Probing Damage to Cables

U.S. Navy Men Search Soviet Ship in Atlantic

WASHINGTON (AP) — The State Department awaited a report from the Navy today before communicating with Moscow on the boarding and high seas search of a Soviet trawler by a U.S. Navy team.

However, they apparently found nothing to link the vessel with recent breaks in transatlantic cables.

A spokesman said the State Department would communicate with the Soviet Union through diplomatic channels as soon as a full report is received.

After searching the trawler, the Navy team reported: "No indications of intentions other than fishing."

The quick negative report, issued by the Navy here a few hours after the boarding was announced, lessened the potential impact of the incident on already touchy U.S.-Soviet relations.

There was no immediate indication how Moscow might react. Nations jealous of their sovereignty often resent the boarding of their ships by men of another nation.

The Soviet vessel is the trawler Novorossisk, with a crew of 54 men and women. The Navy reported the captain was friendly and cooperative.

The United States acted under an international agreement which the Defense Department said "authorizes investigations by naval ships of official documents of other ships suspected of damaging and interfering with cables under the high seas." Both the United States and the U.S.S.R. are signers of the agreement.

Five transatlantic cables have been damaged since last Saturday in the area off Newfoundland. Fishing vessels of many nations operate in that area and accidental cable damage sometimes occurs in normal deep sea fishing operations.

But the Pentagon said that aerial reconnaisance by American planes "confirmed extended operations of Novorossisk in the area of the cable breaks at the time the breaks occurred."

Under orders from the commander in chief of the Atlantic Fleet, Adm. Jerauld Wright, five men from the antisubmarine-radar picket ship Roy O. Hale climbed aboard the Novorossisk at noon Thursday.

The trawler was about 120 miles off St. Johns, Newfoundland, in international waters. Wright ordered the boarding party to make the check under a provision of an 1888 treaty to protect cables. Although it was the czarist government of Russia which originally joined in the treaty, officials here said the Soviet government adhered to it in 1926.

Austerity 'School' Budget Submitted to Pontiac Board

More austerity and virtually no teacher raises were spelled out in an $8,031,168 operating budget submitted to the Pontiac Board of Education last night.

Dr. Dana P. Whitmer, superintendent, asked the Board to study administration proposals to spend less next year to offset continued cutbacks in tax revenues.

Quality of instruction will take a "slight" dip throughout the school system, he warned; junior high class sizes will be increased a little, and—most important from the standpoint of the physical plant—the program to renovate and repair older schools will remain at a standstill.

Repairs to the Pontiac Central High School swimming pool will have to be postponed once again, Whitmer said; the school's driver training range will remain unpaved for another year and Wisner Stadium will have to get by with its present inadequate lighting system for the time being.

The proposed operating budget is $166,938 more than last year's proposals and $324,379 less than the amount the schools sought—but didn't get—millage approval for from the Tax Allocation Board.

Increased costs and about 400 more pupils account for the increase in the 1959-60 budget over 1958-59's, said Whitmer.

For the second straight year, the schools hope to keep per pupil costs down to what they were the year before, Whitmer said.

If costs can be kept down, the Occasional light rain or snow by late afternoon and continuing tonight is the weather outlook for the Pontiac area. The low will be near 30 degrees tonight.

Mostly cloudy with a chance of a few snow flurries is the forecast for Saturday with little change in temperatures, the high about 42.

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—An Army Jupiter missile, with a range of 1,500 miles, hurtled aloft today on the start of a full-range test of the workhorse vehicle. The Army said the flight across the Atlantic was successful.

Final Planning Gets Federal Approval, With Two Reservations

Pontiac today got the okay to go ahead with final planning for its urban renewal project.

The Federal Housing and Home Finance Agency said the city's Project Eligibility and Relocation Report has been approved and the project's boundaries accepted, with two reservations.

Robert A. Stierer, assistant city manager, said the city would try to get the two cuts put back into the project.

In a letter to City Manager Walter K. Willman, John P. McCollum, regional administrator of the HHFA, gave the city a $60,882 budget for final planning, expected to be completed this fall, Stierer said.

At that time, with City Commission approval, the administration will submit its final plans to the federal government and apply for the $1,705,000 held in reserve to finance the Pontiac project, Stierer said.

McCollum said two areas have been lopped out of the project because they are "predominately open and nonresidential."

'SHOULD BE INCLUDED'

One lies north of Pike street between Union and Douglas streets and the other is between Perry and Parke streets, north and south of Water streets.

"There are some residential uses in both of these areas," said Stierer, "and we think they should be included in the project, anyway, for planning purposes."

Stierer, who is coordinating the urban renewal planning, noted with satisfaction that one disputed area had won federal approval — the west side of S. Saginaw street between Pike and Patterson streets.

Urban renewal funds are primarily aimed at residential improvements, but it's been the city's ambition to include some of the south end of the central business district in the project.

Although areas west of Saginaw were eliminated from the project earlier as "too commercial," the city hopes to stage its own renewal program there with the aid of state funds.

Stierer said he was "extreme-

Charges Safety Honors Won Falsely

Eastman Rips Award Figures

By MAX E. SIMON

Pontiac won National Safety Council awards last year by using "phony figures," Public Safety Director George D. Eastman charged last night.

Testifying before the Civil Service Commission, Eastman accused now-suspended Police Chief Herbert W. Straley of falsifying records on the city's traffic safety program.

"I don't consider the awards significant because they're based on improper statistics improperly compiled," Eastman said.

Eastman called the city's traffic safety program under Straley "ineffective."

"Let's have it understood that the city didn't win Safety Council awards," Eastman said. "Pontiac received certificates of achievement for two phases of its program."

The certificates of which he spoke were for the maintenance of accident records and the public traffic safety education program.

A third certificate of achievement was awarded the city for school traffic safety education.

He said Straley reported to the Safety Council that the police department showed safety films to 409 different clubs or groups, although the actual figure was "fewer than 40."

A check of newspapers showed that Straley's claim of 3,000 column inches in the local press on traffic safety was exaggerated, Eastman said.

"In the first two months of 1957, only 20 inches of traffic safety stories were found," Eastman said. "I had intended to check the entire year, but these figures were sufficient."

The public safety director, who abolished the police force's Traffic Bureau at the end of last year, said all patrolmen would be used in traffic enforcement activities.

Under cross-examination from Straley's attorney, Clarence L. Smith, Eastman said that he received a letter from Traffic Engineer Theodore M. Vanderstempel last week stating that the police department was not reporting 400 to 500 property damage accidents yearly.

Call Recess, but Will Return Monday Night

House Rejects Plan for Boosting Debt Limit to $50 Million

LANSING (AP) — After making no headway on state cash problems, the legislature adjourned at noon today, agreeing to return Monday night.

Just before adjournment Rep. George E. Montgomery (D-Detroit) introduced a resolution proposing an adjournment from March 6 until April 13. Legislators won't get anything done until after the April 6 election anyway, he said.

Laughingly, Rep. Joseph J. Kowalski (D-Detroit), Democratic floor leader, said the proposal "sure doesn't have the support of the Democratic delegation in the House."

Earlier today, the House rejected a proposal to boost the state's debt limit to 50 million dollars as a means of meeting the state's cash emergency, but Democratic leaders promised a second passage try on Monday.

The vote was 54 to 48, with 74 favorable votes required.

Republicans, hopeful of tacking on an amendment for a referendum on increasing the state sales tax, hit the proposition for failing to provide any means of paying off the higher state debt.

"In effect, we are telling the people 'You give us the right to borrow and we'll stick it to you a little later with new taxes,'" said Rep. Allison Green (R-Kingston), Republican floor leader.

The borrowing proposition, staggering but still alive, assumed crucial importance with the death yesterday of Gov. Williams' plan for mortgaging the 50 million dollar Veterans' Trust Fund.

Hoffa Fights the Governor of Florida

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Teamsters Union President James R. Hoffa, hoping to organize workers in Florida, says it takes more than sunshine to enjoy life.

Replying to criticism—and an invitation to get out and stay out of Florida—Hoffa told Gov. Leroy Collins to "worry more about Florida's working people and their living standards—and less about Hoffa."

Collins had described Hoffa as discredited and said he wished Hoffa "would keep out of Florida."

Hoffa, here for a Teamsters' Executive Board meeting, replied: "I don't think Collins can talk about Hoffa without speaking against the Teamsters and all working people in Florida."

Collins spoke after hearing reports Hoffa planned to organize workers in Florida. The first target is the greater Miami area.

Hoffa's union gained a foothold in the airlines industry Wednesday when it was certified as bargaining agent for 800 Pan American Airways stock clerks, 268 of them in Miami. Several hundred work at the Missile Test Center at Cape Canaveral.

Hoffa said that plans to organize the nation's police departments have been shelved. He said organizers will concentrate instead on bringing the giant vending machine business into the Teamsters Union.

Giants' Frank Gifford Prays Before Every Game

By FRANK GIFFORD
1956 Winner of The Jim Thorpe Trophy for Most Valuable Player

To handle the tension that comes before every football game, I've worked out a formula. Although quite simple, it is every bit as important to me as making sure my shoulder pads fit securely.

Frank Gifford

I find myself a quiet corner in either the locker room or the training quarters, and take just a few minutes for a silent prayer.

The prayer itself, rather than being a request to perform well, is one of thankfulness that I have been given the physical ability to take part in something I sincerely love to do.

When I was in high school and later in college, I used to be somewhat embarrassed, and would always look for a place in which to offer my prayer as far away from my teammates as possible. Then I discovered that other players were also wandering off to some quiet spot for the same purpose.

NOT TOO BIG TO PRAY

One of the highlights of my football career was being invited to play in the 1954 All-Pro Game (similar to baseball's annual All-Star game) in the Los Angeles Coliseum; I'll never forget an incident that happened before the game.

Players and coaches had finished pre-game discussions, when Abe Gibron and Lou Groza, two stars of the Cleveland Browns, stood up and asked the entire team if they would mind waiting just a moment.

"It's a custom with us to have a moment of prayer together before each game," said Groza.

With that, each of those 250-pound goliaths dropped on one knee and bowed his head.

When one of the referees entered the locker room to tell us we were holding up the game, our whole ball club was kneeling for two minutes of prayer. I have often wondered what he thought then, and later, as we meshed together perfectly to beat the Western All-Stars by a wide margin that day.

You spectators, if you have field glasses, watch the pre-game huddles of professional, college, or high-school games and notice the many players whose eyes are closed and lips moving. I notice it before every game the New York Giants play.

More and more athletes realize today that not only is body conditioning necessary, but also the spiritual conditioning of their minds. In football, as in life, you get knocked down and suffer losses from which you must recover. This takes good physical equipment and the proper mental outlook.

When I first joined the New York Giants back in 1952, I felt I could never be anything but a defensive back, that I could not run, pass or kick well enough to make the team.

LACKED FAITH

I told this to the Giant coach who took me at my word, figuring that if I had no confidence in my offensive skill, he certainly wouldn't. So for several years I played a defensive halfback only.

Then during one of my pre-game prayers, it occurred to me that it was primarily a lack of faith that limited me to one role in football. So I asked God, not to make me a good runner or passer, but simply to help me to use all of the abilities which He had given me in a maximum way.

This prayer changed my attitude. The new attitude was followed by

Homestead Act Revisions Asked

Rep. Broomfield Seeks to Stop Speculation in Alaska Farm Land

To make it easier to settle in Alaska, Rep. William S. Broomfield (R-Oakland County) today proposed several major revisions of the Federal Homestead Act.

Broomfield said he has asked the House Interior Committee to investigate these possibilities:

1. An increase in the present 160-acre allotment for homesteaders who intend to engage in such large-scale activities as cattle-raising.

2. A provision to permit community property and planning to prevent "helter skelter and erratic" community growth in Alaska.

3. Stricter residence requirements to discourage land speculation.

Broomfield said he also has asked the Agriculture Department to report on the feasibility of giving Alaskan homesteaders a year's supply of surplus staple foods.

Most of these points were sought unsuccessfully earlier this year by a group of Michigan residents planning to emigrate to Alaska to form a community on the new state's primitive Kenai Peninsula.

After a series of turndowns, Broomfield told leaders of the group, known as "the fifty-niners," that he would pursue the issue at the federal level.

Broomfield said present homestead residence requirements offer an invitation to land speculation.

"In some cases," he said, "it is possible for a man to acquire clear title to his land after clearing only 20 acres of ground and living there only seven months. Then he moves away and holds the land for speculation.

"Some of the best Alaska farm land simply isn't being cultivated because it is being held to make quick money in the future."

ments yesterday on Michigan's fiscal problems:

—The House voted overwhelmingly to kill Gov. G. Mennen Williams' plan to mortgage the Veterans' Trust Fund. Earlier in the day, Williams said the trust fund should be tapped only if all other plans fail.

—Action on a Democratic plan to raise the debt limit was stalled in the House pending study of further amendments.

—Senate Republicans unveiled a plan to tie a one-cent sales tax hike in with a two-year-, 200-million-dollar bond program.

Williams presented his annual economic message which outlined a broad program he said would help provide the state with a million new jobs by 1970.

But the Legislature was too busy with a critical problem of 1959 to pay much attention.

NO SURPRISES

Williams' annual economic message, which contained no surprises, was handed to the House late yesterday during a cash crisis debate. Senate Republicans were in caucus and told Williams' messenger to come back today.

Of overshadowing importance was the need for any debt solution proposal to muster bi-partisan support by early next week, since this is vital to getting it on the spring election ballot for statewide referendum decision.

It was anybody's guess what the outcome would be, especially in the light of yesterday's staccato developments but the hour of decision is at hand.

School Board Presented Austerity Budget

schools may have up to $160,000 in uncommitted revenues with which to restore cutbacks in service or to pay out in wage increases, Whitmer said. If costs rise only two per cent, there won't be any money left over for extras, he predicted.

Revenues in 1959-60 are estimated at $9,971,085, with debt retirement claiming a whopping $1,816,098, a quarter million dollars more than 1958-59's bill.

That $350,000 has to be absorbed out of funds that would otherwise go into the operating budget, Whitmer said. It can't be offset by an extra tax levy, the method whereby the schools avoided tapping operating funds to make up a shortage in construction funds last year.

"When we planned the retirement of our short-term construction bonds three years ago, we believed 1959-60 would be the best year financially to make the biggest payments," said Whitmer.

"It's obvious that we guessed wrong."

The only provision for raises — besides the extra $160,000 that might or might not be available — is $193,445 proposed for contingency.

"But with a tight budget, contingency funds are more liable to be put to use in covering unexpected rises in operating costs," Whitmer warned.

Teachers are expected to make pay demands, if they have any, before the board passes on the budget for tax allocation purposes in April.

The proposed budget is based on the glum assumption that the Tax Allocation Board won't restore the .62 mill it cut from the school tax bill last year, he said.

But in case tax officials look more favorably on school needs this year, the administration prepared a supplemental budget of what it would do if the .62 mills were restored. These proposals will go to the tax board along with the proposed budget, said Whitmer.

"It's a shame school officials don't have more control over their tax needs, since they're dealing with the most important product there is — education of our youth," said Glenn H. Griffin, board president.

The other major reason for the tight financial picture—lowering of the state equalized valuation of the school district—has also been taken into account, said Whitmer.

The schools expect to live another year with the tax base trimmed by $15,000,000, he said. But if the state cuts the valuation still lower, the schools will face a deficit year, he has warned.

"We've spread the quality cuts evenly throughout the entire program," said Whitmer, "so that no one phase should suffer too much.

"Our financial and educational position is still enviable from the point of view of other school districts and our standards of instruction will remain very favorable on a comparative basis."

If any department is hard hit, it will be music, where funds for extras have been sharply cut.

In other areas, such items as special textbooks — which help make the difference between superlative instruction and merely good instruction—have been lopped out, Whitmer said.

There won't be any new elementary librarians hired or school nurses, "an extremely regrettable measure from the point of view of service," said Philip Proud, assistant superintendent.

"There are demands for further increases in such auxiliary services as psychological aid and visiting teachers which have not been recognized because of income limitations," he said.

"It was believed desirable to strengthen our instructional program further in library services, counseling services, mathematics, science and language, but monies are not available this year for such improvements," Whitmer said.

"Counselors will have more pupils to work with. Individual assistance to pupils will be reduced."

Included in the budget were provisions for only 18.5 new teaching positions, including those at the new Square Lake School.

Five retiring teachers at Pontiac Central won't be replaced, but this is because enrollment there will be down, he said.

Junior high classes may have one or two pupils over the 30-pupil per class standard the school district strives to maintain, Whitmer said.

But this will in part be due to increase in enrollment, causing a temporary classroom shortage that won't clear up until additions at two junior highs are completed next year, Whitmer said.

The rehabilitation program — planned in 1956 as a $1 million, five-year effort — will stay at a standstill for the second straight year, said Dr. Otto C. Hufziger, assistant superintendent.

There are funds for normal maintenance next year, he said, "but much required rehabilitation will have to be put off. Projects that have been deferred will continue to wait."

The swimming pool repairs are the biggest item in this category, while lesser projects are scattered throughout the older schools.

But the administration did manage to include in the budget $88,000 to complete fire hazard control in the schools.

Stairwells at Baldwin, McConnell and Wilson will be converted, meaning that all the schools will have at least two fire-resistant stairwells, Hufziger said.

Most divorces begin either because the wife talks too much or because the husband doesn't listen enough . . . What this country needs is an automobile that will go no faster than a driver can think. —Earl Wilson.

River Rouge Policeman Testifies in Gambling Conspiracy Case

DETROIT (AP)—A River Rouge policeman testified yesterday that he and eight fellow officers took payoffs from a gambling ring.

Patrolman D. C. McCants appeared before common pleas court Judge Thomas A. Kennedy, who is examining six River Rouge police officers and two other persons on charges of gambling conspiracy.

Among those indicted are Frank Schattler, former River Rouge safety commissioner, and Willie Folkes, an alleged gambler. Also indicted but not at the examination is Russell Trilck, alleged downriver gambling czar. Trilck is fighting extradition from Florida.

McCants, who has been named a co-conspirator but is not charged, testified that monthly payoffs to the officers rose from $15 in 1953 to $50 in 1955.

He said the payments dropped to $25 following a 1956-57 investigation into gambling by a grand jury.

Sgt. Bronaugh J. Bridges, also named as a co-conspirator, followed McCants on the stand.

He defended his hiring of Berkeley (Calif.) Police Capt. R. T. Sherry to study the police records in December.

One of the conditions under which he signed his contract was that he be able to employ from one to three consultants, Eastman said.

Smith asked the director why he stripped Straley of command Nov. 12 and did not suspend him for three months. He intimated Eastman was "having trouble with the city manager."

Eastman admitted he had asked City Manager Walter K. Willman twice to file charges against Straley, but had been refused.

"But the charges before this Commission are Willman's," he said.

Smith contended Eastman violated the City Charter in not taking an oath of office before late in December. Eastman earlier testified that when he first arrived in the city he was told by Willman "it wasn't necessary."

Eastman said Straley lied to him on two occasions.

He said the chief denied he could listen in to conversations in Eastman's office. A check showed he could, the safety director said.

Eastman said the chief had asked for vacation time, stayed away, and never put down vacation time in the records.

"On this so-called vacation, the records even show that the chief even put in for four days of compensatory time," Eastman added.

The hearing will be resumed Monday evening, with Eastman still on the stand.

Pontiac DeMolays to Install Officers

The Pontiac Chapter of the Order of DeMolay will conduct its semi-annual installation of officers tomorrow night with a dinner and formal ceremony at the Roosevelt Temple, 22 State St.

Being installed as the new master councilor is Richard Parr, of 2659 St. Joseph St. Parr has been a member of the local DeMolay group for three years.

The ceremony will also see 14 other members installed to offices of lesser prominence.

Installing officer will be Paul Hagle, past master councilor. The dinner is scheduled to begin at 6:30. Installation will be at 8.

Waterford Dems to Hear Circuit Court Candidate

The Waterford Township Democratic Club will meet tomorrow night at the CAI Building to hear a talk by James Allen, Democratic candidate for Circuit Court judge.

The meeting, which begins at 8 p.m., is open to the public. Other candidates are expected to attend.

Mrs. Luce Awaiting OK as Ambassador

PHOENIX, Calif. (UPI)—Mrs. Clare Boothe Luce, named by President Eisenhower for the post of ambassador to Brazil, refused to comment publicly on her selection.

Mrs. Luce's butler last night said the President has told Mrs. Luce not to say anything until she is officially notified. Her name was submitted to the Senate for confirmation yesterday but the butler said Mrs. Luce so far has heard nothing official.

Macmillan Sheds Fur Coat in Kiev

KIEV, U.S.S.R. (AP) — Prime Minister Macmillan shed a heavy cold and his fur coat as well today.

The visiting British leader amazed his Soviet hosts by walking around without the fur coat. Although it was mild winter weather, Macmillan was probably the only man in Kiev not muffled up.

One of his aides said the Prime Minister has finally got rid of the cold that has plagued him since he arrived in the Soviet Union last Saturday for a 10-day visit.

British newspapers on both sides of the political fence united today in blaming Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev because Prime Minister Harold Macmillan had obtained no concessions from the Soviet in his Moscow visit.

Even newspapers of the Labor opposition conceded Macmillan had done his best.

Macmillan himself had promised only to return with information. He had warned he was going on a reconnaissance mission, "to try to break the ice and get some feeling of the general situation."

British spokesmen in Moscow admitted Thursday, after their chief flew to Kiev for the sightseeing portion of his trip, that the "feeling" Macmillan got was that both the Soviets and the West so far were standing firm on the related issues of divided Germany and West Berlin.

Britons generally had hoped for more. As a result, Macmillan's trip was widely termed a failure.

The Day in Birmingham

Baldwin Library Extension Plans to Be Discussed

BIRMINGHAM — City commissioners and members of the Baldwin Public Library Board will have a special meeting at 8:30 a.m. tomorrow for another discussion of the library's expansion plan.

Miss Jeanne Lloyd, librarian, said the plans approved by the board will exceed the $75,000 commissioners allocated nearly a year ago.

The new section of the library, according to Lian Smith, architect, would be a one-story wing on the east side of the present building. It would harmonize with, rather than match, the original structure, he said.

If approved by commissioners, the addition will provide space for 80,000 books and double the seating area now offered.

The present building, according to Miss Lloyd, is "woefully" inadequate. "There is not enough space for the 60,000 volumes nor for patrons who use the library for study and research," she said, adding, "The loan desk cannot operate efficiently nor is there proper space for the behind-the-scenes operation of the library itself."

March 13 has been set as the examination date for Preston W. Smith, 19, of Bloomfield Hills who is charged with attempting to pass a worthless check for $60 in a Royal Oak market last week.

Royal Oak police said Smith admitted cashing more than $300 worth of phony checks during the same week. The youth said he needed the money to go to Florida, according to the police. He is the son of Mrs. Charles Otto of 6601 Castle Dr.

The Rev. Dr. Homer J. Armstrong, pastor of the Jefferson Avenue Baptist Church in Detroit, has accepted the pastorate of the First Baptist Church in Birmingham. He will begin his local service April 1.

He will succeed the Rev. Emil Kontz, D.D., who left last November after 11 years here to accept the pastorate in St. Albans, W. Va.

Meeting at the YMCA at 1 p.m. tomorrow, the Young Adults Club will leave for the "Y" camp near Milford for a weekend of sports and recreation, President Marion Cannon announced today.

Mrs. James I. Tuckett

Service for Mrs. James I. Tuckett, 62, of 5170 Wing Lake Rd., Bloomfield Township will be held at 11 a.m. tomorrow from the Bell Chapel of the William R. Hamilton Co. Interment will be at White Chapel Cemetery.

She was a member of the Sinawik Club in Detroit.

Surviving besides her husband are two daughters, Mrs. Fred W. B. Smith of Farmington and Mrs. Donald A. Robinson of Royal Oak; one son, J. Ronald of Royal Oak; three grandchildren and one sister.

Waterford School Slates Salk Vaccine Clinic

A polio clinic, at which Salk vaccine shots will be administered for a $1 fee, will be set up Tuesday, March 3 from 6 to 8 p. m. at the Waterford Center Elementary School, Airport and Pontiac Lake roads.

The program will be under the direction of Dr. M. G. Prosser, according to Mrs. William Guinn.

ly satisfied" with the project, as approved so far.

But the assistant city manager said he planned to appeal the exclusion of the Pike and Perry-Parke street areas before embarking on the final planning.

He said Pontiac will be required to submit a detailed account of all its renewal plans, including provisions for housing of persons displaced through home demolition.

The city first will prepare a subreport on the workability of its plans, and will probably have this ready for submission by June, he said.

Phone Service Restored Via Bow and Arrow

TOWNSEND, Mont. (AP)—Telephone service was restored across the Missouri River today—by bow and arrow.

A light plane, flying along the river, snapped the Mountain States Telephone & Telegraph Co. rural line. The plane apparently was not damaged.

Repairman Ken O'Dell, using a 50-pound bow and an arrow tied to a nylon fishing line, spanned the river with one shot. It is 300 feet wide at that point. Heavy twine was tied to the line and pulled across. Then a hemp rope, and finally the heavy wire.

Railmen Return to Mexico Jobs

Order 60,000 Strikers Back After Agreement on Wages, Benefits

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Some 60,000 striking Mexican railroad workers were ordered back to the job today after an agreement giving them an average 4 per cent raise and medical and housing benefits.

Union head Demetrio Vallejo said all men would be back on the job by 9:30 a.m. to resume full operations. Some workers returned Thursday night to put the yards in order.

It was a quick end to the first serious threat to President Adolfo Lopez Mateos' three-month-old government. A prolonged strike undoubtedly would have spawned widespread labor trouble.

The strike had stopped operations on two-thirds of the 14,000 miles of government-owned rail lines since noon Wednesday. Most of the major routes were affected. Guadalajara and the Arizona border, and the Southeast division were not struck.

Relief was general that the strike was so short, that previously feared violence had not materialized and that sabotage was minor despite Communist and leftist support of the walkout. Sympathy strikes did not materialize.

The government figured the new contract would raise the cost of railroad operations 10 million dollars a year. It claims the lines already show an annual deficit of about 27 million.

Both sides made concessions.

Would Kill National Debt—in 100 Years

At Least He Has an Idea

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — Many a man has looked at the national debt — big as a mountain in dollar bills — and asked himself: "How can we cut it down to pebble size?"

The latest to look and be appalled is Rep. James C. Wright Jr., 36, a Texas Democrat. He has an idea which might take 100 years to work out. But he thinks it's better than just sitting and looking.

Although Wright stuck a needle in the national conscience, and one House member after another arose to applaud him, nothing is likely to come of the idea except that it may be enshrined in a place set aside for noble thoughts.

The national debt now is 285 billion dollars. This year the government will have to pay $8,100,000,000 in interest on it, without knocking off a dime on the principal.

Wright, like others, hates to think of that going on indefinitely. He told the House that with interest rates going up, the government soon will probably be paying $9,800,000,000 a year in interest, if we just assume the total debt remains unchanged and does not get even higher than it is now.

So Wright said: "This means that if things go along exactly as they have been going, without any more increases in the national debt and without still another jump in the interest rates, in 29 years we shall have paid the total amount of the debt and still owe every penny of it."

Wright suggests Congress tell the Treasury Department to set aside each year one per cent of the present national debt of 285 billion — or $2,850,000,000 a year — to pay off the principal.

This, Wright figures, would be cutting down not only on the size of the debt each year but on the interest, too.

Using a 283 billion dollar debt figure which is now the permanent debt ceiling—the temporary ceiling until July 1 is higher than that — Wright told the House: "In 100 years we could completely retire the debt by paying 495 billion in interest and 283 billion in principal, or a total of 778 billion.

"But if we pay nothing on the debt itself, the interest alone for 100 years will be 980 billion, and we will still owe the debt of 283 billion, or a total of 1,263 trillion."

The only trouble with the idea — if it was going to work on schedule — is that for 100 years the government would have to balance its budget and not go further into debt.

But it hasn't been doing that. The budget or cost of running the government, has been going up. While this year President Eisenhower is making a try at budget-balancing, the chances are he won't make it.

His budget this year called for spending 77 billion and he estimated the government would take in through taxes and other revenue $77,100,000,000, or $100,000,000 more coming in than going out. But even those estimates included higher postal rates and gasoline taxes, and some other changes Congress isn't likely to make.

For Wright's idea to work — that is, for the government to spend every year around $2,850,000,000 on paying off on the debt — the government would have to be taking in more than it spent.

How could it do that? In only one of two ways: either by reducing spending or getting more income or revenue, which would ment spending seems pretty sure ment spending sems pretty sure to be going up, not down. And new taxes aren't popular.

Studies Show Life on Mars Possible

WASHINGTON—Many scientists now believe that life of a primitive nature exists on Mars.

Some scientists remain skeptical, but two recent studies have bolstered the life-on-Mars theory, the National Geographic Society says.

Researchers at the Air Force School of Aviation Medicine at Randolph Field, Tex., devised experiments to test whether certain organisms, such as bacteria and fungi, could survive under conditions similar to those on Mars.

The organisms were placed in jars filled with nitrogen at low pressure, corresponding to the Martian atmosphere. They were then exposed to sudden temperature changes — from 77 degrees above zero to 13 below.

Organisms requiring oxygen died, but those needing little or no oxygen survived and even grew. The experiment suggests that at least some forms of life known on earth could survive on Mars.

Strong evidence that life exists on Mars was reported by Dr. William M. Swinton of the Lowell Observatory, Flagstaff, Ariz. His spectroscopic studies indicate that there is matter on Mars that absorbs the same wave lengths of radiant energy as some plant life on earth.

What'll I Do With It?

CORN, Okla. (AP) — J. E. Heinrichs has several buckets of bacon drippings he can't get rid of. In past years people used it to make soap.

Fur-Bearing Import Becoming Menace

NEW YORK (UPI) — The nutria, a South American rodent imported into the United States less than 40 years ago for its fur, is reported threatening to become a national menace by 1965.

An army of the huge swamp rats is said to be eating its way across the country, destroying marshland and farm crops and defying all attempts to eradicate the scourge.

Already, according to True Magazine, nutria colonies have spread from Louisiana to Alabama, Arkansas, California, Colorado, Florida, Louisiana Maryland, Michigan, Mississippi, Nevada, New Mexico, Ohio, Oregon, Texas, Utah and Washington.

The magazine said they thrive on rat poison, that strychnine merely makes their fur glossier and that any chemical deadly enough to kill nutria would also wipe out other wildlife.

New Car Sales Rise 5 Per Cent

380,000 Deliveries in February Would Top Last Month's Figure

DETROIT (AP)—Retail deliveries of approximately 380,000 new passenger cars are indicated for the current month, Ward's Automotive Reports says in this week's issue.

That total would be about five per cent above January volume.

The trades publication adds: "At the halfway point in the first quarter of 1959, new car purchasing is running 15 per cent ahead of last year. Expectations are for a 15 to 20 per cent improvement over corresponding 1958 when the entire January-March figure is in."

(New car registrations for last year's January-March quarter numbered 1,116,013).

Ford Division reports its retail sales in the second 10-day period this month were 7 per cent greater than in the first 10 days, and 5 per cent greater than in the mid-January period.

The division also reported its new car registrations for last year's October-December quarter numbered 288,504 units compared to 262,386 for its nearest competitor (Chevrolet).

A sales report for the Edsel line said retailers sold 2,813 Edsel cars in the first 20 days of this month. This compared with 2,208 in the corresponding February 1958 period.

American Motors reported its retail Rambler sales in the second 10 days of this month numbered 8,344 units compared with 3,029 in the comparable 1958 period.

So far in the company's fiscal year which started Oct. 1, Rambler sales number 110,900 compared with 44,544 in the comparable year earlier period.

Williams Asks Legislature for Economic Remedy OK

LANSING (AP)—Gov. Williams has asked the Legislature to approve a multipoint program, including 146 million dollars in new construction, to help the state out of the economic doldrums.

The governor also put in a plug for his tax program, saying it would provide "substantial relief" for Michigan business.

He estimated that out of a proposed 176 million dollar increase in taxes only 17 million dollars would be borne by Michigan business.

In a special message to the Legislature yesterday, the governor said of his economic proposals:

"It would be foolish to pretend that these programs, alone, will correct the economic troubles of the state and eliminate unemployment which results from a complex of causes national in scope."

But he said his program represents the best in thinking on what state government can do to encourage the restoration of full employment and economy.

Williams said his proposed 146 million dollar state construction program could have a profound impact on the economic situation.

THOUSANDS OF JOBS

The governor has proposed that the construction be financed by revenue bonds. He estimated if the program could be started, it would create between 37,000 and 45,000 new jobs.

The governor also asked for:

Creation of an institute of science and technology at the University of Michigan to attract new business to the state.

Full budget appropriations for the state Economic Development Commission, Tourist Council and Conservation Department.

Speedy action to put a constitutional amendment authorizing a 30 million dollar bond issue for state park development on the April 6 ballot.

Creation of a commission on automation at an original cost of $25,000.

Creation of a post of state director of atomic energy activities, a radiation standards board and uniform radiation safety rules.

Action to put a constitutional amendment providing for a state industrial building authority able to guarantee loans for construction and manufacturing development on the spring ballot.

Creation of an industrial park authority to encourage provision of suitable land for plant developments and creation of industrial research centers.

Amendment of laws covering development credit corporations, small business investment companies and other investment capital to encourage new enterprises.

ENCOURAGE BUILDING

Legislation to permit pension funds to be invested in insured mortgages to encourage building.

A $200,000 appropriation for a small business research service at the University of Michigan.

A $50,000 appropriation for St. Lawrence Seaway development and a $150,000 appropriation for a Great Lakes research institute at the University of Michigan.

Legislation to enable creation of a free port in Michigan to attract St. Lawrence Seaway shipping.

New Bantam Bus Smaller, Lower

DETROIT (AP) — Divco-Wayne Corp., specialized automotive manufacturers, has announced a new small-group bantam transit bus.

The unit is designed to seat 12 to 25 passengers, depending upon the seating arrangement. The company said the vehicle is designed for schools, nurseries, railroad terminal shuttle service, airport charter services and other uses.

The bus, called the Coachline Transit, is about a foot smaller in width, and is shorter and lower than conventional type coaches. It is powered with a six-cylinder 115 horsepower engine.

Pressmen's Strike Halts 3 Columbus Newspapers

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A pressmen's strike has halted publication of this city's three daily newspapers with a total daily circulation of 347,000.

The strike by Columbus Web Pressmen's Union, Local No. 15, knocked out publication of the morning Ohio State Journal. The afternoon Columbus Dispatch and Columbus Citizen were not expected to publish.

The strike started Thursday night when pressmen, failing to come up to terms with the publishers on a new contract, threw up picket lines outside the Dispatch-Journal building and the Citizen building.

No Hitch Seen in April Welfare

Official Confident That State Will Not Default on Payments

LANSING (AP)—Social Welfare Director W. J. Maxey has assured the State Welfare Commission that Michigan will meet its April welfare commitments.

Commissioners expressed fear yesterday that the state's cash shortage might lead to a default in welfare payments.

However, Maxey noted that the House Ways and Means Committee has already approved a 15 million dollar supplementary welfare appropriation and added:

"I've never known of a bill introduced by that committee that didn't get through."

Commissioner W. R. Orr of Battle Creek, a former Republican legislator, commented, "Whether the money will be available after the appropriation is approved will be interesting."

But, Maxey said he was confident that advance tax payments by industry and business has assured the April payments.

He warned, however, that the department must have the appropriation by April 1.

NORAH SPENCER WALLS

Local Author at Waite's Tomorrow with New Book

Mrs. Walls to be in Waite's Bookstore Sat., 1 to 4 P. M. to autograph "Looking Back"

Mrs. Norah Spencer Walls, local teacher and prominent author of poetry, will autograph her new book "Looking Backward" tomorrow afternoon, Feb. 28, from 1 to 4 P. M. in Waite's Bookshop, Mezzanine.

Her poems of nature show a sensitive awareness of the wonder and beauty of the seasons and of God's creatures, and those about friends reveal her to have been blessed with many deep and enduring friendships.

In a section entitled "Special Days," she gives poetic new meaning to various holidays, and in "Recollections"—which comprises most of the book — she brings to life a kaleidoscope of events and memories.

Born in a log schoolhouse in Fillmore, Kentucky, Mrs. Walls first taught school at the age of seventeen. She is now an elementary school teacher at Malkim Elementary School, of Pontiac. More than a quarter of a century of teaching experience lies behind Mrs. Walls; she has taught in Kentucky, Wisconsin and Michigan.

Her verse has appeared in newspapers and in such anthologies as "Poetic Voice of America," "Voice of Freedom," "Paebar Anthology and Book of Modern Poetry" and "My Favorite Poems."

Governor Albert B. Chandler of Kentucky said of "Looking Back":

"In these days of pressing business activity and emphasis on the material treasures that can accumulate, it is a refreshing experience to read the poetic observations of Norah Spencer Walls.

"Her insight, warmth, and understanding are revealed by a sensitive pen recording the unfortunately insignificant scenes of this life. We are closest to God when we are still.

"Mrs. Walls describes in beautiful expressions what we would see if we were in less of a hurry."

"Looking Back" is published by Exposition Press of New York (Price: $3.50). Mrs. Walls invites all her friends to Waite's Department Store tomororw from one to four P.M., to talk with her in Waite's Bookstore on the mezzanine.

Michigan Farmer Case Height of 'Surplus' Folly

Probably the most graphic demonstration of our wanton "surplus policy" comes to light through a Michigan farmer.

STANLEY YANKUS—what a name—has been growing more than his allotment of wheat. Up to now he has incurred $2,600 in penalties and the government seized his bank account in toto and threatens him with other legal procedures. So, Farmer YANKUS is offering his farm for sale and announces he is done with a silly nation like this and he is prepared to migrate to Australia and take his family with him.

Says Yankus:

"I only grow wheat to feed my own chickens. Who is going to tell me I can't do that? I'll answer my own question: NO ONE. And that includes the Government."

"I sell no wheat," says the indignant Michigander.

Clare Hoffman, Michigan legislator declared yesterday in Congress: "Yankus mistakenly believes that the freedom for which his forefathers fought — and many of them died — is still his. Unfortunately he was mistaken."

Congress promises to "investigate."

But investigations won't solve anything unless they give Farmer YANKUS back $1,700 he paid last year for his "sins." Then, if they'll guarantee him complete freedom, the Michigan man will consider remaining in the onetime vaunted "land of the free."

"I can live like a free man in Australia," says he. "That's what I want."

The Agriculture Committee will listen to his story and go into profound meditation. We already have billions and billions and billions of standard farm crops piled all around the U. S. and we find ourselves slapping fines on citizens and confiscating bank accounts when an independent farmer seeks to feed his own hens.

Perhaps this whole thing will result in a new look at the general farm situation with some resulting profit to everyone.

Norwegians Organized to Beat Cost of Living

To help control inflation in this country, President EISENHOWER more than once appealed to both industry and labor.

Norway, too, is suffering from inflation and major businesses and labor have organized to help bring it under control in that country.

The Norwegian Federations of Industries, Consumer Co-operatives, Handcraft Trades and the Mercantile Federation have banded together and pledged assistance toward putting voluntary price reductions into effect in the hope of lowering the cost of living index by two-thirds of a point.

The Federation of Labor has agreed to postpone wage negotiations and two major farm organizations are considering new government requests which would reduce the cost of living index by another one-third of a point.

Perhaps because it is a small land and its people nearer to the government, farms, factories and labor forces are more highly organized and more easily influenced by government than is the case in this country. However, we might keep an eye on the results of Norway's vigorous program to bring about voluntary controls which might hold down inflation.

The Man About Town

But Then Found It in Field Across the Road

Mink: What's often secured by skinning a wolf.

Until recent years most every farm had a windmill. It was placed above the well that furnished the water supply, and the winds made it spin.

The power thus generated did the pumping. But now most of them have been replaced with motors, as the power lines have been extended to the farms.

Buel E. Starr,

Manufacturing Manager at Pontiac Motor Division, there was a windmill near the house, and it was assumed, of course, that it surmounted a well.

But a closer scrutiny failed to disclose one, although the mill had been pumping water for many years. The situation caused some head scratching.

An investigation disclosed that an underground pipe extended from just underneath the windmill and pump to a well in a field several rods away, going under a main highway to reach its source of supply.

"Guilty!—Of a Navigational Error"

David Lawrence Says:

Unions May Lose Tax Exemption

WASHINGTON — The Supreme Court of the United States has just handed down a decision which could point the way to the removal of the tax exemption now granted labor unions.

LAWRENCE

So also do many charitable foundations appear to be in danger of losing that same exemption.

For the first time in 40 years, the Supreme Court dealt specifically with those treasury regulations which deny corporations or individuals the right to deduct from their gross income for tax purposes any expenses in promoting the passage or defeat of legislation, Federal, state, or city.

The ruling is an affirmation of the laws of Congress which say that lobbying, the distribution of propaganda and other such activities by individuals or organizations are constitutionally protected, but that they must be given no tax favors.

The Supreme Court declares:

"Nondiscriminatory denial of deduction from gross income to sums expended to promote or defeat legislation is plainly not 'aimed at the suppression of dangerous ideas.'

"Rather, it appears to us to express a determination by Congress that since purchased publicity can influence the fate of legislation which will affect, directly or indirectly, all in the community, everyone in the community should stand on the same footing as regards its purchase so far as the treasury of the United States is concerned."

But what is a "nondiscriminatory denial of deduction"? This means that every individual and every organization of individuals must be treated alike.

The court, in support of its argument, pointed to the way private organizations are given tax exemptions provided they do not engage in propaganda activity.

While it did not mention labor unions which today indirectly finance political activities and so-called "educational" propaganda, the following paragraphs in the latest decision are significant:

"The statutory policy is further evidenced by the treatment given by Congress to the tax status of organizations, otherwise qualified for exemption as organized exclusively for 'religious, charitable, scientific, literary or educational purposes,' which engage in activities designed to promote or defeat legislation.

"As early as 1934 Congress amended the (internal revenue) code expressly to provide that no tax exemption should be given to organizations, otherwise qualifying, a substantial part of the activities of which 'is carrying on propaganda or otherwise attempting to influence legislation,' and that deductibility should be denied contributions by individuals to such organizations.

"And a year thereafter, when the code was for the first time amended to permit corporations to deduct certain contributions not qualifying as 'ordinary and necessary' business expenses, an identical limitation was imposed."

The current case dealt with the expenses incurred by certain dealers in alcoholic beverages who contributed to organizations in the states of Washington and Arkansas attempting to fight proposed legislation which the dealers claimed would put them out of business.

Plainly, under the usual definition which permits deductions for "ordinary and necessary business expenses," these items were entitled to a deduction, but the Treasury, in denying the deduction, has been guided by the act of Congress relating to propaganda or activities seeking the passage or defeat of legislation.

The case may have a bearing on the efforts of electric light and power companies to carry on publicity seeking to prevent Government ownership of their businesses.

The Country Parson

"Some folks wouldn't tolerate what I say against their sins—except they figure that others need to hear it so badly."

Dr. William Brady Says:

Don't Try to Cut Weight by Cheating on Breakfast

"A man 6 feet tall, 34 years old, has had angina pectoris for five years. It is getting worse, at least he has attacks more frequently. He weighs 214 pounds, eats no breakfast, but always a hearty lunch and dinner. His doctor hasn't said so, but it seems to me that the man eats too fast. Is there any good reason why one with coronary disease should not gulp his food in a hurry?" (D.R.T.)

No one should gulp food down in a hurry. Especially a person whose arteries are not as soft and elastic as they should be.

You do not mention why the man eats no breakfast. I hope it is not to reduce. If so, the man is an idiot, for the hearty lunch and dinner will make up for the calories a fair breakfast would have contained.

It would probably be beneficial for the man to reduce some 12 pounds in the course of two or three months of moderate restriction of diet—that is, limiting his intake of sugar and sweets and carbohydrates at every meal, and, if he uses beer, wine, or liquor at all, cutting it out altogether.

Alcoholic beverages or liquors represent too many calories and give no energy at all. No reduction program is likely to succeed, if the individual uses beer, wine, or liquor.

CARRY NITROGLYCERIN

If the young man really has angina pectoris, I hope his doctor sees to it that he always has a vial of nitroglycerin tablets in his pocket, so he can take one immediately upon the occurrence of any distress—and repeat the dose in 5 or 10 minutes if the first tablet does not bring relief. In Volumette 2 of the Pocket Cyclopedia of Health, the booklet titled CVD, about heart and artery troubles, you will find further suggestions—for a copy send 35 cents and stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Some physicians are altogether too timid about the use of this medicine by patients with angina. It is often a godsend to such sufferers.

Namby-pamby folk who breakfast on tea and toast or coffee and a roll or a dish of sugar pap and some sweetened fruit juice fresh from the can, are satisfied, for a short while, with such cheat food just as a growing youngster is by sucking on a bottle of pop. But anyone who takes, instead of real food (protein, fat and carbohydrate), only sugar, sweets or refined carbohydrate (cheat food), will get energy for a brief spurt of work, but he is bound to tire quickly.

The most essential item of an adequate breakfast is protein, such as eggs, ham, bacon, fowl, or fish.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case A-465: Nita B., aged 19, is in love with a boy named Nick.

"Dr. Crane, Nick has been a bad boy," she said, "for he has served two terms in prison.

DR. CRANE

"But I love him and think I can change him. He says I am his better self and the only good person he has ever met.

"My parents and a lot of my friends have warned me against him, but I just know that my great love for him would keep him going straight.

"So would you please tell my parents what you think of my chances of a happy marriage with Nickie?"

BATTING AVERAGES

Anybody might get into conflict with the law once.

But people who do so twice should be viewed with suspicion. They either haven't much intelligence so cannot learn by one bitter experience.

Or maybe they think they are so superior to law that they can get away with repeated criminal acts.

Oh, it is possible that a recidivist (repeater criminal) under a religious transformation might become an honest man, as by the dramatic preaching of Billy Graham, Oral Roberts and other evangelists.

But smart people learn to play the batting averages in life.

Nita has a fine young man named Tony who is also in love with her. Tony is an honor student in college and an industrious, honest man.

He is just as good looking as Nick and would probably make a much better father.

So why should Nita ignore her obligation to her future unborn babies and pick a man who has twice broken the law?

A baseball manager would play the batting averages and say she should turn her attention to Tony and forget Nick. Remember, you young people cast the proxy votes of your unborn children when you pick their other parent, so use your heads more than your heart!

Don't marry a man to reform him!

You will have enough trials and tribulations building a happy home with a first rate man who truly loves you, without trying to break a second-rate husband of alcoholism, gambling, the drug habit or other vices.

TONY OR NICK?

Why does Nick exert such magnetic influence over Nita?

Girls often have a missionary fervor to reform men! It inflates their ego to salvage a drunkard or crook. And they deserve credit for this high ambition, if they temper it with "horse sense."

Other women feel a secret kinship for the culprit. Maybe they have been victims of secret sins, though never detected or publicly confessed.

So they figure they are in the same boat, and by championing the downtrodden, they indirectly are defending themselves and indicating how they wish the public would react to their own crimes, if known.

Other girls have been overly coerced by a domineering father or mother, so they have felt like striking back. Even though they may not have done so, they feel akin to the criminals who have struck back at society.

Finally, girls are often like moths who can't resist the flame that burns them. For women subconsciously like to flirt with dangerous males.

A criminal is vaguely associated with savages, who are often the characters conjured up in female dreams.

of being pursued by savages with long spears, for this is a standard type of coed nightmare whose symbolism is almost self-evident.

The most religious, repressed type of woman is often the one with the most sexual imagery in her dreams.

In this case, I had Nita rate her two boy friends on the "Tests for Sweethearts." Enclose a stamped return envelop, plus 20 cents for your copy.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 4c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Uses Statistics to Prove Folly of Federal Spending

"Facts and Figures on Government Finance," published by the Tax Foundation, Inc., shows the cost of government and the purchasing power of our dollar since 1910. Value of the dollar is shown in relation to a 100 cent dollar for 1947-49.

Here are representative figures: 1910—253; 1940—166; 1949—100; 1957—83. The cost of Federal Government: 1910—$694 million; 1940—$9 billion; 1949—$39 billion; and 1957—$69 billion. As the cost of Government goes up the value of the dollar consistently goes down.

These statistics conclusively prove that excessive Government spending is a potent factor in reducing the value of our money and increasing cost of living. Senators Hart and McNamara have lined up with the big spenders in Congress and are off in the wrong direction. They're not serving the best interests of our country.

'Papers Give Her Little Chance'

I was incensed the day the Gall story hit the papers. That woman was crucified by them before enough time had elapsed to gather all thee facts. Such words as "tortured" were used and public opinion was so thoroughly turned against her through the papers that she has no earthly possibility of having an unbiased verdict when the case comes to trial.

A mother that loves her children enough to care how they act and tries everything to straighten them out is not going to set out deliberately to "torture and murder" one of them.

When true facts are known, and only then, can this woman be judged by the courts. We all know that an accident could happen in the course of a spanking by the child turning in an unexpected direction, when a parent was administering a much needed spanking.

Let's give this woman the same chance that's given known murderers, gamblers, peddlers of dope, prostitutes and child molesters that walk the streets every day. Let her be tried by the dignity of the law.

Divorcee Agrees About Alimony

I agree about stopping alimony payments after a mother remarries. The father is allowed only certain visiting times. Why shouldn't he be allowed to have a second chance at life, too? She has.

The man that marries her knows she has children and if he is willing to accept her he should accept the children, too.

Of course, if the times comes when the children need help, then the father should help them instead of helping to make new car payments. I'm a divorced mother.

'Youth Today Needs Gym Equipment'

I remember my farm childhood and my daily duties in winter, helping saw wood for the heating stove, pumping water for cattle and horses, feeding and watering chickens, and walking over a mile to school. I helped in a large garden and in the fields, but I also remember missing a month of school when snowdrifts were 10

Income Tax Notes

TAX AIDS

The Internal Revenue Service has made available various aids in assisting you in filing your income tax return.

An instruction book keyed to the tax return on a line-by-line basis is available to all.

In addition, for those with more complicated problems, a book entitled "Your Federal Income Tax" may be purchased for 35 cents.

It is suggested that you follow these three rules:

(1) Read the instructions — start the return.

(2) If you have a problem, telephone your local Internal Revenue Service Office.

(3) When more help is needed, visit the Internal Revenue Office on the special assistance days.

Income tax returns must be filed by April 15, 1959 if you wish to avoid penalties.

When filing the return, choose the right form. Then determine if it is to your advantage to file a separate or joint return. Next, determine if it is better to use the standard deduction or to itemize your deductions.

The Internal Revenue Service suggests you figure your tax each way and then file the type of return which results in the lowest tax.

Start now and file your income tax return early.

Fine Weather Festival Canceled by Rain, Cold

SAN JUAN, Tex. (AP) — This town in the subtropical lower Rio Grande Valley planned a picnic and sport shirt festival to point up the usual fine winter weather.

Last weekend it was too cold. The festival was set for this weekend.

But drizzle and cold weather most of the week killed off enthusiasm. Sponsors called it off and decided to wait until next year.

Some severe criticism is aimed at our school program. Granted we don't need such elaborate buildings, but we do need facilities for our youth to get exercise and recreation, such as we got in our daily work and which, through no fault of theirs, our children don't have in the city. As for birdwatching, which I suppose was a term for biology and science, I want our children to have an appreciation for the beautiful and worthwhile things of this world.

If we want a generation of ditchdiggers who see only the clods at their feet, we can have them. But we're put here for higher aims than that. Let's be economical, but don't make unresponsive clods of our boys and girls.

'Ads Didn't Drag Any of Us Down'

Concerning ladies who don't like liquor ads. When they can't find the true reason teenagers are getting into trouble, people think up the craziest things. When I see an ad I don't like or anything else in the paper that doesn't interest me, I just don't read it.

No, money isn't that important, but it comes in handy for some of our bad habits, like eating, paying utility bills and such. My husband and I have 17 brothers and sisters, between 21 and 30, and they all read the paper. Not one is an alcoholic or has been dragged down by ads. I guess some of us don't have any responsibility for others.

Editorial Brings Some Criticism

Your editorial Feb. 21 is appropriate and timely except for the old malarky about the Governor being "captive" and Walter Reuther "calling the shots."

What some "lifetime Republican" in some swank country club's locker room might have to say about their Senator should make little difference. He'll represent Michigan honorably and creditably. He still remains the Senator whose constituents share Walter Reuther's views.

If you had your chance to "unburden" yourself about the Senator's duty in Washington, then shouldn't Walter Reuther have the right to claim the same privilege?

Eager Critic

'One Mistake's Enough for Now'

I see they're greasing the skids to make Hawaii the 50th state and it will be a bad mistake. They're not far enough advanced now and neither is Alaska but we've made one mistake so let's don't make the second in the same direction.

'Dictatorships Are Strangling Worker'

As a member of seven unions in the past, I've watched the dictatorship slowly strangling the rank and file, the same applies to State Government. Government of the people, by and for, does not apply in Michigan. The Governor and his friends don't want to give you the opportunity to vote for or against the sales tax increase. They're in effect saying you're too stupid to decide what you want or need. If you allow this to continue, you are stupid.

What is the job of Road Coordinator? When was it created? By whom and how does Brewer rate the plums, when there is so much unemployment in Oakland County?

'How Do We Report Cruelty to Child?'

Where do you report when you know of children being mistreated? I know of a case that I've been trying to report for six months and every place I call I'm told it's none of my business and that I have to have actual proof by seeing it happen. They also tell me I'm making accusations and this party can sue me if I sign a complaint.

'They Not Only Try, but Succeed at It'

How long will we stand by and sigh while we put out more and more tax money and at the same time read of foolish waste of money such as the Oakland County Road Coordinator, a part time job that's a political plum that we're paying $8,500 a year for. Also we raise pay for judges that are already overpaid and overprotected by pensions our tax dollars support. Obviously our politicians think there's no end to what they can put over on the laboring class and what is even worse, they're proving they're right.

Telephone Soliciting Irritates Woman

Today was another of the many days our home has been invaded by the perpetual annoyance of telephone soliciting by itinerant peddlers.

Two years ago Dave Beck said at the McClellan hearings that all that silly business would end and in six months the whole thing would be forgotten. Let this be a lesson to other labor leaders who feel unions are above the alw.

While Owner's Away, This Auto Will Play

ST. GEORGE, Utah (AP) — Clinton Neilson tried to start his car. The motor wouldn't turn over. Neilson gave up in disgust and left for work.

Half an hour later the car started moving on its own. It went only a short distance — just far enough to climb the guy wire of a utility pole.

It hung there — front wheels up—until a tow truck fetched it down.

Dulles in Step on World Affairs

Summons Top Aides to Hospital for Confab on Berlin Strategy

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Administration officials said today that ailing Secretary of State John Foster Dulles is taking a greater part in foreign policy each day and shows every intention of resuming his post full-time if at all possible.

The secretary, under massive radiation treatment for cancer, gave dramatic evidence of this increased participation when he summoned his top aides to Walter Reed Army Medical Center late yesterday for a strategy conference on Berlin.

Officials said Dulles, who was found to have a recurrence of cancer when he underwent a hernia operation Feb. 13, began last Sunday to show strong signs of wanting to get back on the job.

That was the day he conferred at length with Vice President Richard M. Nixon and with his brother, Allen W. Dulles, director of the Central Intelligence Agency.

They discussed Russian threats to Berlin and Germany and Allied preparations.

Summoned by Dulles to meet with him in his hospital suite for an hour yesterday were Acting Secretary of State Christian A. Herter, Deputy Undersecretary Robert Murphy, Assistant Secretary for European Affairs Livingston T. Merchant and Joseph N. Greene, Dulles' Personal assistant.

Officials said the discussion ranged across all aspects of the Berlin crisis, including Soviet Premier Nikita S. Krushchev's speech Tuesday apparently rejecting the Western proposal for an East-West foreign ministers' meeting on Germany and Berlin.

2 Hurt as Car Skids, Hits Pole on Walton

James C. Baldwin, 25, of 775 Young St., and Donna Cantrell, 26, of 6435 Apple Orchard Lane, Rochester, were injured in an accident on Walton boulevard at Wimpole drive, Avon Township, early this morning.

Baldwin told sheriff's deputies he lost control of his car on ice and struck a utility pole. Both were treated at Pontiac General Hospital and released.

Held for Break-In Investigation

Expect Arraignment of Three Flint Men

Three Flint men being held by the Oakland County Sheriff's Dept. for investigation of breaking and entering in the nighttime are expected to be formally charged and arraigned today.

Detectives identified the three as George Ahrns, 18; Robert Brown, 25; and Ronald Spees, 19, all of 1003 W. Court St.

Detectives Leo Hazen and Harry Maur said today the three suspects have admitted three break-ins and an attempted break-in in Oakland County Thursday morning.

They also admitted six previous burglaries, five of which were in Genesee County, detectives said.

Sheriff's Deputies Robert MacFarlane and Leroy Young, while on patrol early Thursday, said they saw Ahrns and Brown near Earl's Mobil Station, 2140 Ortonville Rd., Brandon Township, and stopped to investigate.

"Both men took off on foot in different directions and we gave chase," the deputies said.

Ahrns ran out onto Bald Eagle Lake and hid behind a fishing shanty where he was apprehended. Brown ran down Ortonville Road and started hitchiking, deputies said.

A call for assistance was radioed back to headquarters. On his way to the scene, Sgt. Paul Carpenter stopped to pick up a hitchhiker. The hitchhiker was Brown.

Spees was apprehended later by state troopers from the Pontiac post. He had been driving around after dropping off Brown and Ahrns at the station, deputies said.

Man in Fair Condition After 2-Car Collision

A Waterford Township man, George M. Whiteside, 60, was reported in fair condition today at Pontiac General Hospital after being injured in a two-car collision Thursday afternoon.

Driver of the other car, Bruce W. Hodgkins, 21, of 274 S. Paddock St., told deputies he was going east on M59 at about 60 miles an hour when Whiteside pulled in front of him from Lakeside street in White Lake Township.

Hodgkins' auto struck the other car broadside. Both were almost total wrecks, deputies said. Hodgkins was not injured.

Noisy Roosters to Crow No More

CAPETOWN, South Africa (AP)—Roosters have been banned from the precincts of Capetown because of their crowing during man's sleeping hours.

After a hilarious quarter-hour debate, the City Council ordered the roosters out by a majority vote yesterday.

Councilman John Tyers led the fight, contending the roosters performed no useful function.

"I am sure there is no permanent romantic association between pullets and cocks," he declared, "and they (the roosters) really are not necessary for the laying of eggs."

Mrs. Lucy Hall seconded him. "Spoil sport," someone muttered.

Would Up Cost to Auto Buyers

WASHINGTON (AP)—Car buyers will pay higher financing charges and insurance rates if auto manufacturers are barred from financing their retail sales, a Ford Motor Co. spokesman said today.

The prediction came from William T. Gossett, Ford vice president and general counsel in testimony to the Senate Antimonopoly Committee. The group is hearing views on proposed legislation to divorce the auto manufacturing industry from the financing field.

General Motors now is the only auto firm engaged in retail financing, but Ford has announced plans to re-enter the field.

Gossett called the measures "undisguised class legislation" and said they would deprive the consumer of the benefit of the most effective kind of competition.

The proposals, Gossett said, "seem to have been inspired either by a desire to preserve and protect the present rates and profits of the finance companies, or by a determination to take specific legislative action against General Motors."

The subject of the dispute is Rose Marie Klein.

Martin Klein, 43, of Grand Rapids, father of the girl, is fighting a charge of abandonment and neglect brought by Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Zelinski through Wexford Probate Court.

Klein had boarded the girl with the Zelinskis when they lived in Grand Rapids. They took the girl with them when they moved to Cadillac last summer.

Klein's attorney contends the Wexford Probate Court has no jurisdiction in the case.

The case is further complicated by contempt of court action against Klein, his attorney John Milanowski of Grand Rapids, and two character witnesses, Raymond Greenland of Grand Rapids, and Richard Stoepker, of Hudsonville.

In court action yesterday, Judge Campbell put over the contempt citations until March 4 and granted a defense motion for a change of venue review by Lake County Circuit Judge Rupert B. Stephens.

The motion seeks an opinion whether Judge Campbell may preside over the contempt case against the four. The case is scheduled to return to Judge Campbell's court June 22 for disposition under the Lake County opinion.

Judge Campbell cited the four for contempt Jan. 8 when Klein and the two witnesses left court at recess, picked up the little girl and headed for Grand Rapids.

State Police stopped the car and returned the group to court.

Parents Reject Service for 26 Dead in Disaster

PRESTONSBURG, Ky. (AP)—Parents of the 26 children who died in the nation's worst school bus disaster have rejected a suggestion for a special memorial service.

The children and their driver drowned last Feb. 28 when the bus plunged into a fork of the Big Sandy River.

At the request of School Supt. V. O. Turner, James Goble, father of three of the victims, polled other parents and said they all rejected the idea.

"What's the use of opening old wounds that are just beginning to heal?" he said.

In 1900 a fourth of live boy babies died before they were 23 years old. Today a fourth of boy babies are not likely to die before they have attained an age of at least 59.

Father of 6 Asks Police to Take 3 Sons Away

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) — Richard Paulisich, 41, a jeweler and the father of six, filed a complaint of "incorrigibles" against three of his sons in Juvenile Court Thursday.

He charged they ignored him, threatened him and threw stones at him. The boys are 13, 15 and 16.

"In the last couple of years," said Paulisich, "they've been getting worse and worse. I don't know why. They could be good boys. I want them to get straightened out before they get into serious trouble."

Paulisich accused his sons of having drinking and gambling parties in his home. He said they threatened him when he objected.

He and his wife Wilma, 46, have three other children, two girls, 12 and 14, and another boy, 6.

Police said the three older boys were surly and bitter when taken to Juvenile Hall pending a hearing. One muttered: "We'll get even."

Town Helping Family of 11 in Hunt for Home

NEWBURYPORT, Mass. (AP) —A search for new living quarters for the 11 members of the Genna family today became a community-wide project.

Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Genna and their nine children lost all their belongings and their Plum Island home in a fire Thursday.

The Newburyport News, service organizations and individuals pitched in to help find the Gennas new living quarters within a week.

What appliances do not come with the new home will be acquired for the Gennas by the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

The Ladies of Christopher will supply linen and kitchen utensils.

The Kiwanis Club contributed $225 to buy clothing.

Rotary Club members said they would seek a suitable home.

The Salvation Army said it would serve as a receiving depot.

Thomas L. Lancaster, a bank teller, offered to serve as treasurer to receive cash contributions.

William L. Plante Jr., editor of the Newburyport News, who spurred the drive, said "the family should be in pretty good shape within a week."

Genna, 35, and slightly over five feet tall, is widely known throughout Plum Island and Newburyport as a hard-working salesman. He has sold vacuum cleaners and worked as a salesman for a bakery and an appliance store.

Their Findings Important to Business

Statisticians Know Your Habits

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Business statisticians can tell you almost anything today. They know — or say they do — how many baths you take a week and how much soap you use.

They can say how much the average homemaker — whoever that may be — spends on keeping the house clean. They can give the cost of keeping a skyscraper's insides spic and span. They have figures on aerosol bombs and on the task of tidying up airport runways after the jet planes.

Statisticians may just be in love with figures. But businessmen want their reports for other reasons. They need to know the demand so they can plan production. They want the potential so they can lay out sales drives. They use these figures in deciding whether a new product could beat out a rival, or a new commercial drum up bigger consumer response.

The comforting statistical news today is that Americans are getting cleaner every year, both personally and in their surroundings.

Statisticians say that in 1946 Americans used 23 pounds of soap a year per capita, and now 29 pounds. The total comes to more than five billion pounds of soap a year. From this the experts deduce that Americans take 26 billion baths a year, or some 500 million a week. On a per capita basis this is about 150 a year or three a week.

The nation's 30,000 tailor shops and cleaners now do a record 1½ billion dollar a year business keeping clothes fresh. The total of dry cleaning bills goes up an average of 3 per cent a year.

This year Americans are expected to spend nearly 600 million dollars, or $12 a family, on household cleansers, cleaners, polishes, deodorizers and disenfectants. Howard S. Cohoon, president of Dumas Milner Corp., Jackson, says industry sales have risen 25 per cent in five years.

Last year the total was $550 million dollars: some 350 million for cleaners and cleansers, 100 million for waxes and polishes, 50 million for disenfectants, and 50 million for deodorizers, a fairly latecomer to the household scene.

To this could be added millions more spent on home painting, and and other appliances. Cohoon says sales of his own pine-based line went up 25 per cent in 1958 and that now 40 per cent of its products are made from synthetic pine oil—the American yen for cleanliness having helped eat up much of the pine stumps that started the business.

Some 300 maintenance contractors tidy up New York's big buildings. One, National Cleaning Contractors Inc., taking care of 90 skyscrapers here, in Philadelphia, Newark, N.J., and Chicago, uses 75,000 gallons of resin and plastic-based floor finishes a year, 30,000 gallons of liquid detergents, tons of cleaning powder compounds. Costs per building run from $200,000 to $500,000 a year.

Some 100 companies specialize in filling aerosol bombs with such things as window cleaners, deodorants, insecticides, paints and cleaning materials.

And the jet age is barely on us when one company — the Sabre Metal Product Co. of Lyons, Ill. — is out with a special jet airport sweeper to clean two million square feet of runway per hour. The product can pick up sand, gravel, stone, bolts, nails, metal rods, rags, wrenches or pop bottles.

The firm says its vacuum sweeper can also pick up two-by-fours, though it doesn't say how they are likely to get on a jet-used runway.

'Nip' of Whisky Starts Each Day for Merchant, 95

PEORIA, Ill. (UPI)—John Moser Sr., probably the oldest active shoe merchant in the world, celebrated his 95th birthday recently by doing what he's done every day for some 75 years: He arose at 6 a.m., had breakfast and a "nip" of whisky and then walked to work.

Moser has been in the shoe business here since 1883, and has lived in the same home for 69 years. Before coming to the United States in 1882, he spent four years in shoe shops in Germany where he was born, two of them as an apprentice.

His wife died 22 years ago and four of their six children still are living. He has nine grandchildren and 23 great-grandchildren. One of his three daughters, now a widow, lives with him.

Moser attributes his good health to "learning how to pace myself." He says he has "always been too busy to worry about anything."

"I always have a nip of whisky about 7 a.m. and once in a while before I go to bed," he says.

Moser, who puts in a full day's work — in fact he arrives an hour before his employes — says he has never thought of retiring. "Time passes so much quicker when I'm at work than when I'm sitting at home," he explains.

Army Just Orders Weather It Wants

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — The U. S. Army is now able to test its equipment in all sorts of weather merely by putting it into a small room here at the Frankford Arsenal.

Environmental test chambers have been installed at the arsenal where engineers can simulate anything from a drizzle to a downpour, from a balmy day in the spring to a blazing hot day in the summer.

The chambers were made for the Army by Tenney Engineering, Inc., of Union, N. J. Rain, sunlight, temperature and humidity are all produced in them automatically.

See Dems Picking L.A. for Convention

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Democratic National Committee appeared ready today to pick Vice President Richard M. Nixon's home territory of Los Angeles for the 1960 Democratic national convention.

The committee was meeting to act on the recommendation of its site committee that Democrats meet at Los Angeles next year to nominate their candidate for president.

Chicago and Philadelphia were still fighting for the convention, but the available evidence indicated that the national committee would confirm the selection of Los Angeles.

To the Qualified Electors of the Township of Pontiac, All Precincts, County of Oakland, State of Michigan.

Notice is hereby given that in conformity with the "Michigan Election Law," I, the undersigned Clerk, will, upon any day, except Sunday and a legal holiday, the day of any regular or special election or primary election, receive for registration the name of any legal voter in said Township, City or Village not already registered who may apply to me personally for such registration. Provided, however, that I can receive no names for registration during the time intervening between the Thirtieth day before any regular, special or official primary election and the day of such election.

Notice is hereby given that I will be at the following places on week days from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. and on Saturdays from 9 a.m. to 12 noon, at the Township Offices, 2060 Opdyke Road. For those who cannot come to the office during the day, I will be at the office until 8 o'clock on Tuesday and Thursday evenings. I will also accept registrations at my home outside of office hours at 734 S. Squirrel Road in Auburn Heights. And on Monday, March 9, 1959 — last day, the thirtieth day preceding said election, as provided by Section 498, Act No. 116, Public Acts of 1954 from 8 o'clock a.m. until 8 o'clock p.m. on each said day for the purpose of reviewing the registration and registering such of the qualified electors in said Township, City or Village as shall properly apply therefor.

The name of no person but an actual resident of the precinct at the time of registration, and entitled under the Constitution, if remaining such resident, to vote at the next election, shall be entered in the registration book.

Elector unable to make personal application, procedure.

Sec. 504. Any elector who is unable to make personal application for registration because of physical disability or absence from the Township, City or Village in which his legal residence is located, may be registered prior to the close of registration before any election or primary election by securing from the Clerk of the Township, City or Village in which is located his legal residence, duplicate registration cards and executing in duplicate the registration affidavit before a notary public or other officer legally authorized to administer oaths and returning such registration cards to the Clerk of the Township, City or Village before the close of office hours on the last day of registration prior to any election or primary election. The notary public or other officer administering the oath shall sign his name on the line for the signature of the registration officer and designate his title.

Unregistered persons not entitled to vote.

Sec. 491. The inspectors of election at any election or primary election in this State, or in any District, County, Township, City or Village thereof, shall not receive the vote of any person whose name is not registered in the registration book of the Township, Ward or Precinct in which he offers to vote. (As provided under Act 116, P.A. 1954.)

Transfer of registration, application, time.

Sec. 506. Any registered elector may upon change of residence within the Township, City or Village cause his registration to be transferred to his new address by sending to the Clerk a signed request, stating his present address, the date he moved thereto, and the address from which he was last registered, or by applying in person for a transfer. The Clerk shall strike through the last address, ward and precinct number and record the new address, ward and precinct number on the original and duplicate registration cards, and shall place the original registration card in proper precinct file. Such transfers shall not be made within the (30) days next preceding any election or primary election, (unless such 30th day shall fall on a Saturday, Sunday, or legal holiday in which event registration shall be accepted during the next full working day), provided that no such transfer shall permit any person to vote in any Township, City or Village in which he had not resided (30) days next preceding any election or primary election.

Sec. 507. Any registered elector who has removed from one election precinct of a Township, City or Village to another election precinct of the same Township, City or Village shall have the right to make application to have his registration transferred on any election or primary election day by executing a request over his or her signature for such transfer and presenting the same to the election board in the precinct in which he is registered. Upon receiving such request the inspector of election in charge of the registration records shall compare the signature thereon with the signature upon the applicant's registration record and if the signatures correspond then the inspector shall certify such fact upon said request and the applicant for transfer shall then be permitted to vote in such precinct for that election only. The application for transfer shall be filed with the Township, City or Village Clerk who shall transfer such voter's registration in accordance with the application. When the name of any street in a Township, City or Village has been changed, it shall be the duty of the Township, City or Village Clerk to make the change to show the proper name of street in the registration records, and it shall not be necessary for the elector to change his registration with respect thereto in order to be eligible to vote.

2 Coles on Ballot 1 Too Many for Michigan GOP

There'll be two Coles on the April 6 statewide ballots and the Republicans don't like it.

One Cole is Maurice F. Cole of Ferndale, the Republican nominee for the State Supreme Court. The other is Kenneth W. Cole, Saginaw lawyer running for the same position, but on the Prohibition Party ticket.

Republicans have politely tried to have Kenneth Cole pull out of the race, feeling his name on the ballots will cause confusion among voters and thus hurt their Cole's chances. Kenneth Cole said he has no intention of withdrawing.

There is no party designation on the nonpartisan section of the ballot, they point out.

Republicans, although convinced this is not a put up job by Democrats, are still puzzled how this possible confusion can be straightened out. Actually, Kenneth Cole is a Republican, a GOP worker said.

Spring Is for the Small Fry

Spring is coming—and what better way to welcome the new season, than with the old tradition of buying a new Easter outfit? But while you are out buying yourself a new suit and hat, don't forget the younger set. These young ladies, who seem to personify the very spirit of spring, are modeling the very latest in fashions for the younger generation. News in the fashion picture this season is that dresses are of wash and wear materials that are crease-resistant. Even the most "dress-up" party dress can be dunked quite simply in the laundry. This will make all mommies happy, we're sure. So while shopping for a new outfit, don't forget to take your daughters along—they'll have as much fun as you do selecting new outfits. Most of the outfits shown can be purchased locally.

This beguiling young lady knows that if she spills ice cream and cake on her pretty party dress, mommy won't get too mad because it washes so well—(and is even crease resistant). The dress features pearl buttons and lace trim on its sleeveless bodice and a wide pleated belt accents the waistline.

Looking sweet and demure as if she really was made of sugar and spice is this fashionable young lady in a dress of tucked supima organdy. The sateen sash runs through eyelet embroidery at the midriff. The dress is equipped with its own petticoat.

Who doesn't like stripes? And this short-sleeved cotton candy-striped dress is really fun to wear for just about any occasion. The back is buttoned all the way down, and the sash is tied with a big perky bow.

Keep Fighting Brother's Weakness—Abby

Use Your Head—Enjoy Gift and Pass the Ammunition

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

"DEAR ABBY: I have been corresponding with a brother of mine who lives several thousands of miles from me. I know his weaknesses well and have sent him literature on the subjects in hopes that it would straighten him out.

ABBY

"I just received a belated Christmas gift from him. It was his personal check for $25.00 and enclosed was the message: 'Please use this to have your head read.' Now nothing is the matter with my head. He is more in need of having his head read than I. How would you handle this?"

QUITE SANE

DEAR QUITE: I'd enjoy the gift and keep sending him literature.

"DEAR ABBY: My son, 22, is making a trip across the country and he plans to take a couple of passengers along to help defray expenses. One woman, 24, who is a divorcee with a questionable reputation, wants to make the trip. Isn't transporting a woman from state to state illegal?"

ASKING

DEAR ASKING: Transporting a woman from state to state for immoral purposes is illegal. Your son would be wise to take only passengers who were above suspicion. The Mann Act has come in handy for some women.

"DEAR ABBY: I got into a little quarrel with my wife. I shoved her once and she tripped over a chair. Her son (my stepson) who is 19 and weighs 210 pounds, thinking I knocked her down, came in swinging and I had to show him who was boss. The wife called the cops and I was so mad at this kid of hers that I told the policeman that he was a deserter from the Army, which he was.

"They locked him up and it took three policemen and the desk sergeant to subdue my wife. I apologized, but now the wife won't have anything to do with me. She threw my clothes out the window and locked me out. What should I do?"

LOCKED OUT

DEAR LOCKED: I think for the present you are probably "safer" locked out. Wait till she cools off and try for a "return engagement" at a later date.

"DEAR ABBY: My husband keeps telling our kids that he met me on a corner when we were both waiting for a bus. It is true but it sounds terrible. How can I get him to either fib a little or shut his mouth?"

MARJORIE

DEAR MARJORIE: Ask his mother for a few baby pictures of him naked on a fur rug. Hold them for bargaining purposes.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "IN LOVE": If I had a dollar for every married man who told a girl he was unhappily married and she was the best thing that ever happened to him in his entire life, I'd have enough money to buy this newspaper. Do not buy his sad story, or yours will be a sadder one.

'Tub Toter' Had Place in 1800's

In the beginning of the 19th century, a new career opened up for young men when family "bath contractors" toted bathtubs with them for on-the-spot rentals.

Between the 1820s and 1850s, they hauled water and tubs through the streets of Paris, with prospective bathers making appointments in order to be sure of getting their turns to bathe.

Get at Crevices

Have you one of those plain or patterned plastic-covered boudoir chairs? When you wash it, be sure you reach down into the crevices where dust collects. Use a well-sudsed sponge.

'Continental Look' Adds Variety to Men's Styles

The outstanding fact about men's clothing for spring is that the American male has never had a more diversified selection of styles and ideas from which to choose.

The Ivy, the Ambassador, and the more general styles have been joined by a new fashion idea—the Continental—which already has caused quite a stir of interest throughout the country.

The Continental suit is an adaptation by American clothing designers of an authentic Italian suit style.

It is defined as having greater breadth to the shoulders, a slight pinch at the waist, a bit more width to the lapels, a shorter jacket with more cutaway at the front, and trousers without cuffs.

The introduction of the Continental does not mean that the other styles have a new competitor. Instead it means a new dimension for men's wardrobes—one that will help them dress right around the clock and throughout the year.

The shape of the new suit will cause top and outer coats to follow the same line. They will have slightly fuller shoulders, a slight suppression at the waistline and lengths coming to just above the knee.

Shirts with the short point spread collar and the tab collar are perfect for wear with the shaped suit. Since the low opening front of the jacket will expose more shirt, there will be more emphasis on shirt front styles in pleats and patterns.

Shorter length suit jackets with cutaway fronts will also result in a corresponding reduction in tie sizes. The result will be shorter and narrower neckwear.

Young or old, thin or built along more mature lines, the American man can get in step with fashion with every assurance that he's never had a better chance to look his best.

Here it is—the new look for men's clothing this year. It's called the "Continental." Styled in Italy, the "look" features a shorter jacket, narrow lapels, pockets that slant backwards and a cutaway front. Retailers are hoping it will start the men on a buying spree.

New Mama Needs Rest From World

Put Sign on Door With Hours You Want Company

By EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post: I am expecting the arrival of my second child shortly. My husband and I both have many relatives and friends who I know will be anxious to see the new baby.

"After the birth of our first child I was beseiged with visitors almost immediately on my return from the hospital. I know they were all well meaning but it was a terrible strain on me, what with looking after the baby and trying to get as much rest myself as possible.

"In order to avoid this happening again, I would like to know what you think of putting a note on the door such as hospitals use, saying, "No visiting" or "Visiting only from three to four" or perhaps "Baby's asleep, Mother too" or the like. If you sanction this I am sure not only I but all new mothers will be eternally grateful to you."

Answer: You may quite correctly put a sign on your door worded something like this: "Because my doctor wants me to have a real rest, please for this week do not come to visit me or the baby except in the afternoons between three and four."

---

"Dear Mrs. Post: My son is going to be married soon and there will be a large reception at a hotel following the ceremony. My son tells me that after the bride and bridegroom and their attendants dance once around the floor, the parents of the bride and bridegroom are supposed to join them.

"Is this customary? Neither my husband nor I dance at all well and we will feel extremely self-conscious if we have to get up in front of everyone and dance. I would appreciate hearing from you on this matter."

Answer: You do not have to dance, and as you do not dance well you certainly should not try.

After washing, lay your sweater flat on a towel and reshape to size. When dry, fold carefully and slip into a plastic bag. Store flat in box or bureau drawer.

Series to Start in October

Plan for 'Town Hall' Is Well Received

By MARGERY BENNETT

To acquaint the women of Oakland County and the surrounding area with detailed information regarding the newly organized Pontiac-Oakland Town Hall, Inc., series of lectures, thousands of letters have been mailed under the direction of Mrs. Cecil McCallum, ticket chairman.

Requests for a mailing list of names have been met through the cooperation of many church groups, study clubs and societies.

Working each week to assist in the project are Mrs. A. A. Dodd, Mrs. Julius Koprince, Mrs. Fritzi Stoddard, Mrs. J. L. Bennett, Mrs. V. S. Garrison, Mrs. J. C. Walker, Mrs. W. K. Willman, Mrs. C. B. Kinney, Mrs. P. A. Kern and Mrs. Max Doerr.

GOOD RESPONSE

The response for the available tickets has been very gratifying and a reward to their efforts.

Five internationally known speakers will be heard in the series which begins in October. The programs will be held once a month on Wednesday mornings from 10:30 to 11:30 a.m. at the Oakland Theater. The program is open to all women in this county.

Additional information about the speakers soon will be announced. The selection of these speakers is being carefully made, with the object of getting speakers who will appeal to all women of the area.

Mrs. Cecil McCallum, ticket chairman, receives orders every day for tickets for the Town Hall lecture series. B. R. Shaver, her mailman, is shown delivering the daily stack of requests. The response has been excellent and more than gratifying to the women who have been working to help promote the series.

Wedgie Heels Are in High Demand

SOUTH PARIS, Mo. (UPI) — The wedgie heel for women's shoes may be on its way toward an all-time high.

Charles G. Chason, vice president of a wedgie-producing firm, said the company has experienced a marked upswing in orders this fall and winter. The staff has been increased to its full capacity of 500 to produce more than a million wedgies every month.

"Wedgies are traditionally the most comfortable shoe manufactured," Chason said. "And women are looking for comfort in shoes, especially for daytime wear."

The company, which claims to lead the country in wedgie production, uses only Maine white pine for the heels, Chason said.

If the demand continues, he said, the firm may break its old production record of 17 million pairs in one year.

Do-C-Do Club Has Workshop

Guests were Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Denison, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Wright, Mr. and Mrs. Anton Koenig and Mr. and Mrs. David Davis.

The club will hold its next dance March 12.

Extension Club Has Lesson on Colors

Mrs. Delos Nicholie gave the lesson on "Planning Colors for Interiors" at the meeting of Interlakes Extension Group, held Tuesday at the Elizabeth Lake road home of Mrs. William Miller. Mrs. Nicholie was assisted by Mrs. John McConnell.

The next meeting of the group will be held at the home of Mrs. L. H. Martin of Shore drive.

What'll We Wear in 60s? Ask the Fabric Designers

NEW YORK (UPI) — What will women wear in the 1960s? Ask a fabrics designer, not a couturier.

Silhouettes of clothes depend largely on color and fabrics, say two young men who run a unique fabrics manufacturing firm.

"Color is our boss. Fabrics are just a means to carry out ideas in color," said Sandy Elias, co-owner of Lawford Fabrics.

Some colors are not wearable with certain silhouettes, he explained. For example, if a color does not look good next to the face, high necklines cannot be used when that color is popular.

How does he decide which colors will be popular for certain seasons?

"Follow history," he said. "Women insist on change. We check past trends for successful colors and also for those which women accepted least. We use old swatch books—have one from 1899—and plow through library books and museums to see the cycles."

Women in warmer climates, such as Florida, Texas and California, generally want brighter less seasonal colors, he said, but these shades now are moving East.

Because of regional problems of a belief in individuality, Elias and his partner, Larry Gabbe, keep the business strictly custom-made. They work only with wool, and confine a pattern to one manufacturer or high-fashion designer.

It's Exercise Again

Reader Wants to Increase Hips!

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN
(The Friday Question Box)

Q. My whole family enjoys reading your column. I am 5 feet 5½ inches tall. My bust measures 34 inches, waist 26 and hips 34. I want to increase my hip measurement a little. Will you print some exercises for this?"

A. Glad you like "Why Grow Old?" Do the following exercises. Kneel on the right knee and place your hands on the floor in front of you. Straighten the left leg out behind you, toe touching the floor. Keep the knee stiff as you raise your leg upward as far as you can. Lower leg. Continue raising and lowering. After a while kneel on the left knee and extend the right leg out behind you, right toe touching the floor. Raise the right leg up and down slowly.

Another: Stand with your left side toward the wall, left hand on the wall. Make circles with your right leg, keeping both knees straight. Circle out, then back, and to place. Continue rhythmically. Turn the right side to the wall, right hand on the wall and circle with the left leg.

Q. "I am 11 years old, four feet 10 inches tall and weigh 91 pounds. My bust measures 21 inches, waist 24 and hips 28. Am I too heavy?"

A. No you are not fat but watch out a little and do not eat too many in-between meal snacks.

Q. "I am very small boned. It runs in my family. I am 5 feet one inch tall and weigh between 92 and 95 pounds. I have tried to gain weight but have little appetite and seem to fill up fast. Shall I continue struggling to gain weight or am I all right?"

A. You are some underweight even for a small build. Try to gain eight or 10 pounds. Eat five smaller meals rather than three large ones. Get some outdoor exercise. Even a good brisk, long daily walk will add zest to your appetite.

Raising and lowering the leg in this position will help build hip muscles and increase the hip measurement.

Smart Wash-Wear Fabrics Invade Men's Clothing Field

It appears that almost everything in men's clothes—from hats to shoes—is being produced today in one or more versions of the wash-and-wear or wash-and-drip-dry constructions.

Starting at the top, there are "straw" hats of man-made fibers that can be soaked in water and washed. In addition there are caps made of blends of cotton and test tube fibers that can be tubbed and scrubbed.

In dressy business versions and casual sports types, there are more wash-wear shirts in a greater variety of styles, colors and patterns than ever before. Once priced at the luxury level, they are now within the means of the most modest budget.

IN ANY FASHION

No matter what your preference in suit models—Ivy, regular, Ambassador or Continental, you can find your favorite in a wash-wear.

Even if you prefer not to wash suits, you will enjoy their lightweight construction, their ability to retain their press and shape, and their wrinkle-shedding properties. Another plus—they manage to stay neat and fresh in the most humid weather.

Remember the task it used to be to shape and block a sweater after washing? The new sweaters and knit sports shirts made in wash-wear fabrics need no such coddling.

If a fellow's white buck shoes get mud-spattered, he can wash them off with soapy suds, after making certain they have the new wash-wear finish. Robes, pajamas and handkerchiefs all come in wash-wear constructions, too.

It has gotten to the point now that if you can wear it, you can probably wash it.

Have You Tried This?

Sweet Sour Sauce Is Delicious on Vegetables

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

Here is a recipe for a sauce to pep up vegetables. It may be made in quantity and kept in the refrigerator until it is needed. Just reheat and pour over desired vegetable. It makes good hot potato salad too.

Today's cook is Mrs. Thomas Walsh of Walled Lake. Mrs. Walsh occasionally cooks for local organizations and considers cooking one of her hobbies. She likes to sew too. She is active in the Altar Guild of her church.

DEVILED SAUCE
By Mrs. Thomas Walsh

½ pound bacon, diced
¼ cup vinegar
1 onion, diced
2 tablespoons water
2 tablespoons sugar
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
Minced parsley

Fry bacon crisp. Brown onion in hot fat. Add other ingredients and heat to boiling point. Pour over hot vegetables and serve at once. Keep some on hand in refrigerator for quick reheating.

Students to Participate in Northern Dedication

By COLLEEN ADAMS

March 8, 9, 10 and 11, will be the dates of dedication activities at Pontiac Northern Senior High School, and preparations are being made now. Many students have volunteered for various jobs in getting ready for dedication.

Clubs which have formed a guide and usher service are the Student Council, Ushers, Cheerleaders, and Dolphins. They are planning to take groups of visitors around the building and point out places of interest.

Monday, announcements are to be ordered by the senior class. This year it is an extra thrill for the seniors as they will be the first graduating class of Pontiac Northern.

The "Lowland Sea" and "Cumberland Fair," two operettas being given by the Northern High Choir, will be presented March 5, 6 and 1. Tickets are now on sale and may be purchased from any choir member.

A Bible Club, sponsored by Daniel Hutchens, has been formed and many students enjoy participating in this devotional period. Meetings are held every Thursday morning from 7:55 to 8:20.

The Projectionists Club which shows films to various classes has elected Tom Hoisington president.

Future Teachers Installation took place Thursday. Officers installed were Ron Miller, president; Beverly Donato, vice president; Rita Stanley, secretary; Richard Bailey, treasurer; Barbara Everett, publicity chairman. Miss Lillian Jacobs is being installed as sponsor.

Tonight the boys gym will be the scene for Northern's second postgame dance. It is being sponsored by the cheerleaders. Tickets are .35 and will not be sold at the door. The dance is open to all Northern students and their dates.

Committee chairmen are: Lorraine De Berger and Carol Campbell, tickets; Joan Humphrey, chaperones; Lynn Thompson, advertisement; Sharon Nichols, entertainment and Cynthia Sach, refreshments.

372 Students Ready Exhibits

McAllister Is General Chairman of Township's First Event of Its Kind

By JEAN REXFORD

The first Science Fair in the history of the Waterford Township schools will be held at the Waterford Township High School gymnasium next week.

Sponsored by the science departments of the high school and two junior high schools, Pierce and Crary, the fair will be open to the public all day next Friday until 9 p.m. and Saturday, March 7, from 9 a.m. to noon.

A total of 372 students from the three secondary schools including 130 attending WTHS will display the scientific exhibits they have constructed.

Student chairmen of the two-day project from the high school include: Tom McAllister, general manager; Laurlee Sherwood, assistant manager; Don Windler, publicity, Don Balmer, booth set up and clean up and Larry Ettinger and Pat Kern, registration.

The six divisions high school students will enter are biology, engineering, chemistry, mathematics, physics and phiography which deals with the study of the earth.

The junior high school students division from grades seven through nine will enter a general science division.

Judging of the fair will be held Thursday night. All participants in the Waterford fair may then enter the Pontiac and Detroit science fairs scheduled later this month and next, respectively.

An Interlakes Talent Exchange assembly was held at 9 a.m. today in the WTHS gym. Entering talent from here were Gary Hadsell, Beverly Wells, Judy Harnack, Laura Upchurch, Connie Barron, Karen Morse and Diane Benedict.

Senior activities are in full swing now. Orders were taken for graduation announcements and cards this week. The annual mock election for use in the yearbook and a senior publication was held.

G.A.A. started the sport of volleyball this week. Carol Vought is the senior in charge of this sport.

Future Social Workers will participate in a field trip to the Pontiac State Hospital Monday.

BUYS PRINTING PRESS — The Lake Orion Community High School Student Council has purchased a printing press for the school newspaper. ## Purchases Printing Press

Something new has been added to the Lake Orion Community High School which is both fun and educational, thanks to the Student Council.

The council has purchased a full-size printing press. One of its main uses is to print the school's newspaper, "Dragon Tales." All kinds of school office forms, report cards, hall passes and dismissal slips also are made on the press by students.

Two students, Dees Hendley and Bruce Carrier, are the chief printers. Although neither of them has aspirations to become a professional printer, both agree that the work is fascinating.

The idea of acquiring the press came from Arlie A. Reed, superintendent of schools, who heard that a used one could be purchased from the State Prison of Southern Michigan at Jackson. The council followed through and voted to buy the machine for $75. The motor to operate it cost $25.

Faced with the problem of having only a minimum amount of type and no paper to use in their printing operations, the council sought the help of the local newspaper and its staff.

The boys go down to the newspaper office with their job order, have it set in type and bring the forms back to the school to run the papers off. They do the work mainly during their study periods.

The pressmen's work is supervised by Walter Hampton, assistant superintendent of schools, and the two chief operators say they occasionally have help from about five other boys interested in the work.

Disc Data and Chatter

Music in the Round

by Dick Saunders

SAUNDERS

EVERYBODY'S DOIN' IT DEPT.: What everybody seems to be doing is selling phonograph records. The discs come in various sizes, colors and prices and they can be found in about any establishment, from grocery stores to drug stores.

I noticed a bargain counter at a drug store on Pontiac's west side this week that reminded me of World War II days when blue Deccas sold for 35 cents.

This counter was jammed with 45s on the Columbia label. All were by well known artists and sold for about 40 cents each. The regular red labels were supplemented by a mass of yellow labeled Columbias.

Some sweet day a collector will be able to sell one of these "half-price" yellow Columbias for two or three times the price paid on the collectors' market for the same cutting on the convential label.

Some bluesy and/or torchy stuff is to be had on "Welcome to the Club" (W-1120) by Nat "King" Cole with Dave Cavanaugh's orchestra.

Others worth the loot are: "Jonah Jumps Again" (T-1115) by Jonah Jones; "Blue Chiffon" (T-1124) by George Shearing; "I Like Men" (T-1131) by Peggy Lee; "This Thing Called Love" (T-1123) by Tommy Sands and "The Frank Moore Four" (T-1127) by same.

FIVE ACES: Hold onto your hats, those pesky little rodents are back with their leader, David Seville. Their disc of "Alvin's Harmonica" is fourth on our list after being on the market locally for only a week. It's climbing fast and looks like another gold record for the barnyard crew.

First in sales this week is "Venus" (Frankie Avalon) with "She Say" (The Diamonds) close behind in second spot. Third place goes to "I've Had It" ("The Bell Notes). Fifth and falling is "Stagger Lee" (Lloyd Price).

Reds Readying for New Crises

Writer Points to Soviet Stockpiling of Goods as Sign of Trouble

VIENNA (AP)—The Soviet Union and its allies are stockpiling medicines and strategic raw materials with the Berlin crisis and probably others in view, an Austrian newspaper states.

"The Russians and their satellites are doing the same thing they did before they started the Korean War in 1950," wrote Werner Scharndorff, a specialist on Eastern bloc affairs in a survey for the Salzburger Nachrichten.

"New Soviet adventurous schemes can be scented behind the surprisingly large Eastern stockpiling purchases in world markets in recent months. There is a great similarity between these and the major Soviet purchases of antibiotics, rubber, copper and fuel before the start of the Korean War.

Scharndorff said the Soviets spent foreign exchange freely for big orders of rubber in Indonesia, Singapore and elsewhere.

"These extraordinarily large purchases can be connected with the stiff Soviet attitude about Berlin and their consistent preparation for a new Middle Eastern crisis," he said. "They expose the hard facts the Soviet rulers seek to mask with their peace councils and youth festivals."

Kept A-Weapons Secret From British

LONDON (AP)—A retired British admiral has complained that no one ever told him where the atom bombs were kept when he was second in command of a British-American striking fleet.

"Had there been a sudden emergency and the American fleet commander had been killed, the command of that force would have devolved on me," Vice Adm. John Hughes Hallett said.

"I always supposed the American carriers had atom bombs, but no one ever told me officially," Hughes Hallett told the House of Commons. "Which of the aircraft could take them, what the conditions before their use were, I have not the slightest idea."

The admiral, now a Conservative member of Commons, was deputy commander of the NATO Atlantic Fleet in 1952.

"The great danger in this secrecy is that the handful of experts who alone have the necessary information are not necessarily the best people to interpret it," he said.

How's This Turnabout? He's Free, Officer's Not

CLINTON, Tenn. (UPI)—Trooper Fred Brown arrested motorist Oliver H. Anderson for speeding and drove him to jail to lodge the complaint.

Anderson charged the trooper with exceeding the speed limit on the trip to jail.

So far, the charge against Anderson has been dropped. Brown's case still is pending.

Emergency Far From Over

Swiss Village May Miss Burial by Avalanche

HERBRIGGEN, Switzerland (AP)—Hopes are rising that this mountain village may be saved from being crushed to death.

The rock slide casting an ominous shadow over the village for two weeks appeared settling down only 200 yards from the edge of the precipice overlooking it.

Herbriggen is now a ghost town. All but a handful of the 250 inhabitants fled in face of the slow-moving avalanche which came to a halt perilously close after threatening to bury them under a million tons of rock, earth and ice.

But now the government is advising evacuees that they may be able to return home if the slide stays still during the next 10 days.

Geologists said instead of unleashing the slide again the thaw might have the opposite effect of sinking the mass of rock into softer ground.

The emergency is far from over. A round-the-clock watch is being maintained to sound siren warnings.

The all-clear is not expected before the end of May when the snow is usually gone.

The cantonal (state) government of Valais has already announced plans to build a huge concrete barrier as a shield for the village—should it get a fresh lease on life.

Farmer Finds Remedy Too Bad to Be Good

What a Break! They Can Stay Out 'Til 11 P.M.

CHILLICOTHE, Mo. (AP) — Now anyone may stay out as late as 11 o'clock on Friday and Saturday nights in Chillicothe (pop. 8,964) without explaining to the gendarmes.

The rest of the week, however, everyone still must be off the streets at 10 p.m. Exceptions: Those persons of good repute and those who can explain their presence to the satisfaction of policemen.

If you're 16 years old, or younger, the 10 and 11 p.m. deadlines are relaxed only if (1) your parents are with you and (2) if you have been sent on an errand by your parents.

The City Council recently amended the 50-year-old curfew ordinance to provide the 11 p.m. deadline.

Juvenile officer Lloyd Cleveland recommended it. He said it would allow people to get home from movies and athletic events without violating the law.

Hal Boyle Says:

Most People Secretly Envy the Fat Man

NEW YORK (AP) — "Nobody loves a fat man."

So says an American proverb. But Santa Claus still is mighty popular.

The truth is not that nobody loves a fat man. The truth is that most people secretly envy the fat man.

To most of the world the fat man is still the symbol of wealth, plenty and security. In this country he has become a symbol of nonconformity and independence —a man with the courage to be different.

As a doctor observed recently, the campaign against fat in America is assuming the proportions of "a national neurosis." Show me a man who jeers at an overweight person and I'll show you a man who is discontented because being thin hasn't made him rich, famous or happy.

It just goes to show that a man whose only ambition is to become thin as a rail is likely to end up wooden-headed, too.

There are certain advantages in this civilization in having a well-rounded stomach, known in some admiring circles as "a corporation."

First and foremost, girls in the office may laugh at your paunch, but—bless the little dears!—they do love to reach out and pat it.

Anything else you buy on the installment plan—a house, a car, a refrigerator—can be taken from you if you don't met the payments regularly. But there is no mortgage on a big tummy. It is yours alone—all yours—to have and to hold. You can take it with you, even unto the grave.

A fat man can't be crowded. If somebody sits next to him in a bus seat, he merely takes a deep breath—and the other fellow falls off on the floor.

The wife of a fat man never tells him to "please run to the grocery store" to get an item she forgot. She asks him to walk there.

This world is full of people who stick their face into your face and try to peddle you something. The fat man is not at their mercy. He merely leans back, thrusts out his belly bumper—and pushes the fast talker out of hearing.

A fat man gets better service than a thin man. Cruising cab drivers and roving waiters rush forward at the sight of a prosperous stomach. To them it spells a big tip.

The fat man is more romantic—this may surprise the ladies!—and is the most attentive of lovers. As the old Scottish saying goes, "When the belly is full the mind is amongst the maids."

Cracking Keeps Rigid Glass From Replacing Steel

WASHINGTON (AP)—If science could crack the secret of how glass cracks, the world would have a structural material stronger than steel, an industrial chemist said Thursday night.

Dr. Earl P. Stevenson, chairman of Arthur D. Little, Inc., Cambridge, Mass., said new forms of glass are now being put to work in ways never dreamed of a few decades ago, "yet we do not know how glass cracks."

"Since glass is stronger than steel," Stevenson said, "the ultimate challenge in glass technology is to tailor its molecular structure so that it can withstand fracture; then it may replace steel as a structural material in many applications."

Stevenson made the comments in a speech prepared for a symposium sponsored by Resources for the Future, Inc.—a research and educational agency supported by the Ford foundation.

Make Progress in Genes Study

Scientists Are Learning How Mutations Occur in Heredity

By ALTON BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Writer

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Scientists in a major advance are learning how genes are made.

And also how genes suddenly mutate or change for better or worse.

Genes control all inherited characteristics, including the color of your eyes and many chemical activities of the body.

Mutations in genes are involved in making healthy cells turn cancerous. Learning how to prevent or alter this genetic process could be extremely important in controlling cancers.

Here at the University of Texas M. D. Anderson Hospital, scientists have learned how to turn some mutations in bacteria on and off at will with a chemical trigger.

They find that a chemical nicknamed RNA apparently acts as a die or template to form DNA, the stuff that genes are made of.

Drs. Felix L. Haas and Charles O. Doudney reported the newest studies to a symposium on fundamental cancer research at the hospital.

They bathed bacteria in ultatiolet light, a step which usually causes many genetic mutations in the germs.

The ultraviolet light apparently produces a quantity of damaged chemicals which the bacteria need for making RNA. The damaged RNA then produces altered DNA which means mutated or altered genes.

But when the germs were exposed to a special foodstuff chemical for 30 minutes after the ultaviolet bath, no mutations occurred.

The germs couldn't make any RNA then because the added chemical was a phony foodstuff, or else used for something other than producing RNA.

Without RNA, the germs could not make DNA. After a time, the chemicals damaged by the ultraviolet light all disappeared and the germs could again make RNA and normal or unchanged DNA and genes.

In gene production, RNA is apparently produced first, the experiments suggest. Then comes the formation of protein material and the production of DNA or genetic material, Dr. Haas said.

The experiments support an earlier suggestion by Dr. Gunther Stent of the University of California that RNA acts as the template for DNA.

Cools Jumping Ideas With 10 Days in Jail

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP)—Because a sailor tried to ump from the roof of a six-story hotel he must spend 10 days in jail.

Donald W. Horton, 21, was sentenced Thursday. A police detective talked him out of jumping Wednesday and then pulled him to safety. Horton went to jail in lieu of $50 fine for disorderly conduct.

Horton, of Denton, Tex., told officers he was despondent because he and his girl friend had quarreled.

Radiation Is Blamed for Babies' Defects

Dr. Dell F. Dullum, an expert in radiologic health for the State Department of Public Health, expressed belief the cause would be strontium 90 from atomic fallout. He predicted in a speech to a group of health officers that the mutation rate would increase with use of X-rays at the present rate.

He said four of every 100 babies have some defect.

Asks Seizure of Bank Assets —but All in Fun

LANSING (UP)—State seizure of assets of Michigan banks has been proposed in the Senate—but all in fun.

A portion of the bill reads:

"Sec. 2. There is hereby appropriated to the sinking general fund of the State of Michigan all the assets of all of the banks, whether real, tangible, intangible, imaginary promissory or merely hopeful.

"Sec. 3. This includes escrow and trust funds too.

"Sec. 4. Any and all funds which may have been overlooked."

Submitted by Sen. Elmer R. Porter (R-Blissfield) in behalf of the entire Senate membership, the bill marks a tradition whereby the business interest behind the 100th bill of a session throws a party for the Senate.

Porter's is no. 1100. It harks back to the practice of many years ago, later abandoned, when the so-called 100th bill was a "fun bill"—not printed in multiple copies nor intended for serious consideration.

This year, the senators will be entertained for cocktails and dinner by the state's bankers at the Walnut Hills Country Club March 12.

Hundredth bills, numbered 1100, 1200 and 1300, were submitted at the 1958 session in behalf of the Mackinac Island Park Commission, public utilities and outdoor advertisers.

GM Official Says Estimate Low

Predicts Big Year for Cars

WASHINGTON (UP)—E. N. Cole, General Motors Corp. vice president, predicts the auto industry will top its 5½ million car estimate for 1959.

Cole, who also is general manager of GM's Chevrolet Division, said yesterday he based his prediction on early-year strength in auto sales, especially a spectacular rise in the demand for trucks.

While trucks are not figured in the car production total, their sales are a signpost to coming trends in passenger-car volume, Cole said.

"Just as declining truck sales usually signal a recession in our industry, a truck pickup usually precedes a passenger car rise by three to six months," Cole told reporters.

BOTH ON UPGRADE

At this moment, Cole said, both cars and trucks are on the upgrade. From Dec. 1, when Chevrolet reached its full production gait on the 1959 model, to Feb. 20, passenger cars have run 10.8 per cent ahead of a year ago and truck sales 37 per cent, he said.

The trend this month is even more favorable, Cole said. In the first 20 days of February Chevrolet passenger car sales ran 21½ per cent ahead of the same period last year, while trucks were 47½ per cent ahead.

Beating last year's record, only 4¼ million cars, would not be much of a feat, Cole conceded, but he went on:

"We believe the 5½ million estimate for the industry this year is conservative. The first-quarter rate so far is ahead of that. It looks like a very satisfactory year — perhaps our second or third best."

If sales volume continues to pick up, he said, "the employment picture in Detroit is bound to improve somewhat."

No great speedup from the present production rate can be anticipated, he said, but at least the auto industry will not be contributing as it did a year ago to the motor capital's seasonal peak of joblessness.

In addition, Cole predicted, the recovery of car and truck production will give further impetus to a general business upturn this year.

Playwright Anderson Has Serious Stroke

STAMFORD, Conn. (UPI)—Playwright Maxwell Anderson, 70, suffered a stroke at his home yesterday and was rushed unconscious to Stamford Hospital in a private ambulance.

Hospital attendants said Anderson was in "very serious" condition.

Anderson, a former schoolteacher and newspaperman, won a Pulitzer Prize in 1933 for his play, "Both Your Houses."

His many other works included "What Price Glory," written in collaboration with Laurence Stallings, "Winterset" and "High Tor." He also wrote the book and lyrics for such hits as "September Song" to the music of the late Kurt Weill for the musical "Knickerbocker Holiday."

His most recent success, "The Bad Seed," was made into a motion picture. However, his last two efforts, "The Day the Money Stopped" and "The Golden Six," had only short runs.

Construction Has Begun on Portage Lake Bridge

HOUGHTON (UP)—Construction on the superstructure of the $11,000,000 Portage Lake bridge began yesterday.

A 16-ton steel floor beam was guided into place as the first of more than 7,000 tons of steel which will go into the bridge.

When finished, the double-deck span will connect Houghton and Hancock and carry railroad, motor vehicle and pedestrian traffic.

The 1,310 oot bridge will have a 263-foot center lift span that will raise 100 feet above the water to permit ship traffic.

Woman Heads Shipping Line

Chairman of American Export, Mrs. Bay, First of Her Sex in Such Job

NEW YORK (UPI)—Mrs. Josephine Perfect Bay assumed control of the American Export Lines yesterday and became the first of her sex to head a major steamship line.

Mrs. Bay, 58, was elected Wednesday to the board chairmanship of the line which operates the Constitution and Independence and many other liners and freighters in overseas commerce. She had previously been chairman of the line's executive board.

The Iowa-born woman inherited vast financial interests when her husband, Charles Ulrick Bay, former U.S. Ambassador to Norway, died in 1955. Since 1956 she has been chairman and president of the wealthy brokerage firm, A. M. Kidder & Co., and is the first woman to head a major Wall Street House.

Mrs. Bay married C. Michael Paul, a Texas and California financier, last month but retains her previous married name for business purposes. Paul succeeds her as chairman of the American Export Lines executive committee. The couple have increased their holdings in the line considerably in recent months and Mrs. Bay is now the principal stockholder.

Mrs. Bay is a well-known sportswoman. She has a stable of 15 horses including Idun, named champion filly of 1957 by the Thoroughbred Racing Association's board of selection.

Hollywood Headlines

Goldwyn Jr. Gets Wish: He'll Do Huckleberry Finn

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD—Six years ago when Sam Goldwyn Jr. visited Hannibal, Mo., home of Mark Twain, he made up his mind that one day he would do the Huckleberry Finn story.

The time has come now and, Sammy told me today that in "The Adventures of Huckleberry Finn" he plans to get the Mark Twain feeling.

He'll film the picture almost in its entirety this summer on the Mississippi. Sammy has great good luck in that years ago, before "My Fair Lady" and "Gigi," Alan Lerner wrote a beautiful score for "Huckleberry Finn" which was never utilized by MGM and it's been turned over to young Sam.

My mind goes back to a summer my daughter and I took a steamboat down the Mississippi and I read the Twain books to her. It was a wonderful vacation.

Dean Martin wasn't as disappointed as his friends that he didn't receive an Academy nomination in the "best performance" category.

He felt the role in "Some Came Running" came too easy for him to be of Oscar statue, but he frankly admitted he has hopes for an award in "Rio Bravo."

"Just to be mentioned as a possibility for a nomination in 'Some Came Running' was flattering enough for me," said Dean.

He said that while he's doing "Career" for Hal Wallis he and Wallis are talking a deal for Dean to star in "Fatal Journey," a submarine drama about World War II which will be made next year.

Duke Ellington, grand old man of jazz, and I hope he'll pardon me for calling him an "old" man, has signed to write the score and to play a part in "Anatomy of a Murder."

Otto Preminger plans to have him play the piano for Jimmy Stuart, the lawyer who likes to sing.

Duke went abroad and stayed there for a long time. It was he who really introduced sophisticated jazz, and he's one of the world's most popular musicians.

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random:

Friends of Deborah Kerr have received letters from her from Klosters, Switzerland, where she is living until she gets her freedom.

Anna Kashfi's surgery is proctology.

Academy Award nominee, red-haired Shirley MacLaine's new blonde hair gets blonder and blonder for her role in "Career." Hairdresser Nellie Manley calls it "baby blonde."

A deal has been set by bridegroom Red Doff and producer Al Zugsmith to coproduce Robert Wilder's story, "Million Dollar Pushcart" for MGM. Mickey Rooney, of course, will be starred.

Mae West's biography, "Sex Is a Three Letter Word," is being read by Jerry Wald.

PROVIDENCE, R.I. (AP) — A Catholic publication has criticized Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass) for his recently stated position related to church and state.

The Providence Visitor, official weekly newspaper of the Roman Catholic Diocese of Providence, said Thursday that Sen. Kennedy "overstated his case" in answering questions on church-state relations.

The visitor's editorial said the senator was in error in saying that nothing takes precedence over an office-holder's oath to uphold the Constitution, whatever his religion.

"Man's highest allegiance is to God, to his conscience before God," the editorial said. "If anything in a constitution conflicts with what he knows to be his moral duty in conscience he must disregard it."

Plans 3 Big Apartments Near Detroit Civic Center

DETROIT (AP)—A Kansas City real estate developer has offered to build three 40-story apartment buildings near Detroit's downtown civic center.

Mayor Louis Miriani said Lewis E. Kitchen proposes to build the apartments at an estimated cost of 24 million dollars on a 14-acre tract of land on the lower east side.

Kitchen, developer of the 40-million-dollar "Quality Hill" of 12 apartment buildings in Kansas City, has been consulting for several days with Charles A. Blessing, Detroit city planner.

Builder Says Waterway's Success Assured

Seaway Will Bring Economic Rebirth

CHICAGO (AP)—One of the chief builders of the St. Lawrence Seaway today predicted an economic rebirth for the areas it will serve.

Lewis G. Castle, administrator of the St. Lawrence Seaway Development Corp., said the success of the deepened waterway is assured.

It will be a boon, he added, to those communities which work to take advantage of their opportunities.

Castle offered an optimistic appraisal at the Chicago World Trade Conference.

"The midcontinental areas of the United States contiguous to the United States and St. Lawrence River are destined to embrace a density of population, and as a consequence a destiny of economic significance beyond the dreams of anyone now living," Castle said.

"When we view the future in the light of these events the development of the area will prove to be nothing short of an economic renaissance."

Castle noted the continuing increase in population, and he said:

"The success of the seaway is assured by the apparent factors of savings in the cost of transportation and also by the stimulation of export-import commerce which will develop as a result of population growth alone."

New locks in the St. Lawrence, plus dredging to deepen the water route from 14 feet to 27, will permit passage of bigger ships carrying much heavier cargoes.

The deeper route will be open in April, President Eisenhower and Queen Elizabeth will dedicate the deep draft seaway June 26 at Montreal.

Castle said the seaway will open a channel that could bring 80 per cent of the world's vessels to the interior of the nation.

He also stated that:

Improvements now being completed will cut a roundtrip from Montreal to Chicago by three days.

Toll charges of 3.9 cents a hundredweight for a one-way passage by a typical ship with a mixed cargo "will not be a deterrent to a normal flow of traffic."

Ships operated by American companies no doubt will enter the Great Lakes trade with subsidies.

The seaway, providing a water link between many interior states and Europe and Latin America, can be a powerful stimulus to world trade.

Canada, partner of the United States in the building project, invested more than twice as much, and toll revenues will be split approximately on a 70-30 basis.

Nixon Finds No Room at Favorite Miami Hotel

Cadillac Matches Hair, So It Belongs to Her

She was awarded the car pending trial of her divorce suit against Jules Salkin, 42. Salkin testified he offered his wife another car, but she declined because the Cadillac matched her blonde hair and the other didn't.

Miss Thomas, 27, and Salkin, an architect, were married last June 27.

Founder of Missions

California to Fix Up Father Serra's Home

WASHINGTON—A continent, an ocean and several centuries separate metropolitan San Francisco from the small town of Petra on Spanish Majorca.

Yet a bond unites the two—a bond personified by the historic figure of Junipero Serra, the Franciscan priest who founded California's famous chain of missions.

Serra's birthplace in Petra was deeded to San Francisco in 1932 by the Majorca Rotary Club. Lately it has fallen into disrepair, but the city's authorities and the Society of California Pioneers have agreed to take joint responsibility for the dwelling's modest upkeep as an international shrine.

American visitors to to Petra—especially Californians — show keen interest in the house where Miguel Jose Serra was born in 1713.

It is the simplest of Majorcan cottages, one of the visitors reported to the National Geographic Magazine.

Downstairs is a stone-floor living room; above, a tiny bedroom tucked beneath sharply sloping eaves. Near by stands the weathered Franciscan monastery in which young Serra went to school and absorbed the principles that were to guide his life.

By a fateful twist of history, many of Serra's 18th Century missions have grown into big and busy California cities, while his home town remains little changed from the days when he walked its stone-paved streets between two-story, mud-plastered buildings.

As an outstanding student in his parochial school, Miguel Jose attracted the attention of church leaders. He was still a youth when he was sent to study at the Lullian University at Palma, the island capital.

There, Serra joined the Franciscan order dedicated to the teachings of St. Francis of Assisi. He adopted the now familiar name Junipero (pronounced Hoo-NEE-per-o) in honor of Brother Juniper, a disciple of St. Francis famed for his aid to the poor.

Ordained to the priesthood, Junipero Serra became an esteemed professor of philosophy and theology. But his heart was set on going to the New World as a missionary. At age 36, he renounced a brilliant career in Spain to make his way to Mexico City.

Two decades of work among Mexican Indians passed before the chance came that was to earn Serra the title, "Father of California."

In 1769, as religious leader of Spain's colonization program for "Upper California," he founded San Diego—first of an ambitiously planned mission chain.

One-Man Paper Mill Fully Mechanized

NORWALK, Conn. (UPI) — What probably is the world's smallest paper mill—with a working force of one man—has now been fully mechanized.

Rudolph Bozak, president of the R. T. Bozak Co., which designs and builds loudspeakers for stereophonic and hi-fi systems, operates the mill in a corner of his factory. He makes his own paper for the speaker cones.

Developed by his organization, the new machine lifts the paper to the mold that shapes the cones. Pulp, water and the other necessary ingredients are mixed in a metal trough with a rotary beater that looks like the paddle on an old sternwheeler. Chemicals and a black dye are then added to the mixture. Baking and drying completes the process.

Although the paper mill is fully mechanized, its sole employe isn't out of work. He runs the new machine.

Alabama Coach Slaps at Rupp

Dr. Lambert 'Tired of Being Badgered' by Kentucky's Mentor

"I'm tired of being badgered around by Rupp because we don't play his type of game," said Lambert.

"Any time Rupp can't put on a show and beat you bad the first half playing his game, then he feels he's been mistreated.

"Well, I'm just letting him know now that it's going to be a long time before we play Mr. Rupp's game."

After Rupp's Kentucky Wildcats beat Alabama 39-32 in Lexington Monday, Rupp said:

"That kind of basketball will empty coliseums faster than good coaches can fill 'em."

Yankees, Braves Eye 'Lock-Up' Deals

Majors' Trade Winds Rising

By United Press International

The New York Yankees and Milwaukee Braves, already strong winter-book favorites, are making no secret of their desire to swing deals that would make them virtually "lock-up" pennant picks.

With serious work in Major League training camps hardly under way, both general managers George Weiss of the Yankees and Johnny McHale of the Braves conceded yesterday that big deals may be expected momentarily. Weiss is believed angling with the Washington Senators and Baltimore Orioles while McHale is visiting the Philadelphia Phillies' training site today.

"We could swing a deal with Washington soon," Weiss admitted when queried in St. Petersburg, Fla. "But don't restrict it to Washington. We could swing a deal with two or three clubs."

"I'm looking for infield insurance and everybody knows it," said McHale, who turned up today at Clearwater, Fla. "The replacement of Red Schoendienst still is our major aim at this time."

Weiss, of course, would gladly swing a major deal for relief ace Dick Hyde of the Senators but also might accept Ned Garver of the Kansas City Athletics or Billy Loes of the Orioles. McHale is reported after Johnny Temple of the Cincinnati Reds or Don Blasingame of the St. Louis Cardinals. Los Angeles Dodger General Manager E. J. (Buzzy) Bavasi denied yesterday that he already had closed a deal with the Braves involving Junior Gilliam.

The trade talk—unusually loud at this early stage of spring training — dominated the news from the big league camps, which now are all officially in session. There were a few notable signers yesterday but the "big fish" — Mickey Mantle, Jackie Jensen, Roy Sievers and Bob Cerv—stood firm in their demands. Mantle, who showed up in Florida last night, won another round with the Yankees when assistant general manager Roy Hamey turned over the job of signing him to Weiss.

Larry Doby of the Cleveland Indians and Ernie Banks of the Chicago Cubs made the big news in yesterday's actual workouts.

Doby, attempting to convert from center field to first base, had his first workout at the new position and won praise from manager Joe Gordon.

"The position should be easy for Doby," said Gordon, who himself shifted during the height of his career from second to first base. Doby also expressed confidence that he could make the switch.

Philadelphia grabbed a big one yesterday when Richie Ashburn, the NL's batting champ, came to terms for an estimated $38,000. Other signees included Andy Carey and John Jaciuk of the New York Yankees, Gene Woodling of Baltimore, Felix Mantilla of Milwaukee and Bob Malkmus of Washington.

Nonsense Out in Clubhouse Talk Thursday

Ferrell Consults With McHale in Efforts to Pull Another Trade

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

LAKELAND, Fla. — Manager Bill Norman plans to be a little bit like Theodore Roosevelt when it comes to running the Detroit Tigers.

"I'll speak softly," said Norman, "but like Teddy—I'll carry a big stick."

There was no nonsense in a clubhouse talk that preceded the full squad's first real workout yesterday.

Norman told the Tigers they are capable of finishing in the American League's 1st division. "How high depends on you fellows and how strong the other top clubs are," he said.

KEARNS

The team was divided into two camps with a sprinkling of rookies and veterans in each group. Norman laid down a few general rules for "curfew and common sense."

He told the players to behave like gentlemen both on and off the field. He also told them that the games they play in April are just as important as those in the waning days of the season.

Acting general manager Rick Ferrell is still talking trades. Ferrell feels that one more starting pitcher and someone who could hit a long ball in Briggs Stadium would mean the difference between a highly successful season and another second division ball club.

For this reason Ferrell had a visit with John McHale, the man he replaced in Detroit who is now general manager of the Milwaukee Braves.

Of course McHale is especially interested in a second baseman and in this respect the Tigers have no one to offer. Manager Bill Norman calls Frank Bolling the best second baseman in the league and is making it known that nothing will lure him into trading Bolling.

Ferrell made overtures to McHale for pitchers Bob Buhl, Saginaw righthander, or Gene Conley, who has been persistent about playing pro basketball with the Boston Celtics.

Next fall when inter-league trading becomes effective in the Majors, Buhl might wind up with the Tigers.

Right now Ferrell is still trying to maneuver Roger Maris away from the Athletics. He has not hidden the fact that Maxwell is strong trade bait and even Harvey Kuenn if the offer was right.

In camp right now the rookies are getting as much work as the veterans.

"We've got to have a couple of these youngsters come through, and if any one of them earns the job away from one of the veterans that will be fine with me," said Norman.

Pitchers Gerry Davie, Pete Burnside and Bob Bruce are being closely watched by Tiger coaches.

Davie, who lives in Garden City and has a sister living in Pontiac, had a string of 11 straight victories with Charleston last year and finished with a 17-5 record. His earned run average of 2.45 was best in the American Association and he was also the winning pitcher in the league's all-star game.

Bruce, a native Detroiter who now lives in Birmingham, pitched at Birmingham and Charleston last year. His record was 7-5 but he has posted an impressive minor league record for strike outs.

Burnside, a 28-year old southpaw, pitched briefly with the San Francisco Giants and then moved to Phoenix where he won 11 games including nine complete contests.

The Tigers start their exhibition schedule a week from tomorrow in Orlando against the Washington Senators. Norman plans on breaking up the squad in "A" and "B" teams to play similar squads with other clubs.

The B squad will be made up of second line players.

MSU Seeks Big Ten Basketball Title

Spartans in TV Game Saturday With Indiana

Need One Win for 1st Undisputed Crown; 'M' Visits Ohio State

By The Associated Press

Michigan State goes before regional television cameras at Indiana tomorrow afternoon needing a victory to capture its first undisputed Big Ten basketball title.

The Hoosiers, with a 6-6 record, will be aiming for an upset to avenge a season-opening 79-77 loss at Michigan State, restore some glitter to a slumping season and hold them in first division with a chance for second place.

The powerful rebounding Spartans are 9-2 with three games yet to play. Only one more decision will sew up the crown. They face last place Wisconsin and then Iowa in next week's finale.

Indiana's sophomore-junior lineup has won 4 of 7 games on the road but only 2 of 5 at home. The Hoosiers have a three-game home floor losing streak.

Only three teams—Iowa (7-5) and Michigan and Illinois, each (6-5)—retain a mathematical chance of tying MSU for the title. Illinois faces its two chief rivals for second place in road action—at Iowa tomorrow night and at Michigan Monday.

In other Saturday night games, Michigan is at Ohio State (5-6), Minnesota (5-6) at Purdue (6-6) and Northwestern (6-6) at Wisconsin (1-10).

MSU leads the Big Ten in resounding on 695 retrieves, with John Green contributing 194 of them and Horace Walker 170. Green is the conference's 7th leading scorer with a 20.5 average and teammate Bob Anderegg is 8th with 19.7.

Indiana's scoring strength centers on Walt Bellamy with 17.9, Herb Lee 14.5 and Frank Radovich 13.7.

Pistons Beaten by Cincinnati

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — The Detroit Pistons might have coasted to their ninth National Basketball Assn. victory over the Cincinnati Royals if John McCarthy hadn't found his shooting eye when it counted.

Prior to last night's game, which Cincinnati won 106-101, the Pistons had won eight of their previous 10 games with the Royals.

The Pistons seemed to be on the way to their ninth victory when the Royals, after trailing in the early action, began functioning like a well oiled machine.

McCarthy, held to two points in the first half, came back in the second stanza to turn in a 25-point performance for the Royals.

Bob Cousy became the 2nd biggest scorer in league history as his Celtics defeated the Warriors 125-109 while Syracuse was downing St. Louis 130-111 in other games. Cousy hit 17 to move past George Mikan with 11,778. Dolph Schayes of the Nats leads with 13,944.

Dim Prospect for Lions at U. of M.

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP) — The Athletic Board of Control of the University of Michigan meets today and one thing up for consideration will be the use of Michigan Stadium by the Detroit Lions for an exhibition football game next fall.

Edwin J. Anderson, president and general manager of the Lions, said yesterday the professional football team has made a formal request for use of the 101,001-seat stadium. Anderson said two undisclosed dates—both prior to the opening of the University's football season—were suggested.

H. O. (Fritz) Crisler, Michigan's athletic director, turned the problem over to the board of which he is chairman. Anderson said he was given no clue as to the Lions' chances of success.

Later Crisler hinted the chances were none too good. He said current legislation affecting the use of University facilities might be interpreted as barring the Lions. He said this legislation restricts use of school facilities to students and educational purposes.

However, the University has permitted appearances here by professional athletes such as the Harlem Globetrotters and Jack Kramer's pro tennis troupe.

Anderson said the Lions, several years ago, sought the use of the stadium at Michigan State University but were turned down. He said MSU officials said a Big Ten rule barred the use of the stadium by a professional team.

The Lions have three exhibition games scheduled for Briggs Stadium this fall. Anderson said the stadium was tied up for baseball on other possible football dates.

The Lions stockholders met yesterday and heard they had made a profit of about $170,000 during 1958. This was the second best year in the Detroit history of the team, carry back helped boost profits to topped only by 1954 when a tax about $200,000.

BRING ON BRIGHTON — That's what Doug Danziger, above, and his teammates at Bloomfield Hills have been saying this week. They travel to Brighton today in hopes of being the only Wayne-Oakland team to defeat the Bulldogs. A big night for steady-playing Danziger could bring about an upset which would result in Holly gaining a co-championship.

Yes, It Was Basketball

Hope Defeats Olivet, 22-6

By United Press International

What it was was basketball—despite the 22-6 score.

Hope College clinched at least a share of the MIAA title last night in scoring only 22 points. Hope's opponent, Olivet College, scored only 6 points.

In winning its 12th game in 13 starts Hope held a 12-3 halftime lead. Both teams used zone defenses. Olivet controlled the ball for 32 of 40 minutes.

Olivet took eight shots from the floor and made two. Hope took 14 shots and made nine.

Hope's Warran Vanderhill scored 10 points. High for Olivet was Dick Groch with 3—one-half his team's output.

Action slowed up so much that at one point while Olivet's guards were passing the ball back and forth in the front court, Olivet's Owen Whitcoph and Hope's Ray Ritsema whiled away the time by tossing coins in one corner of the court.

The Dutchmen can clinch the title outright by winning at Albion Saturday. Second place Calvin has a 10-2 mark.

In the only other game in Michigan last night, Adrian's Vince Giles hit for 24 points as the Bulldogs defeated Baldwin-Wallace of Ohio 86-69. Adrian led all the way and had five players scoring in double figures.

Landscape Quintet Blasts Foe, 74-42

Field's Landscape handed winless Rex's Standard a 74-42 shellacking last night at Pontiac Central in the Class B City Basketball League's final contest of the season.

Four Field's players hit double figures with Art Larson scoring 20 and Roger Nosek 19. Larry McLeod tallied 12 and Chuck Young 11 for the Standard cagers who lost their 11th straight decision. Field's record ended at 7-5.

In an exhibition game at PCH, the Class A Knights of Columbus trounced Glenn's Motor of the "B" loop, 86-56. Dave Sebring paced the Knights' balanced attack with 18 points while Jim Jones made 14 for Glenn's team.

Preps in Final Pre-Tourney Play

They ring down the curtain on another regular season of prep basketball tonight with coaches in most instances using the games as warmups for the district tournaments coming up next week.

Pontiac Northern will conclude its 1st varsity schedule at home against Hazel Park in a battle of losers. The Huskies have only won four times and the Parkers just once.

League activity will fill most of the slate around the Oakland County area. The Eastern Michigan, Wayne-Oakland and Southern Thumb loops remain to be decided.

INTER-LAKES

Second Waterford-Walled Lake battle at the lake city is featured with the Skippers attempting to stay out of a last place tie and the host team seeking a runnerup finish. Unbeaten Berkley is at Farmington and Southfield vs Van Dyke.

EASTERN MICHIGAN

One of the season's most interesting races will finally be decided with a strong chance of a co-championship. Ferndale can wrap up a share by tripping Mt. Clemens while the Port Huron-East Detroit winner will be assured all or part of the crown. Birmingham can only better its record by downing Royal Oak Kimball.

WAYNE-OAKLAND

Brighton has had some close calls despite being unbeaten but will be heavily favored to clinch 1st by whipping Bloomfield Hills at home. Holly goes to Milford a strong choice but with little hope of grabbing a title tie. Clarkston hosts Clarenceville and West Bloomfield vs Northville in other games.

OAKLAND B

SOUTH CENTRAL

Another battle for 2nd. Oxford, which goes to North Branch, and Millington, host to Ortonville, are fighting for the high finish.

SOUTHERN THUMB

Almont has clinched a tie but must defeat chief threat New Haven for sole possession of the coveted No. 1 slot. Anchor Bay is assured of 3rd regardless of its outcome at Armada. Brown City visits Dryden and Capac entertains Memphis.

OTHER GAMES

Rochester should finish 14-2 by romping at Davison. Cranbrook goes to Nichols, Lapeer takes on Owosso, L'Anse Creuse invades Oak Park, Royal Oak Dondero seeks a repeat of a big early win over Grosse Pointe, Utica is at home to meet South Lake, South Lyon hosts Boysville and Lamphere plays Huron.

Chiefs Win Tuneup, PNH Beaten

Valley, I-L Mat Events Saturday

The climax to the biggest wrestling season in Oakland County begins tomorrow when Pontiac Central competes in the Saginaw Valley meet and Flint Northern and five other local schools battle for Inter-Lakes honors at Farmington.

Good indications of what to expect in the state events starting next week will be derived from these league battles.

Pontiac Central has had a losing season despite sparks of impressive work and will likely be the dark horse in the four-team SVC scramble with defending champion Bay City favored. Flint Central and Northern will be the other participants. The Saginaw schools do not have the mat sport.

Each Valley school will enter one boy in each of the 12 weight classes. The Chiefs top hopes will rest with Duke Relyea, 175-pound runnerup a year ago, and 165-pounder Gerald Reid, who won his last six starts and has defeated boys from Bay City and Northern.

The SVC team champion will receive a rotating trophy while the I-L victors will gain a permanent award. Medals will go to the top two individuals at Northern and the champs at Farmington. Ribbons will be given 2nd, 3rd and 4th placers in the Inter-Lakes.

Preliminaries will be held all afternoon at each site with the consolations and finals at night.

Berkley is the I-L favorite with the host Falcons and Southfield strong contenders. Waterford and Walled Lake have bowed to their foes during the regular season. Van Dyke will be the other participant.

Last night, Pontiac Central defeated Walled Lake 29-16 in a tuneup arranged between the schools as Pontiac Northern was dropping its final regular season test at Flint Northern, 35-11. Cranbrook rallied from a 15-3 deficit to edge Southfield 15-3 and Ruford Black won his 40th straight match pacing Hazel Park to an easy verdict over Melvindale.

Winford Miracle posted a quick pin and Maurice Lackey, who is unbeaten, and Bill Green took decisions for the Husky points. Several defeats were by close margins. The PNH jayvees triumphed 18-14.

A victory by 175-pound Phil Wisenbarger sewed up Cranbrook's win following pins by Ted Seyfarth and Lee McBride in a string of victories. Dave Butler and Max Oliver had Southfield pins. The Cranes meet Hazel Park today.

McDaniel, Stott County Favorites

Point Title Decided Tonight

The 1958-59 Oakland County individual scoring championship will be decided tonight as all the teams conclude their regular seasons.

Big George McDaniel of Holly, back in 1st now by two percentage points, and Oxford whiz Doug Stott have been waging a torrid battle in recent weeks and are leading candidates for the top two positions.

Toy Palmer of Ferndale at 21.2 and Merv Gallup of Birmingham at 19.9 are the other boys with the best chance of heading the pack. Biggest gainer in the past week was Orchard Lake sharpshooter Chet Wlodkowski. He moved from 11th to 7th with 18.6.

Don Petroff has led the county area all the way and can wrap it up Friday since Jim Ward of Imlay City concluded play Tuesday. Their averages are 21.8 and 19.9.

Michigan, MSU Reject TV Plan

State Universities Vote Against Grid Television Program of NCAA

ANN ARBOR (UPI) — The University of Michigan formally turned down the National Collegiate Athletic Association's (NCAA) 1959 football television plan yesterday and Michigan State University officials also voiced opposition to the program.

Michigan president Harlan Hatcher cast a negative vote and called for a program with "more flexibility." Dr. Ralph B. Tukey, MSU's faculty representative to the Big Ten, said the Conference is against the limitations of the policy.

The NCAA policy allows the network and sponsors to decide which games will be shown nationally and regionally and also limits the number of times a season that a team can be on television.

"We have consistently supported a television policy with more flexibility than is possible under the NCAA plan. We have urged a greater degree of local control which would permit individual institutions to negotiate for the television rights to their home contests," Hatcher said.

Chiefs Want Undisputed Title

PCH Cagers Can Win It Tonight at Saginaw High

Trojans Final Hurdle to Valley Honors in Season Closer

It's nice to be charitable, but the Pontiac Central basketball team is going to be downright selfish tonight.

The Chiefs move into Saginaw this evening with their eyes peeled toward sole possession of the coveted Saginaw Valley Conference crown and they're in no mood to share it with anyone.

PCH clinched a co-championship last Friday with a 50-42 conquest of Flint Northern in the Vikings' backyard and the important win returned the Chiefs to 1st place in the state Class A ratings.

Michigan's No. 1 quintet has no intention of letting an undisputed SVC title slip away at this stage of the campaign if it can be helped.

The Chiefs will be aiming for their 2nd Valley crown in three years when they square off against lowly Saginaw High tonight. They won the title outright in 1957, then Flint Central took league honors last year.

Central is protecting a proud 13-1 season record and an 8-1 mark in the Valley. Central's top ranking in Michigan "A" circles also will go on the line as the Chiefs conclude their regular season schedule.

PCH can very likely sew up the mythical state title in the weekly AP and UPI polls with a convincing win over the Trojans.

Saginaw's record for the season is quite unimpressive, but even the lowliest of foes in the Saginaw Valley should never be overlooked.

The Trojans have everything to gain and nothing to lose by upsetting the high-flying Chiefs. It's a safe bet that Larry Laeding's racehorse outfit would dearly love to put a PCH feather in its own cap.

Saginaw is fighting to escape the Saginaw Valley cellar. The Trojans currently share last place with Arthur Hill and Bay City Central on a 2-7 mark. Their over-all slate is 4-10.

Saginaw is the most dangerous type of club that PCH could meet under present circumstances. The Trojans are a run-and-shoot squad and a hot streak always means trouble for the opposition.

Runnerup Flint Northern (7-2), hoping for an assist from Saginaw, invades Bay City Central with hopes for a co-title still alive. Northern may have problems of its own with the improving Wolves. Flint Central (6-3) plays host to Arthur Hill in this evening's other Valley game.

4th World Title for Miss Heiss

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP)—The queen of figure skating, incomparable Carol Heiss of the United States, looked ahead today to the 1960 Olympics after sailing off with her fourth straight world title last night.

None among the 15 challengers from seven other nations seriously threatened the reign of the 19-year-old New York University co-ed.

PNH Draws Catholic Central in District

It's a Bye for PCH

Pontiac Central and Pontiac Northern each landed a berth in the finals of the Southfield Class A district basketball tournament which gets under way next Tuesday night.

However, Central's chances of moving into the regional tourney at Southfield the following week are far better than those of the Huskies.

The 11 schools scheduled to compete in the Southfield district met with tourney chairman Monte Charles last night at the Southfield High School cafeteria and plunged into the hat to determine their opposition.

Both Central and Northern wound up in one-game brackets and neither school will play until Saturday, March 7, which is the final night of the tournament.

PCH drew a bye and will face the winner of the March 4 game between host Southfield and U. of D. High with the survivor entering regional action. The Huskies are matched with Detroit Catholic Central, a team that dealt them a bad licking earlier this season.

The PNH-Catholic Central winner also qualifies for the regional tournament. Northern and the Shamrocks lock horns at 7 p.m. while PCH takes the floor in the 8:30 nightcap.

Waterford didn't fare too well in the draw. The Skippers are paired with strong Livonia Bentley in Tuesday's opening round at 6:30 with the winner facing Farmington March 6 at 8:30. Another regional qualifier emerges from that bracket.

Rochester landed a bye and doesn't see action until March 6 at 7 o'clock when the Falcons meet the Walled Lake-Redford Union victor. The Vikings and Redford clash Tuesday at 8 p.m. The survivor of this bracket also goes to regional play.

Altogether, four teams will come out of the Southfield district and the same four will conduct a new drawing and meet in regional activity March 10, 11 and 13, also on the Southfield court.

Host Troy and Royal Oak Shrine will open proceedings March 4 and Romeo clashes with Clawson March 5 with the winners tangling March 7 for the "B" crown. All games start at 8 p.m.

Holly, the favorite at Fenton, collides with Howell March 6 at 7:30. Fenton and Durand tackle one another on the same evening at other on the same evening at 9 o'clock and the two vcitors meet March 7 at 8 p.m. for the district title.

BIG THREESOME — These three cagers have played a vitally important role in Pontiac Central's basketball success story this season and each for a different reason. John Bandy, far left, is the team's leading scorer. Bill Hayward, center, is the top defensive specialist. Harrison Munson is the squad's No. 1 rebounder and one of the best backboard artists in the Saginaw Valley. The Chiefs shoot for an undisputed Valley crown tonight at Saginaw High.

OLSM Wins Finale, 55-38; Mikes, Rams Go Tonight

Suburban Catholic League champion St. Mary of Orchard Lake last night wound up its 1958-59 basketball schedule, prior to tourney time, with an easy 55-38 victory on the home floor. Loser was Detroit Sweetest Heart of Mary.

Eaglets in all probability will be spectators, tonight, while St. Michael concludes its scheduled cage season against an unpredictable club from Detroit St. Ambrose, in Pontiac Central's gymnasium. Shamrock and Cavalier jayvees open at 7 p.m. with the varsity test at 8:15.

Cavaliers bring a 5-12 record here, will field a team dominated by three freshmen, led by Mike Cure (6-2) and Ken Kosmal (6-3). Shamrocks will open with the same five that performed so well in the 44-34 win over Mt. Clemens St. Mary, on Tuesday.

St. Frederick ends its regular season tonight in Detroit, against St. Elizabeth. Rams defeated the Detroiters at the start of the current campaign.

Eaglets showed a smooth game in their finale. Jumping off to a 15-2 first period count they never permitted the visiting Hearts closer than that figure rest of the way. Halftime count was 29-12. The Orchard Lake club eased up in the 4th frame, and was outscored, 18, 12, after a 3rd period 14-8 mark.

The win gave Eaglets a season's record of 14-4, while the Hearts wound up, 9-4.

Captain Chet Wlodkowski added to his fine season's total with a 20-point performance for 336 total. He jumped to 6th in county scoring, with a 19-point average. Two Hearts were in double figures, Bob Granico (14) and Tony Pokorski (12).

Lubanski, Pfeiffers 'Arrive' in ABC

Detroiters Set 2 Marks

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Ed Lubanski has arrived in style.

Before this season, the Detroit bowler had been known as a man who always came close.

He lost that distinction last December in Chicago when he won his first major tournament, the world's invitational match game championship.

After his performance in the American Bowling Congress tournament Wednesday and yesterday, Lubanski seems destined to win the coveted "bowler of the year" award of the Bowling Writers Assn.

Ed and his Pfeiffer beer team broke two ABC records. Lubanski's 2116 all-events total wiped out the 2088 record set two years ago by Jim Spalding of Louisville, Ky. His 764 in the singles was the third highest set in that category. He leads both divisions.

The Pfeiffers' 3243 series in the open team division, including Ed's 700 contribution, is a record, and the team's 1176 finale was the third highest single game in the team division.

The Pfeiffer barrage was more than enough to stop the St. Louis Falstaffs, defending ABC team champions. The team shot a 3010 series to move into fourth place last night.

Prep Front

By BILL CORNWELL

We always have maintained that the annual Michigan high school basketball tournament never will be a state tourney in the complete sense until the Detroit public schools again take an active part.

It is indeed regrettable that Detroit's public high schools do not play in the popular prep event which each year involves thousands of Michigan teenagers in honest competition and attracts countless thousands at the gate.

The Motor City withdrew from the state tournament in 1930 and has not participated since. Suburban Detroit schools and parochial institutions have entered the tourney every year, but the city's public halls of learning continue to stay in their isolationist shell.

However, there is a strong indication that the Detroit educational "powers that be" are once again becoming interested in the prep tournament, even though the ban on outstate competition remains in effect.

Nearly one year ago Detroit City League principals voted by a 2-1 majority to recommend a return to the Michigan tourney scene. Dr. Samuel Brownell, superintendent of schools, asked time for further study of the situation and the issue is still up in the air.

Although the matter remains under observation, life is stirring among the schools and the athletes themselves.

This week basketball players from eight schools—Western, Redford, Mackenzie, Chadsey, Wilbur Wright, Cooley, Cody and Southwestern—petitioned Brownell that he permit Detroit public prep teams to compete in the state tourney.

Obviously, there is no hope of this happening in time for the 1959 tournament which gets under way next week with district playoffs at 89 different locations. The petition came too late to accomplish anything this year.

But the picture looks brighter than ever before. There is a growing desire on the part of Detroit public school officials, coaches and athletes to "get in the swim" once more and this may become a reality by 1960.

If we're going to hold a state tournament and decide champions, let's go all the way and have every Michigan high school represented. When that happens, there will be a state "champ" in the full meaning of the word. It's time for Detroit to round out the tourney family.

ODDS AND ENDS

Prep leagues in the Oakland County area never cease to amaze us with their actions. As an accomodation to North Branch, the five-member South Central Conference will have each team playing two rivals twice and the other pair once during the 1959 football season. North Branch has difficulty scheduling non-league foes in its area.

In connection with the South Central loop, here's a novel reason for the failure to add a much-desired 6th school to the SC circuit. Almont was all set to leave the Southern Thumb League and enter the SC, but the latter refused admittance when Almont insisted on conference competition in girls basketball. Now the South Central is at a loss to find that 6th member.

By BEN OLAN

Nellie Fox of the Chicago White Sox seldom strikes out. He usually gets a piece of the ball and a good one, at that.

Here's a simulated case, however, in which Fox does strike out. It's designed to test your baseball knowledge.

The White Sox have one out and Sherman Lollar on first base against Baltimore. Fox is the batter with a count of two strikes and one ball. On the next pitch from lefty Billy O'dell, Fox swings and misses. But the ball gets past catcher Joe Ginsberg. Lollar reaches second base and Fox first before it can be retrieved.

a. Fox should be called out with Lollar returning to first?

b. Both runners should remain on base?

c. Fox should be called out with Lollar remaining on second?

Answer: C—Fox should be called out with Lollar remaining on second. A batter is out when a third strike is not caught by the catcher when there is a runner on first base and not more than one out. The runner, however, can advance.

Skate, Ski Tests Ready

SQUAW VALLEY, Calif. (AP)—An international field including top athletes of Europe and the United States inaugurates Squaw Valley's Olympic speed skating and nordic skiing facilities tomorrow.

Four days of competition include cross country and ski jumping and four skating races from 500 to 10,000 meters.

Closely watched will be the effects of the 6,000-foot altitude on such champions as Sweden's Sixten Jernberg and Per-Erik Larsson in the cross country and Finland's Juhani Jarvinen and Toivo Salonen in the skating.

Bernard Dion, 18, Lebanon, N.H., broke his neck Thursday in a practice jump. Dr. William Stiles said there was no paralysis, but that Dion had fractured the seventh cervical vertebrae.

A field of about 125, including 50 foreigners, will compete in nine events in the North American Nordic Skiing Championships and a world invitational skating meet. Nations represented are Canada, England, Finland, Japan, Norway, Sweden, Russia and Austria.

Farm Program Helps Big Ones

Senator Names Ten Operators Who Totaled $4 Million in Aid

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. John J. Williams (R-Del) told the Senate Thursday that 10 big farm operators collected nearly half a million dollars from the government in 1957 for not producing crops, as well as getting 3½ million dollars in price support loans.

He contended there can be no justification for such spending of taxpayers' money.

Williams referred to payments under the soil bank plan which he called direct subsidy government checks paid to a farmer for acreage he agrees to leave idle or for crops he agres not to produce.

It was Williams' second speech of the week on the subject. Monday, he cited a long list of price support loans in excess of $100,000 for 1957 with two going above the million-dollar mark.

He argued on Monday that farm programs are of far greater benefit to the large farmers than small farmers.

In his new speech, Williams said the justification advanced for soil bank payments atop of price supports was that of "helping the little farmer."

As one example of soil bank payments to a large operator, Williams cited the Westlake Farms, Inc., of Stratford Calif., which he said got $854,450 of price supports on cotton in 1957 and the same year received $125,942 for placing 1,293.9 acres in the soil bank.

The others he named and the figures he gave for their 1957 support loans and soil bank checks were:

Campbell Farming Corp., Hardin, Mont., $330,267 wheat support and $40,227 for soil banking 1,942.4 acres; Tillar & Co., Tillar, Ark., $119,366 cotton support and $34,450 for 500 acres; George B. Franklin & Son, Holly Ridge, La., $128,118 cotton support and $67,040 for 957.7 acres; Dan Seligman, Shaw, Miss., $173,631 cotton support and $59,992 for 804.8 acres; Woolfolk Farms, Tunica, Miss., $155,787 cotton support and $40,500 for 500 acres; Clark & Roberts, Pecos, Tex., $237,328 cotton support and $157,533 for 376.6 acres; Heidrick Bros., Woodland, Calif., $189,882 rice support and $54,528 for 972.5 acres; Bi-County Farms and Horrigan Farms, Prosser Wash., $91,567 wheat support, and $56,519 for 2,611.3 acres; Delta & Pine Land Co., Scott, Miss., $1,167,502 rice support and $20,761 for 284.4 acres.

Buys Group of 10,617 'Little Magazines'

MADISON, Wis. (AP)—The University of Wisconsin has purchased the Sukov collection of 10,617 "little magazines."

Recently the collector, Dr. Martin Sukov of Minneapolis, donated a one-half interest in the collection to the university and the school agreed to buy the remaining half for $30,000.

"Little magazines" are periodicals possessing a small number of subscribers and usually few advertisers but containing a high grade of intellectual content.

Exotic Tastes Include Furs, Earrings for Dog

HOUSTON, Tex. (UPI)—Has success already spoiled Lightning of Valgo?

That's the show name of a registered Bedlington terrier called Rebel who is owned by Mrs. Birden Wilson of Houston.

Mrs. Wilson recently took Rebel to see his veterinarian. She was disturbed by his diet, which had lately included a fur stole, several metal plates, the maid's earrings, a candle, two five-dollar bills, socks, stockings and even a comb or two.

Rebel was so hungry for such morsels, in fact, he'd taken to opening doors and drawers the better to serve himself.

Mrs. Wilson explained to the vet that Rebel had recently won several trophies in Texas and Louisiana dog shows. That, apparently, was the tip-off.

The doc said dogs that are spoiled become addicted to particular foods, Rebel merely has some exotic tastes.

Minnesota Soybeans Pace National Trend

ST. PAUL, Minn. (UPI)—Minnesota farmers have found a new staple crop in soybeans, to pace a nationwide agricultural trend.

In 1935, Minnesota farmers planted only 100,000 acres of soybeans annually. Last year, the figure was three million acres.

In these 24 years, soybeans have become the fourth largest crop in an agricultural state long dependent on corn, oats and hay. Minnesota now ranks third in total soybean production behind Illinois and Iowa.

The importance of soybeans is indicated by national figures. In 1956, there were 449 bushels of soybeans produced in the United States; in 1957 the figure rose to 480 million and the estimated 1958 crop was 561 million bushels.

Postpones Hearing on Race Track

Reason given for this postponement was that there was no courtroom available. The hearing had been scheduled for 9:30 a.m. before Macomb County Circuit Court Judge Heward R. Carroll in Mount Clemens. A date for the hearing will be set later, Carroll said.

The first adjournment, a week ago, was at the request of one of the plaintiff's attorneys who was working on a federal case in Detroit.

Judge Carroll granted the adjournment then, saying the federal case took precedence over one scheduled in Circuit Court.

Stocks Move Up in Active Trading

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market moved generally higher in active trading today as electronic and missile shares continued to make strides.

Motors turned unanimously to the upside. Airlines as well as selected oils and nonferrous metals also showed improvement.

While gains of key stocks went generally from fractions to a point, some of the "glamor" issues raced as much as 5 points ahead.

A notable casualty was Republic Aviation which dropped 4 points in heavy trading on news of its reduced dividend.

General Tire and Thiokol each rose about 5 points or more while Polaroid added another 3 points.

Most leading rails were off.

The ticker tape was late for a 13-minute period at the opening and again very briefly.

Raytheon rose more than a point. American Telephone advanced about 2. U. S. Steel was up around a point. Lukens eased back from its large gain of yesterday.

American Motors, up about a point, and Studebaker-Packard, which continued steady, renewed their stand against any further decline on fears of big three competition in the small car field. Meanwhile, General Motors, Ford and Chrysler were all up fractions.

Lorillard, selling ex-dividend, rose a point or more in the wake of its excellent earning report.

Report Large Hike in Use of Utilities

Sharp increases in the use of electricity and gas in January 1959 as compared with January 1958 were reported today by Dan E. Karn, president of Consumers Power Company.

Kilowatt-hour sales of electricity were up 12 per cent and cubic-foot sales of natural gas were up 28 per cent, Karn said.

GEORGE D. DENNIS

Dennis Raised to New Position

Pontiac Division Also Makes Five Changes in Sales Organization

Promotion of George D. Dennis to executive assistant to the general manager, in charge of dealer relations, has been announced by S. E. Knudsen, general manager of Pontiac Motor Division.

Dennis assumes his new duties March 1, succeeding John C. Jamieson who recently retired from the division.

Concurrent with the promotion of Dennis are five changes in Pontiac's field sales organization, announced by Frank V. Bridge, general sales manager.

Charles L. Keyes is named zone manager in San Francisco; Joseph C. Cheesebrough will head the Milwaukee zone; C. F. Pansing is promoted to manager of the Pittsburgh zone; Edwin C. Fullmer is appointed assistant zone manager in Chicago, and Emerson K. Mitchell becomes assistant zone manager in Philadelphia.

GM EMPLOYE 32 YEARS

A 32-year employe of General Motors, Dennis joined the Pontiac field sales organization in 1934 following seven years with Chevrolet Division. During the next nine years he held various positions of responsibility in Pontiac's Indianapolis, Kansas City, Milwaukee, Chicago and Minneapolis zones. In 1943 he was named district manager in Minneapolis and was promoted to zone manager in 1947.

Dennis was transferred to manage the Milwaukee zone in 1949 and, in 1954, was appointed zone manager in San Francisco—the position he held prior to his new appointment.

Keyes has managed the division's Milwaukee zone since September 1958.

Cheesebrough has headed the Pittsburgh zone since 1955.

Pansing, formerly assistant zone manager for Pontiac in Chicago, has been associated with General Motors for 21 years.

Fullmer, formerly assistant zone manager in Philadelphia, has been a Pontiac employe since 1955.

Mitchell has been service manager in the Philadelphia zone since 1954.

Who Started the Story of Cooper's Face-Lift?

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—Nope! Gary Cooper doesn't really say "Yup." Not only did he follow me to the street door of his hotel saying goodbye and sending regards to the B.W., but before that, the lanky, allegedly bashful cowboy kissed the hand of pretty German star Maria Schell, in a gallantry not attempted by some of our most polysyllabic dandies.

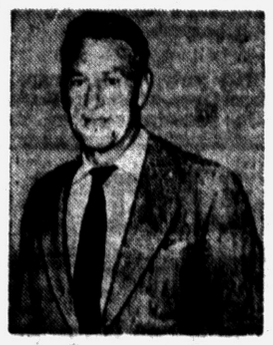
WILSON

"Ask him about his face-lift . . . how does he look?" twittered a couple of female friends before I left to meet him.

"Er—how's your . . . er . . . surgery?" I managed to ask.

"Fine! I got this great plastic surgeon to take a cyst out of my law. Then he fixed up the other side. I had it banged in a fight. Sure, they called it a face life in the papers. Once they say it, what the hell you gonna do?"

He shrugged and said to me, "You're thinner." I thanked him for the compliment.



COOPER

"Me, too," he said. "Just can't be that champion eater any more. Since that damned ulcer job,I have to watch it. I try to stay under 85 (he meant 185). I get up to 90, my pants feel tight."

"How was Ernest Hemingway when you saw him in Sun Valley?" I wondered.

"Writes in the morning and goes out shootin' rabbits or birds in the afternoon," Cooper said. "I got a couple of bobcats.

"I quit skiing three winters ago. I got a busted hip—turned over in a car years and years ago—and it bothered me. It was painful as hell to sit on a horse. I walk with a limp, anyway, so I gave up skiin'. I figured it was a little more important to make a living."

WISH I'D SAID THAT: The extent of some men's religion is that they know the name of the church they stay away from.—Ham Park.

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: Jack E. Leonard shushed a loud TV comic with the line: "Instead of taping your show they ought to tape your mouth!"

Walter Slezak explained the title of his new movie, "The Miracle"; "It refers to the salary I asked for—and got." . . . That's earl, brother.

2 Are Promoted at Pontiac Motor

M. J. Shapiro to Aid Parts Superintendent; Cattell Also Moves Up

Appointment of Marvin J. Shapiro as assistant superintendent of Parts Warehouse has been announced by R. J. Longpre, production manager for Pontiac Motor Division.

SHAPIRO

Shapiro succeeds Charles J. Ferry, who retires March 1 after 38 years with General Motors. A. J. Cattell is promoted to Shapiro's former position of material supervisor with specific duties as customer contact man.

A native of Oswego, N.Y., Shapiro joined Pontiac in 1946 with the Sales Department's car distribution section. In 1953 he assumed the duties of statistician in administration before being named supervisor of statistics for Parts Warehouse in 1955. He was promoted to materials supervisor in 1957—the position he held prior to his new appointment.

Shapiro is married, has five children, and lives at 20 Miller St.

Ferry became affiliated with the division in 1936 after 15 years of parts and materials experience with Fisher Body in Detroit, Chevrolet in Detroit and Flint, and B-O-P Sales in Detroit. Following two years in Pontiac parts and accessories sales, he was named office manager of the service department. Ferry assumed the assistant superintendent's duties for parts in 1943.

FERRY

Born in Detroit, he is married and lives at 111 Oneida St. here.

Cattell, a native of Pontiac, started with the division in 1948 as a timekeeper in the accounting department. He later served in payroll and factory accounting before being named statistician for administration in 1956. In 1957 he was appointed supervisor of schedules and statistics in car distribution—the position he held before his new promotion.

CATTELL

Married, Cattell is the father of four children and resides at 1458 Glenwood St. in Sylvan Village.

Temperatures in the U. S. in September are frequently higher than those recorded in June and July.

Demand Statements From F. L. Jacobs

NEW YORK (AP)—A federal judge has ordered F. L. Jacobs Co. to turn over to the New York Stock Exchange and the Securities and Exchange Commission all company business statements required by law.

The company's former chairman and president, now in trouble on various counts, has been accused of failing to do so.

Federal District Judge Sidney Sugarman yesterday directed that the information be made available by March 31. He noted that the firm's executive committee consented to the action at a meeting earlier yesterday.

Meanwhile in Detroit, two Jacobs stockholders filed suit in circuit court seeking a receivership for the company and possible liquidation of its assets. They were granted a court order preventing Jacobs from disposing of any assets pending outcome of their action.

Federated Metals Plans to Leave Detroit Plant

DETROIT (AP) — The Federated Metals Division of American Smelting and Refining Co. announces it is transferring its operations from Detroit to Alton, Ill.

Federated Metals ceased production here Jan. 30. The company said most of its 100 Detroit employes have found new jobs.

George Bauman, head of division operations, said the Detroit plant will shut down completely tomorrow.

Bauman said the company was unable to obtain land for expansion of its facilities here at a reasonable cost.

The Detroit plant was originally built for brass and lead smelting.

Gives Rare Prints

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (UPI) — The Dow Chemical Co. has given a set of four color lithographs, depicting the history of paper-making to the State University College of Forestry at Syracuse University. Only 150 sets of the prints are said to be in existence.

Threat of Bomb Delays Airliner at Detroit Airport

DETROIT (AP)—A commercial airliner was delayed for more than an hour at Detroit Metropolitan Airport yesterday as police searched the big ship for a reported bomb.

No bomb was found and American Airlines flight 530 was allowed to resume its trip from Chicago to Buffalo, N. Y., an hour and 20 minutes late.

Eighteen passengers en route to Buffalo were about to board the plane at Metropolitan when it was learned an anonymous caller had telephoned American's Buffalo office and said a bomb was on the ship.

The plane was searched by State Police and airline crews.

TV News and Reviews

1st Half of 'Dingaling Girl' Great — but Rest Flops

By WILLIAM EWALD

NEW YORK (UPI)—Over its first half last night, CBS-TV's Playhouse 90 had a ding-dong play on its hands in "The Dingaling Girl."

J. P. Miller's tracing of a young mother who was peeled out of her cocoon and transformed into a Hollywood divinity was as fresh and true and swift-footed as anything TV has unwrapped this season.

Those first 40 minutes or so dealt with the young lady's discovery, her audition at an actors studio-type school and her initiation into Hollywood's preposterous castle-civilization.

It was a slab that contained some searching performances by Diane Varsi, Eddie Albert and astonishingly enough, comedian Mort Sahl; a really marvelous chunk of satirical playing by Sam Jaffe in the role of the school nabob; and a short scene in a screening room dominated by Harry Townes that was crispishly perfect.

But inevitably, Miller's story, once moved into the Hollywood fantasy world, stumbled into a familiar ditch. Corruption, decay, surrender of values, loss of self—all of these things happened in proper and due and predictable course.

Nevertheless, despite its flaws, "The Dingaling Girl" proved pretty engrossing and as a study of human beings who cede their human beingness to the traffic of commerce, it was an admirable try.

Playhouse 90 is still champ.

THE CHANNEL SWIM: NBC-TV's Haggis Baggis, scheduled for the ax the end of April, has gotten a reprieve at least through May . . . Tombstone Territory moves in as replacement for ABC-TV's Man With a Camara on March 13.

SHORT SHOT: Annette Funicello, former Mouseketeer, is almost as ubiquitous as oxygen lately—she turned up on ABC-TV's Zorro last night in an adventure role, has appeared a couple times this month in semicomedy roles on the CBS-TV Danny Thomas Show and only a few weeks back did some singing on the ABC-TV Dick Clark Show.

State Court Blocks Ford Jobless Pay

LANSING (AP)—The State Supreme Court has acted to prevent any payment of unemployment compensation in the Ford Motor Co. case until the case is passed on by the U.S. Supreme Court.

The high court decision in January held that some 11,000 Ford workers in the Detroit area were entitled to about one million dollars in jobless pay for being idled by a strike at an Ohio Ford plant.

The state court subsequently refused to review the decision.

The court yesterday issued a stay of remittitur that halts a return of records in the case to the lower courts. This has the effect of preventing the lower courts from entering any judgment on claims against Ford on the basis of the opinion.

The automotive company has filed notice that it will appeal the state court decision to the U.S. Supreme Court.

Dog's New Guardian Might Have to Move

TORONTO (AP) — Uretta Malcom may have to move out of her apartment to carry out the terms of her best friend's will.

Jean Alexandria McLellan, widow of a Toronto stockbroker, who died Jan. 15, named Mrs. Malcom guardian of her dog, Marsha, a big German short-haired pointer, and left $500 a year from a $5,000 trust fund to pay for the animal's keep.

But her landlord says Mrs. Malcom cannot keep the dog in her apartment. Mrs. Malcom says she'll see a lawyer.

He Wasn't Bashful

Delivery Service Fine

HARDWICK, Vt. (UPI) — Some 2,500 residents here honored Dr. A. R. Warren, 73, for delivering 2,507 babies since he arrived in town in 1907.

Graham Forced to Cut Schedule

Eye Infection Curtails Crusade in Australia to One Sermon a Day

MELBOURNE (AP) — Evangelist Billy Graham's doctor has ordered him off coffee and has rationed his tea.

The coffee cut was easy to take, Graham said today, because he doesn't like it. But he's very fond of tea.

The American evangelist has suffered a recurrence of the eye infection which delayed his arrival in Australia. Ordered to take things easy, he is tanned, relaxed and beaming.

Doctors, he said, had forced him to take an entirely different approach to his crusade in Melbourne. He said he would have liked to preach five times a day in squares and streets, but instead is preaching only once a night, for 35 minutes.

Melbourne, he told the Melbourne Herald, is one of the most moral cities he has ever seen — less necking in parks and less sex in magazines than in the United States.

The magazine said Australia "has got on pretty well so far without Dr. Graham's particular brand of religious emotionalism."

FERLIN HUSKY

Country Music Show Scheduled Here Tomorrow

A "hit parade jamboree" of country music will be presented tomorrow by the Pontiac Lodge of the Fraternal Order of Police.

Three performances will be held —at 3, 7 and 9 p.m. in the Pontiac Central High School gymnasium.

Starring in the show will be recording star Ferlin Husky, who have made numerous appearances on TV with Tenessee Ernie Ford. He is also a star of Grand Ole Opry.

More than 20 star performers from the "country music capital" —Nashville, Tenn.—are on tomorrow's bill.

Among them are Homer and Jethro, Ginger and Hal Willis, Donny Spiker, Little Lennie Ford, Goober Buchanan and the Ozark Jubiliers.

Others appearing will be Ken Marvin, Bennie Williams, Howard White, Lee George, Simon Crumm, and the original Lonzo of Lonzo and Oscar.

Advance ticket sales have indicated huge turnouts for all performances, said James Lafnear, president of the FOP.

Proceeds from the show will be used for the Widow and Orphan Fund of the FOP, he said, and to assist underprivileged children.

Tickets are available from police officers belonging to the lodge and at Gallagher's Music Co. They will be sold at the door tomorrow.

Cadillac Tries to Find Way to Keep Plant

CADILLAC (AP) — The city of Cadillac stood officially behind a community effort today to save the B. F. Goodrich Industrial Products Co. plant.

A public mass meeting Saturday night in this Wexford County community of 11,000 population will try to find a way to keep the factory.

The city commission, meeting for hours last night behind closed doors, decided to take whatever action is deemed necessary to cooperate in the effort.

Cadillac faces a new unemployment crisis if Goodrich pulls out. About 200 workers would lose their jobs. The city's present unemployment is about 1,800.

The Goodrich Rubber Products plant, a division of the huge Goodrich industry in Akron, Ohio, has announced plans to close May 1 because of losing operations of recent years.

500 Expected to Attend 4-H Party at New Hudson

4-H members, their families and friends from seven counties, will meet at the New Hudson Elementary School gymnasium tomorrow night to kick off National 4-H Club Week which begins Sunday.

This is the second annual party held by the district, according to Jack Worthington, county 4-H agent.

The county's 60 4-H clubs will join with more than 90,000 organizations throughout the nation to observe the week. The theme is "Salute to 4-H Alumni."

The county's theme is: "Let's Investigate 4-H as a Family." Heading the party Saturday from the county is Ken Smith, a member of the Nu-Ly-Wix 4-H Club, general chairman; Howard Storm and Judy Cudnohufsky, both of Lake Orion, decorations; and Ralph Hoxie of Bloomfield 4-H, program.

The party, called Camp Kett Count-Down, will feature Ben Westrate, executive secretary of the Michigan 4-H Foundation. It will begin at 8 p.m.

Westrate will discuss the camp, now under construction south of Cadillac for 4-H leadership training, with the more than 500 people expected at the affair.

Proceeds of the party will be donated to the camp project.

Suffers Minor Injuries as Auto Rams Tree

Marilyn Donaldson, 23, of 3664 Mark St., was treated for minor injuries at Pontiac General Hospital and released after being involved in an auto accident last night.

She was riding in a car driven by Charles Donaldson, 28, of Detroit, that went out of control and struck a tree on Middle Belt road south of Orchard Lake road in West Bloomfield Township. The driver was uninjured, state police said.

Sees Need for Hiking Price of Newsprint

NEW YORK (AP) — Sir Eric Bowater, chairman of the Bowater Paper Co., Ltd., said today he feels there will have to be an increase in the price of newsprint.

"When it will come I do not know," he told reporters as he arrived from England aboard the liner Queen Elizabeth. He cited the cost of producing newsprint as the reason for a possible price increase.

He said he would spend six weeks in this country and Canada. Among other things, he plans to visit a fiber board plant his firm is building in Catawba, S.C.
