PROFESSOR ARRIVES — About 150 persons were on hand last night at the Oakland County Republican Headquarters in Birmingham when Paul D. Bagwell, GOP candidate for governor this year, arrived. Bagwell, a Michigan State University professor, attacked the present governor for his "spend more and tax more" program.

Bagwell Lists 3-Point Plan in Race for Governorship

By GEORGE T. TRUMBULL JR.

The professor and his pupil have made their assignment to Michigan Republicans this election year.

Here is the three-lesson homework for the state GOP.

(1) Rebuild Michigan as an industrial empire.

(2) Restore financial responsibility to Michigan government.

(3) Revise the state's tax structure.

This assignment was passed out last night by Prof. Paul D. Bagwell, who has taken leave from his teaching chores at Michigan State University in an attempt to win a post not too distant from the campus — that of Michigan governor on the Republican ticket.

While the 44-year-old Bagwell spoke to area Republicans, his ex-pupil, and now his running mate stood in the corner himself.

This wasn't because Donald A. Brown, Royal Oak candidate for lieutenant governor, was a bad boy. He couldn't find room to sit at the crowded Oakland County GOP headquarters in Birmingham.

Bagwell told his audience, many of which stood outside and heard him via a public address system, that he once taught Brown two classes in the post-war days at Michigan State.

"I'll take those grades away from him if he doesn't do a good job on this assignment," the professor jokingly said.

RAPS WILLIAMS, MACKIE

Bagwell, who has been on a 22-county, 10,000-mile political swing around the state since April 12, passed out "failing grades" to Gov. Williams in state management and to State Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie in "fiscal management" during his talk.

He promised a "let's ask the voters what Williams has done good" campaign to illustrate "that 10 years is enough."

"I'll let my entire campaign rest on one issue. If a survey were taken of 100 independent companies, it would show that they won't come or expand in Michigan as long as the governor fosters this unfriendly industrial climate."

Pointing up his second task of "restoring financial management to the state," Bagwell said Mackie had "bungled" the 25-million-dollar bond issue to finance the extension of Northwestern Highway.

CHARGES POOR MANAGEMENT

"Not only has he bungled that deal," he said, "but he has demonstrated bad financial management in his 100-million-dollar highway construction bond issue."

It is costing taxpayers $1,294 a day in interest, Bagwell pointed out, because of Mackie's "poor" reinvestment of bond monies at a lower interest rate than when

East Germany Pledges Freeing of Nine GIs—'If'

Says U.S. Should Act in 'Normal, Reasonable Manner' to Negotiate

BERLIN (AP) — East Germany today promised quick release of nine U.S. Army men and their helicopter if the United States acts in a "normal and reasonable manner."

The statement, an editorial in the East German newspaper Neues Deutschland, did not specify what the Communists would consider "normal and reasonable."

The conciliator editorial, which carries the weight of an official pronouncement, appeared after Secretary of State Dulles told a news conference the United States would negotiate if necessary with the East Germans for release of the officers whose helicopter strayed into East Germany last Saturday and ran out of gas.

Neues Deutschland reported Dulles' statement in an 80-word dispatch including his contention that such negotiations would not imply diplomatic recognition of the satellite regime.

But the editorial made no mention of the secretary's observation that the men in a sense had been kidnaped, and that you must deal with the kidnapers when people are kidnaped.

APPROVES BEHAVIOR

The Red newspaper conceded that the helicopter might have gotten over East Germany accidentally and said the men in the plane had behaved correctly after landing.

"But violation of the air space of the (East) German Democratic Republic remains," the editorial continued.

Previously, the Western Allies have insisted on dealing only with the Soviets as the occupiers of East Germany, contending that the East German government is an illegal regime which they do not recognize.

In another conciliatory move, the East German Ministry of Defense repudiated a suggestion by its army newspaper Volksarmee that the Americans might be tried as spies.

The ministry said the editor of the paper had been disciplined for his "wrong and misleading" suggestion, and that the men were guilty only of violating East German air space.

The East Germans also announced they were ready to negotiate for the "speedy return" of a Belgian pilot forced down by Communist fighters May 29.

150 Homes and School Reduced to Rubble

AP Wirephoto

ALMOST LIKE JACK-STRAWS — With a friend, Mrs. Nadine Cowell (left) helping, Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Ragain (right) try to find their possessions in the jumbled mess that remains after a tornado had destroyed or damaged 150 homes and a new grade school at El Dorado, Kan., last evening. Thirteen are known to have died and the list of injured had grown to 49 today.

Fury-on-Loose Rips El Dorado Houses, School

150 Homes Destroyed or Damaged; Phone and Power Lines Down

EL DORADO, Kan. (AP) — Discovery of another body raised the death toll to 13 today from a tornado that ripped through 40 blocks of El Dorado last night.

At least 49 persons were injured.

At least 150 houses were demolished or damaged. Losses ran to hundreds of thousands of dollars, but no official estimate was yet possible.

National Guardsmen and peace officers kept watch against looters, and searched for any other possible victims.

In midmorning, five or six persons still were unaccounted for. Officials thought that the missing would show up later, as had others during the night.

Scores of homeless went to shelters set up by the Red Cross. In Wichita, 35 miles away, a blood donors' office was established.

Clearing of wreckage was begun quickly, but formal plans for rebuilding awaited recovery from the shock of death and devastation.

The 13th body was that of Miss Bessie Diaz, 48. It lay in the rubble of her home.

The twister was described by a witness as resembling a big gray elephant with a long trunk.

City Manager Stanley Dial said 150 houses and an elementary school were destroyed or damaged.

El Dorado (pop. 12,000) is 35 miles northeast of Wichita. Principal industries are two refineries, neither of which was damaged.

The tornado swept away four main electric power lines, plunging the city into darkness. Telephone lines were severed and the municipal water mains were broken in several places.

USE CANDLELIGHT

While doctors worked feverishly by the feeble light of candles and flashlights at El Dorado's only hospital, National Guard troops from nearby Augusta and El Dorado's own unit were called to help civilian officers patrol the streets.

Looters swarmed into the stricken area as soon as darkness fell. At least three persons were arrested for rifling the debris.

As the tornado passed on its way, a reporter said, "A heavy black cloud clung to the eastern horizon. Over the city there was

UAW Serves Strike Threat

But Urges Workers to Stay on Job at Other Chrysler Plant

DETROIT (UPI) — The United Auto Workers yesterday found itself serving a strike threat on Chrysler Corp. at one plant and urging workers to stay on the job at another.

It was all part of the UAW's increasingly difficult task of keeping angry workers on the job until the union feels a strike will be effective.

UAW members started working without a contract when pacts with General Motors, Ford and Chrysler expired May 29-June 1. There has been little trouble except at Chrysler, where the company has made big changes in the working hours of union committeemen and stewards.

Chrysler, like the other companies, during the no-contract period has cut the number of hours which stewards could spend negotiating worker grievances on company time. Chrysler said its reduction of the grievance negotiating time of stewards merely puts it in line with the other companies.

Yesterday, there was labor action on three fronts at Chrysler plants. A wildcat walkout of about 400 employes at Dodge truck assembly, called in sympathy for 21 union stewards who were suspended by the company, shut down the truck plant, idling 1,400 to 1,800.

UAW Plymouth Local 51 got unanimous approval of its membership to take a strike vote. No date was taken for the vote and the UAW International emphasized any strike action should be held up until it can be effective.

The UAW is holding daily contract negotiations with all three auto firms. But there is no inkling of rapid progress. Informed sources reported a contract signing is hardly possible before July.

Votes to Extend Program

House Backs Ike on Trade

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The House overwhelmingly approved today President Eisenhower's request for an unprecedented five-year extension of the reciprocal trade program with power to cut U.S. tariffs 25 per cent.

The controversial measure slid through the House with surprising ease. Subjected to strong pressures from the administration and leaders of both parties, the House rejected on a 234 to 147 non-record vote a substitute measure offered by protectionists. This was sponsored by Rep. Richard M. Simpson (R-Pa).

The House then overwhelmingly rejected on a 268 to 146 roll call vote a motion by Rep. Daniel A. Reed (R-NY) to kill the measure by sending it back to committee.

The measure now goes to the Senate where it faces a tougher test. Protectionist sentiment is stronger in the Senate. There will be no limits on the amendments that can be offered in the Senate.

City Commission OKs Jobless Pay Measure

Pontiac City Commission has backed full use of available federal funds to extend unemployment benefits in Michigan.

Commissioners went on record last night endorsing Gov. Williams' plan to adopt a federal program of loans to states to finance a 50 per cent lengthening of the duration of regular jobless pay benefits. The Michigan maximum is now 26 weeks.

Under the Williams' plan, which won Commission approval, benefits would be extended to an estimated 115,000 persons who already have, or are expected to exhaust jobless grants by next March.

The cost, figured at about $30 million, would be repayable to the federal government in four years, either through state funds or in the form of higher federal payroll taxes on employers.

Mayor William W. Donaldson, who attended a conference Monday in Lansing to discuss the plan, urged Commission backing.

"This is a good plan to meet a serious situation and we should support it, unless the legislature comes up with a better idea," he told Commissioners.

Donaldson pointed to Michigan Employment Security Commission figures which showed unemployment in the Pontiac area last month standing at 17.9 per cent of the total labor force.

"So far this year," he said, "about 2,160 persons have exhausted their unemployment benefits here, according to the MESC."

Believing that the federal bill was passed through a bi-partisan effort, Donaldson voiced hopes that similar bi-partisan treatment would be accorded the subject when it comes up before the legislature tomorrow or Friday.

State Survives Tornado Jitters With No Damage

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Tornado-jittery Michigan got an overnight scare, but there were no reports of injuries or damage.

One twister funnel was sighted by Wexford County civil defense workers near Wellston in adjoining Manistee County. A tornado funnel also was reported over Mason County, but this one was not confirmed.

Neither funnel dipped to earth.

Cadillac's civil defense unit set off the city's air raid warning sirens and emptied theaters on the Wellston twister report.

A mass of cool air moved down from Canada across Michigan today, wiping out any tornado threats as it went, but thunderstorms and showers still were forecast for much of the state.

Hot, muggy thunderstorm weather has hovered over most of the state in recent days.

forecast was issued by U. S. weather observers at 3:15 p.m. yesterday.

It said twisters were likely for 60 miles on either side of a line running from Frankfort through Mount Pleasant, Flint and Detroit. The warning was lifted at 8 p.m.

Anxious Gillands Await Killdeers' Blessed Event

At least that is their story and they're stuck with it—thanks to a pair of killdeer birds. The feathered mother has laid her eggs in their gravel driveway-and is willing to take on anyone or anything that tries to disturb them, even a car.

The Gillands have abandoned the use of their garage and are sweating out the blessed events—for the next 30 days.

With a month of pacing around the nest waiting for the new arrivals, Gilland doesn't know who is going to be in the worst shape, he or the papa killdeer.

Student From Pontiac to Speak at U. of M. Rite

A University of Michigan student from Pontiac will be the student speaker for the university's 114th annual commencement exercises at the stadium Saturday.

He is George A. Googasian, son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Googasian, 105 E. Iroquois Rd. Googasian, a pre-law student, will receive a Bachelor of Arts degree from the College of Literature, Science and Arts.

The Pontiac High School graduate was selected by the Senior Board of the class presidents to represent the senior classes of the various schools and colleges in the university.

During his senior year, Googasian served as chairman of the Student Activities Building which houses about 50 students organizations on campus and the office of the Dean of Men and Dean of Women. Here he coordinated the use of the building's facilities by the various student groups.

The guest speaker for the program will be Henry T. Heald, president of the Ford Foundation. More than 3,500 students are expected to graduate.

Fair, Cooler Tonight; Warmer Tomorrow

Fair and cooler is the outlook for Pontiac tonight with a low near 44-48. Tomorrow will be partly cloudy and a little warmer. The high will be around 70-74.

Today's northwest winds at 14-24 miles an hour will diminish tonight. Increasing cloudiness and somewhat warmer is the forecast for tomorrow night, low 54-58.

City residents welcomed the 1.83 inches of rain which fell in the downtown area from Monday noon until 6 p.m. Tuesday. Showers are promised again Friday or Saturday.

The lowest temperature in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. was 57. The thermometer registered 69 at 2 p.m.

Skillful Pilot Saves 24 Lives

Crash-Lands Airliner in Atlantic, Skids Onto Prison Island Beach

RIO DE JANEIRO (UPI)—Air experts said today that only the pilot's skill prevented yesterday's Argentine airline crash on the prison island of Ilha Grande from being a disaster.

The pilot, Fogelio E. Merelle, set his burning DC6 down in waist-deep water and skidded in onto the beach, making it possible for his passengers to land without even getting their feet wet.

Only one of the 16 passengers and 6 crewmen was hurt—an Argentine whose seat tore loose when the plane hit the water.

There were no Americans on the plane, which was returning from Europe.

Maj. Tulio Ribeiro, a veteran Brazilian airline pilot who flew over the scene of the crash, called United Press International to express his admiration for Merelle.

"In 25 years of flying, I've never seen anything so extraordinary," Ribeiro said. "I want to tell the world that the Argentine pilot's skill saved the lives of his passengers."

School Board Eyes New Construction

The Pontiac Board of Education reviewed recommendations by the school administration for the next step in its school building program last night.

The administration tentatively recommended that the board do the following construction next year if the money is available:

1. Erect a new elementary school on a site it owns on Square Lake road, in the southwest section of the school district.

2. Add four classrooms and a stage at Bagley School.

3. Build an addition to Washington Junior High School to increase capacity by 250 students to a total of 1,050.

4. Build a 400-student addition to Madison Junior High School to bring capacity to 1,000.

5. Acquire an elementary school site near McConnell School to eventually relieve overcrowding and eliminate substandard classrooms at McConnell.

6. Rebuild the Central High swimming pool and enlarge the parking lot at the school.

A rough estimate of the cost of these projects given by Assistant Superintendent Otto Hufziger came to $1,646,000.

The board voted to hold the line on salaries for the next school year. It turned down teachers' requests for increases and will keep the same salary schedules as this year for all personnel.

In other action, the board named a Detroit teacher as principal of Jefferson Junior High School next year.

Conklin B. Bray, 40, who for 10 summers has been director of the Detroit Urban League's Green Pastures Camp at Grass Lake, was named to the post. Bray has a masters degree from Wayne State University.

A delegation of parents from the Upper Long Lake Estates, headed by M. H. Wolfe, asked the board not to oppose its request that the subdivision be transferred from the Pontiac School District to the Bloomfield District. The board took the matter under advisement.

It went to the second-lowest bidder, Michigan School Service, for $32,158. The board ruled out the lowest bidder for structural reasons.

No Pay Raise, Teachers Told

School Superintendent Explains Reasons at Teacher Meeting

For the first time in at least nine years teachers in the Pontiac Public Schools will not get a pay raise and yesterday they gathered to hear Supt. Dr. Dana P. Whitmer, tell them why.

Whitmer blamed the "current recession, an outmoded tax structure" plus the 700 additional children to enter Pontiac schools next fall and the maintenance of the new high school and another elementary school as the reasons for the salary standstill.

The group of educators met at the Pontiac Central High School auditorium to hear Whitmer's 25 minute explanation of why they would not receive a salary boost. No questions were asked from the floor following his talk.

He said that the board of education has five choices to make the budget workable. They were: build less schools, borrow more money, reduce educational services to students, increase the number of students per classroom and/or reduce maintenance. He added the board will take action on a combination of these choices to meet the budget.

"The board believes it should maintain a salary schedule to attract, maintain and hold the best educators possible. This is their long term goal.

"The big difficulty in doing this is that the tax structure does not channel enough dollars to the schools," he explained.

He discussed the two sources of income for Pontiac schools, state aid and local property tax, and added that the professional groups throughout the state are working on the financial problems of schools and "from these the solutions will come."

No Recognition Is Plan

WASHINGTON (UPI)—American officials said today the United States has no present intention of recognizing Red China even if it is forced to negotiate with that Communist nation on a nuclear test ban.

Ready to Teach Swimming in Waterford

Instructors are all set to accept registrations for swimming lessons Monday at six Waterford Township lake beaches, according to recreation director Tom Belton.

Classes are open to all boys and girls seven years and older with special adult groups conducted Saturdays.

The course includes fourteen lessons for a fee of $2.75 and registrations will be taken at the designated beach nearest the resident's home, Belton said.

An accomplished swimmer and Red Cross certified instructor Cynthia Palmer, will direct classes which will begin at 9 a.m. at the Mountain View Beach on Lotus Lake.

At 1 p.m. Monday, classes will get under way at Oakland Beach on W. Walton Blvd., near Sashabaw. Registrations will be taken at 9 a.m. Tuesday at the Family Beach on the south side of Elizabeth Lake, and at noon, at the Crescent Lake, Highland Civic Assn. on the north side of Crescent Lake.

Classes will also be held at 3 p.m. Tuesday at the Watkins Lake Assn. beach. On Wednesday, only one class has been scheduled to begin at 1 p.m. at the Pontiac Recreation area beach.

Wind, Hail, Rain Wreak Destruction

Twisters Batter Midwest

By United Press International

Sheer weather torment continued to plague a vast area embracing most of the Central Midwest. The U.S. Weather Bureau reported a string of tornadoes through parts of Missouri, Illinois, and western portions of Kentucky.

Howling winds continued to take their toll of telephone poles and communications, property and crops, while hailstones four inches wide pelted Emporia, Kan., and piled eight inches deep at Dixon, Mo.

Funnel clouds were also reported through lower Michigan, but no tornadoes touched ground. Severe thunderstorms, meanwhile, racked the entire region.

The raging storms caused a C47 air force plane with 12 men aboard to make an emergency landing against a 30-knot crosswind at Mount Vernon, Ill. No one was injured in the safe landing.

In Indiana, authorities said that at least 5,000 persons had been forced to flee to high ground in advance of swollen rivers. Bridges were closed along the Mississinewa River near Marion, Ind., as almost unceasing rains pelted the region and land to the north. Forty national guardsmen were ordered to patrol the levees near Marion.

Rains up to nine inches deep poured million dollar damages into Central Illinois and Indiana. Unrelenting downpours turned the streets of Springfield, Ill., into rivers, flooded underpasses, and caused 10-foot high accumulations in recessed areas. Basements were flooded and many families were forced to evacuate their homes.

Sixty mile per hour winds toppled a 60-foot tall smokestack in Effingham, Ill., and random reports of twisters inflated farm losses in Iowa and Ohio.

IN THE OFFING — This drawing by AP artist John Carlton depicts what might happen when U. S. Air Force "shoots for the moon" later this year, as announced by Lt. Gen. S. E. Anderson of the research and development command. If the rocket misses the moon, it will become a satellite and might possibly orbit the moon and earth in a figure-eight course (broken line). A shot to the moon would cover a course of 278,000 miles and take two and one-half days. (See story on page 29.)

Keego Druggist, 62, Succumbs to Attack

KEEGO HARBOR — Benjamin W. Covey, 62, owner of the Keego Drug Co., died yesterday afternoon of a heart attack at his home, 3087 Orchard Lake Rd.

A graduate of the Ferris Institute School of Pharmacy, he was a member of the Heart of Lakes Post 2706, VFW, and the Keego Harbor Chamber of Commerce.

Surviving are his wife, Selena; a son, Ben E., and a daughter, Mrs. Jane J. Wilson, both of Keego Harbor.

Also surviving are two brothers, Carl I. of Drayton Plains and Joseph R. of Honor; two sisters, Mrs. Eva M. Cody of Honor and Mrs. Veda M. Mills of Mancelona, and four grandchildren.

The body may be seen at the C. J. Godhardt Funeral Home after 6 p.m. today.

Pontiac Group to Hear Varner on MSU-Oakland

Dr. D. B. Varner, vice president of Michigan State University, will address the annual meeting tonight of the Greater Pontiac Community Council.

His talk will highlight a nine-point agenda which includes a vote on proposed changes in the organization's constitution and presentation of an annual award for outstanding citizenship.

The council also will elect its 1958 officers.

Dr. Varner will speak on the MSU-Oakland branch which is under construction east of Pontiac. It is scheduled to open in the fall next year.

The meeting begins at 8 p.m. in the City Commission second floor chambers at City Hall.

Meet Michigan Growers

B. C. Freeman of Grand Rapids, manager of the Great Lakes Cherry Producers Marketing Cooperative Assn., said contracts of sale have been signed to date with five Michigan processors.

Twister in Kansas Kills 13, Injures 49

"It looked like a shroud."

It was 5:45 p.m. when the tornado hit El Dorado. Trooper Bob Lemon of the Kansas highway patrol, on duty seven miles south of the city, saw it first.

"I followed it to El Dorado as fast as I could drive," he said. "I warned the El Dorado police by radio that the storm was coming. I don't imagine I gave them a five-minute advance warning if I gave them that much."

ODD COLOR

She said: "It hit the Oil Hill district southwest of town, then skipped into the thickly populated residential section.

"I didn't realize at first that it was a tornado because it was a pale gray color instead of the black I had been told tornadoes always looked."

The color wasn't the only oddity. Police said the twister approached the city from the northwest, then swung sharply east and cut a U-shaped track. Tornadoes usually come out of the southwest.

Residents mobilized quickly for the job of helping the injured, finding the dead and cleaning up the rubble. Before midnight, bulldozers prowled the streets, pushing aside the debris.

A temporary morgue was set up in the 4-H Club's building. There lay 11 bodies. The other victim died in the hospital.

Property damage was not fully assessed, but was expected to total in the millions. At least 150 homes were completely demolished.

WORST SINCE 1955

It was the most damaging twister since 1955 when 80 persons were killed at Udall, some 25 miles southwest of here.

Hail as large as golf balls accompanied the twister.

Through the night national guardsmen, firemen, police and airmen from nearby McConnel Air Force Base sifted through demolished homes searching for dead or injured.

Broken water mains brought fears the city's water supply might be contaminated. By word of mouth and through radio appeals citizens were urged to boil all water.

Police spokesmen said one man received only "slight" injuries when his car was "lifted" off the Kansas Turnpike and dropped into a ditch at roadside.

Several other autos in a junk yard on the city's perimeter were tossed into the air and scattered over a hillside.

Arthur Sharping;
John Jenkins and his wife, Mary;
Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Cantrell;
James Kirby, 42, of Clinton, Mo.;
William Carter Welty.

Burns in Friday Fire Fatal to Berkley Woman

BERKLEY—Mrs. Irene Alstrom, 67, of 2948 Coolidge Rd., died yesterday at William Beaumont Hospital in Royal Oak of burns received in a house-fire at her home Friday.

A widow, Mrs. Alstrom had no children.

Husbands Are Grouches as Philadelphia Strike Enters 13th Day

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The exasperated wife who used to lose out to Yogi Berra or the financial pages at the breakfast table is fed up in reverse.

She says what a relief it would be if her husband would glue himself to the newspaper again. The way it is, he's an out-and-out grouch.

He becomes grouchier still as he joins other commuters around a barren newsstand at the station.

But if you think that is a crotchety crowd, come aboard the train.

Commuters, normally bouyed up on a sea of newsprint, are desolate. Some sleep, or pretend to. Others, though open-eyed, are frankly bored. Conversation withers. The person with no newspaper at all stares resentfully at anybody who has any kind of paper.

Thus begins the day for a great many in this densely populated region, which for the second time in recent years is feeling the strain of a prolonged newspaper strike. The last one was in the spring of 1946. Delivery truck drivers were out 13 days. The present strike has been on for 13 days also.

The Teamsters Union, on May 30-31, struck the Philadelphia Bulletin, Philadelphia Inquirer and neighboring Camden (N.J.) Courier-Post. The next day the American Newspaper Guild struck the Inquirer, more than 700 employes of the nonmechanical crafts walking out. At issue are wages, pension and similar benefits, and for the Teamsters, the policy question of whether the picket line should be inviolate.

Candidate Bagwell Lists 3-Point Plan

"In addition," Bagwell continued, "we will pay 45 million dollars in interest on the 100 million dollar bond issue because of the way Mackie has invested these bonds."

The speaker, who walks with the aid of a cane due to a polio attack when a teenager, declared that students of government across the nation ridicule Michigan as "a state government still in the horse-and-buggy stage while the nation is in a jet-nuclear age."

Look to the Republican Party — "a dynamic, conversative party of balance" — to bring the state up to a passing grade, he urged members of the Birmingham-Bloomfield Republican Club which sponsored the address.

Politics is nothing new to the East Lansing man who directs the Department of Communication Skills. He drew the most votes among fellow GOP candidates when he tried for auditor general two years ago.

He plans even a stronger and longer drive to win the top executive position this year. He said he will campaign continuously until the November election.

Labor unions will hear a lot from the GOP candidate, he promised.

"They should be made aware that the Democratic Party is one that is saying 'We will think for you and tell you how to vote,'" Bagwell emphasized.

"Michigan is a test laboratory for this notion of the Democratic Party," he went on. "The Republican Party rejects this notion of the dominant executive," Bagwell said.

The speaker listed the philosophy of his party. "I believe in the party because it views private enterprise as a force for good," he said.

"It believes that inflation is not necessary for expansion. It believes organized labor and management can bargain without government interference," said Bagwell.

"Compare this with the present administration making major decisions on political expediency instead of political responsibility," he concluded.

The Day in Birmingham

Set Goal of 30,000 Books to Be Gathered for Sale

BIRMINGHAM — With a goal of 30,000 books for its 1958 sale, the Birmingham Chapter of the American Assn. of University Women is lining up committees for the October benefit project.

Mrs. Warner Stowell and Mrs. Hoffman Stone, co-chairmen, said today that although gathering books for the sale is a year-round project, it gets into high gear during the summer months. Books, monthly magazines and music records are stock-piled for sale at the Detroit Edison Building in Birmingham.

Mrs. Kenneth Kesler, Mrs. Francis McMath and Mrs. Thomas Griffith will arrange pickup of books if donors will call them.

In the past the sale has drawn book collectors from throughout the nation.

There will be special sale for librarians from schools, churches and hospitals. All types of books, especially encyclopedias and children's books, are needed, members said.

The sale finances university fellowships sponsored by the AAUW.

City Clerk Irene Hanley has been authorized by the Birmingham City Commission to negotiate the purchase of two new automatic voting machines at a cost of $1,570 each. This will bring the city's total to 36 machines.

The machines will have nine party rows of 40 voting levers each for candidates, one row of 40 levers for persons nominated and one row of 40 levers to handle 20 constitutional amendments or other issues.

Birmingham's Senior Men's Club at its meeting Friday in the Community House will hear historian Lewis Reimann of Ann Arbor speak on "Michigan and Her Colorful Pioneers."

Reimann, a widely known Michigan historical writer, is author of "Between the Iron and the Pine," "When Pine Was King" and "The Successful Camp."

Theodore B. Livernois

Service for Theodore B. Livernois, 55, of 645 Arlington Rd., will be held at 1:30 p.m. Friday at the William Vasu Funeral Home in Royal Oak.

Mr. Livernois, a Detroit industrialist, died yesterday at Port Huron General Hospital from gunshot wounds received in a shooting accident June 2 at his summer home near Lexington.

He is survived by his wife, Alma; a son, Theodore B. Jr., two daughters, Mrs. Nanette Grigsby and Mrs. Noel Patten and eight brothers and sisters.

James H. Terry

Service for James H. Terry, 77, of 692 Ann St., Birmingham, will be held at 2 p.m. Friday at the Manley Bailey Funeral Home. Burial will be in Roseland Park Cemetery, Royal Oak.

Mr. Terry died this morning at his home following a short illness.

Custodian at Barnum School in Birmingham for 29 years, he retired in 1950. He was a past master of Birmingham Lodge 44 F & A M; past high priest, Royal Arch Masons, Chapter 93; past president of Birmingham Chapter 220, Order of Eastern Star, and had been vice president of the Oakland County Association of the OES.

Surviving are his wife, Sylvia; a daughter, Mrs. Florence Stone of Washington, Mich.; a son, Donald of Royal Oak; a brother and three grandchildren.

Mrs. Grace H. Smith

Service for Mrs. Grace H. Smith, 74, of 3578 Burning Bush Rd., Birmingham, will be held at 1 p.m. tomorrow at Bell Chapel of the William R. Hamilton Co. Burial will be in Mt. Morris, Mich.

She died yesterday at her home after a short illness.

Surviving are two daughters, Mrs. Austin G. Conrad and Mrs. Stanley J. Robson.

Preparing for '75 Theme for Speech to Graduates

"Education for Living in 1975" will be the title of Dr. E. T. McSwain's speech tonight when he addresses the 1958 graduating class of Waterford Township High School.

McSwain, dean of the College of Education at Northwestern University, will be the guest speaker at commencement exercises for the 294 seniors. The program, to be held at the school, will begin at 8 p.m.

Donald Tate, class valedictorian, will also address his classmates. His topic will be "Life is a Stage."

Frederick Gross, a junior, will play the organ for the seniors to march in the processional to "Pomp and Circumstance," as well as for the recessional.

The Reverand G. J. Bersche, pastor of the Christian Missionary and Alliance Church, will deliver the invocation and pronounce the benediction.

De Gaulle Slaps at Algeria Insurgents

PARIS (AP)—Premier de Gaulle bluntly told the defiant insurgents in Algeria today to quite interfering in government, and slapped down his military commander there.

De Gaulle's most immediate problem was to restore his authority over the troublesome territory of Algeria.

De Gaulle replied sharply to a resolution by the all-Algeria Committee of Public Safety yesterday opposing his plan for local elections in Algeria and condemning parliamentary government in France.

He criticized Salan for letting his name be used as approving the committee action, even though Salan later disavowed the resolution.

"Concerning the regrettable and intemperate incident caused by the peremptory motion of the Committee of Public Safety in Algeria, I remind you that the committee has no other rights and no other role than to express under your control the opinion of its members," De Gaulle messaged Salan.

Reports from Algiers said there were signs of a rift in the 72-man committee.

Some want to stick with the original purpose, which was to support De Gaulle. Others want to continue their campaign against the French parliamentary system.

Ike, Macmillan Conclude Talks

Seem Agreed on Need of Upping Aid Fund for Undeveloped Nations

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower and Prime Minister Macmillan of Britain apparently agree that Western nations must make more money available to underdeveloped countries.

Diplomats said that Eisenhower and Macmillan, winding up three days of talks today, would leave it to experts to figure out what should be done.

They are reported to have considered enlarging the operations and capital of the World Bank and International Monetary Fund and possibly forming a new billion-dollar lending agency.

In addition to a final session with Eisenhower, the Prime Minister meets today with Secretary of State Dulles. His schedule also calls for a speech before a National Press Club luncheon.

Macmillan and Dulles, with their group of advisers, met for 2½ hours yesterday. The State Department announced afterward that they concentrated on economic and financial problems and that no decisions were made.

Some Middle Eastern questions, presumably relating to the growth of Arab nationalism and the activities of President Gamal Abdel Nasser of the United Arab Republic, were also discussed.

Macmillan dined informally with Eisenhower at the White House last night. Their talk dealt primarily if not entirely with atomic problems, including the possibility of suspending nuclear weapons tests by agreement with Russia.

Man-Wife Team May Serve as Space Pioneers

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A scientific paper stated man-and-wife teams may be the planetary pioneers of the future.

The paper, prepared for delivery at the semiannual meeting of the American Rocket Society, suggested that a co-educational United States space academy might train such teams.

Such an academy, the paper said, could take advantage of the talents of both sexes and pave the way for the man and wife teams.

The paper was prepared by Dr. Donald W. Conover and Dr. Eugenia Kemp of the human factors engineering group at Convair's San Diego division of General Dynamics Corp.

It said that eventually men and women may choose space as a way of life. It pictured them as prefering to remain in space.

They may even find, it added, that "the experience of weightlessness in space may turn out to be highly stimulating—a pleasant experience with a strong attraction for many individuals."

Woman Faints, Drowns

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Police said Mrs. Lillian M. Perrine, 59, apparently fainted while standing over her kitchen sink. Her head fell into the water and she drowned.

May Create Harbor in Alaska With Bomb

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A nuclear blast may be used to create a new Alaskan harbor north of the Arctic Circle.

Atomic Energy Commission (AEC) Chairman Lewis L. Strauss disclosed yesterday AEC teams will visit northwest Alaska this summer to determine whether it would be safe and practicable to blast out the harbor in 1960.

The harbor study, centering between Cape Seppings and Cape Thompson, would be part of the AEC's "Project Plowshare" to determine possibilities for peacetime use of nuclear energy.

Strauss said development of important mineral deposits and fishing in the area have been hampered by lack of harbors.

U.S. survey parties, including personnel from the University of California radiation laboratory, will check on whether the operation would imperil people, fish and wildlife inside and outside the area.

Hands Off Baby! Mom Posts Sign on Carriage

ELLAND, England (AP)—"Admirers are asked not to touch this baby. Thank you."

That's the sign Mrs. Dorothy Smith hangs on her 10-month-old Patricia's buggy when she takes her out for an airing.

"I'm fed up with people pawing and tickling Pat," explained the 25-year-old mother, wife of a gas man. "I don't mind them looking as long as they keep their distance. Some mothers may like other women making a fuss of their babies but I think it's unhygienic."

"Who does Mrs. Smith think she is—the Queen of Sheba?" commented one neighbor. "You'd think the child was a princess or something."

Dire Possibilities Loom

Cyprus Crisis Builds Toward Explosion

By CHARLES M. McCANN
UPI Foreign News Analyst

A civil war between Greek and Turkish elements in the island, a diplomatic break between the Greek and Turkish governments and a serious weakening of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization are among the possibilities.

British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan is preparing, soon after his return from his present visit to the United States, to announce a stop-gap plan to settle Cyprus's status until a permanent solution can be worked out.

It is known in advance that the plan will be unacceptable to Greece, which claims the island, and the Greek Cypriot islanders who demand a plebiscite in which they would vote for "union" with Greece.

Nor is the Macmillan plan likely to please Turkey, which says that Greece must not have Cyprus and that if there is any change in its status it must be partitioned between its 400,000 Greek and 100,000 Turkish people.

A one-year truce which the Greek Cypriot underground organization declared in hope that Britain would give up the island was ended in March with an outburst of bombings.

Since then the murder of two British policemen by terrorists has resulted in the reimposition of the death penalty which Britain suspended in recognition of the truce.

There have been attacks on Greek islanders by the underground organization.

Rioting broke out between Greeks and Turks after a bomb damaged the Turkish government consulate in Nicosia, the capital, Saturday night.

Turks attacked Greeks. Four Greeks were killed in riots in Nicosia and the port city of Larnaca Saturday night and Sunday.

Greece announced Sunday that it had demanded an emergency meeting of the council of NATO in Paris to take up the riot situation.

George Pesmatzoglou, Greek ambassador to Turkey who is on home leave, was instructed not to return to his post.

Two hundred thousand persons attended an anti-Greek demonstration in Istanbul, Turkey, Sunday. Greek Orthodox Archbishop Makarios, leader of the Greek Cypriot islanders, was burned in effigy.

Greek Foreign Minister Evangelos Averoff expressed fear in an interview in Athens Saturday that if serious disorders broke out in Cyprus, Turkish rioters might attack the Greek minorities in Istanbul and Izmir, as they had done after the Cyprus terrorism started in 1955.

The situation of the Greek government has been complicated by big Communist gains in the parliamentary elections held last month.

But the union of the Democratic left, which is a cover-up for the outlawed Communist party, more than doubled its strength by taking 78 seats.

This was due partly to dissatisfaction over the Cyprus situation.

Crocodile, Bear Take Stroll Into Naples, Florida

Shortly after midnight yesterday, for instance, a policeman spotted a crocodile crawling casually down the city's main street.

The officer lassoed the reptile's snout, dragged it into his car and — having no other place to keep it at that time of day — put it in jail. Wildlife officers say they will either put it in a zoo or return it to the Everglades.

The crocodile, a cousin of the alligator, is a rare sight, even in the swamps. But what is so rare as a bear on a tear?

That happened Sunday, the bear incident. The animal wandered into town and had residents on the run for more than five hours.

Police chased ole bruin back and forth through the business and residential sections, trying to take it alive. Finally they gave up and shot it when it turned on them.

Naples doesn't have a corner on the wild animal market, though. Police in nearby Fort Myers reported yesterday they shot a seven-foot alligator that came out of the swamp and took over M. H. Fuller's carport.

Ballot May Be All Right, but Let's Skip Ballet

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — The Richmond City Council has refused to participate in a ballet.

A woman's club asked each member to dance in a comic ballet. Most of the city fathers agreed it would be comic all right. Most also found they had conflicting engagements. As a group they agreed they were not quite in shape for ballet dancing.

Detroit Tigers Dropping Manager "Jack" Tighe

Probably it was inevitable.

Genial, likable JACK TIGHE gets the bum's rush in mid-season and is tossed to the wolves while an unheralded and unknown individual named BILL NORMAN takes over.

"Firing the manager" is practically synonymous with last position. Tighe knew this when he came. His predecessors had variously been flung out of office and the inexorable process continues.

TIGHE has been in an unenviable spot. As a writer in the Voice of the People pointed out a few weeks ago, the Tigers have too many misfits that other teams have waived and passed up as hopeless. They find sympathetic asylum in Detroit where they're given their last reprieve before descending into final oblivion in the minors. This imposes a tremendous burden on the manager.

Most of the fans will feel a spot of sympathy for Tighe but his release is an accepted part of the baseball ritual.

So be it.

The King is dead.

Long live the King.

Reds Prophecy About Gen. de Gaulle Correct

Giving credit where credit is due, it does appear as though the pesky Reds predicted DE GAULLE'S entrance into France as the top man, quite a spell ahead of the rest of the world.

Several weeks before he assumed control, the Reds forecasted his appearance and acceptance. There were other lesser happenings in conjunction therewith, which the Commies ticketed at the same time.

This lends added interest to their current assertion that De Gaulle is a temporary boss at best and that when he is tossed into the discard, the Communist Party will take charge of a coalition government. The Commies opposed him when he took charge, but they seemed to know well in advance that he was destined to play the role.

In spite of all the vagaries that pop into the life of political France, we can't believe she'll sell out to the Russians.

Far East Communism Being Held in Check

Amid all our anxiety over Communist successes in Asia, we have but to look back to 1950 to get a few grains of comfort.

By that time Communists had taken over the Chinese mainland; the Philippines and Malaya were fighting Communist guerillas and Korea had been attacked. There was civil war in Indonesia and Burma and Red Chinese occupied Tibet. A Communist coup in Indonesia had just been suppressed.

Now, eight years later, the director of the office of northeast Asian affairs, HOWARD L. PARSONS, reminds us:

"The Republic of Korea stands as a symbol of determined resistance to Communist aggression and has made progress in rehabilitation and providing for internal and external security . . . The strength and stability of the Republic of China (Formosa) are a major obstacle to consolidation of Communist power in mainland China and to the extension of Communist domination.

"Malaya has demonstrated an ability and determination to remain free . . . Viet Nam has developed a better capacity to maintain internal security. Burma continues to take a strong stand against its internal Communist insurgency . . . Japan is the economic pacemaker in Asia. It is playing an increasingly important role in the economic advancement of free Asia."

There is no ground for complacency in this, however. The revolution against poverty, ignorance and tyranny continues. The United States and other free nations must keep up their tireless efforts and constant vigilance if Asia is to be kept free.

"Communist imperialism has no time table," Mr. Parsons warns. "It conceives of its expansion in terms of decades and generations. It believes it can wear us out — that we will tire of the struggle and cost and let down our guard until too late to raise it again."

THE large investment necessary to get a modern farm going is responsible for the fact that only one agricultural college graduate out of six goes back to the farm, reports a Minnesota family economics bureau.

The Man About Town

Far Over Million

Recent Rains Worth More Than That in Local Area

Apes: From which 'tis said we all sprung—but some only hopped.

That long-used and often exaggerated expression,

"A Million Dollar Rain,"

now looks like small change. Even in the immediate Pontiac area the rain of the last few days is worth far more than that.

On the annual value of the farm, dairy and garden products of Oakland County it gives us a boost running into much larger figures. It broke up the most severe spring drouth that this area ever has experienced in all of its history.

Locally, this rain deserves a two or three million dollar tag. No wonder our people whose living comes from the soil (and that's all of us) are so happy.

The porch on the home of

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Berridge

at 1770 Silver Bell Road, caught fire in some mysterious way the other morning, the blaze being discovered just in time to save the house. A jug of distilled water, placed there the evening before, was also on the porch. Mr. Berridge emphasizes the fact that it was not "crystilled" water.

Secretary of the Michigan Safety Commission,

Gerald W. Shipman,

suggests that before going on our vacation we check our tires, check our water, check our gas, check our oil, check our maps, check our reservations, check our expense money, check our home locks, and (most important of all)—check our speed.

Word comes to me directly from Executive Secretary of Clinton Valley Council of the Boy Scouts, that all of the summer reservations at Camp Agawam have not been assigned. See your Scoutmaster.

says, "Your paper can work wonders." She then explains that even her husband admits that our series on

Maybe It'll Start Wagging the Dog Again

David Lawrence Says:

Playing Politics With Labor Bill

WASHINGTON — It can be said with a bit of irony that everybody here is playing politics with the labor-union legislation — everybody but the people who are the victims of the abuses. The workingman evidently is going to continue to see his union dues confiscated in large part for purposes which he does not approve.

LAWRENCE

Congress is supposed to enact legislation at this session to protect the worker against corruption in unionism. The Democrats have written a bill they claim is adequate. The Republicans are lining up against the measure because, they say, it is weak and deficient.

The secretary of labor, James P. Mitchell, who is a "moderate" if there ever was one on labor legislation and who has been very friendly to organized labor, says about the proposed bill:

"After examining and analyzing the proposals that have just been made to the Congress by the committee, I am deeply disappointed to find that these proposals contain deficiencies and weaknesses of such magnitude that, were they enacted into law, I am convinced they would provide only illusory protection to trade union members and to the public, as well as being almost impossible to administer."

Today, unless Walter Reuther of the United Auto Workers union gives his "clearance," nobody can get the presidential or vice presidential nomination on the Democratic national ticket. Senator Kennedy of Massachusetts, who is often mentioned as a possible nominee on the Democratic ticket, did a masterful job of putting together a piece of legislation that the labor unions find palatable.

The labor leaders, however, really don't want any legislation passed, and they may have enough votes to kill all the bills in the House later in the session. But they are appreciative of the strategy of the Massachusetts senator in at least refusing to go along the route of the administration, which favors much more restrictive legislation.

The Republicans know they have a big issue in the corruption disclosed in labor-union finances. The Democratic Party's proposals would punish only individuals inside labor unions who mishandle funds but would do nothing to punish unions for irresponsible acts in the way of violence and secondary boycotts.

Nor are the Democrats ready to defend the constitutional right of a worker to refrain from joining a union if he so desires, or his right to insist that his dues shall not be used for political purposes.

The whole debate will continue into the next campaign, when the American workingman will be asked to vote for members of Congress who are ready to protect his pay envelope not only against the raids of embezzlers and others who mishandle union funds but against the activities of politicians inside the labor unions who are interested primarily in feathering their own nests.

Many millions of dollars in dues could be saved for the American worker if there were stringent laws to prevent the abuses involved in the gathering of so-called "strike funds" and in the autocratic behavior of those union bosses who terrorize the rank and file.

The Country Parson

"With all the 'instant' products we have these days, there seems to be a tendency for folks to want instant religion, too."

Dr. William Brady Says:

Term 'Low Blood Sugar' Causes Reader Trouble

"Dear Dr. Brady: Two years ago you recommended the book "Body, Mind and Sugar," by E. M. Abrahamson, M.D., and A. W. Pizet (published by Henry Holt and Co., New York, $2.95, available at the public library or your book dealer's) for people afflicted with hypoglycemia or low blood sugar.

DR. BRADY

"At that time I was really in the depths. I was affected mentally, had insulin shock and coma and very nearly convulsions. Doctors advised me to break up my meals and eat frequently. This helped not one bit.

"But when I went on the diet given on page 68 in the book, my whole world changed. I became well! Thanks to you!

"Hyperinsulinism or low blood sugar is a dreadful disease. I blacked out. I went into profuse sweats, and because it was called "low blood sugar" I stuffed myself with sugar, honey, molasses, syrup, candy, and in so doing almost killed myself. I was a heavy coffee drinker. Coffee, sugar and starches are "out" for me now.

"Mine is the 'manifest' type. Many of my friends went on the diet. Some had rashes, other nightmares, all are now restored to health.

"But it should never be called low blood sugar. The 'poor geeks' don't understand and load up on sweets. I believe if the condition were called something other than 'low blood sugar' more people would follow the prescribed diet.

"For me the Portis diet did not work. The Harris diet wrought a miracle. Prior to the diet I had had three heart attacks—acute auricular fibrillation. None since.

"When I feel my heart quivering or losing rhythm I eat something I should and it leaves. It never flutters unless my sugar is off. Thank you, Dr. Brady. (Signed)

You are very kind, but I merely recommended the book. We should all thank Dr. Seale Harris, professor of medicine in University of Alabama, as Dr. Abrahamson does, for his discovery and description of the condition, as originally reported, I believe, in the "Journal of the American Medical Association" in 1924.

Perhaps a better name for the condition would be hyperinsulinism.

Whatever it may be called, it is by no means easy to diagnose nor treat. This querulous query from another reader is in point: "Why should a person having low blood sugar follow a diet that practically excludes sugar? Answer me that!"

Now see here, brother! For several days I pondered whether printing the above letter would do more good than harm. I finally decided to print it, but the only reply I shall make to any reader who asks what to do about hyperinsulinism (hypoglycemia) will be: Consult your physician.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Wife Banishes Husband's Fears

Arthur is now a well adjusted husband. His wife banished the platonic nature of their marriage by use of the booklets offered via this educational column. For most divorces are unnecessary. They are due to lack of correct facts. God wants marriages to endure permanently happy, but you must help yourself to such happiness. It takes brains and effort!

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE Y-333: Arthur B., aged 46, is the man described yesterday as charging his faithful wife with misconduct.

DR. CRANE

"Yes, Dr. Crane, I even hired a detective to trail her," he admitted.

"I don't know what ever got into me. I must have been crazy. But now our home life is wonderful and we are actually happier than during our honeymoon.

MALE SEX PANIC

The resulting fear of total impotence actually can produce such impotence and within a matter of minutes.

Most men then try to hide their secret. They don't want their wives to guess the true facts.

So that's why they subconsciously evolve all sorts of weird charges to serve as "red herrings".

"If I accuse her of misconduct," they vaguely reason to themselves, "that will divert her attention.

"If I criticize her caustically and stay angry, she will think my lack of ardor is due solely to my irate mood."

In another panicky male a similar type of reasoning takes place about liquor.

"I'll start drinking, for this will alarm my wife. She will show concern about my welfare.

"If she is thus worried about when I'll stagger home drunk, she will think it is my drunken state that makes me fail to kiss her or show affection.

"Besides, I'll still appeal to her maternal affection as long as I can keep her worrying about me, even if I can't dominate her love as an ardent husband should."

WOMEN'S SEX LIFE

The chief sex organ of a woman is her brain; not her womb or ovaries.

A man can usually keep a wife devoted to him all her life if he will show appreciation and pay her compliments daily, even though their marital relationship has become purely platonic.

But most husbands suddenly attribute an exaggerated sex hunger to their wives the very moment the husband become afflicted with impotence.

Actually, God Almighty created husband and wife to function sexually as long as they live.

But it takes a smart wife to realize the mental turmoil going through her husband's head when their marriage becomes rather platonic.

Women have usually refrained from taking the initiative. But when a husband grows panicky, he may shun erotic behavior to avoid revealing his supposed weakness.

For such a wife can banish a husband's impotence quickly and thereby eliminate a lengthy period of unhappiness, caustic criticism, or drunkenness and chasing around with unscrupulous sirens.

For divorces can usually be prevented by using scientific facts. "God helps those who help themselves", runs a wise old adage.

This column gives you the unvarnished facts for helping yourselves.

So send for the booklet "Sex Differences Between Men & Women," enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus 20 cents (nonprofit).

'Blindness Was No Excuse for Starkweather Killings'

A letter says Starkweather was sick and next year would be blind and never see another Christmas. How about the people he killed, will they see their loved ones again or another Christmas? Were bullets his Christmas presents to them?

How many people have gone through this very same fear of darkness? Did they go berserk and maim and kill their fellow men? Ask yourself these questions and then decide.

Ralph Stocker

So Starkweather was going blind. Was he too weak to live up to the grim facts so many people face every day? Hundreds of people are going blind, dying of cancer, polio and heart trouble every day, but it isn't often one goes out and murders 11 people because he feels sorry for himself. What about the man whose face was thrown full of acid and the child lying in hospital beds for the rest of their lives?

If Chuck were mentally ill, why wasn't he put in a mental institution and given treatment rather than punishment by death? A psychiatrist examined him so he must have been plain mean to murder all those people. There are those like that, you know, so why excuse them?

I feel sorry for the girl. She must have been mentally ill to hang around that character after he killed off her family.

Not for Murder

'Supreme Court Needs Changes'

Our Federal Supreme Court is the target for the most criticism it has received since Roosevelt's "court packing" proposal. State supreme courts are also receiving a round of sharp criticism in many areas.

There are too many like Mennen Williams making appointments. The House judiciary committee has a heavy mail from attorneys who are alarmed at the trend.

People not directly interested in the courts should be advised of what is going on. Our legal profession understands, but most of the men tacitly refrain from too open or sweeping statements for obvious reasons.

'Did Bagwell Bring Governor Home?'

Professor Bagwell of Michigan State University is making some forceful campaign speeches around Michigan. Do you suppose that's one of the reasons our governor hurried home to spend a few days here? He has a whole host of fences this time that are sadly in need of repair.

'Diploma or Not, Can't Get Job'

So often parents, teachers and employes, almost every adult urges teenagers to stay in school and graduate. Their reasons are that without a high school education you can't get a job.

I'm sorry to disappoint my elders, but you can't get a job even if you have a diploma. I graduated a year ago summer school and had good grades and full commercial course, but I lacked one thing—experience.

How do I get the experience I need to make use of my hard-earned diploma? Without this needed experience I can't get a job, and if an employer won't hire someone without experience, how do I get it?

Readers Comment on Hiring Negroes

If Virgil plays third base because he's colored, I hope he fails miserably. If Virgil plays third base because he's a good third baseman, I hope he makes the all-star team.

I resent threats of boycotts in athletics. Pontiac could boycott the Tigers because there are no players from Pontiac. The people that are trying to advance the cause of the Negroes are handicapped by these stupid boycotts and attempts to apply pressure.

Men win athletic berths because of ability and not boycotts. I saw Virgil bat twice on TV and he took a called third strike both times. It looks as though "he ain't got it."

Fair Play

I'm getting sick of deals to put Negroes in positions just because they're Negroes. It's as discriminatory to hire someone just because he's Negro as it is to refuse to hire him because of it.

Most people want to see prejudice erased, but when you start forcing them in where they may not even be qualified, just to have a Negro there, that's when the resentment comes in.

If Negroes come along who are qualified to fill jobs that are open, see that they're hired, but it only makes matters worse when pressure forces hiring them regardless.

'What Will It Be the Next Time?'

It's beginning to look as though some of our Commissioners believe that a dictatorship is a thing to be desired, providing it coincides with their way of life.

They're trying to tell people where they can't go on Sunday and tomorrow they'll tell us where we have to go. Maybe now we can understand what it means when they say the heroes of today can be the heels of tomorrow.

Hal Boyle Says:

Writer Wins Fame, Fortune Playing God

NEW YORK (AP) — Novelist Evan Hunter, a young man with a gift for controversy, is winning fame and fortune by playing God.

"You have to do that when you are at the typewriter," he said. "And you have to be an egotist.

"You can have your own insecurities and doubts when you're not writing. But when you're in that room with just yourself, the machine and the paper—you have to play God. You have to feel in control, and you have to believe people want to hear what you have to say.

"If you begin to doubt this, you can't write."

Few doubts seem to have assailed Hunter. At 31, prolific beyond his years, he has produced 175 stories, some 30 novels and three plays, written under his own name and at least four pseudonyms. Total output has been more than three million words.

"I'm not really happy unless I am writing," said Hunter, who is dark-haired, blue-eyed, and stands a slender 6 feet. "I feel guilty."

Evan, a former schoolteacher, is equally adept at writing science fiction, mysteries, sport stories and children's books. But his main recognition has come from problem novels.

In 1954 he stirred up a literary storm with "The Blackboard Jungle," an 80,000-word portrayal of teen-age savagery in the schoolroom. He turned out the book in exactly two months. It has sold more than two million copies.

"I sold the movie rights for only $35,000," he said ruefully, "and the picture earned more than eight million dollars."

Hollywood paid $150,000 for his latest book, "Strangers When We Meet." This novel, which blasts the lid off "the coffin of suburbia," already has gone into a second printing, and has drawn both huzzahs and brickbats from commuters.

Hunter sturdily defends his attack against the conformity which he feels blights the lives of thousands of American families living in new suburban housing developments.

Hunter himself has escaped that "60-by-100-foot green coffin" he complains about. He lives with his wife and three sons in a 10-room house on a four-acre estate beyond the suburbs.

There he methodically turns out 5,000 words or so daily, and never waits for inspiration.

"I don't believe there is any such thing," he said. "Inspiration is a kind of myth promoted by pseudo-artists who live in Greenwich Village. If writing is your profession, you sit down and write whether you are inspired or not."

Army Will Surrender Percy Jones Hospital

BATTLE CREEK (UPI) — Rep. August E. Johansen (R-Mich) has disclosed that Percy Jones Army Hospital will soon become the Battle Creek Federal Center.

The hospital property is being transferred from the Department of the Army to the General Services Administration.

The hospital was deactivated in 1953 but part of the building space has been used by the Federal Civil Defense Administration. The city of Battle Creek hopes to buy the gymnasium at the facility plus the outdoor swimming pool.

TRUE FACTS ABOUT O-JIB-WA BITTERS

Mrs. Russell

Mrs. Rena Russell, 31660 Five Mile Rd., Livonia reports: "Before I discovered O-JIB-WA BITTERS, I suffered for a long time with arthritis pains in my arms and shoulders. I am glad to tell you that the very first bottle stopped the suffering. O-JIB-WA helped my stomach too, as I no longer am bothered with gas or indigestion and my nerves are much more relaxed. Because this fine medicine helped my husband's arthritis also, I recommended it to a friend barely able to walk, who is all better now and teaching school. I sure recommend O-JIB-WA BITTERS to all of you who suffer from rheumatism or arthritis and have not yet found relief."

Planning Final Mass Rally in San Francisco

Billy Graham's Crusade Assured One More Week

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—There were skeptics at the start, but evangelist Billy Graham's option was picked up to add a week to his San Francisco crusade in the massive Cow Palace arena—plus a final mass rally in Seals Stadium.

The seven-week run in the Cow Palace ends next Sunday. After six days rest, Graham will finish his San Francisco revival effort with an afternoon open air meeting Sunday, June 22, in the ball park of the San Francisco Giants.

The dynamic North Carolina preacher's total crusade attendance, including the ball park meeting, should near 750,000.

If the first five weeks' pace continues, the decisions for Christ in the Cow Palace revival meetings should run more than 25,000. Those making the decisiosns step forward on Graham's invitation and receive counseling to start active membership in a community church of their choice.

"A phenomenal success from every point of view," said Dr. W. Earle Smith, cochairman of the crusade's executive committee.

In attendance the San Francisco crusade, through its first four weeks reached 91.5 per cent of the 1957 Madison Square Garden revival in New York at a comparable point, the headquarters here reported.

The six meetings a week averaged 16,000 in the 16,500-seat Cow Palace.

In money contributions by major donors, however, the formally titled San Francisco Bay Cities Crusade has failed to match the Manhattan revival.

"The recession quite likely is a factor," said Harry Smith, Bank of America vice president and treasurer of the executive committee representing 1,200 sponsoring Bay area churches and pastors.

"But more likely we were mistaken in our expectations in the preliminary budget," observed Smith, "After all, the only experience we had to go by was the New York crusade last year."

The advance budget estimated major contributions from individuals, corporations and foundations would produce $227,000 of a total goal of $431,000.

The contribution response thus far has been disappointing, said Smith. But he declared the offerings by the Cow Palace audiences had exceeded advance estimates and a surprising supply of volunteered manpower had cut staff and administration costs considerably below the budget predictions.

"We haven't measured in dollars the value of volunteer office work. If we could, maybe we would come close to balancing out our original budget," Smith observed.

The audience offerings average $6,000 a meeting. The first four weeks produced $125,000 for the executive committee's budget. The advance estimate had been $96,000, Smith reported.

"We are meeting current expenditures, and we'll come out all right and the added expenses for the two-week extension through June 22," he declared.

The Sunday offerings to the Billy FGraham Evangelistic assn. pay Graham's salary and finance his national television and radio broadcasts.

Dr. Earle Smith, of Menlo Park, Calif., executive secretary of the San Francisco Bay Cities Baptist Union, says he expects Graham's crusading effort here will add many new permanent members to the congregations of the region's Protestant churches.

The crusade committee has planned an intensive four-day follow-through effort immediately after Graham's final meeting. A four-day visitation evangelism effort starting June 23 will send volunteers from 1,000 area churches into the homes of their unchurched neighbors to invite their faith.

Graham will continue his work in California through most of July.

Russian Veto Feared in U.N.

Western Powers Press for Watching Team in Lebanon Strife

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) —The Western powers pressed for urgent action today in the U. N. Security Council to send a U. N. watchdog team to strife-torn Lebanon. But they feared a Soviet veto.

Lebanon charged the United Arab Republic with aiding rebels fighting to overthrow pro-Western President Camille Chamoun.

Western diplomats felt the situation was so grave they already were consulting on what to do if the Soviets used the veto. They said they definitely would not drop the issue.

Informed quarters said as a last resort they might call for an emergency meeting of the veto-free General Assembly.

The Council met for more than seven hours yesterday and last night.

In the stormy session, the United States, Britain and France threw their support solidly behind Lebanon. Each declared its belief that the U. A. R. had violated the integrity of Lebanon by promoting civil strife.

The Soviet Union as usual stood firmly with President Nasser's U. A. R. and denounced the Western powers as the real cause of Lebanon's trouble.

LEG CRAMPS?

One of the most common causes of painful muscle cramps in legs, feet, toes, arms and hands is a prolonged deficiency of calcium. So says a famous doctor and widely-read newspaper columnist, formerly with the Mayo Clinic, and other well-known health authorities.

When meals, consistently deficient in calcium, are fortified with DYNA-CAL Calcium Tablets, tormenting calcium-deficient muscle cramps can be promptly relieved. But don't confuse DYNA-CAL Tablets with ordinary calcium-phosphorus products. DYNA-CAL Tablets contain no phosphorus which frequently interferes with the absorption of calcium. And DYNA-CAL Tablets contain a special ingredient which helps to put calcium into the blood stream quicker — bringing faster relief to cramping, calcium-starved muscles. Pleasant-to-take DYNA-CAL Tablets with calcium, betaine hydrochloride, and vitamins D and C contain no drugs. They are safe, harmless, calcium food supplements. If you are suffering miserable muscle cramps, and suspect you are not getting enough calcium, ask for DYNA-CAL Tablets, today. Bottles of 90 tablets, $1.50.

* Other causes for muscle cramps are entirely unrelated to calcium deficiency.

Vary Neckline With High-Style Collars, Dickeys

Few women look well in unadorned neckline dresses, whether these have the new chemise lines or more conservative styling. For both styles, the answer lies in an infinite variety of high style neckwear.

White is almost the universal choice, with a band or other bit of color for accent. Fabrics range from sheer lawn to stout pique, but all are characterized by suds-ability.

Could Be Too Late Now

By EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post: An organization to which I belong sponsored a card party recently and all the members were given tickets to sell. I asked several of my friends if they would like to buy tickets for the card party. They said they would and so I got the tickets for them and paid for them with my own money. When I gave these friends their tickets they reimbursed me for them.

"One friend, however, said that she didn't have the money with her when I gave her the ticket and said that she would pay me for it another time. The day of the card party she called me and said that something turned up and she would be unable to go. She made no mention of paying me for the ticket.

"Even though she couldn't go to the card party, don't you think she should have paid for the ticket anyway? Would it be proper for me to ask her for it?"

Answer: When she told you that she would not be able to come to the card party you should have explained to her that you already had paid for her ticket and that, as you could not return it, you would have to ask her please to pay for it.

"Dear Mrs. Post: I plan to be married shortly and would like to get away from the usual white or buff invitations. I thought a very blush pink would be nice. Will you please tell me what you think of this?"

Answer: I am sorry but I do not think that the sacrament of marriage is to be approached with a wish "to get away from the usual." Please do not even think of having pink invitations.

Send Her to YWCA — Abby

Should Hubby Baby-Sit Girl, 19

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

"DEAR ABBY: My wife is my problem. She suspects the worst of me all the time. A friend of mine has a 19-year-old cousin who came out here to look for work. She was fresh off the farm and afraid to stay in a motel alone, so I went there and spent the night with her. I haven't heard the end of it since.

ABBY

"This kid is real green. She carries a Bible in her purse and won't even take a beer. How can I get my wife to trust me?" NOT TRUSTED

DEAR NOT: If a girl is old enough to travel to a strange city, she should be old enough to sleep alone. This gal is too old for a baby-sitter and too young for a motel. Suggest that she get a room at the "YW."

"DEAR ABBY: Please don't think I am stupid, but I am very inexperienced and would like an answer. I have never gone in for necking, but I would like to know which side (right or left) does a girl kiss a boy from? I notice it is done both ways in the movies."

INEXPERIENCED

DEAR INEXPERIENCED: Kissing is not like mounting a horse—it really doesn't matter which side you approach it. Take the side closest to you.

DEAR ABBY: My husband is 48 years old and I am 45. One morning he woke up and said to me, 'Anna, I have supported you for 29 years, now it's your turn to support me.' And he never got out of bed for four months. I almost went out of my mind making excuses for him. His union called and his bosses called. I finally took him to a doctor and they said they couldn't find a thing wrong with him.

"I am at the end of my rope and don't know where to turn."

END OF ROPE

DEAR END: You took your husband to the wrong doctor. There IS something wrong with him. A good psychiatrist could not only tell you what it is, but could probably straighten him out.

"DEAR ABBY: Many of my good friends have dogs or cats. They play with them, rub their hands over the animals' faces and then when it's time to prepare a meal they start right in without even washing their hands. It just turns my stomach and I have all I can do to eat. Do you think I'm right or wrong about it?"

WORRIED

DEAR WORRIED: I think you are right. If someone is preparing something that you are expected to eat — it wouldn't be out of order to "remind" her to suds her pinkies.

"DEAR ABBY: A certain man in our office is just like an old lady. He gossips. It wouldn't be so bad if he had enough of the facts, but he tells stories about people that aren't even true. I couldn't say if he starts the rumors or just repeats them, but I for one am sick of listening to him. How can I spike these rumors?"

ANNOYED

DEAR ANNOYED: The quickest way to spike a rumor is to ask who said it.

Others Prefer Job

Some Women Happier at Home

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

I enjoy the letters I receive from readers. I get all kinds of questions and viewpoints through the mail. The letter before me gives us food for thought:

"Dear Mrs. Lowman: I cannot understand why many housewives are bored. I worked for 10 years, and it was a hectic life, with never enough time for many things I wanted to do. I lived in a rush and was always tired, too tired to enjoy my friends or family. Then, because of poor health, I had to stay at home.

"I must admit that it took me about a year to adjust and at first I thought I could not get along without the extra money. Now I have learned to live on my husband's salary, and as to being bored, I am enjoying the time I now have to spend on my home and with my friends. I sew, bake, work in the garden, and have time for social life and my family and have made so many new friends.

"My family tells me that I am an entirely different woman and so much nicer to live with since I am not rushed and tired all the time.

"Also, I find that I can save money in many different ways because I have more time to shop, sew, repair and save clothes. So, a woman who goes to work and must be a housewife too, only has left about half of what she makes. Now I wonder, 'Was it ever worth it?' "

This is a very controversial question. I think that it depends on the individual woman, her husband, and her general setup. I have known some instances in which a woman with no talent or liking for housekeeping, but who was well-qualified for a good position, remained in the home because of her husband's feelings. The results were not very happy because she was completely frustrated.

OVERHEAD

However, any time two jobs are ruining a woman's health or disposition she should do something about it. It also is absolutely true that a woman must charge off overhead for any job she does outside of her home. What the reader said in her letter is so true! She had to cut corners because she did not have the time and energy to do many money saving things she could do if she did not work outside her home.

This is certainly a highly individual matter. Another letter from a reader says that she found work the answer to everything because she could have a maid to fix the evening meal. She found herself much less tired and a much better companion at home than if she had been homemaking all day long.

It does seem to me that a woman must know herself and her husband and weigh matters seriously before working outside of her home.

Try Sitting 'Tall'

It is easy to slouch into a chair. This behavior often is a carry-over from childhood or is excused as fatigue. But actually the fatigue probably results from straining muscles while sitting in unnatural positions. Try sitting tall in a chair and pull yourself up from the hips.

Norma Jean Bader Wed to Michael James Wells

MRS. MICHAEL J. WELLS

Norma Jean Bader and Michael James Wells were married Saturday at St. Vincent de Paul Church. The Rev. Fabian Weber officiated at the 10 a.m. Nuptial High Mass before 200 guests.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Frank L. Bader of Whittemore street and Mr. and Mrs. Harold F. Wells of Pingree avenue.

The bride wore a summer satin gown with fitted basque waist and long tapered sleeves. The gathered skirt ended in a full chapel train. The V-neckline was outlined with a bertha collar of French Alencon lace, hand-embroidered with seed pearls.

Her French silk illusion veil was held by a small hat of Alencon lace and seed pearls. She carried a cascade bouquet of white roses, carnations and lilies of the valley.

ATTEND BRIDE

Mrs. Donald McLane, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Katherine Jean Zimmerman and Wanda Wallis of Kalamazoo.

The attendants were dressed alike in nylon petite net. The matron of honor was dressed in pink and the other attendants were dressed in blue.

Janet Sue Wells was the flower girl. She wore a dress of embroidered organdy over pink. All the attendants carried white daisies in baskets.

Richard Weaver was best man, with Robert Wells and James Bader as senior ushers. Other ushers were James Devin and Edward Wells, the bridegroom's brother, of Arlington, Va.

An evening reception was held at Malta Temple. To receive guests, the bride's mother wore a pink silk and satin dress with white accessories and an orchid corsage. The bridegroom's mother wore a silk linen and lace dress with white accessories and an orchid corsage.

The bride was dressed in navy blue and beige with beige accessories as the couple left on a trip through the Upper Peninsula.

The bride is a graduate of Burgess School of Nursing, Kalamazoo and the bridegroom attends University of Detroit.

Shrimp Curry With Rice Takes to Condiments

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

Curried shrimp is a delightful dish to serve. It can MAKE your next buffet supper. Get all parts ready early in the day and heat just before serving.

Mrs. Robert Brennan of Orchard Lake got this recipe from her sister in California. She is a registered nurse, but temporarily "on leave" to take care of her young family. Making hats, sewing and all kinds of water sports are her leisure time activities.

SHRIMP CUREY
By Mrs. Robert Brennan

3 packages extra large frozen shrimp
Few bay leaves
½ teaspoon celery salt

Cook shrimp and herbs ten minutes in boiling water. Chill at once. Clean and refrigerate until serving time.

Sauce

4-5 green onions, chopped fine
Equal amount chopped celery
1 tablespoon butter or margarine
3 cans undiluted cream of mushroom soup
Curry powder

Saute onions and celery in butter or margarine until tender. Add mushroom soup and curry powder to taste. Add the curry just a little at a time, tasting as you go—otherwise you may get too much!

Don't heat the sauce until you are ready to serve or it will thin out too much. You may heat shrimp in a slow oven.

Serve over rice with little dishes of coconut, crumbled bacon, sliced almonds, chutney and watermelon pickle for guests to add.

Karen Beth Sampson and Donald Lee Hagadone were married Saturday evening. The bride's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Arthur A. Sampson. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Clare Hagadone.

MR. and MRS. DONALD HAGADONE

Karen B. Sampson Wed in Gown of Own Design

Wearing a self-designed gown of white lace-edged dotted Swiss over silk taffeta, Karen Beth Sampson became the bride of Donald Lee Hagadone Saturday evening at All Saint's Episcopal Church. The Rev. George C. Widdifield performed the ceremony in the presence of 250 guests.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur A. Sampson of Pioneer drive. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Clare Hagadone of Opdyke road.

The bride's gown was fashioned with tiny puff sleeves, a cummerbund, and bouffant skirt featuring a train. She wore long gloves of matching dotted Swiss and lace, and her fingertip veil of illusion fell from a band of sheer leaflets and seed pearls.

Matron of honor Mrs. LeRoy Kelley of Detroit was gowned in a ballerina-length dress of sheer white organdy over pink cotton satin, fashioned similar to the bridal gown. Junior bridesmaid Deborah K. Cover, cousin of the bride, of Grand Blanc, and bridesmaids Kathy Armstrong, Alice Riemenschnieder and Mrs. George Huffman, wore ballerina-length gowns similar to the bride's in sheer white organdy over blue cotton satin.

Flower girl Diane Louise Cover, cousin of the bride, of Grand Blanc, wore a floor-length dress of sheer white organdy over pink cotton satin. All attendants carried colonial bouquets of pink carnations. Their headpieces were accented by pink and blue flowers.

Attending as best man was Arnold Hagadone, brother of the bridegroom. Ushers were Jack Sampson, brother of the bride, James Arnold, Douglas Birkett and George Huffman. Junior usher was Gary Hagadone, brother of the bridegroom, and the ringbearer was Michael Hudson, a nephew of the bridegroom.

The bride was graduated from Elkhart University where she was a member of Phi Rho Zeta Sorority. The bridegroom served three years in the armed forces in Alaska and Washington. They will reside on Opdyke road.

JOHN C. XENOS

Graduating from Western Michigan University with a BS in secondary education is John C. Xenos, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Xenos of West New York avenue. He will also be commissioned as second lieutenant in the U.S. Army. He is affiliated with Epsilon Pi Tau, Inc., international honorary society.

He will continue work towards his MA degree until February when he will report for active duty at Fort Knox, Ky.

Anne Denning Wed to Michael McClain

Anne Marie Denning and Michael J. McClain were married May 31 in St. Michael Catholic Church, Altoona, Pa.

The bride is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Philip P. Denning of Hollidaysburg, Pa., and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph McClain of Grant street.

POSTURE

One of the quickest tell-tales of age is our posture. Added years or added weight is quite often our excuse to let-down, slouch or waddle as we walk. Stand tall, and sit tall to feel alert and youthful. Not stiff and stilted but pull upward from the waist and hips. Quick as a wink you'll see the difference, feel the difference and drop years from your appearance.

Proper posture will lessen the burden of added years in general physical health, and this too will keep you looking younger-than-your-years.

Smartly Dressed Woman Takes Care of Clothes

Somehow, women who are well-groomed always seem to handle their possessions carefully. A coat goes over the arm neatly folded with lining outward. Gloves are removed slowly and smoothed out.

A suit jacket is never draped over a chair back. It goes on a hanger or is folded lengthwise and then placed over a chair back.

Furs get a fluffing if they're damp from rain and are hung up to dry, never slung onto a chair or bed in a careless heap.

And the fact that a woman treats her possessions this way seems to invest them with a special quality. Both they and their owner merit respect.

The woman who slings her possessions about carelessly is usually the one who turns up breathless, late, her clothes wrinkled and looking the worse for wear.

New Look Is Clean!

So firmly stamped as typically American is the "soap-and-water look," that even French models are reported to be adopting it. In this respect, certainly, every American woman can be a "model" beauty.

Foolish to Let Pride Override Sympathy

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

When 11-year-old Patty asked her father if she could take ballet lessons, he said he'd think about it.

Waiting for him to finish his thinking was hard. For she wanted the lessons terribly. Her friend Lois took them and was always flinging herself into beautiful pirouettes and arabesques whenever she felt especially happy or bored. Enviously watching her, Patty had come to think of herself as horribly clumsy.

Finally she put her anxious question to her father again. He said no, that the ballet lessons were out. He said that what with the cost of Grandma's operation and other expenses, he couldn't afford the lessons.

Whereupon her father flung down his paper, got very angry and shouted, "Holy smoke, do you think I get everything I want? If you're going to make a fuss like this, go on up to your room and let me finish my paper in peace . . ."

So upstairs, her face buried in a pillow, Patty thought over and over, "Oh, how I hate Daddy! How mean, how mean he is . . ." Which was quite unnecessary.

Because her father's true original response to her disappointment hadn't been anger at all. It had been sympathy. He'd have liked nothing better than to give her ballet lessons—but this reality had been lost to pride that told him he should have been able to give them to her. Pride made him so disappointed in himself that he couldn't feel his sympathy with Patty's disappointment.

Had it not reproached him so absurdly, he'd have found Patty's reproachful tears quite tolerable. And been able to say comfortingly, "I'm as disappointed as you are, daughter. But let's not be too discouraged. As soon as I've got some of these bills paid, we'll see what can be done. So how about a little patience with your Pop?"

It is so easy to let reproaching pride come between us and the children we love.

We are so ashamed we can't give them the things they ask for that we lose all sight of our wishes to give them the things. And so we express irritation, even when our original feeling is, "I understand how you feel."

Harold W. Keivit Takes Diane Chadsey as Bride

Diane Elaine Chadsey and Harold William Keivit were married Sunday at First Baptist Church, Ann Arbor. The Rev. C. H. Loucks and William Lanpher of Pontiac officiated at the double-ring ceremony.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Albert E. Chadsey of Ann Arbor and Mr. and Mrs. Harold O. Keivit of Bennett street.

The bride wore a ballerina-length gown of hand clipped Chantilly lace with a modified Sabrina neckline and long fitted sleeves. Her shoulder-length veil fell from a Mary Stuart half-bonnet of pearls and lace. She carried a bouquet of white orchids.

Maid of honor was Suzanne Servis of Ann Arbor, and bridesmaid was Marilyn Keivit, the bridegroom's sister. Both wore dresses of moss green and white silk organza, embroidered in pink. The maid of honor wore a white flowered picture hat and the bridesmaid wore a pink flowered picture hat. Both carried bouquets of pink carnations.

ASSISTS BRIDEGROOM

John Corbin was best man with Lonny McCollum of Bay City as groomsman. Ushers were Stanley Chadsey, the bride's brother, of Ann Arbor and Lawrence and Bruce Keivit, brothers of the bridegroom.

After a trip to Canada, the couple will spend the summer at National Music Camp, Interlochen.

The bride is graduating from the University of Michigan Music School with a bachelor of music degree and a teaching certificate. The bridegroom is also attending the University of Michigan School of Music.

Hermanns Celebrate Silver Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Raoul Hermann of Martell street celebrated their 25th wedding anniversary Sunday with an open house.

Mrs. Charles Miller and Neta and Judy Hermann were hostesses to 150 guests. Cohostesses were Mrs. Orlo Lau and Mary Jane Stewart.

A memorial plaque in the lobby of the new State Department building indicates that more than 75 members of the Foreign Service have lost their lives under heroic or tragic circumstances while on active duty.

Tooth Brushing Dates Back 3,000 Years

Tooth brushing is one of the oldest of all hygienic practices. Three thousand years ago the Arabs made and used a chewstick, the forerunner of the toothbrush.

To make this brush they cut a twig or root finger size and peeled it at one end about a quarter of an inch. After soaking the peeled end in water, the chewstick was rubbed against the teeth or chewed. This raveled out the fibers, which, when separated, provided "bristles" for cleaning the teeth.

See Uptrend in Sports Participation

AMES, Ia. (INS) — Americans may spend a lot of time watching television and listening to hi-fi, but they also are getting into active sports.

The average American family spends about 80 dollars a year for recreation these days, according to a home management specialist at Iowa State College.

A big chunk of the recreation funds is taken up by the servicing of radios, TV and hi-fi sets, according to government figures as analyzed by Miss Helen Tucker of the Iowa school.

However, she emphasized, families are also spending more money on musical instruments and records; going to fewer movies and other "spectator" amusements like books, maps and sports.

Instead, said Miss Tucker, average American families are spending more money on amusements in which they can take an active part — like bowling, skating and golf. She said:

"We are also buying more pleasure equipment like boats and aircraft."

VFW Women Send Gifts to Graduates

The Auxiliary to VFW Post 1008 gathered at the post hall on Pike street to send gifts to graduates of the National VFW Home in Eaton Rapids.

Announcement was made of a convention to be held June 19-20 at Escanaba. Delegates are Mrs. Paul Boelter, Mrs. Frank Finkle and Mrs. Loren Beach. Mrs. Finkle was social chairman of the evening, assisted by Mrs. Edna Stovall and Mrs. Thelma Whitlock.

Evelyn Y. Edwards Wed

Christian and Missionary Alliance Church was the scene of the Saturday evening wedding of Evelyn Yvonne Edwards and William S. Schleh. The Rev. G. J. Bersche performed the ceremony in the presence of 250 guests.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Edwards of Maynard court. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. William M. Schleh of Williamsport, Pa.

The bride's gown featured a bodice of Chantilly lace over satin accented by a standup collar. Her bouffant skirt was fashioned with tiers of nylon tulle with lace appliques, and her Juliet cap of Chantilly lace secured a fingertip veil. White roses in a cascade arrangement comprised the bridal bouquet.

Maid of honor was Thelma Edwards and attendants were Ruth Hazlett, Gayle Shelby, and Gayle Whitlock, a niece of the bride who acted as flower girl. All wore gowns of turquoise taffeta with tulle full-length overskirts featuring bateau necklines and bustle bows. Their flowers were yellow carnations in cascade bouquets.

West Michigan to Boom if Mail's Any Indication

An association spokesman said the first of three mailings received yesterday brought in 1,127 requests for information—considerably more than the record 611 inquiries received last April 15.

The inquiries received yesterday boosted the number of requests for information received by the association to 18,985 so far this year, compared with the 16,670 queries during the same period of 1957.

Association officials said yesterday's record mailing was in response to a weekend ad in 19 newspapers in 12 cities of seven Midwest states.

Catfish Pond Dream Comes True

By REBA HEINTZELMAN

A dream to own a big "catfish pond," where easy-going fishermen could sit in rocking chairs and pull out big ones has come true for 64-year-old Warren Chambers.

He has a small spring-fed pond on Highland and Williams Lake roads, filled with hundreds of the "sportingest 5 to 20 pound catfish in the State of Michigan."

All his life, as he worked at one job and then another throughout the United States, Chambers and his wife dreamed of owning a cat-pond.

In January, he decided it was the time to get going on the dream.

The couple bought two small tourist cabins directly across from the tiny pond. They then leased the water hole from owner Mrs. Mildred Redman of Highland, and they were in business.

Every so often Chambers would buy a few channel catfish and toss them into his pond — until now the 'large-sized-aquarium' holds more than 300 big fish.

An individual may step into the roped-off entrance, lay down a dollar bill, and fish from morning until night — with no limit on the number of fish caught.

Easy chairs line the banks of the 100 by 400 foot pond, which is concealed from the road by high trees and brush, giving added privacy to relaxed fishermen.

Even a row boat is available free of charge for those who "must" fish from a boat, but most of the time it is tied up because, as Chambers says — "It's just too much trouble to row out in the middle."

As to the popularity of a 'cat's' eatability, Chambers said, "They are absolutely the sirloin steak of the fish family. Catfish taste a little like choice frog legs — all white meat and practically no bones at all."

Although the catfish is a slow moving variety, they are one of the 'fightingest' fish in the world, according to Chambers.

So far, sixteen customers have had their fishing lines snapped in two by the strong whip-lash after the 'cat' has been hooked.

Many too-relaxed sportsmen have had their poles removed from their hands unexpectedly, by a hungry 'cat' who promptly shook the hook loose and swam away.

Let me tell you what I saved when I drove a new Plymouth ... then bought one!

Like a lot of people, I was putting off buying a new car ... even though we sure needed one. Then I found out what my Plymouth dealer was offering in the way of low prices and really big trades.

Mister, when I saw what I saved I knew there was no use putting off any longer! Got more for my old car than I believed possible. (Plymouth dealers need used cars and can sell all they get!) Got a terrifically low price on the new Plymouth ... and choice of models besides ... hardtops, sedans, convertibles, wagons.

And I saved a cool $140 on the ride alone! Plymouth's top-luxury ride, Torsion-Aire Ride, is standard at no extra cost, while you have to pay up to $140 for the top ride of competing "low-price 3" cars.

What's more, I got the car that proved it can save me gasoline, by winning the 1958 Mobilgas Economy Run. A car with Silver Dart Styling that is so far ahead right now it will still be worth more when I trade. With the kind of easy handling that makes every minute of driving a downright thrill! The stamina to stand up without nagging adjustments and big repairs ... a car as much better built as it is better looking!

Colman's Heirs to Get $3,000 Each Month

SANTA BARBARA, Calif (AP) —Ronald Colman's widow and daughter have been granted $3,000 a month support from the estate of the late actor.

Superior Court approved the petition on behalf of Mrs. Benita Colman and her daughter Juliet. Mrs. Colman said her husband's estate was in excess of a million dollars.

Colman died here last month.

Efficiency 'Peaks' at 7-to-1 Level

GM Studies Ways to Up V-8 Compression Ratio

An answer to this question was offered to the Society of Automotive Engineers here today by Darl F. Caris and Edwin E. Nelson of General Motors engineering staff, based on their experiments with seven V-8 modified production engines ranging from 9-to-1 up to 25-to-1 compression ratio.

They said present day engines would give the motorist miles per gallon dividends up to approximately 17-to-1 compression ratio, providing the petroleum industry could economically supply fuels for them. They found that an engine's thermal efficiency "peaked" at the 17-to-1 level.

Primary reason why ratios above that level are not feasible, at least with engines based on today's designs, is a delay of the combustion process or the burn of the air-fuel mixture in the engine combustion chamber.

The speakers said today's engine-and-fuel relationship is not unlike the situation in June 1947, when Charles F. Kettering, former GM vice president in charge of research staff, announced an experimental 12-to-1 compression ratio engine.

At that time average engine compression ratios were about 6.5-to-1 and fuels were in the 85 octane range. Kettering predicted that if higher fuels were available, increased compression ratios would result in economy and efficiency gains for the motorist.

Caris and Nelson pointed out that today's premium fuels are in the 100-octane range and compression ratios average approximately 9.5-to-1. This posed the question of how much higher ratios can be raised before miles-per-gallon economy, efficiency and engineering "fringe benefits" begin to taper off.

Yep! It Sure Did Work

SPOKANE, Wash (AP)—Archie C. Enzler, 45, held a paint spraying gun to his ear to hear if it was working. It was. An emergency hospital steward and a doctor took turns cleaning the paint out of Enzler's ear.

Bob Considine Says:

Then There Was That Time in Algiers....

NEW YORK — Nothing like a stimulating exchange of views with a well-bred child.

Child—Hi, Pop. You home again? Wudges do this time?

Pop (who had anticipated a ticker tape parade, at least)—Harumph. As millions of children your age and younger know, being keen fans of yours truly, I have been in Paris, France, and Algiers, Algeria, covering the Second Coming of Gen. Charles de Gaulle. Furthermore . . .

Child (honestly surprised) — No kiddin'? That's cool, Pop. Wudges bring me?

Pop (taking oratorical, feet-spread stance to avoid hook and split infinitives)—Son, I bring you word that la belle France, as I have nicknamed her, faces deep water at the crossroads but by keeping her feet firmly on the ground and her eyes on the stars during this deep fog in her annals will be able to navigate the shoals of this desert.

I bring you tidings that should reassure all who revere the culture, democracy, history, wines, sauces and other contributions of the French, if contributions is quite the proper word when related to that dear and often frugal people. France will live!

France may even live as well as American tourists at the Ritz, or at the George V, often called by me the Joe Schenck. As I was saying to De Gaulle only the other day as we toured the Casbah, 'mon general . . .'

Child—Wudges bring me?

Pop—Someday I'm going to demand of you the past participle form of the verb wudges. For the time being, however, I'll resume my fascinating resume of a trip that is sure to ring down the corridors of Newsweek.

France tottered and would have fallen if there had been no strong shoulder to lean upon. Only two institutions remained stable through the rioting in the streets of Paris and the demonstrations in the streets of Leonard Lyons, capital of the Department of Rhone. These were the French civil servant and the French waiter. The former remained underpaid. The latter looked the other way, as if patiently awaiting the day when his maker would catch his eye. Both took tips. Both gave tips, too, but on plugs running at Longchamps.

Child—Anything interesting happen? I'm kinda busy.

Pop (striving to keep captive audience captive) — Interesting? Glad you asked that, son. One spooky night in Algiers I was walking home from a saloon, kaf kaf, I mean a salon. Not a soul in sight. Curfew had rung. The city was a tomb. My breathing came in short pants, such as you see along Madison Avenue during the summer. I kept my eye glued on the dimly lighted front door of the goat's nest where I lived, the Aletti Hotel. But this haven retreated with every step I took.

It was like the time I swam the English Channel—must have been before you were born, son—and the White Cliffs of Dover kept eroding with every stroke I took until it appeared I'd have to swim right up Piccadilly to reach land.

But, never mind, here now I was alone in this street in Algiers when suddenly I heard the unmistakable sound of one of those mean little French machine guns being cocked. A cop jumped out of the shadows, sure I was a member of the terrorist F.L.N., the first one ever found in a chartreuse and kelly green sports jacket. He had me covered.

Child (mildly interested) — Wudges do, Pop?

Pop (dusting nails on lapel)—Well, boy, the first thing I did, after I came to, was get my hands out of my pockets as quickly as possible. Then I began talking French with a heavy American accent.

I gave him a cheery greeting which means 'good day.' It is pronounced 'ben jewer.' That brought him up sharply and he uncocked the gun. A serious breach in Franco-American relations had been narrowly averted.

Then there was the night at Orly when it looked as if the general's plane wouldn't make it. There he was, stacked up at 18,000 in a jet, and I said to myself, I said . . .

Hey, where are you going, son?

Child—Out.

Pop—What are you going to do?

Child—What else? Nothing.

9 Planes Will Spray Colorado Farmlands

DENVER (AP)—Nine airplanes will fly over nine million acres of eastern Colorado today, spraying poison over grasshoppers infesting crops and pasture land.

A bigger effort to save the wheat crop valued at 110 million dollars will be made tomorrow. Farmers have appealed for federal aid.

The hopper invasion is critical in six counties and almost as serious in 11 others. The insects, numbering as many as 400 per square yard, must be killed by June 15, state officials said, or the wheat crop will be destroyed.

Shah-Soraya Reunion Called 'Just Rumors'

HONOLULU (AP)—An aide to the Shah of Iran said last night that reports the Shah and former Queen Soraya may reconcile are "just rumors."

The aide, Brig. Gen. Mahammad Khatimi, said, "We have no such news."

Will Lift Walking Ban

MACKINAW CITY, Mich (AP) —No pedestrians are allowed on the new 100-million-dollar Straits of Mackinac Bridge, but the rule will be lifted June 25. Early that day, when traffic is light, some 50 members of the International Walkers Assn. from 10 states will take part in a walking contest across the bridge.

Charge: Stealing Nothing

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Earl W. Stanley, 37, was charged with strong-arm robbery in the theft of a bag of nothing. Police said he snatched a night-deposit bag from V. E. Stanfill, 49. Stanfill said he had just picked up the empty bag at a bank.

Says State Should Limit Extension of Jobless Pay

LANSING (AP)—The general manager of the Michigan Manufacturers Assn. today counseled strict limitations on extension of unemployment benefits to the state's jobless workers.

"Any extension of benefit duration should be for a temporary period only with adequate and limited provisions on effective date and duration," said John C. McCurry in a letter to Gov. Williams.

"If this is an emergency," he said, "it should be treated as one."

McCurry replied to the Governor's letter last week to E. C. Hetherwirk, of Jackson, MMA president, asking whether employers preferred an immediate or a deferred increase in unemployment compensation tax rates. The same query went to the presidents of Ford Motor Co., General Motors Corp., and Chrysler Corp.

McCurry declined to answer the question, saying the MMA would see what action the legislature took toward extension of benefits before offering its views on financing the plan adopted.

Lawmakers return to Lansing tomorrow to act on the problem.

McCurry offered several suggestions on what the program should, or should not do. Among them:

1. Jobless workers only temporarily attached to a working force or those without dependents should not be eligible.

2. Work qualifications should be increased from the present 14-week minimum and "the incentive to seek work should be preserved and could well be increased."

3. Legislatures might consider a nine-week, rather than a 13-week extension. A congressional plan authorized federal loans to allow states to extend benefits for up to 50 per cent of the present maximum—26 weeks in Michigan.

4. The legislature should make the sole decision on whether to extend benefits and by how much.

Said McCurry:

"The Michigan Employment Security Act should not be circumvented by administrative action by the commission wherein it enters into 'deals' with the federal government through the Secretary of Labor for extensions or borrowing."

The MMA official also cautioned that Michigan employers already pay heavy unemployment taxes.

"Unemployment taxes now are the greatest single state levy paid by employers—greater than all other state taxes on industry combined," he said. "Can employers afford more?"

"We maintain there is an end to the employer's responsibility to protect against the misfortunes of unemployment," he added. "This is shared responsibility — worker and employer alike."

Unemployment in Michigan May 15 stood at 457,000—15.6 per cent of the state's labor force. Some 73,000 of these have exhausted their unemployment benefits.

Assets of the State Unemployment Compensation Fund dipped from 219 million dollars to 190 million between April 30 and May 31.

Death Notices

MRS. JOHN T. HANNAH

BERKLEY — Service for Mrs. John T. (Blanche) Hannah, 77, of 3095 Tyler St., was held this morning at the Sawyer Funeral Home in Berkley. Burial was in Roseland Park Cemetery.

Mrs. Hannah died Sunday at Henry Ford Hospital in Detroit after a long illness. She was a member of the Betsy Ross Council, Daughters of the American Revolution.

Surviving are her husband; one daughter, Mrs. Alfred Van Buskirk of Lake Orion; two sons, Robert of Berkley and John in Kansas; three sisters, Mrs. Eva Letchfield of Highland Park, Mrs. Hazel McMullen and Mrs. Daisy Wiseman, both of Lake Orion, and two brothers, Harvey Arber of Miami, Fla., and Oliver of Wichita, Kan.

GERALD T. JOHNSON

Word has been received of the death of Gerald Thomas Johnson, 15-month-old son of Gerald and Patricia Roberts Johnson of California. He died there Monday.

His body will be brought to the Melvin A. Schutt Funeral Home for service and burial.

Surviving besides his parents are a sister, Ruth at home; and grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Roberts and Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Johnson, all of Pontiac.

Washington Police Must Lose Weight

WASHINGTON (AP)—Washington officials moved today to solve a weighty problem.

Rep. A. L. Miller (R-Neb) had criticized the Washington police force, saying some cops resembled kewpie dolls because of overweight.

The board said weight checks showed 8 per cent of the 2,328-man force to be "slightly overweight."

To deal with these slight heavyweights the board sent a list of recommendations to Acting Police Chief Howard Covell that added up to one major suggestion: the corpulent cops will have to cut down on the food intake.

Those failing to do so could be penalized ny having their promotion turns held up.

Meteor or Jet? Loud Boom Still a Mystery Here

Opinions as to what caused Saturday's mysterious explosion are still being expressed freely around town.

A retired General Motors Truck & Coach worker, Will Morris, 74, of 81 W. Longfellow Ave., believes it was a meteor crashing to earth. He said some 59 years ago he heard a similiar "boom-boom" and pieces of a meteor were found in Allegan.

But officials at the McMath-Hulbert Observatory at Lake Angelus put a tak of "dubious" on this report. They said a falling meteor wouldn't make an explosion sound but one more like a low rumble.

What do they think it was? "It was a low-flying and very fast jet," said Dr. Dodson Prince. "Quite a few of my colleagues saw the plane. And don't forget you see the plane before you hear the sound. This explains why no one spotted it at the time of the noise."

State Will Resurface M87, Give It Back to the County

By JOE HAAS

HOLLY — The office of State Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie announced plans today to turn the M87 state highway back to Oakland County.

This paved road leads westerly off the Dixie Highway 15 miles northwest of Pontiac, through Holly, leaving Oakland County at the Fenton village limits. There it enters Genesee County for a few miles.

Oakland County Road Commission officials have indicated plans to change the status of the road, as recommended by the state, are acceptable to them.

The state will put a new blacktop surface on the pavement through its entire distance, including over two miles within the Holly village limits, with no local expense, and then turn it over to the county system.

By making this change, the new topping gets a priority rating. If it remained in its present status, the improvement would not be reached for several years. Now it will be done this year or next.

Completion of new cross-county paved highways has taken much of the traffic off M87, which has not been in good condition.

This diversion will be further accented by the extension of Northwestern Highway and building of the new limited access highway through the county.

For several months the M87 pavement in the north part of Holly village has been in a bad condition, causing many drivers to take other roads.

The maple trees on Holly's Saginaw and Maple Streets, which long have had a prominent part in making the village one of the most beautiful of Michigan's municipalities, will be spared.

Their permanence has been assured by a contingent of local residents who have long been aware of the fact that the road was to be turned back to the county, and who quietly have forestalled any efforts to do otherwise.

Thus Holly will assume a place among the progressive villages and cities that prefer to have heavy traffic go around them, rather than through their main streets. In Michigan some of these are Detroit, Pontiac, Flint, Saginaw, Bay City, Lansing, Ann Arbor and many smaller communities.

A study of a parallel case that convinced Hollyites was that of Howell, where heavy M59 traffic was taken out of the business section by a cutoff directly to Grand River road.

A recent survey among Howell merchants, including gas stations on the old route, shows that it makes no difference in their business.

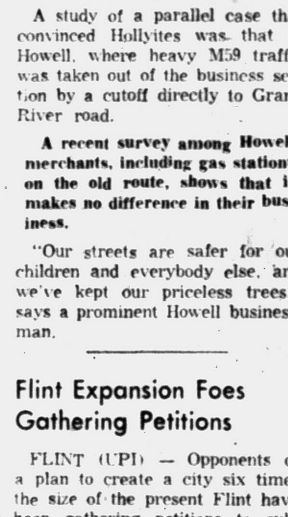
"Our streets are safer for our children and everybody else, and we've kept our priceless trees," says a prominent Howell businessman.

Flint Expansion Foes Gathering Petitions

FLINT (UPI) — Opponents of a plan to create a city six times the size of the present Flint have been gathering petitions to submit to the County Board of Supervisors backing their stand.

Joseph A. Parisi, an official of the Michigan Townships Assn., says he would like to see a campaign fund raised to help in the fight. Suburban communities and townships have been leading the attack on the plan, which would eliminate their governments.

The Board of Supervisors July 8 will study petitions calling for an election on setting up the "new Flint."



CAROLE JEAN HUNGERFORD

Mr. and Mrs. Amede P. Hungerford of Afton have announced the engagement of their daughter Carole Jean, to Harold E. Blum, son of Mr. and Mrs. Julian Blum of Leonard. The bride-elect and her fiance are attending Central Michigan College in Mt. Pleasant. The wedding date hasn't been set.

Warns Pickets Not to Interfere

Court Issues Orders to Enable Construction in Waterford Township

Pickets hired by the Builders Assn. of Metropolitan Detroit today were under a court order not to interfere with construction at a home project in Waterford Township.

The temporary injunction, granted yesterday by Wayne County Circuit Judge Carl M. Weideman, also ordered the pickets not to block operations of Detroit and Dearborn building firms, which recently quit the association.

The Tel-Huron Corp., a subsidiary of the Federal Homes Inc. of Detroit, which is building 60 homes in the Showboat Heights Subdivision off Cass Lake road north of M59, was the third firm which was granted the injunction. It has never been a member of the association.

The 30-day-old strike of carpenters was in the background of the picketing. Projects of the association have been halted by the walkout.

The attorney for the association Irvin Yackness, testified before Judge Weideman yesterday that the men picketed the three projects "because some of the members desired to express their views publicly."

No trial date has been scheduled for the suit brought by the firms.

Hannah Suggests Bagwell Successor

EAST LANSING (UPI)—A successor has been recommended for the Michigan State University post vacated by Prof. Paul D. Bagwell to make the Republican race for governor.

John A. Hannah, university president, said yesterday his choice is Prof. Edward B. Blackman, 41, presently serving as assistant to the dean of the MSU basic college.

It was understood when Bagwell gave up his $17,000 a year post that he would not return to it should his political fortunes take an adverse turn.

Blackman is a native of Boston and a Harvard University graduate. He came to MSU in 1949, with an initial appointment as assistant professor of effective living. He was made a full professor last year.

From 1944-46, Blackman was a radio announcer on two Boston stations and a news analyst. He later held teaching positions at Suffolk University in Boston and Babson Institute at Wellesley, Mass.

He was given the Basic College Distinguished Teacher Award in 1956.

Hannah's recommendation will be considered Friday at the regular monthly meeting of the State Board of Agriculture, MSU governing body.

Legislative Cutbacks to Slow Licensing

LANSING (UPI)—Michigan motorists can expect some delays in getting their drivers' licenses and titles cleared through the secretary of state's office, Gov. G. Gennen Williams was told yesterday.

Billie S. Farnum, deputy secretary of state, said elimination of about 50 positions in the department will mean there will be fewer clerks to handle paperwork.

He also said the department will not be able to mail out applications for auto license plates in advance of the time the plates go on sale.

Farnum was one of several officials reporting to Williams during another in a series of meetings being held to determine effects of legislative budget cuts.

About 450 positions will be eliminated from the state payroll during the next fiscal year, according to reports made to Williams so far. Most of the cuts will be in mental health.

Illegitimate Births Hit All-Time High in State

LANSING (UPI) — There were 6,790 babies born to unmarried mothers in Michigan last year, an all-time high in illegitimate births, the state health department said today.

"This established a record rate of 326 illegitimates for every 10,000 live births," the department said.

Dr. Goldie B. Cornelluson, state maternal and child health director, said that premature deaths occur twice as frequently in illegitimate as in legitimate births.

CAROL JEAN BURT

Mr. and Mrs. Howard T. Burt of Mill street, Ortonville, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Carol Jean, to Duane Porter, son of the late Mrs. Jennie M. Clark of Ortonville. The bride-elect and her fiance attend Michigan State University. No wedding date has been set.

Table Toppers Rescind Request

Bow to Group Opposing Plan to Open Taverns at Noon on Sundays

Challenged by a church drive to end Sunday sale of beer and wine here altogether, the Oakland County Table Toppers have withdrawn a request for permission to open Pontiac taverns two hours earlier Sundays.

Leo Paquette, executive secretary of the Table Toppers, told City Commissioners last night that the request "seemingly has created a situation which has become quite controversial."

He said his group didn't want "to disturb harmonious relations which have existed between our members and the city for years."

The Table Toppers, who represent about 55 Pontiac taverns, wanted to change a local ordinance which keeps them from opening until 2 p.m. Sunday, while private clubs, operating under state law, can open at noon. They said the local law "discriminates" against them.

Their move was met last week by a counter-drive by the Pontiac Pastors Assn. Pastors strongly urged adoption of a resolution introduced by City Commissioner Floyd P. Miles to end sale of beer and wine on Sunday completely.

After a heated session, further debate was postponed until next Tuesday, when it is scheduled to come up again despite Table Toppers' withdrawal of their request.

Common Diseases Increasing in Area

The number of mumps, measles, and chicken pox cases increased in the county and decreased in the city last week compared to the previous week, according to Dr. John D. Monroe, health director.

Wants to Slap Death 'Dealers'

Wayne Medical Official Stirred by Actions of Morgue Authorities

DETROIT (UPI)—Wayne County medical examiner Dr. Edward S. Zawadzki today planned to confer with prosecutor Samuel Olsen on possible legal action against subordinates in his office.

Zawadzki said he tried to fire Chief Clerk George I. Adams and Stanley J. Mirus, administrative assistant in the morgue, but was reversed by the County Civil Service Commission.

He charged Mirus had been "disloyal in many ways" and that his job wasn't necessary anyway. Zawadzki said the commission refused to abolish Mirus' job because Mirus, who has worked at the morgue for 25 years, was eligible for retirement in 14 months.

He said Adams admitted in hearings he referred relatives of dead persons brought to the morgue to favored funeral directors or lawyers and received gifts from the professional people in return. But the Civil Service Commission exonerated Adams because actions such as his were long standing practice at the morgue.

Zawadzki, who became medical examiner three years ago when the old position of county coroner was abolished, said he had tried to clean up irregular practices but that employes of long standing were blocking his efforts.

Curtice Rejects Tax Bill Offer

GM President Refuses to Sponsor Repeal of Car Excise Levy

DETROIT (UPI)—Harlow H. Curtice, president of General Motors Corp., today rejected an offer by Sen. Paul Douglas (D-Ill) to sponsor repeal of the 10 per cent excise tax on passenger cars if auto makers would reduce prices 6 per cent.

Curtice said he believed the question of a cut in the excise tax and a reduction of car prices are unrelated problems.

He said in a letter to Douglas, "If the excise tax can be justified in principle and in amount it should remain in effect; if not, it should be repealed regardless of car prices."

Curtice added, "As to current car prices they reflect competition which is intense and ever-present . . . Prices cannot be subject to sudden and arbitrary increase and decreases other than those that control economics in our free enterprise system. This is true whether the price changes would be accomplished through government regulations, government bargaining or any other means of agreement."

Henry Ford II, president of Ford Motor Co., sent a similar letter to Douglas over last weekend.

Clarkston Student Hurt in School Driveway

A Clarkston High School student was injured Tuesday when he ran into the side of a moving car on the school's driveway, according to Pontiac State Police.

Jay Campbell, 16, of 8478 W. Ellis Rd., Davisburg, was reported in satisfactory condition today at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital after suffering cuts and bruises and a possible concussion.

Police said the youth apparently ran into the side of an auto being driven by a teacher at the school, Joan Humphrey, 23, of 59 S. Main St., Clarkston.

Moves to Curb Rubber Checks

Oakland Law Group Decides to Act After Hearing Report

The Oakland County Law Enforcement Assn. decided yesterday to begin action to curb the passing of bad checks after hearing a report from Anthony F. Stiel, Chief Inspector for the Oakland County Prosecutors Office.

Stiel told the police chiefs and department heads assembled at the Oakland County Jail that bad check passers bilked county merchants of $39,322 last year.

A report shows that 984 worthless checks totaling some $70,000 were received in the Pontiac and Royal Oak offices. Of these, $30,770.71 were issued with no intent to defraud.

The association has made plans to offer a program to any merchants' organizations, civic and fraternal clubs in an effort to cut down the number of bad checks passed in the county.

The program will consist of a movie and lecture by various law enforcement officials lasting about an hour, it was announced. The entire project will be of an educational nature, giving merchants and businessmen the opportunity to learn how to spot bad checks as they are issued.

According to an association spokesman, the first of these programs will be presented to the Royal Oak Kiwanis Club at their regular meeting next week.

GMC Wants to Close 2 Streets With Fence

Pontiac will vacate two small streets south of the GMC Truck & Coach plant, if all goes well at a public hearing July 15.

City Commissioners last night accepted a Planning Commission recommendation that all of Duke street and most of York street be vacated north of W. South boulevard.

General Motors Corp. said it wants to fence the property in, with the exception of a privately-owned home and lot near the corner of York and South boulevard. The corporation owns the rest of the property.

The hearing will take up any objections to the Commission's intention to give the steets to GM.

Two other hearings were scheduled last night for next Tuesday.

One is on intention to install 17 sewer stubs along the Perry street widening and repaving project. The price for each stub was set at $176, or a total cost to affected property owners of $3,006. The city will pay $300 to complete the financing.

The other hearing will be on intention to raise funds to help pay for the $45,000 repaving project on Telegraph road (M 58) from W. Huron street to James K. boulevard later this summer by the State Highway Department.

The city is being asked to contribute $12,650 of the total cost, including $6,655 in special assessments and $5,994 from general road funds.

No objections were raised during four other hearings last night.

Approved were the city's intention to construct curbs and gutters on S. Jessie street, Prospect to Wilson; and to gravel and grade Monticello avenue, Orlando to Inglewood, and Tallahasee avenue, Inglewood to Sarasota.

An assessment roll for a water main on the north side of Featherstone road from Kenilworth avenue about 300 feet west was also approved.

Plans were ordered prepared for a sidewalk on the east side of Stirling avenue, Madison to Baltimore. Property owners petitioned for it.

In connection with a new sidewalk on Cherry court east of Hill street, Commissioners decided to let St. John's Lutheran Church install its own new sidewalk along the Cherry court side of its property.

Passenger Train Kills Woman

Lapeer Deputies Say Columbiaville Victim Was Hard of Hearing

LAPEER — An elderly Columbiaville woman was killed instantly yesterday afternoon when struck by a New York Central passenger train near her home.

Mrs. Ann Tankard, 80, of 4635 Water St., walked in front of New York Central's Detroit-bound Beeliner, a one-coach diesel-driven train from Bay City, at the Water street crossing in Columbiaville.

She was hard of hearing, Lapeer County sheriff's deputies said.

The flasher signal at the crossing was working and the train had blown its whistle, police said. The train stopped a short distance after striking the woman.

Mrs. Tankard had made her home with her son George. Also surviving is another son, William, of Detroit.

Adams Charges Left Hanging

By LEWIS GULICK

WASHINGTON (AP)—House investigators left hanging today what they hope to show by testimony that a Boston industrialist paid nearly $2,000 of hotel bills for White House aide Sherman Adams in four years.

They produced that much information yesterday, then put off until next week further efforts to gain access to the records of Bernard Goldfine, the businessman whose actions are under scrutiny.

Adams himself could not be reached for comment. The White House said he was not in Washington.

Still undetermined in the public record was:

1. Whether Goldfine got favored federal treatment through close personal friendship with Adams, as alleged; or

2. Whether Adams merely enjoyed Goldfine's hospitality as an old friend without offering any special treatment for Goldfine's troubled business enterprises. That is the picture presented by Roger Robb, a Goldfine attorney.

Rep. Oren Harris (D-Ark), chairman of the subcommittee checking whether federal regulatory agencies were independent as the law intends, gave the Goldfine interests until next Tuesday to produce records on a broad range of transactions. He threatened a contempt of Congress citation against Goldfine's bookkeeper Mildred Paperman if she doesn't produce them by then.

Robb served notice equally firmly that Goldfine will fight a broad subcommittee subpoena demanding records back to 1925 and including any payments Goldfine may have made to state as well as federal officials since 1950.

Adams' frequent stays at the Sheraton Plaza Hotel in Boston were reported by a subcommittee investigator, Francis X. McLaughlin, in a move to counter Robb's contention that the congressmen were after far more data than was justified by their investigating mission.

Hotel records listed Adams and his wife as guests in suites costing from $37 to $65 a day. The hotel had a ledger notation to charge Adams' bill to Goldfine. Harris said this showed a need for Goldfine's records. The subcommittee, it was said, has been told by Federal Trade Commission employes and by John Fox, publisher of the now defunct Boston Post, that Goldfine got favored treatment from the FTC and the Securities and Exchange Commission.

Outside the hearing room, Robb told newsmen the subcommittee had smeared Adams in a tactic to force Goldfine to hand over his records. He said that both the SEC and the FTC had acted against Goldfine companies.

The Goldfine attorney said that instead of having Adams stay at Goldfine's home when he came through Boston, Goldfine put Adams up at the hotel. The lawyer said Adams himself was doubtless under the impression that the hotel rooms were kept by Goldfine interests anyway.

Navy Shifting to N-Power With Cancellation of Ships

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Navy's cancellation of nine conventional ship construction projects foreshadows a full-scale shift to nuclear-powered undersea and surface vessels.

The cancellations will save nearly half a billion dollars, but the money will be poured back into building huge submarines to carry the 1,500-mile-range Polaris missile and into nuclear-powered cruisers and aircraft carriers.

The projects eliminated, all of which would have utilized conventional power, included four guided missile frigates that would have cost 50 million dollars each and two guided missile cruiser conversions slated to cost more than $100 million each.

Contracts for two 13 million dollar destroyer escorts also were canceled, as was a plan to convert the aircraft carrier Block Island into an amphibious assault ship.

Navy Secretary Thomas S. Gates Jr. said that the cancellations were "necessary to compensate for advances in wage and material costs and increases in previous cost estimates of ship projects of new design incorporating nuclear power."

The special emphasis at present is on big, atom-driven subs, probably displacing about 6,000 tons, that can carry a dozen or more of the long-range Polaris missiles from underwater hiding places.

One of these "fleet ballistic submarines," expected to be completed in 1960, is now under construction at Groton, Conn., and is expected to cost more than 110 million dollars. Two more have been authorized.

The Navy's nuclear-powered aircraft carrier Enterprise, under construction at Newport News, Va., is now expected to cost 314 million, compared with 212 million for conventionally-powered super carriers.

The only other Navy nuclear-powered surface ship under construction is the cruiser Long Beach, being built at Quincy, Mass., at a cost of $87,500,000.

But there were 12 nuclear subs under construction, in addition to six at sea, and their price tags range from 44 million dollars each to 110 million.

United States Fires Another N-Test Shot

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The United States has fired another nuclear test shot in its spring Pacific series.

The test — fifth announced by the Atomic Energy Commission (AEC) for the "Hardtack Series" — was set off at 12:30 p.m. EST yesterday at Bikini atoll in the Eniwetok atoll proving grounds.

The announcement came as President Eisenhower, in a new note to Russia, proposed starting technical talks in Geneva about July 1 on ways to police any future test ban.

The last U. S. test before yesterday was on May 26. Other tests were detonated May 11 and 12 and April 28.

As usual, the announcement did not report the size of the weapon or say anything about the success of the detonation. AEC Chairman Lewis L. Strauss has said only tests of major significance would be announced.

Deposed Tighe Bows Gracefully

AP Wirephoto

HEADS HOME — Jack Tighe, fired as manager of the Detroit Tigers made a quick departure from Boston last night and headed for his home at Spring Lake, Mich. He talked with general manager Jonh McHale Tuesday morning and learned he was being replaced by Bill Norman.

Today the deposed manager of the Detroit Tigers is resting comfortably, thank you, at his home in Spring Lake, Mich., with his wife Beverly and their two sons. Caught up in baseball's won-or-get-out madness, Jack Tighe is a victim of circumstances.

His team didn't win. He got the axe as many others before him got it—just as many others will get it. Tighe knew it was coming. It was merely a question of the time and place.

The jaunty, cigar-chewing little fellow took his lumps standing up and he took them gracefully. As he himself put it, he probably will not realize the full effect of things for a couple of days.

Tuesday morning, June 10, 1958, marked the end of Tighe's first—and perhaps only—fling as a big league baseball manager. The Detroit Tigers hired him as the "fiery and aggressive" successor to easy-going Stanley R. (Bucky) Harris. In Tighe's first season in 1957 the Tigers finished fourth — the first time the club had made the American League's first division since Red Rolfe's 1950 crew.

Yesterday the club was last, 12½ games behind the New York Yankees. General manager John McHale, who made the decision to fire Tighe, said he thought the club should be better off. Several weeks ago McHale said publicly he believes the Tigers have more talent than any other club in the league — with the possible exception of the Yankees.

Yesterday, McHale said "Jack gave it everything he had—it just didn't work out."

Tighe felt the same way. "I did the best I could and I worked hard at it," he said upon his arrival in Detroit in late afternoon. "No, I wouldn't change anything if I had it all to do over again. I managed the way I've always managed. It just wasn't enough."

Tighe had tried almost everything with the Tigers. He threatened fines for curfew violations and lack of hustle. He criticized some of the players for spiritless play. Others he tried to coddle into better performances.

A number of disgruntled fans, angered at the continued lack of success and the absence of a pennant since 1945, complained about the way Tighe handled the club. Not everything he did was popular and he said he expected some unpopularity. Recently during a nine-game losing streak the fans wrote more and more letters and there was a "get rid of Tighe by the Fourth of July" campaign.

At the height of the excitement, president Harvey Hansen gave Tighe a vote of confidence. He said that no Major League manager had been beset by more problems than the Tigers' sophomore skipper. Hansen pointed to injuries and bad breaks and remarked that Tighe could neither hit for the hitters nor pitch for the pitchers.

McHale decided Sunday that it was time for a change. Officers of the club went along with McHale's suggestions. The 36-year-old general manager moved quickly, met with Bill Norman at Charleston and arranged for him to take over the Tigers, then flew into Boston in the small hours of Tuesday morning.

A few hours later, the telephone in Tighe's room rang. The manager was still asleep. It was nearly 10 a.m. but it had been a little tough getting to sleep the night before after the club's third straight loss and its fifth in seven games.

"When I answered the phone and it was John on the other end of the line," Tighe said, "I thought 'bingo, this is it.' I told him I'd meet him downstairs for breakfast but he said he'd come up to my room. I knew the fuse was lit."

Moments later Tighe said McHale told him 'I've got a tough job to do."

"I told him it wasn't a tough job at all, and to go ahead and do it," said the ex-manager. "I knew what was coming. About that time I was wondering who the next manager was going to be."

Tighe was "surprised" when McHale told him the new manager is Bill Norman. "I thought they'd get a big name guy like Eddie Stanky, Lou Boudreau or someone like that," he said.

Norman to 'Look-See' for Week

Norman Is Not Familiar Name With Tiger Fans

DETROIT (AP) — Who is Bill Norman?

That question kept popping up today as the 47-year-old Norman took over the Detroit Tigers and the name struck no familiar note among Detroit fans.

Bill Norman is a man with a varied baseball background. He is a happy-go-lucky sort of fellow — most of the time — but he can be tough. He is a willing conversationalist, he is inclined to be frank and he has a ready laugh.

Other than that, no one knows too much about the man who has the job of lifting the Tigers out of the American League doldrums. The big Missourian with the furrowed brow takes over a club that once again was supposed to give the New York Yankees a run for their money.

Up to now, the Yankees have done the running — away from the other seven teams. That is why Jack Tighe lost his job, just one season and two months after he took control.

When the news blared out Tuesday morning that Tighe had been fired, everyone wanted to know "who's the new manager?" When the answer came "Bill Norman" — people still wanted to know — "Well, who is he?"

Norman broke into organized baseball in 1929 at Laurel, Miss., in the cotton states league. He has made all the stops.

A good Minor League hitter and an adequate outfielder, Norman never was good enough for the majors. There is a striking similarity between Bill Norman and the man he succeeds. Jack Tighe never was good enough as a catcher or a hitter to make the big time. He skipped around the Minor Leagues, and like Norman later became a playing manager. And when he was named manager of the Tigers, succeeding Bucky Harris after the 1956 season, people asked "who is Jack Tighe?"

Tiger front office replied that Tighe was a "fiery and aggressive" guy who would get the most out of the players.

The front office became convinced recently that Tighe was not doing that. General manager John McHale said he thought "our club has greater potential than it has shown . . . "

Norman kicked around from the East Coast to the West Coast as a player, finally calling it quits as a player after the 1946 season. He managed at Toronto, Wilkes-Barre, Little Rock, Terre Haute, Augusta and Charleston. He has been a scout and a coach.

BEATS 'EM ALL—Last night's win for Bob Friend of the Pirates over the San Francisco Giants, 5-4, was a big one for him. He has now beaten every team in the National League in getting his 9th victory.

No Immediate Plans for New Tiger Manager

All Present Coaches Retained by Former Charleston Pilot

BOSTON (AP) — Bill Norman, promoted to a Major League manager's berth in his 29th year in organized baseball, plans to run the Detroit Tigers on a "look-see basis" for a week or 10 days.

Norman said he didn't have any immediate plans after being summoned from Detroit's Charleston farm in the American Assn. yesterday to replace Jack Tighe in the Majors' first managerial shakeup this year.

"I live in hopes and surprises," Norman said. "We have good hands. Theres' a job to be done and let's see what happens.

Norman's debut as field boss of the last place Tigers was delayed when rain postponed last night's scheduled game with the Boston Red Sox. A day-night doubleheader was scheduled for today.

"We wanted a man with experience as a manager — a man who knows how to run a baseball club," McHale said in explaining the choice of his new pilot. "Norman has scouted the Major Leagues for us, he has scouted the Winter Leagues and he knows the Tigers and other American League clubs."

Tighe, who lasted less than two seasons as Detroit manager but probably will remain with the organization in another capacity, said that he couldn't blame the Tigers and a change probably was in order.

"Apparently my method of managing isn't the kind the club needs," he said. "I guess I was prone to overlook more things than I should have."

All the coaches — Billy Hitchcock, Tommy Henrich, Willis Hudlin and Don Lund — were retained.

Norman, who will be 48 next month, played 18 seasons of pro ball, mostly as a minor league outfielder, after signing his first contract in 1929. He spent parts of the 1931 and '32 seasons with the Chicago White Sox but was hampered by an injured arm.

After managing in the Cleveland farm system, he joined the old St. Louis Browns as a coach for the 1952-53 campaigns. While with the Browns, he was credited with helping Roy Sievers shift from the outfield to first base because of an army injury.

Norman then moved to the Detroit organization, serving in various capacities and managing farm clubs at Little Rock, Terre Haute, Augusta and Charleston. The Charleston club is in second place this year after a seventh place finish in 1957.

Minoso's Bat Catapults Indians Into 4th Place

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

You can tick off a number of reasons to explain why the Chicago White Sox, who finished second last season, are barely free of the American League cellar at the moment. But the No. 1 answer is the guy playing left field for Cleveland.

Without Minnie Minoso, who led Chicago with 103 runs batted in last season, the White Sox have been sick with the stick with men on base. They've left 399 runners stranded for an average of eight a game, while scoring only 187. Sherm Lollar is the top RBI man with 28.

A year ago, when they led the league by four games, the White Sox had scored 209, with 348 left on base, and Minoso batting in 36.

Minoso hasn't been a ball of fire exactly since going to Cleveland in a winter deal that sent Early Wynn and Al Smith to the White Sox, but he's leading the club with 29 RBI.

He added a pair last night, one with his eighth homer, as Cleveland beat Baltimore 10-2 and moved into fourth place. The White Sox left 10 on base in a twi-night doubleheader split at Washington, winning 5-4 before a 5-2 defeat, that left them just a half-game out of last place.

The Kansas City at New York and Detroit at Boston games were postponed because of rain, leaving Bill Norman's managerial debut as a successor to Jack Tighe of the Tigers for today's afternoon-night twinbill.

Cleveland rookie Gary Bell had a two-hit shutout for five innings and gave up only three hits in a six-inning job for his first major league victory. The big right-hander walked three, fanned five with Hoyt Wilhelm mopping up. The Indians had 14 hits off loser Connie Johnson (2-5) and three relievers, and scored five in the seventh for a romp.

Julio Becquer's pinch single drove in one, winner Hal Griggs (3-2) brought in another on a sacrifice fly, and Herbie Plews counted two with a double. Jim Landis and Earl Battey homered for the Sox runs.

Doctoring Your Golf

By DR. CARY MIDDLECOFF

PATIENTS COMPLAINT: Sloppy Iron Play.
DIAGNOSIS: Underclubbing and Overswinging.

Treatment: The whole basis of iron club selection for full shots should be whether the club in question is one with which you can reach the objective COMFORTABLY and EFFICIENTLY. Too many golfers use the basis of whether they can POSSIBLY reach the green with a particular club.

Failure to take enough club for a shot is bad enough by itself. But the worst part of it is that it usually brings on another and more damaging fault—overswinging. What happens is that the player takes an iron with which he THINKS he MIGHT get home. But he still has a lingering doubt.

That nagging doubt causes him to try to put something extra into the swing. The frequent result is that he hits the ball off center and loses a lot more distance in the process.

Thus we find that, with the wrong club and the right swing, the ball would wind up only slightly short of the green. But with the wrong club, AND the wrong swing, the result is impossible.

Don't overdo it, but do take plenty of club for the shot.

Snead and Demaret Unable to Win USGA Classic

Open Title Eludes 2 Greats

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — There are two great golfers in the 162-man field starting the 58th U.S. Open golf championship at Southern Hills tomorrow who never have put their names in the record books by winning the big one. They are Sam Snead and Jimmy Demaret — unquestionably two of the best in this golfing generation.

This failure doesn't mean a thing to Demaret, he says, and Snead is the man he picks to illustrate his point.

"Snead has won 100 tournaments and they're all tough," Jimmy said after shooting nine practice holes under a sweltering prairie sun. "They talk about his having a mental block about the Open. It doesn't mean a thing. They're all tough.

"I've never won the Texas Open either, and I've played in it oftener than the National. I won the Masters three times but that only means I was hot for one week three times."

Regardless of Jimmy's opinion, Snead and Demaret rate as two of the players to beat when the 72-hole grind starts tomorrow over the lengthy 6,907-yard Southern Hills course.

Demaret shrugs off the fact he set an Open record of 278 at Riviera in 1948 only to have Ben Hogan come in with a 276 which still stands as an all-time record. Last year Jimmy shot 283 at Inverness, then Dick Mayer and Cary Middlecoff came in one stroke ahead. Mayer won the title playoff.

"I'd still take that score and let any of the Open champs of the last few years shoot at it," Jimmy said. "Look at some of the fellows who have won—Mayer, Jack Fleck, Ed Furgol. Could you say they're greater golfers than Snead or Hogan? It's the overall record that counts, not just one tournament."

Snead might not agree with this opinion. He'd like very much to add the elusive Open title to his 100 other victories and get his name permanently in the record books. And Hogan doesn't try to play down his desire to become the first man to ever win the Open five times.

These three golfers, all over 45 years old, are the targets, the younger golfers will be aiming at when the 72-hole championship starts tomorrow. The heat and the 36-hole final may catch up with all of them Saturday.

Temperatures went rocketing into the high 90's yesterday and the forecast was for continued clear, hot weather through the tournament.

Giants Keep Lead as Braves Lose Again

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

That National League pennant race has become a mystery of reluctant leaders.

San Francisco still holds the lead, although that 5-4 defeat by Pittsburgh last night was the Giants' 10th in 14 games. Milwaukee, second by a half game and .003 percentage points, stayed put, blowing a 5-1 lead in a 9-6 defeat by the persistent Chicago Cubs.

The Braves now have lost five straight—for the first time since September, 1956.

Philadelphia kept Los Angeles in the cellar with a 3-2 victory in the only other game played. Rain idled Cincinnati and St. Louis, who with the Cubs are just itching to take a crack at first place.

Right-hander Bob Friend became the first NL pitcher to win nine this season, getting home run help from R. C. Stevens, Bob Skinner and Frank Thomas while handing the Giants their third consecutive defeat with an eight-hitter. Friend, who has lost four, also is the first to beat every team in the league. He walked none, struck out eight.

The Pirates had seven hits. They collected only two over the last six innings, one was Thomas' clinching 17th homer—his 11th in 11 California games—in the sixth off reliever Al Worthington.

Ray Monzant was the loser (4-5), giving up two-run homers by Stevens and Skinner in three innings. Rookie Orlando Cepeda's 14th homer counted two runs for the Giants. Willie Mays was 1-for-4, getting an infield single ahead of Cepeda's shot in the fourth for his first hit in 14 trips.

The Cubs, tied with St. Louis for fourth, 3½ games behind, hammered southpaw Warren Spahn (8-2) for five home runs, one shy of the major league record off one pitcher. Ernie Banks, the NL RBI (52) and homer leader, hit his 18th with two on, Bobby Thomson smacked a pair and Dale Long and Cal Neeman each hit one, with Neeman's the clincher in the sixth. Hank Aaron belted his 10th for the Braves. Glen Hobbie won his fourth in relief of Dick Drott.

The Phillies ended the Dodgers' winning string at three, breaking a 1-1 tie with a fifth-inning pair that handed winless Don Newcombe his fifth defeat. An error, Richie Ashburn's triple and a single by Solly Hemus got the job down as rookie Ray Semproch won his sixth.

Charlie Neal drove in both Dodger runs, one with his 10th homer.

It was the first complete game in 10 starts since August 21 for Newk, who has lost six in a row since beating Philadelphia September 4. He was tagged for 11 hits, walked one and fanned four.

The Cardinals were leading third place Cincinnati 2-0 in the third at St. Louis when rain and tornado warnings closed shop.

Jewelers Fight Off Union, 3-2

Shaw's reviving Jewelers built up a 3-0 cushion after three innings and held on for a 3-2 decision over CIO Local 594 Tuesday in a Class A City League baseball game at Wisner Field.

Jerry Taylor hurled the distance for the Jewelers and scattered four Union safeties, one a two-run homer by Ron Woodhull in the 4th inning when the CIO made its first break into the scoring column.

Jim Wagner of the CIO also pitched the route and settled down for a sterling performance after getting off to a shaky start. Wagner gave up five hits while taking the loss.

Taylor stuck to his guns and made the lead stand up against the CIO's efforts to rally in the late stages. Taylor struck out seven batters and did not walk a man. Wagner walked two and fanned four.

Senior Golfers Now in Finals

PORT HURON (AP) — Weather threatened today as some 190 golfers moved into the final 18 holes of the Michigan Seniors golf tournament at Black River Country Club. But it wasn't bothering Dr. Donald W. Jaffar of Detroit Golf Club.

Dr. Jaffar, playing in Class F (for golfers aged 50-54), took over first place in both categories in his class during yesterday's semi-finals. He led the low gross score with 73 and was first with a low net of 69.

Other leading scorers in yesterday's semi-finals:

CLASS A (golfers 75 and over): C. C. Nevers of Grand Rapids, 46 (only category to play nine holes)

CLASS E (ages 55-59): G. L. Davies, Jackson, and Arthur Wittig, Plum Hollow, Detroit, tied low gross 77; Leon Smead, Oakland Hills, and Lou J. Steverak, St. Clair, tied low net 70.

Mrs. LeClair Tops in WDGA Tourney

Mrs. Keith (Susie) LeClair shot a three-over-par 81 Tuesday at Grosse Ile Golf Club to win the weekly Women's District Golf Association tournament. It was the widest victory margin of the season in WDGA competition.

Mrs. LeClair finished four strokes ahead of her nearest rivals after firing a 40 on the front nine. Mrs. Victor Ryden and Helen Grinnell tied for 2nd with 85.

Six other golfers managed to break 90 in the field of 63 players—Mrs. Don Weiss and Mrs. W. L. Mosher, 86; Mrs. S. E. Gawne and Mrs. F. L. Thompson, 88, and Mrs. John Hume and Mrs. J. G. Israel, 89.

Factory 9 Blanks Foundry

Bill Campbell outpitched Pete Manning in a dazzling mound war Tuesday night at Beaudette Park as Franklin Products downed Dostal Foundry, 2-0, in the feature attraction of a four-game City softball League program.

Campbell and Manning hurled scoreless ball for six innings, then Franklin broke the ice with two runs in the top of the 7th on two walks and a pair of singles and Campbell preserved the advantage. Campbell allowed four hits and Manning six.

Alvah Webster hurled a five-hitter to lead the Sports Shop to a 7-1 victory over Borden's. The winnrs made only three safeties off Ken Fall, but capitalized on three errors and seven bases on balls.

Spence Rambler came from behind for a 6-3 conquest of the Pontiac Post Office at North Side. Rambler scored twice in the 4th stanza to knot the count at 3-3, then clinched it with three more in the 6th.

O'Neil Realty pounded out 17 hits, including a two-run homer by Archie Richardson in the 2nd inning, for a 16-6 triumph over the Moose.

Kirken's Homer Gains 4-3 Win

Chuck Kirken's booming home run with one man out in the bottom of the 10th inning brought Spencer Floor Covering a dramatic 4-3 victory over Hubert Walls Service in a Waterford National League softball game last night at Drayton Plains.

Kirken's blast, his 2nd homer of the season, cleared the left-centerfield fence and broke up a sparkling mound duel between Spencer's Dick Shell and Glenn Sheffield of Walls. The win preserved Spencer's position atop the standings.

Walls, facing a 3-2 deficit entering the top of the 7th, forced the game into extra innings after two men were down. Merlin Welch tripled to score Del Phillips, who had singled, with the tying run.

Also in National loop play, Jim Walls Service defeated Drayton Drug B 8-4 despite being outhit, 10 to 9. Daryl Donaldson and Jim Duvall made two hits for the winners while John Studt and Terry Kaines did likewise for Drayton. Walls scored three runs in the 1st inning and coasted the rest of the way.

One Tiger Saves $$$$

BOSTON (AP) — Jack Tighe's dismissal as Detroit Tiger manager is saving an unidentified Tiger the cost of a fine.

Tighe, in a clubhouse squad lecture after Monday night's 9-4 loss to the Boston Red Sox, fined a player for a slipup on the field.

However, Tighe did not report this to the front office and the fine is not expected to stick.

Teeing Off

By BILL CORNWELL

It would seem safe to say that Slammin' Sam Snead will be the sentimental favorite to win the U.S. Open golf championship this weekend at Southern Hills Country Club in Tulsa, Okla.

Winning the National Open has been the Slammer's aim ever since he first entered the event in 1937. His constant failure to achieve that goal has become a source of sheer torment.

Is it a mental hazard that blocks Sam? Or is it just bad luck and the breaks of the game? Everyone has his opinion on the subject and the subject automatically pops up when the Open rolls around.

The Slammer himself is always philosophical about his failures and he never alibis. "I don't let it worry me none," Sam insists, "it's just the way things come out."

Snead's inability to crack the Open jinx is one of the great golf stories of our time. An even greater story is the sensational way in which he has let the title slip through his fingers.

Considered the best natural player of his time, the drawling West Virginian has won more tournaments and more money than any golfer in history. Yet, four runner-up finishes have been the best that Snead could do in America's most famous tournament.

SNEAD

Sam's blowups in the USGA tourney are classics in golfing annals. Usually a flawless hitter from tee to green, the sweet-swinging hillbilly has uncorked some strange and costly shots when the month of June arrived and he found himself playing in the Open.

His first big blowup came in 1939 at Philadelphia's Spring Mill course. Needing only a par five to win and a six to tie coming up to the final hole, Sam rocketed to an eight to drop out of the picture.

Then there was the famous "measuring" incident in 1947 at St. Louis Country Club. Snead and Lew Worsham had putts of similar length — about two feet — on the 18th green.

Sam, assuming that he was away, stepped up to putt. Just as he was ready to hit, Worsham asked for a measurement. The maneuver upset Sam, he missed the putt and Worsham won the tourney.

The Slammer, now 46 years old, has captured 100 major titles during his illustrious career — every "big name" crown except the Open, which has eluded his grasp time after time.

Whether or not Snead can snap the Open hex and crash through with a victory won't be known until late Saturday or maybe Sunday. He's not getting any younger and this might be his last chance.

Sam won't lack well-wishers, though. When he walks to the first tee Thursday, there will be untold numbers of people hoping that he can turn his annual nightmare into a pleasant dream.

Irish in Twin-Bills

New Track Marks 'Dime a Dozen' for Chiefs

Records were a dime a dozen during the past spring for the talented Pontiac Chiefs who won their 4th straight state championship and the school's 2nd Mansfield, Ohio, Relays title in four years.

The setting of a new medley relay mark in the Champion of Champions meet at Kalamazoo Saturday enabled the power-packed Chiefs to finish with the amazing total of 36 new records to their credit.

Such other major events as the state regionals and relay events at Monroe, Eastern and Central Michigan (indoor) and the University of Detroit had marks topped by the charges of coach Dean Wilson.

New school highs and field records for the Wisner, Flint Central and Grosse Pointe fields are also included.

Senior speedster Bob Manning topped all the individuals by having a hand in 19 of the records set. He set 12 by himself, establishing new marks in the 100 and 220 for the school, Wisner Field, the regionals and Saginaw Valley Conference.

He also set a record in the 100 for the Flint Central field and one in the 220 at Grosse Pointe and established new 60-yard highs in the Huron and Central Relays. Bob took part in relay events to help post other new marks.

Distance specialists Roger Coats and Larry Beamer were next in line. Coats set four and helped on two others, while Beamer was involved in five, setting three personally.

The summary of records:

Carries 1-Stroke Lead in Amateur

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Mrs. Edward McAuliffe of Wellesley, Mass., carried a one stroke lead today into the second round of the 54-hole Women's Eastern Amateur golf tourney.

Mrs. McAuliffe shot a 38-37—75, two over women's par, over the 6,067 hard Allegheny Country Club course yesterday to lead Mary Patton Janssen of Farmington, Va., by one stroke. Miss Janssen shot a 39-37—76.

Skeet Stars Here This Weekend

AWARDS GALORE — That's what Birmingham race horse owner William A. "Bill" Brown has to show for his 15 years in racing. He has had 35 champions during that time, two of which earned over $100,000. The busy Detroit auto sales dealer is shown with some of the many awards his horses have won in his trophy room at his farm near Oxford.

Horse Big in the Life of the Browns

It would seem a man with three active teenage sons, a large home in Birmingham and an auto sales business consisting of three branches in Detroit would have plenty to keep him busy. But not William A. "Bill" Brown.

He is too interested in turning out horse racing champions to settle down to a normal life — at least for awhile. And you can hardly blame him the way things are going.

His record now shows 35 champions in 15 years. Two horses now retired to stud brought in over $100,000 each. His prize possessions won titles in three of the four Michigan divisions last season.

That's a sample of the success the Oakland County owner has had since following in the footsteps of his late grandfather, Elijah, and father, M. G. Brown, now inactive. Both had race horses while residents in the Thumb area when Bill was a youngster. Their interest in the sport certainly rubbed off — but good.

Brown now has hopes one of his sons will take his place in the coming years. He says Bud, the youngest at 13, is the only one showing interest thus far. "The other two (Ed, 16 and Bill Jr., 15) are more interested in shooting. Edward set a national record at Reno last year," commented the proud father.

The favorite day of the week for Brown is Sunday when he can spend a full day with his family and be near the horses at his 160-acre farm located near the Metamora Hunt Club just outside of Oxford.

A total of nine horses from the Brown stable are currently active in the racing wars. Royal Melody, which has matched Blackstone and Scotch Valely in breaking two minutes in a race, heads the pack. He is currently competing at tracks in New York State. Melody, Make Haste and Royal Scotchman were Bill's three Michigan champs in 1957.

"We race horses all over the country as well as here at Hazel Park, Northville and Wolverine. I get to the ones in this sector most of the time but see very few out of town," said Brown.

Racing has brought one thrill after another for Brown but he says his biggest occurred at Goshen, N. Y. several years ago. That day Royal Blackstone defeated top all-time national money winner Good Time ruining an unbeaten record. Blackstone finished with a career record of 30 first places in 33 events.

Archers Are Ready for World Meeting

A 26-year-old plumbing contractor from Racine, Wis., and a 34-year-old Pittsburgh housewife will lead the U.S. Archery team to Brussels, Belgium, July 19-23 for the International meet with 20 other nations.

Two archers James Caspers and Carole Meinhart took top honors at a qualifying Archery Tournament held in St. Louis last weekend.

Caspers had a total score of 2253 out of a possible 2880 and Mrs. Meinhart chalked up a total of 2097 points. Caspers is six-time winner of Wisconsin State indoor and outdoor championships.

Mrs. Meinhart is last year's world champ and U. S. champ. Tim Cantwell, 16, of Kirkwood, Mo. was second in men's division with 2170 and Harold Doan of Adrian, Mich. was third with 2114.

Chief Pontiac Open Shoot Is Slated at OCSC

Defending King, Other Gun Experts Compete on Saturday, Sunday

The 8th annual Chief Pontiac Open skeet shoot will be held this Saturday and Sunday at the Oakland County Sportsmen's Club in Waterford.

Eight fields are equipped with automatic traps for the weekend event. A good attendance is anticipated from Michigan and surrounding states since these same fields will be used for the world championship events to be run here from July 25 through Aug. 2.

All-Americans Florence Schmidt of Hazel Park, Eddie Brown of Birmingham, R. V. Thomas of Ohio and Ed Scherer of Wisconsin are among the many gun experts expected to compete.

Another All-American shooter, defending champion Ains Borsum of Baldwin, will also be on the firing line. Borsum was last year's high overall winner.

Two other brilliant shooters figured to enter the competition are Chet Crites and Howard Confer, both from Detroit.

Crites, current world's champion and president of the NSSA, is taking a team to Moscow in August to compete in the International Skeet Shoot. Confer was the 1954 national all-gauge champ.

The star-studded field will shoot for 34 trophies plus added prize money in four gauges. There will also be two and five-men team events shot concurrently.

A total of 160 entries is expected for the two-day outing. All-gauge events will take place on Sunday.

Skeet fields will be open for practice this Friday evening and they are also open each Wednesday night throughout the summer.

June Always Considered as a Good Fishing Month

By JACK PATTERSON

June, by general agreement among the fishing clan, is Michigan's top month for profitable activity on stream, river or lake. Big fish are hungry and cooperative, mosquitoes are lightly armed and the sun hasn't assumed its mid-summer H-bomb ferocity.

Weather is variable enough to suit all types of fishing, ranging from dry, clear, floating-fly weather to muggy, overcast days like Tuesday, when oversize brown trout range the rising waters in the daytime, hoping to find a three-inch white marabou streamer to chomp on.

June brings with it two events that are not directly connected but maybe should be. It brings the liberation of small, blue-jeaned owl-hoots from serious scholastic endeavors among the sand boxes and finger paints and it brings the opening of the bass season.

Thirty years or so ago when we'd get sprung for the summer rom an old fashioned school that taught us how to read, write and manipulate numbers and left social studies to social workers, we'd set right out to catch bass, a project that often wasn't entirely finished when September reappeared.

PATTERSON

What we caught were largemouths, and if the fish were really as big as we thought they were then, we must have broken the world's record several times a summer for many years.

We quickly became satisfied that we were experts on bass fishing and laid down some hard and fast rules on the subject. Our older brother was our usual companion and we agreed on doctrine.

We knew, for example, that only three lakes, Pine, Orchard and Angelus, had bass in them.

We knew, too, that it was useless to fish except between six and nine in the morning. Bass wouldn't take worms but required minnows not less than two inches long, nor more than three, fished from the bank with a cane pole.

What we had done, of course, was to discover one of the regular habits in the daily cycle of largemouths. All three lakes mentioned had sandy bottoms at the fishing spots and a foot or so of water at the breakwater, or in the case of Pine, at the bank. Fish came in early in the morning to feed on minnows in the shallows and were easily taken.

Program Runs June 24-29 at Hunt Club

41st Horse Show Set

The 1958 edition of the Detroit Horse Show, the nation's largest outdoor riding and jumping extravaganza, will be held Tuesday through Sunday, June 24-29, at the Bloomfield Open Hunt Club in Bloomfield Hills.

Outstanding riders and horses from all over the country, including several Olympic hopefuls, are scheduled to compete in the 41st annual show.

Irving Duffy of Bloomfield Hills is once again in charge of the six-day outing, with Stanley M. Humphrey serving as co-chairman.

Clarence L. (Honey) Craven, veteran and colorful ringmaster from Brookline, Mass., will return to the Hunt Club to take command of events in the main arena.

Opening activity on Tuesday, June 24, is actually set apart from the balance of the program. That day is devoted to the Junior Equestrians as the teenage riders conduct their team jumping competition.

Wednesday, June 25, will see the start of the principal portion of the show. Starting times Wednesday through Saturday will be 8:30 a.m., 1 p.m. and 7 p.m. Sunday's show times are 12 noon and 7 p.m.

Numerous other extra features will be offered to help lighten the seriousness of the business at hand — that of gaining possible Olympic recognition in open riding and jumping competition over Olympic-type courses.

Manager of this year's show is Bert McIntyre while G. F. Master is vice-chairman in charge of ring and grounds. Mrs. E. E. Fisher is program secretary.

Sylvan Lake Scene of Inboard Regatta

The Great Lakes International Championship regattas for inboards, 48 through 280 cubic inch, will take place July 4-5-6 at three different sites.

Algonac Racing Association will host the races Friday July 4th. The following day the Swan Boat Club will be the scene of the regatta, and Sunday July 6th the Oakland County Boat Club will hold the regatta at Sylvan Lake.

Statistics Revealed on the Kill of Deer

LANSING (UPI) — Some 77,485 deer were killed by firearm hunters during the regular and special seasons last fall, results of a conservation department survey showed today.

The buck kill of 62,560 compared with 60,940 during the regular season in 1956, and the special season kill of 14,925 was up from the 1956 kill of 12,650.

The increase was recorded despite a 20,000 decrease in license sales from the previous year.

Air Force Plans to 'Shoot for the Moon' in August

WASHINGTON (AP)—The chief of Air Force research and development has announced plans to "shoot for the moon" in August. But a Pentagon's top man in space age affairs quickly denied there has been any final decision.

"No attempt will be made to achieve direct contact with the moon in the projects now assigned," said Roy W. Johnson, director of the defense department's Advanced Research Projects Agency.

He added in a statement that the dates for rocket shots at the moon will be picked by ARPA, and the time depends on when equipment is developed.

Johnson was commenting on remarks made in a Milwaukee news conference by Lt. Gen. S. E. Anderson, head of the Air Force Research and Development Command.

Johnson's office has the over-all direction of missile and space programs.

Anderson said one of the three "lunar probes" assigned to the Air Force will be launched in August, and the others in September and October.

He declined to disclose the size or weight of the payload the Air Force hopes to deliver. It will not be instrumented and will be intended simply to crash on the satellite, he said, giving some indication of its arrival.

Three stage rockets whose main power plants at takeoff will be modified Thor missiles will propel the projectiles over a 278,000 mile course to the moon in two and one-half days, Gen. Anderson said.

The vehicles will be modifications of military missiles, he added.

The Thor is a 1,500 mile range weapon. At least 13 have been test fired and of these at least five have been successful.

Gen. Anderson said that even if the rockets miss the moon, they will become real interesting scientific satellites because their eliptical orbits will carry them far out into space and possibly around the moon and earth in a sort of figure eight.

Gen. Anderson said that the first attempt to fire an Atlas over its full designed range of 6,000 miles also would be made in August. "We have fired the last" of the overweight, heavily instrumented Jupiter C, a series intended for engine tests of the Atlas, he said.

An Atlas missile, or a Thor with appropriate later stages, would be capable of hoisting into orbit a 3,000-pound artificial satellite like the Soviet Sputnik III, Gen. Anderson said.

Given sufficient funds, the United States could be second to nobody in space, he declared, adding: "We are doing about 40 per cent of what we think we should be doing."

Gen. Anderson was in Milwaukee to confer with technicians at the AC spark plug division of General Motors where the gyroscopic guidance system for the military version of the Thor is built.

New Car Sales Soar During May in Flint

FLINT (UPI)—Genesee County new car sales soared in May, it was reported today by the Chamber of Commerce.

The chamber's business committee said sales in May were 455 above the same month in 1957 — up to 2,284. This was an increase of 1,006 over the cars sold in April.

Petoskey Firm Set to Build New Plant

PETOSKEY (UPI) — The Petoskey Development Corp. has announced an agreement has been reached for construction of a 20,000 square foot plant for the McLaughlin Co. of Farmington.

Glenn Bain, president of the non-profit civic group, said total cost of the plant will be $149,000 — including construction, site and architectural and engineering fees.

Low bidder was Barnes Construction Co., Grand Rapids, which agreed to have the plant ready for operation by Aug. 1.

The McLaughlin firm will make fasteners, weld nuts, clinch nuts and clips for the auto industry.

Petoskey Development Corp. will sell five per cent notes to finance part of the costs of the plant and of another it is helping set up for the Oglesby Manufacturing Co.

Dancing Is Sick in U. S. Compared With Russia

By BOB THOMAS

Who says so? Marge and Gower Champion.

Many Americans who have seen the Moiseyev dance company on its current tour have wondered: "Why don't we have something like that?"

The impact of these gifted Soviet dancers can scarcely be measured. Many are predicting that their advent to these shores will have as profound an effect on American dance as the original Ballet Russe. Or more so.

Still stimulated by seeing the Moiseyev troupe, I sounded out Marge and Gower Champion. They, after all, are the foremost exponents of the dance in this country today. Both are schooled in the classics. Gower is a noted choreographer.

"The Moiseyev company was fantastic," Gower agreed. "I don't think this country has seen anything like it.

"It's a crying shame that we don't have something to match the Russians. After all, Moiseyev has only taken the traditional Russian dances, routined them superbly and trained magnificent dancers to do them.

"There's no reason we couldn't do the same. Our dance heritage is just as rich, if not more so. We have Indian dances, the square dance, the Mexican-style dances of California, the whole New Orleans tradition of jazz."

"And our dancers are as good as theirs," Marge added. "We have hundreds of dancers who are awaiting recognition. We have acrobats and tumblers who can do the same leaps and spins and can be taught enough dancing."

The couple deems Russian dancing notable for its vigor and masculinity. American dancing, they feel, has become feminized and sick.

"There's no reason it should be sick," Gower declared. "We've got enough rugged young men to do the dancing. But the tradition has been toward the classical ballet or limp-wristed kind of dancing, even in the modern dances.

"American dancing needs to become masculine."

They think the whole trend could be changed by a movement like the Moiseyev in the Soviet Union or the Sadlers Wells in England.

"The same thing could be done here," Marge said. "It would take some driving force to start a small group of dedicated dancers, train them rigorously and develop utter precision."

Rising Health Costs, Payment at Issue

War Brewing Between Labor, Medicine

WASHINGTON (AP)—A battle pitting organized labor against organized medicine is brewing over rising health costs and how workers pay for them.

The labor side of it will get an airing here next week. The American Labor Health Assn. has assembled a big discussion group of doctors and administrators of labor and community health plans, along with union and public officials and legal experts for a two-day conference.

There is bound to be reaction from the American Medical Assn., which holds its annual convention the following week in San Francisco.

The issue is whether an organization established to buy medical care on a mass basis should have any say in doctors or fees or quality of services.

The labor group says any mass purchaser of medical services must have a voice in these matters, or go broke.

The AMA opposes any third-party interference between doctor and patient, and says the medical profession can police any overcharging or questionable medical practice.

But Dr. Warren Draper, executive medical director of the United Mine Workers welfare and retirement fund, says his experience during a decade of buying medical services has been to the contrary. The UMW fund spends 60 million dollars a year for medical and hospital services.

Says Dr. Draper, himself a pillar of the AMA for years: "Organized medicine, while insisting that it alone possesses the authority to judge and discipline its members, has thus far been unable or unwilling to establish and enforce effective means of doing so."

Draper recites a long list of cases involving what he calls overcharging for care and unnecessary surgery. To this, the AMA says it always acts where there is sufficient evidence.

But Draper since last Oct. 1 allows the UMW fund to pay out medical bills only for services performed by UMW-approved doctors. This has aroused the AMA's ire. It charges interference with the patient's choice of a physician.

The labor group say they want to pay a fair price for quality service, but don't want to be overcharged or required to pay physicians they consider incapable.

The unions participating in the labor health conference here next Monday and Tuesday estimate they already pay out over 81 million dollars a year in furnishing health protection for four million workers or members of their families.

They envision the time that workers everywhere will be pooling resources in efforts to buy medical care cheaper and of better quality. The AMA seems to prefer that such groups merely provide insurance protection against costs, but that workers pay their bills directly to doctors.

Improve Hog Vaccine

DES MOINES — A new concentrated hog-blood vaccine, said to be twice as potent as current anti-hog-cholera serum, has been developed by fractionating the blood of highly immune hogs, eliminating all but the portion that contains the important disease-fighting antibodies. The new vaccine is reported to be 2 to 2½ times as potent on an equal-volume basis as the present serum.

18-Year Program Predicted for State

College Buildings Require $1 Billion

LANSING (AP) — Michigan must spend a billion dollars on college construction in the next 18 years to keep up with growing enrollments and at the same time maintain the current per-student investment in college facilities.

So says a survey committee on higher education in a report to a legislative study committee.

Buildings now in use at the nine state-supported colleges and universities cost about 532 million dollars to erect, the committee said.

In view of the state's economic troubles, it acknowledged that "no one with a realistic view" could foresee an immediate start on a billion-dollar construction program. Completion would require a 59-million dollar outlay in each of the 18 years.

College administrators, the committee said, have only one alternative — more efficient use of available facilities.

The committee, headed by Dr. John Dale Russell and financed by legislative appropriations and private donations, said Michigan's state supported colleges on an average rank among the top 15 per cent in the country in making the most of what they have.

But, it added, they can do better by:

1. Using available facilities more often. The average classroom is used 62 per cent of a 5½-day work week, but averages range from 37 per cent at the Soo branch of Michigan Tech to 69 per cent at Wayne State University and Ferris Institute.

2. Scheduling more classes for hours unpopular with students — such as 8 a.m. and 4 p.m., Friday afternoon and Saturday morning — and shortening vacations.

3. Making better use of facilities during the summer by putting schools on a year-around academic basis.

4. Looking into the possibility of lengthening some classes from the standard one hour to 1½ or two hours.

5. Giving more individual initiative work to the student for some courses, requiring less classroom attendance.

6. Reappraising the necessity for present volume of laboratory courses, which require three times as much floor space as classrooms.

7. Setting up a centralized class scheduling system so that when one department is not using a classroom it may be allocated to another.

8. Reappraising the need for small classes in some courses.

"The Legislature quite properly should insist on good utilization of present classrooms and laboratories in an institution before funds are provided for further construction of instructional facilities," the committee said.

But it warned:

"The determination of need, based on utilization data, should not be made by means of the application of some inflexible standard or formula enforced alike on all institutions."

The committee, appointed two years ago, will wind up its work sometime this summer, Russell said, and will publish a summary of its surveys into all phases of college operation and needs.

Straits Ferry Docks Hearing Plans Set

LANSING (UPI) — The House State Affairs Committee has completed plans for hearings next week on means of disposing of the Mackinac Straits state ferry dock facilities, Committee Chairman Lloyd Gibbs (R-Portland) states.

Hearings will be held Monday at Mackinaw City High School gymnasium, and Tuesday at the St. Ignace Municipal Building. Both hearings start at 10 a.m.

"The state has an investment in this facility of about 35 million dollars," Gibbs said. "The committee felt that before it made any recommendation to the Legislature it should go up there and look over the physical plant and give all parties interested an opportunity to be heard in order that the best interests of the state could be served."

Records Show Many in County to Visit Europe

The huge numbers of persons planning to visit Europe this summer is evident from the number of passports issued by the Oakland County clerk's office.

Since Jan. 1 of this year there have been 460 passports issued. There was a total of 588 issued during the 12 months of 1957.

"This is one of the heaviest rushes for passports we have seen in many years," said Mrs. Vincent Dennen, clerk in charge of passports.

The 460 passports issued thus far have brought in $920 to the county, and $4,140 to the federal government. A passport costs $11, of which $9 goes to the government and $2 stays with the county.

Wins Contract for $17 Million

Burroughs in Detroit Will Build Components for Air Force System

DETROIT (AP) — Award of a $17,418,352 contract from the Air Force for data processing systems was announced today by Burroughs Corp. of Detroit.

The new award brought to more than 150 million dollars the amount of government contracts held by Burroughs for data processing systems and electronic guidance computers for the Atlas missile.

The new order covers construction of 24 coordinate data processing systems for the Air Force's SAGE system. SAGE stands for semi-automatic ground environment. It is a nationwide system that combines radar, electronic digital processing systems and high speed communications to detect approach of enemy aircraft or missiles and to direct counter-attack.

Burroughs holds contracts for 90 million dollars in the SAGE program. They cover equipment, spare parts, personnel training, technical data and installation.

Production work on both the SAGE and Atlas program is done in Detroit. Components are manufactured in Brooklyn, N.Y., and Philadelphia.

State Post Sought by Drayton Resident

Announcing today his first bid for a political office was Robert H. Chapin, Drayton Plains real estate broker who will seek nomination in August to run for Oakland County's First District seat in the House of Representatives.

Chapin, 36, of 46701 Dixie Hwy., yesterday filed nominating petitions with the county clerk for the post on the Democratic ticket.

District 1 encompasses the 14 townships in northern Oakland County.

The candidate is the father of six children, a graduate of Pontiac Central High School, attended the University of Michigan and served in the Marine Corps. He is also a past member of the Pontiac Real Estate Board.

J. C. Penney Sales Up

NEW YORK (AP) — May sales of J. C. Penney Co. showed a 4.11 per cent gain over May 1957, the department store chain says. Sales for May totaled $104,723,663 versus $100,587,012 a year ago. For the first five months of 1958 volume amounted to $437,851,760, an increase of 0.54 per cent over $435,518,685 in the like period of 1957.

Stock Market Terms Often Confusing?

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—If what's going on these days in the stock market confuses you, some of it could be because of the terms that are used.

For the person who never bought a share of stock, or who bought one once and still has burnt fingers, the every day talk on Wall Street can be rough to follow.

Technical position, for example, is a phrase favored to explain why the market goes up or down, when you can't think of any other way to explain it.

According to a glossary of terms put out by the New York Stock Exchange, it means: "various internal factors affecting the market; opposed to external forces such as earnings, dividends, political considerations and general economic conditions. Internal factors include the size of the short interest, whether the market has had a sustained advance or decline."

And that brings us to short interest and short covering, currently said to be a major help to the bulls, although it's the bears who sell short. So what are bears and bulls and short sales?

Bulls think the market is going up and are inclined to buy. Bears think it's going down and are likely to sell if they have the stock, or sell short if they don't. In these short sales they contract to sell stocks they don't own because they think they can buy them cheaper later on for delivery. Short covering is when these bears buy stock to complete the transaction. This can either be profit taking, if the price has gone down since the short sale, or loss cutting, if it has gone up—as if often does.

Selective strength is when only a few stocks look good to investors and they select them to buy. They do that all the time anyway. But when a lot of stocks look good that's a bull market. And when only a handful do, that gives the market selective strength.

Switching is when the other fellow's stock looks better than yours so you sell and buy the kind he has. This has the added advantage of creating commissions for the brokers who handle the deals.

Pivotal issues are the bellwethers in the stock market. Usually they are blue chips. The exchange defines a blue chip as "common stock in a company known nationally for the quality and wide acceptance of its products or services, and for its ability to make money and pay dividends in good times and bad."

But penny stock speculation has its followers, too, and sometimes they outnumber the blue chip investors, as they did a short time back.

In speculation the safety of the money put up for the stock is a secondary factor to the hope of big gain through a rise in its market price. Penny stocks are low priced, often risky, and usually selling for less than $1.

Inflation hedging in common stocks means that when inflation hits, the price of most things goes up, including common stocks and often the amount of their dividends. But the interest paid out on bonds and preferred stocks, along with pension and like payments, stays put. So common stocks are popular as a way to beat the game.

Trading on a when issued basis means beating the gun. If a company is going to issue stock or the U. S. Treasury put out a bond, even before its off the printing press those who think they are getting some can set a price at which they would sell. And those who think the price shortly will go either higher or lower than that officially listed can set a price at which they would buy.

If they can get together there's a when issued transaction—then they just wait till the issue appears to see which was right.

NOTICE

John C. Mackie, Commissioner of the Michigan State Highway Department, is calling a Public Hearing on June 12, 1958 at 1:30 p.m. at the Lincoln Junior High School, 121 Hillside Street, Pontiac, Michigan, in accordance with Section 116c of the Federal-Aid Highway Act of 1956, for the purpose of explaining to interested groups the proposed relocation of US-10 from Perry Street to the north line of Oakland county and to hear testimony regarding the economic effect of this project on the community.

Wheat Steady Despite Report

CHICAGO (AP) — Wheat futures prices held steady to firm in early Board of Trade dealings today despite the government report yesterday that indications are for a record yield of the winter crop.

Traders said the government estimate appeared to have been tempered somewhat by limited sales of the grain to commercial dealers and persistent reports of grasshopper hordes in the Great Plains.

Other grains also were mostly slightly on the upside in early transactions.

Corn derived some support from advices that the Department of Agriculture has accepted subsidy bids of 18 to 20 cents a bushel on 704,554 bushels for export.

Wheat was ⅛ to ⅜ cent a bushel higher near the end of the first hour, July $1.84; corn ⅛ to ⅝ higher, July $1.30¾; oats ⅛ to ⅜ higher, July 61½; rye unchanged to ¾ lower, July $1.26¾; soybeans ¼ to ½ higher, July $2.27; lard unchanged to 5 cents a hundred pounds lower, July $11.95.

Coppers Garner Further Gains

NEW YORK (AP)—Coppers added to their gains in a generally higher stock market early today. Trading was fairly active.

The copper group made gains stretching to around two points. Fractional gains and a liberal scattering of small losses was the rule for the rest of the list.

Kennecott made the best showing of the copper group, gaining 1⅞ at 93¾ on an opening block of 2,000 shares. It clipped its gain by a fraction in later dealings.

Chemicals, motion pictures and rails showed a firm tone, but steels, aircrafts, radio-televisions and oils were mixed. Motors shower a lightly lower trend.

The opening was active. As trading fell off prices were trimmed.

Goodrich was ahead about a point. Raytheon, Paramount, Air Reduction, Allied Chemical, Douglas Aircraft and Zenith were other gainers.

Why Wait?

Most forecasts indicate that construction costs are going up/again — We are still selling our 3 bedroom starter homes at last year's prices. Make your spare time count by finishing the interior and saving the labor costs. $395 down will put you into a nice 3 bedroom ranch style bungalow with full basement. Payments only $68 per month.

TV Investigators Call Co-Owner

Want to Know Why Permission Was Given for Channel Shift

WASHINGTON (AP)—House investigators called in a second co-owner of a St. Louis, Mo., television station today to ask how the station got a grant to shift to a more lucrative TV channel.

Paul E. Peltason of KTVI was summoned for questioning after the subcommittee checking federal regulatory agency operations finished a final round of testimony from Peltason's partner Harry Tenenbaum.

In two days of hearings this week KTVI was pictured as a money-losing venture on UHF (ultra high frequency) Channel 36. Then the Federal Communications Commission voted in February 1957 to switch the more popular VHF (very high frequency) Channel 2 from Springfield, Ill., to St. Louis and give it to KTVI.

Since the FCC decision was part of the agency's program to separate UHF and VHF areas, the FCC order was made without the usual hearings among competing applicants for a new channel.

Peltason defended the FCC action in a prepared statement. He said the order followed policy set out by Congress and has been upheld in three federal court cases.

Tenenbaum freely acknowledged that he talked to FCC commissioners while he was interested in getting Channel 2. He said he sent turkeys to the commissioners in 1955 and 1956 and took them out to dinner when he came to Washington.

He said, however, that he was pushing for a general program of separating UHF and VHF telecast areas—which he thought would be best for the nation—rather than specifically lobbying for assignment of Channel 2 to his station.

Private Elvis Making Records on Furlough

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—The Army's million-buck private, Elvis Presley, drove back to Nashville last night for his first record-making session since he was drafted in March.

Everything was about the same—but no sideburns.

"Can't say I miss 'em much," he said. "At any rate, they're gone now. And they won't grow back until March 24, 1960 — my gettin' out date."

Presley said he hopes things will be the same when he gets out, perhaps referring to his record sales of about 25 million copies.

About Army life, the rock 'n' roller said he does miss certain things. "I miss having a car to drive when I want it. A tank is just a tank—three or four cars is a way of life."

His two-week furlough ends this weekend, and he plans to leave his Memphis home Saturday for Ft. Hood, Tex., where he will take advanced tank training.

Clerk Fatally Shoots Senator in Carolina

BENNETTSVILLE, S. C. (AP)—State Sen. Paul A. Wallace was shot fatally last night just as he learned of his renomination in the South Carolina Democratic primaries.

Officers seized County Court Clerk Henry A. Rogers, who barged into the sheriff's office where the 57-year-old Wallace was sitting and started firing. Rogers, 67, was held without bond and transferred to the State Penitentiary in Columbia.

Wallace's opponent for the State Senate seat, William A. Rogers, no relation to the clerk, immediately announced his withdrawal from the race and urged the election of Wallace's son to the seat.

Unofficial returns gave Wallace a 2,864-2,817 vote edge.

Officers said the shooting apparently had nothing to do with the election, which followed a bitter campaign. They could give no other details than that the slaying apparently resulted from a personal matter.

Wallace, who had served in the State Senate since 1957, was struck five times as he sat with several other men in Sheriff William Weatherly's office.

Survivors include his widow, three sons and a daughter.

'Lido' Gals Don't Work There; Aren't French

By EARL WILSON

PARIS — "Operation Washcloth" told Gen. De Gaulle that he'll have to get by without any further help from us because we've got work to do.

WILSON

"Operation Washcloth" went out to Montmartre to interview some French showgals who are about to invade Las Vegas.

Maybe I should explain that "Operation Washcloth" is the name I'm giving this trip we're taking around Europe, because the wife usually has a wet washrag flying out the taxi window like a pennant when we shoot to the next airport. She's a stingy type who paid good American cash for that washcloth and isn't going to leave it behind even if it is wet. So she dries it en route. Of course it was rather embarrassing when Peter Lawford and his bride, that lovely Kennedy girl, who's so rich, saw the soggy washcloth drooping and dripping out our cab window and asked what it was.

"Oh, it's just our washrag," I said. "We're traveling heavy."

Due to things quieting down in the French revolution, I'm roaming the bottlefields of Paris instead of the battlefields.

So there we were where the French showgirls were waiting to rehearse for the Lido show that opens in Las Vegas uly 2.

First, the girls weren't French. Well, two were. The others are English, Dutch and German and are part of the famous English organization—"Miss Bluebells Mannekins."

"Who is going to be the star of the show?" asked one girl.

E. W.: "YOU are! You girls."

GIRL: "Oh, of course. But couldn't Danny Kaye or Frank Sinatra or somebody be sort of featured?"

E. W.: "I hear you are going to do nudes."

GIRL: "Oh, no semi-nudes! We have the most fabulous costumes but they don't have any tops to them. CRAZY!" There was a lot of clamor among them as they explained that they had never, never gone bare-waisted before and were terrified of it.

"But we think Las Vegas is far enough away that nobody we knew will see us," one said. She's the one that kept saying "Crazy" to everything.

GIRL: "We can't move very much or our pants will split. CRAZY."

E. W.: "Have you girls all worked in the Lido?"

GIRL: "Oh, no, none of us have. We haven't even seen the show yet but we hope to. We just came from London. CRAZY."

E. W.: "You know Las Vegas has no clocks or calendars in the casinos, and one of the churches has a mass at 5 o'clock in the afternoon for the worshipers who work all night."

GIRL: "I wonder if they have any place in Las Vegas for me to worship."

E. W.: "What do you require?"

GIRL: "A synagogue."

E. W.: "Oh, you French girls will find some there. CRAZY."

For More Lakes Funds

Potter Going to Bat

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Charles E. Potter (R-Mich) yesterday pledged a Senate fight to add four million dollars to the probable House appropriation for deepening the Great Lakes connecting channels.

The House Appropriations Committee had approved spending 23½ million dollars in the next fiscal year, the figure recommended by President Eisenhower's revised public works budget, for the big navigation project. The full House is expected to concur with the action.

"It's just good business for the project to be finished as soon as possible," Potter told a reporter. "The taxpayers are going to benefit."

The House committee's refusal to boost the President's request marked a defeat for Lakes states congressmen who want the 141 million dollar project completed by 1962.

They have complained that spending at the rate proposed by Eisenhower will mean the Midwest will wait many years before getting full benefit from the St. Lawrence Seaway, scheduled to open next year.

Rep. Louis C. Rabaut (D-Mich), a member of the House Appropriations Committee, said "I tried my best" to increase the appropriation to the 27½ million dollar level but got nowhere.

Even if the Senate increases the spending, Rabaut said, the House may not go along.

"I don't know," he said. "There was a strong expression in the committee to keep down the budget."

Potter said chances were good for the Senate Appropriations Committee to approve the 27½ million dollar figure. That would mean possible spending of 30 million dollars by the engineers through borrowing from other funds.

Pontiac Detectives Clear Up Burglary

Pontiac detectives said today they believed they had cleared up a burglary of a gas station and recovered $325 in stolen tires.

The burglary of the Auburn and Sanford Service Station occurred Sunday night and 16 new tires were stolen.

Monday the police arrested Paul Coulter, 25, of 143½ S. Francis St., and charged him with burglary. He waved examination in municipal court yesterday and was bound over to circuit court.

Six of the tires were found at the home of Jessie Acosta, 22, of 590 California St. He was charged with receiving stolen property and pleaded guilty yesterday.

Municipal Judge Cecil B. McCallum sentenced Acosta to 30 days in jail and a $100 fine or 50 days.

Giveaways Cost Sponsors Less

But Columnist Believes Cheapness Will Prove to Be Liability

By CHARLES MERCER

If somebody will move over, we'll add our own wail that all this wingo-bingo and dotto-blotto or you name it doesn't rate with us. It has become excruciatingly dull entertainment fare.

Now let's take a further look at it.

At the present time there are 21 giveaway quiz programs each week on the three networks. It seems that there are more because some appear five and six times a week. There actually will be three or four new ones before the fever has run its course.

In reply to an inquiry, representatives of each of the three networks calculate the average public loot in money and goods each week as follows: CBS-TV, with 11 quiz and giveaway programs, about $110,000; NBC-TV, with nine programs, also about $110,000; ABC-TV, with only one, about $10,000.

The total averages around $230,000 a week. To a working man or a spending woman that sounds like a lot of money. But in terms of the high production costs of television it's a paltry sum equivalent to the cost of three or four pilot films or the price of one act of an "Aladdin."

THRIFTY PROGRAMS

That is why there are so many giveaway programs on television at the present time. Justified criticis mof the juvenile nature of these programs will not drive them from television.

To xenture a propheey: Sponsors themselves eventually will lose interest in this type of program. The shows are so numerous and it is so difficult to remember the difference between one and another that a sponsor cannot find n one the long-range entity he seeks for his advertising dollar.

Advertisers eventually will learn that nearly everyone knows who sponsors a worthwhile regular program. Scarcely anyone ever recalls the sponsor of a cheap program.

Kansas Highway Buried by Milk Bottle Covers

Johnson County officers had that to contend with yesterday after the rear door of a transport truck came open and several cartons of bottle tops spilled out.

The driver was flagged down near Paoola in the next county. He tried to turn around to go back after the boxes that didn't break, but his truck went into a ditch. It took two tow trucks to pull him out.

Callas Triumphs in Performance Before Queen

LONDON (AP)—Maria Callas triumphed last night as Queen Elizabeth II and a glittering society audience celebrated the 100th anniversary of Royal Opera house, Covent Garden.

The fiery, Greek-American soprano won six curtain calls and rave reviews for her singing of the mad scene from Bellini's "I Puritani." Without her "the operatic side of the proceedings would have been doleful inded," the News Chronicle critic wrote.

"I've never had such a wonderful reception," she told reporters amid joyful tears. "I shall never forget this night. Just think—the Queen was there while I sang."

London's Times described the event as "equal in glory to those of Queen Victoria's golden days." The program of opera and ballet also included Covent Garden's pride, Dame Margot Fonteyn, and the other ballerinas of the Royal Ballet in a special "birthday offering" and American mezzo-soprano Blanche Thebom and Canadian tenor John Vickers in the love duet from Berlioz' "Trojans at Carthage," the house's most spectacular production of recent years.

Opera house management went Irish in its decoration of the royal box, with two huge harps of Kelly green on each side, a canopy of violet green stripes, the front of the box splashed in green and a green carpet. Elizabeth, entering to a fanfare from 20 trumpets, wore peacock blue faille embroidered in sapphire blue and rhinestones.

Miyoshi Umeki to Wed TV Director in August

The japanese singer-actress and Apie, a lanky blond from Binghamton, N.Y., met when she first came to this country two years ago. They have been keeping steady company since she played her Oscar-winning role as Red Buttons' wife in "Sayonara."

He Must Visit Grave of Tiny Victim Daily

WALLA WALLA, Wash. (AP)—Challon Robertson, 22, failed to yield the right of way May 4 at a local intersection and his car collided with another, killing 3-year-old Debbie Waggoner.

For the next 30 days Robertson must daily visit Debbie's grave, where Police Justice William Roach said he "should do some mighty serious considering."

Not Convicted 22 Times, but 23rd Means Death

KANSAS CITY (AP)—In the 22 years of Richard Allen Stiles' life, he has been arrested 23 times.

The charges: rape, theft, burglary and murder.

Stiles' first 22 arrests didn't result in a single conviction. But yesterday, a Jackson County (Kansas City) Circuit Court jury found him guilty of first-degree murder.

The jury, deliberating only 45 minutes, convicted Stiles, a Negro, in the holdup slaying of taxi driver John Lumpkin, 51, last March 18.
