

TYRONZA, Ark. (UPI) — Wong Ming Moon, a 72-year-old retired businessman from the West Coast, spent 31 months growing a beard and fingernails up to three and a half inches long so he could look the part of a Chinese hermit.

The hermit is the leading character in a story called "The Recluse" which Wong himself wrote. He hopes to sell the tale to Hollywood and wants to play the leading part himself.

During a recent visit with his son here, Wong explained that he came to the U. S. from Canton, China, in 1922 and entered the import-export business in Seattle.

After retiring, he settled down in Ventura, Calif., where he spent two years writing his story—in Chinese. A friend translated it into English.

Wong said he grew the king-sized fingernails only "for fun" since they are not really vital to his story. He said they hinder him in only one respect—he can't untie his shoelaces and had to learn to manipulate a pair of large tweezers to accomplish that chore.

It's been said that a woman marries the first time for love, the second time for companionship, the third time for support and the rest of the times from habit . . . Many people (notes Jack Herbert) used to think television was impossible. Some people, watching the summer replacement shows, still do. —Earl Wilson.

One Glassy-Eyed Look Wins Lawyer His Case

SAN ANTONIO, Texas (AP) — Attorney A. A. Semaan, defending salesman accused of drunken driving, heard a policeman say Thursday the defendant was "glassy-eyed" when arrested.

Semaan smiled and asked, "Would you say I was glassy-eyed, too?" The policeman said he wouldn't.

"That's funny," Semaan said. "I do have a glass eye."

PCH Journalists Attend Press Meeting at U. of M.

By BARBARA GRIFFIN

Twenty-five Pontiac Central High School journalists are in Ann Arbor today attending a Michigan Interscholastic Press Assn. meeting at the University of Michigan.

The students are members of the staffs of the Tomahawk, the school newspaper, and the Quiver, the yearbook.

The annual spring conference is held for high school newspaper and yearbook staff members throughout Michigan. Here, students are aided in preparing themselves for next year's staffs and awards are given to those who have done outstanding work on the present staffs.

Attending are Vicki Annas, Linda Crain, Marjorie Crowder, Donna Douglas, Sharon Drew, Dianne Flicker, Susan Katzenberg, Sue Koprince, Jim Moyer, Tom Nicholls, Dick Reynolds and Dick Rogers.

CANADIAN TRIP

Sixty of Iama C. Hook's Latin students will be heading for Ipperwash Beach in Canada early tomorrow morning. The combined classes, along with Virginia Luther and Miss Hook, will be going by bus to Miss Hook's cabin, Anchor-Lee on Lake Huron where they will spend the day. They will return to Pontiac late tomorrow night.

Money for the food and bus was raised by selling candy. High candy salesmen were Sandra Curran, Connie Crocker, Cynthia Hansz and Becky Bryce. Next Saturday a similar trip will be taken by Miss Hook's world history class and the remaining Latin students.

The Pontiac Central High School Girls' Recreation Assn. will sponsor a playday tomorrow afternoon in the boys and girls gyms, field and pool.

The girls athletic clubs from area schools have been invited to participate in volleyball, softball, badminton, smash, shuffleboard, table tennis, swimming and other recreation from 12 to 4 p.m. at Central.

Catherine Craig, advisor of GRA, Marjorie Jackson and Nelma Wood, PCH physical education instructors, will supervise the games.

After a dip in the pool, refreshments will be served. Chairman of the refreshment committee is Alice Rives. Jeanne Glisky is program chairman.

This week, a clothing drive is being held at PCH. Students have been urged to bring all usable clothing, winter or summer.

There is competition among homerooms as to which room weighs in the highest amount. High homeroom has a choice of a theater party on school time or one dollar in cash to each member contributing clothing. Second and third place homerooms will be awarded ice cream treats.

The 14 new cheerleaders and three yell leaders are spending the weekend at Caseville where Mrs. Jean Smith, cheerleading advisor, and her husband own cottages. They will be chaperoned by Mr. and Mrs. Smith and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Rodal.

Pontiac Central's new foreign exchange student for fall has been announced by the American Field Service His name is Helmut Gaisbauer. He is from Vienna, Austria.

Helmut is 18 years old and enjoys all sports, piano and photography. Arriving in the United States in August, he will stay with the family of Greg Uligian during his stay here.

Next year's Senior Girls Ensemble has been announced by Doreen Voltmann, director of Senior Girls. This ensemble has engagements for luncheon clubs, hospital groups and other organizations, besides singing in all the PCH vocal concerts.

One hundred and twenty of the Boys' Glee Club and their director, Doreen Voltmann, went by bus to Warren yesterday to sing at assemblies at two high schools there. The Senior Boys Ensemble also played three numbers.

Waterford Seniors Sprucing Up for Final Fling Tomorrow—the Prom

By JEAN REXFORD

Tomorrow night will be a big occasion for Waterford Township High School seniors. It's time for that long-awaited senior prom.

Today, students rushed home from classes to make last minute preparations for the dance including the necessary shining of shoes and ironing of formals.

"Clair de Lune" is the theme of the dance to be held in the gymnasium of the John D. Pierce Junior High School. Fred Netting and his orchestra will provide the music from 9 p.m. to 12:30 a.m.

Other committeemen include Ruthann Vaughn, band; Martie Haviland, tickets and invitations, and Karen Anderson, refreshments; Terry Ball and John Pilkinton, cleanup, and Judy Moran and Karen Morgan, publicity.

Others are Donna Deaton, decorations; Rene Cook, cafeteria decorations, and Marvin Bracket, stage decorations.

Tickets, available only to seniors and alumni, may be purchased at the door. Final meetings to complete decorations will be held tonight from 10 to 12 and Saturday beginning at 7:30 a.m. at the junior high school.

NO SKIP DAY

Senior Activity Day will be held on Monday at Kensington Park from 10 a.m. until 2:30 p.m. The activity day is replacing the annual senior skip day.

★ ★ ★ ★

The 1959 senior trip to Mackinac Island has been changed from May 22-24 to May 29-31. Accompaning WTHS on the trip will be Pontiac Northern and Pontiac Central high schools.

Initiated into Thespian Troupe 995 Monday were Clark Lefurgy, Don Weinstein, Rodger Myers, and Linda Byington. The movie "The Robe" was shown as a conclusion to the formal initiation.

Fred Cook was elected president of the student council this week. Other officers for the 1959-60 year who were elected Tuesday were Sandy MacAbee, vice president; Georgia Sword, secretary; Jeanne Honhart, treasurer, and Jim Luzod, treasurer.

W. Bloomfield Pupils Rehearsing Concert

A combined instrumental and vocal concert will be presented by West Bloomfield Township High School students Wednesday in the school gymnasium.

The program, featuring spirituals, will include "River Jordan" by the band and "Ride the Chariot," "Sit Down Servant" and "Almighty God" by the vocal department.

Directors are Robert Pfeuffer, band, and Merlin Asplin, vocal.

Groups participating in the concert include the 45-piece band, the Triple Trio, Glee Club, A Cappella Choir and singing groups from the seventh, eighth and ninth grades.

The band will also play the "Colonel Bogey March," "Impressario Overture," "Phantom Regiment" and "Perpetual Motion."

The vocal department will present "Senorita Serenade," "America the Beautiful," "Madame Janette," "Make Believe," and selections from "Oklahoma" in the foreground of a spring scene.

DOUGLAS BLACK

KENNETH ROBINSON
Salutatorian

Name Black, Robinson Top Lake Orion Scholars

By BONNIE CAMPBELL

Douglas is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Blake Black of 281 W. Flint St. Mr. and Mrs. Barton H. Robinson of 358 W. Flint St. are Kenneth's parents.

Being president of the senior class is one of the many activities included in Douglas' program. He has maintained a 3.73 scholastic average, too. He is also vice president of the National Honor Society, an office he has held for two years.

He is a member and former president of the Hi-Y Club and Camera Club and plans to attend college and study mechanical engineering.

Both of the youths have been offered Regents - Alumni scholarships to the University of Michigan.

Kenneth, who has a 3.61 average, is president of the Student Council and the Oakland County B-League for Student Councils. He is also a member of the National Honor Society.

He has participated in football, basketball and track for four years and is active in the 'O" Club and Hi-Y.

Kenneth plans to attend the University of Michigan to study chemical engineering.

Slate Brandon's Prom Tomorrow

By DORIS GRIDLEY

Parents and students of area schools have been invited to the annual Junior-Senior Prom at Brandon Township High School in Ortonville tomorrow night.

Theme of this year's affair is "Fantasia." It will be held from 8:30 p.m. to midnight in the school auditorium.

Paul Hocking and his six-piece band will provide the music for the semi-formal dance.

John Crady and Doris Gridley will be the hosts of the evening.

PNH Takes Orders for First Yearbook

By COLLEEN ADAMS

Orders are being taken this week for the first edition of the Avalanche, the Pontiac Northern High School yearbook.

Students who are not members of the Student Union and, therefore, have not already ordered the book, will now have the opportunity to do so. The Avalanche is expected to make its debut the last week in May.

Members of the staff of the Avalanche and the Polaris, the school's newspaper, are in Ann Arbor today attending a Michigan Interscholastic Press Assn. meeting at the University of Michigan.

From the Avalanche were Cathy Marsac, Johanna Lampi, Henrietta Lampi, Judy Humphrey, and Eddie Johnson. Other members include Karen Gorkie, Mary Ellen Oltesvig, Carol Campbell, Sandra Threet, and Barbara Stechow. The advisor is Kenneth Ferguson.

A spring clothing drive was held this week. All types of used clothing, were collected. The clothing will be given to various charitable organizations throughout Pontiac.

Shrubbery and trees are now being planted on Northern's campus. Many evergreen trees are at each entrance into the building.

Junior-Senior Reception Today

'Ebb Tide' Theme Name of Walled Lake Dance, Dinner, Variety Show

By SALLY COLLINS

"Ebb Tide" is the name of the junior-senior reception slated at Walled Lake High School tonight.

Only juniors and seniors will be allowed to attend the reception but other students may come to the dance following if they are accompanied by a junior or senior.

The dance will be held from 10 p.m. until midnight. At the reception, a variety show will precede the meal in the gymnasium.

General chairman of the reception is Kathy Lundquist. Other committee chairmen include Bonnie Spencer, invitations; Fred Wilkins, clean-up; Fred Bachmann, music; Sue Hebestreit, gifts; Sondra Forsyth, programs; Kathy Lundquist, theme; Bev Proulx, publicity; Peg Cragel, refreshments; and Linda Doyle, decorations.

Lynn Thompson, a senior, placed first in the Humorous Division of the Regional Forensic Contest held at Belvindale. Lynn was awarded a banner for the school as well as a dictionary. Pat Lysinger, ninth grade, won the declamation division.

Thirty-two juniors and three seniors from Walled Lake Senior High were elected to the Walled Lake Chapter of the National Honor Society.

An invitation banquet will be held on Tuesday, at 7:00 p.m. in the school cafeteria. The price will be $1.75 per plate and all members will attend the candlelight initiation. Preceeding the formal initiation will be a songfest and a talent program.

Oxford Seniors to Tour Windy City, Mackinac

By FRANCES FUJIOKA

The group first traveled by train to Chicago where it will take a bus tour of the city. The students will leave Chicago for Mackinac Island aboard the S. S. South American. After touring the island, they will return by ship to Detroit Sunday evening.

Open 'My Square Lady' Sunday at St. Michael's

By CAROL BAUER

"My Square Lady," the story of what happens when a stuffy professor tries to turn a typical teenager into a lady, is the name of the three-act musical comedy St. Michael's High School Catholic Youth Organization will present Sunday and Monday.

Curtaintime at St. Michael's Hall is 8:30 p.m. The Rev. Francis O'Donnell will direct the production.

Soloists in the musical will be Mary Louise Tayler, Sue Forsyth and Margaret Kherkher. Don Austrang, Jane Rindfusz and Sue Hiesler are in charge of the music.

Other committee chairmen are Linda Brown, makeup; Russell Greenless, script; Pierre Massecesi and John Fortier, set designing; and Mike Magnan, Ken Lynch, Carol Bauer and Dick Williams, properties.

Betty Lauinger and Joan Gibb will be the narrators.

Disc Data and Chatter

Music in the Round

by Dick Saunders

SAUNDERS

FIVE ACES: Still hanging on to the first place spot this week among Pontiac area best sellers is "Happy Organ" (Dave Cortez). "Kansas City" (Wilbert Harrison) just barely takes second place.

Climbing to third place and looking promising is "A Teenager In Love" (Dion & The Belmonts). The disc barely missed landing in second place this week. This record, by the way, was one of the new releases we tagged as a "comer" last week.

Fourth place goes to "Quiet Village" (Martin Denny), another of last week's rising hits, and "Dream Lover" (Bobby Darin) drops from third to fifth place in this week's poll of area record shops.

Speaking of single discs, two local groups have seen their first record released this week on the Hi-Q label. Area teenagers should find "Tough Cat" by The Ferros and Jaguars to their liking. It was released nationally last Monday.

POP LPS: May releases of note on the Capitol label include "To Whom It May Concern" (W-1190) by Nat King Cole; "Love Lost" (T-1189) by The Four Freshmen, and "The Country's Best" (T-1179) a collection of hits by 12 top country and western stars including Hank Thompson, Tex Ritter, Faron Young and Jean Shepard.

All excepting the country music LP are available on stereo, too.

THE JAZZ NEST: The World Pacific label offers big band fans a few good kicks with "The Sound of Big Band Jazz in Hi-Fi" (WP-1257). The LP is a splattering of numbers by a handful of top-notch outfits and previously issued in a handful of WPLPs. Worth the loot.

Others are: "Blue Trombone" (CL-1303) by J. J. Johnson with Max Roach, Paul Chambers and Tommy Flannagan and "Golden Vibes" (CL-1304) by Lionel Hampton, both on Columbia; and "The Stage Door Swings" (T-1166) by Stan Kenton on Capitol.

"MY SQUARE LADY" — This is the name of the play which St. Michael's High School Catholic Youth Organization will present Sunday and Monday evening. Rehearsing for the three-act comedy are (from left) Chuck Steinhelper of 886 Spence St., Dan Scott of 46 E. Rutgers St., Delores Ardelan of 924 Spence St. and Kyla Ulch of 18 Glenwood St.

Private Schools to Graduate 225 Seniors in Little Rock

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—High School graduation days are coming to integration-troubled Little Rock this year but they'll be late and the number of diplomas small.

Only 225 seniors will be graduated from two all-white private schools and none from a third. Once a thousand or more students were graduated each spring from the four closed public high schools.

The continuing battle over integration recently was rekindled by moves to recall the six members of the school board as a result of a teacher purge.

One faction seeks the recall of three members who ordered the dismissal of 44 teachers they had labeled integration sympathizers.

Another faction retaliated by demanding the ouster of three moderate members who opposed the purge.

A federal court fight goes on over validity of a state law under which Gov. Orval E. Faubus closed the high schools.

Whatever happens on these fronts, the classroom effect of the integration crisis soon will be over for the seniors.

Their schools are little known but fully accredited by the state educational department. They have been told their diplomas will admit them to colleges.

FAUBUS-BACKED

Two hundred of the 767 pupils in the private Raney High School will be graduated. It has been operated from public donations by a Faubus-backed corporation. The governor, himself, will deliver the commencement address June 26.

Baptist High School will graduate 25 of its 365 students July 10. Unlike tuition-free Raney High School, the church school charges $25-a-month to attend. It has had a hard financial fight to keep going. Not long ago, it accepted a $6,000 gift from Raney High School, rich by comparison with $400,000 in donations.

The third all-white school, sponsored by Trinity Episcopal Church and with only a score of students, has no seniors.

There are no private schools for Negroes except one set up for six of the nine Negroes whose integration into Central High School in September, 1957, was enforced with federal troops.

What happened to the other three?

One, Ernest Green, became the first Negro to graduate from Central High School. Another was expelled and the ninth moved to Los Angeles.

Hundreds more of the displaced white students are going to other schools in and out of Arkansas.

Of the 750 students who attended Horace Mann Negro High School before it was closed, about 500 are going to schools outside of Little Rock.

Win Long, Tough Race for Graduation Honors

RAVANNA, Mo. (AP)—It was a long, hard race and Donna Weaver and DeWayne Snodgrass won by the narrowest of margins.

Donna, 16, and DeWayne, 17, were valedictorian and salutatorian Thursday night as Ravanna High School graduated its seven seniors.

CARBONDALE, Ill. (AP)—A rocketry course is being offered to students at Southern Illinois University.

A chemical firm's solid propellant organization is offering the short course as an extra-curricular activity while it presents a series of six lectures to engineers.

Gas Tax Hike Frowned Upon

Other Means Sought to Keep U.S. Highway Program on Schedule

WASHINGTON (AP) —Congressional leaders balked today at raising the federal gasoline tax—even temporarily — to keep the interstate highway construction program on schedule.

Nonetheless, Congress was expected to find other means of preventing interruption of the multi-billion dollar superhighway network now under way in most states.

President Eisenhower Wednesday reminded Congress that 2½ billion dollars of federal highway aid funds for future construction could not be apportioned to the states in July, as scheduled, unless the highway trust fund and projected spending are in balance.

To offset the existing and future deficit in the fund, Eisenhower renewed his demand that Congress increase the 3-cent federal gasoline tax to 4½ cents a gallon.

Both House Speaker Sam Rayburn of Texas and Rep. Wilbur D. Mills (D-Ark), chairman of the tax writing House Ways and Means Committee, said they oppose such a tax increase.

And Sen. Mike Mansfield (D-Mont), Acting Senate Democratic Leader, said there is no possibility Congress will consider such a move. Mills conceded, however, there may be alternatives.

One alternative might be diversion to the highway trust fund of all or part of the 10 per cent federal excise tax on new automobiles. These funds run about a billion dollars a year, and go directly to the Treasury's general fund.

Another and more likely alternative would be suspension of the pay-as-you-go requirement in the Interstate Highway Law. This provision has been suspended for the past two years, as an anti-recession measure.

Both possible alternatives were criticized by Eisenhower.

He said transferring new auto taxes to the highway fund "would mean only that the problem would then be to raise new taxes to replenish the loss to the General Fund."

"An even more unsatisfactory alternative, proposed by some, would be legislation to waive the pay-as-you-go requirement," Eisenhower told Congress. "This would only be a refusal to face reality."

Mills told newsmen that until the house public works committee authorizes additional highway spending he plans no action on the President's request for additional gas taxes or on any alternatives.

Urges More Concern Over Limited Wars

DETROIT (AP) — The free world should worry less about all-out war and more about limited war in the opinion of Gen. William H. Arnold of the Fifth Army.

Arnold, whose territory includes Michigan, made the assertion in a Detroit speech urging more ground troops yesterday. He spoke at an Armed Forces Week luncheon.

"The Communists want to rule the world—not just survey its ruins," the general said.

The Western nations, he continued, have overwhelming power to fight a total war, but lack the capacity to fight limited wars which the Communists have used in making big gains since World War II.

"In my opinion," he added, "we are trusting too much in nuclear retaliation to stop 175 divisions of Red ground troops and not enough in adequate ground forces of our own."

BIRTHDAY SHOES — As long as Gary Hood of Waterford Township does not have to polish his 52 pairs of shoes accumulated during the 14 years of his life, he doesn't mind his mother keeping them. Gary was 14 yesterday and will step into young manhood by getting fitted for some sharp wing-tipped oxfords.

Mom Saves Every Pair He's Worn

Shoes Tell Story of Gary's Life

By REBA HEINTZELMAN

If you don't blieve a growing boy is hard on shoes, ask Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Hood of Waterford Township.

Their son, Gary, who yesterday had his 14th birthday, has had 52 pairs in his young life. The total cost? Mrs. Hood estimates it at about $400.

And she has saved them all—as testimony to a well traveled youngster.

An eighth -grader at Our Lady of the Lakes School, Gary has every pair of shoes he has ever worn paired up along the wall in the recreation room of his home at 3643 Mariner St.

SHOW WEAR AND TEAR

From the tiniest 00-size Baby Dear Bootees on up through his present 9-Ds, all show the wear and tear of a typical growing boy.

Each pair shows a different stage in the boy's life as he progressed from babyhood to young manhood.

After the bootees came the sturdy walkers, then the white sandals for summer and a beloved pair of real Indian moccasins. These were followed by a pair of cowboy boots for his fifth birthday.

Next in the succession were sharp side-buckle shoes, a pair of loafers and saddle shoes—seven pairs in different sizes.

When Gary was nine, he insisted on having a pair of blue suede shoes—much to the horror of his mother. These were not worn very much, and stand out in bold contrast to his more favorite footwear.

SPORTS APPEAR

When he was a little older, Gary was fitted for basketball shoes, then tennis, track, baseball shoes.

Gary's parents have figured that each pair of shoes cost an average of $7 a pair. They intend to continue saving the boy's shoes until he is 21 years old.

At that time, all of the shoes will be gathered together and tearfully given to some organization for distribution to needy families whose boys may still get some mileage out of them.

Fear Diet May Suffer

Study Finds Oldsters Spend Less for Food

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Old folks on social security rolls spend only about two-thirds as much for food as average consumers.

This clue to the diets of social security "clients" who live independently emerged from a still-incomplete study by the Agriculture Department's Institute of Home Economics.

Experts on the problems of aging Americans, have long been concerned over the question of a healthy diet for old folks living along on limited incomes.

Many believe that a large number of older citizens don't eat properly — in many cases because they do not take the trouble to cook properly balanced meals.

337 HOUSEHOLDS

The Agriculture Department study is based on a survey of 337 households in Rochester, N.Y., in the spring of 1957. One-third of the households included only one person.

Two-thirds had two persons. In all cases, at least one person in each household studied was over 65. No survey was made of any household including anyone under the age of 55.

The average age of all the people surveyed was 72.

Janet Murray, an Agriculture Department research specialist, said the Rochester sample was picked because it was believed to represent a fair picture of oldsters drawing social security in much of the nation.

Department technicians are now analyzing the diets of the Rochester group to see how many fall below the nutrition levels recommended by scientists for their age group.

There are indications, partly borne out by the food spending figures included in a recent preliminary report on the survey, that a considerable number of the old folks' diets may fall below recommended nutrition standards.

The average weekly food bill for two-person families in the survey was $16.44, compared with $24.83 for all two-person households in the Northeast.

The weekly bill for single-person households in the survey was $8.27 compared with $12.35 for all single-person households in the Northeast.

Some of the gap, research specialists pointed out, is due to the fact that food needs of the older families were smaller than those of younger persons.

Another factor in the relatively low food expense for the old folks is the fact that they spent far less than the normal amount of money on food eaten away from home.

Cash Crisis Data Sparks Spat in Senate

LANSING (AP)—A brief spat occurred when State Treasurer Sanford A. Brown, a Democrat, supplied the Republican Senate with some cash crisis information it hadn't asked for.

As formally requested by senators, Brown yesterday made a daily report on the balance of all funds in the treasury — 116 millions. He further offered that warrants (checks) for nearly half that amount were outstanding.

Sen. John P. Smeekens (R-Coldwater) objected that Brown's unsolicited information served to "further confuse" the state of treasury affairs and he was "usurping" the auditor general's function.

Smeekens demanded that the outstanding warrant data be omitted when the gross treasury balance was printed in the Journal, official record of Senate proceedings.

Sen. Harold M. Ryan of Detroit, Democratic floor leader, said Smeekens was assuming a "don't confuse me. My mind's made up" attitude.

Smeekens retorted the treasury picture would be out of balance without an accounting of tax revenues en route to the treasury.

The unasked for figure was not recorded.

Windstorm Was Test

ANN ARBOR (AP) — A windstorm which damaged a section of Ann Arbor this week gave the University of Michigan Medical Center what Dr. Roger B. Nelson termed an excellent test of its disaster plan. Nelson, associate director of University Hospital, said 400 doctors and nurses were ready within 30 minutes. As it turned out, they weren't needed. Only one person was killed and one injured.

Mental Patient Slays Parents

Police Nab Escapee After Bullet-Riddled Highway Chase

WARWICK, R.I. (AP)—An escaped mental patient killed his mother and father and was caught under a hail of bullets early today while trying to flee police.

The victims were Mr. and Mrs. Russell Chace. He was 53, and she was 50.

Before he died at Rhode Island Hospital today, the father named his son, Russell Chace Jr., 24, as the assailant.

Police Lt. Charles Riddle said young Chace entered home about 11:45 Thursday night and struck his father behind the left ear with an ax or meat cleaver during an argument.

Then, Riddle said, Chace ran after his mother, struggled with her in the driveway of their home and killed her with a blunt instrument.

Mrs. Albert H. Davis, a neighbor, told police she saw Chace, a tall, good-looking blond, strike his mother on the head. Mrs. Davis had been awakened by screams.

Chace had been confined to an open ward of the hospital, meaning he had the freedom of the grounds and the privilege to go home weekends. He was home last Sunday. He was first confined, police said, in January 1953.

There are two other children in the family, a girl and a boy.

Subway Train Speeds Over Woman; Unhurt

A platform guard, Earl Jones, 35, signaled the motorman with a flashlight and the motorman slammed on the brakes.

The train was unable to stop short of the woman, Olga Hammel, 56, a grandmother. The first two cars and the front trucks of the third passed the spot where she had fallen.

But fate had smiled. After she fell, Mrs. Hammel flattened herself in the drainage trough between the rails.

Power was shut off on the third rail. Police and firemen arrived. A crowd watched.

She brushed her clothing. A transit employe suggested maybe she should go to the hospital.

"I am not hurt," Mrs. Hammel said, "but I am embarrassed. I want to go home."

Dems Lose Try to Beef Up Army

Would Have Withheld Funds of Services if Levels Not Met

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Democrats have lost the latest round in their fight to beef up the Army and Marines. But they pledged today they would renew their battle with more support.

The 45-33 setbtck came Thursday night in a Senate vote not to fight further with the House over two items involving Army and Marine strengths in a $2,764,500,380 supplemental money bill.

The effect of the vote was to send the compromise measure to President Eisenhower.

It contains 150 million dollars of the 225 million asked by the President for his development loan fund to build up living standards in economically backward nations.

Dozens of other items in the measure will enable various government agencies to meet expenses in the six weeks remaining in the current fiscal year.

The row over the Army-Marines provisions was touched off by Sen. Russell B. Long (D-La). He contended that Senate conferees on the bill had not fought hard enough to retain the two provisions originally put in by the Senate.

These would have denied the Army and Navy the use of their operating funds if they did not restore the Army manpower level to 900,000 and the Marines to 200,000. Congress voted money last year to provide those levels, but the administration stuck to its own goals of an 870,000-man Army and a 175,000-man Marine corps by June 30.

Veteran Sen. Carl Hayden (D-Ariz), who headed the Senate conferees on the bill, said House members stuck to their contention that an emergency money bill was not the place to settle a policy question such as armed forces' strengths.

However, both Hayden and Sen. Richard B. Russell (D-Ga), chairman of the Armed Services Committee, said that they would be willing to battle out the issue when the defense money bill for the next fiscal year comes up.

New Terminal Stresses Miami's Jet-Age Role

MIAMI (UPI)—Even the escalators are jet-propelled at Miami's ritzy new International Airport.

Or so it seemed to complaining passengers.

The ultra-modern 26-million-dollar facility officially opened in February, with President Arturo Frondizi of Argentina on hand for the dedication ceremonies.

Since then, two dozen different airlines have moved from their old locations into the new terminal.

Escalators that went too fast were among several minor kinks that authorities promised to iron out in connection with the changeover. In a few months, they predicted, Miami would have one of the biggest, busiest and brightest airports in the world.

Air-minded city fathers long ago realized the value of commercial air transportation, and gave full support to the airlines in making Miami one of the country's major air centers.

HUGE LAYOUT

The new terminal is a good example.

In size, it is equivalent to two Empire State Buildings laid end to end, more than 2,000 feet in length. Its ticket counters stretch five city blocks and 74 aircraft can be loaded or unloaded simultaneously at its 74 gate positions.

The entire installation will eventually cover 80 acres, enough for six Orange Bowls. The airport itself comprises 3,000 acres.

A person could get lost in the terminal's gigantic parking lot. The ramps leading in from where the planes land are so long that port director George McSherry said he was thinking about setting up a small scale monorail train to accommodate passengers.

Inside the terminal, the weary traveler will find a shopping arcade, a modern restaurant and a well-stocked cocktail lounge. Plans for a 200-room hotel also are in the making.

Miami, in its dual role as a tourist mecca and a gateway to Latin America, has often been called a product of the air age.

BUSY PLACE

Today, the statement is truer than ever. Officials estimate one aircraft lands or takes off here every 84 seconds.

Sixty per cent of all passengers arriving and departing by public transportation in Miami pass through International Airport.

In air cargo shipments, Miami ranks first in the United States. More than 207 million tons were handled last year, with more than 75 per cent going to or from other countries.

Thanks largely to good weather and flat terrain, Miami also ranks as one of the nation's safest airports.

As for tthe future, the Port Authority, which controls the airport, says the new terminal is geared for whatever comes.

In other words, in Miami, the sky's the limit.

Car Fire Persistent: Blazed Up 3 Times

Firemen doused a small blaze after he discovered it Wednesday night.

Thursday morning police spotted the fire again as they cruised past the parked car. They put it out again.

Later Rainey went for a damage estimate and when garage workers pulled the seat out—they found the fire still going. They put it out again.

4 Young Detroit Girls Smear Art Display

DETROIT (AP) — "We got a kick out of it," one of the four young girls accused of smearing clay over valuable paintings and statues at the Detroit Art Institute explained.

The girls, three of them 11 and the other 13, were grabbed by a museum guard Thursday after they had spread modeling clay over the works of art.

Two of the girls were turned over to their parents and the other two were handed over to juvenile authorities.

Youngest Girl of Hirohito to Wed Clerk

TOKYO (AP)—A $50-a-month bank clerk became engaged to Emperor Hirohito's youngest daughter today without seeing her and without a ring.

Hisanaga Shimazu, 25, and 20-year-old Princess Suga were officially betrothed at the moment their families exchanged traditional gifts of fish, Japanese wine and bolts of silk.

Four hours after the exchange, Shimazu, descendant of a feudal lord, and his mother were formally received by the Emperor and Empress.

Shimazu then had a brief meeting with the girl he is expected to wed late this year.

Officers Installed at Lincoln

Mrs. George Gray, retiring president, was given a corsage and past president's pin. Bylaws were presented by Mrs. Daniel Peterson, and adopted.

The Lincoln Band presented several selections, followed by readings from the speech classes of Mrs. Ray Allen, Mrs. Esther Mountain and Julius Middledorf. Parents toured the rooms and saw student exhibits.

Refreshments were furnished and served by the cooking class students under the direction of Mrs. Robert Comparoni and Mrs. Jack Talbot. Mrs. Robert Baldwin reported on the state convention at Bay City.

Bailey School PTA Learns of Tornado Safety

"What to do when a tornado strikes" was explained and shown to parents and teachers at Cora Bailey School PTA meeting held Thursday evening at the school.

Incoming president Mrs. Dolph D. Wright presented a past president pin to Mrs. Bruce Allen, outgoing president. New officers were introduced. Mrs. Jack Taylor reported on the fair held last Saturday.

Dear Abby . . .

Suburbanite Seeking Friends but 'Old Pop' Is Fighting Talk

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

"DEAR ABBY: Not long ago we moved from the city to the suburbs. I told my husband that everybody would be more friendly in the suburbs and that he should get out and be more friendly, too. At my suggestion he spoke to the man across the street. My husband said the man immediately started calling him 'Pop.' I do know that while working on our lawn, the man came over to see us and referred to my husband as 'Old Pop here.' My husband says he doesn't care to make friends with people like that. I think he is wrong, but he refuses to see it my way. What do you think?"

FRIENDLY

ABBY

DEAR FRIENDLY: "Old Pop there" shouldn't be so sensitive if he wants to make friends with his neighbors. People have been known to call their neighbors cornier things than "Pop"!

"DEAR ABBY: I am 26 years old and have been going out with a man about 40. We love each other but his past is all messed up. He was married twice. His second wife got a Mexican divorce which he isn't sure is good here. When he was married the first time he lied about his name and the girl lied about her age so he isn't sure whether that marriage was legal or not. Then he is afraid he got married the second time before the divorce was final. There are so many complications I wonder if we can ever get married? We are waiting for things to clear up. What else can we do?"

WANTING HAPPINESS

DEAR WANTING: Nothing "clears up" (except the weather) all by itself. Your boy friend needs a lawyer to "clear up" his marital status, and if you're wise, you will clear out of the picture until everything is crystal clear.

"DEAR ABBY: I disagree with the advice you gave 'Heartbroken.' Why should a wife have to get a new hairdo, buy a fancy negligee and throw her arms around her husband and say, 'Here I am, Honey!' We women still have some pride left. I have so much love in me to give and I am starving for affection. Men are about the dumbest animals in the world."

STARVING FOR LOVE

DEAR STARVING: You are mistaken, Madame. The only way to get love is to give it. The dumbest animal in the world is the one who has a bale of hay in front of him, but he starves to death because he's too proud to help himself.

"DEAR ABBY: I have been looking for the answer to this in all the etiquette books, but I can't seem to find it. Please don't think I'm ridiculous but is it proper to eat lettuce and parsley off the salad? My friend and I were out to dine and when he finished with his salad there was not one speck of anything left on his salad plate. Is this correct?"

PROPER

DEAR PROPER: It is perfectly all right to eat the lettuce and parsley in the salad. (What delightful habits we learn from the rabbits!)

DEAR ABBY: I get so mad at some of your answers. I been married nearly 30 years and talk to a lot of men every day and I think I know what a man wants from a woman besides her household duties such as scrubbing, washing and cooking. If a man wants his potatoes mashed and his toast buttered, that is a personal thing and his wife should do it just to please him. If a woman wants to do only housework she doesn't have to marry a man. She can hire herself out. Are you married? If so, ask your husband if I am not right?

MAD AT YOU

DEAR MAD: I asked my husband and he says you are absolutely right! (You men sure do stick together.)

Founders Day Rites Slated at Cranbook

Cranbrook will celebrate its annual Founders Day Sunday in several impressive services honoring the late Mr. and Mrs. George G. Booth. All six units of Cranbrook Foundation will participate.

In the morning the Rev. Walter Young, chaplain of Cranbrook School, will speak at both services at Christ Church Cranbrook, and at the 11:15 service a procession will be formed by board members, trustees and faculty members.

After luncheon at the Art Academy various meetings will be held by the directors of Cranbrook School, Kinswood School and Brookside School, the Academy of Art and Institute of Science.

In the afternoon the traditional Founders Day Tea honoring graduate students will be given in Cranbrook House, former home of the late Mr. and Mrs. George G. Booth who originated the custom. Mr. and Mrs. Henry Scripps Booth will be hosts.

Among those asked to pour this year are Mrs. Carlton M. Higbie, Mrs. Benjamin H. Micou, Mrs. A. Sweetman Smith, Mrs. Charles F. Moore Jr. Mrs. Dwight C. Ensign, Mrs. Leroy Dahlberg, Mrs. Neil C. McMath, Mrs. Philip M. Clark Jr. Frs. Frederick L. Colby Jr., Mrs. Arthur W. Palmer, Mrs. S. E. MacArthur and Miss Kathryn M. Myers.

Families Know Adolescents Too Well

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

One Sunday when I was 14 my parents had a guest, a European painter, male and unattached.

Because it was a hot summer day I wore my hair up. The guest was shown the garden and our prize goat, given tea and conversation. As his departure neared, he escorted me to the livingroom where he'd left his hat and stick.

I was saying "It's been nice to meet you," when he suddenly seized my hand and, implanting a passionate kiss upon it, cried, "Ach, you are so enchanting, so young, so beautiful!"

Struck, dumb, I was struggling with mingled delight and disbelief when giggles broke from behind the sofa where my younger brother and his perpetually grimy companion had taken refuge. Bursting into the open, my little brother yelled, "Ach, you are so beautiful!" in ecstatic mimicry of my admirer's accent. Snorting with laughter, he ran from the room.

I didn't speak to him for days.

Betrayals of adolescent dignity can be so painful that we forget the pain. This is a pity. We need to remember it to avoid hurt when our own adolescent boys and girls explode rage at betrayals of their dignity.

Families are mixed blessings to adolescent people.

A family has seen your face distorted by the mumps. It has seen you spanked and returned to the bathroom to wash your ears. It has seen you cry when you are teased. It possesses the most ample information on every weakness, every vanity, every humiliation with which you've struggled since you were born.

Then the physical maturity of adolescence hits you and forces you to claim the new dignity involved with your new condition. And your family, to whom the new dignity is ridiculous, promptly starts to make it appear ridiculous in your own eyes.

This is why adolescents are so critical of their families.

And it's why we should accept their criticism in a quiet spirit. Until the adolescent is sure of his new dignity, his uncertainty about it makes our knowledge of his past condition such a threat that he cannot treat us as amiably as we'd like.

We can't help remembering him as a child, and he can't stand remembering himself as one. It's a problem that we must let time solve.

Ginger Ale Adds Zest to Angel Food Dessert

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

At one of the bridge benefits given this past winter a delicious dessert was served. We have finally tracked it down and present it to you. It's light enough to use at any season of the year.

Mrs. Bartlet Wager gave us the recipe. She needs no introduction to Pontiac residents. She says she is active in church work but isn't able to do much else. Working with flowers is her favorite hobby.

ANGEL DESSERT
By Mrs. Bartlet Wager

1 pound marshmallows
½ cup orange or pineapple juice
1 small bottle ginger ale (not pale dry)
2 cups whipping cream or 1 package dessert topping mix
Large angel food cake

Melt marshmallows in fruit juice in a double boiler. Let cool and add ginger ale. Chill until syrupy. Whip cream or topping mix and fold into first mixture.

Break angel food into small pieces. Put a layer of cake into 9x13 pan. Cover with layer of creamy mixture. Repeat until pan is full. Let chill at least 24 hours; longer is better.

Nice Girls Don't Take Such Trips

By EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post: A friend of my daughter's left our city about a year ago and went to a city several hundred miles distant in order that she be near her fiance who is going to college in that city. she found a job there and is living at a boarding house. My daughter wants to go and visit her this summer with her boy friend.

"She would stay with her friend and he would find a room nearby. They plan to be gone a week. If they leave here very early in the morning (by car) they would be there that night. Can they, in all propriety, do this?

Answer: I am sorry, but they cannot make this trip as you yourself say, "in all propriety."

"Dear Mrs. Post: What can I do to ward off the attentions of someone whose personality I do not like? I met a young man the other evening while at a friend's house. I was not discourteous to him, but neither did I encourage him in any way. Ever since that meeting he has been pursuing me. I don't like to be rude, but short of that, is there anything I can do to discourage his persistence?"

Answer: Whenever he invites you to do anything, always have another engagement, and sooner or later he will realize that his attentions are not welcomed and probably give up his pursuit of you.

"Dear Mrs. Post: An acquaintance of mine recently told me that all white gloves are improper before five o'clock in the afternoon. I have never heard of this and if it is true there are a great many women who are incorrect. I am sure she is mistaken about this but just to convince myself I would like your opinion on this."

Answer: You are quite right; in fact I can't imagine where your friend ever got such an idea.

"Dear Mrs. Post: When one receives an invitation and cannot accept it, is it proper to send someone else in her place? The situation is this: I received an invitation to the wedding and reception of the daughter of a friend of mine.

"I will not be able to go, but would like my daughter to go in my place. The wedding is to be a large fashionable one and she would love to go if it would be proper."

Answer: A daughter substituting for her mother at a large wedding would not be improper. But I think it would be best to telephone and ask for permission rather than just send her.

An adventurous Colorado summer is in the offing for Girl Scout Mariner Cornelia Riggs, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lonnie Riggs of Augusta avenue who will represent Pontiac at the 1959 Senior Girl Scout Roundup in July 3-12.

CORNELIA RIGGS

Oakland Girl Scouts Pick Representative

By MARGARET BROWN

If ever a young lady fit the expression "sweet" to the letter, it's Cornelia Riggs, Pontiac Central High School junior, who will represent Pontiac this summer at the 1959 Senior Girl Scout Roundup near Colorado Springs, Colo.

The soft-spoken teenager, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lonnie Riggs of Augusta avenue, confides she ". . . was surprised and honored" at her appointment to attend the second international encampment sponsored by the Girl Scouts of the U.S.A. The very first Scout roundup was held at Michigan's Highland Recreation Area in 1956.

Cornelia is the only Pontiac girl from among 16 Oakland County scouts who will participate in activities at the camp site, located opposite the new U.S. Air Force Academy, July 3-12.

Cornelia was appointed to attend the roundup by local scout leaders on the basis of merit in community, church, and school work, in addition to scouting skills.

Last December after 11 years of scouting, Cornelia became a Mariner. Activities of the Mariners, a senior scouting group, are geared primarily to water safety and boating rules.

At Pontiac Central she is secretary of the Biology Club, a member of the Girls Recreation Assn., and Y-Teens. She's also a member of the Methodist Youth Fellowship at Central Methodist Church.

EARNING FUNDS

Cornelia has been babysitting, and a few weeks ago began clerking in the camera department at Simm's Brothers Inc. department store to earn funds for the exciting summer ahead. Realizing the cost of train fares and camping equipment might pose financial difficulties for some families, Northern Oakland County Council scouts happily met the need of their sister scouts via a peanut sale recently which netted sufficient funds to defray the girls' traveling and camping expenses.

It has been estimated that one out of eight Senior Scouts (ages 14 through 17) in the United States will visit the camp. Along with Scouts from U.S. territories and approximately 20 other countries, they will compose the largest gathering of teenage girls (some 10,000) ever to take place in the nation.

Training in preparation for the roundup has been rigorous. The girls must be experienced campers and will erect a "city" of 6,000 tents, living entirely out-of-doors at an altitude of more than a mile above sea level.

"It's a real opportunity to be able to go," says Cornelia, "and I'll try to be a good delegate in representing my Council and establishing good will the best way I can."

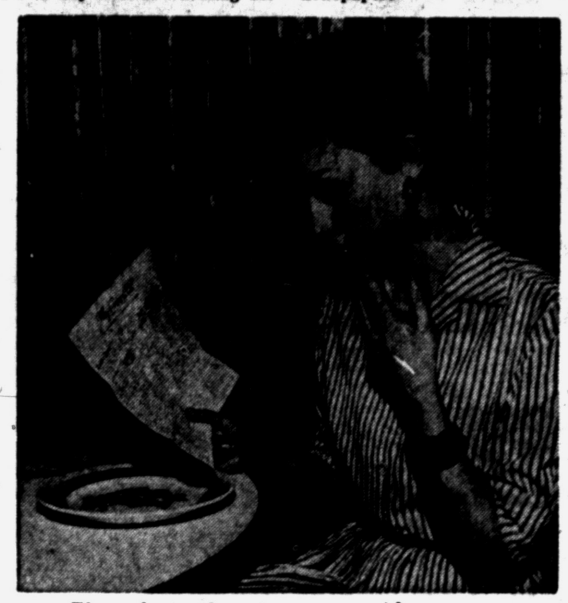
Calorie Chart Help to All

(The Friday Question Box)

Q. "Please tell me in your Friday Question Box how much your calorie chart costs."

A. The calorie chart is a great aid to any woman watching her weight, and this should be every woman. It is free except that you are requested to send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request. Address Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.



The calorie chart is a great aid to any woman watching her weight. If you would like to have this free leaflet, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request to Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

Q. "Can you help me? I am 34 years old, have four children. I am 5 feet 6 inches tall and weigh 140 pounds. My measurements are, bust 38, waist 28 and hips 40. I have a medium frame. My husband tells me I should lose some weight."

A. Your husband is hard to please. If you have a medium frame, you are just right. However, this is hard to judge. Although your measurements are in lovely proportion, they do suggest that you might be a bit overweight. Perhaps you are in between. You might find that a loss of eight or 10 pounds will be becoming.

Q. "I am 22 years old and about 35 pounds overweight. I do many different exercises for the stomach and legs but they tire me out. I wonder if the old rolling pin method is any good."

A. Don't kid yourself! In my estimation the rolling pin method is of no value. AND, you did not mention dieting. You will have to count calories to lose weight.

Exercise will help because of the calories it requires and also it is a wonderful aid in distributing your weight more attractively. If the exercises make you tired, you are doing too much exercising. Also you should have your heart and blood pressure checked before beginning them.

Q. "I am 15 years old. Would it be possible to have plastic surgery done on my nose? My mother say it has stopped growing."

A. Surgeons used to prefer waiting until the age of 18. However, this may have changed. I suggest that you talk this over with a plastic surgeon.

Q. "How often each day and each time should I do the facial exercises I saw in your column?"

A. Start doing each five times and gradually increase until you are doing each one 20 times.

Q. "I have 'stubble trouble.' Only a few days after shaving my legs or under my arms little stubbles of hair already become quite noticeable. I have to shave again to be presentable. Is there anything I can do to avoid this trouble?"

A. Some individual's hair just grows faster than others. You might try a depilatory. Instead of chopping the hair off this melts it off; therefore the hair ends may not be quite so stubby. Of course electrolysis is the only permanent way.

Performances Slated May 21-23

Met Opera Due in Detroit

An important milestone in the history of music in Detroit will be reached this month when the Metropolitan Opera of New York makes its first Detroit appearance in almost a half century.

The famed company, with such stars as Rise Stevens, Richard Tucker, Licia Albanese, Zinka Milanov and Leonard Warren in key roles, will present evening performances at Masonic Temple Auditorium on May 21, 22, and 23 and a Saturday matinee on May 23.

TO BENEFIT ART

The opera's appearance will be sponsored by the Detroit Grand Opera Association with the assistance of the Founders Society of the Detroit Museum of Art. Opening night will be a partial benefit for the Art Purchase Fund of the Museum of Art.

A statewide organization to promote the opera's appearance is headed by Mrs. Henry Ford II as general chairman.

The opening night performance May 21 will be "Carmen," with Rise Stevens in the title role assisted by Heidi Krall, Richard Tucker and Mario Sereni. Jean Morel will conduct.

"Cavalleria Rusticana" will be presented May 22 with Zinka Milanov, Rosalind Elias, Mignon Dunn, Daniele Baroni and Frank Valentino. "Pagliacci" also will be presented with Lucine Amara, Carlo Bergonzi, Charles Anthony, Leonard Warren and Mario Sereni. Kurt Adler will be the conductor.

MATINEE PERFORMANCE

May 23 matinee will be "Madame Butterfly" with Licia Albanese, Margaret Roggero, Eugenio Fernandi, Paul Franke and Clifford Harvuot. Erich Leinsdorf will conduct.

"La Boheme" will be presented May 23 in the evening with Mary Curtis-Verna, Jean Fenn, Barry Morell, Mario Zanasi and Giorgio Tozzi. The conductor will be Fausto Cleva.

Evening performances will begin at 8:30 May 21, and 8 p. m. May 22 and 23. The matinee will start at 1:30 p. m.

Car Owners Warned to Drain Antifreeze

NEW YORK (UPI) — Keeping the antifreeze in your automobile through the summer is damaging and wasteful, according to automotive experts, but half of all car owners apparently do it anyhow.

A recent survey of 600 automotive editors by the Auto Maintenance Information Bureau indicated that 54 per cent of their readers ignored their advice to drain out the old antifreeze in the spring and fill the car radiator with clean water.

The experts say antifreeze left in the cooling system during the summer causes rust that can damage the engine and overheating that wastes gasoline.

'Take Me to Your Pharoah,' Plea of Early Spacemen?

DENVER (UPI) — Dr. George Hunt Williamson thinks spacemen have been dropping in on earth people for the past 5,000 years—and on a regular basis.

The 32-year-old archaeologist told a recent meeting of the Denver Society for Unidentified Flying Objects Investigation, Inc., of indications that ancient civilizations made UFO sightings similar to those reported today.

"There is evidence from ancient Egypt, Rome and Greece and Indians of both North and South America to indicate there were sighting of strange objects," Williamson said. "We can't prove it but I think space ships did exist then and do now."

Williamson said ancient carvings in Latin America indicate the work had to be supervised from the air in order to be so symmetrically perfect. Other evidence he cited was a 5,000 year-old map showing mountain ranges no longer in existence—"this work could not have been done except from the air."

Williamson admitted he had "never seen a true space ship or talked with any little green men." He also conceded there is a "lunatic fringe" among flying saucer addicts and that many UFO sightings can be explained away.

Face the Truth About Cancer

You Can Halt Quackery

(This is the last of three articles on cancer quackery.)

By HELENA FROST
American Cancer Society

WASHINGTON (NEA)—He walked between his parents, limping because of his knee.

He was seven and not a crybaby.

It hurt to walk, but a wheelchair was for cripples. And Billy wasn't going to be a cripple, his mother had told the doctor.

The doctor said, "They do wonders with artificial legs—"

Billy's mother said, "Please—you've got to save it—"

And the doctor said, "I'm trying to save his life."

And Billy's mother said, "If you can't save his leg, there's someone who can!"

They took Billy away, and they sold the farm, and got on a bus. And then they were walking toward a building with a sign that said "Cancer Clinic" in giant letters.

Billy wouldn't live to be a cripple. He wouldn't live at all.

It happened about two years ago. The name wasn't Billy and the quack and the "cure" are unidentified to spare the parents who have suffered enough.

The story is just one in the files of the Food and Drug Administration and of the American Cancer Society.

Billy had a sarcoma of the bone just below the knee. It was still localized when the physician diagnosed cancer, and amputation could have saved the boy.

Only amputation could have saved the boy.

Surgery and radiation are still the only methods of saving life from cancer.

"It can't be said too often," said Commissioner George P. Larrick of the FDA. "It's the only way to get the public to understand that there's isn't any scientific basis for all the cancer 'cures' on the black market of the 'health' racketeers.

"They peddle a wide variety of powders, pills, injections, diets and devices. But they all peddle a common commodity—hope. And the end-product is the same, too—despair, and often death.

"They fatten on people overwhelmed with suffering, with fear and despair. People who are needful of hope, who have lost their capacity to think clearly. They induce these tragic beings to use their savings. To sell their farms, their homes. To borrow.

"And then when their money is gone, they are turned loose to die. Or to spend the rest of their days trying to get out of debt."

Ours is a century of knowhow; we believe science is capable of anything. So most "healers" capitalize by using the jargon of the latest discoveries.

One "atomic" gadget consisted of a plywood closet, lined with bags or pads of feeble uranium ore—if any. Seats rented for two or three dollars an hour—until the FDA cracked down.

Just last year the FDA seized a glove lined with crushed rock. Presumably this "radioactive" mitten was for the "laying on of mumbo-jumbo and "science."

Then there was the "Atomotrone," a device resembling a kitchen cabinet that "treated" water by means of colored lights and shortwave radio frequencies. The inventor claimed the water had value in treating cancer, heart disease and other serious conditions. Several hundred were sold at prices ranging up to $300, before the FDA wrote paid-in-full and the inventor went to jail.

"RADIUMATOR"—This gadget was offered as a "cure all" device, so arranged that by squeezing a bulb at top the user could get a glass of "radon-activated" water. Gadget contained $1.6' worth of radium, was offered to FDA inspectors for $10,000.

The FDA has put over 500 gadgets out of business since 1938. But unlike drugs, there is no federal law requiring safety testing of medical devices before marketing. Many violations don't come to the attention of the FDA until months and years have elapsed.

"Meanwhile the swindle flourishes," Commissioner Larrick said.

"We need the help of the general public, of organizations concerned with the problem, lay and professional, local, state and national. And the public-spirited individual can also strike an effective blow against ignorance and fraud."

The commissioner commended two volunteers of the American Cancer Society in California who "helped the state obtain the evidence needed to convict two medical swindlers."

Mrs. Stanley McKee, of Woodside, became a "patient" and suffered burns in order to get the evidence against a practitioner who had a caustic "cure" — a brownish paste kept "in a shoe polish can, so no one can steal it from me."

And the Executive Director of the Kern County Branch of the American Cancer Society, Mrs. Claire Schaefer, brought in personal evidence of an "ozone machine." It's inventor claimed it "once cured a woman who had 97 pounds of cancer in her body!"

Just two more for the record, and for sober thought. When in doubt never give the unorthodox "healer" the benefit of your credulity. When it comes to cancer, quacks are for the ducks—if you value your life.

Nation Honeycombed With Caves

All Sweden Can Move Underground

By HANS DAHLBERGH

The whole country is undermined, honeycombed with caves and tunnels filled with military bases, garages, factories and oil stores.

For thousands of years the Swedes never realized the enormous advantages hidden in their country's big solid granite mountains. They were looked upon merely as a hindrance to agriculture and communication.

But when air warfare was developed to unexpected perfection in World War II it was suddenly understood that mountains could satisfy the demand for air shelters. Now the big Swedish towns have shelters which can house all their inhabitants.

The large public shelters, blasted out in the dry and silent depths of the primary rocks, have peacetime uses, too.

In Stockholm you won't find a single parking garage. But when you stroll through the quiet churchyard on the top of the Johannes mountain you would never guess that some 10 yards beneath you there is a large garage with parking spaces and a service station.

Stockholm's biggest establishment of that kind is a three decked car park in the Katarina mountain which has room for 500 automobiles or, in case of war, houses 20,000 people.

The roof of granite is 60 feet thick. Sharp angles in the tunnels leading into the shelter are designed to stop pressure waves. The air-conditioning can clean the establishment of radioactivity.

But the Swedes not only want to be sheltered in their mountain caves if the war breaks out. They also would like to keep the enemy from the borders of their country.

So, in order to protect the east coast navy from air raids, one of Europe's major naval bases is hidden in the heart of one of the Baltic Sea Islands. A solid granite roof, sometimes more than 50 yards thick, and giant shock-absorbing doors make the base A-bomb proof.

Included in this underground base is one of the country's biggest naval repair yards.

Bases of that kind are defended against an attacking enemy by medium range guided missiles, launched from the depths of the rocks.

The elaborate coast defense system consists of a network of fortifications, submarine pens and underground harbors into which destroyers can sail. Many of the top secret air bases all around Sweden are hidden inside rocks, too.

About 150 miles south of Stockholm the Saab airplane factory is buried some 100 feet below the land surface with workshops and accommodations for several hundred workers, including dining rooms. Air conditioning, a very essential thing due to the heat from machines, gives the air constant temperature and humidity.

At Saab, the planes are put together inside the mountain and taken out through a long slightly sloping tunnel. Several other big Swedish enterprises have blasted themselves into the mountains. They all report good results.

Swedes nowadays prefer to heat their houses with oil instead of coal or domestic wood, so there is a large and constant need for oil-stores. The Suez crisis two and a half years ago also showed that a sudden break in the supplying of oil immediately causes rationing if the stores are not big enough.

And where could the inflammable stuff be safer than in the mountains? Using closed-down mines the oil companies sometimes have spared themselves the trouble even to cave the mountains.

Walking in Swedish countryside you never can be quite sure there isn't a lake of oil from the Middle East or South America somewhere below your feet.

House Gets Trade Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — A "fair trade" bill to let manufacturers set minimum prices on trademarked products has been okayed by the House Commerce Committee. It now goes to the House for a vote.

Former State Solons Face Pension Fight

LANSING (AP) — Attempts to bring three former legislators under the new Legislative Pension System faced a tough fight in the House today.

Lawmakers let loose with some bitter words yesterday in debate on a bill to permit their retired predecessors to transfer from the State Employe Retirement System to the Legislative system. Each would pay $515 and collect substantially higher benefits.

Rep. Russell H. Strange (R-Clare) protested it would cost the state about $74,000 in pensions, based on the life expectancy of the three lawmakers.

"This is merely a foot in the door," said Strange. "Next year, the Legislature could take in many more former members."

Sure, It's Right Town, Just Wrong Country

CAIRO, Ill. (UPI) — A letter mailed by Jessie L. Hamill, American Embassy, Jedda, Saudi Arabia, was addressed to Mr. and Mrs. Harold B. Nelson, c/o Shepherd's Hotel, Cairo, U. A. R.

Two weeks later it arrived at the Birnie Hotel in Cairo, Ill., U.S.A. The Birnie Hotel is operated by Earl Shepherd Sr.

Games Funds Get OK

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House has passed a $500,000 appropriation to help pay for the third Pan-American games in Chicago this summer. The Senate already had approved the measure.

Why Waste Time

When I Can Do It The Easy Way...

Here's My Story...

I could write a big ad and spend a lot of money by showing you pictures of suits and giving you descriptions and prices ... that's the correct way of advertising ... but you still won't know how good a buy or how much you can save in my store unless you come in and try on a suit, feel the fabric, notice the perfect fit.

I know I can save you $10 to $20 on your clothing selection. I can also save you $3 to $6 on your pants or jacket selection.

Waterfront to Be Beautiful Again

Detroit Is a City Being Re-Born

(This is the 19th in a series of articles on Michigan's industrial and cultural achievements written by Michigan newsmen as an introduction to Michigan Week, May 17-23.)

By SETH H. WHITMORE
Michigan Economic Development Department

Rising from the shadows of towering skyscrapers along the Detroit River is Michigan's great new metropolitan city of tomorrow.

In place of the unsightly and antiquated docks, warehouses and flop houses that once covered a vast area along the Detroit waterfront, there is coming into reality a cultural and civic center that will be unsurpassed anywhere on earth.

This is the new Detroit—the city that gave birth to the automotive industry and became known throughout the world as the arsenal of democracy.

More than a half billion dollars is being spent in a vast development in which both public and private funds are being spent to create a beautiful city that will stand majestically on the world's eighth sea. It is this imposing new city that visitors from everywhere will see as they travel ocean liners into the Great Lakes.

New structures of steel, stone and glass are being built in parks and recreational areas with pools, playgrounds and beauty spots that will make life more livable.

There will be new places to work, new places to live, new places to shop and to play. And all of this is pumping new life and new prosperity into the heart of Michigan's largest city.

It is said here that if a modern Rip Van Winkle were to fall asleep and awake five years hence that he wouldn't believe his eyes.

The City of Detroit paved the way for the gigantic redevelopment of the city when it started the multi-million dollar Civic Center which is moving near completion at the foot of Woodward avenue. This includes the new City-County building, Cobo Hall and the Convention Arena, the Veterans Memorial and the Henry and Edsel Ford Auditorium.

Only recently private investors announced plans for a $100 million undertaking that will transform 23 dreary acres along the river between Third and Eighth Streets into a wonderland of stately office buildings, apartments and shops. It lies just west of the Civic Center.

And on all sides of these great projects, other major developments, both private and public, have started or are in the planning stage.

The privately financed improvement to the west of the Civic Center will be known as the Penn-Chessi development and will include 20 diversified buildings in a beautifully landscaped park setting. These will be a 30 story, 1,500 room hotel, three 12 story luxury apartment buildings, a merchandise mart, a shopping center and a 20 story office building.

Artistically landscaped courts and plazas, interconnected by plastic covered pedestrial malls will be a feature of this project.

In the general waterfront area between Eighth and Tenth Streets ground has been broken for the new $23,000,000 post office building, while up Woodward Avenue south of the growing cultural center, Federal approval has been granted for a $100,000,000 medical center.

East of the Civic Center the 27 million dollar Lafayette Park University City luxury apartment development is rising in a former slum area, and plans are already advanced to expand this project into another 20 blocks south of Lafayette, and for a low rent public housing development covering 17 blocks further to the east.

Land is being cleared this spring for a 20 million dollar office building for the Michigan Consolidated Gas Co. at Woodward and Jefferson. Just across Woodward lies the new $6 million Greyhound terminal, while two blocks north the $15 million National Bank of Detroit is nearing completion.

Blighted areas in old Corktown and around Miliwaukee junction are being cleared to provide badly needed sites for new light industry. Federal approval is expected this year for plans to raze 70 acres of "skid row" north and south of Michigan Avenue for new homes, shops and offices.

And the big change does not stop in downtown or at the waterfront. New buildings are rising on the new ultra modern campus of Wayne University, and there is expansion at the University of Detroit.

Coupled with the extensive civic and cultural development is the steadily expanding multi-million dollar network of expressways and super highways that have already made the heart of Detroit more easily accessible to outstate Michigan.

Major Face Lifting Job in Moscow Area Part of U.S.S.R. 7-Year Plan

MOSCOW (UPI) — The Soviet government has earmarked 50 billion rubles to give Moscow and two suburbs a major face lifting as part of Russia's new seven-year economic development program.

(Ed. note: That would be the equivalent of 12½ billion U. S. dollars at the Soviet government's arbitrary exchange rate of four rubles to the dollar, or five billion dollars at the tourist exchange rate of 10 rubles to the dollar.)

Among the projects announced for Moscow are:

—Thirty-three new movie houses, including one with 6,000 seats and three with capacities of from 2,500 to 4,000.

—Nineteen million square meters of new housing, 250 new schools, 1,800 new food and consumer-goods stores, 1,600 new public eating places.

—Two suburbs outside Moscow, each with a population of 65,000, designed to siphon off some of the capital's industries and people.

Blueprints for this capital city of five to six million persons under the Soviet Union's 1959-65 seven-year plan were laid before a meeting of the Moscow Communist Party Committee by its first secretary, V. I. Ustinov.

SOVIETS CONCERNED

Ustinov's report, as carried in the Soviet press, said the projects were the result of the "constant concern of the Communist Party and the Soviet government for the amenities of the capital and the living standards of its working population."

Thus, 27 billion rubles, or more than half the total to be spent on than half the total tobe spent on Moscow, is to go for new construction to ease the capital's acute housing shortage.

Furthermore, Ustinov said, "the construction will be done in such a way as to give each family a separate apartment."

Ustinov also promised:

—Extensive renovation of existing housing, in which as a general rule an apartment is occupied by two or more families, which share facilities such as kitchens.

A ten-fold increase in Moscow's laundry capacity and a five-fold increase in dry cleaning establishments. There recently have been caustic complaints in the press about the shortage of these conveniences.

—Extension of the Moscow subway. Ustinov did not say whether the orate marble-and-statuary style of the present subway stations will be followed in the new ones.

—Expansion of public services to lighten the burden of daily chores for women, who at present have to spend much of the day shopping for food. The idea is to free them for "productive labor and cultured rest."

CLOSE TO WORK

In the two suburbs, according to an explanation given over the Moscow Radio, housing and industrial plants will be erected close enough for the workers to walk to work.

They'll be able to shop near where they live, and the theater, movies and big department stores in the center of town will be within easy reach by bicycle, it was explained.

The bicycle is to be a popular means of conveyance in the suburban communities which are projected not only for Moscow but for Leningrad and other big Soviet population centers as well.

Laying-out of the first of Moscow's suburbs 30 kilometers from the capital is to commence this year. The architects are planning four-story apartment houses, and each family to be transferred from Moscow is promised an apartment of its own.

Paper thermometers printed on post cards have been developed to tell whether goods have been exposed to excessive temperatures in shipment. After a buyer receives his shipment he sends the card back to the shipper. The color of the normally pearl-gray strips indicates the degree of heat the merchandise was exposed to while in transit.

Sound Waves Measure Mother Earth's Cellar

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — Sound waves now are measuring the amount of space down in mother earth's cellar — in old caves, caverns and mines.

These holes are getting more and more important for safe, cheap storage of gas, either for war emergency or future supply.

The big question is — how much space is there in any hole before you start cluttering up these cellars?

Sound waves, in a device like a submarine's sonar beams — are giving an accurate answer. The sounding device is displayed at the International Petroleum Exposition by Dowell Inc. of Tulsa.

Tube-shaped, it is lowered through a hole drilled into the ceiling of a cavern, cave, or abandoned salt or sulphur mine.

It turns in a circle, pinging out sound waves in a horizonal sweep, and catching the echoes as they bounce back from the wall.

In the laboratory, this is translated into plastic models of the cavern or worked-out mine. Calculations give accurate estimates of the area available for storage.

The government is using many caves and holes to stock-pile medicines and other supplies in event of atomic war.

Americans added $1.33 to their savings in life insurance, savings accounts and U.S. Savings Bonds during 1958 for every $1 by which they increased their debt. This, said the Institute of Life Insurance, was the best showing for any year since World War II.

Treasury Arrests 36 in 7-City Bookie Raid

WASHINGTON (AP)—Synchronized gambling raids by Treasury agents in seven cities have netted 36 arrests.

The Internal Revenue Service said large amounts of cash, gambling equipment and records were confiscated Thursday in what it called a coordinated crackdown on a nationwide gambling combination.

Arrests reported were New York City 6, Los Angeles 16, San Francisco 6, Middletown, Ohio 4; Lexington, Ky. 2; Niagara Falls, N.Y. 1; and Toledo, Ohio 1.

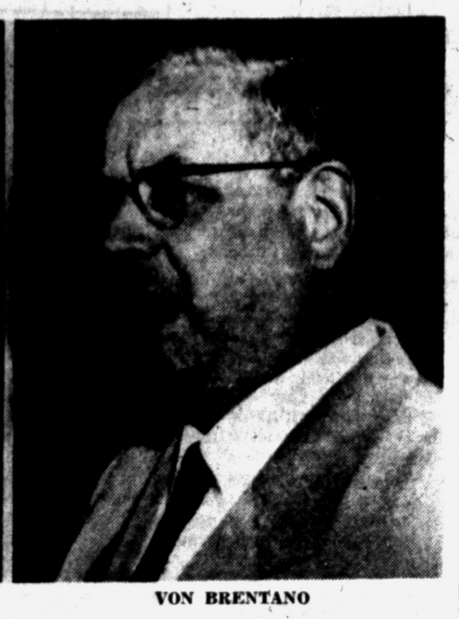
IRS officials said the raids were aimed at a combination of independent gamblers who "laid off" bets with one another. Bookmakers often use this system. When one accepts more bets than he can safely handle financially, he "lays off" part of the risk with another gambler.

He's the Berries Now After Federal Honor

GENEVA, N. Y. (UPI) — Dr. George M. Darrow, formerly in charge of small fruit breeding in the U. S. Department of Agriculture, has had a new blackberry named after him.

The "darrow" was introduced at a recent meeting of the New York State Fruit Testing Assn. It was described as "outstanding" and the "best blackberry" developed at Cornell University's agricultural experiment station.

LOTHAR BOLZ



VON BRENTANO

Germans Peek-a-Boo at Geneva

GENEVA (UP)—West Germany's foreign minister is steering an unusual course through the complicated by-ways of Geneva's diplomatic traffic.

In a city the size of Geneva—with numerous narrow streets and other hazards—this is no easy task.

But so far the two ministers of a pair of governments that don't recognize each other haven't even scraped fenders.

In addition to avoiding Bolz, Von Brentano also has the distinction of being a foreign minister at a foreign ministers conference which he doesn't attend.

This is a unique situation—even for such a meeting as this, which bears a strong resemblance so far to a carpenters' conference.

Up to now, the carpenters have achieved far greater results than the foreign ministers.

At least they built a round table to replace the square one at whcih the Russians didn't want to sit.

To prevent any German collisions in the conference room, and perhaps for some other reasons, the U.N. hosts to the conference have acted with resolution. They bolted both German tables to the floor.

Right to Separate Races Upheld by Court in 1896

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Supreme Court's desegregation ruling of 1954 overturned a high court decision of 1896 in which it had upheld the right of a state to separate the races provided there were "separate but equal" facilities available to white and Negro.

Only Justice John Marshell Harlan dissented from this opinion, which was in the case of Plessy vs. Ferguson, an attempt to end segregation on railroads in Louisiana.

But Most Femmes Prefer Equality, Says Zorro

Meet Guy Who Rescues Damsels in Distress

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK — Guy Williams, known to the Neilsen folks as "Zorro," has spent much of his professional life rescuing distressed damsels.

He does this only at 8 p.m. Thursdays. The rest of the week, he is not certain damsels need—or want—aid from a male.

"I am not saying that today's dames are not WORTH rescuing," said Williams.

"It is just that what they need to be saved from are certain attitudes they possess, rather than from physical dangers. I'm a happily married man. And it takes a bachelor to perform this kind of missionary work.

"I've known a lot of women, in my pre-marital days, who broke up very tender and promising relationships with equality. That sounds funny, because 'equality' in itself is a good-sounding word.

"But women were made to be loved, not equalized—and more and more of them are growing old with the realization that being boss is no fun because the slaves don't love you any more."

Williams grinned. He has the kind of overpoweringly handsome face that would melt the drive in any woman. But he has his, ah ex-model name? Janice, and he leaves the troubled modern girl to his bachelor friends . . . to rescue from her womanly wilfulness, or abandon.

Besides saving women on ABC-TV, "Zorro" Williams rescues men occasionally, and small children. ("I'll rescue anybody, I don't care.") He also has saved his own sense of humor and frankness in the face of a lot of ribbing by the intelligentsia about being the star of another one of those odious westerns.

"Look, I admit that it's not too good for the public to be served up six westerns in one evening. Everybody gets too much of a good thing—or a good guy versus a bad guy.

"But when they say you've got to worry about the quality of the Westerns, I say you've got to worry about the quality of all the stories on TV.

"Like all the series, we have some pretty good shows and some pretty bad ones. When we have our good 'Zorros' I'd stack them up against anybody's half-hour.

"People ask, how long can the Westerns stay popular on television? Tough question. The western is pure American. It has been popular since the beginning of movies, since the beginning of American entertainment.

"On the other hand, if anything can kill a trend off fast, TV is the medium to do it—by over-saturation. So you balance off the ever-popular western theme with the quick death punch of television, and maybe you'll get an answer."

Guy is a New York City boy. Has two kids, age 1 and 6. He rides and fences for a living, golfs and sails for kicks. The "Zorro" show, his first big acting job, has been successful enough to eliminate six shows, in competing time-slots.

Most TV actors, when they get this successful, begin to dream big dreams of producing, of directing, of becoming either the intellectual saviors or the Desilu-like financiers of television. So Guy was asked what he would do if he owned an hour of prime time on a major network.

"A hypothetical question, eh?" he pondered. For perhaps two seconds. "I would sell the prime time and invest the money in a real sure thing. My family."

Bunning Finds Way to Stop Killebrew, He Walks Him

Tigers Finally Beat Senators on Four Hitter

Yost, Kaline Hit Homers as Detroit Killer Fails to Get Hit

The simple maneuver kept the Washington strong boy from planting the ball high up in the left field bleachers and resulted in a 4-2 victory for Detroit over the Senators last night on Jim Bunning's four-hitter.

Bunning originally was scheduled to open the two-game Baltimore series tonight against Jerry Walker (2-0) but manager Jimmie Dykes changed his mind and went to Bunning when he heard that Roy Sievers was supposed to return to the lineup. But Sievers' duties consisted of one pinch-hitting appearance in which he flied out.

Bunning's only difficulty came in the sixth. Bob Allison and Eddie Yost traded solo homers earlier but Detroit grabbed a 3-1 lead in the top of the sixth on a single by Lou Berberet, Frank Bolling's double and Larry Osborne's single.

Up to the sixth, Bunning had yielded only two hits. The first was Allison's homer in the fourth and the other J. W. Porter's pop double that bounced out of Bolling's outstretched glove with two out in the fifth.

Bunning walked little Albie Pearson with one down in the sixth. He got Allison on a grounder to Osborne with Pearson moving to second and Killebrew was next. Another homer by Killebrew would tie the game as it did Tuesday.

So Bunning took no chances. The only pitch he threw near Harmon was the 3-0 automatic strike and even then, Killebrew showed an inclination to swing but he didn't and drew a walk instead. Jim Lemon then singled Pearson home but Julio Becquer bounced out and Bunning cruised the rest of the way to his third straight victory against three defeats.

Killebrew, killer of the Tigers and ex-manager Bill Norman, went hitless against Detroit for the first time in five games—and it marked the first time Detroit beat Washington this season. But Harmon had only two official trips last night—he walked in the first, flied out with no one on in the fourth and popped out with no one on in the eighth.

His feats in the first four games were Paul Bunyanesque eight hits in 15 official trips with six of them homers and the other two a double and single good for 13 RBI's and he scored eight times himself.

Bunning was better than in his last outing when he fanned 11 Boston batters. His strikeout figure was down to five last night but his only troublesome inning was the sixth.

The only other hit besides the ones by Allison, Porter and Lemon was a ninth inning, one-out single by Becquer but Bunning quickly got Herb Plews on a pop fly and struck out Porter to end the game.

Hal Griggs, who two-hit New York last weekend, took the loss.

Bunning could have had it easier if he'd been able to get a hit himself. Three times he went to the plate with runners in scoring position and failed to get the ball out of the infield.

Top Track Stars Assail Records

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Nationally known track and field athletes make an assault on records tonight in the 19th annual Coliseum Relays before an anticipated 40,000 fans.

Individual duels are promised in the 100 yard dash between Bobby Morrow, the 1956 triple gold medal winner in the Olympic Games, and Ray Norton of San Jose, Calif., State, who upset him at Fresno a week ago.

Eddie Southern, like Morrow a Texan, renews his futile-to-date bid to defeat the former Ohio State great, Glenn Davis, in the 440.

WELCOME HOME — Al Kaline is greeted at home plate by Harvey Kuenn after the Tiger centerfielder hit his 7th homer in the 7th inning against Washington last night. The Tigers defeated the Senators, 4-2, for their 8th win in 10 games under new manager Jimmy Dykes.

Coaches Rap Signing by Cleveland

MSU Fumes at Baseball Raid

EAST LANSING — There's no peacepipe to be smoked between the Michigan State Spartans and the Cleveland Indians.

Two MSU coaches and athletic director Biggie Munn all blasted Major League baseball for "low dealing" in signing outfielder and halfback Al Luplow from the campus.

Football coach Duffy Daugherty said "pro baseball is killing the goose that lays the golden egg."

Baseball coach John Kobs said, "That shows you how inconsiderate those birds can be, you'd think they would let him finish out the season.

The Indian raiding party signed Luplow for a bonus reportedly at $25,000 yesterday. Luplow, the leading hitter on the team, turned pro only 10 days before the end of the season.

"A club that has to use tactics like this it not only hurting the sport of baseball but all athletics and is hurting and taking unfair advantage of the boy," Daugherty said.

"They sold him a bad bill of goods and I think he probably could have got more money from another club," said Daugherty who disclosed that he talked Luplow out of signing a $4,000 contract with another club last fall.

"It's a terrible indictment against professional baseball when they induce a boy to leave the squad before the season is completed. It puts a blemish on the one trait that you look for in a boy—loyalty to the team. And Luplow showed a poor sense of timing," Daugherty said.

Kobs, coach of the U.S. Pan American games team and past president of the college baseball coaches association, long has been a severe critic of pro ball.

Kobs said that in the last 12 years, major league scouts have reached onto his teams for 63 players who hadn't used up their eligibility.

"And only two of them are in the majors—Robin Roberts and Hobie Landrith," Kobs said. "Most of them play a few years in the minors, never get to the majors except for a quick cup of coffee."

"It could get to the point where schools would refuse to put out athletic scholarships for baseball. Some southern schools already have cut them out after the majors riddled them of all their best players," Kobs said.

The Spartans, meanwhile, are fearful of another ambush by the Indians. The Cleveland club has shown decided interest in second baseman Dean Look, another halfback in the football season. Look reportedly turned down a $50,000 bonus offer last year from a big league club—believed to be Cleveland.

CAUSE OF FEUD — Michigan State was lambasting Major League baseball today and the reason is Al Luplow, outfielder who was signed by the Cleveland Indians on a bonus contract.

Braves Visited for First Time by Schoendienst

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Del Crandall put into 12 words what everyone was thinking last night when Red Schoendienst strolled into a Milwaukee Braves' clubhouse for the first time since the 1958 World Series.

"Nice to see you again," Crandall said as he shook hands with the redhead who bounced back after a bout with tuberculosis.

His teammates had been told in advance that the likeable St. Louisan might pay them a visit. They acted as though he'd never left them.

'500' Qualifiers Aim at Record

SPORTS

READY FOR TRIALS — Race driver Paul Goldsmith of St. Clair Shores, Mich., takes the track for a test run at Indianapolis. Goldsmith is driving the Demler Special and will compete in the opening of the trials which start tomorrow at the Speedway. The car is the same one which took second place last year driven by George Amick. Amick was killed in Daytona Beach this year.

4 Vet Drivers Given Strong Consideration

Dick Rathmann's 145 Mark Expected to Fall in 1st Trials Saturday

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Dick Rathmann, bigger, balder and elder of the racing Rathmann brothers, expects his 1958 10-mile record to be blasted away tomorrow in the first session of time trials for the 500-mile race May 30.

Dick said he expects the qualifying record of 145.974 miles an hour to be threatened by four drivers—his brother, Jim, of Miami; Roger Ward, Los Angeles; Johnny Thomson, Boyertown, Pa., and himself.

"It will take some steady driving around 147 to win the pole position," Dick predicted. If the San Gabriel, Calif., veteran proves a good prophet, Saturday's trials also will rub out the one lap (2½ mile) record of 146.508, set last year by Ed Elisian of Oakland, Calif.

Ellisian lost control of his car on the first lap of last year's Memorial Day race. Dick Rathmann swerved into the wall to try to miss Elisian and 14 cars were wrecked or damaged in a chain reaction. Driver Pat O'Connor was killed.

Elisian now is under suspension by the United States Auto Club, which sanctions the race, and won't be able to defend his one-lap record.

Dick will race the clock Saturday in the same McNamara Special, completely rebuilt, in which he was wrecked last year. He has been practicing at speeds up to 145 miles an hour.

Jim Rathmann has had an unofficial 147 lap in the Hopkins Special in which he set a world race record of 170.262 miles an hour on the higher-banked Daytona International Speedway last month. Ward was second in that race in the Leader Special he will drive here.

Many track veterans think Thomson, a veteran of six Indianapolis starts, will be the man to beat both in the trials and in the Memorial Day race. He has a new flat engine car, built by Lujie Lesovky of Los Angeles, which has run at 146 m.p.h. in practice with apparent ease.

U.S. Walker Cuppers Lead in Early Round

MUIRFIELD, Scotland (AP) — William Hyndman III of Abington, Pa. and Tommy Aaron of Gainesville, Ga., took a one-hold lead over their British opponents in the morning round of the Walker Cup team matches today. The heavily favored U. S. team of Harvie Ward Jr. and Dr. Frank (Bud) Taylor was one hole down.

Britain's amateur golfers, who have won the cup only once in 37 years, were putting up a strong fight in the Scotch foursome phase of the competition. In this type of play, players are paired and hit alternate shots. A second 18 holes were scheduled this afternoon.

Hyndman and Aaron rallied on the back nine after turning all even to go ahead after 18 holes against Joe Carr, the British Amateur champion, and Guy Wolstenholme, recent winner of the English title.

The latter team was regarded as Britain's best.

Ward and Taylor, an experienced California team, were one-down to Reid Jack, the Scotch veteran, and Doug Sewell, a public links player. They had been all-square at nine.

Playing captain of the U. S. team, Charlie Coe of Oklahoma City, and Billy Joe Patton of Morganton, N. C., built up an eight-hole lead over Mike Bonallack and Arthur Perowne through the morning round.

This was the most one-sided match of the four played. Coe and Patton teamed beautifully to record an even par 72 while their opponents skied to an 80.

Deane Beman, Silver Springs, Md., who reached his best form only after having his irons lightened, was off the American foursomes. He is expected to play in one of the eight singles matches Saturday.

The United States has won the Walker Cup 15 times and Britain only once—in 1938.

The first nine holes at Muirfield measure 3,450 yards, and the second nine 3,356 yards. Par for the links, judged on American standards of distance, is 36-36—72.

Hope to Take 1st, Drop Yanks

Streaking Chisox Invade New York

By The Associated Press

The hot Chicago White Sox steam into New York's Yankee Stadium tonight for the opener of a two-game series that could hoist them into the American League lead and plunk the world champions into the cellar.

A week ago, the White Sox lost their fifth in a row, but now they've won six straight after a sweep of three at Boston. The streak began when they won the last three in a four-game set with Cleveland and it's carried them within a half-game of the first place Indians, who have been idle the past two days.

The White Sox could take the lead by (1) coupling a sweep over the Yankees with a Cleveland split in two at Boston, or by (2) getting no more than a split with the Yanks should the Indians drop a pair to the Red Sox.

The Yankees, although winning four of their last six, are in seventh place, five games out of first and two games out of last. Should they drop two to the White Sox while Detroit sweeps a pair at Baltimore, the champs would replace the Tigers at the bottom.

Left-hander Billy Pierce 4-2, who salvaged a split for the White Sox in two games at Chicago two weeks ago by beating the Yankees 4-3 in 11 innings, is Manager Al Lopez' pitching choice tonight. The Yankees have tapped southpaw Whitey Ford 3-1.

The White Sox extended their longest winning streak of the year with a 14-6 romp at Boston yesterday as Early Wynn, the winningest pitcher still in business in the majors, won his 254th.

Wynn, 39, gave way in the eighth inning at Boston, giving up 10 hits and all six Red Sox runs. But he struck out seven and had a three-hit shutout for five frames while breaking a tie with Carl Hubbell, Amos Rusie and Urban Faber for 21st place in the all-time winners' list. Wynn is 5-2 for the season.

The White Sox pounded starter-loser Billy Hoeft 1-3 and three relievers for 19 hits, including home runs by Earl Torgeson, Del Ennis and Jim Landis, while scoring in eight innings. That tied the AL scoring record for a nine-inning game, a feat last accomplished 10 years ago — by the White Sox against Boston. Cleveland, New York and Boston also have done it.

Ned Garver and winning reliever Bud Daley 1-2 turned back the Orioles on four hits. Garver gave up but one, Willie Tasby's fourth-inning homer, but had to quit after injuring his hand while fielding a grounder in the fourth. The A's got a second-inning run on Roger Maris' eighth-homer—third in two games—and then cracked the tie in the seventh against Billy O'Dell 1-2. Three singles and an error broke it up.

2 NCAA Teams Named to Field

NEW YORK (AP)—Tourney perennial Arizona and newcomer Georgia Tech are the first two baseball teams to qualify for the national collegiate tournament, the NCAA announced Thursday.

Arizona, with a 34-7 record was chosen as an at-large entry for District 6 competition. This will mark Arizona's ninth straight appearance in the playoffs.

The Wildcats have gained the national championship round at Omaha four of the past five years, placing second in 1956.

Georgia Tech was named the Southeastern Conference representative in the District 3 playoff after winning the league's Eastern Division title with an 11-4 record.

Doctoring Your Golf

By DR. CARY MIDDLECOFF

DIAGNOSIS: Getting in your own way.

TREATMENT: If you are to meet the ball squarely and with power at impact, the hand and arms must have room to come into and through the hitting area without interference. To put it another way, you must get your hips and posterior out of the way to accomplish a good, solid stroke.

The time to handle this problem is when you take your stance. Move the hips and posterior back. As the drawing illustrates, the rear should protrude a bit. Your stance position should be as though you were about to sit down on a high stool.

Another benefit of this stance is that it gets the weight properly distributed, with most of it back through the heels. This will keep the body from moving forward over the ball on the downswing, thus preventing you from hitting the ball in the heel or shank of the clubface.

Tie for AHL Honors

NEW YORK (AP)—Two members of the Rochester Americans—center Rudy Migay and right wing Bill Hicke—must share the honor of being the most valuable player in the American Hockey League during the 1958-59 season.

In an unprecedented result, the two teammates tied for the Leslie Cunningham Award in the voting of sports writers and broadcasters.

Soccer Opener Sunday

DETROIT — The fabulous St. Andrew Scots make their first start of the season in the Detroit Soccer League's Major Division this Sunday afternoon at McCabe Field, facing the powerful Ukrainians at 2 p.m.

The Scots, favored to win the National Amateur Cup after their stunning victory over the Hurricanes at Harmarville, Pa., last Sunday, will be prime target for each of the other eight clubs in the powerful League.

Sunday's game will be watched closely by soccer fans. The Ukrainians won in 1957 all but one of the honors the Scots won last year.

Another game on Sunday's program will be an exhibition with Sport Club of the League facing Teutonia of Windsor at 3:40 p.m. These two teams boast virtually all-German lineups.

Saturday night's twin bill at McCabe Field will give the Kolping Rockets and White Eagles a chance to get the jump on rivals.

Robby, Boxing Group May Settle Battle

NEW YORK (AP)—A compromise agreement between Sugar Ray Robinson and the New York State Athletic Commission is expected to be revealed today.

The commission was due to take action on Robinson's status as world middleweight boxing champion today, the deadline set for him to agree to defend against Carmen Basilio.

However, lawyers for Robinson and the commission reached a voluntary agreement yesterday in the chambers of Justice Charles D. Breitel of the Appellate Division. Terms of the agreement were not disclosed.

Assistant Attorney General Irving Gault said acceptance by the 39-year-old boxer and the three-man commission could bring an end to litigation. Both, of course, must agree. However, any delay in stripping Robinson of his title would be generally regarded as a legal victory for the fighter.

St. Mike, St. Fred and Barons Lose

Eaglets Hold Baseball Lead

Orchard Lake St. Mary, behind mound ace Stan Krogulecki, held on to 1st place in the Suburban Catholic League yesterday with a 4-1 victory over St. Clement.

St. Michael and St. Frederick both went down to defeat in other loop games. Bloomfield Hills and Rochester were also baseball losers.

Krogulecki flipped his 2nd one-hitter of the season and fanned 13. Ken Kowalski started the Eaglet scoring with a bases-empty homer in the 1st. A run in the 2nd iced the verdict over the 2nd place club. OLSM is now 7-1.

St. Mike came from behind to gain a tie but two runs in the 4th wrapped up a 5-3 upset triumph for St. Rita. Dick Williams got two safeties as the Shamrocks, now 5-3, outhit the victors. Ken Biron was the loser.

St. Benedict breezed to a 10-2 romp over St. Fred as Art Massucci struck out 11 and allowed just one hit.

Held to two hits, Bloomfield Hills dropped an 8-3 Wayne-Oakland virdict to Clarenceville. Winner Jon Nelson helped put the game on ice with a bases-loaded triple. Starter John Dixon took the setback.

The biggest surprise of the day was in another W-0 game as previously invincible Milford lost its 2nd straight game after winning 9 straight. Holly downed the Redskins 6-1 with all the runs unearned. Winner Dale Coggins gave up just two bingles.

Ron Skrocki's 4-hitter coupled with good stickwork produced a 3-0 win for L'Anse Creuse over Rochester in a Tri-County game. Falcon Bill Kipp gave up just five bingles but they were bunched. Don Stivers tripled in one run and scored another. L'Anse is 2-3 in the loop and 5-6 overall.

In tennis Thursday, Cranbrook evened its record at 5-5-1 with a 7-0 shutout of Trenton. Tom Bray, Ed Sun, Ron Rieder and Steve Brown all won in singles. Doubles victors were Marv Bookstein-Tom Groff, Tony Fruehauf-Tom Roeper and Tim Coughlin-Dick Gildersleeve.

There was plenty of golf going around the area and entire state today as prep stars took part in the regionals despite the fall-like weather. Local contestants played at Flint, Farmington and Brighton.

Tomorrow will be the biggest day of the season thus far in track when those regionals are held. Finals in both sports are set for next weekend.

KEEN COMPETITOR — Frank Dodge of Fort Madison, Iowa, is 33 years old and stands only 3-feet-8, but what he lacks in size as a golfer he makes up in competitive spirit. Pro Bob Fry helped Dodge with his game and he is a consistent low 40 shooter.

Former Spartan Gridders Meet '59 Varsity 11

Blanche Martin Back to Lead Coach Duffy Daugherty's Crew

EAST LANSING — Age and experience versus youth and a new razzle-dazzle offense will be the feature of the annual Michigan State old-timer's game tomorrow afternoon in Spartan Stadium at 2:00 p.m.

Former greats such as Lynn Chandnois ('49), Don McAuliffe ('52), Bert Zagers ('54), Leroy Bolden ('54) and Walt Kowalszyk ('57) plus many other ex-Spartan gridders will face coach Duffy Daugherty's new double-winged T offense.

Blanche Martin, who was out all of last year because of an injury suffered in the 1958 old-timer game, returns as the Most Valuable Player of the present spring drills.

Martin was accorded the same honor a year ago at the annual chicken fry held before the closing of spring practice and then he severely injured his knee in the old-timers game and couldn't play in the fall.

The big fullback received a wrist watch for gaining the unanimous vote of the coaching staff as MVP.

The Spartan staff passed out awards like television Emmys. Left half Herb Adderley was named most improved player; Don Wright the outstanding veteran lineman; Pete Kakela the most promising rookie lineman and Gary Ballman the most promising rookie back. Another award went to Park Baker as the player displaying "the best attitude."

Coach of the veterans is Dorne Dibble, 30-year-old ex-Detroit Lions end who left MSU in 1950. He will probably platoon his players.

Quarterback is expected to be a problem for Daugherty next fall unless Dean Look, who missed spring practice to play baseball, comes through. Tom Wilson, Lapeer junior, will probably start for the varsity.

Four Games Played in Frigid Weather Here

Trying to keep warm while attempting to play good ball, Pontiac softballers kept running and running scoring 47 times in four games last night.

Langdon's, Moose No. 182, Drive-In Cleaners and Buttercup Drive-In proved the most hearty of the eight teams by posting triumphs.

John Mayer lost a shutout in the 7th as Langdon's tripped Sports Shop 4-1 in the top game of the night. The Moose broke up a tie with six in the last two frames to whip Harrison's Grill, 8-2.

Drive-In Cleaners got home early walloping Pontiac Retailers 16-4 in four innings. Ten of the total crossed in the 4th featuring successive homers by Art Harrison and Terry Walsh—the latter's 4th hit.

Buttercup also made quick work of Autos of Europe after scoring eight tallies in the 1st. That one ended 11-1 after 3½ innings. Davsey Reed swatted a three-run homer and batted in another with a single.

Booted Ball Costs Arrows a Victory

A "booted" grounder in the bottom of the 7th frame, last night at Drayton Park cost the Arrows a ball game, 11-10, with Lotus Lake the winner of the Waterford Township League affair. In the nightcap Dobski's came from behind a 7-3 deficit in the 2nd inning with a winning 6-run blast for a 16-7 victory over Wall's Service. Both games were in the National division.

The Arrow miscue came with two on.

Two inside-the-park homers marked the Wall's-Dobski set-to. Bender's one-run 4-bagger, double and single led Wall's, with Hudley's 3-for-4 in line. Olstrander scored his 2-run blast for Dobski's.

Monday games (American League) — 7 p.m., Snobol vs. Spencer Floors and Nonnie's vs. Drayton Drugs at 8:30 p.m.

Star Jockeys Ride Favorites in Preakness

Dancer Rated No. 1 for 11-Horse Field in Rich Test for 3-Year-Olds

BALTIMORE (AP) — A band of tight-lipped horse trainers filed into the old office at tradition-soaked Pimlico today for the formal entry of their prize colts in tomorrow's $150,000-added Preakness.

Eleven were expected to fork over their slips and $500 fees for the 83rd running of the mile-and-three-sixteenths race, in which Brookmeade Stable's Sword Dancer was rated the probable favorite. If all start, the gross purse will be $190,300 — richest ever dangled before the eyes of 3-year-old thoroughbreds.

Besides the Dancer, runner-up by a nose to Tomy Lee in the Kentucky Derby, the others were Meadow Stable's First Landing, Mrs. Halina Braunstein's Royal Orbit, Emil Dolce's Manassa Mauler, Arthur B. Hancock Jr's., Dunce, Elkcam Farm's Open View, Miss Patrice Jacobs' Our Dad, Briardale Farm's Rico Tesio, Robert S. Lytle's Sundown II, Lester G. Robinson's Marauder and Cecil B. Fischbach's Festival King.

Black Hills, the King Ranch charger, also was a probable until yesterday, when he was declared out because of illness displayed during a workout.

With Tomy Lee shipped back to California after his May 2 Kentucky Derby conquest, the Pimlico racing secretary Charles J. McLennan and mutuels manager Bob Sloan have tabbed Sword Dancer as the top contender.

In the Derby, which with the Preakness and Belmont Stakes makes up the Triple Crown of racing, First Landing finished third after experiencing plenty of early trouble in the 17-horse field. Royal Orbit was a fast-closing fourth and came back Monday to beat Manassa Mauler by half a length in the Preakness Prep.

As they did in the mile-and-a-quarter Derby, all colts will carry 126 pounds tomorrow.

Observers generally figure the race will shape up as an early contest between Sword Dancer and First Landing, with Royal Orbit and Manassa Mauler coming from off the pace.

Eddie Arcaro, the leading Preakness jockey with six victories will be aboard First Landing again but can be counted to keep his mount in closer contention during the early stage than he was in the Derby.

Willie Shoemaker, who practically lugged Tomy Lee across the finish line in Kentucky, will ride Sword Dancer in this one. A victory would make him the only rider ever to win the Derby and Preakness with different horses in the same year.

Clear weather with temperatures in the 60s was forecast for the race, which was scheduled to go off at 4:45 p.m. (EST) and will be nationally televised (4:30-5 p.m.

GOODBYE, LA — The Los Angeles Dodgers were happy to see Pirate Dick Stuart leave town. In two successive games, Stuart homered for the winning runs in the late innings as the Bucs took three of four from the Dodgers.

Campbell Sets Water Record

Hits 260.35 in England; Lombardo Confident of Going Faster

PEORIA, Ill. (AP) — "That's something to shoot at, all right. We'll have to just go a little faster."

This was the comment by Guy Lombardo, band leader and speedboat expert, on Thursday's world water speed record of 260.35 m.p.h. set by Donald Campbell in England.

Lombardo said he was confident a jet boat to be built this summer as a joint project of himself; Les Staudacher, boat designer and church pew manufacturer; and an aluminum concern would shatter Campbell's mark, probably in September.

Lombardo, here on a tour, said the boat he will pilot on Lake Mead Nev. will "be bigger, have more horsepower and more thrust" than Campbell's Bluebird.

"Our boat, at 32 feet, will be 8 feet longer and have about 2,000 more pounds of thrust than Campbell's," Lombardo said.

"We figured when we first planned our boat that we would have to design it to go 300 miles per hour. I'm confident we'll beat Campbell's record."

Winter Kill of Deer 30,000 to 40,000

LANSING (AP)—Early predictions place the winter starvation toll of Michigan deer at between 30,000 and 40,000 — higher than usual but not as high as many game experts had feared.

It was one of the toughest, coldest winters in memory and many thought at least 50,000 deer would fall victim to starvation. Tentative findings of three-man survey teams sent out by the state conservation department, however, indicate the toll will fall considerably short of early expectations.

Dodgers Happy to See Dick Stuart Leave LA

LOS ANGELES (AP) — "I guess the Dodgers'll be glad to get me out of town," said the tall young man, smiling slightly. "I really hit them up for a lot of passes to the games."

Young Dick Stuart was right about the welcome nature of his departure, but the Dodgers really didn't mind getting hit up for the free tickets. It was the home runs he hit them up for that hurt.

Things were going nicely for Los Angeles before Stuart and the rest of the Pittsburgh Pirates hit town. The Dodgers had just taken three of four from San Francisco and two straight from Philadelphia.

Then, Wednesday night, Stuart tore into one of Don Drysdale's pitches in the eighth inning and sent it flying into the seats for two runs that led to a 6-4 Pittsburgh victory.

Last night Stuart waited an inning longer, then tagged Clem Labine for the deciding run in a 7-6 Pirate victory. It was Dick's sixth homer.

Turning to free passes, Stuart reported that the Dodgers left 17 for his friends to use Wednesday and 18 last night.

Great Lakes Will Get Trout

Restoration Program Slated Starting in June at 3 Lakes

LANSING (AP) — A 10-year trout restoration program for the Great Lakes will be launched next month by the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service and the State Conservation Department.

The Great Lakes Fishery Commission which will oversee the program has set an annual planting goal of 7,500,000 yearling lake trout in lakes Michigan, Superior and Huron.

The plantings will replenish a trout population that has been greatly reduced by attacks of the lamprey eel.

Some 35,000 trout will be released in Lake Michigan June 1-5. Most of them will be one-year-olds ranging up to five inches.

From June 8-12, about 45,000 two- and three-year-old trout ranging up to 10 inches will be released at Lower Keweenaw Bay and Marquette Harbor.

Gonzales Whips Hoad

VANCOUVER, B.C. (AP)—Pancho Gonzales demonstrated his top form to 2,314 fans here last night as he whipped Australian Lew Hoad in straight sets, 6-3, 6-4, in the feature match of Jack Kramer's professional tennis show.

Seems No Letup to Aaron

By United Press International

Stop Hank Aaron!

That's the watchword now among battered, bewildered National League pitchers who are worriedly wondering if there's any end in sight.

Aaron, currently on a 19-game hitting streak, is batting a fantastic .487 and shows no sign of let-up.

The pitchers used to say that no one ever would top Hugh Duffy's record .438 set with the Boston Braves in 1894, but now they're beginning to think Aaron has a crack at it.

The 25-year-old Milwaukee mauler enjoyed one of his typical nights Thursday when he collected three-for-five in an 8-7 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals that stretched the Braves' lead to 1½ games.

Aaron's third hit, his second double of the game in the sixth inning, was the one that hurt the Cards. It came with the bases full and capped a five-run rally. Eddie Mathews added his 14th homer in the eighth but Milwaukee manager Fred Haney still had to rush Lew Burdette in from the bullpen to throttle a ninth-inning St. Louis rally.

Burdette ended the game by getting Stan Musial to hit into a double play, thus halting a three-run uprising and preserving Bob Rush's third victory.

Pittsburgh defeated Los Angeles, 7-6; San Francisco blanked Philadelphia, 8-0, and Cincinnati beat Chicago, 2-0.

Dick Stuart's ninth-inning homer snapped a 6-6 tie and gave the pirates their victory over the Dodgers. It was Stuart's second game-winning homer in as many nights and his sixth of the season.

Bob Friend, trying for his first victory, was routed in the eighth when the Dodgers scored four runs to tie the score. Roy Face came on and picked up his sixth straight victory. Roman Mejias also homered.

Young Mike McCormick hurled a three-hitter and Willie Mays clouted a three-run homer to lead the Giants to victory over the Phillies. McCormick, who scored his first victory, had a no-hitter going for 7-one-third innings before pinch hitter Granny Hamner doubled.

Gene Freese and Chico Fernandez each singled in the ninth for the other Phillies' hits. Ray Semproch was the loser.

Gus Bell's single with the bases loaded in the ninth produced all the runs in the Cincinnati-Chicago game. Joe Nuxhall went the distance for the Reds, allowing only three hits, and retiring the last 16 batters in order. Dave Hillman was the loser although Bell got his game-deciding blow off reliever Don Elston.

Prep Discus Mark

PROVIDENCE, R.I. (AP)—Al Santio, Hope High School's 6-foot-7 all-state basketball star, bettered the National Interscholastic discus record here Thursday with a toss of 161 feet, 5¾ inches. The recognized national record of 159 feet, one inch is held by Mike Lewis of Lincoln High School in San Francisco.

Wall 4 Strokes Ahead of Field at Hot Springs

Pennsylvania Pro Ties Course Record With 63 9-Under Par

Wall tied the competitive course record and posted the low competitive total of his own career yesterday with a blistering 63 over the 7,011-yard Arlington Country Club layout.

The nine-under-par tally gave him a healthy margin over Gene Littler of Singing Hills, Calif.; Jim Ferree of Winston-Salem, N. C.; Buddy Sullivan of Yba City, Calif., and Wes Ellis Jr., of Adlecress, N. J., who were bunched in the second place at 67.

Wall, reigning Masters champion and leading money winner on the 1959 PGA circuit, used only 25 putts on his torrid round which he finished with four straight birdies for a total of nine. He missed a five-foot putt from another bid on No. 6.

The leaders:

LOOKS FOR BIG BAT — Mickey Mantle looks for the big bat which he hopes will help pull the Yankees out of lowly position in the American League as the Bombers get set to meet the Chicago White Sox in New York over the weekend. The Sox are riding a six game winning streak.

Minor-Major Baseball Men Meet on Problems

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Organized baseball will try to iron out its radio-television troubles here next week.

An eight-man committee will meet with Commissioner Ford Frick and Minor League President George M. Trautman in what the latter says "could be the most important meeting ever held on this matter." The sessions are scheduled Tuesday and Wednesday.

Representing the majors will be John Galbreath of Pittsburgh, Bob Carpenter of Philadelphia, Dan Topping of New York and George Medinger of Cleveland. The minor league committee is Frank Shaughnessy, president of the International League; Frank Horton of Rochester, Bob Howsam of Denver, and Donald Walker of Portland.

Trautman today asked the "legion of baseball fans everywhere to consider why it is necessary for some restrictions to be imposed on major league television in certain areas."

He said some fans had not been enlightened as to why some telecasts are not available to them, or why occasional games are cut off before completion.

He explained:

"Television games are blacked out only when the minor league team is playing at home at a time the televised game is in progress, and even then the telecast may run up to 30 minutes before the minor league game starts. This is a simple economic fact . . . that must be recognized if we are to survive.

"I recently had a complaint from a dedicated fan who is proprietor of a tin shop. He said his Saturday afternoon was ruined when he could not get a big league game on his TV set because the local club was playing at home that afternoon.

"I asked him how much tin he could sell if a rival tinsmith set up shop across the street and gave away tin to all comers. He got the point, and I feel we've kept him as a paying fan for the minor league games, who takes his major league games on TV when the local club is on the road."

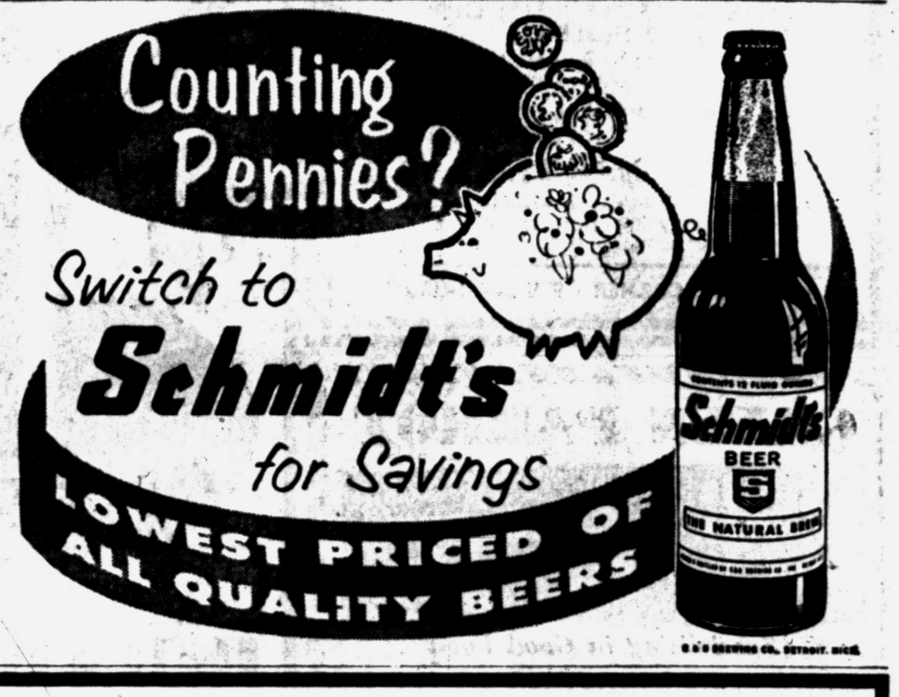
Bruins 6-4 Winners

ESSEN, Germany (AP) — The Boston Bruins built a four-goal margin in the first period and then coasted to a 6-4 victory over the New York Rangers in an exhibition hockey game before 3,000 Thursday night.

Larry Leach, Don McKenney, Leo LaBine, Jerry Toppazzini and Larry Hillman connected for the Bruins in the opening period. The Rangers' only reply was a goal by Bobby Hull.



Notre Dame Beats Michigan, 9-8

Minnesota After 2nd Big Ten Title

By The Associated Press

Minnesota, seeking its second straight Big Ten baseball pennant, opens a three game series with eighth place Iowa on the Hawkeyes' diamond Friday with the hope of strengthening its lead.

The Gophers, second in team batting with .290, take a 7-1 record against Iowa in a single game opener and will remain in Iowa City for a Saturday doubleheader.

With the conference campaign entering the semifinal weekend, Minnesota holds a 1½ game edge over Illinois and Indiana. Each has 6-3 marks.

Illinois entertains Michigan (5-4) Friday and is home to Michigan State (5-4) in a Saturday twin bill. Indiana, winner of five Big Ten games in a row, invades Northwestern (2-6) for a single contest before moving to Wisconsin (4-5) for a pair Saturday.

Other Friday single games include Ohio State (4-5) at Wisconsin, and Michigan State at Purdue (1-6). Saturday's doubleheader round includes Ohio State at Northwestern and Michigan at Purdue.

Michigan, apparently ready to make a belated push for the Big Ten baseball pennant, starts a tough weekend on the road against second-place Illinois.

The Wolverines are getting better after their early season slump. Last weekend they swept three games to climb into a fourth-place tie in the conference.

Michigan's vast improvement was evident yesterday. The Wolverines lost to Notre Dame in non-league play 9-8 at Ann Arbor. A month ago the Irish embarrassed the Wolverines 21-0.

Michigan fell behind 8-4 after three innings, but fought back to tie the score before the Irish pushed across the winner.

Baseball as It Was 100 Years Ago

Amherst and Williams Replay 1859 Contest

AMHERST, Mass. (AP) — Sideburns, slender bats and 13-man teams will prevail tomorrow when Amherst and Williams turn back the clock 100 years for a replay of the first intercollegiate baseball game.

Besides the original costumes and the now strange rules, there will be something else to take folks back to great grandad's day—a chess match.

That's the way it was on July 1 and 2, 1859 at Pittsfield, Mass., when the schools played off the challenges they'd swapped.

"Williams and Amherst
"Baseball and Chess
"Muscle and Mind."

One thing won't be the same.

Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick, American League President Joe Cronin, National League President Warren Giles and the other assembled dignitaries will be treated to a much abbreviated form of the original which Amherst won 73 to 32 after 3½ hours and 26 innings.

Meanwhile three-man squads will match wits nearby in chess. Amherst took the 1859 version by forcing the Williams players to forcing the Williams players to throw in their pawns and royalty on the 48th move.

It all began on a spring morning at the Amherst chapel when a group of students decided to challenge Williams to a baseball match. Williams accepted and offered a return challenge in chess.

Henry Hyde, the Amherst "thrower," was the star of the baseball test. He went the distance and his effectiveness led to a rumor among Williams supporters that he was a blacksmith brought in for the game.

The two schools have been competing ever since and they still don't agree. One says Amherst leads the series 84-81 and the other pegs the margin at 97-93-1.

The prevailing rules to be demonstrated tomorrow include 13 players to a side, only one out to a team's time at bat, a tiny, two-ounce ball, bats not much thicker than a broom handle and a 60-foot square infield. There was no foul territory so a hit could be made in the direction of the catcher.

After the old-timers game, the Williams and Amherst squads will play a varsity contest a la 1959, spruced up by accelerated rules, (no warmups etc).

Ninth Team Enters Industrial Cage Loop

DENVER (AP) — The National Industrial Basketball League added its ninth team Thursday awarding a franchise to the Technical Tape Corp of New Rochelle, N.Y.

The New York team will be coached by Stan Stutz, former official of the National Basketball Assn. It replaced the MacDonald Scots team of Lake Charles, La., awarded a franchise in March.

Officials of the Lake Charles entrant said Louisiana's laws against white and colored players competing against one another forced them to withdraw.

Also given franchises in March were the Allen Investment Co. of Boulder, Colo., which will play its home games at San Francisco, and the Cleveland Sweeny Pipers.

Holdover members are Denver, Bartlesville, Okla.; Akron, Ohio; Peoria, Ill.; Seattle and Wichita, Kan. Denver won the league championship last season.

Bald Mt. Ace for Orion Man

Sterling "Stid" Schaar, veteran Lake Orion golfer, became the 4th player to score a hole-in-one at Bald Mountain Golf Club this year when he aced the 170-yard 17th hole with his 6-iron.

It was the 1st ace in 30 years of golfing for Schaar, who lives at 41 Smith Court. Witnessing the feat were Bert Hauxwell and Ken Bresett, both from Orion. "Stid" carded a 90 for 18 holes.

Three of the four Bald Mountain aces have come on the 17th green.

MGM Really Plans Film About Author of 'Ben Hur'

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD — Believe me it's no idle press agent's tale that MGM has made plans to film the life story of Gen. Lew Wallace, author of "Ben Hur."

I thought it was a boost for "Ben Hur," especially since Charlton ("Ben Hur") Heston will play the colorful Gen. Wallace. But it's all true that plans are being made to make this picture by the end of the year.

The idea was born when research was being done on "Ben Hur." The general's life sounds fictional it's so fantastic. Here are a few of the highlights: when Wallace was a general in the civil war his Indiana regiment saved Washington, D. C. from the confederates.

Later, when he became governor of New Mexico, he tangled with Billy the Kid—Billy taking a shot at him through a window as Wallace sat writing "Ben Hur."

Says Russians Move Troops Near Tibet

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP) — A Chinese Nationalist news agency reported today that two divisions of Soviet troops arrived last week in Red China's Sinkiang Province bordering Tibet.

The Tatao Agency, operated by the Justice ministry, claimed its information came from underground agents in Shanghai.

The agency said the Chinese Communists invited the Soviets to send the divisions — one infantry, the other Cossack cavalry — to help cope with any big uprising that might break out.

The Communists have admitted recently that there have been clashes with rebels in Sinkiang.

Earlier in the week travelers from Tibet reaching India reported seeing about 250 Soviet troops arriving at Gyangtse, south of the Tibetan capital of Lhasa.

Ekberg Sheds Mate; Cites Case of Jitters

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP)—Anita Ekberg says her husband was so jealous that she once had to be hospitalized because of jitters.

The 27-year-old Swedish actress was granted a divorce Thursday from Anthony Steel, 41. The British actor didn't contest the divorce and did not appear in court.

They married in Florence, Italy, May 22, 1956 and separated last Jan. 15. They had no children.

Outside Attorney Offer to Defend Ex-Beauty Queen

LITTLETON, Colo. (AP) — Attorneys from five states have offered to defend Dixie Ann Gottfried, 30, a former beauty contest winner charged with armed robbery.

The charges were filed in Arapahoe County District Court Thursday. They stem from a drugstore robbery in which $131 in cash and narcotics were taken.

Dist. Judge Harold Harrison named a local attorney to defend Mrs. Gottfried.

Bill Maraggos, chief investigator for the Arapahoe County Sheriff's Office, said attorneys from Baton Rouge, La., Chicago, New York City, Louisville, Ky., and Oklahoma City had offered to come to this Denver suburb, at their own expense, to defend Mrs. Gottfried. Maraggos did not identify the attorneys.

Arraignment of the girl is set for next Tuesday, not far from Centennial Racetrack where she reigned as Miss Colorado Jaycee last July.

Search for Lost Dog to Help Injured Man

JACKSON (AP) — Charles Rosebrook was driving his truck through Jackson last April when his dog, Spotty, jumped from the cab at a stop and failed to return.

Rosebrook, 53, was injured in an accident a few days later and now is in a Marion, Ohio, hospital. The doctors say he keeps calling for his lost dog.

They ask that if anyone knows where Spotty, an English setter, is to let them know. They say Spotty could help Rosebrook recover.

Couple 'Attend' Banquet Day Before It Was Due

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (UPI) — Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Preston arrived at a downtown hotel restaurant here, found seats, ate dinner and then settled back for the speeches.

Only then did they realize that the $4-a-plate banquet for which they had purchased tickets wasn't scheduled until the next day.

Proposes U.S., Russia Have Mother Exchange

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Rep. David S. King (D-Utah) proposes that the United States and Soviet Russia try to ease cold war tensions by arranging an exchange visit of 100 mothers from each country.

"Nearly everyone, except mothers, has had a try at winning the peace," he said in a statement yesterday. "I urge that we now give mothers a chance."

Castro's Son Hurt in Auto Accident

HAVANA (AP) — Fidel Castro Jr., 9-year-old son of Cuba's revolutionary prime minister, was under observation of doctors today as a result of injuries suffered in an automobile accident. The first examination, however, indicated the boy was not seriously hurt.

Five other persons, including young Castro's driver, were injured in the three-car collision near Tarara, 12 miles northwest of Havana, Thursday.

The child suffered painful body contusions.

Prime Minister Castro rushed to the hospital to see his son, then kept an appointment to participate in a 2½-hour television interview.

Young Castro, in school in New York during the rebellion against Fulgencio Batista, was returned to Havana soon after Batista fled Jan. 1. His mother and father are divorced.

Soldier Gives His Medal When the Queen Inquires

LONDON (UPI) — Queen Elizabeth's curiosity was rewarded with a medal yesterday.

The queen was reviewing 1,000 members of the all-veteran Corps of Commissionaires in the garden of Buckingham Palace and started to award long service medals to five old-timers.

She expressed curiosity about the design of a medal worn by one of the men and he gave it to her.

Who's Family Gardener?

That old quip about not plowing garden space bigger than your wife can take care of is slander for many a male gardener. The Men's Garden Clubs of America are pretty well organized and not only concern themselves with out-producing each other.

They have a well-planned, thoroughly effective national testing program for new flowers which gathers information about adaptability, comparison with older strains, and influences the success of many a hopeful introduction.

An estimated 400,000 persons in the United States have pneumonia each year.

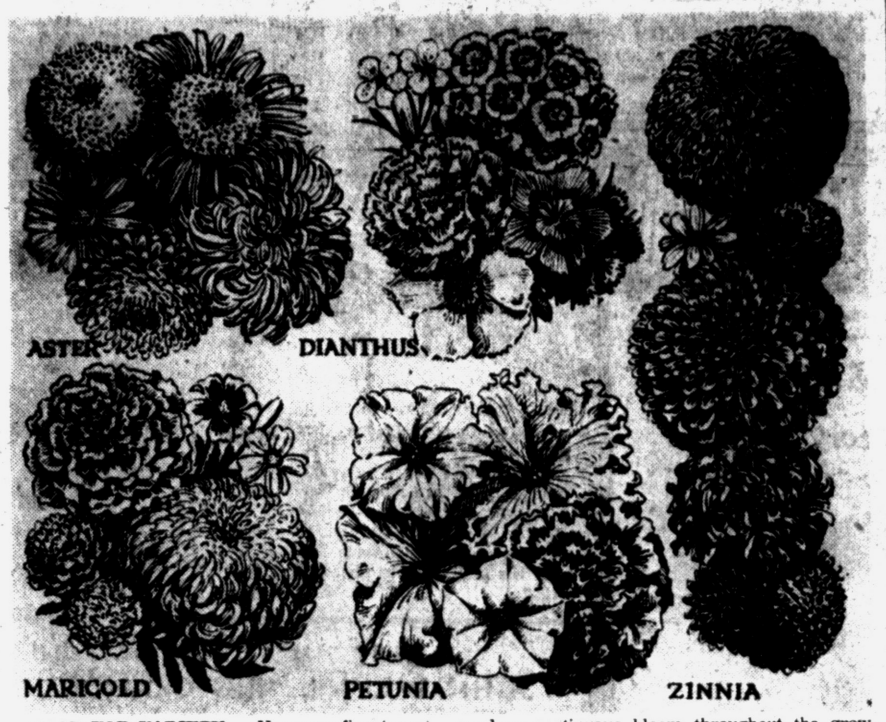
Farm and Garden News



GOOD FOR VARIETY — Here are five types of annual flowers and their respective families clustered together. With some planning, you can produce continuous bloom throughout the growing season by using the various annuals.

Plan Variety Garden

Garden design is limited only by the gardener's imagination, with the many, many species of annual flowers whose seed is now commercially available.

With a little planning, the gardener can produce continuous bloom throughout the growing season in a wide variety of sun and soil conditions.

By sowing appropriate annual species, he can eat his cake and have it, too—produce a rainbow of color for his grounds and, at the same time, bring the beauty of fresh-cut flowers into his home.

For best effects, even "self-seeding" annuals should be sown fresh each year, in order to maintain the carefully developed colors and sizes which have been achieved by horticultural scientists.

Three of the most popular and hardy annuals are zinnias, petunias and marigolds.

ZINNIAS EASY

Zinnias are easily grown in all sections of the country. Among varieties which give one of the broadest ranges in color, flower size and plant height in the annual category, are Dahlia flowered, Linearis, Lilliput, California giant, Fantasy, Mexican and Scabiosa.

Petunias, popular border flowers, flourish in sunny or partly shady areas. They are suitable also for window boxes, hanging baskets and rock walls. Some varieties are striped, giant, dwarf double, frilled.

Marigolds may be sown as late as June for fall blooming, which continues until hard frost. Among varieties are carnation type, double French, button, chrysanthemum, single French.

Dianthus varieties (pinks) have a long flowering season. In the species are such varieties as rock pink, carnation, Chinese pink, Dianthus plumaris and Sweet William.

Asters yield long-lasting cut flowers and are especially suited for bouquets. Types include such varieties as ball, single, two commercial varieties and Giant California Sunshine.

Largest Flower Show Now in Switzerland

One of the largest flower shows in the world will take place on the shores of the Lake of Zurich, Switzerland from April 25, 1959 to October 11th. 1,600,000 square feet of ground will be converted into a panorama of beautiful flowers for the first Swiss Horticultural Exhibition.

As part of the exhibition which will cover both shores of the Lake of Zurich, "poets' gardens," "philosophers' gardens," "lovers' gardens" and "French gardens" modeled after those of 18th Century Paris will be created. In addition, there will be a variety of modern suburban landscaping on display.

Special features of the horticultural exhibition will include music and theatrical performances, fashion shows, ballet and many unique exhibitions of flowers from all over the world. Several restaurants will be constructed which will serve rare Swiss specialties.

Transportation for visitors between both shores of the Lake of Zurich will be provided by a chair lift.

Transplant Flowers

When one sets out flower plants in the garden remember that even though the garden soil may be moist it is important to give the plants a good drink of water immediately to settle the soil around them.

TREE DRESSING — To prevent the flow of sap and to seal against moisture and decay, it's a good idea to use a tree wound dressing as a protective seal for pruned or damaged trees. Don't run the risk of rotting before it heals. Above is an easily applied dressing in a push-button spray can.

Test for Live Rosebushes

By WAYNE B. SIEFERT
County Horticultural Agent

The winter of 1958 will long be remembered by rose growers as the one which ruined their rose bed.

Though covering the crown of the plants with soil or leaves is a common and effective method of preventing winter damage, a surprise freeze at Thanksgiving time caught many unprepared. Temperatures near and below zero not only froze the branches, but also killed the roots in many cases.

Hybrid teas and floribundas seem most severely damaged, with ramblers least damaged. Careful inspection will easily tell whether the plant is alive or dead.

Where plants are severely frozen, but still alive, young buds, usually red in color, will be present near or on the crown.

If the canes appear to be alive, but no growing buds are seen, scrape the bark with a knife so you can see the wood. If the wood is white, the cane is alive, but if the wood is dark, it is dead. If the entire plant is dead the crown is often loose.

For those plants which are alive, now is the season to remove all the dead wood and fertilize. Fertilizing now and again in June will promote vigorous growth to build up the plant and produce many large and colorful blooms.

A suggested fertilizer rate is one heaping tablespoon for each plant now and again in late June. For large plants this may be doubled.

Though a 5-10-5 is often used and promotes very good growth, many have found their lawn fertilizer promotes very satisfactory growth and bloom.

Many of us get involved in the project of moving trees and shrubs. One of the questions that often arises is: when is the best time to move trees and shrubs?

Though spring and fall are both good times, the spring seems slightly the better. There is one problem with this spring planting. When the buds of a tree or shrub begin to grow, the plant will not survive transplanting very well. So if spring planting is for us, do it now.

Petunias Need Pruning

Along towards the middle or end of the summer the petunia plants in the garden begin to sprawl in a most ungraceful fashion. Plant one of the three F-1 hybrid petunias which always stays compact and never does get sprawly. They are Red Satin, Pink Satin and Peach Satin.

Use Seven Simple Rules; Keep Spring Posies Fresh

This is the time of year for tulips and daffodils.

Whether one gets the flowers from a florist, as a gift, or from her own garden, here are a few simple rules to keep them fresh for several days longer than one may have thought possible.

1. Wrap the flowers in several folds of newspaper, using string or elastic bands. Then plunge the flowers into cold water up to their necks, allowing them to stand for three or four hours in a cool room. The newspaper will keep the stems in an upright position while they grow tough and firm in the cold water.

2. Use a sharp knife in cutting stems. A scissors will pinch the stems and make it hard for them to draw up water. The more water in the stems, the firmer they will be.

3. Flower stems should be cut at a slant before being placed in a vase. Stems cut at a slant will not rest flat against the bottom of the vase, and can draw water easily. Cut flower stems under water to keep air bubbles from forming in the stems.

4. Three to four inches of water is enough for tulips and daffodils in an arrangement.

5. Flowers love light. Turn the vase once a day to keep flowers from turning all in one direction towards the source of light.

LIGHT AIDS

6. If tulips should droop, straighten them by placing them under an overhead light. When the light is strong, one can actually watch the flowers lift their heads. Be careful, though not to bring heat to bear on the flowers when using light in this manner.

7. If tulips and daffodils come from the garden, cut the stems with a sharp knife, near the bottom. Be sure not to take more than one leaf with each flower. The leaves are needed to produce food for the new bulb forming underground that will produce the flowers for next spring's garden.

LIGHTS GARDEN — Home garden lights, once hidden behind clumps and hedges, can now come out of hiding and stand alone as a decorative addition to floral display.

Georgia Retains Picturesque Old Road Names

ATLANTA (UPI)—The State of Georgia, without a doubt, has some of the oddest named roads in existence.

For example, there's Po Biddy road in Talbot and Upson counties. Thomaston Fire Chief C. M. McDaniel explained that the name commemorates a family's pet chicken, served up when the preacher came to dinner.

Bumphead road runs from Americus to LaCrosse, and old-timers claim the name commemorates a strenuous game Indian bucks used to play in the vicinity, each grasping his opponent by the shoulders.

They would then proceed to butt heads until one of them passed out or released his grip.

Nowhere road is in Clarke and Madison counties, north of Athens. It has been Nowhere road for more than a century, reportedly because it had no destination.

Other picturesquely named roads in Georgia are Shakerag road, Welcome All road, Brittle road, Tobacco Pouch Creek road, Crack Church road, Frying Pan Gap road and Poverty Creek road. There is also a Hard-Up road, an Egg and Butter road and a Poor Robin road.

Odd Relationships

There are some odd relationships in the plant world. Would you believe that the lovely Royal Carpet Alyssum is cousin to the lowly cabbage? Queen Anne's Lace Flower and carrots are as closely related as brother and sister.

Hibiscus and cotton have ancestors in common, and not so far back either. But perhaps most surprising of all is the fact that a bright, gay mixture of petunias like the new and floriferous Confetti is tied by blood lines to the tobacco in your cigarette.

Five Canadian Planes Ordered by U.S. Firm

WASHINGTON (AP)—Seaboard & Western Airlines today announced a 25 million dollar order for five Canadian-built prop-jet air freighters.

The airlines, which operates an all-cargo trans-Atlantic service said the planes, known as CL44D-4s, were ordered from Canadair, Ltd., a Montreal subsidiary of General Dynamics Corp.

The Jacobsen TURBO-VAC Grass Catching Rotary

Model 75
TURBO-VAC GRASS CATCHING ROTARY
18-inch cutting width
2¼ hp Jacobsen Hi-Torque Engine
Recoil Starter
$139.50

This is the amazing new three-season power mower that keeps your lawn spic-'n-span spring, summer and fall. Eliminates raking or sweeping . . . cleans your lawn in the spring, catches crabgrass seeds in summer, removes smothering leaves in autumn.

The Safest Rotary Mower Made

Park superintendents say the TURBO-VAC is ideal for playgrounds or wherever children are present, because the tough, covered grass catcher collects grass, solid objects and other debris. Also handy around swimming pools or tennis courts to prevent tracking clippings into the area.

- Clippings are reduced to fine particles and are evenly distributed in catcher.
- So easy to lift off or replace the grass catcher, even while engine is running.
- Catcher fits over tip on discharge chute.
- Unique flip-top design for easy emptying of grass catcher.

Hamlin School PTA to Install Officers Monday

AVON TOWNSHIP — Installation of officers will highlight the final meeting this year of the Hamlin School PTA to be held at 8 p.m. Monday at the school.

A new president will be elected at this session to replace Kenneth Arneil, recently named to that post, who has moved to the West Coast.

Mrs. Carroll Flanigan, president of the Rochester Area PTA Council, will preside at the installation.

After the ceremony, a discussion will be held on the results of the recent survey made by the Hamlin PTA.

The organization then will present a tape recorder, tapes, a record player and records to the school for use by both students and teachers.

Refreshments will be served at the close of the meeting by Mrs. Minnie Thorpe, school principal, and Mrs. Laraine Schweig, fifth grade teacher.

'Island Queen' Passes Tests

U.S. Coast Guard OKs Sight-Seeing Vessel at Kensington Park

MILFORD — A final water test of the sight-seeing boat "Island Queen" was made on Kent Lake at Kensington Park today by the U.S. Coast Guard and she came through with flying colors.

Launched yesterday in preparation for today's federal government inspection, the Queen is now just a little more modern than her original builder Dick Hoffman of Saugatuck had planned.

Instead of a hand pump for eliminating bilge water and manually operated fire extinguishers, the 60-foot replica of an early Mississippi riverboat now has a hydraulic pump which also can be used in case of fire.

Batteries are secured in new casings and three Coast Guard-licensed officers are being recruited as operators, according to superintendent of the park, Dave Laidlaw.

With today's final stamp of approval by the Coast Guard, the 27-horse power Island Queen is waiting at the landing to take weekend passengers on the 13-mile cruise along the scenic shoreline beginning May 23. Daily operation has been scheduled to start June 15.

Safe Driving Road-E-O to Test Teens Sunday

The test will be conducted in the parking lot of the Tel-Huron Shopping Center beginning at 9:30 a.m., according to Sam Grabiel, chairman.

All teenagers who will not reach their 19th birthday by Aug. 13 and have either a driver's license or driver's training permit are eligible to enter the contest. They also must not have a traffic violation record.

Winner of the city contest will compete in the state finals June 6 at Midland and will receive a large Jaycee trophy. Plaques will be given to those who place second and third.

Purpose of the Road-E-O is to give teens an opportunity to demonstrate to themselves and their community that they are interested in increasing their knowledge of traffic laws and improving their driving ability, Gabriel said.

Other committee chairmen of the event are Armen Googasian, scoring; Kenneth Fox, rules and regulations, and Rex Egres, equipment and layout. Cy Owens, Inc., and R&R Motors, Inc., are supplying the autos for the contest.

The state winner will receive a $500 scholarship and an all-expense paid trip to the national finals in Washington, D.C. August 10-12.

Entry blanks for the local contest may be obtained at any city high school or Osmun's Town and Country Store at the Tel-Huron Shopping Center.

William Thomas Elected President of State Group

William Thomas, president of Thomas Economy Furniture Co., has been elected treasurer of the Michigan Furniture Assn., division of the Michigan Retailers Assn.

Elections were conducted at the retailers annual meeting and legislative conference in Lansing Wednesday.

Rep. George M. Van Peursem, former speaker of the House of Representatives, told the conference retailers should unite to compete legislatively with other special purpose groups.

"The retail industry will suffer otherwise," Van Peursem warned.

Howard C. Grimes, of Lansing, called for a grass-roots organizational movement among retailers. Grimes was re-elected president of the state association.

Winter Wheat Forecast: Close to Billion Bushels

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agriculture Department has forecast this year's winter wheat crop at 956,615,000 bushels.

This figure is 9,622,000 bushels less than last month's forecast of 966,236,000 bushels. It compares with last year's record high of 1,179,924,000 bushels and with the 10-year (1948-57) average of 814,784,000 bushels.

No forecast was given for spring wheat, which has just been seeded.

Walled Lake Man Hurt as Auto Rams Truck

Oakland County Sheriff's Deputies said Marens, driving north on Haggerty failed to see a pickup truck ahead of him and rammed into it from behind, sending it smashing into another car ahead.

Marens told deputies he didn't see any tail lights. He is in satisfactory condition with a fractured knee at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital. The truck driver, William L. Reed, 39, of Davisburg, and his wife, Ruth, 34, who was driving the car, were both uninjured, said deputies.

3 County Postmasters Finish Course

Now back on the job, "much the wiser," they agree, are acting postmasters, Paul L. Beyett of Keego Harbor, Robert W. Fagan of Holly and Robert H. Gorsline of Milford.

The four-day course is part of Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield's training program to help postal employes get a better understanding of their positions.

During the four school-days in Chicago, the postmasters class of 15 fledgling postal administrators discussed operational, personnel, accounting and transportation problems with staff members of the Midwest regional office there.

Also included was a trip through the vast Chicago Post Office, largest mail-handling facility in the world.

Troy Man Talks to Belgian King

Contractor With Group That Meets Monarch at Wayne Airport

TROY — Two brief contacts with Belgium's young King Baudouin were enjoyed yesterday by Paul de Pauw of 1800 E. Long Lake Rd.

DePauw, a general contractor, was among the Belgian-American group that greeted the king upon his arrival at Wayne Airport.

As president of the Robin Hood Archery Club, De Pauw presented the club's flag to the 28-year-old bachelor monarch.

In the evening, leaders of Belgian groups in the area, including De Pauw, met with the king for a short, informal visit.

"He's a real nice guy," DePauw said of King Baudouin. "He spoke to us in French, Flemish and American, and he seemed just like anybody else in the crowd."

De Pauw said the visit was necessarily brief because of the tight schedule maintained for the king.

Indict Dealers on Price Fixing

Cy Owens Among 22 Charged With Antitrust Violations in Area

DETROIT (AP) — A grand jury in U. S. District Court here today indicted the Metropolitan Detroit Ford Dealers, Inc., and 22 area Ford dealers on charges of violating the Sherman Antitrust Act.

Among the dealerships on the indictment was Cy Owens Inc., of Pontiac.

The two-count indictment accused the association and dealers of conspiring to raise, fix and stabilize prices on cars, parts and accessories.

It also charged the dealers with conspiring to set car prices at a level that would guarantee them a gross profit of at least $225 on each unit sold.

A similar indictment was returned Jan. 23 against the Chevrolet Dealers Assn., Inc., of Detroit and 22 Chevrolet dealers.

Ford dealers named in the indictment were:

John Barber, Inc., Belleville; Clarence Bell, Inc., Detroit; Bill Brown, Inc., Detroit; Lewis F. Brown, Inc., Detroit; Hi Dawson, Inc., Detroit; Bob Ford, Inc., Dearborn; Gorno Bros., Inc., Trenton; Stark Hickey, Inc., Detroit; Johns Bros., Inc., Detroit; Al Long, Inc., Detroit; Dick Lutz, Inc., Flat Rock, and North Bros., Inc., Garden City.

Rice-O'Green Ford, Inc., Detroit; Floyd Rice Ford, Inc., Detroit; Clem Rinke Ford, Inc., Warren; Smith-Briggs, Inc., Detroit; Alfred F. Steine Co., Detroit; Bud Truba Ford, Inc., Berkley; Trudell Ford, Inc., Base Line; Harold Turner, Inc., Birmingham, and Stuart Wilson, Inc., Dearborn.

2 Sheriff's Deputies End FBI Course

Two Oakland County sheriff's deputies were graduated today from the Federal Bureau of Investigation training course, sponsored by the Southeasten Michigan Chiefs of Police Assn.

Roland Pless and Medward Tessier became the latest department members to finish the three phases of training.

Both men are Walled Lake residents, Pless, 32, joined the department in February, 1956, and Tessier became a deputy in June, 1957.

Southfield Motorist Held in Two Deaths

Police are holding William W. McCaffrey, 28, of 15619 W. 13 Mile Rd. for investigation of negligent homicide, following an accident this morning in which the two women were killed while crossing Woodward avenue.

Victims were Mrs. Janet Hanson, 63, and Mrs. Penny Beaulieu, about 30, both of Detroit.

McCaffrey, who is employed as a bartender in Detroit, was driving his car north when it struck the women about 15 feet from the curb.

Reason to Complain

LONDON (UPI) — Farmer Ralph Boting drove to the National Farmer's Union office to complain about the junk dumped in one of his fields in one month. The junk, which he carried in his truck, included: Five bicycle wheels, a wire mattress, a fender, a car wheel, car seat, bike frame, several baby buggy wheels, a garbage can lid, a scooter frame and a large opened can of putty.

Area Girls to Vie for State Honor

Contest to Pick Winner Will Begin Monday in East Lansing

They are: Macomb County Dairy Princess Delphine Browarski of 3525 W. 32 Mile Rd., Romeo; Lapeer Dairy Princess Carol Dale of 101 Larson Rd., Attica; and Oakland County Princess Janet Long of 3988 Sleeth Rd., Milford.

Each of the contestants has been selected as an excellent representative of the dairy industry for the county she represents. All have dairy farm backgrounds, are single and between the ages of 16 and 25.

The American Dairy Assn. of Michigan is sponsoring the two-day event in which the state Dairy Princess and two alternates will be chosen.

The winner will be eligible to compete in the national contest for the coveted title of National Dairy Princess at a later date.

Avon Hospital Guild Plans Tuesday Meeting

Members have been requested to bring their trading stamp books. Refreshments will be served.

House Committee Boils Over Department's 'Disregard for Law'

Funds for Agriculture Slashed $142 Million

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Appropriations Committee accused the Agriculture Department today of "complete disregard for the law," criticized its policies, and cut its 1960 funds by $142,199,365.

In recommending $3,939,165,498 for the department's activities for the year starting July 1, the committee called for a much more active program of selling surplus commodities overseas.

Along with that criticism, it contended that many of the department's operations "are of more benefit to the general public than to the farmer."

$42 MILLION CHOPPED

For the department's regular activities, the committee recommended $1,235,643,585, a cut of $42,199,365 from the President's requests.

For the Commodity Credit Corp. which handles surplus commodities and other farm programs, it allotted $2,703,521,913, a cut of 100 million dollars. It said "this amount can be obtained by a return to competitive sales as directed by the law."

For loan programs, which are not direct appropriations, it approved 421 million dollars. This was an increase of 33 millions, all of it for the Farmers Home Administration which handles production and subsistence and farm ownership loans. The Rural Electrification Administration's share of the loan authorizations was 215 millions, the amount requested.

The committee criticized what it called the department's failure to sell its surplus commodities on a competitive basis throughout the world. The existing policy, it said, "has invited expansion in foreign production" and has boosted storage and handling costs to the Commodity Credit Corp.

Failure to make world sales of surplus cotton, the committee said, "shows a complete disregard for the law," and "can only lead to further damage to the U.S. farmer, the Treasury, and the taxpayer."

The committee said it was convinced that acreage reductions through the soil bank or other restrictions "no longer work." The acreage reserve section of the soil bank program, it said, has "no real effect on production" and has resulted in "wasteful practices."

What is needed, it added, is to hold farm production more in line with the needs of domestic and foreign markets, a goal it said will not be attained by cutting price supports or renting acreage to the soil bank.

Scientists Look Ahead

Men on Planets in Few Decades

WILMINGTON, Mass. (AP) — Men will be on other planets within the next few decades.

But it may be many centuries before they get beyond the solar system.

FOUR NEW RAYS

And they'll find a whole new variety of happenings going on in the universe because they will have four new kinds of rays to "see" with as soon as they get outside the curtain of the earth's atmosphere.

The new knowledge may reveal to man a better understanding of the workings of the universe. And with greater understanding will come new mastery over nature.

These were among predictions made by top scientists Thursday. But they repeatedly warned they all depended upon a big "if." They said it will be up to mankind to decide whether scientific and technological advancement in the space age will produce beneficial results or lead instead to the destruction of our civilization.

The scientists met at the dedication of one of the largest facilities in the world for solution of space problems — the six-building Avco Research Center to be staffed by 2,300 scientists and technicians.

Speakers included the famous British astronomer and cosmologist, Thomas Gold, now a professor at Harvard University; Dr. Harold C. Weber, chief scientific adviser to the U. S. Army and a professor of chemistry at Massachusetts Institute of Technology; Dr. Clifford C. Furnas, chancellor of the University of Buffalo and former assistant secretary of defense for research and development; Dr. Hans Bethe, nuclear physicist and a key figure in developing the atomic bomb, and various other science leaders.

LEADING CONTRACTOR

Avco is the nation's leading research contractor on the problem of missile re-entry

Dr. Arthur R. Kantrowitz, director of the Avco-Everett Research Laboratory, has announced that Avco had achieved shock waves of a million-miles-an-hour velocity in their Everett laboratory similar to shock waves sent out by storms on the sun.

The shock wave research was carried on as part of the testing program for nose cone re-entry.

Butterflies Wing Way Over Globe

Migrate Thousands of Miles in the Autumn; Return in Spring

WASHINGTON — Many butterflies and moths are notorious tourists. Yet little is known about their travels.

In autumn billions of the frail insects take off in rainbow hordes for places that are hundreds, even thousands of miles distant, the National Geographic Society says.

In springtime, as food plants thrust from the warming earth, they gradually rise on faded, travel-worn wings to start home. It is not known definitely whether any of them live long enough to complete the round trip.

The search for food causes seasonal migration in a few cases. But none of the 250-odd migrant species of Lepidoptera show the same patterns of behavior. In general the impulse to migrate may come from deep-rooted instinct or external factors such as overcrowding.

Another suggestion is that the insects are fleeing from predators in the instinctive hope of multiplying elsewhere in peace.

The Painted Lady (Pyrameis cardui) of Europe spans the Mediterranean. In springtime, swarms originate somewhere in Africa, descend on the coastal areas in April, and fly to Europe. Some carry on to Iceland.

Other migrants include the Cloudless Sulphur (Phoebis sennae or eubule), the Great Southern White (Ascia monuste), the Snout Butterfly (Libythea bachmani), the California Tortoise Shell (Aglais californica), and the very unwelcome Cotton Leafworm Moth (Alabama argillacea).

Spring lures these moths from their unknown tropical American home, and they breed several generations in cotton fields. Then, inexplicably, they get wanderlust. Millions appear in the Northeastern States and Canada, areas where it would seem impossible that a single one could survive.

The Department of the Interior was the seventh division of the executive department of the United ablishmtten by tac of congrtess in 1849.

Nash Admits Shot, Police Officer Says

north," Nash said Jones told him when he was released. Nash said Jones then told him he "wanted me to take care of somebody."

ACCEPTS OFFER

Nash said he accepted the offer and was told on the way to Detroit with Jones April 3 "there would be money in it for you."

However, there wasn't as much money involved as Nash and the other two expected. Nash told detectives he and Jones were informed by Hicks that Lassiter always carried at least $5,000 on him, and was sure he would have this much upon his return from a business-pleasure trip to New Mexico and Arizona.

Nash also poked holes in the story given by Hicks, who was managing Lassiter's Detroit Car Co. lot, 2614 N. Woodward Ave., while he was away.

Hicks had said he was "too drunk" to remember what happened on the night of the shooting.

'HICKS SENT HIM'

Nash said it was Hicks who sent him into the Willow Run Airport to page Lassiter. When he got into their waiting car, Nash said he recalls Lassiter reprimanding Hicks for drinking while he was supposed to be in charge of the lot.

Confronted with Nash's new story and confession, Hicks added to his earlier story and said he remembered "very clearly" seeing Nash shift the revolver from his hip to a spot in his back when he went into the terminal to page Lassiter.

According to Capt. Fred E. Davids, State Police district commander, Hicks said it was Nash and not he who feigned sickness to have Jones stop the car on a side road off the Willow Run Expressway.

"I remember hearing a splat," Davids quoted Hicks as saying. "This must have been when they (Nash and Jones) hit him. When I heard a shot fired I took a big drink."

Both Nash and Jones say they recall Hicks sitting in the car while they robbed Lassiter, and saying: "Shoot him," according to Davids.

'WELL DONE'

Davids said that Nash and Jones heard Hicks add, "That's a job well done" as the three of them drove away from the murder scene after leaving Lassiter dumped in a drainage ditch. He was found there April 8.

Jones and Hicks both say they didn't expect Nash to shoot Lassiter when he did, hoping they wouldn't be around to become implicated, Davids said.

According to Jones, he and Hicks had been planning the robbery of Lassiter since March, and when Jones went to Chattanooga to sell two cars for Hicks he sought out Nash and found him in jail.

Final Settlement Decree on Andrea Doria Signed

NEW YORK (AP)—A final decree settling all outstanding litigation in the sinking of the liner Andrea Doria was signed Thursday by Federal Judge John W. Clancy.

The ship went down off Nantucket after a collision July 25, 1956, with the liner Stockholm. Fifty lives were lost.

Cat Rides the Rails

BOGNOR REGIS, England (UPI)—This pussy cat went to London, but didn't see the Queen. Elfreda King said her Siamese kitten climbed on the undercarriage of a train, made the 120-mile round-trip to London and back, and ended up the next day "black as soot and smelling of smoke."

Business and Finance

Wheat Is Near Season's Low

CHICAGO (AP) — May wheat slumped as much as a cent a bushel today at the opening of the board of trade but the broad setback was only momentary and it recovered a degree of steadiness quickly.

On the setback it was within a half cent of another new low price for the season.

New crop months firmed up slightly but other gains were narrowly mixed and soybeans steady to strong in early dealings. May soybeans moved ahead a major fraction.

Trade was slow in very light commercial demand.

Wheat was ⅝ cent a bushel lower to ⅛ higher near the end of the first hour, May $1.88⅜; corn ⅛ lower to ⅛ higher, May $1.26; oats unchanged to ¼ lower, May 68; rye unchanged to 1 cent lower, May $1.34½; soybeans unchanged to ⅝ higher, May $2.31.

Ike Meets Head of Steel Union

Current Labor Talks Not Discussed, Both Say After Half-Hour Session

NEW YORK (AP) — President Eisenhower and the head of the steelworkers union met privately for half an hour Thursday.

Both White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty and David J. McDonald, president of the United Steelworkers of America, declared the steel industry situation was not discussed.

There was no public comment by steel industry leaders about the session, which came in the midst of contract negotiations aimed at averting a strike by 500,000 workers when contracts expire in the basic steel industry June 30.

McDonald said at a news conference that he went to Eisenhower's hotel suite to pay his respects to the President, who was in the city for a round of activities.

"I had a very friendly visit with an old friend," McDonald said. He said he and the President have been friends since 1944.

"We did not discuss the steel situation at all," McDonald declared.

McDonald said he and Eisenhower talked over "the state of the country and the state of the world."

Both McDonald and Hagerty declared the timing of the meeting had nothing to do with the steel industry negotiations in progress here.

Eisenhower has been urging both the industry and union to show economic statesmanship in their negotiations and avoid any new wage-price inflationary spiral.

Before meeting with Eisenhower, McDonald participated in the contract negotiations between teams representing the union and the 12 largest steel companies.

Car Hits Abutment, Oxford Woman Injured

Eloise H. Smith, 47, of 961 Burlingham St., Oxford, was treated for injuries at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital today and released after her auto struck an abutment on Clarkston road, in Independence Township.

Oakland County Sheriff's Deputies reported the woman lost control of her car on a curve and ran off the road shortly after 4 a.m., about a mile east of M15.

Board Favors Youth Aid Plan

Pledges Its Support in Program Proposed by Judge Moore

The Board of Education last night went on record as pledging its support to a youth assistance program for the city of Pontiac which will give social guidance to emotionally-upset children and parents.

The program, proposed by Oakland County Probate Judge Arthur E. Moore, has received the endorsement of the City Commission.

It is also designed to assist in the prevention of delinquency and neglect.

Under the plan, as envisioned by Judge Moore, an executive and a citizens' general committee are to be appointed jointly by the Commission and the Board.

Citizens would call the needs of an individual child, or family to the attention of these committees, which would investigate facts through a trained social worker.

According to the plan, the social worker or committee members could request the parents of a child to do anything necessary for its welfare, request the child and his parents to have any medical or hospital care or needs attended to, and outline a course of reasonable parental supervision.

Any failure to comply with the program on the part of the family would be reported to the Juvenile Court of Oakland County.

The members of the executive committee would serve without compensation.

Market Mixed Following Spurt

Gains and losses of fractions to about a point peppered the list of key stocks.

Steels, which paced the rise to a record high in yesterday's session, continued active but were a patchwork of advances and declines.

Profit taking affected the steels as well as other groups. The market has enjoyed five straight days of advancing averages, culminating in historic highs in the past two sessions.

U. S. Steel dropped about a point of yesterday's rise of 3⅞. Jones & Laughlin and Lukens lost fractions. Bethlehem and Republic Steel advanced fractionally.

Miami Copper rose about a point on news of a big boost in earnings. Other copper stocks did little. Kennecott losing about a point.

Motors were unchanged to fractionally higher. Chemicals, strong recently, were uneven, allied dropping more than a point while Olin Mathieson was a point higher.

FUN TIME FROLIC — This was the name chosen for the annual fair to be held from 4 to 8 p. m. Saturday at the McVittie School in Waterford Township, according to chairman Mrs. Jerome Yates. Posting signs in the hallways were (from left) Melvin Yenglin, David McGowan and Brenda Moore. A ham dinner will be served from 5 to 7 p. m. There also will be movies, a cake walk, bean bag throw, pick-a-pocket, roll-a-ball, and other fair activities.

Inefficiency Could Help Other Alert State Cities

Says Detroit Ruined as Seaway Port

EAST LANSING (AP)—Detroit's lack of preparedness for handling St. Lawrence Seaway shipping is embarrassing but might lead to a desirable dispersal of Michigan's economic growth, a seaway consultant said Thursday.

Dr. John Hazard, a marketing consultant for the St. Lawrnece Seaway Corp. since 1954, referred to the jam of sea-going vessels waiting for dock space in Detroit.

Hazard said the Motor City was the least prepared major port on the Great Lakes and added:

"Detroit has chosen sides against itself, but in one way it might help Michigan diversify its economy because smaller ports such as Muskegon, Bay City and Port Huron have made tremendous efforts to improve their facilities and are way ahead of Detroit.

"It will be hard for Detroit to recover from its late start. I count it out of the picture now."

BACKLOG WORRIES

Hazard said he was still encouraged over the potential of the seaway but worried by the backlog of ships in Detroit.

"A tremendous economical potential is still there," he added, "but ships can only back up so long and the cost of shipping increases with the wait."

The marketing specialist said Toledo is far advanced in seaway development and will draw heavily on shipments abroad from Southern Michigan.

He foresaw some trouble for Michigan's agriculture and milling industry in that one day the state might find it cheaper to import wheat.

Eventually, Hazard continued, the seaway will make it cheaper—on a per unit cost basis—to ship from Detroit to Europe than from Detroit to the East Coast.

Hazard expressed fear that labor-management trouble over handling of cargo might delay seaway development and added:

"We should be using up-to-date technology in cargo handling, but stevedoring is still a menial, dirty and dangerous job.

NEW METHODS NECESSARY

"If the full potential of the seaway is to be realized, freight cars and trailer trucks are going to have to be driven right into the ships and other new methods of handling huge bulks must be found."

Hazard spoke to farm and industry leaders at a Michigan State University program on development of the state's water resources.

U.S. Reveals X15's Speed

Plane to Hit 4,000 M.P.H.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government officially disclosed today the expected speed of the X15 rocket research airplane—4,000 miles an hour.

Ira H. Abbott, of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, told the Aviation Writers Assn. in a prepared breakfast talk that the X15 will "leap out of the atmosphere into space much as a fish jumps out of water."

Abbott, deputy director of NASA's Office of Aeronautical and Space Research, said that beyond the X15, the rocket-boosted Dyna-Soar glider will explore the speed range between 4,000 miles an hour and satellite velocities of about 18,000 miles an hour.

Its first free-gliding flights have been somewhat delayed. "We are having the expected teething troubles with its complicated systems," Abbott said.

Celebrate Armed Forces Week

Centers Plan Open House

Open house receptions tomorrow and Sunday at armed service units in the Pontiac area will highlight local observances of Armed Forces Week.

The Army Reserve Training Center, 40 Walnut St., will hold an open house on Saturday from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m.

Guided tours will offer the public a chance to see how the center operates. The new building has been in operation as headquarters for the 579th Field Artillery Battalion only since last September.

Among the items on display will be .50 and .30 caliber machineguns and 105mm Howitzers. Directing the days' activities will be Maj. Alvin Brower, battalion commander.

AT NAVAL RESERVE

The Pontiac Naval Reserve Training Center, 469 E. East Blvd., will be open to the public from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. according to Lt. Cmdr. William C. Remick, commanding officer at the center.

Residents interested in an inside look at the center's facilities will see the training areas, equipment used in training, and such interesting things as the center's fully equipped radio receiving and transmitting rooms.

An Armed Forces Day Dance will be held at the center later in the evening for reserve personnel and their dates. Roy Hesse's Orchestra will play for dancing while The Ferro's and The Jaguars will provide entertainment.

From 2 to 4 p.m. Saturday and Sunday, soldiers at the Commerce Lake Nike Site, Battery C, 4th Missile Battalion, 3rd Artillery, will hold its open house.

SEE MISSILE PITS

The base is located at 9491 Wise Rd., Commerce Township. Conducted tours will take visitors down into the "missile pits" to view stored missiles and hear how the radar control system operates.

Featured will be a Nike Ajax guided missile. The missile will be unarmed.

The Pontiac National Guard Unit, Co. E, 2nd Battle Group, 125th Combat Arms Regiment, will travel to Camp Grayling for weekend firing on the rifle range.

It will go as part of the battle group which includes 800 guardsmen from Flint, Lapeer and Port Huron. Planning to leave Pontiac at 5 a.m. tomorrow, the local men will spend the weekend working with M-1 rifles, .30 caliber Browning automatic rifles, and .45 caliber pistols.

For "shows", Pontiac area residents will have to travel a bit. The closest Armed Forces Week show will be at the Detroit Arsenal on Van Dyke road, in Centerline.

A huge ground show will be presented there both Saturday and Sunday begining at 10 a.m. A U.S. Army field band concert will take place at 3 p.m. Saturday.

Air shows will be put on at Selfridge Air Force Base and the Naval Air Station at Grosse Ile.

More than a third of the shrimp consumed in the United States is imported now. In 1953 only a fifth of the domestic needs came from abroad. Most of the imported shrimp is bought from Mexico, but other shrimp exporters to the United States are Japan, India, Egypt, Spain, Ecuador, El Salvador, and Greenland.

Huron Cement Business Sold

National Gypsum of Buffalo Gets World's Largest Mill at Alpena

Under an agreement completed today, National Gypsum offered 1,014,300 shares of common stock for the 1,449,000 outstanding shares of Huron stock. It was described as a $67,000,000 deal.

Paul H. Townsend said after the stock exchange was completed in the Huron company's Detroit office today, "We in the Huron company are convinced that this move on the part of our former owners was an excellent thing in every way and will work out to the best advantage of everyone concerned."

Melvin H. Baker, chairman of National Gypsum, said:

"The acquisition of Huron, which for many years has been a leading producer of Portland cement adds about $35,000,000 to our 1959 sales potential now estimated at $215,000,000.

"Huron Portland Cement has a dynamic, energetic organization which will continue under the direction of President Paul H. Townsend, who has been their very capable chief executive for many years."

Boy's Slayer Found Insane

Detroit Judge Commits George Ritola to Ionia; Ruling on Sister Today

DETROIT (AP)—An escaped mental patient who told police he strangled a 5-year-old neighbor boy because he believed the boy was a government spy, was committed to Ionia State Hospital for the Criminally Insane yesterday.

George Ritola, 47, was found insane by a three-member psychiatric commission. The commission said Ritola was psychotic, did not understand the charge against him and could not assist in his own defense.

The psychiatrists also told Recorder's (criminal) court Judge John A. Ricca that Ritola's sister, Hilda, 57, was not able to stand trial or understand the charges against her. The court was to decide what to do with her today. She is accused of aiding in her brother's escape.

Police said Ritola told them he strangled Marvin Zdanowski April 20. The boy's body was found in a garage behind the same apartment house in which his family lived with the Rotolas.

Ritola escaped from a mental hospital in Galesburg, Ill., and came to Detroit to live with his sister. The woman said she had received a telegram from the hospital asking her if she knew where her brother was but did not answer it because "we were busy with other affairs, like housekeeping and shopping."

Pontiac Officer Finishes 2-Week Narcotics Study

This was the 20th session of the school which was organized in October of 1956 in accordance with provisions of the Narcotic Control Act of that year.

The school combines lectures, demonstrations and skits to give local and state officers full training in the detection and prevention of narcotics violations.

So far 499 students representing 207 law enforcement agencies from 40 states and 13 foreign countries have attended the school.

No More Free Candy

LONDON (UPI)—British European Airways announced yesterday it has stopped treating passengers to free candy. A spokesman said the sweets had been given out to prevent ear popping, but pressurized cabins stopped popped ears. Besides, the candy cost the airline $22,400 a year, he said.

Establish New Post in Special Education

The Board of Education last night established the position of director of special education, to become effective the next school year.

Because of its growing programs for physically and mentally retarded children, the Board approved the recommendation of Philip J. Proud to create the new post.

William Wright, principal of Mark Twain School, told the Board that 23 instructors are now employed by the Pontiac School district in the special education field but that 29 will be in the fold when schools open next September.

The Board was told that a director was needed because of the necessity for more supervision, additional time for planning and programming, and the need for development of curriculum materials in special education.

Because the program is financed by outside governmental agencies, the provision for a director can be made without expense to school district.

"Leadership in this position will result in better services for Pontiac children with special needs," Dr. Dana P. Whitmer, superintendent of schools, told the Board.

In other business, the Board authorized Whitmer to issue Republic Steel Corp., Berger Division, in the amounts of $6,118 and $4,750 for the furnishing and installation of corridor lockers in Madison and Washington Junior high school additions.

The Board also approved a proposal that principals and teachers from two elementary schools, yet unselected, spend a half-day taking instruction on precedures involved in civil defense work in case of emergency. Principals from all other schools will be asked to attend as observers.

Jazzmen Play the Blues After Bechet's Death

PARIS (UPI)—From the French quarter of New Orleans to the American quarter of Paris they played the blues until dawn today for Sidney Bechet.

The greats and not-so-greats, young and old, filled smoky bistros with a jazzed-up dirge for the white-haired Negro jazzman who died of cancer here yesterday.

Dr. Edmond Souchon, director of the New Orleans Jazz Club, said Bechet was merely "the greatest that ever lived on the tenor sax. Nobody in the world ever came near him there."

Alphonse Picou, an 80-year-old clarinet player who still blows at a little bar in the French quarter, was a little more reserved.

"I showed him how to play," he said. "He was my pupil a long long time ago. He was not so great as a musician, but he had good ideas about music. Sidney believed in giving people what they wanted."

George Lewis, who saw Bechet six years ago at a jazz concert in Los Angeles, said "he was one of the greatest men we ever had . . . a great man, a great musician."

That was the sentiment among jazzmen in Paris who had listened enraptured to the jazzman from New Orleans' Storyville for the last 14 years.

Michigan Not Welfare State, Says Williams

DETROIT (UP)—Gov. Williams said last night that Michigan is not a welfare state "in the sense meant when that term is used as an epithet."

He spoke at the opening of a new Detroit office of the federal Food and Drug Administration.

"We are, however, proud of the tremendous progress Michigan has made in welfare programs of many kinds," Williams said. "In this sense of welfare, this state and its people can be proud of their welfare programs."

He said he was confident Michigan would meet its problems and move into an era of unparalleled growth.

In Memoriam 2

IN LOVING MEMORY OF OUR dear son, Richard W. Mensel, who passed away three years ago today, May 15, 1956
No one knows the silent heartache
Only those who lose can tell.
The grief we bear in silence,
For the one we loved so well.
Sadly missed by his Dad, Mother and Sister.

IN LOVING MEMORY OF ARVID N. Fors, who passed away May 15, 1957.
The light from our household is gone,
Which never can be filled
Treasured memories no one can steal
Death is heartache no one can seal;
The shock sudden, the pain severe,
Little we knew that death was so near.
His thoughts for others so many knew,
The wave of his hand, and gentle smile will never be forgotten
Sadly missed by his Wife and Daughter.

IN LOVING MEMORY OF Blanche Maud VanDecar, who passed away 1 year ago today, May 15th.
She went to sleep in Jesus,
And we know when the book of life is opened in Heaven
Her name will be there.
Sadly missed by her Husband, Daughters & Grandchildren.

British Project Rocked by West

German Settlement Plan Weakens England's Pet Older Program

GENEVA (AP) — The West's plan for a German settlement with the Soviets diluted and all but dissolved Britain's pet project for a zone of reduced tension in mid-Europe.

This was the project British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan "sold" to Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev in Moscow 11 weeks ago. It would reduce arms and armies—with inspections to insure compliance—in an area roughly covering the two Germanys, Poland and Czechoslovakia.

The armies in the zone straddling the Iron Curtain would gradually be reduced further. If the plan worked well, the agreement could be extended to other countries.

When Macmillan returned from Moscow, he was shocked to discover that some of his Western partners were furious at his idea.

Accordingly, the British proposals were modified to a point of seeming worthlessness to the Soviets. The scheme is now tied in to the West's package plan for gradual reunification of Germany.

The West suggests that before unification the Big Four swap information about their forces in "agreed areas" of Europe and install inspection and control mechanisms, but take no precise action to limit forces.

After unification, a zone would be created extending east and west of the Iron Curtain over areas "of comparable size, depth and importance." Her national and foreign forces would be limited in number.

The British are convinced all this has been made academic because the Soviet Union is bound to reject its links with German unification. But the British reportedly have not lost hope of reviving Macmillan's idea.

They remain convinced a zone of reduced tension could become a starting point for better East-West relations.

The best information here suggests Macmillan and British Foreign Seretary Selwyn Lloyd consider the scheme may yet be pulled out of the Western package for negotiation with the Soviets.

Dad Never Came to Take Underfed Three-Year-Old

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Doctors say a 3-year-old boy should weigh 35 pounds. Probation authorities took a youngster that age from a foster home here Thursday who weighs only 24 pounds.

Police said there were three other children in the house—all "fat and healthy."

The boy, identified as the son of a merchant seaman named Flaxman, was taken to a county home.

His foster parents, Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Segundo, said a seaman left the boy with them two years ago, promising to pay Segundo $20 a week to board the boy.

"He never came back," Segundo said. He said the child was never a good eater.

Wants to Start a Week of Be-Kind-to-Parents

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—What this country needs is more spoiled parents. Our children aren't babying us enough.

WILSON

Bess Myerson is constantly being assured by experts that she's prettier now than she was in, for her, the fateful month of September, 1945. But her daughter, Barbara, 11, has asked her, "Mommy, is it true you're the oldest living 'Miss America'?"

And while some culture-loving young people erad my column, I've never had an admission from my son Slugger that he's ever looked at it.

Miss Myerson, in trying to be a dutiful mother, has rushed home from her "Big Payoff" duties and said to her daughter, "Let's talk." Her daughter says in some astonishment, "What about?"

BESS

Groucho thought his daughter would be crushed hearing he was going to Palm Springs for a few days. She greeted the news with "'K." Not "O.K.," just "'K."

But Bess and her daughter have found a mutual interest—Bess is practicing the piano again (she played with the Philharmonic in a Carnegie Hall concert in 1946)—and will do an album called "Fashions in Music."

And her daughter will play piano in a school recital. They battle each other good-naturedly at home over who gets to use the piano.

"But I'm not pressing her to be a musician," says her mother. "I know a lot of family men in the Philharmonic who discourage their children from being musicians except as an avocation."

Bess played the piano and flute in winning the "Miss America" title. As a longhair, she didn't feel at home on the same stage with a dog act in the Plymouth Theater in Worcester, Mass., and quit a tour she'd started. She went to radio—and then TV—and has the usual TV distinction of never once being canceled.

"Mommy," she recently asked, after some problem with a boy in school, "when do men stop being a nuisance and start being a pleasure?"

Path Is Cleared to Nuclear Plane

Air Force Claims It Has Solved Problem of Efficient Shielding

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Air Force said today it has hurdled the last major obstacle to development of a nuclear powered airplane, that of efficient shielding from radiation.

Lt. Gen. Roscoe C. Wilson, deputy chief of staff for development, told the Aviation Writers Assn. that "we therefore are now embarked on a program to produce a subsonic nuclear powered airplane which will be the prototype of a future weapon system."

Wilson did not say when such a prototype, or experimental model actually would be built and ready for testing. Development of a new plane normally takes a number of years.

"The effects of atomic radiation on aircraft equipment are now sufficiently understood to enable us to proceed with a prototype aircraft," Wilson said.

"The shielding problem for nuclear airplanes has been solved. We know how to design effective airborne shields and how to predict their performance."

Wilson said a nuclear airplane would not necessarily be any larger than the current B52 heavy jet bomber. It also will be designed to operate off the same runway length as the B52.

He said a nuclear bomber would be able to cruise anywhere in the world, and would be capable of launching long-range ballistic missiles as well as handling nuclear bombs and short-range missiles.

In the direct cycle, the air flows from the engine intake through the compressor and directly through the reactor, where it is heated, expanded through the turbine, and flows out as a jet stream.

In the indirect cycle the reactor heats a liquid metal which flows through a closed system. The air is heated by passing through a heat exchanger.

Convair Division of General Dynamics, Fort Worth, Tex., has been awarded a design study for the experimental airplane that will use the nuclear power.

While the Air Force is forging ahead with such advance aircraft and with missiles, Wilson said, it will not discard tried and proved manned aircraft "until we find something that we positively know is better."

Big TV Stars to Help Plug Michigan Week

LANSING (UPI) — Beginning next Wednesday, such big name television performers as Steve Allen, Ed Sullivan, Lawrence Welk, Dinah Shore, Pat Boone, Lowell Thomas and Ernie Ford will help plug Michigan Week.

The three national TV networks will use their facilities to tell a few things about Michigan assets.

The Economic Development Department said the nationwide boosts for Michigan came through cooperation from state advertising agencies, network representatives, local stations and network time buyers.

Rescue Man From Grand Canyon River

GRAND CANYON, Ariz. (AP)—An exhausted adventurer, who battled the Colorado River for two days after losing his canoe in boiling rapids, was rescued from the Grand Canyon Thursday.

Earl Francis, 27, of San Manuel, Ariz., struggled nine miles down the river before he was found by Park Ranger Roy Rainey. He swam part of the distance, climbing and walking along the edge of the canyon's sheer walls the rest.

Francis started down the river from Lee's Ferry May 7.

NBC's Technicians Vote on TV Peace

NEW YORK (AP) — National Broadcasting Co. television engineers and technicians vote today on terms of a settlement to end a work stoppage that started April 27.

The agreement between negotiators for NBC and the National Assn. of Broadcast Employes and Technicians was announced by an arbitrator shortly before 1 a.m.

Terms of the settlement were not made public.

The stoppage, which kept 1,500 employes off the job here and in six other cities, resulted basically from a dispute over the extent to which members of the union should participate in producing TV shows overseas for broadcast in this country.

Supervisory personnel kept NBC television and radio on the air.

The company called the stoppage a strike in violation of the contract and the union called it a lockout.

NBC and union officials declined to comment on the settlement announcement, made by Banjamin C. Roberts, impartial umpire in the dispute.

Boy Riding Bicycle Is Struck by Auto

While riding his bicycle on Crescent Lake road at 5 p.m. yesterday, Larry Hicks, 7, of 1194 Lynsue Lane, Waterford Township was hit by a car driven by Darwin Eager, 36, of 1165 Lynsue.

The boy was taken to Pontiac General Hospital where he was treated and released.

Playhouse 90's 'Marriage' Brought to Life by Author

By WILLIAM EWALD

NEW YORK (UPI)—Reginald Rose wrote his first TV play back in 1951. As he described it later, it was "written in sheer desperation as a protest against the nightly agonies television had to offer in 1951."

Well, television is still enmeshed in its nightly agonies, but happily, there are still Reginald Roses around to relieve its torment. And also happily, CBS-TV's Playhouse 90 is around to showcase his product.

Last night Playhouse 90 offered Rose's "A Marriage of Strangers" and a tender, moving experience it was. It was based on a play, "Three Empty Rooms," which Rose turned out for Studio One back in 1955 and as far as I know, this was the first time a TV show presented an adaptation of another TV play.

"A Marriage of Strangers" was a terribly slender play, spun around the wedding day of two people who have come together as much out of loneliness as the love they feel for each other, but find hard to voice.

Nothing much "happens" in the play. The telephone man arrives and so does the furniture. The lady across the hall has a baby. The couple quarrels and makes up. There is a disaster of an office party.

But Rose's skill in punctuating this slight business with believable characters and workable talk spanked the construction alive.

THE CHANNEL SWIM: CBS-TV's new cops and robbers show, The Blue Men, has had its title changed to Brenner — it uncorks on June 6. . . Edward G. Robinson will guest on CBS-TV's Gunsmoke June 13 in an episode titled, "Cheyenne."

Johnny Carson will replace Henry Morgan on the panel of CBS-TV's I've Got A Secret in August while Morgan vacations . . . Nehemiah Persoff and Harry Guardino will star in the June 4 CBS-TV Playhouse 90 which deals with the final days of Italy's Benito Mussolini, "The Killers of Mussolini."

Boy Is Killed in Fall From Tree

A 12-year-old boy was killed Thursday when he fell from a tree in which he was playing.

Dead on arrival at Pontiac General Hospital was Jerry Lee Hall, 12, of 1 Lakeview Court, Waterford Township.

Deputy Sheriff Robert Hall said the boy was playing in the tree with a friend when he fell 30 feet to the ground.

There is a new pill designed to get a patient out of the hospital faster. It has the daily cost of the room printed on it . . . Girls who know all the answers have probably been out with questionable men. —Earl Wilson.

Oct. 24, Golf Pro Will Bust Course Record

LAS VEGAS — A solemn, strong-armed golfer from Odessa, Tex., named Billy Maxwell, is going to break the course record at Wilbur Clark's Desert Inn Country Club next Oct. 24. Millions will see it over ABC-TV.

He is going to shoot the first nine holes of the long course in 34, then come home in 30. He'll have two eagles and heaven knows how many birdies. He'll sink one of the great putts of professional golf history on the 18th, a 35-footer that breaks to the right in the last foot of its voyage and drops with the last rotation that was left in it.

Lest you've decided by now that I've blown my stack, I saw it all happen here the other day in temperatures that soared past 90 degrees. I took in the filming of the match between Maxwell and Billy Casper for All Star Golf, one of the most interesting and intricate shows on the air.

It took a little under seven hours to film the 18-hole match. Director Sid Goltz and producer Peter De-Met have wrought something of a miracle in shaving the playing time of these filmed matches down that low. They were lucky to shoot a round in nine hours when the series began three years ago. Now they have canned a show in as little as 6½ hours.

The shows are shot by seven cameras, manned by a crew of 50. The rolling stock consists of a truck, three station wagons, 16 golf carts to carry auxiliary power, spare film and the like, and a specially designed truck built to support a telescoping camera tower. The men are marvels at setting up their tricky sound equipment, shooting, then breaking camp and rushing down the fairway for the next shop.

Jimmy Demaret is the narrator of this new "All Star Golf" series, which begins Sept. 19. From what I heard of his commentary during the Maxwell-Casper match, it will mean new honors for one of the best and most likable men in sports. He knows so much about the game that he is able to sense and describe what each player is up to, the problems involved, the intention to gamble, and other inside information.

All seven cameras grind through each golf shot. Each has its special angle, including a zoomarlens job which follows the ball in flight and another camera assigned to catch the end of the roll. About 30,000 feet of film churns through the black boxes during each round. This is trimmed to 3,000 feet.

A complete chart is made of each hole, as played, and from this material the producer selects four holes and they appear in the finished product as abbreviated animated cartoons. There is time to show the full action of only 14 of each 18 holes.

The pros have learned the patience of Job (or that of public links players on a busy Sunday) while working on these filmed shows. Plainly, it doesn't affect their games to wait 10 or 15 minutes between shots. Sam Snead won 13 straight last season.

Maxwell was paid $2,000 for beating Casper—whose par-bustin' 68 looked feeble by comparison. Casper got $1,000. Maxwell also received $500 for each of his eagles. The sponsors—aluminum and beer—offer $10,000 for a hole in one. Nobody has copped that prize as yet, though Gene Sarazen missed by two inches.

Senate Group Backs Repeal of Travel Tax

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate Commerce Committee has gone on record in favor of repealing the tax on travel.

The committee approved a resolution yesterday urging passage of a bill which would repeal the 10 per cent excise levy on transportation tickets.
