New V8 Engines Called Superior on Road Tests

1955 Models Shown to Automotive Writers This Afternoon

Pontiac Motor Division expects to lead the medium price car field in 1955 and has set a minimum goal of 450,000 cars.

"We are confident that we have the product and the value to do just this," Robert M. Critchfield, general manager of the division and a GM vice president told automotive newswriters at a prevue of the 1955 Pontiac cars here this afternoon.

Approximately 170 newsmen and automotive editors were guests of the division to see the new models, drive them, and learn of the new and expanded production facilities that are turning out new models.

Pontiac built approximately 280,900 cars in the 1954 model run and built slightly more than 418,000 units for the 1953 model run. Both the 1953 and 1954 runs started in November, some weeks later than production started on the 1955 cars.

While details of the new cars may not be released until the public showing it is no longer an industry secret that Pontiac's new V-8 engine will be introduced.

Critchfield revealed today that some 30 of the new engines, production built, have completed 10,000-mile road durability tests, or 100-hour dynamometer tests at maximum load and speed.

He said the new engines have proved vastly superior to the in-line engines which have served past Pontiac lines so well.

Pontiac cars well along on the 50,000 mile durability runs at the Proving Grounds are averaging better gas economy than has been obtained from any standard size cars ever tested there, he informed the newsmen.

Pontiac's new and large production facilities give the division a

Predict More Frost for Pontiac Area

Fair and cool with frost again tonight is expected for the Pontiac area, with a low of 32 to 36. Temperatures for the opening day of pheasant season Wednesday will be "slightly warmer" with a high of 56 to 60.

Light variable winds are expected tonight with an 8 to 12 mile-an-hour southeasterly breeze tomorrow.

A .03 rainfall was recorded in downtown Pontiac Monday as temperatures ranged from a low of 35 to 50. At 8 a.m. today the thermometer registered 39 degrees, rising to 48 by 2 p.m. Winds were from the north at 14 miles per hour.

Sheppard Trial in Second Day

Defense Again Requests Venue Change Despite Rebuff by Judge

CLEVELAND (AP) — The defense today renewed its request that the first degree murder trial of Dr. Samuel H. Sheppard be moved to another city, but was rebuffed again.

William J. Corrigan, chief defense counsel, at the start of today's session renewed his motion for a change of venue on grounds that public sentiment in Cleveland and surrounding Cuyahoga County was unfavorable to his client.

Corrigan introduced as evidence two files of newspapers containing stories about the case.

He also cited a debate between two Cleveland newspapermen on the handling of the Sheppard story that was broadcast over Cleveland Radio Station WHK last night.

The debate was between James W. Collins, city editor of the Cleveland Plain Dealer, and Forrest Allen of the Cleveland Press.

Only one juror had been selected at the end of the first day of the trial of Dr. Sheppard, accused of first-degree murder in the bludgeoning last July 4 of his pregnant wife Marilyn, 31. Attorneys estimated it would require a week or 10 days to seat a jury.

Dulles on Way for Paris Talks on Rearmament

New Chapter on U.S. Foreign Policy Seen for West Germany

WASHINGTON (INS) — Secretary of State John Foster Dulles takes off today for Paris where crucial talks on West German Rearmament open a new chapter of American foreign policy.

Dulles leaves for Europe by plane at 4:30 p.m. (EST). He refused to say whether he was optimistic or pessimistic on the outcome of the Paris meeting.

He told newsmen: "I'm not going into the optimism game. We will just go and do the best we can."

However, diplomatic observers expressed the opinion that the European meeting, which is designed to put the London agreement on Germany into effect may well be the "make or break" series of sessions on the new U. S. policy.

American foreign programs are now designed to achieve a general agreement among Western Allies for a West German army and sovereignty in place of the European Defense Community with a unified Western Europe army which the French killed.

Dulles has been credited with a diplomatic triumph in the London agreement, but many observers contend that putting the program into effect may prove more difficult. They fear that the Paris talks opening tomorrow may provide difficulties not encountered at the recent London meeting.

Dulles talked for an hour with President Eisenhower at a breakfast conference at the White White House yesterday to start the chief executive's first full working day since his Denver vacation.

The secretary outlined to Eisenhower's approval the

Hoffa told newsmen there is no truth to the story that he, not Beck, is now the moving spirit in the union, which claims 1¼ million members.

"I'm just the 10th vice president," said Hoffa, "trying to do everything any general president (Beck) tells me to do. . ."

Hoffa, chairman of the union's Central States Conference, recently entered the New York truck drivers strike after Beck apparently had intervened and then withdrawn. Beck said Hoffa has done a "fine job in New York and we are very close friends."

Beck said he picked Hoffa to head up a committee of five Teamster vice presidents named to handle the New York strike because he felt Hoffa had more experience than the other four on the committee in long line hauling, "the nature of the New York strike."

The death toll from the final strike of Hurricane Hazel stood at 78 in Canada. Six persons were listed as missing and presumed drowned and nine were classified as missing.

A fund to aid those stricken in Friday night's storm neared the million-dollar mark yesterday, its first day. A goal of 10 million dollars was set.

Survivors moved back into some flood-ravaged areas and began to clear their homes of mud and water. Traffic on main roads west of Toronto moved slowly yesterday, using the three Humber River bridges left standing. Railway traffic was returning to normal.

And at Wilmington, N. C., Army engineers from Ft. Bragg moved in today to assist the hurricane-stricken beach resorts.

The troops will help clear away the debris and assist in putting water and sewage distribution systems into operation.

Immediate transfer of a battalion (about 500 men) to the Wilmington area was recommended yesterday by a special committee of federal, state and local representatives following an inspection of the North Carolina devasted areas. About 300 Army engineers were sent to the Myrtle Beach area.

Coffee Prices Slashed Again by Two Firms

CHICAGO (INS)—Coffee drinkers can rejoice today in the news that two big coffee firms have cut their wholesale prices five cents a pound.

The firms previously had lowered prices 10 cents in August and five cents in September.

Spokesmen for the companies explained the latest reduction was made possible by lower green coffee prices.

Kenneth Coon, 20, of 4180 Elizabeth Lake Rd., Waterford Township, died this morning in Pontiac General Hospital from injuries suffered early Saturday when the car in which he was riding hit a tree at Airport and Elizabeth Lake Rds., and skidded into the Clinton River.

John Williams, 20, of 5611 Croswell, the car's driver, will probably make a statement today at the Oakland County Prosecutor's office, according to Waterford Township Police Chief Frank J. Van Atta.

Williams and another passenger, William Mack, 18, of 9260 Gale Rd., were treated at the hospital for cuts and bruises. A fourth passenger, Charles Henke, 16, of 5063 Pontiac Lake Rd., who has a possible concussion and skull fracture, is reported in fair condition today.

Henke and Coon were both tossed from the car onto the pavement after the impact, according to police who quoted Williams as saying he was going "too fast" to

Mrs. Ley's Petition to Be Heard Dec. 3

MUSKEGON (UP) — Circuit Judge Noel P. Fox Monday granted a six-week postponement of a hearing on Mrs. Lois Porter Moon Ley's request for a new trial on charges she conspired to defraud the state of $10,000 and upwards in highway right-of-way land deals.

Mrs. Ley pleaded guilty to the charge six months ago and is now serving an 18-month to 5-year prison term.

Her attorney, Edward B. Barnard, Detroit, asked for a delay so that he could answer affidavits filed by state and Muskegon County attorneys denying allegations in Mrs. Ley's petition for a new trial.

The hearing, scheduled for Monday, was rescheduled for Dec. 3.

Hints Scandal About Harriman

Ives Slates Broadcast to Discuss 'Startling, Shocking Situation'

NEW YORK (AP)—Sen. Irving M. Ives, the Republican candidate for governor, announced today he will go on a statewide television-radio network tonight to discuss "a startling and shocking situation" involving Averell Harriman, his Democratic-Liberal rival.

The short, dramatic announcement gave no hint of the nature of the charge. Harriman himself could not be reached immediately for comment. His campaign headquarters had no immediate comment.

Ives last night abruptly cut short an upstate campaign tour to return here. Speculation immediately developed in political circles that some surprise move was planned.

Several straw polls being conducted in the state have shown Ives to be trailing.

The announcement was issued in Republican headquarters by William W. Tyler, Ives' press aide.

"Senator Ives has canceled his campaign appearances scheduled for today to prepare for a television broadcast tonight (6:30-6:45 p.m., WRCA-TV and a statewide NBC television and radio network)," the statement said.

Harriman, former federal mutual security administrator, was nominated with the support of Carmine de Sapio, Democratic National committeeman and head of Tammany Hall, the powerful New York Country party organization.

Breakfast Rally Begins Annual Campaign Here

Lyndall Says Campaign Will Exceed Goal of $525,823

By BURDETT C. STODDARD

The Pontiac Area United Fund drive was off to a flying start today with announcement of a $100,000 gift from General Motors Corp.

Campaign Manager Frank S. Lyndall told some 350 volunteer workers of the corporation's generosity this morning at a "kick-off" breakfast in the Elks Temple.

The amount was $10,000 above last year when $90,000 was presented by GM.

Speaking of the $525,823 goal, Lyndall said, "It presents a real challenge compared with former years, but it's my honest belief you're really going over the top."

With the new Pontiac car and innovations in the GMC truck line, Lyndall stated, "Pontiac should have a banner year" in 1955. A successful drive now for next year's UF agency funds will get '55 off on the right foot, he added.

Featured speaker was Dr. Henry Hitt Crane, pastor of the Detroit Central Methodist Church, who termed the UF idea of voluntary work for overall community betterment as "revealing our essential genius and unique spirit."

When people are forced to work in and contribute to an effort "it breaks something vital to the free spirit," said Crane. "But doing it on your own is the essence of all great living.

"When a person submits to compulsion something is broken inside, you need courage to be yourself."

There are three types of people, said Crane.

1. The "lawless" person who does just what he wants to do.
2. The "law following" person who does what is required.
3. The type who goes beyond what is required, not because he is forced to, but because he wants to.

The third type of person who works in and donates freely to the

Adenauer, Mendes Seek Answer to Saar Question

PARIS (AP) — West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer arrived here today for a series of conferences aimed at bringing a rearmed West Germany into the Western defense system. The first hurdle he faced was the thorny Saar question.

Adenauer flew in from Bonn less than five hours before the scheduled start of talks on the Saar with French Premier Pierre Mendes-France.

The French leader has said a settlement of this question must be reached before the French National Assembly will approve the Allied program for bolstering Western defenses with German manpower.

"I have come to Paris with a great deal of hope that these next few days will bring great advantages for peace of our peoples, for Europe and for the world," Adenauer said.

The two leaders also were to discuss plans for ending Allied occupation of Germany, restoring German sovereignty and West Germany's role in the Western defense setup.

Their conference was a curtain raiser on other talks designed to complete agreements reached at the recent London conference.

Foreign ministers of United States, Great Britain, France and West Germany hope to agree tomorrow on amendments to the two-year-old Bonn Treaty restoring sovereignty to West Germany and ending the occupation. The Bonn Treaty originally was pegged to the ill-fated European Defense Community and must be altered now that EDC is dead.

The Saar, a small industrial area between France and Germany long has been a source of friction. It now has its own regime, linked to France in an economic union which the French seek to maintain. The Germans consider the Saar a part of Germany. Its inhabitants are German in culture and language.

Dust Off Those Cherished Dreams

An Endless Variety of Hobbies Offers New Roads to Useful and Happy Hours

Time was when a hobby was something a little unusual; something to be followed as a last resort as a time-killer.

But times have changed. The hobby has come into its own both for the pleasure to be derived and for many other substantial values. Today hobbies are no longer "fads." They have become an accepted part of the pattern of American life.

Hobbies attract people in all walks of life, and they have a special interest for three classes of people:

Those who have a natural interest in working with their hands in spare hours, and the people who want an opportunity to find more knowledge of particular interest.

Those who are new residents in any locality. These people often make new friends through carrying on their hobbies in new locales.

Those who seek therapeutic value in keeping busy and learning new creative arts.

Hobbies can be followed alone with success, but they also may bring those who have mutual interests together, as shown by many hobby clubs which have come into being.

There seems to be no end to the fields into which hobbies lead those who have a yen to learn something new, and something besides their accustomed vocation.

Ceramics and china painting are high on the popularity list; knitting, making of hooked rugs and weaving on looms occupies many; sketching and painting is booming, especially since some highly prominent citizens have turned to painting as an avocation.

The demand for information about hobbies, snowballing along with the increased interest with the "do-it-yourself" craze has led the Press to institute a special column in our Classified pages for exclusive use of hobbyists. Here will be listed many of the sources of supply and instruction in a never-ending variety of activities.

The possibilities are truly endless. Woodworking in all its forms attracts many; perhaps you would like to build that model railway you have dreamed of; or maybe you like to collect things; or are you a budding weather prophet?

Whatever your interest, you will find others to share your interests among hobbyists. Turn to Classification 24A.

The Day in Birmingham

Commission Sets Date for Hearing on Parking

From Our Birmingham Bureau

BIRMINGHAM — Lawmakers at last night's City Commission meeting set a Nov. 8 hearing date on the necessity of creating a special assessment district for financing a proposed 250-car parking lot at the southeast corner of Pierce and Merrill Sts.

Commissioners enlarged the district to include property north of Maple and east of Woodward. There were no apparent objections from merchants attending the meeting. Costs of the $250,000 lot would be shared equally by the city and benefiting property owners.

The city is working now on necessary property acquisitions and has set next January as a completion date for all real estate arrangements.

Another hearing, this one for Nov. 12, was scheduled to amend the Parking District B ordinance, increasing the height limit of lighting fixtures from 8 feet to 12 feet.

A long discussion between the commission and Pembrook Manor Subdivision Assn. representatives took place over last week's recommendation of the Troy Township Zoning Board that two acres of property at the Coolidge-Derby corner be rezoned to commercial B-1 use, for a proposed shoping center.

The commission had notified the township that it considered such negotiations to be premature, inasmuch as the necessity for a shopping center has not yet been determined.

Much opposed to the rezoning, Pembrook representatives said they felt the letter could have been more strongly worded. They will request that the commission forward another letter when the township board meets in about a month.

Detectives, however, decided to turn the "pet" over to the Animal Protective League.

Birmingham High School Year Book Wins Award

BIRMINGHAM — The Birmingham High School year book is one of three in the state selected for top honors in the National Yearbook contest conducted annually by the Columbia Scholastic Press Assn.

Medalist award for "Yearbooks of Distinction" went to the Birmingham Piper, as well as the Log of Cadillac High School and the Eatonian of Eaton Rapids High School.

The association, sponsored by Columbia University, said more than 1,100 colleges and elementary, junior and senior high schools submitted entries in the 1954 contest.

Its purpose is to stimulate student interest, to serve as a guide for the improvement of the books and to provide a periodic rating on a nationwide basis.

First place honors were won by the Capri of Mumford High School, Detroit; the Lantern of Eastern High School, Lansing; the Oracle of J. W. Sexton High School, Lansing, and the Echo of Grand Blanc High School.

Included in the second place winners were the Theresian of the Shrine of the Little Flower High School, Royal Oak, and the Blue and Gold of Redford High School.

Entries were judged on the basis of school enrollments as well as by method of reproduction.

Plant expansion and retooling for the new cars involved:

Installing of more than 600 new machine tools in the V-8 engine plant. Every piece of equipment in this plant is new, Critchfield said.

Expansion of foundry building, with extensive new equipment;

Expansion and rearranging of the differential and axel plant;

Completion of a new car finishing building with latest design in ovens;

Addition to the personnel-purchasing building and a new retail delivery building.

Speaking of the general business outlook Critichfield said: "Our country's economy is now in a very healthy state, ready to continue to move ahead with the continued growth of our nation. All indices of our country's economic status point to a steady improvement.

"We estimate that there will be a market for 5,500,000 cars the coming year. We expect to gain very materially with respect to our competition."

Columnist Jackson Dies in Detroit at 60

DETROIT (UP)—H. C. L. Jackson, who for nearly 25 years wrote the "Listening In on Detroit" column in the Detroit News, died Monday night in suburban Wyandotte General Hospital of a heart attack.

The 60-year-old Jackson entered the hospital a week ago for treatment of a heart ailment which he had for eight years.

The Detroit News said it would carry Jackson's column in today's edition but the newspaper said other prepared columns might not be printed.

Jackson started writing his column in the 1920's and it has been a permanent feature in the News ever since. He started his newspaper career in 1913 after graduating from the University of Michigan.

He was survived by his wife, the former Gretchen G. Dold of Buffalo, N. Y., and two sons, Daniel D. and Harold Jr.

Funeral arrangements are incomplete.

3 Traffic Violations Cost $130 or 80 Days

Richard Skaggs, 34, of 22791 Albion, Farmington, may serve up to 80 days in Oakland county Jail if fines and costs on three traffic counts against him are not paid.

Skaggs pleaded guilty before Farmington Justice John J. Schulte Jr., yesterday to drunk driving, using defective auto equipment, and driving with a rejected operator's license.

On the first count he was fined $100 and $25 costs or 60 days in jail; on the second, $10 fine, $5 costs or 10 days in jail; and for the third charge Justice Schulte sentenced Skaggs to 10 days in jail.

Demonstrators Slash in Egypt

British Withdrawal Pact to Be Signed in Guarded Building

CAIRO, Egypt (UP)— Violence flared at a demonstration today to celebrate the imminent signing of the British-Egyptian agreement on evacuation of troops from the Suez Canal zone.

Police blamed Communist and Moslem Brotherhood agents. The outbreak caused Egypt's military regime to put the police and armed forces into a state of alert.

A youth rally demonstration was stoned and two buses wrecked in the Giza area near Cairo. Several persons were injured.

Police said the demonstration was planned to celebrate the signing of the treaty scheduled for tonight at the heavily guarded Hall of Pharaohs in Parliament.

The precaution was taken to block any last-minute attempt by the Moslem Brotherhood to wreck the ceremony, marking the end of 72 years of British armed intervention in Egypt. Premier Abdel Gamal Nasser called a Cabinet meeting this morning to go over the treaty draft on which complete agreement was reportedly reached last night.

Nasser has accused the Brotherhood of seeking to take over the government.

General Motors Gives $100,000 to UF Drive

United Fund drive is the mold from which "all creative acts emerge," he stated.

"The ability or lack of ability to contribute by voluntary gestures makes or breaks a community."

He suggested four questions which UF solicitors might ask when contacting prospective contributors.

1. "Are you aware?" Do you see only what you want to see or do you look at people in need and help them?

Each problem must be seen, stated, studied and solved, Crane said, "but the hardest part is to see it. When you have a community that sees and cares, you get things done."

2. "Do you care?" Are you concerned about the welfare of persons outside your immediate group? "You can't participate in the United Fund if you only work for your own gang."

3. "Will you be fair?" If you get the other person's view you can "create amazing community changes."

4. "Will you share? When you give more than you can afford, it's a spiritual deposit in the bank of the eternities. A new world is born of mutual devotion and dedication."

Prior to Crane's address, door prizes were awarded, with cub scout Johnny Kimball, 10, of 2030 Ogemaw Rd. and boy scout Ronny Newman, 13, of 55 Waldo St. assisting master of ceremonies Glenn H. Griffin in the distribution.

Two songs were presented by the "Key Finders", a local barbershop quartet. After viewing a special UF movie, workers picked up their campaign kits and left to begin solicitations.

The breakfast was sponsored by the Community National Bank.

LARGEST DRYDOCK—Tugs slowly inch a huge 400-foot floating drydock, made of enough concrete to cover an acre of ground five inches thick, through draw bridges at Seattle en route to a shipyard for fittings. The $4,157,000 oceanic dock—largest of its kind every built in this country—will be turned over to the Navy after being outfitted with necessary equipment, including crew's quarters and gun emplacements.

Espionage Jury Expected to Act

May Indict or Clear Former Code-Breaker Joseph Petersen

WASHINGTON (INS)—A federal grand jury may report today on the mysterious espionage charges against Joseph S. Petersen Jr., a veteran code breaker for the top-secret National Security Agency.

The special panel opened its investigation yesterday into allegations that Petersen violated the espionage laws in a crime "just one step short of treason."

It was learned that the Justice Department has since broadened the hush-hush case to include the possibility that Petersen plotted with others and did not act alone.

The special panel of 16 men and five women heard three government witnesses yesterday, shortly after a judge instructed them either to indict or to clear the physicist-mathematician who worked almost 12 years for the security agency before he was fired on Oct. 1.

Friedman was understood to be a consultant to the super-secret agency, where Petersen had a $7,700-a-year job as a "research analyst" and code-breaker.

Petersen was expecting an important promotion in the agency just a few days before he was arrested by the FBI. The bespectacled former professor has been free on a scaled-down $10,000 bail for the past week.

In a vain attempt to keep him in prison on higher bail the government argued that his alleged crime may have had a far-reaching effect upon the nation's military and foreign affairs.

They refused to state, however, what foreign nation may be implicated in the case. Other sources have said it was not Russia.

Research by Edison to Glow Brighter existing products and processes, and will give birth to entirely new instruments, appliances and services."

Looking into the future, Sarnoff predicted revolutionary changes in television kindled by the electronic amplification and conversion of light.

" . . . I believe that the TV tube of today will eventually be eliminated. It will be displaced by a thin, flat screen like a picture on a wall. Or, it may be an easel-like frame that will set on your living room table and, being portable, can be moved to any other part of the room or house. If desired, the same program could be received on a number of screens in different rooms of the house.

"The pictures could be controlled from a little television box no bigger than a jewel case or a cigar box. No cabinet will be required. The television box will contain all the controls—tuning, volume, light, station selector—and a knob will enable you to make the image larger or smaller, and in black-and-white or in color to suit your eye and your mood."

The general made it clear that television "is only one of the avenues through which electronic light will flow into daily life" and added:

"Right down the line it will provide substitutes for present types of light used for illumination."

On the subject of atomic energy, Sarnoff predicted that research would lead to "atomic generators of electricity small enough to be installed for use in the home."

He said that when atomic batteries become available they will bring into the realm of practicality a long array of miniature devices, such as wrist-watch radios, or vest-pocket radio telephones, or electric shavers no bigger than a penknife.

"The fact that electronics and atomics are unfolding simultaneously," he declared, "is a portent of incalculable changes ahead.

"Never before have two such mighty forces been unleashed at the same time. Together, electronics and atomics are fated to dwarf even the industrial revolutions brought by steam and electricity."

Grocery Store Robbed of $174 in Merchandise

Over $174 worth of meat and other articles were hauled away from a grocery store at 302 Central St. during a nighttime breakin, Pontiac Police reported today.

Owner of the store, Dominic Mandelari of 25 Oak St., Auburn Heights, said thieves stole 100 pounds of assorted meat, 23 pounds of cheese, 17 pounds of coffee, 51 pounds of shortening, 15 cartons of cigarettes, 34 cartons of candy and six cartons of gum.

Police said entry to the building was gained by breaking a rear window.

Heavy Floods Hit Scotland, North England

LONDON (UP)—Two days of heavy rain brought the worst floods in 20 years to parts of Scotland, northern Ireland and northern England today.

In Glasgow a boy was swept into a sewer by a swollen creek and drowned. In parts of the city, streets were under three feet of water and residents traveled by rowboat.

The main England-Scotland railway between Beattock and Lockerbie was blocked by water and landslides, forcing a long detour on side lines. Trains from the north arrived in London up to three hours late.

Firemen rescued dozens of families from flooded homes in Cumberland and southern Scotland.

Herbert L. Sharlock

Service for Former Detroiter Herbert L. Sharlock will be held today in Elmira, N. Y. He died Saturday in Canandaigua, N. Y.

Former advertising and public relations director for Bendix Aviation Corp., Mr. Sharlock retired in 1947 after 27 years with the company. He was a member of the Bloomfield Hills Country Club.

James Simpson

Word has been received of the death of James Simpson of San Fernando, Calif. He died Sunday night of a heart attack.

Mr. Simpson formerly lived in Pontiac on Oneida Rd. and is survived by his two daughters, Mrs. Jack Hood and Mrs. Clyde Helms, both of San Fernando.

The funeral will be held Wednesday at 2:30 p.m. from the San Fernando Funeral Home.

GOP Advantage Noted by Nixon

Believes Election Fight Will Be Won or Lost in Final 2 Weeks

WASHINGTON (INS) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon starts his final 10-state pre-election swing today convinced that the Republican battle for Congress will be won or lost in the final two weeks of the campaign.

Nixon declared in a pre-departure statement that "we enter the home stretch with an advantage. The public is becoming increasingly aware of the barrenness of and complete lack of genuine issues in our opposition's campaign.

"For ourselves, we have the great Eisenhower administration's record, the magnificent program, which has brought us peace, stabilized our economy, safeguarded our internal security, and restored honesty and decency to government.

"The people realize that to continue this program, the President must have a Republican 84th Congress."

The vice president flies to Pennsylvania today to address an outdoor rally and a luncheon in Pittsburgh and a reception and a GOP finance dinner in Philadelphia.

He returns to Washington tonight and departs again early Wednesday for speeches in Illinois, Montana, Wyoming, Nevada, Arizona, Idaho, Oregon, California and Washington.

Dulles Leaves Today for New Paris Talks

egy planned by the U. S. for the Paris talks. Then the chief executive conferred with Adm. Arthur W. Radford, chairman of the joint chiefs of staff, and moved into a full-dress session on defense problems with Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson, Dulles, Radford, and other members of the joint chiefs of staff.

The latter discussions revolved around the Far East—including the Chinese Communist threat to Formosa and differences with South Korea over U. S. relief policies in that war-ravaged country.

Meanwhile, President Eisenhower announced that two "non-political" talks to be made by him in New York City this week will be expanded into 30-minute addresses.

They are scheduled before the American Jewish Tercentenary dinner tomorrow night and at the Alfred E. Smith Memorial dinner Thursday evening.

Since the talks were billed as non-political, they were expected to deal with several aspects of foreign policy and the worldwide fight of the free world against Communist aggression.

Kellogg Estate $35,000

GRAND RAPIDS (UP) — Paul Kellogg, president of Kellogg Vinegar Co., who died Oct. 12, left an estate valued at $35,000. The sum was revealed Monday in a petition filed at probate court. Kellogg's vinegar firm interest was left to his son, Paul, of Lowell, and the remainder of the estate was set up in two trusts from which Kellogg's widow, Edith, will receive quarterly payments.

Williams vs. Leonard

State Is Assured Aggressive Governor

Editor's Note: This is the second in a series of articles designed to acquaint readers with the leading candidates for state offices in the November elections.

LANSING (AP)—No matter who is elected, Michigan's next governor will be youngish, aggressive and packed with personality.

Again, the Democrats offer the voters Gov. G. Mennen Williams, 43-year-old scion of wealthy toiletries and pickle families, while the Republicans have put forward Donald S. Leonard, 51-year-old former commissioner of the Detroit Police and the Michigan State Police.

If Williams wins he will be the first man in Michigan history to win a fourth consecutive two-year term.

If Leonard wins he will have accomplished what no man has achieved in Michigan yet—beaten Williams at the polls. Leonard will then have broken Williams' three-term run, the longest in modern Michigan history and the first on the Democratic side of the ballot.

Williams started in public life as an attorney for the Social Security Board in Washington in 1936 and 1937.

Then he became an assistant attorney general of Michigan as a follower of the late Frank Murphy, former governor and U. S. Supreme Court justice. He followed Murphy to Washington and was an assistant in the U. S. attorney general's office.

Leonard began his climb as a trooper with the State Police and rose through the post of detective sergeant, lieutenant, captain and district commander of the Metropolitan District from 1930 to 1945.

He became superintendent of the uniform division in 1945, acting commissioner in 1946 and commissioner in 1947. In this post he served until 1952, when he retired and immediately was selected by Detroit's Mayor Cobo to head that city's police system. Leonard resigned that post last spring to make the run for governor.

Williams was deputy OPA director of Michigan in 1946 and 1947 and the Democratic member of the State Liquor Control Commission in 1947-48 under appointment from former Gov. Kim Sigler, a Republican.

While serving as a police trooper, Leonard studied law. He is a graduate of Wayne University and studied at the University of Michigan Law School. He has a wide membership in legal and law enforcement organizations.

Williams attended Salisbury Preparatory School in Connecticut and was graduated from Princeton in 1933 and from the University of Michigan Law School in 1936.

Williams went into World War II as a junior grade lieutenant in the Naval Reserve and saw active duty as an air combat intelligence officer on the aircraft carriers Bunker Hill, Essex, Hornet and Yorktown. He left service with the rank of lieutenant commander.

Leonard was a member of the American civil defense mission which went to England in 1941 to observe Nazi bombing and help develop America's civil defense.

He was a special consultant to the federal civil defense director and director of the state civil defense during much of the war. At the same time, and following the war, he served as state fuel administrator.

Both men, native Detroiters, are married. Leonard has two children and Williams three.

Jap Town Suffers Mammoth Hangover

TOKYO (AP)—This was the day of the mammoth hangover in the mountain community of Yamato, which has just concluded its 1,047th observance of "Mountain Moonshine Sake Festival."

The festival, north of Tokyo, opens each year with "sacrificing" a bottle of new-made moonshine. Afterward, it is traditional that all participants get thoroughly soused.

Flood Spends Sunday Punch

No Great Damage Seen as Tame Ohio Moves Downstream

POMEROY, Ohio (AP)—This village of 4,000, as accustomed to high water as the next one, waited without any apparent excitement today as the Ohio River's latest eruption moved downstream.

It was hardly a flood—just high water. The Ohio's Sunday punch was spent, and nearly all the force that brought death and destruction upstream appeared to be gone.

The cold, muddy waters which had taken four lives Sunday in Pittsburgh were expected to invade only a few bottom lands in these parts.

* * *

Autumn rains tore the river from its banks Sunday in Pittsburgh and 400 families evacuated at Wheeling, W. Va. The crest at Wheeling was 44.7 feet, nearly 9 feet above flood stage.

Its flood force apparently spent, the river leaked into some lowlands downstream, where alerted farmers had hastily picked their late corn. Occupants of lowland areas had cleared some basements but feared no first-floor damage.

* * *

At Wheeling, city officials challenged a large damage estimate. One official said reports of the damage were "exaggerated."

The Wheeling News-Register said the flood caused "no very serious property damage." The paper made its reply to an estimate by the Army Corps of Engineers, which set flood damage at $6,700,000 for the Wheeling area.

* * *

There was no immediate comment from the engineer's office at Pittsburgh.

Col. Edgar B. Sykes, West Virginia civilian defense director, said not more than 25 to 50 families actually evacuated their homes. Others, he said, may have left voluntarily or rode out the flood with friends on higher ground.

The Wheeling Intelligencer said, "Virtually all the mayors of other towns and municipalities in the Wheeling area agreed that outside reports of evacuations and damages had been exaggerated."

Mexico Finds Bodies of 6 Mountain Climbers

MEXICO CITY (AP)—The bodies of six mountain climbers swept away by an avalanche on Mt. Popocatepetl were found last night in a crevasse near the 17,887-foot summit. Two other members of the party who escaped the snowy slide were rescued earlier.

The dead included two women. It was the highest toll for a single mountain accident in Mexico's history.

Hal Boyle Says:

La Rosa Earns $360,000 Without Finding Humility

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—In the 365 days since Arthur Godfrey fired Julius La Rosa publicly on a television program, his prodigal protege has earned almost $1,000 a day.

The big-shouldered, curly-haired, young singer's income topped that of President Eisenhower. During the year he made $360,000, and might have rung the cash register even harder if he hadn't taken a month's vacation to rest his voice.

* * *

But how long will the golden shower last? He now is among the top 10 regular performers in the night club, theater and TV guest star circuit, but will he endure?

He went up like a rocket, and there are those who still predict he will come down the same way. Others feel that Julie, now only 24, will still be in the big time after his ex-patron, Arthur Godfrey, is retired and growing roses on his Virginia estate.

Tom Rockwell, president of General Artists Corp., signed La Rosa to a contract guaranteeing him $100,000 a year for three years shortly before Godfrey discharged the singer. The contract was said at the time to have annoyed Godfrey, who felt the boy was "getting too big for his britches."

* * *

"La Rosa is a better risk today than he was then," says Rockwell. "I'd be glad to make him the same offer again now, but it isn't necessary.

"He's a natural. He's young, he works hard, and he's learned an awful lot. He hasn't shown any signs of fading, and so far we've only touched the major spots in the country.

"He may have his ups and downs. They all do. But he'll be up there for a long time. Our only problem now is to get him another hit record."

* * *

His associates feel they may have this in "Mobile," La Rosa's sixth recording. One record, "Eh Cumpari," sold 1,100,000 copies, earned him nearly $55,000. Another, "Anywhere I Wander, brought him $30,000.

"Only about three to five records a year hit the million mark," one associate explained. "Some top singers, including Frank Sinatra, go for years without turning out one."

La Rosa, who has lost much of his brashness but admits he hasn't achieved "humility" yet and doubts that few people ever really do, is alternately humble and boyishly hopeful in talking over his future.

* * *

He is no longer a prodigal or a protege. He spends his spare time reading books on religion and philosophy, books he doesn't always understand but which he feels will make him more mature.

"When I was in the Navy, I got $225 a month and thought I knew what a buck was," he recalled.

"Then when I got on the Godfrey program and began making several hundred dollars a week, well—maybe it went to my head a little. I never kept a stable of four Cadillacs or anything like that. But I did all the things a kid dreams of doing with money. I wanted to have a good time, and I wanted my friends to have a good time.

* * *

"But now I've lost the feeling of wanting to get rid of my money. I've grown up some.

"In the last year I think I've learned a lot. I've learned to say 'thank you' when somebody does something for me or says something nice to me. I always did appreciate those things, but in the past maybe I took them too much for granted.

* * *

"I've learned more about my business—how to adjust to situations, how to feel more at home with an audience."

* * *

La Rosa wants to polish up his performing skill with some more "roadwork," and then, perhaps next spring, launch a TV program of his own, so he can spend more time with his parents in the new home he has built for them.

"As my mother always says, 'If God wants it, you will get it.' But this traveling is no permanent way to live. I like home cooking."

Caught young in the web of big money, publicity and show world fame, La Rosa is still broodingly seeking to establish personal philosophy that will carry him through.

"To have peace in yourself—that must be thet greatest thing in the world," he said soberly. "That is all I am looking for. To me that is the real thing in living. It is Endsville itself."

...to bring you the new Super-Refined No-Nox Gasoline that gives more power-with-protection than you've ever known.

What's more, besides giving your engine more complete protection, new Super-Refined Gulf NO-NOX gives you extra gas mileage in the short-trip, stop-and-go driving motorists do most . . . no knock, no pre-ignition . . . instant starts and fast, fuel-saving warm-up.

Give Once for All 55

An army of good citizens today started what we think is Pontiac's most important task this year.

Between now and November 4 these volunteers under the chairmanship of Frank S. Lyndall hope to collect $525,823. That much is needed to finance the work of 55 local, State and National health, welfare and social service organizations in the Pontiac area for 1955.

This year's goal is $38,623 more than the 1953 objective of $487,200, but only 3.7 per cent more than was collected last year. Of this year's grand total $306,997 will go to the 13 agencies in Pontiac's Community Chest.

Since last year two new agencies have joined the United Fund "give once for all" program. They are the Michigan League for Nursing and the State division of the Michigan Children's Aid Society.

Every one of the solicitors in this sixth annual United Fund campaign is contributing his services to prove again that Pontiac not only recognizes its social obligations but meets them. Pontiac hasn't failed in any of these vital campaigns. We won't fail now if everyone does his part.

When the solicitor calls, don't put him off. Open your heart and your purse and give generously.

Rain, Rain, Rain

Certainly it strikes a sympathetic chord in an area which so far in October has experienced the heaviest total rainfall since weather records have been kept. The rain which fell over the weekend boosted the total for any one month to an all time high of almost eight and three-quarters inches.

Fortunately for Pontiac and in contrast with other Michigan communities, damage here from the excessive rainfall has been slight and there have been no casualties. Things are far different, however, along the path of Hurricane Hazel and the toll of death, injuries and property damage continues to mount.

The torrential rains which accompanied the season's worst tropical storm have caused serious floods in Ohio and Pennsylvania and in the Toronto area of Ontario. Deaths there have passed the 50 mark. More than twice that number are missing and a large area is isolated by flood waters.

At least some silver lining already shows in the clouds which have darkened Oakland's skies for many days. Our own Joe Haas says the Winter wheat crop never looked better and the record rain at least should check the speed with which the county's water table has been sinking.

Moreover, Weatherman Oak says Hurricane Hazel has broken up the Bermuda high. That was an area of high pressure which permitted moist air from the Gulf of Mexico to reach Michigan. The change will mean an end to the rain, he says, and may well let cool and dry air come down from the North.

1,743 Security Risks

It is natural and proper that the Eisenhower Administration's effort to create a better loyalty checkup system should be subject to periodic scrutiny.

At the outset it was decided that loyalty should not be the exclusive test of a person's fitness to serve the Government. For that reason a more inclusive definition, "security risk," was adopted.

This term covers various character defects. It even could refer to a situation over which the individual had no control and for which there could be ascribed to him no personal blame, such as relatives with objectionable political ideas.

A few days ago the Civil Service Commission released the latest report on the operation of this program. It covered the period from May, 1953 to June of this year and showed a total of 6,926 separations from Government service. Of these cases, 1,743 were classed as including evidence of subversive activities and associations.

The report emphasizes that none of the 6,926 cases necessarily were Communists or fellow travelers. Also some of the 1,743 security risks resigned without knowing that there was derogatory information against them in the files.

There no doubt is room for improvement. No system is perfect. Yet it seems to us that the Administration has made good its pledge to develop and use a far better loyalty program. During the preceding administrations poor security risks and outright Communists flocked into government service. Now they are being weeded out. This is a change which all but the ultra ultra "liberals" will approve.

The American Institute of Biological Scientists says frogs have regional accents. It is assumed that northern frogs say "Garrrrumph!" while southern frogs omit the "r's."

The typical elderly person often remarks that he is old. He derives a great kick out of hearing and trying to believe the response, "Oh, you aren't really old!"

If Keego Harbor becomes a city, and Chairman of the incorporation committee says it will, it will enjoy the distinction of having the quickest growth of any city or village in this area. Fifty years ago it was just a trolley stop, with hardly a building. Most of its area then was farm land or swamp. It was named for the Cass Lake harbor on which it is located, "Keego" being the Indian name for a big fish.

A cock pheasant and his harem have frequented the section just northwest of Wisner Stadium, and within the Pontiac city limits, for several years, always disappearing when the bird season opens, and

J. F. Flanary Urges All Pontiac Citizens to Join Campaign for a New Hospital

(Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.)

As a member of the Elks Lodge Sick Committee, I pay weekly visits to members who are ill.

I notice that at Pontiac General Hospital the influx of patients is so great that to handle the overflow, the patients are placed in beds in the corridors where they are deprived of privacy and are subjected to the noise and confusion of normal hospital operation which reaches an almost unbearable crescendo during visiting hours.

We could expect to encounter this condition in the event of a catastrophe in the community but we are operating in normal times. I shudder to think what might happen if a catastrophe should occur.

I am of the opinion, Pontiac citizens should get off the collective seat of their pants and make a determined effort to have an all out campaign to obtain a new hospital. We can institute various methods for obtaining funds—taxes, voluntary contributions, etc.

I suggest that we consider a new and larger hospital to be built in a location away from the turmoil of traffic and with adequate parking space. The wooded section near the City golf course would be a good spot.

C. K. Young Suggests New Courthouse Site

A courthouse should be conveniently located to the County Jail and the law offices. Our present courthouse site is just about the most valuable corner in Pontiac.

I would suggest the present courthouse site be sold and the money used to purchase the property and build a new courthouse across the street from the County Jail. It would have frontage on both Wayne and Pine Streets and would be an ideal location.

What Was the Good Samaritan's Job? Even Dr. Crane's Mother Didn't Know

My mother has read the Bible from cover to cover more than 72 times. But she still couldn't tell me what profession the Good Samaritan belonged to. See if you are a good detective by analyzing the 3 Bible verses quoted below.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case M-344: Jennie Crane, aged 76, is my mother.

She is a devout Bible reader and has been a stabilizing moral force wherever she has lived.

She taught us children to read the Bible. I started when I was seven. And I had read the entire Bible clear through from Genesis to Revelation 10 times by the time I had finished college.

But my mother had read it through 72 times before she quit keeping count. She still reads it daily.

So recently I said, "Mom, you've read about the Good Samaritan many times, haven't you?" and she nodded assent.

"All right," I went on, "can you tell me what business or profession the Good Samaritan belonged to?'

She shook her head.

"The Bible doesn't say," she added.

But I told her the Bible does tell us what his profession was, and then I read her the following verses (Luke 10:33-35):

"But a certain Samaritan, as he journeyed, came where he was and when he saw him, he had compassion on him,

"And went to him, and bound up his wounds, pouring in oil and wine, and set him on his own beast, and brought him to an inn, and took care of him.

"And on the morrow when he departed, he took out two pence, and gave them to the host, and said unto him, Take care of him; and whatsoever thou spendest more, when I come again, I will repay thee."

Suppose I ask you readers of this modern newspaper to look over those three verses once more and see if you can detect the Good Samaritan's profession. What would you say?

Well, I'll tell you what I revealed to my mother to surprise her. And I'd like to add that the Bible will give you new slants on old passages therein, each time you re-read this most famous book.

"Mom," I began, "the Good Samaritan was a traveling salesman, or 'drummer' as they used to call him in past generations."

"How do you know?" she persisted.

"By just one word," I replied. "And that word is 'again'. For who makes a regular territory again and again, month after month? Who would thus be well known to a hotel keeper? It would be a traveling salesman."

My mother nodded her head.

"I never had thought of it in that way," she admitted.

For over 35 years I have taught a Bible class each Sabbath day. And I always enjoy adapting the Bible situations to modern times.

For example, in those three verses quoted above, you will find several remarkable innovations.

First, the Good Samaritan started using alcohol as an antiseptic, for he poured wine into the victim's wounds.

He also started the first private, paying hospital, by renting a room in the Inn or local hotel for the wounded man.

And the Good Samaritan then transformed the hotel manager into the first superintendent of a private hospital.

All of those things are evident when you take this new slant, yet many Bible scholars have read those verses dozens of times and have never seen the modern parallelism.

Tomorrow I'll tell you some more ways by which modern psychology helps increase interest in Bible reading.

Many Believe President Won't Seek a 2nd Term

By ED CREAGH
(For James Marlow)

WASHINGTON (AP)—One reporter's opinion: President Eisenhower will not run for a second term.

This is climbing out on a long limb. What the voters do Nov. 2—whether they give the Republicans another two years in control of Congress—could have a lot to do with making up the President's mind.

Unless, that is, he already has made it up. This reporter's impression is that he has.

* * *

Mind you, this is only an impression—an educated hunch at best. The only man who can say with certainty what's in the President's mind is the President himself. And, following well-established practice, he's keeping his thoughts on this question very much to himself.

So any forecast that is more than idle crystal gazing must be based on (1) what the President's attitude seems to be, as well as newsmen covering his activities can determine it, and (2) what the people around him think he will do.

It is from these sources that this reporter, who sometimes covers the White House, has formed the impression Eisenhower will not run again—always barring some unforeseen factor.

* * *

James B. Reston wrote in the New York Times recently that in his opinion it is doubtful the President will agree to run. Reston quoted an unnamed close associate of the President's as telling him:

"The one thing that really makes his eyes light up is talk of his farm in Gettysburg."

Others have told this reporter much the same thing. And I've been able to watch the President inspect the almost completed remodeling job on his Pennsylvania farmhouse.

It was hard to avoid the impression that here was a man lovingly planning a home—his first real home in many a year—that he meant to live in, and not just retire to on weekends.

* * *

Another strong impression is that, while Eisenhower is determined to do a good job as president, he still doesn't like the job and still less does he like the party politics—and some of the politicians—that go with it.

There is fairly general agreement among those in daily contact with the President that, if his personal wishes were all that counted, he'd be delighted to say farewell to the White House in January 1957.

But it's taken for granted there will be tremendous pressure from the Republicans to persuade Eisenhower, their first successful candidate for the presidency since 1928, to run again. And there are many who feel this pressure, which would include appeals to patriotism and duty, would be too strong to resist.

* * *

The argument also is put forward that if the Democrats win control of Congress next month Eisenhower might want to run again—to seek "vindication."

Maybe. But the President could argue that (1) he has done his duty by putting in four years as president on top of an unparalleled military career; (2) the bulk of his legislative program was enacted in his first two years; and (3) if the people want Democrats in office they can darned well have Democrats in office, and he'll go home to Gettysburg.

* * *

It may be recalled that Sherman Adams, the President's chief assistant, made a speech a while back saying Eisenhower might not run in '56 if the Democrats won in '54.

Eisenhower said at the time Adams was only speculating—that he hadn't discussed his plans with anybody.

But if he didn't say Adams was right, he didn't say Adams was wrong either. It could well be that a Democratic victory would only strengthen a feeling on the part of the President that he's done his bit and should be allowed to wash his hands of politics—and wash them in Pennsylvania spring water.

Baering Down

By ARTHUR "BUGS" BAER

All Mendes-France has to do to rearm Germany is to let his Foreign Legion speak its native language.

It's neat to inhale the news France went along with Benelux and the other automatic appliance nations. We never suspected Dulles had that ace in the cookie jar.

Optimism and trust have taken the place of suspicion and resentment with a slight service charge for mailing.

That puts a new complexion on the make-up towels. The pictures show Dulles, Eden and Adenauer all laughing together. We hope it's at the same thing.

This distillation of the Big Three from the nine powers is a feather in the omelet of Mendes-France. There were seventeen master plans. They shook 'em up in a hat while Winnie Churchill was wearing it.

Here's the situation in phase two of the alternate detours. They have agreed to agree. But not what on.

If my reasoning confuses you think what it does to me.

Germany will be permitted to rearm one war map and two pins at a time.

The Big Three will end the German occupation by next April, come what May or even June. The Allies retain their say-so over West Berlin, the right to negotiate with Moscow and the custody of one stork egg to every chimney.

Mr. Krupp will look under the stair carpet for the plains for guided hurricanes, deep-dish tennis courts, contract egg-beaters and stratospheric slum clearance.

As usual France and Germany have a bond of agreement flowing between them. It's the Rhine.

Dr. Brady Doubts That Americans Have Better Food Than the Europeans

By WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.

Several persons have complained that I harp too much on nutritional deficiency and ignore the actual causes of common ailments.

They write remarkably similar letters; all accuse me of harping, and all come from a city where I've been out for years and then in again—I hope this is not the start of agitation to get me out again.

Of course if I cared to be a nice man I could print a series of pieces about common ailments, describing them in terms calculated to make you wiseacres think you know at least as much as I do about them, and filling the blank space with piffle such as "it is believed to be," "fresh air, good food and plenty of rest to maintain good resistance" and many other stereotyped expressions that sound nice but don't mean anything.

Some people who complain about my harping on nutritional deficiency probably take at face value the familiar Yankee boast that we have the highest scale of living in the world.

So far as "scale of living" applies to food, I doubt that Americans generally have better food than some European peoples have, the Danes, Swedes and Norwegians, for instance.

Perhaps it won't weigh with the wiseacres, but there is a good reason why I harp so much on nutritional deficiency. It is this: nutritional deficiency is the chief cause of our common ailments other than respiratory infections.

In other words, moderate nutritional deficiencies, insufficient daily intake of essential vitamins, minerals and/or complete proteins through the years account for the functional weaknesses or disturbances which constitute common ailments.

For instance, familiar complaints of millions of Americans who are deprived of nothing but knowledge are actually the symptoms of moderate beriberi, and, as thousands of these semi-invalids have learned, the complaints clear up if they follow an improved diet or supplement their ordinary diet with an optimal daily ration of vitamin B complex for a year.

Again, although Iodin is not ordinarily included with the minerals, it is astonishing how much difference lack of a tiny fraction of a grain of Iodin in the day's intake makes in an individual's physical and mental health and efficiency.

A familiar complaint of adults who suffer from iodin deficiency is that they feel chilly in circumstances which normal individuals consider comfortable. And so, too often, these semi-invalids insist on keeping the room overheated and unventilated, regardless of the discomfort this gives others.

Then there are a good many women 30 to 35 who have a change of life—no, no, not what the fishwives call a change of life, but a change of personality and temperament from their former cheerful disposition to a glum, moody state that family and friends can't understand.

I invite the chilly ones and the gloomy ones to send a stamped, self-addressed envelop and ask in writing, signed, for the pamphlet The Iodin Ration.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long, pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. Brady if a stamped, self addressed envelope is enclosed, etc.

Kitchen Packed With Ideas to Ease Housewife's Work

By JANET ODELL

That specially built trailer parked at the Tel-Huron shopping center contains a dream kitchen. Unlike most dreams, this one can come true.

Engineers and home economists from half a dozen universities combined their knowledge and efforts to plan a kitchen that would allow even a handicapped homemaker to perform efficiently in her women's sphere. Consumers Power Company made the kitchen on wheels an actuality. They call it not an ideal kitchen, but an "idea" kitchen.

The "Easy Does It" kitchen will be on display today and through Thursday, open from 2 to 4 and 7 to 9 p.m. each day.

It would be the rare homemaker who could not see some ideas she might adapt for herself, whether her present kitchen has all the latest labor saving devices or whether she has to make-do with inefficient, outmoded equipment.

It is interesting that the first center of the "Easy Does It" kitchen (there are seven centers in all) is the rest and planning center. All homemakers need to plan; more homemakers would benefit by a rest center. Included in this part of the kitchen is a small, compact, business-like desk for the housewife.

Because the counters are placed at a convenient height for the cook who sits while she works, she should not tire easily while mixing a cake or putting together a pie. There are no bowls piled on the shelves behind the sliding glass doors (easy to clean—no fingerprints show). All the utensils are placed individually and in the most accessible position.

Plastic and lightweight aluminum are used wherever possible to conserve energy. The mixer is on a pull-out shelf similar to ones used by stenographers for their typewriters. The chair for all the sitting jobs is a posture-supporting swivel one.

Bins are used everywhere for storage and that bugbear to store, the electric roaster, has its own rolling stand that fits in under the wall oven. It can stay in there while it cooks the roast for dinner, then be wheeled right to the table for serving.

On the wall back of one long counter is a strip outlet containing electrical outlets. Below on pull out shelves are stored all the small appliances.

There is duplication of equipment throughout, wherever the same utensil has double use. There are, for instance, three sets of measuring spoons and cups. There is a second small sink in the freezing center, also a one-burner stove to use while freezing or canning food.

The "Easy does it" kitchen cannot be copied completely; that was not the aim of its designers. But it can serve to stimulate homemakers to think of their own kitchens in a different light. It will be the unusual woman who will go away from this trailer kitchen not mumbling to herself, "Now, if I moved the mixer to the cupboard next to the sink . . ."

Mexico Makes Dent in Nation's Illiteracy

MEXICO CITY (UP)—Almost 40 per cent of the population of Mexico are unable to read and write, but the nation is making progress in its campaign against illiteracy.

Ten years ago, 58 per cent, or 10,369,000 persons, out of the total of 21,674,000 were illiterate.

The latest government estimate pegs the figure of 8,946,000 of a total population of 28,000,000.

Most of the progress in the last decade has been made in the younger age groups. Large numbers of older people attend free classes in reading and writing, however.

The campaign against illiteracy is being directed by Mexico's public education ministry. Private individuals, from President Adolfo Ruiz Cortines down, business organizations, banks and labor unions have been cooperating. Some offer financial aid, others provide places for classes and still others provide both.

Of the 774 different readings and writing centers in the Mexico City area, 268 are sponsored by individual groups.

Edward G. Robinson Jr. Fined, on Probation

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Edward G. Robinson Jr. was fined $100 and placed on probation for a year after he pleaded guilty yesterday to a drunk charge.

The actor's son is to be tried Nov. 16 in Santa Monica Superior Court on two charges of armed robbery involving holdups of two taxicab drivers. He is at liberty on $10,000 bond in that case.

Free distribution of seeds and the collection of statistical information accounted for much of the money spent by the Department of Agriculture in its early years.

The next total eclipse of the sun will be June 20, 1955 and will be visible over southeastern Asia and the Philippines.

Jane Russell Finds Wolf Whistles Are Worth Their Weight in Jewels

By EDDIE CANTOR

When Jane Russell first appeared on the billboards and in the picture of "The Outlaw," she elicited wolf whistles from her male admirers coast to coast. To her, these whistles were worth their weight in jewels, flowers and champagne.

Several years ago when she was making a picture with Bob Hope, a green-eyed gal on the same lot said she thought it was foolish to have Jane dressed in a $2,000 evening gown. Hope spoke up. "You're wrong, honey. When you own a beautiful shiny Cadillac convertible, you don't park it in a two-bit garage."

It may be difficult for you to believe there's another Jane Russell—a gal who is deeply religious, a devoted daughter, a loving wife and mother. She goes to church regularly and doesn't have to guess at the words in the Good Book.

She knows what it's all about. Jane told me, "I was brought up to believe in the Bible—that God is up there taking care of me, and if I do right by him, he'll do right by me. I just practice the Golden Rule, and you can't get anything better than that."

A while ago, before she went East for personal appearances, Jane caused a riot in one of our local department stores. Easily recognized, hundreds of people gathered around while she shopped.

The clerk, a Jane Russell fan, was trembling. "Miss Russell, you don't know what a thrill this is for me to be waiting on you. When I tell it to my family tonight, they'll never believe it." Having made her purchases, Jane wrote out a check and handed it to the clerk. The clerk looked up and said, "Pardon me, Miss Russell, do you have any identification?"

Driver Beats Ticket With Fatal Accident

NEW YORK (AP)—Saul J. Allen, head of the Traffic Summons Control Bureau, has learned that a New Jersey driver who received a ticket for speeding last Thursday won't be able to answer it.

Joseph John Orrick, of North Bergen, N. J., received a summons for speeding on the Bronx River Parkway Thursday.

Police reported he let his companion, John Brown, of New York City, take over the driving after the ticket was issued.

Two hours later, Brown crashed into a concrete wall, killing both men.

Canadian Mother Gives Birth to Quadruplets

BATHURST, N. B. (AP)—Quadruplets—three girls and a boy—were born in Hotel Dieu Hospital here last night to Mrs. Lawrence Doucet, 24, of Bathurst. Mother and children were reported well.

Hospital authorities said the babies were about two months premature. They were placed in incubators without any weights being taken.

Soviet Softening in U.N. Places West on Defensive

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Western diplomats are trying to fathom the motive beneath Russia's apparent softening on issues that have deadlocked U.N. councils for years.

These diplomats, who have learned from experience that the Kremlin rarely gives ground on one point without trying to regain it on another, are lending a wary ear to conciliation statements by Chief Soviet Delegate Andrei Vishinsky and his aides.

* * *

With the current assembly session still in the opening stage, the Soviets already have made cooperative gestures on disarmament, Trieste and other issues on which they had long been adamant.

First sign of a shift in Soviet tactics came two weeks ago when Vishinsky offered a disarmament plan based largely on the British-French proposals which the Russians had bitterly rejected only four months earlier.

* * *

Vishinsky uncorked another surprise last wek when he gave an approving nod to the West-sponsored Trieste agreement between Italy and Yugoslavia instead of blasting it as expected. In the past the Russians have demanded a full say in any disposition of the Trieste case.

The Russians have also offered to make concessions on their pet U.N. project—to establish a definition of aggression.

To meet Western objections that Russia's proposed definition left too many loopholes for would-be aggressors, the Soviets agreed to add a clause. This would provide that an act not included in the definition might constitute aggression if the Security Council so defined it.

* * *

Observers pointed out, however, that the Russians hold veto power in the council and could block any move that did not please them.

These new Russian moves — hailed by many neutral powers—have placed the West on the defensive.

Western delegates realize that if they reject the offers, they put themselves in the position of hindering the cause of peace. On the other hand, they are fearful of falling into a propaganda trap and committing themselves to something they might later regret.

* * *

As one veteran diplomat commented: "The Russians have so far committed themselves to nothing. They are merely talking to see if they can pick up some support. Talk is cheap and the Kremlin is well aware of the value of propaganda."

The average lifetime milage of a U.S. passenger automobile has increased from 25,000 in 1925 to about 125,000 now.

37 Hurt in Crash of Passenger Train

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Thirty-seven persons were injured yesterday in the collision of a crack Wabash passenger train and a work train, both moving at slow speeds, on the St. Louis approach to a Mississippi River bridge.

Most of the injured were treated for cuts, bruises and shock and released from area hospitals. Twelve were kept for further observation, but none was reported in serious condition.

The Wabash train, the Cannonball, en route to St. Louis from Detroit, was pulling seven cars but none was derailed by the accident. It continued on into the St. Louis station.

Repairs on World's Oldest Building End

NARA, Japan (AP)—Ceremonies to mark the completion of repairs on what reputedly is the oldest wooden building in the world—the Golden Pagoda of Horyuji—will be staged Nov. 3, it was announced today.

The five-storied pagoda was constructed in 607 A.D., in this ancient capital of Japan.

Iowa Dems Scent Ham 'n' Eggs Victory

Editor's Note—This is another of several stories by roving Associated Press reporters analyzing the campaign in key states.

By DOUGLAS B. CORNELL

DES MOINES (AP)—The price of ham and eggs—ham on the hoof, that is—is shaping into an important election day factor in Iowa.

In the nation's greatest hog-producing state, the farmer is getting less for hogs while his costs stay up. His wife frequently can't break even on the eggs she carts to market for pin and household money. Most eggs are bringing 16 to 18 cents a dozen and that's far less than the prices of a year ago.

* * *

Even though they arent grumbling loudly or saying much about politics or political reprisals, neither farmers nor farm wives are exactly happy about this.

As a result, the Democrats expect to profit at the polls and GOP brows are plowed ith lines of worry.

Besides, there are signs that some sort of a Democratic trend may be under way in this part of the farm belt.

* * *

Trend or no trend, they expect to keep Democrat Guy M. Gillette in the Senate. Gillette has proved he can win in Iowa when no other Democrat can come close. It takes Republican votes for him to do it, and the senator pulls them in.

The GOP is challenging this formidable opponent with Thomas E. Martin, a House member for 16 years. And it keeps pounding hard on the idea that President Eisenhower needs a Republican congress.

* * *

And for the first time in years Democrats are putting up a fight all down the line for state and county offices they used to let go by default. These very offices in the Statehouse and courthouses give the GOP a solid core of support in any election.

Gillette says he expects to win on the general issue that there is a "feeling of instability for the future and of double crosses in the past."

"There is general uncertainty everywhere, on the farms and in the cities," he said in an interview.

Martin claims the one big issue is the need for placing Republicans in Congress to support Eisenhower. Gillette, he says, cancels the votes of the other Iowa senator, Republican Bourke B. Hickenlooper.

* * *

Gillette is 75, Martin 61, and some Republicans are whispering a bit about the senator's age. He "pleads guilty" to being a Democrat and to having been "born without any intervention on my part 75 years ago." But he says he doesn't own a wheel chair and does not need one.

Actually, issues are of comparatively little significance in Gillette's bid for another term. If he wins, it will be largely on the basis of a strong personality and a striking appearance that have made friends in both parties—along with his occasional votes siding with the GOP.

HEART REPLICA—A huge replica of the heart is given the once over by a visitor to the medical exhibit in Stockholm, Sweden. About 18 feet high (36 times as big as the normal heart) it would suit a man about 262 feet tall.

2 U.S. Destroyers Turned Over to Japanese Navy

CHARLESTON, S. C. (AP) — Two American destroyers which once helped to destroy Japan's sea power join her budding new navy today.

Officials of the two governments, once bitter enemies become allies in the strange postwar years, assembled at the big U. S. Navy base here for ceremonies turning the ships over to Japan on a loan basis.

They will become the biggest combat vessels of Japan's still tiny new navy.

* * *

The USS Ellyson and Macomb, with fresh paint blotting out the symbols of battle victories in engagements with Japan almost a decade ago, were sleek and ready for delivery to Japanese crews.

The loan of the two ships to Japan is in accord with the 1951 security treaty between the two nations, which expressed expectation that Japan would "increasingly assume responsibility for its own defense."

Until today, the Japanese fleet has been made up of only 18 small patrol frigates and about 50 landing craft.

British Dock Strike Spreads

Southampton, Atlantic Liner Port, Threatened by Wildcat Walkout

LONDON (AP)—The main Atlantic liner port of Southampton was threatened with a shutdown today by a Communist-backed waterfront strike aimed at every major shipping center in the British Isles.

The 16-day stoppage already has closed the vast London dock area and sharply curtailed work at Liverpool, the nation's second biggest ocean cargo port. Nearly 35,000 of Britain's 76,000 dockers are off their jobs and 193 ships lie idle at their moorings.

* * *

In Southampton, leaders of the wildcat strike competed with union officials, who are opposing the walkouts, for the backing of 2,052 stevedores. Whether the Southampton workers would remain on the job was in doubt.

Anxious owners of the liner Queen Elizabeth brought the 83,000-ton ship in stern first yesterday so she will face the channel and can leave without tugs if necessary. The liner is scheduled to sail tomorrow evening, carrying Queen Mother Elizabeth on the first stage of her visit to the United States.

Polite Thieves Leave Thank-You in Pennies

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP)—Police said today their only clue in the $2,500 robbery from the Moll Motors Co. is that the thieves are polite.

Before leaving the premises with the cash, the men carefully spelled out the word "thanks" in pennies on a desk top.

LOST 34 POUNDS

Dearborn Lady Likes Rennel

"My physician advised me to lose weight because I was suffering severe attacks which foreshadowed an operation. My weight had to be reduced before an operation could be performed," writes Mrs. Alvin Miller, 6461 Barrie St., E. Dearborn, Mich. "Rennel Concentrate was agreed upon as the reducing aid. I started to take Rennel about five months ago and weighed 172 lbs. Now I weigh 138 lbs. and am delighted to have lost that much up to now. Not only have I lost 34 lbs. but I have never had another attack. My physician is also pleased since he did not really want to operate for various reasons. I do not want to be without Rennel Concentrate in my home at any time. I feel certain that it will do for others what it has done for me."

Correct weight and regularity are so important to good health. If not pleased with the very first bottle return it to the manufacturer for your money back. Price $1.40. Insist on and be sure to get genuine Rennel.

Recognition of Reds Doesn't Split Allies

CARLISLE, Pa. (AP)—Sir Percy Spender, Australian ambassador to the United States, says that differences on recognition of the Communist Chinese regime do not greatly weaken the alliance of the United States and the British Commonwealth of Nations.

Spender, speaking yesterday before the Army War College at Carlisle Barracks, said "an honest difference of opinion exists here and its exercise—whose right is the lifeblood of democracy . . . does not put us at a disadvantage."

He noted that both Great Britain and India recognize the Peiping regime. Australia and Canada, who are members of the Commonwealth, and the United States do not.

RALPH A. MAIN GLENN D. HARPER

This is another in a series of articles dealing with political candidates in Oakland County. Republic incumbent Ralph A. Main is opposed by Democrat Glenn D. Harper for the office of drain commissioner. Short biographies on the two men and their statements follow:

Know Your Candidates

Main, Harper Are Seeking Drain Commissioner Job

Ralph A. Main

Incumbent Republican candidate for Oakland County Drain Commissioner is Ralph A. Main, 50, of 1819 Fairview, Birmingham.

Main received B. S. and civil engineering degrees from the University of Pittsburgh, is a registered civil engineer, land surveyor and land planner.

His affiliations include membership in the Oakland County Planning Commission, director of the Michigan Engineering Society and president of the Southeast section of Michigan Drain Commissioners. He is a former mayor of Birmingham.

"Efforts should be continued to clean up the pollution from the numerous lakes about the county and attempts made to restore lakes and streams to their original state of natural beauty.

"The proposed relief plans for the southeastern part of the county are well under way and considerable progress should be made in the next two years.

"Through the efforts of this office and with the needed support of the Board of Supervisors, it will now be possible to clean up the Rouge Valley by means of the proposed sanitary interceptor on Evergreen road.

"Many other areas throughout the county are in dire need of drainage and sanitation and if re-elected drain commissioner, it will be my promise to cooperate in every way to alleviate these conditions.

Glenn D. Harper

Nominated on the Democratic slate for Oakland County Drain Commissioner is Glenn D. Harper, 45, of 336 E. Woodruff, Hazel Park.

Harper attended schools in Peach Orchard, Ark., where he was born and later the Cohn Engineering Institute of Chicago. He is a former member of the Hazel Park building code committee and belongs to the Goodfellows, Eagles and the I.O.O.F.

Defeated in 1952 as candidate for drain commissioner, Harper is married and has one child.

His statement:

"I feel that problems of drainage facing Oakland County are more acute here than are those facing other counties and it calls for a more extensive program than must be ordinarily undertaken.

"It calls for an 'open-door policy' at the drain commissioner's office with full-time attention to problems. I feel the public and other city and township officials are entitled to complete hearings on their problems and will make a point of being available to them.

"Of all petitions that have been presented to the Oakland County Drain Commissioner's Office during the last two years less than one-fifth have been processed.

"There have been many complaints from officials and engineers arising from failure of the office to give prompt consideration to requests for advice and assistance.

"There are examples of critical need throughout Southern Oakland County and these drainage problems are matters which must be correlated between cities and townships to make proper disposal of the cause giving rise to improper drainage conditions.

"I feel that the number of people in Southern Oakland County that have been confronted with flooded basements has produced added interest in the office and the need for more efficient service in meeting the very real and present problems.

"I will assist in sponsoring an adequate overall drainage plan for the critical areas with special attention to the plight of Southern Oakland County."

Michigan Farming Baffles Britisher

FAIRGROVE, Mich. (AP) — A 25-year - old Englishman, studying farming methods in Michigan, can't understand how Americans can operate a 400-acre farm with just two men. Pat Nutt, an exchange student, and his father run two Yorkshire farms covering 760 acres. It takes 17 men, he says, to operate them.

Weather is a big factor, Nutt says. England's growing season is longer but planting is limited to two weeks. In Michigan the planting can be spread over two months. Nutt says the farm machinery is about the same in both places.

Issues Contracts for Salk Vaccine

Polio Foundation Takes Calculated Risk That Shots Are Effective

NEW YORK (AP)—The National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, taking a "calculated financial risk," has contracted to purchase enough Salk polio vaccine to treat nine million children and pregnant women next year.

Foundation President Basil O'Connor announced the contracts yesterday.

"The National Foundation," he said, "is taking a calculated financial risk in purchasing vaccine before it has been found to be effective.

* * *

He said the injections will be made available free.

Authorizing the purchases at this time, he explained, will make supplies available so that the vaccine can be given as soon as the results of tests of its effectiveness are known next spring. The foundation thereby will not have to wait 70 days to get the vaccine produced.

Scientific evaluation is now being made to determine whether the Salk vaccine is effective in protecting against paralytic polio. The study is being carried out at the University of Michigan.

* * *

O'Connor said the purchase—to cost about nine million dollars—will enable pharmaceutical manufacturers to retain specialized personnel and facilities, and thus be prepared to produce promptly a substantial quantity of vaccine to be available through usual commercial channels.

He said the vaccine purchased by the foundation will be made available to all children who participated in the field trials this year and did not receive the vaccine; to pregnant women; and to the children who will be in the first grade next year.

Egyptian Beauty Beats U.S. Girl for 'Miss World'

LONDON (AP)—Miss Egypt became Miss World last night, winning the 1954 title over a bunch of beauties from 15 other countries.

Antigone Constanda of Alexandria took top honors over Karin Hultman, a model from Rochester, N.Y. First prize was worth 500 pounds ($1,400).

Miss Egypt, who packs 132 well-placed pounds on a 5-foot-5 frame, drew delighted whistles from the Lyceum Theater audience when she appeared first in a low-cut, clinging gown and later in a bathing suit.

"I am very pleased . . . So happy," she said when the decision was announced.

Said Miss United States: "Gosh, I'm always second."

Then she gave Miss Egypt a congratulatory kiss.

Fate of 10 Negro Pupils in Court

Judge Must Decide On Granting Injunction at Milford, Delaware

WILMINGTON, Del. (AP) — The question of whether 10 Negro students may attend the previously all - white Milford (Del.) High School returned to the Court of Chancery today.

Vice Chancellor William Marvel has already ruled that Negroes have the right to attend the Milford school.

The question before him today was should he grant an injunction, requested by the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People, to restrain the Milford School Board from keeping the Negroes out of the high school.

* * *

The 10 Negro students were integrated at the beginning of the present school term, under provisions of a U.S. Supreme Court ruling. Boycotts, inspired in part by the National Assn. for the Advancement of White People, cut attendance drastically and resulted in the resignation of the original Milford School Board.

A new board told the Negro students to return to an all-Negro high school in Dover. But until yesterday, the Negro students had not attended any school.

Under orders from the State Board of Education yesterday, they attended the first classes since their ouster in an all-Negro high school in Georgetown. The high school principal, James Webb, said their enrollment was on a temporary basis only.

Hospital Child Psychiatry Service Program Described by Dr. McHugh

By JUDITH L. CLEMENCE

Because of the general interest manifested by the community in the program for mentally disturbed youngsters at Pontiac State Hospital, we interviewed Dr. James M. McHugh of the Child Psychiatry Service.

This interest and cooperation from the community is greatly appreciated by Dr. McHugh and the hospital staff, and it is felt that a description of the program and community participation will give insight to others who are not aware of this service.

You want to know something about this program, so you ask, "What type child is treated at Pontiac State Hospital? What is his background? Tell us something about him, and what good does my knowledge of this program do?"

Dr. McHugh answers these questions when he tells us about little "Eric" an 11-year-old boy. "Eric" is a good example of the group of unfortunate children requiring residential treatment in a psychiatric institution. Because his world presented difficulties in all areas, Eric had to look upon the world as a battle ground.

The ineffectual father generous to a fault, frequently alcoholic, was the only harbor he had. The emotionally unstable mother was a tremendous threat to the security of the child's concept of life.

He was barely able to hang onto acceptable behavior during the early years of his life and completely collapsed into overt emotional instability following the death of his father, the only person he loved and who loved him.

With no one to protect him, Eric had now to begin the real battle of emotional survival. This was a desperate battle against the adult world about him destined to end in futility. Eric's failures only increased his feelings of being lost and nearly accomplished the death of his emotional life.

It was the final stages of regression to infantile levels that finally brought Eric to Pontiac State Hospital. Bizarre behavior, impulsive emotional outbursts and long periods of withdrawal from his surroundings were the signs of his illness at the time of the break from reality. Prior to this there had been general behavior difficulties such as failure in school, truancy, fighting with other youngsters, and a marked disrespect of adult figures in his world.

These desperate demands as manifested by Eric, have continued to stimulate pioneer endeavors by organized medicine in the field of child psychiatry. The combined efforts of both government and private interests are seen participating constructively on this frontier of human needs.

The deprived, and rejected young people of today cry out in their demands for help in meeting the problems of a complicated world distorted because of the mental injuries they have suffered.

These youngsters manifest their feelings of anguish and futility by acts of delinquency in the home, in school, and on the street. They present both a threat and a challenge to our society which must be met with intelligence and understanding.

Despite the work as evidenced in the ever expanding field of child psychiatry, the additional needs remain acute.

The personnel at Pontiac State Hospital accepted this continued challenge by developing a Residential Child Psychiatry Program at their institution. This new program began in the latter months of 1953 and is continuing through the present—as more and more young people show the need for hospitalization.

The general goals of this new development are:

1. The creation of special facilities in all departments of the institution to meet the needs of emotionally disturbed youngsters.
2. The establishment of additional child education and child rehabilitation activities.
3. The orientation of all levels of personnel to the emotional needs of disturbed boys and girls.

The realization of these goals will provide Pontiac State Hospital with the type of treatment center necessary to return these unfortunate children to a happier productive life in the community.

Understanding and accepting the twenty-five young people at Pontiac State Hospital, providing the human and material environment so necessary, planning daily, weekly, and monthly activities, looking to their physical well being and providing a variety of specific psychotherapeutic situations is but a part of the task being worked with at present.

Eric participated in the developing program to the degree that he was able to leave the hospital and return to school. The lack of more adequate facilities and trained personnel necessitated a longer stay but did not interfere with the final solution of Eric's case.

With additional facilities, personnel and continued planning the problem will be solved. Success is dependent to a great degree upon community recognition of present problems and an acceptance of a role of responsibility in the solution of such problems.

Many individuals and groups from the communities immediately surrounding Pontiac State Hospital have risen to the occasion, accepted their roles and are participating in the present pioneer project.

The State of Michigan, Pontiac State Hospital and the community are all necessary for final success.

In another article recognition to various groups and organizations will be given.

Mrs. LeRoy Busse appointed Mrs. Don Sutton and Mrs. Ray Guerin to assist with the annual Christmas party for juniors.

Overstreets to Present Mental Health Picture

Human relationships can be improved and man can understand himself and others.

Harry and Bonaro Overstreet, author-lecturers on psychology, have spent their lives proving this point and working out and testing techniques for the successful accomplishment of these huge tasks.

On Wednesday evening at 8 in the auditorium of Pontiac High School, the Overstreets will give a team lecture on "What Emotional Health Looks Like."

Some of the symptomatic differences in behavior between the emotionally healthy and the emotionally unhealthy individual will be given. The Overstreets will point out how knowledge of these differences may make it possible for us to know when an individual needs help.

They will show how we may help ourselves by changing conditions that make for emotional disturbances and will tell us how to promote the positive factors in our shared life that make for emotional health.

Harry Allen Overstreet, perhaps best known as an author is a philosopher and psychologist who has pioneered in adult education.

Among his widely read books are "The Mature Mind," "The Great Enterprise," and he was co-author with his wife, Bonaro Wilkinson Overstreet in writing "The Mind Alive."

Educated at the University of California and at Oxford, he was for many years head of the Department of Philosophy and Psychology at the College of the City of New York.

During recent years, he and Mrs. Overstreet have taught short courses for the University of Michigan Extension Service and for other institutions throughout the country.

Psychologist, poet and author, Bonaro Wilkinson Overstreet is also distinguished as an adult educator and lecturer.

Her special field of interest has been parent education. She has done notable work in helping parents, teachers and community leaders to understand the nature and needs of children and adolescents.

She has been a regular contributor to the National Parent Teacher magazine for many years, serving it also as an advisory editor. Her latest book is "Understanding Fear."

Born and educated in California, Mrs. Overstreet has taught in both high school and junior college as well as in adult education programs.

Couple Married in Arkansas

The Lutheran Chapel at Camp Chaffee, Ark., was the setting for the marriage of Kay Keller and Pvt. Glenn Vallance, Oct. 9.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Keller of East Mansfield avenue, and he is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harvard B. Vallance of Rochester.

The bride wore a dusty rose suit with avocado green accessories and a white carnation corsage for the ceremony.

Mrs. Alva Ezell of Minneapolis, Minn., attended the bride as matron of honor and Howard Timmerman of Indiana was best man.

Guests Invited to Join Club

On Saturday evening the Hoedowners Square Dance club season officially began at Owen School. Forty couples joined in the call to "square your sets" by Harvey Gilchrist, Ralph Monroe, Robert Grosjean, Walt Ashley, DeWitt Hart and Art Thomas.

On the guest list for the evening were the Lloyd Rowans, the Gilbert Grosjeans, Richard Gilchrist and Bonnie Lovie, the Corbin Reams, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Rydress, Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Carr and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Barrow.

Others were Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Wilkeson, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Owen, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Rosie, Mr. and Mrs. Wilford Chapman the Loren Beattys and the Walter Andersons.

Members advise that couples interested in joining a square dance club or in getting instructions should contact the Department of Parks and Recreation.

MR. and MRS. HOLLIS HINKEL and DAUGHTER, SHARON, of ROCHESTER

Three Music Makers of Rochester Lend Talents to Pontiac Symphony

There's music in the Rochester air—and it is being heard in Pontiac too. Members of the Hollis Hinkel family of Rochester are responsible.

Three of the Hinkels will perform with the Pontiac Symphony Orchestra this season. Their story tells of a harmony of family relationship as well as the harmony that is music—and one contributes to the other.

This family is obviously one of the busiest in Rochester, so it follows that they probably can't find time for anything but happiness. Music brought Mr. and Mrs. Hinkel together and they have repaid their debt by introducing their children to music as a character builder and as a healthy occupation for time.

A daughter, Sharon, a sophomore at Rochester High School plays flute and piccolo in the orchestra, and her parents will help make up the string section.

Church and community also benefit from the family's skill. Both educated at the Detroit Conservatory of Music, Mr. Hinkel is counselor for the Melody Minors, a junior music club in Rochester, while Mrs. Hinkel supervises the Sunday School of St. Paul's Methodist Church in Rochester.

She also finds time to teach piano and to supervise the practice of her youngest daughter Lynne, who at the age of seven, has already had two years of piano and is now playing the accordion.

Sharon joins her father in the choir of St. Pauls Church after finishing her duties as organist for the Sunday school. Mrs. Hinkel plays the saxophone in her husband's four-piece dance orchestra

The Hinkels have carried out a philosophy on musical education which may prove a valuable hint to parents just starting to think about their children's future.

Mr. and Mrs. Hinkel started their children at the piano at the age of five as a means of building a good foundation. Later each one is allowed to choose his own instrument.

A son, Howard, who is 13, studies cornet and joins his sister in the school varsity band. Both Sharon and Howard have participated in state music festivals each year. Sharon recently won the coveted first chair in the flute section of the All State Orchestra at Interlochen.

Mr. and Mrs. Hinkel admit that their children's musical training has required many hours of transportation to and from music lessons and their present schedule is fast paced, but the results have been priceless.

Somehow, the Hinkels had to fit the Pontiac Symphony into their schedule, for Mrs. Hinkel says, "The opportunity of playing in the Pontiac Symphony Orchestra under Francesco DiBlasi should not be passed up by any musician within driving distance.

Perfume That Clings

Q.—Dear Penney: I adore perfume, but for some reason or other its fragrance just does not last on me. I want a new perfume, but first I must find out about a lasting one.—Mrs. J. M.

A.—A particularly good idea for women who claim that perfume does not "stay with them" is Chantilly Liquid Skin Sachet. It smooths on the skin very easily and lingers on and on because of its sachet base. The Chantilly fragrance really "clings" to you. I'm sure you'll love it! Get the original Liquid Skin Sachet, Chantilly by Houbigant, "the perfume that clings." Only $1.85 plus tax.

Boys' Club Setting for Gathering

William Coulacos Outlines Activities to Women's Group

Mrs. M. E. Baldwin gave a report on the Annual Convention of Michigan Federation of Women's Clubs, which was held at Ypsilanti, when members of the Pontiac Women's Club gathered Monday at the Boys' Club on East Pike street.

Others attending the convention which was held Oct. 12 and 13, were Mrs. Forrest Brown and Mrs. I. M. Lewis.

The proposed Girls' Town of Michigan, Youth Conservation and Public Health Programs were among the subjects given special consideration at the convention.

William F. Coulacos, executive director of the Boys' Club, was guest speaker at the meeting, telling of the activities and purposes of the local club, which is financed and supported by the United Fund. At present the club has a membership of 1,386 boys from all parts of Oakland County and as far away as Detroit.

It is open to boys between the ages of 6 and 17. All activities are conducted with adult supervision because, according to Mr. Coulacos, "Our chief aim is to help youth develop in the right direction."

Besides offering all major sport activities, the boys get an opportunity to work in the wood shop and printing shop and there are classes in photography, model building, etc.

Following his talk Mr. Coulacos conducted a tour of the club.

The speaker was introduced by Mrs. E. J. Ziem, chairman of the program committee. She was assisted by Mrs. Ray Haertter, Mrs. Ira Haddrill, Mrs. Ray Falk, Mrs. M. B. Dugiay, Mrs. James Coon, Mrs. Charles Allen, Mrs. Fred Miller and Mrs. Joseph Panter.

MRS. GEORGE J. CAVERLY

Bethany Baptist Church was the setting Saturday for the marriage of Lynne Letitia Giddings and George J. Caverly. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter A. Giddings of Ogemaw road and he is the son of the George H. Caverlys of Spence street.

Lynne Giddings Is Bride

A gown of Copenhagen blue, embroidered silk organza was worn by Lynne Letitia Giddings Saturday evening for her marriage to George J. Caverly.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter A. Giddings of Ogemaw road and he is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George H. Caverly of Spence street.

The Rev. Fred R. Tiffany performed the two o'clock ceremony in Bethany Baptist Church before an altar decorated with palms and vases of white flowers.

The bride's ballerina-length gown featured a satin cumberbund and the neckline and sleeves were bound with the satin. A blue satin band trimmed with pearls secured her shoulder length veil of blue illusion.

She wore a single strand of pearls, a gift of the bridegroom, and carried a crescent bouquet of stephanotis, Iceland pothus and a white orchid.

Mrs. Charles E. Opie attended her sister as matron of honor wearing a russet-colored silk antique taffeta princess style dress. The bouffant skirt was fashioned with a small bustle at the back and the bodice featured cap sleeves and a square neckline. She wore a matching feathered headband, and her cascade bouquet was composed of bronze chrysanthemums and natural sea oats.

The bride's mother wore a royal blue velvet suit with dusty pink feathered hat and matching accessories. Her flowers were rose cymbidium orchids. The bridegroom's mother wore a rose and black print taffeta dress with rose accessories and a corsage of rose cymbidium orchids.

For a wedding trip to northern Michigan the bride changed to a two piece red wool knit dress trimmed with white angora. She wore black accessories and the orchid corsage from her bridal bouquet.

Upon their return the couple will reside at Union Lake.

MR. and MRS. JAMES YOUNG

Married Sunday in All Saints Episcopal Church were Eleanor JoAnn Wilson, daughter of the Randall Wilsons of Joy road and James Young, son of Mrs. James Young of Pensacola, Fla., and the late Mr. Young.

Eleanor J. Wilson Is Wed

All Saints Episcopal Church was the setting Sunday for the wedding of Eleanor JoAnn Wilson and James Young.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Randall B. Wilson of Joy road and he is the son of Mrs. James Young of Pensacola, Fla., and the late Mr. Young.

The bride wore a rose British flannel suit and a rose sweetheart styled velvet hat. She carried a white Bible, a gift of the bridegroom, topped with a bouquet of orchid pompon chrysanthemums, centered with an orchid.

Mrs. D. F. Maseles of Royal Oak was her niece's only attendant, wearing a navy dressmaker suit with navy and white accessories and wearing a corsage of rose-colored carnations and ivy.

D. F. Maseles served as best man and Harold E. and Howard M. Maseles, all of Royal Oak, seated the guests.

A reception at the home of the bride's parents followed the ceremony. The bride's mother wore an American Beauty rose faille dressmaker suit with white and black accessories and a corsage of cymbidium orchids.

Following a tour of Northern Michigan the couple will reside in Cincinnati, Ohio.

Phyllis Flemington Wed in Saturday Ceremony

Phyllis Lorraine Flemington and Gordon K. Hicks spoke their marriage vows Saturday evening in First Baptist Church of Birmingham.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Flemington and he is the son of George Hicks, all of Birmingham.

Mrs. M. C. Palmquist of Detroit, the bride's sister, was matron of honor wearing a ballerina length gown in iridescent mist green. She carried a basket of yellow chrysanthemums with varicolored oak leaves and sprigs of barley. Her headpiece was a yellow tiara of velvet with a cluster of small chrysanthemums.

Phyllis' other attendants were Janice Flemington of Birmingham, another sister, and Mrs. Walter Godsell.

Their gowns and bouquets matched the honor matron's. Cheryl Shelton was flower girl. Her gown and flowers were similar to the other attendants'.

Robert Hepfer of Birmingham was best man and seating the guests were Lloyd Wagner, Henry Green, William Wagner of Royal Oak and Dr. Godsell.

They will reside in Bloomfield Hills. The bridgroom is a graduate of Henry Ford School of Engineering and the Detroit School of Engineering.

Party Honors R. C. Butlers

Invite All to Welcome the Fiancee

Advice on Wording Invitation Given for Boy's Family

By EMILY POST

Dear Mrs. Post: "My brother is to be married the end of this year. He is in the air force and stationed several hundred miles from here. His fiancee is from the town in which he is stationed She is planning on flying here for a visit in the near future so that we may meet and we wish to do everything possible to make her visit a pleasant one.

She will come alone as my brother cannot get away. Would it be proper to have a tea in her honor on a Sunday afternoon and invite a mixed group, or should the invitations go only to women friends of the family as my brother will not be here? Also how should the invitations be worded?

Yes, give her a tea. Invite family friends—men and women both. You write on your visiting card "To meet Mary, John's fiancee" and the time and the date.

Dear Mrs. Post: My daughter has invited a young man to visit us. Due to the distance from our house to the nearest hotel, she has asked him to stay here. They are very good friends, having met at college, but we have never met this man or his family. Inasmuch as we are strangers, do you think it courteous under the circumstances for me to write him a note seconding my daughter's invitation?

Her invitation is sufficient without yours.

Dear Mrs. Post: We have recently moved to a community where the people, at least those of our church, call the clergyman Rev. Brown. We have always called a clergyman Mr. Brown unless he has a D. D., and then we called him Dr. Brown. I find saying Rev. Brown very awkward and furthermore, I believe you have said that Rev. Brown is not correct. Is it necessary that we follow what the others do, or may we call him Mr. Brown?

I agree with you that a Protestant clergyman is called "Mr. Brown" unless he's a Doctor of Divinity. However, I think you should call him whatever all the others do rather than set yourselves apart.

Baby Knows Food · Watch Any Change

Baby prefers foods he knows best. Thus, you shouldn't introduce more than one new food at a meal. Try him with just a small bit of the new food at first and give it to him with something he likes especially well. He'll probably accept the new food readily if there's no fuss made.

Within a few days, serve the same food again but give him a slightly larger portion this time. Keep on until Baby accepts the food. Then you can serve it as often as you like.

Traditional Pie Smooth, Very Rich

Mrs. M. E. Fitzgerald Uses Pumpkin or Squash, Even Yams

BY JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

Pumpkin, squash or sweet potato; they all make excellent pie, and most people wouldn't be able to identify which vegetable was used. This recipe given us by Mrs. Maurice E. Fitzgerald makes a rich, creamy pie. It is enough for a 9-inch pie shell or for a number of tart shells. For small children you might bake just the pumpkin custard without any crust.

Mrs. Fitzgerald says she concentrates entirely on her homemaking, gave up all her clubs some time ago. One daughter, a nurse, lives at home. Mrs. Fitzgerald likes sewing and other handwork; she also enjoys visits with her grandchildren.

RICH PUMPKIN PIE
By Mrs. Maurice E. Fitzgerald

¾ cup brown sugar
1 tablespoon flour
½ teaspoon salt
2¼ teaspoons pumpkin pie spice
1½ cups pumpkin, mashed squash or sweet potato
1½ cups undiluted evaporated milk
2 tablespoons molasses
1 large egg, well beaten

Mix all together and pour into prepared pie shell. Bake 15 minutes at 450 degrees; reduce heat to 325 degrees, bake 40 minutes longer, or until firm. Test with a silver knife.

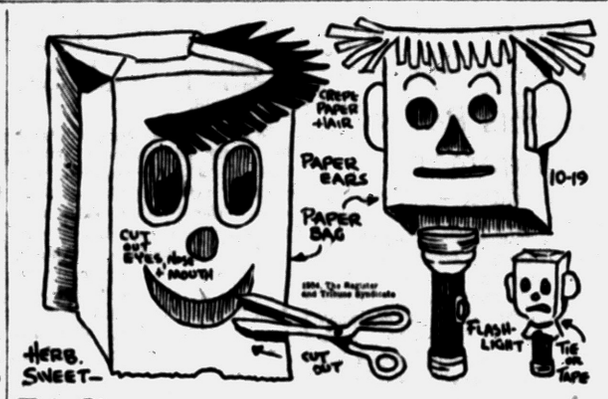
If sweet potato is used, reduce amount of sugar to about half a cup.

Baby Loves Dirt So Don't Despair

Be reasonable about Baby and dirt—they love each other. Assume an attitude of quiet resignation and just decide that the clean little rompers are going to be filthy at the end of the stay outdoors. Don't jerk him up and dust him off every ten minutes.

The dirt won't hurt him, though your fastidiousness may. He enjoys messing. Then, at the end of the day, convey him swiftly to the bathroom, put the dirty clothes in the hamper, wash and dress him in a clean nightie. He will enjoy being clean at this time.

The firefly is unknown in England, northern Europe, and our own far west.



Try It

Light Up a Funny Face

How about another Halloween idea? It seems too bad that some people frown on children and this holiday, but I suppose that some young people have done a great many things which are destructive. Let's have fun by making things which you can use without doing harm.

Here is an idea for a spooky lantern which would certainly make anyone wonder what they were seeing! This lantern is made by using a paper bag and a flashlight. You will have to decide on the size of your bag, depending on how long you will be carrying it and also on the size of your flashlight.

Unfold the bag and sketch your design on it. Make this real scary. Notice the drawing. You will need to cut out features and then see what extra things you want to add. How about paper ears glued on and a fringe of crepe paper hair. You can also paste crepe paper under the features, making colored eyes. Gather the sack around the top third of the flashlight and tie on with tape or string. Turn the light on and whoops!

These masks will add fun to any group and would be fun to have at a party. Set them in dark corners as your guests arrive.

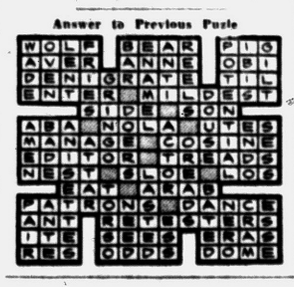
Manners

MAKE FRIENDS

Getting along with others takes a lot more brains than trying to get even with them. Just as it always takes more intelligence to do the thoughtful, gracious, courteous thing than to act in a rude manner.

Remembering that helps us to return courtesy for discourtesy.

Answer to Previous Puzzle



Let Babies Chew at 5 or 6 Months

The teething five or six-month-old loves to chew. A plastic rattle is pretty, but if it's too flimsy, he'll bit a chunk right out of it. A very sound toy for this stage is one of those red rubber bones made for dogs. It can be scrubbed often.

He loves the color and it's ideal for biting and holding. They are inexpensive, but make sure the size you get is too big to go all the way in his mouth.

Detergents Hurt

Modern science has made dishpan hands no joke. The detergents that whisk the dirt off the plates and clothes may also whisk the skin off the knuckles. A stout pair of rubber gloves is the answer, and make yourself wear them.

Two Ideas Given for Halloween

Stunts Are Both Silly and Fun for Fall Holiday

By ELIZABETH WOODWARD

If one real idea for a party is guaranteed to make it a success—I wonder what two ideas would do to it? You might give these combinations of party ideas a try. But get to work on them now. Don't wait until next week to whip them in shape.

It's fun to wander from one friend's house to another, partying as you go. And if your gang goes in for house-to-house visiting for "cold pieces" on Hallowe'en, why not do it in costume and according to plan? The plan is a password, of course, otherwise you'll have everybody in the neighborhood crashing your party. How can you tell "friend" from "foe" at the door when everybody's dressed up to the ears?

Invite your gang, equip them with the secret word, tell them the starting place of the party, and announce cryptically that it will go on from there. At each stop, after munching on something and playing a game or two, the whole party will move on to the next stop. From there to the next and so on.

If you'd like to give a group of your girl friends a good time, and at the same time give their parents a gala evening out, plan such a party for the night of Hallowe'en. Your girl friends can come to your house at the hour fixed in costume, and their parents can close up their houses, douse the lights and avoid the whole business of strangely costumed visitors who are hunting for something to eat.

Your girl friends can let the word get around that they'll all be assembled at your house (if you want) and in costume they can greet the gang that will drop in at your house for "cold pieces." A bit of music to keep things merry and lively—sort of open house while the going the rounds is going on. Then when all is quiet, you can play a few games, have something to eat, and betake yourselves to bed for what's left of the night.

Hallowe'en stunts are silly and fun. Try rolling peanuts from a starting place to a goal line with your nose. Try blowing feathers from one end of the room to the other. Try bobbing for apples in a bathtub. Try eating the whole of a doughnut that's suspended high over your head.

Give each player a dozen dried beans and insist that they be tossed a given distance into an empty milk bottle. Then put the milk bottle on the floor on its side, ask a guest to sit on it with just one foot touching the floor, balance thus and light a match.

Write fascinating fortunes on the backs of a half dozen paper plates. Set them out close together on the floor and let each guest in turn toss a beanbag to find out his date.

Write about a dozen stunts to do on so many cards, place them face down in a circle, and inside the circle let each guest spin the bottle. Whatever the bottle points to is the performance he has to put on.

Happy costume shenanigans to you!

Just Close Your Eyes---You Will See

By MARY MARGARET McBRIDE

George Bernard, who runs a great Paris dressmaking house, came to New York a few months ago and was spell-bound, almost speechless, when he saw our Fifth Avenue for the first time.

"How do you ever get any work done?" he demanded, just evading an oncoming taxi. "With this beauty of color, of line, this excitement, how can you ever turn away from it long enough to sign papers or study reports?"

"Why, I guess I'm so used to it that I no longer notice," his hostess finally confessed, hesitantly. She told me later that she felt ashamed of herself, for when she really looked at Fifth Avenue, it WAS beautiful and she remembered that she, too, had once marvelled.

"Believe me, since then I've SEEN Fifth Avenue when I've looked at it," she added happily.

I thought of her the other day when I was reading William Bridges' account of a conversation with Charles Cordier, animal collector at New York's Bronx Zoo of which Bridges himself is Curator of Publications. Cordier was explaining that what had led him into such an unusual business was a yearning to get away from the commonplace.

"Why really I left home was to see a free, wild monkey in a jungle tree," Charles told his friend.

"The unhappy part of it," commented Bill in his book, "is that after you've seen a thousand monkeys in a thousand trees, they get to be as commonplace as Swiss in hotels and tourists in winter resorts."

However, Will Beebe, who has gone all over the world to study deep-sea life handed out a sure-cure for boredom one time as Bill Bridges was about to set off for the Congo.

"After awhile there will come a time when you'll be as much at home as if you were at home," Beebe warned. "You won't SEE things any more. Then remember what I'm telling you. Ernest Thompson Seton told it to me when I was starting off for Borneo to study pheasants.

"He said, 'When the day comes that you find you aren't seeing Borneo any more and things have flattened out for you, shut your eyes. No matter where you are, when you suddenly realize that Borneo has lost its power to surprise and enchant, shut your eyes and say to yourself, "I, Will Beebe, lately of the Bronx Zoo, am in Borneo—the only Borneo there is." Then open your eyes and see again.'"

Bill Bridges passed this advice on in "Zoo Expeditions," and I'm passing it on, too, because—as he says—it works. As a matter of fact, the little device is not only valuable when one is in Borneo or Timbuctoo, but also at home if you'd like to see your own town with fresh, excited eyes.

Some Tablecloths Grow From 'Tea to Banquets'

By ELIZABETH HILLYER

Tables grow from tea-for-two-some to banquet size, why not tablecloths? Especially because there's never enough space to store cloths of many sizes, an extendable cloth is a good idea. And when the cloth is one of those beauties with metallic threads in the weave, it's so nice to be able to use it for either a small party or a large one.

The extendable tablecloth sketched has two separate 15-inch panels to lengthen it, and the panels zip on. A tiny fold finishes the edge when the cloth is used in the shorter length, and covers the zipper when the panels are added. The idea is introduced in an important tablecloth with matching napkins that have wide, softly shining bands of silver of gold lurex threads on white, mocha, or pink.

Avoid Fire in Chimney by Cleaning

By HUBBARD COBB

Few things in this world are quite as upsetting as a chimney fire because one never knows just when the fire is going to decide to leave the chimney and go to work on something else—the house, for example. The best way to avoid this sort of excitement is to be sure that the chimney is clean and tight.

Cleaning a chimney is pretty easy. You need a burlap bag, some shavings or straw, a few rocks or bricks and a length of rope. Put the rocks or bricks in the bag to act as weights and then fill the bag with straw or shavings. Tie the rope to the top of the bag and then lower the bag down through the top of the chimney. Pull the bag up and let it down a few times and then go to the base of the chimney and open the clean-out door.

If the bag has done its job, you'll find a nice pile of soot at the base of the chimney which can be shoveled out. That's all there is to it. By the way, the best time to do this job is after a rain when the soot is damp. Damp soot comes loose easier than dry soot and it isn't apt to fly about and get things soiled. And if you are cleaning out a fireplace chimney, hang a drop cloth over the fireplace opening to keep the soot from getting into the room.

In some cases the soot on the sides of the chimney is so hard that it won't respond to the bag and what we do here is to hitch a length of metal chain to the rope, as the length of chain knocks against the sides of the chimney it will loosen up the hard deposits of soot.

This Father Had a Real Good Idea

One father finally took matters in his own hand. By agreement, Sonny was allowed to listen to his special television program each night. But this was the time father got home and wanted a little quiet.

The Indians and puppets got to to be too much for him. He rigged earphones on the set so that only Sonny can hear. It was easy to do, he claims. And now he has his quiet without going back on the agreement.

Purchase Good Suit

Most women who are starting a pregnancy limit the amount they're going to spend on a wardrobe for their bulgy months. But it's wise to buy one good suit of a washable fabric. It will do for next time and give you something to look presentable in.

Pago Pago, Samoa, is known as the best harbor in the South Pacific.

PETUNIA!

Good idea, Petunia! Large desk blotters make fine mats for mounting pictures—because they come in so many colors and they're more easily cut than heavy matting board.

Miss N. F.—Soft velvet berets, side-tilted or worn on back of the head, and some worn straight-on, deeper effects at sides and back, bright color for round the clock wear with black mostly for trimming is the latest hat news.

Men used to lose their shirts in the stock market—now they lose them in supermarket.

LILLIPUTIAN VILLAGE — The atmosphere of this model town at Wimborne, England, seems to delight Kay McGuaren. Her attention at the moment is fixed on an impressive replica of Wimborne minster.

Bob Considine Says:

United Nations Costs U.S. 50 Cents a Head Annually

NEW YORK, Oct. 18 (INS)—A familiar rap against the often misunderstood United Nations is that it is draining dry our treasury.

Actually, U.N. doesn't cost much, as price tags are measured today. The statistics vary. In a pamphlet called "A United Nations Audit" the tab is set at a bit more than 50 cents a head per annum. Other figures place it at 16 cents. "A United Nations Audit" says:

"A large part of the total American contribution to the work of the U.N., about $82,000,000, comes back to us in the form of wages paid to American employes of the U.N. secretariat and amounts spent here by the U.N. and its employes, an estimated $37,000,000 a year."

Henry Cabot Lodge, who places the U.S. contribution to U.N. at $26,000,000 a year, points out something I've never thought of before about the aid the other free nations of the organization gave the U.S. and South Korea in the Korean War.

Limited though it was — Lodge places the actual muscle at two divisions—we would have had to put those two divisions in the field to have done as well, he argues.

And he adds significantly that it costs $300,000,000 a year to maintain a division. Perhaps he meant $300,000,000 to equip one and maintain it for a year.

Nonetheless, the figure holds its importance. Lodge's point was that U.N. participation in a war in which only we were committed, by pact, might have saved us many lives and the cost of two divisions maintained for the length of the war and the interminable truce talks.

The actual cost of operating the wondrous buildings in midtown New York—now the top tourist lure of the town—figures out to less than ten cents a year per American.

The next biggest slice of the half buck we each throw into the kitty, according to "A United Nations Audit," is for relief and work among the Palestine refugees in the Near East. That costs less than nine-and-a-half cents a head, and it takes care of a lot of people.

To straighten out those who are in desperate need of medical aid and may never have heard of it—beyond bark chewing—U.N.'s World Health Organization costs you under two cents a year. But so many nations and contributors are involved that 18,000,000 children have been inoculated against TB, for example.

The important International Telecommunication Union, which keeps your radio set from becoming a babel of tongues, costs you less than one one-hundredth-of-a-cent a year. It arranges radio traffic, so to speak.

Lodge wrote:

"The United Nations technical assistance program has put 1,500 experts of more than 60 nationalities to work helping to drain the swamps, irrigate the deserts, eliminate disease and increase the food supply in underdeveloped areas.

"This program has nothing to do with handouts, it is real sharing. It helps the people of these areas to develop their economies to a point where life is worth living and worth fighting for. Our humanitarian interest and our enlightened self-interest in the strength of the free world are both served equally well by this program."

Why do we insist on supporting U.N.? Lodge answers:

"It's a place where is located the greatest sounding board in the world . . . where public opinion is developed . . . It is a place in which the age-old American belief that a meeting of minds produces more wisdom than the single opinion of even a brilliant mind is often demonstrated. The U.S. frequently brings proposals before the U.N. which have been altered and improved as a result of debate . . . U.N. has gone further toward organizing security than any other body in modern history."

Dr. Sheppard on Trial for His Life

'Other Woman' Sways Village Support

(Editor's Note: This is the second of two background articles on the Sheppard murder trial which opened Monday.)

By RICHARD FALES
United Press Staff Correspondent

CLEVELAND (UP) — Young Dr. Samuel Sheppard appeared a man with no reason in the world to harm his pretty, devoted wife, and the little suburb of Bay Village rallied to his side when he was accused of her murder.

That support was somewhat shaken when a chestnut-haired laboratory technician signed a statement that she had been the "other woman" in his life and that they had been intimate on several occasions.

Yesterday Sheppard went on trial for his life for the slaying of his wife, Marilyn, 31, whose savagely beaten body was found in the bedroom of their lakefront home the morning of last July 4.

His sweetheart, Marilyn Reese, also plunged into school activities. She was a member of the Riding Club, the Friendship Club, the Booster Club and the Student Council.

After a pre-medical course at a small Indiana college close to home, Sam enrolled at the College of Osteopathic Physicians and Surgeons in Los Angeles. The separation was unbearable for both and early in 1945 Marilyn and Sam were married. She stayed with him in California while he completed college.

A son was born in 1947. They named him Samuel Jr.—nickname "Chip." Back in Ohio with a growing practice, the popular young couple bought a two-story white clapboard home in Bay Village on Lake Erie, seven miles outside Cleveland.

Sam worked hard—so hard he was often away from home for considerable periods. In March of this year, they went together to Los Angeles where he took a special graduate course in neurosurgery. Marilyn spent several days with her husband, then journeyed north for a vacation at the ranch home of friends.

It was then, according to the statement of Susan Hayes, 24, the laboratory technician, that she and Dr. Sheppard were intimate. She said they first met at a hospital in Ohio near his home.

But the advent of summer found the Sheppards back home. It was to have been a gay season. Boat club activities increased as the weather brightened. Sam and Marilyn entertained their many friends on the beach behind their home. And Chip, who now was almost seven, was to become an older brother by the end of the year.

That was the background leading up to the early morning hours of July 4 when Marilyn was murdered in her bed.

Sheppard told police he was asleep on a downstairs couch when he was awakened by his wife's screams. He said he ran upstairs and was assaulted by a "bushy haired man" who beat him so severely he lost consciousness. He said he was on the beach when he came to.

A Cleveland detective called in to investigate recommended the arrest of Sheppard the morning of the murder.

The accusation that the young osteopath was responsible so infuriated Bay Village officials, who were Sheppard's friends and neighbors, that Cleveland was ordered to recall its men.

But the investigation by Bay Village and the county produced no other suspects. On July 17 the community asked Cleveland to re-enter the case and a short time later Miss Hayes was brought here from California. Three days after she made her statement, Sheppard was arrested.

Santa Fe, the capital of New Mexico, is located at a point with an altitude over 7,000 feet.

UF-Aided Pontiac Nursery Boon to Working Mothers

They wouldn't neglect their young ones for the world, but must work to pay rent and buy groceries.

Here there's a solution — the Pontiac Area Day Nursery at 125 Raeburn St. has been caring for working mothers' children for 25 years.

"These two to six year-old children need an extra measure of warmth and affection," says Miss Leola B. Jacques, nursery director. One look at their happy faces is proof they get it."

To enroll a child, a mother must be employed, or ill, or the father must have custody of the child. Parents pay according to ability, but no child is refused for lack of funds. Money from the United Fund makes up the difference.

A daily health check assures that no child with a contagious infection will mix with the others. The morning program consists of outdoor activity on playground equipment or, if the weather's bad, indoor fun with clay, paints or toys. Other activities include storytelling, songs and creative rhythms.

After a well-balanced, hot dinner each youngster naps on individual cots. They're back at play again when parents begin to call for them. Maximum enrollment is 35.

The nursery, organized in 1929 by the Zonta and Rotary Clubs, conducts no drive for money outside the UF campaign, although donations of equipment and toys are often received.

Each child is given individual attention by staff members in the program designed for proper development of pre-school youngsters, according to Miss Jacques.

The nursery has a trained staff of four, including Miss Jacques who has been director since 1945 and Mrs. Leola Harrington, assistant director.

Finances and policies are controlled by a 15-person board of directors with Harold Blackwood as president.

Mayor to Proclaim Oct. 29 for Halloween Celebration

Says Sunday Not Day for Pranks

Commission to Consider 22 Other Items Tonight at Meeting

"In the interest of all parties concerned and the welfare of the community as a whole," Mayor William W. Donaldson tonight is scheduled to proclaim Friday, Oct. 29, as the proper day to celebrate Halloween in Pontiac.

Halloween actually falls on Sunday this year, a day, the proclamation will state, not befitting the usual ghoulish carryings-on.

In addition, the Parks and Recreation Dept. is arranging parties and contests for the city's youngsters for Friday night.

In more routine business, the commission is to receive a request from an Oakland County Board of Supervisors committee asking adoption of a resolution favoring a one-half mill levy for a new county courthouse building.

The commission is also slated to be notified officially of a suit filed by a construction company regarding payment for sewer construction in the Lakeside Homes housing project.

(Although the suit is legally filed against the city, the city merely acts as the fiscal agent for the federal government, which is entirely financially responsible in the matter.)

Also in connection with the Lakeside Homes Project, the commission is scheduled to make a routine amendment to the annual contributions contract to enable the Public Housing Administration to make payments directly to holders of permanent notes.

Four reports are due from the City Plan Commission, two recommending zoning changes and two denying such changes.

The plan board will recommend rezoning to commercial 1 lots 127 through 140 and 166 of assessor's plat 138, and to residential 3 lot 14, Evelyn Court, lots 6 through 11 of assessor's plat 38 and lots 9 through 11 of assessor's plat 137.

It will recommend denying rezoning to commercial 1 property at 56-58 Bagley St. and to residential 2 or 3 the north side of West Walton boulevard, between Hollywood and Carlisle.

Up for approval will be three land contracts for purchase of land in Perry Park No. 1 and assessor's plat 103.

Two-inch bituminous recap on Telegraph, from West Huron to Elizabeth Lake.

Curb, gutter, drainage and related work on Allen, from Osmun to Michigan Air Line Railroad.

Also scheduled are hearings on intention to carry out the following projects:

Grade, gravel and related work on Pleasantview, from Hillmont to east line of lot 181, Woodward Estates subdivision.

Curb, gutter, drainage and related work on Drexel, from Paddock to South Boulevard.

Curb, gutter, drainage and related work on Hamilton and McNeill, from Baldwin to Rundell.

Rounding out the agenda are four hearings on special assessment rolls:

Curb, gutter, drainage and related work on Edith, from Osmun to Michigan Air Line Railroad; Edith Court, from Wilson to Michigan Air Line Railroad; and Central, from Saginaw to Paddock.

Eight-inch reinforced concrete pavement, eight-inch reinforced concrete widening, curb and gutter, two-inch asphaltic concrete recap and related work on Paddock, from Bellevue to Mt. Clemens.

Utah Republican Picks New Candidate as 'Ex-Hero' Rep. Stringfellow Quits

SALT LAKE CITY (INS) —Rep. Douglas R. Stringfellow was erased from the November ballot today after Utah GOP leaders, stunned by his amazing confession of lying about wartime heroism, picked college Pres. Dr. Henry A. Dixon as his successor.

Stringfellow's resignation, offered yesterday afternoon, was unanimously accepted last night at a hastily-called meeting of the Republican State Central Committee.

Dixon, popular president of Utah State Agricultural College and a political newcomer, was selected unanimously by the 100-member committee as the new candidate for congress from the first district.

He will be opposed by former Democratic Rep. Walter K. Granger, who was defeated by Stringfellow in 1952.

The 32 - year old freshman congressman, crippled by a landmine explosion in Europe during World War II, received a standing ovation as he made his way to the speakers platform to make his political farewell.

Stringfellow said he realized he had jeopardized GOP chances in the coming elections.

"You may ask why Stringfellow didn't come clean sooner," he said. "I just didn't have the courage.

"I pray that the people of the state will understand and vote for my successor. God bless you for your courageous decision."

Stringfellow shocked the political world Saturday night when he confessed on a television and radio broadcast that his stories of leading a secret OSS mission behind the Nazi lines to rescue a German physicist were a hoax.

His widely publicized tales of intrigue, capture and torture by the Nazis, and escape, were questioned last week by the veteran's publication "Army Times."

Until late Saturday, Stringfellow charged the story was "a political smear" and asked the White House to open up the secret files of the central intelligence agency to back up his story.

Then he confessed to "living a 10-year lie" and falling victim to his "own glib tongue."

He became a national legend last January when his "cloak and dagger" exploits were related on television's "This is your life" show.

Sen. Watkins, who followed Stringfellow to the speaker's stand, said:

"I do not condone the conduct of our good friend Doug Stringfellow. And yet as a christian I have only the kindest feelings for him."

Denies Hoffa Bossing Strike

Union Claims Teamster Chief in New York for Negotiations

DETROIT (INS) — Official denials reached Detroit today of the report that Dave Beck, president of the AFL-Teamsters Union, has been relegated to the role of "front man" while Detroit teamster boss James R. Hoffa actually wields the power.

Top officials of the union, meeting in Washington, declared that Beck is still giving the orders and they are still taking them. Hoffa, himself, stated flatly that "there is no truth" to the reports.

Hoffa made it clear that he is only 10th vice president of the 1,250,000-member union, and that he intends "to do what I am told to do" by Beck.

The union issued a prepared statement which branded the reports as "a rehash of rumors planted by employers in an attempt to weaken the New York truck strike."

The statement added: "This diversionary movement by these selfish and short-sighted employers has failed because more than 8,000 of the 12,000 truck drivers in New York city have already signed contracts and employers of the others are literally standing in line to approve contracts."

Hoffa's Detroit office said he had been participating in the New York negotiations for about two weeks on orders from the Teamsters international headquarters. As 10th vice president of the union, he is frequently called into out-of town labor disputes.

Drive-In Owners Told Sanitation Big Factor

EAST LANSING (AP) — Drive-in restaurant operators were told today that sanitary appeal is the most important factor in luring new cusomers and bringing bac the repeat trade.

Stanley Frisch, associated with a chain of drive-ins in the Cincinnati area, said a clean, bright establishment and grounds attracts the new customers. Combined with good food and fast, courteous serv- new customers and bringing back again, he said. He addressed a conference at Michigan State College.

Jane Russell Airs Note of Faith in Broadcast

MUNICH, Germany (AP) — Movie actress Jane Russell, in a recorded broadcast over Radio Free Europe, sent a "message of faith" today to Europe's Communist countries.

Miss Russell, who now is in Paris making a movie, told radio listeners that faith in God promises "utter devastation" of fear.

Quoting from the Bible, she said: "Faith is the substance of things hoped for, the evidence of things not seen."

THIS FISH NEEDS A HOME

Here is an Angel fish to make and play with. You can also find it a home.

2. Cut out the square and with white library paste mount it on heavy paper or cookie box cardboard. Press under heavy books until dry.

3. Cut out the fish, following heavy line around body and fins. Punch out a hole in the back of the fish and tie a string through it. You can carry the fish on the string, or hang it in a window or in an empty bowl or jar.

U. S. Charges False Insurance Advertising

WASHINGTON (INS)—The government accused 17 insurance companies today of engaging in false and misleading advertising in the sale of individual hospitalization, accident and health policies.

The firms will be ordered to halt such practices if the charges are proved at hearings in December or unless they voluntarily agree to end the allegedly false and misleading claims.

Edward F. Howrey, chairman of the Federal Trade Commission, announced that complaints have been issued against the companies following a 10-month investigation by his agency. The investigation is continuing and Howrey said additional charges may be filed.

Included among the 17 are the four largest companies in the field: Mutual Benefit Health and Accident Association of Omaha, Neb. (Mutual of Omaha)) Bankers Life and Casualty Co., of Chicago (the White Cross Plan); Reserve Life Insurance Co., of Dallas, Tex.; and United Insurance Co., of Chicago.

In general, the FTC said, the proceedings are directed against the use of false or deceptive advertising claims relating to the extent of coverage provided, and the benefits payable, under accident and health policies.

The complaints brought by the FTC allege use in advertising of false representations, deceptive or misleading statements, and concealment or non-disclosure of exceptions and limitations. Sales practices for group policies were not mentioned in the charges.

In addition to the "big four," the insurance companies named in the complaints were:

American Hospital and Life Insurance Co., of San Antonio, Tex.; American Life and Accident Insurance Co., of St. Louis, Mo.; Automobile Owners Safety Insurance Co., of Kansas City, Mo.; Commercial Travelers Insurance Co., of Salt Lake City; Commercial Travelers Mutual Accident Assn., of Utica, N. Y.;

Guarantee Reserve Life Insurance Co., of Hammond, Ind.; Guarantee Trust Life Insurance Co., of Chicago; Illinois Commercial Men's Assn., of Chicago; La Salle Casualty Co., of Chicago; Life Insurance Company of America, of Wilmington, Del.; Prudence Life Insurance Co., of Chicago; Southern National Insurance Co., of Little Rock, Ark.; and Travelers Health Assn., of Omaha, Nebr.

The 17 companies receive premiums totaling more than 300 million dollars anually. They hold one third of the 25 million individual accident and health policies in what has become a billion-dollar-a-year business.

The FTC stated that during the past 25 years companies writing health and accident insurance have jumped from 50 to 900. Premiums in 1953 amounted to three billion dollars, of which one-third represented individual policy payments. The latter have increased 200 per cent since 1946.

The FTC said the investigation was launched after numerous complaints were received from policyholders. It is the first probe of its kind.

Individual hearing dates were scheduled in December for each of the companies, which have 20 days in which to file answers.

Although eight general types of complaints were made, no one firm was charged with engaging in every practice listed.

The alleged misrepresentations involve:

1. Policy termination provisions. The FTC said most of the policies are renewable "solely at the option of the company" and may be canceled by refusal to accept premiums despite claims that policies will remain in effect as long as the insured pays his premiums.

2. Extent of coverage. The FTC charged that despite claims of benefit payments for accident or sickness generally, there are many cases in which no benefits are paid, such as nervous disorders, dental operations, pregnancy, tuberculosis, heart disease or sickness existing when the policy is issued.

3. Maximum dollar limits. The FTC said that although companies claim surgical payments of "up to" certain amounts, the maximum payable for the average operation is one-fourth or less this specified amount.

4. Beginning time of coverage. Some companies were charged with saying policies are effective immediately when coverage actually begins six months later.

5. Health of applicant. The FTC said advertisements fail to point out that although no health examination is required, no benefits will be paid for a loss traceable to a condition existing when the policy is issued.

6. Sale of a plan. The FTC said some companies imply a greater number of benefits can be obtained from one policy "for a few cents must be bought.

7. Benefits payable for life. The FTC asserted that claims of payments for life apply only "in cases of absolute total disability due solely to accidental injury."

Rotary Prexy, 84, Still Rides a Bike

YOAKUM, Tex. (UP)—H. D. Weister claims he not only is the world's oldest Rotary Club president but also is "one of the oldest bicycle riders I know of."

The 84-year-old Meister recently was elected president of the Yoakum Rotary group for the second time. He first served as president in 1940-41.

"Hank," as he is called by his friends, was owner-editor of the Yoakum Daily Times until his retirement in 1946. At one ime he served as president of he South Texas Press Association. He still attends conventions of the group.

He keeps in shape by riding a bicycle put together from parts of three discarded bicycles. He was a bike racer as a youth and competed against Barney Oldfield and Sid Blackwere. He once made a 10-day trip of 900 miles around Lake Erie.

Detroit Lights Gigantic Torch

24-Day, $13 Million UF Campaign Symbolized by Flames

DETROIT (INS) — The giant troch in front of City Hall is burning brightly today, the first of 24 days that it will symbolize the United Foundation Torch Drive.

The torchlighting ceremony last night was the official opening of the campaign. This year's goal is $13,250,000, whic hwill be distributed among 150 charity and community service organizations.

The kickoff sent 60,000 volunteer solicitors out to ring doorbells and make the rounds of offices and factories to raise money in the annual charity campaign.

An entertainment program at the City Hall was headed by TV funnyman Jackie Gleason and a host of other stars who later put on a 2½ hour show for a packed house of 3,500 of the volunteer workers at the Broadway-Capitol Theater.

Roundup of Rioters Goes On in Jordan

JORDAN (AP)—A roundup of alleged leaders of Jordan's bloody weekend election riots continued today. Although no details were disclosed, a government spokesmar said many arrests had been made and many more were likely.

Amman hospitals reported 12 persons were killed in the violence that followed the withdrawal of seven opposition candidates from the election Saturday. Antigovernment spokesmen have estimated the deaths would run as high as 18.

Women Drivers Scared

The American Automobile Association reported that women charlot drivers were banned in Rome from 205 to 185 B. C. when they stormed the Roman capital and forced the men to give them their licenses back.

At about the same period, Lycurgus had a law passed in Athens banning women drivers. But his wife was the first to break the law and was fined 6,000 drachmas.

Employment Goes Up in Grand Rapids Area

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — George T. Torongo Jr., branch manager for the Michigan Employment Security Commission, said hundreds of workers were returned to Grand Rapids industrial payrolls last week.

He said the biggest recall took place at General Motors' Fisher Body Plant, where the force has been rebuilt to about 3,400 workers.

About 200 employes were rehired by four other Grand Rapids industrial firms, Torongo said.

Old-Fashioned Minister Tells Jokes in Church

When I was a kid, I wanted to be "a reverend."

They only preached Thursdays ("Prayer Meeting Night") and Sundays (two shifts, morning sermon and evening preachin'). They got invited to chicken dinners. They got their rent paid. And when they stood up in the pulpit, they could tell jokes—and everybody practically had to laugh.

JANE RUSSELL

I goofed, and never made it, although I studied Bible a lot at little Heidelberg College before I went wrong and became a night club gossip.

But now there's a young ordained minister in Findlay, O., making with the jokes like I wanted to.

If Johnnie Ray and Jane Russell go into the pulpit and become the Billy Grahams and Billy Sundays of tomorrow, I hope they try the laugh approach of the Rev. Dr. Guyer, who tells older married couples to take the mud road home once 'n' a while and do a little neckin'—it'd do 'em good.

"I married the doctor's daughter from Ohio City because I thought she was well off. She tells me now that she was—only she didn't know it," the Reverend says.

"Now about juvenile delinquency—I heard a woman say she wouldn't mind being a little delinquent if she could be a little more juvenile. I asked a grandmother in Michigan about the girls of her day.

"She told me, 'Girls today do things I wouldn't think of doing. That's why I didn't do 'em. I didn't think of it'."

Cleveland 'Copter Taxis Begin Runs Tomorrow

CLEVELAND (AP)—Cleveland will become the fifth city in the nation to have helicopter taxi service, with copters starting Wednesday on non-scheduled runs.

The Cleveland Air Taxi, Inc., which will inaugurate the service using three-seater Bell helicopters, said most operations will be between Cleveland Hopkins Airport, on the city's west side, and Lakefront Airport on East 9th St.

David Larsen, 4, Hurt When Struck by Car

David Larsen, 4, of 3051 Norcott, Keego Harbor, struck by a car near his home yesterday, was treated at Pontiac General Hospital for face bruises.

The lad ran into the path of a car on Cass Lake road driven by Raymond Travee, 20, of 840 Hogarth, Keego Harbor, according Bloomfield Township Patrolman Richard Helgemo.

Senators Open TV Crime Quiz

Look for Relationship Between Violent Shows and Teen Offenses

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Senate subcommittee opens today a public search for any relation between television crime and horror shows and teen-age crime.

Television executives were among those invited to testify in the two-day hearing by a judiciary subcommittee headed by Sen. Hendrickson (R-NJ).

Hendrickson opened the sessions to television news coverage. Major networks said they had no plans to carry the proceedings, but CBS said it would make film for possible later broadcast.

Richard Clendenen, executive director of the subcommittee which has been probing causes and effects of juvenile delinquency over a year, the first scheduled witness, said in advance he would review findings of the staff.

These findings "certainly show," he said in an interview, "both a considerable quantity of crime and violence on television and specific acts marked with considerable brutality."

Hendrickson said over the weekend he is opposed to censorship but that if the hearings show "that remedial steps are in order, such a blueprint will certainly be included in our final report."

The subcommittee plans also to take testimony from a criminologist, psychiatrists, producers of movies aired over television and private TV monitoring agents.

Predicts Inland Water Network

General Sturgis Sees Trade Flowing Across Mid-America

CINCINNATI (AP) — Maj. Gen. Samuel D. Sturgis Jr., chief of U.S. Army Engineers, envisions a "great, river-linked mid-American empire of trade" from the Gulf of Mexico to Montreal and from Pittsburgh to Omaha.

He outlined this vast waterways system last night at a meeting of the Ohio Valley Improvement Assn. This private group sponsored the 25th anniversary celebration of the dedication of the Ohio River dams and locks and canalization which made the river navigable all year long.

"The completion of the Gulf Intracoastal Waterway has started a tide of commerce flowing into the upper valley, ranging from the Appalachians to the Rockies," he said.

"That tide will grow. The Missouri River navigation project is still incomplete but gradually being improved and it will eventually take its place with the other system carrying large columns of traffic."

The St. Lawrence Seaway, planned for completion within five or six years, will open new vistas of waterborne commerce, he noted, adding:

"This waterway, too, will be linked into the Ohio-Mississippi-Missouri-Gulf stream through the Illinois Waterway, where the last important obstruction is the 14-mile-long bottleneck called the Calumet-Sag."

4-Year-Old Girl Hurt in Two Car Collision

Four-year-old Deborah Karnes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth W. Karnes of 601 Glaspie, Oxford, was treated for minor injuries by a private doctor yesterday after an auto collision on M24 at Oakdell road in Oxford Township.

The child's mother, Esther L., 24, drove her car into the rear of another car, driven by Frank Manning, 24, of 918 Gill, Oxford, according to Oakland County sheriff's deputies.

State Cancer Society Again Elects Banker

LANSING (UP)—Waldo I. Stoddard, Grand Rapids banker, has been re-elected president of the Michigan Division of the American Cancer Society, it was announced today.

Stoddard was chosen at the society's annual meeting here. He was nominated by a committee headed by Donald E. Johnson, publisher of the Flint News-Advertiser. Johnson is a member of the national advisory council of the National Cancer Institute at Bethesda, Md.

Barry Sullivan Trying for Top in Film Venture

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — Anyone who has seen Barry Sullivan in "Caine Mutiny Court Martial" on the New York stage knows that he is an actor who never really came into his own in Hollywood. He has played in some important pictures, but he never seemed to make the big league.

Now Barry is going to make a try for it by doing the life story of Ted Williams, the baseball great, as his first independent production. This will include Ted's experiences in the two wars as well as his home life.

Barry already has a million dollars backing for this first venture.

When the happily married couples, with two careers in one family, are mentioned, somehow the Robert Ryans are rarely listed—and yet they are definitely creative.

Right now, for instance, Jessica Ryan has finished up her fifth novel, which is to be published by Doubleday, while Bob, having just finished shooting on "Bad Day at Black Rock" is going into "Bow Tamely to Me." This is the Benedict Bogeaus film for RKO, which will star Barbara Stanwyck and David Farrar, and which Allan Dwan will direct.

When Eddie Fisher was here a week ago, there was a very small party at Debbie's home where he and Debbie told her family and Milton Blackstone, Eddie's manager, that they plan to marry. There was no public announcement at the time because it was Yom Kippur, a holy day in Eddie's faith.

But, unless there's a big, big change in plans, when Eddie gets out here next Saturday, October 23, he and Debbie will tell the world of their engagement.

When I told Debbie she's probably forget to tell me, she said, "Why you already had the story." And I did.

I always knew that Portland Mason would be an actress. She's never had any other idea in her head since she was able to speak.

Now her father, James Mason, has produced four half-hour television shows which were sent to England. One of them is called "The Child," in which Miss Porty is the star. The four films are being returned to America for showing, so if you're interested, you'll be able to see the wonder child as an actress.

George Burns says of Portland, "she uses words so big, I split them up and have plenty of conversation for the whole day!"

Jeanette MacDonald, who was so critically ill with virus, is now well enough to take an afternoon walk in New York.

Huge Tax Lien Filed Against Spy Backers

NEW YORK (AP)—The Bureau of Internal Revenue has filed a $124,121 tax lien against the National Committee to Secure Justice in the Rosenberg Case.

The committee was formed three years ago to raise money for the defense of Julius and Ethel Rosenberg, who later were executed as atom spies for Russia.

The government contends the committee was not a charitable organization and must therefore pay an income tax on all money it received.

In filing the lien yesterday, the revenue bureau said the committee collected $300,000 to $500,000 from Nov. 1, 1951, to Oct. 31, 1953.

Father Stands Mute on Stolen Property Count

Kenneth McClintock, Sr., 34, of 63 S. Jessie St. stood mute when arraigned in circuit Court yesterday on a receiving stolen property charge and a plea of not guilty was entered for him by Judge H. Russel Holland.

McClintock is free on bond pending trial in the present term of court. He is accused of selling paint stolen by his son and two other youths from a warehouse at 321 Auburn Ave.

Tyrone Power, Linda Christian Now Separated

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—The marriage of Tyrone Power and Linda Christian, solemnized five years ago in Santa Francesco Catholic Church in Rome, has broken up. The two movie stars blame the split on "incompatibility over careers" but say there are no immediate plans for divorce.

The shapely Miss Christian will stay in Hollywood and pursue her film career. Power is leaving for New York as soon as he finishes his current movie, "Untamed," to start rehearsals for "The Dark Is Light Enough," in which he will co-star on the stage with Katharine Cornell.

* * *

Theirs was a year-long international romance in Italy, Mexico, Spain and Hollywood. The church sanctioned the marriage because it had not recognized the civil ceremony which united Power with Annabella, French actress.

The couple's joint announcement of their splitup said their two daughters, Romina Francesca, 3, and Taryn, 2, will remain in the custody of Miss Christian.

Inquest Set Today in Schoolboy Death

DETROIT (UP) — A coroner's inquest will be held today in the death of an 11-year-old boy who told his mother he would "kill myself before I go back to that school."

Mrs. Ingle Ramey said her son, Wayne Lee, told her that teachers in the new Boston Elementary School, where he was a fifth-grade pupil, were "picking on me."

A month ago Wayne complained that an instructor had kicked him.

Mrs. Ramey said she went to the school board after the incident and was told that the boy and the instructor would have to work it out themselves.

How to Quickly Stop Bleeding Piles Without Surgery

Why go on spending your money month after month, year after year, on ointments, suppositories, injections, etc. that give you little or no temporary relief and leave you suffering as usual. Medical research has developed a harmless, pleasant, quick-acting, wonder-drug called RECTORAL. It is taken internally and goes right to the seat of the trouble. Usually in just a few days bleeding with any accompanying irritation and soreness begins to disappear and in a few days more is completely gone. It has been tested in thousands of cases without any return of bleeding even years afterward.

Nationalists Rout MIGs Over Tachen Islands

TAIPEH, Formosa (AP)—The Chinese Nationalist government said two Chinese Communist MIG jets flew over the Tachen Islands 200 miles north of here today

A Nationalist communique said Red planes have appeared almost daily over the Tachens recently on reconnaissance flights.

The communique also said shells were exchanged between the Nationalist-held island of Quemoy, off the Red China coast, and Red-held Amoy.

ROKs Protest Oil-Selling Plan

U.S. Army Pledges to Pay Korean Employes; Money Feud Widens

SEOUL (AP)—A U.S. Army pledge to pay its Korean employes this month, even if it means selling army oil to raise the funds, drew bitter objections today from South Korean government officials.

The U.S. move was designed to obtain Korean currency to pay the Army's 100,000 Korean employes. The Army said it would pay the workers in dollars if it can't obtain Korean hwan.

* * *

The stumbling block arose Oct. 1 when the South Korean government halted all currency advances in a dispute with the United States over the exchange rates for the hwan. The United States feels the official rate of 180 to $1 is too low.

National Police Chief Kim Chang Hung, meanwhile, declared the American plan to sell Army oil surpluses in petroleum-short South Korea for hwan would be "a violation of international law."

* * *

He did not elaborate. But he warned that civilians who bought oil directly from the U.S. Army would be severely punished.

Hull said in Tokyo the Army would begin immediately selling oil at the rate of 310 hwan to $1.

The Army also announced in Tokyo that the workers would be paid by the end of the month—even if it meant giving them dollars. The United States is reluctant to spend dollars in Korea lest they fall into Communist hands.

South Korean Finance Ministry officials objected on grounds that Korean civilians are not allowed to possess foreign currency.

Angler Gets His Fish —Via Air Express

Recently, he and Ned B. Eastlack of Omaha went muskie fishing in Ontario, Canada. He hooked a 21-pound muskie but lost him when the fish broke the line.

How did he know the exact weight?

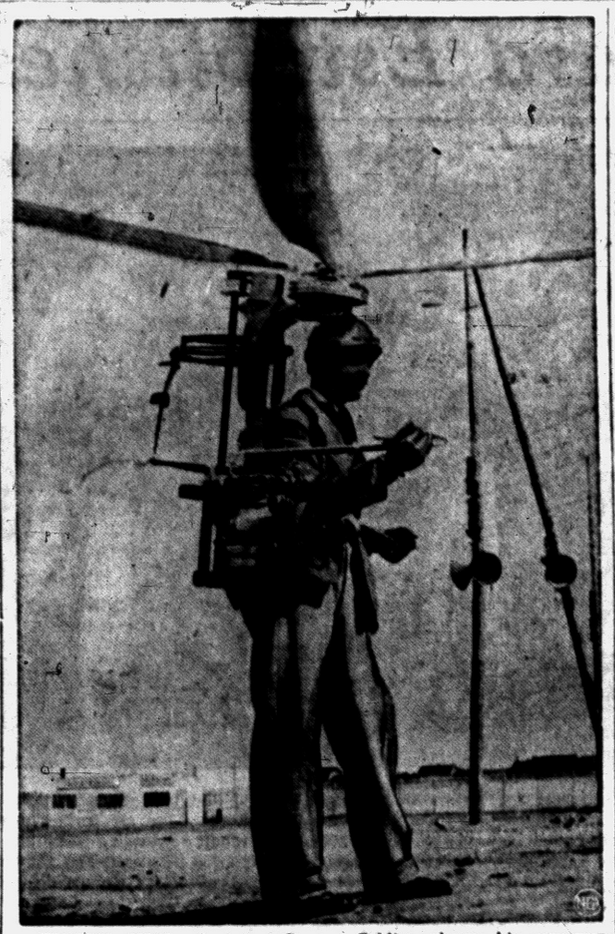
Well, he said that when he came home, Eastlack stayed at the lake. Later, via air express collect came a package from Eastlack. In it was a 21 - pound muskie. Still hooked in the mouth of the fish was Dr. Niven's lure.

Boy, 9, Admits Burning Neighbor's Residence

NORTH HOLLYWOOD, Calif. (AP)—Arson investigators say a 9-year-old boy has admitted burning down his neighbor's $10,000 home.

The residence of Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Young was burned last Saturday while they and their children were absent.

The youth was held in the Van Nuys juvenile ward pending the filing of a petition in Juvenile Court.



FLYING MAN — Inventor George Sablier shows his one-man helicopter in St. Etienne, France. Propelled by a six-horsepower engine, the 'copter weighs 60 pounds, and can supposedly fly 31 mph 10 hours. A special device keeps the pilot from gyrating with the propeller.

Jobs for Everyone Is Aim of Present Administration

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)—Secretary of the Treasury George M. Humphrey said today "unemployment is a matter of the greatest concern to everyone" in the Eisenhower administration.

"We are working and planning in every way to reach the day when every man looking for work can find a job," he said. "We have shaped our entire economic program in the way best calculated to bring that happy day at the earliest possible time."

* * *

Humphrey's speech — prepared for delivery to the annual convention of the American Bankers Assn. — appeared to be an administration answer to the storm of criticism kicked up by Secretary of Defense Charles E. Wilson's recent bird dog-kennel dog remarks while discussing unemployment. The Treasury head did not mention Wilson or the dog episode, however.

* * *

The former Cleveland industrialist compared the way the Republican administration is meeting unemployment today with the way he said the Democrats met it 20 years ago.

"It was clear that the government's policies during all the 1930s were wrong and worked badly," he said. "They were designed to solve unemployment; yet there were still nine million unemployed in 1939. These unemployed only got back to work after war broke out in Europe.

* * *

Humphrey said the Eisenhower administration, on the other hand, has proceeded on the premise that "jobs are created—and only honestly created in our free competitive price economy—by people using their money to expand existing businesses or start new businesses in the hope of making a profit."

The administration has freed the economy of many government controls, he said, in an effort to encourage that job-producing business expansion.

One Burns to Death in Stratojet Crash

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—A B47 Stratojet bomber crashed and burned while making a practice landing at Davis-Monthan Air Force Base last night, burning one crewman fatally and the other two severely.

Identity of the dead man was withheld.

The base said the injured were Capt. George C. Berger, aircraft commander, who received first-degree burns, and M. Sgt. W. A. Nye, who had mild lacerations.

Township Board Establishes Police Trial System

Approval Given Waterford Law

Naming 5 Man Group Follows Controversy of Chief's Firing

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP — A police trial board was established by the Waterford Township board last night. The ordinance provides for the appointment of members by the Township board and defines duties of the trial board.

The board will consist of five tax-paying residents of the township, who shall hold no elective or appointive position in the state, county or township government, who shall hold no elective ment, and must be a United States citizen.

Creation of the trial board follows the controversial firing of Township Police Chief Frank Van Atta in August for allegedly using his office in campaigning for a candidate in the August primary election.

After several mass meetings of residents favoring Van Atta's reinstatement, the township board held a hearing on the matter, and later rehired him.

Following the rehiring, the township board asked a committee of three residents to recommend five outstanding citizens to form a trial board.

The ordinance will take effect 30 days after publication.

Each member will hold office for five years, and one member shall be appointed by the township board each year.

Officers of the trial board will be chosen among themselves, at the first meeting of the board, and at the first meeting of each calendar year thereafter.

The chairman, vice chairman and secretary will hold office for one year, or until a successor is appointed.

The ordinance states that no member of the police department will be discharged, demoted, or suspended for disciplinary reasons for more than two weeks, unless a written complaint has been filed with the trial board secretary, and a copy given the accused.

All complaints must be verified. Within 48 hours, the trial board must hold a meeting to hear all evidence. Within 72 hours after all evidence is presented, the trial board must file a written summary and recommendation with the township clerk.

Pending hearing by the board, the accused officer shall be suspended from duty, but if exonerated, will lose no pay.

At the next regularly scheduled township board meeting, the clerk will present the trial board's summary and recommendations to the township board.

The township board must either accept or reject the trial board recommendations, giving reasons for their action. If the township board fails to act, the accused is fully exonerated, under the ordinance.

SCRAMBLE PROCEDURE — Members of the Milford Ground Observer Corps, accompanied by Air Force Major Maxwell Gurman watch two of the Selfridge Air Force Base jets "scramble" in a simulated emergency takeoff to intercept enemy planes. The Post members, recipients of several awards as one of the state's finest observer crews, were privileged to tour the base recently, watch the jets take off, and study the air traffic in a 250 mile radious via radar. Attending were Mrs. George Eberle, Mrs. Charles Shepherd, Mrs. Albert Maddock, Mrs. George Agnew, Mrs. George Feeley, and Mrs. June Fellion.

Troy 2 PTA Plans Panel Discussion

TROY TOWNSHIP—A panel discussion on "Troy Now and in the Future," and an explanation of tax proposals to be voted on in the Nov. 2 election will be presented tomorrow at an 8 p.m. meeting of Troy No. 2 PTA.

Speakers on the panel will be Norman Barnard, township supervisor; Sherwood Shaver, Troy postmaster; Boyd Larson, principal of Baker Junior High School; the Rev. Robert Ward of Troy Methodist Church; and Dr. D. Reid of Big Beaver. Jack Goodman will act as chairman.

A representative of the township parks and recreation and fire departments will explain Proposals 6 and 7 on the November ballot. These proposals are designed to provide a tax for recreation, park and fire facilities. Alex Tunstall will be the moderator.

Fifth grade mothers will serve refreshments.

Alphabetical Rule Stays Bonn Hand on NATO Reins

PARIS (UP) — An alphabetical accident will prevent Germany from presiding at top-level Atlantic alliance meetings for at least 15 years after she is admitted to the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO).

By NATO custom, the chairmanship rotates annually every September, according to the English alphabetical order of the member nations.

France held the chair until last month. Now it has passed to Greece. Since West Germany is to be called the "German Federal Republic" under NATO terminology, Germany has "missed its turn," which normally would come after France.

So, Germany will not again be eligible for the chairmanship under present rules until the cycle has gone a full circle—15 years if no more nations are admitted to membership.

60th Anniversary Falls on 100th Birthday

It was not only Mr. Morris' 100th birthday anniversary but the 60th anniversary of his wedding. His wife, who is 82, gave this reason for her husband's longevity:

"It's because he eats oatmeal for breakfast every morning."

Barbara Kalaiz, Jack Blair Wed in Saturday Rites

DRYDEN — Sacred Heart Church in Imlay City was the setting Saturday morning for the marriage of Barbara Kalaiz and Jack Blair.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Kalaiz Sr. of Lake Pleasant road. Mr. and Mrs. John Blair of Dryden are the parents of the bridegroom.

A gown of lace over net, fashioned along princess lines with a waltz length skirt was the bride's choice for the ceremony. Her full length veil was held in place with a crown of net and seed pearls.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Stanley Kalaiz Jr. and Patty Kalaiz, the bride's sister. Gladys Chapman and Marcia Stanlake were other attendants.

Frank Smith and Vance Chapman seated the guests. A breakfast was served after the ceremony, and a reception held at Hunters Creek Hall in the evening.

Registrations Rise in Waterford Area

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP — Registrations for the November election show an increase of 1,000 over the primary registrations, Waterford Township clerk Louis Barry has reported.

Total township registration for November is 14,500.

The development of new subdivisions in the township is considered to be the primary reason for the increase, Barry said.

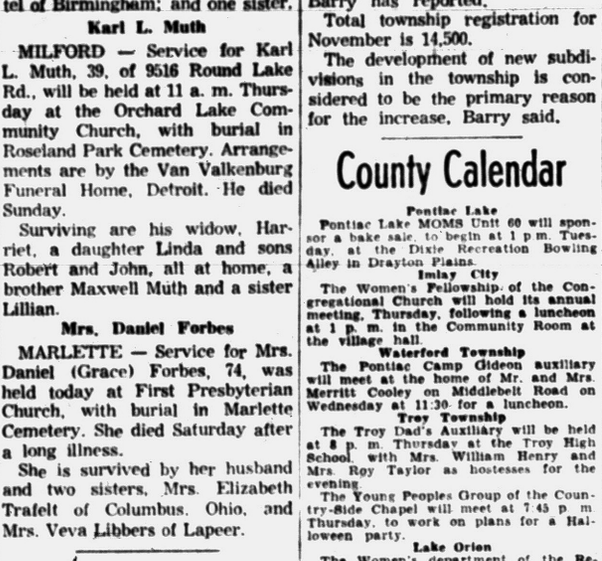
Man Put on Probation

In Oakland County Circuit Court yesterday, John Clark, 28, of 92½ Bagley St., was placed on two years probation and assessed $200 costs by Judge H. Russel Holland after admitting to attempted breaking and entering Oct. 8. Clark was accused of encouraging two juveniles to break into the Bagley Hotel.



TWO-WAY COW—There's an old tradition that cows must be milked only from the right side. Otherwise, the milker is liable to get a hefty hoof in the chin. But here's a complacent cow that just doesn't give a darn. It's owned by Dan Kauth, of Trescott, Kan., who is now with the U. S. Army in Germany. "Maggie" was trained to be an ambidextrous milker this summer. Here, Judy and Jerry Kauth are seen doubling up on the milking chores.

Board Schedules Special Meeting

New Building Code Set for Public Hearing in Waterford Township

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP—The township board will consider a new building code in a special meeting at the town hall at 7:30 p.m. today.

The meeting is open to the public.

The township board last night went on record in favor of the ½ mill tax for the new Oakland County court house, at the site already selected on Telegraph road bordering Waterford Township.

Board approval was given for a street light survey to be made by the police department. The survey will include intersections at Cass Lake Road and M-59, Pontiac Lake road and Telegraph, Crescent Lake Road at M-59, Cass Lake and Pontiac Lake road; and Frembes and Hatchery roads.

The resignation of Ray Schell, assistant building inspector, was accepted.

A plat for Moore's Acres subdivision on Lochhaven Road was approved, as was Lorraine Manor No. 1, plat on Scott Lake road, subject to Oakland County Road Commission approval.

The board voted to ask the Road Commission to advertise for bids for blacktopping Crescent Lake Road from north of the high school to M-59.

Lois Pickett Wed to Paul Broecker at South Hadley

METAMORA — Ferns and candlelight set the scene for the wedding of Lois Pickett and Paul Broecker, held at Christ Lutheran Church in South Hadley. Lois is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Pickett of Metamora. Paul is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Broecker of Hadley.

The bride wore a street-length gown of white satin and net with a lace overskirt and lace jacket. A tiara of seed pearls held her fingertip veil and she carried a bouquet of pink carnations with white satin leaves.

Phyllis Brewer served as maid of honor, and bridesmaids were Janet Pierson, Margaret Bretz and Sharon Unger.

Best man was Milton Ousnamer of Hadley. Harold Gee, Darwin Sander and Lonnie Pickett, brother of the bride, seated the guests.

The bride's sisters, Patricia Ann and Verna Mae Pickett, were flower girls, and Larry Broecker, the bridegroom's brother, was ring bearer.

Taxicab Drivers Seen in Major CD Role

LOUISVILLE (UP)—The one man who knows his city better than most motorists will be in the front line of civil defense in the event of an atomic attack.

The taxicab driver, says A. P. Miller, Battle Creek, Mich., will be called upon to help evacuate the public from cities, move wounded to hospitals and deliver medical and other supplies where needed.

Miller, an official of the Federal Civil Defense Administration, spoke at the opening of the National Assn. of Taxicab Owners' 38th convention yesterday.

Sally J. Rouse Becomes Bride of James H. Smith

MRS. JAMES H. SMITH

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP — Sally June Rouse became the bride of James Harold Smith Saturday in a ceremony at 7:30 p.m. in the Christian Temple.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David S. Rouse, of 2810 Otsego Drive. The bridegroom is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Samuel C. Smith of Osceala, Ark.

The bride's gown of Chantilly lace had a fited bodice, with a mandarin collar trimmed with tiny seed pearls and sequins.

Her bouffant skirt fell in a long cathedral train, and a tiara of seed pearls and held a fingertip veil edged with lace.

Mrs. Donald Hoover, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Nora Day, Mrs. Harold Rouse, sister-in-law of the bride, Shirley Couise and Mrs. Don Martell, with Jacqueline Sue Campbell as junior bridesmaid.

Joel Smith, brother of the bridegroom, served as best man, with Harold and Edwin Rouse, brothers of the bridegroom, Lester Wheeler, Robert Eastman and Arthur Rouse Jr. as ushers.

Carver Board to Be Quizzed

State School Head Calls Royal Oak Twp. Group to Answer Charges

ROYAL OAK TOWNSHIP — Investigating charges that a Carver school election last July was "rigged," state superintendent of public instruction Clair L. Taylor called a meeting this morning with the Board of Education of the George Washington Carver School. Oakland County superintendent of schools William J. Emerson also was called to the Lansing meeting.

The order was issued Monday when 47 of the 65 teachers at the Carver School went on strike protesting the failure of the board of education to conduct a recount of votes cast last July for a board seat.

Picketing of the school followed friction between a school board faction led by Lonnie Cash and a "Citizens Improvement Committee," which claimed that Cash had not been legally elected.

Meanwhile Walter Buffington, superintendent of Township School District No. 1, issued a back-to-school appeal to parents of some 2,200 pupils at the school. Buffington said denial of a $400 wage increase had angered the teachers.

New Drug Found for Pneumonia Aid

PHILADELPHIA (UP) — Philadelphia General Hospital announced last night that a new drug had been found equally effective as aureomycin and terramycin in the treatment of pneumonia while having fewer adverse affects than the older drugs.

Dr. F. Lloyd Mussels, executive director of the hospital, said that a five-man research team had tested the drug, and reported that the new drug "promptly broke high temperatures, usually within 48 hours, and caused untoward reaction in only four cases—an extremely good record compared with other drugs."

He said that penicillin doubtless would remain the most valuable drug for treating pneumonia and other infections but that "this one should find its own place In some cases it may prove useful where patients react adversely to penicillin or other drugs."

Do We Have to Die?

Forty-three years ago in forbidden Tibet, behind the highest mountains in the world, a young journalist named Edwin J. Dingle found the answer to this question. A great mystic opened his eyes. A great change came over him. He realized the strange power that knowledge gives.

That Power, he says, can transform the life of anyone. Questions, whatever they are, can be answered. The problems of health, death, poverty and wrong can be solved.

In his own case, he was brought back to splendid health. He acquired wealth, too, as well as world-wide professional recognition. Forty-three years ago, he was sick as a man could be and live. Once his coffin was bought. Years of almost continuous tropical fevers, broken bones, near blindness, privation and danger had made a human wreck of him, physically and mentally

He was about to be sent back home to die, when a strange message came—"They are waiting for you in Tibet." He wants to tell the whole world what he learned there, under the guidance of the greatest mystic he ever encountered during his lifetime of travel throughout the world. He wants everyone to experience the greater health and the Power, which there came to him.

Within ten years, he was able to retire to this country with a fortune. He had been honored by fellowships in the world's leading geographical societies, for his work as a geographer. And today, 43 years later, he is still so athletic, capable of so much work, so young in appearance, it is hard to believe he has lived so long.

As a first step in their progress toward the Power that Knowledge gives, Mr. Dingle wants to send to readers of this paper a 9,000-word treatise. He says the time is here for it to be released to the Western World, and offers to send it, Free of cost or obligation to sincere readers of this notice. In addition he will give to each of them a 64-page book showing the astonishing events the world may soon expect, according to great prophecies.

For your free copy of both works, simply send a postcard or letter to The Institute of Mentalphysics, 213 South Hobart Blvd., Dept. L43, Los Angeles 4, Calif.

Numbers King Faces 2 Judges

Jurists Try to Make Ryans Talk Concerning Police Payoffs

DETROIT (INS) — Numbers King Williams L. Ryans, the balky witness who has undermined the police bribe scandal, today faces double-barreled efforts to loosen his tongue.

Ryans is said to have testified to Circuit Judge John P. O'Hara's one-man grand jury that he had a number of policemen on his payroll for protection.

However, at the examination of two of the 19 indicted police officers yesterday, Ryans refused to testify, claiming protection of the Fifth Amendment and pleading temporary insanity.

He promptly received two subpoenas — one to appear before Judge O'Hara this morning and another to return to the court room of Recorder's Judge Frank G. Schemanske for the scheduled examinations.

Judge O'Hara is expected to attempt to persuade Ryans to stick to his promise of cooperation in the bribe cases. Before Judge Schemanske, Ryans again faces the efforts of the angry prosecutor to get him to talk.

Ryans gave three reasons for not testifying yesterday:

1. He might incriminate himself with federal authorities, despite a grand jury pledge of immunity.

2. He could not remember what he told the grand jury.

3. He was "mentally irresponsible" when he spoke of having a number of policemen on his payroll, mostly for $10 or $15 a month "protection money."

Hutchinson to Retire From Chrysler Staff

DETROIT (INS) — B. E. Hutchinson, chairman of the Chrysler Corp. finance committee, announced today that he will retire at the end of this year.

Hutchinson, who is 66, has been identified with the Chrysler organization since 1921 when Walter P. Chrysler asked him to join the Maxwell Motor Corp., four years before Chrysler Corp. succeeded Maxwell.

Hutchinson has been a vice president of Chrysler from the start, relinquishing that position only last year.

Award was given by National Society for Medical Research to "Flo" for her nine years of work on research projects in pharmaceutical laboratories.

New Wage Contract Signed at Goodrich

COLUMBUS (AP) — CIO United Rubber Workers and B. F. Goodrich Rubber Co. last night signed a new master contract here extending through April 1, 1957. It covers working conditions at nine plants.

Negotiators did not outline the working conditions. They said only that wage scales were not involved. The old contract expired last Friday.

Goodrich, one of the nation's big four rubber producers, has its headquarters at Akron. About 15,000 workers will be covered by the new pact.

Gets 5 Years in Prison

Lyle D. Lynn, 20, of 1793 Beechcroft, Keego Harbor, was sentenced to a maximum of five years in Jackson Prison yesterday by Circuit Judge H. Russel Holland. Lynn had admitted taking a purse containing $67 Aug. 30 from Miss Ruby Kemple of 20 Norton Ave.

Immigrant Lad Saves Cripple From Flames

WEST ORANGE, N. J. (AP)—An 8-year-old immigrant lad was a hero today in the eyes of a 61-year-old crippled woman he saved from serious injury after her clothing caught fire.

Roald Eggleston, who came to this country from Norway two months ago and is unable to speak English, was alone in his parents' apartment yesterday when he heard screams from the apartment below.

* * *

Running downstairs, he found Mrs. Ruth Davis with her clothing ablaze. He beat out the flames and dragged the woman, who gets around on crutches, to a telephone so she could summon aid in the language he has not yet learned.

Mrs. Davis, who suffered first-degree burns of the hand and face, told police her clothing caught fire from a kitchen range as she was preparing lunch.

Credit Unions to Hold Dinner

Dr. Whitmer to Talk at Banquet Wednesday for County Group

Dr. Dana P. Whitmer, superintendent of Pontiac Schools, will speak at a banquet Wednesday evening in St. Benedict Hall, 40 Lynn St., in observance of Credit Union Day.

Francis Schneider, president of the Oakland County Chapter of Credit Unions, said over 40 credit unions in the county will take part in the program.

Dr. George N. Petroff, of Pontiac, named by the Michigan Junior Chamber of Commerce, also will speak and Mayor William Donaldson will give a welcoming address. Wayne Gabert, president of the Pontiac Retail Merchants Assn. is among the special guests.

Eight new credit unions have been organized in the county in the past year, Schneider said, with the total county membership around 81,000.

Man Gets Five Years for Passing Bad Check

Isadore M. Jones, 29, of 2550 John R Rd., Detroit, yesterday received a maximum of five years in Jackson State Prison when he appeared before Circuit Judge H. Russel Holland after pleading guilty to passing a bad check Oct. 6.

Yes, October 21st Is Official Credit Union Day . . .

THROUGHOUT the ENTIRE UNITED STATES!

PROCLAMATION

Eight hundred Michigan Credit Unions now serve over 500,000 members. Organized around the common bond of their professional, community, or similar groupings, Credit Union members practice the principals of self-help and mutual assistance. By their continuous promotion of the habits of thrift and individual savings, Credit Unions make an important contribution to the economy of our nation and city.

Therefore, I, Wm. Donaldson, mayor of the City of Pontiac, do hereby proclaim Thursday, Oct. 21, 1954 as CREDIT UNION DAY in Pontiac, in public recognition of the celebration and urge our people during this day to give fitting recognition to the many benefits brought to them by the Credit Unions during the past year.

(Signed) WILLIAM W. DONALDSON, Mayor.

PROCLAMATION

Credit Union members are organized together in the common bond of their church, fraternal, cooperative, labor, professional, community, government, manufacturing, utility, and other diverse kinds of grouping. Participation in their Credit Union has, for many citizens, increased their knowledge of economic life, developed their talents, and stimulated their ingenuity in their efforts to serve their fellowman.

Therefore, I, G. Mennen Williams, Gov. of the State of Michigan, do hereby proclaim October 17th through October 21st as CREDIT UNION WEEK and October 21st as tober 21st as CREDIT UNION DAY in Michigan in public recognition of the celebration and urge our people during this week to give fitting recognition to the many benefits brought home to them by Credit Unions during the past year.

(Signed) G. MENNEN WILLIAMS, Governor.

"The 40 Credit Unions in Oakland County Chapter with a membership of 18,000, who own assets in excess of $7,000,000 are proof of any individual's ability to have some control in his economic destiny. We are grateful to Governor Williams and Mayor Donaldson for proclaiming October 21 as official Credit Union Day."

Okla. on Top Despite Storm of Upsets

By ORLO ROBERTSON
The Associated Press

Oklahoma continued to ride out the storm of upsets and hold down its perch as the No. 1 college football team in the country today.

* * *

The mighty Sooners, who trampled on Kansas, 65-0 last week, polled 1,891 points in The Associated Press' weekly poll of sports writers and sportscasters and attracted 115 first-place votes of the 212 cast.

* * *

The next three teams—Wisconsin, UCLA and Ohio State—also stayed in the same positions as a week ago. They all polled more than 1,000 votes on the basis of 10 for first, 9 for second and so on down the line.

Wisconsin had 42 firsts and 1,732 points; UCLA had 23 first and 1,590 points, and Ohio State had eight firsts, good for 1,387 points. Either Wisconsin or Ohio State will take a tumble this week when the two Big Ten powerhouses collide at Columbus Ohio, barring a tie, of course.

* * *

The rest of the top ten, however, was well-scrambled from a week ago. There are four new members of the select club — Arkansas, Minnesota, Army and West Virginia. All recorded upset victories, and now are Nos. 7, 8, 9 and 10, respectively.

* * *

Purdue, Duke, Penn State and Navy all dropped out of the Top Ten on the basis of defeats. Duke took the longest slide, from No. 6 to No. 19, as a result of its 28-14 loss to Army. Conversely, the Cadets gained the most ground, going from No. 18 to No. 9.

* * *

Notre Dame, still striving for national honors, jumped from eighth to sixth after whipping Michigan State, 20-19, and Mississippi advanced from seventh to fifth as a result of its 34-7 victory over Tulane.

* * *

Colorado heads the second 10, while Alabama, which had been far down the list since being upset by Mississippi Southern in its opener, made another bid for recognition by trouncing Tennessee, 27-0, and moving into No. 12.

The leading teams with first-place votes and season records in parentheses (points based on 10 for first place, 9 for second, etc.):

1.	Oklahoma (115) (4-0)	1,891
2.	Wisconsin (42) (4-0)	1,732
3.	UCLA (23) (5-0)	1,590
4.	Ohio State (8) (4-0)	1,387
5.	Mississippi (9) (5-0)	903
6.	Notre Dame (3-1)	787
7.	Arkansas (4) (4-0)	706
8.	Minnesota (4-0)	658
9.	Army (3-1)	487
10.	West Virginia (9) (3-0)	350
	SECOND TEN
11.	Colorado (2) (5-0)	212
12.	Alabama (4-1)	156
13.	Purdue (2-1-1)	134
14.	Virginia Tech (4-0)	102
15.	Georgia Tech (4-1)	84
16.	Miami (Fla.) (4-0)	79
17.	Southern Cal (4-1)	68
18.	Florida (3-2)	47
19.	Duke (2-1-1)	34
20.	Texas Christian (3-2)	25

Even Goes to Games

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN

MARENGO, Ill. (AP) — Edward Zenk, 28, considers himself one of Notre Dame's most avid football fans.

He attends every home game of the Irish for which he can get tickets and always carries a portable radio.

Zenk is blind.

* * *

"All my life I've followed Notre Dame football," he said. "I played guard on the Marengo High School team and dreamed of going to Notre Dame. A month after I was graduated in 1943, I was drafted.

"In April of 1945, a Jap grenade exploded in front of me. That was outside Manila. I haven't been able to see since then.

"Since 1946 I've attended every Notre Dame game I can. The hardest thing about it all is getting tickets.

"It's difficult to explain what a big kick I get out of the games although I am blind. I could listen to the radio at home. But there's nothing like taking my portable along and sitting in the stands with the crowd, and listening to all those cheers. That color is something you can't get in the living room of your home with a radio.

"I've never met Terry Brennan (Notre Dame Coach), but it is one of my greatest ambitions to shake his hand, or get a letter from him."

Zenk married in 1946 and the couple has two boys, Eddie, 7, and Billy, 5.

* * *

"They are Little Leaguers (baseball) and also love football," said Zenk. "And you can bet I'm going to see they go to Notre Dame."

Saxton Hoping to Take Title to Jail Thursday

Johnny Confident He Has Strength, Style to Beat Gavilan

PLEASANTVILLE, N.J. (AP) — Johnny Saxton has a date to serve 15 days in jail starting Thursday morning for traffic violations but he says he's going to take something with him to keep him warm—Kid Gavilan's welterweight crown.

* * *

"What you've got to do, you've got to do," said the 24-year-old New Yorker. "I've got to pay that penalty in New York and got to get it over with."

Asked whether the impending term affected him mentally, the strong, muscular youngster replied:

"No. I've been training for four months for Gavilan. Those two postponements were annoying but I've set my mind on beating the Kid and nothing is going to stand in my way Wednesday night, in Convention Hall (Philadelphia).

* * *

"I'm not underestimating Gavilan, either. A lot of people say he's slipping but that's not so. He's a great fighter. I'm confident though, I've got the strength and style to beat him.

"He likes to set his own pace. Let him fight his way and he can beat anybody. But I'm going to keep after him every second of the way.

Saxton finished his training yesterday with some light exercises in the gym at Lauma Byrdis' training camp. After it was over he stepped on the scales and weighted a shade under the 147 pounds he must make at noon Wednesday, for the title fight that night.

Gavilan said he weighed 148 after he completed his training with a boxing workout in his camp near Summit N.J.

The 28-year-old champion not only was confident of victory but said, "I'm going to surprise the whole world."

That could only mean he expected to knock out the cocky challenger who never has been stopped.

Blaik Praises Sparkling Play of Pete Vann

By WILL GRIMSLEY

WEST POINT, N. Y. (AP) — Up here and hard by the Hudson they say Coach Earl Blaik wouldn't swap quarterback Pete Vann for a half-dozen like Ralph Guglielmi of Notre Dame.

Blaik himself — a rigid colonel not given to loose superlatives—won't say. But he passes out what for this brilliant grid tactician is a supreme compliment.

* * *

"Vann certainly has been a key man for us," Blaik said. "Without him we would be lost because we have nothing to match him.

"There are many fine quarterbacks in the country and Vann is one of them. I rate him one of the two best passers I have ever seen at the Point."

The Army coach, also averse to comparisons, wouldn't name the other one.

Vann is a ball-handling Houdini who might have escaped notice except for the cribbing scandal which rocked the Military Academy and destroyed its football team in the summer of 1951.

The rangy, 6-foot junior was a plebe then with only modest football ambitions. He came from a high school in little Hamburg, N.Y. with no great football reputation.

* * *

But necessity forced him into quick football action—even as a plebe—as Blaik began rebuilding with the barest fragments. Development was swift.

"I don't say young Vann would have been unnoticed if we hadn't lost our squad," Blaik said. "But he may have had to advance more slowly. He has too good an arm to be ignored and he would have profited from watching the others."

Unbeaten Chiefs Entertain SVC Cross-Country Rivals

By BILL MARTIN

Pontiac High's undefeated cross-country team plays host to its five Saginaw Valley Conference rivals Thursday in the annual league meet.

Run is scheduled for 4 p.m. at the Beaudette Park course.

Pontiac's defending champions will be rated favorites for team honors. Chiefs placed five runners among the 1st 10 finishers to win easily last year at Flint Northern.

Leading Coach Wallace Schloerke's squad will be Bill Douglas, who placed 4th in 1953, Bill Imboden, who was 10th, and Norris Jackson, who won the junior varsity run last season. Other members of the PHS team will be Perry Williams, Eugene Cretal, Rod Treais and Fred Cox.

Top runners from other schools include Northern's Charles Garvins, Flint Central's Lawrence Tilley, Saginaw's Abe Huerta, Bay City's Stan Jamrog and Arthur Hill's Don Brown. Last year's winner, Phil Ballien of Arthur Hill, has graduated.

Head official for the test will be George Marshall, track coach at Michigan State Normal College. Ralph Rotsel will be clerk-of-course and Ray Lowry head finish judge.

Favored Minn. Lighter in '54

Still Has Weight Edge on Wolverines Except at Ends

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Traditionally Minnesota's football teams have carried the most weight to Ann Arbor, and carried home the least victories.

Golden Gophers, who meet Michigan's Wolverines this Saturday, are lighter than usual. They still outweigh the Wolverines man for man and position for position.

But this year Gophers are expected to win and keep the Little Brown Jug that went to Minneapolis last season for the 1st time since 1942.

Big Pheasant Derby Starts on Wednesday

Press Contest, State Ringneck Season to Open Same Time

A 22-day pheasant hunting season in the Lower Peninsula will get under way tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock. Concurrent with the opening of the season will be the start of the Pontiac Press' 1954 "big pheasant derby."

While the state's pheasant population is believed to be near a record high, heavy late-season foliage may hamper hunters for the 1st few days.

1—Only FULL-TIME Oakland County residents are eligible.

3—Birds may be shot anywhere in Michigan where such hunting is legal.

4—All entries must be made during the hours of 8 a.m. and 3 p.m., except that NO entries will be received after 12 noon on Saturdays, and none on Sundays.

Gophers Preparing for 'Jug' Contest

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — "When your jab is working you keep jabbing," Minnesota coach Murray Warmath said Monday in explanation of the relentless Gopher linegouging that beat Illinois.

"We started out by hitting their tackles, and there was no particular point in using pitchouts and passes when we got results that way," Warmath said.

Unbeaten and tied for 2nd in the Big Ten, the resurging Minnesotans started sharpening against Michigan offensive and defensive patterns for Saturday's historic Brown Jug game at Michigan.

Young Defeats Turner, but Both Are Pleased

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

At Eastern Parkway in Brooklyn, Monday night Paddy Young outpointed Jesse Turner, and both fighters were pleased with their performance. Young, who is aiming for another shot at the middleweight king Carl (Bobo) Olson, said he realized he needed some more work before he was ready.

Turner, of all things, acknowledged that he was beaten, but added he thought he made a good fight of it. He did.

Sooners Retain Top Spot in INS College Ratings

NEW YORK (INS)—Mighty Oklahoma kept its vaunted position as college football's No. 1 team in the nation today despite firm pressure from other members of the Big Four.

Wisconsin, UCLA and Ohio State made impressive bids to pick up ground on Oklahoma, but other national powerhouses were caught with their ratings down in an exciting weekend full of the unexpected. Snared in rank swaps were Purdue, Duke and Penn State as Army and Arkansas appeared among the top 10 for the 1st time.

Razorbacks Surprise Experts

By RAY STEPHENS

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — A band of young Arkansans who had been picked to hold up the Southwest Conference from the bottom today are riding atop that tough football loop with a record of four straight triumphs.

The astounding University of Arkansas Razorbacks soundly thrashed the University of Texas 20-7 at Austin Saturday to maintain their undefeated, untied record and rate seventh among the nation's top teams in The Associated Press poll of sports writers and sportcasters.

Coach Bowden Wyatt's crew actually has a five-game winning streak, starting with the conquest of Tulsa University in the final game of the 1953 season.

So far this year, Arkansas has defeated Tulsa 41-0, Texas Christian 20-13, Baylor 21-20 and Texas.

Before the season opened, Wyatt told newsmen that seven of the 10 Razorback foes would be the physical superiors of Arkansas.

"We might be as strong by the end of the year as we were at the close of last season," said the coach. Arkansas won only three games and lost seven in 1953.

Wyatt pointed to inexperience at tailback and center—where only sophomores hold forth—and lack of talent at the ends, where there were no lettermen available, as weak spots that Arkansas would find impossible to overcome.

Furthermore, Arkansas had lost by graduation the Southwest's top scoring punch of tailback Lamar McHan and end Floyd Sagely, both All-Conference selections.

* * *

Wyatt's green sophomores have played this year above all expectations and two ends, Teddy Souter and Jerry McFadden, have developed into first-line performers.

Arkansas' alert defense has been the secret of the Porkers' success. In four games, the Razorbacks have intercepted 12 passes and recovered 12 of 16 fumbles by their opponents.

Leading the offense has been Henry Moore, a 185-pound junior who has both speed and power. Moore leads the conference in scoring with 36 points and is the team's top rusher.

49ers Show Ground Power in Aerial-Happy League

CHICAGO (AP)—Professional football teams have become pass crazy in the last decade, but there's nothing like a balanced attack, says George Halas, owner-coach of the Chicago Bears.

* * *

Halas should know. He saw his Bears shackle San Francisco for 30 minutes Sunday only to fold under the 49ers' devastating ground game. San Francisco won 31-24.

Are the pros returning to running?

"They never left it," said Halas in an interview. "Any team that has a good ground game will utilize it and San Francisco has a great running game."

"But remember, they've got some pretty good passing. We had them bottled up Sunday but they've got balance and it paid off."

* * *

The Bears stymied San Francisco's passing attack in the first half and walked off the field with a 17-14 lead. The 49ers, although outplayed, had scored once on an intercepted pass and again when Hugh McElhenny broke loose for a long touchdown run.

Other than those two plays, it was strictly Chicago's game. Y. A. Tittle's passes weren't clicking and it looked like a bad afternoon for the Californians.

Then San Francisco, with rookie Maurie Duncan leading, pounded the left side of the Bear line mercilessly and scored a quick 17 points in the third quarter to ice the contest. And they did it by running.

Matsock, Lewis Spartan Stars

Daugherty Is Convinced MSC Improving Despite 3rd Loss

EAST LANSING (AP) — Coach Duffy Daugherty has held to his conviction that the Michigan State football team should improve and has improved with each succeeding Saturday this fall.

Despite the one point defeat by Notre Dame in the 4th MSC outing, coaches found some crumbs of comfort as they watched individual performances in the film of the game with the Irish.

Johnny Matsock, backfield handyman from Detroit, was a particular standout. In addition to his 72 yards rushing, Matsock took four kickoffs back 112 yards, returned punts 14 yards and made 7 yards on a pass play for a total of 205 yards during the afternoon.

John (Big Thunder) Lewis, junior end from Fremont, Ohio, also hit his stride Saturday grabbing three passes for 103 yards.

Terry Named South Atlantic League Prexy

AUGUSTA, Ga., (AP)—The South Atlantic League, some times called the "Grandmother of the Minors," called Big Bill Terry to become its president and he accepted promptly.

* * *

* * *

Colorado Leads Big 7 in Total Yards Gained

KANSAS CITY (AP)—The Colorado Buffaloes are riding a statistical shooting star as high as the school's attitude with a good chance of landing in the Orange Bowl New Year's Day.

The Buffaloes, who have to compete against Oklahoma in the Big Seven—but not for the Jan. 1 trip to Miami—lead the conference in total offense with 2,070 yards in five victorious games thus far. Colorado has held its opponents to 908 yards and allowed only one—Arizona—to score.

Slipper, Gismo Final Winners in Field Trial

Two fine beagles, one of which earned its championship by taking Saturday's running for 15-inch bitches wound up Oakland County Beagle's Club's very successful licensed field trial on Sunday. The 4-day event had been under way at the Sashabaw Ranch with top beagles from many midwest communities in competition.

Carjon's Slipper, owned by John Schopp of Wyandotte rounded out its AKC championship against a field of 26. Other places in this Saturday event included, in order:

Indianwood Darkey (Charles Chapman, Pontiac), Bottomly's Dottie (Fred Bottomly, Whitmore Lake) Sandy's Dee Dispatch (Harold Lofgren, Pontiac) with Schopp's Carjon's Annie as reserve.

Sunday's winner was Miller's Gismo, owner by Carl Miller, Ferndale. Final running was for 15-inch dogs. Others, in order for Sunday's event were:

Maurer's Battler Boy (R. J. Maurer, Mansfield, O.), Sunny Slope Buddy (R. J. Yost, Montiova, O.), Aragain Blackie, 2nd, (R. J. Yost) and reserve, Dailey's Ring (George Dailey, Vicksburg, Mich.)

You Be the Quarterback

By Warren Gaer
Head Football Coach
Drake University.

Arkansas has run only one play in this important ball game, an off-tackle slant, and has lost a yard. It is now second down and 11 on the Razorbacks' 49-yard line. Arkansas has a slight wind to its back, and the Razorback left half on the single-wing is a triple-threat performer.

Mississippi has been scored on twice in five ball games on long passes behind its defensive right halfback. Arkansas anticipates a 6-2-2-1 defensive alignment.

As the Arkansas quarterback, rate these plays 1, 2, 3 and 4 for this spot:

Quick kick
Reverse
Long pass
Fullback through the middle.

Mays, Minoso Acclaimed Majors' Slugging Champs

By BEN OLAN

NEW YORK (AP) — Willie (the Wallop) Mays, the New York Giants' sensational outfielder, captured the National League slugging title for 1954 in a close competition with Duke Snider of Brooklyn and Cincinnati's Ted Kluszewski.

Slugging averages — based on total bases and times at bat — compiled by the Associated Press showed today that Mays produced 377 total bases in 565 at bats for a .667 mark. Willie cracked out 33 doubles, 13 triples and 41 homers among 195 hits.

Viking Harriers End Unbeaten Dual Year

Rollie Langerman's harriers placed 7 runners among the 1st 8 finishers to rout Hamtramck, 15—48. Don Pounds, who will be defending his conference championship Thursday, led the Vikings in 11 minutes, 5 seconds.

An Era Passes

By RALPH BERNSTEIN

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — A baseball era died when the Philadelphia Athletics passed from control of the Mack family. The name of Mack meant as much to many baseball fans — young and old — as did that of any star of the game.

Cornelius McGillicuddy, known the world over as Connie Mack, started the Athletics as an American League team in 1901, and for 50 years, until he stepped down as team manager, the tall, straight-backed son of a bootmaker breathed life into his beloved club.

From the time the grand old man gave up his managerial duties, the club rapidly went down hill financially. He remained as president, turning over the business operations to his three sons—Roy, Earle and Connie, Jr.

Today only Roy remains and he holds only a one-ninth interest following the reorganization in which a syndicate of eight Philadelphia business men took control in an effort to keep the A's in the Quaker City.

His genius as a baseball leader produced some of the greatest teams of all time. Yet, by the same token, his failure to recognize new trends led to the destruction of the thing he loved best — the Athletics.

There was almost no middle ground with the Mack-led Athletics. For the better part of their 54-year history they have been either champion or doormat. Philadelphia won nine American League pennants and five world championships. On the other hand, the A's finished in the 2nd division 31 times, 18 in last place.

The year 1910 brought the first of the fabulous Athletics teams. The "$100,000 infield" became a household word. Stuffy McInnis, Eddie Collins, Jack Barry and Frank (Home Run) Baker graced the infield from 1st to 3rd respectively. On the mound, Chief Bender, Eddie Plank and Jack Combs were wheeling pitches past befuddled hitters.

A's won the pennant and the World Series in 1910 and 1911. They lost the touch momentarily in 1912, with what Mack always has regarded as his best team; finishing 3rd behind the Red Sox and Senators. But they stormed back in 1913 and 1914.

The year 1914, is best remembered in baseball as the year of the miracle Braves. Experts didn't concede the Braves a chance against Mack's proud Athletics in the series. But the Braves scalped the A's four straight games.

Mack was so nettled by this humiliating defeat he startled the baseball world by breaking up his team. In three years the entire team was gone at a total price of $180,000. Mack had started his game of boom and bust.

Standing Room Only for Lions-49ers Tilt

Lions management said a complete sell-out was assured for the game Monday when 7,000 bleacher seat tickets were sold in a three-hour sale. Bleacher seats were the last of 52,853 seats sold for the game.

'Ad' Man Key Figure in Athletics' Deal

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Jack Rensel could be the most unpopular man in Kansas City's history.

Rensel is the mystery man, the guy behind the scenes, in the sudden, surprising and successful drive to keep the Philadelphia Athletic' franchise here rather than let it go to Kansas City by default.

* * *

A hustling advertising agency representative who once served as part-time public address announcer and Jack-of-All trades for the Philadelphia Phillies, Rensel emerged today as the real driving force behind the "Keep-the-A's-in-Philadelphia" movement.

* * *

After the sale of the A's to a nine-member Philadelphia syndicate—with Rensel as one of the nine—Roy Mack was asked what suddenly changed the entire picture. What checked the seemingly irresistable rush of the franchise Kansas City-ward with Arnold Johnson, Chicago financier, pulling in that direction for $3,375,000 worth?

* * *

Roy smiled at the question, started to answer, but his son, Connie Mack III, beat him to the punch.

"What happened was Jack Rensel," said Roy's son. And his father hastened to add: "That's right. He got the group together."

Rensel flitted on the rim of the A's situation for weeks, but few of the experts took seriously his repeated statement that the club would never leave Philadelphia. He kept saying that when it appeared Johnson all but had the franchise sewed up for transfer west.

* * *

That was at the time of the American League meeting at Chi[illegible] Oct. 12. The owners were all [illegible]d at a downtown hotel. Roy [illegible] was reported in town, but sportswriters were told he had stopped on his way from the railroad station to talk to a prospective buyer.

Who was the prospective buyer? Man by the name of Rensel, the writers were told, a fellow from Philadelphia.

League President Will Harridge gave Roy until 11 o'clock yesterday morning to make up his mind, once and for all. Philadelphia trotted out its sackcloth and ashes to bid a sorrowful farewell to the A's.

Last Friday, an amazed pair of cities learned that there was an excellent chance the A's would remain in Philadelphia and Kansas City would stay in the minors.

The situation simmered over Saturday while Roy Mack attended his daughter's wedding. It came to a full boil Sunday. With Rensel flitting about like a hungry shortstop, the members of the Philadelphia syndicate ironed out all but the legal details and announced they had come to terms with the Mack family.

Aims for World Mark

HELSINKI (AP) — Soini Nikkinen, Finland's No. 1 javelin thrower, will make an attempt Sunday to better the world record held by Bud Held of San Francisco.

"With some luck of the same sort Germany's Friedrich Will had in Japan recently, I will be able to make around 272 feet," Nikkinen said today.

Result of TV Bout May End 3-Knockdown Ruling

NEW YORK (AP)—Boxing's three-knockdown rule which, except for championship bouts, automatically ends a bout after a fighter has hit the deck three times in one round appeared doomed today—at least in New York State.

Christenberry found himself involved in a comic opera situation after last night's scheduled 10-round welterweight scrap at St. Nicholas Arena between Gerald Dreyer of South Africa and Ramon Tiscareno of Los Angeles.

Dreyer was declared the winner on the TKO when Tiscareno went down for the 3rd time as the bell ended the first round. Then things happened fast. Before quiet was restored, Dreyer's manager and second were suspended, referee Petey Scalzo pleaded "don't put me on the spot," and the 1,000 or so spectators, along with the television audience, weren't quite sure exactly what had happened.

The best explanation is that Scalzo caused the confusion himself. He properly declared Dreyer the winner under the rule stopping a fight when one fighter is knocked down three times in one round.

Instead of leaving well enough alone, Scalzo glanced toward Christenberry, who was at ringside, for advice. The spectators immediately began shouting their disapproval, so Scalzo went to Dreyer's corner and told manager Willie Ketchum and second Ted Bentham, "I think you'll have to continued."

This set off Ketchum,. who began screaming at Scalzo. Meanwhile, Bentham had taken off Dreyer's right glove. For that he and Ketchum were suspended and ordered to appear before Christenberry Friday. At that Christenberry said he will also take up the 3-knockdown rule.

Chicago Tracks Bar Hoodlums

Race Courses Trying to Get Rid of Bookies on Premises

CHICAGO (AP) — A campaign by two major Chicago race tracks to rid themselves of hoodlums who make book on the premises has netted a blacklist of more than 30 men now barred from the race tracks.

The Chicago Tribune said in a story today the individuals have been barred from Arlington and Washington Park tracks "where they were reported to have been doing a business at the rate of $100,000 a day." The two tracks have summer meetings of about a month's duration.

Among the barred men were several previously arrested on bookmaking and gambling charges in Chicago. These include Joseph (Crackers) Mendino, 45; Frank Cerone, 36; Rocco Colucio, 58; John Mc Donald; Charles English, and his brother, Sam.

CASE—Position of Thumb.

The secret of consistency in bowling is largely a matter of sending the ball along an imaginary line—or "track"—from the point of release to the 1-3 pocket,

Women and also weak-wristed men should avoid the temptation to put too much stuff on the ball.

A straight-arm finish, thumb forward and pointed up, fingers on outside (right) of ball, imparts all the spin necessary for a short, sharp hook that will mix and spill the pin with good results.

The proper finish, showing not only hand and thumb position but arm reaching out for control, is shown in the sketch. The bowler, in this case, Anita Cantaline of Detroit, is a "spot" bowler, with eyes fixed on a spot a few inches beyond the foul line. But "placing" the ball is only the second of three phases.

A smooth, unhurried swing, based on sound footwork, and accurate "tracking" of the ball down the alley, are equally as essential to consistent scoring at any level.

You Be the Quarterback

Answer

4. Quick kick. No! Don't give up the ball on second down here. A quick kick would likely go into the end zone anyway for a touchback.

3. Long pass. You are keeping this play in mind, but find out first whether the defensive half is coming up fast. You can't be sure after only one play.

2. Fullback up middle. Not a long gainer, but you're feeling out the defense at this stage.

1. Reverse. Best call. Should pick up more yards than a plunge and has the same advantages.

Plain talk from your Marathon Man:

"Let me tell you about MARATHON MILE-maker ...a new gasoline to serve you best in the Long Run!"

Here's the remarkable thing about MILE-maker. It gives you highest octane in this area, highest anti-knock, exceptional power and mileage, mileage, mileage . . . because of basic improvements in the refining process!

In other words, it gives you better performance by giving you a better gasoline. It's the best way I know to reward a faithful old car and get the most out of an eager new one!

You get a heavier gasoline . . . it actually weighs more. It's got more "MILE-makers" in every gallon because it's more concentrated. "MILE-makers"? They're the heat and energy units in a fuel . . . "BTU's" your car transforms into power and mileage. So MILE-maker tips the scales in your favor.

This is a remarkable new gasoline, all right—but you've got to feel it to believe it . . . from behind the wheel of your car. With the highest octane in these parts, MILE-maker really picks up and moves! You get ALL this power to burn because a new Marathon additive eliminates power loss of engine misfiring caused by deposits.

Stop in soon, won't you? You'll be miles ahead with MILE-maker!

Pennsylvania to Tabulate Complaints About Nurses

By LAURA Z. HOBSON

NEW YORK (INS)—The very idea of an "angel of mercy survey" gave me butterfly stomach, but that was just my old Florence Nightingale complex flapping its wings.

On second thought, anybody who's ever said, "my nurse gives me a pain," or "this hospital gets me sick," should welcome the news of a big nursing survey just started in several hospitals in Pennsylvania.

It began this month, and will run over into November, for it's a fairly complex affair, taking up many aspects of hospital activities behind the scenes as well as right in the sickroom.

It's being conducted by the League for Nursing and the State Nurses Association there, under the direction of Janice Mickey, associate professor at the graduate school of public health at the University of Pittsburgh, and of Faye Abrellah of the U.S. Public Health Service.

All parts of the study will be important, but what intrigues me most is the inquiry planned into patient-nurse relationships.

To get down to the bare bones of this, a questionnaire consisting of 100 questions will be distributed to a total of 1,000 patients—with the full knowledge and consent of the nurses on duty.

"Does your nurse answer promptly when your light goes on?" Is a sample question. "Do you get your medication on time?" "Is your food served attractively?"

With 100 such questions asked of 1,000 patients, there'll be about 100,000 replies to study before the case is dismissed, and when the time comes, I just wish I could see the results.

From my own rare experiences (knock wood) in hospitals, I'm willing to predict what some of them will be, and I just checked out my own hunches with those of two close friends of mine.

They each have lots more medical know-how then I, being the kind who not only "tell you all about my operation,' but also cover the surgeon, doctor, interne, and nurses—both day and night shifts.

"Nurses who talk too much" was one gripe that seemed to be common to all of us.

"Nurses who never say a word," was another. "The ones who offer you no sympathy, or merely hand you the silent treatment—or dead pan."

Nurses who intimidate you about "being brave." How they do it is a mystery—but some few nurses, it seems, make you afraid to admit something still hurts, after it was supposed to "feel better soon."

Nurses who say "we" instead of "you." s in sentences like, "now we're going to have our blood count taken; now we're going to get an alcohol rub; now we're going to have a little enema."

I could go on with my little list—and so could any man, woman, or young tonsil patient who's ever spent a little or a lot of time in any hosptial ward, semi-private or even in the fanciest of private rooms.

But despite the gripes and the wisecracks, most of us realize that with the awful shortage of nurses in our hospitals today, the real miracle is that the nursing we get is as efficient and kind and healing as it is.

Nothing that a few more white uniforms on every corridor wouldn't cure in 24 hours—the brand new wonder drug all our hospitals keep asking for!

One of the great spectacles of the Carlsbad Caverns is the flight of the bats about sundown from the Bat Cave, which is not open to the public. Hundreds of them, in a black cloud, stream out over the rim in a southerly direction, not to return until dawn.

Corn Weaker in Firm Market

CHICAGO (AP) — Hedging pressure again got the better of corn on the Board of Trade today but the rest of the grain market had a firm tone.

Soybeans, which had suffered severely in yesterday's market, scored small gains even though they weren't able to stage any strong advance. What got off to a slow start and then pounded ahead on bullish news in the world wheat situation.

Wheat near the end of the first hour was ⅞ to 1¼ higher, December $2.19; corn ¼ to ½ lower, December $1.53; oats unchanged to ¼ lower, December 80⅝; rye ¼ to ¾ higher, December $1.38; soybeans ½ to 1¼ higher, November $2.72⅞, and lard 8 cents lower to 30 cents a hundred pounds higher, October $16.95.

Ford to Resume Line of Continental Cars

DETROIT (UP)—Ford Motor Co. has announced it will resume production of its luxury Continental cars again in 1955.

William Clay Ford, vice president and general manager of Ford's Special Product Division, said the new Continental will be introduced sometime in 1955.

The new car will be a low volume car. The special product division will be changed to the Continental Division.

The name "Lincoln" will be dropped from the new Continentals because the cars will be built by the new division and not the Lincoln Division.

Retiring Nash Official Appointed Consultant

DETROIT (UP) — H. C. Doss, vice president of sales for the Nash Motor Division of American Motors, is retiring and will become a consultant to the company, it was announced Monday.

George Romney, American Motors president, said Doss will contine to have offices in the company's headquarters in Detroit.

Doss has been sales head for Nash for 10 years. Before that he was a Ford executive for 27 years and was general sales manager for Ford in 1944 when he resigned to join Nash-Kelvinator as vice president of sales.

Nash Names Official

DETROIT (UP) — Roy Abernethy has been appointed vice president of sales for the Nash Motors Division of American Motors Corp. to succeed H. O. Doss who retired, it was announced today.

Rails Showing Strength Today

NEW YORK (AP)—Some railroad shares scored gains of better than a point in the stock market today. Otherwise, fractional advances were the rule.

Santa Fe, Atlantic Coast Line, Seaboard Air Line, and Union Pacific showed good strength and some of the lower-priced carrier shares were active on the upside.

Also advancing were the steels, aircrafts, rubbers and oils.

Burlington Mills, St. Regis Paper, Texas Instruments and Pullman were among specialties on the higher side.

The rally in the rails got underway shortly after the opening. Brokers attached significance to their show of strength because they have often pointed the way for the rest of the market.

Advancing stocks included U. S. Steel, Chrysler, U. S. Rubber, Boeing, Douglas, Glenn Martin, Radio Corp., Consolidated Natural Gas, Monsanto, Cities Service and Texas Gulf Producing.

Urges Motorists to Think Safely

Experts Say Proper Attitudes an Aid for Drivers

CHICAGO (AP) — The average motorist is suffering from a case of bad attitudes, safety experts were told today.

That diagnosis was made by five members of the Cincinnati Psychological Assn. at the National Safety Congress.

The malady was defined by C. T. Perin Jr. of Miami (Ohio) University as failure to "think safely and let our actions be governed by such thoughts."

Such thinking, he said, does not require a high level of intelligence — just enough for the driver to understand the rules of safety, realize their importance and apply them.

Mrs. Betty B. Montgomery of the Cincinnati Child Welfare Service said high school courses in driving should emphasize attitudes over the teaching of mechanical skills.

She said the youngster who learns to drive by imitating his friends "will almost always end up as a daring, reckless speedster."

Another member of the group, J. C. Denton, suggested that market research methods be used to determine what makes drivers reckless.

Dr. Abraham Jacobs, director of vocational rehabilitation at Longview State Hospital, said physically handicapped persons usually are safer drivers because they employ caution and thought to compensate for their limitations.

Bad attitudes change quickly when a uniformed officer flags down an unsafe driver, reported Lt. Arthur Mehring of the Cincinnati Police Highway Safety Bureau. He added:

"It is important to maintain that changed attitude by wise use of verbal warning, written warning or arrest."

Londoners Rest Feet as Buses Run Again

Fifty-five of the 87 bus depots in the sprawling British capital were operating normally this morning. And the six-day walkout was expected to be ended by tomorrow.

But the dock workers strike in London and Liverpool, the nation's two largest ports, continued despite pleas by union leaders and the government.

A total of 44,000 longshoremen, ship repairmen and barge operators were off their jobs. The number of idle ships in port rose to 193.

Hickman Price to Head Willys Motors Sales

TOLEDO (AP) — Hickman Price Jr., has been named vice presidnet in charge of sales for Willys Motors Inc.

Price, who has been president of the company's export division, takes over the domestic sales post held by Roy Abernethy. In addition Price will continue to direct activities of the export subsidary.

Abernethy has resigned as vice president in charge of Kaiser-Willys domestic sales. Abernethy's plans were not immediately disclosed.

Sentence Murderer to 15-30-Year Term

For the June 15 slash-murder of a 37-year-old mother of five, Robert J. King, 37, of Dolomite, Ala., was sentenced to a 15-30-year term in Southern Michigan Prison at Jackson Monday by Circuit Judge H. Russel Holland.

King, an Air Force staff sergeant formerly based at Geneva, N. Y., filed a guilty plea Oct. 1 to the second degree murder of Mrs. Laura Marshall, of 58 Chapman St.

Arrested near the slaying scene, King, police said, slashed Mrs. Marshall to death in a jealous rage after she told him there was "another man" in her life.

Willys Motors Begins '55 Model Retooling

Word that Willys Motors, Inc., a Kaiser Motors Corp. subsidiary, is now re-tooling for production of 1955 model cars has ended some of the speculation that Kaiser was going out of the automobile business.

In announcing the "tooling up," a company spokesman said introduction of the new models will take place around the end of the year. He did not say when actual production would begin.

The subsidiary has made no cars for United States consumption since June 30 and rumors have been circulating that Kaiser was leaving the auto field.

Plumber Pleads Guilty to Arson

Detroiter, 23, Admits Setting Fires in Oakland and Wayne Counties

Donald J. Roller, 23-year-old Detroit plumber who was charged with setting fires costing more than $100,000 in Wayne and Oakland Counties since July, pleaded guilty to arson Monday before Circuit Judge H. Russel Holland.

Roller, who told police after his arrest Sept. 8 that he didn't know why he set the fires in six homes and an old schoolhouse, will be sentenced Monday. He had originally stood mute on the charge and was scheduled for trial.

A self-styled fireman, Roller told police he returned to the scene of each of the fires garbed in a fireman's helmet, raincoat and boots, passing himself off as a "volunteer fireman."

He was arrested after Trenton's fire chief became suspicious of Roller "just turning up at a fire there."

Pleads Not Guilty to Illegal Liquor Sale

Miss Betty Hall, 35, of the same address, pleaded guilty to the same charge and was released on personal bond, pending her sentence Friday.

She also pleaded innocent to aiding and abetting the sale of beer and was ordered to appear for trial Nov. 4 after furnishing a $500 bond.

Charged with soliciting and pleading innocent were Miss Theresa Wright, 24, and Miss Beatrice McIntosh, 27, both of the Hughes street address. Both were released on $200 bonds each, pending trial Nov. 4.

2-Pound Detroit Baby Struggles for His Life

DETROIT (UP) — One of the smallest babies ever born in Detroit, a premature 2-pound boy, was in an incubator fighting for his life in St. John Hospital today.

The baby showed no signs of life when first born but after doctors worked on him about an hour he finally showed signs of life. Dr. Walter W. Hassig, the attending physician, said every hour the tot lived increased his chances of survival.

It was the smallest baby ever born in the hospital. The Schwartzes have two other boys and a girl.

Sand May Hide Old Civilization

Egyptian Archeologists Claim 5,000-Year-Old Culture Still Buried

WASHINGTON (INS) — Two of Egypt's foremost archeologists said today that great treasures which may reveal the customs of a civilization five thousand years old still lie beneath their nation's soil.

The scientists were Kamal El Mallakh, who earlier this year discovered the fabulous solar ships constructed in 2500 B.C. to carry the soul of Pharoah Cheops to the sun, and Dr. Zakaria Ghoneim, whose excavations uncovered an unfinished pyramid begun about 2680 B.C.

Mallakh and Ghoneim have been brought to the United States by Mohyeddine El Shazly, director general of the Egyptain State Tourist Department, to lure American travelers to the land of the pyramids and the Nile.

Shazly said he is hopeful the discoveries of both archeologists soon will be made available to tourists. He expects the solar vessels to be available sometime this winter.

Mallakh, whose finding of the famed ships is the first such discovery in history, said he is hopeful two more such vessels will be found in the same area immediately surrounding the great Pyramid of Cheops on the ourskirts of Cairo.

He explained also that he has not yet opened the 5-000-year-old ships he discovered last May, although he expects them to contain priceless treasures which reveal the arts, customs, religion and daily living habits of Egyptians in the fourth dynasty.

The ships were built beneath a great wall directly on the east-west path followed by the sun in its passage over the earth so that the soul of the dead monarch could easily be carried to the sun. It was the custom of the day to fill such ships with costly treasures which the departed Pharoah could take with him to his new world.

Mallakh said the wall covering the ships originally stood about six feet above the earth, although it had been covered with soil for many centuries before he began his probing. Some 83 blocks of limestone, each weighing 20,000 tons, formed a foundation for the wall.

These blocks sealed the crevasses in which the ships had been placed, with about six feet of space lying between the top of each ship and the bottom of the blocks.

Mallakh explained that when he first opened the caverns in which the ships were sealed, the air was filled with the scent of 5,000-year-old perfumes which had been loaded aboard the ships when the Pharoah died.

Ghoneim told newsmen his discovery of the unfinished pyramid was far more important than the finding of completed pyramids. He said that the unfinished structure could give scientists and historians a much greater insight into the construction and working plans of the period than could a completely constructed pyramid.

He exhibited photographs of priceless gold jewelry discovered within the main corridor of the uncompleted pyramid, which lies less than 10 miles from the great Cheops Pyramid where Mallakh discovered the solar ships.

Ghoneim plans to resume his excavation next month and is hopeful that he soon will discover within the pyramid's labyrinthian corridors the tomb of King Sekhem-Khet, founder of the third dynasty of Pharoahs. Ghoneim last June found an empty sarcophagus.

Everyone Should Remember This Highway Crash

PITTSBURGH, Pa. (AP) — Howard Kelly, 26, long will remember his auto wreck — and so will various agencies.

Kelly's car smashed a utility pole used for many purposes as subsequent events proved. A passenger riding with Kelly was hurt but he escaped injury.

He stood by as emergency crews rushed to the scene. First came the police. Then an ambulance. In order came repairmen to fix a broken traffic signal control apparatus, another group of men to repair a fire alarm box and a third to repair a police call box. Then came the federal government, to repair a mail box. And finally, the light company sent a crew because electrical service in the area had been knocked out.

Motorist Suffers Cuts When Auto Overturns

William W. Kepler, 16, of 1800 Ormond Rd., White Lake Township, was admitted to Pontiac General Hospital yesterday with injuries received when his auto overturned on Milford road about one-half mile north of Milford.

Kepler, who is in satisfactory condition was cut on the face and knee, and bruised. A passenger, Richard Barefoot, 19, of Ebensburg, Pa., was treated at the hospital for cuts and bruises.

Kepler told Oakland County sheriff's deputies that he was leaning over the front seat to roll up a window on the passenger side, lost control of the car and ran off the road.

All Would Like Simpler Word

Audience Disappointed, Expects Great Things, Gets Ordinary Show

By C. E. BUTTERFIELD

NEW YORK (AP) — At NBC the men behind the Spectaculars are beginning to wonder if the wrong word wasn't picked as the label for their super-duper color-TV shows.

Spectacular has been kicking back at them. Those viewers who have expressed opinions don't think the shows warrant such a classification. Others have indicated their sentiments by simply tuning to competing programs. The kidding from the comedians has been further evidence.

Max Liebman, who is right in the midst of things as the chief producer, doesn't hesitate to say he thinks spactacular is "misleading." He never favored it from the beginning, but he, like the others, seems to be stuck with it.

Overstressing of the programs in advance may be one of the main difficulties. Read one viewer's lament: "I hear so much about how great these shows are going to be that when I tune in and see something which doesn't seem any better or even as good as many of the less expensive TV regulars, I feel let down. Really, I'm disappointed."

Irish Fable, Fact Clash on Origin of Rock Columns

ANTRIM, Ireland (UP)—Science and legend are at loggerheads in trying to explain the origin of Ireland's greatest unsolved wonder—the spectacular Giant's Causeway on the coast of Antrim.

Scientists hold that the 74,000 separate basalitic columns can be explained by the cooking of lava in ancient days.

"No such thing," say the old men wise in story-telling. The columns, they declare, are all that remain of the home of Ireland's legendary giant, Finn MacCumhaill, whom legend soberly describes as "a commander in the ancient armies of King Gormac MacArt."

The giant columns of his amphitheater would have remained just so many columns — a geologist's scientific wonder — if the Irishman's affection for the art of storytelling hadn't given each of those pillars a personality. And tourists like it that way.

Legend has it that these columns are all that remains of a great organ which the pagan gods silenced when Finn's poet, Ossian, struck the false notes that angered them.

And the harp that remains petrified in stone? Another lava fossil? Not on your life, say the supporters of legend. It's the harp whose strings were plucked in wild notes of joy the day Finn beat back the Scots giant who came to challenge his superiority.

Pay $2,500 for $100 Lot to Keep Neighbor Away

NEW BEDFORD, N. J. (AP)—Fred Lowitz paid $2,500 for a strip of land worth about $100 by his own estimate. He just wanted to be sure the 30-foot lot didn't fall into the hands of a neighbor. The neighbors haven't spoken to each for years. Their homes are on adjacent sides of the strip offered for sale by the township. The tract was formerly a railroad right of way.

"I would have paid up to $5,000 for it just to make sure they didn't get it," Lowitz said.

Russia Trying to Air Charges

Demands U.N. Debate on U. S. 'Aggression' Against China

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Russia framed a double-barreled demand today for U. N. action on her charges of American aggression against Communist China. But the United States stood firm against any move to include Red China in such a debate.

The Soviet Union goes before the U.N.'s 15-nation Steering Committee to seek an airing of two complaints:

1. Russia's charges that Nationalist China—with U.S. connivance—has made piratical attacks on shipping bound for the Communist Chinese mainland.

2. Russian claims that the United States is guilty of aggression in the vicinity of Formosa and the China mainland.

The Steering Committee voted two weeks ago to defer action on the piracy charge pending the outcome of French attempts to settle the problem in talks between Nationalist China and Russia. But diplomatic sources said the Soviets decided the time had come for action.

Russia's Andrei Vishinsky brought the second, more direct accusation against the United States last Friday, barely 24 hours after the U.N. Secretariat had circulated a similar charge by Red China's Premier Chou En-lai.

Five State TV Stations to Carry UM Program

ANN ARBOR (AP) — The 1954-55 University of Michigan television hour will be heard over at least five Michigan stations.

The program started over WWJ-TV Detroit at 1 p.m. Sunday. It will run for 15 weeks.

Teen-Adult Gap Bridged by TV

U of M Series Helping Youngsters Adjust to Maturity

ANN ARBOR (AP) — The big step from child to adult often confuses and frustrates the teenager and parent alike. So the University of Michigan is setting out on a project it hopes will alleviate the situation.

The university's television hour is presenting a simply termed discussion of teenagers and the problems they bring to parents. The 15-week series is designed, professors say, to bring understanding to both the parent and the offspring.

The Sunday afternoon television series probably is the first time that professional advice has been brought to many Michigan homes.

The purpose is not to explain the teenager to the parent or the parent to the teenager, but to explain the relationship between the two in proper perspective.

William C. Morse, associate professor of educational psychology, is the main instructor for the course. He is also director of the university's fresh air camp.

Guest professors on the show, produced on film by the university's television station, include Dr. Ralph D. Rabinovitch, University Hospital, and Howard Y. McClusky, professor of educational psychology.

The language is non-technical. In years of working with practical problems, the professors have learned the jargon of the teenagers and the simple language of demonstration.

German Navy Set to Go, Thanks to U.S. Program

BREMERHAVEN, Germany (AP)—A West German navy will be able to take to the seas 24 hours after final ratification of the London rearmament agreement—thanks to the U. S. Navy.

It won't be much of a fleet at first, only some mine sweepers, tenders, oilers and small patrol craft. Nevertheless it will be a navy.

* * *

Under the London agreemnt, rearmed Germany would be limited to 20,000 naval personnel. Warships must be 3,000 tons or less.

There is no 3,000-ton vessel for the new navy available. But a fleet of rebuilt German mine sweepers now waits for ratification's X-day. These ships have been operating with German crews but under the American flag for two years.

Readiness of West Germany to step into its own sea role has been made possible by a quiet program instituted in 1952 by the U.S. Navy and a handful of its officers.

* * *

Two 10-boat squadrons of R-boats, each with a tender, regularly sweep the Baltic Sea to clear World War II mines from sea lanes. The R-boats are 167 tons, have a top speed of 18 knots, carry no armament at present, but are equipped with radar.

Their task is to widen present lanes and cut new ones for the safety of merchant shipping.

It is common knowledge that not many mines have been located for a long time. But every day the squadrons go to sea, young Germans get additional naval training.

* * *

Officially designated as mine sweeping readiness unit, there are now 918 Germans, including 85 officers, in the American-supervised program. They have a total of 42 craft. Both officers and men belong to the U.S. Navy's German Labor Service Unit B at Bremerhaven.

Ninety per cent of the officers and 70 per cent of the men are veterans of the old German Navy. But the percentage of young recruits is rising. Ranks are the same as in the American navy, although the highest ranking officer at present is a commander.

Painting Uncovered

JAMESTOWN, R. I. (UP)—A colonial painting depicting the famous scene of William Penn signing a treaty with Indian chiefs has been discovered in a 17th Century house. The painting was hidden beneath three layers of wallpaper in the Greene Farmhouse built in 1672.

SEPARATED TWINS — A physician checks the condition of Claudette, one of the five-month-old Miller Siamese twins separated in a delicate four-hour operation in Memphis, Tenn. They were joined at the upper forehead. Claudette's sister, Constance, died five hours after the operation. The parents are Mr. and Mrs. Louis Miller, of Memphis.

U.S., South Korea at War Over Monetary Exchange

By CHARLES M. McCANN
United Press Staff Correspondent

The United States is embroiled in another war of sorts in Korea, this time without any shooting.

It is a war between the United States dollar and the Korean hwan, the unit of currency of the South Korean republic.

Gen. John E. Hull, United Nations commander in chief, is on the dollar side. Tough old President Syngman Rhee of Korea is on the side of the hwan.

Because of the dispute, about 100,000 Koreans employed by the U. N. forces have received no wages since Oct. 1. They now threaten to strike. That could confront the Army with a serious situation. There are not enough U. N. soldiers in Korea to perform essential labor services.

If Rhee isn't careful, he may lose some of that $700,000,000 in military and economic aid promised him — conditionally — under an agreement negotiated in Washington last summer.

There was a time back in 1950 when the rate of exchange was 4,000 hwan to $1.

But for a long time the official Korean government rate has been 180 hwan for $1. Hull decided this was unrealistic. The South Korean government itself gives some foreigners up to 500 hwan for $1. In the black market, the rate runs up to 800.

Rhee refused, and on Oct. 1 supplies of hwan to the U. N. forces were cut off. Rhee demanded also that all advances of hwan to the Army dating back to June 1 be paid at the official rate.

Spokesmen for Rhee assert that the Army has cut off all oil supplies to South Korea, and that its entire economy is threatened with early paralysis.

Hull's spokesmen deny they have cut off the oil supply. Nevertheless it has dwindled to a trickle.

Now Hull has announced that he will sell oil in order to pay Korean laborers and contractors working for the Army.

It was made known in Tokyo, however, that the oil will be sold not at the rate of 184 to $1 and not even for the Army's proposed level of 254 to $1. The price is to be about 310 for $1.

The South Koreans say this will be black marketing and Rhee will take "strong measures" against it.

Hull is to go to Seoul tomorrow to try to settle the dispute. But whatever happens, it will leave old Rhee with something new to be bitter about.

France Fears English Invasion —of Language

PARIS (AP)—Part of the French press is worried that English is creeping in to corrupt the French language.

Most indignant is the Dimanche Matin, a fellow-traveling newspaper, which recites a whole list of English words crowded into a single talk by an editor to an author:

"The standing (reputation) of the house requires reraiting (that is the way rewriting looks in French) of your story. It lacks suspense (the paper had a hard time explaining this in few words). You abuse the flashback (it had a harder time with this). It lacks pep (pi m e n t is about as good in French). Your book is too teuf (tough) and sexi. It sounds like a rimeque (remake) of an old trilleur (thriller)."

Complained Dimanche Matin:

"It is very disturbing that it should be in the literary world that the French language is so beaten around."

Le Monde, a far more serious newspaper, says some English words are getting into the language because there are no French words of similar meaning.

"Living room" is now mentioned in apartment contracts and there doesn't seem to be anything in either the language or French habits that covers it. The French drift from the dining room to the salon. The salon definitely is not a living room. So "living room" now is legal. It is in the dictionaries.

"Weekend" has found a place because it has a tone of rest and recreation that "fin de semaine" misses.

Nehru in Red China on Ten-Day Visit

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—Prime Minister Nehru arrived in Peiping by plane today to begin a 10-day state visit to Communist China, according to reports received from the Red capital.

The Indian leader flew to China from Hanoi, the North Indochina capital which the Communist-led Vietminh won under the Geneva agreement ending the Indochina war.

While in Hanoi, Nehru won a promise from Vietminh chief Ho Chi Minh to respect the sovereignty of the small Indochinese states of Laos and Cambodia.

Talbott to Talk in State

ESCANABA (UP)—Secretary of the Air Force Harold E. Talbott will speak here Wednesday night on "The Air Force and What It Means to the Upper Peninsula." It will be the first time a Cabinet member has spoken in Escanaba.
