Recovery Pace to Gain Speed; Inflation Lurks

(The passing of Labor Day traditionally marks the beginning of a general upturn in trade, industry and employment. The question this year appears to be whether the autumn will bring a marked acceleration in the recovery from recession that has been in progress for several months. United Press International asked Sinclair Weeks, secretary of commerce, to appraise the outlook. His analysis follows.)

By SINCLAIR WEEKS
U.S. Secretary of Commerce

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Many time-tested signs indicate that the pace of recovery should speed up even faster now that Labor Day marks the end of the normal vacation slowdown.

Ever since late April, the economy has grown stronger month by month and the confidence of the consumer is vigorously reasserting itself.

Confidence is the priceless ingredient of progress. Workers, confident of job security, spend or invest their wages. Housewives, confident of steady family income, take hints from advertisements again. This procedure stimulates business, confident of sales, to order materials and produce new and better goods.

Let's take a glance at the current quarter. Flourishing confidence today is reflected in the rise of the gross national product — the total value of goods and services. More than 65 million people have jobs. Improvements are shown in the factory work week and the new orders received by manufacturers. Personal income, consumer expenditures and the production index are at high levels.

Housing is on the up again, stimulating the construction industry and strengthening the hope of accelerated business soon in home furnishings and appliances. The inventory picture is much better. And public funds for defense and highways are giving the economy a nudge.

Good as the picture looks, no sensible man or woman can be complacent in face of certain inflation signs that are cropping up. The wage-price squeeze, the federal deficit, the political clamor for more and more government spending are matters which wise people cannot ignore.

Business can price itself out of the market when consumers rebel. Wage boosts that run ahead of productivity are a boomerang.

The worker must understand that it isn't what you get in your pay that counts; it's what your pay gets you. If unwarranted wage increases spur inflation, a raise is a loss, not a gain. And inflation sabotages the future by destroying the value of fixed income, insurance policies and pensions.

It will be a tragedy if we let this economic thief rob us of full recovery. If we can keep the brake pedal jammed down on inflation, the outlook for the coming months is bright.

The long range prospect for the coming decade is even brighter with population growing by 3 million a year—research turning out new and better products—production geared to meet increasing needs—world trade opening new business opportunities and jobs.

Alaska, the new state; Antarctica, the new continent; the electronic nuclear space age, the new frontier, they all tend to create a marvelous new age of optimists, by optimists and for optimists.

All through our history, vision and faith have paid off. They still do.

BUNDLE OF BILLS — President Eisenhower, well stocked with writing tools, goes to work on 135 bills as he takes time out from his vacation at Newport, R. I. Ike took action on 117 of the bills yesterday, signing 105 into law and vetoing a dozen, nearly all of the latter minor. The President must decide on the other 18 pieces of legislation by midnight Saturday. Eisenhower's action on the 117 bills came during a 2½-hour work stint at his temporary offices at the Newport naval base. He warmed up for the work session with 18 holes of golf.

Circuit Judges Delay Decision on Grand Jury

Need for More Study Announced as Reason; Answer Tuesday

By GEORGE T. TRUMBULL, JR.

Oakland County's requested one-man grand jury still was in doubt today as the four Circuit Court judges again delayed their decision on calling one.

Speaking for the entire Oakland bench, presiding Judge Clark J. Adams at noon today announced that no decision would be made until next Tuesday at 10 a.m.

Judge Adams said the second postponement of an answer to a petition for a grand jury, filed a week ago, was to enable the judges "to give it further study."

The petition was filed last Wednesday by Michigan Attorney General Paul L. Adams and Oakland County Prosecutor Frederick C. Ziem, to probe events following the fatal burning of Frank Kierdorf, Flint Teamsters organizer.

Ziem, following the statement of Judge Adams today, said the original petition has not been amended as yet, and that there are "no present plans" to amend it to include results of raids on an alleged Pontiac gambling syndicate Friday night.

"That's already covered in the warrants we issued yesterday," Ziem said.

He refused comment on whether a disclosure coming after the State Police raids, linking Pontiac Police Chief Herbert W. Straley with a parole of one of the persons arrested, might be made a part of the suggested grand jury investigation.

The only hint that there was still a chance for such an investigation came from State Solicitor General Samuel J. Torina.

"It's not thumbs down," he said as he walked past reporters prior to the issuance of Judge Adams' statement.

Other than this statement and several unrevealing comments, the judges and other authorities remained silent on the prospect of a grand jury and what took place behind closed doors today.

Judge Adams confirmed that no amendment to look into alleged gambling in Pontiac had been made.

Donald Duck Joins Air Force Amid Quacks

KALAMAZOO (UP) — Donald Duck is studying for his Air Force wings. And as might be expected he is greeted by loud quacks from his pre-flight training buddies.

Duck, 22, of Edwardsburg in Cass County, enlisted recently in the Air Force and applied for a commission. He is stationed at Lackland AFB in San Antonio, Tex.

He reported recruiting officers quacked at him when he signed up and he still gets that reaction whenever anyone hears his name.

Northern High Start Delayed

Opening Pushed Back to Tuesday by Holdup on Electrical Work

Pontiac Northern High School will not open until Tuesday, Superintendent of Pontiac Schools Dana P. Whitmer announced today.

He said a delay in receiving electrical fixtures and in completion of work by the electrical contractor was primarily responsible for the postponement. Other Pontiac schools open tomorrow.

Dr. Whitmer advised Pontiac Northern students to bring their own lunches when they report Tuesday, as the cafeteria will be used as a study hall pending completion of other rooms.

On opening day, he added, the main academic sections will be ready for use. However, the auditorium, little theater, gymnasium and swimming pool will still need work before they can be used.

Dr. Whitmer said the driver training facility at the south end of the building will be ready, but there may be some delay in securing cars for the program.

The north end of the site is virtually completed, he said, including a large parking lot, football field and track and intramural fields. The gym and pool will take another six to eight weeks after opening day, he stated.

The superintendent said that on opening day, 10th graders should report to the cafeteria, 11th graders to the library and 12th graders to the auditorium lobby. Signs will be posted to direct the pupils.

He also informed students that those who do not have book cards should obtain them at the office between now and Tuesday. Those driving cars to school should use the parking lot on the north side of the building.

Captured in Fishing War

BRITISH TRAWLER SEIZED — Icelandic authorities said the British trawler Lord Plender was fishing within the old four-mile limit off Iceland's west coast. The Lord Plender is putting into harbor at Reykjavik after arrest Friday by Icelandic patrolship Thor. Iceland's extension of the fishing limit to 12 miles this week has caused struggles at sea between ships of the two nations.

Mob Storms British Envoy's Residence

Iceland Fish-Stew Boiling

REYKJAVIK, Iceland (UP) — A mob of several hundred Icelanders hurled brickbats and smoke bombs at the British ambassador's residence last night in anger over British violation of Iceland's new fishing restrictions.

The dispute between the two North Atlantic Allies continued today with British trawlers still casting their nets for cod within 12 miles of this volcanic island.

Iceland extended her territorial waters to 12 miles Monday and declared a ban on foreign fishermen in the zone.

Icelandic anger was reflected in the nation's press today against British naval action in Iceland's fishing dispute with Britain.

The bomb demonstration last night was followed this morning with charges of armed aggression and demands that Britain call its gunboats and trawlers home.

REDS ON BANDWAGON

Thodvilijinn, the Communist newspaper, demanded that Iceland break relations with Britain, its North Atlantic (NATO) ally.

"Don't negotiate with pirates," it said. "Sever diplomatic relations at once."

Iceland's minister of fisheries, Ludwig Josephsson, is a Communist in this country's coalition government.

Reykjavik's other papers had headlines about yesterday's clashes between British sailors and Icelandic coastguardmen.

The coast guard reported there were no overnight incidents in Iceland's coastal waters where British trawlers — backed up by naval frigates — began fishing for the third day inside Iceland's new 12-mile limit.

BRITISH VIEWPOINT

The British say the 12-mile limit is illegal and its fishermen have an international right to trawl in the zone.

A British Embassy spokesman said he understood today would be the final day in which the trawlers would defy the Icelanders. All trawlers and frigates will have left by this time tomorrow, it is expected.

In London, Britain accused Iceland today of unlawful interference on the high seas and protested the Iceland coast guard's boarding of a British fishing vessel.

Commission Appoints 3 to Pontiac General Board

City commissioners last night named two new trustees to the Pontiac General Hospital board and reappointed a third for a four-year term.

Appointed were T. W. Bradford, a retired Pontiac Motor Division executive, and Dick M. Kirby, an A. F. of L. business representative.

Re-appointed was William P. Babcock, a member of the board since its inception in 1952.

Bradford will serve a four-year term, beginning Sept. 19. He replaces Willis M. Brewer, retiring board chairman.

Kirby will fill the unexpired term of former trustee Charles Yeager, who withdrew from the board after moving outside the city.

Kirby's term ends June 30, 1960; Bradford's and Babcock's, June 30, 1962.

City commissioners had held off making the changes on the eleven-member board until after a final disposition in the Dr. Neil H. Sullenberger case. They have still to name a replacement for Harold B. Euler, who resigned as trustee last week to take over the job of hospital administrator.

WAS PLANT ENGINEER

Bradford, 63, of 99 Cherokee Dr. retired from his job as plant engineer at Pontiac Motor Division last year. He had been employed there since 1926 and has been a resident of Pontiac since 1928.

Married, Bradford has recently acted as an engineering consultant to the National Bank of Detroit during its construction of a new building in Detroit.

Kirby, 40, is associated with the Detroit Building Trades Council.

A native of Kalamazoo, he has been a Pontiac resident 22 years. Married, with four children, Kirby lives at 91 N. Edith St.

Official Declines to Specify Kind of Support Due

Still No Commitment About U. S. Defense of Offshore Islands

TAIPEI, Formosa (UP) — The top U.S. commander on Formosa said today American help is coming to meet the Communist threat to the Chinese Nationalist offshore islands.

Vice Adm. Roland N. Smoot declined to tell what help he meant, saying it would be foolish to give the Communists military information.

He also refused to say whether this meant U.S. forces would help defend the off-shore islands, a commitment American officials from President Eisenhower down have refused so far to make publicly.

Smoot is commander of the U.S. Taiwan (Formosa) Defense Command, which is committed to protecting Formosa and the nearby Pescadores Islands.

Congress also authorized Eisenhower to defend any other Nationalist territory he considered essential to the defense of Formosa.

Ike, Dulles to Confer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Dulles will fly to Newport, R. I. tomorrow to meet with the President. They will discuss the China crisis. Dulles met yesterday with the Joint Chiefs of Staff and other Defense Department officials for an intensive study of the situation.

As the Communists continued for the 12th day an artillery attack on the Quemoy islands that might be a prelude to an invasion attempt, Smoot was asked if they could successfully invade or blockade the islands. "They can do neither," he replied.

The Nationalists said they still were getting soldiers and supplies through to Quemoy despite Red attempts to cut it off from Formosa.

Smoot said there are many ways to break a blockade attempt. "As far as the enemy blockade of Quemoy is concerned, I can tell you the Chinese (Nationalist) forces have not yet begun to fight," he said.

Nationalist forces are almost entirely equipped with U.S. weapons, and Smoot might have been referring to more and different arms for them.

1,000 MARINES EN ROUTE

More ships are on the way from the Mediterranean and the United States to join the U.S. 7th Fleet patrolling the Formosa Strait to prevent any Communist strike at Formosa.

About 1,000 U.S. Marines are coming from Okinawa for maneuvers on Formosa this weekend. Additional jet fighters have been sent from the United States to Far Eastern bases.

The Nationalist defense ministry expressed confidence that its own navy could deal with Red torpedo boat attacks on supply ships to Quemoy. Communist shelling of the Quemoy airfield has virtually stopped air supply from Formosa.

The Defense Ministry spokesman, Rear Adm. Liu Hoh-tu, said Communist artillery attacks had not reached a point at which the Nationalists would consider it necessary to bomb enemy gun positions. Such bombing would spread the vest-pocket war, Liu said, "which we don't want to do — we want to calm the situation down."

Reuther Plans Public Report on Negotiations With 'Big 3'

DETROIT (UP) — United Auto Workers president Walter Reuther said today the union would make a public report on its contract talks with the big three auto makers next Tuesday.

Reuther said public officials and community leaders of automotive centers in southeastern Michigan and northwestern Ohio have been invited to attend meetings in Detroit's Veterans Memorial Building to hear the union report.

In the letters of invitation Reuther noted that the UAW Executive Board would meet soon after the public sessions. At that time the union is expected to announce a target company and strike deadline.

Reuther's latest move followed his announcement that he will appear personally next week in the deadlocked contract talks for the first time since the pacts expired last May.

Reuther said that before determining "what course of positive action should be taken to end the company-enforced deadlock," the union leadership feels itself responsible "to make a full report to the public on our position on these vital matters."

At the same time, he said, the union leadership wants to learn the opinions and attitudes of as many community leaders as possible. He did not indicate what influence this would have on the UAW's final decision.

Reuther said two separate sessions are planned Sept. 9. The first, at 2 p.m., is for the mayors of Detroit, Grand Rapids, Lansing, Bay City, Saginaw, and Toledo and Cleveland, Ohio.

The second, at 8 p.m., is for representatives of community organizations in the Detroit metropolitan area covering Wayne, Macomb and Oakland counties, Ypsilanti, Monroe and Ann Arbor.

There was no immediate company comment on Reuther's move.

As the industry contract talks dragged along with no reported progress, the State of Michigan took official interest for the first time.

A Wayne (Detroit) County circuit judge, appointed by Democratic Gov. G. Mennen Williams, was acting in an unprecedented capacity as the Governor's observer though taking no part in the talks.

Judge George E. Bowles, former chairman of the State Labor Mediation Board, was named "personal observer" by Williams at Lansing yesterday.

Alleged Pontiac Bookies Freed on $5,000 Bonds

Free on $5,000 bonds today are five members of an alleged Pontiac bookmaking ring.

The five, including Deputy City Treasurer LaRue E. Gullett, 41, and his wife Gladys, 35, of 301 Dick Ave., demanded examination yesterday when they appeared before Pontiac Municipal Judge Cecil B. McCallum on charges of six counts of conspiracy to violate state gambling laws.

Arrested late Friday along with the Gulletts were Basil W. Burke, 59, of 29 Selmer Ave., Charles D. Apley, 44, of the same address, and James Pruzor, of 4 S. Saginaw St.

Judge McCallum set examination of the five for 9:30 Sept. 17. Pontiac bondsman Carmen Mitchell posted the bonds for all five.

George F. Taylor, chief assistant prosecutor for Oakland County, said he expected the examination "to take at least two weeks."

Charge Murder in Holly Blaze

Flint Man Is Accused of Setting Fire Fatal to Companion, 17

Robert Guth, 25, of Flint today faced charges of first-degree murder and arson, both stemming from the Holly Township house fire which caused the death of his companion, William Mosley, 17.

At arraignment before Springfield Township Justice Emmett J. Leib yesterday, Guth was ordered held over in Oakland County Jail without benefit of bond until examination by Leib Sept. 11.

Leib issued the warrant on recommendation of assistant prosecutor Paul M. Mandel.

Mandel said a first-degree murder charge is called for under Michigan law when death occurs during the perpetration of a serious felony, such as arson, robbery or burglary.

The fact that Mosley was apparently burned accidentally makes no difference under the law, Mandel said.

Guth is charged with setting fire Saturday to an empty eight-room frame home at 1370 Gage Rd. in retaliation against the owner, who had ordered him and Mosley to keep away from the house. The house had been used for teenage parties.

Mosley is believed to have suffered his fatal burns when the gasoline he had spread about the building exploded as he ignited it. Guth was burned less seriously dragging Mosley away from the flames. Mosley died Sunday.

U.S. Is Weak, Says Truman

Sees Reds Preparing for War Since '45, Way Ahead in Race

CHICAGO (AP)—Former President Harry S. Truman said today the Soviet Union apparently is preparing for war, has been since 1945, and "the danger we face today is a very real one."

Truman said the United States trails the Soviet Union in arms and missiles and "for the first time in science we are behind." In this missile age, he added, the United States faces "a very real crisis."

He said there never has been a break in Soviet military preparations since the Allied victory over the axis in 1945. At the same time, he said, American armed forces were reduced. This, he added, was "a grave mistake."

Truman, in a speech prepared for the 40th annual national convention of the American Legion, said the United States must be ready for war.

"We must have the strongest of defense—we must surpass any potential enemy of the free world technologically and hold the free world together. This we can do," he said.

"It is wicked to say that we can not do this without bankrupting our economy. Two world wars did not bankrupt us. Confronted by total war, we had the will, the resources and the ingenuity to do everything necessary to save our country and our allies for a free way of life. We can do it again, if we have to."

Truman's views differed sharply with remarks made to the convention earlier by Defense Secretary Neil McElroy who told the legionnaires the United States is ahead of the Soviet Union in overall military strength and this country and its allies are strong enough to win either a general or a limited war.

Truman, in his speech, said the Soviet Union has missiles that can carry a nuclear warhead from their continent to ours. He said the United States also is behind in the number and quality of shorter-range missiles.

The Soviets, since 1945, have kept "their great army mobilized," Truman said, but "we stripped down our great army to a few occupation divisions."

Truman said statistics he cited don't tell the whole story "but they bespeak an attitude—and it is not an attitude I like. I know that defense is expensive—that it is growing more expensive all the time—but I do not think a record of economy is the most important thing in the world just now."

Fair Attendance Running Ahead of 1956 Record

DETROIT (AP)— Michigan State Fair officials turned their attention to Governor's Day today after entertaining a record Children's Day crowd of 76,178 yesterday.

Gov. Williams is scheduled to put in a 12-hour tour of the fairgrounds today, chatting and eating with celebrities and officials.

The governor will plant a tree at the Grant House; attend the annual agriculture luncheon; tour beef, dairy, horse, swine and sheep exhibits and open the annual auction of ribbon-winning meat animals.

Williams will close out his lengthy tour tonight by crowning the fair queen. Some 30 regional beauty contest winners are competing for this year's Miss State Fair title.

Fair officials adding up yesterday's record turnout expressed hope for an all-time attendance record at the 109-year-old fair. The Children's Day turnout brought the fair's halfway attendance total to 488,472.

City Commission Requests Full Gambling Investigation

A "complete investigation" into alleged gambling activities in Pontiac was requested by the City Commission last night, after officials had already taken steps for an audit of city books.

The audit was agreed upon by a City Manager Walter K. Willman and Director of Finance Oscar Eckman after Deputy City Treasurer LaRue E. Gullett was arrested Friday, accused of being member of an alleged gambling ring in Pontiac.

Willman was instructed by commissioners at their meeting last night to conduct the gambling investigation as the result of raids which cracked the ring.

Commissioner Floyd P. Miles proposed the investigation and it was unanimously acecpted by all six commissioners present. Mayor William W. Donaldson was absent from the city.

Although Miles did not spell it out in his resolution, he said it was "implied" that this investigation by Willman will look into allegations that Police Chief Herbert W. Straley interceded for a parole six years ago for one of the five persons arrested Friday.

Willman said he could not say how he would conduct the investigation.

Miles' motion followed an unsuccessful attempt of Commissioner Milton R. Henry to have the chief temporarily suspended "until a full disclosure of the facts in this case are made to the commission." Henry's motion died for lack of a second.

Eckman this morning was to confer with a representative of the city's auditing firm of Haskins & Sells to outline what should be the scope of the audit.

He said the audit was a "safety precaution to make certain no city money was involved in the operation." Eckman expressed belief there hadn't been, and that at this time no shortages have been noted.

Eckman ordered Gullett's suspension from his job effective Saturday. He also ordered safe combinations to which Gullett, a city employe since 1952, had access to, be changed.

Gullett, 41, and his wife, Gladys, 35, of 301 Dick Ave., were arrested by State Police Rackets Squad detectives along with Basil W. Burke, 59, of 29 Salmer Ave., Charles D. Apley, 44, of the same address, and James Pruzor, of 4 S. Saginaw St.

Willman said he didn't believe that Gullett carried on a gambling operation from the City Hall.

Complete results of the investigation called for by commissioners will be expected in about two weeks, Miles said. No specific date for its completion was set.

Start Competing Today for Miss America Title

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)—Fifty-two of the fairest girls in the nation begin competing today to determine which is the fairest of them all.

The girls, all entered in the Miss America Pageant, will spend today, tomorrow and Friday in preliminary evening gown, swimsuit and talent contests. The new Miss America will be crowned Saturday before a nationwide television audience.

The public had a chance to do its own judging last night when a glittering parade of the contestants rolled down this city's famed boardwalk to formally open the pageant.

Thousands of spectators sat on bleachers, in rolling chairs and stood on peach baskets as 39 illuminated floats passed by to the music of 24 bands.

Fifteen contestants rode on specially built floats while the rest sat atop custom-made convertibles.

Heading the paraders was singer Patti Page, who acted as grand marshal, followed by the current Miss America, Marilyn Van Derbur of Denver, Colo., and her court of honor.

The first contestant in line was Miss Alabama, raven-haired Lee Thornberry of Birmingham. The others from 45 states, Canada, Alaska, Hawaii, New York City, Chicago and Washington, D.C., followed in alphabetical order.

The Pennsylvania float, with Rosalie E. Samley of Bethlehem aboard, won first prize for floats from visiting states. It was sponsored by the service clubs and Chamber of Commerce of Bethlehem and had as its motif "Bethlehem, the Christmas City."

Runners-up were Georgia, Alaska, Arkansas and Ohio.

The state radio in Reykjavik said trawlermen used axes, spikes and streams of water to keep coastguardmen from boarding one vessel to arrest its captain for violating the 12-mile ban. The British admiralty made no mention of this incident.

In the second clash, nine unarmed coastguardmen boarded the trawler Northern Foam and were trying to head it into port when the British Navy frigate Eastbourne sent aboard sailors.

The coastguardmen were captured and put aboard the Eastbourne, which tried to hand them back to the Icelandic gunboat Thor. The Thor's captain refused to accept them, apparently contending the men still should be on the Northern Foam.

Hixon Awaits Hearing on First-Degree Charge

JACKSON (AP) — A sorrowing John Hixon spent his second full day behind bars today in the slaying of 16-year-old Carilyn Waldron.

Hixon, 17, is to appear in Municipal Court Friday — the day after Carilyn's funeral — for examination on a charge of first degree murder.

The good-looking blond youth struggled against tears as he was brought into court yesterday to be formally charged. Life imprisonment is mandatory for a first degree murder conviction.

Hixon has admitted he shot Carilyn to death Sunday night when she told him she did not want to keep company with him any longer.

In jail, Hixon said he had wanted to kill himself, too, but lacked the nerve.

Brandon Family of 4 Suffocated

Cause of Death to Parents and Twin Boys Cleared by Autopsies

Alpena pathologist Dr. Donald G. Henderson, said today that the Brandon Township family found dead in a Montmorency County cabin Monday died of suffocation.

An autopsy performed late Tuesday confirmed the earlier belief that Maurice Groover, 49; his wife, Josephine, 47; and their 10-year-old twin sons, Carl and Paul, died in the cabin on the night they arrived there, Aug. 17.

The Groover family, who lived on a farm at 641 Hurd Rd., evidently "used up all the oxygen in the tightly sealed cabin," according to Henderson.

He said that "the cabin was of a solid cement block construction with doors closed tightly and closed windows in steel casings."

"The family probably went to bed and slowly used up the available oxygen, with the help of a refrigerator and lamp running on bottled gas."

Police expect to run a similar test on the cabin to see if the gas flames have an adequate oxygen supply to keep them burning a long period of time with the cabin closed.

Rite Saturday for Ex-Mayor

Donald S. Bell, 51, to Be Buried in Birmingham Cemetery

Service for Donald S. Bell, 51, former Birmingham mayor who died Sunday in Tucson, Ariz., will be held at 2 p.m. Saturday at Bell Chapel of the William R. Hamilton Co. in Birmingham. He will be buried in Greenwood Cemetery.

Death was caused by injuries received in an auto accident in New Mexico early in December.

Born and educated in Birmingham, Mr. Bell had been associated with his father, S. O. Wylie Bell, who founded the Bell Funeral Home. He continued to operate the funeral home after his father's death, and in 1951 sold it to the William R. Hamilton Co.

Mr. Bell then moved to Benson, Ariz., where he owned and operated the Lazy Cross Ranch.

He was elected to the Birmingham City Commission in 1947, serving until 1950. Mr. Bell was elected mayor in 1949. He also served as Oakland County coroner from 1936 to 1940.

A great grandson of John Hunter, one of Birmingham's earliest settlers, he had been active in community affairs and a member of the Lions Club.

Surviving are his wife, June; a daughter, Mrs. Henry Aughey III of New York City, and a son, Thomas of Benson.

The body will arrive in Birmingham tomorrow. The family said memorial tributes may be made to the Salvation Army.

The Day in Birmingham

Commissioners Uphold Rezoning Request Denial

BIRMINGHAM — City commissioners, meeting last night, upheld recommendations of the City Planning Board to deny two requests for rezoning.

Rejected was the proposed rezoning of property owned by the Chiera Co. on Grant street.

The firm had sought to have the site changed from single to multiple family use, contending it could not develop the property for high type, single family homes, nor obtain funds for this type of development.

The Barton-Comiskey property, bounded by Hunter boulevard, Oakland avenue, Lawndale and Madison streets, was rejected as a commercial site. The owners had petitioned for any type of business development.

Residents in both areas had objected to rezoning.

In other business, the Commission withheld action on adopting an ordinance to enforce the two-way stop for drivers approaching school buses.

Commissioners felt that since many school children are transported in regular public buses, such as ordinance would prove confusing to motorists.

It was voted to continue paying 25 per cent of the dread disease insurance policies carried by city employes. Last year, the city paid $263 of the $1,036 total premium for all employes. Policies are issued to individuals or on a family coverage basis.

Slim trade here has reduced a a reducing salon in Birmingham right out of business.

A notice on the door yesterday informed patrons that the Slim Velle, Inc., salon, 310 Brown St., was closed as of Sept. 1.

City Treasurer Russell Berger immediately posted a second notice, this one for seizure. He said a bill of $1,067.23 on personal property tax had not been paid.

Patrons, whose wallets were reduced in advance, began calling Berger and the police to see about getting refunds.

Puzzled when he saw an exceptionally tall driver suddenly grow shorter about 4 a.m. yesterday, Patrolman Edmund Long of the Birmingham Police Dept. stopped the auto to find out why.

A 13-year-old boy driving the car told Long he had gotten tired standing while driving. He and his two 11-year-old companions, all of Saginaw, admitted stealing the car in Saginaw.

All three had driven the car, police said, and the only workable gear was second.

They were turned over to Saginaw authorities yesterday afternoon.

Four Judges Delay Grand Jury Decision

plus four other officials, were in and out of Judge Frank L. Doty's chambers this morning twice before the bench's statement was issued.

They presented arguments to back up their request for the grand jury, Judge Adams said.

If Judges Adams, Doty, H. Russel Holland and William J. Beer are to discuss the petition further this week, they must huddle during a three-day circuit judges convention convening tonight in Dearborn. All four Oakland judges will attend.

The four judges did not vote on the investigation during their two-hour conference today, Judge Adams said.

With Adams and Ziem today were Torina, Irving Beattie, Adams' assistant, Jerome K. Barry Jr., an assistant Oakland County prosecutor assigned to the Kierdorf case, and State Police Detective Charles A. Leaf.

"There will be no further action on our part," declared Paul Adams, "except that we will continue to work on our investigation of the case and follow up any new leads."

"We'll await the judges' pleasure," Adams said.

He termed it "pretty remote" that an investigation into 14 unsolved fires in the state might be linked to the Kierdorf human torch death. One month ago Kierdorf, 56-year-old ex-convict, stumbled into St. Joseph Mercy Hospital with burns from head to toe.

Investigators discounted his deathbed story that he had been set afire by two unknown men who wanted to talk union business.

Authorities believed he received the burns in a bungled arson job of a dry cleaning establishment on the outskirts of Flint Aug. 3. He died Aug. 7.

Adams disclosed the renewed scrutiny of the unsolved fires and bombings after a meeting yesterday with Joseph A. Childs, State Police commissioner.

Five of the incidents involved three places in Oakland County. One, dating back to 1952, resulted in a fatality, Adams said.

He said union activity — in most instances Teamsters Union — figures in the background of the events to be given further study for possible tie-ins with the Kierdorf death.

The petition submitted last week asks the grand jury to consider certain crimes and misdemeanors in connection with the fire near Flint, and an arson attempt in an apartment in Pontiac, and the burning of 1 5suits belonging to Leaun Harrelson, Pontiac Teamsters president.

It was the apartment of Mrs. Mary Ann Thon, 28, at 60 Douglas St., that an arsonist burned Aug. 20. Harrelson is a friend of Mrs. Thon's. Both are divorced.

Mrs. Thon, a waitress at a Bloomfield Township restaurant, admitted to authorities that she burned the suits in her apartment incinerator.

Harrelson emerged a key figure in the Kierdorf case recently when his former wife told a story to detectives placing Harrelson with Frank's uncle, Herman, a half hour before he appeared at the hospital.

Are You Interested in Social Security?

(This is the first in a series of nine columns explaining the changes just voted by Congress in the Social Security program. To get for easy reference a complete picture of the far-reaching changes, be sure to save each of the columns in the series starting today.)

By RAY HENRY

The changes just made in Social Security affect almost every adult in the United States.

The main changes won't go into operation until Jan. 1, but here, briefly, is what is in store:

If you're drawing payments now, your February check will be higher.

If you start drawing payments after Jan. 1, 1960, it's possible for them to be larger than any ever paid before.

If you're now collecting disability payments, your wife and children may now be eligible to receive payments. If you become disabled in the future, it may be easier to get payments than it has been.

If you're an employer or a worker now paying Social Security tax, you'll have to pay more after Jan. 1.

Here's a summary of the main changes—with details to come in later columns—

PRESENT PAYMENTS:

Payments to retired or disabled workers now range from $30 to $108.50 a month. After Jan. 1, those getting $30 will get $33. Those getting $108.50 will get $116 and those receiving payments in between will get an average increase of 7 per cent.

Payments to wives, dependent husbands or dependent children of retired workers now range from $11.30 to $54.30. After Jan. 1, these payments will be increased an average of 7 per cent.

Payments to survivors of deceased workers now range from $30 to $200. After Jan. 1, the range in payments will be $33 to $254.

NOTE: Although all the increases in payments mentioned above go into effect Jan. 1, they'll show up first in the February checks. Social Security checks received at the beginning of a month are always for the previous month. It will not be necessary to apply for the increases; they'll be paid automatically.

FUTURE PAYMENTS:

Payments to workers who retire at 65 or over or who become disabled after Jan. 1 will range from $33 to $127 a month. But, it'll be a number of years before any retired or disabled worker will be entitled to top payment.

Payments to survivors of a worker who dies after Jan. 1 will range from $33 to $254.

DISABILITY PAYMENTS:

Dependents of disabled workers have not been eligible for payments. Now they may be. A wife 62 or over will be entitled to collect an amount equal to one-half of what her husband is receiving. Wife caring for children, regardless of her age, will be entitled to an amount equal to one-half of her husband's payments. Dependent children, in most cases, will also be entitled to an amount equal to one-half of what their father is getting.

TAX INCREASES:

Employes now pay a 2¼ per cent tax on earnings up to $4,200 a year—that is, $95.50—and their employers match this amount. On Jan. 1, they'll have to pay 2½ per cent on earnings up to $4,800 a year—that is, $120—and their employers will have to match the amount.

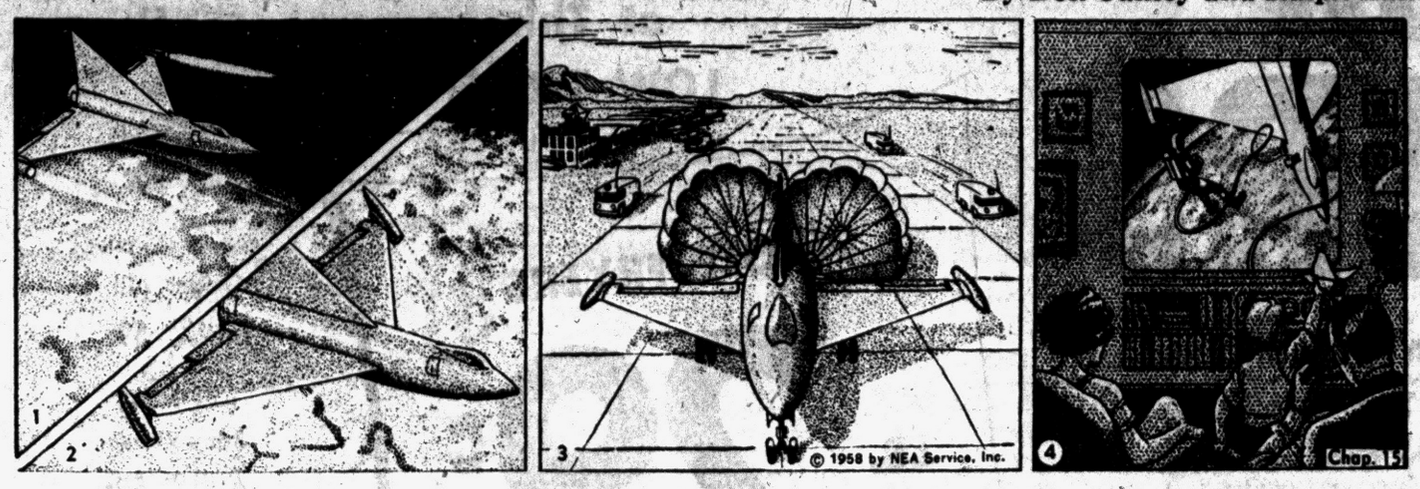
Self-employed persons now pay a 3⅜ per cent tax on net earnings up to $4,200 a year—that is, $141.75. Next year, they'll have to pay 3¾ per cent on the first $4,800 a year of net earnings or a tax of $180.

The tax rate for all workers—employed or self-employed—will be increased again in 1960 and every three years until 1969. The high for employes will eventtually be 4½ per cent and for self-employed persons, 6¾ per cent.

OUTWARD TO THE STARS

(15)—Return to Earth

By Don Oakley and Ralph Lane



(1) The first manned space satellite is now ready to return to Earth, after a few hours or days in orbit, as the case may be. In order to slow down, the wing tip rockets are swiveled to fire forward, counteracting the ship's orbital velocity. It is no longer a satellite, but a falling projectile. Or, if it falls too fast — a flaming meteorite.

(2) As the ship enters the atmosphere it is still moving at tremendous speed. The wing tip rockets are pointed downward to aid the ship in climbing back into space to cool off.

The procedure is repeated numerous times until speed of the craft is cut enough so that it can penetrate the denser regions of the atmosphere. Then normal control surfaces take over and the craft becomes a glider; or if its rockets are used, a normal rocket plane.

(3) Landing is accomplished in a conventional manner, probably on a western dry lake bed such as those from which its predecessors (the X-2, Skyrocket, X-15) took off years before. Still traveliing at high speed as it touches the runway, the plane releases parachutes from its tail to brake it. The ground crew races after the plane to greet the world's first spacemen. The pilots will then face what they may consider the most difficult phase of their assignment — the interviews with scientists, medical examinations, the detailed study of the instrument and camera records of the flight.

(4) Later, after subsequent flights, films taken by pilots in space will be viewed by earthbound citizens on their wall television screens. Still later, "live" television pictures from a ship in orbit may be beamed to home viewers. While the older generation marvels, their children will accept such things as a normal part of their lives.

Japanese Scientists Study New World

LIMA, Peru (UPI) — A group of Japanese scientists have begun a scheduled 10-year study of the principal archeological centers of Peru and Bolivia in search of the origins of civilization in this part of the New World.

The archeologists, who comprise the "Andean Scientific Expedition" of the Imperial University of Tokyo, arrived here recently from Japan. Heading the eight-man team is Dr. Eiichiro Ishida, specialist in ethnology and archeology.

He explained there is "enormous interest in Japan" in the expedition's object — to confirm the first inhabitants of America came from Asia via the Bering Straits and Alaska some 20,000 years ago.

Boy, His Horse Caught as Train Bears Down

NORTHRIDGE, Calif. (AP)—A horse lies trapped on a railroad trestle. His owner, a tearful boy of 8, screams for help. From the distance comes the ominous hoot of a freight's air horn.

This was the dramatic scene yesterday on the Southern Pacific right-of-way after Denny Hayes tried to ride his 10-year-old horse Buck across the trestle.

Firemen, called by neighbors, rushed to the scene. They phoned the railroad. By the time the freight arrived a track workman had placed on the track a torpedo that warned the engineer to halt.

Workmen loosened the ties, and Denny comforted his horse: "It's all right, boy. We'll get you out."

Seven firemen, cradling Buck's belly with their arms, lifted him clear. Buck—unhurt except for a scratched leg — was led off the trestle on its wooden sidewalk.

He and Denny returned to their nearby home. The ties were replaced and the freight rolled on, 45 minutes late.

Nevada Dems Nominate DA

Grant Sawyer to Run for Governor Despite Millionaire's Efforts

RENO, Nev. (AP)—Grant Sawyer, a young district attorney from the cow country, won the Democratic nomination for Nevada governor in yesterday's primary balloting.

Still lacking is a decision on whether Reno surgeon Fred Anderson, 51, or Las Vegas City Atty. Howard Cannon, 46, was the Democrats' choice to oppose incumbent Republican Sen. George Malone, 68, in the November general election.

Malone was unopposed in the Republican primary, as was Gov. Charles Russell, who seeks a third term.

With roughly 90 per cent of the Democratic ballots counted in the state, the totals were:

Governor: Sawyer, 18,796, Atty. Gen. Harvey Dickerson of Las Vegas, 11,069, Atty. George Franklin of Las Vegas, 8,546, and William Pate, a Reno unknown, 417.

Senate: Anderson, 19,899; Cannon, 18,334.

Sawyer, 39, of Elko whipped the two well-known Las Vegas men in the governor's race and did it in the face of stiff opposition from Reno financier E. L. Cord.

Cord, millionaire Republican Norman Biltz and a number of other wealthy Nevadans threw full support behind Dickerson for the nomination.

Sawyer contended during the campaign that Cord was using his wealth in an effort to buy political control of the state.

Robert C. Horton, 31, of Reno was the GOP nominee for Nevada's only House seat, now held by Democrat Walter Baring, 47. Baring won renomination handily from Miss Nada Novakovich, 34, a Reno attorney.

Polish Flier Escapee Becomes American

PITTSBURGH (AP)—A former Polish flier who won worldwide acclaim by landing a Soviet fighter plane in the free world calls his naturalization as an American citizen the greatest thrill of his life.

Frank E. Jarecki, 27, onetime lieutenant in the Soviet-dominated Polish air force, was among 19 persons who became citizens in a brief ceremony here yesterday.

Speaking in a near-perfect English, the good-looking Jarecki said "It was really something. It's a great privilege to be an American citizen and something I've been looking forward to. Now I can vote."

Jarecki, who lives in the little western Pennsylvania village of Reno, near Oil City, became an international figure March 5, 1953. On that day, coinciding with the death of Stalin, Jarecki took a Soviet MIG15 on a flight to freedom from near Warsaw to the Danish island of Bornholm.

Jarecki now is a manufacturer's representative for the Oil City Machine & Tool Co.

To Build Power Plant

JACKSON (UPI) — Consumers Power Co. said it will start construction early next year on the first 265,000 kilowatt unit of a new steam-electric power plant scheduled for operation in the fall of 1962. Allis-Chalmers Mfg. Co. will produce the generator. Combustion Engineering, Inc., will build the boiler.

American families now own an estimated 270 million life insurance policies, an increase of about 50 million in the past five years.

Euler's Selection Sound Move

Selection of HAROLD B. EULER as head of Pontiac General Hospital is a fine step towards a strong and constructive management.

The City Hospital has been a veritable hot bed of charges, counter charges and accusations. At long last the smoke is clearing and the fine institution is slowly arising from the morass of trouble and misadventure.

Several controversial figures have been eliminated in the interests of peace, quiet and progress. This is never a pleasant task but the Hospital Board has faced these emergencies and gone forward with positive steps and definite actions.

It was no time to temporize or hesitate. These situations called for action and the Board measured up to the challenge each time and faced each crisis squarely and in accordance with its best judgment. By and large, the community wholeheartedly endorses the successive steps.

The hospital is stronger already. Better days lie ahead.

The appointment of Harold Euler is a splendid move. Mr. Euler has good business judgment and is well qualified to assume the role he is undertaking. True, he has no long background of hospital training but he does have a complete understanding of the trials, tribulations and miseries the institution has suffered in the past.

This is even more important.

Fortunately, Mr. EULER is a sound businessman and he is blessed with a splendid sense of right and wrong. Patients, employes, doctors, visitors and all other entities are assured of a fair shake, justice and square play.

Also, no group will push him around or draw the wool over his eyes. He will stand as a staunch protector of the taxpayers and the community can rest assured that its financial interests will not be overlooked or sacrificed for momentary expediencies. HAROLD EULER will never compromise with his own conscience.

Slowly, but definitely, the General Hospital is arising above the unhappy shadows of the immediate past. It has always been a fine institution; and a combination of temporary misfortunes leaves no permanent or important scars. With Euler at the helm, progress should be faster and the big Huron Street haven can look forward to the finest and best days of its existence.

Jay Walkers at Fault in Traffic Accidents

Recently a New York traffic offical emphasized some figures which are almost startling the first time you hear them.

Last year approximately 16,000 pedestrains were seriously hurt or actually killed in crossing streets. Over sixty per cent were going over in the middle of the block. Another 2,800 were hit on corners, but they WERE CROSSING AGAINST THE RED LIGHT.

Thus eighty per cent of the trouble fell on those that:

A—Crossed against the light;

B—Crossed in the middle of the block.

Jay walking is almost defenseless at any time and in any place but these figures bring the fact more clearly and sharply into focus.

The lesson derived from these statistics is very, very plain.

Cross at the corners.

Local Men Hold Top Office in State Twins Association

Scrap book: A volume for recording the family quarrels.

At the 24th annual convention of the International Twins Association, just closed in Detroit, 710 were registered, coming from nearly every state in the union and some foreign countries, including many from Pontiac and vicinity.

Now coming into office as co-presidents of the Michigan Division are

of 23 East Longfellow Ave., Pontiac and

Lloyd S. Bartley

of Lake Orion. They succeed

Richard and Roberts Tenniswood

of Rochester, and will guide the destinies of Michigan twins the coming year. It is one of the largest state organizations in the association. The Bartleys are 34. Another distinction of their family is that ten members of it have graduated from high school.

At the international twins contest at the State Fair Sunday nearly 200 sets of twins were in competition, and it was my pleasure to be one of the six judges. 'Twas a great experience.

It was largely respect for his illustrious brother,

John A. Hannah,

President of Michigan State University which is building a branch near Pontiac, that the Oakland County delegation stuck by

Arthur J. Hannah

in his quest for the nomination for Secretary of State in the Republican convention, until it was proved that he could not win it.

You can escape the holiday congestion on our main roads if you pick the right hours. Between six and seven o'clock on Labor Day morning, the traffic for 15 miles on the Dixie Highway northwest of Pontiac averaged less than one car per mile.

Truly an experienced veteran of the local political field, of Oxford, for many years chairman of the Oakland County Republican committee, was in the thick of it at the recent state convention. Fred celebrates his 83rd birthday today.

Fred F. Stevens

Bicycles thieves surely are on the trail of

nine year old son of

of 398 West Iroquois Road. One that he had ridden a few years was stolen from the porch of his home a week or so ago, and a new green racer-type bike that replaced it was swiped from where he parked it in front of a store on his first ride on it.

Corn in the Pontiac area also is seeking the sky. Tall honors now rest with of Walled Lake—13 feet, and still growing.

Verbal Orchids to—

Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Alden

of Waterford; golden wedding.

Marring an Otherwise Fine Picture

David Lawrence Says:

Courts Grabbing 'Reserved' Power

WASHINGTON — No more convincing proof of the intent of Congress that the Federal Government should never interfere with the operation of the public schools by the states is needed than the language used in the "enabling acts" which, respectively, created at least 10 states of the Union.

LAWRENCE

Research by this correspondent reveals that the identical words of a brief section in the law passed by Congress in July, giving statehood to Alaska, are also to be found in the statutes giving statehood to New Mexico, Arizona, Idaho, South Dakota, Montana, Washington, Utah, Wyoming and Oklahoma.

One reason probably why the clause—which says that the public schools and colleges "shall forever remain under the exclusive control of the state, or its governmental subdivisions" — attracted little attention when inserted in the law creating Alaska, was that this language was copied from the "enabling acts" of the other states.

The important difference today, however, is that when every one of the states that preceded Alaska into the union was admitted, there was no question in anybody's mind about the fact that the public schools were "forever" to remain "under the exclusive control" of those states.

No decision of the Supreme Court upsetting state control had been handed down prior to 1954. Now, four years later, federal judges, as in Virginia, are actually examining the applications of students seeking admission to public schools and scrutinizing their qualifications to determine whether a school board has discriminated against a Negro applicant.

Certainly it was not assumed heretofore that the public schools of any states would ever be subject to control by the federal judiciary or by the military forces of the Federal Government.

Just a year ago, for instance, federal troops were stationed inside Central High School at Little Rock, Ark., to maintain discipline.

Even the Supreme Court of the United States has become a super school board these days, as testimony about the misbehavior of students and the influence of their parents in the home and the state of public sentiment is being reviewed this week to determine whether there is reason to delay temporarily the entrance of Negro students into Central High School at Little Rock.

Certainly the grant by the Federal Government of authority to at least 10 states to maintain "exclusive control" of their own public schools, emphasizes that powers have apparently been delegated to some states which other states are not permitted to enjoy.

But if, in the normal course of school operation, pupils are assigned to one school instead of another by county or city school boards, it would be a manifest interference by the Supreme Court or any federal court to say that the words "exclusive control" do not mean what they say and that this phrase now is amended by the 1954 decision of the Supreme Court.

The fact that Congress only two months ago still used the phrase, "under the exclusive control of the state, or its governmental subdivisions," can be taken to mean that Congress felt the Supreme Court's ruling of 1954 did not apply to acts of Congress confirming the complete power of a state over its own public schools.

Dr. William Brady Says:

No Need for Woman of 40 to Fear Having Children

"I have five children ranging in age from 11 to 19," writes an Ohio reader. "Four were born at home. The fourth was a seven months baby, and I was told I should never have another. I did anyhow, but she was born in a hospital.

"I'm not in favor of hospitals for childbirth — I ought to know from experience that home is the best place to have a baby. I would love to have another child, but have been told—"

DR BRADY

(If necessary, no doubt, Ben can call in Mrs. Sumsey to corroborate his opinion.)

"Ben told repeatedly that I'm too old. I was 41 a month ago. Am I too old? Or would you say I've had my share? Mrs. C. N. D."

Read the chapters "Women Today Are Stronger" (p. 18) and "Her First at 40" (p. 14) in the booklet Preparing for Maternity, for which send 35 cents and four cent stamped envelope bearing your address.

I'd say you are not too old to have another baby. Some women may be old when they are 40, but that's because their education has been neglected.

Once, talking about nutrition and vite, I said, "Any one who can roll a somersault and come up smiling can have a baby." Numerous readers past 60 who roll 'em every day complained that, darn it . . . but I'm sure even these humorists understand what I mean—physical fitness, body tone, vite, resiliency. That's what makes the difference between a young 40-year-old woman and an old 30-year-old one.

40 IS GOOD AGE

A woman should be at her best in every way at 40. Health, functional efficiency and beauty.

Premature senility is not the only reason why poorly educated individuals cannot roll somersaults. Too often it is just timidity, the same kind of timidity and namby-pambyism that makes poorly educated prospective parents quit their home and submit to the indignities imposed upon hospital inmates — anything at all, so long as they can shift their responsibilities onto the hospital people.

SAYS NAMBY-PAMBY

Typical is the remark of one of them in a group discussing natural childbirth: "Not for me, thank you. I'm going to the hospital, have an anesthetic, go to sleep and when I wake up find it is all over."

To a namby-pamby of any age my recommendation of "rolls" before breakfast may sound silly. I do not advise old crocks to attempt it. If you're past 35 and haven't tried it for years, you roll at your own peril.

I recommend forward rolls (as a college physical director insists I should call somersaults) for all prospective parents who are not crippled. If you have the namby-pamby view of childbirth and the inclination to let the doctor make a federal case of it, read again what Mrs. C.N.D. says about it:

"I have five children — four of them born at home. I'm not in favor of hospitals for childbirth . . . I ought to know from experience that home is the best place to have a baby."

All I have to add is that I do know from experience that home is the safest place to have a baby.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

(Copyright 1958)

The Country Parson

"Reforming your life is like taking a trip, you can't suddenly be there—and never will be if you don't keep going in the right direction."

Voice of People

'If Officials Had Starlings, We'd Solve the Problem'

The regret of my life is the fact the City officials are all lucky enough to live away from these starling roosts. If they were bothered and messed up as some of us are, the City of Pontiac would solve the problem and if it took ten hunters with shot guns and a three night shoot, that's what we'd have.

But they must all live in neighborhoods that are not bothered. So they should worry and we are the ones that suffer. Police officials don't care, City Commissioners don't care and the Mayor's off on a junket and he never did care.

I'd like to give each Commissioner, each police officer and all other civic people a personal yard full of these dirty, noisy pests for three days so they could see what they're making the rest of us live with.

It is the duty of the City to protect the people against all forms of danger and nuisance. Here they turn their faces away and what they really say is: "Like it or lump it, you live in the wrong part of town."

'Manager's Out With Substitute'

That Tigers manager really became the biggest bungler when he took a player with a batting average of .320 out of the lineup in a late, crucial inning and sent in a pinch hitter that batted .161. One was leading the team and his "substitute" was absolutely last, not counting pitchers. P.S.: This well chosen substitute struck out. So did the manager.

'You Run Michigan We'll Run Arkansas'

Editorials in The Press jumped on Governor Faubus for opposing integration. Is it any business of The Press what Governor Faubus does?

He's serving the people of Arkansas and not Pontiac. Faubus hasn't any interest in what you people think. Neither has anyone else in Arkansas. You run Michigan and we'll run Arkansas.

Readers Disagree on Police Accident

I'm writing because of two articles in Voice of the People concerning two Orchard Lake policemen. Those who wrote probably don't know either of the policemen, as one writer lives in Milford and the other in Pontiac. This would indicate they are writing about persons of which they know nothing, and are condemning the officers and possibly causing them hardship and mental anguish.

One policeman said he doesn't know what happened and the other is in no condition to tell anything yet. We can't sit home and read an article in the newspaper and assume we know everything about the case without hearing their side of the story and on this evidence possibly injure two decent men and their families.

I agree this is a freak accident, but I've seen many accidents at high speed and why not look into the reason this car should have broken up. Possibly it was a flaw in the welding.

One of the officers is a friend of mine and I know he has more sense than to race a new car and take a chance on tearing the motor up. And I have as much right to vouch for the integrity of these officers as the others have to knock it. The letters will have no effect on people who know the officers, but what of those who don't? No one knows what happened yet, so let's be a little fair until we know the facts. It's the democratic way to give a person benefit of being innocent until found guilty.

Robert E. Clement
903 Kenilworth St.

The Orchard Lake police officer and his wrecked car is a bad deal but let's stop these fairy tales. The more told to cover up, the more will have to be told. Everyone knows it takes excessive speed to demolish a car like that. I've been in the garage business for 37 years on Dixie highway and have never seen one so demolished as that.

Kenneth Willing
Drayton Plains

May I say a word to Mr. Stevens, Mr. Brafford and all the rest of the law-abiding citizens who are standing around pointing fingers? Stevens' letter was nothing but a collection of question marks and Private Eye Brafford knows even more than the Oakland County Sheriff's Department. He said he took "facts" and came up with the story they "seemed" to indicate. Neither of them was there and they don't know what occurred, yet hear them talk.

I'm not knocking free speech, but I'm wondering what makes people behave so. No matter how much police do for them daily, the public is always ready and overjoyed to jump down their throats. These people can also yell, "Help, Police!" the loudest.

I don't know what happened any more than anyone else. That's all the more reason to keep still until you do.

'Stop Bomb Tests for Right Weather'

Now if they really will stop these nuclear tests, the weather may revert to normal. The rains and cloudbursts are caused by those blasts. The weather has been changing all over the world and those bombs are the reason. If all nations will stop it for good, we will settle back to normal in a short time.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Charitable Loan Better Than Gift

Note Senator Hall's query for it brings out a very crucial point in social psychology. And if you wish to back a student for college, be partial to a former newspaper carriers; They are staunch "free enterprise" advocates, because they have operated their own business under the "small merchant" plan.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case Z-309: Former U. S. Senator Wilton E. Hall is a prominent newspaper publisher in South Carolina.

DR. CRANE

He and his charming wife have a pet hobby which consists of making college scholarships available to talented young men and women who lack money to continue with their education.

"Dr. Crane," he asked me recently, "do you think we should offer these scholarshiys as outright gifts, or should we apply the money to a revolving educational fund?

"For instance, under the present set-up, the student obtains the scholarship with no strings attached.

"But if we furnished the same amount of money to a revolving student loan fund, then these students would be expected to pay it back in five or ten years after graduation."

"Meanwhile, it would be bearing a small interest rate, and then be available for other students a few years hence."

BEWARE OF GIFTS

It is dangerous psychology to make big gifts to ANYBODY, even your own children.

For soon they will begin to take such generosity as their due. Before long they will actually believe they are entitled to it.

Then, if you are ever forced to curtail your former bounty, they will bite the hand that has fed them (or educated them, too).

The trouble with much of our welfare policies has been the fact we have placed people on a glorified governmental dole.

Then they begin to jockey for further privileges, using their votes as leverage to pry increasing promises of greater doles from BOTH parties.

MAKE LOANS, NOT GIFTS

From the angle of good psychology, it is thus far better to use the revolving student loan fund.

Thus, if you generous donors place $500 in such a fund, your goodness will continue to pay rich dividende throughout generations to come.

If, however, you apply that $500 as an outright gift, it will benefit just ONE college student.

And students feel more self-respect and pride if they are forced to repay a loan instead of accepting even the most gracious gift.

Many of my friends have handed money over as gift student aid.

"Dr. Crane," a medical friend of mine recently confessed, "I helped seven students through their first year of college last year, but only ONE ever wrote me a letter of thank you.

"Yet all seven knew I was the donor of their freshman tuition!"

Let this be a helpful clincher argument about the folly of gifts!

Make people EARN what they get. They don't appreciate free gifts or even free state welfare aid.

Like the kids on an "allowance," they soon grumble and gripe and criticize the very source of such generosity, especially if they hear that some other state doles out a more liberal allotment for education or unemployment, etc.

HOW PICK STUDENTS

And if you wish to pick more wisely when you make loans, see if the male students have carried a newspaper route successfully for at least one full year in high school.

For former newspaper carriers are excellent men to back with student loans. They know the value of money.

And they have acquired a respect for our "free enterprise" system from operating their own route on the "small merchant" plan.

You can be sure they will not espouse communism or rising taxes!

Newspaper carriers obtain the BEST economic training of any American youth!

'Tin Policemen' Called Failure in Ohio City

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—"Tin policemen" have flunked out after one semester at five schools here.

The metal replicas of policemen, placed in the street to warn motorists of a school zone have, on occasion, been obstacles to traffic, frozen to the ground, rolled downhill in a heavy wind and placed an added burden on school custodians, the Dayton School Board says.

Scientists Consider Possibility

U.S., Reds Cooperate in Space Venture?

(Will Russia and the United States cooperate in space exploration? In the second of four articles written for The Associated Press by leading U.S. scientists who have participated in International Geophysical Year sessions in Moscow, Dr. Richard Porter sifts the clues and reports on accomplishments in the rocket and satellite fields.)

By DR. RICHARD PORTER
For The Associated Press

It is natural to think of the work of a meeting such as the fifth meeting of the special Committee for the International Geophysical Year as having been completed with the fall of the final gavel.

But nothing could be further from the truth. In the field of rockets and satellites, at least, more questions were raised than settled. More work was left to be done than was accomplished.

Although some 75 important papers were presented by scientists from many countries during the seven half-day sessions of the rocket and satellite symposium, it was not possible for most of us to grasp more than a small fraction of the information made available.

For one thing, language barriers remain a formidable obstacle despite all attempts to surmount it. Another problem was the mental indigestion which resulted from too many papers for the available time.

Therefore it will be necessary for most of us to read the translated papers and reports, to study them carefully, and perhaps even to correspond with their authors before much of the technical data presented at this conference can be completely understood.

Fortunately for international science, it appears that process of reading and corresponding actually may be not only possible, but worthwhile.

Previous meetings on the subject of satellites in which the Soviet Union has played an important part have tended to be rather sterile: Little in the way of actual scientific results had been obtained, and information about the vehicles and launching problems had been regarded as highly secret, at least by the U.S.S.R.

This year in Moscow there were some definite results to discuss, and although the Soviet scientists were obviously still unable to talk about how they launched their satellites, or how they sent most of the information back to earth, they were prepared to talk about their results.

Important results they were, too.

First of all, the air density at altitudes of 150 miles and higher could only be estimated by means of very approximate assumptions before the International Geophysical Year (IGY) began.

As a result of observations of the Russian and U. S. satellites by many IGY countries, it is now generally agreed that asmospheric density at this altitude is significantly higher than previously expected.

Another subject of great interest was the radiation recently discovered in the ionosphere between 50 and 200 miles up and recently announced in Washington by Dr. James A. van Allen of the State University of Iowa.

Several papers by both U. S. and Soviet scientists touched on this subject, and the latest information from both the third Sputnik and the most recent Explorer satellite was presented and compared.

Although there were some differences in data, it appeared to this observer, at least, that they can be explained by the differences in the means by which the data were obtained. And on the whole, there is agreement concerning the existence of the effect.

Here again, a good explanation of this radiation must be found.

The extensive instrumentation of the Soviet satellites, made possible by their larger size, was very impressive to American scientists.

Important scientific reports of early Soviet results on atmospheric composition, ion density, solar corpuscular radiation, micrometeorites, cosmic radiation, gamma radiation and biological experiments gave promise of great scientific advafices to come.

Despite the popular glamor of the satellites, one must not overlook the high-altitude rocket experiments of the IGY.

It was reported that the U.S.S.R. had launched 57 of these rockets by the first of June, and the United States a similar number. High altitude rockets also have been launched by the United Kingdom, Australia, Canada, and Japan.

Results obtained include valid measurements of temperature, density, and composition of the atmosphere in the important region between the maximum altitude reached by balloons and the minimum altitude at which satellites' orbits can be sustained.

As the result of discussions by working groups, it was agreed that a third world data center for rocket and satellite data should be established in Great Britain.

The two now in existence are in the United States and the Soviet Union. A number of previously controversial points regarding the use of these data centers were also settled.

However, at least three major points were left unresolved:

1. The U.S.S.R. scientists were unwilling to agree that data of any kind, except copies of published papers, should be sent to the data centers unless specifically requested in each case. The American delegation insisted such observational data should be sent automatically.

2. The Americans asked that information such as size and weight should be given for all significant objects placed into orbit, including, for example, the carrier rockets. The Soviets want to confine such information to the instrumented satellite only.

3. Finally, most of the nations represented at the conference believed that orbital elements, or, in other words, the size and shape of the orbit, should be transmitted by each launching nation for all of its satellites.

However, the Soviet delegates refused, insisting instead on providing only approximate direction angles for each different observing station, although the process requires more computation and will be less useful to competent observers.

Lack of agreements on points like this will not necessarily prevent some measure of continuing international cooperation among rocket and satellite scientists, but it does indicate the difficulties under which such cooperative programs must operate.

Fails to Heed Sign, 2 Hurt in Collision

BRUCE TOWNSHIP — Two persons were injured yesterday afternoon in a two-car accident on 34-Mile road at Dequindre, four miles northwest of Romeo.

Taken to Bishop Hospital, Almont, were Joseph Bird, 33, of Wayne, and Marie Spezia, 51, of 4960 Rochester Rd., Leonard.

Romeo State Police said the woman failed to stop at a stop sign at the intersection and hit the front of Bird's car, turning it completely around.

She suffered injuries of the chest and knee. Bird lost several teeth and received cuts on his face.

Lathrup Council OKs Payment for Paving

LATHRUP—Meeting last night, the Lathrup Village City Council authorized payment of $10,000 to the Gordon Asphalt Co. of Center Line for completion of street paving in the city last year. Engineering fees of $800 were paid to Arthur Gillespie, consulting engineer.

The council said it is still interviewing applicants for the post of city administrator, and expects to fill the position within the next two weeks.

Gordon Kingsbury, Wayne State University professor, has been handling the job temporarily.

Fire Destroys 2 Houses on Shore of Union Lake

UNION LAKE—Two houses on the shore of Union Lake were destroyed by fire at dawn today. Both were unoccupied at the time.

One was the home of the Sam Jones family, 7393 Locklin Rd., who were vacationing in Harrisburg, Ill. The other was the next-door cottage owned by the Dr. Henry Turkel family of Detroit.

The flames were first seen about 5 a.m. by a resident across the lake. Called to the scene were fire departments from Union Lake West Bloomfield and White Lake townships. They concentrated their efforts in saving other houses on the heavily populated lakeshore. No one was injured.

Firemen believed the fire started either at the Turkel cottage or in a shed in back of it, and spread to the Jones home.

Both two-story structures, the houses were valued at an estimated $12,000 each, according to West Bloomfield Township firemen. They were about 50 feet from the lake.

Neighbors said they have notified Jones and that he and his wife and three children are on their way home. The house was their year-round residence.

READY FOR OPENING—Some 425 students are expected to enter the doors of the new $700,000 Romeo Community High School tomorrow morning. In addition to having a new building, resulting from a bond issue which passed by one vote in 1956, the pupils will meet their new principal. He is David L. Olson, shown above with his two secretaries, Mrs. Lynn Posey (left) and Mrs. Ellis A. Hart. Tomorrow both senior and junior high students will attend for only half a day. Regular classes will start Friday.

Pontiac Police Recover Safe Containing $2,000

A safe containing $2,000 in cash and enbedded in a block of concrete was stolen from the office of the Lakeside Housing Project over the Labor Day weekend and recovered last night by Pontiac police.

Detectives said today the safe was unopened, although the burglars had smashed the combination from the door. The safe was found on Howard McNeil street.

Officers said the thieves had ransacked the project office searching for the combination. Failing to find it, they took the safe which, together with its concrete base, weighed 800 pounds.

Chinese Nationalists Build Quemoy

Barren Soil Becomes Farmland

WASHINGTON — Though tiny Quemoy Island lives by the sword, it is profiting as never before from the plowshare.

Garrisoned by Chinese Nationalist soldiers, Quemoy nestles against the southeast coast of Communist China. The 12-mile-long isle is smaller than the District of Columbia and exposed to year-in, year-out shelling from the mainland.

Yet Quemoy's 43,500 civilians not only have managed to survive nearly a decade of bombardment, they have turned their barren soil into a self-supporting farmland.

HAUNT OF PIRATES

Windswept Quemoy is accustomed to the violences of nature and men, the National Geographic Society says. The island was largely settled by patriots who sought refuge from political upsets on the mainland, especially those of the Ming Dynasty (1368-1644). For years the island was a haunt of coastal pirates.

From Quemoy, whose local name is Chinmen or "Golden Gate," the Chinese General Koxinga mounted an attack in 1661 that drove the Dutch from Formosa—the present seat of the Chinese Nationalist Government.

Quemoy inherited little of China's good earth. The island is blanketed with sandy soil, badly eroded red clay, and black boulders. During the monsoon season, winds blow down Formosa Strait with such force that both houses and plants are abraded by stinging dust. Summer brings withering heat from the tropics.

Quemoy's inhabitants subsisted on fish and sweet potatoes, but there was never enough of either to give a working man a comfortably stuffed feeling.

When Chinese Nationalists spilled from the coast onto Quemoy in 1949, the isle's future seemed as bleak as that of a haystack in the path of a tornado. The powerful enemy could be seen and heard on Amoy Island and the rugged mainland, five to six miles way.

Red troops stormed Quemoy in October 1949 but were thrown back with heavy losses. The island began its metamorphosis into the tough-hided, honeycombed fortress that bottles up Amoy's deepwater harbor.

At first food had to be brought from Formosa which lies 85 miles east of China's bulging shore. Then help came to the embattled island from the Chinese-American Joint Commission on Rural Reconstruction. Its purpose was to help Quemoy farmers help themselves.

MILLIONS OF TREES PLANTED

The islanders have seen swaths of farmland turn green, thanks to better irrigation, chemical fertilizers, pest controls, modern farming techniques, and new food plants such as rice, wheat and soybeans. They have planted millions of bamboo seedlings and trees.

Succulent big onions vary the islanders' diet. Plump pigs are raised in quantity. For a time, despite the perils of coastal shipping, the plucky island exported pigs to Hong Kong, 300 miles to the southwest.

With better food came land reform. The Nationalist government bought excess land and made it available to tenant farmers on easy terms. The Joint Commission and Land Bank of Taiwan (Formosa) provide loans.

Quemoy people have learned to adapt their lives to the enemy's shelling patterns. In Quemoy city, shops are open. Children play in the streets. And pretty girls promenade with soldiers.

$320, Pistol Stolen at Lumber Yard

CLAWSON — A burglar broke into the Square Deal Lumber Co. office, 136 S. Main St., last night and took $320 in cash from a safe, Clawson Police said.

Als missing was a loaded .32 automatic pistol. Overlooked was close to $400 in checks and cash, according to Sgt. Walter Savage.

A rear window in the building was broken. Police believe the burglar entered through it sometime between 11:30 p.m. and 1:15, at which times police had checked the building.

Damone, Wife Separate

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Actress Pier Angeli and her husband, singer Vic Damone, have separated. She told a reporter: "We had a misunderstanding. I'm not sure what will happen." Damone wasn't available for comment. It is the second time the couple have separated in their four years of marriage. They have a son, Perry, 3.

2 Youths Flee Hungary by Hiding Aboard Plane

BRUSSELS (AP)—Two Hungarian youths stowed away on a Hungarian airliner bound for Belgrade yesterday, leaped out when the plane landed and asked for political asylum.

One hid behind some crates in the plane, the other in a cavity beneath the passenger cabin. It was expected the government would grant their request for asylum.

Man in Space May Be Required to Cat Nap

WASHINGTON (AP) — Prospective space navigators may have to learn to take their sleep in "cat naps" ranging from a half minute to five minutes.

That's the word from Dr. Saul Sells of Texas Christian University, who formerly was professor of medical psychology at the Air Force's School of Aviation Medicine at Randolph Field.

"If a man is required to remain alert for extended periods without sleep in a space ship," he told a reporter, "he must learn beforehand how to cat nap — that is, how to adapt to a sleeping-waking cycle of very brief, on-and-off periods of sleeping.

"Instead of getting his eight hours sleep at one stretch, the idea would be to take it in naps ranging from a half minute to five minutes extending over a 24-hour period."

He said research would have to be carried on to determine whether men could be so trained.

He told about it in connection with a talk he gave to the American Psychological Assn. on various aspects of research concerning human requirements for space flight.

Take a Friend When Shopping

Color does strange things to complexions. That is why it is helpful to have a friend along on a shopping trip.

She can tell you whether or not a color is becoming. The average person will find that chartreuse, dusty pink and ginger will bring out a green cast, turn the skin muddy or make it look coarse.

In Bloomfield Hills Today

World's Fashions Shown

"Around the World in Fashions," was presented by Alvin's at the Kingsley Inn luncheon show today in Bloomfield Hills.

Creations from Italy, France, Austria, Holland, England and Israel were featured. The importance of American designers was stressed by collections from Oleg Cassini, Mr. Mort, Abe Shrader, Herbert Schneider, Mamselle and others.

A royal blue imported coat with dyed-to-match fox collar was received with much excitement, as were a group of Israeli and Austrian knits.

The famed Scuderi dresses shown emphasized Italy's influence in the fashion world today.

Furs by Herzberg and Keystone highlighted many of the outfits.

Helene Freund was commentator for the affair. She introduced the Powers' "Girl of Week" as a surprise model.

Improper Care Can Cause Tooth Decay

Did you know that brushing your teeth improperly can actually cause tooth decay?

The reason for this is that improper brushing lacerates the gums and causes them to shrink from the base of the teeth, thus allowing room for decay.

Brushing is, of course, essential to healthy teeth and does prevent decay. But it's important to brush the right way and to use a brush which is not too hard or stiff.

The right way to brush, your dentist will tell you, is to brush only three or four teeth at one sweep. Your teeth are curved, not straight, and brushing them in one straight sweep across can contribute to corrosion of the enamel.

Select Stationery Like Wardrobe

Choose your letter paper the same way you choose your clothes. Select a "becoming" color; make its size and shape a good background for the size and shape of your handwriting; "accessorize" it with colored inks and typewriter ribbons; personalize it with monograms or initialed seals.

And in papers of different weights and designs, have the equivalent of sportswear and Sunday best.

Wild Elderberries Make Wonderful Fall Pie

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

As you drive along the road you will see elderberries hanging ripe on the bushes. This is the time of year for elderberry pie. If you freeze these berries, you can have this pie any time of the year.

Mrs. Richard Van Huizen of Williams Lake shares her recipe with us. She has been an active Girl Scout worker for a number of years. Gardening, both indoors and out, is her hobby.

ELDERBERRY PIE
By Mrs. Richard Van Huizen

1 quart fresh elderberries OR 1 pint frozen berries
⅓ cup sugar
3 tablespoons flour
1 tablespoon vinegar or lemon juice
2 apples, sliced (pickled peaches may be substituted)
¼ teaspoon cinnamon
¼ teaspoon nutmeg

Mix all ingredients and pour into an unbaked pie shell. Bake 15 minutes at 425 degrees. Reduce heat to 350 degrees and bake another 30 minutes.

Moving Can Mean a 'New Start'

A move to a new town can be a golden opportunity to make a new start, according to an article in a national magazine, which gives the following advice to "uprooted" teenagers: To win new friends, extend yourself.

Treat new classmates as exciting, one-of-a-kind individuals. Give some thought to your teachers. They must like young people a lot to stay in teaching when salaries are almost always higher in other fields.

Try to prove your desire to like your new school, fellow-students and teachers and you'll soon find the liking is mutual.

Dear Abby . . .

Gal's Lunch Too Strong for Nonsense

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

"DEAR ABBY: I work in a small office with four other girls. A new girl started to work here and she is our problem. We all carry our lunches and keep them in a closet with our coats. The new girl's lunch smells up the whole closet.

"She brings chopped herring, dill pickles, salami and things like that. She's a good kid and we don't want to hurt her feelings, but I've been going home with the odor of these things on my clothes and I can't take it. Please suggest something."

LEE

ABBY

DEAR LEE: You'd be doing the new girl a favor by telling her in a nice way — and soon.

"DEAR ABBY: For the serviceman's mother who wanted a few tips on sending goodies to her son in Korea: Cookies, cakes and candies shipped in paper boxes or glass jars are a total loss. Buy tins in the dime store or save your coffee and shortening tins and use them. Seal with adhesive tape. For filler use popcorn or walnuts and don't forget to include the hometown newspaper. Airmail is best if you can afford it, but if you ship it straight mail, plan on it taking 30 to 60 days to reach him. Make plenty because they always share it with their buddies. It's a lot of work, but it's worth it.

GOLD STAR MOTHER

"DEAR ABBY: My story should be made into a television serial only nobody would believe it. I've been married for six years to a man my age and neither of us are kids. We have four boys. Last week he was served with papers. TWO wives were looking for him for non-support and desertion.

He has five children by one and three by the other. He never bothered to get divorced from either of them and he was playing all three of us at once. He said he did it for kicks. He is broke and over his ears in debt and we are all so disgusted we don't know where to turn. Please tell me what to do?"

A FOOL

DEAR FOOL: Give him one last kick — out of the house. Your local Family Service can add three "wives" and 12 children to their list . . . and don't worry about your three-faced husband . . . the Law will take good care of him.

"DEAR ABBY: My husband and I have two boys, ages 9 and 11. When I tell the boys they can't do something, my husband butts in and says just the opposite. When I take something away from them, he turns around and gives it back to them. They are getting so they hate me and love him. My word doesn't mean anything around here any more and I don't know what to do about the situation. Can you help me?"

HELPLESS MOTHER

DEAR HELPLESS: Decisions regarding the discipline of children should come from BOTH parents, and BE decided in advance. One parent should never contradict the other in the children's presence. Your husband needs to listen to someone whose opinion he respects. A doctor, clergyman or even a good friend with horse sense will do.

"DEAR ABBY: We are five teenage girls and want to know your opinion of French kissing. We can't ask our mothers. We are serious.

THE FIVE OF US

DEAR FIVE: It is just another step in the wrong direction. P.S. I am also serious.

Practical to List Sizes

By EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post: We recently had our first baby. Friends of ours, a young married couple, gave the baby a quite expensive present. This couple are expecting a baby in several months and we would like to know if we are obliged to give their baby a present of similar value.

"We are both in the same financial bracket but I feel that a present of the same value is beyond our means at the present time. My wife thinks it would be very "cheap" to give anything less to their baby. What is your opinion?"

Answer: It is not necessary to give a present of equal value. You give their baby the nicest present you can afford. You might explain that it isn't as wonderful a present as they gave your baby but that it is the best you could afford at the present time.

"Dear Mrs. Post: I would like to give a "personal trousseau shower" for a friend of mine who is soon to be married. Before sending the invitations, I would like to know what you think of including sizes at the bottom of the invitations. For example: "Slip — Size 34," "Stockings — Size 9½," etc.

"This would not only make it easier for the givers, but would also prevent a lot of exchanging afterwards for correct sizes. Does this plan have your approval?"

Answer: I think your idea is very practical, and therefore I do approve.

"Dear Mrs. Post: I would like to know what is expected of a bride-to-be when her wedding has been called off and the bridesmaids' dresses have been bought. Should she offer to reimburse the bridesmaids for this expense? Just what is her obligation in this situation?"

Answer: If they can make use of the dresses, it is not necessary to do anything. But if they were made specially for the wedding and the girls will have no future use for them, she should, if she possibly can, reimburse them for the expense they were put to.

Pick Hair Dressing for Hair Type

Dry or normal hair often calls for a hair dressing to keep it from looking dry and frizzy.

The best time to apply such a dressing is after your hair is dry and has been brushed and combed. Apply only a little and be certain the ends benefit from the dressing.

Why is it that in a group of four each person seems to talk about one-third of the time?

Child's Room Needs Washable Fabrics

When decorating a child's room with the sharp primitive colors that youngsters love, be sure to make the bedspread, slipcovers, and window hangings of colorfast washable fabrics.

Since laundering will be needed often, tailored washables are a better choice than frilly ones — and these can be just as imaginative and and pretty.

BACK TO SCHOOL

If this is your first year in high school or college . . . you will feel much more at ease with a few social tricks up your sleeve.

If it is difficult for you to enter a large gathering try this: slow down your walk as you enter, this has a calming effect and avoids the breathless entrance. Pause at the entrance and focus on a definite spot (it may be a friend, an available chair or the tea table) then walk directly to it with an assured air.

Gloves are a big help, wear them for the well groomed look and use them for the assurance they give YOU in the what-to-do-with-your-hands problem. Take all the time you want removing them, pretend to concentrate on your gloves while you capture your poise.

Two Distinct Hair Styles for This Fall

You pay your money and take your choice at the hairdresser's this season. And the choice in coiffures narrows down to two distinctly different styles, from which many variations should emerge.

The styles are tousled and uncombed on the one hand, and sleekly polished ladylike Empire on the other.

The tousled hair-do popular with the gamin set who believe that the rag doll look improves their glamor stock. But those who crave sophistication like the Empire hairdos, distinctly feminine.

Bridesmaids, Barbara Johnson of Milford, Mrs. William Rankin of Detroit and Sandra Shintock of Allen Park wore green, pink, and yellow respectively and carried baskets of pale pink gladioli and white chrysanthemums.

Japanese Minister to Visit U.S., Canada

TOKYO (AP) — Foreign Minister Aiichiro Fujiyama left by plane today for Canada and the United States to discuss Japan's relations with those countries and to address the 13th U. N. General Assembly on Japan's international policy.

He is due in Washington Sept. 10 after a week's stop in Canada.

Major subjects to be discussed by Fujiyama and Secretary of State Dulles include revision of the U. S.-Japan Mutual Security Pact and more U. S. aid to Japan and Southeast Asia to offset Red Chinese economic advances in this region.

Fujiyama reportedly will ask for the right to veto movements of American forces from Japanese bases to trouble areas.

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — Electric Auto-Lite Co. today confirmed a report that it will lay off some 300 persons or an estimated 15 per cent of its present labor force of 2,100 next Friday for an indefinite period.

A company official said the cut back is necessary to balance in ventory requirements of Auto-Lite customers.

Cross Honors Minister

POKAGON (UPI)—A three-ton, 11-foot high granite cross has been erected here in honor of the composer of the famed Protestant hymn, "The Old Rugged Cross." Rev. George Bennard, who lives in retirement near Reed City, wrote the hymn in 1913 while conducting a revival service here.

What This Country Needs—More Books

NEW YORK (UPI) — The Telephone Reference Division of the Brooklyn Public Library has come up with a list of books that need writing.

The library provides answers to more than 100 queries a day, but has found two subjects for which hardly any reference material is available.

What this country needs, said the library, is a "really good book of wedding toasts for the distracted best man" and another book listing the altitudes of resort spots.

Lightning Squads Arrest 59

Police Quell London Riters

LONDON (AP) — Race rioting continued for the fourth straight night last night in London but fast-moving police squads took the edge off the violence and kept big mobs from forming.

Fifty-nine persons were arrested, the biggest roundup since poor whites began attacking colored immigrants from the West Indies and other Commonwealth areas nearly two weeks ago.

Hundreds heeded Scotland Yard warnings to stay off the streets of the Notting Hill district—the chief trouble spot — and surrounding areas. Police patrols moved in whenever those who did come out tried to form the large mobs which rampaged through the area on previous nights.

Dozens of automobiles and hundreds of walkers were searched for weapons. Police collected a small arsenal of knives, chains and clubs.

In one of the most serious incidents of the night, a gang of white youths stormed a colored calypso club in the Bayswater area with gasoline bombs. Colored men in the club gave battle, and knives, bottles and glasses were hurled from both sides.

The fighting spread swiftly to neighboring streets, with bands of white teenagers hurling rocks and fire bombs through the windows of nonwhite houses. Five truckloads of police aided by Alsatian dogs broke up the fight.

Ten Notting Hill Negroes walked in a band through the streets with knives drawn. A mob of whites jumped them. The police moved in and broke it up.

In nearby Lancaster Road a mob of 200 teenagers chanted, "We want niggers — down with niggers." Police questioned the leaders of the bands incessantly, trying to learn if a central organization was behind the disturbances.

At least two colored men were stabbed.

Britain's big newspapers lashed their readers with a storm of bitter editorial comment denouncing race violence. All cited parallels with Hitler. The London Times blamed "a tiny submerged hooligan element." The Conservative Daily Sketch blamed Fascists, working through "the bored mass of Teddy boys and frustrated youth of the big cities."

Angry members of Parliament demanded firm government action to stop the rioting.

Advocating Power to Grant Immunity

LANSING (AP) — Legislation empowering a circuit judge to grant immunity from prosecution to a balky witness in a criminal case was advocated today by a committee of the State Bar of Michigan.

The immunity could be extended, at the written request of the prosecutor, to a witness who otherwise might refuse to testify on grounds of possibly self incrimination.

The proposed statute was drawn by the committee on criminal jurisdiction along lines of enactments now in effect in some other states.

An affected witness would not be immune to prosecution for perjury, false swearing or contempt in answering, or failure to answer, questions within the scope of the judge's order.

The proposal was advanced as a new weapon to fight crime.

She Finds Her Ring

STAMPS, Ark. (AP) — Convinced she had lost a valuable diamond ring, Mrs. Pearl Elledge sifted a barrel of floor sweepings and searched every corner of her dry-goods stoe. After hours of hunting vainly, she opened her handbag to get a cosmetic. Guess what she saw sparkling in the bag?

State Sales, Use Tax Drops Off for August

LANSIN (AP) — Sales, use and business activities taxes all took another dip last month from collections for August, 1957, the State Revenue Office reports.

Sales and use taxes brought in $25,256,000 last month compared with $27,244,000 in August last year, the agency said yesterday. The business activities tax totaled $7,178,000 last month and $8,512,000 in August, 1957.

August collections were made on business in July.

Only 2 Others Have Won 20 Since 1930

Pirate Friend Wins 19th

By The Associated Press

Since 1930, the year Bob Friend was born, the Pittsburgh Pirates have come up with only two 20-game victory pitchers. Now Friend is just one game short of becoming the third.

The last pitcher to win 20 for the Pirates was Murry Dickson, now with the New York Yankees. He did it in 1951—and with a seventh place club.

Truett "Rip" Sewell, the guy with the blooper pitch, is the only other Buc to win 20 in one season since 1930. He did it twice, in the war years of 1943 and 1944.

Now, with the Pirates scrapping for their first finish in the first division in a decade, Friend is the National League's top winner, picking up his 19th last night as the Bucs defeated Philadelphia 3-2 and regained a second place tie with San Francisco in the pennant chase.

The Giapts were spilled 4-0 by the Los Angeles Dodgers and Don Drysdale, who allowed five hits in his first shutout of the season. That left the Giants and Bucs eight games behind idle Milwaukee.

St. Louis defeated Cincinnati 4-2 in the only other NL game scheduled.

Friend, who never had won more than 17 in any previous season, gave up seven hits, walked one and struck out seven for his third straight victory and fifth in his last six decisions. He had a shutout until the eighth, when a hit batter, Dave Philley's pinch infield single, and infield out and Solly Hemus' sacrifice fly counted a run. Wally Post's 10th homer, an inside-the-parl job, scored the Phils' other run in the ninth.

The Pirates, who managed only five hits off loser Don Cardwell (2-4) in his seven innings, put it away on Frank Thomas' solo 35th home run in the seventh. They broke a scoreless duel with two out in the sixth, on Bill Virdon's eighth home run, Roberto Clemente's triple and Ted Kluszewski's sacrifice fly.

Drysdale, once 1-7 and now 11-11 with a string of six straight successes, struck out six and walked three for his first shutout since he beat the Giants 10-0 with a three-hitter Aug. 30, 1957. He gave up two hits in the fifth, when the Giants loaded the bases with one out on Orlando Cepeda's double, a single by Hank Sauer and a walk. Drysdale then fanned pinch hitter Leon Wagner and got pinch hitter Whitey Lockman on a fly ball.

The Dodgers, who had lost five in a row to the Giants, nailed it in the first on Gino Cimoli's solo homer, his eighth, off loser Ray Monzant. Gil Hodges hit a bases-empty home run in the fourth for his 10th consecutive year of 20 or more.

Drysdale who singled home the last Dodger run in the seventh, now has matched the longest winning streak in the National League this season. Milwaukee's Warren Spahn and Carl Willey also won six in a row, but both strings are dead.

Bob Mabe gained his first major league victory after five defeats with the Cardinals, striking out eight while allowing seven hits and only one earned run. Wally Moon's double broke a 1-1 tie and Irv Noren singled him home with the clincher in a two-run second inning against loser Bob Purkey (15-9).

Moford Hurls Bengals Into 4th Place Tie

His 2-Hitter Throttles Athletics, 6-1; Chisox Invade Detroit

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Tigers, tied for fourth place, open their last home stand of the 1958 campaign tonight against the Chicago White Sox.

Sparkling two-hit pitching by Herb Moford against the Kansas City Athletics which gave Detroit a 6-1 victory yesterday, and a Baltimore defeat last night by Washington, pushed the Tigers into the fourth place tie with the Orioles.

Moford, using curves, sliders and sinkers, won his fourth game of the season as against six defeats. The victory gave Detroit a 4-7 record at Kansas City. Last year the Tigers were able to win only two games in the A's park.

The victory also enabled Detroit to end its road trip — the longest of the season — with a 10-11 mark.

One of the two hits of Moford was Bob Cerv's 30th home run — his first since Aug. 6. The other was a double by Harry Chiti in the sixth inning which spoiled Moford's no-hit efforts.

Bob Grim, who opposed Moford for eight innings, was the victim of poor support early in the game but gave up two solid runs in the eighth before he retired for a pinch hitter.

Detroit scored twice in the first with Al Kaline tripling home Coot Veal who had singled, and scoring himself when Chico Carrasquel made a wild throw on the relay to third.

A second error by Carrasquel on Frank Bolling's bounder in the fourth gave Detroit its third run. Bob Wilson scored it with a single.

Gail Harris slammed a homer in the eighth and the Tigers scored another run in the frame on a triple by Bolling and a single by Billy Martin.

Singles by Kaline, Harris and a steal of second by Kaline accounted for Detroit's final run in the ninth.

The Tigers play host to all the other American League clubs during the home stand. After a day game with the White Sox Thursday, Kansas City returns for a three-game weekend stand.

Washington arrives for three games starting with a night game next Tuesday; Baltimore plays two starting Sept. 12; Boston comes in for a doubleheader, Sunday, Sept. 14; followed by New York and Cleveland before the Tigers wind up the 1958 campaign in Chicago and Cleveland.

Law Suits and Threats Hindering Shift Talks

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Law suits and threatened law suits hung over franchise negotiations Washington Senators today, less than a week before showdown time.

In Washington, Robert R. Rodenberg, identifying himself as a stockholder in the Senators for 29 years and owner of 75 shares, filed a suit in Federal Court yesterday to oust Calvin Griffith as Washington president and to enjoin transfer of the club to Minneapolis.

The suit asked $500,000 damages.

In Minneapolis, there was new conjecture about a possible taxpayers' suit against the city for applying a nine million dollar bond issue, part of it guaranteed by the city, to expand Metropolitan Stadium.

The legal maneuvering further befogged a franchise issue which will come up for a full airing when the American League meets in Chicago Sunday.

Rodenberg's suit came not long after the Senators' principal minority stockholder, H. Gabriel Murphy, said he would take legal action to challenge any shift of the Senators.

Named with Griffith in Rodenberg's action were other club directors — Vice President Joe Haynes, Eugene Young and Thelma Griffith Haynes, sister of the president and assistant treasurer of the club.

Rodenberg charged conduct of the defendants "has seriously diminished corporate revenues and unless enjoined will result in insolvency of the corporation." The suit says also that Griffith has "practiced fraud, deceit and trickery on the community and stockholders, thereby forfeiting the good will of the community, necessary to successful operation of the team."

The guessing over a Minneapolis law suit grows out of statements made by Stanley Stabno, business agent of a city employes' local that claims the city council granted only token wage increases recently when the workers deserved and needed more.

Stabno fought council approval of the bond issue last week, contending the city could not ethically risk taxpayers' money on a baseball stadium and flub wage requests by its employes.

Councilmen replied no money which would be used for wage boosts would be risked on the stadium.

Stabno says he understands a number of individuals are considering action to challenge legality of the Minneapolis bond issue.

The bond plan won final approval by unanimous vote of the city's board of estimate and taxation yesterday.

Benefit Softball Game Scheduled Thursday Night

An exhibition softball game for the benefit of injured Don Seeterlin will be held this Thursday night at 8 o'clock at Drayton Plains ball park.

The opponents will be Shaw's Jewelers, Pontiac Class AA champions, and an All-Star team from the Waterford League selected by Carl Shell.

Seeterlin, who played for Lakeland Pharmacy this season, suffered a badly broken ankle while sliding into 2nd base and he will be unable to work for the next few weeks.

Proceeds from the game will go to Seeterlin during his enforced idleness.

2nd Ace in 19 Years

For the average golfer it's not only a long time between aces, but usually is a very long time before the first one. And that's what Rudy Sommer, 4153 Dickerson, Detroit pointed out to his companions Monday, at Bald Mountain.

Playing with John Schutter and Bob Newman of Royal Oak, Rudy smacked a 6-iron shot to the 170-yard No. 17 green and the ball holed out for Sommer's 2nd ace in 19 years. He bagged his first one after four years of playing, at Detroit's Municipal Chandler Park. Rudy had 75 for the 18-hole round.

Seixas Advances in Net Tourney

'Old Fellow' Still Winning

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (AP) — An old fellow playing in the National Tennis Championships is beginning to cause some nail-biting among the upper crust.

His name is Vic Seixas. He's familiar, all right. Man and boy, he's been playing tournament tennis for a quarter of a century.

But this year, he decided he was through. He had won the National title in 1954 and played on a half dozen Davis Cup teams.

"Last week," Seixas said today, "I decided to try to get in shape in the Westchester bowl. After the first day I didn't know if I was getting in shape or killing myself. I thought I was half dead."

But he went on to win that one and at the moment is in the round of 16 in the Nationals. He turned back Jon Douglas, the Stanford football player yesterday, 4-6, 10-8, 6-4, 6-4.

His scheduled opponent today was Mike Green of Miami Beach, Fla., and then — if he gets past Mike — Ashley Cooper of Australia.

Half the quarter-final was filled yesterday.

Cooper advanced at the expense of Mike Franks of Los Angeles, 6-1, 6-2, 6-4; Neale Fraser, another Aussie, turned back Grant Golden of Evanston, Ill., 6-4, 6-1, 6-4; Dick Savitt of East Orange, N.J., halted Rod Laver of Australia, 8-6, 9-7, 6-4, and Alex Olmedo of Peru polished off Leslie Longshore of Anniston, Ala., 6-2, 6-3, 6-3.

Likewise, in the women's division, half the quarter-final bracket is filled.

In yesterday's matches, Sally Moore of Bakersfield, Calif., defeated Mary Hawton of Australia, 6-0, 6-2; Mrs. Dorothy Knode of Forest Hills vanquished Margaret Varner of El Paso, Tex., 6-2, 6-3; Jeanne Arth of St. Paul ousted Katherine Hubbeel of Conway, N.Y. 6-1, 6-1, and Darlene Hard of Montebello, Calif., downed Ann Haydon of Britain, 8-6, 10-8.

Speedy Action for New 'Bird'

The 21-year-old shortstop from Oklahoma State University was signed about noon yesterday in Baltimore. Last night he entered the game here against the Washington Senators in the eighth inning.

Baltimore officials did not announce the size of the bonus, but it was believed to have been about $35,000 or more. Manager Paul Richards referred to the bonus only as "quite a load of alfalfa."

Richards said the Sand Springs, Okla., youth "has good hands, a good arm, runs well and looks like a fine hitting prospect."

Yanks Coasting but Casey Worried

By the Associated Press

Casey Stengel has his ninth American League pennant all but officially bagged. He has a 12-game lead with less than two dozen games to play. Yet this may be the toughest part of the season for the New York Yankee skipper.

What he needs is time, not to clinch the flag, but to rest his ailing pitchers—southpaw Whitey Ford and right-hander Don Larsen—for next month's World Series. Both have been found free of serious arm trouble, but a holiday has been prescribed for both.

So what's Casey do? He's come up with his fourth set of starting pitchers to fill the gap.

The season opened with Bob Turley, Ford, Larsen, Bobby Shantz, Johnny Kucks and Tom Sturdivant getting the starting assignments. When Sturdivant ran into trouble, Sal Maglie got his chance. And when Shantz went sour, Art Ditmar came out of the bullpen to start.

Then when Kucks found things tough, and Maglie was peddled, Duke Maas moved in, after his purchase from Kansas City, and Zack Monroe was recalled from the minors for a brief spell as a starter.

Now, with Larsen and Ford out, Stengel has brought Shantz and Monroe out of the bullpen to form a five-man starting staff with Turley, Ditmar and Maas. It could be a six-man group with Murry Dickson.

Thus far, the "new" staff of starters has won three of five games, with Maas producing his first complete game as a Yankee, and Monroe pitching his first complete game in the majors last night for a 6-1 victory over Boston.

Washington spilled Baltimore 4-3 and Detroit tied the Orioles for fourth by defeating Kansas City 6-1 in the only other games scheduled.

Monroe, 27, a right-hander making his first start since July 28, got past the Red Sox with a five-hitter for a 3-1 record. He had a shutout until Dick Gernert got his 20th home run with two out in the ninth. Home runs by Mickey Mantle (38) and Yogi Berra (21) on successive pitches in the sixth inning broke up a scoreless tie. Dave Sisler, who has failed to finish any of 14 starts since June 8, lost it for a 7-8 mark.

The victory reduced the Yankees' magic number of 11. Any combination of Yank victories and or Chicago defeats totaling 11 clinches the flag for Stengel.

Pete Ramos reached his major league high with his 13th victory for the Senators, but needed relief help and a good defensive play by shortstop Ossie Alvarez to nail it after blanking the Birds on two hits for six innings. Alvarez's back-hand stab turned pinch-hitter Joe Taylor's bases-loaded smash into a game ending doubleplay, giving Hyde his 19th save in his 48th appearance. Albie Pearson, hit a three-run, inside-the-park homer in the third off loser Hec Brown (6-4).

Rides Across Lake on Kite

SANDUSKY, Ohio (AP) — A water skier riding a homemade kite towed by a boat flew 31 miles across Lake Erie yesterday.

Tricky cross winds twice dunked Alphonso Woodall in the choppy lake waters, but he finished the trip in an hour and 40 minutes.

The 32-year-old Cleveland television repairman took off at Point Pelee on the Canadian side of the lake. He dropped his water skis shortly after take off.

His 13 by 10-foot kite soared near 50-foot altitudes most of the way. But twice the flying machine nosed into the water. Each time, Woodall, riding on a seat fastened beneath the kite, managed to maintain enough momentum to go aloft again.

He landed at nearby Cedar Point at 5:35 p.m.

A similar attempt was called off last Sunday because of unfavorable weather.

Woodall, the father of five children, said it took him about a year to build his flying machine. He tested the kite Aug. 10 on a 10-mile flight off Nantucket, Mass.

Farrell's Charge Being Checked

Ex-Indian Pilot 'On Spot'

COLUMBUS, Ohio (UPI)—Miami manager Kerby Farrell, faced with an International League investigation for charging that Havana "blew four straight to Columbus" denied last night he was serious.

Farrell, whose players beat Columbus, 4-3, last night in the wake of his controversial remarks, said his comments were aimed at "jacking up my ball club."

"I wasn't serious about Havana laying down," said Farrell, whose team is battling Columbus for a playoff spot.

But president Frank Shaughnessy of the league said the fiery manager was on the spot.

"He had better keep his mouth shut unless he has solid proof of his charges," Shaughnessy said in Montreal yesterday.

"I'm going to start an investigation on these charges immediately."

Farrell made the charges on Monday after a four-game sweep by Columbus over the Sugar Kings. He said that Havana "handed you four games . . . just handed them to you."

The accusations were made to general manager Harold Cooper and manager Clyde King of the Jets.

The two Jets officials called the accusations "downright silly."

At Richmond, Havana manager Tony Pacheoco explained that the Sugar Kings did play poorly against Columbus here but that at no time did his team "lay down."

Expense Account Exhausted

Mile Ace Elliott Paying Way Around Europe

LONDON (AP) — Australian miler Herb Elliott, valued at $250,000 in the professional market, runs in London today for nothing.

And to preserve his amateur status he has to stay in an inexpensive boarding house instead of a plush hotel befitting a champion.

Reason: The 20-year-old Aussie exhausted his 28-day limit for drawing expenses early in August.

He ran his fabulous 3:54.5 mile in Dublin Aug. 6. Since then he's been paying his own way through Europe, and watching every cent.

The crew-cut Australian, fastest man on earth over a mile and 1,500 meters, could be suspended for professionalism if his country's bosses find him guilty of accepting expenses from any source.

"Herb, the giant-killer of the track, the man who is scared of no one in spikes, treads softly and as carefully as a tight rope walker through the European cities that he has set alight," commented Laurie Pignon in the London Daily Sketch. "He runs in triumph but walks in fear."

Elliott's professional value was put at $250,000 by Leo Leavitt, an American promoter.

(In the United States, Leavitt is not known as a major promoter).

"That's the amount I will deposit in his bank the day he says OK," Leavitt was reported as saying from Adelaide, Australia.

Elliott's reply was: "I just can't believe any fellow has money like that lying around to put in my bank. It's 99 per cent certain I shall stay an amateur."

He will be up against Derek Ibbotson of Britain, who ran 3:57.2 for the mile a year ago, and another sub-four minute miler, Brian Heswon, British holder of the European 1,500 meters title. Polish stars Stefan Leawndowski and Zdigniew Crywal and Britain's Mike Blagrove are others in the field.

"Will there be a record?" Elliott who already is a legend of the track, was asked.

"You never can tell, I shall run to win."

Elliott, in addition to his 3:54.5 mile, ran the 1,500 meters last Thursday in the world best time of 3:36 at Goteborg, Sweden.

Injured 'M' Center Lost for Season

Ills Plague Gridders

By United Press International

Injuries are bothering Michigan college football teams with fall practice only three days old.

Michael DuPay, counted upon by line coach Jack Blott as one of his promising reserve linemen at the University of Michigan, suffered a badly sprained ankle in practice yesterday.

Bob Wojcik, a top U-M sophomore center from Chicago, recently operated on for a knee injury, was informed yesterday he will be unable to play this year.

Wolverine halfback John Zanglin of Wyandotte, who underwent an operation on a knee tendon this past week, is definitely out of football "for this season," according to the team physician.

At the University of Detroit training camp at Brighton, things were brighter.

Coaches were relieved to learn yesterday that top left halfback Bruce Maher doesn't have a broken bone in his foot. Maher had his foot stepped on during practice.

Both Michigan and U-D planned scrimmages today. The Wolverines are expected to move to U-M Stadium Saturday for a full-scale scrimmage.

Michigan State's 77-man squad posed for photographers yesterday—two days after other Big Ten teams had their Press Day.

After the picture-taking session, the team ran through pass plays and practiced defensive patterns and fundamentals.

Prep Teams Getting Down to Serious Business Early

By CHUCK ABAIR

Today was only the third day of football workouts for prep teams around the Pontiac area yet several of the coaches were already starting to work pass patterns, blocking assignments and tackling drills in with the usual opening week "loosening up" sessions.

It's easily understandable considering the openers for most of the local contingents are only two weeks away. That leaves plenty of rough going for the youngsters before Sept. 19 rolls around.

Yesterday was picture-taking day for the Pontiac Central Chiefs, who have a nucleus of 17 lettermen. Finding some capable reserves appears to be the major problem for coach Jesse MacLeay.

PCH opens at Waterford in a big battle on the 19th. The Skippers, like Pontiac, are trying to get back on the winning side of the ledger after a losing season but also face a depth problem.

Not a minute is being wasted in the St. Michael and St. Frederick camps. Tansfer lineman Jim Zugras and big newcomer Don Austrang should bolster the Shamrock forward wall which includes 250-pound Fred Lauinger. Five backs are battling for four positions. Another big year for Jack Lyon and more help from Tom Derocher, Tom Nesbitt and some veterans up front could make it a big year for the Rams. Their big city clash is Oct. 19.

Walled Lake has the stuff to go all the way in the Inter-Lakes. Birmingham has some 90 candidates drilling, 14 of them lettermen. Coach Carl Lemle says his Maples will be smaller but faster than usual.

Oakland Be rivals Avondale and Lake Orion will likely both be shy on reserve strength. Yellowjacket boss Frank Crowell got some bad news yesterday when he learned probable starter Jim Beasley, a 190-pound sophomore, is moving to Tennessee. Breaking in boys at new positions is keeping new Orion Skipper Frank Kownacki busy.

Orchard Lake St. Mary will be younger and considerably faster in a bid to move up the Suburban Catholic ladder. Cranbrook is only drilling in shorts and T-shirts thus far. Gene Konley always turns out a strong unit at Rochester and this year should be no exception with workhorse lineman Chuck Ebersole still there. The Falcons scrimmaged yesterday.

Clarkston, Bloomfield Hills and West Bloomfield carry the local colors in the Wayne-Oakland League and appear evenly-matched at this early date in what should be a close race. Keego's John Lucadam could make the Lakers a strong title threat.

Swim Ace Konrads Defeats 3 Chinese

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—John Konrads, the spectacular 16-year-old Australian whiz kid, swims with the speed of three men.

He showed it Tuesday when he raced against a three-man Chinese Nationalist relay team in a 400-meter freestyle exhibition and won with space to spare in 4 minutes, 34.2 seconds.

Bob Dove Cites Strong Defense of Chicago 11

Lions Head for Dallas and Friday Exhibition Game With Bruins

DETROIT — The Detroit Lions leave today for Dallas, Tex., and a Friday night exhibition game with the Chicago Bears.

The encounter, in the Cotton Bowl, marks the first time the two National Football League clubs have met outside the regular season schedule.

The Lions then go on to Norman, Okla., for a pre-season game with the Philadelphia Eagles Sept. 13. Then they return home to continue training at Wayne State University.

Assistant coach Bob Dove, who scouted the Bears' 17-10 victory over the Pittsburgh Steelers last week, said Chicago had about as tough a defensive line as the Lions were likely to come up against this season.

"The Bears were a tough defensive team last year and they look even better now," Dove said. "Pittsburgh never made a drive against them. The touchdown the Steelers scored came off an intercepted pass."

In the defensive department middle-linebacker Jack George rates with Detroit's outstanding Joe Schmidt. And holding down the corners are Joe Fortunato and Chuck Howley, a 290-pound rookie who was impressive against Detroit in the college All-Star game.

In addition, runners like Rick Casares, Willie Gallimore and Bobby Watkins and outstanding receivers like Harlon Hill, Bill McColl and Jim Dooley have paced the Bears to three straight pre-season victories, compared with a 2-1 record for the Lions who dropped their opener to the All-Stars.

Before breaking camp at Cranbrook yesterday, coach George Wilson ordered a two-hour practice session—one of the longest continuous workouts since the world champions started drills five weeks ago. And Wilson made no secret of the fact he was anxious to polish some rough spots in the Lions' defense.

"We won't have much chance to work on our defense there," Wilson said, referring to Dallas. "That's why we have to get it done now — and in a hurry."

2-Man Teams to Qualify for Indianwood Tourney This Weekend

An outstanding field of amateur shotmakers is entered in the annual Indianwood Invitational Best-Ball golf tourney, which gets under way Thursday with 18-hole qualifiers.

Among the standout two-man teams on the entry list are Fred Wilt-Sam Kocsis& Ralph Ellstrom-Lou Dendrow, Earl Burt-Frank Pinkham, Wally Smith-Ben Place, Perry Byard-Carl Stellter, Leo Daigle-Andy Purdo and Dick Robertson-Dick DeWitt.

After tomorrow's qualifying rounds, the field will be broken into four flights of 16 teams each for match play which begins Friday.

Single matches are scheduled Friday and Saturday, followed by the semifinals and championship finals on Sunday. All matches will go the 18-hole route.

Byard and Ellstrom won the title last year, but they will not defend due to their change of playing partners. Par at the taxing Indianwood course is 36-36—72.

196,762 Fans See TV Title Battle

NEW YORK (AP) — Closed-circuit television of the Floyd Patterson-Roy Harris heavyweight title fight last August 18 proved less of an attraction than expected but it still drew a national audience of 196,762 spectators who shelled out $763,437.

These figures, announced Tuesday by Irving B. Kahn, president of the TelePrompTer Corp., which conducted the theater telecast, were below the pre-fight estimate of 200,000 seats and "nearly a million dollars."

Practical Tips on Care of Skis

Although the big summer water-ski season is past, there is still plenty of good skiing time left during the early fall. After several months of service the "boards" certainly will require some attention, if their life is prolonged.

Here are a few hints on how to care for the skis:

Sun and weather can crack and split the rubber parts. For long life, coat the rubber parts with a protective covering of neoprene, a form of liquid rubber sold in many hardware stores. Metal clamps and attachments can also be coated with neoprene.

Tighten all screws on both top and bottom of the skis. They can work loose after hard use. Then sandpaper the rough spots and peeling varnish down to the bare wood. Pay special attention to sides and bottom.

Spar varnish brings out new beauty and protects the wood against sun and water. Apply it in thin coats working it well into corners and over the sides.

A light film of wax over the metal parts and fittings reduces rust and helps them operate more easily.

Fall Bird Outlook Good

PATTERSON

Even the elements seem out of sorts with some labor leaders if last weekend's weather means anything. At any rate fishing the Elk River for outsize rainbows on the first day of September was a very cool proposition and not in the gone meaning of the word either. Cold enough so that one is willing to kiss the '58 trout season goodbye although it still has a week or so to run, and turn his attention to the prospects for less gentle sports which lie ahead.

Outlook for upland birds is very good, almost without exception. Pheasants, most popular Michigan upland bird, seem headed for a banner year. This will no doubt be cheering news for thousands of hunters who imagine the ringneck to be a sporting target, or a game bird. We do not like pheasants. They are gaudy, noisy, smelly, would rather run than fly, and are indifferent on the table.

Among real game birds the outlook is almost as good. Ruffed grouse show a moderate increase pretty much throughout their Michigan range, and in some selected areas have increased considerably.

U.P. sharptails are about the same as last year which means that hunters who try will get some shooting. As in recent years the birds will be protected, along with prairie chickens in the Lower P. An interesting sidelight on U.P. future outlook is that Hungarian partridge seem to be taking hold in eastern counties, may provide shooting before too many years.

Woodcock shooters may expect a good supply of birds again this year although some favorite covers may be too dry to hold birds.

Only legal shorebird, the jacksnipe, about holding his own in numbers, should find mudflats left by receding lakes much to his liking and should provide more and better shooting than last year.

One sour note in the picture is a poor hatch of redheads and cans, necessitating a restriction in the bag limit for both species. This particularly hits the Saginaw Bay and St. Clair shooters, where redheads normally make up a large part of the bag. Mallards and black ducks have fared much better. Geese? Well, there will be lots of geese if the hunter knows where to look for them.

But by and large the outlook is good.

Solunar Table

John Alden Knight's solunar tables for this area will offer some interesting help for Pontiac and Oakland County anglers in their early fall fishing efforts. Designed especially for this section, the following table may help to select the best times for the hook-and-line sport:

	A.M.		P.M.
	Minor	Major	Minor	Major

Little Stories About Outdoors

It was a happy and very successful expedition that a good man of the cloth and his family, from Drayton Plains, made into the rugged outdoors country at Paradise and Damsite lodges along the justly famed Algoma Central, in northern Ontario.

Rev. James E. Taulbe, Mrs. Taulbe and their three children James Jr., 17, Loretta, 14, and Georgia Ruth 12, were on a fishing trip. Operators of the lodges are their friends. And the fishing was good. The family brought back 12 speckled trout and a half dozen pike. Loretta was the top trouter, taking the largest, a 3½-pounder. The minister is pastor of Drayton's First Baptist church.

Strong opposition has arisen over proposed tolls for pleasure boats using the St. Lawrence Seaway. The proposed $2 per lock, or $30 for a boat going through all 15 locks, is challenged as too high, by Outboard Boating Club of America and National Assn. of Boat and Engine Mfrs.

The proposed rates, says OBC, should be regarded as tentative and subject to review when usage figures have been developed.

"Trees for Teddy" is a suggestion for planting trees this fall by school children, in commemoration of the 100th year of the birth of Theodore Roosevelt. "Teddy" was one of the nation's greatest sportsmen and conservation leaders. The planting idea comes from the Theodore Roosevelt Centennial committee of the National Resources Council.

Marine Sergeant Hits First Clean Mark in Rifle Match History

CAMP PERRY, Ohio (AP)—A 30-year-old Marine technical sergeant, Michael Pietroforte of Rockville Centre, N. Y., Tuesday show the first perfect score in the 55-year history of the National Trophy individual rifle match.

His 250 points topped 2,000 of the country's finest military and civilian marksmen in the match which is sponsored by the Department of Army and requires use of service rifles and service ammunition.

Pietroforte placed 23 of his 50 shots in the V-ring, the inner circle on the bullseye which is used to break ties.

Behind Pietroforte, four Army sergeants finished in this order: Gordon Voss of Volumbus, Ga., 248-21; Norman Skarpness of Terrace, Minn., 247-24; Ferdinand Eysel of Pueblo, Colo., and Leslie Prince of Houston, Tex., tied for fourth with 247-19.

Heavy Winds Upset Two WLYA Skippers

Watkins Lake Yachting Assn. had a rough time in Sunday's races at Watkins Lake, two skippers going over, but with little damage besides a thorough wetting.

Ray Frankel capsized just as he won the snipe event, and John Noble's lightning upset on a jibe.

Sunday — lightning — Glen Fries; 2, Bredes; 3, Chuck Morris. Monday — Fries, Bredes, Frank Fleck.

Sunday — snipes — Frankel; 2, Dave Green; Monday — Guy Duffield (in Frankel's boat); 2, Morris.

Press Fish Derby Winners Named

Three Anglers Tied for 'Gill Award

The Pontiac Press today had five, instead of three, winners for the 1958 Big Fish Derby. The summer-long angling contest wound up Labor Day, Sept. 1, after being under way since June 21, when black bass became legal piscatorial prey.

Surprising finish of the bluegill division supplied the big feature.

For the first time in the more than a score years of this strictly "home area" hook-and-line tournament there is a three-way tie.

Tfree fine, one-pound bluegills, whose specifications were so exactly alike, they did not vary a fraction of an inch at any dimension, held on for weeks. Each was exactly 10½ inches long.

So, instead of one very happy 'gill fisherman, there are three.

Each will receive a $50 United States Savings Bond, duplicates of the original winning award.

The lucky (like the ace in golf, a good fish isn't always a matter of being lucky — it takes somewhat of skill) fishermen are, in order of their entries:

Bill Boyer of Pontiac.

Bob Zeeman of Auburn Heights

Loren Wilson of Pontiac.

The bass division bond went to the first feminine angler in many years to take this top honor. Mrs. Noreen (Lyle) Roglitz of White Lake Township captured her prize largemouth in White Lake. It was 6 pounds, 8½ ounces and 22¾ inches in length.

After several years of much smaller northern pike emerging as top entry in this division, along comes a fine 11½-pounder, taken by Charles P. Berch of Pontiac. Berch's fish was 38 inches long and was taken on Oxbow Lake.

Both bass and pike winners also get $50 U.S. Savings Bonds.

Perusal of the fish reported during this year's contest indicates the heavy preponderance of bass fishermen. It also points up the fact that the bass is unquestionably the angler's first choice among the area's game-fish.

WINNERS — Here are the 1958 Pontiac Press Big Fish Derby winners. Note there is only the bluegill pictured in that division. It represents the first 3-way tie in derby history, and was one of three perfectly identical fish, taken by Bill Boyer, Pontiac, Bob Zeeman of Auburn Heights and Loren Wilson of Pontiac. Center above is Mrs. Noreen (Lyle) Roglitz of White Lake with her winning bass, while Charles P. Berch of Pontiac shows his winning northern pike, at right. Bluegills weighed one pound; the bass 6-pounds 8½-ounces and pike 11½ pounds. Each lucky angler received a $50 U. S. Savings bond.

State's Last Fall Boat Races

Outboards Run at OCBC, on Sept. 14

What is declared by Oakland County Boat Club racing officials as the last outboard hydro card of the 1958 season for Michigan and the Midwest Region, has been scheduled for Sept. 14, on Sylvan Lake.

American Powerboat Assn. has sanctioned the program which is sponsored by the OCBC. John Benson is chairman for the event that is expected to draw top outboard hydro and utility class speedsters from Michigan, Indiana, Ohio, Illinois and Northern Kentucky. Al Deathe, Detroit, regional chairman, will represent the APBA.

Racing will start at 11 a.m. Events include A-B-C-D hydros and same classes for utilities. Special races have been set for OCBC members and residents of the lake.

Among top drivers expected are Paul Kalb, Class B utility champion, from Monroe, and Skip Forcier, top Class D utility racer from Grosse Pte. Bill Holloway from Monroe, who will be here, is a leader among state hydro drivers.

The Sept. 14 races here afford pilots their last opportunity to compile points towards the season's championships.

Sylvan Shores Names Horseshoe Champions

Final rounds were pitched, Monday in the summer-long horseshoe tournament conducted by the Sylvan Shores Improvement Assn., when singles and doubles champions were named.

Bill Leigh defeated Duane Lemeaux in two sets for the individual crown. Leigh then teamed with John Kinzler to capture the doubles from Lemeaux and Don Bradford. Champions took four of five games.

Trophies were given winners and runners up. A field of 20 shoe-pitchers took part in the event.

80,000 Study Boating

More than 80,000 Americans will take the U.S. Power Squadrons' free public instruction course in piloting, seamanship and small boat handling during 1958, an expected 42 per cent increase over last year.

Kennel Club Plans Picnic, Puppy Match

Annual picnic for members of the Oakland County Kennel Club is set for Saturday, Sept. 6, at 4:30 p.m. at the home of Gordon and Elaine Parham, on Salem road.

The club will hold its fall puppy match the following day, Sunday, Sept. 7, in Royal Oak Farmers' Market.

Pontiac Shooters Do OK in National Rifle Tests

Two Oakland County Sportsmen's Club riflemen today had completed firing in the annual National Rifle matches at Camp Perry, Ohio and returned home with some very nice honors. They were gone 9 days.

George Forstrom and Bob Waggoner, shooting in the Navy Cup standing competition compiled the following totals:

Forstrom 98 and Waggoner 88. Forstrom was 5th in civilian listings.

Both had to complete with some 1900 marksmen from the Navy, Army, Marines and Air Force, including some of the top service high-power riflemen.

The gun used was the .30 caliber army rifle. The OCSC pair were shooting in the bolt rifle division.

Scores included: Forstrom 99-6v (sitting) for top civilian rating. Waggoner fired 96-2v.

At 300 yards, prone, Forstrom had 91-3v, Waggoner 94-4v. Firing two rounds prone at 600 yards (iron sights) Forstrom shot 97-11v on his first round, 94-11v on the second. Waggoner's cards were 98-8v and 99-11v.

This was the 3rd time that Waggoner lost out in this same match by a single point.

At 1,000 yards prone (Wimbleson match) Forstrom had 98-11v, Waggoner 97-11v.

At 1,000 yards, teaming with the Michigan sextet, Waggoner fired 94-10v, Forstrom 96-12v.

Both shooters received the coveted instructor's rating from the Army Infantry School. They also qualified as Master Riflemen.

One other OCSC rifleman, Ken Farnum of Pontiac, shot a 97-11v and 91-10v in the 600 yard event.

Plans are under way for the annual club rifle championship later this month.

Obedience Show at Miracle Mile

Pontiac dog owners, interested in obedience training for their pets or hunting dogs, will have an opportunity, Saturday afternoon, to see how this sort of training is accomplished. Southern Michigan Obedience Training Club will present a demonstration of its work at Miracle Mile.

Demonstration is set for 2:30 p.m. and the public is invited. There is no charge.

SMOTC will shortly begin its fall and winter series of training classes in several centers.

New Italian Find to Star Opposite John Forsythe

By DOROTHY MANNERS

(While Louella O. Parsons is in Hawaii her column will be written by Dorothy Manners.)

HOLLYWOOD — John Forsythe, signed for the title role in William Dieterle's top budget "The Avenger," co-stars with Italy's hottest new find, Rosanna Schiaffano.

The multi-million dollar picture produced by J. Arthur Rank for UFA, is based on Pushkin's book, "Dubrovsky." Shooting starts in Rome Sept. 10.

Forsythe has already completed 13 episodes of his next season's "Bachelor Father" TV films. He planed out over the Labor Day weekend for his role of the Russian officer (1831) dedicated to avenging the death of his father.

Movie producers don't seem to give up on Bill Holden despite the fact that his contract battle with Paramount has cancelled him out of "The Horse Soldiers" with John Wayne, and other offers.

The brothers Stuart and Budd Schulberg have sent Bill "The Bridge at Remagen," a copy also going to Curt Jurgens. The main characters are a Nazi officer (Jurgens) and an American officer (Holden) who stage a psychological tug of war over the bridge at Remagen just previous to the march of the First Army over the Rhine in World War II. Anybody for "Bridge on the River Kwai?"

At last we seem to have come up with one "second generation" young man who doesn't care anything about following the old man into stardom—or even living like a movie star's son. Seventeen-year-old Jim Mitchum, son of Robert, has returned from Europe where he reluctantly spent the summer with his family and has checked back on his job as an auto mechanic at a local garage.

Jim's as happy with a wrench in his hand and grease on his face as the average boy is with a hi-fi set and a stack of hot records. When his fellow garage workers asked him if anything interesting had happened in Europe, Jim said, "I picked up German measles in Greece—that's about all."

C. B. de Mille, back in a working mood, was on the Paramount lot today to take a look at the final cut of "The Buccaneer," which has been trimmed from three hours to two.

Four Adventurers Survive, 1 Killed

Describes Fatal Ocean Voyage on Raft

AUCKLAND, New Zealand (AP) —A crew member of the ill-fated raft Tahiti Nui II tells of the torturous voyage from South America that ended in the death of explorer Eric de Bisschop on a South Sea island reef.

Winds blew the raft off course and they had to make a new one in midpassage to keep from being swamped in the Pacific, said Adlain Brun, second in command.

De Bisschop, a 66 - year - old French oceanographer, was killed trying to prove his theory that ancient Polynesian and South American cultures could have maintained contact by drifting back and forth on the Pacific currents. The crew survived.

His first voyage last year—from Tahiti to South America—ended 400 miles short of its goal when his raft broke up in a storm off Chile.

Brun was reached in the Cook Islands, where he and the other three crew members are recovering. Brun gave this account of their 6½ months at sea:

The raft left Chile last Feb. 15 and reached Callao, Peru, March 26. De Bisschop and his four-man crew set sail from Peru April 13 heading for Tahiti, 6,800 miles away.

The radio broke down after a week out. Seven weeks later the raft sighted a passenger ship and reported all was well.

Later, storms blew Tahiti Nui II north of its planned course and it became waterlogged and unsafe in rough seas. The stern was 18 inches under water.

The double forward mast was replaced by a smaller single mast and sail, but the raft settled further. The crew made outriggers in an attempt to keep the raft on even keel.

By this time the raft was three or four feet under water at the stern and the crew was living on top of the deckhouse.

The seas were still rough and De Bisschop decided to abandon the Tahiti Nui II. The crew made a new and smaller raft out of empty water drums and good timber on the old one.

Currents carried them toward Starbuck Island, an uninhabited coral island about 1,000 miles north of Tahiti. When they were about 20 miles south of Starbuck the winds changed, driving them north.

De Bisschop tried to make landfall at two of the Cook Islands, but was driven off course by winds. Finally, with food and water short, the raft reached Rakahanga in the northern Cook Islands.

With the crew's approval, De Bisschop decided to shoot the reef around Rakahanga before dawn Sunday. The raft hit the reef and capsized. De Bisschop was killed.

The French minesweeper Lotus left Tahiti yesterday for the Cook Islands to bring back De Bisschop's body and the four surviving crewmen. In addition to Brun, the 27-year-old navigator, the crew consisted of Juan Fischer, a Chilean mining engineer; Jean Pellisier, 26, a French oceanographer, and Juan Burenois, 28, the Chilean cook.

Electric Power From H-Blast?

Scientist Teller Thinks It's Possible by Putting Bomb in Deep Hole

By ALTON BLAKESLEE

GENEVA (AP) — H-bombs in gigantic peaceful bangs could create electric power from deep holes in the ground, Dr. Edward Teller suggested Tuesday to the U.N atoms-for-peace conference.

The explosion in deep holes would convert water into steam which would rise up to run electric turbines above ground.

H-blasts could also crush rock for mining, recover trapped oil, build harbors and canals, or divert rivers, said the famous physicist who sometimes is called the father of the hydrogen bomb.

A test is being considered underground in New Mexico, he reported.

These peaceful uses of fusion explosions could come about long before the H-bomb reaction itself is tamed down for controlled production of electricity above ground, Teller said, adding that controlled fusion "may not turn out to be possible economically before the end of the century."

Hydrogen fuel is cheap, and the explosions would not create any radioactive fallout, or too widespread contamination of rock or dirt, Teller continued. Recent studies "have led increasingly to the expectation that thermonuclear explosions can be brought sufficiently under control to be of help in earth-moving jobs, in mining, and conceivably in the production of energy," he said.

Teller said the only real problem would be digging the hole and being able to use it repeatedly. The underground explosion of an atomic bomb in Nevada a year ago showed that such blasts can be confined safely, he said. But radioactive rock created by the nuclear explosion would have to be separated to permit continuation of operations.

This is not a hopeless problem, Teller added. He said the explosions could even be designed to furnish very valuable radioactive isotopes which could be sold to reduce the cost of the blast.

Watkins Hills to Get Lights

No Objections Raised at Waterford Board Meeting Last Night

The Watkins Hills Subdivision in Waterford Township will be lighted. This was the decision made by the township board last night after an all day hearing failed to produce any objectors.

A special street lighting district will be set up and each of the 35 lots in the subdivision, located on Baybrook drive, will be assessed $4.94 annually.

In other business, the board approved the Oakland County Road Commission's recommendation of accepting a low bid of $17,285 for the blacktopping of Frembes street from Dixie highway to Walton boulevard.

Four bids were submitted for the four-tenths of a mile stretch and the Doherty and Doherty Co. of Royal Oak will be awarded the contracts.

Township board members approved the payment of a $2,863 bill submitted by the board of education for crossing guard salaries last year.

By mutual agreement, the township and the school district splits the costs of hiring the crossing guards. An additional number of guards have been employed this year due to the opening of two new schools bringing the total number to 29 traffic employes.

After a lengthy discussion, the board tabled the approval of the Highland Estate Subdivision Plat No. 5 because of necessary negotiations with the Oakland County Road Commission.

Developers of the new 173 lot plat on M59 and Airport roads want to construct a service road parallel with Airport road but road commissioners have balked at the project of maintaining such a road.

Township officials want the company to construct sidewalks along Airport road for school children in event that the road commission flatly refused to agree with the developers.

Grain Market Steady to Firm

CHICAGO (AP)—The grain futures market was steady to firm today in early dealings on the board of trade with buying apparently well spread among all interests.

Dealers said both commission houses and speculative trade were on both sides of the market, however, indicating some evening up operations and perhaps a reinstatement of positions liquidated in yesterday's sell-off.

Trade was very slow near the end of the first hour, with wheat unchanged to ¼ cent a bushel higher, September $1.86¾; corn ¼ to ½ higher, September $1.26⅛; oats ¼ to ⅜ higher, September 61⅞; rye ¾ to ¾ higher, September $1.25¼; soybeans ½ to ¾ higher, September $2.24⅛; lard 3 cents a hundred lbs. higher, October $12.25.

Faubus Warns He'd Defy U.S.

'Bound' to Oppose Use of Federal Troops for Little Rock Integration

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (UPI) — Gov. Faubus warned yesterday that if federal marshals were used to enforce Negro integration anywhere in Arkansas, he would be "bound to offer opposition" to any such move.

Faubus could answer such a move by the federal government through a bill passed by the Arkansas Legislature in a special, anti-integration session last week. The bill would allow Faubus to close any integration-threatened school. Faubus has not signed the bill but he can do it when he sees fit.

Faubus told newsmen he had information a group of federal marshals was being gathered for duty at Central High School. However, neither the Justice Department in Washington nor local federal officials would comment on Faubus' statement.

"I do not want to provoke an open conflict between state and federal governments," said Faubus, "but I am bound to offer opposition to any such move by the federal government."

Faubus said the bills passed by the Legislature would not be used by him as a "whip" to threaten the U.S. Supreme Court or the Little Rock School Board.

As to when he might sign the bills passed by the lawmakers, he said:

"This integration crisis is a day-to-day situation—one that needs studying."

Meanwhile, new opposition to integration, in the form of the Ku Klux Klan, was reported in Little Rock. Members of the segregationist capital Citizens Council reported that at least 15 of their number had been approached for membership.

The number who have joined the Klan is not known, since klansmen are sworn to secrecy.

The Rev. Wesley Pruden, president of the Citizens Council, said he had been told by one of the organizers, from Dallas, Tex., that the 50 members needed to obtain a national charter was reached yesterday and that the Little Rock Klan will be organized sometime this week.

The U.S. Supreme Court will meet Sept. 11 to decide on the question of whether the Negroes will be admitted to Central when the school starts its fall term Sept. 15.

Chrysler Cars to Offer Swivel Front Seats

DETROIT (AP) — Chrysler Corp. announced today it will have swivel front seats in its 1959 model cars, to be introduced in mid-October.

The seats, providing individual accommodation for both driver and front seat passenger, glide outward in a 40-degree arc to facilitate ease of entry and exit. The center front seat is stationary.

A conveniently placed lever controls the outward movement of the seat as the door is opened. The driver or passenger seats himself with legs outside the car, lifts his feet and with the weight of his body swivels the seat back into locked position.

Paul C. Ackerman, engineering vice president, said the swivel seats are as strong structurally and anchored as securely in the car as are conventional seats.

The seats will be standard equipment on Plymouth Sport Fury models and the DeSoto Adventurer and Chrysler 300. They will be offered as option, extra cost equipment on most other models.

FAIR CHAMPIONS — Donald Boyd, 11, of 1740 W. Clyde St., Milford, proudly cuddles his champion Cheviot ram and ewe. The two animals won top awards in the Junior Show judging at the 109th annual Michigan State Fair in Detroit this week. Donald is a member of the Milford 4-H Club.

DETROIT (AP)— A group of 10 Detroit investors has purchased the Book Tower and annex, third largest skyscraper in Detroit. Details of the transaction were announced Tuesday by Irwin I. Cohn, president of Book Tower Co. The investor's group is headed by Emanuel J. Harris, prominent Detroit real estate financier. Terms of the sale were not disclosed.

Lower-Priced Stocks Favored

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market continued its advance in active trading early today.

Lower-priced stocks remained in demand.

Among pivotal issues the gains ranged from fractions to about a point. A number of stocks were unchanged.

The market was nearing its high for the year once again. Business news remained favorable over-all, but stiffening interest rates and the labor situation in Detroit caused some uncertainty.

The ticker tape was late for a period of four minutes, lagging a minute behind the pace of floor transactions. Prices were mixed at the opening then gradually tilted to the upside.

Hoffa Aide Gibbons Prodded on Violence

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Senate rackets investigators accused Teamster Vice President Harold J. Gibbons today of saying he is against violence but being unable to prove it by facts.

"You make general statements that 'I am against sin, I am against violence, I love my mother,' but you can't explain . . . specific acts of violence," committee counsel Robert F. Kennedy charged.

Gibbons, second in command to Teamster President James R. Hoffa, denied he was "dodging any questions," and countercharged that the committee was basing its attack against him on the testimony of unreliable witnesses.

Gibbons and Kennedy clashed as the St. Louis Teamster leader appeared for his second round of questioning before the committee.

Gibbons demonstrated yesterday that he hoped to take the initiative from the committee in replying to its charges that he parlayed violence and dictatorial tactics to achieve success in the nation's largest labor union.

Gibbons said the committee itself had "destroyed" the credibility of two witnesses who linked Teamster official Joseph Bommarito to taxicab violence in St. Louis by putting the police records of the two into the record.

Asked why he had not acted against Bommarito, Gibbons replied: "Do you think I'm going to fire a responsible staff member on the word of a man who has been in the insane asylum?" He said he was referring to Harold Sparks, also identified last week as an ex-convict.

Later, however, Gibbons said, "I will deal with Mr. Bommarito."

To objections against taking the word of Sparks and Odron Mitchell, the other witness, Kennedy said, "These are the people who came here and admitted they were involved in violence and they named the others who were with them."

Kennedy said the two men might not be "the best people of St. Louis, but we aren't going to find a minister, priest or rabbi tipping over taxicabs."

Gibbons told the committee he had no "independent recollection" of investigating violence in the 1953 Yellow Taxi strike, but other union officials had questioned strikers every morning.

Gibbons said he didn't know whether Bommarito hurt his back trying to tip over a taxi as Sparks and Mitchell testified, "but if the union paid his medical bills, t was in a proper union activty."

Father of 11 Admits Having Two Wives

A 28-year-old father of 11 children and husband of two wives changed his mind yesterday and pleaded guilty to a charge of polygamy.

Clarence Beardsley appeared before Oakland County Circuit Judge Clark J. Adams and pleaded innocent to the charge brought by wife No. 1, Mrs. Barbara Beardsley, 27, of 27766 Brush St., Madison Heights. He returned later to see the judge and pleaded guilty.

Judge Adams set sentencing for Sept. 8. Beardsley did not state why he had changed his mind.

Beardsley, who worked for the Greyhound Corp. in Chicago and came to Oakland County recently on a sick leave, married his first wife 10 years ago in Detroit. They have 10 children, according to Assistant Oakland County Prosecutor William E. Lang.

Lang said he was wed to his second wife within the past year, and that they have one child.

Paris Backs Up De Gaulle

PARIS (UPI)—The cabinet today approved a proposed new constitution for France. If approved in a referendum later this month, it will set up the fifth republic and clear the way for Premier Charles de Gaulle to become president.

South Florida Hit by Fringe Squalls of Stormy Ella

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Squalls on the fringe of tropical storm Ella roughed south Florida today with winds in gusts of 40 to 50 m.p.h.

Located 75 miles south of Havana, Cuba, Ella whirled 55 m.p.h. squally winds as it moved with an ill-defined center toward the northwest. It was moving along at 13 m.p.h.

Reduced from hurricane force that took five lives in Cuba, Ella was expected to move toward the northwest at a faster clip today and build up over the southeast Gulf of Mexico.

The Weather Bureau said gusts up to 33 m.p.h. whistled through Miami today. Widespread reports of broken limbs and other slight damage were received.

Key West reported gusts estimated at 50 m.p.h. during a squall yesterday. No damage was reported.

Havana reports said a woman and four children were drowned in the town of Bayamo, 60 miles northwest of Santiago. They were trapped in the waters of a flood-swollen river.

At Key West, the Navy moved some ships into the open sea and ordered its airplanes and blimps to inland points.

Civil defense officials at St. Petersburg placed 1,000 residents on standby notice for disaster work.

Temperature edged upward to nearly normal levels in most of the Eastern third of the country today after a couple of days of cool weather.

But cooler air moved through Northwestern sections of the country and headed into the north central region from the northern Plains.

Joanne Granger of Oxford Weds in Methodist Church Ceremony

MRS. JOHN P. LOVELL

OXFORD — Oxford Methodist Church was the scene Saturday afternoon of the marriage of Joanne Creighton Granger to John P. Lovell. The candlelight rite was performed by the Rev. Fred Clark before an altar banked with sprays of greenery, shaggy dahlias and bouquets of carnations.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank M. Granger of 4494 Granger Rd., Oxford. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Nyla M. Lovell of Madison, Wis., and Frank Lovell of Racine, Wis.

The new Mrs. Lovell wore a gown of white Swiss organdy, featuring an appliqued inset in the back bodice with a short train forming from a cascade of pleats. Her fingertip veil fell from a pill box of matching material.

She designed her own gown as well as those worn by others in the bridal party. All were made in Baumholder, Germany.

Maid of honor was the bride's sister, Sara Jane. Attendants were Miss Eleanor Sanders of Birmingham and Miss Suzanne Betts of Bay City, cousin of the bride.

David L. Matson of Madison was the best man, while the ushers were Sam Tagart of Milwaukee and 1st Lt. Walter C. McCrillis of Bunker Air Force Base, Ind.

The reception was held in the church parlors immediately after the ceremony.

Following their honeymoon in northern Wisconsin, the couple will make their home in Madison, where the bridegroom is doing graduate work in political science at the University of Wisconsin. He is a graduate of the U.S. Military Academy at West Point.

A graduate of Michigan State University, the bride has been an art teacher in the Royal Oak school system. She also taught for a year in Army schools in Baumholder, Germany.

Stole '59 Car Photos, Gets Probation, Fine

Placed on three years probation and assessed $100 court costs was James M. Crain of Pontiac, who pleaded guilty to stealing pictures of the 1959 Dodge from a Bloomfield Hills art studio.

Crain, 25, of 55 Parkdale St., received the sentence yesterday afternoon from Oakland County Circuit Judge H. Russel Holland. He was charged with larceny from a building.

Crain pleaded guilty Aug. 18 of taking five photographs of the new Dodge from the New Center Studios, 70 E. Long Lake Rd. He then attempted to have the owner of the firm, Charles Carson, pay him $2,000 for the return of the pictures.

Police said he had threatened to turn the photographs over to General Motors Corp., if he didn't receive the money. Police broke up the plan when they arrested Crain as he picked up "pay-off" money planted by police.

Transportation Service Offered to Bay City

BAY CITY (UPI) — The Bay City Commission last night heard two new offers for public transportation systems in the city.

Balcer Bros. discontinued bus service in the city May 14, leaving this city of 52,000 without a transit system.

However, Bay City policemen said they plan to establish six routes of commuter service all to central Bay City.

And the Bay City Cab Co. said it has purchased busses from Balcer Bros. and will start seven routes for school pupils. The company is also starting an intercity bus service between Bay City and nearby Essexville.

The name of the state of Vermont comes from two French words: "vert" and "mont"—meaning "green mountain."

Teamsters Group Forms New Union

BOISE, Idaho (AP)—A group of dissident Teamsters Union members yesterday formed a new union. Atty. Tony Fredericks said the new group—General Truckers Assn. of America—would try to gain recognition as bargaining agent for employes of Consolidated Freightways in the Utah-Idaho Teamster district.

He said more than 75 per cent of Consolidated's teamster employes have applied for membership in the new organization. The firm is one of those idled by the Teamsters dispute with central California truckers.

Fredericks said the group was formed as a result of growing dissatisfaction of Consolidated employes with Teamsters representation.

In Memoriam 2

IN MEMORY OF MY DEAR Mama, Betty Lou Wilson, who passed away four years ago today.
Here is to my dear Mama
Who left me four years ago.
Our time together was so short,
But, oh, I loved her so.
Jesus called her home with Him
In Heaven so far away.
But I know that I can see her some day.
Heaven must be a pretty place
And have Mamas everywhere
But I am sure that mine
Is the prettiest Mama there.
Here eyes were such a perfect blue
Her hair so curled and black
Sometimes I long so very much
To have my Mama back.
Oh, Jesus, I know ou love her so.
And so kind to her must be
But sometimes love her a wee bit more!
PLEASE JESUS, JUST FOR ME.
It's we little ones who wonder.
Raymond, age five.

Actor Seeking Varied Roles

He'll Appear Shortly as Elwood P. Dowd in 'Harvey'

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP) — Art Carney, a fine actor who loves his profession and a responsible suburban householder who loves his wife and three children, had a difficult decision to make this past summer.

His good friend and happy working companion, Jackie Gleason, asked Carney to come back with him on a regular basis when Gleason launches his new CBS-TV show this fall.

After much meditation Carney regretfully turned down Gleason's offer because he wished to take the financially more hazardous course of being a free-lance actor, free to take acting assignments he liked and to tilt at a variety of roles.

The first result of his decision is that he will appear on television this month in one of the most delightful roles in our opinion to come from the American theater in recent years.

On Sept. 22 he will play the role of Elwood P. Dowd in Show of the Month (CBS-TV) adaptation of Mary Chase's comedy "Harvey."

Numerous television viewers think of Carney chiefly in terms of the roles he played with Gleason, particularly as Norton in "The Honeymooners" — which, by the way, still is rerunning strong on many stations throughout the country.

Last season when Gleason was off the air, Carney demonstrated his versatility as an actor in several TV shows and on Broadway in "The Rope Walkers."

While his neighbors in Yonkers, N.Y., are far from having to take up a collection to support Carney, who recently bought a summer home on the Connecticut shore, it takes a kind of courage for an actor to turn down weekly employment in television this coming season.

But Carney, innately as modest as Elwood P. Dowd, refuses to dramatize his personal life and froth about things like courage.

He simply says this of his decision: "I'm not appearing on a regular basis with Gleason in the coming season. It's the sort of decision I hope and I believe that Gleason understands.

"If I signed on a regular basis, I'd be tied down, and I want to be free to do guest appearances."

McElroy Says Allies Stronger Than Reds

CHICAGO (AP) — The United States is ahead of the Soviet Union in over-all military strength, says Secretary of Defense Neil McElroy. He asserted this country and its allies are strong enough to win either a general or limited war.

McElroy, in a speech to the national commander's dinner at the American Legion's annual convention last night, also spoke out against increased spending now on the long-range ballistic missile program, saying more spending now "would be an unwarranted risk of your money."

McElroy, speaking at the Legion's national commander's dinner last night, said the United States is ahead of the Soviet Union in over-all military strength and that this country and its allies are strong enough to win either a general or a limited war.

He took issue with those he described as oracles who predict the United States will be unable to match Soviet military strength in the years ahead.

Complaints on Roads Really Nothing New

FRANKLIN TOWNSHIP, N.J. (AP) — Members of the Township Committee can say they've heard that one before when the complaints come in — and prove it.

Municipal records dating back 147 years indicate that even in Colonial times, caustic comments about road conditions and other public affairs were stylish among the citizenry.

New Source of Electricity Discovered

WASHINGTON (AP) — A new method by which heat can be converted directly into electricity was described today by Westinghouse scientists.

It uses a little-known class of materials resembling the ceramics used in china dinnerware. Reacting to heat, they produce electricity simply, silently and without moving parts.

Among first possible uses seen for the new materials is in vastly improving transmission of radio signals from earth satellites. They may enable satellite radios to transmit louder and more numerous signals and do so for six months or more compared with about a couple of weeks when employing conventional storage batteries.

Envisioned in another year or so are emergency power units for hospitals and for residential oil burners, washing machines and refrigerators during a conventional power failure.

Should Schools in State Hold Classes All Year?

LANSING (UPI) — With school doors swinging open for another year, the cry is loudly heard of classroom shortage, overcrowding and need of more facilities which mean more money.

More than a million and a half Michigan public school children are expected this fall—a jump from last year of about 70,000 students. This increase is predicted for the next three or four years.

A businessman who doesn't use his facilities or equipment for many weeks of the year feels he isn't getting full value from his investment. This may be the thinking of advocates of a 12-month school.

There are various degrees of this year-round school but perhaps in the maximum it would mean a four-quarter system with a fourth of the students out of school each of the quarters. This would mean an end to the traditional summer vacation for three-fourths of the students.

Deputy superintendent of public instruction Edgar L. Grim said there is no move afoot on the state level to adopt or recommend this system but said such a move "sometime in the future is very possible."

A 12-month school idea isn't new. It cropped up 52 years ago in Bluffton, Ind. It has come into use, many times in modified form, in several areas of the country since but apparently never on a permanent basis.

Foss Elwyn, former superintendent of schools at Sault Ste. Marie, said the plan was tried partially for "six or seven years" at his school.

"We started with the idea of a year-round program for teachers," he said. "The complete staff didn't work through the summer but many teachers revised curriculum and recreational programs and some students attended remedial reading classes or other types of instruction."

"It made for better use of the buildings," Elwyn said, "but it was a constant battle to keep the idea sold — to teachers, students and parents."

"It cost money and was certainly worth more than it cost," he said, "but in periods of economic stress, this is the type of program which is cut off first."

E. D. Kennedy, executive secretary of the Michigan Education Assn., pointed out several disadvantages to the plan. He said the MEA has taken no official position on the program but it had been "informally discussed."

Kennedy said year-round use of schools would make maintenance difficult. Now, schools use the summer vacation time to paint, remodel and recondition classrooms and often the entire school.

Kennedy said a year-round program would create a great administrative problem. Grim also agreed and pointed to this as the main disadvantage.

Problems would develop in orienting new teachers, keeping a continuity of educational development and setting up revisions in curricular and extracurricular activities.

Another major source of opposition would be from the public. Kennedy said a summer vacation is an American habit and one not easily changed. Vacation difficulties would probably develop in a family with children in different phases of terms who would not be having their vacation quarters at the same time.

The aspects are countless but it is an idea raised often in times when Michigan needs 11,000 additional classrooms.

Kennedy summed it up. "It may not be impossible to have a full-year program," he said, "but it would be mighty difficult."

Suzy Parker Resumes Career After Accident

By EARL WILSON

WESTHAMPTON, L.I.—I was 'way out east here on Long Island—"out where the money begins"—when Eleanor Holm said, "Hey!"

"Suzy Parker's down the road posing for snow pictures," Ellie said.

A couple of miles away, on a curve fronting on Long Island Sound, the recently injured Suzy was posing for "a Swiss mountain ski scene" with Vic Cutrere (Eleanor's admirer). Glamour Photog Dick Avedon was shooting it — using a ton of salt to simulate snow.

They were mushing through the salt in ski togs though actually it was a rainy summer sundown. They had umbrellas over the camera—but not the models.

"It's one of Suzy's first jobs since she broke her arm in that accident," Dick Avedon said. "And you know she had to hold a pose for 18 seconds! That's pretty good for somebody who hasn't even been in an accident. Try holding your hand steady for just ONE second!"

Inasmuch as I had been living at the opulent Bath and Tennis Club here for few days—at the "boatel" —a combination of "boat" and "hotel" — I sagaciously declined to try to hold my hand steady even for HALF a second. Why, there was a yachtsman here who never goes anywhere without an accordionist. That makes for unsteady hands.

SUZY

WEEHAWKEEN, N.J. — I went for a ride on the Weehawken Ferry which dies in a couple of weeks and was saddened that these beautiful voyages across the Hudson must end. Curiously, the ticket-seller sold us a ticket for our car, but couldn't deliver us a ticket. He had no cash register receipt paper, which serves as a ticket. "The cash register company won't give us any paper except for cash," he said, "and I guess we ain't wasting money." It seems an inglorious death.

1,965 Waterford Children Given Fluoride Treatment

Nearly 2,000 Waterford Township youngsters have had topical fluoride treatment on their teeth this summer, concluding one of the most successful projects of the local parent-teachers' associations, according to chairman Mrs. John Hoke.

Three dental students from the University of Michigan and Michigan State University and their assistants administered four applications to each of the 1,965 children enrolled. Only those in the 3, 4, 7, 10 and 13-year-old age bracket were eligible for the treatments.

Working from early morning until afternoon, the university students averaged 20 children a week for the 10-week course which started June 17. Approximately 40 mothers were at the high school daily to keep things moving smoothly.

Sponsored by the Michigan State Health Department and sanctioned by the District Dental Society, the summer fuloride program was "tested" in Waterford Township last year, with more than 600 pupils from three school participating.

The program was so successful that the Board of Education gave the "go-ahead" for all of the 18 elementary schools to enroll in this year's project.

In order to accommodate the many children, two portable sets of dental equipment were loaned by the state, and one set was rented from the Walled Lake school district. Dr. William K. Baer acted as counselor for the program.

All net proceeds will be used to purchase portable dental equipment, and will be presented to the Waterford Township school district for future use. Mrs. Hoke said.

CHEROKEE, Okla. (AP) — Highway Patrol Trooper Dave Dvorak had to call Alfalfa County Sheriff Aubrey Tatro for help.

Violence Flares Again on Cyprus

British Order Youths 15½ to 25½ Years Old to Stay Off Streets

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP)—British authorities tried today to halt a new outburst of terrorism on Cyprus by ordering Greek Cypriot youths between 15½ and 25½ years old in the Nicosia area to stay off the streets until further notice.

The Nicosia Security Committee ordered the curfew after two British servicemen were murdered in the Cypriot capital in the past two days. Police believe the assassins were teen-age gunmen of EOKA, the Greek Cypriot underground fighting to unite the British crown colony island with Greece.

The curfew affects a major portion of the Nicosia labor force.

The renewed attacks on British soldiers indicated an end to an EOKA truce declared Aug. 4. The organization said then it would renew operations if provoked. British security forces have continued to hunt EOKA men.

Acting on a tip yesterday, British troops trapped four EOKA members in a barn near Famagusta. For five hours the soldiers fought what a military spokesman called the toughest battle since the EOKA campaign began 3½ years ago.

Finally the terrorists were driven from the stone barn by fire and killed as they came out shooting. One British soldier was killed and at least four wounded.

Actress Expecting Baby

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Actress Joanne Woodward and her actor husband, Paul Newman, are expecting a baby. Joanne said she will retire from films until the baby, due in April, arrives. She and Newman were married Jan. 29 in Las Vegas, Nev.

Fame—Wolf in Sheepskin for Quiz Winners

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK—Elfrida Von Nardroof, one of the latest of the big-money winners on the big-money quizzes, had nearly a year to bone up for her appearances on TV's controversial "21."

From the time she was selected, as a potential contestant, till the time she finally followed her attractive nose into an isolation booth, she studied every available minute.

She told me, in elaborate detail, that if you watched the TV quizz shows regularly, it was easy to figure out the kind of questions they'd ask. She said, "you know you must remember who was on President Lincoln's cabinet—that sort of thing."

She said she didn't waste much time on science. "If you'll notice," said Elfrida, apparently a thoughtful student of quiz show psychology, "they don't ask many questions on science."

Miss Von Nardroff went even further in her careful search of fame and money via the now-troubled quiz show route. She purposely avoided reading daily newspaper stories (with her memory apparatus tuned in) because there was "too much danger of picking up 'unconfirmed facts' which might be stored away in my mind as true." She waited to read Sunday digests of the week's news, after it had been confirmed and wrapped up as solid truth.

SEEMED ON THE LEVEL

There was an air of honesty and integrity around the personality of this "IQ with the fringed hairdo," that made it seem impossible she could have been part of a rigged show.

Yet who is to believe in what? The public is disillusioned and until the investigations into quiz shows are completed, none of the big, well-remembered winners will be the lily-white heroes and heroines they were until last week.

For the hundreds of honest quiz winners, who overnight became the white knights of their neighborhoods, the taint is on. It is human nature that man dislikes those he envies. And distrust goes hand-in-hand with dislike.

Rarely before has the local butcher had so much excuse to give the cleaver to the local cobbler who struck it rich.

In the last few years, I've interviewed a dozen heavy-money winners. I've also talked to their friends and neighbors. The typical attitude of the former was a modest, "I'm lucky." Typical attitude of neighbors: who would've thought he (she) was so smart?

Then, the winner's intellect was questioned with awe and wonder. Now, the neighborly comment "who would've thought he was so smart?" is a literal suspicion.

I didn't like all the quiz winners. One insufferable small child seemed well on the way to being an obnoxious adult with trust fund. And one elderly lady had grown even bigger of head than of bank balance.

But I didn't question the honesty of any of them, and I feel sorry for them, now—especially those whose bankrolls are spent, and have only their reputations left to fight for.

My heart goes out most sincerely to patrolman "Red" O'Hanlon of the New York City Police, the first large winner on "$64,000 Question." He will be remembered as the modest quiet-spoken expert on Shakespeare.

"Red" quit at $16,000 because he had a large family and couldn't afford to lose. It went fast, on home improvements. Now all he has left, from the experience, is his good name.

Yugoslavia Denies Privilege to Russia

BELGRADE (AP)—"You have no special privileges in our country," the Yugoslav Communists told the Russians last night.

The statement came in reply to the charge by Pravda, the Soviet Communist organ, that Yugoslav authorities had checked passengers and crews of Soviet ships entering Yugoslavia.

Borba, mouthpiece of the Yugoslav Reds, said the Russians and all others entering Yugoslavia are subject to customs control.

"Maybe it's a custom in the East that Soviet citizens are not controlled when crossing borders," Borba said. "Perhaps that's why they are surprised that at our frontiers, they're checked just like anybody else."

The paper claimed that Yugoslav sailors had experienced difficulties in Soviet ports and cited everal examples.

Jayne and Mate Fail to Answer Subpoena

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Jayne Mansfield and her muscleman husband, Mickey Hargitay, failed to answer a subpoena from Hargitay's first wife, who went to court yesterday to ask $415 monthly support of her child.

Even though the hearing was continued, the court ordered the Hargitays' attorney to send for his clients.

Jayne and Mickey got there in time to be told to return Sept. 17, when the hearing will be resumed. They missed Mrs. Mary Hargitay's testimony that she agreed to get a quiet divorce two years ago because Hargitay promised to support her and her daughter, Tina, now 9.

The divorce, awarded in Indianapolis, Ind., ordered Hargitay to pay $20 a week support.
